CLEAN-UP of Northville streams, co-sponsored by the Northville Beautification Commission and the Northville Jaycees, will take place Saturday morning. Success of the project will depend on community participation, Beautification Commissioner and Jaycee John Swienkowski emphasized, pointing out that civic and service organization members are urged to meet at 8 a.m. in the Northville Downs main lot where cleanup crews will be formed. Coffee and lunch will be served to all volunteers. City trucks and a wrecker will be available for heavy duty work. "Save Our Streams" is the theme of this project.

CONVERSION of the property immediately west of the First Presbyterian Church to some kind of retail businessplace is likely in the near future. The old building, formerly owned by Mrs. D. Harper Britton has been purchased by the Northville Economic Development Corporation.

PROPOSAL by Wayne County to eventually widen Center Street, from Eight Mile to Seven Mile roads, has run into stiff opposition from the Northville City Planning Commission. Plans were disclosed recently by Franklin Meyers, executive director of the Inter-County Highway Commission of Southeastern Michigan. Local planners see Center as becoming a secondary artery with development of a more convenient north-south route along Griswold.

BLACKTOPPING of the new municipal parking lot between Main and Dunlap, east of Wing Street was scheduled to get underway this week. Similar work on the new lot between Center and Wing, south of Cady Street is to begin next week.

THE CITY OWNED house and garage at 519 Fairbrook is to be vacated soon and converted to quarters for the General Ambulance Company. Presently, General is temporarily using a house on Randolph Street.

NORTHVILLE'S NEW city manager, Steven L. Walters, is scheduled to assume his new role here on Monday. City manager at St. Ignace, Walters is the former assistant city manager at neighboring Plymouth. Since Frank Ollendorff became city manager at Adrian, A. Russell Clarke, a retired Northville banker, has been serving as acting manager.

'Dial Alarms' Alarm Police Department

By SALLY BURKE

Telephone alarm systems, a relatively new invention in protecting homes and businesses, pose a potential danger in Northville, the city police department believes. Programmed to dial the police department's emergency number when something happens to the home or business, the alarm has a recorded message which notifies the department that an emergency exists at a certain location.

"Once we've answered the call and dispatched a car, the alarm continues to dial the police department until it has run its cycle," City Police Lieutenant Louis Westfall said.

His concern is that the alarms dial in on the department's emergency line. "Right now we have four such alarms in the city," Westfall explained. "If we have enough installed, they could tie up all the emergency lines with false alarms tripped by a small drop in power. If that happened, someone who might be trying to call because their house was on fire wouldn't be able to get through."

The lieutenant said the alarms have been installed without the police department knowing about the alarm "until we receive the first call."

In order to control the alarms, the city council is considering adopting an ordinance, similar to those imposed by other cities. A public hearing on the ordinance will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, October 15.

"Detroit, Livonia, Dearborn Heights, Inkster and others all have ordinances which require approval of the police department prior to installation," Westfall said. "We could free telephone lines for outside emergency calls if the alarms came in on a special line."

A spokesman for a company which installs the telephone alarm systems said they are popular with homeowners "because they're cheaper than other systems."

Harry Quasht of Central Alarm Signal company in Detroit said cost ranges "from a minimum of $600 to $2,000."

"Alarms are run through the telephone wires to the police station," he explained. "Our company usually notifies the police department when we install the alarms but not all will accept the alarms," he said, naming Detroit and Southfield as two cities which have ordinances governing the telephone systems.

The alarms are programmed to activate when contact is made on a door, window, floor mat, vibration, or change in power, including momentary power failures, Quasht said.

He added that the alarms are installed without notifying the telephone company. "We may call them if we have an unusual problem, but otherwise they are not involved."

Hayes Wilson, manager of the Northville-Plymouth area for Michigan Bell, confirmed that the telephone company

New Township Zoning Plan Triggers Citizens' Protests

More than 75 people turned out Monday night to voice objections to Northville township planning commission's proposed zoning ordinance.

No one in the audience at the public hearing spoke in favor of the proposed rezoning of the township.

Although most of those attending the hearing were against the proposed rezoning of Haggerty Road north from Five Mile Road to Hawthorn Center from residential to research and development, they disagreed on zoning in other areas.

Some wanted multiple housing along Haggerty Road, others did not. Some favored industrial zoning in the western part of the township while others urged one-acre lots be preserved in the area.

David Hoyle of Winchester Drive seemed to voice the concern of most of the residents attending the hearing when he said that if the Haggerty Road area were zoned research and development the "area next to Northville Commons and Northville Colony will be cluster housing or multiples. This is not why I bought a home in Northville township."

More than 75 percent of those attending the hearing raised their hands in agreement when he asked for a show of those who supported his reason for moving into the township.

Thomas Murdock of Rayburn drive criticized the planning commission's move in placing the research and development zoning mainly within the Plymouth School District area.

"It would not be the best place since the majority of the taxes we pay are for schools" and the majority of the township is within the Northville School District, "Place it where we can maximize the tax base," he urged.

Planning Commission Chairman James Nowka said the planners were aware much of the proposed research and development zoning was within the Plymouth School District but that topography of the area and proximity to the proposed expressway were strong points in placing the zoning along Haggerty Road.

"Most of the township land is rolling hills," Nowka added.

One resident suggested Sheldon Road corridor was the most logical place to put research and development zoning.

Fred Peterson of Jamestown Circle, representing Schoolcraft Community College, said the college board of trustees had taken an official position against the Haggerty Road zoning across from the college.

"The college does not consider research and development zoning consistent with the purpose and aims of Schoolcraft College."

Marvin Gans of Six Mile Road, an instructor at Schoolcraft, said increased surface transportation caused by trucks and employees of the plants built in the research and development area along Haggerty Road would adversely affect college traffic.

Gans said he felt the planners could not "enact the will of the people in expressing your will."

"The people defeated by referendum (industrial) zoning," he reminded commissioners. He likened their re-proposal of the Haggerty Road rezoning to a school district continually going back to the people with a millage issue.

"If the tax base (raised along Haggerty Road) does not affect the larger portion of the people it is not a tax base. What affect does research and development rezoning have for people living now in that area but who do not have enough acreage to sell?" Gans asked.

Hoyle stressed, he did not favor research and development along Haggerty Road and asked what recourse he had if the planning commission and town-

INVESTIGATE MURDER — Wayne County Sheriff's detectives examine the scene in Hines Park where Robert Christopher Harden, 18, of Northville township was found beaten to death Monday morning.

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives are continuing their search for leads in the murder of Robert Christopher Harden, 18, who was found beaten to death Monday in Hines Park.

R. Christopher Harden

The youth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harden of 18256 Jamestown Circle, was found face down in a puddle about 50 feet west of the bridge on the Northville Recreation Area drive off Northville Road.

His body was discovered about 8 a.m. by Wayne County Road Commission crews and was in plain view from the drive, sheriff's detectives said.

Detectives said the youth had been there "a matter of hours." He had a cut over one eye and bruises on the neck, chest and back, detectives reported. An autopsy was to be conducted.

No identification was found on the body. He was identified by his parents early Tuesday morning after they were alerted by friends that a description given out by the sheriff's department matched that of their son.

A graduate of Northville High School in June, the youth worked for his father, an engineer, at Heritage Design, 107 East Main Street, designers of industrial fixtures and gauges.

The Hardens moved to Northville three years ago and Robert had been a student at Northville since May, 1972.

Harden said his son moved out a week ago — (last week Tuesday) and he thought he was living with some boy friends but did not know where.

He said he knew of no reason for his son's death and that police are still working on the case.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend Father John Wittstock will officiate.

Born August 12, 1955, in Detroit, he is survived by his parents, two sisters, Nancy and Tracy, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. William A. Harden and Mrs. Mary Pascarella.

Burial will be in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mayor's Unopposed

7 Run for Council

Unopposed Mayor A.M. Allen is a sure winner for re-election come November—but there's plenty of uncertainty in the bunched up race for city council.

Seven men filed nominating petitions for council by Monday's 5 p.m. deadline. Two seats are up for election.

The seven candidates include one incumbent, Paul Folino, and one former city councilman, W. Wallace Nichols.

Other council candidates are: Wesley R. Henrikson, 21107 Stanstead; Allen C. Ingle, 47115 Grasmere; Lawrence W. Sheehan, 45748 Clement Court; Gerald N. Stone, 370 South Rogers; and Eugene R. Wagner, 663 Thayer.

Councilman Kenneth Rathert, whose term is expiring as is that of Folino, is not seeking re-election.

The council seats are for four-year terms, while the mayor's term is for two years.

Mayor Allen, who is unopposed as he was two years ago, has "won" himself an unprecedented eighth term even though the election isn't until Tuesday, November 6. Only should someone campaign and win as a write-in could the mayor be defeated at this point.

Allen has served longer than any official in Northville's history.

Folino first won election to the council four years ago. Nichols, who presently serves on the planning commission, was narrowly defeated for re-election to the council two years ago.

Sheehan is a businessman, owning Little Caesars Pizza Treat here; Ingle is an attorney; Stone is a downtown businessman; Henrikson is an insurance agent agency owner; and Wagner, a museum games businessman.

Garbage Hustler

In Our Town

Erma Bombeck Opens Series

A woman who calls herself a "housewife, garbage hustler and pretty face" opens the 1973-74 Northville Town Hall series at 11 a.m. next Thursday, at the Thunderbird Hilton.

Nationally syndicated columnist Erma Bombeck will be on hand to talk about the brighter side of life as a mother of three teenagers and housewife.

Mrs. Bombeck's column, At Wits End, appears in about 250 newspapers throughout the country and tells the funny side of her domestic life.

Detroit Free Press columnist Judd Arnett will introduce Mrs. Bombeck in Town Hall.

Season's tickets for all four

Town Hall lectures are still available. They may be purchased by sending $12 to the attention of Mrs. DiComo at Northville Town Hall Series, Box 93, Northville.

Theater hostesses for the Erma Bombeck appearance will be serving under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kent Mathes. Hostesses are Mrs. William Wilkinson, Mrs. Stan Sonk, Mrs. Robert Coolman, Mrs. William Tucker, Mrs. Kenneth Shelly and Mrs. David Sparling.

Town Hall patrons who are planning to attend the luncheon following the lecture are reminded they must have their tickets Friday, October 5.

Mrs. Path Honored

Mrs. Herbert C. Path of Jamestown Circle, past president of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries, will be one of the honorees when the organization entertains at its traditional President's Day on October 10.

Mrs. Ralph L. Young, president and Mrs. A. Warren Brock, president emeritus, head the list of honorees which includes presidents of other clubs and church groups as well as the Association's Past Presidents.

A Mini-luncheon will be served at 12 p.m. noon in the Goodwill Building on Brush near East Grand Boulevard. Following the luncheon Mrs. Brock will present an inspirational message and the Cass Technical High School Madrigal singers will give a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Jones.

Husband Builds Backyard Surprise

By JEAN DAY

A WINDMILL erected on a farm hardly evokes a comment, but when one rises next to a new home in Lexington Commons in our town, it's truly a conversation piece. The windmill, thought to be one of the original ones on the Leelanau peninsula in northern Michigan, was purchased a couple of years ago by John Conder.

Last month he assembled and erected it behind his home on Woodhill road. It is an operable windmill but not at present connected to a water supply, says Mrs. Conder, adding that her husband "collects a little bit of everything."

The sight of the pyramid structure topped by the slated wheel greeted Connie Conder when she returned last week from a trip to Ireland. Mrs. Conder had met her mother, who lives in Los Angeles, in New York and they had flown to Ireland where they spent three weeks touring.

"We're an Irish family," she explained as she told how the trip long had been anticipated by her mother whose parents were Irish and who had distant relatives there. They rented a car and as soon as Mrs. Conder adjusted to having the steering wheel on the "wrong" side, they were off sightseeing in both southern and northern Ireland.

Connie Conder admits they "probably were an exception" as most tourists do not cross the border to Northern Ireland where there are armed soldiers. They ventured north, she says, to make visits to the Belleek china factory. They were waved through the border with no trouble, she adds, but were stopped twice by police in Northern Ireland. The travelers also visited the famous Waterford glass factory where they found the average age of a worker was 27 with some children as young as 15 working. They were told that working at the Waterford factory (which produces world-famous cut crystal) was a status job.

This week it's John Conder's turn for a vacation. Since his collection of things old includes vintage cars, he is attending the old-automobile flea market in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

A FREIGHTER trip from Quebec to Tillbury, England, with a stop at Rotterdam was the way Mrs. Robert Lang began a seven-week vacation in Britain. As the only two passengers on a cargo container ship Anne Lang and her daughter Karen occupied the owner's cabin for the 10-day crossing.

They were in London for a week before Bob Lang and their other daughter, Barbara, who was graduated in June from Northville High School, flew over to join them.

They toured by car through England, Scotland and Wales with dinner in a medieval castle in Wales being one of the highlights. Anne Lang says they stopped mostly at little places with "bed and breakfast" signs out. They also visited Oban and the Hebrides Islands. They spent time in Inverness, Glencoe and Edinburgh, Scotland, as well as three days in historic York, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Lang flew home last weekend while their daughters took off for Holland. Before returning home at Christmas the girls plan to visit Brussels, Belgium, where they are to rent a car, and go on to Yugoslavia, Turkey and Greece.

Back at her job at Northville Realty this week, Anne Lang was adjusting her mental time clock and recalling the fun that began with the trip on the British vessel—a "way to go" that she recommends if you're lucky enough to manage it.

TWO KING'S MILL families who have been active in the community are leaving for new homes—in the south and the north. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Anderson departed last week for Tarpon Springs, Florida, where they have purchased a new mobile home in Sun Valley Estates.

The Andersons had viewed the area when they visited Marian Kahler, with whom Kay Anderson had worked at the Northville branch of Manufacturer's bank before both retired.

Since the mobile home is large enough for their own furniture, the Andersons shipped it south and spent their last night in Northville with the Harry Odles, also Jamestown Circle residents. Phil Anderson, a long-time area resident, was a charter member of the Novi Village Council.

The Harry Odles are leaving this Friday for Frankfort, Michigan. There they will be renting an apartment for the winter while overseeing construction of their new home being built on property on Lake Michigan at Elberta.

They bought the property, Mrs. Odle recalls, when they visited former King's Mill neighbors, the Curtis Sniders, who live just "two doors away" from their new lot. Northville residents for five and a half years, the Odles have been avid players in duplicate bridge groups and are hoping to find a group in the north. They already have signed up for a travelogue series and an oil painting class in their new community.

Mrs. Odle has been active in the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters and served on the board. She recently was honored at a farewell luncheon by her former fellow board members. She expects to be back in the area for visits as the Odles have a son in Royal Oak and a daughter in Birmingham.

NORTHVILLE MOTHERS' Club will hold its second business meeting of the 1973-74 year at 8 p.m. Monday at the West Main street home of Mrs. Robert Boshoven. Hostesses will be Mrs. Walter Carter, Mrs. Kalin Johnson and Mrs. Ronald Horwath. Mrs. Glenn Deibert, the club's new president, is just back from a fall vacation in Arkansas, an area that is becoming popular with Northville residents. The Deiberts enjoyed tennis and golf every day.

RESERVATIONS have been coming in steadily to Mrs. A. B. Kline, recording secretary of Northville Women's Club, for the luncheon at Meadowbrook Country Club at 12:30 p.m. this Friday which will open the club's 81st year. About 200 members and guests are expected to hear Detroit News society editor Eleanor Breitmeier talk about her work—and her hometown, Northville.

