COPIES OF Northville Public School's proposed $4.5 million budget will be available for public review beginning Monday. Copies may be obtained at the board of education offices, 303 West Main Street. Public hearing is scheduled for Monday, November 12, at 8:30 p.m. in the board offices.

LEGAL REMINDER for residents of the Bradner Road area in Northville township where mailing addresses were recently changed by citizen petition from Plymouth to Northville - all legal documents should be updated to reflect the change, including drivers' licenses, etc. "Treat it just like you've moved to a new address," township attorney Donald Morgan suggested. Meanwhile, mail which still carried the Plymouth address is being forwarded to Northville and deliveries are running about a day late, post office spokesmen said.

NEXT WEEK'S election time but it also marks the opening of the Jackson-at-Northville harness race meet at Northville Downs. Racing begins Monday and continues through December 31.

PRELIMINARY APPROVAL for a new single family development was granted Smokler & Company for 112 lots southwest of Bradner and Franklin roads by Northville Township Planning Commission at its meeting Tuesday. Favorable consideration was given the preliminary plat with provision that a water main easement be extended westerly and a walk-way be provided for school children. Engineer William Mosher and consultant George Vilcan called the proposed development a "well conceived treatment of a difficult area".

THE RECORD will provide election results next Tuesday night as soon after the tally is completed by election officials. Persons wishing information about any of the races in Northville, Novi or Wixom may call this office after 10 p.m. Tuesday — 349-1700.

Seven Seek Two Seats On City Council Tuesday

Seven candidates, one of them an incumbent, will battle for two seats on the Northville City Council in Tuesday's biennial election. But the city's top elected post is uncontested as Incumbent Mayor A. Malcolm Allen enters his second quarter century of membership on the Northville council.

Unopposed, Allen is a shoo-in to win an unprecedented eighth term as mayor. With 3,050 persons registered to cast ballots, voters will pick two councilmen for four-year terms from this slate of seven: Incumbent Paul Folino, Wesley R. Henrikson, Allen C. Ingle, W. Wallace Nichols, Lawrence W. Sheehan, Gerald N. Stone, and Eugene R. Wagner. Aside from Folino, Nichols is the only other council candidate who previously served on the council. Presently, a veteran member of the planning commission, he served for more than four years before losing a bid for re-election by two votes in 1971.

Nichols was nosed out by Councilman Paul Vernon in that election. Folino won his first four year term in 1969. He had been an unsuccessful candidate for the office two years earlier. In winning in 1969, Folino took a council seat along with Kenneth Rathert, who decided not to seek re-election this year.

Council candidate Stone, a Northville businessman for several years, is a member of the Northville Board of Appeals and a director and past president of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

Sheehan, Henrikson and Wagner also are Northville businessmen—all of whom have businesses on Main Street. They are making their first bids for elective office here.

Wagner is owner of one of the businesses located in the about-to-open Northville Square Shopping Center, Sheehan owns Little Caesars Pizza Treat, and Henrikson owns Henrikson Agency, Inc.

Ingle, an attorney for 24 years, is a former judge for the city and township of Farmington.

Mayor Allen was first elected in 1958 after having served 10 years as village and city councilman. He has served longer as mayor than any person in the 150 years since Northville's first settlers took up land.

A Shoo-in

Unopposed for re-election, Mayor A. M. Allen is a shoo-in when voters go to the polls here Tuesday to elect a mayor and two councilmen.

Candidates Speak

Let's unify the city and township, but don't give us any more multiples.

That appeared to be the consensus of Northville city council candidates as they addressed themselves to questions posed by the Northville Jaycees during a public forum last week.

With only a handful of citizens present to hear them speak at the city hall, one of the candidates spoke against unification, another said unification "will never happen," and the remaining candidates strongly endorsed the concept—even though it is not an issue in this election.

Of the seven council candidates only Gerald Stone was unable to attend.

When asked for his opinion, Eugene R. Wagner said that while it might be politically expedient to voice support of unification he could not do so because, in his opinion, uniting the two governments would not benefit the city.

Unification, contended

Wagner, would be financially beneficial for the township but not for the city because the city already provides improvements and services (sidewalks, paved streets, garbage pickup, etc.) not now provided in the township. Not until the two municipalities have a more equal balance of these services would unification be mutually beneficial, he said.

Concerning the matter of additional multiples in Northville, Wagner said he is "100-percent against (them) in the city."

Comments of other candidates concerning these two topics:

Paul Folino—Supported and voted for unification in the election earlier this year and if the issue comes up again he will "work harder" for its passage.

Classroom children generated by multiples create a burden on the school system, yet the tax base represented by such housing is insufficient to offset the cost of additionally needed classrooms.

Wesley Henrikson—Supported unification in the past and will do so again in the future. Cost of the public safety department currently being considered in the township represents about the

Planners Firm On City Zoning

If any substantive change is to be made in the proposed new zoning ordinance it probably will be made by the city council.

At least that appeared likely as planners and city councilmen reviewed the proposed plan, suggested by the planning commission, in a joint meeting Monday night.

Two and perhaps more major points of disagreement over the plan remain unresolved: northern boundary for commercial zoning on North Center Street, and a two-block residential area along South Main Street. Planners want the northern commercial boundary to stop at Chatham supermarket on North Center, and they propose leaving the two-block area between Beal and Gardner streets with a residential zoning.

Some councilmen, on the other hand, want the northern Center Street commercial boundary moved north three lots to Walnut Street, and they would like to see the two-block area along South Main

Township Planners Study Master Plan

A special study meeting to consider the new zoning ordinance-and-map and the future land use plan for Northville Township was set for 7:30 p.m. Monday, November 5, by the Northville Township Planning Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday.

At that time the commission agreed also to take up "point by point" proposed changes and rezoning requests made by citizens at public hearings last month and in letters to the commission. It was agreed that the public hearing dates would constitute the cut-off time for consideration of individuals' request.

It was pointed out by Chairman James Nowka that, even with the cut-off date, the commission will have "some 20 items" to consider.

Two mobile home developments, which have received legal go-ahead through court action, also came under close survey at the meeting.

Mobilife Estates, which obtained a court consent judgment August 16 to construct a mobile home park with 600 lots on 100.7 acres at Six Mile and Ridge roads, presented the architect's plan showing the appendage of 8.7 acres to be used for temporary sales display and office at the entrance.

Architect Thomas J. Ziska and developer representatives told the commission that when the park is fully developed the area would be used for parking and the sales office for a child care center. Consultant George Vilcan objected to reducing the limited industrial base the township now has (in the new zoning and land use maps the present residential (R-3) classification is changed to industrial) and suggested the park entrance be through the area zoned multiple.

Because the commission was under injunction, its attorney suggested that the architect ask for a con-

College Opposes Township Rezoning

Northville Township's proposed new zoning map-ordinance picked up some added opposition this past week as the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees went on record as opposing rezoning Haggerty Road property.

Specifically, the college resolution opposes "research and development" zoning for the land, presently zoned R-4, from Hawthorn Center south to Five Mile Road.

College trustees contend the R&D zoning, as suggested by the township planners, would not be compatible with the college nor with the general area surrounding the college

The college position is consistent with its stand taken in May of 1969 when an industrial zoning for the area in question was being considered. Reaffirmation of its 1969 position came in response to a request from Tom Murdock, a resident in the area and spokesman for private homeowners who also oppose R&D zoning.

Planners, who already have held their public hearing on the proposed new ordinance, have not yet made a recommendation to the township board, which must make the final decision following still another public hearing.

NORTHVILLE SQUARE—Landscaping of Northville Square was completed this week and interior work on several stores in the downtown center neared completion.

Although the Square won't officially open until later this month, two or three stores may open for business within the next week or so, it was learned.

Travels, Homebuilding Keep Teacher Busy

By JEAN DAY

Mrs. F. A. Shaw, 52905 Nine Mile Road, was one of about 200 alumnae spending three days as a representative at Smith College's Alumnae Council in Northampton, Massachusetts.

Each year representatives are invited to visit the campus, attend classes and hear reports from faculty and administration. This year's theme was "Smith and After". A highlight was a tour of the Fine Arts Center, housing the college museum of art, department of art and the art library.

Northville's family clothes closet which supplies clothes to needy infants, children and adults of the area will continue to be open from 7 to 8 p.m. Wednesday nights at the Cooke Annex on Main Street for intake. Anyone needing clothes, however, is asked to contact the schools, clergy or FISH organization for an appointment.

An important business meeting of Mizpah Circle, King's Daughters, is scheduled for 2 p.m. Tuesday, November 6, at the home of Mrs. K.H. Babbitt, 306 South Rogers. Members are especially asked to attend as future plans are to be made.

Science workshop will highlight the meeting tonight (Thursday) of the Northville Cooperative Nursery. The meeting which begins at 8 p.m., will be held at the Scout-Recreation Building.

The workshop will follow the general meeting of the group, spokesmen explained. Conducting the workshop will be Mrs. Wallace Fee, nursery school teacher in Rosedale Park Cooperative Nursery, Detroit.

HOMEOWNER PAT BUBEL—Northville High School gym teacher Pat Bubel, with her dog, Buff, looks over her apple orchard from the deck of her Salem Township home. Besides teaching and proving that a single woman can build a home, Miss — or Ms. — Bubel also is an enthusiastic traveler. She will speak on her European travels at Northville Woman's Club Friday.

Lessons Feature Foreign Foods

Madame Charity Suczek, the gourmet cooking instructor who believes "every meal should be a banquet," is giving a series of lectures on nationality foods Monday mornings at The Eves Forum, 137 East Main, above the P & A Theatre.

Leading off the series last Monday was a lesson in preparing an Italian dish, "Fondula Piemontese," created with Italian cheese from Aosta. Afterward her audience of local housewives, many of whom had heard Madame Suczek last April when she appeared at the Tri-Club brunch given by the Northville branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, sampled enthusiastically the fondue on crisp chunks of bread.

Madame Suczek studied at the Cordon Bleu and at the Academy of Domestic Sciences in Vienna but did not begin her professional cooking and lecturing career until after her husband's death in 1957. She has been seen and heard on television and radio as well as on the lecture circuit.

It was as a result of her appearance here last spring (when she showed area women how to prepare chicken soaked in lemon juice) that the 10:30 a.m. Monday demonstrations were scheduled by Nancy van Buren and Fran DeMott, owners of The Eves Forum. Next Monday's demonstration will be on Hungarian food with Russian, Chinese and French to follow if there is demand. Any interested women may make reservation to attend one or all of the cooking sessions. Each

AN APPLE ORCHARD—extending over three acres—is the setting for the home Miss Pat Bubel, Northville High School physical education department chairman, has planned and had built.

For 16 years Miss Bubel has been known to parents as the girls' gym teacher. This fall she was leader in teacher negotiations in the Northville system, and many parents also know that she has been an enthusiastic follower of the Olympics.

Attendance at the Olympics in Mexico and then in Germany spawned another interest, travel. Pat Bubel will tell about her sometimes offbeat, informal travel methods at the meeting of Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. this Friday at Northville First Presbyterian Church fellowship hall. She will be introduced by Mrs. Martin Rinehart.

Because she often backpacks, the Northville teacher is an advocate of traveling "light"—the topic of Friday's talk. She confides that the "extra" she allowed herself in her pack was underwear as she and her travel companion, an Oak Park teacher, had limited themselves to a bare-essentials list.

Pat Bubel recalls that she left for the German Olympics and two months' travel through Europe on July 10, 1972, just after moving boxes of belongings into her new home.

"I checked out every piece of land for sale for two years," she explains as she remembers that she had decided an apple orchard setting was a "must" as she had lived on rented property on Eight Mile Road (at Apple Crest), and then in an orchard setting in Plymouth. Then, while her own home was under construction, she rented a small building nearby that turned out to be a converted chicken coop.

"I knew what it was with the long row of windows across the living room," Miss Bubel says, "because my father was a chicken man."

"You find out a lot of things when you build," she continued, speaking with over-all satisfaction about her chalet-design, one-story-with-deck home in Salem Township.

Constructed by builder Cass Janowski, she adds, the house was a stock plan but the first the builder had done. Pat Bubel recalls the problems every home buyer experiences in choosing fireplace brick and bath tile colors. She adds that she operates now with "the most complete do-it-yourself library of home repair books."

Landscaping has not been a problem as the house is set in the middle of a meadow and the enterprising teacher obtained emerald crown vetch plantings from Washtenaw County to cover the hillside. This, she now notes with satisfaction, is the same type of cover that bloomed so bountifully on the hill on Eight Mile Road at the high school last summer.

With her home built and furnished ("early nothing") Pat Bubel is aware that the Olympics will be coming to Montreal in 1976, but meantime is concentrating on working toward her doctorate at New York University in Greenwich Village in the summers. She has her bachelor and master's degrees from University of Michigan.

She spent three weeks on the Washington Square campus last summer and hopes to be there longer this coming summer. The doctorate is a long-range goal, she adds.

She thinks she may contrast her New York observations with those she made in Amsterdam during her travels as she talks to the Northville clubwomen this Friday. Members will have an opportunity to chat with the teacher, traveler, homebuilder after an autumn tea planned by the social committee headed by Mrs. I. M. McLeod.

MEADOW BROOK THEATRE'S 1973-74 play season was reviewed and Northville Woman's Club members received a personal invitation to attend at their October 19 meeting.

"It's only 40 minutes away," Mrs. Jane Mosher of the Meadow Brook public relations staff told the group as she gave brief sketches of upcoming productions. The eight productions scheduled range from drama to comedy and from mystery to musical. All, she explained, are by the professional acting company housed on the Meadow Brook estate grounds.

While the actors are appearing in one play, she said, they also are rehearsing for an upcoming production to be given four weeks hence—"they really work very hard and are tremendously dedicated."

"Plays are written to be performed, not necessarily to be read," she pointed out to her audience. For this reason, she said, Meadow Brook also has an extensive student program to introduce young people to the theatre. "We want people to see what they can gain from the theatre for their own lives," she told her audience.

In "Member of the Wedding," the current and first production showing through November 4, Mrs. Mosher explained, the story focuses on a young girl as she ceases to be a child in the comedy-drama.

It will be followed next week by "Streetcar Named Desire." Mrs. Mosher confided to the club that Meadow Brook is "trying hard to get playwright Tennessee Williams to attend the opening—and he may be there without fanfare." She termed the work "pure drama and a classic."

"How the Other Half Loves" will have its Michigan premiere at Meadow Brook December 6. "Oedipus Rex" on January 3 will be Meadow Brook's first attempt at classical theatre, she noted.

"Spoon River," comes January 31. Completing the season are "As You Like It," a romantic comedy by Shakespeare; "Ten Little Indians," an Agatha Christie mystery; and "I Do! I Do!," the musical based on "The Four Poster."

Mrs. Mosher was introduced by Mrs. Russell Anger, program committee member, and spoke from the pulpit of the Northville Presbyterian sanctuary—a "first," she laughed—as the club moved its meeting location in the church due to homecoming dinner plans.

Her fiancé is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul F. McQuown of Tucson, Arizona. He now is a student in veterinary medicine at Colorado State University. Both are 1967 graduates of University of Arizona. In addition to a pre-vet B.S. degree, he also has a M.B.A. degree from University of Arizona in 1969.

Dr. Weaver To Conduct Area Clinic

Dr. Arthur Weaver, a Northville township resident and associate professor of surgery at Wayne State University, is conducting another "Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking" in the north-west metropolitan area. The clinic will begin at 7 p.m., Monday, November 5, at the Plymouth Canton High School, 8415 Canton Center Road, in the little Canton theatre.

This will be the first clinic in three years that Dr. Weaver has conducted in the area. He is well known in metropolitan Detroit for his campaign against tobacco. He had made more than 100 television appearances on this topic and estimates that he has helped more than 20,000 people to stop smoking.

"The Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking" is a public service program sponsored by the Seventh Day Adventist Church. No registration fee is charged.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD - NOVI NEWS

Thursday, November 1, 1973

Police Probe Building Department

24-HOUR GUARD—Acting on reports that the records of the Novi Building Department had been impounded and were under 24-hour guard, The Novi News went to the Building Department Tuesday morning where Detective John Johnson (above) was found going through the files. Johnson confirmed the report of the 24-hour surveillance. Later, Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson stated that the guard had been ordered because the records were too cumbersome to transport to the Detective's Bureau and were necessary for the Building Department to continue to transact business.

Novi Police have uncovered evidence of alleged criminal wrongdoing within the city's building department.

Novi Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson told The Novi News Tuesday that no warrants have yet been secured, but that police have uncovered sufficient documented evidence to have taken their case to the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

Nelson also confirmed a report that the building department records have been impounded and placed under 24-hour guard by the police department.

Police also admit that the FBI will be involved in the investigation.

Revelation of the impending scandal was made by City Manager Harold Saunders at the Novi City Council meeting Monday.

In a carefully-worded statement Saunders revealed the existence of a secret investigation that has been conducted by the police department and himself since July 3.

As a result of that investigation, said Saunders, evidence has been uncovered which has led to the suspension of one building department employee and resulted in the expansion of the scope of the investigation.

Identity of the suspended employee was not revealed.

The city manager also made a plea for any citizens who have information that might assist in the investigation to contact Sergeant Nelson.

Mrs. Audrey Murphy, civic affairs chairman for the Village Oaks Homeowners Association, told Saunders that she thought it would be virtually impossible to comply with his appeal without more specific information.

Saunders replied that police are seeking reports of any and all suspected wrongdoing. "The facts of the case warrant that I reveal no more than I have told you tonight," he said.

Announcement of the suspension falls within one week of a previous statement that two investigations of the building department had failed to uncover any criminal wrongdoing.

At the council's October 23 session, Saunders revealed that The Novi News had conducted an investigation of the building department after receiving numerous complaints from citizens charging collusion between building inspectors and developers.

At the same time, the city manager reported that police have been conducting an investigation of the building department at the request of Head Building Official Earl Bailey.

The investigation which led to the suspension of the employee, however, was not connected with either The Novi News' investigation or the investigation requested by Bailey.

Saunders said Monday that he and members of the police department began a secret investigation of the building department on July 3.

Bailey's request for an investigation was made early in September.

When questioned by a reporter about his denial of any criminal wrongdoing at the October 22 council session, Saunders responded that the information had just come to light within the past week.

"Information has been uncovered since the time I broached the subject last week which has caused the disclosure of the heretofore secret investigation," said Saunders.

Saunders reported that the city council had been informed of the situation at an executive session which lasted approximately two hours Sunday night.

The session, Saunders insisted, was purely informational.

Willis, Planners Spar On Consultant Firms

A joint meeting between the Wixom city council and the planning commission Tuesday night did little to improve the obviously-broiled relationship between Mayor Gilbert Willis and the seven-member planning commission.

And although the council and planners heard presentations from two consultant firms regarding the proposed updating of Wixom's master plan, the question of who will do the job was left in the air.

Charges and denials were hurled during the three-hour session regarding the ethics of the procedure and the necessity for changing consultants.

On the one hand Mayor Willis had invited Community Planning & Management of Utica to present a proposal for the updating project.

But according to Gerald Hiebar, Wixom planning chairman, all seven members of the planning commission are satisfied with the work of Vilcan-Leman & Associates and would prefer that the updating be performed by the firm that has served as planning consultants to Wixom for more than a decade.

Council and planners also heard a presentation Tuesday night from Gerald J. Mears of Parkins-Rogers and Associates, who said he learned of the city's search for a planner through a newspaper article.

Tod J. Kilroy made the presentation for Community Planning first, followed by Mears.

