THE BIGGEST Sidewalk Sale ever is planned for Saturday, July 27 in Northville. Chairman Charles Lapham noted that 25 extra spaces are available this year because Main Street will be closed all the way to Wing. Normally, just one block of Main Street from Hutton to Center plus the Center Street block from Main to Dunlap are closed to traffic. But merchants in the new Northville Square shopping mall will take part in this year's sale event, thereby extending the length over three blocks and adding more participants. Chairman Lapham promises a sunny day.

THE RECORD goofed in its identity of the clown-dressed youngsters in the Fourth of July parade. They were called "Jaycee Kids". Actually, they were part of the Kings Mill float, the first entered by the association. Phillip Krahn, vice president of the organization, called to point out that the youngsters were especially proud of the fact that their entry won second place.

SCHOOL DISTRICT books will end up about $150,000 in the black this year, Business Manager Earl Busard predicted. Although the district's audit is still being done, Busard said the surplus was largely due to $40,000 more in state aid than was anticipated and $31,000 more in interest earned on the district's investments.

NEW PHONE numbers which went into effect this week for Northville township are police emergency, 459-1700; township business offices, 459-1710; and building department, 459-1717.

TOWNSHIP BOARD members will meet tonight in regular session. The meeting was postponed one week because of the offices moving to facilities at the Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon Road south of Six Mile Road. The meeting begins at 8 p.m.

TOTAL NUMBER of registered voters in Northville township for the August 6 primary is 4,963 while a total of 3,098 city voters had registered by the deadline last week. Since March, the township gained a total of 377 voters while the city added 35 to its list.

BOUNDARY COMMISSION will meet in Lansing Wednesday, July 31, to verify petitions from the city and township of Northville to annex the township to the City. Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright said he received notification of the meeting last week.

TWO BIDS were received by the city of Northville last week for $75,000 worth of tax anticipation notes. The Bayport State Bank of Bayport, Michigan edged Manufacturers National Bank with an interest rate of 5.99 versus six per cent. But the council accepted the latter when it was noted that the saving in the two-month loan would amount to $1.25. "We'd spend that much in postage to arrange the details," said City Manager Steven Walters in recommending that the city deal with the local branch of Manufacturers where it already has an account. The money will be used for general fund purposes and repaid the end of August from current tax collections.

Ambulance Problems Aired

Losses, Vandalism Told by Owner

Township Moves Offices

Monday was moving day for Northville township as it switched its offices from the Main Street location to Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon Road south of Six Mile Road. Moving vans arrived shortly before 9 a.m. and completed the transfer of furniture in the afternoon. And while boxes and crates were being carried out by Clerk Sally Cayley, Mike Cayley and Police Chief Ronald Nisun (above), Connie Watt, bookkeeper, continued to type a last minute letter from the old offices. Some employees, like Karen Zabell, secretary for the water and sewer department, (below) arrived at the new offices before her desk did. So when the phone rang, she conducted business in makeshift style. Tuesday, employees could still be found unpacking and rearranging furniture, getting their offices into shape.

After Stripping Victim

Cool Thief Drinks Beer

An 18-year-old Northville boy was robbed at gunpoint early Monday morning in Hines Park, tied up and forced to lie face down while his attacker sat beside him casually drinking a bottle of his victim's beer.

The youth told Michigan State Police investigators that the man wheezed heavily and had difficulty breathing while talking.

The man, armed with a small silver .38 caliber handgun, is described as in his 20's, about five feet 10 inches tall weighing 170 pounds. He was wearing a brown short sleeve button down shirt, had a nylon stocking over his head and appeared to have a moustache.

The robbery took place approximately 1:30 a.m. south of Cass Benton Drive in Hines Park. The youth told police he parked his car near the drive and walked to a grassy area about 120 yards from the car and sat down to drink beer after he got off work.

The youth said he had seen a couple in the area when he sat down but they left about five minutes before the man with the gun approached him.

The man came up from behind, held the gun to the youth's head and told him to take his clothes off. He then tied his hands with heavy string, placed his pants over his head and told him to lie face down. He took his wallet and the $12 it contained.

The attacker sat down and drank a bottle of beer and told the youth to wait about 10 minutes before getting up. The youth untied himself and drove to the Northville City Police Department who summoned state police. The youth said he heard keys jingle but did not hear a car start up after the man left.

Two beer bottles and three knotted lengths of heavy string were recovered.

State police detectives said the weapon used and method of attack are similar to that used in the June rape and robbery which occurred in the parkway.

A number of issues were clarified when the management of General Ambulance and the city council met Monday night, chief among which was the fact that there's no hope for improved ambulance service under existing conditions.

"Only more money" would help the local service, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks, owner of General Ambulance, flatly told the council.

She declared that during the past six months the local ambulance facility has lost over $1,300 monthly, has been the victim of stolen property, slashed tires and loosened wheel lugs causing wheels to fall off - all of which she suggested was the work of competitors.

Mrs. Marshbanks also declared that during the past six months General's Northville ambulance had received 136 calls of which only 69 had been paid.

The blunt revelation by Mrs. Marshbanks seemed to shock the council. Especially when she stated that only one instance of vandalism had been reported to police.

"It doesn't do any good to call the police. They can't do anything," she explained. "We handle it ourselves."

"What do you do, steal back your lost property, slash their tires?" asked Councilman David Biery.

"You'd get action if you reported to our police," stated

Mayor A. M. Allen, who then wondered why the ambulance would be left outside the garage that is provided with a power-lock door.

The ambulance company owner stated that the vandalism and theft happened when the vehicle would be parked outside a restaurant or at a hospital.

She also clarified an earlier complaint report regarding a "worn" ambulance tire that was reportedly the excuse given for driving a heart attack victim to nearby St. Mary hospital rather than Ann Arbor as requested.

"The tire was not worn, it was defective," explained the owner and her manager, Mr. Roberts.

They explained that their company purchases tires in large lots and that a number had developed bulges. It was true, they explained, that the driver noticed the defective tire for the first time just before picking up the stricken victim.

But they contended that it was time and the victim's life, not the tire, that prompted the ambulance to choose St. Mary. They said that in Livonia the patient has no choice of hospital.

"This isn't Livonia," snapped Councilman Paul Vernon. He contended that Ann Arbor was chosen because it was known by the

Local Candidates To Meet Public

All Northville Township candidates in the August primary election have been invited to speak at the Candidates' Night sponsored by the Northville League of Women Voters at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, July 23, in the newly located township offices on Sheldon Road.

Entrance to the township offices at the Wayne County Child Development Center is from the northernmost drive (the one closest to Northville) on the east side of Sheldon Road.

The offices were moved this week to building 11, which will be marked. The building is approached from the rear with parking and entrance at the front.

Candidates on the program will be given three minutes each to tell their priorities for the township and how they would implement them.

Moderator Pat Wright states that after intermission the audience will have an opportunity to question the candidates.

She adds that 19 of the 22 candidates to date have responded to the league's questionnaire.

Lawrence A. Wright is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket as supervisor. Robert L. Oleson is unopposed for Democratic nomination.

Treasurer candidates are Joseph B. Straub, R., incumbent; Anita S. Eising, R.; Robert Pope, D. Seeking the township clerk's post are Patricia Cousineau, R., Betty Lennox, R., and Janet VanVoorhis, D.

Republican candidates for trustee are R.M. Lysinger,

James L. Nowka, Robert R. Reh, Charles B. Rosenberg. Democrats are Kurt H. Glaser, Eugene S. Guido, Donald B. Marengere, Hugh J. Sutherland.

Constable candidates on the Republican slate are Roger G. Eising, E.F. Peterson and James F. Schrot, incumbent. Democrats are Guy L. Coykendall and Raymond Goien.

The parties will name one candidate for each office in the primary except for trustee and constable, which will have two each.

Reh, who had filed for both trustee and constable posts, withdrew his petition for constable.

Spagnuolo Property Acquired

An out of court settlement was reached this week between the city of Northville and owners of the former Northville Glass building, 106 Dunlap (rear).

The building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spagnuolo and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Spagnuolo, is being purchased by the city for $33,115. It will become the site of a parking lot completing the project undertaken by the city when it constructed the parking deck on Cady Street.

Acquisition of the building had been sought by condemnation proceedings through the court.

MR. AND MRS. STANLEY MILLARD

Reed-Millard Vows Read In Holiday Ceremony

The garden of his parents' Ridge Road home was the setting for the marriage of Stanley J. Millard of Northville to Marcie L. Reed, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Reed of Farmington, on the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Millard are the bridegroom's parents. Officiating at the late afternoon service which was delayed a half-hour by showers was the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The bride was given in marriage in the double-ring service by her uncle, James Reed of Union City, Indiana.

She wore a gown of ivory crepe made by her aunt, Mrs. William Chernenkoff of Livonia. It was fashioned with a scoop-neckline and short sleeves. Daisy trim decorated the sleeves, waist and hem. Matching trim was used on her headpiece which held her illusion veil.

She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy tied with lavender ribbons.

The bridegroom and his best man, Michael Norgren of Plymouth, carried out the color theme by wearing lavender tuxedo coats with black pants.

Shelley Millard, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor in a long, lavender voile dress trimmed with white lace at the puffed sleeves, waist and neckline. She carried a nosegay arrangement of yellow daisies, pink rosebuds, baby's breath and lavender statice tied with white ribbons.

Karen Arnold and Debbie Mark of Plymouth, friends of the bride, sang, "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride walked down a garden aisle lined with pots of lavender and white petunias to an arbor decorated with ivy and lavender-tipped white mums.

The bride's mother wore a long, beige linen dress and matching accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a long, yellow eyelet voile dress with white accessories. Both had daisy corsages.

A reception for 75 guests followed the ceremony. The bridegroom's 92-year old great-grandfather, Russell Coon of Redford Township, was among the guests. Others came from Omaha, Nebraska, and York, Maine.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds will make their home in Plymouth.

The bridegroom, a Northville High School graduate, is employed at Chatham's supermarket in Northville. The bride is a Clarenceville High School graduate.

MRS. STEVEN HAGEMAN

Joyce Meissner Wed

A double-ring ceremony in St. Augustine Cathedral in Kalamazoo last Saturday, July 13, united in marriage Joyce Meissner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meissner of 19370 Malvern Court, Northville, and Steven Hageman of Kalamazoo.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Meinard Hageman of Kalamazoo. The Meissners moved to Highland Lakes from Kalamazoo a year ago.

The Reverend Charles Crowley celebrated the 2 p.m. Mass with vows read by the Reverend J. Patrick Garber, a deacon, and boyhood friend of the bride's father from Flint.

The bride wore a gown of imported white organza, styled with a high neckline and trumpet sleeves on the fitted bodice above a natural waistline, all traced with Venise lace. Matching lace edged the hemline of the full, circle skirt that extended into a chapel train.

A Juliet cap of matching lace held her three-tier, waist-length veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet contained white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mrs. Stanley (Patricia) Weller of Kalamazoo was her sister's matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael (Gail) Fevig of Plainwell, another sister; Mrs. Terry (Judy) Hageman of Three Rivers, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs.

Gary (Judi) Oswell of Westland, a cousin of the bride; Barbara Hageman, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. William (Carol) Lycos of Lansing. Michele Hageman of Three Rivers was flower girl in a white gown fashioned like those of the bridal attendants.

The bride had made all of her attendants' dresses in blue, orange, pink, green, yellow and gold in flocked-flowered chiffon over taffeta styled with Empire waists and puffed, baby-doll sleeves and sashed with matching ribbon. They carried rainbow-hued nosegays.

Terry Hageman was his brother's best man. Groomsman were Michael Fevig, the bride's brother-in-law; Stanley Weller, brother-in-law of the bride; Ron Meissner of Northville, brother of the bride; Allan Hageman, brother of the bridegroom; and Edward Knapp of Kalamazoo. The bride's brother, David Meissner of Northville, ushered.

After a dinner reception for 200 guests at the Kalamazoo Knights of Columbus Hall, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Mackinac Island.

The bride, a 1971 Kalamazoo Central High graduate, is a claims specialist with AAA in Kalamazoo. Her husband, a June graduate of Western Michigan University with a BBA degree in accounting, is assistant manager of Holly's Steak and 4.

Three Area Weddings Hold Local Interest

By JEAN DAY

THE WEDDING SEASON began early in June this year with area brides reporting details of traditional and not-so-traditional but personalized ceremonies. If previous years are an indication, the romantic news will continue through August with almost as many vows exchanged then as in June.

Some weddings have had direct influence on the community. Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent of Northville schools, notes this week that she's almost running a matrimonial bureau as she's just lost another secretary due to marriage.

Her previous secretaries were Hazel (Wright) Kunz and Andy (Schaefer) Bogart who married. Two others left as their families moved.

MARY ELIZABETH HILTON became the third secretary of Miss Panattoni's to leave for matrimony as she became the bride of Norman McLeod in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony last Tuesday, July 9, at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

She timed the date of the ceremony so that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Long of Northville, would be back from a plumbers' convention in Hawaii. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McLeod of Dearborn Heights.

The Reverend Charles Webster officiated at the double-ring service before relatives and a few close friends. Donald McLeod was his brother's best man.

Attending the bride were her two daughters, Beth and Barbara, and the bridegroom's two daughters, Megan and Sheila.

For the evening ceremony and small reception following at the church the bride wore a long, light-blue gown. She had been active in many areas of the Northville community and during the past year was made a life member of the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary of which she is a past president.

Her husband is a designer in the engineering division of Ford Motor Company. They are making their home in Livonia.

A WEDDING that united seven little girls into one family was that of Melody Vance of Northville to Donald Chapman of South Lyon at 3 p.m. June 29 at the Full Salvation Union Church with the Reverend James Andrews officiating.

Prior to the ceremony the couple had been redoing the Chapman home in South Lyon to accommodate the seven daughters, all under 11 years old. They are Cynthia Sue and Eleanor Elizabeth Vance and Shelly, Lisa, Tammy, Donise and Stacey Chapman.

A garden reception followed at the Salem home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peavey.

ANN ASHLEY KIPFER'S June 7 marriage to James Craig Bird still is being remembered by friends for the exquisitely embroidered gowns of the bride and her attendants and the Mexican-type wedding shirts of the bridegroom and his ushers.

Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Kipfer of Northville. She and her mother, an art teacher at Northville High School, designed the art nouveau embroidery pattern carried out in ecru and lavender.

"Eighteen different people worked on the skirt and train to finish in time," Mrs. Kipfer reported in describing her daughter's ecru gown embroidered in pale lavender. The color scheme was reversed to pale lavender with ecru for the gowns of the six bridal attendants.

Even little Scott Kipfer as ring bearer wore a short-pant suit embroidered for the occasion. The design was used for the hand-made shirts of the bridegroom and his men.

"Everyone had a hand in the details, which were a combination of what the young people liked," Mrs. Kipfer noted.

The invitations to 200 wedding guests for the ceremony and dinner reception repeated the embroidery design in silk screen.

VACATION TRIPS are taking area residents as far as Alaska and bringing former residents back to the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Daleo of West 10 Mile Road have returned from a three-and-a-half week tour which took them first to Spokane and then the World's Fair in Washington, and on to Alaska.

They flew to Kotzebue in Northern Alaska near the Arctic Circle and then began a return trip via Nome, Fairbanks and Anchorage.

Traveling by plane, train and ferry, the tour group went to Skagway and then took a ship to Vancouver.

LONG-TIME AREA Residents Mr. and Mrs. Wally Westerfield, now retired to Yarnell, Arizona, have been visiting old friends and relatives here for a month. During July they have had their mobile home parked at the Nine Mile home of Mr. and Mrs. Zolie Visnyak.

FISH ORGANIZATION'S Clothes Closet which provides emergency help to the needy is forced to seek new quarters again. Now located at Tangier School in Northville Township, the closet must be moved by mid-August as the school will require the room for classes in the fall.

"Almost any room will do," says Mrs. Joan Schroeder, project co-chairman, who points out also that the Clothes Closet no longer stores excessive amounts of clothing. She may be contacted at 453-3559, or Mrs. Mavis Powlowski, at 459-9592.

Celebrate 80th Birthday

A belated birthday party given by her granddaughters honored Mrs. Sylvia Fawley Sunday, July 7. It began with champagne and hors d'oeuvres at the Northville home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Lynn (Carole) Lower at 15955 Winchester with dinner following at the Lord Fox restaurant.

Mrs. Fawley marked her 80th birthday June 1 in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she spends her winters. She is a former Detroit resident and now is a member of the Northville Senior Citizens Club as she visits the Lower family during the summer.

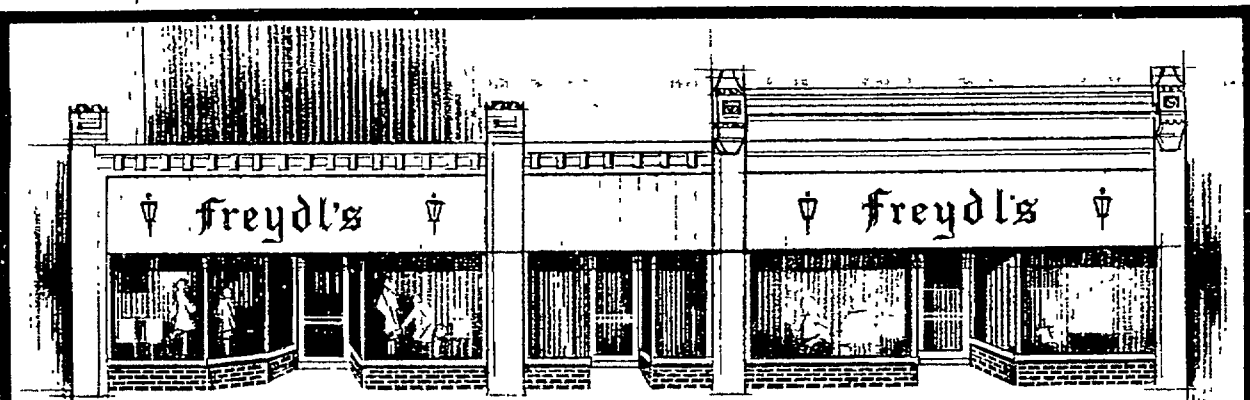

Another granddaughter, Mrs. Ann Cinzori, came from Santa Barbara, California, with her three children, Cheryl, Jane and Allen, for the celebration.

