POSTAL RATE increases go into effect Saturday, March 2, Northville Postmaster John Steimel reminded residents. New rates include 10 cents per ounce for first class letters, eight cents for post cards, 13 cents per ounce for airmail and 11 cents for airmail post cards. Steimel added that the post office has a complete supply of 10 cent stamps.

A PROPOSED LEASE agreement is expected this week from Wayne county on two Child Development Center buildings Northville township is seeking to use for township hall and fire station facilities. Supervisor Lawrence Wright said a one-year option will be provided for the fire station, both for lease of the building and purchase of equipment, to allow time for the township to decide upon its fire needs.

NORTHVILLE COUNCIL has turned thumbs down on a Plymouth suggestion that District Judge Dunbar Davis be given an 8.4 percent salary increase to reflect a similar increase given other court employees. Reasons given: the judge did not ask for the increase; the 8.4 percent is not consistent with federal guidelines; and the judge last year received an increase through state allocations. His present salary is $28,527, of which $20,000 is paid by the state and the remainder by member communities of the district court.

THE TOWNSHIP'S austerity program has failed to work, Township Supervisor Lawrence admitted this week. He said that protests levied by developers who have paid inspection fees and are forced to wait for inspections was the chief reason for dropping the one-day per week cutback in the building inspection department. "The people in the department didn't like it either," he admitted. All personnel are now back on a regular schedule except James Cowie, who resigned during the cutback. Wright said his duties as heating and refrigeration inspector would be covered by other department inspectors.

In the absence of any public opposition and with only a few board reservations, the new township zoning ordinance and map was unanimously adopted by the Northville Township Board Monday night.

Approval ends more than a year's study that began at the planning commission level.

Besides adopting the ordinance, the township board accepted by a vote of 6-1 the new master plan as adopted by the plan.

Casting the lone dissenting vote on the master plan was Trustee Richard Mitchell, who earlier had suggested to planners that they provide for a more centrally located municipal center. (It is located near Six Mile and Bradner in the new plan.)

Mitchell's "no" vote may also have been triggered by objections he raised over the new zoning ordinance. Although he cast an affirmative vote on the latter, he asked that his objections be made part of the permanent record:

- He wondered aloud if high rise development should be restricted because, among other reasons, it would require expensive new kinds of fire fighting equipment.

- He preferred that the side yard requirements in the new research and development (RD) zoning be stiffened to avoid "stacked" developments that are prevalent on 10 Mile Road in Warren.

- He strongly recommended that the ordinance should provide for industrial zoning, perhaps RD, along Five Mile Road, west of Sheldon since Plymouth Township is planning industrial development on the south side of the roadway.

To wait until residential dwellings occur in this Five Mile Road area, he warned, could result in the same kind of public opposition that occurred in the southeast corner of the township where RD was initially proposed and then later scrapped.

- He also suggested that since the board has provided recreation (Fish Hatchery Park) in one section of the township, it must, out of fairness to all citizens, provide similar township park lands elsewhere.

Concerning Mitchell's industrial suggestion along Five Mile, it was noted that nearly a mile square of land in the southwest corner is reserved for industry in the new plan. Furthermore, much of the remainder of the land along Five Mile is state or county owned, he was reminded.

Trustee Leonard Klein also pointed out that the township board, by its own initiative, could direct planners to consider industrial zoning along Five and it could call for a public hearing on the matter.

Clerk Sally Cayley also supported the ordinance, but she faulted planners for failing

Greater Craters

If the long lines at the gas stations don't get you, the craters in area roads are sure to do it. County workmen patched the beauty above along with others on Eight Mile Road, but not till motorists started screaming. If it's any consolation, road crews say the road craters are bigger than ever throughout the county.

Delays Decision on Crowding

Board Lacks YRS Surveys

With more than 4,000 surveys on year-round school and ways to remedy the classroom crisis not returned, school board members are wondering what action the community wishes them to take.

Board members agreed to delay a decision on how to alleviate the shortage of high school classrooms until late in March when they hope to have more information.

"Are 4,000 people telling us we should make the decision and they will stand by and let it go?" Board President Stanley Johnston questioned.

"Are those people we have not heard from willing to take a year-round school program at the high school and not argue?" he asked.

Trustee Dr. Orlo Robinson reminded Johnston that in the past "the opposition has been vocal. I feel they are more supportive of the concept than against it."

Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni said she favored taking a random sample by phone to make certain the survey forms received to date agree with what people think.

According to the 730 surveys returned, 414 people favor using YRS as a remedy to the classroom crisis. However, on another question, 391 said they disagreed with mandating YRS as a final test.

A total of 280 said they would enroll their children in YRS while 304 said no and 67 were undecided.

Alternatives to the classroom crisis outside of the 414 who favored YRS included lengthen school day, 97; other methods, 83; and split sessions, 73.

Because the board said it did not have an adequate response from the community and because the citizens advisory committee (ACEP) will be polling the community on YRS and the classroom crisis, a decision on what method should be used to alleviate the classroom shortage at the high school was postponed from March 11 to a later date.

"Right now, the ACEP committee feels passage of the three-mill renewal on March 16 is its first priority," Superintendent Raymond Spear said.

Trustee Mrs. Sylvia Gucken said she felt it would be premature to make a decision based on the 730 questionnaires returned "until we know how many of those people have children in school".

However, Johnston said he realized that "parents with students have more of a say usually, there are some taxpayers in this community who do not have children who feel YRS is the way to go."

High school librarian Mrs. Sandra Cook said she "wondered if the people without children are supporting the program because of economics. Educational merits should be weighed, too."

She added that the administration has "given the high school students a commitment that YRS would not be mandated and the students have calmed down."

Spear and board members who attended the high school meetings said there was no commitment. "The board, except for me, Meet Janeen and Steven Slider.

Natives of Plymouth, graduates of the same high school, young, married, they are deeply in love with each other and with the United States Army.

Both are soldiers.

They share the same career, the same Army post, the same house and even the same rank—private first class.

They were the first couple in Wayne County and the 11th in the whole country involved in the Army's new share-a-career program for young marrieds.

Home in Plymouth on a 45-day assignment to tell Detroit area folks about the wonders of the "New Army," they visited Northville last week with the new area army recruiter, Sergeant Lloyd Grissom, a former Northville resident.

The Sliders were married a few days after she was graduated from Plymouth High

School Starts

Early Monday

Effective Monday, March 4, Northville elementary and middle school starting times will return to the normal schedule.

Changed in January because of morning darkness, the schedule beginning Monday will be 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for elementary students and 8 a.m. to 2:40 p.m. for middle school students.

Originally slated to be in effect until Easter vacation, the times were returned to normal early because of inconvenience caused to parents and teachers and because nearly one more hour of morning light exists now than in January.

The decision Monday night by the board was made unanimously.

By JEAN DAY

GREEN IS THE COLOR of spring. Mother nature promises to start sprouting it by March 20, but it's already brightening new clothes being shown in local fashion show benefits.

Little checks of soft mint green appeared in coordinated separates—shirt-jacket, slacks and a swirl skirt—shown by the Claire Kelly Shop, 141 East Cady, in a spring show for a winter workshop of Wayne County Association of Education Secretaries which the Northville public school secretaries hosted February 19.

Spring green is one of the new colors in fashions at the Marquis, 133 East Main Street. Owner Inga Zayti is presenting a fashion showing, "An Evening of Elegance," at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 5, at Our Lady of Victory Church.

Both shops also are featuring a bright peachy-coral shade. Claire Kelly displayed this in a peach polyester pantsuit teamed with a harmonizing floral print blouse for the secretaries representing 37 school districts who gathered at Cooke Middle School.

Another combination of colors that made a hit with the secretaries was black-and-white. A black jacket and skirt were brightened with a white blouse patterned with little square dots.

Both shops feature long, after-dark gowns in black—a year round color.

Mrs. Mary Hilton, secretary to Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni wore a long black jersey which bared one shoulder in the Claire Kelly show.

Real ostrich feathers cuff the long sleeves of a black, floor-length crepe gown from the Marquis shop which was donned by Mrs. Conrad Kawel, president of Our Lady's League which is sponsoring the March 5 benefit.

EVENING WEAR will be featured in the OLV benefit next Tuesday in the church social hall. Mrs. Kawel explains, as the church also is planning a St. Patrick dance March 16 at the Farmington Holiday Inn.

League members will be models for the fashion show, which also will feature door prizes and refreshments.

Nick Yanow of The Fashion Cellar will be donating the hair styling for the show, Mrs. Kawel adds. OLV guild chairmen have tickets for the show, which are $1.50.

The public is invited to attend and may obtain tickets by calling Mrs. John Drielt, 453-9015, guild coordinator, or Mrs. Kawel, 349-4663.

Those attending will see more than evening gowns, the Marquis shop promises, as pantsuits are tailored to wear everywhere—and come in light blue and bright red as well as peach and green. The shop adds that tiny dots as well as checks are significant this spring.

EVERY FRIDAY Claire Kelly fashions are on view in a luncheon show at the Drawbridge, which Mrs. Kelly does in addition to special shows, such as the school secretaries'.

Mrs. Kelly and her daughter Kim had a family interest in doing the school show as Mrs. Kelly's husband, Clark, is a member of the Northville Public Schools' special services staff, serving as elementary learning disabilities specialist.

News Around Northville

Alpha Nu Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, will meet at 6 p.m. Monday at Hillside Inn, Plymouth, for dinner and a business session. Members will make plans to attend a regional birthday luncheon at noon March 16 at Grosse Pointe War Memorial. A program, "Man's World-Woman's Place," will be presented by Elinor Driver, Oakland University staff member, and college students. Alpha Nu chapter is hostess. Reservations are to be made by March 1 with Mrs. John Hobart, 349-1699.

Greater Northville Republican Club will hear Northville Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright discuss township problems at its meeting at 8 p.m. today at the home of Fay Waldren, 231 South Ely. Waldren is club president.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schron at 15856 Hickory Ridge Drive recently enjoyed a relaxing vacation aboard the luxury ship Sea Venture enroute to Bermuda.

'Peter Pan' Being Given By AAUW

"Peter Pan," 14th annual children's play to be presented by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women, will be given in three performances Saturday, March 9, in Northville High School auditorium.

The fairy tale classic, staged entirely by the AAUW members, is being expanded to three performances, rather than two as in the past, to accommodate a larger audience of Northville and Novi children. Curtain times are 10 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m. Tickets at 60 cents each are being sold in Northville public and parochial elementary schools today and Friday. They also are being sold in Novi schools today.

After March 1 tickets may be purchased at Del's Shoe Store, 153 East Main, or by telephoning ticket chairman, Mrs. Nanci Olgren, 349-6432. Because the "live theater" children's plays have been so well received in the past, Mrs. Olgren advises parents to buy tickets early to avoid disappointment. Adding a third performance, she said, "definitely" will allow us to accommodate more children, but on the basis of past experience we still do not expect to have tickets available at the door.

Anne Davis Is Wed In Family Ceremony

A romance that began on the campus of Wittenburg University in Springfield, Ohio, led to the marriage Saturday, February 23, of Anne Kristen Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Davis, 719 West Main Street, Northville, and Robert H. McLaren.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold McLaren of Erie, Pennsylvania.

The couple exchanged vows and rings in a 6 p.m. candlelight service in the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth. The Reverend Jeff Goldsmith officiated. It was a small wedding for family and close friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Elizabethan-style dress of antique white crepe-radiance with bodice of silver-etched brocade. It was fashioned by Mr. Bud Shelton of Northville after an original design by Ruskin and Sample of London. Her flowers were white sweetheart roses.

Honor maid Cyndi Wright wore a navy tuckered gown fashioned with long, full sleeves and deep neckline cut low in both front and back. She carried red sweetheart roses.

James Sheriff of Boston, Massachusetts, was best man. Ushers were Matthew Davis, Jim and Tom McLaren.

A reception followed in the Jacob Room of Hillside Inn for members of the immediate families and several mutual friends of the bride and bridegroom from Wittenburg University. Family members attended from Atlanta, Erie, Boston, Dayton and from North Carolina.

The bride attended Wittenburg University and was graduated from London Academy of Modelling, London, England, and Clark Technical College, Springfield. She presently is employed as a LPN at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Her husband was graduated from Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, and attended Wittenburg. He now is a senior at University of Michigan.

Nancy Wins Cherry Title

Pretty 20-year-old Nancy Jean Broomfield, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) has been chosen Michigan's 1974 Cherry Blossom Princess.

Nancy, a green-eyed brunette, will represent Michigan in the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C., March 30 to April 5.

She will compete with princesses from the other 49 states for the title of National Cherry Blossom Queen.

Her father has represented the Oakland County area in the U.S. Congress for the last 18 years and is a ranking Member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

She was selected from a group of Michigan candidates on the basis of her personality, appearance, charm and poise by a committee headed by Paul Vassallo, President of the Michigan State Society. Her hobbies include swimming, tennis, dancing and bicycling.

Salary Plan Angers Novi Department Heads

Unrest among Novi employees continues to spread. Latest segment of municipal employees to become disgruntled with city politics and city policies are the department heads and non-union personnel.

Tentative resignations of two department heads—Administrative Assistant Edward Kriewall and Assessor John Merrifield—were rumored Tuesday after the city council Monday adopted a salary schedule somewhat lower than had been originally proposed.

While talk of rumored resignations were limited to Kriewall and Merrifield, several other department heads were known to be highly displeased with the salary plan established by the council.

Asked to confirm resignation rumors, Kriewall and Merrifield both issued terse "no comment" responses. Both men admitted, however that as a result of council action they are "looking around."

Councilwoman Romaine Roethel, who cast the lone dissenting ballot in the 6-1 vote affirming the pay scale, said Tuesday that she had received reports that several other department heads were "job hunting" as a result of council's action.

This latest unrest follows on the heels of an extended period of unrest among employees in the building department. That situation, which had its basis in the implications of a prolonged police investigation and the terms of a union contract settlement, seems to have subsided in recent weeks, however.

The dissatisfaction of the majority of the department heads can be traced directly to the salaries established by the council Monday.

The department heads and non-union employees had been promised raises by the council at the start of the fiscal year. Determination of the extent of those raises was delayed, however, pending settlement of union negotiations with non-supervisory employees.

City Manager Harold Saunders presented his proposed salary plan to the council at its February 19 session. Two proposed salary plans received 4-3 votes at that meeting, but failed to pass due to a charter requirement which stipulates a five-vote majority on financial matters.

The council met again the following night to try to resolve the problem, but once again two proposed plans fell short of adoption.

The plan finally adopted by the council Monday calls for the following salaries:

City Clerk—$13,000
Treasurer—$11,000
Controller—$11,750

Assessor—$15,500
DPW Head—$17,000
Building and Safety Department Director—$17,000
Police Chief—$18,000
Administrative Assistant—$16,500
City Manager—$21,750

All salaries, with the exception of the city manager's, will be paid retroactive to July 1, 1973—the start of the present fiscal year.

The salaries were adopted by a 6-1 vote as Mrs. Roethel cast the lone negative ballot. "The recommendations of the city manager have been reduced in every instance but three and consequently I cannot support these new salaries," she explained.

(The three salaries not reduced from the city manager's recommendations were those of the DPW Superintendent, Director of Building and Safety, and Police Chief. The manager made no recommendation as to his own salary).

Councilman Denis Berry called the salaries adopted by the council a "workable compromise which none of us are happy with."

Basis for the rejection of the city manager's salary proposals was the city's financial condition.

"It's high time the taxpayers of this city prepare themselves for an increase in millage," stated Berry. "If we want to keep competent people on the city pay roll we're going to have to start paying respectable wages."

Mayor Robert Daley added that Novi "citizens must realize that city employees should not have to subsidize low millage rates by accepting low salaries." Daley went on to espouse a permanent three-member council committee which would review wage standards in conjunction with budget preparation.

Taking exception with their statements, however, was Councilwoman Roethel. Contacted Tuesday, Mrs. Roethel stated that the departments heads are getting a "snow job."

"It's not just the salaries they were given last night," she stated. "The problem is that year after year they are told the same thing—that the council is interested in them and will try to bring their salaries up to a level commensurate with their positions."

"Every July for the past six years, they've been told the same thing and yet nothing has ever been done about it," she continued.

"What really bothers me is that the city is going to lose some very good people just so the council can save a few thousand dollars. If people like Ed Kriewall and John Merrifield walk out, it's going to cost the city a lot more to

MABEL ASH APPRECIATION—Former Novi City Clerk Mabel Ash was surrounded by officials both past and present when she was feted at an appreciation dinner at Farmington's Holiday Inn last week. Shown

At Appreciation Dinner

City Honors Mabel Ash

Former Novi City Clerk Mabel Ash was honored by some 64 friends and associates at a special appreciation dinner held at Farmington's Holiday Inn last Friday.

Mrs. Ash retired last October after a career of public service in Novi that stretched back to 1958.

Among the dignitaries who gathered Friday to pay tribute to Mrs. Ash and her contributions to the development of Novi were former mayor Joseph Crupi and former city manager George Athas, as well as Mayor Robert Daley, City Manager Harold Saunders, and State Representative Clifford Smart.

Mrs. Ash was presented plaques by both Crupi and Daley commemorating her contributions to Novi as both a public official and a private citizen.

School Board Trustee Gilbert Henderson presented Mrs. Ash with a plaque honoring her service to the Novi school district.

Representative Smart presented Mrs. Ash with a resolution passed by the state legislature in honor of her long years of service to Novi and the state.

Mrs. Ash also received a portable television set as a gift from the people who attended the appreciation.

"There is probably no single person who has played a bigger role in guiding the development of this community over the past 15 years," said Athas of Mrs. Ash.

Stated ex-Mayor Crupi: "I don't think there are many people who are fully aware of just how much Mabel Ash has contributed to this community."

Mrs. Ash began her career of public service in Novi in 1958 when she was hired as a secretary shortly after Novi Township had been incorporated into a Village. She became a full-time secretary in 1959 and was appointed Village Clerk by the council in July of 1960.

She held that position until her retirement last October, becoming City Clerk when Novi attained cityhood in 1969.

Providing entertainment at Friday's banquet were the "Sweet Adelines." Banquet chairman was Mrs. Sarah Everett.

Skating Accident Claims Life

A 12-year old Novi youth broke through the ice and drowned early Tuesday evening while he was skating with a group of three friends.

Dead is Mark Anthony Smith. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Smith of 41626 Chattman Drive, he was a seventh grader at the Novi Middle School.

The body was found in a small pond east of the corner of Ennshore and Nine Mile roads at approximately 7:15 p.m. Tuesday, February 26.

The drowning occurred roughly one hour earlier, police said.

Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson stated that the boy had been skating with a group of friends. "It's my theory that one boy apparently ventured out safely onto the ice," said Nelson. "The combined weight of the other three boys in one area, however, was too much for the ice to bear."

All three were plunged into the water. Two of the boys were able to scramble to shore, but the deceased was too far out and slid down and under the ice, added the Detective Sergeant. Rescue attempts were unsuccessful.

Funeral arrangements are being made at the Thayer Funeral Home in Farmington.

