

Four Seek Two Northville School Board Seats Monday

School officials are predicting a light turnout of voters for Monday's annual school board election in which four candidates are vying for two four-year terms on the Northville board.

In addition, voters will be casting ballots for two of six candidates seeking two six-year terms on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees. Candidate election is the only issue on the ballot.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the 9,284 registered voters in the Northville School District. Paper ballots will be used and absentee ballots may be obtained from the School Administration Offices at 303 West Main Street, Thomas Goulding, administrative assistant for business, said. Superintendent Raymond Spear said he believes the vote will be light "even though the public is interested in economics of today and our budget problems."

"The public is concerned, but not alarmed, about our budget as evidenced by the small turnout at candidates' night last week," Spear said.

Candidates seeking election to the two Northville posts are Incumbent John P. Hobart of 42131 Brampton, John R. Berry of 628 West Main Street, Ralph L. Hay of 383 North Rogers Street and Dr. Robert Mandell of 16548 Winchester Drive.

Not seeking a third four-year term is Trustee Andrew Orphan.

Running for Schoolcraft College posts are six men, all from Livonia. They are Incumbent Ronald W. Cowden, Robert W. Cadotte, Harry G. Greenleaf, Jerome Harris, Richard J. Hayward and Mark Alan McQuesten.

Not seeking re-election is Trustee John M. LaRue.

Biographies of and statements from all candidates may be found inside The Record this week.

Voters are asked to check their school district registration cards to find the precinct in which they vote. Although voting is by precinct, candidates are elected on an at-large basis.

Precinct divisions are:

Precinct One—Votes at Administration Office, 303 West Main Street. Includes all area south of Eight Mile Road, east of Beck Road, west of Northville Road, south of city limits of Northville.

Precinct Two—Votes at Amerman

Elementary, North Center Street, north of Eight Mile. Includes area east of Northville Road to Haggerty, north side of Seven Mile to Eight Mile, including Highland Lakes, Smock and Meadowbrook subdivisions.

Precinct Three—Votes at Administration Office. Area south of Seven Mile, east of Northville Road to the east-and south boundaries of the school district, including Northville Commons, Northville Colony and Haggerty Court.

Precinct Four—Votes at Amerman

Down on The Farm

Park Jogs Memory

"My goodness, you've got horses, too!" exclaimed an excited Helen Whipple as she walked from the farmhouse where she lived many years ago to the nearby barn. A widow who lives now in the city, Mrs. Whipple visited the Living Farm located in Michigan's newest state park, Maybury, and was given a special tour by Park Manager Robert Remer.

The park and the Living Farm, located off Eight Mile near Garfield, opened Sunday.

"Why, I remember when we had horses on the farm here," she said, recalling when her husband managed the farm for Maybury when it had a TB sanatorium. "Oh, they were such fine animals. Retired from the Detroit fire department where they pulled fire rigs."

"I remember once my husband and I were getting ready for a dance in town when one of the hired hands rushed in to tell us ol' Buck had gotten stuck in a little swamp in the field out there," she said pointing across the meadow.

"My husband was in a hurry and didn't want to be bothered, so he quickly told him to go into the cellar and fetch the jug of potato whiskey. Another hired hand liked to take a nap now and then and my husband had given him permission to hide it in our cellar away from his wife."

"Put a little of that whiskey in a gingerale bottle, my husband told him, and take it out there and give Buck a snap."

"So that's what he did. He opened up ol' Buck's mouth and poured it right down his throat. Well, Buck's ears perked right up, and he jumped straight up out of there as smart as you please and galloped full speed all the way back to the barn."

"Oh, those were grand years." Indeed they were, and Helen Whipple remembers the colorful stories about life on the Maybury farm nearly 50 years ago in one of a series of 12 Bicentennial articles that will begin in The Northville Record-Now News on June 25.

Each month until July, 1976, this newspaper will carry a full page story in words and pictures of special places and events out of the past. All locally oriented, they will range from the nostalgic years on the Maybury farm to the electric days when Wixom and Novi parted company to form their separate governments.

Part Time Green Thumb

City to Hire Gardener

A summer gardener is to be hired in Northville to care for flowers and trees located on public property.

That was the decision Monday of the city council, which directed the city manager to hire the gardener immediately.

Based on the council's discussion, a "green thumb" employee of the DPW probably will be named the gardener for the summer and his place on the DPW filled by a part-time college student.

Council acted swiftly in ordering the hiring upon noting the growing number of flowers and trees that have been planted in the city, especially those in city parking lots. "If we don't do something soon all beautification efforts will be for naught," they reasoned.

Meanwhile, council has taken under consideration a recommendation of Councilman Paul Vernon that the South Main Street center boulevard area be curbed and landscaped. Chairman of the beautification commission, he was asked to have a curbing-landscaping proposal prepared for presentation to the county road department which has jurisdiction over the roadway.

Councilmen indicated they would like to see the project completed in time for the 1976 Bicentennial celebration.

One council suggestion is that a shrub-flower mound be constructed at the south end of the center boulevard, similar to the one that the City of Plymouth has created near the north entrance to that city.

320 Seniors to Graduate

Commencement Slated Tuesday

Baccalaureate, graduation, a senior breakfast and an all-night party are just a few of the events awaiting the members of Northville High School's 106th graduating class.

The 320 members of the Class of 1975 will wear the traditional souvenir paper caps with black and orange tassels with their gowns. The girls will wear light blue and the boys will be in navy blue.

On Friday, a special breakfast for seniors will be held at 7:45 a.m. in the high school cafeteria and afterward, seniors will read their wills. Practice for Baccalaureate and graduation will follow the breakfast. Seniors will receive their cap and gown and tickets for the commencement ceremony.

A new format has been designed for Baccalaureate which is scheduled for 9 a.m. Sunday in the high school gymnasium. Four seniors will speak on the theme of "Thanksgiving."

Donald Riffenburg Jr., Dennis Keegan, Suzie Evans and Janice Nyquist will develop the theme in relation to friends, teachers and administrators, parents and a summary of the relationships.

The Reverend Father Gerard Hadad, pastor of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, will address the students while elaborating on the theme presented.

Music for Baccalaureate will be sung by the high school choir under the direction of Donald Renz. Selections include "A Promise of Living" and "Onward Ye People."

Graduation begins at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 10, and weather permitting the ceremony will be held on the football field. In case of rain, the graduation will take place in the gymnasium and students will be limited to four guest tickets each for the gym. Students may obtain tickets following rehearsal.

On graduation night, the Reverend Cedric Whitcomb of the First Baptist Church will give the invocation and benediction. The farewell remarks will be read by Hilde C. G. Vande Velde, a foreign exchange student from Belgium.

Valedictorian Diane Wilkinson and Salutatorian Kurt Anderson will deliver addresses to their classmates.

"Sinfonia Nobilissima" will be played by the Northville High School band under the direction of Robert Williams.

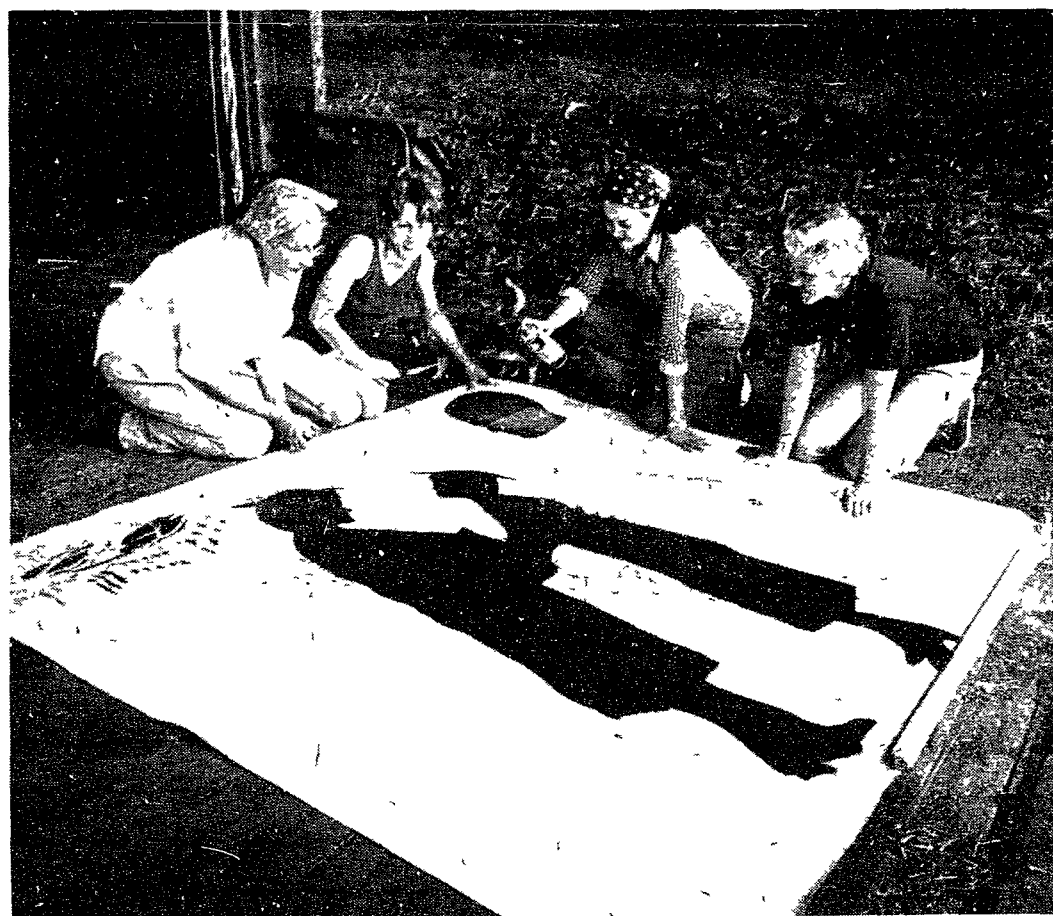

Presenting diplomas to the 320 graduates will be Principal Michael Tarpinian and Superintendent Raymond Spear. Class sponsor is Charles Apap.

Following the ceremony, parents will sponsor the traditional all-night senior party open only to graduates. It will be held at the high school under the theme of "My Generation."

Tradition Survives

Tradition and sentiment reign at Northville High for the Class of 1975. Following a class meeting Monday, seniors voted to hold the graduation ceremonies on the high school football field or, in case of rain, inside the gymnasium. The other choice, the new air conditioned Meads Mill Middle School, came up short on the vote, class sponsor Charles Apap commented.

PARTY PLANNERS—Helping with finishing touches on murals for Northville High School's all-night party following graduation are (left to right) Nancy Baltz, decorations chairman, and some of her committee members, Dee Richardson, Florence Pink and Mary Whiteside. The murals are part of the decorations centering on "My Generation," the theme of this year's party. The traditional event is sponsored by parents of graduating Northville seniors.

Detroit Wants It

Police Post Fight Looms

A showdown battle over the $2.3 million Michigan State Police complex looms Thursday morning when the Joint Capital Outlay Committee meets to consider the project in Lansing.

In a last-minute action a Wayne County caucus of Democrats has demanded that the facility be moved to Detroit, specifically on the campus of Wayne State University.

State Representative Richard A. Young of Dearborn Heights is leading the fight for the Detroit Democrats, while Republican Senator Carl Pursell of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia area heads the campaign to preserve the proposal.

(A letter from Representative Young to Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young proposing the switch to Detroit appears on page 10-A along with an editorial response from The Record.)

Until two weeks ago the long-standing project had received strong support from both the executive and legislative branches of the state government. Money has already been appropriated; bids have been received that are well within the estimates. But they expire on June 28.

A May 6 letter to the Joint Capital Outlay Subcommittee from Almon J. Durkee, State Architect and Director of Bureau of Facilities, recommended approval of the project and the bids received. The project also had the approval of Gerald H. Miller, State Budget Director.

It had been assumed that passage by the eight-member committee of senators and representatives would be routine and that the project would then gain the legislative support it had previously enjoyed.

But the committee has postponed action for the past two weeks. Representative

Young, a member of the Joint Capital Outlay Committee, has urged Detroit interests to appear at next Thursday's session to oppose the Northville site.

Senator Pursell is rallying support from

Farmland Gets A Tax Break

Owners of farmland and open space property in Northville Township may be eligible for tax relief under certain circumstances under a Michigan law passed last year, and now may apply for such exemption, township officials noted this week.

To alleviate "rapid and often premature conversion of lands uniquely suited for agriculture and open space to more intensive use" Public Act 116 was passed with strong support from both houses and signed by Governor William G. Milliken.

Provisions for administration have been set up by the Department of Natural Resources and will be handled through local governing bodies.

Northville Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright announced that the township has information on the program and application forms which officials will assist in filling out.

Northville Township Planning Commission pointed out at its meeting last Tuesday that the township qualifies to handle

Wright-Cook Vows Read in OLV Ceremony

Suzan Wright became the bride of Edward Cook in a Nuptial Mass at 7 p.m. May 16 at Our Lady of Victory Church.

Father Gerard Hadad conducted the youth-oriented and individualized service in which the young couple personally greeted parents and friends attending.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kunz of 45975 West Main Street, Northville, and of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cook of 41810 Seven Mile Road, Northville.

As Howard Wright gave his daughter in marriage in the double-ring service, she wore a gown of candlelight crepe. Fashioned by the bride, it was trimmed with rows of ecru lace on the bodice, collar and cuffed, long puff sleeves. The skirt extended into a short train.

Her fingertip veil was held by a cap of embroidered, cut-out flowers made by the bride's mother.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of dried and silk flowers—speciosa lilies, pink rose buds, baby's breath and ivy with maroon accents.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wright of Belleville, the bride's brother and sister-in-law, were attendants with Mrs. Wright wearing a mint green halter dress with white collar. Her flowers, in a white basket, were a permanent "memento," as were the bride's, and included baby's breath, white silk daisies and pink silk rose buds.

John Heater of Novi, a friend of the bridegroom, and Kevin Corbin, cousin of the bride from Rochester, ushered.

A reception and buffet dinner followed for about 70 friends and relatives at the Northville First United Methodist Church.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD COOK

MRS. BOBBY EDDINGTON, Jr.

Bobby Eddington Weds in Brighton

The First United Methodist Church of Brighton was the setting for the wedding of Charlotte Ann Brown and Bobby Gene Eddington, Jr. on Friday, May 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Brown of 11141 Spencer Road, Brighton, are parents of the bride. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby G. Eddington, Sr. of 20900 Taft Road, Northville.

The 7:30 evening ceremony was performed by the Reverend Kearney Kirkby before an altar adorned with vases of white daisies and babies' breath and candelabra.

Organist Fritzie Seger, accompanied the soloist Karen Todt as she sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "Never My Love." The bride's cousin, Bill Cameron, playing the euphonium, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory white-slipper satin featuring appliqued flowers down the center front of the fully gathered skirt and long tapered sleeves.

Her ivory white shadow veil of waist length was attached to a matching satin headpiece and her long train was also bordered with appliqued flowers.

To complete her ensemble the bride wore a three strand pearl necklace and carried a bridal bouquet of white, yellow and blue daisies.

Maid of honor Bonnie Lynn Tarrant of Brighton wore a long yellow dress and a matching wide brimmed hat with satin ribbon.

Wearing dresses identically to the maid of honor's, only in blues and yellows, were bridesmaids Pat Jones, Debbie Slagle, sister of the bridegroom, and Charleen Brown, sister of the bride.

The bride's attendants all carried bouquets of yellow and blue daisies.

The bridegroom chose Jim Portman as best man as David Brown, brother of the bride, Jerry Slagle, the groom's brother-in-law, Gary Eddington, his brother, and Mike Rinsinger seated the guests.

Mrs. Brown wore a long coral gown with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose a lilac floorlength gown and white

Immediately following the ceremony 250 guests greeted the couple at a reception held at the Knights of Columbus Hall near Howell.

A buffet luncheon was served and the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown, cut the traditional tiered wedding cake. The guest book was tended by Karen Todt as the couple's attendants, Bonnie Tarrant, Pat Jones and Jim Portman assisted the couple with opening and displaying gifts.

As the newlyweds left for their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a white pants suit with halter top and an orchid pinned at her shoulder.

The new Mrs. Eddington is a 1974 graduate of Brighton High School and is employed at the Acupuncture Clinic in Brighton.

Her husband, a 1974 graduate of Hartland High School, attended Detroit Engineering Institute and Lawrence Tech. He is employed at Cast Forge Company, Howell.

The young couple is residing in Brighton.

Island Encounter Leads to Marriage

By JEAN DAY

A ROMANCE which began on the Balearic island of Ibiza in the Mediterranean Sea and spanned two continents culminated in the marriage of Gail Sue Luchtman of Northville to James Stewart Lusby May 10 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Dedham, Massachusetts.

Gail is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Luchtman of 551 Orchard Drive and is a graduate of Northville High School and of Western Michigan University.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Lusby of Suffern, New York. The senior Lusby is president of Diners Club.

Gail and Kathleen Dutton of San Francisco, who later was her honor maid at the high noon ceremony, were spending six months in Europe when the couple met. The bridegroom, a graduate of St. Paul's School in Concord, New Hampshire, and Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut, is chairman of the history department at Fessenden School in West Newton, Massachusetts.

He and Jay St. John of Boston, who later served as best man, were on a summer visit to the Mediterranean area when the couple met on the Spanish island.

Gail's father recalls that they first became aware of the romantic possibility when they received a telegram asking about Gail's itinerary. It seemed the future bridegroom had lost it.

The couple did meet again in Rome and continued the friendship here. Their wedding reception — buffet luncheon was held in Hart House on the sprawling, 40-acre campus of Fessenden School. Guests attended from California, Michigan, New York, Virginia and Connecticut.

After a Cape Cod wedding trip the newlyweds will live in West Newton. Gail, who is a social work major, plans to continue her education at Boston University.

NORTHVILLE TOWN HALL awards totaling $500 will be presented this year with groups interested in receiving money asked to apply by June 30. Although Town Hall had a disappointing year, which might be attributed to the general economy as well as to holding the lectures out-of-town at Madonna College, awards will be given to community organizations.

"Some groups depend on us every year," the committee explains, pointing out that such important items as braces for children are purchased with it.

Town Hall actually is dipping into its reserves and getting an assist from Our Lady of Victory League to make the presentations. Applications may be made to Northville Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, 48167.

Committee members may be contacted for information. They are Mrs. H.F. Wagenschutz, 349-2976, Mrs. Roy Mattison, 349-3476, Mrs. E.Q. Proctor of Farmington, 474-3698, Mrs. M. Hough of Plymouth, 453-2814, or Mrs. Francis Hensley of Livonia, 421-7095. Northville attorney Herman Moehlman also serves on the committee.

"HAVE A LITTLE PRIDE" is the appeal of the Northville Branch of the Woman's Farm and Garden Association to those who are taking the blooms (and even whole plants) from the planters in downtown Northville almost as soon as club members get them in place. The flowers are red, white and blue to carry out the Bicentennial theme and have been bought with branch funds and by the city as well.

They were planted in parking lot tubs and planters behind Northville Square and on Main Street just last Wednesday.

At its meeting at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. John Starcevic, 18228 Läraugh, the branch will salute International Women's Year with a program, "Man and Woman," to be presented by Ruth Nalepa.

Mrs. James Northrup is chairman of the day, assisted by Mrs. Hans Andersen, Mrs. Dempsey Ebert, Mrs. Robert Yoder and Mrs. Arthur Palarchio.

