

Northville's Only Woman Township Supervisor Dies

MOLLIE LAWRENCE

Mollie B. Lawrence, the only woman ever to serve as supervisor of Northville Township, died February 6, at the age of 87.

A resident at Whitehall Convalescent Home in Novi at the time of her death, she had been ill for several years.

Elected township treasurer in 1935, she was appointed in 1942 to fill the supervisory seat of Willard A. Ely, who had retired because of ill health.

Her appointment was a historic day here because no other woman since the township government was formed (then called Plymouth) in 1827 has served in this post. Thirty-nine men and one woman have served in those nearly 150 years.

Mrs. Lawrence's tenure of supervisor was one of the longest in history. She retired in 1959 and was succeeded by George Clark, now a resident of the city.

As supervisor on the old Wayne County board, Mrs. Lawrence recalled fondly that it was John C. Lodge (for whom the expressway is named) who introduced her to the assembly in 1942. Upon attending her last meeting of the county board she was given a standing ovation.

Her entry into politics occurred in the spring of 1935 when the late Mrs. Kittie Harmon nominated her for the position of treasurer under the Republican banner. In April of that year she defeated Leland V. Smith by 262 votes to win the post.

Others elected that year were Supervisor W. A. Ely and Clerk Elmer L. Smith.

When Mr. Ely stepped down because of ill health, he recommended Mrs. Lawrence as his successor. The board concurred, and it was 90-year-old Dean Griswold, one of the oldest Northville residents, who administered her oath of office.

The late Roy M. Terrill was named to fill the post of treasurer.

Mrs. Lawrence received the Claude N. Ely Memorial Fund

Award in 1969 in recognition of her faithful service to Northville. Mrs. Lawrence was a member of Orient Chapter 77, Order of the Eastern Star, and Past Matron of Orient Chapter.

She was born January 5, 1887 in Lansing, the daughter of James L. and Cora B. (Welcher) Black. She married Leo L. Lawrence on September 9, 1908 in Lansing and in 1912 they moved to Northville. Mr. Lawrence preceded her in death.

Surviving are a son, Sam J. Lawrence of Hollywood, Florida; a daughter, Mrs. Edward (Jane) Baughn of Ann Arbor; a sister, Mrs. Ross (Gladys) Bush of Northville; and six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday, February 8 at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend Guenther Branstner of the First United Methodist Church officiated. Burial was in Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

MAN OF YEAR — Dr. Robert M. Mandell, 35, was named the community's Young Man of The Year last week by the Northville Jaycees, who feted the high school team physician at a banquet. On the scales in the high school training room is Tennis Coach Bob Simpson.

Team Physician Feted

"There are few people who devote more time to the young men of our community than Dr. Robert M. Mandell."

That observation by Northville Athletic Director Robert Kucher pretty much expresses the feelings he has for the Northville physician who last week was named the Outstanding Young Man of Northville by Northville Jaycees.

Dr. Mandell, 35, was feted at a banquet program hosted by the Jaycees at the Tack Room restaurant last week. Besides garnering the praise of Jaycees and Kucher, Dr. Mandell also was paid a tribute by Dr. Marvin Gans, athletic director at Schoolcraft College.

"We certainly appreciate his services here," said Dr. Gans, who explained the Northville physician is available whenever a medical expert's advice or service is needed for an athletic event.

According to Kucher, Dr. Mandell volunteers many hours of his time to serve as the football team physician as well as attending to injuries of athletes in other sports.

"Besides volunteering his time, he has donated the fee he earns as football team physician, to the athletic department for the purchase of equipment," said Kucher. The coveted Jaycee award is given annually to the young man who, in the opinion of judges, is most aware of his civic responsibility and goes out of his way to make the community a better place in which to live.

Candidates are nominated by the community. Judges for this year's selections were Councilman Paul Folino, Township Trustee John MacDonald, and Charles McDonald, an attorney and former municipal judge.

Other nominees this year were Roger Nieuwkoop, a

At High School

83 Sign up for YRS

A total of 390 students, including 83 at the high school, have signed up to participate in year-round school (YRS) next year in Northville.

The enrollment is in addition to the 600 students currently attending YRS classes in kindergarten through eighth grade.

New students also include 237 at the elementary level and 70 at the middle school level.

Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent, added that 23 teachers at the high school have volunteered to teach in the YRS program next year. "Subjects range from physical education to English," she explained.

Registration for the program will continue through tomorrow (Friday), administrators said, and after that date a new waiting list will begin.

"We cannot make judgments on what classes will be offered until we know who wants the program," Superintendent Raymond Spear emphasized.

Northville township board members cleared the way Tuesday night for the possible formation of a community public safety department in cooperation with the city.

A three-member board committee was named to meet with the city on the feasibility of a joint fire-police department. And the board changed the wording on the April 23 millage ballot so that the voted revenue would not be restricted to use by a township department exclusively.

Ballot wording passed last month by the board had been so written to preclude the township from joining with any other municipality to provide combined police and fire services, trustees explained.

In addition, Trustee John MacDonald suggested the board form a new committee to "deal with the council and city manager on the same level. The fire committee has served its purpose."

The trustee said he felt a committee "comparable to or better than" the fire study committee could be appointed to meet with the city.

Trustee Richard Mitchell charged that MacDonald was "getting the cart before the horse. We should find out first if the people will accept the proposal on the ballot" before discussing a joint department with the city.

MacDonald said he voted against the ballot proposal passed last month by the board "since it's quite restrictive. We can't work on a cooperative basis with the city. The proposal is narrowly construed."

Supervisor Lawrence Wright said he re-read the millage proposal and "it precludes the city or anyone else."

He said he feels the time has come to talk about a joint department with the city and that the township "should have comparable board members to meet with them."

The township fire study committee, after nearly two years of study, recommended a public safety department be established and that a request for three mills to fund the department be placed before voters.

In recent months, trustees said they have learned that their directions to the committee to explore a joint department with the city were not carried out.

Appointed by Wright to meet with the city were Trustees MacDonald, Leonard Klein and Charles Schaeffer.

City representatives include City Manager Steven Walters, Councilmen Paul Vernon and David Biery.

Mitchell, however, maintained that it's "fine that they (city) are studying public safety. But this will have our residents so confused that they will not know what to do. If you want to put a joint department on the ballot later, that's fine."

A motion by MacDonald, supported by Treasurer Joseph Straub, to discharge and thank the committee was DOWNWARD is the direction Northville Public Schools have revised its population projection for the next school year. Originally anticipating 699 new students, the figure now is pegged at 275, based on the slow down in building within the district. However, 4,316 was the projected student enrollment for February of this year and the district has an actual head count of 4,335. School board members say about 18 new teachers will be needed next year.

NORTHVILLE School Board will host the March 7 meeting of the Wayne County Association of School Boards. Held at Cooke Middle School, the meeting is the first hosted by the local district.

BAD WEATHER halted racing altogether for one night during Northville Downs' first week of its current 39-night meet. But forgetting Wednesday the first five nights of racing through last Saturday produced $1,481,323 in mutuel handle, an increase over last year of 2.7 per cent. Despite the hike in betting, attendance is down 6.8 per cent.

Back to Teaching

Request from an assistant principal for reassignment to a teaching position was granted Monday night by Northville School Board.

Richard Norton, assistant principal at Cooke Middle School, said in a letter to the school board that he was requesting the reassignment "with deep regret."

Superintendent Raymond Spear said Norton, who had been assistant principal for approximately seven years, had "appropriate reasons for asking for the reassignment." He did not elaborate.

In other action, the board accepted a resignation and a retirement from two teachers, granted a leave of absence and hired one teacher.

Resignation of Mrs. Marjorie Sliger, second and third grade teacher at Amerman Elementary in the year-round school program was approved, effective at the end of the school year.

AAUW Talk By Lawyer Set Today

Irene Piccone, an attorney with Ashton and Dragulis will present a meeting on legal and employment discrimination against women in one of the traditional winter "fireside" meetings set by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women for 8 p.m. today.

She will speak at the home of Karel Whitaker, 1068 Grace Court, Northville.

The attorney has spent "considerable time working in the field of women's rights in Washington, D.C.," the AAUW reports.

The meeting is one of three mini-sessions to be held simultaneously today. Consolidation of Plymouth and Plymouth Township will be discussed by Plymouth city manager Fred Yockey and township trustee Dr. Richard Gornick in Plymouth.

The third meeting will deal with learning disabilities in children with Kathy Erditz, learning disabilities consultant for Washtenaw County Intermediate School District, speaking. Hostess is Karen Minto, 39487 Winesap, Plymouth.

Anyone interested in attending a mini-meeting who is eligible for AAUW membership, open to all women in Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Canton and Livonia who are graduates of an accredited college or university, is invited to call the meeting hostess.

Action) last weekend in a booth set up in Northville Square at Paula and Jerry McDowell. Dance tickets at $10 a person benefit VIVA-MIA and are available from Mrs. Fisher, 349-0994, or any auxiliary member. The auxiliary is sponsoring the dance.

MARIE BONAMICI'S tiny Sunflower Shop at 116 East Main Street, Northville, reflects the proprietor's interests that range from American Shakers to herbs, organic foods, crafts, antiques and the Northville Historical Society.

It isn't until she directs visitors to "stand across the street and look at the buildings," however, that it becomes apparent the shop is housed in a small enclosed stairway entrance to a former real estate office and originally the space was an alley between two buildings.

When enclosed, she recalls, it once served as Charles Freydl's cleaning shop. Most recently, it was the Hartley-Powers Gallery until Mrs. Bonamici took over after the deaths of Harold and then Catherine Hartley. Under the Hartleys it served a dual purpose, being a local Secretary of State office where residents annually bought license plates as well as an arts and crafts gallery.

Northville's Main Street of shops and vintage homes in the new historic district have details not always appreciated when quickly passed by, Marie Bonamici notes as she displays the folio, "Historical Buildings in Northville," published by the Northville Historical Society and the Three Cities Art Club.

Included in the folio is a sketch of Main Street which clearly shows how the little shop is a "closed in" area between two Victorian buildings. There are 10 sketches by members of the Three Cities Art Club in the folio, priced at a reasonable $7.50 with proceeds to benefit the historical society restoration projects.

As one of her efforts to aid the Mill Race restoration project of the society, Mrs. Bonamici sells the folio in her shop. She suggests it as a gift for those who love our town and as a remembrance for those having to move.

Tuesday Mrs. Bonamici was to be guest speaker at the venerable Detroit Review Club's meeting in Women's City Club of Detroit. Her talk was on the American Shakers, whose culture, music and furniture-making she has studied for several years.

She planned to show some of her collection of Shaker artifacts and slides of settlements at Sabbath Lake, Maine, and Canterbury, New Hampshire. Mrs. Louis Hopping of Northville, past president of Detroit Review Club, was introducing Mrs. Bonamici.

ACTIVE REPUBLICAN Northville residents applauding Vice President Gerald Ford at the $100-a-plate dinner in his honor Saturday in Cobo arena were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Weber and Robert Krueger.

Ed Hodge is a past president of the Northville Republican Club, and Bud Weber currently is serving as vice chairman of the second district for the Republican party. Krueger is vice president of the Northville Republican Club.

Among the 41 persons at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. William McLaughlin of Northville. He, of course, is Michigan State Republican Chairman and had accompanied the vice president from Kalamazoo through his day-long, fund-raising tour of the state.

"It was a very, successful day," reports Mrs. McLaughlin who met the dignitaries at Metropolitan Airport and went on to a cocktail reception at the Detroit Club. She adds that "security was unbelievably tight" for the vice presidential visit as apparently some threat, undisclosed, had been received.

Newcomers Plan Sing-Along Party

A pizza-and-beer sing-along is planned by Northville Newcomers Club for Saturday, February 23, at Foreman's Orchards on Seven Mile Road.

The "Three Banjo Buddies" will provide entertainment from 8 p.m. to midnight in the rustic, new area at Foreman's. Mrs. George Kausler, Newcomers' president, reports that this is the area where the club square dance was held.

Reservations at $10 a couple are limited to 60 couples and include pizzas, peanuts and beer. They should be made with Mrs. Larry Sheehan, 349-5771, by February 21.

A spring fashion show by Claire Kelly at the Drawbridge restaurant is scheduled from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 20. It is $6 a person and includes a luncheon. Mrs. Kausler announced. This is one of the club's new-and-popular ladies' event, she said.

A March 23 date has been set for progressive dinner.

Psychiatrist To Speak

Dr. Louise Centers, a clinical psychiatrist, will be a guest speaker at the next meeting of the Nov- Northville chapter of Parents Without Partners.

The meeting will get underway at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Upcoming social activities of this group include: Teen cluster dance on Friday for teenagers, ice skating part on Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m., and a house party on February 23.

They're Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Caswell, 41845 West Eight Mile Road, Northville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Jann, to Robert A. Foote son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foote of Harrison, Michigan.

SANDRA CASWELL

MARTHA LUTCHKA

The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Northville High School and presently is a sophomore at Alma College where she is a member of Alpha Zeta Tau sorority. Her fiancé, a 1971 graduate of Harrison High School, also attends Alma where he is a junior and a member of Theta Chi fraternity. No wedding date has been set.

MARTHA JO LUTCHKA
An April 6 wedding is planned for Martha Jo Lutchka of Whitmore Lake and Lewis Jake Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miller of Los Anamos, Colorado.

Miss Lutchka is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lutchka of Salem Township. She is a graduate of South Lyon High School and received her degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1969. She is presently employed as a speech therapist at Whitmore Lake Public Schools.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Westfield High School, Westfield, Indiana. He attended Union Bible Seminary and received his degree in mechanical engineering from Purdue University in 1973. He is presently employed by the Environmental Protection Agency in Ann Arbor.

'LIVE' BABY-SITTING PRACTICE—Cathy Hall, 11, obviously is enjoying holding three-month-old Michael Lang as she practices infant care techniques under the guidance of Mrs. Peter Lindholm, a registered nurse who will teach the first session in the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary-sponsored babysitting clinic February 26 - April 2 at Cooke Middle School. Registration deadline is February 18, according to Mrs. John Buckland, chairman, 349-0773. Michael is the son of Mrs. Thomas Lang, an auxiliary member.

Mahaney-McMillan

A week's ski trip to Colorado followed the February 1 wedding of DeeAnn Mahaney to David McMillan in St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael K. Mahaney, 222 West Street, was given in marriage by her father in the candlelight service at 7:30 p.m., with the Reverend Charles F. Boerger officiating.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. McMillan, 23757 Maude Lea Circle, Novi.

The bride wore a traditional, Victorian-style gown of ivory satin and organza decorated with ivory chantilly lace as she exchanged vows and rings. Her bouquet of ivory long-stemmed roses was bound with burgundy velvet ribbon. Mrs. Edgar (Cynthia) Hammond was matron of honor in a burgundy taffeta gown with ivory lace top. She carried a single red rose and baby's breath tied with ivory ribbon.

Kathy Mahaney and Mrs. Glenn (Karen) Rado were bridesmaids in emerald green taffeta gowns with ivory lace tops. They each carried a single red rose arrangement like the matron of honor's.

Doug Anglin was best man. Ushers were Phil McMillan and Glenn Rado with Michael Mahaney serving as a junior usher.

A reception for close friends and relatives followed at Hillside Inn.

The bride, a 1971 graduate of Northville High School, is a junior at Eastern Michigan University. Her husband is a 1968 Northville High School graduate and presently is employed at Anglin Top Soil Company in Novi.

They are making their home in Union Lake.

Mothers' Club Adds To School Audio Gift

Latest gift to the Northville High School drama department from Northville Mothers' Club is a check for $1,200, representing profits from Christmas cocktail parties, Mrs. Glenn Deibert, president, announced this week.

Last fall $1,000 was donated by the club toward improving sound equipment in the auditorium.

Mrs. Deibert also announced the gift of a reference book, "Water Atlas of the United States", to the Northville High School library in memory of Mrs. Richard (Donna) Huston, who died December 24 in Pennsylvania. She had been a club member before moving east early in 1973.

The book, from Mothers' Club members and friends, was one which the library wished to acquire, Mrs. Deibert noted.

A change in meeting place for the next meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, February 18, is announced. The hostess will be Mrs. Charles Fountain, 46119 Pickford. Assisting will be Mrs. David Longridge, Mrs. A. B. Kline and Mrs. Edward Hodge.

Top Midway Scores Told in Marathon

Top midpoint scores in the 1973-74 Northville Mothers' Club Marathon Bridge Tournament are announced by Mrs. A. B. Kline, marathon chairman.

Leading in the ladies daytime tournament are Mrs. Ralph Chase and Mrs. Harvey Wilson with a score of 14,920. Topping the ladies evening group are Mrs. Raymond Kelly and Mrs. Dennis Nadeau with a score of 14,050.

Leading the couples' play are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Meyer with a 20,650 score and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edgeworth are leading the duplicate group.

Players are reminded by Mrs. Kline of the final cut-off point of May 20 in the fund-raising tournament. All scores and money are to be turned in to group chairmen by this date as the club hopes to announce winners by the end of May.

All proceeds from the tournament have been pledged to Northville High School for purchase of audio equipment.

YMCA Plans Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of the Canton, Northville and Plymouth YMCA will be held February 18 at the Allen Elementary School library, 1110 Haggerty. It was announced this week.

The meeting will get underway at 7 p.m. with a social period, followed by a business meeting at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is open to the public.

LIZANNE PEACE

Name Lizanne Peace 'Tomorrow's Leader'

Lizanne Peace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peace, 42952 Richard Court, has been named Northville High 1973-74 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow.

She won the new honor by competing with other seniors in a written knowledge and attitude examination December 4.

In November she became first runner-up in the Northville Jaycee-sponsored Junior Miss competition.

In the General Mills competition, formerly the Homemaker of Tomorrow contest, she became eligible for state and national honors and will receive a specially designed award in the educational scholarship program.

State winners in the competition, begun in 1954-55, receive a $1,500 college scholarship while the national winner receives an increase to $5,000. This year 703,074 students from 14,463 schools were enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search, which for the second year, included senior boys, the sponsor announced.

Blame County for Delay

Council Renews Plans For Paving Taft Road

After more than a year of inaction, Novi's City Council has renewed discussion of the proposed paving of Taft Road. At its Monday night session, the council heard a report from its engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson (J&A) regarding the status of engineering plans and determined a course of action for moving forward with the project.

It marked the first time since January of 1973 that the Taft Road paving plans have been broached by the council. In a public hearing held January 8, 1973, the council passed the third of seven resolutions required under the city charter's special assessment procedure. The third resolution directs the engineers to draw up preliminary plans and cost estimates for the project.

Since that time, however, there has been no further action. Reason for the delay, J&A Engineer Charles Fenske told the council Monday, has been the absence of a decision regarding the extent of improvements to the Taft Road-Grand River intersection.

