Ollendorff Adrian-Bound; City Seeks New Manager

Northville's city council began its search for a new manager this week after accepting the resignation of Frank Ollendorff Monday night.

Ollendorff, Northville's fourth city manager since incorporation in 1955, will take over as the manager of Adrian on August 20.

Monday night the council named Councilmen David Biery and Paul Vernon to a committee to seek and screen applicants for the post they expect to fill within 60 to 90 days.

The departure of Ollendorff was not a complete surprise to the council. He came to Northville more than seven years ago (March 1966) at the age of 25 after having served as assistant city manager in the community of Highland Park, Illinois.

It was known that the popular manager felt the time was near to seek greater responsibilities and that his record in Northville made him a choice selection for larger cities.

His seven-year stint in Northville was twice the average stay of his three predecessors.

It's possible that if unification of the city and township had been accomplished in May's annexation election, Ollendorff would have remained for another year or two.

As a vigorous campaigner for unification of the two local governments, he offered to resign if annexation was approved but added that he would be the first candidate for the managership of the new, enlarged city. (See Speaking for The Record, page 8-A).

Ollendorff, 33, is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and received his master's degree in public administration from Ohio State University. He and his wife, Donna, live at 536 Reed and have two children, Todd, age 7, and Kelly, 6.

Adrian, located some 35 miles southwest of Ann Arbor, is the county seat of Lenawee county. It has a population of 21,000.

Ollendorff will take over for former Adrian City Manager Cliff Miles, who has accepted a similar post in Midland after 13 years in Adrian.

The Adrian managership pays a salary of $22,000 annually. Ollendorff was recently given a pay boost to $20,000 in Northville.

On a motion by Councilman

Kenneth Rathert the Northville council accepted Ollendorff's resignation "with regret" Monday night. The manager had left the council chambers at the time of the resignation action to receive a telephone call from Adrian. He was informed that the Adrian city council had just voted to approve his employment as manager.

Ollendorff was first informed of his selection for the Adrian post by representatives of Adrian council at a lunch meeting in Northville last week Wednesday. Technically, it was not official until the Adrian council action Monday night.

Probably the outstanding characteristic of the mild-mannered Ollendorff as Northville's city manager has been his appetite for work and ability to put into motion council projects.

While his activity has taken him outside the realm of city hall, his efforts have always been concentrated on community improvement.

Ollendorff has been a leading spokesman for the acquisition of land for parks and open space and for the beautification of the community. Tree planting, street paving and sidewalk installation rank high on the list of projects accomplished during his tenure.

His influence on the council in matters pertaining to the master plan and improvement of the city's central business district has been considerable. One notable project has been the provision of offstreet parking in the business district financed through special assessment on a 50-50 basis between the city and the commercial building property owners.

The manager has also been active in the Northville Economic Development Corporation, serving as its secretary. The group took an active role in obtaining business district property and obtaining a major commercial tenant (Northville Square) for the site.

Ollendorff is particularly proud of the city's departmental organization. The work of the department of public works, police and fire departments and the city hall's clerical team are singled out by the manager as most efficient and well performing.

In its advertisements for a new manager the council is seeking applicants with a master's degree in public administration and experience as either a manager or an assistant manager. The salary range is from $16,000 to $18,000 annually.

A. R. Clarke

Pick Interim Manager

It didn't take the city council long to find an interim manager to help with the administrative load in city hall until a successor is chosen for Frank Ollendorff.

Mayor A. M. Allen reported that A. R. Clarke, who recently retired as vice president of Manufacturers National Bank in charge of the Northville office, had been persuaded to fill in temporarily.

"Councilman Dave Biery and myself visited Russ at his home following Monday night's council meeting. He didn't give us his decision until Tuesday. He wanted to talk it over with his wife," reported Mayor Allen.

Actually, the mayor said he was surprised and pleased at Clarke's decision. "I know he isn't looking for a job. But we told him we needed him, that we knew he could be helpful, and that the assignment would be very temporary...60 to 90 days at the most," Mayor Allen noted.

Clarke has always been active in community affairs and once served as village, and for a short time, city treasurer.

Mayor Allen said Clarke would begin getting acquainted with the manager's duties next week. Ollendorff will be on the job until August 17 to help familiarize Clarke with the routine.

Elkins Job-Hunting in Tennessee

Is Police Chief Next?

The city of Northville may have a second major post to fill before summer passes.

Upon the heels of the announcement that City Manager Frank Ollendorff will leave for Adrian August 20 come rumors that Police Chief Samuel Elkins will soon resign.

Manager Ollendorff admitted Monday night that Chief Elkins is vacationing in Tennessee and looking for employment in that state.

"We'll know by mid-August," said Ollendorff in response to a question by Councilman David Biery concerning the chief's status.

The manager explained that Elkins' wife was called home to Tennessee because of a death in the family and subsequent problems that required her help.

"The Elkins' have now decided to move permanently to Tennessee, if the Chief can find employment," Ollendorff stated.

Mayor A. M. Allen acknowledged this week that Chief Elkins' days in Northville are probably numbered.

"His wife and family have moved to Tennessee. That's their home and they prefer to live there. Naturally, Chief Elkins wants to join them. But it's a matter of finding employment," the mayor added.

Chief Elkins, Manager Ollendorff and council members have been tight-lipped about the possible move to Tennessee. It was reported by Manager Ollendorff that last fall the Northville police chief thought he had obtained a position with the Tennessee Valley Authority and at that time his family moved to their home state so that the children might enter school. But the job did not materialize.

Mayor Allen noted this week that "the Chief has stayed close to his office lately...and I'm sure he's anxious to join his family."

The appointment of Chief Elkins was one of the first assignments undertaken by City Manager Ollendorff after he came to Northville in March, 1966.

Elkins was one of 30 applicants for the local police chief's position in June, 1966. A detective in the Inkster force, Elkins brought an outstanding record in police work to Northville.

Quiet and military in manner, Chief Elkins has won respect both for his professionalism and his leadership by example.

He was hired in Northville at a salary of $8,177 in 1966. His present salary is $16,519.

Township Approves Bid For 6-Mile Water Line

Bid for construction of a water main extension along Six Mile Road has been awarded to Tri-County Construction, Incorporated, for $27,587.50.

The award was made by

Northville township trustees last week Tuesday night, contingent upon approval from the water and sewer commission which was given last week Wednesday.

When completed, the 16-inch water main will serve Revival Tabernacle Church on Six Mile Road just east of Northville Commons.

Construction is expected to begin within 30 days,

Supervisor Lawrence Wright stated.

Tri-County's bid was the second lowest of eight received. Low bid, submitted by Charter Excavating Company and Bear Excavating Company for $14,387.50, was disqualified because it did not meet specifications, trustees said.

Other bids submitted included Joseph J. Sinicola, $32,700.60; Ernie Capoccio Equipment, Incorporated, $36,297.60; The Boam Company, $36,417; Joseph C. Wolf, Incorporated, $36,659; O. E. Gooding and Company, $38,164; and Rocco Ferrara and Company, Incorporated, $44,745.

In related matters, trustees approved a resolution requiring assurance of

Sheriff to Continue Patrol in Township

A committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has voted to extend the services of the Sheriff's road patrol which were scheduled for cancellation two years ago and have since been under continuous review.

The Board's Public Safety and Judiciary Committee met July 11 and approved an extension through November 30. If the measure is not adopted by the full Board, road patrol services will cease August 31.

Before it becomes final policy, the proposed extension must be approved by the Board's Ways and Means Committee, and then adopted by the full Board. July 19 is the next scheduled Ways and Means meeting.

Northville Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright is optimistic the road patrol services will be extended through November 30.

However, he said he does "not believe it will go on after the grace period, unless the townships come up with the money (to pay for part of the road patrol costs) which we can't do."

Last month the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee asked various township officials to submit written proposals to fund at least part of the road patrol operation they now receive at no cost.

Instead, township officials reported that they are unable to finance the Sheriff's services on any basis, including millage proposals. The majority of township officials feel that the road patrol is a County responsibility and a County obligation.

The commissioners want the County's 10 townships to pay some part of the cost of road patrol services or establish their own police departments, and two years ago decided to eventually end free patrol services.

According to the commissioners, Wayne County faces a possible budget deficit and cannot afford to continue subsidizing police services for townships.

None of Wayne County's 33 cities receive free road patrol services. Either they maintain their own police departments or they contract for the Sheriff's services, as does the City of Romulus.

School Sells $10 Million Bond Issue

Morgan Guarantee Trust Company of New York was awarded a bid to purchase $10 million in bonds from Northville Public Schools at an average interest rate of 5.7423 percent.

Action was taken at a special meeting of the school board last week Wednesday. Total interest cost on the 30-year bond issue will be $11,368,353.

Two other bids were received by the board Wednesday. They included First of Michigan Corporation with an interest rate of 5.7454 percent for an interest cost of PROGRESS INSPECTION—Mayor A. M. Allen and City Manager Frank Ollendorff (foreground) take a look at what's happening at the new Northville Square shopping center across from city hall. The project is one that both the mayor and manager helped promote. It's slated to open in October. Ollendorff will miss the opening. He's reporting to Adrian August 20.

NEWS BRIEFS

ANOTHER pleasant surprise was uncovered by members of the Northville Historical Society recently while working to restore the old library building. After finding impressions on the wall of the building of church benches, members found in the attic two actual pieces of the benches that "fit perfectly" the wall impressions. The building was originally constructed as a church 125 years ago, and the pews are likely from that era, Society members believe.

NORTHVILLE School Board has cancelled its July 23 meeting. Next meeting of the board will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, August 13, in the board offices, 303 West Main Street.

JOHN LaRUE has been re-elected chairman of the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees by fellow members. Paul Kadish was named vice-chairman, replacing Mrs. Rosina Raymond. Mrs. Clara Rousseau, administrative assistant to College President C. Nelson Grote, was named secretary, and Mrs. Nancie Blatt was elected treasurer.

MORE THAN 80 applications have been received for the position of second assistant principal at Northville High School. According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, two of the applicants are presently members of the district's staff. Ten persons have applied for the two positions of administrative interns which are only open to Northville staff members. Interviews are currently being conducted for the three posts.

SPACE IS still available for Northville's Sidewalk Sale slated for Saturday, August 4. Chairman Charles Lapham says over half of the 100 spaces have already been rented for the sale which will feature merchandise from local businessmen as well as antiques and handicraft items. The Conrad Langfield Summer Band will be on hand to provide music for the downtown shoppers that day, too. Space reservations may be made by contacting Lapham at 349-5175.

TENNIS ANYONE?—Bids will be awarded Monday night for the construction of five asphalt tennis courts at the city-township fish hatchery recreation site on Seven Mile road. The council will also award bids, which are slated to be opened Friday, for paving the extension of Griswold Street. Grading and drainage has been completed for the tennis courts, which City Manager Frank Ollendorff says should be ready for play within six to eight weeks. The tennis courts will be the first of the recreational facilities on the fish hatchery site.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN E. TRIPP JR.

A wedding trip to the Atlantic seacoast, Niagara Falls and Toronto followed the June 23 marriage in Plymouth of Vanessa Elizabeth Patterson and John Erwin Tripp, Jr.

Judge Dunbar Davis performed the garden ceremony for the daughter of Mary Ellen Patterson of 114 Walnut Street and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Erwin Tripp, Sr. of Plymouth.

As a portion of the ceremony, Judge Davis recited Why Do I Love Thee? and Carmella Cicirelli played the guitar and sang The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face, We've Only Just Begun and The Wedding Song.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Samuel R. Hollis. She chose, for her wedding, a traditional white lace gown with a sweetheart neckline and ruffles on the long sleeves. The hooped skirt was made of tiers of lace.

Lavender streamers accented the waistline of the gown and her Juliet cap. The bridal bouquet was made of white gladioli, snowdrift mums, miniature carnations, pink sweetheart roses, lavender statice, blue cornflowers and baby's breath. For "something borrowed" the bride wore her mother's opal necklace and her "something old" was her great-grandmother's gold watch which she pinned to her dress.

Veronica Olewnik was maid of honor in an off-white gown with an aqua, lavender and pink flower print tied with a lavender sash. She wore a lavender bow with streamers in her hair and carried a garden bouquet of pink and blue cornflowers, baby's breath and lavender statice.

Bridesmaid Leslie Findling wore a gown like the maid of honor's with salmon-colored sash and hair bow. Her flowers were similar to the honor attendant's.

Gordon Hilliard served as best man and Michael Pirkel and George Karker assisted.

After the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held in the garden.

The bride is a 1973 Northville High School graduate. A graduate of Plymouth High School, the bridegroom attended Dixie College at St. George, Utah, and Schoolcraft College. He is employed by Val-U-Tool in Westland.

Tracey Kelly Wins Melon Contest

Not only can Tracey Kelly polish off watermelon in a flash but she knows how to eat fast and save room for more.

The Northville youngster walked off with the champion's trophy in the Jaycees' recent Watermelon Eating Contest out behind the city hall.

She slurped her way through seven pounds of watermelon in a total of 2:12.8 minutes, defeating 10 opponents in earning herself the distinguished title, Jaycee Fourth of July Pig, and a handsome trophy.

With children ages five to 12 years of age competing, the Jaycees conducted 10 heats each involving eight children. Winners of each heat, who were awarded hamburgers for their efforts, competed then for the grand prize.

Going into the championship battle, Kevin Swayne was the favorite because of his fastest heat time in consuming a four-pound chunk of watermelon in 38 seconds flat.

"But apparently he had had the course," observed Jaycee Contest Chairman Dick Shannon. "He could hardly open his mouth for the championship round."

"Tracey, on the other hand, paced herself well in the heat competition and had room left for the final assault on watermelon."

Twenty minutes after consuming four-pounds of watermelon in one minute and 25 seconds, she came right back to devour three more pounds of the red stuff in 47.8 seconds.

"I don't want to dwell on the subject," said Shannon, "but I think it's interesting to note that besides having a girl champion, we had four girls who were winners in heat competition. As I told my wife, I think it goes a long ways in proving girls have bigger mouths than boys."

Heat winners in order of their competition were:

John McLellan, Jeff Totten, Russ Gans, Brian MacAllister, Carolyn Schrot, Tracey Kelley, Jana Holloway, Dana Kitchen, and Mark and Kevin Swayne.

'GALA DAYS' PLANNERS—Looking forward to the biggest 'Gala Days' celebration yet are Novi Jaycees Jerry Fortenberry (left) and Joe Pochter (right). Here the two supervise the arrival of one of 20 amusement park-type rides which will keep the midway spinning with activity.

The community fair sponsored annually by the Jaycees gets underway at 12 noon this Friday and runs through Sunday night at 8 p.m. 'Gala Days' will be held on the field at the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads.

10 Mile-Meadowbrook Field

City Stalls Development

Development of the large field on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads has been temporarily delayed as the Novi city council Monday tossed a snag in the plans of the developer. Owned by the Max Sheldon Realty Company, the 60-acre field has been utilized by several civic groups for special functions over the past few years. The Novi Police Officer's Association held its circus on the site earlier this year and the Novi Jaycees' annual Gala Days festivities are being held at the location this weekend. Sheldon appeared before the city council Monday to request the waiver of a city ordinance that would enable him to proceed with a site plan already approved by the planning board. A two-part development is planned for the site, Sheldon told the council.

On the corner will be a relatively large convenience-type shopping center. Surrounding the corner parcel will be an L-shaped parcel slated for development with apartment complexes. The plan further contemplates the location of a gas station on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook, although the gas company has indicated it does not want to make any firm commitments until the present gas shortage has been resolved. The reason for Sheldon's appearance before the council was a city ordinance which requires all buildings to be located within 250 feet of a dedicated right of way (public road). The ordinance further provides that the council may extend the distance requirement to 500 feet if it sees fit. The site plan for the apartment portion of the development as submitted by Sheldon and approved by the planning board did not include a dedicated right of way. Instead the road running through the apartment complex was designated as a private road.

