"GET THE BIBS READY, it's time for pancakes and syrup again," according to American Legionnaires who Sunday will mark Veterans Day with its traditional community pancake breakfast. The breakfast as usual will be held at the Post 147 headquarters, corner of Dunlap and Center, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

WHODUNIT? That's what Northville Post Office officials are wondering after an 18 x 23 inch picture of President Richard Nixon disappeared from the building. The framed photograph was removed from the post office sometime between noon Saturday and 9 a.m. Monday.

UPON RECOMMENDATION of the planning commission, the city council approved a new contract for retaining Ronald Nino as the city's planning consultant at a monthly fee of $300.

COUNCILMAN Paul Vernon has been named chairman of a special city committee, appointed by Mayor A. M. Allen, to consider the township's public safety proposal. Serving with Vernon will be Councilman David Biery and City Manager Steven Walters.

AMBULANCE quarters are expected to switch next week from the temporary location on Randolph Street to the city-owned property on the west side of Northville Laboratory near Rogers and Seven Mile Road.

A RESOLUTION designating the Northville Historical Society as the city's representative in connection with activities of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission was unanimously adopted by the city council Monday.

PETITION by citizens in the Base Line-Grace Street area for stop signs on Base Line to slow down traffic has been referred to the police department for review and recommendation. Citizens made their request because of the hazardous traffic conditions through this residential area, spokesmen said.

A LETTER lauding Interim City Manager A. Russell Clarke was unanimously endorsed by the city council this week. The letter reads: "The Northville City Council by unanimous vote extends heartfelt thanks to you for serving as interim city manager between August 20 and October 8, 1973. The entire community owes you an undying debt of gratitude for the excellent administration of city affairs during that period and for your many other unselfish services through the years. We commend you for a job well done!"

BUDGET HEARING for Northville Public Schools begins at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the school board offices, 303 West Main Street. Proposed 1973-74 budget totals $4.5 million, up from last year's budget of $3.8 million. Copies of the proposed budget are available at the board office during regular business hours.

Nichols, Folino Win Seats In Light Election Turnout

W. Wallace Nichols learned his lesson well two years ago when he lost his bid for reelection by just two votes.

"I'm going to work this time," he promised friends going into this year's campaign. And so he did. House to house. The 64-year-old veteran planning commission member piled up 601 votes to lead the council race and regain a Northville City Council seat.

He polled an even 100 votes more than incumbent Councilman Paul Folino, who easily defeated the other five candidates to retain his council seat.

(See Page 8-C for precinct by precinct results in Northville, Novi and Wixom.)

Closest to Nichols and Folino in the race for the two four-year terms was Wesley Henrikson, who pulled down 286 votes.

Unopposed Mayor A. Malcolm Allen swept to an unprecedented eighth term, garnering 813 votes in an election that saw a poor 36-percent voter turnout on a chilly but pleasant autumn day.

A total of 1,100 of the registered 3,050 voters in the three Northville precincts went to the polls. Two years ago, in the city's first fall municipal election, a 35-percent turnout occurred.

Mayor Allen's victory means he is moving into his second quarter century of service as an elected municipal official in Northville. He served on the village council for 10 years prior to incorporation of the city.

Although Allen was unopposed five votes were cast for two write-in candidates: John Conder, 4, and Larry Forth, 1.

It was two years ago in 1971 that Nichols was making a bid for his second term when a then newcomer, Paul Vernon, snatched the council seat from him by defeating the incumbent in his own Precinct 3 (Oakland County).

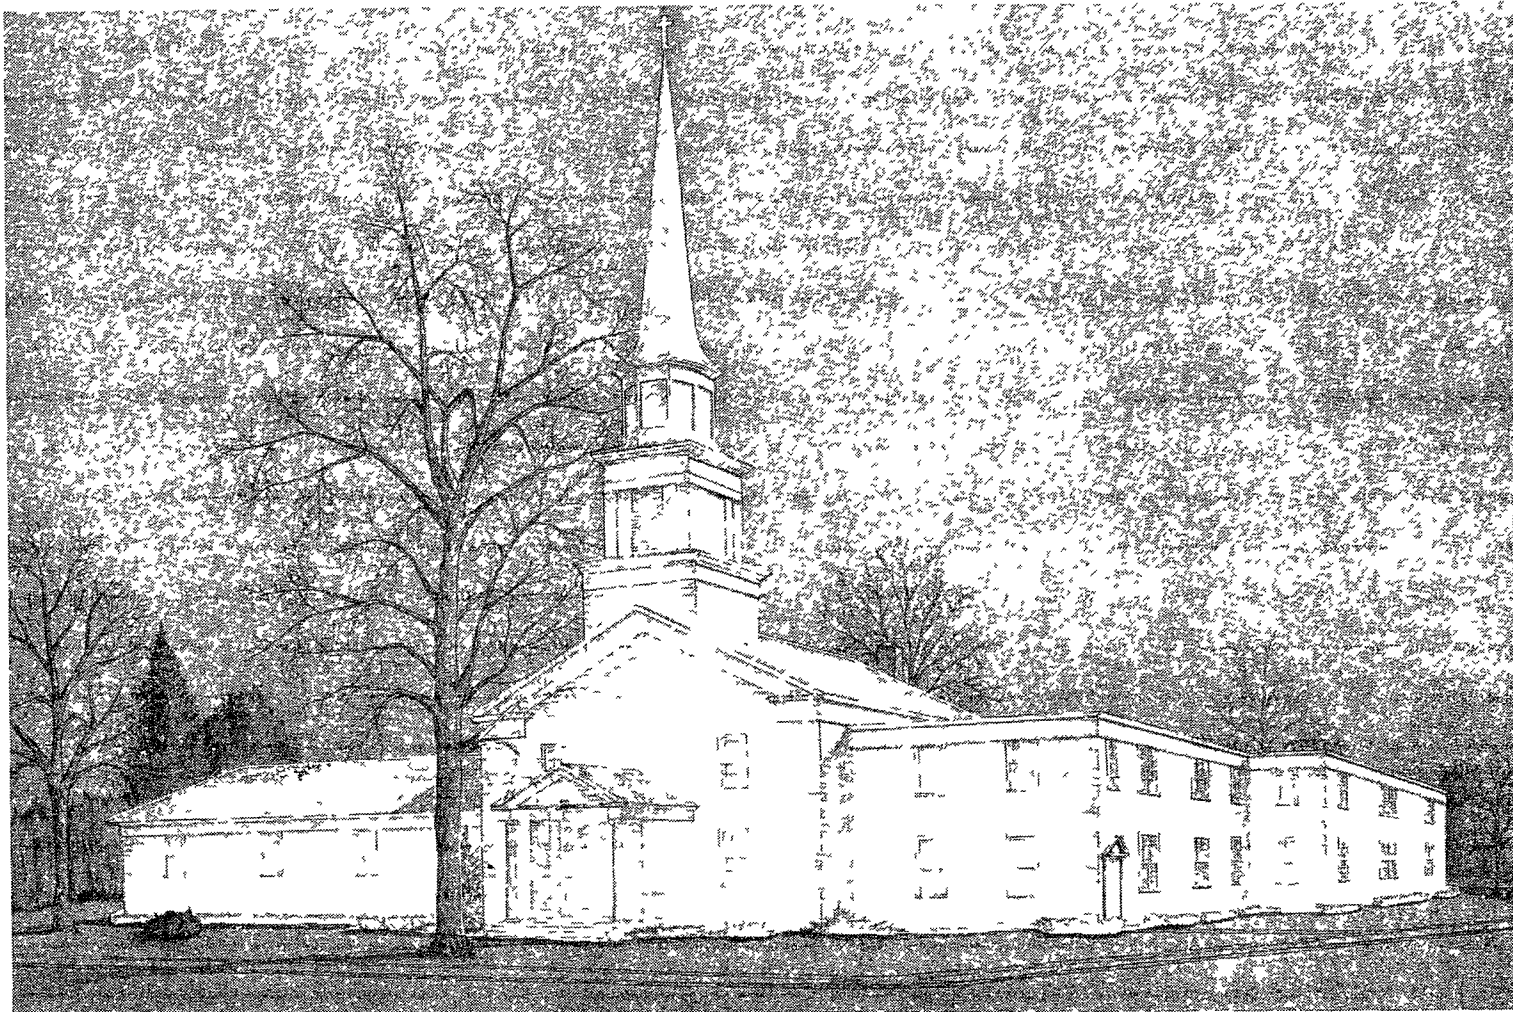

Nichols blamed his loss on a failure to campaign hard.

This time Nichols campaigned door to door and easily outdistanced his nearest opponent by 82 votes in Precinct 3 and by 50 votes in Precinct 1 (west of Center Street). Folino had the edge, 129 to 88 in Precinct 2.

Folino first won his council seat in 1969, leading the race for council then by garnering 495 votes. He was an unsuccessful candidate two years earlier.

Of the remaining candidates for council this past Monday, Henrikson and Gerald Stone were probably

Construction of a 12,000-foot addition (right) was to get underway this week at the First Baptist Church of Northville

Baptist Educational Wing

Church Addition Underway

A simple but auspicious groundbreaking ceremony Sunday marked the construction start of a major addition to the First Baptist Church of Northville.

As the congregation watched, church leaders turned the earth signaling the construction of a 12,000 square-foot educational facility at the northwest side of the historic church building at the corner of Wing and Randolph streets.

Reminding members following the regular morning service that the building would not be a monument to a man, a committee or a church, First Baptist's Pastor Cedric Whitcomb said the addition will be "built to the glory of God and to be used to reach the lives of the people of our community."

Pastor Whitcomb shared a verse from Nehemiah 2:20 which the building committee adopted as their verse during planning stages: "The God of Heaven, he will prosper us; therefore we his servants will arise and build."

This theme, according to Pastor Whitcomb, will be carried out through the construction of the new addition, which was to get underway immediately.

The new structure will be "L" shaped, wrapping around the present building. A two-story facility, it will share the colonial appearance of the existing building.

The existing auditorium will be extended several rows, and the north wall is to be replaced by a glass wall that will look out into the new narthex area.

Additional seating space and the narthex overflow will increase the seating capacity of the church to almost 600 people.

The new building will contain a complex of new offices and office machine working area. New educational space will be provided for all the Bible School departments of the church, and all departments that have been meeting in locations outside the church building will be accommodated in the new building.

The present downstairs fellowship hall area will be remodeled and expanded to include facilities to seat 350 banquets and 500 for informal receptions. The new addition also will include new and modern nursery facilities.

Blending with the present architecture, the exterior of the building will be covered with aluminum siding. The present cupola will be replaced by a large white, fiberglass spire extending skyward.

Purchased by the church over the past four years, houses on High Street are to be demolished upon completion of the building program to provide a new parking area.

The church building committee, with Luke Durst as its chairman, began planning for the new structure three years ago. Wade Waterman is the chairman of the church trustees who put together the financing for the new building.

Linden Pettys and Associates of Ludington is the architect, and the Will Damske Company of Dearborn is the general contractor.

Assistant Pastor of the First Baptist Church is Mr. Mike Farrell.

Organized here in 1835, the Baptist Church has occupied the present location for more than 125 years. The reconstructed and enlarged building was dedicated in December 1859.

Last major building change took place in 1960 with the construction of a wing on the south side of the building.

January Hearing Set On 'Historic' Ordinance

An ordinance creating a Historic District Commission, which is to be empowered to approve or disapprove proposed exterior remodeling of houses within the city's historic district, will go to public hearing January 14.

Meanwhile, the ordinance proposal which has been in the making for the past several months, is being reviewed by state officials. Northville City Council ordered the public hearing at its regular meeting Monday night after Northville Historical Society President Jack Burkman noted that the January hearing date is the earliest that can be held under the law.

Since it was first proposed, the ordinance has undergone a number of changes. Chief among these are: it is to be a free-standing ordinance, separate of the city's zoning ordinance, and it curtails the commission's power relative to passing on buildings located on commercial, industrial and multiple zoned properties.

The latter change means, if the ordinance is eventually approved by the city council, that the historic district commission will have the right to review changes involving these kinds of buildings but it remains the responsibility of the planning commission to review and approve the changes.

However, the ordinance gives the commission considerably more power in respect to buildings in residentially zoned areas.

The ordinance, for example, says "it shall be the duty of the commission to review all plans for construction, alteration, repair, moving or demolition of structures in an historic district and it shall have the power to pass upon such plans before a permit for such activity can be granted."

The commission, however, may pass only on exterior features of such residentially zoned properties. Interior arrangements are not to be considered.

The ordinance covers construction, alteration, repair, demolition and moving.

Young Erwins Capture Titles

ERWIN WINNERS—Jim Erwin of Erwin Farms apple operations in Novi adjusts the crown proclaiming his wife, Eileen, Oakland County Farmers' Queen. She won the honor November 1 while he was named winner of the Farm Bureau District Three Discussion Meet October 22. Both will compete for state titles at Grand Rapids in December.

When young Eileen Erwin of Novi, who became Oakland County Farmers' Queen November 1, goes to the state Farm Bureau Convention in Grand Rapids December 11, she will be accompanied by her husband, Jim.

While offering encouragement as she competes for state title and crown, Jim himself will be competing in the state Young Farmers discussion meet. He was named winner of the Farm Bureau District Three Discussion Meet held October 22 at Ann Arbor.

Such shared interests are not unusual for the young couple who help run the Erwin family's retail apple store at 24150 Novi Road at the Ten Mile intersection.

While pointing out that she and her husband are most active in the retail area of the apple farm business, Mrs. Erwin adds that she was "a city girl in Delaware" before she married almost four years ago.

She and Jim met while both were serving in the U.S. Air Force. She had attended school in Wilmington, Delaware, and did secretarial-type work in the service for three-and-a-half years. Her husband, Jim, who is 26, was in service for a little over four years.

They came here in 1972 and live at 26270 Beck Road in Novi.

They are active in Farm Bureau events. The discussion event entered by Jim was a highlight of the District Three meeting and involved young farmers from Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw, Wayne and Monroe counties. He represented Oakland County.

Topic of the discussion was "Who Will Control Agriculture in 1980?"

Similar district meetings of Young Farmers are being held throughout the state this fall with winners of each to compete in the state contest at the annual convention of the Michigan Farm Bureau. State winner will be awarded a trip to Atlantic City to represent Michigan at the national meeting of the American Farm Bureau in January.

Eileen Erwin, too, will be eligible for national competition if she wins the Michigan Crown next month.

The young people represent three generations of apple growers in the area as Jim is the son of J.W. Erwin and the grandson of Jim Erwin of South Lyon. Also involved in the family business are his uncles, Robert K. and Edward A., and his brothers, Bill and Doug, all of South Lyon. Another brother, Tom, presently is a student at Michigan State University.

Questers

List Plans

For Month

A field trip to historic Moross House on East Jefferson in Detroit is planned by No. 6 Station Questers for Wednesday, November 14. The group will tour the restored home and hold its monthly meeting there. Luncheon will be at Schweizer's Restaurant.

The chapter was represented at the Quester Fall Assembly in Dearborn by Mrs. June Faszing and Mrs. Evelyn Flowers.

"Christmas Creches" will be the topic of the 8 p.m. Thursday, November 15, meeting of Mead's Mill Questers at the home of Mrs. Charlene Kull. Mrs. William Krebs of Grosse Pointe will be the guest speaker.

The chapter also was scheduling a field trip this week to the Wayne Historical Museum. A silent auction is set for the December meeting.

Mrs. Judy Wissman was hostess for the October meeting which featured a talk by Mrs. Dale Starr on her bottle collecting hobby.

Each member of Mead's Mill Questers took six organizations in Northville to study and compile histories for the History of Northville research being undertaken by local Questers.

Mrs. Mary Ann DeMattia was welcomed as a new member. Any area antique-lover interested in Questers and Mead's Mill's December program is invited to call the hostess, 349-9373.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

GUEST DAY programs with speakers and topics of high interest are scheduled by two of Our Town's largest clubs for the coming week.

Mrs. Mary Gerathy is to talk on "Herbs for Christmas" at the dessert program of the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association at 12:30 p.m. Monday in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

While there is a revival of interest in herbs throughout the country today, Mrs. Gerathy has been growing them and lecturing on their uses for more than 20 years. "They're a way of life," she says, for use in perfumes, cooking and dyeing fabrics. Her early interest in herbs stems from her New England background. She has been a member of the Herb Society of America for 10 years and five years ago helped found the Southeast Michigan chapter.

A teacher at Greenfield Village, Mrs. Gerathy also conducts classes in use of herbs at the Birmingham and Farmington community centers.

Mrs. Gerathy points out that the famed Cranbrook gardens in Bloomfield Hills now contain five herb gardens including a kitchen garden. As is traditional, the herb beds are laid out in symmetrical patterns.

Monday garden club members and guests will get tips on designing gardens, how to dry herbs and how to use herbs—"among the oldest plants known to man"—in holiday decorating and cooking.

Social committee for the day will be Mrs. Roger Pyett, chairman, Mrs. Leonard Klein, Mrs. Armin Grossman, Miss Betty LeMaster and Mrs. K.H. Babbitt.

CANTOR HAROLD ORBACH of Temple Israel of Detroit is being brought back to Northville Woman's Club for a guest day program by popular request. He is to speak on "The 25th Anniversary of the State of Israel" and show slides at 1:30 p.m. next Friday in fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Robert Brueck, program chairman, reports that Cantor Orbach's first appearance in February, 1971, at woman's club brought many requests for a return appearance of the cantor, a religious functionary in Jewish services. He also is well known as an operatic tenor in this country and in Canada.

Mrs. Richard Cooper, program chairman for the guest day, adds that Cantor Orbach has sung 19 operatic roles and has been a leading tenor in the only professional company of Gilbert and Sullivan. He is a graduate of Juilliard School of Music in New York, studied at Hebrew Union College, New York, and Manhattan School of Music. His MA degree is from Tulsa University and he presently is working on his doctorate at Wayne State University.

Tea will be served following the program.

A REUNION IN JAPAN became a reality last month for a group of area couples after nine months' planning. When Stan and Anita Stong, former Brookland Farms residents, were transferred to Japan, their former neighbors and friends began planning a visit.

The Dean H. Lenheisers, Kenneth Sewells, Joseph Crupis, Boyd Armstrongs with Mrs. Milton West and her sister from Chicago and Betty Boyd (Mrs. Stong's sister) of Farmington returned last Thursday with silk screen paintings, lacquer ware, kimono's—and many vivid impressions of Japan.

Stan Stong and his family have been in Tokyo a year. He is serving as executive vice president in finance for Ford. The move there followed a six-year stint in Caracas, Venezuela. The Stongs were Northville residents for five years, returning to the area for a visit last summer.

The Stongs' oldest son, Ross, a University of Michigan graduate now is teaching English in Japan. Son Bill is at U of M; Brad is in college in Tokyo, and Sandy is in high school.

Mrs. Lenheiser reports that the Stongs now are settled in a beautiful home in Tokyo decorated with shoji screens. The tourists also visited Kyoto, the ancient capital of Japan, reaching it by taking the 130-mph bullet train that zipped past rice paddies on the 300-mile trip which took less than three hours.

Rachel Hill, former operator of Travel Plans, has moved to New York where she planned to enroll in an 18-months' language course in French and Spanish at the Latin American Institute as preparation for interpreter service.

Mrs. Delores Fleming, new owner of Travel Plans, says she intends to keep the same name for the Northville travel service. This is her first venture into travel agency ownership, but she comes to it with 16 years' experience in worldwide travel with AAA. Mrs. Fleming has a son and a daughter she hopes to have help her later. Mrs. Andrew Orphan continues to assist in the operation.

The women point out that they intend to continue the service that has won awards for Travel Plans. (Mrs. Hill was awarded an 18-day trip to South Africa in January of this year for "imaginative routing.")

"BERTA HUMMEL and Her Art" was the title of the lecture-display given by the Reverend Miss Elizabeth Etz of Northville at the Grand Rapids Museum October 28 during a special "German Heritage" presentation throughout the month.

Miss Etz, who is widely known for her Hummel collection and interest in the German artist, visited the nunnery where she lived and also her family a few years ago.

Girl Scout Calendar Boasts Local Views

The 1974 Girl Scout calendar to be sold by Northville-area Girl Scouts is the first to be produced and distributed by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. Included in the photographs of activities is a shot of Susan Pegrum of 45716 Clement Court, Northville, in a canoe at Camp Linden.

Most scouts will be selling the local calendar instead of the usual national one throughout Washtenaw, Livingston, Western Wayne and Northern Monroe counties. The 8½" by 12" calendar includes 21 color photographs of 44 area scouts working with senior citizens, helping younger children, sewing, camping and biking.

The August picture shows former Northville resident, Bill Schlieff, Camp Linden resident director, fixing a scout's bike. Like men troop leaders, the caption says, "Papa Bugs" is adored by his girls.

The calendars, priced at 65 cents, will be sold by 7,000 Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts to finance troop projects.

"We felt that our friends and neighbors would like to see what their own Girl Scouts were doing," explained Mrs. Louis Galan, Huron Valley Council president. The decision to sell the local calendar is made by each troop with a few in some communities electing to sell the national calendar at 50 cents.

Carolyn Bohn, 220 North Wing, is among area Girl Scouts participating in a hair-styling program at the "Canned Ego" youth salon at Hudson's Westland this week. She is among Cadette scout volunteers having their hair cut and then styled in a program in the Westland auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Five Generations Attend Diane Beason's Wedding

Diane Lynn Beason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beason, 18740 Valencia, Northville, became the bride of John Robert Forsythe in a traditional double-ring ceremony at First Presbyterian Church of Northville which also featured the symbolic lighting of candles at the altar October 20.