Miss Breitmeier, who gave up commuting to Detroit from Northville years ago, recently moved from a Detroit apartment to her own condominium on Twelve Mile Road. There she has merged such family antiques as a pine cradle with a steel-and-glass table and blue-and-white furnishings.

Past presidents of the club traditionally are honor guests at the luncheon and will be introduced by Mrs. George Weiss, vice president. Mrs. E. A. Chapman, a past president who has just completed serving again on the club board, will give the response. Miss Breitmeier will be introduced by Mrs. Robert Brueck, program chairman.

Northville Senior Citizens traveled to Olympia Stadium on Saturday, September 29, to see Los Muchachos International Boys Circus.

"It was a wonderful show and was enjoyed by all," Club President Mrs. Richard Sharon said. "We would also like to thank the donor of the tickets as they were greatly appreciated," she added.

Copies of the Congressional Record are being made available to the public libraries in Northville and Novi by Congressman William Broomfield, it was announced this week.

The subscriptions also are being sent by Broomfield to libraries elsewhere in the 19th District.

In supplying the copies free to local libraries, Broomfield is encouraging high school government teachers to make their students aware of the available proceedings so that they might use the material in their classroom.

A subscription costs about $45.

Northville Cooperative Nursery will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. today (Thursday).

Speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Edward Koch, past president of the Greater Detroit Cooperative Nursery Council.

Her talk will be on a "timely topic of interest to all nursery mothers," group spokesmen report.

Three members of the Northville Unit 147 American Legion Auxiliary recently returned from the Annual Fall Conference of the Department of Michigan American Legion and Auxiliary.

Attending the workshops were Mrs. David Fisher, president; Mrs. Robert Pohlman, secretary; and Mrs. Helen Rieger, children and youth chairman.

The workshops detailed the various programs which will be featured in the following year of service to "God and Country" by the organization.

Ideas presented at the conference will be discussed with the auxiliary membership at the October 10 meeting.

October 16 Date For U-F Opener

Organizing and training chairmen for the 1973 United Foundation Campaign began last week at the Northville home of Mrs. Robert (Dolores) Yanover, division chairman for this year's drive.

The kick-off date for this year's campaign is Tuesday, October 16, and serving as area chairmen will be Mrs.

George (Barbara) Kausler, Mrs. Judy Calhoun and Mrs. Richard (Gloria) Roberts.

The United Foundation is a "federation of givers and contributions are collected once a year to support 164 community health and service organizations," Mrs. Yanover explained.

The purpose of the Door Belle Campaign is to thank those who contribute at their place of employment and to contact those who wish to support the United Foundation individually, such as housewives and retired persons.

Those who wish to volunteer for the campaign or who have questions regarding the drive may contact Mrs. Yanover at 349-5466.

NEW NOVI CITY CLERK—Monday was the first day on the job for Mrs. Geraldine Stipp. Mrs. Stipp was appointed to replace Mrs. Mabel Ash as Novi City Clerk by the city council last week and thus becomes just the second city clerk in the history of the City of Novi. Although new to the job of city clerk, Mrs. Stipp is no newcomer to the Novi City Hall and has served as City Treasurer for the past two years.

'We're Getting Run-Around'

Citizens Blast City

Charging that they had been given the "run-around" by city officials, an angry contingent of citizens from northern Novi made Monday's city council meeting a hot one.

Close to 25 members of the Northern Novi Civic Association showed up at the session and barraged the council with a list of complaints that ranged from non-maintenance of the City Park to non-enforcement of city ordinances.

Most serious of the charges levied by the residents, however, was that their complaints and requests for assistance have been ignored by city officials.

Bearing the brunt of the outpouring of complaints were Mayor Joseph Crupi and the members of the city council. Most of the charges, however, were levied at City Manager Harold Saunders and the Building Department, which is responsible for ordinance enforcement.

One of the key issues raised by the northern Novi residents concerned a proposed Anti-blight ordinance which they had presented to Saunders for study and possible enactment.

"One of the goals of our Civic Association," explained Mrs. Thelma Smith, "is to clean up our end of the city. We've been researching a lot of ordinances and we found this one in West Bloomfield. We thought it was tailor-made to solve the problems in our area."

However, Mrs. Martha Hoyer, president of the homeowners group, was strongly critical of the consideration given the ordinance by city officials, specifically City Manager Saunders.

"We presented the ordinance to Saunders for his study on July 18," said Mrs. Hoyer, "and it laid on his desk for three months."

"On September 17 we called and asked that the Anti-blight ordinance be placed on the agenda for discussion on October 1," she continued. "On September 25, we learned that the matter had been brought up at the September 24 meeting after we had been led to believe that it would be discussed the following week."

"The reason we're complaining," said Mrs. Hoyer, "is that we believe that we're being given the 'run-around.'"

Saunders was not present to respond to the charges. Mayor Crupi told the people that he had not been aware that they had been promised the matter would be discussed on October 1.

Other residents complained about non-enforcement of ordinances already on the books.

Mrs. Barbara Enzor, a former member of the Planning Board, complained that an ordinance forbidding large bonfires had not been enforced even though she had notified the ordinance enforcement officers.

"If these kind of violations had occurred in one of the Meadowbrooks you wouldn't allow them to continue," charged Mrs. Enzor. "As a citizen of this city I feel that someone should respond when we have complaints."

Athas, Mrs. Ash Seek Election

15 Enter Council Race

With a former city manager and a former city clerk officially entering the race, a total of 15 candidates will be vying for election to the Novi city council in November.

Deadline for filing petitions for the November 5 ballot arrived at 4 p.m. in the office of the Novi city clerk last Thursday.

Ironically, it was the city clerk herself, Mabel Ash, who was the last person to file petitions.

Mrs. Ash, 68, filed petitions for both a two-year and a four-year term on the city council. The following day, Friday, in accordance with the city charter, she withdrew her petition for the two-year term.

Although Mrs. Ash was still employed as city clerk at the time she filed petitions, she no longer holds that position. Her retirement became effective October 1. Mrs. Ash had submitted her letter of retirement at the request of the city council two weeks ago.

Her decision to enter the race for the city council indicates that Mrs. Ash does not intend to withdraw from city government without a fight.

"There aren't many candidates who can match my knowledge of city government here in Novi," she told The Novi News.

One candidate who might disagree with that statement is George Athas, who served as Novi city manager from the spring of 1971 to the fall of 1972.

Athas, who stepped down as city manager to accept a position with The Chapper Organization, a land development company, is a candidate for a two-year term on the council.

Novi voters will have an opportunity to make a wholesale change on the city council in November if they are so inclined as five of the seven council positions expire this year.

Slated for expiration are the terms of Mayor Joseph Crupi, Councilmen Louie Campbell, William O'Brien, and Donald Young, and Councilwoman Romaine Roethel. The only councilmen who will not have to face the voters this year are Denis Berry and Edwin Presnell. Their terms expire in 1975.

Each of the council members whose terms expire this year have filed for reelection.

In November voters will elect a mayor, three coun-

A rezoning request that would have led to the development of a shopping center and an industrial park in the southeast sector of the city was rejected by the Novi city council last Wednesday.

Although no official announcement of the major tenants for the proposed shopping center was made, there were strong rumors that a Korvette department store and a major grocery store were planned for the site.

A crowd of approximately 100 people, most of them from the Olde Orchard condominium development which abuts the property for which the rezoning had been requested, showed up at the hearing to protest the zoning change.

Involved was a 44-acre parcel of property located between Grand River and 10 Mile Roads, immediately west of Haggerty Road.

The Olde Orchard development is located on the west side of the property, while industrial development is slated for the east side of Haggerty Road in Farmington Hills. The parcel is divided into two relatively equal parts by the Patnales Drain which runs diagonally northeast to southwest across the property.

The rezoning request was also divided into two parts. For the property north of the Drain an M-1 (light manufacturing) zoning designation was requested, while a C-2 (general commercial) designation was requested for the property south and east of the Drain.

Edward Vettel, the city planning consultant from Villcan-Leman, recommended denial of both parts of the rezoning request.

Although the request for an industrial development along Grand River is generally consistent with the city's Master Plan, Vettel noted, the awkward (triangular) configuration of the parcel could make traffic flow a problem.

"By granting the rezoning we would be putting ourselves in a position of having to accept a road which is an inferior industrial drive according to our ordinances," Vettel stated.

Vettel proceeded to give two reasons for recommending rejection of the commercial rezoning on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Haggerty Roads.

Noting that a shopping center has been proposed for the southeast corner of Ten Mile and Novi Roads, that the site plan for a shopping center at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads has been accepted, that a shopping center is under construction in nearby Farmington Hills, and that yet another shopping center is proposed for the northwest corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty Road, Vettel suggested that the area is being saturated with shopping centers.

"It is the opinion of our market analyst that the community cannot support any more commercial development of this type in this area," said Vettel. In recommending that the commercial rezoning be denied, he also noted that the request was in conflict with the city's master plan which calls for residential development at that location.

Council Rejects Zoning Request

City Seeks Solution To Willowbrook Suit

All the diverse elements of a complex legal matter involving the City of Novi and Dave Pink, developer of the Willowbrook Number Three subdivision, came together Monday at the Novi city council meeting.

Pink and the City have been at odds since early this summer over the roadside ditches in his development.

The subject first came to the council's attention when a number of Willowbrook residents complained that the drainage system was not functioning properly and that water was stagnating in the ditches, creating a health hazard.

Subsequent investigation of the complaints bore out the information that the ditches had been improperly graded and set off a running feud with Pink that resulted in the council refusing to issue any further certificates of occupancy for any homes in the development until the ditching problem had been repaired.

The matter came to a head at Monday's session.

First of the three elements which the council had to consider arrived over the weekend in the form of a court order notifying the council that Pink had sued the city in an effort to force them to release their hold on the certificate of occupancy.

City Attorney David Fried has been ordered to appear in the Oakland County Circuit Court Wednesday, October 3 (yesterday), to defend the city's position.

The second element was the appearance at the meeting of approximately six potential residents of the subdivision. Arguing that they could neither move into their homes nor close mortgage agreements for purchasing a home, the residents asked the council to reconsider its stop order on the certificates of occupancy.

"We understand your problem with Mr. Pink and we understand why you've taken the action you have," said Daniel Miller, a man who has purchased a home but is being forbidden to move into it.

"But the problem is that we're the ones who are stuck in the middle. Many of us have no place to live because we've already sold our old homes. We'd like you to reconsider your stand on this matter," Miller stated.

Though expressing sympathy with the plight of Miller and the other homeowners, the council was reluctant to take any action in the case for fear of being accused of interfering with the legal proceedings launched by Pink's attorneys.

The third element to enter into Monday's deliberation was the appearance of Pink himself at the meeting. Adopting a conciliatory attitude, Pink told the council that he felt it had taken a drastic step in putting a hold on the certificate of occupancy.

Girl Thwarts Rape Attempt With Pen Knife

Two Southfield men have been arrested by Novi police in conjunction with the attempted kidnapping and rape of a 17-year old girl which took place last Sunday.

George Arnold, 28, and William Myers, also 28, both of Southfield, were arraigned on charges of attempted rape before Judge Martin Boyle in the 52nd District Court in Walled Lake Monday.

Arnold was remanded to the Oakland County Jail on a $1,000 cash or surety bond, while Myers was returned to the Jail on a $5,000 cash or surety bond.

The charges stem from an incident which occurred in Novi at approximately 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, September 30.

A 17-year old girl was walking home from the house of a friend along South Lake Drive when she was approached by two males in a white car and offered a ride.

The girl responded that she did not want a ride, but the two men reportedly continued to drive along beside her asking her to go for a ride with them.

When the girl failed to respond to them, they drove ahead of her and parked their car in a driveway. Police said that the two men then got out of the car and approached the girl on foot. One of the men

"Once you've heard my side of the story, you may decide to reverse that action," stated the developer. "It is my fullest intention to make all the corrections in the ditching that I am asked to."

"I wish that I didn't have to file suit against the City, but I've been forced to by the stop on the occupancy certificates. I would much prefer to solve the matter harmoniously," he continued.

Pink then suggested that the court date was still two allegedly grabbed her by the arm and attempted to drag her into the car.

The girl managed to escape, police said, by pulling a small pocket knife and stabbing one of her assailants in the hand. She made a swipe at the other man and then ran away from the men.

The two men got back in their car and attempted to pursue her, but the girl managed to run to the home of a friend where she called police.

Officers John Zimmer and John April responded to the call and, after talking to the girl, found the two men allegedly responsible for the attack still in the general area.

Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson said that an attempt had been made to connect the two men with an earlier assault case in which a 16-year old boy had been sexually assaulted. The boy in that case reported having been abducted by two men in a white car.

Nelson reported that Arnold and Myers had been placed in a line-up, but that the boys involved in the earlier incident had been unable to make a positive identification.

No further investigation of the possible link between the two incidents is planned at this time, Nelson stated.

DAR Chapter Opens Fall Season

First fall meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Monday at the Hearthside Furniture store in Livonia.

A tour of the store followed the meeting, and refreshments were served. Presiding was the first vice-regent, Mrs. Hugh Lafferty of Plymouth.

Attending the state-wide meeting in Lansing on Thursday were Mrs. Lafferty, Mrs. Feliz Hoheisel, Mrs. Robert Willoughby and Mrs. Halvar Blomberg of Plymouth, and Miss Ruth Knapp and Mrs. George Merwin of Northville.

Mrs. Merwin, state director, also attended the board meeting the previous day (on Wednesday).

The October chapter meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Stark in Ann Arbor.

Of the 39 new teachers hired, 21 had previous teaching experience. Average experience of the 21 was 4.6 years or 2.5 years for all 39 hired.

Eighteen of the teachers had no previous classroom experience, outside Northville; four teachers had one year experience; two teachers, 1½ years; one teacher, two years; two teachers each had 2½, three, 3½ and four years experience.

One teacher had six years teaching experience outside of the district and five teachers had between seven and 18 years experience.

NORTHVILLE FLAG WAVERS—Something new has been added to the Northville High School marching band. In a special halftime ceremony at Friday's football game, the Northville Band Parents Club presented Band Director Bob Williams with 10 brightly colored drill flags in memory of the late Conrad Langfield. Each flag carries a plaque on its staff bearing the words "In Memory of Conrad E. Langfield, 1973". Also during the ceremony Mrs. Langfield was presented with a bouquet of roses and a certificate naming her late husband an honorary member of the Northville band. Above, the members of the flag drill team practice a routine with their new flags.

"In keeping with the tradition of downtown Northville"

SPEAKING for The Record By BILL SLIGER

A township planning commission member recently criticized The Record's story on public reaction to the township's proposed new zoning ordinance.

He termed the report of the public meeting "negative". (Naturally, this delighted the township clerk who responded to newspaper criticism with gleeful applause).

Monday night the planning commission held another public hearing and the story (written by another reporter) appears on page one.

Telling it like it is, one would have to say that public reaction (as demonstrated at two hearings held thus far) has been negative.

I'm sure this is not surprising to veteran planning commission members and their consultant. I've never attended a public hearing where anyone stood up and said they were representing a block of citizens who wished to express their appreciation and support of the efforts and proposals of a public planning and zoning body.

