

Adistra Combats Car Slump, Offers Employee Bonus

Ford Valve layoff muffles plant machines here

Ouch!

Slump Forces Layoff

Seriousness of the new car sales slump hit home this week with the closing of the Ford Valve plant in Northville.

Closing Monday of the local plant for two weeks means the layoff of about 200 persons. Some employees in the forge and service areas of the historic plant are still on the job, according to the plant superintendent, McCullough.

The shutdown here is part of a series of industry-wide layoffs that have idled workers across the nation. Although the plant here closed last year because of "inventory adjustment", this year's layoff is directly attributed to the car sales slump.

Although workers here are scheduled to return to their jobs on Monday, January 27, Ford officials in Dearborn last week cautioned that "there's no telling what might happen" if the serious decline in car sales continues.

The Northville plant manufactures valves for Ford's passenger cars. It is not the company's only supplier of valves, however.

Adistra Corporation, a Plymouth based firm with a plant located in Northville Township, launched an attack on slumping car sales last week with the announcement of a $200 incentive program for its employees.

Effective today (Wednesday) any permanent Adistra employee who purchases a new Ford, General Motors, Chrysler or AMC produced automobile, will be reimbursed $200 of the purchase price by the corporation.

A copy of the employee's new registration will be accepted as proof of purchase and eligibility, entitling him or her to a $200 check.

The employee, it was explained, may use the money to apply to the purchase of the new car or for whatever other purpose he or she chooses.

Adistra was the only firm in this area to announce a bonus program, of this kind, although many other auto company suppliers in and around Detroit are joining Adistra with bonuses of their own in an attempt to stimulate car sales and therein boost a sagging economy and return laid off auto workers to their jobs.

Obviously, this stimulus has the dual role of helping the suppliers by pumping vigor into their sales programs, said William P. Scott, president of Adistra, a firm that does 95-percent of its work for the auto companies.

"By helping the auto companies sell cars we help ourselves," Scott said candidly.

Adistra is a leading marketing communications service organization with plants in Plymouth and Northville.

A resident of Novi, Scott told this newspaper:

"I'm convinced that if all the suppliers do something about the car sale slump, we can turn this thing around and give the economy a real shot in the arm."

"There are well over 200,000 suppliers," he said, "and if only five employees from each of these firms could be encouraged to buy a new car the suppliers would be helping the auto companies sell over a million cars."

Scott emphasized that "it isn't the big outfits that are going to make it happen (car sales boost). On the contrary, it's the smaller ones that make up most of the suppliers. Hopefully, what we do here (at Adistra) will influence others and trigger similar programs elsewhere."

"We can't sit back and wait for the government to do everything for us," he declared. "We have a responsibility to do something ourselves and if Adistra can help make it happen, that's great."

But Millage Amount Still Undecided

Township Votes in March

March 25 is the date Northville township will ask its voters to approve a hike in the millage rate.

But what the exact amount of millage placed on the ballot will be must still be decided.

Township trustees agreed last Thursday to obtain the March 25 date from the county for the election following a report submitted by the ad hoc committee which studied township finances.

That report said that "if nothing is done in the next fiscal year to reduce expenses or increase income, the township will face a deficit of between $60,000 and $86,000." Next year, the one mill township tax is expected to raise $85,000.

The committee, composed of Trustees Charles Rosenberg and James Nowka and residents Dr. John Swienkowski and Ronald Cousineau, said that although it was their original intention to recommend a specific millage, they felt the township board "should set the millage amount after completing the 1975-76 year budget."

Clerk Betty Lennox pointed out that she has sent a memo to all department heads and they are to have their proposed budgets prepared by today, Wednesday.

The ad hoc committee noted that fiscal year expenses for next year will "run between $430,000 and $456,000 without cutbacks or increases in service." Those figures do not include any funds for major fire, police or other equipment purchases.

According to the committee's report, the township will end this year in the black, having borrowed $39,752 from the public improvement fund and expending $81,000 in revenue sharing funds.

Although the original township budget called for expenditures of $436,100, the committee estimates $406,500 will be spent through March 31, the end of the fiscal year. However, only $365,327 will be received, leaving the township spending $88,073 more than was received.

"In prior years," the committee explained, the township saved the prior year's property tax revenue for the next year's operation. The township will end the year in the black without further cutbacks in service because:

1. All federal revenue sharing funds from prior and current years will be spent, $81,000;

2. $58,600 in the 1973-74 property taxes were brought forward and spent; and

3. $50,000 of the expected $85,000 property tax income from the 1974-75 fiscal year will be spent this year, leaving approximately $35,000 for next year's operation."

The committee attributes the confusion over the budget during the past two years to lack of financial control and reporting. They note that the township has already adopted procedures and policies which establish reasonable control over expenditures and that other actions should be taken in preparing future budgets.

The report strongly urges that "once a budget is adopted, the township department heads and commissions should be held accountable for operating within their particular budget."

Committee Chairman Rosenberg said that while the committee has been critical of procedures, it is not critical of the employees.

Trustee Richard Mitchell, in praising the committee's work, noted that the second committee "made a difference in that at one time we thought we had to lay off a whole department." That original report, which came up with a major deficit, was composed of four board members.

Rosenberg urged the board "take action to prevent next year what happened this year."

Clerk Betty Lennox suggested the township immediately contact the county to clear March 25 as the date for the millage election. The motion, made by Trustee John MacDonald and supported by Mrs. Lennox, was approved 6-0, Treasurer

Joseph Straub absent due to illness.

Board members thanked the committee for its work in examining the fiscal condition of the township.

Supervisor Lawrence Wright was also directed to contact the township attorney to determine what interest, if any, must be paid by the township general fund on monies borrowed from the capital improvement fund.

Following an inquiry from a reserve police officer on whether or not their pay would be reinstated, board members agreed to discuss the matter tonight (Wednesday) at a special meeting.

Mitchell said that "if the money is not there to pay these men who are out there putting their lives on the line, I will relinquish my board fee to go to them. The $20 means nothing to me and I urge you other board members to do the same."

NEWS BRIEFS

ROBERT KUCHER, athletic director for Northville Public Schools, has asked to resign from his post, effective June 30. After spending seven years as director, Kucher told the school board his goals, desires and lifestyle have been changed and he would like to go back to the classroom and coaching or to another administrative post.

THE SCHOOL BOARD'S seven members and four administrators enjoyed the comfort of new high-back, upholstered chairs costing $150 each Monday night. One of the agenda items the board considered was how to cut some $68,000 from its current budget.

REQUEST FROM C & O Railroad for a 180 day extension on the deadline for installation of crossing gates is being protested by Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright. The gates at Seven Mile and Northville Road tracks were to be installed in early January. Wright said he received the request last week and has sent a letter of protest to both C & O and the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Decision on budget cuts totaling $68,320 was dumped in the lap of Superintendent Raymond Spear Monday night as Northville School Board members took no action on mid-year budget revision.

And the board's inaction and refusal to name specific areas in which cuts are contemplated left a bitter taste with members of the audience.

High school teacher Stephanie Kelly told the board that "there are people here tonight who want to know what is in that $68,000."

Board Vice-President Dr. Orlo Robinson, who chaired the meeting, suggested she meet with Spear privately to discuss the cuts so the board "will not have to take the time tonight."

And the 10 secretaries attending the meeting last night told The Record they felt the suggestion they voluntarily take a week off without pay was unfair. They charged they were being asked to take time off while other groups of employees were not because they (the secretaries) are the only employees not unionized.

In seeking to answer the question raised by Mrs. Kelly, Trustee Andrew Orphan listed the areas in which cuts would be made:

— instruction, $31,460;

FREDRICK MCKERNAN

Storm Winds Claim A Life

Heavy weekend winds were blamed for the accident that claimed the life of a 17-year-old Northville motorcyclist Friday.

Killed when a gust of wind blew his motorcycle into the path of a car on Eight Mile Road near Chubb was Fredrick McKernan, 210 South Rogers.

According to the Wash-tenaw Sheriff's Department, the youth was east bound at 11:35 p.m. Friday when his cycle crossed the center line and into the path of the car driven by Kenneth Trosen, 34 of Detroit. Trosen was uninjured.

(See obituary on Page 6-C).

Gale-like winds were blamed for several downed trees and power lines in the area. Most serious of the damage reported here was the destruction of a new $45,000 barn on the property of Gerald Stone on Currie Road just north of Eight Mile.

The barn, which was constructed only about a month ago, collapsed on top of beef cattle inside. One calf was killed.

In addition to the loss of the calf and the barn itself, an estimated 50-percent of the furniture stored on the second and third floors of the 64 x 40 barn was damaged.

Stone was storing about $40,000 worth of furniture for Stone's Unfinished Furniture Store, Northville, in the barn.

Club Shares Framing Know-How

By JEANDAY

LAST VESTIGES of the holiday season—front door wreaths—have almost disappeared, but home decorating and budgets are prime concerns of local homemakers, if interest in such club programs is an indication.

Perhaps because the season was "one of the quietest" in years as far as large-scale entertaining goes, local women are ready to take on new projects. Lack of entertaining was attributed by some to tighter budgets and inflation.

WAYS TO SAVE on shopping will be discussed at the meeting of Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. this Friday at Northville First Presbyterian Church. "Save on Shopping," a guide book by a metropolitan Detroit area author-publisher, Iris Ellis, will be the basis for the information-filled program.

"I believe it's called 'underground' shopping," Mrs. George Weiss, club president, explains, pointing out that the book lists ways to buy name-brand merchandise at discount. She adds that this is the next-to-last guest day in the current club year. Mrs. Samuel McSevery will introduce the program.

PICTURE FRAMING rules were given members of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at their meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Daniel Swayne.

Mrs. Patricia Lindheim, who teaches picture framing in her Grosse Pointe home and at the Farmington Community Center, told members how to frame and hang pictures correctly.

Mrs. Lindheim, who was an art major at the University of Chicago, encouraged her listeners to use "museum-framing" as a good investment on work with inherent value.

Works are framed, she said, to protect them and to set them off better. Airtight frames, she continued, protect art work. She warned, however, that metal frames are not airtight. She also cautioned against using corrugated cardboard as a picture backing with the thought that it is airtight. Chip board, or 100 percent rag paper backing is good, she said.

One basic reason for using matting with a picture, she pointed out, is to keep it off the glass and thus prevent molding. Mats also set off an art work, she added.

The third or fourth most important color in the picture being matted should be chosen for the mat, she instructed, advising her listeners to "stay away from bright, too-spectacular colors that would detract from the picture."

Neutrals, such as gray or beige, she said, blend well with most room decorating. The speaker suggested "big expanses" of matting when the work is being used against a flowered wallpaper or brick wall.

Other suggestions:

Photographs shouldn't touch the glass; use a "spacer," a narrow mat that needn't show under the frame to keep them apart.

Crewel or needlepoint work should be put on a canvas and framed like an oil painting. "Such work needs to breathe; so don't put anything on the back."

Don't repair antique frames too much. Clean them and leave the nicks alone unless they're large ones.

A special tip on hanging: Place wire screws a third of the way down on each side and stretch the wire so that it hits the top of the wood frame, not the paper backing. This will insure, the speaker promised, that the back will not be damaged and that the picture will hang at a good angle and will not be crooked.

"It was fortunate," commented Mrs. Charles Fountain, branch publicity chairman, "that the meeting was held at Cheryl Swayne's as she had many examples to illustrate the talk."

Credit for sharing the home decorating information goes to Mary Esther Fountain who took notes for In Our Town. The Fountain family is back from a Christmas holiday with family in Montreal.

It included skiing in Vermont where the Fountains saw the Trapp family lodge at Stowe. That community, she notes, is most quaint with all store fronts renovated in old-world Bavarian design.

FROM AUSTRALIA comes news that former Northville residents Bruce and Ruth Thomas bought a home on Christmas Eve at 13 Argyll Walk, Bellevue Heights, South Australia.

Mrs. Thomas says "Northville is still very much in our thoughts" as she writes that their son, Chip, has decided to stay in Australia and has enrolled in engineering school at the South Australia Institute of Technology. Sue and Jason are in Scotch College, a private Presbyterian school, where they will be in their third year of high school and second year of primary, respectively.

NOVEMBER 7 is almost nine months away, but women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Northville have reserved the date for their holiday bazaar and have four co-chairmen for the event.

Mrs. Charles Kehrer, women's association president, will be working with Mrs. Norwood Balko, Mrs. Charles Boerger and Mrs. Kenneth Rathert. Booth chairmen are being named. It already has been decided, Mrs. Kehrer announces, that there will be no trash 'n' treasures booth this year as the church school is having such a sale in the spring.

PARTICIPATING in the Washington, D.C., March for Life next Wednesday will be two Northville women, Mrs. Joyce Stolpa and Mrs. Dene Wilkinson. They are Northville pro-life members of the Michigan Citizens for Life.

This is the second anniversary of the decision of the Supreme Court to make abortion legal, Mrs. Stolpa explains. They will fly to the capitol to deliver roses to congressmen and senators and have an appointment with Congressman Marvin Esch at which time they plan, they state, to urge him to help pass the human life amendment.

Interested representatives and senators are scheduled to speak at a pro-life program later in the day, Mrs. Stolpa continues, and then the assembled women will march around the capitol before returning home.

SABINA'S HERE—Seven-pound Sabina Hae Chung, winner of the annual first baby contest sponsored by The Northville Record-Novi News and cooperating merchants, was born January 2 at St. Mary Hospital. She is held by her mother, Hae Sook Chung, while her father, Dr. Byung Chung, brother, Duk Won, 3, and sister, Soyana, 5, pose for a family portrait with her.

Sabina Chung Captures First Baby Contest Title

Sabina Hae Chung became the winner of the 19th annual first baby contest sponsored by The Northville Record-Novi News and cooperating merchants when she arrived at 6:40 p.m. on the second day of 1975 at St. Mary Hospital.

She is the third child of Dr. and Mrs. Byung Lae Chung of 41001 Seven Mile Road in Northville, who came to this country from Korea in December, 1971. They have been Northville residents for a year and a half. Dr. Chung is on the resident staff at Northville State Hospital.

Seven-pound Sabina has an older sister, Soyana, 5, and a brother, Duk Won, 3. With their mother, Hae Sook, and father they came here from Pittsburgh where Dr. Chung served his internship.

Their former home was in Seoul, capital of South Korea, but Sabina will grow up here as Dr. Chung explains he expects to be in this country permanently.

Since the January 2 birth was not reported to this newspaper immediately, deadline to find the winner of a host of prizes was extended to last Friday.

Four other area births since the new year also were reported after the deadline was extended.

Jennifer Lynn Leech is a tiny, five-pound, ten-ounce new arrival, born at 11:31 p.m. last Monday, January 6, at Garden City Osteopathic Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Leech of 24060 Glen Ridge Court in Novi.

She is their first child. Jennifer's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter D.

Gutowski, James Leech and Mrs. Marguerite Leech, all of Grand Rapids.

Another first child is Matthew William Smith, born at 2:18 p.m. Tuesday, January 8, to Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of 629 West Main Street, Northville. He weighed seven pounds, twelve ounces when born at St. Mary Hospital.

Mrs. Smith is the former Judy Wilkiemeyer. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wilkiemeyer of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Ypsilanti.

Leanne Michaelis also was born January 7 at William Beaumont Hospital and is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Michaelis of 19809 Crystal Lake Drive in Northville. Her mother is the former Terri Biggers.

Maternal grandparents are Richard Biggers and Mrs. Doris Biggers, both of Saginaw; paternal grandparents are Herbert Michaelis of Gainesville, Florida, and Mrs. Eleanor Michaelis of Indian Rock Beach, Florida.

Another first child is James Frank Conklin, who was born January 8 at Providence Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conklin, new area residents at 21822 Connemara Drive, Northville. He weighed six pounds, twelve ounces at birth.

JoAnne Abbate Writes Vows with Bridegroom

Both JoAnne Jean Abbate and her bridegroom, James Walter Daris, participated in all phases of the mass in a unique marriage service for which they wrote their own vows at 11:30 a.m. December 28 at Our Lady of Victory Church.

The Reverend Father Kevin O'Brien officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Abbate, 42125 Scenic Lane, Northville, was given in marriage by her father. At the conclusion of the service he also read a piece of poetry on love and marriage. He previously had read the verses at the marriages of his three sons to begin a new family tradition.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daris of Roseville.

For the double ring service the church was decorated with Christmas red and white poinsettias. Marlene Biffa played the guitar and sang "The Wedding Song" and "Follow Me." Ernie Schnieder was organist.

The bride's gown of white Quiana-type jersey was styled with long sleeves. Bands of fabric outlined the neckline and Empire waist of the bodice which was accented with pearls. A matching headpiece held her illusion veil.

She carried white snow mums, white carnations and baby's breath tied with white velvet.

Cathy Neville of Clarkston, carried out the Christmas theme in a gown of dark green as maid of honor. She carried red carnations and holly tied with green velvet.

Robert Daris was his brother's best man. Another brother, Michael Daris, and the bride's brother, Joe Abbate, seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a light beige gown with gold accessories while the bridegroom's mother chose a pale peach accented with pearls for the wedding and reception following at the Drawbridge Restaurant.

Bells tolled the newlyweds' arrival at the Drawbridge luncheon reception for 80 guests, including those from Athens, Texas, Jacksonville, Florida, and Battle Creek and Flint.

