2 Mill City Tax Hike Seems Likely

Council Paring Budget

Walls Going Up on 125,000 Square Foot Northville Plaza Shopping Center

A two-mill tax hike almost certainly faces city of Northville property owners for the 1974-75 budget year which begins July 1.

Specifically, the increase might be closer to 1.8 mills as it appears likely the council will make every attempt to keep the levy under 10 mills.

In its second budget study session held this week most councilmembers were willing to concede the necessity of a tax hike. Rising costs coupled with reductions in state shared revenues make the task of holding the line on the levy difficult.

Last year the city reduced its tax rate from 10.2 mills to 8.1. An educated estimate of the 1974-75 levy would be 9.9 mills, partly because of the same psychological reasoning used in pricing products at $9.99 instead of $10.

But the council (and taxpayers) received some good news this week that is also partly responsible for making it possible to keep the levy under 10 mills.

The city's state equalized valuation increased to $43,300,000 and the SEV factor remained at 1.0.

The $3,000,000 hike in property valuation is almost totally due to new and improved buildings and not because of an increase in the equalization factor. Thus the taxpayer will incur only the increase as measured by the millage hike, and not an accompanying multiple against his property valuation by a factor.

The council managed to pare out some $40,000, or nearly one mill, from the city manager's first proposed general fund budget of $1,091,000.

The latest proposed operating budget figure is $1,050,000. A threatened imbalance in the 1973-74 budget seems also to have been avoided by the fact that several anticipated improvement projects will not be completed and will become a part of the 1974-75 budget.

Some important questions still remain to be resolved, however, before the council can make final budget decisions.

Salary negotiations with the 13-member police officers' association, the 13 member public works association and the seven clerical employees are moving slowly.

A committee composed of City Manager Steven Walters and Councilmen David Biery and Paul Vernon has held one meeting with representatives of each group and they are reported to be far apart in their negotiations.

Taken as a whole, the city of Northville's annual budget of expenses and revenues actually totals some $1,731,950.

This figure is reached by adding the proposed public improvements, water and sewer fund, and local and major street repair programs to the operating budget.

Eye September Plaza Opening

A September opening is being predicted for Northville Plaza, the area's newest shopping center currently under construction on Seven Mile Road.

Anchored by a giant-sized A & P store the retail center will contain some 125,000 square feet of space and feature 25 stores when completed.

Developer of the commercial center, which will be located on the south side of Seven Mile Road directly across from Highland Lakes subdivision, is Temple Management. A firm spokesman, Daniel Klein, stated that the project is now moving along rapidly after falling behind schedule. Brick work is underway and steel is on the site, he stated.

Klein indicated that the A & P store will be one of the largest in the state. And he noted that other tenants already signed up for the new center include Scott's Department Store, Perry Drugs, Del's Shoes, a Greek restaurant, men's store, beauty and barber shops and a dentist's office. He said that the center would also include two women's apparel shops.

The 13-acre site will contain parking for 1,000 cars and architecture of the buildings will feature mansard roof design. At the rear of Northville Plaza are the new Innsbrook Apartments.

When completed the 25-store center will feature an interior mall, although some of the larger stores will have exterior entrances.

Another somewhat smaller center is also being developed by the Klein organization in Novi.

Located on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook the proposed center is slated for groundbreaking in June. It will also include a large A & P supermarket, a Scott's Junior Department store, and a PAC Drugs as the three major commercial tenants in the 106,000 square foot center.

Year-Round Enrollment Tops 1,300

Northville's voluntary year-round school program which began back in July, 1972, with 170 elementary students has mushroomed to more than 1,300 for the 1974-75 school year.

That's 28 percent of the district's total enrollment of 4,300 students and 40 percent of the total students enrolled in kindergarten through fifth grade.

Last year the program was expanded into the middle school and this year is being enlarged to include the high school and the two remaining elementary schools.

According to Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni, "The demand for elementary student enrollment became too much for Amerman Elementary School to handle," she said, "and many parents expressed the desire to enroll their students at the elementary level but didn't want to switch schools."

Elementary registration is still open, she said, "but in a few weeks we will be putting people on a hold list due to certain grades being full."

To date, Amerman has about 550 students in year-round school with 160 in the traditional school calendar year. Main Street has approximately 130 signed up for YRS and Moraine 150. Sixth graders at the Middle School Annex in YRS total 100; Cooke Middle School, 200; and Northville High 160.

Parent meeting held last week to inform high school parents and students about YRS "was packed," Miss Panattoni said. Following the meeting, registration opened and is continuing and student class schedules are being worked out, she explained.

Parents interested in enrolling their children in any of the district's YRS programs may pick up a registration

Downtown Motif Must be 'Honest'

"Be honest...there's nothing you can be better than being yourself," urged Catherine Eckert of the Michigan Department of History in suggesting a downtown architectural motif for Northville.

Guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Northville Historical Society, Ms. Eckert aimed her remarks at businessmen and city officials who were special guests of the society.

In refurbishing downtown areas, too often townspeople make the mistake of looking elsewhere for ideas on what kind of appearance their central business districts should take on, she said. They ought to be looking at what they already have and build on it.

"Your town, every town," the speaker said, "has its own special history. Look to your past, build on it, and go into the future that way."

An expert on downtown Victorian architecture — the predominant architecture of Northville's CBD — she advised removal of artificial facades and a return to the original architecture of the buildings.

If it is a 1920 building make it look like a 1920 building; don't give it an unreal modern appearance, she said. Even a gas station is "honest" when the original architecture is maintained and the building is kept neat and clean, she suggested.

Marine City, she said, could make a tragic mistake by adopting a Bavarian motif for its CBD as some businessmen have recommended.

"It (Marine City) had one of Michigan's earliest ship building yards, in the 1830's and 1840's. There are many retired sea captains living there. So they have all this past history that they can cash in on. But why they think Munich is the answer I don't know."

Enhancement of existing architecture, the speaker reported, has generally improved business. "While their taxes may go up when they improve their property business also improves. This has been the experience in Marshall."

More and more shoppers and tourists are seeking out stores with special historic charm, Ms. Eckert said.

Referring to a slide of an old tavern in Traverse City, she said it "is a place where anyone could take his grandmother and feel comfortable. You can buy a hamburger and interact with the guy who owns the shop."

"This is one of the things people crave today when we

Remodeling Costs Less Than Expected

"It won't cost nearly as much money to remodel the township offices at Wayne County Child Development Center as we first thought," Northville Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright said this week.

"We met Friday with the architects (school architects who are conducting the feasibility study) and toured the facilities," he continued. "It looks great to everyone and the department heads all are enthusiastic."

Wright explained that the building the township will lease from Wayne County has an existing cinder parking lot for 60 cars and "we won't have to do a thing with it."

Area to be occupied on the second floor of the building by the police department already has security rooms, he explained.

Phones, some lights and office partitions will have to be installed by the township and Wright said the cost of those items still are unknown. "But we've got rent from the building department and the water and sewer department along with capital im-

Planners Deny Rezoning

With the new township zoning ordinance now in effect, Northville Township Planning Commission Tuesday considered six petitions for rezoning which had been held, some since 1972, recommending denial for all except two business requests already approved in the ordinance.

It recommended approval of the Northville Jaycee project to renovate the fish hatchery building on Seven Mile Road and commended the Jaycees' plans for community use of the building.

R. T. Spencer, who outlined plans for city-township use of the structure, said approval already has been given by the city for its immediate plan for external repair.

In other new business, the commission referred a petition to its planning consultants for recommendation regarding a request from James and Carol Pasco, 42680 Waterford Road, to rezone an acre of their property from R-3 to B-2 for an ice-cream parlor "Farrell-type" operation, near the new middle school under construction on Six Mile Road.

WHITE CANES will be sold Friday and Saturday in Northville by local Lions Club members to support the service club's leader dog for the blind program.

'HELLO DOLLY' tickets go on sale Monday at Northville High for the schools' spring musical production running from May 15 through 18. Curtain time each evening is 8 p.m. Tickets, priced at $2 pre-sale and $2.25 at the door, may be purchased at the high school office. Persons not able to get to the high school during the day may phone 349-2050 for ticket reservations during school hours.

$50,000 CHECK from the State of Michigan is being looked forward to by Northville township officials. Funds are to help the township offset the cost of providing police and fire protection for Maybury State Park and to handle the increase in traffic the park will generate in the area, Supervisor Lawrence said this week.

A MILESTONE was reached yesterday (Wednesday) at Schoolcraft College when officials gathered for a "bond burning", signalling the retirement of the college's first bond issue which sold in 1962 for $2,435,000. It enabled Schoolcraft to purchase property and to construct its initial campus buildings.

Club Plans Art Exhibit

Three Cities Art Club members will hold an exhibit and sale of their art work at Northville Square May 10-11. Time of the show each day is 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

"Members of the club will present an exciting show as they display paintings, weavings and pottery," Phelps Hines, club president, commented.

Composed of members from Northville, Livonia, Plymouth, Westland and Farmington, the club is inviting interested persons to its meeting Wednesday, May 8, at the Plymouth Cultural Center. The meeting begins at 8 p.m.

Jessie Hudson, an artist and teacher, will be demonstrating stitching, weaving and macramé. At the club's April meeting, artist-teacher Jean Harding Brown gave a demonstration in acrylics, showing members and their guests how to work with glazing techniques.

Dedicated Teen-agers Rise Early to Skate

By JEAN DAY

ICE SKATING doesn't end with spring thaws for those dedicated to the increasingly popular sport.

Northville has a growing number of accomplished skaters including two 14-year-olds who are enthusiastic enough to rise at 5 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday to practice.

Jayne Winemaster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Winemaster, 1023 Fairfax Court, skates two mornings a week at the ice arena in the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street before attending classes at Cooke Middle School.

Joining her is Jessica Bacsanyi, a freshman at Northville High and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bacsanyi, 44262 Wyngate. Jessica's younger sisters, Karla, 12, and Kerri, 9, also are putting on skates these days.

Other regulars on the ice are a father-daughter team, Arild Lie and Barbara of 42270 Ludlow Court, who tango as dance-skaters. Lie's wife, Kathy, also is a Plymouth skater.

All will be among those appearing in the first presentation of the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department, "Love Makes the World Go Round," at the ice rink this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Jessica and Jayne will be in black-and-white costumes as little French maids in one show number. The show is being given at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 3 p.m. Sunday with tickets now on sale at the center, 455-6620, for $1.75 for adults and $1 for children and senior citizens. They also will be sold at the door if still available.

THE WINEMASTER family has a strong skating background as Jayne's mother, Maureen, was a professional ice skater for six years in London (England) ice shows. Her father was a professional ice hockey player.

Her brothers, Kenneth, 10, and Gary, 16, are ice hockey players, too.

Jayne, who had a solo number in the recent Livonia ice show, skates 11 months of the year in Livonia, Plymouth or Novi, missing only July when the family goes north.

"It's Jayne's dream to be in the Ice Capades when she's 18," her mother says, adding that "I don't want her to do this because I did, but she really seems very keen to do so."

She recalls that she "had a wonderful time skating" in London and is quite willing to cooperate by taking her young daughter to the early sessions. In fact, the whole family cooperates as the boys have to get off to school on their own those mornings and Jayne has to get to bed by 9 p.m.

Mrs. Winemaster hasn't skated for 15 years now but loves to watch. She began by skating "for fun," she notes, and was asked to audition for the London show.

Jayne hopes to take her skating tests so that, after having "done her thing" professionally in shows, she may teach. While the sport has caught on with most youngsters just recently, Jayne has been skating since she was a fourth grader, her mother says.

JESSICA BACSANYI regards her skating as "something to fall back upon," her mother reports. She will have a solo, "Somewhere, My Love," in the Plymouth show this weekend.

"You can't believe how enthusiastic skaters are—I wouldn't have believed we could get so involved," Mrs. Bacsanyi says with some amazement still.

Jessica also will skate a solo number in the Novi ice show later this month on May 18 and will be in the Hartland show the following day.

Because the Plymouth arena is closing for the season after the show, both the Winemaster and Bacsanyi families will be seeking different summer skating arrangements.

"Would you believe that we might be going to Woodhaven for summer lessons?" asks Mrs. Bacsanyi. While she doesn't skate, her husband is a figure skater, she points out.

FOUR COUPLES from Northville will be on their way Friday to view the 100th running of the Kentucky Derby.

The Joe Traudts, R.W. Kellys, Jr., C.B. Blumleys and the J.J. Linemans are leaving on a jaunt south that "has been in the planning stages for more than a year" to celebrate the racing centennial.

FROM HOPE College comes word that Scott Lenheiser, son of the Dean H. Lenheisers, has been nominated into Phi Beta Kappa national honor society. His parents will be in Holland, Michigan, next weekend, May 12, when he is to graduate with a BA in history.

Other seniors there are Jim Armstrong and Richard Ording.

EVEN IN LONDON, England, it's not hard to find Northville residents these days. When Laurie and I visited my other daughter, Robin (who is in school in Britain) last week, we went to see the London version of "Godspell."

From conversation, it became apparent that the two couples behind us were from Michigan, but it became a very small world as we introduced ourselves and found one couple was the Kenneth R. Donners who live less than a mile away. With friends from Livonia they were on a tour of Europe.

competition for women who work was told by judge Kay Savage that her recipe had been in contention for the big awards. Even so Mrs. Thomas received an electric timer and a digital clock as well as a white orchid to wear at last week's luncheon.

Attending the luncheon following the cook-off was Mrs. Thomas' husband, James. A death in the family prevented her boss, Richard Brennan, manager of Meadowbrook Country Club where she is his secretary, from being on hand.

As she had predicted beforehand, Mrs. Thomas felt her recipe was "too cheesy" to be a winner. The entire day, however, she still describes as "a lovely experience."

In addition to three children at the Thomas' home at 23228 Gilbar rooting for her, Mrs. Thomas' oldest daughter, Miss Margaret Madden, was waiting to hear. She is in her first year of teaching nursing at Ford Community College.

Marion Thomas shares the recipe which made her one of the 10 finalists selected for the contest:

A wedding trip east following their marriage April 20 provided opportunity for Dan Anderson to show his bride, the former Jill Hagge, the Lancaster, Pennsylvania, area where he attended school.

The couple exchanged vows in a 1:30 p.m. ceremony at Northville First Presbyterian Church at which the Reverend Richard Henderson officiated.

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. Donald Hagge, 700 West Main Street, was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Hagge, Jr., of Youngstown, Ohio. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Anderson, 310 Dunlap Street.

For the double-ring ceremony the bride chose a gown of white dotted swiss organza with lace accents on the bodice, the high collar and the full, bishop sleeves as well as at the flounce of the full skirt. She wore an illusion shoulder veil and carried a cascade arrangement of white daisies and carnations. The bride's sister-in-law,

Melissa Hagge, was matron of honor in a yellow dotted swiss gown fashioned with full sleeves and stand-up collar similar to that of the bride's. Bridesmaid, as bridesmaid, wore a matching yellow gown and both carried baskets of spring flowers. Kenneth Hinkle was best man. Richard Bell served as usher.

A reception for 100 guests, many from Ohio, Illinois and Florida, followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The new Mrs. Anderson is a graduate of Schoolcraft College and presently is a student at Eastern Michigan University.

Her husband is a certified horologist at the Andersons' Northville Watch and Clock Shop on Dunlap Street. He received his training in the Pennsylvania Dutch region and combined business with the honeymoon as he delivered a grandfather clock there and also showed his bride his "old haunts".

The newlyweds then went on to Virginia. They will make their home in South Lyon.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID C. MARINO

Couple Takes Trip To Bahamas

A wedding trip to Paradise Island in the Bahamas and to Florida followed the marriage of Sarah Elizabeth Barron and David C. Marino April 20 in Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

Both the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Barron, 21000 East Chigwidon, and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Marino, 43805 West Six Mile Road, participated in the service.

