Rain Can't Halt Sidewalk Extravaganza

Fair weather or foul, Northville will stage its annual sidewalk sale Saturday from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

And it will be bigger than ever. "If it's raining, bring your umbrellas," urges Chairman Charles Lapham, who notes that because of the annual Northville Fair on the following weekend, there's no postponement date available.

In addition to more merchants than ever participating in the carnival-like sale event, more than 60 organizations and individuals will hawk their wares—which range from antiques and arts and crafts to ice cream, baked goods and beverages.

And for the first time Main street will be blocked off all the way from Hutton street to Wing street, and Center from Main to Dunlap. The streets will be occupied by hundreds of displays and the sidewalks lined with sale-priced merchandise.

Northville Square, the community's new shopping mall, is joining in the sidewalk sale event and that's why the closing of Main street has been extended a second block westward, Lapham explained.

Traditionally, the event attracts the biggest crowds to Northville's business district. Lapham expressed concern that parking may be at a premium because of the loss of spaces on the street.

Shoppers are urged to use offstreet parking lots on Dunlap, Wing and Cady streets, as well as the Cady street parking deck.

In addition permission has been received from Northville Downs to use the paved portion of the track's parking lot near the grandstands or the lot at the corner of South Center street and Seven Mile. All parking is free. Cars using the Downs' parking lot must be removed by 6 p.m., however, because of motorcycle races scheduled Saturday night.

State Backs Horse Racing For 5th Fair

Now officially recognized by the state, Northville's Community Fair this year will feature harness racing—the first time since the old Wayne County Fair was held here in 1942.

What's more the local fair will boast the finest fair for racing facilities anywhere in Michigan—the tailor-made track of Northville Downs.

In its fifth year the Northville fair is now officially recognized by the state, which permits non-betting races involving Michigan bred horses and provides prize money for winning drivers. Horses will be competing in eight races for individual purses of $1200 for a grand total of $9,600.

As a Michigan sanctioned fair activity, the state will provide 75 percent of the purses, while the fair's sponsor, the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, must provide the remaining 25 percent.

No pari-mutuel betting at the Downs is permitted for this fair activity, which will be held August 2 at 2 p.m. The fair opens Thursday, August 1 and concludes Sunday evening, August 4.

Besides the harness racing, this year's grandstand shows will include a motorcycle thrill presentation as well as the world-famous Hurricane Hell Drivers who in past performances here have drawn thousands of spectators.

The motorcycle show is slated for 8:15 on August 3, while the Hurricane Hell Drivers will perform twice the following day—at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Admission to all these grandstand shows will be charged. Tickets for the harness racing will cost $1 for adults, 50-cents for children. Admission to the other grandstand shows will be $2 for adults, $1 for children.

Three free shows also are planned during the fair, including the always popular 4-H Horse Show, an antique show, as well as a new "goat milking show."

The latter is to feature a goat-milking contest involving the Doebeuckids 4-H Club of Wayne County. The goat show will be held August 3 at 4 p.m.

The 4-H horse show will start at 9 a.m. on August 9, while the antique show will get underway at 10 a.m. on August 2, 3, and 4.

All of these shows will be sandwiched between a host of other activities, including some 25 amusement rides on the midway north of the Downs grandstands; the Northville Jaycee August-

Fest—a tent featuring German style food, beer and dancing; arts and crafts displays beneath the grandstand; and some 20

BACK TO SCHOOL SHINE — Putting the shine back on the corridors at Northville High can be quite a job when you think of the 1,600 students who'll run, walk and slide across the floors from 7 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. when school resumes. Louie Bulmon recently took the job in hand and had the floors gleaming when he finished. Similar maintenance work is going on in all of the district's buildings, readying them for the August opening of year-round school.

Bureau Chief Named

Township Adopts Fire Code

By a 4-1 vote last Thursday, Northville township trustees adopted a fire prevention code and named the building official as chief of the fire prevention bureau.

Voting for the motion were Supervisor Lawrence Wright, Clerk Sally Cayley and Trustees John MacDonald and Richard Mitchell. Casting the dissenting vote was Treasurer Joseph Straub who said he was opposed to the inspection title given to the police chief.

Trustees Charles Schaeffer and Leonard Klein were not in the meeting room when the code was adopted.

The code, which becomes effective 30 days after publication, governs structures, storage of substance and items which could be flammable, fire lanes, parking and other matters.

The fire prevention bureau, adopted under the fire prevention ordinance, is the regulatory body. Chief of the bureau will be Carl Lundquist, building official, with Ronald Nisun, police chief, serving as inspector. Police officers will serve as deputy inspectors.

In recommending adoption of the ordinance, Township Attorney Donald Morgan said the titles are names only. He said he envisioned the building official as head of the bureau since "the police department is not used to dealing with structures."

"The building code also contains more fire prevention (rules and regulations) than does the fire code," Morgan added.

By ordinance, the Council Moves on Zoning Map

Ordinance Decisions Refute City Planners

City planners' batting average dropped sharply Monday as the Northville council approved several controversial zoning designations on the proposed new zoning map.

Despite contrary recommendations of planners, the council in public hearing approved—

- Professional office zoning for the three lots lying between the Chatham supermarket and Walnut street.

- Multiple zoning for the George Kohs property including the house located adjacent to the Cady Street cemetery.

- Commercial designation for property along Main opposite the city hall, between High and Wing, and along the west side of Wing Street, opposite the municipal parking lot, from Main to Dunlap.

- Multiple zoning for property along Taft from Eight Mile to the high school bus driveway to the bus garage area.

- Placement of properties along the north side of Dunlap between Wing and Center in a commercial district, with the remainder of the properties in the block along Wing and Randolph to carry a residential classification.

- Commercial zoning for properties on the east side of Center, from Rayson south to the north boundary of the Detroit Federal.

Another controversial zoning for Asher's service station property at Rogers and Fairbrook—was left untouched it presently carries a non-conforming residential designation, with indication that council may consider amendment of the ordinance to permit the board of appeals the right to grant expansion of non-conforming uses.

If the amendment were made, the appeals board could, if it chose, permit proposed enlargement and improvement of the station.

Most significant of the planning commission recommendations receiving council endorsement were:

- A performance regulated industrial zoning for the area bounded by Main, Griswold, Cady and Park Place.

- A commercial designation for the west side of South Main, from Beal to Gardner.

- Elimination of a parking zoning designation, with suggestion that instead of zoning city park lands that they be dedicated as parks, thus requiring a vote of the people before the land be sold by the council

Although the council voted separately on each of the foregoing zoning designations, their actions do

RACING ended for the summer at Northville Downs Tuesday night with the sulkies moving to Livonia's Wolverine Raceway from July 24 to October 26. Through last Saturday, the 22nd night of racing in the 24-night summer meet, betting was up 13.9 per cent and attendance 8.4 per cent. Total mutuel handle was $8,541,625, an average of $388,256 nightly. Last Saturday night the mutuel handle was $519,475, second highest of the season. Average attendance was 4,462 fans nightly.

VOTER GUIDES for primary candidates in Oakland and Wayne counties and in Northville Township have been compiled by the League of Women Voters and will be available the beginning of August in the Township hall and the Northville Library.

FOOTBALL will make its 1974 debut at the Northville high school field Saturday night, September 7 when the second annual Northville versus Catholic Central alumni game will be staged. Mike Zayti is again heading up plans for the game, which ex-Mustang gridders won last year, 21-6. All the proceeds from the game go towards payment of bonds for the high school's lighted athletic field. But next week (August 1-4) the Northville Alumni team will have a booth at the Northville Fair at Northville Downs. They hope to raise enough money to buy their own jerseys. Zayti said he is expecting a 40-member squad this year.

CITY COUNCILMEN and other officials will tour the Wayne County Child Development facilities on Sheldon Road early Monday evening to determine if any parts of it could be used for city purposes, including recreation and senior citizen housing.

Alaskan Trip Follows Hasenau-Hemming Vows

Newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hemming now are on a wedding trip to Alaska which may extend into a more permanent stay. They have shipped their car with them to Anchorage, tentatively planning to seek work in Alaska.

The bride is the former Christina Hasenau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. James Hasenau of Six Mile Road, Northville. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hemming of Branch Drive, Wixom.

They exchanged vows in a 7 p.m. ceremony July 5 at our Lady Queen of Hope Church in Detroit, the former parish of the bridegroom. The Reverend Father Edward Haggerty officiated at the service in which Judy Mann played the "Wedding Song" and "Follow Me" on the guitar.

Readings were given by the bridegroom's brother, Bill Hemming, who was best man, and by the bride's sister, Mrs. James (Sue) Baird, matron of honor.

The bride's parents both gave her in marriage at the altar decorated with two blue and white bouquets.

The bride wore her sister's wedding gown of peau de soie appliqued with French lace. Her veil was a Spanish-type lace mantilla.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Craig (Janie) Leszcynski, Elizabeth Szymanski, Brenda Siwek and Mrs. Bill Wright.

They and the matron of honor wore gowns of light blue dotted swiss with lace-trimmed collars and tied with bows in back. They carried bouquets of daisies with baby's breath tied with light blue streamers.

Carlene Hemming was flower girl, and John Hasenau was ring bearer. Ushers were Craig Leszcynski, John Lenihan, Mark Viaw and Bill Wright.

A reception followed at Mercy College for 200 guests.

Both the bride and her husband are graduates of Western Michigan University. They hoped to teach or find other employment in Alaska if they liked their honeymoon visit.

Engagements

DORANN CLOUD

From Billings, Missouri, comes the announcement of the engagement of Dorann Lea Cloud to Allen C. Jones, a former Northville resident and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claren C. Jones of 760 Spring Drive, Northville.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cloud of Billings and is a graduate of Southwest Missouri State University. She taught home economics at Puxico, Missouri.

Her fiancé is a 1965 graduate of Northville High School and a 1969 graduate of University of Michigan. He is employed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service as a manager of the Mackay Island Wildlife Refuge in North Carolina.

An August 24 wedding date is set for this summer.

PEGGY COOK

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene K. Cook of 118 Ely Drive South announce the engagement of their daughter, Peggy, to Allen Charles Bernthal of St. Louis, Missouri.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bernthal of that city.

The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Northville High School and expects to graduate from DePaul University in Chicago in March, 1975, with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. Her fiancé will be graduating this December from Loyola University Medical School.

They have set an April 5, 1975 wedding date.

MARTHA BURGESS

Mrs. Ellen M. Burgess of Joplin, Missouri, announces the engagement of her daughter, Martha Jane, to David Henry Bumann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orland H. Bumann of 27171 Wixom Road, Novi.

He has recently returned from Iceland and a three-year tour of duty with the United States Navy. He is a 1971 graduate of Novi High School.

His fiancée is a 1973 graduate of Joplin High School and presently is employed at Freeman Hospital in Joplin.

An October wedding is planned.

JANET MILLER

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Miller of 265 Hutton, Northville, and formerly of South Lyon, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janet Lee, to David Stephen Offenborn of 18705 Innsbrook Drive, Northville.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert George Offenborn, Sr., of Dearborn Heights.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Miller of South Lyon.

She is a 1971 graduate of Northville High School and now is employed at Michigan Tractor and Machinery Company as a secretary. Her fiancé, a 1965 graduate of Riverside High School, also is employed there.

They have set an August 24 wedding date.

Feted on Birthday

A dinner honoring Mrs. Edna Luths Crawford, wife of Charles S. Crawford, a retired executive of the Kern Company, was held Saturday at Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

The Crawfords have been Novi residents for more than 50 years. Many old friends and relatives attended the birthday dinner hosted by Mrs. Crawford's cousin, Miss Carolyn L. Luths of Detroit.

The honoree received gifts, cards and mementos, and the evening was spent reminiscing.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Eggert of Wixom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Patton of Flint, Mrs. William Burroughs of Southfield, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Davis, Leona Hayden and Dorothea Siefert, all of Detroit.

In Our Town Sidewalk Sale Includes Crafts, Antiques, Books

By JEAN DAY

THIS SATURDAY is bargain day in our town as merchants promise the "biggest ever" annual sidewalk sale. Main street will be closed an extra block to include Northville Square merchants.

In addition there will be 58 arts and crafts, antiques and books booths of individuals and organizations.

Sale organizer Charles Lapham points out that this is the only sidewalk sale in the area that "not only allows but invites such outside participants."

He adds that with a total of "almost 100 outdoor booths we're living a little dangerously as we set no alternative rain date and the sale goes on—rain or shine." In event of rain, booth owners will be selling under their umbrellas.

At about 32 crafts booths individuals will have pottery, weaving and macrame, leathercrafts, dolls and accessories, dried flowers, jewelry, paintings, lapidary and decoupage. There also will be more than a dozen antiques booths.

FRIENDS of Northville Library promise a good selection of used books, including sought-after Christmas crafts volumes. There also will be a "silent auction" throughout the day at the booth in which passers-by are invited to inspect and make bids on some choice encyclopedias and other reference sets. The written bids will be tallied at the end of the sale with the books going to the highest bidders.

MICHIGAN OPERA Theatre's local committee, a division of Detroit Grand Opera Association, will be selling used paperbacks to raise opera funds and also will have tickets and information about the 1974-75 Detroit opera season which opens in October.

Mrs. James Gorden, chairman, reports that the books will include donations from long-time opera supporter, Mrs. Ernest J. Shave.

THE BAKE SALE booth of Mizpah Chapter, King's Daughters, again will be in the parking lot area by Northville

Drug Store. This booth of homemade goodies always is a sell-out attraction for a good cause. King's Daughters is called upon to help needy families throughout the year and traditionally supplies holiday food baskets in the community.

The sidewalk sale will run from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., but—as with all "one-of-a-kind" bargains,—the best go early.

AN ORIGINAL musical, "The Power of It All," written by Northville composer Charlene Slabey and Farmington lyricist June Rado for the Farmington sesquicentennial, played to a sell-out first night audience last Friday at Farmington Players Barn.

"Audience reaction was great," Mrs. Slabey comments delightedly as she contrasts the new musical with "Mackinac!" which the duo created two years ago.

"This is much faster paced," Mrs. Slabey says with the audience rating it a "total success." Tickets are available for the final three performances this weekend.

A flying trip to Denver earlier this month for Mrs. Philip Nauman was a vacation and also a reunion with her daughter, Mrs. Harry (Barbara) Christman, and her family. The Christmans with son, Eric, 3, and daughter, Andrea, who will be two in September, were transferred to Denver from Minnesota in April.

Margaret Nauman, secretary of Northville First Presbyterian Church, reports that the condominium "boom" is much greater there with Aspen and Vail inundated with them.

Mrs. D. J. (Pearl) Stark and Miss Leona Parmalee of Northville flew to Houston, Texas, last Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Stark's sister-in-law, Mrs. Clifford Hyde, a former Northville resident. Mrs. Hyde, the former Doris Stark, was a Northville resident and a graduate of Northville High School. She died July 18 with services and burial at LaPorte, Texas, where the Hyde family operates a flying service.

Friends Honor Eilbers

Mr. and Mrs. Merner Eilber of 229 Hutton, Northville, actually marked their 50th wedding anniversary July 19, but the celebration extended over the weekend with friends and family joining them at dinner and open house.

They were married at Mrs. Eilber's family home in Zurich, Ontario, in 1924, moving to Detroit shortly afterward and then to Northville in 1946 Mrs. Eilber is the former Maida Routledge.

Since retiring as a salesman of toys, stationery and sundries for 40 years in the Detroit area, Merner Eilber has begun a new career. He works six hours a day during the summertime as a shrubbery trimmer for green Ridge Nursery. Besides keeping him outdoors, he notes that the work keeps his waistline trim.

Both the Eilbers enjoy gardening with Mrs. Eilber having been a garden club member. Both have been active members of Northville United Methodist Church.

They have two sons, Charles and his wife, Carol, live in Marquette, Michigan, and Douglas lives in New York City.

In a family group that included their three granddaughters the Eilbers were honorees at dinner at the Drawbridge on the Saturday with a reception following for friends Open house also was held Sunday afternoon.

HONOR RETIREE—On hand at the retirement dinner for Mrs. Ruby Koester last Friday at the Tack Room were her husband Herbert, left, and son, Norman, of Grosse Pointe. Mrs. Koester is retiring officially Friday after 22½ years at Northville State Hospital.

Ruby Koester to Retire

When Ruby Koester retires this Friday from Northville State Hospital, she will have completed 22½ years of service in the personnel office.

She recalls that when she began work at the then-new facility on January 28, 1952, the hospital had 25 patients and no food services.

She saw the patient load grow to 2,300 in the 1960's and estimates it now is about 1,000 with many other patients in after-care homes outside the hospital.

For the first six months that she was at the hospital, Mrs. Koester remembers, the office was located in the basement as front offices were still being built. Social service, pharmacy, laboratory and x-ray staffs all were then hired by her office.

The first patients, she explains, were able to walk about and were cared for by nurses brought from the Ypsilanti hospital. Food was catered.

For 18 years Mrs. Koester was secretary to personnel director Jack L. Patterson. Since his retirement in 1970 she has been secretary to the present director, Edwin Pierson.

Mrs. Koester was honored at a farewell dinner last Friday at the Tack Room for about 40 co-workers and relatives.

Hospital friends also were dropping by to extend best wishes at an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesday in the hospital cafeteria.

Mrs. Koester and her husband, Herbert, may be taking some short trips, but she's mainly looking forward to "staying home" at 42780 East Eight Mile Road. The Koesters have two children; a son, Norman, lives in Grosse Pointe while a daughter, Mrs. Joan Lezama, lives in Massachusetts.

Plan Childbirth Classes

Plymouth Childbirth Education Association will sponsor a series of Lamaze childbirth classes which meet at 7:30 p.m. once a week at the following locations:

August 7, St. John's Episcopal Church, 555 South Wayne, Westland; August 20, St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 South Sheldon, Livonia and August 26, Livonia Wickes Furniture Store.

In the classes, nurses give instruction in neuromuscular control and effective breathing techniques. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Doris Cross, 455-7750.

In Walled Lake Club

Senior Citizens Hike, Bike

The mottled brightness of the wooded path reflects on the white hair of the hikers. The group moves along briskly, although the soft soil of the trail shows the blunt round imprint of rubber tipped canes.

The hikers are part of a senior citizens Hike and Bike Club, sponsored by the Community Education Department of the Walled Lake School District. They meet the first and third Thursday of each month, sometimes at members' homes and sometimes at Kensington MetroPark.

When at Kensington, after exploring a nature trail or riding a bicycle on paved paths, the oldsters gather by the lake to share coffee and a light lunch. This latter is as much a part of the club as are the more strenuous activities, said Fran Sarto, the district's senior citizen's co-ordinator. "It's the fellowship of it as much as anything," she said.

That this fellowship exists is clear as soon as the group congregates. One old gentleman whizzes around the parking lot on his yellow

English bike going "at least 20 miles an hour," then demonstrates that he hasn't forgotten how to ride no-hands, spurred on by appreciative comments.

Some participants are not quite so expert and several, including Mrs. Doris McCarthy, are in the process of learning how to ride for the first time. "I still practice mostly in driveways," she said.

Mrs. McCarthy is one of a half dozen members who have acquired bicycles since the club began this summer. One of the older members of the group bought, not only a three wheeled bicycle, but a single snowmobile carrier so she can participate wherever the group meets.

weather and location. The club was added to the senior citizens group's already busy schedule of meetings, golf, ceramics, field trips and square dancing. "Fran keeps us so busy, I hardly have time for my work," Mrs. McCarthy said.

Most of the group agrees with regular participant George Belpres that "when you're active like this, you feel young, not like you're just sitting there in a rocking chair."

Here's How to Tell Romantic News

The Northville Record welcomes engagement and wedding news.

So that summer brides and their mothers are not disappointed in having their wedding stories published, here are the rules:

Wedding information should be received by the newspaper no later than 15 days after the ceremony has taken place. Wedding forms are available at the office at 104 West Main Street in Northville. They require complete names of participants, their families and members of the wedding party.