Against Polluters

Meadowbrook Residents Urge Shutdown Action

Residents from Meadowbrook Lake subdivision made the Novi City Council aware that they are not pleased with council action against 90 homeowners who have not yet tied into existing sewer lines.

Two weeks ago, the council directed City Attorney David Fried to proceed with legal action against property owners who have not yet tied into the sewer lines.

But Gary Kidd, vice-president of the Meadowbrook Lake Homeowners Association, appeared at Monday's council session and called for the council to take a much firmer stand.

Specifically, Kidd called for the council to "close down offending businesses and residences until such time as they comply with the law."

"The 92 violators have had every possible consideration and legal extension of their connection deadlines," stated Kidd in a letter presented to the council.

"We respectfully point out that sewers have been available to the 53 violating polluters in the Walled Lake area for two and one-half years and to the 39 violating polluters in the Grand River-Nowi Road area for one and one-half years," Kidd continued.

The Meadowbrook Lake spokesman also took exception with a statement issued by City Attorney David Fried in which he (Fried) stated that he did not expect the council to take "a vindictive stance" toward those who had not yet tapped into the lines.

"For the city to fail to vigorously enforce compliance with the ordinance requiring tap-ins at this final stage is, in our opinion, direct vindictive action against the residents of Meadowbrook Lake who have been unduly victimized throughout this lengthy ordeal," commented Kidd.

Reason for the concern of the Meadowbrook Lake homeowners is their contention that sewage from private septic systems is seeping into the Walled Lake and Ingersol Creeks and contributing to the pollution of the 18-acre lake around which their subdivision was constructed.

Novi was cited in 1966 by the State Water Resources Commission for allowing raw sewage to drain into Walled Lake Creek and ordered to construct sewage lines to alleviate the situation.

After a series of snags and legal entanglements, the lines were finally completed in August of 1972. A further delay developed, however, when the Supreme Court overturned the law under which property owners had been required to tap into the lines.

Novi consequently enacted its own sewage connection ordinance and connection notices were sent out to offending property owners on May 18. The 180-days required for tap-in expired November 9, but the council subsequently extended the deadline to February 7 to give property owners a 90-day appeal period.

Three weeks ago City Manager Harold Saunders told the council that more than 90 of the property owners required to tap into the lines had not yet done so.

Two weeks ago the council directed Fried "to take appropriate legal action" against those who had not yet complied with the tap-in order. Fried told The Novi News last week that he was prepared to "go to District Court to proceed with enforcement of the ordinance."

Those who have not tapped in can be charged with a misdemeanor for violation of a city ordinance. The charge carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and/or a $500 fine plus court costs, Fried said.

The city attorney also urged everyone who has not yet tapped into the lines to contact Novi's sewer and water department and do so.

In requesting the council to take a harder line against those not yet tapped into the lines, Kidd noted that almost 25 percent of the offenders are absentee owners who live outside of the city and that an additional 12 percent of the offenders are businesses.

"With this type of information in hand," stated Kidd, "it should not be too difficult for the city administration to take positive corrective action."

Expect Heavy Turnout At Novi Review Board

City officials are expecting a sizable turnout when Novi's Board of Review goes into session March 11.

"We may have to rent an auditorium after everyone has seen their assessments," quipped City Councilman George Athas last week.

Most Novi property owners received notification of an increase in their assessments this past weekend and, according to City Assessor John Merrifield, more than a few of the increases were substantial.

"We were informed by Oakland County that our assessments were well below what they ought to be as required by law," stated Merrifield Friday. "We were told to either raise our assessments or face the possibility of a factor."

According to state law, property must be assessed at 50 percent of its actual cash value. To bring Novi's assessments in line with that criterion, Merrifield has conducted an analysis of all land sales in the city over the past two years and adjusted assessments in accordance with his findings.

Nevertheless, Merrifield is expecting a large number of property owners to question their assessments before the Board of Review.

The Board will meet in the Fire Hall at 25850 Novi Road. On Monday, March 11, the Board of Review will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Tuesday, March 12, Board of Review hours are from 12 noon to 9 p.m. and on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, March 13-15, the Board will meet from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

In a communique issued last week, Merrifield noted that taxpayers unable to attend the Board meetings may state their objections by letter, provided that letters are submitted before March 8.

Any citizen wanting to be heard as early as possible may fill out a numbered petition at the assessor's office. The petitions will be reviewed by the Board in numerical order. All other objections will be on a "first come, first served, basis," said Merrifield.

Merrifield also stated that citizens with questions regarding their assessments should feel free to contact him in the Assessor's Office by phone or in person.

Wixom Rejects License

In a tie vote broken by the "no" cast by Mayor Gilbert C. Willis Wixom City Council Tuesday in effect upheld a decision made January 8 not to waive 1973 fees on a resort liquor license so that it could be transferred to Wixom.

Two Detroit brothers, Lawrence and Sam Loberman, have purchased the resort license in Isabella County in the Upper Peninsula in the hope of transferring it to a restaurant-bowling alley-bar facility they plan to build on Wixom Road at the present location of the Wixom Credit Union.

The Lobermans' attorney, Carl Ranno, told council the brothers plan a facility costing in excess of $500,000 but that they do not intend to have topless, live entertainment of the type in their Detroit operation on East Eight Mile Road.

Pointing out that it is economically "impossible" to construct a facility of this size without a license, the attorney offered to have the entertainment portion of the license severed by the liquor control commission in its investigation.

Wixom attorney Gene Schnell questioned the validity of such an agreement with the city, pointing out that in the future the Lobermans might be able to claim "coercion" if live entertainment competition should exist elsewhere in the community.

He offered to write the liquor commission to obtain the information about severing.

The council then voted not to have him begin any investigative action.

In explaining his vote Mayor Willis stated there already are three bars and a club in Wixom, which he termed "a strong Baptist community," as well as one on Grand River in Novi.

"It looks as if we could have a strip of bars and the keenness of competition could

Birth Announcements

Mr. and Mrs. William Eversole of Plymouth announce the birth of their son, Jason Eric, February 16 at Garden City Hospital. His birth weight was eight pounds, fifteen ounces.

The baby has an older brother, Bill, 6. Mrs. Eversole is the former Carol Bell of Northville. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell of Grace Street. Paternal grandfather is Corbin Eversole of Highland. The baby also has a great-grandfather, Roy Bruckner of Dexter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Shoebridge, 303 Pennell,

Northville, announce the birth of a daughter, Marjorie Lyn, February 8 at St. Mary Hospital. Her birth weight was five pounds, three ounces.

Marjorie Lyn has an older brother, Clifford, at home. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Coykendall of Northville. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Shoebridge of Milford.

Concerned NHS Parents Plan Organization Meeting

An open meeting to discuss formation of an organization at Northville High School to channel similar problems and concerns to administrators and seek their solutions will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 7, in the cafeteria.

The group is open to all concerned parents of Northville High School students, employees of the school district, students and all residents of the district.

Called the Northville High School Parents, Teachers and Students Organization (PTSO), the group has as its temporary co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hancock.

Thursday's meeting will include election of officers and approval of the goals of the organization.

According to Mrs. Albert (Helen) Geisler, spokesman for the PTSO, the organization will "work with the school to provide quality education for all students and to seek participation in the decision making process in establishing school policy, recognizing that the legal responsibility to make decisions has been delegated by the people to the board of education."

She added that areas of concern which will be discussed between members and school administrators include:

- ◆ smoking, drug and alcohol abuse;
- ◆ curriculum selection;
- ◆ career guidance;
- ◆ student safety within the school;
- ◆ administrative policies and rule enforcement;
- ◆ student citizenship; and
- ◆ organized and supervised extra-curricular activities.

Mrs. Geisler said the group hopes to establish open times when families could use school recreation facilities on a year-round basis.

Some of the goals of PTSO include promoting understanding between parents, teachers, students and school officials, bringing a closer relationship between the home, school and community. Developing between educators and the general public united efforts to secure the best educational environment and advantages possible; and

To promote the use of school facilities for adult education, recreation and other community activities.

Planned monthly meetings of PTSO "aren't designed to be a gripe session," Mrs. Geisler explained.

"Through conferences and meetings between parents, teachers, students and administrators, we hope to channel similar concerns and problems and help with solutions to them," she added.

All persons interested in becoming part of the PTSO are encouraged to attend the March 7 meeting.

Dance Raises $3,000

Northville Historical Society reported Tuesday that the second annual Mill Race benefit dinner dance last week at the Thunderbird Hilton Inn drew a record attendance of 560 and netted a total of just over $3,000 for the restoration of the old

H. L. Lane won the Lazy Boy chair; Don Thompson, man's suit; Marjorie Kelner, ladies dress or pantsuit; and William W. Tucker, suitecase.

The top prize of a 25-inch color television went to B. B. Malloy of Lincoln Park while the two ten-speed bicycles were won by Doyle M. Young of Detroit.

W. W. Nichols, co-chairman representing the VFW, reported that 30 smaller prizes were awarded.

Senior Citizens To Tour in April

An eight-day trip for senior citizens to Washington D.C. and Williamsburg is being sponsored by the Walled Lake Schools Senior Citizens Program.

The trip, which runs from April 23-30, will cost $207 per person (based on double occupancy). This figure covers transportation by motorcoach and accommodations, but does not include meals. Any person who is over 50 and lives in this area is eligible to participate.

Persons interested in going on the trip must make a $25 deposit by March 15. Anyone wishing more information or a copy of the printed itinerary should call Fran Sarto at 363-4528 or 624-0202.

Absentee Ballots Ready

Northville Asks Millage Renewal

Absentee ballots for the March 16 Northville School millage election are now available at the school board office, 303 West Main Street.

Ballots may be obtained between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, business director Earl Busard said.

Going before voters in the Saturday special election is the renewal of three mills for operation for a five year period.

Based on the school district's $126-million state equalized valuation, the three mill levy will raise $378,000 for operation of the district.

First voted in 1969, the millage expired in December, 1973.

School taxes levied in December totaled 35.4 mills, less millage than authorized by the voters, Busard explained.

If approved by voters, operational millage will remain at 28.9 mills with total millage authorized pegged at 36.28 mills, including 7.38 mills for debt levy.

Superintendent Raymond Spear pointed out that in past years the school board has not levied all millage authorized by voters.

"The district's philosophy is to only levy that millage which is needed to operate the school district," he said. "We do not levy millage just because the voters approved the levy."

Total registered voters for the March election are 8,700, up nearly 400 from those eligible to vote in the June, 1973, election.

Voters will again be casting ballots by precinct, a method first used by the district in June. Paper ballots will be used, Busard said.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. and voters are asked to check their school election registration cards to be certain of which precinct they vote in.

Precinct divisions include: Precinct One: Votes at Administration Office, 303 West Main Street. Includes all area south of Eight Mile Road, east of Beck Road, west of Northville Road, south to the city limits of Northville.

Precinct Two: Votes at Amerman Elementary School, North Center Street, north of Eight Mile Road. Includes area east of Northville Road to Haggerty, north side of Seven Mile to Eight Mile, including Highland Lakes, Smock and Meadowbrook subdivision.

Precinct Three: Votes at Administration Office. Area south of Seven Mile Road, east of Northville Road to the east and south boundaries of the school district, including Northville Commons, Northville Colony and Haggerty Court.

Precinct Four: Votes at Amerman Elementary. Includes area north of Eight Mile, east of Beck Road (excluding Northville Estates) to north and east school district boundary inside City of Novi.

Precinct Five: Votes at Administration Office. Area south of Seven Mile, west of Northville Road, south along Five Mile Road school district border, west to school boundary, including King's Mill, Edenderry and Shadbrook.

Precinct Six: Votes at Moraine Elementary School, West Eight Mile Road near Lanthorn Lane, includes area west of Beck Road and also Northville Estates, north of Seven Mile to western and northern boundaries of school district.

BROTHERS SEPARATED--Death separated two close brothers this past week as "Skip" Ritchie (left) died following heart surgery. Harvey and Skip were photographed together here in the rubble of their old laundry business destroyed by fire on North Center Street two years ago.

Obituaries

Service Planned Today For 'Skip' Ritchie

Memorial services will be held at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) in the First Presbyterian Church of Northville for Richard C. (Skip) Ritchie of 200 South Ely.

Mr. Ritchie died Sunday, February 24, at St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor following corrective heart surgery. He was 47.

Born January 26, 1927, in Detroit, he was the son of James Roy and Winnifred (Payne) Ritchie. A resident of Northville for most of his life, he married the former Ruth Ann Lewis.

He and his brother, Harvey, operated Ritchie Brothers Laundry until it was destroyed by fire in 1972. He was employed at The Northville Record and was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are his widow, his mother of Tampa, Florida, three children, Douglas, David and Barbara, all at home, and two brothers, Harvey P. of Northville, and James A. of Plymouth.

Officiating at the services today will be the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure. His body was donated to science. Memorials may be made to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington, D.C. or to the Coronary Care Unit, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

JOSEPH W. TARANTOWSKI

A funeral mass for a former area resident, Joseph W. Tarantowski, 49, of Willis, Michigan, is being held at 11 a.m. today (Thursday) in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Whitaker, Michigan.

Mr. Tarantowski died of a heart attack at his home Monday.

He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church. Interment was to be in St. Joseph Cemetery, also in Whitaker. Rosary was recited Wednesday evening at the Stevens Funeral Home in Milan.

A truck driver for Great Lakes Steel Company, Mr. Tarantowski had served with the U.S. Army in World War II. He was born December 16, 1924, in Willis to Joseph and Ida (Cudah) Tarantowski, both of whom preceded him in death.

He married June Holmes, who survives. He also leaves two sons, Richard and Joseph, a daughter, Renee, all at home; and three sisters, Mrs. Eleanor Thomas, Mrs. Mary Martin, both of Milan, and Mrs. Ross (Helen) Wisbin of Bradenton, Florida.

MICHAEL J. SCHWARTZ Private funeral services are being held today for Michael J. Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert B. Schwartz, Jr., 42301 Chatterton, Northville, who would have been three years old this Friday.

He died suddenly Monday in Livonia.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Casterline Funeral Home with interment to be in Rural Hill Cemetery. The family suggests that memorials may be given to the Epilepsy Center of Michigan, 10 Peterboro, Detroit, in Michael's memory.

He was born March 1, 1971, in Royal Oak. His mother is the former Elaine Bourassa. He was a member of St. Kenneth Catholic Church.

In addition to his parents, he leaves two sisters, Ann and Patricia; grandparents, Mrs. John Bourassa of Bloomfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert B. Schwartz, Sr., of Buffalo.

NELLIE B. WELFARE

Services were held Wednesday, February 20, for Nellie B. Welfare who died February 17 at the Martin Luther Home in Holt.

Mrs. Welfare, who lived at 47000 Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake, died at the age of 88.

A lifetime resident of the Novi-Wixom area, Mrs. Welfare was born January 10, 1886, in Commerce Township. Her husband preceded her in death.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. James (Izella) Campbell of Ruskin, Florida, Mrs. Robert (Eileen) Rickard of Walled Lake, Erwin J. Welfare of Walled Lake, five grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Richards-Bird Funeral Home in Walled Lake where the Reverend Robert Warren of the First Baptist Church of Wixom officiated. Burial was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

Northville, Novi Meet Monday on Annexation

Maintaining that annexation by Novi School District of 237 acres of land on Ten Mile and Taft roads creates further irregularities in the district boundaries, Northville board of education is prepared to oppose the land transfer at the March 12 public hearing in Pontiac.

Included in the annexation petition of Novi is 160-acre high school site at the southeast corner of Ten Mile and Taft.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said the superintendents and board presidents of Northville and Novi will be meeting Monday, March 4, to discuss the transfer.

Spear said he believes the "line should be drawn at Nine and one-half mile and the annexation should be one transaction with reasonable consideration given to the taxpayers of Northville Public Schools."

Currently, the boundary extends to 10 1/2 mile, including Glenda Avenue.

Board President Stanley Johnston said he agreed. "Anything except nine and one-half mile makes the line more irregular."

He added that he was not opposed to the present land transfer on the basis of tax dollars. "Money is not the question but the point is further complicating an already complicated boundary."

Spear added that on Tuesday, March 5, he would be meeting with members of the school district who live north of 10 Mile Road. "We will follow what our residents wish," he said.

During February

Police Probe House Break-Ins

Fifteen break-ins of homes in the city of Northville during February, including seven which took place last Thursday night, may all be linked, city police detectives believe. With few exceptions, only cash has been taken from the homes.

"Who's ever involved, they're in the house for maybe five minutes, no longer," Sergeant Bruce Deacon said. "In some cases, they're heard going out the back door as the homeowners are walking in the front," he added.

Deacon said that approximately $20 was taken in the seven break-ins last Thursday. All of them took place between 5 and 10 p.m., he said.

Footprints have been found at most of the locations. Most break-ins have taken place in mornings, afternoons with a few in late evening hours. "Only cash is being taken," the sergeant said. Perpetrators are passing up large items like television sets, stereo equipment and jewelry. Some of the thefts have involved a large amount of change.

Three break-ins during the first week in February resulted in the loss of $178. During the second week, three break-ins netted the thieves a watch and $10. Nothing was taken from one of the homes.

Break-ins last Thursday took place on Rayson, Lake, West Cady, Thayer, First,

East and Doris Court. Deacon said a tracking dog traced the intruders through rain to the high school parking lot where a car may have been waiting.

Friday, residents of homes on First and Center streets reported thefts.

Deacon said anyone who sees suspicious cars or people in neighborhoods should notify police immediately. "Right now, we're not sure if only one person or several people are involved in the break-ins."

Sign Up for Free Vaccine

All public and parochial elementary schools in Northville will participate in an immunization program offered in March by the Wayne County Health Department. Offered at no charge will be measles, rubella, combined measles-rubella shots and oral polio vaccines to children in grades kindergarten through six.

Due to medical precautions, measles and rubella shots are only available to those between the ages of one and 11, health department spokesmen said.

Consent forms will be sent home with school children next week and forms should be completed and returned to school.

Pre-school children are also encouraged to participate in the program and parents should bring them to the school one-half hour before the starting time of the programs.

Health department officials will be visiting elementary schools on the following days:

Thursday, March 14: Main Street Elementary and Cooke Annex, 9 a.m.; Moraine Elementary, 12:45 p.m.; St. Paul's Lutheran School, 2:15 p.m.

Friday, March 15: American Elementary, 9 a.m.; Our Lady of Victory Catholic School, 10:30 a.m.

FERGUSON IN CONCERT—Maynard Ferguson will appear in concert Thursday, March 14, at Clarenceville's Louis E. Schmidt Auditorium beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets for the concert, presented by Schoolcraft College, may be ordered by mail from the Community Services office, purchased at the bookstore on campus or at the Clarenceville Box Office. General admission is $3.50. The trumpet man who gained fame with the Stan Kenton orchestra, Ferguson has been a previous sell-out at Clarenceville and across the nation. Born in Quebec, Ferguson began his musical training at the age of four.

Schools Offer Tips

On Recognizing Drugs

REAL ESTATE COURSE

A special program on drug abuse, open to all members of the community, will be offered Saturday afternoon at Cooke Middle School as part of Northville Public Schools' curriculum day.