In addition to the fact that members of the Wixom planning commission would prefer to continue working on the updating of the city's master plan with its present consultant, Charles Leman, Tuesday's session also brought these charges, aimed mostly at the mayor:

—That the procedure for considering another firm was unethical in that only one firm had been contacted and that Vilcan-Leman had not been informed of competitive bidding for the project;

—That the proposal made by Community Planning was identical to the report submitted by Vilcan-Leman last summer;

—That the bidders knew exactly the price previously set for the project by Vilcan-Leman; —That Community Planning obviously had been given information that Parkins-Rogers did not have for its presentation Tuesday night;

—That it would be difficult, if not impossible, to employ two planners at the same time;

—That information for the meeting was provided at the last minute when it had been promised a week earlier.

Road Commission Says No Signal For Hampton Hill

Efforts to secure a traffic signal at the corner of 10 Mile and Hampton Hill Roads have apparently met with failure.

City Manager Harold Saunders told the Novi City Council Monday that the Oakland County Road Commission, which has jurisdiction over 10 Mile, had conducted studies of the intersection and subsequently denied the request for signalization.

Reason for the concern over the 10 Mile-Hampton Hill intersection stems from the fact that children living in Meadowbrook Glens subdivision must cross the road at that point to get to Orchard Hills Elementary School.

Concerned about the safety of their children while crossing heavily-traveled Ten Mile Road, Meadowbrook Glens residents have been pushing for more stringent safety precautions for more than two years.

An overhead pedestrian bridge was rejected on the grounds of expense and existing plans to widen Ten Mile from two to five lanes.

The study recently completed by the County Road Commission was undertaken at the joint request of the Novi School Board and City Council.

Before the Road Commission will authorize signalization, traffic flow - both vehicular and pedestrian - must meet or surpass certain minimum specifications.

Under one set of specifications, a signal could be authorized if there were 350 cars per hour for eight hours on Ten Mile and 105 cars per hour for eight hours on Hampton Hill.

A different set of specifications provided for signalization if there were 525 cars per hour for eight hours on Ten Mile and 53 cars per hour for eight hours on Hampton Hill.

According to the studies of the Road Commission, the intersection failed to qualify under either set of specifications.

'Open Basements' Dispute

Still Seek Solution

A movement to have the Dangerous Buildings Ordinance enforced against Village Oaks developer Kaufman and Broad (K&B) was defeated by a narrow 3-2 vote of the Novi City Council Monday.

In so doing the council by a split vote reaffirmed the position taken last week of "taking no position" in the controversy involving 61 uncovered basements in Village Oaks.

Proposed enforcement of the ordinance was an attempt by some council members to bring direct action against the developer over the open basements issue.

Specifically, what was proposed for council consideration was that the ordinance enforcement officer be directed to investigate the open basements in Village Oaks. The second part of the motion directed the enforcement officer to proceed under the terms of the Dangerous Building Ordinance if, in his opinion, a dangerous situation did, indeed, exist.

Moved by Councilwoman Romaine Roethel and supported by Councilman Louie Campbell, the motion failed, however, as Councilmen Denis Berry, William O'Brien, and Edwin Presnell voted against it. Councilman Donald Young and Mayor Joseph Crupi were not present at the meeting.

The movement to have the Dangerous Buildings Ordinance enforced was prompted by the latest proposal from Kaufman and Broad for safeguarding Village Oaks residents from the potential hazards of the uncovered foundations.

At the council's October 22 session, K&B had proposed to protect the basements by constructing a five foot high chicken wire fence attached to the foundation. Informed by City Manager Harold Saunders that the council found the chicken wire fence solution insufficient, K&B proposed an alternate solution last Monday.

Instead of chicken wire, an 11-gauge mesh wire fence would be constructed around the unfinished buildings.

Saunders told the council that K&B officials had indicated that they were reluctant to begin construction of the fence until they had council's concurrence that their plan was acceptable.

Councilwoman Roethel and Councilman Campbell objected to the concept of the fencing regardless of the strength of the wire.

"I find it interesting that there are covenants and restrictions in that subdivision which prohibit residents from constructing fences and now we're considering allowing K&B to get away with it," said Mrs. Roethel.

Campbell argued that the fence would attract children to the site.

"Kids love to climb fences and I think the fence will attract children to the area," he said. "K&B is scheduled to come before us with a site plan shortly and they can't complete the buildings they've already got started."

"We have to let the builders in this community know that we're not going to put up with dangerous situations," Campbell continued. "If that means having to go to court to get an injunction to have those basements filled in, then so be it," he stated.

Councilmen O'Brien and Presnell led the opposition to passage of the motion.

Presnell pointed out that there are two lakes in the same subdivision with no fencing around them and "those lakes are a lot deeper than any of those basements."

O'Brien endorsed the policy of taking no position. "I like the decision we made to keep all our ace cards in our hand," said O'Brien. "This motion is asking us to close all the doors and I find that unacceptable."

O'Brien added that if at some later date it seemed wise to enforce the Dangerous Buildings Ordinance he would agree to the action.

Voters Go to Polls Tuesday

This issue of The Novi News contains important election information for Novi-Wixom voters.

Endorsements of candidates in each race appear on Page 10-A.

Biographical sketches and position statements from each of the candidates running for the Wixom City Council appear on Page 6-A.

Button, Brent Canup, Janice Edwards, James Giesler, Philip Goodman, and Joseph Toth.

Former Novi City Manager George Athas and Winifred Dobek are the two candidates for the two-year council seat.

In Wixom, former Mayor Wesley McAtee is challenging incumbent Gilbert Willis for the office of mayor.

Two incumbents are listed among the six candidates for the three four-year terms on the Wixom Council. Incumbents Gunnar Mettala and Frederick Morehead are being challenged by a field comprised of Melvin Green, James Lahde, Clifford Styrk, and Betty Taylor.

The third incumbent whose term expires with this election - Mary Parvu - was eliminated from the race during the August primary.

Candidates for the two-year seat on the Wixom Council are Lillian Spencer and Sidney Resner.

The only members of the Novi Council who will not be facing reelection this year are Denis Berry and Edwin Presnell. Remaining on the Wixom Council until the 1975 election are Howard Coe, Robert Dingeldey, and Dr. Val Vangieson.

The upcoming election will mark the first time Novi voters will go to the polls since the city has been divided from four into seven precincts.

Voters from Precinct One will cast their ballots at the Fire Station on Novi Road. It is bounded by the Northville City Limits on the south, Napier Road on the west, and 12 Mile Road on the north. The eastern boundary of Precinct One runs from 12 Mile south down Taft Road to Ten Mile east on Ten Mile to Novi 'DOING BEAUTIFULLY'—Heather (Mrs. Donald) Fee abandons her walker for a moment to pose in the autumn sunshine with son Todd, 3, at her home at 134 Rayson. With transportation provided by the local FISH organization, she has been responding to the daily therapy treatments at Providence Hospital for a rare condition tentatively diagnosed as Guillain-Barre syndrome which affects the peripheral nerves and can be confused with polio. Unlike polio, the outlook for complete recovery is good, and Mrs. Fee reports this week that her legs are strong enough already for her to take a few independent steps.

Town Hall Will Hear 'Fat Bob'

"Fat" Bob Taylor, who has gone from local to national appearances as Detroit's "singing plumber", will be heard on the second program of the new Northville Town Hall season at 11 a.m. next Thursday, November 8, at the Thunderbird Hilton ballroom. Taylor, who appeared last month on radio station WJR, became a local celebrity when he gained the attention of WJR disc jockey - interviewer J.P. McCarthy and engaged in telephone conversations on his morning music program. He began singing on a special services assignment while serving in the U.S. Air Force, later trying night club appearances and opera. With singing appearances hard to get he began to earn his master plumber license. There he gained the name "Fat Bob" to distinguish him from two other Bobs—although he is not particularly fat.

Bazaar Features Crafts

Early American arts and crafts are being emphasized at the biannual bazaar to be held by St. Paul's Lutheran Church women from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday, November 9.

Called the "Holiday Shoppe," the event is being coordinated by Mrs. Ray Taulbee, Mrs. Alex Johnson and Mrs. Neil Nichols.

Booths will contain homemade candles, patchwork designs including quilts, doll clothes, crocheted and knitted items, creative stitchery, baked goods and homemade candy. There also will be some handmade Christmas ornaments. "Nearly new" items are to be sold at the Attic Treasures booth.

A light lunch will be served, and homemade donuts and coffee will be sold throughout the day.

hour-long demonstration is $5. Everyone receives recipes and samples.

Registrations also are being taken for Christmas workshops to be conducted at The Eves Forum daily the week after Thanksgiving. These include the making of five Swedish straw ornaments, taught by Mildred Webb; pine cone wreath and table decorations, by Jo Krause; inexpensive home decorating for the holidays with natural materials, by Bess Decker; tinsel painting and quilting, the newly popular revival of 17th century filigree paper art.

"The Williamsburg Ladies"—Pat Bentley and Janet Wood of Birmingham—are scheduled November 27 to instruct the craft of creating della robbia wreaths and swags using authentic Williamsburg materials, including magnolia leaves, boxwood and natural-colored fruit.

The corridors and rooms of The Forum already have a Christmas appearance as cornhusk wreaths and straw decorations are hung. Tables and chairs hold knitted and crocheted sweaters and vests to order. There is a great variety of soft, stuffed dolls, including upside-down dolls and Raggedy Ann and Andy as well as quaint grandma and grandpa ones.

Commissions are being taken for oil paintings by Caroline Dunphy, who also teaches adults and children at The Forum. Sketches of home, family and favorite buildings also may be ordered from her.

Forum owners are looking beyond Christmas to January when they plan a series of Girl Scout workshops for local troops who are interested in crafts.

HAUNTING FINISH—Dressed in their Halloween best, pre-schoolers listen as Northville Librarian Mrs. Elaine Lada reads them one last ghost story. The six-week pre-school story hour ended yesterday (Wednesday) with everyone wearing appropriate costumes. Halloween stories included "Humbig Witch", "The Old Witch Goes to the Ball", "The Old Witch and the Snore" and "The Witch's Christmas". Other activities during the sessions were finger plays, work at the flannel board, listening to records and telling stories. Next story hour, open to 25 three to five-year-olds, will begin early next year, Mrs. Lada said.

Alpha Nu to Hear Dufour

Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society will hear Mrs. Nancy Dufour, who heads the Women's Continuum program at Schoolcraft College, at its November dinner meeting at 6 p.m., Monday, November 5, at Hillside Inn.

Her subject will be "Continuing Education for Women". Four new members have been initiated into the chapter. They are Mrs. Nancy Fieldman, Mrs. Virginia Kricetz, Mrs. Eunice Martin and Mrs. Naomi Poe.

Last month Mrs. Elosia Johnstone, president, and Miss Grace Pollock, program chairman, attended the state council and program meeting at Hospitality Inn in Lansing.

Two new members, Mrs. Gayle Fountain and Mrs. Poe, both Northville teachers, showed slides and told of their trip to London, England.

Scouts Need Uniforms

An appeal is being made throughout the area for enough Junior Girl Scout uniforms to outfit a 20-member troop in Rigby, Idaho. Anyone wishing to donate an outgrown or unused uniform is asked to call Mrs. Othal Baggett, 349-3110.

This is a troop in the Midwest, she explains, that can't afford uniforms. Since many area troops are changing to the newer jumper-style uniform, she thinks the all-green, one piece dresses may be stored away. All sizes are needed, Mrs. Baggett says, adding that she will be glad to pick up donations.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Although Mayor A. M. Allen is unopposed for re-election Tuesday in Northville, seven candidates are battling for two four-year seats as city councilmen. One is an incumbent, Paul Folino. The others are Wesley Hendrikson, Allen Ingle, Lawrence Sheehan, Gerald Stone, Eugene Wagner and W. Wallace Nichols. Biographies and statements by the council candidates appear on this page.

Meet Your Northville City Council Candidates

Folino...

PAUL F. FOLINO
(Age 44, graduate of Northville High School and Life Underwriters Training Council, is Northville insurance agent, has served as councilman for more than four years, is delegate to the Michigan Municipal League, SEMCOG and the Michigan Employees Retirement System, is council representative on Recreation Commission, is past member of the city hall site committee, past director of the Retail Merchants Association, coordinating council member, past chairman and establisher of the permanent program for the city's Christmas lighting for three years, past Optimist Club officer, charter member of Chamber Commerce, past member of Boosters Club, charter member and past vice-president of Northville Lexington Common Association, received citation from city of Northville for leadership in business district beautification, member of Our Lady of Victory Church, married with two daughters, lives at 20556 Clement.

"I am greatly concerned about Northville's future, as a parent, dedicated resident and sincere friend and neighbor. I am interested in the welfare of the senior citizen as well as the young people of our community.

One of the greatest needs staring at us is to keep after a senior citizens housing project. Also, the young people of our community need more recreational activities and we must consider a full time recreation director to implement this with our growing population and the year-around school concept.

We must be careful to assure the orderly future growth of our business district as well as the residential areas by proper and controlled zoning of our land.

At this time more than ever we must continue to adopt ordinances that will curtail smut and pornography and all its related evils that come with it.

Taxes: A very important item that has to be carefully watched as our State Equalization Factor continues to climb. We must budget wisely to be able to cut our tax millage. We are committed annually with most of our public improvement fund which is mostly comprised of race track revenues. Therefore, we must at all times work to preserve this and keep the state from passing legislation that would curtail the summer dates from us.

As the area grows and traffic becomes more of a problem, then it is imperative that we have a north-south route to handle the by-pass traffic.

If re-elected I will continue to work diligently as I have in the past to continue these goals.

Hendrikson...

WESLEY R. HENDRIKSON, JR.
(Age 37, attended Michigan State University where he majored in business administration, owner and manager of Hendrikson Agency, Inc. of Northville, serves as lector at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, member Northville Area Economic Development Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Northville Swim Club, city representative on the Northville Recreation Commission, chairman of the Northville Rotary tennis tournament, married with two daughters, lives at 21107 Stanstead Road.

Being both a resident and a businessman in Northville, I am concerned about the city and its controlled development and growth; I feel that I should become actively involved in the work and responsibility of running this community. Tearing down existing buildings in the name of "growth and progress" will not improve our city. Both "saving the old" and "building the new" must be done on a selective basis with sound architectural control.

Good, reasonably-priced housing for senior citizens is needed. Involvement of these senior citizens, sharing their talents in the Recreation Program, for example, could be a mutually beneficial undertaking.

Also, serious consideration must be given to a fulltime recreation director, particularly if Year-Around School is fully implemented in the district. Development of the fish hatchery is an urgent need along with the acquisition of additional recreation areas - the City of Northville, itself, does not own one major recreational facility. These are not all the issues and problems facing Northville—I do feel they are among the most important.

Ingle...

ALLEN C. INGLE
(Age 52, received bachelor of science degree from Detroit Institute of Technology with a major in accounting, JJD from Detroit College of Law, practicing attorney in Farmington, past president of the Michigan Justices Association, and of the Oakland County Judicial Association, served 12 years as judge first for the City of Farmington and then for Township of Farmington, 24 years of general practice of law involving ordinances and zoning, member American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Methodist Church, married with two children, lives at 47115 Grasmere.

Taxation has reached its limit and it is time that government is operated on an economical basis, the same as business or the household. Through the years the taxpayer has received less each year for his tax dollar. The theory that the tax bucket bottom is never reached must be a thing of the past. Waste must be eliminated and government must be restored to serve the people rather than make slaves of them through taxation.

Open public meetings are a must. There is absolutely no need to have work sessions or any other type of meeting at which the public cannot be present. All actions of the council should be within the public view at all times.

Police department should become experts in crime detection, prevention and conviction, otherwise crime will increase. The past several years has resulted in the creation of traffic departments rather than police departments. Weekly one hour session with an attorney where officers can discuss current problems that they have encountered will do much to improve their ability as officers.

Fire department—Our growth warrants serious study on the creation of a full time department or at least a combined full and volunteer department.

Nichols...

W. WALLACE NICHOLS
(Age 64, graduate of Jackson High School, attended Cleary College in Ypsilanti, took extension courses at Wayne State University, associated with North American Credit Control—a division of National Account Systems, Inc., is a veteran member of the Northville Planning Commission where he has served on numerous committees, is a past member of the Northville City Council having served five years, member of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church and VFW Post 4012 of Northville, married, has a daughter, lives at 219 Ely Drive, South.

It is my conviction that the greatest asset possessed by the City of Northville is its charm and fine, old character. It is cherished by old residents and praised by newcomers. This early-century flavor makes Northville a better place to live. The esthetics are undeniable and our economic position has been substantially enhanced. People are drawn here, like what they find and remain as good citizens.

This heritage of ours must be protected against blight and erosion and its preservation should be a paramount concern of all our citizens.

To maintain these unique assets we need the supportive economics of a viable and vigorous business district. Though excellent strides have been made in recent years, improvements and advances must be made if we are to remain competitive to the encroachment of commercial centers building around us. Such progress should also be the concern of all our people, not just a few.

These concerns are not in opposition. Rather, they are completely compatible within the purview of the progress we must expect and encourage.

Our town must remain a good place in which to live without stagnation. Progress must be accomplished without destruction of what we have.

My efforts will continue to be addressed to these concerns with vision, objectivity and sound judgment.

Sheehan...

LAWRENCE W. SHEEHAN
(Age 41, St. Bernard's Grade & High School and Walsh Institute of Accounting, executive vice-president of Little Caesars Enterprises, Inc. and owner of Little Caesars Pizza Treat in Northville, chairman of the Board of Wayne County Jury Commission, past owner-operator of a Lincoln-Mercury dealership in Pontiac and former real estate salesman in Detroit, member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church and Knights of Columbus, Monaghan Council 2690, married with six children, lives at 45748 Clement Court.

In contrast to most of the other candidates this year for the office of councilman, City of Northville, I am not a life-long resident of Northville. I wasn't born in Northville, I haven't even lived here a long time, two years to be exact. However, after much searching, I picked Northville as a place to live, a place to buy my home, a place to start my business and a place to raise my children. I would also hope to be able to retire here someday.

The nostalgic atmosphere of Northville is what first drew my family and me here. To me, Northville is...all of these things!

I believe there are many newcomers who have chosen Northville for the same reasons as I have. I think these people should be represented. I don't feel that the city has done enough for senior citizen housing. I don't think that the city has done enough during the last few years to retain the nostalgic atmosphere of the city that we know as Northville. I think we can find a better blend of old and still move forward with the new.

I believe I have the qualifications to represent these newcomers, and I have the ability and know-how to do a good job for the life-long residents of Northville, these people who over the years have made Northville what it is.

What this City of Northville needs now is leaders who are capable of making decisions. In my position as executive vice-president of Little Caesars Enterprises, Inc. and as chairman of the Board of Wayne County Jury Commissioners and father of six children, I am making major decisions daily.

Stone...

GERALD M. STONE
(Age 29, graduate of Bendley High School, attended St. Petersburg Junior College and Ferris State College, owner of Stone's Unfinished and Custom Made Furniture, member and past president of Retail Merchants, member board of directors and past president of the Northville Chamber of Commerce, and the board of appeals, committee member and past manager of the Northville Community Fair, promoted International Motor State Snowmobile Class held at Northville Downs, member First United Methodist Church, married with four daughters, lives at 370 South Rogers.

Because I am deeply interested in our community, I would like your support.

As a parent, I'm concerned about schools; my daughters attend the same schools your children do, and I want to see the high standard of education maintained. As a homeowner, I'm concerned about taxes, police protection, roads and sewers.