Pictures submitted may be of the couple or of the bride alone, but they must be clear and black and white. Color prints are not acceptable. If wedding photographers are requested to do so beforehand, they usually can take a black and white print for the newspaper.

Black and white prints are required for engagement pictures also.

The office has forms for engagement announcements. This information can not be taken over the telephone although the staff will be glad to assist in filling out forms

Earn Award

Bill Ross, son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Ross, 24524 Old Orchard, has been awarded an Eastern Michigan University Honors Scholarship for the 1974-75 academic year which begins September 4.

Bill will be enrolled as a sophomore, his major is undecided.

Some Wixom Residents Like Unpaved 'Atmosphere'

While discussing roads, drainage and water problems with City Engineer Larry Pate Tuesday, Wixom City Council received a petition from residents of Maganser and Bell Coney roads asking not to have their streets paved.

Mayor Val Vangieson commented that it is rather unusual for residents to want their roads to remain gravel and asked what percent had signed the petition.

Jon Jerore and his wife, Mary, estimated that about 90 percent had agreed, giving the reasons that there is less speeding on unpaved roads and that they "like the atmosphere" just as it is.

Vangieson indicated that the request should pose no problem.

Water drainage to Loon Lake, however, has presented a problem to council. After discussing the possibility of blacktopping with sod ditches, the council instructed the engineer to prepare engineering specifications with alternate solutions to correct drainage at the base of Flamingo.

Anticipating a future growth rate for Wixom, the council discussed water supply from Detroit, which presently is selling it at 31 cents a thousand gallons but had indicated a 5-cent raise for 1975, as opposed to city wells, which Pate estimates would cost 47 to 63 cents a thousand for comparable water.

Elementary School Design OK'd

But Rising Cost Worries Board

Architects Drawing of Proposed New Novi Elementary School on Taft Road

Unanimous approval of first architectural designs for a new Novi elementary school adjacent to the middle school was given Thursday by the Novi School Board.

The board also reaffirmed the two-building concept for the planned new high school and authorized the superintendent to direct the architect to proceed with schematic drawings.

Prior to giving their approval, board members indicated that they were well aware that, as President Robert Wilkins stated, costs have changed "powerfully" in a year's time and that the district may not be able to complete all six projects which voters approved in a $13.5 million building program in June, 1973.

Information to the board from Miller Davis, the district's construction management firm, dated July 18 pointed out that the original estimate budget of $9.9 million for the high school may be exceeded by 12 percent for a projection of more than $11 million.

It was pointed out, however, that the elementary school estimate of $1,500,000 is close to the amount originally budgeted.

In approving plans for the new elementary, the board also indicated it prefers an angle location on the site, which in addition to being aesthetically pleasing gives close playground access to the kindergarten area and athletic field proximity to the gymnasium location.

The new school incorporates requests of a citizens' committee study a year ago, including a community-use room adjacent to the entrance and a music room opening into an activity area.

Other special rooms include reading room, science lab, arts and crafts and mechanical.

A media center divides eight lower elementary rooms from the eight upper elementary rooms which are adjoining a central core administration area. For reasons of economy the board instructed the architect to transpose positions of the arts and crafts and the kitchen area, placing arts and crafts closer to the teaching area. Board Vice President Gilbert Henderson pointed out that the new elementary is "beyond anything the district has ever done in terms of size (37,000 square feet), quality and cost." He indicated that it will be a school "of which the district can be proud."

Henderson said that in the event the second projected elementary could not be built within the funding of the present expansion program many of the rooms in the planned new school could convert to classroom use.

Site work and foundation plans are expected to come before the board by mid-September.

Representatives of the construction management company and Richard Prince, architect, were present as the board was being asked to give further direction in view of increased costs. The administration pointed out that all drawings had been stopped on the high school pending review.

New board member James Helmer in voting to continue with the two-building high school (circular commons area with services and a two-level classroom building with gymnasium and auditorium) reported that during the last month while campaigning he visited approximately 800 homes and "came away with the feeling that residents want us to go ahead and meet the needs of the district with good schools and good teachers."

Board member Norman Miller suggested that the construction management firm and architect should seek cost savings within the original concept. This was the board feeling as it okayed going ahead.

In discussion of the two-building concept versus a one-building construction it was pointed out that the school staff had "spent a year on what they wanted and the two-building concept was evolved."

It was anticipated that a high school timetable for progress would produce the schematic drawings by mid-August and preliminary drawings four weeks later.

Dual Tax Collection

School Eyes Advocacy Resolution

At its August 1 meeting Novi School Board will consider a resolution it has instructed Superintendent Gerald Kratz to prepare to put it on record as favoring a dual tax collection for school taxes so long as it can be done at no additional cost to taxpayers. Kratz reported Thursday that the City of Novi had informed him that the council needs a formal action of the board and that the school district will assume "start-up" costs.

A car allowance it approved purchase of two Ford LTD's from Spiker Ford at a cost of $8652 with the stipulation that they are to be kept for a minimum of 60,000 miles. They are for general use of both administrators with the district paying maintenance and insurance.

It was explained that school districts have been placed in top priority classification for fuel needs, but under federal regulations they are required to stay with present suppliers rather than seek bids.

The board therefore voted to continue with Leemon Oil Company, which has assured the district it will supply gasoline in "transport wagon" quantities at reduced rates.

A schedule for free or reduced rate meals depending upon family size and income was adopted for the 1974-75 year with Dr. William Barr, assistant superintendent, reporting that on a daily basis the district serves 80 to 90 children in the program.

Employment of Timothy Daley as learning disabilities teacher at Village Oaks school at a salary of $9,225 was approved. He had been released from Walled Lake to accept the position. He has one-and-a-half-years' experience.

Charlotte Majors, who has been employed in the district's summer workshop, was hired as secretary at Orchard Hills School.

It was reported to the board that the summer school program under Title I funding has 70 students enrolled who will be in classes from July 8 through August 2.

Residents

To Host Candidates

A "Meet the Candidates" night, sponsored by a group of Novi residents, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, August 1 at the Novi Middle School.

All Democratic and Republican candidates for the United States Congress, Governor, State Senator, State Representative, District Court Judge, County Executive and County Commissioner seats have been invited.

Many candidates have responded favorably and will be attending, according to Audrey Murphy, one of the organizers.

Among the candidates who have accepted are all three persons running for the position of county executive. They are Dan Barry, Kuthy and present County Administrator Dan Murphy.

Democrat James Wells, who is running for the gubernatorial position, has also accepted although no word has been heard from his opposition.

Building Income Climbs in June

Although Novi building activity remained approximately the same for June, 1974, as in June, 1973, building department income has increased approximately 20 percent for that month.

The city's present financial woes can be traced directly back to a $100,000 lag in building department income compared to anticipated income during the 1973-74 fiscal year.

June's income is, however, slightly above that of a year ago and Everett Bailey, director of the Department of Building and Safety for the city, said the difference comes from an increase in electrical and heating permits.

Electrical permits increased from $2,122 to $3,130 while heating permits jumped from $336 to $1,434. The increase is caused because developers who were applying for building permits last year are now applying for the secondary heating and electrical permits, Bailey said.

However, there is an unexplained drop in plumbing permits from $1,065 last year to $539.50. Bailey said a "myriad" of variables could play a role in the drop.

Over June of last year, building permits themselves only increased by approximately $50, going from $1,965.50 to $2,013.54.

In June, 1973, there were building permits issued for five houses while this year, permits have been issued for two houses and a condominium of four units.

Overall, to July 1 of this year, the city has received $123,140.04 income, down from

The board tabled action at last week's meeting on milk bids for the 1974-75 school year until it had more information on what fractional price differences would total and on suppliers' service. They will be considered August 1.

In line with board action at its first meeting this month to supply the superintendent and assistant with cars instead of

Work Commences On City Building

The foundation has been laid and the frame is being put in place for the new interim administrative facility which is being constructed behind the Novi City Hall.

Work on the $31,000 structure began two weeks ago. According to City Manager Harold Saunders, when completed the facility will house the offices of the clerk, treasurer, city comptroller and city manager.

The building is to be a bi-level structure with 1680 square feet per floor. Funds for the structure were approved earlier this year by the council and come basically from the reserve fund.

As an interim facility, the building will house the administrative offices until the new library is completed at the municipal complex scheduled for 10 Mile and Taft Roads. No date has yet been set for groundbreaking on the library although the architects are working on plans.

When the new library is finished, administrative officials will move into the old library facilities, leaving the interim facility to be sold or leased.

Officials presently holding the administrative forces of the city will go to the police department which will be able to abandon the basement of the administration building, Saunders said. The basement would then be used for storage.

FRAMING IT UP--A lone workman pounds the frame into place on the new interim administration building which is currently being constructed behind city hall on Novi Road.

The building is expected to be completed within two months.

Council Considers Recording System

Novi city council may soon be joining the White House in owning a Uher tape recorder, the brand which indelibly etched — or recorded — the names of Richard Nixon, John Ehrlichman and John Dean in the history books.

Consideration is presently being made by the council to purchase the equipment in order to supplement notes taken by the stenographer and city clerk at council meetings and to provide a full record for future use.

The council had a chance to hear the recording system in a try-out at the last official meeting and appeared favorably impressed, according to City Manager Harold Saunders.

Although the system, provided by Daltons, Incorporated of Detroit, costs $1,060.25, the final cost may be higher as an extra microphone will be needed to pick up audience participation, Saunders said. There also may be a rise in the cost of mixing facilities to accommodate the extra microphone.

Saunders said he will bring up the question of purchasing the system at the next council meeting, following updated cost estimates.

SCIENCE GRANT — Math courses in Northville Public Schools are getting a boost this summer as 33 teachers from the district are involved in a three-week program to improve instruction and implement individual student learning methods. Funds for the program are being provided by a $6,400 grant from the National Science Foundation. Instruction is being done by Dr. Donald Buckeye of Eastern Michigan University. Above, teachers build math materials and geoboards for use this coming year in classrooms. Left to right are Diane Madej (bending), Muriel Ross, Nancy Larson, Trisha Hopkins, Sue Kelly and Gayle Fountain. In the picture at left, Dr. Buckeye explains metric system to teachers. The purpose of the program is to let teachers know what is happening in math instruction in kindergarten through eighth grade, provide leadership to those teachers not involved in the summer course and to let the high school teachers know what students have learned in elementary and middle school so they can gear their high school programs along the same lines, Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni explained.

For Any-Age Sailor

Sailboat Cake Requires Nine-Inch Square Pan

Kids of all ages will have fun with this special treat. It's a Sailboat Cut-Up Cake with flaked coconut on the mainsails.

Arrange pieces on a large (at least 17 by 12-inch) tray, cutting board, baking sheet or aluminum foil-covered cardboard as shown.

Note: If cake mix is used, prepare 1 package (2-layer cake) as directed on package. Pour batter in greased and floured 9-inch square pan and bake at 325 degrees for 50 to 55 min.

Chocolate hull and mast make a striking contrast to the white sails. Round candies form portholes while gumdrops become the insignias. A paper flag atop the mainsail is the final touch.

After preparing frosting as directed measure $\frac{3}{4}$ cup and blend in chocolate; set aside.

Place a small amount of white frosting between sail pieces to hold in place. Frost tops and sides to give appearance of a single piece of cake.

The cake is a breeze to make as it requires no special pans or tools. Use your favorite cake recipe or mix (any flavor except angel food), baking it in a 9-inch square pan and cooling it before assembling.

Prepare butter cream frosting from the following recipe; melt 1 square unsweetened chocolate and have on hand about one and one-third cups flaked coconut.

BUTTER CREAM

FROSTING

$\frac{1}{2}$ c. butter or margarine
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teasp. salt
 1 pound (about $4\frac{1}{2}$ c.) unsifted confectioners sugar
 2 egg yolks (unbeaten) +
 2 Tbsp. (about) milk

Cream butter until soft. Add salt and part of sugar gradually. Blend after each addition. Then add egg yolks (+ or use one whole egg) and vanilla; blend well. Add remaining sugar, alternately with milk until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Makes 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups.

Cut and assemble cake as shown in diagram. For ease in cutting measure and mark distances with wooden picks; then cut between picks with a sharp knife.

For a mast, make a line with a small amount of chocolate frosting along edge of large sail. Immediately sprinkle coconut on sails, pressing on lightly. Frost hull with remaining chocolate frosting and decorate with white candies as portholes and gumdrops cut to resemble an anchor and a crescent.

Here's a "Ship Ahoy!" cake treat for kids of any age.

Township Receives Grant; Marks Funds for Police

An 11-month training grant of approximately $10,000 has been allocated for hiring an additional policeman in Northville township.

Supervisor Lawrence Wright stressed to board members last Thursday that the allocation is "tentative and can be changed. We were desperate for a place to put it and placed it in the police department."

The funds, dispersed through Wayne County, are part of a job training program meant to employ the handicapped, veterans and the unemployed, Wright explained.

Trustee John MacDonald, supported by Trustee Richard Mitchell, moved to have the board accept the funds with the stipulation that the use of the funds be determined at the board's August meeting.

Clerk Sally Cayley pointed out that although the allocation is tentative, "we do need another officer with Maybury (State Park) opening."

Mitchell questioned the guidelines established for use of the funds, adding that "we can't have a handicapped police officer."

Clerk Cayley said the funds are meant to aid unemployed, veterans and handicapped persons in training programs.

In other matters, board members voted to delete a section of the police department code of ethics. The section allowed grievances filed against police officers to be heard by a committee appointed by the chief and consisting of a township trustee, police officer from another department and a township resident.

Finding the officer guilty could have meant dismissal. The section was deleted with trustees noting that the police chief is in charge of the department and matters should go before him. Persons who still feel grieved, may take their case to the township board.

Only dissenting vote was cast by Treasurer Joseph Straub.

CMU Alumni to Picnic

Oakland, Macomb and Wayne county alumni and friends of Central Michigan University will host a family picnic Sunday, July 28 at the Stoney Creek Metropark, Northdale Picnic Area, 4300 Main Park Road, Washington, Mich.

Open to all CMU alumni families and friends, the picnic will begin at 12 noon and will feature swimming, games and contests.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring their own picnic lunch, beverage and silverware.

Novi Opens Over Letter

Its Classes September 4

First day of school in the fall term for Novi students will be Wednesday, September 4, with classes scheduled for morning only and in-service meeting for teachers in the afternoon.

New teacher orientation will be Thursday, August 29 with orientation for all personnel set for September 3 on the calendar for the school year.

Friday, October 4, will be a half-day for elementary students with dismissal at noon and in-service training for teachers in the afternoon. Friday, October 11, secondary students will have a half-day of school as in-service is scheduled for teachers in the afternoon.

Elementary parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for October 22 and 23 with students to be dismissed at noon.

November 28 and 29 will be the Thanksgiving holiday. Christmas recess begins at the end of the school day Friday, December 20, with classes to resume January 6.

Friday, January 24, is the end of the first semester.

Friday, February 28, will be an in-service day with no school for students. Elementary students will be dismissed at noon March 18 and 19 for parent conferences in the afternoon.

Spring recess begins at the end of the school day March 27 with classes resuming April 7. Monday, May 26, is Memorial Day with no school.

Northwood Honors Coed

Jennifer S. Lindley, 42679 Savoy Court, has been named to the dean's list for the spring term at Northwood Institute.

To be named to the dean's list a student must earn a 3.0 or above grade point average on a 4.0 scale for that term.

Criticizes Paper, Board

Taking issue with an editor's note on a letter to the editor in The Northville Record two weeks ago, Troy Milligan, Northville township electrical inspector, told the board of trustees he was "disappointed that you did not disagree or respond."

Milligan admitted that he did not read the letter from a resident of Highland Lakes which complained of inaction from Levitt in solving building complaints and said the newspaper failed to assist homeowners in getting building complaints solved.

The editor's note said a "more attentive township government could have averted many of the problems through stricter inspection regulations."

School Fills Vacancies

Positions of curriculum coordinator and assistant director of business and finance are expected to be filled by the end of July with the new high school principal to be named the following week.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said final interviews are now being conducted for the curriculum coordinator and will soon be held for the assistant director of business and finance. Deadline for applicants for the post of principal was Monday.

Spear said 37 persons applied for the curriculum post while 14 are seeking the business and finance spot. A total of 39 asked to be considered for the principalship.

None of the applicants for any of the three positions are currently employed by the school district.

Northville Board of Education is expected to act on the appointments at its August 12 meeting.

Milligan said that "Two years ago, we held up Levitt on about $2 million in construction" until construction complaints were settled but that Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg "gave the okay to Levitt."

"Windows were replaced only because Carl Lundquist (building official) insisted," Milligan said.

Trustee John MacDonald said that he felt the "gist of the editor's note was that there was nothing that the paper could do but that the fault lay with the township board and building department at that time. What did you want us to say?" he asked Milligan.

Milligan told the board that the township standards for fire walls are higher than any neighboring communities, that "construction in the township is far superior to others" and that the building department has higher caliber personnel than other communities.

Supervisor Lawrence Wright told Milligan that he has not received any complaints from Highland Lakes residents "in nine or 10 months. No one has come to the board with building complaints either."

Milligan said he would contact a daily paper to do a story on Highland Lakes.

Four movies are on tap for young viewers next Wednesday, July 31, at the Northville City Hall. Movies are sponsored by the Friends of the Northville Library for youngsters between the ages of three and 12.

Scheduled for children between the ages of three and eight are "Crow Boy," by Taro Yashuma, and "Country Mouse and The City Mouse."

They will be shown between 1 and 1:30 p.m.

Shown between 1:30 and 2 p.m. will be two films for those between the ages of nine and 12. They are "Dick Whittington and His Cat" and "Peter and The Wolf". Both are children's tales.

During the movies, parents are invited for coffee in the library and to tour the facilities, Librarian Mrs. Elaine Lada said.

Board Fills Vacancies On Two Commissions

Two vacancies on commissions were filled by Northville township trustees last week.

William J. Bohan of Northview was unanimously named to the water and sewer commission. Bohan has a background in mechanical engineering and is employed by the Ford Motor Company.

John H. Dugan of Ladywood Drive was named to a vacancy on the planning commission. Clerk Sally Cayley and Trustees Charles Schaeffer and Richard Mitchell voted against the appointment, saying they felt others had been more involved in township government.

In making the appointment to Dugan, Supervisor Lawrence Wright said Dugan's "credentials are far superior to the other candidates."

Dugan is employed by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway System as district manager and has certificates from several management seminars on urban and rural land use study and management.

In other personnel action, trustees unanimously granted a maternity leave of absence to Michelle Benson, clerical worker, retroactive to July 1. The leave is to extend no later than December 1, 1974, and she is to be reemployed by the township after the leave expires.

Clerk Cayley was appointed to be the board's representative to the Northville Library Advisory Commission meetings until her term expires in November.

Board members also approved a raise in fees for Township Attorney Donald Morgan, effective September 1.

Fees will be $75 retainer, up from $50; and $50 per hour, up from $40.

Township Studies Computer Billing

Obtaining cost estimates on billing water and sewer users by computer were authorized last week by Northville township trustees.

In making a presentation before the township board, Northville City Manager Steven Walters said the city has recently purchased a computer and said that billing for the water and sewer department for the township "could be programmed in now at no additional cost."

He added that the computer will be operational August 1 and that the city plans to program payroll and water billing first. Later plans call for budget, tax bills, voter registration and other items to be placed on the computer.

Cost for the computer is $22,600 plus $2,900 for programming.

Walters said that if the township joined the city in use of the computer it "would save the city money and save the township time and money. It will be more accurate and more efficient."

Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright said he did not feel having the computer do the billing would save any personnel costs at the present time.

Trustees referred the matter to the township's water and sewer commission for study, to Trustee Charles Schaeffer for study and asked that a bid be obtained from the city and from two other companies on the price.

Walters added that if the township decides to buy computer time from the city at a later date, the cost would be more because it would cost the township money to have their information programmed into the computer.