According to Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent, the program begins at 1:15 and lasts until 3 p.m.

Requested by members of the middle school staff, the program focuses on "recognizing drugs and drug symptoms and where you go from there," Miss Panattoni said. Kenneth Kaminsky, Wayne County Intermediate School District consultant on drug abuse education, and Eugene Dembici, chief pharmacologist of the Lafayette Clinic, will conduct the workshop.

In addition, programs and displays will be held throughout the morning for staff members.

Highlighting the exhibits will be a commercial display in the high school cafeteria. Teachers have expressed a need for evaluating teaching materials, Miss Panattoni said, "before they submit requests for purchasing."

A second feature for teachers will be a 3M workshop in which staff members will be alerted to the company's loan library and will have an opportunity to learn techniques in preparing teaching aids. Encyclopedia Britannica will also have a demonstration. Coordinating the commercial exhibit is Mrs. Mernie Hines, elementary media specialist. Mrs. Sandra Cook, high school media specialist, is coordinating the workshops.

Elementary staff members at kindergarten through third grade levels will conduct building exhibits in teacher-made materials and techniques and approaches to learning which have worked for them, the assistant superintendent added.

Fourth and fifth grade teachers will be working on developing materials to help students achieve objectives in math and reading.

Senior Parents Meet March 8

Parents of Northville High School seniors will hold an organizational meeting Friday, March 8, at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

According to Nick and Catherine Serkaian, parents of the senior class president, committees will be organized that evening for the all-night senior class party.

Plans will be made for the traditional party hosted by senior parents following graduation on June 18.

How's Your Blood Pressure When You Lie?

POLYGRAPH—Mounted in a desk top, the polygraph measures physiological responses of the respiratory, skin and cardiovascular systems as they change with stress. Cost of the equipment is about $2,000. In the picture at the top right of the page, polygraph examiner Detective Sergeant Sam Hutchings of the Michigan State Police waits for a response to the question he's just asked. In his left hand is a device which records on the read out when he begins to ask and completes asking each question.

Polygraph Records Signs of Stress

By SALLY BURKE

Breathing, heart beat, perspiration. They all change when you lie.

And those physiological changes are recorded by the polygraph in a series of lines.

The higher the peak, the greater the emotional stress being experienced by the subject.

Measuring those physiological changes are bands around two fingers, chest, abdomen and upper arm.

"Believe it or not, better than 50 percent of those who take the polygraph exam are cleared," commented Detective Sergeant Sam Hutchings, polygraph operator for Michigan State Police.

Victims, witnesses and suspects may all be tested on the polygraph.

"Although results are not admissible in court unless there is a stipulation by the defense," Hutchings explained, "the courts are beginning to recognize the value of polygraph results."

Hutchings said that national statistics show "95 percent of the results are accurate, but I feel we are better than that."

"Areas of those mistakes are calling a person truthful rather than saying he is lying."

"There's no way a person can beat the instrument," Hutchings explained. "A person may beat the operator, but not the polygraph."

Hutchings, who has been a polygraph operator for one year, said all examiners for the Michigan State Police must have a background of investigative experience. Basic instruction is 360 hours in abnormal psychology, psychology, physiology, mechanics and techniques of the polygraph plus a six-month internship.

While the polygraph has been in use since 1928 and the instruments have remained the same, "the techniques have been refined."

Refusal to submit to a polygraph test cannot be used against a person in court, Hutchings explained, and all suspects who are given the test must be read their Miranda warnings before the test begins.

With two polygraph examiners and instruments, the Detroit post schedules a total of four exams each weekday.

The actual test takes one and one-half to two hours. Case facts are reviewed with the police officer in charge of the case just prior to the test being given.

"We don't review cases beforehand since many people decide before the day of the exam not to take the test and some even confess," Hutchings said.

Questions are drawn up by the examiner along with the police officers. Questions must be psychologically sound, brief and answered by either "yes" or "no."

"Double meaning questions aren't asked since the response cannot be used to make a fair determination."

Interviews are also conducted with the person who is to take the polygraph test to determine what their physical condition was and is now.

Those with a history of health problems "must have a release from their doctor. The test is just as strenuous as testifying in court," Hutchings said.

Tests are not run on children under the age of 11 or on women more than three months pregnant because results are too difficult to determine.

To establish a person's physiological reaction to questions, examiners begin by explaining how the instrument operates and what it measures.

Questions with known answers (Is today Thursday?) show a person's reaction to telling the truth.

Those which are difficult (What is 2 x 6 divided by 5?) show how a person relates to stress.

And a card game in which the person is asked to answer "no" to every question about which card he is holding shows how a person reacts when he's lying.

"If you're innocent and have no reason to lie, you won't be trying to trick the examiner," Hutchings added.

While he is giving the test, Hutchings records what question is asked and when it is asked on the bottom of the read out sheet.

Questions are asked more than once and the order is changed.

While the exam is in progress, only the examiner and the subject are in the room. "The person being tested is asked to keep his eyes closed to prevent distractions," Hutchings explained.

And there are light

moments occurring during Hutchings' job.

"Once while I was explaining how the polygraph works, a suspect confessed. I hadn't even asked the first question."

"And it never fails to happen that while I'm asking 'Did you break into...' a police car goes screaming by with sirens, breaking the subject's concentration."

More and more, polygraph tests are being used, Hutchings said. "We test only for governmental agencies. Since we provide a service to other police departments, about 75 percent of our tests are for departments other than the state police."

A lemon pie rather than a birthday cake with 90 candles was served at the milestone celebration honoring Mrs. Laura Genitti of Hutton Street on her birthday February 16. The substitution was made because lemon pie is her favorite dessert, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Genitti, Sr., explained. She and her husband were hosts for the dinner at their home on North Rogers. Guests also included their son and his wife, the John Genittis, Jr. Mrs. Genitti, who moved to Northville from Detroit not quite a year ago, also is the mother of Mrs. Donald Ware.

A number of sticky decisions remain for the Northville city council as it studies the recommendations of the planning commission in the revised zoning ordinance.

There's the proposed lot-size minimums for the city's highest residential classification (R-1A).

There's the residential-office-commercial mix on North Center Street and the question of how far to extend business northward.

There's the threat of creeping commercialism into the business district's bordering residential area.

Local government is still close enough to the people so that occasionally their will prevails. And that's not bad.

But elected officials cannot be so eager to please that they permit their constituency to prescribe their own medicine without being made aware of the possible side-effects.

Concern over lot sizes from residents of the Northville Estates and Lexington Commons North subdivisions is understandable. Whatever development takes place next to their homes should be compatible to what now exists.

But the council, through its attorney, should also make citizens aware of the consequences that could result from the adoption of zoning minimums viewed as too restrictive by the court.

Certainly minimums comparable to those employed in the recently-developed Lexington Commons North would seem to meet the test of compatibility.

As for zoning along the borders of the city's commercial district, it is, I believe, important to preserve as much of the small-town quaintness that makes our community attractive as possible.

And I'm convinced that this can be done without impeding the equally important development of the business district.

Commercialism need not be shoved northward on Center Street to save the business district. On the contrary, it should be contained near its present extremities to preserve our residential flavor.

A line must be drawn and this can be difficult. The homes next to a commercial enterprise may not be conducive to "peaceful living". It's reasonable to expect that a greenbelt should be provided for such a transition.

While I firmly believe that it is important to define the extremes of the business district and protect neighboring residential areas, I cannot accept the scare-tactic denunciation of the business district's expansion.

It is easy, indeed, to criticize the Chatham Market, for example, or the loss of many business-district homes to black-topped parking lots.

But those who would protest today were not here when the prospects for new business in Northville were close to zero. They did not share the anxieties of many when it was impossible to lure a new business to town or encourage an existing establishment to expand or improve its property.

The entire community of Northville can be thankful that it has two major supermarkets, a new shopping mall, a fine variety of shops in buildings that are kept in good repair, and adequate convenient parking.

Some additions in buildings and parking are still to follow. But in the main, Northville has prepared itself well for the bordering shopping centers that will be competing for customer dollars.

And this did not come about by accident. It is the result of both citizen and council effort.

If the business district had gone down the drain, the people in the homes would have been left to pick up the lost tax tab. And homes bordering a depressed business district hold little value, either on the market or as residences.

There's room in Northville for a thriving business district and attractive, comfortable residential areas.

But it is a marriage that requires a little give and take from both sides.

We initiated a new system recently for informing subscribers that their subscriptions would expire soon.

Instead of the office girls hand-addressing a whole batch each month, we're now "programming" our stencils so that expiration envelopes are addressed automatically.

"How's it going?" I asked Skip Ritchie recently.

"Well, it may be making a lot of mistakes, but it sure is faster," was the response.

Forty-seven-year-old Skip Ritchie died last Sunday following corrective heart surgery.

They're holding a memorial service for him this afternoon.

We'll miss him at The Record. He and his brother, Harvey, joined our organization soon after fire destroyed their laundry business nearly two years ago.

I can't ever remember having a conversation with Skip, even a serious one, that I didn't walk away amused.

Skip was quiet, but never melancholy. And I suspect he would come up with something to brighten his own memorial service.

problems would be far outweighed by the savings in tax money.

In the three school years since the advisory vote in June of 1971, the Novi School District has been forced to pay $44,200 in interest on borrowed money.

The $44,200 need not have been spent or at least it could have been spent on something more educationally beneficial if split tax collection had been used.

In view of today's sharp demand on the tax dollar, we believe it is imperative that tax money be spent wisely. Unnecessary payment of interest money is not a wise expenditure. Therefore, we join the Novi School Board in urging the city council to "even out" the flow of tax income to the school system and avoid needless borrowing of money.

YES . . .

As a young thing I was struck with admiration, yes adoration of Racgar. Racgar was a storybook princess who possessed wit, beauty and keen intelligence. She was courted by handsome men of noble lineage; her conquests were reputed the world over. Racgar sipped old wines and smoked cigars.

Her graceful fingers could deftly flick a perfect ash as her smoldering glance noted her prey. Perfect smoke rings would steadily surround her profile with an air of deep enigma.

She could direct all details of her life and loves; certainly a woman of noble strength. The lesson was clear—not all women can lay acclaim to distinction in the war of sexual survival. A unique woman seeks special life patterns.

Today as I hand my prince my paycheck, wear earth shoes, childproof clothes and occasionally enjoy a puff, I realize my fantasy has been fulfilled.

NO . . .

Women smoking cigars!!

What next? Are there no ladies left that simply want to be feminine?

No, I certainly cannot agree nor visualize women smoking big, black, ugly cigars. Why not filthy, smelling pipes also, in order that we all might become Mammy Yokums or worse. Even some men look ridiculous smoking cigars because they don't quite know how to cope with them.

First of all, smoking of any kind is dangerous for everyone, including women. It is a very unwise and unhealthy habit started by men that we women continue to copy. Why? Maybe to simply show them that we can be just as dumb!!! Many women look terrible smoking cigarettes in public; cigars would look atrocious.

Some may use the argument of not inhaling cigars, thus making them less dangerous than cigarettes. Phooey. That's a poor excuse at best. Cigars would be inhaled soon enough, even if unconsciously.

While cigarettes are an expensive, unnecessary habit, cigars are really expensive. For this reason alone we shouldn't want to smoke cigars or anything else for that matter.

And then there are our children! I'm sure they need to see their lovable mothers smoking cigars and blowing the choking smoke in their innocent faces. In this way we teach them the "good things in life?" When they start smoking at an early age we wonder why. Really we're kidding. We teach them almost all of their bad habits.

Children need models of construction, not destruction. I hope I never see women (ladies) smoke cigars publicly or privately. Ugh, how unladylike!!!

Sodium Sulfite Crystals

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The pretty uniformed doll smiled at her handsome uniformed guy and rubbed salt into my old military wounds:

"Oh, there's no more KP anymore...we have civilians do that kind of work for us now."

A veteran of stabbings (paring knife wounds picked up near potato bins) and gassings (poisoned while bending over grease traps) in the old stateside infantry, I found their description of my old Army post just a little grating.

This married young couple, both of whom are PFCs, are in this area on a 45-day mission to sell the New Army and its post at Colorado Springs called Fort Carson. They are Steve and Janeen Slider of Plymouth. (Not to be confused with my boss "Sliger, like Tiger").

"It's glorious...the mountains, the scenery, the..." said Janeen. Her description of Colorado Springs was unnecessary. It's always been beautiful. But the description of Carson itself...my gosh it seemed as plausible as the Devil telling the Exorcist that Hell is heavenly.

Twenty years ago Carson was the Army's Siberian workcamp, North America's answer to Devil's Island.

Not so any longer, said Steve, whose non-commissioned wife insisted on painting a country club picture of it for me. "Mess halls are dining rooms in the truest sense of the words. How about four-man tables...tablecloths, piped in music? We've got 'em at Carson.

"Plates, choice of menu, candles."

And for goodness sakes, "even salad bars."

Not even commissioned officers enjoyed such luxuries in the Old Army.

"Open barracks? You're kidding," said Steve. "It's a thing of the past. Roomed barracks are common throughout United States Army posts today. We've got modern new barracks at Carson."

Steve and Janeen, one of relatively few married Army couples in the United States, rent a home in nearby Colorado Springs and drive to Carson for work each day. Someday, when one of them becomes a sergeant, they'll be qualified to live in the posh on-post apartments for married enlisted personnel and commissioned officers.

"Believe it or not," said Janeen, "Carson also has 'mixed barracks' for both men and women." (I won't believe it).

In Our Opinion

Split Tax Collection Wise Move

It has been nearly three years since voters in the Novi School District told the Novi City Council they wanted to save tax money by paying half their school taxes in winter, half in the summer.

Admittedly, the advisory vote on the question was close—489 to 473, and very likely split tax collections may create some initial problems. But we believed then and we believe now that those problems would be far outweighed by the savings in tax money.

In the three school years since the advisory vote in June of 1971, the Novi School District has been forced to pay $44,200 in interest on borrowed money.

The $44,200 need not have been spent or at least it could have been spent on something more educationally beneficial if split tax collection had been used.

In view of today's sharp demand on the tax dollar, we believe it is imperative that tax money be spent wisely. Unnecessary payment of interest money is not a wise expenditure. Therefore, we join the Novi School Board in urging the city council to "even out" the flow of tax income to the school system and avoid needless borrowing of money.

News
From Lansing

BY R. ROBERT GEAKE
Michigan Representative

After years of living with the assessment of property at 50 per cent of true cash value and experiencing the many problems that went along with it, the legislature is finally taking steps to correct the assessment procedure.

House Bill 5504, which passed in the House by an overwhelming 81-22 vote, reduces the statutory assessment level from its present 50 per cent of true cash value to "as nearly as practicable to 48 per cent, but in any case not less than 46 per cent or more than 50 per cent." I voted for the bill.

I believe this is a very good bill and I hope the Senate will give it early consideration so that local units of government throughout Michigan can apply the revised assessment level this year.

This measure, in my opinion, goes a long way toward solving the serious problem of creating inequity in assessments. The 50 per cent assessment level was established to create equity in property assessments throughout the state.

This mandatory level, however, gave local assessors no leeway and as a result the local assessors found it difficult, if not impossible, to keep assessments at the 50 per cent level because of rapidly rising property values.

For example, if a local assessor brought all property in his local unit to the 50 per cent level and if shortly after that property values increased, his assessments slipped to something below 50 per cent.

In an attempt to bring property assessments back up to the 50 per cent level the county equalization committee applies a multiplier or factor to the entire local unit. When this happens in many cases certain properties are then given an equalized assessment level above 50 per cent, which is in excess of the constitutional limitation.

For example, in Northville Township each assessed valuation was multiplied by an equalization factor of 1.31 in 1973. City of Northville property owners had no equalization factor because the entire city was reassessed last spring.

Representative Damman's bill allows a realistic range for assessments which will allow assessors to recognize the current state of assessment and equalization capability.

The 48 per cent goal, with a two per cent plus or minus range, would have little effect, if any, on local government income, according to equalization directors who testified at public hearings on the bill.

At the same time the 48 per cent goal with the plus or minus range will restore equity in the assessment procedure—something we've been looking toward for a long time.

PTSO Seeks Solutions

To the Editor:
Based on your recent article regarding "Who Handles Student Crime," our proposed high school PTSO group also feels there is a need for cooperation between the school, home and community agencies. Unless we get this type of cooperation, the various problems you cite in your article will not be solved or measures taken to resolve them.

Our organization is an effort to bring together all parties and their points of view, hopefully for the common purpose of getting some answers. We don't feel the police, the administration, the teachers, the parents, or students alone, have the answers.

We cannot force cooperation from any sector, but we want to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in an educational environment.

There is a need for a sounding board for all involved and this is one of the primary purposes of our coming into existence. Others in the community express the same hopes as we and want to act in a united, cooperative effort.

Therefore, we invite school officials, youth represen-

Attack on City Manager Spurs Rebuff

To the Editor:

I attended the February 19 Novi City Council meeting which devoted a large portion of time to discussion of the investigations into the Building Department. Mayor Robert Daley read a prepared statement defending the positions of the Building Department employees, the citizens of the City of Novi and the City Administration. He had obviously expended much time and effort on this statement in which, I felt, he tried to be fair to all members of the Community.

This was followed by a prepared statement read by Councilman Edwin Presnell, which can only be described as the most vicious personal speculation. Was Mr. Saunders accused of not doing his job? NO. He was accused of going into too much detail in his report. Perhaps Councilman Presnell felt Mr. Saunders should have revealed his report at a "Secret Meeting" from which the press and public would be barred. Councilman Dennis Berry's personnel report was so secret that only he and the councilmen who chose to stay (at a meeting of such questionable advisability that more than half of the Council refused to attend) know what happened at that meeting. Yet, Councilman Presnell chose to attack Mr. Saunders. How sad that Councilman Edwin Presnell must stoop so low that he condemns a man for doing his job. How sad that Councilman Dennis Berry has refused to issue his report to but a privileged few. And how sad that Mayor Robert Daley has allowed these two councilmen to continue playing the games they have played during so much of their time in office.

Snow Removal: Explanation, Criticism

To the Editor:

Since I am the only attorney with office on Main Street, just off Center, I presume that I am the attorney referred to in the letter written by Northville Resident with respect to the icy sidewalk in front of my office. I wish to make this perfectly clear:

1. I am only a tenant in the building in which my offices are located, the building being owned by the owner of The Northville Record. The sidewalks around the building are the owner's responsibility.

2. Since I am also city City

Attorney I did notice this situation and brought it to the attention of the owner of the building. The owner took immediate steps to have the matter corrected and this has been done by blocking the eavestrough at the Main Street corner of the building and having all of the roof water discharge at the rear of the building.

3. Since I often walk from my home to my office I have also noticed the conditions of which the Northville Resident complains and I agree that they should be taken care of. I know that the City did at one time attempt to contract for all of the sidewalks in the City to be cleared, but this did not work out satisfactorily and was, there, discontinued.

