CANDIDATES for the Northville City Council will speak here next week Wednesday (October 24) in a public forum sponsored by the Northville Jaycees. The two hour program, slated to get underway at 7 p.m. in the city hall council chambers, is open to the public. Jaycee David L. Kull, an attorney, will be the moderator.

RESOLUTION calling for improvement of Haggerty Road will be drawn up and sent to Wayne County Road Commission by Northville township trustees. Taking action last week, trustees explained they feel the road surface of Haggerty between Five and Six Mile and Seven and Eight Mile roads should be repaired. Supervisor Lawrence Wright said Livonia City Council and Schoolcraft Community College, which also border on Haggerty Road, will be submitting similar resolutions to the county.

TERRIFYING SURPRISES await area daredevils at the Haunted House cooked up by Northville Jaycees in the Fish Hatchery Park building on Seven Mile Road at the west city limits. The Halloween fun gets underway Saturday and Sunday, from noon to 10 p.m. Special guest Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. will be that shivering TV delight, Sir Graves Ghastly. The Haunted House, which will be open weekdays from 7 to 10 p.m., resumes the noon to 10 p.m. times the following weekend. Admission is 50-cents. Cider, candied apples, coffee and donuts are on tap.

NORTHVILLE CONVALESCENT Center has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Nowka of Westland from the Alden Care Corporation, it was announced this week. Mrs. Nowka is a registered nurse, and Mr. Nowka has been involved in supervisory maintenance work most of his adult life. Located at 520 West Main Street in what formerly was Northville's community hospital, the center is to undergo extensive redecoration soon, according to Mrs. Nowka, who said the name will remain the same.

BLACKTOPPING completion of the two new municipal parking lots in downtown Northville has been delayed by the strike affecting state road paving projects.

PLANNING COMMISSION representatives and city councilmen are to meet in two weeks to iron out differences over the proposed new zoning ordinance. Also to be discussed will be the proposed new city statute concerning historical district provisions. The study meeting, called by Mayor A.M. Allen, is to be held Monday, October 29. Next regular meeting of the council is November 5.

It's Possible, Says County

New Study for North-South Route?

Re-study of proposals for a new north-south traffic route through Northville appears likely if the city and the county can get together on the price for the study.

The study is expected to cost several thousand dollars.

A spokesman for the Wayne County Road Commission has confirmed that the commission is willing to launch a new feasibility study of the controversial north-south route provided the City of Northville shares in the study cost.

City officials already have indicated a willingness to discuss cost sharing, and Planning Consultant Ronald Nino has urged city officials not to wait for the county to act but rather to initiate and pursue the matter of study with the county.

All that remains, it appears, is for the two sides to get together.

The north-south route, which has been on city drawing boards for years, was blighted by Wayne County road officials several years ago because, in the opinion of the county, the project was not financially feasible.

Although the county looked with disdain on the proposal of the city for a new route near Griswold Street, local officials periodically have continued to press for it. Without financial backing of the county, however, it has remained little more than a pipe dream.

Then earlier this year, the Northville Planning Commission and its consultant came up with a revised north-south route proposal as part of its updated plan. Instead of cutting across private property east and north of the Ford plant, this new plan suggested that Griswold Street itself become part of the north-south right-of-way.

The new plan suggested the north-south route follow Griswold from Main to a point near the C&O Railroad viaduct and then turn north and proceed across the eastern tip of the millpond paralleling the railroad. It would continue north along the railroad, cross Base Line and Eight Mile roads and tie into Novi Road.

By utilizing at least a portion of the existing Griswold Street right-of-way, this road is seen by Consultant Nino as considerably less expensive than the original road which purported carried a price tag of well in excess of $1 million.

Furthermore, it has been suggested by local officials that construction of the new route would automatically eliminate the dangerous traffic bottleneck at the existing intersection of Novi and Eight Mile roads.

Lending fresh impetus to the north-south proposal has been an offer by the owner of the Northville Lumber Company to donate right-of-way land for the roadway through his property. Also influencing new attention has been the city's just completed extension of Griswold Street south to Beal.

The latter two-block improvement, say city officials, enhances Griswold "as a natural" for a major north-south route. A county spokesman agrees.

Despite this fresh impetus, city officials are admittedly skeptical of the county's willingness to give serious attention to the new route

2 Die Trying to Beat Train

Car Hits Engine on 7 Mile

An attempt to beat a C&O freight train to the Seven Mile-Northville Road crossing ended in death Tuesday night for a Livonia couple.

Dead at the scene were James Duncan, 36, and his wife, Joyce, 33.

Traveling in a car directly behind the Duncan vehicle and witnessing the crash were Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Duncan of Westland, brother and sister-in-law of the dead couple.

The accident took place at 8:35 p.m. on the east side of the railroad crossing. The Duncan vehicle was traveling westbound when it rammed into the engine of the south-bound train.

Witnesses told police the Duncan vehicle was the second in line at the crossing. The first vehicle made it safely across the tracks.

Duncans stopped for the crossing and then drove into the engine of the train which was traveling between 35 and 40 miles per hour.

Force of the impact threw the Duncan's nine passenger van-type vehicle into a utility pole and over an eight-foot high signal control house on the south side of the road.

The vehicle flipped over and landed on the driver's side in a 10-foot deep gully, approximately 150 feet from the original point of impact. Glass was strewn across all four lanes of Seven Mile Road.

Mrs. Duncan, who was a passenger in the car, was pinned beneath the driver's side. Duncan, who was driving the car, was partially outside of the passenger's window when police arrived at the scene.

Police, fire, ambulance and wrecker crews worked more than a half hour to free the bodies from the wreckage.

Police said the engine of the car was driven up to the passenger's side, caving in the right side of the vehicle about two feet. The steering wheel was pushed up against the right side of the roof.

Township police said signals at the railroad crossing were operating at the time of the accident.

Assisting township police at the scene were officers from the City of Northville, Michigan State Police, Northville Fire Department and C&O Railroad.

Tuesday's fatalities are the second and third deaths recorded in the township this year. In June, a St. Clair Shores girl was killed in a one-car accident on Beck Road south of Eight Mile Road.

Eye Township Plan

An updated future land use plan for Northville Township was unveiled Tuesday at a public hearing of the Northville Planning Commission.

"The updating has been flexible to reflect changes in standards and land use existing since the plan was formulated in 1964, '65 and '66," George Vilcan, township planning consultant, told the commission and an audience of 20 citizens.

He pointed out that the economic structure and the advent of multiple housing since the mid-1960's has made it necessary to include such new features in the area of control as "bedroom count" rather than single and multiple units.

The current plan is in effect and is being carried out, he said. It was pointed out that projected land use planning is separate from, but is a guideline reflected in, zoning maps.

Originally, Vilcan said, a population of 10,000 was projected, on the basis of the 1960 census, for the township; it actually was 9,522. The guess, he added, is that population today is 14,500. In the new plan, complete density is projected at 51,917, compared to 47,000 in the old one.

Vilcan said, however, he feels there is a better chance to control multiple housing under the new plan of bedroom count. The average single home, he said, would be figured at 3.5 children while multiples would be 1.5, 2.5 and 3.5 for one to three bedrooms. Under the new count, he added, the projection is for 12 elementary schools, rather than 13 previously.

Vilcan projected a mix of single and multiple housing per acre with never more than 50 percent of the bedrooms in multiples.

Changes in the new map were shown as four parcels in the north end of the Levitt area shown as multiple in conformity with existing; a buffer of multiple housing between single housing now

Captured Lutherans Celebrate

Take Time Out from A War

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Under armed guard . . . aboard a seized Greek cruise ship . . . smuggled beside an anchored Russian steamer . . . in the middle of a war, seven members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville laughed and toasted the 22nd wedding anniversary of a South Lyon couple.

The anniversary hoopla pretty much illustrates the emotional tenor of the seven local area Lutherans during their 60 hours of "capture" in the Mideast recently by warring Syrians.

Except for a few minutes of serious concern near the end of their detainment in the harbor of Tartus, there was little if any real worry among the 100 Michigan Lutheran passengers aboard the 4,000 ton cruise ship, according to St. Paul's pastor, the Reverend Charles Boerger.

Pastor and Mrs. Boerger, together with five other members of St. Paul's—including the anniversary celebrants, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy VanAtta—were enroute to the Holyland when their cruise ship was intercepted by a Syrian gunboat 16 miles off-shore and escorted into Tartus.

Most of the 208 passengers, including the seven from St. Paul's, were unaware of the capture until they awoke the following morning. Their ship was anchored in the middle of the harbor, just 100 yards or so from a Russian steamer which may or may not have been intercepted as well, said Pastor Boerger.

Judd Arnett—Bonus Feature at Town Hall Here

By JEAN DAY

TOWN HALL ticketholders received a "Two-Fer"—two entertainments for the price of one—at the opening of the 13th season last Thursday. Featured Free Press columnist Judd Arnett introduced humorist Erma Bombeck—and gave the capacity audience some of his own observations.

He immediately delighted his primarily-Northville audience at the Thunderbird Hilton by declaring that he has been "almost totally captivated" by Our Town for many years. (Arnett and his wife have been coming to Northville to be guests of the Donald Wares, enjoying Mary Ware's famous Italian dinners.)

Arnett warned, however, that he thinks the community is changing "and the direction it takes is up to you....I hope you do better than some other communities, including Detroit." In July, 1972, Arnett wrote his column on the appreciation of Northville.

In a two-cent-worth assessment of events of the day, Arnett pointed out that "one of our friends and allies that we helped create is in a life-and-death struggle—What would be our responsibility if Israel should say 'we need more planes'. Everyone must weigh what should be done—not just our elected officials."

Pointing out that the vice president has resigned in the heat of scandal, Arnett questioned how Americans should react. Faced with scandal, drugs, pornography, what is the "ordinary, garden variety citizen" to do, he asked, pointing out there are no easy answers. Americans have survived in history, he added, because they could "stand firm" and have not been shirkers. He believes we will today.

THE AUXILIARY at Northville State Hospital will be holding a get-acquainted coffee at the home of Mrs. Bernard Baldwin at 10:30 a.m. next Thursday, October 25. The auxiliary is a fund-raising organization which uses its profits from the gift shop it operates in the hospital lobby to buy needed items for the hospital and patients. These are items, the volunteers point out, that are not covered by the state budget. Shop profits also provide weekly allowances for indigent patients, Mrs. Robert Nesbitt, president, explains.

Women interested in volunteering to work at least one afternoon a month in the gift shop are invited to call Mrs. Baldwin, 349-0209, or Mrs. Elwyn Kaake, 349-0788, to make plans to attend the coffee, which also will be a get-together for old members.

The auxiliary, traditionally, has been an organization that welcomes newcomers to the community—it has provided the new volunteers an opportunity to meet others.

NORTHVILLE NEWCOMERS, the organization created more than a dozen years ago to provide activities for new residents, this year is launching a new series of "Ladies Outings." Buses will be chartered for coffee concerts in Detroit, for trips to the Detroit Art Institute and for a tour of the state capital by Representative R. Robert Geake.

Mrs. Jarry Kissel, chairman of the new project points out that Newcomers primarily offers couples activities and this is designed to fill the need for "ladies" activities. Women interested in participating may call her at 349-0839.

A Newcomers Halloween party is scheduled from 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday, October 27, at Foreman's Cider Mill, 50050 West Seven Mile. There will be dancing, beer, cider and donuts for $5 a couple. Reservations must be made by this Saturday with Mrs. Lynn Stringer, 349-3272. Mrs. Stringer, who is party chairman, points out that costumes are not required.

To participate in these and other club activities, according to Mrs. George Kausler, president, it is necessary to join Newcomers. Dues now are payable to Mrs. James Harris, 418 West Main Street, treasurer. They are $5 for new members.

HIGHLAND LAKES Women's Club will be viewing new fashions at a dessert-card party at 1 p.m. today at the clubhouse. The clothes are from Northville's Marquis Boutique on Main Street and are being modeled by eight club members.

Mrs. James Hinchey and Mrs. Alvin Dornes, co-chairmen, add that hair fashions are the work of Salon Rene while the floral decorations are from Fairlane Florist in Dearborn (the owner is a Highland Lakes resident.) Mrs. Lewis Mejia is responsible for the Fashion 220 make-up.

Member models are Mrs. Ernest Cesarone, Mrs. Francis DeKinderen, Mrs. Thomas Koehler, Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Walter Sitarski, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Russell Swanson and Mrs. Robert Terwin.

The women's club also is making plans for a Christmas bazaar to be held December 1 at the club house.

HOSPITAL VOLUNTEERS—Behind the gift shop counter at Northville State Hospital are Mrs. Allen J. Grieger, Mrs. Bernard Baldwin and Mrs. Robert Nesbitt. They are members of the hospital auxiliary which raises funds for needed items for patients by operating the lobby shop. Area women interested in this volunteer organization are invited to a coffee at 10:30 a.m. October 25 at Mrs. Baldwin's home. (See In Our Town.)

MOTHERS' CLUB will continue a project begun last year, as it holds a workshop at the Northville High School library beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Members will assist the library staff with typing and filing. Mrs. Glenn Deibert, president, announced that this is a guest night.

The club's fall thrift sale is set for 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, October 27, at Northville First Presbyterian Church on Main Street. Mrs. Charles B. Smith, chairman, explains that "unit pricing" again will be used. This means that all dresses will be one price, as will all shoes, purses, blouses, pants and suits, except for a "designer boutique" section of nearly-new wear with famous labels.

The "unit pricing" also means there will be bargains for early shoppers—with all proceeds being used for education projects. A housewares section will be included. Anyone with donations for the sale may call Mrs. Smith at 349-5984.

State Winner to Address BPW on Monday

Miss Sally Buxton of Ann Arbor, who holds the Michigan title of Business and Professional Women's Career

Girl of the Year, will speak to the Northville club at its October dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Hillside Inn.

Miss Buxton, who is working toward her Ph.D. degree in higher education at University of Michigan, was the first woman to be named to serve on the board of trustees of Washtenaw Community College. She was elected by popular vote in the fall of 1972 to a six-year term.

Until July of this year she was assistant to the chairman of the University of Michigan Commission for Women. Her new post with the university is that of government relations coordinator. In 1966 Miss Buxton first affiliated with the university in the student affairs counseling office.

She left that post to work as assistant to the dean of students at Boston University; she also worked briefly as a campaign volunteer for the late Robert F. Kennedy on the west coast. Other jobs included account executive with Anthony M. Furman, Inc., New York public relations firm; campaign manager Bertram R. Gelfand, New York.

She received her MA degree from University of Michigan in 1967. She was graduated with distinction from St. Lawrence University in 1966 with a BA degree in English.

The young career woman views her own background as "a patchwork quilt whose individual pieces appear highly unrelated, and yet when the first half has been assembled, takes on shape and form."

She was nominated by the Ann Arbor BPW for the Young Careerist award, going on to regional and then state competition in Detroit where there were 16 finalists.

Northville Business and Professional Women's Club currently has a special exhibit of its activities in the window of the Little People's Shop.

Novi Police Get Grant for 'Service' Bureau

Novi has been selected as one of the cities to receive a federal grant through Michigan's Office of Criminal Justice to investigate the feasibility of a new concept in law enforcement.

If successful, the program will result in far greater police efficiency and thus bring about a decrease in crime rates.

At its October 9 session, the Novi City Council passed a resolution which, in effect, approved acceptance of the grant of approximately $31,000. Purpose of the grant is to establish what will be known as the "Community Service Bureau".

The man selected by Novi

Police Chief Lee BeGole to administer the new program is Sergeant Dale Gross, a veteran of the Novi police department.

"As far as I know," said Gross, "Novi is one of just three cities in Michigan to be awarded a grant for a Community Services Bureau. Detroit has one and so does Ann Arbor, but outside of those two Novi is the only other one that I am aware of."

The concept of the Community Services Bureau grew out of one of the recommendations made in the 1970 report of the President's Commission on Crime.

As a result of its investigation, the Commission discovered that police officers spend a great many hours performing routine, non-police tasks.

If the trained police officers could be freed from these non-police tasks, the commission concluded, they would be able to devote their time to performing the duties for which they have been specifically trained - the prevention of crime.

Gross estimates that it took him two months to conduct the research to obtain the information required in making application for the grant.

His findings supported the conclusions drawn by the Crime Commission.

In the calendar year of 1972, Gross discovered, Novi police spent 5,232 hours performing duties not directly related to crime prevention or protection of the citizens.

The greatest percentage of those 5,200 hours was spent in conducting surveillances of private residences while their owners were on vacation. According to Gross' compilations, Novi police spent in excess of 2,000 hours in conducting these "house checks".

Other example of non-police duties which kept officers from performing actual police work included driving police cars back and forth to dealers for maintenance (880 hours); conducting automobile safety inspections for the Secretary of State's Office (770 hours); delivering tickets to the courts (156 hours); taking police film to the laboratory to be processed (156 hours); and instructing businessmen in security measures (275 hours).

"And my figures were conservative," stated Gross. "I think I could have come up with more than 7,000 hours and not been overestimating."

With the establishment of the Community Service Bureau, non-police personnel will be employed to relieve the officers of having to perform the routine, non-hazardous functions.

"What it does," said Gross "is free policemen so they can be policemen."

The Community Services Bureau will also serve as a means to improve police-community relations. Gross said that the three people who will be hired to staff the Novi Community Service Bureau will spend some of their time visiting schools and homeowner's groups.

"I think we will be able to bring down the number of breaking and enterings in our city just by educating people as to what they can do to

For Regional Center

Expect SCI Site Plan

Plans for the development of the giant regional shopping center at the corner of Novi and 12 Mile Roads are proceeding more or less on schedule.

That's the word from Dayton-Hudson's Stuart Finney, project head for the multi-million dollar Novi development.

Speaking before the Novi Rotary Club at the Saratoga Trunk last Thursday, Finney announced that Dayton-Hudson will be presenting the city's Planning Board with a site plan within 30-60 days.

"If all goes well," he stated, "we will begin land balancing in the spring and construction will be underway by early summer."

Finney said Dayton-Hudson still contemplates an opening date of some time in the late fall of 1976.

In other statements, Finney revealed that

• the Novi center will contain an estimated one million square feet of retail space, and

• Victor Gruen, an architectural firm from Los Angeles, had been hired to design the center.

Finney's announcement that the center would contain one million square feet of retail space is a revision of a figure released earlier. At the time the Novi City Council granted the Dayton-Hudson rezoning request back in July of this year, Finney had estimated that the center would contain 850,000 to 900,000 square feet of retail space.

Finney stated further that the center is being designed to accommodate expansion at some future date.

"Our initial plans call for a regional center of three major tenants and one million square feet of retail space, but we have directed our architect to design the center in such a way so we can add two more major department stores and an additional 500,000 square feet of retail space," said Finney.

Once the expansion takes place, the Novi center will be one of the largest in the area.

By comparison, Livonia Mall contains 365,000 square feet of total space, Hudson's Westland has gross leasable area of 642,225 square feet, the new Briarwood Shopping Center in Ann Arbor has 900,000 square feet of retail space, and Hudson's Northland has 1.2 million square feet of retail space.

Finney gave no indication of when the expansion is planned.

"The population is on its way and we feel the center is going to be a highly successful one," he stated. "We would never have started this venture if we didn't feel it had a good chance for success."

Finney declined to identify any of the major tenants.

"This is strictly their ball game," he stated. "We develop the center and build the 'pad' on which their store operates. But any announcements about who will be locating in our center will come from the retailer himself.

The architect for the Novi center - the Victor Gruen and Associates firm from Los Angeles - has previously designed Hudson's Northland, Eastland, Westland, and Southland developments in the suburban Detroit area.

Council OKs Extension Of Heathergreene Plat

Although Mayor Joseph Crupi argued that all that was required was a simple correction of an oversight, the Novi City Council Monday took three votes before finally arriving at a compromise solution to the issue.

Involved was a request from Village Oaks developer Kaufman and Broad (K&B) for an extension of a previously granted preliminary plat plan approval for its Heathergreene subdivision.

(Heathergreene, a part of the overall Village Oaks development, contains 20 lots and is located between Willowbrook Estates and the model homes on Buckingham Court).

After debating the matter for approximately 15 minutes, the council finally voted to grant a six-month extension of the preliminary plat plan approval.

K&B now has six months in which to return to the council for final plat approval. If they do not return within that time period, the extension will expire and a further extension will then have to be obtained before they can request final plat approval.

Preliminary approval of the Heathergreene plat was granted by the Novi council in April of 1971. Since city ordinances stipulate that a preliminary plat plan approval is good for a period of two years, the K&B approval for Heathergreene expired this past April.

City Manager Harold Saunders told the council last week that the matter should have been brought to their attention at the time the original preliminary plat approval expired.

In presenting the matter to the council Monday, Mayor Joseph Crupi stated: "All we have to do is correct an oversight. We are simply being asked to correct the technicality of having the preliminary plat approval extended to give K&B time to get its final plat plans approved."

The council, however, did not agree that the issue was cut and dried. Point of controversy was not whether the preliminary approval should be extended, but for what length of time the extension should cover.

"I agree that we should facilitate the completion of the development of this area," said Councilwoman Romaine Roethel. "My objection is to extending the preliminary plat approval for 12 months. If we extend it to 12 months it will just give K&B the opportunity to delay completion of such projects as having Cranbrook Drive paved out to 10 Mile Road.

"If we extend this to 12 months," Mrs. Roethel continued, "we won't see any action on Cranbrook Drive for 11 months."

Supporting Mrs. Roethel's position was Councilman William O'Brien. After Councilman Denis Berry and Donald Young had moved and seconded the granting of a 12-month extension, O'Brien amended their motion - changing the 12 months to 90 days.

Mayor Crupi argued against O'Brien's amendment saying that it would serve no useful purpose to have the developer come back in for an extension of the preliminary plat approval every three months.

"If we want to facilitate the completion of this project - particularly the paving of Cranbrook Drive - I don't think we should try to inconvenience the developer by having him coming to us for an extension every 90 days," said the Mayor.

Wixom Approves Rezoning Request

Eight parcels of land along the I-96 expressway in Wixom were rezoned from residential (RA-2) to general business (B-3) Tuesday night by the Wixom council.

The eight lots, owned by five different individuals, are located in a triangular section east of Wixom Road bounded by the expressway on the north and Twelve Mile Road on the south.

No objections were voiced at the public hearing, although one neighboring property owner said he had been told that a title restriction on the property prohibited commercial use.

Attorney Clifton Hill pointed out that such a restriction was not possible on unplatted raw land and his opinion was upheld by City Attorney Gene Schnelz.

Hill, representing Frank Mitran, who holds an option to acquire two of the parcels for the development of a truck sales and service business, noted that the land is located directly across the expressway from heavy industrial zoning and because of noise and traffic would not be desirable for residential use.