Since there will some day be a stop light at the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook, Sheldon argued, drivers will tend to cut through the apartment complex to circumvent the light. By making that a private road and marking it as such, he continued, I think we can effectively discourage motorists from using it as a short cut. However, if the road were to be private, as proposed in Sheldon's site plan, several of the buildings in the apartment complex would be in violation of the city ordinance requiring all buildings to be located within 250 feet of a dedicated right of way. "The rear apartment building in the plan is 1,000 feet from 10 Mile Road and 1,200 feet from Meadowbrook Road," stated Councilman Edwin Presnell. Sheldon explained that at the direction of the planning board he had already appeared before the board of appeals and received permission for the setback over 500 feet conditioned on the council's approval of the extension of the setback from 250 to 500 feet. The council was reluctant to waive the requirement, however.

Major point of opposition concerned safety requirements. "The only way to get emergency vehicles into those rear apartments is by going down a private drive and through a private parking lot," stated Presnell. "It looks to me like it could be a heck of a problem in getting emergency vehicles back in there." Councilman Denis Berry suggested that the traffic problem proposed by Sheldon could be solved by posting "No Thru Traffic" signs at the ends of the road. Police Chief Lee BeGole agreed that the "No Thru Traffic" signs would be just as effective as the proposed "Private Drive" signs. A motion to waive the 250 feet requirement to 500 feet was defeated by a 4-3 margin.

Festivities Start Friday

'Gala Days' Begins

It's time for Gala Days. The city-wide community fair sponsored each summer by the Novi Jaycees is slated to be held this weekend, beginning at 12 noon on Friday, July 20, and running through to 6 p.m. on Sunday, July 22. Gala Days will be held on the field at the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads. "We're hoping to make this Gala Days celebration the biggest and best ever," commented Joe Pochter, Jaycee chairman for the three day summer festival. "We've increased the number of rides on the midway to 20, we've added more games booths, and we've also added several other features which we think will make the fair a great deal better than it ever has been in the past." The Gala Days celebration opens at 12 noon Friday and runs to 11 p.m. The same hours will prevail on Saturday, while Sunday the fair will open at 12 noon and shut down at 8 p.m. There is no admission price to the Gala Days grounds. In addition to the regular events which will be going on throughout the hours that the fair is open, Gala Days will feature several "happenings," ranging from a fireworks display to a Tug of War between the Novi Police and Fire Departments. On the midway Gala Days will feature 20 amusement park rides, 25 game booths, and pony rides, as well as commercial exhibits of automobiles and mobile homes. There will also be several food concessions and a beer tent. "We've tried to get a wide variety in the types of rides that will be available," Pochter commented. "There will be the traditional ferris wheel and merry-go-rounds for the children and those who like their rides more sedate. But we'll also have several of the wilder type rides for people who like that kind of ride." Children can get tickets for five rides for $1 between the hours of 12 noon to 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. The game booths will be operated by different Novi organizations.

First of the "happenings," or special events, gets underway Friday at 7:30 p.m. when the "Break of Dawn," a rock group, performs until 10:30 p.m. in an event aimed at the teenage and young adult audiences. Two "happenings" are slated for Saturday. At 12 noon is the Children's Watermelon Eating Contest, while the Novi Fire Department will present a Fireworks display at 9:30 p.m. Highlight of Sunday's Gala Days will be the Tug of War between the members of the Novi Police and Fire Departments.

Correction

It was incorrectly reported in the July 12 edition of The Novi News that the financing of the Chapper Organization's sewer line project would be financed by City National Bank - Oakland. Financing of the sewer line which will open up the northwestern section of the city for development will be handled by Michigan National Bank - Oakland.

City, Police Approve 2-Year Pact

A new two-year contract with the Novi Police Officer's Association (NPOA) was ratified by the Novi city council a week ago Tuesday. The council approved the new contract, which calls for across the board salary hikes, by a 6-0 vote. Councilman Donald Young was not present at the specially called session.

The 15 members of the NPOA had unanimously approved the contract five days prior to council ratification.

Terms of the contract were forged out after an estimated 45-50 hours of bargaining between police and city representatives. Representing the city in the negotiations were Robert Daley, George Athas, and City Manager Harold Saunders. Negotiating the contract for the police were NPOA Officers John Johnson and Gerald Burnham and Attorney Harvey Wax.

Terms of the contract were deemed particularly important by city officials since the NPOA contract is the first of at least two others which must be negotiated with municipal employee unions this summer.

Coming up are negotiations with the Novi Police Lieutenants and Sergeants Association (NPL&SA) and the Novi Police Dispatchers and Clerks Association (NPDCA).

City officials are also mindful of the possibility that unions representing other groups of municipal employees may be formed. George Athas, one of the city's negotiators, commented that much of the NPOA contract was bargained with one eye on the fact that it would probably serve as the basis for negotiations with as many as four other possible municipal unions.

The new contract calls for across the board salary increases.

The salary for a starting patrolman, currently set at $9,200, will advance to $10,000. After one year of service, a patrolman will make $10,990.

Presently a patrolman with one year on the force receives $10,368.

A patrolman with two years experience will receive $12,300, up from $11,556. And a patrolman with three years experience will receive $14,100, up from the current $13,189.

Corporals and detectives, currently making $13,689 and $13,989 respectively, will make $14,900 under the terms of the new contract.

The contract also calls for a further increase in salaries effective July 1, 1974. At that time a starting patrolman will receive $10,500; a patrolman with a year's experience will receive $11,750; a patrolman with two year's experience will get $13,200; and a patrolman with three year's experience will receive an annual salary of $15,100. Corporals and detectives

Paving Plans Face Snag

Plagued from the onset with one problem after another, the proposed paving of Meadowbrook Road once again appears threatened. Latest problem to threaten to sabotage the paving project concerns the attainment of easements for utilities along Meadowbrook Road.

"Unless we can resolve this problem and attain the easement in the very near future," City Manager Harold Saunders told the council at its Monday session, "the construction schedule will be disrupted and a delay will ensue."

Length of the delay will depend on how long it takes the city to acquire the easement. The problem is this. Michigan Bell currently has underground cables running along Meadowbrook Road. But since construction plans call for the road to be widened, it is necessary that Michigan Bell move its cables over so they won't be covered with concrete.

In order to relocate the cables, Michigan Bell has had to attain an additional 30 feet of easements along Meadowbrook. So far, all but one of those easements have been attained.

The lone hold out is a man who owns property on the northwest corner of Meadowbrook and Nine Mile Roads. The man, who has already been faced with an assessment to cover the cost of paving Meadowbrook, has asked the city if he will be assessed a full share for his property on Nine Mile Road as well.

While waiting for an answer, he is holding back on granting the easement. "What he's doing," commented Mayor Joseph Crupi at Monday's meeting, "is using that easement as a lever in his dealings with the city."

In regard to the question of special consideration on the projected Nine Mile Road assessment, City Attorney David Fried said that the man must be treated just as any other property owner along the road. "We have to treat everyone in an assessment district equally," stated Fried. "Legally, we're unable to offer anyone any special considerations."

The council, eager to see Meadowbrook Road paved as soon as possible, directed Fried and Saunders to meet with the property owner to arrive at some solution to the problem.

Their report is expected next week.

For Regional Center

SCI Tells Timetable

A picture of an ultra-modernistic facility complete with moving sidewalks was painted for the Novi city council last Wednesday by Stuart Finney, project head for Shopping Centers Incorporated's (SCI) proposed regional shopping center.

"We've directed our architect to contemplate such futuristic concepts as moveable sidewalks and a mass transit depot in his overall design sketches," Finney told the council. "However, when the center first opens for business in 1976 we will not have these items in it," he continued. "We contemplate development of the center with the ability to add these futuristic devices at some future date."

Finney's remarks were made at a special meeting between the developer and the city officials at the Novi City Hall last Wednesday.

Purpose of the meeting, as explained by Finney, was to "ask questions of each other and reach a general understanding of what our basic thoughts and concerns are in regard to the development of the center."

Among the information given to the council by Finney was a tentative timetable for development.

At the present time, traffic projections, topographical surveys, and soil borings are being completed, Finney reported. The information should be completely compiled by August 1 at which time architects will begin conceptual drawings.

"We hope to be back before you with some sort of drawings as soon as shortly after Labor Day," Finney told the council. "We will definitely be coming in with a site plan before the calendar year of 1973 is over."

Site work, according to Finney's time table, is slated to begin in the spring of 1974 with construction of the center slated to get underway in the fall of 1974.

If all goes well, SCI plans to open the regional center in the latter part of 1976.

Discussed in last Wednesday's study session were such various concerns as development of an adequate road system, timetable for the arrival of sewer and water services to the site, and philosophies for the development of the surrounding property.

Much of the discussion, however, involved the possibility of locating a municipal facility on SCI property. "At one time I know that the City was very interested in locating a new municipal complex in the general

Northville's Recreation Program

Camp Fights Summer Boredom

By MARTHA ROEMER
Summer boredom. What mother isn't familiar with a child's search for something to do in the days during school vacation?

Several years ago, the Northville recreation department realized there should be a place for kids to go and do something in those often long weeks from June to September, so it started a day camp for students age five and older.

The program has grown so now the day camp is held in three different locations in Northville Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. each day.

At the Scout-Recreation Building in town, and the Moraine and Amerman School playgrounds, children are permitted to "come and do their thing" under the supervision of the Northville Parks and Recreation.

In addition to planned activities provided at the camp, the children are also permitted to play or work on crafts on their own.

Each child participating in the program must be registered with the Northville Recreation Department. The fee for registration is $1.50 for residents of the city of Northville and Northville township, $5 for non-residents within the Northville school district and $12 for non-residents outside the Northville school district.

In addition to the registration cost, there are some crafts for which the recreation department charges a small fee.

The day camp at the Scout-Recreation Building has day camp program for handicapped children also. At the present time, there are five students in the handicapped program. All are Northville residents and attend the same school in Livonia. They are under the supervision of teacher Jennifer Pappas.

A typical morning at the Scout Building will find some of the children playing in the tree house or the sandbox on the building's grounds or shooting a game of pool.

Others might be listening to the phonograph, sitting on a picnic table outside making a mosaic stone plaque or out on the lawn tossing a frisbee through the air.

According to recreation department employee Carol Rathert, the kids come and go as they please because "it's not supposed to represent school. If they want to, they can just come and buy something to make and take it home with them, but we do prefer that they stay here and work on it. A lot of the kids walk or ride their bikes here."

Like most of the other "teachers" at the day camp sites, Carol is a college student. She's been with the recreation department for four summers now.

The impressions of the children who attend the camp are as varied as the children themselves. Major reasons for going to the sessions, according to the kids themselves, are to meet their friends and "make things."

The atmosphere at the day camp is generally congenial.

Most controversy is centered around whether the two-story structure located just outside the back door of the scout building is a clubhouse or a treehouse.

One youngster, discussing the issue with another playmate was heard using the argument that "it isn't even in a tree." To that, his friend pointed out there however were trees "all around it."

In general, the feeling of the kids who regularly attend the day camps is one of enjoyment at having found a place to find something to do and beat the summer boredom.

Plan Charity Bike Hike

A 22-mile Bike-A-Thon is planned for Saturday, July 28, to benefit the Senior and Youth Employment Service, a non-profit community service which services western Oakland County including Novi.

Bikers in the event will pedal from Walled Lake to Kensington Metropolitan Park and back, enjoying a rest and free refreshments at the park.

Each cyclist is responsible for finding individuals to sponsor his trip at a minimum of 10 cents a mile for each mile biked. All proceeds will be used by the Senior and Youth Employment Service to find work for the age groups which often find the most difficulty finding work.

Anyone wishing to receive more information about the bike-a-thon may call 624-5040.

Police Blotter

Thefts Continue to Rise

In Township

A pick-up truck was stolen and two other stolen vehicles were recovered in Northville township during the past week.

According to police, a half-ton green 1972 pick-up was taken from Cadillac Asphalt Friday afternoon.

Police said the owner of the truck reported seeing a youth in the area just before he discovered the truck missing. The theft took place at 3 p.m.

A 1969 Ford stolen July 7 from Detroit was recovered July 9 at 41261 Eight Mile Road.

Police said the car was parked blocking the drive to the home and, when residents pushed the car away, keys to the vehicle were found in weeds along the road.

A 1973 orange Suzuki stolen from Redford township was found in the gravel pit south of Griswold and Eight Mile Sunday afternoon.

Police received a report of youths stripping the motorcycle about 5:15 p.m. Sunday. When officers arrived they discovered the bike had broken gauges, no fuel tank, front tire or signals. The key was still in the ignition and police theorize the motorcycle had been run off the hill into the lake before being found by the youths.

Township police are continuing to investigate several thefts which took place recently.

Unknown persons stole a bicycle and set of golf clubs from the garage of a home at 42029 Sunnydale. The theft took place sometime during the evening of July 8.

The yellow Schwinn Import bicycle is a 10-speed valued at $135. The golf clubs, bag and balls are valued at $284.

Fourteen stereo tapes were stolen from a car Sunday afternoon while it was parked at the gravel pit near Highland Lakes.

Owner of the car told police he saw a man walking away from the area carrying the tapes.

More than $400 in tools were stolen after a tool box was broken into at Cadillac Asphalt. The theft took place between 5:30 p.m. last Wednesday and 6:30 a.m. Thursday.

An orange tar kettle and pumper were taken from Baggett Roofing at 20825 Napier Road. According to reports, the theft occurred between July 1 and 9. Value of the missing items is $2,000.

Two persons were hospitalized Sunday after a two-car accident on Eight Mile Road east of Meadowbrook Road.

Police said Barbara A. Hoynes of Wayne and Denise A. Hoynes, a passenger in her car, were taken to St. Mary hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises.

According to reports, Mrs. Hoynes was eastbound on Eight Mile about 6:15 p.m. A car driven by Steven A. Beaumont of Birmingham was turning onto eastbound Eight Mile from Meadowbrook Country Club when the cars collided. No tickets were issued.

Michigan State Police are investigating the attempted break-in of a home which occurred during the evening of July 10.

Owner of the home at 42788 Lake Success Drive discovered a key broken in the door lock. The incident took place between 7:30 p.m. and midnight.

Earlier that week, unknown persons had cut a screen on a door in another break-in attempt.

In Northville

More than $100 damage was done to Hendrickson Insurance Agency at 311 East Main Street over the weekend.

Two panes of glass were broken after vandals threw a rock through the front window of the building either

Saturday or Sunday. The rock was found between the panes. Police said a sign had been partially pulled up from the front lawn of the business.

Sometime Friday evening, unknown persons damaged the roof of the porch on the east side of the building. Officers investigating at the scene said it appeared someone had jumped on the porch roof from the roof of the Palace Restaurant next door.

A 17-year-old Northville boy reported $150 and his wallet were taken from his pocket Monday afternoon.

The theft occurred while the youth was waiting to make a bank deposit at Manufacturers National Bank on Main Street.

An attempt was made late last Thursday night to steal a 1970 Lincoln Mark III from the parking lot at Northville Downs.

Donald E. Yakuber of Detroit reported that when he returned to his car shortly after midnight, he discovered part of the anti-theft mechanism had been broken and he was unable to start the vehicle.

Police said the ignition lock appeared to have been struck with a hammer-type object.

Vandals broke the passenger's side window of a vehicle parked behind the Wagon Wheel Restaurant and Bar on South Main. The damage took place between 5 and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Police aren't sure who the culprit was, but he left a trail that was easy to follow.

An oil truck left a trail of oil along Center Street, Eight Mile Road, Novi Road through the City of Novi to 12 Mile Road shortly before 8 a.m. Monday.

Although it certainly was summer Monday, DPW crews were called to sand the hills at Main and Center and Base Line and Center and the curve on Novi Road, just north of Eight Mile. Oil slicks on the road made it difficult for vehicles to travel in those slippery spots, police reported.

FIRE CALLS

July 15 - 1:05 p.m., electrical fire in basement, Court 17 of King's Mill.

In Novi

Police feel they are nearing an arrest in an alleged case of consumer fraud.