Also among the 17 relatives and friends attending were Mrs. Fawley's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fawley of Dearborn. One of the youngest guests was the Lowers' son, Jeffrey, 15 months old.

For the party Mrs. Fawley wore a long red, white and blue dress with matching corsage.

The day concluded with a birthday cake with candles outlining the year and ice cream at the Lowers'.

Civitan's Welcome Woman Member

When the Civitan organization at its international convention the first week of July in Boston voted to accept women into the previously all-male service club, it was no accident that the Northville Club was ready with a feminine candidate.

Mrs. Dorothy Knoth, who will be formally initiated at the installation banquet of the club this Friday, had been lined up for sponsorship by her down-the-street neighbor at King's Mill, Louis Hopping.

Hopping founded the Northville club in 1970, following a move to the community in 1967. From 1963-64 he had served as international president of Civitan.

His deep interest in the organization led him to send a five-point brief to the executive board last spring seeking admission of women to membership.

At the same time he was talking to his neighbor about Civitan service programs. Mrs. Knoth, who was widowed in 1970, had mentioned that if her husband, Gil, were still alive she was sure he "would really enjoy Civitan."

When the Hoppings spoke to her, therefore, about becoming a member if Civitan International approved the admission, she agreed.

Mrs. Knoth, one of the original residents of King's Mill who has lived there more than six years, says she decided to join as she feels she can be an active member and has been seeking a service organization in which she can "do some good."

When Past President Hopping served as head of the International Civitan organization, he was one of four partners in a law firm. He recalls that his partners agreed to fill in for him during the year's service. Now retired, he is practicing retirement from his home.

This background proved ideal for submission of the five-point brief urging acceptance of women. The executive board debated his points and then made favorable recommendation to the convention.

He pointed out that "some clubs surreptitiously have taken in women—and this is not a healthy situation."

Another point: "A number of courts have decreed that organizations open to men should be open to women." Hopping also pointed out that "a considerable number of widows are excluded whose husbands have been active Civitan assisted by them."

Finally, both Junior Civitan and Collegiate Civitan organizations (two points) have been co-ed from the beginning.

While the motion passed at the four-day meeting the beginning of this month, Hopping mentioned that it was not easy. It took five roll-calls, repeated on points of order, to pass the motion.

Among the first to congratulate Mrs. Knoth and to present her with official membership papers was Charles Schaeffer, Jr., retiring president who completed his term July 1.

His successor, Les Griffith of Westland, will be installed Friday as will Bob Cervin of Northville, who becomes president-elect to take over club reins in a year.

Also elected at the June 6 meeting was John Gibson, secretary-treasurer. Existing directors will serve until fall.

CIVITAN FIRST — Mrs. Dorothy Knoth, first woman member of Northville-King's Mill Civitan Club and probably the first feminine Civitan officially nationwide, accepts her certificate of membership from Louis Hopping, left, past international president and founder of the Northville club, and Charles Schaeffer, outgoing Northville president.

Births Told

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins of Plymouth announce the birth of their first child, Mark Robert, July 11 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor. Their son weighed seven pounds, 14½ ounces at birth. Mrs. Collins is the former Nancy Smith of Novi.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Smith.

A daughter, Carrie Ann, was born July 9 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Engel of Northville. She weighed seven pounds at birth.

She has joined a big brother, Mike, and two sisters, Virginia and Sandra, at home. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Engel and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Smith, all of Northville.

Judy Jackson Takes Study-in-London

Judy Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jackson of 21485 Silchester, Northville, is getting an opportunity to "contrast the hubbub of Piccadilly Circus with the silence of a medieval cathedral" in London, England, this summer, according to Michigan State University.

She is among 50 MSU students participating in the Humanities in London program offered this summer.

Bonnie Hunt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hunt, former Northville residents, also is among the students on the MSU-sponsored study program. She is a Marygrove College student.

The London program combines formal academic work with experiences outside the classroom.

Ancient history and international culture will be studied as students have a chance to follow the footsteps of Chaucer's pilgrims to Canterbury, to see performances by the Royal Shakespeare Company and to hear debates in the House of Commons, the university explains.

From July 8 to August 15 the students will be living in private rooms in Hanover Lodge, located on the edge of Regent's Park within walking distance to Bedford College where classes are being held for six weeks.

Classes meet in the mornings Monday through Thursday on the program, leaving students free afternoons and long weekends to sightsee and travel.

Miss Jackson is a 1972 Northville High School graduate and a sophomore at MSU working toward a degree in social work and psychology.

Novi Park Beach Gets Helping Hand

Novi's city park beach is now open for business thanks to the efforts of local residents.

The beach, which had been closed because of the city's financial bind, was opened last week after residents took on the task of cleaning and rejuvenating the beach area. According to Carolyn Olvich, who represents the clean-up group and who persuaded the council in a letter to reconsider opening the beach, approximately "five or 10 different families each day" helped in the project.

Five pick-up truck loads of rubbish were hauled away. Weeds in the beach area were also picked and teeter-totters placed in the lake.

Mrs. Olvich said that help came from many people who came to the beach to swim and saw what was going on.

Others who were in the area "we approached with 'oh, you came to help,'" said the project coordinator.

According to Mrs. Olvich, the park was "quite a mess" when the project started because the buoys had been stolen by kids and the park generally wrecked.

"Kids came out and gathered two garbage bags full of milk cartons to use as buoys," she recalled.

Jamaican Pools of Novi subsequently donated $37.50 for half the cost of new buoys and rope. The Rotary Club donated the remaining $37.50.

The beach was closed after the council, faced with having to make up a 1973-74 fiscal year deficit of $150,000 dropped the Parks and Recreation Commission budget from $29,000 to $5,000. The Parks and Recreation Commission operates and maintains the city park and beach.

"No swimming" signs were put up over a month ago and a fence erected across the swimming area.

A letter from Mrs. Olvich made the council reconsider its action.

The letter said that a group of concerned citizens "will clean and maintain the beach area so that our families and the rest of the community will have a place to swim."

City attorney David Fried calmed fears that the city might be held liable for accidents or incidents which might occur on the beach.

Families which helped in the actual clean-up included the Bill Ward family, the Anthony Olvich family, the Stanislaw family and the Dick Geer family.

Clean-up is continuing on a day-to-day basis and help is still needed, Mrs. Olvich said.

The beach has no official lifeguard on duty although several neighborhood teenagers with Red Cross lifesaving certificates are keeping an eye on swimmers.

Paving Contracts

Approved for Novi

Two county road improvement projects in Novi and Wixom have been announced by Frazer W. Staman, vice chairman of the Oakland Board of County Road Commissioners.

Staman says the road board has awarded contracts and scheduled 1974 construction for improvement of the Novi-

Nine Mile Road intersection in the City of Novi and for bituminous resurfacing of 4.7 miles of Grand River Avenue, from Wixom Road in the City of Wixom, to Milford Road in Lyon Township.

Kelcor Corporation was awarded a $39,832.10 contract to construct the intersection improvement at Novi and Nine Mile Roads, and Cadillac Asphalt Paving Company will resurface the Grand River segment under a $183,805 contract, Staman said.

He said the Road Commission is paying the entire cost of resurfacing Grand River.

The City of Novi will pay an estimated $25,000 of the total cost of the Novi-Nine Mile project, which is estimated at just over $40,000. The Road Commission will pay the balance, Staman said.

Parks Meeting

Re-Set July 24

The Novi Parks and Recreation Commission has rescheduled its June 10 meeting for July 24 at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held in the administration offices on Taft Road.

Council OK's Arcade; Pushes Bridge Project

Novi city council gave ground on two fronts Monday when it granted an arcade license to Alfred Dinverno and released, with strings attached, six more occupancy permits for Fairfield Farms.

The arcade license to Dinverno has been up in the air for the last two months since the city amended the governing ordinance to include a stipulation that arcades must be at least 1,000 feet from any school with students 16 years of age or under.

The Dinverno request is for an arcade to be located in the Roma Plaza at Grand River and Novi roads which is near Novi Elementary school.

From "front door to front door" using the center line of the road is the way in which measurement is to be made, according to the amendment.

City Attorney David Fried pointed out that the Novi amendment is ambiguous because in the Dinverno request, from front door to front door is over 1,000 feet, according to a building department study. However, using the center line of the road as the measurement, the distance is only slightly over 600 feet.

Fried said that in his opinion, Dinverno's establishment meets the legal requirements set down by the city.

Councilman Edwin Presnell took exception to the opinion and said the establishment does not meet the letter of the law because the street line measurement is not 1,000 feet.

Mayor Robert Daley voiced opposition to the license, noting that Dinverno previously opened an arcade without a license, said he would charge admission and then did not and violated the sign ordinance.

"I think we're losing sight of the purpose of the ordinance," said Daley. "The purpose is to restrict the number of pinball machines to protect the youth."

Noting that Dinverno had paid the legal penalties, Councilman Denis Berry said "I believe he paid his dues."

Daley argued that the violations were "open and intentional."

Councilman Louie Campbell backed the mayor stating, "what makes you believe he will follow this ordinance?"

The measure passed 3-2. In another major action, the council agreed to grant Kaufman and Broad up to 10 certificates of occupancy for homes in Fairfield Farms if the firm commences construction of the Cranbrook Bridge and sees to it that any violations of state or local laws are rectified.

The 10 certificates of occupancy were stated to include four which had recently been released as the result of the polling of councilmembers. Up to five were released at the time, but apparently only four have been grabbed, according to City Manager Harold Saunders.

Campbell questioned whether the issuance of certificates of occupancy without further access to the area might be in violation of the original ban which stopped the certificates until further access was provided.

"We should research the original motion," stated Campbell. "I don't want to sit here for another two and a half years like we did with Willowbrook."

Campbell also contended that by continuing to issue the permits, "The one big axe you have you're about to throw out the window."

Kaufman and Broad should not come running to the council for more certificates each time it can't reach the deadline on the bridge and consequently can't keep their promises to the new homeowner," Campbell said.

David O'Neill, 23685 Stonehenge, informed the council that Stonehenge residents have filed a complaint with the State of Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation against Kaufman and Broad.

The complaint charges that work was done 1) without plan or drawings or direct supervision as required; 2) in such a way as to divert all water flow to a new runoff routing through "Stonehenge" development causing flooding of the storm sewer system, Stonehenge Boulevard and abutting drives and depositing large quantities of clay dominant silt on improved properties.

The complaint also says the development was done in a manner to unnecessarily deny by wrongful interference the owners of the property unencumbered use of the property for an unreasonable period of time in excess of six months.

The work was also done without compliance to act 383 of 1965 as amended in the best interest of the health, safety and welfare of the state, its political subdivisions and its citizens, the complaint says.

The complaint requests correction of the defective work and that occupancy permits be withheld. It also asks that the sale or transfer of title of any "elements" of the project be prevented.

Although a letter submitted by Councilwoman Romaine Roethel was not read at the meeting, she indicated by letter that she was opposed to the manner in which the council was polled to decide about issuing up to five occupancy certificates.

In a surprise move, Councilman Campbell presented Mayor Daley with a check for $85,000 from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to be used to purchase 22.3 acres as a park site at 10 Mile and Taft Road. The property is currently owned by the school district.

The windfall comes as the result of $68,000 left over in 1963 from the estate of Ella Mae Power who bequeathed 60 acres to Novi Township for a park. The cash was left after the estate was settled and was used by the state of Michigan in the Proud Lake Recreation Area.

Campbell, after meeting with Senator Carl Pursell, representative Clifford Smart and representatives of the DNR managed to get back the money, along with interest, for the park-site.

Novi Council also approved special assessment roles for street improvement including asphalt repaving and necessary ditching in Orchard Hills and Willowbrook subdivisions.

The assessment in Orchard Hills will be $122,033.37 and amounts to $1,184 per affected lots. The assessment in Willowbrook is $126,672 and will be $754 per affected lot.

The council, at the suggestion of the city manager, accepted the bid of Joyce Fire Equipment and Manufacturing Company of Romulus for new fire equipment. Their bid was $29,123.

The money will go to make a pumper out of a truck chassis which the city owns. Money is to come from $24,000 set aside for the truck, $1,000 budgeted under "vehicles-fire" and $2,000 from "fire equipment and accessories". The remainder is to come from the Employers Retirement Insurance Fund which was overbudgeted according to Mrs. Frances Loynes, City Comptroller.

Von Behren Responds

Wixom Disputes 'Crime' Label

Despite reports to the contrary, Wixom cannot be considered the crime capital of Oakland County.

That word comes from Wixom Police Chief George Von Behren whose men have been protecting the city which the Uniform Crime Report of 1973 shows has the highest per capita crime rate of any municipality in Oakland County.

The report shows that on a basis of 100,000 people, which allows cities of different sizes to be compared, Wixom had a part 1 (felony type crimes) rate of 8,458. This compares to Pontiac's 8,216, Detroit's 6,717, Novi's 4,241 and Northville's 2,629.

"For the low amount of resident population in the last few years, we've had a lot of police activity (per capita) but in actual numbers of index crimes committed, Wixom is one of the lowest," replied Von Behren to the report.

Thirty of 43 reporting Oakland County municipalities had a higher number of crimes committed during 1973, according to the report.

Von Behren blamed the high visiting and working population as one of the main reasons for there being as many crimes as there are.

"Theoretically a city could have a zero resident population and still have a great amount of crime stemming from the visiting and working population," he said, explaining why the per capita crime rate is misleading.

The clincher, he added, is that the 1973 per capita figures are comparing 1973 crimes to the 1970 census figure which shows Wixom at 2,010 population.

A recent study done by the Wixom building department shows that as of this year, the city has an approximate population of 5,299.

"If the uniform crime index figure were based on the recent population report of the building department, the per capita rate would have been halved," noted the police chief.

Using the revised population figures, the per capita crime rate would be nearly on a par with Novi, although growth in that city's population would have lowered its per capita crime rate a correspondingly large amount.

The uniform crime index figure has been of concern to the council and at the latest council meeting, members discussed the report with Von Behren. As a result of the concern, the police chief showed pin maps spotting all larcenies, breakings and enterings, and vehicle theft.

In a recent interview with The Novi News, Von Behren explained that the department has been keeping pin maps of crime because "you can tell at a glance what types of serious crimes are occurring and where."

"It adds us in resource allocation," he adds.

Von Behren said that only the three crimes are included on the pin map because they are the "crimes people are most interested in knowing about."

The pin map for 1974, up to June 30, showed 72 larcenies, 38 breakings and enterings and five auto thefts. This compares to 123 larcenies, 63 breakings and enterings and 20 auto thefts in all of 1973.

The police chief noted that the pin map for 1974 shows high crime activity in apartment complexes within the city while the co-operatives, by contrast, have not been bothered with the problem.

The pin map shows that the 1,200 person Village Apartments have had 10 breakings and enterings and three larcenies; Indian Lodge, with 400 persons, has had 11 larcenies and six breakings and enterings; Maple North, a low-cost government financed project with about 400 persons, has had two larcenies in the short period it has been constructed and occupied.

Leisure Co-op Homes, by contrast, with about 400 residents has had no criminal activity taking place.

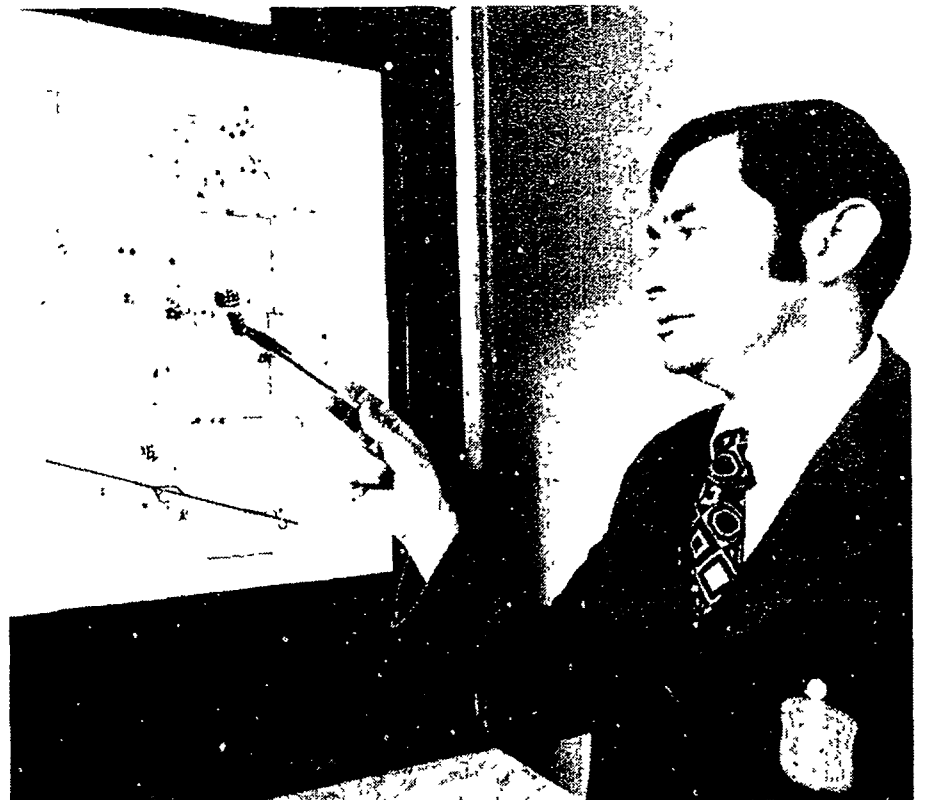

"It is an accepted fact that such things as high population density and low socio-economic status contribute to a greater need for police services," said Von Behren. "Criminologists have a multitude of reasons for these conclusions — I can't tell you why."

