Northville Loses Community Benefactor

distinguished Northville official and a financial benefactor of community numerous projects, was buried Monday in Detroit.

The 80-year-old founder and former owner of Northville Laboratories died of a blood Thursday morning following surgery in Ford Hospital. He had been in failing health in recent years. He leaves only his wife, the former Hazel McInernery,

Northville village president remarked last winter shortly after reaching his 80th birthday:

"You know, I've been all over this world, from one end to the other, but nowhere can you meet nicer people than right here in Northville...my hometown.'

His hometown felt much the same way about him.

One of the streets in the city bears his name, and just last month the high school music suite was named in his honor. He was to receive a Claude E. Ely memorial award earlier this month for service and devotion" to the community but the presentation was delayed because of his health. Coincidentally, the latter award was established in memory of the late Mayor Ely, who was "hand-picked" by Mr. Langfield to succeed him (Langfield) upon retirement as village president.

Mr. Langfield served as village president for three terms, from 1948 through 1953. During his tenure of office, the Seven Mile cutoff was constructed, efforts to incorporate the village as a city were begun, and the Northville community building (now the board of education offices

Action on a revised site plan for the proposed 209-unit Northville Mobile Home Village at the southeast corner of Seven Mile and Northville roads was tabled, pending review by Northville township planning and engineering consultants.

Discussed by township planning commission members meeting Tuesday night, the site plan has been revised because of the flood plain into two phases, roughly dividing the 26-acre parcel in

According to John Thomas, attorney for developer Steward Oldford, phase one would encompass that land which is not within the 100year flood plain while phase two, the rear half of the property, covers that part of the land which is within the

Superintendent Losing Job

Doctor Sees Good In Center's Closing

The nearly half-century old County Child Development Center very likely will close its doors next year but the man who supervises it isn't upset.

In fact, even though Dr. Pasquale Buoniconto will lose his job as superintendent after 18 years at the Center, he sees the closing as the beginning of an exciting, far more effective way to care for mentally retarded and troubled youth.

Dr. Buoniconto joined the Center in July, 1955, upon the retirement of Dr. Robert Haskell who had held the superintendent's job from the day the center opened in 1925.

The 700 acre Wayne County facility is located in Northville Township.

"My job isn't the important thing," asserted the superintendent this past week. "It's the children who count, and unfortunately in recent years we (the center) have become the dumping ground for children who could not or would not be cared for elsewhere. Neither the center nor the child benefited by playing a role in this 'place of last resort'.

"Hopefully, under the new setup envisioned with our closing all children will receive better treatment."

Ironically, Dr. Buoniconto, who occasionally has been the target of professional and lay criticism over the years, was a member of a joint County-State Task Force that recommended the Center's closing and substitution of a unique referral service patterned after the nationally acclaimed Golden Gate Regional Center Concept in San Francisco.

recommendations of the Task Force were accepted by the -Wayne County Board of Commissioners, although many were incorporated in a resolution subsequently adopted by the board, according to Commissioner Mary Dumas, who represents

Chief recommendations found unacceptable was the suggested closing of the center by July 1, 1974.

With Mrs. Dumas leading the opposition, the closing date was modified to "repeal ordinance the establishing Development Center upon the completion of the orderly phase out of the Child Development Center..." "I would guess," Mrs. Dumas told this newspaper, "that it will be 1975 before the last child leaves the center and it is officially closed."

During the "phase out" process, she explained, the center will continue to accept new children until July, 1974 or until the proposed Central Referral Agency has been' created and "proper placements" have been provided for those in the county in need of the services.

The phase out also will include, where possible, transfer of Child Development Center employees to jobs with other county agencies, she added.

Although no definite closing date has been established and county study of the disposition of the campus-like center has not yet begun, the county commissioner predicted the board very. likely will consider another use for the facility.

Like Dr. Buoniconto, she believes that while the present buildings are not advantageous for care of troubled children they could be easily converted for other purposes

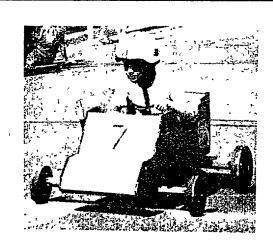

Superintendent Buoniconto declined to suggest another use, but Mrs. Dumas indicated that if nothing else arises the buildings might be leased for private use. She said Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright has approached her with a suggestion that the township be permitted to lease part of the facility for a township hall and or fire station.

A Western Wayne County juvenile detention center has been suggested for the site, Mrs. Dumas also noted.

Whatever is decided, the county will not permit deterioration and vandalism of the facilities, she emphasized, referring to the fate of the Maybury TB

Complete details of the meeting will appear in next week's paper.

Specifically, the council Wednesday will have acted on a request from Shopping Centers Incorporated (SCI) to rezone some 170 acres of land between 12 Mile and Meadowbrook Roads from its existing R-1-F (small farms) designation to C-B (central

The center will be larger than Hudson's Northland Shopping Center in Southfield.

Rumors that the regional center would be located in Novi have been particularly strong ever since SCI exercised options and purchased 170 acres of land immediately adjacent to its original 130 acre holdings approximately two months

The move, accomplished at great expense, was viewed by most Novi officials as paramount formal announcement that the center will be developed in Novi. Although the additional acreage more than doubles the size of SCI's original 130acre parcel which was rezoned for the shopping center in 1970, SCI representative Stuart Finney has told the Novi planning board that only a small percentage of the additional land will be added to the site of the proposed regional center.

Instead, existing plans call for development of an integrated commercialprofessional officesresidential district.

The regional center will be developed on the southeast corner of Novi and 12 Mile Roads. A combined professional officecommercial district is planned for 12 Mile Road from the edge of the regional center east to Meadowbrook Road. And a combined professional office-multiple family residential district is planned for the eastern border of the property Meadowbrook Road.

Although the regional center is being greeted with open arms by city officials and without a trace of opposition from residents, the center is coming to Novi only because of strong citizen opposition in two other communities.

Meadowbrook Road Paving Slated to Start Monday

Long-awaited paving of Meadowbrook Road between Nine and Ten Mile Roads is slated to begin within the Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole announced Tuesday that as of Monday, July 2, Meadowbrook Road will be blocked off at the location of the new bridge and will no longer be a through road.

"Road Closed - Local Traffic Only" signs will be installed on Meadowbrook at the corners of both Nine and Ten Mile Roads, BeGole stated.

In addition, barricades will be constructed at the entrances of Borchart, Malott, Chattman, and Village Woode Road onto Meadowbrook. "We want everyone who has some way of getting out of either Orchard Hills, Willowbrook, or Village Oaks other than Meadowbrook Road to start using it," said BeGole.

"Meadowbrook Road will be kept open for emergency vehicles and for those who either live on the road or have no other way out, but those people who do have some other way out are advised to use it," said BeGole.

Melvin Groleau of Groleau Brothers Construction, the company contracted by the city to do the paving, said that his company will begin shooting surveys for the road and bridge Monday.

"We'll be cleaning up the road and putting in the grading and drainage," he said. "The first thing that has to be completed is the installation of the bridge and that will occupy most of our time in the early stages of the project."

Groleau estimated that the actual paving would begin September 1. A November 1 completion anticipated. But while plans to pave Meadowbrook Road appear to be on the verge of realization, the plans of the Oakland County Road Commission to pave Haggerty Road between Nine and Ten Mile are somewhat up in the air.

"The bids have been let, but we're having trouble in obtaining the right of way along certain portions of the road," reported Frazer Staman, vice-chairman of the County Road Commission. "If we don't resolve these problems within the next two weeks, it looks like we might have to postpone the project until next summer." "We feel that we have to get started on the project by August 1 if we're going to complete it before the bad weather sets in and if we can't clear up the right of way problems in two weeks, I just don't think we can get started by August 1," concluded.