Funny as it sounds, that's exactly what should happen in many instances.

Traditionally, however, public hearings are attended by those who have objections to proposed changes. And certainly this is proper. How else can proponents of change test their ideas and make modifications unless there is public reaction?

But by their nature public hearings are negative. And it becomes the difficult responsibility of appointed and elected officials to decide where the line must be drawn between individual and public welfare. They are subject to personal and political pressures that frequently make it more comfortable and practical to block out convictions reached in the solitude of objective study sessions.

Biggest single thorn in the township's proposed zoning map is the R & D (research and development) corridor proposed along the new expressway paralleling Haggerty in the southeast section of the township.

It's practically the same zoning proposed two or more years ago that was overturned by referendum. The corridor has always maintained (since the mid-sixties) a non-residential designation. But in the face of the proposed R & D zoning, opponents are suggesting multiple dwelling zoning instead.

Planners believe that a highly-restrictive R & D zoning will afford more protection for neighboring residential areas than the typical multiple development.

They envision an industrial park that will provide substantial greenbelt, similar to districts developed in Bloomfield township and Farmington. The expressway access, plus Haggerty road, make the site the most natural for such zoning within the township.

Naturally, the potential taxbase of such development is also a consideration, although not all the area is within the Northville school district.

But planners reached their conclusion knowing full well that the proposal, if supported, could result in a referendum. They know, too, that private interests are exerting pressure for multiple dwelling zoning.

In the final analysis it will be up to the planners to propose and the township board to adopt.

It will not be an easy decision for individual voting board members.

Speaking for Myself

Should Students Evaluate Teachers?

WILLIAM SANDERS

YES . . .

Communication between teachers and students is the basis of education today just as it has been in the past. This interaction is best judged by the student who has taken part in it.

Any teacher can improve from a student's constructive criticism. Being in a classroom every day gives the pupil a bird's-eye view to observe if the teacher is well prepared, interesting, authoritative, fair, etc.

This system could prove invaluable to teachers. It would keep them in touch with their students and promote much more communication between the two parties. The evaluation would represent many different points of view and would give the student who was afraid to make a suggestion a chance to voice his thoughts. This would successfully point out the educator's strengths and weaknesses.

Many teachers have already implemented student evaluation systems in their classrooms and have found them quite successful. But this needs to be done by all teachers. Suggestions by students would help teachers to improve their performances and would therefore upgrade our educational system.

Tom Cook
Northville High School Senior

NO . . .

As a student at Eastern Michigan University I have come across many evaluation sheets concerning teachers and I feel that these judgments do not reflect a true image of an instructor.

The teacher is in the school for a purpose of instruction and to present concepts and relate these to the individual students. Students may argue that his method of teaching turns him off. This student might be showing dogmatic tendencies towards the instructor and is not capable of learning in any other way except his perceptions.

Students in their evaluations tend to release aggression toward what they consider an unfavorable teacher, although the teacher may be the best in the school system. Tolerance should be exerted towards each teacher.

Not every teacher's concepts will relate towards that of the student's concepts, thus judgment shouldn't be passed by way of evaluations. Who is to say that this or that way is the correct way of teaching?

Each individual has opinions of how a teacher should instruct. Students condemn teachers who vary from the norm or force them to think. All the teacher might be trying to do is communicate concepts and produce individual thoughts.

Laud Novi Council

To the Editor:

I would like to commend the Novi City Planning Board and the Novi City Council for their rejection of proposed Ordinance 18,209 at the Joint Special Meeting of the Planning Board and Council, Wednesday, September 26, 1973; Appellate and other area subdivisions who commented and listened at the Public Hearing.

The City Fathers used good judgment in following the Novi City Master Plan. Much praise must be given to Councilwoman Romaine Roethel who pointed out that Rezoning from R-1 (One-Family Residential District) to M-1 (Light Manufacturing District) is a disservice to the residents of the existing community. I feel this way, as do most of my neighbors.

Unfortunately, sometimes residents will move to an area which is already zoned Industrial or Commercial and their say in the community is restricted. (Example, Meadowbrook Lakes Subdivision) Fortunately, for the residents of our area we have spoken almost unanimously against the Rezoning and the City Fathers agree with the residents almost unanimously.

As a new resident recently in the City of Novi, as most of my neighbors are, I will be taking an interest in our City. I hope that the City Fathers will continue their good judgments in Rezoning.

Like many of the residents in the Eastern Section of Novi, I am concerned with Population Density, Adequate Roads, Police and Fire Services, and much more. I hope the City of Novi will make a Population Density Study on this Section of the City and in your newspaper let the residents know the outcome.

I believe that progress is good as long as it is an asset to the community. I believe that a community can be built too fast also. There are other sections of the City that can be developed? Also, within 5 years the Tax Base of the City of Novi will be greatly helped by the new Regional Shopping Center.

In closing I would like to commend Isabel Collins on the wonderful job she did (Grass-Roots Approach) and all the other residents involved in the rejection of proposed Ordinance 18,209.

Sincerely,
Charles M. Young

She Needs Assistance

To the Editor:

I am a fairly new resident of Novi, since March of this year, and I love my new home very much.

I am a polio paralytic (all four extremities except the right arm from the elbow down.) I also use respirator equipment for breathing about 16 to 20 hours a day. I am living in a condominium at Haggerty Road south of Ten Mile with the young woman who cares for me and our home. My income is from Social Security and State Aid.

I am able to conduct a small business from my home with some help. I am a Notary Public, am qualified to prepare Income Tax returns, and I sell wedding invitations, imprinted Christmas cards and Avon products.

My big problem is this—

Since last November when I learned I would be moving, I have been searching the city of Detroit and near-by areas for a home elevator that would enable me to travel in my wheelchair from our ground floor to the basement so that I can use the area for businesses. My father and uncle have completed a lovely large room for me to use but I am not able to get down the stairs.

I have checked every elevator company in the area and have received price quotes from $3500 to $7,000 which are all beyond my means. I have written Contact 10 and Action Line and had no answer. I have tried the March of Dimes and I have tried to find a source for a used elevator. To date, no one has been able to assist me. Several people advised me to write to you for help. Perhaps you would know of some community service organization that might be able to help me in some way.

I am hoping that this letter will do some good. I enjoy being independent but I just cannot afford such an expense and yet I can't really pursue my business the way I'd like without being able to make use of the extra area the basement could provide.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
JoAnn Goodin

'Beer Hill' Story Provokes Contrasting Views

To the Editor:

Having read the ludicrous attempt to expose those "menaces to society" on Beer Hill, I feel obliged as a long-haired, freaky "menace" to comment on your "exclusive, first-hand" article of misconceptions.

I have been a frequent hillside resident for a couple of years now. I will give you one guess what I do up there...WRONG!!! I do NOT go up there to buy dope! I go there to sit on my yoga blanket and meditate, perhaps to meet some friends there, and to enjoy the environment.

That wasn't the anticipated reply, was it? Tsk, tsk. Of course, I'm an exception, right? NOBODY goes up there to just SIT, right? Dead wrong! Your reporter concludes that virtually everybody who frequents the Hill is either a dealer or a doper. Nothing could be farther from the truth. You cannot, of course, deny that the Hill is an excellent place to deal, if that's what you're into—but, by the same token, you also cannot stereotype the Hill People into a "bunch of freaks or cop-outs that can't fit in with the rest of society." That insipid statement reeks of reactionary paranoia, not to mention Fifty-ish clichés.

It is the type of attitude that epitomized the McCarthy era—you're frustrated and paranoid, so put 'em down with a cliché of enormous generality. My dear Mr. Police Chief, WHY are they so-called "freaks or cop-outs"?

There is, of course, a certain amount of escapism inherent in drug usage, just as there is in "social drinking", taking sleeping pills, or any other so-called "respectable and socially sanctioned" method of escape from the "reality" you yourself have created. "Society" is just a concept, a mere mental picture of something you have to protect and defend against those who happen to have a different concept of what is "right." Therefore, to say that the Hill People are "cop-outs who can't fit in with the rest of society" seems to me to be the very height of hypocritical ignorance.

I myself would not even WANT to belong to a "society" where law-enforcement officers (notice I didn't say "pigs") rout the freaks by using such Gestapo tactics as forcing you to open your car or purse without a signed warrant, and then tearing it to pieces, whether they find anything or not. If you talk to any of the "menaces" on the Hill, you will find I am not exaggerating in the least—it happens all the time.

Thus, the very people who are supposed to protect you from such things commit them daily. A blatant violation of the State Bill of Rights, Article One, Section Eleven, by the way. HAPPY NEAR YEAR, 1984!

The fact remains that the Hill People go there because there is literally no other place for them to congregate without harassment. Where is there such a place, if you dispute this fact? The answer is, I think, pretty obvious. There is none; thus, if you come right down to it, the fault of so much bad stuff on the Hill lies directly with you, for not providing a fun, drug-free environment.

True, it has gotten out of hand. The police SHOULD keep the hard stuff like heroin, coke, speed and downers out of the park, but the unnecessary harassment should ALSO be kept at a minimum. Do not condemn the Hill People as "menaces to society" till you eliminate all the tranquilizers in your bathroom medicine chests. Think about that while you take your sleeping pill tonight.

Hopefully Yours,

Robbie Clark

P.S. You probably won't print this, but that will just prove my point...

To the Editor:

It is 2:12 A.M. and I have just awakened from a horrible nightmare involving the drug scene and my own family. I am sure this "dream nightmare" was triggered by reading John Beckett's excellent and disturbing article on the very real nightmare of Beer Hill. An article long overdue.

We all realize the problem would just move to another location if Beer Hill was swamped nightly with police, but do we really want Northville known as "the in place to get drugs"? Granted, if they want drugs they will find it somewhere but do we have to allow it here, so available? Could not a real effort with surrounding communitiee police forces wipe this out of Beer Hill? Perhaps an impossible task, but do we let it go on year after year pulling in our young children? I wonder how many of us cringed when picking up the paper and wondering if we would spot our sons or daughters in the picture of Beer Hill.

It is a very difficult job as a parent to forbid Beer Hill. It immediately becomes more attractive and right within walking distance, too. How many parents really check to see if their child is really visiting Joe or Betty for a few hours in the evening? Must we follow them and check up constantly? I know, "communicate with your kids - know their friends - trust the upbringing you gave them". I say baloney! Peer pressure is a tremendous thing. Many of the straight kids are not so straight and don't make the mistake of labeling every long hair a drug user. "But I've watched for signs - been to umpteen drug forums - asked my kids if they're into drugs and they say no." Haven't we all said this?

Marihuana is being pushed upon all of us as a "nothing to get excited about" thing. It is extremely frustrating to talk with some kids that you feel are leveling with you and have them tell you they see nothing wrong with marihuana and know of some parents and teachers that feel the same. It's the old story - "It's up to each individual to make up his or her mind about drugs". At what age? I wonder. 13? 15? 17? How many of our young adults hold these views? Some of our children we will probably never have to worry about them becoming involved with drugs but what about all the others? And there are many.

It's tough being a kid these days. It's certainly tough being a parent. Didn't you feel a cold chill start in the pit of your stomach and work its way up and grab you heart after reading John Beckett's article? I did. No one seems to have any answers. I hope someone, some how can help us help our beloved children. We need all the help we can get.

FISH Needs Support

To the Editor:

"To be or not to be." This famous quotation applied to the success of the forthcoming Northville-Novi FISH rummage sale at Novi Community Building, October 20, 1973, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The sales' success depends on the hearts of the citizens of the whole community.

As Northville-Novi FISH has grown in the past year, this non-sectarian, non-profit organization, which is an all-volunteer group, has been able to provide emergency help to many people in both communities. We have over the past year established a family clothes closet, a milk fund and a new shoe fund for the children of needy families. Our current project is to establish a canned goods center for emergency calls for food, which we receive throughout the year.

These activities are in addition to the many other services we offer, such as emergency transportation, 24 hour emergency telephone answering services to handle individual problems which may arise.

We are able to provide referral service for legal, medical aid, personal counseling with various members of the clergy, visiting the ill and elderly. All of this is made possible through the volunteer services of individual members within Northville-Novi FISH.

This important rummage sale helps maintain these services and hopefully will provide help in other areas as required.

Please mark October 20 on your calendar and join us in our effort to help our neighbors. The Novi Community Building is located at 26360 Novi Road.

We have many interesting items for sale, but additional contributions are still needed such as costume jewelry, dishes, linens, kitchen utensils, small electrical appliances, toys, books and small pieces of furniture.

To donate items please call either the FISH answering service at 349-4350 or the Matthews residence at 349-7197.

News From Lansing

BY R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative

By R. ROBERT GEAKE

Irate letters from a number of parents, followed up by my own investigations, have led me to a startling conclusion. The word "scholarship" has become little more than a joke in this state. Money which used to go to scholars is now being given almost exclusively to college applicants on the basis of family income alone.

This means that some $17 million annually of your tax money and mine appropriated by your legislature for state supported scholarships is going to "students" from low income families with little regard for academic aptitude. This means that if you are in the middle income group, the chances of your child getting financial aid to attend college are virtually nil, regardless of his or her high school record!

How did this ridiculous situation come about? The incredible answer is that all of our state supported institutions of higher learning have turned over the selection of scholarship recipients to an independent organization known as the College Scholarship Service (CSS). This "service" then tells the institutions who to give the aid to on the basis of a computerized reading of a confidential statement of family finances prepared by the parents.

The liberal social philosophy of the administrators of the College Scholarship Service is that scholarships should not be given on the basis of ability, but on the basis of who is the most "needy." Right now anyone coming from a family earning more than $9,000 a year is likely to be considered too rich to deserve any help.

The proprietors of the CSS are certainly entitled to their opinions and to their social philosophies. My question is, "Why should state supported colleges and universities accept this selection method?" and, more to the point, why should we as citizens and taxpayers permit a scheme which systematically excludes from financial assistance the sons and daughters of the very people who have worked hard to provide a good standard of living for their families, paying high taxes to support education all the while?

There is a legal challenge now being made in the courts to the practice of awarding scholarships on the basis of parents' income. The challenge is based on the grounds that students are legally adults at age 18. Since their parents are no longer responsible for their support, it should be illegal to deny them any benefits on the basis of parents' financial status.

If this challenge is not successful, I will support legislation that would require the balancing of scholastic ability and financial need criteria in order to assure that those we are sending to college at public expense are at least capable of profiting from the education they receive.

NEA Seeks Accord

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Northville Education Association, I would like to thank the citizens and parents of this community that encouraged and supported the teachers during their negotiations. We are extremely glad that settlement was reached without the necessity of going to court.

I am sure that each teacher joins with the rest of the community in the desire that such regrettable measures will not be necessary during future negotiations. Early settlements will benefit us all and can always be reached if both sides are fully prepared to bargain and give negotiations reasonable attention from the time they begin in early April.

I hope that the teachers and the community can work together throughout the year to improve the quality of education in our community.

Sincerely,
Priscilla A. Smith

ALARM SYSTEMS—Currently housed in several different units, burglar alarms would be consolidated in one panel if Northville City Council follows a proposal made by the police department. Included in the recommendation is a proposed ordinance governing telephone alarm systems which police hope to control before such alarms begin tying up the police emergency telephone lines.

'Dial Alarms' Alarming

"has nothing to do with the - alarms."

"In most cases, we would not even be aware of what is happening," Wilson said. "Michigan Bell is not pushing the alarm systems."