Mitran presented a rendering of the truck sales and service facility proposed for the westerly two parcels.

The council voted unanimously in favor of the rezoning (Councilman Gunnar Mettala was absent).

Two of the eight parcels are owned by R. Liddle, three by D. Goodwin and single parcels by S. Hedgecock, C. Stecker, and R. Flannery. The Liddle lots are the proposed site of the truck sales' business.

Open Basements Stir Ire

Residents in Novi's Lakewood subdivision - the condominium portion of Kaufman and Broad's Village Oaks development - are up in arms about what they consider a potentially dangerous safety condition.

Source of their irritation is approximately 61 basements constructed and then left uncovered by K. & B. in the general vicinity of their homes.

The matter first came to the attention of the Novi City Council last week when a sizeable turn out of Lakewood residents showed up at the council meeting to protest the conditions.

Philip Goodman, spokesman for the Lakewood group, told the council that he had attempted to alleviate the problem through negotiations with K&B personnel, but had met with little success.

"They told me that the open basements are in a construction area and that it is the responsibility of the residents to keep away from them," Goodman reported.

"They told me that they have no intentions of completing the buildings until such time as the market conditions improve," he continued.

As a result of Goodman's statements, the council directed City Manager Harold Saunders to follow up with an investigation of the matter.

His report, delivered at Monday's council session, supported the conditions reported by Goodman.

According to statistics cited by Saunders at Monday's session, there are 61 open basements in Village Oaks: six for single family residences in Heatherwyck subdivision; 39 for single family residences in Fairfield Farms; four for buildings of 22-living units in The Colony; and 12 for buildings of 48-living units in Lakewood.

Saunders told the council that K&B President John Tedesco had been unresponsive to a suggestion that decking be constructed over the open basements.

"It is their feeling that construction of decking would be unfeasible from a financial point of view," said Saunders.

Nevertheless, Saunders and City Attorney David Fried assured the council and the Lakewood residents that action would be taken shortly.

"We are currently meeting with K&B representatives to try to resolve the problem," said Saunders. "We have told them that if some sort of acceptable agreement is not reached by next week, we will proceed with our own solutions to removing the safety hazard."

Added Fried: "I think we have the tools on hand to ensure the safety of the residents out there. If we can not reach an agreement with Kaufman and Broad representatives by next week, we will direct the building department to make recommendations about what can be done."

"If the council adopts those recommendations, the City Manager and I can proceed to follow through with their enforcement," he said.

Expand Activities

Since Schoolcraft College opened its Center at Garden City during the summer, activities have expanded and developed as the College continues its attempt to better serve students in this area.

Now heading the program is Clay Fichter, former director of social sciences who was reassigned from the campus. Fichter spends the majority of his time in Garden City, and has been instrumental in preparing and equipping the Center for students this fall. He also served as director of public and human services for the College.

Most furniture and equipping has been completed at the Center, although a number of items are still on order and are expected soon. A student lounge has been equipped with vending machines and allows a place for students to gather between classes.

Student Affairs began offering some additional services at the Center in August. Two counselors, Jean Pike and Ronald Rogowski, have been assigned to the Center on Wednesday mornings and are available to talk with students. On Thursday afternoons, Robert Burnside, an

Two activities have been scheduled for the coming weeks by members of the Northville High School Band and the Band Parents.

Band Parents will be selling Mustang pennants Friday night during the homecoming football game with Livonia Churchill.

admissions counselor, is also available for students by appointment. A person need not be admitted to the College to take advantage of these services.

Nearly 350 students were attending day and evening when classes began at the Center on August 23. At the end of September, five Community Services classes began, adding another 100 students. On October 2, and continuing each Tuesday through November 13, the Senior Forum meets from 10 a.m. to noon. The Senior Forum is a program for retirees which gives them an opportunity to meet together and discuss important issues in retirement living.

On consecutive Wednesdays during October the College is presenting, in cooperation with the Garden City Jaycees, three programs entitled Health Seminar. The first topic for discussion was the area of drug abuse. The

Adult Education Survey Reveals Wide Interests

Interests of Northville's adults run the gamut from badminton to bridge, cake decorating to the stock market.

That, at any rate, is the indication derived from studying the results of a poll conducted during the summer by the Northville Recreation Department in conjunction with the Northville Public Schools.

Purpose of the poll was to determine what subjects might stir enrollments in a night-time adult education program.

Robert Prom, director of the Recreation Department, stated that now the polls have been tabulated, administrators can set about the task of implementing the program.

"Hopefully, many of the courses will be offered during the winter term," said Prom.

One of the prerequisites is proper instruction. According to Prom, instructors are needed in many areas. Anyone with a particular skill or expertise and who would be willing to offer his services is requested to contact the Recreation Department and leave his name.

The Recreation Department can be contacted any day Monday through Friday from 2-5 p.m. at 349-0203.

Listed alphabetically, the courses which drew the greatest response were: antiquing, auto-engine tune-up, arts and crafts (youth), badminton, basketball (youth), baton, bridge, business management, cake decorating, dog obedience training, and flower arranging.

Also drawing heavy response were furniture upholstery and refinishing, guitar, gymnastics, interior decorating, investments, knitting, painting (youth and adults), pre-school story hour, snowmobile safety, and speed reading.

Rounding out the list of special interest subjects were swimming instruction (women and youth), tennis (indoor), women's volleyball, drawing, sewing stretch materials, and skating.

GOING UP—With more than 20 percent of the steel superstructure in place, construction at the middle school on Bradner Road continues one month ahead of schedule. The building is expected to be fully enclosed by winter, Earl Busard, director of business for Northville schools, said. Target date for completion of the middle school is spring of 1975. Meanwhile, steel began going up this week at the elementary school in Northville Commons and foundation work continued at the elementary site in Highland Lakes. Completion of both elementary schools is set for next September, Busard said.

Jaycees Set Contest For Safe Halloween

Novi's Jaycee Auxilliary is sponsoring a Halloween Safety Poster Contest in each of Novi's three elementary schools.

Each child will be asked to make a poster on some aspect of Halloween Safety, said Mrs. Kathy Crawford, Jaycee Auxilliary spokeswoman.

The posters will then be judged by a committee and winners in each grade (K-5) in each elementary school will be announced.

Each of the 18 winners will receive two free passes to the Jaycee's Haunted House and two candy apples.

Following the judging, said Mrs. Crawford, the posters will be on display throughout the schools and the winning posters will be on display throughout the city.

Moraine Hosts

New Parents

Moraine PTA will hold a tea for parents of new students at the school today, Thursday, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Guests will be meeting with Principal Milt Jacobi who will explain the general layout of Moraine and answer any questions.

Later in the afternoon, new room mothers will be hosted at a tea.

This year, the PTA reports, the open house for all parents will be held in January along with Parent Visitation Day.

Men-in-Blue Host Open House

Wixom's Police Department will be finger printing all children between the ages of six and 18 years on Sunday, October 28.

The occasion is not a part of any city-wide effort to crack down on juvenile crime, however, but rather a popular part of the annual Wixom Police Open House.

The finger printing is merely one of the activities which will be going on at City Hall as the police open up their doors to the community to improve communications and help citizens understand just how the department works.

"This is the third year we've had the Open House and I think it's been better every year that we've had it," observed George VonBehren, Wixom Police Chief.

"I know the police look forward to it and I like to think that the community appreciates the opportunity to get acquainted with the men on the force."

In addition to the finger printing, the police have lined up other activities for citizens who show up for the Open House which runs from 3-6 p.m.

Officer Roger DeClerq will have his horse and dog available for the children to meet; officers will give youngsters rides in a police car; and Officer Vern Darlington, Wixom's Traffic Officer, will explain how the city's new moving-radar works.

Other features include a display of narcotics and drug paraphernalia, a display of "what goes into the trunk of a police car," and pamphlets on motorcycles, bikes, snowmobiles and cars. Refreshments will be available.

"We'd like to see a big turn out," commented VonBehren. All residents are invited to attend.

Middle School Conferences Set

Conferences for parents of students attending Cooke Middle School and Annex will be held three days this month, Principal Ronald Horwath has announced.

Also, report cards for students in the year-round school program, will be sent home Monday, October 22.

Conferences for students who attend Cooke Annex are scheduled for Wednesday, October 24, and Thursday, October 25, between 2:45 and 5:45 p.m. Evening conferences at the Annex will be held Monday, October 29, from 6 to 9 p.m. in the gymnasium.

All sixth grade conferences will be held in the learning center at the Annex, Horwath added.

Parents of seventh and eighth graders at the middle school may attend conferences October 24, 25 and 29. All conferences are scheduled between 6 and 9 p.m. dangerous intersection problem at Novi Road and Eight Mile Road. Instead of limiting its corrective solution to the intersection itself, the county has proposed the widening also of Eight Mile Road west to Center, and from Center south one block to Base Line.

Councilmen and planners agree that Eight Mile should be widened, but they question the necessity for widening the block of Center to four or five lanes.

Firmly convinced Center Street through the city should not become a major thoroughfare as envisioned by the county and the Inter-county Highway Commission, planners suspect the proposal to widen a block of North Center is a county first-step in bringing its Center Street thoroughfare plan to fruition.

"It's their way of getting a foot in the door," Planner Wallace Nichols suspects.

After meeting recently with Franklin D. Meyers, executive director of the Inter-county Highway Commission, planners and some councilmen came away even more skeptical of the need for widening Center to four or five lanes.

Not only do they see such widening as destroying their own long-range plans, they also see widening of Center as an exceedingly costly and unnecessary move.

Widening Center through the downtown area, they reason, would perhaps necessitate razing of store buildings.

However, when questioned directly about Meyers' report about county plans, Gregory Harrison, a planning engineer for Wayne County, contends the county has no intention of having to purchase expensive rights-of-way and rip down buildings in the downtown area.

County plans label Center as an "urban thoroughfare", which by name means a width of from 90 to 106 feet, he admits. But the county recognizes, he emphasizes, that where such highways pass through the heart of the city the plans must be modified accordingly.

In other words, Harrison contends that Center from Dunlap to Cady is not likely to be widened to an "urban thoroughfare" width and that city official fears are unwarranted.

Furthermore, Harrison insists the county is sincerely interested in taking up again the north-south route idea. He adds, however, that the county must insist that the city share in the cost of the study.

Harrison also notes that the county's long range plans show Griswold Street as a major thoroughfare (120-foot width right-of-way). He suggests also that inter-county highway plans can easily include a footnote, if desired, indicating that Griswold is under study as a possible major north-south route through Northville.

The latter concession in lieu of actual county commitment is seen as the county's way of encouraging the city to endorse the Inter-County Highway Commission's master plan. That plan is now before the council for approval.

However, there is growing evidence that the city council is in no mood to approve the commission's master plan unless the city council and the planning commission has an opportunity to modify it.

Mayor A. M. Allen is especially critical of the county because, he points out, the existing traffic problem in Northville was created in large part by the county's closing of the old Novi Road route around the eastern edge of the city.

The city was not consulted about that closing, and now that the problem exists, he argues, the county proposes to resolve the problem without consulting Northville officials or considering local roadway plans.

Some Northville officials who voice criticism about long range road planning by the county, point to the bridges constructed on Northville Road years ago by Wayne County in anticipation of the road's widening. Although the bridges were installed the road was never widened.

"By the time they get around to widening the road," one bitter Northville official has stated, "the bridges will have decayed."

When asked about the bridges, Harrison admits that timing for construction of the bridges "was poor." But he insists the bridges will be useable when Northville Road is eventually widened "sometime in the future."

Wixom Girl On Court At Northern

A 17-year-old freshman from Wixom, Frida Waara, was in the homecoming court in festivities at Northern Michigan University at Marquette last weekend. She was one of 11 coeds chosen to compete for the homecoming queen title.

The daughter of the Wilfred J. Waaras of 1429 Nightingale, Wixom, Miss Waara is majoring in foreign languages at NMU. She also has a minor in physical education. She had received honors in both fields in high school and had studied overseas.

She was sponsored for the homecoming candidacy by Grissom House of VanAntwerp residence hall. The queen was crowned at half time ceremonies during Saturday's game with Akron University.

Television Star Set To Perform

Direct from hit performances on national television including Dean Martin's "Music Country," singing star Jeannie C. Riley will perform in Garden City October 25.

Her show, featuring country music at its best and prettiest, is scheduled for an 8 p.m. curtain in the O'Leary Performing Arts Center. It is the second performance in a series of nine Schoolcraft College cultural and public affairs presentations for 1973-74.

An unknown housewife when she recorded "Harper Valley PTA," Jeannie overnight became the toast of the musical world with one of the most sensational hits to ever come out of Nashville, Tennessee. After appearing on many television shows and before numerous live audiences, she became known as Jeannie C. Riley, Star.

Many awards later, from gold records to citations from national organizations, Jeannie has successfully made the transition from one-record-newcomer to a standard industry by-word, becoming a major entertainer onstage as well as on record.

Candidates Speak

A "Meet the Candidates" Forum has been scheduled for Thursday, October 25, by the Wixom Residents Association (WRA).

The forum will be held at the Wixom Elementary School beginning at 8 p.m. James Schemanske, chairman of the WRA, announced that each of the 10 candidates running for office in the upcoming general election has been invited to attend the forum.

Each candidate will give a brief five minute presentation and the floor will then be thrown open to questions.

City Attorney Gene Schnelz will serve as moderator for the meeting.

In the November 6 election, Wixom residents will elect a mayor, three councilmen to four-year terms, and one councilman to a two-year term.

Candidates for the two-year mayoral term are Gilbert

PLAN OFFICIALS MEETING AT BOYNE MT: Councilman Vernon brought up the Michigan Society of Planning Officials Meeting at Boyne Mountain on October 10, 11, and 12. The Plan Commission wanted to know if there were funds available for this seminar

Mayor Allen said that this was a worthwhile meeting and Council agreed that funds were available for the Plan Commission to be represented at the conference at Boyne Mountain

MISCELLANEOUS: Councilman Vernon asked if an accounting of the Recreation Department expenditures and receipts could be presented

Acting City Manager Clarke will look into this

There being no further business to take care of, Mayor Allen called the meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Patricia Settler

County Opens OEO Branch

Oakland County's Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) has established a branch office in the St. Williams Parish on Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake.

Sponsored by the federal government's Office of Economic Opportunity, the new office is divided into two basic sections: an Information and Referral Section and a Community Development Section.

"The section that we're trying to emphasize," said Gray Harwell of the OCCEO, "is the Information and Referral Section."

"What we've tried to do is provide a one-stop source of information and referral for the whole community. Hopefully, if an individual needs help with a problem, he will be able to call us and we will then direct him to the appropriate source for solution of that problem."

OCCEO has a practical, working knowledge of all educational, vocational, psychological, legal, medical, and social resources available on a local, country, and state-wide basis.

They also have current and useful information on housing, health care, transportation, legislation, child care, and senior citizen services.

"Our motto," said Harwell, "is 'Need Answers? - OCCEO has them.'"

"We're trying to help people cut through the network of community and social service agencies to find the specific help they need," he stated.

The other section of the OCCEO - the Community Development Section - is designed to serve as a catalyst for community action.

"When there is no functioning resource to meet a specific problem or request," Harwell explained, "the Community Development Section will assist in channeling local resources to fill the need."

The Information and Referral Section can be reached by calling 624-5520 or 624-5521. The phone number of the Community Development Section is 624-6051.

Speaking for Myself

DALE COOPER

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The new director of the FBI, the secretary of agriculture, the chief of U.S. naval operations and the governor of Arkansas were among the guest speakers at the National Newspaper Association convention and trade show in Hot Springs last week.

Their speeches were sandwiched in between a number of shop-talk sessions at which one learns that most people in the same business have the same problems and have tried the same solutions. In most instances the purchase of a new piece of equipment is suggested, thereby eliminating old problems and introducing new ones.

FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley and Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz were most interesting.

And one suspects that Arkansas Governor Dale Bumpers, who defeated the late Winthrop Rockefeller, may be a young man with a bright political future.

The FBI of J. Edgar Hoover wasn't criticized by Kelley, an ex-agent who has been police commissioner in Kansas City. But he made it clear that the cloak of secrecy that has surrounded the investigative agency will be lifted.

Kelley is obviously a man who believes that it is important to maintain a good working relationship with the media. In return for frankness and honesty on his part he expects accuracy and objectivity from the reporter.

The most important ingredient in this concept by Kelley is that he does not seek immunity from criticism.

Unlike so many public officials, Kelley recognizes that a "good working relationship" with the press does not necessarily mean press endorsement of his policies.

"I've never met a reporter who has deliberately distorted a story when he has been given the facts", Kelley pointed out.

The new director possesses confidence that if his story is accurately reported his department policies will win majority public support.

So he isn't about to shut out the press simply because it dares to criticize the FBI.

That kind of enlightened leadership could be used at all levels of government.

Secretary Butz is no political smoothie. He's a plain-talker with definite ideas based upon the belief that our economy works because it is "incentive-inspired".

He opposes price controls and believes that farmers should be encouraged to produce for the market rather than for storage in government-leased bins and warehouses.

He tackles the issue of high food prices by pointing out that consumers are buying their food for less than 16 per cent of their after-tax income, the lowest share ever achieved by any society.

He sees absolutely nothing wrong with making money ("our economy succeeds because someone is trying to make money") and says that "it is no accident that socialist countries are coming to the U.S. for food".

Butz criticized the recent venture into price controlling saying it was the result of consumer pressure inspired by Democrats. He said it failed because it violated the laws of economics (which he believes most people don't understand).

The new agricultural policy relies heavily on exports. Butz calls it "returning farming to the farmer".

He strongly believes that the incentive to make money coupled with competition will keep prices in line and result in prosperity. He recalled his successful effort to remove the price controls on poultry was followed by a visit from poultry leaders who then asked that price controls be placed on soy bean exports.

The poultry farmers, who wanted to charge whatever possible for their products, were protesting the high cost of poultry feed because of foreign market prices.

Their reception in his office was less than cordial.

The agriculture secretary said "there's something right about our country" and declared that farmers could solve their own problems if government would get out of their way and let them produce for the expanding world market.

The "new" farm policy has a familiar ring... one that is about 40 years old.

Two days in Hot Springs is plenty to view the sights, which are a row of bath houses along the main street.

No one knows why it happens, but about a million gallons of water per day pour out of 47 springs at a temperature of 143 degrees.

The theory is that rainwater soaks through fractured rocks of the surrounding hills and is heated by hot rocks. It is pure and free of odor or taste.

The water is collected in a huge storage tank by the federal government and distributed to bath houses.

It's a little surprising to take a drink from one of the park fountains and find it's hot water.

YES . . .

Yes, because No Fault auto insurance:

A. Saves you and the insurance company costly legal fees,

B. Speeds payment of serious claims (fault is not an issue),

C. Provides you with greater benefits including unlimited medical and lost income for three years.

D. A larger portion of the premium dollar is earmarked for the policyholder and that should be the ultimate test of its value.

E. Some auto insurers have already reduced premiums since no fault went into effect October 1st.

Understandably, the trial lawyers are fighting it—some insurers are less than enthusiastic. As with any drastic change, some modifications will be needed. No Fault auto insurance, though, is a good law whose time has come.

Court battles may still lie ahead, and it is essential that all of us understand it and let our legislators know our feelings about it. If the required million dollar property damage is excessive, and it may be, let's reduce it. If other changes are indicated, let's make them, but let's keep the many benefits accruing to the insuring public.

Kenneth Rathert
Northville Insurance Agent

NO . . .

Less costly to insured? There are many ambiguous terms and holes in the Act. If the insured and his insurance company disagree, either on the policy, or the terms of the law, now instead of a negligence suit, you have a contract action against your insurance company; result, back into Court with the same costs.

Generally the Act provides for unlimited reasonable medical expenses and wages with a maximum of $36,000 in three years. The well known Massachusetts Act basically is a $2,000 maximum recovery. The mere difference in the amount recoverable suggests that premiums will have to increase because of the added risk and exposure. Also you only recovery actual lost wages and services, therefore, if retired, laid off, a housewife or otherwise not earning a paycheck you get little or nothing except reasonable medical expenses paid.

Established to speed recoveries? Auto injury suits are only 12 percent of the Court caseloads. Criminal and divorce suits are by far a heavier burden and delay the court calendar. The switch from negligence to contract suits will keep the general court load the same. It is likewise interesting to recognize that the insurance companies who write less than 9 percent of the insurance in Michigan actually supported the law.

Finally, it will be very hard for people to accept the fact that their own insurance company will pay the damages and total loss when the drunk driver or other equally obvious Fault accidents occur and you pay the deductible regardless of fault. I say no faster, cheaper, but more headaches.

Criticizes Geake

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on Representative Geake's statements on scholarships, which appeared in the October 4 edition of the paper.

He criticized the fact that state scholarship funds are being used to finance the educations of students from low income families. He argued that this discriminates against the child from the middle class family, "... the sons and daughters of the very people who have worked hard to provide a good standard of living for their families, paying high taxes to support education all the while."

In the first place, since when does one have to be a member of the middle class to work hard and pay high taxes? I was under the impression that all but the very wealthy worked hard and paid high taxes. In fact, I was under the impression that the lower one's educational level, and the lower one's income level, the harder he worked.

A divorced, widowed, or separated female head of the household working as a secretary would probably earn under $9,000 a year, which is evidently the present cut off figure for state supported scholarship funds. Isn't she a member of the middle class? How else will she be able to provide for her children's education?

And, what about that middle class child the representative believes to be discriminative against? I am now referring to the one whose family income exceeds $9,000 a year. What exactly is his plight, in comparison to that of the child from a low income family? The middle class child probably comes from a family that puts a great deal of stress on the importance of education. They probably bought a home in an area with good schools, so he would be well prepared for college. And in terms of finances, because his family earns more, they are better able to pay for his education. Now on top of all of those advantages which are exclusively his, the representative wants to add one more—a free ride.

Presumably, if that low income child's parents had wanted him to get a college education, all they would have had to have done was to have belonged to the middle class themselves. And since they were not born into it, how could they have joined it? Why, by getting an education, of course, and that brings us full circle.

In theory, an education is made available to all people. In practice, it is made more available to some than to others. In theory, we are all equal. In practice, some of us are a little more equal than others.

And what does the representative want to do about this unfair gap? He wants to widen it. Politically, that's a very wise thing to do. His stance could take him far. Personally, I find that to be a very sobering thought.

Love Story

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

When was the last time your doctor popped in to ask about your health, or drove you to the airport to see you off on a business trip, or maybe sent you a birthday card?

Been awhile, you say?

Well, don't be alarmed. I don't think the inattention's due to bad breath or something you said or did. On the contrary, you are having the ordinary doctor-patient relationship. And the doctor who busts down doors so he can stick recalcitrant patients with needles is the odd duck who lives inside your television set.