"In regards to the city of Wixom, these determinants are no different," added Von Behren. "High density, multiple dwelling and industrial areas produce a greater need for police services than do single resident areas or communities."

"Leisure Co-op can be considered a single resident area in that the units are individually purchased and owned by the residents."

Ford Motor Corporation's Wixom plant has been another high crime area. Last year there were 20 larcenies, six stolen autos and four breakings and enterings there. This year there have been seven larcenies and three auto thefts.

In "downtown" Wixom last year there were 14 larcenies and six B and E's compared to six larcenies and three B and E's up to June 30 of the current year.

WIXOM CRIME — Police Chief George Von Behren points out the high crime areas on a pin map which helps the police department deploy its manpower. The city has recently come under attack because of the 1973 Uniform Crime report which shows Wixom has the highest criminal activity in Oakland County.

Drawbridge Restaurant Setting for Ceremony

When the First United Methodist Church in Northville moved to a new building in the winter of 1971 and the old structure was dismantled to become a restaurant, no one anticipated that any more weddings would be held in the old building.

But it seemed most appropriate for two Brighton residents to choose it as the setting for their marriage last Saturday afternoon as the bridegroom, Gerald R. Spickenagel, is the bartender for the Drawbridge Restaurant.

He exchanged vows and rings with Jeannette DeRosa at 4:30 p.m. in a ceremony at the former church lectern, now located in the spacious entrance to the restaurant.

Northville Mayor A.M. Allen officiated, using a service chosen by the couple from a manual supplied by the state.

Fifteen friends and relatives attended the ceremony for which Theresa and Brenda DeRosa were their mother's attendants and John G. Paige was the bridegroom's.

The bride wore a blue, floor-length gown with chiffon sleeves. Her flowers were white sweetheart roses.

As honor maid Theresa wore a white and floral-print floorlength gown. Her sister, Brenda, wore blue and white. Both carried nosegays of daisies and baby's breath.

The marriage took place in a setting even older than the 1885 building. The restaurant owners have created a medieval atmosphere while retaining much of the old woodwork and the stained glass windows.

In the background, at Mayor Allen's elbow as he read the service, was a knight in armor that is part of the restaurant decor.

Mayor Allen was officiating at his fifth wedding service but states that he does not make a practice of doing so—“I'm not trying to be a Dearborn Mayor Hubbard.”

The ceremony also was his second in the Drawbridge Restaurant, he recalls, as he married the daughter of a family friend there last fall.

After a brief wedding trip to Northern Michigan the bridegroom expected to be back tending bar at the restaurant this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Spickenagel of Tampa, Florida.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jefferson, live in Portsmouth, Virginia.

The newlyweds will make their home in Brighton.

List New Fall Classes On Schoolcraft Campus

Do women, bikes and the future have anything in common?

They do at Schoolcraft College where they are among the subjects for five new credit courses the College will be offering when fall classes begin on September 3.

The new credit classes for fall are: Modern Literature By and About Women, Bicycling, Future Studies, Human Ecology and Electronic Devices.

Registration for these and Schoolcraft's 350 other courses begins with the advance periods July 22-26, July 31, August 7 and 14. Regular registration is scheduled for August 27 and 28.

Anyone wishing to learn about the ecology of man will want to take Biology 110-Human Ecology. The course promises insight into human evolution, current ecological problems and the outlook for the future.

Speaking of the future, the College also plans to provide a look into the year 2000 by offering History 260-Future Studies. The course will examine the future by studying historical forces, changing lifestyles due to spiraling technology, and the consequences they hold for the United States and the world.

Spiraling technology will be encouraged in a small way by another new course called Electronics 211-Electronics Devices. Here students can contribute to all our futures by learning the structure of integrated circuits, gas tubes and cathode ray tubes.

The College has developed these new courses as a result of changing student needs and changing curriculums, Dr. Keene said. “It is a constant process and is done every year to meet the needs of the community,” he added.

Michael H. Sheridan, 42240 Chatterton Court, Northville, a freshman in arts and sciences, has earned a place on the honor rolls of seven undergraduate schools and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Kansas for spring semester 1974.

Honor roll standards vary among the schools of the University. Some honor the top 10 percent, some establish a minimum grade-point average, and others set rising minimums for the year levels in the school. A minimum number of credit hours must also be completed for consideration for the honor roll.

The honor roll includes students who met requirements in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the Schools of Fine Arts, Journalism, Education, Business, Architecture and Urban Design, Engineering, and Pharmacy. The School of Social Welfare does not compile an honor roll.

T-H Makes Awards

Three Northville organizations and a Plymouth group are recipients of top awards of $300 or $500 each made for 1974 by the Northville Town Hall Board of Awards.

They are among 17 organizations receiving grants totaling $3,500, Mrs. Harry Wagenschutz, board chairman, has announced. Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, Town Hall sponsor, also received $3,500.

The $500 awards were made to Northville Historical Society for its restoration work at the Mill Race Village and to St. John's League of St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, for purchase of orthopedic shoes and braces for children at the Plymouth State Home.

Friends of Northville Library received $300 to help inaugurate an audio-visual learning program at the Northville Library.

Mizpah Circle, King's Daughters and Sons, was given $300 to continue its miscellaneous charitable work in the Northville community. This is one organization, the board has pointed out, that has been an annual recipient since the awards were begun.

Six awards of $200 each were made to area organizations. The Women's Continuum Center at Schoolcraft College will use its $200 to help establish a women's resource center at the school. Northville Jaycees were given $200 to help renovate the building on fish hatchery property for community use.

New Horizons of Oakland County, Incorporated, received $200 to provide vocational education, evaluation, training and job placement for the physically and mentally handicapped. Community Living Centers in Farmington received the same amount to be used for needs at the Farmington facilities.

Northville State Hospital Auxiliary will use its $200 gift for the hospital patients' benefit fund, while the Plymouth Women's Club will utilize its $200 for the Loch Rio project.

Big Sisters of Greater South Lyon, Incorporated, were granted $150 for their work in the South Lyon area with the Big Sister program.

Five organizations were awarded $100 each. They include:

Friends of the Novi Library, to help furnish and equip an audio-visual room at the new library; Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, to help purchase roundup tents; Plymouth Symphony Society, to purchase two symphonies for its music library (Mozart and Beethoven).

Other $100 recipients are Livonia Family Y Branch of the YMCA, for its "Invest in Youth" summer camp and school club programs, and the South Lyon area Youth Guidance Committee, to support the program.

A $50 donation was made to the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters for funding of "Know Your Northville" publications.

The Town Hall Board of Awards made its selections at its annual meeting June 19, pointing out that all 17 organizations making requests received grants.

Serving on the committee with Mrs. Wagenschutz were Merman Moehlman and Mrs. Roy Mattison, Northville representatives; Mrs. Jean Proctor, Farmington; Mrs. Margaret Hough, Plymouth; and Mrs. Frances Hensley, Livonia.

Organizations interested in being considered for allocations had been invited to make requests last spring.

Police Blotter: Two Men Injured in Cycle Accidents

In Township

Two weekend accidents in Northville township sent two motorcyclists to hospitals.

The first took place shortly before 7 p.m. Saturday on Hines Drive near Seven Mile Road.

According to township police reports, Wayne Robert McBride of 535 River Street was southbound on Hines Drive when he pulled out to pass another southbound vehicle.

As McBride was pulling back into his lane of traffic, a car driven by Allen Slutsky of Los Angeles, California, came from the shoulder of the road onto Hines Drive, colliding with the cycle.

McBride was taken to Botsford Hospital where he was treated for injuries.

The second accident occurred on Eight Mile and Griswold at 5:22 a.m. Sunday. Driver of the motorcycle, Gary William Peterson of Livonia, told police he lost control of his cycle as he approached Griswold eastbound on Eight Mile, skidded 60 feet on the pavement and was thrown into the median. He was found in the median by passing motorists, township police said.

Peterson was taken to St. Mary hospital and treated for injuries.

An 18-year-old Taylor youth is serving 30 days in Detroit House of Correction after he pled guilty to a charge of drunkenness last week.

Harley Harvey Finch pled guilty at his arraignment last Tuesday morning before 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis. Finch was arrested by township police about 4:30 a.m. that same day after he fired a .22 caliber rifle at the Griswold gravel pit.

According to township reports, witnesses had reported to city police that a subject, later identified as Finch, was firing the weapon.

When township police arrived on the scene, witnesses told them they heard four shots about 4:15 a.m. Another witness who was swimming in the gravel pit at 3:45 a.m. said he heard the shots and called to the youth, only to have him fire another shot near him.

Two thefts from construction sites were reported to township last week.

Twenty-eight rolls of reinforcing mesh and three bundles of reinforcing rods, weighing between three and four tons, were stolen from Hawthorn Center. The theft took place between July 5 and last Wednesday.

Value of the missing items was placed at $2,870.

In Northville

Felonious assault of a pizza delivery boy took place at 10:30 p.m. Saturday on Allen Drive near Canterbury.

John J. Neisch of Shadbrook told police two youths in a brown Plymouth Duster threatened him with a single barrel shotgun.

He said he was leaving Dino's Pizza on Allen Drive when he noticed the car in the parking lot. The car followed him onto Allen Drive and at Canterbury began flashing its lights and honking its horn. Thinking it was a friend of his, Neisch said he pulled to the curb and the Duster pulled along side of him.

The passenger in the car spoke to him and then pointed the shotgun at him. Neisch said he pulled away and drove to the city police station where he reported the incident.

Three attempted car thefts were reported to police after they occurred sometime Monday evening in the parking lot of Northville Downs.

An Inkster man told police the ignition on his 1973 Thunderbird was punched. A similar report was made by a Detroit man on his 1974 Chevrolet.

The third incident involved a 1973 Mercury owned by a Warren man. Although the three ignitions were damaged, nothing was taken from any of the vehicles.

A 1973 Lincoln Continental stolen June 26 from the parking lot of Northville Downs was recovered last Wednesday, July 10, in Detroit, city police reports said.

The car was found about noon.

Two car owners on Griswold Street reported gasoline was siphoned from their vehicles. Both took place late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

Most Crimes Rise During June in City

Most categories of crimes continued to show an increase in June when compared with figures for the same crimes in June of 1973.

According to Northville City Police Department's monthly activity report released by Captain Louis Westfall, the total number of calls received in June was 601. During the same month in 1973, police received 476 calls.

Categories showing an increase were thefts, 30 compared with 21 during June of last year; burglaries, six compared with four; non-aggravated assaults, eight compared with three; and vandalism, 10 compared with six.

Of the thefts, 12 involved stolen bicycles, up from three bikes taken during the same month last year. To date, 127 thefts have taken place in the city, up from 92 which occurred during the first six months of 1973.

A total of 54 burglaries have occurred during the first six months of this year, up from the 24 which took place during the same time in 1973.

Car thefts totaled two during June of this year and last while no robberies were reported either month. During June, police investigated one accosting report, one narcotic violation, six drunkenness reports and two disorderly conduct incidents.

Animal complaints number three, down from the 18 reported in June, 1973.

Police also investigated one suspicious vehicle, one bomb threat, treated seven injured persons, investigated one exposure. The incident is still under investigation. A tape deck and am-fm stereo radio, valued at $400, was reportedly stolen from a 1971 Cadillac at the Wixom Ford plant parking lot between 3:20 and 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The automobile, a convertible, was locked and there were no visible signs of damage.

A green Schwinn bicycle, valued at over $100 was reported stolen from the parking lot at the Red Oaks bar between 8 and 8:50 p.m. Sunday.

The Union Lake owner of the bike had loaned it to a Wixom resident who left the bike in the parking lot and returned to find it missing, according to reports.

FIRE CALLS

July 10 -- 3:24 a.m. shed fire behind 212 South Main Street.

In Wixom

Two girls, ages 11 and nine, in the Teaneck Circle area of Maple North Apartments reported that a man came to a patio door and whistled to his dog. He then motioned to the girls and exposed himself.

The incident, according to police, occurred at 6 p.m. last Thursday. The mother of one of the children reported the attempted suicide and recovered three missing persons. Seven requests to assist other police agencies were answered.

During June, 33 persons were arrested. Offenses included drunkenness, five; disorderly conduct, three; drunken driving, one; driving with a suspended license, five; disobeying command of police officer, two; and possession of marijuana, one.

Twelve persons were arrested on warrants issued by other police agencies and four were arrested on city police department warrants.

Approximately $2 worth of gas was siphoned from a vehicle in the 500 block of Griswold while $6 worth of fuel was missing from a car in the 600 block. Gas caps were found on both driveways and police officers said they also recovered a hose from one of the homes.

Harness equipment valued at $150 was reported stolen from Barn G at Northville Downs.

The new harness set was taken between 10 p.m. last Tuesday and 8 a.m. the following day.

The "cops" ended up chasing the "pigs" in Wixom last Thursday.

Officer Larry Beamish of the Wixom Police Department went to the aid of Mrs. Mary Salisz of 3980 West Maple who called police and told them three pigs were eating in her garden.

Beamish, with the assistance of some area youngsters, helped to get the two female and one male pigs out of the garden and to the road where it was determined that they belonged to a nearby neighbor.

Two rings valued at a total of $550 were reported stolen from a home on Hampton Hill

In Novi

Two rings valued at a total of $550 were reported stolen from a home on Hampton Hill between 7 and 8:50 p.m. last Thursday as the owners attended Gala Days.

One was described as a half carat diamond man's gold ring valued at $300. The other is a woman's gold engagement ring valued at $250.

According to police reports, the couple left their home and did not remember locking their doors. When they returned, they found the rings missing from the dresser in the master bedroom.

There were no signs of forced entry.

A Motorola color television, valued at several hundred dollars, was reportedly taken in the 41000 block of 13 Mile Road last Thursday.

The owner reported that he left the house locked at 10 a.m. and left a note in the door to her father saying she would be back in an hour.

When the residents arrived at 11:15 a.m. they found that the east side door was kicked open and the house entered. The color television and alarm clock radio were reportedly gone.

Police are still investigating.

On August 6 Ballot

County Asks Special Ed Millage

One mill for special education will be placed before voters in Wayne County on the August 6 primary ballot. The millage, which will be in effect until the people vote it out, will raise $13.5 million for special education. According to Clare Ebersole, member of the administration of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, the county is asking for the millage "because we want special education programs to be run locally."

Ebersole appeared before Northville School Board members last week to answer questions the local board had about the millage.

Northville School Board members have not yet given their support to the request because they said they do not believe enough local control can be exercised over how the funds are spent and how additional monies will be raised if the millage funds fall short.

He told the board that the money raised by the millage would be distributed back to the local district on the basis of "how much you spend, less the amount contributed by the state. We would make up the difference."

One mill in Northville will raise about $136,000. Business Manager Earl Busard said that the district spends approximately $100,000 for special education. That figure includes the $15,000 Northville pays in tuition for students enrolled in programs outside the school district.

Also included in the $100,000 is the cost of transporting the students to the various districts, salaries of consultants, reading teachers and other special personnel hired by the local district.

Ebersole said that if the entire $13.5 million would not need to be spent the first year, it will be held in reserve for the following years.

He also explained that in future years if the millage will not cover the cost of all the programs in the county, the districts will be assessed on a per pupil basis for the amount needed to make up the difference.

Ebersole said that future years' costs will be greater and stand a good chance of not being covered by the millage. He explained that "institutions are discharging residents more frequently now and many of them will need the special education programs."

Answering a question from the board as to why more than one mill is not being sought if the county feels one mill will not be adequate, Ebersole said that the county board feels one mill has a better chance of passing than would a higher millage.

Wayne and Midland counties are the only counties in Michigan which do not now levy millage for special education.

In addition to the $13.5 million raised through millage, the state will provide an additional $5 million to the county.

Superintendent Raymond Spear told Ebersole that he did not "feel it's local control when we may be living within our budget and other districts overspend and we then have to pay more."

Board President Martin Rinehart, acknowledging the fact that "we all have a responsibility for special children," said that if Northville "assumes its responsibility and others exceed the money available, then we must assume more of the costs without local control."

Trustee Dr. Orlo Robinson said that he would support the county's request for millage "if it was for a certain length of time or if the county would go back to the voters if you exceeded your funds."

Trustee Mrs. Karen Wilkinson added that "We cannot operate a school district that way, saying that if our budget runs over we will send the people a bill for more money."

Ebersole reminded that board that if the millage is not passed by the county voters, the $13.5 million will be paid from your local school district budgets (as it now is paid by each district) and there will not be the $5 million from state funds."

Juvenile Crime's Up For First 6 Months

Juvenile arrests rose 59 percent in June when compared with figures for the same offenses in June, 1973. The report was recently issued by Sergeant David DeLauder, City of Northville Juvenile Officer.