The couple, whose shared interests include dancing and skiing, chose Toronto for their wedding trip destination.

The bride, who was graduated from Oakland Community College nursing school in December, has just started working at Botsford Hospital as a graduate nurse. She expects to be a registered nurse after passing her state board examination in February.

Her husband is employed as a computer programmer in the engineering department of Sevakis Industries. They will make their home in Plymouth.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Matousek of Farmington.

The Reverend Frank Cowick officiated at the 6:30 p.m. November 30 service at Franklin Community Church in Franklin. The couple participated in a symbolic candlelighting service in which two individual flames were united to light another candle.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory velvet gown. Floral lace trim edged the stand-up collar and the wide Juliet sleeves. It also was used for the headpiece holding her full, illusion veil.

She carried a bouquet of ivory rosebuds and baby's breath centered with a gardenia.

Janet Kevitch, as honor maid, and Evie Adema and Mrs. Dave Adema, bridesmaids and former Novi residents, wore cranberry jersey gowns, hooded and edged in marabou, and carried marabou muffs.

Kathleen Hansen was flower girl while the bride's brother, Jeffrey Thorpe, served as ring bearer.

Jon Matousek was his brother's best man. Michael Kowalczyk and Steve Bennett ushered.

A reception followed at Twin Beach Country Club in Bloomfield for 80 guests, including out-of-town visitors from Ohio and Lansing.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Novi High School. Her husband is a St. Regis graduate and attended Oakland Community College. They will live in Bay City SERVICE ANYONE?? Steve Poyhonen, an employee of the Marathon gas station at Ten Mile and Novi Road, gives a car the traditional service extras customers expect. Marathon Oil Company wants to tear out the gas station and put in a self-service station so that motorists can pump their own gas.

Self-Service Gas

Cheap or Expensive for Novi?

Self-service gas stations have recently been a fiery topic among Novi councilmen and the question of whether to allow them to get a foot into the door will come up Monday when a representative of Marathon Oil Company will return to try and persuade the city council to amend the Flammable Liquids Code which the city has adopted.

A previous attempt by Marathon Oil Company to get the local code changed so that it could tear out the Ten Mile-Novi Road Marathon Station and convert it to a large self-service gas station met stiff council opposition.

Main council contention in denying the change was that self-service gas stations are a way of eliminating the middle man and could ultimately lead to a community without any service stations providing mechanical care for ailing autos.

But Ray Sheldon, a representative of Marathon Oil company told the Novi News it's "not true at all. We have to have variety. We're not converting all the stations over — only one."

"For years the community had a view of us as a dirty gas station and that's true. We had junk cars all over. But now we're trying to update."

"The popular thing is self-service. This is one way the oil companies can cut prices and have direct control."

To the charge that self-service gas stations could contribute to unemployment problems by putting the middle man small owner, as well as mechanics out of work, Sheldon replied, "You can't have your eggs and eat them too. It doesn't necessarily mean you'll lose a businessman. We would still be employing someone."

"It's very hard to get a good mechanic in a service station anyway," added Sheldon. "My wife cringes everytime she goes into a service station and has to trust her car to some greasy long-haired kid who's the mechanic."

"The change is occurring. First there were garages separate from gas stations. Then they went together and now it's changing back."

Sheldon contended that if the time did come when so many gas stations were self-service that residents could not find one with repair facilities, the demand would bring in separate garages specializing in car repair.

Ironically, it was Sheldon who informed the city of a section of the Flammable Liquids Code which would keep any self-service gas stations from coming into the city. Sheldon said he told the council so it could take the proper steps to change the code.

CETA Funds Flow to Novi, Wixom

Staman Blames GOP Rift For Retirement Delay

Novi's Frazer W. Staman has finally managed to retire from his post on the Oakland County Road Commission, despite the fact he had to remain in that position seven days longer than he had expected.

Staman, whose second six-year term as road commissioner was scheduled to expire at midnight, December 31, blamed dissension in the Republican ranks of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners for leaving him in office an extra week.

The board, which appoints a new road commissioner every two years, failed to appoint a new successor to Staman during the fourth quarter of 1974. Staman pointed to Republican County Executive Daniel T. Murphy who, he said had tried to whip the majority Republicans in line and alienated them to the point where they would not go along with Murphy's choice of John Green to succeed Staman on the Road Commission.

"He (Murphy) picked out a successor, but the Republicans wouldn't go along with him," said Staman. "What he wants to do is whip them in line in the caucus. I don't think things should be run that way."

"The night came when 14 votes were necessary and they weren't there," added Staman. "Sure they can appoint someone now, but what this guy (Murphy) wants is to run the road commission."

Staman explained that during Murphy's two year term, he should have a hand in determining only one road commissioner. But by helping in the appointment of two commissioners — one shortly after his term begins and one slightly before it ends — Murphy could, in effect, help to choose a majority of the three-man road commission.

"His ambition is to run the road commission," said Staman, who added that to put the autonomous road commission under the board would require a change in Lansing.

"There are 83 counties in Michigan and 81 or 82 are satisfied with the current set-up," said Staman, explaining why Murphy could not go that route and, therefore, is attempting to hand-pick the members of the road commission.

Staman said that ultimately one day the courts will have to decide if a road commissioner can be chosen by a new board after the beginning of the new year, or only by the old board but said that he will not initiate any court actions himself.

Mary Dearborn, Republican commissioner from Birmingham, who Staman said did not appear at the December 19 board meeting because of the Republican rift, admitted that the road commission appointment was one of many factors causing some Republican board members not to appear. She said that in her case, a Florida vacation planned 2½ months ahead was the cause.

"There were seven commissioners who did not attend. Each had his own reason, only one of which was the road commission," said Mrs. Dearborn. She admitted that there "certainly was a struggle" in caucus among the Republican commissioners.

"There was a lot of pressure to bring in Mr. Gnau," said the Republican commissioner. "It took a lot of ballots in the caucus. There were a lot of people seeking office and there was a definite split among the Republicans."

While the Republican caucus had decided before the December 19 meeting that Gnau would be their choice, Mrs. Dearborn said that for one reason or another enough Republicans were willing to show up at the December 6 Board meeting to put Gnau into office.

She said that she was not certain a good term to use would be that the Republicans were "whipped into line."

"I happen to agree with Frazer Staman that this board should make the appointment. But the law reads that no single board can make two appointments to the road commission. That is the intent."

Mrs. Dearborn said that she is certain the present board wants to appoint two members of the road commission.

"They don't want to take a chance that the next board wouldn't be Republican," she explained.

On Grant Uses

Citizens Voice Opinions

Senior citizen housing and a senior citizen community center were two of the suggestions made by approximately 50 Wixom residents who showed up January 6 to express opinions on where Housings and Community Development Act funds should be used in the community.

While residents, many of them senior citizens, expressed their views on where the money should be CETA SECRETARY—Christine Long was recently hired by Wixom under CETA Title II funds. The city learned this week that under CETA Title VI, it stands to receive approximately $80,000 to be used to hire unemployed Wixom residents. The Title VI act was passed last week by Congress in an attempt to stem the rising unemployment rate.

Federal Monies Aim at Jobless

Novi and Wixom are currently in the midst of considering application for a recently passed federal grant program which would provide the cities money for emergency employment of residents.

The grants, under Title VI of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act would provide Novi up to $71,475 and Wixom up to $80,465 for employing new personnel.

Application for the new grant must be made to the county by Friday, officials of Wixom and Novi learned at a Monday meeting with administering county officials. The grant was passed into federal law last week.

"Temporary employment projects include such activities as community capital improvement projects, park and beautification projects, and other similar projects which provide high intensity, immediate job opportunities," states Title VI regulations.

However, Novi City Manager Ed Kriewall said that the act may be the answer to Novi's financial problems.

"At this point in time we can't rule out the possibility of applying it to people who were scheduled to be laid off," said the city manager this week. "It came out at the meeting that communities can do it. A number of communities indicated they had plans in the drawer to layoff some employees."

Novi council, upon the recommendation of the city manager, had planned on laying off seven employees last Friday, but rescinded the action last week when approximately 80 residents showed opposition to the move by picketing the Monday council meeting.

A city auditor also told the council that an anticipated $47,000 cash shortage at the end of the fiscal year could be dealt with either by financing the shortage or cutting expenses in the current budget. But the city manager has contended that financing the shortage is not the answer because the problem "will snowball and become more than a cash flow problem, it'll be an audit problem."

The $71,475 available to the city for employing new people could be used for bringing back and paying those persons laid off by the city. However, those persons, including two police officers and a dispatcher, a receptionist, janitor and two building inspectors, would have to be laid off for 30 days before they could be brought back to work. Non-city employees hired under the new grant would have to be unemployed only for 15 days.

Kriewall indicated to the Novi News that the city will be exploring with union officials the possibility of taking that course of action in regards to the CETA monies and the layoffs. Kriewall said that the CETA funds could take care of the wages for the seven affected employees for the next year through February of 1976 "but may not be

Novi Drops Reimbursing MESC Plan

Novi city council last week changed its MESC plan from reimbursing to contributing on recommendation of the city manager.

The city council had earlier adopted the reimbursing method so that city employees scheduled to be laid off January 10 would be covered.

However, the council decided to make the change in order to assure that any layoffs would be paid for by the state. Under the reimbursing plan, the council would have had to repay the state any unemployment monies paid out by the state to unemployed Novi city workers.

Cost of the contributing plan to the city will be approximately $6,800 per year and the figure will be reassessed by the state in future years.

City Controller Frances Loynes noted that the city could change from contributing back to reimbursing next year, but would have to give the state a two year notice if it wished to change from reimbursing to contributing. The state earlier required that all municipalities provide some form of unemployment compensation insurance.

Residents Fight Landlord Law

A group of Novi residents headed by Oakland County Road Commissioner Frazer W. Staman is challenging in court the constitutionality of Novi's landlord ordinance.

The ordinance, aimed at ridding the city of slum housing was passed in May by a 3-2 vote and excluded commercial, and industrial establishments, convalescent homes and hotels. It also excluded housing less than three years of age.

"It's a needless ordinance and it'll be a useless ordinance if I get my way because it won't be there," Staman told the Novi News. "Other communities have the same problem but they haven't done this."

Staman attacked a $20 licensing fee required each year stating, "Anything that smells of money, they're for it." He also said that the ordinance discriminates against landlords in the Walled Lake area.

Staman and a group of 20-30 persons were successful in getting a restraining order and the city is currently trying to get the restraining order taken off.

"If the city thinks a house has bad wiring, they have police power to go in. They don't need any additional law."

Staman and a group of 20-30 persons were successful in getting a restraining order and the city is currently trying to get the restraining order taken off.

City attorney David Fried told the council last week that he will file a brief soon on the matter.

"I think there will be some changes recommended by Judge O'Brien, but basically it will be upheld."

Fried said later that the serious question involved is the right to inspect property without a search warrant. He said that if Judge O'Brien should rule against the ordinance allowing the city to inspect dwellings, then the city would have to get a search warrant

Linda Ording Wed To Michael Terry

Linda Lee Ording became the bride of Michael Paul Terry in a holiday-season ceremony before members of their families at 3 p.m. December 21 in Northville United Methodist Church. The Reverend Guenther Branstner officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ording of 45041 Mayo Drive, Northville, wore a long, white Mexican wedding dress with colorful embroidery. Her headpiece was a circlet of roses and baby's breath. She carried a single, long-stemmed red rose and baby's breath.

Mrs. Thomas Tower of Brighton, the former Renee Weiser of Northville, as matron of honor wore a holly-red velvet gown and carried a single long-stem pink rose.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Paul Terry of 825 Carpenter, Northville. He asked Gordon Hilliard to be his best man.

The bride's parents hosted a champagne reception for the bridal party afterward at the Round Table in Plymouth. A reception for 50 friends was given later by the bridegroom's parents at their home.

1973 and 1969 graduates of Northville High School respectively, Linda went on to attend Ferris State College while her husband attended Kirkland College.

They left on a wedding trip to Casper, Wyoming, where they plan to make their home.

During December the bride was honoree at three showers. Mrs. Richard Hickel of Plymouth hosted the first December 6. Mrs. John Wiley of Rosedale Park and Miss Betty Jo Terry, sisters of the bridegroom, were hostesses December 12, and Miss Ann Frogner of Northville entertained December 15.

GIVE YOUR HAIR A PHYSICAL CHECK-UP

DID YOU EVER THINK YOU MIGHT HAVE — SICK HAIR? MANY PEOPLE DO, YOU KNOW.

There's a way to determine the health and condition of your hair. That's through Hair Analysis. It's like giving your hair a physical check-up.

First, samples of your hair are taken and tested on a sensitive instrument called a Micro Gram Scale. Readings from this scale evaluate your hair's tensile strength and elasticity.

A photomicrograph is taken of your hair from which you can actually see the internal structure of your hair shaft.

All this information is examined by trained hair analysts. They diagnose your hair problem and recommend a corrective program.

Our salon Hair Analysis program works in conjunction with Redken Laboratories. Our trained cosmetologists study the corrective program designed for you. They set up a treatment schedule to rebuild and maintain the health of your hair.

If you suspect you might have "sick" hair — shouldn't you make plans to give it a check-up?

Novi Troops Get Flags

American flags were presented to seven Novi Girl Scout troops in a ceremony January 8 at Orchard Hills Elementary School.

Making the presentation was the Brodhead Farmington Hills VFW Post 2269, represented by Americanism Chairman Georgia Nirkind, Commander William Tolverst, President Wilma Weatherford, and Sam Nirkind.

Color bearers were Shirley Manninen and Irene Staub.

Also present was the Novi Service Unit Director Virginia Polson.

A flag was presented to each of the seven troops, representing 140 girls. They and their troop leaders are Carole Vilardo of Troop 711, Lyn Sullivan of Troop 758, Pat Walkers of Troop 50, Phyllis Abbott of Troop 842, Marilyn Whitman of Troop 414, Phyllis Calhoun of Junior United Troop 26, and Sue McCollum of Troop 627.

Chairman Nirkind reviewed the history of the flag, noting that in 1775 it consisted of 13 red and white stripes, with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew on a blue field in the canton or union. In 1776, a number of flags with 13 stripes came into use and a need for a definite national emblem was realized, she said.

Following this review of the flag's history, Commander Tolverst showed the junior unit how to properly fold the flag, and then each girl was presented with a booklet titled, "Etiquette of the Stars and Stripes".

Local Students Step Back to One-Room Schoolhouse

By SALLY BURKE

For one day last week, fifth graders at Moraine Elementary School stepped back into the 1870's and the one-room school at Greenfield Village.

"And when the day ended, the 27 students decided they'd rather live back then," their teacher Cindy Runyan said. She and her students spent last Wednesday attending classes at Miller School, a reproduction of the school Henry Ford attended as a child.

"We're studying how people have lived from the pilgrims to the present as part of our social studies curriculum," Mrs. Runyan explained. She said she wanted to make use of resources in the area and decided to take her class to the one-room school.

It was the first trip to Miller School for both Mrs. Runyan and her students. "They found it difficult to write on the slates and found the schoolyard was small but thought it was fun bringing in wood from the wood pile and carrying in water from an old-fashioned pump outside."

Students read from the McGuffey Readers, learned about William Holmes McGuffey and used Webster spellers.

"Ringing the school bell when recitation began and the class reciting in unison were something they hadn't experienced," she added.

The original Miller School, which stood in Springwells Township on the corner of what now is Michigan and Lois avenues, was torn down after the turn of the century. The present building was constructed as an exact duplicate from photographs of the original building.

It was dedicated in 1943 and used as a classroom in the Greenfield Village School System until June, 1969. The school now appears as it did in Ford's boyhood.

Light was provided by the kerosens lamps which have been electrified. The stove in the middle of the room, once the only source of heat in winter, has been replaced with a furnace and now is only used to give students a glimpse into the past.

"When we returned to Moraine," Mrs. Runyan explained, "we compared the progress of school from the traditional one-room school to the modern building. 'Everyone agreed they would rather live back then if they could choose,' she added.

While their teacher Cindy Runyan watches, Moraine fifth graders write on slates

The class also went to the blacksmith's shop and watched a horse being shod, had a spelling bee and divided into small groups, each playing the part of one of the eight grades housed in the typical one-room school.

Mrs. Runyan added that she was "thrilled with the work the mothers went through to dress the students for our trip. Many of them made the dresses specially for the girls."

Citizens Thank City For Memorable Year

The City of Northville has received a bouquet of thanks from the Senior Citizens Club.

In a letter to City Manager Steven Walters, Club President Clarence Harsch wrote "we wish to thank you and the City of Northville for favors in the past year. 'The bus trips to Frankenthum, Jack Miner's Sanctuary, and various locations also to the ball games were all well attended and appreciated.

"The Kerr House has been used for card parties, picnics, bingo games, bunco and several other activities. Our last function was December 17, a potluck at the Presbyterian Church attended by 114 members.

"The turkeys (provided by the city) and the side dishes furnished by the members provided a delicious dinner. It was good to see the elderly persons mix together and the joy expressed by their companionship.

"With these thoughts in mind may I again thank you for your past splendid cooperation."