William Tiffin, the 104-yearold Wixom resident, and Mrs. Marjory E. Watson, 67-yearold former Novi postmaster died early this week. Funeral arrangements are being made through the Casterline Funeral Home of Northville.

One of Michigan's oldest citizens, Mr. Tiffin had been living in a convalescent home since the death of his 96-vearold brother just a few weeks

Mrs. Watson, who headed the post office for years, lived at 44370 Grand River.

NO MORE PENCILS, NO MORE BOOKS-First year of Northville's voluntary experimental year-round school program officially came to a close Wednesday as the 171 students began their fourth vacation. But up to the final bell, students were still busy learning and Amerman elementary teacher Miss Patricia Martin (second from left) gave them a few pointers. A total of 594 students have been enrolled for the second 45-15 program which includes kindergarten through grade eight. Two schedules will be run, with the first beginning July 30 and the second opening August 20. Northville's year-round classes were the first to be operating in Michigan, with 45 days of school alternating with 15 days of vacation throughout the year. School administrators have termed the first year's program "extremely successful and educationally beneficial."

Editorials... a page for expressions ...yours and ours

Keep your fingers crossed.

It now appears definite that the Michigan State Police complex on Northville State Hospital property on Seven Mile road will become a reality in the near future.

On Tuesday this week the State Senate approved a capital outlay bill that includes one million dollars for completion of plans and start of construction of the long-awaited facility.

Hopefully, it will be approved by the House of Representatives this

A lot has happened since two troopers walked into my office two years ago and wondered if I might know where they could find a vacant building in the area for a state police

"Just provide us with four walls", they stated. "We'll do the rest."

We tried to obtain one of the vacant buildings on the Sheldon road Child Development Center. But that plan was vetoed by the county board of commissioners.

So it was decided that the possibility of building a post in the area should be explored. The state police, we were told, had funds to pay rent-but not to build. And all they needed was a few thousand square feet inside four walls.

Maybe $50,000 or $60,000 would do

So help was summoned from the Northville Area Ed Development Corporation. Economic

Composed of citizens representing the city, township and school district, the group is a non-profit organization formed to help promote the economic welfare of the community.

But news of the Northville effort to bring a state police post to the area attracted attention and competition from a Plymouth group.

And in the meantime the state police decided that the proposed facility should provide space for more than just a post.

The crime laboratory in Plymouth was also overcrowded. And the district headquarters, largest in the state of Michigan, was badly in the need of more office space.

So why not a complex composed of post, crime lab and district headquarters?

That made sense. But the price now skyrocketed to the lofty heights of a million dollars or more.

And the Plymouth group was making some attractive offers if the post could be placed on Northville road across from the new Hilton

But Northville had a few cards of its own to play.

First, members of the Economic Development Corporation were convinced that the location of a state police post and crime lab in the immediate area would serve as a would-be deterrent troublemakers. And the resources of both the post and crime lab would be most helpful to local law enforcement agencies. So they were determined to pursue the project.

Secondly, arrangements had been made through the efforts of then-Representative Marvin Stempien and Senator Carl Purcell to transfer some 10 acres of State Hospital property to the department of the State Police.

And, finally, the Northville group retained a talented architect, Karl Nelson, who worked closely with State Police officials and designed a facility that won the support and approval of the top brass in the State

Beyond the fact that the site was ideally placed near a soon-to-be-completed expressway, that the land was already state owned, that the architectural plan was sound, and that the political support provided by Stempien and Purcell was superb, there was one other factor that gained the nod for Northville.

The group of men working to bring the State Police complex to Northville had no connection with any private enterprise. They were members of a non-profit, volunteer organization dedicated exclusively to the improvement of the welfare of the total community.

Colonel John Plants, top man in the Michigan State Police, cited this factor particularly.

So what has happened now?

The state of Michigan has now said that it will finance its own facility. The Northville Economic Development Corporation does not nave to porrow a million dollars more to build the complex and sell it back to the state.

Michigan intends to build its own complex. But it will use the Northville plan, retain the same architect and repay the local group for the money it has spent thus far on plans and preliminary engineering.

It sounds like a happy ending.

It should be for all citizens of the Northville area. And especially for these men who worked on the project:

Gunnar Stromberg, Bill Miron, John Canterbury, Frank Ollendorff, John Carlo, Philip Ogilvie, Bob Bogart, Donald Lawrence, Crispen Hammond, Joe Straub, A.R. Clarke and John Miller.

There are no hard feeling from Economic Development because the state has decided to handle its own financing.

The year's work wasn't wasted. The Northville plan stays and the objective has been realized.

Monday Holidays?

ROBERT SILBAR

Good . . .

Most decidedly it is a good move — especially for working people. How delightful it is to look forward to a long 3-day weekend.

It makes a weekend trip worthwhile. You do not have to madly dash for home from up north, for example, on Sunday. You can leisurely make the trek anytime on Monday. Certainly a 3-day weekend can help reinforce the family relationship by encouraging more family gatherings — both far and near.

If you have any work to do around the home, one can really accomplish something with an extended weekend. Knowing you have 3 days to get some work done on the homefront is a great impetus.

Last but by no means least, what a tremendous feeling on Sunday evening to know that you don't have to arise on Monday morning to the irritating sound of the alarm clock. I am all for 3-day weekends!

> Alice VanAtta South Lyon Secretary

Bad . . .

Monday holidays? Fooey on them. They are the bane of newspaper people. Whatever relaxation harried editors and advertising salesmen get on a three-day weekend is abruptly ended in a desperate try to recoup the lost time, because Monday is prime time for newspaper people.

Monday is the day that advertising salesmen run their trap lines and reporters go visiting. Monday is the time that editors start putting weekend copy on the hook, so that the photocomp girls can set type. A newspaper is not produced all at once; it is the product of many hours of hard work. Newspapers run on deadline schedules—and if you miss a deadline, because of holiday interference, you disturb the work day of typesetters, compositors, photographers, and even pressmen. Missing one deadline is like a house of cards—too many people are affected later is like a house of cards—too many people are affected later in the week trying to make up for lost time.

Newspapers get the worst of both the retail business and the service business. It takes time to sell advertising space; time to cover meetings and edit copy, let alone go through the whole routine of getting words into print. On Mondays most governmental units meet; most advertisers finally start thinking about what they will advertise that week. Take Monday away from any week and the whole week goes out of kilter.

On holidays, government offices close their doors. Hence, sources of information dry up. No meetings; no stories. No stores open; no advertising. It's as simple as that—and too often, such as Memorial Day or July 4 there are parades and celebrations for reporters to cover—working while other people have holidays.

Come the day after a holiday and the work load is tremendous. It's famine and then feast. And what can a newspaperman do but write a piece highly critical of the politicians who were responsible for Monday holidays in the first place?

If he does, of course, he's in real trouble with his readers who enjoy Monday holidays. Such holidays should be on Fridays, instead. If a long weekend is desired, that's the time for them.

This is in reply to the letter to the Editor that appeared in the Record on June 21. I can understand why his intelligence was insulted if his letter showed the scope of his

Perhaps the death of Evelyn Collins, tragic and regretful as it was, served a useful purpose.

School Superintendent Ray! Spear isn't uptight about it, mind you, but he's mighty curious why four local gold prospectors he helped grubstake have, one by one, moved from Northville to Arizona.

"It's strange," Ray told me Friday, "why all of them have slowly drifted out there.

Last of the four "amateur" prospectors, Walt Stobbe, packed off for Arizona two weeks ago. First, Craig Rathburn, former Chevrolet sales executive here, moved out. He was followed by Northville policeman Phil Young and later by Al Laux, who sold his Northville drug store lock stock and barrel and took off for the mountains.

And now Walt.

For years whenever they got vacations the four high-tailed it for Arizona to hike the rugged Superstition Mountains in search of the mysterious Lost Dutchman mine.