The case stems from a complaint made by a Detroit man on July 10. The man told police that he had contracted in November of 1972 to have an addition built on his cottage on East Lake Drive.

At the time the contract was signed, the man told police, he had put down $1,700 on a total cost of $5,200.

Since that time, he continued, the contractor has done no more than dig a trench for footings and had one load of lumber delivered to the site.

When he called the contractor to inquire why his addition was not being built, the complainant told police, the contractor told him that he was bankrupt and could not do the work.

Subsequent police investigation revealed that the contractor had never secured a license from the state and was acting as an unlicensed builder. Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson indicated that an arrest is forthcoming.

Police are investigating three larcenies of money from Novi gas stations which have occurred within the last month.

Most recent of the larcenies occurred Monday, July 9 at the Texaco Station on Novi Road at the I-96 expressway. The owner of the station called police to report that $85 had been stolen from the cash box.

The theft was discovered by two attendants, police were told.

Police have several suspects in the theft. Polygraph tests will be scheduled, they indicated.

Some $300 was stolen from Sandy's Mobil Station on Novi Road and the I-96 expressway. The theft occurred either late July 4 or early July 5.

According to reports, the money was removed from a locked compartment located inside the station while there was an attendant on duty.

A number of people were in the gas station at the time the theft is believed to have occurred. All parties present at the station will be asked to take polygraph tests, police said.

The third larceny of money was from the Sunoco Station on June 19. The Sunoco station is also located in the Novi Road-I-96 expressway area.

An estimated $145 in cash plus the keys to the station were removed during the theft, the owner reported.

An estimated $1,500 worth of merchandise was removed from a private residence at 40500 12 Mile Road during a breaking and entering which occurred last week.

The thieves gained entry to the building by breaking a window and unlocking a door. Once inside they removed three television sets, two am-fm radios, and a quantity of jewelry. Also stolen were six guns which were taken from a locked gun case.

The theft occurred Monday, July 9, between 12:30 p.m. and 4 p.m., according to reports.

In Wixom

Unknown persons cut down three signs at the Maple North Townhouses last week.

Value of the damage was estimated at $700.

The signs which were cut down were located on the corners of Maple and Beck, Beck and West, and Beck and 12 Mile Roads. The signs were first observed down on Wednesday, July 11.

A 1973 Triumph motorcycle owned by Ralph Zachos of 28775 Beck Road was reportedly stolen last week. Zachos told police that the motorcycle was stolen from the side of his residence on July 7.

Police are investigating an attempted breaking and entering of the Thunderbird Day Camp which occurred Thursday, July 12.

According to reports, the subjects attempted to kick in the door of one of the buildings. Black scuff marks from their shoes were found on the door, police said.

COURT BEAUTIFICATION—Thanks to a $600 donation from Northville Rotary Club, sod has been added around the tennis courts at Northville High to improve the drainage. Workmen from the school put down the 550 yards of sod and 30 yards of top soil last week. Donation from the Rotary Club is from proceeds the club earned last year during the tennis tournament held on the high school courts.

Northville Gets Grants

Two grants have been awarded to Northville Public Schools, Assistant Superintendent Miss Florence Panattoni recently announced.

Federal grant in the amount of $2,580 was awarded to the school district under the Reading Readiness Program.

Placed in operation at Main Street Elementary in the fall, the program will serve 100 kindergartners at the school. Materials provided in the rooms will encourage kindergartners to begin reading.

A second grant, received through the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, totals $12,200, with a like amount provided by the Northville district.

The grant is for math, science and graphics curriculum areas throughout the school district.

Experimental math programs will be operated in one classroom at each grade level, one through eighth.

Demonstration kits can be used with any of the math textbooks already being used in the district, Miss Panattoni explained, and allow teachers and students to determine whether or not individuals are understanding the skills being taught.

will receive $15,900 effective July 1, 1974.

In spite of the pay boosts, John Johnson, president of the NPOA, said he was most pleased with a clause which requires the city to work in conjunction with the police department in setting up a police policy manual.

"Right now we have no written policy, whatsoever," stated Johnson. "What we want is a written policy manual that officers can follow instead of having to work under an unwritten policy code that changes from day to day."

Another key point in the negotiations centered around the use of police vehicles. Under the terms ratified by the city and NPOA last week, the city agreed that no officer shall be required to use a marked, semi-marked, or unmarked car which has been driven in excess of 55,000 miles.

The city also agreed to "use its best efforts" to replace such patrol cars as soon as they have been driven 40,000 miles.

In another item regarding police cars, the city agreed that as of July 1, 1973, it would purchase only air conditioned cars for the police department.

In other agreements the contract provides —for seniority officers to receive 10 working days of vacation after one to five years of service; 15 working days of vacation after five to ten years of experience; and 20 working days of vacation after ten years of service.

—for the city to fully pay for hospitalization for each officer and his dependents; for the city to fully pay for group optical insurance for each officer and his dependents; and for the city to fully pay for life insurance in the face amount of $22,500 for each officer.

—for each officer to receive 10 paid holidays per year. An officer who is scheduled to work on a holiday will receive time and one-half for all hours worked. In addition, as of July 1, 1974, the number of holidays per year will be upped to 11 with each officer getting his birthday off.

—for each officer required to wear a uniform to receive $200 per year for cleaning and maintenance. Officers who are not required to wear a uniform will receive an annual cash allowance of $325 toward the purchase of clothes.

City Negotiator Robert Daley stated that he was impressed with the interest of the police negotiators in upgrading the overall quality of the department.

"I was quite impressed that the police were just as interested in such items as a policy manual and dress allowances as they were in more financial items," said Daley. "I think it reflects well on the dedication of the men in the department."

Councilman William O'Brien suggested that as the police salary levels continue to rise, the council should begin looking at higher educational requirements. "We're approaching the salary levels where I think we would be within our rights to demand some college experience," stated O'Brien.

Atas noted that the police had expressed some interest in upgrading department requirements.

Aim College Program At Older Students

A program to help those who are thinking of enrolling at Schoolcraft College will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 26, in the gymnasium building.
 Topic of the program is "Are Doors Closed to You?"
 Sponsored by the student affairs office and admissions office, the evening will be geared to those between the ages of 20 and 40.
 Information will be available that evening on career curriculum programs and transfer credit programs.

 According to Robert Burnside of the admissions office, the purpose is "to help individuals become more knowledgeable about being admitted to Schoolcraft College."
 There is no cost or obligation for the information night.
 Persons unable to attend the program or those who have any questions may contact Burnside at 591-6400, extension 228.

STOPPING BICYCLE THEFTS—The increasing number of bicycle thefts is becoming a major concern of law enforcement officials in the Novi-Northville area. As a safeguard, police advise all bicycle owners to keep on file a complete and detailed physical description of the bike as well as its serial number. That serial number is essential, commented one officer. Without it, there's not much we can do. Above, Novi Patrolman David Butler helps eight-year old Tammy McNary of Meadowbrook Glen record all the essential information about her bicycle.

Of Bicycles

Novi Combats Thefts

She had saved the money from her baby sitting jobs for six months before finally accumulating enough to purchase the shiny, new 10-speed bicycle.
 Two weeks later it was gone.
 She had gone into the drug store to buy some stationery, her mother explained, and when she came out the bike was nowhere to be seen. Someone had stolen that bike in no more than the time it took my daughter to walk into that store, buy some stationery, and walk back out again.

"I know it isn't very nice," the woman continued, "but when they find the guy who stole that bike I hope they throw him in jail and keep him there."
 "If you only knew how hard my daughter had worked to buy that bike. Anyone who could steal that bike must be really rotten."
 The story is a true one. It occurred in Northville last week.

It is not, however, an isolated incident.
 Area law enforcement officials are becoming increasingly concerned about the growing number of similar reports which are being filed across their desks every day.

"Let's face it," commented Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner of the Novi Detective's Bureau, "stealing bicycles is becoming a very big business."
 According to police records, 11 bikes were stolen out of Novi during the first five months of the year. But in June six bicycles were reported stolen and Novi police logged reports of four bicycle thefts in the last week alone.

"It's pretty much common knowledge these days that the black market price for a three-speed is $25 and the black market price for a ten-speed is $50. If you try to buy one new, it will cost you anywhere from $70 to $100, but you can pick one up on the black market relatively cheaply."
 "Kids are eager to buy them because the cost is relatively low and other kids are willing to steal and sell them because it's easy to rip off a bike and the profits are pretty good. That's why it's becoming such a lucrative business."

With the advent of the summer months, the number of stolen bicycles is increasing rapidly.
 According to police records, 11 bikes were stolen out of Novi during the first five months of the year. But in June six bicycles were reported stolen and Novi police logged reports of four bicycle thefts in the last week alone.

Estimated value of the stolen bikes has topped the $2,000 mark and is growing fast.
 The problem is not confined to the Novi-Northville area, either. Every community in the suburban Detroit area is experiencing similar problems, Faulkner reported.

"We're trying to work as closely as possible with other departments in exchanging information about bicycle thefts," said Faulkner. "Whenever one department recovers a number of bikes, teletypes are sent out to all the other communities to see if we can locate the original owner."
 Most of the bikes are being stolen in broad daylight. Some are taken out of open garages, but thefts occur most frequently at public places such as the front of stores.

 "It really doesn't make a lot of difference if the bike is locked or not," Faulkner stated. "What happens is that two or three youths will ride around town until they spot a bicycle sitting in front of a store. They'll drive up, toss the bike in the trunk, and take off. It takes less than a minute for them to rip off a bike."
 "Things are getting to the point where the thieves are taking orders," Faulkner continued. "They'll ask a person what color bike he wants, what he wants on it, and then go out and steal it for him."

Faulkner, while admitting that locks are no safeguard against thefts, has one piece of advice for all bicycle owners.
 "Every bike has a serial number on it somewhere," he said. "Everyone who owns a bicycle should have that serial number written down and filed away somewhere."

"Without that serial number it's almost impossible for us to work because we have no way to identify the bike. But if we get that serial number we can put it out on the teletype machine and I'd say we have at least a 50-50 chance of recovering the bike."
 Faulkner also urges bicycle owners to keep a complete description of the bicycle on file. That description should include the color of the bike, the type of seat, the type of speedometer, any other accessory equipment on the bike, and any kind of decals or stickers which might be attached to the vehicle.

"We must have that kind of information - especially the serial number - if we're going to get any of these things back," stated Faulkner.
 "The other thing is that the people who steal the bikes should realize that stealing anything over $100 is a felony and punishable with up to five years in the state penitentiary," he continued.

Faulkner also noted that it is illegal to be in possession of stolen property.
 "I don't really think any judge would ever sentence someone to five years in jail for stealing bicycles," he commented, "but it just might be something to consider."

Paperback Policy Called Effective

"If it hadn't been for the policy, we would not have found out about this until the kids already had the books," commented Northville Superintendent Raymond Spear following a complaint from a parent over a paperback book list.

Earlier this year, the school board adopted a policy governing sale of paperback books to students. Under the policy, parents are required to sign the form before students order the books.

Spear said the parent was also "concerned over us allowing the circular to be distributed among junior high students. This should have been controlled by the classroom teacher."

Under the policy, circulars are to go from the teacher, to the department head, to the principal before they are given to students.

Assistant Superintendent Miss Florence Panattoni said the circular was not screened before being distributed to students, as it should have been.

According to school officials, many of the books included on the list centered around sex and drugs.

 Spear said that "Of all the good literature available today, it's unfortunate this (list) should have gotten to the kids."

Another era in the history of the city of Northville will come to a close with the departure of Frank Ollendorff as city manager.

Who will be next? And what talents will he bring to our community?

The incorporated years of Northville are few enough to permit memory to recall its course under several councils and four managers.

First there was John Robertson, tall, lanky and likeable. Just what the doctor ordered for Northville's first manager.

He stepped into a system that eyed city managers with suspicion and that was accustomed to having each "village commissioner" tend to his own specialty.

The strongest advocate of city manager form of government was Councilman John Canterbury. And certainly he was a wise counselor to young John Robertson as he undertook his first job as manager in a city that had never known a manager.

But it took kindly Mayor Pete Ely to really break the ice. He was a hometown boy, no newcomer like Canterbury. And when Pete put his arm around the shoulders of the young manager and sought his advice, the council knew that John had arrived.

And so it was Robertson's job to be certain that all taxpayers were accorded the same services, that improved employment standards were introduced, that business practices were updated, that the people in Northville liked their city manager so that his successor would be accepted and could start on the next rung of the manager's ladder.

Bruce Potthoff was number two manager in Northville. By now Mayor Ely had passed away, but Mayor A. M. Allen, Councilman Canterbury and a new set of councilmen were accustomed to working with managers.

Now the job was not to win acceptance, but to perform and improve the community.

There were troublesome and turbulent days during Potthoff's years in Northville. Both the fire and police departments underwent disturbances that resulted in new chiefs in both departments.

And longtime Clerk Mary Alexander retired. It was Potthoff who hired the late Martha Milne, one of the city's most capable employees. And he was the manager when the city started its assessment program to pave streets. And when it sought and gained matching federal funds to build the existing city hall.

Roger Rehberg was Northville's next manager. But he never settled down. He liked the north country and resented council interference. So he walked abruptly out of a council meeting after a few brief months and Northville moved to manager number four—Frank Ollendorff.

Barely 26 when he arrived in Northville, Ollendorff soon proved he was not a run-of-the-mill manager.

Despite his youth, he displayed a coolness that was remarkable. Insults hurled at the manager at numerous special assessment public hearings went almost unrecognized.

And his arguments are never loud, but his convictions are definitely firm.

He thrives on work. And his honesty has bordered on the embarrassing.

I have never known Manager Ollendorff to be anything but perfectly honest with the press or public, whatever the consequences.

If there's a delicate issue confronting the city, he informs the press. There are no "private, secret, executive, etc., sessions" where Manager Ollendorff is concerned.

He believes, as I do, that the public is as capable of understanding problems as any body of elected officials.

It was typical of Ollendorff to point out Monday night that free sealcoating of streets cannot continue forever.

Sid Frid had just asked the council if sealcoating could be repeated in his neighborhood.

Frid is one of the few citizens who follows council activities regularly. And frequently he needles the council when any cause presents itself.

It almost seemed as though the council welcomed an opportunity to comply with a Frid request to avoid an argument.

But Ollendorff pointed out that most citizens have paid for paving of their streets and that one day the council must decide how many "free" sealcoating applications should be made before paving is in order.

It was all very polite. Everyone got the point. Frid won another sealcoating; the council avoided an argument; Ollendorff reminded both Frid and the council of their responsibility to the total community.

Frank jumped in with both feet in the effort to annex the township to the city.

It's my personal belief that Ollendorff was responsible for gaining more township votes for annexation to the city than any other single individual or organization.

The township residents who met with Ollendorff had to be impressed by his professionalism, his dedication and his honesty.

It is no secret that Ollendorff has passed up more than one opportunity to leave Northville. He stayed through the annexation election because he was urged to do so. His efforts were needed; without him the election would not have been as close.

Ollendorff did not favor annexation for personal gain. He would have remained, if unification succeeded, but only to help make it work.

He thoroughly believes in the concept only because he knows it would work to the benefit of all taxpayers. He would have enjoyed proving it.

The council faces a difficult task in finding a new city manager. Northville has been fortunate in the past.

But there are more Robertsons, Potthoffs and Ollendorffs anxious to prove their mettle and move up the ladder.

They will bring new talents that will be challenged by our growing community.

And thanks to the likes of Ollendorff, manager number five will find that, while much has been accomplished, there's still a hefty list of things to do.

Meanwhile, we can stop worrying about Adrian.

Speaking for Myself

Air Conditioners For Police Cars?

IRMA TRUANCE

YES . . .

Air conditioning has become an accepted way of life whether it be in our homes and offices, stores where we shop, restaurants where we eat or cars that we drive. It is no longer considered a luxury but is as essential for warm weather as heating systems are for cold.