Injuries Decline In City

Although accidents are on the increase this year over last year, 21 percent fewer persons have been injured in the City of Northville.

According to a report recently issued by the department, a total of 129 accidents have been reported to police during the first six months of this year. Through June of last year, 118 accidents had been investigated.

To date, 33 persons have been injured compared with 43 injured through June of last year, police said. Injuries have been sustained in 26 of the total accidents to date.

Property damage accidents have increased 19 percent this year over figures for last year and parking lot crashes have risen 25 percent.

Of the 129 accidents taking place through June, 94 occurred on the roadway and 35 in parking lots. Violations were issued to drivers in 52 of the accidents.

In-traffic accidents include two or more cars, 66; motor vehicle running off road, 11; car hitting park car, 10; car and motorcycle, car hitting fixed object, car hitting pedestrian, two each; and other type accident, one.

In other traffic related reports, city police have written a total of 967 hazardous moving violations, down from the 1,131 tickets issued during the first six months of last year.

Parking violations are up with 1,106 issued to date, compared with 983 written through June, 1973.

Wayne Brasure in West

Attends Astronomy Camp

Wayne Brasure, who will be a junior at Northville High School this fall, is spending four weeks at Camp Uraniborg, a coeducational summer camp in astronomy and physics at Newberry Springs, California.

Wayne, who plans a career in astronomy and is a member of Cranbrook Institute, has been planning the camp project for more than a year. He is the son of the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, minister of Northville First Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Brasure, 542 West Main Street.

He learned of the camp, which accepts 35 students aged 12 to 19, from a Cranbrook student. The camp is named after the observatory on the island of Hveen where, during the years 1576 to 1597, Tycho Brahe made observations that demolished the Ptolemaic system and enabled Kepler to formulate three laws of planetary motion.

From July 13 through August 8 the Northville junior will be participating in a four-part program with physics activities centering on the "gravitational collapse." Observational astronomy will be done at night and will include deep-sky photography.

Each student will have an opportunity to grind and polish his own telescope mirror or to build his own mounting.

Also, during the four-week session there will be a six-day hiking expedition into the Sierra Nevada, which will include an ascent of Mount Whitney, and another long trip to the Grand Canyon and major observatories of Arizona.

Shorter trips to nearby observatories and hikes into the adjacent San Geronio Wilderness area are planned.

The camp is conducted by Joseph Patterson of the University of California department of physics at Camp Oakes, a camp owned by the YMCA of Greater Long Beach, California. It is located at an elevation of 7300 feet, five miles from Big Bear City.

OK Temporary Permit For Meijer's Fill

A temporary land fill permit was granted last week to Meijer's Thrifty Acres by Northville township board.

In granting the temporary permit, board members stressed that it will become effective August 1, pending the approval of grading plans by the township planning commission Tuesday, July 30.

The permit will allow filling of the 34 acre site at the southwest corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty Roads with materials being excavated for the expressway.

Trustees also referred to the planning commission a request from Dun Rovin Golf Course for construction of a planned neighborhood development on the course located on Haggerty Road near Five Mile.

Concert Ends Series Tonight at College

A special concert tonight, Thursday, will mark the close of the 1974 Schoolcraft College Music School. The concert is free and begins at 8:30 p.m.

Presented by the Schoolcraft College Summer Music School Orchestra, the concert will be held in the Upper Level of Waterman Campus Center.

The orchestra will be under the direction of Richard Saunders, director of the Summer Music School as well as director of Fine Arts at the College. Featured as soloists with the orchestra will be Kathy Hildebrand, who will play Strauss' Concerto No. 1 for French Horn and Orchestra, and Ronald Strand, who will perform Creston's Concerto for Marimba and Orchestra.

Both soloists won the opportunity to perform in auditions held early during the summer school session. Saunders will conduct the orchestra in selections from Handel's Watermusic and Dvorak's New World Symphony.

Charge Residents For Study Costs

Feasibility studies requested by residents of Northville township now will require a deposit based on the estimated cost of the study.

Approved last Thursday by trustees, the charge is meant to deter many residents who ask for studies and then, when they receive the estimated cost of the project, decide not to go ahead with the project.

Previously, the township board had paid the cost of the studies which have run into the several thousand dollar range.

Studies included under the new cost will include resident initiated studies of water mains, sewers, drainage problems, etc. Those studies initiated by the township board will not be charged back to residents.

Those who pay for the studies will be reimbursed through the assessments if the project becomes reality, board members stated.

In a related matter, trustees turned over to the planning commission for study and recommendation fees charged for rezoning applications.

Currently, charges are a $150 flat fee plus $5 per acre and a 10 percent administration charge. According to Deputy Clerk Margaret Tegge, the township is losing money on some applications which require a detailed study by the consultants.

She also suggested the township consider a graduated scale for rezoning applications for small parcels.

Ossian is among 41 in MSU's honors science program

In Honors Course

Ossian Studies In MSU Course

Michael Ossian of Novi is among 41 high school students participating in the five-week High School Honors Science Program at Michigan State University this summer.

Under the supervision of Charles R. Peebles, associate professor of natural science and the Science and Mathematics Teaching Center, the program is cosponsored by MSU and the National Science Foundation.

The students, who have completed their junior year in the top 10 percent of their classes, were chosen from test scores and faculty recommendations.

Students choose their course of study from four natural science areas: biology, chemistry, computer science and physics (only available for majors). In an effort to give them a broad range of instruction, they were also required to select one or two minors among the four science fields offered.

A daily routine for a participant includes morning classes in the four science areas and a guest lecture series. Afternoons are reserved for the students to work on their individual projects.

Michael, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ossian of 23486 Meadowbrook Road, attends Novi high school.

Along Winchester

Second Water Main

A second water supply line will be installed along the future extension of Winchester Road near Northville Colony Estates to connect with the existing water main at Northville Forest Apartments.

Estimated cost of the project, to be paid from Northville township water and sewer funds is $10,000.

In reading the recommendation from the water and sewer commission, Township Engineer William Mosher said the line has broken in the past and that it is the only connection between the old Five Mile - Bradner main and the southerly portion of the township.

Mosher called the installation of the second line a "wise expenditure of township funds and will be in the interest of fire safety."

The line will include 365 feet of 12-inch main.

Also authorized by the board was purchase of a sewage flow recorder at a cost of $994. The recorder will record flow in the sewers at peak use periods.

REQUEST FOR BIDS

The City of Novi will accept sealed bids for the following items to be a part of the construction of an interior office facility.

1. Heating
2. Plumbing
3. Electrical

A complete copy of the specifications may be obtained from the City Clerk, 25850 Novi Road, Novi, Michigan, 48050.

Bids must be submitted on or before 4:00 P.M. EDT, Monday, August 5, 1974 at the office of the City Clerk. Bids will be publicly opened and read at 4 P.M. that date. A bid tabulation will be presented to the City Council on August 5th at 8:00 P.M. The Council meeting will be held at the Novi School Administration Building, 25575 Taft Road, Novi, Michigan. Bids must be plainly marked; Heating, Plumbing or Electrical Bid.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to make the award in any manner deemed to be in the best interest of the City.

ARTS AND CRAFTS SALE—More than 45 residents of Eastlawn Convalescent Home participated in the sale of handmade crafts Saturday at Northville Square. Among the items on sale were wall plaques, candle holders and picture frames. One-third of the sale price went back to the residents while two-thirds went toward the fund for recreation, parties and picnics. Robert Kalczynski, occupational therapist for Eastlawn, said the "quality of the items and the enthusiasm of the residents is amazing." The sale is the second held by the residents with the first held just before Christmas last year.

Pursell Views New Law As Catalyst for Recycling

Michigan's Senate has passed a major new solid waste recycling program described by recognized experts as a model for the nation.

Prime sponsor of the bipartisan bill, Sen. Carl Pursell representative for the Northville area in the State Senate, is convinced the "Resources Recovery Authority Act" (SB 946) carries enormous potential impact on the lives of Michigan citizens.

"I can foresee this law as a catalyst for recasting our entire concept of solid waste disposal," Pursell predicted. "We have the foundation for making solid waste the raw material for thriving, beneficial industries, rather than an ugly burden to society."

"I'm also enthusiastic about the fact that we've structured the bill to give local governments the opportunity to play a pivotal role in this process," Pursell added. "The key to it all is recycling technology and the concerted cooperation of local and state governments and private industry. It's my opinion that industry and government can be successful partners for progress, rather than wary antagonists. My belief in that concept is the basis for this legislation."

Pursell pointed out that the effectiveness of the Resource Recovery Bill hinges on determined intergovernmental cooperation between local governments. The act provides that a local government must give its approval before resource recovery efforts can be launched within its borders.

"We're trying here to make the local units the leaders in this effort, rather than constructing a program which forces them to reluctantly go along with an imposed decision," he emphasized.

Providing coordination, planning and assistance to municipalities throughout the state would be a four-member authority operating under the environmental protection agency of the Department of Natural Resources. Local governments, or associations of local governments could contract with the authority for resource recovery services. The authority would also stimulate action by private enterprise and assist in the development of related industries.

Operationally, Pursell hopes to see construction of collection and recovery centers which would convert solid waste into fuels, electricity and other productive materials. These centers would serve surrounding municipalities and contract with spin-off industries for reuse of recovered resources. With the emphasis on private investment, the effort is intended to be largely self-supporting.

"There are exciting prospects for this program," Pursell noted. "It can be a very major factor in providing an increasingly cleaner environment with less drain on natural resources. And the prospects for new jobs should not be considered lightly, because they could eventually be substantial."

"The only other state which has moved forcefully on this idea is Connecticut. In that state they hope to be recycling about 85 per cent of their solid wastes within a decade or so.

OCC Receives Biology Equipment Grants

Two awards totaling $4700 for the Orchard Ridge campus of OCC biology department from the National Science Foundation were announced this month.

The department is one of those in 289 colleges and universities receiving 366 instructional scientific equipment grants which must be matched with equal funds.

according to Allen Bidol, department chairman.

The equipment program is one of several NSF activities designed to help colleges and universities improve the quality of undergraduate science instruction by updating courses and teaching laboratories.

Professor Bidol reports that the funds will be used to purchase a physiograph and a recording fluorometer with their accessories.

In announcing the awards totaling $3 million the NSF pointed out that in the 12 years since the program was established and through the stimulus of requiring matching funds institutions have invested an even larger sum than the total of $63.9 million spent to date by the NSF.

The International Meditation Society will be presenting a free, public lecture on the technique of Transcendental Meditation as taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 25, on the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College

In announcing the lecture Robert C. Lesh of the student international meditation society points out that it is a non-profit educational organization with full tax exempt status by the federal government.

The society's only purpose, he states, is "to make available the knowledge of Transcendental Meditation"

REEF'S WREATH — This waxy-leaf plant, Hoya Carnosa, a variety of stephanotis, is guided into a wreath shape by Jan Reef. It is one of four at his Eight Mile Road home that he has wound into circle or rectangular shapes. The blossoms are white with pink hearts, he reports, and grow on vines as long as 15 feet.

• OBITUARIES •

ELSIE B. TOBEY

Funeral services were held Friday in Plymouth for Mrs. Elsie B. Tobey of Plymouth who died Tuesday, July 16, at the age of 91.

Mrs. Tobey was born October 17, 1882. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Merle Stevens of Florida, Mrs. Miriam Willisie of Freeland, Mrs. Al (Gwendolyn) Holcombe of Plymouth, two sons, Gerald E. of Plymouth, Burton of Northville, 24 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

One sister, Mrs. Lilah Goemer of Detroit, also survives.

Services were held at the Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth where the Reverend Headley Thweatt officiated. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, Plymouth.

TERRANCE HORRIGAN

Terrance Alan Horrigan, 23,

a 1973 graduate of Michigan State University, died suddenly July 16 of injuries sustained in a fall at Townshend Falls, Vermont.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horrigan of 19372 Malvern Court, Northville.

Born in Detroit April 16, 1951, he was raised in Detroit where he attended elementary and secondary schools. He received his resource development degree at MSU last year, spending much of his time in this area and living at the Finnish Community in Wixom last summer.

Besides his parents, the young man is survived by four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Dan (Melody) Suzor, Pamela, Deborah, Tom and Claudia Horrigan.

Funeral services were held in Vermont. He was flown home to Northville for burial in Holy Sepulchre in Farmington.

Leaving Meadowbrook

Brennan Heads Club

Richard J. Brennan, 41, manager of Meadowbrook Country Club since May, 1972, is leaving Michigan to accept the position of general manager of Greenville Country Club in South Carolina.

He will depart August 10 following the Meadowbrook invitational to begin his new duties at the 1,600 member country club, one of the country's largest.

"It was just too good to pass up," Brennan explained as he told of the offer to assume general management of the Greenville club which has two full 18-hole golf courses plus a nine-hole one as well as a tennis club building and 18 to 20 courts.

Brennan came to Meadowbrook from Yellowstone Country Club in Montana where he was manager. Prior to that he had managed Lochmoor Club in Detroit for seven years and had been assistant general manager at Country Club of Detroit for six years.

A selection committee has been appointed at Meadowbrook to name a new manager. In the meantime George Karydes, who had been assisting Brennan, will be in charge.

from the BOOKSHELF

New books available in the public library this week include:

IN NORTHVILLE ADULT NON-FICTION
 "ESP: The Search Beyond the Senses," Daniel Cohen; A history of psychic phenomena and research including many case studies.

"Tender Loving Greed," Mary Adelaide Mendelson; A revealing look at nursing homes—how some owners are taking advantage of nursing home residents and their families.

"The Energy Crisis," Lawrence Rocks and Richard P. Runyon; A look at our crisis of oil, gas, coal and atomic energy resources and solutions to resolve it.

"Favorite Songs of the Nineties," Robert A. Fremont; Book contains complete original sheet music for 89 songs.

"The Rockin' 50's: The Decade that Transformed the Pop Music Scene," Arnold Shaw; Glimpses of the music artists of that era.

ADULT FICTION
 "American Gothic," Robert Bloch; Written by the author of "Psycho." Story is set at the 1893 World's Fair in Cairo.

"The Hephaestus Plague," Thomas Page; Story of an attack of thousands of black beetles on a Georgia town following an earthquake. The beetles are discovered to be far more intelligent than humans.

IN NOVI ADULT READING
 "The Good Shepherd," Thomas Fleming; Matthew Mahan, an archbishop, is the central figure in this novel about the Catholic Church. The book is worth reading for its portrait of church people and factions.

"Extreme Remedies," John Hejnenian; Set in a San Francisco hospital, this novel makes the rounds with a young neurologist. There is the question of what is life and what is death in the case of a man, a potential donor in a kidney transplant case. Whose life is more important—he who is to give or she who is to receive? The author has spent 10 years as a medical student, intern, resident and junior faculty member.

"All the President's Men," Carl Bernstein and Bob Woodward; An exhilarating and candid account by the two Washington Post reporters who won Pulitzer Prizes for their roles in breaking open the Watergate story.

"Tender Loving Greed," Mary Adelaide Mendelson; A true-life story of America's nursing home industry. The author, a member of the Ohio Health Department, has looked into some 200 nursing homes in 21 states. Her revelations of widespread riffs of helpless patients, well-meaning families and public funds by greedy nursing home owners are more than disturbing, reviews say. She names names, cites cases and shows how profits are squeezed from cheap food, unwarranted charges and thefts from patients.

"Corporate Wives — Corporate Casualties," Robert Seidenberg, M.D.; The corporate system places unique and heavy stress on the wives of executives. Their problems are seldom discussed anywhere. Only the results are evident—in broken or unhappy marriages, alienated children, rootless families. Dr. Seidenberg, a noted psychiatrist illuminates the entire situation, spotlighting both the problems and their causes and tell what to do about them.

Oatey Attends Orientation

John R. Oatey, son of Mrs. Marcella R. Oatey, 41336 Windsor, spent three days of orientation on the campus of Tri-State College. John will be a freshman enrolled in mechanical engineering at the Angola, Indiana, college in September.

While on campus, the students were given tests in mathematics and English. They also met with their faculty advisors to set up their fall course schedules. During free time, the students played golf on the campus course and used the gymnasium facilities which include an Olympic swimming pool.

25,000 Answer Poll

Esch Lists Responses To Questionnaire

Congressman Marvin L. Esch this week released results of a questionnaire to the residents of the Second District used regularly to gain the views of his constituency.

Some 25,000 persons responded to the questionnaire this year and a large number included thought-provoking and perceptive comments on matters of particular concern to them, Congressman Esch noted.

The questions posed in the questionnaire and the responses are as follows:

1. President Nixon should: a. remain in office, 29 percent; b. resign, 17 percent; c. The House Judiciary Committee should conduct a through investigation to determine if there are grounds for impeachment, 33 percent; d. should be impeached by the House and tried by the Senate, 22 percent.

10. Should the President's authority to implement wage and price controls be extended? 43 percent yes; 57 percent no.

11. What percentage of the federal budget should be devoted to: a. welfare, 9 percent; b. defense, 21 percent; c. the environment, 12 percent; d. education, 17 percent; e. space exploration, 6 percent; f. energy, 11 percent; g. transportation, 9 percent; h. foreign aid, 5 percent; i. other, 10 percent.

North Central Taps Grote For Consultant Position

Schoolcraft College President C. Nelson Grote has accepted an appointment to become a consultant evaluator with the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The invitation to Dr. Grote was extended by Norman Burns, director of North Central's commission on institutions of higher education.

Acceptance of the appointment entails Dr. Grote's participation in a year-long preparatory program. The initial orientation conference will be held in Chicago on September 20, and during the course of the year Dr. Grote will join evaluation team visits to two or three institutions.

According to Dr. Burns, persons who serve as institutional consultants and evaluators are regarded primarily as generalists. They select those who have attained positions of professional prominence as faculty members or administrators. Dr. Grote's 24 years in education have provided considerable experience at both levels.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

It's standard operating procedure for planning commissions and governing bodies to differ.

The former is appointed with authority to recommend; the latter is elected with the responsibility to decide.

In some respects the situation is comparable to the two-party system in the legislature. The minority, knowing it does not have the votes to pass a bill, calls boldly for action until it becomes the majority. Then it proceeds with the caution that responsibility of final authority understandably carries.

There are numerous examples in the Northville-Novixom area of the city councils or township board reversing proposals by their respective planning commissions.

This should not be surprising, nor should it jeopardize the working relationship between those who propose and those who enact.

Human nature being what it is, however, frictions do develop between planners and legislators.

And there is evidence of such a breach between the Northville planning commission and city council.

In its action Monday night the council majority departed from planners' recommendations on several sensitive zoning issues.

Despite joint discussions on alternatives and compromise, the council adopted a hard-line course in most instances.

The question here is not a matter of who is right or wrong. It is whether or not lines of communication remain open between the planning commission and council.

To the outside observer it is apparent that a common understanding must be achieved to define the community's goals. Obviously, this cannot be accomplished by either body, or individual members, firmly entrenching themselves in unyielding positions.

Two community promotions coming up this week and next deserve mention.

The sidewalk sale is a merchant-sponsored event that had a modest beginning about a dozen years ago. It has grown from a promotion that was forced upon some merchants to a carnival-like affair that attracts participants of all sorts, and especially merchants.

Saturday Northville's downtown sidewalks and streets will come alive with racks of bargain-priced merchandise and a variety of tables displaying baked goods, antiques, old books, toys, paintings, pottery and plants.

Most of the credit for building a little sidewalk sale into a crowd-pulling and pleasing event for the whole family belongs to Charles Lapham.

He's the chairman every year and every year it gets a little better.

On August 1 through 4 the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce will present its annual Northville Fair.

This is the fifth year for the Chamber event held at Northville Downs, once the site of the old Wayne County Fair.

For the first time this year the Northville Fair has gained official state recognition and therefore qualifies for some state financial support.

The sulky races will be staged, for example. The state pays 75 per cent of the purse. It's the first time daylight harness racing sans betting has been held at the track since the old county fair days in the forties.

