Strike Ends with 2 Year Teacher Pact

Will Work Saturdays

Northville students will have a full year of classes during the 1973-74 school year even though school began three weeks late.

According to the calendar drawn up by representatives of the Northville Education Association and Northville School Board, students will be in school for 180 days.

Although classes last year ran 181 days, that schedule included 10 half-day sessions, allowing for parent-teacher conferences and teacher work days during the afternoons.

This year, no half-day sessions will be held. Parent-teacher conferences will be held after school hours and during evenings. Conferences will also be held at the high school level.

Teacher work days have been scheduled for five Saturdays throughout the year.

Thirteen days of school were missed due to the strike. Seven days have been added to the end of the school year with classes dismissed on June 21.

One day each will be made up in January and Easter vacation. Two days each will be made up during curriculum days and teacher work days, previously held during the week, which will be held on Saturdays.

Easter vacation will be held the week preceding Easter, beginning at the end of the school day April 5. Second semester begins February 11.

Teachers will receive no loss in pay because the revised calendar represents a full school year, school officials explained.

Eye Ratification Early Next Week

Tentative agreement has been reached between Northville Education Association (NEA) and Northville School Board, ending a three-week strike which closed school doors to 4,200 students.

Agreement on the contract came at 2:20 a.m. Saturday during a negotiating session which began Friday afternoon.

The two-year contract is expected to be ratified by teachers later this week or early next week, according to NEA President Mrs. Priscilla Smith.

Board ratification will follow NEA action.

The tentative agreement was reached in the wake of an injunction ending the strike filed Friday against the NEA by the school board. Hearing on the injunction, which was approved unanimously by board members last week Wednesday, was to have been held in Wayne County Circuit Court Monday afternoon.

Teachers approved the tentative agreement Saturday morning and went back to work the same day. Classes began Monday for students.

Mrs. Smith said that "Everybody is glad (the strike) is over and they were anxious to go back to work." She said she anticipates "no problem with ratification."

The NEA president called the contract "something we can live with but I don't think the teachers feel we're getting a really good deal because we aren't."

NEA Chief Negotiator Pat Bubel said there "are some parts of the contract we don't like but it is a fairly good contract."

"We are glad we could reach agreement before more time elapsed," she added. "I hope in the future we can bargain in a way that does not have to have the situation we had this time."

Of the two-year length, she explained that teachers "have never been opposed to a two-year agreement with the thought that there has to be something that would allow teachers to keep up with the cost of living."

However, she expressed concern over the current rising costs, explaining that the NEA is "not sure the increases (for next year's salary schedule) are enough, but we're hoping they are."

Superintendent Raymond Spear said the contract represents "no loss of pay to teachers because of the three-week strike. Teachers will be working Saturdays, afternoons and evenings" for their teacher work days which in previous years have been held during the week.

Spear said that the "real plus is that because of the three-week strike, both parties have agreed to 180 full days of classes for the students rather than the 181 days which included 10 half-day sessions which were held last year. Students will be getting more classroom instruction," he emphasized.

Salary schedule for the first year of the two-year agreement includes $8,999 to $15,000 in 11 years for a teacher with a bachelors degree and $9,700 to $18,000 in 11 years for a teacher with a masters degree.

The 1974-75 salary schedule will be increased, beginning with fourth year bachelors degree (BA)-teachers and third year masters degree (MA)-teachers, by a percentage equal to the Detroit cost-price index. Increases provide for no less than three percent or more than six percent raises.

First, second and third year BA degree teachers will earn $9,100, $9,682 and $10,197 respectively. First and second year MA degree teachers will earn $9,900 and $10,660.

Two other items which remained contested issues to the end included year-round school and teacher transfers.

Both sides agreed to language on year-round school which indicates that if the board institutes a total year-round school program at any given school during the course of the contract, the board will meet with the NEA.

For Mobile Homes

Developer Sues Over Plan Delay

Developers of a proposed mobile home park at Seven Mile and Northville Road have filed suit against Northville township, asking the court to order approval of their site plan.

Filed last week in Wayne County Circuit Court, the suit, brought by Northville Mobile Home Village of which Stewart Oldford is the developer, charges the township has "stalled a decision on (the site plan) for an unreasonable period of time."

Hearing date has been set for Friday. However, Township Attorney Donald Morgan told planning commission members Tuesday night that the actual testimony would not be heard until sometime next week.

The suit is the second to be filed against the township over installation of a mobile home park.

In 1971, a suit was filed against the township after they denied rezoning of land on the southwest corner of Six Mile and Ridge Road to permit a 600-unit mobile home park. That suit was settled out of court last month with the

Chamber to Host Center Architects

Architects of Northville's newest and largest retail center, Northville Square, will be guest speakers at the ninth annual Northville Community Chamber of Commerce membership meeting.

Representing the architectural firm of Louis G. Redstone Associates, Inc., will be Redstone and Bernard Colton, vice president of the firm.

Colton will explain to Chamber members the new trend in redevelopment of central business districts, a theory employed by the owners of Northville Square.

In charge of arrangements for the October 17 Drawbridge dinner meeting is Chamber President N. C. Schrader III.

Four officers are slated to be elected to the board of directors. Those selected by the nominating committee are: Glenn Long, Richard Lyon and Gerald Stone, all incumbent board members who will be nominated for three-year terms; and Marjory Cinader, nominated to complete a one-year term.

Tickets are available at Schrader's Home Furnishings, Stone's Unfinished Furniture, and Les Bowden & Associates. Reservations may be made by calling 349-7640.

AUCTION—The crowd (top right) wasn't as big as Historical Society members had hoped for but Saturday's auction was hailed as a big success by officers who said the $1,400 funds raised will be used in development of the Mill Race Historical Village located off Griswold Street. Lending color to the event was Society Member John Teeter, above, but the real attention getter was the auctioneer—Bob Price—bottom right, who sparked big laughs right along with his big sales. See Jean Day's column for more details.

ORIGINAL ART to decorate walls and floors of your home is being featured in two local displays.

Elizabeth Black, a former Northville resident whose rug hooking and needlepoint designs are sold throughout the country under the Blackwoodstudios, Incorporated, label, will demonstrate rug hooking and show her original designs next Tuesday, October 2, at the Needlepoint Lady Shop at 320 North Center.

She now lives in Rochester, Michigan, area with her husband, Gilbert, and family, moving from Northville about eight years ago. She is the former Betty Garrod, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Garrod who operated the EMB Food Market at 108 East Main Street before they retired to the Upper Peninsula a couple of years ago. Mrs. Black reports they have bought a home and 20 acres near Newberry.

"My interest in rug hooking actually began as a substitute for an oil painting hobby," Betty Black explained in an interview for a feature about her in Country U.S.A. Magazine. She turned in her brush, she said, after attending a craft exhibition and taught herself hooking. She has been featured on Detroit television (the Carol Duvall Show) and on South Bend and Niles shows.

She has exhibited and demonstrated her craft on the Michigan Artrain and at shows in Charlevoix, Grosse Pointe, Chicago and Toronto. Mrs. Black is known for her designs that "reflect her interpretation of the world around with forest scenes, animals, birds and wildflowers done on warp cloth for contemporary hooking." She will be at the Needlepoint Lady Shop from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Betty Tufts, who opened the Needlepoint Lady Shop next to Ely's a few months ago, and her staff have been involved this summer in designing kits to be sold at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. Mrs. Tufts reports that the village now has a street of shops similar to those in the museum where her kits are being sold. The designs were taken from old Christmas tree ornaments and textiles.

She even has created a perforated paper kit with hobby horse design that is an adaptation of a Victorian bookmark—to be priced in the $1 range for young shoppers. In addition to needlepoint ornaments, pillows were designed in flame and bargello stitches and were approved for design by the museum's curator of textiles.

NORTHVILLE HISTORICAL Society today (Thursday) is unveiling its newest project—a folio of sketches of 10 area buildings of historic value—during the annual home tour which it this year is co-sponsoring with the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

The folios, which are limited to 250 editions, are on view and for sale at the Presbyterian church, starting point for the tour. The pen and ink sketches were done by members of Three Cities Art Club who chose the 10 in the folio from 22 historic listings of the society. In fine print on each sketch there is a description of the type of architecture featured and the date of construction.

Roland Bonamici, chairman of the project, points out that the quality of the folio is "very high" and that it is very reasonably priced at $7.50. He was assisted by Jim Harris and Gloria Teeter.

Nine of the buildings sketched are private homes familiar to Northville residents who regularly drive through Cady, Randolph, Dunlap and Main streets in our town's historic district. The exception is the Freydl's stores sketch, showing the buildings at 112 and 118 East Main Street which date from 1875.

Three of the homes sketched are on Dunlap Street, an Italianate style at 404 Dunlap built in 1830; a Victorian home built by Captain Solomon Gardner at 132

MR. AND MRS. BRIAN W. DYKE

MRS. JOHN M. BARAN

Forsyth-Dyke Bundoff - Baran Vows Exchanged Rites Repeated

A wedding trip to Toronto followed the September 8 marriage of Beverly Jean Forsyth and Brian William Dyke.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Forsyth of 19851 Fry Road and bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dyke of 46265 Sunset, were married in a double ring ceremony by the Reverend Lloyd Brasure.

Organist for the ceremony was Jon Steimel and soloist was Richard Shank. The bride and groom chose "We've Only Just Begun," "Wedding Song and One Hand, One Foot" to be played and sung.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She chose a long gown of silk organza over taffeta which was styled with a high neckline and full bishop sleeves. A wide panel of tucks accented with ruffles went from the neckline to the hemline of the gown. Also outlined by a ruffle was the detachable chapel train. A camelot cap held her illusion veil.

Her bouquet was a round nosegay of red and white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Jane Forrer was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. William Forsyth, Mrs. Frederick Holdsworth, and Karen and Paula Dyke. Julie Davis was the flower girl.

All wore old-fashioned styled gowns of navy blue dotted swiss styled with high collar and long sleeves and accented with white lace. They carried red, white and purple carnations, mums and baby's breath with red ribbons.

Larry Million was the best man. Serving as ushers were William Forsyth, Dale Getz, David Waters and Robert Tironi. Ring bearer was Brad Davis.

Three hundred guests attended a reception at Roma Hall of Livonia. Friends and relatives traveled from Michigan, Florida, Ohio, California, Pennsylvania and Canada to attend.

The bride and bridegroom are 1970 Northville High School graduates. She attended Western Michigan University. Her husband attended Schoolcraft College and is now a senior forestry major at Michigan State University.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Dyke are at home in East Lansing.

Since their return from a two-week wedding trip to Hawaii, newly wed Mr. and Mrs. John Michael Baran have been at home in Walled Lake.

The couple was married on September 7 at St. Williams Catholic Church in Walled Lake by the Reverend Father Chrobot of Orchard Lake. The bride and clergyman wrote the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride, the former Catherine Ann Bundoff, are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bundoff of Walled Lake, formerly of Novi. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Baranowski of Dearborn.

Vases of white flowers decorated the church altar and white ribbons and lily-of-the-valley were placed on the pews. Organist Terry Milholan and soloists Jim Moysi and Diana Mitchell performed Sunrise, Sunset during the service.

Grandfather of the bride Steven Spisak and father of the bride gave her in marriage.

A gown of Chantilly lace and white organza was chosen by the bride. It was styled with a sabrina neckline, long sleeves and a long train. She wore a mantilla trimmed in lace. The bridal bouquet was made of roses, mums, stephanotis and ivy.

Patricia Sessions was the honor attendant in a yellow floral print floor length gown and green garden hat. She carried a white lace parasol with pink and yellow roses, green mums and ivy.

Sandi Leach, Theresa and Deborah Bundoff, Cindy Parks and Kimberly Richardson were bridesmaids in long pink and yellow floral dresses and matching garden hats. Their white lace parasols were filled with pink and yellow roses, baby's breath, ivy and mums to match the colors in their dresses.

Holly Baranowski was the flower girl and Eric Baranowski was ring bearer. Best man Curtis Tabor was assisted by ushers Larry Banek, Don Muzik, Tom Parks, Jim Edward Bundoff, George Baron, Jim Mike Bundoff and Larry Baranowski.

A formal dinner for 400 guests was held at John Lyskawa Post VFW in Dearborn after the church ceremony. The bride chose a Grecian theme for the reception.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Walled Lake Western High School. She attended David Pressley School of Cosmetology and is a graduate of Patricia Stevens Finishing School in Detroit. Presently, she is an employee of A & P in Walled Lake.

An Army reservist, the bridegroom is a 1968 Fordson High School graduate. He is employed by State Drug in Walled Lake.

Columnist Opens Series

For Northville Town Hall

A nationally syndicated columnist, a singing plumber, a lecturer of transactional analysis and an award winning fashion designer will be in Northville for the thirteenth annual Northville Town Hall series.

According to Town Hall officers, ticket subscription requests have been received in greater numbers than in past years but season's tickets are still available for the lectures and luncheons. All will be held at the Thunderbird Hilton Inn on Northville Road.

The season starts off on Thursday, October 11, with Erma Bombeck whose syndicated column At Wit's End appears in many newspapers throughout the country. The column tells the lighter side of her duties as mother of three children and housewife.

In addition to her column, Mrs. Bombeck's credits include many magazine articles and several books.

Next on the Town Hall rostrum will be "Fat Bob" Taylor, the singing plumber. A native of Canada, Taylor now calls Detroit home. He's made many singing appearances on local television and radio shows as well as the nationally televised Mike Douglas Show.

A singing career which began while in the U. S. Air Force has won for Taylor an audition with the Metropolitan Opera as well as a regular spot with professional sports teams in Detroit to sing the national anthem before games. He will be in Northville on November 8.

Speaking to Town Hall patrons on March 14, 1974, will be J. A. Browne whose subject is transactional analysis, a theory of personality developed by Dr. Eric Berne. The theory labels the components of personality as parent, adult and child.

Browne, a native of Kentucky, is a former clergyman and teacher. Now a professional social worker, he is currently a lecturer in the psychology department at McMasters University and is on the staff of Hamilton Psychiatric Hospital.

The talk Browne will give at Town Hall is based on the best seller by Dr. Thomas Harris "I'm O.K.—You're O.K." and will deal with transactions between people.

Last on the 1973-74 schedule will be one of America's most famous fashion designers, Donald Brooks. The title of his presentation is "My Fashion World". It is a description of some of his experiences which have gone into making up "The Brooks Look."

His "Look" is often described as one with simple, uncluttered lines which make the clothes much less than the woman wearing them.

Brooks, who has won the Coty Fashion Critics Award and the New York Drama Critics Award, has designed for such notables as Julie Andrews, Diahann Carroll, Carol Burnett and Liza Minelli. His credits also include set designs for Broadway plays and more recently the Edwardian Room at the Plaza Hotel in New York City.

Some Donald Brooks fashions were chosen by Mrs. Richard M. Nixon for her trip to China.

Individuals wishing to order season's tickets for Northville Town Hall lectures may do so by sending a check for $12, payable to Northville Town Hall, to Northville Town Hall Series, P. O. Box 93, Northville, Attention: Mrs. DiComo.

Tickets for the luncheons following each of the lectures may be ordered by sending a separate check for $16 to the attention of Mrs. Richard Booms at the same address.

Personal verbal communication will be the subject on September 30 when David Heinman of Schoolcraft College is the speaker. Adolphus Waugh of Wayne County Community Services will discuss mental health as it applies to everyday living on October 7.

"A Key to a Happy Family Living," a film, will be presented on October 14 by Mrs. Richard Wheaton. On October 21 the Reverend Richard Henderson will talk about Margaret Mead's "Culture and Commitment." The last presentation is scheduled for October 28 when Mrs. Richard Wheaton's topic will be change in today's family.