"I don't think there's any question that the intersection is a major traffic hazard and needs extensive re-engineering, but until the question of what should be done to correct the situation is resolved, we can not finalize our engineering plans," Fenske told the council.

That decision is complicated by the fact that Grand River falls under the jurisdiction of the Oakland County Road Commission and any decision on re-engineering the intersection must also go through them.

Fenske reported Monday that the Road Commission had been asked to share in the cost of the reconstruction project and had been sent preliminary plans and cost estimates.

Now, however, the possibility that the Road Commission will share in the cost of improving the intersection look "rather dim," according to Fenske.

J&A told the council that there are three primary possibilities for proceeding with the paving of Taft Road.

1. Proceed with the whole project, including the reconstruction of the Taft Road-Grand River intersection, and attempt to get a commitment from the Road Commission to share in the costs.

2. Proceed with the whole project without the financial participation of the Road Commission. If the city decides to proceed with the total improvement, however, a cost of approximately $335,000 for improving the intersection will very likely have to be borne entirely by the city, J&A cautioned.

3. Proceed with a reduced project. One proposed reduced project would call for Taft Road to be paved from 10 Mile north to a point approximately 200 feet south of Grand River. At that point, the engineers suggested, a transition from the new concrete onto the existing gravel surface would be made.

It would be unwise to pave Taft all the way to Grand River, stated Fenske, because the intersection must some day be improved and a grade change would be required. Therefore, any concrete paving within 200 feet of the intersection would have to be torn up to accommodate the grade change.

The second reduced project proposed by J&A would be to pave Taft Road between 10 and 11 Mile Roads, holding the 11 Mile to Grand River section in abeyance.

According to the preliminary cost estimates prepared by J&A, the cost of paving Taft from 10 to 11 Mile would be $340,000. Cost of paving Taft from 11 to Grand River would be $140,000. And the cost of improving the Taft-Grand River intersection would be $335,000.

Total project cost was pegged at $815,000.

The council decided Monday that the project should not be undertaken until the Road Commission has made a decision on sharing in the cost of re-constructing the

4 Refuse Private Session

Information regarding the details of a private meeting between three members of the Novi City Council and disgruntled building department employees are being channeled through Councilman Denis Berry.

Contacted at work Tuesday afternoon, a building department employee told The Novi News that he was not at liberty to discuss the details of the meeting.

"We decided that all questions and statements should be made by either Mr. Berry or Mayor Daley," said the employee. "I don't want to make any statements which might conflict with what they tell you."

Mayor Robert Daley was out of state on a business trip when The Novi News attempted to contact him, but Berry spoke at length when contacted at his home Sunday.

"The meeting went pretty much as I thought it would," commented Berry. "Contrary to public opinion, it was not a lynching session aimed at Harold Saunders (Novi City Manager). It was a highly successful and constructive session."

The meeting was held at Berry's request to enable members of the council to hear the complaints of building department employees upset about the lingering implications of a police investigation and details of a recently-negotiated union contract.

Berry had earlier been directed by the council to look into personnel problems in the department.

Under the terms established by Berry and backed up by Daley, the meeting was a strictly private affair with the public, the press, and Saunders being excluded.

It was Berry's insistence on these terms which caused four members of the council to refuse to attend. Councilmen George Athas and Louie Campbell told The Novi News that they would not attend because the city manager was excluded.

Not to allow Saunders to be present is paramount to undermining his position as city manager, they stated.

Councilwoman Romaine Roethel and Councilman Philip Goodman refused to attend on the grounds that the press was being excluded. Goodman appeared at the Wednesday night meeting, but left when Mayor Daley officially barred two reporters from the proceedings.

Berry took a swipe at those councilmen not in attendance when he reported the details of the meeting. "I was directed by the council to make a study of the building department and report back. And that's exactly what I did," he stated.

"It was an excellent session and I'm sorry that the rest of the council did not attend. I'm beginning to get a little aggravated with people playing politics."

As to the details of the private session, Berry reported that discussion had concerned the "general unhappiness" of

K&B Drops Rezoning Bid

Only one of two rezoning requests originally submitted by Village Oaks developer, Kaufman and Broad (K&B) will go before the Novi City Council at a public hearing on Wednesday, February 27.

K&B Vice-President Thomas Loew last week withdrew his request for an R-2-A (multiple family residential) zoning designation on a 55.8 acre parcel located on the west side of Haggerty Road midway between Eight and Nine Mile Roads.

Withdrawal of the R-2-A request came during the second half of a public hearing before the Novi Planning Commission last Wednesday in the School Administration Building. The first half of the hearing had been held the preceding Wednesday in the Novi High School Commons.

On the remaining K&B rezoning request - for an R-1 (single-family residential) designation on a 122-acre parcel, the planners voted 5-3 to recommend that the council deny the request when the final decision is made at the February 27 public hearing.

Originally, K&B had requested that two parcels of land south of Nine Mile be rezoned from their existing R-1-S (suburban residential district) designation. The R-1-S zoning requires a lot frontage of 90 feet and a total lot size of 12,000 square feet.

Both parcels of land for which the rezonings were requested are part of the original "Community of Village Oaks" concept.

Both rezoning requests ran into strong citizen opposition at the public hearing held two weeks ago. It was this opposition which prompted K&B to withdraw the request for the R-2-A zoning on the 55 acre parcel.

"We didn't feel that the request had a chance of going through," Loew told The Novi News Tuesday in explaining the reason behind the decision for withdrawal.

Loew and K&B renewed their request for the R-1 zoning on the 122 acre parcel, however. The R-1 would, if granted, permit the developer to reduce lot frontage from 90 to 80 feet and to reduce total lot size from the 12,000 square feet required under the R-1-S to 10,000 square feet.

Loew told the planners that the rezoning would not result in an increase in density. K&B is committed to sell 10 acres to the school and there are roughly 10 to 15 additional acres which are unbuildable because of soil conditions, he stated.

Because of the loss of those acres, the density under R-1 would be no greater than the density if the entire parcel could be developed under R-1-S, Loew continued.

One of the key issues in the planners' deliberation involved the legal question of the RUD (residential unit development) ordinance. The RUD ordinance permits developers to reduce lot sizes provided that the land taken away from individual lots is returned to the homeowners in the form of common areas (parks, club houses, etc.).

When K&B began

Hand Guns

Police Turn Over 14 Guns To Michigan State Police

Detroit isn't the only city experiencing problems with hand guns.

The same problems, on a proportionately smaller scale, are being experienced in Novi.

Last week Novi Detective Lieutenant Richard Faulkner turned over to the Michigan

State Police 14 hand guns - both revolvers and automatic pistols - which have figured in local arrests over the past few months.

In addition, Faulkner reported that 10 more guns are currently being held by Novi police pending final disposition of the cases in which they were involved.

To date, no one has been killed, although one man was seriously wounded when shot in the chest during a dispute which broke out in a bar last December.

Faulkner noted, however, that even though no deaths have yet been recorded as a result of hand guns, the danger is always there.

"We had a case in a Novi bar a few months ago that could have been highly dangerous," said Faulkner. "One of the bar patrons got into a dispute with another customer. While the two were arguing, somebody unfortunately observed that the first man had a hand gun stuck in his belt.

"Police were called and officers were able to get the gun away from him after a struggle," Faulkner continued. "What they found was an unregistered .32 caliber Savage handgun. It was loaded.

"It's incidents exactly like that which are likely to suddenly go a lot farther than anyone ever intended them to and potentially end up with someone being shot," Faulkner stated.

Nine of the 14 hand guns turned over to State Police last week resulted in the person being charged with either carrying a concealed weapon or possession of an unregistered firearm.

Faulkner noted that possession of an unregistered hand gun is only a misdemeanor, while carrying a concealed weapon is a felony punishable by imprisonment for a period up to five years and/or a fine of $2,500.

Outdoor Ed Concept Wins Board Support

The idea of an outdoor education center for Novi students, though not enthusiastically supported by all school officials, is nevertheless alive and kicking.

Over the objection of the board of education president, LaVerne DeWaard, the board last week voted to continue exploration of a possible joint purchase of land with other school districts.

DeWaard contends the project ought not become a reality without the express support of voters who ultimately must pay for land purchase and for development of the center.

Action by the board does not constitute support of purchase, however. It signifies only to other interested school districts that Novi's interest is sustained.

Vote to purchase, if the land in question can be obtained at a reasonable cost, must still be made by the board.

The site currently under study is not the one that the board last year first expressed interest over and visited. That 68 acre site is located near Hamburg. The board is no longer considering it.

Now being seriously considered for purchase by the school districts of Novi, Farmington, Clarenceville and Huron Valley is a 14.5 acre site on Wixom Road, immediately adjacent to the Proud Lake Recreation Area.

Board members who have visited the site say it is "superior" to the one in Hamburg. It is surrounded on three sides by 4,000 acres of state owned park land, and officials believe it can be purchased for educational purposes for possibly $45,000.

At least one other district has indicated that if no other school districts are interested in buying the property on a joint basis it is ready to purchase it alone.

A film, titled "A Renewal With Nature," was shown at last week's meeting. It concerns the nature center that neighboring Walled Lake School District owns and operates.

Fast-food Restaurant Approved

Wixom Rejects Shopping Center

Rezoning for a fast-food restaurant at the southeast corner of Wixom Road and Wainstock by Pontiac Trail was approved Tuesday by Wixom City Council while a request for a shopping center at Loon Lake and Wixom roads was denied.

Both requests were heard in public hearings preceding the regular council meeting.

In denying the four-and-a-half acre rezoning from residential to local business for a neighborhood shopping center the council upheld the denial recommendation of the planning commission of May, 1973.

T. J. Brennan representing Galvanoni and Ryan of Cincinnati brought diagrams and architect's drawing for the proposed center, claiming that there is no developed shopping center in the area and that the land is not suited to residential development.

Mary Jo Wagner, an area resident, spoke for herself and husband, Thomas, in opposing the request, saying that residents had not been asked if they wished a center and that it "would be detrimental to existing housing."

Councilman Gunnar Mettala pointed out that the request had been made "before the energy crisis" and questioned whether the need now was greater for local shopping. The motion was denied, however, with only Mettala and James Lahde voting for it.

Request of owner William Abrams for rezoning of residential lots at the southeast corner of Wixom Road and Wainstock between Pontiac Trail and West Road was recommended to the council for approval by the planning commission December 3, 1973, and was unanimously approved.

Abrams, who had expected a potential purchaser to

Branch Hears Student

How courses in home-making, woodworking and farming are taught to native children in Jamaica was described by Miss Retha Hankey at the guest day meeting of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association Monday afternoon at Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Hankey of East Tawas, Michigan, is a graduate of Michigan State University and a participant in the International Farm Youth Exchange program, now called 4-H.

Some of the funds for the program, now in its 26th year, are raised at an annual International Farm Youth tea given by the WNFGA. Participants, branch members and guests learned Monday, are assigned for one year to a foreign country in a program like that of the Peace Corps.

Miss Hankey went to Jamaica to help develop 4-H programs. She showed slides and described her experiences in the project sponsored by Ford Tractor Division.

Working with Mrs. John Swienkowski and Mrs. Thomas Watts, project chairmen, are Mrs. Ross Totten, Mrs. Samuel Hall, Mrs. David Pevovar and Mrs. Thomas Lang. Nomination forms may be obtained from Mrs. Totten, 349-5124.

Announce Judges For Woman of Year

Judges for the third annual Woman of the Year Award of the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary are announced this week. The committee also points out that March 1 is the deadline for individuals or organizations to nominate an outstanding woman who lives or works in the community.

Last year's winner, Mrs. E. O. Weber, who organized Northville band parents to send the band to band camp, will be a judge this year. Others are Steven Walters, Northville city manager;

Mrs. Dunbar Davis, wife of Judge Davis who was asked to serve again this year; Peter Schweitzer, community relations director at Plymouth Center for Human Development; and Peter Magnan, a past president of Northville Jaycees.

School Secretaries To Host Workshop

'Northville Public Schools' secretaries will host the winter workshop Tuesday of the Wayne County Association of Educational Secretaries. Beginning with registration at 6 p.m. followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m., the workshop will be held at Cooke Middle School.

In operation since the 1950's, the association is comprised of secretaries from 37 school districts in western Wayne County. About 120 women are expected to attend, according to Main Street Elementary secretary Mrs. Betty Willing.

Mrs. Willing, chairman of the winter workshop, said a fashion show by Claire Kelly of Northville will include secretaries modeling spring styles.

Michigan's poet laureate, Max Ellison, will be the featured speaker. Ellison spoke last week at Northville High.

Daughter's Birth Told

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krauter, 2861 Hacker, Brighton, announce the birth of their third daughter, Janice Lee. Janice was born January 17 and weighed five pounds, seven ounces on arrival at Garden City Osteopathic Hospital.

Krauter and his wife, the former Judy Dye, have three other children at home, daughters Lynette and Michelle, ages eight and five, and a son, Daniel, age six.

Maternal grandparents are the Reverend and Mrs. Rex L. Dye of Schreiber, Ontario, formerly of Salem. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Krauter of Northville.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The tight-money condition in Northville township comes as no surprise to observers who have been aware for years of budgetary practices.

It is comparable to a family that has become accustomed to living at a level supported by overtime pay and then finding it must exist upon its regular income.

Northville township's "overtime pay" has been its steadily increasing building inspection fees. Now instead of increasing, they are slumping, the victim of a building recession.

It is ironical that the building department, which has been responsible for producing the added revenues, must now bear the almost exclusive brunt of the cutback.

Those in a position to know have recognized that Northville township's building department is composed of highly-qualified inspectors. The formation of the department is the result of efforts that go back several years, when it was obvious that the township faced rapid growth and sorely needed capable building inspectors. It was one department, for example, that the city envied when city-township unification came under consideration.

In reality, it is not the building slump that is responsible for the township's money problems. Instead it is the elected board officials who decided to increase township services without increasing taxes to support the added services.

This policy was not adopted by the present board; but it has been accepted and continued.

Northville township levies one mill of property tax for operating expenses. Presently, this produces about $62,000 in revenue. In addition revenues are received from other sources, such as sales and income tax rebates.

The annual budget for operating the police department alone is $76,000.

It has been customary for the board (sometimes, by split votes) to continue to increase services, such as police, usually for the reason that "we've got the money."

But as any businessman or housewife knows, it isn't always the initial investment that hurts, it's the upkeep.

Now the township is unable to support itself in the fashion to which it has become accustomed. So it is cutting corners.

It would seem wise for board members to use extreme caution in carving into a department as valuable and as productive as the building department less irreparable damage be done.

A better course might be a close examination of all services and departmental areas for possible savings, coupled with a determination to declare that all future service additions will be considered only if supported by new operating millage voted by the taxpayers.

Monies collected by the building department and dissipated for general operating expenses will be sorely missed when the township is faced with the cost of broad maintenance responsibilities, the result of the development that has been supplying the booming building fees.

The management of Northville Square shopping center in downtown Northville has been experiencing one problem it had not anticipated locally.

Teenage destructiveness is greater than in any other center managed by the firm in charge of Northville Square.

Steps are being taken to clamp down on the havoc-makers.

It's acknowledged that full-occupancy of the several store sites that remain empty will help.

But a little parental reminder wouldn't hurt, either.

The Novi school district, along with three other districts, is considering the purchase of 14 acres near the Proud Lake recreation area for future use as a nature-study site.

Under the proposed cooperative program it would be a relatively inexpensive investment. Future costs would likewise be shared. And many of the considered projects for development of the site could be student efforts.

It is, we believe, a wise and far-sighted project that these districts now consider. In a few short years it may require a trip of many miles to enjoy the pleasure of study, or idle contemplation, in the uncomplicated surroundings of Mother Nature.

VERN LAVASSAUR

Speaking for Myself

Was Truckers' Strike Justified?

DAVID JEROME

YES . . .

Even an animal, whose very existence is threatened by the loss of food, will fight any odds to protect what is his.

The same holds true for the independent trucker whose livelihood is being threatened by spiraling costs. Certainly the strike is justified. To do less would mean ruination.

Rising cost of fuel already has wiped out the thin profit margin of the trucker. Two years ago diesel fuel cost 19 cents. Today it's close to 50 cents—if you can get it!

Do those who question justification of the strike also question justification of fuel cost hikes like this? I wonder.

Frankly, I'm not convinced the so-called diesel fuel shortage actually exists. There seems to be plenty fuel available if you 'know someone' or can afford to pay for it. Doesn't it puzzle you why the government knows so little about oil companies, why it seems so eager to accept anything the oil companies say?

Oil companies hide what they do, and the trucker—probably more than any other businessman—is immersed in government red tape from start to finish. Where is the justification?

The independent trucker, like any other consumer, has had it. If he doesn't fight for his existence who will? Certainly not a government that winks at the oil companies and crawls into bed with Mr. Fitzsimmons.

Vern LaVassaur
Independent Trucker
Novi

NO . . .

Gas prices are astounding...for all of us. However, the way the independent truckers have sought to reduce such prices can not be condoned. In the name of rolling back gas prices, highways have been blocked, tires slashed, trucks damaged and murders committed. To approve of such anarchy is to disregard the democratic institutions which have made this country great. We must not concede to demands supported by violence and lawlessness.

Even if the demands are met, the end result is unrealistic. Our economy works on the supply and demand basis. A roll-back in diesel fuel prices will cause the oil companies to divert their supplies to the then more profitable home heating oil and auto petroleum products. With a roll-back, diesel fuel will become scarce to the truckers just as meat became scarce to the consumer during the freeze on meat prices.

We recognize that truckers, vital to our economy, need more revenues to cover the increased gas costs. However, it is through the proper channels, such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, and with their approval, that these revenues must come. The Interstate Commerce Commission, has, in fact, already approved a 6 percent surcharge for freight rates. The surcharge is to be passed on entirely to truck owners to cover increased gas prices. The real end of the truckers has been met, but through the proper channels, and not through anarchy.

Frozen Food

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Imagine...cost of mailing a first-class letter is just eight cents more than it was nearly 70 years ago," said John Steimel.

The Northville postmaster was referring to the rates as outlined in a 1906 postal booklet in comparison with the proposed new postal rates that very likely will become a reality next month.

He was right, of course, but the increase in postal rates over the past 70 years nevertheless seemed steep to me. It's a relative thing, I guess. Maybe they seem high only because the comparison comes at a time when the consumer seems to be bombarded by price hikes from all sides.

Anyway, the postal booklet, which was given to John recently by heirs of the late Tiffin brothers of Wixom, is interesting just the same.

It notes, for example, that in 1906 the cost of sending a first class letter was 2 cents. Next month, the new rate hike will boost the cost of sending the same letter to a dime (from the current cost of 8 cents).

Post cards in 1906 were 1 cent each, and next month they'll cost 8 cents.

Other comparisons:

- Special delivery mail in 1906 required a 2 cent postage stamp plus a 10 cent fee for a total of 12 cents. The new postal rate earmarked for special delivery requires a 10 cent stamp plus a 60 cent fee for a total of 70 cents.