While the Police Department could go out after each snowstorm and issue tickets to all persons who have not cleared their walks within 24 hours this would entail many man hours which, in view of the size of our Police Department, would result in their having to pass over other areas of law enforcement in which they are engaged. I certainly feel all of the merchants in Northville should make the matter of snow removal in front of their stores the No. 1 priority, since it certainly does not encourage customers doing business in their establishments.

Very Truly Yours,
Philip R. Ogilvie

To the Editor:

To the wonderful lady who wrote in last week's Record about our city's sidewalks, "God Bless you" for writing and telling the public how negligent the city is about seeing that the walks are cleared from snow.

Last week the city cleared off snow on West Street near Randolph and left a huge pile of snow across sidewalk paths about 2½ feet high. This meant that people had to climb over it or go out into the road to get back on walk.

I called city hall in regards to this and all I received is sweet talk, as snow pile remained until melted. The city did not even have the decency to come down and see the mess that they left.

The city is more than willing to raise our taxes and water bills but why don't they try to make it safer for the people, and especially the elderly.

One retired businessman on West Street has his drive way plowed free from snow but he then has the snow pushed over on other peoples' property and across the sidewalk so that it is impossible to walk up West Street.

It is a disgrace the way the business section of the city is left with snow banks at the curb so that it is impossible to cross from one side of the street to the other.

In the spring of the year there is always an article in the Record about Northville receiving the "Most beautiful city" award. Why doesn't the city apply this same award for the winter months and make it a much safer city to walk around?

I have been a resident of the city for over 35 years and can truthfully say the city needs much to be desired as the years go on.

Oh yes, the sidewalks in front of my place are kept cleared. I am a widow in my sixties. I do not do the walks myself but I do hire a fine young man to do it and he does a beautiful job. I do not want any law suits on my reputation as a citizen of Northville.

Group Fosters Cooperation

To the Editor:

In the light of last week's article on current efforts to bring about better cooperation between Northville's school administration and city police, may we add a comment?

Parents, too, recognize that no solutions can be realized if officials (and some parents) "bury their heads in the sand."

A group of concerned citizens—not all parents of high school students—have been meeting periodically since December in an effort to set up some kind of recognizable organization to bridge the existing gap in communications between parents, teachers, students, school officials, interested citizens and law enforcement agencies.

School officials, faculty and student representatives have been appraised of these efforts and we have received their cooperation and support.

The result of these efforts, including discussions with successful groups from Bloomfield Hills and Livonia, was the preliminary establishment of a Northville High School Parents-Teachers-Students Organization (PTSO).

Temporary by-laws have been written and an organizational meeting has been scheduled for Thursday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the high school cafeteria.

It is hoped that such an organization can serve as a liaison between groups who seem to have a common goal.

Acting in a united effort to promote understanding between all parties, the PTSO could prove to be a real cohesive force in the community.

Certainly it is worth a try. When the initial meeting is held, it is hoped that any desired revisions to the first draft of the by-laws will be suggested by potential members. Concerns of citizens are expected to be aired in an orderly fashion.

We urge all concerned citizens to attend the March 7 session. It will be a most informal meeting and, with cooperation, will launch an effective effort toward solutions to problems which concern all of us.

'New Army' Plays Cupid; Welcome Married Couples

in 1970. He had graduated two years earlier. For a couple of years he worked for Wire Sales Company. But because his late father had been a career soldier before becoming city clerk in Plymouth, PFC Slider had a nagging urge to follow in his father's footsteps.

"Then one day I just went down to enlist," he says. "And if he was going to become a soldier, I decided he wasn't going to leave me at home," she says.

So they both enlisted in 1972. And Janeen was sent to Fort McClellan, and he to Fort Knox for eight weeks of basic training.

Following basic, Janeen went to Fort Leonard Wood for personnel specialist training and her husband went to Fort Gordon military police school.

"We finally got together at Fort Carson, Colorado—a heavenly place we call home," smiles Janeen. (See Top of the Deck on Page 10A).

Married soldiering "is wonderful," they agree, pointing out that under the new Army program (it's not as new in the Navy and Air Force) husband and wife cannot be separated—except for the period of their initial training.

"If one of us is assigned to a different place," he says, "the other must be sent there as well. Only way they can separate us is if Janeen or I should decide to split...but that's not going to happen."

The husband and wife privates first class contend "married soldiering" is doubly beneficial because "we get twice as much of everything the single soldier gets. Twice as much pay, twice as much food allowance, twice as much clothing allowance..."

And when they retire they'll receive twice as much pension.

As PFCs their combined "take home pay" is a little more than $1,000. And that will go up as they advance in rank.

The $1,000 includes allowances for food and lodging because they are living "off post" in the heart of Colorado Springs. It does not include medical assistance, which is entirely free.

Although they share equally in Army benefits, rank is not one of them. "Just because one of us makes corporal, doesn't mean the other is automatically promoted. We're on our own as far as rank goes," explains Steve. "It's strictly merit."

When one of them reaches the rank of sergeant, however, both will be eligible to live on the Army post in special quarters for married soldiers.

"It's really like having a civilian job, only the benefits are better. We live off post and go to work on post every day just as if we were civilians," says Janeen.

"Another benefit we have is shopping in the post commissary. We save about a third of what it would cost us if we shopped in a civilian store," adds Steve.

Will Janeen and Steve be court-martialed and drummed out of the service if she becomes pregnant?

"Absolutely not," she declares.

The Army isn't likely to stage a 21-gun salute, but they'll give Janeen a couple months leave to have her baby—at government expense—and then welcome her back with open arms, Steve insists.

What's more if Janeen decides later—before her enlistment is up—that raising a child as a servicewoman-mother is not to her liking, she may ask for and receive an honorable discharge without loss of benefits.

Crime Problems Probed

Following an article last week on student violations of the law being committed in Northville schools, new information on problems within the schools has been received and steps to solve student crime are continuing.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said he and his administrators are checking into several situations which have been called to their attention as existing in schools.

In addition, police, city and school representatives met last week to discuss the problem of student crime and to establish better cooperation between the groups dealing with drug, theft, alcohol and weapons violations which occur on school property.

Police, city and school representatives met last week to discuss the problem of student crime in Northville schools and establishing better cooperation between the groups in dealing with crime.

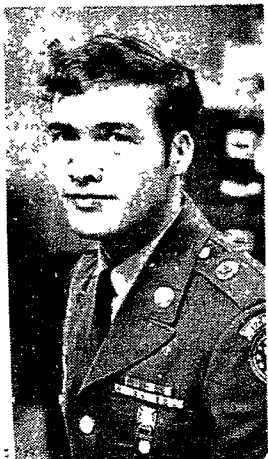

According to Spear, the meeting included representatives from the city and Michigan State Police, School Board President Stanley Johnston and City Manager Steven Walters.

Spear said three questions were identified, including:

- determining how serious the student crime problem is in Northville schools;
- what are the causes of those crimes; and
- what type of program should be developed to effectively deal with problems within the schools.

"We've got to establish some type of educational program for students, parents and staff members," Spear said. He added that the Parent, Teacher, Student Organization currently being formed at the high school would be involved in the program "once we've found answers to the three questions."

Spear said more meetings are planned between police agencies, school board representatives and administrators.

City Dislikes County 1-Mill Idea

The proposed one-mill special Wayne county tax is running into opposition from a number of communities—including the City of Northville.

Last week the Northville council directed City Attorney Philip Oglivie to draw up an appropriate resolution indicating the council's opposition to the millage proposal.

The proposal suggests a special one-mill levy for the purpose of raising money for beefed up police protection on both a county and a local level.

A special spring election has been suggested.

If approved, the levy would raise $13.5 million annually. Under County Board Chairman Robert FitzPatrick's plan, the county would return 80 percent of that revenue—or about $10.5 million spread over 43 cities and townships.

The money would be distributed through a "fair share" formula based on a combination of population and property tax base for each community.

The county would retain the remaining $2.8 million, according to FitzPatrick, to help finance its "county law enforcement and related activities."

Northville Council's intention to formally oppose the tax follows steps taken elsewhere in the county. The City of Romulus, for example, has endorsed a resolution opposing the special tax.

In a related action, Northville councilmen joined with VanBuren Township in urging that the special election—if it must be held—wait until the August primary or the November election.

"Holding local special elections is a waste of the taxpayers' money," councilmen contend. "Furthermore, Northville gave up its spring elections so that we could vote at one time to save money. The county can do the same."

As for the millage proposition itself, local councilmen see it as a county attempt to gain more money for the sheriff's department.

"They (county) are hoping that by giving back some of the tax money to local communities the people will support the tax."

Furthermore, they note that the county's share of the tax may be used by the sheriff's department, which patrols in townships but not in cities.

"What it would amount to," they say, "would be a subsidization of townships. If the city needed more police protection it would be cheaper to raise our own money than go through the county."

Races Planned

The 1974 snowmobile races sponsored by the Novi Jaycees have been rescheduled for this weekend, March 2 and 3.

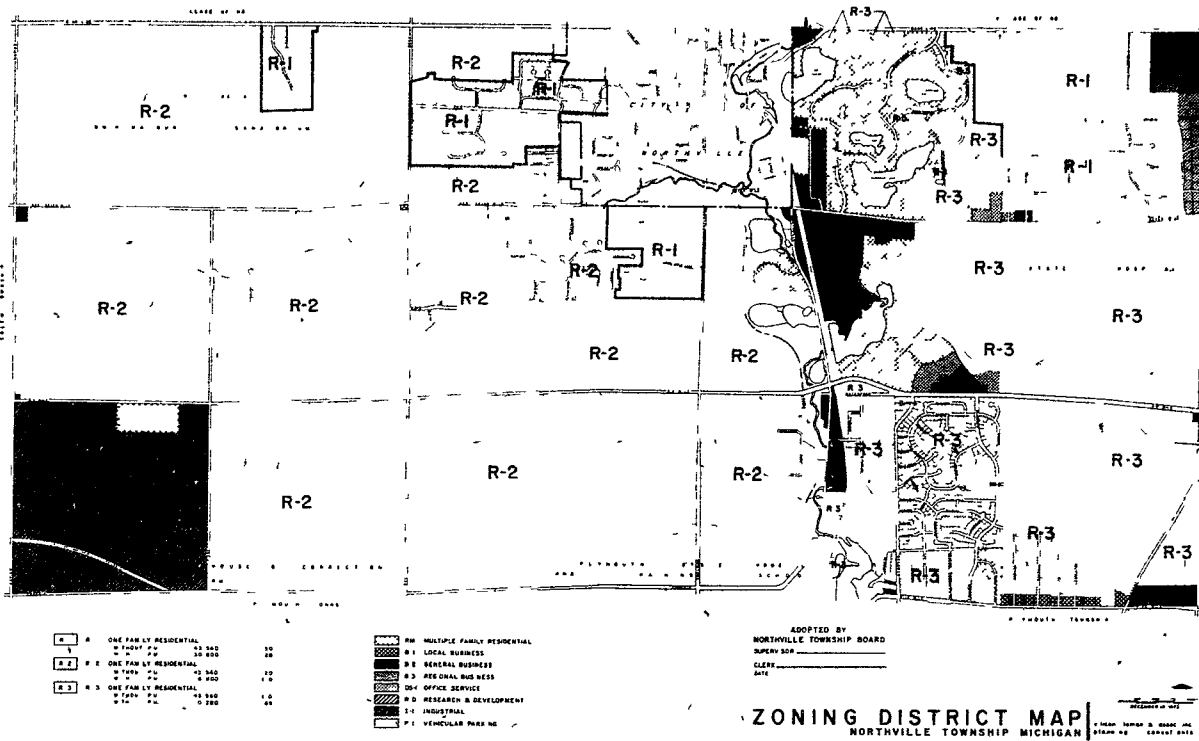

Originally slated to have taken place this past weekend, the races were cancelled due to the water which covered the quarter-mile drag strip course.

Lynn Dietrich, co-chairman for the races, announced that the races will be held this weekend in the Novi City Park.

The Quarter-Mile Drag Races are slated for Saturday, March 2. Registration is set for 10 a.m. with the races getting underway at 12 noon. The drag races will be held on Walled Lake at the City Park.

The Obstacle Course Races will be held Sunday, March 3, in the City Park. Again, registration is slated for 10 a.m. with the races scheduled to get underway at 12 noon. For further information contact either Dietrich at 349-3393 or Henry Tank at 349-9493.

ZONING MAP APPROVED—By unanimous action this week, the Northville Township Board adopted this new zoning map and a completely revised zoning ordinance. The board also accepted the new master plan by a split vote.

For Mobile Home Park

Fill Permit Recommended

Township planners accepted a topographic grading plan and recommended Tuesday night that a landfill permit be granted Northville Mobile Home Village.

Both actions concerned the proposed mobile home park at Seven Mile and Northville Road.

Also, planners officially acknowledged receipt of a letter of intent from the developer, Steward Oldford, as per the Wayne County Circuit Court consent judgment. Basically, the letter indicates the developer will—

1. Construct a general office for the staff.
2. Provide playground facilities.
3. Provide storage facilities.
4. Provide any other facilities that may be required by state regulation.
5. Provide landscaping.

Concerning the landfill work, Township Attorney Donald Morgan and Township Engineer William Mosher gave lengthy explanations about the events leading to their conclusion that site preparation legitimately requires that the developer obtain a landfill permit.

Although the movement of earth on the premises was initially interpreted as ordinary site work to prepare the land for the development, the township officials concluded that the amount of earth fill required far exceeds what might normally be considered site preparation.

Mosher, for example, estimated work will require the movement of 135,000 cubic yards of earth—a portion of which must be brought to the site. He figured 14.15 acres of the 25-acre site will require filling above existing elevations.

Landfill permits are issued only by the township board, upon the recommendation of the planning commission. Tuesday's action, which stipulated that only earth fill be used, constituted the planners' recommendation for granting the landfill permit.

The recommendation goes now to the township board.

The grading plan planners found acceptable, which was revised as of February 26, represents the final plan by which the land is to be prepared for development—unless changed by governmental requirement.

spokesmen for the developer asserted.

Adoption of site plan rules—which Attorney Morgan contends should be part of the new zoning ordinance and which Engineer Mosher and the planner's consultant, George Vilican, believe should be provided for in the ordinance but maintained separately—was tabled. Planners decided to take up the proposed site plans rules and requirements at a special meeting on Wednesday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Also to be reviewed at that March 20 meeting will be proposed changes in rules of procedure governing the commission

New Ordinance Adopted

to properly notify board members of changes in the ordinance.

She wondered why RD zoning was stricken from the new zoning map but not from the zoning text. Other members explained that planners and their consultant liked the RD zoning and that they concluded that it could, at a later date, be requested even though it is not now pinpointed on the map.

The new zoning ordinance takes effect April 1.

Concerning the master plan, the board authorized changes of errors in both text and map discovered by Supervisor Lawrence Wright and other members of the board.

Adoption of the ordinance by the township board did not require a second public hearing as is required in the City of Northville, it was pointed out.

The hearing on the township ordinance was conducted by the township planning commission prior to Christmas. In the city, planners also have conducted a public hearing on the city's new zoning ordinance and map but it must now go to another hearing before the city council prior to final approval.

Board Lacks YRS Surveys

has said it prefers a voluntary program," Johnston commented. Johnston said he believed students' "over reaction at the high school has not been caused entirely by the board. It has been caused by some teachers in some pre-education of students using the wrong ideas."

Board members restated the fact that if students are not satisfied with the YRS curriculum "they may withdraw from the program. They will be allowed to schedule classes in both the traditional and YRS programs."

Mrs. Gucken added that if the "board takes the position to mandate YRS at the high school without parent or student approval, relationships between the school and home will be damaged."

Trustee Martin Rinehart said he feared that "if we mandate the program for one year it will fall apart after that. I am a strong supporter of YRS and believe it is too valuable of a program to let that happen."

Sled Dog Racing's Fun

'On King, On You Huskies!'

By ERNEST BROWN

Guiding a team of mixed Alaskan and Siberian huskies over frozen snow at 0 degrees Fahrenheit for 10 miles....

Sound like your kind of fun? No, dog sled racing isn't for everyone.

But you'd be hard-pressed to come up with a sport Al Rasegan would enjoy more.

And the Lyon Township resident (56414 Nine Mile) and Ford Warren plant executive is not alone—Mike Sheppard of South Lyon, Hubert Winkelbauer of Brighton and Jerry Malloy of Ann Arbor also race dog sleds—in his love for his sport among area residents.

Rasegan's love for racing dog sleds was born in 1964 while he was attending school in Boston.

"It's a very big sport out East," he points out. "That's where I bought my first dog."

What kind of dog does he use and is this important?

"Huskies. I race a cross between the Alaskan and the Siberian husky which is bred for speed and stamina. My wife and I now raise our own dogs," Rasegan explains. "Some of our pups are now a part of my five-to-seven dog team."

His choice of huskies is natural, Rasegan says, pointing out that they are intelligent, strong and swift and are also light in weight.

"I want a dog to weigh 45 to 48 pounds. Speed is the main ingredient of all but the lead dog. Malamutes are freight sled dogs because they're strong—but they're too heavy, weighing up to 100 pounds—for racing," Rasegan says.

His remark about the lead dog was intended to introduce that most important factor in sled racing.

"'Tilley' is a good lead dog (his present lead) because she knows and understands my verbal commands ('gee', 'haw') and has the drive and the desire and ability to run, the right attitude and durability and she's intelligent."

A dog's gender is not important; only his "heart", Rasegan claims.

Rasegan races in the 5-7 dog class (8-10 miles). Other classes recognized by the Great Lakes Sled Dog Association, which is international despite being based in Michigan and to which Rasegan and his wife and son belong, are the 3-5 (four to five mile runs) and the unlimited (10-20 mile courses).

There is also a children's class in which Alby, the Rasegans' six-year old son, has had some success. This is held on a straight course and the team is one dog and one child, according to Rasegan. His wife plans to begin racing next year, as well.

'Racing virtually ends in Michigan by the first of March, so we'll be spending this weekend in Ontario'

Races this season have included competition in Traverse City, Kalkaska, Mio, Ranch Rudolph (near Kalkaska), Grand Rapids and Grand Valley State College in Michigan and Owen Sound, Ontario.

"Racing virtually ends in Michigan by the first of March, so we'll be spending this weekend in Ontario," Rasegan said.

A fourth in Grand Rapids, a fifth at Owen Sound and an eighth at Mio have been his top performances this year. He notes one oddity on his team size.

"At Mio I did not do too well on Saturday with my seven dogs. On Sunday, one was ill and I had to run with six. I actually did better with the team short one dog!"

Rasegan's practice area is either at Cunningham Lake near Brighton on snow-covered, little-traveled roads, or on his own 20 acres.

He and his racing family keep busy developing that little but better strain of sled dog and looking for new and bigger races to enter.

"You don't see many fields larger than the 110 entered up at Kalkaska in January, though," he admits.

What you have to do though is take pains to constantly improve your team and your own training techniques if you take this sport, or any, seriously, Rasegan claims.

Especially if you want to race a dog sled team every winter weekend that offers enough snow, the way area sled team enthusiasts do.

A Column About People, Places 'n Things

BY PRESERVING one of Northville's old houses, James and Louise Cutler have provided their realty company with charming but functional new offices.