Several Chamber officials, like Gerald Stone, N.C. Schrader, Les Bowden, Glenn Long, John Carlo, Margaret Zayt and Dave Biery have been the driving forces behind the fair.

Using the facilities that make such an event possible in Northville they have brought back some of the flavor of oldtime fair fun to a generation that might have missed the cotton candy and midway attractions.

It's just possible that the Chamber has done too good a job.

The Northville Fair is rapidly becoming a project that requires full-year planning. It's more than volunteers running their own businesses can handle. And it has reached the point where professional management could introduce refinements in selection of entertainment, lining up of midway attractions and rides, and encouraging participation by various 4-H groups.

The Chamber is considering such a move.

I believe their judgment is on target.

The Chamber is to be commended for bringing the Northville Fair to its present status. And to initiate further improvements in this event by introducing professional management could result in an attraction that would make the older generation forget its famous fairs.

G. W. CADDELL

YES . . .

The excitement and participation in these sports of the martial arts has increased and shall continue to do so in the future. My concern is that those individuals who desire to be a Karate or Kung Fu expert without the proper knowledge, building up or training program run the risk of damage to their physical being.

Exercise is good for bodily development, especially if done in moderation. Rest, proper diet and a good working nervous system are also important for good health.

I find that the problems do occur with individuals who tend to "overdo it" with unusual amounts of quality or who are trying to attain an unrealistic degree of quality in an exercise program. The martial arts require both, and only those sincerely dedicated individuals prosper from the prescribed programs.

I advise that those persons who are not dedicated and willing to sacrifice and discipline their lives should not start with the martial arts. If they are willing to pay the price they should follow a prescribed program that will allow moderate advances in their physical being.

The reality of 'too much too soon' can be applied to many young Karate and Kung Fu students who have received injuries from participating in the art.

Martial Arts Too Dangerous?

JERRY CASSELL

NO . . .

What would you do if confronted by a person with a knife or gun and he had the intentions of using it as soon as he got you to some desolate area? No one really knows just how you would react in a bested situation regardless of how much training they had in self-defense! However, if you do have training in martial arts you will react much more intelligently in a given adverse situation.

Think of self-defense as swimming - all of a sudden you find yourself in the water and you must swim for survival. If you don't know how to swim you tighten up in panic and drown, or if you know how to swim you react more calmly so your chances of survival are much better.

Learning self defense should begin in early childhood. Our children should be taught to observe several safety rules for prevention protection. Hand to hand self-defense could begin as early as seven or eight years of age in sports as wrestling or judo.

No matter what age a person is when they learn the physical self-defense, the student should be certain that the instructor is well qualified preferably a certified Black Belt or Brown Belt assistant. If the class is taught right, the student will learn both mental and physical discipline thereby developing a positive, confident attitude with respect toward mankind.

Father Time

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Less than a mile from the new ribbon of concrete that rushes easterly across the placid Shenandoah River and then climbs rapidly over the Blue Ridge Mountains at a place called Snickers Gap, George Bell slowly exercised his porch swing and quietly considered the story of the missing Civil War soldier from Whitmore Lake.

Down below his porch the narrow road slid downhill to a white frame church.

Sliced from the mainstream by the new superhighway, Bell's now isolated chunk of the pass is peaceful and rather lonely. The retired old man likes it that way.

Snickers Gap, Virginia. Here, between Berryville and Leesburg, is where Michigan's Fourth Infantry Regiment pursued and clashed with Confederate soldiers during the Civil War 112 years ago. Here also at an earlier time George Washington twice passed - once after surveying the Shenandoah Valley in 1748 and another time upon returning in 1770 from a trip to Ohio.

Across the road from the church and nestled at the foot of a farm lane alive with flowers, stands the old Bell homestead that was built on the mountainside in the late 1700's. Its original wood frame is coated with decaying stucco and the long porch is littered with children's toys. Inside lives George Bell's daughter and her family.

Behind the farmhouse, hidden from view by a dying old barn, is a tiny fenced graveyard where a Whitmore Lake man, a Union soldier labeled a deserter by the United States government, may be buried.

After suggesting that this Snickers Gap graveyard might contain his great grandfather's remains, Carleton McLain, Jr. concluded a research paper 15 years ago with these words:

"It is likely that he has no grave marker; and probably he was not even buried in an established cemetery. But if a marker could be provided - that was large enough, it might read.

"Private Frederick R. Silsby, Company D, 4th Michigan Infantry Regiment, Second Brigade, First Division, Fifth Army Corps, Union Army (Federal Army, Army of the Potomac)."

"Well, I don't know about that," said George Bell as his wife joined us on the porch. "Never heard about any soldier boy from Michigan being buried back there. Seems like my grandpa would have told me about it if it were so."

"But there was a lot of fighting going on here then; no telling what happened," said Mrs. Bell who is recovering from a heart attack.

"I do know this: my great great grandfather, Squire, who was a captain in the American Revolution, is buried out there along with some other relatives. Could be others, I suppose, but it doesn't seem likely," he said. "Come on, I'll take you and your family over and you can look at it for yourself," he volunteered.

And so began the just ended vacation trip to Virginia where we followed the battlefield trail of the Fourth Infantry Regiment and the missing Whitmore Lake soldier.

The story of Frederick Silsby as told to me by his granddaughter, the late Edna Stevens Gibb of Whitmore Lake, has haunted me for years. And although Carleton McLain, of the Cranbrook School, had traveled the battlefield trail before in his exhaustive research to clear his great grandfather's name, seeing for ourselves the places where Company D battled seemed important.

For Civil War battles, Virginia is unmatched. Far more engagements occurred here than in any other state (519 as compared to the second greatest number of 298 in Tennessee). Nearly all of the 50 battles of the Michigan Fourth were fought in Virginia.

News From Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Representative

The legislature wound up its spring term near the point of physical exhaustion last week as members stuck it out for a 22 hour session with 77 roll call votes to complete the necessary work. It was a dramatic climax to an already interesting if tiring week during which we completed work on the budget and progressed on many other important issues as well.

The legislature will return in September and probably again briefly in November after the General Election to complete action on bills. The legislature has already made a credible showing, even though many of us have been frustrated at the long debate on some of the more important issues.

During this first six months of legislative activity over 200 bills have become law, including five introduced by myself. Among these bills are changes which will affect everyone in some way or another. Personal and business taxes were reduced, the business climate of the state was improved, the mental health code was completely revised, substantial changes in Michigan's century old rape law were adopted, a career education act was passed and measures providing for shorelines protection, erosion control, and protection of endangered species were approved.

One of the pieces of legislation which I feel most deeply about was not completed prior to adjournment and is slated for further consideration this September. This is the campaign finance reform bill. This was one of the issues where Republicans felt the Democratic leadership persisted in dragging its heels until it was too late to enact anything in time for this fall's elections.

Senate Bill 1000 providing for and regulating Health Maintenance Organizations (HMO's) received final legislative approval and was sent to Governor Milliken for signing. An HMO is a facility that combines the functions of a hospital, outpatient clinic, and insurance company in one organization. It has also been defined as a prepaid medical group practice.

As a member of the House Committee on Public Health I was deeply involved in the months of debate and negotiation which preceded passage of the bill. Under this bill health maintenance organizations would be required to offer standard medical services and have such options as dental and vision care available. All of the organization's profits must be reinvested for improved operation and increased benefits until it is offering a basic benefit package.

To ensure consumer representation, the bill requires that at least one third of the members on the boards governing the HMO's be made up of subscribers. Those who provide services and serve in management would be required to make full disclosure of potential conflicts of interest, and grievance procedures would be established.

War Mystery In Snickers Gap

In its 50 engagements, the Michigan Fourth lost 273 men — and of these, 123 were killed in action, 54 died of wounds, and 96 died of disease.

We traveled from the breathtaking mountains in northwestern Virginia to the plush bottomland of the state's Chickahominy and Pamunkey rivers. We tramped through dozens of battlefields, talked with old Virginians, visited libraries, read original letters of Silsby, and searched out burial grounds from Falls Church to Seven Pines

And when it was over, we came away still puzzled by Silsby's mysterious disappearance but convinced that this soldier, who never returned to Whitmore Lake and his wife and their two young children, may indeed have died of disease at Snickers Gap as claimed by a companion soldier.

That the government, even to this day, should insist on calling him a deserter seemed incredible as we viewed the acres of white stones marking graves of unknown soldiers and contemplated these facts:

- In the 79 National Civil War cemeteries, 54 percent of the graves are those of unknown soldiers.

- Twice as many deaths were produced by disease than by hostile bullets.

- Diarrhea (for which Silsby was hospitalized for months, according to military records) and dysentery alone took the lives of 44,558 Union soldiers.

- A total of 224,000 Union soldiers died of disease.

To these astounding figures could be added the remark of Silsby's regimental chaplain: "...Little wonder that ten Michigan soldiers died from illness to every four that were killed by enemy action."

Despite the pleas of his widow, claims of fellow soldiers, notarized testimony of Whitmore Lake area residents, and even after examination of his personal letters, War Department personnel remained unimpressed by this evidence for many years after Appomattox. They refused either to award Mrs. Silsby a war widow's pension or to remove the soldier's name from the list of 34,800 Union Army deserters.

The last official decision, issued from the U.S. Adjutant General's office on January 21, 1885, states: "Application for removal of the charge of desertion and amendment of the records has been denied."

This handwritten decision, together with other yellowing data — including letters the homesick soldier wrote to his wife and children in Whitmore Lake — today shares a place in the same building that houses another document, the United States Constitution.

Ironically, when Silsby answered President Lincoln's call in May of 1861 it was to defend the Constitution and all that it represented.

$197,432.65 to the same calendar date last year.

Bailey said that income for July is expected to jump dramatically because the city is receiving $16,000 from building permits for Westgate Six in the area of Pontiac Trail and West Road. The complex is planned to include 15 buildings and a community center and will hold approximately 240 units when completed.

Building permits for Phase

One of Colony Park, another multiple to be built at Nine Mile and Haggerty roads should add more money to the city treasury in the near future, Bailey indicated.

As to future income this year, Bailey said the prime lending rate as set by the government and banks, will be the deciding factor in whether developers borrow the money to do more construction and, therefore, to apply for permits.

"I hope it (prime rate) goes down but I don't know," the building head said.

Tips on Real Estate

Selling a house on your own can actually be short changing yourself. Picking a price out of a hat can be either too low or too high. In one case you cheat yourself and in the other you end up with a stale listing that no one will take you up on. A dead listing does no one any good. Realistic pricing will move the house faster, while one that lingers on becomes suspect for that reason alone. It is difficult to revive a prospect's interest after he has moved on to other choices.

Council Overrules City Planners

That approval, which is likely to be encompassed in a single council vote at the conclusion of all public hearings on the map and zoning ordinance text, could very well occur on August 26 when council will reconvene the hearing in considering the proposed ordinance text.

Although Planning Commission Chairman J. Burton DeRusha insisted the commission was not embittered or upset by council's opposing views, his pointed closing pleas on each of the controversial points and the biting remarks of some council members produced an adversary tone and magnified a breach between the two bodies that has been sharpening in recent weeks.

Nearly all of the key zoning recommendations of the commission were overturned by the council — albeit in some cases by split votes of councilmen themselves.

Council differed on several of the crucial zoning issues at the hearing, which drew nearly 30 persons. For example, on the North Center, Chatham to Walnut designation, PBO was approved 3-2, with Councilmen Wallace Nichols and Paul Folino siding with planners. And on the Kohs property zoning, Nichols and David Biery cast dissenting votes, while Nichols opposed commercial zoning across from the city hall.

Mayor A.M. Allen and Councilmen Paul Vernon consistently championed the positions which negated planners' opinions.

Planners in their latest votes on the zoning designations appeared unanimous in nearly all cases. For example, they unanimously favored leaving the properties between Chatham and Walnut as residential and all of them wanted a PBO designation for properties on the east side of Center, from Rayson south to Ely property.

They disagreed among themselves in only two areas, and of these the Eight Mile-Taft area zoning designation was the lone important difference.

Most public participation in Monday's hearing concerned the Asher station zoning. Among those speaking against changing the non-conforming property to a commercial designation were Herman Moehlan, attorney for Gerald Stone who lives across the street from the station, and John Stuart of 522 Fairbrook who presented a petition carrying signatures of 20 citizens in the area who opposed commercial zoning.

Among those speaking in behalf of the commercial zoning were James Markey, a Union Oil spokesman, and William Asher, long-time operator of the station.

FERNON FEENSTRA

Appoint Feenstra Director

Fernon P. Feenstra, an instructor at Schoolcraft since the College opened in 1964, has been appointed its director of technology.

The appointment, announced by President C. Nelson Grote, became effective July 15.

Feenstra was an engineering supervisor with AC Spark Plug, Milwaukee Electronics Division, for four years prior to becoming an instructor in electromechanics. He has also served eight years as a division and department head and, for a brief time, was an acting dean early in his association with the College.

As a faculty member over the years he has been involved in the development of the career programs Schoolcraft offers.

Feenstra served as chairman of the College's insurance committee for five years, and has been a faculty negotiator as well as a grievance chairman. He is a former member of the Schoolcraft College Foundation, the Cultural Affairs committee, and the Scholarship committee. He has also represented the Faculty Forum to the Michigan Association of Higher Education the past two years.

A journeyman electrician, Feenstra holds bachelor and master degrees from Western Michigan, and a specialist degree in vocational administration and supervision from the University of Michigan.

He is a member of the Livonia Board of Electrical Examiners and previously served as an electrical inspector for the city. He holds memberships in the Livonia Jaycees, Livonia Hockey Association, the National Fluid Power Society and the International Association of Electrical Inspectors. He is chairman of the Fund Raising Steering Committee - Friends of the Barn, Inc.

A resident of Livonia for 10 years, Feenstra, his wife, Barbara, and their seven children reside at 35234 Elmira

Tillman's Hobby Follows His Job Right Down the (Utility) Line

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Insulators — those sometimes strangely shaped objects perched atop utility poles, barns, houses, trolley cars.

They're blue or black, pretty hues of white or green or amber. They were made of glass and pottery, rubber and even plastic. But because of modern technology they've all but disappeared from manufacture and hence they've become antiques.

Just about everyone today has a hobby or collection of some sort and as a foreman of a line crew for the Edison Company, Corb Tillman's hobby of collecting insulators doesn't seem out of line with his work.

Actually, the collecting bug bit Corb after reading an article about insulators in the Des Moines Register. The article, says Corb, started him thinking and when he happened to find a few it got to be a hobby. Since then it's been flea markets, salvage yards, auctions, second hand stores, rummage sales and junk piles.

And as he scouted and rummaged, Corb's collection grew. "They've come from New York to California and just about everywhere in between." His biggest insulator was found in Denver, Colorado, during a family vacation last year and room was found to store the 33 pound specimen.

And how do you learn about insulators?

"You read books. Insulators are like any other antique. If you don't know what you're buying you can really be taken to the cleaners." "Take a look at this one. It's been painted with aquarium paint and it looks real pretty." Then he chuckled and added, "I've been suckered a couple of times."

Corb has made lamp bases and vases from some of the larger insulators but when it came right down to showing someone his collection of 700 to 800 odd beauties in boxes out in the garage it was only the collector or the good friend who could make it through the piles.

In order to show off his ever growing collection, Corb built an insulator house using redwood 2 x 4's as the frame. Sturdy bolts were used to position each insulator in the roof and sides of the building while shelves hold even more of the collection inside. "And there's still more in the boxes," Corb added.

Out in the daylight the insulators take on a "different look" and to the non-collector it is the light glowing through the various colors of glass that catch the eye and make the building an interesting place to investigate.

Insulators even have names like Mickey Mouse, sombrero, hot cross bun, spiral, petticoat or liver. That, along with numbers stamped in them denote their particular use. Manufacturer's names and patent dates are found on almost all of the collection, some going back as far as the 1890's.

Names like Hemingray, Dominion, Brookfield, Lynchburg and Lovex. To those who know insulators they mean a specific type or age or country. Not all insulators were manufactured in the United States. Canada and Great Britain added theirs to the market.

As with any other collector, Corb enjoys his and looks on his display with pride. "Some insulators can go for as high as $60 to $80 a piece, but they don't mean a thing if you don't have the interest."

Deputy Township Clerk Margaret Tegge, a resident of Franklin Road who is a strong backer for the natural beauty designation, said she does not "feel that the storm drain and the entrance are related."

Clerk Cayley called Spear's letter a "slap in the face."

Board members did not comment on the letter but moved to accept and file the correspondence

Township board members have discussed possible ramifications in the past of the natural beauty designation for the road and have felt that such a designation may prevent the school from running a storm drain down the road because of cost estimates, the school has moved its planned location of the drain to run behind properties along Franklin.

The full impact of the natural beauty designation is unknown and some say it may mean the road cannot be improved in any way after it receives the designation.

Clerk Cayley added that the board had discussed special service millage in June and "recreation was one of the items we mentioned." The millage will most likely be discussed by the board in August in order to place a millage question on the November ballot.

Trustees also voted to take the low bid on workmen's compensation insurance. Currently, the carrier is

The board directed the three elected administrators (supervisor, clerk and treasurer) to study the rates and accept the low bid.

Trustees also directed the police department to sell its old car by bid.

Wixom OKs Building Study

Tom Ebejer, partner in the architectural firm of Ronald Winebrenner, was instructed Tuesday by Wixom City Council to prepare a design for a "simple renovation" for the building purchased last year located on Pontiac Trail near Wixom Road for a community center and library.

He indicated that it will be necessary to move the entrance to the side of the building to meet ramp requirements for the handicapped. New toilet facilities, he said, also will be required.

He is to report back to council on costs of renovation to bring the building up to code.

Requests had been received to have the building air conditioned, but when a cost estimate of $15,000 was given, Mayor Val Vangieson indicated that he felt this should not be part of the renovation. The architect said this could be accomplished later.

He has met, he stated, with library and senior citizen representatives

Asked for his opinion of which route to take, he said, "I think one of the best commodities a community can buy when available is water," as he endorsed purchasing it.

Pate also stated he had prepared an update on ring road costs planned for the city and would send a letter with details to council.

In other action the council approved entering into a new dispatch service agreement with the Village of Milford that will include use of its new temporary detention facility.

City Clerk June Buck was asked to seek comparative prices for trash bags as she reported the price has just been raised. The bags are purchased at wholesale cost and sold to residents as a service, she said.

Revenue Sharing

Is It Really A Boon for the Nation's Municipalities?

B-1 WANT ADS
In This Section

The Northville Record / THE NOVI NEWS
The Brighton Argus / THE SOUTH LYON HERALD

Wed., Thurs., July 24-25, 1974

When federal revenue sharing began nearly two years ago, proponents of the program claimed it would be a boon to counties, cities and townships throughout the country.

Today, at approximately the midway point of the five-year program, few municipal officials in this area would contradict that claim.

Municipalities in the Sliger Publications circulation area have received about $1 million since general revenue sharing began.

And that kind of money is making most everyone a little happier.

"The program was badly needed by local governments," Brighton City Manager Bruce Romer said. "It has provided us with a unique opportunity to identify community needs and work toward meeting them."

The City of Brighton is one of this area's leaders in money received through revenue sharing, having gleaned approximately $100,000 so far. Novi is the area's 'best-paid' municipality, with slightly over $131,000, and Wixom is second with $118,429.

Northville has received $87,500 in revenue sharing funds thus far. South Lyon has received the least of any area city — $63,688.

Most townships are receiving considerably less than area cities. Northville Township leads the list with $80,783 but Northfield Township has gained only $39,810 so far.

Other townships report their federal revenue sharing earnings so far average about $50,000. Specifically, Brighton Township has received $47,681; Genoa Township, $53,576; Green Oak Township, approximately $58,000; and Hamburg Township, $49,757.

According to Brighton City Manager Romer, the amount of revenue sharing money received depends on three factors: Population, per capita income and existing tax revenues to local government.

"The more tax burden there is on a community, the more revenue sharing money is received," Romer explained, "the higher the per capita income, the less money received, and the more people, the more money received. All three factors are taken into consideration in the federal government's formula."