Father Ronald Modras of St. John's Seminary officiated at the double-ring ceremony for which the liturgy and music were selected by the couple. Spring floral bouquets with glads and mums decorated the church.

A wide ruffle of lace edged the portrait neckline of the bride's gown and formed tiny, cupped sleeves. The fitted bodice was of lace above a gathered organdy skirt. Matching lace was used on the wide-brimmed picture hat holding her illusion veil.

She carried seven long-stemmed roses and baby's breath tied with a velvet ribbon.

Barbara Barron was her sister's maid of honor while Molly Harmon of Columbus, Ohio, roommate of the bride at Eastern Michigan University, and two other sisters, Mary and Carrie, were bridesmaids.

They wore apple green dotted swiss gowns with ruffled capes and carried bouquets of spring flowers.

Nine-year-old Betsy Barron was flower girl in white dotted swiss with green trimming. Andrew Barron, 6, was ring bearer.

Charles Marino, Jr., was his brother's best man. Seating guests were Richard Ambler, Bill Andrews and David Barron.

A reception followed at the Thunderbird Inn for 130 guests.

The bride is a freshman majoring in interior design at EMU while her husband is a sophomore there majoring in business. They plan to make their home in Northville.

Gives Flags

More than two dozen American flags were presented to Northville's Cooke Middle School recently by VFW Auxiliary Post 4012.

The flags and holders were donated to the school for use in classrooms. Mrs. Cloyce Myers, president of the auxiliary, commented.

News Around Northville

It was his first experience at deep sea fishing, but 14-year-old Rick Marrone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Marrone of 21248 Summerside Lane, made it a spectacular one.

Fishing with his parents while vacationing at Miami Beach recently, Rich battled 45 minutes to successfully land a 7 foot-5-inch sailfish that weighed in at 65 pounds.

Mrs. Marrone says the big fish is being mounted for the proud ninth grader.

Northville Camera Club members are scheduled to hear a recorded lecture, "Mind Your P's and the Q's Will Take Care of Themselves", at their meeting at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 8, in Wayne County Child Development Center clubrooms.

The lecture is by Ralph Rose, APSA.

Sally M. Sliger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sliger of 18439 Fermanagh Court, has been elected pledge trainer of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

A rummage sale at St. Matthew's Methodist Church, Six Mile Road east of Merriman, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., this Saturday will benefit Hawthorn Chapter of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children and the Young Adult Unit at Northville State Hospital.

A total of $475 has been donated to the Schoolcraft College Women's Club Student Loan Fund following a style show held earlier this spring.

According to Mrs. Fred Wrenbeck, group president and chairman of the fund raising event, more than 300 people attended the show to view the latest fashions in clothes and hair.

Loans are available through the student loan fund and interest free if paid back before students register for the next semester, Mrs. Wrenbeck explained.

Speaker for the evening will be Miss Elizabeth Etz whose topic will be "Berta Hummel and Her Arts."

Rebecca A. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Clark, 18346 Jamestown Circle, has been named to the dean's list at Tri-State College in Angola, Indiana.

A graduate of Lawrence Central High School, Miss Clark is majoring in electrical engineering.

Kids 'Barely up to My Waist' in Man Size Crime Spree

Eight juveniles, some no more than 11 years of age, have been apprehended by Novi police in what has been described as the "biggest rip-off by a young band of thieves in Novi's 150 year history."

"It's enough to make a grown man want to cry to see kids, barely up to my waist, involved in this man-sized crime spree," said Detective Robert Starnes who believes 15 or 20 boys, operating in two separate rings, may be involved in the nearly 30 Novi B&E's occurring over the past two weeks.

"We brought two 11-year-olds in here and, my God, they were bawling before we even got down to questioning them," he continued. "It hurts, let me tell you, even for a hardened cop."

According to Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson, nine boys (the oldest is 17 and thus not a juvenile) have been arrested "and we've just scratched the surface of this thing. They're organized...as organized as adult criminals."

Detectives believe the boys may be influenced by young adult leaders.

The crime spree, Nelson said, has netted thieves an estimated $12,000 worth of merchandise—most of which has been stolen from homes and cars in the mile square area bordered by 10 Mile, Meadowbrook, Nine Mile and Haggerty roads.

About $1,000 worth of merchandise has been recovered.

"Oddly, they are being selective. They'll rob homes in another neighborhood but not their own. And most of it is occurring in broad daylight, from about 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.," Nelson said.

One of the "gangs," according to Starnes, "is hitting the condos almost exclusively. They're using plastic cards to open door locks, walking in, grabbing color TV sets and any guns or money close by, and then walking right back out closing the door behind them."

"For awhile last week they were working just in front of us. We'd be at one of the homes investigating a B&E, with the homeowner when we'd get another call about a B&E just down the street."

Some of them are "taking the stuff home, where apparently parents either don't care or don't bother to find out how their kids got it."

Starnes, who admitted the apathy of some parents make him boiling mad, said in one case a youngster "brought home a $140 tape cassette and told his father he bought it from another kid for $15. You know what the father said? He told the kid to try to get him one for the same price. So the kid gets one and the old man puts it in his truck."

Some of the thieves are "stashing the stolen stuff in plastic sacks out in the field someplace. They'll go out and get it later to sell it."

Police suspect the gangs may be tied in with a ring that has been working out of Northville and Farmington. The departments are cooperating in the investigation, which in Novi has three detectives (John Johnson is the other) working almost full time on the case.

Most of the youngsters apparently are of middle school or high school age, detectives said. And "they're selling the stuff to kids their own age."

Although the thefts are concentrated in the southeast section of Novi, detectives have learned through one tip that some boys, who have access to cars, are operating as far away as 50 miles.

In many cases homeowners are not immediately aware they have been robbed, according to Starnes. "They come home, find the door locked, and go inside. It isn't until later, maybe after supper when they sit down to watch TV that they find their $500 color set missing."

Police advice to homeowners:

"Don't leave telltale signs that you aren't at home, such as leaving garage doors wide open, and get rid of those cheap outside door locks and get yourself a 'dead bolt' type lock."

And, for the parent:

"If your son comes home with something he 'bought' from Johnny down the street

10-MILE LINE—As workmen complete extension of the sewer to the 10 Mile-Novi Road area, city engineers have been given the green light to study the feasibility of extending the line west on 10 to the school-library site at Taft Road. In authorizing the study this week, council made it plain that the question of financing is far from settled. Councilmen are expecting the school district to share costs even though by law the school cannot be special assessed.

Space Crunch Triggers Dispute

Novi May Rent Offices

Revived after an initial defeat, a proposal to negotiate rental of bank property to relieve overcrowding at the city hall was approved by a split decision of the Novi City Council Monday night.

The action was labeled "illegal" by Councilman Louie Campbell, and the necessity of additional housing was challenged by Councilman Edwin Presnell, the other member casting a dissenting vote.

Specifically, the vote authorizes the city manager to negotiate a two-year agreement with the West Oakland Bank for rental of office space in the bank's new 10 Mile-Novi Road complex.

Approval or disapproval of the negotiated agreement must still be given by the council.

Attorney David Fried, angered Campbell who contended the same motion could not be considered the same evening. He called the council's action illegal, but it was noted the second motion differed slightly and that other actions had been taken by the council between the first motion and the second.

matter", Fried pointed out that authorization to negotiate did not mean approval of a contract. Approval of a rental agreement must still be made once negotiations are complete, he said.

rental measure, Berry made it clear he expected steps to be taken immediately to re-create the building authority and get the municipal complex plans underway.

Like Mrs. Roethel he remained unconvinced that the manager's suggestion to move everyone but police personnel from the city hall is necessary. He emphasized, however, that an outstanding

Vandals Hit Park

Vandalism has turned Novi's Walled Lake park into the worst condition in its history, Councilman Edwin Presnell angrily declared this week.

It is scheduled for opening on Memorial Day, but the only thing happening that day will be "memorial services for the park," he said bitterly.

Vandalism has occurred at the park in the past, but never to the current extent. Out-buildings have been nearly demolished, observed Presnell, who suggested the city's best solution probably would be returning the property to the state since it doesn't appear to be appreciated locally.

It was the 24-month limitation that persuaded Councilwoman Romaine Roethel to vote with Councilmen Denis Berry and Philip Goodman in supporting authorization to negotiate the rental agreement.

Initially, she voted against the proposal (it failed, 3-2) when it contained no time limitation. Without that limitation, she reasoned, rental might go on indefinitely and thereby delay the new municipal complex project. Although she changed her vote the councilwoman emphasized she found the alternative to rent a waste of money.

Wixom Studies Budget

Budget study sessions begin tonight in Wixom as the council takes its first collective look at Mayor Gilbert Willis' proposed $1,140,900 budget for the 1974-75 year.

The council is scheduled to meet next Tuesday and Thursday evenings also in an item-by-item examination of the city's biggest budget ever. Last year's budget stood at $921,142.

But Mayor Willis noted that the new budget does not include a millage hike. The new budget anticipates an increase in operating millage from a current levy of 6.01 mills to 6.61 mills, but also includes a reduction in the sewer debt retirement millage from 4.2 mills to 3.6 mills.

The new budget projects revenues from property tax levies will increase from some $381,000 last year to $490,000 in the coming year. It also projects a boost in state revenues from $88,000 to $99,800.

The proposed budget contains some healthy salary increases, the highest being a 40 per cent pay boost for William Travis, assistant to the mayor. Currently, Travis is receiving $13,500. Mayor Willis' budget proposes a salary of $19,000 for Travis with $600 for expenses.

Other significant pay increases are proposed for Treasurer Caroline Anderson, some 33 per cent from $9,000 to $12,000 annually; 23 per cent for Clerk June Buck from $10,500 to $13,000; 15 per cent for the chief of police from $16,000 to $18,500; 13.5 per cent for the director of public works, from $15,000 to $17,000; and 15 per cent for the DPW foreman, from $12,371 to $14,200.

The police department budget for 1974-75 anticipates an increase of expenditures of more than 30 per cent, from some $200,000 to $268,000. This includes a third sergeant and possibly an increase in the number of patrolmen. It also includes a hike of $2,000 each for gas and oil, and for vehicles.

The fire department budget remains at about the same level as last year, $11,500.

Building department expenditures jump slightly from a total of $46,450 last year to an anticipated $47,950 this year with the official receiving a pay hike from $13,750 to $16,500.

The proposed budget also calls for some $15,000 for the hiring of a consultant to conduct a reappraisal of all Wixom property. Wixom's property assessments will be multiplied by a factor of 1.15 this year to bring them up to state equalized valuation.

The council has indicated it will take official action of the mayor's budget at the May 28 council meeting.

First Teen on Commission

Busy Girl Likes Parks Job

By DONALD MEADOWS

What does a civic-minded varsity cheerleader who helps out with school plays and works as a part-time dental assistant in Farmington do with her spare time?

Lucine Tafralian, a junior at Novi High School is using some of her extra time to serve as the first student member of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

"We are pleased to have her on the commission," said Chairman Raymond Murphy. "We were aware of the void we've had in providing programs for middle and high school age children," he explained, "and decided it would be advantageous to get some feed-back from the kids."

Teachers at the high school selected four juniors to be interviewed by the city council for the position.

"All of us were asked to give references and answer question like, 'Why do you want to serve on the commission?'" Lucine recalled. "I told them I wanted to get better acquainted with things in the community," she said. "I didn't know much about how government works behind the scene and thought this would be a good way to find out."

Lucine was chosen to serve on the commission in late March. She has the same voting power and privileges that the other seven members are given. After one year she will resign and another junior will be appointed.

"She's going to be a big help to make sure the city is providing programs needed and desired by the kids," Murphy said.

"At first I thought it would be hard to work it into my schedule," Lucine admitted.

Novi Pinball Law Shelved

The on-again, off-again pinball arcade matter is temporarily off again.

Novi council delayed consideration of a pinball ordinance because two members (Mayor Robert Daley and Councilman George Athas) were absent Monday.

The delay means two outstanding license applications are again placed on the back burner.

When Councilwoman Romaine Roethel suggested the proposed ordinance be amended to prohibit living quarters in a pinball arcade building (she noted one is suggested in the business proposed on Grand River), Councilman Philip Goodman suggested the matter should be dealt with in the zoning ordinance.

He criticized council for attempting to draft legislation which appears to be aimed at specific applicants.

Uniform enforcement of the law, he asserted, is necessary. "It is not proper to pick and choose" who should be governed by statute, he argued.

A uniformly applied law is essential," he asserted. "It is improper to pick and choose who should be governed by statute. If it is improper to have a residence in the same building then the zoning should be changed to expressly prohibit, he suggested.

Mrs. Roethel explained she raised the point because it is her understanding the

Editor Tells Town Hall

Women Show Fashion Independence

By SALLY BURKE

"Make clothes an investment and don't buy impulsively," June Weir, fashion editor of Women's Wear Daily, told a packed Town Hall audience last week.

"And you can collect clothes even if you're on a limited budget. Basic shapes, shirts, skirts, pants and cardigans can go anywhere."

Miss Weir, who also serves as fashion editor of W, a newspaper for the fashion-conscious modern woman, praised American women who "now, for the first time, have a healthy attitude about clothes."

"You're wearing the clothes rather than the clothes wearing you," she commented. "Women in the 60's dressed like their daughters, looked plastically and looked older than they were. Now, they're expressing their individuality."

A 20-year veteran of New York's Seventh Avenue fashion world, Miss Weir said that 1974 fashions have a "new tranquility, serenity and intelligence. There's a healthy and good attitude about clothes."

"Many stores underestimate the intelligence of women they are dealing with," she continued, "but today women know fabrics, designers and brand names and are sewing their own clothes."

While fashion used to start in Paris and women would wear anything that was in whether or not it looked good on them, fashion today is no longer a dictatorship.

"It was the battle of the midi that changed it," Miss Weir admitted. "That was the first time women showed their true independence and stuck with buying pants or bought no new clothes at all."

Appearing in a tomato-red simple shirt dress accented with gold earrings, necklace, black patent shoes and tomato-red turban which hid all of her hair, Miss Weir added that "America, more than any other country, understands how to give fashion at a price. The trend is towards a new price structure" with even some of the traditionally big fashion houses like Dior getting into ready-to-wear clothes.

Who are the fashion setters today? "There's no particular woman but rather women in general. There's no one movie or society person."

"When Jackie Kennedy put on a pill box, the world followed. When the Duchess of Windsor appeared in Wallis blue, the world followed."

Who's making fashion and making fashion news today? Miss Weir ticked off names of 15 designers she considers pace-setters, among them "St. Laurent who put it all in pants and understood the casual mood; Kenzo, the Japanese designer with wonderful cuts, colors and fabrics; American designers like Halston and Adolfo with Halston launching ultra-suede and Adolfo with knits and evening clothes."

How to look great? Start with yourself and understand your face and figure, she explained. "The most important quality is to be observant. What looks good on someone with a figure and coloring like yours?"

She cited Nancy Reagan, Lena Horne and Princess Grace as top best-dressed women in her book.

"And build your wardrobe to meet your lifestyle," she urged.

How to make it on a budget? Buy seasonless clothes. "Ultra-suede, matte jersey and knits can be worn anytime. Don't buy prints because they'll be remembered."

"And if it's a choice between inexpensive or moderate price clothes, spend the extra," she added. "The clothes will wear longer, go with more things."

Even the best-dressed women save good coats and evening dresses to wear for more than one season and Miss Weir said she figures the average life of her clothes is three to five years.