In June, 35 youths age 16 and under, were arrested compared with 22 arrested during the same month in 1973. To date, 120 calls on juveniles have been received, up from 55 received through the first six months of last year.

Those arrested involved boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16.

Offenses included vandalism over $100, eight juveniles, miscellaneous investigation, five; felonious assault, trespassing, possession of stolen property, runaways, drunkenness, attempted suicide and shoplifting, one each.

Others were thefts from buildings, vandalism under $100 and loitering, two each; and traffic offenses, nine.

Of the 35 youths apprehended, 20 were handled within the local department and 15 were referred to juvenile court of probation

For Northville High

Plan Early, Late Bus

Both early and late buses will be transporting students when Northville High School resumes classes in September.

The announcement was made this week by Superintendent Raymond Spear who said the early and late bus schedule will be "drawn up as soon as we determine who has signed up for the early and late classes."

Spear also said that high school students should be aware of the change in the number designation of class periods when they receive their final class schedules before school starts.

Because the computer which figures out student schedules will not recognize a zero, class periods begin with one and end with nine.

Thus, the so called "zero hour" classes which begin at 7 a.m., are known as first hour on the computer print out.

Regular schedule of classes run from second through eighth hours. The late classes are ninth hour, the superintendent explained. Ninth hour begins at approximately 2:45 p.m.

Scheduled to be held at 7 a.m. are 19 classes at Northville High containing an enrollment of between 450 and 500 students. Ninth hour classes, totaling 10 sections, will have an enrollment of 200 to 225 students.

Spear said that he anticipates the percentage of busers in both first and ninth hour will be the same as those attending the regular schedule. "Therefore, if we normally have more than half of our high school population which ride buses to school, that should remain the same percentage for those students who signed up for early or late classes."

He added that between four and five buses would be making the early class run for the estimated 250 bus riders and between two and three buses would take home the estimated 110 busers after ninth hour.

"It is my hope and desire, as we look at the bus schedule, that since we are dealing with high school students that the early busses can stay close to a main road only pick-up route," Spear said. He explained that tenth through twelfth graders make up the majority of the early class enrollment while ninth graders primarily comprise the late classes.

He said the main road only pick-up would be used provided it was in the best interest and safety of the students.

Late buses may be slightly delayed following the ninth hour, because of the 3:30 p.m. elementary student bus runs.

Spear said the early and late bus runs will not affect the total number of buses running each day. He explained that those transported to school at 7 a.m. will not have to be brought in at 8 a.m. and "will not be a burden on the transportation program."

12 Climb Fence At DeHoCo Monday

Twelve women prisoners from Detroit House of Correction of Five Mile Road in Northville township escaped Monday with four apprehended on Six Mile Road the same day. Eight were still at large Tuesday afternoon.

Although escapes have occurred in the past, the increase is at least partially due to matrons and security personnel at DeHoCo striking. Presently, supervisory personnel is handling guard duties at the women's facility and the men's jail across the road.

Negotiations are being conducted between the City of Detroit which operates DeHoCo and the guards in an effort to settle the strike.

Michigan State Police said seven women jumped the fence in the Six Mile and Beck Road area about 12:45 p.m. Monday. Two were recovered on Six Mile Road shortly after they escaped.

Five more women were discovered missing about 5 15 p.m. with two of the five apprehended after dark on Six Mile Road.

State police said some of the women who have escaped should be considered dangerous and several have escaped before.

They ask that persons who see anyone who is suspicious should contact the State Police Post at 455-5550.

Resumes Hearing On Ordinance

The Northville city council will resume its public hearing Monday night on the city's proposed new zoning ordinance.

Several sensitive areas remain to be settled following previous hearings held both by the planning commission and the council. A joint meeting between the council and planners was held last week, but it was apparent that some differences of opinion remain that may result in split council votes.

But Mayor A.M. Allen has indicated that the council majority wishes to complete action on the new ordinance proposed by planners "because no matter how long we study it, there will always be some differences."

The zoning "sore spots" that will almost certainly come up for discussion Monday night include:

—Three lots on Center street just north of Chatham; both planners and councilmembers are split on whether properties up to Walnut should be residential or professional office (PBO). Planning Chairman J. Burton DeRusha has suggested that the lots remain residential on the current zoning map and that property owners wishing PBO be allowed to make a separate request for the zoning change.

—Union Oil request for expansion of Asher station at Fairbrook and Rogers; this will be a close vote and requires zoning change from present non-conforming to commercial to permit proposed addition.

—R-3 (multiple) zoning request for Kohs' property at 473 W. Cady; planners oppose this and prefer present single family residential zoning; council may be divided.

—Northwest corner of Main and Wing streets north to Dunlap on Wing—now commercial, may become PBO; —Northville Laboratories, now zoned Research (RE), a classification being dropped, may be rezoned to a non-conforming residential classification.

—A formula for parking requirements; the council seems to favor a formula based upon floor space, while planners think the number of parking spaces a business should be required to provide should be based upon the business use of the building.

Provision for second story residential units in the business district should also come in for discussion.

Expert to Address Jaycees on Burns

"Burns Awareness" will be introduced locally next Wednesday evening (July 24) by the Northville Jaycees.

The critical health problem will become a project for Jaycee chapters throughout the state in the coming year.

Northville Jaycee President Harvey C. Tull announced that interested community citizens will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Irving Feller, director of the Institute of Burn Medicine in Ann Arbor, discuss burn care techniques at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the city council chambers in city hall.

Tull said the Jaycees hope to generate local awareness and involvement in helping to prevent, as well as improve the treatment of burns. He points out that some 3,200 people are hospitalized with burns annually in Michigan; 400 die and half of these totals are children.

Problems Aired

Continued from Record, 1 caller that the hospital was better equipped for heart emergencies.

The meeting proved to be a lesson in the operation of the ambulance business to the council. The General owner agreed with Mayor Allen that it is almost impossible to operate a private ambulance service in a small town.

"When the state put the funeral homes out of the ambulance business with their new regulations, it really hurt the small towns," declared Mayor Allen.

Presently, the city and township of Northville are subsidizing General Ambulance by providing housing for ambulance drivers and garage facilities for the ambulances.

But this is not enough, said Mrs. Marshbanks. Although she did not say, presumably "enough" would be sufficient money to make up for losses.

In addition to the quarters, the city and township guarantee payment for all calls placed by their police that General is unable to collect.

Mrs. Marshbanks reported that neither the city nor the township had paid these obligations. But there appeared to be a question as to whether or not the bills had been properly submitted by General.

The council pointed out, and the General representatives admitted, that the company was not living up to its contract. Whenever an ambulance is out of town or service, it is supposed to be replaced "immediately" so that there is at least one ambulance in the community at all times.

City Manager Steven Walters pointed out that during the past seven days there had been seven reports of the lone ambulance being out of order for periods of one-half to four hours.

The meeting was attended by three uniformed ambulance attendants from a competitive service. They sat in the back of the council room as Mrs. Marshbanks outlined her company's problems.

At one point she declared, "I don't believe any company could do a better job, in spite of the gallery behind us."

When Councilman Vernon asked Mrs. Marshbanks to give the council reasons why General should remain in Northville, she replied, "I don't know why we should stay."

General's closest station to Northville is Pontiac. It also has ambulances in Flint and Detroit.

Mayor Allen thanked the General Ambulance representatives for attending the meeting and said the council would study the matter.

Presumably, further meetings will be held with the township.

It's Summertime

...and the Living is Easy

Summer time is a time for outdoor cooking, lying in the shade of an old oak tree, riding your bike up to Dick's house and then on to the ball park with bat, ball and glove.

It's a time for jumping into the water to cool off, or tipping a cool drink on the back patio, or cooling it in the golf clubhouse.

Easy livin' is one way to describe it. Any way to escape or enjoy the heat.

After the long winter and cool fall and spring, it's a sunny reprieve—all too short, as far as most people are concerned.

Roughly, people in Michigan have 90-some days of summer each year.

This year, for instance, summer officially began on June 20 and will continue, by the calendar at least, until September 22—a period of 95 days.

Summer is most conspicuous for the sun. It's the hottest during this time of the year.

Contrary to widespread belief, however, summer is not hotter because the sun is closer to the earth. Summer is hotter because the sun is at its highest point over head.

Here's the way Dr. Orren Mohler, professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, explained it. Two factors are operative.

In the winter, the sun is off to one side, giving a greater slant to the sun's rays. In other words, the per unit area the sun covers in the winter is greater than the per unit area covered by the sun in the summer when it's more directly overhead.

Furthermore, when the sun is more directly over head, the absorption rate of the atmosphere is least, so that the rays shine through with more intensity.

Dr. Mohler said the same factors explain a fiery red sunset. The sun, as it disappears on the horizon, is at a greater angle and shining through more atmosphere—thus the red sunset.

Actually, Dr. Mohler said, dirt helps produce the red sunlight. The more dirt in the atmosphere, the redder the sunset.

Safety Tips For Gardeners

Gardening is fun. But one sure thing that will ruin the fun of gardening is an accident caused by carelessness, hurrying or overwork.

To eliminate hazards pick up after yourself, recommend specialists at Michigan State University. Don't leave garden tools lying on the ground. Store them in a wheelbarrow, cart or shed. Not only will this prevent falls, but it will save time looking for misplaced tools.

— Don't carry loads so big that you can't see the ground in front of you. Carry bulky loads to one side so you can see where you are going.

— Be on the lookout for holes in the ground. Even shallow ones can throw you off balance.

— When lifting large or heavy objects, bend your legs so the strain will be on leg muscles rather than on abdominal and back muscles.

— Don't try to carry loads that are too heavy for you. Use a wheelbarrow or two-wheeled cart. A two-wheeled cart can be loaded easier because it tilts straight down in front. If you do use a wheelbarrow, be sure to put the bulk of the load directly over the wheel.

— If you are using string to mark boundaries or rows, tie strips of cloth at regular intervals to increase visibility for others.

— Be very cautious when using pesticides. They can irritate skin and sinuses. Before using a pesticide, read the label thoroughly and heed all warnings. Always keep pesticides in their original containers and out of children's reach.

— When spraying or dusting, wear long sleeves, gloves, and goggles to protect your eyes. After spraying, wash your face and hands with soap and water and your clothing in hot soapy water. If the pesticide comes in direct contact with skin, wash the area immediately with a gentle stream of water for several minutes.

Don't let the fruits of your labor go to waste because of an untimely accident. Safety measures are important if you plan on enjoying the summer in your garden.

Mulching Big Help To Garden

By KATHY COPLEY

The most economical source of garden color is through perennials that you raise yourself from seed. For a one-time expenditure of time, effort, and money, you can have a season full of garden color for years to come.

Now is the best time to plant perennial seeds in the outdoor garden because the weather is stable, there is sufficient moisture available through your watering other plants, and there's a sufficiently long growing season for plants to become well established. Perennials seldom bloom the first year from seed, so starting them now does not deprive you of enjoying their color this year.

In deciding what seeds to start, consider the colors and shapes you like, as well as the times your garden could most benefit from perennials. Snow-in-snow blooms in June, after most of the spring bulbs, and before roses and daisies begin their show.

Gloriosa daisies and coreopsis, lythrum and achillea bloom from late June through August and September. Chrysanthemums begin in August, when many other plants are in full bloom, but continue into October and November, when little else in the garden is presentable.

Consider color. If you want your garden to concentrate on blues and purples, delphinium, anemone, and campanula would be worth starting. For reds and pinks, try carnations, phlox, and asters. Oranges and golds dominate in gloriosa daisies, poppies, and anemones.

The best source for a variety of high quality seeds is one of the garden catalogs you received last spring. You have plenty of time to order from them now, but it is too late to write for a complimentary catalog and still expect the seeds to arrive early enough for planting this summer.

Now, try a garden supply or hardware store; most still have a good supply of fresh seeds. Beware of any seeds not dated for sowing in 1974. To prepare the seedbed, choose a slightly shaded location, or one that receives Mulching is a good way to keep weeds from taking over your garden, conserve soil moisture, prevent soil puddling, keep fruit clean and help maintain uniform soil temperatures.

"And, as a further benefit, organic mulches gradually release plant nutrients as they decompose," says Robert Herner, Michigan State University horticulturist.

For best results, apply hay and straw mulches three to four inches deep, and ground corn cobs, sawdust and shavings two inches deep, recommends Herner.

Since these materials are low in nitrogen and can actually cause a deficiency in the soil in the process of breakdown, it will be necessary to add a nitrogen fertilizer. Apply one-half pound of ammonium sulfate or one-third pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 square feet of mulched area. Or, use one pound of complete fertilizer, such as 10-6-4 or 12-12-12, per 100 square feet.

Black plastic mulch has become very popular over the past few years for a number of reasons. It prevents the growth of weeds, reduces soil moisture loss, warms the soil, hastens crop maturity and keeps the fruit cleaner. It also reduces the necessity of hoeing and cultivation, thus reducing root injury. Roots are able to grow in the top few inches of soil where moisture, oxygen, temperature and nutrients are most favorable. The black plastic must be removed at the end of the growing season, however.

Herner recommends black plastic for muskmelons, watermelons, squash, pumpkins, cucumbers, tomatoes, eggplant, okra, peppers, strawberries, lima beans and roses. Black plastic is not recommended for cool season crops such as broccoli, cauliflower, cabbage or peas unless it is covered with a light reflecting material, such as sawdust, that will keep the soil cool.

"Fertilize the soil before laying the black plastic," says Herner. "Be sure the ends of plastic are secured by placing soil along the edges. A slight wind can pull up the entire piece unless properly secured."

"To plant through the black plastic, cut a hole large enough for the plant—usually six inches across—and plant seeds or transplants as you would otherwise," he advises. "To water, place a hose under the plastic. After a rain, check to see where the water stands and punch a hole there to allow the water to drain into the soil."

Gardens mulched with black plastic sometimes require more or less water, depending on the soil type. A light, well-drained soil will need more water during dry seasons, and a heavy soil with a high water table will need much less water.

"Black plastic can be obtained at many garden stores, through mail order catalogs, seed and nursery catalogs, and from companies advertising in garden magazines," says Herner.

only morning sun. The plants are fairly tender and need some protection from July and August sun. Spade the soil as you would for any perennial; 12" to 15" is recommended, but 8" will do. Add coarse sand to improve drainage. The addition of organic material—decayed leaves or grass clippings, peat moss, or sphagnum moss—will improve its ability to hold moisture.

Make a shallow furrow and plant the seeds. Most packages plant a 36" row fairly solidly. When the plants are 2" high, transplant them to rows 5" or 6" apart. It is difficult to separate each plant, so plant several plants per group 5" to 6" from each other.

Keep the plants thoroughly moist through the growing season.

In the fall, mulch with something which does not mat down to smother the plants. An ideal mulch is pine boughs discarded from Christmas decorating. The proper time to mulch is after the ground has thoroughly frozen; December is not too late to do this.

In the spring, transplant the sturdy plants to the garden and begin to enjoy the rewards of a little time and effort spent in the garden this month.

Fairs Still Farmy

HORSE-DRAWN BUGGIES toted Grandma and Grandpa to the county fairs of old.

At these fun-for-all happenings, folks saw farm wagon contests, cheered for their favorites in plowing matches, and oohed and aahed when a grand prize of $6 went to the owner of the steer judged best at the fair.

TODAY, THE FAIR SCENE in Michigan is much different, of course.

Fair-goers pull up in shiny high-powered cars, play at the midways, try their skills at carnival-type games and gobble down untold amounts of cotton candy and pop.

But the idea of the fair is basically the same as it was back in 1846, when records show Kalamazoo County held the first such event in Michigan. The emphasis continues to be on agriculture, with farm animal judging and displays of the state's farm products and machinery.

MICHIGAN'S 1974 FAIR season got underway July 3, and runs through the end of September. There are 83 county, 4-H and agricultural fairs, as well as two state fairs, on this year's agenda.

First on the docket were fairs at Lake Odessa and Marion. Last this season are fairs at Hillsdale and Marquette.

The two state fairs are scheduled for August 13-18 at Escanaba—that's the Upper Peninsula State Fair—and August 23-September 2 in Detroit, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Planning for Michigan's state fairs began back in 1849, just three years after the first county fair.

Representatives of nearly 40 Michigan counties got together with then Gov. Epaphroditus Ransom. They helped organize the first state fair and the first Michigan Agricultural Society.

The director of the Michigan Agriculture Department today, B. Dale Ball, says the phrase "come to the fair" is "an invitation to fun and learning."

"Our fairs offer a chance to discover the great variety of Michigan's agricultural products," Ball says. They also show "how Michigan farmers have produced these goods and get Michigan families together for old-fashioned entertainment."

SCENIC MICHIGAN is getting more scenic all the time. So says the Michigan Department of State Highways.

"You may be only vaguely aware of it," the department says, "but the number of billboards along Michigan's state highway system has dropped considerably in the last two years."

More than 12,000 signs and billboards have been removed from those roadways since the Legislature adopted a billboard control act in March of 1972. Another 2,500 are to be taken down this year "in perhaps the most visible effort of a continuing program to beautify the state's main highways."

Under the law, there are three types of billboards:

—Those that are illegal and subject to removal without compensation to the owner.

—Those that are illegal under the new law, subject to removal with payment to the owners because their billboards once were legal. Payment also goes to owners of land where the signs are located.

—Those that are legal and allowed to remain if an annual $3 permit fee is paid.

SAVE MONEY on car insurance? Maybe you can, under provisions of a new law aimed at eliminating duplication of health and accident coverage.