The real doctor who tries to emulate Dr. Welby will either starve to death giving away free advice or die of exhaustion trying to convince Veronica Starr her right leg is a nuisance and, for the good of society, it should come off.

Dr. Welby and the team of doctors inhabiting the Medical Center are really incredulous freaks and we, the audience, are living proof that in the medical world the unreal, unfortunately, often is more acceptable than the real.

Just once I'd like the TV camera to dolly in on the admission desk to pick up a scene of the pregnant woman, whose pains are now just two minutes apart, pleading to be admitted. It might be played this way:

Receptionist: "But honey, unless you have your Blue Cross card or pay in advance we can't admit you."

Fat Woman: Look, as I explained before, I do have a Blue Cross card... but in hurrying to get here I left it at home. And I don't have any money with me.

Receptionist: How about negotiable securities? Well, then, I'm sorry honey, there's just nothing we can do for you."

Fat Woman: (Having a pain). Please, call my doctor. Hurry, I think it's time.

Receptionist: What's your doctor's name? Turning to the youth crowding her desk). Young man would you please step back, you're dripping blood on the desk. Take the thumb with you... I'll get to you as soon as I've called this lady's doctor. (Back to the fat Lady) Now, what's his number?

Fat Woman: I don't remember. I wrote the number down on my Blue Cross card. I'm sure he is here. Oh, hurry. I'm sure he's up there putting on his rubber gloves and wondering where I am."

Receptionist: One moment please. (Picks up inter-office phone and dials). Dr. W. H., please. (Pause) Oh, my would you please advise him as soon as he administers the front nine shots that Mrs. R. M. is here and she forgot her medical card.

News From Lansing

BY R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative

Last week I had the opportunity along with Representative Cliff Smart to meet with the Novi and Northville members of the League of Women Voters. They were interested in knowing how we stood on a number of issues which, after careful study, they support.

While I do not always agree with the League on issues, it happened that my voting record during my first seven months in office did correspond to that organization's position in most cases. Since the bills on which they have taken an interest are mostly of wide public interest too, I thought you might like to know my voting record regarding them.

HB 4321 Child Care Licensing Act—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; HB 4376 Runaway Housing Support—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; HB 4256 Montgomery School Aid Plan—League position SUPPORT, I voted NO (I supported the Bursley plan which eventually passed the House in modified form); SB 309 Drainage Project Petitions—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; HB 4637 Home Purchaser Protection—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; SB 229 County Government Reorganization—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; HB 4156 Social Services Budget—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES on the original bill and NO on the conference committee report; HB 4683 Family Planning Services—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; HB 4021 Permit Banks to Handle Food Stamps—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES; HB 4374 Reduce State Residency Requirement for Voter Registration from 45 to 30 days—League position SUPPORT, I voted YES.

This last bill (HB 4374) had an odd history. It passed the House as a bill to bring Michigan into line with federal law by reducing the state residency requirement from 45 to 30 days for persons to be eligible to vote in state elections. When it got to the Senate, however, that language was thrown out and new wording put in which limits the duration of petition drives to 180 days. In other words, the bill started out on one subject and was amended to deal with an entirely different subject!

When the bill came back to the House for concurrence, the House agreed to the new language and became law. A new bill (SB 602) has been introduced to deal with reducing state residency requirements for voters to 30 days.

Project Shows Solidarity

To the Editor:

The Milton project is coming to a close, and what an experience this has been for us all.

The cooperation and interest of officials of the several departments, individuals, and the people of this great community has been a revelation not easily forgotten.

The Northville Record has certainly been of great assistance by bringing this situation before the public with an excellent editorial, articles and pictures. It is surprising how many different business people were involved with everyone contributing either material or labor.

This Milton project has shown again the solidarity of people standing ready when we have a worthwhile project. As chairman of The Milton Fund Committee, I wish to express my sincere thanks to everyone who donated and helped or even expressed themselves for this successful endeavor.

Trusting the Miltons will enjoy their new home for many years, I remain,

Sincerely,
Jan Reef
Chairman, The Milton Fund

Urges Drug Info

To the Editor:

Writing about a problem will certainly make us aware of it—for a while—and it, among all our other problems will be filed away in the back of our minds to be remembered only once and awhile. This particular problem I am speaking of is in reference to "Beer Hill".

Since we can't do much of anything to stop the problem, why not do something about informing those who are ignorant about the subject? Many young people don't know that drugs are harmful, others know they may be harmful but don't know why, so they continue to take drugs because everyone else does.

I believe it would not be very difficult to educate people as the contents of all the drugs, what those contents can do, and which drugs are more harmful than others.

I am not against the kids who take these drugs. They are too easily accessible today, the people are at a young age where they are easily influenced to "go with the crowd", and many do not know the seriousness of the matter.

They need our help. Let's do what we can.

Sincerely,

Novi Girls Win Twice

Novi's junior varsity and varsity girls' basketball teams are at it again.

After three games, the Novi jayvees are sporting a perfect 3-0 record while the varsity has posted a 2-1 mark.

In their most recent encounter, the Novi girls swept both of their games with Pinckney. The jayvees squeezed out a narrow 26-24 win, while the varsity swept to a 60-42 triumph.

Carol Padgett and Nancy Pisha led the Novi scoring with 16 points apiece. Nancy Breznick tossed in 10 points and Vicki Kuick had eight points.

The junior varsity game was a far different matter. The Novi girls trailed 8-4 at the end of the first quarter, 13-10 at the end of the half, and 19-18 at the end of three-quarters. But in the fourth period Novi outscored Pinckney 8-5 to take the 26-24 triumph.

Elaine Maki with 14 points and Dede McAllen with six led the Wildcat scorers.

It's 2nd Success

To the Editor:

The Novi Men's Softball League has recently completed its second successful season. The success this league enjoys can be directly related to the support of many people who do not get the headlines but nevertheless without whose assistance this league could not function. To these individuals and organizations we would like to express our appreciation:

To the Novi Community Schools for the use of their field. To the Novi DPW for field maintenance. Ron Balogh and Lou Campbell for some emergency grass cutting. Rey Rodriguez for his direction of the 1973 Tournament. The team sponsors for their financial support. The Novi Parks and Recreation Commission for putting it all together and "the wives" for putting up with it all summer long.

We would also like to especially thank the Novi News' prize winning Journalist, Phil Jerome, for his outstanding weekly articles. He certainly has a way of reporting a local softball game and making it sound like it is the final game of the World Series.

Kroger Drops TV Stamps

Fifty-eight Kroger Food Stores which are operated by the Detroit retail division will discontinue issuance of Top Value trading stamps, effective at the close of business October 30.

Northville and South Lyon stores are included in the Detroit division.

N. A. Sawall, vice president of the Detroit division, said that stores will continue to give stamps during the next two weeks until October 30 and that special stamp offers will be made to assist shoppers in completing books. Books will continue to be redeemable as usual after that at any Top Value redemption center.

Sawall said that while stamps continue to be an effective method of sales promotion, the move will increase the division's flexibility to introduce new marketing concepts and programs. It is a local decision, he said. He declined to discuss the specifics of the new merchandising programs in advance, but noted that Kroger is dedicated to providing the best total shopping service in this area.

Give People Choice

To the Editor:

As a concerned citizen of the City of Novi, I was sorry that we are to lose the experience and support of Mr. William Moak as a member of the Novi Board of Education.

I am a former schoolteacher and I know so well that our future and the future of our entire community lies in our youngsters. It is so necessary that we provide adults who are to give them proper guidelines.

I have never met Mr. Jake Durling but I was most distressed to find (from The News) that the community was not going to be given a choice in replacing Mr. Moak. Since the election was only four months ago, would it not then be proper to fill the post with the gentleman who received the next highest number of votes in the previous election? The people still have the right to choose.

Cyclist Killed In Crash Here

One person was killed and two women seriously injured when a motorcycle struck a car head-on Sunday night on Eight Mile Road at Old Novi Road.

Dead is James Martin Clark, 24, of Farmington, driver of the motorcycle. His passenger, Joanne Marie Muzzin, 23, of Detroit, was in temporary guarded condition Tuesday after losing her leg at the scene of the accident.

Hospitalized in stable condition with internal injuries is Jean Elizabeth Jones, 49, of 46930 South Chigwidan, driver of the car. Michigan State Police troopers said the accident took place about 9:30 p.m. when Clark, who police said was traveling at a high rate of speed eastbound on Eight Mile Road, crossed the centerline, hitting Mrs. Jones' westbound VW head-on. Mrs. Jones was alone in her car.

Police reports said the motorcycle bounced backwards on impact with the car and both Clark and Miss Muzzin were thrown over the roof of the car.

Force of the impact ripped Clark's helmet off and police said he was dead when they arrived at the scene.

Officers said a passerby placed a tourniquet on Miss Muzzin before police arrived, preventing further loss of blood and possibly saving her life. She also sustained a broken arm, reports indicated.

Assisting Michigan State Police at the scene were officers from the cities of Northville and Novi.

Most audience questions were from property holders and residents of the Bradner-Winchester area of the township who expressed concern about type of research and industrial construction, taxation and commercial use.

Vilcan termed commercial as small shops for neighborhood use and that industrial use would only be industry that does not fabricate from raw materials. Greenbelts, he stressed, would be required. He cited Franklin Road area near Miracle Mile on Telegraph and the Farmington industrial park as examples.

Time Out from War

wrong" was when passengers spotted the half-dozen Syrians running about the ship carrying machine guns, he remembered.

One of the Lutherans who was awake and aware of the capture that early morning of October 6 was the Reverend Richard Bernthal of Detroit.

According to Pastor Bernthal, he heard and saw the P-T boat approach the Romantica while looking through a porthole. The captains of the two ships shouted at each other, he remembered, each unable to understand the other. Then the P-T boat scooted around the cruise ship a couple of times, trying to make it stop. Finally, it fired a shot across the bow of the Romantica and her captain quickly understood the meaning of the shot and stopped.

The Romantica sailed on, under guard, to Tartus.

After awakening at daybreak, Pastor Boerger may have been the only passenger to speak with any of the war-jittery Syrians aboard the ship.

The young armed man spoke first, Pastor Boerger recalled, asking if the Northville minister spoke English. Then he explained that he and his armed companions were policemen—not members of the armed forces—and that they were on board only to offer the passengers and crew safety.

Pastor Boerger never was quite sure from whom they were being protected—Arab guerrillas, Israeli soldiers, or Russians.

But the conversation was friendly, he said, and the two men joked awhile.

"He (the young 26-year-old Syrian policeman) said he had a 15-year-old Ford and hoped he could trade it in for a newer model soon. He insisted America was a 'big, strong country' and that America had 'good people,'" said the Northville pastor.

"I said something like 'Russians are good people, too, but the young man was equally insistent that Russia was a 'bad' place and that even the air above Russia was 'bad.'"

Saturday night, Sunday morning and Sunday evening the passengers joined in services, and prayers were offered for their safety.

Also on Saturday, despite their harrowing situation, the Northville area passengers "had a great time" celebrating the anniversary of the VanAttas. They enjoyed wine, food, and a songfest.

The passengers were informed they would be released Saturday, but later learned from their captors that they would not be allowed to leave the harbor at night because it might be dangerous.

"Sunday came and went and we became a little uneasy," Pastor Boerger admitted. "We were told then that we would leave at 7 a.m. Monday."

Throughout that night a P-T boat dropped depth charges near the Romantica hourly. "All night long we could hear the 'boom-boom' of the explosions about us. Supposedly they were doing it for our safety... an effort to clear the area of frogmen they suspected might be present."

The Northville minister said he was up at 5 a.m. Monday morning "because I didn't want to miss anything during the departure."

"I heard planes in the distance, and suddenly I saw a bomb burst on shore. Later I learned they (Israeli) blew up a power station. I could also hear anti-aircraft guns in the distance and occasionally a puff of smoke."

"It was then, I guess, that I really became concerned because I didn't think they would release us with the fighting so close. But promptly at 7 a.m. the tug came out with the pilot and we headed for Cyprus."

Late that evening the Romantica docked briefly at Cyprus, where ships carrying refugees jammed the harbor. Refueled, the ship sailed on, arriving in Athens Thursday morning.

From Athens, the group flew non-stop to Metropolitan Airport, arriving Thursday evening.

Although the Lutherans did visit some Mideast Biblical cities (in Turkey) they never did reach what was to be the highlight of their trip—Palestine.

They have been told by the tour company that arranged the trip that later, they may provide a substitute tour of the Holyland for those who were aboard the ill-fated cruise ship that once was the private yacht of the late King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Others from this area who were aboard included Wilfred Sterner, Miss Hanna Strasen, Mrs. Dorothy Busch, Mrs. Hilda Radke, and Mrs. Marion LeFevre. Also present were three friends of St. Paul's members, Dorothy Wolf, Mrs. Ray Schnitzmeyer, and Mrs. Eleanor Arnsion.

"If there is to be another tour," said Pastor Boerger, "it will wait until after the war cools down."

Meanwhile, the VanAttas will not soon forget their adventurous but romantic wedding anniversary aboard, appropriately, the Romantica.

the open basements drew several critical comments from members of the council.

Councilwoman Mrs. Romaine Roethel stated that once building permits are issued, builders should be made to follow through with the construction of the building to its completion.

Councilman Louie Campbell, citing K&B's reference to poor market conditions, asked Fried if the council was obligated to grant additional plat approvals to a developer who was unable to sell the units on which he had already begun construction.

When Fried answered that the council could not withhold plat approval on that basis, Campbell noted that K&B is expected to submit a plat plan before the council shortly. "I expect that I will have a lot of questions for the engineers on that plan," he stated.

prevent them," he said.

According to the stipulations of the grant, the members of the bureau need only be 18 years of age and have a clean police record.

The Community Services Officers will wear uniforms but will carry no weapons and are strictly forbidden to assist in potentially hazardous, criminal-related situations.

"They will patrol the city while they perform their house checks and other duties, but if they see criminal activity of any kind they will not become directly involved," said Gross.

City Adopts 3 Ordinances

Following dual public hearings with fewer than six persons present Monday, the Northville City Council adopted three separate ordinances—one covering installation of telephone alarm systems, another dealing with landscaping and land use buffers, and still another concerning soil erosion.

The ordinances, none of which was contested by citizens, were approved by votes of 3-0.

Telephone Alarm Systems—This ordinance, recommended for adoption by Police Lieutenant Louis

Westfall, prohibits operation of such devices without first receiving permission of the city.

The alarms in question, some of which are already in operation, automatically dial the police department when burglaries or electric circuits are broken in a home or business establishment.

According to Westfall, such devices tie up emergency telephone lines at the police department because they automatically redial the police number until several pre-recorded messages of the same kind have been released.

In some instances the police department has not been made aware that such devices have been installed, he said.

Councilmen have tabled a related matter involving the installation of a common alarm panel in the police department, pending investigation and recommendation by the new city manager, Steve Walters. The panel would tie all alarm systems into a single unit, thus eliminating the need for separate alarm boxes that are beginning to clutter the department office.

Soil Erosion Ordinance—This law requires that developers or homeowners developing lots install "proper" water disposal systems to protect soil surfaces from erosion during or after construction.

The ordinance aims at preventing, for example, erosion of lawn areas by runoff of water resulting, perhaps, from sump-pump operation.

Landscape and Land Use Buffer—The intention of this ordinance is to encourage developers or individual property owners to improve the appearance of lands abutting public rights-of-way, to assure adequate buffers between different land uses, and to enhance the character and value of surrounding neighborhoods.

Both of these latter ordinances were recommended for adoption by Councilman Paul Vernon, chairman of the Northville Beautification Commission.

Novi Extends Plat

O'Brien's amendment failed by a 4-2 margin as Mrs. Roethel and O'Brien voted in favor of the 90 day extension, while Councilmen Louie Campbell, Donald Young, and Denis Berry and Mayor Crupi voted against it.

The motion to grant the 12 month extension also failed as the council's vote was deadlocked at 3-3. Berry, Young, and Crupi voted in favor of the 12 month extension, while Campbell, O'Brien, and Mrs. Roethel opposed the length of the extension.

Finally, the council agreed to a compromise extension of six months by a 5-1 margin. Campbell, who opposed any extension of the preliminary plat approval, cast the dissenting ballot.

"My only concern is in getting Cranbrooke Drive paved," stated the Mayor. "It won't get paved until K&B gets final plat approval and they can't get final plat approval unless we extend their preliminary plat approval."

NOTICE ARCHITECTS, PLANNERS, LAND USE SPECIALISTS

The Novi Community School District, the City of Novi, and the City of Novi Library Board have entered an agreement to jointly Master Plan a 160 acre parcel at the southeast corner of Ten Mile Road and Taft Road. The Site is to contain a High School, Library, City and School Administrative Offices and other civic facilities.

Any party interested in being considered to provide planning services for the above complex should contact the City of Novi, City Manager's office, by October 26, 1973, for further details.

'LOSER' ERMA—"I'm always in the grocery line where the tape runs out; in the expressway lane where the car in front of me has a flat; in the rest room where the teenager is changing into her band uniform behind the door..."

On rearing children—"I'm a shouter; I have varicose veins in the neck."

On dieting—"I diet all the time; I've lost a total of 750 pounds."

On Weight Watchers—"I enjoyed it or I wouldn't have gone back to the obese show-and-tell."

On small children—"When my baby was teething, I put whiskey on my own gums."

On sex—"My children all chipped in and bought me a subscription to 'Cosmopolitan'."

On Women's Lib—"I don't know how I feel. I survive, using what I've got, hanging on to what I treasure, discarding what's in left field and hoping to know the difference."

BOMBECK: "American women are the greatest group—they can laugh at themselves."

Bombeck: Champion of Harrassed Housewife

Erma Shows 'em How to Laugh at Themselves

By JEANDAY

Erma Bombeck at Northville Town Hall last Thursday was "like finding a plate of bourbon cookies at a PTA meeting."

The humorous columnist who has made her reputation as champion of the harassed housewife gave this as an example of what makes the day of the average woman. As she talked of diets, sports-nut husbands and children from teething-to-teen age her audience of 850 area women was in full agreement with her oft-exaggerated, sometimes touching and usually funny observations.

Erma's popularity through her column in the Detroit Free Press and 399 other newspapers, her three books and columns in Good Housekeeping magazine was credited by the Town Hall committee with making its 13th season a sell-out.

For the first time both the lecture and celebrity luncheon were held at the same location, the Thunderbird Hilton, on Northville Road. While first-time delays stretched the time between talk and luncheon, the speaker proved she was as good a sport as she sounded, staying out front, chatting and autographing programs.

Audience applause indicated she had touched home as she spoke of husbands who "watch 186 football games a year," asking how you inject excitement in a marriage to one. "I slithered out in my astro-turf nightgown," she claimed, and he said, "Are we out of chip-dip?"

Applause also came as Miss Bombeck told of her friend, Marge, who seemed in perfect control of an immaculate home and cared-for children all day long and who confessed her nightly prayer to the immaculate blessed virgin: "Thank God for not letting me kill one of them today."

"I early took a very realistic approach to children and regard them as exactly what they are—a punishment from God," declared the mother of Betsy, 20, Andy, 18, and Matt, 15.

"I have read Haim Ginott, Dr. Spock and all those wonderful fiction books," she confided, telling how she tested one "quiet approach" to child rearing.

She placed a book on the floor and calmly told each youngster as he entered, "There is a book on the floor."

The first responded, "Yeah, I know, I tripped over it and almost broke my neck."

The second, "Aren't you swift today?"

The third, "Where?"

Miss Bombeck: "Under your foot."

Third, "How'd it get there?"

To which the exasperated mother, losing her cool, answered, "That's not relevant—pick up the lousy book!"

"Why didn't you say so in the first place?"

Also on the subject of children, Miss Bombeck told of seeing a daughter off to school with the family losing small appliances, a television and a car as the youngster says she's "getting away from materialism."

"When a child says, 'I hate you, Mama,' you have to have a little class," the columnist told her audience. "They come back, somehow," she added.

As her estimated 30 million readers know, Miss Bombeck always is on a diet. She started, she recalled, "after I consumed half a pillowcase of Halloween candy, sucked in my tummy before the mirror—and nothing happened."

Mentioning diets of her friends, she noted that "Marsha is sticking to her drinking man's diet—she doesn't know if she's losing weight but says it really doesn't matter anymore."

Some women learn to cope well with emergencies, Miss Bombeck told her audience, adding that she, however, had never "attended" an emergency when she wasn't wearing bedroom slippers and an old T-shirt. At the hospital, she continued, she managed the child's name, and age (by backtracking from the oldest—"born the year we got the freezer"), but when asked about insurance, she drew herself up to assure the clerk that she could certainly pay, saying, "If you will just cash my check for 10 cents, I will call my husband."

In response to luncheon questions, Miss Bombeck turned serious to explain that "all I ever wanted to do was write."

ERMA'S AUTOGRAPHING—Mrs. J. Thomas Handy, new vice chairman of Northville Town Hall, is one of Erma Bombeck's admirers who obtained her autograph on the program book.

TOWN HALL STAR—Erma Bombeck, left, whose family humor column runs in 400 newspapers throughout the country, admires Northville Town Hall's new location at the Thunderbird Hilton with Mrs. William Miron, new chairman for the 13th season, which is a sell-out.

South Lyon Hosts Big Ten Band

University of Wisconsin's marching band will perform at halftime in South Lyon tomorrow evening when the South Lyon Lions host the Chelsea Bulldogs in a Southeastern Conference battle.

The 180-member Big Ten band, under the direction of Mike Lekrone, will make its South Lyon debut a day before its performance at the University of Michigan stadium where the Wolverines are hosting the Badgers.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

According to South Lyon band director Frank Kochalko, the Wisconsin band may join his own band for the pre-game presentation of the National Anthem. At halftime Wisconsin will share the program with the local band. Members of the Wisconsin band will be staying in South Lyon area homes overnight. Families interested in hosting the bandmen should call Kochalko at the school, 437-2031, or at his home, 437-1508. A South Lyon graduate, Tom Siclován, is a member of the Wisconsin band. A sophomore, Siclován plays trumpet.

Four Churches Announce Evangelistic Services

Several announcements of evangelistic services have been made this week. Two churches in Brighton, one in South Lyon and one in Whitmore Lake will be holding special services.

In Brighton, the Wesleyan Church and the Church of the Nazarene will be hosting evangelists in coming weeks. The South Lyon Church of Christ and the Whitmore Lake Fellowship Baptist Church will also be having special speakers.

Evangelistic services with the Reverend Lilly Anne Norris will be held at the Brighton Church of the Nazarene, 5291 Ethel, during the week of October 23-28.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30 p.m. as well as at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday. The South Lyon Church of Christ, 22820 Valerie Street, will sponsor gospel meetings from Sunday, October 21 through Wednesday October 24.

The meeting time is 7:30 p.m. A different speaker will be featured each night. The theme of the talks is "Our Sufficiency is from God".