Five generations of the bride's family were represented at the evening ceremony as her great-great grandmother, Mrs. Clara Thomas of Northville, who is 93, attended.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Forsythe, Jr., of Garden City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of silk organza over taffeta trimmed with rosepoint lace. Wide bands of matching lace edged her detachable train and mantilla headpiece. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. Robert Beason, Lana Flynn, Jill Forsythe and Nancy McLellan were bridesmaids in gowns styled like the honor maid's in alternating colors of green and gold. The autumn colors were repeated in their mum bouquets. All wore caps and veils matching their gowns. Julia Beason, flower girl, wore a gown matching the maid of honor's and carried a basket of light blue miniature carnations and baby's breath. Ken Forsythe was best man with Bill Beason, Mike Czarney, Doug Adams and Ray Brown seating the guests.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the altar decorated with flowers.

Attending the ceremony and reception at Vladimir's were 160 guests including out-of-towners from Arkansas and North Carolina. After a three-week motor trip to California the newlyweds are making their home in Northville.

The bride a graduate of Northville High School and Cleary College, from which she has an Associate Degree in medical secretarial work, is employed at Northville Veterinary Clinic. Her husband, a graduate of Garden City High School, attended Schoolcraft College and is employed by Great Scott.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ROBERT FORSYTHE

VanSickle-Radtke Vows Pledged in OLV Service

Newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. Radtke now are making their home in the Village Apartments in Wixom following "their marriage September 29 at Our Lady of Victory Church. The bride is the former Suzan A. Van Sickle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Van Sickle, 365 North Rogers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Radtke, 23941 West LeBost, Novi.

Father John Wyskiel officiated at the late afternoon service in which the couple exchanged rings. Kim Cramer of "Kim and Dallas," sang "The Wedding Song". Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of organza with lace inserts. Covered buttons extended down the front from the high neckline. Matching lace also trimmed her fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses and mums.

Pat VanSickle, maid of honor for her sister, wore a flowered gown of dotted swiss organza and carried a basket arrangement of baby roses, baby's breath and dried flowers.

Mrs. Kenneth (Linda) VanSickle, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Maggie Bosca and Miss Marti Hay were bridesmaids in empire gowns of flowered dotted swiss organza and carried baskets matching the honor maid's. Nancy Radtke, a cousin of the bridegroom's, was flower girl in pink dotted swiss and carried a floral basket.

Michael D. Eskie was best man. Ushering were Charles Olewnik, Richard Fisher and Kenneth VanSickle.

A reception at Livonia Roma Hall followed for 200 guests.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Northville High School and is working at Nau's Park Place in Farmington. Her husband, who was a 1968 Novi-Northville High graduate, attended Oakland Community College and Eastern Michigan University and will be attending Wayne State University for his master's degree in sociology.

Novi Nursery Benefit Set

A "Holidays for 1973" cooking class is being sponsored by the Novi Cooperative Nursery at Consumers Power Company, 11801 Farmington Road, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, November 19, with proceeds to be used for nursery school projects.

Cost of the evening is $1 with reservations to be made with Sharon McCord, 349-8192.

Cost of the evening is $1 with reservations to be made with Sharon McCord, 349-8192.

The cooperative nursery, a non-profit, non-demonstrational organization, holds morning and afternoon sessions at Holy Cross Episcopal Church, 46200 West Ten Mile Road, Novi. The monthly general meeting will be at 7:45 p.m. today at the church.

Participating parents also are making plans to attend the Detroit Greater Detroit Cooperative Nursery Council, Incorporated, at 10 a.m. Saturday, November 10, at Royal Oak First Baptist Church.

Presently, membership chairman Pam Bjorkman reports, about 20 boys and girls between the ages of three and five are enrolled in each session. She adds that there are several openings in the three and four year old classes and that a waiting list also is maintained. She may be contacted at 474-8076 for additional information.

Morning sessions are from 9:10 to 11:20 a.m. and afternoon from 12:45 to 2:55 p.m.

Special recent events included a dress-up Halloween party October 30 and 31 with a visit from a witch; a visit to the pumpkin patch at Zomers Market with youngsters selecting their own pumpkins to be decorated later in class; a showing of the film, "Patch the Pony," and a visit of a pony to the class.

Open House Slated

An open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, November 18, is scheduled to exhibit the program of a new area cooperative elementary school which began this fall at Epiphany Lutheran Church, 41390 Five Mile Road, Plymouth.

Conducting the classes for 5 to 12-year olds is Elaine Yagiela, a former teacher at Hawthorn Center. She is assisted by mothers of the nine children enrolled who serve as teacher's aides. Some of the mothers are former teachers themselves.

One of the six founding parents, Mrs. David DeJohn, explains that the school's size gives it flexibility. Classes, she illustrates, may be changed from a Friday to a Saturday to permit a trip somewhere. The new elementary and its program have been cleared with state officials, she adds.

Anyone interested in the school or wishing to visit is invited to call 349-1742 or 522-1638 for information and reservations.

Wixom Mayoral Race

Willis Edges McAtee

Tight balloting highlighted a 67 per cent voter turn-out in Wixom Tuesday where Incumbent Mayor Gilbert Willis won re-election by 34 votes over Wesley McAtee.

Elected to the city council were Lillian Spencer for a two-year term and Incumbent Councilmen Gunnar Mettala and Frederick Morehead along with newcomer James Lahde, the ticket's top vote-getter.

Mettala, a veteran councilman who has served since city incorporation, narrowly won re-election over Clifford Styrk by a single vote, 436-435.

Wixom voters easily topped all area communities in voting response with 943 of the city's 1,387 registered voters casting ballots.

The 67 per cent turnout compares with 36 per cent in Northville and 37 per cent in Novi.

The keen campaigning that attracted voters was reflected in the results where Mayor Willis won a second term with a total of 483 votes to 449 for McAtee, a former Wixom mayor.

Highest voter-getter was Lahde, a member of the city's planning commission. He topped all candidates with 508 votes. Lahde was particularly impressive in precinct one where he compiled a whopping 316 votes, by far the biggest total received by any candidate in any precinct. (See all precinct by precinct results on page 8-C).

Second in total votes was Mrs. Spencer, who topped Sidney Resner in a two-candidate race for a two-year council seat, 498-381.

Incumbent Councilman Morehead received 453 votes to finish second behind Lahde in the six-candidate race for three four-year council seats.

After Mettala (436) and Styrk (435) were Melvin Green, 398, and Betty Taylor, 262.

Holdover Wixom councilmen are Dr. Val Vangieson and Robert Dingeldey. Councilman Howard Coe did not seek election and Councilman Mary Parvu was defeated in the August primary.

In the mayoral race a two to one margin in precinct three marked the difference for Mayor Willis. McAtee topped the incumbent in precinct one, 274 to 213, and there was a slim five-vote spread in precinct two where Willis edged McAtee, 401-96.

But the city hall polling place, which includes all voters residing south of Pontiac Trail turned out heavily in favor of the incumbent, 169-79

Roethel, Campbell, Athas Goodman Also Win Seats

It was off with the old and on with the new as 37 percent of Novi's registered voters turned out to cast ballots in the biennial city election Tuesday.

Voters made the following selections:

• In the race for mayor, challenger Robert Daley ousted incumbent Joseph Crupi by a landslide three-to-one margin.

• In the race for three four-year terms on the city council, Romaine Roethel was the runaway winner, tallying 300 more votes than Louie Campbell who finished second in the balloting. In a tight race for the third spot, newcomer Philip Goodman ousted incumbent Donald Young by 71 votes.

• In the race for the two-year seat on the council, former City Manager George Athas was a two-to-one winner over Winifred Dobek. Thus, Daley, Roethel, Campbell, Goodman, and Athas will join Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry on the city council.

City Clerk Gerri Stipp reported that 1,924 of the city's 5,269 registered voters cast ballots Tuesday - a voter turnout of 37 percent. At the last city election in 1970, approximately 50 percent of the registered voters showed up at the polls.

A complete precinct-by-precinct breakdown of the vote appears on Page 8-C.

In addition to Crupi and Young, one other incumbent was defeated in his bid for reelection Tuesday. Councilman William O'Brien finished sixth in the balloting for the three four-year terms on the council. Also defeated was former City Clerk Mabel Ash who ran fifth in the race for the four-year terms.

Daley, seeking elected office for the first time, was a landslide winner in the mayoral race, outpolling Crupi 1,327 to 565.

An attorney for the Bendix Corporation, Daley has served as chairman of the city's Zoning Board of Appeals and was a member of the team (along with City Manager Harold Saunders and Athas) which negotiated the recent contract with the police department.

In defeating Crupi, he unseated a man who has been active in local government for more than a decade. Elected to two four-year terms on the Village Council, Crupi became Village Council President in 1960.

He became the first mayor of the City of Novi in 1969 and was reelected mayor in 1970. Daley thus becomes just the second mayor in the history of the City of Novi.

Against Daley, Crupi was able to poll more votes in only the fourth precinct (northern Novi) and lost heavily to Daley in precincts five (Orchard Hills) and seven (Village Oaks).

Mrs. Roethel, an incumbent who was named to the council to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Raymond Evans last spring, was the top vote getter in each of the city's seven precincts.

She was easily the top vote getter in race for the three four-year council terms as she polled 1,265 ballots. Campbell was second with 958, while Goodman edged out Young for the third spot 680-609.

Mrs. Ash was fifth with 515 and O'Brien was sixth with 388.

Other vote getters were Joseph Toth (211), Russell Button (195), Janice Edwards (181), Brent Canup (155) and James Giesler (96).

With Roethel and Campbell running away from the rest of the field, the race for the third four-year term on the council narrowed down to a fight between Goodman, Young, and Mrs. Ash.

Young outpolled Goodman in five of the seven precincts, but was defeated by a sizable margin in precinct seven which proved to be decisive. Goodman outpolled Young 245-43 in the seventh precinct and won election by 71 votes.

As representatives of the older segment of Novi, Young and Mrs. Ash probably pulled votes from each other, making it possible for Goodman to pull through on the basis of his support with the newer segment of the electorate.

Another easy winner was George Athas who outpolled Mrs. Winifred Dobek 1,120 to 607 in the race for the two-year council term. A former Novi City Manager (April 1971 to October 1972), Athas outpolled Mrs. Dobek in six of seven precincts, losing only in precinct four where he lost by 28 votes.

Police Lodge Homicide Charge In Auto Death

Novi police have secured a warrant charging Daniel Louis Saunders, 27, of Detroit with negligent homicide in conjunction with an automobile accident in which a man was killed two weeks ago.

The warrant was issued by the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office last Friday and served on Saunders in the Oakland County Jail where he was lodged for violation of parole.

The charges stem from an accident which occurred at the corner of Ten Mile and Novi Roads at 2:50 a.m. on Wednesday, October 24.

Bruce McKenzie, 26, a passenger in the car allegedly driven by Saunders, was killed in that accident and four others, all passengers in the Saunders' vehicle, are still hospitalized.

The accident occurred, according to police reports, when a car containing Saunders and five other people failed to heed the flashing red light on Ten Mile at the Novi Road intersection and was struck by a northbound pick-up truck driven by Michael Bowman, 19, of Milford.

All seven individuals involved in the accident were transported by ambulance to Botsford Hospital.

As a result of their ensuing investigation, police discovered that Saunders and McKenzie, the man killed in the mishap, had established a friendship while inmates at Jackson State Prison.

Both men were paroled last spring, approximately one month apart.

Since parolee friendships are forbidden by law, Saunders was lodged in the County Jail for parole violation following his release from the hospital.

He was still in jail when the Prosecutor's Office issued the warrant on the negligent homicide charges Friday.

Novi Patrolman Jack Grubb, who is supervising the investigation of the accident, reported that there was evidence of both alcohol and narcotics in the vehicle allegedly driven by Saunders.

Grubb also reported that the car in which McKenzie was killed was traveling at a minimum speed of 50 miles per hour when it entered the intersection of Ten Mile and Novi Roads.

Three other passengers in the Saunders' car are still listed in critical condition at Botsford Hospital. They are Linda Marchowitz, 20, Diane Murray, 19, and Joseph Williams, 19, all of Detroit.

One other passenger in the Saunders' vehicle - Linda Dunford, 17, also of Detroit - was released at her own in-

Candy Contains Pins, Blades

Halloween's No Treat

Halloween was no treat for a number of Novi youngsters this year.

Within two days of the time the costumed trick-or-treaters had completed their rounds, Novi police had received six reports of malicious altering of candy.

Two reports involved the insertion of razor blades or pieces of razor blades into candy bars, while the other four all involved the insertion of straight pins into candy.

Novi Police Corporal Robert Starnes who is heading up the investigation of the reports was at a loss to explain the sudden outbreak of incidents.

"It's definitely not new to Novi because we had a case a number of years ago in which someone put a razor in an apple," recalled Starnes.

"But we haven't had any problems of this type over the past couple of years and now all of a sudden it pops up again. I don't know if people are prompted to do it by Halloween safety publicity or what, but we intend to investigate each complaint thoroughly."

The six complaints were as follows:

• On October 31 (Halloween), police received a report that a 12-year old girl had bitten into a Milky Way candy bar and discovered a straight pin.

The girl told police she had been trick or treating with two friends in the Connemara and Lexington Commons subdivisions, but could not recall where she had gotten the Milky Way bar.

• Also on Halloween night, police received a report that a 10-year old boy had found a razor blade in a Milky Way bar when he had broken the bar in half just before biting into it.

Officers reported that there were no visible marks on either the candy bar or the candy bar wrapper that would indicate a blade had been inserted. The boy told police he had been trick or treating only at homes on Penton Rise Court and Glyme Drive.

Police were able to locate the home from which the bars were distributed and examined nine remaining bars, but found that they had not been tampered with.

• Police were summoned to Novi Elementary School on Thursday, November 1, by the principal who reported that a nine-year old youngster had discovered a piece of a razor blade in a Milky Way candy bar.

Examination of the piece of candy showed that the blade had been inserted into the bottom of the Milky Way. The boy told officers he had been trick or treating with a friend in Northville's Village Green subdivision at Novi Road and Eight Mile.

• Also on November 1, a parent reported that he had discovered a straight pin stuck into the end of a Snickers bar while examining his children's candy for foreign objects.

The man told officers his children had been trick or treating on Burton, Lakewood, and Cranbrooke Drives in the Village Oaks

Gone Fishin' for Help

"There's no lack of persons needing clothing, food and other emergency needs but the number of people to do the helping is dwindling."

That's the word from spokesmen of the Northville-Novi FISH organization that will hold a recruitment meeting next Tuesday in the meeting room at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. The meeting will get underway at 8 p.m.

Anyone interested in volunteering his or her time to aid those needing help in the Northville-Novi area is urged to attend. Newcomers to the area are especially invited to participate.

"Due to a great number of turnovers, FISH finds itself with a severely dwindling list of transportation volunteers," a spokesman explained. "Since approximately 75 percent of our calls deal with people needing rides, FISH faces the unhappy prospect of having to turn down those who turn to us in a time of emergency."

Volunteers also are needed in non-transportational ways as well. These will be discussed at Tuesday's meeting.

FISH, it was explained, "is no more or less than a good neighbor group serving the community on a non-sectarian, volunteer basis."

When the local group was first started it was called, "Operation Help." The name was subsequently changed to FISH to identify it with thousands of other FISH groups in the United States.

The "good neighbor group" derived its name from the Greek word for "Jesus Christ Son of God Savior," which spells ICHTHUS—the Greek word for FISH. However, the letters F-I-S-H may also stand for "Friends in Service Here," "Fish is Serving Humanity," or "For Immediate Sympathetic Help".

Many organizations have adopted such interpretations of the word FISH as a simple explanation of the word, a local spokesman said. Initially, a majority of groups were sponsored by Protestant churches.

"Now in most communities, as in Northville and Novi, the FISH group represents the community as a whole with participation of all faiths."

Locally, FISH has provided emergency transportation, care for the sick and elderly, visitations for sick and elderly, babysitting, cooking, housework, medical and legal referrals, and many "one-of-a-kind" calls during the past year.

All calls for help coming to FISH, a spokesman emphasized, are confidential. And all services are provided free of charge.

"We are proud to report that in addition to the other mentioned services, and with the help of many individuals in both communities, we have been able to establish a free Family Clothes Closet, an emergency milk fund, a canned goods center for emergencies, and, with the cooperation of a major shoe chain, a fund to provide new children's shoes at a discount."

Spokesmen for the local organization expressed hope representatives of churches and governmental agencies will attend Tuesday's meeting "so that ideas may be exchanged on how we may reach and help those in need."

Persons unable to attend the meeting but who may wish to assist are urged to call the FISH answering service at 349-4350 or Roger Matthews at 349-7197.

State Representative R. Robert Geake of the 35th District, which includes Northville and Northville Township, will speak on "Tax Exemption Reform" at the meeting of Northville Senior Citizens Club at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 13, at the scout-recreation building.

Mrs. Oscar Hammond, program chairman, adds that he also will inform senior citizens, home owners and renters, on how to fill out tax forms.

Mrs. Barbara Bergum of 327 Debra is selling Christmas cards for the Lapeer Parents Association for Retarded Children, Inc. Proceeds are to be used for the benefit of patients of the Lapeer State Home and Training School, now called the Oakdale Center for Developmental Deficiencies.

Northville Senior Citizens who have made reservations to go to the Americana on Saturday, November 10, are reminded the bus will leave Kerr House at 11:30 a.m.

Nearly 60 members will see "The Way We Were" with Barbra Streisand and Robert Redford.

Three area residents will appear in a student production of "Rip Van Winkle" at Madonna College in Livonia on November 15 and 17.

They are Cindy Bonventre and Brenda Tymensky of Novi and John Wilson of Northville. Wilson is playing Derrick Van Bummel.

'BIRTHRIGHT' BENEFIT PLANNERS—Mrs. Duane Bloomquist of Northville, right, ticket chairman for the Birthright of Western Wayne County dinner dance to be held this Saturday at Mayflower Meeting House, turns over checks to Dr. Richard V. Jaynes while District Judge Richard L. Hammer watches. Both are on the board of Directors. Another volunteer, Mrs. Verda Bonello, center, also is planning the benefit to aid women with problem pregnancies. Birthright's office is at 2240 Middlebelt, Garden City. The public is invited to attend the dance with reservations to be made with the office, 422-3220, or Mrs. Bloomquist, 349-7681.

Amerman PTA Plans Full Night of Events

An open house, introduction of safety boys and girls and a book sale will be just some of the activities highlighting the first meeting of the Amerman PTA this year.

The meeting begins at 7 p.m. Wednesday, November 14, with an introduction of the safety boys and service girls. PTA officers will also be installed that evening.

The open house begins at 7:30 p.m. and will last until 9 p.m. Parents are encouraged to bring their children, PTA spokesmen said. Parents will have an opportunity to meet their children's teachers and see the classrooms in the school.

In conjunction with Book Week, which is being observed November 12 through 18, the PTA will have books on display. Parents may order any of the books, ranging in price from 39 cents to $1.50.

Plan Santa Visit

Novi's Jaycee Auxiliary is planning a special program entitled "Saturday with Santa" to help kick-off the Christmas season for local youngsters.

Three parties have been scheduled at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. at the Village Oaks

Elementary School on Saturday, December 1.

Featured will be Christmas caroling with Raggedy Ann and Andy, cartoons, treats, and a special visit from Santa himself.

Also featured will be a "Gifts for Mom and Dad" Shop.

Announce Births

Birth of their first child, Joseph Lawrence Kupsky, October 30 at St. Mary Hospital is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Kupsky of Plymouth. Mrs. Kupsky is the former Susan P. Alexander.

Their son's birth weight was ten pounds, two ounces. He is the grandson of Curtis L. Alexander of Vienna, Virginia, and of Mrs. Betty Kupsky, 318 Yerkes, and Floyd Kupsky, 46079 Sunset, in Northville.

A daughter, Kelli Ann, was born October 27 to Mr. and Mrs. James G. Kreger of Plymouth at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. She weighed seven pounds, four ounces. Mrs. Kreger is the former Helen Zimmerman of Northville.

Kelli joins a brother, Jamie, 4, and sister, Katie, 3, at home. Grandparents are Charles A. Kreger of Eggertsville, New York, and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert G.

Zimmerman of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron L. Mitchell of Union Lake announce the birth of their second daughter, Angela Jean, on October 19 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Debi Muscat of Novi.

Angela, who weighed seven pounds, five ounces, joins three-year-old Kristie at home. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Muscat of Novi and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Mitchell of Livonia, and the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Margaret H. Mitchell of Brighton.

Harness Racing Starts

Michigan's record smashing 1973 harness racing season trotted into its final phase here Monday, November 5 for 47 nights of what has been designated as Jackson's Action at Northville Downs.

The 47-night meeting marks the fifth year that Leon A. Slavin, president of the Jackson-Trotting Association, has drawn the curtain on the state's year-around harness racing calendar.

It was Slavin, who in 1969 brought to life the idea of winter racing for Michigan. Despite doubts from all sides, his suggestion was accepted on a trial basis by Racing Commissioner Leo A. Shirley. Success came almost overnight and Shirley has lauded Slavin many times since for "outstanding merchandising of the harness racing sport."

Winter racing proved popular not only with the followers of pacers and trotters, but also with horsemen. Many Michigan trainers now prepare part of their stables for racing during the hot summer months and another segment for the winter. Horses have no apparent objection to racing when the snow flies with race times in the winter being comparable to other seasons.