PTSO Picks Three New Board Members

Three new members have been named to the executive board of Northville High Schools' PTSO. Mrs. Nancy Brown will replace Ed McCloud as teacher representative with McCloud, now assistant principal of the high school, sharing the administration post with Michael Tarpinian, principal, and Mrs. Barbara Campbell, assistant principal.

Two other positions filled include Luke Murray, high school junior, who replaces Ted Slabey who graduated, and Richard Barron, who will fill a parent vacancy created by the business transfer of J. J. DeMott.

PTSO has also announced that all meetings will be held on the second Wednesday of each month through June. Meetings begin at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Board meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month and Northville residents are invited to attend the board meetings, particularly if they have items to be placed on the general meeting agenda. Agendas are finalized at the board meetings, PTSO spokesmen said.

At last week's meeting, speakers included Raymond Spear, superintendent; Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent, and Tarpinian.

The three answered questions from PTSO members on the position of Northville's teachers in relation to the Crestwood teacher problems, curriculum planning, feasibility of a school hockey team and attendance areas for the new middle school.

Coming up at the February 12 meeting of PTSO is a program featuring Major John Owens of Fort Knox, Kentucky, who will explain the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps. The program is being arranged by the PTSO curriculum committee.

Special guests at the meeting will be middle school students and their parents, along with seventh and eighth graders from St. Paul's Lutheran and Our Lady of Victory schools.

KIWANIANS SIGN IN—Sure sign that the Northville Jaycees, a new local service organization, is here to stay was the erection this past week of the club's sign on the welcome-to-Northville billboard at the entrance to the city on South Main Street. It was important enough, the Kiwanis Club agreed, to warrant healthy representation for the event. In the foreground, with the sign, is Club First Vice President Vince Kohlbecker and President Charles DeLand. In the background (l to r) are Stuart Campbell, Ronald Demeter, Robert Schron, Hugh Lockhart, Thomas Goulding, Raymond Rogers, Thomas Sechler, and John Donkers. Martha Gazlay of 221 South Rogers Street, Northville, is spending the winter quarter of her senior year of college at San Diego State University in California.

The College of Wooster in Ohio from which she will graduate in June has sent her there on the off-campus program to do her student teaching at a South San Diego junior high school.

The college also announces that she has been named to the dean's list for the fall quarter at Wooster. According to Dean F. W. Cropp, students must have a 3.3 to 4.0 average to be placed on the honor list.

torpedo?" asked Hans Lahr of 15875 Maxwell.

The Northville Township resident said winds lifted a 10 x 12 foot utility shed from the rear of his property and cart-wheeled it south some 300 yards. It smashed through a neighbor's fence and landed on top of an apple tree about 2:10 a.m. Saturday.

Damage to the shed and the tools and lawnmower stored inside was estimated at $500.

In Northville township, high winds also downed several trees and a power line.

At 2 a.m. Saturday, winds blew a dead tree onto a mobile home on Gerald Avenue but no injuries were reported. Shortly after 7 a.m., township police found a tree blocking Beck Road north of Six Mile and about 8:45 a.m., a utility line was reported down in front of 45861 Seven Mile Road

Laid Off

Approximately 4300 Wixom Ford Assembly plant employees are scheduled to be laid off for a one week period beginning January 20.

The layoffs will idle 90-95 per cent of the employees at the plant and come in the wake of layoffs throughout the auto industry.

While the Wixom plant has been hit softer than many other plants, because it makes full-size luxury cars, Ford representatives earlier said that the plant would be idled one week in both January and February.

near Clement Road. And heavy rains caused damage to roads in the township, including washing away pavement in the 41000 block of Sutters Lane.

City police received dozens of calls on live wires and trees blown down by winds.

Between 2:45 and 3:45 a.m., officers discovered five live wires down in the southwest end of the city and trees down throughout the area.

Arching wires were reported down on Rogers, Wing and First streets between 7 and 8:30 a.m. with Edison crews reporting they were backed up on calls for hours.

And winds were strong enough to carry away a stop sign that stood at Base Line and Grace streets.

CALF KILLED—A calf was killed when this new barn of Gerald Stone collapsed in the teeth of heavy winds last weekend. Built less than a month ago, the barn contained some $40,000 worth of furniture for his Northville store.

WHERE DID IT GO? Hans Lahr, standing on the base of his utility shed in Northville township, seems to be asking what happened to the shed. Actually, he knows. Heavy winds blew it some 300 yards onto a neighbor's apple tree early Saturday morning.

FIRST DAY ON THE NEW JOB — The first day on a new job is usually hectic — and Wednesday (Jan. 8) — the first official session of the State Legislature — was no exception for newly-elected State Representative Richard Fessler (R-Union Lake). Representative Fessler, who took the seat of Clifford Smart, received the official oath of office and immediately began work. Following the day's activities he conferred with House Republican Leader Dennis O. Cawthorne, right, about the issues facing the legislature.

Movie Party's Friday

By NANCY DINGELDEY 624-3950

Wixom's School's PTA is sponsoring a movie party this Friday night (January 17) at the school. Beginning at 7 p.m., the full-length Disney feature, "A Tiger Walks", will be shown. Admission is 35 cents and the film is expected to last an hour and a half.

Definitely a family film, parents are cordially invited to attend although it is not mandatory.

Although popcorn and candy bars are synonymous with a movie, it is asked that no refreshments of any kind be packed off with the kiddies on Friday night. To put it quite bluntly, it's a real mess to clean up.

MILT LAWSON

Speaking for Myself

Expand Community College Districts?

EDWARD JANICKI

YES . . .

NO . . .

Expansion of community college boundary lines is another move towards increased educational opportunities in the school districts of our state.

Contrary to recent newspaper articles dealing with community college expansion, the State Board of Education has indicated that the taxation issue is not clear. Admittedly, there are other issues that must be resolved, e.g., would the Brighton district with its smaller population base have a realistic chance of getting representation on the seven-man board of Washtenaw Community College? Perhaps an advisory board would be appointed to represent the Brighton interest.

But let's not go backwards. It has taken the State Board of Education more than four years to get where we are now on community college expansion. Let's continue the effort to give our residents more opportunity to choose their future. A marketable skill — and providing marketable skills is not the primary function of a public school — permits us to become the kind of person we want to be.

Choosing and preparing for a career is one of the overriding problems facing youth and adults today. The ambitious and deserving people of all ages in our district deserve the community college opportunity. Let's make this opportunity available to them without having to pay a premium as they now are doing.

Milt Lawson,
Brighton High School Counselor

To begin with, I do favor community colleges. I firmly believe that they fill a vital need for the person who does not desire a four-year college background.

What I do not favor is the method being employed to expand the present community college districts. Somewhere along the line, the State legislature and the State Board of Education have reinstated the policy of "taxation without representation." As I understand it, the bill before the legislature would annex portions of counties not presently in community college districts without a vote of the people. If this bill is made into law, three-fourths of Livingston County would become part of the Washtenaw Community College district which has 2.55 mills presently being levied. We would have our millage rate increased — again, without a vote of the people.

One of the biggest complaints about most public school districts is that they can and will place millage increase proposals on the ballot as often as it is necessary to get it approved, regardless of the number of times it may have been defeated previously. And this procedure is being condoned, if not encouraged by the State Board of Education.

It would seem that the State Board of Education could do much to instill confidence and support of the taxpaying public if it would encourage the legislature to pass laws that strengthen the power of the electorate rather than weaken it.

Edward Janicki,
Green Oak Township Supervisor

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Last week a panel of three Wayne County Circuit Judges (Bowles, Rashid and Roumell) ruled, 2-1, that the Crestwood school district should take back the striking teachers it had fired. That opinion is now being appealed to the State Supreme Court.

encourage a favorable result one way or another before this Honorable Court. Such conduct manifests a cynical lack of knowledge of how courts function and judges decide cases.

A ceremonial groundbreaking for the $2 million Michigan State Police complex in Northville township took place last October.

Construction bids for the facility to accommodate headquarters for the Detroit area's second district, a crime laboratory and a post for a contingent of troopers were to have been opened in December.

But like numerous other state projects, the state police complex in Northville township became a temporary victim of recession cuts.

Fortunately, enough money remains in the project account after the Governor's recent executive order slicing expenditures to merely delay, rather than kill, construction.

The latest timetable issued by the Department of Management and Budget and forwarded by Senator Carl Pursell calls for bids to be received about April 1 and the awarding of building contracts May 1.

Construction of the 40,000-square-foot complex on a 10-acre site adjacent to Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile Road should be well underway this summer. Completion by the fall of 1976 is anticipated.

Delays of various forms have marked the long history of the Michigan State Police complex in Northville township. But the project is a badly needed one which has been well planned and will be located in an area where it can provide maximum service for many years to come.

Its realization at a time when the economy requires signs of progress and activity should make the delays and anticipation worthwhile.

Legend has it that the building of a bridge requires the casting of human beings into the water to appease the gods. And out of this ancient legend has come the grim superstition that persists even today, "A bridge demands a life".

We are reminded of this superstition with the annual report put out last week by the Mackinac Bridge Authority. The customary unusual events occurred on the bridge in 1974 just as they have occurred on the bridge annually during the 16 years since the Mighty Mac was opened to traffic. But, added the report, one event looms as the most unusual in the history of the giant structure:

"On the night of April 20, 1974 a vehicle was reported abandoned near the center of the bridge with the motor still running and no sign of the driver or any other occupants. Disturbance of dust on the bridge railing indicated that someone may have climbed over the railing.

"While state police have been able to identify the owner and apparent driver of the vehicle, to date no body has been discovered, and while circumstances would lead one to conclude that the first and only suicide from the Mackinac Bridge took place, the investigation remains open."

According to the authority report, if indeed it was a suicide it is the second time a death has taken place in connection with the bridge, the first being caused by an apparent heart attack to a driver on July 22, 1966.

Obviously, the report referred to deaths occurring since the bridge was opened to traffic since three fatalities occurred, one from a heart failure, during the building of the bridge. Two lives were lost in a single unusual accident during the construction of the catwalks. Nevertheless, despite these latter two accidental deaths, bridge construction was remarkably safe in comparison with other bridges.

Twenty lives were lost in building the Brooklyn Bridge (1869-1883), 75 died during construction of the Quebec Bridge in 1907 and 13 more when a span of the bridge was dropped during erection nine years later, and 11 persons were killed during construction of the Golden Gate Bridge (1933-1937).

Reputed to be the longest, costliest, most impressive suspension bridge in the world, the "Big Mac" is significantly the world's safest bridge — ancient superstitions notwithstanding. It is not surprising, therefore, that the bridge was the stage last year for a lot of less morbid happenings than the possible suicide. Here's what the report showed:

Patrolmen assisted motorists with flat tires in 88 instances during 1974, which is average, though less than the 101 such assists during 1973.

There were also 57 instances of motorists running out of gas on the Bridge, against an annual average of 72 and 100 of such assists in 1973.

It appears that drivers are experiencing more mechanical troubles in recent years than in the past,

Need for New Legislation

But, there are vastly larger issues here, community issues, and more especially, the welfare of the students of this school district and the welfare of the school system. Indeed, we would hope that the Governor and the Legislature in considering new legislation which is so desperately needed would state as pre-eminent the best interests of the students and the educational systems of the state. The analogy to custody disputes is not inapt where we now recognize the best interests of the children despite the desires or demands of the parents. We are reaping the wild whirlwind of a bad labor law.

Censure of Parties Not Involved in this Case

The majority concurs in Judge Rashid's holding that both parties are in open and flagrant defiance and violation of his Honor's orders. The majority deprecates such defiance. It also deprecates resort to any unlawful strikes termed "sympathy strikes" that are in clear violation of collective bargaining contracts between parties not involved in this case. We find most regrettable the so-called pressure tactics calculated to induce or

Novi Mayor Refutes Police Officer's Charge

To the Editor:
The January 8, 1975 issue of the Novi News carried a letter from the president of the Novi Police Officers Association, wherein he made a number of personal attacks against the City Manager and myself questioning our motives in the handling of the financial problems of the City of Novi.

My purpose in writing this letter is not to respond to his personal attacks, but there is one matter that should not remain unchallenged. The basis of his letter was his bold assertion as a positive fact that I personally directed the City Manager to lay off seven employees and to quote his words "... this was done without consulting any of the six Councilmen".

If he had made even a cursory investigation of the facts, he would have known that this statement is totally and unconditionally false. The only direction that the City Manager received with respect to the laying off of employees was that given by the City Council at a public meeting on November 20, 1974. Such Council direction is clearly set forth in the recorded minutes of the City Council meeting.

I would have assumed that any responsible union representative would have kept himself aware of the Council's action on this matter, before imposing the character of others. Unfortunately, in this case, the old adage "to assume is to err" is tragically

Very truly yours,

Police Thank Novi Citizens

To the Editor:

We the members of the Novi Police Officer's Association would like to express our sincere thanks for your (citizenry) continued support and concern.

Because you were willing to "get involved" and support us when we needed you, we still have our entire police department to serve you. It is reassuring to know the citizens of Novi stand solidly behind their police department in realizing its importance to the community.

'Teachers Should Not Strike'

Northville Residents Applaud 'No Strike' Decision

Split decision by Northville teachers not to join others in staging a sympathy strike in behalf of fired Crestwood teachers appears to have substantial backing of local citizens.

In a random telephone poll last week, every one of the 15 persons contacted applauded the decision of Northville teachers' 96-63 decision.

And if this sampling has any validity, it means striking teachers in the Crestwood district have little or no support here. What's more, citizen comments seem to indicate that the Crestwood strike has produced some negative observations about teachers in general.

"I'm from the old school that believes if teachers want to be considered professional they ought to act like professionals," declared William E. Cornell of 991 Allen Drive. "If they are going out on strike like ordinary laborers they ought to be paid like ordinary laborers. For me, the whole bunch of them are overpaid for the work they do. To hear them talk they are the hardest working people around. They don't know what work means."

But Beatrice Carlson of 201 Fairbrook was complimentary, pointing out the local decision against the strike was welcomed.

"I'm glad to see that some of our teachers are beginning to realize they have a responsibility to the children," she said. "When I look back over the many excellent teachers we have had in Northville I am proud of them, and now it appears our teachers are giving us reason to continue our pride in them."

Mrs. Andrew Briggs of 40724 Seven Mile Road said she has switched positions. Applauding the local teacher decision, she said, "My sympathies are no longer with the Crestwood teachers. They have gone beyond their legal rights. As a matter of fact, I do not agree with the (circuit) court's decision. Teachers by striking disobeyed the law and because they refused to work I believe the board had a lawful right to fire them."

Although he, too, applauded local teachers, George Cooper of 23911 Novi Road added, "I don't think they (local teachers) should go out on strike. They've got a contract, don't they?"

Mrs. Jesse Boyd of 406 Dubuar echoed the sentiments of others when she suggested children have become the pawns in teacher strikes. "I think our children are being misused in teacher strikes."

Said Mrs. James Armstrong of 44477 Thornapple Lane: "I think it was the right thing to do (not to go out on sympathy strike). We (Northville) had a lot of trouble with teacher negotiations last year and I'm convinced strikes of this kind are bad for the children and for the teachers as well. The Crestwood teachers should be in school in my opinion. I congratulate teachers in Northville for their decision."

"I'm with our teachers on this issue," said Mrs. William Baker of 19536 Fry Road. "They did the right thing to oppose a strike. Our kids don't need it."

The Reverend Charles Boerger of 220 Elm said, "I don't have any strong personal opinion, but I tend to go along with the decision of the teachers. I think they were wise (not to strike) at the present time until some decision is made (at Crestwood)."

Commented Harry Crofts of 46825 South Chigwidden: "As far as I'm concerned our teachers were right not to go out on strike. Look, our teachers have a contract, and they were being asked to go out on strike for Crestwood teachers who are asking for bigger salaries than our own people are getting."

"I'm retired," he continued, "and my children are grown so it doesn't make that much difference to me personally. But I feel strongly about this that some kind of panel must decide that Crestwood matter, and meanwhile the teachers should be forced to return to the classroom. Something has to be done. No, I can't be on the labor side in this matter."

"Oh, I was very definitely in favor of them not going out on strike," said Mrs. J. Letcher Dunn of 500 Griswold. "I don't think teachers should strike. The children suffer whenever it happens."

Mrs. David Eschbach of 18787 Jamestown Circle said, "I agreed with them (Northville teachers) because I think teachers should be in the classroom while they arbitrate."

"We were pleased" Northville teachers didn't strike, said Mrs. Mark Bell, Jr. of 573 Grace Street.

Elde Biery of 18363 Jamestown Circle commented, "I very definitely think they did the right thing in voting against the strike here."

Said Jean Earehart of 131 North Rogers: "I was glad they didn't (strike). It's a personal feeling of mine that teachers shouldn't strike."

Finally, Mrs. Charles DeLand of 41832 Rayburn Drive said, "I'm glad they didn't go out on strike. I don't think any teacher should strike. Personally, I believe some of the striking teachers are overpaid as it is."

Novi Chamber Sets Officer Election

Election of new officers and committee appointments will headline a meeting of the Novi Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, January 21.

The noon dinner meeting will be held at the Saratoga Trunk Restaurant. All area members, including those persons who may wish to join the chamber or learn more about its activities, are urged to attend.

A slate of proposed officers will be introduced for consideration but nominations will be accepted from the floor.