The law, which took effect in early June, requires no-fault automobile insurers to offer policyholders a chance to coordinate their required no-fault benefits with their health and accident insurance policies.

"Michigan motorists can save as much as 10 per cent of the auto insurance premium if they choose to eliminate this overlap," says Gov. William Milliken.

If policyholders want an immediate reduction, they must call their agents and ask about the situation.

Otherwise, automobile insurance companies will automatically notify them of the money-saving option when their policies come up for renewal.

There's only one catch.

"Combining coverage will eliminate extra premiums," Milliken explains. But, he adds, "it also will eliminate double benefits—meaning that if you choose this approach, you can't collect on both your auto insurance and your health and accident insurance."

Babson Reports

Computers Shrink

BABSON'S REPORTS INC.—Computers have been becoming more miniaturized with each succeeding year, aided by modern input-output devices and faster and more technologically advanced semiconductor memory components. The minicomputers were developed to perform only specific functions, as well as to process data. Such dedicated applications included process and industrial controls, factory automation, as well as laboratory experiments. Their advantages include lower purchase cost, modular design, and unique adaptability to the job function, despite their relatively slower speed.

However, rapidly moving technology and the need once again, to trim costs have produced another breakthrough in the computer industry. This is the microprocessor or, colloquially, the microcomputer (computer-on-a-chip), which has become the province of the semiconductor component manufacturers. These devices are now displacing minicomputers in certain dedicated applications for which minicomputers are too expensive. Their proliferation coincides with the expansion of the most rapidly growing sector of the computer market—data terminals. Microcomputers are primed to challenge conventional minicomputers as components of these remote terminals.

TO FUNCTION as computers, several microprocessors (integrated electronic circuits on incredibly small chips of silicon arrayed to amplify, switch or store current) are hooked up in parallel and then are plugged into memory and input-output electronic devices. Demand for these micro processors will far exceed that for minicomputers. Their almost unbelievable miniaturization and low price—anywhere from $20 to $1000—along with a myriad of applications, suggest several potentially lucrative markets. Microprocessor chip sales in 1973 were estimated at a mere $8 million. By 1975 it is estimated that sales could reach $50-to-$75 million.

Initial markets were electronic cash registers (point-of-sale terminals), credit card verifiers and accounting machines. Now these "microbrains" are being built into wristwatches, traffic lights, pin ball machines, factory automation (process controllers) self-calibrating medical instruments and a host of data terminals. Other applications could include automobile interlock seat belts, antiskid controls and air bags. Also, telecommunications, kitchen and laundry appliance controls, electronic displays, and automobile testing hardware.

TODAY, more than 50 percent of computer content is accounted for by electronic components, specifically the semiconductor. Microprocessors are expected to use some $16 million worth of integrated circuits (solid state semiconductors) in 1974—a growth rate of 100 percent from last year. These devices could well outpace the current market for large frame and minicomputer semiconductors by the end of this decade. The component producer is deeply engaged in the computer business and, with the advent of the microprocessor, the staff of Babson's Reports believes that the semiconductor companies could become a major force in the computer business, with the two industries overlapping in the future.

Presently, the powerhouses of microprocessor production include the pioneer Intel (a relatively small firm), Mostek (a Sprague Electric interest), Fairchild Camera, National Semiconductor, Signetics, and Motorola. Other lesser lights are Advanced Micro Devices, American Micro-systems, Intersil, and Western Digital. The Research Department of Babson's Reports is currently recommending purchase of the common stock of Fairchild Camera, National Semiconductor (both NYSE) and Signetics (over-the-counter). Readers may get a free copy of a report on these companies by writing to Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts 02181.

What Judges Like and Don't Like

Judges Don't Like Exhibitors Who Lose Their Tempers At Their Horses

This applies to adults as well as juniors. This happens when a horse who has been behaving well suddenly shies away from the rail or won't stand in line. The rider, holding the horse in tightly with one hand, cuts him hard half a dozen times with a whip. The rider may think, as the horse kicks and prances in pain, that he looks like an expert administering deserved punishment. But his flushed face and furious expression will tell the judge and everyone else that he or she is simply a spoiled child who lost their temper and shouldn't be awarded any ribbons at all for equitation. Why?

There are several reasons. First, if a person cannot control himself he obviously cannot control his horse. Second, one or two firm but not rough strokes of the whip are quite enough to serve as punishment. Three, the rider doesn't really know that the horse deserves to be punished.

Suppose he shied because of small children standing too close to the rail, and was afraid the children might run out under his feet. Also, it is very possible the rider may make a mistake at some time. In that case, the rider certainly doesn't expect to take his temper out on the horse.

Judges Like Pleasant Expressions Of Faces.

They also like good manners; boys who take off their hats when receiving trophies, riders making room for others who want to ride past them in the ring, being sure to keep far enough behind the horse ahead so as not to tempt him to kick.

Judges Like Well Groomed Horses and Well Groomed Riders.

Both boys and girls should have well-fitted conservative clothes. Clean polished boots and hat are a must. In the case of girls their hair should be particularly neat. If long, it should be done up in a bun, or, for the young girl, pigtailed.

It is true in the A.M.S.H. rule book it states that a rider's ability rather than personal attire, should be judged. Although this is right and proper, the attire of the rider will still play a considerable part in the exhibitor's overall appearance and this he or she will be judged on. If appearance is sloppy, it can't help making his performance look sloppy.

What to Do When A Horse Is Hard To Bridle

Remember that the horse does not resent having the bridle put on merely because it is a bridle, but solely on account of the inconvenience and sometimes because real pain is caused.

A well-behaved horse will lower his head and give every assistance in having his bridle put on. Only those horses will do this who know that in the process they will be put to a minimum of inconvenience. You will find if you follow these instructions that in but a short space of time, the struggles will cease and bridling will become a pleasure rather than what it is so often—a nuisance.

First start by undoing the throatlash, the nose-band and the curb-chain. Now slip the head of the bridle over the left arm with the brow-band and nose-band facing the same direction as your own body, and with the right hand draw

Four vacation Bible schools with daily attendance totaling an average of 120 students were operated last week at Kentucky Mountain missions by a dozen teenagers from Northville First Baptist Church.

Assistant Pastor Mike Farrell and volunteer drivers took the church young people to Kentucky Saturday, July 6, and returned for them July 12.

During the week they divided into groups of three each to teach Bible schools in Lucky Fork, Gum Springs, Jack Branch and Idamay—all missionary churches supported by the Baptist Kentucky Mountain Mission.

Participating in the venture were Scott Bowyer, Terri Burns, Susan Crawford, Karen DeRusha, David Durt, Mark McDaniel, Carol, Jan and Dave Nyquist, Lynn Olson and Doug and Sandy Stein.

They had begun the vacation school lesson plans in mid-April, meeting every week to complete them, according to Pastor Farrell. In each of the four locations, one volunteer taught primary grades with enrollments ranging from a three-year-old to a fourth grader, while the other two taught junior and junior-and-senior high departments.

Two of the participants were freshmen, four sophomores, five juniors and one senior.

The service project was so satisfying that "a couple of the young people didn't want to come home," reports Pastor Farrell. The volunteers told their experiences at the Sunday night service at Northville Baptist church.

Their smallest enrollment at one location was 16, but after working to publicize the school that afternoon, they recall, it went up to 32 the following day.

Student stayed in the home of the missionary at each of the four locations. They had raised their own support money and each paid $20 for room and board for the week.

In relating their experiences, the young people pointed out that the support sum was not overly large as in some areas sugar was selling for $3.99 for five pounds and milk was $1.79 a gallon.

Last year the church young people worked at a mission church in the upper part of Michigan's lower peninsula. Next year's mission area has not yet been selected.

Drive-in Services

Wixom Baptist Church Caters to 250 Outside

Drive-ins. They're not just for hamburgers, double features, and bank deposits. They're also for church services Sunday evenings at the First Baptist Church of Wixom.

Since 1964, the Reverend Robert Warren has been conducting hour-long Sunday evening services during summer months from a platform on the church parking lot. His message and a musical presentation come over loud speakers to an average of 250 people in about 100 cars.

Mr. Warren said he started the drive-in service soon after he came to the church 11 years ago hoping to increase attendance at the Sunday evening service. He thought if parishioners and guests could be outdoors and dress casually, they would attend summer church.

First reaction to the idea, he said, was positive. Church and community members were excited and curious.

"The best evidence of member reaction was that attendance at the Sunday evening service immediately tripled."

This spring, 85 percent of church members voted to continue the summer drive-in service rather than hold the service in the new air-conditioned church sanctuary.

Mr. Warren said the drive-in service is just part of the church's whole "Reach Out Program."

"For too long, the church has thought of itself as a building. Christ told us 'to go into all the world.'"

Mr. Warren said the church aims to involve the whole community, and the drive-in service is just one way of reaching campers (from nearby Proud Lake campgrounds), and vacationers, as well as community members.

Asked if the drive-in service differed substantially from the church's Sunday morning service in the sanctuary, Mr. Warren said he takes a more "evangelical, Billy Graham approach."

He said he presents the message of the Gospel, clearly and simply, each week, inviting worshippers to receive Christ at the end of the service.

Musical presentations at the drive-in service have featured a variety of programs. Soloists, instrumentalists, and choral groups have performed from the platform. Singers from the Florida Bible College performed one service last summer.

Does the casual, kids-in-pajamas drive-in atmosphere create an inattentive, perhaps irreverent, attitude?

Mr. Warren thinks not. In fact, he says, the drive-in atmosphere attracts those who might otherwise feel constrained by church walls.

"They're in their cars, behind the steering wheel. They know they can escape and it gives them a sense of freedom. There's no fear someone is going to nail them."

Mr. Warren said the success of the drive-in service has helped build the $500,000 addition to the church which is near completion now.

Since he came to the church with the drive-in service and other "reach out" programs, membership has increased from 175 to 500.

The new addition will house three nursery rooms, church offices, and a sanctuary with a seating capacity of 700.

Mr. Warren said he has a special feeling for Sunday evening Baptist services.

Raised a Presbyterian in Flint, Mr. Warren attended his first Baptist service on a Sunday evening as a high school senior on a date with his future wife.

"I found the message there more personal, more practical. I learned what it was to have a personal relationship with Christ."

And what happens at the drive-in when it rains? The service just moves inside.

The atmosphere is relaxed as people listen to song at the drive-in services in Wixom

Michigan State Hosts Leader School

More than 110 church ministers from 11 states and provinces are registered for the 28th annual interdenominational Great Lakes Church Leadership School July 15-26 at Michigan State University's Holden Hall.

Each participant will enroll in one of three two-week courses in communications, community planning, or rural dynamics.

Each minister will also enroll in two one-week courses on science and moral decisions, marriage enrichment, transactional analysis, death and dying, and the leisure revolution among other subjects.

Church, government, and community authorities will join MSU faculty in staffing the event.

The conference is sponsored by MSU's Committee on Church Related Programs and Continuing Education Service in cooperation with the Interdenominational Steering Committee.

Child Care Services Offered

"Mother's Day Out", a cooperative child care service sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Brighton, is now accepting registrations for its 1974-75 program year.

The program is open to all pre-school age children of non-working mothers in the Brighton area.

Now in its second year of operation, Mother's Day Out is taking registrations for its Thursday morning unit. The children from a maximum of 12 mothers will be accepted for that morning.

The church will create additional units of the program on other weekday mornings as needed.

Each week three mothers care for the children of all, so that in one four-week rotation period, each mother spends one morning with the children and has three mornings free.

Activities for children include games, art work, a snack, individual play, and lunch.

There is no charge for participation in the program, but a $1 registration fee is required. Interested mothers should call the church office weekday mornings.

If they're worth something to the owners they'll be worth something to the people we'll find to live in their home. And everyone will be pleased."

THE IMPACT OF EXTERNAL APPEAL

The external appearance of your home has an important impact on potential buyers. You will never get a prospect interested unless he stops to look. Don't rely on the inside of your home "selling" it. Your prospect may be "turned off" before he reaches the front door. So look at the exterior with a critical eye.
Give the house a fresh coat of paint if needed. Replace any broken or cracked windows. Replace loose shingles. Fix the fence. Keep the lawn mowed and the shrubs trimmed to give your house that "well-cared for" look. Make sure your screen or storm door is in top shape and your wooded door is inviting with a fresh coat of paint or varnish. It is not uncommon to see a hundred dollars worth of improvements and some elbow grease increase the value of a house over a thousand dollars.
Put yourself in the buyer's shoes. He is looking for charm, comfort, location and a bargain. Give him the best show for the money.
If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at HARRY S. WOLFE OF LIVINGSTON COUNTY, 3768 E. Grand River, Howell, Phone. 546-7550. We're here to help!

THERE IS A Grant on the march again, this time not to take Richmond but rather, in an attempt to take a seat in the Michigan State House of Representatives from the 35th District, which encompasses the greater part of Livonia, Northville and Northville Township. At a coffee held on Tuesday, July 9th at the Mr. & Mrs. John Murphy home in Livonia, Ernest R. Grant, candidate from the 35th District explained to a group of voters from his District that in his campaign travels he has found the people are concerned with 3 major issues, crime, bussing and the cost of living. Grant pointed out that he wished to provide legislation on a 7 point basis to fight the crime situation. He talked about initiation of a program to clean up backlogs in the courtrooms, increase the jurisdiction of district courts, establish out-county Circuit Courts in areas where needed, set up a judicial committee to monitor the local court systems, recodify the criminal code strictly enforce the existing gun control law and establish mandatory accredited drug courses in schools throughout the State.

Grant also explained that he has been a staunch anti-bussing advocate from the onset and explained how he believed that cross district bussing could not solve any problems in this area. "Where will we receive the money to maintain this costly program; what will happen to our future millage proposals if we take the right away from the people to have their children enrolled in their own community; how will we prevent a loss of control of the child in the community if we force cross district bussing upon him; how will this help solve our gasoline crisis", were some of the questions Grant posed to an acknowledging audience.

JUDGE RICHARD D. DUNN of Michigan's 20th Judicial District (Dearborn Heights) called for the establishment of an out-county Wayne Circuit Court branch before the Northville Rotary, Tuesday, June 9. Judge Dunn offered his comments in a speech presented to over 50 people attending the Rotary luncheon.

Judge Dunn claimed that the establishment of a Circuit Court satellite branch "would result in substantial tax savings to suburbanites, especially those in Western Wayne County." In addition, Dunn argued that "great savings in time to witnesses and litigants who have to drive 30-40 miles to Detroit could be made if a Circuit Court branch were established in Plymouth or Livonia."

Judge Dunn, who has spoke extensively throughout the county in favor of an out-county Circuit Court branch also noted that the proposal would save considerable amounts of police man-hours. "This is particularly true in Northville, where there are only two police officers," Dunn said. Judge Dunn explained that many police man-hours are wasted driving to the City-County Building in Detroit, and then waiting for proceedings to begin.

Judge Dunn, who leads a coalition of suburban legal groups in support of an out-county Circuit Court, recently was asked to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee on the Michigan Legislature on behalf of the coalition.

Judge Dunn, who is currently seeking election to one of five new seats on the Wayne County Circuit Court concluded that "we must not forget that courts are for the people, and not for the lawyers. This is why they must be accessible to all areas of the county."

THE CAMPAIGN of Dr. Ed Pierce, Democratic candidate for Congress, received another boost Thursday with the announcement that the Mayor of Plymouth, Beverly McAninch, is endorsing Pierce's candidacy.

Pierce, an Ann Arbor physician who operates the Summit Medical Center, a low-cost medical facility for low-income people, is seeking the Democratic nomination for the Congressional seat for Michigan's Second District.

Mrs. McAninch said that she had evaluated the Republican incumbent, as well as the four other Democratic challengers, and concluded that Pierce was best able to represent the wishes of the people of the district.

"Ed Pierce is more impressive to me than any other candidate for office I have ever met," she declared. "He is a doctor of medicine who is more interested in helping people than in making money. I can describe him in no better words than to say that he has integrity."

"One quality that I think is most important for any candidate is that of judgement. In personal experience I have found that one cannot judge a candidate simply by his or her stand on one or two issues. Instead, we must be assured of the candidate's wisdom, integrity, and judgement in making decisions for us. In this area, Ed Pierce is outstanding."

Mrs. McAninch added that as a member of local government herself, she was impressed that Dr. Pierce was the only one of the candidates in the Democratic primary who had ever been elected to local office in the district, serving on the Ann Arbor City Council from 1964 to 1966.

PHILIP S. CARROLL, candidate for U.S. Representative in the Second Congressional district made the following statement on his Party's philosophy: "The Human Rights Party is entering congressional candidates this year for the first time. Our purpose is to reach out to larger groups of people, and to demonstrate the need for a radical third party movement in America. Our candidacies will provide an alternative for those who can no longer support the capitalist parties, and who wish instead to join the struggle for fundamental social change."

"The Human Rights Party is a democratic socialist peoples' party. HRP is a democratic party because we believe everyone should have an equal voice in the decisions of society which affect our lives—starting with families, communities, schools, and workplaces—and always ensuring that political power flows upward from the people instead of downward from a centralized bureaucracy. HRP is a socialist party because we believe in economic equality whereby the resources of the world are shared by all according to their collective needs, rather than control by a powerful few who profit from exploitation of workers, corporate monopoly, and ownership of land. HRP is a people's party because we believe in full human rights for all people regardless of race, sex, age, sexual preference, or any other form of discrimination.