- Registered mail in 1906 cost 8 cents plus a 2 cent stamp, and next month it will cost 95 cents plus a 10 cent stamp.

- Mailing a copy of The Northville Record in 1906 cost 5 cents (for 10 ounces or less), whereas today it costs 6 cents (for the first two ounces).

- Mail orders in 1906 cost 30 cents for amounts of $75 to $100, whereas the cost today is 40 cents for amounts of $50 to $100.

No mention is made in the booklet of airmail costs since this service was not yet offered by the post office department. Local oldtimers remember it was later in this century when aircraft enthusiasts, such as Northville's Eddie Stinson, pioneered movement of mail by air.

The old booklet contains a section classifying items that were regularly sent by mail. For example, it notes that roots, rulers (wooden or metal), and tintypes were fourth-class items. Paper valentines (the kind appearing on Page 1-B of this edition), sheet music, and cloth samples were third class; magazines and newspapers were second class; and autograph albums, diplomas, and shorthand notes were first class.

Mail patrons were urged to wrap packages securely because, cautioned the 1906 booklet, "when addressed to small towns where the mail trains do not

Need for Northville Township Tax Hike Doubted

To the Editor:

Current proposals for raising our taxes have failed to prove a need for such projects. While walking in Northville Township as a Democratic candidate for Supervisor in 1972, I heard from several taxpayers who mentioned that they were satisfied with the present level of police and fire protection. They appeared angry at the suggestion that we reorganize and professionalize these services.

However, it is obvious that the same groups are now defending the proposed millage increase with the accompanying department of public safety. They desire the taxpayer to approve of this proposal during a period of inflation, the energy crisis, and other problems faced by our families. We are constantly reminded to conserve energy, cut back on necessities, and restrict our transportation needs. Why can't the township consider the same types of budget cuts?

We are also faced with the possibility of a one-mill property tax levy to bolster local and county public safety programs proposed by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. If approved, the county will return 80 percent of that revenue to township and city governments. The amount of money returned should prove to be enough for the current time period. Additional protection, provided by the State Police, might also fill in during this period.

Why are we constantly bombarded with proposed increases by groups that promised (in 1972) taxpayers township government would remain at one mill? This type of reversal is typical of politicians at all levels of our political system.

Sincerely,
Dr. Larry VanderMolen

which only has a capacity of 1,400 students," Spear said. "To reduce the enrollment by 200 students, we need between 600 and 800 students in the program," he explained. "Totally, the district will be short of 12 classrooms. Five will be at the elementary level and seven at the high school. "At the elementary level, it's conceivable to operate four tracks of YRS at Amerman plus the traditional program for 'walkers,'" the superintendent said, and "we could pick up the elementary classrooms."

At the middle school, the net gain of students will be 20, he explained, with no extra rooms needed.

"Larger classes have been leaving the middle school than those sixth grades coming in," he explained.

Eight alternatives for meeting the classroom shortage at the high school level include:

- extend the school day,
- split sessions or half-days,
- renting facilities for classes within the district;
- renting classroom space from other districts;
- reduce class offerings to five per student;
- increase class size;
- using portable classrooms; or
- mandating YRS.

Spear said the alternatives would be studied during the next month by the school board and the Advisory Council for Educational Programming committee.

The board is expected to make a decision on the matter at its March 11 meeting.

Foreign Language Classes Presented

Foreign languages, science and drama are being presented in after school classes by the Parents Association for Alternatives in Education.

Held in St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Road in Plymouth, the classes begin at 3:30 and last until 5 p.m. Students must make their own transportation arrangements.

Classes begin Monday, February 18. For information on registration and fees, contact Elizabeth Murner at 422-8351.

Foreign languages include

French and Spanish which are open to all age groups. Classes are taught on Mondays.

Science classes, held Tuesdays, are open to children between the ages of nine and 13.

Drama will be offered on Wednesdays. Open to all ages, the program will expose children to all phases of the dramatic arts.

Spokesman for the school, Mrs. Jean Navarre, added that the classes are "designed to offer a complete academic program and not simply enrichment."

Local Democrats Reorganize Friday

Reorganization of the Democratic Party of this area is planned to take place tomorrow (Friday) at the Plymouth community Federal Credit Union building, 500 South Harvey Street.

According to Richard B. McGinn, Plymouth-Northville representative to last Saturday's Democratic State Central Committee meeting, the scheduled Friday session is "to re-unite all Democrats in the area. The business of the meeting will be the election of a temporary chairperson and officers, and the appointment of a committee to establish by-laws." He called it the rebirth of the Plymouth-Northville Democratic Club, pointing out that until 1964 this club had been the Democratic representative of this area.

Between 1964 and 1972 it was known as the Wayne Second Democratic Party.

Post Office Sells

Food Stamps Here

The Northville Post Office will start selling food stamps as an added convenience to food stamp recipients.

Postmaster John Steimel said the coupon books may be purchased only between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Formerly, the stamps could be purchased only at specially designated food stamp sales offices of the Department of Social Services. Recipients will still be able to purchase their stamps at these issuing units in addition to the post office.

Recipients will be informed by the Michigan Department of Social Services of the new sales offices' locations in a notice which will be mailed to them along with their authorization cards.

Postmaster Steimel said other postal stations in the area will be phased into the program in the near future, and recipients will be similarly notified of their locations, at that time.

The post office permitted queen bees "and their attendant bees" to be sent through the mail—provided they were packaged in such a manner "as to render it practically impossible that the package shall be broken in transit."

Postal workers might not be deterred by sleet or rain or menacing dogs, but they were understandably reticent about handling angry bees.

Finally, perhaps applicable yet to the nonsensical observations written here, it was illegal in 1906 to send through the mails those substances, "which exhale a bad odor."

IN EMU PLAY—Craig Barnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Barnard, 43605 West Nine Mile Road, Northville, plays Sir Andrew Aguecheek in the Eastern Michigan University Players' production of "Twelfth Night". The play will be presented February 15-17 and 20-23 in EMU's Quirk Auditorium. Barnard is a sophomore majoring in drama.

At Schoolcraft

Voc Ed Council Meets

A special meeting of the Michigan Advisory Council for Vocational Education will be held on the Schoolcraft College campus on Friday (tomorrow).

The meeting, called by Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote who chairs the Council, will be held in the Administration Building beginning at 10 a.m. It is open to the public.

Dr. Grote said he expects nearly all of the Council's 26 appointed members as well as its executive director, Dr. Arthur Shack, and representatives of the State Department of Education. The Council rotates its meetings around the state whenever it does not meet in Lansing, and the Schoolcraft site marks one of the few times it will have met in Southeastern Michigan and it is a first for Schoolcraft College.

Major topics slated for the February 15 agenda include a review of the Council's position paper on the 1968 Vocational Education Act and its amendments, and a review of the 1974-75 State Plan for vocational education.

The review of the 1968 federal legislation is in preparation for congressional oversight hearings, something being done by all 50 states for submission to Washington by March 1st. There the states' suggestions will be compiled by the National Council for Vocational Education, and will form the basis for congressional hearings. Certain sections of the 1968 Act will expire in 1975.

Handbook Eyed

A proposed student teaching handbook, which is being reviewed by the board of education, is expected to come before the Novi board for approval next Tuesday night.

Bids on structural steel for the Village Oaks addition, which were to be opened today, also are to come before the board for contract awarding Tuesday.

A FEBRUARY TEA for mothers and daughters to be given this Saturday from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at Northville Presbyterian Church is an innovation in the year's programming for Northville Woman's Club.

Meeting date was moved to Saturday, instead of Friday, so that members may invite both mothers and daughters to the Valentine-season event, notes Mrs. Robert Brueck, program chairman. She explains that mothers and daughters will be honored by members as special guests and that the day was changed so that school-age daughters may attend.

In a program at 2:30 p.m. Sue Gougeon, who has been invited to attend with her mother, Mrs. George Gougeon, will tell of her experiences as Woman's Club delegate to Girls State.

The Mercyaire, a group of young ladies chosen from Farmington's Our Lady of Mercy High School senior chorus, then will entertain with a varied musical program. The young singers have performed on both radio and television in the Detroit area.

Music of the Mercyaire was featured in a club program in January, 1973, Mrs. Brueck recalls, and it was decided to ask them to return as daughters, especially, would enjoy this music. Program chairman for the event is Mrs. Russell Anger while Mrs. Frank Whitmyer is in charge of the tea committee.

Studies NHS Classroom Pinch

Northville Public Schools' Advisory Council for Educational Programming committee will hold its first meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, February 20.

The group is composed of representatives from various areas of the school district along with members of civic organizations within the district.

According to Board Vice-President Martin Rinehart, "volunteers are welcome to join the group." Those interested should call Superintendent Raymond Spear at 349-3400.

Among the items to be studied by the committee are the three-mill renewal which goes before voters March 16, expansion of the voluntary year-round school program, studying alternatives to the classroom crisis and serving as an advisory board for energy crisis problems affecting the district.

Let's Talk Real Estate

BY DAN MAHAN

Much of the mystery in the business of buying real estate is concerned with the clearing of the title, before it can be transferred from one party to another, and the charges made for this. These expenses are normally lumped together under the heading of "closing costs". The buyer is usually only too aware of these closing costs. A good real estate man will explain in detail what these charges are for, and why each service is important to a prospective buyer.

When you use HARTFORD REALTY, 224 S. Main, 349-1212, you will find us most anxious to explain all the necessary details such as closing costs to you. We want to make sure you understand the entire transaction and we are here to do just that. Hours: Mon. - Sat. 9-9, Sun. 1-5, other times by appt.

HELPFUL HINT: Cash or a certified check is necessary to complete a purchase. Personal checks are very rarely accepted.

'Conversions Only Confuse'

They're Well Versed in Metrics

By SALLY BURKE

To most Americans, the metric system means trying to remember that an inch is 2.54 centimeters or that a meter is really 39.37 inches.

But to eighth graders in Mrs. Priscilla Smith's science classes, one centimeter is 10 millimeters and 10 decimeters of 1,000 millimeters equal a meter.

The Cooke Middle School students have been taught the metric system by itself and not by converting United States' measurements to metric measurements.

"None of the students have had any problems with the metric system," Mrs. Smith said. "Having them convert one system to another only serves to confuse the students so I don't teach metrics that way."

Mrs. Smith said the students picked up the metric system right away. "Initially, some students have problems, but once they realize the metric system is based on tens, they're all set."

The students have compared a quart with a liter and a yard with a meter "just to see that there is a difference,"

Mrs. Smith explained, "but all experiments we do use metric measurements."

Beakers are marked in milliliters, powdered chemicals are weighed in grams and the students' science books follow the metric system.

Mrs. Smith's eighth graders began studying the metric system in the seventh grade and when they reached her science classes, they began using metric measurements right away.

"The students have become accustomed to metrics and work with it easily," she added. "The biggest problem they have is trying to remember which mark on the ruler is a centimeter and which is a millimeter."

Mrs. Smith believes one reason why England had problems switching to metric measurements was because they used formulas to convert.

"I haven't taught conversions because the students don't understand how to use a formula to find an unknown. People seem to have trouble with conversions and metrics become confusing then," she explained.

The Michigan Department of Education has ordered that all textbooks used in public schools by 1976 must contain the metric system.

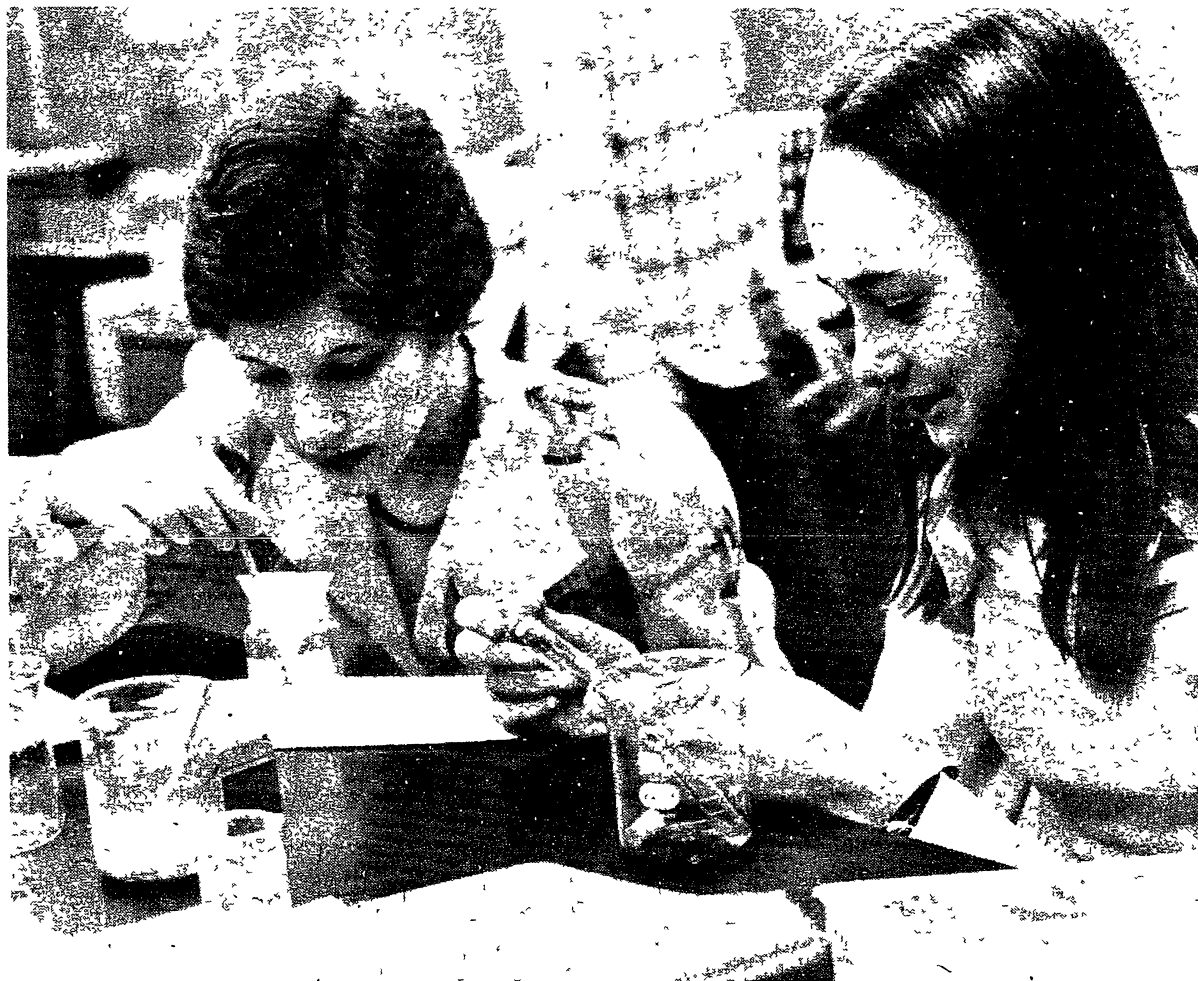

But students at Cooke Middle School and Northville High have been working with metrics in math and science for some time.

Elementary grade teachers are also beginning to introduce their classes to the metric system.

And for those who are out of school, the school district is studying the possibility of offering evening classes to aid adults in becoming acquainted with the metric system.

"There's nothing difficult about using metrics," Mrs. Smith believes.

measured amounts of lead nitrate and potassium iodide and filter the substance to produce a clear solution.

Township Board Clears Way

approved 4-2-1. Voting against discharging were Schaeffer and Mitchell with Deputy Clerk Margaret Tegge abstaining.

Schaeffer, supported by MacDonald, moved, to reconsider the ballot wording. Mitchell voted against the measure.

Trustees voted down original wording which restricted use of the proposed three-mill levy "for the sole use...of a Township of Northville Public Safety Department."

Mitchell said he was opposed to any rewording of the ballot, noting that such a move would "take out of the people's hands how the money will be spent and leave it up to the politicians."

MacDonald stated he "thought the goal was either our own department or a combined department."

Klein added that funding of "fire and police protection for the township the way we can get the most for the money we can afford" is the intention of the board.

"If the city does not want to combine departments with us, then we can go our own way," he continued.

After several proposals were made on how to reword the millage question, trustees agreed on the following:

"Shall the Township of Northville Board of Trustees be authorized to levy ad valorem property tax millage in an amount as they may determine, but not to exceed three mills, and for a term of 10 years, for the use and purpose of establishing, operating and maintaining public safety services, affording consolidated professional fire and police protection, within the Township of Northville."

Township Attorney Donald Morgan said the new wording of the ballot would allow the township to operate its own department or contract for services.

"You are restricted by law to your own (department) or contracting," he explained.

"You cannot spend township money to provide services for someone else."

He said the new wording was more flexible and would allow a combined department with another municipality.

Voting against the measure was Treasurer Joseph Straub who said he does not believe "three mills will be sufficient to operate the department."

Mitchell said he was "not prepared to vote" but was not abstaining and was officially listed as "present but not voting."

Meanwhile, talks with the City of Northville will continue with the election date remaining as Tuesday, April 23.

"We want to keep all of our options open," Supervisor Wright added.

Born in Providence, Rhode Island, Dr. Mandell earned his bachelor of science degree from Springfield College in Springfield, Massachusetts, and his DO from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine.

An orthopedic surgeon whose practice covers Northville, Livonia and Farmington areas, he served a fellowship with the Department of Biology at the University of Rhode Island, served as a medical officer in the United States Navy, and is a clinical professor at the Michigan State University college of osteopathic medicine.

He is a member of local, state and national Osteopathic associations.

An unsuccessful candidate for the school board in the past, Dr. Mandell served on the advisory board for year-round school and on the school bond issue committee. He is a member of the Unitarian Church.

Married with two children, Dr. Mandell and his family live at 16548 Winchester Drive.

Last week's banquet was "Bosses Night" for Jaycees, who hosted their employers for the festivities. Judge James L. Ryan, of the Wayne County circuit court, was the scheduled speaker but at the last minute was forced to cancel because of an appendicitis attack.

Road Tax Collections Distributed

LANSING — Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the fourth quarter of 1973 — up 12 per cent over the same period in 1972 — are now being distributed to Michigan counties and municipalities, the State Highway Commission reported today.

John P. Woodford, director of the Department of State Highways and Transportation, said net receipts of the Highway Fund for the October through December period totaled $116,800,421, an increase of $12,467,681. Anticipated declines in revenue because of gasoline shortages and reduced driving were not apparent through the end of 1973, he said.

All state taxes on gasoline and diesel fuel, plus license plate fees, go into the Highway Fund.

Woodford said the 12 per cent increase for the quarter is attributable to an increase of two cents a gallon in the

Meditation Classes This Week

A non-religious, non-profit group offering a way to happiness, full development of the individual and world peace will be speaking in both Brighton and South Lyon this week.