The slate includes: James Johnson, for president; James Evans, for vice-president; James Vick for treasurer; James Erwin for secretary; and Harold Tuck, for board of directors Outgoing president Warren Coville automatically becomes a member of the board of directors by virtue of becoming the immediate past president.

Plans are also planned to formulate an advisory committee, to be made up of present and former chamber officials, who will be invited to sit in on board meetings and offer advice.

Those considered for this committee are Maylon Harwell, James Dinsler, Peter Romanow, Bernard Sullivan, Robert Best, Harold Tuck, and Edgar Smith.

Besides Coville, other outgoing officers, include Bernie Sullivan, vice-president; and James Dinsler, treasurer.

-News from Lansing-

By R. ROBERT GEAKE, State Representative

Application forms for the Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus should be distributed throughout the state by the end of January. The State Department of Military Affairs says that distribution points will be heavily publicized. Also, I will be happy to send forms directly to anyone who requests them either by mail or simply by calling me at home or in Lansing.

To be eligible, a veteran must have been a resident of Michigan for at least six months before entering military service and must have been on active duty 190 days or more during the period from January 1, 1961, to September 1, 1973. Combat veterans are entitled to receive a $600 cash bonus, and are defined as a serviceman or woman eligible to wear the Vietnam Service Medal or the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal. Those whose active duty service did not entitle them to wear these medals are entitled to draw a bonus of $15 for each month of service, up to a maximum of 450 dollars. Beneficiaries of veterans who died of service-connected causes are eligible for the same cash payments.

If you have a relative who is eligible but who either moved from Michigan or is still in the service outside of Michigan, you should have that person send directly to the Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus Section, P.O. Box 1500, Lansing, Mich. 48904.

Veterans may apply as soon as the forms are available. Current projections are that the first checks will be sent out by the middle of March. so it seems like it will take four to six weeks from time of application to receipt of check.

Beneficiaries of deceased veterans will not be able to apply until early spring since the application forms are still being prepared in Lansing.

Bonus payments are not subject to Federal, State, or City income taxes.

since 296 needed assistance last year, 304 in 1973, but the average number of mechanical breakdowns on the Bridge during the 16 years of operation has been 131.

Collisions on the Bridge, usually due to drivers looking at the scenery rather than where they are going were nearly double the average at 11 last year. Collisions on the fare plaza totaled eight, which is about average and usually caused by poor brakes or by fishing for the fare rather than having it ready.

During 1974 there were no housetrailer overturned or campers blown off pickups. There were, however, eight boats blown off car tops compared with 10 in 1973. These incidents generally are the result of insecure tiedowns.

The number of motorists warned for speeding was 48, which was about average. On the other hand, 39 motorists had to be warned for parking on the Bridge, against an average of 25 over the years. In the same manner, 46 motorists failed to pay the fare and were intercepted by patrolmen. The average number of these occurrences over the years is 29.

Drivers were furnished for 89 motorists who professed to have agoraphobia (morbid dread of crossing, or being in the midst of, open spaces). Escorts were furnished for 42 loads of dangerous cargo (explosives), down from an average of 91 since the Bridge opening.

There were 1557 overweight and overwidth vehicles requiring an escort. This is 50 per cent above the average during the past 16 years and 1123 of these escorts were mobile homes or sections of new modular homes. There was a 2.5 per cent increase in truck traffic due largely to increased hauling of pulp and petroleum products.

During 1974 the Authority retired bonds in the par value amount of $4,894,000. These bonds were purchased in the open market at a cost of $4,347,128.75. Of the original $99,800,000 bond issue, $36,240,000 have been redeemed, leaving $63,560,000 outstanding. The bonds retired were all purchased in the open market at a cost of $31,875,014.15. Had they been called their cost plus premium required to be paid when bonds are called, would have been $37,700,530. The savings effected by retiring bonds by purchases on the open market is $5,825,515.85.

Planners OK

Stairway

Plans for an outside stairway to the second floor of the Long's Plumbing & Bou-ique building were approved by an 8-1 vote of the Northville Planning Commission last week Tuesday.

Earlier the proposed stairway, which is to be located on the west side of the building near Alexander Court, was recommended for approval by a 4-1 vote of the historical district commission.

When the proposal was first presented to the historical district commission it called for the stairway to be on the south side of the building, which commissioners contended would spoil the appearance of the building and adversely affect adjacent businesses. Subsequently, plans were changed to place the stairway on the west side of the building.

Architectural drawings for the proposed building of the Friendly Ice Cream Company, to be located on the west side of North Center Street north of Randolph on the former site of the Ritchie laundry were referred to committee for study.

YOUTH RESCUED—Cold and exhausted, eight-year-old Gary Simrak of 18560 Jamestown Circle is transferred to a stretcher after police worked more than 30 minutes to free him from waist-deep mud and clay. The youth was playing on dirt piles in Hines Park, north of the athletic field, Saturday afternoon when he sunk in the mud and was unable to free himself. Township Patrolman Philip Presnell, extreme right, Reserve D. J. Lanning, the boy's father, city police Corporal Allen Cox and Patrolman Howard Reeves dug the youth out, saving his life. Gary was taken to St. Mary hospital for x-rays but was not injured. After officers spent several hours cleaning off mud and warming up from their freezing cold rescue operation, it was discovered Lanning had lost his watch during their ordeal.

From School Budget

- administration, $11,500;
- transportation, $4,360;
- operation, $12,000; and
- maintenance, $4,000.

"We do not want to identify any one area," Orphan said, "If you want us to adopt the cuts, we will do so and this will be it. We will pinpoint the areas to be cut if the need arises."

Orphan added that some of the cuts may not have to be made if unexpected funds come into the school district.

Spear told The Record that areas being considered for cuts are the same suggestions placed before the board financial subcommittee last week. They include:

- voluntary time off for employees;
- cancellation of orders for materials placed last summer;
- reduction of teaching personnel by two employees;
- slicing capital outlay (new equipment) category;

— reduction in travel expenses for board members; and — reduction in transportation budget.

Spear told the audience Monday that the budget now stands at $5.254 million, down from its original figure of $5.460 million.

In addition to the $68,320 cuts proposed, an additional $33,900 has been cut by adjusting budget accounts up or down at mid-year, according to past and anticipated expenses.

Need for trimming the budget was brought about by a drop in anticipated enrollment and the accompanying loss in state aid, repeal of the sales tax with $35,000 cut by the governor in school aid and over-estimation of special education millage with $60,000 less than expected being received.

In speaking for the board subcommittee, Trustee P. Roger Nieuwkoop said the subcommittee was "recommending support of the administration's recommendations with the superintendent making adjustments as circumstances permit."

For New Schools

Board OKs Names

It's now official. Northville's three new schools have been named following school board action Monday night. Silver Springs Elementary has been selected for the school located in Highland Lakes. The school was named for Silver Springs Lake, the only natural lake in Wayne County.

Meads Mill Middle School will be the name of the school on Waterford Road. The name was selected because a community of Meads Mill and a grist mill once stood on the site of the school.

Winchester Elementary was picked for the school in Northville Commons, following the name of the road which runs past the school, joining Northville Commons and Northville Colony together.

Board members added that help in selecting the names came from the Northville Historical Society which provided the background information on the school sites.

MACLD Hosts

Speaker Tonight

Dr. Edwin Page, director of pupil personnel for the Plymouth schools, will be the featured speaker at the January meeting of the Plymouth-Northville chapter of the Michigan Association of Children with Learning Disabilities (MACLD) at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, January 15, at Pioneer Middle School cafeteria, 46081 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth.

His topic will be "IBI Fustis: Where We've Been and Where We're Going." Interested parents and educators as well as chapter members are invited. Mrs. Marilyn Donovan, 349-8858, may be contacted for additional information about the chapter.

and the temporary closing of the Ford plant in Wixom came as no surprise to John Mach, the Northville Ford dealership owner.

"Sales are down a good 50-percent," said Mach. "We've been fighting both the elements (weather) and the general slump felt everywhere."

Mach said his dealership normally carries 200 to 275 new cars in stock, but this figure has been cut down now to 161 and the dealer expects it to level off at 125.

"Some cars sell surprisingly well," he said. "The bigger car sales are good and the '74's went well. It's the new 1975 small cars that are toughest to sell. It's essentially the same car as last year but costs several hundred dollars more."

Despite public's reluctance to purchase new cars, the Automobile Club of Michigan contends the '75 models are good buys.

"Persons attending the 1975 Detroit Auto Show at Cobo Hall January 11-19... will not only find a 1975-model car a bargain but buyers of those new models will help give a badly sagging economy a much needed shot in the arm," an Auto Club spokesman said.

The '75 models are not only a good buy from the standpoint of price, but lower operating and maintenance costs, improved gasoline mileage and lowered pollution also add to their attractiveness, he said.

"Fuel consumption should be a compelling factor in the purchase of a 1975 model. The introduction of the catalytic converter, while it has added to the total cost of the car by perhaps $150, will more than make up for that expense through better mileage."

Reach Agreement On Ambulance

Basic but informal agreement has been reached between the city and a new ambulance service for Northville.

The proposed contract with the Novi Ambulance Service still awaits review and concurrence of the township board.

Township board members will be considering approval of the contract with Novi Ambulance at a special meeting tonight, Wednesday. The contract was presented to trustees last Thursday for study.

Meanwhile, the General Ambulance Company, whose service here was found "unsatisfactory", has pulled out and Novi Ambulance is filling the vacancy pending approval of the contract.

Owner of Novi Ambulance Service is John Thomas Early, a former employee of General who worked out of Northville prior to starting his own firm.

Although city and township officials had fielded a host of citizen complaints about General, the basic ones involved poor response time and unsafe vehicles and at times no available ambulances.

General, on the other hand, contended that providing ambulance service here had proven to be an unprofitable business and it sought greater municipal benefits. City and township were subsidizing the firm by providing rent free quarters on Seven Mile Road near Rogers.

These same quarters are to be provided Novi Ambulance Service, but in addition the proposed contract also would provide utilities.

Under the proposed contract, Novi Ambulance agrees to provide 24-hour, seven-day a week service in the city and township of Northville. At least one ambulance is to be stationed at the municipal ambulance

Township Trustee Levels Charges

Charging that actions of other board members are "really getting presumptuous," Northville township Trustee Richard Mitchell said he would refuse to vote on any of the five appointments made by the board last week.

He said it was "useless" for him to vote because of the "would-be political buddies" on the board. Mitchell said he had "received information last night (Wednesday) on who they'd (the persons appointed) be. You're really getting presumptuous."

A motion made by Mitchell to appoint R. Mark Lysinger to the planning commission was called out of order by Supervisor Lawrence Wright who said it was his place to make the appointments with the board confirming them.

When Wright announced he was asking to appoint William J. Bohan of 45900 Northview to the planning commission, Mitchell launched into his charges.

Bohan's appointment was confirmed by the other five board members present, Treasurer Joseph Straub absent because of illness.

Other persons appointed to board and commissions included:

Dr. David LaRou, 42318 Chatterton Court, library board; James Sugrue Jr., 830

West Main Street, water and sewer commission; Trustee John MacDonald, interim appointment to the appeal board to fill in for Treasurer Straub as board member representative; and Clerk Betty Lennox as board representative to the library board.

MacDonald and Mrs. Lennox abstained on appointments concerning them with Mitchell abstaining on all five appointments.

In other action, the appointment by Mrs. Lennox of Mrs. Margaret Tegge as deputy clerk was confirmed unanimously by the board members present.

Rotted bridge timbers were replaced

Winter or summer, walking or riding across the covered bridge in Greenfield Village accentuates the trip into the past

Local Firm Assists Greenfield Village

New Life Pumped into Covered Bridge

By JEAN DAY

Almost a century-and-a-half old, the Ackley covered bridge in Greenfield Village today is as solid as when it was built — thanks to painstaking repair work by the firm of Northville resident Blake Couse.

Preservation of the bridge is one of many projects under way at the village where buildings are being moved and new ones acquired as the staff, with some excitement, looks ahead to the bicentennial celebration.

Few, if any, of the hundreds of pedestrians crossing the picturesque bridge that was reassembled at the village in 1938 after being brought from Pennsylvania will notice that all four end trusses have been replaced.

To do so, Couse, who is president of the Walter L. Couse Company, recalls that it was necessary to drain the lake under the bridge.

When the 80-foot span was brought to the village, Henry

Ford didn't have a river for it to cross and arranged to have the artificial river dug.

When the bridge was jacked up on timbers last winter as repairs began, workmen found severe water damage.

Even now George Johnson, director of building and grounds, and Ernest Allen, assistant director and building construction coordinator, recall the seriousness of the situation with concern.

"What we found was actually worse than what we expected," Johnson says, "and it still amazes me that less than a year before, cars, horse loads of visitors and Greyhound buses were crossing the bridge — it's hard to figure out what held it up."

Originally built of white oak supporting beams with yellow poplar siding and oak shingles, the oak beams had been placed in copper boxes when moved to the village. Those boxes, Couse explains, did just the opposite of what they were supposed to — they held water which rotted the timbers.

Both at the road entrances and underneath, the 12 by 18-inch timbers were sawed out and replaced with red oak ones.

"We found that we couldn't use white oak as a replacement," Johnson explains, "as the grain wouldn't take the Womanized treatment, a high pressure treatment impregnating wood with a preservative salt solution."

Red oak was used instead. Then the replacement timbers at the road level and beneath the bridge so closely match the aged originals in color is a tribute to the contractor's efforts.

"We rubbed dry cement into the wood to produce the aged look," Couse explained last week as he inspected the bridge again.

Originally, the framed timber bridge was built on the property of Joshua Ackley in 1832 by Daniel Clouse. It spanned a branch of Wheeling Creek in southwestern Pennsylvania and was located just seven miles south of the tiny log cabin birthplace of William Holmes McGuffey, early educator and editor of the famed "Eclectic Readers".

Henry Ford had brought McGuffey's homestead to the village in 1934.

In 1937, when the bridge was to be superseded by a modern steel structure as the state straightened the road, Joshua Ackley's granddaughter purchased the bridge for the value of the materials, about $25, and presented it to Henry Ford.

According to an early Pennsylvania newspaper account, construction of the bridge was carried on "under peril of arrow and rifle attack from Indians" who still roamed the area in the 1830's.

To move the bridge to Greenfield Village workmen waited just until the ice had frozen on Wheeling Creek in November, 1937, and lowered the entire structure to the ice to dismantle it carefully. The work was nip-and-tuck, it was reported, as scarcely had the last timber been stowed aboard a truck when the ice began breaking up.

The pieces then were shipped by railroad to Dearborn.

The bridge was called the Ackley covered bridge because most of the oak timbers of its construction came from trees felled on his farm.

While many reasons are given for the wooden covering over the early bridges, Greenfield Village researchers feel that the cover protected the underpinnings from the weather, most importantly, and afforded pedestrians and carriages protection from unbroken winds over the river.

Greenfield Village officials point out that today the village's antique cars and horse-drawn wagons regularly cross the covered span located behind the Luther Burbank House, but winter sleigh loads of visitors do not.

The reason is that it is too hard for horses to pull sleighs across the wooden boards, and it also causes wear.

The railroad that circles the village and runs adjacent to the covered bridge also was constructed recently by the Couse firm.

"It may well be the only railroad track built in this country since the 1930's," Couse confirms as he tells of building the two-and-a-half mile track than now enables early trains to give visitors a circle tour of the village.

G. Donald Adams, press relations manager for Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum, notes that the Walter Couse firm is just completing work on the new folk art gallery at the museum where many of the museum's collection of Americana will be displayed. It is located near the gift shop.

Last spring contractor Couse's firm moved Henry Ford's

Church Converts Taxidermy Shop

Baptists Open Church Sunday

Gone are the deer heads and antlers from the walls of the building which was formerly Guntzville's Taxidermy on Grand River in New Hudson.

In their place are crosses and brightly colored religious murals which signify occupancy of a new owner, Calvary Baptist Church of New Hudson.

For members of the church, this Sunday (January 19) will mark a special date. It is when the two-story building and property on which it rests will be dedicated in ceremonies scheduled for 3 p.m. that afternoon.

Sunday also marks the seventh month anniversary of the church and property which was acquired this past June.

The church, which began as a missionary project of the Conservative Baptist Association (CBA) of Michigan in June of 1972, met previously at New Hudson Elementary School, and before that in a trailer home of the church's pastor, Reverend B. DeWayne Hallmark.

Former residents of Grand Blanc, Mr. Hallmark and his wife Lee moved to the New Hudson area just over three years ago to establish a missionary project in New Hudson.

"A survey conducted by students of Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College revealed a need for mission work in this area," explained Mr. Hallmark.

"The CBA began their own survey and it was decided to begin a missionary project here. We started with just six people in a Bible class which was conducted in our trailer."

Incorporated in 1973 with a membership of 13, the church has grown to its current membership of nearly 40 with a regular Sunday attendance of over 60 people.

Through the combined efforts of the Conservative Baptist Association, the First Baptist Church of Wixom, a sister congregation, and Calvary Baptist parishioners, the church was purchased, cleaned, scrubbed and ready for services in a matter of a few days.

"We had just a few days to clean up and you should have seen the place," said Mrs. Hallmark. "The place was absolutely filthy and I thought we'd never get it clean."