Northville City Manager Stephen Walters sees revenue sharing as generally good for small cities, but not too helpful for larger municipalities.

"I'm sure it's good for small cities which can't qualify for larger grants," he said. "But I don't really think it helps large cities that much."

Walters noted that Northville has a comparatively low tax rate, and as a result, doesn't profit as much from revenue sharing as some municipalities.

"St. Ignace is only half the size of Northville," he said, "but it gets nearly twice as much as we do in revenue sharing."

Walters said he likes the revenue sharing concept because it allows communities to set their own priorities. That's a sentiment echoed by Romer.

"The beauty of the program," Romer noted, "is the term 'general.' That allows a community some latitude in deciding what the money is going to be used for."

But not everyone is happy about revenue sharing.

"We're happy with what we've been able to do with the revenue sharing funds," Green Oak Township Supervisor Edward Janicki said, "but we think there ought to be more equitable distribution of funds."

Green Oak Treasurer Isabelle Vitale pointed out what she sees as a flaw in the revenue sharing program.

"Places like Green Oak Township, which are growing so rapidly, really need a five-year census for purposes like revenue sharing," she stated. "The 1970 figure they're using in determining the allocations is now far too low for us."

A look at area revenue sharing allocations reveals that many communities have taken advantage of the latitude mentioned by Romer, investing their monies in a variety of projects.

There are also many projects toward which area municipalities have shown common concerns.

The category which seems to have attracted the most local interest is public safety. The cities of Northville, Novi, Wixom and South Lyon have allocated significant amounts of revenue sharing funds along those lines, as have Northville and Northfield Townships.

The City of Northville, which receives about $35,000 a year in revenue sharing funds, has allocated most of its receipts so far for public safety. Northville has also directed some of its monies toward environmental protection, primarily litter and rubbish removal.

Novi has spent $10,000 on new fire equipment and has used $9,000 in revenue sharing funds for a new police car. In addition, over $5,000 was spent by Novi on radio equipment for the police and fire departments.

Wixom spent $5,000 in revenue sharing funds as a down payment on a new fire tanker and plans to expend a portion of next year's allocation for a hook and ladder truck.

South Lyon has also been extremely safety-conscious with its revenue sharing money, using some as a down payment on a fire truck, and purchasing a new police car and a police radio system.

Northville Township uses part of its revenue sharing funds to pay the rent on the fire department contract and fire hall rent. (Northville Township contracts with the City of Northville for fire protection.)

Northfield Township has allocated a good portion of its revenue sharing receipts to police protection. Half of the money received from January through June of 1973 went Library from revenue sharing funds of both Northville City and Township.

SOUTH LYON'S FINEST — South Lyon Patrolman Bill Kleinnow poses with one of the three squad cars the city has purchased for the police department with federal revenue sharing funds. The city council has designated its funds to be used for public safety. In addition to the police cars, South Lyon has also purchased an additional fire truck from its share of the federal funds.

CONDITIONING THE COMPETITIVE TRAIL HORSE

Before you begin to condition a horse for competitive trail riding, you should have a veterinarian make a general health check of the animal.

You should be familiar with P and R's (pulse and respiration) so you can take these readings on your horse when he is at rest or out on the trail. These readings will give you an indication of what shape he is in. The same system will be used on competitive trail horses.

The pulse may be picked up underneath the jaw, down on his legs, or underneath his

If your lawn has small purple spots, rings of dead grass or areas speckled with white powder - it's time for first aid.

Tiny purple spots, says Joseph Vargas, turfgrass pathologist at Michigan State University, are the first signs of a fungus disease that attacks Kentucky bluegrass during cool, moist weather. It also attacks red fescue during the warm weather in July and August.

To control the disease, Vargas recommends chemical treatment with Actidione-Thiram, Fore, Daconil 2787 or Dyrene.

Mowing to a height of two to three inches and removing the clippings will help check the disease, he notes.

"If you're establishing a new lawn, consider planting varieties resistant to the disease," he suggests. These include the Baron, Adelphi, Bonnie blue and Nugget varieties of Kentucky bluegrass.

Circles of dead grass with healthy appearing green grass in the centers are an indication your lawn has fusarium blight infection, the specialist says. The problem is also caused by a fungus and symptoms usually appear during dry periods. Again, Kentucky bluegrass is often the victim.

To control fusarium blight, Vargas recommends two applications of Benomyl (Tersan 1991) at two-week intervals. If applied at the first sign of the disease, this should be an effective control. Use eight ounces of Benomyl with enough water to cover 1,000 square feet of lawn. Drench it into the root zone before it has a chance to dry on the foliage.

"Light, frequent watering of infected turf will also help minimize fusarium blight," Vargas adds.

Lawn areas that look as if they've been dusted with flour have a case of powdery mildew. Damp, shaded Kentucky bluegrass lawns are most often affected, and the Merion variety is especially susceptible.

To control powdery mildew, use Karathane of sulfur in combination with Benomyl every three or four weeks.

For badly infected areas, Vargas recommends reseeding or sodding with a red fescue and a resistant Kentucky bluegrass like Nugget or Warren's A34. The mixture of red fescue and Kentucky bluegrass will give you a nice looking, healthy and more disease-resistant lawn.

Geraniums: A Riot of Color

That sunny corner of your yard or patio can be a riot of color if you fill it with geraniums.

Geraniums like a location with lots of sun, says William Carpenter, horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. Because they can be grown in containers, they are favorites with apartment dwellers and people with limited yard space.

The best soil for geraniums is a loam soil, not too sandy or heavy. A mixture of one part each of soil, sand and peat moss is excellent.

"If you're growing geraniums in pots, remember that they bloom better if they're not in too large a container," Carpenter says. "Also be sure there are drainage holes in the container to prevent the soil from staying soggy."

Water geraniums thoroughly after planting and whenever the soil is dry. Avoid getting the foliage wet - wet leaves are prone to attack by disease.

Fertilizer applications should be at the rate of one-fourth teaspoon of 12-12-12 or 5-10-5 fertilizer per plant or two pounds per 100 square feet. Excessive fertilizer, Carpenter cautions, can kill the plants.

Geraniums are easy to propagate, the specialist says. Take five- to six-inch cuttings off of healthy plants and place them in a cool, dry, shaded spot for a few days so the ends of the stems can heal over. This prevents them from rotting when you place them in moist soil for rooting.

After the new plants are well-rooted, you can transplant them into containers or garden space.

Cut 'em Early And They'll Last

Flowers from your garden will stay fresh looking longer if you follow these tips from William Carlson, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. Cut flowers early in the morning or late in the evening when their stems are full of water, he advises. Choose flowers that haven't fully opened and cut them on a slant with a sharp knife or shears.

Remove all broken or bruised parts of the stems and leaves and cut the foliage off the lower one-third to one-half of the stem so that no foliage is below the water.

As soon as you've cut the flowers, place them in warm water (110 degrees F.) for a couple of hours. Use a clean container and a flower preservative available from your florist or garden center to prevent the growth of bacteria and fungus. In addition to the unpleasant odors these organisms can produce, they can cause the flowers to wilt by preventing the passage of water up the stem.

If you are unable to locate a flower preservative, mix one pint of water and one pint of Sprite or 7-Up and ¼ teaspoon bleach and place the flowers in it. This solution will keep the flowers looking fresh several days longer than plain water.

"Your flowers will stay fresh looking longer if you place them out of drafts and direct sun and away from electric lights," Carlson says. "At night, put them in a cool spot."

Loud Radios Taboo in State Parks

WATCH THE SOUND level on those portable radios and stereo tape decks in Michigan's state parks and recreation areas this summer. If they're too loud, you could end up outside the park.

The Natural Resources Department reminds campers and others that it is illegal "to use a loudspeaker, public address system or sound amplifying equipment of any kind without written permission" in these areas.

In addition, the rule about noise says that "permission will not be granted if such system is capable of interfering with the use and enjoyment of the park by others. No person may operate any motor, motorboat, motor vehicle, radio, television or any device in such a manner that it produces excessive noise."

Our intention is to enforce present rules vigorously when it comes to disturbances in our parks," says Parks Division Chief O.J. Scherschligt.

"Young people and others who operate loud, noise-producing equipment in state parks should be aware they can be arrested or ejected from the area if they are (in violation)," he says.

The department says campers who are disturbed should report the incident to the park ranger immediately, giving a description of the violator and the equipment he or she is using.

"If other campers are being disturbed, we are empowered to arrest the person operating the offensive equipment," Scherschligt says.

"We would prefer it if all campers took one another into consideration which they enjoy our parks."

MICHIGAN WANTS to look after the health and safety of its own working force—not leave the task to federal authorities. Under terms of a bill signed into law recently by Gov. Milliken, the state can do just that.

"This bill will allow Michigan to provide greater protection for the health and safety of its workers by keeping the inspection and enforcement powers at the state level—much closer to the worker and his or her machine," the governor said. Without the legislation, the U.S. Labor Department would take over jurisdiction.

Barry Brown, director of Michigan's Department of Labor, led a successful effort to keep Michigan's safety administrative effort so effective, that there was little problem with federal officials.

Milliken says the new law gives the state authority to "take the steps necessary to protect workers from injury, disease and death."

Hopefully, he adds, it also will bring about a "significant reduction" in current injury statistics. There were some 43,553 compensable injuries and 435,000 lost-time injuries in Michigan in 1972. Last year, the figures jumped to 47,246 compensable injuries and 472,000 lost-time injuries.

UNDER THE NEW LAW, the state departments of labor and public health will set standards, and each will have a commission made up of four labor representatives, four industry representatives and one representative from the general public.

The departments are allowed to inspect work places without notice—either on their own or after complaints from workers.

A 10-YEAR-VETERAN of the Michigan State Police force is the "Trooper of the year" for 1973.

Richard C. Humbarger, 37, of the Flint post, won the top honor over six other nominees. A juvenile-community relations liaison officer at Flint, Humbarger is credited with establishing the emergency foster home concept in Huron County. He also has promoted law enforcement programs in the county through St. Clair Community College.

Humbarger, the 13th winner of the annual Gerstacker award given to a state police officer, was cited for "outstanding community service." The award includes $1,000 and a personal plaque.

WHO KNOWS what the reason? Watergate, disenchantment with the Republican administration in Washington, more regional phone lines.

Whatever, Michigan Democrats picked up nearly $200,000 for their party endeavors through the recent national Democratic Party telethon.

Michigan's total contribution in pledges was some $262,000 two-thirds of which goes directly to the state party.

The telethon, which featured scores of Hollywood and political personalities, lasted for 21 hours and grossed some $7 million, $2 million more than last year's six-hour prime time telecast.

Michigan's Democratic Chieftain Morley Winograd said there's "no question about the success of this telethon. The Detroit total alone exceeded last year's total of $150,000. Detroit," he noted, "pledged $168,000 this year."

BENJAMIN H. PADDOCK, III, president of City National Bank of Detroit, today announced the promotion of Kenneth A. Joyce to assistant cashier in the Branch Division.

Joyce joined CNB in late 1971 as a management trainee and, following branch management training, he was promoted to assistant branch manager in 1973. In April, 1973, Joyce was promoted to the position of staff assistant in Branch Administration where his responsibilities include communication with branch offices. Joyce earned a BBA degree in Finance from Wayne State University. He resides in the city of Novi with his wife Eleanor.

Babson Report

Fuel, Fare Clouds Air Industry

BABSON'S REPORTS Inc.—The past twelve months have probably been even more difficult for the airline industry than other recent troubled years. The chief "adverse" factor, not surprisingly, was the problem of fuel, in terms of both availability and price. And yet 1973 saw the U.S. airlines establish new records in operation. More than 200 million passengers took to the airways last year; more than $1 billion in revenues was generated from freight transport, and 16 billion pieces of mail were carried. The lines accounted for about 80 percent of intercity passenger transportation and 95 percent of overseas passenger travel.

With such outstanding operational statistics, there should also have been good financial news from the carriers. However, surveying the period 1967 to 1973, we note the airlines experienced a 43 percent cost inflation, while productivity was up only 17.5 percent; in the same period, 1973 earnings were some $200 million below those for 1967 in spite of the fact that the revenues were nearly doubled.

Here is how the jet fuel situation helped to distort the airline picture. Starting in the final quarter of last year when the Arab oil embargo became a reality, the airlines were severely hampered by a shortage of jet fuel. They were first directed to reduce fuel usage as of November 1 to the levels of 1972. The effect was immediately to reverse growth trends as departures declined from levels of the previous month and the like year-earlier period. For December a cut to 95 percent of 1972 levels was implemented, plus another cut in January 1974 to 85 percent. Further compounding the trouble was the fact that the airlines were often unable to obtain even the fuel allocated them.

Finally, the price of jet fuel became a real item of expense. Comparing year-to-year costs, fuel for domestic lines was up 13 percent in September 1973, and by March 1974 the price was up 72 percent. International lines fared even worse: Fuel costs were up 20 percent in September 1973 and 170 percent by March. Some relief was seen in May as the Energy Office restored full quotas of fuel needs—subject to availability—and a 6 percent fare surcharge was permitted related to fuel costs on domestic lines.

AFTER THE allocation of fuel there was an immediate elimination of daily departures (some 1500 at year's end) and the release of thousands of airline employees. Nearly all the newly acquired 747s were grounded, and many were sold to other lines for use as air freighters. There was also a concerted effort by some companies to reduce the number of plane types in service, thereby cutting back inventories of spare parts and standardizing maintenance and flight operations.

However, the gasoline shortfall for autos apparently did produce some shifting to air transportation, with air traffic growth rates picking up steam. Domestic revenue passenger miles were up by 7.2 percent and the passenger load factor (percent of seats occupied) rose to 57 percent. April traffic maintained the growth pattern of the first three months, but a very slight pause in traffic growth for May and June has put forecasters in a quandary as to the probable summer traffic pattern. On June 1, youth fares, family plan fares, and Discover America plans—all offering discounts—were phased out. The major internationals have asked that the U.S.-to-Europe youth fares be reinstated in order to compete successfully with similar Canada-to-Europe plans.

With the variables of fuel prices, air fares, and traffic levels clouding the picture in coming months, a determination of future airline profits is difficult. However, the Research Department of Babson's Reports feels that airline stocks should be held at this juncture—even at present depressed levels—for recovery predicated on an anticipated improvement in the nation's economy.

Pre-Marital Counseling Requirements Vary

How do clergymen of different denominations handle their responsibilities as pre-marital counselors? What procedures do they follow in counseling sessions and what pre-marital arrangements must be made? What standards do they set for relationships? Has the one in three mortality rate for marriages affected pre-marital counseling by clergy?

Father Raymond Klauke and Father Roger Smith of St. Patrick's Church in Brighton and St. John's Mission in Hartland say that since the sacrament of marriage he performed and has asked the blessings of the church, it is their duty to provide the couple the Christian concept of marriage.

The church follows a specific pre-marital program. Couples are expected to contact the church at least three months prior to the wedding date.

At that time, the priest interviews the couple to determine "the quality of the relationship." He considers the time they have spent together, age of the individuals, and family backgrounds of each person. The priest also arranges further counseling if "obvious problems" exist — emotional problems, pregnancy, excessive drinking.

Couples married at St. Patrick's are also required to attend Pre-Cana Conferences held at the Luke M. Powers Educational Center in Flint. The conferences, required by Diocesan Policy, are six to eight hour sessions which bring together the engaged couple and priests and married couples to discuss communication and adjustments in marriage, finances, and sex as well as the church's liturgy of marriage.

If the proposed marriage involves two religions, the church requires the non-Catholic to take instruction in the Catholic faith, though Father Smith says the intensity of the course is determined by the individual priest.

Father Klauke said instruction is required so the non-Catholic can understand the faith of the Catholic partner since the Catholic partner promises to abide by the faith and raise children in the faith.

Father Klauke said, "When a mixed marriage (between a Catholic and non-Catholic) goes on the rocks, the greater fault lies with the Catholic partner for failing to set the example of faith which he or she has extolled."

The Church Board of the First Baptist Church of Wixom recently updated its policy on church weddings and pre-marital arrangements. The policy is specific about who can be married in the church and details of the wedding itself to protect the church from couples attracted only to the church building, said the Reverend Robert Warren.

Only "professing Christians" who have attended the church regularly — at least three consecutive months — are allowed to use church facilities. Pregnant brides or divorced individuals whose former mates are unmarried or whose marriage dissolved for non-scriptural reasons (incompatibility as opposed to adultery, for example) are not married in the church.

Under those circumstances of divorce, said Mr. Warren, the Bible does not recognize dissolution of the marriage. Mr. Warren said he meets with a couple at least four hours in sessions before the wedding.

At the first meeting, and after he has determined the Christian commitment of the couple, Mr. Warren gives each individual a test of 44 questions concerning marital matters of affection, recreation, in-laws, finances, educational background and problem-solving. Sample questions, to which respondents answer agree or disagree, include:

"True love is personal delight in my fiancée."
"A husband or wife should not indulge in any type of recreation unless both are mandatory though he does encourage meetings with the couple.

According to Mr. Tiefel, counseling sessions are more or less effective depending on the couple.

"It really all depends on the couple," said Mr. Tiefel. "I generally meet with them several times as a couple but may meet and counsel with each party individually as well. I try to see how they perceive marriage, what they expect from it and how they seem to relate to each other. I also try to make them aware of Scriptural teachings regarding marriage."

Mr. Warren said his main concern is that couples "make Christ the head of the home." He said he believes it is crucial couples understand their Christian commitment to each other in light of present divorce statistics.

"Everyone stands before the church to make those vows and each is deeply in love, believing it (divorce) will never happen to them. But it does."

Unlike those churches and clergy which require pre-marital programs, The Reverend George Tiefel of Immanuel Lutheran Church, South Lyon, says he does not consider counseling mandatory though he does encourage meetings with the couple.

According to Mr. Tiefel, counseling sessions are more or less effective depending on the couple.

Mr. Tiefel said that although he does not approve of hasty marriages and would not participate in marriages if there was something morally wrong — if either individual had not dissolved his or her relationship with someone else — he does not believe the minister should be the final judge of who should or should not marry.

Calvary Baptist Youth Preside

Youth Sunday was celebrated by Calvary Baptist Church Sunday with the young people of the congregation having complete charge of both services.

Youth Director Harold Callan, a senior at Maranatha Bible College, Watertown, Wisconsin, delivered a message at the 11 a.m. service.

At 7 p.m. Dave Nemitz, a high school senior from Flint, delivered the address to the congregation with special music provided by young people from the Flint area.

Calvary Baptist Church met for the first time a week ago Sunday in the newly purchased building at 57885 Grand River, New Hudson. This coming Sunday (July 28) Rocky Lewis, Calvary Baptist youth, will deliver the evening address to the congregation.

Several activities are also planned for the remainder of the summer.

Family night will be featured Wednesday nights beginning at 7 p.m. with Bible Study for all age groups.

He's Guest For Sunday

The Reverend William Brew will be guest minister at the Fellowship Bible Church of Hartland Sunday, July 28. Mr. Brew will preach at the 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. services, and he will teach adult Sunday school at 11:15 a.m.

Mr. Brew is the former pastor of the Fenton Bible Church. He is now affiliated with the Grand Rapids School of the Bible and Music.

The Fellowship Bible Church is meeting temporarily at the Hartland Music Hall in Hartland.

Test Driver Will Preach

Alan Hancock, former test driver at the General Motors Proving Ground and pastor of the Wrights Corner Church of God in Howell, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. worship service, July 28, at Highland Church of the Nazarene, Highland.

Church Pastor James Krauss also announces he will present a series of sermons during the month of August entitled "Becoming the Person You Really Want to Be."

Rose Attends Conference

Norman Rose, of 2800 Earl Lake Drive, Howell, was among 165 Lutheran Brotherhood district representatives who attended a regional sales conference July 12-16 at the Boston Marriott.