Jackson shifts to Northville under an agreement between Slavin and John J. Carlo, executive manager of the Downs plant which has been enclosed and heated for the comfort of fans. Northville's tri-level clubhouse is one of the most luxurious in the Midwest.

An outstanding series of weekly racing events will highlight the year-end sulky program, six nights a week, 10 races nightly, through December 31, with the track dark Christmas Eve and again Christmas Day.

Slavin said the entire Jackson crew headed by Bruce Stewart, presiding judge, Clayton Hulet, state steward and Thomas L. Smith, director of racing, will be on hand for the year end meeting. Phil Mauger continues as assistant to Smith and as track announcer.

Post time remains at 8 p.m. with win, place and show wagering on all races along with the Daily Double on the first two races, Perfectas on the 4th and 10th, Trifectas on the 6th and 9th races, rain or shine.

SITE EXPANSION—Negotiations were continuing this week between the Northville School District and two property owners directly west of Main Street Elementary School. School district plans to purchase and demolish the houses on West Cady and West Main adjacent to the elementary school and use the property for staff parking and loading and unloading facilities for buses. When the project is completed in June, buses will enter from Cady Street and exit on Main Street, school officials explained. Currently, buses are loaded on the playground.

candy which had a straight pin stuck in it. The man said his son had found the pin while eating his Halloween candy. The youngster had been trick or treating in the Highland Hills trailer park.

Starnes noted that in spite of the rash of incidents, no one had been injured by the razor blades or straight pins.

He also dismissed any possible significance with the fact that the majority of the cases involved Milky Way bars as "pure coincidence."

"There's always the possibility that some of the youngsters themselves may have inserted various foreign objects into the candy bars as some sort of attention-seeking device," stated Starnes. "That's one of the angles we intend to check out."

"Incidents like these create a lot of excitement and we'd be naive to overlook that possibility in our investigation. At the same time, we're also cognizant that some of the reports - maybe all of them - are 100 percent legitimate," he added.

"We do have some leads in our investigation and we expect some results shortly," he said.

Army Private Bruce R. Brown, son of Robert R. Brown, Farmington, completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, armor, Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

His wife, Brenda, lives in Northville.

Army Private First Class Henry M. Vanover, 21, son of Marion A. Vanover of 326 East Lake Drive, participated with other American and allied troops in exercise reforge V in Germany, Oct. 10-16.

The military airlift command flew approximately 11,000 U.S.-based soldiers and more than 1,000 tons of equipment to three different airfields in Germany in preparation for the event.

Immediately after arriving overseas, the redeployed units drew combat gear and vehicles from prepositioned storage sites in Germany and moved to the exercise area to begin the seven-day field maneuver.

Pitted against the airlifted forces were Europe-based elements of NATO forces of the U.S., Germany and Canada.

The exercise, conducted by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and NATO, focused on the procedures and techniques for receiving, equipping, assembling and employing units after they arrive, rather than on rapid deployment of troops from the U.S.

Private Vanover is regularly assigned as a driver in Company C, 1st Battalion, 30th Infantry of the 3rd Infantry Division in Schweinfurt, Germany.

Write Fewer Tickets

Northville City Police have issued a total of 2,267 traffic tickets during the first nine months of 1973, down 261 violations from the 2,528 written during the same time in 1972.

To date, 1,575 of the tickets have been for hazardous moving violations and 692 have been for non-hazardous violations.

The figures were recently released by Lieutenant Louis Westfall.

The figures were recently released by Lieutenant Louis Westfall.

During 1973, police have issued 628 speeding tickets, down from the 1,151 speeding violations issued during the first nine months of 1972.

However, tickets for most other hazardous moving violations have increased this year. Tickets written for disobeying a traffic signal this year total 180 compared with 135 last year; improper turn, 404 compared with 277; disobeying stop sign, 113 compared with 92; and failing to yield right of way, 40 compared with 28.

Other violations and tickets written include improper passing, 39 compared with 36; improper lane usage, 37 compared with 25; careless driving, five compared with two; driving without due care, 18 compared with 13; following too closely causing an accident, 38 compared with 33; reckless driving, three compared with two; drunken driving, down to 22 from 31; no brake lights, 35 compared with 27; driving the wrong way on a one way street, down to three from eight; and all other hazardous violations, 45 compared with 33.

Traffic accidents within the City of Northville are also showing a decrease when compared with figures for the first nine months of 1972.

To date, 174 accidents have been investigated by city police, down from 198 investigated through September of 1972.

Of those reported this year, 131 have been "in-traffic" accidents and 43 have taken place in parking lots. Last year, 134 had taken place in traffic and 64 in parking lots.

A total of 61 persons have been injured in 45 of the accidents. Last year, 84 persons were injured in 52 of the accidents, police said.

However, police said, accidents involving two or more motor vehicles have increased from 85 reported during the first nine months of 1972 to 100 for the first nine months of 1973.

Other types of accidents reported include motor vehicle and motorcycle, one during 1973 compared with four during 1972; bicycle none compared with three; pedestrian, four compared with five; parked vehicle, seven compared with eight; fixed object, nine compared with 15; vehicle running off road, eight compared with 12; and other types of accidents, two during each time period. Seven hit and run accidents have been reported to date, down from 15 reported during the same time in 1972.

Juvenile Crime Cut 50-Percent in City

Juvenile criminal activity within the City of Northville has dropped by more than 50 percent during the first nine months of 1973 when compared with the same period in 1972.

According to Patrolman David DeLauder, officer in charge of the juvenile department, 53 complaints involving juveniles have been investigated this year to date. During the first nine months of 1972, 117 cases involving juveniles had been reported.

Cases this year have included traffic offenses, 35 juveniles; curfew and loitering, three; sex offenses, two each; minors in possession of alcohol, one each; and all other offenses, 21.

runaways, one each; and all other offenses, six.

Complaints investigated during the first nine months of 1972 included traffic offenses, 42 juveniles; liquor laws, 42 juveniles; sex offenses, 42 juveniles; possession of stolen property, 42 juveniles; robbery, two each; curfew and loitering, weapons offenses, one each; and all other offenses, 21.

Between January and September of 1972, 100 juvenile cases were handled within the local department and 56 were referred to juvenile court.

John Woods

College Features Poet

Distinguished American poet John Woods will make two appearances on the volumes of poetry, Woods will discuss his works with students at an informal session at 3 p.m., and will read his poetry at 8 p.m. Both performances, to be held in the Liberal Arts Theater, are open to the public without charge.

In addition to being published in many journals and in his own books, Woods' poems have appeared in 14 separate anthologies of poetry in this country and abroad. He has recorded his poems for the Library of Congress Poetry Archives and the poems from one of his books are available on a long-playing record.

Woods' many honors include: A citation in 1956 for the best book of poetry by an Indiana author; appointment as poetry consultant to the Indiana University Press, 1961-62; appointment as Robert Frost Fellow in Poetry, Breadloaf Writers' Conference, 1962; an award from the National Endowment of the Arts, and publication of his work in the Third National Literary Anthology.

Woods is a professor of English at Western Michigan University, and is being sponsored by the Schoolcraft Cultural and Public Affairs Committee. The poetry programs at the College are coordinated by David Perkins, an English instructor at Schoolcraft.

Coed Earns Award

Carol Ditzhazy, daughter of the Novi high school principal, was one of 28 Kalamazoo College students cited recently for excellence in specific academic field at the college's annual honors day convocation.

Miss Ditzhazy received a language department prize in Spanish, being cited for excellence in this language during her freshman year.

Miss Ditzhazy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Ditzhazy, live at 37990 Tralee Trail, Northville.

Council Minutes

OCTOBER 15, 1973
Mayor Allen called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order at 8:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL: Present: Allen, Rathert, Folino, Absent: Biery (excused), Vernon (excused).

MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING: The Minutes of the Regular Meeting of October 1, 1973 stand approved as submitted.

MINUTES OF BOARDS & COMMISSIONS: The Minutes of the Northville Zoning Board of Appeals for August 1, 1973, and September 5, 1973, the Minutes for the Northville Plan Commission of September 18, 1973, and the Minutes from the Northville Library Advisory Commission of September 27, 1973, will be placed on file.

APPROVAL OF BILLS: Following a general discussion, motion by Councilman Rathert, supported by Councilman Folino to approve bills as presented.

SEPTEMBER FINALS

BUILDING AUTHORITY ACCOUNT No. 2 $1,500.00

GENERAL FUND DEBTS 2,096.68

MAJOR STREET FUND DEBTS 292.61

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT FUND DEBTS 7,499.32

PUBLIC DEBTS 2,355.90

WATER FUND DEBTS 4,264.09

Carried unanimously.

COMMUNICATIONS: A letter was read from Northville High School requesting Council's permission to hold their Homecoming Parade on Friday, October 19, via Hutton, Main, and Center Streets.

Councilman Rathert said that this parade is a worthwhile tradition in Northville, and he motioned to grant permission to Northville High School to hold their Homecoming Parade on October 19, subject to police approval. Support by Councilman Folino.

Carried unanimously.

PUBLIC HEARING ON TELEPHONE ALARM ORD. Mayor Allen opened the Public Hearing on the proposed Telephone Burglar Alarm Ordinance. City Attorney Ogilvie read the ordinance and it appeared in the Northville Record.

Councilman Folino stated that he was very pleased with this ordinance. Councilman Rathert asked what the status is under this ordinance of people who already have this type of alarm system.

City Attorney Ogilvie replied that they would have to disconnect or gain our written consent.

Mayor Allen instructed the City Manager to send a copy of the ordinance to all alarm companies.

There being no further comments, Mayor Allen closed the Public Hearing on the Telephone Alarm System Ordinance.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Rathert to adopt the Telephone Alarm System Ordinance. Carried unanimously.

BANK SIGNATURE RESOLUTION: Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Rathert to adopt a resolution regarding the bank signature resolution for establishing bank signatures for treasurer, Steven L. Walters, and Deputy Treasurer Marion LeFevre, for City of Northville. Carried unanimously.

PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE & MAP: Regarding the proposed Zoning Ordinance and Zoning Map, it was decided that since there are still several points that need clarification between Council and Plan Commission, a study session should be held on October 29, 1973. Present should be at least a quorum from Plan Commission, Plan Consultant Mr. Nino, and members of Council.

PROPOSED HISTORICAL DISTRICT ORDINANCE: Regarding the Proposed Historical District Ordinance, Mr. Burkman, President of the Northville Historical Society, was present. He told Council that the Plan Commission had said this Ordinance should not be part of the Zoning Ordinance.

Council decided that this should also be discussed at the study session on October 29, 1973.

AMBULANCE LOCATION AT 519 FAIRBROOK: In regard to the potential ambulance location at 519 Fairbrook, City Attorney Ogilvie said papers have been filed to remove the tenants, and this will go to court on Tuesday, October 16, 1973. A charge will be entered for arrears, also. He further stated that one of the tenants called him and said they would be moving out shortly, and offered to pay part of the rent in arrears.

BONGIOVANNI LAW SUIT: City Attorney Ogilvie brought up the Bongiovanni lawsuit. The house was appraised by their attorney at $35,000, $900 lower than previously reported. Mr. Ogilvie asked Council if there was any change in their position.

Mayor Allen stated that since Council has gone this far, the court can decide the matter, and Council agreed.

BI-CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE: Mr. Burkman of the Historical Society said that regarding the Bi-Centennial Committee, the State of Michigan said we need to apply to be a Bi-Centennial Community. It will probably take a resolution by the Council appointing this committee so that it will have official standing.

This resolution will be ready for the next regular meeting on November 5, 1973.

There being no further business to take care of, Mayor Allen called the meeting adjourned at 9:35 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Patricia Sattler

Novi Volunteer Project

Students Aid WCCDC

A group of Novi High School students are discovering the rewards of volunteering their time to "be friends to other teen-agers who need their friendship."

Every Tuesday and Saturday from 3-5 p.m., a group of approximately 20 Novi juniors and seniors manages to find its way out to the Wayne County Child Development Center where it spends the afternoon engaged in a variety of activities with teen-agers from the Center.

It's all part of a class in Social Psychology being taught at the high school by Bob Weinburger and Bob Emerson, a student teacher from Eastern Michigan University.

"Emerson deserves most of the credit for the program," commented Weinburger. "It was his idea to go out there in the first place."

"Actually, it's the kids who deserve most of the credit," Weinburger continued. "We just set it up and they've kind of taken over from there."

Basically, the program involved interaction between the Novi students and their counterparts from the Child Development Center.

"They just sort of do the things that teen-agers do when they get together," reported Weinburger.

"There's a lot of one-to-one interaction. They go on hikes, play pool, play football, go on walks, have Halloween parties. They just have a lot of fun together."

The Novi students are working with a group of 10-13 year olds and both groups seem to enjoy the interaction.

Weinburger reported that the youngsters from the Child Development Center look forward to the visits from the Novi students and vice-versa.

"I think we have better attendance out there than we get in class sometimes," he laughed.

The program is strictly on a volunteer basis and participation is not limited to Weinburger's Social Psychology class. Other high school students have gone out to the Center on a trial basis and enjoyed the interaction so much that they decided to return a second time and have now become regulars.

"There are no school credits involved," Weinburger emphasized. "They go only because they want to go and because they enjoy it.

"I think the program is proving to be a valuable experience for both the kids at the Center and our own kids. It's hard to tell who gets more out of it and who is enjoying it more."

"I guess that's why it's such a good program."

Novi students participating in the program are Ann Snowden, Pam Jenkins, Terri Stafford, Craig Hesse, Marty Adelman, Judy Sibole, Lynn Ford, Karen Griffin, Terri Townsend, and Carol Padgett. Also participating in the program are Brad Shobe, Michele Sumner, Carrie Adams, Bill Downey, Laura Valentine, Mark Adams, Debbie Turpin, Clair McDomas, Mary Dawn Withers, and Dawn Spero.

Time may improve some situations, but in the case of the Northville-Seven Mile road crossing it can only make a dangerous condition even worse.

By some standards the hump-back intersection might be classified as a medium traffic crossing.

But there are enough cars to cause frequent traffic lines of more than a block long. And an average of 43 trains per day pass the crossing.

That's nearly two every hour.

Add to this the fact that the crossing presents visibility problems day and night from both directions coupled with approach difficulties from the west and you've set the stage for an accident and a probable death (or deaths).

Presently, Seven Mile road at the Northville road intersection is one of the main traffic arteries for community ingress and egress.

When the expressway at Haggerty is complete and empties traffic off at Seven Mile road, the numbers of cars will increase.

Presently, there's Northville State Hospital, Hawthorn Center and Schoolcraft College helping to generate Seven Mile road traffic.

But within a year add these developments in Northville township along Seven Mile road between Haggerty and Northville road:

—already opened Innsbrook apartments;

—a shopping center with a major supermarket now under construction in front of the apartment complex;

—further development of Highland Lakes townhouses and apartments with a new entrance off Seven Mile road;

—the new offices of National Bank of Detroit;

—a state police post, crime lab and district headquarters facility;

—Stewart Oldford's 200-unit mobile home development, which recently won court approval and will be located just east of the railroad intersection along Seven Mile road.

In reality the railroad intersection at Seven Mile and Northville roads should not exist at all.

This was recognized as early as 1951 when the county constructed the Seven Mile road "cut-off" connecting Hines drive and Northville road just north of the Seven Mile-Northville road intersection.

Originally, plans called for this new "cut-off" (on which Mach Ford Sales, Good Time Party, etc., are now located) to continue eastward across Northville road and underneath the elevated railroad.

Then it would have curved southeasterly and connected directly with Seven Mile road at a point near the Reef Manufacturing building.

Thus there would be no "break" in Seven Mile road, such as now exists at Northville road. And there would be no railroad crossing. Cars would run safely underneath the tracks.

And the hump-back crossing at Seven Mile and Northville road would be closed. Instead, a circular turn-around drive would probably have been constructed at Seven Mile road on the east side of the tracks so that all of the existing frontage would have safe access.

It still strikes me as the best and safest answer.

I hope Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright and Police Chief Ron Nisun remind Russell Harrison of the Wayne county traffic and safety department and representatives of the Michigan Public Service Commission of these 20-year-old plans when they inspect the intersection today.

It's 20 years later and the wisdom of those who could see the day when the old crossing would be too dangerous to handle the traffic is now apparent.

Speaking for Myself

Mayoral Terms?

ERNEST BROWN

TWO YEARS . . .

I strongly favor the concept of a two-year mayoral term, as opposed to a four-year term, for a variety of reasons.

In my opinion a four-year mayoral term tends to slow down the vital processes of government. When a man is elected to a four-year term there is no sense of urgency to get things accomplished.

It is possible for a city to elect a mayor who does virtually nothing for the first three years of his term and then wakes up and fills the final year with a flurry of activity. Though hardly a desirable consequence, this possibility is still superior to the possibility that a city will be stuck with a do-nothing chief official for four years.

A two-year mayoral term, on the other hand, keeps a mayor on his toes. He knows he must present his record to the electorate again in just two years and is therefore much more likely to set about the process of getting government in motion.

The two-year term also has the advantage of enabling the voters to remove a poor or weak mayor from office before he can do any permanent damage.

Finally, most city charters provide for the reelection of half the city council every two years. By making the mayor also stand for reelection every two years, the voters are afforded the opportunity to change four of the seven members of the municipal administration.

Gunnar Mettala
Wixom City Councilman

FOUR YEARS . . .

I don't know how anyone can suggest less than a four year mayoral term.

Any city's chief executive officer must be given time in which to establish his programs, to get personnel he has replaced into effective operations and the like.

Two things happen in two-year mayoral terms.

A mayor gets a program underway. Say he spends thousands of dollars in seeking millions in federal funds for what he feels is a badly needed sewage treatment plant expansion.

His successor feels improvements in the central business district, or urban renewal or the like to be a more pressing problem and scraps his predecessor's efforts.

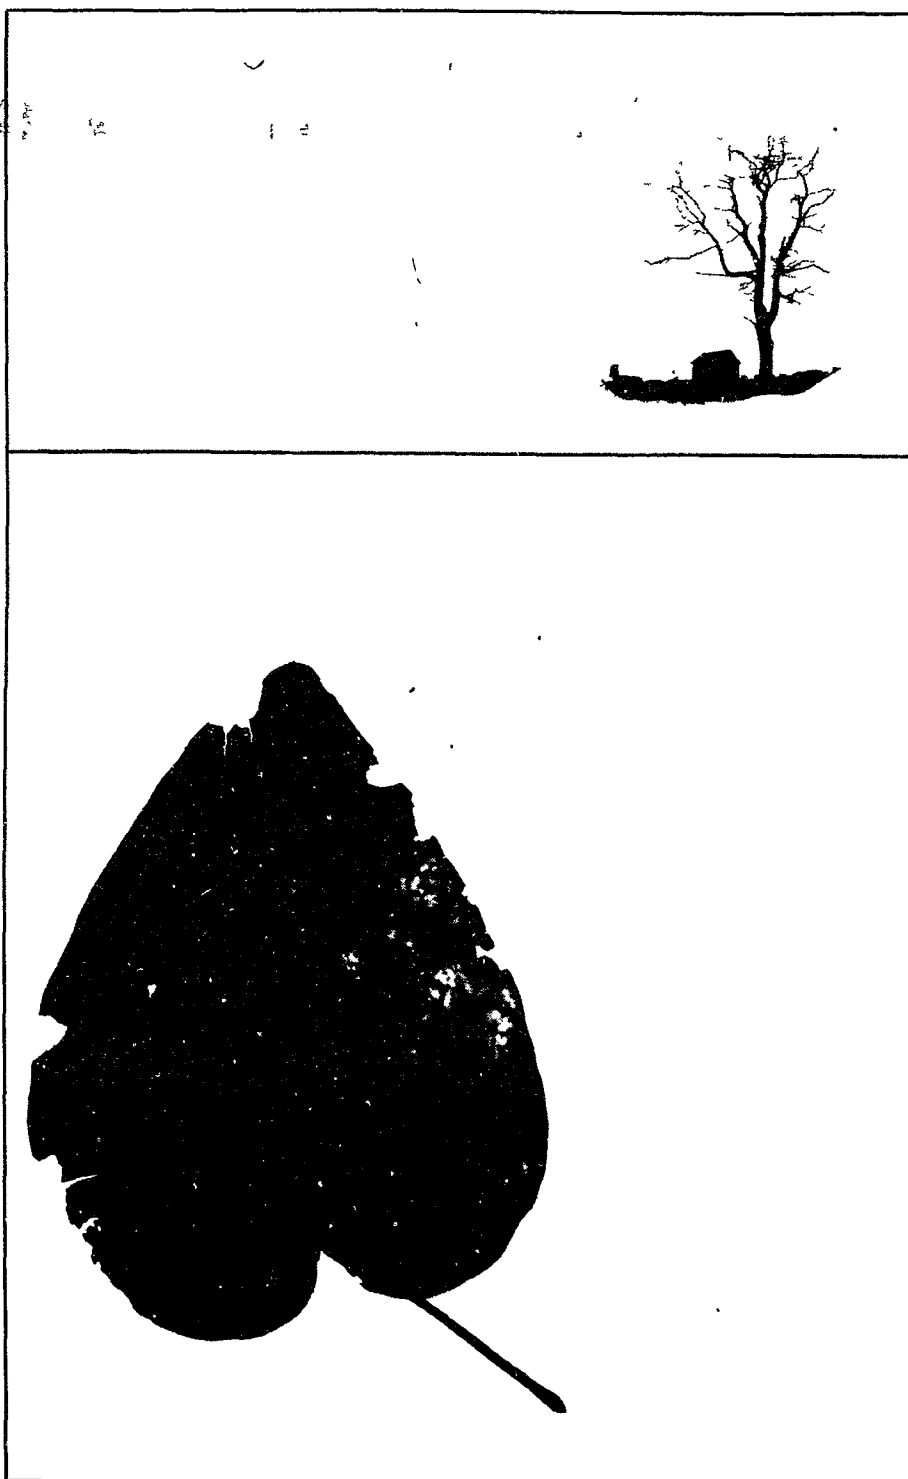

Or he fires everyone employed by his predecessor, and then that individual defeats him two years hence in a reelection bid.