"About 14 people hit the place at once, though, and just kept going until everything was clean and had two coats of paint on it by the time we were ready for services."

Since then, said Mr. Hallmark and his wife, the church has been blessed with great generosity on the part of members and friends.

"Gifts from the people as well as from the First Baptist Church of Wixom formed capital used to start the church," explained Mrs. Hallmark. "Folks have been very generous to us."

"The piano and organ were donated and a couple in our church both play the piano and tune it for us."

"Our carpeting was donated by a student from Maranatha Bible College in Wisconsin who was here this past summer as our Youth Director. He and his father gave us carpet and installed it for us."

Thousands of dollars of equipment, paint, wiring, and outdoor landscaping material as well as countless hours of time and energy have been given to the church as well, added Mr. Hallmark.

One local woman and church member, he pointed out, transformed the walls of the upstairs nursery and Sunday school rooms from bare, drab slabs to colorful hand-painted murals of religious and cartoon figures.

"I don't know what was the biggest transformation," claimed Mrs. Hallmark. "It just doesn't seem possible when I look at the picture we took of the building before we started."

Yet, for the members of Calvary Baptist Church, the possibility became a reality and, pointed out Mrs. Hallmark, without solicitation of any type on the part of the church.

"We've been very fortunate and we're very grateful for what has happened here," said Reverend Hallmark.

"The Lord has laid it on the hearts of the people to give and to help in His work and they have been truly generous."

Singing Smith Family Comes to Brighton

The singing Leon Smith Family of Spring Arbor will present a concert of gospel music this Sunday, January 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Green Oak Free Methodist Church at 10111 Fieldcrest, Brighton.

Smith, former lead singer and manager of the Harbor Lights Quartet and Skylights Trio, has been singing with his teenaged daughters, Brenda and Beverly, since 1971. The Smiths have traveled throughout the Midwest and Canada singing gospel songs in churches and auditoriums.

A third teenaged daughter, Bethany, recently joined the group as drummer. Douglas Hill accompanies the group on bass, and daughter Brenda plays piano.

The group records on the LeFevre Sound label in Atlanta, Georgia, with instrumental backup by the Goss Brothers.

DEDICATION — Calvary Baptist Church will dedicate the building which it now calls home in services scheduled for Sunday, January 19 at 3 p.m. Located at 57885 Grand River, New Hudson, the building was formerly Guntzville's Taxidermy and was purchased by the church in June of 1974. The Reverend Dewayne Hallmark, who founded the church as a mission project over two years ago, will be joined by a number of guest speakers for the special ceremony this weekend.

Urges Communities to Examine Selves

LANSING—Does anyone care about the future of Michigan and its communities?

That's the question asked by Dr. Daniel Kruger, professor of industrial relations at Michigan State University.

"America's love affair with the automobile seems to be in drastic revision," says Kruger, "And if the auto industry is not so vibrant as it has been, what else do we do?"

KRUGER BELIEVES communities should take a hard look at where they stand today, where they want to go tomorrow and how they can get there.

With newspapers and other leaders as a conscience to stimulate interest, committees should delve into those questions, he suggests.

"We should look at what we have now—the businesses in a community and their problems," Kruger says. "We should see if there are any growth possibilities within the existing base."

A LOOK AT ZONING regulations, for example, might show that a business would not be able to relocate within a community if it so desired. There just might not be any place it could go—without leaving the city boundaries.

And there's the problem of electrical power, as just one more example. Kruger mentions the prospects of businesses moving elsewhere if they cannot be guaranteed adequate power to carry out their operations.

Communities must be rallied to consider these problems and ask themselves what they want from the future, Kruger says.

'T WAS A BAD YEAR for gypsy moths in Michigan, and that's good, says the Department of Agriculture.

Recovery of traps last summer shows a "drastic reduction" in the insect population, the Department reported recently.

Dean Lovitt, plant industry division chief, says that trapping to find infestations in 1974 covered nearly the entire state. Some 122 moths were found in nine counties—compared to 15 times that many in 21 counties last year.

The moth larvae eat leaves and defoliate millions of acres of forests in other states.

INDIVIDUAL CITIZENS can influence the goings-on of government.

So says Democratic State Rep. Thomas Anderson of Southgate, chief sponsor of a recently approved bill dealing with motorists' hand signals.

Anderson says a Wyandotte Public Schools driver education teacher, Morley P. Bingham, contacted him about the state of Michigan's driving signals. Michigan, he said, was the only state in the country not using the federal uniform traffic code standard hand signals for vehicle turning.

SO ANDERSON came up with a bill that calls for these hand signals:

—For left turns, the hand and arm are to be extended horizontally.

—For right turns, the hand and arm are to be extended upward.

—For stops, the hand and arm are to be extended downward.

The bill eliminates the present all-purpose horizontal hand signal used by drivers with no signaling devices on their cars. That all-purpose signal was used to indicate stopping, starting and turning in any direction, Anderson notes.

BEWARE OF FALSE advertising by some ambulance companies.

That warning comes from Rod Palmer, president of the Michigan Association of Ambulance Services and Emergency Medical Technicians.

Palmer says only three Michigan areas—Kent and Washtenaw counties and the city of Southfield—are currently permitted to provide intravenous injections and other services limited to those who've completed advanced emergency medical technician training.

LEGISLATION authorizing establishment of advanced emergency medical technician programs has been signed into law. But, Palmer says, it's expected to take some six months before that program is working statewide.

However, Palmer adds, "a few irresponsible ambulance providers, non-members of (his association) already are claiming to operate mobile cardiac and trauma units and implying the capacity to administer intravenous injections and drugs and highly technical cardiac care.

"This is more than false advertising," he contends. "It is a public hazard and one the public should know about."

Babson Report

Labor Blowups Possible in 1975

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Under ordinary circumstances, 1975 might well be considered as one of the cyclically quiet years in terms of labor relations.

Unfortunately, there is growing concern on the part of government mediators that there may be far more blowups than earlier anticipated because of the critical economic dislocations affecting both the workers and the employers of the nation.

WHILE THE ROSTER of big union contract expirations for the current year is relatively limited, negotiations—both scheduled and unscheduled—promises to be more complex than usual and conducted more militantly.

Employees suffering from a sharp reduction in the purchase value of their wages are becoming more aggressive in their demands for good-sized raises to make up for inflationary price hikes for virtually all goods and services. They are also insisting upon job and income protection for the future, reflecting government admission that jobless totals may reach 8 percent as the year moves along.

AS OF NOW, it appears that there will be a considerable rash of labor disputes at the local level, frequently involving smaller businesses. Since such companies are already beleaguered by skyrocketing materials and labor costs, they will stiffly resist exaggerated union demands that could well put them out of business.

So the battle lines are already forming, even where they were not thought to be threatening at all only a few months ago. The probability of local trouble is further indicated by the fact that of 4.7 million workers involved in 1975 renegotiations only about 50 percent are in units employing as many as 1,000 workers.

continues to soar, specialists in employee benefits and executive compensation are generally agreed that corporations will be urged to provide more in immediate cash than in the various types of fringe improvements that were an expected feature of agreements before the inflationary runaway.

Workers would prefer to be able to pay for their food and rent here and now than to have the promise of things to come later on. Both lower- and upper-echelon personnel have their eye on substantially more generous base pay without any reduction in the size of the benefits package.

IF WORKERS get what they want, it will, of course, mean further sizeable increases in operating costs, and these will not be easy for smaller and/or marginal concerns to support. Nor will it be a simple matter to pass larger labor costs along to consumers who are already resisting high prices in many products fields.

The impasse caused by the tendency for workers and their representatives to describe employer proposals as "unacceptable" will be at the bottom of many disturbing altercations along the labor front in 1975.

Many unions are determined to have escalator clauses tying pay to the consumer price index included in their contracts. They feel that otherwise any new raises they rack up from bargaining sessions could easily be wiped out by another upjag in consumer prices. Such protection is an easy concept to sell to the workers since their raises have too often been eroded or actually offset by repeated inflationary price jumps.

Management, too, finds it difficult to fight such a provision when it is already in pacts throughout most industries.

NEW PENSION regulations are going to cost employers perhaps 6-15 percent more to operate already established plans. The boosts will stem not only from alterations in eligibility and vesting provisions but also from insurance payments and fresh administrative expenses. This advance in labor expenditures will make many employers even more set against handing out huge raises without a real struggle.

Dear Sally,
How old do horses live to be and what is their age in respect to human beings?
Dear S. K.,

This is a question that is asked a great deal. Horses, though, are like people and it depends on a lot of things.

Good care is very important, for instance, and can greatly affect a horse's normal life expectancy. By normal, we mean age not prematurely shortened by accident or disease.

One of the best tended breeds is undoubtedly the thoroughbred. Man O' War died at 30 years of age. However, there have been horses who reportedly lived to be as old as 34 or 36 years of age.

Some breeds such as the Quarter horse average about 24 years of age with some specimens of the breed living to be 34.

"The Unreflected Smile" 1972

Sure, it hurt i guess, but whether more because i am alone or, because you chose to leave,
i know not;
Whether more because you never meant what you said
or,
said what you meant,
i know not;
I do know it hurt tho'
because i'm more in love than ever...
But what good is a smile without a smile reflected?

By Marsha Dee Grossbeck

Lost Flower

Hardly did I pay notice
To the withering of the wild rose;
Known only in the fall of my Springy youth and innocent grasp.

Never, as I kissed the petals
Did I see the wooding of the stem.
Brittle-bent by age' cruel sting,
I never saw its passing in my summer.

But now, The Irish eyes of the wild rose no longer shine in Glochamora.
The petals fell swiftly in the harvest and a blanket now covers the roots.

Thomas Zimmerman

Hi Fi or High Frau

"Music hath charms," the bard expressed.
He didn't know our little nest.
The female ear though coiled sweeter
Often abhors both woofer and tweeter.

Stereo or quadrophonic
She thinks the sweet sounds are demonic.
Though bands sound grand and well tooted
She demands that it be muted.

Stereo she thinks a bother,
In one ear and out the other.
But when to void contention's bones
You resort to quiet ear phones,
Then she still betrays a pout,
Because now, whe feels left out.

By Jack Hicks

Introspection of Life

Penetrating the walls of my inner soul with times of near escape—
A fear of actually reaching the unlocked door of fate.

A destiny not known by another, and perhaps not known to me—
but the pounding of its strength prevails.
Yet, strange! It cannot be seen.

An embryo budding within the mother's womb—
The blossoming of new life; struggling toward full bloom.

A progeny of silent qualities with unremitting energy;
Innocent of all fears — though most courageous is he.

Times standing still with perpetual speed — changing course as the growth of one man's seed; continues to open the knowledge concealed—toward evolutionary progress — not yet revealed.

By Susan F. Fischer

Poetically Speaking

I've ridden quatrains to places I've never been.
I've sung in pentameter of things I haven't seen.
Worked with sonnets for young couplets in love, Hacked out haikus
'til I was quite fed up.
Practiced the free-verse in strictly structured form, Studied stream of conscious to deviate from the norm.
Struggled with similes to points beyond belief, Attempted alliteration
after metaphoric grief.
All the above, at least once I have done.
Studied for years and can't recognize one.
Which type is this?
Maybe you have a guess.
I can't tell and I've tried my best.

early Mack Avenue Plant No. 1 half a mile across the village to make room for new development.

"I don't believe I heard of a window pane being broken," Couse mentions as he relates how the building was moved "with everything—including the cars—in place."

Building and grounds director Johnson points out also that the firm put a new foundation under the village cider mill and the carbon shed by the Menlo Park complex.

The construction firm has special equipment for this specialized work.

"Blake is the type of person who appreciates what the village is and is very careful with anything he has done," Johnson adds.

Blake Couse, his wife, Carol, and his son and daughter live at 18240 Laraugh in Northville in a Greek Revival-design home built to house their own antiques.

A Northville resident for almost 40 years, Couse moved to Northville with his parents in 1935, living for several years in the white Victorian house behind Northville First Presbyterian Church.

"I enjoy doing work at Greenfield Village," Couse says. The president of the long-established Detroit firm of contractors admits that he takes a personal interest in activities at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum.

A project now in process has been to dismantle a vintage tinsmith shop in Cincinnati and bring the parts to Greenfield Village. It is scheduled to be reconstructed in a crafts area being developed by the village.

Johnson says the timetable for its completion is July 1 of this year. The tinsmith who built it on an angled street on a Cincinnati hillside constructed his own front—more or less

Consumers Power Elects Martha

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths, a former member of the United States Congress, has been elected to Consumers Power Company's Board of Directors. She is the first woman elected a director of the company.

Mrs. Griffiths was U.S. Representative from the 17th Congressional District of Michigan beginning with the 84th Congress in 1955, and was reelected in all subsequent elections through the 93rd Congress. She did not seek reelection in November, 1974.

Her district included sectors of Oakland and Wayne County, including part of the City of Detroit, and Redford Township, and at one time included Northville.

During her most recent term in Congress, she served on the Ways and Means Committee, Joint Economic Committee, and the new House Committee on the Budget. Her legislative interests were directed toward social security, the medicare program, tax and welfare reform and fiscal policy matters.

Mrs. Griffiths sponsored the Equal Rights Amendment and successfully guided its passage through the House of Representatives in the 91st Congress.

Mrs. Griffiths served in the Michigan State Legislature from 1949-1952 and was judge and recorder of the Detroit Recorder's Court in 1953.

She received her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Missouri and her juris doctorate degree from the University of Michigan. She was admitted to the State Bar of Michigan in 1941.

The former member of Congress is affiliated with the Detroit and Michigan Bar Associations, the National Association of Women Lawyers and the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Griffiths is the recipient of numerous honors, including the Annual Award of the League of Industrial Democracy (1971), the Woman of the Year in Public Affairs, Ladies' Home Journal (1974), and the award of the Coalition for a Democratic Majority (1974).

Shetland pony has lived to the age of 48 years.

There was even a case of a Suffolk mare who reportedly foaled at the age of 39!

One of the oldest living horses documented was an ex-Italian army horse named Topolini that is said to have reached 51 years of age (1909-1960).

By way of comparison the average age at death in the case of a man 75 years old is equivalent to a horse who is 32 years of age.

Although the actual average age attained by horses appears to be about 27, it should be considered that this average accounts for animals who have died prematurely from accident and disease.

For this reason, it seems that the potential age for a horse is actually much closer to 32 than to 27 and should give all horse owners a reasonable goal to aspire to in the care of our equine friends.

as an advertisement of his trade.

"We will add construction to level the shop as it is placed on a street at the village," Johnson explains. Douglas Huff and Craig Morrison of the village staff were on hand in Cincinnati to make drawings and plan the reconstruction.

The shop, in the path of urban renewal, was purchased by the village. Allen explains that after the shop was removed and the excavation "cleaned-up", the land was deeded back to the city.

The village, both Johnson and Allen point out, has become "very selective" in what it acquires. The ornate front of the tinsmith shop makes it worthy of the planned craft area in the village.

"It's sort of a poor man's version of a cast iron building," says Johnson, noting that the painted tin front proved a durable feature. The shop included equipment from the late 1880's.

Its purchase, Adams explains, is part of a program to have more crafts, which will be demonstrated, in the village.

A different acquisition, Adams notes, is to be a DC 3 airplane of World War II vintage. It is being donated by an airline, he says, but with a 200-foot wing span to be accommodated it hasn't been placed in the village yet.

While winter is the village's "quiet time", with houses and buildings open only for school or other scheduled groups during the week, there's an abundance of concentration on getting ready for more activities this coming summer—and for the bicentennial.

NORTHVILLE RESIDENT Blake Couse points to a repaired timber in Greenfield Village's Ackley Bridge. Repair work by his construction firm is almost impossible to detect on the solid structure.

Last Second Free Throws Drop Champ

Northville Knocks Spark Out of Chargers

☆☆☆ JV's Drop Churchill

Livonia Churchill missed two last ditch shots in the final seconds of play as the junior Mustangs triumphed 49-48.

The Chargers jumped out to a 14-8 first period lead, but the roles were reversed in the second stanza as the Mustangs outscored the Chargers 20-7 to take a 28-21 lead into the locker room.

Widest lead of the ballgame for the Mustangs was 34-23 on a ten footer by Tony Armada with 2:38 remaining in the third period. That quarter ended 38-29.

But the Chargers outscored Northville 9-2 to open up the third period and managed to jump into the lead with 2:15 remaining, 47-46. Tony Armada tied it up on a free throw and then 50 seconds later made both ends of a one-on-one free throw chance.

A foul against Northville with only 41 seconds remaining netted the Chargers one of two possible points, and a jump ball which Livonia controlled gave them a chance to win the game. But two errant Charger shots gave Northville the final victory.

Tony Armada led the Mustangs with 17 points. Dave Brewer had ten while Dan Duey tallied nine and Don Morelli eight.

"Greg Harper was injured and Dan Duey took his place and played an excellent ball game," commented coach Omar Harrison. "He did a good job on the board and scored adequately. Tony Armada was the leader and he pulled out the ballgame hitting nine of 10 free throws in the final quarter."

UPS SHOT—Mustang senior Doug Crisan ups the ball over a Churchill defender on way to two of his nine points in the 43-42 victory over Churchill. The match proved to be one of the toughest for Northville, despite the fact Churchill had lost all its starters from last year's championship team.