In my opinion, Northville is a community to be envied, as attested to by the high resale value of our homes, and the influx of new families choosing to live here.

Finally, as a businessman, I'd like to see Northville grow. Growth is essential to keep a city thriving, and change is inevitable. Of equal importance is Northville's unique character, which should not be lost in change, but rather, enhanced.

These are some of my concerns; in short, preserving the "quality of life" we enjoy. I intend to do my utmost to support those measures which are in the best interests of the people, and the city of Northville.

Wagner...

EUGENE R. WAGNER
(Age 40, has bachelor of science in education, has done graduate work, attended Notre Dame, Black Hills State College, and the University of Maryland, is president of Target International Coin Corporation, past president of Dearborn Civitan Club, was a member of the Dearborn Heights Jaycees, past vice-president of the Elks-Deaorbn Pioneer Club, is a director of Northville Square Merchants Association, member Chamber of Commerce in Dearborn and Westland, Federation of Independent Businessmen, active with wife in United Foundation and American Cancer Society, was member Dearborn Heights Blue Ribbon Salary Committee and chairman of Mayor's Exchange Day, former candidate for Mayor of Dearborn, representative, married, has six children, lives at 663 Thayer.

Pressing Northville Problems:

1. Total Motif. Necessary to retain the beauty of the downtown business area.
2. R & R for Youth. Youths have rights; youths also have responsibilities.
3. Senior citizens need a break from assessments and taxation.
4. Some cultural activities at Northville Downs.
5. Attack drugs and crime at the "grass roots" level.

Meet Your Wixom Candidates

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are the responses from the 10 candidates for the Wixom City Council to a request for a position statement put to them by this newspaper.

Each candidate was requested to submit a position statement of not more than 200 words on whatever issue(s) he deemed appropriate.

On November 6, Wixom voters will elect a mayor, three councilmen to four-year terms, and one councilman to a two-year term.

Candidates for the office of mayor are Wesley McAtee and Gilbert Willis.

Running for the four-year terms on the council are Melvin Green, James Lahde, Gunnar Mettala, Frederick Morehead, Clifford Styrk, and Betty Taylor.

Candidates for the two-year term are Lillian Spencer and Sidney Resner.

WESLEY E. MCATEE
Former mayor of Wixom for eight years, McAtee, 49, owns and operates an office supply firm in Plymouth and is a representative of the Howard T. Keating Company. He became active in government a dozen years ago. He was a candidate for village president, was a member of Wixom's charter commission, the village charter committee, and he served on the Industrial Development. He has been a Rotarian, member of the Wixom Chamber of Commerce, and he served as a Wixom PTA president. Married with five children, he lives at 3031 West Maple Road.

It is important, particularly at this time, to recall how and why Wixom was conceived and recognize the progress that was achieved in planning, recreation, capital improvements and people participation through 1970. In 1970 I chose to retire from city politics. But my interest in the welfare of our community remains as keen as ever and I am concerned at what has happened under the leadership since 1970.

City hall was hit by wholesale firings and political appointments destroyed the recreation department. In short, the spoils system was introduced to Wixom and experience, dedication and qualification were tossed out the window in favor of political expediency.

Possibly the most serious victim of Wixom's chief

Age 52, incumbent Willis was elected mayor in 1971. Married and lives at 2630 Hillcrest.

Three and a half years ago, when first sworn in as Mayor of Wixom, I approached the job as a businessman. Not approving of what I found in City Hall, changes were made. Those changes were made based on business judgments, not politically motivated.

Resner ...

SIDNEY A. RESNER

Age 57, he graduated from high school in Detroit and is currently employed as an accounting supervisor at the Ford Motor Company's Wixom Assembly Plant. Served in the US Army from 1940-1945 and is a World War II veteran. Is a member, and serves as treasurer, of the Northridge Estates Association. Married with two daughters and two grandchildren, he resides at 2040 Hopkins Drive.

A solution to the railroad crossing congestion must be considered as a major objective. This situation cannot be constantly overlooked due to costs involved when we know the reality of construction must be faced and we will be paying the penalty in increased costs for every day we delay a responsible decision.

Recreation areas and neighborhood tot lots will also be constantly increasing in acquisition costs unless positive action is taken in conjunction with the Planning Commission. Prompt responsible action in this area should not necessitate an increased tax burden but once again inaction is going to eventually cost the taxpayer more or needed city facilities will be dropped.

Another item of immediate importance is more adequate fire protection with decentralized fire stations located in the northern and southern areas of the city. I believe the normal city maintenance of streets, road signs, etcetera, has not kept pace with the city growth although taxes are sufficient to maintain routine appearance repairs and improve the image of the city.

Spencer ...

LILLIAN M. SPENCER

A long-time Wixom resident, she owns and manages the Spencer Field Airport on Pontiac Trail. A graduate of Carnegie Institute, she is on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, is a member of the League of Women Voters, and serves on the City's Board of Appeals. A member of the St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Walled Lake, she resides at 51225 Pontiac Trail.

I have had the opportunity to observe the growth of Wixom since it was a Village. The City of Wixom has growing pains, and thereby creating many problems, but problems I am positive can be and will be resolved satisfactorily.

Wixom must establish her priorities and then work toward those goals. The Fire Department should be properly funded so the Department can purchase the necessary equipment and establish the necessary fire stations to protect our city.

The traffic problem will take a great deal of study and will be a very difficult problem to solve. We must solve this problem in order to be a progressive city.

The Master Plan is being revised. We should have the expertise of professional planners, however, the City Planning Board and the City Council with the help of the citizenry should clearly be the final group to establish planning and zoning policies.

In regard to the Library, any undertaking that requires a great deal of money to establish and maintain should be voted on by the people that have to support it with tax dollars.

As your representative on the Wixom City Council, I will share your concern regarding the future development of your community. I ask for your support and vote on November 6.

Age 39, he has a BA degree from Albion College and a MBA degree from Michigan State University. Is employed by Western Electric in Plymouth. Currently serves on the Planning Commission. Is a member of the Wixom Goodfellows and the Crossroads Presbyterian Church in Walled Lake. Lives with wife and four children at 29241 Beck Road.

Wixom is at the crossroads. She is at the most critical stage of development in her entire history. She is poised and ready to develop and the decisions we make in the next year or two could easily set the course as to what kind of community Wixom will become.

It is now that we must face up to the hard questions that must be answered — what kind of a business community should Wixom develop (central or local convenience shopping), what should we plan for in the way of recreation areas, should we limit Wixom's industrial potential, should we build an overpass and a ring road?

It is now that we need the strongest most dedicated leadership to tackle these problems. However, this is precisely the area where our present leadership has been inadequate. We have not addressed ourselves to these pressing problems and time is passing us by. Wixom has already lost some very attractive shopping developments because of inattention to these questions.

We must now accept one basic fact. Wixom will grow. With the present tax structure, we cannot expect landowners to hold land indefinitely, regardless of how much we enjoy the open fields and trees.

It's up to us to determine how Wixom will grow and we can't wait any longer.

JAMES A. LAHDE

Age 36. Educational background includes a BA degree in biology and a MA degree in ecology from Northern Michigan University; earned a Specialist's Degree in Environmental Education from the University of Michigan; and did his sabbatical study in the field of Landscape and Urban Design, also at U-M. Is presently employed as an Environmental Education Teacher Advisor in the Southfield Public School System. A Wixom resident for the past eight years, he has served on the Planning Commission for five years, has been a member of the Environmental Studies Committee for three years, and has been a member and trustee of the Hickory Hills Civic Association for two years. Resides with wife and three children at 2210 Orland.

There are other areas of concern where we will be formulating plans for the continued progress of Wixom (Senior Citizen Housing, additional fire protection, local park land).

Wixom has not incurred any bonded indebtedness under my administration and will not, unless it be by vote of the citizens.

I have been on the Council since we incorporated as a Village 16 years ago. I helped inaugurate capital improvement programs that made Wixom a desirable place to live — programs that have attracted the growth we are now experiencing. In making Wixom a better place for ourselves, we also made it a desirable place for others to build or live in Wixom to enjoy these benefits with us.

With 16 years experience, I am a "journeyman" Councilman — not an apprentice.

I have tried — and failed — to get even a "token" amount of road paving since the last election — even though we have each year had money in the budget for paving. Twelve years ago we promised the people that each year, we would pave some road or street until all then existing streets were paved. Three years — no paving. With new people on the Council to help me, I would like to fulfill this promise.

Further, administrators should supply leadership so that the City operates as a unit, but our planning commission has been almost completely ignored. Good volunteer citizens continue to find themselves replaced on committees for no clear, honest reason; and the council remains divided on many issues and finds communication with the administration difficult.

Would you invest your money in a company whose planners designed small cars; administrators, big cars; and, the board of directors were divided between big and small? Good government, like good business, requires continuity and direction of purpose. We have good people on the City Council now and I feel that with my experience on the Planning Commission and the Environmental Studies Committee I can help supply the unity and direction needed to make Wixom the friendly, progressive community it once was.

Mettala ...

GUNNAR E. METTALA

Age 55, incumbent Mettala has served as a city councilman since the time Wixom was incorporated 16 years ago, was a member of the Charter Commission that wrote the charter for the City of Wixom, and was a member of the Wixom Zoning Board of Appeals for 15 years. Attended Wayne State University for two and one-half years with courses in mechanical engineering. Has been employed by Wixom's Micro-Poise Engineering for 22 years where he has worked as a tool maker, machine design draftsman, plant manager, and engineering department technical writer. Is the secretary and a past-president of the Wixom Goodfellows, a past-president of the Wixom PTA, and a member of the Hickory Hills Civic Association. A member of the Shepherd of the Lakes Lutheran Church. Married and with two children, he resides at 2752 Loon Lake Road.

I feel that the major issue facing the City of Wixom today is one of direction. In order to move forward we must do as the turtle does and step out of our shell. However, Frustration: There have been no capital improvements out of the General Fund since the last election.

I have tried — and failed — to get even a "token" amount of road paving since the last election — even though we have each year had money in the budget for paving. Twelve years ago we promised the people that each year, we would pave some road or street until all then existing streets were paved. Three years — no paving. With new people on the Council to help me, I would like to fulfill this promise.

I have tried — and failed — to get some of our deteriorating roads resurfaced since the last election. I need help from new councilmen who believe in preventive maintenance.

We need more street lights. They prevent crime.

We need other things which no councilman can promise because the Wixom voters must vote for and approve spending for the improvements.

Morehead ...

FRED C. MOREHEAD

Age 33, incumbent Morehead was appointed to City Council in 1972. A graduate of South Lyon High School; attended Oakland University for two years; and is presently a senior at Wayne State University with a major in political science and a minor in sociology. Is employed in the field of Industrial Management at Anchox Coupling in Plymouth. Served as chairman of the Wixom Charter Revision Committee and has been a precinct delegate for the Democratic party. A member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Walled Lake, he resides with wife and two daughters at 2810 West Maple Road.

I have surveyed the citizens of Wixom and plan to support the following views:

1. Expedition of a revised Master Plan for Wixom's growth. A plan endorsed by the residents.

2. Acquisition and development of adequate city recreation facilities.

3. Up to date equipment and training for all city departments.

4. Complete information movement without proper direction is all too often chaotic and this we must avoid. To express the elector's desires toward their city requires far more than an election every two years. It requires a responsive government and an equally responsive citizenry. A while back I spotted some people wearing buttons that read "Harass your local politician". I think the idea has a lot of merit, especially today.

Styrk ...

CLIFFORD A. STYRK

Age 31, he was raised in Wixom between the years of 1945 and 1963. Graduated from Walled Lake High School in 1960 and went on to attend Lawrence Institute of Technology for two years. Joined the Detroit Police Department in 1963 and served close to eight years before coming a member of the Farmington Hills (Farmington Township) Police Department where he is currently employed. Lives with wife and three children at 2810 Potter.

Responsive government is the whole idea behind my campaign for City Council. The welfare of the people and the City will be my first concerns.

I have surveyed the citizens of Wixom and plan to support the following views:

1. Expedition of a revised Master Plan for Wixom's growth. A plan endorsed by the residents.

2. Acquisition and development of adequate city recreation facilities.

3. Up to date equipment and training for all city departments.

4. Complete information and voting privileges for citizens on all major city projects.

5. Development of a convenient shopping area and medical facility to serve the community.

6. No further rezoning for multiple dwelling units.

7. A "ring road" as opposed to a railroad overpass to correct downtown traffic problems.

8. A referendum and further study regarding the acquisition of a community center and city library.

I believe these and all issues should be decided according to the views of the majority of the citizens of Wixom.

I will strive as a councilman to promote a quality living environment for all Wixom residents.

Taylor ...

BETTY L. TAYLOR

Age 44, she is employed as an instructional aide in the Walled Lake Consolidated School System. Has been a board member of the Wixom Elementary School PTA for the past seven years and also serves as historian for that organization. Has been treasurer of the Wixom Goodfellows since 1969. Is a member of the Wixom Baptist Church. Married and with three children, she resides at 2901 Maganser.

I have been interested in Wixom and its people since 1965. When we moved to Wixom, it had everything we wanted. Our subdivision was on a small lake. We took the City to court to prevent storm drainage into the lake from the paving program and with the new Department of Natural Resources ruling, we have saved the City thousands of dollars.

I am a candidate because I feel the wishes of the people have often been ignored.

Another reason is the skyrocketing budget with a total of $437,000 in 1971 to a present $921,000. I became angry to hear that a retired couple who have lived in our city for 30 years is selling their home because they can no longer keep up the taxes.

The valuation of property has grown with the growth of the city, but the millage has not come down, so this in effect, is raising the taxes every year.

I am against any major money spending programs without citizen approval until the budget is brought into a more sensible figure for a city of our size.

If elected, I will try to keep Wixom a city to be proud of.

executive leadership over the past three years has been planning and the planning commission.

The citizen-appointed body has itself been used as a pawn by the mayor. Its work goes unsupported and almost unrecognized. Communication between this important body and the administrative and legislative units of our local government is almost non-existent.

In my opinion planning for the future may very well be the most important function of local government.

Good planning, means preparing the community for the future by avoiding last-minute crises decisions or crash catch-up programs.

If our lines of planning communication are severed, we cannot hope for planned progress.

My background stands for leadership that is supported by strong citizen involvement to get the job done today so that Wixom will be a better community in which to live tomorrow.

have been made are administrative in nature. It is expected that further running changes will be made in this area to increase staff productivity and efficiency. With the forth-coming updated Master Plan, we are hopeful that improved procedures will allow for better communications between the administrative departments and the implementation of the planning concepts.

While the assessed valuation of Wixom has increased from a state equalized $44,000,000 in 1969 to over 64 and one-half million in 1973 and the population has almost doubled from 2,000 to over 3,500 in the same period, there have been no increases in administrative staff employees except adding a full-time building official and a records clerk in the Police Department.

My endeavors over the next two years will be mainly centered on the immediate needs of Wixom, such as local medical and dental services; increased fire protection, by the building of a fire station on a site we purchased west of the C & O Railroad tracks; acquisition of land for retention of storm water which will enable us to resume the paving of residential streets, full implementation of our contract with the Oakland County Road Commission for the widening and paving of North Wixom Road from Pontiac Trail to the Grand Trunk Railroad; an active role in establishing a shopping complex within the city; and continued negotiations for recreation land. I will continue to oppose any attempt at urban renewal.

There are other areas of concern where we will be formulating plans for the continued progress of Wixom (Senior Citizen Housing, additional fire protection, local park land).

Wixom has not incurred any bonded indebtedness under my administration and will not, unless it be by vote of the citizens.

Elect W. WALLACE NICHOLS City Councilman Tuesday, Nov. 6

W. WALLACE NICHOLS

To the People of Northville—

The charm of quiet, tree-lined streets and picturesque old homes gives Northville a unique character that is its greatest asset. We all cherish this priceless heritage and it is my concern that we cannot afford to let it blight or erode.

Simple economics indicates that we must also support - in balance - a viable and vital commercial district and the records will show that I have always advocated this.

Northville's enviable position as a good place to live - work - and shop, can be maintained through orderly progress without subversion of what we prize so greatly.

While not immediately critical, it should be noted that the Inter-County Road Commission is seriously considering a 5-Line Arterial County Thoroughfare the length of Center Street. I have vigorously opposed this and will continue to do so. We do not need a divided city or more traffic hazards.

My efforts and experience (available to you at all times) will continue to be addressed to these concerns with vision and prudence and, since I serve no personal or private interests, I will do it with sound and unbiased judgment.

Respectfully,
W. WALLACE NICHOLS

Police Blotter: Charges Pending in Fatal Accident

In Novi

Novi police are seeking a warrant charging the driver of a car in which one person was killed last week with negligent homicide.

The charges stem from investigation of an automobile accident which occurred at the corner of Novi and Ten Mile Roads at 2:50 a.m. on Wednesday, October 24.

One person was killed and four others are still hospitalized - two of them in "very critical" condition - as a result of that accident.

Police said they would not reveal the identity of the person to be charged until the warrant has been issued and served.

According to police reports, the accident occurred when a car containing six people and traveling at a high rate of speed eastbound on 10 Mile Road failed to stop for the flashing red light on Novi Road.

The car was struck by a pick-up truck traveling northbound on Novi Road.

Bruce McKenzie, an occupant of the eastbound vehicle, was announced dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital later that morning. As of Monday morning, two other individuals were listed in very critical condition by Botsford Hospital and another was listed in critical condition. All were occupants of the vehicle traveling east on 10 Mile.

Police say more information will be released pending completion of their investigation.

Items with an estimated value of more than $900 were removed from a residence at 23147 Novi Road during a breaking and entering which occurred October 23.

Among the stolen property was a color television set, a number of shotguns, a watch, and some jewelry.

A break-in of a newly-completed unit at the Country Place condominium complex resulted in the theft of a section of carpeting.

The theft was discovered Saturday, October 20. Spokesmen for the Country Place development told investigating officers that thieves had kicked in a door and then stolen the carpeting along with carpet padding.

Estimated replacement cost for the carpet and padding and repair of the damage to the door was pegged at $400.

A stereo record player with two speakers was stolen from a residence at 25333 Novi Road in a break-in which took place October 21.

Value of the stolen property was estimated at $260.

"Blood Mansion," the haunted house of the Novi Jaycees, was the object of a break-in last week.

Police report that someone gained entry to the building by breaking down a door during the night. Nothing appeared to have been stolen, however, and no noticeable damage was done, they report.

In Wixom

Three Wixom men have been arrested on charges of larceny from a vacant building.

Arraigned on the charges before 52nd District Court Judge Moffett in Clarkston last Saturday were David Kataja, 19, of 2418 Potter Road, Richard Arnold, 19, of 204 North Wixom Road, and Martin Wilkinson, 17, of 3070 Glengary.

The three were apprehended by Wixom police on Saturday, October 20. According to reports, officers found a canvas tarp valued at $160 in the trunk of their car. The tarp was allegedly stolen from an office building under construction at Bandera and Pontiac Trail.

All three were released by Judge Moffett on personal bond. Examination date will be set.

Police are investigating the theft of $8,340 worth of alternators from the shipping department of the Ford Motor Company's Wixom Assembly Plant.

Police were called to the plant by the Ford Security Department who reported the theft of some 480 alternators from the shipping area.

The theft occurred, said plant officials, sometime between Friday, October 19, and Tuesday, October 23.

A tool box filled with various tools with a total value of approximately $100 was stolen from a camper pick-up truck last week.