What's coming in? Hair is short, full, soft to go with the clothes. Make-up is peach lipstick and rosy cheeks. Skirts are newer than pants and the length is the knee or below. Dresses are chemise, shirt dress and jacket dress.

Sportswear is soft and coats are larger. Pants are taking on a wider leg for evening wear and colors are softer — white, beige and green with evening wear in pink and blue.

Shoes are sling back, sandals and spectators. Hats are back and while the shoulder bag continues, the under-the-arm envelope bag is returning.

"This is an interesting time," Miss Weir declared. "Interesting for fashion and a great time for women. We're expressing our individuality."

TOWN HALL SPEAKER — June Weir (left), fashion editor of Women's Wear Daily and W, closed Northville Town Hall's 13th season Thursday. Shown with her are Mrs. Richard Kelly (standing), who will chair the lecture series next year, and Mrs. William Miron, who is completing her term as chairman this year.

First Exhibit Features Sailboats

Northville artist Ronald Joseph Wilson of 814 West Main Street will have his first one-man show, featuring sailboats in drawings and paintings, May 5 through 25 at the Plymouth House Galleries, 308 North Main Street, Plymouth.

RONALD WILSON

The show officially opens with a champagne reception at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Wilson, an artist-photographer by profession, earned his bachelor of fine arts degree in 1950 from Ohio University and then spent two years studying at the Cleveland Institute of Art.

During this time he won two first prizes in drawing at the Cleveland art show.

In 1954 he opened his own photography studio in St. Ignace, Michigan, with one of his best known works being a first-prize photograph of the Mackinac bridge which is credited with helping the bridge's designer, Dr. D.B. Steinman, win "the world's most beautiful bridge" contest.

In 1966 Wilson originated the photo-graphics department at Plymouth Center for Human Development in Northville and there divided his time in photography, closed circuit television and graphic design.

At present he is art director for WILX-TV, Channel 10, the NBC affiliate in Jackson and Lansing. He recently passed the examination for the second class Federal Communication Commission's professional radio-telephone license and is studying for his first class license.

Art critics point out that with a background in photography, art and electronics Wilson might be expected to create "large, mechanical works but, instead, the paintings show trembling, delicate lines."

He seems particularly to like to capture the motion of sailboats in his seascape sketches.

Wilson is married, and his wife, Evlyn, is a professor at Washtenaw Community College.

BID FAREWELL—Northville Newcomers' President Barbara Kausler (center) wishes two of the club's golf league members, Vivian Gerrard (left) and Barbara Lindner, good luck in the season ahead. Mrs. Kausler, who has been president of the group for the past three years, is serving her last term. Both Mrs. Lindner and Mrs. Gerrard will serve on the club's board of directors next year with Mrs. Lindner taking the post of couples' social assistant and Mrs. Gerrard serving as newsletter editor.

Kindergarten Sign Up Set

School registration forms are being mailed this week to parents of five-year-old children in the Northville School District.

Only those children who will be five years of age on or before December 1, 1974, are eligible to begin kindergarten next year, administrators said.

Children who are already enrolled in the year-round school program also must complete registration forms.

Parents who do not receive the forms in the mail are asked to stop at one of the elementary schools between 9 and 11 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m. to fill out a formal registration form.

Elementary schools and their locations are Amerman, 847 North Center Street; Main Street, 501 West Main Street; and Moraine, 46811 West Eight Mile Road.

All children registered by May 17 will receive an information to visit kindergarten classrooms on Monday, June 3. Principals of each building will meet with parents that day while the children visit the classrooms and become acquainted with the school.

Once registration forms are completed, they should be returned with a birth certificate to any one of the three elementary schools and parents will then receive a packet of materials, including medical and dental forms to be filled out by a doctor and other information about Northville schools and policies. All children must have a physical examination before they begin kindergarten.

Parents who have further questions may call any of the elementary school principals, William Craft at Amerman, 349-2235; Donald VanIngen at Main Street, 349-5925; or Milt Jacobi at Moraine, 349-2092.

The presentation of Showboat is in keeping with the current nostalgia of reviving older musical comedies and is the story of a troupe of actors who perform on a showboat.

Written by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein, it tells the story of the Mississippi Riverboat and the people on it.

Performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and at 7

Tickets are $2 for general admission and $1 for Schoolcraft students. Tickets are on sale at the College Bookstore and will be available at the door. For

AAUW Book Sale Set Today

"One little book sale and how it grew" - an apt title for the nostalgic reminiscences of members of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women as they open their 20th annual used book sale today (Thursday) at Westland Center.

Sheila Norgren of Northville is this year's sale chairman.

The sale, being held through Saturday, in the center's West Court, is a far cry from its 1955 predecessor. "Back then," according to AAUW president, Elaine Kirchgatter, "we were a group of 63 members, trying our hand at raising money for our national fellowship donation. Many AAUW branches traditionally hold used book sales to raise fellowship contributions because the project is so consistent with the Association's goals of furthering education and growth experiences throughout a person's lifetime."

Last year's record profit of $3,275 enabled the group to make its largest fellowship donation to date, thus earning the distinction of having the highest per capita donation of any AAUW branch in the state division.

The really consistent factors over the last twenty years, Mrs. Scharmen and Mrs. Norgren agree, are member enthusiasm, public response, and low prices - which still range from 5 cents to $2 on almost all items.

WALK FOR MANKIND - Soliciting sponsors for their upcoming "Walk for Mankind" - a project jointly sponsored by the Northville and Novi Jaycees - are Jeff Norton and Cathy Hall. Mrs. Linda Tull listens to the youngsters' appeal. Sponsorship means donating a specified amount of money for each mile walkers hike over the 21 mile course through Northville and Novi May 18. Hundreds of youngsters, as well as adults, are expected to make the walk, according to Jaycees who urge sponsors "to get behind the participants with your dollars and help us provide medical aid for underprivileged."

Jaycees Elect Harvey Tull President

Harvey Tull, a financial analyst, has been elected president of the Northville Jaycees for the 1974-75 year. He will replace the current president, Arlen Westling, on June 1.

A former Jaycee with the Ypsilanti chapter, Tull is a financial analysis supervisor for the Ford Customer Service Division. For the past year he has served as the external vice-president in the Northville chapter.

Tull lives at 43721 Galway Drive.

Elected to offices of internal vice-president and external vice-president in the annual election last week were James Tolskay and Arthur Bakewell, respectively.

Thomas Lang and John Dugan, members with many years of Jaycee experience, were selected secretary and treasurer.

Rounding out the 1974-75 board of directors are Norman Morrison, Peter Theis, James Maxwell and Ed Titsworth, each of whom were named directors.

Westling, chairman of the board, pointed out that the final month of his presidency will be a busy one. It will be highlighted, he noted, by the Michigan Jaycee State Convention in Grand Rapids on May 10 and the Northville-Novu Walk for Mankind on May 18.

Committee To Study Novi Sports

Establishment of a citizens advisory committee to study school athletic needs over the next five to 10 years has been given the green light by the Novi Board of Education.

Board members are to recommend potential members for the committee at their next regular board meeting in May. The committee is expected to have up to 30 members.

According to Superintendent Gerald Kratz, creation of the committee was supported by the administration and the curriculum council.

"A survey...would provide long range goals as well as short range goals and create a perspective and evaluation of the total program," Dr. Kratz said.

"This would give the school district a master plan of all the physical education needs for the next hopefully five to 10 years. Some recommendations might be implemented immediately with limited cost to the district and the school system would benefit accordingly."

"It is also felt that the community and staff would be challenged to improve the educational programs in athletics as they gain new insights into the present offerings."

The committee is to be composed of residents from all sections of the community, including students.

IN HIS MAJESTY'S SERVICE — Dressed in appropriate costumes, eight of the 33 students who will present songs from HMS Pinafore run through one of the numbers. The music from Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta is just part of the program which will be staged Wednesday, May 8, by the Cooke Annex Sixth Grade Chorus. The program begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Annex Gym and admission is free. Rehearsing are Dedee Webb, seated, who plays Cousin Hebe; and, from left, Brian Buckmaster, Captain; Steve Munsell, Sir Joseph I; Natalie Lentz, Laura Ziemann, Melissa Burchard, sailors; Kelly Schulz, Sir Joseph II; and Nancy Orr, Buttercup. Included in the first part of Wednesday's program will be In This Land, Dona Nobis Pacem, The Water Is Wide and The Happy Wanderer. Music instructor is Miss Ann Mercandetti.

Blood Bank

A Blood Donor Club is being sponsored at Novi High School by the student council.

An assembly for all students 17 years of age and older is scheduled Monday, and if enough students and faculty members are interested the bloodmobile is to come here May 10 to collect blood.

In a national agreement reached late in 1973 between the American Association of Blood Banks and the American Red Cross, 17-year-olds can now give blood.

However, the agreement stipulates that 17-year-olds must have written permission from a parent or guardian before they can donate blood.

Novi High School activities will reach a crescendo this month.

Already the mood is building as annual sale of the community band calendar gets underway. The calendars may be ordered through any member of the band or the Band Boosters.

Proceeds are to help purchase music, send youngsters to band camp, and purchase and repair instruments.

Cost for calendars under the "family plan" is $2.50 each, and this price includes listing of all humans in one household. For an additional 25-cents birthdays of relatives, friends and pets may be listed.

Calendars for senior citizens will sell for $1, with 25 cents extra for listing.

On May 14 the high school band will present its spring concert at the high school. An added attraction will be the performance of three songs by fifth graders from Novi elementary schools.

The high school band presentation will be highlighted by Music Man and Borodin's Symphony No. 1, The Finale. Some popular music also is planned.

Two band performances are planned for Government Day at the High School on May 20.

On May 16 the high school band will do two performances at Greenfield Village, participating in the Country Days Fair. It will present a marching performance in the morning and a platform performance in the afternoon.

For Michigan Week, on May 25, the band has been invited to participate in the Wixom area's Youth Day Parade.

Finally, on May 27 the band will once again participate in the annual Memorial Day parade and ceremonies in Novi.

Novi Board OKs Youth Insurance

A student insurance program, which automatically covers each child in the school system, has been approved in Novi.

Paid by the school district at a cost of $1 per student, the program was approved by a 4-2 vote of the Novi Board of Education.

Casting the two dissenting votes were Gilbert Henderson and Todd Price. Henderson explained that he considered insurance an obligation of the parent, not the school district.

Price also questioned validity of statements concerning the all-encompassing nature of the insurance, pointing out that under a new state law duplication of coverage is prohibited. His point was that the new school-paid insurance will "pay off" only after payment has been made by other carriers thus requiring waiting periods.

According to Superintendent Gerald Kratz, who strongly recommended the insurance plan, the insurance covers injuries not ordinarily covered by other plans.

The plan covers, he said: - Services of doctors and nurses. - Necessary hospital care or service. - All necessary x-ray expense. - Dental expense for injury to natural sound and whole teeth. - Accidental death and dismemberment of $1,500 per injury.

The only restriction of the policy, he explained, is that payment is made for injuries due only to accidents occurring within the policy year relating to school sponsored activities.

The insurance cost is based on the number of students in school on the "fourth Friday" count day each fall. Students new to the district after the fourth Friday count are automatically covered at no additional premium.

Novi Junior-Senior Prom Plans Set

The junior-senior prom for Novi High School is only a short month away, and juniors aren't wasting any time.

The prom is to be held May 18 at the Pontchartrain Hotel, from 7:30 p.m. through 12 a.m. Theme for the occasion is "Just You and Me".

A map will be provided with directions to the hotel. Price of tickets is $22 per couple, and they will be on sale for only one week, a spokesman emphasized.

The attire is formal, and there will be a formal sit down dinner. Young men are not required to wear tuxedos, however.

Entertainment will be provided by the band, "Shades of the East". Pictures will be taken at the prom from 7 to 8 p.m. and from 9 to 10:30 p.m. Guests will receive two 5 x 7 and four wallet size pictures for $3.50. Couples wanting their pictures taken should sign their names on the sheet on the counseling office window.

Novi Board OKs Salaries

Employment, wage adjustments, and leaves of absences were approved by the Novi Board of Education this past week.

The board approved these personnel recommendations of the superintendent:

John Ishler is to be employed as a teacher for two weeks during the summer at a rate of $7.25 hourly.

Johnathan Casey and Irene Jacob were employed as substitute bus drivers at an hourly rate of $3.50, and Sally Spaletta was hired as lunchroom supervisor at Orchard Hills Elementary at a rate of $2.25 hourly.

Approved for hiring, although not all are expected to be retained, were these eight persons as June election workers: May Skellinger, Ann Pauls, Sue Tafralian, Laree Bell, Shirley Brooks, Evelyn Goodman, Geraldine Jackson, and Mary Padgett. They are paid at an hourly rate of $2 except in the case of Mrs. Skellinger, who is to receive $2.50 since she carries the title chief of election workers.

The hourly rate of Laree Bell, whose title has changed from substitute cook to regular cook at Novi Elementary, has been adjusted from $1.95 to $2.28.

Gail Siskin, Marion Grant and Janith Rolston were granted extension of leaves.

Concerning leaves, Superintendent Gerald Kratz indicated that when the new teachers contract is considered next year a limitation on lengths of leaves should be considered.

Advisory Group Meets

A meeting of the Novi High School Parent Advisory Council was scheduled last night (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Principal Helen Ditzhazy, was to establish a sounding board for the continuous upgrading of high school programs.

More specifically it was to provide "input on school policies and problem areas related to the learning situation, to bring new ideas, to learn about curriculum, to give input on athletics, career education accountability models, and to help in formulating a site pathway plan for the new high school.

Kindergarten Plans Told

Youngsters who will be entering kindergarten in the Walled Lake School District in the fall should preregister this spring, preferably during Kindergarten Registration Week, May 6 to 10, officials announced this week.

Youngsters who will be five years old on or before December 1 are eligible to begin kindergarten in September of this year.

Parents should register their children before June 21 at the school which they will attend. Late registration will be open beginning August 19. Registrations will be accepted anytime during school hours.

Parents who do not know which school attendance area they are in may call the administration building at 624-4801 for information.

The child's birth certificate is needed for registration in addition to certain health measures required by state law. These include vision and tuberculin tests as well as immunizations against rubella, diphtheria, polio, small pox and tetanus.

The child is not officially enrolled as a student until all requirements have been completed.

The family physician may give the tests and immunizations or arrangements can be made for the child to receive them at no cost at the Oakland County Health Department or at clinics held at the Southwest Oakland Vocational Education Center.

6 Apply for Study

Names of six Novi teachers have been submitted to universities for participation in National Science Foundation summer workshops.

One program is slated at the University of Michigan from June 23 to July 5, and the other is planned at Michigan State University July 8 through August 2.

Novi has applied for both with two three-person teams, according to Superintendent Gerald Kratz. Results of those applications were to be learned this week.

The teachers are:

MSU — Jeanne Kinney, Gloria Crawford and Marie Renner.

U-M — Douglas Day, Barbara Burns and Ester McDonough.

WHEN YOU PAY TO HAVE YOUR HAIR DONE — YOU DESERVE THE BEST

THAT'S WHY WE USE REDKEN PROFESSIONAL HAIR AND BEAUTY PRODUCTS

Take Shampoo. It's a very important part of your hair care treatment. The right shampoo means healthier, lovelier hair. The wrong shampoo—well, it means hair trouble. In our best professional sense we couldn't use anything less than Redken's Amino-Pon "K-11" Shampoo. It's more than a shampoo—it's a treatment.

Amino-Pon's naturally-organic, acid-balanced formula provides the hair with protein. It is so good for the hair the second Amino-Pon sudsing can actually be left in the hair for extra conditioning. After your first Amino-Pon treatment your hair regains lost life, strength, luster and beauty.