Senior Scott Leu sunk two free throws with only ten seconds remaining to give Northville a 43-42 eleventh hour victory over defending Western Six champion Livonia Churchill.

The win, Northville's ninth without a loss, was the Mustang's lowest scoring affair so far this season and was far from what Coach Walt Koepke had been hoping for.

Without a single starter back from last season's championship team, the Chargers looked—on paper at least—to be easy pickings for the Mustangs. But a number of factors played a role in helping Churchill play almost even ball with the Northville five.

First, the Mustangs entered the game with three key players sporting injuries. Center Tom Eis and forward Mike Campbell had sprained ankles while guard Scott Leu was recovering from a calf injury suffered in the previous contest. Northville had to switch from their deadly man-to-man defense to a zone "which is like selling your soul to the devil" commented Coach Koepke.

Secondly the Mustang squad appears to be in the midst of a mid-season slump, having won the previous two games by scores of 76-72 over Waterford Mott and 59-56 over Oak Park.

Those factors, added to a highly partisan home crowd of Charger fans, helped Churchill negate what, during the early portion of the season, was a powerful machine dumping opponents by as much as 43 points.

The contest started off with Northville jumping off to a 7-2 lead, but Churchill came back to tie up the contest 10-10. The first half ended 14-12 in favor of Northville.

In the second period, Scott Leu's lay-up with 6:35 remaining gave the Mustangs a five point lead, 18-13 which Northville retained going into the lockerroom 26-21.

The Chargers charged back in the second half with six straight points, taking the lead for the first time in the contest, 27-26. But the Northville five rallied, grabbing a 33-29 lead at the end of the third quarter.

In the final period, Mike Campbell and Tom Eis combined for six points to give Northville its largest lead of the contest 40-31. But while the Mustangs were adding only a single point on a Scott Leu free throw, Livonia pumped in nine points to close the gap to 41-40 with one minute remaining.

The final seconds saw Livonia gain possession on a jump ball and then call time out with 34 seconds remaining. After play resumed, a foul was called on Tom Eis with 21 seconds remaining. The fans watched as Matt Foster put up the first shot of a one-on-one which rolled around the inside of the hoop and jumped out.

Mustangs grabbed the rebound and Scott Leu was fouled and put in both attempts. With just five seconds on the clock, Livonia connected on a 20 footer to close the gap to the final 43-42 score.

Northville shot only 34 per cent from the floor hitting 15 of 46 shots. At the free-throw line, the Mustangs connected on 13 of 22 for 58 per cent.

Coach Koepke did not appear nappy afterward with his team's inability to break open the game.

"They (Churchill) didn't shoot well. If they had, we would have lost by ten. The last three games have been disappointing. We're working hard. I don't know why we don't improve."

"We weren't completely healthy and we played like it," added the coach who noted that his hurt players seemed to play best on the court. Scott Leu was high point man for the Mustangs with 14 points while Tom Eis was second with ten points. Doug Crisan collected nine points.

"What's discouraging," added the coach, "is that Churchill lost all its starters. We have six experienced basketball players out there. It's a credit to coach Montagano how well his team did."

"Man per man, we have better personnel. We made 25 turnovers — but they made us turnover the ball. The press gave us trouble. What's disturbing is that we get flustered against the press. We know where we should be and what we should do. It's discouraging."

"This is the first victory over Churchill in four years. At least we were able to win. But we still have to play Farmington Harrison (Friday) and they still have the best personnel in the league"

Wildcat of the Week

Bill Giorgio, Novi's leading scorer through the first seven games of the season, was named Wildcat of the week following his outstanding performances in two games last week.

Although he's only a sophomore, Giorgio has become one of the team's important floor leaders while setting up plays and shooting. So far this season he has scored 104 points for an average of 15 per game.

Against Lincoln, he hit nine out of 20 shots from the floor, was three for four at the free throw line, picked up five offensive and defensive rebounds, and was credited with one steal. Against Brighton he was eight for 17 from the floor, had no foul shots, collected three offensive and defensive rebounds, and picked up one steal.

"I'm proud to have him on my team," commented Coach

Ron Flutur "For a young man he has demonstrated a polish that is generally more characteristic of older, more experienced players"

BILL GIORGIO

Wildcats Upset Lincoln To Gain Third Straight

For the first time in memory, Novi's varsity basketball game had a three-game winning streak going for it as the Wildcats prepared to host unbeaten Northville last night.

Despite the squad's recent surge, the local quintet was given little chance of knocking off the red-hot Mustangs and it is given only a slim chance of upsetting undefeated Milan Friday night.

The Big Reds blasted Chelsea Friday night, 84-41, in a surprisingly easy victory.

While the Bulldogs were taking their licking at the hands of Milan, Coach Ron Flutur's Novi cagers were grabbing a thrilling, 61-59 victory over the Lincoln Railsplitters.

Going into the game at Ypsilanti, the Wildcats carried a 2-4 record, while the Railsplitters were sporting a .500 average through six games. Novi picked up its second victory of the season earlier in the week when the Wildcats nipped Brighton, 55-53, in the first post-holiday contest.

The Wildcats had closed out the 1974 half of its season with a convincing 80-60 win over neighboring South Lyon.

"Who said we had an easy schedule?" asked Flutur as his cagers braced for their encounter with the Mustangs. "Northville's undefeated and a powerhouse in the Western Six. St. Thomas is one of the top teams in the state, Milan's rated, and Saline's awfully tough. Nobody can say we have it easy."

"Tuesday Northville, Friday Milan. Two giants in one week... that's not easy in anyone's book."

Friday's victory was especially sweet for the Wildcats because it was Lincoln that last fall upset

Novi's champion football team to snap the Green Machine's 23 game winning streak.

Although the Wildcats had a very thin lead through much of Friday's game (they led by seven at one point), Lincoln gained a two-point, 49-47 edge going into the last quarter. In that final stanza, the game was knotted at 55-55 with 4:14 to go, and it was tied again at 2:31 (57-57) before Bill Giorgio potted a 15-footer from the side of the court.

Doug Roome tied it again with just 24 seconds to play, 59-59. But Lincoln's George Czinski missed an easy layup that would have given the Railsplitters an important two points.

With just 15 seconds to play, Pat McAllen, who turned in one of his finest performances of the season, came up with the game winning basket, a two-point layup after stealing the ball.

A long shot by Scott Hubbard at the two-second mark missed the net, and Novi had its victory.

McAllen was credited with four steals, six defensive rebounds and two offensive rebounds. Two other players, Bill Barr and Bob Bannatz, turned in outstanding rebounding games.

Credit for Novi's victory must go to the Wildcats' performance at the free throw line. Novi popped 15 of its 18 charity tosses, while Lincoln had to settle for just three in 10 attempts.

Three Novi players failed to miss their free shots — McAllen, Andy McComas, and Barr. McAllen and Barr each were two for two, but the big gun was McComas, who drilled eight free shots without a miss.

With two of his regular starters on the bench, Coach Flutur tossed Giorgio, McAllen, McComas, Mike Collins, and Bannatz at Rod Marlatt's starting five. And the five Novi starters came on like gang busters, hitting 20 points in the first quarter while Lincoln was picking up 17 points.

At the intermission, Novi was still clinging to a three point lead, 33-30, as the shooting on both sides cooled in the second stanza. Steadiest shooter all night was Giorgio, whose floor performance was excellent. He hit three field goals in the first quarter, and two in each of the three remaining quarters. He led both teams with 21 points, just as he led the Wildcats in scoring against Brighton last week Tuesday.

Thanks to a good first half, the Wildcats were able to hold their lead over Brighton in the final two quarters of play—but just barely.

After grabbing 16 points in the first quarter and 20 more in the second, the Wildcats came up with just six in the third frame before sewing up their scoring effort with 13 in the fourth.

Brighton, on the other hand, played a steady shooting game through the first three quarters before exploding for 19 points in the last quarter.

In the last quarter the Bulldogs came close to grabbing the victory. With 21 seconds to go Brighton tied the game, 53-53. In those remaining seconds, the Wildcats called time twice, the last time with just four seconds left. The ball went to McComas, who fired a 12-foot jumper that won the game.

Novi's defense sagged in the final half and the Wildcats missed six easy layups, and in large measure helped Brighton to its last half attack, said Flutur.

Leading scorer in the game was Brighton's Steve Golden who fired 24 points, followed by Giorgio, who garnered 16. Bannatz turned in the best rebounding effort, getting credit for nine.

Unlike its performance in the game at Lincoln, Novi did poorly at the free throw line against Brighton. The Wildcats picked up only one charity shot in six attempts. But Brighton was even worse, converting only five of its 20 tosses.

PRINCIPLE OF OPERATION

The above power humidifier can be installed on either the supply or return plenum of the warm air furnace with equally high efficiency. A flexible hose and collar are provided to make the connection between the humidifier and the opposite plenum.

Because of the pressure difference in the two furnace plenums a portion of the air produced by the furnace blower is bypassed through the humidifier and is forced over and through the wetted evaporator pad. This moisture laden air is then returned to the heating system to be circulated to each room of the house

The humidistat starts and stops the evaporative drum as it rotates in a float controlled bath of water to maintain the relative humidity as pre-set for existing outside conditions

Novi Grapplers Retain Mat Poise

Despite the long holiday layoff, Novi's varsity wrestlers lost no time in resuming their campaign for supremacy of the Southeastern Conference.

The Wildcats came close to shutting out the league's cellar dweller Thursday and then picked up a pair of fine marks in the annual Schoolcraft Wrestling Tournament that attracted competitors (all but two Class A schools) Saturday.

Ypsilanti Lincoln took a 51-3 pounding at the hands of Novi before Mark McKinney and Scott Spielman placed in the Saturday tourney—something no other Novi wrestlers had done at Schoolcraft in the history of the tourney.

The victory over Lincoln kept the Wildcats in a first-place tie with Chelsea, the favorite team to win the conference crown. This tie will fall, however, one way or another when the two undefeated squads clash here Thursday night.

Interestingly, arch-rival South Lyon, which did so well in the Schoolcraft Tourney, is in second place having lost to only one team—Chelsea. And the Lions have yet to meet Coach Russ Gardner's wrestlers.

South Lyon was the only other Class B school in the Schoolcraft tourney and yet the Lions took four places, including a championship by Don Giese in the 140-pound class. Randy Cevora was third in 157, Steve Guerny fourth in 147, and Bruce Gow sixth in 134.

Enroute to its easy victory over Lincoln last week, Novi, piled up a total of five pins.

McKinney opened things up with a pin over Joe Wrubel in 57 seconds of the first period in the 100 pound class. Other pins were registered by these wrestlers:

128—Bob Sasena over Kevin Gretz in 1:22 of the first period
157—Doug Maier pinned Bill Hardesty in 4:38 of the third period.

187—Jim Auten pinned Jim Busche in 3:17 of the second period.

Heavyweight—Gil Spires did in Darrell Coleman in 1:31 of the first period.

Other victories included: 107—Scott Spielman over Bill Kensey, 5-0.

114—Jeff Kay victor by a forfeit.

121—Tony McCarty defeated Bob Czinski, 7-0.

134—Kevin Sheppard downed Randy Kinsey, brother of Bill, 5-0.

140—Al Jones dumped Lyle Schaller, 3-0.

169—Mike Mulligan defeated Graig Neil, 7-1.

Lone loss suffered by the Wildcats was Mark Mills 5-2 defeat at the hands of Jeff Harper.

With Thursday's triumph the Wildcats are now 3-0 in league competition, having done in the Railsplitters, Saine and Brighton. Through those first three league contests six Novi wrestlers are still undefeated—McKinney, Spielman, Sasena, Sheppard, Jones and Maier.

McKinney racked up four victories in claiming his fourth place mark in the 100-pound division at Schoolcraft. He defeated Dearborn 2-0 in overtime, Livonia Churchill 5-0, and Livonia Stevenson 5-0 before losing to Jack Ball of Clawson, the eventual champion. Ball, incidentally, won the tourney trophy for the most pins in the least amount of time.

Following his loss to Ball sophomore, McKinney knocked off a Fordson wrestler 3-2 and then came up on the short end of a match with Ypsilanti.

Spielman piled up three victories in his sixth place finish. He blanked Clarenceville 11-0, downed Crestwood 12-1, took Ypsilanti 3-1 in overtime, and then was pinned by Wayne Memorial's entry who eventually won the tourney.

The 107-pounder was winning over a Farmington wrestler in his next match when a mistake led to his downfall and a pin. Similarly, Spielman in his run for the fifth or sixth place had his Plymouth Salem opponent on the run when he made the mistake of putting his head down to start a standup and got caught in a banana split.

For the third straight year Wayne Memorial won the tournament with Clawson taking second, Ypsilanti third, Bay City Western fourth, and John Glenn fifth.

Following the do-or-die battle with Chelsea here Thursday, Novi will host its third annual Novi Wrestling Tournament on Saturday. Competition gets underway at 11 a.m., with the finals to start at 7 p.m. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Mustang Swimmers Sink Two Opponents

The Mustang swimmers came up with a pair of easy victories last week torpedoing Clarenceville 56-26 and Livonia Churchill 133-41.

With only two entries allowed per event, the Mustangs won seven firsts in 11 events at Clarenceville and won both first and second in five of those seven events.

Doing an outstanding job, according to coach Ben Lauber, was Mark Noller in the 100 yard breaststroke, Mark Owens in the diving, Ed Erdos in the 100 yard freestyle and the medley relay team made up of Mike Swayze, Art Greenlee, Jeff Guider, and Mike Chaffin.

Against Churchill, the Mustang natators dominated the contest even more as the Mustangs won all 11 events.

Receiving praise from the coach was Brian Kramer in the individual medley and 100 yard breaststroke, Randy Roggenbuck in the 50 yard freestyle and 100 yard butterfly, Art Greenlee in the 100 yard backstroke, and all three divers, Mark Owens, Mike Devereaux, and Knapp who swept that event. Owen's and Devereaux' times were their best so far this year.

"The teams we swam against were down this year," commented Coach Lauber. "It's hard to swim good times because it's hard to get up for them. The boys know there's not much competition."

Northville Wrestlers Claim Two

The Mustang varsity grapplers put together their best of effort of the season and dropped Dearborn Crestwood 42-18 and Plymouth Canton 38-18 following the holiday vacation.

Against Crestwood, the varsity claimed eight of the 12 weight classes, including six pins.

At 100 pounds, Greg Cole started off the action by pinning Brent Tren, while teammate Dave Bently contributed a 6-0 victory over Tim Jones at 107 pounds. Dan Platte collected the second Mustang pin by dropping his opponent in the first period at 114 pounds.

First defeat of the contest for the Mustangs was an 8-6 loss by Ed Talbot to Crestwood's Tim Orin. But Brent Ashby, at 128 pounds, came back with a third period pin over Dearborn's Dan Davidson.

At 134 pounds, Bob Zabinski trimmed Rich Post 8-5 while Mustang teammate Wally Armstrong put Jim Coleson on the mat in the first period. Northville's Jim Sackllach pinned Mark Grmain in the first stanza before Rick Marcicki, at 157 pounds, fell to Crestwood's Kurt Hopkins. Larry Pink, at 169 pounds, added the final Mustang points pinning Rick Tyzo in the first period. Both Northville's Norman Pratt and Fred Meyers were thrown to the mats by their opponents in the highest weight classes. "Most of them did a real good job and wrestled much more aggressively than they have been," said coach Gary Emerson after the contest. "It was either a case of them pinning us or us pinning them. Of their 18 points, they got 12 on our two weakest positions where we had to move up wrestlers a weight class. We're still hurting at the upper weights." The Canton match was almost a replay of the Crestwood meet as Northville walloped Canton 38-18, once again losing in the higher weight classes.

At 100 pounds, Greg Cole decided his opponent 7-0, while teammate Dave Bently scored a superior 12-0 decision over Craig Lee. Dan Platte, at 114 pounds, was also awarded four points for his superior decision.

Jack Riggs, in his first varsity match, defeated David March 8-5 while Brent Ashby pinned his Canton opponent in the second period. Wally Armstrong, at 134 pounds, bumped off Rich Asher 3-1.

Steve Havale was the first Northville loss as he was pinned in the first period by Ron Craig at 140 pounds.

Jim Sackllach got the Mustangs back on the winning track with a pin over his opponent while Rick Marcicki decided Mike Howell 10-1. Larry Pink pinned his man in the first period.

Northville's final two losses were by way of a Greg Burke pin of Norman Pratt at 187 pounds, and a forfeit at the heavyweight.

Commented coach Emerson, "Jim Sackllach wrestled a good match. Overall the kids have really come on. We only lost one match other than the last two weight classes."

While the victory over Canton was the first league meet for Northville, coach Emerson admits that "Canton's probably the weakest in the league."

"The biggest handicap is giving away those 12 points at the end. There's a lot of pressure on the younger wrestlers to get pins because they receive six points for a win and only three for a decision."

Novi Cagers Drop Two

Novi's junior varsity cagers took it on the chin twice last week, losing to Brighton 61-49 and then dropping a 60-49 contest to Lincoln on Friday.

The junior Wildcats led in the first quarter against Brighton, 10-13. But by the intermission the score was tied, 26-26, and in the third period the Bulldogs really poured it on. Going into the final stanza, the Bulldogs were leading 44-36.

