

House Makes It Despite Hill, Curb, Trees, Vandals

You've heard the country song about the runaway truck at Wolf Creek Pass, but have you ever heard the one about the runaway house at Cady Street Junction?

It hasn't made the charts yet... in fact it hasn't even been written, but when Jimmy D. Porter handed you his most mischievous smile a week ago and suggested he had the makings of another big 'runaway' hit you got this gnawing feeling in your gut that maybe, just maybe, he wasn't foolin'.

Peppered with questions by sidewalk superintendents, Jimmy D had tossed aside straight answers and turned in desperation to jesting. Typical was, "Sure gonna be a roller-coaster ride downhill."

Jimmy D is the house mover from Westland who was commissioned to cart the old Judge Yerkes mansion from its perch at Cady and Church streets to the Mill Race Historical Village off Griswold Street.

"It's a snap" or "no sweat" or "easy job" were among the early responses by the mover as he and his workmen hoisted the gigantic frame house onto 'greasers' preparatory to easing it down the east slope to Church.

All kidding aside, Jimmy indicated he was confident the trek down this slope was a 'five' on a scale of one to ten for difficulty.

"Why, just recently we moved an old church in Dexter that had a 40-foot high steeple without breaking a single window or dismantling any part of it," he boasted. "Some people in Dexter lost a lot of money betting we couldn't move that church."

The Yerkes house is a good deal smaller than the Dexter church but nevertheless it's a big one. Jimmy figured it weighs between 75 to 80 tons. Earlier, he moved the carriage house that was attached to the mansion.

As Jimmy and his crew moved the house off its foundation to a point 20 feet east—right to the edge of the slope, most sidewalk superintendents doubted the move down the hill would be as easy as he described it.

"Balance, that's the trick," insisted the mover. "If you balance the house properly it should go down the hill just as nicely as if it were flat."

Hydraulic jacks were used to raise the building, enabling workmen to place skids under it. Two kinds of skids, all steel beams, were used. The main skids are the ones upon which the house rests. The smaller ones were positioned underneath and clamped to the main ones in a 90-degree angle.

To move the house away from the foundation, the workmen literally pulled the house along greasers (ties liberally greased) that rested on cribbing (wood ties). To pull it they anchored chains to the skids and inched it along by two giant tow trucks.

With the house moved off the foundation, workmen attached wheels to two of the skids. Now the house was turned in place and gently eased down the slope, on the wheels as trucks held it from going too fast. Just as Jimmy predicted the downhill move was "easy." The house was moved across Church Street into the Northville Downs parking lot where it was to wait until the next day for the remainder of the trip to the Mill Race.

Although the move down the hillside proved relatively "easy," the remainder of the trip became a costly nightmare for the normally jovial mover.

First, after Bell Telephone personnel had begun removing telephone wires, rain forced postponement of the move early Thursday morning. Detroit Edison personnel would not disconnect the power lines in the damp weather and Jimmy and his crew would not move the house along Griswold where it would pass within a few inches of high-power lines. "It's too dangerous," he agreed with Edison employees. "Both men and house could go up in smoke if they got too close to the wires in this kind of weather."

The delay would be financially costly, he said, "but we've got no choice."

Friday dawned bright and warm...and disappointing.

"Only one of my employees showed up," moaned Jimmy D, mentally adding up the cost of paying Edison and Bell employees for another delay. To make matters worse, Wayne County personnel were late in taking down the traffic light at Main and Griswold.

"If I have to move it all by myself that house will be moved today," he muttered.

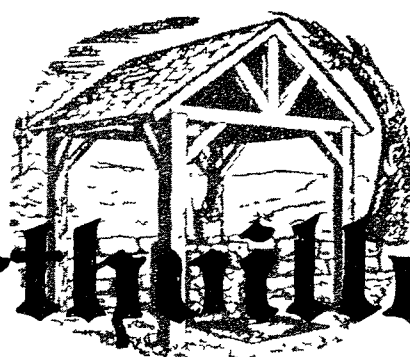

So with Jimmy D in the cab of the truck pulling the house and his lone employee out front signalling directions, the procession of house and truck and spectators moved north on Griswold to Main.

At Main the house had to wait for the wires to be removed before continuing north. Once across Main the house proved too wide to pass between the limbs extending out from the trees growing on either side of Griswold. Some of the branches snapped off, others were brushed aside harmlessly, and still others had to be sawed away.