Rose qualified to attend the conference by earning membership to the Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society's top sales club for 1973.

Rose is a member of the Irvin Sandbrink Agency.

She's Top Hitter

Nun Sparks 'Hustlers'

"Sisters are very human, you know. We like to do the same things anyone else does."

So speaks Sister Jackie Philips, ace hitter on the Happy Hustlers slow pitch softball team.

Sister Jackie, a second grade teacher at St. Patrick's Elementary School in Brighton, is the only nun in the Brighton Women's Softball League which involves about 150 women in two divisions (the Pots and Pans), of five teams each.

Sister Jackie said she first learned of the softball team from a mother in the parish who asked her to join.

Having played softball and various sports in high school and in other communities since high school, Sister Jackie joined Pearl's Oysters at mid-season last year. The team, which lists 15 women on its roster, changed the team name to Happy Hustlers this year.

The name change may have brought a change of luck. Though the team finished near the bottom in league standings last year, the Happy Hustlers are tied for first place at this point this season.

Asked the reactions of other players, Sister Jackie said she doesn't think players change their behavior in her presence because she is a nun.

"I'm just another softball player on the field. I don't wear anything that says 'I'm a sister.'"

What intrigues other players, says Sister Jackie, is that nuns like to play sports, that they are human, and that they like to be involved in the community.

Though Sister Jackie regards her softball playing as just a form of recreation, she does think it is important people realize the humanity of sisters.

A native of Northville, Sister Jackie came to St. Patrick's in Brighton from Illinois, where she taught for four years and Ann Arbor where she taught for three years.

This year, Outstanding Teachers of America cited Sister Jackie as one of its outstanding elementary teachers. She is spending this summer taking graduate courses in elementary education at Eastern Michigan University.

Mountain Park

It's Forest Primeval

A visit to the Porcupine Mountains in the western Upper Peninsula is like a return to the forest primeval, to the wilderness once known only to the Indians, according

MICHIGAN'S PORKIES

ARE THE HIGHEST MOUNTAINS IN THE MIDWEST. YOU CAN DRIVE IN TO PORCUPINE MOUNTAINS STATE PARK IN THE STATE'S UPPER PENINSULA AND BE SURROUNDED BY FORESTS JUST AS IN PRIMEVAL TIMES. THE VIRGIN WILDERNESS OFFERS UNUSUAL LURE FOR THE OUTDOORSMAN WITH MANY SCENIC TRAILS LEADING TO BREATH-TAKING SCENIC AREAS. THE PARK IS IDEAL FOR THE CAMPER. FISHING

IN THE NUMEROUS TROUT STREAMS IS EXCELLENT. SCENIC WINDING SOUTH BOUNDARY ROAD RUNS ALMOST THE FULL WEST-EAST LENGTH OF THE WILDERNESS BEFORE GOING NORTH TO END AT M-107 WHICH IN TURN RUNS WEST AND ENDS AT LAKE OF THE CLOUDS ESCARPMENT. THE MAGNIFICENT VIEW THERE IS THE PARK'S HIGHLIGHT. THE PORKIES, 1,958 FEET ABOVE SEA LEVEL, ARE 20 MILES WEST OF ONTONAGON ON LAKE SUPERIOR.

DRIVING TWO-LANE ROADS AT FREEWAY SPEEDS IS A COMMON ERROR. ADJUST YOUR SPEED DOWNWARD AFTER YOU LEAVE A FREEWAY, TO MEET CHANGING CONDITIONS. MORE THAN 10 PERCENT OF MICHIGAN'S FATAL ACCIDENTS OCCUR ON UNPOSTED TWO-LANE ROADS, USUALLY AT SPEEDS TOO FAST FOR CONDITIONS. SLOW DOWN AND BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE!!

AS SELECTED BY AUTOMOBILE CLUB OF MICHIGAN to Automobile Club of Michigan.

It's a place where, even today, the lines of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's immortal Hiawatha become a reality.

The vast stretches of wilderness are now part of Porcupine Mountains State Park. This area is now one of the most scenic and popular state parks in Michigan, says Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

The Porkies, as they are popularly called, are located 20 miles west of Ontonagon at the terminus of M-107. The area's northern boundary elbows into the ruggedly rocky shore of Lake Superior for 23 miles between the Michigan-Wisconsin border and Silver City.

"Within the park's nearly 59,000 acres are brawling mountain rivers, lakes and dark stands of virgin hemlock, pines and hardwoods, said to be among the finest east of the Rockies," says Ratke. "Some of the forest monarchs are 200 years old."

How did this virgin timber escape the wanton slaughter of the lumbering era? Simply by inaccessibility. Now the trees are protected for the enjoyment of this and future generations.

Inaccessibility still acts as a protection to this park. To really see it, you have to hike over some of the 90 miles of well-marked trails. They vary in length from three-eighths of a mile to eight miles. Not all of the trails are safe for small children, for they can change suddenly from a quiet walk in the forest to a breathtaking skim along a cliff's edge.

For the visitor, the big attraction is the magnificent view of the Lake of the Clouds from the escarpment. The Carp River, a silver thread, flows through the green valley far below.

A walk of some 500 feet from the parking lot will take the visitor to the escarpment. It's a 3-D view with depth, distance, dimension. The escarpment is one of the highest points in the Midwest, 2,023 feet above sea level.

The lake, far below, looks like a section of misplaced sky. Beyond the lake, the forest roof, wave after wave of it, melts into blue distance. Several trails begin here. Some lead to old rock dumps, aged machinery and other evidence of past mining and logging days.

A drive on South Boundary road, which extends east and west along the park's southern boundary before going north to join M-107, goes past stands of high virgin hardwood and hemlock. The road was built in the early 1960s.

The campground itself is a comparative dot in the park's vast acreage. West from nearby Ontonagon are many secluded camping sites and quiet streams, seldom visited, even during July and August when the country is at its loveliest.

Ontonagon, now a town of nearly 2,500 population and the Ontonagon County seat, is the only Lake Superior port giving safe anchorage between Eagle River and the western Michigan boundary.

If you travel over US-45 you will pass through at the Ontonagon River crossing the Miliary Hills "creeping clay" area where even the forests are said to slide downhill and fissures appear at intervals. Road engineers finally licked this clay by using heavy waste copper rock. The cost, $2.7 million for an eight-mile stretch, seems high but now the road stays in place.

The historic route follows the old dogged path over which mail was carried to Ontonagon. Later it became the Military Road to Fort Wilkins.

The shoreline of Lake Superior offers miles and miles of pleasant walking for any age. The beach is sometimes rocky, sometimes sandy, and along the shore or at the water's edge are stones too beautiful to pass by.

Also fun to explore are the old copper mine workings found all through the park which are accessible by auto plus some minor foot work.

July and August are the months when the park is at its best for scenery, with October also popular for autumn foliage colors.

At a coffee held at the Jack Burwell residence in Livonia, Ernie Grant, Democratic candidate for a seat in the House of Representatives from the 35th District, told an audience that his campaign march through 33 precincts to date has given him a meaningful insight into the mind of the "man on the street." Grant pointed out that the reception given him and his platform was most enthusiastic. "I'm very excited about the genuine interest people are taking in my stand on Crime, Drugs, Education and Fiscal Reform," Grant said. "At the onset, to be quite frank, I believed the politician, regardless of his party affiliation, was going to have his work cut out for him just getting the voter to listen to what you have to say," he continued. However, Grant is of the opinion that because of the nature of the "political scene" that has beset upon us these past several months, "we must pledge ourselves to the complete dedication of service to the people. This will be the only formula capable of success in putting dignity back into politics," he concluded.

Jerome P. Cavanagh, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, today called Sander Levin's demand for the immediate withdrawal of two Cavanagh radio spots, "ludicrous." Cavanagh said that he would not take his ads off the air because, "Quite simply, they are true. Levin has not made a public disclosure of all his campaign contributions. And Levin has not agreed to a debate."

On Levin's contention that he is willing to debate Cavanagh, Cavanagh said: "That, too, is ludicrous. Mr. Levin has agreed to a few joint appearances on 'call-in' shows. He knows as well as I do that those are not debates. Mr. Levin has not been willing to schedule himself into a single face-to-face debate appearance in which we both address ourselves to precise issues and argue our differences within a formal debate format. That is a debate."

A balanced program of efficient law enforcement and supportive social programs holds the answer to this nation's drug problem, Democratic Congressional candidate Ronald W. Egnor said Wednesday at a campaign rally in Monroe County's Frenchtown Township.

"A harsh police crackdown on drug offenders without back-up supportive services cannot be truly effective because we would be in effect, treating the symptoms while ignoring the disease," Egnor said. "We do need efficient, well-trained law enforcement teams to protect law-abiding citizens, and to remove drug offenders from the streets," he continued. "But, once off the street, if we continue to treat the addict as a criminal, rather than a sick individual in need of healing, we are doomed to failure."

Egnor added many existing antidrug programs rely almost exclusively on the law enforcement part of the equation, and spend almost no time or money on drug abuse education.

Governor William G. Milliken has announced that Dr. John A. Hannah, former President of Michigan State University, will be Chairman of the Michigan for Milliken Committee, a statewide citizen group supporting the Governor's re-election effort.

"Dr. Hannah has had a long and distinguished career in public service," the Governor said. "I appreciate his willingness to help me continue my public service."

Hannah, 71, served in various federal posts under five Presidents. He was Michigan State President from July of 1941 to April of 1969, when he was appointed Director of the Agency for International Development. He was appointed by President Truman to the advisory board that developed the Point Four program and by President Eisenhower as Assistant Secretary of Defense, and as Chairman of the U.S. Section of the Permanent Joint Board of Defense for Canada and the United States.

Hannah also was named by President Eisenhower as Chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, and continued under Presidents Kennedy, Johnson, and Nixon.

He currently is serving as Deputy Secretary General of the United Nations World Food Conference.

Democratic congressional candidate John Reuther blasted the Nixon administration for allowing "the worst inflation since World War I, both in terms of intensity and duration." Reuther made the remarks at a meeting held in his behalf at Local 157 of the United Auto Workers.

"The Nixon-Esch response has consistently been that inflation can only be controlled by putting the consumer through the wringer," Reuther said.

"Their policy is one of cutting the average citizens purchasing power, in the hope that a halt in buying will stop the inflationary cycle. This policy has produced the highest interest rates since the Civil War," Reuther said.

"The resulting loss in real income has forced all but the wealthy to forego everything but the basic necessities. Not only have these policies been unnecessarily harsh, but they have failed to stop the inflationary spiral."

Democratic Congressional Candidate Theo Williams made this statement regarding financial disclosure this week: "I believe that a qualified candidate for U.S. Congress should be able to get elected without being supported and financed by special interests.

"Accordingly my financial statement is quite simple:

"I have not received any contributions, nor have I solicited any contributions. And as I previously noted in a Press Release, my total campaign budget is less than $1000.

"The sign on my car which I had in the July 4th parade sums it up rather well, though somewhat briefly: 'No Fat Cats, No Deals, No Pay-Off.'"

Draft Register Falling

Reports show that draft registrations in Michigan have fallen off sharply during May and June. This decrease is attributed to the belief that many young men 18 years old do not realize that federal law still requires every male citizen and resident alien to register with Selective Service at age 18.

Failure to register is a violation of the law and may result in the young men being reported to the United States Attorney for possible prosecution.

Registration is a simple process and may be accomplished in a few minutes at any of the 14 area offices in Michigan or by one of more than 900 volunteer registrars in Michigan high schools and colleges.

Men can also register for the draft by mail if they find it difficult to visit a Selective Service office or registrar. Mail registration forms are available from poster displays located in many post offices, banks, schools and recruiting offices.

A young man required to register can pick up a registration form and complete it at his home where he may be assisted by his family. Instructions are included with the form. When it is completed he need only fold and mail it. The form is preaddressed and needs no postage.

If a mail-in card cannot be found, a person can call or write any Selective Service Area Office in Michigan and request the Mail-In Registration Card.

The Selective Service Area Offices in Michigan include: Ann Arbor Area Office No. 21 - Room 210, First National Building, 201 South Main Street, Ann Arbor 48108;

Detroit Area Office No. 27 - 11th Floor Cadillac Tower Building, 65 Cadillac Square, Detroit 48226;

Metro Greets New Terminal

The growing importance of the Detroit metropolitan area as a world travel center will be highlighted August 1 as a new international air terminal begins operations at the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

Under construction for two years, the $11.5 million facility is named the Michael Berry International Terminal in honor of the chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates the airport complex.

The new terminal, capable of handling nearly 10,000 travelers a day, will serve passengers of all international carriers. Charter flights also will be serviced by the three arrival-departure satellites designed for simultaneous use by three jumbo jets or six smaller aircraft.

Forecasts show that international air travel through the Detroit area will more than triple within the next seven years. The present level is approximately 315,000 passengers per year.

The new terminal is completely autonomous from other units of the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport and offers complete facilities for immigration, public health, customs, agricultural inspection, passenger and baggage check-in, dining rooms, lounges and other services.

Visitors to the three-level structure will be greeted by a gracefully sculptured 400-foot long concrete canopy and 23 sculptured pillars. In addition to the reception lobby, the first level will house check-in and baggage makeup and claims services as well as customs inspection.

The second level contains airline offices and Immigration and Public Health Inspection.

The third level, serviced by direct escalators from the check-in area, is devoted to the departure lounge, restaurant, bars and concessions. Access to aircraft will be through a concourse opening into the three satellites. A unique operational feature in the concourse will allow the electronic opening and closing of a series of doors so that isolation of incoming passengers can be maintained.

The 320-by-136 foot terminal building, containing more than 100,000 square feet of floor space, is complemented by a 623-space parking area with an over-flow lot accommodating another 200 vehicles.

The new terminal is a major step in a $69 million expansion program undertaken at the airport over the past two years. Other facilities in the program include a 10,000 foot runway, improved lighting and taxiways on the airfield, expansion of baggage handling facilities in the two existing terminals, a new auto parking deck, and expansion of concourse to accommodate the increased use of larger jets.

Urban Transit Monies Sought

Governor William G. Milliken has urged Michigan's Congressional delegation and others in Washington to help secure full funding for urban transit in Southeastern Michigan in the pending Federal Mass Transit Act of 1974.

Milliken said today that in telegrams to the Michigan delegation he noted the Legislature has authorized placing of a $1.1 billion statewide transportation bond issue on the November ballot which would benefit all of Michigan. It would include funds for urban public transportation development in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Washtenaw, Monroe and Livingston Counties.

"This bonding initiative should be a strong argument for including Detroit among federal transit aid 'impact' cities eligible to share $14.4 billion of a proposed $24 billion, five-year federal appropriation," the Governor said.

The proposed legislation is before the House Public Works Committee. Present wording of the proposed act, which was drafted before the Legislature acted on the $1.1 billion Michigan program, gives major funds to cities which have advanced urban transit system plans and sources of revenue. Included are Chicago, Washington, D.C., San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Atlanta.

"In order to assure sufficient federal funds for the SEMTA program at the earliest possible time, it is important to include authorization in the pending bill," the Governor said.

"By including Detroit among the eligible major cities, it would help the entire SEMTA program."

Under SEMTA's 15-year plan, the federal government would provide about $4.32 billion, which is about 80 per cent of the total.

Revenue Sharing

toward that category. The other half went toward fire protection.

Another area of local concern has been public transportation. The City of Brighton and Northville, Northfield, Green Oak, Genoa and Hamburg Townships have allocated significant amounts to road improvements.

Brighton is directing a large portion — 70 per cent — of its revenue sharing funds to street resurfacing. So far, the city has spent $57,000 in resurfacing 20,500 feet of what had been gravel roads.

Green Oak Township used about $26,000 last year to improve township transportation. That included improving roads as well as constructing a new bridge over the Huron River at Rickett Road.

Federal revenue sharing money is also helping area municipalities acquire badly-needed land.

Novi budgeted $10,000 of its 1973-74 revenue sharing monies toward purchase of new park land. The City of Brighton is allocating 10 per cent of its monies toward the development of parks, and is directing 20 per cent toward the acquisition of off-street parking area.

Green Oak Township earmarked $3,500 for the purchase of land for the expansion of the township fire hall. Northfield Township plans to spend around $6,000 for land acquisition and another $6,000 for the construction of a new municipal building.

Brighton Township, which is also eyeing the construction of a new municipal building, has put all its revenue sharing money — $47,651 so far — into a fund to be used on the construction of the new building.

As might be expected, every municipality also has unique areas in which it has spent revenue sharing money.

Northville Township has allocated monies for such 'unusual' purchases as fans and large-print library books for senior citizens. Genoa Township has paid for rubbish pickup for township residents.

The City of Wixom has spent some of its revenue sharing money on the refurbishing of the community building and Hamburg Township has used part of its revenue sharing receipts to help get the Hamburg Athletic Association, a community recreational group, off the ground.

Sands Are Always Shifting

This Park's No Sleeper

The Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes, one of western Michigan's most scenic attractions, are a magnet for thousands of summertime tourists who eagerly accept the challenge to climb a sandy, uncharted stairway to the top, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Dunesbuggy rides, boating, camping, fishing and just plain scenery viewing are among other things to do in the area.

Horse's Mouth

tail. If you watch the animal's flanks as they expand and contract his respiration will be easy to pick up.

You should know your horse's P and R when he is at rest. Check him when he is standing around half asleep and you can usually get what will be his lowest count. If you can check him in his home surroundings, you may find that his pulse may get down to the low 20's. But usually, if you get him haltered and move him around, even if he hasn't been working, or if he is awake in the corral with people moving around, a cold-blooded horse's pulse will usually be around 40-42. Some of them may show a normal pulse as high as 48.

Many Arabians and Thoroughbreds will have a pulse of about 36 and some will go down to 32 for a low pulse. As you condition your horse, you will discover his working pulse which may be around 78-90. But when you rest him, within 10 minutes his pulse will drop back to the reading you get when he is standing around in the paddock - perhaps around 44 for his pulse and 12 for respiration.

When you first start conditioning your horse, his pulse will go up quickly and take a relatively long time to recover or return to normal when he is rested. This situation will reverse itself when the horse is conditioned for competitive riding.

When you first start conditioning your horse, his pulse will go up quickly and take a relatively long time to recover or return to normal. You condition the horse so his P & R will drop down to normal or close to normal within 10 minutes.

Now we are ready to start the actual conditioning program. This is built around a two-mile per day gallop over a period of six weeks. When exercising the horse each day, walk him at least three-quarters of a mile to warm him up before starting the gallop.

Once he is warmed up, move him at a hand gallop for two miles. Pick a flat course for this two-mile gallop and try not to work him on a hard surface.

After the gallop, thoroughly cool out the horse before putting him up. In time the cooling-out period will become shorter.

As you continue this part of the program, check your horse's P & R at the end of each day's gallop and again in 10 minutes. You should find his recovery rate improving

A fit horse can be maintained in top condition with this two-mile gallop every two or three days and an extended workout every seven or ten days. But for the first six weeks, stick with the two-mile gallop each day with one day off each week. Remember to cut down on his feed on the day he is off and give him a little exercise to loosen him up.

Now you are ready to start on the next phase of his training on the trails.

Start his trail work gradually. Don't get him in over his head. It may cause the horse to lose confidence in you and you will probably take the same attitude toward him.

There are always water and bridges to cross, so get him used to both. Show him something new each time you go out.

Your training program now may go something like this: Monday—two mile gallop; Tuesday—10-15 mile trail ride; Wednesday—two mile gallop; Thursday—10-20 mile trail ride; Friday—two mile gallop; Saturday—20-40 mile trail ride; Sunday—brief workout on the longe line.

Remember that your objective in this training program is to put stress on your horse. You can do this in two ways: travel a long distance at a slower pace or travel a shorter distance at a faster pace.

The idea is to help your horse a little below his potential all along. Otherwise he may be in terrific condition, but if the horse is listless, he does not travel well on the trail; he is bored with the whole thing. He is overtrained.