Owner of the tools told police he parked the camper in the Ford Motor Company lot at 5:15 p.m. Monday, October 22. He discovered the theft upon returning to the truck the following day at 3:45 a.m.

Robert Gwilt, a 20-year old Detroit man, reported the theft of two tires from his car last week.

He parked the car, he told police, in the Ford Assembly plant employees' lot at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 23. Upon returning to the vehicle at 4:30 a.m. the following day, he found that cinder blocks had been placed under the rear axles and the two rear tires stolen.

In Northville

Washtenaw County Sheriff's department recovered a car early Monday morning which had been stolen from Northville sometime after 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

The 1969 Ford LTD was stolen from the driveway of a home at, 555 River Street. Owner of the vehicle told police he had the only set of keys and he believed the car was broken into and hot-wired in order to steal the vehicle.

Washtenaw Sheriff's deputies reported finding the car at 12:15 a.m. Monday at Six Mile and Tower roads in Salem township. They said the vehicle had been smashed up and was burning when it was found.

An eight-year-old Detroit youth was hospitalized with left arm and shoulder injuries following a pedestrian-car accident Sunday about 3:30 p.m. on Seven Mile Road just west of Orchard Drive.

According to reports, the youth, Randall Sands, had just gotten out of a car on the sidewalk side and was going to visit the Haunted House with his mother. His mother said that when she looked around, she saw her son lying on his back.

Driver of the westbound vehicle Patricia Wilson of 46141 Pickford, told police the youth darted out into the roadway in front of her car.

A 20-year-old Pontiac man narrowly escaped being electrocuted Monday afternoon after he received an electrical shock.

Raymond Martin was taken to Bostford hospital with arm and possible back injuries shortly after 3 p.m. Police said Martin was standing on the front of a hi-lo attempting to unplug a machine from the roof of Anger Manufacturing on Novi Road when he received an electrical shock.

The jolt knocked him off the hi-lo and Martin landed on the floor, police said.

Items valued at $175 were stolen from a car while it was parked at 967 Novi Road. The theft took place between 11 p.m. Friday and 3 a.m. Saturday.

The window in the left door was broken to gain entrance to the vehicle, reports indicated.

Stolen were a cassette tape player, two speakers and a full-length fur type coat.

Unknown callers placed a bomb threat to Northville High School last week Tuesday afternoon. The building was checked by police and school officials after the school received the threat at 12:40 p.m. Nothing was found in the building, reports said.

The same day, an aluminum frame Wilson tennis racket was stolen from a locker at Northville High. Valued at $40, the racket was stolen from the locker while it was locked, police reports indicated. Time of the theft was between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.

Police were forced to shoot a duck at Northville Valve Plant pond last week Wednesday afternoon. The duck had been injured by youths who shot an arrow through it, police said. A similar incident occurred last spring.

In Township

Break-in of a garage on Six Mile Road is still under investigation by township police.

A hasp on a door to the garage was broken to gain entrance, police reports said, and antiques and clothing taken.

Missing are a six shot pistol, 20 gauge shotgun, camera, flashlight, antique clock, coins, tools and clothing. The break-in of the garage, located at 40134 Six Mile, was reported October 18.

A stereo system, valued at $200 was removed from the dashboard of a 1973 model car while it was parked on Rayburn Drive. The theft was reported last week Thursday.

Between October 10 and 11, tape decks were removed from four other 1973 model cars parked in the same area, township officers noted.

Unknown persons smashed two windows of a home on Donegal Court and soaped other windows in the home. Police reports said the damage took place between 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

An autopsy following the death of Alex M. Lawrence, former Northville township treasurer, showed smoke and soot was found in his lungs, Police Chief Ronald Nisun said.

Mr Lawrence, who lived on Meade, was found dead following a fire at his home last week Tuesday evening.

Please take notice that the Northville City Plan Commission will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday Night, November 20th, 1973, at 8 p.m., Northville City Hall, 215 W. Main St., for the purpose of considering the adoption of the Proposed Supplement to the Northville Zoning Ordinance dealing with the prohibition of certain objectionable activities.

The purposes of this Ordinance are:

Christmas Plans Are in the Air

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Masterminded by Chief George Von Behren, coordinated by City Clerk June Buck, and carried out by the men of Wixom's police force and their wives, the City was treated to the third annual Police Open House.

A crowd estimated at over 900 parents and kids jammed City Hall on a sloppy Sunday afternoon to view displays and demonstrations all relating to normal police activities. Kids were fingerprinted, looked at narcotics paraphernalia, took rides in the squad cars, and watched Officer Roger DeClerq put his horse, Bullet, and dog, Tanya, through their paces. Everyone was treated to plenty of refreshments and all the kids got free toys.

At the end of the day, a drawing was held for a variety of prizes. First prize of a $100 gift certificate for a bike at the Colony Bike Shop in Walled Lake went to John Szakal of Lakeridge. Second prize of a baseball glove went to Carla McDonald with Jay Westervelt winning the third prize jacket.

Another baseball glove went to Angela Thompson as fourth prize with Donna Southerland catching the fifth prize of a bike carrier, tool kit, and reflector. A Novi gal, Ann Visnyak won sixth prize of a bike arm light with mirror and reflector, while Tom Kaufman of Union Lake won seventh prize of a lock and cable reflector.

Linda Dickenson went home with eighth prize of a bike flag with Joel Visnyak of Novi matching it with his ninth prize winning spot. A toy antique car, the tenth-place prize, went to Jim Ladhe, Jr.

The rainy weather kept the steady stream of visitors indoors under "bumper to bumper" conditions but no one really seemed to mind. It was a great afternoon thanks to the police force, and city hall staff.

Wixom Elementary Girl Scout Troop 385 traveled to Rochester a week ago to participate in the Junior Olympics for Girl Scouts of Northern Oakland County. Over 400 girls met at Rochester High School for the day-long event.

And Troop 385 came home with a first place trophy in the relay race. The girls on that top flight team were Sherry Wilson, Connie Boggs, Jean Houtz, Kelli Burke, Leslie Bozynski, and Deanna Haney. Wanda Boggs captured a silver medal in the fourth-grade 50-yard dash.

Kids in the Northridge, Hickory Hills, and Highgate Subdivisions were treated to parties during the Halloween "season". In Northridge the kids were divided into age groups for parties on Monday. All spent the time with games, cider, and donuts, while candy and cookies were added for the little tykes. Prizes were awarded to the boy and girl with the best costumes in each age group.

The kids in Hickory Hills met at the beach Wednesday night for their special "after trick or treating" refreshments with prizes awarded for the best costumes in each age group and McDonald gift certificates awarded for the three best-decorated pumpkins.

And down in Highgate all the kids met after school Wednesday for apple bobbing and games, followed by a special bonfire. Hal Waller became "Mr. Wizard" in an elaborate "set-up" for all the young ones and their parents.

Last weekend found the Northridgers out again on one of their special soirees. Jeanne and Dennis Andrews along with Maryjo Naragon planned a four-hour treasure hunt which was attended by over 70 people loaded into fifteen cars. The evening, termed as absolutely fantastic by Social Chairman Yvonne Courtney, included a buffet dinner after the hunt and a whole string of prizes. The hunt was planned as interesting enough for the "pro" but kept in reach of the novices.

Riding in the winning car and collecting $35 in prize money, a bottle of liquor and a great big Buddah were Joan and Howard Hollister and Rosemary and John Victory. The Buddah is a symbolic prize and will be passed on to the victors in each succeeding treasure hunt. A prize of $25 and another bottle went to the inhabitants of the Haight car, while the team of Morehead and Vangieson zipped in third for their $10 and bottle. Winners down the line all received a bottle of wine of one sort or another for their attempts. The grand booby prize of a six pack of beer was accepted by Judy Kimmel.

An important date to remember in Wixom is November 10. That's the time for the third annual Holiday Boutique. Becoming more and more popular, this is the place to begin your holiday shopping. Fourteen booths filled with candles, hand-painted plaques, decoupage, imported wooden jewelry, and pottery will whet the appetite for more.

And more there will be...Christmas wreaths, holiday items, ceramics, glass "whachamacalits," a book sale, a bake sale, and even an ethnic luncheon to satisfy the tummy. The "something for everyone" Holiday Boutique will open its doors for one short day on Saturday, November 10, from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Wixom V.F.W. on Loon Lake Road.

And while you're out "bazaaring" for the day, plan also to stop in at the Senior Citizens' Craft Show. Along with fine hand-made articles for sale, there will be displays and demonstrations of wood-carving, jewelry-making, and cake-decorating. At 11 a.m., 12 noon, and 1:30 p.m. there will be square dancing, featuring the "Squares" made up of the Senior Citizens' Dance Club.

The show is sponsored by the Walled Lake School District and will be held in the cafeteria of Walled Lake Central High School from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Saturday, November 10.

Shirley Tuck journeyed to Cobourg, Ontario over the weekend to join a group of 250 people in wishing her grandfather, Burton Dulmage, a happy birthday. Mr. Dulmage, in good spirits on "his day", turned a ripe 100 years old.

The party, originally planned for 100 people, swelled as relatives and friends from "all around" gathered for the celebration.

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER?—Not at all. Wixom Patrolman Richard Howe is fingerprinting four-year old Karen Wahamaki only as a part of the demonstrations put on by the Wixom officers during their annual Police Open House last Sunday. An estimated 900 people crowded into the City Hall to meet and talk with the Wixom police. It was a special day for the children, too, as they were treated to rides in a police car, met Patrolman Roger DeClerq with his police dog and horse, and received free prizes, in addition to being given a copy of their finger prints.

Court Reporters Train At Orchard Ridge Campus

"It's not quite like Perry Mason, but the courtroom certainly is an exciting place to work," noted Catherine Drews who currently is instructing 29 students in the Orchard Ridge Campus' new program in Conference and Court Reporting.

Begun this past September, Conference and Court Reporting is a two-year program leading to a Degree of Associate in Applied Science. The program provides professional career training in high speed, verbatim, dictation on the shorthand machine utilized by court stenographers.

Herself an Official Court Stenographer for Judge Robert DeMascio's Federal Court in Detroit, Mrs. Drews studied at the Elsa Cooper Court Stenography School.

"I am finding the Orchard Ridge students and environment an exciting and rewarding experience," Mrs. Drews noted. "The students are eager to learn, the campus is lovely, and the staff has been so helpful in beginning this new program."

In addition to three semesters of Machine Shorthand, students in the Conference and Court Reporting Program study typing, secretarial practices, business law, government and general educational courses.

Machine shorthand, also known as stenotype or Stenography, employs a phonetically based shorthand system with characters typed on a long strip of paper for later transcription. The machine utilized is, in effect, a modified, 14 key typewriter that is small and portable.

Conference and Court Reporters find a wide variety of rewarding and well-paid jobs in the courts, as executive, medical or legal secretaries, and as convention reporters once they develop the proficiency of 200 to 250 words per minute.

Mrs. Drews lives with her husband Jeffery, an insurance underwriter, in Detroit. "I'm looking forward to the continuation of this program in the Winter Semester," she concluded, "as well as the opportunity to start another group in this program."

Persons interested in this conference and court reporting program will have the opportunity to enroll in the beginning course in the Winter Semester at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College. Located in Farmington Hills at the intersection of I-696 and Orchard Lake Road, the campus begins its Mail-In Registration on Monday, November 5, 1973.

Regular registration for the Winter session is January 2-4, 1974.

For further information on the Conference and Court Reporting Program, call Orchard Ridge's Business Education Department, 476-9400, Ext. 528.

Northville's New Man for Council

Record

Our Area Election Choices

Nichols...and Sheehan or Stone

Seven candidates including one incumbent seek two council seats in the city of Northville election next Tuesday.

Based upon a predicted 25 per cent turnout at the polls, that means the six hopefuls will be dividing about 800 votes.

It also means that the incumbent will be almost impossible to beat; and that any candidate who really gets out and works for 200 solid votes will get elected.

Telling it like it is, and despite the odds, we think the ticket possesses only one outstanding candidate—Wallace Nichols.

He's thoroughly indoctrinated in city government and how it works because he's been a working part of it for many years. A former councilman, he has also been an important member of the planning commission for a decade.

On the basis of contribution and qualification, Nichols deserves to lead the ticket. What's more, he's working hard to get elected because he wants the job.

To us that means that Nichols will be a working addition to the council. And in our opinion, the present council earns good attendance marks but below-average grades in individual productivity.

So we do not hesitate to jump on the Nichols' bandwagon because we have seen him perform, we know he stands for sound community planning and exercises good judgement in making decisions.

The second choice is not so easy.

Athas, Campbell, Roethel, Young

The field of 11 candidates for the three four-year terms on the Novi City Council in our opinion contains a number of very fine candidates. Nevertheless, we find ourselves inclined to endorse the candidacies of three incumbents: Louie Campbell, Romaine Roethel, and Donald Young.

As a member of the council, Campbell has shown himself to be extremely attentive to the voice of the citizenry. As the council's legislative delegate to Lansing, he has worked hard and made contacts which have been to the city's benefit.

Likewise, Mrs. Roethel has demonstrated in the short time she has served on the council that she is well attuned to the voice of the citizens. Both she and Campbell have worked hard and deserve to be retained.

Conservative and intelligent, Young brings an accountant's perspective to a financially-troubled

But it's between Lawrence Sheehan and Gerald Stone.

The former is relatively new to the community. But he is a successful businessman and possesses a common-sense approach to problems that impresses us.

We hold the view that Sheehan could give the council one member with a new outlook that might serve to help solve old problems.

Stone is a longtime Northville resident who has demonstrated his ability to get things done. And he has been active in both city government and community promotions.

We cannot support Incumbent Councilman Paul Folino, although we'd never bet against his re-election.

Folino is a worker. And he will pound on doors until he obtains the votes he needs.

He's against smut and for recreation and senior citizen housing. And show us a politician who wouldn't grab onto that campaign platform.

What disturbs us most about Folino is the frequency of his personal involvement with properties either purchased by the city or by a development reviewed by the council.

There are times when every council member faces the possibility of a conflict, but under such circumstances a councilman should exert every effort to extract himself from the negotiations.

In our opinion Folino's effort in this regard has been less than wholehearted.

city. We feel his presence on the council will prove valuable, particularly on matters of fiscal policy. Further, he will provide a link with the thinking of the older, more-established segment of the city.

Although not endorsing his candidacy here, of the remaining candidates we find ourselves particularly impressed with Philip Goodman. We hope he will continue to be involved in Novi government and seek election to the council again in 1975.

Novi will be well represented by either of the candidates for the two-year term on the council. We feel, however, that George Athas is easily the better candidate. As a former Novi City Manager, he has a thorough knowledge of the city's problems; and as a former representative for a land development firm, he is knowledgeable in an area that should prove to be of utmost importance in the years immediately ahead.

Novi Mayor

Daley Looks Good

We are firmly convinced Robert Daley is the better candidate in the Novi mayoral race.

Although Joseph Crupi has led the city long and well, the character of Novi is undergoing significant changes that necessarily require energetic attention. By his half-hearted campaign Crupi indicates to us that he no longer possesses the enthusiasm and drive for the office that he once had.

Daley, on the other hand, impresses us with his active, positive interest in the future of the community. We see in him the fresh, positive ideas that a progressive community demands.

An attorney who has served the city as chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, Daley is eminently qualified. He has a thorough knowledge of the problems facing the city, he has some innovative approaches for solving these problems, and he is ably equipped to meet tomorrow's challenges.

We strongly urge the election of Robert Daley.

Wixom Mayor

Time for McAtee

When it comes to personalities, the voters of Wixom will have no difficulty in distinguishing between their candidates for mayor.

Incumbent Mayor Gib Willis is a stoic, no-nonsense perfectionist who seems to work at not smiling.

Wes McAtee, his opponent and a former Wixom mayor, personifies the image of the politician. He's friendly, outgoing and quick to smile.

Beneath these facades both possess a common interest in the welfare of their community. But here the similarity ends. It is unlikely that either would agree on what is best for Wixom or how or when it should be accomplished.

Our preference for mayor of Wixom weighs heavily in favor of McAtee.

This despite the fact we respect and enjoy the company of Gib Willis.

We've been able to observe both perform in office. And we've always believed that Willis came along at a time in Wixom's history when the community needed the firm hand of a "father" to protect it from the pains of growth.

But we also believe the Wixom voter has come to realize that growth is inescapable and that the recognition of its inevitability coupled with a determination to plan and prepare for its control are imperative.

In many ways we admire Mayor Willis' ability to take a positive stance. So many times to us the blacks and whites appear to have gray areas. But not so for Willis.

He's against "urban renewal," when we've always believed that federal funds returned to the local community could be used advantageously. They paid for half a new city hall in Northville, for example.

Instead of returning to the federal government some $1.25 million earmarked for planning and development of a central business district and traffic patterns in Wixom (which McAtee obtained), we believe Mayor Willis should have fought to keep it and get more to help relieve a problem that now remains as a costly one for local taxpayers.

Further, we find the mayor's habit of asking for resignations at election time smacks of the old spoils' system and will almost certainly trigger reaction in the future from city employees seeking job security.

But above all, we like McAtee's style.

He's dead certain about everything he proposes. In fact, he seeks out the best advice he can find, and frequently this comes from able citizens within the community.

He's a firm believer in planning, but he recognizes that circumstances change and that plans provide only guidelines.

As Wixom's mayor for eight years he demonstrated that he could do more than plan. The city now has a sewer system that can be used when needed by residents of all areas.

McAtee is a people mover; he's a driver.

His jovial manner should not be mistaken for frivolity.

He's dead serious about Wixom and the individuals who make up its citizenry.

Under McAtee's leadership the city may lose its father-image. But it will have gained a partner in progress seeking to retain the good and achieve the best from change.

Eureka! I've discovered a sure-fire way of remembering from one day to the next the difference between a pacer and a trotter in harness racing. It just may be worth a patent or whatever it is they award for valuable trivia.

And if you will kindly overlook the fact that the editor of your newspaper in this horse-racing town hasn't known the difference all these years between the tail end and the front end of a horse, I'll let you in on my little secret. Then no longer will either of us have to bluff our way through an evening of racing at the Downs.

Here's my secret: Draw four circles representing the four legs of a horse. The top two circles are the horse's front legs. Now, starting from any circle and going either clockwise or counter-clockwise, assign the letters of the word "trotter" in order to each circle. Having done so you will see that the first letter "t" is diagonally opposite the last letter "r".

And this, dear reader, tells us that the diagonally opposite legs of a trotter move in unison. For example, when the left front leg of the trotter is moving forward the right rear leg is also moving forward.

Amazing, isn't it! Bet you're asking yourself why you didn't think of this trick first. Suffice it to say that all great minds run on the same track.

But don't stop reading. I've got more.

Again draw four circles representing the four legs of a horse. This time assign the letters of the word "pacer" to each. You will notice that no matter where you begin, the letters "p" and "r" always share the same circle.

Does this mean this leg moves in unison with itself while the three others move together? Not at all, you dope.

It means that both legs on the same side receiving the letters "p" and "r" are moving in unison. In other words, when the pacer's right front leg is moving forward its right rear leg is moving forward at the same time.

Fantastic, don't you agree?

Ah, but there's still more.

Consider the name "runner", a moniker the horse racing industry gives the horse that carries the rider on its back instead of in a buggy behind the animal.

Take note, if you will, that the name "runner" begins and ends with the same letter. What that has to do with this demonstration isn't clear except perhaps to point out that they are like letters.