SEVENTY NAMES have been inscribed and accompanied by $5 donations to the Northville Historical Society for the signature quilt which is a project of Mrs. Barbara Scantlin's to aid the Mill Race Restoration. She now has a sample of what the blue and white quilt will look like when it is embroidered.

The sample is on view in the old library building in the Mill Race Village and was the object of much interest as Michigan Week visitors toured the building. Mrs. Scantlin is concerned that many may not be aware that more signatures are needed for the project. Your name as you wish it embroidered together with $5 donation may be sent to Northville P.O. Box 71 in care of the historical society.

Women of the community, Mrs. Scantlin explains, have promised to embroider and then quilt the spread which will be white with blue signatures and piping. The completed quilt will be on display in one of the Mill Race homes.

Exchange Students Take to Jeans

Northville High School's five exchange students are virtually indistinguishable from their American counterparts until their European or South American accents give them away.

They're proof that ground-scrapping blue jeans are the student uniform almost the world over.

When they gathered informally at the high school for a group picture —without advance notice — all wore varieties of jeans.

The three European students, who have been enrolled since last fall, are Ulrike Raulfs from Germany, Hilde VandeVelde from Belgium and Elizabeth Ferle from Yugoslavia.

Joining them in mid-January were Edward Sena of Uruguay and Myrian e Melo of Brazil.

When 19-year-old Hilde arrived at the home of her Northville hosts, the Bruce Turnbolls, of 365 Eaton Drive, she brought with her several dresses.

She soon found they weren't needed at the high school, Mrs. Turnbull noted as she mentioned that Hilde's mother confirmed that the jeans are worn in Belgium and most of Europe.

Unlike most exchange students who come here, Hilde has had the fun of having her mother share the experience firsthand. Mrs. Denise VandeVelde was a house guest of the Turnbolls earlier this month. While she was here, the Turnbolls took their visitors to Niagara Falls.

Hilde and her mother then flew to Washington, D. C., with her mother continuing on to New York and home. Their home is in Aalst, about 20 miles from Ghent and Brussels, Belgium. Hilde's father teaches in a technical school. There are four other children in her family.

When Edward Sena arrived January 16 from Uruguay, however, he brought the kind of shirts and ties he had worn in private school at home.

Edward, who has just celebrated his 19th birthday, is staying with the Joseph Pisani family at 18219 Jamestown Circle in King's Mill.

Mrs. Pisani reports that he had to buy his jeans here "to look like everybody else."

His fellow student from South America, Myrian e Melo, is living with the John R. Kirwan family of 20428 Lexington, Northville. He is a circuit judge. For the Memorial holiday the family and Myrian went north to the Kirwan cottage.

Ulrike Raulfs, 17, comes from a little German town, Cuxhaven. She has been the house guest of the Robert Gould family of 908 Ely Court. She was among the group of exchange students who visited Washington this month, departing the day after the group picture was taken.

Elizabeth Ferle of Yugoslavia is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wheatley and their family at 44875 Thornapple Lane. The Wheatleys previously have hosted a South American student.

Smiling Elizabeth was wearing the bib-top variety of overall when The Record photographer snapped the group.

While enjoying travel experiences with their families and attending school here, the visitors also are sharing their backgrounds with other students, visiting school classrooms and answering questions. Ulrike and Hilde were scheduled last week to tell about their countries to sixth grade classes at Cooke Annex.

Northville families have for many years participated in the Ann Arbor-based Youth for Understanding program. When these youngsters return to their homes, they will be replaced by others arriving in August

List Achievements

Two Northville students were among 357 completing degree requirements at Albion College where 1975 spring commencement exercises were held May 10.

The spring graduates included 88 who completed their degrees with honors, earning grade point averages of 3.3 or better on a 4 scale. Forty-two of the 88 were graduated cum laude (with honors, 3.3 to 3.5), including David D. Wright, a biology major. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Wright of 19850 Westhill Road.

Dan C Taylor, a history major graduate, was among the 71 students who earned teaching certificates. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Taylor of 401 Ely Drive South

To qualify for the honor roll, a student must carry 12 hours and make a 3.25 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Alice Karow, daughter of Stanley Eugene Karow of Rhonswood Street in Northville, graduated May 24 from The Madeira School, Greenway, Virginia.

Miss Karow entered The Madeira School, an independent college preparatory school for girls near Washington, D.C. in 1973. While at Madeira she was a member of the riding club, glee club and art club. Through the Madeira School's co-curricular program she participated in a congressional internship program during her junior year.

In her senior year she worked one day a week as an instructor with Discovery Inc., an Outward Bound type organization. Miss Karow expects to enter William and Mary in the fall.

Three Northville High School seniors have received Board of Regents Scholarships at Eastern Michigan University.

They are Raymond Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schwartz of Livonia, formerly of Northville, Christine Sutton, daughter of the Dennis Suttons of 18621 Jamestown Circle, and Harry Zion, son of the Norman Zions of 744 Carpenter.

The awards, amounting to $450 each, are applicable to the recipients' university tuition expenses.

All three winners will be freshmen at Eastern this fall. Raymond will be studying art, Christine will be studying mathematics and Harry will be studying biology.

Stephen Serkaian, a sophomore at Central Michigan University, is one of 63 men recently initiated into the CMU chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, a men's national scholastic honorary society.

The CMU chapter of Phi Eta Sigma was started in 1966 and is one of 181 chapters in the country. To be eligible for membership in Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman must obtain a grade point average of 3.5 or higher by the end of his first or second semester in college. The CMU chapter has a current membership of 163 men.

Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Serkaian 45755 Bloomcrest Drive, Northville and is a graduate of Northville High School. He is majoring in broadcasting.

Arkansas State University registrar Lloyd Howell has named 1,046 students to the honor roll for the spring semester.

Included on the list is Richard L. Pierce of Novi.

Forum Set for Nurses

Schoolcraft College has scheduled a Forum on June 10 for nurses, hospital administrators and others concerned with growing dissatisfaction in health-care services in the United States.

Ms. Barbara Bargo, a registered nurse, will serve as the Forum's facilitator. She said it will seek answers to questions like why nurses are leaving the profession; the basic dissatisfactions they are experiencing and what can be done.

The Forum will allow interaction among those who are seeking ways to cause change in nursing and those who are considering or have decided to leave the profession.

Ms. Bargo said participants will be assisted in taking a in-depth look at their total skills profile as they may apply toward a new profession.

Discussion will center on ways change can be facilitated within the traditional hospital setting.

Presented by Schoolcraft's Women's Programs and Services, the Forum will be held from 7-9 p.m. June 10 in F-370 of the Forum Building. Registration costs $1 at the door, but enrollment is limited and pre-registration is suggested by calling 591-6400, Ext. 217.

168 Novi Graduates Receive Diplomas in Ceremony

The largest graduating class in the history of Novi High School, 168, went through graduation ceremonies at the high school last night.

Parents, relatives, friends, and school officials gathered for the big event.

Featured speaker at the event was student Brian Schingee who was elected by the senior class to speak — the first year a student was selected to be the main speaker.

Board President Robert Wilkins gave out the diplomas. Valedictorians in the graduating class are Denise Koenig and Michael Ossian — both ending their high school careers with a 4.0 GPA. Salutatorian is Deborah Friedman who graduated with a 3.97 GPA.

Councilmen Suggest Tax

Eye Randolph Drain Cost

Novi Council Monday continued to show opposition to the proposed apportionment for the Randolph Street Drain and indicated that it may consider going with an ad valorem tax to pay Novi's portion of the cost.

Councilmembers reiterated previous statements that Novi is paying for the mistakes of Northville.

The tentative apportionment for cost of the drain calls for Novi to pay 35.40427 percent of the cost, Northville 62.19039 percent; Wayne County 32.774 percent and Oakland County, 2.0776 percent.

"It was due to their error ... those apartment buildings (Lexington Commons) should never have been allowed to be built. Now they're expecting the city of Novi to pick up part of the cost of their mistake," said Councilman Louie Campbell.

Other councilmen argued the relative merits of whether the city should have gone with the drain to allow for future capacity, or if Novi should have stuck with retention basins to allow an even runoff that would not have sent through an abnormal amount of drainage at any time.

City Engineer Chuck Fenske stated that the council had decided previously to go with the drain because the engineers had reported that cost of building retention ponds would be almost equal to the cost of the city's portion of the drain.

Main question concerned payment of the $265,958 Novi would have to provide as its portion of the project.

The city could go with either special assessment or an ad valorem tax on the entire city.

City Manager Ed Kriewall said that if special assessment is used, owners of affected property would have to pay $800 an acre.

"And this is so he can develop his land and run drainage into an open ditch," added Denis Berry.

There are 336 affected property owners in Novi who would have to pay a total of $265,000.

Councilman Campbell suggested that the city consider levying a debt service millage for not only the Randolph Drain Project but also for the impending Patnales Drain and other future similar projects.

"The day of reckoning is coming and it's coming fast," stated Campbell.

Campbell noted that the Patnales Drain will affect 75 percent of the city's residents when it is installed.

According to Campbell, it would take less than three-sixteenth of a mill to pay off bonding for the Randolph Drain project if bonding is for 15 years.

Kriewall noted that the attorney for the Intercounty

Drain Board had advised him that the city should go with an ad valorem tax.

Councilmen also questioned exactly where in the cost estimates is included the cost of gaining right-of-way through Novi.

A public hearing on the matter is scheduled for June 10 at 3 p.m. in the Northville City Hall.

Although Novi Council agreed, that a pay classification change and a wage hike of the DPW foreman last year by former City Manager Harold Saunders was illegal, the council Monday decided to allow the employees to continue in the higher pay range until negotiations with the Teamsters is ratified.

Council last week was faced with a year old question of what to do concerning a $3,000 pay hike and pay range change negotiated by Saunders with the union regarding foreman Edward Shoemaker.

Last year the city found itself in the position of not having a DPW superintendent due to the resignation of Robert Shaw. Shoemaker, second in command as DPW foreman, had submitted his resignation to take over a job with another community at a substantial increase in salary.

Saunders was faced with the problem of getting someone to take over the duties of the DPW superintendent and decided to promote Shoemaker while adding the extra duties — which would be justification for the higher pay in salary.

Saunders believed that he had authority to promote employees based upon a resolution passed in 1973 directing him to "administer, maintain, update and modify that (classification plan)...as may be necessary for the efficient and proper administration of a personnel system for the city employees." The charter also provides that "the city manager shall be the chief administrative officer of the city."

Saunders then talked with the mayor and mayor pro-tem Romaine Roethel to

of gaining right-of-way through Novi.

A public hearing on the matter is scheduled for June 10 at 3 p.m. in the Northville City Hall.

Millage Rate Is 6.5

Novi Council Adopts $1,688,000 Budget

Despite protests on several items, Novi City Council last Wednesday approved a $1,688,310 budget and fixed the millage rate at 6½ mills.

Approval of the budget came despite the fact Councilman Denis Berry vocally attacked the fact that Novi will have to come up with some $360,000 to take care of the city portion of the Northville-Novl Randolph Drain and to pay off a $100,000 sewer debt due later this year.

But council also recognized the need to approve a budget to stop the city from coming to a standstill. At the suggestion of Councilman Louie Campbell, each councilman listed his or her major objections for the record.

Berry objected to adopting the budget hoping that "the good fairy" would come along to bail the city out. Berry questioned where the city would come up with $100,000 due on the Walled Lake Sewer Debt due this fall. City Manager Ed Kriewall responded that at one of the city's meetings with developers, the developers said they would make a special effort to buy up the sewer taps. One hundred fifty to 200 taps must be sold to bring in enough revenue to pay off the debt.

Kriewall also noted that the Huron Rouge fund can give a temporary loan if the taps are not sold but Berry objected to the fact that if that happens, the city would be staring in the face a huge debt going into the following fiscal year.

Berry also questioned how the city would pay off its $266,000 portion of the Randolph Drain. Kriewall replied that the city could pay it off through an ad valorem tax or special assessment — or the city could decide to abort its portion of the project.

Council also discussed the fate of Novi's Traffic Bureau and the Community Service Officers and came up with some interesting suggestions.

Berry questioned eliminating the traffic bureau and suggested if this stand is taken, the city could save some $8,000 by eliminating a clerk in that department. The officers, meanwhile, would be absorbed back into the patrol division of the city. Police Chief Lee BeGole noted, however, that the total $8,000 would not be saved since the traffic bureau clerk takes care of accident reports and those would still have to be taken care of.

"I'd be hesitant to save $8,000 if we lose a department," said Mayor Robert Daley. The mayor contended, also, that there wouldn't be the concentrated traffic enforcement effort that there is at present since traffic enforcement would be just one of a number of functions of each policeman. Campbell suggested that at least one person per shift be assigned exclusively to traffic enforcement.

Concerning the Community Service Bureau, Berry suggested that the three CSOs could be transferred into the building department enforcement area since the CSOs do code enforcement in their present capacity.

"I think this could save us laying off three people," stated Berry. "We would certainly assist the building department and the city as a whole."

Earl Bailey, head of the building department, had stated during the budget hearing that "we're functioning — but we're not functioning adequately." The building department has been hurt as employees have resigned and not been replaced.

Kriewall had recommended that the building department come back to the city when more employees are needed by the department. BeGole, Sergeant Dale Gross, and Corporal Barabas are to provide reports on the two bureaus in question.

Council also knocked out

Taylor Man's Body Found in Novi Pond

Foul play has not been ruled out in the apparent drowning death of a 19 year-old Taylor man whose body was discovered Sunday floating in several feet of water in a small pond just south of Grand River and east of Wixom Road in Novi.

Novi detectives have identified the dead man as William Joseph Warren of Taylor. He was employed at the Wixom Ford plant.

The body was discovered by two youngsters using a rowboat on the pond. It was partially hidden by brush along the shoreline. The pond itself is located adjacent to the driveway of Concrete Components, a cement plant on Wixom Road south of Grand River.

According to detectives, the body had been in the water at least four days. The body was fully clothed and a billfold was found on the body.

Tentative identification of the body was made by way of an ID found in the billfold and positive identification was later made through fingerprints of the victim.

Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner said that Dr. John F. Burton, Chief Medical Examiner for Oakland County, examined the body but could make no immediate determination of cause of death.

There was nothing to indicate any type of inflicted injury, according to Faulkner.

No missing person report had been filed on Warren.

According to Faulkner, Warren's mother stated that she had taken him to work the afternoon of May 28 and when she returned to pick him up at midnight, he did not show up. The mother then went home, assuming her son had received a ride home.

The death is still under investigation with a report from the medical examiner expected sometime next week or later.

Wixom Approves Budget; Adds .386 Mill to Levy

Wixom council last Tuesday adopted a proposed $970,000 budget for the upcoming fiscal year but did some last minute haggling and dropped funding of ADE (Alcohol and Drug Education) program of Walled Lake and United Funding request.

The tax rate for the general tax spread was set a 6.61 mills, the same as last year. Council also approved the 3.6 mills to be spread for this year's portion of the sewer. The 3.6 mills will raise $83,656.591.

Council also approved a .386 mill tax levy to raise $32,220 for the fire station contract fund of the city. The money will go to pay off this year's portion of the two new fire stations.

As the council did last minute deliberations on the budget, Councilman Melvin Green suggested that the council should drop ADE's funding request of $2,500.

"I don't know if we can force people through taxes to support a group they may not believe in," stated Green.

"It's the principal of the thing."

"I object to that ADE program and trailer because I don't think it's successful."

Here's Your Candidates for Northville School Board

EDITOR'S NOTE: The League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi recently asked the candidates for school board for biographical information and answers to specific questions. Replies to their questions are presented here for the voters' benefit.

The League of Women Voters is a national non-partisan organization. Its purpose is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in their government. The League never supports or opposes any political party or candidate.

John R. Berry

Age 32, born in Chillicothe, Ohio, is director of Environmental Graphics, Associate of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls Associates in Detroit. Received a BA from Indiana University, MFA from Cranbrook Academy of Art and did additional study at DePaul University and La Universidad Nacional de Mexico. He is a member of Orchard Lake Community Church, president of Cranbrook Academy of Art Alumni Association, Chairman of Board of Directors, Society of Environmental Graphics Designers, past president of Sylvania Manor Homeowner's Association, member of Northville Historical Society and Northville Newcomers. Berry has served as guest lecturer at universities, national conventions and American Institute of Architecture continuing education programs. He has authored several papers and articles published in national magazines and trade journals. He and his wife, Claudia, have two children and live at 628 West Main Street.

1. How would you order priorities in programming for the district with funding at its current level?

The quality of education should always be the main priority. The most qualified teacher in the classroom is of primary importance, additionally a well rounded curriculum with appropriate materials and student exposure to art, music and physical education, a realistic student-teacher ratio, and equalized facility maintenance.

2. Legislation is currently pending that will affect teachers' negotiations and strikes. Outline the major provisions that you would like to see this legislation include.

Prolonged strikes are detrimental to students. Good faith bargaining with emphasis on top salaries would attract and maintain top teachers. Legislation relative to strikes should be viewed as a last resort not the rule.

3. Should the alternative school be kept as an integral part of the program. Explain.

Yes, the alternative school maintains an educational involvement where the possibility exists of no link at all. This is by far preferable to no educational experience. The school is a valid recognition of an educational need.

4. Should services in the area of vocational and career education be expanded? If so, explain.

Allowing exposure and training in vocations that do not require higher education gives students a broader view of career options. A college degree should not be the only identified educational goal.

5. What options would you suggest to deal with increasing enrollment at the high school?

With the change in enrollment projections, a re-evaluation of the middle school could alleviate crowding conditions in the high school and increase slacking elementary enrollments. An alternative could be grade schools K-6, middle school 7-9, and high school 10-12.

6. Why are you a candidate for the board of education?

I feel that representation by a parent with children in Main Street Elementary is important in order to have a balanced board. My concern with maintaining and continually developing, equal quality education through all of the Northville School Districts is, to me, best served through participation.

Ralph L. Hay

Age 50, born in Northville, employed by Buryl Hill Incorporated in Farmington. A graduate of Northville High School, he attended the University of Wyoming. Hay is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, American Legion, Elks, International Material Management Society, United States Power Squadrons and Michigan Bouvier des Flandres Association. He served as Scoutmaster for three years and on other scout committees for nine years. He and his wife, Helen, have three children and live at 383 North Rogers Street.

1. How would you order priorities in programming for the district with funding at its current level?

a) Basic educational courses; b) Vocational types; c) Arts, crafts, etc.; d) Sports

2. Legislation is currently pending that will affect teachers' negotiations and strikes. Outline the major provisions that you would like to see this legislation include.

Legislation has or is about to pass some legislation regarding this. I feel that some restrictions should be placed on the teachers but not to take away their right to negotiate. This should not deprive the students the right to their legal education.

3. Should the alternative school be kept as an integral part of the program. Explain.

No commitment at present on this question as I have not had the full opportunity to study this in detail.

4. Should services in the area of vocational and career education be expanded? If so, explain.

Yes—the increased cost of college education and some students have no desire to attend college they should be prepared for vocational and career they may wish to follow.

5. What options would you suggest to deal with increasing enrollment at the high school?

Placing the 6th grade back into the elementary schools and placing the freshmen into the middle schools leaving only the 10, 11 and 12 grades at the high school level.

6. Why are you a candidate for the board of education?

I feel that I can be a good representative of the taxpayers and parents of this school district.

