Three Seek Two School Board Seats

Changing Use of Schools Could Cost $2 Million

Preliminary report from the city-school-township feasibility study on the use of three school buildings on Main Street has come up with a price tag of between $2 and $3 million to meet the needs of the school, school board, library, recreation department and senior citizen housing.

The cost estimates were revealed at a meeting last week of City Manager Steven Walters, Superintendent Raymond Spear and Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright with the architecture firm of Ralls-Hamill-Becker-Carne.

Speaking for the group, Spear said that "When all the options are used, no matter what is being done, it will cost between $2 and $3 million to take care of all five needs with the three buildings." Buildings include present board offices, Main Street Elementary and Cooke

Middle School Annex.

Supervisor Wright commented that he was surprised at the cost figure, adding that he did not know it would be that high.

Spear said that if "the school maintains use of the three school buildings as they are being used now, three new facilities must be built — library, recreation building and senior citizen housing — if we want to have those facilities."

City Manager Walters said that he feels the study signals a cooperative effort on the part of the three governing bodies rather than "having one act independently and, perhaps, at the expense of the others."

He added that he was reluctant to comment on the initial report since it does not speak to the question of whether or not the annex building is sound enough structurally to warrant renovation for a new use. "Cost of renovation, it seems"

Tax Rate Fixed at 10.3 Mills

Having set the 1974-75 general fund budget at a record high $1,079,200, the Northville City Council Monday increased the city's tax rate from 8.1 to 10.3 mills.

Also, following a budget hearing that drew audience response from only one citizen, the council also transferred $90,000 from the public improvement fund to the general fund to cover a paper deficit in the current budget, and it voted to borrow $100,000 against anticipated tax income to cover initial fiscal year expenditures for operating the city.

All council actions on these budget matters were unanimously supported by members.

Although the new budget has now been approved with a maximum expenditure fixed at $1,079,200, City Manager Steven Walters disclosed following the meeting that employee contract settlements have not yet occurred. He expressed hope, however, that settlements might be reached before the end of the week.

The latest city offer, he said, exceeds earlier suggested packages but it is within the framework of available budgeted monies for salaries and fringe benefits.

Should the finally approved contracts exceed budgeted allocations, the city will have little recourse but to cut other budget outlays to make up the difference, the city manager indicated.

Employee groups include policemen, DPW employees, and the city's clerical staff.

In criticizing the budget, the lone citizen to speak, Scotty Stratton, questioned the council's contention that the existing budget is, in reality, a balanced one even though it requires transfer of nearly $100,000 from the public improvement fund.

Councilmen attempted to explain away the apparent incongruity with an analogy that while one councilman may be broke, if all his fellow councilmen empty their pockets on the table and pool their resources, together they probably are solvent.

As for last year's reduction in millage as opposed to this year's increase, Councilman Paul Folino told Stratton that the 1973-74 reduction was influenced by the fact that increased assessments, with additional new building starts, had produced surpluses in the budget.

In view of the increased valuation council, said Folino, concluded it would be improper to continue the millage rate at the then level of 10.2 mills and therefore trimmed it to 8.1.

Unfortunately, admitted councilmen, the reduction proved too great and the budget failed to adequately reflect the "tremendous" inflationary cost spiral.

Racing Gets Green Light

Although no vote was taken Monday, council gave tacit approval for two more motorcycle races at Northville Downs this year. Application for the ordinance maximum of three races in a single year had already been made, but the final two races had hinged upon satisfactory performance during the first 1974 race here Saturday.

And although at least 21 complaints were reported, most councilmen concluded that performance was satisfactory. Only Councilman Paul Folino found major fault.

Most complaints concerned noise, according to Police Captain Louie Westfall.

Stanton Lorenz, race president, reported that noise emission was measured on each racing cycle and all were within prescribed decibel limits. He also reported that the race had ended within time limits and that dust control was successful.

Concerning dust, however, Folino wondered what constituted satisfactory dust control. He contended parked cars were covered with dust and that when a row of parked cars were moved an outline of the cars remained on the blacktop.

Councilman David Biery

refuted Folino's allegation relative to dust.

In noting the complaints, which he contended were not excessive, Mayor A. M. Allen observed that no matter what activity might be conducted at the Downs someone is likely to find objections. Objections to the Northville Fair, for example, have been received as have complaints

Janchick Named Assistant Principal

J. Michael Janchick has been appointed assistant principal of Cooke Middle School. His appointment was announced Friday by Superintendent Raymond Spear and becomes effective July 1.

Janchick, who has been an administrative intern at the middle school for the past year, taught in the district from January, 1966, through June, 1973. He fills a position left vacant by the resignation earlier this year of Richard Norton.

In announcing the appointment, Spear said Janchick "has done a fine job in the years he spent teaching. His year as an intern leaves me with little doubt that he has the potential to become a fine administrator."

Annual Election's Monday

Northville School District voters go to the polls Monday to elect two of three candidates to four-year terms on the board of education. There are no other issues on the ballot.

School administrators are expecting a light turnout of the district's 8,400 electors.

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and paper ballots will be used. Although voting is done in six precincts, school board members are elected on an at-large basis.

Vying for the two terms are Incumbent Mrs. Sylvia Gucken, Mrs. Karen Wilkinson and David E. Bucklin. All three have been or presently are teachers.

Mrs. Gucken, who lives at 307 Sherrie Lane, was first elected to a two-year term on the board in 1972. Mrs. Wilkinson of 45871 Fernanagh Drive, who formerly taught in Dearborn schools, has been active in Northville PTA, League of Women Voters and Cooperative Nursery. Bucklin, who lives at 119 Rayson, is an attorney and presently is a special education teacher in Livonia.

Complete biographies and statements are carried elsewhere in The Record.

Voters are asked to check their school district registration cards to find the precinct in which they vote.

Precinct divisions are:

Precinct One: Votes at Administration Office, 303 West Main Street. Includes all area south of Eight Mile Road, east of Beck Road and west of Northville Road, south to city limits of Northville.

Precinct Two: Votes at Amerman Elementary, North Center Street, north of Eight Mile. Area east of Northville Road to Haggerty, north side of Seven Mile to Eight Mile including Highland Lakes, Smock and Meadowbrook subdivisions.

NEWS BRIEFS

AN OFFER to review and update annexation studies previously undertaken in Northville has been made by the University of Michigan's Institute for Public Policy Studies. There would be no charge for the study, which presumably would be made prior to the yet unscheduled public hearing on the question of annexation by the State Boundary Commission. The township board will consider the offer at its next regular meeting, Thursday, June 13. If accepted by the township, the matter would go to the city council.

PERMISSION for display of four Northville Fair banners across major entrances to the city has been granted the Northville Chamber of Commerce. The fair is to be held during the first week of August. In connection with the fair, the city council also has endorsed the Jaycee application for a temporary beer license to conduct its German style beer and knockwurst tent.

WAYNE COUNTY Board of Commissioners' Public Works Subcommittee is considering a proposal to sell 120 acres of land to Northville Schools for a high school site. In responding to the school district's request, commissioners said the "proposal will be considered in the light of a comprehensive study now being undertaken and plans which will be formulated for the utilization of facilities at the Child Development Center after the Center's phase-out." The parcel of land is located on the south side of Six Mile Road east of Beck Road.

NORTHVILLE COUNCILMEN will meet in study session Monday night to review suggested changes to the proposed new zoning ordinance, which is up for continued public hearing June 24.

A CONTRACT was awarded GarWood Detroit Truck Equipment Company Monday when the city council determined the firm had submitted the low bid of $11,360 for a 25-yard heavy-duty packer body. Bids must be received yet for the new truck chassis to which the packer will be attached for rubbish pickup.

Invite Community to Hillside Concert

By JEAN DAY

BRING A BLANKET or your lawn chairs and find a spot on the high school hill to enjoy "Music-on-the-Lawn" at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 9, as the Northville High School band presents a family concert.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend this right-at-home concert. Robert Williams will direct the high school's two concert bands and the wind and jazz ensembles in favorite selections designed to appeal to all ages.

Carol King, John Lennon and Paul McCartney, Henry Mancini and other contemporary composers will be featured. Selections include "Every Day I Sing the Blues," "So Far Away" and music from "How the West Was Won."

There will be no charge, and if it rains the concert will move into the high school auditorium.

Sponsorship of the family concert is a cooperative effort of the Junior Entertainment Series and the Band Booster Parents. The Junior Entertainment Series, a committee of the PTA Council, recently brought a successful movie series to the Northville elementary schools and the junior high. Its aim is to bring more cultural entertainment for young people.

Sunday afternoon's concert is an expansion of the late-spring concerts the band formerly presented in the park behind the city hall.

Band Booster Parents are hosting the annual honors night for the band at 8 p.m. this Friday at the high school at which band letters are awarded. They also are giving a dance afterward for all band members.

FIFTY DOLLARS was the sum voted Monday by Baseline Chapter of the Questers antiques study society to the Northville Historical Society for its work at the Mill Race restoration.

The chapter's annual meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Burkman with Mrs. George Spencer, retiring president, turning over the office to Mrs. Burkman. Since Ruth Burkman is the wife of the Northville Historical Society's retiring president, she was able to confide that the chapter's donation may be used for restoration work on the Hunter House, the other building moved to the Mill Race on Griswold Street for preservation.

Since only stone-facing on the foundation of the old library building remains as a major project in that restoration, the society now is concentrating its attention on the winged Greek revival house.

Area residents toured the old library building in a steady stream during the open house on Heritage Day of Michigan Week last month. Society members estimate that about 400 viewed the restoration.

In addition to gleaming wood floors and the reconstructed balcony, viewers saw an area of exposed old-type lath, which had not been re-covered with plaster, and also a section revealing the outline of an old church bench-end.

For those who missed the open house, there will be a second chance to tour the building as it will be open July 4 when the Northville Historical Society plans another flea market on the grounds.

In addition to plans for this summer event, the society, which last month elected James Harris as president and elevated Burkman to chairman of the board, is researching details for the Hunter House restoration. It has been decided that the house which was moved from East Main Street to the restoration should be painted a color. However, it has not been announced yet whether it will be a Williamsburg-type blue or green.

A PREVIEW of one of the highlights in the Burkman home to be on view in the annual Northville Home Tour this fall was given Questers Monday. Already in place was the cherry cabinet Ruth Burkman had purchased at the

On the tour, co-sponsored by Northville Historical Society and Northville First Presbyterian Women's Association September 26, visitors also will see her collection of blue milk glass displayed in an open cabinet—and the focal point of the spacious living room.

MICHIGAN OPERA Theatre is "growing by leaps and bounds," reports Judy (Mrs. James) Gorden, new chairman of the Northville committee, who represented Northville at a spring campaign coffee in Grosse Pointe.

Since Mrs. Donald Ware and Mrs. Ernest J. Shave now spend their winters and springs in Florida, Mrs. Gorden has taken over their promotion of Detroit opera.

Michigan Opera Theatre, a professional performing company which produces a season of opera in English at Music Hall, is working toward five performances each of four operas beginning in October, Mrs. Gorden says.

She invites anyone interested in working for the opera on the ticket committee with Mrs. James Mortensen and Mrs. Mabel Stremich, both of the Salem area, to call her, or the opera office at 963-3717. This number of 349-7123 also may be called for ticket information (single sales begin August 1.)

Mrs. Gorden currently is working to raise funds for the opera by having a used paperback book sale at the annual Northville sidewalk sale to be held on July 27 this year.

WOMEN'S WORK and interests have changed greatly during the past few years. For women who would like to be volunteers in a very "today" way, the Women's Continuum Program at Schoolcraft College is holding a volunteer planning session for its proposed Women's Resource Center from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. today.

"More volunteers are needed to make this project a success—any interested person is welcome," planners stress.

Volunteers currently serving on education, employment, volunteer work, social services-legal rights and aid to homemakers committees are gathering written information and interviewing people in the community who could provide answers to questions women are likely to ask.

When Schoolcraft Resource Center goes into operation in the fall of this year, volunteers will be needed to answer telephone inquiries and to help women who visit the center to find answers to their questions.

The present survey work is being done at each volunteer's convenience. The inquiry work in the fall will be requiring volunteers during morning, afternoon and evening hours.

Schoolcraft College has been accused by the NOW organization of "neglecting" women. It has pointed out that the administrative and teaching staffs have low percentages of women staffers in relation to men.

The Women's Continuum Program is one of the services sought by women.

Council Votes to Dismiss City Manager

Meeting in executive session last Sunday, Novi's City Council voted unanimously to dismiss City Manager Harold Saunders.

The Novi News has learned through reliable sources present at the meeting that the session was attended by five members of the city council — Mayor Robert Daley, Councilwoman Romaine Roethel, and Councilmen Denis Berry, Louie Campbell, and Edwin Presnell.

The two members of the council not present at the session — George Athas and Philip Goodman — had been contacted by phone prior to the meeting and indicated their concurrence that Saunders' dismissal was "something which had to be done," according to the same sources.

Saunders was to have been informed of the decision at another executive session slated for Wednesday night. According to the terms of his contract, he must be given 45 days notice before he can be dismissed from office. Saunders' contract also entitles him to request a hearing and appeal the decision.

Saunders, 31, assumed fulltime duties as Novi City Manager on April 15, 1973, after being selected from a field of 64 candidates for the vacancy created by the resignation of George Athas. Athas has since been elected to serve on the city council.

Saunders is the fifth manager in the history of Novi. He receives an annual salary of $22,000.

The specific issue which led to the decision to dump Saunders was the city's present financial situation. Dissatisfaction with the performance of the city manager has been brewing over the past six months, however.

Saunders was roundly and publicly criticized by practically everyone on the council for allowing the city's current fiscal difficulties to develop. On May 10, Saunders informed the council that the city was unable to pay its bills and faced the possibility of a deficit in the neighborhood of $150,000 for the 1973-74 fiscal year.

The city manager received strong criticism for not spotting the impending financial situation sooner.

The financial crisis appears to have been the blow which finally convinced the council that it should seek a new city manager.

Saunders' problems started with his investigation of the Novi Building Department. Saunders started out with a hard-line approach, but then appeared to back off when members of the building department, Councilmen Presnell and Berry, and Mayor Daley spearheaded a backlash movement.

Saunders' handling of the situation left practically nobody happy. He was publicly denounced by Presnell as "unqualified to run the city." Saunders' handling of the situation also raised the ire of Councilman Campbell who felt that he (Saunders) had backed off too easily and that the whole situation was being "whitewashed."

In the meantime, Saunders' general performance has won him neither the respect or support of anyone else on the council.

The major complaint is that "nothing ever gets done." "I don't think we've received a single requested report," commented one councilman. "Every time we ask him for something we're told it will be finished in a couple of weeks, and then we never get it."

Saunders is also criticized for being a poor administrator, unable to command the respect of his employees, properly designate assignments, or efficiently budget his own time.

Layoffs Still Possible

OK $1.5 Million Budget

A series of complicated financial maneuvers has enabled Novi's financially troubled city council to adopt a balanced budget for the 1974-75 fiscal year.

Operating under a charter-imposed deadline of 12 midnight Monday, the council voted 6-1 to approve a balanced budget of $1,538,503. The new budget represents an increase of approximately $218,000 over the $1.32 million 1973-74 budget.

Adoption of the budget was opposed by Councilman Louie Campbell who cast the lone dissenting ballot in the 6-1 vote. Accusing the rest of the council of predicating the budget on "if-come revenue," Campbell walked out of the meeting immediately after the budget was approved.

The action taken by the council Monday will enable the city to continue operations without having to implement layoffs of employees.

In adopting the budget, however, the council made it clear that the possibility of layoffs will be faced during the first quarter of the upcoming fiscal year.

Immediately after adopting the budget, the council voted 6-0 to have the city manager prepare a report prior to September 30 in which anticipated revenue would be compared with actual revenue and anticipated expenses would be compared with actual expenses.