Novi School Budget Up 32 Percent

MEADOWBROOK ROAD CONSTRUCTION—With engineering and grading nearly completed, the paving of Meadowbrook Road is expected to begin next week. Richard Grist, a project inspector from the city's engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson, said that forms will be set Monday with the actual pouring of the cement slated to begin Wednesday. Pouring cement over the one mile of road between Nine and Ten Mile Roads is expected to take approximately seven days and the road will be open for traffic roughly three weeks later. Grist said the completion date for the entire project, including clean-up, is set for November 26.

An operational budget representing a 32-percent increase over the last fiscal year budget was approved without dissent by the Novi Board of Education Tuesday night.

The bulk of the $667,202 increase represented in the $2,741,764 budget results from a hike in the instructional outlay.

Instruction went up by $443,471, from $1,515,924 to $1,949,395. This increase was not due entirely to teacher salary increases, however. It represents also additional cost for increasing the size of the staff to meet spiralling enrollment.

Besides the cost for instruction, every other major line item in the 1973-74 budget was beefed up, too.

Central administration, for example, climbed from $131,760 to $184,321, and cost for operating the schools jumped from $211,851 to $250,599.

In short, the new budget represents perhaps the greatest single year increase in the school district's history. Last year when the budget topped the $2 million mark for the first time, it represented a one-year increase of almost $350,000.

Not a single taxpayer voiced disapproval nor commented on the budget as Board President LaVerne DeWaard went through the budget line by line during the public hearing preceding the regular Tuesday board meeting.

Two members—William Maok and Norman Miller—were absent.

The budget anticipates an income of $2,742,815, thus indicating a potential surplus of $1,051 by fiscal year's end next June 30.

Most of this income will result from property taxes, the budget notes. The property tax income is pegged at $2,156,386—up from the 1972-73 property tax income of $1,511,506.

(Voters in June approved a 2.5 mill tax increase for operation, and they also approved renewal of 7 mills for operation. The $13.5 million bond issue which also received voter approval in June is not reflected in the operational budget.)

In discussing the instruction increases with board members Tuesday, Superintendent Gerald Kratz noted that some of the increases represent a commitment to voters that enrichment of the academic program would be made with millage approval.

Teaching, counseling, library staff additions were made, he said, and the outlay for teaching supplies was increased.

According to Superintendent William Barr, increased outlay for books, audio-visual equipment, etc., approximates $1 per student more than was allocated last year.

The allocation for text books at the elementary level in the new budget, for example, represents an outlay of about $8 per child; for teaching supplies, $19 per child; for library, $5 per child; for audio-visual, $2.50.

Total outlay for elementary instruction is pegged at $823,093, while the like figure at the secondary level is put at $1,015,982.

Elementary salaries, included in this instructional outlay, account for $767,043, while secondary salaries account for $935,358.

The outlay for special education is pegged at $95,320—up from the $58,793 outlay of last year.

Of the total outlay of $184,321 for central administration, $126,321 is represented by salaries—an increase of $30,127 over last year's salary disbursements.

The remainder of the central administration outlay includes cost of contracted services (auditor, attorney, elections, etc.), supplies, printing and publishing, etc.

Cost of transportation increased significantly, also. The outlay is put at $134,660—up from $99,389. Salaries (drivers, mechanic) account for $74,060 of this total.

Similarly, salaries account for the bulk of the cost of operating the schools. Of the $250,599 total cost, $128,099 is represented by salaries. The next biggest cost is that of

Oil Well Suit Poses Threat To Zoning Laws

Lawyers for Sullivan and Company are expected to file an amendment to their present law suit against Novi which would challenge the constitutionality of the city's zoning ordinance.

Sullivan and Company is the Tulsa, Oklahoma-based oil company which is seeking to drill an exploratory test well for oil or gas in the northeastern corner of Novi.

They previously brought legal action against the city after the Zoning Board of Appeals rejected their request for a zoning variance which would have permitted the drilling of the well.

Novi's city council was informed of the possibility of the amendment to the Sullivan and Company suit by City Attorney David Fried at their Monday session.

Fried declined comment on the amendment until such time as he has had an opportunity to examine it. Nevertheless, he told the council that if the amendment is filed it would substantially change the character of the present proceedings.

"What we will have," said the City Attorney, "is a whole new case."

The amendment contemplated by Sullivan and Company would closely parallel previous litigation brought against municipal zoning laws by developers of mobile home parks.

Basically, the contention is that since the city's zoning ordinance makes no specific provision for a certain usage (mobile home parks or oil wells, for example), it therefore denies developers of those projects of due process and equal protection under the law.

John Devine, an attorney for Sullivan and Company, told the Novi News Tuesday that he felt the new litigation could knock out the whole zoning law in the city of Novi.

"We would like to resolve our suit so we can proceed with the drilling without having to take such action," Devine said. "But we wanted to get that particular aspect of our litigation underway in case we have to use it."

Attorneys for the city and Sullivan and Company appeared before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge O'Brien last Wednesday for a hearing on the issues raised in the initial suit.

Sullivan and Company attorneys raised three major questions in their original suit. First, they argued that they were denied due process of law by the facts that Novi city charter requires a two-thirds vote of the appeals board for the granting of a variance and there were only five, instead of six, appeals board members who voted on their request. (The sixth member was absent due to illness).

The second issue raised in the suit is that the decision reached by the appeals board was not substantiated by the evidence presented to it. The third question concerned conflict of interest charges against Paul Bosco—one of the appeals board members who opposed issuing of the variance.

At Wednesday's hearing Judge O'Brien ordered both attorneys to file briefs on the issues raised in the suit. Following submission of the briefs he will then either ask for additional oral arguments or render his decision on the basis of material included in the briefs.

The briefs were to have been filed within 15 days of the hearing.

Fried told the city council Monday that he felt the court would decide in favor of the city on the questions already raised by Sullivan and Company.

Fried declined comment on the legal basis of the proposed amendment to the case which questions the constitutionality of the city's zoning laws.

"I don't want to comment on that aspect of the case until the amendment has been filed and I've had an opportunity to research their specific allegations," commented Fried.

By Wixom Council, Planners

Zoning Map Amended

Previously the cause of much discussion and debate, an amended zoning ordinance has been adopted in Wixom.

In unanimous action Monday night, the city council and planning commission approved the most recent changes in the ordinance. Action was taken at a special meeting of both bodies where each held a public hearing prior to making their approval.

The versions of the ordinance and map finally approved came about only after several public hearings held by planners and the council. At them, interested citizens voiced their opinions on changes in city zoning.

During the hearings held on Monday night, there was little opposition voiced by citizens who were present for the meeting. In previous hearings, however, many residents of the city argued against proposed changes.

The map given the approval by the planners and the city council was not the first presented to the citizens. That first map was returned to the commission following a great deal of debate by displeased residents. Most of the changes were made in the northern half of the city which is basically residential.

As first proposed by planners, a block of land bounded by Potter Road, Wixom Road, Loon Lake Road and the city boundary was to be changed to RA-2 which is residential housing on lots of 7,200 square feet.

Many residents of the area protested the zoning at a hearing on May 8 arguing that the houses there already conformed to RA-1 residential where lots are to be 12,500 square feet. As it stands on the approved map, the area has been changed to RA-1 with the exception of land in the vicinity of the Finnish Summer Camp property.

Another major change concerned a piece of property with its boundaries at the city's eastern boundary, Pontiac Trail, West Maple and Wixom Road. On the first map it was basically, light industry. The planning commission, on the second map, changed the area basically to RA-1 housing.

The block of property from the I-96 freeway to Twelve Mile Road was, first of all, multiple family residential on 12 acres. As approved on the second map, the area has been divided into RA-1 and RC-1.

According to the new zoning ordinance regulations, any piece of property for which rezoning is requested will have to be placed in front of the citizens for two public hearings. The situation was explained by City Attorney Gene Schnelz.

"The ordinance includes Act 207 of Public Acts of 1921. That act states that in a

Single Planner Concept Wins Official Approval

Cooperative ownership and development of land at the southeast corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads moved a step closer to reality this week with the adoption of a resolution by the city, school district and public library of Novi to hire a master planner.

The board of education adopted the preliminary resolution Tuesday, following similar action by the city council and the library board.

Meanwhile, Assistant Superintendent William Barr and School Attorney Frederick Knauer revealed that formal closing of purchase of the 160 acre site by the Novi School District very likely will occur within a week.

agreement by the school, city and library to jointly engage a consultant to prepare a master plan and study.

Cost is not to exceed $10,000 on a 40-percent school, 40-percent city and 20-percent library basis.

Complementary development of the land by the three bodies is envisioned.

Furthermore, the resolution directs the chief executive officers of the three bodies to recommend the firm to hire and the range of work to be performed.

Formal land purchase closing by the school from the Fuerst sisters, Iva and Ruby, followed by joint hiring of a planning consultant, and sale of part of the property by the school to the city and the library are among the next steps, school board members indicated Tuesday.

In discussing the joint resolution with the board Tuesday, Superintendent Gerald Kratz indicated that the resolutions adopted earlier by the library board and the city council were changed grammatically in a few places but that the essence of the resolution remained intact.

He recommended the school board adopt the resolution without attempting to resolve minor differences which could result in an unending task.

A flurry of last minute activity is expected at the Novi City Clerk's office as the deadline for filing petitions for the city election in November arrives today (Thursday, September 27) at 4 p.m.

As of 3 p.m. Tuesday, a total of seven candidates had filed nominating petitions at City Hall. A minimum of six others are expected to officially join the race before the filing deadline passes.

Voters will elect five members to the city council in November. Up for election are the office of mayor, three four-year terms on the council, and one two-year council term.

An upswing in political activity has taken place as the deadline for filing nears. Within the past week, the Novi News has become aware of a number of new developments.

Among the more interesting of those developments are the following items:

- Former City Manager George Athas, now a representative for the Chapper Organization, will file petitions for a two-year term on the council.

- Petitions are being circulated to nominate City Clerk Mabel Ash for a seat on the council. Mrs. Ash submitted her retirement as City Clerk at the request of the council last week.

Her retirement as Clerk becomes effective October 1.

- Robert Daley, chairman of the city's Board of Appeals, is strongly considering entering the race as a candidate for the office of mayor. An attorney for the Bendix Corporation, Daley is reportedly merely waiting for the approval of his employer before filing petitions.

The tentative entrance of Daley into the race means that Joseph Crupi, the present mayor, will not be unopposed for reelection. For awhile, it began to appear as if Crupi would be the lone candidate for the mayoral office.

There are few surprises among the candidates who have filed for the race thus far. As of 3 p.m. Tuesday, Crupi was the lone candidate to have filed for mayor.

Likewise, just one candidate has filed for the two year council seat. Mrs. Winnifred Dobek, a member of the Building Authority, filed her petitions for the position last week. Athas is expected to have filed petitions for the same position by the time The Novi News goes to press Wednesday, however.

Five candidates have filed for the three four-year council terms. Those candidates include incumbents Louie Campbell, Mrs. Romaine Roethel, and Donald Young. Joseph Toth, a former president of the Village Oaks Homeowners Association, and Philip Goodman, an attorney, have also filed for the four-year terms.

Other candidates expected to file for the four-year council seats are incumbent William O'Brien, Mrs. Ash, William Brinker, Russell Button, and Todd Price.

Race Heats Up as Deadline Nears

Northville's Historical Homes on Tour Today

Plan Bake Sale, Luncheon

Owners of five of Northville's oldest homes will share their houses with the public today (Thursday) for the seventh annual Homes Tour. This year, the tour is co-sponsored by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville and the Northville Historical Society.

Hours of the tours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville at $2 a person.

During the hours of the tour, a bake sale will be held at the Presbyterian Church by members of Holy Cross Episcopal Church and luncheon will be served at St. Paul's Lutheran Church from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Tourgoers will have an opportunity to see a bit of old Northville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coates who have kept their farmhouse "country casual" with antique pine paneling and a blend of warm and cool colors.

The house was previously used as a summer home and the convenience of indoor plumbing was not added until the 1940's when it was used as a year-round dwelling. Among the additions to the home is a bedroom which was originally an Army barracks.

Built in the late 1800's, the James Harris home has been in the spotlight before. A picture of the house's yellow and white exterior was once used in a paint brochure and last year the house "starred" in an advertisement.

First owners of the house were the Dubuars who figured strongly in Northville's early industrial history.

Mrs. Harris has furnished the house with many early American antiques. Visitors there will also see her husband's collection of shelf and wall clocks.

The home of the Richard Bohns is no newcomer to the Homes Tour. It was part of the tour in 1969 when occupied by another family. The dwelling dates back to the late 1800's.

The Bohns have furnished the home with acquisitions from Europe, especially England and Greece where they have previously lived. Of special interest is the basement family room which the Bohns have decorated to resemble an English pub.

As closely as Mrs. Harvey Smith has been able to determine, the home she and her husband recently purchased was built in 1855. In the year they have lived there, they have made many changes in each of the rooms of their American classic-style house.

A back porch, which was once used as a dentist's office, has been converted into a room for the three Smith children's hobby—the American Indian.

David Sicary purchased his Italianate-style house five years ago and has made several major changes inside and out.

Three bedrooms which were previously on the second floor have been remodeled and replaced with two larger rooms. The third floor attic of the house has been opened to make way for a modern recreation room modernly furnished.

Outside, Sicary has built a patio behind the house with a redwood deck.

All proceeds from the tour will be evenly divided by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville and the Northville Historical Society.

Co-chairmen of the tour are Mrs. Per Iversen, Mrs. David VanHine and Mrs. Dumont Hixson. Committee chairmen include: Mrs. William Stockhausen, tour booklet; Mrs. Cass Hoffman, publicity; Mrs. Norman Young, treasurer; Mrs. James Elliot, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Willard DenHouter, posters; Mrs. John Stuart, street staging; and Mrs. Gordon Snyder, hostesses.

The hostesses in each of the homes will be Mrs. William Stockhausen, Mrs. Kent Mathes, Mrs. John Stuyvenberg, Mrs. David Mynatt and Mrs. Kenneth Goldi.

Books on Aging

Added to College

A dozen new books dealing with middle age and aging have been added to the Schoolcraft College library.

The books were recommended by Ms. Betty Andrews who directs the college's senior adult affairs.
"They have been selected for their value to instructors and students," she said, "and senior adults will find many of them interesting and helpful, too."

Persons who have registered as senior students at the College may borrow books from the library.
Registration is free and may be completed by visiting the community services office or by telephoning 591-6400, ext.

Some of the recently-acquired titles are:

Dying and Denying," "How to Avoid the Retirement
Trap," "My Grandpa Died
Today," and "Your Personal Guide to Successful Retirement".

Board OK's Liability Insurance

Legal liability insurance, covering every employee of the Northville School District and the board of education, was approved Monday night
by school board members.

The policy, which will be handled through Les Bowden and Associates, provides coverage up to $250,000 per suit and $1.5 million per year.
Cost is $1,440.

The insurance will protect the board and employees against actual or alleged misstatements, misleading statements, acts or omissions or breaches of duty.

Trustee John Hobart commented that the insurance is a "good move on the district's part in giving teachers full backing as long as they have given backing to us" through agreeing to take on added responsibilities in control of student conduct.

Business Director Earl Bussard also explained that under the no fault insurance, the school district is liable for every child who rides a school bus and the new insurance policy will also cover the bus drivers.

In other action, school board members also approved a release of contract for Marilyn Allyn, part-time physical education instructor for year-round school.