Members of the International Meditation Society presented the first introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation in South Lyon Wednesday evening and will present that same lecture in Brighton High School's Room 223 at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Transcendental Meditation, (TM), contrary to many beliefs, is not a religion or a religious experience. In fact, its supporters say one doesn't even have to believe in TM to meditate, since once the technique is learned, it becomes automatic.

RELIGION

NORTHVILLE RECORD-NOVI NEWS BRIGHTON ARGUS SOUTH LYON HERALD

2-B Wed., Thurs., February 13-14 1974

Though the technique was brought to this country by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, who learned it from the spiritual leader of all of India, Guru Dev, it is not a religion, but a mental technique. "The only thing even spiritual about it is that it enhances psychological, physiological and sociological behavior," said Steve Klayman, the man who will be presenting introductory lectures in the area this week. What TM is, is a technique which is said to provide deep rest as a basis for both physical and mental benefits.

At an introductory lecture in Ann Arbor last week, similar to the ones which will be held in the area, two teachers, personally trained by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, explained these benefits.

Mentally, TM is supposed to be a technique in which one learns to quiet his thoughts until he transcends thinking to the basis of all thought, the level of pure consciousness. How one does this is not explored in the introductory lecture.

Lecturer Michael McKay explained that all activity springs from thought and that all thought comes from pure consciousness.

In a preview of the preparatory lecture, after the public lecture, McKay explained that the TM student meets privately with a teacher as classes progress and he is assigned a meaningless sound, which when concentrated upon, will allow the meditator to relax and almost appear to be asleep, while remaining mentally alert.

Without TM a man experiences his own thoughts in unending succession all of his life. This is similar to a man who has watched years of movies without end, McKay said.

"When you begin to meditate, you experience consciousness by itself for the first time. It's like that man experiencing the screen by itself for the first time," he said. "It is the experience of self without an object of perception. It is being aware, but not being aware of any particular object."

Physical benefits of such meditation have been scientifically tested, according to TM lecturers. The level of rest achieved in meditation is said to be about twice that of a night's sleep. Claims that TM improves clarity of perception and expands awareness are also backed up by scientific research.

Klayman said that over 300,000 persons in the United States have taken up TM since it was brought to this country in the 1950s. These include persons from all walks of life—athletes, lawyers, housewives and many others. Klayman, himself, is a golf pro turned TM teacher.

Proponents of TM says it is not only a way to cope with the stresses of life in today's world, but that it could be instrumental in achieving world peace.

"The only way to get the forest green is to have every tree green," McKay said. "And the only way to have world

GOLF PRO—Transcendental Meditation teacher, Steve Klayman, formerly worked as a golf pro in New York. "Financially the rewards of TM are not as good, but the benefits are more rewarding," Klayman said. "Besides, people learn how to meditate easier than they learn to play golf."

MANY QUESTIONS—A good turn out for an introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation may mean teachers are confronted with a lot of questions about the learning the technique. The introductory lecture is informational, but also is the first step required before teachers will begin to teach the technique.

BAPTIST ADDITION—Construction continues on the 12,000 square foot educational wing addition to the First Baptist Church of Northville at the corner of Wing and Randolph streets. The last major addition to the church, which was organized in 1835, was a wing on the south side of the historic building.

gasoline tax that went into effect Feb. 1, 1973. One-half cent of the two cent increase goes to the state's new General Transportation Fund for public transportation purposes.

After deduction of collection costs by the Department of State and 1.25 per cent for the Michigan Waterways Commission, the funds are distributed according to a formula established by the Legislature. The formula provides 44.5 per cent to the Department of State Highways and Transportation; 35.7 per cent to the state's 83 counties; and 19.8 per cent to the state's 530 incorporated municipalities.

Under this formula, the Department of State Highways and Transportation receives $51,976,182 as its share in the fourth quarter collections; the counties receive $41,697,750; and the municipalities, $23,126,483. The counties' share includes $1,445,587 in snow removal assistance previously announced for 23 counties which qualified.

Following are the shares for area counties and municipalities:

Livingston County - $366,626
Oakland County - $3,428,357
Wayne County - $6,681,311
City of Brighton - $12,210
City of Northville - $18,993
City of Novi - $39,677
City of South Lyon - $8,900
City of Wixom - $11,515

To many people, February means Ground Hog Day, Valentine's Day, Mardi Gras and the birth month of Edison, Lincoln and Washington.

In Michigan, however, it means 28 snow-fun days of activity, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan's I-500, the third leg of the "Triple Crown", will be held February 16 at Sault Ste. Marie. Often referred to as the grand daddy of snowmobile races, the I-500 has defeated many of the nation's top drivers and machines.

The "snow buggies" will be skimming over tracks and trails in several other areas of the state throughout the month. Snowmobile races, safaris, rodeos, poker runs and hill climbs are events scheduled for Lapeer, Caro, Manistiquie, Iron River, Petoskey, Hart, Houghton Lake, Crystal Falls, Sand Lake, Indian River and Lake City. Check the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events for specific dates and events.

Fun and games and family enjoyment come in wide assortments at Michigan winter carnivals. Events and activities are planned for all ages and include such things as snowmobile races and safaris, ice fishing contests, snow sculpture, klondike canoe races, ice skating races, hockey and more.

16-17, Albright Shores; 23-24 Cedarville and West Branch.

This year's Perchville Festival at Tawas City and East Tawas will be February 15-17. It comes complete with queen, banquet, parade and a generous helping of snowmobile activities, sky diving, a demolition derby and for the heartiest of hearty souls, a polar bear swim.

Ice skating takes its place in the spotlight this month. The silver blades will be flashing in spirited competition at the Gold and Silver Skates and Midwest Outdoor Championships, February 16-17, Farwell Field, Detroit; and Indoor Skating Championships February 23, Flint, February 24 at Midland.

On the ski scene, ISRA Professional Ski Races will be February 22-24 at Boyne Mountain and the National Ski Jumping Championships are scheduled for February 23-24 on Suicide Hill at Ishpeming. All the activity doesn't take place on the snow covered slopes and trails. There's plenty going on on the inside. The Famous Americans Exhibit, for example, runs from February 1-17 at the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

This popular annual event helps to make history a material part of today. Objects from the personal lives of well known Americans of the past (including items they made themselves) makes this one exhibit that certainly helps to bridge one generation gap.

The Michigan Artrain makes two stops this month. The first will be at Jonesville, February 13-18 and the second at Adrian February 22-28. The Kalamazoo Institute of Arts will hold their 1974 Art Show February 3-24. This is a juried show and will consist of the works of area artists from Kalamazoo County and its right bordering counties.

The calendar also lists an Art Festival, February 24-March 3 in the University of Michigan Theatre, Flint.

The Merry Marketeers will be huckstering their wares 16-17 at the Frandor Shopping Center in Lansing. The delightfully entertaining, Disney On Parade Ice Show will be at the Olympia Stadium, Detroit, February 6-17.

Sports and Boat Shows are scheduled for IMA Auditorium, Flint, February 12-17; Maple Hill Mall, Kalamazoo February 15-24; the Civic Center, Lansing, February 27-March 3.

Glue Factory Candidate Recovers, Streaks to Thoroughbred Track Success

HOMER PROFITT, son of Mrs. Glen L. Salow, Sr. of Taft Road, Novi, has been named president of the National Bank of Lancaster (Kentucky) by its board of directors.

Vice-president of the bank since 1967, Profitt has seen the bank grow from $5 million in total assets to more than $11 million by the close of last year.

Graduated from Walled Lake High School, he served three years in army security, attended Eastern Kentucky University on a basketball scholarship where he received a bachelor of science and master of arts degree in business administration, he attended the School of Banking at the University of Kentucky, and he graduated from an advanced school of banking at Louisiana State University.

Upon graduation from college he taught school and coached basketball before accepting a position as vice president of the Lincoln County National Bank of Stanford (Kentucky).

He is married and has two children.

NORTHVILLE CAMERA shop and Webber Photographic Studio has moved from South Main Street to a new location at 124 North Center Street.

Owner Robert Webber, who has operated the Northville business for eight years, sold his 200 South Main building to the John Nelsons, proprietors of the Village Pump Antiques shop, and the two businesses switched locations.

Webber's new North Center quarters is rented from the Nelsons.

Besides photographic supplies, ready-made frames, and Webber's personally produced Photo Groups, the relocated camera shop will continue to provide in-stock equipment. Cameras and projectors may be ordered by catalogue at a discount, Webber explained.

A small studio is provided in the basement, but most portrait work will be done by Webber in the client's home.

Shop hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., six days a week.

John and Marlene Nelson have operated the Village Pump here for eight years. Their business will continue unchanged in the new location except for the tripling of floor space and some specialization in old lamp parts.

Can a silk purse be made from a sow's ear?

There's a racing horse at nearby Knotty Pine Farm whose story makes almost anything seem possible.

Four years ago Swift Don, a tall, dark, thoroughbred racing stallion, was a candidate for the glue factory.

Today the horse is a champion thanks to the efforts of his co-owners, John Birdsong and Jean McIninch.

Birdsong, a 28 year old physical therapist from Clarksdale, Mississippi, came across Swift Don in 1971.

The horse had been the victim of a racing accident that had left his right front leg crippled.

Though he had originally intended to buy a saddle horse, Birdsong determined to buy Swift Don and help the horse recover full use of his leg.

He purchased the horse for the sum of $300.

Birdsong began soaking and rubbing the horse's injured leg every day. Gradually Swift Don's limp improved.

By chance, Birdsong met Jean McIninch, horse breeder at Knotty Pine Farm, 21425 Pontiac Trail, just south of South Lyon.

Miss McIninch took an interest in Swift Don and agreed to help the stallion regain full use of his injured leg.

Swift Don was moved to Knotty Pine Farm where Miss McIninch began "blistering" his leg with a hot mustard plaster.

The treatment was a success.

Heartened by Swift Don's recovery, Birdsong and McIninch began to think seriously of returning the horse to the track.

They were further encouraged by the discovery that Swift Don came from a long line of racing champions. His sire was the famous South American racing stallion, Don Podio. His maternal grandfather was Noor, the only horse to beat triple crown winner, Citation, all four times they raced against each other.

Miss McIninch and Birdsong decided that Swift Don deserved another chance.

They approached Mickey Giardelli, a well-known Detroit horse trainer who has a reputation for success with horses attempting racing comebacks.

Giardelli took Swift Don and, true to his fame, made a champion from a horse that everybody thought was destined for the glue factory.

Though Swift Don beat only one horse out of the field the first time back at the track, everything after that was a success.

Swift Don won three of his first five races, beating one field by 17 lengths.

To date, the horse has earned over $16,000 in prize money.

Swift Don's story, has spread, inviting inquiries from across the country.

Last year Birdsong was invited to be a guest on "To Tell the Truth" and relate the story of Swift Don.

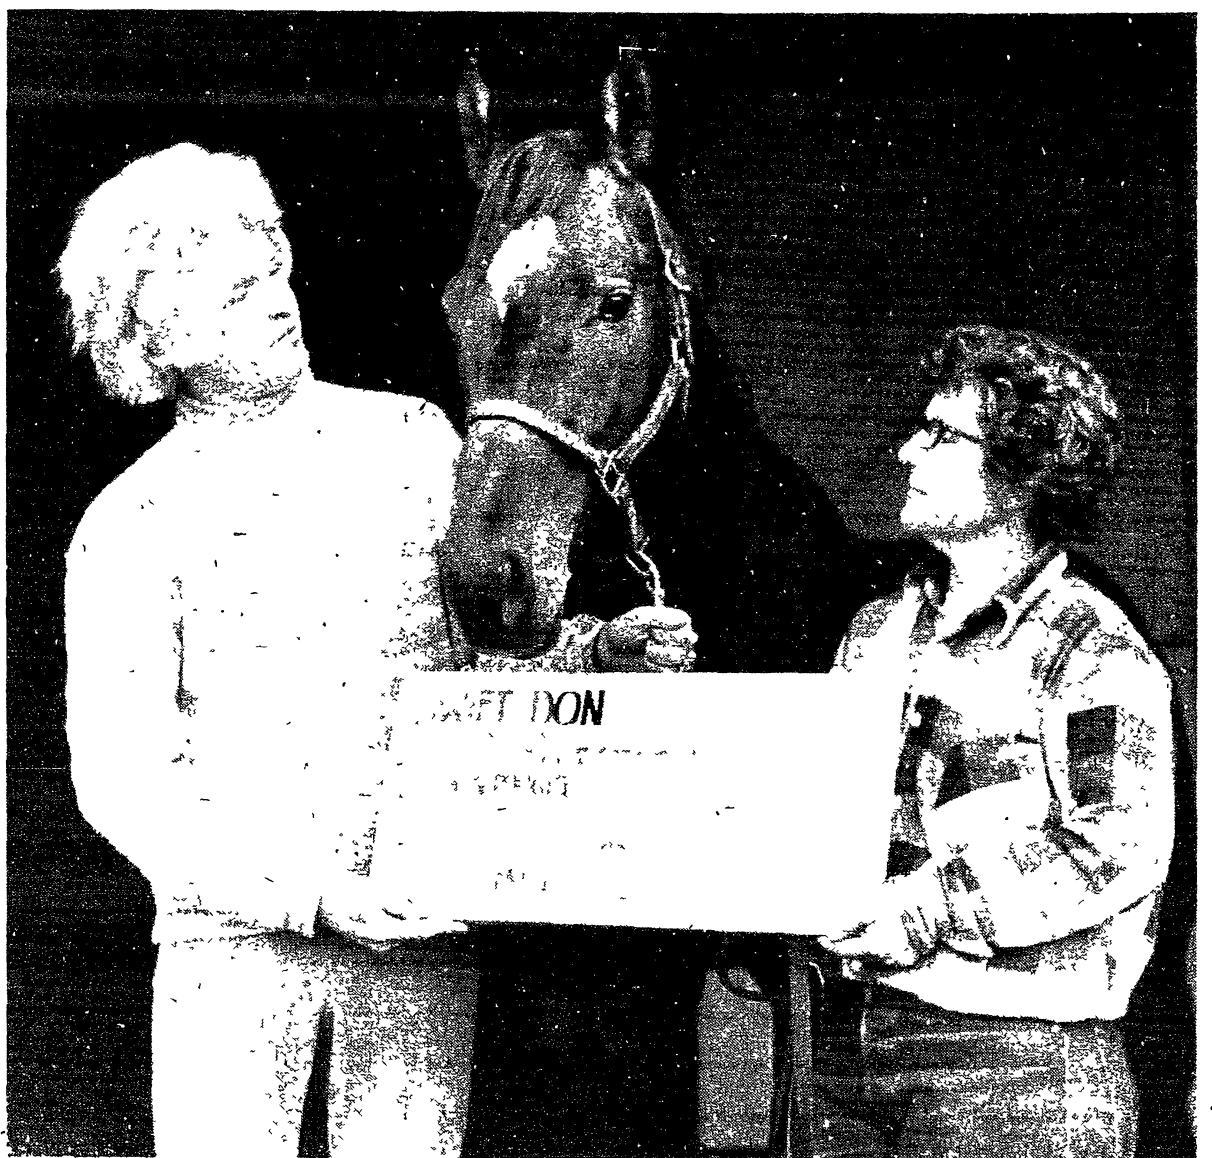

Recently Walt Disney Productions have indicated they may be interested in making a movie about Swift Don's astounding recovery and racing success.

On January 19, Swift Don played host to a royal visitor. Her Royal Highness, Jeanne Hohenzollern, an exiled Romanian princess on a visit to Detroit, journeyed to Knotty Pine Farm after hearing of Swift Don's story.

Currently Swift Don is at stud at Knotty Pine Together Miss McIninch and Birdsong hope to collect over $300 for every foal sired by the stallion.

Swift Don has proven that he has what it takes to be a truly great horse.

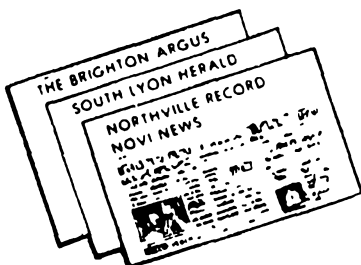

TRIO—This is the winning trio—John Birdsong, Swift Don and Jean McIninch. John and Jean hold the pedigree of the horse they saved from destruction and John nursed back to health and to winning form on the thoroughbred tracks. Miss McIninch keeps Swift Don now in stud at her Knotty Pine Farm south of South Lyon.

DONOVAN DOWNHAM

DONALD McMILLAN

TWO NORTHVILLE residents have been promoted at the Diesel Operations of Detroit Diesel Allison division of General Motors.

Donovan F. Downham, 38611 North Farm Dr., has been named sales manager.

Donald C. McMillan, 437 Morgan Circle, succeeds Downham as field operations manager.

Downham is a graduate of Michigan State University where he earned a degree in mechanical engineering. He joined Detroit Diesel Allison in 1954 as an experimental engineer and transferred to service training positions that took him to Turkey and the Middle East.

Assigned to the New York regional office in 1958, Downham held positions there as sales engineer, fleet sales representative and zone sales manager. He became manager of the Detroit regional office in 1966 and returned to divisional headquarters in 1969 as manager of eastern regions. Downham was promoted to manager of distributor development in 1971 and to manager of field operations later the same year.

McMillan joined the division in 1943 as a co-operative student attending General Motors Institute. Graduated with a degree in business administration, he was assigned to the parts department, then held a variety of merchandising assignments. He was appointed to the Chicago regional office as sales representative and became zone sales manager there in 1959.

Since 1963, McMillan has managed three different regional offices in Atlanta, Dallas and Detroit. He has been manager of distributor development at divisional headquarters since July, 1973.

RESIGNATION of the general manager of Sampson-Hill Division of Adistra Corporation and appointment of his successor was announced this past week.

Appointed to fill the post of J. Roland "B" Hill, who resigned effective February 1, was Tom Kiley, who had served as general production manager for Sampson-Hill.

Making the announcement was William P. Scott of Novi, president of Adistra, who indicated that since Adistra acquired Sampson-Hill two years ago "Hill's leadership has been invaluable, particularly during the relocation of the facilities to its present location at 16580 Northville Road in Northville Township."

Adistra's headquarters is located in Plymouth. Hill had been associated with the graphic arts industry in this area for most of his life, with tenures at Hill-Godbersen as well as with Sampson-Hill.

Kiley has had 28 years of production and management experience in all phases of the graphics, most of which was in association with Bud Hill and with many of the present department managers of Sampson-Hill.

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS and Loan Association of Livingston County announces the promotions of two women at their Brighton branch. The promotions were announced by branch manager Carolyn Aaron.

Marilyn Bell, of Brighton, has been appointed savings supervisor. Mrs. Bell, formerly employed by Citizens Mutual of Howell, is married and has two children.