Stated Councilman George Athas: "It's conceivable that the council will have to make appropriate payroll reductions if revenue does not come in as anticipated. However, if the prime interest rate falls and there is a building boom, our revenue from building permits may go way up and we will not be forced to make the reductions."

"In essence, what we're doing is buying a little time," continued Athas. "I don't want to lose employees unless we absolutely have to."

Preparation of the 1974-75 budget was made difficult because of a deficit which developed during the 1973-74 fiscal year. During the first week of May, City Manager Harold Saunders announced that the city was broke and unable to pay its bills. The situation had developed, it was explained, because the council had overestimated the amount of revenue that would be received from building permits during the fiscal year.

The 1973-74 budget anticipated $260,000 from permits and licenses. Actual revenue has proved to be approximately $120,000.

To meet that deficit, the council passed two resolutions. First, it voted to borrow $190,000 from the water fund and place it in the general fund. And, second, it voted to authorize the sale of $200,000 in tax anticipation notes (borrowing money to be paid back with next year's taxes) in order to reimburse the water fund.

As a result of those two actions, the council began its budget deliberations at the point of having to make up the $200,000 in tax anticipation notes in addition to its regularly incurred expenses.

The budget originally considered for adoption Monday showed a deficit of some $16,000. The council was able to balance the budget by changing its decision on the $200,000 in tax anticipation notes.

City Attorney David Fried advised the council that if it elects to reimburse the water fund by issuing tax anticipation notes, the notes must be repaid with revenue received during the 1974-75 fiscal year. Fried went on to say, however, that the council would not be obligated to pay back the water fund in the upcoming fiscal year if it elects to pay it back with general fund revenue.

As a result of that advice, the council elected not to issue the revenue notes, thus eliminating the necessity to repay the full $200,000 to the water fund this year.

eliminated, was eliminated. "There's virtually nothing in that budget that doesn't have to be there," commented Councilwoman Romaine Roethel. "If a secretary breaks her typewriter, we'll probably have to lay her off because we put virtually no money in the budget for equipment repairs."

Nevertheless, the 1974-75 budget of $1.54 million is the largest in the city's history, up approximately $218,000 from the 1973-74 budget of $1.32 million.

The bulk of the increase is due to a dramatic increase in salaries brought about by the unionization of municipal employees.

A total of three new unions — two of them in the police department — were formed last year, bringing the total number of unions with which the city must negotiate to four. In addition to contracts with the three new unions, a new contract with the existing Novi Police Officers Association was also ratified during fiscal 1973-74.

In 1973-74 the total police department budget was $454,000. Swollen by the salary increases called for in the union contracts, the total police department budget for 1974-75 is $631,700 — an increase of $180,000.

The budget originally presented to the council by City Manager Harold Saunders called for a balanced budget of $1,651,000 in fiscal 1974-75. It was only after that preliminary budget had been submitted, however, that the city became aware of the deficit in fiscal 1973-74.

As a result, the council had to make drastic revisions in the 1974-75 expenditures in order to reimburse the $190,000 borrowed from the water fund to meet the 1973-74 deficit. An additional $100,000 in expenditures had to be chopped when the council decided that it was unrealistic to expect to receive $272,500 in revenue from licenses and permits during 1974-75 and lowered the figure to $172,500. (Several councilmen have argued that even the $172,500 figure was overly optimistic and objected to adoption of the budget on that issue).

City controller Francis Loyne estimated that the council cut close to $350,000 in expenditures from the budget originally submitted by the city manager.

Councilwoman Roethel calls the 1974-75 budget a "disaster budget."

"I'm not exaggerating when I tell you that city employees have been instructed to spend 10 cents for a stamp instead of 15 cents for a phone call," commented

NOVI WATER MAIN—Construction of the 14 Mile Road water main has already been started. The 48 inch main is being extended by the Detroit Water Board from its present location at Halstead Road, west along 14 Mile into Novi. Once the city has constructed a feeder system to tap into the main, Detroit water will be available throughout the northeast section of Novi. Completion of the project is expected to have a major impact on speeding development and is a key to construction of the Dayton-Hudson regional shopping center.

3 Vie for School Board Posts

With one Novi school board seat already sewed up, only one remains undecided as voters go to the polls Monday in what could be a light annual school election.

Lone competition for a seat on the local board is the race between Incumbent Trustee Todd H. Price and his challenger for the four-year seat, James L. Helmer.

Unopposed for the single two-year seat is the veteran board member, Secretary Ray L. Warren.

In addition to these three local candidates, however, 10 county residents are seeking election to three six-year terms on the Oakland County Community College board of trustees.

They are: Kenneth W. Butler, Douglas J. Collins, Robert J. Garner, David W. Hackett, Gordon C. Henderson, Robert C. Kennedy, Marion J. Kolasa, Mervyn H. Lakin, Dennis R. McCoy, and Robert A. Weldon.

No propositions will appear on Monday's ballot.

Voters will cast their ballots at the community building located adjacent to the Novi Elementary School on Novi Road, about one block north of Grand River, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Helmer, Price and Warren are scheduled to appear in a public forum tonight

School Candidates To Speak Tonight

The three candidates for the Novi Board of Education will be present at a "Meet the Candidates" Night sponsored by the Northville-Plymouth Area League of Women Voters on Thursday, June 6 (tonight).

The meeting will be held in the School Administration Offices at 2575 Taft Road, beginning at 8 p.m.

Vying for election to the School Board are Ray Warren, Todd Price, and James Helmer. Warren and Price are incumbents.

Warren, who currently serves as secretary of the School Board, is unopposed in his bid for the two-year term. Price and Helmer are seeking election to the other vacancy, a four-year term.

The Candidates Night is a function of the League of Women's Voters voter service program. The public is encouraged to attend and participate in the question and answer forum.

KINDERGARTEN PREVIEW—Prospective kindergartners accepted an invitation this week to learn what kindergarten classes are like. Miss Grace Pollock, kindergarten instructor at Main Street Elementary, explains some of the story books to this group of pre-schoolers. Meanwhile parents had a chance to tour the school and meet administrators and teachers. The pre-schoolers have enrolled for next year's classes.

List Area Construction

Novi Among Top in Growth

Although residential housing construction dipped in Novi during 1973, it remained among the top 10 construction communities in the Detroit metropolitan area.

That's because the number of residential building permits issued throughout Southeast Michigan declined for the second consecutive year in 1973.

Novi remained in ninth place in single family housing starts, but it climbed from eighth to sixth in units authorized in multi-family structures.

During 1973, a net total of 929 starts — 789 of them for multi-family units — were issued in Novi.

The neighboring city of Wixom showed a total of 306 starts — 298 of them multi-family units.

And in the city of Northville, the total number of starts was 99 — 59 of them multi-family units. Northville Township showed 206 net starts, of which 101 were multi-family units.

Other numbers of housing starts registered in 1973 included:

Farmington, 69 (34 multi-family); Farmington Hills, 815 (558 multi-family); Milford, 56 (52 multi-family);

Milford Township, 44 (44 multi-family); Lyon Township, 167 (136 multi-family); South Lyon, 141 (88 multi-family); Walled Lake, 111 (114 multi-family, community had 26 demolitions);

Brighton, 243 (184 multi-family); Brighton Township, 196 (40 multi-family); Green Oak Township, 194 (59 multi-family); Hartland Township, 126 (12 multi-family);

Northfield Township, 27 (2 multi-family); Salem Township, 20 (0 multi-family);

Livonia, 471 (168 multi-family); Plymouth, 14 (6 multi-family); Plymouth Township, 404 (294 multi-family); and Canton Township, 1,578 (642 multi-family)

Mrs. Roethel.

Mayor Robert Daley stated that the budget is "anything but a step forward. Services for the upcoming year are not going to be better," he added. "The fact is that we will be hard pressed to maintain what services we are providing right now."

Chopped from the budget were all new equipment, funds for conferences and workshops, reserve police officers, and mileage expenses. The Parks and Recreation Department budget was cut from $29,000 in 1973-74 to just $5,800 in the upcoming year.

Major source of revenue for fiscal 1974-75 will be city taxes. The city expects to receive some $850,000 in taxes — more than half of the total amount of $1.53 million in anticipated revenue. Other major sources of revenue are licenses and permits ($172,500) and state shared revenue ($208,000).

The largest single area of expenditure is the police department which is to receive $631,700 of the overall $1.53 million budget. Of the $630,000 police budget, some $452,000 is slated for salaries and wages.

The building department will receive $213,000 of the overall budget, an increase of $5,000 over the $208,000 building department budget last year, but a decrease of $28,000 from the $241,000 originally budgeted for the department for 1974-75. Wages will consume $158,000 of the overall building department budget.

The budget also calls for $105,000 for the general administration of the city; $74,000 for the assessor's office; $72,000 for the fire department; $59,000 to the city manager's office; and $56,000 to the controller's office.

YEEOW! Just about anyone, in a similar situation, would be screaming in pain over a bracelet of stingers. Anybody that is but Ralph Allowaz, secretary of the Southeast Michigan Beekeepers Association, who was called to the home of Sandra Madineca on Maxwell Street Monday afternoon to remove a swarm of bees from a tree. "Nothing to it," said Allowaz, who first captured the queen bee and then gently stroked and coaxed her suitors into captivity. Either she later pitched 'em out on their stingers, or swarming—like streaking—is becoming popular these days...because the next day, several miles away up on Maplewood and over on Sunset more humdingers were spotted.

By Township Planners

Site Planning under Study

Site planning will be the topic of a study session of the Northville Township Planning Commission at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 10, in the township offices.

The study meeting was scheduled at the May meeting of the commission last Tuesday as George Vilcan, township planning consultant, told members that "rules for site plans are as critical for subdivision submissions as is the zoning ordinance."

At the study session the commission also planned to investigate fees for planned neighborhood developments. This was scheduled for action at the next monthly meeting, June 25.

Approval was given at last week's meeting for a revised preliminary plat, stage 1, of Mobilife Estates. The revised plat indicated changes in street alignments and road width to 60 feet, 30 feet with 15 foot easements included.

The approval was sought by the developer who, the commission was told, has had difficulty in receiving road approvals from the Wayne County Road Commission.

At the petitioner's request, application for a rezoning from residential-3 to business-2 was tabled for property of James and Carol Pasco of 42680 Waterford Road.

They had been seeking to build a "Farrell-type" ice cream parlor on a triangular piece of their property at Six Mile Road. They made the request to table the petition as the commission questioned whether they wished to change the application after a report was given by the planning consultant.

The report indicated the land would present traffic problems and that the commercial operation would be in conflict with the present adjacent residential use of the land. It was pointed out that cluster-type residential housing is permissible and recommended for this type property.

Action was tabled on the preliminary plat, stage 2, of the Smokler-Gordon subdivision for the southwest corner of Bradner Road and Franklin Road until road grades could be reworked as the township engineer indicated that some eight-percent road grades would be a problem in the future.

Engineer William Mosher, while stating that curving, steep roads would have "some potential for residents to complain," said that the area was "a very difficult piece of property to develop because of inferior topography" and expressed the hope that the problem can be worked out.

The developer was asked about his timetable for construction and was told that the firm had hoped to begin this summer but this was not now certain, or likely if there were delays.

At the suggestion of the commission a site plan for a used-antique shop at 16795 Northville Road, which is zoned business under the new ordinance, was withdrawn by Mrs. Margie Davis. The commission recommended that the request be taken to the board of appeals as the petitioner wished to have an apartment rental on the second floor, interpreted as a use change.

The commission also stated that the present building setback of 10 feet does not conform to the 25 stipulated in the ordinance.

Honor Retirees

By NANCY DINGELDEY

There is a magical word which has even more appeal as the days grow longer and the sun warmer. The word is savored almost as a fine wine, especially by those over 50 years old. The three syllable word that dreams are made of? — Retirement.

It has only been in the past year or so that people did not have to continue working until their 65th birthday. Sixty-two became a popular age to relax and do all the things that were always dreamed about.

But now, especially in the automobile industry, top men are being offered the chance to retire at even earlier ages with all the benefits that it used to take years to accrue.

More and more "younger" men are taking advantage of early retirements to enjoy their lives while their health and vigor are still at their heights.

Two such men in our community have chosen to leave the employment world. Ray Mustonen of Evona Street bid adieu to General Motors last month with a party and will be feted with yet another this weekend.

Parties also were held for Ollie Wahamaki when word of his retirement from American Motors was made known. Ollie and Jane traveled to Racine, Wisconsin, where Ollie was guest of honor at a golf outing and dinner given by AMC co-workers during his seven years there. Jane attended a luncheon in her honor given by old friends at the Montessori School where she was the administrator before moving back to Wixom.

Two more parties made Ollie's retirement even more complete. One by his co-workers at American Motors in Detroit, and the other was a luncheon given by the secretaries.

What does retirement hold for these two men? For Ray and his wife Eleanor they've already chalked up one week of golf in South Carolina with friends. Asked what he plans to do with his leisure time, Ray admits having so many projects that he'll be kept busy for a long, long time...in between golfing.

For the Wahamakis, they've sold their home on Bogie Drive and have purchased a condominium in San Diego, California, which, when described by Jane, sounds absolutely fantastic. Their departure from Wixom will come later in the summer, but planning the move will take up a great deal of time. Once settled in their new home they are no doubt their lives will be full and interesting.

Speaking of interesting, the Wixom Jaycee Auxiliary is bringing an art auction to town this coming Sunday evening. Beginning at 6 p.m. at the UAW Hall on Wixom Road, there will be a champagne preview of all the works to be auctioned off during the evening.

Programs will be given at the door explaining the whole procedure. The auction will begin precisely at 7 p.m. and run no later than 9:30.

Original works in oil, acrylics, watercolors as well as sculpture will be put on the block for bidding.

Marianne Craigie attended the Jaycee auction in Novi and had words of praise for the quality and selection available. "Besides being great fun and very interesting, people are able to bid on and purchase some really fine pieces of art," she reported.

Tickets are available from any Wixom Jaycette and at the door for $1 (tax deductible). There's no charge for the champagne, and with luck you may find a perfect something for that blank spot on the wall.

There are still some hearty flowers available from the Northridge annual flower sale which could find a home in your garden. Contact Bev Walters on Hopkins Drive for a clue to the selection.

Bev is still collecting recipes for the Friends of the Library Cookbook. Originally scheduled for sale in the fall, that deadline now seems questionable unless people really bombard Bev with favorite recipes.

The cookbook will become a reality at some point in time but the printing date may be delayed several months if more recipes are not turned in very soon.

Eight Brownies from Wixom Troop 505 participated in ceremonies at Walled Lake Junior High Monday evening. Flying-up and bridging ceremonies for all Brownies and Junior Scouts in the Walled Lake School District were conducted for close to 200 girls.

Crystal Bates, Kathy Beamish, Sandra Craigie, Carol Dingeldey, Lisa Doria, Jeanette Hardesty, Sandy Mackey and Debbie Olschefski received their wings and green sashes which signify their advance in ranking from Brownies to Junior Girl Scouts.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Next Monday night the Northville Board of Education is scheduled to pat a committee of students on its collective head and tell them their two-year-long efforts to solve the high school's most frustrating problem have carried them 360 degrees.

At this point it's difficult to determine whether the students are more aggravated by the problem or by their failure to gain meaningful action from the superintendent and the board.

The problem is smoking in the lavatories.

It may sound trivial to the average citizen. It did to me until the newspaper became the "last resort" for those who have tried and failed to initiate solutions.

But the filth and vandalism that accompany the cloud of smoke penetrating the confined areas of the high school johns present serious concerns for 90 percent of the students who wish to use the rooms for their intended purpose.

A poll of high school principals from throughout this area reveals that the "smoking-in-the-johns" problem is the number one administrative headache in high schools.