Betty N. Freeborn, a missionary of The Wesleyan Church to Zambia, Africa, will speak at 11 a.m. October 21, at the Brighton Wesleyan Church, 228 South Fourth Street.

Miss Freeborn, a missionary nurse, is on furlough after a term of service in Zambia. She first went to Africa in 1946, and did medical missionary work in Kukuna and Kamakwie, Sierra Leone, West Africa. In November 1970 she was sent to the Zimba Mission in Zambia where she has served until furlough time.

abroad, Miss Freeborn graduated from Miltonvale Wesleyan College in Kansas and nurses' training in Manhattan, Kansas. She also attended Marion College in Marion, Indiana.

Nurse Freeborn will tell about the country where she has served, the people and the missionary work being done there. Curious from Zambia will be on display.

The Wesleyan Church has missionary work in 31 foreign countries. While the major emphasis is placed on gospel evangelism, an extensive medical and educational program has been carried on by the denomination in several areas of this worldwide missionary enterprise.

The Reverend T. D. Bowditch, pastor of the Brighton church, cordially invites all in the community to hear Miss Freeborn.

A guest pastor described as "dynamic" and one who presents a "timely message" will be meeting with the congregation of Fellowship Baptist Church, Nine Mile Road near Whitmore Lake this week.

This was how Fellowship pastor the Reverend J. Walter DeBoer described the Reverend Ralph Crotty who will be appearing daily Sunday through Friday (October 26) in the church at 10774 Nine Mile.

In addition to Mr. Crotty's messages at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday and at 7 p.m. Monday through next Friday, there will be nightly special music and "pack-a-pew."

Mr. DeBoer insures visitors of "a hearty welcome" and promises a "blessing is in store for one and all."

Mr. Crotty is pastor of Berean Baptist Church in Detroit.

BRIGHTON

Reverend Richard Anderson, pastor of St. George Lutheran Church, Brighton, has announced that a religious education program for pre-kindergarten students will begin October 18.

Mr. Anderson said the class will consist of 12 three-year-olds and 12 four-year-olds. It will meet from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Children from families who are not members of St. George will also be accepted into the classes, Reverend Anderson said. He asks that applications be submitted so that a waiting list can be established.

Two team teachers will conduct the class, with the help of one full-time helper. The team teachers hold degrees in education and/or social work, according to Mr. Anderson. The helpers have participated in Sunday and Bible School teaching, he said.

A $10 donation per child is asked to cover expenses for materials. Interested persons are asked to call 229-6661.

The evening of Sunday October 21, a Snack-Luck will be held at the First United Methodist Church. The party will be a fun way of celebrating the concluding payment on the Church Sanctuary mortgage, according to the Reverend Kearney Kirkby, pastor.

The agenda for the Snack-Luck will include a short film, singing and a family fellowship, as well as sharing of snacks and tidbits.

A formal celebration of the mortgage burning is being planned for January 13, Mr. Kirkby said. A homecoming party and a message from the Reverend Dwight Loder, Presiding Bishop of the United Methodist Church of Michigan are planned.

The "Ecclesia", a singing group from Spring Arbor College, will perform at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services at the Green Oak Free Methodist Church this Sunday, October 21.

They will also be performing at the Brighton Mall on the afternoons of October 20 and 21.

This is one of the ways in which the church will be participating in Brighton Awareness Weekend, according to the Reverend Robert Shoaff, pastor.

NORTHVILLE-NOVI

Plans are being made to coordinate an ecumenical Thanksgiving service for the Northville- Novi churches. Also being planned is FISH Sunday in which pastors from area churches will be setting aside a portion of the service to talk about the aims of FISH, a voluntary Christian service organization.

On Sunday October 21, there will be a spaghetti dinner sponsored by the Senior High Youth Fellowship of the United Methodist Church of Novi. The dinner will run from noon until 3 p.m. and will be held at the Fellowship hall.

The Reverend Philip Seymour, pastor, also reminds all interested persons that Bible Study Classes are continuing on Tuesday evenings. The classes meet at 8 p.m., every other Tuesday.

The topic of this week's session will be "A Look at Revelation".

The First Baptist Church of Novi Sunday School will be holding a Halloween party October 19.

A trip to the Jaycee Haunted House is planned. Prizes will be given for the most original costumes. Parents and children, first through eighth grades are invited, according to Wayne McClue, chairman.

The bus will start picking up children about 5:45 p.m. and will return by 9:30 p.m., McClue said.

PINCKNEY

The Reverend Henry Reinwald of the Community Congregational Church was informed Monday morning that as National Chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars he will be laying a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns at Arlington Cemetery, Virginia, on Veterans Day, October 22.

Mr. Reinwald reports that response to the Fourth Annual Veterans Day Sunday Service has been overwhelming.

HARTLAND

On October 21, Tyrone Community Presbyterian Church will have an "Every Person in Church" Sunday.

Church School will start the day off at 9:15 a.m. with special emphasis on welcoming all family members in the community. There are classes for all ages including a story hour for toddlers, two adult classes and one for potential new church members.

Morning worship will follow at 10:45 a.m.

HAMBURG

The Lutheran Women's Missionary League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will attend the Fall Rally of the LWML, Ann Arbor Zone on October 25.

The rally will be held at St. John, Adrian, this year. Opening devotions will be at 10 a.m. after coffee at 9:30 a.m.

The Reverend O. H. Bertram of Toledo, Ohio will be the afternoon speaker. He will speak from his experiences on radio and television missions.

The Reverend George McCullough will assume pastordship of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Hamburg on Sunday October 21. The Reverend Leslie Harding, former rector of the Hamburg Church, will be continuing with his parish in Novi, Holy Cross Episcopal Church, and will be accepting a new mission church in Walled Lake.

IN CONCERT—The Brighton-Airs will sponsor a Gospel Singing Concert at the Howell Senior High School, October 20 at 7 p.m. The Gross Family, another singing group from New Hudson, will also perform. There is no admission charge. The Brighton-

Associate Pastor Named

The Reverend Father Roger Smith has been appointed associate pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Brighton.

Father Smith finished his studies at St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth in January. He had also graduated from St. Meinrad Seminary College in Indiana.

Previously Father Smith had been a deacon at the Holy Redeemer Church in Flint. He was born in Detroit but grew up in the Jackson area.

Father Smith says the associate's role is to assist the pastor with many duties, but administrative duties continue to be the concern of the pastor, the Reverend Father Raymond Klauke.

Some questions you've asked us about your future at The Lutheran Retirement Center

During the last two years, a lot of people from all over Michigan have asked us a lot of good questions about the Lutheran Retirement Center in Ann Arbor. Here are the ten most frequently asked, along with the answers

1. What will be some of the important features at The Lutheran Retirement Center?

Among the most important features of life at The Center will be freedom from homeowner responsibilities, well balanced meals, special dietary services, constant attention to health needs, a balance between privacy and companionship, and an independent form of living with assured security. Residents will be free to come and go as they choose, to entertain guests and relatives, to participate in the varied activities available and to help plan those activities. In fact, residents will be expected to live there as they would in the homes from which they come with complete freedom and privacy.

2. Who will be eligible?

Persons who are 65 years of age or older are eligible. They must be in reasonably good health for their age, with the qualities of personality conducive to congenial group living, and with the income and resources to meet the financial requirements. Persons who are motivated by ethical principles, without regard to religious denominations will be sought. An Admissions Committee, with the Executive Director, will decide all matters of eligibility.

3. What happens if a person is accepted as a resident but is not ambulatory when The Center is ready for occupancy?

He or she will be admitted without qualification and will receive all benefits to which residents are entitled.

4. May residents bring their own furniture?

Yes, residents will be welcome to bring their own valued familiar possessions and furnishings. Wall to wall carpeting and drapery linings will be provided. Each unit will have a private bath, and adequate closet space. There will be storage lockers elsewhere in the building.

5. Will residents be able to control heating and air conditioning in their apartments?

Yes, for complete comfort, apartment heating and air conditioning will be individually controlled.

6. What will be the extent of nursing care?

Residents who become ill will be cared for in The Center's own nursing care facility where members of the nursing staff will be on duty at all times. In the event a resident is provided with nursing care in the nursing care facility beyond 10 days per year or an accumulated 30 days in three years, an additional modest per diem charge will be made. This nursing care facility will be accredited by all state and local agencies, and qualified by the Medicare program.

7. What about facilities for regular exercise, especially during colder months?

The Center's sponsors believe that residents can benefit greatly from regular exercise, and have planned to provide indoor exercise equipment. Apparatus such as stationary bicycles and other equipment will be available at no charge. And because exercise is a vital part of many therapeutic programs, it will be encouraged. In addition, outdoor exercise facilities - a perimeter walk and bike path - are planned.

8. Will special diets be served in the regular dining room?

Yes, special diets will be served if prescribed and required by your physician, and supervised by The Center's dietitian.

9. Would a resident ever be evicted because of health problems?

No. The Life Lease Contract provides continued and uninterrupted care as long as it is medically feasible in The Center.

10. What happens to a resident if he becomes unable to meet financial obligations after living at The Center for some years?

Residents are assured they will not be requested to leave The Center because of financial reverses after having established residency. While assuming the responsibility of self support as a resident of The Center there is equal responsibility upon each resident to properly care for the financial resources upon which he depends.

SHELDON W. HAYES, president of Cadillac Asphalt Paving Company of Novi and president of the National Asphalt Pavement Association (NAPA) participated in hearings before the House Subcommittee on Environmental Matters Affecting Small Business.

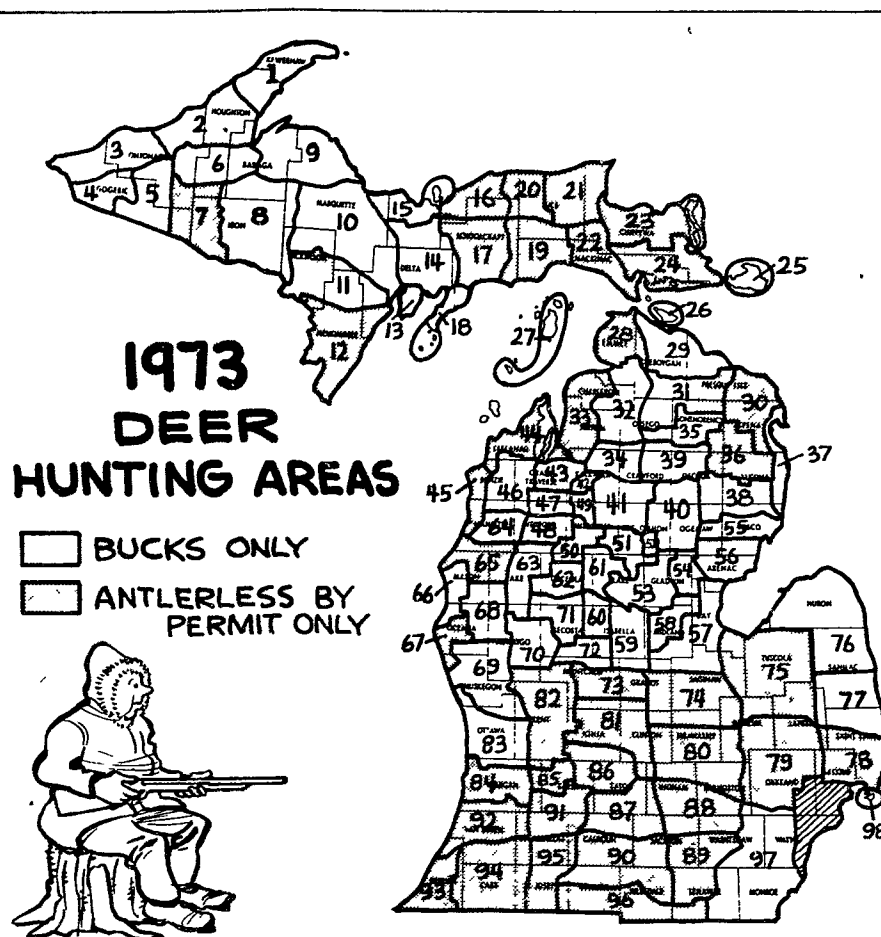

Testimony was taken pointed up the asphalt industry's contention that emission control regulations proposed by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for new and substantially modified asphalt plants were "arbitrary, unattainable on a consistent basis, and economically disastrous."

Citing figures ranging from $75,000 to $135,000 for the cost to install pollution control equipment per plant, the asphalt plant spokesman estimated the additional cost to produce a ton of hot-mix would range as high as $.38 per ton.

He and others also testified that none of the manufacturers of the pollution control equipment would unconditionally guarantee the equipment installed would consistently meet the proposed .031 emission limit EPA is considering.

STATE POLICE D-Lt. Arthur F. Kivela, 51, of the crime laboratory at East Lansing, has been promoted to specialist 13 and assigned to command the satellite laboratory at Plymouth. Kivela succeeds Captain Kenard Christensen who recently was promoted to that rank to command the scientific laboratories section at East Lansing.

IN EMU PLAY—Craig Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Barnard, 43605 West Nine Mile Road, Northville, is in the Eastern Michigan University Players' production of "Cabaret". A sophomore majoring in dramatic arts, he plays the emcee of a German night club who indulges in a world of pleasure. The musical will be presented October 17-20 in Quirk Theatre on the EMU campus.

ROUGE VALLEY chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers plans to hold its October regular meeting at the Pelican Club on Belle Isle on October 19 at 11:30 a.m. The speaker will be Mr. John Nichols, candidate for Mayor of Detroit.

AN INFORMATIVE PROGRAM entitled "The World of Real Estate and You" will be offered free as a public service at 7:30 p.m. Friday, October 26 at 545 N. Main Street in Milford.

Real Estate One, sponsors of the program, says that it will help to answer many of the questions most often asked about how to get into the real estate business, what it's like once you're there and what you can expect to gain from a career in real estate.

For any further details, call our manager, Mrs. Shirley Burton at 684-1065.

The Gardening Way

By MARGARET HERBST

HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF A COLD FRAME

This is the time to consider the addition of a coldframe, if you want to save money and at the same time produce those hard-to-find plants when needed. The educated home gardener will also find many uses for a coldframe as a protection for tender plants during the winter.

Coldframes can be purchased ready-made or they can be built very easily and less expensively. Even the smallest garden areas can accommodate a coldframe. For sash or cover, you can use old storm windows. Make a rectangular frame with solid wooden boards of one-inch lumber and sink into a trench at least three inches deep. The sash and the frame can be hinged together with 4-inch angle irons for easy handling. A real southern exposure can be obtained by burying the south end several inches deeper than the north. Earth piled several inches around the outside will keep out drafts. The surface of the pit and around the outside should be level.

Usually coldframes can be kept producing all year. Annuals are succeeded by biennials, such as Sweet William. When these have been transplanted into the garden, perennials can go in and finally potted bulbs, or tender plants which could not withstand the onslaught of winter blasts.

Seeds can be sown into the ground of the coldframe the narrow way. A good sandy loam is best the first year but later compost is excellent with several pounds of an organic fertilizer mixed with the loam.

It is well to plan the area of the frame on paper before planting. Then mark off space to allow for the number of varieties. For example, a frame 5 x 12 would hold twelve annuals, or nine biennials or perennials. Seeds are often planted in rows at right angles to each other to conserve space.

The best time for planting is the morning, accompanied by bright sunshine. Use a flat board to press the seeds well into the soil, then soak thoroughly with warm water. The frame should be covered instantly; germination can take place in just a few days in this way.

When the seedlings come up, the sash can be raised for ventilation by a block or brick. The windows are removed completely when warm weather arrives for good, although even then the sashes may be put back on for protection against heavy rains.

When plants have four permanent leaves, it is time to move out of doors. In transplanting, just do a few seedlings at a time, planting into the open ground immediately after digging. A cloudy or even rainy day is preferable for the move. Allow several weeks to elapse, then chart out biennials and perennials, which are even more profitable than annuals. Sometimes one packet of seeds can yield as many as 100 seedlings. Before planting, water and pulverize the soil thoroughly. During germination, water daily during the shady part of the afternoon if possible. You will be surprised how well you will be repaid in return for the experience of utilizing a coldframe.

HOUSING OF HORSES

A horse's health is the primary consideration in his housing. Veterinarians report that respiratory infections, lack of water, lack of exercise and head injuries are very common health problems to guard against in determining size, location and architecture of a horse's quarters.

To keep a horse healthy, his owner must protect him from extremes of weather, provide sufficient fresh air, food and water, a dry bed and exercise.

A good approach to building a stable following selection of suitable site is to (a) plan proper ventilation, (b) determine size and type of stall needed, (c) estimate the quantities of feed and water necessary and plan sufficient storage area for these requirements and (d) take into consideration possible expansion.

The stable should be situated so that surface drainage is practical. Odors can be minimized by locating the building downwind from the prevailing westerlies. Access to a field or paddock must be considered. Try to provide space away from the yard area for movement of manure and animals.

Box stalls are generally preferable to tie stalls due to the insufficient exercise horses usually get outside the stall.

Tie stalls should be five feet wide and eight to nine feet long for mature horses. For a pony, provide a 3 x 6 foot area for a tie stall.

Box stalls for adult horses should be approximately 10 x 12 feet.

Two inch tongue and groove material is recommended for walls of stalls. The outside walls should be of metal or wood siding planks. Frame doors with two-inch boards or make them from material two inches thick should be sufficient. These doors should be mounted on heavy duty tracks or T-hinges.

Door latches for stalls must be strong and easy to operate, yet not simple enough for the horse to open himself.

Each horse should be provided with a soft, dry bed. Peat moss, straw, shavings or sawdust are generally adequate.

It takes eight to twelve gallons of water per day to maintain a healthy horse. Three recommended fresh water supplies include a frost-

CARRIER HONORED—William Rackov of 43456 Fond Street, Novi's first regular rural carrier, received the United States Postal Service's highest honor—the Superior Achievement Award—this past week for his "highly conscientious and commendable" performance of duty over nearly a 20-year span. Said Postmaster Gordon J. Blackburn: "Bill at one time served all of Novi alone, working six days per week and as many as 14 hours a day. He has seen Novi grow from a tiny, sparsely settled township to a city which has a First-Class post office providing mail delivery to over 3,000 families. (He) has endeared himself to patrons on his route because of his dedication, regularity and genuine interest in their needs and service."

At Schoolcraft College

Grad Heads Vets Office

Schoolcraft College established an office of veterans affairs recently and had to look no further than its own campus for the right man to head up the new service.

Don Ringsred is the man. A spring, 1973, graduate in business administration at Schoolcraft, he previously served as senior veteran recruiter of the CERV unit on campus.

The official title of Ringsred's new position is assistant to the director of counseling for veterans affairs. His office is located in Room 500 of the Forum Building, and may be telephoned at 591-6400, extension 316.

"The office is open to all veterans living within the college district as well as Schoolcraft students," Ringsred said. "Many persons who are veterans have benefits coming that they are not aware of."

"Basically, any veteran other than those dishonorably discharged from the service after January 31, 1955, is entitled to educational benefits under the current Vietnam G. I. Bill," he continued. "Veterans discharged prior to June 1, 1966, are entitled to benefits only until May 31, 1974. However, I anticipate that the benefit period will be extended two years to May 31, 1976.

Veterans discharged after June 1, 1966, are entitled to benefits up to eight years after discharge."

The veteran's office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays, except Friday when it closes at 5. Its establishment has been funded through the Cranston Amendment to the Higher Education Act.

A veteran of the 1962 Cuban crisis, Don and his wife Pamela live in Plymouth and are the parents of a son, James. Although directing the veterans affairs office is a full-time job, he plans to pursue advanced study in business administration on a part-time basis.

Buyers Gather Here

When buyers for colleges, universities and other Michigan institutions gathered for their annual state meeting on October 4-5 this year, the presiding officer was Schoolcraft College's G. Ann Moore, first woman ever to head the group.

A buyer for Schoolcraft since 1966, Ms. Moore is president of the Michigan District of the National Association of Educational Buyers (NAEB) which just met at Lake Superior State College in Sault Ste. Marie.

Principal speakers at the meeting included Neal Paterson, Brigham Young University purchasing agent and past national NAEB president; Harlan Lorenz, Parke, Davis and Company purchasing agent, and Donald Gerrie, director of Lake Superior's business administration department.

Ms. Moore has been with Schoolcraft College for nearly ten years. In private life she is the wife of John Moore. They reside at 8649 Liberty Blvd., Westland, and are the parents of John 14, and William 12.

Before joining the college staff, Ms. Moore held a number of positions in private business as well as spending periods of time as a full-time homemaker.

from the Pastor's Study

What Wrong?

By Pastor Ivan E. Speight
Salem Bible Church

Young people, here's a little three point outline on how you can be a real Christian...Find Christ, Follow Christ, and Fellowship with Christ.

You know, when you ask most people if they are Christians they say that most assuredly they are; and feel a bit insulted because they think that you inferred they might be a heathen. But the truth is that some who think they are Christians are really heathen in heart and have never been converted to Christ.

Did you know that you can go to Sunday School, church every Sunday, be baptized, read your Bible, say your prayers, and still never be a Christian? That's right! What's wrong?

The thing wrong is that you are lacking the essential element that makes you a Christian—Christ in you! The word Christian in the New Testament means a "Christ-man." - a man who has Jesus Christ living in him in the form of the Holy Spirit. The name Christian applies to a follower and a disciple of Christ. The Apostles were first called Christians at Antioch where they were propagating the message of Christ and leading men to follow Christ. The Lord Jesus could have well said to Peter, "Follow me and I will make you a Christian."

Before you can follow Christ you must find Him. You cannot be a Christian until you have found Christ as your personal Saviour.

Please, young person, when you start looking for Christ don't do it like some of the philosophers and so-called educated men of our day. They say, "We will now look for truth," and they shove the Bible into the desk drawer and begin to look all over the universe in hopes of finding God and truth.

Truth is imbedded in Jesus Christ. Christ is revealed through the Word of God. You won't find Christ outside of the Bible. "But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name."

In addition to hard cover and paperback books, the store offers magazines, cards, candles and "gifts 'n things" — cameras and film as well as small gift items.

The Wiskas reside in Farmington, the Smiths in Berley.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB of Michigan opened its new Plymouth headquarters Monday (Oct. 15) at 44511 Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township.

The new facility, located in the Plymouth Square Shopping Center, will serve a membership that has tripled in size over the last 10 years. It will service nearly 16,000 local Auto Club members.

Roberts pointed out that the new facility will have 6,000 square feet, one-third more room than the present office at 798 Penniman Avenue. Auto Club had occupied the Penniman office since 1963.

"The new facility also can accommodate up to 53 employees to provide improved service for our membership, which is expected to grow to 30,000 within the next 10 years," Roberts explained. "Presently, we have 31 employees."

She has a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Dayton with a major in English and a minor in psychology.