Legend has it that the mine is worth millions.

Now all four of the Northville prospectors have taken up permanent residence in Arizona.

Just before moving Al told me, "We haven't found it yet but we're still looking." When I suggested it seemed awfully peculiar that he'd be moving, too, Al just smiled and said, "Eat your heart out. Postmaster Johnny Steimel, a close friend of the prospectors, reports that his latest conversation with Craig, leader of the quartet, indicates that "nothing's new. If they had something Craig would tell me.

'Only thing they've found is a good case of gold fever.'

Roger Rathburn, Northville police officer and brother of Craig, agrees with Johnny.

Two years ago, the prospectors after swearing me to secrecy, unveiled the map they've been using in their search for the lost gold.

The map, which has been purposely altered over the last century or more to throw off anyone who tries to find the treasure, contains the location of the mine along with scribbled landmarks and unintelligible Spanish words and letters.

Comparing the map with hundreds of slides they , had taken over the years, the men told me they had 'suddenly hit the key. It had been staring us in the face all along and we just didn't see it," Laux confided. Using this "key" they compared the map to landmarks in their slides and "bingo, it fit like a

The men went back into the mountains the following winter and came back telling everyone they didn't find the gold but that they weren't discouraged.

From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE

Michigan Representative

The severe and growing problem of drinking drivers received increased attention in Lansing last week, with House passage of a bill to assist law enforcement officers in apprehending the drinking driver, and a special assault by Governor Milliken on the problem.

The bill passed by the House last week, which also had the Governor's support, prohibits a person from transporting or possessing alcohol in the passenger compartment of a vehicle which is open, uncapped or upon which the seal is broken. I voted for the bill.

Present law prohibits a person from consuming alcoholic beverages on a public highway, but in order to enforce the law police officers must actually observe the alcohol being consumed, which makes enforcement almost impossible. The Department of State Police, which supports this bill, says that prohibition of the transporting of open containers of alcoholic beverages would aid them in enforcing existing statutes dealing with drinking while driving.

In a speech last week detailing an eight-point program to solve highway problems, Governor Milliken singled out the drinking driver as one of the state's major highway safety problems. In addition to support of the alcohol transportation bill, the Governor also urged support for legislation which would require drivers involved in accidents which have caused personal injury to submit to blood alcohol content tests when the arresting officer has reasonable belief that alcohol was a contributing factor in the accident.

Also adopted by the House last week was House Bill 4365, a bill to allow a married woman with her own income to enter into, and be responsible for her contracts without requiring her husband's co-signature on any such contract. I voted for the bill.

The original act was an effort to grant married women the use, management and enjoyment of their own income and, when passed, was a departure from the common law under which the assets or earnings of a married woman were the property of her husband. At that time the law did not go so far as to allow a married woman to enter into contracts in her own name, although a single woman in the same financial circumstances could make such a contract.

This bill would remove the last vestige of a married woman's dependency on her husband in relation to the use of her own earnings. However, where the income of a married woman is not satisfactory for approval of the contract without another person's signature as surety or guarantor, there is nothing in this act that would prevent a lender from requiring a co-signature for that reason.

Three other interesting bills passed the house last

-HB 4796 would make it a felony to send, deliver or place a device which is constructed to represent or presented as an explosive or bomb. Under existing statute the sending or placing of an actual explosive constitutes a felony, but the law makes no provision for devices which are constructed to represent an explosive but do not actually contain an explosive material.

-HB 4810 provides a new formula of financing urban renewal projects which would enable the municipality to generate considerably more funds for their urban renewal projects. Present law only allows cities of over 750,000 in population to participate. This would enable other municipalities to raise funds unders to raise funds under this program, and wuld eliminate the need of communities to depend upon public building authorities for financing.

-HB 4747 would amend the veterans burial act to require that a deceased veteran must have been a resident of a particular county at the time of his death to receive its $300 county burial assistance allotment provided by the act. Currently some counties are having to pay this $300 even though the individual may not have resided in that county or even the state since his separation from the service!

Asks Proper Care of Pets

To the Editor:
This letter is directed to those families who own pets and let them run loose.

Do you ever worry about your pet's safety...or care if he is being mistreated!? You buy the pet, pat yourselves on the back for being an animal lover - then turn him loose to

The other side to this story is those of us who do not own pets (or those owners who keep their pet at home), and yet must clean up after yours. Or, worry if the animal is a stray and dangerous. We witnessed a dog biting a (not playfully) a group of two to four year old children on Monday, June 4th. These children were in their OWN yard on Langfield Drive being cared for by concerned parents. Please, if you own a pet, give him proper care by keeping him in YOUR yard...and at the same time you will be showing a responsible attitude for the laws of your community.

Wayne County Training School-in recent years called Child County Development Center---was created a half-century ago to care for the increasing numbers of mentally retarded children of the county.

Until its development, these children had been cared for at the Michigan State Training School established at Lapeer.

By 1919, however, it became glaringly apparent that this institution could no longer care for the whole state. In fact in that year, out of 568 children recommended for commitment from Wayne only 111 could be accommodated at Lapeer.

In 1921, the state officials enacted enabling legislation permitting boards of supervisors to provide for the care and custody of "feebleminded" within their own

Later it purchased an adjoining 105 acres, pushing the total to over 1,000. (Several years ago this total was reduced when 250 acres was turned over to the state for development of the

for the closing of the center first because she felt a better method of caring for children could be devised, second because cost of operating the had become inefficient, and thirdly because she was convinced supervision at the center was 'grossly incompetent."

A six member committee of the Task Force concluded after its report that, "It was apparent that the regular aged and inept physical plant, the variety of individualized programs needed versus those actually received, and the staff shortages clearly presented major obstacles to the successful operation of the Center."

The Task Force rejected alternative suggestions that the Center continue to operate because:

- The physical plant is in poor condition and unsuitable for remodeling (estimated cost $2-5 million minimum).

Operating costs are very high ($50 to $60 per day per child) as compared to more appropriate programming that can be purchased for $35 to $40 per day.

- Location of the facility is inappropriate since the bulk of the patients (60-percent) come from Detroit.

Institutional environment inherent with a place of this size is contrary to modern treatment programs and is detrimental to the individual.

The difference in the kinds of children housed at the Center today and a decade ago accounts in part for the Center's problems, according to Dr. Buoniconto.

Choo-Choo, Lumber Still Lead Loop

Choo-Choo and Lumber. Choo-Choo and Lumber.

With the season approaching the half-way mark, it's beginning to look like the two premier teams in the Northville Recreation Department's Mens' Slo-Pitch Softball League have only each other to fear.

Neither Choo-Choo or Lumber did anything to diminish their lofty reputations last week and easily maintained their onetwo status atop the tough American League standings. But there was plenty of action among the rest of the American and National League teams. Hamlet Food Mart and the Northville Jaycees, who had been tied for third place in the American League, each stumbled and fell last week and were passed in the standings by the Con Langfield team.

And in the National League Greenfield Die and the VFW, who were first and second last week, suddenly found themselves in third and fourth place as they were passed by Manor House Realty-Keith Heating and by John Mach Ford, each of whom won two games.

Choo-Choo, the defending league champions, picked up their ninth and tenth wins of the season last week by easily topping the VFW team 14-1 and then coming back to earn a hard-pressed 6-1 win over Greenfield Die.

Choo-Choo pitcher Don Phillippi didn't give up a hit until the fourth inning and surrenderd a total of just five hits in the whole game as Choo-Choo rapped the Veterans 14-1. The score was 11-0 before the Choo-Choo defense finally allowed the Veterans to score their lone run of the game.

Rich Adams and Ray Kelly paced the 19-hit Choo-Choo attack with three hits apiece, Jerry Imsland contributed a pair of threebaggers. Dan Kelbert collected two of the six VFW Choo-Choo's other win came in a hard-fought contest with Greenfield Die. Choo-Choo outhit Greenfield by a narrow 8-7 margin, but made their hits stand up for a 6-1 triumph.