One administrator with years of experience admitted that "there is no good solution". Yet to a person each principal expressed relief that definite action had been taken in their schools to correct the problem.

Without exception the high schools surrounding Northville have effectively stopped smoking in the lavatories. As a result, cleanliness has been restored and vandalism halted.

Each of these surrounding high schools has adopted similar programs which specifically prohibit smoking inside school buildings. Each has individual variations:

1—The establishment of an undesignated and unofficial smoking area outside the building. Students who smoke in the area are undisturbed by school officials or police.

2—Designated smoking area outside the building where containers, benches, etc., are provided for all students.

3—A designated area outside the building for students who are legally old enough (18 years of age) to smoke, where admittedly no effort is made to check the age of smokers.

Because it is illegal for minors to smoke and therefore it is illegal to provide a place for minors to congregate to smoke, the above solutions must be technically regarded as unlawful.

It is probably true that school grounds are the only areas in our modern society where any effort is made to recognize this law. You can witness minors smoking in a police station.

But the Northville Board of Education has announced that it must reject the student committee's proposals for correcting the smoking-in-the-johns' problem because these solutions parallel those currently being employed in neighboring school districts and the Northville board "remains committed to upholding the law".

The facts of the matter are that the law is being broken daily inside Northville High School. Administrators admit they are helpless to effectively cope with the problem and they cite the "lookout" method and other schemes employed in the cat-and-mouse game.

There's a suspicion, too, that strict and consistent enforcement is lacking. This is not intended as a criticism of high school administrators. There are manpower problems. In addition, one cannot expect discipline to sift upwards.

In reviewing the long history of the efforts of the student committee to assist the school district in solving a problem that they, the students, experience daily I find that a highly competent and thorough study has been performed. Further, their solutions — which appear most practical under the circumstances — have been endorsed by two school-related adult organizations.

It is regrettable that the dedication and enthusiasm demonstrated by the students have been dampened first by delay and procrastination, then by correspondence from the superintendent that would seem to challenge rather than bolster the student efforts, and finally by board rejection.

Northville has progressed an inch where miles are required. While it may be true that neighboring school districts are winking at the law, the problem that is disturbing 90 percent of the students has been stopped. And while it may seem that these schools are condoning smoking on the one hand, they are in fact bringing it out into the open and conducting effective health-oriented programs to discourage smoking at all age levels.

The Northville Board of Education's puritanical pronouncement of concern for the law may sound noble, but it fails to impress these ears.

When the board finds it convenient for its own purposes to meet privately to discuss an appointment to fill a board vacancy, for example, and in fact makes a definite decision on the matter, its regard for the letter of the law is less evident.

I would hope that the board would apply the same set of moral standards to a situation which is inconvenient for the student body.

It has proven its ability to defend its other questionable actions and I'm sure it could do so in a matter of far greater importance to many more people.

Here's Our Choices for School Boards

As this newspaper views the races in the annual school elections in Northville and Novi, one salient but regrettable fact stands out: too few residents are candidates for the school boards. With two seats to be filled in each community, only three candidates are seeking office in Northville, three in Novi. And in Novi one of the candidates is unopposed.

Although people are easily persuaded to criticize actions of their elected officials, they apparently are not as eager to step to the public firing lines themselves in promoting the education of children.

It follows, therefore, that those who

YES...

The news of an energy crisis hit the driving public squarely where it hurt the most — in the gas tank — and immediately the thoughts that were uppermost in the public mind were the negative aspects of the curtailment of gasoline.

Perhaps it is now time to consider the more positive aspects of the situation confronting us. The most obvious and, as a police officer, the most gratifying is that of the dramatic drop in fatal accidents in the State of Michigan while the 55 mile per hour limit has been in force.

In 1972 there was an increase in the death rate of 3.9 percent fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles traveled in the state. In 1973 the increase in fatalities was 3.8 percent per 100 million miles traveled.

From March, 1973, through March, 1974, however, the death rate has decreased 32.4 percent per 100 million miles traveled.

In other words, there are a great many more people alive today in the State of Michigan as a direct result of the mandatory 55 mile per hour regulation. Perhaps as much as 40 percent of these accidents were reduced from fatal accidents to personal injury accidents, and that ought to give every responsible adult driver pause to consider the ramifications inherent in — SPEED.

Speaking for Myself

Make 55 MPH Permanent Limit?

NO...

Let's face it, the 55 mile per-hour speed limit is a joke. What percentage of Michigan drivers would you say is observing the new speed limit — 10 or 20 per cent? I'll bet even that estimate is high. At least, when I observe the limit and drive 55 on Michigan expressways, I find cars and trucks whizzing by me as though I were parked.

The 55 mile per-hour speed limit is not enforceable. Even state legislators who voted for it will tell you that. There simply aren't enough policemen or police cars to nab all the offenders.

And so what if you do get caught? Punishment is only a slap on the wrist. It doesn't add any points to your driving record.

Meanwhile, the few law-abiding citizens who do obey the new limit find themselves inconvenienced, while other folks go whizzing along on their merry way.

But you say we're saving valuable fuel by slowing down?

I say, forget it. Any small amount of gasoline being saved by those who drive slowly can't make up for the amount being wasted by truckers forced to drive below their most efficient speeds.

Let's quit fooling ourselves. Put the speed limit back where it belongs.

Says Novi's Mismanaged

To the Editor:

It is amusing to me as a former supervisor for the Township of Novi to hear that Novi is bankrupt and no one seems to know what happened and when. With a comptroller with two assistants, manager with one administrative assistant, treasurer with two or three assistants, the mayor and council and no one knew there was no money!

I was one of the group that thought we should become a city and we sold the people on this idea that 6 1/2 mills could run this city.

The real estate tax the first years brought in $314,815 with the big increase in the Assessment Rolls. The tax now is $988,203, besides increases in the revenues as Sales Tax and revenues from other sources.

You have revenue sharing of $70,000 per year which we never had before. All total there is four times the revenue we had five years ago. Now we are told the only way is to increase the millage.

Every department has tried to build an empire. This is proven by your building department hiring two people when they knew they were broke.

The assessors department has five people and I understand they want more. With five people this city was over assessed. I would estimate, by at least one million dollars. The Board of Review was so busy reducing assessments they could not look at property, which should be a part of their job. After reducing assessments for days they still ended up with a 1 point factor which is the goal of all taxing units. If you did not kick you are probably over assessed.

The 1974 assessment of the balance of township is $5,197,500. This is in court now and it is evident this will have to come into the city in the near future which would provide more income.

Perhaps with the way we have managed the city the best way to go would be back to the township. You would have the same service on 1 or 1 1/2 mills.

This is what a group in Walled Lake are trying to do, go back to Commerce Township. The City of Walled Lake is so far in debt Commerce Township won't even consider it.

This year the increase in the assessments will bring in at least $225,000 more money than we had last year. If the management can not run this government on these funds we need new management.

The State of Michigan has been trying in some way to get relief on real estate taxes. The City of Novi is going to show the taxpayer who is running the show and ask for more revenue.

Mr. Ackley as manager not only acted in this capacity but prepared the assessment rolls and did some electrical inspections for a lot less than you are paying the new manager who wants more assistants. The assessment roll then was not subject to the criticism the 1974 roll was.

There are 83 employees in Novi, while Northville, Walled Lake and Wixom have a combined total of 89 employees and all have the same problems. It is evident we are over-staffed.

People today have lost faith in all parts of government from the top to the bottom.

I am sure that when a city government doesn't know when it is out of money and now wants more money to play with it is not restoring any confidence in city government.

The power to tax is the power to destroy. Rome was not built in a day, but they did not have our city government.

'Killer Dog Goes Free'

To the Editor

On May 4, 1974 at 6 a.m. Frank Luerck was awakened by his dog barking in his backyard. When he went out to investigate he found a black dog just outside the fence, trying to dig underneath it, and a tan dog inside the fence eating his son's pet rabbit. When Frank yelled at the tan dog it turned and charged at him. Fortunately Frank was able to reach a shovel which he used to fend off the dog and to drive it from his yard.

Later that morning, at 7 a.m., Joel Colliau discovered his children's pet rabbit had also been killed. Both rabbit cages, constructed of heavy mesh wire, not chicken wire, were ripped open and the rabbits viciously killed and eaten.

Novi Community Service Officer responded to the neighbors call to the police. The officer was sympathetic, tried to find the dogs, and told Frank and Joel that if they saw the dogs again to call the police and keep the dogs in sight.

On May 16, 1974 The Novi News printed a letter from a Northville resident with a do take the time and exert the energies of running for what sometimes is a thankless job deserve our appreciation—win or lose.

Even though there are but few local candidates in Monday's elections, we find that picking favorites is not easy because there appears to be so little difference between them in qualification and dedication. Nevertheless, in balance we lean towards the following candidates:

In Northville—and not because we are engaged in some 'liberation' crusade—Incumbent Sylvia Gucken and Karen Wilkinson are our choices. Both women are well educated, articulate, persuasive, and, by their active participation in local school related activities, obviously interested in educational welfare of our children.

In Novi—even though he is unopposed, Ray Warren is our favorite. A practical man in business and on the board, he has served Novi extremely well. A more honest, civic-minded man could not be found.

Todd Price may not possess any better credentials for office than does his opponent, but, in our opinion, his brief tenure on the board, gives him the added advantage of experience.

strikingly similar story of two dogs, tan and black, attacking a pet rabbit. Obviously these two dogs were still on the loose.

On May 27, 1974 Joel Colliu spotted these same two dogs outside his fence. His wife called the Novi Police and then Frank Leureck. Joel followed the dogs on foot and Frank joined him on his motorcycle. The men kept the dogs in a field adjacent to the Village Oaks School, and then Joel ran back to his house to meet another Novi Community Service Officer. The chase had begun. With Joel on foot, Frank on the motorcycle, and the Community Service Officer in his car the black dog was caught and tied to a fence. The tan dog eluded both Joel and the officer, and only by "heroic effort" did Frank manage to keep the dog in sight.

Another neighbor on a motorcycle, Chuck Cain, picked up Joel and they began to look for Frank. Joel and Chuck were met by Novi Police Officer Ron Zimmer who had been called to the area, he was appraised of the situation by Joel and took off to find the Community Service Officer. Joel and Chuck then continued to look for Frank. They found him and the tan dog and the owners of both dogs at a house one-half mile South of Nine Mile on Haggerty Road. Chuck went back to get the police officers while Joel and Frank talked to the dogs owners.

Officer Zimmer then came up to the house, did he inquire about the dogs? Did he talk to the dogs owners? What did he do? He proceeded to blast Joel and Frank for being on private property (they were talking to the dogs owners), for riding a motorcycle without helmets (they did not stop to pick up helmets for fear of losing sight of the dogs), for breaking the law in order to enforce the law.

When Officer Zimmer was asked what he was going to do about the dogs he responded that he was out of his jurisdiction and drove away. The Community Service Officer did ticket the owner of the black dog when the owner drove Frank back to his house to see about the dog. (Joel had to walk the motorcycle back two miles for lack of a helmet.)

Thus ends the story, one dog owner ticketed, the vicious tan dog safely at home without any official notice to its owner, and two citizens who were concerned about the safety of the community being blasted by Officer Zimmer for being involved without taking the time to follow every fine letter of the law. This series of events raises several questions about Dog Law Enforcement in Novi and Citizen Involvement.

1. What are citizens to think when they do get involved and then, rather than being thanked, get blasted by the Novi Police?
2. Just what did happen to the owner of the tan dog that killed at least three rabbits and attacked Frank Leureck?
3. Were the Farmington Hills Police notified?
4. Just what kind of dog enforcement is available to the Community of Novi?
5. Is the Oakland County Dog Pound sufficient?
6. Do we have to wait until some child is maimed or killed by a vicious stray dog before Novi assumes its responsibility for dog law enforcement?

We feel the Community of Novi deserves answers to these questions!

Salutes An Old Friend

To the Editor:

I thank you for the fine tribute to my old friend and comrade, Charlie Schoultz; I was deeply moved. The dedication Charlie has shown is the spirit of the American people that has made our country what it is. This dedication Charlie carried into daily life.

It is true that disrespect for the flag and country has grown, or at least received greater publicity, but I think that the vast majority of our boys and girls have a deep seated love for their country and all it stands for. They join wholeheartedly in Memorial Day and other occasions of pride and devotion, and I am sure they honor Charlie Schoultz.

Sincerely
Alden Shaw

Police Praised

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks and appreciation to the Novi Police department. I think we are very lucky to live in a community where the police are so concerned not only for the safety of each citizen, but in particular their concern for the safety of our young people.

I feel very lucky indeed knowing my daughter will always have their protection. I particularly want to thank the two officers who were on duty Friday, May 24th, night shift. We will be eternally grateful for their concern and kindness to us.

Thankyou,
Mildred Kirtley

Adopt Budget

Capital outlay projects, such as parking, were not sufficiently funded by the public improvement fund, thus creating the paper deficit in the general operating fund, they explained.

More specifically, $75,000 of the transferred monies will cover parking construction expenses, while $15,000 is to cover additional track police expenses.

Council action in making the transfer "makes up" the paper shortage in the general fund and, in effect, gives the city a "zero balance" going into the new budget year that starts July 1.

And because of this "zero balance", which council called ideally sound, a cash pinch is likely to occur during the first month or two of the new fiscal year or until sufficient tax income is received to cover initial operating expenses. This fact accounts for the decision to borrow $100,000, it was explained.

If coupled with the 1974-75 general fund outlay, the total of all other fund allocations puts the city's grand total budget at $2,098,000.

Other fund totals include: major street fund, $61,000; local street fund, $49,800; equipment fund, $83,200; sewer and water fund, $219,800, and public improvement fund, $605,000.

Broken down, the general fund budget earmarks $186,850 for general government operation, $437,350 for public safety, $270,450 for public works, $3,950 for library and recreation; and $140,600 for other expenses such as contribution to the local streets, employee benefits, insurance and bonds and central supply.

Concerning the library allocation, council after hearing a report by Library Board Chairman Mrs. Marjorie Sliger boosted the outlay from $21,100 to $22,450.

The increase reflects increased state aid to Wayne County, which in turn credits a like amount to Northville. Instead of using the additional state aid to offset cost of running the library as invoiced by the county federated library system, Mrs. Sliger suggested the additional monies be added to the budget to help strengthen library services and materials.

In other matters pertaining to the new budget, it was explained that unexpended funds in a $50,000 allocation for senior citizen housing studies, appraisals and/or purchase of property is to be carried over into the new budget.

Based on the city's state equalized valuation of $43,319,490, the millage rate of 10.3 is expected to produce $446,190 in tax revenues during the 1974-75 year.

The new general fund budget is the first in the city's history to top the $1 million mark. Although the 10.3 millage rate is 2.2 mills higher than levied last year, it still falls short of the record 13 mill levy of 1968-69.

Under the city's charter, the council may legally levy up to the state designated maximum of 20 mills.

Treasure Chest Marks 'Square' Grand Opening

The 25 business establishments at Northville Square begin a 10-day grand opening celebration today highlighted by a $3,000 treasure chest of prizes and climaxed by a dance Saturday evening, June 15.

Although some of the stores in the new shopping center opened their doors as long ago as last November, the grand opening event marks the first mall-wide promotion.

The 90,000-square-foot, two-level enclosed shopping mall contains a variety of shops featuring men's and women's clothing and footwear as well as gift items, health foods, books, records, candies, wines and cheeses, a delicatessen, sporting goods, pinball games, smoking supplies, restaurants, and a number of special services including a beauty parlor, optometrist and travel agency.

A number of television and radio personalities are scheduled to appear at the mall during the grand opening celebration.