Mary Young, also of Brighton, has been appointed head teller. Mrs. Young was a legal secretary in Ypsilanti prior to taking a job with First Federal. She also is married and has two children.

RECREATIONAL vehicles fall into four main categories as visitors will discover at the seventh annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show.

The show will be held Saturday, February 9, through Sunday, February 17, in the Detroit Artillery Armory on West Eight Mile Road. More than 800 vehicles will be displayed filling the entire 280,000 square feet of the huge armory.

Recreational vehicles...RVs the industry calls them...are classed as travel trailers, truck or pick-up campers, camping trailers or tent campers and motor homes.

The recreational vehicle offers the family an opportunity for better and less expensive vacations and weekend trips. "Save Energy - Camp in Michigan" is the current message of the industry pointing out that one may camp in Michigan and use less energy than when staying at home.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES Corp. (NYSE) announced its board of directors has authorized purchase of up to 100,000 shares of the company's common stock in the open market.

William M. Davidson, president, said while the shares may be used for future acquisitions none is under immediate consideration.

Watergate's Not All Bad

LANSING—All the hullabaloo over Watergate hasn't been all bad.

Lieutenant Governor James Brickley says he's convinced that "Watergate has had some beneficial side effects."

Speaking before a recent gathering of Michigan Press Association members, the lieutenant governor said:

"I do not believe that we would be witnessing the adoption of very significant campaign reform legislation in our own state and in many states had Watergate not occurred. I have noticed that public officials have displayed more discretion about their own behavior..."

BRICKLEY who has yet to reveal his own political—or non-political—plans for the future, says he hopes "this surge of adrenalin to upgrade political ethics" is not the usual temporary reaction to public pressure.

The lieutenant governor, sounding much like his boss, Gov. Milliken, added that "it is of utmost importance that government regain its credibility."

"TURN IN PUSHERS," the

Michigan State Police newest program for finding drug dealers, appears to be headed for success if sheer number of phone calls is any indication.

Under the plan, rewards of up to $30,000 will be paid to informants who come up with substantial information about major drug traffickers and illegal drug operations. Informants are not required to reveal their identities, but they must provide enough information to at least prosecute the person or persons named in order to collect the reward.

DURING the first week the TIP plan was in operation, State Police reported more than 475 phone calls to the toll free number (it's 1-800-292-2277).

The number of prosecutions from those calls remains to be seen, of course, but the police say they feel the program is at this point, "progressing well."

GOVERNOR MILLIKEN, consistently speaking for voluntary action in many areas, such as cutting fuel consumption and driving speed, has now established a Commission for Volunteers in Michigan.

"Michigan can become a leader among the states in promoting voluntary action and people involvement," the governor says.

"We can make our commitment match our concern, by counseling the people in, rather than screening them out, of the government."

MILLIKEN SAYS volunteerism can provide a source of manpower, as well as a vehicle for people to participate in government and related activities.

The commission, established by a recent executive order, is charged with identifying problems that can be met through volunteer action as well as assessing the needs of the volunteer movement itself.

The group, yet to be appointed, will aim to stimulate volunteer activity, provide resources and guidance for volunteer programs and offer a channel through which volunteers and volunteer groups can exchange data.

WELL OVER a year ago, the U.S. Supreme Court declared that abortions were to be permitted during the first six months of pregnancy.

The decision far from settled the issue.

Proposed constitutional amendments seeking to reverse that court decision have been introduced in Congress. And debate on the pros and cons of termination of pregnancy continue.

Michigan is no exception. JUST LAST MONTH, the Michigan Women's Commission unanimously supported a resolution "reaffirming the right of a woman to choose whether or not she wishes to legally terminate pregnancy in its early stages."

The Commission urged Michigan's congressional delegation to oppose ("refrain from supporting") any proposed amendment aimed at turning the court decision around.

AT THE (SAME TIME), Lieutenant Governor James Brickley told some 700 persons at a Detroit "pro-life" rally that "the right to life is not only a matter of personal morals, but also deserves protection and recognition by government."

Brickley, a consistent foe of legalized abortion, asked: "Is there anything more basic that we can ask from the government than to protect everybody's life at all times?"

Babson Report

Fuel Shortage Ills Suggest Caution

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. Confusion still reigns regarding the effects of the energy crisis on business. One thing is clear, however: The impact has not been as crucial as was earlier envisioned.

The frightening projections of supply shortfalls made by politicians, economists, and even some petroleum spokesmen now appear to have been an over-reaction. Up to a few weeks ago, Mother Nature was fairly kind with respect to heating fuel requirements.

Hence, with the lowering of thermostats, reduced driving speeds, and curtailed auto usage, supplies have been adequate.

THE STAFF of Babson's Reports warned of some adverse aspects likely to emerge from the fuel-energy situation in its Business and Stock Market Forecast for 1974, as readers of this column may recall. But our article at that time pointed out that the scope of the problem was far from clear, although it did predict a number of occurrences most of which have now become evident in varying degrees.

For instance, consumer prices and business costs have risen as a direct result of the tightness in petroleum supplies. Also, consumers have changed their spending habits, much to the distress of merchandisers of autos and certain home appliances.

Hitherto carefree leisure and recreation jaunts in the family car have been drastically curtailed, and so has demand for sporting and outdoor equipment. As a result of this alteration at the retail level, there have been cutbacks in production of cars with high gasoline consumption, recreation vehicles (including snowmobiles), and certain product lines that are heavily dependent upon synthetics and other petrochemical products as a source of raw materials.

WHILE THE FUEL-ENERGY shortfall is often being used as a convenient explanation of the entire spectrum of the economy's current problems, a careful study of the facts shows that this is not the case.

Take the airlines, for example. There have been many reductions in flights and points of service, and this has caused layoffs in operative and support personnel. The industry, however, has been in a profits squeeze for the past several years, and a trend toward more realistic operating procedure had already been established more than a year before the energy crisis struck. Uneconomical flights, service routes, and frills which produced low "load factors" and unprofitable business were the result of over-zealous competition during the 1950s and the 1960s.

Surely, too, the appalling slump in residential building of recent months ought not to be laid at the doorstep of the energy crunch. The prime causes, rather, have been such factors as high mortgage rates, tight supplies of mortgage credit, delays and postponements in realty developments as a result of environmental and conservation regulations, and shortages and soaring costs of building materials.

There is no question, of course, that the whopping increases in gasoline prices and the fear of possible shortages have made prospective home buyers think twice before succumbing to the appeal of suburban and country living. And in many instances the commuting factor has deterred relocation.

THUS FAR, it is true that the ill effects of the fuel-energy shortage have been less critical than earlier near-panic assessments led many to expect. Cuts in factory and retail operations directly attributable to this problem—and the consequent layoffs—have been relatively mild, taking the economy as a whole.

But it is too early for optimism over the situation. The 1973-74 heating season still has a long way to go, and the effects of inflation and the changes in our lifestyle have not yet reached their zenith.

It will be important, however, over the period ahead to distinguish between the unhealthy repercussions from the fuel-energy insufficiency and the natural cyclical reaction in general business which seemed likely to hit anyway in 1974.

Kensington Park Slates Nature Hike

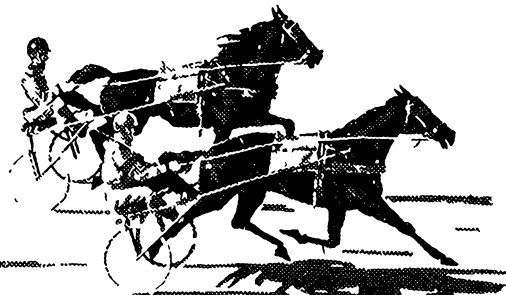

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority will offer a guided nature hike along the winter trails at Kensington Metropark near Milford on Sunday, February 17 starting at 9 a.m.

Persons should meet at the nature center and dress warmly. Purpose of these hikes is to acquaint area citizens with the several features of winter wildlife along the nature trails, officials said.

Wildlife include deer, raccoon, a variety of birds, ducks and fox, plus Canada Geese at Kensington Metropark.

Additional details are available by contacting the Nature Center at 685-2417 (Milford).

Brand new home on 1 1/2 acres in the Hartland School District. The large kitchen and full walkout basement give elbow room, while the huge living room fireplace gives warmth to the privacy found in this setting. $36,900

The possibilities for this property are endless, as the 10 year old home has 1800 sq. ft., full basement, and numerous extras. A new barn has 5 box stalls with room for more. The home comes with 2 acres for $47,900, but more acreage is available. The property is near Hartland's new high school, and will be sold quickly.

Brighton, four bedroom colonial home is on an estate-sized lot overlooking a bubbling brook and bordered by towering trees. Be the first to see our latest listing and be amazed by the luxurious features.

WARNING!
Due to the serious gasoline shortage, we are selling many more Suzuki motorcycles this time of year than ever before. The manufacturers did not foresee this and no way will we be able to get enough bikes in 1974 to satisfy the demand. If you intend to buy a motorcycle we strongly urge you to bring in a small deposit to begin a layaway plan. This will assure you of getting the bike of your choice this spring. Horse's Mouth

Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth," care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies.

Dear Sally Saddle:

I have a thoroughbred horse. He has very dry hooves that are cracking and splitting. He has a crack about two inches long right in the middle of his hoof, going sideways.

Do you have any suggestions to help him? His hoof has been like that since last fall.

It doesn't bother him. He gets around all right, but I am scared to ride him because it might get worse.

Sincerely,
P. Horgan, Pinckney

Dear Reader:

Horses sometimes develop cracks in the wall of the hoof. There are numerous dressings for hooves on the market and use of one of them will probably prevent or cure these cracks.

If they appear very large and deep, a veterinarian should be consulted. Many cracks of the hoof can be attributed to poor shoeing, putting unequal strain on the walls of the hoof.

Surface cracks may be treated with anything that you would use on your own skin or a commercial hoof dressing, if you prefer. This should be put on several times a week to hold in the natural moisture produced by the horse's blood.

All too often this moisture is lost by a horse walking through wet grass, wet stalls, filling the hoof and many other causes. By putting a protective coating on the hoof you stop the drying out process which robs the hoof of moisture.

Remember to put this coating on the sole as well as the wall and heel.

CARE AND FEEDING OF FARRIERS

A professional farrier's job is not an easy one, but it can be made more pleasant with a little help from us, his customers.

Here are a few hints on how to help your farrier:

Call a few days ahead of time. Don't call the day before an important show and expect him to come right over.

Give good directions to your home. This will save the shoer both time and gas.

Have your horses ready so that he doesn't have to spend time waiting while you catch them.

Make sure there is a proper place for the farrier to tie the horses or arrange to have someone hold them.

Tell your horseshoer about any special problems a particular horse may have and accept his judgement in solving these problems. If you want another opinion, ask your veterinarian.

Don't be afraid to call if one of your horse's shoes comes off shortly after shoeing. Most farriers will replace a shoe within a reasonable length of time.

Your horse's shoes should be re-set every six to eight weeks. Don't neglect them for six months, then expect a farrier to work wonders with one shoeing.

If you have a young horse, try to have it halter broke and accustomed to having its feet picked up. Remember that the farrier is there to shoe only, not to train your horse. A farrier will take extra time with a young horse as it is in his interest to teach a colt to be easy to shoe, but he doesn't want to fight with a bronc.

Dems to Elect 1974 Officers

Election of officers for 1974 is the top item on the agenda of the next meeting of the Southwestern Oakland County Democratic Club.

The meeting is slated for Thursday, February 14, at 8 p.m. in the Walled Lake Municipal Building on West Maple Road in Walled Lake.

Those interested in further information about the club's activities should contact Acting President William Brinker at 474-3477.

Madonna College Director Says

'Financial Aid Not So Difficult'

Financial aid for students entering college may not be as difficult to obtain as they think, according to Carmen J. Pascaretti, financial aids director of Madonna College, Livonia. Pascaretti is a resident of Novi.

Aid is dispensed by private colleges in the form of state, federal, and private grants and loans which help to "equalize" costs and put colleges such as Madonna into a competitive range with state-supported schools and community colleges.

At Madonna, Pascaretti said, about 65 percent of the college's 627 full-time students receive some kind of financial assistance. Of these, some 40 percent receive tuition grants and loans from the State of Michigan which average about $100 per year.

"All students should apply for aid and submit the Parents' Confidential Statement," Pascaretti said. The results of this assessment and other factors, such as the number of children attending college at one time, family debts, and the student's own earnings, help determine what aid will be available.

Students enrolled in certain kinds of programs are eligible for aid, Pascaretti noted, naming especially federal assistance for training law enforcement officers, and loans available for student nurses and teachers.

Those who have the greatest difficulty obtaining aid are adults returning to college for one or two courses, he said.

Madonna students will receive this year more than one-half million dollars from basic opportunity grants, supplementary education grants, nursing student grants, Michigan tuition grants, State of Michigan scholarships, Michigan guaranteed loans, Law Enforcement Education Program, and college work-study arrangements.

No student should be discouraged from seeking financial aid, Pascaretti said. "The pleasant part of my job is to help students lighten the financial load of education," he said.

Charles Eilber Named University Director

Charles Eilber has been named assistant director of admissions and financial aids at Northern Michigan University.

Eilber comes to the NMU staff from the Interlochen Arts Academy, where he had served as dean for Academic Affairs and head of the Division of Sciences, Mathematics and Physical Education since 1970.

A graduate of Michigan State University, he earned his master's in education degree from Harvard University in 1961. He also carried out independent research and study at Oxford University (England) during the summer of 1965.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Merner Eilber of Northville, Eilber served as a Fulbright Exchange Teacher to Great Britain in 1955-56.

He and his wife, Carol, have three daughters.

Headed South For Tigertown

Northville's Fred Holdsworth was besieged by young autograph hunters last Wednesday when he appeared with other members of the Detroit Tiger baseball team to play a game of basketball against the high school faculty.

A football-basketball-baseball star at Northville prior to his graduation in 1970, the son of high school principal Fred Holdsworth, Senior, is now a highly-regarded young pitcher in the Detroit Tiger farm system.

Except for a couple of brief stints in Detroit, Holdsworth spent most of last summer pitching for the Tiger's AAA Toledo team in the International League. Having led Toledo in wins and the International League in innings pitched (214), the Northville High School product is given a good chance of sticking with the Tigers this year.

No, he hasn't met Ralph Houk yet; but his former pitching coach at Toledo (Cot Deal) is now the Tigers' pitching coach and Fred feels that this is a plus in his favor.

Two Late Buckets Prove Decisive

Mott Downs Mustangs in Final Seconds

Given another eight or nine points, Northville's basketball team could well be in the midst of the race for the 1974 Western Six Conference championship.

It was just about a month ago that the Mustangs dropped a narrow 47-44 decision to Livonia Churchill.

And last Friday night the Mustangs suffered a 66-62 loss to Waterford Mott as the Corsairs broke loose for two field goals in the final 15 seconds of play to break a 62-62 deadlock and secure the victory.

Those two losses left Coach Walt Koepke's Northville cagers lodged in third place with a 4-3 record behind defending champion Churchill with its 7-0 mark and second-place Mott with its 6-1 record.

But with nine more strategically-placed points, the Mustangs could well be 6-1 and tied for first place with the Chargers, while Mott would be second with a 5-2 record.

If Koepke was upset about the most recent of his team's two near-misses, you never would have guessed it.

In fact, except for a comment about missing three unmolested lay-ups during the course of the game, the Mustang mentor seemed surprisingly unruffled by the narrow 66-62 loss to Mott.

"I thought we played pretty decent basketball," he commented. "It's hard to be disappointed when we play as well as we did out there tonight."

Just about everybody who saw the game would agree.

Both Koepke and Waterford Mott Coach Ray Robinson are cage purists who believe in full-tilt, all-out basketball with the emphasis on speed. And as far as defense is concerned, both Koepke and Robinson are convinced that the only legitimate defense is an aggressive man-to-man and that it is practically a personal disgrace to have to resort to a zone.

The result of the head-to-head clash of the two similar styles last Friday was one heckuva basketball game.

The Mustangs took a 20-15 lead at the end of the first quarter and with just 1:40 left in the half opened up a seven-point, 34-27, lead that proved to be the greatest margin of difference between the two teams all night.

Mott came back strong in the remaining seconds of the half, however, to take a 35-34 lead into the locker room as the buzzer sounded.

Northville moved briefly out in front 36-35 by opening the scoring in the third quarter, but that proved to be their last lead of the night.

Paced by Mike Grace, a cinch for All-Conference honors at one of the guard slots, the Corsairs led by as much as five points through the rest of the third and most of the fourth quarters. With a little more than a minute left in the game, however, Northville pulled to within two points, and with 48 seconds left, Ed Kritch tossed in a pair of free throws to knot the score at 62-62.

Mott scored what proved to be the winning bucket with 15 seconds left on the clock as Grace broke loose for a lay-up that made the score 64-62. Northville's hopes to tie it up came to an end when Kritch was called for travelling moments later and the Corsairs scored one final bucket with two seconds left to make the final score 66-62.

"I told you Northville was a good ball club," insisted Robinson after the game. "We (Mott) played a very good basketball team tonight and we're happy to come out of this one with a victory."

Koepke was equally pleased with his team's performance. "I think defense was the big difference in the game," commented the Northville coach. "I thought we played pretty good defense, but I would have to say that the better defensive team won the game, we probably won't face a better defensive team than Mott all year."

"We had 23 turnovers in the game, but against a team that is as quick and aggressive on defense as Mott is I just don't think that we handled the ball too badly," Koepke continued.

The Northville coach singled out the defensive efforts of guard Jim Yanoschuk for praise. "We put Yano on Grace who is certainly one of the better ball players in the league and I thought Jim did a nice job against him."

Another key factor in the game was the play of Corsair center Mark Gisse who tallied 20 points in the first half and finished the game with 24 points, tops for either team. In addition, the 6-7 junior center forced two Northville starters — center Tom Eis and Forward Doug Crisan — out of the game with five fouls picked up while trying to guard him.

Grace scored 16 points as he and Gisse accounted for 40 of the 66 Mott points.

The Mustangs were led in scoring Kritch who tallied 19 points — 15 of them in the second half. Forward Todd Eis added 14 points, while Crisan and Tom Eis added 12 and 8 points respectively.

Taking rebounding honors for Northville with 11 was Todd Eis. Crisan picked off nine caroms and Tom Eis hauled in seven more.

The Mustangs will get one more chance to upset one of the Western Six leaders when they journey to Livonia Churchill tomorrow (Friday) to take on Pat Montagano's Charger squad.

First-Place Saline Races Past Last-Place Wildcats

Novi's varsity basketball team is improving—but Saline proved Friday night that its Michigan-ranked quintet is improving at a far faster clip.

When the first-place Southeastern Conference team (10-0) defeated the last-place team (0-10), it was by an even wider margin than the Hornets' first victory over the Wildcats.