"We love it, and we think the community will, too," said Mrs. Cutler over the weekend as Cutler Realty moved from across the street to the new offices at the northeast corner of Rayson and Center streets.

The thoroughly rejuvenated 1890-vintage house, with distinctive railed porches, gives Cutler five roomy offices specially decorated by Mrs. Cutler. Cutler's old offices on the southeast corner, where the firm has been located for the past 14 years, has been leased to The Detroit News.

The exterior of the house, where Ambrose Fritz raised a large family before it was sold a year ago to Cutler, has attractive new yellow aluminum siding, white trim, remodeled porches that were suffering from dry-rot, and a new north entrance off a parking lot.

While extensive work has been done on the exterior its design is unchanged. Much the same can be said of the interior, except that Mrs. Cutler has chosen colorful vintage wallpaper and curtains and functional but bright carpeting to enhance the motif.

The old, dark woodwork also was preserved. The kitchen, where uneven walls made wallpapering difficult, was paneled. Ceilings in the house have been lowered, but they are still higher than in modern buildings.

A foot of the building on the south end of the house, supported only by a beam and corner stones, was removed.

The upstairs of the house, containing two bedrooms, is sealed off until parking for the business can be enlarged. The ornate stairway, meanwhile, has been converted into a pretty planter area by Mrs. Cutler.

A new heating unit has been installed, including air conditioning, and the building has been completely rewired.

Superstructure of the building, according to Cutler, indicates two additions were added over the years—on the rear (east) and on the north side.

A farm-type colonial house, it was sold in 1944 by Pearl Miller, according to a deed in Cutler's possession. That deed was notarized by Leona Parmelee.

A new roof is to be installed and the chimney has to be rebuilt, said Cutler.

And Mrs. Cutler, who is a board member on both the United Northwest Realty Association and the Western Wayne County Board of Realities, hinted the comfortable porch may be sporting an old-fashioned swing by grand-opening time in the spring.

AN INFORMATIVE program entitled "The World of Real Estate and You" will be offered free as a public service on Thursday, February 28, 7:30 at 23603 Farmington Road, south of Grand River.

Real Estate One, sponsors of the program, says that it will help to answer many of the questions most often asked about how to get into the real estate business, what it's like once you're there and what you can expect to gain from a career in real estate.

For any further details, call our manager, Bob Holden at 477-1111.

OPENING of Pease Paint & Wall Paper Company's remodeled new location is scheduled Monday, March 4, in downtown Northville, General Manager Mrs. Lois Francis has announced.

The store, managed by Mrs. Donna Boshoven, is moving from 115 East Main to 107 North Center Street in the building that formerly housed Northville Hardware. The new quarters have been completely remodeled, including a redesigned rear entrance.

With the move, Pease Paint doubles the size of its Northville store, and it permits expansion of the arts and crafts department and its wallpaper stock.

Pease Paint also has a store in Plymouth.

STOP-N-GO FOODS, Inc., a Dayton, Ohio based convenience food store chain, reported a 163 percent improvement in earnings before taxes over a comparable twenty-eight week period last year. President John H. Johnston, in the firm's Second Quarter Report, pointed out to shareholders the significant increase in earnings per share for the first twenty-eight weeks of Fiscal 1974; $0.69 in 1974 compared to $0.27 per share in 1973.

THE BASIC course in real estate taught at Schoolcraft College has been certified by the United Northwest Realty Association (UNRA) Education Committee.

Because of this certification, students who enroll and successfully complete the course will fulfill the first college level educational requirement specified by UNRA, and they will no longer have to take the equivalency examination. It covers any who enrolled at Schoolcraft during the fall semester, 1973.

The basic course is entitled "Business 181-Real Estate Principles." It is an introductory course in real estate, and covers the Primer on Michigan Real Estate Law, including general rules, license fees and other real estate principles.

In addition to Business 181, the College offers "Business 182-Real Estate Practices" and "Business 187-Real Estate Appraisal." Both courses extend a person's knowledge and competence in the real estate profession.

Although classes for the winter semester are closed, real estate courses will begin again in April during the spring semester. For further information call the Schoolcraft Business Education office at 591-6400, extension 465. The College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

CARL E. PFEIFFER, president of Michigan Seamless Tube Company, announced that the Board of Directors at their regular meeting on February 12, 1974 made two executive promotions.

Kenneth E. Stone was promoted to Vice President-Finance and Gary L. Hellner to Assistant Treasurer.

Stone had served as Corporate Treasurer-Controller since joining Michigan Seamless Tube Company in 1970. Prior to joining the firm Stone was affiliated with Haskins and Sells, a certified public accounting firm, the White Motor Company and Lear Jet Corporation.

Stone, who attended Western Reserve University, resides with his wife and three children on Silverside Drive near S.L.

Hellner started his career with Michigan Seamless Tube Company in June, 1967 as an accountant, and has progressively advanced to his present position. He received his formal education at Cleary College and was an accountant with Trilex Corporation before joining Michigan Seamless. He resided with his wife and two children in Ann Arbor.

Michigan Seamless Tube Company is the largest independent tube manufacturer in the country, with tube mills located in South Lyon, Michigan; Gulf States Tube Corporation in Rosenberg, Texas; Standard Tube Company, Detroit, Michigan; and Standard Tube Company in Shelby, Ohio.

JAMES R. SNYDER of J.R. Snyder Company, Inc. of Novi has been elected secretary of the Detroit Mason Contractors Association for 1974.

Earlier at the association's annual meeting, Snyder won re-election to a new three-year-term on the DMCA Board as did Frank Soave of J.R. Snyder Company.

Re-elected president of the association is Francis Costella, president of the Monte Costella, Inc. of Southfield.

FIFTY YEARS in the insurance business calls for celebrating by Charles Roby whose office, Charles T. Roby Insurance, is located at 53510 Grand River in New Hudson.

Roby winters in Florida and the office is operated by his daughter, Mrs. Robert (Barbara) Beckel, during that period.

He started with and has stayed with John Hancock Life Insurance and has added other companies. Roby initially sold insurance in Detroit, coming to New Hudson around 1947.

NORTHVILLE SQUARE shopping center has two more new businesses, with several others planning to open soon.

Already open is Transcontinental Travel Bureau, and tomorrow (Friday) Richard's Boys and Girls Wear opens.

The latter will feature a large selection of sports wear for boys—sizes infant to 14, and for girls—infants to young juniors. Within the same store, in a special department called The Place, will be the fashions for young juniors.

Also featured will be jewelry, gift items, handbags, accessories, outer wear, etc.

Local manager is Peggy Debusschère.

Richard's Boys and Girls Wear operates stores at Westborn Center in Dearborn, Tech Plaza in Warren, Dykeland in Sterling Heights, Wonderland, Lincoln Center, Pontiac Mall, North Hill Plaza and at 270 West Seven Mile Road.

Also located in the lower level of Northville Square is Transcontinental Travel Bureau, managed by Judy Whalen.

Featuring a complete range of travel adventures—including airlines trips, package tours, and cruises—the Northville branch is one of three operated by Transcontinental, which is owned by J.Z. Keilani.

Headquartered in the Eastland Center professional building in Harper Woods, the firm also has branches in the Bloomfield Shopping Center on West Long Lake Road and in the Newburg Plaza in Livonia.

Other stores in the new Northville Square, located at Main and Wing streets, due to open soon are:

Elias Brothers Family Restaurant, Rissio's Smoke Shop, and Land of Hi-Fi. All will be located on the lower level.

Scout Arranges Benefit

U-M Band to Play

University of Michigan Jazz Band will perform next month in South Lyon—thanks to the efforts of a 14-year-old freshman who has his eyes set on obtaining the coveted Eagle Scout Award.

The special concert is billed for Sunday, March 17 at 3 p.m. in the South Lyon High School gymnasium.

Proceeds of the concert are to be used to build a picnic pavilion in McHattie Park in South Lyon. Cost of the pavilion is estimated at $4,000.

Presenting the concert will be Jeff Whitmarsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth A. Whitmarsh, 23 Meadowbrook Lane, and a member of Boy Scout Troop 38. The concert is the youth's community service project—one of the requirements for obtaining the Eagle award.

The project has the approval of the South Lyon city council and planning commission, and it has been endorsed by the Clinton Valley Council, Troop 38 Adult Committee, and several local community organizations.

Tickets for the concert are now available at $2.50 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens.

Interested persons may call 437-2929 for information or send their checks to "McHattie Park Pavilion Fund," to the Pavilion Fund, P.O. Box 151, South Lyon, 48178. Tickets will be returned by mail.

All funds are being handled through the State Savings Bank of South Lyon.

March

Dame Winter Has More Frosty Frolics

March is the month of Spring's arrival, according to the Gregorian calendar, but according to the Michigan Calendar of Events, dame winter has a few more frosty frolics to fling before she takes her leave.

Topping the list is the International Ski-Jumping Championships at Pine Mountain—the world's highest artificial ski jump—near Iron Mountain, March 2-3. Approximately 75 champion jumpers from the U.S., Canada and Europe are expected for the annual competition. From the top of the 156 foot scaffold to the end of the out-run, the jumpers travel 932 feet (about three city blocks), leaving the out-run at approximately 70 miles per hour.

Other snow coated activities include: a Snowmobile Safari from Sand Lake, the Brockway Mountain Cross Country Ski Race at Copper Harbor and the State Indoor Skating Championships in Yack Arena, Wyandotte, all on March 2. The Copper Country Relay Ski Races are set for March 3 at Mandan near Copper Harbor and on March 16, a Cross Country Ski Touring Race at Twin Peaks Resort, Frederic.

Outdoorama, March 2-10, looks on the "sunnier" side of the month and ahead to warm weather fun. This year's show will be held at the Artillery Armory in Southfield and features more than 30 separate fishing displays alone. Miss Donna Monty, international fly and bait casting champion, is this year's very special guest.

The list of exhibits, exhibitions and displays seems to go on and on and on, and includes an archery range, champion Arabian horses, a variety of hunting exhibits, roller skating and directions to some inviting vacation destinations in Michigan.

When spring cometh, so cometh the urge to remodel or redecorate the old homestead—or even build a new one. If you're feeling the urge and looking for ideas, chances are you'll find some good ones at the Builder's Home Show, IMA Auditorium, Flint, March 5-10; Home Builder's and Furnishings Show, Park Place Motor Inn, Traverse City, March 7-10; and the Home Show, Civic Center, Holland, March 12-16. Also in keeping with the "budding" season is the Flower Show, March 7-9, at the County Center Building, Kalamazoo.

As the snow starts to melt, the sap starts to rise in Michigan's sugar maples and the tempting aroma of maple sugaring fills the air. Maple Sugaring Weekend at the Nature Center, Kalamazoo, March 16-17 is not only a "sweet treat", but also an interesting and educational experience. You can watch maple syrup being made from running sap and see sugaring as it was done many long years ago.

Miscellaneous speaking, there are several other good times going on that you might want to take part in. Just for instance, the Merry Marketeers Flea Market will set up shop in Rogers Plaza, Grand Rapids, March 2-3.

The All Sports Show, which includes products, seminars, demonstrations and tournaments, will be at the Light Guard Armory, Detroit, March 8-10.

More than 175 exhibitors from all parts of the country will gather with their treasures for the Spring Antiques and Collectors Show-Sale at the Light Guard Armory, Detroit, March 13-17. The County Center Building, Kalamazoo is the place for a Coin Show March 16 and a Boat Show, March 21-24.

"On stage" around the state this month is "Animal Farm" at the Bower Theatre, Flint, March 1-2. The Greenfield Village Players will present Robert Sherwood's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" in the Henry Ford Museum Theatre, March 1-8.

Henrik Ibsen's classic drama, "Hedda Gabler", will be the final production of the '73-'74 season at Kellogg Community College, Battle Creek, March 15-16 and 22-23. Bower Theatre, Flint will offer "Fiddler On The Roof", March 28-30.

Michigan's Artrain stops at Livonia, March 3-10 and an Art Show is scheduled for the Westmain Mall, Kalamazoo, March 22-24. Try a little March in Michigan. You'll find a little winter and a little spring mixed together in a lot of fun things to do. For a list of them all, write the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 48926, for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events.

Horse's Mouth

'A Good Judge Has Been A Horseman'

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi 48178.

What do you consider the primary attributes to being a good judge?

L.M.—Howell
First a judge must have been a horseman and know horses. He or she has to know what it takes to ride the horse in the particular event he is judging.

I don't think judges are dishonest; however, a lot of people lack the knowledge to do the job that they've accepted.

Next a judge should have a pattern and be pretty well set in that pattern. When he says something or does something, everyone involved—the spectator, the management, the exhibitor can reasonably understand what the judge has done.

Too, a judge must be prompt in decisions. The longer it takes a judge to make up his mind, the more it shows a lack of understanding or self-confidence. The judge should pay attention to every gait and what is going on in the ring.

No talking with the ringmaster or other officials during a class. On the line up of that class he should tie the class without a great deal of searching back and forth for an "after the fact" type of thought.

Most judges lose their audiences, their spectators and their exhibitors from dillydallying too much in the back line up trying to decide.

IDENTITY PROBLEM
We heard recently about a man who had trouble telling his two horses apart, so he finally cut the tail off one of them. When it grew back, he had the problem again, so he roached the mane off the other one.

This, too, worked only for the length of time it took the hair to grow back. Finally, he came up with a solution. He got out his tape measure and stood them side by side—and his problem was solved. It seemed the white horse was two inches taller than the black one.

Sally's comment on 'no fertilizer shortage among horse raisers' in her February 6-7 column attracted the following response from a regular reader:

"Dear Sally Saddle:
"A horse produces per 1,000 pounds of weight, 10 tons of manure per year.
"Happy shoveling; oh, my aching back."
Pitch Fork Sue"

HEY DAY FOR HORSES

Americans, whether they know it or not, may yet profit from the gasoline shortage. Right now things look pretty grim, what with rising prices, problems of rationing and mandatory car pools.

The automobile, even in its hey day, still falls short of what can be done with a horse-drawn vehicle on a day's hay. There's a sort of natural kinship between horse and driver that has never been part of man's relationship with mechanical transportation. An animal can, when properly disposed, be a real lifesaver.

Take the case of the drunk driver. If he gets behind the wheel of his auto in that condition he's headed for trouble, which can be a stiff fine, property damage or injury. But, ah, the horse who knows the way home can get him who is most stoned safely to the front door.

The homing horse has other advantages. On a date for example, just drop the reins and he'll ease along while lovers pursue a pastime more exciting than herding an iron horse down the highway.

Keep thinking about it. You will sooner or later realize that all the changes that whisked up from the horse and buggy to the automobile didn't really present progress at all. In truth, the mechanized vehicle has brought far more trouble into our lives than it ever helped us get rid of: legions of highway dead and crippled, property damage, the defacing effects of freeways, noise pollution, air pollution, insurance pollution. Keep thinking.

As far as peaceful and, because of that, enjoyable transportation is concerned, the horse is without equal. Even the laws that govern the movement of traffic on the nations byways seem to acknowledge the ultimate return of the horse.

They state, in general, that anyone driving or riding a horse on a highway has all the rights of a driver of a motorized vehicle except where a rule, by its very nature, can have no application.

We can see right off that the average buckboard operator isn't going to have any trouble with windshield wiper inspection. The laws will, of course, blend with the needs of the people.

I can see it now. We will have drivers' ed. classes that teach harnessing, hitching and reining of horses rather than turning an ignition key. Sally Saddle.

Campaign Results in Vaccine Use Hike

LANSING—What an increase! Ninety-one per cent for measles vaccine, 68 per cent for rubella vaccine and 56 per cent for polio vaccine.

That's the report from the Michigan Department of Public Health after an all-out campaign to acquaint citizens with the benefits of vaccine.

John A. Orris, chief of the Department's immunization program, released the final figures for the October, 1973 antigen (vaccine) doses, comparing them with doses for October, 1972.

THE FIGURES show 27,335 doses of measles vaccine dispensed last October, compared with 14,340 doses for October, 1972; 26,353 rubella vaccine doses, compared with 15,688 for the previous October; and 59,101 polio vaccine doses, compared with 37,962 doses for October, 1972.

Orris says that in each of the months compared, private doctors used about 40 per cent of the total, while health departments dispensed the remainder.

THANKS GO to many folks for helping increase the totals.

Among others was a group of medical students from Wayne State University, who helped man vaccination points in the inner city areas of Detroit. The Michigan State Medical Society as well as media representatives throughout the state, also helped wage the continuing war against measles, German measles and polio.

Orris says that a small ongoing committee will continue to review progress and problems in the field of vaccinations.

DEPARTMENT Director, Dr. Maurice Reizen, stressed immunization against these three diseases in a recent speech before local health officers.

Reizen said immunization was among a number of "sensitive issues related to organization, funding and performance which must be addressed in individual programs right now..."

MECHANICAL picking of some Michigan crops has been common in the past few years. Not so for apples—but that will all change, predicts the secretary of the Michigan Horticultural Society, Jerome Hull.

He says a lack of pickers is leading to increasing dependence on machines to harvest Michigan's apple crop.

In fact, Hull says that the major portion of the state's apple crop used for pies and applesauce will be harvested by machine within the next five years.

THE AUTOMATIC apple

pickers are far from perfect at this point. They move up to a tree, shake it and wait for the shower of fruit to tumble down. In this process, some of the fruit—up to 10 per cent—is bound to be bruised and even lost, some processors say.

But when apples are cut up for pies and sauce, as are some 60 per cent of Michigan's crop, the bruises don't make that much difference.

OPEN MEETING legislation awaiting action in the Legislature would, in most cases, assure Michigan citizens of being able to hear who says what and votes how on a myriad of issues now in a sort of grey area.

With few exceptions—discussions of collective bargaining, lawsuits, employees personnel matters, etc.—public bodies would be required to hold open meetings.

AN OFFSHOOT of that legislation, assuming another exception isn't written into the bill before it becomes law, would directly affect the Legislature itself.

Legislative committees now occasionally "round robin" bills out for action by the entire House or Senate. That means simply that no formal meeting is called. Instead, a piece of paper is sent around to committee members, who sign the paper if they want to vote the bill out of committee.

According to a Senate backer of the open meeting bill, Patrick McCollough, that practice would become a thing of the past if the bill became law.

Michigan is a Democratic state. When President Nixon swept the state from Sen. George McGovern, the experts explained that it wasn't really Republican, but anti-McGovern sentiment that did the trick.

Today, there is much anti-Nixon talk, just as there is in every other state. But there are pro-Nixon forces.

AT LEAST SIX "support the president" organizations are at work in the state now. And the Lansing one showed results recently.

A full-page ad appearing in the local newspapers urged Nixon backers to proclaim themselves by sending coupons to key senators and congressmen.

The coupon asked the lawmakers "to consider the business of Watergate swiftly and judiciously and get on with the business of America".

The response was pretty good, it seems, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., got about 1,000 of the coupons in two weeks. (Only about 70 of that total had the word "impeach" written in.)

told that sales and earnings for the first quarter ending January 31, 1974, maintained an upward trend created by continuing strong demand for seamless and welded steel tubular products.