TV-2 newsman Jac LeGoff, who owns and operates the Book Mark with his wife, Peggy, will have as guests at his store on Saturday afternoon, June 15, Sportscaster Ray Lane and Jerry Hodak, the weatherman on the TV-2 news team WJR's Marc Avery will serve as master of ceremonies for the Saturday evening, June 15 "Treasure Chest" dance beginning at 8:30 inside the Square. Jimmy Clark and his orchestra will provide the music.

Elias Brothers "Big Boy" will put in appearances at the lower-level restaurant on Friday and Saturday during both weekends of the grand opening celebration.

And "Buster Brown" is scheduled to greet customers at Perko's shoe store this week on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Prizes in the $3,000 Treasure Chest promotion will be awarded at the Saturday night dance, June 15. Customers will be given keys when they shop in the participating stores that will entitle them to one of the prizes if the keys open the Treasure Chest.

The prizes include, a color television, stereo system, black and white TV sets, and gift certificates.

Located at Main and Wing streets in Northville's central business district, Northville Square is the product of efforts by the city council, numerous businessmen and the Northville Economic Development Corporation to bring a greater variety of business to the downtown area and help preserve and promote its identity.

Study Puts Price on Change

to me, is meaningless if the building is not structurally sound."

The feasibility study, approved by the three governmental bodies in March, is costing the city $6,800; school board, $6,700; and township $4,300.

Estimated costs of placing the various functions in buildings include:

Library — move to board offices, $200,000; Cooke Middle School Annex, $233,000; build new, $464,000. Senior Citizen Housing — Main Street Elementary conversion, $822,000; build new, $994,000.

Board Offices — remodel existing offices, $253,000; move to Annex, $265,000; build new, $950,000.

Recreation Department — move to board offices, $22,000; build new, $520,000. To replace Main Street Elementary School would carry a price tag of about $1.5 million, Spear said.

None of the "build new" figures include cost of land, fees and so forth.

Although he said he favors keeping schools within walking distance of homes, he added that "next year, after the two new schools open, Main Street will have an enrollment of about 300 students." He also expressed concern about the lack of playground facilities for children attending the school.

Discussed in the feasibility study and reviewed by the architect were using the present board office building for a library, expanding board offices or moving out the board and converting the building to a recreation center.

Use of the Annex included converting the second floor to library or moving the board into the second floor with the basement and first floor available for senior citizens drop-in center, community recreation center, classrooms and meeting rooms.

Main Street Elementary study included converting the school to senior citizen housing or to the board offices.

Next step of the feasibility study will include a meeting within the next two weeks between the architect, Spear, Walters, Wright and representatives of city council, school board, township board, library commission, senior citizens and recreation department.

At that meeting, alternatives will be discussed and the report finalized and sent to the three governmental agencies for action.

The feasibility study was initiated during a meeting between the superintendent, city manager and supervisor with the library planning board. While discussing the library's interest in the present board office building for library quarters, other uses were brought up and the three representatives of governmental units agreed to study future uses of all three buildings.

Spear explained that the study was made by the architect presently hired by the school district to handle construction of the three new buildings to save time and to expedite the study.

He added that the school board "was going to have the architect look at this building (board offices) for us and in conjunction with the other proposed uses."

Open Town Hall Bids

Painting bids will be opened today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. for painting the interior of Northville township's leased office building at Wayne County Child Development Center.

According to Supervisor Lawrence Wright, work on remodeling the offices is progressing and "we hope to be in the first part of July. We'll move in the office furniture and put in modular room dividers later."

He added that he also is interviewing electrical contractors now.

A communications tower has also been purchased for the township police department at a cost of $200. It will cost another $1,150 to $1,200 for installation of a concrete base for the tower, to dismantle it at its present site, move it to the township site and reassemble it. "We think we got a bargain," Wright said, adding that new towers cost at least twice as much as the total figure.

As part of the feasibility study conducted by school board architects, township facilities at the center were surveyed. Estimated cost of remodeling exceeded $69,000, and Wright said that the figure "is too far out of line for our pocketbook. I feel we can do it for less."

Total square footage of the building at the center is 9,250. The basement of the facility will be used for storage and meeting room with the first floor used for offices of the supervisor, treasurer, clerk, clerical and water and sewer department.

The upper level will house the police department and building department.

3 in Novi Race

(Thursday) under sponsorship of the League of Women Voters. See story elsewhere on this page.

Of the three, Warren is by far the best known. He has been a member of the board of education for nearly six years. He currently serves as its secretary.

In addition to his tenure on the school board, Warren has been active in other Novi capacities—including having served as president of the chamber of commerce, as secretary of the Novi Board of Appeals, and as an officer in the First Baptist Church of Novi.

Price, the other incumbent whose name will appear on the Monday ballot, was appointed to the board last October, by a split 4-3 vote, to replace William Moak who had resigned. Price had been considered by the board along with Joel Colliau to fill the post. Colliau was an unsuccessful candidate in last June's election.

Trustee Price is a former president of the Novi Jaycees, a homeowners association director, and he has been active in other school-related organizations.

Monday's race is the first bid for election by Helmer, a former educator who several years ago switched to an industrial management position. He, too, has been active in school-related organizations—part of which occurred in New Jersey.

As a young man Helmer was the vice president of the State FFA (Future Farmers), and even before completing college was a young owner of an agriculturally oriented business.

Both Helmer and Price are college graduates; Warren is self-educated.

Helmer and Price are residents in the southeastern section of the school district, while Warren lives in the northeast section of the district.

A "Meet the Candidates Night" will be held by the Wixom Homeowners Association on Monday, June 10, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the clubhouse of the Leisure Coop Apartments on Grand River Avenue in Wixom. Refreshments will be served following the meeting, Johns stated.

Michigan's A Goldmine of Feathers

Boasts 350 Bird Species

By DOROTHY SHIPLEY

If you're an average sometimes bird watcher, Michigan's a goldmine of colorful feathers.

That's because the Robin State boasts at least 350 species of birds. What's more, 150 of these species are sighted annually at neighboring Kensington Park, says Park Naturalist Robert Hotaling.

But, on the other hand, if you're an expert watcher chances are the state's goldmine already has been 'worked out.' That's because, according to Hotaling, Michigan's "only about average" in the number of species it boasts.

Florida and Texas, he emphasizes, are "really excellent bird watching areas because of the variety of species" they possess.

The record number of species sighted at Kensington in a single year, recalls the naturalist, is 209.

For those homeowners who are interested in attracting the state's birds to their backyards, "there are certain things birds need and providing for them can encourage birds to stay around your property," offers Hotaling.

A source of food with a close, available source of water are big priorities, according to the wildlife expert.

"Cover," adds Hotaling, "is also very important to attracting birds. If you have thick trees and shrubs around the home it's an added inducement for them since they can nest and hide."

Hotaling warns against using chemicals and pesticides in the yard as they can decrease the chances of birds locating in a certain area.

"The numbers of species of birds have, in the past, been affected by the use of pesticide sprays," says Hotaling. "Some species are starting now to return in greater numbers because chemical sprays are more controlled."

Because of the limited facilities most homeowners can offer birds, the varieties which frequent their property will most likely be land birds. It is only the rural dweller with a pond or lake on his land who will attract the aquatic birds such as the blue heron or the mallard duck.

However, city dwellers need not despair and resign themselves to land birds only.

According to Hotaling there are many nearby areas which are virtually bird watchers' paradises.

"Kensington Park and the nature center are very good places if you want to see a real variety of wildlife," says Hotaling. "Point Pele in Ontario is really an excellent place—and it's only about 50 miles from Detroit."

Bird watching, in general, has become more popular throughout the state, said Hotaling. Surprisingly enough most of the newest group of bird watchers are not oldsters.

"Bird watching is really picking up," he says. "Most of the people aren't retirees either. More and more young people are becoming interested."

As a hobby bird watching isn't bad, agreed the Kensington Park employee. After all, it's free, it's fun and it's easy. What more can you ask?

Strawberries!

Tips for Growers from Down on A Little Farm

By DONALD MEADOWS

Imagine, if you will, the taste of a strawberry shortcake. On the bottom a fine light cake, piled high and over-flowing with deep red, juicy, plump strawberries whose sweetness blends with a fluff of whipped cream on top to titillate even the fussiest eater.

Imagine now, being able to go out into your own yard and pick your own strawberries, fresh and waiting to top a shortcake, to be baked in a pie, turned into preserves or frozen for later enjoyment.

Although the hardy strawberry is usually planted in the spring, the home gardener can begin cultivating an area now for planting next year, or even plant this fall.

"We plant in April," said Larry Meyer, engineer and part-time Northville farmer. He helps operate Meyer's Berry Farm, on Eight Mile just west of Beck, along with his father, brother and other family members.

"The strawberry blossoms are formed in August, so a gardener could plant in the fall, but probably wouldn't gain much," he said. "The only advantage would be that the plants might be better established after going through the winter," Meyer postulated.

This is the third year the Meyers have grown strawberries on their "pick-your-own" farm. "I'm not an expert on strawberries yet, but we're learning," he said.

Part of what Meyer has learned so far has come through trial and error. He also has talked with agricultural experts and obtained pamphlets on growing the plants, including "Extension Bulletin 521—Strawberries in Home Gardens."

The homeowner can get this and other publications from the MSU Bulletin Office, P.O. Box 231, East Lansing, Michigan 48823, or from the county extension offices.

Meyer's first attempt at growing strawberries was almost a success. They turned under a field of grass and all went well after the planting until the grass started growing back through. They still have a fine bunch of strawberry plants in that plot, if you can find them under the grass.

The MSU pamphlet recommends waiting at least a year after sod has been turned under before planting strawberries in such a section. The soil should also be kept cultivated until planting.

"The state recommends that commercial farmers fumigate the soil against nematodes before planting," Meyer said. Freshly worked sod ground may also contain white grubs and root weevils according to the bulletin.

Verticillium wilt, a fungus disease is a further hazard to strawberries planted in areas where tomatoes, peppers, eggplants or potatoes have been grown within the past three years, it states.

Dark sandy loam which is slightly acid is probably the best type of soil to grow strawberries in. The area should have a slight slope, drain well, be exposed to direct sunlight and be well nourished.

"Commercial farmers have to use chemicals, but a homeowner could probably get by with organic gardening," Meyer speculated. Clover turned under makes a good field for planting or material from a compost heap can be added as fertilizer.

"I'd say not to fertilize in the year of picking or else the plants won't set good berries," Meyer recommended. The home gardener should also avoid over fertilizing the plot. "Do not add more than 10 pounds of the organic residues per square yard of the soil surface," advises the bulletin.

Where the strawberries are to be planted depends on the gardener. They can be planted in a garden patch, along the edge of a flower bed, in window boxes, flower pots, pyramid beds or big wooden barrels.

Once the choice of location has been made, the gardener must decide on the variety of strawberry to be planted.

"We grow Robinson, Sparkle, Midway, Vesper and Red Rich here," Meyer said. Robinson is a popular variety in Michigan, he said and it is supposed to be one of the easiest to grow. Midway is the standard commercial variety grown in Michigan, he further stated.

"I think June bearing plants are the best," Meyer said. June bearing plants produce only one crop a year as opposed to everbearing varieties, such as Red Rich, which produce a second crop in late summer. However the fruit of the everbearing plants may be of lesser quality than the June-bearers and the plants may require more work, according to the MSU pamphlet.

Usually, baby strawberry plants are obtained from a nursery or a friendly neighbor and transplanted, though they can also be grown from seed.

Care must be taken to plant the strawberries at the proper depth. The plants should be set at crown level, so that the soil covers the roots but not

'Little Red Bus' Is Doing Well

LANSING—"The first and most successful statewide, state-supported, door-to-door minibus system in the United States." This is the way Governor Milliken describes Michigan's Dial-A-Ride Transportation (DART) system.

"The little red bus with the big heart" is the way one senior citizen DART user calls the system after getting some particularly helpful attention from a minibus driver.

Whatever it's called, the system seems to be doing well.

MILLIKEN RECENTLY announced that at least 14 more Michigan communities can expect to receive DART systems within the next year.

They're already in operation in Mount Pleasant, Holland, Sault Ste. Marie and Ludington; and the schedule calls for systems to get underway soon in Traverse City, Midland, Houghton, Alpena and the Benton Harbor area.

Once the Highways Commission gives its approval, other areas will have DART systems. These include: Isabella County, Eaton Rapids, Cadillac, Niles, Grand Haven, Adrian, Owosso-Corunna, Big Rapids, Alma-St. Louis, Menominee, Marshall, Manistee County, Hillsdale County and Gogebic-Ontonagon County.

"DART EVENTUALLY will serve more than 300,000 residents in more than 20 cities, ranging from 9,000 to 35,000 population, and three rural counties," Milliken says.

"In just three months of trial, DART has gathered enthusiastic support from hundreds of passengers who use it daily. Some, particularly the elderly, had no alternative transportation," the governor notes. "Others found DART a welcome alternative in the face of gasoline shortages and high gas prices."

Milliken contends that skeptics who think public transit cannot provide service as convenient as the automobile will be surprised by the success of the DART vans.

CONSUMERS COULD BE the losers under a proposed U.S. Department of Agriculture regulation dealing with new weight labeling of meat and poultry products. So says Michigan's Department of Agriculture—in no uncertain terms.

"The proposals clearly authorize sale of short weight packages of meat and poultry and entire lots of such packages under certain conditions," contends B. Dale Ball, head of the Michigan department. And, he adds, "it is further evident the states would be prevented from continuing the use of state laws to embargo short weight packages."

THE PROPOSED REGULATION would allow packers and manufacturers to average weights of a select number of samples in a particular lot of product. If the average of the samples met the required weight, then all individual packages in the lot would be considered of correct weight, even though each one might not actually meet the stated package weight.

"An analysis of the proposal indicates the consumer will be the loser in many transactions," Ball says, "while the processor or manufacturer will receive the benefit, of vague, and not so vague, sections of the regulation."

A panel discussion on the proposed regulation highlighted the 60th annual conference of the Michigan Association of Weights and Measures officials this month at Bay City.

MICHIGAN'S BICENTENNIAL license plates, which go on sale in the fall of 1975, will be—what else?—red, white and blue. And they'll be adorned with four stars, one each representing the French, British, Spanish and U.S. flags.

Secretary of State Richard Austin says the four will be noted because each has at one time waved over what is now Michigan.

"THIS UNIQUE LICENSE plate is intended to contribute to Michigan's celebration of a festive occasion and to remind people here and elsewhere of our country's and our state's rich and free heritage," he says.

"As the nation's transportation state, it's particularly appropriate that we use a motor vehicle license plate to help dramatize our role in the bicentennial celebration."

BUSINESS BRIEFS

SCHARMANN MACHINE Corporation, Novi, will be an exhibitor in the 1974 International Machine Tool Show, the biggest industrial trade exposition assembled this year in the U.S.

The show, which has the theme "A World of Productive Ideas," will feature machine tools and related products from 28 countries. The event, scheduled from September 4 through 13, will be so big that the nation's two largest exhibit halls—McCormick Place and the International Amphitheatre in Chicago—will be required to house all the exhibits. An attendance of 70,000 is expected, including 10,000 visitors from overseas.

More than 700 exhibitors will use more than a half-million square feet of space to showcase their products as compared to 607 firms using 450,000 square feet in the 1972 exposition.

Here's Strawberry Tips

the leaf stems. Plants are usually placed about a foot apart and the soil should be packed firmly about the roots.

"The strawberry blossoms should be picked off the first year," Meyer advised. This promotes the vegetative growth of the plant.

"The homeowner could probably let the first blossom go," he thought. This would allow a harvest during the year, though reducing the growth of the plant and subsequent berry production.

The first year blossom is the biggest, yielding the "king berry" according to Meyer. The June-bearing plants will produce only about two-thirds as many berries the second year and one-third as many the year after that, according to the bulletin. They are also likely to be smaller than the first year "king berry."