Mrs. Allyn said the length of the teachers strike caused a financial burden on her and necessitated her finding other employment.

Mrs. Holly Elie, second grade teacher at Main Street Elementary, was granted a maternity leave of absence, effective September 1.

Board members also set the non-resident student tuition rate for the 1973-74 school year at $362.53 for elementary students and $404.37 for secondary students.

Dunlap between 1858-60; and a second Italianate style built by John Welch in 1883 at 512 Dunlap.

Three Cady Street homes also are sketched: the large Victorian Gothic home at 164 East Cady located behind the Presbyterian church and built in 1859; a Greek Revival transition home at 473 West Cady located next to the Oak-wood cemetery built in 1840 as the Ambler house; and the David Rowland house at 521 West Cady, dating between 1836 and 1862, whose entryway is sketched.

Other houses sketched are 404 West Main (former Ebert funeral home) which dates prior to 1864; the original Lewis farmhouse at 529 Randolph dating back to 1850; and the Victorian Gothic home at 525 East Baseline built in 1869 by Robert Yerkes and occupied by the John C. Burkman. Mrs. Burkman was Ruth Yerkes before her marriage, and her husband is president of the Northville Historical Society.

LAST SATURDAY'S auction sponsored by the historical society at the Mill Race restoration site to raise funds to continue the project yielded $1,400, the Burkman reported Monday.

The entire sum raised by the sale of donations from the community is profit, the historical society explained, because fees for the Price Brothers auctioneer and clerk and advertising costs are being paid by Northville resident Floyd Kehl as his personal contribution to the restoration project.

Such generous support by interested individuals and the hard work by active members contribute to a feeling of "new life" in the society, officers add, pointing out that anyone is welcome to join and may call the Burkman for details.

While overcast skies and a few sprinkles may have brought out a lighter-than-hoped-for crowd, the society was pleased with the bidding—and many customers carried home bargains. Young marrieds bid on furniture, with some oak tables going for as low as $2—with a relish dish and vase thrown in. Brass andirons went for $19 while a brass floor lamp was sold for $16. Mrs. Burkman noted, however, that the audience contained aware collectors who bid as high as $37.50 for a castor set. (Caster sets are silver containers holding bottles of condiments for the table.)

Donations from the community made the auction possible, the Burkman point out, adding that the "good idea" may be repeated if residents will continue to clean out attics and basements for the sale.

ANTIQUES FROM England are being assimilated into the West Main Street home of the William Davis family. The Davises and son Matt, who started eighth grade here Monday, left London August 28 after living in England three-and-a-half years. They were there on a Ford assignment. Margie and Bill were welcomed back the day they arrived at a dinner for old friends hosted by the Fred Hartts.

The Davis' son Gary and his wife Trish now are living in Atlanta while son Bill and his wife Patty are in Boston. Daughter Andrea is working at University of Michigan Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. David Sparling, who had been renting the Davis home, have purchased the Paul Hughes house on Harbert Drive in Meadowbrook subdivision off Seven Mile Road. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes have moved to Paris on a company transfer. The sudden change of plans for Kathy Hughes necessitated closing her fledgling art gallery over the P & A Theatre. The Eves crafts forum continues, however.

NEW NEIGHBORS were welcomed Wednesday at a coffee in Edenderry Hills hosted by Mrs. James R. Clarke and Mrs. George Daraban at the home of the latter.

Honorees were Mrs. Richard Alonzo and Mrs. James Tsoucaris. The Alonzos with son Ricky, 5, and daughter Caroline, one-and-a-half, moved into their just-built home at the end of Edenderry Drive last weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. James Tsoucaris and their three children, Stephen, 9, Valissa, 8, and Joy, 3, moved into the former home of the Richard Hustons on Donegal Court earlier last summer. The Hustons were transferred to the Philadelphia area.

"The statistics are in — and so are the students — and we're really pleased at the increase," noted the Orchard Ridge provost, Dr. S. J. Manilla. "The final tabulations show 6,019 students at Orchard Ridge — that's up 339 (6 percent) from the Fall of 1972."

"I think," Dr. Manilla continued, "that the fine effort our staff and faculty have made during the past year to highlight our campus in the community is responsible, in part, for this growth. The Gaslite Festival, for example, the quality instruction we offer in a wide variety of academic and vocational disciplines is bound to attract students."

Dr. Manilla admitted, "that may not sound modest, but I am very proud of our staff and their excellent work."

The Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College first opened for classes in September of 1967. Now beginning its seventh academic year of service to the community, Orchard Ridge, located at the intersection of I-696 and Orchard Lake Road in Farmington, offers a wide variety of programs and courses in academic and vocational areas.

The Campus also provides numerous community programs and services to the south-central and south-western portion of Oakland County.

Orchard Ridge Campus, in addition to its regular academic programs, offers a wide variety of community-oriented classes (credit and non-credit) for the general education and interest of the community. Real estate, personal finances, ceramics, photography, yoga and witchcraft are but a few examples.

"Apparently many people in the community are becoming interested in life-long education and expansion of individual skills and knowledge, without involving themselves in a regular academic program," Dr. Manilla continued. "Our analysis of the current semester's enrollment figures shows more and more students taking fewer and fewer courses per term."

Analysis of these enrollment statistics indicates this is partially an outgrowth of increased community awareness of the Campus; partially an outgrowth of employers encouraging their full-time employees to up-grade their skills with a course or two per semester; and, partially the result of increased community interest in general education.

"Orchard Ridge statistics also show more women on campus and, I think, our Child Play Center is partially responsible for that," Dr. Manilla noted.

The Orchard Ridge Child Play Center, begun last year with a financial contribution by the Faculty Association, is one example of the Campus' service to the community. Student-mothers may leave their 2-6 year-old, toilet-trained children at the Orchard Ridge Child Play Center (no charge) while they study in the library or attend classes.

The Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community college, located at I-696 and Orchard Lake Road in Farmington is presently planning for an increased Winter Session enrollment for the January term. For information on how to become an Orchard Ridge student call 476-9400, Extension 226.

Defective Mini-Bus Suspected

Gas Fumes Fell Kids

"They were dropping like flies," said Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole in describing seven children who apparently were overcome by carbon monoxide gas escaping from a bus Tuesday afternoon.

The children and the driver for a private busing firm were hospitalized in Farmington for observation.

BeGole said he ordered the mini-bus, owned by Servicar of Michigan, Inc. of Royal Oak, impounded pending investigation for defective equipment. He said carbon monoxide is suspected.

The bus was being used to transport seven mentally retarded children to and from schools in the metropolitan area, according to Novi Officer Max Roder. Four of the children were from the Novi-South Lyon area.

One of the children became ill when the bus was in the vicinity of 10 Mile and Beck roads, and one of Servicar's ambulances was called.

Concerned about the delay in the arrival of the ambulance from Royal Oak and suspecting other children might become sick, Novi police called for two General ambulances. All three arrived about the same time.

Two sick children were taken away in Servicar's ambulance and the two General ambulances left.

Minutes later the other children became sick, and the two ambulances were radioed to return.

Driver of the mini-bus was Mrs. Patricia Brewer of Madison Heights.

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

Retreat is not always defeat! Sometimes it's just plain good sense. The Old Testament prophet, Jeremiah, sounded this kind of a philosophy when he said, "...ask for the old paths...the good way, walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls" (Jeremiah 6:16).

This is not a retreat from jet travel and scientific discovery but a reclaiming of tried-and-proven, biblical principles.

This is God's Word to our generation and each of us individually. He calls on us to turn back to the old paths, and He informs us these paths are good and those who walk in them will find rest! Who today doesn't desire rest? The one word that aptly describes our times is "unrest." What's the cause of this unrest? We have forsaken the old paths that are so clearly taught in the Bible and our "new paths" have led us down the road of destruction and disaster.

What are these old paths? The old path of conversion and personally receiving Jesus Christ, the belief in the whole Bible as the inspired Word of God, the paths of modesty, purity and godly living.

The weekly emphasis of "Parson-to-Person" will be to focus on these paths and discover how they can affect and even change your life and way of living. I'm looking forward to chatting with you in this way each week. I hope you'll join me!

Developer Files Suit

township agreeing to the rezoning.

Attorneys for Stewart Oldford asked for site plan approval of the Seven Mile and Northville Road 209-unit mobile home park in March of this year. The land is zoned to permit the park.

Approval of the plan was tabled by the planning commission while clarification of the flood plain, placement of some lots and open space were sought.

The developer and his attorneys have maintained the site plan complies with all regulations under the township ordinances.

In the suit, they state the developer is "suffering irreparable damages in that building costs are continually rising and that the cost of the mobile home park has and will increase substantially if Plaintiff is unable to undertake construction immediately."

The suit seeks to have the court issue an order of superintending control requiring the township and its planning commission to approve the site plan; or - issue an order to show cause, ordering the township to show why the order of superintending control should not be entered; or - upon hearing the order to show cause, the court direct the township to approve the site plan or issue a mandatory injunction requiring the township to issue a building permit for the mobile home park.

The hearing is scheduled before Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan Jr. Township planners voted 6-0 (Planning Chairman James Nowka absent) to receive the summons.

In other action, members recommended the township board approve the site plan submitted by Arthur John for filling the flood plain. Jahn plans to fill property north of his A & W Drive-In on Northville Road to build a miniature golf course and refreshment stand.

Planners stipulated that the land Jahn intends to fill must be used for recreational purposes and the refreshment building must be enclosed.

Several years ago the township obtained a court order to keep Jahn from filling the flood plain. Upon affirmative action of the township board on the planners' recommendation, that court order will be amended to allow Jahn to fill within certain limits of his property.

TO THE GAS CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY NOTICE OF HEARING ON MOTION FOR PARTIAL AND IMMEDIATE GAS RATE RELIEF

On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission with supporting testimony and exhibits in Case No. U-4331, which requests authority to amend its gas rates so as to increase its gas revenues by approximately $50,400,000 on an annual basis and, at the same time, Consumers Power Company filed a Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief which seeks authority, on an interim basis, to amend its gas rates so as to increase its gas revenues by approximately $33,729,000 on an annual basis. On August 27, 1973, Consumers Power Company also filed a Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief in its pending electric rate proceeding, Case No. U-4332. At the hearing hereinafter noticed, the motion for partial and immediate electric rate relief, Case No. U-4332, will be heard concurrently with the motion for partial and immediate gas rate relief, Case No. U-4331. In its motion, Consumers Power Company has stated that substantial increases in the cost of capital, gas, taxes, wages, equipment, materials and supplies have had a serious adverse impact upon the earnings level of its gas business and that it has not been able to attain the level of earnings in its gas business found to be reasonable in the prior gas rate order of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has scheduled a hearing on the motions for partial and immediate rate relief filed in Case Nos. U-4331 and U-4332 and has ordered that notice be given that:

A. A public hearing on Consumers Power Company's motions for partial and immediate gas and electric rate relief will commence at 9:30 a.m. on October 8, 1973 in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, and will continue, if necessary, on the succeeding days of the week of October 8 at the same location and at such time as shall be determined by the presiding officer until the matter has been fully heard.

B. The parties who have already intervened in the above-entitled proceedings shall be entitled to participate as parties in the hearing on Consumers Power Company's motions for partial and immediate rate relief. Any additional persons or entities seeking to intervene for the purpose of participating in the hearing on the motions for partial and immediate rate relief shall file with the Commission, five (5) days prior to October 8, 1973, an original and eleven copies of the petition to intervene with proof of service upon Consumers Power Company and the other parties to this proceeding. A service list can be obtained from the Secretary of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913.

C. The interim rate increases described in this notice have been requested by Consumers Power Company. The Michigan Public Service Commission may either grant or deny the requested increases, or may grant lesser or greater increases than those requested.

Jurisdiction of the Commission in this matter is pursuant to Section 4 of Act 419, PA 1919, as amended (MCLA § 460.54); Sections 4, 6 and 6a of Act 3, PA 1939, as amended (MCLA §§ 460.4, 460.6, 460.6a); and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, as amended, No. 54, R 460.11 et seq.

A summary of the proposed interim rate changes showing the requested increases by classes of service in terms of dollars and percentage is set forth below:

Reporter Buys $18 Worth

Making drug buys at Beer Hill was simple for Reporter John Beckett. For $18 he obtained the items above—sold by youths as marihuana, hashish and THC. Also pictured are a package of cigarette paper (used for making "joints") and a homemade pipe, both found discarded on the "hill". The pipe, constructed from the center of a roll of toilet paper, is used for smoking the hashish. Examination of the drug items by a Michigan State Police chemist proved that the marihuana and hashish were genuine. But the THC pills were really phenylcyclidine, originally manufactured for use as horse tranquilizers. State police explain that THC is a concentrate of the hypnotic drug found in marihuana. It's popular because the user is convinced that because it's marihuana, it won't be harmful, just more powerful. But the buyers of these "THC" pills are getting a substitute, which authorities say is not unusual.

On Top of Beer Hill

'This Is About The Best Park To Get Dope...'

By JOHN BECKETT

"Mescaline!"

"Lids!"

"T.H.C.!"

Mostly young people under 20, they walk around the hill like vendors at a baseball game, touting their wares to potential customers, equally young, who drift aimlessly by.

THC - the active ingredient in marijuana, usually sold in powder form—seems to be the most popular item on the hill.

No less than six persons offer to sell you TH as you walk up the hill. The going rate is $1 per "hit" or dose. But one girl will sell you 100 hits for $40; she copped 6,000 hits somewhere and is selling them to finance a trip to California.

Marijuana is little stuff on the hill. You can see people smoking joints and pipes, and you can find plenty of people dealing lids (ounces), but stuff like THC, mescaline and acid (LSD) are the really busy items.

One kid of about 16 keeps bouncing from group to group. "Mesc?" he queries.

"Mescaline?"

"What kind you got?"

"Strawberry. It's really good."

"How much?"

"Let you have a hit for a buck." He looks at you half-heartedly, giving the impression he really doesn't care whether you buy any or not.

"No thanks, man."

Three girls come down the hill behind the salesman, and corner him. They talk briefly, then the boy pulls a package from his pocket and opens it.

The conversation rises as the potential customers question the quality of the mesc. "I know it doesn't look like strawberry, but it is," the exasperated boy says. "It's really good stuff."

Rather reluctantly, one girl takes some money from her bag. The sale is made, and the boy heads toward another group of people. "Mesc?" he queries.

"Oh, there's really not that much to do around here," she says. "Mostly people just ride around and get high."

"This is about the best park to get dope," the girl from Dearborn continues. "There used to be another really good one, but they came in on helicopters and busted that one."

"You can get about anything here," she says. "THC is really big right now, but you can get acid or mesc, too. And there's plenty of grass. Downers are kinda hard to find, though; about four months ago, everybody was doing quaaludes, but now about all you can find are reds. And they're not really the good ones."

"Oh, yeh, there's coke (cocaine) here, too. And horse (heroin). But that's not so easy to get. The people who sell that usually don't bring it here. They can line you up with it, but they don't really sell it here."

"The cops are really kind of down on chemicals."

Nobody seems to worry too much about the police, though. A Sheriff's car cruises down the entrance drive at the bottom of the hill, about 200 yards away.

Most of the people ignore it. "If there's a lot of kids here at 11:30, when the park closes, they'll get out of their cars and make everyone leave," the girl says. "But otherwise, they pretty much stay in their cars."

"They did come up here in their cars once, though," she laughs. "They drove right up here."

You ask what happened.

"Some people got busted."

Getting busted is no big deal, though.

"You can usually get out of it if it's your first time," the girl explains. "In fact, there are some cops who are pretty nice. They'll just empty your bag of grass and let you go."