Each stop for a tree branch was just another costly delay.

Once in front of the Mill Race property, the truck could not turn sharply enough to turn and pull the house up over the

Police Post Clears Hurdle

Opposition Withdrawn In Last Minute Move

Last-minute opposition to the $2.3 million Michigan State Police complex in Northville township was withdrawn last Thursday clearing the way for awarding of bids on June 17.

The long-standing project, which was threatened by a caucus of Wayne county Democrats seeking Michigan State Police assistance in the city of Detroit, received unanimous approval (8 to 0 vote) of the powerful Joint Capital Outlay Committee as the first item on its morning agenda.

The action virtually assures the beginning of construction in July with scheduled completion in October, 1976.

State Representative William A. Ryan, speaking on behalf of the committee of Wayne county Democrats, gave the Northville complex the boost it needed. Speaking before the committee of four senators and four representatives, he said the Wayne county group wished to withdraw its opposition to the Northville plan because assurances had been given that the role of State Police activity in the city of Detroit would be reviewed.

State Senator Carl Pursell, who played a major role in reaching the compromise after the Northville complex was threatened, also spoke to the Capital Outlay Committee. Statistically he noted that the complex would serve a seven-county area, including Wayne, with more than three million residents outside the city of Detroit as well as 1.5 million in the central city.

A presentation on behalf of the project was also made by Livonia Police Chief Robert Turner, president of the Southeastern Michigan Chiefs of Police.

But agreement had been reached before the 8 a.m. meeting in Lansing. It came after a letter from Representative Richard A. Young of Dearborn Heights had proposed moving the Northville complex to Detroit.

Representative Young is a member of the Capital Outlay Committee and chairmened the caucus session of the Wayne county Democrats. His group had noted that 13 state police posts are located in the Upper Peninsula and none in the city of Detroit.

The city of Detroit also operates its own crime laboratory without state financial help.

Under present regulations State Police do not function within city limits unless assistance is requested by local police agencies. All cities in southeastern Michigan, except Detroit, take advantage of the State Police crime lab facilities, however.

It is anticipated that following discussions during the past week the legislature will review its policy regarding State Police patrolling of expressways through all cities and that a sub-post serving the broad Michigan State Police Second District area will be considered for Detroit.

Another area where the state could offer assistance to Detroit would be in its crime lab facilities.

College Voters Pick Cowden, McQuesten

Mandell, Hobart Win Terms

Incumbent John Hobart and Dr. Robert Mandell won four-year terms on the Northville School Board in Monday's annual school election as less than 19 percent of the district's 9,284 voters went to the polls.

Both candidates carried each of the district's six precincts with Dr. Mandell, who led every precinct, tallying a total of 735 votes to Hobart's 508. John Berry garnered 343 votes and Ralph Hay earned 151.

Joel Colliau, an incumbent running in Novi, and Mark Lysinger each polled one write-in vote.

Barbara Jean Eckles received two write-in votes.

An incumbent and a former Schoolcraft student were elected to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Winning six year terms were Ronald W. Cowden, incumbent, and Mark Alan McQuesten, who attended Schoolcraft College for several years. Both are Livonia residents as are the four candidates who lost. The college district vote totals were:

Cowden, 10,116; McQuesten, 7,064; Harry G. Greenleaf, 6,488; Richard J. Hayward, 3,826; Jerome Harris, 3,137; and Robert W. Cadotte, 2,224.

New terms of those elected begin July 1, but organization of the Schoolcraft board is scheduled July 7.

In Northville, Cowden led the ticket with 557 votes, followed by Greenleaf with 342, McQuesten with 278, Hayward 165, Cadotte 98, and Harris 91.

Results of Northville's paper ballot election were known by about 9:30 p.m. and when announced during the school board meeting in progress, Joseph Fiorilli objected. He charged that the results had not been canvassed and that he, as a member of the Board of Canvassers, had not seen the results.

However, after the results were canvassed, votes did not change.

Board Suspends Teacher

In a split vote, Northville School Board members supported the administration's order to suspend for five-days without pay a teacher who failed to pay dues to Northville Education Association (NEA).

The action followed an open hearing before the board Monday night. The hearing had been ordered by Oakland County Circuit Court through which the teacher is seeking to obtain an injunction to prevent her suspension.

Trustees voted 5-2, Karen Wilkinson and Andrew Orphan dissenting, to uphold the suspension order.