Instead of defeating Novi by 39 points (88-49 in December), Coach Jim Bradley's undefeated cagers rolled to a 57-point victory the second time—97-40.

A 57-point margin! That's more points than Novi has scored in any of its 12 games this season (Novi's best effort was a lone victory over non-league Fowlerville, 53-51.)

In only one quarter—the fourth—did the Hornets, who are close to winning their second SEC championship in three years, collect fewer than 20 points.

Saline gave fans a hint of things to come when it piled up 23 points in the first stanza while holding Novi to 11. The host five added 29 more points in the second frame to take a commanding 52-20 lead at the intermission.

The Hornets streamed back into their cavernous gym to pitch another 26 points in the third period. In the final quarter they fired only 19.

Coach Ron Flutur's luckless team mustered only nine points in the second and third quarters, 11 points in the first and fourth quarters.

All-State candidate Dan Scotton, Saline's 6'5" center who is averaging nearly 20 points per game, boosted his season total to 226 Friday. The jumping jack who also is a top rebounder, fired 12 field goals (five in the second quarter) and was 2 for 2 at the free throw line.

Not far behind was Tim Slepisky, the Hornets' second-best shooter, with 22 points. Two other players hit double figures — Scott Fosdick with 12 and Dave Weber with 10. Both Scotton and Slepisky have another year of prep ball left.

Altogether, 11 Saline players hit the scoring column in piling up the 97 points — the team's season high.

Gary Ford, who meshed six of eight attempts at the charity line, was the lone Novi player to hit double figures, an even 10 points. Next up was Bill Barr with nine and Pat McAllen with eight.

The Wildcats converted 10 of only 16 free throws, while Saline came up with 23 of 34. And in the field goal category, the Hornets really went wild, pitching in 37 baskets to Novi's 15.

Long Cold Streak Spells Doom As Jayvees Lose by 2 Points

To say that Northville's junior varsity basketball team went "cold" midway through the third period of their 64-61 loss to Waterford Mott last Friday is something of an understatement.

Coach Omar Harrison's Mustang Jayvees went absolutely frigid.

Leading 33-27 at the end of the first half, Northville opened up the third quarter by reeling off seven quick points to stretch their margin to 13 points, 40-27.

But then the freeze set in. The Mustangs didn't score again in the quarter as Mott tallied 17 points to wipe out Northville's 13-point lead and take a four-point lead of their own. Two more buckets at the start of the final quarter upped their lead to eight, 48-40.

"They got 21 straight points before we scored again," grumbled Harrison who saw his team's record fall to 10-5.

The amazing thing was that the Mustangs not only came back from their long cold spell, they almost won the game.

With just 30 seconds to play, Northville had the ball with the score knotted at 61-61.

"We called time out to talk over our strategy and decided to run our offense until there were just 10 seconds left," reported Harrison. "Then we were going to clear out one side for Chris (Armada) to drive if they double-teamed Chris we were going to have (Jay) Slagle roll down the middle and look for a pass so we could get off the last shot."

But things didn't work quite like they had been planned. Instead of running the clock down to 10 seconds before making a move to the basket, the Mustangs shot with 20 seconds left in the game.

Slagle's 10-footer missed. Mott grabbed the rebound, and after an intentional foul-sunk two free throws and then added one more to pull out the 64-61 victory.

"We outscored them in three out of four quarters," pointed out Harrison, "but that cold spell in that third quarter just killed us. I don't know what it was. They (Mott) weren't doing anything differently than they had been doing before, we just couldn't shoot."

"It's tough to win when you let the other team outscore you 21-0 during part of the game," he added.

Chris Armada paced Northville in scoring with a 17-point performance, while Slagle, the 6-2 Northville center, added 16 points and seven rebounds. Bill Shaughnessy (six points) led the Mustangs in rebounding by rounding up 10 caroms.

Wildcat Grapplers Eye Titles

At least two and maybe as many as four Wildcat grapplers have at least an outside chance to cop championships at the Southeastern Conference (SEC) mat tourney this weekend.

That at any rate is the opinion of Coach Russ Gardner as he prepares his youthful Novi wrestlers for the 1974 SEC Meet at Saline this Saturday.

"I can't guarantee that we'll win any championships," stated the former state champion from Garden City. "But we've got two wrestlers who have a real good shot at it and there are two more who I think could come home with a championship if they get a break or two."

Not even a 35-14 loss to Saline Monday could dim Gardner's optimism. "It was a close meet," the Novi mat mentor insisted. "The score certainly doesn't indicate the closeness of the match."

"Practically every match was close and we lost a couple of matches in the last ten seconds. If some of those matches would have ended a few seconds sooner, that score might be completely turned around," he continued.

Gardner's hopes for two and maybe even four SEC champions seem optimistic in light of the fact that only one Novi wrestler has ever claimed an SEC championship previously. That happened back in 1972 when Terry Auten took top honors in the heavyweight division. Novi's best bet for an SEC championship this year rests on the shoulders of Bob Sasena at 121 and Don Jackson at 155. Sasena and Jackson are the Novi co-captains.

"There's not much doubt in my mind that Sasena will be top-seeded at 121," commented Gardner. "He's undefeated in the SEC this year and I just don't see anyway that they can put him anywhere but at top-seed."

Gardner admits, however, that Sasena will be hard-pressed to win the crown. "A lot depends on what some of the other good wrestlers around the league decide to do," he observed. "If Stone from Dexter or Beemon from Chelsea cuts down to 121 for the tournament, Bob's going to have his work cut out for him."

"But even if they do cut down, I still think Bob can beat them," Gardner added quickly.

Gardner also feels that 155-pound senior Don Jackson has a good chance at winning a SEC title. "Don doesn't have the great won-lost record in the conference like Sasena does, but I still think he's the best 155-pounder around," observed the Novi coach.

"Besides," added Gardner, "Jackson told me that he was going to win."

The other two members of the team who Gardner feels have a chance at individual titles are Mike Mulligan at 170 and Gil Spiers at heavyweight.

"This is only Mulligan's second year of wrestling and he's made tremendous progress through the season. He's only lost to a couple of SEC kids this year and with the progress he's made I think he might be able to beat them now," stated Gardner.

The same goes for Spiers, Novi's sophomore heavyweight, who has only been defeated twice this year by SEC opponents.

Gardner is not predicting any other championships, although he has several others whom he feels are capable of finishing among the top four in their respective weight classes. Tops on the list is 141-pounder Doug Maier.

Monday's loss to Saline brought Novi's 1973-74 dual meet season to a close. The Wildcats finished with a 4-8 record overall and were 2-5 against SEC competition.

The Wildcats were able to garner just three wins and a tie against the Saline wrestlers Monday. "We beat them last year," Gardner recalled, "but we lost a lot of seniors and they've improved a great deal."

Novi got off to a quick 3-0 lead when Mark McKenny gained a 2-0 decision over Tom Drake in the 101-pound match. But after that the Wildcats were able to win just two more matches.

Sasena maintained his undefeated SEC record by defeating Glen Davis 7-3 at 121 and Doug Maier recorded Novi's only pin of the evening by flooring Carl Graham in the second period of the 141-pound match.

Novi's other two team points were registered by Jackson who grappled to a 4-4 draw at 155-pounds.

"Saline really did a good job," commented Gardner. "I was particularly impressed with the two kids they put in against Sasena and Jackson. They really came out and went at them."

"But I still think we could have won," he added. "We've got a lot of young kids and they make a lot of mistakes. We were losing by one or two points in most cases and I think it was because we were just making simple mistakes that we wouldn't make with a little more experience."

Northville PeeWees Win Opening Round In MAHA Tourney

At least one Northville Hockey Association (NHA) "A" team will be moving into the second round of the annual post-season Michigan Amateur Hockey Association (MAHA) play-offs.

Northville's Thomson Sand and Gravel-sponsored entry in the PeeWee division (11-12 year olds) won the right to move on by defeating Plymouth over the weekend.

The triumph of the Northville PeeWees in the MAHA Tourney highlighted the activities of the NHA teams last week. In other NHA action the Perkins Engines-sponsored Squirrels won a pair of league games, but were eliminated from the MAHA Tourney by Westland.

The Northville PeeWees won the right to move to the second round of the MAHA Tourney by outscoring Plymouth eight goals to six in a two-game weekend series.

According to MAHA opening round rules, the winner is determined on the basis of most goals in a two-game series.

Northville's PeeWees eliminated Plymouth by skating to a 3-1 victory Friday and then playing to a 5-5 tie on Sunday.

Roger Pattison, Doug Joels, and Bob Hawthorne each netted goals in the PeeWee's 3-1 triumph in the opening game to give Northville a two-goal cushion for the second game.

That cushion proved to be more than enough as the Northville PeeWees never trailed and finally settled for a 5-5 tie with the Plymouth squad in the second game. Joels picked up his second goal of the series in that game, while Tod Mack, John Pawlowski, Paul Shutt, and Mike Zdanowski netted Northville's other goals.

The PeeWees' victory in the opening round of the MAHA Tourney completed a perfect week. Earlier the Thomson Sand and Gravel-sponsored squad had skated to a 5-0 verdict over Taylor in a Western Suburban League game. Pawlowski paced the triumph with a pair of goals, while single counters were netted by Roger Pattison, Bob Hawthorne, and Jerry Sherwood.

Northville's Perkins Engines-sponsored entry in the Squirt division (9-10 year olds) was considerably less fortunate as it was eliminated from the MAHA Tourney on the basis of goals scored.

Pat Alexander and Dean Rose scored goals in the opening game to give the NHA Squirrels a 2-0 victory over Westland's Sportsland entry. But the Westland squad came back strong in the second game to gain a 7-3 triumph and eliminate Northville on the basis of total goals—7-5.

Prior to the MAHA action, the Northville Squirrels had added two more Western Suburban League victories to their total by registering 4-0 and 4-2 triumphs over Wayne.

Jeff Hastings, Pat Alexander, Jack McIntosh, and Brett Thompson were Northville's goal-scorers in the 4-0 triumph, while Tim Hoult scored twice and Alexander and Thompson added single goals in the 4-2 victory.

In NHA "house league" action, the local skaters were paced by the Hamlet Food Mart-sponsored entry in the PeeWee division. Pete Cameron scored with just three seconds left on the clock to give Hamlet a 1-0 victory over the Southfield Iroquois.

Ty Gray and Don Rose were credited with assists on the goal, while goalie Andy Pfoch picked up the shutout.

Having beaten Southfield, the Hamlet squad then played to a 3-3 tie with another NHA team—Audio Alert. Mark Regentik, Tom Allen, and Pete Cameron tallied for Hamlet, while Doug Smith, Rusty VanMarter, and David Brayton tallied the Audio Alert goals.

Audio Alert dropped two other decisions in last week's action, however, as their record dipped to 5-9-6 for the season. Jeff Wilson tallied twice and Gary Anthony scored another goal, but it wasn't enough as Audio Alert dropped a 4-3 decision to Westland.

Westland downed the Northville squad again the following day as only Brian Starr scored in a 5-1 loss.

Also experiencing scoring problems last week was the Novi Drug-sponsored entry in the Squirt division. Kevin Henderson's goal earned the NHA team a 1-1 tie with the Farmington Seals. But one goal per game was not enough to down the Plymouth Senators or the Plymouth Black Hawks. Gary Kucher had the only Northville goal in a 5-1 loss to the Senators, while Bob Darrow netted Northville's only score in a 2-1 loss to the Black Hawks.

SC Takes State Wrestling Crown

Four Schoolcraft College wrestlers claimed individual championships as the Ocelots won the 1974 Michigan Community College Athletic Association's (MCCAA) team championship at Muskegon last Saturday.

Coach Larry Meyer's Schoolcraft squad claimed its second team championship in the past three years by racking up 135 points to out-distance Grand Rapids Community College which was second with 112½ points.

Jackson Community College was third with 81½ points. "It was strictly Schoolcraft versus Grand Rapids all the way," reported Meyer who has coached wrestling at Schoolcraft since the sport was instituted four years ago.

"We (Schoolcraft) had four champions and they had four champions," Meyer continued. "All the rest of the schools had a grand total of two champions."

Posting individual championships for Schoolcraft were Johnnie Jones at 126-pounds, Howard Strick at 134-pounds, Mike Mirick at 155-pounds, and Fred Stanton in the heavyweight division.

For Strick it was his second MCCAA championship. Last year he won the state title in the 126-pound weight class. Stanton claimed the heavyweight championship by dethroning defending state titleholder Mike White from Jackson Community College. The two heavyweights were deadlocked 1-1 at the end of regulation, but Stanton came on strong to claim the championship by outpointing White 4-0 in overtime.

In addition to their four first place finishes, Schoolcraft had two second-place finishes, one third-place, and one fourth-place finish.

Bernard Wells at 142 and Ray Givens at 177 were the second-place finishers, while John Osentoski at 118 and Tom Brown at 190 finished third and fourth respectively.

"We only entered nine of the 10 weight classes because both our 150-pounders were injured," reported Meyer. "When six of our nine men made it into the finals, I have to admit that I was rather pleased."

The Schoolcraft grapplers will be trying for more honors this Saturday when they host 14 other Midwest junior college teams in the regional level of the national junior college tournament.

Regional winners will advance to the national finals at Worthington, Minnesota, at the end of February.

Northville Swimmers Snap Back With Win over North Farmington

Put away the aspirin and cancel the doctor's appointment.

Northville's defending Class B state championship swim team is alive and well and kicking. To say nothing of "winning."

There was some concern about the "health" of the squad following a 106-66 thrashing administered by Mike Rado and his cohorts on the powerful Farmington Harrison team two weeks ago. But — the Mustangs demonstrated conclusively that they had suffered no ill effects as a result of that thrashing as they went out and did a little thrashing of their own last week. To wit: a 53-29 defeat of the North Farmington squad.

"We didn't suffer any let down because of the Harrison meet at all," reporter Ben Lauber, coach of the Mustang tankers. "In fact, the boys were really up for North Farmington. Everybody was high-spirited and ready to go."

"I think one of our problems against Harrison was that we were just too tensed up," Lauber continued. "Not that we could have beaten them anyway; but our times just weren't as good as we're capable of and I think the reason for that is that our boys wanted to win so badly that they tightened up and were fighting the water."

The Mustangs' 53-29 triumph over North Farmington was either close—or, not so close—depending on who you talked to.

According to Ben Lauber, who likes to keep all potential future opponents on friendly terms, the meet was a lot closer than the 53-29 score would indicate.

"They (North Farmington) got some bad breaks," reported the Northville coach. "We were ahead by just two points, 16-14, up until the diving, but then their bad luck set in."

"Their best diver had an off night and we were able to take first and second in the diving."

And then their best butterfly got disqualified and we were able to take first and second in the 100 fly," Lauber continued.

"That means that we got 12 points while they were getting two and all of a sudden our 16-14 lead went to 28-16."

The Northville coach also pointed out that a lot of the races were extremely close. "We won the 100 backstroke by one-tenth of a second," stated Lauber.

But while Lauber was contending the meet's closeness, an entirely different interpretation of the proceedings was also possible.

Not only did the Mustangs win eight of the 11 events—including both relays, they also came—quite literally—within a split-second of winning all 11 events.

In fact, all three of North Farmington's first place finishes were by a combined total of 0:00.0 seconds.

In the 200 freestyle, for example, North Farmington's Ken Hatch and Mustang captain Kevin Kelly both touched the wall in 1:56.4 seconds. But Hatch was credited with the win by the referee who ruled that he (Hatch) had touched the wall first.

The same thing happened in the 50 yard freestyle where Farmington's Pete Warner got the referee's nod after he and Northville's Mike Chaffin both hit the wall in 24.7 seconds. And it happened again in the 100 yard freestyle where Hatch was again credited with a win over Kelly even though the timers caught Kelly in 53.1 to Hatch's 53.3 clocking.

Sharing top honors for Northville were Don Cook, Tom Cook, and Mark Haynie.

Don Cook was the Mustangs' only double-winner as he stroked his way to first place in both the 200 yard individual medley (2:15.6) and the 500 yard freestyle (5:20.5).

Tom Cook accounted for the only new record in the meet as he smashed his own pool record by totalling 263.90 points in winning the diving competition. "It seems like Tom sets some kind of new record every time he dives," commented Lauber.

And Haynie swam the opening leg on Northville's victorious 200-yard medley relay team (1:51.4) and then turned in his fastest time of the season in winning the 100 yard backstroke (1:02.4).

Other Northville victories were turned in by sophomore Pete Talbot in the 100 yard butterfly (1:01.8), junior Art Greenlee in the 100 yard breaststroke (1:08.3), the 200 yard medley relay team of Haynie, Biff Ballash, Jeff Guider, and Ed Erdos, and the 400 yard freestyle relay quartet of Kelly, Steve Luckett, Erdos, and Don Cook.

The victory upped Northville's record to 9-2 and kept alive Lauber's hopes for a 14-2 record this year.

"Our next two meets are against Livonia Stevenson and Livonia Churchill," noted Lauber. "If we get by them I feel we can make it to a 14-2 record. And that's what I would call a pretty fair season."

Mustangs Top Clarenceville, Canton

Grapplers Pin Two Foes

It took them more than two months to do so, but the members of Ed McCloud's Northville wrestling team finally broke into the win column for the first time this season when they went out and handed Clarenceville a 30-21 setback last Tuesday.

And having won once, the Mustang grapplers went out two days later and upped their victory total to two by registering a decisive 49-12 triumph over Plymouth Canton.

"That's cutting it a little close," admitted McCloud, now in his third year at the helm of Northville's mat program. "We've only got one more dual meet left this year."

Still, in spite of their 2-7 record, McCloud is convinced that his wrestlers have not had as bad a year as their record would indicate.

"We lost by one point to Brighton and we lost by two points to Milford. And I thought our meet with Churchill was close enough so that if one more match would have gone our way we would have won that one, too," stated McCloud. "With a few breaks and a few less injuries we could very well be 5-4 and over the .500 mark right now."

"It's not always fair to judge a team by its win-loss record either," McCloud continued. "We've got a lot of young wrestlers on the team this year and I'm really pleased with the improvement most of them have made."

The Mustangs' 30-21 victory over Clarenceville was made easier by the fact that the Trojans were forced to give away 12 points when they were unable to enter anyone in either the 135 or heavyweight divisions.

"I don't mind taking points like that at all," commented McCloud. "We've been forced to give away points that way so many times in the past that it's nice to be on the receiving end for a change."

Of the remaining 10 matches, the Mustangs won five, while the Trojans came out on top in four. The 170-pound match finished in a tie.

Each of the five Northville wins came via decisions. Sophomore Rick Bentley scored the Mustangs' only four-point superior decision when he outpointed his 108-pound opponent 14-3.

Other Northville decisions were registered by Brent Ashby in the 129-pound match, Wally Armstrong at 141-pounds, Jim Sackliah at 148, and Tim Johnson at 155. Rick Marcicki picked up Northville's other two points by wrestling to a 3-3 draw in the 169-pound weight class.