"One of the main issues in this campaign will be ending U.S. militarism and imperialism, as a prerequisite to world peace. Eventually, we will need a world government which can guarantee peace by ensuring self-determination of all peoples of the world. Meanwhile, we need to cut our defense budget drastically, freeing billions of dollars for real human needs. Our troops should be brought home, and our interference in places like Chile, Indochina, Africa, the Philippines, and the Middle East should cease. HRP supports unconditional amnesty for all resisters of the Vietnam war."

CHARLES B. ROSENBERG, Republican candidate for trustee in Northville township noted this week that "Since 1970, Northville Township's population has increased from 7500 to approximately 15,000. Our growth is projected to continue past 30,000 by 1980. Today we are seeing some of the problems which result from rapid growth; police and fire protection is inadequate, construction quality in some of our newer developments is less than satisfactory, some zoning restrictions either are not being enforced or are not enforceable, and the township government is having problems maintaining a "bare-bones" budget.

"If Northville Township is going to be a community that we can be proud of, our officials must start working together to face these problems. This will require a positive and co-operative effort to deal with the problems we have today and to plan for the future.

"This is an issue in the upcoming elections because I believe the present township officials are not all working together, which results in little or nothing happening."

In a move unprecedented in Oakland County politics, Louie C. Campbell, Novi Councilman and candidate for 24th District State Representative on the Republican ticket, filed with Lynn D. Allen, Oakland County Clerk, a copy of his 1973 Federal income tax return and a statement of his current personal net worth.

Campbell then issued this statement: "One of the chief issues in this primary campaign is openness in government. Voters in the 24th District have a right to know exactly who is going to represent them in the state legislature. Erosion of voter confidence in elected officials at all levels has taken place as a result of the Watergate affair, the ITT case and the Milk Fund matter. It is high time for all candidates to come clean with the public by fully disclosing their personal finances."

"I hope my own personal disclosure will spark other candidates in this primary race likewise to make their personal finances a matter of public record. Any candidate seeking the public confidence at the ballot box on August 6th must be willing first to take the electorate into his or her confidence."

"Let's face it. The era of secrecy in government is ending. Public business must be conducted in public. The personal finances of those conducting the public business are now quite properly part of the public business."

Theo Williams, Democratic congressional candidate, spoke in Bedford Township Hall, near Lambertville last week. Williams noted the possibility of saving up to some $4 billions in the Arms Hardware Budget, with a possible saving of 26 billions by proper and intelligent methods for new weapons procurement, as well as some eight billions by proper achieving a truly UNIFIED tactical air force, the latter figure being advocated by no less a person than Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Williams noted that an enormous amount of good could be done regarding unemployment, flood control, sewers and water, that could be done with only a half of what the Pentagon wastes...at least 17 billions.

The Huron Valley Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, has voted to back labor lawyer Ronald W. Egnor for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Congress from Michigan's Second Congressional District, according to council President Fred Veigel.

The AFL-CIO endorsement is the fourth nod for Egnor from organized labor. He has already been endorsed by the Greater Detroit Building Trades Council, Branch 434 of the National Association of Letter Carriers and the Southeast Michigan Building Trades Council.

AFL-CIO Council member Bernis Bradley, Jr., president of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 252, explained the endorsement, saying "Ron Egnor feels he can improve our representation in Congress, and we believe him. More than once has he gone to court to fight labor's battles."

"More than once has he taken the time to listen and find out just what people are thinking. More than once he has given up his time to join us in our causes," Bradley continued.

"Only once in a great while does a man like Ron Egnor come along. We will support him."

Democratic congressional candidate John Reuther was endorsed by acclamation Thursday, by the Bedford Township Democratic club. Reuther is a Democratic candidate for the congressional seat of incumbent Marvin Esch, (Rep. - Ann Arbor).

Bedford, the largest township in Monroe County, has over 26,000 residents. This is the first time that the Bedford Democrats have endorsed a primary candidate in their history. Over a week ago, the entire Monroe County Democratic Party also endorsed a primary candidate for the first time, when they endorsed Reuther.

"John Reuther has won both the endorsement and the respect of Democrats in Bedford Township," commented Dave Bernstein, Chairperson of the club.

"His credentials are excellent. His family has an impressive record of service to the country. John Reuther has worked in Washington for a number of years, and has the experience necessary to get things done," continued Bernstein.

Marjorie Lansing, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 2nd District, was unanimously endorsed by Michigan Council 7, American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees, Local 1105 Wednesday night, President Melvin Goodloe, announced today.

Local 1105, which represents workers at Ypsilanti State Hospital, is the second AFSCME local to endorse Mrs. Lansing. Last week, Local 1666 representing Eastern Michigan University selected her first choice by a unanimous vote.

the reins over the horse's neck and place them on the wither. With the right hand take the tip of the bridle and draw it up over the horse's head. Keep the bit in the left hand and place it between the horse's teeth, being careful to first open the sides of the mouth with thumb and forefinger. Then ease the bit into position by raising the bridle with the right hand. NEVER PUSH THE BIT AGAINST THE HORSE'S TEETH. Always warm the bit first in cold weather.

On a very difficult horse it may be advisable to stand on a low stool, which should be placed on the horse's near side. Then gently and with great care as I have described place the right wrist and forearm along the top of his neck, up to his poll as the bridle is being drawn firmly, but gently over his poll.

The object in standing on a stool is to be able to bring a certain amount of pressure to keep the head low. More important than this is to be able to see that the bridle is drawn in such a way that the eyes are not rubbed by any portion of the leather as the bridle is drawn into that position, nor the ears unduly pushed and pulled.

Never attempt to bridle a horse unless you have him in a confined place, where you do have some control over him.

When taking the bridle off keep the left hand on the nose to prevent the horse from throwing his head and carefully take the bridle over the horse's ears with the right hand. It's very important not to pull the bit out of the horse's mouth or let it hit his teeth, but wait, supporting the bridle with the right hand until he opens his mouth and lets go of the bit himself.

MANAGING MOM—Little league coach Joan McAllister confers with one of her players during a game earlier this season.

She is reportedly the first woman coach to take over the reigns of a Novi little league team.

For Little Leaguers

Mom's A Manager

Joan McAllister doesn't believe in women's lib but she didn't let that stand in the way when two of her sons found themselves on a little league team with no manager.

"I just filled the gap," she says, explaining why she took over the coaching position one week before the start of the season. "If they hadn't found a manager they would have had to forfeit every game until they did."

Although she had previously coached only two innings in her life, Mrs. McAllister became the first woman coach in the Novi Little League and guided the Suburban Walls of the Babe Ruth division to a 6-7 record, finishing fourth overall.

"I think they're great for putting up with me," she says of the team members. "That shows you how much they wanted to play — putting up with a woman manager."

Although the team started out with 15 players, it quickly shrunk down to 13 before the season started when one player suffered a pulled muscle while another quit to go to work. Seven of the players on the 13-15 year-old team were first-year men.

Helping the new players and giving tips to the team were problems which Mrs. McAllister registered.

"There were a few things I could spot," she relates. "Such as if they weren't getting down enough and were out of position while fielding or if they weren't following through in watching the pitch while they were batting."

Mark Orzechowski, a Novi junior varsity ballplayer who was too old to play in the league, provided the help that Mrs. McAllister says she needed.

"He gave the boys tips on how to play," she explains. "Between us we decided who would play."

Help also came at the game from Ken Parsons, manager for the last three years, and Jim Beall, father of one of the ball players. They coached from the bench.

A pitcher off the mound during a high scoring affair, only to find the score getting no better.

"He could have done just as good a job," she says. "I will probably not be as critical of coaches from here on in."

19, 17 Hits

Blue Water Sinks Two

Silence may be golden but when it comes to the sound of the ball hitting the bat, Miami Blue Water Pools just hasn't heard the old adage.

In games last week against Jim Storm Insurance and Novi Heights, Blue Water Pools knocked out respective totals of 19 and 17 hits on way to winning both contests and gaining a firm grasp on first place in the National League.

American League leader Novi Inn stayed atop the pile despite being upended by Don W. Kelsey Co. 5-4.

No major changes in the standings surfaced during action last week although three teams are still jockeying for the fourth spot in the American League.

National League
Miami Blue Water Pools once again won both its games and shot far ahead of Jim Storm which had lost the week before to Paragon and then fell to the league leader.

In that contest the game was pretty even with the score 5-5 going into the fifth inning. Jim Storm then came up with two runs on three hits and two errors.

That scoring seemed to wake up Blue Water which came up with six back-to-back hits, including four of the extra base variety to put five

According to Mrs. McAllister, coming from a family with all brothers helped prepare her for the new position.

"Sunday afternoons I was always at the ballparks when they played," she recalls. "I was always part of the gang."

"The time my father put his foot down was when I was knocked out playing ice hockey—as the goaltender," Mrs. McAllister remembers.

"I guess I zigged when I more runs on the scoresheet, giving it a lead which it never relinquished.

Leading hitters for Blue Water Pools were Bill White with two homeruns and a double, and Dennis Diem with two doubles and a triple. Joe Donner also had a homer, along with two singles.

For Jim Storm, Dan Laho paced the team with three singles. Don Maki collected three RBIs.

Miami Blue Water Pool smashed six home runs in the fifth inning and seven runs in the sixth to ice away the victory against Novi Heights.

Back-to-back homers by Bill White and Craig Remington provided the clout in the fifth inning. In the sixth inning White smashed another round tripper and was followed soon by teammate Dennis Diem.

Novi Heights just couldn't put much power together, settling for single runs in the first and fifth inning and two runs in the fourth and seventh.

Dan Harsh led the Novi cause with a home run and a double. David O'Neill claimed a double and two singles.

White and Pisha led Miami Pools with two homers apiece. Diem and Dan Flattery also collected homers.

First practice will be 3 p.m. July 28 at the high school practice field.

So far 40 alumni have shown an interest in playing.

Portec was involved in the other two league matches and grabbed a victory against the Novi Jaycees by way of a forfeit but had to settle for a tie with the Novi Police as the result of a time limit on the game.

The Novi Police put across two runs in the first inning, one in the second, and three in the third, fourth and sixth innings to score their 12 runs.

Portec fell behind early, but put across five runs in the fifth and three in the sixth to even up the scoring.

Choo Choo Grabs Three; Jaycees Race for Fifth

Choo Choo continues its stranglehold on the American League as the carwashers picked up three victories last week. The Jaycees also jumped into the race for fifth spot by picking up a pair, their first wins of the season.

Much of the action took place on the score sheet and not on the field as Exotic forfeited to Choo Choo, Exotic Plastic & Rubber forfeited to the Jaycees and Manufacturer's bank forfeited to John Mach Ford.

In the games that were played, Choo Choo slugged out a 19-9 win over Exotic and an 8-1 trouncing of Fairway while the Jaycees squeaked by Hamlet Food Market 4-3.

Choo Choo, the perennial champion jumped off to a four run lead in the first inning but saw it dissipated in the bottom half when Exotic slammed seven singles, including six back-to-back, to grab the lead 5-4.

Choo Choo, a team which plays a little bit harder when it falls behind slapped out six hits and eight runs in the second inning to take a commanding 12-5 lead.

The car washers put across three more in the third inning and the fourth inning, rounding out the scoring with one in the fifth.

Exotic settled for four more runs in the fourth inning but the game ended early in the fifth because of the ten run rule.

Leading Choo Choo were Dennis Nadeau, John Bida and Charlie Sorenson, each with three hits.

Exotic player Bob Hubbard collected three single base hits to lead his team.

Choo Choo also had an easy time against Fairway Landscaping, scoring runs in every inning except two to win 8-1.

Fairway utilized three singles in the seventh inning to gain its only score.

Pacing Choo Choo was Rich Adams with two doubles and a single. Joe Lineman had three hits also.

Ron Hubbard, Barry Deal and Fred Hicks each reached base on hits twice for Fairway.

In the other American League contest, the Northville Jaycees surprised everyone including Hamlet Food Market by pulling out a 4-3 win.

The Jaycees jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a walk and two singles. Hamlet pushed across their three runs in the third and fourth innings.

The Jaycees then put across a single run in the fifth and two runs in the seventh which were climaxed by a triple by Larze and a single by Beyer.

The Jaycees win, plus their forfeit victory leaves them 2-13 while Hamlet remains one place higher in the standings at 4-10.

Wins 1, Ties 1

Tavern Retakes Second

The battle is still going for second place in the national.

Tavern, which recently relinquished second place to Newcomers-Little Caesars now has it back.

While Newcomers were losing a contest against Plymouth State Home 9-3, Tavern, knocked off the VFW 10-2 and tied with the Con Langfield Cougars 7-7 last week.

In other contests, Plymouth State Home knocked off Keith Heating-Rizzo Realty 14-10, Keith defeated Con Langfield 18-11 and Kings Mill registered 16-0 and 5-2 victories over St. Paul Lutheran and Keith.

In the big contest, Plymouth scored eight runs in the first two innings and had no real trouble from the Newcomers, smacking them 9-3.

The Newcomers scored two runs in the third inning and one in the fourth while Plymouth added their final tally in the fifth.

Four singles combined with an error and a walk gave Plymouth its first four runs. Three more singles and a walk in the second inning yielded the same results in the second inning. Leading batters for Plymouth were Ray Courter with three singles and Brian Smith with a single and double.

Paul Steekly had two hits for the loser.

Tavern, meanwhile, scored six runs in the third inning and coasted to a 10-2 win over VFW. Six singles and a double gave Tavern the muscle it needed for the third inning rally.

The VFW used singles in the second and fifth inning to put across single runs.

Leading the Tavern cause was Joe White with a triple, double and three singles. Joe Horton knocked three singles. Don Collins paced the VFW with two singles.

Tavern tied with Con Langfield 7-7 in its other match.

Con Langfield utilized four singles and an error to account for three runs in the initial inning. It scored two more in the second and the third innings.

Tavern pushed across one run the first and fifth innings and five in the fourth.

Kings Mill grabbed the fourth spot in the standing with 5-2 and 16-0 wins over Keith and St. Paul's Lutheran.

In the first contest, three singles, a double and a sacrifice gave King's three runs in the second inning.

Four singles provided Keith with its only two runs of the match-up in the sixth inning.

Against St. Paul's, King's Mill blasted seven runs in the first inning, and in the following three innings scored 4-3 and 2 respectively.

Three walks and two errors provided Mill with some help in the opening inning.

St. Paul's had one hit in the third and one in the fifth. Only one man reached as far as third base.

Leading Kings Mill was Don Whitlow with a double and triple.

Dennis Foster and Ralph Schmidt had the only hits for St. Paul's.

Keith Heating put on a strong performance but had to settle for a 14-10 loss against Plymouth State Home.

Seven hits, two walks and an error helped Plymouth score 11 runs in the third inning. Keith Heating waited until the seventh inning before staging a comeback, but it fell short as Keith could only add seven runs to the three which it had already put across.

Plymouth was led by Brian Smith with a triple, double and single while Bob Robertson and Wade

Rangers Clout Twins

The suspense is over. In the battle for first place the Rangers took advantage of fruitful second and third innings on way to clouting co-leader Twins in a firm 10-2 Knothole hardball decision last week.

The victory entrenches the Rangers in the top spot with a 4-0 record. Despite the loss, the Twins stayed hot on the heels of the leader with a 30-5 pulverization of the Cubs and an 8-0 pasting of the last place Padres.

In other action, the Indians put themselves in the thick of the fight for third spot with respective 17-7 and 8-4 victories over the Yankees and Bucks. The Bucks managed to whip the Padres 14-5 while the Bruins registered a 10-7 win over the Cardinals.

The Rangers had little trouble disposing of the previously undefeated Twins although the co-leader proved pesky in the bottom of the first inning when they scored their only two runs of the game.

Singles by Mark Holland and Kevin Swayne plus some good base running enabled those two runners to cross the plate and put the Twins ahead.

The Rangers retaliated in the top of the second inning with two runs and four more in the third inning.

In the third inning, singles by Andy Melnyczuk and Scott Faustyn were followed by an error and a fielder's choice before Kevin McDermott slashed a three run triple with the bases loaded. He was then pushed home on a double by John Foley.

The Rangers added single runs in the fifth and sixth innings and two runs in the final seventh inning to secure the victory.

In the fifth inning, a double by Adams and singles by Ribby and Melnyczuk added the run. Singles by Kevin Bennett and Dave Mitchell pushed across a run the following inning.

In a shortened 4½ inning affair, the Twins walloped the Cubs 30-5 by slashing 35 hits, including 21 extra-base hits.

The Cubs scored three runs in the premier inning and single runs in the third and fourth innings.

Twins bats responded with seven tallies in each of the first three innings and nine runs in the fourth.

Leading the Cubs at the bat were Joe Traudt with a single and double and Doug Iverson with two singles. Rod Behrens also smashed a triple.

Sixteen Twins players came to the plate and all registered base hits. Fifteen had two hits or more.

Bob Thomson and Dave McElroy each tallied two home runs. Kevin Swayne had another in addition to a triple.

The Twins shellacking of the Padres was also in little doubt as only two players for the losers reached as far as third base.

A single by Bosanko and double by Harding gave the twins their initial run in the second inning.

Singles by Platte, Holland, Scott, Armstrong and Thomson added four more runs in the third session.

The Twins scored another run in the fourth inning and two more in the sixth.

Yankees. The Indians scored every inning.

Single tallies were gained in the first, second, fourth and fifth innings while three runners came home in the third stanza and 10 runs in the sixth.

A home run by Paul Lang and back to back hits by Steve Wynn, Mike Nistal, David Ward, David Greer and Bob Simrak pushed across the third inning runs.

Another home-run, this time by Ward, and hits by Simark, Randy Baxter, Mueller, Dyer, Lang and Ward pushed across the 10 sixth inning runs.