The case centers around the agency shop clause in the contract between the school board and NEA. All teachers must belong to the union and pay dues or pay an amount equal to dues into a fund.

Teachers are exempt if they notify the board and NEA that joining or paying dues is in violation of their religious or political beliefs which have been established before their employment.

Notification must take place 31 days after the start of the school year or first date of employment, which ever is later.

Speaking to the board, Mrs. Marilyn Hopping, the teacher in question, said she has "a moral obligation to obey the laws. The Michigan Education Association sanctions strikes, in violation of the Public Acts."

"The NEA has participated in several strikes and I cannot in good conscience support or contribute money to an organization which supports violating the law. They lobby for the right to strike."

Mrs. Hopping said that her beliefs were established in 1969 when, as an employee of Plymouth schools, she went to the classroom while others walked the picket line.

Employed by Northville in September of 1973, she worked two hours per day and "was not entitled to contract benefits."

"In January of 1974, the NEA requested my suspension because I had not filed a letter with them. I requested a suspend-in method, teaching for five days without pay."

She said the NEA would not accept that and, refusing to be forced out of the classroom, she paid the dues under protest, notifying the NEA of her protest and her reasons for protest.

She said she believed that the NEA accepted that letter as notification of reasons why she would not join this year but in January of 1975 they again requested her suspension.

Mrs. Hopping said the "contract has phrases which protect the NEA but not teachers. I feel I have no rights as far as the master agreement is concerned. This violates my principles that teachers should be in the classroom."

"It's a way for the NEA to get money for publishing propaganda, supporting candidates, having a strike fund and other activities. I also want the $90 service fee

Plan Summer Music Program

The director of Schoolcraft College's summer music school attributes a major portion of their school's past successes to the exceptionally high quality of its teaching staff.

Richard T. Saunders feels the real strength of the program is in having master musician-teachers: "Men and women who are outstanding performers in their own right" he explained, "they take the time and have an interest in providing a great deal of individual attention for their students."

The school this summer is being held from June 30 through July 25 on the Schoolcraft campus. A number of openings remain for students who may contact Director Saunders at 591-6400, Ext. 342.

Nine of the 12-person summer faculty are performing artists with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Two others, Robert W. Jones and Donald Morelock, are full-time music instructors at Schoolcraft.

Jones, who first joined the College as "composer-in-residence," teaches a class for young composers. They study compositions from the four eras from the 17th to the 20th Centuries, and short compositions are written weekly in the style under study. The class is limited to 10 students.

The school for selected piano students under Morelock provides opportunities in ensemble performance, two-piano, piano-duet ensembles and concerto playing. Morelock has presented a number of concerts himself, locally.

Saunders said that one very fortunate student will be selected by special audition to perform with the faculty as guest soloist in the final concert. "The student trains and rehearses with the professional staff during most of the school session," he added, "an experience any serious young musician will greatly value and benefit from."

Novi Police Score Again—It's Escapee Remling

"Score another one for Novi Police Department."

Those words, shouted triumphantly over the police band frequency Saturday by an unidentified officer, came only moments after Novi police learned that information they had supplied to the state police had netted one of Jackson State Prison's most celebrated escapees — Dale Otto Remling.

The capture in Leslie by state police ended a state wide manhunt for the fugitive conman who was spirited away from Jackson prison last Friday morning in a daring helicopter escape that had all the elements of suspense of the suddenly famous movie "Breakout" in which a similar escape occurs.

According to police chief Lee BeGole, the capture began Saturday at 2:55 p.m. when a man who police refused to identify walked into the Novi police department shaking with fear and stating "I need help I need a detective."

The man turned out to be a former cellmate of Remling living in Novi who told police that the fugitive had called him on the phone asking him to come to Leslie, halfway between Jackson and Lansing, to give Remling a ride.

BeGole said that detective Robert Starnes drove the informant to Leslie after stopping in Brighton to pick up a state police detective.

Meanwhile, Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson and Corporal Jack Grubb—both called into action from home to aid the skeleton Saturday crew — stationed themselves at the home of the former cellmate in case of further transmissions by Remling. At the same time, state police were rushing to Leslie in unmarked vehicles.

A second phone call from Remling to the wife of the former cellmate was received in which Remling identified himself only as "the man who called before." He asked questions about whether the Novi man had left and what type of car he would be driving. He also identified exactly where he was calling from, BeGole said.