Randy Wroten shared high-point honors with Brighton's Tom Babineau, as each of them hit 17. John Pisha picked up 12 points, Craig Pelchat 10.

At Lincoln it was pretty much a repeat Novi had a one point lead, 15-14, in the first quarter and still led 26-25 at the half. In the third quarter, however, Lincoln fired 19 points to Novi's 10 and then coasted to the easy victory.

Jeff Chambers and Daniel Sizemore, with 23 and 13 points, respectively, were the leading scorers for Lincoln. High for Novi were Ken Robinson and Wroten, each with 12, and Pisha with 11.

Casterline Wins Upset

Northville Casterline "over 30" hockey team rallied for an upset shut-out of the Plymouth Pilgrims last week. The win moved Northville into second place, ahead of the Pilgrims.

The shutout, posted by goalie Greg Sawalski, was his third of the season.

Goals were scored by Bryan Kerry, Billie Thomas and Ray Lavan. Demetrios Lambros was credited with two assists, and Lavan and Thomas received single assists.

Recreation Basketball Begins Play

The annual "January Madness" known to local residents as Northville Recreation Department junior basketball struck last week-end as eight 3rd-4th grade and six 5th-6th grade teams began scrambling for top spots in their respective leagues.

In the 3rd-4th grade league, winners were the Globetrotters, Sonics, Lakers, and Cougars while in the older league, the Mohawks, Royals and Pistons triumphed.

The globetrotters throttled the Celtics 20-8. Mike Berry and Bart Leu tossed in eight points each for the winner. David Martin led the Celtics with eight points. Decisive quarter was the third when the globetrotters outscored the Celtics 12-2.

Meanwhile, the Sonics had an easy time tripping the Hawks, 16-6. Bob Benedict led the Sonics with six points while Greg Anusbigen pushed through four.

The Lakers crushed the Mustangs 18-7. Terri Hadeau led the Lakers with 10. The Lakers jumped off to an 8-0 first quarter lead and were never in trouble.

In a relatively high-scoring affair, the Cougars trounced the Bullets 20-17. Dave Bach led the winner with 14 points while Tom Yanoschik paced the Bullets with eight. The game was more or less decided in the first period when the Cougars jumped off to a 12-4 lead.

In 5th-6th grade action, Pistons stormed the 76'ers, 27-9. Jim Harding and Eric Lindemier paced the Pistons with 12-points apiece while Mark Holland led the loser with eight points.

The Mohawks had no trouble with the raiders bombarding them 32-5. Mike Kellam punched through 15 for the winner while teammate Todd Jennings added eight and Steve Norton five. Tim McLaughlin scored four of the five points for the loser. Mohawks jumped out to a 10-0 first quarter lead and had no trouble after that.

The Knicks had six players scoring while the Royals only had two, but those two scorers were all the Royals needed as they slammed through all 22 of the team's points.

David Greer scored 16, and Scott Anderson six for the winner while Joe Kelly and Jeff Traudt paced the Knicks with four points. Royals scored ten points in the first period, all by Greer, to take early control of the game. Knicks tied up the contest at the end of the half 12-12, but the Royals outscored the Knicks 10-4 in the last half.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT

Here's the story about how the famous Notre Dame "Victory March" was written. (This is the song that starts out "Cheer, Cheer for Old Notre Dame")... It has become the best known football tune of all-time — and, actually, it was written by a priest, in 1909... One day at a game that season, Father Michael Shea decided Notre Dame should have an appropriate song... At the time, they didn't have one... After the game, Father Shea went to a piano in a nearby building, but someone was using the piano... So, Father Shea then went to the Sacred Heart Church on campus and composed the song on the organ at the church... His brother, John, Shea, then wrote the words. And thus, football's most famous fight song was written on a church organ.

Did you know football fields were not always 100 yards long from goal line to goal line?.. When football started, the field was 140 yards... Then, they shortened it to 110 yards in 1880... The present rule making the football field 100 yards was not put into effect till 1912.

I bet you didn't know...that oil changes, tune ups and many other services were available at the Unifroyal Dunlap Tire store.

Mustang Gals To 'Set-Up' Wins

Volleyball may not rank with basketball or football when it comes to crowd appeal, but to the 11 girls on the Mustang varsity team, volleyball has become serious business.

In its third year of competition, Northville will be attempting to win its first outright championship in the tough Western Six.

Last year the Mustangs had to settle for a tie with Farmington Harrison - both with 7-1 records - but this year, the lady Mustangers are planning on taking the title solo.

"I think we'll be right in there," says first year coach Karen Taylor. "The whole league is tough, but Churchill and Stevenson are exceptionally tough."

She also sees Walled Lake Western and Waterford Mott as being strong contenders, but she appears certain Northville can beat them. "I really do," she says.

"Churchill has a very strong volleyball team. They have a patterned attack which we have to guard against."

Miss Taylor, who played two years of volleyball in inter-collegiate competition and is a volleyball official sanctioned under the Girls and Women's Sports (DGWS) explains that the team will be concentrating on a three hit offense with the back players hitting to a front line player who sets up the ball for the spiker.

"Spikers get all the glory, but the others are just as important," Miss Taylor explains. "If our setters come around, we should have a good attack. I think we'll be tough."

The Northville team will be lined up on the court in such a way that there will be one setter and two spikers on each of the front and back three man lines.

"We haven't had a chance to work out in a game situation, but we've been working on basic skills and the players have looked good on those," adds Miss Taylor.

On the Mustang team are: setters—Becky Albus, Kathy Belkowski, Louise Hopping, and Kim Millington; spikers—Patty Brown, Debbie Maguire, Karen Stevens, Patti Suddendorf, Mary Ann Tweedie, Diane Wilkinson, and Eve Williams.

Frosh Five Wins Two

The Mustang freshmen were on the warpath last week and came up with a 41-31 thumping of Redford Union Hilbert and a slim 41-40 victory over Plymouth Canton.

Northville jumped out to a 9-5 first quarter lead against Hilbert and cruised on to the spiker.

THAT'S TWO MORE—Mustanger Mike Campbell is successful in out reaching a Churchill defender during last Friday's game. Northville, undefeated in nine games as of last Friday, will face Farmington Harrison at home Friday.

Ladycat Volleyball Six Plan to Spike All Comers

If numbers mean anything, Novi will be playing some excellent volleyball this season.

But Coach Chris Hayward isn't so sure. After all, this season marks the first league competition for Novi girls and it's the first time the coach will have the reins of a varsity volleyball team.

"It's new for all of us," she admits, "but we plan to give it a real shot."

When the call went out for volleyball candidates, more than 100 turned out - enough girls to field 10 or more teams. But the grueling regimen of practice soon cut this number down until Coach Hayward was left with just under 50 determined girls.

The coach figures she will carry 15 players on her varsity club, and divide the remaining girls between the junior varsity team and a third squad.

Six players, three on the front line and three on the back line, constitute a volleyball team. And since each of the girls alternates positions all of them must show some smarts in each of the slots.

Of course, players have specialties. Dawn Spero, for example, is the key spiker on the varsity squad. A senior, she is tall and has a hard shot from the top of the net.

Heavily spiced with sophomores, the varsity squad may include four starting 10th graders unless someone else earns the honor between now and the season opener here against Brighton Friday afternoon. They include Lilli Jolgren, Elaine Maki, Dede McAllen, and Ruth McLaughlin.

Possibly rounding out the starting six will be a junior, Patti Cameron.

Senior Luz Roa, an exchange student from Columbia, is expected to see plenty of action.

Other likely varsity members are:

Going into the last week of practice, Coach Hayward was pushing her girls through drills in passing, setting, and shooting for the opposing team's holes.

Saline, which competed independently last year, is the pre-season favorite. But Chelsea, which boasts plenty of natural athletes, is expected to be tough, said the coach. Dexter is the league question mark.

Lincoln had only 26 girls out for both the varsity and junior varsity clubs, but Brighton, the Wildcats' first opponent, attracted more than 75 candidates as practice got underway.

Following the Brighton game Friday, the Novi squad is scheduled to host Dexter on January 24, then clash in two away contests with Chelsea (January 31) and Saline (February 7) before taking on Lincoln here February 13.

The Southeastern Conference tournament is scheduled at Lincoln on February 22.

According to Coach Hayward, two non-conference games are planned although dates had not been firmed up. They include contests with Hartland and Willow Run.

The conference champion will not be determined until after the league tourney. The crown will go to the team which possesses the best combination of victories in both regular season competition and in the day-long tournament.

Best bets to grab positions on the junior varsity team are:

In Hockey Action

Hamlet Collects Three Victories

Hamlet Food Mart Pee Wee team came up with three victories last week to keep them undefeated in Northville Hockey Association action while other teams were having scattered success.

Two of Hamlet's victories were league contests while the third was non-league. The league wins were over the Plymouth Aeros 3-1 and Plymouth ACTS Computing, 5-3.

In the Aero game, Hamlet received goals from Rick Wisniewski, Gary Kucher, and David Brayton. Assists were credited to Alex Crossley, Kucher, Mike Shingler, Jim Wilson, Dale Beckman and Gary Yoder.

In the key game against ACTS Computing, Hamlet had to come from behind with a four goal third period. Hamlet scored in the first period on Gary Kucher's goal, assisted by Wilson and Shingler. ACT's came back to tie the game and then went ahead 2-1 in the second period.

In the third period, it was all Hamlet as Shingler tied the game at 9:46 and Kucher scored the winning goal with 5:03 remaining. Kucher and David Ward scored again to complete the four goal third period comeback.

Gary Kucher led the scoring with three goals, while Shingler and Ward had one apiece. Jim Wilson had four assists and Gary Yoder two.

In a non-league game, Hamlet stymied D&H Asphalt, the first place team in the Livingston County League, 8-3.

Mike Shingler scored four goals, David Ward two and Dale Beckman and Dave Brayton one each. Two Assists were given to Gary Yoder, and single assists to Wisniewski, Jeff Nieuwkoop, Kucher, Wilson, and Ward. The win raised Hamlet's season record to 18-3-2.

Northville Botanical Products picked up a 3-0 win over Westland to raise its league record to 6-4-2. Jack Guleserian, Mike Kramer, and Tim Gardner tallied goals while Rick Matley was awarded two assists and Tim Harris a third.

In bantam house division action, Northville Belangers, leader in the Bantam league, played Lansing on its home ice and fell 2-1. Lone goal for Belangers was scored by Mark Regentik while outstanding goaltending by Paul Wiest kept the score down.

In a league contest January 8, Belangers bumped number two Plymouth Huskies 4-3. Northville scorers were Ty Gray, Greg Thompson, Pete Cameron, and Paul Weglarz. Two assists were credited to Greg Thompson while Mike Coolman and Pete Cameron picked up single assists.

Northville Midwest Bantams, third in the league, played Farmington to a 2-2 tie on goals by Mitch Morrel and Jeff Wilson. Assists were given to Joseph Giachino and John Wheeler.

Midwest also tied the Plymouth Raiders 2-2 January 9 at Novi arena. Goals were scored by Mike Ward and John Garner with assists going to Danny Muzzin and Joseph Giachino.

Perkins Engines squirt travel team divided two contests, thumping Wayne 3-0 but losing to Farmington 3-1.

Against Wayne, Scott Schaal continued to lead his team in the goal department putting Northville in front late in the second period and adding a second goal early in the third period before Bob Pegrum scored one late in the third period to put the game out of reach. Todd Bartling tallied his first shut-out at the nets. Two assists went to Jeff Hastings, with Schaal and Pegrum gaining single assists.

It was a different story,

JV Wrestlers Split Matches

The Mustang JV grapplers split a pair of contests last week, dropping Dearborn Crestwood 45-9, but then losing to Plymouth Canton 36-33.

Against Crestwood, Phil Reed at 100 pounds gained his first win of the year for Northville, pinning John Guy in the first period. Jack Stabenau lost to his opponent 6-3 at 114 pounds before Bob Gerber grabbed his first Mustang victory beating Frank Fenech 13-0.

Ron Turner at 140 pounds took his opponent to the mat in the first period before Mustang teammate Mike Georgoff pinned his man at 147 pounds in the first period. Marty Johnson won the final match for the Mustangs, 7-3. Mustangs had to forfeit the heavyweight.

however, against Farmington as Northville fell behind early and couldn't score until the third period when Bob Pegrum scored. He received help from Hastings and Schaal.

Against Canton, the Mustangs jumped off to a 33-18 lead but had to settle for a loss 36-33 as they forfeited the top three weight classes because they had no one at those weights.

At 100 pounds, Reed was disqualified for Northville. Joe Pettit decisioned Dave Durkin 9-5 for the Mustangs at 107 pounds while Bently pinned John Prehn in the first period at 121 pounds. Mustanger Bob Zebinski pinned Ryle Heeton in the first period at 128 pounds before teammate Bob Gerber was pinned by Scott Collins. At 140 pounds Northville's Mark Slocum fell to Wes Craig on a pin.

At 147 and 157 pounds Mike Georgoff and Marti Johnson both won their matches by way of pins in the third period.

Mustang of the Week

Mark Noller has been named Mustang of the Week for his effort in last week's 56-26 swim victory over Clarenceville and 133-41 win over Livonia Churchill. Although finishing second in the 100 yard breaststroke against Clarenceville and third against Churchill, "He's worked real hard," says coach Ben Lauber. "We're using him as a freestyler and switched him to breaststroke. He worked himself right into the starting lineup in the breaststroke and then hit his best time of his life against Clarenceville and tied it against Churchill."

Dayton-Hudson Gets First Permit Issued

The Dayton-Hudson regional shopping center has become the first project to receive a permit under the new Michigan Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act and in doing so showed a concern for the community that is rarely evident, say city officials.

The project technically did not have to come under the act, but in so doing helped to prevent sedimentation and pollution problems in Meadowbrook Lake. That lake, downstream from the project, has often been the concern of homeowners who have insisted that upstream projects were adding sediment to the lake itself, causing it to fill in.

In a letter to Hugo N. Halpert, of Halpert, Neyer & Associates, soil engineers employed by Dayton-Hudson, Oakland County Drain Commissioner George W. Kuhn said "That our first issued permit... is applicable to a project of this complexity and magnitude is due solely to your earlier voluntary efforts. The result of these comprehensive and hardworking sessions (both in our office and in the field) will most certainly work in the long term best interests of the Dayton-Hudson site itself as well as your neighbors both near and far.

"We particularly appreciate the way you have shared our concern regarding the possibility of construction erosion products reaching downstream Meadowbrook Lake. Certainly, the erosion control plan submitted essentially eliminates this hazard during the early stages and will actually enhance downstream quality in the future."

City Manager Ed Kriewall commented, "They've done their homework. They did more than they had to do — they could have proceeded in the fall without having to follow the act. It's a nice gesture."

Wins Two

Continued from Page 3 - C victory, steadily increasing the lead to its largest point, 32-20 at the end of the third quarter.

John Horwath led the team with 12 points while Peter Wright added 11 and Scott McMillin 10.

"Dave Duguid did a fantastic job coming off the bench in the third and fourth quarters, commented coach Darrel Schumacher. "He only had two points, but grabbed three or four steals and helped us to get off to that 12 point lead."

Against Plymouth Canton, Northville fell behind 14-8 at the end of the first quarter, but jumped into the lead going into the locker room 23-20.

The kitchen is one of the most dangerous rooms in your home, judging from accident statistics. How are your kitchen safety habits?

Never cook while wearing a robe with flowing long sleeves, or a filmy nightgown. They catch fire easily.

Turn off burners when they're not in use. Not only is it wasteful, but heat can build up and ignite cabinets over stove.

Fire on top of the stove? Smother it with a pan lid or towel, or baking soda. NEVER use water. Fire in the oven? Turn off heat and let it burn out. Don't open the door; this will feed the fire with more oxygen.

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

A man who was a professed Christian was taken seriously ill. He became troubled about the little love he felt in his heart for God, and spoke to a friend about it.

This is how the friend answered him:

"When I go home from here, I expect to take my baby on my knee, look into her sweet eyes, listen to her charming prattle, and tired as I am, her presence will rest me; for I love that child with unutterable tenderness. But she loves me little. If my heart were breaking, it would not disturb her sleep. If my body were racked with pain, it would not interrupt her play. If I were dead, she would forget me in a few days. Besides this, she has never brought me a penny, but was a constant expense to me. I am not rich, but there is not money enough in the world to buy my baby. How is it? Does she love me, or do I love her? Do I withhold my love until I know she loves me? Am I waiting for her to do something worthy of my love before extending it?"

This practical illustration of the love of God for His children caused the tears to roll down the sick man's face. "Oh, I see," he said, "It is not my love to God, but God's love for me, that I should be thinking of. I do love Him now as I never loved Him before."

"Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins." (1 John 4:10).

In Northville

A 1974 car stolen from Fairbrook just west of Wing Street was recovered the following day in Detroit.

According to city police, the car was taken between 7:30 and 10:15 p.m. last week Tuesday. At 11 a.m. Wednesday, Detroit police reported the car had been found on Fort and Pleasant streets, completely burned out.

Breaking and entering a building under construction on Washington Circle was reported to police Saturday morning. The owner said the front door had been kicked in and the building used for a party, judging from the litter left. The break-in took place between Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

A jog cart, valued at $450, was reported missing from Barn E of Northville Downs. The owner told officers the cart was taken between 6:30 and 7 p.m. Thursday. Made from natural color wood, it has a black leather seat and chrome wheels.