And if you have sick or damaged hair... you need Redken's P. P. T. "S-77" Reconditioner. It is a naturally-organic protein hair reconditioner that actually feeds the hair needed nourishment. With correct P. P. T. treatments, damaged, weakened hair can be rebuilt and restructured.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Thoughtlessness and lack of consideration may be the two biggest enemies of the legion of citizens and public officials who strive for beautification of their communities.

Traditionally, May is the month when cities, townships and villages across the nation promote the observance of "clean-up, paint-up and fix-up" activities.

Northville has been particularly active in the nationwide clean-up contests and on two occasions captured first place for cities its size doing the most to improve the appearance of its community.

But it isn't difficult to find papers, beer cans, high weeds and unsightly rubbish strewn about in Northville despite efforts at beautification.

And frequently the "cleanest city" has been laughed at and criticized by those who would find pleasure in mocking honest effort.

But beautification is not a job for any single citizen, elected official or committee. It is an individual responsibility that when ignored by the tossing of a single gum or candy wrapper just once a day by inconsiderate children and adults becomes an expensive and difficult chore for clean-up crews.

Trash containers at public corners and in shopping centers and public buildings, or signs urging citizens not to be litterbugs, are of little consequence if they are ignored.

Homeowners, businessmen and local governments spend thousands of dollars in an effort to keep their own private and public premises clean and provide landscaped beautification for everyone to enjoy.

And they spend thousands more cleaning up after those who are thoughtless and inconsiderate.

May is the month that serves as a reminder to all of us that beautification is everyone's business and cannot be left just to elected officials, police or clean-up committee members to enforce and practice.

Schoolcraft college was scheduled to stage an unusual observance last night (Wednesday, May 1): the retirement of the community college's first bond issue which was sold in 1962 in the amount of $2,435,000.

That bond issue provided for the purchase of the property and the initial campus complex.

The last bonds were called six years early, permitting the district to realize more than half-a-million dollars in interest savings.

"Bond burning" invitations were extended to a number of interested citizens.

Normally, the following news item would appear on the sports pages of this newspaper.

But in one of his more kindly expressions of respect, our Sports Editor suggested that this column might be a more suitable and familiar location for prose of questionable validity.

So he requested that a small amount of space be made available for this unconfirmed report from Black River Country Club in Port Huron:

"Richard Ambler of Northville scored a hole-in-one on the 140-yard 13th hole using a seven iron. His playing partner was Al Boelens, a former Northville resident."

Readers Speak: Raps Torture of Ducks in Novi

To the Editor:
It's time the parents of young adults of this relatively affluent suburb think and be interested in what their children do and learn about human life and values.

We have two white ducks that inhabit the Ingersol Drain. They are pets of all the children in this area. Sunday they were purposely and maliciously tortured by three youths who succeeded in knocking the one duck's eye out of its socket. It will permanently damage the eyesight—if the eye can even be saved.

This is not the first time the ducks have been tortured.

Many of us watch out for these ducks and if we see abuse we ask that they refrain from barbaric acts but we are met with verbal abuse.

I am sick of hearing of the "inner city jungle", when I feel the real "jungle" is our own community under the disguise of affluence and social prominence. It boils down to parental neglect and disinterest.

To all youths and parents I hope you read this and if need be reassess your values.

Speaking for Myself

Athletes Overpaid?

JOHN BECKETT

YES . . .

Walt Frazier, star guard for the pro basketball New York Knicks, is a magician with the basketball. He's something of a magician with the pocketbook, too, pulling down enough money every year to adorn himself with fur coats and Rolls Royces.

Reggie Jackson, who hits a baseball almost as well as any man, also has a little of the magician in him. Enough to conjure up a $90,000 raise this season.

That's hardly within the 5.5 per cent federal guidelines.

Overpaid? You better believe professional athletes are overpaid! Six-figure salaries are becoming more the rule than the exception, and with new leagues and franchises suddenly blooming everywhere those salaries certainly aren't about to feel the pinch of inflation.

Meanwhile, you and I -- the fans -- do feel the pinch. Athletes' salaries go higher and higher, and as surely as night follows day, up go the ticket prices. If the spiral continues, Joe Fan -- the guy with an average income -- will soon be able to attend only a game or two per season.

Professional sports will then become the playground of American aristocracy, relegating the common man to a chair in front of the boob tube -- simply because greedy owners and equally-greedy athletes made the almighty dollar their ultimate goal.

John Beckett
Brighton Argus

PHIL JEROME

NO . . .

There's no doubt about it, some professional athletes make a whole lot of money. But unfortunately for my misguided friend from The Brighton Argus, that fact has nothing to do with the question, which is "are professional athletes overpaid?" The only logical answer to that question is "no".

As a matter of fact, there is a sizable contingent of professional athletes -- those affiliated with sports in which owners are permitted to enforce either de jure or de facto option clauses in playing contracts -- who get paid substantially less than their actual worth.

I'll admit that it can be a bit unsettling to see Jack Nicklaus pocket a cool 50 grand for a weekend's worth of golf or to read that Larry Csonka has signed a million dollar contract to tote the pigskin for the Toronto Northmen.

But the thing that you have to remember is that sport is big business -- a billion dollar industry.

Although the question "are professional athletes overpaid" might superficially seem appropriate for the sports department, it is in fact appropriate for the financial department because the issue really involves such basic economic principles as "supply and demand" and "true market value" as determined in an "open market place."

Please don't hold John Beckett's strong pro-management opinions against him. John's a little frustrated because he would rather be playing guard for the Detroit Pistons, while the truth of the matter is that he can't even beat me in one-on-one competition.

Phil Jerome
Northville Record

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

It was nearly 20 years ago another reporter and I visited Toledo to write about the expectations of that port city as the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway drew nearer. Although most businessmen hailed the opening as a boon to the economy, surprisingly few people seemed impressed by it all.

The Seaway opening came and passed in 1958, and today businessmen continue to extol the virtues of this ocean passageway but people generally still seem unimpressed.

That Detroit area people take for granted the world's most important inland waterway in their own backyard shouldn't really surprise us. After all since the first step on the surface of the moon, space travel has become less and less exciting for those of us who watch television.

The remark of one of my sons, as we watched one of the giant cargo ships slip by Belle Isle Sunday, may be typical: "It's the same thing we saw the last time we were here."

The "same thing", but how remarkable it is. Where else can the camera capture Detroit canoeists, a Russian freighter, American snapdragons and the Canadian landscape in the same picture?

Just imagine, 467 ships representing every part of the world used the Detroit port last year. They came from Russia, Africa, and Korea; they flew British, French and Dutch flags; they carried cargo from the Ivory Coast, from Thailand, and from Columbia; and they took Michigan auto parts to South America, to the Middle East, and to Europe.

"They (foreign ships) bring us just about everything under the sun," the port manager told me this week.

Chances are Northville-Novu area residents, he suggested, are using plywood from Korea, plastic flowers from Hong Kong, sweaters from Italy, olives from Lebanon, and cameras from Japan -- all of which were unloaded at Detroit from foreign ships.

"I like to tell people we get enough olives in here from overseas to give every American man, woman and child a martini with an olive in it," he laughed.

Detroit is considered the second-largest general cargo port in the Great Lakes (Chicago is the largest). It imported more than 126,000 tons of general cargo last year, exported more than 63,000 tons.

The total 1973 tonnage (down somewhat from the previous season), including steel, bulk dry, and bulk liquid products for import and export, was 2,310,036!

In 1958, the year before the world's busiest waterway opened, the total Detroit port tonnage was 87,000.

Last season the total ship call at the Port of Detroit, including eight Russian ships, was among the highest of any port on the Great Lakes.

John Lesinski, vice-chairman of the public works committee for the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, estimates that the Port of Detroit generates more than $50 million in economic benefits annually.

The Port of Detroit is made up of five privately owned-for-hire cargo terminals. It is under the control and management of the Detroit Wayne County Port Commission, which by 1933 referendum is vested with the duty to control and manage the port district which includes all navigable waters within the county.

"Control and management includes planning and making improvements to port facilities and waterways for harbor purposes, regulations of structures in navigable waters, representation of the port district before federal, state and local agencies, advertisement of the business of the port district, and cooperation with other public agencies and with industry and business in port improvement," explains Port Chairman Albert Gregory.

"The World Port of Detroit," brags Chamber of Commerce President Dwight Havens, "offers outstanding facilities and advantages -- all of which have been developed with private investment. Our inland ocean terminals provide more than two miles of berthing and more crane power than any other Great Lakes port."

The Detroit Customs District ranked second only to New York in the commercial value of its imports and exports, emphasizes Havens.

Cooper Seeks Re-election

State Senator Daniel S. Cooper has announced his candidacy for re-election in the 15th District which has been redrawn to include Novi, Wixom and the Oakland County portion of Northville.

A Democrat, Cooper was first elected to the Michigan senate in 1970. Previously he served in the Michigan House of Representatives to which he was elected in 1964 and re-elected in 1966 and 1968.

Cooper presently is the Senate Democratic Whip and holds membership on the prestigious Senate Judiciary Committee as well as the Senate Agriculture and Consumer Affairs Committee and the Joint Administrative Rules Committee.

The 15th District as redrawn under the 1972 apportionment plan is completely located within Oakland County and includes the townships of Commerce, Farmington, Huntington Woods, Lathrup Village, Novi, Oak Park and Southfield, South Lyon, Walled Lake, Wixom, and part of Northville.

News From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Representative

I have long felt that there was a need to prepare the more than two million youngsters in our schools for the real world once they leave school and I am delighted to report that a piece of legislation to accomplish this has been sent to Governor Milliken to be signed into law.

The Career Education Act of 1973, which was introduced by my Republican colleague, State Representative Michael Dively of Traverse City, has passed both the House and Senate and is awaiting the Governor's signature.

Basically, career education is a concept of extending the world of work, the world of leisure, the world of being part of the community, into the classroom so that young people, whether they be in kindergarten, the third grade, or soon to graduate from high school, will have the opportunity to be exposed to the real world.

The career education act provides for the establishment within the Department of Education, a 20-member career education advisory commission whose membership would represent various facets of the educational and the economic community.

This commission, together with the State Board of Education, will evaluate the current career education programs in the state, establish guidelines for a comprehensive statewide career education program, and establish performance objectives to determine whether or not the programs are working.

The act further contemplates dividing the state into 50 career education districts which would probably be similar to existing intermediate districts. These districts would be served by an advisory council, and would establish and coordinate career education programs within that district.

I am informed that the Department of Education is now in the process of putting together a list of the 20 members whose names will be announced shortly after the Governor signs the bill into law.

I would hope that once the state-wide council is organized, it will begin immediately to establish local councils so that there can be comprehensive career education plans in and for each area of our state which address the problems and concerns of that particular area by the beginning of the 1975-76 school year.

While the career education concept is different from vocational education, the two will, in many instances, go together.

Vocational education is that of preparing and training young people for a specific skill or vocation while career education is aimed at incorporating activities pertaining to self-awareness and assessment, career awareness and exploration, and career planning.

She hasn't had any problems so far though.

The commission meets in the evening on the second Wednesday of each month. They sometimes meet for small study sessions, too, but no money is spent and, no voting takes place at those sessions, Lucine said.

"We get the back-up work done at the study sessions so that we can get a lot more done quicker at the regular meetings," she said.

"Each of the members has things they stick-up for," Lucine said. "One lady would like to have more bike trails, another is involved with baseball and one man knows a lot about land development," she explained.

"I participate mainly to put in the high school's opinion on things," Lucine admitted.

Lucine has attended only two meetings so far, but she's already made some significant contributions.

"The Parks and Recreation Commission noticed that they didn't really have much high school participation in their programs," said Lucine, who is vice-president of the student council.

Milan Obrenovich, director of community education and recreation, suggested Lucine work with the student council and conduct a survey at the high school to see what kind of programs the students would like, she said.

About 87 Novi students completed the forms, according to Murphy. Summer dances and bike trails headed the list of programs students would like to see initiated, he said.

Lucine also has been helping Mary MacDermid to organize an inter-city girls softball league for girls 15-17 years old.

"They already have 35 girls signed up to play in the league," Murphy said. The league is expected to begin playing next Spring, with two teams for each participating city.

"I feel honored to be on the commission," Lucine admitted. "I think it's good for high school students to have some one on the commission."

Lucine's work on the commission is voluntary. The high school has told her however that she will be given a half credit towards graduation if she puts in 100 hours of service on the commission, she said. Lucine needs two and a quarter credits to graduate.

Consolidation Report Heard

A report of the recent study concerning Plymouth consolidation headlined a meeting Sunday of citizens campaigning for the annexation of the township to the city.

Giving the report was Nancy White.

The study was produced by Michigan State University's Institute for Community development to analyze the impact of consolidation on the township and city of Plymouth.

Consolidation of the two townships, the speaker reported, will mean a tax increase for township property owners, a savings for city property owners. But the township increase, she added, will mean equal enjoyment of services now provided only in the city.

provement funds to get the job done.

Wright said he received a copy of the lease agreement Wednesday and that the county had change the effective date from May 1 to June 1. "I feel we've won a victory," Wright commented, "and have a bit more time now."

He predicted that the lease, which currently is being studied by the township attorney, would be signed following the board's May 9 meeting.

Rent for the quarters will be $1,000 per month for a period not to exceed five years. The lease carries a clause by which the county may cancel the lease after two years with a one-year notice, making it a firm three year lease.

are dealing mostly in trading malls. There is something about an intimacy (in old, preserved shops), in a one-to-one relationship with the merchant, that the shopper likes."

Referring to a painting of an old New York bar by artist John Sloan, she said it "shows the interaction of people moving about in architecture and the warm feeling that is possible in a smaller kind of atmosphere that you don't get in a Bill Knapp's (restaurant)."

In the latter restaurants, she said, "I don't know if I'm in Benton Harbor or in Flint when I step inside one of them. The decor is the same...it is hermetically sealed...it's all air-conditioned."

Concerning Marshall, Ms. Eckert noted that the historical society there helped the restoration project along by underwriting the cost of removal of unsightly overhanging signs. Such signs, she said, detract from a central business district's beauty. The flat-against-the-building sign is just as effective a drawing card and much more pleasing, she suggested.

Meanwhile, backers of unification of the city and township of Northville, through annexation, are still waiting word from the Michigan Boundary Commission on when the public hearing on the annexation question is to be held.

Once the hearing is held, the commission under the annexation procedure must decide whether or not the two Northvilles should become one. If they decide for annexation, the annexation becomes final unless citizens petition for an election.

Last year in the first unification attempt in Northville, the commission ruled in favor of annexation. But in a subsequent election voters of the township turned it down while city voters approved it. To carry it required passage in both the city and township.

Earlier this year citizens again petitioned the commission for annexation.

Sunday's meeting was held at the home of George Berquist in Northville Commons.

Persons interested in joining citizens seeking unification of the two Northvilles are asked to contact Berquist, a township resident, at 349-1324, or Barbara Kausler, a city resident, at 349-6044.

6 Persons Circulate Northville Petitions

Petitions seeking nomination for two four-year terms on Northville's Board of Education are currently being circulated by six people.

According to Business Director Earl Busard, none of the petitions have yet been filed. Among those circulating petitions is Mrs. Sylvia Gucken, whose term expires in June.

The other board post open is held by President Stanley Johnston who is not seeking re-election. Johnston is completing his eighth year on the school board.

Deadline for filing petitions to become a non-partisan candidate in the June 10 is Monday, May 13.

Petitions are available to the board of education offices, 303 West Main Street, daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Busard added.

Fifth for Record Sliger Papers Win 3 Awards

Three of 34 School Bell awards presented Monday to Michigan newspapers, radio and television stations have been awarded to Sliger publications. Only 10 of the awards went to weekly newspapers.