Now draw the four circles, please. Assign each with a letter from the name "runner", beginning this time from the top (front left). Notice that the like letters "r" share the front side of the horse. One "r" is on the front left leg and the other "r" is on the front right leg. From this you may correctly deduce that the runner's two front legs move in unison.

Marvelous, isn't it!

Let's review:

Diagonally operated legs denote the trotter; front and back legs on the same side moving in unison tells us the horse is a pacer; and the two front legs moving in unison indicates a runner.

Suppose a horse fails to live up to this patented formula. Suppose his legs sometimes move like a pacer, other times like a trotter, and still other times like a runner. What then?

Oh, boy, are you in luck. I've saved the best for last.

Such an animal is a stupid, mixed up horse, wouldn't you agree? Okay, using the aforementioned formula, assign the letters of the words "stupid", "mixed up," and "horse" to the four circles.

Presto! You've got a runner, trotter and a pacer.

Remember, you read it here first.

Resner, Mettala, Lahde, Styrk

Having heard candidates speak in several communities served by our newspapers, we do not exaggerate when we say Wixom can consider herself fortunate by having such an excellent slate of candidates for the city council. All of them are qualified and interested in the well-being of their community.

Nevertheless, we believe Sidney Resner, James Lahde, Gunnar Mettala and Clifford Styrk are the best choices.

Easiest choice for us is Incumbent Councilman Gunnar Mettala who has served the community exceptionally well since Wixom became a village 16 years ago. His record is ample proof that voters chose wisely in the past, and we are convinced his re-election will ensure Wixom four more years of excellent service.

Our second choice, James Lahde, Folklore Forecasts?

FACT . . .

If a guy can't trust an innocent caterpillar nowadays what in the world is left?

I say phooey on disbelievers. Their smirks of ridicule (see story of Page 1-B) will be buried in the snows of the Woolly Bear come this winter. It is their kind of skepticism that Lowell told us "commonly takes up the room left by the defect of imagination."

Why, anyone with but a smidgeon of intelligence knows that the hair length of a jackass is as good a barometer of things to come as is Sonny E liot's prognostications.

And Peterson, the guy on the other side of this question, ought to know better than scoff. It was this Upper Peninsula cold-weather nut who laughed when friends warned him not to stick his tongue on the icy steel of a sled.

If the natural signs of winter I grew up with are unreal then my Uncle Henry spent a half-century farming a myth. And all those crops he fertilized with sweat and coaxed along by the signs of nature died before the harvest.

Skeptics like to argue that we believers have no substantive evidence to prove the validity of these natural signs. To them we answer, it is for the critic to controvert.

Meanwhile, we rest our case on tomorrow's weather.

Crossing Gates Needed

To the Editor:

After reading the account of the fatal, unnecessary accident which occurred at Seven Mile and Northville Roads on Tuesday evening, October 16, it only served to intensify my convictions regarding the inadequacies of the traffic control signals at this intersection.

I have been especially critical of these shortcomings since last January when my mother was accused of failing to come to a complete stop at the flashing red light on Northville Road at this intersection while a train was passing.

Being rather civic-minded and interested in the well-being of the residents of our community, she took the matter to court at considerable personal expense in order to enumerate what she felt were the many faults of the present system. She received the sympathy of the judge who acknowledged "something should be done" and a $20.00 fine for her trouble.

Obviously, nothing was done and, partially due to this neglect, two lives were taken the other night.

I do not pretend to be a traffic engineer but, in my opinion, crossing gates should be installed on both sides of the track. The cost would be negligible if it prevented future accidents. It is also to be noted that there is not one sign at this entire intersection to direct the unwary motorist. He is completely on his own. Good luck to him when the lights start flashing, and the train comes hooting down the tracks. It is understandable how he can become confused trying to figure out which set of flashing red lights he is supposed to stop behind and runs out on the track in front of a train.

Also, until one gets used to the idea, it is frightening to turn east on to Seven Mile Road from Northville Road and see the westbound cars stopped on the other side of the track. One's first thought is that a train must be approaching. A quick stop before crossing the tracks could cause a massive bumper-to-bumper collision because others who are familiar with this arrangement would not be prepared to stop. Crossing gates might also solve this hazard.

In addition, it is very confusing to cars westbound on Seven Mile Road where to stop when the traffic signals turn red. There is a white stripe painted east of the tracks, but it could be misconstrued as to be observed only when stopping for a train. Then, when the green arrow pointing to the right appears, it further complicates matters because the signal east of the track is still red. Some motorists run the red light to complete their right turn on the green arrow, and others patiently wait for the signal east of the track to turn green. This signal could be completely eliminated, if crossing gates were installed.

Furthermore, there is no reason, whatsoever, for the signal on Northville Road to flash red while the train is crossing Seven Mile Road. This only serves to disrupt the flow of north- and southbound traffic. The flashing red light offers no practical function at all, and, in my opinion, a flashing amber light would be much more efficient and equally if not more effective.

Finally, the green arrows which are apparent to traffic westbound on Seven Mile Road are ambiguous. Many motorists interpret them to mean it is possible to turn right or left from either lane. I have often seen cars disregard the arrows painted on the pavement and turn from the wrong lane. Perhaps some type of sign could be placed farther up Seven Mile Road to make the driver aware of the fact that he must turn upon reaching Northville Road and to give him time to get in the proper lane.

I feel the present traffic signal was necessary for the safety of the many motorists who pass this intersection daily. However, I believe this traffic control system can be improved upon immensely. Let us hope something is done before any more tragic accidents take place at that crossing.

Cecilia Pond

FANTASY . . .

The first time I heard anything about Woolly Bear caterpillars, my wife came marching in, saying something about the length of Woolly Bear hairs and the winter.

Next thing I knew, it was the Woolly Bear and the width of his stripe which would tell me what the winter would be like. And she also mentioned something about the many acorns falling this autumn.

Then my good friend Jack Hoffman, Northville editor, sided with the naturalists, swearing on a stack of nutty acorns that there was truth in those natural signs. "You'll see," he said.

Call me unenlightened. But frankly, friends—and you believers, too—predicting the weather on what nature's creatures do, or apparently do, leaves me cold.

There are no facts to substantiate these folklore signs about weather. But I have reached one conclusion about believers in "the signs".

They are the same persons who believe in clairvoyancy, psychic experience, other-planet UFOs, seances, re-incarnation, homemade elixirs and black cats.

I will believe when (1) somebody tells me what each day of 1974 will bring (2) the little green space man sits down to lunch with me (3) my deceased mother materializes in front of me (4) I vividly remember my former life (5) warm water and nutmeg stop my diarrhea and (6) the black cat stabs me in the back.

Legislature Proceeds Rapidly

By R. ROBERT GEAKE

Michigan Representative

Fears that the legislature would be tied up most of fall session attempting to find solutions to the state's many education problems appear to have been groundless. Up to this point the legislature has been moving along relatively rapidly and has passed numerous bills, many of them specifically designed to solve various education problems.

So far I've been pleased with the legislature's progress this session and believe that if it keeps working at its present pace, this will prove to be a very productive year.

One of the top priorities facing the legislature this fall once again deals with the problems of the Detroit school system. As I reported last week, the teacher strike left the Detroit schools out of session on student count day. In order to receive state aid under present law, a school must be in session the fourth Friday in September to take a student count. It also must be in session a full 180 days during the year. The Detroit system missed the fourth Friday count and was in danger of not being able to meet 180 days during the regular school session.

House Bill 4408 adopted by the House last week and sent to the Senate answers both problems. As passed by the House, the bill provides for two alternative student count days for districts on strike during the established census day. This will permit the distribution of state aid to those districts on strike during the September count day. I voted for the bill.

Districts will be permitted to take the official student census on either the fourth Friday following the beginning of classes or the second Friday of November.

Other provisions in the bill require districts to meet as late as mid-July to complete the 180 days of instruction, prohibit six-day class weeks, and require schools to provide the traditional holiday breaks.

Under present rules set by the State Board of Education, a school must have 70 per cent enrollment on any given day for it to count toward the 180-day instructional requirement. An amendment adopted on the House floor reduces this requirement to 50 per cent, and makes it state law. If attendance drops below that level, state aid would be reduced by a percentage of attendance of the 50 per cent mark.

I'm hopeful that Senate members will approve this legislation so that the legislature can continue on with other pressing problems this fall.

Michigan's taxpayers got a further break from the legislature last week as the House approved Senate Bill 79 which would allow a state income tax credit for people making contributions to Michigan colleges and universities. I also voted for this bill.

The bill is intended to encourage citizens and businesses to contribute to colleges and universities in Michigan by giving them a break on their state income tax. This will hopefully result in an increase in private contributions.

offers Wixom five years of proven performance on the city planning commission. A well educated, articulate environmentalist, Lahde impresses us with his sound appraisal of the city's problems and his suggested solutions to those problems.

Clifford Styrk, our third and last choice for a four-year term, is the most difficult selection. Although the other four-year candidates also impress us, Styrk gains the edge by his intimate knowledge of the community and by the direct manner in which he approaches the issues.

Sidney Resner gets our endorsement for the single two-year term primarily because his positive "let's get it done now" attitude better complements the campaign planks of our mayoral choice, Wesley McAtee.

same projected cost of the combined services provided by a single government, he noted.

He opposes additional high-density multiple units in the city, although he would consider such units as a means of providing adequate housing for senior citizens.

Allen Ingle—Believes the annexation question is irrelevant because, in his opinion, it probably will never be approved in both the city and township. Just as was the case in Farmington, the majority of the people here, he contends, oppose unification.

He opposes multiple housing units, contending that far too often they become "first class fire traps."

W. Wallace Nichols—Having served on the first feasibility study for unification and having had a part in last winter's study of the same matter, he is convinced the two communities that are geographically and socially one should now be united politically.

A member of the planning commission, he said initial allocations for multiple housing in the new updated master plan were substantially reduced. While he opposes an over-abundance of multiples, he believes some areas of the city lend themselves for this kind of housing.

Lawrence Sheehan—Although the majority of citizens in the combined area opposed annexation recently, he favors unification and he remains hopeful that despite the recent failure it will be approved at some future date.

He opposes additional multiple developments here, contending land is too scarce in the city to sacrifice the few remaining vacant properties to this less attractive kind of housing.

Mayor A. M. Allen, who is unopposed for re-election, spoke briefly, pointing out that the city's problems today are far more complex and difficult to cope with than when he first took elective office here.

Where formerly the city had to be concerned only with what happens inside the boundaries of the community, today it is important to carefully watch what happens around the community, the mayor said. He suggested outside influence is a growing element that the council must cope with in dealing with city problems.

Election

Tuesday's election will mark only the second time in history that the city election has been held in the fall. The first was held two years ago when 857 voters or 35.2 percent of the 2,441 registered voters cast ballots.

Until 1971, city and before that village elections had been held in the spring.

The mayor challenged council candidates to avoid pre-conceived ideas and commitments in campaigning for office. He reminded them that a coin has two sides, and he emphasized that whoever is elected will represent but one of five votes on the council.

Following their comments relative to the questions posed by the Jaycees, the council candidates also replied to questions from the floor.

Among these questions were those dealing with the candidates' opinion of strip zoning and their position on extending commercial zoning beyond the Chatham supermarket.

Here were their basic remarks on these issues:

Folino—As a councilman he has shied away from strip zoning but he recognized that lack of space sometimes necessitates zoning change. Where this happens, however, he suggested that buffer type developments are essential to protect neighboring residential areas.

As for extension of commercial zoning on North Center, he said he opposes it at this time but that at some future date he might be persuaded to change his mind if the proposal "is so fantastic" and beneficial to the community that it warrants council support.

Hendrikson—"Can't see strip zoning," and he pointed to the Eight Mile-Taft Road party store development that, in his opinion, is improperly situated. He contended commercial development should not be extended on North Center.

Ingle—Vigorously opposed spot zoning and blamed this kind of zoning on professional planning consultants who, he charged, are inept in anticipating needs of the community.

He would consider extension of commercial on Center only if detailed study of potential service area warrants a larger central business district. It is important that this service area be defined immediately, he said.

Nichols—Adamantly opposes extension of commercial zoning on Center.

Concerning strip or spot zoning, he admits that planners and council members have been guilty at times of what might be interpreted as spot zoning but which in reality is sound planning. Some neighborhood shopping centers, such as the center at the corner of Allen Drive and Novi Road, have sound basis for existence, he contended.

Sheehan—Opposes strip zoning, although he recognizes that certain kinds of businesses are better situated nearer residential neighborhoods. Instead of extending Northville's commercial district outward, to garner more business, he suggests instead that the existing central business district be enhanced to attract more shoppers.

Wagner—Generally opposes strip zoning but recognizes a need for it in certain circumstances. As for extension of commercial zoning on Center, he opposes it now and in the future.

rezoned to a commercial classification.

Since the planning commission remains unconvinced that it should alter its stand on these points, the commission is expected to recommend approval and leave the final decision on whether or not to modify the plan to the city council.

Of course, commission spokesmen emphasize planners might be persuaded by citizens to make changes following their public hearing on the ordinance. In addition to the zoning map, the hearing will consider also the accompanying text of more than 100 pages.

Concerning that public hearing, the council next week is expected to authorize the commission to hold the hearing.

Once planners have reached a recommendation, the proposal goes to the city council which also must hold a public hearing on it before reaching the final decision.

In their meeting with councilmen Monday, planners explained that the master plan (not the zoning ordinance map) has already received commission approval.

According to Planning Consultant Ronald Nino, the proposed zoning ordinance map now under consideration, seeks to implement land uses suggested in the master plan. And while the zoning ordinance-map need not necessarily agree with provisions of the master plan it nevertheless should strive to do so.

Concerning the council suggested extension of the business district on North Center, Nino contended such a zoning decision would be substantially inconsistent with the intent of the master plan and therefore unwise.

Planners also pointed out that while the zoning ordinance-map suggests a residential zoning for the two-block area along South Main this zoning is seen only as an interim designation until the master plan's suggested commercial-industrial classification becomes a reality.

They contended it would be unwise to implement immediately the land use suggested by the planners because to do so would destroy an existing pleasant residential neighborhood.

If rezoned, Nino explained, a developer could establish a mid-block commercial development and destroy the character of adjoining houses and thus force homeowners to sell.

He suggested a gradual incremental change to commercial-industrial would be far more reasonable than to permit spot development.

When Councilman Paul Vernon wondered aloud why planners failed to use this same rationale in suggesting the central business district zoning for the block bounded by Dunlap, Wing, Randolph and Center, Planning Chairman Burt DeRusha explained that this area—unlike the South Main Street area—is already adjacent to a business district. Furthermore, the area is within the district that planners someday hope will be bounded by a ring road, it was noted.

Despite reassertions by Mayor A.M. Allen and others that extension of commercial zoning three lots north to Walnut would be economically and aesthetically wise, planners remained adamantly opposed.

When reminded that the county plans to widen Center Street and thus destroy the residential character of the street, anyway, planners took the position that by refusing to budge on rezoning they might influence the delay or elimination of the widening plans.

Extending the commercial zoning, they argued, would encourage "What we hope doesn't happen (widening)."

Concerning the ordinance itself, Councilman Paul Folino voiced again his concern over proposed stiffening of rear yard requirements.

Such requirements would work a hardship on himself and upon other prospective developers of professional offices on North Center Street, he has contended. But planners seemed unmoved by the councilman's complaint.

specifications, Ten Mile Road riot warrants for 13 of the required eight hours, but Hampton Hill carried the required amount of traffic for just one of the required eight hours.

Under the second set of specifications, Ten Mile met warrants for six of the eight hours, while Hampton Hill met warrants for five of the required eight hours.

A signal could also have been authorized if pedestrian counts showed 175 pedestrians crossing the road during a one-hour period, but Road Commission studies showed a peak pedestrian volume of 114.

Richard Folkers, Oakland County's Director of Traffic Engineering, informed the Novi Council that the Commission had also conducted "gap studies" which showed that adequate gaps in traffic to permit safe pedestrian crossing are available during all crossing periods.

Folkers noted further that no accidents had been reported at the location during the 1972-73 fiscal year.

City Manager Saunders told the council that he would investigate other means of solving the safety situation at the intersection.

"I will get together with (School Superintendent) Dr. Kratz and investigate whatever other avenues might be available for the solution of this situation," stated Saunders.

tinuation until December 31, which Ziska did. By this date he will submit changed plans. The commission then tabled the item.

Commission member Bernard Baldwin blasted provisions of the injunctive order handed down in circuit court October 9 for Northville Mobile Home Village, the proposed 209-unit mobile home park for Seven Mile and Northville roads.

"The injunction goes beyond any discussion we ever had here and permits landfill. If (Stewart) Oldford had not gotten landfill, he would not have been able to develop the site fully - now he's got landfill and the injunction to get it."

Baldwin's objection was in part to the fact that the developer had been questioned by the commission on this matter, he said, and had indicated landfill would not be needed.

Township engineer William Mosher explained that the right to ask for landfill permit was an exchange agreed to when the developer eliminated three lots to enlarge the community area of the proposed park.

Baldwin also cited the difficulty the commission had in seeking topography maps from the developer, pointing out that the need for landfill would have been apparent. He asked what representation the township had in court (no commission members were present), saying he "was available and 20 minutes away" during the sessions.

Old Weather Signs Scorned

By ROLLY PETERSON

It happens every year. Leaves begin to fall and people begin to look for signs in nature which will tell what kind of winter to expect.

Seems natural enough. After all, mother nature knows. Or she should, one would think.

Take the Woolly Bear caterpillar. What better indicator could there be? A narrow band, so believers say, means a hard winter; a wide band, a mild winter.

What they're saying this year is the coming winter will be mild. The plethora of wide bands can't be wrong.

There are other natural predictors to substantiate what the Woolly Bear says, close observers of such phenomena tell us.

If the muskrat or beaver house is large, it means a bad winter. If it's small, expect a mild winter.

If a lot of acorns (nuts, if you prefer) are falling, watch out. Bad winter ahead.

Bees are building their hives far off the ground? Lot of snow in store.

Down on geese is thicker than usual? Better buy a new coat, furry mittens and a new set of snow tires. You'll need 'em.

While some people partially or wholly accept these folklore methods of predicting the weather, the experts don't quite agree. In fact, you're likely to be greeted with a hearty laugh, if you ask whether these natural signs are steeped in fact.

Professor Earnest Kidder of Michigan State University, a weather expert, couldn't quite believe his ears when asked about the validity of these signs.

"I haven't been observing the signs this fall," Dr. Kidder said, his words spaced out between laughs. "I've always been inclined to disregard them. They're not too logical, but they're worth a few laughs."

He compares "sign watching" to water witching or divining. In either instance, Dr. Kidder says, you have a 50-50 chance of being right.

Not even meteorologists, using scientific methods, can pinpoint the weather with 100 percent accuracy, the professor points out. Seventy to 80 percent would be more like it, because even then judgment is involved, he explained.

John Gray, chief of Information and Education for the State Department of Natural Resources, between laughs, said he'd do what he could to dig up some information about folklore predictions about the weather.

Oscar Wohrbach, biologist and graphics presentation designer with the DNR, it turns out, did some research on the subject. Seems he's a non-believer.

He reached his conclusions (shown graphically by his illustrations which appear with this article) after consulting four texts; "Weather" by Ross, "Weather and Life" by Lowry, "Weather Proverbs and Paradoxes" by Humphreys and "How About the Weather" by R. M. Fisher.

George Welbon, director of the Island Lake Recreation Area, a facility operated by the DNR, admitted quite frankly, "I'm a skeptic".