Give a mayor some time in which to get the job done.

Whatever happened to the circle drive-downtown mall concept proposed in Northville years ago?

Opposition by downtown merchants may have forced the idea underground but it survives and there are indications that it is slowly moving towards fruition, insists George Zerbel, former planning commission chairman.

Basically, the concept calls for Main and Center streets in downtown Northville to be blocked off to vehicular traffic. And it calls for a circle drive around this central business district. It suggests that parking for downtown shoppers be located inside but adjacent to the circle drive.

The old master plan envisioned the circle drive to approximate the location of Dunlap on the north, Wing on the west, Hutton on the east and a block south of Cady on the south. Main and Center streets would be blocked off at these points for vehicular traffic.

Downtown Northville would become become a place for pedestrian shoppers only...people who could, said the old master plan, "walk through or along the pleasant landscape mall area, rest for a while on comfortable benches, or leave the children at the play area until the shopping is completed."

Downtown merchants, recalls Zerbel, balked at the idea because they contended that parking in front of their stores and vehicular traffic through the center of town was vital to good business.

"They were wrong," he still insists. "The idea that vehicular and pedestrian traffic should be mixed to improve business is simply untrue."

Obviously, today's planners agree.

The recently adopted new master plan endorses the circle drive-downtown mall concept:

"Upon completion of the 'ring road' certain interior roads should be partially or entirely closed to automobile traffic. The former right-of-ways should be converted to a landscaping in keeping with the mall theme."

That the planning commission continues to pursue the matter pleases Zerbel, who suggests the council, perhaps unintentionally, is slowly implementing the mall plan. He notes, for example, that parking is developing in the peripheral area of the CBD as was suggested in the initial mall concept.

Even the development of the Northville Square complements the idea, though Zerbel would have preferred it to be located at the corner of Center and Main.

Furthermore, the parking lot drive proposed south of Cady Street, between Wing and Center, approximates the southern arm of the circle drive proposed years ago.

Though the former planner's optimism is encouraging, I'm not satisfied that the concept is receiving serious attention by either the city council or the business district.

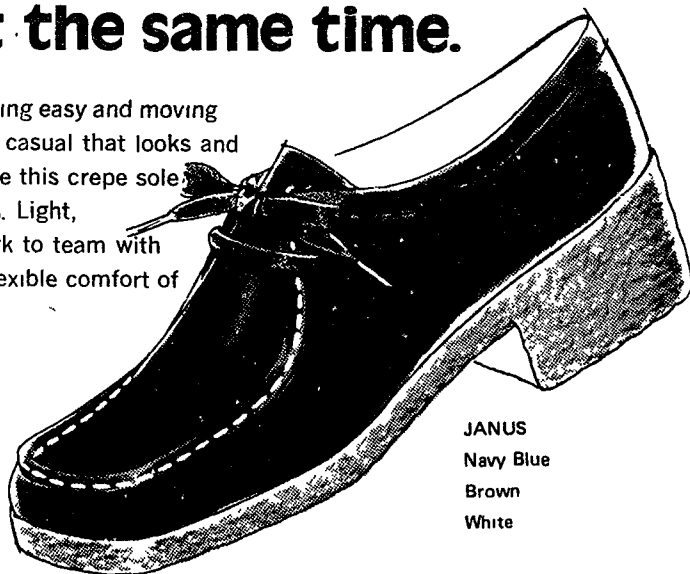

I'm afraid the circle drive-mall idea, like the recent student suggested plan to enhance the downtown section, is just a convenient paper showpiece. Resting on some city hall shelf or under the Chamber of Commerce rug, it can be quickly retrieved now and then to satisfy us that something is being done.

And that's too bad. Good ideas are worth more than talk.

Three One Acts

Novi Plays Slated

Three one-act plays will be presented by Novi High School next Friday, November 16, and Saturday, November 17.

Curtain time each evening is 8:15 and tickets are on sale now for $1.50. They may be purchased beforehand from any cast member and are available at the door on the nights of the performances.

An art show is also planned in conjunction with the plays. Plays scheduled include "The Lottery," "The Necklace" and "To Burn a Witch."

"The Lottery" deals with absurd traditions and customs. Cast members include Holly Caracker, Tom Compton, Gary Garcia, Eric Hansor and Clair McComas.

Also in roles are Sandy Kovar, Andy McComas, Denis Paquette, Veronica Romanow, Bob Starnes and Michele Sumner.

Children will be played by Suzanne Beckman, Bobby Hackett, Greg McComas and Bill Walker Jr. Villagers include Pam Sietrich, Gale Sexton, Mike Tamm and Sue Waldenmayer.

"The Necklace" is the second play and deals with a woman so proud that she works for 10 years of her life to pay for one glorious evening.

The cast consists of Kevin Branshaw, Mary Kovar, Lucine Tafraian and Pat Tamm.

The final play, "To Burn a Witch," takes place during the Salem witch trials in 1683. Cast members are Meg Boger, Kitty Lane, Nancy Pisha and Tina Wilkins. The story line concerns two women who have been accused of being witches.

Directing the plays will be Clavin Schmucker, Novi drama instructor. Assistant directors and stage managers are Eric Hansor and Laura Poster.

About 30 students comprise the costume, make-up, scenery and sound crews.

In conjunction with the two evenings of plays, an art show will be held in the main hallway of Novi High and may be viewed before and after the show or during intermission. The collection will contain student works from the past school year.

Winning design for posters advertising the one-act plays was submitted by Cheryl Pohlman who received a $25 award, school spokesmen said.

formal education ended there, for the author's religious doubts brought about a breakdown in communications with his father and he was apprenticed to a hotel, the family line of business on his mother's side.

But the driving need to get close to the truth about man's evolution had the young von Daniken in his grip. In his late teens he had come to believe that archeology, if viewed from a new perspective, might hold the key to that truth. The Bible already had supplied von Daniken with rich resource material.

Thus, 20 years ago, the indefatigable von Daniken set upon a course to question all previous explanations of the origins of the human race. Unfettered by the discipline that might have encumbered a formally trained scientist, he read and studied and visited every site and artifact possible in his quest "to find the truth".

Von Daniken has traveled all over the world in pursuit of and delivering information. In 1972, alone, he flew some 125,000 miles.

When he is not lecturing or exploring, Erich von Daniken makes his home in Bonstetten, Switzerland, with his wife, Elisabeth, and their 10-year-old daughter, Cornelia.

Parent Conferences Set at Northville

Parent-teacher conferences at Northville High School will be held one evening and two afternoons during the next two weeks, Principal Fred Holdsworth announced.

On Tuesday, conferences have been set for 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Conference times for Wednesday, November 14, and the following Tuesday, November 20, will be from 3 to 6 p.m.

Parents do not have to make appointments, Holdsworth said, and may come to the school any time during the hours scheduled.

Teachers will be in the cafeteria of the high school, grouped by departments, and parents should feel free to visit any teacher, he added. Holdsworth suggested that parents visit the teacher who is free or where there is the shortest waiting line.

Administrators and counselors will also be available during the conference times for parents who wish to speak with them, the principal added.

Coffee and refreshments will be served during the conferences.

Lions to Hear Zone Chairman

Northville Lions Club will host the District 11-A-1 Zone 3 meeting on Monday, November 12.

Cocktail hour begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Wagon Wheel Lounge, 212 South Main Street, with dinner beginning promptly at 7:30 p.m., Lions spokesmen said. There will be a charge for dinner.

Speaker for the evening will be R. R. Don Hebert, Zone 3 Chairman.

Lions have extended an invitation to attend the meeting to residents of Northville and Northville township who would be interested in joining the club.

Story Hours

Offered Here

Two special story hours will mark Northville Public Library's observance of Book Week next week.

Registration for the two story hours, which are set for Wednesday, November 14, and Friday, November 16, is being conducted this week through 5 p.m. Saturday.

Theme of this year's story hour is "Live! Read!"

Pre-schoolers between the ages of three and five are eligible for either of the story hours, Librarian Mrs. Elaine Lada said.

Story hours begin at 10 a.m. in the library and parents may register their children for only one of the sessions. Registration may be conducted in person at the library or by calling Mrs. Lada at 349-3020.

Planned for the special story hours are familiar books such as "The Little Red Hen" and "The Town Mouse and The Country Mouse," she added.

"The Mallen Streak." Central character is Barbara, the spoiled deaf ward of Miss Brimore.

"Witch," Barbara Michaels; An old house in Virginia is supposedly haunted by an 18th Century witch and her cat.

"As We Are Now," May Sarton; Sensitive story depicting life in a nursing home with 76-year-old Caro Spencer as the central character.

"The Tower," Richard Martin Stern; Minute-by-minute account of a major disaster in New York City.

ADULT NON-FICTION

"Whispers from Space," John W. Macvey; Modern radioastronomy and advanced techniques that may prove that man has received signals from other planets.

"Lyndon," Richard Harwood; Biography of Lyndon Baines Johnson. Tells of his Texas boyhood to his early Washington days to his retirement.

"This Laugh Is on Me," Phil Silvers; Autobiography of a well-known comedian — best known as "Sergeant Bilko."

"Upstairs at the White House: My Life with The First Ladies," Life of the Chief Usher of the White House for six presidents, Roosevelt to Nixon

"The Making of the President, 1972," Theodore H. White; Best Seller.

Northville Public Library is now receiving copies of "The Congressional Record," proceedings at debates of the 93rd Congress. These may be checked out for one week, Librarian Mrs. Elaine Lada said.

Main Street Collects Labels

'Soup's On' at School

Main Street Elementary School is looking for 20,000 Campbell's soup labels to swap for audio-visual equipment.

The program, Labels for Education, is sponsored by the Campbell Soup Company and is offered to elementary schools, both public and private.

"Between now and December 8, we hope to collect enough Campbell's soup labels to earn two cassette tape recorders and a carousel-type slide projector," said Donald Van Ingen, Main Street principal.

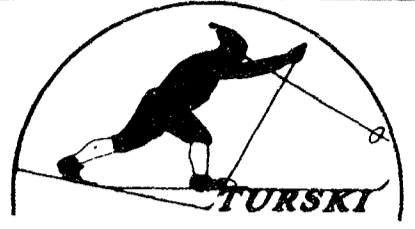

"Our students are saving their labels and they would appreciate it if friends of the school would do the same," Van Ingen said.

Persons may drop the soup labels off at the office of Main Street Elementary, located at 501 West Main Street, any school day or send them to school with one of the children who attends Main Street.

Any Campbell's soup can label counts in the drive, the principal explained, and there is no cost to the school for participating in the drive. More than 70 audio-visual equipment items are being offered to schools and schools need only send in the required number of labels for the particular items selected, the principal added

Parent Conferences Set at Northville

Parent-teacher conferences at Northville High School will be held one evening and two afternoons during the next two weeks, Principal Fred Holdsworth announced.

On Tuesday, conferences have been set for 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Conference times for Wednesday, November 14, and the following Tuesday, November 20, will be from 3 to 6 p.m.

Parents do not have to make appointments, Holdsworth said, and may come to the school any time during the hours scheduled.

Teachers will be in the cafeteria of the high school, grouped by departments, and parents should feel free to visit any teacher, he added. Holdsworth suggested that parents visit the teacher who is free or where there is the shortest waiting line.

Administrators and counselors will also be available during the conference times for parents who wish to speak with them, the principal added.

Coffee and refreshments will be served during the conferences.

Lions to Hear Zone Chairman

Northville Lions Club will host the District 11-A-1 Zone 3 meeting on Monday, November 12.

Cocktail hour begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Wagon Wheel Lounge, 212 South Main Street, with dinner beginning promptly at 7:30 p.m., Lions spokesmen said. There will be a charge for dinner.

Speaker for the evening will be R. R. Don Hebert, Zone 3 Chairman.

Lions have extended an invitation to attend the meeting to residents of Northville and Northville township who would be interested in joining the club.

YOUR CHECK PROTECTOR

If you have ever had a check "Bounce" you know how embarrassing (and costly) it can be. Now you can eliminate that possibility by adding our "NO-BOUNCE" feature to your personal checking account. Here's how it works. If you write a check that's over your balance we'll cover it by automatically extending you a cash advance on your Michigan BankAmericard. What once was an overdraft is now an automatic "secret" loan.

What's nice about a "NO-BOUNCE" account is that if you never use it, it never costs you. If you do use it, you pay the loan by merely making a payment on your Michigan BankAmericard. See your branch manager now!

Hearing Set On Ordinance

In reviewing plans, the commission is to give consideration to the historical or architectural value and significance of the structure and its relationship to the historic value of the surrounding area; the general compatibility of the exterior design, arrangement, texture and materials proposed to be used; and to any other factor including aesthetic, which it deems pertinent.

Basically, the historic district as defined in the ordinance encompasses that section of the city generally bounded by Cady Street on the south, Rogers Street on the west, Randolph Street on the north, and Hutton Street and Park Place on the east.

Last was Allen Ingle with 91 votes.

A special meeting of the city council is to be held next Monday when candidates are to be sworn into office—provided the county canvass of votes has been completed by that time.

The ordinance calls for the creation of a seven-member Historic District Commission made up of members who live in the city.

Members are to be appointed by the city council for terms of three years (except at the outset when terms are to be staggered). They are to include the mayor, a member of the city council and a member of the planning commission, three representatives of the Historical Society, and a registered architect.

If a registered architect living in the city is unavailable for membership, the seventh member is to be an "interested resident" chosen by the council.

Members are to serve without compensation.

Here's the basic procedure for review of plans by the historic district commission:

1. Application is made for a building permit to the building inspector.

2. The building inspector immediately notifies the commission of the application and supplies it with a copy of the plans.

3. The commission considers the plans at its next regular meeting, and it may confer with the applicant for the building permit.

4. The commission is to approve or disapprove the plans. If approved, the application and plans are to be returned to the building inspector. If disapproved, the written reasons are to be given the building inspector and the applicant.

5. The applicant, if he so desires, may make modifications to his plans to incorporate the commission's suggestions and then resubmit them.

6. After a certificate of approval is issued by the commission and a building permit granted to the applicant, the building inspector shall from time to time inspect the work to see that it is in compliance with approved plans.

ANNIVERSARY—The 25th anniversary of the "burning of the mortgage" will be marked this month by the Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147, Legion Historian Miss Ruth Knapp said this week. It was 25 years ago that four Legionnaires — George Simmons, Claude Ely, Lisle Alexander and Merrill Sweet — burned the mortgage, thus officially giving Post 147 clear title to the old Legion building at the northwest corner of Center and Dunlap streets. The headquarters building, the home of Northville's pioneering Dunlap family more than a century ago, originally faced Center Street (above). Later it was turned to face Dunlap and bricked.

Owner's Angry, Wants Roadblock

Threaten Withdrawal of Factory

An angry Northville industrialist threatened Monday to pull his business out of the city unless he is granted permission to block off old Novi Road north of Eight Mile Road.

"This community needs business, not chicken houses," declared Marion Szczepanski when it appeared the city council might not permit him to erect a chain across the road as a means of protecting his firm, International Diamond Tool Company, 21141 Novi Road.

"If I don't get a permit, I will move from the community," he said angrily. He objected to having the matter referred to the new city manager for additional study, arguing that since making the request several weeks ago he has met all requirements of the council.

Specifically, he referred to letters he has obtained from the Township of Novi and from William Chase, only other affected property owner on the street, giving him permission to blockade the road at night.

He also has received a letter from his insurance company that blocking of the road will not affect his fire insurance rates.

The road presently deadends near the railroad tracks, and Szczepanski wants permission to nightly put up a chain across the road in front of his business.

By blocking traffic, he believes the possibility of burglary will be substantially reduced. His business twice has been burglarized in the past, he told councilmen.

The police department has recommended against chaining of the road, noting that the blocked roadway would temporarily hinder fire department equipment and would be hazardous for motorists who might not see the chain.

Szczepanski contends those using the deadend road at night are drinkers, lovers, vandals, and potential burglars.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie has stated the city would be liable for damages in the event a motorist was injured if his car struck the chain.

Mayor A M Allen and others have expressed a suspicion that Szczepanski probably would begin parking his vehicles and equipment on the roadway if the blockade is permitted. Szczepanski denies this.

Over the industrialist's objection, the council referred the matter back to City Manager Steven Walters for review and recommendation at the next meeting of the council.

In other business Monday, the council adopted a resolution urging the state to update the Uniform Traffic Code, granted the Salvation Army permission to sell its Christmas magazine on downtown streets during two or three days of December; and tabled discussion of the police department alarm system pending further investigation by the city manager.

High School Sets College Test Dates

Registration dates for two college entrance tests and the appearance of a university representative at Northville High have been announced by the counseling office at the school.

Last day for registration for the December 8 ACT test will be Monday, November 12, counselors announced. Another ACT test will be given on February 23 and registration for that test is currently being conducted this week by counselors.

Late registration for the SAT test to be given in December ends today (Thursday). Applications for both the ACT and SAT tests are available at the counseling office.

On Tuesday, November 13, Wayne State University will have a representative at Northville High beginning at 11 a.m., counselors said.

BY BOB STONE

One of the most exacting of all real estate jobs is the title closing. Your real estate man has duties which should facilitate this closing. First of all, he will show his interest by being present at the closing, and by offering his help in any way possible. He will assist in the clearing of titles, supervise the delivering of necessary papers; as a matter of good practice, he will urge every buyer and seller to seek legal aid in closing the deal.

When you deal with HARTFORD REALTY, 224 S. Main, 349-1212 we will use our knowledge and experience to make sure that all the details are carried out to your satisfaction. Tailgate Picnic

Pregame Warmups Start with Something Good to Eat....

By ROLLY PETERSON

Fall is dominated by football. Few would dispute that.

But the game isn't the end-all and be-all for many, especially females, who regularly make the trip either to Ann Arbor or East Lansing on football Saturdays.

What is more appealing to them are the off-field activities—before, during and after the big game. Tops among these attractions, of course, is the tailgate picnic, a potpourri of good food and drink, school spirit, camaraderie and nostalgia.

Not that you have to be a football dummy to enjoy the tailgate picnic. Even the most avid fans wouldn't think of Saturday without the picnic. It's taken on that stature.

There are several families in this area that take off early nearly every Fall Saturday to join the thousands of fans for a complete football day, beginning with the tailgate picnic.

Ann MacDonald, wife of Northville attorney John MacDonald, admits she gets more of a kick out of off-field activities than she does out of the game.

For her, the game means a day with her husband, seeing old friends and making new ones during the pre-game tailgate picnic, watching the off-field activities during the game, such as cheerleaders and fans, and winding up with a postgame dinner or tailgate snack.

"It's really a fun thing," said Mrs. MacDonald, a Michigan State University grad. But she seldom goes to East Lansing. Her husband is a Michigan grad and an avid Michigan football fan. So normally it's off to Ann Arbor for them.

Not so for Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Schuman of Brighton. He's an MSU grad totally committed to the Spartans. The former alumni director for Washtenaw and Livingston counties and his wife, Betty, have only missed one State home game in seven years.

This weekend, in fact, they're going down to Columbus, Ohio to watch the Spartans clash with the Bucks.

Mrs. Alvin Wistert, wife of the twice Michigan All-American and football captain, knows her football better than most females. She digs the game. Nevertheless, she considers the tailgate picnic an indispensable part of football Saturday.

It hasn't always been. Matter of fact, the tailgate picnic, according to Mrs. Wistert and Mrs. Schuman, has gained tremendous popularity in the midwest only within the past 10 years.

For tailgaters, football Saturday begins around 10, 10:30 or 11 a.m., depending on how far the stadium is from home and the weather. The idea is to get there early enough to relax and join in the conviviality and excitement.

Leaving well in advance of the kickoff has other benefits, besides providing ample time for picnic fun. You also beat the heavy, hectic traffic en route to the stadium.

Cars aren't the only mode of transportation. Today you'll find people bound for the stadium and a tailgate picnic in station wagons, Volkswagen buses, regular buses chartered for that purpose and even motor homes.

Mrs. MacDonald swears by the motor home which her husband either rents or borrows for football Saturday, although the MacDonalds use other means of transportation also.

GRIDIRON COOKOUT

BARBEQUED SHISH KABOB

2 lbs. meat cubes
¼ cup salad oil 1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper 1 tsp. marjoram
2 tsp. lemon juice

Cut 2 pounds of tender meat (lamb, beef, pork or veal) into 1½-inch squares. Remove fat and gristle. Allow ½ to 1 pound per serving. Combine salad oil, lemon juice, pepper, salt and marjoram. Place meat in the marinade and and refrigerate for several hours. Put meat and marinade in a portable container and keep cool until needed.