The awards, presented during the Michigan Education Association's annual School Bell awards luncheon, went to The Northville Record, Brighton Argus, and South Lyon Herald.

It was the fifth consecutive School Bell award won by The Record, second for The Argus and first for The Herald.

The annual awards are given to media for their "strong and comprehensive year-around coverage of public education," spokesmen for MEA commented, "recognizing outstanding contributions to community understanding of education."

Each award consists of an engraved brass bell with a black wooden handle, a replica of the old-fashioned bell that stood on the classroom teacher's desk.

Receiving the awards were 10 weekly newspapers, eight daily papers, five radio stations, three television stations and seven awards to writers.

form at any Northville school. The YRS schedule includes 180 days of instruction, 45 days of school alternating with 15 days of vacation.

Chairing the high school orientation program was David Longridge, associate principal and high school administrator responsible for the YRS program. Superintendent Raymond Spear spoke to the group on the growth of the voluntary year-round concept in Northville.

Miss Panattoni told the group of parents and students about the personalized curriculum that the high school program would follow, the establishment of a youth recreational leadership program and the opportunity for high school parents to become involved on the YRS advisory board.

Teachers attending the meeting who will be teaching in the program and helped present the curriculum to parents and students were Mrs. Sharon Snodgrass of the math department; Walt Koepke and Mrs. Mary Freydl, English; Miss Mary Minor, physical education; John Mason, music; Miss Lefkothea Simeon, languages; and Miss Barbara LeBoeuf, social studies.

Miss LeBoeuf also serves as high school YRS teacher liaison. Other teachers are currently being interviewed for other curriculum areas, Miss Panattoni added.

Courses being offered to the students are based on an earlier student interest survey with the course of study similar in content with the present curriculum.

New subjects being introduced are Russian, personal communication and modern fiction.

Students who are interested in signing up for the program are urged to contact either Longridge or Miss LeBoeuf for registration materials as soon as possible, the assistant superintendent commented.

Tax Hike

For example, the city proposes to spend some $590,000 on public improvements. Most of these revenues are derived from state rebates for the parimutuel handle at Northville Downs.

The sewer and water fund revenues and expenditures balance out at $219,000; and expenditures for local and major street repairs represent some $106,000.

Manager Walters has undertaken an effort to define expenditures more specifically in his first budget for the city by splitting up costs between departments performing the services. Thus the general fund, which actually shows expenditures of some $1,050,000, collects reimbursements from the specific departments for which these services are paid totaling some $233,750.

Nature and This Smart Mom Team-up, Produce Gourmet's Delight for Earth Day.

By ERNEST BROWN

Earth Day was Thursday and we celebrated by a special return to the foods of Mother Nature.

From soup and salad through main course and dessert, the textbooks and the skill of Ann Zinn produced a true "Earth Day" feast.

A sampling of nature's offerings might be found in the following menu for a spring banquet:

Cream of Nettle Soup
Spring Greens Salad
Crayfish Tails a la Chinoise
Side Dish of Wild Mushroom Sauce over Wild Asparagus
Violet Freezer Jam on Cattail Bread
Strawberry Leaf Tea
Candied Wild Ginger

A gourmet meal of foods free for the picking and, generally, easy to prepare according to Mrs. Zinn of Green Oak Township.

"Unless you live in a city where weeds must be kept down, most of these foods are readily available in or near your home," Mrs. Zinn pointed out.

Cattails must be gathered in swampy areas, as with many other wild plants. But a number of others can be found in or near lawns and gardens.

Delicacies like dandelions, purslane, burdock, thistle, lamb's-quarters and violets are readily available.

How would one prepare the meal for spring found above?

Cream of Nettle Soup requires cooking fresh nettles 5-10 minutes, then strain or puree them in a food mill. Stir in 1 1/2 cups of chicken broth (or use 2-3 bouillon cubes in 1 1/2 cups boiling water) and 1/2 cup white sauce.

The white sauce is made by melting three tablespoons margarine or butter, stirring in 1/4 cup flour and cooking for three minutes. Then remove from heat and pour in two cups scalded milk, stirring vigorously. Simmer 10 minutes. Strain and cover with buttered round of wax paper.

The soup is then salted and peppered to taste and a little onion salt may be added if desired.

"Greens salads vary only with the imagination with any combination of wild (edible, of course) greens being blended with any favorite dressing (vinegar and oil can be made at home, but so can fancier dressings with patience and a good recipe). Mrs. Zinn said while serving up a "four green" salad with vinegar and oil dressing.

The greens were dandelion greens and buds, cattail shoots and day lily tubers. A bit more flavor could have been added with one of the wild onions — the wild onion, leeks or wild garlic — as domestic onions are often mixed into tossed salads.

"If you must have lettuce, substitute basswood leaves," she says.

Wild asparagus and mushrooms — oyster mushrooms and, within the next week or so, morels are edible spring fungi. All ecologists warn "Know what you're picking before gathering any mushroom." Prepare as one would fresh asparagus with a mushroom-souplike sauce.

The entree is a combination of two readily available spring delicacies — "Chinese" fried cattail shoots (A la Chinoise) and stream or lake crayfish.

The crayfish are similar to lobster tails in flavor and are prepared in quantities comparable to shrimp. The tails are dropped in salted, boiling water until they turn red.

The cattail dish is prepared for adding to the meat. It can also be eaten by itself, over rice or with any Chinese or oriental dish, as one would bamboo sprouts.

Mildly flavored, the shoots are cleaned and chopped crosswise into small pieces. With mid-high heat under the pan, melt a small amount of butter and add the shoots, stirring while frying for two to three minutes. Remove from heat and add a small amount of soy sauce. Cover and let stand one minute.

Violets are now blooming

Ann Zinn shares a moment of fun with son David as she prepares her Earth Day menu and can be used to produce a freezer jam for spreading on bread.

One cup of loosely-packed blossoms is blended in an electric blender to a smooth paste with three-quarters of a cup of water and the juice of one lemon. Two and one-half cups of sugar are added and blended until dissolved in a saucepan.

Pectin is stirred in three-quarters cup of water and boiled for one minute. The mixture is then poured together into the blender for a minute of blending prior to being quickly poured into clean jelly glasses and sealed. Three weeks in the refrigerator is the keeping time.

The bread is made by first producing cattail flour by scraping and cleaning several cattail roots. Dry them on a cookie sheet in an oven under low heat. They are left to dry overnight after removing from the oven. Then the roots are skinned and the fibers

Ground Wet?- Make A Swamp Garden

EAST LANSING—Do you have wet areas in your landscape that frustrate you? Michigan State University horticulturist, Harold Davidson, suggests that you create a water or swamp garden.

People often take the easy way out and fill the area with spoilage; or drain the area and plant trees, shrubs and other plants that grow in well-drained soil.

Wet spots can be developed into areas of considerable natural beauty, says Davidson. Study some natural wet areas and use them as a guide in developing your own water garden. Observe plant associations and small site differences. Trees and larger shrubs will often be found growing on mineral soils along the banks or on islands within the moist area. Many of the smaller shrubs are usually found growing on an organic mat or soil which has developed over a period of many thousands of years.

When choosing plants, consider soil reaction, nutrient and light requirements. Most plants like blueberry, azalea and winterberry grow best in acid soil; most trees grow best in slightly alkaline soils.

Note the movement and depth of the water and choose plants that will adapt to the environment. Wet spots are generally low and are sinks for cold air, so choose plants that are tolerant of cold winter temperatures.

Some of the trees and shrubs most commonly used in water gardens are: Red maple, Tamarack, White spruce, Swamp white oak, Hoary alder, Gray dogwood and Winterberry.

DIANTHUS MAGIC CHARMS—is the first hybrid dianthus mixture ever created. Colors include crimson, scarlet, pink, salmon, white and some unique "speckled" bicolors.

Here's Tips For Lawns

Never mow a lawn more than one-third the height of the grass in one mowing.

Lawn de-thatching can best be done with a mechanical motor driven de-thatcher.

Most lawn grasses do best when cut to a height of two (2) inches.

Over-fertilizing of lawns may contribute to thatch buildup.

Never use more than the recommended amount of fertilizer or weed killer on a lawn.

Avoid applying fertilizer to lawns during hot weather, if it must be done, water well during the application.

When planting a new lawn, allow weed seeds that may be in the soil to germinate then destroy them with weed killer or shallow tilling before planting the lawn seed.

Use a quality grass seed when planting a lawn, grass seed costs are a small part of the overall cost of developing a good lawn.

For Summer Fun

'Turn Inside Outside'

Looking ahead to a summer we all will be traveling less and staying at home more, the people of the American Association of Nurserymen suggest this may be a good time to consider designing a family room outdoors.

bird bath and bird feeder you will probably welcome some new wildlife guests. Be sure to include games in the arrangement—perhaps a badminton net just outside the room, maybe croquet, and, inside the outdoor family room a weather-resistant chess and checkerboard, space for a bridge table if that's your game, a dart board whatever family fun you like

"Consider all the different things you do in the indoor family room," the nursery people say, "and decide how they can be moved to an outdoor room. It's a place for relaxation, of course, with comfortable furnishings. It may be where television viewing takes place. It is the game room. And, on entertainment occasions, it is the party place." All of these functions, the nursery spokesmen point out, are easily and attractively moved outdoors with just a small amount of planning.

An important element, according to the nursery authorities, is the installation of some sort of "walls" or "partitions" to define the space of the outdoor family room. This, of course, is probably a hedge that keeps out unwelcome noise, provides privacy, freshens and cools the air with its own natural air conditioning. If you have space enough, a shade tree or a flowering tree here and there will be a smart addition. This may be a place, too, to put in some of your favorite flowers and plants.

Have you been wanting to make a rock garden? Surely there will be a corner of the outdoor room where this could be appropriate. If you add a green survival

it begins with you and you can begin this spring removed. A blender is used to pulverize the roots until fine.

Let the flour stand for a full day in a cold oven or other dry place.

In a large mixing bowl, combine one cup of cattail meal, 1½ teaspoons of salt and one cup boiling water. Stir vigorously until smooth. Melt two tablespoons butter in a small saucepan and stir one tablespoon into the dough.

Sprinkle one package active yeast and one teaspoon sugar over one-quarter cup lukewarm water in a small bowl. After letting stand for five minutes, stir the yeast in thoroughly. Put the bowl in a draft-free oven for 10 minutes (until the yeast has doubled its volume).

Mix the yeast into the dough, stirring constantly, and add the rest of the flour and one cup of all purpose flour. Make a ball of the dough, place in a bowl, cover with a towel, and place in a draft-free corner for 30 minutes or until its volume has doubled.

With a pastry brush, coat the bottom and sides of a nine-inch pie plate with a tablespoon of butter. Turn the dough out onto a lightly floured surface and punch down. Knead the dough for about five minutes, adding one cup of flour to make it stiff. Shape it into a round flat cake and place it in the greased pan. Cover with a towel and set aside in a warm place for 30 minutes or until it has doubled in volume.

Preheat the oven to 375 degrees. Bake the bread in the middle of the oven for 45 minutes or until the top is golden. Transfer to a rack to cool.

All that remains for the spring feast is the beverage and dessert.

Many tea sources are readily available (care for white pine needle tea, yellow birch leaf tea or catnip tea?). Mrs. Zinn served strawberry leaf tea for many reasons, one of which is that it tastes very much like the green Chinese tea Ah Wok might serve with a pressed duck dinner.

Before steeping the leaves, make very sure they are thoroughly dry. Sweeten with maple syrup made in March, if desired.

The dessert is candied wild ginger. Scrubbed ginger rhizomes are cut into fairly uniform pieces. Cover with water and boil until tender. Add sugar in an amount equal to the ginger and boil until the pieces are translucent. Spread out to dry on wax paper and roll in granulated sugar.

Boil down syrup until slightly thickened. Can be added to fresh peaches or with liqueurs and used as a sauce for ice cream, or combined with sherry and soy sauce for a special browned chicken or pork chop sauce for baking.

The 10th Annual Plymouth 4-H Horse Show will be held May 25 at the 4-H Fairgrounds in Belleville beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Mrs. Doris Ryan of Delavan, Illinois, will be the judge.

SEMINAR

A Horse and Horsemanship Institute will be presented by Horses A to Z 1974 and Michigan State University July 15-19 at the University in East Lansing.

The course is designed to provide useful knowledge in nearly every aspect of horsemanship and horse management. The five day session will deal with training, showing, riding, horse selection, health and veterinary problems, breeding, feeding and the entire range of horse-related topics.

Students may choose from five separate curriculums including Horse Management and Training, Riding School Instruction and Management (first or second year) and Student Equitation (first or second year).

Interested persons may receive a detailed brochure by writing to Dr. Richard Dunn, Department of Animal Husbandry, 102 Anthony Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mi. 48824, or by calling (517)-353-1748.

True or False? Horses do not lie down unless they are sick.

FALSE: Although horses can sleep standing up due to an elaborate stay mechanism which locks their forelegs in place, they also like to lie down to sleep if they have a warm, dry, safe place to do so. A nervous or unhappy horse will not lie down. Happy animals, that feel relaxed and at home, like to stretch out and give their legs a rest.

Horses can see in the dark. FALSE: No animal can see in total darkness, but their night vision is far better than ours and they can see quite well in very dim light.

Horses are color-blind. TRUE: Horses have no cone cells in their retinas. It is with cone cells that animals perceive color.

If you are lost, give your horse his head and he will find the way home.

DON'T COUNT ON IT. Although equines have a strong homing instinct they, too, can become confused in strange surroundings and wander aimlessly for hours.

Horses are not affectionate. FALSE: If handled with affection, horses and ponies will respond with affection.

WHAT IS MEANT BY LINEBREEDING?

This is the mating of two individual horses having a common ancestor, that ancestor being a few generations removed. It is usually done to intensify the good points of certain horses. This should not be confused with the practice called inbreeding. Inbreeding is the mating of brother and sister, sire and daughter, son and dam. This is rarely practiced by horse breeders.

WHAT IS A THOROUGH-BRED?
The word Thoroughbred spelled with a capital 'T' is a special breed of horse. However, when the word is spelled with a small 't' it means a purebred. A purebred is a breed of animal that has been kept pure for several generations.

Missionary Describes Christian Life in China

By DOROTHY SHIPLEY

"The Chinese would all become Christians if they could accept it as another moral teaching," said Doctor C.L. Culpepper as he described the special problems in converting the mainland Chinese.

Doctor Culpepper's statement is not based on theory nor is it a casual observation. The 79 year old Southern Baptist missionary has spent 42 years of his life in the far east - 26 of them in northern China.

Doctor Culpepper, who was a guest of South Lyon's First Baptist Church last week, was appointed by his church to missionary service in China in 1923. With the exception of brief furloughs he did not leave the country permanently until 1949 when the communist-based Peoples Republic of China was established. His next 16 years were spent in Hong Kong and Taiwan.

The elderly missionary claims that probably the biggest obstacle (other than Communism) to converting Chinese, is the willingness of the people to accept a number of religions.

"They all believe in moral teachings," stated Culpepper. "That is why you may be able to find a Chinese 'Christian' who would worship Christ without giving up Buddhism or Taoism. They felt they could accept all of them on an equal basis."

DR. C. L. CULPEPPER

Doctor Culpepper, however, does not believe his sojourn in China was by any means futile, despite the strong Communist regime which now exists in the country. From 1931-45 Doctor Culpepper was involved in one of the most astounding cases of mass conversion to Christianity known to the country.

"The Shantung Revival," according to Culpepper, was a period of "awakening" in northern China in which thousands of Chinese were converted to Christ. The name Shantung, said Culpepper, refers to the northeastern province in which the revival began.