Westfall said the telephone alarms are not fool proof. "They're not programmed to recognize a busy signal and it is conceivable that all our lines could be tied up and the alarm could complete its cycle without ever reaching the police department."

The system the lieutenant favors would include a light and meter for each separate alarm. The light would be activated along with a bell when the alarm is triggered and the meter would enable the police to tell if the alarm is working properly or is defective.

Such a plan would provide more protection for the homeowner and businessman who would then be assured the alarm signal would be received at the police station and not turned away by a busy signal.

Right now, the ordinance requiring police approval of the telephone alarm system is the first step in stopping what the lieutenant said "could be the beginning of a never ending problem."

Kenneth Jacob Named Director of Probation

Kenneth Jacobs, 29-year-old Plymouth educator who lives in Howell, has been appointed director of the 35th District Court probation department, succeeding Dennis Dildy of Northville.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Judge Dunbar Davis, who earlier had announced the resignation of Dildy. Jacobs, assistant area coordinator for the Plymouth school system working out of the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park, will be making some appointments of his own before the week is out.

One appointment will be that of chief probation officer for the City of Plymouth—the position Jacobs held until his appointment as director.

Married with two children, Jacobs joined the probation department as supervisor of its work program in September of 1969. He was named chief probation officer-Plymouth two years later.

In accepting his new assignment, Jacobs issued a call for more volunteer officers. Persons interested in volunteering their services may call the district court, 455-2640.

New Zoning Plan Opposed

ship board approved the zoning plan.

Nowka said the "people may go for a referendum vote against the zoning."

Bernard Williams of Sunnydale Lane asked why the planners "did not pick an area (for research and development) that does not have so many homes around it. We do not have a choice now of whether or not to purchase homes in the area. Put it where no one will be bothered with it."

Suggestions were made that planners should move the research and development zoning to Seven Mile Road west of Beck Road.

Clarence Charest, an attorney representing Dun Rovin Golf Course along Haggerty Road which has asked the township rezone its land to multiple use, reminded the planners that industrial park rezoning had been overturned by the people several years ago.

"The residents feel the area should be used for multiples," Charest said, "and the residents have expressed this. I feel the will of the people should be heard and they have said they do not want industrial zoning."

Lynn Lower of Winchester agreed with Charest that multiple zoning should be allowed along Haggerty Road but that "if the entire parcel (from Five Mile north) is multiple, it would be too large. Along Five Mile west should be single family," he explained.

Helen Scott of Haggerty Road said the township is "20 years behind times." She mentioned that other states do not have "research and development along their expressways. They have single family housing developments."

Beth Young of Stoneleigh criticized the planners for "not saying anything about recreation areas. You let developers provide for open space but the area I live in does not provide recreation. The township also needs to provide for a few aesthetics."

Township Planning Consultant George Vilcan said the township cannot "zone another man's land for park use. Taxpayers will have to say they want parks and must be willing to pay for them."

H.A. Dorfman, a partner with Leonard Brooks who has asked for rezoning along Haggerty Road north of Seven Mile to permit construction of a shopping center, said the proposed rezoning of the planning commission is "most ridiculous and an unusable situation."

Planners have suggested rezoning the area to office use to a depth of two lots, leaving the remaining 700 feet single family.

"We indicated to the township the amount of taxes a shopping center would provide to Northville School District and it would not generate any school children," he reminded planners.

Elmer McIntyre of Franklin Road charged that the planners rezoned with the "balance changed in favor of big land developers at the expense of homeowners." He said the area west of Beck Road should be kept in one-acre lots.

Leon Paller of Sunnydale Lane questioned why all "vacant land west of Northville Road is R-2 (lower density single family homes) while that east of Northville Road is R-3" (higher density single family homes.)

Joseph Fiorilli of Harbert Drive said the township land "lends itself to perimeter planning to protect the township."

When planners questioned what he meant by perimeter planning, Fiorilli said commercial and research and development should be used, bringing the "people to the perimeter and then they would leave."

He said "someone else must support our very expensive school district. We need industry in the township, someone else who will give us a tax-base. I am in favor of anything that will bring in a tax base."

However, when planners questioned Fiorilli on the Haggerty Road rezoning, he said he did not like it and stated he liked "nothing about the rezoning plan."

Fiorilli also charged that the township had too many multiples and asked what the total number of projected multiples was in the township.

Although Nowka said the planners did not have those figures, he said the township has "not inordinately supported multiple zoning. We have placed stringent conditions on the density of multiple zoning in the new ordinance."

Vilcan added that six of the last requests for rezoning received by the planning commission have been for multiple zoning.

"The Planned Neighborhood Development, mixing housing types with multiples in the center and single family homes on the perimeter, will make zoning less dense, as will single family cluster housing," Vilcan said.

Nowka explained comments voiced by residents Monday would be "heavily taken into consideration" by planners before they make their recommendation to the township board.

Next regular meeting of the commission will be October 30. On October 16, the commission will hold a public hearing on the proposed future land use plan. The hearing begins at 8 p.m. in the township offices.

Sliger Newspapers Win 14 Awards

Argus Named Top in State

The General Excellence plaque, highest professional honor for Michigan weekly newspapers, has been awarded The Brighton Argus.

It is one of 14 awards won by Sliger Publications in the annual Michigan Press Association weekly newspaper contest.

Judging in the 1973 competition was done by the Iowa Press Association which reviewed 225 entries from 44 weekly newspapers.

It marks the first time The Argus has won the state's top award, although it has been cited for other achievements since it became a Sliger Publication under the managing editorship of Roland Peterson in 1969.

The Northville Record-Nowi News also won a number of awards in the eight categories on which the newspapers were judged. The Record won the state's General Excellence award in 1958-60-69-70 and 71. A third Sliger Publication, The South Lyon Herald, was recognized with the top award in 1962-66 and 68.

Four General Excellence awards are presented each year to the weekly newspapers judged best in over-all competition in their respective circulation categories.

In Class D (highest circulation category) the winning publications were: 1—Southfield Eccentric; 2—Birmingham Eccentric; 3—Southfield News & Observer;

Class C: 1—The Brighton Argus; 2—East Lansing Towne Courier; 3—Lapeer Country Press; Honorable Mention—Northville Record;

Class B: 1—Northland Press of Boyne City; 2—Allegan County News; 3—Swartz Creek News; Honorable Mention—Paw Paw Courier-Leader;

Class A: 1—Portland Independent; 2—Williamston Enterprise; 3—Harbor Springs Harbor Light.

At approximately 10 o'clock Saturday morning, somewhere in the neighborhood of one million youngsters across the United States were vying for the right to appear in the 1973 Super Bowl.

They were all participating in the opening round of the Punt, Pass, and Kick competition which has become almost as much a part of the football season as marching bands and cheerleaders.

Punt, Pass, and Kick, or PP&K, was started some 13 years ago as a promotional gimmick by an enterprising young executive for the Ford Motor Company.

The premise was simple: Youngsters between the ages of 8 and 13 years old would compete against each other in three basic skills—passing, punting, and kicking from a tee.

Points are awarded on the basis of distance and accuracy.

The contest would be staged on the local level with local Ford dealers sponsoring the competition and with the local Jaycee chapter supplying the manpower to run the event.

Winners of the local contest would then move on to "zone" competition where they would meet other local winners from the general geographic vicinity.

Winners of the "zone" competition would then pass on through successively higher levels of competition encompassing ever larger segments of the country until, ultimately, there would be just six winners left.

The promotional idea has gone over far beyond Ford's fondest expectations. In the 13 years since the first Punt, Pass, and Kick contest, it is estimated that more than 9,350,000 youngsters have taken part in the contest. PP&K has become so popular that practically every town, which has a Jaycee chapter and a Ford dealer has a contest whether it's in Caribou, Maine, Hooper Bay, Alaska, or Papaikou, Hawaii.

The growth of PP&K has been very noticeable on the local level.

A member of the Northville Jaycees commented Saturday that it wasn't very long ago that they had to give some of the trophies away because they didn't have three entries in each age group.

Needless to say, lack of participants is no longer a problem.

In spite of a dreary, dismal day in which a steady drizzle made umbrellas a required item, close to 300 youngsters competed in local PP&K contests in the Northville-South Lyon-Brighton areas.

South Lyon had 70 participants, Northville recorded 65 entrants, and Novi had 50 would-be Super Bowl stars. The Brighton Jaycees reported 43 competitors, and Hartland had 60 more.

Northville's competition was sponsored by John Mach Ford. Stark Hickey West sponsored the competition in Novi and Mark Ford was the sponsor in the South Lyon area. Wilson Ford was the sponsor in both the Brighton and Hartland contests and in Brighton the Brighton Athletic Club assisted the Jaycees in co-sponsoring the competition.

The first, second, and third place winners in each area are listed below along with the total score of each first place winner.

Mark Communion

By TERESA ARNOLD

World-wide communion Sunday will be celebrated by many Protestant churches October 7.

"There is more cooperation between Protestant churches on this occasion than almost any other time," said Reverend Kearney Kirkby of the United Methodist Church in Brighton.

Most Methodist, Presbyterian, Lutheran and Episcopal churches will be participating a telephone survey of area pastors revealed.

Evangelist Don Jasmin will lead a series of nightly meetings October 7-14 at the Salem Bible Church. Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m.

Evangelist Jasmin is expected to cover eight ministries in a single campaign. He will speak on evangelism in the areas of: Christian information, Bible conference, "conventional", Christian literature, prophetic, youth, family life and consultation.

The First Baptist Church of Northville is holding evangelistic services this week through October 5. The Reverend Bill Compton from Chattanooga, Tennessee is the evangelist in charge of the services.

Services are being held in both the morning and evening and nursery care is provided. All are welcome to attend the 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services at the church at 217 North Wing Street, Northville. Rev. Compton's series of sermons is entitled, "Dimensions for Living."

The First Baptist Church of South Lyon, 6082 Marjorie Ann, will be holding revival meetings October 14 through 21.

Evangelist Billy Whitt of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church in Pontiac will speak each evening at 7 p.m.

The Sunday School classes of New Hudson Calvary Baptist Church will be competing in a Sunday School Attendance Contest the entire month of October.

My Name's Teresa

As you can see, our religion page has a new look this week. We are making some changes here.

My name is Teresa Arnold and I am the Religion Editor for all of the Sliger Newspapers—The Northville Record, Novi News, Brighton Argus and South Lyon Herald.

In coming weeks this page will contain information on church events in all of our coverage areas. We will also devote a portion of the page to feature articles on a variety of subjects to keep you informed about Religion Today.

Future articles will focus on topics which we hope will be as interesting—articles about new movements in the Christian community, articles about area churches and pastors and other articles suggested by you, our readers.

We want you to feel this is your page and we welcome not only items for the events column, but suggestions for articles as well.

The women of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, in Northfield Township of Washtenaw County are sponsoring a rummage sale Saturday October 6 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the church on 5731 Whitmore Lake Road.

Rummage and bake sales will be sponsored October 5 and 6 by both the New Hudson and South Lyon Methodist Churches.

Hours of the sale at the New Hudson church, 56730 Grand River, are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. The South Lyon sale will be held at the church at 640 South Lafayette from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

Third Church Uses Kiwanis Hall

South Lyon's Kiwanis Hall is beginning to develop a reputation as a "builder of churches".

Third church to use the hall will be the Cross of Christ Lutheran which will begin services in the former fellowship hall area of the building at Lake (10 Mile) and Reese streets.

South Lyon Kiwanians purchased the hall from the First United Methodist Church when that congregation moved into new surroundings on South Lafayette.

Then the Assembly of God held services in the fellowship ("Quick Hall") hall until such time as that congregation erected its new church on West Eight Mile.

Now the Reverend Lawrence A. Kinne, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran in Walled Lake, will be leading his mission congregation from a temporary pulpit in the same area of the hall as the Assembly formerly used. First service for the Missouri Synod church will be held at 10:30 a.m. Sunday with refreshments to follow in the Kiwanis banquet room downstairs.

The pastor is being shared with the new church by his St. Matthew's parish.

He is a graduate of Concordia Seminary in Springfield, Illinois (1952). He served in two churches in New York prior to coming to Walled Lake in 1959.

Married to the former Delores Kanehl, Reverend Kinne is the father of four.

Cross of Christ is a sponsor of the Lutheran Hour on radio and the This Is the Life television series.

First Sunday School services are planned for 9:15 a.m. on October 21, the third week of regular services. The new church is expected to serve Missouri Synod Lutherans of the New Hudson-South Lyon-Salem and Green Oak areas.

In Brighton Area

Four New Pastors Named

Three new pastors have come to the Brighton area in the past few weeks. One of the three is a man with plans to organize and build a Missouri Synod Lutheran Church in the North Brighton area.

"There is no Missouri Synod Lutheran Church in the immediate area," Reverend John M. Hirsch explained. "Several pastors in the Detroit area had notified the Michigan District, (of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod), that members of their congregations were moving to Brighton," he said.

Rev. Hirsch said the Michigan District, after study of the growth in the Brighton area, made a request for a pastor from Concordia Theological Seminary in Springfield, Illinois.

He received his Master of Divinity from that seminary in 1972 and then spent a year serving as chaplain to patients in a Presbyterian Medical Center in Denver, Colorado before accepting the assignment in Brighton.

Rev. Hirsch arrived in Brighton with his wife, Kathy, and two young children September 10. They are currently living at 5845 Knowlson Drive.

Rev. Hirsch said he is organizing his congregation and plans are set to hold the first service of the new church November 11 at 10:45 a.m. in Birkenstock School on Grand River Avenue.

The boundaries of the new parish are intended to be I-96 to M-59 and US-23 to Hughes Road.

The Texas-born minister has had considerable experience in counseling, having spent a summer in Clinical Training at Jacksonville State Hospital in Jacksonville, Illinois and having worked in the inner city of Detroit as well as in counseling patients in Denver, Colorado.

He received his undergraduate degree in psychology from the University of Texas in Austin.

The most recent arrival of Brighton's new ministers is Reverend William Brown who moved into his home at 128 Becker Drive September 25.

Rev. Brown has been appointed pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in Brighton. His appointment is effective October 1.

Rev. Brown and his wife Vicki and their two young children are relocating from Milwaukee, Wisconsin where Rev. Brown was assistant pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Brown is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in Madison, Wisconsin and McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, Illinois.

Another minister new to the area is the Reverend John A. Woods who has been recently appointed pastor of St. James African Methodist Episcopal Church at 4530 South US-23 in Brighton. With his appointment Sunday services will be changed from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Rev. Woods said.

Rev. Woods has been the pastor of the Bethel A.M.E. Church in Ann Arbor for the past nine years. He will continue serving in Ann Arbor.

Rev. Woods explained that at his church's national conference in September it was decided that the Brighton church would become a mission of the Ann Arbor church.

Rev. Woods is a graduate of St. Augustine's Episcopal College and Johnson C. Smith University, a Presbyterian college. He has done further study at the University of Michigan and Earlham School of Religion, which is a Quaker institution.

He has pastored churches in Albion and Richmond, Indiana as well as Detroit, where he organized a Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Woods is married and has two children and three grandchildren. He resides in Ann Arbor.

The Reverend Roy Mullens joined the congregation of the First Baptist Church of Brighton, 6235 Rickett Road, in August. He and his wife Joan and their two children have moved from their Detroit home to 6365 Aldine, Brighton.