JOHN P. HOBART

DR. ROBERT MANDELL

1. How would you order priorities in programming for the district with funding at its current level?

First priority is the settlement of a new contract with the Northville Education Association. Next is a budget that is fiscally sound and will maintain, as much as possible, all current programs. Vocational-career education programs and programs for the gifted would be next in line.

2. Legislation is currently pending that will affect teachers' negotiations and strikes. Outline the major provisions that you would like to see this legislation include.

I have already gone on record as objecting to the concept of a strike without penalty. This is one element that must be dealt with and at the same time protect the students and their educational opportunities. Above all, local control must be preserved and not relinquished.

3. Should the alternative school be kept as an integral part of the program. Explain.

Yes, based on our first year's results and parent's response. In addition, this concept can be expanded to include other types of educational programming such as traditional vs. open classrooms. Every effort must be made to reach and meet the needs of all children.

4. Should services in the area of vocational and career education be expanded? If so, explain.

Yes, in the years to come the demand for specific non-college skills will be increasing. This guidance and training for both children and adults can be effectively done in our local schools. Co-op programs with local businesses as well as shared programs with other districts can benefit all.

5. What options would you suggest to deal with increasing enrollment at the high school?

Current population projections indicate that the 9-12 enrollment will begin to decline until new construction confronts us again. When the enrollment begins to increase, a temporary change in the grade structures could be logical until such time as a second high school becomes practical. A five year lead time is required.

6. Why are you a candidate for the board of education?

I am the father of two children and have been a Northville taxpayer for over 12 years. I am concerned about education and am willing to devote my time and energy to see our standards upheld. As a school board member for the past two years, I feel I am adequately qualified.

Dr. Robert Mandell

Age 37, born in Providence, Rhode Island, is a physician in orthopedic surgery serving Northville, Farmington and Garden City. Received his BS degree from Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts, received a fellowship in physiology from University of Rhode Island, and his D.O. degree from the College of Osteopathic Medicine in Philadelphia. A member of the Unitarian-Universalist Church, he is a member of the Board of Directors for the Plymouth-Canton-Northville YMCA, member local, state and national osteopathic associations, served as medical officer in the US Navy from 1967-69, is a staff member of orthopedic department of Botsford and Garden City hospitals and is a member of American Osteopathic Academy of Orthopedics and American College of Sports Medicine. Named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year in Northville for 1973, Dr. Mandell is team physician for Northville High football team. He is a member of the Northville advisory board for year round school, serving since 1972, member of the City-Township-School Blue Ribbon Commission, member of Northville Board of Education citizens committee in 1973, board of education recreation committee in 1975, chairman of the Northville Recreation Department 1974-75, member of teaching faculty Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine, member Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) of Michigan and the Oakland County Council for Emergency Medical Services. Dr. Mandell and his wife, Joan, have two children and live at 16548 Winchester Drive.

1. How would you order priorities in programming for the district with funding at its current level?

During this time of economic uncertainty, we should maintain the present sound and functional educational curriculum. If the budget permits, we should expand our programs in vocational and career education, since a college education is no longer an assured path to a successful career. Encourage a program which stresses individualized instruction

2. Legislation is currently pending that will affect teachers' negotiations and strikes. Outline the major provisions that you would like to see this legislation include.

A specific time table should be followed by both parties so that an orderly process of negotiation can follow. If an impasse occurs, each party should submit one final proposal to an outside arbitrator. If a strike is unavoidable, teachers should consider the loss of a day's pay for each strike day

3. Should the alternative school be kept as an integral part of the program. Explain.

Presently at Silver Springs School Northville is involved in a unique educational experience for which I am in support at this time. Some adolescents, due to social, intellectual or economic factors are unable to fit into the traditional normal school surroundings. This program is helping these youngsters stay in school.

4. Should services in the area of vocational and career education be expanded? If so, explain.

Yes, the present position of our society and its direction clearly shows the need for this type of diversification of occupations. The emphasis that had previously been placed on need of a college education is now being questioned. Our primary concern should be meeting the needs of all Northville students.

5. What options would you suggest to deal with increasing enrollment at the high school?

For Novi Board

School Candidates List Views

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following are biographies and answers to questions as given to the League of Women Voters - Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi Chapter by the only two candidates for the Novi Board of Education - Joel Colliau and Gilbert Henderson.

Joel D. Colliau

Age 30, unopposed for four year term, was appointed to board this year to fill a vacancy, was previously a board candidate, attending Wayne State University, majoring in industrial management, is production manager of ACE Controls, Inc. of Farmington, chairman of Citizens Transportation Committee, member of Needs Assessment Committee, past director of V.O.I.C.E., Little League manager, active involvement in various community activities over the last five years in Novi, father of two children, lives at 23680 Maude Lea Circle.

1. How would you order priorities in programming for the district with funding at its current level?

Deficit budgeting cannot go on forever. The top priority for the district is community involvement so that the electorate is aware of the alternatives when selections must be made due to budgetary limitations. Only then can all priorities be evaluated and selections made based on the needs and desires of our community.

2. Legislation is currently pending that will affect teacher negotiations and strikes. Outline the major provisions that you would like to see this legislation include.

Legislation regarding teacher negotiations must provide for a full school year. A rigid negotiation timetable must be followed to insure contract settlement prior to the opening of school. If monetary settlements are to be imposed upon the teachers and the district, then the funds to pay for the settlement must be provided.

3. Should services in the area of vocational and career education be expanded? If so, how?

Vocational and career education should be expanded, and in fact will be expanded in the new high school. Our schools have a responsibility to graduate well rounded adults who are going to be contributing members of our society. Students should be exposed to a multitude of career choices.

4. Why are you a candidate for the board of education?

I am seeking a full four year term so that I may fulfill a commitment I made upon accepting an appointment to the board. I believe, that as a representative of the community of Novi, I can help develop a full comprehensive educational system in Novi.

Gilbert Henderson

Age 39, unopposed for four year term, incumbent board member having served since first elected in '67, past board president, holds B.S. degree from MSU (1957) and M.A. from U-M (1963), present occupation is junior high school principal in Farmington with experience in the educational field as a bus driver, a teacher, cook, and maintenance, lives at 44080 Marlson.

1. How would you order priorities in programming for the district with funding at its current level?

I feel we have a need to fund more in-service monies for the improvement of instruction. Namely to help teachers do a better job. We also could spend more on research as to the effects of our instruction programming on learning.

2. Legislation is currently pending that will affect teacher negotiations and strikes. Outline the major provisions that you would like to see this legislation include.

Legislation should not mandate binding arbitration as the final solution to bargaining impasses. The state of Michigan has given educational decision making to board of education. For the boards and employee unions to abdicate that responsibility to a third party is to encourage irresponsible bargaining.

3. Should services in the area of vocational and career education be expanded? If so, how?

Our present programs are serving about 50-percent of our 11th and 12th grades. While I believe this is adequate we could use a higher allotment for our students to attend the vocational high school.

4. Why are you a candidate for the board of education?

I am a candidate because I can provide expertise in the adoption of policy as it relates to personnel and curriculum. I also want to contribute to the continued up-grading of education for my own young people.

Civitan Seeks Youth Delegates

Northville Civitan Club again this year is sponsoring delegates to a Civitan Youth Seminar.

It will be held at Adrian College in Adrian, Michigan, August 11-16 with selected young people from Michigan, Midwest and Min-Owa Civitan districts attending.

This year's theme will be "Getting It On."

All expenses will be paid by the Northville club for those it sends. Any young person who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grade in the fall of 1975 and who is interested in the objectives of the seminar is invited to apply.

The three objectives are: To present expert testimony relative to current issues facing our nation and the world;

To permit a thorough interchange of ideas relative to each presentation made (discussion groups, question-and-answer periods);

To provide an atmosphere conducive to easy listening, fruitful discussion, quiet reflection and enjoyable recreation.

Applications and further information are available from Robert Cervin, 349-3546; Louis Hopping, 349-2086; Carl Schleicher, 349-4535, or any other member.

We should strive for maximal use of the present facility before electing to expand to a new High School facility, so that over building can be avoided. Present enrollment structure indicates a reprieve of student numbers for a few more years. Staggering the program schedule may alleviate some of the overcrowding.

AWARD WINNER—Cooke Middle School eighth grader Bill Lockwood displays the ripple tank he constructed.

Lockwood Earns Highest Honors

Bill Lockwood is an eighth grader at Cooke Middle School in Northville with an interest in physics and several awards under his belt proving he's on the right track.

A student in Rick Cross's physical science class, Bill entered a ripple tank he constructed in Cooke's science fair earlier this spring.

Taking one of three overall places in Northville, his display went on to the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair at Lawrence Institute where it was one of 10,000 entries. He took top honors for eighth graders and was asked to submit his display for exhibit at Cobo Hall where he again won the highest honor for an eighth grader.

Cross commented that he requires his students to complete a project each year and "Bill came up with this idea and developed it. His project is good enough to be used in a high school physics classroom and is the best I've seen."

The ripple tank has a plexiglas bottom and when filled with a thin layer of water, projects wave motions onto a screen below the tank when a light is shined through it.

A bar, located on top of the tank, enables Lockwood to send wave motions through the tank, and by placing different objects in the tank, the different effects of the wave motions can be seen below.

Commented Cross, "The project is excellent."

Guides List Track Stars

The Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA Indian Guides held their fourth Annual Father-Son Track Meet on Thursday, May 22, at Central Middle School in Plymouth.

Outstanding track performances are credited to Chuck Hutto, Mohawk; Kurt Ewing, Fox; Laird Fiarechild, Mohawk in the age 6 and under category; Eric Kleinsmith, Shoeshone; and J. Broholm, Fox in the 7 and 8 year old category;

B. Haarala, Shoeshone; Peter Becher, Navajo; David Holmquist, Pueblo; and Chuck Davis, Kickapoo in the 9 and 10 year-old category; and Ron Richards, Shoeshone; Troy Haarala, Shoeshone; and Eric Miller, Potawatomie in the 11 and over age group.

Completes Half Credit

Bureau Earns Degree

When Novi's graduates went through the line last night to receive their diplomas, there was one student who wasn't even listed on the commencement program.

In fact, school officials had no idea that Joseph Bureau even wanted to go through the graduation ceremonies until he walked into the high school office three weeks ago to see about the possibility.

Bureau, had dropped out of Novi High School three years ago after his sophomore year to join the Marine Corps. Following a two year stint there, he came back to the area and began taking night classes in hopes of completing his education.

Ironically, Bureau was almost unable to graduate this year due to a mix-up in credit hours completed. School officials went over Bureau's records for hours but always came up a half credit hour short. To gain that half credit hour, Bureau had to have 40 hours of classroom time, according to state requirements.

"I figured there was no reason why I couldn't make it up," explained Bureau who, since then, has attended an English class five hours a day, five days a week until Tuesday of this week

"Everyone around here calls it a crash course."

Bureau suggested taking the class, and with the help of Cal Schmucker who teaches the English class, Bureau knew he would make it.

"I've got plenty of time ... they don't overwork me, but I get my share. It's not easy," said Bureau of the work. Bureau was required to take tests and do the assignments that anyone else in the class would have had to.

"I never was that good in English, but I guess I'm doing okay," said the student.

Bureau, 21, married and the father of two girls said of his graduation, "I never believed it. I figured I'd have to go to four or five years of night school."

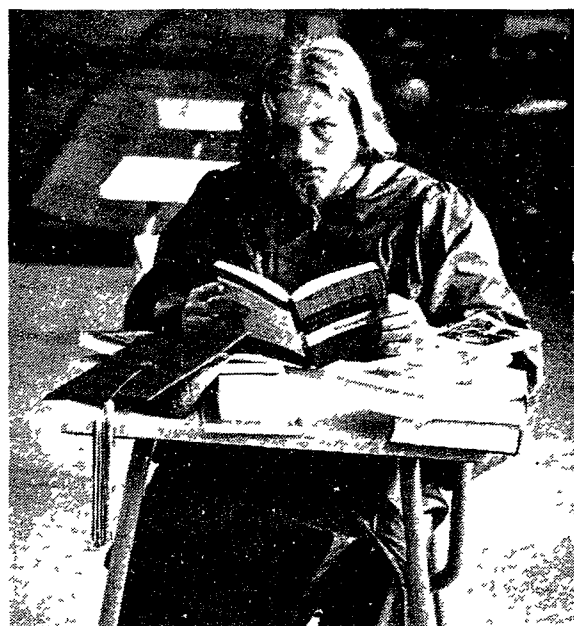

Bureau was helped out by credits, not only from the night classes, but for work experience and credits he received for being in the service.

Bureau said that he went back to school because "I got bored sitting around doing nothing. It also helps you out when you try to find a job. It looks good on your record."

Bureau said that if he should decide to go back into the service, the diploma could also help there.

In fact, Bureau said he may even go on to college though he's not making any promises. Asked why he wanted to go through the high school graduation ceremony after being out of school for three years, Bureau responded, "I just felt I went through this much trouble. I put in a lot of effort and I'm proud I got my diploma."

FINALLY A GRADUATE—Joseph Bureau studies one of the books that have served to keep him occupied for five hours a day, five days a week during the past three weeks at Novi High School.

approximately $6,000 by changing the proposed budget to include only a fire consultant and to drop having a fire chief.

Council also dropped a "fire chief's" car from the proposed budget, saving $3,500. The $10,000 saved by going with the fire consultant and by dropping the car was placed by council into a capital improvements fund.

Council also discussed the possibility of placing all monies saved throughout the budget into that capital improvements fund—including the $8,000 saved if the traffic bureau is dropped.

The new budget also includes a finance director for the controller's office at a cost of $17,000 to provide experience and expertise beyond that of the city controller. Berry stated that the city could not hire a good financial director for $17,000 a year who could solve the city's problems—and if the city was able to hire someone good now because of the economy at that price, he would leave as soon as the economy picks up.

Kriewall stated that he believes the city could hire someone good for $17,000 and "he would pay for himself" in savings.

Six Schoolcraft College Candidates Give Views

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six candidates are seeking two six year terms on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees. Each of the candidates were asked by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi to respond to the following two questions:

1. In what ways should community colleges seek to meet the needs of the students in their districts and the community as a whole?
2. Why are you a candidate for Schoolcraft trustee?

Robert W. Cadotte
30125 Grandon, Livonia, Age 49

Graduate, University of Detroit Law School: Standard Certificate, American Institute of Banking: Instructor, American Institute of Banking: Graduate, University of Wisconsin School of Banking: Vice-President—Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit: Director—Manufacturers Bank of Livonia. Governor of Schoolcraft College Foundation since 1967; Presently, Second Vice-President.

1. Colleges should seek to meet the needs of students by providing quality educational opportunities beyond the high school level in the maximum number of students. These opportunities should include:

- a. The first two years of undergraduate studies in a "transfer program."
- b. Career opportunities in trade, clerical and professional and para-professional disciplines.
- c. Availability of studies beyond high school level to late entrants to college.

Community affairs programs should reach out to people with music and the arts programs for special elements of the community such as Senior Citizens. The School should become a focal point of strength in the community.

2. I am a candidate for Trustee because I have faith in Schoolcraft College and its ability to fulfill its goals. I believe that I am qualified by training as a lawyer and banker and by association with Schoolcraft Foundation to serve as Trustee of Schoolcraft College.

Ron Cowden
15577 Westbrooke, Livonia, Age 34

Bentley H.S., Livonia; B.A., W.M.U.; M.A. (Educational Administration), E.M.U.; post graduate work, U. of M.; Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent, Livonia Public Schools. Served on city recreation and planning commission boards, and on numerous community service projects; experience as high school student activities director, assistant principal; ability to relate to youth.

1. The word community implies that the college should provide educational, vocational, cultural and social benefits for its residents. Through active publicity and recruitment Schoolcraft can be foremost in our youth's career planning. This is especially true when families compare the costs vs. a four-year institution, Schoolcraft should constantly evaluate its programs in terms of student needs and the job market demands. The college must insure its students transferring to four-year colleges meet the highest standard of preparation.

ROBERT CADOTTE

The college should continue to identify retraining and service programs for the unemployed. Community education programs, which have been extremely successful, should continue.

2. I feel I have been a trustee at Schoolcraft for the past two years. I have a grasp of the needed involvement, problems, and needs of the college. Schoolcraft has a solid reputation—because of my commitment I would like to have the opportunity to continue to serve.

Harry G. Greenleaf
35936 Pinetree, Livonia, Age 38

Bachelor of Management Engineering, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Organization Specialist, Operations Staffs. 16 years varied personnel experience with Ford Motor. Civic, political, church leadership positions. Previously, evening instructor—Henry Ford Comm. College, Hudson Valley Comm. College. 1970 Committee appointed by Rensselaer President to determine goals for the college through 1985.

1. The college should offer courses of high quality at low cost appropriate for students planning transfer to four year colleges, for those desiring occupational preparation requiring less than four years college, and mid-career updating. Scheduling should be designed to permit students to pursue their academic programs while holding full-time employment. In the terminal associate-certificate programs some courses-seminar time must also be permitted—required to broaden perspectives of the students. Community responsibility requires sound administrative management of tax dollars. College should be the focal point for cultural (performing arts) opportunities for all citizens.

2. Seeking a seat as Schoolcraft Trustee is an extension of my commitment to civic service. General management problems, financial planning couple well with my interests in educational programming. My business background will help to diversify the perspectives brought to bear on the decisions made by the Board.

HARRY GREENLEAF

JEROME HARRIS

Jerome Harris
16844 Shrewsbury Ct., Livonia, Age 61

Grade School (Detroit, High School (Detroit), E.M.U., Ypsilanti; Detroit College of Law L.L.B. — Juris Doctor — University of Birmingham Law School—England. Attorney-at-Law. Member of U.S. Draft Board — (20 years) — Appeal Board 10 yrs. Member of American Arbitration Assn.

1. Provide a well rounded curriculum for students at a reasonable fee to the taxpayers.

2. To improve the services rendered to the student and community.

Richard J. Hayward
17159 Loveland, Livonia, Age 46

High School, Assumption College. Executive Vice-President, Freedland Structural Steel Company. General business management experience such as labor relations, construction and finance and a special interest in education.

1. (a) The community college should provide a means (which it does) for a student to complete a two year transfer program; (b) The college should provide for an integrated voc-tech program for students who do not plan on completing a four year program.; (c) Provide a means for people in existing fields to up-date their skills with intensive short term programs; (d) Provide a center for the development of a fine arts program.

2. I am a candidate for Schoolcraft Trustee because I am very interested in the youth of today which is our greatest resource as a nation and I feel that my background in working with youth and my experience as a business man will help in the formation of policies for their benefit.

Mark Alan McQuesten
15377 Garden, Livonia, Age 25

Graduate, Bentley High School; Associate of Arts Degree, Schoolcraft College. Office Manager, Amroian Insurance Agency. Livonia Youth Commissioner; Member, College Council (Advisory board to college president), served Dr. Eric J. Bradner and Dr. C. Nelson Grote. Regular attendance at college board meetings, past five years. Member, Optimist Club of Livonia.

RICHARD HAYWARD

1. Externally, the college must seek closer relationships between itself and district high schools and school boards particularly in the areas of curriculum, programming and counseling. Schoolcraft should continue and increase professional contributions from business, professional and civic organizations.

Internally, Schoolcraft can best serve its students by maintaining high standards of teaching excellence. This can be accomplished by continued updating of skills by both faculty and staff in their chosen fields of endeavor. It is incumbent upon the board of trustees to set a tone of cooperation between all component parts of the college, which necessarily includes 9,000 students.