According to Culpepper, the revival was the work of God preparing the Chinese people for the Japanese invasion of their country and, eventually, Communist dominance.

"God could see that the Japanese invasion was coming and that communist dominance would follow the defeat of Chiang Kai-shek," said Culpepper. "He was preparing the Chinese people for a period when there would no longer be missionaries in the country."

Doctor Culpepper said he firmly believes that Communism has not completely killed Christianity in China, but rather has forced Christians there to worship in secret.

"I know that there are still Chinese in China who are Christians," stated the missionary. "During the Shantung Revival I saw hundreds and sometimes thousands of Chinese a week who realized their sins and were saved."

Doctor Culpepper claims that there is an "underground church" in China right now which meets secretly at night to worship and preserve the faith among its members.

Perhaps the biggest question is "Will Christianity survive when the last convert from Shantung Revival dies and only the children are left to perpetuate the faith?"

"Yes!" said Doctor Culpepper emphatically. "Adults have been able, I know, to bring up their children as Christians despite the tremendous propaganda by the Communists. There are definitely cases where people and perhaps entire families have realized that Communism was not living up to its promises."

Many converts, said Culpepper, during the Shantung Revival, were former Communists who were fierce antagonists of the church.

"I had one teenage boy who was a Communist and thought we were hypnotizing the people," said Culpepper. "When we had convinced him that it was really God who was working the change in the people he became a Christian too."

Doctor Culpepper says he does not know whether there is any chance the political domination of Chinese will change in the foreseeable future, yet he claims he has not given up on China as a "lost cause" for missionary work.

"When Mao dies there will be a struggle for power between Chou En-lai and a number of other men who will try to succeed him for the leadership of China," stated Doctor Culpepper. "The only hope for China will be in the division among the country's leaders. Then, perhaps the people will have a chance to regain some of the democracy which they lost."

However, whatever the political spectre in China may be, the man who spent 26 years of his life attempting to plant the seeds of Christianity in the people says he is confident that Christians are able to "outlive" obstacles like Communism.

"When I first arrived in China I didn't know what to do," said Culpepper, "so I prayed and God answered my prayers."

(Doctor Culpepper gives an account of his experiences in China and the events surrounding the Shantung Revival in a short paperback entitled "The Shantung Revival" published by Crescendo Book Publications).

GROOMING AND PREPARATION FOR THE SHOW RING

The first step should be the horse's feet. Daily inspection of the feet will give you an opportunity to check on injuries, loose shoes, small stones, or other objects that may have become imbedded in the foot, and thrush. Most important is good cleaning of the bottom of the commissures or depression between the frog and the bars. The deepest part of each depression is near the heel. It is the part most often cleaned improperly and is the usual seat of thrush.

If the wall of the foot is dry, brittle, and cracked, it is wise to use a hoof dressing on the foot occasionally. The frequency of this will depend on the condition of the feet.

For the show ring, make sure the wall of the foot is clean. This may require washing with water and a stiff brush to remove caked mud or manure. Hoof dressing or light oil, such as neatfoot oil, improves the appearance of the feet for show. Shoe polish is not recommended—since the new water repellent varieties seal off all air holes in the hoof and stop moisture from entering.

The long hair on the inside of the ears and under the chin and jaw is clipped off. Some horsemen prefer not to remove all the hair from the inside of the ears since it is there for a purpose—to help keep dirt and insects from entering the inner ears. The hair around the fetlock joint is trimmed to give the legs a neater, cleaner appearance. Some exhibitors clip the legs from just below the knees and hocks down to the hoof head. Run the clippers with the natural layer of the hair. Clipping a couple of weeks before a show will allow the hair to grow enough to eliminate clipper marks and contrasting shades of color. The whiskers and face hair should be retouched a day or two before show time.

On all saddle horses the mane is usually clipped where the head stall of the bridle crosses behind the ears. This clipped area is called the bridlepeth and may vary from one and one-half to seven inches in length. The reason some people cut so much off is to give the horse's neck the appearance of looking longer and having a finer throatlatch.

Your show horse should be kept out of the sun as much as possible to avoid a dull sun-burned appearance of the coat.

If you are grazing your horse, turn him out to pasture at night or early in the morning.

Washing the horse or pony is one method of getting him clean. However, washing should never take the place of regular grooming since it does remove the protective oil of the hair and skin. But if you decide that washing is necessary, use lukewarm water and a mild soap (regular animal shampoo is best). Rinse thoroughly with cool water and walk in the sun until dry. I would not wash a horse unless the temperature is at least 60 degrees or above.

LANSING—A giant question mark hangs over what's described as Michigan's second largest industry: agriculture.

The problem is fertilizer, its availability and price.

Estimates of the shortage—caused because natural gas, itself at a premium, is the main ingredient for nitrogen—vary widely.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, for instance, has projected a 5 per cent fertilizer shortfall across the country. But many consider that estimate extremely conservative, including the fertilizer industry, which pegs the national shortage at 15 per cent.

MICHIGAN'S SHORTAGE is bound to be tighter than some other areas, explains John Calkins, chief deputy director for the Michigan Agriculture Department. That's because Michigan is far from the nitrogen fertilizer supply, most of which is in the deep south, close to natural gas sources.

Another reason is increased acreage planned for Michigan this year. About 11 per cent more acreage, or half a million acres, are expected to be planted this year than in 1972.

Some of that land was released for planting by the federal acreage reserve program, while another portion has been added by farmers who might see the increase in food prices as an inducement to increase their own farms' output.

THEN WHAT is Michigan's situation?

Estimates of the state shortage vary widely too, but they're much higher than what the USDA and fertilizer industry project for the nation.

One survey of state fertilizer dealers, completed by the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, shows the state faces a 51 per cent shortage of nitrogen fertilizer.

Another survey, conducted by the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, went directly to some 4,000 farmers to ask their prediction. Findings: Michigan farmers say they are still unsure of 80 per cent of nitrogen this summer.

Babson Report

Coal Reserves Tops

ALTHOUGH this country today is in a tenuous position with respect to reserves of oil and gas, the United States does hold a dominant worldwide position in coal. About one-half of world reserves of coal are located in North America, and the bulk of these are in this country, including Alaska. Figures on coal reserves stagger the imagination.

It is estimated that world reserves are around 6.6 trillion tons. Considering all fossil fuel reserves, oil represents about 4 percent and natural gas 3 percent, leaving coal's share at an overwhelming 93 percent. At current usage rates, by the year 2000 the world will have devoured 87 percent of its oil backlog, 73 percent of its natural gas, but only 2 percent of its coal. Thus, it is apparent that coal will be around for hundreds of years, by which time new

SOME LAWMAKERS are taking it upon themselves to tell the voters what they're worth and how much they're spending of taxpayers' money.

Most recent among those making disclosures are Representative John R. Otterbacher, D-Grand Rapids, and Representative Michael A. Dively, R-Traverse City.

For the second year in a row, Otterbacher—who is sponsoring legislation that would require regular financial reports from many elected and appointed officials—reported his personal assets and liabilities. The lawmaker lists his net financial worth as slightly more than $22,000.

Dively detailed his postage, telephone and travel expenses for the last two years. That information is public record, but Dively says, "Like a lot of other public information it is sometimes difficult if not impossible for most people to find."

"Public officials have a responsibility to make it as easy as possible for citizens to find out how their tax money is being spent."

GOVERNOR WILLIAM MILLIKEN predicts—not surprisingly—that voters will make their ballot decisions on the basis of which candidate is the "best", not on the basis of party and political repercussions from such happenings as Watergate.

The prediction is no surprise because that's been a basic Milliken tack for some time: Look to the man or woman, not just affiliation. (At least one of his closest aides was a Democratic official before joining the Republican governor.)

MILLIKEN SAID: "In the face of all efforts to blame the Republican Party for the actions of a few Arab leaders, for worldwide inflation that no country has been able to reverse, for the stupid and criminal activities of a few zealots who were not even part of the regular Republican organization—in the face of all these things, the people will decide in November that the real issue is which are the best candidates."

sources of energy will have been developed.

WHILE COAL is abundant, output of bituminous fuel shows a flat growth pattern compared with the other two major fuels. In 1920, production of coal was 568 million net tons. In 1970, 50 years later, 602 million tons were produced. In the same period, crude oil production went from 442 million to 3.5 billion barrels and natural gas from 812 million to 22 billion cubic feet.

Hence, while demand for coal has been stable, this could change as the energy crisis wears on.

It is estimated that coal customers both here and abroad will consume some 659 million tons of U.S. bituminous in the year ahead. This is about 6 percent more than was used in 1973.

Northville's Second Baseman John Sherman is about to tag Lions's Paul McIntyre in this run down

1 Run Headaches

Mustangs Split But Drop Games That Count

Four of five of Northville's games were decided by a single run last week.

Unfortunately, only two of the five went the Mustangs' way. And worse, neither of the victories counted in the league standings.

So by week's end, Coach Chuck Shonta's varsity nine had slumped to a 1-2 mark in the still infant Western Six race despite some superb pitching.

Northville opened the week with a 1-0 loss to Livonia Churchill, followed that heartbreaker with still another 1-0 defeat at the hands of Walled Lake Western, came back with its own 1-0 shutout over Livonia Stevenson, and then split a Saturday double-header with South Lyon — winning the opener 5-2 and losing the nightcap, 8-7.

The 1-0 loss to Livonia Churchill hurt most because it was Churchill, Waterford Mott, and Northville who were favored to win the conference title. And Northville, which has never owned the Western Six crown, had clobbered Mott — the defending champion — in the league opener, 10-1.

It was a deep fly to center in the top of the sixth that pushed Brian Kelly across with what proved to be the winning run.

In the bottom of the sixth with the Charger's Kevin Nelson clinging to a no-hitter, Northville threatened as Bill McDonald singled up the middle to ruin Nelson's fine effort.

Then with men on first and second, Randy Oginski bounced a single off the right field fence. But Scott Leu slowed down thinking the ball might be hauled in, and was out at the plate.

Although he was tagged with the loss, Northville's hurler Joe Bishop fired a fine game, scattering three hits over seven innings.

A lead-off walk, a bunt single off the bat of Gary Condon, and a stolen base, set the stage for Churchill's big score in the sixth.

Two days later Walled Lake rubbed salt in Mustang wounds by squeezing out another 1-0 shutout in Western Six competition.

This time it was a fourth inning rally by Western that led to Northville's downfall. With two outs, Walled Lake batsmen doubled and singled to drive home the deciding run.

Northville out-hit Western, three to two, but the Mustangs

Northville's Jim Yanoschik escapes tag by South Lyon's Jimmy Wallace at third just couldn't push across a run. Biggest Northville threat came in the top of the fifth.

Losing pitcher Ed Kritch had struck out and John Sherman was out pitcher to first when Bill Benson picked up Northville's first hit, a single. Todd Eis followed with another single, advancing Benson to second. But the inning ended as Jim Dooley grounded out.

With two outs in the bottom of the fifth Tom Dooley singled home what proved to be the winning run over Stevenson Friday.

Northville collected just two other hits — a single in the fifth by Scott Leu and a sixth inning single off the bat of Oginski.

John Boland picked up the victory, giving up three hits while fanning six and walking just one batter.

Saline Pitcher Beats Novi JV

Firing a four hitter and collecting four RBI's Saline's Gene Robinson earned himself a 9-6 triumph over the Novi junior varsity nine Thursday.

Robinson was nipped for four singles — two by Randy Wroten and one each by Gary Machel and John Buck.

Saline on the other hand collected seven hits off Novi's hurlers Dennis Tuck and Scott Parsons, including a triple off the bat of Robinson and a three bagger by Rock Wagner.

Saline scored two in the first, three in the second, and two each in the fourth and fifth, while Novi pushed across single runs in the first, third, sixth and seventh. The junior Wildcats also scored two in the fifth.

South Lyon was leading 2-1 as Northville came to bat in the top of the seventh in Saturday's opener.

Scott Leu led off with a single, Kritch sacrificed, and then Oginski singled to drive home Jerry Fulcher, running for Leu, with the tying run. Steve Serkaian then single Oginski to third.

That put second-baseman John Sherman at the plate. He had walked in the second inning, singled in the fourth, and popped out to third in the fifth. He hadn't picked up a hit in any of the three previous games of the week. This time, though, on the first pitch he smashed a three run homer.

The four-bagger held up as Kritch retired the Lion batters on a walk and three in-field plays.

Kritch gave up seven hits — one of them a two-run homer off the bat of David Hartman — in taking credit for the win.

South Lyon bounced back in the second game, however, as Ron Pike drilled a single over first base to drive home John Burton with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh with two down.

The Lions knotted the score at 7-7 with a five-run rally in the fifth. They cracked four hits in the inning, all singles, driving starter Kritch from the mound.

South Lyon had good wood on the ball throughout the seven innings, collecting 12 hits.

Northville scored two of its runs in the first, one in the third and four in the fourth. Along the way the Mustangs collected 11 hits, including a triple and two singles by Kritch. Bill Benson also was three for three, picking up three singles.

Bishop, who came on to relieve Kritch in the fifth, was tagged with the loss.

Novi Raps 'A' Team, But Loses Easy Ones

If Novi can "turn it around" it may yet live up to its pre-season "favorite" billing in the Southeastern Conference.

But right now Coach Rick Trudeau would be happy if his club would just show some consistency.

After taking it on the chin from two Class "B" teams in the SEC last week, the Wildcats bounced back to sock it to a Class "A" powerhouse from Detroit that they weren't expected to beat.

The local nine opened the week with a humiliating 13-0 loss to Brighton, then squeezed past non-league Pinckney, 3-2, before falling to Ypsilanti Lincoln, 9-3, on Thursday.

But Saturday was a different story.

Up against a team that for the past two years has been one of the toughest in the state, the Wildcats' bats blistered three Detroit Western hurlers in a football size victory, 17-6.

Western's coach, Paul Palmer, a new resident of Novi, who played host to both clubs at a picnic at his home following the game, might have gotten his team off to a better season start had he gone first with his number one pitcher who fanned four batters, scattered four hits and gave up four runs in three innings of work.

But he shelved his would-be starter at the outset because of a tardiness at practice and by the time he made his appearance the game was all over.

The Wildcats cracked 10 hits, including three home runs, in posting the surprisingly easy triumph. Mike Riley, who started for Novi and picked up the victory, uncorked one of the homers — a drive to deep right in a big second inning.

He had only one other hit, a single, but he had a couple of long pokes that went foul.

But it was Bill Barr who turned in the best Novi performance at the plate. The big fielder collected three hits, one a homer to center, in four trips.

Dave Brown rapped the other homer, a three-run shot to right — also in the bottom of the second. In that big inning Novi collected only two hits but pushed across six runs.

Novi added three more runs in the third, six in the fourth on two hits, and sewed it up with two in the fifth.

Western picked up a single run in the fourth, three in the fifth when Pat McAllen came on in relief, one in the sixth and one in the seventh.

McAllen was nipped for six hits, although his change-up was working well and he was fooling batters with a humming fast ball. Riley gave up four runs on four hits in pitching 4 one-third inning. He seemed to lose his aim as the game progressed.

Coach Trudeau, who refuses to push the panic button and insists his club can "still put it together," would rather forget the shutout at the hands of Brighton and the six-run loss to Ypsi.

Against the Bulldogs, Novi committed a fistful of costly fielding errors. Brighton collected nine hits, including one double, in working over Novi's pitching staff. On the other hand, Novi came up with just three hits, all singles, of the arms of two Brighton hurlers.