"If it's your first time, you can usually get out with maybe just a fine. But they are kind of down on chemicals and hard stuff."

Two young men come up the hill. They're probably 17 or 18 years old, dressed in old jeans and flannel shirts.

One carries a bottle of wine.

A pretty young girl who might be 18 but probably isn't, steps out of a group of girls and heads toward the guys.

"THC?" she asks.

The young men look at each other and grin. They change course and head toward the girl. "Whaddya got?"

"White Tab," the girl says proudly, pulling a plastic bag from her purse.

You momentarily lose their conversation when the girl next to you starts talking again.

"This place really used to be good," she says, "but it's kinda gone downhill lately. Now there are a lot of twinks around. It used to be neat in the summer, though. On a good day, you'd get as many as 200 people here, if it was really hot."

"The kids come from all over the suburbs. Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Northville....I'm from Dearborn. Most of the kids come here from about 20 to 30 miles away."

The salesgirl a few yards away has a problem.

"Hey, what should I sell him 25 hits for?" she asks her friend.

"Oh, about 22 bucks," the other girl responds quickly.

Beer Hill is a long, sloping rise just outside the City of Northville, in Cass Benton Park. At the top of the hill are a few trees, some swings, some teeter-totters, a sliding board and some picnic grills and tables.

The people who gather there — mostly young-looking, probably high school age — stand, sit or walk around at various 'People come here to buy and sell drugs.

It's as simple as that.

elevations on the hill, with the summit seeming the most attractive place.

Thousands upon thousands of cigarette butts litter the hill under your feet. There may be more of them than there are blades of grass.

Near the top, where there are picnic tables and grills, the hill resembles a lunar landscape, the bare ground worn of grass and pitted with crater holes. In the holes are bottles — mostly beer bottles, some wine. Almost every hole is a refuse dump of one kind or another.

The people are not especially friendly to newcomers. But they aren't openly hostile, either.

Most of them resemble young businessmen intent on their business. After a short while, you get the impression that this is simply a marketplace, and nothing more. People come here to buy and sell drugs. It's as simple as that.

These people will talk to you, if you want to talk about drugs. Otherwise, they don't have a lot to say.

No one seems to stay too long. People come and go, they buy and sell, and then they leave. It's like going shopping at the local liquor store.

You get the impression that there are two gods here. And two kinds of people. There is the God of Drugs, and his followers, and the God of Money, and his followers.

Many of the people are obviously devoted to both.

Two attractive girls walk up to you. One looks like a cheerleader, or a Homecoming Queen. They're looking for speed (amphetamine) with eyes already larger than life. No one has any, though. The Queen and her court leave.

Suddenly, there's a lot of commotion in a group of people just below you. You think you hear the word "coke". And you go down to check it out.

A fellow of 18 or 19 is holding a plastic bag. He's surrounded by four or five people, and while you stand there, more drift over.

This guy is sharp — sharper than the other people here. He's dressed better, he looks more aware, more self-assured. He looks like a wheeler-dealer, the kind of guy who went to high school with you and always got the neat girls and the neat cars.

He's not selling cocaine, though. Or at least, he's too smart to admit it to a stranger. When you ask him if you heard something about coke, he puts you down.

"Yeh, there's a couple of girls across the street selling coke — Coca-Cola."

He's selling acid.

And he's making a killing.

In five minutes, he sells to four different people. And a couple more potential customers drift by during that time span.

He reaches into his bag, which is full of carefully-wrapped dosages, and pulls out hit after hit.

And the money flows in....

'Biggest Problem in Park'

Police Keep Tabs on Hill

By SALLY BURKE

"Beer Hill has gotten to the point where it is the biggest problem in the park now," stated Sergeant Russell Gregory, head of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Park Patrol.

"Beer Hill is the local stopping grounds. Twelve year olds become aware of the area, the curious go there, boys meets girl there and for the seller, it's a ready market," he said.

Northville Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun calls Beer Hill a "hang out for a bunch of freaks or cop outs that can't fit in with the rest of society."

He's ordered his men to stay out of the park because the township does not have enough manpower to handle the situation. "However, we will assist other police departments and answer citizen requests for assistance."

Northville City Police Lieutenant Louis Westfall said that "at Beer Hill, anything goes. Something must be done. We know our department has picked up kids who we are sure were under the influence of drugs obtained on Beer Hill."

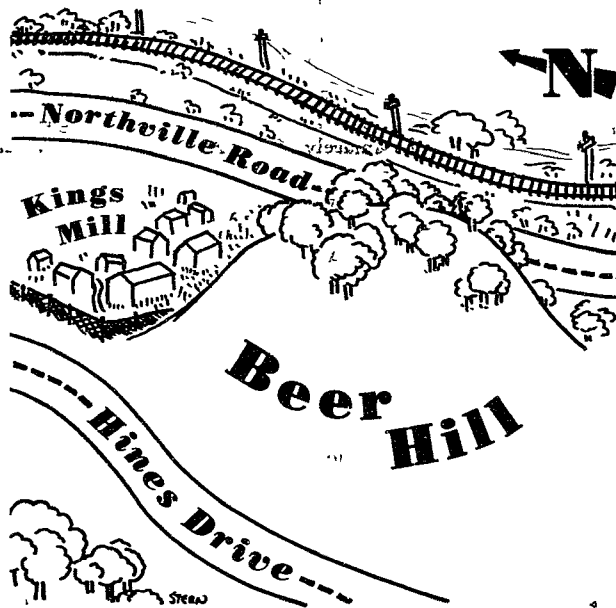

Wayne County Sheriff's officers have "made arrests on Beer Hill for every narcotic conceivable, including heroin on a small basis mixed with other drugs. Wherever there's a crowd, drugs and marihuana are available," the sergeant explained.

He added that "now students are in school, drugs are available there or students can arrange to make buys after school and fewer kids are going to Beer Hill at this time of year."

Sergeant Gregory explained that two other areas in Hines Park were also popular gathering places for drug sellers and buyers. However, during the spring, sheriff's deputies concentrated efforts on drugs in those areas, driving the kids out.

Beer Hill also is in an ideal location.

"If I was a seller or law violator," Gregory explained, "I'd pick Beer Hill, too. It has an ideal vantage point. Police are forced to go up the hill and can easily be spotted. There is also a dip at the top and from the road level you can't see what's going on up there."

Gregory believes the Sheriff's department "has Beer Hill under control. By that I mean that anytime I have a team of officers walk through the crowd, the juveniles leave and the drug sellers back up into the woods."

"We have made arrests in bulks. Thirteen people were arrested for sale of narcotics a week ago. Quite a few arrests have also been made for possession."

Gregory says the problem on Beer Hill is "controllable only to the point that we have to stay on top of the problem. We can't take all the juveniles home, but if they're high or drunk or sick, we bring them in or take them to a hospital. If we have to chase the same juvenile out every evening, we'll call their parents and have them come right to Beer Hill."

Half of Drug Cases Occur on Beer Hill

Since the first of the year, 111 narcotic arrests have been made in Hines Park by Wayne County Sheriff's Deputies in 60 cases. Of those, 29 cases have been on Beer Hill.

According to Patrolman Roger Oliver of the Sheriff's Department, the "bulk of the cases take place during the summer months."

Oliver, who is in charge of handling records for the park patrol, also added these figures:

Disorderly conduct, 49 arrests in 55 cases; armed robbery, 3; carrying concealed weapons, 4; possession of stolen autos, 2; rape and attempted rape, 6; thefts, 20; felonious assault, 3; destruction of property, 24; and indecent exposure, 14.

The above cases have occurred throughout Hines Park and are not divided into areas.

Northville township has also received reports of at least six armed robberies, one stabbing, one cutting, six overdoses, one pedestrian accident where a drug user walked into the side of a car, and numerous thefts from parked cars.

Overdose complaints have "skyrocketed along with everything else," Township Chief Ronald Nisun added.

"Once we were called in on an overdose and responded, leading an ambulance in," Nisun related. "We could find no victim and left. Later, the kids led the ambulance back in. They had hidden the subject from the police, endangering their lives and the life of the victim."

Nisun said it is not unusual to have an "overdose victim stripped of identification by his friends so no one knows who he is when he's brought in to the hospital."

Reporter Fits into Crowd

A member of The Brighton Argus editorial staff for two years, John Beckett, the author of this article on drug traffic on Beer Hill, is what you might call a born or self-made writer.

Only 23 years of age, John has had no formal education in journalism beyond an occasional college course. The only diploma he possesses is from Sebring High School in the basketball hotbed of Sebring, Ohio.

But John does have an innate talent and considerable reporting experience, despite his young years. Before coming to The Argus, one of four Sliger Publications, John was a newsman for an Alliance, Ohio, radio station and prior to that he was an announcer for WHMI radio in Howell, which is just 14 miles from Brighton.

John is sports editor of The Argus, but he is by no means confined to sports coverage. He regularly covers governmental meetings and writes editorials and features.

This feature is based on his six visits to Beer Hill. The visits were of varying duration and extended over a four-week period.

John was chosen for the assignment because of his youthful appearance, the likelihood that he wouldn't be recognized as a reporter and his knowledge of the youth culture and the part drugs play in it.

John was amazed by his Beer Hill experience. Shaking his head he said, "Even I've never seen anything like it." What amazed John was the open availability of drugs.

Editorials... a page for expressions ...yours and ours

Over the past several weeks one of our staffers, John Beckett of The Brighton Argus, has been working on a feature story on Northville's "Beer Hill".

John's a natural for the assignment and, as a matter of fact, volunteered for the job.

Barely out of his teens, he nevertheless possesses a maturity that undoubtedly can be attributed to his self-dependency and a variety of interesting jobs.

What's more, long-haired John fits well into the Beer Hill scenery and he is not unfamiliar with the activities of the drug-culture set.

In fact he's genuinely concerned that so many young people are so easily drawn into a pastime that may irreparably bend their young lives.

He found Beer Hill "unbelievable" because of its market-like atmosphere in the sale of drugs, and the extreme youthfulness of buyers and sellers.

The activities of Beer Hill are well known to police. And we suspect that most residents realize that the nightly gatherings are not held for picnics and games.

So the feature that appears in this edition is not a revelation; it is not another newspaper attempt at sensationalism, or to discredit today's young people.

We're tired of being told that we print only the bad about kids, never the good. We know that by far the vast majority of the news we print about youngsters involves their constructive activities.

We expect to continue to hear the criticism, particularly from relatives of the youths who do get into serious trouble.

But we're printing the Beer Hill story because we know the pressures that are exerted on parents by sons and daughters who want to join the gang at Beer Hill.

"Everybody goes there....how come you're so old-fashioned...I won't go out at all if I can't go to the Hill with everybody else".

Most parents have heard this tune sung over and over, if not about Beer Hill, then some other favorite gathering spot.

And sometimes it's easier to just give up and hope for the best.

But that's a decision the parent must make.

John Beckett's story makes this point very clear: drugs are easily available at Beer Hill and some of the youngsters are buying and using them.

Maybe some of them are there just to see the action. But the pressures to join in the "fun" and be one of the gang certainly must prevail.

Meanwhile, police are unlikely to take direct, harsh action. They know that a "new Beer Hill" would spring up; that little if any punishment would be levied against teenagers; and that it would take a large force of officers to successfully make any arrests.

So what do we do to help the youngsters on Beer Hill?

I don't know. John Beckett doesn't know. The police don't know.

It isn't as easy as helping free a deer caught in a fence or ducks in an oil slick.

Does anyone know, do they need help?

Although I am sure the reasons for teachers' striking are well founded, as a student I would like to comment on the present situation.

My parents pay taxes. These taxes insure an

Children, although it may not always appear so, do look

As for parents, they incur problems when their children, whom they expected to return to school on September 5th, did not. The mother, for instance, who works during the school year must now spend her money on babysitters.

Mothers must also deal with children who have run out of things to do.

Parents and students are helpless in this situation, despite the fact they pay thousands of dollars in taxes. They are at the mercy of the

Speaking for Myself

MARILYN FABITS

School Pool?

GIL HENDERSON

Extravagant . . .

When I was a candidate for the South Lyon school board, I was strongly opposed to the idea of having a swimming pool in our schools. As a citizen and a taxpayer, I am still adamant regarding this issue.

Contrary to what a few people said to me at "Meet The Candidate Night", I am not opposed to the swimming pool because I like to read about children drowning, nor adults, for that matter. I do not believe having a pool in our schools is the solution to this tragic problem either. I simply feel our community cannot afford this luxury at this time, and it is an extravagance our children do not need to insure them a better education.

How does the School Board propose to cover the expenses a swimming pool would incur? If it were just the expenses involved with building a pool, maybe I could change my point of view, but once the pool is constructed, we would have many additional expenses to cope with. We would then have the expense of maintenance, the expense of having qualified people for supervision while the pool is in use, and last, but not least, the extremely high insurance premiums we would definitely need.

Who is going to assume the extra financial responsibilities for the swimming pool? Dig deeper taxpayers. Here we go again.

Marilyn J. Fabits
Green Oak Resident

Worthwhile . . .

I find writing in support of constructing swimming pools in public school buildings an easy task. I'm assuming that the community can afford the costs. The problem is to be convinced that swimming pools merit high priority in our collective budgets. The many advantages of pools come quickly into focus.

First of all, instruction in swimming has improved and will further improve water safety. Americans have spent increasingly more time on and around water. A few years ago Michigan had more drownings than traffic fatalities on the 4th of July weekend. In recent years swimming and water safety instruction have helped reduce drownings to a small fraction of holiday traffic deaths.

Another supportive concept that comes to mind is that the whole community can use the pool. Many school districts use their pool continuously for 12 to 14 hours a day, six days a week. This is a far greater usage than the typical classroom, the football field, or the auditoriums receive. During this time it can be used by Physical Education Classes, by competitive swimming teams, and, more importantly, by the total community for recreational swimming. These activities can range from family nights to physical therapy for the handicapped.

Last of all, instructional swimming has great carry-over value for students. That is to say, they can use these swimming skills as long as they live. Many of our school physical activities, such as football or wrestling, have a much shorter period of usefulness for the average student.

Swimming pools in public schools have been, can be, and will continue to provide an outlet for constructive physical activity for the entire community.

Novi School Board

By JIM GALBRAITH

Boy and His Rifle

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Sometimes I get the feeling the march of progress is really a paradoxical dash to nowhere.

First they went and took the man out of the cave so he could live in a park tent, then they removed the streetcar from the street so that we could propose it today for mass transit, and then they took capital out of punishment.

And now, heaven forbid, they're taking the stem out of the cherry.

For what?

To satisfy man's craving for change. Because for him change means progress and progress means change, that's what.

Take the lowly pants cuff, for example.

Although it has no more useful purpose than the fuzz-catching navel, it nevertheless was worn proudly for years...until one day someone said it looked awful so man obediently snipped it off. Now guess what? They're sewing the pants cuff back on, and it's bigger and grander than ever.

The guy who saved all his narrow ties is going to feel like a million bucks someday...just like the one who saved all his bowties is today. It's inevitable.

Afterall, who would have thought the bucket seats and floor stick shift in our old '36 Chevy would be a motoring rage in '73?

Or that red pop, one-room schoolhouse concepts, colonial styling and decorating, cider mills, real car bumpers, and bicycles would come marching back from yesterday's change?

Oh, yes, progress is a fickle beast.

Do you know that when they hang a new door on a building in New Orleans' French Quarter they also pay a guy to come along with a chain and whack the sap out of the poor thing...just to make it look authentically old?