In today's cars air conditioning has joined the ranks of radios, automatic transmissions and power steering which have become as commonplace as sliced bread. 70 percent of all cars produced by the five domestic car makers in 1972 were equipped with factory installed air conditioners. This included low cost compacts purchased primarily for basic transportation, intermediates, standard size, luxury, taxicabs and high performance models.

Standard size cars (not luxury models) ranged from a low of 84.54 percent of production for one make to a high of 92.22 percent for another.

Sales of kits for installation of air conditioners after cars were built reached an all time high so a conservative estimate is that more than 85 percent of the cars built in the United States last year were eventually equipped with air conditioners.

Other statistics show unquestionably that air conditioning in cars improves the alertness, efficiency, appearance and attitudes of those who drive them.

In addition to the cost of the air conditioning system, operating expense for cars equipped with air conditioners is higher than for those without. However, this total cost to the individual taxpayer in a City such as Northville is less than the cost of a package of cigarettes a year which is a small price to pay for improved police protection during the high-traffic, high-crime months of the year. Air conditioners in police cars are a sensible business investment.

Paul Vernon
Northville Councilman

NO . . .

Air conditioners in cars are a luxury, pleasurable and very demanding. They have their requirements and limitations. They need much generating power and they use approximately one gallon of gas for every 10 gallons used. The government is asking that gasoline be conserved and this is not the way to do it.

Conditioners should be factory installed at the time of purchase for the proper distribution of weight and necessary generating power. The public is asking that spending stop somewhere and this is not the way either, as the original cost is nothing to the expense if abused.

Police must obey speed limits and 25 to 40 miles per hour is not sufficient for the efficient operation of a conditioner. The stop and go operation so necessary in police work, the cruising and the standing with the motor idling while observing is contrary to the needs of the conditioner. Officers do not stay in a vehicle hour upon hour as their duties require they leave the vehicle many times.

It may seem the humane thing to install air conditioners in police vehicles but it certainly is not the practical thing to do. Air conditioners are vital to certain businesses and performances and are of little value elsewhere.

Thanks From Jaycees

To the Editor:

The Northville Jaycees would like to thank the entire community for its great turnout on the 4th of July. We are proud to be part of the community and are particularly grateful for the opportunity to present the 4th of July festivities. Of course, our thanks for the financial help from the City, Township, merchants and individuals cannot be over emphasized. Without this help it would be impossible for the Jaycees alone to put on such a program.

Every member of the Jaycees is proud to be part of the 4th and the many man hours of work can only be worthwhile when the community response is such as it was in '73.

Special thanks are due the City's officials, police and fire personnel for their help; also to the VFW for their public address system and the service of Jerry Rotta in announcing the parade and to the Northville Record for its excellent pre and post coverage of the 4th festivities.

I do not wish to be redundant but once again the citizens of the community make the activities of the 4th a success. Without your support we have nothing. Thanks to each of you for your participation and enthusiasm.

S.M. Hall
Coordinator
4th of July '73

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The old "city hall" building that will come tumbling down soon to make way for the Northville Square Development on Main Street was already slated for the scrap pile 57 years ago.

At least that's what the records appear to indicate.

The building, which most recently housed Folino's insurance agency, was a tiny restaurant when we first moved to town.

Others remember an earlier day when it was an old automobile repair garage, and a still earlier time when it was the main municipal building in town.

We here at The Record have never been able to determine the building's age, but it apparently was built long before the turn of the century.

Back on July 28, 1893, an article in The Record indicated "work on the overhauling and remodeling of the old city hall is progressing finely and when completed the building will present quite an improved appearance."

With completion of that work, the building's first floor was used partially by the fire department. Besides the regular entrance at the front, there was a large double door opening to accommodate the hook and ladder trucks and the hose carts. In the rear were cells where "desperate criminals" were locked up.

"Easy stairs" led from the engine room to the second floor "fitted up for use of the council and general meetings of the village's servants."

A 30 foot tower and belfry were added to the building for drying fire company hoses and, in the belfry, for location of the fire alarm to "awaken the very hills and valleys of the village should necessity call it into action."

Thirty-three years after this major rejuvenation of the city hall, the building was again rapidly deteriorating...so badly, it turns out, that on May 3, 1926 voters of the village supported a proposition (by a vote of 203-36) to erect a new building on the same site.

The project was to cost $25,000.

The project, involving the razing of the existing building and construction of modern new facility to include a "much needed comfort station."

Less than a month later, Village President Elmer Smith and Councilman Conrad Langfield, who died recently, were strongly recommending that the project be abandoned and a whole new proposal considered.

The W.G. Lapham home and property at the southwest corner of Main and Wing streets had suddenly been placed on the sale block, and the village officials were urging that it be purchased (for $37,000) and turned into a village hall and public park.

A June 7 election date was set on this proposal.

The proposal called for a $40,000 bond issue — $3,000 of which was earmarked for "changes and additions that will be necessary to put it into proper shape for village use, such as rest rooms, toilets, and fire engine and hose storage.

News From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative

One of the most controversial items to come before the legislature this year has been the proposal to build a new capitol. After heavy debate, a $4 million provision in the 1973 Capitol Outlay Construction Budget Bill which would have started construction was defeated last week. I am one of those opposed to building a new capitol and thus I voted against the measure.

Those of us who are opposed to proceeding with a new statehouse believe that the present building, having recently been extensively remodeled, is adequate for years to come and should also be maintained as a landmark in Michigan's history.

One of the representatives in favor of a new capitol argued that our present capitol was condemned as a firetrap as long ago as 1920 and was unsafe to occupy. I was amazed to hear the next proponent then get up and say that the old, historic building would not be lost because it could be turned into a museum where thousands of school children could visit each year!

Governor Milliken has signed several bills into law, one of which amends the Savings and Loan Association Act of 1964 to increase the ceiling on installment loans from $2,500 to $5,000.

Also signed into law were:

—HB 4021, given immediate effect, which authorizes the Department of Social Services to contract with banks and Savings and Loan Associations for the handling of food stamps.

—HB 4628 also given immediate effect, which exempts from registration snowmobiles used only in a safety and education program conducted by certified snowmobile safety instructors.

—SB 187 which exempts from liability any person, firm or corporation which provides a service of procuring, processing or distributing whole blood, plasma, blood products or their derivatives.

—HB 4790 given immediate effect, which exempts all prizes awarded by a licensee during a bingo game from state or local taxes.

—SB 224 given immediate effect, which amends the state act dealing with hunting seasons to exempt the Department of Natural Resources put-and-take pheasant hunting program from the normal regulations for hunting in the state.

—HB 4613 given immediate effect, which removes from the definition of gross proceeds, for sales tax purposes, any amount received from or billed to a customer as a gratuity or tip, provided it is separately identified and itemized on the guest check or bill.

Top of Deck

A second ballot proposal called for the sale of the existing village hall property on West Main and the village property adjoining the Standard Oil Company station on East Main.

Both proposals were approved (243-39 to purchase and 251-34 to sell).

On July 19 a "good size crowd" turned out for the auction sale of the old village hall building. The auctioneer was George Rattenbury.

Highest bidder was E.C. Langfield, who bought the building and property for $350 per front foot ($7,000). The East Main Street lot, purchased just a year earlier by the village from William Scott, went to Harry Stamler and Irwin I. Cohn of Detroit for $105 per front foot ($9,765).

Thus, the old village hall went into private hands, beginning a series of new roles until the present day. Having been slated for razing nearly 60 years ago, it finally will come to an end probably before the month is out.

And ironically, it will have out-lived its successor — the Lapham home by 10 years. The Lapham home was demolished in 1963 to make way for the present-day city hall.

COOLER DAYS AHEAD—Amerman custodian Raymond Roy takes a breather from summer tasks atop one of 45 air conditioners currently being installed in year-round school classrooms at Amerman, Cooke Middle School and Cooke

Annex. Purchase of the window air conditioners was approved just last week by Northville School Board members while the already delivered units sat in the Amerman gym. Total cost is $13,800.

SULKY TRYOUT—The controversial single shaft sulky, which is banned in Michigan, got a tryout at Northville Downs during afternoon time trials recently. Designed by aeronautical engineer Joe King, the new sulky reportedly

City to Air Ambulance Rezoning

The City Council scheduled two public hearings for August 6 on rezoning issues, one of which promises to produce some conflict with the wishes of the planning commission.

Up for rezoning are 15 lots in the central business district which will become parking. All are city-owned and specifically acquired for offstreet parking purposes.

While the council and planners agree on the 15 parking lots, there's a difference of opinion on what zoning designation should be given the lot and house at 350 East Cady, which is on the corner of the new Griswold extension.

The property is owned by Councilman Paul Folino and will soon be leased to the city and township as an ambulance station.

Councilman Folino and City Manager Frank Ollendorff believe the parcel should be zoned C-3, an industrial-commercial combination.

Planners rejected this classification and have recommended M-1 (industrial), which they believe would permit the ambulance station operation, but confine the area to industrial zoning as proposed in the master plan.

The city manager believes that it requires C-3 zoning and he sees no conflict in C-3 next to M-1. Councilman Folino would prefer the zoning that provides more flexibility for future use of the property.

So Monday night with little comment the council called for public hearings on both rezoning issues on Monday, August 6 at the city hall.

In other business Monday night the Council awarded the contract for employees' disability insurance to Northville Insurance on a low bid approximating $3600 annually. The insurance provides employees with 50 per cent of their weekly earnings up to a maximum of $100 per week when disabled due to health or accident beginning on the eight day for one year.

The council decided to sell their used police cars instead of trading them for new models. One car has been sold for a bid of $512. The second is being advertised.

The council majority voted down a proposal by Councilmen Folino and David Biery that the city retain one of the two used patrol cars as back-up transportation. The city presently maintains three patrol cars. Other councilmen did not feel a fourth car was necessary.

The council heard a member of the audience, Sidney Frid, request that six blocks in Oakwood subdivision including three on Grace, two on Carpenter and one on Horton be sealcoated. He said the surfacing had been most satisfactory since it was installed seven years ago.

While the council agreed that the streets, and others, would need new sealcoating, City Manager Ollendorff reminded councilmen that eventually the streets should be paved.

"I think you must ask yourselves how many times we sealcoat the streets before paving permanently. Other citizens have been asked to pay assessments for paving and eventually it must be done in this area," he added. But the council decided another sealcoating would do for the time being.

In correspondence the city manager said he had received a report from Wayne county concerning a study of Eight Mile, Novi and Sheldon roads. He said the report suggests a traffic light on Eight Mile at Novi road, five lanes at Sheldon on Eight Mile, four lanes from Sheldon to Novi Road, and the widening of Sheldon Road from Baseline to Eight Mile to four lanes.

The council proposes to meet with the Wayne and Oakland county road commissions concerning the proposals.

A citizen, Ken Brush of Baseline, suggested that a four-way stop sign was required at Grace and Baseline due to heavy traffic. He also recommended prohibiting right turns off Center Street onto Lake and Baseline in the morning hours due to heavy traffic taking a short-cut around the Sheldon road-Eight Mile intersection. The request was turned over to the police department for study.

In final action the following reappointments were made to city commissions and boards:

Planning commission—Wallace Nichols, Bruce Turnbull and David Van Hine, three year terms;

Zoning Board of Appeals—Francis Gazlay, Luke Durst and Charles Buttermore, three year terms;

Beautification Commission—Paul Vernon, Wilson Funk, Lini Handy and Milo Hunt, three year terms;

Housing Commission—Nancy Schults and Donald Lawrence, five year terms; Northwest Sanitation Authority—Paul Vernon, one year term.

vicinity of the regional center," said Finney. "SCI would be very interested in having some sort of municipal complex located in the area because it would tend to attract people to the center."

Finney suggested that SCI might be able to make some land available to the city at a reduced price, making specific reference to a 45-acre L-shaped parcel on the southwest side of Novi Road.

(The regional center will be developed on the southeast corner of Novi and Twelve Mile Roads).

"We have a fairly strong commitment to the school board to develop our municipal complex in conjunction with them or a 160-acre site on the corner of Ten Mile and Taft Roads," stated Novi City Manager Harold Saunders, "but that doesn't necessarily mean that we aren't interested in hearing what you have to say."

Most of the other council members present voiced similar opinions.

"A total program of commercial development along with municipal facilities has always looked very appealing to me," said Councilman William O'Brien.

City Attorney David Fried stated that if SCI were to come up with something attractive, "I'm sure the City would be most interested."

While admitting that "something very attractive might take," Mayor Joseph Crupi suggested that some "spin-off type of municipal facility" in the area is a possibility. "I think we would like to maintain the integrity of an isolated municipal complex, but we might be able to consider some related municipal facility such as a center for the performing arts or a field house in the general vicinity of the regional center," he said.

Having received some gauge of council feelings on the subject, Finney is expected to return with a more definite proposal at a future date.

Dump Fees Raised

"Dump costs have not increased," Treasurer Joseph Straub told fellow township board members last week, "and we shouldn't say they went up when they did not."

Straub criticized the board minutes from the township's June meeting which stated he abstained from approving the minutes of the May meeting, which included raising the dump fees from $2 to $5, because of the wording of the motion.

Straub said he disagreed with the motion because "of the reason behind it, not the wording. I abstained and objected to it. Saying landfill costs went up when they did not is untruthful."

Supervisor Lawrence Wright said the reason behind raising the dump fees was "to recover some of the costs we pay for landfill.

"Raising the charge to $5 will give us $1,200 to $1,300," the supervisor said.

He explained that last year the township paid $420 per month for the landfill while it recovered only $600 per year in dump fees.

"We're trying to bring it a bit more in balance," Wright said.

adequacy of water and septic tank or sanitary sewers before building permits will be issued.

Casting the dissenting vote was Trustee Richard Mitchell who feared well drillers might hold up construction of buildings if people were unable to make arrangements to have the wells drilled immediately.

According to township board members, the resolution offers protection to persons building, since owners would be assured there was water on site before construction would begin.

The resolution also requires persons to hook up to water mains, provided they are within 400 feet of the property, and to sanitary sewer, provided it is within 300 feet of the property.

If no sanitary sewer is available, plans for a septic field must be submitted before a building permit is issued.

Board members agreed to consolidate all requirements of collecting fees that must be paid at the time building permits are issued.

Trustees also directed township engineer William Mosher to check with the Department of Natural Resources on dropping lake levels at Silver Spring, and Crystal lakes in Highland Lakes.

Appearing before the board last week, Carl Larsen and Sid Wilkins said they feel the water level is dropping and the natural flow into Silver Spring Lake has been stopped through rerouting of the stream and grading.

Both men said they were afraid Silver Spring and Crystal lakes would become stagnant.

Councilmen William O'Brien and Donald Young and Mayor Joseph Crupi voted in favor of granting the extension, while Councilmen Louie Campbell, Presnell, and Berry and Councilwoman Romaine Roethel opposed the waiver.

The action evoked the strong comment of Sheldon.

"We've worked for two years from one city manager to another in trying to develop a suitable plan for this site," he said. "I felt that the private drive was in the best interest of both ourselves and the city, but because of your actions we're going to have to go to a public road. Now we're going to have to revamp our entire site plan. I seriously doubt that we'll be able to get this project off the ground this year."

from the Pastor's Study

The Rich Man And Christianity

By Father John Wyskiel
Associate Pastor,
Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, Northville

Quite some time ago there was a question in a Christian paper: "Is there a limit to how much money we can morally keep if we are rich? For instance, must a person give up everything after the first million dollars?" This reply was given: "...Judging from circumstances in the United States, it seems to me that a man may morally be a multi-millionaire."

There must have been a great sigh of relief from many when they read that reassuring response. That answer, however, is a good example of rationalization, of compromising the message of Christ, and of deafness to the call of the gospel.

When we accept Jesus as Savior we also accept him as Lord and Teacher. We want him as Savior because we are sinners, but we are naturally hesitant to take him as our Teacher, as the Way we must follow, because his way is sometimes hard and narrow. So we try to pick and choose which sayings will follow. In effect we say: "The master didn't quite understand that this wouldn't work out in practice...He's off base here..." This, of course, is an attempt to fool ourselves, to think that we can be saved by the Lord Jesus and yet live any way we want. One must accept Jesus, or not; and accept him as he is, not as we would like him to be.