The Mustangs did considerably better in the fall-department in their 49-12 conquest of Plymouth Canton as they picked up pins in five different divisions.

It was the Bentley brothers who started the Mustangs on the way to their second consecutive triumph. Dave Bentley, a freshman, pinned his opponent in the third period of the 101-pound match, while older brother Rick Bentley, a sophomore, scored a first period pin in the 108-pound match.

The Mustangs also got pins from Jack Barger at 122, Dan

Schoolcraft College lost its state junior college swim title to Grand Rapids Community College, but Ocelot Coach Jim Millen was pleased with his squad's second-place finish in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association's (MCCAA) Swimming and Diving Championships this past weekend in Flint, nevertheless.

Grand Rapids compiled 151 points in wrestling the team title from Schoolcraft which was second this year with 90 points. Flint's C.S. Mott Community College finished third with 82 points.

Mustangs Tie at 4-4

Northville's Mustangs rallied for three final-period goals to salvage a 6-6 tie with the Westland Wildcats in Metro West Over-30 Hockey League action Sunday.

The tie dropped the Mustangs' record to 8-4-1. Doug Pattison and Butch Bennet scored early in the third period to cut Westland's lead to 6-5 before Pete Worden tied it up with just 1:25 left in the game.

Bennet and Ray Le Van paced the Mustangs in scoring as each netted a pair of goals. Le Van and Dick Wald both picked up assists on Worden's game-tying goal in the final period.

The Mustangs are sponsored by John Mach Ford and New York Life Insurance.

mented Schoolcraft Coach Jim Millen. "They've just got too much depth for anyone to compete with them. I was pleased that we were able to come in second because most people thought that Mott would take the runner-up position."

Grand Rapids Dave Clarke, was voted Michigan's Junior College Coach of the Year, while Mott's Phil Quinlan won the Swimmer of the Year title.

Grand Rapids won all three relays and five of 13 individual events in stroking its way to the state championship.

Schoolcraft claimed three championships in the individual events. Steve Leclair defended his state title in the 1,650 yard freestyle and finished second in both the 200 and 500 yard freestyle events.

Tom O'Hagan came in first in the 200 yard backstroke with a 2:08.5 clocking which is the second fastest junior college time for that event in the nation this year. O'Hagan also finished second in the 400 yard individual medley and third in the 200 yard individual medley.

Schoolcraft's third state championship was claimed by Tim Orians in the 200-yard breaststroke. Orians' 2:24.0 clocking is the third fastest junior college time in the nation this year.

The Ocelots got a second place finish from their 400 yard medley relay team of O'Hagan, Orians, Dave Cravens, and Jim Osborn.

Diver Gary Wales finished in third place off the three-meter board and in fourth place off the one-meter board. Cravens finished fourth in the 200 yard individual medley.

Mustang of the Week

MARK HAYNIE

Mustang of the Week honors go to Mark Haynie. A strong performer on the Northville swim team, Haynie sparked the Mustangs' victory over North Farmington by swimming the opening leg on the victorious medley relay team and then turning in the fastest time of his career to win the 100-yard backstroke. "Mark's a tremendous influence on the other boys on the team," commented Coach Ben Lauber.

Art Greenlee Takes 4th Place

Art Greenlee turned in the second fastest time of his career to take fourth place in the 100-yard breaststroke at the Michigan Invitational Swim Meet last Saturday.

Held at Wayne State University's Fred Matthaei Pool, the Michigan Invitational features competition between the top 24 performers in each event through the state.

Only two members of Ben Lauber's Northville swim team qualified for this year's meet. Senior diver Tom Cook finished ninth among the state's top 24 divers.

Greenlee turned in a 1:04.9 clocking Saturday to finish in fourth place. Riverside's Jeff Trych won the event. Greenlee's 1:04.9 time was second only to the 1:03.9 clocking he turned in last year in beating Trych for the Class B state championship.

Western Six Cage Race

Churchill's Still on Top

Powerful Livonia Churchill moved to within three wins of its third consecutive Western Six Conference basketball championship by registering a 73-52 victory over Walled Lake Western in last week's action.

The win upped the Chargers' record to 7-0 in conference play and enabled them to maintain their one game edge over Waterford Mott which is in second place with a 6-1 record.

Before the Chargers can claim sole possession of the 1974 title, however, they must once again get by Northville and Mott — two teams they beat by a total of four points during the first half of the season.

Rated eighth in the state in one poll, the Chargers moved to an easy 73-52 decision in last Friday's meeting with Steve De Mar's Walled Lake Western quintet.

Paced by the hot hand of 6-1 guard Rich VanWagoner, Churchill opened up a 37-21 lead at the half and then put the game even further out of reach by outscoring the Warriors 22-12 in the third quarter.

VanWagoner paced the victors by tossing in 18 points, while Don Braun, the Chargers' 6-7 center, contributed 12 points and 11 rebounds. All 15 players on the Churchill team saw action with 13 of them hitting the scoring column. John Spranger, Western's 6-5 forward, scored 16 points.

It was a great day for Casey Cavell's Plymouth Canton squad which posted its first win of the season by surprising Farmington Harrison 59-47. It was the first conference win posted by a Canton team in any sport since the Chiefs joined the Western Six last fall.

What's more, the victory pulled the Chiefs out of the conference basement and into a fifth-place tie with the Harrison team. Ron Lack connected for 24 points to pace Canton's first win of the year after 13 straight setbacks. Bob Mason's 10 points were high for the Hawks.

Ypsilanti Gymnasts Nip Northville Girls

Nine-tenths of a point was all that stood between Northville's gymnastics team and victory last week.

The Northville girls compiled 64.00 points to finish less than a point behind Ypsilanti High School which won the first meet of the 1974 season by earning 64.95 points.

Coach Lisa Baetz' Northville gymnasts suffered the narrow defeat in spite of the fact that they won three of the four events which comprise girls' gymnastics and also had three third-place finishes.

Laurie Handy and Laurie Plumley finished first and third in the vaulting; Sheila Fasang and Terry Rader finished first and third in the balance beam; and Katy McCloud finished first in the uneven parallel bars.

Northville's other third place finish was registered by Paula Dyke in the floor exercise.

"We should have won it," commented Mrs. Baetz. "I think we could have taken 1-2-3 in the uneven parallel bars except that they (Ypsilanti) had brand new bars that hadn't been properly chalked yet and were very slippery. Nancy Rider slipped during her routine and finished fourth and Terry Albus, our best gymnast on the bars, slipped off during one of her leaps and was knocked unconscious when she hit the floor."

The Northville team also competed without the services of Wendy Reagan in the balance beam and floor exercise. Miss Reagan suffered a broken thumb the day before the meet.

In the special events Northville got a second place finish from Terry Rader in tumbling and second and third place in the trampoline. Charlene Benoit and Kay Heath tied for second on the trampoline, while Kim Bingley finished third.

"Is your swing a conscious effort?"

The downswing begins the first major move in the lower left quadrant. The knees slide to left (lateral movement to target) setting in motion the powerful legs & back muscles that were coiled on the backswing. Both knees remain flexed through the impact position. This helps you stay down to the ball and enables the club-head to stay on target longer. While coming through the impact position keep two points in mind: less pass through in sitting position and back of left hand facing down to the ball.

The sequence of motion on the downswing is just opposite of the backswing: the legs lead the downswing, the hips shoulders arms and hands follow into the impact area. If done properly, any rotation of the hands at impact is caused by centrifugal force rather than conscious effort.

Council Approves Wixom Appointees

Several official duties were shifted in Wixom this week as the city council Tuesday approved appointments of Mayor Gilbert C. Willis. No recommendations were made for posts of building inspector and planning consultant.

The mayor has 60 days in which to make recommendations. The added duty of assessor was given to William Travis, who continues as assistant to the mayor. Carolyn Anderson, a city bookkeeper for a year, was named city treasurer. June Buck continues as city clerk. She previously also had been treasurer and assessor.

Named to continue in their present posts were George VonBehren, police chief, Robert Potter, fire chief, Robert Trombley, DPW superintendent, Larry Pate of the firm of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, city engineer.

Appointment of Travis as city assessor was questioned by Lloyd Croft, chairman of the city board of review, who was a member of the audience.

"The roll is beginning to get out of order again," he told council, questioning whether Travis will have time as "it looks like we're going to have a factor (equalization) this year."

Willis replied that Travis will contract to have an assistant to help in the assessing. James Schemanske was named Michigan Week chairman.

Other appointments were Mrs. LaDene Baird to board of appeals, Thomas Wagner and Russell Wahamaki to planning commission. Croft was reappointed to board of review.

The Spinal Column was designated as the city's official newspaper for legal notices.

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor.

The Romans at the time of Christ selected their lady or male partners for the February 15th Lupercalia feast by pulling a name from a box. They believed that if Juno, the festival goddess, and Pan, the honored god, made the right magic, they'd have a wonderful partner. Many Lupercalia partners did marry each other after the festival.

The early Christians moved the date back one day and celebrated a day of kindness, consideration and compliments. They changed the name to "Valentine's Day" after two Christians were martyred about 270 A.D. for their faith in Christ. Both were named Valentine and the day could have been named for either of them. This brought an added dimension to the celebration because the persecuted Christians' love was so great for one another and for God that they were willing to die.

This reminds us of the great love of God for us in sending His only begotten Son, the Lord Jesus Christ to die for us. The Bible is filled with statements and expressions concerning God's love for us.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son..." (John 3:16); "But God commended His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).

God loves you! Do you love Him? If your answer is "yes", how are you showing it to Him?

Parents Concerned

PTA MEMBERS have joined the school district's campaign to remedy safety hazards at the Taft-Eight Mile-Randolph intersection. The group is writing letters to both the Wayne and Oakland county road commissions asking that flashing speed limit signs be installed warning motorists of school children crossing. PTA members are hopeful the commissions will approve their request, having denied similar appeals from the school board, City of Northville and residents along Eight Mile Road during the past two years.

development of Village Oaks, they were granted the right to build under the terms of the RUD ordinance. The question before the planning board last week was K&B's RUD still in effect.

If the terms of the RUD still applied, K&B would be permitted to reduce a 90 foot lot to an 80 foot lot and an 80 foot lot to a 75 foot lot.

This unresolved legal question of whether the RUD is still in effect is one of the reasons which led to the planner's decision to recommend denial of the rezoning.

The planners also cited density considerations in denying the request for the R-1.

Planner Martha Hoyer stated that the biggest problem in the southeast corner of the city is the density. "In my opinion we would be contributing to the density problem if we allowed a developer to reduce his lot sizes," she stated.

Planner James Cherfoli, who made the motion to reject the request, also cited density considerations. "When K&B came before this board several years ago with their Village Oaks concept that land was slated to remain R-1-S," said Cherfoli.

"I liked their proposal at that time and I don't think we should allow them to change it. I'm a little disappointed that extras such as swimming pools, tennis courts, and other amenities begin to disappear when a developer actually begins construction.

"All I'm asking is that K&B live up to what they originally proposed," he added.

School Notes

Mark Vocational Ed Week Here

In observance of National Vocational Education Week, Northville High freshmen will take a walking tour of vocational educational facilities in the district.

According to Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent, the observance extends through Saturday.

"On display in the Northville High library will be projects students have done in vocational classes," she commented, "and parents are welcome to drop by the school and visit the vocational classes."

Beginning this week, students, teachers and counselors will start planning the "World of Work" week to be held in May. Previews of various vocational opportunities from experts in the field are being planned for that week, Miss Panattoni added.

Twenty parents, teachers and administrators from Bay City visited Northville's voluntary year-round school program at Amerman Elementary School Friday.

According to Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent, Bay City is putting a $150,000 millage before voters for funds to operate a voluntary experimental program in year-round school at the elementary level.

"All the comments we received from them on our year-round school program were positive," she said, "and parents were fascinated with our program."

An extracurricular trip to the Ontario Science Center in Toronto has been approved by the Novi Board of Education.

All sixth grade students have been invited to take part in the train-bus trip. Cost has been put at $13.46 for youngsters 12 and under and $24.71 for adults and youngsters over 12.

The trip is not mandatory. It begins at 6 a.m. on March 7 and ends at 10:30 p.m. the same day.

Purposes of the trip as outlined by the administration include:

- International understandings may be strengthened with border crossing experience and

- traveling in a foreign country.
- The students will gain first hand experience in riding a mode of transportation which is fading in today's society.

- To gain added interest in witnessing science at work in today's world in the various areas of communication, life, space, health, chemistry, etc.

- To participate by hearing, seeing and touching exhibits to become a more informed human being in the world in which the student lives.

- The exhibits include many science and several social studies areas included in the elementary school curriculum.

A construction bidding policy and a bereavement policy have been adopted by the Novi Board of Education.

The bidding policy provides for the opening of bids at an advertised non-school board meeting, with presentation of the bids and recommendations by the administration to follow at the next regular board of education meeting.

The bereavement policy outlines procedures for gaining excused absences in the event of the death of a fellow employee or student.

8,200 LABELS LATER — After collecting, counting and mailing in more than 8,200 Campbell's Soup labels, Main Street Elementary School received a new slide projector in return last week. Discovering how it operates are Amy Holland (left) and Laura Williams. In anticipation of next year's campaign, students are already saving soup labels.

Parents, Students Urge Board

Switch School Time

Later school starting times, caused by daylight saving time, are costing the Northville School District and some of its residents money.

In a letter to board members this week, Ralph A. Tafel of Highland Lakes said he and his wife have had to hire a babysitter to watch their children so his wife can attend college.

He appealed to board members to reverse school starting times to the original time.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said petitions signed by about 350 middle school students and teachers presented to him also urged "changing back to the original times since the switch is not working to the advantage of safety of the students," the petitions read.

Business Director Earl Busard said that dual bus runs to transport high school and middle school students are using "40 to 50 more gallons of gas per day. We're putting 175 more miles per day on the buses, too, because of more runs."

He added that the district buses 2,800 students per day and has about 1,500 students who walk to school.

"Rather than going out twice in bad weather, we go out three times," Mrs. Evelyn Suddendorf, bus driver for the district, added.

Spear said that he hopes the board will decide February 25 to change middle and elementary school hours back to the normal time, effective March 4. Original date to revert to earlier times was April 5.

He explained that January 14 when the switch was made, "the sun rose at 9 a.m. On March 4, the sun will rise at 8:04 a.m., nearly one hour earlier."

Parents with opinions on the matter are urged to contact a school board member or administrator.

Next meeting of the school board will be 8 p.m. February 25.

'Hello Dolly' Tryouts Set

Tryouts for Northville High's spring musical, "Hello Dolly," will be held three afternoons and evenings next week.

Conducting tryouts will be Kurt Kinde, drama instructor and Donald Renz, vocal music instructor.

All high school students are eligible to try out for parts in the musical and tryouts will be closed with no audience listening to the applicants, spokesmen for the production said.

Times are Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 3 to 6 p.m. each afternoon and from 7 to 10 p.m.

Parts include seven male and six femalespeaking and singing roles, a chorus of 10 to 15 people, four or five males for a glee club in the play and 15 to 20 waiters and waitresses. A band will also be needed for the show.

Students are also needed for backstage work, Kinde added, and all students are invited to participate in the musical.

John Henderson Chosen

John Henderson has been named school district representative on the Novi Community Building board of directors. He replaces Mrs. Sharon Pelchat, who resigned because of her recent election to the school board.

School Salaries Adjusted in Novi

Rate changes for school personnel were approved by the Novi Board of Education last week.

Certificated personnel whose salaries were adjusted were:

Catherine McElroy (1/2 time) from $5,300 to $5,550 because she has reached the BA plus 15 level, and Diane Pawlak, from $11,100 to $11,700 because she has reached the MA level.

Non-certificated personnel whose rates or positions were adjusted were:

D'Ann DesMarais, a student who has fulfilled requirements for graduation, from $1.60 hourly to $2.50 hourly for office work; Nellie Frasure, from $2.28 hourly to $2.53 and uniform allowance, because her status has changed from cook to head assistant; Ellen Johnson, $2.28, from substitute to cook, and Helen Stewart, $3.20, from substitute to regular bus driver.

Resignations approved included:

Ruth Goodrow, a bus driver, for personal reasons, and Charlene Wieschowski, middle school cook, for maternity reasons.

Bids Taken

Bids are to be taken February 20 in Lansing on three projects involving the north-south Interstate 275 Freeway now under construction between Newport in Monroe County and Novi in Oakland County.

PROGRAM'S EXCITING—Although it's less than a year old, the drivers education program at the Herrald Center for Young Adults, a division of Northville State Hospital, is labeled "significantly successful" by the instructor, Michael Dombrowski, who notes that nearly 20 young people have successfully completed the course. Presently, 10 more students are enrolled. Automobiles for the program are provided by John Mach Ford of Northville, with special assistance by Bruce Mach, said Dombrowski who is shown at right speaking with two students.

18 Witnesses to Testify

Psychiatrists' Exam Continues

Four and possibly five more court dates were set for next week by 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis to take testimony from 18 prosecution witnesses in pre-trial examination of two Northville psychiatrists.

The psychiatrists are Pasquale Buoniconto, chief of the Child Development Center, and Dr. Alexander Petrides, psychiatrist at both the Child Development Center and Northville State Hospital.

Both men were charged with conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses and with conspiracy to hide and destroy public records.

Dr. Petrides is also charged with taking money under false pretenses.

Both men will appear in district court in Plymouth when the examination continues next week. Judge Davis set 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, evening, 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Wednesday evening and possibly 1:30 p.m. Thursday to hear testimony.

Charges were brought against the men by State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley whose criminal division staff made the investigation.

He charges Dr. Petrides, who lives at 20021 Woodhill, with unlawfully collecting full-time pay from both institutions while not putting in full time on either job, and that Dr. Buoniconto, who lives on the center grounds, was aware of Dr. Petrides' dual role and attempting to conceal and destroy his time records at the child development center.

In action last Tuesday, Judge Davis heard seven motions from defense counsel.

Motions included two to adjourn the case on the grounds new defense attorneys were not prepared, separating the cases and hearing charges against each man individually and rendering the arrest warrant illegal on the grounds it contained conclusions not based on fact.

Another defense motion to adjourn the case on the received an incomplete warrant was denied along with motions to squash the complaint and remove the officer in charge of the case from the courtroom.

Judge Davis granted a defense motion to sequester all witnesses in the case.

Testifying last week were witnesses from the personnel office of Northville State Hospital who related what the duties were of psychiatrists holding the same rank as Dr. Petrides.

Robyn Piscopink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Piscopink, 19585 Mariner Court, is one of seven seniors inducted into the National Honor Society of Our Lady of Mercy High School in Farmington Hills.

She was made a full member and received her gold cord in the Mercy chapter January 31 when new members were honored at dinner following the ceremony. They will receive membership cards at a formal assembly in the school auditorium in the spring.