"The strawberry plant is very hardy," Meyer stated, "but the blossom is tender." During spring the blossoms may easily be damaged by frost. "If a blossom has been hit by frost, it will be black inside when it opens," he said, "and a berry will not be produced."

One method used by commercial farmers to protect their plants is to spray them with water all during the night when there is a frost warning. The sprinklers are turned on when the ground temperature drops to 32 degrees F. and is kept on until the ice formed disappears in the morning.

"I don't believe in astrology or stuff like that," Meyer confided, "but you can almost predict that there will be a frost on the full moon of each month in spring."

For the home gardener, a mulch of loose organic material, such as straw or dead leaves, or some other form of covering can be put over the strawberry plants to help protect them from frost damage. The covering should then be removed in the morning.

Blossoms that make it safely through the spring will bear a mature berry ready for picking about a month after the blossom has opened, says the bulletin. Meyer expects his crop to be ready from about the middle of June until the fourth of July.

Strawberries do not all ripen at the same time. The MSU pamphlet suggests that only the red berries be picked, leaving the white ones to ripen further.

The berries should generally be picked every other day, early in the morning. All the ripe fruit should be picked each time. Diseased or damaged fruit should also be removed. Each plant should yield about a quart of berries during a season.

When the growing season ends, Meyer usually mows down the June-bearing plants and tills the soil around the remaining roots and stalks. This "renewing" should only be done with healthy plants. It concentrates the plants' energies on the production of new growth, and next year's fruit rather than on feeding runners.

As winter approaches, the strawberry plants should once again be mulched, usually some time in November. The protective mulch should be left covering the plants until spring.

Leaving mulch on late into the spring will provide some frost protection and will produce late fruiting, according to the bulletin. Removing mulch early will cause early fruiting, it states, though increasing the risk of frost damage.

After the strawberry season has past, the raspberries will be ready for picking on the Meyer farm. Sweet corn will follow that, then tomatoes and finally pumpkins.

The farm will open at 8 in the morning, excluding Sundays, as soon as they ripen, for people wishing to pick berries.

Summer Starts June 21

The summer this year—officially begins at 2:38 p.m. June 21.

This is the date of summer solstice—when the sun reaches its most northerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth.

University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh also points out that on the 21st there will be 15 hours of daylight, more than any other day of the year.

But, she says, it probably won't be our hottest day "because the earth will continue to receive more solar heat than it gives off at night until about August 1."

Rising in the northeast during summer is the constellation Cygnus, the Swan, Professor Losh notes. Also referred to as the Northern Cross, Cygnus appears to be flying south along the Milky Way.

"The brightest star in Cygnus is the bluish-white Deneb in the swan's tail," Professor Losh says. "It also marks the head of the cross."

At the head of the swan, or the foot of the cross, is Albireo, Professor Losh observes. One of the most beautiful double stars—one blue, the other gold—Albireo is visible through a small telescope.

Rising shortly after Deneb in Cygnus and positioned near the east point of the horizon is the star Altair.

"Altair lies at the apex of the famous Summer Triangle, which is so important in navigation," Professor Losh says, adding that Vega and Deneb mark the other two corners.

Rising in the southeast in the zodiac at about the same time as Cygnus is Scorpius, with the bright star Antares at its center, the U-M astronomer notes. Scorpius resembles a giant fishhook.

"Antares" means "rival of Mars" and was so named because of its red color," Professor Losh explains.

"However, except in color and brightness, Antares has nothing in common with Mars. Antares, a sun, is so large that the planet Mars and its whole orbit around our sun could be placed in it with plenty of room to spare."

Antares' diameter is believed to be 640 times that of our Sun. At the present, Mars and Antares are not located in the same region of the sky. As Antares, the brighter of the two, is rising, Mars is moving toward its setting in the northwest.

Also visible for a few minutes after sunset in the northwest at the beginning of the month is Saturn, but it is sinking steadily and will have disappeared behind the sun by the 30th. Venus is still bright in the east at dawn, and Jupiter will be rising about 2:30 a.m. in the east.

Hospital Survey Reflects New Roles for Chaplains

An evaluation testing procedure, developed and administered state-wide by two Northville chaplains, has gained attention throughout the United States and Canada.

And today that procedure, called the Client Satisfaction Scale (CSS), is used in all Michigan and Indiana mental health hospitals.

What's more, the CSS constitutes the only mental health program in the United States in which two states (Michigan and Indiana) are cooperating.

But perhaps as significant as the CSS itself is the fact that the chaplain is put in a position off-limits to the chaplain a few years ago. The chaplain, explains Father Stanley Kukulski, author of the CSS, does not distinguish between spiritual and physical needs of the patients. These needs must, by necessity, be considered on an integrated basis, say the Catholic chaplain and his Protestant counterpart at Northville State Hospital, the Reverend George Jerome.

They refer to observations in 1971 of Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, just retired state mental health director, who challenged chaplains to become the "conscience" of the mental health system.

In a nutshell, Dr. Yudashkin took the position that the chaplain should be the voice of the patient in seeing to it that the patient's needs—both physical and spiritual—are provided. Furthermore, the former director concluded that the chaplain ought to relate to the religious needs of the staff as well as the patients.

The role of the chaplain, therefore, was broadened so that he became an "adviser" to the hospital superintendent.

"It is up to the chaplain to raise appropriate questions with the superintendent so that he will look at areas which are not in the forefront of his problems," Dr. Yudashkin told chaplains.

"Many times, because it is easier and simpler in routine, a patient comes in the door and we immediately assault him with innumerable personal questions that violate his privacy and we do it in the name of supposedly helping him and then we not infrequently, and additionally also asked his body. We strip him naked and poke our fingers into every available orifice. We fingerprint him, humiliate him in any one of a numerous number of ways and I do not know that all this is so moral. It can be justified medically, I suppose. There is, however, no need to so totally humiliate, depersonalize and dehumanize the individual.

"So I raise a question with you. Is your job to relate to the religious needs of the patient only, or are the religious shortcomings of the staff also your concern?"

"One can suppose that if one is truly religious in the broadest sense that one does not allow himself to be inhumane to other men. And there is a great deal remaining to be done in our institutions with regard to people being more humane to each other."

It was in this atmosphere, therefore, that the local chaplains were directed to develop an objective method of communicating needs of the patients to Northville State Hospital Superintendent Dr. Richard Budd.

Looking for professional guidance, Father Kukulski soon learned, however, that none was available. He wrote to mental health departments throughout the United States and discovered that none had an effective, reliable tool by which to gauge patient grading of their own care and facilities.

Immediately, a study was launched and by the conclusion of 1971 a questionnaire (PSS) had been developed by the local chaplaincy.

Today it consists of a series of short, non-technical statements or questions answered by a simple "yes"

Decision Making Conference Task

All United Methodist ministers in the area are attending the 133rd consecutive yearly session of the Detroit Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church this week.

Lay delegates and clergy representing United Methodist Churches in the Eastern half of the Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula will spend the four days at Adrian College reviewing the work of the Church and laying plans for 1975.

Two matters expected to be of special interest at the conference are the proposed revamping of the organizational structure of the conference and the funding of the Pension Endowment Fund.

If the restructure plan is adopted, all (except those exempted by the law of the Church) committees and boards of the conference will have equal numbers of men, women and clergy in their membership.

This is supposedly an attempt to make program boards and agencies more responsive to the needs and wishes of the local churches.

It would also place greater responsibility on the laity for the operation of the church.

Other resolutions expected to be introduced at the conference include statements on: The Bishop's call for peace; the United Farm Workers; the Energy Crisis; obscenity; impeachment; busing and Christian education; and the current situation in Vietnam.

The conference opened Wednesday afternoon for an organizational session and will run until Saturday. Bishop Dwight E. Loder of Detroit, spiritual and administrative leader of Michigan's quarter of a million United Methodists will preside over the general sessions of the conference.

The inspirational speaker for the worship services of the conference will be the Reverend Dr. Jameson Jones, president of Iliff School of Theology, Denver, Colorado.

It's Festival Time Again

It's that time of year again. For one of the largest church sponsored festivals in Livingston County.

St. John's Catholic Church at M-59 and Hacker Road, near Hartland will hold its 8th annual Festival and Steak Fry on Saturday and Sunday June 29 and 30.

Prizes to be given away this year include: First prize, 1974 Ford Maverick; Second prize, 12 foot sailboat; Third prize, portable color television; Fourth prize, his and hers, three-speed English bicycles.

Every parishioner has tickets on these prizes. Festivities will start off Saturday afternoon with a family-style spaghetti dinner in the afternoon. Sunday will feature games, music and the steak dinner. In addition, there will be a country store booth featuring hand-made items by the women of the parish.

Flea Market Slated in Novi

A flea market and bake sale are planned for June 7 and 8 at Novi United Methodist Church, 41671 West 10 Mile near Meadowbrook Road.

The two-day event is the first of several fund-raising projects planned to meet conference apportionments, according to Mrs. Leon Blackburn.

The market will have furniture, appliances, kitchen ware, garden equipment, tools, books, jewelry and children's clothing. The sale will be from 1 to 9 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. Anyone wishing to donate may call Mrs. Blackburn, 474-8504, or Howard Stine, 349-3755.

A Creation Story

Editor's note: This unique story was contributed by Mr. Doug Tackett, pastor of the Brighton Church of Christ. Mr. Tackett found it in one of the church bulletins that came his way and asked if he could share it with area readers.

In the beginning there was Man — thinking, laughing, smoking, stronger than dirt. He decided it was he who created the heaven and earth and the hosts therein.

And Man said, "Let there be light," and it was so. Neon lights, fluorescent light, flashlight, spotlight, laser light, mercury vapor light, General Electric, Sylvania and Westinghouse, all blinking on and off at the will of man.

And Man saw the abundant light and said to the host assembled in awe, "Live Better Electrically." And Man called the light "Commonwealth Edison." And he called the dark, "Power Outage."

The Man said, "Let the earth bring forth green things." And it was so. For Man tilled the ground and seeded the clouds and Man beheld the great bumper crops which he had made, and said, "Yo-ho-ho, I am the Jolly Green Giant." And it was good.

And Man split the atom, assembled computers and conquered the heavens. And Man called the heavens "Space" and the earth he called "Ground Control."

But Man gazed into his space saying, "Let there be voices to sing my praises." And Man heard the voices which he had made, and nodded, "A-OK." And it was so, for there came Telstar, Early Bird and Lunar Orbiter.

Then Man said, "Let us make God in our own image and after our likeness and let him have dominion over an hour on Sundays." And it was so. God was white, of course, quite like a doting father, and definitely on our side.

And Man congratulated himself for his success and his wisdom in all things. In fact, he drank a toast from his thermos, put God on a shelf, returned to his own ways, and blew himself up.

And in the end there was God and His sigh was too deep for words.

1-4 In Memoriam

IN Loving Memory of William Wilson who died at age 75, 1974. 1945 Treasured thoughts of one so dear, often bring a silent tear. Thoughts return to scenes long past, time rolls on but memory lasts. Sadly missed by his wife and family.
Catherine Wilson

John Edward Siegel
In loving memory of our dear son who lost his life on July 15, 1974. You did no one a last farewell, Not even said goodbye. You were gone before we knew it and only God knows why. God gave us strength and courage, to bear the parting blow, But what it meant to give you up, No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by his family, Mom, Dad, Brothers and Sisters.

WE KNOW WHAT A PAPA GOLDFISH IS WORTH.

What happens when somebody says, "We put in that little pond by the apple tree 6 years ago. And the papa goldfish is 8 inches long now?" That ought to be worth something. We think it is. And so we take the pond and the afternoon sun and spring blossoms into consideration. If they're worth something to the owners, they'll be worth something to the people we'll find to live in their home. And everyone will be pleased.

BOTH SIDES OF INFLATION

Owners of real estate invariably profit more than other investors during periods of inflation. But to be fair, it should be noted that inflation is a two headed animal. What inflation gives, it also takes. Granted, rising costs tend to push the value of a home upwards. But the expense of owning and living go up at the same time. Routine repair and maintenance costs are now climbing 5 to 10 percent a year. Property taxes are edging up just as ominously. Insurance premiums increase also with the value of the house.

These expenses, however, are offset considerably by the deductions you're allowed for interest and property taxes on your income tax. Then too, you'll be paying off your home mortgage with cheaper dollars, assuming some inflation continues.

SPECIAL HAIR styling was presented at a recent Americoif of Detroit workshop seminar by Nick Layow, owner of the Fashion Cellar, 102 West Main Street in Northville.

The style designed by Layow was especially tailored for "a day on the courts." Modeling for the Northville hairdresser in a press showing was Northville's Junior Miss, Kathy Radzibon.

"Because today's woman wants easy care hair for her active life style," explained Layow, "Kathy's style could easily carry her through an evening out as well as time spent on the tennis court."

Americoif of Detroit is made up of a small group of talented hairdressers known throughout North America and Europe. Through its workshops and hair fashion shows, Americoif offers salons such as the Fashion Cellar, the latest and finest styles and hair cutting available.

ANTHONY V. RIZZO REAL ESTATE, a new company located at 311 East Main Street in Northville, reported that the first three months of business far exceeded their most optimistic projections. In February, March, and April of this year, the company, which began with two employees and now has seven, had combined listings and sales totaling more than $3,300,000.

The primary reason for this spectacular success is the blend of sales personnel employed at the company, Rizzo said. "Each person had to maintain two qualities before being offered a position on the sales staff. Foremost was an ability to get along with co-workers so that inter-office morale would remain high. Secondly, each employee had to work full time so customers would be attended to properly."

Besides the broker, six persons are employed, three of whom had extensive real estate experience prior to joining Rizzo Real Estate.

Presently, Rizzo Real Estate is negotiating for space for a branch office which will be opened sometime in late June or early July of this year. Plans call for five full time sales persons to be hired to staff the new office. These employees will bring to twelve the number of sales personnel employed by the company.

THREE THOUSAND TULIPS at a cost of well over six hundred dollars are beginning to show their colors around the entranceway to the Novi condominium community of Stonehenge. Bright shades of red and yellow densely populate the entrance island, making the area a scene of natural beauty.

Imported from Holland, the bulbs were planted late last fall by Sherwood Forest, a landscape designer contracted by MultiPlex Home Corporation for most of its major outdoor work.

Stonehenge is a community of colonial four-plexes set in a naturally wooded parcel off Haggerty just south of Ten Mile Road. Included in the amenity package are a swimming pool with clubhouse and a small, romantic pond.

Models are open Sunday through Wednesday from 1-8, Friday and Saturday from 12-6 and are closed on Thursday.

TALMAY Insurance Agency serving the Novi area has been recognized as a "1974 Select Circle Agency" by the Central Mutual Insurance Company of Van Wert, Ohio.

The recognition for outstanding performance and service was announced at a dinner meeting on May 18 at the Cerromar Beach Hotel in Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico.

The meeting was attended by honored agents serviced by Central Mutual's central division branch office.

The Talmay Agency has been associated with Central Mutual since 1965 and provides insurance service to more than 3,000 policyholders.

Out of the Horse's

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of The South Lyon Herald, South Lyon MI 48178.

TEST MANDATORY

Anyone planning to ship a horse to another state should inquire in advance about state laws that may require testing for EIA—also known as equine infectious anemia or swamp fever—a United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) veterinarian says.

Seven states—Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, New Jersey, New York, Vermont and Washington—now require negative tests for all horse stock entering their borders. Many more states are moving in the direction of control programs to stop the spread of this incurable disease of horses, ponies and burros.

In Florida, New York and Kentucky animals must be negative to the Coggins test before moving to certain places like shows, sales, race tracks, rodeos and trail rides. Animals infected must be branded or lip tattooed and permanently isolated under quarantine from other horses.