The information was relayed to a state police car which had reached Leslie with trooper William Flowers who had met Remling in the past. Flowers reportedly ran into a restaurant after seeing Remling walk down the street and enter the establishment. Flowers, out of uniform, drew his gun in the restaurant and Remling reportedly offered no resistance. The capture was made at 5:15 p.m. — less than three hours after Novi police were notified.

Starnes and the former cellmate arrived after the arrest.

The original escape by Remling occurred shortly after 11 a.m. Friday after an accomplice hi-jacked at knifepoint a private helicopter from Mettetal Airport near Plymouth and forced the steely Vietnam veteran to land in the prison yard at a point marked by a red handkerchief and a burnt spot.

The helicopter was afterward landed in a field five miles from the prison and three cars were at the site — apparently in an attempt to confuse police as the cars fled in different directions.

Mace sprayed in the eyes of the helicopter pilot only blinded him for about 90 seconds before he recovered, radioed police and chased one of the cars with the helicopter. Remling was reportedly rattled by the helicopter and abandoned the car in an attempt to make his getaway' on foot.

He made his way to Leslie on foot Saturday afternoon where he did some shopping and bought a pair of shoes, a shirt and two pairs of pants before his capture.

Five other persons have been charged with air piracy and conspiracy in the escape. Two others were, at last report, still at large.

Remling had been in Jackson Prison since 1973 where he was serving a sentence of 7-10 years for check fraud

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD — NOVI NEWS

MARINA OPENS—Pat Moore, Manager of the Walled Lake Dock Marina discusses the opening this past weekend with Glenn Domke, construction manager. The marina, owned by attorney Gabriel Glantz opened this past weekend despite the fact the marina has no DNR permit to operate. Officials of the DNR have admitted that no action will be taken.

Without Marina Permit

Walled Lake Dock Opens for Business

Novi's controversial Walled Lake dock has opened for business although the marina does not yet have the required state license for operation of a marina.

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) officials candidly admitted Monday that "we're not going to do anything" regarding the infraction.

The clear sailing ahead for the marina comes after a stretch of rough water last week in which DNR officials ordered repair on the structure to cease — despite a previous court order that the dock be repaired.

The DNR officials held that attorney Gabriel Glantz, owner of the property, needed a state permit to construct the marina. Such a permit is required if the work includes expansion of the marina. Glantz had held that repairs were being made to the original dock, although only pilings remained of the original dock which was constructed in 1925.

All of the original structure has been pulled out over the past eight months and, according to manager Patricia Moore, only clean-up operations remain to be completed.

According to John Urbain, regional environmental specialist for the DNR, that body held that Glantz was reconstructing the pier and thus needed a permit.

"We received an opinion from attorney general Jerome Maslowski that they are replacing the pier in the same location as when it was originally built in 1925 and no permit was needed," Urbain said Monday. "The staff here doesn't agree with it but..."

Next step in the process is issuance of a marina permit. Dave Haywood, Assistant Chief of the Submerged Lands Section for the DNR, said that Glantz has applied for a marina permit though it has not yet been issued.

According to Haywood, Glantz at one time applied for the permit, withdrew his request, and finally reinstated the original request.

Notice has been sent to the city, Haywood said, which would have allowed a public hearing to be held if the city so desired. Haywood stated that there has been no response from the city to the request and the deadline has passed. He noted that one of the homeowners associations had put in a request to speak at the public hearing.

City officials contend, however, that they have never received notification that they could request the public hearing and state that if they had received notice, they would have requested the hearing.

"I know our time has run out and I don't know whether we'd reconsider," stated Urbain.

Urbain and a regional engineer will inspect the dock this week to determine whether it meets all requirements for an operating marina and to make a determination as to how many boats will be allowed on the permit.

Glantz has applied for a 200 boat marina permit, but both Haywood and Urbain agreed that the request is not realistic. "I feel 200 boats is terribly optimistic," said Haywood. "I don't have any expectation of permitting 200 boats."

Besides docking facility problems, Haywood said that the marina probably does not have parking or sanitary facilities to handle the people using 200 boats.

According to Haywood, there would be litigation should Glantz refuse to lower the number of boats from 200 to the number on the permit.

"I don't see any reason to hold it up," added Haywood. "I don't have any objection to the operating permit."