Our effort to by-pass and escape the real radicalness of the gospel is often most evident in the area of riches and wealth. Jesus said some very strong, very clear, very definite things on the subject. He claimed that it is morally impossible for a rich man to be saved. "How hard it is for rich people to enter the Kingdom of God! It is much harder for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God than for a camel to go through the eye of a needle" (Lk 18:24-25).

For years men have tried to escape the obvious meaning of Jesus' words. Hence we get beautiful rationalizations like: "In Hebrew the word for 'camel' is a variant of the word for 'camel', so perhaps Jesus really meant camel. 'Eye of a needle' might refer to a particularly narrow gate leading into Jerusalem." Unfortunately this wishful thinking is without scholarly support and one is still stuck with Jesus' hard pronouncement.

As Chesterton once put it, we can commission our most ingenious manufacturer to produce the world's largest needle, and our explorers to search out the smallest camel, and still we are left with the import of Jesus' words: "It is morally impossible for a rich man to attain salvation. 'Woe to you that are rich, for you have received your consolation'" (Lk 6:24).

Is Jesus trying to suggest contempt for things of creation and material goods? Not at all, Jesus presents a very positive gospel. What he says about riches follows from his commandment to love. It has to be impossible for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of heaven; for if a man is to gain eternal life he must love his neighbor, and when he does that he doesn't have riches left over. Being without riches and wealth is an unavoidable consequence. The thrust of the message of Christ is outward, toward the needs of others. When someone moves in that direction, wealth ceases to be a problem. There is no wealth left over to worry about. A man such as this doesn't end up with riches.

It's nice to see a headline about a good kid—because that's what most of them are.

Of course, his parents worry about him. That's one of the reasons he is a good kid. He's had plenty of opportunity to learn how much they love him... how much they care.

They have given him many things, some at considerable sacrifice to themselves. Fortunately, though, their giving didn't end with material gifts.

They have given him ideals... standards... principles. These are the intangible treasures that you aren't likely to acquire if you didn't find them at home.

And they have given him a faith. It was their faith first. At home and in church they shared it with him. Out of it the ideals and standards and principles naturally grew.

Yes. He's a good kid—due to the Lord.

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

A STRAWBERRY BED FOR YOUR GARDEN

Whether your garden is large or small, be sure to include strawberries as the prime fruit. One plant, according to its care, can yield from one pint to one quart of berries per growing season. Actually, an ideal garden should contain 25 Everbearing or 50 June-bearing plants per family of four people. It will be a rewarding harvest.

One of the most satisfying and decorative ways to plant strawberries for highly concentrated production in a minimum of space, is to purchase a strawberry pyramid. There are a number on the market which can be assembled and installed easily. In general, the pyramid is made up of three circular bands of steel or aluminum with the largest on the bottom, smallest on top, with an open center.

Choose a sunny location in the garden for best effect. Then erect on level ground, filling the spaces in each tier with rich garden soil and using a mulch over the top of each tier. The plants are set about four inches from the outside edge of the tiers in double rows using a staggered arrangement. You would allow about 65 plants in one pyramid at 12-inch spacing; 75 to 80 plants at 10-inch spacing and nearly 100 plants at 8-inch spacing.

If planting cannot be accomplished for a number of days after purchase, see that plants are kept in a refrigerator until planting time. Try for a cool, cloudy day if possible or late afternoon at about 50 degrees for planting.

In case of row planting, you can select either or both Everbearing and June-bearing varieties. When planting Everbearing strawberries, mark parallel rows 12 inches apart and set the plants 12 inches apart in each row. The exception is the Red Rich variety which should be set 18 inches each way. Soil does not have to be worked over in advance. Just insert a spade or garden trowel about 8 inches into the ground and create an opening by moving the handle back and forth. All shoots or runners on the plant are removed with a sharp knife. The roots are planted straight down and the crown leveled with the top of the soil. Finally, press the soil firmly around the roots and soak thoroughly right after planting. The first crop of flowers is always pinched off for better yield.

In the case of June-bearing strawberries, rows are marked about 36 inches apart and plants set 16 inches apart in each row. Using the same method of planting, the soil is firmed around the roots, soaked thoroughly and the ground sprinkled with a scattering of dry soil. Runners are also cut off with a sharp knife in order to develop the largest, finest fruit.

All strawberries respond to applications of a complete liquid water-soluble fertilizer mixed at the rate of two ounces per 25 plants. Plants need a good soaking with water after fertilizing. Fertilizing is done right after planting and every two weeks thereafter during the season. Mulching is good for keeping down weeds and later for winter protection.

for recreation, fun... try a STATE PARK

CHEBOYGAN STATE PARK

THE COMBINATION OF A BIG LAKE AND PINE, CEDAR AND SPRUCE FORESTS GIVE CHEBOYGAN STATE PARK GREAT FUTURE POTENTIAL. IT IS ONLY PARTIALLY DEVELOPED. THREE MILES NORTHEAST OF CHEBOYGAN OFF US-23 ON LAKE HURON'S DUNCAN BAY, THE 932-ACRE PARK NOW OFFERS

FINE OPPORTUNITY FOR BATHING, PICNICKING, CAMPING, NATURE STUDY AND VIEWING SCENERY. THERE IS FISHING IN THE BAY FOR PERCH, PIKE AND BASS, WHILE THE NEARBY CHEBOYGAN RIVER IS GOOD FOR WALLEYES. THE 78 CAMPSITES, WHICH SELDOM FILL, ARE MODERN, WITH ELECTRICITY.

Bring 'em back ALIVE!

EACH YEAR BEFORE STARTING OUT WITH YOUR TRAILER, ASK YOUR DEALER TO MAKE THESE SAFETY CHECKS: WHEEL BEARINGS, COUPLINGS, LIGHT CONNECTIONS, HEATER, STOVE AND REFRIGERATOR. THE COST, ABOUT $15, WILL SAVE YOU TIME, MONEY AND PERHAPS SOMEBODY'S LIFE ON THE HIGHWAY OR IN CAMP.

ADAPTED FOR AAS BY S. LEE BOYERS

Small, but Beautiful

Editor's Note: This is another in a series on selected Michigan State Parks which offer unusual features to campers. The series will run through Labor Day.

Cheboygan is among Michigan's smallest state parks, both in size and attendance, yet its future potential is almost unlimited, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The park is now only partially developed, offering only 78 campsites. Although modern, with electricity, they seldom fill on weekends during the camping season.

In 1972, attendance was 63,237, third smallest among the 30 parks in the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' Region II, which includes those across the upper half of the Lower Peninsula.

Yet few offer such fine opportunity for picnicking, nature study and viewing scenery, all combined with camping.

Located three miles northeast of Cheboygan off US-23 on Lake Huron's Duncan Bay, the entire park covers 932 acres. Much of this is pine, spruce and cedar forest, a virtual wilderness. Campers get privacy and shade at many sites built up on gravel pads among the cedar.

The day use beach along Duncan Bay five miles to the west offers the best swimming. At this point the beach is sandy and swimming is fine for children. A lifeguard is on duty.

Hiking is popular, both along the shoreline and the forest trails.

There is fishing in the bay for perch, pike and bass, while the nearby Cheboygan River is good for walleyes. Brook trout are found in Little Elliott Creek, a small stream between US-23 and the campground.

Besides camping, Cheboygan State Park is only a short distance from the Mackinac Bridge, spanning the Straits of Mackinac, one of the state's top tourist attractions. Historic Mackinac Island and restored Fort Michilimackinac and a lighthouse museum at Mackinaw City also are nearby.

Tips on Watering Pots

Doing a good job of watering container plants involves a little more than just holding a hose over a flowerpot.

Here are some tips from Michigan State University horticulturists to help you do a good job:

— There's no set rule on how often container plants should be watered. It depends on things like the size and type of container, where it's located, the soil and the climate. Basically, though, soil in a container needs watering more often than soil in a garden bed.

— Don't let the root ball get too dry, or it will shrink away from the sides of the container and the water will run down the sides instead of soaking into the soil. If this happens, scratch the soil around the edges of the container and let the loosened soil fill the cracks. Another method is to add new soil and soak it with water until the root ball is saturated. Or, if the container is small enough, you can submerge it in a bucket of water and leave it there until the air bubbles stop.

Insects Love Tomatoes

Insects seem to find tomatoes as appetizing as do members of the human community, according to Michigan State University entomologist Donald Cress. Immediately after tomatoes are transplanted in the field, cutworms and other soil-inhabiting insects become a serious problem, Cress says. Cutworms are brown to black in color, hairless, and "spongy" in appearance. They cut the young plant stems off at or slightly below the soil surface. White grubs and wireworms are soil-inhabiting insects which feed on plant roots.

Cutworms can be controlled with methoxychlor or malathion. White grubs and wireworms are controlled by incorporating chlordane into the soil at planting time.

Once the tomato begins fruiting, a regular weekly spray program should be initiated to control the foliage-feeding insect pests such as the tomato fruitworm, hornworm, and stinkbug.

Two of the most widely available chemicals the home gardener can use are malathion and methoxychlor. The amount to use, frequency of application, cut-off days before harvest, and other important information is on the label. The label also specifies warnings which must be followed when using the pesticide. For best results, the plants should be sprayed until both upper and lower surfaces of the leaves and fruit are thoroughly covered.

Cress says that these insecticides are considered "all purpose" chemicals and have the advantage of giving good control of aphids as well as the tomato fruitworm, hornworm, and stinkbug.

Retaining Bouquet Beauty

Those bouquets of flowers you've been bringing in from your garden add a lot of beauty and color to your home, and the longer they last the more enjoyment they provide.

William H. Carlson, Michigan State University horticulturist, has some tips on how to keep your cut flowers looking good longer:

— Cut the flowers in the early morning or late evening when they are crisp. Use a sharp knife or shears.

— Put the flowers into a bucket of warm water right after you cut them, and leave them there for about two hours before arranging them. — If you can't arrange your flowers for a while, cover the bucket with plastic and put it in the lower half of your refrigerator.

— Wash vases or containers before you put flowers in them.

— You may want to add a commercial flower preservative to the water. If you'd like to make your own, mix one 12-ounce bottle of 7-11 brand 12-ounce water and 1/2 tablespoon of bleach.

— Don't place your arrangement in drafts or near radiators, direct sun or electric lights.

— Move the flowers to a cool spot at night to keep them looking fresh Photography: 'Art by Accident'?

"A photographer who sets out to produce a work of art has a false notion of what 'art' is; he is likely to merely recreate something that has been done before. Fine art usually is not premeditated. Rather, it is an expression of the unique insight, perception and sensitivity of its creator. And it is not always a saleable commodity."

"Photographs are uncomfortable on the walls of art galleries. They are best held in the hand, where they can be closely examined for detail. And after they have been examined, one of the most convenient ways to store them is in boxes."

"Eugene Atget, a French photographer of the early 1900's whose works are now considered collector's items, was completely unschooled in photography and didn't begin taking photos until he was over 40 years old. But he was in love with Paris and devoted the rest of his life to documenting the city through photography."

These comments by University of Michigan art Professor Philip C. Davis are not meant to belittle the recent emergence of photography as an accepted art form. In fact, Professor Davis has long extolled the virtues of photography as a means of creative expression. But the U-M professor, a practicing photographer for more than 25 years, insists photography often becomes "art" purely by accident.

When Atget decided to photograph Parisian street scenes, for example, he did so with little hope of financial success, Davis notes. It wasn't until 25 years later that Atget's works were discovered and acclaimed for their unusual perceptiveness.

The same is true for another famous French photographer, Jacques Henri Lartigue, according to Davis. "Lartigue began taking photos of his family on their country estate when he was seven years old. He succeeded in capturing many zany aspects of his early family life, but the photos are most remarkable in their innocence. Lartigue simply documented his childhood and the world he knew as a young man, and now his works are collector's items."

Davis, who specializes in photography's historical and technical aspects, has produced photographic works that are part of the permanent collections of the Chicago and Detroit Art Institutes, the International Museum of Photography in Rochester, N.Y., and the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

In 1967 his photographs of U-M persons and places were printed by The University of Michigan Press to mark the University's sesquicentennial. The book, titled "The University", is still available at U-M Press. Davis is also author of the text, "Photography," now widely used by college art students.

His most recent series of works is the "Dexter Portfolio," a collection of documentary type photographs of Dexter, Michigan, a small town near Ann Arbor. The collection is being distributed by the 831 Gallery in Birmingham, Michigan, and has been exhibited around the country.

Davis considers himself an "experimenter" rather than an artist. He insists that the widely-acclaimed "Dexter Portfolio" was, to some extent, an accidental product of his experiments with film negatives.

His advice to amateur photographers who hope to produce a valuable masterpiece is, very simply, to abandon all pretensions of trying to create a work of art. "The essential element of fine art," he says, "is the personal experience of the creator, not the commercial value of the work."

Thus, he advises: — The amateur photographer interested in so-called "creative" photography should rely on his personal intuition. He should photograph what he likes.

— He should copy the works of acknowledged masters only to develop his skills and techniques.

— And he should not rely on advice columns (such as this one) for his inspiration.

Area Democrats Pass Resolutions

(Passed unanimously.)

The monthly meeting of the Second Congressional District Democratic Party was held July 1 in Ann Arbor. Representatives from Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Washtenaw County, and Monroe County attended.

Among the topics discussed was the October fall dinner which is tentatively scheduled for the Thunderbird Inn in Plymouth.

The members also voted on the following resolutions:

1. Condemned Shell Oil Co. and Delta Engineering Co. in Kalkaska for their use of non-union labor. (Passed, with several nays and abstentions.)

2. Expressed dismay at the disclosures regarding Watergate and other illegal campaign activities and pledged support for the measures introduced by Senator Philip Hart to oversee financing of future campaigns. (Passed unanimously.)

3. Congratulated President Nixon on his easing of tensions with the Soviet Union and Mainland China but expressed a concern over America's continuing involvement in Indochina. (Passed unanimously.)

4. Commended jail reforms instituted by Washtenaw County Sheriff Fred Postill and suggested handgun licensing, emphasis on rehabilitation in prisons, and restructuring some court and police procedures which may justice from being done.

Fair July 22

Horse's Mouth

Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, MI 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies.

DO HORSES HAVE TWO SETS OF TEETH?

Yes, horses have two sets of teeth. The first set is referred to by the names of "baby", "milk", "temporary", or "deciduous". These are replaced during the period of growth by the second set known as the permanent teeth.

Classification of teeth is based on their form and position. The front teeth are called middle incisors. These erupt at birth or from the first week to ten days. At about two and one half years of age these are replaced by permanent middle incisors.

The next pair — lateral to the middle incisors — are called the intermediates. They first erupt between four and eight weeks and are replaced with the permanent teeth at three and a half years.

The third and outside pair are called the corner incisors, they erupt between six and nine months and are replaced with the permanent teeth at four and one half years.

As to your noticing bumps on a four year old's jaw bone. They are teeth; they're the permanent incisors moving into position and the lump on the jaw bone should disappear by the time the horse reaches its fifth birthday, when the tooth moves up into position.

The permanent incisors will be full grown six months after eruption; hence at five years of age a horse should have a full mouth.

The canine teeth, also referred to as tusks or tusks, are located in the interdental space between the incisors and molars. Usually these canine teeth erupt around four to five years of age. Mares may or may not have these teeth or sometimes they may get them only on one jaw rather than both.

The molars or the large back teeth are sometimes called grinders. The horse has 12 molars. Since these molars do not wear down evenly but become very sharp on the edges, it is very important that at least once a year a horse's mouth, especially the molars, be checked by a veterinarian.

If he should find sharp caps on the teeth the vet will then float the teeth. Floating the teeth is the name given for the process of filing away the sharp points.