A normal fit horse is capable of making a 60-mile ride each weekend; that would be 30 miles a day for two days, and it won't phase him. If you reach the point where you are making a ride every weekend, a two mile gallop on Tuesday and Thursday will probably be enough to maintain his level of conditioning.

You will still want to watch his P & R to determine that he is recovering and if he isn't you will have to determine why. You will want to keep him fit without over-conditioning. This is the point that often separates the winning horse from the others.

By this time you should know your horse well enough that you can make any changes in his training schedule that will maintain him at the level of condition you desire.

Sleeping Bear, the world's largest shifting sand dunes, eventually will be preserved in the Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes National Lakeshore.

"While this will be the fourth summer for the National Lakeshore, so far only about 10,000 of its 61,000 acres have been purchased," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

But while full federal facilities, including construction of a scenic highway, remain years away, the long-range prospect is very encouraging, he pointed out.

The $19.8 million appropriated for land acquisition is almost depleted, and the U.S. Park Service plans to ask Congress for additional funds to buy unacquired property.

When complete, the new national park will take in 31 miles of Lake Michigan shoreline. The sand dunes, some 600 feet high, provide an excellent place to view North and South Manitou Islands, offshore some 15 miles, which are included in the lakeshore development, Ratke said.

The Chippewa Indians were the first to recognize the Leelanau Peninsula as a great attraction, naming it "delight of the land."

The sands, somewhat like a sleeping bear in outline when viewed from the lake, are being moved by the west winds toward Glen Lake at a rate of six feet every year, burying trees and grass on nearby farms.

Even after the Park Service completes its task of acquiring all property for the development, there will be many resorts, campsites, fine dining places, ski resorts and other facilities for vacationers along the Lake Michigan shore and around Glen, Crystal, Platte and scores of other lakes, Auto Club emphasized.

D. H. Day and Benzie State Parks, which accommodate overnight campers, are within the boundaries of the new lakeshore park.

Until the scenic parkway is completed, improved state and county highways are routes for vacation visitors to various places in the peninsula.

Everywhere on the Leelanau Peninsula are green forests, glistening beaches, blue waters, cherry orchards and scenic splendor. There are picturesque harbors, such as Leland, that attract artists throughout the summer. A power dam on the Carp River and the powerhouse beside it are on the site of a sawmill erected in 1853.

Two of the shortest official state highways are in the vicinity of Glen Haven and Glen Arbor—M-109 and M-209—which transport visitors to the Sleeping Bear Dunes.

A ferry at Leland operates between the mainland and Manitou Islands.

At the Leland harbor is the Falling Waters Lodge and a dining room, Fisherman's Cove, for family dining. Nearby is the rebuilt Leland Lodge, for generations a popular summer resort.

Other resorts include Sugar Loaf Village, on Sleeping Bear Bay north of Glen Arbor, Lake Leelanau and Little Finger. The latter and Tobias also offer trailer sites and Lime Lake Campground has a modern trailer facility.

Several charter boat operations for salmon and trout fishing in the bay and Lake Michigan are located on the west shore of Grand Traverse Bay along M-22 at Northport.

Clear Sailing Ahead— Blue Water Hikes Lead

Don't expect to see anyone catching Miami Blue Water Pools this season. The chances are pretty good you'd be disappointed.

Miami is sitting all alone on the pinnacle of the National League and enjoying the scenery while the other teams in the division are knocking each other off while trying to stay alive.

In National action last week, second place Jim Storm knocked off Lakewood Colony but then fell to third place Jamaican Pools. Jamaican Pools in turn fell to the Novi Inn, leader of the American league.

National League

Jim Storm had an easy time manhandling Lakewood Colony, 17-1, but fell to Jamaican Pools 9-5. In the other contest, Lakewood Colony dumped Novi Heights 22-4.

Jim Storm scored five runs from six back-to-back hits in the first inning to put the game out of reach from the start, as far as Lakewood Colony was concerned. Storm also scored three runs in the second, fourth and sixth innings.

Lakewood put across its lone run in the fourth inning on a double by Don Kolodziej and a single by Jim Breen.

Jim Eskola, Dan Laho and Wai Maki all smacked three hits for Storm.

In the second Storm contest, the hits were even but the runs weren't as Jamaican Pools upset the number two team.

Jim Storm, as the away team gained the lead in the second inning on a Charles Kantola home run followed by two singles and an error.

Jamaican came back with one run in the second inning but Storm met the response with two more runs in the third inning.

Jamaican replied with four hits and three runs in the third inning to tie the game 4-4. Three runs in the fourth inning on two singles, a double and a triple for Jamaican wrapped up the game.

Leading the charge for Jamaican Pools was John Pantalone with a home run, double and single for a perfect night.

Three singles by Jim Eskola paced the Storm cause.

In the final national league contest, Lakewood Colony had one of its rare field days, romping over last place Novi Heights.

A nine run first inning paced by Tony Stine's bases loaded home run spelled doom for the Heights. Lakewood added five in the second inning and three in the sixth.

Novi Heights settled for three runs on three hits in the first inning and added another in the seventh.

Leading Lakewood was Stines who had a double besides his homer. Paul Black tallied three hits while Lee Norton had a triple and a double.

John Stipak with a double and single was the leading Novi Heights batter.

Both of the American League games involved Don W. Kelsey Co which lost to both the Novi Police and the Novi Jaycees.

The Jaycees scored seven runs in the first two innings and seven in the final seventh inning to pick up the victory. Seven hits accounted for the five first inning Jaycee runs.

Don W. Kelsey concentrated its 10 runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Homers by Doug Thrush and John Elkins led DWK.

Phil McNary punched two homers and a single for the Jaycees.

The Novi Police only scored six runs, but DWK only four in the other American contest.

Ed Butler led the police with two singles and a triple. Tom Sheppard popped three singles for DWK.

Inter-league Games

In games between teams from the two leagues, both league leaders pulled off victories. Miami Blue Water Pools destroyed the Novi Jaycees 15-4 while the Novi Inn won 10-8 over Jamaican Pools. J. P. Realty beat Portec 10-9.

Homers by Dennis Deim and Joe Doaner plus a triple by Rick Dale led to a six run third inning for Blue Water Pools. Three hits including a homer by Bob Pisha gave four more runs to Blue Water in the fourth inning.

The Novi Jaycees settled for three runs in the third inning and one in the fourth.

Phil McNary, Gary Colton and Jerry Chamberlain each collected three hits for the loser.

Novi Inn continued to stay on top of the American League by bumping Jamaican Pools 10-8.

Anyone who expected the Knothole hardball race to be a runaway should turn in his crystal ball and stop doing Jeanne Dixon imitations.

Action last week showed there may very well be a five team race on for the first two spots.

The top four teams, the Rangers, Twins, Bruins and Cardinals, won all their contests last week.

The fifth place Grants have only two losses despite dropping one to the Twins and could still be in the race.

In the excitement thriller of the week, the Indians whipped off nine runs in the first inning and almost upset the once defeated Twins before losing 32-28.

Twins had consecutive innings of 1, 9, 2, 4, 2, 9 and 5 runs. The Indians had innings of 9, 4, 7, 3, 0, 1 and 4 runs.

Thirty-two hits were clobbered by the Twins while the Indians were not far behind with 29. Of 26 players who made it into the contest, 25 had at least one hit.

Five Twins tallied at least three hits while four Indians were in the same category. The key to the Twin victory was the sixth inning when six singles; a double and three errors allowed nine runs to come home and give the Twins the lead for the first time.

Pacing the Twins was James Harding with three singles and a home run. Teammates Kevin Swayne, Bill Bosanko, David McElroy and Carl Schwarze slashed three hits each.

Behind the Indian attack were Randy Baxter with three doubles and two singles and David Greer with a home run, two doubles and a single. Todd Jennings hit four singles while Mike Wendel claimed three.

The Twins also had their batting eyes ready when they dropped the Giants 18-4.

Two home runs in the first inning by Mark Holland and Bob Thomson along with four back to back doubles in the second helped the Twins jump off to a 6-0 lead which they never relinquished.

Holland, Thomson, Scott Armstrong and Jim Harding all blasted homers while Dave McElroy and Keven Swayne knocked out three hits each for the Twins.

Scott Schaal and Dave Jackson accumulated three hits each for the loser while Steve Stuart jumped on a ball for a home run.

The league leading rangers had an easy time disposing of three teams which have a total of four wins amongst them.

Yankees with hits were Scott Dayton, Todd Smith, and Phillip LeAnnais.

Kevin McDermott, Kevin Bennett, Tom Marcel, David Mitchell and Charles Geis all finished the game with two hits for the Rangers.

The Rangers also had little trouble disposing of the Padres in 4 1/2 innings, 23-2.

Hits by Terry Nadeau and Brady Lineman stopped the Rangers hopes for a no-hitter.

The Rangers scored 10 times in each of the second and third innings while accumulating 24 hits. Bennett crunched three singles while eight of his teammates collected two hits apiece.

In another shortened affair, the Rangers defeated the Bucks, 23-10. Rangers had innings of 4, 10, 7 and 2 runs.

Bucks scored six runs in the second and four in the fourth period.

The Bruins stayed in third spot by scoring wins over the winless Padres and the Yankees.

Against the Padres, seven hits and three errors in the third inning led to nine runs to wrap up the contest for the Bruins on way to a 16-6 win.

Tom McNamara with a triple and double led the Bruins although Mark Tuggle slugged three singles.

Ten runs in the first inning and five in the second led to an easy 18-6 win by the Bruins over the Yankees.

The Yankees scored two runs in the first, third and fifth stanzas.

Kriss VanGieson and Quinn each collected three Yankee hits while Dave Lennox paced the Bruins with two singles and a double.

The Cardinals moved back into contention with a 24-12 and 37-2 ripping of the Cubs and Bucks.

The Cardinals scored five runs or more in the first four innings to pretty much sew up the outing against the Cubs. The Cubs did manage to push across five runs in the first and four in the third inning, but it was far from being enough.

Two homers and a double by Rod Behrens paced the Cubs. Teammate Matthew Yanoschick laced three singles and a triple.

Mike Crammer smashed two round circuits and Brian Pratt, Scott Brown and Jim Wilson each had one for the birds.

If there is such a thing as being "blown" off the field, the Bucks sure must have been hit by a hurricane when they met the Cardinals and were crushed 37-2.

Nothing went right for the Bucks while everything went perfect for the Cardinals who amassed 32 hits. In the five inning affair, the Cardinals had 4, 9, 10, 10 and four run innings.

Leading the massacre was Crammer with a homer, triple, double and single for the night. Also hot were Brian Brown with three singles and a homer and Joe Simmerk with three singles and a double.

Marc Masher led the Bucks with a double and single.

In another contest, the Yankees played to an easy 19-5 win over the Cubs.

The Yanks jumped off to a 14-2 lead by the third inning and coasted to the victory. Van Gieson, Greg Nichols and Rich Balek slashed three hits apiece while Danny Sackilah slugged a homer and a double.

Behrens, Ifverson and Michael Lupini pumped out homers for the loser.

VROOOM!

AMA Cycle Regionals Saturday at Downs

Corky Keener, the nation's top dirt track rider be at Northville Downs Saturday to compete with the greats for the $5,000 regional championship purse. Racing begins at 7 p.m.

Keener, 28 and a Flint native, is enjoying his second winning season, which has already included his first national championship victory at Louisville Downs, June 8.

The Louisville win was a prime goal in his racing career with bad racing luck and engine failure snatching certain victory from him there in 1972 and '73. He rides a Harley-Davidson owned and tuned by the world famous Bart Markel, winner of 28 Nationals himself, all on dirt.

"Corky is the best rider in the country today on dirt and now the record shows it...nobody can touch him," says Markel. A bystander or fan might add that, "if the bike holds up".

Corky is so fast and so hard on motorcycles that he takes two with him everywhere. When those break he'll borrow someone else's — and win on it — but one race is all that bike is good for with Keener on it.

All tracks haven't been sloped downhill for the two-time winner and current defending champion at the Northville Downs half mile oval. "I had to give up racing (professional) until 1971 because I couldn't afford to keep the 'big bike' in top racing condition," says Keener.

He became Expert in 1966 before the financial pinch. Now each year Fisher Body in Flint gives him a two month leave of absence from his skilled trade position as general electrician so he can "go racing for awhile."

"Money never was the reason I went racing, I always had a fulltime job and never needed the cash...it sure feels good to win it though," said Keener after cashing his $6,000 plus Louisville winner's check.

Nationally last year he made over $50,000, won more races on dirt tracks than any other Expert and logged 30,000 on his "new" Midas motorhome doing it. In Michigan he won the Flint Auto City Championship on the quarter mile, won Northville in September (and June '74), was the captain of Team Michigan and won the Dirt Indoor Short Tack at the state fairgrounds Coliseum.

Corky is currently ranked 10th in National Championship points and again leads the nation in overall points and most wins, as you read this.

Asked recently if he had given much thought to Road Racing (pavement closed course) he remarked, "If I can't hang the rear wheel out I don't know what to do; I guess that's why I'm not a very good groove track rider. As for road racing, those asphalt rashes take a long time to heal."

Corky's trademark is a droopy mustache and infectious smile that betrays his easy-going manner which he shuts off the minute his Harley roars.

"Everything seems to be falling in place...it's sure a lot more fun when you can win," says Corky in anticipation of the big race.

Corky Keener can be seen at Northville Downs' $5,000 Regional Championship Saturday night, July 27. Doors open at 4 p.m.; races are at 7 p.m. Tickets are $4.50 in advance at Hudsons and cycle shops...$5 at the gate...under 12, $2.50 at the gate only.

A Needle in Here....Someplace

Douglas Englebert of Salline, who will compete in Saturday's motorcycle races at Northville Downs, puts his Yamaha through its paces and nearly through a wall. The hands raised in the air in the bottom sequence signals to the starter that "I'm OK". Doug wasn't able to get it together after the crack-up and was on the sidelines during the final. But he'll be trying for honors again Saturday.

Tournament Hopeful Lose At Trenton

Eight boys from the Northville Recreation Tennis Program competed in the Trenton Open Tennis Tournament July 11-13 and one reached the semi-finals of the 14 and under bracket before being defeated. Advancing to the semi-finals before being knocked off was Ron Angell. Other players from the Northville program competing were Neal Bradley, Kurt Kastner, Mike McNamara, John Elton, Jeff Hodge, Paul Batz and Jeff Campbell.

Angell defeated four players before falling to Jim Brown 3-6, 2-6. In the quarterfinal round, he was matched up against Bradley and barely defeated him 6-2, 7-5.

Kastner and McNamara both beat one opponent before falling. Forty two players competed in the tourney.

Babe Ruth All-Stars Lose in District Tourney

Novi's Babe Ruth Little League all-stars just couldn't put it together in district play and lost to all star teams from Lake Fenton and Holly in the double elimination tourney.

In the first contest against Lake Fenton, Novi scored two runs in the first inning as Greg Porter walked, stole second and advanced to third as Dave Beall reached first on an error. Beall advanced to second on a wild throw.

Bill Georgio then hit a single scoring Porter and Beall, but was thrown out trying to steal home.

Lake Fenton waited until the fifth inning but pushed across five runs on five hits, an error, two walks and two players hit by the pitch. The game ended 7-4.

In the second match, Holly scored two runs in the first inning on a single, double and two wild pitches.

Novi came back with one run in the second inning when Bob Bannatz opened the inning with a double and scored on a fielder's choice.

A good running catch by Novi's Bill Georgio in centerfield plus a perfect accuracy shot saved a score in the third inning as the runner was nailed at home.

In the fifth inning Novi's Kurt Roderick singled and used some heads up running to steal home.

Beall walked and then scored on Biff McAllister's single.

Holly then scored a run in the seventh, tying up the score 3-3. Holly won the game in the eighth inning when they loaded the bases on walks and then pushed home the winning run on a wild pitch.

Two Girls' Teams Remain Unbeaten

Undeclared teams still remain in both the older and younger divisions of the Novi girl's slo-pitch softball league after five weeks of hot and heavy action.

Jamaican Pools kept its undefeated string intact last week in the older division with an 8-2 win over last place Meadowbrook Pharmacy. In the younger division, in a battle to see who would climb out of the cellar, Little Caesars Pizza ripped West Oakland Bank 21-9. Novi Auto Parts beat Dick Bur's Standard Oil.

Older Division
Mary Mulligan and Reggie Smith knocked triples to lead

Jamaican Pools in its win over Meadowbrook Pharmacy. Jill Sibole, Elaine Maki, Sue Beall and Jeri Sibole all came through with a pair of singles for the winner.

Meadowbrook runs all came on singles delivered by Kathy Vedro, Annie Robinson and Kim Solmes. Sue Ward tallied a pair of singles.

Drug Abuse Committee had its hitting eyes going in its 12-9 win over the Typewriter shop. Mary Szeles smashed a triple while Bobbie Brewer collected a double to pace the Committee.

Younger Division
Little Caesars came through with its first victory of the season last week with a 21-9 rampage over West Oakland Bank.

Mary Weber connected with a pair of doubles and a home run to lead Little Caesars.

West Oakland scored seven runs in the first inning but it wasn't enough to hold off Little Caesars. Mary Weber paced the pizza makers with a homer and a pair of doubles.

In the other contest, Ashley and Cox Realty beat Drug Abuse Committee despite an 8 strike-out effort by Sherri Nothnagel for the Committee.

Terri Solmes, Kim Selep, Wendy Pearson and Shannon Hope each delivered singles to send Ashley and Cox to its victory.

Nothnagel and Terri Disher crossed the plate for the only two runs for Drug Abuse Committee.

Novi Auto Parts retained its first place standing in the division by crushing Dick Bur's Standard Oil team 23-9.

Shoots Ace

A former Northville resident scored a hole-in-one while playing a round of golf at Brook-Howell golf course in Williamston Sunday.

Dick Biery, who was back in Michigan visiting his brother, Northville Councilman Dave Biery, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elden Biery, claimed the hole-in-one with a five iron on the 147 yard eighth hole. He finished the round at 36 for nine holes, one over par.

Biery is living in Cocoa Beach, Florida.

Guest of Eugenie Choquet and Leon Dochot this past week has been Christy Caswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Spencer of West Lake Drive and daughter Brenda have returned from spending a week in Kentucky.

Novi Golf League

Even the drizzle on Monday didn't keep the dedicated members of this league from coming out and playing good golf. All the ties were broken except for third place and the results are as follows: First place - Madalyn Padgett; second place - Phyllis Bishop; and the tied for third place, Marianne Gross and Connie Lunski. This group has doubled the participation in the league this year, with a total of 19 women being involved.

Teenage Summer Activities Center

A reminder of the Pizza party being planned for Thursday, July 25 from 5:30 - 7. All the pizza you can eat for 50 cents, is promised, and planned are old time Laurel and Hardy movies at the Orchard Hills School. Call there for additional information.

Other events coming up, in addition to the open recreation available every evening at the Orchard Hills School for those 12 years - 16, is an authentic Japanese Family Dinner planned. Cost will be $1 from 5:30 - 7 p.m. Space is limited, however.

On August 3 a bus will be leaving the school at 1 a.m. for the Detroit Tiger baseball game. Charge is 50 cents. It is also Ladies day at the stadium so mothers can go to at a reduced price. They are welcome to ride the bus, too.

Novi Parks and Recreation

The Cheerleading Clinic will be coming to a close on July 26 with 14 girls individually "trying out". These girls are from the sixth grade through the eighth, and they have learned many cheerleading skills, have participated in the "mount group cheer leading," and have concentrated on creative cheer leading under the direction of Chris Hayward.

With the summer playground activities, in addition to the usual open recreation including basketball in the gym, arts and crafts, a puppetmobile will be available on Wednesday, and children made chocolate chip cookies and planned to visit a bakery. Coming soon will be a trip to Kensington, a pet show and watermelon eating contest.

Bus transportation is available from certain points, and registration can be anytime. Call 349-5126 for details on this program.