Rev. Mullens was a supply pastor in Detroit, for the past year, which usually meant he served at a different church each Sunday, his wife said.

Rev. Mullens is originally from Waverly, Tennessee and his first pastorate was in Cumberland City, Tennessee after he completed three years of classes at Belmont Baptist College in Nashville, Tennessee.

Some questions you've asked us about your future at The Lutheran Retirement Center

During the last two years, a lot of people from all over Michigan have asked us a lot of good questions about The Lutheran Retirement Center in Ann Arbor. Here are the ten most frequently asked, along with the answers

1. What will be some of the important features at The Lutheran Retirement Center?

Among the most important features of life at The Center will be freedom from homeowner responsibilities, well balanced meals, special dietary services, constant attention to health needs, a balance between privacy and companionship, and an independent form of living with assured security. Residents will be free to come and go as they choose, to entertain guests and relatives, to participate in the varied activities available and to help plan those activities. In fact, residents will be expected to live there as they would in the homes from which they come with complete freedom and privacy.

2. Who will be eligible?

Persons who are 65 years of age or older are eligible. They must be in reasonably good health for their age, with the qualities of personality conducive to congenial group living, and with the income and resources to meet the financial requirements. Persons who are motivated by ethical principles, without regard to religious denominations will be sought. An Admissions Committee, with the Executive Director, will decide all matters of eligibility.

3. What happens if a person is accepted as a resident but is not ambulatory when The Center is ready for occupancy?

He or she will be admitted without qualification and will receive all benefits to which residents are entitled.

4. May residents bring their own furniture?

Yes, residents will be welcome to bring their own valued familiar possessions and furnishings. Wall to wall carpeting and drapery linings will be provided. Each unit will have a private bath, and adequate closet space. There will be storage lockers elsewhere in the building.

5. Will residents be able to control heating and air conditioning in their apartments?

Yes, for complete comfort, apartment heating and air conditioning will be individually controlled.

6. What will be the extent of nursing care?

Residents who become ill will be cared for in The Center's own nursing care facility where members of the nursing staff will be on duty at all times. In the event a resident is provided with nursing care in the nursing care facility beyond 10 days per year or an accumulated 30 days in three years, an additional modest per diem charge will be made. This nursing care facility will be accredited by all state and local agencies, and qualified by the Medicare program.

7. What about facilities for regular exercise, especially during colder months?

The Center's sponsors believe that residents can benefit greatly from regular exercise, and have planned to provide indoor exercise equipment. Apparatus such as stationary bicycles and other equipment will be available at no charge. And because exercise is a vital part of many therapeutic programs, it will be encouraged. In addition, outdoor exercise facilities — a perimeter walk and bike path — are planned.

8. Will special diets be served in the regular dining room?

Yes, special diets will be served if prescribed and required by your physician, and supervised by The Center's dietician.

9. Would a resident ever be evicted because of health problems?

No. The Life Lease Contract provides continued and uninterrupted care as long as it is medically feasible in The Center.

10. What happens to a resident if he becomes unable to meet financial obligations after living at The Center for some years?

Residents are assured they will not be requested to leave The Center because of financial reverses after having established residency. While assuming the responsibility of self support as a resident of The Center there is equal responsibility upon each resident to properly care for the financial resources upon which he depends.

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

GETTING READY FOR WINTER

Although these days have been extraordinarily mild, it won't be long before winter is upon us. There are a number of important tasks to accomplish before the garden can be put to rest.

Clean-up is important in several ways. Any great amount of leaves should not be permitted to accumulate on the lawn. Either rake well or use one of the lawn sweepers on the market. Fallen oak leaves, however, make an excellent mulch material for azaleas, rhododendrons and other evergreen types. Similarly, gather up wormy fruits from under trees and bury in a hole to prevent disease next year. Other garden refuse can be put on the compost pile, adding lime and commercial fertilizers.

Rabbits and mice can become nuisances at this time in the outdoor garden. Wire protection around open drains is an excellent answer to this problem. Fruit trees and shrubbery may also require the same protection over the winter months. If, on the other hand, rabbits are the problem, there are a number of effective repellents on the market.

If there are any spots in the garden where water does not run off, this is a situation which can be serious for dormant plants. A number of methods are possible to solve this problem. Probably the best solution is the installation of permanent tile drainage. If this is not practical, ditching or filling the low spots with good soil should be satisfactory.

One of the most important tasks in preparation for

LANSING—A new enemy is present on the scene in the age old fight against such crippling and killing diseases as polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

The enemy is neglect. Simple neglect by parents, medical people and other community leaders.

Vaccines against these diseases have been so successful that the diseases are heard of rarely in this country. The result in recent years has been substantial slackening off in the number of children receiving vaccinations against various diseases.

Health officials fear the stage is being set for an epidemic, if enough children go unvaccinated. To help change the situation, they have designated October as "Immunization Action Month."

THE DANGER list requires six diseases which doctors want all children immunized against. They are polio, measles, German measles (rubella), diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis, also known as whooping cough.

Polio is a disease of the central nervous system which has hit in a series of epidemics in this country's history. Its most famous victim was President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In Michigan Waters

Salmon Put on Show

"Salmon watching"—an increasingly popular fall spectator sport—can be best enjoyed in the northwest Lower Peninsula where three state-operated harvest weirs are located, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Thousands upon thousands of coho and chinook provide a spectacular sight to weir visitors as the fish, migrating upstream to spawn and die, are corralled into holding ponds.

Auto Club points out that a trip to the weirs, near Honor and Manistee, can be easily combined with a fall color tour since mid-October to early November is usually when the facilities are in peak operation.

The weirs, run by the State Department of Natural Resources are essential for insuring the future of coho and chinook in the Great Lakes. Without them, these Pacific transplant salmon could not breed in large enough numbers to meet the demand of Michigan fishermen.

In addition to watching the salmon surge upstream, weir visitors can observe the egg-taking process which guarantees an adequate level of coho and chinook reproduction.

The accompanying Auto Club map pinpoints the locations of the DNR's Platte River salmon hatchery and harvest station and its harvest station on the Little Manistee River.

The salmon's fall migration is the final stage of a life cycle which, for most Michigan coho and chinook, begins in DNR hatcheries. At age six months for chinook and 1½ years for coho, the fish are released into lakes and streams. They then swim out into Lakes Michigan, Huron and Superior where they stay until the time comes to swim inland and spawn.

Coho are usually three years old when they migrate while the chinook's maturation process may take as long as five years.

When Dr. Jonas Salk discovered a vaccine for it in 1955, the country rejoiced. There were 30,000 cases reported in 1955. Last year 17 cases were reported.

MEDICAL OFFICIALS say a survey of 6,025 children in grades kindergarten through sixth showed 52 per cent had not received the minimum three doses of oral vaccine required to immunize a person against polio. The potential this situation produces is frightening, especially to anyone who can remember the rear and terror the disease struck before the vaccine was discovered.

Measles, regarded by many as a mild disease, can cause pneumonia, hearing disorders and brain damage. Hundreds of children died each year from measles complications before a vaccine was discovered.

German measles, or rubella, isn't very serious in children. The danger is it causes birth defects and miscarriages when it strikes pregnant women.

Michigan this year has reported one-fifth of all the measles cases in the country.

Diphtheria used to be a common cause of childhood death. It attacks the throat and breathing passages, developing a membrane that obstructs breathing, choking a child to death. Tetanus is not contagious; it is caused by getting contaminated dirt into wounds. It is fatal to about half the people who develop it. Whooping cough frequently is fatal in babies.

"THE RECENT OUTBREAK of cholera in Italy vividly portrays the kind of situation and public panic which can occur with epidemics," says Dr. John J. Coury, President of the Michigan Medical Society.

"Our aim is to prevent any such outbreaks of the common preventable diseases by improving the immunization levels through a continuing effort. Personally, I'm concerned about the 'dropout' problem. Many children start their series but only half of them finish."

The current situation, he says "could leave us wide open for an epidemic."

Past success makes for less concern among parents about the diseases involved, since the diseases are so rare; this is the root of the problem.

But these once dreaded diseases are no less fatal or harmful today if they are contracted by children, or adults for that matter. It's just that it's been so long since they were common that people have forgotten how horrible they can be.

What the medical people hope to do is prevent another outbreak of any of these illnesses by making sure children continue to be vaccinated.

PARENTS UNSURE of how many or what kinds of vaccinations their children have had should contact their family doctor. His records will show.

Families who have moved can have their doctor check with previous doctors they have taken their children to.

It would be a real tragedy if, despite the fact simple ways exist to prevent it, an outbreak of any of these diseases were to hit Michigan. If even one child died or were forced to spend the rest of his life in an iron lung because his parents "didn't bother" to make sure he received vaccinations, that would be one too many. And it would be criminal.

Here's List of 18 Cider Mills to Visit

Tangy cider and hot, fried doughnuts will draw thousands of Southeast Michigan residents into the countryside this fall to favorite cider mills, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Visiting a cider mill and watching giant presses squeeze tons of red, ripe apples into pure, sparkling juice has become an annual outing for many families," states Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"Each cider mill has its own personality," Ratke states. "Presses range from the vintage, gear-driven to the modern hydraulic type, and operations vary in scope from large enterprises to family operations."

Visitors to mills can either purchase cider by the glass or bottle. Freshly fried doughnuts are also available either singly or by the dozen. Peak crowds will visit cider mills over weekends until the weather turns cold. Auto Club points out that the best way to avoid long lines that form Saturdays and Sundays at some operations is to visit cider mills on weekdays.

"A visit to a cider mill does not have to be taken only in the fall, although this is the preferred season," states Ratke. "Many operators stay open during the winter, some into the spring until stored apple supplies are exhausted."

Persons who wish to watch the pressing process are advised to check by telephone before leaving home. Although most cidemills are open seven days a week, pressing operations are often on an irregular schedule, dictated by the availability of apples and the demand for cider.

Persons who want to be sure of the cost for cider or doughnuts also should check in advance since prices are subject to change.

Babson Report

Stock Prices Low Next to Earnings

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Any follower of the stock market knows that 1973, thus far, has been a bad year for most stocks. In the first half of the year alone, 1,357 issues on the New York Stock Exchange declined while only 100 showed advances. Up to this time in the second half there has been only moderate improvement in most stock prices.

Thus, a tremendous number of securities, especially those of medium to lower grade, are priced very low relative to earnings. It would be safe to say that the P-E ratios of quite a few companies are near the lowest levels since they began trading on a major exchange. This is disheartening, of course, not only for owners of such stocks but also for the managements, which are usually extremely stockholder conscious.

FOR EXAMPLE, there are currently hundreds of common stocks priced at from six to nine times earnings; and recently there were more than 150 issues on the New York Stock Exchange selling at five times earnings or less. Of these, one was priced at two times earnings, seven at three times earnings, and a great many more at four times. Not many years ago such low P-E ratios were practically unheard of.

When a stock did get very depressed, it was usually regarded as a real bargain and thus attracted considerable buying interest. As a result it did not as a rule remain in the low P-E category for very long.

Many of the stocks that were recently priced at five times earnings or under are well-known issues. Among these were such substantial firms as Ford, Chrysler, Goodrich, City Investing, Avco, U.S. Industries, White Consolidated, General Tire, Trans World Airlines, Manhattan Industries, McCrory Corporation, and others.

ALTHOUGH there may be some outstanding buys among the low P-E stocks, they should certainly not be bought indiscriminately. Each one should be thoroughly investigated. There are usually some valid reasons for their being priced so low.

It could be that future earnings are expected to turn downward, so the present depressed P-Es of some stocks may not look so low in the future; the company may be in a highly cyclical industry; the firm may be in for serious labor troubles; a company's major customers may be on a downswing, etc. It must be recognized, of course, that the price-earnings ratios as listed in most financial papers are based on earnings for the latest twelve months. There is no consideration given to probable future earnings. In other words, they are figured solely on past results. Furthermore, a stock's P-E ratio is only one part of the picture when an investor is seeking "buys."

There are many other factors which are often of equal and sometimes of even greater importance.

WHILE CORPORATE earnings have been on the rise this year, the stock market for the most part has been in the doldrums as a result of the rampant inflation, high money rates, the Watergate scandals, a weak dollar in foreign financial markets, government controls, concern about the economy in 1974, and absence of the small investor from the marketplace.

This special combination, therefore—good earnings in a downtrending market—has made for some very low P-E ratios.

At the present time the Research Department of Babson's Reports does not happen to be recommending for purchase any issues that are priced at 5 times earnings or less. While we may do this sometime in the future, it will of course depend on the general outlook for the company as well as on a number of other relevant factors. As of now, we are recommending many promising issues which are at present carrying comparatively low price-earnings ratios of from 6 to 9.

Included in this group are such highly regarded stocks as PPG Industries, Rockwell International, Woolworth, Champion International, Texaco, and Firestone Tire & Rubber—all on the New York Stock Exchange.

Gardening Way

winter is the mulching of tender plants. The mulch should not be applied until frost has penetrated the ground but it is well to gather materials for this purpose in advance. Any newly-planted perennials and biennials would need a deeper mulch for root development.

Newly set out evergreens also require special attention. Watering, whenever insufficient rains occur, will help to bring these plants through the winter. Covering materials, such as burlap, are a protection against strong, cold winds. Sturdy stakes are needed for anchorage. Similarly, in the case of newly-planted fruit and ornamental trees, staking and mounding with soil are advisable.

A number of odd jobs suggest themselves before the winter season. Ends of vines on walls should be cut back if hanging loose. The lawn needs mowing right up to the end of the growing season to prevent matting and to foster healthy turf.

It is also a good idea to plow up the vegetable garden in order to turn up hibernating insects.

If you are a berry fancier, this is the time to cover the strawberry beds with straw, pine needles, peat moss or other material, but not too early in the season. Raspberry planting on sandy soil will benefit from heavy applications of rotted manure or some other mulch.

Finally, everyone should protect valuable garden furniture and tools by taking them indoors and cleaning all parts, particularly greasing or oiling metal parts.

Novi Overcomes Mistakes for 37-0 Victory

It's a good thing that John Osborne is not one of those coaches who lies awake nights worrying about mistakes. The Novi mentor would have severe insomnia for a month.

Osborne's Wildcats took on a poor Dexter team Friday and promptly began playing as if they were trying to establish some sort of North American record for miscues.

• Three times they gave the ball away on fumbles.

• They suffered 90 yards in losses with eight penalties.

• Two touchdowns were called back for off-sides penalties and an 83-yard punt return for a touchdown by Dave Brown was nullified by a clipping penalty and a tripping penalty committed after Brown was 40 yards downfield.

And it wasn't just the underclassmen who were committing the errors, either. Roger Pelchat dropped a pass from Brown on a play that would have gone 80 yards for a touchdown ("I had stars in my eyes," explained the veteran receiver) and Eric Hansor dropped another pass from Brown that would have gone 40 yards for a score.

What with all the mistakes, the Wildcats had to settle for no more than a 37-0 win.

The victory was the third of the season for Osborne's fifth-rated (AP) Wildcats and put them in a two-way tie with Milan for the leadership of the Southeastern Conference standings. Both teams have 2-0 records in SEC play.

Dexter came into Friday's game as something less - something much less - than a formidable opponent and that may have been part of Novi's trouble.

After all, when you're the fifth-rated team in the state it's hard to get up for a team that in two previous games had given up close to 70 points while failing to put even a single point on the scoreboard themselves.

