

21 Vie for Township Posts Here Tuesday

Northville township voters will go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots for 21 candidates vying for spots on the November general election ballot.

And with three incumbents declining to seek re-election, at least three new board members will take office in November.

Not seeking re-election are Clerk Sally Cayley and Trustees Leonard Klein and Charles Schaeffer Jr.

Polls will be open Tuesday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the 4,833 registered voters in the township and will be in the same locations as they were for the April millage election. Both Republicans and Democrats are running full slates of candidates.

Statements from and biographies of township board candidates who face opposition may be found on

Republican candidates face opposition in board races for clerk, treasurer and trustee while Democrat board candidates face opposition only for trustee posts. In addition, Republican constable candidates face opposition.

Voters will be asked to cast ballots for supervisor, clerk, treasurer, two trustees and two constables. Trustee terms are four years while the other offices are two year terms.

Only Republican candidate who does not face opposition is Incumbent Supervisor Lawrence Wright of 40421 Fairway III.

Democratic candidates who face no opposition are supervisor candidate Robert L. Oleson of 18693 InnsBrook, treasurer candidate Robert Pope of 18527 InnsBrook, clerk candidate Janet L. VanVoorhis of 42792 Lake Success Drive and constable candidates Guy L. Coykendall of 47150 Seven Mile Road and Raymond Golen of 19811 Crystal Lake Drive.

Facing opposition are Republicans Joseph B. Straub of 39875 Six Mile Road, incumbent treasurer, who is being challenged by Anita S. Eising, of 48444 Seven Mile Road, manager of a bookkeeping department.

Republican clerk candidates are Patricia Cousineau of 42247 Ludlow Court, who is employed as clerk-dispatcher for Northville Township Police Department, and Betty M. Lennox of 41828 Sutters Lane, a housewife who formerly ran her own advertising business in New York.

Republicans vying for two trustee posts are R.M.

Lysinger of 41805 Banbury Road, operations planner for Ford Motor Company; James L. Nowka of 15707 Bradner Road, chairman of Northville Township Planning Commission and industrial marketing representative for Sun Oil Company; Robert R. Reh of 42801 Waterford Road, Northville township constable and senior development engineer with Ford Motor Company; and Charles B. Rosenberg of 41377 Leidel Court, member of Northville Township Water and Sewer Commission and manager of sales finance systems department for Ford Motor Credit Company.

Democratic candidates for two trustee posts are Kurt H. Glaser of 15465 Northville Forest Drive, metallurgical lab technician; Eugene S.

Watergate's No Big Issue Here

Although most attention here is likely to be centered on the township races, electors of both the city and township of Northville will find a long list of other election matters when they go to the primary polls Tuesday.

In addition to party races from governor on down to precinct delegates, voters in Wayne County will be asked to decide a millage proposal on special education for the handicapped while Oakland County voters will decide whether or not to establish a county manager form of government.

Because the City of Northville is located in two counties, voters there will have different ballots. Those persons living north of Base Line will vote an Oakland County ballot, those south of Base Line a Wayne County ballot.

For information on Oakland County candidates and propositions, see Novi Page One.)

Officials point out, however, that both the Wayne and

A proposal calling for a tax levy of 1 mill to support special education programs for handicapped children will appear on Tuesday's primary election ballot here.

The proposal, according to spokesmen of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, will raise about $13 million to provide instruction

YRS Opens Here Monday

1,100 Students In All Grades

School opens Monday for more than 1,100 students in Track A of Northville Public School's year-round school program. Students enrolled in the program are from all five schools and in grades kindergarten through 12.

For the first time in the three-year history of the program, year-round school will be operating in every school in the district.

Nearly half of the elementary school population will be attending year-round school, Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni said. Amerman Elementary also operates a second YRS schedule which begins later this month.

"We have 825 enrolled in two tracks of YRS with 960 elementary students attending the traditional school year," she commented. "We're fast approaching the 50 percent mark."

School will begin 30 minutes earlier than usual for the YRS students with middle and high school students reporting at 7:30 a.m. and elementary students at 8:30 a.m.

Cooke Annex students are to report to the learning center on the second floor of the school at 7:30 a.m., Assistant Middle School Principal J. Michael Janchick said.

New this year for Annex, middle and high schoolers will be a catering service for lunch. Miss Panattoni commented that the service would be provided until traditional school year begins. This will be the first time a hot lunch program has been available for Cooke Annex students.

Sandwiches, salads, desserts, drinks and other items will be available, beginning the first day of school. Sandwiches are priced between 60 and 70 cents with desserts averaging 35 cents, she explained.

A staff of 59 teachers and special service personnel will be instructing in the YRS program. This week they have been attending orientation programs and workshops.

Sessions have included workshops on the integrated day, multi-level classes, evaluation in individual educational programs and record keeping for elementary staff members.

They are being conducted by Mrs. Nancy Fieldman, administrative intern at Amerman Elementary, David Martin, headmaster at Banbury Schools in England, and Carmen Iverson, instructor at Banbury.

Secondary teachers' workshops have focused on humanizing education, Miss Panattoni commented.

They include self-defeating behavior, taught by middle school counselor Gladys Cohen and school social worker Meredith Ernst.

Inter-personal communication workshop will be handled by Cindy Baston Mattingly, teacher in the Southfield School District, while Dr. James Orr, of Oakland Community College will conduct sessions on cognitive mapping.

Cognitive mapping, Miss Panattoni explained, is a method by which teachers find out the best means to teach an individual student. "Students may learn best by visual means, auditory, group lessons or individual study. Teachers can map each student's abilities and design a program accordingly," she said.

"Elementary teachers are with their students all day and get to know them quite well," she said. "Secondary teachers see their students for one hour a day and cannot get to know them very well in that short time."

4 Day Event Opens Today

Goat Milking to Kick off Fair

A goat milking contest that tests the goat's capacity for milk as well as the audience's capacity for laughs kicks off Northville's four-day community fair this afternoon at Northville Downs.

The goat show and contest, under the auspices of a local area 4-H club (see story on Page 10-A), will get underway at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

By the time the goat show gets started, the midway amusement rides and games of chance will have gotten underway as well, spokesmen for the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, fair sponsors, stated earlier this week.

Other shows, including those featuring motorcycle thrills and performances by the world famous Hurricane Hell Drivers, are planned later this weekend.

Day and time of the free goat show, originally scheduled for Saturday, was moved up two days to Thursday to permit exhibitors to compete in another show elsewhere.

Like the goat show, another fair "first" will be the non-wagering harness racing slated for 2 p.m. tomorrow (Friday).

Actually, harness racing at this fifth annual fair represents a reintroduction of a popular fair attraction. More than a quarter century ago, the county fair was held in Northville and during these county shows harness racing was a stellar drawing card.

Eventually, the county fair was discontinued, and because the harness racing facilities (though then very crude) remained, establishment of Northville Downs—today's oldest and finest parimutuel harness racing plant in Michigan—was a natural evolution.

Five years ago the Chamber revived the fair; although it now is a community project rather than a county show.

Although other Michigan fairs have harness racing, none has as fine of facilities for this activity as does Northville. It's a built-in plus here since the fair is staged at Northville Downs where harness racing is a drawing card throughout the year.

Because Northville's fair now is officially recognized by the state, more than $10,000 in premiums have been allocated by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Admission to the harness races is $1 for adults, 50-cents for children.

Besides the 4-H sponsored goat show, 4-H'ers will again sponsor the free horse show scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

This horse show annually attracts dozens of exhibitors and many hundreds of spectators.

Later Saturday, at 8:15 p.m., the second grandstand

Four Deputies Sign Up Voters

Four Northville township residents were deputized to register voters for Tuesday's August primary election and Township Clerk Sally Cayley said persons are needed for registering voters for the November election.

When contacted by The Record, Mrs. Cayley said deputy registrars have been used in previous registration drives, although no announcement was made before to those wishing to become registrars or where the registrars would be working.

She said that anyone interested in becoming a deputy registrar may do so by contacting her at township offices, 459-1710. A short explanatory session informs

The vote was 3-0 in an election supervised by the Employment Relations Commission of the Michigan Department of Labor. The council will represent township patrolmen in future collective bargaining, however, the police chief and dispatchers are not included in the union. The patrolmen are the first township employees to organize.

A WRINKLE in the Northville annexation schedule appeared possible this week as a result of suit lodged against the State Boundary Commission over Vienna Township annexation. If a permanent injunction were issued, yesterday's scheduled legal sufficiency hearing involving Northville annexation petition signatories would have to be cancelled, a commission spokesman said.

HIGH SCHOOL orientation for students enrolled in year-round school will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow, Friday. Orientation will be conducted by assistant principal Mrs. Barbara Campbell and will be held in the auditorium.

Lawrie Seiler Exchanges Vows in Ann Arbor Rites

A romance that began when Lawrie Kay Seiler attended a creative writing seminar at University of Michigan while still in high school culminated in her marriage to Jeffrey Woodland Parker July 6 at the Lord of Light Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Seiler of 120 Rayson Street, Northville. The bridegroom is the son of Colonel and Mrs. Levin Parker of Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

While at the seminar in July, 1970, Lawrie went to a dance at the U of M Union and met her future husband, who was on campus for freshman orientation. They became friends, and he attended her graduation from Novi High School in 1971.

The bride majored in journalism at U of M and will graduate this month, having completed the four-year program in three.

The couple became engaged in September, 1973.

The Reverend David Bracklein officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony before about 80 guests, including relatives from Georgia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia. The altar vases held arrangements of mums, daisies and carnations in white, yellow, orange and blue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organza gown with rose-pattern lace appliques garlanding the skirt and outlining the high-neckline yoke. The long, full bishop sleeves ended in tight bands at the wrists. Two rows of ruffles edged the hemline of the skirt which extended into a butterfly train.

She wore a large, white picture hat with tulle veiling and carried a small, round bouquet of white and yellow rosebuds, white daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's younger sister, Sharon, was honor maid in a yellow-check gingham gown with flounced hemline and tiny puff sleeves.

Bridesmaids were Janet Lampi, Mrs. Bryan (Pat) Woodworth and Nancy Pappas, roommate of the bride. They wore matching checked gowns in green, peach and blue, respectively, made by the bride's mother, and large white picture hats with ribbons matching the gowns.

They carried white baskets filled with white daisies and baby's breath. Interspersed with them were gingham flowers created by the florist to match the gowns.

Barry Zinn, a lifelong friend of the bridegroom as both fathers were in military service, was best man. Ushers were Howard Kehrl and William Szczecowski, Theta Xi fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and Kent Pulve, a cousin.

A luncheon reception, was held at Henderson, Hoyse owned by U of M Alumnae where the bride lived for two years.

After a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the newlyweds are making their home in the married housing facilities at Lexington, Virginia, while the bridegroom, who was graduated from University of Michigan in May of this year with a business administration major, attends Washington and Lee University Law School.

MR. AND MRS. KIM STRICKER

Miss Assemany, Kim Stricker Wed

Newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Kim Allan Stricker visited Honolulu and the Outer Islands of Hawaii during the two-week trip that followed their marriage June 29 at St. Joseph Catholic Church in South Lyon.

The bride is the former Saralee Assemany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Assemany, Jr., who moved from Novi to Columbia, South Carolina.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stricker of Walled Lake.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride exchanged vows and rings in an 11:30 a.m. service before the altar decorated with two large ice-green and yellow, daisy, floral arrangements. Music was by her uncle, George Assemany.

Monsignor Albert A. Matyn officiated.

The bride's gown of ivory satin was fashioned with a deep bib and full sleeves of illusion and lace adorned with seed pearls. A half-Juliet cap of matching lace held her elbow-length veil of illusion.

Mrs. Jimmy (Peggy) Gibson "was her sister's matron of honor in a floral print gown. She carried a bouquet of ice green flowers and coral-trimmed yellow daisy mums.

John Stricker was best man for his brother. Ushers were Timothy McFadden and Jack Russell. The bride's brother, Daniel, of South Carolina was altar boy.

A sit-down luncheon followed at Northland Inn for 100 guests.

The bride, who attended Ladywood High School and Schoolcraft College, is a secretary at Aero and Auto Stud Company. Her boss, introduced her future husband to her.

The bridegroom, a Walled Lake Central High graduate, is associated with Stricker Paint Manufacturing Company and is organist at Wolverine Lounge.

They are making their home in Wixom.

Resident 'Vacations' On College Campuses

By JEAN DAY

"GOING TO COLLEGE" is the way Mrs. Evelyn C. Ling has been spending her vacations recently.

Mrs. Ling, a night supervisor at the Plymouth Center for Human Development, attended the College Week for Women at Michigan State University June 25 - 28 as a member of the Wayne County Extension Council.

Next week she will be the Wayne County representative at the national session at Urbana, Illinois, on the University of Illinois campus.

In the home extension programs women study in special-interest areas ranging from health and safety and citizenship to international travel and ecology. The Northern Lites Home and Family Living Study Group is the local chapter, and Mrs. Ling currently is serving as president.

Partly because of her work at the Plymouth Center, where she has been employed for almost 10 years, Mrs. Ling says the health and safety programs hold special interest for her.

Delegates to the state and national homemaker conferences sleep in the college dorms and eat in the cafeterias. Mrs. Ling adds that she feels the College Weeks are very worthwhile and has attended seven or eight during past years.

She recalls that she became interested in the home extension programs in 1933 when she started a study group in Benzie County. She joined the Northern Lites when she moved to Northville.

Homemakers in the community who are interested in studying with the family living group are most welcome, says Mrs. Ling, inviting prospective new members to call her at 349-1512.

MRS. LOUIS HOPPING is another Northville resident busy with club work even during the traditional vacation season.

As past president of the long-established Detroit Review Club, she is in charge of the club's midsummer "Ranch Brunch" to be held at King's Mill Clubhouse next Wednesday, August 7.

Helen Hopping, who won a gourmet award as "best cook" in a Federation of Women's Clubs' competition, has been preparing and freezing such treats as Danish pastry for the first brunch for the club. She says she's not certain how many she will be serving but it may be about 80 as there will be guests, including some husbands.

The club has two past presidents living in the area with the other being Mrs. J. Robert Martin. She and Mrs. Dorothy Knott of Northville are assisting with brunch arrangements.

Mrs. Hopping is using red-and-white check linen tablecloths and carrying out the informal theme even to checked name tags. Her centerpiece could be a suggestion for any summer hostess—she plans to use a scooped-out watermelon as a basket for fresh fruit.

Mrs. Frank Scott Perkin of Grosse Pointe, club president, will be the official hostess. The club is a charter member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Michigan State Federation and Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs. It has met for regular meetings at the Women's City Club of Detroit since 1924.

THE AUTOGRAPH QUILT, newest project of the Northville Historical Society and the inspiration of Barbara Scantlin, will contain names of former Northville residents as well as present ones.

EVELYN LING

Mrs. Merritt Meaker, who retired to Noblesville, Indiana, with her husband, is a native-born Northville citizen who writes that she plans to have "Mary Meaker" among the names. Anyone may be included by sending a five-dollar donation check to Mrs. Jack Scantlin, 46287 Pickford, Northville.

Mrs. Scantlin appreciates Mrs. Meaker's suggestion that there may be other "old-timers" who would like to have their names on the quilt—and thus also help the society in the Mill Race Village restoration project.

In encouraging Barb Scantlin's project, Mrs. Meaker says she has seen a few such antique-type quilts and thinks it most appropriate for the historical society to undertake one.

As in most projects, the person who "gets the idea" also "gets the job." For Mrs. Scantlin, it is a labor of love, but she is hoping autograph donations will continue.

NORTHVILLE WOMAN'S Club won't begin its 82nd season until October 4—two months from now—but plans are complete for the opening luncheon and fashion show by Claire Kelly at Meadowbrook Country Club.

New President Mrs. George Weiss held a board and committee meeting in her garden in July to finalize arrangements. Mrs. John Brown, program chairman, reported that her program is complete for the upcoming year. (The club meets twice a month for six months a year with programs at each meeting.)

Other committee chairmen for the coming year are announced by Mrs. Weiss. Mrs. Kenneth Pickl is social chairman and is planning teas in conjunction with programs. Others are Mrs. Donald Funk, reservation and transportation; Mrs. Robert Shafer, membership; Mrs. Albert Myers, house; Mrs. Francis Gazlay, civic improvement.

Completing the list are Mrs. Robert Fair, music; Mrs. Donald Hiller, flower-memorial; Mrs. Orin Hove, nominating; Mrs. Betty Butler, press; Mrs. John Stuart, grant-in-aid; Mrs. William Switzer, historian. Mrs. Switzer is continuing to serve as historian and also is vice president.

'Rec' Program Keeps Kids Busy

BY NANCY DINGELDEY

Last week found the annual Parks and Recreation summer program coming to a close. For six weeks, since the end of school, kids in the city have found a happy variety of arts and crafts and games available to them using Wixom School facilities.

With two young energetic gals, Gayle Reinhardt and Sondra Smith, Tom Ridley, the director of the summer program may have found the answer to the success of the program. Gayle and Sondra had the kids turning out a variety of crafts that kept the youngsters busy, enthused and looking for more.

Parks and Recreation admitted that if there was a decline in numbers in attendance the program might be scrapped for lack of interest.

But the kids poured in daily with mom's transporting by way of car pool. Others walked or peddled in on bike's. Helping the program was the availability of the Oakland County mobile units which afforded that "something different" aspect. Looking them over, the "skatemobile" was probably the most fun since many of the kids haven't had that many opportunities to have wheels under their feet.

The lack of sidewalks in all area of town really cuts down the old "skatekey" routine known by a lot of big city youngsters.

Tennis and golf instructions found yet another group of kids eager to learn. For the younger set it may be a while before the forearm and backhand improve but at least they've had the introduction to sports the can enjoy for years.

Three extra-special events were planned during the last week of the program. One was an outing to the Powers Picnic Site for a morning of swimming, watermelon eating and games. The following Thursday found an "open house" with the kids participating in some of their favorite games. There was also a display for the parents of a variety of their arts and crafts, and the kids broke some beautiful pinantas followed by punch and cookies for all.

The grand finale came Friday as the kids piled into cars and were transported to Kensington Park for a morning ride on the "Island Queen"

Sadness came to Korthas family with the sudden passing of Verna Korthas last Thursday night. Although she had not been feeling well ever since a hit-and-run accident a few years back, Verna still managed to get around, pleasant and smiling. To Bob, Bill, Eileen and Gwen, our sympathies.

And to Betty Shaffer and Barbara Robinson our sympathies on the deaths of both a brother and cousin.

The Fair Book is nearing completion and should go on sale in the next couple of weeks. In the meantime more organizations have shown an interest in having a booth. Signed up so far are the Jaycees with pizza, the Jayettes with homemade candy, Northridge Subdivision with their popular apple booth from last year, and a bake sale by the Friends of the Library. The Lollipop Co-op Nursery and Hickory Hills sub will also have something good for everyone to enjoy.

Have a good idea for a Booth? Here's the opportunity to swell your treasury. Contact me at 624-3950 and then look forward to September 14.