"That's an area I don't know much about," said Duane Girbach, agricultural extension agent. "I personally don't have any faith in it.

AVAILABILITY OF VEGETATION NOT SEVERITY OF THE COMING WINTER DETERMINES SIZE OF A MUSKRAT OR BEAVER HOUSE.

NOT MUCH SNOW THIS WINTER - THE WOODPECKERS HAVE MADE MORE HOLES AT THE BOTTOM OF TREES THAN AT THE TOP. THE GRUBS GAVE US THE WORD.

Sometimes there are truths in those things—but I'm not aware of them."

There was one saying about milk, he recalled, that suggested if milk spoiled, it was going to rain. Laughing, Girbach went so far as to say, "There could be some truth to it, because usually there is humidity before rain and milk could have spoiled because of it."

Asked why people cling to natural signs when there doesn't seem to be any evidence to support their faith, Girbach summed it up this way: "Whatever I believe is true to me. Truth is what the conscience will accept."

Churches Focus on FISH, CROP

FISH and CROP will be the focus in churches this Sunday, November 4.

While many Northville- Novi Churches' pastors make an appeal to their congregations to volunteer their services to others through FISH, many Livingston County pastors will inform their congregations about the services of the Christian Overseas Relief Program, CROP.

CROP workers will be canvassing the county during the week of November 5-12. In Brighton the canvass will be November 5.

"Through CROP we have an opportunity to help stop hunger, helping people in need in some thirty countries," said Harold Bessert, chairman of the Livingston County CROP committee. "We can give them a chance for a change, which means we can help them to attack their own root causes of hunger—help them grow more food, teach them about family planning and modern agriculture."

FISH also provides services to those in need, but on a community oriented basis. According to Father John Wyskiel, of Our Lady of Victory Church, FISH provides types of services not offered by established welfare or other service agencies.

FISH provides a range of services, including emergency babysitting, emergency transportation, housework for the sick, companionship for the homebound, meals, clothes and emergency housing as well as other services.

Only volunteers will be sought on FISH Sunday.

The FISH name and symbol were both used for recognition and as passwords during the early days of the church when Christians were considered enemies of the state. The name is derived from an ancient Greek affirmation where the first letters of the words, "Jesus Christ God's Savior Son" spelled the Greek word for FISH.

HARTLAND

Fellowship Bible Church will be celebrating its second anniversary Sunday, November 4, with a sacred concert to be given by Ray Felten and his family.

Felten is director of counseling at Radio Bible Class in Grand Rapids. He will be performing at Hartland Music Hall at 7 p.m.

Fellowship Bible services for that Sunday will be 10 a.m. and the 7 p.m. concert. Sunday School will be at 11:15 a.m. The public is welcome.

The Hartland United Methodist Church Turkey Dinner will be held November 3 at the church. Dinner will be served at 5 p.m., 6 p.m. and 7 p.m.

A donation of $3 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under is asked. Preschoolers will get in free.

Reservations may be made to Mrs. M.J. Masters, 632-7339.

The film, "His Land" will be shown November 4 at 6 p.m. at the Highland Church of the Nazarene, 1211 W. Livingston Street, Highland. The one hour feature length film relates today's events in the Middle East to the Prophecies of the Bible. "This gripping motion picture confronts youth with the challenge and significance of the events now happening in the Middle East," said the Reverend James Krauss.

Parent Training Offered

The first class in Parent Effectiveness Training, a national program to help people develop skills of being parents, has just been concluded in the Brighton Area at the First United Methodist Church.

"Because many inquiries have come from the community, another class will be offered starting January 7 and running for eight Monday nights," said the Reverend Kearney Kirkby.

"The most important task that any human is given to fulfill is being a parent. The sad reality is that few parents have any training for this task. The pain of failure come too late to do anything about it," Mr. Kirkby explained.

The program consists of 24 hours of intensive training over an eight-week period. Mr. Kirkby is a licensed instructor for the course.

"Parents must be serious about wanting to develop improved relationships in their home and be willing to really work at it," Mr. Kirkby said.

He pointed out that it is helpful if both parents can attend, but it is not required. He also emphasized that constant attendance is required.

"The course does not teach content but skills of relationships. It therefore open to any person in the community," he said.

Marriage Encounter provides a quiet moment to reflect

Catholic Program Spreads

Marriage Encounter Renews Relationship

"How can you explain to someone that their marriage needs a Marriage Encounter—that it deserves it?" asked one Ann Arbor man. "I always feel like I'm turning people off, if I tell them that."

But at the risk of turning people off, some people must be spreading the message of Marriage Encounter, a Christian movement sponsored by Catholic Churches. Dedicated to "making good marriages better," the movement has spread to 38 states since it took root in the United States in 1968.

In essence the Marriage Encounter is a weekend retreat for married couples. Away from work, telephones, televisions, children and other daily distractions, the weekend provides the opportunity for married couples to renew or strengthen their communication with each other.

Encounter leaders, couples who have made a Marriage Encounter, and a priest are present to give talks on children, money, sexual-relations, self-worth and many other things. After each talk a question is posed to start the dialoguing technique upon which Marriage Encounter is based.

Working on such questions as "Why do I want to go on living?" "What have been the happiest moments in our marriage?" "What do I like most about you, about myself?" Husbands and wives separate for an assigned amount of time to write their answers in notebooks.

Later they come together to discuss what they've written.

A wife may have withheld her feelings to keep peace in the family," a priest explained. "Their written answers bring out their real feelings and give them a chance at open and honest discussion."

"Dialoguing (the think, write and then explain technique) really gives a way to open up and communicate," said a professor who made his encounter with his wife when their marriage was six-years-old.

"We made an encounter when we'd been married 24 years and we had a good marriage," another wife said. "As marriage grows and your commitments to family and the outside world grow, how you have less time for each other. Her husband is also a professor, while she is a librarian."

"Most communication is concerned with immediate needs, children or even just the events of the day. Deeper communications get squeezed out because they're not so urgent," she further explained. "If you look at the weekends as an opportunity and enter it with the right disposition of faith in each other, you can receive what the other has to say and can talk freely."

Couples are urged by the encounter team to continue the dialoguing after they return home and some couples do, while others feel the need only to use it when a particularly touchy topic is involved.

"Sharing feelings is what is hardest to do," one husband commented. "It's easy enough to share thoughts."

The encounter first helps couples recall in a personal way the reasons they are together and what they mean to each other. As the weekend progresses, questions are directed towards many areas of marriage, the couple's relationship with others and their relationship with God. "It's wonderful to see couples come alive, to rediscover their love," another woman said.

The final day of the encounter is the day when couples begin a total evaluation of their marriage. This is by far the favorite part of the weekend for many couples. The list of questions for the evaluation is several pages long, but couples are urged to answer each question as thoroughly as possible, mindful that the questions they don't complete will provide fodder for the continuation of dialoguing after the weekend ends.

Many couples call the decision to go on the weekend "The second smartest thing" we ever did and the news is spreading.

Couples interested in learning more about Marriage Encounter are urged to contact their parish priest or Dominic and Del Bitondo in Ann Arbor, 971-4637.

Mr. and Mrs. Bitondo are the Ann Arbor Area Coordinators for the Marriage Encounter program. They indicated that readers in the Brighton area would automatically be included in the Ann Arbor program, Northville- Novi and South Lyon area residents could have their choice to make encounters through either Detroit or Ann Arbor churches.

An encounter is planned through Ann Arbor churches in late November.

Mustang Mistakes Lead to 14-7 Setback

RALLY-KILLING INTERCEPTION—Farmington Harrison's Dave Thorne (22) makes a diving interception of a Northville aerial, while Jim O'Brien (42), the intended receiver, waits in vain. The interception, one of four made by the alert Hawk secondary, came with minutes left in the game and ended the Mustangs' last chance to score a game-tying touchdown. In spite of the efforts of O'Brien, who latched onto five passes, the Mustangs suffered a 14-7 setback.

Look at the statistics and you'd swear the Mustangs had won.

But, unfortunately, it's points - and not statistics - which win football games and in that all-important category Chuck Shonta's Northville Mustangs came out second best in a rare Saturday afternoon game last week.

Though held to less than 100 yards of total offense by the rugged Northville defense, Farmington Harrison turned a couple of key turnovers into touchdowns and then held off the Mustangs to register a 14-7 triumph.

The victory gave the Hawks third place in the final Western Six Conference standings.

Both Northville and Harrison entered the final conference game of the season with 2-2 records and the battle that ensued was a typical, bruising Western Six affair.

In actual hand-to-hand combat, the Mustangs more than held their own against the hard-hitting Farmington Harrison squad.

They outrushed the Hawks 129-73 and they outpassed the Hawks 77-22 for an overall 206-95 yard edge in total offense.

In addition, the Mustangs had a 12-5 edge in first downs, completed six passes while Harrison was completing just two, and ran off 56 offensive plays while the Hawks snapped the ball from center 37 times.

But in the final analysis, the Mustangs were done in by their own mistakes.

The first Harrison touchdown was the result of the recovery of a Northville fumble on the 24 yard line and the second Hawk touchdown was set up by a pass interception which enabled them to take over the ball deep in Northville territory.

And even Howard Cosell can tell you that it's hard to keep the other team from scoring when you let them start from your own 24 and 31 yard lines.

Northville was hurt by far more than just those two mistakes, however.

A needless 15-yard piling-on penalty enabled the Hawks to avoid bad field position early in the first quarter; a long Northville drive from their own 32 yard line down to the Harrison 15 was stalled by a five-yard "delay of game" penalty on a crucial third-and-five play; and a decision to return a punt which would have sailed into the end zone in the air forced the Mustangs to begin a drive from their own four yard line instead of the 20.

But the mistakes which hurt most of all were four Farmington Harrison pass interceptions in the second half which thwarted all Northville attempts to score the tying points.

Starting his first game since coming back from a summer baseball injury, Northville quarterback Bill McDonald completed four of eight passes for 59 yards and one touchdown in the first half.

In the second half, however, it was a different story as Hawk defenders intercepted each of McDonald's first three passes and then picked off one more with 1:21 left in the game to put an end to Northville's hopes to knot the score.

Most of the Mustangs' statistical edge over Harrison was compiled in the first half when they limited the Hawks to just 14 yards rushing and one first down.

Nevertheless, Northville had to rally to gain a 7-7 halftime tie. Harrison opened the scoring at the end of the first quarter after covering a fumble on the 24 yard line.

Mike Siekas carried a pass from Mike Crudele down to the Northville five and three plays later Dave Thorne blasted into the end zone from the two.

The Mustangs came back to tie the score with just 52 seconds left in the half. Doug Crisan toted a screen pass from McDonald 35 yards down to the Harrison eight and then, after Crisan had carried once to the six, McDonald fired to Jim O'Brien who made a diving catch in the end zone.

Tex Trumbull's conversion knotted the score at 7-7.

Harrison scored the winning touchdown midway through the third quarter. After Paul Rogind had picked off a McDonald aerial on the Northville 29 yard line, O'Brien returned the favor by intercepting a Harrison pass on the 10.

But three running plays netted zero yards against the fired-up Harrison defense. The Hawks returned the ensuing punt to the Northville 31 and two plays later they scored the touchdown.

On the first play Bob Miller carried a finely-executed Mike Crudele pass down to the eight and on the next play Chuck Yarber ran off his own left tackle for the score.

Paul Rogind booted the extra point and the Hawks held off the Mustangs for a 14-7 victory.

Offensively, the Mustangs were paced by O'Brien who snared five McDonald passes for 47 yards and the lone Northville touchdown. Doug Crisan, the number one Mustang running back, rushed for 56 yards in the first half, but was held to just nine yards in seven carries in the second half and finished the game with 65 yards in 23 carries.

Next week the Mustangs will journey to Milford where they will meet a Milford squad still looking for its first win. Game time is 8 p.m.

Novi Clinches SEC Title

Having already laid claim to their second straight Southeastern Conference championship, the Wildcats travel to Milan tomorrow to close out their season in an anticlimactic showdown.

Novi clinched the crown last week when Chelsea rolled to a surprising 23-14 victory over Milan—the team that had been given the best chance of upsetting the Wildcats' title hopes.

Most observers figured the championship would be decided in tomorrow's game at Milan. But as things turned out Friday's clash between the two big SE guns will be a battle for pride—nothing more.

Even if Milan should win tomorrow Novi still will be the 1973 champs.

Of course, there's plenty to be said for pride, and you can bet your Agnew button that Novi wants to wrap its championship in an undefeated season. And you can be just as sure Milan hopes to gain some measure of satisfaction by becoming the only SE team to knock off the Wildcats in two seasons of play.

In its tuneup for Friday's game, Novi last week crushed Ypsilanti Lincoln, 48-0 as Eric Hansor piled up 236 yards rushing in 28 plays—a new school record.

Even though it was Hansor and the offensive unit that understandably garnered the fans' greatest plaudits, Friday's performance signalled again perhaps the Green Machine's greatest single asset—a defensive team that has held six Southeastern Conference opponents to just 21 points all season.

Friday's shutout was the third of the season.

Even more indicative of the impressive job turned in by the defense are the rushing statistics through the first six games. While Novi was piling up 1,571 yards rushing, the Wildcats were holding their opponents to 658 yards—almost 1,000 yards difference.

In the air the Wildcats also look good on paper. They picked up 516 yards in the air and held their opponents to 84.

In rushing to his record, Hansor also scored three of the seven Novi touchdowns Friday night. The fleet-footed senior half-back scored on runs of 1,3, and 15 yards.

Most explosive score of the game came on a 50-yard gallop by Bill Barr, who intercepted an Ypsilanti pass in the closing minutes of the game.

Novi scored its first touchdown in the first quarter in his first series of plays. The Wildcats marched upfield from their own 14 yard line to the Lincoln 4 where Kevin LeFleche dived over for the TD.

Hansor took a pitch-out and rolled around the right side to score his 15-yarder mid-way through the second quarter. His TD made it 13-0 (Dave Brown kicked the extra point) going into the intermission.

On the fourth play of the third quarter, Hansor scored from three yards out after putting the Wildcats in scoring position with a 50-yard run along the right side of the field. He also ran the ball in for two extra points.

Quarterback Brown pitched a 25-yard pass to Mike Riley in the endzone the very next time Novi got a crack at the ball. That TD took just five plays. Brown kicked the extra point.

The Wildcats opened the final quarter with a four-play drive that ended with Hansor diving over from less than one yard out. His kick made it 35-0.

Riley blocked a punt on Ypsilanti's next series and then grabbed the ball and dashed 21 yards for the score. Again Brown's kick was good.

Ypsilanti came back with three first downs but were still not in Novi territory when Barr intercepted the pass on the visiting team's third down. Following this last touchdown, Brown's extra point kick was blocked.

Make All-Conference Squad

Mustang Golfers Honored

Three members of the 1973 Northville golf team have been named to berths on the Western Six All-Conference golf team.

Seniors Brian Mills and Bob Simmons and sophomore Jim Dales copped the one, two, and three positions on the six-member squad.

The All-Conference team is determined by computing the average nine-hole score in the ten dual meets against other conference teams.

Mills, who has won the conference tournament in each of the last two years, had the lowest average score of any golfer in the conference and was thus named to the number one position on the team.

His average round of 37.4 was .5 of a stroke off the conference record of 36.9 established by Northville's John Hlohinec last year.

Simmons had the second best average in the conference - 38.0 strokes per round. Dales, who also made the all-conference team last year as a freshman, had the third best average in the league with a 38.2.

Mills, Simmons, and Dales each made the all-conference team last year, too.

BRIAN MILLS

Other members of the All-Conference squad were John VanVleck (38.9) and Mike Majeski (39.1) from Farmington Harrison and Don Taylor (39.25) from Waterford Mott.

Colt Teams Sweep Honors

Northville's three Junior Football Association teams put the finishing touches on one of the most successful seasons in their history by sweeping three games from the Ypsilanti Braves last week.

Each of the three Colt teams - varsity, junior varsity, and freshmen - had the best record of any team in their respective divisions of the Western Suburban Junior Football League.

The Colts varsity led the way, finishing the season with seven wins and a tie. The junior varsity finished the year with a 6-1-1 mark, while the frosh compiled a 5-1 record with two ties.

Ypsilanti's Braves took a quick 6-0 lead over the Northville varsity with a 60-yard touchdown burst in the first quarter. But the Colts came back strong to keep their undefeated record intact.

A 40-yard pass play knotted the score at 6-6 at the half and in the third quarter the Colt varsity upped their lead to 19-6 on a 35-yard run and a two-yard trap play. The Braves narrowed Northville's lead to 19-12 with a fourth quarter TD, only to see the Colts regain their two touchdown lead by stealing a hand-off and rumbling for a score.

The Colt junior varsity once again relied on its defense for a 13-0 verdict over the Ypsilanti team. A blocked punt early in the game gave the Colts the ball deep in Brave territory and the offense rammed over the goal line for a quick 6-0 lead.

The Colts scored again in the third quarter on a 73 yard run from scrimmage. The defense stymied the Braves' attempts to get on the scoreboard and the Colts ended up on top of a 13-0 score.

The Northville freshmen had to rally for three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to gain a 19-6 decision over the Ypsilanti squad.

The Braves broke a scoreless deadlock with a third quarter touchdown. The Colts came back to take a 7-6 lead by scoring after a long drive. The defense kept the Braves bottled up in their own end of the field and the Colts capitalized on the field position to score twice more and gain a 19-6 triumph.

In competition against eight other junior football league teams, the Colt varsity, junior varsity, and freshmen teams had a combined record of 18-2-4.

Caudell Wins Mile

Chris Caudell, the nine-year old long-distance runner from Novi, easily won the state championship in the mile run in the nine-and-under division recently.

Caudell turned in a relatively slow 5:53 clocking over the Palmer Park course to outdistance the rest of the field by a wide margin. The second place finisher was a full 40 seconds off Caudell's winning pace.

By virtue of his triumph Caudell is eligible to compete in the national championships in New York on November 4.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kostelnik.

REPLAY

with John Osborne

You'd think that a coach whose team had just wrapped up its second consecutive Southeastern Conference championship might be inclined to relax a little.

Particularly when the only game left in the 1973 season is a meaningless, anti-climactic clash with Milan.

But not so.

In spite of the fact that his Wildcats clinched sole possession of the SEC title with a resounding 48-0 triumph over Ypsilanti Lincoln last Friday, John Osborne was busy at the high school until 12:30 a.m. Sunday going over plans for the Milan game.

"I was watching the films of the Lincoln game and some film we have of Milan as well as going over the scouting reports we have on them," admitted the Novi coach.

"Frankly, I'm a little worried about Milan," Osborne continued.

"They have a play very similar to the one Saline used against us and you know the trouble we had against them. Milan has the same play and they run it a little more effectively than Saline does, so we want to be ready to stop it."

Osborne dismissed the idea that his players would approach the Milan game with something less than enthusiasm.

"We plan to make it clear to them that they had better be prepared for an all-out effort," he stated.

"There are a number of reasons why we think it's a pretty important game for us to win. We've got a 20-game winning streak that we would like to keep alive and there's also the matter of proving beyond a shadow of a doubt to everybody that we deserve to be conference champions."

"We plan to let our players know that they're just too good a football team to be the ones who let somebody snap our winning streak."

As far as the Lincoln game was concerned, the Wildcat coach felt that his team was in charge all the way in spite of the fact they only had a 14-0 lead at halftime.

"We were up pretty high for the game because we remembered that Lincoln gave us a rough time last year and we didn't want to run the risk of an upset."