And so when Novi scored twice in the first 12 minutes to take a 12-0 lead into the second quarter, it began to look as if the rout had started. But then the mistakes set in. Fumbles ended Novi drives and penalties prolonged time-consuming Dexter drives. And to add to the frustration, the Wildcats failed to score on two cracks from the one yard line as the half came to an end with the score still 12-0.

Whatever Osborne told his Wildcats during the halftime break must have done the trick, however, because they finally settled down to business at the start of the second half. Led by the running of Eric Hansor and Mike Riley and the passing of Dave Brown, the Wildcats scored three times in the third quarter to up their lead to 31-0.

Osborne pulled his starters at the start of the fourth quarter and the second-string backfield of Gary Ford, Bill Barr, Brian Schingeeck, and Dane Neutz added one more touchdown to make the final score 37-0.

Passing: Brown (7-3-0-112 yards), Ford (2-1-0-12).
Receiving: O'Brien (2-89), Pelchat (1-23), Barr (1-12).

Thanks largely to their second half outburst, the Wildcats heaped up an impressive statistical edge over the Dexter squad. After rushing for 93 yards in the first half, Novi runners picked up the whopping total of 210 yards in the second half to finish the game with 303 yards on the ground.

Add to that the 124 yards the Wildcats picked up through the air and you have 427 yards of total offense - impressive under any standards.

Defensively, Novi was just as impressive as they held the Dreadnaughts to 78 yards on the ground and six first downs - four of them on penalties.

Dexter had even less success in the air. Five times they put the ball in the air with three falling incomplete and two more being intercepted as Gary Ford and Sean O'Brien each picked off a Dexter aerial.

In fact, it was Novi's defense which led to the opening touchdown. Mike Riley broke through the Dexter line and blocked a punt to give the Wildcats the ball on the Dexter 10 yard line. Four plays later, Brown sprinted five yards around his own left end for the score.

Kevin LaFleche tallied the second Novi score from five yards out at the end of the first quarter after Brown had hit O'Brien with a pass on a play that carried 54 yards down to the Dexter five.

Eric Hansor led the Wildcat scoring in the third quarter with a pair of six-pointers. He capped a four-play 64 yard

Beat Canton 7-0

Northville Wins On Blocked Punt

A blocked punt helped Northville to its first Western Six triumph Friday in three years of action in the conference.

And ironically, that 7-0 victory by the Mustangs spelled the first league defeat for Plymouth Canton—a brand new member of the Western Six loop this season.

Until the Chiefs joined the league, the Western Six was really just a five-team conference waiting for the addition of Plymouth to round it out.

"Northville was quick and aggressive...and that hurt us as much as anything," said the Chief's head coach, Jim Muneio, who was disappointed by his squad's aerial attack.

"Nor...ally, our quarterback's a pretty good thrower, so we can mix up our ground attack with some passing. But Friday we just didn't have it."

Muneio, whose team lost to Grosse Ile in the season opener and then beat Annapolis in a tune-up for its conference debut, felt he was up against a better team in the Mustangs than was represented by the Chiefs' first two non-league opponents.

Although Northville Coach Chuck Shonta didn't like the number of miscues committed by his charges, he nevertheless was pleased with the team's defensive play. He came away convinced the Mustangs could have turned in a better offensive game.

Both teams looked bad in the air. In fact, both came up with negative yardages in their aerial attacks—Northville minus 14 yards and Canton minus 35 yards.

On the ground, where Coach Muneio felt his team was strongest going into the game, the Mustangs rolled for 179 yards rushing to the Chiefs' 90 yards.

Leading the way for Northville was Halfback Doug Crisan, who piled up 112 yards in 17 carries. He was followed by another halfback, Tom Dooley, with 49 yards in seven carries, and Jim O'Brien, 17 yards in two carries.

In the final analysis, though, it was a pair of defensive guards who produced the only score giving Northville the victory.

Big 195-pound Steve Serkaian blocked the Chief punt at the goal line, and Bill Lusk, a junior middle guard, covered the loose ball for the TD. And Keith Trumbull booted the extra point.

Northville had marched 45 yards after taking the kickoff opening the second half, only to fumble away the ball inside the one-yard line. Four plays later, their backs to the goal line and still less than two yards out, the Chiefs' fatal punt occurred.

Another punt—this one a Northville kick later in the third quarter—very nearly produced a Canton score.

Following an interception the Mustangs moved to within one yard of a first down on their own 23 and were forced to punt, and Canton blocked and recovered it at Northville's 12.

But the Chiefs failed to take advantage of the situation, fumbling away possession on the first play from scrimmage seconds before the quarter ended.

The Mustangs, now 2-1 for the season, will be gunning for their second Western Six Conference win and their third straight victory overall when they host George Perry's Waterford Mott squad Friday.

Mott, also 2-1 for the season, rallied from a 6-0 deficit with three fourth quarter touchdowns to edge Farmington Harrison 20-7 last week in their lone conference game this year.

No one expects the Corsairs to be as strong as they were last year when they had an 8-1 record overall and had All-State linebacker Gordon Sheldon mauling enemy ball carriers, but Mott will be tough nevertheless.

Strength of the Mott team is its backfield where senior Mike Grace, one of the top athletes in the conference, will be handing off to Greg Aldrich and Dale Romeo, a pair of big, fast running backs.

"We're going to have to eliminate the number of mistakes we made against Canton if we're going to have any chance of beating Mott," commented Shonta.

"If we make the same kind of mistakes, they'll take advantage of them and give us a long evening."

Mott is favored in the contest which gets underway at 8 p.m.

Mustang Golfers Sweep Brae Burn Best-Ball Tourney

Although admittedly not as strong as last year, Coach Al Jones' Northville golf team is still a pretty decent outfit.

The Mustang golfers proved that conclusively Tuesday as they took both two-man and four-man honors over 22 other schools in the second annual Brae Burn Best Ball Tournament.

Some of the finest high school golf teams in the state were represented in the 18-hole tourney. Included in the field that finished behind the Northville squad were West Bloomfield, the defending Class A state champion, and Plymouth Salem, which won the prestigious Dearborn Invitational last week.

The Northville victories did not come easily, however.

In fact, the Mustangs had to play a sudden-death match against Thurston to win the four-man championship and then had to settle for a tie with a twosome from Ypsilanti for the two-man championship when four holes of sudden-death play failed to produce a champion.

What was frustrating about the day's performance was that the Mustangs could have wrapped up both titles without all the bother of a play-off by merely carding a par on the final hole.

Brian Mills and Bob Simmons, the number one Mustang twosome, were in the final foursome on the course. As they turned toward the 18th hole they had a one shot lead over the Ypsilanti twosome for two-man honors and a one shot lead over the Thurston team for four man honors.

"They both hit big drives off the eighteenth tee," Jones reported. "Simmons hit his second shot over the green, but Mills laid his second shot right up within eight feet of the can. Then Simmons hit his third shot up within four feet of the flag and I thought we had it."

"All we needed was for Simmons to get down in one or Mills to get down in two from eight feet away and we were in," Jones continued.

But Simmons' shot lipped the hole and Mills then proceeded to three putt to bring about the ties in both the two-man and four-man totals.

Northville won the four-man trophy on the first play-off hole as Mills and Simmons carded a four and Jim Dales and Greg Mack also had a four, while Thurston had a four and a five.

The Mustangs were less successful in their efforts to win the two-man title. After four holes with both Mills and Simmons and the Ypsilanti twosome settling for pars, a thunderstorm set in and the two coaches decided to settle for a co-championship designation.

"The kids wanted to play it out," said Jones, "but in light of the fact that it was starting to lightning we thought it was in the best interests of everyone to settle for a tie."

Jimmy Van to Start For Michigan Tech

Jim VanWagner, Novi's All-State halfback in 1972, has apparently won a starting role on the Michigan Tech football team in just his freshman season.

VanWagner, a 6-1, 195-pounder, was Tech's leading rusher in a 16-14 loss to Northland College (Wisconsin) last week as he gained 90 yards in 20 carries.

It was the first time since 1938 that Northland had defeated Tech in football.

Following the game Huskie Coach Jim Kapp commented on VanWagner's performance. "It looks like he'll be our number one tailback. He ran with tremendous desire and strength and will get you the short yardage when you need it. I'd say we've found our tailback."

VanWagner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack VanWagner of 23710 Maude Lea Circle.

TOURNEY FLIP—Despite the rainy weather Saturday was a great day for the links as Michigan's oldest golf league closed out its 25th season here with a tournament at Salem Hills. Flipping a coin to determine the first to tee off are Dennis Armstrong, Ray Williams and Al Horton.

Sweep Garden City TigersColts Win Three More

It was another good week for the Northville Colts as the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman teams all recorded victories over the Garden City Tigers.

The three Northville Football Association squads now have a combined season's record of nine wins against just two losses and a tie.

Once again it was the Colt varsity which led the way, advancing its record to 4-0 with a 27-6 conquest of the Tigers. A 15-yard pass in the first quarter and a one yard run in the second gave the Colts a 14-0 bulge at the half time.

The Colts scored twice more on passes in the second half and ended up with a 27-6 triumph.

The Colt junior varsity notched its second win of the season against a loss and a tie by dumping the Garden City club 19-0.

The jayvees went 42 yards for a score on their very first play from scrimmage and then scored again on a sweep in the second quarter to lead 13-0 at the half. A 75-yard punt return for a touchdown in the fourth quarter was nullified by a clipping penalty, but the Colts scored again anyway to make the final score 19-0.

After a scoreless first half marred by numerous fumbles, the Colt freshmen put together a 15 yard pass play and a 30 yard sweep for a touchdown in the third quarter to take a 6-0 win.

An intercepted pass ended a Garden City drive in the fourth quarter and preserved the win for the frosh who are now 3-1 for the season.

Novi, Milan Share Lead In Race for SEC Title

No one is very surprised about seeing Novi tied for the Southeastern Conference lead, but hardly anyone believed that Milan would be the team they would be tied with.

The "Big Red" joined the Wildcats atop the SEC standings by handing Brighton its first conference loss in last week's key game.

In other SEC action, Chelsea recorded its first win by edging Lincoln 7-0 and Saline handed South Lyon, one of the pre-season favorites, its second straight setback, 19-7.

Defense is at the heart of Milan's success so far this season. The rugged Milan defenders held Brighton to minus 31 yards on the ground while recording their third straight shutout of the season, 24-0. Harvey Thacker, Milan's fireplug of a fullback, rumbled for 56 yards on 16 carries and scored two touchdowns to lead the Big Red offense.

Chelsea's first SEC touchdown of the year proved to be enough for a 7-0 victory over Lincoln. A bad snap from center on a punt gave the Bulldogs the ball on the Lincoln 27 yard line and five plays later fullback Ishmael Picklesimer bulled into the end zone from the two with the game's only score.

Saline tallied twice in the third quarter to move from a 7-7 tie at halftime to a 19-7 win over South Lyon. Doug Peck picked up 100 yards in 12 carries and the Hornet defense held the Lions to a net of 7 yards on the ground to post their first SEC win of the season.

REPLAY

with John Osborne

Numero uno on the list of good places NOT to be last Friday night was the Novi Wildcat dressing room during John Osborne's halftime "pep talk."

"You might say that I was not too pleased with our performance during the first half," stated the Novi coach with a strong note of understatement in his voice.

"I think one of the reasons we did a little better in the second half was that I did a nice slow burn during halftime," he continued. "We discussed the number of mistakes we had made in the first half and we also talked about being stopped on the one yard line just before the half ended."

"I think maybe we convinced them that they should try to do a better job of playing football in the second half."

No one could argue that point. After accumulating just over 90 yards on the ground in the first half, the Wildcat runners broke loose for over 200 yards in the second half - and that was with the second string backfield in the game for the entire fourth quarter.

Once again the Wildcats found themselves confronted with an unorthodox defensive alignment as SEC coaches are still trying to find a way to contend with the potent Novi wishbone attack.

"We're getting pretty use to seeing different kinds of defenses thrown at us," Osborne commented. "We refer to them as 'bastard defenses' because they tend to be dishonest in that they short themselves in some areas to strengthen another area.

"Now that teams have had a chance to scout us a little bit, they're beginning to evaluate our personnel and cheating toward the positions where they feel we may be a little weak."

Dexter utilized a 6-1 and a 4-3 defensive alignment against the Wildcats and even though they did not cheat on their pass coverage as much as South Lyon had the previous week, they still were burned through the air on several occasions.

Dave Brown, the superb Novi quarterback, completed three of seven passes for close to 120 yards and he would have had two more completions good for two touchdowns and 120 more yards if his receivers would have held onto a couple of passes that hit them in the hands.

"I would have liked to complete those two passes because it looks better in the statistics and other teams look at the statistics when they're scouting us," commented Osborne.

"If they know we can pass, they're a little reluctant to stack their defenses against our running game. If they know that we can put a quick-six on the board through the air, they have to keep their defenses a lot more honest, against us."

With Dexter out of the way, Osborne has turned his attentions toward Chelsea. Together with his staff, Osborne stayed up till 12:30 a.m. Sunday night watching Chelsea game films.

"They like to show you a lot of things on offense," observed the Novi coach. "They run the same basic plays but they run them out of a lot of different formations"

So far Chelsea has had trouble putting points on the board and have scored just two touchdowns in three games.

"No, they haven't scored many points and we just hoped we can keep it that way," said Osborne. "They've switched quarterbacks over there and they've made a couple of other personnel changes so we may be seeing them do something a little different."

While the Chelsea offense has been weak, the defense has been strong enough to register three straight shut outs so far this season.

"I think we can score against them - I think we can score against just about anybody," commented Osborne. "As to what we're going to do against them on offense, we're just going to have to wait and see how they try to defend against us."

"The nice thing about the wishbone is that the defense can only hope to cut off so many parts of your offense. If they're willing to give us the pass and try to cut off our running, we'll be happy to take the pass."

Wildcat of the Week

RON BUCK

Ron Buck, Novi's 6-0, 210 pound junior tackle, has been selected Wildcat of the Week. "Buckeroo" led the team on defense with 22 points with nine first hits and four assists - eight points more than the second-place Novi defender. In addition, Coach John Osborne cited Buck's offensive contributions. "He's really improved himself as a blocker," commented Osborne. "He's a key to our offense."

Wildcats Drop Dexter

drive at the start of the third quarter with a 17-yard sweep around right end and then scooped up the loose ball and rammed into the end zone after Mike Mulligan had blocked another Dexter punt.

Dave Brown added his second touchdown of the game in the third quarter with a one-yard quarterback sneak and Bill Barr completed the Novi scoring in the final quarter with a one-yard plunge.

The Wildcats will have to eliminate those mistakes this week as they take on Chelsea in a key Southeastern Conference game. One of the two pre-season favorites to replace Novi as conference champion, the Bulldogs are 1-0-1 in SEC play this year, having beaten Brighton 7-0 last week after playing to a scoreless tie against Saline in their opener.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Novi High School field.

Mustang Harriers Surprise Foes

With first Riverside and then Waterford Mott on the schedule, last week figured to be the toughest so far this season for Ralph Redmond's Northville cross-country team.

But by week's end the Mustangs had swept to a pair of relatively substantial 22-33 victories to run their season's dual meet record to 7-0 and not even the prospect of having to face the powerful Livonia Churchill team this Thursday was enough to dim the spirits of the Mustang coach.