She took her professor's advice to write about what she knew, first selling a family humor column to a suburban Dayton weekly. For, she says, $3 a week. It was picked up later by the Dayton Journal and then syndicated.

She married a sports reporter in 1949 who later went into education. The family has moved from Ohio to Paradise Valley, Arizona. Her husband is taking a sabbatical to work on his doctorate.

Their Paradise Valley neighbor is Bill Keane, "Family Circus" cartoonist with whom Miss Bombeck produced the book, "Just Wait Till You Have Children of Your Own."

Being a writer has made home shortcuts necessary, Erma Bombeck confessed. When a child suddenly asked, "You wanna iron a pair of trousers for me? I'm in the school play," she answered quickly, "Which side faces the audience?"

"God bless you, Erma; we mothers need you," Mrs. William Miron, new Town Hall chairman, told the speaker.

"I need you more than you need me," replied Columnist Bombeck—sounding as though she meant it.

Those who would like to enjoy more of the Bombeck wit can hear her tomorrow night, October 19, at 9 p.m. on CBS in "The Shape of Things." She also taped an interview with Lou Gordon while in Detroit.

LANSING—A basic political truism repeated time after time in the last few years is that people in general have grown distrustful of government in general.

The most visible elements of government are the elected office holders, who must go to the people to get their job in the first place and then return every so often to ask for another term in the job.

But government isn't just elected politicians.

In Michigan, for example, state government is more than 50,000 full-time employees of the state who work in various departments drawing up and administering all the state programs. One who has a problem in state government almost always ends up talking to a state employee who was never elected to his job.

These are the people known somewhat derogatorily as "bureaucrats" who really make state government run, or not run; and much of the credit or blame which government receives really belongs to these people.

Michigan has thousands of state employees who are dedicated to doing a good job for the public. But it also has some who have become less than model employees. These are the people who often give government a bad name because they aren't patient enough with a citizen who doesn't understand, or because they don't know the answer to a problem, or because they just don't care.

Governor William G. Milliken is trying to make restoration of confidence in government one of his priority items and has been since he became governor. His latest step in this field is an attempt to shake the lethargic sections of the bureaucracy back to life.

CATALYST for the governor's drive is the unlikely question of whether to allow the hunting of antlerless female deer in the upper peninsula.

Most residents of the U.P. vehemently oppose the hunting of does. It's an emotional issue with them, not just a minor matter which can go either way and not bother them.

In July, the Natural Resources Commission, acting in accordance with recommendations from the Department of Natural Resources staff, approved an antlerless deer season with a quota of 3,350 in the eastern upper peninsula for this fall.

The season was approved because it is felt there is not an adequate food supply in the U.P. for this winter to handle the size of herd which would result from a complete ban on hunting does. A shortage of food would lead to widespread starvation of deer.

RESIDENTS of the U.P. don't buy that. They don't believe the DNR figures which say it's beneficial to hunt does. They think things would be a lot better without any hunting of them.

And in late July, just before the Legislature recessed, U.P. lawmakers rushed through both houses and to the governor a bill to overrule the commission and forbid antlerless deer hunting in the U.P.

Milliken vetoed the bill because he believes DNR officials know what they are doing.

But he didn't stop there. He decided to use the DNR as the first part of a program to make the bureaucracy more responsive to the public. He also believes the greatest governmental program in the world isn't much good if the public won't buy it. DNR's problem, he indicated, is that it hasn't tried hard enough to sell its program to U.P. residents.

The governor called DNR Director A. Gene Gazlay in for a meeting and a few days later Gazlay announced a 15-point program to improve his department's relations with the public.

"WE ARE NOT talking about a slick hard sell public relations program," Milliken said. "We're talking about a program under which the state will emphasize the importance of explaining — rather than imposing — policies that are implemented only after citizen views have been solicited and thoroughly considered."

THAT IS the nub of the problem. When a person works in a state agency and has the power to enforce laws or policies, it sometimes can be easy to forget that he is really employed by the people he is regulating.

What Milliken is trying to emphasize for the bureaucrats who need it is that they work FOR the people. And it's always a good idea to try to get along with the people you work for.

Babson Report

Gold Bandwagon Carries A Risk

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Earlier this year stocks of leading gold mining companies put on a sparkling performance in the stock market, moving impressively higher after a long period of inaction. The trigger was, of course, the spiral in gold prices in world markets.

Now, however, with the price advance at least temporarily slowed, profit taking has reduced the value of gold stocks by about 20 percent-30 percent from 1973 highs.

INVESTORS holding gold stocks purchased at lower levels may continue to retain them as a long-term hedge against possible further erosion of paper currencies. While the recent decline in the price of gold stocks may appear to open up an opportunity for investors once again to get aboard the goldbug bandwagon, we suggest that even at present levels these issues offer some downside risk.

This is a difficult group in which to engage in short-term trading since it is especially susceptible to market uncertainties. Before the run-up in the price of gold, the principal demand for the yellow metal was from industrial and artistic sources—both fairly predictable markets.

Also, one answer to the question of how to hedge against inflation was gold stocks. Therefore, it was then fairly easy to make a case for a long-pull upward trend in gold issues.

BUT IN VIEW of the upward surge of gold prices in the free markets in recent years, the rules of the game must be re-examined. It has become increasingly difficult to project future movements in the price of gold, now that international factors have made gold highly vulnerable to sharp swings. Naturally, these erratic moves are reflected in the price of gold mining issues. Some swings in gold quotes relate to rising interest rates as speculators take profits in gold to be invested in high-yielding money market instruments such as bank certificates of deposit or bonds.

Other variables in the gold picture include the attitude of large gold holders and producers, whose sales of the precious metal can have considerable impact on day-to-day gold prices. South Africa is the largest producer, while the Soviet Union also produces and holds large quantities of gold.

AMONG UNCERTAIN future variables affecting gold are the possible action of the central banks, the pace of inflation, and the effect on demand if Americans can again freely own gold. Since 1934 U.S. citizens have been forbidden by law to own or trade in gold as an investment.

Thus, with such potential for wide price gyrations, gold stocks appear desirable only as a long-term holding at this time.

FOR INVESTORS who have taken profits in gold stocks or are eyeing the group for possible purchase, it may be preferable to examine other areas of the market for now. With interest rates at near-historic highs, a "peaking out" could be at hand. Slight further advance is possible but some easing is more likely. This could mean rare opportunities in several fields. In the bond market near-record low prices mean very high yields. And when interest rates drop, this will bring higher bond prices and capital appreciation for bondholders.

In common stocks the money-rate-sensitive utility issues offer impressive yields in some instances. As rates ease, these will provide capital appreciation, but this is rather a psychological plus since utility problems are not just money-related. In this group, income continues to be the main attraction.

THE RESEARCH Department of Babson's Reports has always advised investors to tailor their portfolios to individual aims. But at this time we feel that—for most—gold stocks may be held for the long term but should not be acquired for short-span trading purposes.

Warm housing is not necessary, but care must be exercised in preventing drafts, dampness and high humidity. Ventilation is the best means of controlling moisture—one of the biggest problems in keeping horses.

Moisture is produced by the horse, as well as body heat. Condensation at certain temperature and moisture conditions causes frost on cold surfaces and proper ventilation is the only means possible to combat this undesirable situation.

Saline's Tough—But Wildcats Still Win

Thanks to a paper-thin Novi victory over a fired-up Saline team and a South Lyon upset of Milan Friday night, the shaky Wildcats are all alone on top of the Southeastern Conference heap this week.

But the climb to the top was tougher than beef jerky as the stubborn Hornets refused to play patsy for Novi's homecoming and instead scared the daylight out of the Wildcats before finally succumbing, 14-0.

The narrow Novi win wasn't really sewed up until late in the fourth quarter when Eric Hansor battled his way over from the 5 for the Wildcats' second touchdown.

Until then the Hornets, like the Lions in their game at Milan, could smell an upset. Fortunately for the home team, Saline couldn't punch over the ball despite a couple of major threats and a better overall rushing-throwing performance.

Interestingly, in this the toughest of their games thus far this season, the Wildcats were playing against an experimental team that had a former tackle playing a key role in the backfield.

Kelvin Feldkamp, a 195-pounder who started the season at his regular tackle position, was moved to the fullback's spot after the lighter, swifter of foot Duffy Williams injured himself in Saline's opening game.

Also moved to the backfield by Coach Merv Ward when his squad was hurt by injuries was halfback Ed Charlton, formerly an end.

Although Coach Ward admits he's "nothing fancy", Feldkamp has amazed the whole coach staff with his dogged determination. Here against Novi he looked more like a seasoned steamroller than an "experiment". He shared the fullback's role with Williams who was playing his first full game since suffering his opening game injury.

Like Feldkamp Saline's offense wasn't anything fancy, but the end-arounds and off-tackle slants appeared to befuddle the Novi defense. Nevertheless, when really pressed the Wildcats sparkled—twice stopping Saline drives inside the 15 yard line.

The Hornets pushed to the Novi 3 but ran out of steam at the start of the second quarter, and then in the fourth quarter Saline marched to the Novi 11 before fumbling away the ball.

Novi scored its first touchdown late in the second quarter, capping a 75-yard drive that started with the Wildcats grabbing a Saline first-down fumble at the 25. The Wildcats didn't score again until well into the fourth quarter. It was quarterback Dave Brown who sparked this score, racing 50 yards to the Saline 8 after falling back to pass and finding no open receivers down field.

Two plays later Hansor went in with the ball.

Brown kicked both conversions.

Coach John Osborne hopes to have his Big Green Machine oiled up and ready to roll next when they journey to Brighton to take on a much-improved Bulldog squad.

Joining the SEC for the first time this year (in place of Dundee), Brighton is 2-2 in conference play with wins over Ypsilanti Lincoln (14-0) and Dexter (34-0) and losses to Milan (24-0) and Chelsea (24-6).

It will be Brighton's homecoming and the game will be played Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Avenge 63-0 Debacle

Ah! Mustangs Scalp Warriors

Bring on Livonia Churchill.

The Mustangs are ready.

Demonstrating the finest brand of football played by any Northville team since who can remember when, Coach, Chuck Shonta's Mustangs muscled their way to a 14-6 conquest of Walled Lake Western last Friday.

And don't be fooled by the closeness of that score, either.

Northville dominated. On offense the Mustangs ran off 49 offensive plays for 264 total yards and on defense they limited the Warriors to just 27 offensive plays and 87 yards of total offense.

It was the third win in five outings so far this season for the Mustangs and advanced their record against Western Six Conference opposition to 2-1 as they get ready to meet Ken Kaestner's rugged Livonia Churchill squad Friday.

It will be Homecoming for the Mustangs and there's nothing that Shonta and his Northville coaching staff would like better than to surprise Churchill with an upset.

That, however, will be no easy chore. The Chargers are the ninth-rated team in the state and their 14-game winning streak is the longest of any Class A team in southeastern Michigan.

A rugged defense is the key to the Charger success. Nose guard Tim McMahon (5-10, 190) and tackles Don Forrest (6-4, 215) and Phil Anderson (6-0, 185) make Churchill's defensive line the toughest in the conference.

But while the Mustangs are preparing to battle the Chargers, they'll have plenty of pleasant memories from their conquest of Walled Lake Western to keep them going.

It was Western, you may remember, who welcomed Northville to the Western Six Conference two years ago by pouring it on for a 63-0 triumph.

And for at least a moment last Friday, Northville fans could have been forgiven an ominous feeling that it was going to happen again.

Jeff Parrish, a 6-3, 185-pound speedster, latched onto Tex Trumbull's opening kick-off and sprinted 85 yards for a touchdown that put the Warriors out in front 6-0 with just 10 seconds in the game.

But that moment of glory proved to be just about the only cause for cheering that the Walled Lake fans would have the rest of the evening.

Instead of letting down after Parrish's TD run, the Mustangs took the ensuing kick-off and marched 49 yards in eight plays for a score of their own.

Eric Lampella's nine-yard pass to Ted Fuertges put the ball on the Western 25 yard line and from there Lampella handed the ball off four straight times to Doug Crisan who crashed over for the touchdown. The final play covered two yards.

Trumbull booted the extra point and Northville had a 7-6 lead.

The Mustangs launched another long drive the next time they had the ball moving from their own nine yard line all the way down to the Warrior five before Parrish intercepted Lampella's desperation fourth down pass in the end zone for a touchdown.

Northville scored its second touchdown with 3:44 left in the half. With a second-and-seven situation and the ball on the Western 39-yard line, Lampella found Ted Fuertges all by himself behind the Warrior secondary and hit him with a 39-yard scoring pass.

Trumbull added the extra point and Northville's lead was up to 14-6.

That ended the scoring, but Northville continued to dominate the game. In the third quarter, they drove down to the Walled Lake 12 before the drive stalled when Lampella was sacked for a 19-yard loss.

On defense the Mustangs did not allow the Warriors to cross their 50 yard line during the entire second half. John Sherman, the outstanding Northville safety, personally ended three Western drives with two interceptions and a fumble recovery.

Trailing by just eight points

Walled Lake could have come back and tied the game with a touchdown and a two-point conversion, but the Mustangs refused to give them a chance.

Over the final eight minutes of the game, the Warriors ran just one offensive play (Sherman intercepted a pass) while Northville was running off 16 plays in moving from their own seven yard line down to the Western six as time ran out.

Doug Crisan had one of his finest days of the season as he ran with authority, gaining 167 yards on 24 carries. Tom

Coram Sets Pace As Harriers Win 2

It didn't take Ralph Redmond's Northville cross-country team long to recapture its winning touch.

After suffering a humiliating 18-37 drubbing at the hands (feet?) of Livonia Churchill a week ago Wednesday, the Mustang harriers came back strong to win their next two meets and run their season's record to 9-1.

"I thought we bounced back pretty well after the beating we took in the Churchill meet," said Redmond. "We had been pointing to that Churchill meet and then when we got beat the way that we did it was kind of disappointing.

"I was afraid that we might suffer some kind of a let down," he continued, "but the kids came back strong."

"I think everyone just realized that we're a lot better team than we showed against Churchill and that we just had an off day. We've decided to write that meet off as a bad day and come back strong for the rest of the season."

Tom Coram, the Mustangs' fine senior, led the way back. He finished first in Northville's win over Lutheran West and then copped first place honors against Walled Lake Western - setting a new course record in the process.

"I'm glad to see these things start coming Tommy's way," commented Redmond. "He's been working hard and certainly deserves them."

The Mustangs swamped a weak Lutheran West team 15-40, taking the first five places in the meet.

"We knew Lutheran West was weak so we gave Guy Cole and Kevin Kofler the day off and let some of our junior varsity kids get into the action," said Redmond. "They really came through for us." Coram had a 16:42 clocking over the three mile Northville course in Cass Benton, while Dave Beers was second, Robbie Foust third, Mike Campbell fourth, and Rudy Horst fifth.

Even more impressive was the Mustangs' 20-35 win over Walled Lake Western. The Warriors had beaten the Waterford Mott squad and were challenging the Mustangs for second place in the Western Six standings.

But Northville ran away with the meet - taking first and second, fourth, fifth, and eighth places.

Kofler, another senior, joined Coram in breaking the old Bogey Lake course record of 17:14 set by Clifford's Keith Armstead. Kofler crossed the finish line in 17:13, but was far behind Coram who breezed across the line in 16:55.

Walled Lake's number one man took third in the meet, but Beers finished fourth, Foust came in fifth, and Mike Campbell rounded out the top five Northville finishers with an eight place effort.

Colts Deactivate Rockets

Northville's three Colt football teams continued to fare well against Western Suburban Junior Football League competition last week, winning two of their three games against the Westland Rockets and tying the third. The undefeated Colt varsity continued to set the pace as they notched their sixth win of the season in as many outings with a 7-0 decision over the Rockets. After three quarters of rugged defensive football, the score was deadlocked at 0-0. But then, with four minutes left on the clock, the Rockets fumbled the ball. Northville recovered on the one yard line and rammed over for the touchdown which produced the 7-0 win.

The Colt junior varsity upped its season's record to 4-1-1 with an 18-0 victory over the Westland club. A 62-yard end run and an off-tackle slant gave the Colts a 12-0 halftime lead. After a scoreless third quarter, the Colts scored again as the quarterback sneaked over from the two yard line for the TD.

The Colt freshman team had to settle for a tie with the Rockets. A 47 yard run in the second quarter put the Northville squad on top 6-0. Then, for the first time this season, they attempted to boot the extra point, but the attempt fell short.

The Colt defense held the Rockets through the second and third quarters, but the Westland team finally managed to knot the score at 6-6 with a triple-reverse in the fourth quarter.

The three Northville Football Association teams now have a combined record of 13-2-3 for the season.

REPLAY

with John Osborne

John Osborne sounded a great deal different as he discussed the details of his team's 14-0 victory over Saline.

For one of the very few times over the past few years, the Wildcats had failed to dominate their opponents. In spite of the final score, the statistics showed that the two teams had battled on more or less even terms.

As a matter of fact, the Hornets held a slight edge over the Wildcats, outrushing them 179-171 and outpassing them 51-22.

"There were a number of problems," said Osborne in trying to ferret out the reasons for his team's atypical showing. "I think that our mental preparation for Saline was not as sharp as it should have been and that we were a little flat."

"The other thing is that they did a very excellent job of scouting and preparing for us," he continued.

"We have a number of things that we like to do both on offense and defense and their scouts did a very fine job of figuring out what those things were and how to keep us from doing them."

One of the keys to the game was Saline's ability to move the ball on the ground against the Novi defense.

"I would have to blame the defensive preparation of the coaching staff for their ability to move the ball the way they did," said Osborne. "We like to slant our linemen away from the wingback side of the field and they were running toward the wing man and taking advantage of our slanting tendencies."

"That's why they were able to gain so well around our end," he continued. "They had a blocker for each of our defensive men. They really did a good job in preparing for us."

Saline's success on the ground contributed to their success in shutting off the high-powered Novi offense. To win against Novi, a team has got to play ball control and keep it away from the Wildcat wishbone. And that's exactly what Saline succeeded in doing.

"Not only did they hold the ball for long periods of time on us, they also gave us bad field position," stated Osborne. "They turned the ball over to us deep in our own territory."

"They were very fired up and I didn't want them to get an easy touchdown by making a mistake close to our own end zone. I figured if they managed to score on a break they would get so fired up it would be hard to come back and beat them. That's one of the reasons I was pretty cautious about our offense when we were deep in our own end."

Osborne also cited Saline's defensive preparation for the game.

"Again their scouts figured out the types of things we like to do on offense," said Osborne. "They were really well prepared for us."

"On the tight end side of the field they played us normal, but on the split end side of the field they played their tackle between our guard and tackle and played their end outside our tackle. They also put their linebacker directly behind the tackler and we had a lot of trouble getting a blocker out to him."

"As a result of having their end split outside our tackle, they were hitting (quarterback Dave) Brown on the option play a lot sooner than he's used to getting hit. That resulted in a couple of bad pitch outs and we lost confidence in our pitch game. The wet field conditions didn't help our wide game, either."

However, in spite of Saline's efforts, the Wildcats still managed to come out on top, and the win, coupled with South Lyon's surprising upset of Milan, left Novi all alone in first place.

5 Mistakes Win Football Contest

Just as the Detroit Lions and Nebraska took it on the chin last week, a lot of contestants in the weekly football contest did likewise.

To give you an idea of how badly things went, winners in the weekly quiz could do no better than five mistakes.

And of the five winners, only one came up with the right victor in the Detroit-New Orleans game.

Because she had no more than five mistakes and because she came closer to correctly guessing the Saints' victory over the Lions, Lisa Lauber, 714 Spring Drive, came away with first-place money. She had New Orleans winning, 24-17.

Four other contestants, each of whom submitted entries with five mistakes, share second and third place money because each was 14 points off the actual score of the Detroit New Orleans game.

Receiving $2 each (share of $5 second place and $3 third place) were Kathryn Byrne, 860 Spring Drive; Matt Fasang, 43694 Westridge Lane; Anne White, 41636 Riveroaks, Plymouth; and Bob Crisan, 41967 Banbury Road, Plymouth.

Nearly everyone picked Detroit to win, just as nearly everyone, guessed Nebraska to continue winning.

Other most often missed games included Illinois' 15-13 triumph over Purdue, Northwestern's 31-15 win over Iowa, and Pitts 35-7 victory over West Virginia.

Dooley, a fine back whose efforts are overshadowed by Crisan, picked up 41 yards on 10 carries.

Lampella, the sophomore quarterback forced into action by injuries to Northville's two first-string signal callers, completed four of eight passing attempts. Fuertes was on the receiving end of each of those completions as he gained 62 yards and scored one touchdown.

Gal Swimmers Swamp Churchill

Northville's girls swimming team is off to a fast start.

After three meets the Mustang girl swimmers have posted a 2-1 record and are 2-0 against Western Six Conference competition.

Northville recorded its second Western Six win of the season last week with a substantial 107-64 victory over the girls from Livonia Churchill.

Coach Karen Turner's squad had a narrow 6-5 edge over the Churchill girls in first place performances, but salted away the win on the basis of their second and third place finishes. The Mustang girls swept 15 of a possible 22 second and third place positions.

Tracey Piscopink was named Swimmer of the Week for her performance against the Livonia swimmers. Miss Piscopink was Northville's only double winner in individual events as she won both the 200 and 500 yard freestyle events. Kathy Biery, a freshman, won the 50 yard freestyle and senior co-captain Sandy Bacsanyi won the 100 yard breaststroke event.

Northville's other two first place finishes came in the relay events. Bonnie Angeli and Cathy Coates joined forces with Miss Bacsanyi and Miss Biery to win the 200 yard medley relay and Miss Piscopink anchored a team of Lisa VanIngen, Lori Holland, and Donna Guard to a victory in the 400 yard freestyle relay.

KEVIN LAFLECHE

Wildcat of the Week honors go to Kevin LaFleche, Novi's 6-0, 185-pound defensive tackle and offensive fullback. "On offense he got some tough yards for us and got some key first downs and on defense he was outstanding," said Coach John Osborne. "He caused two fumbles and made two or three big plays in the line." LaFleche scored one of the two Novi touchdowns.

Novi 12-Year Old Tops PP&K Field

Novi's Kevin McClorey was the only winner from the Northville-Novu Punt, Pass, and Kick competitions to make it through the zone PP&K contest at Plymouth a week ago Saturday.

At the Dearborn district (which covers the half of the state south from Lansing), Kevin finished back in the field, however, and failed to qualify for the regional competition which will be held at Tiger Stadium.

Kevin, competing against other 12-year old winners from the Detroit-Livonia-Garden City-Westland area, came out on top at Plymouth High School with a total of 243½ points and thus qualified for the districts last Saturday

But Lose at Regionals

Golfers Cop Conference Crown

Joy and sorrow. Success and failure. Al Jones and the members of his fine Northville golf team experienced both extremes last week.