Because of a conflict, the Fair will not be held at the VFW as previously reported. It will again be at City Hall - y'all come!

A picnic can be anything from lunch on a family trip or a teen hike to an easy way to entertain outdoors.

For a picnic on your own patio try this recipe for fancier-than-usual hamburgers.

STUFFED HAMBURGERS

On Grilled Buns
1 1/2 lb. ground beef
1 1/2 teasps. seasoned salt
3/4 c. grated Cheddar cheese
3 Tbsp. chili sauce
3 Tbsp. drained sweet relish hamburger buns, grilled
5 leaves of lettuce
5 slices of tomato

Combine ground beef and seasoned salt thoroughly. Make into 10 thin patties. Combine cheese, chili sauce and sweet relish. Spoon mixture on five patties. Top these with remaining patties. Seal securely by pressing edges together. Broil 3-5 min. on each side about three inches from heat.

Serve on grilled buns with lettuce and tomato. Serves five.

Here are other suggestions for the backyard grill:

CHEESE-SPREAD FRANKFURTERS

Split frankfurters lengthwise, leaving a quarter-inch uncut at each end. Combine processed sharp cheese and pickle relish and insert into split franks. Grill until cheese melts and serve on rolls.

SAUSAGE KABOB HEROS

8 sweet Italian link sausages
1/2 lb. mushrooms
1/2 lb. small white onions
2 firm tomatoes, quartered
1 green pepper, sliced
8 hero rolls

Cut sausages into half-inch slices. Alternate sausage slices, mushrooms, onions, tomato wedges and pepper slices on skewers. Grill kabobs about 5 minutes on each side, turning and brushing with barbecue sauce.

With fork, slide food off skewer onto hero roll. Heat remaining sauce, and serve with kabobs if desired. Makes 8 kabob heros.

BARBECUE SAUCE

1/4 c. vinegar
one-third c. catsup
2 Tbsp. prepared mustard
2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. liquid red pepper seasoning
1/2 c. salad oil
In small saucepan, combine all ingredients. Bring to boil.

Ice cream combined with cereal becomes a crunchy-smooth pie dessert that's very easy to prepare and is popular with almost everyone. Vanilla ice cream may be combined with a fruity rice cereal while coffee goes well with cocoa cereal.

CRISPY ICE CREAM PIE

2 c. crisp rice cereal
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine, melted
1 quart ice cream
Combine cereal and butter; toss lightly to coat. Set aside 1/2 cup. Press remaining cereal evenly into a well-buttered 8-inch pie pan. Chill about 1 hour. Fill with ice cream. Sprinkle with reserved cereal. Freeze. For ease in serving, dip pie pan just to rim in warm water for a few seconds; then cut and serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Ice cream in cereal crust is an easy dessert

Memorial Planting Set at Legion Home

A Freedom Tree Dedication in honor of all servicemen Missing in Action or who are prisoners of war (MIA's and POW's) will be held by the Lloyd H. Green Unit No. 147 and Auxiliary of the American Legion at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday, August 14, at the legion home, 100 Dunlap Street Area organizations have been invited to send representatives to the ceremony in which a tree is to be planted on the lawn in front of the post home.

The auxiliary explains that trees are being planted as living memorials to the servicemen in the Freedom Tree program.

The Northville tree will be a living memorial in honor of Seaman First Class Michael J. Wallace of Ann Arbor who has been missing in action since 1968. A plaque will be erected, the auxiliary states, with this information.

Planting the tree, the planners explain, will be a reminder "lest we forget these men who have so valiantly served but are still unaccounted for."

The plantings, begun by American Legion auxiliaries, are being done in the hope that "dedications of this type held throughout our United States will be a constant reminder to all people that cessation of any conflict is never complete until all our servicemen have been accounted for."

Register for Pap Test

Plan Area Cancer Clinic

A free Pap test clinic beginning next Monday, August 5, and continuing through Friday, August 9, will be held in the new Western Wayne YWCA, 26279 Michigan Avenue between Beech Daly and John Daly roads.

All area women are urged by the Michigan Cancer Foundation to take advantage of the opportunity to have the test for cervical cancer. The foundation points out that this is one of the most common types of cancer afflicting women and is curable if detected early enough.

Women of every age should have a Pap test at least once a year as it is an "extremely reliable" test, the foundation states. In some cases, physicians recommend that the test be given two or three times a year.

Appointments should be made for the clinic by calling the Michigan Cancer Foundation at 565-0020 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. week days. Foundation volunteers and Garden City Jayettes will assist at the clinic.

The foundation says that the test takes about five minutes to administer and is a painless collection of cervical cells which are microscopically examined for any abnormalities in color, size and shape. Results of the tests are sent to the woman's personal physician.

Irregular bleeding or unusual vaginal discharge may be first visible signs of cancer, the foundation warns; although such signs do not automatically indicate the presence of cancer, they should be reported immediately to a physician. The Pap tests indicate signs of cancer before any visible signs.

Miss Greenshields Weds Daniel Cox

When Patricia J. Greenshields became the bride of Daniel T. Cox July 13 in First Presbyterian Church of Northville, she added a special bit of sentiment by wearing her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jean C. Greenshields of 41277 Lehigh Lane, Northville, and the late Harry J. Greenshields. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Thomas Cox of Inkster.

The couple, who had been friends since childhood, exchanged vows and rings in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiating at the church which was decorated with three arrangements of pink carnations.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Albert E. Jones, the bride carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and blue forget-me-nots.

Her gown was fashioned with a square neckline and long sleeves with the skirt extending into a long, cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara headpiece of four tiny white rosebuds and white satin ribbons entwined with fern. Mrs. Douglas Toombs of Plymouth, the former Kathy Veresh, was matron of honor in a floor-length, sleeveless gown of pink polyester crepe with low-cut, ruffled neckline and deep, ruffled hem.

Bridesmaids were the bride's cousin, Kathy Misener of Plantation, Florida, Lesheanne Brasure and Debbie Cox, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were styled to match the matron of honor's in rainbow shades of lavender, yellow and green.

Della Cox, younger sister of the bridegroom, was a junior bridesmaid in a matching pastel blue gown.

All carried pastel carnations in colonial bouquets tied with ribbons to match the gowns.

Douglas McCain of Birmingham, was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Bruce A. Greenshields, Douglas Toombs and Steven Forsell.

Thomas Marshall played several piano selections including "Clar de Lune" and "Moonlight Sonata," favorites of the bride.

At the reception following in the church fellowship hall for 100 guests music for dancing was provided by Henry VanHorn's orchestra.

The bride, a 1972 graduate of Northville High School, has been attending Western Michigan University from which her husband was graduated in June of this year. He now is employed in Kalamazoo where they have an apartment.

Architect Plans For Novi Library Meet Approval

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD - NOVI NEWS

Thursday, August 1, 1974

Novi library board has approved architectural plans for the new $715,000 Novi library to be constructed near the proposed municipal center at 10 Mile and Taft Roads.

Plans, prepared by Joseph Stout, an architect of the firm Harley Ellington Pierce Yee Associates, call for a one-floor 13,000 square foot library building. An additional 11,000 square feet of space is to be added when "Phase II" of the building is carried out.

Dicron Tafraian, chairman of the Novi library Board, said that if all goes according to plan, "We'll be in by December of 1975."

Timetable calls for advertising for bids September 24 and opening them October 28. Advertising for the sale of bonds will begin October 30 while construction will begin November 25, he indicated.

Phase I of building on the seven-acre site consists of a "basic core area" with one reading and stack area serving both adult's and children's program requirement, according to a report prepared by the architects.

Phase II calls for additional space devoted exclusively to adult's reading and stack area. The single stacks devoted to that use in the Phase I construction will be moved into the expansion area, leaving phase I space exclusively for children's reading and stack area.

While Phase I will be completed in the near future, Phase II is at least ten years in the future, Tafraian said.

Money for the library project is coming from several sources including, bonds, the present 1/2 library mill, Title II funds, plus money which the library has been saving over the years from the 1/2 mill.

"This project will not cost residents anything," emphasized Tafraian. "There will be no additional millage."

The library will receive $325,000 from bonds, $179,000 from the state library under Title II and $210,000 which had been saved by the library.

The remainder is to come from income during the current and coming years.

The bonds will be paid off during the next 10 to 12 years from the 1/2 mill, worth approximately $65,000 a year now, which the library is receiving, Tafraian said.

After the initial bonding program is paid off, another bonding issue for the second phase will be issued. No estimate has been made on the cost of Phase II, Tafraian added.

The developmental budget for Phase I, according to architect estimates are:

Building construction cost - $504,628; site acquisition - $30,372; site development - $45,000; utilities - $25,000; landscaping - $10,000; furnishings - $35,000; survey and borings - $20,000; architectural - engineering fees - $41,000; miscellaneous administrative cost (building attorney, bond prospectus) - $2,000; contingency - $20,000.

Tafraian said that while the library anticipates no financial problems, one very real problem is the possibility that sewer lines being put in by the city may not reach the site by the time the library is completed in late 1975.

"If the city of Novi doesn't have sewage there in time, we'll have to put in a septic tank," said the library board head. "That would be a sad state of affairs if a tank car has to come in and pick it (sewage) up every week."

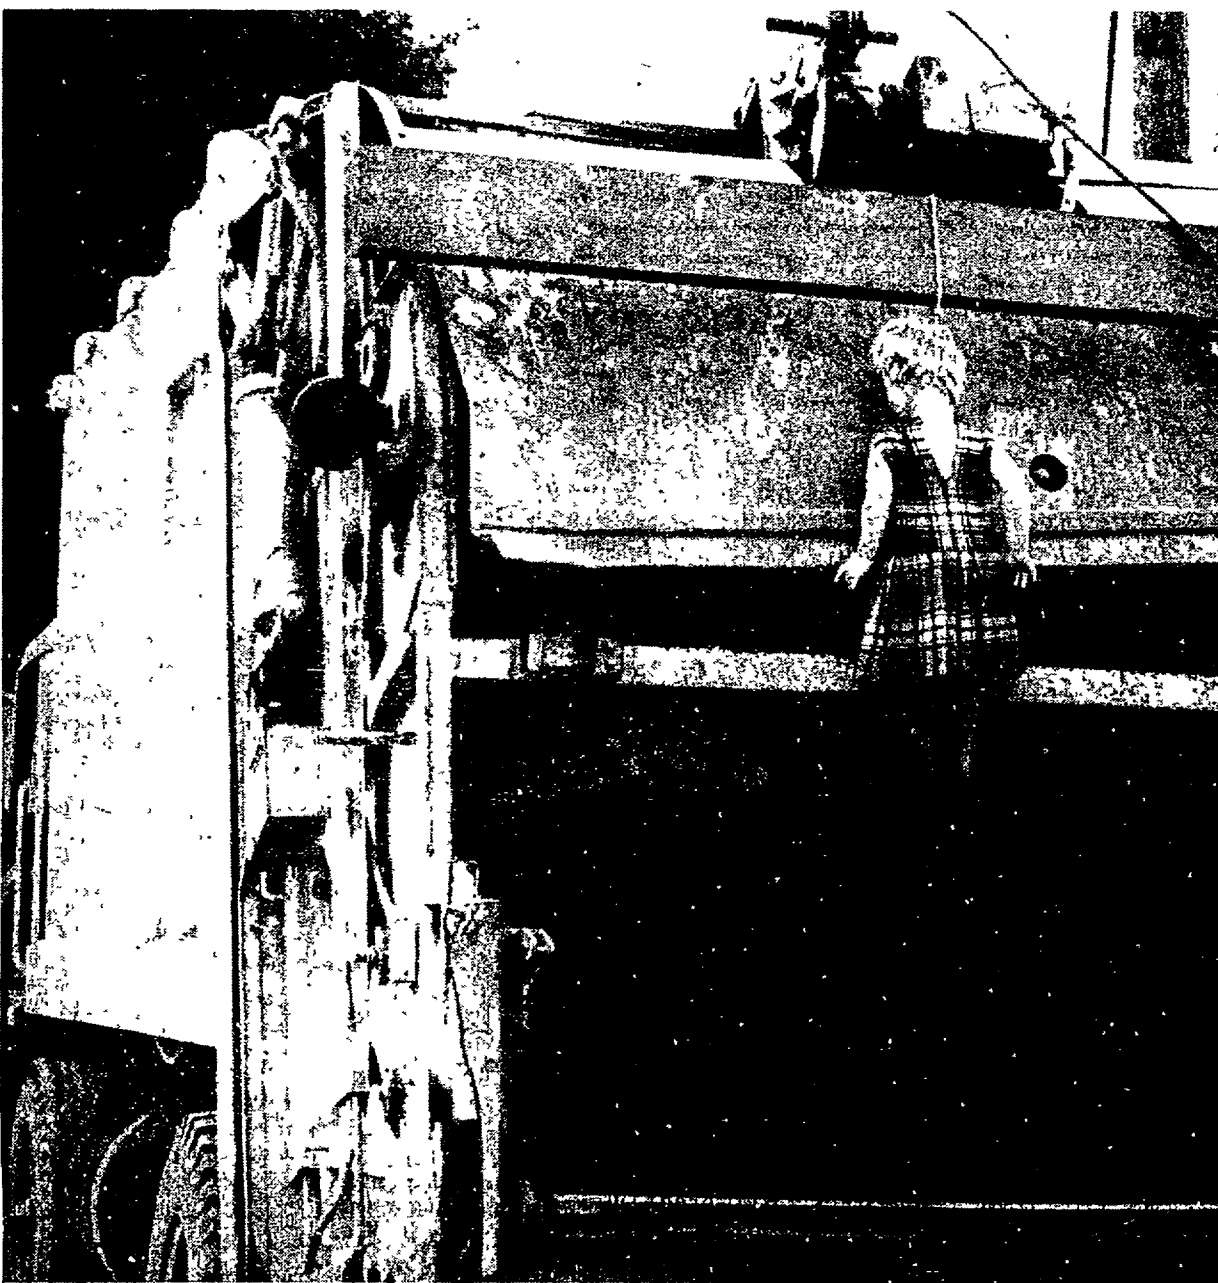

Tafraian said the city has promised to have the sewer line installed in time but that there has been no movement in the last six months.

"They can't stall six months more and get it done," he warned.

"It's just been pushed into the background," added Tafraian. "The city isn't concerned because their complex (at the site) will be finished many years from now."

While Phase I will comfortably handle Novi's population until Phase II is constructed, both phases will be able to take care of a "holding" population for the city of 100,000, Tafraian estimated.

Eight in Area Seek Election

GARBAGE DOLL—Motorists did a double-take last week when this Farmington Hills doll-wielding garbage truck passed through Novi. Asked why the doll adorns the garbage truck, the driver would only say "It's a real attention getter."

Novi, Wixom Eying Primary

Eight Novi-Wixom area men will be vying for local and county posts when residents go to the polls in Tuesday's primary election.

immediate past president of the Novi Board of Education and now president of the Oakland County School Board.

County Commissioner

In the race for the county board's 24th district seat, both candidates will be unopposed.

For the Republicans, the name of Incumbent Lew L. Coy of Wixom will be on the ballot. Democrat William R. O'Brien, former Novi councilman, will be in the same position for his party.

O'Brien and Coy met head-on in last year's election and Coy won easily.

District Court

In the contest for the newly created judgeship in the 52nd District Court, first division, four candidates will be vying for the two positions to be run-off in the November general election.

Gene Schnelz, of Walled Lake, who has served as the Wixom city attorney for several years will be aiming for one of the two positions. Opponents will be: John R. McCauley of Novi; Ralph Hazen McIntyre of Milford and Thomas J. Connelly, of Milford.

The court jurisdiction encompasses the townships of Lyon, Novi, Commerce, Milford, White Lake, Highland and Rose and the cities of Novi, Wixom and Walled Lake.

U.S. Congress

In the 19th Congressional district race, both party candidates are running unopposed.

Republican Incumbent William Broomfield of Birmingham seeks his party's okay while George F. Montgomery, Union Lake Democrat is also unopposed.

State Senate

Both candidates are unopposed in the race for the new 15th district which encompasses part of what formerly was Senator Carl Pursell's 14th district.

State Senator Daniel S. Cooper of Oak Park is unopposed for the Democratic nomination while Lee A. Coppock of Farmington will go for the Republicans.

Novi Township

In the Novi Township races, all incumbents will be running unopposed. They are Leo M.

County Manager

Choice Offered on Ballot

A proposition asking voters to decide whether or not the county should adopt a county manager system of government goes to Oakland County voters in Tuesday's election.

Specifically, the proposition will consist of four parts on the ballot:

Proposal 1: Shall the County of Oakland Adopt the optional unified form of county government pursuant to Act 139 of the Public Acts of 1973, as amended?

A "yes" vote would abolish the three-member appointed board of auditors and replace the board with one administrative position—the county manager or executive. The board of health, planning commission and DPW also would be abolished and their functions would come directly under the board of commissioners.

Proposal 2: Shall the County of Oakland adopt Alternate "A" for an appointed county manager as provided in Act 139 of the Public Acts of 1973, as amended?

A "yes" vote here means that the county manager would be appointed by a simple majority of the board of commissioners (14 votes) and serve at the pleasure of the board and have no veto power. He would be appointed according to rules established by a committee of the board.

Proposal 3: Shall the county of Oakland adopt Alternative "B" for an elected county executive as provided in Act 139 of the Public Acts of 1973, as amended?

A "yes" vote on this proposal (electors vote for "A" or "B" not both) would mean the executive would run on a partisan ballot every four years (Democrat or Republican) and would have a veto over all actions of the board of commissioners which can be overridden by a two-thirds vote of the commissioners.

Besides the foregoing three proposals, another related issue will be put to the voters—that of selecting the party nominees for county executive. Even should the voter vote "yes" for an appointed manager, he may still vote for a candidate running for the elected executive seat.

Unopposed on the Republican ticket is Daniel T. Murphy, currently chairman of the county board of auditors. The two Democrats are Eugene Kuthy, a management consultant endorsed by county Democrats, and Daniel W. Barry, a lifelong Republican who filed as a Democrat.

Major arguments for the two forms of naming the county official include:

For appointment— An appointed head would be a professional administrator and not have to seek political office.

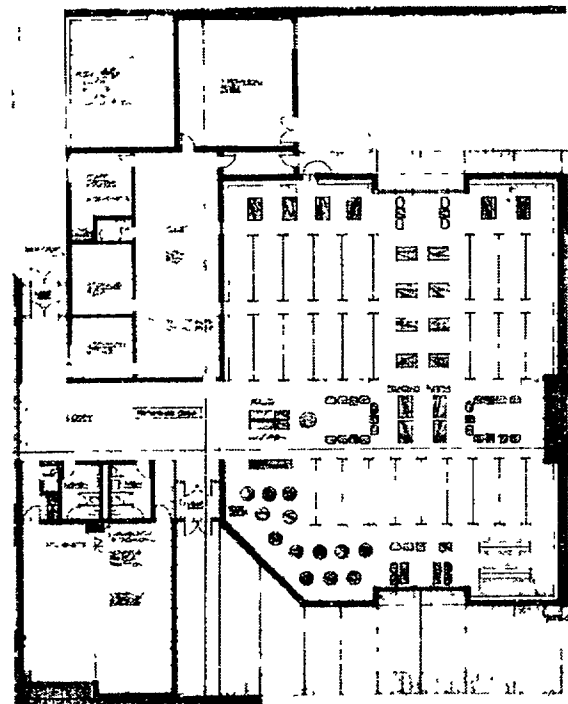

—Separation of legislative and administrative functions would be clear. The board of commissioners would be the policy making body.