The game was tied at one run apiece until the fifth inning when Choo-Choo rallied for three runs to break the deadlock and then added two more in the sixth to clinch the win. Pete Woodard with three singles was the only Choo-Choo hitter with more than one hit, but it was Imsland's two-out, three-run double in the fifth which proved to be the decisive

Jeff Hinkel had two of the seven Greenfield hits.

Northville Lumber had just one game last week and easily disposed of the VFW squad by a 14-2 margin.

Ace Lumber hurler Jerry Levan gave up just two hits, while his teammates were clubbing out 16 safeties. Dan Parker formerly of Snyder's in the Detroit Metro League, led the assault with two doubles and a towering home run, while Bob Boshoven also John Dodd and Mike Sissem stroked singles for the Vets to ruin Levan's bid for an unprecedented second straight no-hitter.

Slipping into third place in the American League was the Con Langfield squad, which won its only game of the week, while Hamlet Food Mart and the Northville Jaycees were there splitting two contests.

Trailing 4-2 at the end of five and a half innings, the Langfield squad came to life in the bottom of the sixth and scored 11 times in the last two innings to take a 13-6 triumph.

Tony Zima, Bernie Bach, and Rod Crane each picked up three hits in the game and Jeff Jones had a double and a triple to pace the winners, while Darryl Hopping with two hits and Denny Failon with a home run were the top Plymouth State Home hitters.

Langfield was able to move into third thanks to Plymouth State Home, which beat the Jaycees, and Manor House

The Jaycees got back on the winning track Friday by. blasting out a 19-8 win overthe Northville Newcomers. Ron Reitenour and Jim Belz delivered home runs for the Jaycees, while Darryl Holloway had three singles to, pace the Newcomers.

Manor House scored seven times in the second inning as Nelson Hyatt belted a home run and then coasted to a 10-6 triumph over Hamlet which was held to one run until the top of the seventh inning.

The other Manor House win was a 19-5 thumping of the Northville State Hospital team. Tim Lurvey and Steve Griggs paced the rout with. four and three hits, respectively.

Another National League team which posted a pair of wins last week was the John Mach Ford squad which. topped the Presbyterian; Church squad 16-8 and upset Exotic Plastic and Rubber 4-;

John Mach Ford broke an 8-8 tie with the Presbyterians with eight runs in the last two innings to register a 16-8 victory. Ray Taulbee and John Mach Junior had four hits apiece for John Mach.

Michigan Tractor Grabs First Place

They're playing musical chairs with first place in Novi Parks and Recreation Commission's Mens' Slo-Pitch Softball League.

For the third time in the last three weeks, the League found itself with yet another new leader as play came to a close last Friday. This time it is the strong Michigan Tractor team which has forged its way to the top of the

The take-over of the Tractor-men only continues a season-long trend of a new leader every week.

Last week it was the Novi Jaycees who were on top. Two weeks ago the Star Lincoln-Mercury squad held down first place. And the week before that, the Novi Inn was in first place - tied with Star Lincoln-Mercury.

Michigan Tractor needed just one win last week to take a '7-5 decision over the Star Lincoln-Mercury team which has now lost its last three ball

Star picked up a pair of runs in the first inning, but the Tractor-men came back with three in the bottom of the first and then added four more in the third to take a 7-2 lead. Star rallied for three runs in the final two innings, but was unable to cut the lead any closer and finally yielded the 7-5 victory.

Tractor pitcher Jerry Purdon limited the faltering Car-dealers to just six hits two of them by Bob Donaldson. Chris Hathon, Dick Floyd, and Dick Jones each rapped out two hits apiece to pace the winner's 12-

Michigan Tractor owed a major share of the credit for its number one ranking to the resurgent Novi Inn, which upended last week's leaders the Novi Jaycees - 18-11.

Mike Bingham belted a three-run homer in the top of the first to put the Inn on top 3-0, only to see the Jaycees knot the score in the bottom of the first as Big Phil McNary belted a three-run homer.

But from then on the Inn took over. Bingham homered again in the second inning and Scott Boyer also delivered a round tripper as the Inn tallied eight times and were on their way to an 18-11 triumph.

Faulkner homered for the hard-hitting Inn team and joined Boyer and Dennis Brooks in collecting three hi. Jim Waynowski and each had three hits

In their other gam. ast week, the Inn romped to a 21-6 victory over the Novi Police. Eight runs in the first inning and seven more in the third early stages of the game.

Jeff Deneen hammered out a double, triple, and home run in three at bats to pace the winners, who also got offensive help from Paul Faulkner, who belted a home run, and Brian Deneen, who went three for three.

Inn pitcher Klaus Bujak limited the coppers to ten hits - three of them by Bruce Place. In spite of their two wins, the Inn is still in third place half a game behind L'Esperance Electric, which also posted a pair of wins last

The Electricians proved that their second place position is no fluke as they routed both their opponents in last week's games.

Pitcher Walt Maki gave up just five hits as the Electricians clobbered J. P. Realty - formerly the Meadowbrook Lake team - 19-3. Dan Laho and Eli Frantti paced the Electrician's 19-hit attack with three hits apiece to share hitting honors with Don Maki who belted a sixth inning home run. Jim Woeklers tripled for the Realtors.

Maki, Electrician's pitcher, was at it again in his team's next game as this time he limited Jamaican Pools to just five hits to lead his team to a 17-1 triumph. Dan Laho, John Heinonen, and Vic Pietela each stroked out three hits to account for half of the winner's 18-bit total and Laho and Pietela blasted round trippers in the rout. Bob McBride had a pair of singles > for the Jamaican Pools team. The Jaycees and Star Lincoln-Mercury - two of the former league leaders posted lop-sided wins after having lost to the Inn and Michigan Tractor respectively. Todd Price held Novi Heights to nine hits as his teammates hammered out a 16-3 victory.

Doug Thrush homered and Gary Colton, Jim Cherfoli, Joe Pochter, and Dr. Terry Neilson all had three hits apiece to pace the Jaycee's triumph. Bob Freith was the top hitter for the Heights' with a two for two performance at the plate.

Novi Heights was again the victim as Star LincolnMercury ended its three game losing streak with an 18-3 victory.

Jerry Galik, the new Star shortstop, belted a fourbagger in his first official trip to the plate and finished the game with three hits in four trips to the plate to share hitting honors with Rey Rodriguez, who also went three for four, and Mike Fenchel, who went four for Rick Ortwine had two of the Heights' six hits off of Star pitcher Mike Fenchel.

"It was quite a tournament," commented Bob Prom, head of the Northville Recreation Department. "The quality of the teams was outstanding. Some of the best teams in the state were entered and we even managed to draw one of the top teams in Ohio."

Choo-Choo posted a 4-1 record in winning the doubleelimination tourney and had to survive a do-or-die battle in the finals with Berry Sporting Goods - the team from Ohio -

The second Choo-Choo win came against Berry's. Leading 2-1 at the end of five innings, Choo-Choo scored four times in the top of the sixth as Dave Broad doubled

Choo-Choo gained the semifinals by edging the tough Ypsilanti Merchants 7-5 in their third game. Manufacturing team is sailing along in second place in the Livonia Connie Mack League, but Reef coaches Stan Nirider and Pat Cayley are convinced their charges can do much

"We just haven't been hitting the ball well so far," commented Nirider. "We have a 2-3 record and two of our losses have been shutouts and two of them have been by one run.

"As soon as our hitting comes around I think we're going to go places." ,;
And Nirider and Cayley are convinced that the hitters will start producing before too long.

"I don't think our problem is that we're not good hitters," stated Nirider. "I think the problem is that we just lack confidence up at the

"I've been corvinced from our very first practice session that there's a whole lot of talent on this team. They field well, they move well, they're good athletes. There's no reason why they shouldn't be able to hit well."