Henderson, Colliau Win in Light Vote

In an extremely light turnout, Novi voters okayed incumbents Joel Colliau and Gilbert Henderson who were running unopposed for the two four year board terms. Only 39 voters of approximately 5,000 registered came to the polls as Colliau received 32 votes while Henderson picked up 31 votes.

Henderson will be serving his third term. He has been on the board seven years and is currently vice-president of the board.

Colliau was appointed last March by the board to fill the unexpired term of trustee Norman Miller who moved out of the school district.

Colliau had been unsuccessful in his bid for a school board seat when he ran in 1973.

Petitions Due June 17 For Wixom Council Seats

Deadline in Wixom for submitting nominating petitions for three council seats and the mayor's position is June 17 at 4 p.m.

According to City Clerk June Buck, 40-60 signatures are required on the nominating petitions. Petitions are available in the city clerk's office at city hall.

Up for grabs is the two year position of mayor currently held by Dr. Val Vangieson. Council seats which will be decided in the November 4 election include those of Lillian Spencer, Robert Dingeldey and Melvin Green.

All incumbents except for Mayor Val Vangieson have taken out nominating petitions though the petitions have not yet been returned. Besides Dingeldey, Green and Mrs. Spencer, others taking out nominating petitions are present councilman Gunnar Mettala, past Mayor Wesley McAtee, former assistant to the mayor William Travis, and Mike McDonald.

Vangieson told this newspaper that he has not yet decided whether he will seek election to another term.

The mayor cited family considerations in his current indecision whether to run.

For New High School

Board OK's Final Plans

Final plans for the new Novi high school were approved Thursday as the board of education prepared to take bids on the comprehensive facility to be located at the southeast corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads.

Target date for receipt of bids is July 15. Superstructure of the new high school is already underway.

School board members met past midnight Thursday in their page-by-page review of the architect's massive compilation of drawings. Very little was changed, the board having made significant alterations when it earlier considered the preliminary drawings.

Called second to none in most of the metropolitan Detroit area, the new high school consists of two buildings — one the educational wing and the other a round, domed commons building where the cafeteria will be located.

The educational wing will be a two-story structure. The building will face Taft.

Superintendent Gerald Kratz said the auditorium will be the finest of any secondary school in southeastern Michigan. The building also is to include an olympic size swimming pool.

Having heard complaints earlier in the meeting about the poor speaker system used at last week's graduation program, architectural representatives assured board members that the speaker system in the new school will be exceptionally fine in the auditorium.

By law, the school will have an elevator for use by handicapped students, but not for other students and faculty members.

A large greenhouse will be located on the roof of the building, immediately above the biology department area from where a staircase will lead to the glass structure.

Most of the school is to be airconditioned, including the spectator section of the swimming pool. The gymnasium, which is large enough to be divided into four separate physical education teaching stations, and the shop are among the areas that will not be air conditioned.

To give citizens an idea of the building's size, Dr. Kratz noted that it will be about the size of West Bloomfield High School and larger than the new high school in Plymouth. It will contain 400 doors.

Nine File For Council

Nine persons have filed petitions in Novi for the vacant council seat to be decided at a July 22 special election.

Filing petitions were: Martha Hoyer, Joseph Toth, A. Russell Button, Homer Starr, Gerald Bauer, William O'Brien, Mahlon Green, Kenneth Maxwell, and Reynel Rodriguez.

The vote is required by charter as the result of council inability to name a successor to the seat vacated by George Athas.

Conspicuous by her absence in filing a petition was former city clerk Mabel Ash who had been a frontrunner, with Martha Hoyer, among councilmembers for the vacant seat. Neither Pat Karevich nor James Cherfoli, other persons who had submitted their names during the council voting, returned petitions.

Of those persons filing for

Air Interchange

The proposed state highway department plans for the I-96, Novi Road interchange will be the topic of discussion at a special informational meeting being held at 8 p.m. in the Novi Middle School June 23.

NOVI GRADUATION—The largest graduating class in the history of Novi High School — 168 — went through ceremonies last week at the athletic field behind the high school. Michael Ossian and Denise Koenig were valedictorians of the class while Deborah Friedman was salutatorian.

Stop-Work Order Doesn't Stop Beachwalk Project

Residents on East Lake Drive near the Beachwalk Apartments have finally received their wish — but say the developer may be ignoring a stop work order.

Novi's building department Monday closed down the Beachwalk project and indicate the project will remain closed until development is brought under the Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act.