Things weren't much better against Lincoln

Dava Brown went the distance in giving up 10 Ypsilanti hits, including three doubles, while Novi batsmen

Northville Breaks 2 School Records; Carries 1-1 Mark into Churchill Dual

"It's going to be tough but we'll be in there to win," declared Northville Track Coach Ralph Redmond as the Mustangs prepared to dual Livonia Churchill here this afternoon.

Churchill has to be the favorite going into the meet but Redmond concedes nothing, hoping his sprinters uncork some hidden fuel against the highly rated Western Six opponent.

Northville carries a 1-1 league record into today's meet, having suffered its first defeat last Thursday at the hands of Waterford Mott, 72-51, despite the brilliant performance of two long distance runners.

Earlier in the week the Mustangs finished second in a triangular meet with Plymouth Salem and Livonia Stevenson, one of the best balanced teams in Michigan track this season.

Stevenson won easily in the 40-degree chiller, piling up 76 points to Northville's 53.5 and Salem's 26.5.

"I've got to compliment my boys in the way they performed in the extremely cold weather. In fact all three teams performed well despite the cold and even though we (coaches) had cautioned them not to over-extend themselves. Too much effort in weather like that and you can pick up some unnecessary injuries."

Although they came away second-best to Mott, the Mustangs served notice, that like Mott, Churchill and Walled Lake Western they'll be contenders all the way.

"We'd hoped it would be a closer meet," said Mustangs' coach, "but we just didn't measure up in the sprints. Long distance, that's another story. We took everything over 440, but in the sprints Mott showed great form."

Two school records collapsed as Guy Cole zipped to a time of 1:59.8 in the 880 and the Northville's 440 relay team — Larry Pink, Dennis Keegan, Blair Robinson, and Frank Nelson — finished in a time of 45.85.

Cole's performance, which eclipsed Mott's entry by .47.3, was easily good for first place. The relay team, though it broke the school record, finished second to Mott by a thin .15 second.

The relay team had broken the record, which had stood since 1972, earlier this season.

Cole's new record replaces one set by Greg Marshall in 1971.

Redmond had high praise for his distance runners, who finished one-two, and he optimistically predicted some future great sprints by young thinclads like Freshmen Earl Bingley and Dennis Singleton and Sophomore Frank Nelson.

They may not set the world on fire this year but the coach figures they'll be stellar performers by the time the '75 season rolls around. Meanwhile, he plans to keep working them and crossing his fingers.

"Right now we don't have the experience and confidence so necessary in the sprints. But that will come," he said.

Just as Northville looked good in the distance events, Mott was outstanding in the 100, 220, and high hurdles.

Novi Thinclads Fall to Chelsea

Except for the 880 run and the mile relay, Novi's showing in last week's meet with Chelsea fell far short of spectacular.

The Wildcats dropped the Southeastern Conference meet, 95-28.

In the 880 event, Novi won first and second places on efforts by Brian Schingel and Andy McComas, who finished in times of 2:08.4 and 2:17.9, respectively.

Coach Del Munson's mile relay team also picked up a first place in a winning time of 3:44. Members of the team are Schingel, Rick Parsons, Lloyd Price and McComas. The Wildcats also took the 440 relay — but on a disqualification.

Only other second place winner for Novi was Jeff MacDermid, who hit 9 feet in the pole vault event.

Third place finishers included:

Dennis Waldenmeyer, high jump; Jim Morris, pole vault; Parsons, high hurdles; 440 run, McComas; low hurdles, Parsons; two mile run, Mark Mills; and 220 run, Morris.

Mustangs Post 4 Net Victories

It was a busy week for Mustang netters last week with matches Monday through Friday nights.

Despite racking up four wins against a single loss in the quintet of dual meets, Coach Bob Simpson said the loss to Livonia Churchill "really hurt".

It was a league match and gave Northville a 2-1 record in league play with an overall mark of 7-2.

The Churchill match was played Monday night in windy and cool weather on the Mustang courts. The Mustangs managed to capture only two of the seven matches. Frank Knott, playing in the number two singles slot, topped Dave Williamston, 6-1, 6-2, while the number three doubles team of Dan Gougeon and Jim Bonamici scored the other Mustang win over Jim Meiers and Mark Gebhard, 6-4, 6-2.

Churchill's number one man, Mark Cheadle, downed Northville's Greg Boll in a tight match, 7-6, 6-3, while Jami Boshoven pushed her opponent, Fred Bayoff, to three sets before losing, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Northville's number four singles player, Dan Condon, fell to Rich Van Wagner, 6-4, 6-3, while the number one doubles team of Cary Eaker and John Oatey took the Churchill team of Doug Bar and Mark Roncoli to three sets before falling, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. The number two doubles team

12-Inning Marathon

Northville JV Battles to Tie

It doesn't happen often but Northville's junior varsity nine came up with a 1-1 tie in a 12 inning contest last week.

Marked by superlative pitching performances, especially from reliever Dean Mitchell who gave up just three hits in nine innings of duty, the junior Mustangs tied Walled Lake Western in a game finally called because of darkness.

Norm Boerger started for Northville and gave up one hit and the single run before he was relieved in the third.

Coach Gary Emerson's squad scored in the fifth when Jim Nemi led off with a single, stole second and raced home on an error by the pitcher.

The lone hit off Boerger came in the first inning when the lead-off batter doubled and eventually scored on a fly ball.

Saturday the junior Mustangs split a double header with non-league South Lyon—losing the opener, 7-2, and winning the nightcap, 7-4.

Big bat for Northville was Steve Kleckner, who doubled in both runs in the fourth inning.

In the second game, Dave Hecker pitched and batted himself to the victory. He gave up six hits, and he went three for three at the plate and drove in four runs. Doug Webster was credited with an RBI with a single in the sixth.

A gland slam by Ron Jennings in the fifth inning highlighted Northville's 9-6 triumph over Plymouth Canton on Monday.

Jim LaPlante, who gave up two hits in sharing mound duties with a host of other hurlers, was earned the pitching victory.

of John Folino and Rob Bowman of Northville lost to Al Schiller and Paul Phillips, 6-4, 6-4.

Things go brighter after Northville's "blue Monday". Playing at Waterford Mott in cold and rainy weather the Mustangs racked up seven straight wins. Boli downed Dave Klemm, 6-0, 6-4; Knoth defeated Kirk Emmons, 2-6, 6-1, 6-3; Boshoven topped Bryan Rhodes, 7-6, 6-4; Oatey copped the fourth singles match over Rod Campbell, 6-2, 6-2.

In doubles play the Mustangs completed the sweep with Eaker and Rick Norton teaming to top Tim Bos and Gary Voydanoff, 1-6, 7-6, 6-1, Folino and Bowman downed Lelf Nelson and Joe Territo, 6-2, 6-3; and rain ended the match between Mustangs Gougeon and Bonamici and the Mott duo of Mike Cattell and Gary Musgrave after the two teams divided sets at 6-4 each.

Wednesday's weather at Walled Lake Western was "great" and so were the Mustangs. They swept the Western netters off the courts with seven straight victories. Boli topped Jeff Mengel, 6-4, 6-4; Knoth defeated Joe Merta, 6-0, 6-0; Boshoven won easily over Kelly Kessler, 6-0, 6-2; Oatey defeated Kevin Moore, 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles the Mustang teams won all three matches by the following scores: Eaker and Norton over J. Burke and P. Yoder, 7-5, 6-3; Folino and Bowman over McNab and Vogler, 6-0, 6-1; and Bonamici and Gougeon over Burke and Beagle, 6-3, 6-2.

Thursday the Mustang tennis team returned home and continued its winning ways with another sweep, this time over neighboring Novi high school.

In singles play it was Boli 6-2, 6-4 over Gary Garcia; Knoth over Tom Kelly, 6-2, 6-3; Boshoven over Rick Marchetti, 6-1, 6-1; and Norton over Tim Kelly, 6-1, 6-1. In doubles Northville netters won with little trouble with the team of Folino and Bowman topping Greg Alkema and Pat Belanger, 6-0, 6-0; Bonamici and Gougeon over Mike Tuck and Bob Banks, 6-3, 6-0; and Chris Cross and Ron Dooley defeated Scott Spielman and Bill Spencer, 6-3, 6-4.

Friday night in sunny and warm weather the Mustang netters entertained Livonia Stevenson and won handily, 6-1. Boli suffered the only team loss in a number one single's match with Mike Ward, 6-3, 6-4.

In other matches Mustang netters racked up straight-set victories over their opponents: Knoth over Mike Lepshutz, 6-1, 6-0; Boshoven over Paul Kundrick, 6-0, 6-1; Oatey over Kip Nickel, 6-1, 6-2; and in doubles, Eaker and Norton over Jeff Fink and Jeff Johnson, 6-0, 6-0; Folino and Bowman over Greg Niemel, 6-1, 6-1, and Bonamici and Gougeon over Rich Leonard and Dan Dernay, 7-6, 6-0.

3 Go Snorkling On Huron River

At least three local area residents took part in a snorkeling adventure on the Huron River Sunday.

The three-mile adventure, which meant "shooting the rapids" in scuba diving gear (minus the air tanks) and not rubber rafts, has become a popular annual event. The trip started in the icy Huron where it winds through Hudson Mills Park at 11 a.m.

Three local participants were Mrs. Larry Jayko and her Novi neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Bushman.

According to Mrs. Jayko, the trio was attracted to the spring river excursion through their YMCA scuba diving instructor, Lee Duhaime, who led Sunday's adventure.

FIRST RECIPIENTS—Sue Evans (left) and Pam Palarchio have been named first winners of a forensic award, named in honor of assistant superintendent and former Northville High School forensics coach, Miss Florence Panattoni (seated). The handsome trophy is to be kept on display at the high school, and names of annual winners are to be engraved on it. The Florence Panattoni award, according to Forensics Coach Mary Freydl, is given for outstanding ability in competition; for superior effort, dedication and creativity in preparation; and for co-operative attitude and adherence to rules of the Michigan High School Forensic Association and its code of conduct for forensic competitors.

Novi Draws Planners Deny Rezoning Bye for 'B' Tournament

Novi and Pinckney are among six teams drawing byes in the South Lyon Class "B" District baseball tournament. The drawing took place April 29 in the South Lyon High School library. The host school did not fare as well, receiving Hartland as a pre-district opponent for the May 12-23 period. The winner must play Linden on the home field of the winner on Saturday, May 25.

Pinckney and Novi will play at Pinckney on May 25. Also drawing byes to the pre-district playoff were Linden, Brighton and Plymouth Canton. Canton will oppose Brighton at Brighton May 25.

Also clashing May 25 will be the winner of the May 13-23 clash between Fenton and Holly at Lake Fenton. Winners of the four May 25 brackets will then play at South Lyon on Saturday, June 1 for the district championship.

The Pinckney-Novu winner will be accorded home team status at 10:30 a.m. against the winner of the Lake Fenton vs. Fenton or Holly game.

At 1 p.m. June 1 the Linden vs. Hartland-South Lyon winner will meet the Brighton-Canton winner for the chance to play in the 3:30 p.m. championship game.

First of the held petitions to be considered was the request to rezone Dun Rovin property on Haggerty Road from R-4 to multi-family with Clarence Charest, representing owners, describing a proposed garden-type apartment planning. It was pointed out that this was the request which led to the complete revision of the zoning ordinance and that the new ordinance (section 13.4) now permits planned neighborhood development. Denial was recommended with John MacDonald abstaining. Denial also was recommended on petition of Bernard Gieberman to rezone Haggerty Road property to RM-2 as the request does not meet new master plan land uses. Denial was recommended on a Wil-O-Mac petition to rezone property on Five Mile Road to B-2 with the recommendation that the fee be returned as no public hearing was held and on the Manogian-Megerdich petition to rezone to RM-1. Business zonings were granted under the new ordinance provisions to Richard Svatora, Six Mile and Napier roads, and Irving Altus, Five Mile and Haggerty.

police grievance requires immediate council action in providing prisoner "lock-up" space in the city hall.

He suggested the treasurer's office be moved from the building to provide space for the "lock-up".

Centralization of city personnel is essential to smooth operation, argued Manager Harold Saunders. To split them between building would be a poor decision, he said, arguing that a piecemeal move would not provide "one bit" more space for needed additional equipment nor would it "get police out of the basement and provide them with the additional space they (police) need."

Several other alternative solutions for interim office space were considered and rejected. These included rental of the Arkin house on East Nine Mile Road; purchase of mobile homes for placement behind the existing city hall; lease of a new structure; erection of a permanent structure behind the city hall; erection of a smaller addition to the city hall.

In his report to the council, Administrative Assistant Edward Kriewall pointed out that the "city has utilized every available square foot of space to the extent that most employees are working in insufficient space. Inefficiencies have set in throughout the staff."

"The need to add more employees is real but added staff cannot be accommodated. Storage of supplies, etc. has created fire hazards. The police department needs office space, squad room space and detention facilities. Immediate relief must be provided."

Councilman Presnell, who questioned the validity of administrators' assessment of the space needs, reminded the city manager that when the council was "sold" on creation of two departments recently it was assured the departments would require no additional space.

"I'm not prepared to make a decision tonight," he asserted, later saying he planned to leave at 10:30 p.m. whether the agenda was concluded or not. (He stayed until the meeting ended after 11 p.m.)

Campbell concurred, telling fellow members that he, too, was not prepared to make a decision and he suggested the matter be tabled until a special meeting Wednesday when the mayor and Councilman George Athas might be present (they were absent Monday).

Goodman countered by declaring there was no good reason to delay the matter, and he suggested he might be absent at a later meeting. Also, Councilwoman Roethel, who chaired the meeting in Mayor Robert Daley's absence, said she opposed special meetings.

"Results of study sessions," she said, "has not been productive because we aren't getting council turnout."

And Saunders, who emphasized that council decision was necessary so that he could prepare and submit the new budget to council next week as required by charter, said a Wednesday meeting would "leave me precious little time" to complete the budget.

During the ensuing discussion of the alternative suggestions, council members, especially Presnell, challenged the manager's estimates of building costs. He suggested the figures were too high.

A smaller addition to the city hall was estimated at a cost of $127,000; a larger, permanent addition to the city hall was pegged at from $200,00 upwards; cost of a temporary city hall building, which could later be converted to a golf course clubhouse on Taft road, was put at $72,000 for construction, plus many thousands more for utilities, site development, land, etc.

Concerning the latter, William Stout of the firm that prepared the master plan for the 160-acre site at 10 Mile and Taft roads said he believed the manager's estimate was too high. He put the cost at closer to $101,000, although he admitted this estimate did not provide a contingency.

Mrs. Roethel indicated her preference for a permanent building behind the existing city hall, arguing that such a facility could be sold later for office quarters thus recouping much or all of the city's investment.

Concerning suggestions a building authority be created immediately with the express purpose of launching the proposed 10 Mile-Taft Road municipal center, Saunders explained that even if bonds were sold today the building would not be ready for occupancy for a couple of years.

Meanwhile, he added, the city's existing space crunch would not have been resolved. Although he urged an interim solution be implemented immediately, Saunders said he, too, is "anxious to get the municipal complex proposal for 10 Mile-Taft Road 'off dead center' as suggested by Berry and Campbell."

Cost of renting the Arkin house, with 5,000 square feet of useable space, was put at $1,800 per month or an annual cost of $21,600. Cost of renting space from the new West Oakland Bank facility, providing about 3,650 square feet of space, was estimated at $19,162 annually.

Wixom Newsbeat

Michigan Week Deadlines Set

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Prepare yourself... What's in Wixom news this week...deadlines...which lead to one of the most jammed-packed weeks in Wixom's celebration of Michigan Week.

Deadline No. 1......nominations for Wixom's Senior Citizen Awards. Lillian Spencer, chairman of this annual event for the Chamber of Commerce, reports letters are coming in by dribs and drabs...mostly drabs.