To assemble shish kabobs: Thread meat cubes on skewers, being careful not to overcrowd. Broil 3 inches from coals. Turn to brown evenly while basting with marinade. Cook about 15 to 20 minutes. If desired, meat cubes can be alternated with quartered tomatoes, green pepper squares, onions, mushrooms, olives, bacon or anything else that will ride a skewer.

DILLED BEAN SALAD

2 cups canned or frozen green beans
2 cups sour cream
2 T powdered dill weed
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1 T lemon juice
2 cucumbers

Cook frozen beans, being careful not to overcook, or drain canned beans. Chill. Combine sour cream, dill, salt, pepper and lemon juice.

Refrigerate for one hour. Thinly slice cucumbers and pat dry. Toss sour cream mixture with the cucumbers and beans. Chill for several hours. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

BEEF BROTH WITH HORSE RADISH

2 10½ oz. cans condensed beef broth
1 tsp. prepared horseradish
2 cups water
¼ tsp. dried dill leaves

Combine ingredients and simmer a few minutes. Pour into a thermos jug. Dabs of sour cream and cucumber sticks can be added as garnishes when served. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FRANKFURTERS "FIFTY YARD LINE"

12 franks 12 frankfurter rolls
2 onions, sliced
1 bottle beer
2 lbs. sauerkraut (drained)
½ tsp. caraway seed

Saute onions. Add sauerkraut, beer, caraway seed. Cook a few minutes. Transfer to a casserole. Bake ½ hour at 375°, covered. Remove cover, layer with franks. Bake another 20 minutes. Keep hot in the

WITH HYMNALS IN HAND—Pastor John Hirsch of the Lutheran Church of North Brighton, a new mission congregation of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, prepares for the church's first service. It will be held this Sunday, November 11, at 10:45 a.m. at Birkenstock School, 7400 West Grand River. Mr. Hirsch said all are welcome to attend this and the following services. Sunday School and adult Bible classes will begin on Sunday, December 2, at 9:30 a.m. at the same location.

Lutherans to Celebrate

Mark Synod Anniversary

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, along with nearly 6,000 congregations of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, is celebrating this year. The celebration of the 125th anniversary of the Synod will be in full swing at the church November 10 and 11, with all Livingston County residents invited to an open house on Saturday and a worship open house on Sunday. Services will be held at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

The Missouri Synod originated when German immigrants settled in the area which is now the State of Missouri. Some of these immigrants also settled in the Frankenmuth and Saginaw areas. To worship their creator in the same way they did in their native Germany, the Missouri Synod was born.

The Mary Martha Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Hamburg will be hosting a Harvest Dinner, on Saturday, November 10 from 5-10 p.m. Door prizes are offered. Family tickets are available for $7.50. Adult tickets cost $2.50 while pre-schoolers are admitted free and children 12 and under will be charged $1.

The Dorcas Circle will be holding a bazaar that same day from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. Both events will be held in the church basement.

The community is invited to see the exhibit in the church parlor at 400 East Grand River next Sunday from noon until 3 p.m. according to Mrs. Denise Hutchins. Mrs. Hutchins plans to deliver the items to the Goodfellows of Detroit November 13 for distribution.

The Reverend Kenneth Ouellette has been called to be the new pastor of Tri-Lakes Baptist Church. He will replace the Reverend Bruce Stine, who is now the principal of the Capital City Christian School in Lansing.

Mr. Ouellette is a graduate of Bob Jones University in Greenville, South Carolina. For the past six-years he has been an evangelist. Before that he was superintendent of the Detroit City Rescue Mission for nine years and pastor of the First Baptist Church of Perry for six years.

Mr. Ouellette will be at the church full-time starting December 1, but he will take over part-time duties during November while finishing some evangelistic commitments.

His first Sunday service will be November 11.

Bus Teaching Sparks Ideas

Religion Classes Not the Same

By TERESA ARNOLD

Giving a religious education lecture on the ups and downs of being a Christian could be harder than it sounds, especially if you're teaching on a moving school bus and you've just lost the heel of your shoe. Or it could be easier than it sounds.

That's what religious education teachers for Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville say. Sometimes teaching a bus full of elementary students offers a new opportunity—to perhaps compare having to go on teaching without your heel to having to overcome the hardships of Christian life.

A few years ago when state law allowed public school students to be released from classes for up to two hours a week for religious education, teachers at O.L.V. discovered a problem in transporting children from their respective elementary schools in both Novi and Northville to class in Northville. It just took too much time.

"We checked out the possibilities of holding class at one of the elementary schools, but that would have had to be after school or we would have had to find a central location," said Joseph Leddy, religious education director. "That would have involved transportation anyway."

"At any rate, we felt Our Lady of Victory was the best setting for the classes," he said. "We can take advantage of special masses at the church and expose the children to many of the things they could only expect in a Catholic school."

Mrs. Rosaline Carbott, section head for the released program, said she was motivated to teach on the bus because she wanted the chance to give children the best religious education possible. She feels this is accomplished by the way the bus time is used.

Close to 600 elementary students, grades one through five, are served by Our Lady of Victory's program. Children are gathered from three Novi schools, Novi Elementary, Orchard Hills and Village Oaks; and three Northville schools, Main Street School, Moraine and Amerman.

"We use the Novi bus time more extensively," said Miss Mary Jane Berro, a fourth year teacher for O.L.V. Teaching the commandments, songs and prayers along with other things that require memorization, can be easily done on the bus, she said.

"But there are many things that occur while we're on the bus that make beautiful lessons for the children," Miss Berro said. "As we hear a siren, we pause to pray. It is a real living lesson for the children when we pass an accident. We emphasize even more our need for concern as Christians."

"One time a funeral procession passed the bus and prayers were said for the dead. This also sparked a discussion on the meaning of death and resurrection," she said.

The beauty of the fall also points out the wonder of God in nature, she said.

"We encourage the children to be open about their thoughts and spontaneous with their prayers," she said.

Besides the unexpected opportunities for instruction, the teachers also say that because there may be as many as four groups of students from among the 66 children the bus holds, the opportunity for interaction among the children increases when lessons are given on the bus.

They also point out that with the different age groups on the bus at the same time, lessons and prayers are simple. Since the program began three years ago, a curriculum guide or "bus manual" has been prepared to aid teachers in bus teachings.

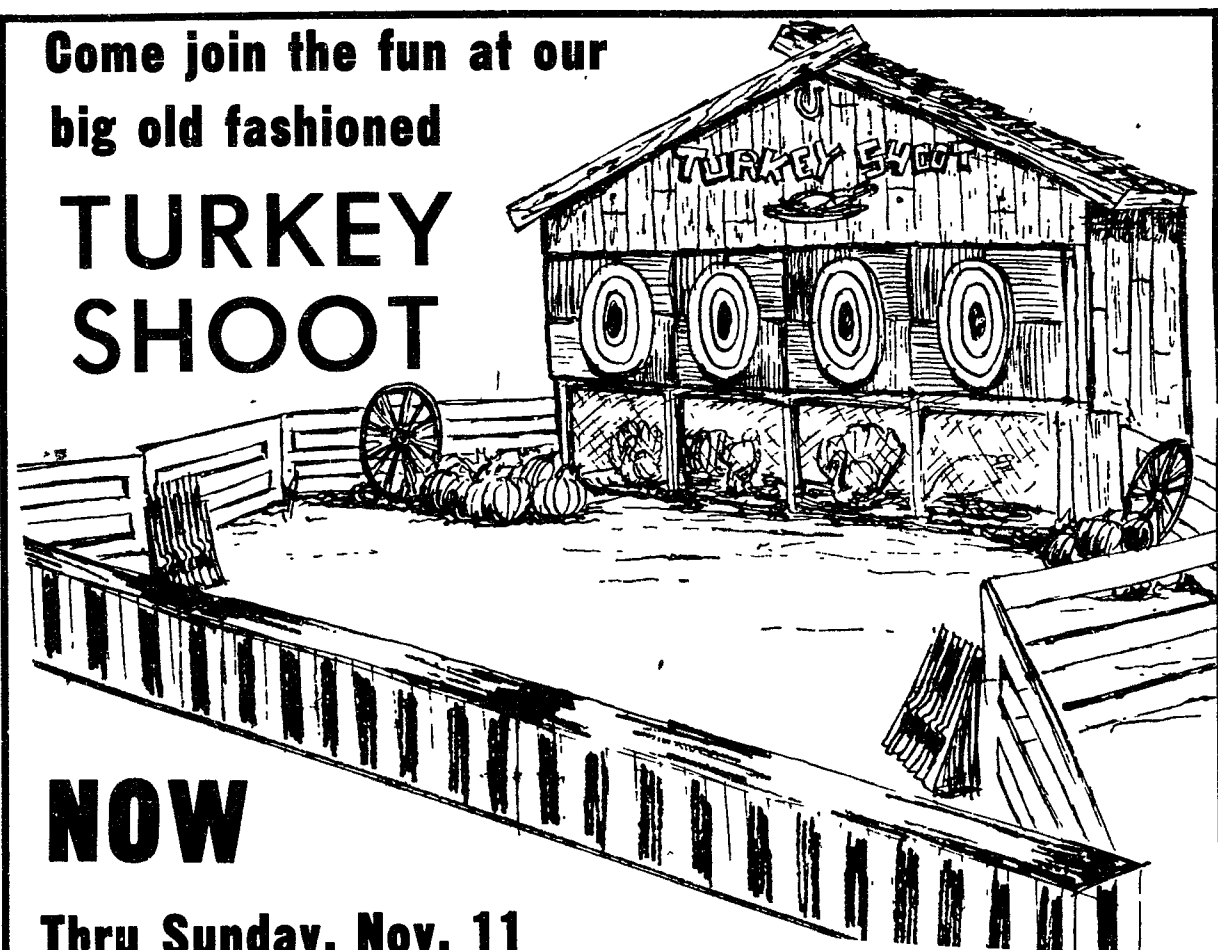

"Many teachers say they would be exasperated by having to work on a moving bus," Mrs. Carbott said, "but I'm happy for the kids because it's a happy time for them. Their exchange is far greater and they profit from the association with other children."

The bus is used by teachers from Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville, to teach religious lessons

Farm Bureau Still Battles Taxes Today

LANSING—More than half a century ago, the Michigan Farm Bureau set about fighting what it considered unfair taxation of those in agriculture.

The group's first battle, shortly after its founding in 1919, was against a road tax on farms. By 1925, that tax was replaced with the gasoline tax.

Today, the Farm Bureau still battles taxes. Its most recent goal, listed in its annual priority book for the past several years, has been agricultural assessment of farmlands.

"Farmers are the victims of an insidious 'real estate roulette,'" says one priority statement. It contends that many farmers can't pay the taxes on their lands and are, therefore, forced to sell out to land developers.

Governor William Milliken's recent proposal for a tax break for farmers seems to follow the Farm Bureau theory, at least in concept.

MILLIKEN'S proposal, unveiled just before lawmakers returned to Lansing for the fall session, offers farmers a state-paid rebate on their property taxes.

The rebate would be granted if the farmer's property tax on farm acreage were more than 8 per cent of his income. If a farmer agreed to keep his land in agricultural or horticultural use for at least 10 years, he'd be eligible for the rebate, up to a maximum of $2,000 a year.

THE FARM BUREAU had sought a "roll-back tax". Under that system, a farmer would agree to keep his land in agricultural or horticultural use for a certain period of time. In return for that, he would pay taxes on the actual agricultural assessment of the land—not on the potential assessment if the land were developed commercially.

If the farmer sold his land, he would be liable for the roll-back tax.

In effect, he'd pay the difference between the agricultural assessment and the other assessment, for "x" number of years.

A bill along those lines passed the House earlier this year and now awaits action in Senate committee.

WHICH WAY THE LEGISLATURE will go, with the governor's proposal or that in Senate committee, is anyone's guess.

The main concern in some quarters, however, is that both will get lost. One follower of the action says: "We've got a couple of trains on the same track and both might be derailed."

Backers of either proposal will argue that the concept not only gives farmers a tax break, but it helps insure that farmlands won't disappear from the Michigan landscape.

A SOCIAL WORKER in Benton Harbor is the first woman counselor in one of Michigan's medium security prisons.

Letrich Dunbar began work earlier this month at the Michigan Training Unit in Ionia, an institution for men under 24.

"We believe that adding the 'woman's touch' to an all male institution housing environment is a step toward normalizing the closed prison society," says Perry Johnson, director of the Corrections Department. "Our previous experience has been that behavior actually improves when women are present in institutions."

NEED A DOCTOR? Michigan has almost 12,000 of them these days, according to the Michigan Health Council.

But of the 11,942, only 1,577 of them are general practitioners. The Council says that number has dropped from 2,134 in the past six years—26 in the last year alone.

While the number of general practitioners has dropped, the total of doctors went up from 10,390 in the six years, the Council says.

That special shuttle bus for state employees, put on a Lansing to Detroit run in mid-September, seems to be a bomb.

One or two people rode it to start. Then a couple more joined the rider list, with up to six passengers during one recent count. But the fares don't prove the system worthwhile. One state official says there must be seven riders a day to make it break even on cost.

Governor Milliken, who sees the shuttle service as a way to beat the costs of state employees commuting in state cars to Detroit, isn't ready to give up on the system yet, though. He told a recent news conference: "I'm not going to scuttle the shuttle."

Chemicals Are Still Mighty Potent

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Despite the possibility of a business correction in the first half of 1974, shortages of key chemicals across the board, the scrambling for both power and hydrocarbon raw materials, and the lack of capacity, the chemical companies are still in a favorable position to register worthwhile increases in sales and earnings.

Imposition of the price freeze in early June followed by Phase 4 does not appear to have curtailed profits up to this time. Although the rate of gain in earnings will probably decline during the last quarter as a result of Phase 4 and the general easing in demand, we still anticipate earnings either at or very close to record levels.

ON THE INTERNATIONAL scene, the dollar devaluations are enhancing the intermediate-term outlook for chemicals. The industry in this country is a net exporter and as a result of the booming demand abroad for U.S. chemical output the foreign trade experts are currently predicting net exports of $2.5 billion this year.

An even greater volume is anticipated for 1974. Sharply higher prices for our chemicals in other countries should more than offset costlier shipping charges as well as the higher import costs of natural gas.

There is much concern over the future supply of hydrocarbon raw materials (feedstocks) since the current domestic shortage has already caused some problems, particularly for producers of synthetic fibers and plastics.

IN ADDITION, the explosive Mideast situation has pointed up the critical need for a dependable reserve supply. Thus far, the shortages involving those chemical manufacturers without the capability of supplying their requirements via their own company operations have not had too significant an effect. A number of concerns have taken steps to obtain an adequate supply, such as by acquisition of an oil and gas operation or in tandem with an independent supplier.

Over the short term, chemical producers are prepared to pay higher prices. Longer term managements are looking toward the tapping of other energy sources such as liquefied or synthetic natural gas.

THE MOUNTING chemical shortages have enabled producers to command higher prices both in this country and abroad. These shortages are expected to last for perhaps as long as two years. Contributing to this situation have been the booming exports, insufficient capacity, and reluctance on the part of the industry to accelerate spending for construction of new plants.

In fact, inventories are presently at such a depressed level that the chemical manufacturers have their lowest inventory-to-sales ratio since the Korean War.

For the first time in a decade, the industry is in the enviable position of having customers vying

Lots of Space

Sold for Show

All 280,000 square feet of exhibit space has been sold out for the seventh annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show to be held February 9 through 17, in the Detroit Artillery Armory.

The announcement is made by Robert Pelkey, executive director of the Michigan Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Institute (MMHRVI), sponsor of the show which for the past six years has been the largest public show in the United States.

The nine-day show has had an increase in attendance each year to a high of 152,304 for the 1973 event.

Pelkey said that the Detroit Camper Show has no connection with the new, privately sponsored show which out-of-state promoters have scheduled in January

FOLKLORE WHICH IS SOMETIMES ASSOCIATED WITH HORSES

A foal's legs at birth are as long as they will ever be.

FALSE: This can be disproved easily by looking at a mare and foal together; the mare's legs are much longer. The cannon bone, however, is just about the same length and will not change much. Most of the growth comes in the forearms and gaskins and, of course, in the body.

Horses cannot vomit. TRUE: A valve between the stomach and the esophagus prevents burping or vomiting except when the stomach is greatly stretched and distended. Very rarely will a horse vomit; when he does it, it is a grave and nearly

This offer expires May 31, 1974. Good only in U.S.A. Void if used, restricted or forbidden by law.

This certificate must not be duplicated or mechanically reproduced and must accompany your proof of purchase.

You know what meat prices are today and so do we. It's clearly time for some good old American ingenuity. Above is the Eckrich Blank Check. It's an invitation to try our products and at the same time save as much as you'd like—from a quarter up to a dollar—on your meat purchases this week. The offer is good on our Smokees, Smok-Y-Links, Fresh Pork Sausage, 12 oz. and 16 oz. Bologna, and our many varieties of Hot Dogs.

How much you save is up to you. But whether you save a quarter on a package of hot dogs, or take full advantage of our offer by trying four different Eckrich products and saving a dollar, you'll be saving a lot more than we could give you with just a coupon. This isn't a giant giveaway, obviously. It's nothing more than a good business move, designed to help you cut your expenses during these times of rising food prices. In doing so, you'll help us by increasing our volume. By responding to your needs, we solve our needs. You don't have to be president of the company to realize that's the best way to do business and make new friends.

IN TIMES LIKE THESE, YOU NEED A FRIEND IN THE MEAT BUSINESS.

DR. LYLE L. FETTIG, Novi, attended the American Osteopathic Association's 77th Annual Convention October 28 through November 1 at the Rivergate Convention center in New Orleans.

The four day postgraduate seminar, sponsored by the AOA and nine affiliated speciality practice colleges, attracted some 4000 osteopathic physicians and their guests.

Among the topics covered were modern approaches to marriage counseling, changing concepts of death, advances in sports medicine and new psychiatric screening programs for policemen.

Keynote speaker was U. S. Senator Harold Hughes (D-Iowa), a member of the federal drug abuse task force and longtime advocate of greater involvement by organized medicine in dealing with contemporary social problems.

AMERICAN AGGREGATES, a corporation with large gravel mining operations in Green Oak Township, declared an increase in the regular quarterly dividend.

Action came October 26 at a meeting of the directors.

The 20 per cent per common share in effect for 22 quarters was increased to 25 cents per share. In addition, a special dividend of five cents per share was declared to bring total dividends for calendar 1973 to the maximum allowed under existing Federal regulations.

Both dividends are payable November 28 to stockholders of record on November 7.

Chairman of the Board W. I. Thieme announced that earnings per common share for the six-month period ended September 30 were $2.64 per share, up from $2.29 in the same period last year.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES CORP. (NYSE), reported all-time record earnings for both the third quarter and first nine months ended September 30, 1973, with net income for both periods up more than 50 percent over previous record earnings recorded for the two periods last year.

For the third quarter, earnings were $2,930,000, or 51.4 cents per share, a gain of 52 percent over a net of $1,928,000, or 34 cents per share, for the same three months in 1972, and more than 16 percent ahead of the company's previous record quarter, the second quarter of this year, when earnings were $2,518,000, or 44 cents per share.

Earnings for the first nine months were $7,761,000, or $1.36 per share, an increase of more than 53 percent over a net of $5,064,000, or 89 cents per share, for the first nine months of 1972, and also a record for any similar period in the company's history.

Sales for both periods also were at an all-time high. For the third quarter, they were $23,615,000, a rise of almost 38 percent over quarterly sales of $17,136,000 in the same period last year. Sales for the nine months were $64,777,000, up 36 percent over sales of $47,615,000 in the like period of 1972.

New Signs Point Way To College

Three years of effort were culminated recently for Orchard Ridge Campus Provost, Dr. S.J. Manilla, when the State Highway Department installed Freeway Signs indicating the appropriate exit off I-696 to reach the Farmington Hills Campus of Oakland Community College.

The large signs are located approximately one mile before the Orchard Lake Exit of I-696 on the shoulder of both the east and west-bound lanes. The signs read: "Oakland Comm. College Orchard Ridge NEXT RIGHT."

Dr. Manilla noted, "We're all pleased at the campus that the signs have finally been installed. It's been a long time coming, but since we didn't fulfill the various Highway Department requirements for Freeway Signage, we had to convince them that an institution with 6,000 students deserved appropriate signs on the Freeway."

SUCCESS WITH GLOXINIAS

There are actually four ways to achieve success with those spectacular gloxinias—from seed, plants, tubers, or cuttings. Although gloxinias can be produced easily from seed, temperature for sowing is best in July so we shall skip this method at this time. Naturally, plants will supply flowers in the shortest space of time, it will take from seven to ten months from seed.

If you have secured nursery plants this fall, by all means transplant them to large pots of porous soil as soon as possible. The best soil mixture would consist of equal parts of garden loam, leaf-mold, sand and peatmoss. Add a little bonemeal before mixing thoroughly. Pot up in

GROUND BREAKING—A simple groundbreaking ceremony following the regular Sunday morning service marked the official start of a major new addition at the First Baptist Church of Northville. As members of the congregation watched and listened (above), Pastor Cedrick Whitcomb spoke briefly (below left) and then joined the contractor, Keith Demske, (left), Wade Waterman, chairman of the church trustees, and Luke Durst, chairman of the building committee in turning the first shovelsful of earth. The new 12,000 square-foot addition will house the educational activities of the church. The existing auditorium will be extended several rows, and the north wall of the church is to be replaced by a glass wall that will look out into a new narthex area. Additional seating space will increase the church capacity to almost 600 people.