The Reef team, which is same players who make up the Northville High School team in the spring, split their four games last week right down the middle- winning two and losing two.

After dropping a 1-0 heartbreaker to Fancher's Janitor Supplies on Tuesday, they came back to register a 4-0 win over Harrison Tool on Thursday, and then split a double header on Saturday. Berry Appliance gained a 6-0 victory in the first game, but

Northville's Reef Reef came back in their and then Joe would bear down second game Saturday to hammer out a 14-0 victory the Livonia

Optimist's squad.

Reef's 2-3 season record left them tied with Franklin for second place in the White Division, two and a half games behind first place Berry Appliance which is 4-0

A fine pitching performance by left-handed Ed Kritch was wasted Tuesday, as an unearned fifth inning run enabled Fancher's to register a 1-0 victory.

Kritch gave up just three hits and struck out six in going the route on the hill for Reef, but suffered the loss when a single, a passed ball, an error, and a suicide squeeze play gave Fancher's an unearned run in the bottom of the fifth. Northville could muster just four hits off Al Cappola, the Fancher hurler.

Reef finally notched its first win of the season Thursday as it set back Harrison Tool 4-0 with Joe Bishop on the mound.

Reef scored single runs in the first and fourth inning as John Sherman and Jim O'Brien crossed the plate, but their big inning was the third when Bill McDonald slugged a bases-loaded double to score Todd Eis and Kritch.

Northville's first loss of the season by more than one run came in their first game Saturday as they were belted 6-0 by a strong Berry Appliance team.

'John' Boland' drew the starting assignment from Nirider and pitched well through the first four innings, giving up just one run on a home run by Tony Dattillo.

But then in the fifth inning, the Berry Appliance hitters started to find the range. By the time the inning was over, they had rapped our four hits and scored five times to turn the 1-0 game into a 6-0 rout.

Saturday ended on a bright note for the Reef squad, however, as demonstrated for the first time this season that they can hit the ball hard.

After the game with Berry Appliance in Northville, they trekked to Henry Ford Field in Livonia where they did their best to make pessimists of the Livonia Optimists by banging out a 14-0 victory.

Leading the rout was second baseman Jim O'Brien, who had the biggest day of his career with a single, double, home run, and seven rbi's. And not far behind O'Brien in the hitting department were Bill McDonald and Randy McDonald had two singles and four rbi's and Oginski had two singles and three rbi's.

Overshadowed by the display of offensive prowess was the pitching performance of Ed Kritch, who gave up just five hits in recording his first shutout of the season.

54 Enter Tourney

A field of 54 contestants will tee off Friday at Bob O' Link Golf Course in the Sliger Publications golf tournament.

The tourney, first undertaken here by the community weekly newspapers, will be an 18-hole affair with equal prizes and trophies to be awarded in each of three flights.

Bob O' Link OwnerProfessional Midge Cova has promised to reserve the starting tee for an hour in the morning and afternoon so that tourney play will not conflict with public play.

Oroginally, the course was to have been closed for tourney play only, but lack of interest reduced the expected number of contestants and caused cancellation of the women's division entirely.

But the field includes good representation from all the aareas served by The Northville Record, Novi News, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus newspapers. Several local officials signed up to help promote the event. There's Wixom Mayor

Gib Willis and George Von Behren, Wixom's police chief. Novi's Mayor Joe Crupi and Councilman Denis Berry will be joined by City Attorney
Dave Fried as well as Laverne De Waard, president of the board of education, to give · Novi official representation in the tourney. And from the Brighton area there's Tom Kizer, Livingston county prosecutor, who carries a two-handicap and promises to be one of the better golfers in the tourney.

Northville is also represented by a number of local officials. Councilman Paul Folino, City Manager Frank Ollendorff and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie will be among the contestants.

Some of the contestants (including Kizer) cannot qualify for prizes in the tourney competition because they do not live in the designated area. They agreed to enter to help make the field large enough to conduct the tourney. And all of them have some connection with the area served by Sliger Publications.

Kizer, for example, is the county prosecutor. Charles McDonald, now Farmington and a practicing attorney in Redford, was once municipal judge in Northville. He owns Novi Inn in Novi. Evan Falkenhagen is golf coach in Howell. He'll play in a foursome with Northville's golf coach, Al Jones. Then there's Fried, the Novi city attorney. He resides outside the area, too. All the other players will be eligible for prizes and trophies, (see list on this page).

Bob O' Link promises to offer a good test for all players. While the short first nine (2830 yards) may yield a number of low scores, the 3610-yard back nine provides a real challenge to any golfer.

Lowest handicappers in the field of contestants include Vern LaVassaur, Jim Landquist, Jerry Flannigan and Dick Lind. Mayor Willis will certainly

Nice Nights 'n Friends

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Probably one of the nicest things about summertime is that it provides lovely balmy nights, perfect for social gatherings

And so it was Friday night when a group of neighbors got together for a lawn party. And since all parties are much more fun if they have a reason, it was decided that Cour reason would be an early "bon voyage" celebration for Elna and Paul Salo who are planning a trip to Finland. It was an evening of fun and laughter as some thirty people gathered with four-leaf clovers, a "log" book, and lots

Future Physician Practices Here

A group of 18-year-old future physicians studying at the University of Michigan have completed an early initiation into the practical world of medicine.

Last week (June 10-16) the students completed a fourweek field experience. Each was assigned to a family physician or group of physicians located in communities all over Michigan to gain a practical insight into what it is really like to be a physician.

One of the U-M students was Nancy Ayres, who came to Northville for her experience, working in the shadow of Dr. R. M. Atchison.

"We want these young people to find out if they have the aptitudes for a career in medicine, as well as get a first hand early experience with the patient's side of medical care," said Dr. Robert Johnson, a U-M professor and director of the field course.

Most sat in on hundreds of office calls, observed surgery, baby deliveries and went on hospital rounds with their physician-preceptors.

"Based on what reports I've had so far, the program has been successful," Dr. Johnson said. "There's been a lot of enthusiasm both on the part of the doctors and students, some of whom seemed a little stunned to find out just how much responsibility they will take on as physicians.'

Comfort

A key to comfort is insulation. If your home has insulation, you can forget about cold floors, cold walls and chilly corners. Insulation slows down heat loss through walls and ceilings. At the same time, it helps keep cold air from seeping in. And, for summertime comfort, the same insulation that keeps the heated air in for winter warmth, keeps the hot air out. Insulation próvides additional bonuses - a more uniform temperature and a quieter home - helps keep outside noises out. Weather stripping, storm windows and doors, or insulating glass all help reduce heat loss, too. So, when you insulate, you're providing a more comfortable home for you and your family.

- The ASSES CARRED IN THE STATE OF THE STATE

Savings

What about savings? Since insulation helps keep heat from escaping and the cold from seeping in, it follows that it takes less fuel to keep an insulated home warm. (In fact, proper insulation could reduce your heating bill as much as one-third.) Insulation pays year-around dividends because the same insulation that saves you money on fuel costs for winter warmth, saves you money on cooling costs, insulation keeps your heating and cooling equipment from working overtime. It reduces maintenance and assures a more efficient operation and longer life. Proper insulation pays for itself through lower fuel bills and, at the same time, helps you conserve precious energy.

Proper Insulation pays for itself in comfort and through savings

Nisun said that under the new radio system, the township will operate on the same frequency as Northville and Plymouth or operate from the township's own base station when a dispatcher is on duty in the township.

Dispatching by Michigan State Police could also be maintained.

Finns Cheer Warm Summer's Sunlight

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The Northwille Record

The sun disappears behind the clouds for a week and area residents rejoice when it finally reappears.

Imagine the hoopla if the sun were reappearing after a winter of almost total darkness.