Novi Police Department and Clerks Association

August 3 is the new date for the Trash and Treasures Sale formerly set for July 27. It is to be held at 46777 Twelve Mile Road, one mile west of Novi Road. Current leaders planning to return in the fall are reminded there is just about four weeks left in the summer months to take advantage of the Learning Center Hours on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. finishing up on August 29.

Interested leaders who are riding in taking their girls riding are asked to sign up now for the special weekend being planned at Ivory Farm in Commerce on September 13-14. Contact Mrs. Ivory at 363-4103 or Alvine Cooper at 477-5395.

Novi Youth Assistance

The first Novi Youth Assistance Horse Show was held during the Gala Days and plans are being made to have another one in the fall. Father Leslie Harding was the announcer, Ruth Dahl was the judge, and Jean Adams was the ringmaster. Monies from the event will go towards helping send children to camp.

DAY CAMPERS—Three Novi youths attended a basketball day camp conducted by Detroit Pistons Superstar Bob Lanier and Dick Vitale, head basketball coach of the University of Detroit Titans, last week at West Bloomfield High School. They are Bob McAllister (center) son of Mrs. Joan McAllister, and John and Dave Pisha, of and Mrs. Gene Pisha. Training included basketball fundamental instruction, shooting field goals and foul shots, ball handling, dribbling, passing and cutting along with basic offensive and defensive plays. Pistons All-Star Guard Dave Bing and KC-Omaha King's Center Otto Moore were guest Lecturers.

PARSON to PERSON
Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

The steamer, Lady Elgin, was sinking on a chilly evening in September. She was brilliantly lighted and loaded with excursionists and had almost reached Chicago, but before help could arrive she would be gone. The helpless crowd watched from the shore. Two brothers, both students, pushed through the crowd with a rope in their hands. Nat, the elder, a powerful man and trained swimmer, jumped into the waves. He fought his way through until he reached the ship and climbed aboard. A moment later he came back with a woman in his arms. The crowd hailed him in, choking and cold, but still strong. Again he plunged in — and again and again until he rescued seventeen women and children.

At last he sank exhausted. Still the cries rang in his ears. After a few minutes he raised himself and again plunged in. Again and again! Nat Spencer saved twenty-three human lives before his strength finally left him. For weeks he lay delirious. The bodies of the three hundred who had lost their lives washed up on the shore and the nation began to forget the tragedy. But the twenty-three whom he had saved, surely they did not forget. Surely, they were grateful!

Not this is the simple truth: One of them ever came back to thank Nat Spencer for what he'd done. Not even one wrote him a letter. What about us?

Surely, we should express our gratitude by word and deed to the One who gave His life for us that we might have our sins forgiven and that we might enjoy peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

another in the fifth on a homer by George Hawkins.

Jamaican knocked out four hits in the first inning and three hits in the fifth, but both innings yielded three runs. A homerun by Roger Pelchat in the sixth inning rounded out Jamaican's eight runs.

Portec waited until the final innings to put the bulk of its runs on the board. Three homers, two by Ron Schluchter and one by Jerry Imslund, paced the late Portec surge.

Portec collected more hits but J.P. Realty tallied the runs. Realty scored seven runs in the first two innings and added three more in the fourth.

J.P. Realty was led by Owen Sutherland with two doubles and two singles for a perfect night.

At last week's meeting at the home of President Tom Schaal it was decided by the board that membership in the 12-year-old club would be closed at 300 families — with just six available before the number is reached. Three kiddie parties as well as junior-teen and high school-age events were planned. Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. David Longridge, 349-0551, or Mrs. D. Keith Wright, 349-9956.

New Cage Coach Favors Fast Break

Bob McGriff, former junior varsity coach at Michigan State University, has been named to take over the Schoolcraft College basketball program. McGriff, who ascribes to a "controlled fast break" style of play, has already begun recruiting for the 1974-75

Schoolcraft team. "I want to make Schoolcraft synonymous with good basketball," he said. "It's a good area and I think the potential is there to establish an outstanding program."

McGriff comes straight from a one-year stint at Michigan State where he guided the Spartan junior varsity to a 12-3 mark.

He spent two years before that at Sandusky High School where his team posted a combined record of 52-15.

He has a BA in physical education from Michigan State and is currently completing work on his master's degree in the same field.

The Cubs also found themselves on the losing end of a contest against the Giants who collected a 17-7 win.

Giants' Steve Stuart became the first Knothole player of the season to have a perfect night of three homers at the plate. Also, collecting round trippers were Greg Adams and Joe Petro.

Walters homered for the Cubs.

Visit San Francisco

By NANCY DINGELDEY

"The view of San Francisco Bay is simply spectacular from Alcatraz Island—you just can't imagine" reported Wilhelmina Lahti. Showing my complete ignorance and more noticeable lack of traveltime I blurted out "Alcatraz—lovely place to visit."

My last trip to the Golden City was many moons ago when Alcatraz was reserved for a certain segment of society. I had forgotten that back in '69 Alcatraz was removed from the list of penal institutions as being too costly to run. Since then people have been trying to dream up something to do with the "rock".

What "they" are doing with it is to make it probably the biggest attraction in the Bay area Wilhelmina said that tours are all booked up until September with people "waitlisted" in case of any cancellations.

The Lahti's considered themselves fortunate when they were able to get space on one of the boats. Besides the view, the actual tour of the place is quite something—especially for those who remember the Humphrey Bogart, George Raft and "Birdman of Alcatraz" movies portraying the institution as a rather bleak place with the gooney birds flying overhead.

"It's really quite interesting and a very pleasant trip especially since one doesn't often have the opportunity to "visit a jail", Wilhelmina said.

The Lahti's visited with their son Doug and wife Phyllis in Sacramento. The first part of their journey took them to Seattle for a few days, then on to Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia, before flying to San Francisco.

Others "tripping" to the West coast this summer were the Howard Hollister's of Hopkins Drive.

Since Howard couldn't leave the business world for the time necessary to drive the trip, Joan along with daughters Kathy and Sally and son Scott left ahead of time in the family car with Howard joining them later in San Francisco. "No problems" reported Joan who added that she and the kids really enjoyed the trip.

They visited with Joan's sister in San Francisco, leaving Kathy with her aunt for an extended stay. Joan hopes to see her back home before school resumes in the fall even though her daughters' plans are a bit different.

The return trip was via Las Vegas and, according to Joan, "no matter how many miles we covered, Michigan still has to be the best state of all even if it meant getting back in the routine of housework"

And then there's Jan Mack's trip—a real winner if there ever was one. Jan loves to travel, usually by way of the "unworn" path. Where everyone might see the front face of Yellowstone, Jan would pick the back.

His latest venture—a trip to Africa—Kenya and Tanzania backpacking, hiking and mountain climbing his way through the two countries. Although he was taking a charter flight his plans were to "go it alone" unless he happened to meet someone else who had the same thing in mind.

And so his family saw him off at the airport with

Sidney Fox Named Basketball Coach

Sidney Fox has been named as the 1974-75 head basketball coach at Oakland Community College.

Fox will be succeeding Tom McPhillips, Lynn Reed, Dave Wenzel and Lew Parry, as Oakland Community College will field a single varsity basketball team representing all four campuses. The school will be a member of the Eastern Conference of the Michigan Community College Athletic Association

The new coach will continue to serve in the full-time capacity of Executive Director for the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union, a post he has held for past two years.

An alumnus of Wayne State, Fox has been athletic director and varsity football and basketball coach at Roeper High School in Bloomfield Hills for the past eight years. He was an assistant football and basketball coach at Central High School for two years before that.

Fox has selected Ron Hall, Michigan AAU Basketball Chairman, as his assistant coach. Hall, in addition to administering the AAU basketball program for Michigan has coached the "Clippers", a Senior Class A basketball team that has won numerous amateur basketball championships in Michigan and Ohio between 1968-74.

Escapes Injury in Car-Train Crash

In Novi

In an unusual car-train accident, a Novi man escaped injury last Thursday when the signal lights reportedly failed to work and his car was demolished as it hit the side of the train engine.

According to reports, William Brown of Brighton was traveling eastbound on 12 Mile Road when he approached the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks near Taft Road.

The signal light reportedly did not go on until the engine reached the intersection. Brown was not hurt as he left 60 feet of skid marks when he heard the train's whistle.

Officials of the C & O could find no defect when they checked the crossing but are continuing to investigate.

Police report several instances where youngsters have dug up the signal wires and cut them, causing the signal to remain on. Youngsters were not suspected in the latest accident because of the numerous "fail-safe" safeguards built into such a crossing signal, police said.

A Novi youth received two broken ribs, a severely lacerated knee and various cuts and bruises when he rode his bicycle from the east bound side of 12 Mile Rd., 570 feet west of the Chesapeake and Ohio tracks, into the side of a van, also travelling east. Gerald Garcia, 28250 Dixon was taken to Botsford Hospital in Farmington after the incident, which occurred at 2:28 p.m. Tuesday, July 16. Garcia has been released from the hospital. No charges were brought against the driver of the van.

A glass dining room table and four chairs worth $400 were removed from a Colony Homes model sometime between 8 p.m. July 10 and 1:30 p.m. July 12.

The model was entered by prying open the front door with a screwdriver. A hurricane lamp resting on the table was found smashed in a flower bed adjacent to the front door.

Items worth $375 were reportedly taken between 12:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Monday July 15, from an automobile parked at Paragon Steel on Grand River.

The owner of the car, a Farmington man and an employee of Paragon said that stolen was a cassette deck, a Univox guitar and a tape player, according to reports.

Burglars gained entry to a home in the 21,000 block of Meadowbrook between July 12 and 14 and reportedly took a camera, television, radio, record player and pancake griddle worth a total of $139.50.

Entry was made either through a kitchen door or a kitchen window, according to police. There were pry marks on the door.

An unlocked door allowed burglars to gain entry to a home in the 28,000 block of Dixon between 11:50 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 16.

Taken were two General Electric televisions, and a ring with two diamond chips and two pearls. Total value was set at $657.73.

A $200 set of Spaulding golf clubs was taken from a garage in the 22,000 block of Shadow Pine Saturday, July 13.

The complainant said that while he was gone for the day, someone entered the unlocked garage and took the clubs.

A neighbor said he observed a brown sedan pull out of the driveway. Police are still investigating.

A .20 gauge Harrington-Richardson shotgun, a Marlin rifle, and bullets and shells with a combined value of $153 were reportedly taken from a house in the 300 block of Duana Street Thursday, July 11.

The items were all in a bedroom. Access was gained by way of a storm window which was removed.

In Northville

Investigation is continuing into the robbery and abduction of a Detroit woman which occurred about 9 p.m. Friday.

Mary Slaughter, 47, told police she was abducted from the east end of the parking lot at Northville Downs.

As she approached her car, three men were waiting for her. One of the men pushed her into her car and forced her to drive while the other two followed in a black Chevrolet.

She was taken to a location police believe was somewhere on West Main Street from the description she gave to detectives. She told police the man took her money and then got into the black car with the other men and drove off. She then found her way to the police station and reported the theft.

Police said $460 was taken from her purse. She was not injured in the robbery.

Police have confiscated 29 marijuana plants found growing on First Street. The plants were dug up last week and investigation is continuing, police said.

A total of $296 was reported stolen from a house on River Street sometime between Friday and Monday. Owners of the home told police the money was taken from a wallet.

In Township

Three youths were injured Thursday afternoon when they fell from a truck on which they were riding.

Taken to Botsford Hospital were James Manley, 17, of Detroit who sustained a concussion and skull fracture; Mark Weaver, 16, 41372 LeHigh Lane, who received a scraped back; and Craig Gross, 18, of Plymouth who suffered a separated shoulder.

The three were passengers in a truck driven by James K. Ort of Plymouth. Ort was driving eastbound on Crystal Lake Drive at Mariner Court when he rounded the curve. The three had their legs hanging off the truck and when the vehicle went around the curve, fell off.

Break-ins of five homes were reported to Northville Township Police last week.

The first, reported July 13, took place during the last week in June when a Panasonic television and sleeping bag were stolen from a travel trailer parked on Five Mile Road west of Haggerty Road.

Last week Tuesday, a cameo pin, valued at $100, and five silver certificates were stolen from a home on Ridge Road near Five Mile. Also taken was a Lloyd's stereo valued at $300. The break-in took place between 11:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. last Wednesday, a break-in took place at Innsbrook Apartments. The front door of the apartment had been forced open and a television moved from its stand onto the floor. Nothing was taken.

Sometime last Wednesday or Thursday, unknown persons broke a door to gain entry to a home on Beck Road between Seven and Eight Mile Roads. The house was ransacked with several keepsakes destroyed, windows broken and food and liquids thrown about the home.

A daytime break-in occurred Friday on Franklin Road with two television sets reported missing. Combined value was placed over $500.

Two cars were stolen from the township last week with a 1965 greenish blue Plymouth taken from Malvern Court last Tuesday afternoon and a 1968 Yellow Cougar stolen from the Griswold gravel pit the same day.

Township Police recovered a car stolen from Taylor following a car fire on Seven Mile Road west of Ridge shortly before 12:30 a.m. Friday.

The 1972 Ford had been stolen the previous day, reports said. It was destroyed in the fire.

Theft of binoculars, two pair of men's pants and prescription sunglasses was reported last Tuesday. The theft took place before 7 a.m. in the 18400 block of Jamestown Circle, police said.

Eight mailboxes and paper boxes were knocked down and some stolen about 2 a.m. last week Sunday on Ridge Road between Six and Seven Mile roads.

In Wixom

Wixom police assisted Milford and state police by stopping a car with occupants who had just been involved in a robbery near Sharkins Road and I-96, according to reports.

The car was stopped on I-96 near Wixom Road at 5:05 a.m. Sunday July 14.

The subjects, three males and a female, were taken to the Brighton state police post. Stereo equipment stolen in the robbery was found in the car, police said.

A 1973 Mercury stolen from Detroit was recovered from the Ford parking plant July 14.

The automobile was stolen July 11. No damage was reported except to the ignition which had been punched. The owner was notified.

Approximately $250 in merchandise was reported stolen from a home in the 2300 block of Nalone. The goods included a Sears adding machine, miscellaneous jewelry and $60 cash.

No information was available on means of access, police said.

VFW Hosts Night at Downs

Northville V.F.W. post 4012 hosted "V.F.W. Night" at Northville Downs Thursday, July 18.

Guests from surrounding posts included State Commander William Bennett and his wife, Arlene; Aid to State Commander Douglas Bezotte and Edith, both from post 1794; and M.O.V. Committee member Dino Constantine and his wife, Polly, from post 1278. District 4 Commander Gene Leader with his wife, Helen, from post 6695.

Three races were named in honor of the veterans. The third race named "Northville Post 4012 V.F.W."; fifth race, "Ladies Auxiliary to Post 4012 V.F.W.," and eighth race, "Michigan State Commander V.F.W."

The winners of these races were presented a trophy by Post Commander Lloyd Morgan and his newly elected officers.

backpack, boots and passport. The plane took off and mother fidgeted —Wyoming alone is o.k. but Africa was something else.

Jan returned home the other day with pack and boots and passport. A strike grounded his plane in New York City and dashed his plans to see the jungle. As Jan put it, "I backpacked it to the jungles of New York" — and since cities are not his favorite places he felt it was a lot worse than Africa could ever be.

But Jan looked at the whole thing optimistically. Undaunted, he's now decided to go to Alaska.

AUGUST 6 PRIMARY

Ed. Pol. Adv.

Campbell, Fessler Speak Up

Experience Seen As Asset

LOUIE CAMPBELL

Campbell

Louie Campbell has sounded a theme of "responsive government" in his bid to win the Republican nomination for Clifford Smart's 24th district seat in the state house of representatives in the upcoming August primary.

"The number one issue in my campaign is Responsive government," stated Campbell. "By that I mean elected officials who will seek out the comments of local governmental units, service clubs, business organizations, homeowners groups, and citizens in general.

"We need legislators in Lansing who will see the people at some time other than just before the elections."

In keeping with that theme, Campbell has pledged to Monday mornings in the township and city halls of the communities in the 24th district.

"The house meets on Monday nights and I plan to spend Monday mornings in the communities talking to local officials and citizens to learn what they're concerned about," he stated.

"I feel I can do more for the district by spending Monday mornings in the district itself instead of spending that time sitting in Lansing."

Another major theme in the campaign of the 42-year old Novi resident is "openness in government."

"Public business must be conducted in public," he insists. "Elected officials who seek the public's confidence must take the public into their confidence. Meetings behind closed doors are absolutely out."

Campbell has no question about his ability to take over Cliff Smart's position in the house of representatives and states that Smart has also expressed confidence in his ability.

"If he didn't think I could do a good job, he would never have asked me," stated Campbell. "And if I didn't feel that I could do a good job, I would never have entered the race."

Campbell cites his four years on the Novi City Council as a prime qualification for the Lansing job. "During that time I have served as legislative liaison between Novi and Lansing and have worked closely with both Cliff Smart and Senator Carl Purcell as well as the Michigan Municipal League on legislative matters which have effects on local units of government," he reports.

Campbell also claims he is well acquainted with many of the issues directly facing the South Lyon-Lyon Township area.

"An amusement park will never bring in as much tax revenue to offset the cost of services it will create, namely police and road improvement," said Campbell. "I stand behind the people 100 percent in their endeavors to keep a park they do not want out of the community."

RICHARD FESSLER

Fessler

"If I'm elected I intend to represent the whole district," stated Richard Fessler, a Republican candidate for Cliff Smart's seat on the House of Representatives.

"If a legislator is from a certain area he tends to ignore others," continued Fessler. "South Lyon's problems are just as important as those of Novi or Walled Lake."

Fessler states that one of the most important issues in this race is "communications."

If he's elected to fill Smart's seat, Fessler says he intends to "let the man on the street know what's going on."

Fessler says that although Watergate raises questions

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in the series of interviews with the nine candidates (seven Republicans and two Democrats) seeking nomination in the August 6 primary for the post long held by State Representative Clifford Smart, who is not seeking re-election to the 24th district seat.

and doubts about politicians everywhere, he feels that the ultimate effect will be beneficial.

"Some people who may have run for office for the wrong reasons, won't any more," stated Fessler. "I've been active in the Republican Party for about 10 years and I joined because I felt there is a high calibre of individual found in the party. I still feel that way despite what's happened."

Fessler added that he feels Watergate will mean the Democrats will be scrutinized as closely as the Republicans and that candidates will be examined as individuals rather than as parties.

Fessler feels that his familiarity with the area is a major advantage to him as a candidate.

"I've been raised in the area and I have a feeling for it," claimed Fessler. "I have a knowledge of the people and their local problems."

Job experience, too, has helped his campaign and understanding of the area, said Fessler.

Fessler has held the positions of Chief Deputy Treasurer of Oakland County, as well as assistant prosecutor for Oakland County.

Although he says he thinks the Michigan Legislature is doing "pretty good," Fessler maintains that there is definite need for improvement.

"Sometimes they need a good kick in the pants," stated Fessler. "You have to take the problems of legislation into consideration when you criticize them but there is definitely a lot of room for improvement."

Fessler, a resident of West Bloomfield Township, is 31 years old and presently engaged in private legal practice with the firm of Banyock, Donlin and Fessler in Waterford Township. He is also Waterford Township Prosecutor.

A lifelong resident of western Oakland County, Fessler has been active in the GOP for the last 10 years.

Wixom Buys Fire Truck

Wixom City Council, upon recommendation of Fire Chief Robert Potter, approved purchase of a new fire truck from FMC John Bean Company of Tipton, Indiana, at a cost of $82,355.45.

The bid was the lower of two received by council for the 1,000-gallon a minute pumper-combination. Since the $25,000 down won't be due until day of delivery with five percent of the balance yearly at 6.5 percent interest, the council gained "about $4,000 by going to bids," Gene Schneiz, city attorney pointed out.

Second and only other bid received was from FTI Fire Truck Company of Mount Clemens for $88,556.

Two bids for tennis court fencing were turned over to Robert Trombley, DPW superintendent, for recommendation.