For election— Voters have a check on elected officials.

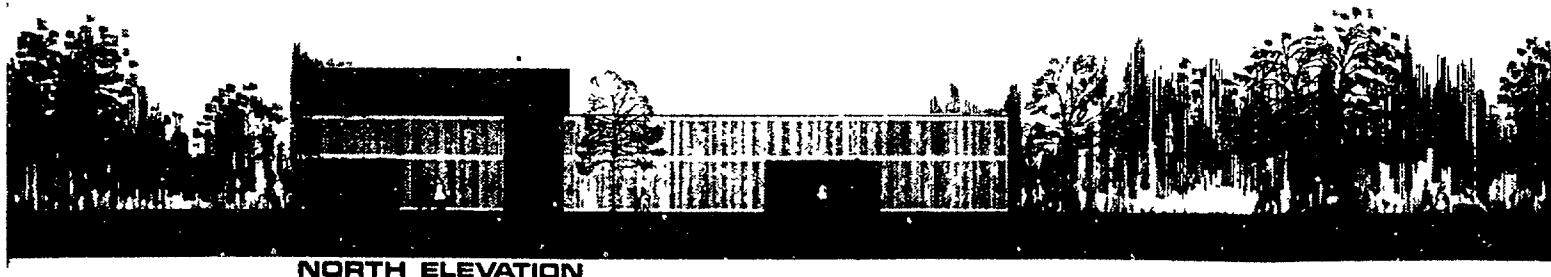

—Responsibility is pinpointed on one person; the "buck" would stop there.

—An elected official with veto power could give stronger leadership.

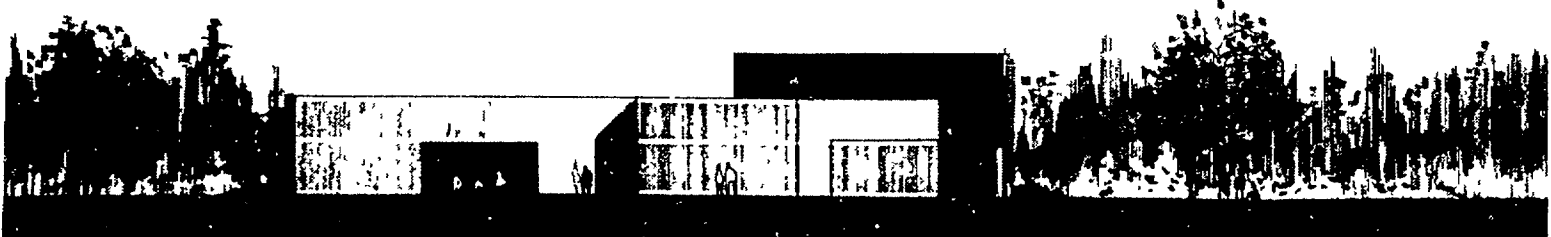

The optional county manager concept before Oakland County voters is reflected in legislation for which Senator Carl Pursell of Plymouth is given chief credit.

4-H Shows Opens Today

Raising Goats Makes Good Sense

Old wives tales about dairy goats are quickly dispelled with a visit to a 4-H member's dairy herd.

Gone is the picture painted in the familiar story of "Billy Goat Gruff."

Instead, the visitor finds clean, manicured, and trimmed, cud-chewing animals whose owners—between the ages of 9-18—have learned to care, feed and raise their charges through proper dairy goat management.

Just how expert these young people have become in raising goats will be clearly evident this afternoon (Thursday) when the Doebugs 4-H Club No. 50 of Wayne County stages a goat show and contest at the Northville Community Fair.

The show, involving 4-H'ers and non-4-H youngsters from throughout Wayne and other counties, will get underway at 4:30 p.m.

Judging the event will be William Gunn, nutrition department of Michigan State University, who for more than 20 years has raised some of the finest Nubian goats. Mrs. Pearl Abbott, editor and publisher of "TIDBIT" news, Circle A Goat Farm, will perform clerking duties during the show.

Showmanship classes will test the young goat owners' ability to properly show their entries, and a goat milking contest tests the goat's capacity for milk—plus the audience's capacity for laughs.

The show is free to the public—and youngsters who love animals are especially urged to attend.

"Young people generally join our 4-H goat club...if that is their main interest...and soon find themselves branching off into other animal husbandry involving horses, sheep, cattle, chickens, dog obedience

Eric Sleeth will be among those competing in the goat milking contest today at the Northville Fair crafts and so on," explains Mrs. Doris Sleeth, co-leader of the club with Leader Mrs. Betty McDougall.

The two mothers have found that their own children derive far greater enjoyment and reward in raising goats than they do with larger animals.

"We've had horses...still do...but the horse because of its size often manages the child and not the child the horse."

"A goat on the other hand is of a size that children of all ages can manage, and feel naturally comfortable in handling them," she says.

Furthermore, raising of goats "pays for itself," and it doesn't require parental financial subsidy that keeping horses does, according to Mrs. Sleeth's son, Eric.

In the half-dozen or more years he has been raising goats, he has earned enough money from the sale of young goats to pay for their keep and to purchase other kinds of animals for the family's small farm on Chubb Road near Eight Mile. For example he is now raising show chickens, a lamb and a calf purchased with monies earned from the sale of goats.

What's more, Eric's proud mom is convinced her son's calf is an especially fine animal because Eric feeds it goat's milk.

"Our club youngsters purchase a grade or registered goat, then often go on to raising their own finer progeny through selective breeding, learning wise financial management."

"Goats enjoy the finer things in life, too," she adds. "Contrary to popular belief they are very selective eaters and will not touch hay that has been walked upon, or feed that is contaminated in any way."

"They are exceptionally clean animals, and are fastidious in their personal habits. Certain weeds and plants are poisonous to them and 4-H members learn that the dairy goat is best kept in a properly furnished building, with an enclosure available for outside exercise."

Among the various breeds of goats are Alpines, Nubians, Saanens, Toggenburgs, and La Mancha's.

Each breed, according to the 4-H leaders has distinct characteristics. Alpines are extremely playful, come in many combinations of colors, and make fine milkers. Nubians, now about the most popular breed among breeders in the United States, give a little less milk but richer than that of their sister breeds, they explained.

Having Roman faces, pendulant ears and quiet bearing, Nubians make an outstanding choice for youngsters. Well-bred Nubians are relatively expensive and often are sold for prices in the hundreds of dollars.

Saanens generally are pure white, Toggenburgs range from all grey to deep chocolate with white markings, the two women said. La Mancha's are relatively the newest breed, and their claim to fame is an absence of ears, exceptional strength, and great milk production.

"Each year breeders from all over the United States nominate their finest for auction at the ADGA 'Spotlight Sale.' In 1973 a six-year-old Toggenburg sold for $1,725!"

"Some of our active 4-H Goat Club members have had the privilege of attending a Spotlight Sale, and had much to do to smother the urge to join in the bidding. Older members of the Doebugs have also traveled as far as Tipton, Indiana to compete and place in sanctioned American Dairy Goat Shows."

"Considering that some of the best stock is displayed at such events, it is to the credit of these youngsters that they can compete with these professionals in the show ring. Judges are extremely sympathetic and aware of the time, patience, and loving care accorded 4-H animals."

Mrs. Sleeth said, "leaders in the 4-H dairy goat project make every effort to recruit youngsters. 4-H is a non-discriminatory organization, and meaningful projects are available for those city-dwelling youngsters for whom animal projects are impractical."

Meetings of the Doebugs are held at a different member's home each month. At these meetings, according to Mrs. Sleeth, "we discuss kidding (birth of a young doe or buck), care of the mother, conformation (parts of the goat), showing, and so on."

"Soon it's fair time and members feverishly prepare their goats by trimming hooves, completely shaving each animal, finishing with a light shampoo, and plenty of brushing. Since judges are notorious for asking, 'Please let me see your animal's feet,' 4-H'ers soon learn to be prepared."

Age 23, lives at 15465 Northville Forest Drive, employed as metallurgical lab technician for the Carmet Division of Allegheny Ludlum Steel in Madison Heights. 1969 graduate of Northville High and is attending Schoolcraft College studying for a degree in metallurgy.

Due to the increasing crime rate coupled with the increase in population, it has become urgent that we expand those basic services that protect our people and their welfare.

namely police and fire protection

We must undertake a massive campaign to show the people that we must have an increase in the millage rate along with federal grants in order to afford these services. We cannot just formulate a proposal and say "Here it is, vote on it," without telling the people, whose money we will be spending, exactly where and for what their money is going.

EUGENE S. GUIDO
Democrat Trustee Candidate

Age 55, lives at 20390 Westview drive, employed in Wayne County government, attended college for two years. Has been chairman of two Township Police Study committees and is a member of the Township Board of Canvassers.

Yes, but not as a township. To do so would be tragic in my view since it would require large capital investments from funds we don't have. Admittedly we need additional services because of an expanding population. We are now an urban community like it or not, township type government was never meant or designed to cope with urban problems, it is equipped and designed for rural areas and much less than our township.

It obviously costs less to add a room to an existing home or structure so it follows obviously we should join with the city and make one viable, efficient and less expensive community than our township would cost to provide some services to our residents. Remember, we have to start from scratch with buildings, equipment personnel, etc. etc. I am for annexation!

R.M. LYSINGER
Republican
Trustee Candidate

Age 41, lives at 41805

Banbury Road, employed in operations planning for Ford Motor Company. Graduated from Ohio State University with a BS degree in transportation economics. Has been chairman of public relations for Northville Commons Association, President of the board of directors for Northville Commons Association and member of the Northville Township Fire Study Committee.

Your question of expanded services for the township is rather vague and misleading. I believe it would be more useful to review the recent public safety issue. I had the opportunity to participate in the research project which concluded that the public safety concept offered Northville township the most efficient and economical program. Because of the threat of this plan to the anti-township annexation drive, the voters were not objectively apprised of the concept. The board failed in its responsibility to the residents. Before expanded services are discussed, the board must represent all the residents.

DONALD B. MARENGERE
Democrat
Trustee Candidate

Editor's note: The 12 township board candidates who face opposition in Tuesday's primary election were asked to submit pictures, biographical information and to answer the following question:

Do you believe the township needs to expand its services? If not, please explain; if so, state the alternative courses open to the board to provide these services and explain how financing would be obtained.

In addition, the two candidates for clerk facing opposition were asked to answer the following question:

One of the responsibilities of the clerk is the preparation of an annual budget. What qualifications do you possess for this specific responsibility?

Candidates who will also be running in Tuesday's election who do not face opposition include Incumbent Supervisor Lawrence A. Wright, Republican; Robert L. Oleson, Democratic for supervisor; Robert Pope, Democrat for treasurer; Janet L. VanVoorhis, Democrat for clerk.

Five men seeking constable posts are Republicans Roger G. Eising, E. F. Peterson, Incumbent James F. Schrot, and Democrats Guy L. Coykendall and Raymond Golen.

Age 25, lives at 18569-1 Innsbrook Drive, employed as a pharmaceutical representative. Received BA degree in political science from University of Detroit and presently is enrolled in MBA program at University of Detroit.

No, the township should not at the present time expand its services. I would like to see the board study existing services and decide if and in what manner the services should be improved using existing tax revenues. Taxes should not be raised during this period of excessive inflation. Of the existing services, police and fire protection should receive primary attention. Services rendered by the building inspection department should be more rigorously enforced throughout the township. We should try for improved quality of existing services rather than expansion at the present time.

Republican
Trustee Candidate

Age 39, lives at 15707 Bradner Road, employed as industrial marketing representative for Sun Oil Company. Received BA degree from Alma College. Is presently serving as chairman of the Northville Township Planning Commission, Northville Township Zoning Board of Appeals, the second Police Study Committee and the Ad Hoc Recreation Committee.

Yes, I have several major areas of concern. The first is the critical need for expanded police and fire services. This problem's solution lies in the willingness of the electorate to support either an independent township effort or a corporate effort with the city. The public should be offered the alternatives, realistic costs, and after adequate communication, decide the matter by vote.

Other matters of importance include cooperation with the city to establish strategies and goals to develop a more dynamic recreation plan, and to create a housing plan for resident senior citizens. Federal assistance for funding should be examined and action programs formulated.

Very importantly, we must strive to maintain the integrity of our Master Plan.

ROBERT R. REH
Republican
Trustee Candidate

Age 46, lives at 42801 Waterford, employed as senior development engineer for Ford Motor Company.

Graduated from Plymouth High School and attended University of Michigan and Henry Ford Community College. Presently is serving his second term as Northville township constable.

In my opinion, the scope of services provided by the township is sufficient to satisfy the needs of the people and in most cases the departmental staffing and equipment are sufficient to permit them to function effectively.

However, I also feel that expansion of the police and fire agencies should be re-evaluated to determine their true capabilities of handling all types of emergency situations, especially multiple simultaneous occurrences of major crimes, emergencies or fires. The findings should then be clearly, accurately and thoroughly presented to all the voters and placed on a ballot for their approval or rejection.

CHARLES B. ROSENBERG
Republican
Trustee Candidate

Age 32, lives at 41377 Leidel Court, employed as manager of sales finance systems department for Ford Motor Credit Company. Received BS degree in Business Administration from Wayne State University. Is a member of Northville Township Water and Sewer Commission and president of Highland Lakes Resident Advisory Board.

Yes, I am in favor of expanding township services. Police and fire protection should be expanded and will require a millage approval by the voters. I believe that, before a millage for these services is proposed again, the public safety study should be updated and a good deal of effort given to informing the voters of the advantages of expanded services.

Our building code should be changed to strengthen the existing code and the ability of our building officials to enforce it. The improvement of the code should not increase the cost to the taxpayers, and any increased manpower requirements should be covered by income from building permits.

HUGH J. SUTHERLAND
Democrat
Trustee Candidate

Age 30, lives at 49300 Ridge Court, employed as an attorney, data processing manager of Michigan Bell. Received an Associate of Arts degree from Henry Ford Community College, BBA from Eastern Michigan University and Juris Doctor from University of Detroit's School of Law.

Frankly, I don't know and I don't think the township board knows and the fact that they don't is an indication of what is wrong with our township government.

One of the primary advantages of the township form of government is its potential for a high degree of citizen involvement and control. This advantage and its resultant benefits are lost, however, if that government is not effective, responsive and dynamic in its plans and actions based on informed citizen input.

If elected, I will not only find out whether the township residents want expanded services and deal with that question, but further, I will, with the input of the residents, act to provide the kind of township they desire rather than reacting to situations and crises as they develop.

PATRICIA COUSINEAU
Republican
Clerk Candidate

Age 31, lives at 42247 Ludlow Court and is employed as clerk-dispatcher for Northville Township Police Department. Graduate of Thurston High School, attended University of Detroit, and has training as a legal secretary. Is secretary of Northville Township Boosters.

1. Services are one of today's greatest challenges for Northville township officials. I feel for greater control, it is incumbent upon a local unit of government to provide its own services whenever feasible. To finance any added services, we should see to it that the people are kept well informed of any and all necessary expenditures, through the news media and

Age 52, lives at 41828 Sutters Lane, received a BS degree from Michigan State University.

1. Northville township is a rapidly growing and developing area. The fire and police facilities presently in use are not capable of adequately serving a much expanded township population. I feel that plans should be considered for further developing these services and adding much needed recreation, library and senior citizen meeting facilities. To do this only on a township level would be extremely costly to the taxpayers. I feel these services should be a joint effort with the City of Northville and be financed through taxation.

2. My course of study at Michigan State University included budgeting and several courses of advanced mathematics. I also have completed bookkeeping and typing courses.

While employed by Pratt Whitney Aircraft I recorded and analyzed test data, and for nine years I prepared budgets for my self-employed business in television advertising in New York City. For two years I prepared the annual budget and acted as treasurer for a private club in Connecticut.

I enjoy attention to detail and feel confident that my experience will aid me in performing the township clerk's duties very successfully.

ANITA S. EISING
Republican
Treasurer Candidate

Age 27, lives at 48444 Seven Mile Road, employed as manager of a bookkeeping department. Is a high school graduate and presently is treasurer of the Northville Township Boosters.

I am for the best possible services obtainable for each taxpayer dollar. I will establish priorities on services and research all available avenues to find the best alternatives to present services. If the people favor financing new services, I will implement them to the highest level.

JOSEPH B. STRAUB
Republican
Incumbent Treasurer

Lives at 39875 Six Mile Road, currently serving second term as Northville township treasurer. High school graduate and attended night courses in accounting and auditing at Washington and Jefferson College, University of Michigan and Henry Ford Community College. Is currently a member of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee, past treasurer of Northwest Wayne County Sanitation Authority and served as a township trustee before being elected treasurer.

Expanding township services may, in some peoples' opinion, be desirable. However, the township's financial condition is such that any extensive expansion is impossible to accomplish without asking the people to approve additional millage to cover the costs involved. Minor expansions should be made only after exhaustive investigation reveals such service is absolutely necessary and that the township is financially capable of maintaining the future obligation these services will require.

Oakland county voters in the City of Northville will vote on the Wayne Intermediate School District proposition on special education.

Not altogether surprising, little campaign rhetoric on Watergate in legislative and congressional races have surfaced in campaigning here. The fact that this is the time to choose party nominees and the fact that in most instances only Democrats face competition may account for the absence of this theme. The tune, some political analysts predict, will change when partisan candidates warm up for the November election.

FOR CONGRESS

At the congressional level in the city and township here, Incumbent Republican Congressman Marvin Esch of the Second District is unopposed. But on the Democratic side of the ballot, five candidates are seeking their party nomination. They include Ronald W. Egnor, Marjorie Lansing, Edward C. Pierce, John S. Reuther and Theo W. Williams.

FOR GOVERNOR

Governor William Milliken is unopposed on the Republican ticket, but battling for the right to represent the Democrats come next November are Jerome P. Cavanagh, Sander M. Levin and James E. Wells.

FOR STATE SENATE

In the reapportioned 14th state Senatorial District, Incumbent Republican Carl D. Pursell is unopposed. Squared off on the Democratic ticket, however, are Don O. Christie and

Michael K. O'Shea

FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Republican State Representative R. Robert Geake is unopposed going into the primary in the 35th District. Two Democrats are battling for that party's nomination—Ernest R. Grand and William Joyner

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Commissioner Mary E. Dumas is unopposed in the Republican race in the 19th Wayne County Board of Commissioners District. On the Democratic side in this district, which covers the Wayne county portion of the city and most of the township, opponents are Gerald C. Davis and Barbara Johnson.