"Your whole being is happy; you want to shout your joy to the world...and that's what we do on this day, 'the Juhannus Kasteian Paiva (the Day of John the Baptist)," explains Archie Brown.

explains Archie Brown.

That's why in Finland Juhannus Kasteian Paiva is the biggest holiday of the year...and why even in America people of Finnish heritage feel an irresistible urge to celebrate, adds Brown.

It's like the Fourth of July and New Years

Eve rolled into one.

So when the hundreds of Finns and their guests paused in the merrymaking Saturday to light a giant midnight bonfire at the Finnish Summer Camp in Wixom, they were celebrating "victory over darkness".

And Brown, whose real name is Ojanpaa ("I changed it because it's too difficult for most to spell and pronounce"), was right in there shouting for joy, too.

But for him part of the joy was in knowing he had made it through the day without any shattering problems. Brown, you see, was chairman this year of the Juhannus celebration at the Finnish Summer Campone of the oldest and largest of its kind in Michigan lichigan.

Oh, they ran out of pasties, and the birch boughs decorating the dance floor weren't really birch, and it rained, but Juhannus was a success nevertheless. It always is, just as the Fourth of July is always a success.

Although Juhannus today has a Christian thanksgiving meaning in Finland where the great majority of people are Lutherans, it originally was a pagan festival originally was a pagan festival.

And similar festivals are held in other Scandinavian countries but under different names, according to Brown. In Sweden, for example, it is called the mid-summer festival.

festival.

The bonfire or kokko is one of the pagan rituals that has survived. Last Saturday it was burned near Sun Lake despite the rain. In Finland, this bonfire is started on a raft and pushed out into the lake to burn itself out.

Dancing generally accompanies the bonfire...when it isn't raining.

Decorating the clubhouse with "birch" boughs is ethnically important, explains Brown, because Finland is a great lumbering country and its most important wood is birch.

"Birch is pretty scarce in this area," says Brown, "so we usually cut branches from other kinds of trees growing on our property and substitute them for birch. Most people can't tell the difference in leaves anyway." Birch in Finland is used for many purposes

Birch in Finland is used for many purposes other than for building. It is still used to make birch bark shoes, for making trunks (kirstu), and for making sauna switches.

In Finland, as in other Scandinavian countries, people "very rarely stay in town when the long dark winter ends. They flee the cities in droves to get out into the country where they can enjoy summer to its fullest.

"It doesn't matter how modest or small their cottages are. All that counts is that they can stay somewhere close to nature during the almost 24 hours of sunlight," says Brown.

the almost 24 hours of sunlight," says Brown.
(Almost continual daylight during the three summer months is offset by almost continual darkness in the middle of winter.)

The Finnish Summer Camp in Wixom and the other similar camps elsewhere in the United States owe their existence to this annual migration in Finland. Just like those living in Finland, citizens of the United States who have a Finnish background also flee to the country in the summer.

"Some working men will bring their families to the camp for the summer and then commute daily from their places of employment," according to Brown.

The camp in Wixom, which covers approximately 100 acres (includes Sun Lake with beach privileges on Loon Lake), was established in the 1920's. Some of the charter members still reside at the camp.

While most of the cottages are small and for summer use only, some of the residences are used year-round.

Either the wife or the husband must have Finnish ancestry to qualify a family for membership in the camp association. And a couple must contribute at least 24 hours of work at the camp sometime during the

Here's Path to Weedless Vacation

How do you take a vacation and not have your garden overrun with weeds? If you do a good job of mulching, you can enjoy your vacation without worrying about weeds taking over your vegetable garden.

"Mulch provides other benefits as well." It conserves soil moisture, prevents soil puddling, keeps fruit clean, helps maintain uniform soil temperatures, and organic mulches gradually release plant nutrients as they decompose.

Consider black plastic for mulching vegetables and Black plastic is used mainly with plants grown in hills or spaced apart such as melons, squash, pumpkins, cucumbers, tomatoes and strawberries. It should not be used with cool season crops such as broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage, or peas unless it is covered with sawdust or other material to reflect light.

If your garden soil needs improving, organic materials might be better than plastic for mulching. But try to avoid organic materials that contain a lot of weed seeds,

HOW TO HANDLE CUT FLOWERS

Part of the fun of growing garden flowers is the pleasure of bringing them indoors for home decoration. You may have a large area with profuse bloom to spare, but still favorite flowers can be made to last longer with a few hints in mind.

There is an art to picking flowers. Certainly we want to avoid choosing blossoms that are past their prime. Those just beginning to open are generally best, showing true petal color. Exceptions to this rule are dahlias, zinnias, chrysanthemums and marigolds that are best if picked when fully open.

Time of day for picking flowers is another factor. Always avoid excessive heat and select either early morning or later in the evening for this pleasant chore. Then cut on a slant with a sharp knife, never with scissors. If stems are cut to different lengths, it is easier to achieve more versatile arrangements.

A hardening-up process is most important once the flowers are cut. Professional arrangers always submerge the complete stem in a pail of water or other receptacle. The flowers then remain in a cool place from four to twelve hours. All leaves that would be runder ther water in hal container are removed for better breathing and appearance.

Some flowers by nature last longer than others but all benefit from the coolest temperature possible and a degree of shade. Never place cut flowers in a strong draft or excessive heat. Placing containers on the floor overnight is also advocated.

There are a number of commercial products on the market that are effective in adding to the life of cut flowers by chemical means. formation and preserve freshness. Yet sugar has been found most beneficial of all solutions added as a means of lowering the pH of water? It is' especially recommended for petunias, asters, pinks and chrysanthemums at the rate, of one to two level teaspoonsful to each quart of water.

Some flower types do need special treatment and only a few • favorites 'can be mentioned in this column. Roses call for a solution of three tablespoonsful of sugarto each quart of water and frequent recutting of stems. A fine mist spray over petals. and foliage is excellent. Peonies are handled by cutting when blooms are open. Iris are cut when the topbid is ready to unfold. Two or three drops of oil of peppermint added to each quart of water helps to:.

If you are also using cut foliage in arrangement, it should be clean. Shellac or olive oil is not the best treatment: '-Warm 3 soapy! water mrsi? ibliowed by a cool rinse, should conclude; with the conditioning of stems in . cool water for evergreens. Other herbaceous foliage such as grape-ivy, canna and maiden-hair fern requires conditioning in cool water for about an hour; stems are kept submerged until flowers are arranged.

If concrete reinforcement wire is used, a 10- to 24-inch diameter cylinder is made by hooking together the ends of a 4- to 5-foot section of wire. The bottom rung is cut away and the prongs are pushed into the soil for support.

Jobs Demand Highest Skills

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS. -During the current business boom which is still bumping along its all-time ceiling the employment situation has been peculiarly difficult to predict, by both geographical area and industry.

Even with the economy shattering all previous records, jobless totals have held close to 5 percent of the labor force even as employment as a whole has touched one new peak after another. This has, of course, been due in large measure to the vast numbers of people entering the job market each year.

There has been the influx of high school and college graduates moving annually into the already enormous labor reservoir. Then, too, the revving up of our business motor has attracted back into the labor force many housewives whose families have grown up, long-time unemployed people whose hopes have been stimulated anew by the rise in economic activity, and older folk including restless retirees.

Apparently there have not been enough positions emerging to absorb all these job aspirants, leaving unemployment substantially higher than the Adminstration had hoped for earlier.

women of highest skill and adaptability are taken on.

So today most employers are angling for only the best, and unskilled job seekers are finding it

BUT CONDITIONS have imp- Businesses going at top speed tend roved so much in many fields that to hire back--where possible-employers are on the prowl for workers once more. During the recession, hiring policies became less active, competition less vigorous for the best graduates of higher rates of pay. leading colleges.

The need for adding to personnels is now becoming more widespread, and rerecruiting at institutions of higher learning is more prevalent.