Seventeen other states place a quarantine on animals positive to the Coggins test. These include Alaska, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Georgia, Kansas, Maryland, Montana, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Washington.

RENTING ETIQUETTE

Not everyone who enjoys riding has the money, or time, to own a horse of his own. Here are some guidelines for the riders who rent a horse:

1. Call first, if possible, and then be on time.

2. Be honest when you are asked how much riding you have done. It's very risky to ride a horse that is too much for you to handle.

3. Unless your horse is really bad, don't ask for another one. Chances are that all the horses have some kind of bad habit.

4. If you have real trouble, ask questions or take a few riding lessons before going out on your own.

5. If the stable requires a guide to go along, don't go off by yourself.

6. Always ask the guide or other riders before increasing the speed. Horses usually like to all go the same speed and you may cause an accident.

7. Use your head when cantering and always do it on a nice open stretch, not in thick woods.

8. Watch for holes if riding in a field.

9. Once you are back, wait for someone to take your horse before you leave.

10. Don't forget that you are generally riding at your own risk. Ninety percent of the time it's the rider's fault when a fall does occur.

Remember that horses aren't machines and that they each have personalities. These tips can provide good times. Treat the horse well and chances are they'll do the same for you.

EMU Honors Senator Pursell

State Senator Carl Pursell (14th District) has received the 1974 Alumni Honor Award from Eastern Michigan University.

Pursell was one of three graduates of EMU honored this year for their contributions to higher education and personal accomplishments.

EMU President Harold E. Sponberg said of the Pursell award, "Eastern Michigan University in its 125 year history has had many graduates who have gone on to distinguish themselves and the university. Senator Pursell stands among these great people with his many fine contributions to the field of education, and his dedicated public service. Eastern Michigan honored itself by honoring Senator Carl Pursell."

Survey for Patients Reflects New Roles

or "no" reply. The hospital form has 24 questions. The number is increased to 28 in surveying community based facilities.

In 1972 the Michigan Department of Mental Health initiated the use of the PSS in all its hospitals.

Later that same year, using Michigan's project as a model, Indiana also adopted the CSS for use in its state mental health facilities.

According to Robert DeVoe, chief of Michigan's mental health program analysis staff, "apparently, Michigan has gone further than any other state in the nation in implementing a systematic evaluation of patients' attitudes."

The PSS has been administered twice annually in Michigan since its adoption.

Monitoring of the test is the responsibility of the chaplains of each of the state hospitals, and the Northville chaplains, in addition to conducting the test locally, are responsible for coordinating the survey at the state level.

The most recent survey of client satisfaction was conducted in February. Evaluations of hospital and community services were completed by 707 clients in 104 community living facilities and/or family foster care homes, in addition to 2,930 patients in state hospitals.

Final product of the survey is a satisfaction score which indicates the average degree of satisfaction on a scale of 0 to 100.

State-wide scores in the latest survey indicate that, on the average, patients in community homes are satisfied with 87-percent of the services they receive, while 68-percent of the patients in state hospitals are satisfied with the services they receive.

Generally speaking, the survey indicates that "the staff is preoccupied with physical facilities, such as drapes, toilets, etc. whereas the patients appear more satisfied with the physical facilities and not as satisfied with the treatment received," according to Father Kukulski and Mr. Jerome.

The single greatest discrepancy between staff and patient attitudes concerns fear of other patients.

Sixty-eight percent of the staff say they believe their patients are "very afraid" of some patients. Only 41 percent of patients, however, made this statement—a difference of 27 percent.

The survey also indicates that, in general, children and particularly adolescents are the most severe critics of hospital programs. For instance, Hawthorn Center, a facility serving children in Northville Township, has a satisfaction score of 55.

The state-wide ranges of scoring showed for pre-adolescent, 60-68; for adolescent, 41-71; and for young adults, 58-63 percent."

Although the CSS is no longer an experimental program, Father Kukulski emphasizes that the scale is undergoing continuous refinement to better identify the needs of the patient and thereby improve the treatment and hasten his satisfactory return to society.

Meanwhile, the role of the chaplain in Michigan's mental health program, especially as it concerns the CSS, is in the national spotlight.

After Father Kukulski delivered a paper titled, "The Patient Satisfaction Scale as a Management Tool," to the 1973 annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association, calls about the paper came to Michigan from New York, Arizona, Georgia and several other states as well as from Canada.

Camping Space In Short Supply

Parents who want their boys to attend Bethel Bible Camp this year are advised to get their applications into Salem Bible Church office soon. The camp is already full for girls. For everyone else, it's first come, first served. Pastor Ivan Speight said.

The camp runs from July 22-27 at Proud Lake Outdoor Center at Milford. Total cost of the camp is $16, but a $3 deposit will hold the reservation for any boy age 8-14 who is entering third through ninth grades in the fall.

Other summer events planned by the Salem church included a Dads and Lads Event at Christie Lake Bible Camp, June 14 and 15; Vacation Bible School June 24-28 in the evening for children 5-18; and a Bike and Bible Camping Trip on the Maumee Valley Bikeway in Ohio, August 19-24. Applications are being accepted for this event.

If your teen is 10th grade or above and has a five or 10 speed bicycle, check this summer camping opportunity with the church office at 349-0674.

DeWITT JOHN

Christian Scientists who attended the annual meeting of the mother church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston on June 3 and 4.

For some of them, it was their first view of the newly-completed Church Center, world headquarters of the Christian Science movement.

DeWitt John, the new chairman of the Christian Science board of directors, sounded the keynote of the meeting when he said: "Today's need for moral integrity is one of the most obvious urgencies in our society. No nation could long prosper while drifting into a miasma of moral blindness, public and private."

At the heart of all of today's needs, Mr. John said, is the need for spiritualization of thought. Undestroyed materialism, he said, would prevent healing and reduce society to confusion.

Compete in Flint Regionals on Saturday

Novi Comes Alive-Wins District Crown

There's something about the MHSAA baseball tournament which brings out the best in Rick Trudeau's Novi Wildcats.

Certainly the regularly scheduled portion of the 1974 season hasn't been much of a success for the Novi nine. A 13-13 record and a seventh place finish in the Southeastern Conference are hardly the stuff of which success stories are made.

But now that the MHSAA tournaments are underway, the Wildcats have come to life.

They downed Pinckney 6-1 in the pre-districts to move into the district semi-finals where they trimmed Holly by an identical 6-1 score and then wrapped up their second consecutive MHSAA district championship Saturday afternoon by edging Brighton 3-2.

"I had a feeling we were going to beat them," commented a happy Rick Trudeau after the game. "Even though we only had a 13-13 record, I knew we had a good team. The potential has been there all along."

The Wildcats are now one of just 16 teams still left in the state Class B tourney. Not bad for a team that finished seventh in its own conference. Saturday they will travel to Flint Hamady where they will vie for the regional championship and the right to advance to the state semi-finals in Marshall the following weekend.

Novi will meet Chesaning at 10 a.m., while Flint Bentley will take on Saginaw MacArthur at 12:30 p.m. The winners of those games will then square off for the regional championship at 3 p.m.

"We'll be up for the game emotionally and that means a great deal in baseball," stated Trudeau.

The Wildcats are newcomers to tournament play. Last year they won district and regional titles and then won their semi-final clash with Lakeview before being beaten by Blissfield for the Class C state championship.

"We're Class B now, but I still think the potential is there for us to really do something," said Trudeau.

Novi's district championship was particularly satisfying because it came at the expense of Brighton, a team which had humiliated the Wildcats 13-0 earlier in the season.

"They beat us pretty badly, but the thing that irritated us most was that some of the comments they made about our team were not too complimentary," reported Trudeau.

"It was nice to beat them for the district championship. I enjoyed every minute of it."

Brighton saved their sophomore pitching ace Tony Hutton for the district championship and the Wildcats greeted him roughly, scoring all three runs in the first two innings.

Eric Hansor led off Novi's half of the first inning with a shot down the third base line which bounded off the third baseman's chest for an error. Gary Ford laid a sacrifice bunt down the third base line to advance Hansor to second. And Tom Celani then blasted a triple over the head of the left fielder to score Hansor.

Celani scored Novi's second run of the inning when Ron Buck laid down a perfect squeeze bunt that went for a single.

The Wildcats completed their scoring in the second. Bill Barr walked, Dave Brown singled him to second, and Ford brought him home with another single. Shaken by the rough treatment, Hutton proceeded to hit Celani to load the bases with Wildcats with just one down.

The sophomore hurler got out of the inning without any further damage, however, by getting Buck to pop out and retiring Mike Riley on strikes.

Brighton got on the scoreboard in the top of the third. Celani bobbled a slow grounder to put one man on and pitcher Dave Brown hit the ninth man in the Brighton lineup to put two on and set the stage for one of the most unusual plays of the season.

With two outs and two strikes on the third out, Hansor, the Novi catcher, tossed the ball over the head of the pitcher. The Brighton runners took off for second and third. Shortstop Eddie Brown threw wild to third as the runners proceeded to circle the bases. Dave Brown retrieved the ball and threw to Hansor at the plate for the putout only to have Hansor drop the ball to let the run score.

The Novi catcher, having already made two errors on the play, then fired wild to third and the runner who had started out on first came all the way around to score.

"It was an incredible play," admitted Trudeau. "I've never seen anything like it, not even in gym class softball. Eric (Hansor) probably hasn't had three errors all year and he got three on one play."

"I think that play turned the complexion of the game," continued the Novi coach. "We'd been all over the place before that, but after they got those two runs we just couldn't get our offense going again. Hutton did a nice job. He set down our last 12 men in order and collected eight K's. He's a good looking sophomore."

Dave Brown, the Novi hurler, gave up just two hits in picking up the victory. The Wildcats backed him up by turning over three double plays.

Novi had advanced to the district finals by beating Holly 6-1 in the semi-finals as Pat McAllen fashioned a four-hitter and Ford and Celani sparked the offense. Ford picked up two rbi's in the second inning with a two-run triple and Celani followed with a long homerun to left to bring in two more runs.

The two combined for Novi's final run of the game in the fourth, as Ford singled, stole second, and roared home on a single by Celani.

SAFE AT THE PLATE — Brighton second baseman Doug Homad slides safely across home plate as the ball bounces away from Novi catcher Eric Hansor during Saturday's district championship game at South Lyon. The Bulldogs scored two runs on this same play as the Wildcats made a total of four errors. The hot hitting of Gary Ford and Tom Celani, however, enabled Novi to take a 3-2 victory that gave them the district championship.

Muriel Bedford Takes 2nd In Bid for State 880 Title

Northville's Muriel Bedford failed in her bid to win the state championship in the 880 yard run and had to settle for second place in the MHSAA Girls' Track and Field Championships at Grand Rapids last Saturday.

"We're not at all disappointed," commented Paul Bedford, older brother and coach of the Northville High School star. "Second place in the state is pretty respectable."

Muriel was the lone Northville girl to qualify for the state meet. The seven points she earned for finishing second in the 880 put the Mustangs in a five-way tie for 20th place in the team standings.

A total of 151 Class A and B teams were represented in the meet and only 50 managed to score points. Detroit Cass Tech piled up 40 points to win the state championship, while nearby Walled Lake Western was fourth with 26½ points.

Muriel turned in her best time of the season, lowering her own school record to 2:18.6, but still finished four seconds behind Sue Parks of Ypsilanti who won the event with a 2:14.4 clocking.

"We knew that Muriel was the underdog before the race even started," commented Bedford. "Sue (Parks) is an internationalist who has run against the Russians and was a member of the United States team in the Pan-American games. But we still thought Muriel might have an outside chance."

"Muriel took the lead at the 440 mark with Sue right on her heels," continued the Northville coach. "Muriel held her off the first time she tried to pass, but Sue took over with about 220 to go and just had too much leg speed for Muriel to try to catch her."

"We're extremely pleased with the 2:18.6," added Bedford. "There aren't too many girls in the country who can run the 880 down in the teens."

Muriel gained a small measure of revenge on Miss Parks by nipping her at the wire in 61.5 seconds in the 440 yard run to finish sixth and seventh in their heat, but the two girls ended up eleventh and twelfth in the final standings for the 440.

"To run the half and then come back in the quarter is just too much," explained Bedford. "None of the girls who finished ahead of Muriel and Sue in the 440 had run the 880 earlier in the meet."

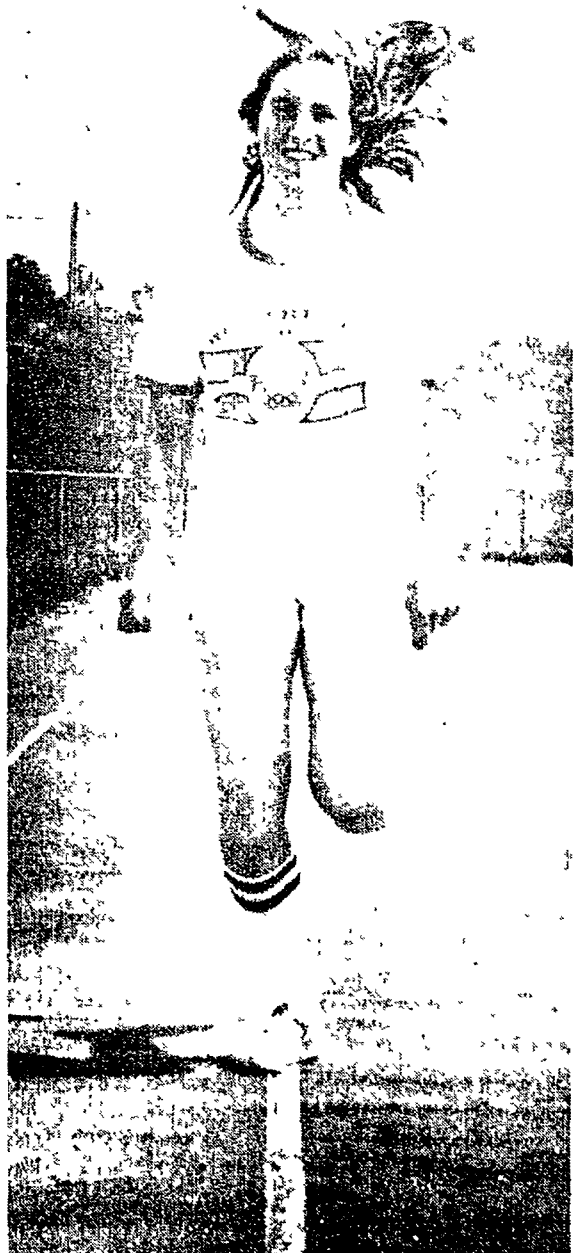

The second place finish in the 880 caps an illustrious career for Miss Bedford at Northville High School. Prior to her performance in the state meet, the 18-year old senior had paced the Mustangs to a second place finish in the Western Six Conference Meet by winning two events and taking second in another.

Muriel's conference championships came in the shot put where a 30-10 effort topped top honors and in her specialty, the 880 yard run, where her 2:23.0 clocking was almost a full 10 seconds faster than the time of the second place finisher.

Muriel's second place finish in the conference meet came in the 440 which was won by Walled Lake Western's Pat Dudley who went on to finish fourth in the state in the 440.

The senior middle distance ace has established three school records during her high school career and had a hand in another.

She holds individual records in the 440 (60.6), 880 (2:18.6), and the shot put (32.5). Her name also appears on the record board as a member of the record-setting 880 yard medley relay team (1:55.0). Other members of the medley relay team are Linda Prom, Louise Hopping, and Denise MacDermaid.

Filters Hold Lead In Little League

General Filters, Fendt Transit, and Spartan Concrete are the early leaders in the three different divisions of the Novi Little League. The Filters hold a one and one-half game edge in the Major League (10-12 year olds), while Fendt Transit also has a one and one-half game edge in the Minor League (also 10-12 year olds).