Do you know people are fighting traffic jams and headaches just so they can hike into the country to chop down their own Christmas trees and pick their own apples?

Do you know that a billion bucks or more were plunked down last year for antiques painting?

Old ways are suddenly new ways and new ways become old ways.

That's why I find the latest march to nowhere—taking the stem out of the cherry—so senseless.

Just what have we accomplished by spraying cherries with a chemical so that they are more easily removed from the tree?

Who cares that removal of the cherry without the spray requires a force of 1.3 to 1.8 pounds as compared with a force of 0.7 pounds with spray?

Besides, someone is eventually going to remember that dunking cherries in high-balls was great sport and the stem will bounce back just like the bowtie.

Wixom is a community under 20,000 people but if you enact Act 207, this means you (planning commission) will have to have a public hearing," Schnelz told the commission members.
Commission and council members agreed it would be best if two hearings were held on rezoning and voted to keep the act in the ordinance.

The final planning commission vote was unanimous. All members were present but Mrs. Johanna Ware. Council's vote was 5-0 (Councilwoman Mary Parvu was absent).
During the city council meeting Monday evening, members were presented a recommended series of steps to achieve a comprehensive master plan for the city which was prepared by the planning commission.
The steps will be discussed at length during a special meeting of Council on Thursday, October 4. That meeting was originally scheduled to hold a public hearing on a new motorcycle ordinance for the city.

...Final transactions between the Northville board of education and the Wayne county road commission were completed for the purchase of 5.9 acres by the road commission for the new Eight Mile Road cut-off construction. WIXOM'S NEW MAP—Approved Monday evening by the Wixom city council and planning commission was this new zoning map. The majority of the land north of Pontiac Trail is residential while the portion of the city south of that point is reserved for manufacturing. The RA-1 classification is for lots of 12,500 square feet to be used for single family homes. Single family homes in the RA-2 class are to be on lots of at least 7,200 square feet. RC-1 zoning designates multiple family residences on nine acres and the RC-2 designation means multiple family housing must be placed on at least 12 acres. Community business is designated on the map as B-2. B-3 is the general business classification. The areas on the map labeled M-1 and M-2 are for light and heavy industry respectively.

He said there is a resentment from the youths, even those who are not using or selling drugs, to the policing. "The attitude is that they want a place to go to do their thing without anybody bothering them. They will protect the place so people who use drugs will have a place to buy them."
Deputies continually check the area, looking for underage youths, calling people over and checking their identification, "especially the young girls. We watch their ages closely. We're so fortunate we haven't had a murder this year," Gregory added.
The sergeant said there are no problems with having to chase kids out of the park after 11:30 p.m. closing hours.

"They leave the park early. They're out by 10 p.m. They go there, buy their drugs and leave," he said.
Could the hill be cleared completely of drug traffic?

"After 6 p.m., for four or five days in a row, I could put three uniformed officers up there until 11:30 p.m. The kids would not be there to buy and sell drugs but some might stop to talk and then leave, taking the buying and selling someplace else. It's a mobile problem."

Gregory concluded by noting that "80 percent of the parents do not know where their children are or what they are doing."

Race Picks up

With the October 1 filing deadline less than a week away, it appears Mayor A. M. Allen—who has served longer than any official in Northville's history—is headed for an unprecedented eighth term.

He's the only candidate thus far for mayor.

In the council race for two seats, however, three men have pitched their hats into the ring. They include Incumbent Councilman Paul Folino, Larry Sheehan, 45748 Clement Court in Lexington Commons subdivision, and Eugene Wagner, 663 Thayer Boulevard.

A fourth likely candidate is Allen Ingle, an attorney living in Northville Estates who has taken out petitions and who indicated he probably would file for council.

Folino and Councilman Kenneth Rathert hold the two council posts up for election. Rathert announced some time ago that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Nominating petitions may be picked up at the city hall. They must be filed by 5 p.m. Monday.

2 Face Charges For Selling Drugs

Two Northville persons have been arrested by city police during the past week on felony warrants for violation of state narcotic laws.

Arrested last week Wednesday was James Michael Trudell, 24, of 168 East Main Street. He was charged with delivery of heroin and possession of dangerous drugs.

Arrested Monday night was Evelyn Richardson Bagdon, 22, of 519 Fairbrook. She is charged with delivery of barbituric acid.

Trudell was arraigned on the charges last week Thursday in 35th District Court. He stood mute to both and pleas of not guilty were entered on his behalf.

He is in Wayne County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on each charge and will face examination Monday.

Mrs. Bagdon was arraigned

Monday night, pled not guilty, and is free on $5,000 bond. She will appear for examination next Thursday.

Officers went to Trudell's apartment about 5 p.m. last week Wednesday to arrest him on a felony warrant for delivery of heroin. They said he had barricaded himself in his apartment refusing to answer the door and police gained entrance by breaking down the door.

Confiscated at the time of his arrest were nearly 800 pills, capsules and narcotic paraphernalia. Analysis of some of the pills and capsules showed them to contain amphetamines.

Mrs. Bagdon was arrested on the felony warrant at her home without incident, police said.

Their arrests cap more than two months of investigation by Northville City Police, Michigan State Police Intelligence and the Oakland County Narcotic Enforcement Team.

Heading the investigation were city patrolmen Fred Beksa and Norm Kubitskey. Lieutenant Louis Westfall said of the investigation, "We knew we could not get in ourselves to make purchases of drugs and we would have to have controlled buys."

Consequently, the Oakland County Narcotic Enforcement Team, working with the state police, was called in, the lieutenant explained.

Fall, the harbinger of winter, came to the Northville area Saturday, making just a memory of the summer just past. Before the winter winds and snow begin to blow, however, there is the beauty of fall to contemplate, like this landscape of cornstalk, woman and child and the gathering clouds overhead.

Teacher transfer policy leaves the final decision up to the superintendent.

Spear said one of the "most noteworthy parts of the contract is its two-year duration, improving relations between parents, teachers, administrators and the board which were so heavily tested during the past weeks."

Buys Texas Longhorns

He Beefs up Secret Love

By ERNEST BROWN

As the owner of South Lyon Motors, John Bakhaus has a reasonably profitable, full time occupation selling used cars and new horse trailers.

But John Bakhaus also has a secret desire, something that he dearly loves to do.

Unlike most men, he is able to carry out this secret ambition—to farm and to raise animals.

Especially Appaloosa horses. Until recently.

Not long ago, while on vacation in the Southwest, Bakhaus observed Texas longhorn cattle grazing.

Sometime later, the opportunity to purchase some of these animals arose and, after studying the breed for a while, Bakhaus decided that raising them might prove an interesting "novelty", as he puts it.

"I knew longhorns to be a multi-colored, long horned hardy breed of cattle. I also had heard that they were becoming almost extinct," Bakhaus pointed out.

So, when the opportunity came up to purchase five yearling heifers from Texas—and, shortly thereafter, a dark red husky bull from an Indian reservation in Oklahoma—the farmer in John told him "go ahead".

He is expecting to be rewarded with five calves about next June.

Why the lure of the longhorn?

"I guess some of the reasons why I decided to buy and try them," Bakhaus related, "were the fact that they are getting scarce, their long history here and their hardiness."

He estimated that fewer than 2,000 of the famous "old West" beef cattle still exist. Some of those are being crossbred with newer, less hardy animals such as the Angus.

When he calls the Angus, a well-known breed, "newer" he is sure to provoke a few questions.

Bakhaus brushes these aside by referring to the literature of the Texas Longhorn Breeders Association of America.

"The historical cattle designed by God, thriving nearly 500 years in

Tree Champs on Display

Nature Paints Landscape

There are 58 forest specimens spread across Michigan that qualify for the national Social Register of Big Trees, and almost half of them can be viewed through the windshield by fall color tourists, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. Michigan has more national championship trees certified by the American Forestry Association than any other continental state except Florida, which has 69. Hawaii is the only state—with 203 champions—that surpasses Florida.

"Persons who plan trips to view Michigan's big trees this fall will be seeing them in their most colorful setting," states Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Michigan's countryside is at its radiant best during the fall—when woods and fields change from summer green to a brilliant sea of red, orange, purple, scarlet and brown.

Auto Club estimates that 600,000 Michigan families will make special trips from now through October to view colors, and they should spend at least $50 million. The average couple on a weekend color tour in Michigan can expect to spend between $75 and $100.

"Fall color has started to show on the fringes of some forests already," states Ratke. "The peak fall color touring season is expected to begin in the Upper Peninsula by the end of September."

Auto Club points out that the fall color touring season progresses southward in weekly 50- to 75-mile stages, terminating in extreme southern Michigan by the end of October.

How long the color season lasts in any area depends on the weather. Cold weather with heavy frost and strong winds means a short season. Warm weather with sunny days helps color remain in an area up to two weeks.

Auto Club's calendar for viewing the most spectacular color in various sections of the state is:

- Upper Peninsula and northern tip of Lower Peninsula—September 28 to October 10.

- Northern third of Lower Peninsula—October 5-

- Central Michigan—October 12-24.

- Southern Michigan—

Is World Casting Its Mold for You?

The Reverend Richard A. Anderson
St. George Lutheran Church,
Brighton

Romans 12:2—Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mold, but let God remold your minds from within, so that you may prove in practice that the plan of God for you is good, meets all his demands and moves toward the goal of true maturity.

I think you would agree that a life lived in one mold would be most terrifying and meaningless. There would never be internal change! There would be no such thing as self-will! There would be but one mind-set for all people! Conformity would reign supreme! As much as we might dislike the prospect of this possibility we must also recognize the fact that the world stamps its conformity on Christian and non-Christian alike. The world attempts to tell us what we should think—what values, if any, we should espouse—what it takes to be "with it"—what to do to be popular, young, and free.

This worldly process, whether conscious or unconscious, is one which attempts to take the human raw materials—body and soul, if you will—and pour them into its own mold. Sadly, we too often succumb to the casting of the world's mold; we opt for personal profit over social concern, pride over humility, hostility over peace, aloofness over involvement, separation over community, irresponsibility, and prejudice over acceptance.

We do not need too much convincing before we are forced to admit that the world's mold imprisons, alienates and forces surrender to a sterile and plastic existence which perverts our relationship to both God and man.

St. Paul knew the battle—he knew the humiliation—the hatred—the intellectual attacks—the imprisonments—all waged to change his mind. He also knew that he had been cast in a different mold, and he knew that every person was open to the remolding of his or her mind. This is not accomplished by positive thought, an introductory course in psychology, an increased wage, a change in address or a trip around the world.

These things might provide us some respite from the battle, but we will soon admit that these activities are temporary solutions. We might call these preliminaries to the main event—the revolutionary remolding of our minds. This can only be accomplished if we allow God to be the architect of our lives—the designer and molder of each hour we live. It means surrender and trust; surrender to His will for us, and trust that His plan for us is good. When this occurs the world has no power over us—its fragile and imperfect mold is broken. We are free to grow and mature in Christ.

WHO CANNOT SEW

Sunday morning in Buffalo—and a button falls off my last clean shirt: "Sorry, sir, valet service does not answer!"

Little girls can sew on buttons. Tailors can sew on buttons. My tough old sear-geant could sew on buttons. But not me! I never got around to it.

I'm going to church anyway. Long time ago I realized that it may take a bit of effort, and some determination, and quite a lot of experience to become a regular church-goer. But life is full of real crises that demand faith and courage and a Source of guidance. There isn't much comfort in discovering that others can overcome such crises—while you never got around to it.

So any Sunday, in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse or Troy . . . you'll be seeing me in church. (I'm the stocky fellow, with the red hair—and the button missing from his shirt!)

Buckling up May be Pain

Motorists annoyed by the buzzer which sounds in pre-1974 cars if seat belts aren't fastened may be even more annoyed with the complicated seat belt-harness interlock systems on the 1974 models, according to Automobile Club of Michigan's September Motor News magazine.

In an article titled "Seat Belt Interlock: Boon or Bane?" Auto Club's 1,100,000 reader-members are told that "every 1974 car (except GM's top lines, which will have airbags after December) will be equipped with a complicated seat belt interlock system. The device must be buckled by the driver and right-front passenger, or the car won't start."

The new federally-ordered safety equipment will raise prices of cars at least $50 before any profit to auto companies, the article states.

For the first time, Motor News points out, all 1974 model domestic cars will have a one-piece belt-harness which buckles with one snap. The harness is truly comfortable and has a retractor on an inertia reel. This enables the driver to reach to the right door lock, glove box or rear seat with the harness paying out as he moves and retracting as he resumes normal position. It only locks to protect in a collision or rapid deceleration.

If the interlock is what is needed to increase use of safety belts, Auto Club would classify it as a boon. Based on what is known now, it is certainly preferable to the much more expensive, not-yet-proven airbags, whose present life-saving and injury-preventing potential is not nearly as great.

With the interlock, the article states, one cannot buckle the belt, sit down with it behind him, and then start the car. The actions must be in sequence—sit down, buckle up, then start the car. The seat sensors react to 40 pounds of pressure, the article continues, and the buzzer sounds even when the driver leans part of his weight on his hand on the passenger seat.

Motor News points out that there are ways to beat the

Babson Report

Stock Warrants Attractive Now

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Risk-oriented investors frequently turn to stock warrants as a vehicle for a part of their speculative efforts.

Interest in warrants, however, tends to increase when the stock market is at a high level, a time when the element of risk is as strong for the warrants as it is for the securities to which they are tied.

But right now, when many securities are trading at levels that are quite deflated, it is a favorable time to consider warrants.

WARRANTS are quite a different matter from common or preferred stocks, or bonds, although they are usually issued in conjunction with stocks or bonds in financing operations, recapitalizations, reorganizations, or mergers.

A warrant is an option to buy a specified security at a stated price and generally within a set time period. Once the exercise period expires, the warrants become valueless—although there are a few "perpetual" warrants. Per se, warrants provide no income for the investor. They are usually issued as a "sweetener" to attract investment money to the principal security, or to provide an added inducement to the stockholders of a company which may be the object of a takeover move.

THE MAIN factor which makes warrants interesting as a speculative investment medium is the amount of leverage they have for possible capital appreciation. In most instances, an investor uses only a small amount of capital to purchase warrants as compared with the cost of the related security. Thus, if the warrant is bought reasonably close to the specified exercise price, it can rise by a greater percentage than the security it can be exercised to buy—if the target security does actually go up in value. In other words, warrants are capable of providing a maxi-return for a mini-investment.

We have already indicated that warrants do not pay any dividend or interest. So investors who require maximum investment income, or even a reasonable current yield, should not dabble in warrants. Indeed, except for the speculator, investors contemplating involvement with warrants should first explore the possibilities in some income-producing convertible bonds or convertible preferred stocks.

IN ESSENCE, an investor who purchases warrants is speculating that the target securities will increase in value to such a degree that the income which is lost during the time the warrants are held will be offset by the increment in the value of the warrants, and that there will also be an added measure of profit to make the risk worthwhile.

There is an even greater advantage, of course, if a warrant is held for more than six months and then sold at a profit—since that profit is taxable as a long-term capital gain under current IRS regulations.

Investors who have the temperament and the financial resources to assume the risk involved in warrants at the present time should look for those tied to target securities which are of unquestionably good quality and selling at a reasonable price. Also, the related securities should be trading at levels which are not too high above the exercise price of their respective warrants.

And these warrants should have sufficient longevity remaining to give the investor a good chance of having his investment work out successfully.

AS OF NOW, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports feels the following fulfill these requirements: American Tel & Tel warrants which expire May 15, 1975; Tenneco, Inc. warrants which expire November 1, 1975 (both trade on the NYSE). Also worth considering are warrants of Lerner Stores and Mobil Oil, expiring August 1, 1982 and August 1, 1975 respectively (both traded on the ASE).