2. My candidacy is a natural extension of my past and present active involvement with Schoolcraft. Being elected trustee will allow me to use my personal understanding of Schoolcraft's strengths, problems and future aspirations. I would bring a perspective to the college heretofore absent; that of a community college graduate.

Novi Council Discusses Pay Raise

determine their opinions as to the pay range change. Saunders did not contact the other councilmembers.

Saunders proceeded to negotiate a pay increase with the representative of the Teamsters that allowed Shoemaker's salary to change from $10,432 to $13,054 effective July 15. This created a pay range twelve which had not been in the contract.

The negotiator for the union said that to his knowledge, the pay raise as negotiated was permanent—even if the city hired a new DPW superintendent and took many of Shoemaker's duties away at that point.

Council as a whole did not become aware of the pay change until October of last year when Councilmembers Edwin Presnell and Denis Berry complained about the council not being informed of the matter. No action was taken at that time although City attorney David Fried gave the council an opinion in letters dated February 19 and March 10 that Saunders did not have the power to promote Shoemaker and that only the council had that power.

The matter came back to the council last week so that it could make a decision on budgeting an amount in the 1975-76 budget for the foreman's position and to determine the city's position concerning the pay range twelve during negotiations with the Teamsters union.

In another opinion received last week from the city attorney, Fried questioned whether Shoemaker and the union had a right to rely on Saunders's representation that he had the authority to make the promotion and to promote Shoemaker to pay range twelve.

Fried cited a case in which the judge ruled that "persons dealing with a municipal corporation through its officers must at their peril take notice of the authority of the particular officer to bind the corporation, and if his act is beyond the limits of his authority, the municipality is not bound."

Fried concluded that "the promotion of Mr. Shoemaker is ineffective without affirmative Council action." He noted, however, that Shoemaker could file a grievance if he is placed back to pay range eleven and that possible court litigation could be expensive to the city.

Fried stated that the council could:

1. take the position that Shoemaker's promotion from pay range 11 to 12 was illegal and improper and put him down to pay range 11,

2. affirm the action of the city manager and union,

3. could let the matter stand and resolve the problem when the city negotiates its new contract with the Teamsters.

An initial motion to affirm the action of the city manager and union resulted in a 4-1 vote with Berry opposed. If the motion was to approve the expenditure of funds, the motion would have failed because it requires five votes. If the motion was to affirm the city manager's action, it would have passed. Fried stated that he wanted time to decide what the motion meant and would report back on it later.

Council informally decided later in the meeting to allow Shoemaker to stay at the range 12 level until contract negotiations can be used to make a final decision.

The council decided, however, to cut back the budgeted amount in the 1975-76 budget for the foreman from range 12 to 11.

Last-Minute Power Grab

Detroit Demands Northville State Police Complex

The following letter was dated May 29, 1975.

Honorable Coleman A. Young, Mayor of Detroit
Dear Mayor Young:

Three weeks ago on May 8 the item of the location of the new State Police Headquarters for the Second District was brought up in the Capital Outlay meeting. District 2 takes in all of southeastern Michigan, and the plan was to have this Post constructed in the City of Northville. I asked at that time that the project be delayed for one week (to May 15) so that we might have time to examine the matter in further detail. After much arguing, Chairman Rep.

Rusty Hellman agreed to a week's delay.

A caucus was called of the Democratic members of Wayne County for the following Tuesday and we met in the Senate Appropriations room. The meeting was well attended and it was agreed that a 10-man steering committee would be appointed for the purpose of examining the subject in greater detail. It was also agreed to ask for a two-week extension so that the subcommittee would have time to conduct hearings.

Colonel Halverson was called before the subcommittee and it was learned that the 2½ million dollar project would serve three basic functions:

1. It would serve as the Headquarters for the Second District. This includes many aspects of state police work including intelligence, fire inspection, criminal detectives, etc.

2. It would serve as the Detroit Police Headquarters for the State Police. They patrol the unincorporated portions of state highways in the Second District.

3. It would serve as a crime lab. It was learned at this meeting that all cities in southeastern Michigan have their crime lab work conducted by the State Police with the exception of the City of Detroit.

We contacted the Mayor's office and we found that the City of Detroit is presently spending 2.3 million dollars in crime lab work, and we also learned that the Mayor had contacted the State Budget Director and requested funding for the work or, in the alternative, have the State Police do the crime lab work just as it is doing for all the other cities in southeastern Michigan. It was our understanding that Dr. Miller said funds were not available for the State to take over this type of work presently and, of course, there would be no funds available for any grants to the city itself.

After thinking about the entire situation the committee concluded that the following benefits would accrue to the City of Detroit if the new facility were located near major state expressway intersections:

1. Five to six hundred police officers would use the Post as their official place of duty, and this would act as a crime deterrent because many police cars would be going to and from the headquarters.
2. When funds do become available for the crime lab work for the City of Detroit the work could be performed on an efficient basis without necessitating Detroit police officers to travel all the way to Northville to bring evidence and other materials to the crime lab.

3. There are many citizen visitors to the State Police Headquarters and the businessmen in the surrounding area would benefit from the people coming and going to the police headquarters.

4. It would be an incentive for state employees to locate in the City of Detroit for residential purposes, close to their place of employment.

5. The black community within the City of Detroit might very well associate on a closer basis with the state police personnel and this could help alleviate the problem of recruiting black officers. It is my understanding that within the 2100 state police personnel there are presently only 33 minorities.

6. It has been suggested that it be located somewhere on the Wayne University campus facing the expressway, with the idea that the present crime lab being operated by two state agencies, namely, the State Police and the Department of Public Health, that the Wayne State University scientific facilities would be a plus for the crime lab, and also a plus for the University which might very well want to deal more extensively in police administration curriculum.

There are probably many other benefits that would result to the area where the facility is located, and the committee would hope that all citizens believing in the thoughts expressed herein would contact members of the Capital Outlay Committee.

The State Capital Outlay Committee has given us one week, so at 8 o'clock next Thursday morning, June 5, we have to come before the committee and tell them why we believe the Post should not be located at Northville, but instead should be located in the City of Detroit.

The committee is sending copies of this letter to other people in the Detroit area with the hopes that we can all work together toward bringing this facility to the central city.

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Young

Lesson in Politics

Who Controls State Spending?

By BILL SLIGER

If you plan to read this column, please turn first to the letter published on this page from State Representative Richard A. Young to Detroit Mayor Coleman A. Young.

Now then, prepare yourself for a refresher course in practical politics.

Bear with me while I remind you it was exactly 4½ years ago (December 3, 1970) when it was reported in this column that the Michigan State Police were seeking post facilities in the Northville-Plymouth area. Plans at that time called for crowded conditions to be relieved at the Redford post within two years.

Population projections coupled with expressway construction plans indicated this area would be centrally located for operational responsibilities of state troopers.

Local help in the search was gratefully accepted by state police officials and at one time the race was on between Northville and Plymouth. Where would the post be located?

Because the state was short of money in those days, it was suggested that local capital be raised to finance the project and lease it back to the state.

With the encouragement of township and city officials the Northville Economic Development Corporation advanced monies to finance a proposal.

An architect was retained and plans submitted. Perhaps the key to Northville's plan was the land. Thanks to then-State Representative Marvin Stempien 10 acres of Northville State Hospital property was transferred from the Mental Health Department to the State Police.

And the cost-free land was ideally located on Seven Mile road less than a mile from access to the new expressway at Haggerty.

Area banking interests gave promise that little old Northville could indeed come up with enough money to finance a facility that now included a crime laboratory and offices for Michigan State Police District II headquarters, as well as the post.

The Northville plan won hands down over its competitor. And even after the state decided it could finance its own building, the Northville plan, architect and site were adopted by the state. Monies Northville's non-profit economic development corporation had invested in preliminary drawings, etc., were refunded.

And finally, after numerous delays, bids were received for the project. They came well within the allocation for the project and the Department of Management and Budget gave its official approval to Joint Capital Outlay Subcommittee on May 6 of this year.

Presumably, the rest was to have been routine. Legislators were well informed on the Northville proposal. It had passed numerous legislative hurdles and the money had been completely allocated over a two-year period. Construction would begin this summer.

Now for the lesson in practical politics. And if you have read the letter to Mayor Young, you probably get the picture.

Few politicians understand the legislative processes in Lansing any better than Mayor Young. And the ex-state senator is not reluctant to wield power when he holds it. Votes are power in politics and the Detroit Democratic representation in the house and senate is considerable.

Representative Young, a suburbanite from Dearborn Heights, has experienced the favor of this support. Beyond what may be his present concern for Detroit's welfare is a recognition of the value of Detroit's votes. They helped him gain membership to the coveted Joint Capital Outlay Committee.

In reviewing his letter to Mayor Young, one might conclude the Northville project had just suddenly come upon the scene. In reality, it has been well known to legislators like Representative Young for many months.

In the past Detroit has shown little interest in the State Police. It is unlikely its police force would welcome outside interference, and it obviously prefers to operate its own crime laboratory.

But today a new set of circumstances prevails. The prosperous auto industry is wallowing in a recession and Detroit needs money more desperately than ever.

The Detroit word is out: red tag every state expenditure; grab every cent you can for the central city.

Representative Young sets the annual cost of operating the Detroit crime lab at $2.3 million, coincidentally the same figure allocated for construction of the state police complex. Another recent report sets the Detroit crime lab figure at $1.7 million annually, but who wants to quibble over $600,000.

Detroit is the only city in southeastern Michigan maintaining its own crime lab in preference to using state police facilities. And one would assume that has been by choice. In addition, state police do not patrol expressways in the city of Detroit... or Northville, Novi or Wixom, for that matter.

Without the benefit of any of the background surrounding the rationale of choosing the Northville site Representative Young has appealed to the media of Detroit, the labor unions, Wayne county legislators, Wayne and Oakland county sheriffs, New Detroit and Wayne State University to move the proposed Northville facility to the campus of Wayne State University.

I would not argue with the contention that the presence of state police in crime-ridden Detroit would be beneficial. And I would concede that the state legislature should reappraise its policy on expressway patrols in cities.

Further, it's reasonable to consider state-wide control and operation of all crime labs by state police. This might strain city of Detroit police authority, however.

But to totally discard thousands of dollars and hundreds of man hours wrapped up in a plan that answers the well-considered long-range plans of state police officials smacks of club-bearing politics.

The Northville plan cannot be moved to Detroit. It would have to be killed and a new start undertaken. Bids for the Northville project expire June 28.

Down the drain go the recommendations of two state police commanders, the ex-chief John Plants, and Colonel George L. Halverson. Lost, too, is the detailed planning for one of the finest crime laboratories in the state.

It is not conceivable to adopt this plan and move it to Detroit. But then, one must suspect that this is not really what Detroit has in mind anyway

The site and plan were handpicked to serve the entire metropolitan area, including a suburbia that already exceeds Detroit in population and will swell to far greater proportions in the future.

It is not the welfare of the majority, or any sense of logic or justice that spurs Representative Young to this twelfth-hour action.

In my opinion the motivation can be counted in the number of votes represented by the Detroit-controlled caucus.

The Northville state police plan will not be an isolated example of Detroit's efforts to control state spending.

Hopefully, the wisdom of seasoned legislators in both parties and from all areas of our state will recognize the consequences of such tactics.

'Politics is the science of compromise. It is accomplished with words and reason, not a blackjack.

SINGLE . . .

Along about July this summer, those shapely bronze beauties will be crowding the beaches again clad only in the string bikinis, and — best of all — most of them are fair game. And the counterpart to these shapely singles is generally acclaimed to be the American bachelor.

A specie within the species, the bachelor surrounds himself in a utopia of Playboys, sports cars, and girls. Girls, girls and even more girls. The only problem of being a happy bachelor is girls.

The average self-respecting bachelor has his "black book" filled with names and numbers from A to Z. Along with that, the bachelor has to be mentally sharp (so he can remember what he said to who), in good physical shape to be more appealing, and last but not least he finds himself almost always broke — expenses you know.

Sherry loves lobster tails, Karen loves filet mignon and Sue loves shrimp cocktails — or is it Mary? Oh well, maybe you can understand the dilemmas of a bachelor today. Like realizing it's Carol M. on the phone when you thought you had called Carol N. only after she tells you no for the third time.

Well, they say variety is the spice of life, and they're right.

And if you believe that, you're only half right. Usually you hardly go out with who you want. But it's not all bad. You could end up with a blond instead of Phyllis Diller.

Hobart, Mandell Best Qualified

John Hobart and Dr. Robert Mandell are our choices for the two seats on the Northville Board of Education. Both men are well qualified and both of them have demonstrated by their active involvement in our community that they can and will devote the necessary energies to sustain and improve our educational system.

We think their opponents, John Berry and Ralph Hay, are also qualified, but in our opinion Hobart and Dr. Mandell are better qualified.

Hobart, the lone incumbent seeking re-election, has served on the board for the past two years. In 1973 we said he "is keenly aware of the growth that has taken place here in the past decade and he is well equipped to deal with the educational challenges of the future." We echo those same comments now.

Although Dr. Mandell failed in the past to win our support when he, as a new resident, was running for the board, he has since convincingly proved to us through his constructive, civic activities that he understands the problems confronting the community and the school district and that he is ready and able to cope with them.

Of the six candidates from Livonia who are seeking the two posts on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, only one rates our endorsement. He is Ron Cowden, an incumbent.

A former resident of Novi where he earned the respect of the community as a Jaycee and planning board member, Cowden impresses us as a sincerely dedicated and highly motivated individual who strengthens the college board.

Most of the other candidates appear qualified, some more so than others. Although we lean toward Robert Cadotte and Richard Hayward, we cannot say with any confidence which one of them or the other three would make the better college trustee.

Although neither candidate for the Novi Board of Education faces opposition, both deserve a word of praise. We have long respected the rational arguments and fair decisions of Incumbent Gilbert Henderson, and in his short tenure on the board Joel Colliau has shored up our confidence in him. We believe Novi is fortunate to have these two members on its school board.

Airport Critics Taken to Task

To the Editor:

This letter is directed to all who oppose the concept of a small airport in this area:

First, I suggest all of you new residents who moved here within the last five years pick up your big noisy air-polluting cars and screaming little kids and monotonous concrete subdivisions and move back to wherever you came from. Northville doesn't need YOUR traffic and noise pollution. On your way, replant all the endangered wildflowers you ruthlessly bulldozed and clean out the stream your sewage pollutes. But if you really dig this "country life," airplane noise shouldn't be bothersome — you can't hear it above your lawnmower, anyway.

Second, about the environmental impact an airport would have: compare a single paved runway to your present subdivision, the new subdivisions around you, the new expressway, the new shopping centers we don't need. Are you still complaining? If so, I'll expect to see you fighting for the removal of all existing, pending, and future building permits for any residential, commercial, and industrial complexes ever constructed or dreamed of in this area.

The obvious narrow-mindedness of those persons "vehemently against the airport" struck me funny. Yes, there are other airports, there are other everything.

This happens to be an era of expansion. Count your golf courses. All of you are completely overlooking the advantages. Besides providing sheer enjoyment for many underprivileged citizens, an airport would provide jobs, and fantastic educational opportunities for anyone high school age and older. And for those of you proud of this city's status and accomplishments, an airport would be another feather in your cap.

To conclude, I hope all of you pilots and people who just love the sky to express your opinions at the next public hearing. Let's hear the good side.

Novi City-Wide Tax For Mile Roads Backed

To the Editor:

On June 11 there will be a re-consideration of the paving of Taft Road which we think should be of interest to more than just the residents of Taft Road.

According to the May 21 Novi News the council will consider this paving by a bond issue to be paid for by the 1 mill voted road millage.

For the past 15 years we have felt that this was the most equitable method for improving the mile roads in Novi. We can't take any great amount of credit for the idea because up to now we have been unable to get anyone to listen but Mr. Berry.

Now that someone is willing to listen we believe he needs some support. At this point we don't know whether Mr. Berry is listening because he believes in this method or whether he has finally discovered that the present road program is indeed a "can of worms" and he is doing it in desperation.

If Taft Road is paid for by a bond issue consider the position of the people in Village Oaks. Those facing Meadowbrook are paying $14 per front foot, while those on 9 Mile will be paying about $50 per foot, in the cost of their homes, by some method known only to K & B. In addition they, as well as the rest of us, are assessed the 1 mill which will pave Taft Road.

We believe there should be only one method for paving mile roads.

We believe that the bonding method, supported by a voted millage, is the best method

We believe it should be administered by a road committee consisting of at least three members, an engineer, a road or construction contractor and a businessman, as provided in Sect. 41 of the City Charter. We believe, there can and should be some relief for those already assessed, if this method is adopted.

The city engineers and the city bonding attorney will be at the June 11 meeting. We hope you will be too.
Russell Button

Sees Special Case in Taft

To the Editor:

Each time the Taft Road paving project comes up for public airing, the same old comparisons to Nine Mile Road and Meadowbrook Road are resurrected. For a change, let's look at the conditions peculiar to each of the three areas and perhaps we can reach a conclusion as to why each should be assessed differently.

First Nine Mile Road was paved at the request of the Industrial and business interests in the area. All property along the road was zoned industrial or multiple and was to pay the full 100 percent assessment; however, those portions that were actually used for residential purposes were assessed $14.00 per front foot in recognition of their limited benefit from the paving. It is interesting to note that the paving ended at the east end of the industrial zoning because the council recognized the complaints of the residential owners that they would receive little benefit and did not want to pay for paving a road used primarily by the subdivision residents living to the north.

Meadowbrook Road represented a maintenance problem to the City and a dust and mud problem to the residents. The major portion of the residents wanted the road paved and were willing to pay the $14.00 per front foot assessment to eliminate the dirt and dust conditions. In addition, $14.00 per front foot did not represent a large assessment as Meadowbrook is also a subdivision road and most of the lots were only 80 to 100 feet wide.

Taft Road is an entirely different situation. The entire area is rural and contains only a few scattered homes. Usage by the residents is very low and they are not interested in having the road paved. The major use comes from school and other public activities at the school. It is this major use by the public and the school that has brought about maintenance problems and the need for paving. Since the public at large will receive the benefit of the paving, the public using the road should pay for that paving. It is interesting to note that the section of Taft Road from Grand River to Eleven Mile Road once had a hard surface, but truck and other school traffic destroyed that surface and how we seem to want the few residents along this section to pay for replacing a surface that they have already paid for once in the past.

If we are to get Taft Road paved this time around, it would appear that we should recognize a few of the facts, and make a few compromises so that the city at large can benefit without unwarranted penalties to a few who happen to live on the road.

Praise Deserved

To the Editor:

As a parent of a student attending Cooke Jr. High, I would like to write a letter complimenting the hard work and dedication of many of the students and teachers at Cooke. We very seldom see any mention in your newspaper of the accomplishments of these people. As an example, the Cooke track team just finished their season with an impressive record. The members of the team (boys and girls) put in many hours of hard practice yet I have not seen one mention of this team in the newspaper. During football and basketball season I did not see anything written about the Cooke teams.

And what about our Honor Roll students? These students work hard all year. I think it would be nice to give them as much recognition as the Novi students, who have been listed in the paper every semester.

Many of the teachers at Cooke have put a lot of extra work and time toward helping our children. The Yearbook Committee, the Student Council, the Cheerleaders, the Band, and the Athletic teams are a few of the groups of boys and girls and teachers who have worked together to make Cooke a school to be proud of.