On a cold and rainy Saturday it was disappointment.

Primed for a crack at the Class A state title, Jones and his Mustang golfers stumbled and fell in the Dunham Hills regionals. Needing to finish in the top three to qualify for this Saturday's state finals, the Mustangs finished fourth.

By Monday afternoon, however, the outlook had changed considerably.

Brian Mills shot a 77, Bob Simmons fashioned a 78, and Bill Pettit carded a 79 to lead the Mustangs to a decisive 20-stroke victory in the Western Six Conference championships.

Northville's third consecutive conference championship helped to offset the deep disappointment felt by Jones and his squad over their failure to qualify for the state meet.

Over the past three years, there has been no finer golf team in the state and yet each year the Mustangs have fallen short of their goal of winning the state title.

"Maybe the reason we always seem to come up short at the end of the season is that we attach too much importance to the state championship because it's the only meet we haven't been able to win - yet," said Jones.

Last year Northville made it through the regionals, but failed to win the state crown when forced to play for the championship in near-blizzard conditions.

And the weatherman did nothing to help the Mustangs this year as it poured rain throughout the regional tournament.

"You just can't play golf in weather like that," said Jones. "I know the conditions are the same for everyone, but I still say that bad weather conditions hurt the really good golfers more than they do the mediocre golfers."

Brian Mills who shot a fine 78 at Dunham Hills was the only Mustang to score well. Simmons, suffering from a bad cold, had an 87, while Jim Dales and Greg Mack, the two sophomores on the squad, shot 88 and 92 respectively. Northville's four-man total of 345 was 13 strokes behind Walled Lake Central's winning total of 332.

"We just had a bad day," said Jones. "I couldn't complain too much about the job Mills did for us, but everyone else is capable of shooting eight strokes better than he did in the regionals.

"We beat everyone of those teams that finished ahead of us at least twice during the regular season," "I just have to believe that if the weather had been better we would have shot a lot better."

There was nothing wrong with the weather Monday as the Mustangs ran away from the rest of the Western Six Conference teams on the Meadowbrook Country Club course to win their third straight conference championship.

Even Jones had a good day as he won the "coaches' competition" with a fine score of 78. "I just wanted to show my team that their old coach could still put together a pretty good round," he said with a chuckle.

Only three conference golfers managed to score in the 70's and all three of them were Mustangs as Mills defended his conference title with a fine 77 and Simmons and Pettit shot 78 and 79 respectively.

Jim Dales and Greg Mack

both had 82's.

Farmington Harrison finished second with 418, while Walled Lake Western was third with 429, Mott was fourth with 443, and Canton fifth with a 503.

"It was nice to win the league the way we did, particularly after what happened in the regionals," said Jones.

In dual meet action last week the Mustangs stretched their record of consecutive meets without a loss to 49 as they recorded victories over Waterford Mott, Farmington Harrison, Cranbrook, and Farmington High Schools.

Monday Jones issued the following statement about the week's activities:

"Needless to say we were all disappointed in not qualifying for the Class A finals," he said. "Some people may say that we choked or that we haven't been able to win the big one when it counted."

"In defense of the boys on the team I would like to point out that there are few teams in the state that have completed the records that these kids have compiled. Because of our accomplishments over the past two years in both dual meet and tournament play, an unusual amount of pressure has been placed on this year's team - particularly the two sophomores (Jim Dales and Greg Mack).

"For 15 and 16 year old kids I think they have come through in fine style. Northville is still unbeaten in dual meets. We were the defending champions in five big meets and we were successful in defending three of them. To our way of thinking, these were big wins, too."

"A few years ago when Northville went to a tournament we were ignored by other schools. Now when we go to a tournament, we are always the team to beat and we are proud of that reputation."

"We could probably give a number of excuses for why we didn't win the state championship, but I'm too proud of these boys to make any excuses for them. To my way of thinking, they've done a great job."

REPLAY

with Chuck Shonta

Think Chuck Shonta wasn't happy about his team's 14-6 victory over Walled Lake Western last Friday? Better guess again.

When it was suggested that it had been his team's top performance over the past three years, the former All-Pro cornerback with the Boston Patriots concurred wholeheartedly.

"I think they finally came of age as a team," he stated.

"For the first time in the three years that I've been head coach, they really looked like a football team out there," he continued. "They blocked like a football team; they ran like a football team; and they hit like a football team. For the first time, they really put it all together."

Although Shonta made no mention of it, the victory was all the more rewarding because it had been Walled Lake Western which had humiliated the Mustangs 63-0 in their very first Western Six Conference game three years ago.

And, for at least a moment last Friday, memories of that debacle were revived as the Warrior's Jeff Parrish returned the opening kick-off 85 yards for a touchdown.

"The team's reaction to that touchdown is one of the reasons why I say we've finally come of age," said Shonta.

"Instead of letting that touchdown get them down, they got more determined to come back and win the game. They went into the game with the confidence that they could win and when Western got that touchdown they were mad because it cost them a shutout. But they still knew they were going to win."

"The kick-off return cost them a shutout, but they weren't going to let it cost them the game."

So pleased were Shonta and the other coaches with the victory that they refused to single out one player for Mustang of the Week honors (John Sherman was selected by the editorial staff).

"It just wouldn't be fair," explained Shonta. "So many of our kids played an outstanding game. It was a team victory."

"The offense did an excellent job, but it was the defense which was truly outstanding. They only gave up something like 87 yards and when you hold a team to less than 100 yards you've really done a job."

One of the few negative aspects of the game was the Mustangs' inability to put the ball into the end zone after long drives. Northville drove from their own nine to the Western five in the second quarter and moved from their own 38 down to the 12 in the third quarter.

In each instance, Shonta shouldered the blame for not putting the ball over the goal line.

"Both those drives were ended because we called for Lampella to pass and he got caught for big losses," reported the Mustang coach. "They were bad calls on my part. We thought we could surprise them by going to the air, but we were moving on the ground and we should have stayed with what we were doing best."

For Western-Six Lead

Churchill, Mott Still Tied

Livonia Churchill (5-0) and Waterford Mott (4-1) each registered victories last week to remain tied for the Western Six Conference lead with 3-0 record.

The two wins were very much different, however.

George Perry's Mott team rolled over Plymouth Canton (1-4) by a 57-26 margin, but Ken Kaestner's Churchill squad had to rally for two touchdowns in the final five minutes to avoid being upset by Farmington Harrison (2-2). Final score showed the Chargers on top 19-13.

Pre-season favorite to run away with conference honors, Churchill had its hands full with the Harrison Hawks. The Chargers got on the board first when Brian Kelly, starting in place of Mark Roncoli, hit 6-4, 215-pound tackle Don Forest with a 21-yard touchdown pass on a tackle eligible play.

But Harrison came back to take the lead with a pair of touchdowns.

Dave Thern knotted the score on a 30-yard pass from Mike Crudele and Sam Pink put the Hawks on top 13-6 by capping an 80-yard drive with a three-yard plunge.

Churchill then scored twice in the final five minutes of the game to secure their 14th straight win. Matt Foster tied the score by barreling over from the one and then with just 15 seconds left on the clock Roncoli tossed a 13-yard scoring pass to end Mike Gottshall.

Mott (485 yards) and Canton (357 yards) combined for close to 850 yards of total offense as the Corsairs blasted out a 57-26 victory.

Greg Alrich scored on runs of 66, 38, and 10 yards, while Dale Romeo scored on a 38 yard run and a 66-yard pass from Mike Grace and Dave Bauer scored on a 21 yard run and an 85-yard kick-off return.

"We geared our defense to stop their option and roll-out pass and they came out and ran right up the middle," explained Canton's Jim Muneio.

JOHN SHERMAN

Mustang of the Week honors go to John Sherman. A 5-10, 170-pound senior, Sherman is in his third year as a starter at defensive safety. Against Walled Lake Western, he recovered a fumble and intercepted two passes to record his third and fourth interceptions of the season and run his career total to 17. "I can't say enough for him," commented Chuck Shonta. "He's just a fantastic football player." Sherman is one of the Northville co-captains.

Debra Dobek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dobek of Twelve Mile Road has returned home from Children's Hospital after major surgery.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F. Geppert of Meadowbrook Road on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Oles of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kozak of Northville and Mrs. Leo Gregory and sons.

Mrs. Ed Ash of Garfield Road has returned from a two-week vacation. During the vacation she spent some time in Kansas City with relatives and friends. She also attended a family reunion. Present were her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers of Tecapa, Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor of Meadowbrook Road have returned from a two-week vacation in Florida. While there they visited Disneyland, and friends and relatives in New Port Richie and St. Petersburg.

Tony Yorch of Eleven Mile Road has returned to his home following a 10-week stay at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with a broken leg.

LUNCH MENU

Monday—Vegetable soup, cracker, cheese sandwich, carrot stix, peach cobbler and milk.

Tuesday—Salisbury steak, mashed potatoes, bread and butter, buttered vegetable, fruit jello and milk.

Wednesday—Meat pie and vegetable, pepper slaw, hot rolls and butter, pineapple and milk.

Thursday—Hamburger on bun, tater tots, buttered vegetable, cookies and milk.

Friday—Macaroni and cheese, peanut butter and jelly, cabbage slaw, orange juice fruit cup and milk.

NOVI ROTARY CLUB

The holiday fruit cakes are ready to be sold and these can be purchased in time for use at Thanksgiving. Contact any Rotarian. Special speaker at the Noon meeting last week at the Saratoga Trunk was Stewart Finney, director of Dayton-Hudson Development.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

There will be an open meeting on November 1 at 8 p.m. at the High School sponsored jointly by the League of Women Voters and Friends of Library. All 15 of the candidates for the council have been invited to attend and speak. Background material on each candidate will be distributed.

NOVI SENIOR CITIZENS

Forty-four senior citizens enjoyed the trip to Frankenmuth last Thursday. Everyone is reminded of the meeting on October 23 at the Novi Community building. Hostesses will be Mary Skeltis and Vera Hansor. They will be planning additional activities, including the next potluck luncheon.

WELCOME WAGON CLUB

A reminder of the October 19 deadline for the $5 registration for the Scavenger Hunt followed by a beer and pizza party on October 27. Contact Mrs. Carrie Semeyn at 349-1998 or Mrs. Diane Miller at 349-1104. Other activities included the first meeting of the Evening Bridge group at the home of Mrs. Fran Nistall this past week. The first couple pinocle group will be meeting on October 20 at 8 p.m. Contact Mrs. Barbara Bailey at 349-4653. The new publicity person for this group is Marge Scheneman who can be reached at 349-7279.

NOVI WEIGHT WATCHERS

On Tuesday, October 23 at 7 p.m. at the Living Lord Lutheran Church on Ten Mile this group will be having a "legal" meal under the direction of lecturer, Rosie Tague. Members will be enjoying a menu containing the following dishes: tuna macaroni salad, stuffed cabbage, jello salad, ambrosia, pineapple pie, cheesecakes, cabbage soup, meat balls, clam chowder, ice cream and punch. At the last meeting this group had a total weight loss of 64½ pounds.

NOVI JAYCEES

At the last meeting four new members were sworn in by Tom Ritter, region national director: Bob Donaldson, Dave Dunning, John Balagna, and Bill Ruck. They bring the Novi Jaycee membership to 62.

The Novi Jaycees Haunted House officially opens this weekend and the Jaycees promise it will be the best ever. It is located on Novi Road near Nine Mile Road.

NOVI JAYCEE AUXILIARY

On Thursday the auxiliary will be visiting the DeHoCoettes Auxiliary at DeHoCo which is affiliated with the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary. The Novi Auxiliary will be taking supplies for an arts and crafts project.

Sandy Sekinski, new auxiliary member who chaired the Novi Blood Bank for the auxiliary last weekend, maintains that "if we can get 20 percent of the population of Novi to donate blood then any Novi resident can draw from the blood bank. Hopefully, when the auxiliary sponsors the next blood bank in the fall the response will be greater than ever."

The auxiliary is sponsoring a Halloween Safety Poster Contest in the elementary schools, with one winner per grade, per school. The prizes will be two free passes to the Jaycee Haunted House. All posters will be displayed in the schools with the winning posters displayed throughout the city. Chairman Kathy Crawford hopes all parents will go over the safety factors with children before Halloween.

NOVI PIN POINTERS

The Mystery game was won by Sue Korte, with Hi Bowlers Pat O'Malley at 207 and a 532 series, Lori Lee Longhurst with 188, Dorothe MacDermaid with 186, and Shirley Selep with 182. Standings are as follows:

Announce Decathlon Winners

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Threatening skies may have frightened off the kids who usually flock to City Hall for Wixom's annual Decathlon races on Saturday. In spite of it all, the Parks and Recreation Department was ready even though the number was considerably lower than in other years.

The Decathlon had its beginning some thirteen years ago as a sort of Wixom Junior Olympics. Winners are awarded ribbons down through fifth place and gold, silver and bronze medals are awarded to the top three finishers in each event.

Lower elementary entrants had three events to participate in while the upper elementary had four. First event for fourth, fifth and sixth grade girls was the Jump and Touch with Pam Allred coming in first with 6'9" at the fourth grade level, Patti Glenn was second with a 6'8" effort and Sharon Green was third with 6'5½".

Fifth grade girls found Brigitte Nissen at 7'2" capturing first, Lisa Jasieniecki taking second with 6'11", and Deanna Haney in third with 6'10". In the same event, Sandy Glenn took first for the sixth grade girls with 7'7". Second place went to Georgia McDermott with a jump of 7'4", and Kim Berger placed third with 7'2".

The older boys had the Football Kick as their first event and Charles Bissell won it with a 63'9" boot. Charles Watson at 47'2" and Dave Haney 44'10" were second and third in the fourth grade.

Fifth grader Tim Mackey came through with 53'9" kick for first place and was followed by Danny Brown at 42'6" and Mike Downard with 34' for the top three medals.

Dave Dickey whopped the pigskin 78' to take the gold in the sixth grade level with the silver going to Bucky Trombley for his kick of 70'6". The bronze went to Scott Kish for his 65'7" punt.

Another event reserved for the upper elementary classes was the bicycle race with the kids whizzing around a track trying to break the sound barrier. Winners were determined by the number of seconds it took to complete the course. For the girls, Pam Allred, Patti Glenn and Sheryl Styrk won the fourth grade class. Leslie Bozysynski was first, Deanna Haney and Cathy Barry tied for second, and Kellie Burke was third at the fifth grade level. Sixth graders Sandy Glenn, Kim Berger and Georgia McDermott tied up the medals.

For the boys, Charles Bissell, Billy Craig and Mark Larsen got their medals in the fourth grade class. Kevin Kimmel, another tie between Eddie Kent and Danny Brown for second, and Tim Mackey all scored for the fifth graders. In the sixth grade, David Dickey took first, followed by Scott Kish in second and John McCormick in third.

The Baseball Throw was open to all the kids with some of them showing outstanding throwing arms. Although the contests were not open to kindergartners, some did show up and were allowed to participate. One such miss won the gold medal. Marla Hughes won with a toss of 25'7", second place went to Jill Dingeldey, a first grader with 22'10" and another little one, Kandi Southerland, 7'4", and Kim Berger placed third with 21'11".

For the boys, Jay Westervelt showed some strong action with a pitch of 65'7" followed by Mike Craig with 63' even and kindergartener Brent Kish took third with 62' even.

The longest throw for all the girls came with sixth grader Kim Berger's mark of 112' even. Georgia McDermott's throw of 72' earned her a second followed by Sandy Glenn's throw of 63'3" for third.

And the mightiest of the boys was Dave Burger. His gold was earned on a whopping throw of 154'7". The

In the second grade, Laurie Haight took the gold with 25'7", second went to Laurie Stombaugh with 18'4", and third went to Heidi Larsen with 17'4". For the boys it was Geof Bissell with 77'8", Matt Walsh was second with 64'2", followed by Danny Wiedenbeck with 52'4".

Third grade girls found Kathy Dickey in first with 45'4". Sandy Mackey was second place with a pitch of 38'1", followed by Kelli Korthas in third with 36'4". The third grade boys showed their pitching strength with Brian Berger heaving the ball 112'11". He was followed by Craig Kimmel with 96'6" and Shawn Parton at 92'9".

Kim Evans at 51'7", Patti Glenn with 48'1" and Sheryl Styrk in third with 48' wrapped up the medals for the fourth grade girls. Charles Bissell captured another first with 114'6", followed again by Chuck Watson at 102'2", and Danny Wiedenbeck in third with 93'5" made it complete for the fourth grade boys.

Pint-sized fifth grader Cathy Barry amazed the crowd with her pitch of 100'10" to capture the gold while Leslie Bozysynski took second with 84'8" and third went to Deanna Haney for her throw of 58'10".

The longest throw for all the girls came with sixth grader Kim Berger's mark of 112' even. Georgia McDermott's throw of 72' earned her a second followed by Sandy Glenn's throw of 63'3" for third.

And the mightiest of the boys was Dave Burger. His gold was earned on a whopping throw of 154'7". The silver went to Dave Dickey for his throw of 140'6", and the bronze went to Scott Kish at 132'8".

The dashes were next with the yardage increased for the older children. In the first grade level, Jill Dingeldey carried off the gold while right on her tail was Marla Hughes in second and Kandi Southerland in third. The boys division found Jay Westervelt the fleet-foot, second went to Mike Craig, and third to Jimmy Glenn.

In the second grade it was Laurie Haight in first, Heidi Larsen in second, and Laurie Stombaugh in third. For the boys, it was Geof Bissell in first, Matt Walsh in second, and Danny Wiedenbeck in third.

Kelli Korthas led the pack of third grade girls with second place going to Sandy Mackey and third to Kathy Dickey. Craig Kimmel was the speedster in the boys class with Shawn Parton and Brian Berger close on his heels.

In the fourth grade it was Pam Allred, Sharon Green, and Kim Evans gathering the medals while the boys' share went to Charles Bissell, Billy Craig and Chuck Watson.

Leslie Bozysynski took another first place with her win in the fifth grade girls class. Deanna Haney came through again for a second and Lisa Jasieniecki got the third. Kevin Kimmel took another first, Ed Kent and Tim Mackey added a few more medals to their collections with their showings in second and third.

Sandy Glenn, Georgia McDermott, and Darla Ray wrapped up the honors for the sixth grade girls. Dave Dickey, Scott Kish, and John McCormick did the same in their division.

The last category of the day was the Running Broad Jump. First grade level girls Kandi Southerland, Marla Hughes and Jill Dingeldey won the three medals. Jimmy Glenn's leap of 5'½" won in the boys' division with Jay Westervelt and Brent Kish rounding out the medalists.

Laurie Haight took a first among second grade girls with her jump of 3'11" followed again by Laurie Stombaugh and Heidi Larsen. Geof Bissell even outdid the third graders with his leap of 8'9". Second was taken by David Buie and third went to Danny Wiedenbeck.

Third grader Sandy Mackey got her first gold of the day with a jump of 7'1½", with second going to Kelli Korthas and third to Carol Dingeldey. Shawn Parton the gold, silver went to Tim Evans and the bronze was won by Craig Kimmel among the third grade boys.

Patti Glenn with 7'3" tied up the gold among the fourth grade girls with Kim Evans putting out a good leap that earned her a second and Sharon Green close behind for the third. Charles Bissell again won the gold with his leap of 10'2½", followed by (again) Chuck Watson and Mark Larsen.

Leslie Bozysynski's jump of 10'5¼" almost beat out all the grade levels. This fifth grader has got to be the leapingest kid in town...she's won it every year since she began

Parade, Pancakes, Dance Set

It's Homecoming Week in Northville

Crowning of the homecoming queen, a parade, dance, pancake supper and football games are just some of the events still on tap as Homecoming Week continues at Northville High.

Friday's events begin with the traditional pancake supper served by the Presbyterian Men's Club at the Presbyterian Church. This year's supper will be the 20th consecutive year under the sponsorship of the Men's Club.

Pancakes will be served between 5 and 7 p.m. Prices are $2 for adults, $1.50 for students 13 to 18 years old and 75 cents for children under 12.

Homecoming parade, complete with the high school band and class floats, will begin about 6 p.m. from the Kroger parking lot, travel north on Center Street and end at the football field.

Football game begins at 8 p.m. with the Mustangs playing host to Livonia Churchill. Homecoming queen will be crowned during half-time ceremonies and her court will be introduced.

During the game, Northville Band Parents will be selling Mustang pennants.

Completing the week's events will be the homecoming dance sponsored by the Pep Club.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Saturday, dancing will continue at the school until 11:30 p.m.

"When You Wish Upon a Star" is the theme of the dance and music will be provided by the high school Pep Band. Tickets are $1 for single or $1.50 per couple.

Tickets are available during lunch hour at the high school cafeteria. The Pep Club adds that last year's alumni are welcome and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Other events during the week have included bubble gum contests, VW pile-in, hula hoop contest, stroller races, tug of war, flag football and the traditional campfire.

Announce Fair Plans In Novi

"Halloween Hull-a-balloo" is the theme given to the Novi Elementary School Fair this year.

The fair has been slated for Saturday, October 27, beginning at 11 a.m. and running until 4 p.m.

A "Moon Walk" and pony rides will be available for youngsters outside the school, while inside there will be nine game rooms and a "spook" house. Arts and crafts items and baked goods will also be on sale, and visitors to the fair can purchase either refreshments or a full-scale lunch.

Proceeds from the fair will go to the Novi Elementary School Parents' Organization to purchase items for the school.

Anyone with questions or willing to donate either baked goods, handicraft items, or their time are urged to contact Mrs. Sandy Isham at 349-3328.

Pays for Snow Removal

One of the items for which the Novi City Council was asked to approve payment Monday roused the interest of Councilman Denis Berry.

"I will admit to having been out of town for a few days recently," stated Berry, "but I still find it hard to believe that this council is being asked to approve a payment for snow removal."

The expense was incurred during the big snow storm last March, explained Assistant Administrator Edward Kriewall.

"They're just getting around to send us the bill for what they did in March," Kriewall stated.

"Just wanted to make sure I hadn't missed anything," responded Berry.

"People turn to the Yellow Pages when they want specific answers."

"That's what we think and that's why we list many of our special sign services in our ad," continues Mr. Loren Whitcomb, Whitcomb Sign Co., 7636 West Road, Washington. "With few exceptions, people don't have a definite idea of what they want. Quite often potential customers call and ask about items like displays, plaques, silk screen, pin stripping, electrical signs, etc. We take this as a sign they're probably looking at our Yellow Pages ad. By explaining our services I feel the Yellow Pages has a definite place in our total advertising program."