"Riverside and Mott were the best two teams we've had to face so far this year and I thought our kids really came through and did an excellent job," commented Redmond. "The two meets were similar in that both Riverside and Mott had a strong one-two punch followed by a pack that was not quite as good as the Northville pack.

Riverside promised to be the toughest of the Mustangs' two opponents last week. Bill Donakowski, the top Riverside runner, is one of the top distance men in the area and two weeks ago swept to first place in the prestigious Schoolcraft Invitational with a new course record. And in addition to Donakowski, Riverside also had Fred Simms for a strong one-two punch.

"Our strategy was to send our top three men out and have them stay with Donakowski as long as they could," reported Redmond. "He must have sensed our strategy and set a very quick pace trying to burn us off," Redmond continued.

"But what happened was that he burned off Simms instead."

Donakowski finished first in 16:19, but Guy Cole, Tom Coram, and Kevin Kofler came in second, third and fourth; and Dave Beers, the fourth Northville runner, slipped in ahead of the tiring Simms for fifth place. Robbie Foust rounded out the top five for Northville, crossing the line in eighth place.

Against Waterford Mott, the prime threat was posed by Bill Bowles who had beaten everyone on the Northville team by a substantial margin at the West Bloomfield Invitational early in the season. "Our strategy against Mott was to have our three top men stay with Bowles and maybe even put someone ahead of him at the finish line and then hope that our pack finished ahead of their pack," said Redmond.

Once again the strategy worked better than expected.

Guy Cole won the race and Coram outsped Bowles to the finish line to take second place, while Kofler finished fourth. Mott took fifth and sixth, but Robbie Foust and Dan Earehart came in seventh and eighth to wrap up the 22-33 win.

Redmond expressed pleasure with the performance of his entire team, but singled out Guy Cole and Robbie Foust for special praise.

"Guy got off to a slow start, but he finally seems to be getting it together again," said Redmond. "He's working hard."

"The guy who has really been doing a good job for us though is Foust," continued the Mustang mentor. "A team is only as strong as its fifth finisher and Robbie has been doing a good job for us. He's working extremely hard in practice and I think one of the reasons that the times of our first four runners are beginning to drop is that Robbie is pushing them."

The Mustangs will have their toughest test of the dual meet season when they meet Livonia Churchill, the defending Western Six champions, this afternoon (Thursday). "They've got a strong number one man and their pack is about 20 seconds ahead of our pack," said Redmond.

"But our kids have been coming on and we'd like very much to have an undefeated season this year. We'll try to do the best we can, but whoever wins - it's going to be close."

Northville's 7-0 victory over Plymouth Canton provided Chuck Shonta with a pair of "firsts" in his three year coaching career at Northville High School.

For one thing, it was the first time the Mustangs have been over the .500 mark since Shonta took over as the victory boosted their season's record to 2-1.

And it also marked their first Western Six Conference win after two straight seasons of nothing but defeats against conference opposition.

Not even the narrow margin of victory over the first-year Plymouth Canton school was enough to dim the spirits of the Mustang mentor.

"You look at the score and see 7-0 on a blocked punt and you think it must have been a defensive battle," observed the Northville coach. "But I don't think the game was as close as the score indicated."

"After the first quarter I thought we dominated the game and I think we beat them much worse than the final score says we did," Shonta continued.

At the start of the game, it appeared as if the Mustangs might be in for a long evening. Canton came out with the opening kick-off and picked up a couple of first downs right off the bat against the Northville defense.

But then the Mustangs settled down and the two teams played on even terms in the second quarter with Northville taking over and dominating play in the second half.

"I think our kids were a little tight at the start," commented Shonta. "It took them a while to get loose, but once they realized they were in a ball game they did well."

"I thought the defense was outstanding," Shonta continued. "They (Canton) blocked a punt and recovered the ball on our 10 yard line and our defense kept them out of the end zone. And then in the last five minutes they (Canton) got the ball on our 35 yard line and our defense pushed them all the way back to the one in four straight plays."

"Those two series were a great tribute to the way our kids played defense."

The Mustang offense finally got warmed up and racked up some yardage when the coaches solved the problems created by the Canton linemen.

Northville Golf League

Mack, Gibson Take Honors

Paul Mack and Earl Gibson snagged top honors in the golf tournament Saturday that concluded the 25th season of the Northville Golf League.

The tourney was held at Salem Hills, with the annual banquet following later in the evening at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

Gibson fired the low net score of 68, while Mack carded an 82, the low gross score in the tourney. Other tournament honors went to Al Jones, who had the longest drive from the seventh tee, Bob Prom who was closest to the pin on the sixth green, and Ray Williams, who was closest to the pin on 14.

First place team during the regular season was Paul Vandenburg and Prom, while John Tishuck and Charlie Bakkila took second-place honors.

Bakkila also earned the greatest number of points during the season, while Mack had the lowest actual season average.

The league had two par shooters for the season—Mack and Ray Williams. Most improved player of the season was Ed Welch, and Earl Hogan took the trophy for being in last place.

The 36-member league, reportedly the oldest golf league in Michigan, still includes two of the original members—Bill Williams and Welch.

Newly elected president of the league is Ray Williams, who moves up from the vice-presidency to take the place of the outgoing president, Raymond Spear.

The new vice-president is Charlie Huff. Re-elected member of the board is Dennie Armstrong, while Welch was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Football Contest

Winner Has 'O' Misses

Perfect scoring—no mistakes—earned first and second place money for two contestants in the weekly football contest co-sponsored by this newspaper and cooperating merchants.

Winning first place by virtue of her more accurate guess of the Detroit-Atlanta game Monday night was Ann White of 41636 River Oaks, Plymouth. She had guessed Detroit to win by a score of 21-14.

Bruce A. Martin, 119 Ely Drive South, also picked 16 correct winners—but he didn't do as well in guessing the score of the Lions' game. He had Detroit winning 17-14.

Third-place winner was Mrs. Richard Coolman, 717 Spring Drive. She missed only one game, and had guessed Detroit to win by a score of 21-10. Also missing just one game, but finishing out of the money because his guessed score (24-14) wasn't as close as Mrs. Coolman's was Dave Duguid.

Thirteen contestants submitted entries containing two mistakes. They were:

Walter Zabinski, Charles, Douglas, and Mick Castillo,

Bob Clemens, David Hooten, Ben Duguid, Scott Leu, Kathryn Byrne, Richard Coolman, Mark Crane, Jackie Lurvey, and Robert Brown.

By far the most missed game of the week was West Virginia's 17-10 victory over previously unbeaten Illinois. And the next most missed game, interestingly, was California's trouncing of Army, 51-6.

3 Share West-6 Lead

Ken Kaestner's rugged Livonia Churchill squad (3-0) has every intention of defending its Western Six championship.

Demonstrating the same type of overpowering defense which carried them to the 1972 title, the Chargers muscled their way to a 15-0 victory over Walled Lake Western (1-2) for their twelfth straight win over the past two years.

Quarterback Mark Roncoli sneaked over from the one in the first quarter and junior halfback Bill Reardon scored from the one in the second quarter to account for the two Charger touchdowns.

Trailing 6-0 at the end of three quarters, Waterford Mott (2-1) rallied for three touchdowns in the final 12 minutes to beat Farmington Harrison (1-2) by a 20-6 margin.

Mike Grace scored one touchdown on a one yard run and passed eight yards to Dave Bauer for another. Bob Swindell scored the third Corsair touchdown by grabbing a seven yard scoring toss from Mark Brennen.

Mustang of the Week honors go to Doug Crisan, Northville's 6-3, 200-pound junior running back. Crisan carried the ball 17 times for 112 yards to account for almost two-thirds of Northville's total yardage in a 7-0 victory over Plymouth Canton. Novi Council Rejects Rezoning

Vettel's comments were supported by statements from the residents! George Lowe said that Olde Orchard is a quiet, residential area and "we want to keep it that way."

Mrs. Isabelle Collins told the council if it were to surround Olde Orchard with traffic and industry it would make the neighborhood a poor place to live. Mrs. Collins also intimated that Mayor Joseph Crupi had gone bowling instead of attending the hearing and asked that in the future the council schedule public hearings with consideration for religious holidays (Thursday was Rosh Hashanah).

Robert Daley urged the council to be "abundantly cautious" about changing its Master Plan for development. "When people invest in a home they usually check the city's Master Plan to see what kind of neighbors they're going to have," said Daley.

The Planning Board recommended that the council reject the rezoning request by a 7-1 margin. Chairman John Roethel commented that he did not feel market analysis was a zoning issue, but it was Robert Bretz who cast the lone dissenting ballot among the planners.

The council accepted the recommendation of the planning board and denied the rezoning request by a 4-1 vote. Councilman Edwin Presnell cast the lone dissenting ballot.

Councilmen Denis Berry, William O'Brien, and Donald Young and Councilwoman Romaine Roethel voted in favor of denying the request.

days away and that some compromise could be worked out before that time.

The council has hardly been pleased with Pink's progress in repairing the ditching problems. In fact, one council member, Mrs. Romaine Roethel, stated that she hoped Pink never gets another building permit in Novi.

Nevertheless, the council was receptive to Pink's suggestion of an out-of-court solution. Mayor Joseph Crupi, City Attorney David Fried, and city officials were directed by the council to meet with Pink prior to Wednesday to try to resolve the matter.

Pink told the council Monday that he would agree to put up a "reasonable amount of money" in way of a performance bond to assure the completion of the ditching. Negotiations could well hinge on a definition of what comprises a "reasonable amount of money."

Jaycees Scare up A Project

All profits from their Haunted House project later this month are to be used for restoration work at the Fish Hatchery Park building, Northville Jaycees announced this week.

The announcement comes on the heels of a vote by the club to use the money for this purpose, said Project

Chairman Rex Spencer.

The building, located on West Seven Mile Road, currently is undergoing two construction stages by the local Jaycees: conversion of the first floor into a community haunted house, and overall building renovation to establish a community meeting hall on the site.

Sam Hall, Jaycee in charge of exterior renovation, said first job in renovation will be to structurally reinforce the roof and add a new layer of roofing shingles.

Insulation is to be placed in the attic and in the walls of the building and new heating and plumbing fixtures are to be installed under the direction of Bob Hilton.

Northville Jaycee Auxiliary members are supervising the restoration of the interior of the building under the direction of Donna Spencer, Mary Hilton and Bo Hall.

The finished community building is to have restroom facilities, storage areas, a kitchenette area and a large meeting area for community groups. The basement is to be reserved for recreational department maintenance equipment.

To raise funds initially for restoration, the Jaycees will conduct the haunted house daily from October 21 through October 30.

"For an admission charge of 50-cents per person, community residents are given a leisurely stroll through a decorated house that is not recommended for faint of heart," warned Publicity Chairman Dave Van Hine.

Meanwhile, persons who may wish to assist in the building's restoration—either by volunteering manual labor or making financial contributions—are encouraged to do so.

Community work sessions are to be held at the building on weekends starting in November. Financial contributions may be mailed to Finance Chairman Harvey Tull at 43721 Galway Drive, Northville.

Additional information about the project may be obtained from Spencer at 349-1281, Hall at 349-6593, or Hilton at 349-0583.

riding between the walk and the road where there is no curb such streets as 7 Mile Road fall into this category. Mr. Ogilvie said there have been several instances of riding horses right down the sidewalks, and we are trying to prohibit this. However, one can ride on the shoulder of the road.

Mr. Pauli asked if there will ever be any type of safety provisions taken such as a rail being put up along 7 Mile Road. Mayor Allen replied that he did not think so because of snow removal in winter. However, the road is a county road so the City has no authority.

There being no further comments, Mayor Allen closed the Public Hearing on the Ordinance amendment.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Biery to amend Chapter 7, Title 1 of the Code of Ordinances for the City of Northville.

CARRIED

PHONE BURGLAR ALARM SYSTEMS. Regarding Ordinance to Control the Phone Burglar Alarm System, Lt. Westfall of the Northville Police Department was present and briefed Council on the problem regarding these burglar alarms. He said that the principal trouble was with the telephone burglar alarms. These alarms are programmed so they do not recognize a busy signal. There are 33 stores in the Northville Square Shopping Center who want to put in this type of alarm system. If there was a bad storm, it could trigger off all the alarms and jam the switchboard.

Councilman Folino asked how many lines would be required to handle these alarms.

Lt. Westfall replied that the Police are required to answer all calls and it is not so much a matter of lines but of manpower. He added that he would like to have something to correct the problem before it gets too big.

Councilman Rathert stated that we need an ordinance to limit this type of alarm to ring just once. These alarms can perform a function but four times is too many. The other step probably is to add a third line.

Councilman Biery agreed that the Police need more lines.

Councilman Vernon asked what of the people who have this type of service. If we prohibit this alarm service what alternative will the people have?

Lt. Westfall replied that the new communications system in the Police Department has the facilities to convert this alarm system but does not have the modules. But even with the conversion there could still be problems.

Mayor Allen said that the City Manager and City Attorney should talk with representatives of the alarm company and get more information on this subject and present it to Council.

City Attorney Ogilvie read a letter from the Plymouth Police Chief regarding his concern with the same type of phone alarm, and the need for some action to be taken. Three cities, Detroit, Inkster, and Livonia, have enacted ordinances to control these alarm systems.

Councilman Vernon asked if the two emergency lines into the Police Department are often busy at the same time, and Lt. Westfall replied yes, frequently they are.

This subject will be discussed further at a later meeting.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY PROPERTY EASEMENT FOR UTILITIES. Mr. John Burman of the Northville Historical Society presented a revised map showing the changed angle of the easement as suggested by Council at the last regular meeting. This provides plenty of room for future buildings.

Motion by Councilman Rathert, support by Councilman Folino to grant the easement request by the Northville Historical Society for utilities as per map attached.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE FOR HISTORIC DISTRICT. Mr. John Burman presented a proposed district ordinance amendment which shall designate the Northville Historic District. This will be by direct legislation of the City Council and will not be part of the Zoning Ordinance.

ESTIMATES FOR PAINTING CITY HALL. Estimates for painting City Hall were presented by City Manager Clarke.

Councilman Rathert suggested Council request Mr. Hamilton who had made the lowest proposal, to use oil based paint instead of Latex. Acting City Manager Clarke said this he would do.

ESTIMATES FOR ALUMINUM SIDING SENIOR CITIZENS & SCOUT BLDGS. Estimates for putting aluminum siding on the Senior Citizens Building and the Scout Building were presented by the Acting City Manager.

Councilman Folino said that in the best interests of the City he would move that the requirement for sealed bids be waived for the siding of the Senior Citizens and Scout Buildings. Support by Councilman Vernon.

CARRIED

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Rathert to award contract for aluminum siding, trim, and gutters, window sills and casings on the Senior Citizens and Scout Buildings to Baggett Roofing and Siding Company of Northville, Michigan.

INTERNATIONAL DIAMOND TOOL REQUEST. NOV. RD.: Regarding International Diamond Tool's request for the closing of Novi Road, Mr. Sczypanski who was to be present at this Council Meeting was not in attendance.

Mayor Allen mentioned that Mr. Sczypanski was told to check with his insurance company about this matter as they might not want to carry him if the chain is put up.

Councilman Rathert said this matter should be referred to the Police and Fire Departments of Northville and the City of Novi asking Mr. Sczypanski's request.