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

AFTER-CARE FOR VEGETABLES AND BULBS

Winter months come on all too soon and tender plants need protection. Two main groups such as bulbs which are not hardy, and many vegetables, grown from seed, require storage which is not expensive and simple to provide. The principal vegetables suited to storage include turnips, squash, cauliflower, cabbage, celery, onions, beets and carrots.

Storing conditions vary for tender-bulbs and corms, as they do for vegetables. Among those needing protection over the winter, favorite subjects number gladiolus, tuberous rooted begonias, dahlias, caladiums and callas.

For example, gladiolus must be stored in paper bags or baskets at a temperature of 40 to 50 degrees. Tuberous rooted begonias should be taken up as soon as possible, dried for a week or two in a frost-free place then stems removed. Store in flats or paper bags, packed in dry sand or peat moss, at 45-50 degrees.

Caladiums and callas need higher storage temperatures such as 50-60 degrees. Pack dug up plants in dry sand, soil or vermiculite; if in pots, lay on their sides. Dahlias should be packed in a receptacle lined with newspaper and vermiculite, damp peat moss, ashes or saw dust. Dahlias are dug once hard frost has killed the tops and the tops are then cut to within a few inches of the ground before digging. Temperature range between 45 and 50 degrees is recommended.

Leaving the subject of bulbs and corms, vegetables must be taken out of the ground to avoid frost injury. Storage places can vary from attic to cellar and out-door pits.

Just a few vegetables, like onions, can stand light freezing temperatures. When tops have been removed, the bulbs are laid out in the shade for a few days before storing in baskets or boxes in the attic.

A root cellar, moist cool basement or an outside pit are suitable for practically all root crops. They can be stored most advantageously between layers of sand or in stone crocks equipped with lid to minimize shriveling as well as to preserve moisture.

One of the best methods for surplus vegetable storage is outdoors in a well-drained, shallow pit about six inches deep. A good layer of straw in the trench and over the sides is excellent protection, then vegetables are piled up in a heap. A covering of one or two feet of straw is essential with the addition of four or more inches of soil as the colder weather sets in. Ventilation is also necessary to prevent decay. This can be obtained by a drain tile extending above the pit, or by exposing a small area of straw. A screen at the bottom will serve to keep out rodents.

Most vegetable gardeners would probably have on hand only a few extra heads of cabbage at this time. These can be kept for several weeks in a cool basement. Celery can also be stored in a cellar by digging up plants and setting them close together in soil either in boxes or on the cellar bottom.

Stack Signals Bid Problem

When the giant smoke stack at Wayne County Child Development toppled to the ground in Northville Township last winter it may have triggered a change in the county bidding procedure.

That's because County Commissioner George Killeen objected to the estimated cost of demolishing the building and he demanded that instead of authorizing the spending of up to $20,000 for the job, bids should be taken first.

Taking his advice bids were obtained and the contract ultimately went to the Jordan Wrecking Company of Detroit whose low bid of $4,835 was $15,165 less than the cost estimated by the buildings division of the board of auditors.

Other bids went as high as $70,000.

His recommended bidding procedure, he contends, may have saved the county up to $15,165.

"In all probability, if the $20,000 originally requested had been appropriated, bids conceivably would have been closer to the $20,000 figure than the low bid of $4,835," he says.

Needless spending on other projects has occurred, he contends, because the county purchasing system unwittingly has been letting bidders know what the county expects to pay for such projects before bids are solicited.

Killeen this month asked the board to adopt a policy under which "appropriate Wayne County officials" would seek the board's approval of the "concept" of a project and the authority to seek bids.

"After receipt of public bids for such projects, then the board of commissioners through appropriate committees will consider recommending the granting of appropriate committees will consider recommending the granting of appropriations for such projects," the resolution states.

At his request, Killeen's resolution was referred to the board's public works committee for study and recommendation.

1-3 Card Of Thanks

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

How shall I ever thank you for all your goodness to me? Your prayers, plants that made my room look like a spring garden, your cards and your visits, all played a part in my near recovery.
Do come to see me when you can, and if I can't talk very well, perhaps I can listen. Thank you again.
Sincerely,
Germaine Stackable.

'Good as Ever' Novi Topples South Lyon

Who said the 1973 edition of the Wildcats is any less awesome than last year's entry?

It wasn't South Lyon—you can bet your sweet pennant on that.

The Lions—pre-season favorite in some circles to take the Southeastern Conference title—are faster and stronger than last year but they still are no match for Coach John Osborne's hungry Wildcats.

Paced by the running performance of Mike Riley, the defending champs erased the South Lyon threat easily Friday, 26-7, to open the Southeastern race on the Lions' home ground.

It was the Wildcats' 15th straight victory...third straight over Bob Keezer's Lions.

Novi, which opened its season two weeks ago by clobbering arch-rival Northville in a non-league game, hasn't lost a football game since late October of 1971 when Chelsea ruined an otherwise perfect season for the Wildcats.

Friday's victory was nothing like last year's 64-0 shutout, mind you, but the Cats had very little difficulty despite their opponents' formidable billing.

Big reasons for the Lions' inability to demonstrate predicted prowess were the churning legs of Mike Riley and the arm and play-making of Quarterback Dave Brown. These two Novi backs picked up where Steve Lukkari and the VanWagner-Boyer punch left off.

By game's end, Riley had ground out 124 yards rushing in 22 carries enroute to three touchdowns. And Brown rifled the 16-yarder that Mike Collins pulled in for the fourth TD. The quarterback also tossed a conversion pass.

South Lyon's lone 30-yard touchdown came midway through the final quarter on a tackle eligible play as Dave Hartman, son of former Novi High School Principal Gerald Hartman, pulled in a pass from Quarterback Tony Kern.

That South Lyon TD was produced on one of only two drives that carried into Novi territory. The Lions drove to the Novi 21 late in the second quarter, but the Wildcats stopped their opponents inches short of a first down to end the threat.

Indicative of the Wildcats domination of the game was their big edge in first downs—17 to 7.

Novi smothered its opponent with a combined total of 313 yards gained in 79 plays. South Lyon came up with just 74 yards in 52 plays.

On the game opening series, Novi banged away on the ground, marching from its own 26 to the South Lyon 16 where Collins pulled in the first pass of the game for the TD.

Late in the second quarter, after stopping a South Lyon threat, Novi took 10 plays to cover the 79 yards to the goal line. Highlighted by a 43-yard pass play from Brown to Riley, the series ended with Riley cracking over the center from six yards out for the TD.

It was 12-0 at the half. Early in the third stanza after forcing a South Lyon punt Novi scored again—and again in 10 plays—as Riley dived over from the 4. Roger Pelchat pulled in a conversion pass from Brown for the game's first extra points.

Following this TD the Lions had the ball just two plays before losing possession on a fumbled pitch-out at the 23. On the fourth play, in a first down situation, Riley slanted through left tackle for 12 yards and the fourth TD. Novi's conversion attempts left something to be desired. Three went awry—one on a kick, a second on a deflected pass, and the third on a power sweep to the left.

Runners Spur 27-0 Triumph

Mustangs Gallop Past Trojans

Shades of Bo Schembechler. Judging from his team's performance against the Clarenceville Trojans, it looks as if Northville Coach Chuck Shonta must have found time to read Bo's new book.

Because Friday night Shonta's Northville Mustang football team revealed the same kind of relentless, bone-crushing type of running attack that has made Michigan one of the top teams in the country as they buried the Trojans 27-0.

Aided by a couple of key turnovers in the opening minutes, the Mustangs moved to a 13-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

But it was in the second quarter that they finally got their running attack into high gear. With Doug Crisan, Tom Dooley, and Jerry Fulcher alternately piling up big chunks of yardage, Northville muscled their way to scoring drives of 54 and 49 yards as they upped their lead to 27-0 at the half.

All told, the Mustangs picked up 119 yards on the ground in the first half and moved the ball up and down the field almost as effectively as...well, almost as effectively as Novi.

Doug Crisan, the big (6-3, 210 pound) junior running back, paced the offense. After a disappointing performance in the season's opener against Novi, Crisan returned to form against Clarenceville, rushing for 91 yards on 20 carries and scoring three touchdowns on runs of 1, 2, and 14 yards.

It was Fulcher, another junior running back, who scored the other Mustang touchdown. Taking a pitchout from sophomore quarterback Eric Lampella, Fulcher scooted around his own left and dashed 23 yards for the score.

Dooley, with a two-point conversion run, and Tex "Thunderfoot" Trumbull, with a one-point conversion kick, completed the Mustang scoring.

The victory was a costly one for the Mustangs, however, as three players suffered leg injuries. Offensive guard-defensive tackle Steve Serkaian and Trumbull both suffered knee injuries, but are expected to be ready for Friday's game against Plymouth Canton.

The season is over, however, for starting quarterback Tom Marzonie. A junior who threw for 200 yards in his first start in the season's opener against Novi, Marzonie was injured early in the first quarter when he came up from his defensive halfback position to make the tackle on a Clarenceville sweep.

He was taken by ambulance to Botsford Hospital where x-rays revealed a broken leg that will require surgery and keep Marzonie out for the rest of the season.

Marzonie is the second starting quarterback the Mustangs have lost so far this year. Bill McDonald, who started at quarterback in both his sophomore and junior seasons, is still sidelined with a kidney injury suffered during baseball season.

With Marzonie forced out of action, Shonta turned to 6-0, 170-pound sophomore Eric Lampella who directed the Northville attack with surprising efficiency.

The Mustangs scored their first touchdown against the Trojans with less than three minutes gone in the game. A bad pass from center soared over the head of the Clarenceville punter who retrieved the ball, but was promptly downed on the one yard line.

From there, Marzonie handed off to Crisan who dragged two tacklers into the end zone for the first Northville score.

Crisan tallied again less than eight minutes later. Middle guard Bill Lusk covered a Trojan fumble on the 45 yard line and 10 plays later Crisan plowed into the end zone from two yards away after a Lampella to Ted Fuertges pass had moved the ball from the 24 to the two yard line.

The Mustangs completed their scoring in the second quarter as Fulcher capped a 54 yard drive with a 23-yard run and Crisan put the finishing touch on a 49-yard drive with a 14-yard sprint.

The second half was an offensive bust for both teams. Shonta emptied his bench and his substitutes were able to pick up just one first down over the final 24 minutes of play.

Clarenceville fared little better, however, picking up just three first downs - one of them on a penalty - during the final two quarters.

Defensively, the Mustangs enjoyed one of their best games, limiting the Trojans to just five first downs and 68 total yards. Quarterback Brian Luka completed seven of 15 passes, but the Mustangs picked off three others: Ed Falchery, Jim O'Brien, and John Sherman all snared interceptions.

Friday the Mustangs will open the Western Six Conference season by playing host to Plymouth Canton. Game time is slated for 8 p.m.

Fail to Win 3rd Straight Title

Golfers Finish Fourth In Dearborn Tourney

Twelve strokes was the margin that separated Northville's outstanding golf team from the rest of the field when it swept top honors in the prestigious Dearborn Invitational last year.

And another 12 stroke margin figured prominently in the Mustangs' defense of their title last Monday. But this time the 12 stroke margin marked the difference between Coach Al Jones' quartet of golfers and the first place Plymouth Salem squad.

Plymouth Salem finished the 18-hole course with a total four-man score of 329, while the Mustangs were fourth with a total score of 341. Ypsilanti and Thurston tied for second place with scores of 334.

"Twelve strokes may sound like a lot, but it's not too bad when you consider that one of our boys had a 93," commented Jones.

"Greg Mack let himself get mad and he finished with a 48-45-93," Jones continued. "Greg is certainly capable of shooting an 82 and if he had done that we would have been right up there."

But while Mack, a sophomore, was having a particularly rough day, none of the other Mustang golfers was faring particularly well, either. Brian Mills and Bob Simmons shot 77 and 78 respectively last year when the Mustangs won the tourney with a four-man total of 309. Monday, however, they could do no better than an 82 and an 83.

Jim Dales, another sophomore and the number three man on the Northville squad, finished with a 44-39-83.

"Both Mills and Dales had a lot of trouble with their putting Monday," Jones observed. "Dales was on the first six greens in regulation, but he three-putted four of them. He finally got squared away and made a good comeback, but he could have very easily been down in the 70's if his putter hadn't let him down in the early going."

Not even a fourth place finish can be too disheartening, however.

When Northville first won the Dearborn Invitational in 1971, they became just the third Class B team to win in it since the tourney was started in 1959. And when they successfully defended that title last year, they became the first Class B team to ever win it twice.

With 30 top teams participating in the 1973 tourney, fourth place just wasn't that much of a disappointment.

Meanwhile, in dual meet competition Jones and his Northville golfers kept rolling along by beating Plymouth Canton, Pinckney, and Walled Lake Western. The three wins ran their record of consecutive dual meet victories without a loss to 39.

The Mustangs topped Pinckney, which had a win streak of six straight dual meets, by 18 strokes, while their margin over Plymouth Canton was larger than that.

The meet against Walled Lake Western was considerably closer, however. Northville won in a play-off

Northville Football Association

Colts Belt Belleville

A fourth-quarter touchdown enabled the Northville Colts varsity to take a come-from-behind victory from the Belleville Cougars and keep their undefeated record in tact.

The Colt freshman squad also posted a win over the Cougars and the junior varsity team played to a scoreless deadlock as the three Northville Football Association teams had a good day - winning two and tying a third.

The varsity fell behind 7-0 as Belleville opened the scoring on a 60 yard pass play in the first quarter. The Colts threatened to knot the score in the second quarter, but were stopped on the one yard line. Northville finally got on the scoreboard in the third quarter on a 14 yard end run, but the conversion attempt failed and the Colts found themselves on the short end of a 7-6 score as the fourth quarter got underway.

But with the prospect of suffering their first defeat of the season imminent, the Colts intercepted a pass and ran it back to the five yard line. Moments later the offense carried the ball into the end zone and added the conversion to gain a 13-7 victory that advanced their record to 3-0.

The Colt freshmen upped their record to 2-1 with a 6-0 win over the Cougars. The only score of the game came in the second quarter. A 70 yard run moved the ball to the Belleville 10 yard line and the Colts then scored on a 10-yard pass play to gain the triumph.

The junior varsity Colt team had to settle for a 0-0 tie. Northville received the opening kick-off in the game and ran it back 60 yards for a touchdown only to have the play nullified by a clipping penalty. The junior varsity team now has a 1-1-1 record.

P P & K Contest Nears

Northville and Novi youngsters have just three more days to polish up their skills for the local Punt, Pass, and Kick competition.

Both the Northville and Novi Jaycees will be hosting the annual PP&K contests for their respective cities this Saturday, September 29.

Northville's PP&K competition is slated to get underway at 10 a.m. on the Northville High School practice field, while Novi's PP&K will begin at 9 a.m. on the Novi High School field.

John Mach Ford is sponsoring the Northville event, while Stark Hickey West is the sponsor of this year's competition in Novi.

PP&K is open to all youngsters between the ages of 8 and 13 years. Entrants are divided according to age group. They then compete in passing, punting, and kicking from a tee. Points are gained through distance and accuracy.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second, and third place finishers in each of the six age groups.

Winners of the local competition advance to zone, district, area, and, finally, division contests. The winners of the divisional competition will compete for national honors at the Super Bowl game in Houston on January 13.

REPLAY

with John Osborne

Anyway you look at it, Friday was a profitable night for John Osborne and his Novi football team.