In the Pony League (7-9 year olds), Spartan Concrete is on top with a 5-1 record — half a game ahead of the second place Firm Built which is 5-2.

The Filters finally lost their first game of the season when they were dumped 2-0 by the Novi Police in action last week. The Filters had earlier defeated Bain Brothers 13-7, Novi Party Store 14-1, and Rexall Drugs by an 18-1 count.

Four teams are tied for second place in the Major League with identical 4-3 records. The four second place teams are Novi Firemen, Novi Party Store, Novi Police, and Michigan Tractor.

B-V Construction, which had an 11-7 conquest of Rexall and a 5-1 victory over the Police to its credit last week, is sixth with a 3-3 mark. Rexall Drugs topped the Firemen 10-8 last week for its first win of the season and moved into seventh ahead of Bain Brothers which is 0-6 and still looking for its first victory.

Fendt Transit heads up the Minor League with a 4-0 record. Fendt has victories over Thomas Steel Forms 8-2, Marcus Glass 16-4, Herb's Mower 30-5, and Jamaican Pools 5-3. Lynch Precision is in second place with a 1-0 record thanks to a 2-1 triumph over Thomas Steel Forms in its lone game of the season.

Marcus Glass is third with a 2-1 record, followed by Siarto Machine and Thomas Steel Forms with 1-2 records. Herb's Mower and Jamaican Pools are still looking for their first wins.

Spartan Concrete with a 5-1 record and Firm Built with a 5-2 record head the Pony League. Spartan edged Firm Built 9-8 in their first meeting, but Firm Built came back to take the second encounter by a 3-2 margin as Bob Hackett struck out 16 and hit a triple.

Ecco Tool is third with a 2-5 record, and Pink Builders are fourth with an 0-4 mark.

Northville's Judy Landau with partner Larry Chapp

Northville's Judy Landau

Wins Skating Crowns

If Judy Landau maintains her current pace, the world's gold supply could be in serious jeopardy.

The 14-year old Northville girl made quite a haul of the yellow shiny stuff recently as she teamed with a variety of partners to capture four different gold medals in the Michigan State Roller Skating Championships in Grand Rapids.

Three other local youths contributed to the gold drain started by Miss Landau by also capturing state roller skating championships.

Teaming with Larry Chapp of Westland, Judy successfully defended her 1973 state championships by taking first place in the Intra Dance division of Artistic Roller Skating. Judy and Larry then went on to take first place gold in the Intermediate Open Free Dance division.

With two gold medals already in the bag, Judy and Larry teamed with Cindy and Mark Hurley of Westland to win the Mixed Fours Free Style division.

Judy added her fourth gold medal in the Ladies Four Free Style division where she teamed with Cindy Hurley and Laura Coleman of Westland and Diane McIntyre of Wayne to take first place honors.

Northville's Lynn Austin claimed a pair of gold medals as she took first place in the Intermediate Ladies Compulsory Figures and the Intermediate Ladies Single Free Style divisions. Miss Austin finished second in Intermediate Ladies Solo Figures.

Rounding out the list of local skaters who claimed state championships was Billy Miller of Novi. Billy took first place gold in the Intra Men's Solo Figures division.

Billy also teamed with his sister Tina to place second in the Novice Dance division. Tina took a bronze medal for finishing third in Novice Solo Figures.

Choo Choo Holds 1st In Northville Loop

There's a familiar ring to the standings of the Northville Recreation Department's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League — Choo Choo Car Wash is in first place.

Ever since joining the league three years ago, Don Thomson's powerful Choo Choo squad has dominated all opposition. And judging from the results of the first four weeks of play, the 1974 season will be no exception.

Choo Choo is already all alone in first place in the tough American League with a 4-0 record — one-half game ahead of Manufacturer's Bank which is second with a 4-1 mark.

In the National League, Plymouth State Home and the Little Caesar's Newcomers are the early leaders. The State Home is 5-0, while Little Caesar's is also undefeated with a 4-0 record.

American League

Choo Choo gave every indication that it is on its way to a third straight championship by blasting out a 14-1 victory over its closest competitor — Manufacturer's Bank — in last week's action. It was the first loss of the season for the Bankers who are now 4-1. Choo Choo is 4-0.

There was never much question about the outcome as Choo Choo struck for five runs in the first and then added four more in the second to run away with the victory. Joe Lineman paced the rout with a four for four performance at the plate, while Charlie Sorenson and Ed McCloud both rapped out a pair of hits in two trips to the plate.

Doug Swiss had a single and double in three trips to pace the Bankers.

After forfeiting a game to Exotic Plastic and Rubber, John Mach Ford came back to up its record to 3-2 by edging Hamlet Food Mart 7-6.

The Car Dealers clinched the win with a pair of runs in the bottom of the seventh. Walks to John Mach, Linton Gropitz, and Bruce Mach loaded the bases for Charlie Boerger who drilled a single that brought in the two decisive tallies. Jeff Crawford, Art Mach, and Ray Taulbee each went two for three to spark John Mach Ford, while Roger Schultz had two doubles and a single in four trips to the plate to pace Hamlet.

In another American League encounter, Fairway Landscaping evened its record at 2-2 by downing the Northville Jaycees 13-5. Fairway scored 12 times in the first three innings and then coasted to the victory. Stan Nirider had a home run and Randy Marburger went two for two to lead Fairway Ron Reitenour and Tom Barber each singled twice to pace the Jaycees.

National League

Plymouth State Home and Little Caesar's each kept their undefeated records intact by registering victories in their lone encounters last week.

State Home pitcher Dennis Milobar gave up just eight hits as he tossed his team to a 6-0 shutout victory over the VFW. Milobar helped his own cause by going three for four at the plate to share hitting honors with Ken McDermott who had three singles in three at bats and came around to score each time. Jim Burton and John Dodd each went two for three to pace the Veterans.

Little Caesar's kept pace with the State Home by outlasting the Presbyterian Men's Club in a 16-13 slugfest. Three runs in the top of the sixth inning proved to be the difference.

Tim Sheehan went four for four and Dave Llewellyn and Dale Sievert each added three hits to take hitting honors for the winners. Dick Willis and Dave Pevovar were the top sticks for the Presbyterians with two for three performances at the plate.

The VFW recovered from its 6-0 loss to the State Home on Thursday to come back and take a 14-11 victory from the Tavern on Friday. Dave Luedke went four for four and Don Modin and Jim Burton each went three for four to account for 10 of the Veterans' 18 hits. Duplicating that performance for the Tavern in a losing cause were Joe White who rapped out four hits in four at bat and Joe Gellner and Gary Herfer who each went three for four.

Expansion Teams Lead Novi League

You'd hardly recognize Novi's Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League these days.

When the league was organized by the Parks and Recreation Department just two years ago, there were seven teams battling it out for league honors.

Last year the league was expanded to 10 teams. And when the 1974 season got underway two weeks ago, the league had expanded once again — this time boasting 12 teams evenly divided into two divisions.

But unlike professional sports where the expansion clubs are usually non-contenders for at least several years, the newcomers to the Novi Slo-Pitch League are doing just fine — thank you. In fact, after two weeks of play, four teams are still undefeated, and three of those four undefeated teams are newcomers.

Jim Storm Insurance and Miami Blue Water Pools share the National League record with identical 2-0 records, while the Don W. Kelsey (DWK) team is also 2-0 and shares the American League lead with the Novi Police, the only established team which is still undefeated.

DWK and the Novi Police each posted victories in last week's action to maintain their tie for the American League lead.

DWK had to go into extra innings before finally taking a 13-12 decision from the Novi Inn, one of the league's established title contenders.

At first it appeared as if DWK was going to make a complete rout of the game as they scored four times in the first, twice in the second, and then added five more runs in the third to open up a sizable 11-0 lead over the Inn.

But the Inn came back to score five runs in the fourth and fifth innings and then scored seven big runs in the seventh to send the game into extra innings. DWK pulled out the win in the top of the eighth as John Hunter doubled with one down and then raced home on a two-out double off the bat of Doug Thrush.

Hunter was the big gun in the DWK attack as he knocked in four runs with a double, triple, and home run in five trips to the plate. Paul Faulkner and Mike Bingham belted round trippers for Novi Inn.

The Novi Police upped their record to 2-0 last week by downing Novi Tire by an 11-6 count as pitcher Dave Butler held Tire scoreless through the first four innings.

Ed Butler carried the hot stick for the Crime Fighters as he drove in four runs with a double and home run in four trips to the plate.

Over in the National League, Miami Blue Water Pools registered a 9-5 victory over Jamaican Pools to pull into a share of the lead with Jim Storm Insurance which did not play last week.

Jamaican Pools led 5-1 at the end of the fourth, but Miami Pools tied it up with a four run outburst in the fifth and then won it with another four run outburst in the top of the seventh.

Bill White paced the winners by driving in four runs with a single, triple, and home run in four trips to the plate.

Ross O'Dowd and Tom O'Connell each had a pair of hits to pace Jamaican Pools.

In other games last week .. The Novi Jaycees upped their record to 2-1 by blasting out a 17-2 decision over Novi Heights. Big Phil McNary, last year's home run leader, failed to connect for a four-bagger, but had four rbi's with two singles and a triple in five at bats.

Novi Tire stroked out 26 hits to bury Fortec Paragon 22-11. Tom Renner went four for four and Mike Fenchei went four for five — including a home run — to spark the victory.

Jamaican Pools won its first game after three defeats by hammering Novi Heights by an incredible 38-0 score.

Northville Hosts MHSAA Regionals

Northville's Mustangs have been eliminated from the MHSAA Class A baseball tournament, but Northville High School will still be the site of the Class A Regionals for southeastern Michigan this Saturday, June 8.

The winners of four district tournaments will come to Northville Saturday to compete for the regional championship and the right to proceed to the state semi-finals the following weekend (June 15) in Pontiac.

Detroit Bishop Borgess and Ann Arbor Pioneer will square off at 10 a.m., while Taylor Truman will meet Livonia Churchill at 12:30 p.m. The winners of those two games will play for the regional championship at 3 p.m.

"It's an honor to be selected as the site for one of the four regional tournaments in the state," commented Northville Athletic Director Robert Kucher. "It's a compliment to the quality of our baseball facility."

Kucher, who is a parttime scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, also claims that the four teams vying for the regional title in Northville will afford local fans the opportunity to observe some outstanding prep baseball talent.

Livonia Churchill won the Western Six Conference title and is the second-rated team in the state. Taylor Truman's Jim Gendron is a prospect, while pitcher-infielder Reese Dobrick from Detroit Bishop Borgess is a bonafide prospect in hockey as well as baseball.

Kucher also notes that the last time Northville hosted a regional tourney (1971), the winner, Lutheran West, went on to win the state championship. "The top teams in the state generally come from the suburban Detroit area because of the quality of the competition and the well-organized summer programs," noted Kucher.

There is a $1.50 admission charge for adults, while students get in for $1. Northville cheerleaders will sell refreshments at the games.

All spectators should park in the high school lot on the south side of 8 Mile Road.

Guy Cole Leads Mustangs In Record-Setting Year

Two more school records fell last week as the Northville Mustang track team put the finishing touches on its 1974 season.

Guy Cole proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that he is the finest middle distance and distance runner ever to attend Northville High School as he eclipsed the school two mile record during a 92-31 dual meet victory over Fenton.

And the 880 relay team of Bill Pettit, Rick Marcicki, Frank Nelson, and Earl Bingley broke another school record when they turned in a 1:32.6 clocking in the Class A State Championships at East Lansing last Saturday.

"It's been a fantastic year for school records," observed Ralph Redmond, veteran coach of the Northville thinclads. "We knew that a few of the old records were going to fall this year, but we've broken seven of them, and seven new school records in 15 events is more than we had even hoped for."

Leading the onslaught on the record book was Cole, the slender senior speedster. By breaking the two mile record against Fenton last week, Cole now holds every school record from the 440 through the two mile.

In the 440 he broke Dave Wright's 1971 record of 51.1 with a 51.0 clocking. He shattered Greg Marshall's 1968 record of 2:00.1 in the 880 by recording a 1:58.5 timing. He set the mile record during his junior season with a 4:30.4 mark. And completed his sweep of all the middle distance and distance records last week by turning in a 9:58.8 two mile that erased the former school mark of 10:03.0 set by Rick Bell in 1971.

Cole's name also appears on the record board in the mile relay where he teamed forces with Tom Coram, Bill Pettit, and Bob Bloomhuff to turn in a 3:26.3 clocking earlier this year.

"No matter how you look at it, that is a tremendous accomplishment," commented Redmond. "To hold just one school record is something of an accomplishment, but to hold four different records is something pretty tremendous."

While Cole has led the assault on the record book, he is not the only Mustang to establish new school marks this year. Shot putter Jim Porterfield upped his own school mark of 51-11½ to 52.9 during the course of the season.

And the Mustangs also set new school records in the 440 and 880 relays to go along with their mile relay record.

Larry Pink, Earl Bingley, Rick Marcicki, and Frank Nelson established a new 440 relay record with a 45.5 clocking; and Bill Pettit, Bingley, Nelson, and Marcicki turned in a 1:32.6 timing that broke the former school mark of 1:33.0 set by the team of John Stuyvenberg, Brad Cole (older brother of Guy), Jamie Mitchell, and John Darnell back in 1970.

The Mustangs wrapped up their 1974 season with the 92-31 victory over Fenton.

"It really wasn't much of a meet," conceded Redmond.

"We expected Fenton to be a little stronger than they were."

The Mustangs won 13 of the 15 events, swept all three places in the low hurdles, high jump, and two mile, and took first and second in the shot put, long jump, high hurdles, and mile.

Double winners were Rick Marcicki who took both the 100 (10.7) and 220 (23.6) yard dashes and Tom Marzonie who won the 120 high hurdles (15.7) and the 180 low hurdles (21.3). Both Marcicki and Marzonie are juniors.

Other underclassmen posting wins in the Fenton meet were junior Robbie Foust in the mile (4:48.1), junior Blair Robinson in the long jump (19-11), and junior Dave Harrison in the high jump (5-8). Freshman Jim Shortt won the pole vault with an 11-0 effort.

Seniors rounding out their varsity careers with victories over Fenton were Porterfield in the shot (48-11), Pettit in the 440 (52.9), Tom Coram in the 880 (2:02.3), and Cole in the two mile with his record clocking of 9:58.8.

Finish with Five Points

Novi Takes 8th in SEC

Novi did not win the 1974 Southeastern Conference (SEC) track and field championship last Wednesday at South Lyon.

In fact, the Novi thinclads came in dead last in the eight-team SEC field.

But that, of course, came as no surprise to anybody: After all, the Wildcats had finished eighth in the conference during the dual meet portion of the season, dropping seven straight lopsided losses in competition with SEC foes.

But what was surprising about Novi's eighth place finish in the conference championships was that they scored at all. Although finishing well behind the seventh place finisher, the Wildcat thinclads did manage to salvage a vestige of prestige by putting five points up on the board.

"That's five more points than I thought we were going to get," admitted Del Munson, coach of the Novi squad. "It's not too pleasant finishing eighth in an eight-team league, but there were several of our kids who came through with performances that were highly pleasing."

As far as the overall results of the 1974 SEC Meet were concerned, South Lyon won seven of the 15 events to accumulate 80 points and run away with the team championship. Chelsea was second with 60 points, followed by Dexter with 43 points.

The Wildcats accumulated their five points with three fifth place finishes. Rick Parsons claimed fifth place in the mile, and the 880 and mile relay teams also posted fifth place finishes.

Biggest surprise of the meet was the performance of Parsons in the mile. His 4:51.2 clocking was well off the winning time of 4:32.7 run by Dexter's Bruce Vail, but only three seconds behind the fourth place finisher.