The Gardening Way: Success with Gloxinias

If you plant tubers, these are available until late fall. Pot up as soon as possible upon arrival, leaving the top third above soil level. A 5-inch pot is suitable for small tuber, 6 to 8-inch for large. The soil mixture would be the same as for plants.

It is also possible to make leaf cuttings from mature specimen gloxinia plants, just as you do for African violets. Try this next spring or any convenient time. Some fanciers report that cuttings can send up shoots in two months and flower the same season. The method is simple: take leaves from flowering plants close to the stem. Then dry for a half hour in a shady place.

There are several ways to promote rooting but perhaps one of the best suggestions is to use a large pot with a small pot in the center plugged up to serve as a reservoir. The cuttings are then placed in sand or vermiculite.

Irrespective of the method, there are hints on the care of gloxinias which will contribute immeasurably to success. First of all, a south or east window exposure is recommended for maximum sun during the winter months. Secondly, a rather even temperature is appreciated (65 to 70 degrees by day but no less than 55 to 60 degrees by night). During the summer months, plants appreciate some shade

Careful watering is a most important procedure and can be done in several ways. If you water from the top, be careful not to wet the leaves or plant crowns. Plants can also be watered from the bottom by setting the pot in a container of water so that it will soak up enough to show at the soil level. A good water-soluble plant food is beneficial once or twice during the summer growing season.

The new hybrid gloxinias are particularly attractive because of their spectacular range of color, magnificent foliage and high, bell-shaped flowers of unique appeal. The colors vary from palest pink to deepest purple including pure white and crimson. Other varieties are speckled, ruffled, margined or white-throated. Well-grown plants may produce simultaneously six to twelve flowers five inches in diameter. Still other varieties with smaller flowers have been known to display 35 and more open flowers at one time. It is difficult to compete with gloxinias for indoor pleasure

Indoor Events on Tap

As the reds and golds of autumn begin to fade, Michigan's outdoor scene features big game hunting and indoor events focus on art, antiques and the coming Christmas season, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The statewide deer season for archers runs through November 14 as does the Upper Peninsula archery bear season. On November 15, firearm deer season opens statewide and the Upper Peninsula firearm bear season begins the same day. Both seasons close November 30.

Leading off the month's indoor activities is the Detroit Hobby Show, November 1-4, in the Light Guard Armory. The show covers everything in hobbies, arts and crafts for the active hobbyist, artist and collector as well as the novice in search of a hobby. Materials, instruction, seminars, demonstrations and finished products will be featured.

Antique collectors will have two opportunities to do some early Christmas shopping. The Merry Market's Flea Market will be held at the Meridian Mall east of East Lansing on November 17 and 18. Approximately 65 licensed sellers will be offering a wide variety of antiques and collectibles including furniture, art glass, coins and stamps. Then on November 28 the sixth annual Christmas Antique Show-Sale opens in Detroit at the Light Guard Armory. Leading antique dealers from throughout the country will display antiques and collectables gathered around the world, with something to fit every taste and every budget. The show runs through December 2.

A major Michigan event begins the Saturday after Thanksgiving when Lincoln Park offers its tenth annual pre-Christmas display, "Christmas Fantasyland". This old fashion Christmas display will take place in the J. F. Kennedy Memorial Center beginning November 24 and running through December 24.

It features a doll house with 500 dolls dressed by Lincoln Park youth groups and service clubs for later distribution to charitable organizations.

Auto Show Coming

That first car you ever owned will be there right along with the next one you're planning to buy at this year's 58th Detroit Auto Show.

Spread out across 10 acres of exhibit space at Motor City's Cobo Hall from November 17 through 25 will be displayed the newest and the nostalgic in automobile excitement.

With the theme "nostalgia," the Detroit Auto Dealers Association is calling their show "A Ride Down Memory Lane."

"We've set out to give Auto Show goers something more and different this year," says Jerry Bliefeld, chairman of the show for the second year running, and a Detroit Ford dealer.

"We're excited about this new kind of show. Everyone is caught up in nostalgia, these days, and cars played a big part in those happy years we remember."

"I know we're going to have as much fun running this show as the people will have seeing it," he said.

Bliefeld expects some 300,000 to attend this year's show.

Hundreds of New Cars and Nostalgia

Imagine eight football fields filled with cars, motor homes, lively models and exhibits. That's about the size of this year's show.

More than 250 new '74 automobiles, both domestic and imported, will be displayed in combined exhibit halls A, B, and C.

Sprinkled among them, the spice of bygone eras will be represented by vintage automobiles of the 20's, 30's, 40's and 50's.

Each of those decades will reign during separate days of the show: the 20's on the first Saturday and Sunday, the 30's on Monday and Tuesday, the 40's on Wednesday and Thanksgiving Thursday, and the 50's on the last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Dance contests on such back-bogglers as the Charleston, Jitterbug, and Twist and maybe even a waltz will be open to all, with attractive prizes for the winners. Local disc jockeys of present and bygone days will M.C. the contests. (See Fact Sheet for dates and time.)

Auctions Feature Vintage Cars

That first car you ever owned could be your's again, as one car from each of the four decades is auctioned off at the show.

Auctions are set for: 20's on Sunday evening, 30's on Monday evening, 40's on Wednesday evening, and 50's on Friday evening. Also on Friday evening a 1957 London Taxi and a 1974 Cougar Coupe will be auctioned.

New Cars Given Away

Five new cars will be given away as attendance prizes, one each weekday. Monday through Friday. Show goers need only fill-out and deposit their tickets stubs to be eligible to win. The new cars are: Monday, Mustang; Tuesday, Vega; Wednesday, Duster; Thursday, Gremlin; and Friday, Datsun 210.

Contests Spur Action and Involvement

"Community involvement and action are new thrusts for the Detroit Auto Show this year," said Boyce Tope, executive vice president of DADA, and perennial general manager of the show.

"And one way we're developing this is by involving groups and organizations in various contests."

One example, the Miss Detroit Auto Show contest will involve entries from each car division of the Big Four auto makers and each car company involved in the show.

Plans call for each to hold their own internal contest or search for their loveliest lady to represent them. The winner from each will be present at their respective exhibit areas and on stage the first Sunday afternoon, November 18, when a panel of judges will select Miss Detroit Auto Show.

Another beauty contest, this one for the professional models working at the show, will also be held. Called Miss Deluxe Model, the winner will be announced the week of November 12.

Vintage Cars Will Compete

Vintage car judging will add to the excitement the first weekend of the show, and winning cars will remain on exhibit throughout the show.

Some 200 entries of cars of the four decades are expected, and a parade is planned for downtown Detroit.

Entries of restored and original condition cars are being invited from the general public and from vintage car clubs in the area.

The criterion for the winning will be nostalgic appeal of the particular model, and not necessarily the perfection of restoration.

Recreational Vehicle Display Popular

Outdoor recreation and camping enthusiasts will find a bigger-than-ever display of the popular chassis-mounted recreational vehicles downstairs in Hall D.

More than 100 vehicles, including recently-introduced camper-touring buses, will be open for inspection.

Teen Tickets New This Year

Ticket prices have been held to last year's level, $2 for adults, 50 cents for children under 12. Ticket cost for teens has been lowered with a new $1 Teen Ticket (13 through 19 years of age). Teens paid adult price last year.

Senior citizens, age 65 and over, will be admitted free. The Detroit Auto Show Dealers Association, Inc., which sponsors the Detroit Auto Show, is an organization of 250 new car dealers located in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties.

RELAXING - After last week's grand opening of Gambles Furniture, Cam Knisely and Irene Fines take a break in a pair of Gambles' rocker-recliners. The store, located at 209 W. Main in downtown Brighton, has been converted from a "general store" to a complete furniture store. It is being managed by Dale Knisely and Jay Fines.

IN HIS FIRST year with the Thompson-Brown Company, Art Flaherty has sold $4 million worth of new homes. Art is the subdivision manager of Independence Commons, a development of Thompson-Brown in the city of Farmington Hills.

Flaherty is a native of Detroit, and has been selling since 1947. He graduated from University of Detroit. He is a member of the UNRA-WWOBR.

CULLIGAN will open its South Lyon outlet Monday morning, fuel permitting.

L.W. "Bud" Ottenhoff had not been able, as recently as this past week, to secure a heating fuel contract. If some arrangements can be made, he plans to open the Culligan water softener backwashing and cleaning facility at 401 Washington, corner of McHattie, Monday.

A grand opening will be planned soon and Ottenhoff is encouraging group tours of the plant in the meantime.

COSMETIC kits for kids are being marketed by Nancy Kasle and Barbara Taylor. Branching out from their Birmingham location, they will have an outlet in the Harvi's fashion store in Northville Square.

ONE—TIME SOUTH LYON MAYOR Albert "Al" Weinburger recently received a 40-year service award from Gulf State Tube, the Rosenberg, Texas affiliate of Michigan Seamless Tube Company.

Weinburger was mayor in South Lyon in the 1940's and was transferred to the Texas plant in 1959 as manager of industrial relations.

He is current president of the Rosenberg Rotary Club. He is also active in the local chamber of commerce and in his church. He is a past director of the Texas Manufacturers Association, as well.

KROGER FOOD STORES has announced the first phase of the company's new marketing and merchandising program for the 73 store Detroit Division area with an announcement of widespread cuts in food prices.

N. A. Sawall, Detroit division vice president, said that the company has slashed hundreds of grocery and produce prices in addition to already lower meat prices.

Kroger recently noted that its marketing program for the Detroit area would employ a number of different approaches. More announcements are expected in the future, Sawall said.

Tailgate Picnics

"The motor home is the most fun," she said. "You can party all the way there and all the way back."

It's also an excellent way to beat bad weather. You don't have to picnic outside when it's raining, snowing or cold.

Most people hold their tailgate picnics, however, from the trunk of an automobile or from the tailgate of a station wagon.

What kinds of food and drink do people take with them?

"The variety is great, endless," Mrs. MacDonald said. "It depends on you and your crowd."

Sandwiches, fancy or plain, are usually a part of the picnic. Some people have fancy hors-d'oeuvres, others, cherry tomatoes and potato chips. Gourmet skill, the pocketbook and a cook's inclination seem to be the only limits.

Horse's Mouth

always fatal sign.

Horses can see behind them.

TRUE: Horses can see in an almost complete circle. They cannot, however, see what is under their noses. There is a blind area underneath their head, just as there is under our chins.

CHILD'S FIRST MOUNT: HORSE OR PONY?

Either a horse or a pony, if it has been properly trained. The child must be taught how to sit correctly and "talk" to his mount through the use of his hands, weight and legs. Horses and ponies are very intelligent and soon learn they can do just what they want if the child who rides or drives them is incompetent.

BEGINNING RULES ON HORSE SAFETY

...always walk beside a horse when leading rather than ahead or behind him.

...when leading a horse into a box stall always turn the horse around so he is facing the door before releasing the lead strap.

...if a horse is too "full of steam," (this will be happening when the days get colder) work him on a longe line a few minutes before attempting to ride.

...if your horse becomes frightened and attempts to run, try turning him in a small circle until he slows down and you can bring him to a safe stop.

DID YOU KNOW?

That horse projects exceed all other 4-H projects combined.

Most people do as the Wisterts and Schumans do.

"We're usually very casual," Mrs. Wistert said, noting that she usually has sandwiches, deviled eggs, cheese, fruit and brownies—basically what people have on any picnic.

Sandwiches and potato chips are usually the Schumans' fare. "And apples, of course, for the game," the missus adds.

The beverages are endless, from bourbon and beer to milk and coffee.

Some people go beyond what could be considered the line of duty. They take along an Hibachi or outdoor grill to cook hotdogs, hamburgers, or some exotic food, and maybe even a chafing dish for fondue or a cheese dip.

Mrs. Ronald Evasic, wife of the South Lyon dentist who's a U of M grad, remembers seeing one couple with a formal spread on the hood of their car, including candelabra, wine goblets and fine silverware—a setting fit for King Football himself.

Novi's Wildcats Wrap Up Perfect Year

Novi breezed past Milan, 42-14, Friday night.

No big deal, perhaps. After all, it turns out the Big Reds, who earlier in the season were billed as Green Giant killers, were Big Bananas on paper only.

But there was a good deal more riding on Friday's game.

The victory wasn't just the eighth one of this season. It was the 21st straight win for the Wildcats who now have not lost a football game since October 15, 1971.

What's more, enroute to their second straight undefeated campaign the Wildcats also notched their second straight Southeastern Conference championship.

And there's still more:

Last year in winning the SE crown, Novi was one of the top rated Class "C" schools in Michigan. This year in winning the same title, the Green Giant is among the top five Class "B" teams in the state.

Although Novi entered Friday's game as the 1973 SE

champ, having already won the title the previous week, Coach John Osborne took nothing for granted. He pushed his charges through one of the team's most rigorous weeks of practice in tuning up for the contest (See Coach's Comments).

Osborne may have worried for naught.

By halftime the Wildcats had notched themselves a 21-6 lead and were well on their way to the second undefeated season despite the rain and cold. And before it was over the Wildcats scored another 21 points, as Mike Riley piled up 174 yards rushing enroute to four touchdowns.

Playing his final prep game, the senior halfback carried the ball 22 times—including a 16-yarder that produced Novi's first touchdown late in the first quarter.

Riley lost no time in rolling to two more scores. He pushed over from the Milan 2 early in

Quarterback Dave Brown kicked extra points after each of those first-half Novi touchdowns.

The intermission did little to cool Riley's performance.

On Milan's second down opening the third quarter, Riley gobbled up a Big Red fumble and then, on second down from scrimmage at the Milan 7, he skidded around the right side to score his

Mustangs Roll Over Milford 38-0

REPLAY

with Chuck Shonta

Northville's 38-0 triumph over Milford last Friday was something of a hallmark in Chuck Shonta's three-year stay at the head of the Mustangs' grid program.

"I don't think there's any doubt about it," agreed the Northville coach. "That had to be the high point of my three years as head coach."

"That was the first time in the three years that I've been here that we were actually able to relax and have fun in a game," he stated.

"We did everything we wanted to do. We scored points - our defense got a shutout - and we got everybody on the team in the game."

"That was the very first time that we've been far enough ahead to begin substituting at the start of the second half," he continued. "I think it was a very important game for our program. For the first time our kids were really able to appreciate how much fun it is to win."

"There are a lot of people on this team who can remember two years ago when it was the other teams who were running at will through our secondary. I think those same kids now have a great sense of accomplishment when they see our backs running at will through somebody else's secondary."

Shonta admitted that the one-sided victory was no great surprise. "The only thing we were afraid of was overconfidence," he stated. "We were pretty certain that under normal conditions they weren't going to score on our defense and we were also pretty sure that we were going to put some points up on the board against them."

"On offense our game plan was to give the ball to (Doug) Crisan and let him run with it and on defense we determined to just continue doing what we've been doing all along."

"The only change we made on defense was to move our rover back (Bill McDonald) inside when they were in their power-I. He would line up on the shoulder of the back split to either the left or right of the I and then followed him wherever he went. It worked well because I thought our defense played another outstanding game."

Shonta saved his greatest praise for the work of the interior offensive line.

"I'd have to say that people like Tim Rice, Steve Serkaian, and Jim Porterfield are probably the heart of our team," stated the Northville coach.

"Those three have been starters for the past three years and their experience is invaluable. We like to run the ball as much as possible and the linemen make it possible. Because of their experience we're able to use a lot of traps and false keys - and that's pretty sophisticated line play."

"They have their own codes out there and when they see the other team line up in a defense that doesn't fit our normal blocking patterns, they call their own audibles at the line to change the blocking assignments to fit the defense."

"They really do a great job for us. We're starting to get requests from colleges for our game films because they're interested in our people and some of the people they're most interested in are those offensive linemen."

The Mustangs will bring their season to a close tomorrow (Friday) when they host South Lyon.

"They have a pretty good quarterback who throws the ball well," Shonta reported. "If we can control him I think we can probably beat them. If we can't contain him it could be a long evening for us because he's a heckuva passer."

"I think our kids will be up for the game, though," Shonta continued. "Some of our seniors have been playing for three and four years now and this is the first time they've ever won as many as four games in one season."

"They've never had a winning season before and if we can beat South Lyon we'll finish up with a 5-4 mark. I think our kids want that bad enough to go out and play a whale of a football game."

Thank goodness the Western Six season is over.

Northville's Mustangs returned to the "real world" of high school football last Friday and proved decisively what a lot of people have suspected for some time - that outside of their own "Black and Blue" division, this 1973 edition of the Northville Mustangs is some kind of football team.

Certainly the Milford Redskins would not argue with that appraisal.

The Redskins were the hapless victims of a 38-0 onslaught in which the Mustangs rolled to four first half touchdowns and then coasted through the second half with their second stringers.

And, for the information of you old-time Northville football buffs, the last time the Mustangs scored as many points was September 20 of 1968 when they recorded a 39-6 triumph over a new school named Waterford Mott. That same week, incidentally, Novi posted a similar 39-6 victory over another new school, Livonia Churchill.

As usual, Northville's play last Friday was spearheaded by "The Black Wall" - the rugged Mustang defense.

Led by tackles Jim Porterfield and Steve Serkaian, linebacker Tim Rice, and safetymen John Sherman, the Northville defense limited the Redskins to just five first downs and 72 yards of total offense.

And most of that came against the Northville reserves in the fourth quarter.

In the first half, while the Mustangs were in the process of forging out their one-sided triumph, Mr. Porterfield and Friends held Milford to a total of just 16 yards and one solitary first down.

But the story of the Northville-Milford game was not the performance of the defense, but the fact that the Mustang offense finally came to life.

The Mustangs picked up 194 yards rushing - and that was only in the first half. They ended the game with 314 yards on the ground and 25 more in the air for a total offense figure of 339 yards.

Doug Crisan, the big Northville running back, led the way by tallying on runs of 22, eight, and five yards and gaining 108 yards on 15 carries.

And right behind Crisan in the ball-carrying department was Jerry Fulcher. Substituting for the injured Tom Dooley, Fulcher reeled off touchdown runs of six and 40 yards and would have had another except for the fact that his 33-yard scoring jaunt in the third quarter was nullified by a holding penalty. As it was, Fulcher enjoyed the finest day of his high school career by rambling 97 yards on 15 carries.

Shoot, things were going so well for the Mustangs that Chuck Shonta, the Northville coach, even unveiled a formidable new offensive weapon when he inserted Porterfield at one of the running back slots late in the game.

The big 6-0, 215-pound defensive tackle didn't look that bad either as he bulldozed his way for six yards and a first down on his only carry.

There was never any question about the outcome of the game as Northville dominated from the start.

The Mustangs took the opening kick-off and promptly marched 63 yards in 11 plays with Crisan driving over from the five behind the blocks of Serkaian and Porterfield.

Northville tallied again before the first quarter ended. This time they went 43 yards in seven plays with Crisan capping the drive with a 22-yard dash.

The third Northville touchdown was set up when Serkaian broke through the line to block a Milford punt. The ball rolled out of bounds on the eight and two plays later Fulcher carried the ball into the end zone from the six.

Crisan tallied the fourth Mustang touchdown of the first half with 5:48 remaining in the second quarter, capping a four-play, 47-yard drive with an eight-yard burst up the middle on a halfback counter.

The Mustangs wrapped up their scoring with a pair of third quarter touchdowns. Another blocked punt set up the first score. This time it was Porterfield who broke through to block the kick. Defensive end Gary Winemaster scooped up the loose ball and rumbled down to the 10.

From there Northville needed just two plays to score as Jim O'Brien carried the final six yards into the end zone on a flanker-ground play. Fulcher rounded out the Mustangs scoring with his 40-yard jaunt with 1:22 left in the third quarter.

The win left the Mustangs with a 4-4 record for the season and gave them a chance to finish the year with a record above the .500 mark. Tomorrow (Friday) the Mustangs will face South Lyon which features a strong passing attack built around the strong right arm of Tony Kern.

The Lions are 5-3 on the season. Game time is 8 p.m.

Novi Wraps Up Crown

While John Osborne's Wildcats were proving their right to the Southeastern Conference championship beyond a shadow of a doubt, Saline and South Lyon were taking advantage of Novi's 42-14 win over Milan to pull themselves up into the first division in the final SEC standings.

In Friday's season-ending action, Saline edged Ypsilanti Lincoln 7-6, while South Lyon nipped Brighton by the identical score.

The wins enabled Saline to slip in ahead of Milan for third place and South Lyon to move up into a fourth place tie with the Big Reds.

Chelsea, one of the pre-season favorites for conference honors, polished off winless Dexter 26-8 last week to finish up in second place.

Dale Portner returned the opening kick-off 86 yards for a touchdown and after that the Bulldogs were never threatened. By halftime Chelsea had a 19-0 lead and the two teams traded scores in the second half enroute to the final 26-8 outcome.

Mark Pennington returned a recovered fumble for one Chelsea touchdown, while Jeff Marshall on a four-yard pass from Randy Guenther and Ron Kiel on a dive tallied the other Chelsea TDs. Al Hossler ran for the lone Dexter score.

Saline had all they could do to come out ahead of seventh-place Ypsilanti Lincoln. Kevin Feldkamp's extra point kick proved to be the margin of difference in a tight 7-6 struggle.

The Hornets tallied their lone touchdown on a 31-yard pass from Tim Slepisky to Ed Charlton in the first quarter. Feldkamp's extra point concluded their scoring.

Lincoln nearly tied it up in the third quarter before fumbling the ball away on the Saline nine yard line. Ben Amrhein finally scored for the Rainsplitters on a one yard plunge with two minutes left in the game, but the extra point attempt failed and Saline held on for the triumph.