The Yankees concentrated their runs in the first inning when hits by Kriss Van Gieson, Bill Alberts, Rich Balek and Phillip LeAnnais gave the Yankees four players crossing the plate.

Another run in the second inning and two more in the fifth were all the Yankees could register.

The Indians scored three runs in the first inning and stayed in control all the way in upending the Bucks 8-4.

Singles by Jennings and Baxter, combined with an error enabled the Indians to push across their first inning runs.

The Bucks came back with two runs in the second inning on a double by Mark Mosher and singles by Greg Williams and Pat Behrend.

Four runs, coming in the third inning on singles by Land, Jennings, Wynn, Greer and Simark put the game out of reach for the Indians.

The Bucks, however, had an easier time with the last place Padres, winning 14-5.

An error, allowing Dan Brenner to reach base followed by hits by Steve King and Marc Mosher gave the Bucks three runs in the first inning.

Two fielder's choice plays sandwiched inside of hits by Mike Hollis, Jon Lyle, and Williams pulled the Padres within one run of the Bucks in the first inning.

The Bucks came back to cement the victory with two runs in the second and three runs in the third inning. They also sent home three runs in the fifth and seventh innings to put the game far out of reach.

The Padres only managed to put across single runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

$5,000 Purse Awaits 130 AMA Cycle Riders

Professional motorcycle race fans get their first look at an American Motorcycle Association Regional Championship Saturday night July 27th at Northville Downs.

The air-conditioned harness facility will host over 130 rider entries, the largest entry ever to race in this state, coming from as far away as California, Maryland and Louisiana.

A $5,000 purse, regional points and a Team Michigan Championship Match Race are reason enough for the top riders on the circuit to make the Northville stop.

Michigan riders are hard to beat here but Canadian Dave Sehl holds the track record of 26.56 and has won two of six previous Expert events.

Texan Larry Beall was the June 1st Novice winner but only one of six Texans to compete including 3rd ranked Mike Kidd, Jim Rawls, Buck Boren, Guy McClure and Marc Johnson ... all are high in Regional points and Kidd leads Corky Keener. Both of these riders won their first National Championship each last month.

Flint's Jay Springsteen is the nation's top Junior and he has never lost a race at Northville in four starts and has lost only once all season and that was to his brother Ken—the nation's second ranked Junior. They are 17 and 18.

Jay led Team Michigan to an impressive win over Team Can-Am in June and motored his Vista-Sheen Special to a below record lap of 26.50 while winning the Junior final. He has been compared to the legendary Carroll Resweber.

The $2,000 eight lap Match

Race, last event on the card, places the five fastest Michigan Juniors or Experts (based on Time Trials) up against the Nation's five fastest on the powerful 750 cc machines ... mostly Harley-Davidson XR's.

Fans can expect to see the following top name riders in person: Sehl, Keener, Beauchamp, H. Scott, D. Palmgren, Gerald, Chapple, Newton, Schaeffer, Dalgarno, Johnson, Rawls, Springsteen, Darr, Gillespie, Sassaman, Purvis, Skalnican and over 100 pro stars.

Gates open at 4 p.m. Races begin at seven sharp and advance discount tickets are available for $4.50 at Hudson's in Detroit, as well as metropolitan Detroit Cycle shops.

Under 12 admission is $2.50 at gate. General admission includes air-conditioned grandstand, clubhouse and fence or infield viewing areas.

This is a chance to see professional half mile motorcycle race at Michigan's Cinderella race track where previous National Champions Bart Markel, Dick Mann and Gary Nixon have competed. Phone 453-4242 for further details.

Jack Murtha and Jack Jones each had homers for Con Langfield. Ken Hinkle hit three singles.

Meadowbrook Wins

Presnell Pitches 1-Hitter

Meadowbrook Realty's Sue Presnell appears to be getting better.

About two weeks ago she gave up five hits in pitching the Realtors to an 11-5 triumph over No-Nonsense.

Last week she bested that effort, giving up only one hit as Meadowbrook romped over last place Maxwell Insurance 22-0. In other action, league leading Lorraine Tool and Die slipped past West Oakland Bank 13-9 and No-nonsense ripped Farmington Sports Center 11-4.

Presnell couldn't have looked much better. She walked only four batters while two others reached base on errors. The lone hit for Maxwell was a single by Donna Polinsky.

Meadowbrook's players, meanwhile were providing the muscle that have kept them in the thick of the Novi

Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League race.

Eighteen hits including eight extra base jaunts highlighted the Meadowbrook batting performance.

The Realtors scored one run in the first, nine in the second, seven in the third and five in the final fourth inning.

Leading batters were Joanne Athey with a triple and double, Kathy Neid with two doubles and a single and Marla McKenney with three singles. Kathy Mulligan paced the Meadowbrook with two homers, including one in the second inning which started the nine run rally.

West Oakland Bank scored four runs in the sixth inning, but it wasn't enough to upset the league leading Lorraine Tool and Die.

Lorraine pushed across two runs in the first and fourth innings and then concentrated seven runs in the fifth inning to pretty much put the game out of reach.

Errors made much of the difference as West Oakland committed 10. Six runners who reached base by way of errors scored.

Leading hitter for Lorraine was Martha Mehall with two singles and a double. Marianne Gross smashed a home run and accounted for five RBIs.

For West Oakland, July O'Brien tallied three singles. Kathy Owen and Carol Shupe both hit a single and a triple.

In the final contest rounding out action last week, No-Nonsense scored 10 runs in the second inning and never had to worry, beating Farmington Sports Center 11-4.

The second inning onslaught was ignited by eight walks and four errors. The only hit of the inning was a double by Diane Frere, giving her two RBIs.

Farmington scored one run in the bottom of the second and three in the seventh, but it wasn't enough.

Pacing No Nonsense was Chris Hebson with two singles. Holly Elie, Diane Frere and Pat O'Dowd each came through with two RBIs.

Pat Koravich led Farmington Sports Center with a pair of singles.

Leading the Buck onslaught were Williams and Marc Mosher with three hits apiece. John Vanderwoude and Steve King each tallied two hits.

The Padre attack was led by Jon Lyle who registered three hits. Mike Hollis and Terry Nadeau each socked out two hits.

The Cardinals rapped out a solid 7-4 lead in the first four innings and then saw it snuffed out in the last three as the Bruins upset the Cardinals 10-7.

Big innings for the Bruins were the fourth and sixth when three runners in each inning crossed the plate. In the fourth inning, hits by Steve Norton and Mark Tuggle combined with an error and groundout sent in three runs.

Mom's A Manager

She also played a year of softball at Detroit Cooley High School.

Her two innings of coaching experience came five years ago, before her husband passed away, when he was coaching the 8-9 year-olds, but was late to one of the games, causing his wife to jump in. "I remember one little boy who said 'women don't coach," she states. "I said 'this one does'."

During her stay as manager this year, Mrs. McAllister says she never heard a word about her being "female coach" from any of the players on the team.

"If they had any comments, they kept them to themselves," she says. "Some of them thanked me after the season was over."

The basic problem which caused the woman manager to take over the position was that many of the fathers were too busy to do the job because of work or other community activities.

"There may have been some who just didn't want to," says Mrs. McAllister. "It was exciting," she adds. "I can't imagine a father not wanting to do it."

Will she be back in the coaching position next year? "I hope not," she says. "If a man came along and said he wanted to do it, I wouldn't hesitate giving it to him."

City Manager said he could not give an official explanation until he talks with the assessor and the Board of Review. This will be reported on at the next meeting of July 8.

City Manager Walters explained to him the full cost of the Phillips as quoted in the Record included a 5-year maintenance contract and that the features of the Phillips and the differences between the two of operating and programming justified the basic price difference. Robert Kreiger, 318 Randolph, present at his news conference, said Mayor Allen said after Council has a meeting with Novi, there will likely be a public hearing and to watch for the notice.

Sid Frid asked Council what group is handling the money appropriated to protesting Edison's increase.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to appoint Mary Conley to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY.

Councilman Folino asked if any information has been found regarding HB 521, a Recreation bill. This will be on the agenda July 8.

Councilman Biery asked about the Parking Study. It will be discussed July 8th.

Mayor Allen said Council will try to meet with the Plan Commission on Tuesday, July 9.

There being no further business, Mayor Allen adjourned the meeting at 10:05 p.m.

SPECIAL MEETING

July 8, 1974

Mayor Allen called the special meeting of the Northville City Council to order at 8:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL: Present Allen, Nichols, Vernon.

Absent Biery and Folino, both out of town.

TAX NOTE BIDS: Two bids were received and opened as advertised for the $75,000.00 Tax Anticipation Note, as follows:

Percentage Rate

Buy Port State Bank	Net Interest Cost
5.99 per cent	$849.27
Manufacturers Bank	6.00 per cent
	$850.68

The City Manager recommended acceptance of the bid of Manufacturers Bank because of the small interest difference and convenience of completing the transaction.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Nichols to accept the Tax Anticipation Note bid of Manufacturers Bank.

CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY.

SEV CHANGES ON 1974 TAX BILLS: The City Manager reported that the changes in SEV on 1974 tax bills which were made without notice to taxpayers were clerical errors resulting from the county having misinterpreted the intentions of the Board of Review in 1973 as to whether various SEV adjustments were to be permanent or for one year only. Approximately 125 tax roll items are involved.

A more specific designation of the Board of Review records as to "permanent" or "one year" changes may help eliminate such errors in the future, although the Board of Review thought it has made its intentions clear to the County.

Mr. Huff of 500 W. Cady St. expressed his concern that his SEV had been changed without notice, and contrary to his understanding from the 1973 Board of Review sessions.

On the concurrence of the Board of Review, which will meet on July 9th to discuss the matter, corrected tax bills will be sent out immediately. The Board of Review will then confirm these corrections at their regular December meeting. The City Council approved of this procedure.

REPORT ON HB 521: The City Manager reported on HB 521, which proposes a grant fund for recreation facilities. The bill does not define the source of revenues at this time, and thus the bill potentially competes for State funds with the general revenue-sharing grant proposals. The recreation grant is proposed to be distributed to local units through the regional planning districts (SEMCOG in the case of Northville), which would evaluate priorities, and thus there is no guarantee like the State Recreation Bond Fund provided that Northville

Declare Brinker, DeWaard

They'll Be Their 'Own Man'

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in the series of interviews with the nine candidates (seven Republicans and two Democrats) seeking nomination in the August 6 primary for the post long held by State Representative Clifford Smart, who is not seeking re-election to the 24th district seat.

Brinker

Democrat William D. Brinker says that if elected to the Michigan House of Representatives he will be his own man.

"I'm not interested in filling Cliff Smart's shoes," stated Brinker emphatically. "I want to fill my own shoes. I have a great respect for him but I differ from him politically."

"I don't feel I'll have any problem filling the position because I know I'm an honest man."

Brinker says that his major qualifications are a matter of interpretation. Any responsible citizen, he claims, is qualified to run for office.

"I've been very active politically," claimed Brinker. "I've been a precinct delegate for the past four years and have attended district, county and state conventions. I'm a good voter and interested in good government."

According to Brinker extensive educational training in political science also gives him a competent understanding and knowledge of government.

WILLIAM BRINKER

LaVERNE DEWAARD

Brinker says that although he doesn't plan to campaign on Watergate he feels campaign reform should be a priority item for the legislators.

"I'm hoping good campaign reform legislation will be passed soon. All campaign expenditures have to be limited—even those of lobbyists."

According to Brinker a code of ethics is also needed for the legislature along with more openness in regard to legislative junkets.

"People have a right to know how business is conducted and I am opposed to the abuse of these practices," stated Brinker emphatically.

Despite the great need for campaign reform, however, Brinker claims he is convinced that the majority of legislators are conscientious, responsible people.

"A few can give a group a bad name," explained Brinker. "That's why I'm concerned with campaign reform. On certain things I'm discouraged, for example, the failure of the legislature to act more swiftly on campaign reform and the accompanying problems on the local level."

Consumer protection is another issue which Brinker feels requires immediate attention. Other high priority items include ecology and preservation of Michigan's natural resources.

"These areas need to be worked on," said Brinker. "There are many things the state has the power to do and can do if action is started."

Brinker says that although his campaign funds are extremely limited he hopes to visit South Lyon and the surrounding area soon," stated Brinker. "I will speak to anyone who is willing to listen to me."

Brinker, 41, is a resident of Novi where he lives with his wife and four sons.

He is currently employed as an American Government and History teacher at North Farmington High School and has five years of teaching experience in foreign countries.

He has been a precinct delegate for the Democratic Party for the past four years and has attended district, county, and state conventions.

DeWaard

"The little man today is not represented as he should be," claims Vern DeWaard, a candidate for the seat from the 24th district in the state legislature vacated by the recent retirement of Clifford Smart.

"I'm not part of any big corporation. I'm my own man and I won't be bought by any special interest groups."

DeWaard says that Cliff Smart was a good man, but believes that his own integrity, effort, enthusiasm, and interest in responsible government will amply qualify him for the Michigan House of Representatives.

According to DeWaard voters should be represented by lay people rather than professionals who may not have the equal understanding and knowledge of the man on the street.

DeWaard says that if he is elected he will work for welfare reform and suggests that people on welfare be helped to find jobs so they can earn their welfare aid.

State tax reform, claims DeWaard, is also another concern, especially as it applies to senior citizens who are living on a fixed income.

DeWaard says he is also fearful of state control of schools in exchange for state aid. He claims he plans to work for retention of local control for local schools.

Veterans, too, need help and should be given more attention, according to DeWaard.

The Michigan Legislature, claims DeWaard, is currently hampered by too much partisanship, and legislators need to concern themselves with the needs of their constituents rather than party goals.

He says he hopes, however, that Watergate will not affect the grass roots level of politics.

"I definitely feel that Watergate has no place in politics," stated DeWaard. "I hope voters will choose the best man without regard for party affiliation and that national politics will not affect the grass roots level."

DeWaard, 46, is married and the father of two children. He has been president of Novi School Board for two years and has served a total of six years on the school board.

DeWaard has also served four years of a six year term on the Oakland Intermediate Board and is currently on the Legislative Committee of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

"I have a great knowledge of bills as they apply to education and I know a great deal about the Michigan legislature. This will help me to look at bills objectively rather than subjectively," he stated.

College Plans Counseling Courses

Managing anxiety and human sexuality are topics which will be covered in two new courses to be offered by the Schoolcraft College counseling staff this fall.

Counseling 98-Anxiety Management is an eight-week seminar that has been developed by Counselors Richard Tomalty and Ronald Rogowski. It is designed to help persons to better cope with life's stressful situations such as test taking, public speaking and preparing for that "big task."

The course will include exercises in relaxation and desensitization. These will be combined with human potential techniques for developing positive self-image and regard for others to achieve the goal of managing anxiety.

Absentee Age

Lowered to 62

Persons 62 years of age and older are now able to vote by absentee ballot.

A bill signed July 2 by Governor William Milliken changes from 65 years to 62 years the eligibility of people to vote by absentee ballot. The bill, which immediately becomes effective, is now Public Act 189 of 1974.

Those 62 years of age or older or persons who expect to be absent from the community on election day or are physically unable to go to the polls may make application either in person or in writing at the clerk's office where they live for an absentee ballot.

Those with questions should contact their clerk's office. In Northville, call 349-1300; Northville township, 459-1710; Novi, 349-4300; and Wixom, 624-4557.

"We felt a need to develop a course like this after talking with students who had problems taking tests or giving speeches," Tomalty said. "We hope to help students with typical anxiety feelings."

A second new course, Counseling 99-Human Sexuality, is also planned. It is scheduled to meet for 16 weeks and was designed by Counselor Sylvia Vukmirovich.

Attitudes on sex, human anatomy, methods of contraception, social diseases and terminating pregnancy are among the topics which will be discussed.

Students will have an opportunity to take a pre-test and an after-test. This will give students an indicator as to what information they know before the seminar and what types of learning should take place during the course.

"We plan to utilize trained individuals from the community to act as resource people," Vukmirovich said.

"This could include doctors, pharmacists and other speakers, along with movies." There are no fees for either seminar.

Name Car Winners

They came from as far away as 65 miles and as close as "just around the corner" to drive their antique automobiles in the Northville Fourth of July Parade.

Winners of the Antique Classic Automobile category were just announced this week by Ron Bodnar, parade chairman. Plaques and trophies are being engraved now for the 13 winners, he added. A total of 42 participated in the parade.

Trophies went to Chuck Hoppee of Farmington for the best restored car. He drove a 1930 Ford Deluxe Roadster. Earning the best original car trophy was F. B. Foust of Plymouth with his 1931 Packard 826. Trophy for the best general entry went to Robert Erdelyi of Plymouth with a 1922 Studebaker six. Those receiving plaques for their restored automobiles were Eric Evans of Livonia, 1931 Ford Model A; Gerald Szostak of Detroit, 1928 Willys Knight; Richard G. O'Dell, Livonia, 1930 Model A Ford Coupe; Robert Weltyk of Garden City, 1931 Ford Coupe. Also receiving plaques for restored autos were Louis D. Flutur of Farmington, 1928 Model A Ford; James Oliver of 323 North Ely Drive, 1951 MG TD; and Duane Perrin, of Garden City, 1931 Willys.

Those receiving plaques for original condition cars were Dr. R. M. Atchison of 332 South Rogers, 1937 Jaguar; Clifford A. Herold Jr. of Howell, 1941 Buick; and Howard Dunlap of Plymouth, 1927 Chevrolet.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

If you were a few minutes late, you might miss a touchdown.