This meeting marked the first time the stockholders met in any city other than South Lyon, the home of the parent plant.

President Carl E. Pfeiffer noted that the 15.2 percent sales increase and 61.6 percent earnings increase for the quarter just ended over the same quarter one year ago "reflect the heavy demand for our company's products by the energy industry."

Directors of MST declared a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share payable May 24 to shareholders of record April 25, 1974, in separate action at the annual meeting.

Also from Houston came word of amendments to the certificate of incorporation permitting staggered terms on the MST Board of Directors. Shareholders also approved an amendment requiring 80 percent shareholder approval for a merger or consolidation.

S&L CLOTHING, located in Novi's Roman Plaza off Novi Road near Grand River, is conducting a going-out-of-business sale this week, Manager Ellen Bilot announced.

A LAUNDROMAT will be the first tenant to move into the new shopping plaza located on Pontiac Trail just south of Krogers.

A spokesman for the plaza, Joel Feldman, said that the opening date for the first store was scheduled for March 15. He also noted that tenants for the other three stores were only tentative at this time.

"We have nothing definite on the other three tenants," said Feldman. "However, quite a few of the calls about the plaza have been from the greater South Lyon area from local people who may be interested in setting up their own businesses."

Feldman added that one of the inquiries had come from an established local business that may want to change locations.

Feldman said the shopping plaza was 7,500 square feet. The two corner stores, he said, would be 2,250 square feet while the middle stores would each be 1,500 square feet.

According to Feldman, the shopping plaza, located just west of South Lyon Woods Park, was designed primarily to accommodate over 650 mobile home residents of the area.

that they object to the discussion of it, but it is a crime that occurs once every minute in this country," said Joan Douglas, a member of the Ruth Circle publicity committee.

Federal Bureau of Investigation statistics show an 11 percent increase in the crime between 1971 and 1972, she pointed out. And criminologists estimate that only one of 10 incidents ever comes to the attention of authorities.

"It is also a strange crime, in that our society, by its beliefs, attitudes and sometimes by the conduct of its police, medical authorities and courts, often seem to despise its victims more than its perpetrators," she said.

Mrs. Douglas pointed out that the Women's Crisis Center's Rape Education project, in progress for nearly two years, has succeeded in focusing some community attention on the problem and in putting pressure on local law enforcement agencies to deal more effectively with a growing problem of rape, assault and harassment on the streets.

"All women of the area are invited to this most informative and essential program," she said. "Come and bring a friend, neighbor or teen-age daughter. Teenagers bring your mother, grandmother or aunt. Come and find out the facts and what you can do."

To Meet

The Livingston County Holiness Association will sponsor the film, "A Thief in the Night" at its March 5 meeting.

According to the Reverend Richard Warner, president of the group, the film concerns how Jesus will come again. "It is a stirring film on a much discussed subject," he said.

It will be shown at the Brighton Wesleyan Church at 228 Fourth Street. The public is invited.

Stock Split Candidates Slim in 1974

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. In 1974 for the first time in many years, the compilation of a list of logical stock-split candidates is a difficult task. The 1973 stock market decline so decimated stock prices that there are now only an extremely limited number of issues that would seem in a favorable position to split.

Naturally, if the stock of a company is continually sinking to a new yearly low—and frequently since late October the list of such issues has been lengthy—it would be quite unlikely for a management to consider splitting the stock. Such action is most often taken during a period in which the issues are moving upward, usually into new high ground.

AS AN EXAMPLE of how stock split activity dried up last year, it should be noted that in 1973 there were only 488 splits of five-for-four shares or greater (or stock dividends of 25 percent or more). This compared with a total of 760 for 1972. During the second half of last year there were only 125 splits compared with 363 for the first half.

Of course, later in 1974 the outlook for an increased number of stock splits might well brighten should the market stage a substantial comeback. As of this writing, however, candidates for an early split are few and far between.

One of the foremost criteria for a stock split is the price range in which the issue sells. Most managements like to have their company's stock actively traded, and in recent years the most popular price range for investor purchases has been $25-$50 a share. More investors have bought significant numbers of shares at these levels than at higher prices because they can usually buy in round lots of 100 shares. Then, when good-grade issues rise to the approximate $60-$100 range, they are generally regarded as logical split possibilities. The split ratio will not necessarily be two for one, but may be any multiple or percentage thereof.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT reason for companies splitting their stock has been the government limitation on dividend boosts to 4 percent over the average payment made in the previous three years. For many industrial firms this is unrealistically low.

Therefore, in order to sweeten the pot for stockholders, many managements (at least prior to this year) decided to split their stock. In most instances the split was accompanied by a small increase in the cash payout because a split by itself does not mean additional income for the holder.

Milford, Harrison Scare Northville Five

Any coach worth his whistle can tell you there's no such thing as an easy victory.

Any doubts about the veracity of that statement were summarily dismissed by Walt Koepke and the members of his Northville High School basketball team last week.

After a season full of swapping buckets on more or less even terms with such Class A super-teams as Livonia Franklin (16-3), Waterford Mott (16-3), and Livonia Churchill (18-1), the Mustangs suddenly found themselves pitted against two teams - Milford and Farmington Harrison - with a combined victory total of four.

So Todd Eis went out and dumped in 50 points, Doug Crisan hauled in bushel of rebounds, Jim Yanoschik engineered 73 steals, and the Mustangs scored 100 points in each game, right?

Wrong. As a matter of fact, Northville was lucky to come away with a pair of wins as they twice had to come from behind in the final minutes of the game before securing the victories.

A pair of clutch free throws by Yanoschik proved decisive in a 47-44 triumph over Milford, while a late surge carried the Mustangs to a 68-59 verdict over Coach Bob Sutter's Harrison Hawks.

In spite of their less-than-awesome nature, the two victories enabled the Northville cagers to realize a couple of milestones.

The wins pushed the Mustangs' record to 11-8 and thus assured them of their first winning season since 1970 when Bob Kucher coached a team led by Ror Hubbard and Bernie Bach to an 11-6 record. With only one regular-season game left (tomorrow's clash with Plymouth Canton), the Mustangs can finish the 1973-74 season with either an 12-8 or an 11-9 record.

Like Milford and Harrison, incidentally, Canton has won just two games this year.

The victory over Harrison also enabled the Mustangs to clinch third place in the Western Six—their highest finish since entering the conference three years ago. Now 5-4 against conference competition, the Mustangs have a two-game edge over fourth-place Walled Lake Western. (3-6).

The Mustangs were never quite able to get untracked in their 47-44 victory over Milford. They took a 10-8 lead after a sluggish first quarter, but then fell behind 25-21 at the half and still trailed 35-32 at the three-quarter mark.

It wasn't until the game's closing minutes when the Northville five finally regained the lead. Yanoschik, Northville's scrappy 5-8 senior guard, converted a pair of free throws in the final seconds to clinch the narrow 47-44 victory.

"Dave Torrance (Milford coach) is one of the best coaches around," commented

"Fortunately for us, their big forward (Barry Kloenhammer) twisted an ankle and they had to abandon their man-to-man for a zone so they could keep him in there. We play pretty well against a zone and were able to pull it out," the Northville coach continued.

Tom Eis was the only Mustang in double figures against the Redskins as he bucketed 11 points—two more than Yanoschik who tallied nine. Kloenhammer, Milford's rugged 6-5 forward, led all scorers with 24 points.

After the first quarter of Northville's game with Harrison, it appeared as if the Mustangs were going to blow the Hawks right off the court.

Paced by Joe Bishop, Northville raced off to a 10-0 lead and at one point were ahead 18-4 as they ended the quarter with a 22-8 lead.

"We just played a fabulous first quarter," commented Koepke. "It was the best we've played defensively all year and we were playing well on offense as well."

But then the Mustangs lost their touch. Harrison whittled the Northville lead down to six points, 35-29, at the half; played the Mustangs on even terms through the third period; and finally caught and went ahead 59-56 midway through the fourth quarter.

Just as suddenly as they had lost their hot hand, however, the Mustangs regained it and outscored the Hawks 13-0 in the final three minutes of the game to pull out the victory.

Todd Eis, Northville's 6-3 senior forward, regained his scoring touch against Harrison as he led the Mustangs with 24 points and 11 rebounds. Tom Eis, the 6-4 Mustang center, joined his brother in double figures by tossing in 12 points. Harrison's Bob Mason led all scorers with a 25-point performance.

The Mustangs will bring their regularly-scheduled season to a close tomorrow (Friday) when they play host to Casey Cavelle's Plymouth Canton squad. The Mustangs edged the Chiefs 54-51 when the two teams met earlier in the season. Canton is 1-8 in conference play and 2-15 overall.

SO WHO'S NUREYEV?—Northville's John Boland is hardly a picture of grace as he lays up a shot against Milford with legs flying in opposite directions. But the 6-2 junior forward's style proved effective, nevertheless, as his two-pointer helped the Mustangs to a 47-44 victory.

Season's Almost Over As Novi Drops 2 More

If Novi's varsity five has been waiting to spring a surprise, it had better act quickly.

The Wildcats have just one more chance to post a win in the Southeastern Conference this season...and that chance comes tomorrow night when arch-rival South Lyon arrives for the regular season finale.

Following a 59-55 squeaker over Brighton last week, the Lions come to town determined to maintain their victory edge (7-6) in the conference.

Last-time fourth-place South Lyon tangled with Ron Flutur's quintet, the Wildcats lost their claws, 73-45. It was the first of a seemingly endless string of Southeastern losses for Novi whose only claim to greatness this season has been a 53-51 non-league triumph over Fowlerville.

Novi has been so badly beaten in most of its games that taken together, winning opponents have scored nearly twice as many points—1,223 to 656.

Two latest of these losses were: a 66-37 defeat at the hands of non-league Walled Lake Western last week Tuesday and a 89-44 loss to Milan on Friday.

As has happened several times this year, Novi started out relatively strong against Western—keeping within five points at halftime, 30-25. But from there on it was all over. Western put together two 18-point quarters in the second half of the game while Novi mustered only 12 points total.

Walled Lake led 9-12, 30-25, and 48-32 at the quarter marks en route to its 66-37 victory.

Top scorers of the game were Walled Lake's 6-5 forward John Spranger who tallied 15 points and Kevin Tobel who added 14 more.

When Milan's Greg Armstrong potted five two-pointers and one charity shot in the first quarter of Friday's SEC contest there was little doubt that Novi was in trouble.

Milan garnered a total of 30 points in that first quarter—second best quarter effort against the Wildcats this season. Meanwhile, Novi was picking up just six points.

Ironically, the Wildcats came back with 19 points in the second quarter, their best quarter production since they scored 19 points in the fourth quarter against Chelsea. Even so, by the intermission Milan was out of reach, 44-25.

Milan scored 26 more points in the third quarter, while Novi slipped to 10. In the fourth quarter Milan outscored the Wildcats 19-9.

Armstrong, who cooled considerably after the first quarter blitz, was the game's high scorer with 17. Second high was Milan's Jim Dutton with 14.

Mustang JVs Triumph

Interested in misleading statistics? Try this one on for size.

Northville's junior varsity basketball team won its two games last week by 34 points.

There's no denying it. The statistic is absolutely true. Coach Omar Harrison's Mustang jayvees opened their week with a 24-point, 63-39, victory over Milford on Tuesday and then followed up that win with a 10-point, 59-49, triumph over Farmington Harrison Friday.

But neither of those victories was as lop-sided as the final score would seem to indicate. The Mustangs led Milford by a mere three points at the end of the first half and, in the Harrison game, carried a slim one-point, 34-33, lead into the final quarter.

"I'd have to say that the big difference in both games was our defensive strategy," explained Harrison, coach of the Northville jayvees. "We played a man-to-man defense with no full court press in the first half, and then switched to the press and a trapping zone defense in the second half."

"Once we switched to our press and trapping zone, the complexion of both games turned in our favor."

Thanks largely to Chris Armada's 15 points, the Mustangs held a slim 31-28 first half lead over Milford in Tuesday's game. In the second half, however, the Redskins were able to tally just 11 points as the Mustangs raced away to a 63-39 victory.

Armada took scoring honors with 17 points. Joining him in double figures were Bill Piccolo with 12 and freshman Tony Armada with 11 points.

The Mustangs waited until the fourth quarter before finally breaking away for their 59-49 victory over Farmington Harrison. Northville trailed by one, 23-22, at the half and were ahead by one, 34-33, at the end of the third quarter.

In the final eight minutes, however, the junior Mustangs finally got rolling. After scoring 10, 12, and 12 points in the first, second, and third quarters respectively, the Northville jayvees piled up 25 points in the fourth quarter to wrap up the win.

Armada and Mark Lisowski shared scoring honors with 14 points apiece, while Jay Slagle with 11 and Bill Piccolo with 10 also scored in double figures. Slagle paced the Mustangs in rebounding with 13.

The two wins advanced Northville's record to 13-6 with just one game left to be played. Friday, the Mustangs will play host to Plymouth Canton, a team they defeated 63-52 earlier in the season

March Madness Begins Next Week

March madness, known otherwise as the annual MHSAA basketball play-offs, is on us once again.

Both Northville and Novi will enter the MHSAA tourney next week as distinct underdogs in their respective districts.

Walt Koepke's Mustangs will join Farmington, North Farmington, Farmington Harrison, and Plymouth Salem in the MHSAA Class A district tourney at Farmington Harrison.

And Ron Flutur and his Wildcats will trek to Brighton where they'll vie for the district championship against Brighton, Clarenceville, Dexter, South Lyon, Plymouth Canton, and Pinckney.

Walt Koepke has won nine district titles in ten years as a varsity coach, but no one is giving his Mustangs much of a chance in the Farmington Harrison tourney. Heavily favored is Coach Fred Thomann's Suburban Eight Conference champion from Plymouth Salem. Paced by 6-9 junior center Eric Agardy and 6-6 sophomore forward Jim Ellinghausen, the Rocks have posted a 17-2 record this year.

Salem will open the Class A districts Tuesday, March 5, when they meet host Farmington Harrison at 8 p.m.

Tourney play will resume Thursday, March 7, with two games on the docket. North Farmington and Farmington will square off at 7 p.m., while the Mustangs will meet the winner of Tuesday's Salem-Harrison contest at 8:30 p.m.

The winners of the two Thursday night games will battle for the district championship Saturday, March 9, at 8 p.m.

The MHSAA Class B districts at Brighton have been dubbed the "losers' district." Of the seven teams in the tourney, only Pinckney with its 14-5 record is over the .500 mark. South Lyon is close to .500 with a 9-10 mark, but after that things fall off quickly.

Brighton is 5-14, Dexter is 3-16, Plymouth Canton is 2-15, Clarenceville is 1-16, and the Wildcats are 1-18.

In one bracket Clarenceville and South Lyon will meet at 7 p.m. Monday, March 4, with the winner advancing to an 8 p.m. Wednesday game with Pinckney. The winner of that game will move into Saturday's finals at 8 p.m.

In the other bracket, Dexter and Brighton will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m. and Novi and Canton will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. The winners of those two games will play Thursday at 8 p.m. to determine who will go into Saturday's district championship clash.

Thomson Pee Wees Take Championship Of Hockey League

Chalk up another championship for the Northville Hockey Association (NHA). Two weeks ago it was the Dave Pink Mites who claimed the title in their respective division of the Western Suburban Hockey League; and last week it was the Thomson Sand and Gravel PeeWees who wrapped up a Western Suburban League crown.

The Sand and Gravel PeeWees (11-12 year olds) wrapped up an undefeated, 14-0-1, record in league play in a rather unusual fashion, however. Pitted against Taylor in the final game of the season, they were awarded the victory via forfeit when the Taylor coach was ejected with 28 seconds left in the second period.

Roger Pattison's first period goal had given the Northville PeeWees a 1-0 lead at the time the Taylor coach was ejected from the arena. In a non-league contest the Thomson Sand and Gravel PeeWees upped their overall record to 34-9-4 by skating to an 8-3 victory over Norwest Tri-County.

Roger Pattison and Doug Horst each scored twice in that game, while single goals were netted by Jerry Sherwood, John Pawlowski, Rich Pattison, and Mike Zdanowski.

Northville Botanical Products, Northville's entry in the Bantam division (13-14 year olds), split a pair of games in last week's action. After dropping a 3-2 decision to Dearborn Heights, the Botanical Products squad skated to a 2-0 victory against Detroit.

Eric Purcell and Gary Williams were the goal scorers in the 3-2 loss to Dearborn Heights, while Jeff MacDermaid and Steve Kerr's goals gave the Northville Bantams their 2-0 victory.

Perkins Engines, the NHA entry in the Squirt division (9-10 year olds) of the Western Suburban League, posted an easy 6-0 triumph over Inkster and then played to a 2-2 tie in a non-league game with Plymouth.

Russ Horst tallied twice to pace the scoring in the win over Inkster, while Steve Creedon, Jeff Hastings, Jack MacIntosh, and Mark Weichel added single goals.

Tim Hoult and Pat

Alexander accounted for all the Northville scoring in the 2-2 tie with Plymouth.

In "house league" action, three NHA teams reported action last week.

The Hamlet Food Mart PeeWees coupled offense with defense as they downed ACTS Computing of Plymouth 5-1. Tom Allen and Pete Cameron with two goals apiece sparked the offense and goalie Chris VanGeison's solid performance in the nets paced the defense. Mark Regentik added the fifth Northville goal.

The Novi Drug Squirts opened their week by playing to a 2-2 tie with the Farmington Bruins and then came back to top the Plymouth Rangers 5-3 in a Plymouth House League game.

Dale Beckman and Dave Mitchell tallied the Novi Drug goals in the 2-2 tie. In the 5-3 victory over the Plymouth Rangers, Bob Darrow tallied twice and Gary Kucher, Todd Thomas, and Kevin Henderson added single tallies.

Northville's Audio Alert PeeWees dropped a 3-2 decision to Plymouth in a seasaw battle. Greg Williams' first period goal put Audio Alert ahead; Plymouth took the lead with two second period counters; and Todd Vincent converted Gary Yoder's pass to make it 2-2 in the third period before Plymouth wrapped up the victory with a late goal.

Coach Blasts Program

Novi Matmen Falter in Districts

Novi's 1973-74 wrestling season came to a close last week and Coach Russ Gardner was none too happy about it.

"None too happy," heck (euphemism). The second-year coach of the Novi wrestling team was downright angry.

Reason for Gardner's anger was his team's performance in the MHSAA districts at Avondale last Saturday. The Wildcats scored just 3½ points to finish well back in the 18-team district field and failed to qualify even a single wrestler for Saturday's regional tourney.

"I'm not mad at my kids," stated Gardner. "They've got nothing to be ashamed of." Nearly everyone else, however, received some of Gardner's criticism including the seeding committee at the Avondale districts and the MHSAA district format.

The brunt of his criticism, however, was aimed at Novi's own athletic program.

"It's about time Novi made a move one way or the other," commented Gardner. "Either we should get into sports or get out of sports. Unless we start offering planned programs at the junior high and elementary school levels, we just can't compete on a state level."