It should be noted, however, that the upsurge in costs of labor, materials, machines, and general difference between "taking orders" operations has made most hiring officials more cautious in choosing new manpower. If efficiency is to be preserved, turnover must be held to a minimum, and the best way to achieve that is to make certain that demand for office help. Gifted,

Demand is particularly heavy for engineers of various types including project, manufacturing, and process specialists. Accountants are widely sought, especially those thoroughly at home with computers. There is an increasing call for supersalesmen, those who are acquainted with mod techniques and who know the and doing a real selling job.

IN MOST AREAS where industrial and service operations are focused, there is sharp and continuing only the most intelligent men and experienced stenographers are usually at a considerable premium, while the same is generally true for clerks, computer programmers, and sophisticated of operators machines.

As is usual during active times, employers put themselves out to retain their best people, often granting raises, incentive improvements, fringe benefits, and free choice of working time without union or other pressure.

There is no question but that executive genius is rare and must be well paid. For this reason wageprice administrators are frustrated by instances of salary hikes for top company officials way beyond those permitted for regular workers.

John T. Dunlop, director of the Cost of Living Council, must face up to this issue, since union forces are already citing instances of executive raises in salary ranging in rare instances as high as 100-200 percent compared with the non-brass guideline of 5.5 or 6.2 percent including fringe benefits. This is only a part of the pay-price problem so difficult to solve.

Fluoride Deadline's July 19

LANSING-The question of whether to add fluoride to a community's drinking water, a medical and social issue thrust some years ago into the political arena. may be decided for every Michigan governmental unit with a water supply by July 19.

That's the deadline for every county, city, township or village in the state to eithe reject fluoride or add it to its drinking supply under a law passed by the Legislature in 1968. All units which haven't specifically rejected it by then are required to add it.

Michigan was the first state to see the addition of fluoride to water to fight tooth decay in 1945 when Grand Rapids became the first community

THINGS WENT along quietly for several years until a relatively small group of people began perceiving subersive overtones to this medical practice and began agitating against it.

While they have been loud on occasion, and won their points in some places, they haven't yet influenced the majority of residents of the state.

At present 250 Michigan communities add fluoride to their water. These represent nearly 6.4 million people, meaning more than 71 per cent of the state now drinks fluoridated water daily with no apparent ill effects and no takeover Communist government. (Anti-fluoride people might disagree on both counts.)

Another 54 communities have water that is naturally fluoridaed.

HEALTH OFFICIALS are as convinced today as they were in 1945 that fluoride is very helpful in fighting decay.

"Water fluoridation is known to reduce tooth decay by as much as 60 per cent," says State Health Reizen. Maurice Director 'Additional benefits are fewer dental bills, less pain and discomfort for children and better health through adult life."

By July 19 the question can be decided everywhere in the state one way or another, but it is likely the issue will not die.

ANOTHER DEADLINE, less serious in nature, comes this Saturday (June 30).

That's the last day Michigan residents can reserve a personalized license plate for themselves for 1974.

The license, called "vanity plates," are available at a charge of $25 above what the car owner State Approves normally pays for his license plates. That money goes to the highway department to be used for highway

A car owner can get anything he wants on his plate, so long as it takes no more than a total of six letters or numbers and it isn't offensive.

AMONG THOSE already reserved are such phrases as "hot dog," "pay now," and "honest."

Some car lovers already have reserved the words "Jaguar," "Lotus," "Vette," and "Mark IV" to match the auto they own.

"It's an easy way for a motorist to do a little something for ecology, and have fun with his license plates at the same time," explains Secretary of State Richard Austin. "The individual can have his name, pet slogan, or possibly his hometown as an official license plate, and the money he spends will help keep Michigan's highways clean, and will make for happier motoring."

Look how little it takes to take

Once a person has reserved a name or slogan, the slogan is theirs for as long as they wish. They do not have to reapply each year, but simply can renew their license

ONE OF THE TRAGIC situations which exists is the seriously ill person who cannot afford to pay for medical treatment needed to make him well.

Two members of the legislature are making an attempt to provide help so that persons living in the richest country in the world need not die because they can't afford doctor and treatment bills.

Representative Joyce Symons, D-Allen Park, and Senator Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, have introduced bills to create a special $500,000 fund for persons with catastrophic illnesses or injuries.

It provides payment for 100 per cent of the medical expenses in excess of 15 per cent of a family's gross income.

Thus, if a family of four had an income of $10,000 per year and an illness raised its medical bills above the $1,500 level, the state would pay the bills. Since some illnesses require elaborate and expensive treatment which can be as high as a total income, for those persons the bill could literally be a life saver.

RRAPARA KANDARA KANDARA

New Hudson, Mich.

Perhaps the function of the priestly office of born-again, saved saints, has attracted your attention very little, but not so with God. A minute summary may enlighten us toward the necessary function of the Priesthood of the believer-priest. Until the law was given, the head of every family was the family priest.

"And Noah builded an altar unto the Lord; and took of every clean beast, and ... foul, and offered burnt offerings on the altar and the Lord smelled a sweet savor;." See also, Gen. 26:25 and Gen. 31:54. When the law was given, God chose the Aaronic family and the tribe of Levi, for a typical priesthood. See Exodus 28:1 and Malachi 3:3. In the church age, including our generations, all born-again, saved believers are unconditionally constituted a "kingdom of priests".

"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation...." 1 Peter 2:5

The Son of God, Jesus Christ our Lord became our High Priest by offering His own sinless body upon the cross an acceptable sacrifice unto God the Father in the stead of and for whosoever will repent and come to the Son of God for

"...He taketh away the first, that He may establish the second; By which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering often the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins, But this man, after He had offered one sacrifice for sins forever, sat down on the right hand of God. Hebrews 10:9-12.

The blood of the sacrifice of His body was sufficient for all who will believe Jesus Christ, receive Him, repent, and turn

We are exhorted to respond in love and obedience unto our Lord by offering sacrifices of righteousness as believerpriest? What should I offer to God? Many people respond by tyring to give up things. However, the cleansing of the blood of Jesus precedes the offering. Therefore, according to Romans 12:1 and 2, we should offer our body a "living sacrifice"; according to Hebrews 13:15, we should offer praise to God,g "the fruit of our lips giving thanks to His according to Titus 3:14 and Hebrews 13:16, we should offer the works of godliness to God," to do good and to communicate forget not, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased."

As little children we used to sing "Oh be careful little hands what you do,...little ears what you hear,...little eyes what you see,... little feet where you go." Many people today seem to care less about their deeds. Nevertheless, God cares and one day our sacrifices will be evaluated by God Hinself. Are they righteous?

They were conscientious and astute men-those architects of the Constitution. They wanted to be sure the President could never halt the processes of democratic government by delaying legislation.

And the phrase "Sundays excepted" shows that our Founding Fathers also respected Sunday as the day of the Lord.

To them, it seemed natural to safeguard their freedom and profess their faith all in one sentence.

The document they produced has weathered two hundred years -their faith almost two thousand. Both their Constitution and their creed—the Christian faith—are just as vibrant and important today. Make Sundays an exception to your daily routine-Go to Church!

Robert Wall, intermediate education consultant, has received top honors for "Home To Stay", a one-act comedy-drama about Dolly Madison.

It's the second time in as many years that Wall, a former Brighton principal and civic theater director in South Lyon, has been honored in the Community Theater Association of Michigan Playwriting Contest.

In 1971, Wall wrote "A Thin Line," an objective study of Mary Todd Lincoln, which has been televised on Channel 4 (WWJ-TV), Channel 56 (WTVS-TV), performed locally and out-state at the Illinois Old Capital, for a total of 15 performances.