"The reason we had so much trouble getting points on the board in the first half was due to some technical mistakes. They received the kick-off and when they punted to us we fumbled it right back to them. Another time we let them have the ball back with a roughing the kicker penalty. And another time we got ourselves into a first and 25 situation with a penalty after the whistle on a punt."

"Our low point output in the first half was due to the fact that we let them have the ball for some extra downs that ate up time."

"Our defense was exceptionally strong throughout the game and I don't think there was ever any question about the fact that we were going to win the game," Osborne continued.

Chelsea Upsets Milan; Novi Wins Conference Title

John Osborne's Novi Wildcats are champions once again.

While the "Big Green Machine" was devastating Ypsilanti Lincoln 48-0, a determined Chelsea squad was handing Milan a 23-14 setback that clinched the 1973 Southeastern Conference championship for the Wildcats.

A Milan victory over Chelsea would have given them a chance to gain a share of the SEC title by beating Novi tomorrow (Friday) when the two teams meet in the final game of the season.

But Chelsea put an end to whatever title hopes the Big Reds may have harbored by transforming three pass interceptions into touchdowns for a 23-14 victory.

Milan moved out in front 8-0 on a 15-yard Rod Cranston to Mike Keeler touchdown pass in the first quarter. Chelsea came back to gain a 15-8 halftime lead on touchdown runs of one and eight yards by Ron Kiel and John Poole.

A two-yard run by Milan's Kevin Keefe in the third quarter narrowed Chelsea's lead to 15-14, but the Bulldogs regained their comfortable margin on a 64-yard Randy Guenther to Paul Wood scoring pass.

Chelsea's victory moved them into second place ahead of Milan which fell to third. Saline tightened its grip on fourth place by edging sixth-place Brighton 12-6.

Doug Peck's three-yard run in the first quarter and Kevin Feldkamp's seven yard dash in the third period provided the Hornets with all the scoring they needed to down Brighton which was limited to 110 yards of total offense.

Quarterback Tony Kern led South Lyon to a 35-13 triumph over winless Dexter by tossing a pair of touchdown passes and running for another.

After tallying the Lions first TD on a six-yard run in the first quarter, Kern hit Dan Cheresko with a 30-yard scoring pass in the second period and Dave Hartman with a 34-yard TD pass in the third quarter.

Gal Swimmers Lose

Regardless of the sex of the competitors, Northville and Farmington Harrison always seem to end up in a battle for supremacy of Western Six Conference swimming.

It had always happened in boys' swimming and now the same confrontation is taking place between the Northville and Harrison girls' teams.

The Farmington girls won the first battle of the 1973 season last Thursday as they stroked to a narrow 44-39 triumph over the Mustangs in dual meet competition. It was the second loss in seven outings this season for the Northville girls and marked their first loss to a Western Six competitor.

The Mustang swimmers are hoping to avenge the loss to the Harrison girls in the conference championships which get underway this afternoon (Thursday) in the Harrison pool.

Tracey Piscopink was the top Northville performer in the 44-39 loss to Harrison last week as she personally accounted for two of the four Northville first place finishes and had a hand in the third as she anchored the 200 yard medley relay team.

Piscopink won the 200 and 100 yard freestyle events after anchoring the team of Lori Holland, Sandy Bacsanyi, and Lisa VanNingen to victory in the medley relay.

Northville's other first place finish was recorded by Holland who won the 100 yard backstroke.

Wildcat of the Week

ERIC HANSOR

Wildcat of the Week honors go to Eric Hansor. The 5-9, 160 pound Novi running back smashed the school record as he rushed for 237 yards and three touchdowns in 28 carries against Ypsilanti Lincoln. "I knew Eric was going to be a good running back before the season started," commented John Osborne. "But he's turned out to be exceptional."

Harriers 2nd in League Meet

Everything considered, it was a pretty good week for the Northville cross-country team.

After finishing second in the Western Six Conference championship meet on the Hickory Hills golf course a week ago Tuesday, the Mustang harriers came back to finish a highly respectable fifth in the Class A regionals at Cass Benton Saturday.

"All in all, I'd have to say I was extremely pleased with the way the team performed," commented Ralph Redmond, the Northville coach.

"Frankly, we had hope for something a little better than second place in the league meet, but we were forced to compete with a crippled line-up and I think our boys did well to come in as well as they did."

As far as the regional performance was concerned, Redmond was even more pleased.

"We were in there with some of the top Class A teams in the state and we finished fifth out of 19 teams," he reported.

"We came in ahead of schools like Southfield Lathrup, Livonia Franklin, Southfield, Ferndale, Hazel Park, North Farmington, Farmington, Thurston, Redford Union, and Detroit Redford. That's pretty classy company."

Northville's chances to upset Livonia Churchill and win the Western Six championship were extremely thin to begin with and when Tom Coram, the top Mustang runner, was ruled out of the

One Miss Cops 1st In Contest

Byron Brown of Plymouth, frequent winner in past weeks, came through with a near perfect contest entry last week to win the $10 first place money.

Brown missed just one game—Michigan State's three-point, 10-7 edge over Purdue in the Big Ten.

The second and third place winners each missed two games, and the second place position was determined by the tie-breaker game between Detroit and Green Bay.

Taking second was Jim Dales of 18715 Sheldon, while Jean Coolman of 717 Spring Drive won third place. Jean was 31 points off the actual score (34-0) and Jim missed it by 27 points.

Fifteen contestants submitted entries with just three mistakes. They were:

John Holdsworth, George Gougeon, Ben Duguid, Bob Brown, Tony Adamowicz, Sandy Adamowicz, June Fasang, Jerry Cole, Joyce Regentik, E. W. Brown, David Kleckner, Diane Horwath, Anne Fitzpatrick, Bruce Jerome, and Rich Coolman.

Most missed games by contestants included State's victory, Notre Dame's 28-14 triumph over Southern California, and Colorado's 17-13 win over Missouri.

REPLAY

with Chuck Shonta

Chuck Shonta sat quietly in a corner of the coaches' dressing room and shook his head dejectedly as he scanned down the sheet of statistics.

After a long silence, he finally spoke.

"We outlasted them, we outplayed them, and we out hit them. Shoot, we pure and simply outplayed them. We did everything but beat them on the scoreboard and when you get all done - that's the only statistic that counts."

"We were shooting for this game," the Northville coach continued. "We wanted to take third place behind Mott and Churchill and it's a little hard to accept defeat after your kids have put out so much and actually beaten the other team on the field."

In spite of Northville's substantial statistical edge, the outcome of the game was not really a fluke and it didn't take an expert to pinpoint the difference in the 14-7 Farmington Harrison victory.

"Turnovers are what beat us," stated Shonta. "Harrison has a real fine football team - they held Mott scoreless until the fourth quarter and they would have tied Churchill except for a controversial touchdown with 15 seconds left in the game."

"We were two pretty evenly matched football teams and when you turn the ball over to a team like that five times it just doesn't make much difference how much you outplay them offensively or defensively."

"You don't turn the ball over five times and win football games."

Once again Shonta heaped praise on the play of his defensive unit.

"I think we've got one of the toughest defenses around," he stated. "I wouldn't trade them; I think our kids are as good as anybody else's defense, and that includes Mott and Churchill."

"I'm not the only one who thinks that way either," the Mustang mentor continued. "John Harrington (the Harrison head coach) told me after the game that we were the toughest team they've played all year."

"He (Harrington) told me that his kids were coming off the field and saying that our team had the hardest hitters they've faced this season."

Particularly singled out for praise was Jim Porterfield, the Mustangs' outstanding 6-1, 210-pound senior defensive tackle.

"Harrington told me that Porterfield was the best tackle he's seen," the Northville coach reported. "He said they gave up trying to run against his side of the line. The Churchill coach told me exactly the same thing last week."

"There are some outstanding tackles in the Western Six. Harrison has Dave Wallington and Churchill has Don Forrest, but Jimmy went up against both of them and beat them. In my opinion he's the best tackle around, bar none."

Northville had to play the Hawks with half of their starting offensive backfield on the sidelines. Eric Lampella, the sophomore quarterback, is sidelined for two weeks with pneumonia and Tom Dooley, the Mustangs' rugged running back, is out for the season with torn ligaments in his knee.

"We put Bill McDonald in at quarterback and John Sherman in at halfback and I thought both of them did good jobs," said Shonta.

"But I think one of the reasons our offense didn't go was because it was the first time either one of them has started for us this year. I'm not saying they didn't do the job, but I think you could see the difference."

The loss to Harrison brought the 1973 Western Six season to a close and Shonta termed it a key year for the Mustangs. "This is the year we finally came of age in the Western Six," he said. "We finally proved we can play against Western Six competition. The other schools know it and, more importantly, our own kids know it."

"We've got two games left this year," Shonta noted, "and we have a chance to finish with better than a .500 record if we win them both. We've got some seniors on this team who've worked hard to make people respect Northville in football and I think our kids are going to be motivated to take a 2-0 record into next year."

Jane Stubenvoll, a 1971 graduate of Northville High School, has earned a position on the women's varsity volleyball team at Grand Valley State College.

A junior, Stubenvoll is entering her third year of participation in the sport. While focusing on volleyball, she has also been active in softball and basketball and is a physical education major.

Grand Valley is a member of the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Mott Bombs Churchill

Sparked by Mike Grace and Greg Aldrich, Waterford Mott snapped Livonia Churchill's 15-game winning streak and claimed the 1973 Western Six Conference championship in a season-ending, showdown battle last Friday.

Coach George Perry's Corsairs left little doubt about who should be conference champion as they ran roughshod over the defending Western Six champions in piling up a decisive 40-7 triumph.

The situation was virtually identical to last year when the two teams entered the final game of the season with perfect records. The Chargers won that 1972 confrontation by a score of 12-0 to claim the conference crown and put the only blemish on Mott's 8-1 season's record.

Grace and Aldrich, who practically wrapped up All-Conference berths with their performances against Churchill, more than avenged that loss. Grace tossed four touchdown passes - two of them to Bob Swindell, another strong candidate for All-Conference honors - and Aldrich carried the ball 21 times for 173 yards and two TDs.

It was the first time any team has ever scored as many as 40 points against the stalwart Churchill defense in the five-year history of the school and the first time any back has rushed for more than 100 yards in the Charger's last 16 games.

Mott led 6-0 at the half on a 23-yard pass from Grace to Blaise Saffron with 44 seconds left in the second quarter and then went on to break the game open in the second half.

Grace completed 13 of 19 passes for 174 yards and the Mott defense limited Churchill to 68 yards rushing and 52 yards passing.

The Mott-Churchill clash was one of three position-determining games as the 1973 Western Six season closed last week. While Harrison was edging Northville in the battle for third and fourth places, winless Walled Lake Western was defeating winless Plymouth Canton in the race for fifth and sixth places.

Fleet halfback Jeff Parrish raced for touchdowns on runs of 43, 24, 21, and 28 yards as he paced the Warriors to a wild 42-33 triumph. Parrish finished the game with 220 yards on 17 carries.

The Chargers took six of the top seven positions to make a shambles of the meet and dominate the all-conference team.

Churchill finished first in the league with just 16 points. Northville's second place total of 76 was 20 better than Waterford Mott's third place total of 96 points. Walled Lake Western was fourth with 104 points, Plymouth Canton fifth with 118 points, and Farmington Harrison sixth with 122 points.

The Mustangs had Coram back when they went into their first Class A regionals Saturday and the senior distance ace combined forces with Kofler to pace the Mustangs to their fifth place.

Kofler finished 24th in the field of 133 runners, while Coram was right behind him in 26th place.

Livonia Stevenson won the regionals with a team total of 48 points. Livonia Bentley (70 points), Catholic Central (80 points), and Churchill (108 points) all finished ahead of Northville which was fifth with 198 points.

Northville's Girl Netters Claim Western Six Title

Al Jones' golfers were the first Northville team to win a Western Six Conference championship this year, but the second Northville squad to claim a conference title was Uta Filkin's girls' tennis team.

The Northville girls won the championship with a strong showing in the conference meet at Plymouth Canton last week.

During the dual meet portion of the season, the Mustang girl netters had posted a 3-1 record to share the lead with Farmington Harrison and Livonia Churchill who also had 3-1 marks.

But with the championship pending on the outcome of the conference meet, the Northville girls came through with flying colors. The Mustang girls piled up 17 points to outdistance all their competitors.

A surprising Walled Lake

Western squad finished second in the meet with 12 points, while Harrison was third with 10 points, Churchill fourth with five points, and Canton fifth with two points.

The Northville girls won the team championship on the basis of overall depth. Though failing to win either the individual singles or doubles crowns, the Mustangs had three of the four semi-finalists in the singles competition and one of the two finalists in the doubles competition.

Freshman Becky Albus, the number two Northville player, was defeated by Western's Ann Mead for the singles championship, while Harrison's top-seeded doubles team of Linda Kovan and Hildy Randolph defeated Northville's Muriel Bedford and Carol Weber for the doubles title.

Albus gained the finals by upsetting teammate Martha Whiteside, a junior, in her semi-finals slot before being eliminated by Western's Mead, the eventual conference champion.

JIM PORTERFIELD

Mustang of the Week

For the second consecutive week, Jim Porterfield has been named Mustang of the Week. "You should see the game films," said Chuck Shonta. "Jimmy went up against one of the toughest tackles around and just ate him up. The Harrison coach calls his tackle the best college prospect he's ever had and Porterfield really did a job against him."

VOICE

An update of happenings at the Village Oaks Elementary School indicates that during the summer vacation months there were many dedicated volunteers who used their talents and efforts on many projects for the playground. There were also many businessmen who helped with finances and their equipment. As a result on October 30, a playground Appreciation Assembly was held in the school with all the children present to honor those who were involved in the playground project.

At the October 9 board meeting, VOICE voted to sponsor a Junior Girl Scout troop. Plans also were made for the November 8 general membership meeting scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. Peggy Clark, physical education teacher, will involve several children in a visual demonstration of the Physical Education Program in the elementary school. "Come and see how the parachute is used in the program," urges VOICE.

Novi Police Probe

*At that meeting the council was presented with the evidence compiled by the police department.

Official reaction from the council, investigating officers, and administrative officials about the suspension is one of secrecy.

In his prepared statement, Saunders noted that "we will have no further comment until the situation warrants such comment."

The phrase being used most frequently by those close to the investigation is "we have no way of determining where or how far our investigation will lead us."

One councilman commented, however, that the charges "could be very serious."

Questioned by The Novi News following Monday's announcement, Saunders stated that as far as municipal employees are concerned the investigation involves only building department personnel. When asked if the investigation includes any members of the city council, Saunders answered "no". Bailey, who was present at the council's executive session Sunday, is presumably excluded from the investigation.

Asked if any organization outside of the city government might be involved, Saunders replied that he did not know where the investigation would lead.

Saunders and Nelson were again questioned by The Novi News Tuesday morning.

Nelson stated that other law enforcement agencies are assisting the Novi Police in the investigation, but declined to reveal which agencies were involved.

Nelson supported Saunders' indication that it was only recently that new information has been discovered.

"We've been investigating the matter for some time, but it has only been recently that we've really begun to move as far as names, dates, places, and documents are concerned," said Nelson. "From the standpoint of documentation, the investigation has really just started."

My Position...

So far in "Meet the Candidates", no major issues have appeared. Apparently, the election will be decided on:

1. K & B Basements
2. Zoning
3. Communications
4. "It's fun"

K & B should be required to fence the open basements with a substantial fence for their protection as well as ours.

I would not support a moratorium or a $50,000 master plan change. To do so is to say the Zoning Board doesn't know what they are doing. Zoning is a growing thing and everytime we hold a public hearing we are "studying the area".

As a member of two Charter Commissions, four Incorporation Commissions, and twice president of the Board of Commerce, I find the hardest thing to do is get the interest of the people you are trying to serve.

Any citizen can attend all meetings, get all the minutes for the asking and easiest of all, subscribe to The Novi News.

Sure, "it's fun". I have attended more of the meetings at the City, Village and Township than any other candidate. I have a large investment in Novi and I find the affairs of the City very interesting.

It is a serious business, too. The decisions of the council involve the lives of many people and millions of dollars. These decisions should be made by councilmen who know what the score is.

In my opinion the serious issues along with zoning are:

- Roads
- Representation
- Enforcement

I would propose the implementation of a master road and drainage plan for all of Novi.

I would propose a charter revision to provide a district system for electing councilmen to give representation to ALL of Novi and to remove the penalty on a councilman who wants to run for mayor.

I believe we have good ordinances which represent a lot of work. We should enforce the ones we have rather than write a new one every two weeks.

STARS AT MERCY—The gabby lady who doesn't take a deep breath in this scene with a would-be Don Juan is Mary Beth Comito of Novi, the Don Juan is Ralph Maffongelli. They appear in the Mercy College of Detroit production of "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" at 8 p.m. Friday through Sunday, November 2-4 in McAuley Auditorium on campus at West Outer Drive and Southfield. Miss Comito is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Comito. She graduated from Our Lady of Mercy High School and was awarded a Mercy College of Detroit speech and drama scholarship.

at Schoolcraft College, says anyone answering in the affirmative will want to see the three one-act plays to be presented November 8 through 11 at the college. They are "Lithuania," "The Man with the Rope," and "The Gourmet."

The plays will be presented in the Schoolcraft College Liberal Arts Theater at 8 p.m. the first three dates, and at 7 p.m. on November 11. Tickets for all performances are $1.50 and may be purchased at the campus bookstore and the student activities office.

Dr. Rudick describes "Lithuania," by American author Rupert Brooke, as a play set in the country of Lithuania involving a poor, hard-working family that takes in a visitor for the night. "What happens in the course of the evening will keep you in suspense and wonder." The cast includes Kenneth Kilpatrick (Livonia), Don Lieber (Livonia), Diane Graham (Detroit), Jaheane Reynders (Northville), Michael Nemchik (Livonia), Dennis Saltarelli (Livonia), and Lee Snider (Livonia).

A second play, "The Man with the Rope," has Miss Jackson, the leading character, decorating her workroom with pictures wherein a woman has been able to destroy men who think they are strong. It's a tale of women trying to take care of men by removing their heads or their oxygen.

There is a suggestion of the dance of Salome, but the intrigue revolves about the 'man' with the rope and some dire consequences. Students in the cast are Christine Bohrer (Detroit), Mary Jane Mank (Livonia), Denise Hyatt (Livonia), and Diane Graham (Detroit).

BRING MAC BACK!

We've lived around Wixom long enough to remember when Wes McAtee was our Mayor.

That was from 1962 until 1970. You might call us "old timers". But we'd rather think of ourselves as just plain citizens of Wixom who are concerned about our community and its future.

WE REMEMBER the activity and the spirit of community togetherness and cooperation as the new city of Wixom planned for its future. And as we look back now, we honestly believe that Wes McAtee was the catalyst that sparked this vitality.

WE FEAR that our present leadership ponders problems so long that they become crises. We want to return to good planning and action.

Plan Center for Retarded

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

What is success? In 1923, a group of the world's most successful financiers met in a Chicago Hotel. Present were: the presidents of the largest independent steel company and the largest utility company, the great wheat speculator, the then president of the New York Stock Exchange, a member of the president's cabinet, the greatest "bear" on Wall Street, the president of the Bank of International Settlements and the head of the world's greatest monopoly.

Collectively these tycoons controlled more wealth than was in the United States Treasury. Their success stories urged the youth of America to follow their examples. Let's look in on them 26 years later.