A 28-year-old Inkster man found that little mistakes can lead to trouble.

Police on routine patrol last week Wednesday night saw him go through a stop sign and observed his car had a defective exhaust.

During the traffic stop, officers ran a routine warrant check on his license and discovered his license was suspended 11 times and that five traffic warrants were out for his arrest.

In addition, the license plates on his 1965 Cadillac belonged to a 1967 Mercury.

In Township

Equipment valued at nearly $1,400 was reported missing from Howell Construction at 43230 Seven Mile Road.

According to township police reports, a storage shed on the property was broken into and electrical and hand tools taken. The theft was discovered last week Monday.

A Northville township woman who reported her two sons kidnapped later dropped charges when the boys were returned.

State police received a report from the woman shortly before 2 a.m. Saturday who said her 12 and nine year old sons had been kidnapped from her home by a friend of hers. She said she found the boys gone when she returned home about 11 p.m.

According to state police, the suspect was found at a pay phone on Northville Road south of Seven Mile about 3:30 a.m. with the children. He told troopers he had called the woman to make sure she was home before he dropped off the children but that he had not kidnapped them.

Township police are investigating a break-in on Beck Road near Six Mile Road which took place during the first weekend in January.

According to reports, a window was broken, possibly with a ladder, and boxes inside the home had been opened. Nothing was discovered missing but police found footprints near the home.

Striking teachers picketing Crestwood schools in Dearborn Heights resulted in a request from that police department for assistance. Township police were called to Dearborn Heights and remained on the scene last Wednesday from 6 until 10 a.m.

In Novi

Approximately $300 damage was done to Grandview Orchard December 7, as burglars ransacked the office and took $10 from the building. Two windows, a large glass window to the office, and a front door glass window used to gain entry were broken. A cash register was damaged.

An $80 electric sander and $109 sabre saw were stolen from Northwest Industries, 39550 Grand River January 6.

According to Lieutenant Richard Faulkner, the sander was recovered from a suspect. The matter has been referred to the prosecutor's office for complaint and warrant.

Novi Detective Bureau recovered a Binks air compressor January 7 in the area of Pontiac Trail and West Road as the result of investigation by the detective bureau. The compressor and tank were valued at $5,000.

They were stolen from White Motor Company of Farmington Hills in October.

Approximately $200 was taken from a Novi High School teacher on three separate occasions at the school.

Through investigation, Novi detectives have recovered $160. Police have three suspects, all age 14.

Approximately $161 was taken in late October, $10 prior to the Christmas vacation, and $6 January 6.

In Wixom

A Westland man, Gerald Kirk, was taken to Botsford Hospital with a non-incapacitating injury after his car struck a train December 8.

The train was going southeast on the C&O tracks when it was struck by the Kirk car, which was southbound on Beck Road. He was released from Botsford Hospital and Wixom police sought a warrant charging him with impaired driving. Kirk was also arrested for being drunk in public. He was released on $1,000 personal bond.

Wixom police are searching for a burglar with some very strange tastes.

Police report that 192 packages of Lipton's Onion Cup of Soup was taken January 2-6 from a storage room in Village Apartments. Value was listed as more than $80.

Juvenile Crimes Rise 1974 Report Shows

Juvenile crimes more than doubled during 1974 when compared with figures for 1973.

A total of 209 juvenile offenders came in contact with police last year, up from 85 in 1973.

According to Patrolman William Harrison, officer in the city's juvenile division, the increase can largely be attributed to "a rise in population and revision of the report system".

In past years, one offense report may have included several juveniles. Last year, offense totals reflected the total number of juveniles involved, not only the number of incidents.

Categories showing increases included traffic offenses, up from 48 to 68; loitering, up from five to 14; larceny and shoplifting, up from four to 24; vandalism up from three to 19; runaways, up from three to seven; auto theft, up from none to two; and minors in possession of alcohol, up from one to 28.

Decreases were recorded in break-ins, down from two to none, and sex offenses, down from two to none.

Ask Township to Investigate

Residents Oppose Sewer Route

How did the Northville School Board select Franklin Road as the route of its storm sewer for the new middle school on Franklin and Bradner roads?

Route of the drain, selected in early October by the school board, is being opposed by residents of Franklin Road. The residents, in a petition presented to the township board last week, are contending the sewer will destroy the natural growth on the west side of Franklin Road.

Township trustees directed the supervisor to check with the school board on "the details of determining the route. People along the road seem to be concerned and the township should be concerned on their behalf," Trustee Charles Rosenberg said.

In October when the route was determined, school board members said the alternate route, along the back property line of land owned by Township Deputy Clerk Margaret Tegge, was not selected because she was asking what they believed was too much money for an easement. Negotiations with her attorney failed to produce an agreement and the alternate route was selected.

Although the Franklin Road route is more expensive, school board members refused to set a precedent of paying the $25 per foot Mrs.

Tegge was asking for the easement when utility companies pay only between $1 and $2 per foot. They offered $4 and were turned down.

The petition from the residents also fears the sewer will cause erosion or sedimentation in the stream endangering adjacent property owners.

Mrs. M. J. Colling said the residents want the drain built with controls over water flowing into the stream.

Mrs. Tegge added that the "trees are important to us" and that the sewer will change the character of the road.

Trustee John MacDonald asked Mrs. Tegge if she had attended school board meetings when the matter of placement of the drain was discussed and she said she had not.

Mrs. Tegge was represented at the meetings with the school board's subcommittee and the full board by her attorney. None of the residents on Franklin Road voiced any objection at the October school board meeting when the route was determined.

Township board members also asked the supervisor and engineer to obtain a copy of the plans for the storm sewer and to meet with school board representatives to discuss the proposed by the school district.

In a related matter, township trustees accepted a report from the engineer on feasibility of installing sanitary sewers in Park Gardens Subdivision on Five Mile Road. Estimated cost was placed at $510,000 or $2,830 per benefited property owner.

Trustees also directed that the supervisor and engineer keep a close watch on the matter of obtaining a point of discharge for the proposed sewer system.

Board members also agreed that the $1,412 engineer's bill for the sewer study be paid from the water and sewer fund.

Franklin Road Petition Riles School Board

"We have made the decision, it is our decision and we cannot constantly rehash it," Northville School Board Trustee Karen Wilkinson said of a request from Franklin Road residents that the school board reconsider its middle school storm drain route.

Residents sent a petition to the school board, charging that if the storm drain is placed in Franklin Road it will harm the area. See related story.

Trustee John Hobart, chairman of the school board's facilities subcommittee said the board has "no decision but to continue on our present course. We had a special meeting in October to decide the route and no one objected. We have been discussing this since August of 1972."

It was a consensus opinion of the six board members present (President Martin Rinehart out of town and unable to attend the meeting) that they have reached the best decision possible.

None of the residents of Franklin Road were present at the meeting.

Superintendent Raymond Spear asked where "13 of the 14 residents who signed the petition were when the board was considering the other routes. We have only heard from one resident in the two years we spent before we decided on the route."

Only Deputy Township Clerk Margaret Tegge, with whom the board attempted to negotiate for an easement, had voiced concern over the route to the board during the past two years.

Spear added that "we have looked at four options and seriously pursued three of them and each time we met with failure in all three. We have taken the only option left and now they're asking us to look again at the other three."

Other options considered by the board were two routes down Bradner Road which met with opposition from Wayne County Road Commission because of existing rights of way, easement restrictions and an existing sewer system unable to handle any more storm water.

The third option was along the back property line of land owned by Mrs. Tegge with settlement on an easement price unable to be reached.

Trustee Andrew Orphan reminded the board that final jurisdiction over whether or not "we build the drain in Franklin Road rests with the county road commission. The problem is now between the residents and the county."

Trustee Sylvia Gucken questioned what pipes, machinery and road barricades were doing on Franklin Road and whether or not that was for the school's drain.

"Spear explained that bids have not been let on the school project and that the county is still studying school district plans. "The equipment must be for the water line the township is putting in."

Board Vice-President Dr. Orlo Robinson said he found it "interesting that we have not heard about the disruption of the road by that water line."

Board members directed the superintendent to send a letter to residents who signed the petition, informing them of how and why the drain's route was selected and assuring them that it is the intention of the school district to preserve the character of Franklin Road.

In Downs' Suit

Grants Full Hearing on Issues

A full hearing of the issues surrounding Northville Downs' suit against Racing Commissioner Leo Shirley has been granted by Wayne County Circuit Judge Thomas Foley and will be held in his court Monday at 9 a.m.

Last Monday Judge Foley ruled that briefs filed by Attorney Arthur G. Brauer, representing the Northville harness racing track, contained sufficient merit to award a full hearing on the issue.

Legal counsel for the Attorney General, representing Commissioner Shirley, had asked for dismissal of the case on the basis that the appeal was made too late.

Northville Downs, which opened an 83-night meet on January 1 that is slated to run into April, is challenging Commissioner Shirley's 1975 harness racing schedule which awards all of the more lucrative summer racing dates to Hazel Park and Livonia tracks. Downs' Executive Manager John Carlo claims that the commissioner had promised Northville Downs that it could retain its 54-night summer schedule if it would make improvements at its track to accommodate winter racing.

Filing briefs in support of the Downs' position were Attorneys Philip Ogilvie for the City of Northville and Herman Moehman for the Northville Driving Club, landlords of the track facility.

Belly Dancers Entertain

The Schoolcraft College Organization of Arab Students will sponsor a Middle Eastern night, complete with an ethnic dinner, music and entertainment, in the Upper Waterman Campus Center, 18600 Haggerty Road, on Saturday, January 18, from 7 p.m. to midnight.

In an effort to afford a better understanding of their cultures, the organization has arranged with Robert Breithaupt of Schoolcraft's Culinary Arts Department, to offer a dinner including shish-ka-bob (lamb), rice and meat, tabulah (salad) and baklava (a dessert of thin layers of pastry with honey).

The Behu Brothers Orchestra will provide music for listening and dancing and there will be a floor show featuring exotic belly dancers. All this for $5 per person. Beer will be available for $1.35 per pitcher.

Tickets are available in the Upper Waterman cafeteria Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Phone the Student Activities Office for more information.

Novi Paving Moves Ahead

Two steps in the council process toward the future repaving of much of Willowbrook Estates II were approved by the council January 8.

Those steps had previously been approved by the council, but City Manager Ed Kriewall said one step had not been advertised, as required, in the newspaper—necessitating repeat of the remaining steps. He said, however, that he does not expect the project to be held up.

Passed were resolutions three and four. Resolution three directs the city manager to prepare final plans, costs, assessment district, etc. while resolution four allows the city clerk to set the second public hearing date. That hearing, set for February 18, is to hear objections to making the proposed improvements and resolution five, which directs the assessor to prepare the special assessment role may be passed.

breakfast to be held at the Holiday Inn in Farmington January 25. Persons planning to attend are asked to call Candy Creedon, 349-5251 or Joanne McNary, 349-1063.

Distinguished Service Award nomination forms are available from Jaycee Project Co-chairman Phil McNary or Dave Creedon.

Meet Jointly

Novi council and Novi school board will meet at 7:30 p.m. January 23 in the school board administration building to discuss a number of topics.

Main items on the agenda include dual tax collection, option on the civic center property and the paving of Taft Road.

Deadline's Set For Jaycee Award

Deadline for nominations for the annual Distinguished Service Award (DSA) given annually by the Novi Jaycees is Saturday.

Judging will be conducted January 22. The DSA is during National Jaycee Week, January 19-25 each year and is designed to both encourage and honor humanitarian efforts and the personal qualities of idealism, initiative, and involvement. In this vein, the award is given to the Novi resident judged to have performed the greatest service to his community.

All residents over 18 years of age are eligible for nomination. This is the third DSA presentation. Previous winners were J. Fred Buck and Don and Lauren Burch.

News Briefs

SPECIAL MEETING of the Northville township board will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. On the agenda for discussion will be awarding bids for township insurance, proposed contract with Novi Ambulance and a report from Police Chief Ronald Nisun on expenses he anticipates for his department between now and March 31, the end of the budget year.

TAX COLLECTION for Northville School District is better than last year. That's the word from Business Director Earl Busard who said that despite the economy $1.6 million or one-third of the school taxes have been paid so far.

TOWNSHIP Patrolman Gary Batzloff will be presented with a certificate from Northville township board recognizing his achievement of the highest standing in his graduating class. Batzloff finished first at the Criminal Justice Training Center and has earned a $25 savings bond from the center. Trustees will make their presentation at their meeting in February.

BETTING and attendance continue to show increases over last year at Northville Downs. For the first 10 nights of the current harness racing meet an average of 3,498 fans are wagering $325,466 nightly. That's a hike in attendance of 8.7 per cent and in mutual handle of 7.3 per cent.

in each case. Fried also said that he will also be submitting briefs soon on a case involving the landlord ordinance brought against the city by Steve Glantz.

"We're now depending on the tenant coming in and complaining," said Fried. "We can't depend on this because tenants feel they're under the control of the landlord. They are not aware of their rights."

To Help Unemployed

Cities Receive Funds

renewable" depending on the state of the economy. If the grant is not renewable, "we would be in the same boat we're in right now," said the manager.

Kriewall said that he would bring the possibility of such layoffs to representatives of police department unions and the teamsters yesterday (Tuesday) but that the meeting was not specifically called for that purpose. He said that the council had requested that he explain the present financial position of the city to those unions.

"I'm not going to make any recommendations (in regards to layoffs in light of the new grant)," stated Kriewall. "I will discuss the ramifications."

Because there is no council meeting this week, Kriewall said that as regards the grant application which is due Friday, "what we may do is poll council or may ask that this be a preliminary submittal and try to reserve the right to change the allocation of monies. I think the county would go along with that."

Novi's smaller neighbor, Wixom, stands to receive $80,465 despite its smaller population. The money is being doled out by the county on the basis of today's unemployment figures compared to the estimated labor force at the time of the 1970 census.

Thus Wixom, which has almost doubled in population since that time is seen as having 72 of 804 workers unemployed—approximately 13.8 per cent. Meanwhile Novi is listed as having 161 of 3,887 members of the working force unemployed—despite the fact Novi's real population has increased greatly from the 9,668 population as listed in the 1970 census.

"The county considers 40 per cent of the community as the labor force," explained County Commissioner Lew Coy. "We had to come up with a formula for distributing the CETA funds equally."

Wixom's assistant to the Mayor, Bernie VanOsdale, said that the matter of deciding about the funds would be brought to the attention of the council at its regular council meeting yesterday.

"I don't even know if the council wants to do anything," conceded VanOsdale. He noted that the grant is intended to provide immediate jobs for unemployed residents and that the aim of the program is to pay those persons hired $7,800 in wages and $2,200 in fringe benefits. The city could pay more, but would have to provide the added money.

VanOsdale added that as the situation stands, "It's a matter of whether we can come up with suitable jobs."

He said that department heads have indicated the need for some temporary help and that "a couple could be used in city hall". He added that in the spring, some others could be hired for general clean-up and maintenance of city owned property.

Self-Service Cheap?

The Flammable Liquids Code, adopted by the council is the code used in Detroit and "you picked it up because one of your firemen came from Detroit. He himself visited these communities with self-service gas stations and could find nothing wrong with it."

Sheldon added that Detroit would like to rid itself of the code in order to allow self-service gas stations in the city but "the city commission looks on it as a possible source of revenue" through regulation of stations and will not change the code.

The Marathon representative said that he believes the Novi council was opposed for various reasons. "Some of the conversation led me to believe they're all mad at the oil companies and think we created all the problems. Gosh, it isn't my fault or that of the oil companies."

"All we planned was opening one self-service station in a few communities for test purposes in communities such as Livonia, Westland, Roseville, Flint and Waterford Township. You're the only community giving me a problem. All the others are under construction."

While Sheldon said he has little new to present to the council Monday, he admits "I got such a hassle last time, maybe it would be better to send one of our contractors who construct the stations."

Novi Fire Marshal Ed McBride would not comment over the telephone concerning the Marathon request because of the "nature" of the matter.

McBride, at an earlier council meeting, had indicated a willingness to go along with Marathon Oil in its request for a self-service gas station. He had indicated that upon viewing another self-service gas station in another community, his worries had subsided.

Tips on Real Estate

by Bruce Roy

Where does the money go? Americans have been earning wages that are the highest in history. We all have the right to enjoy the fruits of our labor, but all too often the money goes for small transitory purchases that give a temporary pleasure at best with little lasting value. Real Estate has permanent value. The satisfaction lasts because you own a piece of America, and you can see with your own eyes where the money went.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?

Surplus funds left in savings accounts have continued to lose their purchasing power, even though higher interest rates are paid—a wise purchase of a home or other investment "Real Estate" will increase in dollar value as dollar value declines in this inflationary economy—hence the term "Real" in "Real Estate" means Real Value.

Before you buy a home or property come in and talk with the experts at BRUCE ROY REALTY, INC., 150 N. Center St., Northville, 349-8700. We will answer your questions and then help you find just the perfect home from our listings. If you are selling a home, remember to call us for the listing as we will handle the complete transaction from the appraising right through to the closing. Open 7 days.