With Tony Kern on the bench for absenteeism from school, South Lyon had to come from behind to defeat

Brighton 7-6. Chuck Wagner sprinted 18-yards to put the Bulldogs out in front 6-0 in the first quarter, but South Lyon came back to gain the win in the second half.

Don Guise tallied from three yards out and junior Ken Givens booted the extra point to give the Lions the win.

Tankers Plan Aquathon

Members of the Schoolcraft College swim team will be sponsoring and participating in a special 24-hour Aquathon this week.

On Thursday and Friday, November 9 and 10, Coach Jim Millen and the members of his Schoolcraft team will be joining forces with any other interested citizens to raise money for the children at the Plymouth Center for Human Development and the Schoolcraft swimming program.

Although the Schoolcraft swimmers are expected to carry the bulk of the load, Coach Millen emphasized that anyone who is interested may participate in the Aquathon.

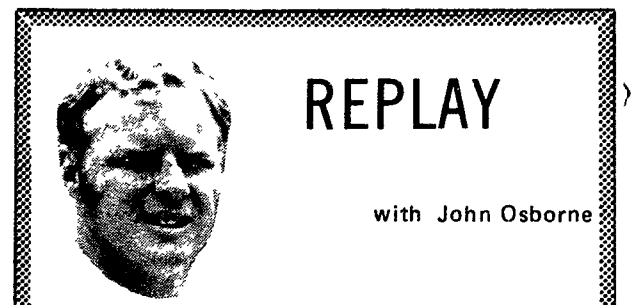

One group has already volunteered their services. Citizens enrolled in Schoolcraft's "Fitness Over 50" program will be joining Millen's squad for the final hour of the Aquathon.

Each swimmer - whether a member of the Schoolcraft team, a Schoolcraft student, a member of the "Fitness Over 50" program, or just an interested citizen - will solicit sponsors who will pledge to pay so much per lap for each lap that individual is able to swim.

Thirty percent of the funds collected in the Aquathon will be donated to the Plymouth Center for Human Development for the purchase of swimming and rehabilitation equipment. The remaining 70 percent will be used to finance the Schoolcraft College swim team.

The Aquathon is slated to begin at 3 p.m. Thursday, November 8, and come to an end 24 hours later.

Anyone interested in participating, either as a swimmer or a sponsor, is urged to contact either Coach Millen or Dr. Gans at 591-6400.

REPLAY

with John Osborne

Sunday afternoon found John Osborne, his wife, and their two kids nestled in a local movie theater watching an exciting new flick entitled "Santa Claus Meets the Three Bears."

"No kidding, that was the name of it," insisted Osborne. "It was a very strange movie," continued the coach-turned-critic. And then - with the same flare that characterizes the reviews of Rex Reed and Susan Stark - he added: "It was an expensive way to get a couple of hours sleep."

But in spite of "Santa Claus and the Three Bears," it was a most enjoyable weekend for Osborne and his family. Friday the Wildcats brought their 1973 season to a close with a decisive 42-14 thumping of Milan.

The win not only put the finishing touches on Novi's SEC championship, it also gave the Wildcats their second straight undefeated season and stretched their winning streak to 21 in a row.

"It was a lot easier than I expected it would be," admitted Osborne of the lopsided win over Milan.

"They have the same kind of plan (fullback off-tackle) that Saline used against us so effectively and the fullback who carries the ball for them stands 5-8 and weighs 215. He hits the hole pretty fast and if you don't get him before he has a chance to build up steam he can be tough to bring down."

But the play which had been such an important factor in the Saline game played virtually no roll in the game with Milan.

"We stopped them pretty much cold on that play," reported Osborne. "I haven't seen the films yet so I don't have the exact figures but I think they gained five yards with it once and maybe seven another time. But for the most part we shut it off."

"I know we threw them for losses on the play three times and they stopped running it after awhile because they weren't getting anywhere with it."

"The problem we had with the play against Saline is that our linemen were slanting away from the action and that left just the linebacker on defense," Osborne continued.

"They had an end to block our linebacker and they got good yardage with it. All we did against Milan was have our defensive end hit their offensive end so he couldn't get out to block our linebacker. With their end out of the picture, our linebacker was able to come across and make the tackle."

Osborne also revealed another reason the Wildcats had been so effective in stopping Milan's "fullback off-tackle" play.

"We suited up our two assistant coaches on Tuesday and had them run the play against our first-defense," said the Novi mentor. "Assistant Coach Trudeau is a pretty decent athlete, you know. He's got good size and good speed - he played halfback at Western Michigan University - and he played the role of the Milan fullback."

"It proved to be one of our better practices because we showed our first defense what the play looked like and we also had a lot of fun. The kids were kind of up for the practice with Trudeau and Gutierrez back there at the running back slots."

fourth touchdown. Milan came back with a touchdown of its own later in the quarter when the Big Reds picked off a Novi pass at the Northville 19. On fourth down still at the 19, Haugh fired a pass to Keilman for the TD. Another pass play gave Milan two extra points.

Still later in the quarter, the Wildcats capped a 51-yard drive with a four-yard dash into endzone by Halfback Eric Hansor, who also had a handsome night with 141 yards rushing in 23 carries. Midway through the final quarter, Quarterback Brown dived over from the 3 for the last touchdown of the game. Brown also kicked the extra point - his sixth without a miss of the evening.

The final minutes of the game were puzzlers. It was hard to tell who had the ball since it changed hands four times in the space of seven plays. What appeared to be an incomplete pass was ruled a Novi fumble and the Big Reds took possession at the Milan 41. On the first play from scrimmage, Novi's Pat McAllen intercepted. After eating a 15-yard penalty, Novi fumbled again and Milan took possession at the 23. Milan tried passing but was pushed backwards. On second down the Big Reds tried a repeat and McAllen closed out the strange exchange with another interception.

Week

MIKE RILEY

Wildcat of the Week honors go to Mike Riley. The 5-11, 170-pound senior halfback paced Novi's 42-14 rout of Milan by rushing for 174 yards and four touchdowns. Riley scored on runs of 15, seven, two, and one yards and, according to Coach John Osborne, played his usual excellent game on defense from his nose guard position. "Mike caused a lot of problems in their backfield," commented the Novi coach.

TRAINING CAMP—Robert Kucher, Northville High School Athletic Director, is also active in the Northville Hockey Association. Here Kucher puts a group of young skaters through a training drill in preparation for the start of the regular season later this week. Approximately 170 boys will play on nine Hockey Association teams this winter.

Nine Place in AAU Meet

Nine Northville swimmers distinguished themselves by placing among the top six finishers in the AAU-sanctioned Clarenceville "B" Meet last weekend.

Seven of the nine are members of the Bulldog Aquatic Club out of Schoolcraft College, while the other two compete for the Clarenceville Swim Club.

Top Northville performer was David Malinowski who carted home five ribbons. Competing in the eight and under division, Malinowski finished second in the 25 meter breaststroke, fourth in the 25 meter backstroke, and sixth in the 25 meter freestyle, as well as swimming legs on the first place medley and second place freestyle relay squads.

Two other Northville youngsters competing in the eight and under division posted top-six finishes. Kathy White finished third in the 25 meter breaststroke, while Ginny Gans took third in the 25 meter butterfly and swam on the third place girls' medley relay team.

Four local swimmers took honors in the 11-12 year old age group.

Derek Gans took second in the 100 backstroke, third in the 50 freestyle, and third in the 100 individual medley. Tom Cahill finished third in the 100 freestyle and sixth in the 100 backstroke. David McDonald took sixth in the 100 individual medley. And Susan Cahill finished second in the 100 backstroke.

The two members of the Clarenceville Swim Club to take honors in the meet were Rand and Kyle Roggenbuck.

Rand Roggenbuck, competing in the 13-14 year old boys' age group, took fifth in the 200 freestyle, while his sister Kyle, competing against 11-12 year old girls, took second in the 100 individual medley.

Approximately 30 AAU teams from across the state participated in the Clarenceville meet. No team standings are tabulated in AAU "B" meets.

Mustang Jayvees Cap 6-2 Record

Northville's junior varsity football team put the finishing touches on one of its finest seasons of late by registering a 26-0 triumph over Farmington Harrison last week. Bill Piccolo intercepted a pass and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown and quarterback Nick Hamp tossed a two-point conversion pass to Dave Sparling to give the Mustang Jayvees an 8-0 halftime lead.

Dave Puzzoli, Ty Cole, and Rick Marrone all tallied for Northville in the second half to seal the victory.

The win gave Coach Tom Johnson's junior Mustangs a 6-2 mark for the season. What's more it marked the fifth time in eight games that the Northville gridders have held their opponents scoreless.

Milford and Livonia Churchill were the only teams able to beat the Mustangs, while Northville registered triumphs over Novi (30-20), Walled Lake Western (6-0), Plymouth Canton (18-0), and Waterford Mott (6-0).

"We thought it was a real good year for us particularly in light of the fact that 16 and sometimes 17 of our 22 starters were freshmen," observed Coach Johnson. "Most of the teams we played were comprised heavily - if not exclusively - of sophomores, so for our youngsters to come through and have this kind of season is really something of an accomplishment for them," he said.

Darryl Schumacher was the assistant coach for the Northville Jayvees.

VanWagners Star

Novi's VanWagner brothers once again paced Michigan Tech last week in spite of a 14-10 loss to Moorhead State.

Freshman tailback Jim VanWagner scored the Huskies' lone touchdown on a four-yard burst in the second quarter and was the game's leading rusher with 100 yards in 30 carries. Sophomore offensive guard Tom VanWagner led the blocking for his younger brother's rushing efforts.

Coach Jim Harkema's Huskies now have a 3-4-1 record for the season.

9 Teams Don Skates

NHA Opens Season

A total of 180 boys will be participating when the nine Northville Hockey Association teams take the ice for their first games of the season later this week.

"That's a figure we're rather proud of," stated Bill Winemaster, president of the Association for the 1973-74 season.

"When we started just four years ago we had something like 50 boys in the program and now we have more than three times that many," he continued.

Winemaster and other Association officials expect the growth trend to continue and feel that the upcoming year will be the best they have experienced to date.

"One factor is the growing interest in organized hockey in this area," contends Winemaster. "The other very important factor is that we'll be playing a lot of our games at the new Novi Ice Arena."

It's an outstanding facility and I think its proximity to Northville will encourage people to come out to watch our teams play. Once people start to come out to see us skate, I expect interest in our program will really take off."

The nine Northville Hockey Association teams are sponsored by local merchants and subsidized by the Northville Recreation Department.

Boys are divided into five age groups. There is the Mite division for 7-8 year olds; the Squirt division for 9-10 year olds; the PeeWee division for 11-12 year olds; the Bantam division for 13-14 year olds; and the Midget division for 15-16 year olds.

Greatest concentration of Northville teams is in the PeeWee division where three different squads have been formed. The Northville Hockey Association will suit up two squads in both the Squirt and Bantam divisions, and one team each in the Mite and Midget divisions.

The NHA will enter five teams - one from each age division - in the Western Suburban Hockey League where they will compete against teams from Inkster, Taylor, Garden City, Wayne, and Allen Park-Melvindale.

Of the remaining four teams, two PeeWee teams and one Squirt team will play in the Plymouth House League, while the remaining Bantam team will compete in another house league composed of teams from neighboring communities.

All teams will be playing non-league games with teams from other communities to round out their schedules.

Winemaster noted that the public is invited to attend all Northville games.

Winemaster released the following schedule for NHA games at the Novi Ice Arena: the Bantam "A" team plays at 7 p.m. on Tuesday; the Midget "A" team plays at 8 p.m. on Tuesday; the Squirt

"A" team plays at 7 p.m. on Friday, the Mite "A" team plays at 10 a.m. on Saturday; and the PeeWee "A" team plays at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

All house league teams will play from 12 noon to 2 p.m. and from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday.

Games are played under the sanction of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association.

She Wins Grid Contest

Alice Fitzpatrick of 18157 Pinebrook Drive narrowly edged out Dan Gougeon of 511 Reed for first place in the newspaper football contest this past week.

Both submitted entries with two mistakes, but Alice was declared the winner because she more accurately guessed the score of the Lions-49'ers game.

Dan won second place money.

Two contestants tied for third place, each missing three games and coming within five points of the actual Detroit score. They are:

Tom Grunheid, 21600 Currie Road, and Kathryn Byrne, 860 Spring Drive.

Most missed games in last week's contest included:

Cec Woodruff's Schoolcraft College soccer team is one of two teams selected to represent Michigan in regional play of the national junior college soccer tournament.

The Ocelots will meet Delta College, the other Michigan team, at 2 p.m. this Saturday on the Delta field. Schoolcraft took a 2-0 victory the only time the two teams have met this season.

weekend, Saturday, November 16.

The winner of that game will meet the winner of the Indiana-Minnesota regional with the winner of that game being eligible to proceed along with seven other teams to the national finals in Miami, Florida.

Schoolcraft had a 7-1-1 record against junior college competition during their regularly-scheduled season.

The winner of Saturday's Schoolcraft-Delta game will meet the winner of the Cuyahoga West-Cuyahoga Metro (Ohio) game in Chicago the following

Mustang of the Week

Steve Serkaian has been selected Mustang of the Week. The rugged 6-0, 195-pound offensive guard and defensive tackle has been one of the cogs in Northville's success throughout the season. Now completing his fourth year on the Mustang varsity, Serkaian played his usual outstanding two-way game against Milford. "We've graded Steve out at better than 80 percent in his blocking assignments in five out of seven games so far this season," stated Ed McLeod, the Northville line coach.

(Sharon White) of Canada visited her family, Mr. and Mrs. David White of Novi Road, this weekend.

Novi Cooperative Nursery
There will be a general membership meeting on November 8 at 7:45 p.m. at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Plans will be made for participating parents to attend the Greater Detroit Cooperative Nursery Council to be held on November 10 at 10 a.m. at the First Baptist Church, 309 North Main in Royal Oak.

Future plans for this group include the "Holidays for 1973" class to be held at Consumer Power Company at 11801 Farmington Road on November 19 at 7:30 p.m. Cost of $1 with reservations being obtained by calling Sharon McCord 349-8192, proceeds from this will go towards the Nursery School projects.

VOICE

A reminder of the November 8th General membership meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Village Oaks, all parents are encouraged to come and see the presentation by Peggy Clark, physical education teacher, who will be assisted by several of the youngsters.

United Foundation
Monday, November 5 was the closing day of the drive and anyone not yet contacted may call Mrs. Shirley Thorpe, general chairman for Novi. She would like to thank her area chairman Janet Feretta, Linda Sobel, Kit McElroy, Judy Wilson and Darlene Smith and all the neighborhood workers.

Parents Without Partners

At their meeting last week, the special speaker was Dr. Chuck Meredith, psychologist and marriage counselor. Following the meeting the afterglow was at the Thunderbird Inn in Plymouth. Activities that are planned for the children included a cider mill trip and then this month on November 17, at 1:30, the children will be going bowling at Northville Lanes. Adult activities will be listed later in the month.

Novi Rebekah Lodge

There was a big turnout at the initiation meeting last week and the following members were installed: Ellen Johnson and Sharon Ford of Novi, and Joan Foster, who was reinstated. Also initiated was Shirley Bolton of South Lyon. The next regular meeting will be November 8 at 8 p.m. with hostesses Alice Hopkins and Jennie Champion. There will be a memorial draping of charter services for Beatrice Warden of Rebekah Assembly of Michigan and Hazel Schellar, past president of the I.A.R.A.

Anyone having rummage for the sale can bring it in by 3 p.m. on Thursday to be marked as the Lodge will be open. The sale will be November 9 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. with new bazaar items also on sale. A bake sale will also be held.

The Past Noble Grands will meet November 15 at 6:30 p.m. with hostesses Cecilia Sharp and Laree Bell. Everyone is asked to bring a 35 cent gift.

Cub Scout Pack No. 239 Village Oaks

At the recent committee meeting the following appointments were made: New secretary is Sue Colliau; institutional representative is Dr. Richard Henderson; registrar - Linda Skvarce; outing chairman - Jerry Nothnagel; coffee chairman - Jo Wineka. There are two new assistant Webelos leaders - John Johnson and Paul Ramsey. In Den No. 4 the assistant den mother is Marsha Bizear. The next pack meeting will be November 29 instead of the usual time because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Novi Rotary

Last week the Rotarians continued work on their plans to bring bingo to Novi after the holidays. Several of the service clubs, such as Jaycees, Moose and Lions, will be assisting in this venture. It will be on Thursdays at the Community Building. Robert Anderson of Novi was a new member last week. Visitors are welcome at the weekly meetings held on Thursday at noon at Saratoga Trunk.

Novi Weight Watchers Group

The Novi Weight Watchers Group, which meets on Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Living Lord Lutheran Church on Ten Mile Road, will be sharing Thanksgiving recipes at future meetings.

NESPO

THE NESPO group is sponsoring a program entitled, "Bucket Brigade," at the Novi Elementary School where parent volunteers work with youngsters on a one-to-one basis about two or three times a week.

Some of those who have volunteered their time are Sandy Isham, Marge Bessette, Sue Burkowski, Jean Cassidy, Pat Karavich, Nancy McKague, Sharon Waack, Nancy Heinson, Barbara Henshaw, Diane Canup, Linda Hand, Kathy McGuffin Shirley Smith and Mary Ann Weber. Also helping provide wood shop experiences for fifth grade boys are Roy Crites and Bill Weber.

Novi Girl Scouts

All Novi leaders and co-leaders are asked to attend a meeting of Service Unit Six on November 13 at 9:30 a.m. at the Novi United Methodist Church. Everyone is asked to bring anything done in the past that could be done by Brownies or Juniors for Christmas 'Thanksgiving or anytime.

Girl Scout Calendar Sale will start November 10 and will be available from the following troops: 913, 713, 165, 1027, 837 and Cadette Troop No. 149. Anyone not contacted by a Scout may call Mrs. Wallace Barringer at 476-0421.

Reminder: the Learning Center will be at St. David Episcopal Church in Southfield on Wednesday, November 14. Sitters are available for leaders.

Novi Senior Citizens

On Wednesday, November 14, there will be a covered dish luncheon at the Novi Methodist Church on Ten Mile at 12 noon. All members are hosts and hostesses that day as the guests will be residents from Beverly Manor on Meadowbrook Road.

Special notice: the trip to the Historical Museum on November 20 was cancelled by majority vote at the last meeting. However, everyone is asked to keep December 5 open for a Mystery trip. For further information contact Mrs. Nancy Liddle at 349-2219. Anyone who is a senior citizen and new in the community is urged to call and join the group.

Community Education and Recreation

There are 80 women involved in the Ladies Volley Ball League with about 20 of them planning to attend a special training class at Schoolcraft on November 10 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Standings of the teams are as follows:

NOVI FREEDOM TREE—The planting of a special "Freedom Tree" was commemorated in ceremonies at the Novi Middle School last Saturday. Planting of the tree was part of a project undertaken by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary to serve as a living tribute to American servicemen who are Prisoners of War or listed Missing in Action. The tree was dedicated to Major Martin Massucci of Royal Oak who is currently listed Missing in Action. Members of Major Massucci's family along with local officials, girl and boy scout troops, and State Representative Clifford Smart participated in the ceremonies. The tree was donated by Bain Brothers Landscaping.

Dems Meet Tonight

A meeting of the Southwest Oakland County Democrats Club has been scheduled for 8 p.m. this evening, Thursday, November 8, at the Novi Community Building.

William Brinker, acting chairman of the organization, announced that the November 8 agenda will include adoption of by-laws and election of officers.

Brinker noted that "there was a great deal of enthusiasm at our initial meeting, coming as it did on the day of Agnew's resignation. People who were at that first meeting are going to be calling Democrats in the area and recruiting them into the club."

"We expect 1974 to be a good year for Democrats and we intend to be organized for it," Brinker added.

People interested in joining the club should contact Brinker at 474-3477.

Host Students

Novi's three foreign exchange students were guests recently at a board of education meeting.

They are: Mette Elizabeth Nielson of Denmark, Constantine Arabatzis of Greece, and Fernando Christian DePablo of Chile.

Novi High School has participated in the foreign exchange program for the last three years.

The metric measurement system moved a step closer in Novi where the board of education adopted a resolution advocating all textbooks in mathematics and science which are purchased after June, 1976 contain the international system of units as the "dominant form of measurement."

The resolution further suggests that whenever possible any new units of measurements that are posted in or around school buildings should include both

Purchase of choir robes, at a cost not to exceed $1,200, was authorized recently.

A joint agreement with the City of Novi has been approved by the Novi school board, providing that the school district is to provide 80 percent of the community education director's salary and the city the remaining portion.

The director, Milan Obrenovich, is paid an annual salary of $16,818.

Wixom Newsbeat: Bazaars Feature Gifts

By NANCY DINGLEDEY

The stores have packed away the few remaining remembrances of Halloween and now are blooming with Christmas decorations. Right in step with the "times," then, is Wixom's third annual "Holiday Boutique" where Christmas gifts for friends and family can be purchased way ahead of schedule. And this year the Boutique promises to offer a larger selection than ever before. There will be sixteen booths, each offering something different to please the eye, the purse, and the palate.

Among the handmade items you will find ties, candles, woven belts, Christmas wreaths, weaving frames, and toss pillows. Decoupage plaques, hand-painted wall plaques, pottery, ceramics, fingerprint pictures and leaded glass to add a few more.