"I think Rick has finally found his race," commented Munson. "He started out the year as a hurdler, but has switched to the mile with much better results."

Another major surprise was the fifth place performance turned in by the 880 relay team of Parsons, Jim Morris, Brian Yakel, and Butch Pyant. Dexter won the event with a 1:33.7, while the Wildcats' 1:38.5 put them in fifth place.

"We only won the 880 relay once all season long, so it was a major surprise for us to come up with a fifth place in the league meet," stated Munson. "I think we came on a little bit at the end of the year because some of our runners matured as athletes during the season."

"Pyant did a particularly good job for us," continued Munson. "He just turned 17, but he's a senior. I wish we could flunk him so we could get him back next year. He's really matured as a runner and he's one of the major reasons we've done well in the relays lately."

Pyant and Parsons also ran on the mile relay team which finished fifth with a 3:42.8 clocking. Other members of the team were freshmen Lloyd Price and Andy McComas.

"We could have taken second, but we dropped the baton," Munson reported. "Pyant and Parsons missed their hand off, and Parsons had to stop, turn around, go back and scramble for it. We still won our heat by ten yards and if it hadn't been for the missed hand off I think we could have been up there in second or third place."

OK $3.5 Million Budget

Instead, the city will reimburse the water fund to the tune of approximately $130,000. The $70,000 difference enabled the council to eliminate the $16,000 deficit along with an additional $55,000 deficit created when a revenue source in that amount was eliminated from the budget.

Attorney Fried also told the council that even though it was not required to reimburse the water fund fully during 1974-75, it should make every effort to reimburse the fund as soon as possible.

The transfer of funds from the water fund to the general fund was defended by Mayor Robert Daley and Councilman Denis Berry.

Berry stated that it was "common practice in private industry" to borrow funds from one fund and transfer them to another, provided the loan is repaid.

Mayor Daley stated that

Travis Receives Dual Role Salary

In adopting Wixom's 1974-75 budget last week, Wixom City Council provided for a total reassessment of the community by budgeting $15,000 for appraisal under its financial administration funds.

Since the function of assessor has been a dual role with assistant to the mayor for William Travis under the present budget, he actually is receiving $13,500 as assistant to the mayor and $2,000 as assessor for a total salary of $15,500.

His salary in the new budget of $17,205, city council members point out, therefore, stays close to the 11 percent

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

We come to the concluding promise of the four that God gives us concerning solving and meeting the needs of our lives. We've already discovered that He gives us the courage to face our problems, the wisdom to understand our problems, the strength to do what needs to be done and finally we notice that He gives us the faith to trust Him to do what we can't do.

"Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass" (Psalm 37:5). What a promise! "Commit" means to take the heartaches and trials off your shoulders and place them on God's shoulder. When we carry our own burdens we try to worry them away. We envy those who seem to be sailing through life. Neither of these things bring relief. Commit and He will act says the Psalmist.

Unsolved problems grow and multiply, they steal our peace and rob us of joy, they rob us of sleep and drain us of our strength and break us both physically and emotionally. God has promised to bear our burdens, but we must have the faith to believe that He will.

Before you can really understand the promises of God you must know the God who made the promises. We know God through His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ. We come to know Him by admitting we're sinners and that He died for our sin and receiving Him as personal savior. The Bible says to know God you must be born again. Don't be afraid of that word, it'll change your life and bring you into partnership with God who can help you solve your problems.

Meet Your School Board Candidates

Northville

DAVID E. BUCKLIN

119 Rayson; age 31; holds Juris Doctorate degree from Wayne State University, is an attorney and special education teacher in Livonia. He is a member of the British Automobile Racing Club. His wife, Sharon, also teaches.

1. No opinion.

2. I believe that the school board offices should be returned to the community as a recreation center as it was designed for. The board office could be placed in Cooke Annex when it became vacant. Main Street Elementary should be maintained as an elementary school so long as population makes it practicable.

3. There should not be a smoking area at Northville High unless there is a commitment by the students to provide education to the elementary student such as was developed in Livonia Bentley High under Ron Cowden. Without such a commitment by the high school students you are only moving the problem from one area to another.

SYLVIA O. GUCKEN

307 Sherrie Lane; age 32; holds BS degree in elementary and kindergarten education from Pennsylvania State University in 1962 and has done graduate work at Oakland University in counseling, reading and open education. She was elected to the Northville Board of Education in 1972. She has taught in Pennsylvania Schools in Fallsington, Pennsylvania; Livonia Public Schools and as a substitute teacher in Northville Public Schools but not while serving on the board of education. Mrs. Gucken has been past president of Amerman PTA, past vice-president of Northville PTA Area Council, presently is serving as chairman for the Junior Entertainment Series, is school board alternate to the Northville Area Economic Development Committee,

Editor's Note: Following are the responses from the three candidates for the Northville Board of Education to three questions put to them by this newspaper.

David Bucklin, Mrs. Sylvia Gucken and Mrs. Karen Wilkinson are seeking two four-year terms.

The questions asked of the candidates were:

1. Do you believe the school district should administer the recreation department?
2. How do you feel the school board offices, Cooke Annex and Main Street Elementary can best be used?
3. Do you feel an area at Northville High should be designated for student smoking?

serves on the Experimental Year-Round School Steering Committee and is a past member of the DARTE Steering Committee. She has been a mother aide for first and fifth grades at Amerman and also served one year as secretary of the Board of Education. She and her husband, Lawrence F., have three children, Sean, 12; Kevin, 10; and Erin, 6.

1. I firmly believe the school district's first priority is to provide an educational program for the community. If, after careful consideration and properly structured, the best way to satisfy the community's recreational needs without diminishing the educational program is for the school district to administer the recreational program, so be it.

Recreational needs of all age groups should be identified, sources of revenue and housing for the program formalized and a structure proposed that will provide an effective recreational program. These must all be considered when and if there is a formal proposal for the school district to assume the administration of the recreation department.

2. The Northville Board of Education, the city and the township are conducting a cooperative feasibility study of the three buildings in question in regards to their potential use to the community.

The three governmental agencies are concerned with five basic community needs: a larger community library, senior citizens housing, a recreational facility, Board of Education and administration offices and classroom space.

convert building to particular stated need and cost factor of

I favor this cooperative venture as the three governmental agencies will know potential uses for each building according to its structure, cost factors to constructing a new building to meet a community need.

I strongly believe the three buildings should be explored as to the potential for maximum community use. They belong to the citizens of this community and school district. The citizens are deserving of their maximum utilization.

3. There presently are Michigan statutes dealing with the practice of cigarette smoking and minors. As an elected trustee and agent of the State of Michigan, I am duly bound and morally obligated to uphold the laws of this state. Until the laws are changed, I cannot support a designated smoking area.

I recognize that the laws and school rules in regards to student smoking are difficult to enforce. Smoking is an acceptable social practice. Students, both middle school and high school, are smoking openly, with parental knowledge and tacit approval. Yet the laws remain, and we strive daily to change or live with them.

The designated smoking area is a suggestion by the Student Congress to alleviate the abuse of lavatory facilities of Northville High School by the smoking student.

I believe we are obliged to provide clean, usable lavatory facilities for our students. I further believe with a cooperative effort from students, parents, staff, administration and Board of Education, the smoking student will find a more appropriate place to have a cigarette than the school.

It is time to look at the effectiveness of our suspension policy, the administration is examining a suspend in school program now. It is time to look at the effectiveness of our smoking education program. It is time to examine why some of our students find the lavatories such an inviting place to lounge.

KAREN WILKINSON

45871 Fermanagh Drive; age 37; holds BA degree from Albion College and attended University of Michigan graduate school. President of Northville Area PTA Council, Amerman and Cooke PTAs, member ACEP committee, past president and advisor of Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries, member League of Women Voters, secretary Town Hall Committee, board member of Parent Cooperative Preschools International. She has five years experience teaching in Dearborn schools junior high math, Spanish and French. This year she has served on the Michigan Child Care Legislation Committee and has been a member of the Governor's Commission on Children and Youth. She and her husband, William R., have a daughter Sheryl, 11, and a son, Donald, 8.

1. Recreation programs and schools should be maintained separately with individual budgets, programs and administration. The school district, however, should cooperate closely with the recreation department in the development and implementation of a broad program and school facilities should be made available to the community for these purposes.

The recreation program should be funded by the community and should not represent a drain on the school millage.

2. The school board offices presently are housed in a building originally designed as a community center I feel that this building should be used for its original purpose.

With the completion of the new junior high school, the Cooke Annex should logically house the school administration offices. The gym and other rooms on the lowest level should be maintained for the use of Main Street Elementary School.

"Because I believe strongly in the neighborhood school concept, Main Street School should be maintained to serve the local students rather than busing them to another facility.

3. Smoking has become a major problem in the high school. The condition of the lavatories has deteriorated to the point that the students themselves have been complaining. The solution lies in greater supervision by the faculty and absolute back-up by the administration.

Either the present "no smoking" rule should be enforced or the students' suggestion of setting aside one specific area for smoking should be tried on an experimental basis. This solution has been effective at Thurston High School and Bloomfield Hills High School. If such a program is established, the students should be responsible for the supervision and maintenance of the designated smoking area.

Now, as never before, Novi needs dedicated, qualified leaders who are willing to expend their total efforts in this endeavor.

2. Six years of community leadership activities dealing with educational needs and development. College training which included education, business, liberal arts and science courses. Eleven years of management training and experience involving a cross-section of a large corporation.

1. As a father of two school-age children, I am vitally concerned with providing the best education possible while assuring we get the most for our tax dollars. The education progress of our schools must be planned progress and we need everyone to be both concerned and involved with their schools.

2. Incumbent Next year we have contract negotiations with the teachers and my 10 years of industrial relations-personnel experience will certainly be an asset to the community I have worked with young people in junior achievement, scouting and little league. I have a great and abiding faith in their future.

Editor's Note: The following information was gathered by the League of Women Voters. It is based on information supplied the LWV by the three candidates, Ray L. Warren, who is unopposed, and Todd H. Price and James L. Helmer. Each of the candidates was asked to answer the following two questions:

1. Why are you a candidate for the Board of Education?
2. What particular training or experience have you had that would qualify you for this office.

Transfer of nine parcels from the Northville school district to the Plymouth school district was approved last Thursday night by a 3-0 vote of the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

The land transfer, which involves land in the area of Napier Road south of Five Mile except that land owned by Brae Burn, becomes effective June 10.

The transfer, which has been under study by both the Northville and Plymouth boards for more than a year, had previously been approved by both local boards.

Families who live on the parcels affected by the transfer have been sending their children to Plymouth schools for the past several years, school officials said.

Pick 'Nostalgia' For Parade Theme

"Start planning now," is the advice Northville Jaycees are giving participants in the annual Fourth of July parade slated next month.

Theme of the parade is "American Nostalgia—1900 to present," according to the publicity chairman, Mary Hilton.

"Any civic organization, church or subdivision is invited to enter floats or other parade units by contacting the Jaycee parade chairman, Jim Tolzky, at 349-7185. There are no entry fees," she said.

The 12 mile parade route again will start and finish at the Northville Downs, with Main, Rogers, and Cady streets being used as parade route.

Because of mounting costs associated with the parade, which has been hailed as one of the finest in the state, Jaycees are urging merchants and individual citizens to "please consider financial assistance."

Jaycees estimate the parade and the fireworks alone will cost nearly $3,000.

PAPER FOR COPPER — As the nation experiences a shortage of pennies, the copper pinch grows tighter. So tight, in fact, that Black's Hardware of Northville began issuing paper "script" in lieu of penny change Monday. The "script", though it is not legal tender outside Robert Black's store, is redeemable at the hardware with future purchase. Customers are given copper pennies upon demand, say the store owners, who may be the first in the metropolitan area to issue "script". The penny shortage reportedly is the result of hoarding triggered by a government announcement that it is considering an issue of pennies made of non-copper metal. Copper has become a scarce metal.

"OCC's greatest problem is to keep the cost of education at a reasonable level in the midst of growing inflation.
Yet the college should develop new and needed courses, especially in the field of vocational education, "where the jobs are"

A "lean budget" policy, in itself, will not be enough to finance improvements, the Board must inspire cooperation between faculty and administration to develop techniques for more efficient teaching. Each employee must give a little."

1 "OCC deserves better public relations work than it's currently getting by the president, his staff, and the board. It appeals me greatly to read that a major Oakland County weekly newspaper couldn't even talk to the president on the phone for a period of several weeks. It just reflects badly on the college. More frequent press conferences could alleviate this problem."

2 A major increase in OCC enrollment could take place if the college would:

"The primary issue facing Oakland Community College is living within our income in spite of inflation we must continue to make the quality of education and improve it genuinely useful to our students. Every avenue for increasing income must be explored.
Every possibility for decreasing expenditures must also be carefully considered."

Another issue is maintaining high staff morale without diminishing responsiveness to the general public.
By involving total staff in decision making, an awareness of:

"1. Continuing to provide low cost education of excellent quality despite rapidly inflating expenses and the need for constant updating of educational content to keep pace with accelerating changes in knowledge and occupations.
2. Maintaining an open atmosphere to concern. These issues can be resolved by continuing to deal with all matters costs are only planned by specific and forward planning.

2. Career education to provide all students detailed information about the total expense and scope of jobs, and their future vocational potential.

"What do you consider the two chief issues facing

Receive Funds

Northville is to receive $12,000 in federal funds to hire and train employees under the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training
Act (CETA), it was disclosed this past week.

Tentative distribution of $1.7 million in federal funds through 26 communities was approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

Wayne County, sponsor of the program, is scheduled for the largest share - $420,000 - to either hire or retain 32 county employees.

The CETA plan must still be approved by federal authorities before money is made available as allocated by the commissioners.

NORTHVILLE SQUARE—The downtown mall that's unique in concept.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT!

A Downtown Shopping Mall

Northville Square is unique among today's shopping malls.

First, it has no large department store as its focal point. Instead, the concept of the center is to provide an intimate surrounding with the personal attention that shoppers desire through a collection of smaller shops.

And secondly, unlike the vast majority of present-day malls it is not located in the middle of an open field at the edge of a high density population area.

Northville Square is conveniently located in downtown Northville where parking is plentiful and numerous other commercial, professional and cultural facilities are available.

As a matter of fact, local Northville businessmen played a major role in bringing Northville Square to Northville. Through its citizen-manned Northville Area Economic Development Committee it brought about the redevelopment and revitalization of a depressed area in the central business district.

The 90,000-square-foot shopping mall currently contains 25 businesses offering a variety of merchandise and services.

There's food, clothing, gifts, books, fashions, footwear, etc., etc., in the two-level mall. Parking is handy at both the Main and Cady street entrances.

Located at the corner of Main and Wing streets right across from city hall and the public library, kitty-corner from the post office, just a block from the harness racing at Northville Downs and you-name-the-service and you'll find it handy in Northville very near to Northville Square.

An escalator makes it easy to ascend from the lower level to the main floor of Northville Square. But both levels provide a variety of stores for men, women and children.

If you haven't visited Northville Square yet, be sure to do so during the Grand Opening Celebration.

You'll like the Square. And you'll like friendly Northville.

FOODS

How do they improve your go

When you learn that our Vital Food is itself to sell natural, wholesome food, well ask just what is meant by this. It is a form produced by Nature.

When you visit our store, you will realize at once that the only firm which can possibly pledge to sell you a questionable food, is a firm which has pledged it will sell nothing but natural and organic health foods.

Among the inventions of civilization are so numerous as those which have devised to destroy the life elements of the foods we eat.

It goes without saying that foods which lack the life-elements lack the means of sustaining a vigorous life.

Nothing on this earth—the human body included—can be any better than the materials which build it. If your intake of building materials is made up entirely of devitalized foods, it is an utter impossibility to have anything but a devitalized body.