According to Earl Bailey, Director of Building and Safety, the city put a stop work order on the business because two drains on the premises were draining directly into Walled Lake without any erosion control measures such as hay bales over the drain. A brown spot had been caused in the lake last week.

City representatives met with the developer Tuesday morning and at that meeting the developer indicated he will seek a restraining order in court to negate the stop work order.

"We told him he's going to get under the soil erosion and sedimentation control act," said City Manager Ed Kriewall. Kriewall added that the city may go to court itself to get the project under the control act.

Residents in the area Tuesday afternoon told this newspaper that workmen were continuing to work at the project despite the court order.

According to Kriewall, the city won't issue violations until Friday allowing the project time to apply with the county and city for the soil erosion permit.

Residents in the area had complained previously that the developer was causing flooding of their property and had asked the city, state DNR, and Oakland County to close down the project until the problem was taken care of.

Those bodies had indicated previously to this newspaper that they would not close down the project and that the developer had been taking every action possible to relieve the situation.

House Makes It to Village

curb. So it was disconnected and a cable was attached to the front of the truck and to the house. Thus, the house was turned in place so that it now faced into the Mill Race property. That was easy enough, but getting the house over the curb proved more difficult than inching the house down the hillside on Cady.

It was well past noon before the house was finally pulled up over the curb. The trucks and the house were left in the middle of the village to await the remainder of the move on Monday to the basement excavation at the north end of the property.

"I can't believe it," said Jimmy on Monday morning as he surveyed the vandals' damage. Over the weekend someone had smashed out the windows in his truck, smashed truck headlights, drained the batteries in a vain attempt to start the trucks, and smashed one of the few windows in the old house that had not been boarded up.

"I wasn't going to make much on this deal anyway because I wanted to give the Historical Society a break," said Jimmy, whose moving charge was $7,000. "Now with the delays and the damage to the trucks I'll be lucky to make enough to pay salaries."

Despite the truck damage, he completed the move Tuesday, pushing and pulling the gigantic old house over the basement hole. It is to remain shored up above the hole until the basement walls are laid. Then it will be lowered to rest on the blocks.

Except for a piece of broken "gingerbread" wood ornamentation on the front of the house, the 110-year-old house was undamaged by the move.

"I told you we'd make it," said Jimmy D, still smiling but singing just a slightly different tune. "I told you we'd move the house okay... I didn't say we'd make any money."

It took more than four hours to move this historic old house the three blocks from Cady and Griswold to Mill Race Historical Village Friday — after it had already safely made it down the hillside (top right). At left it reaches Main Street and below it approaches the basement excavation.

85 Members Added

Raise $40,000 for Village

"It was a huge success," said a spokesman for the Northville Historical Society in describing the recent house-to-house drive for funds for the Mill Race project.

A total of $2,495.55 was raised during the drive.

"Perhaps more importantly, our campaign workers registered 85 more Society members during the week-long drive," the newspaper was told. "In view of the task remaining to complete the Mill Race project every additional member is important."

Presently, the Historical Society is conducting a massive community fund-raising campaign to complete the first and major phase of the village.

Goal of the campaign, which got underway January 22 and concludes July 4, is $200,000. Thus far, nearly $40,000 has been raised.

Money is earmarked for landscaping, restoration of the Greek Revival house now on the premises, the move and restoration of the old Yerkes house just moved to the site, completion of the old library building work, move and restoration of a one-room schoolhouse, and move and restoration of a cottage house now located on North Center Street.

The old schoolhouse is expected to be moved within the next few weeks from its present location in Salem Township.

Theme for the fund-raising campaign is "Your place in history — invest in Mill Race."

The historical village property was donated to the city by the Ford Motor Company. It is located on the west side of Griswold Street, north of Main, on the site of what once was the first grist mill established in Northville 150 years ago. The village of historic buildings gets its name from the mill race that once operated the old mill waterwheel

Moraine Teachers Honor Mother Aides

Teachers at Moraine Elementary School honored 45 volunteer mother aides last week at an afternoon program.

Mrs. Rosemary Rondello, second grade teacher and chairman of the group, thanked the honored guests for their service to the school during the past year.

Clark Kelly, assistant principal, also extended his appreciation and that of Milton Jacobi, principal. Each mother was presented with a long-stemmed red rose.