The chapter has a membership of 40 girls. A 3-point grade average or better and recommendation of seven teachers in scholarship, character, service and leadership qualities are required for consideration by a review board of 10 faculty members, who vote on candidates.

Several Northville students at Schoolcraft College have been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester.

Each was congratulated by personal letter from Dr. Robert Keene, vice president for instruction.

Honored were:

Thomas E. Gresham (4.0), 36729 Rhonswood; Kathryn L. Hildebrandt, 17071 Franklin Road, Cyndi S. Wright, 40241 Fairway Drive, Richard N. Lind, 9944 West Six Mile Road, Hugh J. Battley, 19649 Neptune Court, Jennice M. Owen, 50085 West Seven Mile Road, Wendy G. Saari, 41391 Leidel Court, and Enriquez Arpi, 18329 Jamestown Circle.

Dean's list scholars are persons who carry at least 12 credit hours during the semester and earn a 3.5 (B+) or better grade average. Thirty-eight on the list earned perfect 4.0 grade averages.

Andrew Gladd, 537 Randolph, has been named to the dean's honor roll for academic excellence during the past evening college term at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

The institute points out that students must have maintained a 3.5 or better honor point average out of a possible 4 points to qualify. Gladd earned a near-perfect 3.72 average in mechanical engineering.

Wixom Newsbeat

By NANCY DINGELDEY

It's the eleventh hour for ticket sales for tonight's (Thursday) lecture-demonstration by the "Happy Cooker" Elayne Stulberg who authored the cookbook of that name will be the guest speaker at the Wixom Library Board meeting at City Hall beginning at 8 p.m. Sure to provide an evening of delightful entertainment, Mrs. Stulberg will concoct creations from recipes taken directly from her cookbook. The delicacies will be served to the audience following her lecture.

What makes her type of cooking even more enjoyable is that it is geared toward the digesters, but has all the gourmet touches so often missing in anything vaguely considered "diet." Even for those who aren't fighting the battle of the bulge, the "Happy Cooker" recipes are sure to find a place in your kitchen.

A few tickets are still available at $2.50 each and may be ordered from Jane Wahamaki at 624-3754, Cathy Olson at 624-6866, or Nancy Dingeldey at 624-3950.

There was a party last Saturday night for two of the earliest "settlers" and probably one of the most involved couples in the Northridge Subdivision. Termed as an "early going-away" party, Marybeth and Phil Bissell were the honored couple. Because the exact date of their departure for their new home in Paris, France is still unknown, the surprise party was planned for a night when everyone was available. Phil has been doing a lot of Ocean hopping so the date was set to coincide with his schedule.

Because Saturday night was the regular bowling time for the couples who meet twice a month at Wonderland Lanes in Union Lake, the festivities began immediately after the last frame. Couples who don't bowl in the league joined the group in the facilities available there. Phil, who admits to being less than an avid bowler, and Marybeth were coerced into substituting for an "absent" couple as part of the ruse to get them there in the first place.

Somehow a multitude of food was smuggled in and set-up along with a variety of cold cuts as the happy group of well-wishers gathered to-present the Bissell's with a remembrance of their stay in Wixom. To grace the mantle or some chosen spot in their new home, an engraved pewter mug was chosen as a gift. The inscription... "Words of wisdom from your Northridge neighbors... Never Volunteer."

That brings a chuckle because if there ever were volunteers, these two have been a driving force in their sub. Marybeth has either had the idea or worked very hard to bring about a full schedule of activities in this bustling corner of our community.

To name a few...the cooperative nursery, the kids annual Christmas bazaar. That idea, by the way, was chosen as a project by the Novi Jayettes last Christmas. The handling of the W.I.P. program in Northridge fell to the Bissell's. They've balled and sold trees to the community during Michigan Week, started the Easter egg hunt for the kids, and initiated the annual Northridge flower sale. They've been involved in one way or another, always willing to help, always enthusiastic. Their departure is Wixom's loss.

Still in Northridge and planning yet another social event are Bonnie Haight, president of their association, and Rose Victory. The annual dance which will be opened to the public this year will be held on March 9. Gathering time for the "Barney Stone Ball" is 8 p.m. at the Pinn Camp Club House. A full dinner will be served and there will be dancing and drinks at a cost of $16 per couple. Tickets are now available from Bonnie, who can be contacted at 624-5135, and Rose Victory at 624-4773.

Two Wixom families are delighted to have their "in-service" sons home on furlough from the armed services for the next month. Both boys will be stationed in Europe for two years after their leaves are up, however. It's a full house for Neil and Betty Taylor. Home from Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Texas is their son Allen, who has just graduated from his studies as a medical specialist. He will be assigned to the Alconbury Clinic situated north of London, England.

Doggy days are here again. The annual rabies vaccination day is Saturday, February 23 at Wixom City Hall. In order to secure 1974 dog licenses as required by the county, all dogs must be vaccinated. Clinics for this purpose have been set-up throughout the county. A full list of dates and places is available at City Hall.

The fee for the vaccinations at the clinics is $2 and the license fee is $3. On March 1 the delinquent license fee is $6. Remember that all dogs must be on a sturdy leash and that there is usually a line so dress warmly for the day.

If your dog's last vaccination was for a period longer than one year, license tags are available at City Hall at any time but save yourself a few dollars and purchase it before the deadline.

Police Blotter

Novi Woman Found Dead in Snow

In Novi

Police have ruled out the possibility of foul play in the death of a 47-year old Novi woman whose frozen body was discovered outside her rural home last week.

The frozen, snow-covered body of Mrs. Arlean Cooper was discovered at approximately 2 p.m. Wednesday, February 6, just outside the side door of her residence at 43691 West 12½ Mile Road.

Death was attributed to a coronary attack probably brought on by sudden exposure to the cold weather, according to police reports.

Mrs. Cooper, clad in a nightgown, was apparently either letting her pet poodle in or out of the house when the attack occurred, police said.

The body was discovered by Richard Marchetti, 17, a Novi High School student and Mrs. Cooper's nearest neighbor a quarter-mile away on Novi Road.

Marchetti had gone to the residence at the request of Mrs. Cooper's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Hersh of Plymouth. Mrs. Hersh told police she had become anxious when she had been unable to contact her daughter by phone since 9:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Oakland County Medical Examiner was summoned to the scene after police had verified Marchetti's discovery.

The Medical Examiner told police that the body had been exposed to the elements for approximately 12 hours and was completely frozen. Mrs. Hersh told officers that she had talked to her daughter at approximately 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, but had been unable to reach her since that time.

Police said that Mrs. Cooper had a long history of heart disease and had undergone heart surgery five years ago. She was apparently again having difficulties, police reported, because she had seen her doctor about the problem two days prior to her death.

Nothing in the home had been disturbed and no visible signs of violence were found on the body.

Mrs. Cooper, who was divorced several years ago, lived alone with her poodle. Three sons—David, 23, Edward, 21, and Donald, 19—no longer lived at home.

A man convicted of the breaking and entering of a Novi business establishment has been sentenced to from three to 10 years in the Michigan State Penitentiary at Jackson.

William Calvin Brown of Detroit was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William Hampton last week.

Brown had previously been convicted of the breaking and entering of the Bain Brothers Landscaping building which occurred November 29, 1972.

Although originally convicted of the Novi breaking and entering early in 1973, Brown failed to appear for sentencing. He was arrested by Detroit police on September 6, 1973, after being wounded during an armed robbery attempt.

He was convicted and sentenced to from 12-15 years in the State Penitentiary, on the armed robbery charges in Detroit on December 31, 1973, and subsequently turned over to Oakland County authorities for sentencing on the Bain Brothers break-in.

A former Novi man, 20-year old David Warren Lutz, has been sentenced to from one to three years in the Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

The sentence was pronounced by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Robert Templin on January 17, 1974.

Lutz, who now resides in Plymouth, was put on three years probation in February of 1972 after he had been convicted of possession of property stolen from the Timberlane Lumber Company in July of 1971.

Lutz violated the terms of that probation when he was arrested and charged with another breaking and entering by Livonia Police on July 9, 1973. Lutz was found guilty of that charge and sentenced to one year in the Detroit House of Correction.

He was subsequently brought before Judge Templin for violating parole and sentenced to the term in the state prison.

In Northville

A 19-year-old Northville youth was treated for facial cuts early Sunday morning following a one-car accident on Griswold at Butler Street.

Gary L. Stec of 42130 Sutters Lane was taken to St. Mary hospital after he lost control of the car he was driving, slid into a snow bank and then hit a road sign and utility pole.

Police said Stec was southbound on Griswold when the accident took place at 4:05 a.m.

An empty Northville school bus was involved in a minor accident Monday morning on Center Street just north of Base Line Road.

Police said the southbound bus driver attempted to stop on slippery roads shortly before 8 a.m. but the rear of the bus slid into a northbound pick-up truck.

Investigating officers said 43 feet of tracks were found before the bus came to rest in a snow bank.

A Northville man sustained a cut forehead shortly before noon Friday following an accident at North Center and Randolph streets.

Roy S. Matheson of 322 North Rogers was taken to St. Mary hospital for treatment.

According to police reports, Matheson was eastbound on Randolph, stopped for the stop sign and pulled out in front of a northbound vehicle driven by Paul B. Parris of 19850 Smock. Parris was not injured. Matheson was ticketed for failing to yield to oncoming traffic.

Break-ins of three homes in the Hill, Novi, Grace street area are being investigated by city detectives this week. In each case, only money was taken from the homes while the occupants were away for only a short length of time, police said.

Last Wednesday, $30 was taken from the kitchen of a home on Hill Street between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Sunday, another home on Hill Street was entered and a total of $8 taken between 10:45 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. The money was contained in a piggy bank and jewelry box.

Monday between 2:20 and 4:55 p.m., a home on Grace Street was entered and $140 taken from a jewelry box.

Investigating officers said footprints were found at the scene of the third break-in.

Slippery streets were listed as contributing factors in four accidents reported to police last Tuesday and Wednesday.

A three-car chain reaction collision was reported about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on South Main at Seven Mile Road and exactly three hours later, two cars were involved in a rear end collision on South Main at Silver Spring.

Wednesday, two cars were damaged at Eight Mile and Novi Road when one slammed into the rear of another at 6:45 a.m. At 4:30 p.m. the same day, a similar crash took place on North Center at Eight Mile.

No one was injured in any of the accidents, police said.

A clarinet valued at $187 was stolen from the band room at Northville High late in January.

Theft of the Evette wood instrument was reported to police Friday.

FIRE CALLS

February 5—2:53 p.m., 914 Ely Court, car engine fire.

COURT NEWS

James Michael Trudell of Northville has been sentenced to from two years, eight months, to four years in Jackson State Prison after he pled guilty to a reduced charge of larceny from a building.

Trudell was arrested last year by city police following a break-in of an apartment on Novi Road. Sentencing came January 31 in Oakland County Circuit Court.

In Wayne County Circuit Court, two charges against Trudell for violation of the controlled substance act have been nolle prosequi, meaning no further action will be taken in the case.

City police arrested him on those charges in September, 1973.

Evelyn Bagdon of Northville was placed on one year probation and ordered to pay $165 costs on a charge of violation of the controlled substance act, police said.

Arrested by city police in September, 1973, she was sentenced in Wayne County Circuit Court last month.

In Wixom

A 28-year old Detroit man was arrested by Wixom police last week on two charges of larceny by conversion.

Police took Roosevelt Jackson, 28, of Detroit into custody Friday, February 8, as he got off work from the Wixom Assembly Plant at roughly 2:30 p.m. Jackson was subsequently arraigned before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle and released on $1,000 personal bond on each count.

Preliminary examination has been scheduled for March 25. According to Sergeant Lawrence Beamish, larceny by conversion is a felony punishable by 10 years imprisonment and/or a $5,000 fine.

Jackson is charged with stealing two checks from a teller's cage at the Community National Bank on Wixom Road.

According to information gained by investigating officers, Jackson went to the bank Thursday, February 7, and asked a teller to change some rolled coins into bills. The teller reportedly left her window to get a box for the coins. When she returned, Jackson produced two checks which he asked her to cash.

Jackson then left the bank, but returned approximately 10 minutes later and asked a different teller to cash another check. It was after this third check had been cashed and Jackson had left the bank that the second teller discovered that the checks she had just cashed had previously been cashed by someone else.

Bank personnel then checked the original teller's window and discovered that another check had been cashed twice and noted that several other checks were missing, according to police reports.

Value of the two checks that had been cashed twice was $820.

A man who allegedly issued a check with insufficient funds in October of 1970 was taken into custody by Wixom police last week.

Shawn Burton Turner, 37, of Plymouth was arrested by Detroit police on February 5 on an outstanding warrant secured by the Wixom police department in 1971.

The warrant was issued in conjunction with an incident which occurred October 26, 1970, in which Turner allegedly issued a check with insufficient funds.

Four stereo tapes valued at $26 were reportedly stolen from a car parked outside a residence at 1636 North Wixom Road last week.

David McDermott told police that he had parked his car in the driveway of the residence at approximately 10 p.m. on February 6. He discovered the theft roughly four hours later when he observed his car door standing open.

In Township

Investigation is continuing into the death of an inmate at Detroit House of Correction, Michigan State Police detectives said this week.

Julie L. Ashley, 26, of Detroit was found dead in bed last week Monday afternoon of an apparent drug overdose.

State police reports said the findings of the medical examiner listed cause of death as narcotic addiction and tests are continuing, they explained.

Last week's snow storm produced at least two accidents in Northville township and numerous stalled and abandoned vehicles.

A woman received minor injuries about 6:10 p.m. last Wednesday when she lost control of her car on Seven Mile at Meadowbrook and struck a tree. She did not require hospitalization.

At 7:55 a.m. Thursday, three cars collided in a chain reaction on Seven Mile at Haggerty. No injuries were reported.

During the past week, township officers had several vehicles towed. According to reports, drivers had left the cars in the road after they stalled or became stuck, creating traffic hazards.

City Promotes Three Policemen

Three Northville City Police officers received promotions Friday.

Promoted to the rank of sergeant were Bruce Deacon who formerly held the rank of corporal and David DeLauder who had been a patrolman.

Promoted to the rank of corporal was Allen Cox who previously held the rank of patrolman.

In announcing the promotions, City Manager Steven L. Walters said the "promotions are being made on the basis of the officers who received the highest promotional ratings."

Two cadets have been recently hired by Northville City Police.

They are Gary Callender, who formerly served on the city's auxiliary police force, and Jeff Moon.

Both cadets will perform dispatching duties for the department, Captain Louis Westfall explained.

Smoking Clinic Set Next Week in Novi

A Smoking Information Clinic will be held in the Novi High School Commons next week, Monday through Thursday, February 18-21.

Directing the clinic, which will run from 9-10 a.m. each day, will be Mrs. Gloria Moreillon, John Kraeling, and Harold Alger of the Michigan Cancer Society.

Purpose of the clinic is to remind all Novi residents of the potential dangers of smoking, stated Mrs. Helen Ditzhazy, high school principal. Anyone wishing to participate should make reservations by calling the school at 349-5159 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Thursday or Friday, February 14 or 15.

There is no fee for attending the clinic, but Dr. Ditzhazy noted that participants should plan to attend each of the four sessions.

DRAPERY HARDWARE

HEADED FOR THE CIRCUS—Approximately 500 Novi elementary school youngsters were treated to an afternoon at the Shrine Circus last Friday. The tickets were the contribution of Leo Harrawood, longtime Novi resident and a member of the Shriners. Above Harrawood poses with a contingent of youngsters at the Novi Elementary school shortly before they boarded the bus and left for Detroit.

For Novi High School

Portable Classrooms Considered

Possibility that three or four portable classrooms may be provided next fall at the high school is gaining momentum.

In the wake of a housing report that shows student enrollment will continue to rise but at a "somewhat lower rate" than originally projected, the Novi Board of Education has begun consideration of alternative solutions to the school space squeeze.

Completion of the proposed new comprehensive high school at the southeast corner of Taft and 10 Mile roads is still two years away.

Classroom needs are based on these newly updated enrollment projections. Novi Elementary, from the current enrollment of 316 to 340 in 1974-75 and 360 in 1975-76; Village Oaks Elementary, from 353 to 440 in 1974-75 and 480 in 1975-76; Orchard Hills Elementary, from 574 to 634 in 1974-75 and 660 in 1975-76.

Novi Middle School, from 600 to 660 in 1974-75 and 726 in 1975-76, and high school, from 721 to 800 in 1974-75 and 838 in 1975-76.

Total school enrollment next fall is projected at 2,874, with the total climbing to 3,064 by the 1975-76 school year.

Portable classrooms at the high school is Superintendent Gerald Kratz' preference, but he has offered several other alternative solutions. In order of their preference:

- Split sessions and extended school day at the high school.

- Change the current organization pattern from the present K-5, 6-8, and 9-12 arrangement to the traditional K-6, 7-9, and 10-12 pattern.

- Rent an elementary school from a neighboring school district (Clarenceville has one available).

- Implement the year-round 45-15 plan in Novi.

The latter proposal, admits the superintendent, is not very acceptable because it does not provide desired planning time. To be effective the year-round plan requires a good deal of planning. Dr. Kratz contends, pointing out that the Parma School District took a year to plan its year-round program and officials there believe now a still longer preparatory period would have been more desirable.

Although neighboring Northville's 45-15 plan appears to be working satisfactorily, it is not a mandatory program as is the program in Parma.

"It (year-round program) takes extensive community involvement, and long range program investigation and planning as opposed to a program suddenly implemented because of any financial crisis or crucial classroom shortage to generate enthusiasm," he says.

The idea of renting a school presents a serious transportation problem, Dr. Kratz points out.

Reorganization of the grade levels, the superintendent explains, "would relieve the middle school and the high school of overcrowding but would place an excessive burden on the elementary schools."

Transportation could be a problem and minor scheduling difficulties might be encountered with split sessions.

On the other hand, use of portable classrooms would cause a minimum of difficulties, according to the superintendent, who points out that the pads for the formerly used portable classrooms still exist (Those classrooms have been relocated and are now serving as administrative offices).

"Future use of the portable classrooms at the high school could be to move them any place where they are needed in the district," he notes. Board action on this matter is predicted next week.

Tuff-Kote Dinol guarantees to rustproof your new car. No matter how old it is.

And we're the only company that will. What allows us to offer such a unique guarantee is our unique two-step rustproofing system.

Instead of just covering up rust that's already formed, we spray deep inside your car's body with our exclusive penetrant that cuts through old rust right down to the bare metal.

Then we go back in a second time spraying on our tough aluminized sealant that prevents rust from ever forming again. And we guarantee it with the only insured guarantee in the automotive rustproofing business—a guarantee backed by the renowned London-based insurance company.

Tuff-Kote Dinol rustproofing is so good we can guarantee it on older cars. So just think what we can do if your car is brand new.