It was the golden era of electrifying football in the postwar years at the University of Michigan.

Crisler-groomed squads frequently stunned the thousands of fans still streaming into the 101,000-seat stadium by opening the game with a towering pass on first down.

The offense executed brilliantly and the defense defied penetration. It was one of those Crisler-Osterbaan teams of 1947-48 (when the two M mentors were consecutively chosen college "coach of the year") that won the Rose Bowl game, 49-0.

The Blue teams of the late forties were not only well-coached, they were manned by talented and determined youngsters who worked to win.

Perhaps the most determined, and the least young, was the big Lithuanian tackle who was the first man down the field under punts.

Al Wistert was the third, but not the youngest, of the brothers from Chicago to wear number 11 and play tackle at Michigan. The ex-marine decided that age 30 wasn't too old to carry on a family tradition. He did so brilliantly, winning All American recognition twice and captaining an undefeated Michigan team.

Twenty-five years later Wistert has lost none of the determination that marked his performances on the football field.

When he isn't selling containers for Owens-Illinois, he's working as Northville's probation officer, bugging employers for work for one of his probationers, or urging acquaintances to volunteer their spare time to help a youngster (or older) with problems.

Al doesn't try to appeal to your sense of duty or obligation. He just expects that anyone in a position to help someone else should take the time and make the effort to do so. It's no special favor; don't expect a big pat on the back. You ought to do it because you can.

One of the unpaid volunteers who never said "no" to Al was Bob Emery.

Ironically, he doesn't even live in Northville. But from his mobile home residence in Lyon township, Emery would take up to eight of Northville's toughest cases and work with them on a one-to-one basis.

In January this year he was shot twice by a pair of gunmen holding up a Detroit savings and loan office where Emery worked as a security guard.

He returned home recently from Craig Rehabilitation Hospital near Denver, where he received treatment for four months. He will return in about a month for another six weeks and, hopefully, he will learn to walk again with the aid of crutches and braces.

"He's a gutty guy. Maybe he can make it. He'll do whatever has to be done," says Wistert of his friend Emery.

But it will be a tough struggle. No control over the lower part of his body; his left elbow shattered by a bullet. Constant pain from the spinal column injury.

So what's Bob Emery doing between stints in the hospital? Well, he and his wife and adopted daughter must move into a larger mobile home, one equipped with wider doorways and a mechanical hoist to get Bob and his wheelchair into the house.

And he's taken back one of his toughest probation cases. The boy needs help. And Emery probably figures that Wistert would expect him to do it, if he's able.

Last March Wistert established a Robert J. Emery Fund at the Northville Probation Department. Jack Hoffman plugged the effort with a feature story. About $300 was collected.

Wistert thinks Emery needs $2,500 to ease some of his financial problems.

The first story was nice, but it wasn't enough.

Old number 11 won't get off my back until I write a column and send a check to the Robert J. Emery Fund, Northville Probation Department, 215 West Main Street, Northville, Michigan 48167.

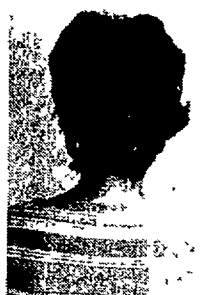

Emery and Wistert are a couple of gutty guys.

If you're thinking of sending a check, be forewarned.

Your only "thanks" will probably be a visit from Wistert in the future looking for more help from someone who can for someone who needs it.

Bob Emery and his friend—old number 11.

Ms. Letterwriter

YES . . .

I definitely approve of the "name withheld" letters-to-the-editor.

I'm the mother who remembers the cruelty of children, so when I write to the newspaper about school-oriented problems, I ask for anonymity to protect my child from harassment.

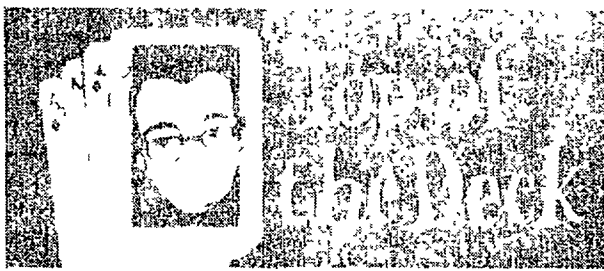

I'm the public employee, the union member, the businessman, merchant, bookkeeper, secretary who doesn't go down the line with the thinking of those who control or influence my financial welfare. I think my opinion deserves airing, but I'm afraid that my superiors may not be broad-minded enough to accept it in the constructive manner it is intended.

And, frankly, I am not overly confident of my ability to convey my thoughts. I feel them deeply and I hope that they hold meaning for others. But if I am totally wrong, I could not stand the embarrassment.

So I thank the newspaper for giving me the opportunity to withhold my identity. I understand that I must sign the letter so that the newspaper has a record of its authenticity. I'm afraid my letter-writing days would cease completely if my name had to appear in print.

I view this protection as a privilege and would not abuse it by taking unfair advantage of others.

Area Resident

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

By the time this column is published, our family will have completed the first of a two-week trip through historic Virginia in quest of any scrap of evidence surrounding the mysterious disappearance of a Civil War soldier who the government still insists was a deserter.

Most of our kids could care less about tramping through old battlefields and graveyards, but their stubborn father insisted they tag along "and learn a little about your country's history."

Their lack of exuberance as the vacation began was understandable. After all, they've had to live with their parents' strange preoccupation with this long-forgotten Whitmore Lake soldier ever since their father wrote about him in a series of articles in The South Lyon Herald 13 years ago.

To answer a question put to me by my boss before the vacation began, "No, we don't expect to find the missing soldier's grave, nor do we expect to find much more than did the soldier's great grandson when he made this same trip 15 years ago. It's simply to satisfy ourselves that nothing before was overlooked and to see first-hand the area where, as a member of Michigan's Fourth Infantry Regiment, Private Frederick R. Silsby, fought Confederate soldiers.

The Whitmore Lake woman who first interested me in this story was Mrs. Edna Stevens Gibb, who died three years ago. The original series of articles in The Herald were based primarily upon information supplied by Mrs. Gibb and upon the fascinating research done by Silsby's great grandson, Carleton McLain, Jr.

Upon our return, an updated version, including our findings in Virginia, will be forced upon readers of this column. Meanwhile, let me say only that Frederick Silsby, after having fought in Virginia and after having been treated for disease in a military hospital in Philadelphia either (by the official military account) deserted the Army or (by the accounts of others) returned to his Army unit only to die on a Virginia battlefield of smallpox.

Whichever account you wish to accept, it is a fact that Mrs. Silsby and her two children were never able to convince the government to wipe away the stigma of desertion even though they insisted to their own deaths that their husband and father never left Virginia alive.

Her husband gone and with the government refusing her a pension and-or clearance of her husband's record, Mrs. Silsby was forced to struggle for her family's survival. At least one child was eventually "boarded out" to do housework in the Whitmore Lake area because Mrs. Silsby was unable to provide sufficient food and clothing for all of them.

Before her death and following the series of articles in The Herald, Mrs. Gibb kindly presented me with a gift—a treasured keepsake of her mother, the child of Silsby who was boarded out. Mrs. Gibb and her mother are buried in the little cemetery at the northern edge of Whitmore Lake.

Speaking for Myself

Withhold Names Upon Request?

Pat Sporny

NO . . .

Letters to the editor should be signed and they should be recognized as a privilege. A writer with something to say can exercise this privilege freely and openly, but along with this privilege must come a responsibility to the reader, who sometimes finds himself a target of accusation, condemnation, praise or glorification.

Who is to say what is fact and what is fiction unless the reader also has the privilege for rebuttal and knows who the writer is?

I strongly oppose letters to the editor signed "Concerned Citizen" and question who is Concerned Citizen really concerned for when he refuses to sign his name? They are nothing more than fly-by-night concerned citizens who abuse this privilege by not pursuing their beliefs constantly and openly. Instead, they are bent on causing mistrust, friction and harmful confusion directed towards their fellow man who perhaps had the gumption to disagree with them at one time or another.

The objective of letters to the editor is to reach the reader, who should have the same privilege of reaching the writer. Letters to the editor should not be attempted if the writer doesn't expect opposition nor should they be written by an individual who cannot accept opposition.

I consider unsigned letters to the editor nothing more than a robber with a mask on, for they steal from the reader the right to reply or to question the motives of these robbers.

Letters to the editor should be signed for if it's worth writing and worth reading, it should be worth signing.

Vote for Handicapped In August Election

To the Editor:

My handicapped youngster is one of 32,571 handicapped children in Wayne County who is receiving special educational help through the special services and programs provided by our local school district and the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

There are about 15,000 more handicapped children who need service.

I urge you on behalf of Wayne County's nearly 50,000 handicapped children to contact your friends and urge them to vote "YES" for Proposition "A", a one-mill tax for the expansion of special education service.

Everyone can help by: Calling your friends. Let them know you'd like them to join you in voting "YES" for our handicapped children.

Contributing time and money for the successful passage of this election: Telephone contacts; working at the polls; talking to community groups and urging your friends to use an ABSENTEE ballot if they will be on vacation.

Voting "YES" to give almost 50,000 handicapped children the same kind of services, no matter where they live in Wayne County.

Let's all pitch in and do something "good" for the physically, mentally and emotionally impaired...the heading and visually impaired...the learning disabled child...speech and language impaired...and homebound children.

Please vote "yes" Tuesday, August 6...Proposition "A".

Fan Mail for Jerome

To the Editor:

The Novi News has done it again...an unprovoked attack on The City of Novi by their hatchet wielding reporter Phil Jerome. I, of course, refer to this pseudo-Pulitzer Prize winner's article on page 3C of the July 4th edition of the News entitled "J. P. Realty Stuns Upstarts in Novi Softball".

How dare you publish such a slanted view of the Novi Men's Softball League. Everyone knows any 28-year-old or 31-year-old can run faster, throw harder, hit further and looks more impressive in uniform than any old 41 year old. Excluding desire, experience, desire, skill and desire, what makes you think J. P. Realty's victory over Jim Storm Insurance is such a big deal? The next thing you will probably suggest is that Novi Parks and Rec form an "over 40 league" so we younger players won't have a chance to get even with the old timers. Just leave us alone and tell both sides of the story. With regard to Jerome, I might suggest you transfer him off to some place like South Lyon.

Our Policy on Letters

EDITOR'S NOTE—If the writer of the unsigned typewritten letter concerning the efforts of the Novi fire and police departments will come to The Record offices at Main and Center streets and sign the letter, it will be published. The writer's name will be withheld upon request, but a signature must be received.

This newspaper welcomes Letters to the Editor. We ask, however, that they be limited to 500 words and that they contain the signature, address and telephone number of the writer. Deadline for submission is 12 noon Monday. Names will be withheld upon request. We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity and libel.

To the Editor:

Although I have read a lot about the so called "waste of time in the city offices" I would like to add my opinion.

A year ago my family and I had a distressing incident regarding our swimming pool in which vandalism occurred soon after moving to the Village Oaks sub - caused by adults in the neighborhood. I use the term "neighbor" loosely.

One, Mr. Calvert from the Novi Building Department has been of vast service to us. No words could I use to express my thanks and appreciation to him. It was necessary for him to make several trips to our home to make sure that the electrical work was done correctly and in his making certain that the electrician I hired performed his work correctly at no additional expense to me. He is a man we can all be proud to have on our Novi Building Department payroll.

I say - 3 cheers for Mr. Calvert.

Madonna To Offer TV Class

A course in Television Production Techniques has been scheduled for the fall term at Madonna College. It should be especially attractive to persons in corrections, libraries, industry and education who would like to learn to produce their own programs on tape, according to Sister M. Lauriana, dean.

Students will learn to write and edit a script, direct a program, and produce visuals. They will also learn studio management, lighting, camera operation, and to record TV from the air.

Madonna has a three-camera studio, comparable to commercial studio capabilities.

The class will meet on Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m. Persons interested in enrolling should call the office of the registrar, Madonna College, 425-8000. There is no pre-requisite.

State Representative

The Legislature has acted on two major bills dealing with private roads this session. The legislation is of interest not only to residents of Highland Lakes, Kings Mill, and private roads such as Meadowbrook, Norton, Pierson, and Thornapple, but to everyone who uses these roads.

House Bill 5508 (P.A. 138 of 1974) has been signed into law by the Governor. The bill was given immediate effect and provides that a police officer may make an arrest on a private road upon complaint of an owner. Previously, police were unable to make arrests for such things as drunk driving, reckless and careless driving, or excessive noise because the premises are private and not covered by the Vehicle Code.

House Bill 5613 has passed the House and is awaiting action in the Senate. This bill establishes a procedure for having a private road determined a public road by the circuit court.

The township board would start the court action upon receipt of petition by the owners of 65 per cent of the frontage of the road and with prior written consent of the county road commission.

The road can be declared public if the court finds that it has been open to public use for at least ten years and that public money has been spent on it.

If the court doesn't find that the road is public, the township is given authority to acquire by purchase or condemnation the rights of the opposed owners and the court can then order that it is a public road.

The petitioners may be required by the township board to pay the estimated cost of proceedings before the case is begun.

After a road is declared public, the township may have the road improved and all or part of the cost assessed to benefitting property owners.

Plan Dinner for Gib Willis

By NANCY DINGELDEY

It was announced by Sylvia Vangieson this week that former mayor Gib Willis will be honored at a testimonial dinner at the Squire's Table in Walled Lake on July 31. The dinner, featuring prime rib, all the trimmings and including cocktails will begin at 7:30 p.m. at a cost of $10 per person. Reservations and ticket information for the evening are available through Sylvia at 624-2232.

Softball can be a rough sport although it is generally not thought of in that light. But Rob Trombley can attest to the roughness as he sports a hip-length cast on his leg for the next few weeks.

Rob collided during a slide attempt with the second baseman who had positioned himself on the bag. After the dust cleared both men had sustained injuries, with the second baseman transported to the hospital by ambulance.

Rob's ankle was broken and required surgical repair followed by a five day stay in the hospital. He's now home hobbling around looking forward to having the cast cut down to the lower part of his leg.

And John Miner has been released from the hospital and is recuperating from surgery at home. He's looking good but "getting fidgety" says John. He and wife Lorraine joined their son and daughter-in-law at the New Hudson airport for a flying jaunt to Owosso for dinner Saturday evening.

The month of July holds much in store for Ron Parvu, a recent graduate of Michigan State. Ron has accepted a teaching assignment in Brazil for the next two year.

He will be teaching physical education in the high school system of the American Elementary and High School located in Sao Paulo. With the job comes the opportunity to travel through South America with the athletic teams of the basically American school.

He departs for Miami Saturday for orientation and will take up residency in Brazil as soon as his visa clears.

Unfortunately, Ron will miss the October 26 wedding of his brother, Don, to Brenda Holland of West Road.

Funtime's awaiting the kids who have been attending the Parks and Recreation Commission's summer program. Thirty kids have been learning the fundamentals of tennis while on the golf links, 30 more are enrolled. Helping the daily program of arts and crafts has been the Oakland County mobile units.

Scheduled for this Monday is the skatemobile with parents cordially invited to join in the fun. Plenty of skates in a wide variety of sizes are available for all.

During the final days of the program, the kids will enjoy a day at the Powers Picnic Site with swimming, races and games planned. And to wind it all up, an excursion trip on the paddlewheel boat at Kensington Park

Plans are moving along for the Wixom Country Fair which will be held September 13 and 14 at the V.F.W. Since it is hoped there will be even greater participation this year, it was decided to move the fair from City Hall to larger quarters.

Added to the list of events this year are more classifications in the needlework sections which will now include rug hooking, weaving, macrame and needlepoint.

For the kids, two new classifications instead of the child's flower arrangement of last year. And there's been the addition of a "for men only" class in flower arranging plus a section featuring children's hobbies. All this and more will be found in the fair book which will be available the first part of August.

Included in the fair book will be the entry blank, description of the various classes and a coupon for a drawing of a $25 bond. The books will be on sale for $1...these monies then will be used to support the fair itself.

Several organizations have already shown interest in having booths at the fair to make the whole thing even more enjoyable. All are welcome to participate and can do so by calling Nancy Dingeldey at 624-3950.

Mrs. James Schemanske inspects Wixom flag contest entries.

Wixom Completes Plans To Choose City Flag

"Within the month, Wixom could very well have its own City flag," stated Jim Schemanske after being named by Wixom City Council to head a committee to select a flag from among the 18 entries in the city-wide flag designing contest.

Schemanske, head of the 1974 Michigan Week Committee, announced that he would begin contacting people this week to serve on the committee and noted that members of the panel would be drawn from the city council, chamber of commerce, Wixom Jaycees and the 1974 Michigan Week Committee.

Upon these eight impartial judges will fall the duty of choosing a flag which is intended to fly alongside the national and state flags.

The idea for the city-wide contest was introduced by the 1973 Michigan Week Committee headed by Katherine Wahamaki. The entries were to be judged and a flag manufactured during the following January with its first flying scheduled during Michigan Week 1974.

Instead, the deadline was extended by this year's committee to coincide with Michigan Week. The contest was brought to a close, but the unresolved question of how to judge kept the entries in a file folder. City Clerk June Buck brought the matter to the attention of council one month ago, and it fell on members' shoulders to determine the method for judging.

In all, seven people entered the contest, submitting not only the color drawings but a paragraph explaining the symbolism of their idea as well.

Ideas range from a militia man symbolizing the past heritage of Wixom to a car and travel trailer mounted on an outline of the state.

According to Schemanske, selection of the flag will be made as quickly as possible after the committee is formed with the winning design officially announced at a coming council meeting.