In the 27th Wayne County Commissioner District, which include the southwestern section of the township, there is no Republican nominee. On the Democratic side, however, Commissioner Brian G. Arrowsmith is battling Royce E. Smith, Joseph C. Bonucci and Andrew J. Spisak for the nomination

FOR PROBATE COURT

Ten candidates are seeking two new seats in the Wayne County Probate Court. They are Y. Gladys Barsamian, Joseph L. Chylinski, James E. Lacey, George S. Lilly, Thomas A. Maher, Dennis M. Matulewicz, Harold M. Ryan, Judith Stefani Sables, Samuel L. Simpson and Robert E. Toohey.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT

Seventeen candidates are seeking election to five new judgeships in the Wayne County Circuit Court. They are: John E. Breen, Irwin H. Burdick, William L. Cahalan, John J. Conley, John J. Conlon, Andrew DiMaggio, Richard D. Dunn, Roman S. Gibbs, Ricardo M. Lubienski, Jerry B. Maloney, Thomas L. Poindexter, George T. Ryan, Joseph B. Sullivan, William J.

FOR APPEALS COURT

Running for the appeals court in the first district are Henry Heading, Nathan J. Kaufman, Richard M. Maner, Walter A. Paruk, Michael L. Stacey, Joseph A. Sullivan, Victor Targonski, and James A. Hathaway.

FOR AUDITOR

For Democrats and a single Republican are looking for party nomination in the race for Wayne County auditor. The Democrats are Lewis Hubbard, Roman S. Karwowski, Richard T. Kelly, and Walter J. Rinso.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP BOOSTERS

In Michigan's early history, the Township was the only form of Government. As the population increased, additional services were demanded and then cities and villages began to crop up within the Townships. Industry also grew and with that growth came a movement of people from the farm to the factory. Annexation of parts of the Township's fed the cities and they grew even bigger.

Thomas Jefferson was a man that believed in Township Governments. He called them, "...Vital principles... for the perfect exercise of self-government and for its preservation."

We, the Northville Township Boosters, agree with Mr. Jefferson and feel the Township form of government is necessary to the concept of democracy. This government, of the people, by the people and for the people, is and will continue to be, a most viable and important form of government. Modern Township officials are similar to their early predecessors because they face the same basic problems, of serving the people.

It seems that big government has gotten away from the people and is now concerned with perpetuating big government, instead of attending to the needs of the people.

Township government is, and rightly should be, the "First Voice" of the people. It must be responsive to the people, for the final say on decisions regarding policy and taxation belongs to the people. In fact, the Township is one of the few remaining forms of government in which people must vote to determine any increase in their local taxes.

Township officials live and work in close contact with the people they serve, giving a personal touch that is rarely found in any other form of government. This contact with the people is essential to the successful communications required for government. We strongly believe that the needs of the people can only be honestly determined through successful communication of thoughts, feelings and ideas.

The Township is an important form of government that should not be discarded. Township government cannot be considered old-fashioned until the very concepts of democracy are also considered old-fashioned.

In order for any form of government to be effective, we must elect those people who are determined to work for the preservation and continuance of Township Government. The people pictured to the right are dedicated to strong Township Government.

Candidates Speak Out on Issues

EDWIN PRESNELL
Democrat

According to Ed Presnell, Democrat and one of nine candidates for the 24th district's seat in the Michigan House of Representatives, there are a "multitude of issues" involved in this year's campaign.

"We can work toward the accomplishment of them," stated Presnell. "Campaign expenditures should definitely be reformed to the point that the public knows everything about the candidate."

Tax reform on real property is another key issue too, added Presnell.

Senior citizens as well as

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in the series of interviews with the nine candidates (seven Republicans and two Democrats) seeking nomination in the August 6 primary for the post long held by State Representative Clifford Smart, who is not seeking re-election to the 24th district seat.

the entire welfare system need more attention as well, contends the Democrat.

"There's going to have to be some support for senior citizens on social security who do not have an income from retirement and their employment. They should have better support. I also think that the welfare system needs more control. We need to make sure that everyone is treated equal."

Presnell says he feels people are "fed up" with the type of government presently in existence.

"People are fed up with the shenanigans that have been going on in both state and federal offices," stated Presnell. "However, as far as Watergate is concerned from what has been released I cannot judge and am not going to judge them until the full facts are presented."

As far as he's concerned Presnell says he thinks the Michigan legislature is doing a "mediocre job" and what is needed is more individual citizen input rather than lobbying from specific organization or interest group.

Presnell claims he did not run to fill anyone's shoes - including Cliff Smart's. He also says he feels fully qualified to sit in the Michigan House of Representatives.

"I was a member of the charter commission which drew up the charter for the City of Novi. I have been elected to council and was re-elected. My record stands for itself."

Presnell states he intends to visit every area of the district during his campaign and, if elected, would continue to call on the various communities to learn of their needs and desires.

"I will also continue to have my real estate office open for any or all problems. I can be reached daily through my real estate office in Novi and when people have problems they can contact me."

A real estate salesman for Meadowbrook Realty Presnell is 53 years old. He is married and the father of one son and one daughter.

who has worked for both the Detroit News and The Spinal Column, in addition to having served as editor of the Greenfield Village newsletter, Mrs. Riccobono contends that she has no intention of filling Cliff Smart's shoes in the legislature.

"I have great respect for him," she stated. "I've worked closely with him in the past. He's one of our best legislators."

Nevertheless, she feels that she is well qualified to serve in the house of representatives. Her prime qualifications are her experience as a newspaper reporter and the fact that she has been a Lakes Area resident for the past 22 years.

"My experience as a newspaper reporter has given me a great deal of insight into and an awareness of the needs of the local communities," she states. "As a result of covering many local agencies in the area I have made a great number of contacts and feel that I am very capable of representing the area in Lansing."

One of the key local issues in her campaign involves the transition of the Lakes Area from a rural to an urban district.

"We must control residential, commercial, and industrial development in this area by preserving our parks and wild areas," she states. "We must avoid the spreading megalopolis which is threatening to take over the district. Urban sprawl must be controlled. The I-96 and Northwestern expressways are pinching the Lakes Area."

"I've lived in the area for some 22 years and in that time the population has more than quadrupled. This growth must be controlled."

Mrs. Riccobono does not feel that Watergate will be an issue locally. "The Watergate scandal has hurt a lot of innocent people and good legislators," she comments. "I decided to run on the GOP ticket to demonstrate my faith in the party."

Mrs. Riccobono also feels that the state legislature has been doing a "good job" in the issues I am concerned with. "Important strides have been made in the fields of ecology and human rights."

"I will work to frame legislation to see that this progress continues. I want bills that will control the building boom and promote ecology. The ecology of this area is very important. Our rivers and lakes, our wildernesses and wetlands, must be preserved and kept pure."

The lone female candidate in the field for the Republican nomination, Mrs. Riccobono is married. She and her husband Angelo, a quality control supervisor at the Chrysler Tank Arsenal, have raised four children.

FRAZER STAMAN
Republican

Frazer Staman contends that the experience factor makes him the most qualified of the seven candidates seeking the Republican nomination for Clifford Smart's vacated seat in the Michigan House of Representatives.

"I feel that I'm better qualified than any other candidate in the field," stated the 69-year old Wixom resident. "I've had experience with schools, local government, and county government. There's no one else in the race who can compete with my experience."

Staman's record of public service stretches back over the past 28 years. He served six years as a member of the Novi Board of Education; was elected Novi Township Supervisor for five successive two-year terms; and for the past 11½ years (two terms) has been on the Oakland County Road Commission.

What's more, Staman contends that his record of public service has been exemplary.

"We've accomplished more on the Road Commission in the past few years than has ever been accomplished before in the history of the county," he states. Staman points with pride to the fact that he was selected one of the three outstanding men in the county in conjunction with Pontiac Law Day in 1969.

In addition to his experience on the road commission, Staman notes that he chaired the salaries committee for five years, has experience in assessing and taxation, and is a professional appraiser - still more reasons why he feels he is the most qualified candidate.

At the top of his list of issues is his interest in education.

"I'm a great supporter of schools," he states. "I would like to see the quality of education being offered in Michigan improved."

And while his support of education is the number one issue in his campaign, Staman has espoused a variety of other issues in his efforts to win the Republican nomination.

Welfare: "The welfare and ADC programs are a high part of state and county budgets," he states. "More supervision is needed."

Farm Programs: "The national food shortage is a major problem. A program must be devised which will somehow keep our farmers working."

Five Year/Federal Census: "There should be a federal census every five years instead of every ten years. This will benefit local units of government by increasing their share of sales and income taxes, road taxes, and federal revenue sharing."

Crime: "I would like to see a return to capital punishment for crimes such as murder and kidnapping. More punishment is needed."

Staman is opposed to taking hand guns from the people. He would like to see medical schools established at both Wayne State and Michigan State Universities.

Staman says that he will welcome the opportunity to get out and talk with area residents.

Watergate will enter into the election picture, although it will not have a big effect in this particular election, he claims. "I think it's a good thing to get it all out in the open," he says. "We must sell the people on the kind of government we have."

The Republican hopeful would also like to see the Township Candidates Air Views at LWV Forum

With some 35 persons in the audience, most of the township candidates were on hand last week to air their views in the political forum sponsored by the Northville League of Women Voters.

Remarks came in response to a question put to each of the candidates by the League, followed by a general question and answer period involving the audience.

Candidates not present or unable to attend were Republican Incumbent Supervisor Lawrence Wright, who is unopposed; Eugene Guido, Democrat for trustee; Roger Eising, Republican for constable; E. F. Peterson, Republican for constable; James F. Schrot, Republican for constable; and Guy L. Coykendall, Democrat for constable.

Following is a synopsis of comments and answers to questions by those candidates present:

For Supervisor

Robert L. Oleson, Democrat—Strongly opposes annexation, warning township voters that the recent millage increase in the city is a signal of what they would face if they become part of that city. Hopes the next annexation election is not as close as the last one.

Believes the Five Mile-Beck Road area should be reserved for a light-industrial use to help produce a tax base to pay for public safety manpower and equipment needed by the police chief.

For Clerk

Patricia Cousineau, Republican—Says she stands for township government, opposing annexation, and if elected pledges to fulfill her commitment for a full term. Suggests those candidates favoring annexation in effect advocate shortchanging electorate.

Asserts that women have a place in political life, that she will exercise art of compromise and work for public safety improvement. She scores newspaper for lack of objectivity, charging that its editorials show "only the good side" of annexation and she says newspaper has failed to adequately inform readers of recreation department meetings.

Betty M. Lennox, Republican—Suggests her experience in industry and education and as an observer of township government in the East will aid her in the role of clerk. Because Northville is in a fast-growing stage, she sees good planning as a key to controlling that growth.

Contents organizing and accurately keeping of materials, papers and correspondence are essential roles of the clerk for orderly conduct of township board meetings, and she pledges to work for harmony in the township office and for improvement of recreation program.

Janet VanVoorhis, unopposed Democrat—Reminds listeners of long voting lines in last election, suggesting they resulted from ineptness in the township hall. Pledges to speed up the election process and thus encourage voter turnout, and to cut inefficiency through job reviews.

Suggests some of the township problems stem from inadequate and/or poorly enforced codes and ordinances. Says she began supporting annexation in desperation after seeing "bungling" occurring in township government, and she adamantly declares total independence of newspaper policy even though employed as a proofreader.

For Treasurer

Joseph Straub, Republican—States simply that he will stand on his record as township treasurer, and he asks for voters' support.

Contents he has opposed township budgets in past years because he found them unsound, and he suggests inept budgeting accounts for some of the township's financial problems. Stresses that if people want small rural township with little or no service (as he would prefer) then township government is adequate, but if they demand sewers, water, police, fire and other services then it would be far "cheaper" to become part of a combined city.

Anita Eising, Republican—Pledges to do a better job than the incumbent, to be more responsive, and says if the people favor more services she will support them. Indicates her first priority is to get elected so she may carry out her goals.

Contents "people are against annexation and so am I," and asserts that she will research all financial avenues to aid township, and become a full-time working treasurer who will strive to greater harmony. She notes her past experience in general accounting.

Robert Pope, Democrat—Notes a "lack of communication" between the people and the township and between the city and township and suggests if each was aware of the other's views a new harmony would develop here. Contents people are "very, very dissatisfied" and believes the township board lacks concern for them, and adds that if elected he will attempt to break down the barriers between governments and between people and government.

Retired, he says he will be full-time treasurer, and concerning annexation he says he will look at the study being prepared now and learn from it.

For Trustee

Richard M. Lysinger, Republican—Pledges to work towards turning township board into an effective policy making body, noting that in the past there has been little evidence of efficient, objective deliberation and decision-making to reflect the views of all sides of community. Suggests the board's actions relative to the recent public safety committee's recommendations are illustrative of lack of objectivity in past.

Says he previously opposed annexation and has since seen no new evidence to convince him to change his mind. Continues to see township government has the best way to control taxes.

James L. Nowka, Republican—Believes police and fire services should be upgraded, with immediate formulation of new plans that reflect cooperative consideration between city and township as well as the now obvious need of a fire station in the Six Mile area. Suggests township should make thorough study of all federal funding opportunities that might be tapped to develop senior citizen housing here, and emphasizes need to maintain the integrity of the master plan. Believes it is premature to judge value of development proposed at Six Mile and Sheldon until after public hearing, and he sees no evidence that annexation movement was tailored so as to favor city over the township.

Robert R. Reh, Republican—Calls for effective and objective board to establish policy that ensures growth potential keyed to people's interests. Pledges to help control township density by closely watching and controlling development and insisting developers carry out their plans, and he asserts that the township's commercial base should be compatible with the people's wishes.

Charles B. Rosenberg, Republican—Suggests revival of the public safety study and fresh re-evaluation for presentation to the people in a thoroughly explained manner, calls for establishment of stronger building codes and enforcement, and insists township board should be concerned and involved in financial matters throughout the year and not just at budget time.

Stands on his record for seeking building improvements in Highland Lakes, pledges to work hard as a township official, and although he sees benefits resulting from a combined city and township government he insists he is not a "lame duck" candidate

Kurt H. Glaser, Democrat—Suggests volunteer fire department service is insufficient to meet current township need, calls for its expansion, and that of the police department and says these improvements can be paid for by attracting new tax base. He scores the township inspection procedure, and calls for orderly growth.

Says water and sewer lines must be installed throughout the township—and not just in one area, and these installations can be funded through federal grants and township assessments. Sees annexation as a costly proposition, but says he will be neutral on this matter as a township official.

Donald B. Marengere, Democrat—Says township should be service oriented...willing and able to take care of peoples' needs, enforce building codes and ordinances. Suggests present officials have "not gone to bat" for people, and he calls for the upgrading of the township police and fire service.

Contends he is one of few candidates who has walked through township, meeting people and learning that

Hugh J. Sutherland, Democrat—Contends that neither he nor any other candidate should be allowed to impose his ideas on others pointing out that as a public official he would set aside his own opinions and make a concerted effort to learn what constituents think before acting.

Says he has no personal desire for more police and fire protection and will reserve judgment until after gauging public opinion and then work towards citizen influenced goals. Daytime Thieves Clean Out Model

In Novi

Several hundred dollars worth of furniture and appliances were taken from a Raintree model home the morning of July 20, according to police reports.

A cleaning woman who discovered the burglary told police that when she arrived at work at 7 a.m., a white van was parked near the model.

A Negro male with cap and glasses on was in the passenger's seat while another male was standing near the van. He was described as 50 years old, stocky, 5'10" to 5'11", 160-170 pounds with two gold teeth in front, police reports said.

The man reportedly waved to the cleaning woman, climbed in the van and left. Legs of the furniture could be seen sticking up in the rear of the van, the cleaning woman said.

The burglary was discovered at 11:15 a.m. and police called in. Officers could not find the point of entry although both doors were unlocked.

The truck backed up to the rear of the model and was loaded via a glass doorwall, the reports said.

Tentatively listed as missing from the model were a Hot Point refrigerator, a white Roper dishwasher, a dining room table and four chairs, and a round glass coffee table with a chrome base.

According to police, Debbie Erb of 1415 East Lake Drive in Novi ran into the street after her brother and was struck. She was conveyed to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital where it was determined she had a broken leg, lacerations about the head and possible internal injuries.

Seventeen kitchen cabinets valued at $500 and four formica counters valued at $250 were taken from a building at Waterview apartments between 4:30 p.m. July 24 and 7:30 a.m. the following day.

Police theorize a truck was used because of the size of the articles taken. Officers were uncertain how the building was entered.

A 1973 four horsepower Mercury outboard motor valued at $350 was taken from a house in the 46,000 block of West 11 Mile Road. The motor was taken between 4:30 p.m. July 20 and 4:10 a.m. July 23.

According to police, the motor was at the home of the owner's brother who was storing it in a corner of the summer kitchen. Also taken was a three gallon gas can worth $15.

A gold refrigerator was taken from a condominium sometime from July 17-19. The condominium, located in the 22,000 block of Woolsey, had not yet been occupied.

A door lock was jimmied to gain entry.

A television worth $125 was taken from private offices in the community building at Beachwalk apartments sometime between July 20 and July 21. A Smith-Corona portable typewriter was also taken.

Police indicated entry was probably gained through one of five doors.

Approximately $105 cash was taken from Novi Hardware, 41695 Grand River, sometime between 6 p.m. July 23 and 7:30 a.m. July 24.

Police indicated that a pane of glass on the east side of the building was broken to gain entry. The burglar had to go over a 6 1/2 foot fence and through two watchdogs to gain access to the building.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole recently received a notice to pay a fine for a parking ticket issued him in Detroit last September.

BeGole, who admitted his guilt, reported that scribbled on the notice was the message "Pay up you Welcher!" BeGole speculated that the note might have been written by Detroit Police Commissioner Philip Tannian.

According to reports, officer Richard Howe observed the car leaving the premises of the Ford plant Thursday, July 18 and pursued the car southbound on South Wixom Road. The automobile went back into the Ford plant, exited and stopped in the UAW parking lot across the street where both males left the vehicle and fled on foot, police said.

Wixom officer Roger DeClerq and his dog Kojak were called in but the dog

Tips on Real Estate

What exactly is it that draws your eye to a particular house as you drive down a street? It may be an architectural style you are partial to, an attractive roofline, windows that are proportioned to the house, or it may simply be a paint color that seems just right and you make a mental note to consider it when you paint again. It may be landscaping that compliments the structure because someone scaled it to fit, even just an appearance of general care and neatness. Whatever it was, it worked, because you noticed. People notice your house too! Whether you are buying or selling you will be sure to take notice of the professional manner in which BRUCE ROY REALTY, INC. 150 N. What 'Boosters?'

To the Editor:

In recent days, like most township voters, I have been reviewing the candidates for township offices.