The number of teeth in the upper jaw may be increased by the presence of so-called "wolf" teeth. Such teeth are much reduced vestiges of teeth, situated just in front of the first well-developed premolar. There is one on each side of the upper jaw. Often these teeth are not more than half or three-quarters of an inch in length. They may erupt during the first six months and be shed about the same time as the milk teeth behind them. They may remain, however, indefinitely. Veterinarians sometimes advise pulling "wolf" teeth, especially in the case of a driving horse when an over-check bit is used.

A green mouth is any mouth which features all or some "temporary" incisors. A full mouth is one which features all permanent incisors.

A smoother mouth is the term applied when horses are ten years old or older.

COOLING OFF THE HORSE

If the rider is smart, he will have walked the horse long enough after being worked — so that he does not have to cool the horse once he has dismounted. There are instances, however, when the horse may be too nervous to cool off with a rider on him.

In any case, the horse must be cooled off before he is groomed and returned to his stall. There are several reasons for this: first of all a horse could get very stiff and cramped if allowed to stand and cool; it could get quite a chill; or he could become foundered, a condition where the blood more or less settles in the feet, causing an expansion of sensitive tissues.

Because the wall of the hoofs are hard, they will not expand and the horse will be in great pain from the resultant pressures. This condition could cause a chronic, if not permanent disability.

Jaycees, Mach Ford Pick Up Ground

On the surface, everything was quiet.

To the surprise of absolutely no one, Choo Choo Car Wash and the Northville Lumber kept right on winning to maintain their one-two status atop the standings of the Northville Recreation Department's Slo-Pitch Softball League.

But just below the surface - in those "other" races - there was significant action last week.

Northville's Jaycees made a significant gain in the race for third place - behind Choo Choo and The Lumber, of course - in the American League by posting a pair of victories, while Hamlet Food Mart - their closest competitors - could do no better than split their two games.

But the biggest gain of all was made by the John Mach Ford squad in the race for first place in the National League. The Car Dealers registered two wins, while their closest competitor - the Con Langfield Cougars - was losing twice. As a result, John Mach Ford now has a two game edge in the National League race.

Choo Choo and The Lumber both warmed up for their scheduled showdown clash this week by posting easy victories in last week's games.

Choo Choo, the defending league champions, scored 11 runs in the first two innings to put away Plymouth State Home 15-3. Shortstop Pete Woodard rapped out three singles and a triple in four trips to the plate to pace the easy win.

Pitching ace Don Phillippi limited the State Home to just seven hits - two of them by Jim Lilley.

The Lumber played twice - and won twice - last week.

First Lumber win was a 17-0 lambasting of the Hamlet Food Mart team. Shortstop Dan Parker, a recruit from Snyder's of the Detroit Major Metro League, paced the attack by slugging home runs in each of his first three trips to the plate. Hamlet wisely walked the Lumber slugger in his fourth trip to the plate.

Jerry Levan gave up just four hits in recording his third straight shut out.

Levan's scoreless-inning streak came to an end in the Lumber's very next game as Greenfield Die picked up single tallies in the first and third innings.

Trailing 2-0 at the end of the third, the Lumber rallied for five runs over the last three frames to take a 5-2 win over the upset-minded Greenfield Die club. Jerry Wedge, John Mutch, and Joe Lineman each picked up two hits including a double to pace the Lumber attack. Steve Bagdon and Geoff Nast combined for four of Greenfield's six hits off Levan.

One of the two Jaycee victories which put them in charge of the race for third place in the American League came via the forfeit route as Greenfield Die failed to come up with the required ten men. But the Jaycees had to work for their other triumph as they defeated Exotic Plastic and Rubber 7-3.

Jaycee pitcher Ron Reitenour gave up 11 hits, but only three Exotic players were able to cross the plate. Omar Harrison, Jim Belz, and Tom Lang had two hits apiece for the winners, while Todd Hannert, Scott Stuart, Rick Ambler, and Ray Graham each collected two hits for the losers.

Hamlet Food Mart strengthened its grip on fourth place in the American League by downing Plymouth State Home 8-7. A three-run seventh inning rally enabled the State Home to knot the score at 7-7, but Roger Schultz tripled and Jim McKeever drove him in with the winning run for Hamlet in the bottom of the seventh.

Schultz had three hits and Jerry Pomeroy and John Genetti each rapped out a pair of safeties for the winners. Mark Johnson with a home run and Charlie Fialon with three hits paced the State Home.

John Mach picked up two full games on the second place Con Langfield Cougars in the National League race by winning twice while the Cougars were dropping a pair.

One of the two Ford wins - was a 15-10 triumph over the Cougars. After trailing 10-6 at the end of five full innings, the Car Dealers came back with nine runs in the sixth and seventh innings to pull out the win. John Mach Junior with four hits and Roger Nieuwkoop with three safeties paced the triumph. Jack Jones and Jeff Jones had four and three hits respectively for Con Langfield.

Linton Groszitz' two-run single in the sixth inning proved to be the decisive blow in John Mach Ford's 9-8 triumph over Manor House Realty-Keith Heating. Jim Ojinski had four hits and Bruce Mach belted a four-bagger to spark the National League leaders, while Phil Rizzo had a double and a home run for Manor House.

Con Langfield also dropped a 17-13 decision to the VFW in last week's action. Ron Jones and Don Collins each stroked out three hits for the Veterans, while Tony Zima and Jack Murtha had eight of the 20 Con Langfield hits.

Moving from fifth to third place in the National League with a pair of victories were the Northville Newcomers. Jim Clemons, Mac Richardson, and Jim Robbins had three hits apiece to spark the Newcomers to a 15-8 victory over the Presbyterian Men's Club. Dutch VanIngen and Jack Feldman poked doubles for the Presbyterians.

The Newcomers scored five times in the last two innings to move from a 5-5 tie to a 10-5 triumph over the VFW. Jim Robbins and Jim Clemons again paced the win by rapping out three hits apiece. John Dodd accounted for three of the Veterans' nine hits.

Notching their first win of the season was the Presbyterian Men's Club. Northville State Hospital failed to show and the Presbyterians picked up the forfeit victory. The lone State Hospital win of the season, it should be noted, came when the Presbyterians had to forfeit their first scheduled meeting.

GUARDIAN ANGEL — OF SORTS — George Gravelle, third baseman for Olympic Manufacturing, makes a one-handed stab of a high throw to prevent the ball from striking Barney Auten of the Star Lincoln-Mercury team who is walking unsuspectingly behind the action. Auten and his teammates were not swayed by Gravelle's fortuitous stab, however, and hammered out a 17-5 win Monday in action in Novi's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League.

In Novi Softball

Electric, Jaycees Now Share Lead

The traffic jam's beginning to clear.

When play in the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League closed down for the weekend two Fridays ago, five teams - or exactly one-half of the league - were all huddled within one game of first place.

What's more, three of those five were tied for first place with 7-2 records.

But last week's action helped to clear the congestion - if only a little. Now the top five teams are huddled within two games of first place and only two - instead of three - teams are tied for the league lead.

L'Esperance Electric and the Novi Jaycees (Em Tee Em) each won a pair of games last week to up their records to 9-2 and remain deadlocked for first place.

But Michigan Tractor dropped one of three decisions to fall a game off the pace; Star Lincoln-Mercury split a pair of decisions to fall two games behind the leaders; and the Novi Inn experienced the biggest drop of all - dropping two out of two and falling all the way from first to fourth place.

In one of the week's key games, the Jaycees wrestled a 12-9 decision from Michigan

Tractor in a see-saw battle which saw the lead change hands five times.

Trailing 9-7 at the end of four innings, the Jaycees scored three times in the fifth to take a 10-9 lead and then added two more runs in the sixth to make the final margin 12-9 as pitcher Todd Price held the Tractor hitters scoreless over the final three frames.

Roy Icenogle's three for four performance at the plate was tops for the Jaycees, while Mark Gretel and Jim Olsen both went four for four to spark Michigan Tractor's 20-hit attack.

The Jaycees' other victory was a 25-1 mauling of J.P. Realty. Gary Colton had four doubles and a triple in six at bats and Todd Price also went five for six to share hitting honors with Phil McNary, who had a perfect four for four day at the plate for the Jaycees.

Ed DeBrule and Owen Sutherland with two hits apiece were the top Realty hitters.

Matching the Jaycees win for win was the L'Esperance Electric team which seems to get stronger as the season goes on. The Electricians hammered out 44 runs in easily disposing of two opponents in last week's action.

Biggest surprise was the Electrician's lop-sided 25-5 rout of Star Lincoln-Mercury. After taking a quick 8-2 lead in the first two innings, L'Esperance scored 17 times in the last three frames to complete the rout.

Chuck Kantola belted out a home run, two doubles, and a single to share hitting honors with Dan Laho who also picked up four hits in the game. Ray Denne and Paul Burns had two hits apiece for the losers.

Kantola belted out two round trippers and Laho added another as the Electricians blasted Olympic Manufacturing 19-6. Tom Mowbray had four hits and Bill Thackton, Ken Sekenske, and Tim Hensel had three hits apiece for the Manufacturers who were outthit by a narrow 22-19 margin in spite of the lop-sided final score.

After suffering the 12-9 loss to the Jaycees, Michigan Tractor came back to win two other games and thus remained within one game of first place.

Five runs in the first inning and four more in the seventh enabled the Tractor-men to edge Novi Inn 11-8. Dick Jones and Dick Rutherford were the only Tractor players to collect more than one hit off the Inn's Klaus Bukack - each had three safeties. Bob McCoy and Dennis Brooks had three hits apiece for the Inn which outthit Tractor by an 18-14 margin.

The Tractor-men added three runs in the seventh inning and then held Olympic Manufacturing to just two scores to take a 17-15 victory in a game that had been suspended earlier in the season. Dave DeGarmo and Jewel Ryan poked home runs for the Tractor team, while Gary Durand and Bill Ruck paced the upset-minded Manufacturer's with four hits apiece.

Star Lincoln-Mercury evened its record for the week at 1-1 by topping the Novi Police 7-6. Rey Rodriguez was the Star hero as he tripled in Mike Fenchel with the winning run with two outs in the bottom of the seventh. Bruce Place led the Coppers with three hits in four at-bats.

Councilman Louie Campbell's Jamaican Pools squad squared its season's record at 5-5 with two wins last week as they were swinging the hot-test bats in the league.

Keith Heathcock belted a three run homer in the first and Pete McClain and Tony Stiles socked two-run round trippers in the second to lead the Poolers to a 19-4 upset of the Novi Inn. Mike Ashley (five for five) and Bob Fedorka (four for four) shared hitting honors for the winners, while pitcher Campbell was limiting the Inn to just nine hits.

Jamaican Pools set league records for most runs scored in one game (44), most home runs in one game (10), and most batters in one inning (20), and most batters in one inning (23), when they blasted the hapless Novi Heights squad 44-3.

Bob Fedorka had three home runs, Pete McClain and Tony Stiles each had two round trippers, and Steve Elliot, Rich Elie, and Gary Guldner contributed one four-bagger apiece to the onslaught. Dan Harsh homered for the Heights which managed just six hits off Campbell's pitches.

Two One-Run Losses Doom Novi All-Stars

It's not that they didn't score plenty of runs.

Novi's Babe Ruth League All-Stars scored 31 times in the four games they played before being eliminated from the State Babe Ruth Tourney on Monday.

And the pitching wasn't bad either.

Scott Parsons and Gary Ford, the two Novi hurlers, gave up just seven runs during the course of those four games.

The problem was one of distribution of runs.

Novi's All-Stars pummeled a hapless Holly team 17-2 and 11-0, but were eliminated from the double-elimination state tourney with 2-1 and 3-2 losses to Davison and Linden.

The Novi squad started out the state tourney like gang busters.

In their opening game a week ago Wednesday, Scott Parsons fired a two-hitter and his teammates teed off on the Holly pitchers en route to a 17-2 victory. Novi broke the game open in the second when they sent 12 batters to the plate and scored eight runs.

Mark Orzechowski led off the frame with a home run and later belted a triple with two men on to spark the rout. Randy Wroten also had a two-run triple in the scoring spree and Paul Bosco and Gary Ford had one rbi apiece.

Thursday's game was a different matter. Gary Ford struck out 12 Davison hitters and gave up just three hits in 10 innings, but his teammates were no more successful against the Davison hurler. With both Ford and his Davison counterpart forced from the game by a rule which limits pitchers to 10 innings of work, Davison pushed across the winning run in the eleventh to take a 2-1 triumph.

Saturday Novi took on Holly again and this time they hammered out an 11-0 win. Scott Parsons hurled another two-hitter, while Randy Wroten and Gary Ford contributed home runs.

Novi suffered its second loss and was eliminated from the state tourney Monday. Linden picked up two unearned runs off Ford in the first and then held on for a 3-2 triumph.

Members of the Novi All-Star squad were Randy Wroten, Dan Assemany, Dave Beall, Gary Ford, Paul Bosco, Mark Orzechowski, John Buck, Bill Giorgio, Scott Parsons, Kurt Roderick, Mike Luttman, Reggie Casky, Craig Pelchat, Kevin Ary, and alternates Dennis Tuck and Craig Porter.

The squad was managed by Moe Wroten with Patrick Waite serving as coach.

Knothole Hardball

3 Still Undefeated

And the race is on.

With the season already in its third week, three teams in the Northville Recreation Department's Knothole Hardball League are still undefeated.

Tied for first place with identical 4-0 records are the Lab Service Super Stars and Choo Choo Car Wash. Also undefeated is the Hi-Lakers team which is currently lodged in second place with a 3-0 record.

And right behind those three undefeated clubs are two more teams which are still very much in the race. Del's Shoes Twins and Northville Number One are tied for fourth place with 3-1 marks and are just waiting for one of the front-runners to fall from the ranks of the undefeated.

The Lab Service Super Stars almost bit the dust last week as they had to rally for a pair of runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to wrest a 7-6 decision from the Northville Police Padres.

Mike McNamara tripled and scored to put the Padres on top 6-5 in the top of the seventh, but with two down in the last of the seventh Dan Lamora, Dan Ludwig, and Jeff Kozlarski collected back-to-back hits to give the victory to the Super Stars by a score of 7-6.

Jim Kula and Kevin Bennett had two hits apiece for the Padres, while Kozlarski and Ludwig led the Super Stars with four and three hits respectively.

Choo Choo Car Wash posted a pair of wins last week to join the Super Stars in first place. Leading 4-2 at the end of five innings, Choo Choo broke loose for five runs in the bottom of the sixth en route to a 9-5 verdict over the Casterline Indians.

Robin Shoner's home run highlighted Choo Choo's sixth inning outburst. Shoner shared hitting honors with Russ Gans who had a single and two doubles. Dave Ward's three run homer sparked the Indians' attack.

Choo Choo's other win came a great deal easier as they lambasted Northville Number Three 17-1. Tom Allen rapped out three hits and Shoner, Gans, and Bob Thomson picked up two hits apiece to spark the 16-hit Choo Choo attack. Mike Gribbell and Bill Winters each had two hits to lead the losers who collected just six hits in the game.

The Hi-Lakers also posted a pair of wins last week to stay just half a game behind Choo Choo and the Super Stars.

Three runs in the fourth and two more in the sixth enabled the Hi-Lakers to top the John Mach Ford Yankees 5-1. Brian Bonsall and Tim Ellis topped the Hi-Lakers with two hits apiece. No Yankee had more than one hit.

Trailing 11-5 at the end of four innings, the Hi-Lakers stormed back for eight runs in the bottom of the fifth to defeat Northville Number Two 13-11. Tim Cavanaugh had a double and two singles to share hitting honors for the Hi-Lakers with Walter Pond who had a double and one single. J. D. Kelly sparked the losers with a double and a single.

Del's Shoes Twins advanced its record from 1-1 to a much more respectable 3-1 with two wins last week.

Northville Number Three came to life and scored 13 times in the last two innings, but it wasn't enough as the Twins held on for an 18-14 victory. Doug Horst, Kevin Swayne, and Mark Davis rapped out three hits apiece for the winners, while Mike Gribbell, Randy Baxter, Bill Winters, and John Wagner each had two hits for the losers.