"I took my team up to Avondale and we got wiped out," Gardner continued. "But what really burns me up is that the teams who wiped us out all have wrestling programs in junior high and some even have wrestling programs in the elementary schools."

"You just can't expect a kid with two years experience to be able to compete with someone who has had six years experience."

"The people who really get hurt are the kids. When a boy works hard all season long, it really hurts to see him eliminated from the state tourney just because some other school system has given its kids the advantages of a junior high wrestling program," added the Novi coach.

"Whatever the reason, it was obvious that the Wildcats were not prepared to compete on an equal level at Avondale. Even with SEC 115-pound champion Bob Sasena on their roster, Novi was able to win just three matches in the district tourney.

According to the MHSAA format, just four wrestlers from each weight class advance from the districts to the regionals. A four-man seeding committee rates the top eight wrestlers in each weight class in the 18-team district field.

Each of those seeded-wrestlers then draws the name of an unseeded wrestler for his first match. Losers of the first-round matches are eliminated and the district field is cut to eight.

To qualify for the regionals, each wrestler only needs to win one more match. The winner of the match involving the top-seeded wrestler meets the winner of the match involving the eighth-seeded wrestler, with the winner moving on to the regionals.

Second-seed winner meets seventh-seed winner, third-seed winner meets sixth-seed winner, and fourth-seed winner meets fifth-seed winner to determine the remaining three regional qualifiers.

Three Wildcats were seeded at the Avondale districts, but only Sasena, who was seeded third at 115, was able to win his first round match.

Sasena accounted for 1½ of Novi's 3½ total points by gaining a 1-1 superior decision in his first round match. Needing to win just once more to qualify for the regionals, Sasena was pinned in the first period by the sixth-seeded wrestler.

"Bob's better than that kid was," commented Gardner. "He just made a mistake while shooting for the takedown and got stuck with it. I was upset that he (Sasena) wasn't seeded first at 115. He had the best record in his weight class and should have been seeded first. Then he would have had to face the eighth-seeded wrestler in the finals and there's no way that guy could have beat him."

Neither of the other two Novi wrestlers who were seeded in the districts were able to win a single match. Don Jackson, the Wildcats' fine senior co-captain, was seeded fourth at 155 but was defeated in his opening round match. And seventh-seeded Gil Spiers, Novi's sophomore heavyweight, was defeated 13-3 by the third-seeded wrestler after drawing a bye in the opening round.

Novi's other two wins were posted by a pair of unseeded wrestlers. Al Jones, a 132-pound junior, upset the fourth-seed in the opening round, but lost a chance to move on to the regionals when he was decisioned 4-2 by the fifth-seed in the finals.

Doug Maier accounted for the other Novi victory when he upset the fourth-seeded wrestler 8-4 in the 148-pound division. Maier was defeated in the second round by Clarenceville's sixth-seeded Jim Moody.

Schoolcraft's Steve Leclair Sets National Freestyle Swim Records

Steve Leclair claimed two individual championships as he paced the Schoolcraft College swim team to a fourth-place finish in the National Junior College Athletic Association's (NJCAA) swimming and diving championships last weekend.

Leclair, a Plymouth High School product, successfully defended his national titles in both the 500 and 1,650 yard freestyle events and established three new national records in the process.

New York's Alfred Tech won seven of 18 events and compiled 369 points to claim its fourth consecutive NJCAA championship in the three-day meet held at Schoolcraft College.

Grand Rapids Junior

College finished second with 314.5 points, while New York's Fulton-Montgomery College was third with 169½ points. Schoolcraft had 146 points to take fourth-place honors.

outstanding junior college career at Schoolcraft with his performance in the 1974 NJCAA meet.

The former Plymouth High School star successfully defended his 500-yard freestyle title by turning in a 4:59.71 clocking which established a new NJCAA meet record and a new Schoolcraft College pool record.

In the 1,650 yard freestyle, Leclair's winning time of 17:35.56 broke not only the NJCAA meet and Schoolcraft pool records, but also established a new NJCAA record.

Leclair also posted a seventh place finish in the 200-yard freestyle and anchored two relay teams to top ten finishes in the meet.

Leclair anchored the team of Tom O'Hagan, Mark Lawless, and Dave Cravens to ninth place in the 800-yard freestyle relay and then anchored the team of Lawless, Cravens, and Jim Osborn to a tenth place finish in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Also distinguishing himself in the NJCAA championships was Tom O'Hagan who finished second in the 200 yard backstroke, third in the 400-yard individual medley, and fourth in the 100-yard individual medley.

SC Grapplers Eye Titles

Six Schoolcraft College wrestlers will be competing for national honors in the National Junior College Athletic Association's (NJCAA) wrestling championships at Worthington State Junior College in Worthington, Minnesota, this weekend.

All six won the right to advance to the national finals by finishing in the top three in their respective weight divisions in the Region 12 Tourney held at Schoolcraft College last weekend.

Four Schoolcraft grapplers will enter the national tourney as district champions. Johnnie Jones claimed the 118-pound district crown, Howard Strick won the 126-pound championship, Bernard Wells headed the 134-pound field, and Fred Stanton took top honors among the heavyweights.

Also going to the nationals will be Mike Mirick and Ray Givens. Mirick finished second at 158, while Givens came in third in the 167-pound bracket.

In spite of the four individual champions, Schoolcraft had to settle for second place in the 13-team Region 12 tourney. Cuyahoga West, the nation's tenth-rated junior college team, claimed the regional championship with 131½ points. Schoolcraft was second with 114½.

"We lost it on numbers," observed Larry Meyer, coach of the Ocelot grapplers. "We only entered seven men, while they (Cuyahoga West) entered nine."

"We lost four matches during the tournament while they were losing eight, but they had too many men for us," Meyer continued, "but we didn't get enough help from the other teams in the tourney. Their numbers and the performances of the other schools are what beat us."

7th Graders Cap Perfect Year

There's good news ahead for Novi basketball fans.

Eventhough the varsity and junior varsity Wildcat quintets continue to have their troubles, at least one Novi team is demonstrating a propensity for Dr. Naismith's game.

Coach John Cicchelli's seventh grade squad last week raced past the Ypsilanti Lincoln seventh graders to put the finishing touch on a perfect 10-0 season.

The Novi seventh graders defeated Brighton, South Lyon, and Lincoln twice during the season and posted single victories over Saline, Chelsea, Milan, and Dexter to walk away with the Southeastern Conference seventh grade championship. Lincoln was second with a 7-3 record.

"As far as I know that's the first championship ever won by any Novi basketball team," commented Cicchelli, coach of the seventh graders. Leading the Wildcat squad was 6-0 center David Pisha, who averaged 17 points per game and dominated the backboards.

Cicchelli also singled out the play of guards Jeff Laverty (5.1 point average) and Marty Ciresa (4.8 point average) as keys to the Wildcats' perfect season. "Laverty and Ciresa gave us a pair of very quick guards and they were a key to our season," stated the Novi coach. "We played a fullcourt press most of the time and the other teams just weren't able to cope with our defensive quickness."

Alternating at the two starting forward positions were Mike Moyle (3.6 point average), Philip McCarty (3.5 point average) and Duane Ridenour (3.0 point average). Other key members of the Novi squad were guards Chris Giorgio and John DeBrule and center-forward Bob McAllister.

Rounding out the Novi squad were Bill McCauley, Jim Padgett, Glenn Caudell, Dave Blackburn, Jim Longhurst, Duane Pohlman, David Young, Paul Young, and Rick Cherf

Mustang of the Week

Mustang of the Week honors go to Dan Fialon. After being slowed by nagging injuries through much of the season, the 129-pound senior grappler has come on strong in recent weeks. Fialon was one of just two Northville wrestlers to qualify for the MHSAA Class A regionals last week as he took third place in the district tourney at Walled Lake Western. "Dan did an outstanding job," commented Coach Ed McLoud. "I can't say enough for him"

THERE'S NOTHING TO IT—That, at any rate, would seem to be the implication being made by Northville's Sheila Fasang as she performs her routine on the balance beam. Thanks to efforts like this one, the Northville gymnasts evened their dual meet record at 2-2 by posting victories over teams from Ann Arbor Huron and Ann Arbor Pioneer last week.

Fialon, Porterfield Qualify For Regional Mat Tourney

Dan Fialon and Jim Porterfield earned themselves a small niche in the athletic history of Northville High School last week.

The two senior athletes became the first members of the Northville wrestling team ever to qualify for the MHSAA regionals since the Mustangs joined the ranks of Class A competition last fall.

Fialon and Porterfield won the right to advance to the regional level of the state tourney by successfully passing through the MHSAA Class A districts at Walled Lake Western Saturday.

And while they were the only Northville wrestlers to qualify for the regionals, they were not the only reasons Coach Ed McLoud was highly pleased with his team's performance at the Walled Lake districts.

"Considering the age and experience of our wrestlers, things went pretty well," observed the Northville mat coach.

"Most of our team is made up of underclassmen and yet we were able to finish eleventh out of 18 Class A teams and we were only one point away from finishing in the top ten," McLoud continued. "For a young team going into its first Class A districts, I think that's fairly outstanding."

Northville accumulated nine points in the districts to finish one point behind tenth-place Thurston. Western Six Conference Champion Walled Lake Western won the district championship with 33½ points.

Biggest surprise of the meet as far as Northville partisans were concerned was the performance of Fialon, the Mustangs' 129-pound senior who has been hindered by illness throughout most of the season.

In spite of the illness which has kept him sidelined through most of the season, Fialon was seeded sixth in the 129-pound class at the Walled Lake districts.

He won his first round match with a 6-2 decision and then earned the right to advance to the regionals by upsetting third-seeded Ron Cundiff of Garden City West in the finals by a 4-2 score.

"I'm extremely happy for Fialon," stated McLoud. "After being out for most of the season he has come on lately and just done tremendously well. His only loss in the last three weeks was a 4-2 decision to Western's Bill Roumay who was the top-seeded wrestler in the districts Saturday."

The other Mustang advancing to the regionals is senior heavyweight Jim Porterfield. Seeded third behind Western's Bob Miller and North Farmington's Brian Chisholm, Porterfield drew a bye in the first round and then defeated Farmington Harrison's Scott Labo 9-5 in the second round to advance his personal record for the season to 21-6. "Jim really did a good job against Labo," stated the Northville mat coach. "It was one of the few times I've ever seen him get mad out there and when he gets mad I'm just amazed at how strong he actually is."

Five other Northville wrestlers won their opening matches, only to lose out in the championship round.

Freshman David Bentley, seeded eight at 101, won his first match but was defeated by Dearborn Heights Crestwood's top-seeded Tony Zeppa in the second round.

Freshman transfer student

Dan Platte was unseeded, but moved into the finals by upsetting fifth-seeded Jim Poma of Thurston 9-6 in the opening round. Walled Lake Western's fourth-seeded Kevin Ayers eliminated Platte in the second round.

Junior 119-pounder Jack Barger, seeded seventh, won two matches before dropping an 8-1 decision to the second-seeded Jim Strectroth of Garden City West in the finals

Jim Sackllah, Northville's 145-pounder, won his first match but then dropped a 13-0 decision to North Farmington's Carl Darrah in the finals.

Top Ann Arbor Girls

Gymnasts Win Twice

Northville's gymnastics team evened its record at 2-2 last week by recording back-to-back victories over Ann Arbor Huron and Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The Northville girls registered a 77.3 to 76 victory over Huron on Thursday and then made it two in a row by downing Pioneer 78.55 to 76 in a Saturday meet.

And while Coach Lisa Baetz admitted that she was pleased with the victories, she also stated that she was still far from satisfied with her team's performance.

"I really wanted to score more than 80 points," commented the coach of the Northville girls. "We've improved our score 18 points from our first meet this season, and I would like to see us improve it at least 10 more points."

The Mustang gymnasts took first and second in two events and first and third in three other events in the 77.3-76 win over Huron.

Laurie Handy (4.3) and Laurie Plumley (4.0) took first and second in the vaulting, while Wendy Reagan and Terry Rader both had scores of 4.8 to tie for first and second place in the balance beam.

Terry Albus (6.4) and Nancy Rider (3.6) took first and third in the uneven parallel bars, Terry Rader (6.35) and Paula Dyke (6.1) took first and third in the floor exercise, and Key Heath and Kim Bingley took first and third on the trampoline.

Terry Rader added a third place finish in tumbling. The Mustang gymnasts swept all three places in two events in their 78.55 to 76 victory over Pioneer on Saturday.

Wendy Reagan, (5.2), Sheila Fasang (4.9), and Terry Rader (3.85) took first, second, and third in the balance beam, while Paula Dyke (6.2), Terry Rader (6.0), and Nancy Heckler (5.6) swept all three positions in floor exercise.

Terry Albus accounted for Northville's only other victory as she walked away with honors in the uneven parallel bars with a score of 6.1

Kay Heath finished second in trampoline, Terry Rader took third in tumbling, and Laurie Handy was third in vaulting (4.3)

As Freshmen Shine

Tankers Top Western

People you probably never even heard of before scored points for Coach Ben Lauber's Northville swim team in a 57-26 victory over Walled Lake Western last week.

People with names like Randy Roggenbuck and Ed Donnan and Jim Wright, not to mention Mark-Morland and Jim Cahill.

But if these names have not loomed large on the local varsity-level swim scene before, there's a perfectly logical explanation - they all belong to freshmen.

And - you can be assured - you'll be hearing them again. Faced with an opponent in Walled Lake Western not yet able to compete with his defending Class B state champions, Northville Coach Ben Lauber decided to let some of his varsity stars have the night off and let the freshmen show what they could do.

The results were most satisfying.

Not only did the Mustangs win the meet by a comfortable 56-27 margin, but also the freshmen came through with some fine performances and that, noted Lauber, "is something that is always nice to see."

The frosh got their first taste of varsity action in the very first event - the 200-yard medley relay - and right away demonstrated a propensity for higher-level competition. The varsity quartet of Mark Haynie, Art Greenlee, Kevin Kelly, and Don Cook won the event with a 1:50.3 clocking.

But the four freshmen - Morland, Wright, Roggenbuck, and Donnan - were not far behind as the Mustangs took first and second place in the event to jump off to a quick 9-1 lead over the Warriors.

Jim Cahill, the only frosh to compete in the individual events, finished third in the 200 yard individual medley - just six seconds out of first place with a 2:26.8 clocking.

It was in the 400 yard freestyle relay - the final event of the meet - where the freshmen again demonstrated their prowess. This time Lauber entered a team of Donnan, Wright, Cahill, and Roggenbuck and was rewarded amply for his confidence.

The freshman foursome not only won the event, but also set a new Northville freshman team record with a 3:55.4 clocking.

Even Art Greenlee, the Mustangs' fine junior breaststroker was impressed. "When you put four men under one minute for the 100 freestyle, it shows you've got some pretty good depth," commented Greenlee, Northville's self-appointed team spokesman.

It was Greenlee, coincidentally, who shared the spotlight with the freshmen in the victory over Walled Lake Western. The junior breaststroker won the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:05.7 to break the Northville pool record of 1:05.8 set by Farmington Harrison's Bruce Howell earlier this year.

Outside of the performances of the freshmen and Greenlee, the meet was pretty much routine for the Mustangs who ran their dual meet record to 12-2 for the season.

It's Churchill versus Mott

Both Livonia Churchill and Waterford Mott posted victories in last week's action to set the stage for tomorrow's (Friday) season-ending showdown clash.

Pat Montagano's powerful Chargers outlasted a determined Plymouth Canton squad to run their conference record to 9-0 and clinch at least a share of their third consecutive Western Six title.

And Ray Robinson's lightning-quick Corsairs retained their hopes of gaining a share of the 1974 cage crown by advancing their record to 8-1 with a victory over Walled Lake Western.

To win the title outright, the Chargers must defeat the Corsairs when the two teams square off at 8 p.m. Friday at Churchill. The Chargers won the first encounter by a single point.

Churchill almost got caught looking forward to Friday's season-ending showdown clash with Mott as they barely got past Plymouth Canton (2-

In addition to the two first place finishes in the relays and Greenlee's victory in the breaststroke, Northville posted first-place finishes in five other events.

Steve Luckett, a sophomore, turned in the best time of his career in winning the 200 yard freestyle (1:58.7); Tom Cook won the diving with 253.69 points; sophomore Pete Talbot won the 100-yard butterfly (1:00.7); Ed Erdos, another sophomore, took the 100-yard freestyle (54.2); and Mark McDaniel, yet another sophomore, stroked his way to honors in the 500-yard freestyle with the best time of his career (5:49.7).

Lauber cited several other Northville performances for special recognition: Dean Alli hit his best time in finishing second in the 200 yard individual medley; Mark Swayze registered his best time in taking third in the 100-yard backstroke; and Joe Devereaux racked up his personal best with 208 points while diving exhibition.

200 Freestyle 1 Luckett, N, 2 Muzynski, WL, 3 Thomson, WL. Winning time 1:58.7

200 Individual Medley 1 Compton, WL, 2 Alli, N, 3 Cahill, N. Winning time: 2:29.8

400 Freestyle Relay: 1 Smith, WL; 2 Letek, N, 3 Hoxsie, WL. Winning time: 2:52.3

500 Freestyle 1 McDaniel, N; 2 Muzynski, WL; 3 Clemens, N. Winning time 5:49.7

100 Backstroke 1 Compton, WL, 2 Haynie, N, 3 Swayze, N. Winning time 1:02.3

100 Breaststroke: 1 Greenlee, N, 2 Wright, N, 3 Stetler, WL. Winning time 1:05.7 (Breaks the Northville pool record of 1:05.8 set by Bruce Howell of Farmington Harrison) they raced to a 77-54 victory which topped their overall record to 16-3. The victory not only assured the Corsairs of one last shot at the Western Six title, but also clinched third place for the Mustangs.

400 Freestyle Relay: 1 Northville (Donnan, Wright, Cahill, Roggenbuck), 2 Walled Lake (Hoxsie, Kraft, Muzynski, Thomson), 3 Northville (Geisler, Gordon, Hutton, Noller) Winning time 3:55.4

Northville now has a two-game bulge on the Warriors with just one game left to play.

Mike Grace, Mott's stylish all-conference guard candidate, and Bob Swindell each tossed in 15 points, while 6-7 junior center Mark Gisse added 11 more. Western's John Spranger, a 6-5 forward, led all scorers by tallying 24 points.

Do you have rhythm in your swing? (not soul Rhythm and tempo are very important, but the mechanics have to be there first before your rhythm is applied. For instance - do you pause at the top of your backswing? If so, you're wrong. The player who is thinking on pausing at the top, stop and think, not only the club stops but everything stops - shoulder, arm, wrist, hips, knees, & in effect you freeze (lost motion and rhythm.) What happens is while the club seems stationary for a fraction of a second before it changes direction, the lower quadrant is moving into the downswing. This movement actually begins before the club gets all the way back. Make your swing a rhythm count 1,2,3,4 not 1,2, stop, 3,4

PARSON TO PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

Alone... Five little letters, but one of the most haunting words of the English Language. Alone... the emptiness of being alone, whether it's in a crowd of 50 or a small room all by yourself... alone... with your fears, your worries, your heartaches... alone... when no one understands or seems to care: "Behold, I am with you always."