Wall's new play "Home To Stay" took first place in a contest that drew entries from more than 40 Michigan playwrights. Awards for the winners were presented at a CTAM conference in Port Huron. "Home To Stay" is a historical play based on Dolly Madison's efforts to preserve portrait of George Washington during the siege and burning of the White House by the British, the for Baltimore, and eventually in 1815.

Wall, who staged two plays in South Lyon several years ago, is a specialist for the Wayne County Intermediate School District serving Northville.

(Incidentally, although the pasty is thought to be native to Finland, it actually may have as much or more origination in Wales, according to Brown.)

Music and dancing go hand-in-glove with Juhannus and, for Brown, are a big part of the celebration at Wixom.

Although modern music and dancing (even the polka) are enjoyed, it is the music, dancing, and the costumes steeped in Finnish folklore that Brown, a member of the Detroit Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra, enjoys Typical of the Finnish folk dances are the kaatikko, an animated dance that pokes fun at old maids, and the kerenski, scoffs at Russia, an adjacent country with which Finland has had some bitter wars.

The Kalevala, a collection of poems credited to Johan Runeberg, contains much of the folklore of Finland and it is an integral part of the music each year at Wixom. (The meter for Longfellow's "Hiawatha", incidentally, is based upon these old folk poems.)

Although Juhannus Kasteian Paiva has a religious meaning, Brown admits there's a little paganism "in most of us", which probably accounts in large part for the spirits that flow at the annual celebration in Wixom.

But even for this the Finns have a ready suggestion: "Instead of a nightcap...one for the road, have a sauna and feel better for it in

July: Explosion of Fun

July in Michigan explodes with activity as colorful, exciting and varied as the traditional fireworks, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The patriotic month opens with the International Freedom Festival, July 1-4, an annual salute to both Canada's and America's Independence Days. Parades, power boat races, flea markets and a spectacular fireworks display are some of the festival highlights.

When it comes to fourth of July happenings, Michigan offers several categories from which to choose. On the water, there's Evart's Logging Day Celebration that centers around a log race down the Muskegon River. Inboard hydroplanes from the U.S. and Canada will compete for prizes in the Hydroplane Regatta at Ypsilanti, and canoeists will be exerting 'paddle power" for first position in the Grand River Canoe Race at Lansing.

Alpena will hold their Strawberry Festival, Lowell will celbrate with an Arts and Crafts Show and the Jordan Valley Festival will be held at East Jordan. Perhaps the most significant event of the day will be the annual, Let Freedom Ring pageant at Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, commemorating the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Detroit's Ethnic Festival program for July has the Far Eastern contingent moving into the riverfront site behind Cobo Hall, 6-8; the Captive Nations Festival, 13-15; the Afro-American Festival, 20-22; and the Indian Festival, 27-29. The festivals offer visitors an authentic sampling of the world's cultures and a terrific good time.

Other festivals come in a variety of sizes and flavors throughout the month. Topping the list is the National Cherry Festival, July 9-14 at Traverse City. The festival incorporates three big parades, one of the largest band competitions in the midwest, a fabulous antique show and sale and numerous other activities - plus - cherry "goodies" galore.

The highlight (literally speaking) of this year's Blue Water Festival at Port Huron, July 9-15, will be the Great Wallenda walking the highwire above the carnival midway. The festival's mammoth International Day Parade'will include bands and drill teams from all over the U.S. and Canada and the youngsters will be able to meet TV's Jetson family in real life.

Pinconning will celebrate its status as "Michigan's Cheese Capital", July 11-14 with a variety of activities for the whole family to

The National Blueberry Festival, July 12-15, at South Haven has scheduled bike races, a tennis tournament and women's golf tournament in addition to the usual festival fare. There will also be a special "dirfy day" for the kids and a blueberry baking contest for the moms.

Other festivals of note include the Sebewaing Sugar Festival July 13-15; Gaylord's Annual Alpenfest, July 18-22; St. Helen's Blue Gill Festival, July 24-29; the Venetian Festival at Charlevoix, July 27-29; and the Coast Guard Festival at Grand Haven, July 28 - August 5.

July is a big month for antique hunters and collectors. The calendar lists shows and sales at Cadillac and Holland, July 12-14; at Holly, July 13-14; the Pontiac Mall, Pontiac, July 15-22; Traverse City, July 18-20; Ann Arbor, July 18-21; and the Antiques Fair at Petoskey, July

Reminiscent of the grand old minstrel show and river boat days are the Chesaning and Lowell Showboats. This year's Chesaning

Showboat dates are July 9-14 with the "King of the Road" man, Roger Miller, headlining the all-star, all-family entertainment.

The Lowell Showboat docks July 19-21 and July 26-28. The Mike Curb Congregation hold top billing for the first three shows with Boots Randolph and his aggregation stepping into the spotlight on July 26. End men with funny stories, pretty girls, music and dancing under the stars make the Showboats top entertainment attractions.

The Dancing Hippopotamus Arts and Crafts Festival dates are July 7-8 and July 14-15. This festival culminates the efforts of a group of retired persons in the Ocqueoc area who utilize their free time and the winter months to pursue their favorite handiwork. Hand woven articles, braided rugs, needlework, water colors and oil paintings are among the items you'll find. The festival is held at the Bearinger Township Hall, about five miles inland from Huron Beach on County Road 646.

Fair days this month begin with the Marion Fair, July 4-7. Croswell, Fowlerville, Berlin and the Greenville 4-H Fair will all be happening July 16-21 and the Ionia Free Fair opens July 27

Interesting events in the one-of-a-kind category include the Antique Gas, Engine Show, Charlton Park, Hastings, July 14-15; Port Huron to Mackinac Island Yacht Race, July 21; and the National USLTA Junior and Boys Tennis Championships, Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, July 28-August 5.

It's a busy month in Michigan bulging with good times for all ages and all interests. It's a great month to get to know more of Michigan. For a complete listing of July's events, write for a free copy of the Calendar of Travel Events from the Michigan Tourist Council,

A man whose true life adventure with the Lippizaner stallions of the famed Spanish Riding Academy of Austria became the subject of a Walt Disney film, Colonel Alios Podhjasky died from a stroke May 23 at the age of 75.

Podhjasky was credited with saving the stallions from possible confiscation by

Algonac State Park

Place to Watch Ships Go By

Editor's Note: This is another in a series on selected Michigan State Parks which offer unusual features to campers. The series will run through Labor Day.

Like to see Great Lakes ships so close you can wave to the crew? Algonac State Park offers one of the best places in Michigan for this pastime. The park, two miles north of Algonac on M-29, is situated on the St. Clair River and freighters pass by about as close as anywhere along the eastern side of Michigan. Along the park the river is about a half-mile wide and ships pass by at an average of one every 10 minutes during the summer. Often four or five are sighted at one time. About half are foreign.

Besides camping and ship watching, visitors to the park will find a boat launching ramp, good fishing, hiking, picnic areas, a ferry ride, archery and trap shooting. There is no swimming.

Directly in front of the campsite area is some of the best walleye fishing in the country. Bass, perch and muskies also are in the river. Although its 981 acres makes Algonac among the medium-size state parks in southern Lower Peninsula, the park is among the most popular, attracting 282,921 campers last year. There are 350 campsites, 200 of them modern with electricity. A new wagon wheel campground in a section of the park contains an additional 100 sites.

There is a sanitary disposal station.

Much of the park is undeveloped. A large tract of woods with lowlands and sand dunes lies to the west, offering the camper-visitor plenty of should be full, campers might try Lakeport State Park, which is in the vicinity. Lakeport covers 566 acres and offers 256 campsites.

Area attractions include the Champion auto ferry, which runs to Harsen's Island, a state public fishing area, and the St. Clair flats; Walpole Island, part of Ontario, and Indian reservation; the Sunset Resort Marina on Harsen's Island which offers picnic grounds, a beach on the St. Clair River and house boat rentals; and old lighthouse near Algonac; and Metropolitan Beach near