The Twins' other victory was a 12-0 whitewashing of the Little Caesar's Mustangs. Gary Beason, Russ Horst, and Kevin Swayne had three hits each for the Twins. Tom Arnold stroked a pair of singles for the Mustangs.

Tied with the Twins for fourth place with a 3-1 record is Northville Number One which last week blasted out a 21-0 victory over Northville Number Three in its only game. Scott Robbins, Tim Chapman, and Mike Anderson each collected three hits for the winners. Mike Gribbell with two safeties and Rick Balek and Jeff Griffith with one hit each collected all four hits for the losers.

Winning their first game of the season were the Northville Police Padres who downed the Northville Jaycees 14-3 as Mike McNamara, Mike Hooth, and Joe Simrak combined for a total of nine hits. Tom Marcel's triple topped the five-hit Jaycee offense.

Chris Allen and Bob Kelly each rapped out two singles and a triple to lead Northville Number Two to an 8-2 win over the Jaycees. John Owens had two hits for the Jaycees who once again were able to collect just five safeties.

DIVING FOR THE BAG—Mike Gribbell of the Northville Number Three team makes a head first dive for the bag to avoid the pick-off attempt of the Choo Choo Car Wash pitcher. Choo Choo first baseman Steve Norton

18 Northville Swimmers Help

Bulldogs Sweep 'A' Meet

Eighteen Northville swimmers contributed points as the Bulldog Aquatic Club out of Schoolcraft College powered its way to a big win in the thirteenth annual Lower Huron Class A Swim Meet last weekend.

The powerful Bulldog club, one of the top AAU teams in the state, piled up more than 700 points to easily outdistance second place Garden City which compiled some 431 points in the meet which attracted more than 30 AAU teams from across the state.

In the eight and under division, four Northville swimmers earned points. Jennifer Gans won the 40 yard butterfly, finished seventh in the 40 yard freestyle, and swam on both the 160 yard medley and freestyle relay teams, both of which finished second.

David Malinowski and Pat Cahill were both members of the 160 yard freestyle and medley relay quartets which swam to first place honors in the meet. In addition, Malinowski racked up thirds in the 40 yard freestyle and 40 yard breaststroke, and a fifth in the 40 yard backstroke. Cahill added a fifth place finish in the 40 yard freestyle and a seventh in the 40 yard backstroke.

Gary Simrak rounded out the Northville swimmers who earned points in the eight and under division, finishing sixth in the 40 yard breast stroke.

The Bulldogs ran up two more relay triumphs in the 10 and under division. Russ Gans and David MacDonald both swam on the first place 160 yard freestyle and medley relay teams.

Gans added a second place finish in the 40 yard freestyle and thirds in the 40 yard fly and 40 yard backstroke. MacDonald was second in the 40 yard backstroke, third in the 40 yard breaststroke, and fourth in both the 40 yard fly and freestyle events.

Bob Simrak swam on the 160 yard freestyle and medley relay teams which finished second in the 10 and under division.

In the 12 and under division, David Uzelac was on the second place 160 yard medley relay team and on the third place 160 yard freestyle relay teams. He also finished fourth in the 40 yard fly and fifth in the 40 yard freestyle.

Derek Gans and Tim Cahill swam on the fourth place 160 yard freestyle relay quartet. Tom Simrak was on the third place 160 yard freestyle relay team and the fourth place 160 yard medley relay team.

Tom Cahill finished second in the 40 yard breaststroke and was on the second place 160 yard medley relay and fourth place 160 yard freestyle relay teams.

Susan Cahill was a member of the third place 160 yard freestyle and medley relay teams and added fifth place finishes in the 40 and 80 yard butterfly events.

In the 14 and under division, Dean Alli was on the first place 160 yard freestyle relay team. Jim Wright swam on the third place 160 yard medley and the fourth place 160 yard freestyle relays. Jim Cahill was a member of the fifth place 160 yard freestyle relay quartet.

Cathy Coates was sixth in the 80 yard breaststroke and swam on the medley relay team which finished fourth and the freestyle relay team which came in seventh.

Art Greenlee, Class B state champion in the breaststroke, was the sole Northville performer in the 15-17 year old bracket and swam on the Bulldogs' 320 yard medley relay team which came in second.

Novi Studies Park Needs

responsibility of developing a comprehensive city recreation plan.

"We are at the point now where it is imperative to have a formal plan to guide us in the orderly and timely development of a system of public parks and recreation programs," stated Commissioners Raymond Murphy. "That's why we felt it was important to institute this type of committee at this time."

To insure that all parts of the city are represented, interested residents will be appointed to the committee based on their geographical location within the city, as well as on their qualifications and willingness to serve, Murphy noted.

"We want the help and ideas of those people who would like to see Novi with parks and recreation programs that all our residents can be proud of, and most importantly, will take advantage of," Murphy continued.

Residents interested in serving on the committee should contact Mrs. Maryanne Canadas at the Novi City Hall at 349-4300.

Connie Mack League

Bishop's No-Hitter Sparks Reef Nine

Things are looking up for Reef Manufacturing. After struggling to just two wins through the first five weeks of the Livonia Connie Mack League season, the Northville squad began to pick up its pace last week by winning two of three games. And just never mind that one of those two wins came via the forfeit route.

"The way we've been going, we'll take anything we can get," commented Pat Cayley, coach of the Northville nine.

The two wins, though improving Reef's record to a somewhat more respectable 4-9 mark, did little to improve their overall standing in the league.

Reef is still in last place in the White Division, half a game behind Franklin and North Farmington, who are tied for second and third place with identical 4-8 records. Berry Appliance is running away with the White Division race with a 10-2 record.

Reef's two games last week were studies in contrast. In a 6-4 loss to National Pride on Thursday, the Northville squad could do virtually nothing right. But in a 12-0 whitewashing of Franklin on Saturday, the Reef players could do virtually nothing wrong.

"If you want to talk about Thursday's game I've got nothing good to say," commented Cayley. "But if you want to ask me about Saturday—let's start talking."

In spite of the lusty offensive showing which produced 12 runs on 12 hits, the star of the Reef win was Joe Bishop. The plucky southpaw mainstay of the Reef pitching rotation recorded his first no-hitter of the summer as he fired third strikes past 10 Franklin hitters.

"It was Joe's best performance by far," commented Cayley. We had an opportunity to throw him for about four innings in Thursday's game and he was really sharp for Franklin. When Joe has a chance to pitch regularly, he does a lot better."

"He was keeping the ball low on them and they didn't hit a ball hard off of him all day long. Their closest thing to a hit was a little bunt that Joe picked up and threw the runner out at first. He really pitched a strong game."

And while Bishop was blanking the Harrison batters, his teammates were providing him with plenty of runs as they scored at least one run in every inning except the fourth and sixth and put the finishing touches on the triumph with a five run surge in the top of the seventh.

Todd Eis, Scott Leu, and Bishop himself each collected two rbi's in the game and hard-hitting Randy Oginski led the team in hits with two singles and a double.

But Thursday's 6-3 loss to National Pride was quite a different story.

"We gave it away," stated Cayley. "We really played badly. We made three key errors in the second inning and they scored four runs. That was the ball game. They got two more runs in the fourth and both of those were unearned, too."

Cayley turned to Scott Cummings to pitch against National Pride and was generally pleased with his performance.

"Scott hasn't had a chance to pitch for us yet this summer and we decided to take a look and see what he could do," said Cayley. "He pitched well, but we let him down in the field. Scott gave up four runs in three innings, but every one of those runs was unearned. It's hard to keep the other team from scoring when your teammates are throwing the ball around behind you."

Both teams were plagued by errors. None of the six National Pride runs was earned and only two of the four Reef runs were earned.

"Take away the errors and we would have had them 2-0," lamented the Reef coach.

John Sherman scored an unearned run in the first on a walk, an infield out, and an error by the National Pride shortstop.

Sherman scored again in the fifth, but this time his run was strictly legitimate as he poled the ball over the fence for a four-bagger. Randy Oginski also scored for Reef in the fifth, reaching first on an error by the second baseman, taking second on a walk to Bill McDonald, and then coming across the plate on Scott Leu's double.

Back to back doubles by Ed Kritch and Oginski leading off the seventh gave Reef its second earned run of the game.

TENNIS-PLAYING BOSHOVEN'S— Nowhere has the tennis craze currently sweeping the area struck harder than it has at the Robert Boshoven residence. Individually and as doubles teams, the Boshovens have been carving out a family reputation in tennis circles across the state. Jami, a 15-year old junior, was not only the first girl ever to win a varsity letter at Northville High School, she also had the best record on the team with 14 wins in 17 matches. Together, Jami and her mother, Donna, recently finished third in the state in the Mother-Daughter Tennis Tourney in Ann Arbor. Bob, Junior, an 11 year old who has been playing just one year, already has advanced as far as the semi-finals in both the Cranbrook and Detroit Junior Open Tennis Tournaments. As for Bob, Senior, he has won the Men's Doubles title at the Southdown Invitational and teamed with his wife to win the Mixed Doubles at Southdowns. What's more, at the end of the month, he and his wife will compete in the Governor's Cup Tourney in Traverse City, hoping to improve on the semi-final finish they've achieved there in each of the last two years.

Novi Heights was also the victim of a 15-2 J.P. Realty victory.

Carl Helwig went three for three and Ed DeBrule held the Heights to just nine hits to pace the Realtors. Bob Freitsch went three for three for the losers.

Jerry Pratt, Ed Butler, John April, and T.B. Harbin all slugged home runs as the Novi Police recorded their second victory of the year by downing Olympic Manufacturing 21-11. Father Leslie Harding had two singles, a double, and a triple in four at bats to share hitting honors for the Crime Fighters.

Ken Sekenske went four for four and Denny Skvarce picked up two doubles and a single in five trips to the plate to pace the 17-hit Manufacturer's attack.

Summer Track Program Booms

Northville's summer track program is going great guns. That's the word from Northville High School track coach Ralph Redmond who is running the summer program under the auspices of the Northville Recreation Department.

Assisting Redmond is Paul Bedford, a former distance ace at Northville, who last year served as assistant coach of the Northville girls' track team.

The summer track program consists of bi-weekly practice sessions with Wednesday night Mini-Meets.

"We've had three meets so far this summer and we have at least two more to go," stated Redmond. "We've got one meet coming up with Lincoln Park and we're also going to have a meet with the kids in the summer track programs at Port Huron and Dearborn."

The Mini-Meets feature separate competition for boys and girls in three different age brackets: Novices (10-13 year olds), Juniors (14-15 year olds), and Seniors (16 year olds and older). Only seven different events are run in each division and events change from week to week to offer some variety.

"Some weeks we'll toss in a 660 or a 1,000 yard run just to make the summer meets more interesting," explained Redmond. In last Wednesday's meet, an open 3 1/2 mile rule was included in the program.

"The Mini-Meets are oriented toward the individual rather than the team," Redmond continued. "We stress individual performances over the performance of a whole team."

In last Wednesday's meet, members of the Northville Striders ran against members of the South Lyon summer track program. Redmond cited several performances as being very good.

The Mustang mentor singled out 12-year old Kristi Iverson's 6:44.7 clocking in the mile run; 15-year old Blair Robinson's 21'6" leap in the long jump; and Paul Bedford's 17:47.0 clocking in the 3 1/2 mile run.

Redmond also singled out Dave Harrison's 5'10" effort in the high jump and Bob Smith's 23.9 timing in the 220 yard dash.

Complete results appear below.

The Northville Striders practice at the Northville High School track from 6:30 - 9 p.m. every Monday and from 9 - 11 a.m. on Saturdays. Everyone 10 years old or older is eligible to participate and Redmond is interested in having more people compete in the program.

"We're particularly interested in getting more Junior and Senior Division girls out for the team and we'd also like to see some adults out here," he said.

Sherman scored again in the fifth, but this time his run was strictly legitimate as he poled the ball over the fence for a four-bagger. Randy Oginski also scored for Reef in the fifth, reaching first on an error by the second baseman, taking second on a walk to Bill McDonald, and then coming across the plate on Scott Leu's double.

COMMUNICATIONS: City Manager presented final bill from Clay Hofess for the moving of the Historical Buildings. An additional cost of $750 has been included to move the buildings over basements instead of footings.

Councilman Folino stated that he thought the City had originally agreed to pay the costs of moving the buildings to the Historical Site. Any other costs are the responsibility of the Historical Society. Council agreed.

City Manager was instructed to inform the Historical Society of their position and discuss this with them further.

Letter from Mr. & Mrs. Paul Shilling, of Grace St., requesting stop signs for Maplewood at Grace St.

City Manager stated that several studies have been made in recent years indicating that additional stop signs in this location would cause more accidents and annoyance than would be prevented. Council agreed a speed sign be installed and the police department will be instructed to enforce speed limit vigorously.

City Manager presented Resolution from Oak Park which opposes the proposal to eliminate the State's Financial Assistance for training Police Officers to the Northville City Council.

Motion by Councilman Folino supported by Councilman Biery to adopt the following Resolution:

WHEREAS, State Law requires all Police Officers to undergo a specified course of formal training, and

WHEREAS, the State provides financial assistance to the local units of government, and

WHEREAS, there is a proposal before the legislature to eliminate the State's Financial Assistance.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Council of the City of Northville is opposed to the proposal to eliminate the State's financial assistance for training Police Officers and requests its Legislators to act to defeat the proposal.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution shall be forwarded to State Senator, Carl Pursell, State Representatives Robert Geake, and Clifford Smart.

Based on recommendation of City Manager, motion by Councilman Biery supported by Councilman Rathert to accept bid of Broquet Tractor for $11,301.66, since their service facilities are located much closer than low bid which is a $9.91 difference.

Carried.

CABLE TV DISCUSSION: City Manager stated that one of three procedures could be taken on this:

1. negotiate with one party

2. negotiate on a large scale

3. provide specifications and then negotiate

Council agreed to hold a work session on CATV at the next council meeting so they may be more familiar with this subject.

City Manager recommended the third approach, since there could be a very wide range of different services offered in negotiations.

CITY ATTORNEY'S REPORT: STATE BINGO LAW: City Attorney reported that he has not yet received a copy of law the State has adopted. However, he recently learned from the newspaper that the Bingo parties are licensed only by the State, fee based on prizes they are awarding, and can only be given to charitable organizations.

CITY ATTORNEY'S REPORT: DOG ORDINANCE: City Attorney stated that he did not feel the city police department's usage of radar is in excess nor did he feel the dog ordinance is unreasonable. In regard to invalid dog violation notice, pointed out by Mr. Ingel, he will rewrite the notice in order to comply with ordinance.

MISCELLANEOUS: Mayor Allen suggested that a sign be erected at the entrance to the cemetery to prohibit motorcycles, minibikes or horses on the premises.

Motion by Councilman Folino supported by Councilman Vernon to adopt Resolution to erect sign prohibiting motorcycles, minibikes or horses at the entrance of the cemetery.

Carried.

Council also noted the problem of unlicensed motorcycles, minibikes and horses in the City.

City Attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance on this subject for Council's review.

Councilman Biery stated that the Drawbridge Manager to have cars parked only on one side of Dunlap and not to obstruct sidewalks or driveways.

Councilman Vernon requested that a legal opinion on the Soil Erosion and Land Scaping Ordinance be ready for the next Council meeting.

Councilman Vernon also mentioned that the Adult Book Store Ordinance be brought up for discussion at the next Council meeting.

City Attorney stated that he felt this is best regulated through the Planning Commission with zoning restrictions, but he will check into a licensing ordinance.

Councilman Folino requested that ordinance to regulate the uses of amusement devices be on the agenda at the next Council meeting after being tabled for two years. He requested that Council receive copies for their review.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 9:45 p.m.

Jaycees Start Project Theft-Guard

Novi's Jaycees have launched a program which will help police track down stolen property.

Title of the new project is "Operation Theft-Guard".

The Jaycees have purchased a number of engraving tools which will be loaned to residents upon request.

Residents are then urged to engrave an identification number - the social security number is recommended - on each and every item which might be of value to a potential thief.

Everything from cameras to toasters, television sets to bicycles should be engraved, police say.