First of all the Wildcats successfully opened the defense of their SEC football championship by routing South Lyon - one of the pre-season favorites to replace Novi atop the conference standings.

And then Osborne received some good news from elsewhere around the league. An inspired Saline crew held Chelsea, the other pre-season favorite, to a scoreless tie and Brighton surprised a strong Ypsilanti Lincoln team 12-0.

After just one game Novi is tied for first place with Brighton and Milan, but is a half game ahead of Chelsea and a full game ahead of the Lions - the two teams seen by rival coaches as the most likely to take away the Wildcats' conference championship.

"It's still a little too early to tell who's going to be tough this year," commented Osborne about the week's developments, "but it's still encouraging to be ahead of the two teams everyone thought had the best chances to beat us this year."

Also encouraging to Osborne was his team's performance against South Lyon. The Lions came out and tested two questionable areas in the Novi armor and in each instance the Wildcats met the challenge.

"We were a little concerned about our pass defense after Northville burned us on those two long touchdowns,"

Osborne admitted. "We knew that South Lyon had seen that game and with Tony Kern at quarterback we also knew that they would be trying to test our secondary."

"Our approach to the game was that we would have our defensive backs stay back and protect against the long passes. We decided to let them have the short passes and take away the long shots and that's just about the way things worked out."

"They completed a number of quickies right over the line, but they didn't complete any long ones."

Not only did the Wildcats shut off Kern's passing, they made it a tough night all the way around for the Lion signal caller, belting him for 49 yards in losses while giving up just 43 yards of passing yardage on nine completions in 21 attempts.

"We had two major ideas on defense," Osborne explained. "We played a five man front with two linebackers and a four man front with three linebackers. We tried to pressure him (Kern) from the outside and box him up in the middle. We didn't want him to escape and be free to ramble around back there while his receivers were getting loose downfield."

"I think we were generally pleased with the defense. We held them to something like 74 yards of total offense and that's a pretty good effort."

The other facet of the Novi team tested by the Lions was their passing attack.

"They were putting as many as nine men within two or three yards of the line of scrimmage," observed Osborne. "They sort of forced us into passing situations and I think we showed them that we can pass the ball if we have to."

"We got our first touchdown on a pass and Riley caught a long pass to set up our second touchdown."

The one thing that South Lyon's concentration of manpower on the front line accomplished was to cut off Novi's wide running attack.

"We got loose a couple of times around their ends, but most of our success came on runs right up the middle," stated Osborne. "That's one of the nice things about the wishbone. If a team takes the wide stuff away from you, you can either go to the air or go up the middle. They concentrated on the wide stuff that went pretty well against Northville, so we sent most of our plays up the middle."

The Wildcats will be looking for their second SEC win of the season and their 16th straight win over the past three years when they host Dexter Friday at 7:30 p.m.

after regulation play ended with both teams tied.

"The big thing that's hurting us right now," said Jones, "is deciding who our fourth man is going to be. We've got to come up with a fourth man who's going to be consistent. Right now it's more or less up for grabs between Chips Chamberlain, Mark Dougher, Bill Pettit, and Greg Mack."

"Lately Chamberlain (a freshman) has been the most consistent," he continued, "but I sure wish one of them would steady out so we can start getting ready for some of the big tournaments we've got coming up."

Mustang Harriers Post 3 More Wins

REPLAY

with Chuck Shonta

For the first time since he took over the reins of the Northville football program three years ago, Chuck Shonta was pleased - really pleased - with his team's performance.

"The first half was just beautiful," he said Sunday after having had an opportunity to view and re-view the game films of the Mustangs' 27-0 victory.

"From the point of view of both offensive and defensive execution, it was the most perfect overall half of football that I've seen in my three years here at Northville."

Shonta is not a "razzle-dazzle" kind of coach. Although the Mustangs will run an occasional end-around and throw an occasional halfback pass, Shonta prefers a rugged, straight-forward, hard-blocking type of attack.

And that's exactly what he got against the Trojans. In the first half the Mustangs moved the ball easily up and down the field while scoring four touchdowns.

Shonta attributed the success of his team's running attack to two major factors: the man-in-motion and downfield blocking.

"They were shifting their defense toward our man-in-motion and we started hitting them back toward the weak side," explained the Mustang mentor. "When they didn't adjust to the motion, then we ran our play toward the motion, and they got caught again." "Their trouble with our motion was one of the big factors in the game," Shonta stated.

The other factor was improved downfield blocking.

"We stressed downfield blocking in practice all week," said Shonta. "We know that our line is good enough to get our backs into the secondary and that our backs are good enough to break off some long gainers, provided they get some downfield blocking from the ends and flankers."

"The ends and flankers were getting in their blocks and that's why we were able to break loose for some good gains."

Shonta was not at all disturbed that his team failed to move the ball in the second half. "They made some defensive adjustments that shut off our wide stuff pretty effectively," he commented. "We have some plays that we use to prevent the other team from doing that, but with the game already out of reach we were content to let things go as they were without revealing any of our other plays."

Northville also substituted freely during the second half of the game. The first offensive and defensive units were on the field for the first two sets of downs in the third quarter, but after that Shonta started intermingling two or three reserves at a time with his regulars and by the time the fourth quarter rolled around, he had both the offensive and defensive second units in the game.

Eventually every man on the Northville roster got into the game. "It's awful nice to be able to do that," Shonta remarked. "We haven't been in position to do that very often." The only negative aspect of the game was the leg injury which will sideline junior quarterback Tom Marzonie for the remainder of the season.

"He made a heckuva play on the play he got injured on," said the Mustang coach. "He came up from defensive halfback and got both the blocker and the man with the ball, but they must have fallen on him in the wrong way because he came up with a broken leg out of it." "It's a shame, because I thought Tom was going to have a big season for us," Shonta continued. "He passed for 200 yards against Novi and you could just see the confidence in him growing. He's a big, strong, smart kid with a good arm and I think he could have developed into the best quarterback in the league by the time the year was over."

Shonta was also pleased with the performance of sophomore Eric Lampella who took over the Mustang attack after Marzonie was injured in the first quarter. "I thought Eric showed a lot of poise out there," said the coach. "He's got a good arm and I think he also will be a very fine quarterback before the season's over."

Lampella and the Mustangs will both be shooting for their first Western Six Conference win this Friday when they host Plymouth Canton at 8 p.m.

Northville's cross-country team was nearly perfect last week.

The Mustang harriers shut out two opponents and came within one point of shutting out a third as they notched their third, fourth, and fifth wins of the season and ran their streak of consecutive dual meet victories over the past two years to 11.

But Ralph Redmond, coach of the Northville runners, doesn't expect the lop-sided competition to continue much longer. In fact, the veteran Mustang mentor will be very happy if his charges are able to keep their win streak intact through the next two weeks.

"We've got Riverside and (Waterford) Mott at Mott coming up," noted Redmond, "and they should give us somewhat tougher competition. Riverside was one of the two teams to beat us last year and they've got Bill Donakowski, one of the best runners in the state, coming back."

And if the Mustangs should manage to get by Riverside and Mott, their next opponent will be defending Western Six Conference champion Livonia Churchill—the other team to beat them in dual meet competition last year.

Redmond returned to his team Monday after withholding his coaching services during the teacher strike and promptly found himself faced with an important task—getting Guy Cole into top shape.

"I don't think anyone can deny that Guy has been running far below his 1972 form," Redmond admitted. "I think he had a poor work out schedule early in the season and just wasn't ready when the meets started.

"Guy's working hard now and I think we can have him up to last year's form before much longer."

Redmond found the rest of the team in pretty good shape, however, particularly Tom Coram and Kevin Kofler who are already far ahead of their best 1972 performances.

"I like the team's attitude," stated Redmond. "We're beginning to get some intra-squad rivalry and the times are beginning to drop to a somewhat more acceptable level.

"Our pack of runners is beginning to form and I hope that we can have five and maybe even six or seven men down in the 16's (minutes for the three mile course) before the season is over. To have the kind of season we would like to have, we know that we're going to have to have five men right around that time."

Northville's best performance came against Farmington Harrison last week in their first conference competition of the season. Tom Coram was first in 17:01, while Kevin Kofler was a stride behind in 17:02. David Beers was third in 17:18, Robbie Foust came in fourth with a 17:30 clocking, and Dan Earehart was fifth as the Mustangs swept the top five places en route to a 15-40 shutout.

Tuesday the Mustang harriers topped Detroit Country Day 15-40 and Plymouth Salem 16-39 in a double-dual meet. Cole and Coram tied for first in both meets with a clocking of 17:33. Kofler was third in 17:38, while Beers (17:59) and Foust (18:17) rounded out the field. Cole, Coram, Kofler, and Beers finished one-two-three-four in both meets, while Foust was fifth against Country Day and sixth against Plymouth Salem.

With Two Misses

Otto Leu Wins Grid Quiz

When the St. Louis Cardinals clobbered Washington in the National Football League upset Sunday, a lot of contestants took it on the chin, too.

Except for the Detroit-Green Bay tie, the Cards' surprising win upset more entries than any other single game in the second week of this newspaper's football contest.

Everyone was marked wrong on the Lions' game because of the tie.

In the final analysis, however, neither the tie nor the Cards' upset triumph played much of a role in determining the contest winners. All winners missed these two games.

Winning first place money was Otto Leu, 18129 Pinebrook, who missed the two games in question but was only 11 points off the tie score. Bill Bunn of South Lyon, who took second place, was 21 points off.

Kitty and Charles Castillo of 41400 West Seven Mile Road shared third place money, each missing three games and submitting scores just three-points off the actual outcome.

Those three-points proved mighty crucial because there were 49 persons who submitted entries with three mistakes.

Among those who missed three were:

Kip Mack, Tom Clemens, Amy Fitzpatrick, John McIntire, Richard Clark, Mike Engel, Von Boll, Dawn Hamp, Todd Eis, H. W. White, Joyce Regentik, Eileen Mack, Gerald R. Martin, Mike Lurvey, Rod Crane, Scott Leu, Mrs. Ruth Antosh, Rah Tisch, Bob Clemens;

Jerry Gates, Ed Kritch, Joe Kritch, Jr., Jack L. Williams, Mrs. Otto Leu, Mark Crane, Dick Dales, Ben Duguid, Ken Kohs, Conrad Newman, Fin

Saline Ties Chelsea

Southeastern Conference teams opened their 1973 season last week with upsets being the order of the day.

South Lyon, one of the two pre-season favorites to run off with conference honors, was raked 26-7 by Novi, while Chelsea, the other pre-season favorite, was held to a scoreless tie by Saline.

Elsewhere, newcomer Brighton made a successful entry into the conference by surprising Ypsilanti Lincoln 12-0. And in the only game to end as predicted Milan registered a 30-0 conquest of a weak Dexter squad.

Chelsea gained 184 yards and Saline piled up 181 yards as the two teams battled to a 0-0 stand-off. Chelsea almost pulled out the win in the fourth quarter by marching from their own six to the Hornet nine yard line, but time ran out before they were able to put any points on the board. Defensive halfback Jeff French was Brighton's top offensive threat in the Bulldog's 12-0 victory over Lincoln. French picked off two passes and ran them back for touchdowns that covered 60 and 90 yards.

Harvey Thacker rambled for 145 yards on 25 carries and Kevin Keefe added 96 yards to lead Milan to a 30-0 conquest of a poor Dexter team. Thacker scored on an 11 yard run in the third quarter and then tallied twice more on runs of 12 and two yards in the final quarter as he sparked the Milan win.

Steve Lukkari Stars In Collegiate Debut

Former Novi great Steve Lukkari made a memorable collegiate grid debut for Grand Valley State College last Friday in a game against the University of Illinois at Chicago on famed Soldier Field in Chicago.

Lukkari, a 6', 165-pound freshman, entered the game late in the fourth quarter with Grand Valley leading 33-8. On a first and ten situation from the Grand Valley 36 yard line, Lukkari moved left on the quarterback option, broke back to the center of the field, and rambled all the way to the Chicago 14 for a 50 yard gain.

Lukkari finished the game with 57 yards on two carries.

Grand Valley won the contest 40-8 to advance their season's record to 2-0. Saturday they host Alma College.

SC Nets 3-1 Win In Soccer

George Kala booted a pair of goals midway through the second half to give the Schoolcraft College soccer team a 3-1 victory over Kellogg Community College last week.

Schoolcraft fell behind 1-0 in the contest, but had tied the score at 1-1 by the half as Tom Teeters converted a pass from Kamran Asdigha. Kala's two unassisted goals in the second half wrapped up the win.

The victory gave Schoolcraft a 2-1 record for the season and a 1-0 record for 1973 in Michigan Junior College Athletic Association play.

The Ocelots' next home game is slated for this Saturday at 1 p.m. against Ohio's tough Lorain Community College.

Vo-Ed Center Luncheons Resume

By NANCY DINGELDEY

There are some who say the air has the smell of snow. I think that's a mite premature, but it does seem apparent that fall is here.

Heard that the colors are changing up north already...if you've thought of a trip to take in the fall spectaculars you'd better think seriously of taking it soon. Besides the chill mornings, there's even a hint of changing color around here. Anyway you look at it, it's a great time of year.

For those of you who have enjoyed the superb luncheons available at the Vocational Education Center during the past year, you'll be delighted to know that the dining room is open to the public every day but Monday again this year.

Staff and students have managed to overcome the problems of missing students due to various area teacher strikes but according to Bob Kerr, head of the Food Services Department, "the kids are doing great".

Luncheon is served every day except Monday, as I mentioned, from 11:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. The menu is changed daily and features at least two and up to four specials each day. The cost varies with the menu but the prices are easy on the pocketbook.

A special feature is the monthly smorgasbord...a gourmet sort of adventure into a different country each month. The first delightful cruise is today (Thursday, September 27) to the land of swaying palms and electric guitars...Hawaii. The Advanced Design Classes at the Voc. Ed. Center along with the Floriculture Department do a great job of decorating the dining room to match the theme.

The Voc. Ed. Center which is located on Beck Road north of Maple is "one of the places to go." In addition to enjoying a top-rated lunch, various breads and pastries made in the kitchens are also on sale...again at very good prices.

If you've never had the opportunity to visit the Center, a good introduction is at lunch. Join them...it's habit forming!

Saturday night was quite the night for the Inter-Lakes Chapter of the Sweet Adelines. The gals sponsored a night of barbershop harmony at the CAI Building in Waterford.

The evening was informal, a sort of "after-glow" setting full of tremendous vocal efforts. Featured groups included "The Vagabonds," a male quartet which placed seventh in the international competitions. "The Bean Town 4" brought down the house with their comedy routine set to music.

The gals' quartets took over with the Front Office Four who placed first in the region competition covering Michigan, Ohio, and parts of Canada. They were followed by the Mitten State Music Company, another gals' quartet. And the hostesses, not to be outdone provided several chorus selections. They were the group that did such a great job of entertaining at the Mayor's Banquet during Michigan Week.

The theme of the evening was "Come to The Cabaret" with small tables, a light luncheon, and refreshments available during all the singing. Purpose of the evening was not only a fund raiser for the Inter Lakes treasury but to also make the public aware of the barbershop and Sweet Adeline movement...a good will promotion, you might say.

Novi Council Approves Personnel Classification

A comprehensive personnel classification system for all city employees was adopted by the Novi city council Monday.

The council adopted the classification study by a 6-0 vote (Councilman Louie Campbell was not present) after having reviewed it in detail in a study session a week ago Tuesday.

Initiated by City Manager Harold Saunders shortly after he was hired, the system, basically, provides a job description for each municipal position.

Administrative Assistant Edward Kriewall stated Monday that the plan would promote increased efficiency among municipal employees. Saunders has called the plan "absolutely essential" for the smooth operation of the city.