In examining the paid political ads in the last issue of the Record, a question was raised in my mind.

Two of the candidates running for Clerk and Treasurer listed among their qualifications, offices held in an organization called the Northville Township Boosters.

I have lived in the township for 4½ years, and like others I have talked to, have never heard of this organization.

Since these two candidates have listed this among their qualifications for offices, it is important for township voters to ask three questions:

1. Is there such an organization?
2. Have these candidates truly gained experience in the boosters that makes them better qualified for office?

3. Or, is this organization merely a political front to present candidates with a particular point of view?

Since the jobs of Clerk and Treasurer are important, full time, paid positions, I think these questions are valid in determining how to vote August 6th.

Sincerely,
George R. Berquist

Police Power Threat to Township in Tuesday Vote

By BILL SLIGER

It has been said that if a poll were taken to determine the public's preference between those who practice the world's oldest profession and the press, the latter would finish a poor second.

I suspect we provide support for the above premise as we continue to express our opinion on local issues and candidates. But we are not involved in a popularity contest.

We firmly believe there is a direct relationship between the well being of a community and the alertness of its newspaper.

And we do not attempt to hide the fact that the observations on this page represent our opinion. We do, however, regard this responsibility seriously. Our opinions are the result of firsthand information gathered in the day-to-day coverage of local affairs.

I am deeply concerned by what I see taking place in the township primary race. I believe township taxpayers should be fully aware of the potential results if a police-oriented slate of Republican candidates wins voter support Tuesday.

Anyone vaguely familiar with the operation of township hall is well aware of the strong influence already exerted by its non-resident police chief.

To solidify its position those who would further expand police authority and spending (which now exceeds the township's total property tax levy) have reached into the department's employ, reserve ranks and family to take over the township's governing board.

And in addition to these candidates for clerk, treasurer and trustee, the slate is crowned with the chairman of the township's most recent police study as candidate for the second trustee seat.

That study took more than two years to complete, ignored cooperation with city forces, barred the press from its sessions and proposed the formation of a public safety department which its own consultant advised would be minimal at an additional taxpayer expense of three mills.

The voters failed to buy the program and the chief of police and study chairman openly blamed the township board for failure to sell it to the public.

My personal opinion regarding city-township cooperation, and annexation, is well known. I consider the subject far too important to the future welfare of our community to use for personal, political or self-ego purposes.

I would hope that all township taxpayers consider the prospects and costs for public safety facilities if we permit a special interest group to gain political as well as managerial control.

In my opinion the impact of annexation would be tame by comparison.

The community of Northville cannot profit from divisiveness. The real hope for the best services at the lowest possible cost in the broad areas of recreation, courts and probation, library, public safety and public works rests with our ability to cooperate.

Perhaps the fear of annexation has driven some from this position.

But common sense and calm appraisal should be applied to our alternatives.

The voter retains control of the question of annexation.

I hope that on Tuesday township voters retain political control of their right to choose between cooperation and separation.

Our Township Choices

Republicans:

Lennox, Nowka
Rosenberg, Straub

There was a time in Northville when primary elections for local board members were an automatic procedure.

A single slate of Republican candidates usually faced a skeleton line-up of Democrats.

Not so in 1974. Both parties have competition within their own ticket.

And while it was once considered mandatory to run as a Republican if getting elected was the object, this too may be changing.

On the Republican ticket for board offices there are races for clerk, treasurer and two trustee seats.

This newspaper strongly supports the incumbent treasurer, Joseph Straub, and Betty Lennox for clerk, and James Nowka and Charles Rosenberg for Trustees.

For thoroughness and accuracy Straub must be ranked as the best township treasurer in Wayne county. His tax collection records are spotlessly accurate. And tax collecting is the principal duty of the treasurer.

His training as an auditor makes him a natural watchdog of the budget and it is in this area that the blunt-speaking Straub has encountered frustrations. He suffers the agonies of a perfectionist. When he encounters inefficiencies in office procedures or sloppy budgeting, he becomes impatient when proposed solutions are ignored.

Straub's fiscal integrity is badly needed on the board. He should be returned to office.

Betty Lennox brings a sound background in education and business to the position of clerk. Although she is relatively new to the community, she has shown an active interest in community affairs and demonstrates that she has the ability to handle the important assignment of clerk.

Jim Nowka has earned his spurs in township government. His concern for good planning and density control of development in the township began years ago when he attended public hearings, planning meetings and board sessions as an interested citizens.

Democrats:

Guido and Sutherland

He has since served on both the board of appeals and planning commission, of which he is chairman.

A resident of the southeastern section of the township, Nowka is keenly aware of the needs of the residents and has proven his interest and concern.

Nowka will make an excellent township trustee.

Chuck Rosenberg chose to live in Northville because it is the childhood home of his wife, Pam Kay Rosenberg.

Pam's father, Dick Kay, was probably the most popular and able principal the Northville school system ever had. Although now residents of Grosse Pointe where Dick is employed in the school system, both Dick and Alice Kay maintain strong Northville ties.

So Rosenberg is not a Northville newcomer, or a resident by accident. He has worked hard during his residency at Highland Lakes to correct problems that existed in the early construction of the Levitt development.

As an officer of the homeowners' association, it was Rosenberg who headed up the successful effort to gain concessions from the developer in the form of money and building corrections.

Rosenberg is young, intelligent and able to become a hard-working township trustee.

The Democratic slate of candidates for Northville township has competition for two trustee seats only. The other candidates are unopposed for nomination.

Our choices are Eugene Guido and Hugh J. Sutherland.

The former has been active in numerous community activities and served as chairman of the first study conducted for public safety in the township.

Sutherland has become involved in anti-annexation efforts and is an able spokesman for citizen involvement in local government.

Both Guido and Sutherland are highly qualified to serve on the township board.

Urges Proposal Support

To the Editor:

The League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth supports the passage of the Special Education Millage and urges you to vote YES for "Proposition A", Tuesday, August 6th.

League members have been concerned for many years about the educational needs of the handicapped members of our society, and worked for the passage of the Special Education Act (Public Act No. 198, 1971) which provides that handicapped persons be given appropriate education and training from birth until the age of 25.

This act places the ultimate responsibility upon the intermediate school districts to provide and support programs and services for handicapped persons.

Wayne County Intermediate School District of which the Northville Public School system is a constituent is one of two intermediate school districts which does not have a special education levy.

This one mill levy will raise about $13 million (based on the present assessed valuation of the county) for the support of special education programs and services. If this tax passes, our intermediate district will be able to receive about $4 million in additional state funds next year. Local school districts do not qualify for this payment.

Most of this money will be disbursed to local school districts to support their special education programs and services. Our intermediate district will be treated the same as local districts.

We believe there should be equality of educational opportunity for every child.

Your YES vote for Proposition "A" assures each handicapped child the same level of service regardless of where he or she lives in Wayne County.

Betty S. Hancock

State Item Chairman, League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth

County Proposals

Vote Yes on A In Wayne County

Proposition "A" on the Wayne County ballot, which calls for a one mill tax levy for special education, deserves voter support. Without it neither the county nor its member school districts can adequately meet the needs of the county's nearly 50,000 handicapped.

While individual school districts may find fault with the lack of local control over how the money is used, they must recognize that cooperatively financed programs are a good deal less expensive than separate programs.

In any case state law requires we provide handicapped programs, and we are convinced this county proposition is the most economical way to do it.

Manager Plan Good For Oakland

Being aware of the studies that went into State Senator Carl Pursell's legislation on county executive government and sensing a need for non-politically oriented direction at the county level, we believe the voters of Oakland County should approve establishment of a county manager as proposed on the primary ballot.

For precisely the same reason that politics ought not be part of the tough, day-to-day management of a county, we also believe the county manager in Oakland County should be appointed rather than elected as suggested in Alternate "A" on the ballot.

In review, we believe voters should vote "yes" on the central proposition calling for a county manager and, having done so, vote for Alternate "A" to make such a manager an appointive position.

As for the candidates for the county manager's seat, the only competition is on the Democratic slate. Here, with two candidates running, we believe Eugene W. Kuthy is clearly the better candidate.

township board have no legal role in the issue.

While voters should dedicate themselves to selecting officials on the basis of their qualifications and ability to conduct township business, it is more realistic to recognize that many will be swayed in their decisions by personal feelings towards annexation.

It is also true that voters deserve to know how a candidate for local office stands on all local issues. And annexation certainly qualified as one of these.

But the suggestion that to do a good job as a township official one must be intensely loyal to that form of government is like saying an airline pilot who may know he can fly to Chicago faster

State House

Republican DeWaard

Democrat Brinker

We are pleased to see a large number of candidates battling for party representation in Clifford Smart's 24th District — the only local area legislative race in which there is any significant competition.

No fewer than five of the nine candidates are residents of our communities — Novi and Wixom, and we are very familiar with the views and qualifications of these five having observed them in various elective and non-elective roles for many years.

Though we are not as familiar with the views of the four candidates living outside the circulation area of this newspaper, we nevertheless feel qualified to suggest that William Brinker, Democrat, and LaVerne DeWaard, Republican, are especially deserving of their party's nomination.

Louie Campbell and Frazer Staman, both Republicans, have served this area well in the past, and they are continuing to do so in their present posts. And no doubt either would do a commendable job for us as a state representative. However, on balance and after having carefully examined all factors, we believe DeWaard would do the better job for this district in Lansing. His driving energy to do a job and to do it well is his convincer.

While William Brinker has not been in the limelight as much as his Democratic opponent, Edwin Presnell, his qualifications and performance easily make him the better choice.

District Court

Schnelz Is Excellent

Although all four candidates may be qualified, Gene Schnelz is easily our top choice for the newly created district court seat in Oakland County's 52nd District.

Having watched Schnelz in action over the years, in and out of the field of law, we have been very impressed by his intelligence, common sense and dedication. His proven judicial experience and his fair but firm legal opinions tell us he will make an excellent addition to the district court bench.

With People or System

Where Should Loyalties Lie?

The question of whether or not a candidate favors annexation of the township to the city consumed a great deal of time in the candidates' night forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters last week.

It was not the question posed by the League. But it was the subject some candidates chose to discuss, and it was submitted in written form from the small audience of 35 citizens to several of the candidates.

In reality the question has no significance insofar as service on the township board is concerned.

The matter of annexation is a question for the voters to decide. The city council or the and safer is not capable of driving there.

In my opinion the important qualifications for any candidate for public office are his honesty, intelligence, ability, interest and concern for his community.

An elected official who says he is obligated to uphold township government and dedicates himself to its growth regardless of the impact on, or the welfare of, the taxpayer is a slave to a system rather than a servant of the people.

His obligation is to the people he is elected to represent. And he should keep them advised at all times of alternatives open to them and frankly express his opinion based upon the best information available.

Top of Deck — Government Insists He's Deserter

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"I take my pen in hand to write to you to let you know how I get along. I am well and I hope this will find you the same and the children. Eliza I am going back to my Regiment on Monday the 20th and I don't want you to write till you hear from me again. I will try it again (fighting) and if...nothing pass(es) through me bigger than a barn, I will see what I can do. But if I get hurt it will be all right for a man's life is like a cat's life; it is thought nothing of here in the war times..."

After writing this his last letter home to his wife and two children on Sunday, October 19, 1862, Private Frederick Silsby was never again heard from by anyone in Michigan.

His two daughters, both of whom were under five years of age, at the time, and his wife, Elizabeth, lived out the remainder of their lives never knowing what had become of their father and husband.

Government records show that after three months in a military hospital in Philadelphia, Silsby was deemed well and released on October 21, 1862. But instead of returning to his infantry unit, then fighting in Virginia in the Blue Ridge Mountains area, Silsby deserted, insists the government.

For three years Mrs. Silsby waited word, hoping her husband would return home. Then, finally, upon conclusion of the Civil War she filed for a pension. It was promptly denied on the grounds that her husband had deserted.

Fourteen years later, her children now nearly grown, Mrs. Silsby again appealed to the government. With that appeal was filed sworn testimony of witnesses supporting her claims, but again the appeal was denied.

Then, once again before she died, Mrs. Silsby made a final plea to the United States government in 1884—more than 22 years after her husband's disappearance.

In that last appeal, she submitted the sworn statement of one of Silsby's companion soldiers. He testified that following the Michigan soldier's release from the hospital, Silsby traveled from Philadelphia to Virginia in pursuit of his infantry unit (recovered soldiers were left on their own to rejoin their fighting units during the Civil War).

Silsby, he testified, finally reached the Michigan Fourth "the latter part of October, or forepart of November, 1862, that he was taken prisoner by the rebels, who paroled him in a sick and broken down condition, and that he was immediately placed in a field hospital and died within two days thereafter of smallpox and that he (Private David Law) having had the small pox was detailed to care for him and assisted in burying him at night in the neighborhood of Snicker's Gap, Virginia."

Absolutely not, concluded the government. Silsby was a deserter, government officials asserted, and he would remain so on the record. In truth, they weren't that blunt in their reply to the Michigan widow but their decision was precisely that definite.

Even today government records—now stored in the National Archives along with all of the appeals, testimony and many of the letters Silsby had written to his family—still hold that the young man from Michigan deserted the Army he joined at Ann Arbor in the spring of 1861.

If we accept the government's contention of desertion, we are left with the mystery and pure conjecture:

What became of Silsby? Was he accidentally killed enroute back to Virginia? Was he a coward who fled the war zone to make a new life for himself somewhere other than in Michigan? Was he captured by the Rebels and did he become one of the many unknown soldiers to die in Confederate prisons? Did he get into a crap game and lose his life over the turn of the dice? Or did he run off with a pretty nurse, leaving his wife and two children to fend for themselves?

Next week: why I believe the government acted unfairly on Silsby's case and why today, after 112 years, I believe this Michigan soldier's name should be cleared.

Suggests Fund for Aged

To the Editor:
I was very much surprised to read that the council planned to make a study of the Wayne County Training School for housing for the Senior citizens.

To isolate them out there away from the stores, churches and medical resources makes me think of the days on the farm before tractors. When a horse became old and worn out you would either turn him out to pasture and wait for him to die or take him to the woods and shoot him.

Although the percentage of elderly in Northville is large I believe the number who can qualify for assistance is very small.

I do not believe that we need public housing for the elderly as there are so many apartments above the stores both on Main and Center streets as well as on other streets.

What we do need is two or three of the very wealthy to band together and take some of their income tax money and set up a tax exempt foundation for the Senior Citizens in that way others can contribute too.

In my own case I am secure. I am retired with pension and fringe benefits and social security and income from a small land contract. Even though my income is small enough that I do not pay income tax if someone will set up a foundation I will pledge $100 dollars to it and I am sure a great many others would do the same.

Yours truly,
Cecil Taggart

To the Editor:
I flew the flag today. It was late of hour but I hoisted our country's flag this evening when I got home from my work. I flew the flag with a feeling of pride—a feeling of relief that our Supreme Court decided that our children really mattered. It has always been considered that they do and no one even considered it a debatable subject. That is, until ill-inspired persons decided to try to force their views upon others by proposing the exploitation of hopeless, voteless school children. The coward's way. The loop-hole proposal of busing minor children to scramble black and white has failed.

It failed, I think, because wisdom prevailed. I fly my flag in tribute and respect for those men in power who have once more preserved our liberties and our children's freedom from being trampled and oppressed.

Young Visitor Impressed

To the Editor:

I am from Tiffin, Ohio. I live out in the country. I am here visiting my Aunt Irene and Uncle Pete. I came to Michigan three weeks ago. My Aunt Irene and I ride our bicycles over to my Grandparents house every day. (Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dinsler). I went to the Farmington Four Cinema a week ago and the manager-owner gave me a royal tour of his new cinema. It is beautiful country around here. My Aunt and Uncle just built a new beautiful home in Echo Valley Estates. It's one of the best looking houses in Echo Valley Estates.

The other night, my Aunt Betty and Uncle Jim took me to the horse races at Northville Downs and we watched the horse races as we ate our supper in the clubhouse. I won $1.80. It was the first time I have ever been to the races. I go shopping often with my Aunt Irene and Grandmother to Northville and Area stores getting presents for my family and my doggie "Buttons". Tiffin is a little town. My dad is a policeman in Tiffin. There is not much crime or excitement in our town. I live four miles out of town. I live in a big brick house with tall white pillars. When you look out a window at my house, you see fields of corn or wheat for miles upon miles. The only difficulty I had in Michigan is in the K-Mart store on Orchard Lake Road. The young manager was as nasty as can be. I've had an enjoyable vacation here in Michigan. Michigan is a nice place to visit but I won't want to live here. (There's no place like home).

Regrets Loss Of Free Service

To the Editor:

I wish to comment on Mrs. Marshbank's letter re: Private Ambulances, especially the quote "when the state put the funeral homes out of the ambulance business with their new regulations, it really hurt the small towns."

It certainly did hurt for funeral directors carried patients free of charge. Now it is from $35 across town to $75 for longer distances. I have personally seen patients admitted to hospitals under both systems, and the care is no better now than when free.

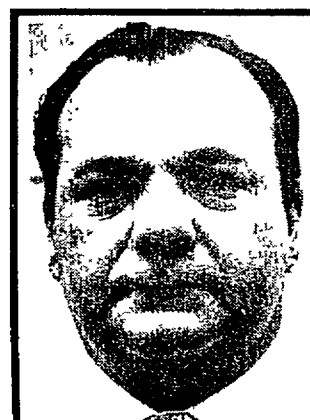

Please don't blame the state! I heard Dr. Richard Conard in a lecture to a group of senior citizens in Florida, where he now practices, brag, and I mean brag, that he was responsible for starting the push to take ambulance service away from funeral directors. His unfounded criticism was that he had seen funeral directors take patients to the morgue that were not completely gone.

I have taken two courses in resuscitation, and our rule is—if a patient is pulseless and unconscious five minutes or more, it's a kindness to do nothing more. They can only be a living vegetable. Dr. Conard knows this.

If you question anything I have said, ask your local Northville funeral director if he ever heard of Dr. Conard. He did the funeral directors a favor but the poor people have to pay.

I can appreciate Mrs. Marshbank's problems.

those interested in how to register voters.

Clerk Cayley said she is in need of registrars for the November election. "Right now I have a few persons who tentatively said they would work but nothing definite," she commented.

Sessions may be held at the township offices or in private homes. Both ways were used for the August primary, she said.

Those registering voters included Dr. and Mrs. John Swienkowski in Northville Commons, Clerk Candidate Patricia Cousineau in Highland Lakes and Northville Commons and Rosemary Eggeman in Kings Mill.

Candidates acting as deputy registrars is legal, though unusual, according to county officials. Clerk Cayley pointed out that she registered voters while she herself was a candidate for office.