Residents are also urged to keep inventories complete with a detailed description of valuable items.

In case of theft, police will then be able to obtain an accurate description of the stolen merchandise. Even more important, if the stolen property is recovered police can make a positive identification and return it to its owner.

Police also state that having an identification number on a piece of property will also help them in making arrests and convictions.

"A lot of times we'll recover stolen property, but won't be able to make a positive identification and thus prove that it really was stolen," stated Novi Detective

Lieutenant Richard Faulkner. "If we have an identification number to work from we will be able to work a great deal more efficiently. An identification number is just as important to the police as getting a license number," said Faulkner.

Because the registration numbers can be put on a nation-wide police communications network, stolen property can be recovered anywhere in the United States.

Last year a gun stolen from a Nine Mile Road resident was recovered in Texas as the alleged thief attempted to pass into Mexico.

The engraving machines can be obtained by calling the Jaycees.

To sign up for one of the machines contact either Mrs. Joanne McNary at 349-1063 or Barry Laken at 349-0050.

More information on Project Theft-Guard will be available at the Jaycee booth at Gala Days this weekend.

Fall Country Fair Plans Shaping Up

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Another week gone by in Wixom and it appears that the lazy, hazy days of summer have set in. Not much, that I've heard about anyway, going on.

In my travels around the City, I have seen some great gardens growing and they look like they've had plenty of tender, loving care. Keep it up because plans are still proceeding for our old fashioned country fair in the fall. And we'll need all that produce and those flowers to give the judges a hard time.

And for you gals who are handy with needles, be it sewing, crocheting or knitting, I hope you are hard at work, too, because there will also be space for just that sort of thing at the fair.

To make this "fair" idea work out and be loads of fun for everyone, it's going to take people to be a success. Plan on entering or attending. — tuck the idea in the back of your mind for future reference.

The Parvu zoo reported in again this past week but the latest word I have is that this pet "flew the coop". This time it's a robin, probably born this spring, who thought the Parvu clan looked interesting and inviting from its tree limb and so came down for a closer look. It was promptly named "Brunhilda" — a charming name for one so small — and that's probably what made it take off.

The bird, according to John and Mary, became quite tame and would light on a hand or shoulder looking for a hand-out.

Be it the call of the wild or an early migration, but Brunhilda's disappearance. Could it be that the bread across the way seemed tastier?

The Wixom Library Board is forging ahead in its task of cataloging all those books they received on loan from the State Library. As it stands now, the Young People's Library could very well open in just a few short weeks. Shelving for the books which will be located in City Hall was given to the Board by the Wayne County Federated Library System.

And another great stroke of good-fortune came with Sue and Al Weibel, new residents to the Hickory Hill area. Sue is head librarian at the new Farmington Library on Twelve Mile Road and has become the advisor and consultant to the Wixom Library Board.

The Board, besides working so diligently on setting up the Young People's Program, is equally hard at work in becoming a part of the Total Community Center in Wixom in conjunction with Parks and Recreation and Senior Citizens. The idea is to have a place where Wixom citizens can go to enrich the mind as well as the body.

Au revoir to Lynn and Steve Rembaugh and family from Highgate. Steve has been transferred by his company to Chicagoland.

Steve was the first president of the Highgate Association and we're sorry to see them depart. Our loss will certainly be their gain.

Some of the Highgate gals have gotten together and now have a mini-golf league going on Wednesday mornings at the Hickory Hill Golf Club. And just to make sure their swings are going in the right direction, the gals are out again on Thursday afternoons taking lessons at the El Dorado Golf Club.

Kathy and Russ Wahamaki returned from a week long visit to Kathy's home town of Port Washington, Wisconsin, where they attended her brother's marriage and visited her folks. Both Sam and Karen, the Wahamaki's little ones, were attendants in the wedding with Sam actually entrusted with the real rings in his role as ring bearer.

Not that Kathy's back, she's knee deep in organizing a "Friends of the Library" group which is an absolute necessity for the growth of a library. Strictly volunteer, anyone wishing to help in the organization or just being a "friend", call Kathy at 624-2396 for more information.

The antique car exhibit over the weekend at Greenfield Village surely brings out hordes of the "old timers" and I always look forward to it. Seems I always manage to be on the expressway as they are either going or coming. Saw some beauties, polished to a gorgeous luster, and the occupants, some of whom were done up in the costumes "of the day", seemed to love the jaunt down the highway. Really looked like great fun.

Biblical Answers For Troublesome Times
? I am worrying for the future, as things look so dim now. Does God care about these problems? R.T.
MATTHEW 6:25-33 states, "THEREFORE I SAY UNTO YOU, TAKE NO THOUGHT FOR YOUR LIFE, WHAT YE SHALL EAT, OR WHAT YE SHALL DRINK: NOR YET FOR YOUR BODY, WHAT YE SHALL PUT ON. IS NOT THE LIFE MORE THAN MEAT, AND THE BODY THAN RAIMENT? verse 28, BEHOLD THE FOWLS OF THE AIR: FOR THEY SOW NOT, NEITHER DO THEY REAP NOR GATHER INTO BARN; YET YOUR HEAVENLY FATHER FEEDETH THEM. ARE YE NOT MUCH BETTER THAN THEY? verse 31, THEREFORE TAKE NO THOUGHT... verse 32, FOR YOUR HEAVENLY FATHER KNOWETH THAT YE HAVE NEED OF THESE THINGS. verse 33, BUT SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM OF GOD, AND HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS; AND ALL THESE THINGS SHALL BE ADDED UNTO YOU."

Roth, Murphy and Ron Housman circulated petitions in Northville Commons, collecting signatures from 132 of the 170 families. Mrs. Drieltis and Don B. Williams gathered 148 names from the 216 families in Northville Colony. A majority of the families were needed to sign the petitions which will be submitted to the district manager of the post office for his approval of the address change.

Demand More Say on Parks

Appearing before a committee of the State Legislature, County Board Chairman, Robert E. FitzPatrick and Commissioner Thomas P. O'Rourke have urged more urban park development and asked for more Wayne County representation on the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA).

Representatives of both urban and rural interests voiced support for proposed legislation that would give Wayne County more representation on the HCMA board.

Testimony of O'Rourke and FitzPatrick follows an earlier proposal by the Board of Commissioners to withdraw its financial support from the HCMA, pending negotiations for development of more parks within Wayne County boundaries.

The proposal is now before the Public Works Committee, which is withholding action until negotiations are settled. O'Rourke is chairman of the Public Works Committee.

Proud Lake Fun's Just Minutes Away

★ PROUD LAKE
RECREATION AREA

THE HIGH HILLS OF THE HURON RIVER VALLEY, THE HURON RIVER AND SEVERAL LAKES ARE THE BACKGROUND FOR PROUD LAKE RECREATION AREA, JUST EAST OF MILFORD AND 12 MILES SOUTHWEST OF PONTIAC. SPECIMENS OF UNUSUAL PLANT LIFE MARK THE REGION, WITH SOME 3,356 ACRES OF STATE-OWNED LAND AVAILABLE FOR CAMPERS' USE. DODGE BROTHERS STATE PARK NO. 5

AND BLOOMER NO. 1 STATE PARK ARE INCLUDED IN THE AREA WITH CAMPING AT DODGE NO. 5 AND PICNICKING AT BOTH UNITS. PROUD LAKE, WITH 207 CAMPSITES, IS A GOOD SPOT TO STAY IF YOU PLAN TO VISIT THE DETROIT AREA.

Wilderness, water and wildlife, coupled with the attractions of big city, are within the reach of those who camp at Proud Lake Recreation Area, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The park is just east of Milford, 12 miles southwest of Pontiac, only a few minutes drive from the Wixom exit of the I-96 freeway.

Located in Oakland county, features of the area are high hills, the Huron River valley and several lakes, including Proud Lake.

In addition to the lush lake sections within its own boundaries, the park's 3,343 acres are flanked by Kensington Metropolitan Park on its west and Marshbank Metropolitan Park on its east.

Proud Lake registered 420,850 visitors last year.

Hiking is at its best in the spring and summer. Specimens of unusual plant life may be found. A 35-year planting of red and white pine covers a large portion of the area. The trails are much more on the wild side than those at nearby Kensington Park.

In the summer, Proud Lake's 207 campsites are at a premium. Scattered picnic sites are developed. Dodge Brothers State Park No. 5 and Bloomer No. 1 State Park are incorporated in the area with camping at Dodge No. 5 and picnicking at both units.

There are boat launching sites at Middle Straits, Proud and Reed Lakes. Swimming is nearby and there is a sandy bottom.

A modern outdoor center is excellent for teaching of outdoor education. A full-time naturalist is on duty.

In autumn, deer hunters find Proud Lake the closest area to Detroit where chances of getting a buck are good.

Proud Lake is a good spot to stay if you wish to visit the Detroit area's many attractions.

Within short driving distance are the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak, the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, the Cranbrook Institute of Arts, Detroit Historical Museum and Dossin Great Lakes Museum on Belle Isle.

Tours also are available, including automotive plants in the immediate Detroit area, and other tours such as banks, breweries and soft drink manufacturers.

Michigan Mirror

'Energy Crisis' Draws Skepticism

LANSING—There is growing suspicion in Lansing that the current energy crisis may be more artificial than real. There are many facts which show it to be genuine, but the uneasy feeling develops that there are those who are capitalizing on it and not anxious to bring it to an end at this time.

Few come right out and say it yet, but actions of oil companies have added to suspicion of the doubters that the "crisis" was at least in part created in an attempt to fight against environmentalists and save the oil depletion allowance.

Among the most outspoken at this point is State Rep. William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, who is chairman of a special committee investigating the fuel situation.

"A CRISIS of major proportions is facing Michigan if a fuel shortage does in fact exist," he says. "This lack of power and fuel could drastically affect all pocketbooks and jobs of Michigan residents."

But he adds this statement: "There is some evidence that the petroleum industry has purposely created this shortage to increase gas prices and government subsidies to the industry."

Fitzgerald's committee has power to subpoena witnesses and examine books and records, so it may do a lot to resolve the question.

PART OF THE SUSPICION comes from the way the oil companies have been dragging their feet in cooperating with the special task force on fuel supply set up earlier this year by Gov. William G. Milliken.

The reluctance on the part of the companies to supply information to the task force has produced some strong words by both Milliken and the man he named to head the task force—State Commerce Director Richard Helmbrecht.

Milliken said the response of the companies "has been disappointing."

"We need more information than we get from Johnny Cash on television," he said in a pointed reference to the advertising of one major brand.

OF THE 15 FIRMS the task force asked to submit data, says Helmbrecht, only four sent anything that might be of use.

"I don't know what their reluctance has been based on up to this point," he said.

"We simply aren't in position to recommend actions that will impact on citizens—such as, for example, lower speed limits or something like that—until and unless we have data on which to base our recommendations," he said.

Between the legislative investigation and the governor's task force, the answers as to whether there is a real shortage and why the oil companies are slow in providing solid figures may be answered.

THERE IS AN appropriate pun on this topic: the temptation to use it can't be overcome. It is this: An energy crisis exists when you can't fuel all of the people all of the time.

You've got to hand it to State Lottery Commissioner Gus Harrison and his staff. They keep coming up with something new.

Harrison has produced by far the most successful lottery in the country. It would have been easy for him and his crew to sit back and rest on their laurels.

But they aren't doing that. Instead, they keep coming up with something new to attract attention and ticket buyers.

FIRST IT WAS the four cars they gave away in a bonus drawing held as part of Michigan week. The cars sparked record ticket sales.

Then, for the week of the Fourth of July, a second special drawing was held with prizes of, naturally, $1,776 for each winner. And there's the new wrinkle being worked on that would allow people to pick the same number for a whole year and be guaranteed that number.

These special twists, plus the normal weekly publicity of the super drawing, plus the instant millionaires the lottery has been creating, have kept interest up and ticket sales up, despite the belief of many that after the first few weeks ticket sales would plummet. And that's one reason Gov. William G. Milliken could propose and the legislature adopt a tax cut this year.

Harrison is showing Milliken made a wise choice when he picked the former State Corrections Director to head up the lottery.

Babson Report

Cereal Stocks React to Price Freeze

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Frozen prices along with runaway costs in the processing of farm commodities, plus—what may be even worse—the threat of inadequate supplies in the months ahead, have placed prospects for the profit margins of food producers in general under a cloud of uncertainty.

Included in this group are those companies in the cereal and snack-items lines, whose stocks have been under a good deal of selling pressure since the mid-June anti-inflation move by the Administration.

On the other hand, an export policy which first considers domestic needs plus a more encouraging crop outlook suggests that this sector of the stock market will bear watching for investment opportunities when prices in this group begin to firm.

NOT ONLY is the cereal industry highly competitive but in late years the handful of companies in the field have been subject to government criticism concerning their advertising practices and the nutritional value of their products.

Despite this, however, the sales and earnings of the leading firms have progressed in satisfactory fashion. The makers have risen to

About Apprenticeship

An informational program entitled "All About Apprenticeship" has been scheduled by Schoolcraft College for 6 p.m. on Thursday, August 2nd.

The hour-long program will be conducted by Richard G. Holmes, director of technology. Ronald J. Monfette, past director of apprenticeship for the college will be the main speaker. It is for employers, employees and returning veterans who have an interest in the industrial apprenticeship program offered at Schoolcraft.

At the present time, Schoolcraft has about 350 apprentices enrolled in its related instruction program. The college serves over 300 design, manufacturing and other service oriented companies, 120 of which are located within the college district. Related instruction is offered in 23 different occupational trades.

The program will be held in the Applied Science Building on campus. Convenient parking is available in the north parking lot, off Haggerty Road just south of Seven Mile Road.

the challenge and have increased the nutritional value of their products through vitamin and mineral fortification; the thrust of advertising has also been improved.

Yet to be resolved, however, are FTC charges encompassing such aspects as brand proliferation, advertising practices, shelf space allocation at retail outlets, and the limited number of major manufacturers.

ONLY A SMALL number of companies have any meaningful participation in the breakfast cereals market. In its "shared monopoly" charge made in early 1972, the FTC estimated that 91 percent of the market for cold cereals is in the hands of four companies; namely, Kellogg, General Mills, General Foods, and Quaker Oats.

Except for Kellogg, however, breakfast cereal items (both cold and hot) bulk relatively small in the sales and earnings picture of the four major producers, and they rank even smaller for Nabisco and Ralston Purina. As is true with nearly all food processors, moreover, cereal firms are diversifying more broadly within the vast sprawl of food-related businesses and even externally into other fields, mostly of a consumer-oriented nature.

THE DIVERSIFICATION of companies related to the cereal business generally kept profits at satisfactory levels during the early months of this year. Results might have been still better had it not been for the profit restraint of Phase 3. Nevertheless, the stocks of all six have pulled back from their respective 1972-73 high to a considerable extent.

This backtracking has reflected

'Action, Not Talk'

With all the talk about tax reform still more promise than fact, the country's eight-and-a-half million small businessmen probably would be satisfied if the next round of tax reforms do not put them in the hole any deeper, says Congressman William Broomfield.

That is exactly what happened in 1969 and 1971 when Congress passed tax reforms in an effort to stimulate business and straighten out the economy.

not only the adverse market sentiment but also the threat of further profit-margin pinches due to the partial price freeze since mid-June.

Surprisingly, retail sales of cereal products advanced an estimated 8 percent (both physical volume and dollar value) last year, and a further—though smaller—growth is likely in 1973. The improvement in demand reflected increased consumer consciousness of nutritional requirements and the high cost of other breakfast foods.

In the past, in most periods of economic uncertainty, stocks of companies with some participation in the cereal market have offered a reasonably good defensive position. Thus, despite their recent loss of investment favor, these issues should bring worthwhile rewards when more normal conditions are restored to the stock market.

At present, the Research Department of Babson's Reports maintains a HOLD position on General Foods, General Mills, Kellogg, Nabisco, and Quaker Oats. All are priced at rather depressed level, and Ralston Purina's sell-off is bringing its price into a more reasonable range.