In other items, the council: — directed the police department to prepare a report on the advisability of limiting parking within subdivisions to one side of the street.

Councilman Edwin Presnell raised the issue, stating that allowing parking on both sides of the street frequently creates a potential hazard by impeding the advance of emergency equipment such as fire engines.

The Police Department will conduct a study of the problem and return to the council with a list of recommendations.

— learned that the "magic square" at Orchard Hills Elementary School is nearing completion. Kriewall told the council that five of the six concrete slabs which comprise the square have been laid and that work on the sixth slab has been started.

— directed Kriewall to advertise for bids for a brush chipper. Kriewall told the council that the chipper is a basic piece of equipment for any municipal DPW department and will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

— received a letter from Rose White informing them of her resignation from the Novi Library. Mrs. White has worked in the library since 1963.

Van Wagners Star

Novi's brother combination of Tom and Jim VanWagner were standouts for Michigan Tech this past weekend even though the Huskies dropped a 7-0 decision to the University of Minnesota-Duluth.

Jim, a freshman, saw his first game action of the season with a long gain of 16 yards. Because of his performance, head coach Jim Kapp has indicated that he will use the 6-1, 195 pounder this Saturday when the Huskies face Northland College.

While Jim was grinding out 21 yards, older brother Tom, a sophomore, was opening holes for the Tech runners from his offensive guard position.

The Huskies are now 1-1 for the season.

ANNUAL REPORT—Novi Community School District

NOVI BOARD OF EDUCATION
ANNUAL REPORT
September 25, 1973

The following report reviews the financial position of the Novi Community School District for the period ending June 30, 1973. This report is published to inform the citizens regarding educational program, receipts and expenditures for the past school year.

The 1972-73 school year was another year of growth for the Novi Schools. 2,148 students were enrolled in the district's three elementary schools and two secondary schools. Our student population grew by 10 percent, the largest percentage growth in Oakland County.

Major construction projects were authorized by the voters in June of this year. This $13,500,000 Bond proposal included:

1. A new high school
2. Two new elementary schools
3. Addition to the Village Oaks School
4. Renovation of present high school
5. Purchase of additional school sites

These projects will begin shortly with all construction anticipated to be completed by 1978.

In addition to the bond issue, the voters approved two millage propositions and elected three members to the Board of Education. The first proposition was to renew six mills that expired with the December tax collection. The second proposition involved a two and one half mill increase. Mr. Norman Miller, Mrs. Sharon Felchak and Mr. Robert Wilkins were elected to fill three positions on the Board of Education. Mr. William Ziegler resigned from the Board of Education at the end of the school year due to job responsibilities.

Meetings of the Board of Education were held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month during the 1972-73 school year, with a few exceptions due to holiday conflicts. Special study and work sessions were held to discuss personnel and land acquisitions.

Outside agencies many times are involved to assure the normal operation of the school district. The law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone and the firm of Giles and Knauer were employed for legal matters by the Board of Education during the 1972-73 fiscal year. The audit of District's financial records was conducted by Janz & Knight, Certified Public Accountants.

The Bureau of School Services of the University of Michigan helped with assessing the needs of the school district.

The official audit and resulting formal report of 1972-73 budget shows the district was able to operate successfully with a balance of revenues over expenditures of $38,459.86. The General Fund Equity was increased to $113,042.43.

Many changes accompanied the balanced budget. The central office moved out of the high school into the portable units in front of the tennis courts. A nature trail (outdoor classroom) was designed and built next to the Middle School. An integrated day/open classroom-like program was initiated at Village Oaks and gained state-wide attention. Language exploration as a club activity was a tremendous success at Orchard Hills. Continuous Progress programs in math and reading were explored at Novi Elementary. The Middle School began a mini-program while carefully examining the total curriculum.

The High School was accredited for the first time by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. A Needs Assessment Committee was formed by the Board of Education involving students, parents and staff.

This committee worked with the University of Michigan's Bureau of School Studies and completed a ten-year plan for the district, projecting both building needs and curriculum concerns. Finally, the year concluded with a vote of confidence as the electorate approved the millage and bond issues.

A truly united effort involving citizens, staff and students who truly cared. Progress has been made toward meeting the needs of all students. Continuous study and modification to achieve that end will always be necessary.

The future will see more course offerings in a variety of subject areas within various ability ranges so that we can develop each child to his fullest potential.

Gerald B. Kratz, Ed. D.
Superintendent of Schools
Novi Community School District

Audit Report

We have examined the balance sheet of the various funds of the NOVI COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT as of June 30, 1973, and the related statements of revenue and expenditures for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The scope of our examination covered the financial records of the school district, but did not include the child accounting records.

Our procedures in the examination of the financial information presented relative to Public Law 89-10 Title I (The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965) programs were designed to satisfy ourselves that the recorded expenditures were made in accordance with the regulations of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare relating to allowable expenditures under the Act.

In accordance with recommendations of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Revised Manual of Instruction for "Finance Accounting for Michigan School Districts," the school district maintains its financial records on a modified accrual basis of accounting. Under this method, generally, revenues are recognized at the date they become receivable and expenses are recognized when incurred. The major exception to this rule is the purchase of transportation equipment. These costs are to be recognized as expenditures only when paid. If transportation equipment is acquired on contract, only current payments are recognized as expenditures during the current year.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets and related statements of revenues and expenditures present fairly the financial position of Novi Community School District at June 30, 1973, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting practices generally followed by Michigan school districts applied on a consistent basis.

The comments which follow were written in conjunction with the statements as presented herewith and should be considered an integral part thereof.

(Signed) JANZ & KNIGHT
Certified Public Accountants

Police Blotter: Return Home Thwarts Theft

In Novi

A Novi man arriving at home with his family one evening last week apparently interrupted a breaking and entering while it was in progress.

The man told police that he was pulling into the driveway of his home at 27164 Meadowbrook Road on September 18 when he observed someone with a flashlight in the living room of the house.

The man said that he then saw someone run out the back door and into a field behind the residence. Police were summoned and investigating officers subsequently called for Banner, the police dog of Sergeant Dale Gross.

The dog picked up the scent of the intruder and tracked him through the open field back out to Meadowbrook Road, police report, where they theorize the man was picked up by a waiting automobile.

An estimated $300 worth of damage was done to the Novi City Park in a break in which occurred September 14.

According to police reports, the buildings in which the rest rooms are located had been broken into. Locks on the doors had been forced open and all the windows in the building were broken out.

Police noted that numerous rolls of toilet tissue and broken bottles were scattered around inside the building. In addition, park personnel reported that a number of tools had been removed during the breaking and entering.

Split Vote

Wixom Adopts BOCA Code

In a split vote Tuesday night, the Wixom city council adopted the Building Officials Conference of America (BOCA) code which takes immediate effect and will govern any building construction within the city.

The one dissenting vote was cast by Councilman Fred Morehead who stated he was not in favor of changing the code "in mid-stream" of the building season.

"We've lived with the present code (the 1955 BOCA version) since 1968," Morehead said, "why can't we keep it until January when there is little or no building taking place?"

As prepared by City Attorney Gene Schnelz, the BOCA adoption resolution was called an "emergency resolution" which means simply it would take effect immediately upon council approval. Schnelz explained this measure was to save council time and the expense of having to have the resolution read more than once into the record.

Schnelz pointed out the city would benefit by adopting the BOCA code before January or the state would step in.

"In January," Schnelz told council, "the state implies its own code and we (the city) would lose control in the matter if we wait for the state's to go into effect."

Building Official Carlton Oldford stated there are no major changes in the 1971 and 1972 codes council adopted

A rug valued at $270 and four prints valued at $50 each were reportedly stolen from a model home in a breaking and entering at the Stonehenge sales models on September 20. The door on the model had been forced open and a padlock on a construction trailer had also been pried off.

Larceny of a water tank valued at $150 was reported last week.

The tank was removed from a farm at 2400 Taft Road.

COURT NEWS

Peter John Anton, 22, of 2030 Austin Drive in Novi pled guilty to the charge of interference with a police officer in the discharge of his duty (perjury) before Judge Martin Boyle in 52nd District Court recently.

The charge stemmed from an incident which occurred on April 13 of this year when Anton was ticketed for a traffic violation. Anton subsequently testified under oath that he was not the driver of the car. The perjury charge was levied after investigation revealed that Anton had been the driver of the vehicle.

He was sentenced to pay $150 in court costs and to be confined in the Oakland County Jail on fifteen consecutive weekends.

In Northville

Possible abduction of a 13-year-old girl by a 34-year-old man is under investigation this week by Northville city and Inkster police.

The pair was picked up by Northville officers shortly before noon last Thursday at Novi Road and Allen Drive. Police had received information from Novi that the two had been drinking and acting suspiciously while at a Novi gas station.

City police found the two in a car matching the description given by Novi. The man was arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a minor after it was learned that girl was 13 years old and beer and wine were found in the car.

The girl later told police the man had taken her from Inkster against her will the previous day and refused to let her call home.

Theft of stereo equipment from 505 Grace Street was reported to police Sunday evening.

Taken from the home were a four-track Panasonic stereo cassette, am-fm tape recorder and stereo radio with two speakers, valued at $400.

Police said the theft took place between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. while the house was locked. No signs of forced entry were found, officers reported.

Two bomb threats were investigated by police this week.

At 3:45 p.m. Friday, a young male caller phoned a bomb threat to Northville High. At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, a male caller placed a similar call to Burger Chef at 401 North Center.

Both places were checked with negative results by police.

A Smith and Wesson .357 Magnum and half box of shells were stolen from a pickup truck parked at 316 North Center Street.

The theft took place between 2 and 6 p.m. last week Wednesday, it was reported to police.

Theft of a 10-speed bicycle from behind the Palace Restaurant, 333 East Main Street, was reported to police last week Wednesday.

The bike was stolen between 4:30 and 11 p.m., police said. The 1973 Sears red, white and blue bike, valued at $91, was nearly new.

City police were called to assist Michigan State Police Troopers shortly after 8 p.m. September 18 in the apprehension of an escapee.

According to reports, Robert E. Griswold, 34, was wanted for escape from Jackson State Prison and Louisiana State Penitentiary. He was apprehended at a home on Carpenter Street, police said.

FIRE CALLS

September 21—12:58 a.m., fire next to clubhouse in Highland Lakes.

In Township

Damage at the elementary school site in Highland Lakes was reported to Northville township police Monday.

Concrete blocks, pipes and stakes were broken, bags of cement opened and spread around the area and trenches were filled in.

The incident took place sometime during the past weekend and police and school officials said youths playing on the site were responsible for the damage.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said the construction site at Highland Lakes is experiencing "more than the normal amount of damage."

The contractor is planning to fence the construction site and a temporary guard will be hired, school officials said. Although school officials could not place a dollar amount on the damages, approximately one week of construction time was lost through the incident, they explained.

A stereo system valued at $600 was stolen from 42616 Seven Mile Road sometime between 10 p.m. last week Wednesday and 9 a.m. Thursday.

Township police said the door to the home was found open by the owner but no evidence of pry marks could be found.

Missing are an amplifier, turntable, two speakers and a set of headphones.

Two bicycles were stolen from the driveway of a home at 41705 Sunnydale Lane. The theft was reported shortly before 7 p.m. last week Wednesday.

A 1973 24-inch green Stingray, valued at $76, and a boy's 26-inch green bike were taken from the driveway.

In Wixom

Police feel they narrowly missed catching the individual who broke into Van's Texaco Station at 28500 Wixom Road early Tuesday morning, September 18.

While on routine patrol, officers checked the building and found it secure. Approximately 25 minutes later the break in was discovered as police were making another check.

A cash register removed from the building during the break in was discovered behind the building. Also stolen during the break in was a box containing nine cartons of cigarettes and a tape deck and an unknown number of tapes from a car parked behind the station.

The case is under investigation.

Thomas Emond at 48261 Pontiac Trail reported the theft of a 1973 Honda roadbike last week.

The vehicle was stolen from the parking lot of the Docksey Apartments.

Three tires and an air cleaner stolen from a Wixom police car on September 11 were recovered last week.

The stolen items were discovered by a man in an open field near the city dump as he was taking his dog for a walk.

The police car had been parked behind the DPW garage waiting repairs when the tires and air cleaner were stolen.

Child Development Center Suit

Expert Court Testimony Awaited

Expert testimony will be taken next month in a court suit which challenges a new plan for care of retarded and emotionally-troubled children in Wayne County.

The hearings before Wayne Circuit Judge Thomas Pournell will begin after the close of a trial which Roumell expects to keep him occupied through September. An exact date will be set at a preliminary meeting scheduled for October 1 by Roumell.

The civil suit charges that the new plan might not provide quality care. The class action suit was filed on behalf of Local 832 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, and three children at the Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville Township and their parents.

Roumell's order that both sides present expert witnesses was issued at a show cause hearing. Defendants in the case are the County Board of Commissioners, the State of Michigan, Governor William Milliken and Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, director of the State Department of Mental Health.

The new plan calls for creation of a central referral agency to place retarded and troubled children in community-based facilities, with the Child Development Center eventually being closed.

The plan was adopted by the Board of Commissioners in May upon recommendation of a joint state-county task force appointed by Governor Milliken at the request of County Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick.

An isolated large facility, such as the Child Development Center, founded in 1925, "is contrary to modern treatment programs and is detrimental to the growth of the individual," said the task force.

The new program is planned to operate under the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health Services Board, which qualifies it to receive 75 percent of its operating funds from the state.

Novi Names Mrs. Stipp To City Clerk Position

In the wake of the retirement of City Clerk Mabel Ash last week, Novi's city council Monday approved a reshuffling of city personnel to fill the vacancy.

The council appointed Mrs. Geraldine Stipp, present City Treasurer, to replace Mrs. Ash as City Clerk at an annual salary of $11,000.

In a related appointment, the council named Mrs. Evelyn Natzel, presently the supervisor of the Sewer and Water Department, to the position of City Treasurer to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Stipp's acceptance of the City Clerk's office.

Mrs. Natzel was appointed City Treasurer at a salary of $10,000 per year.

A third appointment, however, stirred heavy criticism from Councilwoman Romaine Roethel who, in effect, accused the administration of dragging its feet in the hiring of additional personnel already approved by the council.

Mrs. Roethel objected to the appointment of Edward Kriewall as acting Water and Sewer Department Supervisor to fill in for Mrs. Natzel until a permanent successor is found.

"Mr. Kriewall is already our administrative assistant, DPW head, and road commissioner and now we're going to make him acting head of the Sewer and Water Department," stated Mrs. Roethel. "How much more can we expect Mr. Kriewall to do at this point?"

"At the budget we approved the 1973-74 time we approved the expenditure of funds to hire a fulltime DPW head to free Mr. Kriewall of some of these duties," she continued. "It seems to me that something should be done to carry out that general direction."

Mayor Joseph Crupi responded that it is not unusual for an individual to hold several jobs and supervise a department.

Planner Resigns

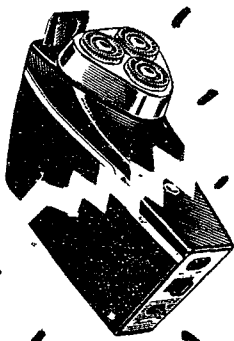

Novi's city council is considering a list of seven applicants for a position on the Planning Board following the resignation last week of Planner William Weber.

list of seven candidates for the vacancy.

In a letter to the council, Weber stated that his resignation was prompted by an increased work load that prevented him from giving the amount of time he would like to be able to give as a city planner.

The council is considering a