Let's say "thank-you" and "well-done" to these people by giving them some public recognition.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Judy Wissman

Chuck Muer Buys Tack Room

RESTAURATEUR Chuck Muer is coming to Northville. A purchase agreement has been reached between Muer and Tom Sechler, owner of The Tack Room on Seven Mile Road. A 60 to 90 day delay is anticipated pending state approval of the liquor license transfer. Muer said this week that unlike many of his dining establishments, Northville will not be a seafood specialty house. He anticipates remodeling and a name change. Other Muer restaurants include The Shaft in Aspen, Sundog in Dearborn, Ann Arbor's Gandy Dancer, Charley's Crab in Cincinnati and Cleveland, Engine House in Columbus, Ohio's German Village, River Crab in St. Clair and all the dining facilities in the Hotel Pontchartrain.

FORMAL RATIFICATION of a new police contract in the City of Northville was pending early this week. The package reportedly would cost the city "about the same" as the new contract with secretary-DPW employees — an increase of 7 to 7½ percent. Employee attitude in trying to reach a fair settlement was termed "commendable" by negotiators for the city. "They were extremely cooperative," said City Councilman Paul Vernon.

A PETITION from 29 residents has been presented to the Northville City Council, requesting something be done about a boarded-up, unoccupied building at 370 First Street that, according to Mrs. Virginia Martin, has become a hazard to the neighborhood. Noting that ownership of the fast deteriorating building apparently is tied up in probate court, council directed the city attorney to attempt to persuade those involved in the ownership dispute to have the building razed immediately.

applications as it has a zoning ordinance in effect as provided by law.

The Department of Natural Resources office of land use notes that the act enables a land owner to enter into a development rights agreement (for farmland) or a development rights easement (for open space) with the state.

Both are designed to ensure that the land remains in a particular use for an agreed upon period, usually 10 years.

In return, the land owner receives certain income or property tax benefits. As an example, the DNR states, a land owner with an income of $10,000 and property taxes against the farm of $1,200, would be able under the agreement to subtract $700 (seven percent) from the property tax for an income tax credit of $500.

In general, two kinds of land are eligible — farmland and open space land.

Farmland eligibility is governed by the size of a farm and in two instances by income from the farm: a farm of 40 or more acres, a farm of from 5 to 40 acres with a minimum per acre income of $200 per year or a specialty farm with gross annual income of $2,000 or more.

Open space land is divided into two categories under the act.

The first deals with historic, riverfront and shoreline areas; it requires that the property be underdeveloped and either historic in nature and recognized so by federal or state laws, be on a river designated under the Natural Rivers Act of 1970 or be designated as an environmental area under the Shorelands Protection and Management Act of 1970.

The second category of open space land is more general and includes lands which conserve natural or scenic resources.

Rained Out Cycle Races Rescheduled

Rained out last Saturday, motorcycle racing has been rescheduled tomorrow (Thursday).

According to Staton Lorenz, president of the motorcycle racing corporation here, a "sprinkling rain" that caused track limestone to stick to motorcycle windshields forced the washout after six of the 13 scheduled.

The entire racing event is to be run Thursday, he said.

Northville council sanctioned the rescheduled races, noting that under present city law four motorized racing events are permitted annually.

"We only needed another 45 minutes to complete the racing," said Lorenz, who noted that despite the sprinkling rain not a single spell occurred through the six races. "Out of concern for the safety of the drivers, the races were stopped."

The rescheduled racing is to begin at 3:30 and end by the 11 p.m. racing deadline established here by law.

Riders who came here from 23 states and Canada to compete for the AMA honors in professional racing, have been staying with cyclists from the Flint area while waiting for resumption of the races here.

Saturday ticket holders will be readmitted free on Thursday.

Concerning racing rainouts, council Monday directed City Manager Steven Walters and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to draft a proposed revision to the city racing statute to permit rescheduling of a Saturday rainout on Sunday, the following day.

Present city law prohibits Sunday racing.

Once the proposal is presented to council, a public hearing must be held on it prior to enactment.

Council reasoned that racing promoters will make every attempt to avoid rescheduled races because it means lost revenue for them. Lorenz told councilmen he will "be lucky" to break even in view of Saturday's rainout.

Permitting a Saturday rainout to be rescheduled on Sunday, officials noted, makes it possible for riders and patrons who travel long distances to stay over for one night. Longer delays may discourage them from remaining, they pointed out.

Lorenz also noted that no professional racing can be automatically rescheduled without first being approved by the American Motorcycle Association. So even if the Sunday racing exception is made "there's no guarantee that we will be permitted to go ahead."

Three to Five Members?

For Board of Appeals

A public hearing was set for 8 p.m. July 29 by Northville Township Planning Commission to hear revisions that would increase membership on the Northville Township Board of Appeals from three to five members.

In making the motion to hold the hearing Kenneth Sewell, commission vice chairman, noted that the commission "accepts the proposed change in principle" and began the process to place it in effect.

The commission acted upon referral of the township board as Clerk Betty Linnox explained that with five members it will be much easier to obtain quorums.

At its May 27 meeting the commission also unanimously recommended to the township denial of the request of Armens Investors to rezone from residential and general business to multiple pieces of property located on Five mile Road between Park Lane and Haggerty Road.

At a public hearing last month property owners in the area had voiced objections to a change from residential.

Acting upon recommendation of its consultant, George Vilican, the commission noted that "no evidence was presented that the property could not be developed under R-3 (Residential) and that the cluster concept might be used."

It also was added that such a change would constitute "spot" zoning and could "create a serious traffic situation on already burdened Five Mile Road."

The commission continued to table until its June 24 meeting any action on an amendment to the zoning ordinance to exclude water from density computation for developments. The commission met for a study session of the proposal prior to its meeting.

Also tabled to June 24 was action on a site plan for "Northville Crossing," a three-eatery establishment to be located on Seven Mile Road east of the railroad crossing. Larry Sheehan of Northville is the developer. Since consultants had not had plans to evaluate, action was delayed.

Application for division of lots in Snow Acres plat and an adjacent unrecorded plat made by Frank A. Bauss was delayed to the June agenda at his request.

outstate legislators, mayors, supervisors and the Southeastern Michigan Chiefs of Police. Senator Pursell and Chief Robert Turner of Livonia, president of the association of police chiefs, will appear before the committee meeting Thursday along with interested citizens from the Northville area.

Ironically, Governor William Milliken's office approved and staged a ceremonial groundbreaking for the project last October. It had been anticipated construction would be well underway by spring.

Proposed site for the post-crime lab-district headquarters complex is 10 acres of state-owned land west of the Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile Road.

Parents of special children are invited to a meeting on Wednesday, June 11, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School library.

Parents of pre-school and school age children who are physically or mentally handicapped, blind, deaf or emotionally disturbed are invited to learn of present and future opportunities available for the children within and under the direction of the Northville School District.

Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni and Special Education Director Clark Kelly will be available to answer questions.

Transportation Plan Nears SEMCOG Vote

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Having survived attacks from all sides, the scarred but still intact regional 1990 transportation plan for Southeastern Michigan moves resolutely toward a June 26 showdown.

On that date at Mercy College in Detroit, the general assembly of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) will approve or reject the massive transportation plan that has been in the making for more than a decade.

Although its approval or rejection rests with SEMCOG, the plan itself was developed by the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA).

SEMTA is the parent organization. Its membership is made up of townships, cities, villages, intermediate school districts and community colleges located in the seven county region including Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw, Livingston and St. Clair counties — a region encompassing 4,600 square miles and containing 4.8 million people.

SEMTA was created in 1967 by the Michigan Legislature to acquire, construct and operate a regional public transportation system.

SEMTA is the more powerful of the two agencies, perhaps because (one) it is the agency more closely linked to local municipalities, which make up its membership, and (two) it is the agency through which federal monies are channeled. And in the final analysis, the highway plan is meaningless without financing, and SEMCOG by federal designation and through its grass roots membership controls the purse string.

The transportation plan was adopted in draft form by the general assembly of SEMCOG in 1973. Since then a series of formal and informal hearings have been held to air the plan and to get local community input.

Subsequently, the plan as revised and approved was sent to the executive committee of SEMCOG by the Council on Regional Development (CORD). The executive committee now is expected to recommend the plan for approval.

Although the plan itself remains a very controversial proposal, going into the June 26 meeting much of the focus of attention already has shifted from the transportation plan to the method of financing it. Thus, most observers are convinced the plan will be approved later this month. But not many are so certain as to how it eventually will be financed.

Governor William Milliken's plan for financing, which was unveiled in a sea of optimism earlier this spring is now riding the rough waves of dissent. In fact, elected officials of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties are meeting this very day in Pontiac to air their gripes.

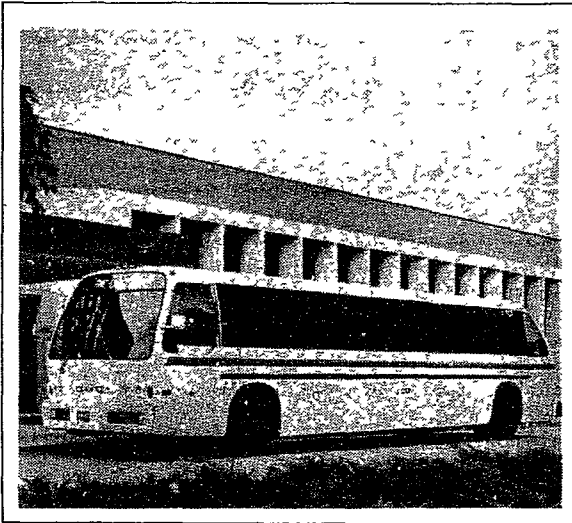

Although the Pontiac meeting will consider elements of SEMTA's transportation plan, most of the focus of today's meeting is expected to be on these two questions:

1. Is the method of financing fair, equitable, and the best available?
2. Is the makeup of the governing board agreeable to all participants.

That is not to say that the transportation plan won't take a few more cannon balls before its adoption.

Officials of Western Wayne County suburbs are scheduled to meet June 18 to lobby for last minute transportation plan changes that are more beneficial to that area within the county.

Meanwhile, strained relationships between Detroit and the suburbs continue to feed dislike for elements of the transportation plan — Detroit taxpayers cannot see advantage in a highway system in the suburbs and the suburbs are equally resentful of the transportation plan's proposal for a "people mover" for Detroit's central business district.

LOCAL AND FEEDER TRANSIT.

To complete the system... and further assist in meeting accelerated transportation needs now and in the future... the basic level will be an expansion and refinement of present bus operation within the region.

What are the basic elements of SEMTA's regional transportation plan?

Labeled a "systems" plan to accommodate a population that will balloon to 5.9 million people and about double the automobile population by 1990, it calls for a "system of freeways, highways, and roads integrated with a public transportation system made up of regional bus service, local bus service and some form of rapid transit.

- It would add 70 miles of expressway and 120 miles of multiple lane regional roads in the Southeastern Michigan region covered by SEMCOG.

- It would provide a 254-mile high-speed rapid transit system plus expanded and improved local bus transit.

The transit system, which attracts most attention, is divided into three kinds:

1. High-level transit. Consisting of 37 miles of sub-surface transit, 10 miles of aerial transit, and 28 miles of at-grade, cut or embankment construction, it is basically a rail mode of transportation.

2. Intermediate-level transit. Consisting of "830 modern, comfortable buses, which will operate along 179 miles of route." These buses will operate mostly on exclusive lanes on freeways and major roads and use exclusive ramps for freeway access.

3. Local and feeder transit. This element means, basically, improvement and refinement of the existing bus operation.

The high-level transit system would extend out of downtown Detroit along heavily-traveled corridors, and the intermediate-level transit system would utilize major expressways and arterial highways and primarily serve the areas that lie between and beyond the high-level corridors.

The six high-level transit corridors designated by the plan, which according to SEMTA were selected to relieve congestion in areas of heaviest vehicular travel, are:

1. Fort Corridor — from Junction Street in Detroit to Southfield Road in Lincoln Park.
2. Michigan Corridor — from downtown Detroit to Junction Street.
3. Grand River-Northland Corridor — from downtown Detroit to Southfield Road.
4. Woodward Corridor — from downtown Detroit to 16-Mile Road.
5. Gratiot Corridor — from downtown Detroit to Mt. Elliott.
6. Harper-Eastland Corridor — from Mt. Elliott to Nine Mile Road.

Nine corridors of intermediate-level transit are planned. Among these are the new I-96 from Detroit to Plymouth, Eight Mile Road to Northville, and Northwestern Highway to Walled Lake.

A five-phase of implementation has been proposed by SEMTA:

Phase 1 — includes 24 miles of high-level transit along the Woodward, Gratiot and Michigan corridors, with 59 miles of intermediate-level transit in the form of high-speed bus service along interconnecting arteries such as the Davison Expressway, Mound Road, Schoolcraft, Jeffries expressway, and I-75.

Construction completion perhaps by 1981.

Phase 2 — includes 17.6 miles of high-level transit and 66.3 miles of intermediate-level transit; construction starts on the Grand River-Northland corridor; extension of the Airport line to Telegraph Road; high-level transit extended into Macomb County; high-level service along the entire Woodward corridor through direct transfer to the Grand

Intermediate-Level Transit Lines

Nine corridors of intermediate transit... utilizing modern, high-speed buses on special lanes of existing and future highways... are included in the proposed system. Seven of them will serve major arterial and freeway corridors in the metropolitan area, with two being inter-city lines (Detroit-Ann Arbor and Detroit-Port Huron).

Local Church Ministers by Bus

'Bus service is a ministry, and that's more

transportation.'

—Pastor Warner

Last Sunday, parishioners at the Brighton Church of the Nazarene celebrated a unique anniversary.

Two years ago last weekend, the church began its bus ministry.

Since then, the church bus fleet has grown from one to six busses. It's no coincidence, says church Pastor Richard Warner, that church attendance has doubled during the same period.

Mr. Warner says he got the idea for the mobile ministry while attending a seminar in April, 1973, with trustees of the church.

The congregation liked the idea, Mr. Warner said, and within weeks, the church had purchased its first retired school bus and canvassed Brighton neighborhoods for riders.

Since June, 1973, the church has bought five more busses, at about $1,000 each. Each time, parishioners have done all the work necessary to restore and maintain the busses.

Mr. Warner emphasizes that the bus service is a ministry, "and that means much more than free transportation."

Each of the drivers, for example, has earned a chauffeur's license. In addition to driving the busses Sunday morning, the drivers and other church members go out into the community each Saturday afternoon and some week nights calling on past or potential riders.

Though the bus ministry is not aimed exclusively for youngsters, Mr. Warner said there is an emphasis on reaching children of parents who do not attend church.

"We try to build a cooperative arrangement with the parents," Mr. Warner said. "Our goal is help parents with their kids by showing the kids that someone really cares about what happens to them."

"We're very concerned that the family is being torn apart in today's society. This is our way of showing that we love these kids, and of having, hopefully, an influence in the community."

Approximately 125 to 130 youngsters now ride the busses regularly on Sunday morning, Mr. Warner said.

Often, he said, the church tries to involve youngsters in the bus program by offering gifts or giving surprises to riders. For example, children who ride the bus to church 12 out of 13 Sundays receive hard-bound Bibles.

"Some people have suggested that's a form of bribery," Mr. Warner said.

"But bribery means you're enticing, someone to do something bad, and we're certainly not doing that. It's been wonderful for us to see the lives of these young people really change as they see that God cares."

The second anniversary of the bus ministry is not the only cause for celebration the young church has had recently.

On May 18, the church held a dedication service for its newly-constructed sanctuary, built adjacent to the original church building on Ethel Boulevard.

The sanctuary, Mr. Warner explained, has been a dream of members since the church was organized in 1967.

The Reverend Richard Warner poses by old school busses now used each week in his church's bus ministry.

Wives' Retreat Planned

The annual Kenjockety Retreat for wives of ministers in the Detroit Presbytery will be held next Monday and Tuesday, June 9 and 10, at the Conference Center in Howell.

The session will run from 4 p.m. Monday until 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Theme of the program will be "Sharpening Our Senses," and the book Underground Manual for Minister's Wives will be used for discussion.

All wives of ministers in the Detroit Presbytery are welcome to attend, whether or not they are active members of Kenjockety.

Transportation in car pools will be arranged. Cost of the retreat is $7.

To make reservations, call Florence Dempsey (838-2929), Sue Hunt (548-3513) or Flossie Lumley (538-1127) today (June 4).

Northville Woman Named Church Lay Reader

Mrs. Pamela Krause Stopper of Northville began a three-year term as reader at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Plymouth June 1.

She will serve as second reader on a team with Richard A. Moore of Plymouth, first reader. They succeed Dr. A. Richard Krachenberg and Mrs. Bernice J. Maurer.

Mrs. Stopper is a long-established teacher of dance and recreational swimming in Northville.

Since Christian Science has no ordained clergy, local members are elected democratically to fill administrative posts and to conduct services.

The readers carry the main responsibility for the Sunday and Wednesday evening services, their primary duty being to read the Christian Science lesson-sermon on Sunday.

This lesson, the readers explain, is a compilation of references from the Bible and correlative reading from the denominational textbook, pertaining to the week's specific subject and read alternately by the first and second readers.

During the week, the same references serve as a Bible lesson, studied daily by Christian Scientists throughout the world. When read at the Sunday service, these references become a sermon.

Sunday services and Sunday school are held at 10:30 a.m. in the Plymouth church at 100 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Containers for Plants Gains Popularity

Demand for plants suitable for use in containers and hanging baskets has increased dramatically in recent years, according to Bedding Plants Inc., the international association of bedding plant growers.

Howowners are not only finding that containers are a good way to grow plants in confined spaces but they also are finding such plants easier to care for, growers and retailers report.

Vegetables in particular are finding their way into more backyards through the use of containers such as window boxes, tubs, barrels, boxes, cans, crates, plastic pots and ornamental urns. In a box just two feet square by two feet deep it is possible for a home gardener to grow four tomato plants staked to a support, each plant capable of yielding 25 pounds of fruit during the growing season.

Peppers, parsley, cabbage, cucumbers and lettuce are also suitable vegetables for container growing. Many bedding plant outlets now offer vegetables already transplanted into containers. Plants and containers can also be purchased separately, of course, for those who prefer a "do-it-yourself" project.

Container Flower Favorites: Among flowers favored by homeowners for containers are pansies, petunias, French marigolds, wax begonias, impatiens, coleus and geraniums. In window boxes and large containers a blend of different kinds of flowers is an effective way to plant. A combination of cascading petunias, coleus, wax begonias and dwarf marigolds is hard to beat for a colorful display.

Dusty miller in combination with red geraniums is a striking color combination. The truly creative gardener may want to try a mix of dwarf cherry tomatoes in a tub encircled with yellow French marigolds and emerald green parsley for an edging.

Types of Containers: The six most popular kinds of containers are hanging baskets planted with cascading plants such as petunias and impatiens, highlighted with vinca vines; redwood planters or plastic planters filled with many kinds of flowering annuals and-or vegetables; ornamental urns planted with old-fashioned flowers, such as dahlias, coleus, petunias and geraniums; window boxes planted with dainty flowers such as alyssum, dianthus, portulaca, ageratum and bolder flowers, such as marigolds, geraniums and petunias; cauldrons which look great planted with impatiens, begonias and coleus, especially in areas offering semi-shade; and strawberry pots which have cup-shaped openings around the sides and top. These are becoming popular for growing clumps of parsley, dwarf cherry tomatoes, clusters of pansies and cascading plants such as lobelia and petunias.

Watering Requirements: The larger the container, the less frequently it will have to be watered, BPI points out. Small containers and hanging baskets will generally need water every day. A booster feeding with a general purpose fertilizer in granulated or liquid form should be applied every four weeks. Dead flowers should always be picked off to maintain a trim appearance in container displays.