"Our Yellow Pages ad outproduces all of our other advertising 3 to 1," says Mrs. Rene Clark, Country Estate Mobile Homes, Inc., 58220 W. Eight Mile Rd., Northville. "It's our best advertising investment. Since we've had our ad, our business has increased by 50%! I think some business people overlook the fact that the Yellow Pages maintains a hard-hitting and effective ad campaign of its own. But we only have to look at our results to know that the campaign is really paying off in the form of more business for us."

Mr. Hershel Stuart, Federal Hardware and Supply, 29080 Southfield Rd., Southfield recommends Yellow Pages advertising highly. "My program includes display ads in the North Woodward and East Area Directories. These ads pull in literally hundreds of calls for fireplace fixtures, resulting in sales ranging from $20 to $200. I also receive a great deal of response from our ad at the 'Hardware' heading. This ad produces both calls and walk-in business."

A lot of sales help, that's what the Yellow Pages gives Mr. Chester Podgorny, Venoy Realty Co., 32508 Michigan Ave., Wayne.

"During the past 16 years we have found Yellow Pages advertising a very efficient way to attract potential real estate customers.

The calls we get from the Yellow Pages are regarded as very important because these buyers are in the market now. We began with a half-page display ad. After we became established we switched to a smaller ad.

However, we noticed a definite decrease in leads from the Yellow Pages and decided to return to the half-page ad we carry today."

Travel the Yellow Pages road to sales success. Call your Yellow Pages representative!

High Schools Plan 'College Night'

Northville, Novi, and Plymouth high school students interested in furthering their education after graduation should plan to attend a special "College Night" program at Northville High School on Thursday, October 25.

The program, slated to begin at 7:30 p.m., marks the first time the three area high schools have participated in co-sponsoring a College Night. It is expected to become an annual event.

Students in the eleventh and twelfth grades are encouraged to attend with their parents.

Representatives from approximately 50 colleges and universities will be present to distribute informational material, make presentations, and answer questions from students interested in attending their institutions. Discussed will be such topics as campus life, entrance requirements, curriculum, and financial aids.

Also present at the College Night will be representatives from each of the armed forces academies and a representative from the Financial Aids Department of the State of Michigan.

Since each representative is expected to make at least three formal presentations, students and parents are advised to select and attend those given by the schools in which they are particularly interested.

Each representative will be in a different room.

In sponsoring a College Night program, high schools are attempting to assist students and parents in their selection of a college.

Township Minutes

October 9, 1973

4. ACCEPTANCE OF BOARD OF APPEALS MEETING, SEPTEMBER 10, 1973. PLANNING COMMISSION MINUTES, SEPTEMBER 25, 1973: WATER & SEWER DEPARTMENT FINANCIAL REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER, 1973. WATER & SEWER COMMISSION MINUTES OF SEPTEMBER 5, 1973. LIBRARY ADVISORY COMMITTEE MINUTES OF SEPTEMBER 27, 1973: RECEIPTS FOR SEPTEMBER, 1973. TREASURER'S REPORT FOR SEPTEMBER, 1973. Mitchell moved, Cayley seconded, to accept all of the above Ayes: All Motion carried.
COMMITTEE AND MISC. REPORTS

1. PUBLIC SAFETY STUDY COMMITTEE REPORT - R MITCHELL: Mitchell stated that copies of report had been given to Township Board which he felt was self explanatory. He further stated that he would like to see report be presented to residents on a ballot, but due to voting regulations could not be presented to public within 30 days of city election in November. Regardless of when election was held we would not receive millage for this year. Discussion followed as to what exactly should go on ballot. Mitchell stated that Public Improvement Fund has approximately $150,000 in it that could possibly be used for the housing of equipment. There is also the possibility that a Wayne County Building could be renovated, but this might prove to be costly. A definite decision on the availability of one of these buildings would probably not be made known until after the first of the year. The present Township facility must be vacated by April 1, 1974. Cayley moved that Board accept concept of Public Safety with complete consolidation of Police and Fire as recommended by Committee. MacDonald seconded Ayes: MacDonald, Mitchell, Cayley, Wright, Nays: Straub Motion carried. After motion was carried, further discussion followed that December and January would be bad months to hold election, but that a final decision as to when to hold election and exact millage would be ready for November meeting. Cayley moved, Straub seconded, to authorize The Committee to meet with the City for discussion of the study, with the Building Authority to discuss equipment housing, and to suggest possible wording for the millage request.
2. POLICE DEPARTMENT REPORT: Straub moved to accept this report, MacDonald seconded. Ayes: All Motion carried.

CORRESPONDENCE
1. John & Judy Spicer - re lot split - strikers from meeting as had been resolved with Planning Committee.
2. Van Buren Township - Resolution Regarding Wayne County Sheriff Services Cayley moved to receive and file Mitchell seconded Ayes: All Motion carried.
3. City of Southgate - Resolution Regarding State Lottery Prize

Structure Straub moved to accept and file MacDonald seconded Ayes: All Motion carried.
Cayley moved, Mitchell seconded to take item No. 3 under Old Business and item No. 1 under New Business out of order. Ayes: All Motion carried.

OLD BUSINESS (No. 3)
Modified Consent Judgement for John Landfill - Morgan Mitchell moved, MacDonald seconded to authorize attorney to record Consent Judgement as presented.
NEW BUSINESS (No. 1)
Approval of the Final Plat of Northville Commons No. 5 Morgan questioned whether this was being developed under the Subdivision Regulations or P.N.D., that terminology does not distinguish Mr. Bona, representative from Thompson-Brown explained that this was the way all previous plats had been worded. Also Morgan stated that errors had been found in the Title Insurance Policy Straub moved, MacDonald seconded to approve the plat when corrections had been made and to authorize the Clerk to sign the plat. Ayes: All Motion carried.

Mr. Lysinger from audience at this time questioned what could be done about amount of water being pumped out by sump pumps in Northville Commons and what could be done to make sure this problem does not occur in new sections. Mosher explained that just during this past winter this problem had come to light, and a new policy had been adopted for all new subdivisions; that henceforth new developers would be required to install drains to take water from water pumped from sump pumps. Thompson-Brown representative advised that all possible means would be taken so that this problem would not occur in new section of Northville Commons.
4. R. Robert Fiedler - Response to Northville Township Resolution No. 73-70 Col John R. Plants - Response to Same (No. 4 under Correspondence) Cayley read both responses MacDonald moved to accept and file Mitchell further added to motion that we request to be kept on file. Straub seconded Ayes: All Motion carried.
5. Ralph Raymond - Resignation from Water & Sewer Commission (No. 5 under Correspondence) Cayley moved to accept resignation with regret and send letter of appreciation MacDonald seconded. Ayes: All Motion carried.

OLD BUSINESS
1. Status of Township Insurance under Burham & Flower Agency Tabled from September 11, 1973 meeting Morgan explained letter from insurance agent. He suggests township look into doing business with other agencies as several policies will expire soon. Morgan felt false arrest coverage should be investigated Cayley moved this item be taken off agenda until Morgan could complete his study. Mitchell seconded Ayes: All Motion carried.
2. Request for Modification of Employee Insurance Package Two employees would like to keep Blue Cross instead of new coverage MacDonald moved, Cayley seconded we allow these employees to do this, but that all new employees be covered under new policy with Prudential. Straub amended motion that employees would pay any difference in premiums between Blue Cross and Prudential Ayes: Cayley, MacDonald, Straub, Nays: Mitchell. Abstained: Wright.
3. Northwestern Guidance Clinic - Tabled from Sept. 11, 1973. Morgan has same views as before that statute do not allow Townships to donate more than $100 for community projects. Cayley moved, MacDonald seconded that the matter be taken up at the budget hearings Ayes: All Motion carried.

4. Special Assessment Petitions for Water in Supervisor's Northville Plat No. 1 Tabled from September 11. MacDonald moved, Mitchell seconded, to adopt Resolution 73-73 finding the petitions in order and to authorize Engineer to prepare a preliminary cost estimate Ayes: MacDonald, Mitchell, Cayley, Wright, Straub Motion carried.

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT CITY OF NORTHVILLE

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT CITY OF NORTHVILLE

The City Council of the City of Northville following Public Hearings Monday, October 15, 1973 at City Hall has adopted the following ordinances:

The City of Northville Ordains:

Soil Erosion Ordinance-The purpose of this ordinance is to prevent soil erosion and the resulting sediment within the City of Northville by requiring proper provisions for water disposal and the protection of soil surfaces during and after construction, in order to promote the safety, public health, convenience and general welfare of the community.

The ordinance includes (1) definitions; (2) the activities in connection with the development of land which come under the purview of the ordinance; (3) the requirements which must be met in order to obtain a permit to engage in such activities, together with the fees charged for a permit; (4) the responsibility of the holder of a permit during and following activities, which come under the purview of this ordinance; (5) the method of obtaining variances and exceptions from the provisions of this ordinance; (6) inspection and enforcement; (7) violations and penalties.

Landscape and Land Use Buffer Ordinance - Purpose: This ordinance is intended to: (1) Improve the appearance of off-street parking areas and vehicular use areas and property abutting public rights-of-way thereby reducing conditions which lead to urban blight; (2) require buffering between non-compatible land uses; (3) protect and preserve the appearance, character, and value of the surrounding neighborhoods, thereby promoting the public health, safety, and general welfare; (4) prevent soil erosion and soil depletion, thereby enriching the soil; and (5) increase soil water retention, thereby helping to prevent flooding. The public interest and peculiar characteristics of Northville justify ordinances to perpetuate the City's unique appeal.

This ordinance includes (1) Scope of application of ordinance; (2) Definitions; (3) Installation and maintenance standards; (4) Quality and type of landscaping materials; (5) Specific requirements for lands adjacent to public rights-of-way, for buffer landscaping and for off-street parking and vehicular use areas; (6) Provisions for granting variances; and (7) Provisions describing sites affected by this ordinance.

Complete copies of these ordinances are on file with the City Clerk and are available for inspection and review by any interested parties.

Effective Date: October 21, 1973

Police Blotter: Man Caught During House Break-In

In Township

A 25-year-old Garden City man has been charged with breaking and entering an occupied dwelling after police saw the man coming out of the house and found items allegedly stolen from the house in the man's truck.

Arrested Friday for breaking into the home at 16170 Franklin Road was John Patrick Stone. He stood mute and is free on $10,000 bond. Examination will be held Monday in 35th District Court.

According to reports, township police saw a pickup truck parked across the road from the home about 7:15 Thursday morning in dense fog.

Police said names on cleaning tags on carpets and a camera in back of the truck matched and were recognized by officers as those of the owners of the house.

Stone, who was apprehended as he left the home and approached the truck, told police he had been given permission to remove the items, police reports said. Police said a check with the owners, who were not home at the time of the theft, revealed he did not have permission.

Recovered from the truck were cameras and camera equipment, three carpets, stereo equipment, slide projector, antenna rotor, tapes, projection screen, drill, typewriter and a birth certificate.

Police said a pry bar, allegedly used to enter the home, was recovered at the scene.

Unknown persons removed approximately 2,000 red building bricks from the same house on Franklin Road sometime between October 2 and October 9. Value of the bricks was placed between $250 and $300, police said.

Am-fm tape decks were removed from four cars parked in driveways on Winchester, Ladywood and Sutters Lane.

Police said all the cars were 1974 models and were broken into sometime between last week Wednesday and last week Thursday during heavy fog.

Each of the tape decks was valued at $250.

Windshield of a car parked at 50495 Six Mile Road was shattered with rocks. The incident took place between 2

COURT NEWS

Two persons have each been placed on three years' probation after they pled guilty to charges of robbery unarmed.

Raymond Dankin Hodge and Fernando Sergio Davila, both of Detroit, were sentenced in Wayne County Circuit Court last Thursday.

Both were arrested by township police in August and charged with the July 26 armed robbery of a youth in Cass Benton Park. The original charge was dismissed after Hodge and Davila pled guilty to the charge of robbery unarmed.

In Wixom

A breaking and entering of a construction trailer located at 31271 Thornwood netted thieves merchandise valued at $340.

According to police reports, the trailer was broken into some time between 6 p.m. on Sunday, October 7, and 7:30 a.m. the following day.

After prying open the door, thieves removed a pay phone owned by Michigan Bell and a tape recorder.

Police are investigating the theft of a purse which resulted in the subsequent theft of more than $100.

On Friday, October 5, a young woman called police to report that she had lost her purse in the area of the parking lot of the Indian Lodge Apartments on Pontiac Trail.

Officers were dispatched to the scene but were unable to find the purse due to darkness.

The purse was returned the following day by a man who said he found it with its contents scattered over the ground along Potter Road.

The woman was summoned. She informed police of the loss of the money after examining the contents of the purse.

Also under investigation is an apparent breaking and entering of a residence at 1532 Nightengale.

The break in was reported by neighbors who called police after observing the rear door standing open. Investigating officers discovered that entrance had been gained by breaking a window.

home, was a small radio valued at approximately $12.

A spinning wheel was stolen from the front porch of a residence at 3211 West Maple Road.

Police are investigating a report that campaign signs for one of the mayoral candidates in the upcoming Wixom election are being torn down.

A man called police to report that the "Bring Back Mack" signs he had distributed along Orland, Hopkins, Lakeridge, and Beck Roads have been torn down. Each sign costs roughly $1.50, said the complainant.

In Northville

A break-in and two vandalism complaints were among cases investigated by city police during the past week.

Under investigation is the break-in of a garage at 231 North Rogers Street in which a sander, drill and power screwdriver, valued at $114, were taken.

According to police, unknown persons broke into the garage by removing plaster board and metal sheeting from a boarded up window.

The theft was reported early Saturday afternoon.

Rocks thrown through picture windows Sunday evening caused an estimated $240 worth of damage at two separate locations.

Windows were broken in a home on Novi Street and in a home on Rayson. Both were reported between 8:30 and 8:40 p.m.

COURT NEWS

Philip A. Phillips of 660 Horton was sentenced to 60 days in Detroit House of Correction and placed on two years' probation after pleading guilty to an added charge of attempted use and addition of heroin.

Sentencing took place recently in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Phillips was arrested by city police November 1, 1972, and charged with possession of heroin. That charge was dismissed after he pled guilty to the added charge.

A Northville woman was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court to appear next Thursday on charges of delivery of barbituric acid.

Evelyn Bagdon Richardson of 519 Fairbrook was bound over to face the charge after examination was held last Thursday in 35th District Court.

She was arrested by city police on September 24.

Hal Travis Hoag of 164 East Cady Street waived examination in 35th District Court last Thursday and will face charges in Wayne County Circuit Court of delivery of phenylclidine.

Arrested by city police October 1, he will appear in circuit court next Thursday.

In Novi

Police have strong evidence to support a theory that the same individuals were responsible for at least two breaking and enterings of residences in the Novi area last week.

Items stolen from one residence were later recovered by police as they were investigating the break-in of a second home. Police theorize that the same men stole the articles from the first house and were then forced to leave them at the second location when they were suddenly interrupted.

The incident took place on October 10 when police were dispatched to a residence at 38835 Grand River with a report of a robbery in progress.

When they arrived they were greeted by a man who reported that he had arrived home and discovered two men carrying things from the house and putting them in their car.

As soon as the two men spotted his arrival, the man told police, they jumped in their car and sped off.

The man went on to report that the thieves had removed two shotguns, a vacuum cleaner, a movie camera, a portable television set, and several other items from his home before being frightened off.

Police recovered several items from the lawn of the Grand River residence which were later found to have been stolen during a break-in of a residence at 41390 11 Mile Road.

The owners of the 11 Mile Road residence estimated that more than $500 worth of items was stolen from their home.

Among the stolen merchandise was a television set, an AM-FM radio, a movie projector, a stereo system, and two shot guns.

A break-in of a residence at 2205 Novi Road on October 8 netted thieves an estimated $115 worth of goods.

A $200 23-channel radio was reportedly stolen from a truck parked in the driveway of a residence at 45182 Galway last week.

Victim of the theft told investigation officers that the radio had been stolen from the truck sometime during the night.

Approximately $100 worth of beer, cigarettes, and change was stolen from the Lakeview Grocery at 2206 Novi Road.

The theft was discovered by officers at 3 a.m. on October 10 when they observed one of the doors to the building standing open and decided to investigate further.

Police indicated that they have several leads in the case.

A Novi police officer suffered minor bruises when he attempted to break up a fight at the Novi High School football game on Friday, October 5.

Observing a fight on the east side of the field, the officer stepped between the two prime combatants. He was subsequently struck from behind and then knocked to the ground by the crowd of approximately 20-25 individuals.

cessfully removed one of the protagonists from the scene.

A centrifugal water pump and a 50 foot discharge hose were reportedly stolen from a construction trailer sometime between October 5 and October 8.

Value of the stolen items was estimated at $130.

The construction trailer was located at 45355 Byrne.

Plan Tests For College

College entrance test will be given at Northville High School on Tuesday, October 23.

The counseling department said the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT-NMSQT) will aid students in assessing their ability to do college work.

"It can help students evaluate their plans for college and also give them a good idea of what to expect when they take the college Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) which many colleges require of their applicants," Mrs. Alta Olson, high school counselor, explained.

The PSAT-NMSQT is the first step necessary to be considered for scholarships given by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Cost of the test is $2.50, Mrs. Olson said, and juniors can sign up to take the test in the counseling office.

Other dates of interest for students planning on attending college include tomorrow, Friday, when a representative from Kalamazoo College will be at the school, beginning at noon. The ACT test will be given to students on Saturday, October 20.

What is a mortgage? It consists of two legal documents, signed by the borrower. The first pledges the property being bought as security for borrowed funds. The second part is the bond or note, which is your promise as a borrower to repay borrowed funds in the prescribed period of time and at the prescribed rate of interest. Therefore, when you sign a mortgage, you have both pledged your property as security, and promised to repay the amount borrowed.

participating. Deanna Haney took second and Brigitte Nissen third in this event. Even Tim Mackey couldn't catch Leslie but his jump of 9'6 1/2" was enough for the gold. Ed Kent came in second followed by Kevin Kimmel.

In the sixth grades, Darla Ray came out with the gold with her jump of 8'9". One inch behind was Georgia McDermott with Sandy Glenn taking third. John McCormick's leap of 10'8 1/2" was the longest of the day. David Burger took another medal with a second place finish and Bucky Trombley took home another with a third place mark.

The games ended none too early. It seemed the clouds waited just long enough before letting loose with a downpour.

Who are Wixom's Decathlon champs this year? Well it looks as though second graders Laurie Haight and Geof Bissell captured the crown for the lower grades with their showing of all first place medals.

In the upper grades it's Sandy Glenn and Charles Bissell. Sandy took three first and two thirds while Charlie gathered up all the gold. Their names will be inscribed on permanent plaques held by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Congratulations to all the winners and to all the kids who participated. Good show!

Leadership Day

An all-day leadership training course will be conducted by the Northville Lloyd H. Green American Legion Auxiliary Unit 147 beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, October 27 at the legion hall.

The program will focus upon ways to put new life into organizations, how to attract new members, ideas to make meetings more interesting and necessity of working harder on member attitudes. Mrs. Joan G. Fisher, auxiliary president, stresses that the points "are vitally important to the success of an organization."

Upon completion of the course members are eligible to purchase a leadership training pin.

Reservations for the course are being taken through October 25 by Mrs. Fisher, 349-0994, or Mrs. Carolyn Pohlman, secretary, 474-7048.

The course, Mrs. Fisher points out, is for new members or any members who have not had leadership development training.

Our Fall Fashion Profile

IN THIS ISSUE: LOOK AT THE STORIES ... LOOK AT THE ADS ... FOR THE LATEST FALL FASHIONS

Changing fashion? A lot of it has to do with controlled silhouettes, this fall -- never structured, always supple.

There's a slimness and a sleekness to the clothes that's completely contemporary ... yet with a definite sense of elegance and glamour. Silhouettes are fluid, liquid, luxurious.

Control is the key.

With the eye focusing on top width, there's a necessity for balance through a slightly longer, leaner skirt ... juxtapositioned, however, but in the same easy motif with a tent or obelisque shaping. Essentially, fluidity with just enough control to give a slight body definition.

There is also a division of dressing this fall. With the time change of day into evening, a woman moves from casual easy clothing into a mood of siren glamour, sleek and beautiful.

The styles on a whole are sleek and upbeat yet merged with excitement and aristocratic glamour.

THE DRESS

Destined for great things, this fall, the dress is strategically engaged in matching line with softness to achieve a romantic sensuousness that reflects itself specifically in:

- The outer shirt and tunic
- The Oval top...long and over the derriere
- The "Big Top" shirt
- The "Double Agent" -- a super shirt dress that doubles as a coat.
- The "Skinny" wrap
- The "Sweater" dress
- The "Oblique" -- easy on the architecture with flowing lines.
- The "Column", clean in line, barely brushing the body.

THE SUIT

Superbly simple, with the focus on the supple tailoring and impact details.

- The quilted jacket suit
- The fur-trimmed jacket suit
- The sweater suit
- The restaurant suit
- The "duster" jacket suit

- COATS
- The sweater coat
- The Balmacan (with raglan sleeves and a wider silhouette)

SPORTY WEAR

Sportswear today has changed from the hard, tailored look to a spirit of elegance, softness and luxury. It's not layers of patterns that play against one another ... but a harmony of colors -- and a blending of sweaters, jackets and pants in a simple, uncluttered manner.

This fall, fabric, color and simplicity are combined to design the sportswear idiom to new fashion heights. The mood of the clothes is subtle, elegant, simplistic. It's almost a dressmaker-type look.

Name the Gnome And Win A Prize

One hundred and six years is a mighty long time! That's how long Vernor's Gnome has guarded Vernor's secret formula -- the reason Vernor's is "the different soft drink." But the Gnome's lonely vigil, deep in his secret cave, has its drawbacks. He was just too busy to take himself a name. And after all, even a Gnome ought to have a name.

So, Vernor's is bringing the Gnome, complete with his Gnomemobile, his wooden side-kick "Okie," two lively Gnome-maids, and a plentiful supply of Vernors to Livonia Mall, 7 Mile at Middlebelt, October 20.

There Livonia Mall customers will have their chance to "Name the Gnome" and possibly win themselves one of dozens of prizes, ranging from a first prize of a free, five-day, all expenses paid trip to Disney World in Florida for three people; ten 10-speed bikes; 20 "Mod" AM-FM radios and hundreds of "Try Me, I'm Different" T-shirts.

While figuring out a name for the Gnome enjoy the Gnome and his side-kick "Okie" in a hilarious ten-minute skit, and taste some of their delicious soft drinks, all free of course.

Got a name for the Gnome?

HAPPY 9th ANNIVERSARY LIVONIA MALL

Eleven years ago Livonia Mall was a flat piece of farm land and an idea of two developers, Jack Shenkman and George Klein. Today, after 9 years of continuous service, it is a hustling, bustling metropolis on its own, located on the corner of 7 Mile Road at Middlebelt.