Those words have shattered the loneliness of many a life on many a dark day. They are the words of promise of One Who never fails to keep His Word.

God did not create us to be alone. He created man originally that He Himself might walk and talk with man in the garden in which He placed Him.

But sin separated us from God. It is only when we ask Jesus Christ to forgive us of our sin, only when we admit to Him our failure to live up to the standard for which we were created, only then do we experience His presence in our lives.

Alone? No, never alone. Christ walks with me day by day, as friend to friend. God goes before me to guide and protect me. And the Holy Spirit lives within me. Never, no never, alone. He's not near, He's within me, beside me, before me!

An eighty-five year old woman was nearing the end of her earthly life. Her pastor visited her in the hospital and read those words for comfort: "Behold, I Am with you always." "Pastor, she said, "That's not a promise; that's a fact." It's a fact: never alone! (Contributed by Mike Farrell, Ass't. Pastor, First Baptist Church)

Dinner Dance Set for March 9

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Every once in a while a "whoops" will occur in a column such as this, and I certainly hold no claim to fame as one who is perfect. So I ask your pardon for a "whoops" that has appeared here regarding the Northridge dinner dance.

I reported that the "Blarney Stone Ball" coming up on March 9 would be held at the Finn Camp Club House. All that information with the exception of the place is correct and that, for the moment, will be a surprise.

Tickets for the dinner-dance are still available from Bonnie Haight and Rosemary Victory. With the time, energy, and enthusiasm these gals have spent planning the evening, it's sure to be a great time for all.

Maybe next week they'll let us in on where everyone should meet. Almost sounds like a mystery tour.

An event that did take place at the Finn Camp Club House last Saturday night was the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of Toivo and Helen Rentola of Bogie Drive. More than a hundred couples gathered to wish the couple well in an evening which included dinner, dancing, and presentation of a gift.

A group of buddies who sometimes call themselves "the happy boys" returned Saturday from "the golfing mecca of the world," Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. Among the twelve fellows who loaded golf clubs and paraphernalia into the two-car caravan were Hank Mack and Ray Mustonen of Evona Street.

It was time for their yearly quiting, as their wives stayed home and "batched it" for a week. All old friends, the twelve also bowl together, save all their kitty money, and then take the wives on a big splurge.

In between rounds on the golf course, the crew stayed at the Seamist Motel. Upon their arrival, they were presented with golf hats, a half-dozen golf balls, a free 18-hole round on the links and, as an extra added attraction, free beer from 5 to 10 p.m. every evening. Can't beat that and sun tans to boot.

The Greek Line Steamship "Jason" recently welcomed aboard Bill and Alene Mills and Bob and Florence Trombley for a cruise through the Caribbean. The couples spent four days on the boat and four days touring the islands.

First leg of the journey was by plane which took them to Ste. Lucia where they boarded the boat. Most of the cruise was at night so that the days could be spent touring the islands. Evenings were formal, and Florence reported that it was difficult getting dressed with the rolling motion of the sea. Bob found the dancing a bit different from that of the U.A.W. dance floor - again the motion of the sea had a profound affect.

Ste. Lucia was regarded by the couples as a very pretty island which was rather quiet. Martinique was older and much more busy, while Barbados had more shops and commercial attractions. All agreed, however, that it was not the place to settle. Gasoline cost 75 cents per gallon and the price of fish was $1.10 per pound, even though wages were very low.

The weather was sunny and the temperature hovered around beautiful 85 degrees which made the trip even more exciting and fun. The island of Granada was skipped due to civil unrest and they were told of all the islands scheduled, it was the best of all. Florence remarked that they didn't need that kind of excitement.

On board ship, the couples enjoyed a delightful array of foods, all of which were delicious and beautiful to look at. During one evening Florence reported that it took hours just to eat dinner. All the food was so artistically prepared that nobody wanted to spoil its appearance by taking any - much less eat it. And, as with all vacations, their trip came to a close all too swiftly.

From sun to snow as the Dingeldeys headed north to Quebec's white covered hills for a week of skiing. With the windchill factor, temperatures dipped to 12 below zero. Most of the week found the snow falling although one glorious day of bright sunshine and warmer temperatures caused jackets to be shed and suntans to start.

The week ended on a rather sour note, however, as rain made conditions slooshy followed by a freeze which turned the hills into ice.

The kids enjoyed their week off from school and turned instead to several hours a day in ski class. Asked if they had learned anything educational while in Canada to take back to their regular classes, the answer was "well, I learned how to turn on moguls." They did manage to learn a few words of French and saw some of the sights of Ottawa, the Canadian national capital.

Best of all we returned without a single broken bone.

And now we can turn our thoughts to spring housecleaning and watching the tulips sprout. Some are already popping out of the ground...have you noticed?

Northridge Subdivision will be losing another lovely couple when the Anderson's of Hopkins Drive move to Arizona. A going-away lunch was held in honor of Julie Anderson last Friday as Margaret Ladd hosted.

Reports are that it was amazing Margaret could pack so many gals into the house for the pot luck affair.

The group presented Julie with a lovely pottery set ready for her green thumb as soon as she gets settled in her new home. Because of Arizona's agricultural laws Julie is going to have to leave behind the beautiful plants and terrariums for which she is quite famous.

License Transfer Blocked

cause (police) problems," he said. Voting with the mayor were councilmen Fred Morehead, Robert Dingeldey and James Lahde.

In explaining his vote, Lahde said he had no objection to the bar or entertainment but was concerned that Wixom Road could become a "strip" of businesses.

Councilwoman Lillian Spencer said that she was in favor of the proposal as Wixom now has no quality-type restaurant. This also was stated by Gunnar Mettala.

Plan Dance

Annual St. Patrick's Day Dance of the Novi Athletic Boosters' Club has been scheduled for Saturday, March 16, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The dance will be held in the UAW Hall at 28900 Wixom Road, directly across the street from the Wixom Ford Assembly Plant.

Music will be provided by the Saggiarians and tickets are available at a cost of $10 per couple. Included in the price of admission are door prizes, beer, set-ups, and refreshments.

Tickets for the St. Patrick's Day dance can be ordered by contacting Florence Pantalone at 474-8580.

Previously, it had been pointed out that a resort liquor license now can be used 12 months a year instead of the original nine for which such licenses were issued to help Northern Michigan resort areas.

The Loberman attorney said his clients were purchasing the Isabella County license at a cost of $40,000 and when they entered into the purchase agreement it was the only one in the state available.

Councilman Morehead questioned bringing a resort license to Wixom "when a license request has been before the liquor control commission from a local resident for years."

Pointing out that delay "is becoming very expensive" for his client, the attorney showed drawings of the proposed business with two restaurants to seat 98 people, a separate cocktail bar and bowling alley with 12 lanes.

City Strengthens Loitering Law

"Nothing, just hanging around" may be the response that could get someone into a heap of trouble under amended Northville city ordinance.

Because of recurring complaints that young people are disturbing shoppers by loitering in doorways and lobbies of downtown businesses, the council amended the ordinance to prohibit loitering in any "place or in any other building open to the general public."

Merchants indicate the "just hanging around"

response is often given by youths who are questioned.

An unusual amount of difficulty with loitering has been experienced in Northville's new downtown shopping center. There, on occasion, it has led to vandalism, merchants report.

The ordinance already had prohibited loitering "in or about any police station or police headquarters building, jail, hospital, court building, school, or any street, alley or other public building."

Police are empowered to arrest loiterers either on their own (police) complaint or on the complaint of others.

Police Catch Thief Before Crime is Discovered

In Wixom

A 30-year old Detroit man has been arrested and arraigned in conjunction with the breaking and entering of the Alroy Mold and Die Company at 49201 West Road. Merchandise with a total estimated value in excess of $2,700 was stolen from the building in a breaking and entering which occurred Sunday, February 17.

Andrew Walker, Junior, 30, was arrested shortly later. He was arraigned on the breaking and entering charge before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle on February 19 and subsequently released on personal bond. Examination date has been set for March 1.

Walker is charged with the break-in of the Alroy Mold and Die Company which took place early Sunday morning, February 17. According to police reports, the responsible party broke into the building through a window and then removed items from the main office area and the drafting department.

Stolen merchandise, valued at more than $2,700, included adding machines, typewriters, check protectors, and calculators. Also stolen, according to reports, were three series of checks.

Walker was arrested after being apprehended by Novi police. He was picked up when officers found him walking along Grand River and was subsequently connected with the Alroy breaking and entering.

A 23-year old man from Utica, David Edwin Cook, has been charged with the breaking and entering of the Continental Bar at 49110 Grand River.

Cook was found in the bar by a maintenance man, police reported.

He had left the bar at approximately 2:30 p.m., according to witnesses, but was found inside the building approximately one hour later. Police stated that Cook gained entry to the bar through a window.

The alleged break-in took place February 20.

Two walkie-talkie portable radios were reported stolen from the Ford Motor Company's Wixom Assembly Plant.

The portable radio units were valued at $1,600.

The radios had been left in the closet of an office in the Material Handling section at 1 p.m. on Friday, February 15. The theft was discovered at 5:40 p.m., Ford spokesmen told police.

William Ervin Thornton of Birmingham reported the theft of a tan suede overcoat from the VFW Hall on Loon Lake Road last week.

The coat was valued at $150. Thornton also told police that he had left a $160 tax refund check from the federal government in the pocket of the coat.

Ford Motor Company security officials reported the theft of a calculator last week. The calculator, valued at $225, had been locked in a file cabinet drawer on February 8. The theft was discovered three days later, according to reports.

A tape deck and nine stereo tapes were reported stolen from a car parked behind a residence at 1708 Wixom Road last week.

Daniel Kritzer told police that the property was stolen some time between 9:30 p.m. on February 20 and 7 a.m. the following day. Value of the stolen items was placed at approximately $160.

In Township

Investigation is continuing into a break-in at 15655 Haggerty Road which took place last week Tuesday.

Taken from the home were an RCA table radio and a Panasonic cassette recorder, valued at $500.

The break-in was discovered by a delivery man at 2:30 p.m. who noticed doors to the house standing open and the living room window shattered.

Investigating officers said glass was found on the living room carpet but no footprints or dirt was found inside the house. Footprints found in mud outside the house led police to believe a car may have been used by the thieves, reports said.

Four tires and aluminum wheels were stolen from the garage of a house at 46000 Pickford. The theft took place between February 17 and Friday, township reports said.

Icy roads were termed contributing factors in two property damage accidents. Two cars collided on Eight Mile at Lexington about 7:15 p.m. Friday and at 2:10 the following morning, a driver lost control of his car on Seven Mile at Clement and ran into a field.

Township police apprehended two escapees from the women's division of Detroit House of Correction Sunday night.

According to reports, the two were seen walking on Six Mile between Beck and Ridge about 10 p.m. When questioned, they told police their car had broken down. However, officers reported seeing no stalled vehicles at the location they gave.

Further checking revealed the two had escaped earlier in the evening.

Residents of Kings Mill are reminded that "no parking" signs have been installed along the outer curb of Jamestown Circle, prohibiting parking of vehicles between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. Weekends and holidays are exempt.

In addition, police remind residents that no parking is allowed at any time along the inner curb of Jamestown Circle because it is a fire lane. Cars in violation will be ticketed, police said.

COURT NEWS

Larry Wayne Cross of Southfield has been sentenced to two to four years in Jackson State Prison after he pled no contest to a charge of felonious assault.

Cross, arrested by township police July 2, 1973, for assaulting a police officer on Northville Road, was sentenced in Wayne County Circuit Court February 20.

In Northville

Three break-ins and a theft are being investigated by city police this week.

A continuous playing tape deck was reported stolen from Elias Brothers in Northville Square between February 16 and 19.

The store, which is under construction, is located in the lower level. Value of the tape deck was placed at $800.

Last week Wednesday, the owner of a 1973 Honda reported the motorcycle was stolen from a stairway at 410 West Main Street. The theft was reported about 11:15 p.m.

Police are investigating a report of the theft of $60 in change plus $20 worth of coupons from the Detroit Free Press Sub-Station on South Center Street.

The building was entered between 11 a.m. Saturday and 2:30 a.m. Sunday, the time a Free Press truck driver reported to police the office appeared to have been ransacked.

Desk drawers had been pried open and a window on the south side of the building may have been forced open.

An auto stolen from Detroit Saturday was recovered Sunday in the main parking lot of Northville Downs.

Owner of the 1963 Chevrolet told police he reported the theft to Detroit Police and later learned from a friend that his car was in Northville.

Police said nothing was taken from the car and it had not been damaged.

A girl's two diamond star sapphire ring was reported taken from the locker room at Northville High School.

Stolen between 4 and 10 p.m. February 19, the ring is valued at $100.

In Novi

Police have made two arrests in conjunction with the theft of blank checks from a residence on South Lake Drive earlier this year.

Terrence Knish of 115 Maudlin in Novi and Vickie Lynn Puckett of 18970 Northville Road in Novi were arraigned before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle on charges of uttering and publishing (cashing bad checks) last week.

Miss Puckett was arraigned on February 19, while Knish was arraigned two days later. Both were freed on $1,000 personal bonds.

An additional charge of carrying a concealed weapon was levied against Vickie Lynn Puckett. According to police, Miss Puckett was carrying a knife with a blade 5½ inches long in her purse.

She was fined $25 by 52nd District Court Judge Boyle who subsequently dismissed the fine, police reported.

Police are investigating an alleged felonious assault which occurred during a fight at the Novi Inn on Friday, February 22, at approximately 2 a.m.

A 21-year old Cadillac man told police that while he was involved in a fight with another man, he was approached from behind by an unknown individual and struck three times with a wooden pool cue.

of impersonating a police officer.

The charges were brought against Richard Athey of 41071 McMahon Circle in conjunction with an incident which allegedly occurred last week at Dave's Hamburger Stand.

According to witnesses, Athey overheard an unknown customer telling a waitress that a gas station had just been robbed and the attendant shot Athey subsequently questioned the waitress about the man's story saying that he was a detective, reports said.

Athey also showed the waitress a badge, witnesses said.

Anti-Crime Seminars Set

Two anti-crime seminars geared to businessmen have been scheduled for March. The first will be presented Tuesday, March 12, to the Northville Rotary Club. On Thursday, March 14, a seminar is tentatively scheduled for the morning at the VFW Hall. Northville City Police Captain said it will cover robbery, shoplifting and check fraud. Panelists available to answer questions following the slide presentation will include Westfall, Township Chief Ronald Nisun, Michigan State Police Lieutenant Robert Robertson and a representative from the prosecutors office. Programs on self-protection, protecting your home and car from theft and crime reporting are also available from the city police department in cooperation with the VFW, Westfall added. Groups interested in having one or more of the seminars presented may contact Westfall at 349-1280. Brochures highlighting the topics presented have been made available by Paul Folino and Les Bowden.

There's a little bit of ecology in every electric bill you pay.

Every time you pay your electric bill, you help pay for the millions of dollars we spend each year at our power plants to help clean up the air and water. We're all for a clean environment. And we'll all have to help pay the cost. This is one more reason the cost of electricity is going up. You can't take electricity for granted anymore, but we'll continue to do our best to provide reliable electric service now and in the future.

Jaycees Plan May Walkathon

A 20-mile walkathon through Northville and Novi, which could involve hundreds of people from both communities, has been scheduled for May 18 by Northville Jaycees.

Purpose of the project, which may be sponsored by Jaycees of both communities, is to raise funds for an international help organization called Project Concern.

Thousands are expected to participate in a similar walkathon in Livonia this year.

Jaycee officials of Northville and Novi are conferring now to determine whether or not the project should be jointly sponsored. If not, the Northville chapter has pledged to stage the project by itself.

Route of the "Walk for Mankind" has not yet been disclosed, but spokesmen indicate it will take participating walkers through both Northville and Novi.

Walk for Mankind means basically that volunteers get financial backing for each mile walked. In other words, someone might pledge to back a volunteer with 25-cents for every mile he walks. If the volunteer walks 10 miles, the sponsor contributes $2.50, it was explained.

Volunteer walkers include grade schoolers, secondary students and adults. Frequently the walkathon involves whole families, a spokesman said.

Contribution of $1 for Project Concern, provides seven days treatment for removal of parasitic worms from a child's intestines; $20 provides three months of medicine and food to overcome malnutrition in a child; and $50 provides salary and support for a trained village medical assistant, and basic medical care for his Vietnamese village.

Assistance by Project Concern, Jaycees explain, touches people in America as well as in Europe and Asia. Last year's Livonia walkathon chairman told local Jaycees recently of seeing, first-hand, Project Concern's important work in Appalachia.

Details about the May walkathon here, including rules governing participants and sponsors, are to be announced soon.

Novi Salaries Anger Employees

replace them than we saved by holding back on respectable wages," she said.

Among specific complaints raised by department heads were the fact that a building inspector makes $13,250 annually, while salaries for the controller and treasurer were set at $11,750 and $11,000 respectively, while the City Clerk's salary was set at $13,000.

Another discrepancy, according to employees, is the fact that the salary of the administrative assistant - Kriewall, presumably the number two position in municipal administration, was set at $16,500, while the salaries of the DFW Head ($17,000), Building and Safety Department Director ($17,000), and Police Chief ($18,000) were all set at a higher figure.

According to Kriewall, he had been promised by the council that his salary would be second only to that of the city manager at the time he was asked to take the job of administrative assistant last year.

"That promise was made at a closed meeting and now some of the councilmen apparently don't want to remember that promise," stated Kriewall. "When three department heads are getting higher salaries than the person who is supposed to be second in line, that's something of a slap in the face.

"As far as I'm concerned, the council has definitely renege on its promises to me," he added.

Northville Juniors Host

Harlem Diplomat Game

Harlem Diplomats will appear Saturday in a comedy basketball game with the faculty all-stars at Northville High gym.

Sponsored by the junior class, the game begins at 8 p.m. All proceeds will go towards junior class activities.

Tickets for the game may be purchased at the door or in advance at the high school cafeteria during school hours, spokesmen for the class added.

The Diplomats will feature their "Sweet Georgia Brown" magic circle routine under black lights and will be combining comedy with their basketball know-how "providing an evening of good entertainment," spokesmen for the juniors said.

During half-time, the Diplomats will present a trophy to the winning team of the elementary tournament which begins at 7 p.m. with four teams participating.

Parents who plan to pick up their children after the game may do so at 9:45 p.m.

YMCA Dance Saturday

A dance for teenagers is planned March 2 by the Canton-Northville-Plymouth YMCA.

The 8 p.m. dance, featuring the Ed Sell Production band, gets underway at 8 p.m. at the Canton High School cafeteria and continues until 11 p.m.

Cost is $1.50 per person.

What's a checking account without a service charge?

It's a pretty good checking account. And that's what we've got. We call it our 200/500 Checking Plan. Just maintain a $200 minimum monthly balance in your account, and there won't be a service charge. And, even if your balance goes below $200, there still won't be a service charge as long as your account averages $500 during your monthly statement period. There isn't a charge for your itemized monthly statement, either. Our 200/500 Checking Plan. Because service charges are something you can probably do without.