Grocery Items

When I go to the Grocery store I must confess
I spend so much on Groceries,
We must have food in the house no less,
But, are we buying food or toiletries?

There's Shampoo, deodorant, don't forget creme rinse
Toothpaste, and panty hose another expense,
Soap and mouthwash, eye shadows, and cremes
A new pair of sneakers, her's are ripped at the seams

Saran wrap, napkins, lunch bags and such
I won't buy butter it cost too much,
Kleenex, spray starch, bleach and tissues
Dish soap, plastic bags and don't forget new issues,
Of magazines, papers and pencils for school,
And maybe I better get dad that new tool.

A few dishes on sale, some stamps for my mail,
No. 4 volume of the encyclopedia,
That's the way things are in this day's Media
Oven cleaner, Vanish, and such I'll get some cleanser,
It doesn't cost much A Lottery ticket,
Clothes pins, air freshner, wax for the floor,
Do we have any groceries? Who's keeping SCORE

Fran Mc Casey

Unclaimed

A bunch of papers on the floor,
A hair brush over by the door,
An empty pop can on the table
I'll pick them up while I'm still able

Potato chips upon my rug
A jar containing a lady bug?
A pair of socks under the bed,
I'll pick them up myself instead

The base ball bat lying out in the yard
With a badminton set standing close guard
A blanket spread upon the ground,
I'll act as though it has just been found.

The dishes draining in the sink,
I better dry them quick I think
Who's quarter is this upon the tray?
"It's mine, It's mine, in quick array.

Fran Mc Casey

Ambition

When I was a boy, I tried to be strong,
To impress all the "guys", so I could "belong",
And when I "belonged", I wanted to be
A popular idol for them all to see.

I could hardly wait to become of "age"
And shave and wear clothes that were then all the rage,
And when I grew up, I started to itch
To get a big job, and soon become rich!

But things didn't seem to work out that way;
I've since passed the time when my hair became gray.
But I hope I've somehow helped a young one along
Who too, started out to be clever and strong.

Charles E. Hutton

Kinks

My life is very circumspect
Conservatively speaking —
I wash my face and clean my teeth,
My ease and comfort seeking;
But with it all I wish I had
The technic or the knack
Of warding off before it hit
This kink down in my back!

Charles E. Hutton

Time Time

Sometimes a snail,
It slowly crawls.
Sometimes hangs heavy,
Like gloom, it palls.

Sometimes runs fast —
Unknown, it's past;
Sometimes d'licious —
Joyous repast.

And, "Time will tell",
We know it well.
Time interferes
And breaks the spell.

The planet turns;
A day we've known.
Our candle burns,
And life has flown.

Jury Evidence Wasted in Attic

LANSING—Imagine stacks of sealed grand jury evidence tucked away in the attic of Michigan's white-domed Capitol.

"A tremendous waste — the kind criminals like to see," says Governor Milliken, who's pushing for creation of a Commission on Investigations to help shore up the grand jury system and maybe eliminate that attic storehouse.

Michigan's current grand jury law provides that when the one-year term of a one-man or citizens' grand jury is up, all evidence from its investigations must be sealed and stored.

That's what the governor considers a waste.

A Commission on Investigations, Milliken says, would be empowered to use that information from past and future grand juries.

In addition, the commission could:

—subpoena witnesses as well as records.

—grant immunity to those it compels to testify.

—petition the state courts for contempt citations against those who refuse to honor commission subpoenas.

NO STATE LAW enforcement agency — including the office of Attorney General Frank Kelley — now may use what Milliken calls "these most essential investigatory tools.

"And," he says, "as an earlier study commission asserted, 'Michigan's ability to deal with (organized crime) has been seriously impaired by the adequacy of its investigative resources and a lack of sufficient public exposure.' "

Milliken's proposal would provide such exposure by requiring publication of comprehensive reports of completed commission investigations.

That requirement, the governor says, would "generate both light and heat on and in areas of corruption."

NEARLY 140 years ago, a federal treaty granted Chippewa Indians unrestricted rights to fish in Michigan. Or did it?

And, if it did, do those rights still stand? Or did the subsequent Treaty of 1855 release Michigan from the earlier pact?

Those sticky questions are the topic of a case currently awaiting hearing before Michigan's Supreme Court.

A. B. LaBlanc, a Bay Mills Chippewa, brought the questions to light about three years ago, when he was arrested and charged with commercially fishing with a gill net — and no license.

Lower courts convicted, and upheld that conviction, but the Michigan Court of Appeals reversed the decision, saying the Treaty of 1836 allowed the Chippewas to fish commercially without sticking to laws governing commercial fishing.

The state appealed that decision, and the matter is expected to come before the state's highest court later this year.

"THE FISHERY of the Great Lakes is a public resource," says Roger Wenk of Byron, president of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, which sides with the state on the question.

Wenk says this fishing resource "has to be managed to be maintained, and the regulations ought to be fair and not discriminatory."

Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus payments, authorized by voters last fall, have put about $45 million into the pockets of 91,000 eligible Michigan folks since late February.

And, although applications reportedly are down from the first few weeks, some 400 a day still flow into the offices handling payments. Outgoing are some 9,000 payments per week.

To date, officials report, some 52 percent of the awarded claims are for $600 or eligible "combat veterans." The remaining non-combat veterans' awards, up to a maximum of $450, have averaged some $380.

Michigan's super growing season is upon us, and with it comes the latest "Country Carousel," published by the State Department of Agriculture in conjunction with the Tourist Council.

Carousel, a 16-page, four-color booklet, outlines "tours" of various agricultural regions and — best of all — lists roadside markets and farms where industrious eaters can pluck their own agricultural products from the trees and vines.

A special feature this year is a crop calendar, which tells when what gets ripe.

Southwestern Michigan

'Big Town Tour' Includes Lansing

Sightseers will find more stand-out attractions in southwestern Michigan's big towns than probably anywhere else in the state, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Highlights of the 198-mile circular "Big Town Tour" can include: the State Capitol in Lansing, Michigan State University and its agricultural research barns in nearby East Lansing, Marshall's gracious 19th century homes, the Kellogg Company in Battle Creek, one of the state's finest nature centers at Kalamazoo and intriguing museums and a paddleboat ride in Grand Rapids.

Visitors can see the outstanding attractions in the Lansing-East Lansing area without spending a dime in admission fees.

In Lansing, Michigan's 96-year-old State Capitol can be visited seven days a week except on holidays. Guided tours are available from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends. Well over one hundred species of animals can be viewed in Lansing's Potter Park Zoo daily. Interesting and informative exhibits can also be seen every day at the Michigan Historical Museum.

Michigan State University in nearby East Lansing offers a variety of attractions. For a look at rural life, visitors can tour MSU's agricultural research barns where farm animals are raised for experimental purposes. Barns are open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A walk on MSU's campus should include a stop at the Beal-Garfield Botanic Gardens where more than 5,000 types of flowers and shrubs grow. Visitors can also tour MSU's computer laboratory, historical museum and television studio. A 47-bell carillon concert at Beaumont Tower can be heard at 4 p.m. on Sundays.

The hometown of the original Win Schuler's Restaurant, Marshall is also noted for its nineteenth century architecture. Chief among Marshall's fine old homes is the Honolulu House, now a museum full of historical artifacts. Closed Monday, Honolulu House is open on afternoons only. Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

In Battle Creek, the world's cereal capital, the Kellogg Company's plant can be toured without charge from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Not to be outdone, the Post Cereals Division of the General Food Corp. has an art gallery which can be toured for free from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays. The gallery is housed at the Postum Club House.

Two other Battle Creek attractions emphasize the outdoors. The Leila Arboretum, a 205-acre tract of rare plantings, contains the Kingman Memorial Museum of Natural History. Located 13 miles northwest of town, the Kellogg Bird Sanctuary features a museum devoted to bird life. Open daily, both attractions require a small admission fee.

Kalamazoo's big attraction — the Kalamazoo Nature Center — is actually located about five miles north of town. Its focal point, the Interpretive Center, includes a geodesic dome housing tropical plants representing species once found in prehistoric Michigan. Nearby is a small "barnyard" full of animals to pet.

The Nature Center also offers visitors 300 acres of meadows and woodlands. In the summer, the nature preserve is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Cost is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Grand Rapids, Michigan's second largest city, has two small but outstanding museums. The Grand Rapids Public Museum, which records the city's fame as a furniture manufacturing center, has a "Gaslight Village" section showing how city streets looked in the 1890's. The museum is open daily at no charge. An adjoining planetarium presents programs on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays for a small fee.

The Grand Rapids Art Museum houses a permanent collection of notable prints and German Expressionist paintings. Free to the public, this museum is also open daily.

This summer Grand Rapids visitors can take paddleboat rides through town on the Grand River. From June 1-Sept. 1, cruises will be offered every day except Monday. The rides feature a commentary of the area's river history. Afternoon cruises cost $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. Tickets for evening rides cost $5 a person.

Other Grand Rapids attractions include the John Ball Park Zoo, the second largest in the state, and Alexander Calder's modernistic sculpture "La Grande Vitesse," a monumental landmark in the downtown area.

In reply to an inquiry about Alaska and the "Inside Passage," my sister made the trip some years ago, and I have spent at most six days in Alaska. I would recommend that the trip be made by flying up to Anchorage from Seattle and taking an Alaska Ferryliner back through the Inside Passage.

The boat portion of the trip is more colorful and massive than the western coast of Norway. I think it would be monotonous to take the boat both up and down the coast. While in Alaska, try to include: Kotzebue — a quaint Eskimo village north of the Arctic Circle. Pribilof Island — you'll be thrilled seeing over one million fur seals at their breeding grounds; attend an Eskimo dance at King Island.

You probably know that in Alaska the sun never sets for over 80 days. When it does set it appears like a line of lit candles across the horizon. It's comfortably warm in the summer months. The people, including the Eskimos, are friendly and cheerful. Prices are very inflated. Ladies' fur coats are one-third less costly in the city than at the airport — yet that's true the world around.

Good Hotels: Nugget Inn at Kotzebue; Captain Cook at Anchorage; The Klondike at Skagway.

At the risk of being termed a "crusader," I feel strongly that cruise ship and general tour advertising is not always honest. I don't consider it to be a tour day when you board the boat at 4 or 5 p.m. and days later disembark before 8 a.m. and have both days counted as cruising days of a purported seven-day cruise. Or take a Las Vegas tour when you check into a hotel after 3 p.m. and are required to vacate your room before 12:00 noon three days later and have your stay described as a five-day tour.

If you want your travel dollar to go further it would be wise to consider South America for your next vacation. There the U.S. currency is steady and stable and prices are much less inflated than in Europe or even here in the U.S.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY BOARD OF REALTORS hosted a two-day Seminar and Marketing session at the Holiday Inn, Howell, on May 14-15, reported Yvonne Nowak, local chairman.

Realtors from all parts of the State participated. Sponsored jointly by the Michigan Chapter, Farm and Land Institute, and the Michigan Association of Realtors, the program featured creative solutions to clients' real estate ownership problems.

Among the participants were specialists with the Designations Certified Commercial and Investment Member (CCIM), Member of Appraisal Institute (MAI) and the Accredited Farm and Land Broker (AFLB). Several are listed in Who's Who in Creative Real Estate.

The meetings are held in various parts of the State to promote professionalism in the real estate industry, Mrs. Nowak said.

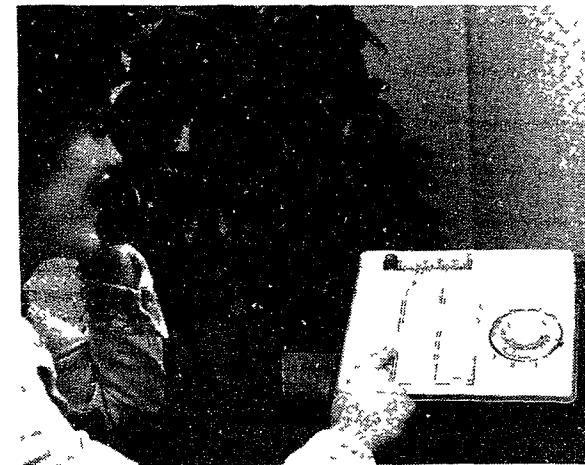

44 FLAVORS PLUS—The Towne Club Pop Center, which opened its doors recently in the new addition to the Brighton Mall, off West Grand River, has more than 44 flavors of pop. Owned by John Bogos, the center has some unusual flavors, too, like Sarsaparilla, Wildfire and Pop-a-gogo. Pop, in returnable bottles only and by the case, is what the new business sells exclusively. Buying by the case, Bogos says, results in great customer savings. The pop center is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Managing the store is Ken Bogos, son of the owner.

Now in its twentieth year, the S.E.A. is comprised of large and small employers in Oakland and Wayne Counties. Regular meetings are held in Plymouth on the third Tuesday of each month. Interested employers should contact Arthur Renaud, telephone 624-5200, or Ned Hoffman, 645-2540.

Northville Thinclads Rip Opponents in Final Meet

"It was a good way to wrap up our season," reported coach Ralph Redmond after his Mustang thinclads completed their dual meet with a triangular victory over Lutheran West and Fenton. Each team collected five first places in the overall meet, but team depth for the Mustangs provided the winning edge. Northville scored 64 points. Fenton had 49 and West 43.

In the field events, Doug Crisan won his specialty with a heave of 45' 0", Jim Shortt won the pole vault at 12' 0" and Dave Harrison topped the higher jumpers at 6'2". Harrison's effort in the high jump was his best of the season and almost earned him a new school record. After clearing 6'2", he had three attempts to clear 6'3" which would have given him a new school record.

"He almost cleared it on his second jump," commented the coach. "It would have been great to see him get that record."

Northville's 880 relay team of Dennis Keegan, Bob Bloomhuff, Doug Crisan, and Larry Pink were also shooting for a school record as they fell only two-tenths of a second off the record running their best time of the season. 1:32.8 and taking first place.

Larry Pink in the 220 wrapped up the first places for Northville as he ran his specialty in :23.7.

Overall the triangular meet offered some great entertainment to all spectators. Senior Mike Helms from Fenton thrilled everyone as he ran one of the fastest miles ever on the Northville track. Helms clocked in at 4:20.5. He later anchored the winning mile relay team.

Mustang Dennis Singleton and Lutheran West's Elmer Kimble locked up in a battle in the hurdles which brought the fans to their feet — although Singleton was just edged out Mustang Don Wilber too was edged out, but he and Dennis Gilbert of Fenton added more excitement in the two mile event.

Results from the meet were:

Wildcat Thinclads Peak In District Competition

Novi's varsity thinclads "peaked" with the recent district tournament, notching five of their best season marks after a dismal showing much of the year.

The Wildcats came up with their best season records at the district in these events — high jump, 880 relay, high hurdles, low hurdles, and the mile relay.

In the mile relay event the Wildcats eclipsed the school record by two seconds, finishing third with a time of 3:36.6. Members of the team were Lloyd Price, Andy Raddant, Jeff MacDermid and Corey Howie.

Sophomore runner Price was just one-tenth off the school record with his time of 21.1 in the low hurdles.

Andy McComas, another sophomore who Munson called "a real competitor," came up with his best high jump of the season (5'10"), and in the mile relay McComas ran a 52.6 split.

Bryant Hammond was third in the finals of the high hurdles, missing second place by just inches in an excellent give-it-all effort.

Other best efforts for the season included:

Long jump—20'4 1/2" against Lincoln by Andy Raddant.

880 run—2:09 against DCDS by Andy McComas.

Mile run—5:05.2 against Northville by Rick Parsons.

100 yard dash—10.9 against Chelsea and Milan by Andy Raddant.

440 yard dash—55.5 against Hartland by Mark Mills.

2 Mile—11:14.3 against Pinckney by Rick Balangna.

220 yard dash—24.3 against Williamston and Hartland by Andy Raddant and Tom Morris.

Raddant, who took top honors for the Wildcats for the season in collecting a total of 97 1/4 points, was the top star (in points collected) in most meets.

He was tops against Northville, Riverside, Dexter, Chelsea, Saline, Brighton, Lincoln, Milan, DCDS, and Williamston.

Others included:

McComas against South Lyon and Pinckney; Mark Mills against Hartland; Galyon and Tom Morris in the regionals; Hammond in the league; and Hammond, McLaughlin and Tom Morris shared top billing with Raddant against DCDS.

Other leaders in total points

McComas 69 1/4; Tom Morris 47 1/4; Price 39 3/4; Galyon 37; Hammond 37; MacDermid 31; Mark Mills 24 1/4; Balagna 17 1/4; Parsons 15 1/2; and Morse 12 1/2.

Landau Wraps Up Honors

Judy Landau of Northville, with her partner Larry Chopp of Wayne took first place gold medal honors in the Intermediate Dance division of Artistic Roller Skating, and the Intermediate Free Dance division to win the Michigan State Championship in those divisions.

Competition was held in Grand Haven May 25.

The previous Thursday, Judy and Larry won the state championship title in the Junior Dance division and the Junior Free Dance division at another state championship meet held in Troy.

Judy and her partner were 1974 state, regional and national champions. The team will skate in the 1975 regional meet this July in Akron, Ohio and will then go on to the national meets which will take them to Maryland and Nebraska.

Junior Football Registration

Set for June 5

Northville Junior Football Registration will be held June 5 at 7 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church.

Registrants should bring a birth certificate and family membership fee of $20. Physical exam papers may also be brought if available.

A weigh-in, for which all boys must be present, is scheduled for August 9 at 10 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church. Physical exams will also be given at that time for a nominal fee.

For further information, call Bob Lupini at 349-0152.

Eyes Winter Offerings

Froberger Plans Recreation Changes

There could be a number of changes occurring within the Northville Recreation Department's programs.

At least, that's the expectation of Charles Froberger, Northville's first full time recreation director. Froberger took over the position May 5 and admits that he's only had a chance to get his feet wet — but already he has some ideas for expanding the program offered to residents.

A graduate of Central Michigan University in 1972, Froberger has a masters degree in recreation and park administration and worked since January of 1973 as a recreation supervisor in the city of Sterling Heights.

The major problem that he sees at the present time is getting the department used to having a full time director.

"The department has a good base setting. They're very strong in summer recreation but they don't have much of a winter program."

Froberger says he plans on adding to the winter program such things as music, karate, judo, yoga, volleyball, and perhaps even ballet.

"I need to find out what the needs of the community are. There have been surveys conducted by the school board plus mailout surveys. Plus people call in a lot."

While Northville's recreation program currently centers on sports activities, Froberger says that more cultural activities should also be added. Besides those already mentioned, knitting, sewing, and camera and rock classes could also be added. "I think music, karate and

As far as possible space problems, the director says "there's always elementary gyms. There's also the board office — there's not much space there, but it would be enough for a karate class."

"The community wants it, so I'm sure there's a place we could hold it."

As far as possible funding problems, Froberger says he doesn't see any.

"A lot of the programs will be self supporting," he explains. "The registration fee will equal or exceed the instructor's fee."

Froberger says that he will be looking for constant evaluation of the program.

"Eventually I hope to have a system where people who participate in activities can help."

Froberger notes that one big step has already been made. While previously the department's doors in the Scout Building were open at varying hours, the department is now open every week-day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

And with a full time department, Froberger notes it will help out as far as office space when the library moves from the city hall and the recreation department moves into the city hall.

While Froberger appears hesitant to make too many promises, he says that things will be better than in the past.