It was decided that a letter be requested from the Police and Fire Departments of Northville and the City of Novi asking Mr. Sczypanski's request of blocking off Novi Rd.

CITY OF NOVI
NOTICE OF ENACTMENT
ORDINANCE No. 73-61

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on the 24th day of September, A.D., 1973, at a Regular Meeting, the Council of the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, enacted an Ordinance to provide a penalty for any person convicted of violating any Ordinance, rule or regulation adopted in pursuance of an Ordinance, where no other penalty is expressly provided in the particular ordinance violated, to be known as the PENALTY ORDINANCE.

The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety, and are hereby ordered to take effect immediately after posting and publication thereof in manner prescribed by the City Charter.

Notice is hereby given that printed copies of said Ordinance is available for inspection by and distribution to the public.

JOSEPH CRUPI, Mayor
MABEL ASH, Clerk

by Councilman Folino to accept Sentry's alternate plan based on previous low losses of the City over the past few years.

Motion died for lack of support.

Following additional discussion, motion by Councilman Biery support by Councilman Vernon to accept CNA's bid for Workmen's Comp. Insurance.

Ayes: Allen, Biery, Vernon. Absent: Rathert. Nays: Folino.

CARRIED

PROPOSED ORDINANCES ON SOIL EROSION & LAND USE, LANDSCAPING & LAND BALANCE: Regarding the proposed Soil Erosion and Land Use Ordinance and the Landscaping and Land Balance Ordinance, this was previously reviewed with City Attorney Ogilvie, City Manager, and City Engineer Penn, and their suggestions had been approved by the Northville Beautification Committee.

City Attorney Ogilvie said he would put it into workable form and submit it to the Councilman before the next Council Meeting, at which time it will be discussed.

AMBULANCE LOCATION AT 519 FAIRBROOK: Regarding the potential ambulance location at 519 Fairbrook, there is no water in the garage, no gas, nor heating. The Acting City Manager was instructed to secure some cars that it would cost to prepare the garage for ambulance use. These figures were to be presented at the next regular Council meeting.

Councilman Rathert suggested we have another meeting with the General Ambulance people relative to their desire to stay in this area.

Councilman Folino indicated that he was sure the ambulance would stay if we could come up with a satisfactory permanent location.

MISCELLANEOUS: TRAFFIC TIE-UP AT 8 MILE & NOVI ROADS: Councilman Vernon brought up the traffic tie-up on 8 Mile Road and Novi Road. The other evening cars were backed up past the bridge almost to Allen Drive waiting to get out onto 8 Mile Road. People are beginning to cut through the Village Green. Some cars are traveling as fast as 40 MPH trying to beat the traffic at the stop sign.

City Attorney Ogilvie said that a no-through sign would not be too effective to prevent people from going through Northville Green.

Councilman Rathert said that since it has been one year or more since we called it to the attention of the Wayne County Road Commission, should we contact them. Mayor Allen agreed and recommended that Mr. Russ Harrison be called to review this problem.

SEWERS IN NORTHVILLE ESTATES: Dennis Roux of Northville Estates would like the City to put in sewers up to the line east end. He will take care of the lines into his property and is sure that residents will take the rest of the way to the southern section. When the sanitary sewers go in the other would be run along with it and then permanent roads could be built.

Mr. Roux suggested that this be funded by bonds.

Mayor Allen said Council would work on this this winter.

ALUMNI FOOTBALL GAME: Councilman Biery, referring to the Alumni Football Game, said he would like to see the City pick up the policing expenses, totaling approximately $20. Council agreed to pick up the expenses for the Alumni Football Game.

RESOLUTION ON TEACHER STRIKE: Councilman Biery asked if it would be appropriate to urge the Board of Education and the Teachers' Association to devote every effort to the reconciliation of their differences and the settlement of the strike as quickly as possible.

Motion by Councilman Vernon, support by Councilman Folino to adopt the following resolution:

WHEREAS the Council for the City of Northville recognizes the importance to our community of an effective and operating school system, and

WHEREAS the Council is fearful that a continued disruption of school operations can result in irreparable harm to the students and a split between the school administration and the faculty which could have far reaching adverse effect upon our school system.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Council for the City of Northville resolves as follows: That they strongly urge that both the school administration and the faculty representatives of the Northville School System devote every effort to a reconciliation of their differences in order that there be a resumption of our school operations as soon as possible.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this Resolution be printed in the Northville Record.

On motion of Councilman Vernon supported by Councilman Folino, the above resolution was adopted unanimously by Council of the City of Northville at its regular meeting September 17, 1973.

CARRIED

MASSAGE PARLOR & ADULT BOOKSTORE ORDINANCE: A letter was read from the First Baptist Church regarding the Massage Parlor and Adult Bookstore Ordinance. The congregation is behind this ordinance 100 percent.

City Attorney Ogilvie said he will be at the next Plan Commission meeting, at which time this issue will be on the agenda.

Councilman Folino wanted to go on record as being in favor of the ordinance, as the City needs it and he wants to see it passed as soon as possible.

Concerning the generator used to provide emergency power for the Police, the present engine is frozen and corroded. The cost for a new one would be $1100 or $1200. There is a surplus in the Federal Grant, but the request must go through the processing which would take three or four months. The Federal Grant may not cover the cost of this generator.

Council decided to start the paper work and submit it and if nothing is heard within a couple of months the City will go ahead and buy one.

There being no further business to take care of, Mayor Allen adjourned the meeting at 11:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Patricia Sattler

The most common form of construction for single family houses in the United States is the wooden-frame structure. Such frames can be finished off with a single layer of brick (brick veneer), with shingles, or with clapboard. Stone or brick masonry construction is sometimes used for larger houses. Interior finish is usually wallboard or plaster. Wood panelling is sometimes a necessity even in the smallest houses.

The high price of beef! The shortage of food! Watergate! War! Where's it all going to end? Ever said that? Of course you have!

The nation of Israel must have said the same thing way back in the Old Testament. They were being whipped as slaves, treated with extreme cruelty and little relief in sight.

Their impossible situation didn't go unnoticed by God. He saw them, He heard their cry and He knew their sorrow. Then He said, "I am come to deliver" (Exodus 3:7,8). God sent a man, Moses, to be their deliverer.

2,000 years ago God saw the world in the same situation and sent another man, the Lord Jesus Christ to be man's deliverer and savior. Christ died on the cross to deliver man from the slavery of his sin.

Today God sees senseless crime. He hears people ask "Where's it all going to end?" He knows the sorrow that breaks the human heart as a result of man's rebellion against God. He said, "I will come again and receive you" (John 14:3).

Every dark cloud on the world's horizon is an indicator of His coming again to deliver His own out of this satanically controlled world. Are you one of His? When He comes is He coming for you? Is your heart and life prepared to meet Him? You can't escape His coming. It's imperative that you're ready to meet Him!

Police Blotter

Arrest Pair in Novi Theft

In Novi...

A pair of Novi youths have been arrested in conjunction with the theft of a stereo record player and two diamond rings from an apartment in a condominium complex last week.

On Monday, September 24, police were dispatched to an address in the Olde Orchard condominium complex to investigate a robbery report.

Reported stolen from the residence were a stereo record player, two stereo speakers, and two diamond rings - one valued at $350 and the other valued at $2,500, according to police reports.

Police learned that the apartment had been entered from a sales model apartment located immediately adjacent. The person responsible for the theft entered the sales model, went to the second floor, and gained access to the attic by pushing up a plywood cover in a closet.

Once in the attic, he walked across the studs and entered the burglarized apartment by lowering himself through another plywood cover in the ceiling of another closet.

While investigating the theft, police found the stereo and speakers still in the attic.

Through subsequent investigation, police were able to determine the identities of the two youths allegedly responsible for the theft.

One of the youths was apprehended at home, while the other was apprehended at Novi High School. Both have subsequently been turned over to the Oakland County Youth Assistance Bureau for appropriate action.

The identities of the two youths were not released by police because of their legal status as juveniles.

The two diamond rings - along with a third ring - were found by a cleaning woman in a waste basket at Novi High School. The stolen property has been returned to its owner.

Police feel they have apprehended the individuals responsible for as many as eight burglaries in the Novi area.

Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner Friday announced that four juveniles and one adult have been implicated in a number of breaking and enterings in the Novi area.

Faulkner stated that no formal charges have been made as yet, but that warrants will be sought pending the completion of police investigation.

"We feel they may have been involved in other incidents and we're checking out possible links before we make formal charges," Faulkner explained.

According to reports, the five have been connected with a breaking and entering of the Novi Elementary School which occurred sometime during the weekend of September 22-23. They are also believed to be responsible for an attempted breaking and entering of the Suburban Wall and Trenching construction trailer on September 17 and the break-in of the Farmington Trenching construction trailer on September 10.

The youths will be turned over to juvenile authorities while the adult will be prosecuted, Faulkner said.

Close to $600 worth of merchandise was removed from a residence at 45488 11 Mile Road as a result of a breaking and entering which occurred September 22.

Stolen items included a black and white portable television set, a typewriter, a portable radio, an am-fm clock radio, two wrist watches, and $150 in cash.

The case is under investigation.

Police are investigating the circumstances around the theft of approximately $130 from the Bob-o-Link Golf Course on Grand River.

Thieves apparently broke into the pro shop and removed the money from a cash register.

COURT NEWS

Thomas Sansone was sentenced to from one to years in the Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William Beers on September 27.

Sansone had previously been found guilty of two charges of armed robbery in conjunction with the robbery of the Little Caesar's Pizzeria on 10 Mile Road. The robbery occurred April 30, 1972.

In Northville...

The third arrest in the past two weeks on separate felony warrants for sale of narcotics was made Monday night by Northville City Police.

Arrested on a warrant for violation of the controlled substance act, delivery of phencyclidine, was Hal Travis Hoag, 17, of 164 East Cady Street.

Hoag stood mute to the charge when arraigned Tuesday morning in 35th District Court. A plea of not guilty was entered on his behalf and examination will be held Thursday, October 11. Bond was set at $2,000.

His arrest stems from more than two months of investigation by Northville City Police, Michigan State Police Intelligence and the Oakland County Narcotic Enforcement Team.

James Michael Trudell, 24, of 168 East Main Street, who was arrested September 19 for delivery of heroin and possession of dangerous drugs, waived examination Monday on both counts.

He was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court to face charges on October 16.

Also arrested on a felony warrant and charged with delivery of barbituric acid was Evelyn Bagdon Richardson, 22, of 519 Fairbrook. She will face examination on the charge today (Thursday) in 35th District Court.

City police rushed a 10-year-old girl to St. Mary hospital last Thursday shortly after 5 p.m. after she had been stung by a swarm of bees.

The girl, who police said was hysterical and in shock, ran from the park near Fairbrook Court and Seven Mile as the police car was passing. Officers said she had been stung "hundreds of times and bees were still on her" when police found her.

More than $100 damage was done to a yard on Larry Drive late last week Tuesday or early last week Wednesday after a car drove across the lawn, sidewalk and driveway.

FIRE CALLS

September 25-3:37 p.m., fire in vacant house at 43550 Reservoir Road.

In Township...

More than $200 worth of merchandise was stolen from Woods LaPetite Hair Fashions at 41012 West Five Mile Road sometime between 4 p.m. last week Tuesday and 8 a.m. last Wednesday.

According to Michigan State Police reports, unknown persons entered the building through a window on the west side and took the merchandise from display areas. Nothing else was disturbed.

Missing are three wigs, silver bracelet, make-up kit, clock radio, 19 crocheted rings and $30 in cash. State police are continuing their investigation.

A Northville township man has been placed on one year probation and ordered to pay court costs of $165 after he pled guilty to an added count of possession of firearms while in an intoxicated condition.

Richard Simpson of 41765 Elk Road pled guilty in Wayne County Circuit Court to the added count and the original charge of carrying a concealed weapon was dismissed.

He was arrested June 12 by Michigan State Police and township police.

Carbon Monoxide Ruled Out as Cause

Carbon monoxide poisoning has been ruled out as the cause of illness suffered early last week by children riding a mini-bus operated by ServiCar of Royal Oak.

Seven children riding in the privately owned bus were checked for possible oxide poisoning at Botsford General. All results were negative.

The bus, ordered impounded by the Novi Police Department pending inspection for faulty equipment, was found to have a small exhaust leak but police said it is unlikely that it contributed to the illness.

Officials theorize that when one youngster fainted, it frightened the other special education youngsters and triggered seizures, hysteria or shock.

The illnesses occurred when the bus, which transports children to and from special education classes in the metropolitan area, was in the vicinity of 10 Mile and Beck roads in the afternoon of September 25.

Several of the involved children live in the Novi-South Lyon area.

Planners Consider Smut Law Proposal

A suggested ordinance to control X-rated movies, adult book stores, etc. was referred to committee by the Northville City Planning Commission Tuesday night in hopes of reaching a decision within two weeks.

The proposal, suggested by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie as a "more effective" vehicle for controlling smut than a licensing law, has been the subject of debate for weeks.

From Tuesday's discussion it appeared that a separate ordinance—"free standing" from the city's land zoning ordinance—has the best chance of gaining support of planners. However, at least two planners still contend the matter would be better handled through licensing.

Licensing requires action only of the council; an ordinance requires a recommendation of the planning commission with final action by the council.

Ogilvie argued that an ordinance is a preventive type measure in that it requires the dealer to first gain support of 51-percent of the people within 500 feet of the proposed business place.

A licensing law, on the other hand, puts the city in the position of having to challenge, perhaps in court, a business after it has made some kind of violation. The latter can result in costly lawsuits, during which time the business in question continues to operate, he pointed out.

Ronald Nino, planning commission consultant, who has indicated his support of a controlling ordinance separate from the zoning law, contended a zoning ordinance amendment as suggested by Ogilvie could possibly set dangerous precedents.

Specifically, someone might interpret the law to mean if 51-percent of the people must approve questionable businesses zoning matters covered by the same law should also be decided by petition, he suggested.

Councilman Paul Folino, who has led the campaign for an anti-smut law, urged planners to act quickly.

When Planning Chairman J. Burton DeRusha reminded the audience that the commission has not been delaying, that it has only recently been given full explanation of the matter, Folino emphasized that he is not critical of the planners.

And he suggested that newspaper reports to the contrary were inaccurate.

Folino blamed instead City Attorney Ogilvie for causing much of the delay.

Chamber of Commerce Plans 'Candidates' Night

Members of the Novi Chamber of Commerce will have an opportunity to discuss topics of mutual interest with the candidates for the Novi city council at a special "Meet the Candidates Night" on October 10.

Chamber President Gary Johnson reported Monday that both candidates for Mayor and the 13 candidates for the council have been invited to attend the session.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, October 10, at the Saratoga Trunk Restaurant on Grand River. A cash bar will be set up at 6 p.m. with dinner being served at 7:30 p.m.

Following dinner each candidate will be asked to present his views on the topic of "Encouraging Business Development in the City of Novi." Comments will be limited to five minutes and a question and answer period will follow the presentations.

According to Johnson, the Chamber has two basic objectives with the meeting: 1.

to educate members about those who may be elected to the city government, and 2. to let the candidates know that the business community is concerned about the future of Novi.

Johnson also asked that each member of the Chamber bring at least two guests from the business community to the meeting. "This is a program that should be very interesting to all businessmen in Novi and this is an excellent opportunity for us to work toward our goal of total involvement of the business community in the chamber," commented Johnson.