There will also be fresh honey at "Winnie's Honey Hut," plus a book sale, fine Finnish imports, an ethnic luncheon served by the Finnish Women's Auxiliary, and a scrumptious bake sale to help the treasury of the Friends of the Library.

Add a Christmas tree with hand-made ornaments and cuddly toys for the younger set. Bring the kids. Most of the booths will have "kids corners" where items will be priced at their level.

Proceeds will benefit the treasuries of both the Wixom Goodfellows and the Friends of the Library.

This one-day once-a-year "shoppers paradise" is coming up this Saturday, November 10, at the V.F.W. Hall on Loon Lake Road from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. Bring a friend and do your Christmas shopping early.

Friends of the Library, the newest service club in town, will hold a meeting on Thursday (tonight), November 8. Open to the public, the meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Wixom City Hall.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Alan Rickfelder, a clinical psychologist from Novi whose topic will be "The Problem of Drugs."

According to Beverly Walters, a variety of memberships are available to anyone who is interested in the Friends. Charter memberships of $5 are open through the month of November with special reductions being given to those holding them.

Other memberships available are Regular ($1 year)-$2, Student (1 year)-$1, Senior Citizens-$1, Contributing Membership-$5, Life Memberships-$50, Organizational Memberships-$10, and Business Memberships-$25 and up.

Information on the different types of memberships and the Friends and their duties with the library can be obtained at the meeting.

Everyone is welcome to attend this very informative evening.

The "Witches Party" last week at the V.F.W. Hall turned out to be quite an affair with over 90 gals in attendance. And with that size group you can imagine the variety of foods at the pot luck table.

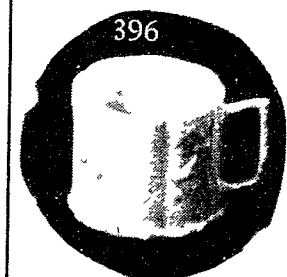

"redelivered" bag and baggage the next day.

During the luncheon and fashion show by "Pocket Pleasers" of Union Lake, Camille was busy reading palms for those interested.

If you've never had your palm read, it was quite an experience. Whether you believed it or not is another question.

Skiers in the Wixom area will be pleased to hear that a former Wixom resident, Marc Karrel has been appointed assistant director at Alpine Valley ski area. Marc, besides doing some teaching, is the Instructor-Examiner at Alpine.

CAREER TRIMMED Jack Gray, 67, of 450 Fairbrook marked the close of nearly a half century of barbering this past week by getting himself a trim from Curtis C. Wigginton of Westland, who has purchased Gray's business on Dunlap Street east of Center. Gray started his Northville business 42 years ago after barbering in Plymouth with his brother, Esten, who still operates a Plymouth shop. His first shop was located in the basement of what formerly was the Kroger store on Main Street. Later he moved to Center Street and still later to the building on Dunlap, which he continues to own. Married and father of two children and 10 grandchildren, Gray isn't quite sure what he'll do in retirement. "I'll probably just take it easy for awhile," he said. Meanwhile, he's thanking friends and customers for their patronage over the years.

Wixom Homeowners To Elect Officers

Election of officers for 1974 will take place at the Monday, November 12, meeting of the Wixom Homeowners Association of South Wixom.

George Johns, who has held the office of president while the association was being organized, said the membership will elect a president and a vice-president for the upcoming year. Up until now, Johns said, the association has been operating with organizing officers.

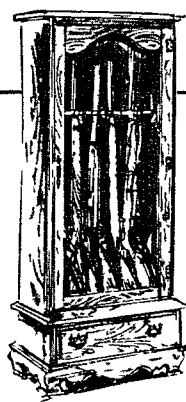

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the clubhouse of the Leisure Co-op Apartments at 50200 Grand River.

Johns noted that all Wixom residents living south of Pontiac Trail are eligible for membership in the association. Those who join before December 31 of this year will be considered charter members.

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

Dr. C. G. Jung, the famous psychiatrist was once asked, "What in your opinion is the essence of neurosis?"

The answer was: "Neurotics are all searching for religion."

People with emotional problems need Jesus Christ. When they come fact-to-face with Him, they meet their sin head-on and become aware of God's plan of salvation. Too often the emotional problems of life stem from hidden sins and from faith in mankind instead of God.

For one year King David lived with hidden sin in his life. He was a miserable wreck. He describes himself in Psalms 32 and 51 as feeling old, weak as though his bones were rotting and affected physically, mentally and emotionally from the secret sin of his life.

Sin is a sickness and many times, not all the time, contributes to physical and emotional problems. God forgave the Psalmist of his sin when he confessed them to God. He'll forgive yours, too, if you'll just admit you're a sinner.

Man's basic need is God! Yet men are still running from God, the way Adam and Eve did in the garden. Many people who are seeing the doctor ought to see the Lord.

Only God can reveal the hidden secrets of your life and He alone can forgive your sin and the guilt that results from hidden sin. Let Him do it for you.

Northville Public Schools Annual Report — 1972-73 School Year

SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

November 1, 1973

This report is published to inform the citizens of the Northville Public Schools district regarding the educational program and receipts and expenditures of the District for the 1972-73 school year.

The official audit and resulting formal report of the District's 1972-73 budget shows a black balance of some $107,000. The accompanying facts and figures provide you with the specifics of our last school year, which operated within a total budget of 3 million dollars. Note should be made that the Board did not levy a one-mill tax levy authorized at the June, 1972 election, due to a sizable increase in State Aid over that anticipated and significantly more of an increase than past years' State Aid Acts have provided this District.

The past year found the Board of Education seven members strong, with a membership change occurring in early Fall due to one member who relocated outside the District following his retirement from business.

The organizational meeting of the Board held on July 10, 1972, established Dr. Orlo J. Robinson as President, Mr. Stanley Johnson, Vice-President, Mrs. Sylvia Gucken, Secretary, and Mr. Martin Rinehart as Treasurer. The three Trustees' positions were held by Mr. Glen Delbert, Mr. Richard Martin and Mr. Andrew Orphan. On September 11, 1972, Mr. Martin resigned from the Board and was replaced by the appointment of Mr. Richard Ambler, who completed the remainder of Mr. Martin's second year of a four-year term (expiring June, 1975). Mr. John Hobart was elected in June to complete the final two years of Mr. Martin's term on the Northville Board of Education.

Meetings of the Board were held on the second and fourth Monday of each month (with a few exceptions) during the year. However, it should be noted that many special meetings and work sessions were also held in order to meet the demands of our growing school district.

The Board was pleased that these extra hours assisted in the solution of many of the problems facing the District as well as establishing an orderly procedure for meeting future District needs.

During the course of the 1972-73 school year, the Board with continuing assistance from the District's Architect, Ralls-Hamill-Becker-Carne, Inc., and the Administration, formalized all the necessary details to bring before the voting public a bond issue proposal of $10 million. The voters' support of this request by a two-to-one margin on June 11, 1973, paves the way for a school construction program that has been designed to meet the student enrollment needs of the community well into the late 1970s.

The Board, in recognition of the growth pattern which confronts the community, is now able to proceed with the construction of two new Elementary Schools and one new Middle School, and the purchase of a school site(s) necessary to meet needs beyond 1980.

In addition to the time and attention devoted to the development and passage of this $10 million bond issue, the Board dealt with many other problems, projects and tasks, including:

1. Finalization of the deed of the Highland Lakes school site to the Northville Public Schools, free of cost except for site improvements of $45,000.
2. Other 1972 Bond Issue tasks initiated and/or completed including:
 - a. Equipped a Reading Laboratory at Cooke Middle School

- b. Restructured the voting precincts of the School District from one to six for voter convenience
- c. Authorized minor facility improvements throughout the District
- d. Ordered design and development of preliminary design for remodeling of Moraine School Media Center
- e. Authorized construction of welding shop addition to existing Automotive Laboratory
- f. Authorized the equipping of a Graphics Laboratory
3. Continued its involvement with the Year-Round School Concept through the successful operation of an experimental, operational Extended School Year Program, which was financed by Federal funding under ESEA Title III, Section 306. One hundred seventy-one students and six teachers participated in this grade K-5 project. Success was so well received that the Board authorized the planning development for expansion of the program into grades 6, 7 and 8 and increased student enrollment at the elementary level for the 1973-74 school year.
4. Adopted a new philosophy of education which is more encompassing and applicable to the District's organizational structure and more in keeping with today's society.
5. Terminated its consideration of collecting school taxes in summer, due to lack of community support reflected in a Spring 1972 community survey
6. Finalized the deed of the school site in Northville Commons from Thompson-Brown to the Northville Public Schools, thus completing the securing of a truly "free" school site for the taxpayers of the District
7. Focused attention on the hazardous student crossing conditions which exist at Eight Mile Road and Taft Road.
8. Developed and authorized the implementation of an Administrative Intern Program within the District
9. Disbanded the VIP Committee, which has assisted the Board over the past five years, and in its place named a one-year citizens committee to assist with the bond issue election. The committee was known as POST (Planning Our Schools Together)
10. Continued its efforts to have faulty construction at Cooke Middle School corrected without cost to the taxpayers

In the normal operation of the School District, it is necessary to involve the assistance of outside agencies. During 1972-73 the Board of Education employed the law firms of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, and Keller, Thomas, McManus, Toppin & Schwartz to assist in legal matters. The audit of the District's financial records (data reported herein) was conducted by Plante & Moran, Certified Public Accountants. All financial transactions were completed with the assistance and cooperation of Manufacturers National Bank. In addition, the Board utilized the services of Ralls-Hamill-Becker-Carne, Inc., previously mentioned in this report.

The administration of the Board's policies and the District's programs and activities was carried out under the direction of Raymond E. Spear, Superintendent of Schools, who completed his sixth year as the District's Superintendent in June, 1973. Assistants to the Superintendent included Miss Florence Panatton, Director of Instruction, completing five and one-half years in position; Mr. Earl T. Busard, Director of Business and Finance, finishing his sixth year; and Mr. Irwin Sutter, Administrative Assistant, who was employed in December, 1972 to replace Mr. Robert Benson, who left the District to accept a position in Wayne

The Director of Instruction has the major responsibility for the organization of and improvement in the instructional program, grades K-12. The time and efforts of this office are devoted to working with and giving assistance to teachers and principals in carrying out the schools' major responsibility: educating children.

Significant accomplishments in the instructional program this past year include:

1. Perhaps the most time-consuming and greatest responsibility assumed by the Director of Instruction was the directing of the overall Experimental Year-Round School Program. Although the day-to-day operation of the program came under the direction of Mr. Craft, American School Principal, the major task of the District's involvement with this project came under the direction, control and leadership of this office.
2. Promotion of education changes within the K-12 instructional program to coincide with the newly adopted District philosophy of education
3. Implementation of in-service education works for teaching staff, including such areas:
 - a. Math Skills Development
 - b. Social Studies Student Involvement
 - c. Individualized Language Experiences
4. Development of 1973-74 Experimental Year-Round School Program design
5. Development of Camping Experience Program for sixth grade students
6. Continuing the District's "Opening School Doors" quarterly publication
7. Coordination of the expansion of the District's Vocational Education Program

The Director of Business and Finance is responsible for the supervision of all classified personnel and related programs, including transportation, building and site maintenance and cafeterias. In addition, this office is responsible for the proper carrying out of all financial aspects for the operation of the District. During 1972-73, many additional hours were devoted to details involved in carrying out of the District's second successful "Bid Before Bond" school construction program.

The Administrative Assistant assisted the Superintendent in carrying out the 1973-74 teacher recruitment program and represented the Superintendent at the bargaining table with the Northville Education Association until August, at which time the Superintendent became more actively involved. The Superintendent, with assistance from Attorney Schwarze, completed the negotiating of a new Agreement with the teaching staff covering the period from 1973 to 1975.

The High School was administered by Principal Frederick Holdsworth, in his seventh year, and Assistant Principal David Longridge, in his sixth year. The 1972-73 enrollment reached a high of 1284 students in grades 9-12 (138 over 1971-72), who were taught in our 62-classroom High School by 59 teachers, including four counselors and one full-time and one half-time librarian.

Ira B. Cooke Middle School was administered by Principal J. Ronald Horwath, in his seventh year, and Assistant Principal Richard Norton, in his sixth year. Mr. Horwath devoted time to both the sixth grade program at the Annex and the seventh and eighth grade program at Cooke. Mr. Norton concentrated his efforts primarily at Cooke. The Annex served the educational needs of 312 sixth graders in 13 classrooms with 12 teachers and a counselor. Cooke School served 654 seventh and eighth grade students with its 30 teaching station facility under the guidance of 30 teachers, a counselor and a librarian.

The District's three Elementary Schools were headed by Principal William Craft, in his fifth year at Amerman, Principal Donald Van Ingen, in his fifth year at Main Street (13th year as an Administrator in the District), and Principal Milton Jacob, in his seventh year at Moraine.

The three Elementary Principals supervised a combined staff of 57 1/2 classroom teachers and 17 special services personnel, including Art, Music, Physical Education, Reading, Speech Correction, Library and Special Consultant, who served our 1972-73 elementary enrollment of 1711 students in grades K-5. Instruction for these students was carried out within the 25 classrooms at Amerman School, 20 rooms at Main Street School, and 23 rooms at Moraine School.

The total enrollment of 3853 students in grades K-12 reflects an increase of 398 over September, 1971 enrollment and 822 over 1970-71. This increased student body was housed in our school buildings containing 153 classrooms, and received their education under the supervision of 150 full-time classroom teachers and 27 supporting staff members. Our classroom teacher-pupil ratio was 25 to 1, with a professional staff-student ratio of 21.7 to 1.

The 1972-73 school year found the District and the Northville Education Association working within the framework of a one-year Agreement, which was reached in late September, 1972. This Agreement established general working conditions and fringe benefits for teachers and provided a salary schedule which ranged from a minimum of $8,500 to a maximum of $17,000. Raises granted teachers ranged from a low of $485 to a teacher holding a Bachelor's Degree to a high of $1,550 for a teacher with a Master's Degree. The salary schedule granted teachers with no experience and a B.A. Degree a starting salary of $8,500 and a maximum after 10 years of service with a B.A. Degree of $14,185. Beginning teachers with an M.A. Degree received $9,300, while teachers with 11 years or more of service holding an M.A. Degree received $17,000. A teacher with 30 hours of graduate work beyond the M.A. Degree received an additional $600. It is noted that the President's wage freeze, which was imposed on Northville teachers' salaries in 1971-72 and caused pay losses ranging from $115.30 to $502.15 per teacher, was thoroughly evaluated during 1972-73 and resulted in retroactive back payment for losses incurred.

Our Extra-Curricular Program was maintained at a similar level as that of 1971-72, with a 5.5 percent adjustment in the salary schedule. The District is pleased and proud of the many honors which our Extra-Curricular Program brought our students, staff and schools during this year.

The total accomplishments of your Board of Education and the Professional Staff of the Northville Public Schools were many and far-reaching. The school year 1972-73 constitutes another productive, rewarding and education year for our children and citizens of all ages.

The community and schools continue to grow. May we continue to work together in meeting the needs and demands of our growing community and ever-changing society.

The support and cooperation of the citizens of this School District are appreciated, and they are of the utmost importance if we are to continue to move forward in the task of providing a well-rounded education for the children of the Northville Public Schools.

Signed: Raymond E. Spear

Police Blotter: Wixom Home's Really Too Mobile

In Wixom

Working in conjunction with agents from the FBI, Wixom police recovered an allegedly stolen mobile home last week.

On Friday, October 26, Wixom officers met with FBI agents and proceeded to 2030 Charms Road — the location of the mobile home.

Officers discovered the vehicle identification number on the trailer had been filed off and a false number had been placed over the old one.

The mobile home, valued at $20,000, was subsequently impounded by police.

A breaking and entering of a residence at 28850 Wixom Road netted thieves items with an estimated value of close to $1,500.

Stolen property included a camera, television set, stereo record player, diamond ring, and a number of stereo tapes.

Sixteen tires were stolen from vehicles parked on the storage lot of Automotive Specialties, Incorporated, at 30369 Beck Road last week.

The theft occurred sometime between 5 p.m. on Tuesday, October 29, and 8 a.m. the following day.

The cars from which the tires were stolen were all parked at the rear of the storage lot. Cement blocks had been left under the axles of the cars, police reported.

An estimated $150 worth of damage was done to a residence at 1482 Wren on Tuesday, October 30.

A picnic table, bicycle, oil tank, and large portions of the exterior of the house had been covered with white paint, according to reports.

Obscenities were also painted on the house, police said.

In Northville

Felony assault on a 16-year-old Northville youth by an unidentified man is being investigated by city police detectives this week.

The youth told police that about 4:40 p.m. last week Tuesday, the man jumped from a white pick-up truck at Center and Dunlap streets and tried to hit him with a pipe wrench.

A passenger in the vehicle told police he first noticed the truck leave the Ford Plant on Sheldon Road and said it followed the youths all the way to Northville. They told police the truck tried to cut

More than $200 worth of damage was done to light poles at Northville Downs.

Reported last week Wednesday afternoon, damage was done when wires were ripped out of the base of two poles and globes broken on seven lights.

Police received two complaints of pins found in Halloween candy. A pin was found in a Milky Way bar last week Wednesday and turned over to the police department.

Saturday, a parent reported his child was eating some left over Halloween candy and found part of a pin in a Tootsie Roll Pop. Investigating officers believe the pin, which was found in the hard candy portion, may have been put in at the time of manufacture.

The case is still under investigation.

The evening before Halloween, police received complaints from nine persons involving youths throwing eggs between 7:17 p.m. and 8:50 p.m.

Two holes found in a plate glass window at the Spinning Wheel, 146 Mary Alexander Court, were caused by a BB or pellet gun police reported.

The damage, which took place between 9 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday, is estimated at more than $100.

In Township

The basement of a home at 19725 Hayes Court sustained minor smoke and water damage early Sunday afternoon following a fire.

Michigan State Police said the fire broke out in the clothes dryer about 1:30 p.m. Northville Fire Department was called to extinguish the blaze which was confined to the dryer. No injuries were reported.

Mail boxes in front of four homes on Winchester Drive were damaged or destroyed by vandals last week Tuesday evening.

Township police reports said boxes were ripped from the posts and dented and the posts were bent. Damage was confined to homes in the 15800 block of Winchester, police said.

A 12-volt battery was stolen from a car parked in front of 41278 Lehigh Lane. The theft took place between midnight and 6:30 a.m. last week Wednesday, police reported.

In Novi

Police are investigating the reported theft of a 1973 Dodge Charger from the driveway of a residence at 27700 Novi Road last week.

The owner of the vehicle told investigating officers that the car had been parked in the driveway at approximately 3 a.m. on October 27. The theft was discovered at 9:30 a.m.

Value of the automobile was placed at $3,500.

A riding lawnmower valued at approximately $400 was

Trend Continues

Crime Down In Northville

Most categories of crimes continued to decrease in the City of Northville during September, following a pattern set early this year.

In September, police received 362 calls, down 54 calls from 416 received during the same month in 1972. To date, police have received 3,577 calls compared with 4,907 received during the first nine months of 1972.

The figures were recently released by Lieutenant Louis Westfall.

During September, police investigated four burglaries, one break-in of an occupied dwelling, one break-in of an auto, two break-ins of unoccupied dwellings and recovered a car stolen from outside Northville.

One assault and battery complaint was reported along with one arrest for each of the following offenses: disorderly conduct, drunkenness, contributing to delinquency of a minor, narcotic violation and careless driving.

During September of 1972, police investigated three break-ins, three assault and battery cases, charged two persons with resisting arrest and investigated one molesting complaint.

Police also arrested three persons for drunken driving, four for drunkenness and one for disorderly conduct during September of 1972.

Over the same period this year, police also investigated stolen from a residence at 45382 West Road.

The mower was taken from the backyard of the residence, according to information gathered by police.

The theft occurred sometime between Tuesday, October 23, and Saturday, October 27.

An 18-year old Novi man has pled guilty to charges of aggravated assault in conjunction with an incident which occurred in Novi on October 30.

Kenneth Worley, 18, of 1099 South Lake Drive pled guilty to the charges when arraigned before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle last Wednesday.

Worley is charged with assaulting Richard Roy Melow, 30.

Responding to a report of a man with a gun, officers went to an address on Eubank where they observed two males — Melow and James Palermo — facing a crowd of approximately 15 teenagers.

According to police reports, Palermo was holding an air rifle and Melow had a baseball bat.

The gun and bat were confiscated by the officers. While officers were attempting to question Melow and Palermo about the circumstances of the confrontation, one of the teenagers — Worley — allegedly pushed an officer aside and punched Melow, police said.

Worley then presented his hands to the officer for handcuffing, according to reports.

He was subsequently transported to the Novi police station and then lodged in the Oakland County Jail before being arraigned before Judge Boyle on Wednesday.

Worley has been released on personal bond. Judge Boyle has deferred sentencing pending a report from the hospital on the victim's condition.

A 14-foot aluminum boat valued at $390 was reportedly stolen from a Novi residence on Walled Lake.

The owner of the boat told police that he had tied the boat to a dock behind his residence at 120 Northhaven on Sunday, October 21. The theft was discovered Tuesday, October 23.

A revolver was reportedly stolen from a residence at 27757 Novi Road last week.

Value of the stolen weapon was estimated at $175. The gun was discovered missing, on October 29.

A shotgun and a spare tire were stolen from the cab of a pick-up truck parked in front of a home at 24048 Chipmunk Trail on October 30.

Thieves forced their way into the truck and stole the gun and tire which were valued at $550.