"You can't do something like a recreation program on a part-time basis."

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS

Two 'Cat Victories End Top Season

Two victories over Milan as the season ground to a halt gave the Wildcats the finest conference record in recent history.

Coach Rick Trudeau's varsity nine, which earlier topped its second championship in three years with a double win over Lincoln, finished the season with a 13-1 mark in the Southeastern Conference.

Overall, the Wildcats were 18-8.

The lone league defeat was a loss to Brighton, which split a doubleheader with the Wildcats before posting its district tournament victory.

"It's a fine year for us," said the coach as he reviewed the Wildcats' record. "When you consider the fact that our league games were double-headers, that 13-1 record is especially good."

"When you're playing single games, one good pitcher worked often can produce a winning season. But when you're playing double-headers that one good pitcher doesn't see as much action so you've got to count on other pitchers, other players. And in our case we had other people we could turn to."

Novi won its final two league games, 5-2 and 2-1, with Milan taking the knocks.

In the opener, Milan pushed across one run in the fourth to knot the score and then rallied in the sixth for another run in its futile effort to catch the Wildcats.

Novi, which collected a total of nine hits, had five big hits in the fifth inning — enough to produce four runs and the ultimate victory.

Pat McAllen, who fired a two-hitter, was the winning pitcher. He struck out 12 batters and walked none.

In the second game two walks and a triple in the fourth produced two big runs and the eventual victory for the Wildcats after Milan had pushed across its lone run in the first inning.

Milan out hit Novi, six hits to five.

SETS RECORD—Lori Hopping runs out her leg of the 440 relay last Thursday as the Northville team set a new school record in that event during the conference tourney. Also on the 440 relay team were Joan Davis, Louise Hopping and Denise MacDermid. Northville ended up third in the meet (see story on page 2-C).

Only One Girl's Record Stays Intact

Conference Track Records Fall

The 1975 Western Six League Meet proved to be the fastest in history as runners shattered all but one conference record.

The only record still standing after the league meet was the 1974 880 run record of Muriel Bedford, assistant track coach this year for the Mustangs.

According to Coach Karen Turner, the Northville girls peaked at the league meet as Northville was able to pull down third spot through finishing third in dual meets during the season.

Walled Lake Western was the easy victor grabbing 112 points while Churchill came in a distant second with 36 points. Northville had 28 and Canton 11.

For the Mustangs, Sue Mahoney set a new two mile conference record as she ran the course in 12:50, ten seconds ahead of her nearest competitor.

Denise MacDermaid also did well overall as in the shotput, she tossed the put 31' 11" for a new personal record. She was second in that event.

Miss MacDermaid was third in the 100 yard dash with her best performance of the season, :12.3.

Donna Kaczor at :20.0 and Sharon Broderick at :20.5 had their best personal times in the 110 hurdles although they were unable to qualify for the finals.

According to Coach Turner, other outstanding performances were: Michelle Coult, fourth in the 880 run at 2:48; Kathy Belkowski, third in the mile run at 5:52.3; Eve Williams, third in the 440 dash at 1:02.2; Adell Hunsinger, fifth in the two mile run at 15:35.5; Joan Davis, fifth in the 220 at :28.4; and Lori Hopping, sixth in the 220 at :29.5.

In addition, Northville team records were broken in all three relays. The 880 relay team which ended second set a new team record of 1:53.1 with all four girls turning in splits of :28.0 or better. Members on that team were Joan Davis, Denise MacDermaid, Louise Hopping, and Eve Williams. They held the former record also.

The mile relay event school record zoomed down from 4:36.5 to 4:35.1 as Kelly Williams, Sharon Broderick, Rita Tuley, and Eve Williams ran well, although finishing third in the event.

A new 440 relay school record was set of :53.1 breaking the old mark of :53.4. Members were Joan Davis, Louise Hopping, Lori Hopping, and Denise MacDermaid. The previous record was set in 1974.

In the Mustang girls' final two dual meets of the season, Northville fell to Stevenson 83-22 and league Champ Walled Lake Western 78-27.

According to Miss Turner, "the team upheld well against these two top-ranked state teams. Individual performances were being bettered each meet and we couldn't ask for much else."

Against Stevenson, Eve Williams finished first at 2:34.4 in the 880 event with Sue Mahoney second at 2:42.5.

Against Walled Lake Western, Sue Mahoney took the mile event in 5:50.2 while Miss Belkowski won the two mile event in 13:18.1.

Coach Turner and assistant coach Bedford agreed that even though the team did not win a meet this year, "we would not trade this group of enthusiastic, hard working, dedicated runners for a winning team."

Added Miss Turner, "No coach could ask for a group of runners with such good attitudes and perseverance. The team is very young but with this year's experience, it should improve its team standings next year."

Bats Boom as Novi Nine Crumple Northville JV's

A victory over Northville highlighted the last week of play for Novi's junior varsity baseball team, which ended the season with a 6-11 mark.

The Wildcats posted Northville, 9-1, as Coach Bob Weinburger's nine exploded with 10 hits — the best single batting performance all season.

Dennis Tuck was the winning hurler. He gave up only four hits while striking out nine.

Rick Pretty was Novi's leading batter with three hits. John Buck and Tim Putnam each had a double to drive in two runs apiece.

For Northville, Bob Kain was the losing pitcher giving up some early runs. He was replaced in the first inning by Bill Barlow who pitched the remainder of the contest. The game ended Northville's season record at 8-10.

Earlier, Novi lost to Walled Lake Central, 5-4, blanked Lincoln, 4-0, and came up on the short end of a 6-1 score with Milan.

Poor defense obviously was the major factor in the loss to Central because Novi's pitching was great. Bill Georgio fired a two-hitter in a losing effort. Novi, on the other hand, picked up six hits. Big gun was Dave Beall, who accounted for three runs batted in.

Rick Faulkner and Dennis Tuck teamed up in an outstanding pitching performance against Lincoln. Between them they allowed only one hit.

Novi collected five hits off Lincoln's hurler, with Rick Pretty leading the way with two. Georgio had a double.

Milan collected only two hits but milked 12 walks for six runs in defeating the Wildcats. The Wildcats also came up with only two hits, but in their case they managed only two walks.

Split Closes Season For Mustang Girls

Northville's softball team wrapped up its season falling to Walled Lake Central in pre-district action before surprising Novi 9-8.

The Mustangs fell 4-3 to Central. Northville started out the action in the first inning with three hits and three walks but only came up with one run which Central matched in the second inning. Northville gained a solid lead in the fourth inning as doubles by Becky Albus and Kim Adams added to a single by Julie McDaniel netted Northville a pair of runs.

It wasn't until the seventh inning that Central came back — and that they did, scoring three runs on an error, two walks and two hits.

Patti Brown absorbed the loss though coach Mary Minor admitted that "the kids played beautiful ball. There was only one error in the game."

But Northville came back in the final game of the season to edge Novi 9-8.

Behind 8-5 going into the sixth, four singles and a double gave Northville four runs to tip the 'Cats 9-8. The other big blow for Northville was a homer by Patti Brown. Northville's coach credited a double play by Becky Albus in the seventh inning for saving the ballgame.

Northville ended 5-5 in league play and 5-8 overall.

Baltimore Trades For Holdsworth

It's certain now that when Northville's Fred Holdsworth breaks into the major leagues to stay, it won't be with the Detroit Tigers.

Holdsworth was traded last week by Detroit to the Baltimore Orioles in an exchange for pitcher Bob Reynolds.

Holdsworth had never really had much of a chance to prove himself to the Tigers though he played in parts of three major league seasons. The main reason the Tigers had kept him on was his 4-0 record, which he accomplished in 1972 spring training as a non-roster player on the Tiger team.

Since then Holdsworth hasn't seen much action with the parent club and during the early part of this season compiled a 2-4 record with the Evansville farm club and a 4.28 ERA in seven games.

Holdsworth moves over for the meantime to the Rochester Red Wings farm club where his future looks much brighter and though he was unavailable for comment this past week as he settled into his new environment, his mother, Mrs. Fred Holdsworth, said that her son "was really thrilled to see he was traded."

"They (Baltimore) must have thought he was worth quite a bit to trade a major leaguer," said Mrs. Holdsworth. "I guess he'll have to prove himself. There's a lot of talent at Baltimore. Time will tell."

GOOD FORM—Northville's Denise MacDermaid shows her form as she tosses the shotput during last week's league meet. Her toss of 31' 11" was a new personal record for Miss MacDermaid though she finished second in league competition.

Buck Tops Novi Batters

Ron Buck took season batting honors for the Wildcats with a .313 average. The big senior collected 20 hits, while accounting for eight runs batted in. He struck out 10 times, homered once.

Just behind Buck in the final batting standing was Bill Barr, who chalked up a .310 average. More importantly, his big bat accounted for 22 runs batted in — one of the finest performances in the conference.

Barr had 23 hits, struck out 14 times and four homers.

Only other Novi player to top the .300 mark was Gary Ford, who finished at .305. He had 24 hits, 13 runs batted in, three home runs and 18 strike outs.

Randy Wroten was tied with Barr as home run king, but his batting average of .250 was only sixth best for the Wildcats. He collected 19 hits, accounted for 12 runs batted in and struck out 12 times.

The remaining of the 10 top batting records were:

Mike Collins—.280, seven hits, five runs batted in.

Pat McAllen—.276, seven hits, two runs batted in.

Dave Piotrowicz—.220, 11 hits, five runs batted in.

Best pitching record was notched by Piotrowicz, who was 9-0 overall and 7-0 in the conference.

McAllen was 6-1 overall, 5-1 in the league.

Wildcats Trim Mustangs

Despite the fact that Novi's varsity nine beat Northville 3-1 last week in the final game of the season for both teams, there was plenty of satisfaction on both sides.

Northville's seniors were given by their coach the option of not playing and only one senior—who had not been a regular—participated for the Mustangs.

"Our kids had a letdown," stated Novi Coach Rick

Trudeau. "They wanted to face Boland."
Boland was Northville's all-league pitcher who had been defeated only once all season. "Without their seniors playing, the score should have been 10-0 or something like that," added Trudeau. "We had a mental letdown."

Instead of Boland, Novi faced junior hurler Don Funk—and Funk held the southeastern conference king to only four hits.

Two of those hits came in the first inning and were pretty costly to the Northville cause. Scott Parsons started off the action with a single but Bill Barr climaxed the inning with a homer to put Novi ahead 2-0.

Novi added its third and final run in the fifth inning when Barr singled leading off and was doubled in by Ron Buck.

Northville wasn't able to do much damage at the plate and didn't get a hit until Ed Talbot led off the fifth inning with a triple. But his teammates failed to move him around.

The Mustangs scored their only run in the seventh inning when Scott Travers doubled to lead off. A ground out by Jim LaPlante put Travers on third, Jim Niemi's hit to the first baseman ended in an error as Travers scored and Niemi moved up. Talbot's single put Niemi on third and when Talbot tried to steal second, he was cut down sliding in. The Mustangs were unable to score Niemi from third.

Winning pitcher for Novi giving up only three hits was Dave Piotrowicz who raised his record to 9-0.

"It really wasn't the type of game I would like to have seen," commented Trudeau.

Wixom's Kojak Stricken By Dangerous Disease

The exact condition of Wixom's police dog Kojak is still up in the air.

Kojak, Wixom's ace tracking dog that has helped make 7-8 arrests resulting in convictions during his seven months of use by the Wixom police, was discovered to have sometimes-fatal heartworms. A series of four shots has been given Kojak but Dr. Val Vangieson, who has been treating Kojak, said it is not yet known if the dog will be able to overcome the heartworms as hoped.

If they all come loose in a big mass, a blood clot could be caused killing the dog.

"He (Vangieson) has never lost one yet so we have our fingers crossed," said Roger De Clercq, Kojak's owner and trainer.

While immunization for dogs is usually given, Kojak was the victim of a mix-up in shots while originally being trained, Vangieson indicated.

Discovery of the heartworms was made last week after Kojak was used to help track two burglary suspects (see police blotter). According to De Clercq, Kojak was covered with mosquitoes and he took the dog to Vangieson to run checks to make certain Kojak would not come down with the disease—which is spread through mosquitoes. Tests proved out that Kojak had the dread disease.

If Kojak recovers, he will have to take six weeks of complete rest.

Word of mouth has already spread notice of Kojak's trouble and children, who remember Kojak for his gentleness off the job—have questioned De Clercq repeatedly about Kojak's condition.

SPORT FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT

by Larry Wichman

Whenever you think about men overcoming handicaps, did you know that men with only one arm have played big league baseball, and big time football, too! Back in 1945, outfielder Pete Gray, who had only one arm, played in 77 American League games for the St. Louis Browns. And, Guard Ellis Jones, who had only one arm, was a star on the highly ranked Tulsa football team of the early 1940s, and in fact, played in three bowl games, the Sugar Bowl of 1943 and the Orange Bowl of 1945!

Ever wonder how many golf courses there are now in the U.S.? Answer is approximately 10,000. And there are now about 10 million people who play golf. So, that figures out to an average of about one golf course for every 1,000 golfers in America today.

Here's an oddity...The 1927 Yankees are often called the greatest team in baseball history—yet did you know they do NOT hold the record for winning the most games in a season? The '27 Yanks won 110 games, but two other teams have won more in a year... The Cubs of 1906 won 116 and the Indians of 1954 won 111.

I bet you didn't know that oil changes, tune-ups and many other services were available at the Uniroyal Dunlap Tire Store...

Wixom Adopts Budget

added Councilmember Lillian Spencer

"We don't have any control over how it's spent. Maybe we should start our own program," suggested Green.

On the other side of the question, Councilmen Gunnar Mettala and Fred Morehead contended that ADE is the only group in the community doing something. "Consider how much one person could steal in one week alone in Wixom to support his habit," stated Mettala. "It would more than amount to the $2,500 we're suggesting go to ADE."

"The youngsters will not approach a policeman for information. It has to be outside of any known agency," he added.

Councilman Robert Dingeldey contended, "If we are going to donate money, why don't we give it to the boy scouts or the girl scouts. If you're going to donate to charity, why don't we donate to them all?"

Morehead noted that if the council feels that "on principle" it should not donate to ADE — then it also should not donate any money to "unified funding" under the Lakes Agency Council. The Lakes Agency Council each year approaches the communities its social service members serve and asks for funds to be divided among the member organizations.

On the question of donating $3,275 to Unified Funding, the motion was defeated 3-3 with Lahde, Mettala and Lillian Spencer favoring the funding while Dingeldey, Morehead and Green were opposed.

Voting on the question of funding ADE, only Councilmen Mettala and Morehead favored inclusion of the expenditure.

It was agreed that the two amounts would be placed into the contingency fund.

The budget, as approved by council, included a drop of $200,000 from this year's initial proposed budget. Council recently approved transferring that amount from the general fund to a public improvement fund for road paving. The money had been accumulated over the past few years and council indicated it wanted to make certain that future councils spent the money only for road paving.

Within the 1975-76 budget for federal revenue sharing, council approved the proposed use for $94,604 of revenue sharing.

Under environmental protection category, the city will spend on the Loon Lake Drain $26,000; for public safety, $22,000 will go to the Beck Road Railroad Crossing; for public transportation, $17,500 will go to the resurfacing of Beck Road; for the library, $2,000 will go to purchase books; and for the category of multipurpose and general government, $27,104 will go for city hall renovation plans and for the city hall annex.

Drug Agent Talks To Honor Society

"It all started with a $10 'buy' on Beer Hill," Detroit Detective Vince Mazarra revealed to Northville High School National Honor Society students and parents last Wednesday as he spoke at annual initiation ceremonies at the high school.

Mazarra, who was the principal figure in breaking up a drug ring in Detroit's 12th Precinct in 1974, was guest speaker at the initiation of 102 students, making the Northville Chapter the largest in its history.

"You may think that drugs and dope are problems of the inner city rather than of the suburbs," the 25-year-old undercover officer told his audience, "but the arrests in an $8 million operation followed from my meeting a girl from Plymouth who was selling illegal prescriptions in Cass Benton Park."

He detailed how he, wearing a pierced earring and long hair, had made contact with the girl on an August night in the park.

He almost lost his contact, however, as a police raid started, and she was thrown into a police van.

"The neighbors had complained of problems on the hill — bottles thrown around, drugs," he explained, telling how he had himself "roughed up" and thrown in with the girl.

He told how she felt sorry for him and the beating he had taken and that they became pals. Through her he met other contacts in Northville, Plymouth area, he said, leading to major Detroit ones.

One such Detroit contact was a family in which mother, father and two sons, 17 and 22 years old, all were in the drug traffic.

"The boys bragged to me how their father had taught them to shoot heroin under their tongue," he recalled.

One of the biggest connections who was arrested when Mazarra's assignment was completed the end of April, 1974, was the owner of a bar near Tiger stadium. This man, he said, was doing a $120,000 business in drugs in a year.

Mazarra himself parlayed his $35,000 stake in marked money into a profit of $325,000 as a drug dealer.

This, he told the students, was a small amount "when you consider the heroin trade in Detroit is a $550 million business yearly."

He still has to testify at two trials resulting from his undercover work, but, he told the students, he has no regrets because dealers in dope "forget what life, what living is all about" in their money-oriented world.

He challenged the students to "help other people" stay away from drugs and warned that they are the ones who will live with the results if drugs aren't curbed.

Mazarra, who is a graduate of Thurston High School in Detroit, played football under William McDonald, now a Northville resident, who then was the school's head football coach. His daughter, Karen, is a society member, and obtained the speaker.

Northville High principal Michael Tarpinian welcomed and congratulated the honorees. Their certificates and pins were presented by Tarpinian and Eddy McLoud, assistant principal.

Society officers spoke on goals of the society. Officers and their subjects were Arthur Greenlee, president, on leadership; Diane Wilkinson, vice president, on service; Kurt Andersen, treasurer, on character; and Nancy Miron, secretary, on scholarship.

Ron Meteyer, chapter sponsor, presented each new inductee, noting that in addition to scholarship each had to be recommended by teachers and have participation in at least two community or school activities.

To be eligible for honor society membership as a sophomore a grade point average of at least 3.8 is required; as a junior, 3.4; and as a senior, 3.

Cheryl Yant, Tia Rathburn, John Mynatt and Jason Riddell. The bicycle safety talk, along with pointers on protection and maintenance, was given to students at Main Street, Amerman, St. Paul's Lutheran and Our Lady of Victory Schools.

Offer Theft Prevention Tips

Bicycle theft is a rapidly growing problem in the Northville area, especially and bicycle owners using their bicycles more.

Many of the bicycles sold today cost well over $100 and, because of this and the fact that most owners make them very easy to steal, bicycles are a very attractive item for thieves.

According to Trooper Michael Garrison of the Michigan State Police, bicycle thefts are continuing to increase and in 1972, 37,174 thefts were reported. In 1973, a total of 45,316 bicycles were stolen.

"Who are the thieves who are stealing your bicycles? Basically the bike thief falls into three categories — juveniles, professionals and organized gangs," Garrison said.

The juvenile thief typically discards the stolen bicycle when he is finished using it. Often he will remove accessories and parts which he uses or sells and most often these bikes are recovered in the same area from which they were stolen.

Another type of bicycle thief operates on a limited professional level, stealing one bike at a time and selling it. This type of thief may average three or four thefts per week and usually operates alone, selling the merchandise from his home, car or the street, Garrison explained.

Organized bicycle theft rings are developing throughout the country, stealing several bicycles and quickly moving them to another city where they are sold.