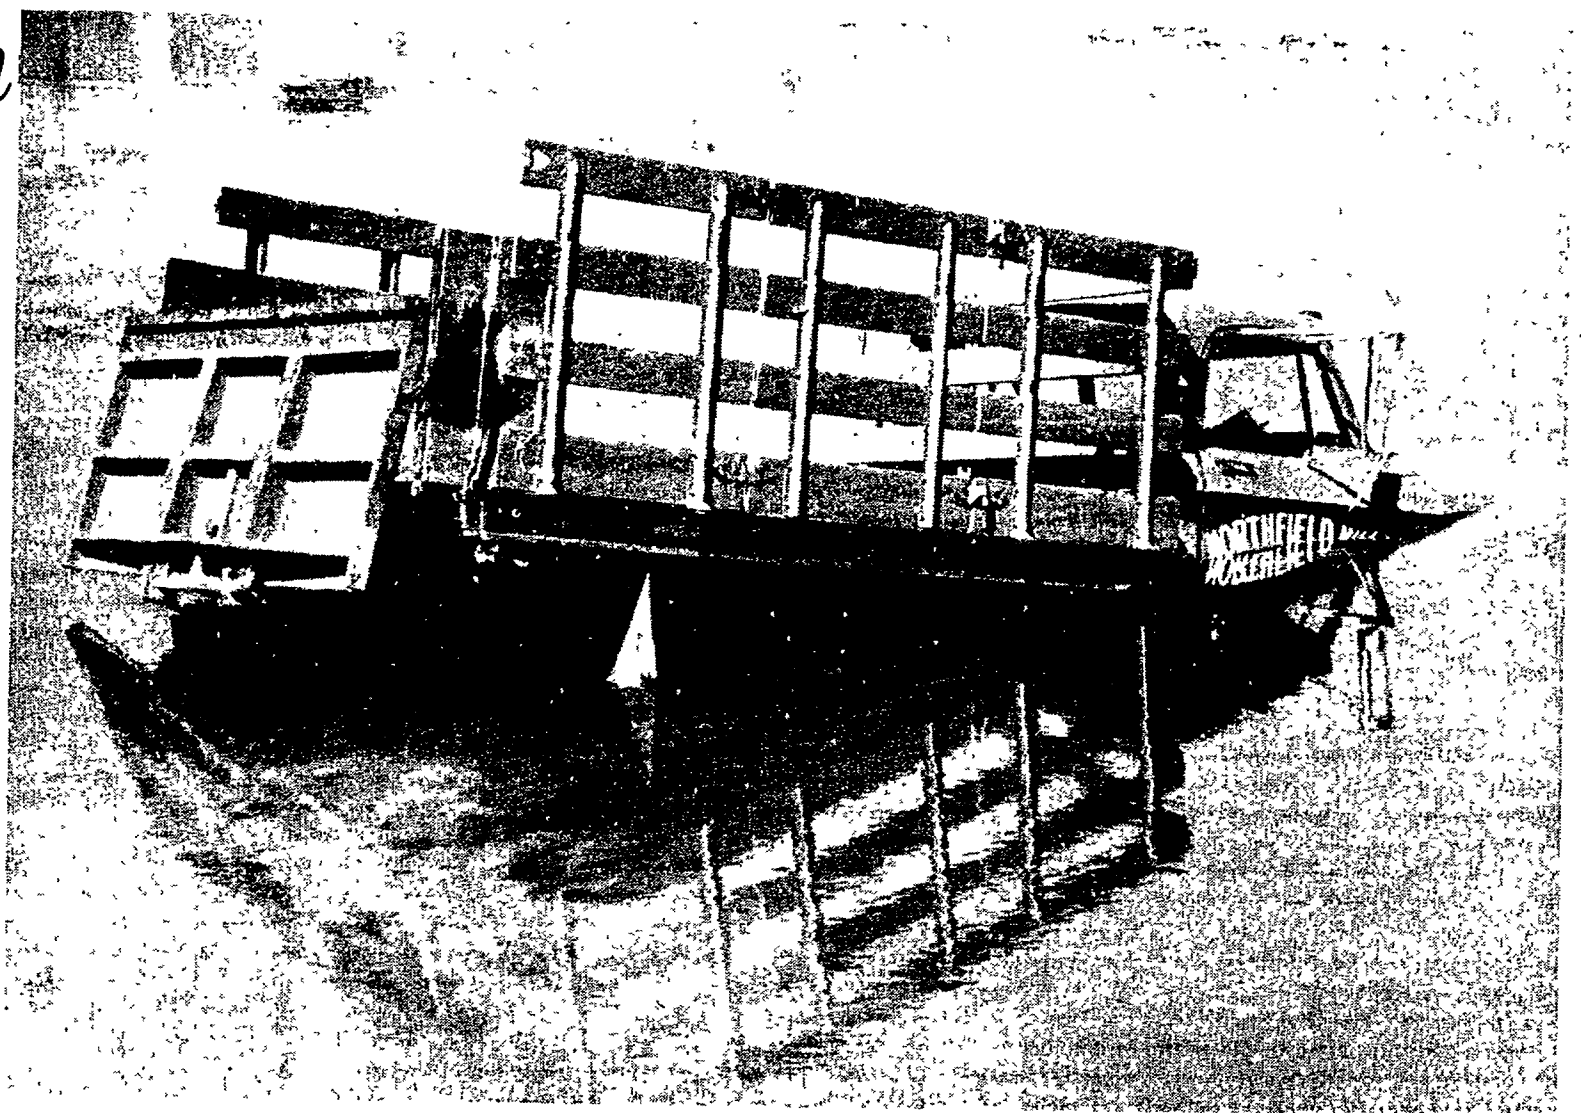

She explained the reason for deputizing persons as a "convenience for those who cannot come into township hall." Both she and Deputy Clerk Margaret Tegge also have registered voters in their homes after working hours by appointment.

Deputy registrars are appointed for a certain length of time. Mrs. Tegge added that for the August primary, persons were appointed for a specific day during which they wished to register voters.

While no dates, times or places were advertised when the deputy registrars would be taking registrations, Mrs. Tegge said in some cases notices had been posted on clubhouse bulletin boards and others notified by word of mouth.

Two women from the League of Women Voters have expressed an interest in registering high school students for the November election and plan to station registrars at the high school after classes open in September, Mrs. Cayley said.

Deputy registrars may be from any political party and need not be appointed on a certain number per party basis. October 7 is the deadline for registering to vote in the November election.

Mosher Receives Engineering Honor

L.W. Mosher, Northville township consulting engineer, has been named the Outstanding Civil Engineer for 1973-74.

The award was presented by the Southeastern Branch of the Michigan Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers and is the 10th year they have made the presentation.

This selection was made by a committee composed of Leonard Klein, Northville township trustee, Peter Cook and Red Widrig.

Mosher, who studied for his civil engineering degree at the University of Michigan, has been Northville township's consulting engineer since 1962. His firm, Mosher Associates, Incorporated, is located in Detroit.

He has worked in private consulting offices, for the City of Detroit DPW as engineer in charge of the Detroit sewage treatment project and for the Detroit Water Board where he was in charge of the civil engineering section.

While with the water board, he handled engineering relations with suburbs. In 1956, he opened an office and in 1957 became the sole owner of the firm.

In 1963, Mosher served as president of the Southern Michigan Water and Sewer Utility board and was the first president of the Consulting Engineers Council of Michigan.

Northville township is the only municipality for which Mosher Associates handled the complete engineering work while they assist several other municipalities with engineering.

Currently, the firm is also involved in highway design for the Michigan State Highway Department and Ford Motor Company Land Development Corporation which is involved in land acquisitions at the Renaissance Center. The firm is also doing work for the Fairlane Development in Dearborn in the people mover system layout.

Vandals Dump Truck in Lake

—Smashed lights in the clubhouse area.

—Cut up and otherwise damaged lawn furniture before tossing it into the lake behind the clubhouse.

—Attempted to break into the clubhouse by cutting into a window.

In addition, Highland Lakes residents complained of extensive trespassing, littering and rowdiness in Levitt gravel pit area over the weekend. Some of these gravel pit trespassers, association officers reported, partied and slept on the ground Saturday night near the clubhouse and may have been responsible for the vandalism.

Damage by vandals was estimated at nearly $2,000.

It was the worst case of vandalism recorded this year at Highland Lakes, according to Van Dam and former association president, Charles Rosenberg, who noted that last year vandals burned down the gazebo adjacent to the clubhouse.

Damage to the truck was called "total" because it had been in the water so long. Association officers had been advised not to remove the vehicle until after police investigation, said Van Dam.

"But we waited and waited and nobody came, so we called you (Record reporter)." No one answered the township police telephone number, Van Dam said, whereupon he telephoned the state police, who took the call but never sent out a car. Later, in desperation, he called the sheriff's department.

Shortly after a sheriff's patrol car arrived, a township officer arrived and explained that there are no township policemen on duty Sunday mornings. He did not know why the township calls had not automatically been relayed to state police.

Township Officer Dennis Roscoe, who voiced resentment the sheriff's deputies were present, said vandalism and trespassing are recurring problems at Highland Lakes and that his department is frequently investigating them. However, he added, that often when police encounter strangers on

"I'm sure most of the problems here are caused by non-residents but until the residents themselves back us up there isn't much we can do," said the officer, who indicated the court must also shoulder some responsibility.

Referring to trespassing and littering problems occurring near and in the gravel pits, Roscoe said District Court Judge Dunbar Davis has indicated he will throw out these cases until the area is properly fenced and posted.

He said the court has indicated snow fence, as erected by Levitt, is an insufficient deterrent and therefore trespassing laws are legally unenforceable. Until the area is properly fenced and posted, township officers "can't do much about all these complaints we get," Roscoe said.

As he spoke hundreds of persons were swimming in the gravel pits, their cars parked on either side of Griswold Street and inside the Highland Lakes subdivision as well. Snow fences were smashed and down and beer cans littered the area.

Victory Gardens!

Shades of Past Crop up As Residents Exercise Green Thumbs

By JEAN DAY

Victory gardens. In 1944 area residents were asked to "do a war job in your own back yard."

Thirty years later they're picking up the shovel, the rake and the hoe to do battle against inflation at the supermarket.

And, as a bonus, many first-time food gardeners are finding that "fresh vegetables taste so much better."

A young Novi housewife whose garden contains cucumbers, beans and corn declares she's "never going to eat frozen food again" and that even her small son, who like most little boys declared he didn't like vegetables, is "eating them happily."

As in 1944 when the Office of Civil Defense counted some 125,000 Victory garden plots in this area outside Detroit, this year's gardens are located in community plots as well as among back yard flowers.

One of the largest Victory-over-inflation community garden plots is located on Schoolcraft Community College property along Haggerty Road in Western Wayne County.

This spring it was divided into 289 gardens, 25 by 30-feet. Plots were assigned to any residents of the college area who asked for them. Some students and quite a few faculty members, the college says, also are participating.

The garden program was begun last year with 130 plots and was expanded into more than twice as many this year. Those assigned a plot each paid $5 to cover plowing costs.

While the "most common" crops are tomatoes and beans, corn also is being grown. It even has been reported to the college that one gardener has cultivated Jerusalem artichokes.

Called "Project Seed," the program has been under auspices of the campus Newman House at 17300 Haggerty Road. Biggest problem for the community gardeners is lack of water.

"Gardeners have to bring their own supply—or pray," declared a college spokesman when asked about watering.

However, nature does rather well if left alone, according to Northville back yard gardener Bill Williams, who left his 20 by 40-foot garden for a month—and returned to find it thriving.

"It's doing real well," he declares, "We're getting cabbage, tomatoes and broccoli already."

"I'm through weeding and in the process of reaping," he adds happily.

During World War II the Office of Civil Defense was telling that 20 million Victory gardens grew food for families in 1943 while encouraging a total of 22 million in 1944—so that other food could be sent to troops.

Local groups, such as the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, were cooperating in sponsoring the home gardens and in August, 1944, even held a Victory Garden Harvest Show in the Methodist Church House.

At that time carrots were five cents a bunch, cucumbers were three-for-ten cents, tomatoes were two pounds for 25 cents, celery was a dime and onions were four pounds for 17 cents.

(Slab bacon was 25 cents a pound, bread was two loaves for 17 cents and steak could be bought for 36 cents a pound.)

Last week food prices were advertised at 49 cents a pound for tomatoes, celery, 39 cents, cucumbers, two for 29 cents, with bread two loaves on special for 89 cents and steak ranged around $1.49 a pound.

The reason for the gardens has changed in 30 years but this year's successful gardeners agree that the promise of 30 years ago still holds, "The vegetables you grow taste better than any you've ever eaten before."

Gardening Advice

Save Seeds, Money, Too

By KATHY COPLEY

With an infinite variety of seeds so easily available through catalogs and garden stores, why would anyone bother saving their own?

Maybe because it is nice to have just orange and yellow Zenith zinnias, rather than the commercial mixture containing red, rose, purple and pink, too.

Maybe because it is fun to play self-sufficient ecologist. Maybe because some seeds are quite expensive. (Daisy mum seeds are 12.5 cents each from Park.) Or maybe it is just to see if you can do it.

It is an interesting experiment, and since most of your gardening is down hill from here, you have the time to do it.

You can't expect vigorous seed to come from spindly plants. Let these straggly ones go on blooming by keeping the developing seed heads picked off. Reproduction is the whole intent of the plant, so as long as you keep flowers picked off, preventing seed production, the plant thinks it has to keep producing flowers to have a chance to survive.

Earmark only the most vigorous plants for seed. Let a few flowers on each plant fade, allowing the pollinated seed to develop. Leave the seed head on the plant until it becomes completely brown and dry. When the top of the stem is also withered, it is time to pick the seed.

Do it on a hot, dry afternoon when the seed heads are completely dry. If they are even slightly damp, the whole batch is likely to be destroyed by mold.

I pop the whole seed pod into a baby food jar and stir it around with my finger. This usually separates the seed from pod. (It really doesn't matter much if they are completely separated. In the spring, it doesn't hurt to plant a little seed pod with the seed.)

Label the jar with pertinent data like species, color, and height. Adding info on soil and light conditions which made these healthy plants is helpful.

If you are positive that the seeds are bone dry, cover them tightly and store the jars in a cool, dark place. I'm never that sure that they are dry enough that they won't ever mold, so I store them uncovered.

Not all seeds are good for saving because some don't reproduce true to color. Orange Perfection Phlox are likely to revert to their wild blue. Columbine seldom produces true colors, but those are the risks.

Other seeds require a bothersome exposure to cold before they will germinate. If you want to try Coral Bells or Primrose, mix the seeds in moist sand or peat in a clear plastic bag. When they have been stored in the vegetable bin in your refrigerator for four weeks, or have begun to germinate (whichever comes first), plant them.

Still other seeds are produced on plants which are F1 hybrids, plants which are grown from seed which has been selectively hand-pollinated by experienced seedmen to insure color and growth habits. The most common varieties in the F1 category are double and multiflora petunias, dwarf and double impatiens, some special marigolds, and fancy snapdragons. Don't waste your energy on them.

So what does that leave? Most of the popular annuals and perennials are fair game for seed collecting. I have had particular success with African Daisies, Marigolds, Mexican Sunflower, Moss Roses, Nicotiana, Cleome, Zinnia, and Alyssum.

Some plants self-sow readily. If you don't plan to disturb the soil near them next spring, you will probably find many tiny plants which need only to be thinned or transplanted. But if you plan to do extensive cultivating, store some of these for nearly fail-proof results:

Genesis of a Church

They're Starting from Scratch

Like the chicken and the egg, which comes first—the parish or the pastor? To start a church, does a group of people ask a denominational headquarters to construct a church and provide a minister? Or does a larger church association build a church and place a minister whose responsibility it is to fill the church? What about smaller, independent churches which lack the support of a larger national church?

Two ministers in the Brighton area, the Reverend David Kruger and the Reverend Robert Doorn, have gone about the business of starting churches in quite different ways.

Mr. Kruger, an ordained Lutheran minister who developed Lutheran churches in Loveland, Ohio and Stephensville, Michigan, came to Brighton in January, 1972.

Mr. Kruger explained that headquarters of the national church of which he is a member, Lutherans of America, does continual research of population patterns and movements in the country.

When studies indicate population is stable enough to support a church, The Mission Board of the national church "calls" a pastor to go to the area and develop the church.

Pastors are chosen, said Mr. Kruger, by their experience in church development, their ability to work without traditional church structure and system, and their willingness to relocate and undertake development.

Once situated in the parsonage on Buno Road provided by the Mission Board, Mr. Kruger said he began a door-to-door survey of the area the church was to serve, about an 18-square mile area northeast of U.S. 23 and I-96.

That area is determined by the location of Lutheran churches already established in the area.

Mr. Kruger said he also made every effort to get acquainted with the community his first weeks in Brighton. He joined the Pastors' Association, met city and township officials and business leaders, and attended various organizational meetings.

The first meeting of interested persons was in May, 1972, at Miller School. The church, now meeting in Spencer School, has a membership of about 50 families at this time.

Mr. Kruger said the name Lord of Life was chosen for the church because members agreed "our concern is to develop a life style consistent with Jesus's."

"We also agreed it is more important to be Christian than adhere to any one denomination. We don't lean heavily on Lutheran doctrine."

Financially, however, Lord of Life is dependent upon the national church.

"It was mutually agreed upon by Lord of Life (now an official non-profit ecclesiastical corporation) and the Mission Board that the church would be self-supporting within five years of its organization date."

Until self-support is achieved, the national church subsidizes the Lord of Life budget, revenue at the local level being generated entirely by free will offerings.

The Mission Board actually owns the four-acre site on VanAmburg and Pleasant Valley Roads on which Lord of Life hopes to begin construction of a church by the end of this year.

Despite financial dependence on the national church, Mr. Kruger said he has all freedom to conduct his ministry he hoped he would have when he accepted the calling in 1971.

"There is no manual for mission development, and I wanted a flexible and open program."

Were there discouraging times along the way when he thought the church wouldn't get off the ground?

"Never," said Mr. Kruger. "I love the congregation. They're wonderful people, full of enthusiasm about the church."

Unlike Mr. Kruger, whose church is located and supported by a national church, the Reverend Robert Doorn is opening his independent "inter-faith Fellowship Center" and adjacent missionary headquarters in Brighton at the urging of friends and fellow missionaries in the area.

Mr. Doorn, who came to Brighton just six weeks ago from Cameron, Wisconsin where he pastored the Pleasant Plain Gospel Church, is also director of Gospel Church International, an inter-denominational missionary group whose goal is "to establish and maintain orphanages and churches in underprivileged nations."

In his 26 trips doing missionary work in Haiti, the Philippines, and Mexico, Mr. Doorn met the Kenneth Triplets and Virgil Gillettes of Brighton.

Those couples urged Mr. Doorn to establish headquarters for the ten-year-old Gospel Church International and its church in the Brighton area, because of its proximity to larger metropolitan areas and Metropolitan airport.

Although money to finance operations of Gospel Church International is donated from churches all over the country, the local Fellowship Center will operate entirely on donations of members and guests.

Asked if he went door to door talking with potential members, Mr. Doorn said he hadn't and that most people heard of the church through the Triplets or Gillettes originally, and by word of mouth from others who have attended Sunday meetings.