The awards will be given during the combined Seniors Exchange Mayor's dinner on Monday night, May 20. It only takes a few moments to drop Lillian a card or a note in care of the Wixom Chamber of Commerce nominating a Senior Wixom resident for the award. Please take that few moments now. The letters should be in her hands by May 13.

Deadline No. 2...Reservations for the Michigan Week golf outing (with no sex discrimination) has been arranged at the Hickory Hill Golf Course. The course has been reserved from noon until 3 p.m. for Saturday, May 18.

If reservations are made by May 13, the greens fees will be a bargain $2.00 per person. Call the Golf Course to enter your name...their number is 624-4733. If per chance you decide to enter after May 13, the going rate of $3.50 will be charged.

The Michigan Week committee is looking for a good turn-out...a long range weather hunch says absolutely no rain on that day!

Deadline No. 3...Another new addition to the list of activities during that third week in May...a wild treasure hunt that could very well prove to be the frosting on the cake and bring Michigan Week to a merry close.

Reservations must be in for this event by May 13.

Cost for the evening which will include dinner, prizes, set-ups (it's a B.Y.O.B. night) and a crew-bag full of clues will be a bargain $13 per couple. Jerry and Maryjo Naragon (who will accept any checks) at 624-5596 and Dennis and Jeanne Andrews at 624-3721 will be manning the phones for the reservations. But they must be in by May 13 also.

Deadline No. 4...the last for this week but one of those most important items. The "design a Wixom Flag Contest" will draw to a close on May 18.

We now have a centennial rock planted in front of City Hall (the actual tonnage of which is a good question) symbolizing the strength of Wixom. To further that thought, Wixom's own flag flying beneath the American and State flags marking its place and its strengths.

Several flag ideas already have been turned in but it is hoped that more designs will be submitted. The deadline is May 18 for the entries.

For pertinent information and full particulars, call City Hall. And do give some thought to the design for a City flag...time is growing short.

Highlighting a few of the other functions taking place during Michigan Week which is being so ably "chaired" by Jim Schemanske of Highgate:

The Pancake Breakfast, Saturday, May 18 beginning at 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. Local "chefs" will turn out the pancakes and sausages at the U.A.W. Hall on Wixom Road.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for children under 12 all of which is tax deductible because all proceeds will go to The Friends of the Library. The money will be used to purchase a projector, screen and table for the Wixom Children's Library.

Tickets are available from Margaret Ladd, Bev Walters, Kathy Wahamaki, Gerry Hallett, City Hall, sundry other people, and of course, at the door.

The annual Kids-Kops-Firemen baseball game also on May 18 at the diamond behind City Hall beginning at 1 p.m. Kids 11 thru 18 can start registering now at City Hall for the team.

Larry Rourke is in charge of the event this year and has planned hot dogs and cokes for 25 cents besides a whole list of prize drawings.

And at the same time, the mustache growing contest judging will be held in City Hall.

And it is reported that the famous (or infamous) float building team of Morehead and Vangieson are looking for competition.

The call is out for competition for floats in the Youth Day parade...let's see who can come up with one better or "can you top this?"

Fun, food, flowers and prizes are in store for all the gals at the Ladies day luncheon which will be held at the V.F.W. from 11 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. on May 23. Bring a dish to pass, your table setting and be prepared for a gala afternoon topped with a flower arranging demonstration.

Chairladies of the day are Rae Momborg, Arlene Munk and Ann McDonald.

Flower arranging and "how to do" is perfect timing for the pretty posies that will be available to all at the annual Northridge Flower-Power Sale which will be going on during Michigan Week. If you missed pre-ordering your special choices you'll still be able to find a good variety on sale during the week.

Plan on visiting Hopkins Drive early though for the best selection.

SEVEN-TON 'CENTERPIECE' — This huge boulder decorating the lawn in front of Wixom City Hall was placed there a week ago Saturday by members of the Wixom VFW, who transported the rock from behind the VFW hall where it had been buried. With city sanction, plans are to have a Veterans of Foreign Wars plaque engraved and attached.

Wixom VFW Auxiliary Elect Mrs. Colpitts

When the Ladies Auxiliary to Wixom-Walled Lake VFW Post 3952 elected Debra (Mrs. David) Colpitts president in April, auxiliary records show that it was a "first" as she becomes the youngest president in its history.

She and other officers are to be installed at the post and auxiliary installation ceremony June 1.

Other officers are Mildred

(Mrs. Thomas) Wild, senior vice-president; Betty (Mrs. Clarence) Shaeffer, junior vice-president; Doris (Mrs. Robert) Merkle, chaplain; Lucile J. Gries, treasurer; June (Mrs. John) Holik, conductress; and Ethel Maslanik, guard.

For her many years of "dedicated service", auxiliary members have presented a watch to Mrs. Gries in appreciation.

Police Blotter: Roust Beer Hill Crowds

In Township

The arrival of spring and warmer weather signified the return of the Beer Hill crowds who kept police agencies active over the weekend.

Cass Benton Woods, Northville Athletic Area and Beer Hill were cleaned out both Saturday and Sunday nights by Michigan State Police, Wayne County Sheriff's deputies, Northville Township and Plymouth Police.

About 9:50 p.m. Saturday, police were called to assist sheriff's deputies at Hines and Six Mile who were preparing to clear the area of Beer Hill. According to reports from the Michigan State Police, the action was triggered by a fight in the woods with sheriff's deputies deciding to close the area.

Complaints were also received from Kings Mill residents who said youths were climbing on signs and over fences.

Assisted by the sheriff's helicopter and floodlights, the area of Beer Hill was cleared without incident, according to reports. A smaller group of youths was cleared from the Northville Athletic Area. Police remained on the scene to prevent the crowds from regrouping, they reported.

The following night, Northville Township police responded to Inkster Road and Hines Drive in Dearborn Heights and assisted other police agencies in clearing the parkway from Inkster Road to Beer Hill. About 50 police units participated, reports said.

Car accidents in Northville township sent two persons to St. Mary hospital this past week.

A 19-year-old Plymouth girl, Mary Ann Burr, lost control of the car she was driving eastbound on Five Mile Road near Hines Drive and struck an embankment, fracturing her left hand.

Discovered by a passing motorist at 2:50 a.m. Friday, Miss Burr was found lying outside her car. She told police she had been struck by another vehicle, but township officers said they found no evidence of a second car.

A Northville woman, Annie M. Anderson of Northville Road, was hospitalized shortly after 6:45 a.m. Thursday after she struck her head on a windshield and cut a finger.

Township police said she was a passenger in a car driven by Norman C. Anderson, also of Northville Road. According to reports, Thomas Bray of Jamestown Circle was turning from Northville Road eastbound onto Six Mile Road when the collision occurred. Anderson's car was northbound on Northville Road. No tickets were issued by township officers.

A 14-year-old youth may be responsible for more than $2,000 damage to new concrete work in a house under construction on Sutters Lane, police say.

Township reports said wet concrete in the garage, basement and floor of one room was shuffled through, walked on and written in last Monday afternoon. The case is under investigation.

Stolen from the 41000 block of Winchester Drive about 9 p.m. last Monday was a white 26-inch Liberty Cross Country 10-speed bicycle.

According to reports, a VW was seen in the area of the garage shortly before the bicycle was discovered missing.

in marihuana led to the arrest of two persons early last week.

Following a search of an apartment at 49341 Pontiac Trail, police arrested Rita Anne Anderson on a charge of possession of marihuana.

Earlier they had arrested Terrie Rose Tomiko, who told police she had obtained marihuana from the 23-year-old Anderson woman.

According to police, search of the apartment uncovered a "baggie" of suspected marihuana, a plastic bag containing suspected marihuana stems, four vials of unknown pills and capsules, two boxes of unknown capsules, and four possible narcotics pipes. Police had a warrant for the search.

Twice C&O train operators were ticketed last week—once for blocking the highway and once for failing to sound a whistle.

Police issued the first violation April 21, when a C&O train failed to sound a whistle or siren at the Beck and West road crossings.

The following day a C&O train was ticketed for blocking the crossing at Pontiac and Wixom roads—from 2:09 a.m. to 2:35 a.m. Besides a police officer the violation was witnessed by a number of other motorists.

A small amount of cash and a television set were reported stolen during a break-in on North Ely recently. City police detectives said the case is being investigated in connection with others which have occurred in the city since February.

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

"All systems are go!" This was a very exciting phraseology at the beginning of the space age. To sit by your "tube" during the final seconds of countdown and hear that "all systems are go" sent a tingle up your spine as a giant rocket blasted off from earth to its destination in outer space.

When the Apostle Paul said to the Colossian church in Colossians 2:10, "And ye are complete in Him..." he was saying "all systems are go!"

The word "complete" in its original use was a sea-going word. It meant, "rigged for the journey". During the days of early Greek shipping every sailor had his specific responsibility. When the ship was loaded, the sails inspected and in place and all the provisions for the voyage were ready, the seamen would announce to the captain that they were "rigged for the journey". This meant there was nothing more needed and they were ready to set sail and meet any emergency.

Can you say that you're "rigged for the journey" of life? Ready to meet every emergency? With Jesus Christ in your heart as your personal Lord and Savior you have Him to rely on and trust in a time of emergency and difficulty.

He prepares you and sustains you for all of life.

When David said, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want," it was David's way of saying that he was "rigged for the journey". I hope you have this kind of confidence for now and the future.

A stolen five-yard dump truck, minus the trailer it was pulling, was recovered shortly before 1 p.m. Thursday on Hill Street.

Found between Grace and Center, the truck, police learned from residents in the area, had been parked there for about two days.

A routine check of the license number showed the truck was reported stolen from Detroit earlier in the week. Detroit Police investigators said a trailer attached to the truck when stolen, was missing.

TO ALL GAS CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF PARTIAL REHEARING AND ADDITIONAL PROCEEDINGS REGARDING ASSIGNMENT OF COSTS OF GAS SERVICE AMONG VARIOUS CLASSES OF SERVICE, RATE DESIGN AND COST OF GAS ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

On January 18, 1974, the Michigan Public Service Commission issued a final order in the matter of the application of Consumers Power Company for authority to increase its rates for the sale of gas (Case No. U-4331) which granted rate relief to Applicant. On March 27, 1974 following applications for rehearing, the Commission on its own motion issued an order granting a partial rehearing of the final order and requiring additional proceedings in Case No. U-4331.

By the terms of the Commission's order of March 27, 1974, the scope of the rehearing in Case No. U-4331 is limited to consideration of the following issues:

1. The most equitable distribution of Consumers Power Company's gas costs among its various classes of service in view of the costs of incremental gas supplies, including all costs of gas produced at the Marysville gas reforming plant, the benefits derived therefrom, the limited availability of this resource, the availability of and price of alternative fuels and the feasibility of conversion thereto.

2. A determination as to the manner in which Consumers Power Company's cost of gas adjustment clause should operate to pass through changes in the calculated cost of gas to the various classes of its customers as a result of any changes in the design of its rates was stopped at Seven Mile by officers who, following investigation, charged the driver with drunken driving.

The 23-year-old also was found to have his license suspended and was wanted by Livonia Police on a traffic warrant. Two of his three passengers were arrested for being drunk, police reports said.

Another break-in of a residence was reported to city police about 11 p.m. Saturday. Located on Springfield, the house was broken into earlier that evening, reports indicated.

While the house had been ransacked, owners said only $58 in cash was taken. The case remains under investigation.

Theft of more than $550 in merchandise from an apartment on North Rogers Street is being investigated this week by city police detectives.

Taken during the past two weeks were 40 record albums, Bradford stereo, blouses, house coats, sterling silver tea set and a color television set.

Police said they found no signs of forced entry into the residence.

A 10-speed bicycle valued at more than $100 was stolen Sunday afternoon from the area of Arcade 5 in Northville Square.

The men's bicycle was a 1973 Mossberg, silver and grey with a missing front hand brake.

Whoever stole a 1968 Yamaha trail bike may not have gotten all he bargained for.

Taken from the area of Dunlap and Rogers streets either Friday or Saturday was a red 50cc bike valued at $150. The bike has no front fender or rear foot brake and has a damaged black seat.

Two credit cards and less than $1 in change was stolen from the counseling office at Northville High School sometime Thursday.

Damage amounting to more than $150 was done to a car parked at Northville Lanes Saturday night or early Sunday morning. According to reports, the windshield of the 1971 car was smashed with what appeared to have been a rock.

City police officers responded to an "officer in trouble" to assist Wayne County Sheriff's deputies about 10:50 p.m. Saturday.

Located at Inkster Road and Hines Drive, the officers were attempting to clear Hines Park of youths who had gathered in the area.

The Northville unit assisted along with about 50 other units in sweeping the park from the Dearborn Heights location to Beer Hill, closing the parkway.

FIRE CALLS

April 27—2:41 p.m., abandoned house on fire at Five Mile and Robinwood.

April 27—4:05 p.m., car fire at Northville Lanes.

April 27—4:47 p.m., brush fire on Griswold north of Pennell.

April 27—6:27 p.m., house fire rekindled.

In Novi

A single C&O train was twice ticketed Friday morning for blocking two road intersections for seven minutes. The violations occurred at 8 a.m. at the Novi Crossing and 10 Mile Road crossings.

The slow moving freight had more than 80 cars, according to police who "lost count after 80".

Earlier this month, a similar violation resulted in a $100 fine.

One of two youths arrested Friday on liquor ordinance violations faces possible prosecution for possession of marihuana.

According to police, upon arresting Craig Stephens, 18, of Northville, and "Bill" VanBuren, 17, of Novi for drinking in a parked car, approximately one-half pound of marihuana was found in Stephens' clothing.

A warrant for possession was being sought against the Northville resident.

Albert Miller, former Novi plumbing inspector against whom District Judge Martin Boyle earlier dismissed charges on a legal technicality, was rearrested Friday on a three-count bribery warrant issued by the prosecutor's office.

The three related charges against him are:

1. That he had accepted a partnership with John Wood through which he (Miller) would share in profits from plumbing jobs performed by Wood in Novi and other locations.

2. That in return for the partnership, Miller agreed to allow Wood to perform jobs in Novi even though he was aware that Wood was an unlicensed plumber.

3. That Miller failed to report Wood to the Department of Health as an unlicensed plumber. Such reports are required by law of inspectors.

Judge Boyle dismissed the earlier case against Miller because the charges failed to specify the defendant as a public employee.

Miller served as Novi's chief plumbing inspector from 1971 until he was suspended from his duties by the Novi City Council in December of 1973 following an intensive investigation of the building department.

A warrant is being sought for the arrest of a Walled Lake area man, who police say stole four tires and wheels from Cargo Manufacturing Company at 25701 Seeley Road. The stolen equipment, valued at $300, has been recovered by detectives.

A number of bicycles have been reported stolen, police report. In one instance a bike was repainted by a 10-year-old boy who admitted stealing it.

Someone broke into the Checkerboard Ralston Purina plant at 43936 Grand River recently and police suspect someone made off with a number of sacks of feed. A suspect has been observed inquiring about value of feed, police report.

A $185 air grinder has been reported stolen from Milo Abrasives Services, 24300 Meadowbrook Road. The theft was reported by Joel Kramer of Oak Park.

Two industrial burglaries were reported over the weekend in Novi—one at Multi-Elmac of 22700 Heslip Drive and the other at Stricker Paints on Novi Road adjacent to the C&O tracks.

Stolen from Multi-Elmac were two citizen band radios and a number of standard radios. Entry was gained by kicking in a door, police said.

A locked cash register containing an estimated $300 was stolen from Stricker Paints. The burglars gained entrance and left through a factory window.