"Bicycle thefts happen mainly because of carelessness on the part of the cyclist," the trooper pointed out. Bikes are often left unlocked and unattended on the streets, creating opportunities for theft.

While there is no way to make a bike absolutely theft-proof, there are precautions that can be taken to safeguard them.

Lock the bicycle to a stationary object with a chain. Run the chain through both wheels and the frame as high off the ground as possible, using a heavy duty chain and lock having a shackle not less than 3/4-inch in diameter.

Lock the bike in a conspicuous place during the day and bring it indoors at night.

Statistics show that less than 50-percent of recovered bicycles are returned to their owners, because the owners could not be notified. Bicycle registration plays a major role in any effective plan to reduce losses from thefts, aiding in returning a recovered bike to its owner.

The single most important step a bike owner can take to help assure the return of a stolen bike is providing the police department with a serial number.

When the bicycle is purchased, the serial number stamped on the frame of the bike should be written down and kept with serial numbers of other valuable household items.

If bicycles are stolen, police will be able to enter the serial number in the nation-wide computer which will insure the identification of the bike's owner if it is recovered

NHS Parents Fete Grads with Party

Graduating seniors at Northville High are being mailed "airline tickets" for a nostalgic trip into their past at the annual all-night senior party following graduation on Tuesday.

Sponsored by parents of the Class of 1975, the party will take them on a journey and students will find themselves among memories of their earlier years.

Under the theme of "My Generation," the party will feature a buffet, swimming and a breakfast near dawn. All events will take place in the high school.

Seniors are reminded to bring their airline tickets with them to the party, general chairman Fred Sanger said. Rocking Kansas City Grandmaws rock group will play during the evening. The group recently set a world record for the longest floor show, performing for more than 18 hours.

Scott Regan, former disc jockey for WDRQ and WKMR, will be master of ceremonies for the evening. Regan also writes a rock music column for Temple magazine.

Party planners note that from the high school hallways to the cafeteria, to the patio, the decorations and food committees have re-created the influences that have played parts in the "growing up" years of the senior class.

Chairmen of the party committees are Nancy Baltz, decorations; Ted Marzoni, Connie Eis, breakfast; Jim Vargo, Bob Rhoton, buffet; Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Luckett, clean up; Bob Carr, entertainment;

Mrs. Thomas Johnson, publicity; Dave Pink, Robert Foust, security; Marilyn Stelmach, telephone; William Dyke, telephone; and Jerry Rotta, check room.

Amerman Social Set Friday

Amerman Elementary's annual ice cream social will be held Friday, June 6, beginning at 6 p.m. at the school.

In case of rain, the ice cream social will be held inside the gym. In addition to ice cream, tickets will be sold for coffee, lemonade, pies and cakes.

Sponsored by the Amerman PTA, the evening is Family Night, they add Moved and supported that this amendment be sent to the Planning Commission for a Public Hearing.

c. DISCUSSION OF PROBLEMS AT HIGHLAND LAKES SUB—Inasmuch as there have been many complaints concerning the open basements at Highland Lakes Sub., the officials from Levitt Inc., were invited to attend the meeting.

Mr. Shassian, General Mgr. of Levitt, Inc., stated that their intent was to construct these units before the end of the year. He said the foundations are sprayed for rodents and he thought that capping these basements would create more of a problem. There are three buildings with twenty open basements and they had programmed the units to be constructed this summer, but because of the slow sales they will be started by September. A fence was discussed but Mr. Shassian said that children can easily climb over a fence. Liability was discussed with Mr. Shassian assuring the board that the Township would not be liable because the property belonged to Highland Lakes.

Several residents from Highland Lakes voiced their objections to the open basements, namely the concern for the children, the unsightly and unattractive situation.

It was moved and supported that the building inspector take the appropriate action to see that the basements are filled in within 30 days.

DRAINAGE ON SILVER SPRING DRIVE

The complaint is that dirt is washing onto Silver Spring Drive leaving piles of dirt on the street washing into the storm sewer. Also that the silt traps are left open and the children are playing there at night destroying the silt around the traps.

Mr. Shassian said most of the silt was coming from the school site where the ground cover is not adequate, however the right of way had now been sodded. Mr. Syd Thomas explained to the board some of the problems and concerns of the residents Mr. Wilson said that he recently attended a meeting with Mr. Spear from the school board and Mr. Carroll from Levitt, on April 23, which resulted in 1) an admitted mutual responsibility between the School Board and Levitt 2) the School Board alleged that possibly one of the utility companies had done some of Levitt's earlier work 3) Levitt committed that they would clean Dearborn Court 4) Mr. Spear said that the Board would check the building schedule with the contractor to determine the extent of the school board's liability, (there is no time table at this time) 5) there was a commitment that the storm drain would be cleaned and the lake would be dredged at the exit of the storm sewer 6) Levitt committed that they would begin building a silt trap within 10 days, (which they did) 7) Levitt said they would sod along the erosion.

Mr. Shassian said that the land belongs to the school and it is their problem and Levitt is not going to do the school board's work. He recommended that the people take this problem to the school board.

It was moved and supported that the supervisor coordinate the necessary personnel to make an investigation of this situation and report back to the Township Board on or before the next regular meeting with information regarding the protection of the health, safety, and welfare of the residents of Highland Lakes, in this area.

PART OF THE PICTURE

Complete facilities are important in funeral service, of course... and our new facilities on Six Mile Road were built with this in mind.

To our way of thinking, the people who serve here are the most important part. They provide the understanding and concern that funeral service is all about.

At all our locations, you'll find that the completeness of our service equals the completeness of our facilities.

Arraigned on Charges

A 23-year-old South Lyon man will face examination of charges of assault with intent to rob while being armed and felonious driving tomorrow, Thursday.

Frank John Kotyuk was arraigned on the charges last week in 35th District Court before Judge Dunbar Davis.

According to Northville Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun, charges of attempted armed robbery were dropped. The present charge carries a life sentence if convicted, Nisun pointed out.

The felonious driving charge was added after a warrant was obtained by township officers from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

Kotyuk was arrested by township police on May 18 following a three-car accident at the intersection of Hines, Northville and Five Mile roads.

hospitalized with burns sustained after her car burst into flames following the accident.

Kotyuk is being held in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Police Blotter: Man Killed in One-Car Novi Accident

In Novi

Novi recorded its first auto fatality of the year Thursday night at 7:40 p.m. on Grand River just east of Taft Road.

According to traffic officer William Brown, killed in the accident was David Lappi, 25, of Wayne. He was a passenger in a car driven by Terrance Grisdale, 36, of Livonia.

Grisdale reportedly was eastbound on Grand River at speeds of 75 miles per hour. As Grisdale went over a hill just west of Taft Road, a car pulled out from Taft Road eastbound on Grand River. Grisdale swerved into the center lane and part of the westbound lane, losing control of his vehicle. He then slid off the south shoulder of the road in front of the other vehicle, entered a ditch and went across the lawn of 45241 Grand River.

The car then struck a culvert, flipping over and rolling onto the west service drive of Vicente Tool where Lappi was thrown onto the driveway. The vehicle ended up on its top 11 feet east of the driveway.

Both Lappi and Grisdale were conveyed to Botsford by Novi Ambulance where Lappi was dead on arrival. Grisdale received multiple fractures to the left side of his body. Possible charges are pending completion of the investigation.

A 15 year-old girl who was picked up while hitchhiking with her boyfriend to Camp Dearborn in Milford was reportedly raped May 25 in the I-96 rest area in Novi.

According to Novi detectives, the youths were hitchhiking in Dearborn when they were picked up by two males in a white panel truck and taken to Camp Dearborn. Along the way, the driver stopped at a bar and gave the juveniles some beer in their van.

Finally arriving at Camp Dearborn, the youths found it was raining and decided to go home. The four stopped at a Wixom bar and were served beer and whiskey before the bar owner checked the age of the youths and demanded that they leave.

The group continued to the Novi rest area where the boy fell asleep in the back of the van. The girl was then reportedly thrown to the floor in back and held down by one of the men while the other raped her.

The girl's screams awoke the boyfriend, who attacked the subjects. Both of the juveniles were able to jump out of the van and ran to a motorist for help.

Police are seeking the van and the two subjects.

Novi police arrested David Cain, 18, of 24141 Pheasant Run in Novi and John Poelstra, 17, of 42488 Parkridge in Novi May 25 for breaking and entering of a residence on Hampton Hill.

According to report, a witness telephoned police of a suspicious vehicle at the residence and police checking found the back glass door wall ajar.

Cain was found in the house hiding and Poelstra was apprehended outside going to his car.

They were booked and transported to Oakland County Jail and were later released on bond.

A nine year-old girl was found by detectives to be responsible for the theft of more than $100 worth of jewelry and approximately $50 in change from a B and E May 28 in the 40000 block of 13 Mile Road.

A glass in the back door was broken and the back door then unlocked to gain entry. The girl in question lived in the neighborhood and had skipped school that day.

Everything was taken from a bedroom.

Willis Thomason of Detroit, wanted for the rape in Novi last September of a 15 year-old Detroit girl has been arrested by the Ohio State Highway Patrol and Novi police are seeking extradition for trial.

According to detectives, Novi police had sought Thomason but found he had left the state. Ohio State Highway Patrol arrested Thomason for possession of a stolen auto. After Thomason is prosecuted on the charge he will be released to the Montgomery County sheriff's department in Dayton on a charge of armed robbery.

Novi is seeking extradition following prosecution of those two charges.

A new Toro lawn mower valued at $130 was taken from a home in the 23000 block of East LeBost May 27. Detectives are investigating.

A Schwinn bicycle valued at $133 was taken from where it was parked in front of Guernseys May 27 between 5:10 and 5:30.

A 1974 Honda motorcycle valued at $2,000 was stolen May 24-26 from a home in the 45000 block of Timberlane. A chain attached was apparently cut. Detectives are investigating.

Sanford Smith, 52, of 173 Pickford in Novi was admitted to Botsford hospital June 1 with a gunshot wound to the forearm and a wound to the abdominal area.

According to Detective Gordon Nelson, Smith stated that he heard his truck's horn, which is connected to a burglar alarm, go off and he grabbed a gun, went behind the truck and was shot. Smith reported seeing someone exiting through a rear window of his garage.

According to Nelson, witnesses said they heard three shots fired and did not hear the horn sound. A Browning automatic was confiscated from Smith which had been fired three times and jammed. There were powderburns on Smith's T-shirt.

Nelson stated that the wounds were accidental self-inflicted gunshot wounds. One bullet apparently ricocheted off the truck striking Smith while the second was accidentally shot by Smith at his abdomen after he was struck by the first.

In Wixom

Wixom police May 23 arrested Carl Roberts, 24, of Inkster and Howard Jones, 29, of Westland for breaking and entering of Automotive Specialties.

According to reports, Sergeant Gerald Pastula called in a report of a possible larceny in progress. Officers arrived at the Village Apartments and found a car still warm parked there.

Tracking dog Kojak was called in and he tracked the subjects to Automotive Specialties where officers found the fence had been cut. Kojak was unable to track the subjects inside Automotive Specialties and officers went back and staked out the car.

The subjects returned to the car, starting it up and driving away. With aid of a Walled Lake officer, the subjects were stopped and placed under arrest for breaking and entering of a fenced private grounds.

Both were arraigned in 52nd district court of Gene Schnel and held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $5,000 cash bond.

A bicycle valued at $165 was taken from a garage on Wixom Road May 19-23. The bicycle was described as a ten speed men's Raven Corcord.

One hundred dollars was taken from a rooming house on Pontiac Trail West of Wixom Road May 24. According to reports, a tenant there saw a young man standing at the dresser during the night and when she asked him what he was doing, he took off. The money was missing from a dresser drawer.

A 1971 Lincoln valued at $2,500 was apparently stolen from the Ford Motor Company parking lot May 24-26.

The car had been left at the lot after the owner could not get it started. When he returned May 26, it was missing.

Wixom police have arrested James Rochowiak, 17, of Milford on an outstanding warrant for breaking and entering of a dwelling stemming from a case May 1.

According to police, Rochowiak was wanted in connection with the theft of two radios worth $100 which were taken from a rooming house on Pontiac Trail.

Rochowiak is being held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $1,000 cash or surety bond.

In Township

Three break-ins, three car thefts and several complaints stemming from loud parties were among cases investigated by Northville Township and Michigan State Police officers.

Two of the break-ins, investigated by state police, occurred at the Dun Rovin Golf Course Pro Shop and at a home on Franklin Road.

Break-in of the pro shop was discovered by troopers on routine patrol early last week Tuesday when they heard an alarm ringing. Investigation showed that siding and tar paper had been removed and the walls pushed in in an attempt to enter the building. However, full entry to the shop was not made.

Troopers said the building had been checked by township officers at 2:30 a.m. and the alarm was heard shortly after 4 a.m.

A black and white 12-inch television and an am-fm clock radio were stolen from a home on Franklin Road late May 16 or early May 17 while owners were asleep. Investigation showed the home had been entered through the back door.

Break-in of a home over the past weekend was reported to township police who are continuing their investigation.

Bedrooms were ransacked after a door was pried open to gain entry to the home in the 41000 block of Rayburn.

A 32-year-old Oak Park man will face examination on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property next week Thursday.

Arrested Saturday by township police was Gary F. Steigler. He was arraigned Sunday, stood mute and is free on $1,000 personal bond.

According to township reports, Steigler was found driving a 1974 Lincoln on Beck Road. A check of the vehicle identification number showed it had been stolen from Detroit in February. A Ford Motor Company lease car, the vehicle had a flat tire which Steigler was changing at the time of the arrest.

Another stolen car was recovered by township officers early last Wednesday morning. The 1974 Chevrolet was completely engulfed in flames when found on Six Mile west of Beck Road.

Registered to a man in Northfield township, the car was stolen from Whitmore Lake the previous day.

A 1973 Gremlin was stolen from Seven Mile Road near Clement about 6 a.m. Friday.

The car was found by Inkster Police late Sunday evening, completely stripped. Two snow tires in the back seat were also missing.

Three young girls were the victims of an indecent exposure incident Thursday afternoon in a field near Five Mile and Marilyn.

According to township police, an 11-year-old girl was grabbed by a subject who then exposed himself. He was later seen riding a red motorcycle on Five Mile and turning into Lake Pointe.

The man, in his late teens, is heavy set with medium length brown hair, black rimmed glasses and wore blue jeans, jacket and a red helmet.

Township police said the youth was riding on the wrong side of the road when the accident took place. The driver was not ticketed.

The gravel pit on Griswold proved to be a busy place for township police during the past week.

Officers investigated a fight in which a 20-year-old youth sustained a four-inch cut on his face, arrested five persons for trespassing with cars, one for careless driving, one person on a warrant.

Breaking up a loud party in Highland Lakes early Sunday morning resulted in three arrests by township officers. Two youths were arrested for being disorderly on Hayes Court shortly after 1 a.m.

About 11:20 p.m., officers investigating a noise complaint heard tires squeal and found a 17-year-old Farmington youth driving across lawns.

Police said ruts were left more than 318 feet long from Ironwood to Darmouth along Silver Spring Drive and small trees had also been knocked over. He was arrested for reckless driving.

The suspect, described as five-foot 11 inches tall, 25 years old with brown wavy shoulder length hair and a full beard, then drove southbound on Sheldon Road.

Police are continuing to investigate a felonious assault which took place about 7:30 a.m. Monday on High Street between Dunlap and Randolph.

A high school girl told police a man in a red 1973 Ford pulled up to her and asked if she wanted a ride. When she declined, he pulled a gun out of the glove box and asked her again.

A passing motorist scared the man off. He was about 30 years old with brown hair and left the area northbound.

Theft of a 1971 silver Pontiac Firebird was reported to police Monday.

The car was stolen from a driveway in the 300 block of South Main Street sometime late Sunday or early Monday. A coat hanger was found in the drive and police theorize it was used to gain entry to the locked vehicle.

Fourth of July Parade To Be Biggest in History

Northville's annual Jaycee-sponsored Fourth of July parade promises to be the largest in the area and has as its theme, "It's a Small World After All."

The parade will start at 10 a.m. on Friday, July 4, in the Northville Downs parking lot and the one and a half mile route will be from Griswold to Main Street, through downtown, and back to the Downs.

The parade leads off the Jaycees 11th annual July 4 celebration. Other events will include a chicken barbecue, watermelon-eating contest, dunk tank and fireworks.

Northville Jaycee Auxiliary is assisting the Jaycees in the holiday arrangements.

The parade, featuring children, will be grouped under seven categories with first, second and third place trophies being awarded in each area.

The categories to be judged are: equestrian, junior marching, senior marching, floats, musical groups, antique cars and miscellaneous motor vehicles.

In addition, ribbons will be awarded to the best decorated bicycles participating. All parade units will be judged by a panel of local community leaders.

The Jaycees are encouraging area groups and organizations to enter floats or other parade units by contacting Sam or Bo Hall, 349-6593, or Mrs. Sharon Lang, 349-6804. Deadline for registration is July 1. There are no entry fees.

Jaycee Bob Risher is chairman for all the Fourth of July Festivities. The Halls and Mrs. Lang are assisting him as parade chairmen.

Wixom Awards Road Paving Bids

Wixom council last week awarded, as recommended by the city engineers, a bid of $208,618 to Albert A. Dettore Co. for paving of several streets within the city and the extension of the Loon Lake storm sewer.

The streets to be paved include Lakeridge, Roseworth, Orland, Grouse, and Nightingale while Beck Road will be resurfaced. The package bid also includes the extension of the Loon Lake sewer, a four year thorn in the side of the city that had brought all road paving to a halt.

Residents in the area had succeeded in holding up all street paving until problems with the drain were resolved. The extension of the sewer, as provided for in the bid, will be done at the same time as the road paving begins.

Council also discussed bicentennial celebrations and is seeking people interested in serving on a committee to work on promoting the celebration in the area.

"If someone would come forward with some form of program, I'd be happy to appropriate some money from contingency," commented Councilman Fred Morehead.

"It seems most of the cities and schools are having some sort of program," added Councilman James Lahde. He noted that the Walled Lake school District is working on bicentennial celebration in the area.

Mayor Val Vangieson suggested joining in with the schools in determining a program for next year.

"If we have nothing else in Wixom, we have a rich history," stated Lahde. "We have many houses over 100 years old. It would be a shame if we didn't focus on this."

Lahde suggested that the city "promote the historical aspect into future planning," and asked for revamping of older buildings.

Councilman Gunnar Mettala suggested that the council become a committee of the whole. The mayor said that would be okay if residents do not come forward with plans.

Bloomfield Disposal company was awarded a $25,500 garbage pick-up bid by the council. Other bids ranged up to $32,500.

Garbage pick-up times will remain the same.

A bid of $2,698 for road oiling of 17,412 lineal feet of road was awarded to Edward Waste Oil and Road Oiling Service of Detroit, the only company to bid. The cost of the road oiling is down from last year.

City Attorney Harold Bulgarelli said that Wixom's assessors will enter Ford Motor Company July 21-25 to attempt to assess the plant according to 1971 standards.

Despite the fact Ford Motor Company has begun a fight before the state tax tribunal against valuation and assessment of the plant in 1971, charging that an additional factor added on made its assessment too high, Ford had refused to allow city assessors to enter the plant. Ford apparently felt it would be impossible for the city to assess according to 1971 values.

The city was successful in getting the state tax tribunal to allow the city assessors in. The plant will be closed down for model changeover when the assessors are in the plant.