The first meeting of the Fellowship Center was held July 7 at Miller School. Mr. Doorn estimates attendance is now about 65 at the Sunday meetings.

Like Mr. Kruger, Mr. Doorn said his local ministry is geared for those with no active involvement in another church.

Mr. Doorn said the congregation has a seven-person Board of Directors, and that it has adopted a constitution and by-laws. The constitution, he said, is a hybrid of the constitutions of different Christian churches.

"It is," said Mr. Doorn, "what the name suggests it is—a center for fellowship of all faiths."

"The message we bring to the Fellowship Center and overseas is that Christ is the answer to all our problems."

Mr. Doorn said acreage for the church and missionary headquarters is being donated by a private contributor. After the land donation is finalized, this summer, construction of the mission headquarters and chapel will begin this fall.

Through the financial contributions of churches in the U.S. and contributions of food from Church World Service and CARE, Gospel Church International has constructed 16 churches and four orphanages on Haiti, five churches and one orphanage on Jamaica, and six churches and two orphanages in Mexico.

The Reverend and Mrs. Robert Doorn

GROTTO AT ST. PATRICK'S—Built in 1953 by the late William Fanning, this monument to Our Lady of Lourdes appoints the grounds of St. Patrick's Church in Brighton. Mr. Fanning, assisted by John Gronow, collected the stones from around the Brighton area and spent about three months building the Grotto. Orinally placed across Rickett Road from the church near St. Patrick's school, the grotto was completely dissembled and reconstructed in its present location to allow room for construction of St. Patrick's convent in 1963. A friend of Mr. Fanning's, Thomas Barch of Brighton, said Fanning was a convert to Catholicism who attended church daily and had "great faith in the Holy Mother."

Grandma Joins Crew

When the high school young people of Northville Presbyterian Church left this week on their annual summer work camp, being held in Wheeling, West Virginia, this year, the grandmother of one of the young participants went along as a member of the "crew."

Mrs. Frances Collins, 261 Hutton, also was a welcome member of last year's work camp.

"She's tremendous," declares the Reverend Lloyd Brasure church pastor, "for she's young-in-heart."

She's the mother of Mrs. Jack Fieldman of Northville and the grandmother of Dana Fieldman, who's among the church young people who were packed and ready to leave early Wednesday morning.

Students participating on the trip with Assistant Pastor Richard Henderson all sold fertilizer to earn money last spring.

Among those participating is Derek Wheaton, an active member of the young people's group before the Wheaton family moved to another part of the state.

Others on the trip are Andrea June, Steve Massel, Carolyn Davies, Janet Miller, Nancy Jerome, Laurie Day and Eric and Karen Egeland.

New Legislation Signals 'Victory for Women'

LANSING — That's how many hail Michigan's newly passed rape law reform.

The legislation, sponsored by Republican Senator Gary Byker of Hudsonville, provides four degrees for rape charges, extends coverage to men and makes rape a crime of assault, rather than a sexual crime.

A most important factor of the new measure prohibits use of evidence concerning a victim's past sexual history — unless it involves the defendant or is required to determine certain medical facts.

In addition, the legislation says a victim's testimony need not be corroborated by other witnesses, and provides that a prosecutor does not have to prove "beyond a reasonable doubt" that the rape took place by force.

WHAT ABOUT possible false claims by women against men?

"There are almost no incentives for a woman to make a false claim of rape," contends a background paper prepared by the Michigan Women's Task Force on Rape, which gave strong backing to the changes in the law.

"The reality," the paper continues, "is that the risk for the victim usually far outweighs the rewards.

"Merely by reporting the rape she often risks dangerous physical retaliation by the accused rapist or his friends, immediate public humiliation and loss of her job or of the affection of spouse and friends."

RUNS OF SALMON and steelhead will be able to gain access to the St. Joseph River soon under terms of what's being called a "historic and unprecedented agreement" between the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co. and the Michigan Natural Resources Department.

The agreement calls for the company and the department to share costs for construction of a fish ladder at I & M's Berrien Springs Hydro Dam.

The fish ladder, which will include a sea lamprey barrier to prevent upward migration of the lampreys, is expected to get underway later this summer and be completed in time for the 1975 runs.

THE LADDER, the department says, is expected to open up about 10 miles of mainstream, as well as several top quality small tributary streams to runs of chinook and coho salmon and to steelhead.

New fishing areas will develop in the Buchanan-Niles vicinity in the mainstream.

CAMPAIGN SIGNS on the highways can be confusing — maybe even dangerous for the motorist who tries to read what they say.

That's the word from Michigan highway officials, who are warning candidates that "all campaign signs placed on state highway rights-of-way will be removed immediately by maintenance forces."

The highway rights-of-way are public property and cannot be used for campaign advertising, officials explain.

RESEARCHERS ARE SIFTING through remains in trash pits at the site of Walker's Tavern in Leelanau County these days, hoping to add to knowledge of the famous stagecoach stop and hostelry of the mid-1800's.

The work, a search for artifacts at the Cambridge Junction State Park, is an effort to help with plans for restoration of the tavern, says Secretary of State Richard Austin.

AUSTIN, WHOSE OFFICE administers Michigan's official historical programs, says archaeological work also is being conducted this summer at "the mysterious Petroglyph prehistoric site" in Sanilac County.

"The research at the Sanilac Petroglyphs is expected to shed significant light on the origins of the mysterious rock carvings and on the prehistoric peoples who inhabited Michigan's Thumb during the infancy of mankind," Austin says.

Both digs are supervised by State Archaeologist James Fitting.

Babson Report

Sees Real Benefits In Pension Reform

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—In the final phases of enactment on Capitol Hill is a package aimed at making private pension plans more effective in meeting the needs of covered workers while at the same time increasing the number of employees participating.

In 1973 the Senate approved a pension reform bill and late last winter the House passed its own measure. Since the House action, a conference committee of the two Chambers has been hard at work trying to iron out the differences between the two bills.

THE HOUSE bill features attractively flexible vesting standards with three options, while many feel the Senate provisions dealing with eligibility and participation norms are preferable. One controversial item appearing in the Senate bill, but not in the House measure, is an annual audit fee of $1 for each covered employee.

Heeding management's pleas, and those of some labor groups, the House did not provide for establishment of a federal portability fund. But the Senate did include this. There are also differences of opinion as to which government officials should direct this vast new regulatory program when it becomes operative. Perhaps the biggest disagreement is over what type of plan-termination insurance to include.

CONFEREES have been tight-lipped about progress of their talks, but the compromise they have worked out will soon be ready for House and Senate debate and vote. That compromise is certain to include mandatory vesting provisions setting minimum requirements a pension plan must meet, though a reasonable period of transition will be allowed before full compliance is required.

The new pension legislation will also set up minimum funding standards to ensure that cash is available to pay promised benefits. But it seems likely that both Chambers will agree to some flexibility here too.

Probability is, however, that the particular funding methods to be adopted by a pension plan will be subject to certification by a qualified actuary as being suitable for that individual program.

THE PENSION reform bill now in the making will not automatically assure you—as a covered employee—either a better shake or improved protection. How you fare will depend mostly on the size, scope, and condition of the plan your company now has. It will also depend on how ready your employer will be to conform to the new law and whether he is able to cope with requisite increases in funding.

In short, it is pretty clear that net result of the new law will be to increase employer costs. Without doubt, some of the smaller existing funds will be forced to liquidate or to reduce benefits. Some, on the other hand, can be salvaged by revamping their provisions and redirecting their approach to funding.

HOWEVER, even though the number of dollars paid out by pension programs will be boosted and more employees will be covered, retiree protection will still be less than perfect as long as the nation's fiscal and monetary policies preclude tight control of the inflationary forces that are continually reducing the dollar's purchasing power.

But despite this drawback and the encroachments on management's freedom to work out its own problems in its own way that federal controls always bring, the Research Department of Babson's Reports looks for some real benefits to flow from pension reform.

Dollar income of the elderly will gradually expand as plans are liberalized and more workers are covered and their rights protected by vesting. This should be a boon to retailing and to service businesses. And life insurance companies, which already underwrite a large number of private pension plans, will get the greatest boost of all.

WE KNOW WHAT A PAPA GOLDFISH IS WORTH.

What happens when somebody says "We put in that little pond by the apple tree 6 years ago. And the papa goldfish is 8 inches long now. That ought to be worth something. We think it is. And so we take the pond and the afternoon sun and spring blossoms into consideration. If they're worth anything to the owners, that'll be worth something to the people we'd find to live in their home. And everyone will be pleased."

BUYING A LOT

Buying land involves risks. Contrary to popular belief, land is not a fail-safe investment. The Florida land boom of the mid-20's was not the only time people lost money speculating in land. It happens every day. Here are some guidelines which may help in reducing the risk factor. Generally speaking, the more you pay for a lot, the surer you are of getting your money's worth. If you pay $3,000 for a developed lot, with utility lines already in, you may be better off than buying the same lot for $1,000 before the roads and utilities are built out to it. Development costs vary, but almost anywhere they are rising every year. If you are not a land expert, the most preferred method of buying a lot is to have a Realtor do your negotiating. His most valuable asset is his knowledge of property values. You are far better off with him on your side.

R. William Joyner, candidate for state representative in the 35th District, has re-emphasized his platform for campaign and political reform.

In speaking to a group of Northville people, Joyner contended that the legislature to be an effective force for change and to offer the people of the state "the type of leadership they deserve it is necessary for all of us to push for campaign and political reform."

"I want to make the political system more accessible to the majority of people; to make the state legislature more responsive and accountable to the people that elected them; and to return honesty and truth to its rightful role in government," he asserted.

Joyner said if elected he will support strong lobby controls, open meeting legislation, public finance of elections, an end to indiscriminate franking privileges, and strong laws making mandatory disclosure of income and campaign contributions.

"An incumbent, such as Dr. Geake (R. Robert Geake of Northville), has a built in advantage with his franking and printing facilities," declared Joyner. "This was evidenced by the recent mailing that we all received in the district to coincide with his announcement that he would be running for re-election," he asserted.

Noting that he has revealed his income tax records for the past year, Joyner said "the lack of leadership exhibited in Lansing on this vital area of campaign reform makes it important that each of us do our part to make the electoral process work in order that Northville and Livonia will receive the leadership it deserves."

Frazer Staman was given a "well qualified" endorsement of the Civic Spotlight rating organization serving the greater metropolitan area, it was announced this week.

TOPS NATIONALLY—The Brighton Argus gained the distinction of being the best United States newspaper in its circulation category last week. Walter V. McKinney (right), outgoing president of the National Newspaper Association, presented the first place plaque in general excellence to Managing Editor Roland Peterson at the NNA convention in Toronto, Canada.

'Best in Nation'

Brighton Argus Wins Top Award

The Brighton Argus has added another award to its growing list this year.

The Sliger Publications newspaper was named the top newspaper in the nation in its circulation class. Argus Managing Editor Roland Peterson accepted the first place plaque in general excellence last Friday at the annual convention of the National Newspaper Association held in Toronto, Canada.

It was the first time that the NNA and the Canadian Community Newspapers Association have held a joint convention. It is the first time also that the NNA has held its annual convention in a foreign country.

Walter V. McKinney, outgoing president of the NNA, presented the award to The Argus, which competed in the 5,000 to 10,000 circulation category. There were 4,750 entries from newspapers throughout the United States for the various awards in the five circulation categories.

Other first place winners in the general excellence competition were the King of Prussia, Pennsylvania Today's Post, daily newspapers; the Lovell (Wyoming) Chronicle, newspapers under 2,000; the Plaquemine (Louisiana) Greater Plaquemine Post, newspapers from 2,000 to 5,000, and the Rockville (Maryland) Montgomery County Sentinel, weeklies over 10,000.

Earlier this year the Argus was named the top newspaper in its circulation category in Michigan by winning the Michigan Press Association's general excellence award. In addition, the Argus garnered first places in use of pictures and editorial page in the state competition, a second in news reporting, a third in sports coverage and an honorable mention for advertising idea of the year.

The Argus also recently won a School Bell Award for the second year in a row for its coverage of school news. That award is presented annually by the Michigan Education Association.

Highlights of the four-day Toronto convention were the appearances of Nelson Rockefeller, former governor of New York, and Father John McLaughlin, advisor to President Richard Nixon, and a tour and dinner at the Toronto Science Centre, hosted by the Government of the Province of Ontario.

Commenting on the entries in The Argus circulation class, the judges said nearly half of them came close to qualifying for the half dozen top awards.

"They had strong front pages, editorial pages, used pictorial elements well, were filled with many and interesting advertisements. Most difficult to determine was how well each publication met and promoted community interest."

Continuing, the judges said, "When it finally came to a choice of winner, we eliminated newspapers which fell down in one or more areas—though ever so slightly—to maintain general excellence throughout."

West Side Wins Tourney

HE'S SAFE—Lee Reis of Lipon Sporting Goods of Brighton slides safely under the tag being administered by the Choo Choo third baseman. The successful slide was a warning of things to come last Saturday as Lipon defeated Choo Choo 14-11 to knock the top area team from the Northville Recreation department double elimination tournament. Choo Choo managed to defeat Hart Precision of Redford 9-5 and P.J.s Lounge of Dearborn 9-4 in the tournament but also fell to City Marathon of Wayne. West Side Sporting Goods of Plymouth won the tourney.

WALTZING INTO THIRD—Jeff Moon of Choo Choo appears to be easing up as he comes safely into third before the ball reaches the Lipon player in action last weekend. In other tournament action involving an area team, Jim Storm Insurance lost its first two games to Hart Precision 11-10 and Ypsilanti Jock Shop 25-9.

41, 24 Runs

Storm Rips Opposition

You might say that Jim Storm hit its opponents with a tornado last week. At least, that's how it must have felt to Novi Heights and Portec.

Storm pulled out all the stops and humiliated Novi Heights 41-3 and Portec 24-7. In the Novi Heights match-up, Storm had consecutive innings of three, eight, thirteen, one, three, seven and six runs.

Storm slammed out 51 hits including 30 of the extra base variety. No one really paced Storm as every player had a good night at the plate. Charles Kantola hit two homers, a triple and three doubles.

Jim Franti smacked a homer, triple and two doubles while John Lassila slugged three triples and two singles. Kantola had seven RBIs while Lloyd Huotari tallied six. Dan Harsh led Novi Heights with a triple, double and single.

In the game against Portec, Storm scored five runs in the first inning and six in each of the next two to easily wrap up the victory. Kantola and John Heinonen both collected round trippers in the first inning. The best Portec could do in a single inning was two runs in the third.

Leading Storm was Heinonen with five hits, Eskola, Franti and Kantola with four and Laho, Huotari and Lassila with three.

The victories kept Storm solidly in second place in the national league while Miami Pools, 3 1/2 games ahead of Storm easily beat the Novi Police Department 15-3.

The big inning for Miami was the fifth when eight runs crossed the plate. Homers by Jon McMillan Junior and Greg Remington were the spark plug in that inning.

During the game, Dennis Diem, Joe Donner and Bob Pisha also collected round trippers.

The police scored all three runs in the fourth inning on a single by Gary Scott, a double by Bob Beurkens, a triple by Ed Butler and a single by Jake Grubb.

The Novi Police did manage to beat the Novi Jaycees 17-1 to remain in second place in the American League. The police pushed across four runs in the first and seven in the third to pace the attack.

The Jaycees scored its lone run in the sixth on a triple by John Balagna and a single by Roy Icenoghu.

Leading the police was Bob Scott with four hits, Harding with three and Herb Harbin with three.

Don W. Kelsey Co. split its two games, beating Lakewood Colony 12-8 but losing to Jamaican Pools 9-8.

Against Lakewood, DWK scored all twelve of its runs in the first four innings. Four runs crossed the plate in the fourth when Doug Thrush walked, Tom Sheppard singled, Jerry Fortenberry singled and Chuck Gromlich climaxed the inning with a homer.

Lakewood scored seven of its eight runs in the seventh and final inning. Four walks, two doubles and three singles played a part in the rally.

Curt Nicholas led Lakewood with a double and single, as did Don Kolo. Gromlich had two homers for DWK.

Against Jamaican Pools, DWK was not quite so lucky, despite the fact it pushed across seven runs in the sixth inning. The problem was that only one other run crossed the plate.

Doubles by John Elkins, Tom Sheppard and Jerry

Fortenberry were instrumental in DWK rallying in the sixth inning.

Jamaican Pools, meanwhile, settled for spreading out its runs, scoring three in the third, two in the fourth, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

John Pantalone was the spark plug for Jamaican, putting two balls over the fence. John Klein also hit a round tripper.

Jamaican Pools scored its second victory of the week with a defensively excellent 3-1 win over J.P. Realty.

J.P. Realty utilized a two base error and a double by Owen Sutherland to score its only run of the game in the first inning. The Realtors only managed seven hits during the game.

Jamaican Pools tied up the game in the fourth inning on three straight singles, then took the lead in the sixth inning on a single by Greg Frontier, a triple by Dan Jackson and a single by John Klein.

Rich Elie led the poolmen at the plate with three singles.

John Mach Ford Errors

Aid Choo Choo Cause

John Mach Ford learned a tough lesson last week. Don't make errors—at least not against front running Choo Choo Car Wash.

John Mach made six errors and all of them played a role in helping Choo Choo put across runs on way to an 11-2 triumph over the number two American league team.

Choo Choo took advantage of two doubles, two errors and two sacrifices to push in three runs in the first inning. Don Thomson and Joe Lineman collected the doubles.

Mach came back with its only two runs in the bottom of the inning. Singles by Ray Beckstein and Bob Lieber gave the car men their scoring punch.

Three singles, a walk and an error yielded four runs for Choo-Choo in the third inning and put the game out of reach as pitcher Don Phillippi pretty much stifled the John Mach bats after that. He gave up only five hits.

Bruce Mach didn't have quite so good luck, yielding 11 Choo Choo hits.

Leading the car washers were George Borth and Joe Lineman with a double and single. Albers had two singles.

John Mach had the most success for his team with two singles.

Manufacturer's Bank put itself securely in third spot by taking both ends of a doubleheader Wednesday, beating Fairway Landscaping 8-5 and Hamlet Food Mart 11-5.

Manufacturer's jumped off to an early lead by punching out three singles and taking advantage of a Fairway error to score two runs.

A Dave Coe triple was followed by a sacrifice from Stan Nirider's bat to push across one Fairway run in the first inning, but the landscapers were held scoreless during the next four innings.

Manufacturer's scored one run in the third and then smashed four back-to-back singles in the fifth inning for a 5-1 lead.

Although Fairway rallied for four more runs in the final two periods, the bankers pushed across three more to stymie Fairway.

Doug Swiss had a perfect night for Manufacturer's with four singles. Bill Hopping had three singles.

Dave Coe paced Fairway with a triple and a single.

In the second game of the doubleheader, Manufacturer's collected an easy 11-5 win over Hamlet.

The food men ignited for three runs in the second inning, but only added single runs in the fourth and fifth despite accumulating 14 hits.