The president of the steel company lived on borrowed money the last five years of his life and died penniless. The wheat speculator died overseas insolvent. The president of the New York Stock Exchange served time in Sing Sing Prison. The cabinet member was pardoned from prison so he could die at home. The Wall Street "bear", the president of the Bank of Settlements, and the head of the world's greatest monopoly all committed suicide.

All these men learned how to make money but not one of them had learned how to live. The Bible says, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

Would Serve Northville

A Community Living Center for mentally retarded individuals is in the planning stage, the Northwest Communities Association for Retarded Children announces. It will serve Livonia, Northville, Plymouth, Redford and Garden City.

It is being planned, the association explains, not as an institution, but as a supervised home with residents still eligible for any benefits they now enjoy, such as social services, workshops, schools and recreation.

The difference would be that the person was living away from home. The center is being planned to alleviate parental concerns for handicapped persons' care as they and families grow older. The association points out the center is being designed for children who are not now involved in programs.

As the State of Michigan requires a list of potential residents of the facility as soon as possible, the planners are asking interested area residents to contact Barbara Collins, 837-4293, or Diane James, 822-8332, as soon as possible.

Schoolcraft Schedules French Film

Schoolcraft's Student Activities Board has scheduled the French film "Two English Girls" for day and evening showings on November 12, 13, 15 and 16.

Directed by Francois Truffaut, the film has been hailed as a "gem" by the New York Times, and "a film of refined intelligence" by the New York Daily News. Newsweek called it "slyly comic, elegiac, bittersweet."

"Two English Girls" will be shown in Schoolcraft's Liberal Arts Theater at 10 a.m. November 12 and 15; 7 p.m. November 12; 8 p.m. November 13 and 15, and 10 p.m. November 15. The last two showings will be held in Upper Waterman Center.

Admission is 50 cents for Schoolcraft students with valid I.D., and $1 for the general public.

State Approves Novi Water Bonds

Attorney General Frank Kelly, chairman of the Michigan Finance Commission, has announced that the Commission has approved $130,000 of 1973 Special Assessment Water Bonds for the City of Novi.

According to Kelly, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to defray the cost of water improvements; specifically, the installation of the Grand River-Seeley Road Water Main.

The bonds are payable from special assessments against the special assessment district.

The following fees are also to be paid from the bond proceeds: $1,075 to the bond attorney and $500 to the local attorney.

Leaf Burning Prohibited

Burning of leaves and refuse is prohibited in Wayne County, Northville Township Police Chief Ron Nisun reminded residents this week.

"People who burn leaves will be cited for a violation of the law," Nisun said. He added that the Wayne County Pollution Control Bureau will not issue permits for burning leaves, either.

Nisun urged people to either make arrangements for having leaves hauled away or to use them for mulch.

Gene Wagner for Northville Council

...“an imaginative, dedicated leader...”

introducing Gene Wagner

A native of Dearborn, Gene Wagner has always been active in civic and community affairs. He has served as President of the Civitan Club of Dearborn where he initiated the successful “Kick Out Cancer” campaign and as vice-president of the Dearborn Heights Jaycees.

Gene has also chaired Dearborn's United Foundation (135 percent of quota) and served on the Dearborn Heights Blue Ribbon Salary Study Committee. Politically, Gene was a candidate for Mayor of Dearborn in 1960 and in 1966 campaigned for state representative.

A successful businessman who has introduced and holds patents on coin operated games and teaching machines, Gene is the president of Target International Coin Corporation. He is a director of Northville Square Merchants Association and a member of two area chambers of commerce.

Before entering the business world Gene attended Notre Dame University, Black Hills State and the University of Maryland; served with the United States Army in Europe; and taught and coached in the Westland School system.

Gene's civic interest is natural as his father served 14 years as President of the Dearborn Businessmen's Association, the forerunner of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Wagner's have been residents of Northville for the past six years. Like her husband, Joyce Wagner is active in the community. She is a neighborhood chairman, active in the United Foundation and Cancer Society and is the program chairman for O.L.V.'s Parent Teacher Organization.

Included among the many references for Gene Wagner are: Ralph Giv Jr., U. S. District Attorney, 10th District Judge, Leo K. Foran and the International President of the Civitans, William Pearson.

With Your Support November 6,
Gene Wagner Will Work Toward:

- A total “motif” for the business center to maintain and promote the unique character of Northville
- A close look at crime and drugs and how best we can attack these problems
- A better rapport with our youth, recognizing their rights and responsibilities
- A break for our Senior Citizens
- Encouraging cultural activities in the community and possibly Northville Downs

The community drive was begun in the wake of curtailment of extra-curricular activities following several millage defeats.
...Waterford School, the last one-room schoolhouse owned by the Northville School District, went up in flames Thursday night. Hit by repeated acts of vandalism, the building was torched by the fire department at the request of school officials.

...Novi topped its United Foundation goal by raising $1,583, $30 over the amount anticipated.

Troopers Launch Drive To Permit Bargaining

Michigan State Police Troopers Association (MSPTA) will launch a statewide petition drive today, Thursday, to change the Michigan Constitution to allow collective bargaining for troopers and sergeants. MSPTA President Gene L. Wriggelsworth reports.

"All we want is a chance to get on the November 5, 1974 General Election ballot," Wriggelsworth said, "and let the people of Michigan decide whether they want an outstanding police agency to have the same wage setting rights as local police and firemen in Michigan."

The proposed amendment applies only to the method of setting wages, fringe benefits and similar areas and would not take troopers and sergeants out of the Michigan Civil Service.

"One does not take lightly an attempt to change the Michigan Constitution," Wriggelsworth said. "However, years of frustration with Civil Service's neglect of our police officers' salaries and benefits has reached a boiling point. "We do not approve of "Blue Flu" techniques, nor do we believe in the right of police to strike," Wriggelsworth said. "Therefore, we are saying to the people of this state, we feel this is a constructive change, we feel this is a better legal and proper way."

A recent survey of 60 public police jurisdictions in Michigan indicates that the State Trooper was 34th in pay compared to the better paying agencies, and over $2,000 a year behind the top salaried patrolman in Michigan. A five year salary comparison of 45 local police agencies indicates local police salaries have increased an average of 48 per cent while troopers' salaries have increased only 35 per cent. "If this trend continues, trooper will soon become one of the lowest paid police professionals in Michigan," Wriggelsworth said. The Civil Service Commission's own wage setting board, (Compensation Advisory Board) recognized this pay and fringe problem in 1972 and reported out special rates for the State Police, yet the Commission ignored those recommendations. "This year, we had only one MSPTA member out of some 50 employees on five wage and fringe committees and no vote on the Compensation Advisory Board," Wriggelsworth said. "Our lack of input into the wage setting process, the indifferent attitude of the Civil Service Commission, and the total disregard for the hazards our men face daily has left us with no other alternative," Wriggelsworth concluded.

Retain Romaine ROETHEL

Novi City Council

November 6, 1973

Let Your Voice Be Heard
Romaine Roethel Will Listen!

Pd. Pol. Adv.

To Novi Voters... from Joseph Crupi

In this coming election, I cannot promise to do more, or exercise any better discretion or judgment than I have in the approximate twelve years since 1960 of serving you as Village Council President and Mayor.

I can promise you to continue my efforts with the help of the other councilmen and our citizen's advisory boards to make Novi a viable and desirable community in which any citizen would want to reside.

Regardless what my opponent may promise, let me stress that the Mayor is but one of seven councilmen with the privilege of chairing the Council meetings and acting in many cases as a mediator between opposing views. The decisions are made by the Council as a body and not by the Mayor. However, I believe that I have brought to the Council more than my share of progressive and problem-solving ideas.

If there is one attribute that a councilman (and particularly the Mayor) must have, apart from saying he represents all citizens, the attribute must be that of viewing all problems objectively and, in fact, standoffishly. He must view each problem for the good of the whole community, though unpopular with a few citizens who see the matter subjectively and a feared threat to them personally. I cannot recall where a feared threat about an action taken by the Council has materialized to the economic or other well-being detriment of our citizens.

I stand for strong advisory citizen's committees and boards and usually support them because I feel that a councilman must have input of cross-sectional recommendations from others who are not part of a sectional provocative issue. The councilmen, however, must be responsible for the final decision.

Those of you who have had first-hand knowledge of my actions know that I express myself strongly to the point of alienating some citizens if that is what is required for the particular case. At the same time, I have run a town hall type of meeting with almost no limit of debate to afford a full expression from those appearing before the Council. I have been criticized for this, but I do not like "cut and dried" meetings or decisions or closed meetings. I believe that a person's position or statement must stand the scrutiny of the public, and consequently I do not favor closed meetings. The newspapers can attest to the fact that they are always welcome to our few closed meetings involving sensitive matters such as personnel and union negotiations to protect public interest against any shenanigans.

THIS, WITHOUT ANY FLYERS, SIGNS OR OTHER FANFARE, IS MY WHOLE CAMPAIGN. I THEREFORE ASK EACH OF YOU WHO KNOW ME TO CALL YOUR FRIENDS AND HAVE THEM CALL OTHERS, ETC. TO VOTE IN MY BEHALF.

In the event I am not returned to office, I wish to extend my thanks and gratitude for allowing me the privilege of being your representative for twelve formative years of our community.

Sincerely,
Joseph Crupi

"People turn to the Yellow Pages when they want specific answers."

"That's what we think and that's why we list many of our special sign services in our ad," continues Mr. Loren Whitcomb, Whitcomb Sign Co., 7636 West Road, Washington. "With few exceptions, people don't have a definite idea of what they want. Quite often potential customers call and ask about items like displays, plaques, silk screen, pin striping, electrical signs, etc. We take this as a sign they're probably looking at our Yellow Pages ad. By explaining our services I feel the Yellow Pages has a definite place in our total advertising program."

"Our Yellow Pages ad outproduces all of our other advertising 3 to 1," says Mrs. Rene Clark, Country Estate Mobile Homes, Inc., 58220 W. Eight Mile Rd., Northville. "It's our best advertising investment. Since we've had our ad, our business has increased by 50%! I think some business people overlook the fact that the Yellow Pages maintains a hard-hitting and effective ad campaign of its own. But we only have to look at our results to know that the campaign is really paying off in the form of more business for us."

Mr. Hershel Stuart, Federal Hardware and Supply, 29080 Southfield Rd., Southfield recommends Yellow Pages advertising highly. "My program includes display ads in the North Woodward and East Area Directories. These ads pull in literally hundreds of calls for fireplace fixtures, resulting in sales ranging from $20 to $200. I also receive a great deal of response from our ad at the 'Hardware' heading. This ad produces both calls and walk-in business."

A lot of sales help, that's what the Yellow Pages gives Mr. Chester Podgorny, Venoy Realty Co., 32508 Michigan Ave., Wayne. "During the past 16 years we have found Yellow Pages advertising a very efficient way to attract potential real estate customers. The calls we get from the Yellow Pages are regarded as very important because these buyers are in the market now. We began with a half-page display ad. After we became established we switched to a smaller ad. However, we noticed a definite decrease in leads from the Yellow Pages and decided to return to the half-page ad we carry today."

Report Rabid Bats In Wayne County

Not since September of 1965 has there been a confirmed case of animal rabies in Wayne County. Now, within the last two months three confirmed rabies positive bats have been discovered in Wayne County.

Fortunately, no human was bitten in any of the three cases.

According to Dr. Val Vangieson of Wixom, veterinarian for the Wayne County Health Department, the disease is 100 percent fatal in all animals, including humans.

Dr. Vangieson explained, "These recent findings of rabid bats should be viewed with concern by residents of Wayne County, particularly in the out-county area where the potential exposure to wild animal life increases."

"Children should be advised by their parents not to pick up, touch or go near any animal, tame or wild, that acts peculiarly, particularly a wild animal, who by nature will avoid people," Dr. Vangieson warned.

Wild animals with a history of carrying the deadly disease virus are bats, skunks and foxes.

Dr. Vangieson further recommends that all dogs and cats be vaccinated against rabies, particularly those pets who have a greater chance of contacting a wild animal. He also emphasized that if a person receives an animal bite which punctures the skin, that the suspected rabid animal be secured either dead or alive, for observation and testing if necessary.

A physician should be immediately contacted after the bite. In the event that the suspected animal is difficult to contain, the local animal control officer should be contacted," he concluded.

Willis, Planners Spar on Consultants administration." Lahde called Tuesday night's procedure "highly unprofessional and totally unethical". He said that someone had provided Community Planning with the proposal. Green termed the situation "unfair", both noting that the Vilcan-Leman proposal was not "standard" and had been drafted by Leman. They said Community Planning's proposal was identical. Mayor Willis denied that the firm he had invited to the meeting had been provided anything other than a letter.

He also called upon his administrative assistant, William Travis, who supported the mayor's statement.

Both Kilroy for Community Planning and Mears for Parkins-Rogers agreed during their respective, separate presentations, that it would be difficult to have two planners for the same city the size of Wixom. Further, it has been indicated by planners that Vilcan-Leman would not continue if its master plan were turned over to another consultant for updating.

While Kilroy suggested a proposal along with fee schedules for his firm to do all the city's planning work, Mears declined to bid for any work other than the updating as requested by the city stating that he considered it unprofessional until the council decided it was seeking a new consultant.

Both firms agreed to do the updating for the same fee quoted by Vilcan-Leman, some $13,000.

Mayor Willis noted that the price had been known for years and that it was public information as a part of the budget.

Councilman Frederick Morehead said he was not as concerned with cost as he was getting the best possible plan. "I've heard a lot of new ideas here tonight", he stated.

Mrs. Ware refuted this statement saying that she had not heard anything new that had not been proposed by the present planner. She chided the council for criticizing the planning commission and suggested that if they attended planning meetings they would know "how hard we work". She read the council the planning commission's next agenda and invited them to attend. "but I know you won't."

With Councilman Dingeldey opposing, the council voted to turn the latest updating proposals over to the planning commission for study.

Mrs. Stipp noted that the turnout of close to 50 percent in that election was boosted by a millage issue.

In Wixom, City Clerk June Buck reported the city has 1,385 registered voters. In the last city election in 1970, 686 of 934 registered voters (73 percent) showed up at the polls. In the August primary this past summer, however, 504 of 1,323 registered voters (38 percent) cast ballots.

Miss Buck predicted a turnout of close to 65 percent for the upcoming election.

NHS Schedules P-T Conferences

Parent-teacher conferences will be held at Northville High School one evening and two afternoons, Principal Fred Holdsworth announced.

On Tuesday, November 13, conferences will be held from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Conference times for Wednesday, November 14, and Tuesday, November 20, will be from 3 to 6 p.m.

Parents do not have to make appointments, Holdsworth said, and may come to the school anytime during the hours scheduled. Teachers will be in the cafeteria area, grouped by

They Spell Success

Novi's VanWagner brothers - Tom and Jim - continue to play key roles in the success of the Michigan Tech football team.

Both VanWagners were singled out by the Tech coaching staff last week for their contributions to a 38-6 victory over Bemidji State. Jim, a freshman tailback who led Novi to the SEC championship last fall, had the finest day of his college career as he carried the ball 21 times for 133 yards and a touchdown. The TD came on a 21-yard gallop in the first period and opened the scoring for the Huskies.

Tom, a sophomore guard, has been the Huskies' most consistent lineman and received an 80 percent grading for carrying out his blocking assignments, marking the seventh consecutive week that he had done so. A 70 percent mark is considered good for an offensive lineman.

She Helps Homecoming At MSU

Judy Bogart of Charlevoix is helping to make Michigan State University's November 3rd Homecoming a success.

Miss Bogart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bogart, is head of the 1973 Homecoming Committee. A senior at MSU majoring in health education, she is a 1970 graduate of Northville High School, Northville.

The general theme of Homecoming is an Oktoberfest, the ancient German celebration of the harvest. There will be the traditional bonfire with the Spartan Marching Band performing, and a pop concert.

After the homecoming game between MSU and Wisconsin, Jenison Field House will host Oktoberfest festivities with German food and music, arts and crafts shows, a flea market and an antique show.

There will also be a kissing marathon, polka and sauerkraut eating contests.

SENATOR CARL PURSELL

'David and Lisa'

NHS to Present Play

"David and Lisa" will be presented by Northville High School students Wednesday, November 28, through Saturday, December 1.

Adapted from a novel by psychiatrist Theodore Rubin and with a screenplay by Eleanor Perry, "David and Lisa" is an award-winning motion picture.

The play retells, by use of the most modern stage techniques, the story of two mentally disturbed adolescents.

David, the only son of wealthy parents and over-protected by a dominating mother, is tortured by his mania against being touched. Lisa, the wait who has never known parental love, has developed a split personality and is, in effect, two different girls.

The play follows David and Lisa during the course of one term at Berkley School where they have come under the sympathetic and understanding guidance of psychiatrist Alan Swinford and his staff.

Eric Egeland has been cast as David, while Diana Dye and Devon Glenn will alternate in the part of Lisa.

Patti Aenchbacher will play Mrs. Clemons; Jim Echols, Porter; Chris Holland, secretary; Jim Porterfield, Dr. Alan Swinford; Lynn Murray, Mrs. Ferris; and Kathy Herold, Maureen Hart.

Also included in the cast are Leslie Abitz as Josette; Jerry Peterson, Carlos; Carolyn Calmes, Sandra; Ted Slabey, Simon; Peggy Sitarski and Nancy Karrer as Kate; Jenny McLaren, Barbara; and David Kalota, Robert.

Keith Price will be seen as Ben; Brian Miller, Dr. John; David Sparling; Mr. Clemons; Sally Johnson, environment protection branch of the Department of Natural Resources," said Senator Pursell.

"This Authority, comprising four members appointed by the governor and the Directors of the departments of Natural Resources, Public Health and Commerce, and the State Treasurer, would be empowered to plan, construct, finance and operate solid waste collection, disposal, volume reduction and resources recovery facilities considered necessary to carry out local and regional solid waste management plans.

"It would provide solid waste management resources to municipalities, and regions through contractual arrangements.

"The bill also provides that the authority would use private enterprises to implement the solid waste management plan and would help in development of related industries.

"The Authority would assist in efforts toward source separation for recycling and would be empowered to acquire any property necessary to carry out its responsibilities. Such property would be exempt from local controls."

Senator Pursell said he had talked with top executives of Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Consumers Motor, Detroit Edison and other industrial giants and they expressed much enthusiasm for the proposed authority.

The senator said he had worked closely with officials of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce in formulating the proposed authority.

"We have been working on this for six months with local, municipal, county and state officials and we feel it will provide overall coordination between governmental and private sectors in a concerted drive to clean up our environment," said Senator Pursell.

"Connecticut already is working on a somewhat similar Authority plan and hopes by 1984 to convert 85 per cent of the state's residential, agricultural and industrial solid wastes into fuel, electricity, and reusable materials.

"Connecticut expects to operate 10 regional collection and recovery centers, the first of which at Bridgeport is scheduled to be started next year. The Bridgeport plant is expected to recover 72,000 tons of iron and steel, 47,000 tons of glass, 4,000 tons of aluminum, and the energy equivalent of 650,000 barrels of oil.

"I see no reason why Michigan should not be able to implement such a comprehensive resources recovery program through this bill."

We don't think you should have to wait around for an auto loan.

So we cut down on the red tape and traditional procedures you have to wade through when you get an auto loan from most other places.

And came up with an idea called on-the-spot loan approval. It means your loan gets approved fast.

Because all our branch managers have the authority to approve loans themselves. So you don't have to sit around while the person you're dealing with calls somebody else for approval.

We handle all our other loans quickly and efficiently, too.

Handling them any other way would just be a waste of time.