Anchored by Sears and Crowleys Department stores and with 50 other stores and services that boast the collective know-how of managers geared after 9 years to the needs of their customers.

This month the Mall, where "Something is Always Happening" is celebrating its 9th anniversary. The festivities include a wide selection of entertainment and giveaways with the idea of having something for everyone.

FUN IN THE SUN

At the head of the list, and for the heads of the households, there will be a trip for two to the Bahamas given away. The lucky winners will fly via Eastern Whisperjet to the Islands and stay at any hotel of their choice on Nassau or Paradise Island for 5 days and 4 nights. There will even be $99.99 cash toward meals. While registering at the booth in the Mall it will be possible to see movies of this island paradise, all free of course, and all courtesy of Livonia Mall, Glynn Travel Service, Eastern Airlines and Bahama Tourist Board.

For the children, and many adults, the Mall is presenting direct from Hollywood Lisa Marshall and her "Hip Squeak" puppets performing the "Wizard of Oz." The show is so great even the stage gets into the act -- it's one of a kind and should be on everyone's list who has small children. As with most shows at the Mall there is no charge. Performances will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 18, 19, 20.

Another lively feature, and another first for the greater Metropolitan Detroit area will be roller skating demonstrations, Thursday and Friday evenings and all day Saturday and Sunday. National amateur roller skating champions plus many other talented local skaters will demonstrate their skills in dancing, figures and free style from tiny tots to the veteran division. Find out what a truly fascinating, healthy and graceful sport this is -- and it's great for all members of the family.

NAME THE GNOME

Tying in with a Vernors regional promotion the Mall is presenting their "Name the Gnome" contest replete with a healthy 6'2" gnome (6'2"!!!), and his wooden sidekick "Okie"

Many Community Activities Hosted by Livonia Mall

Newcomers to the North-western suburban area may wonder what activities are available to them at little cost, or what clubs there are for many special interests. Livonia Mall regularly, throughout the year, hosts various clubs and organizations such as the Dog Breeders Association, the AAUW, ORT ladies, Michigan Fly Fishing Club, Amateur Photo Associations to name but a few who display their various interests and associations.

In addition the Mall regularly has a senior citizen's group meet every Wednesday in the Community Room, Weight Watchers gather there on Tuesdays and Thursdays and on Saturdays there is a Coin Show and auction. There is even an organ society meeting once a month, plus Coast Guard free small-boating classes in season. From Thanksgiving 'til Christmas the Livonia Jaycees hold luncheon with Santa every Saturday for the children -- and their parents, all in the Mall's very active community room.

Every Tuesday (except holidays) the Mall Merchants Association sponsors a customer appreciation day at the Cinema where they show a free movie, have many doorprizes and merchants hold special Tuesday only specials, all free as a thank you to their many fine customers.

WIN A TRIP FOR TWO TO THE BAHAMA ISLANDS

Let Eastern Airlines Whisperjet whisk you away to the sunny Bahama Islands for 5 glorious days and 4 nights at the hotel of your choice on Nassau or Paradise Island, courtesy of the Bahama Tourist Board, with $99.99 cash toward meals if you're the lucky winner of the vacation for two being given away at Livonia Mall during their 9th Anniversary celebration October 18-21. Colorful Puppet Show Scheduled

THE HIP SQUEAK PUPPETS, delightful creation of Lisa Marshall of Hollywood, will be performing the Wizard of Oz at Livonia Mall, 7 Mile at Middlebelt, October 18-20.

The colorful, larger than life, hand puppets have delighted children of all ages on the West Coast.

Staged on a unique setting complete with a face that moves the stage actually plays one of the characters in the "Wizard of Oz" play.

Lisa, creator and performer with her puppets is actually an actress, singer and dancer, long familiar with the theatrical field. Still a "ham" she actually plays one of the puppets so there are actually three and even four characters on the stage at the same time.

9th Birthday Brings Prizes, Big Sales

in a hilarious ten-minute skit that will be performed throughout the day on Saturday, October 20.

While enjoying the antics of the performers you'll be able to refresh yourself with some of Vernors soft drinks (free) and register to win one of dozens of prizes such as a first prize of a free, five-day, all expenses paid trip to Disney World in Florida for three people; ten 10-speed bikes; 20 "Mod" AM-FM radios and hundreds of "Try Me, I'm Different" T-Shirts.

TEENAGERS SPECIAL

And then for the teenagers, and everyone who loves those soft cuddly plush animals there's the Big 9 game. Easy to win with nothing to write, there'll be hundreds of prizes. A nominal 25 cent charge is made, but everyone will receive a prize, the luckiest getting the enormous stuffed plush toys. Really fun for everyone, you know you'll never win if you don't play.

On top of all the excitement of the shows, games and prizes all the merchants will be vying to show their thanks for your patronage over the past 9 years with extra special sale items. In fact you might say if it isn't at Livonia Mall - it isn't available anywhere.

New Footwear For Fall Feature Leather And Color

Stan Kirsch re-arranges the many new shoe styles at Fashion Shoes.

For a fashion lift, look to new leather footwear — for all the family.

Not only will sole and heel treatments raise spirits, but handsome laced looks, use of leathers and a return to simplicity will heighten everyone's interest in the shoe picture.

American leathers are versatile in appearance and workability, and sometimes combine in one style for double impact. Top finishes include smooth, suede, brushed, waxy, grained, glove and genuine patent leathers.

For women, simple leather pumps wear a contemporary air with addition of platform, sling or high-cut instep. Also around, reports Leather Industries of America, are classy spectator pumps.

New leather sandals — whether for street wear, leisure or evening — usually stress a broad-banded design with highish heel and sole treatment.

Spec-ties and other lace-ups abound for street and casual costumes in varied leathers. Another favorite is the tasseled or kiltied moccasin.

BOOTS AND DEMI BOOTS

Always "in" for winter, boots and demi-boots in lean, clean leathers often show off slim platforms or layered soles.

Demi's team with pants, while mid-calf and knee-high boots look smashing with skirts.

For sole - searchers generally — women, men, children — the exceptional assortment includes mini - platforms, thick cloggy types, stitch-downs, covered leather platforms, stacked and double soles.

Latest leather shoes for boys and girls offer a well-rounded wardrobe of styles, notes Leather Industries of America.

Footwear for play, school, sport and partying are all covered in American leathers — smooth, sueded, waxy, grained and more.

All kids like tie-shoes this fall, especially when they utilize two leathers or colors. Boys also go for manly leather ankle-boots and padded - topline ties.

And boys and girls alike still find favor with long popular saddle oxfords and moccasins.

For dress-up duty, girls are high on pretty leather sandals and pumps sporting little heels and perhaps a little platform.

IF THE SHOE FITS ...

...Properly, that is, then you can feel sure that your youngster is well on his way to sturdy stepping with healthy feet as an adult. Remember that it is not only important, but economical in the long run, to have tiny tots' shoes properly fitted. It will avoid costly podiatry bills later in life.

Expert Roller Skating Demonstrations Are Scheduled At Mall For October

More than recreation, roller skating helps develop confidence and poise along with a healthy body from the exercise. Roller skaters who will be demonstrating their skills at Livonia Mall October 18-21 will include national amateur champions as well as highly - skilled local amateurs. They will dance, and perform figures and freestyle skating.

Roller skating has become a popular sport because it offers something for everyone. The dancers can enjoy the rhythm and patterns as they express their interpretation of the music.

For those who like perfection and control the "figures" present the opportunity to a skater to develop skills at school figures. They tend to build a disciplined and confident skater, tuned-in on precision and exact movement, with a well balanced carriage and graceful motions. The theory being that a skater accomplishing all the figures can do any dance.

Speed skating is offered those who like the excitement of speed and racing. Many who race also enjoy other forms of skating, but would not miss their chance in competition.

Free style is a combination of dance and physical expression and offers the freedom from pattern and set style - self-expression is the key word.

See all forms of roller skating demonstrated at Livonia Mall with participants from tiny tots to veterans, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 18-21.

Need A Personalized Engraving? Come See Center Mall Services

Center Mall Services, the booth between United Shirt Distributors and Hughes & Hatcher, has expanded its services again. Starting last November, where they began in front of Kresge's selling lottery tickets and acting as photo finishing agents for Hite Photo, they have slowly expanded their services and acquired a very extensive line of name brand men's and ladies accessories and Timex watches.

Their latest addition has been an engraving service.

ENGRAVING...A CRAFT

In years gone by, engraving of jewelry and metal objects was a craft that required a 10 year apprenticeship and many more years of tedious labor at the bench before a person could call himself a master engraver.

Today, using Twentieth Century technology, top quality work can be done by trained personnel after a very short time. The result is that Center Mall Services can do your engraving, usually while you watch, at very modest price. In fact, they are now offering a pre-Christmas special. Any merchandise you buy there will be engraved by them at no extra charge.

Stop by and talk to Mickey, Mel, or Nancy. They will be happy to advise you on your photo problems, or even demonstrate the Twentieth Century version of the fine old art of engraving.

Trains, Road Races, Boats, Planes Make "CRAFT-Y" People Happy

Crafty people are happy people. At least there are more of them — craft lovers, that is. The increase in leisure time has caused a tremendous change in the hobbies and craft business. In a brief time the craft industry has mushroomed into a major business factor. Words like decoupage, paper tole, and candlemaking are becoming household words. Crafts that were an economic necessity in our grandparents time are merging as an extremely enjoyable pastime.

The creativity of an individual is limited only by his or her imagination. A discarded item becomes a thing of beauty and a source of pride. The current craft books enable anyone to become proficient in almost any craft they are interested in. There is a kit to cover every desire for someone who likes a complete package.

If you wish to become more deeply involved all the items can be purchased individually at Fletcher's Hobbycrafts store in the Mall. What once was a small paint-by-number section now covers 1,500 sq. ft. of our store. We now carry thousands of items to satisfy the ever changing popularity of crafts.

While the craft industry is growing by leaps and bounds, the hobby industry is going through the same expansion. Trains, road race, boats, cars, planes, ready-to-fly gas powered planes and cars are becoming bigger and better every day. There is literally a kit for every interest.

Trains have become so popular the demand exceeds the supply. H'O' Road race continues to grow every year with the adult interest as strong as the children. Planes from R/C, to control line, to free flight are still top sellers.

How About A Sports Vacation This Year?

The latest in vacation packages is the new Sports package being offered by Eastern Airlines this fall. There are short vacations and even week-long ones. In addition to the featured sports facilities, all resorts selected by Eastern offer excellent swimming, other water sports, interesting sightseeing in the surrounding area and full social programs for all ages.

All tours include room with bath (double occupancy) and most provide breakfast and dinner (MAP plan) as well as the special sports features. For example Eastern will fly you to the Bahamas where you can enjoy golf, sailing, tennis or snorkeling for as little as around $36 for four days and three nights to a full week for about $181 per person, in the sumptuous Holiday Inn, both plus airfare.

They have sports packages set to please anyone from the beginner to the professional. Other sports packages are also available to other areas. Glynn Travel, Livonia Mall, is always ready to help custom select the vacation best suited to your needs.

Of course, if you are looking for bargains in a Bahamian vacation, go no further than the Bahama Tourist Board office, 26400 Lahser, Suite 412, Southfield, or even just call the Nassau, Paradise Island Promotion Board at 353-8954, they'll be happy to help.

A Sportsman's Delight... That's Sports World

After 22 years of marketing sporting goods equipment, Ben Siegel, owner of Sports World Inc., in the Livonia Mall, has, as his motto says "Everything for the sportsman."

Siegel has squeezed at least 20 different categories of athletic equipment into his 1,600 square foot shop; and almost all of it is brand name merchandise.

Being a Livonia based operation, the store caters to the needs of the surrounding communities. During the summer much of the store is taken up with baseball supplies for both Little Leagues and adult softball.

A Livonia Hockey Booster, the

Perhaps the biggest sign of success for the store is the acquisition of the Adidas line of European-made custom athletic shoes and accessories.

"We were very gratified when Adidas picked us to represent them in Livonia," Siegel says. He points out that the store carries over 20 different styles from size four to 14.

The Adidas line has a special shoe for each sport. The shoe is so versatile that the store even stocks a style developed for runners to practice the steeple-chase, an Olympic games event.

The Adidas shoe features com-store in all seasons of the year is stocked with hockey equipment. Much of the equipment is made of famous brands such as Cooper, Northland, Bauer, and Koho.

Football and soccer season is here, so the shop is in the midst of a brisk business featuring winter varsity sports. Siegel says that more and more equipment comes in each day.

Spaulding, Wilson, and Rawlings brand materials are carried in baseball, football, tennis, badminton, and golf. MacGregor products are also available.

AMF Voit guaranteed water sports products are also a prominent name on the list of top brand merchandise. Swimsuits sold in the store are nylon racing-styled and made by Ocean Pool.

Physical education and basketball gear for use in the gym are being carried throughout the year.

Bowling equipment is a very popular item. Siegel mentioned that a customer can be fitted with a ball and he can have it ready in hours if need be. Sports World carries Brunswick and AMF along with some other brands of bowling items.

A SKI SALE

The store is currently running a pre-season sale on ski equipment.

Head, Hart, and Fischer skis are marked down as much as 30 per cent.

BOW TIES REVISITED: In tracing the history of the bow tie, fashion authorities may disagree as to its origin, but they have found it stretches back centuries. Some go with the story that gentlemen of the mid-seventeenth century were tired of the high, scratchy lace collars and ruffs and turned to more comfortable neckwear. They wrapped a piece of white linen around their necks and let the ends dangle from a knot tied under their chin. Gradually, the ends got shorter and shorter until the only thing remaining was a knot and very short ends.

If that brand of shoe isn't enough, then you can take your pick of Converse or Puma brands. Both shoes run in various sizes and styles.

Quite a bit for a small store, isn't it?

But that's the only way Siegel would have it.

STRESSING PERSONAL SERVICE

"We stress personal service," he explains. "Everybody that works here is familiar with the store, experienced in athletics, and therefore better qualified to help a person find what he needs."

"For the past 20 years I've noticed that people have more leisure time, therefore they can do more of the sports they wanted."

"Recently I've seen that tennis and paddleball are the biggest growing sports in the area," he says of popularity trends.

And wouldn't you know it?

Fashion Trivia ---- Some Helpful Hints on What To Wear

PLAIDS/TARTANS/CLANS: A note of fashion explanation for those men who will be wading through plaids this fall as they build their wardrobe. "Tartan" is the fabric, "laid" is the design - to clarify these two confusing terms. Scottish family clans each have their own tartans: a chief tartan, a dress tartan, a hunting tartan, and a mourning tartan. Today, the fabric is woven in blends and synthetics.

THE LONG & SHORT OF IT: With all the baggie, cuffed styles in men's pants for the fall, it, no doubt becomes a problem deciding the proper length to make them. As a general guideline, you are advised that trousers should break slightly in front. But be careful. Pants that break too much cause a bulgy, bulky, unattractive look. Those that are too short, however, look like hand-me-downs.

HIS BETTER HALF: Women really do have a say in what men wear. In a survey done by the Knitted Textile Association it was projected that women will buy 33% of all men's wear, 54% of it in knits. Men will buy 67% of their own clothes with 50% in knits.

DUSTY: Where did the word "Khaki" come from? With a great deal of men's apparel being fashioned from this material, its origin makes an interesting story. Most men would probably think of their army uniforms - that's close. Actually, "khaki" is the Hindu word for "dusty," which originally described the stout brownish cotton cloth used in uniforms for the Anglo-Indian Army.

GOLD VS. SILVER: In this day and age of skyrocketing gold prices, it's nice to know that men's gold and silver jewelry are interchangeable with outfits. However, the Men's Fashion Association points out that gold looks better with brown and green shades while silver is especially good with grey, black and blue.

HANKIES - A FAUX PAS: Would you believe that men's handkerchiefs were once considered "out" in polite society? Well, during the days of the Napoleonic Era, it was considered bad form to even mention a handkerchief, much less to carry one. The only way to do that, was to tuck it in a pocket or up a sleeve where it was completely out of sight.

The Style Conscious Male Puts It All Together

"If the shoe fits, wear it!" may still be an applicable and timely phrase in many situations, but not when it comes to the way a man dresses today, according to the Men's Fashion Association. With the stronger trend toward "pulling it all together" and leaving behind the haphazard, "anything goes" school, a man will have to use some judgment and discernment in choosing his wardrobe.

How a garment fits is, of course, as important as ever; but, in a season when the general cut of clothes is relatively stable, such things as fabric, color, texture -- and most of all -- how it is put together -- are very important.

When buying his fall-winter wardrobe this year, a man will hear frequent reference to shetlands, saxonies, tweeds, flannels, camel hairs, corduroys, textured polyesters, double-knits and warp knits. Here's what they're all about:

THE SHETLAND

A shetland is a tweed-like fabric woven from the wool of shetland sheep. They are softer and more luxurious than ordinary tweeds and a bit more perishable, too.

The original saxony cloth took its name from the German region in which it was woven. It was first woven from a blend of wool and worsted yarns and it is very adaptable to pattern-work such as plaids and checks.

Tweeds are woven of tough, coarse, woolen yarns and originated in Scotland and Ireland. They are made in many weaves and many patterns ranging from plain Donegals and herringbones to bold plaids and checks. Tweeds are very adaptable to color (their soft surface "nap" tends to blend bright shades) and they are used in suits, sport coats and topcoats.

Flannels in their simplest form are a plain twill weave of either fine spun wool or worsted and they are "finished" with a soft surface nap. Others may be in stripes, checks and plaids. Once thought of as a sporting or casual fabric, flannels are now worn for business and dressier occasions. Their most usual use is for suits, blazers and slacks.

CAMEL HAIR

Camel hair is, obviously, the wool of the camel and it is, most often found in plain weaves although sometimes in both twills and herringbones. The usual use of camel hair is in topcoats and sport coats, and, its usual color is one of the typical tans.

Corduroy was originally a cotton fabric but now it is made of man-made fibers, too. It is a plush cloth in which the ribs or cords are cut after weaving. French in origin, its name was "corde du roi," or "cord of kings."

Texturized polyesters are man-made yarns with a built-in stretch factor. They can be either woven or knitted to simulate a number of wool and worsted fabrics; and they have become very popular because of their durability and the fact that they cost much less than the currently high priced natural fibers.

Double-knits, either of 100% polyester or of polyester blended with natural fibers, are produced on machines that actually knit two surfaces that are locked together in the knitting. They have recoverable stretch, almost total wrinkle resistance and are known for holding their press.

Warp knits and single-knits are less bulky than double-knits and (like double-knits) can either carry self-knitted patterns or can be woven plain, then patterned with sublimatic prints that are similar to decals.

THE MOST BASIC ELEMENT IN A MAN'S WARDROBE is the Blazer according to the Men's Fashion Association. Single or double-breasted, it is adaptable to casual, dressy and even formal looks. This double-breasted blazer in a bold box plaid of red, green, yellow and navy wool twill is detailed with crest buttons and slanted flapped pockets. It is worn here with a burgundy bow tie, complemented by a self-patterned, white shirt and green flannel slacks. The Press Preview was held June 14-17 in Spring Lake, New Jersey. (Photographed in Surrey, England)

FALL COLORS

Fall colors this year are just that -- fall colors! They are the warm, earthy tones such as camel, tans, browns, darker greens; rusts, oatmeals with accents of deep yellow, burgundy and gray. There is a lush look about the colors and fabrics this fall -- none of the flat, smooth look of some years ago.

The Man On The Move Looks At More Than Just The Fit

While the size of a man's wardrobe is important, even one of modest size can be made to work better for its wearer if it is wisely chosen as to colors, patterns and fabrics. Take colors, for instance. A man with a ruddy complexion is lucky because he can wear any color he pleases. On the other hand, one with a pale or sallow complexion should avoid greens, light grays, blue-greens and dark browns. He will look much better in blues, warm tans, reds, medium to dark grays fabrics with soft-tone mixtures.

A very tall slender man should avoid closely spaced pronounced stripes in his pattern choices but he can wear plaids, checks and plain colors to great advantage. The short stout man should shun the very bold oversized plaids, but he can wear stripes to good advantage as well as small checks and plaids and medium to dark solid colors. The man of average build can wear just about any pattern, but stripes will make him look taller and very bold plaids have a tendency to "cut him down."

If he travels a lot, he will want to take advantage of the wrinkle-free knits that hold their press and the comfortable stretch of the new texturized woven polyesters.

The man whose social and business activities call for the frequent use of formal wear may, if his tastes are on the conservative side, buy a classic black or midnight blue dinner jacket to which he can add a dash of color via his formal shirt and bow tie.

On the other hand, if his taste is contemporary, he may want to rent one of the several new tuxedos or semi-tailcoats, many of which are accented with imaginative trims and in a host of colors and patterns. Regardless of his style preferences, if his need for formal wear is a sometime thing, he will find it more economical to rent it.

READY TO WEAR

The American know-how has mastered the art of ready-to-wear, and certainly the American man can be very well-dressed without going beyond his own borders. He has now become accustomed to a great variety to choose from, and has learned how to dress comfortably in keeping with his way of life.

Now that fashion is more classic, it is the perfect time to begin to build a wardrobe. If a man plans carefully and is aware of fashion and his needs, he can maintain a wardrobe - replacing or adding when necessary - and always be well-dressed.

Take Heart All Short Haired Men. Your Hair Style Is Coming Back

Is short hair coming back into style?

Nick Gulyas, owner of the Livonia Mall Barber shop for the past 30 years seems to think so.

The east and west coasts of the country usually are two years ahead of Michigan with introducing new styles, and the shorter styles have already been in existence for over a year now. Only about 15% of Nick's customers ask for their hair cut below their ears. Another 35% of the male customers still prefer to have their hair touching their ears, and about half of all the children and adults have the hair cut either above the ears or in a style that allows them to comb their hair over the ears.

After hiding for such a long time, the ears are becoming exposed again. Hopefully, hearing will be improved.

A NEW DIMENSION

Barbers are doing more and more besides just cutting hair. They are into acid-balanced and organic shampoos, hair conditioners, moisturizing creme, and acid-balanced hair sprays, which are used and recommended in the Mall Shop. The sales of hair care products have tripled since a year ago.

SOME POPULAR STYLES

Some of the popular cuts are called "Shag." The layer cut, and the radial cut. These cuts are styled shorter on the top, which adds body. This gives a fuller look and can be parted on either side, or in the center. It can also easily be put into place by simply running the fingers through it.

A REMODELED BARBER SHOP

During March the shop was remodeled from one styling place to five. A reception room has also been added, plus a pony chair for the small children with a safety seat.

The greatest satisfaction of barbering, says Nick, comes when a customer; lady, man or child, has hair styled, shaped, combed neatly in place, changing their appearance, which makes us all feel better.

A WHITE polyester wool knit dress with a shirt collar and a plunging shirt neck with a scarf . . . a bias flared skirt and patch pockets. That's style.