Manufacturer's tallied three runs in the second, four in the fifth and two in the sixth to put the bulk of its runs on the scoreboard. Single runs came across the plate in the first and third inning for the bankers.

Singles by Devitt, Abraham, Cox, Kelly and Cole yielded Hamlet's three run second inning surge.

Manufacturer's used three singles, two errors and a Jim Newman double to score its three runs in the second. A six hit fifth inning capped with triples by Jim Belz and Bob Boshoven gave the bankers four more runs.

In Women's Action

Top Teams Keep Winning

Things stayed pretty much true to form in the Novi women's softball league as the top three teams notched victories over the last three teams during action last week.

Leader Lorraine Tool & Die knocked off last place Maxwell Insurance 13-3, Meadowbrook Realty crunched No-Nonsense 27-2 and Farmington Sports Center defeated West Oakland Bank 12-5.

Lorraine Tool & Die combined a solid offense with good defensive play to beat winless Maxwell Insurance.

Lorraine scored three runs in the first and third, one in the fifth and climaxed its victory with six runs in the sixth inning. Teri McGahey ripped a round tripper in the first inning to climax the three run surge.

Judy DePullo also slammed a homer for Lorraine in the three run third inning. Cheryl Stroud's two run homer in the sixth inning started off another Lorraine rally. Kathy Ward and Patti Ward ripped triples to help.

Two errors and two singles helped Maxwell to come back with two runs in the sixth inning although the game was already far out of reach.

Meadowbrook Realty put on a show of strength in beating No-Nonsense 27-2. Ten runners crossed the plate for Meadowbrook in the first inning.

Highlights of the first inning for Meadowbrook included triples by Joyce Ives and Virginia Gillick and doubles by Kathy Nied and Marla McKenney.

Meadowbrook scored four in the fourth, six in the fifth and five in the sixth.

Laurie Jidow also smashed a homer in the third inning to give Meadowbrook another run.

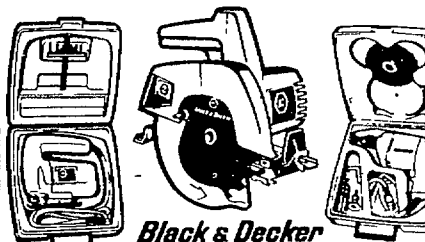

Four doubles in a row by Gayle Jensen, Gillick, Joanne Athey and Sandy Kovar highlighted the fifth inning Meadowbrook rally. Three

Bruins Use Defense, Upset Rangers, Twins

Not many people would have given the Bruins an even chance of coming out of action last week against the second place Twins and first place Rangers without another loss. The Bruin players, however, were not among the disbelievers and turned out respective 10-9 and 5-1 victories over the Twins and Rangers.

In other action, the Cardinals beat the Indians 16-10, the Twins beat the Yankees 16-3, Giants won 8-7 over the Yankees, but the Yankees did manage to come up with a 17-12 decision over the Bucks.

The third place Bruins had probably heard of the potent offense of the once-defeated Twins but turned in a good defensive performance to limit the Twins to 16 hits and 9 runs. Bruins only tallied 11 hits but bunched them into four innings to put the runs on the board.

Triples by Bill Bosanko and Bobby Thomson pushed across a Twins run in the top of the first inning. A double by Steve Pantier and an error gave the Twins a 2-0 lead going into the bottom of the third inning.

Singles by Jack Wallace, Mark Olgren and John Ludwick enabled the Bruins to jump ahead 4-2 in the bottom of the inning.

Twins bats responded in the fourth with a triple by David McElroy, a double by Bob Thomson and a single by Les Neal to regain the lead 6-4.

Three singles interspersed with a couple of walks pushed the Bruins right back into the lead with three runs in the bottom of the inning.

The Bruins salted away the game with three more runs in the bottom of the sixth inning. Although the Twins also scored three runs on five singles in the top of the seventh inning, the rally fell one run short.

For the Twins, Niel had a perfect night with three singles. McElroy and Bosanko both picked up a single and triple while teammate Bob Thomson slashed a triple and double.

The Bruins had less trouble with league leading Rangers than they did with the Twins.

The Bruins jumped off to a 2-1 lead in the first inning and added two in the fifth and one in the seventh to put the match in the win column 5-1.

Three walks and singles by Gary Kucher and Mark

Tuggle put both Bruin first inning runs on the scoreboard. The Rangers responded in the bottom of the inning with its sole run on singles by Kevin Bennett and Dave Mitchell and a double by Jeff Williams.

Two more runs crossed the plate for the Bruins in the fifth inning on doubles by Frader and John Ludwick followed by singles from the bats of James Price and Theodore Smith.

The Twins rebounded from their loss to clip the Yankees 16-3 later in the week. Most of the runs for the Twins came in the sixth inning when 10 hits, including six back-to-back pushed in 10 runs.

In that inning, Keith Foster smashed a round tripper, Bob Thomson a triple, and Jim Burrell, Jim Thomson and Jim Harding doubles.

All three Yankee runs came home in the sixth inning on singles by Kriss Van Gieson and Todd Vincent followed by a Bill Alberts triple.

The Giants continued to stay in the race with a slim 8-7 ten inning victory over the Yankees

With the score tied 7-7 going into extra innings, neither team could score until the tenth when the Bruins utilized a single, a sacrifice and an error followed by a Dave Jackson double to end the game.

The Yankees scored two runs in the first and second innings, and single tallies in the fourth, sixth and seventh. A single run was pushed across by the Giants in the first and two runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh, in addition to the winning run in the 10th.

Steve Stuart with three singles, a double and a triple paced the winner. Steve Krpan slugged a homer and a single also.

Alberts and Van Gieson both managed a single and triple for the Yankees.

In the final contest of the week, the Yankees jumped off to a 9-3 third inning lead over the Bucks and coasted to a 17-12 victory.

Seven hits, including doubles by Van Gieson, Tim Dooley and John Zimmerman yielded five first inning runs for the Yanks.

The big inning for the Bucks was the fourth. Triples by Dan Brenner and Kevin Mosher, and doubles by Bill Gould and Marc Mosher did most of the damage as the Bucks pushed across eight runs.

The Yanks retaliated with seven runs in the fifth inning to salt away the victory. Four walks and four singles gave the Bruins their scoring punch.

Scott Dayton led the winner with four singles while Zimmerman knocked two singles and a double.

Brenner smashed two triples and a single while Mike Jelso chucked out four singles for the losing bucks.

The Cardinals kept their slim title hopes alive by beating the Indians 16-10. Big innings for the winner were the first and eighth when the Cardinals scored four and six runs respectively.

The Indians scored three runs in the fifth and seventh innings to put the game into overtime before the Cardinals made the victory secure.

Wins 11-10

Keith-Rizzo Clips Tavern

Tavern, straight from a victory over Plymouth State Home two weeks ago, apparently took the Keith-Rizzo team a little too lightly and dropped an 11-10 decision last week.

In other contests, Plymouth State Home rebounded from its loss to crunch St. Paul Lutheran 15-6 while Tavern claimed a victory by way of a Con Langfield forfeit.

Keith-Rizzo, which had upset Plymouth 10-7, played even-temper ball throughout for a half innings before

Keith put across eight runs in the last three innings while Tavern could only manage seven.

Tavern struck in the first inning for three runs which came by way of two singles, a walk, an error and a fielder's choice play.

Keith-Rizzo put across single runs in the first, second and fourth innings to match Tavern's early output and tie up the game. In the bottom of the fifth inning, Keith-Rizzo scored three runs coming from three singles, a walk and a sacrifice.

Rich Pringle and Hugh Bray each slugged singles before Bill Morland connected with a triple to push in two retaliatory runs for Tavern. Morland then scored on a fielding play to tie up the game 6-6.

Keith was not through scoring, however, and grabbed three more runs in the bottom of the sixth inning by way of three singles followed by a Fred Philippeau double.

Tavern utilized three singles, an error and a sacrifice to regain the lead 10-9 in the top of the seventh inning.

Straight singles by Tony Rizzo, John Wojack, Jim LaPlant and Bob Harborne sent in two runs to put the contest in the victory column for Keith-Rizzo.

In the only other national league contest, Plymouth State Home only outdid St. Paul Lutheran 17-16 but made its hits count to win 15-6.

Plymouth opened the scoring quickly with four runs in the first inning. Plymouth only had three hits but utilized three Lutheran errors and a sacrifice to shove across the runs.

Lutheran put together its only rally of the day in the bottom of the first inning with two singles, a double and a sacrifice.

Lutheran could only add single runs in three other innings while Plymouth pushed across four more runs in the fourth inning, two runs in the second, fifth and seventh and one run in the sixth.

VIC BOUCKAERT for State Representative 24th District Republican

A FEW OF VIC'S IDEAS

GOVERNMENT

Many citizens have lost confidence in government and public officials, each legislator has an obligation to work on this problem. Government and officials must be open to the public.

EDUCATION

Youth must be prepared for the changing world of tomorrow, as well as today. Background as an educator is a valuable asset.

ENVIRONMENT

We now realize that our physical world is not ever lasting. Firm planning must be done to insure future generations an adequate place in which to work and play.

TAXATION

Those of working age, not the retired, must bear the major burden. Return for investment in taxation is more important than level. Government must only function in those areas where it is impractical for business, industry, or citizens to function individually.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

He should know his district, the people of his district and have an open ear as well as the courage to be a leader.

Belz led Manufacturer's with his two singles and a triple. Dick Norton slashed two singles and a double while Newman slammed two doubles.

Russ Kelly hit three singles for the loser.

Exotic Plastic and Rubber also did battle with Hamlet last week and eked out a 7-5 victory.

Exotic scored single runs in the first, fifth and sixth and scored two in the third and seventh inning.

Hamlet bunched its runs

Roger Schultz and Dale Divitt each had extra base hits to do the damage for Hamlet in the first inning.

Three singles and an error gave Exotic two runs in the third, but a Bill Andrews homer with Lance Hunter aboard made for more excitement, as well as two runs, for Exotic in the seventh.

Andrews led Exotic with two singles besides his homer while teammate Bob Hubbert also cashed in with a double sales on the streets and sidewalks of a three-block area. It was easily the biggest turnout in history, with shoppers coming and going from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., sales spokesmen said. The sales area was extended this year a block west on Main to take in Northville Square shopping center and merchants there reported brisk sales, too. Joining with merchants were a host of crafts, art, antique, service, and refreshment booth operators, giving the affair its carnival like atmosphere. Doughnuts, ice cream, sandwiches, pizza and even big dill pickles (above) were served up to the hungry throngs.

BIGGEST EVER—Several thousand people flocked to downtown Northville Saturday as merchants staged their annual sidewalk

It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid provision not been included.

PART XXII. The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety and welfare and are hereby ordered to take immediate effect and to be in force from and after the earliest date allowed by law.

This Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Township of Northville, Wayne County, Michigan, at its regular meeting held on the 18th day of July, A.D. 1974, and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

She Wanted County Executive Vote

Dumas Blasts County Board Action

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners "has failed its commitment to the citizenry," Commissioner Mary E. Dumas charged after failing to place a county executive proposal on the November ballot.

But the chairman of the board meeting at which she made her bid pointed out that the amendments on which the commitment was based have not been adopted by the State Legislature. He said it could cost the taxpayers $500,000 for a special election if the proposal went on the ballot without amendment.

Mrs. Dumas (R-Livonia) introduced a resolution at the July 25 board meeting, proposing to place the question, "Shall the people of Wayne County elect a chief executive?" on the Nov. 5 election ballot.

But she failed twice to get the two-thirds majority vote necessary in order to give immediate consideration to a new item of business. She needed the votes of 18 of the 27 commissioners.

Mrs. Dumas expressed extreme dismay after the meeting. She said the county executive statute requires the board to act at least 90 days prior to the election.

"Considering that on May 2nd, the commissioners could have elected to place the question on the August 6 primary ballot, I have believed since then that their November preference was a stalling technique," she stated, "and today's action bears that out.

"The board has failed its commitment, and has failed again to allow the voters of Wayne County to decide for themselves if they want a chief executive."

However, Board Vice-Chairman Roscoe L. Bobo (D-Ecorse), who had chaired the meeting, took strong exception to her remarks.

"Assuming she has no political motive, Mrs. Dumas apparently does not understand the nature of our May 2 action," Bobo said. "It was clear to everybody else. We adopted the recommendation of our General Government Committee that, because of the strong opposition expressed at a public hearing, we not place the question on the primary election ballot."

"The committee recommended instead that we plan on placing the proposal on the November 5 ballot, providing amendments passed the Legislature to eliminate some of the weaknesses that generated opposition. Amendments to accomplish that were introduced by Senator Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth), but are still in the House."

"One of these amendments would allow us to place the question on the ballot without a concurrent primary election. As the law now stands, primary candidates would run in November. Then if the proposal passed, half a million dollars would have to be spent for a special county-wide run-off election. That fact alone is enough to ensure its defeat."

"Given all the circumstances, it would be political hypocrisy to put the present plan on the ballot. It would surely be defeated and split the community in the process."

Opposition was expressed at the April 17 public hearing by representatives of the United Auto Workers Union, the Metropolitan Detroit AFL-CIO Council, the Wayne County Democratic Committee, Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young, the elected county officials other than commissioners, and Black political and community leaders.

Critics charged that, among other complaints, the legislation as it now stands is vague and contains inconsistencies and contradictions.

In the first of her two attempts to have her resolution considered, Mrs. Dumas asked that the rules be suspended so that the item could be moved forward on the agenda. The vote was 11-8 to do so, but short of the required 18.

She later moved again to suspend the rules. The vote was 13-2 in favor of doing so, with one abstention. Then her resolution was sent to the General Government Committee for consideration.

A disappointed Mrs. Dumas said:

"It appears that Wayne County's effort to reach the 20th Century by having a full-time executive to administer day to day affairs has been delayed for at least another two years."

In her resolution, Mrs. Dumas described the present county structure as "unworkable and often ineffective due to the dual necessity of the commissioners to serve both as a legislative and administrative body."

She represents District 19 on the county board. The district encompasses most of Livonia, Northville and Northville Township.

Representative Smart's Not Endorsing Successor

Denying reports that he is endorsing a candidate for filling his seat, Republican State Representative Clifford Smart wrote this newspaper that "if I had intended to endorse or support, I would have so indicated publicly through the newsmedia."

Furthermore, Smart denied that he had asked anyone to run for office.

"I have talked personally with several of the candidates and have made the same statements," said Smart, whose job is being sought by a host of Republicans.

"I have also said that I am pleased that several of the candidates, in my judgment, can give the citizens of the 24th District good representation in Lansing. I wanted to be certain of this before I made the decision to leave the legislature.

Continuing, he said:

"I know all of the candidates personally. I believe that all of them were supporters of mine in my efforts for election. I thought it only fair to maintain a neutral position in the primary race. I fully intend to support the Republican primary winner in the general election."

"I have been asked by many people who my preferred candidate was in the primary. I have not singled out one candidate over others. I have consistently said, 'there are several good candidates'. If I was asked about any particular candidate and I thought he or she was qualified, I have said no."

"I did not ask any person to run. I did ask four people, if I decided not to run, would they be interested in the office. This was an inquiry, not a request. Two of those persons are now primary candidates. Two of them decided not to run."

"I think it would be presumptuous on my part to assume that I can name the next Representative for the 24th District."

Seeks Bike Trail

A proposal for constructing a nine-mile bicycle trail between Kensington Park and the planned M-275 freeway in Oakland County has won the support of the Oakland Board of County Road Commissioners.

The road commissioners approved a resolution offered by their chairman, William M. Richards, calling on the board of county commissioners to negotiate for control of the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority land necessary for the project.

Getting and holding a job while in school is just one of the goals 15 students have this summer while participating in the Co-op Entry Program (COPE for short) at Northville High.

Funded under a State Department of Education grant of $4,000, the program is being run by Wayne Saunders, co-op coordinator at Northville High, and Mrs. Alta Olson, counselor at the high school.

The 15 students are between the ages of 15 and 18 and will all be placed in jobs by the end of the program. Some are already working in jobs as store clerks, in hospitals, offices and at the school district's data processing center.

Both Saunders and Mrs. Olson report that the "students are responding positively and the goals are being resolved."

The project will also give students the skills they need to complete job application forms and participate in an interview.

Goals include having students name five major job categories and list the skills and requirements for at least two sub-jobs under each category and having them relate more effectively to their peers and adults.

The six week program includes mini-units on job preparation, utilizing films, microfilm, community resource personnel, interest inventories, aptitude tests, one-to-one and group guidance, mock interviews and application forms.

In small groups the students took trips to daily newspapers, data processing center in Southfield, Providence Hospital, Manufacturers National Bank in Detroit and Schoolcraft College. Job representatives also came to the school for the sessions.

Saunders and Mrs. Olson add that they're measuring the success of the program by placing at least 90 percent of the students in co-op distributive programs, having them know at least two sub-jobs in two major job categories and having them successfully complete application forms and participate in interviews.

Both they and Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni say that the "positive attitudes of the students lead us to believe the goals and objectives will be met."

Miss Panattoni adds that the students "are really getting a great opportunity to learn about jobs from in-depth on-the-spot observations of people in the fields."

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

The Bible is a great book — the greatest book ever written. It's the only book that speaks directly to the heart of man. In spite of its age, it's up-to-date. Here are some interesting facts about your Bible.

The first edition of the Bible was published in 1384. The Bible in part or whole has been translated into more than 918 different languages and dialects.

The longest chapter is Psalm 119 and the shortest is Psalm 117. All the letters of alphabet except "J" are found in Ezra 7:21.

There are 23,214 verses in the Old Testament and the New Testament contains 7,959 verses. The middle verse of the Bible is Psalm 118:8 and the longest verse is Esther 9:8.

The Old Testament contains 592,439 words while the New Testament has 181,253 words. These words occur only once: "reverend," (Psalm 111:9) — that refers to God and not a man; "eternity," (Isaiah 57:15); "grandmother," (II Timothy 1:5); "gnat," (Matthew 23:24).

The longest word in the Bible is found in Isaiah 8:1 (Look that one up for yourself). The most dramatic book is Job. The word "Lord" occurs in the Bible 7,736 times.

These are interesting facts about the Bible. The Bible, however, is more than a book of facts, it's God's written, revealed word to man. It's His message to us. God speaks to us through His Word, not nature, the stars or signs in the skies. What is your Bible to you? It's God's living Word and it directs our hearts to Him. How about you?

To Whom It May Concern:

We, the N.P.O.A. normally make it a policy not to back any political candidate for any office. Once in a great while a candidate appears on the scene with superior qualifications; honesty, integrity and pride in his community. There is just such a man campaigning for District Judge in the 52nd district. That man being Mr. Gene Schnelz.

Therefore, the N.P.O.A. does wholeheartedly and openly lend it's support, (for the first time to any candidate,) to Mr. Gene Schnelz in the August 6, 1974 primary election and in the November 5, 1974 general election for the newly created District Judge seat in this area.

Jack Grubb
President, N.P.O.A.