The volunteer mother aide program is not new to Northville and especially not to Moraine. In 1970, Mrs. Nancy Fieldman, then a kindergarten teacher, and Mrs. Gayle Fountain, a first grade teacher, began the program with 12 mothers.

"Over the years, women have given generously of their time and talents to help teachers implement individualized programs for the students," Lou Wolf, second grade teacher, said.

The mothers have been instrumental in the cooking center, development of the Bucket Brigade, listening to children read, playing and making games and housekeeping chores.

The mothers agreed that it has been hard but gratifying work, Mrs. Rondello said. "Enthusiasm has remained high and we are all looking forward to continuing our program next year at Moraine and the new schools," she added.

HONOR MOTHERS—Moraine Elementary honored more than 45 mothers last week who have helped in classrooms during the past year. Each mother was presented with a certificate and a rose as a token of appreciation for volunteering their time at Moraine.

ENGINEERING ERROR—Engineers for the contractor doing installation of the storm sewer along Franklin Road made a mistake last week when they staked and cleared a 30-foot easement on property owned by Margaret Tegge. Instead of staking the centerline where the sewer would be placed, the engineers staked a line on Mrs. Tegge's property and then cleared a swath through a wooded area 30 feet south of the stakes. Meads Mill school property is north of her property. Superintendent of Schools Raymond Spear said the contractor is in error and Spear will make arrangements to have the area "put as much back to normal as is possible." Mrs. Tegge said she has turned the matter over to her attorney and is letting him handle it.

NEA Acts to Limit Student Teachers

Northville Education Association has adopted a position of limiting the number of student teachers employed in the Northville district.

Adopted May 21 by NEA is a method of limiting the student teachers to the number of teachers who retired the previous school year.

However, should the district have employees on temporary lay-off, no student teachers could be used.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said it was his opinion that "we have the right to management of the school district and this statement does not restrict our right to use student teachers."

Mrs. Naomi Poe, president of the NEA, explained that "If you had a student teacher in your room all year and then at the end of the year you told her to look for a job and there never were any, how would you feel? It's a hard thing to tell a student teacher."

She pointed out that the NEA was attempting to do what the colleges refused to do, limit the number of persons going into education.

paid to the NEA last year returned to me or the portion which does not apply to the collective bargaining process," she stated.

Board Vice-President Dr. Orlo Robinson said that as an "individual board member, I am not supportive of the agency shop clause. I am sympathetic to your position. However, the teacher did not follow the letter of the contract and we must uphold the contract."

Trustee Karen Wilkinson said that "according to the contract, Mrs. Hopping did advise the school district and the NEA of her position."

Superintendent Raymond Spear said he "took the same position until the NEA showed me an undated letter from Mrs. Hopping first objecting to the dues on the grounds that they were excessive."

Mrs. Hopping's attorney pointed out that the contract states the reasons must be "certified 31 days after employment or start of school but that beliefs must be established before their employment. These mean different things and Mrs. Hopping's beliefs were established a long time ago."

Board members voted 5-2 to support the administration's suspension order with Trustees Orphan and Mrs. Wilkinson dissenting.

Orphan said he believed that Mrs. Hopping fulfilled her obligation in establishing her political beliefs.

Escapees, Thefts Keep Officers Busy

In Novi

Two Detroit House of Correction escapees were captured Saturday by Novi Police following an accident in which another man was injured.

The escapees taken into custody were Edward Penn, 18, of Wayne and Michael Daugherty, 19, of Westland. According to officers, they were in a car driven by Jack Sibal, 26, of Plymouth.

That car was southbound on Wixom Road south of 11 Mile and failed to make a turn, slamming into a tree.

Officer Gerald Burnham arrived and learned from a resident that two passengers had fled on foot and the resident said that one of the passengers had mentioned DeHoCo.

Burnham then reported that he spotted the two men approximately 1,000 feet away in a field. Burnham called in Novi and Wixom officers who converged on an area behind Dinsers Greenhouse at 24501 Wixom Road and arrested the men.

According to Burnham, the escapees said that they were trying to get back to DeHoCo in time to make bed check. They had apparently been out on a buying spree and had several bottles of liquor in the car.

Driver of the car was taken to Botsford Hospital with a head concussion and later released. He had been drinking, but Burnham reported that Botsford Hospital refused to draw blood to determine level of intoxication.

Police are now investigating to determine the relationship of the driver of the car to the escapees. It was reported at the scene that Sibal had picked them up hitchhiking.

A Novi man and an Inkster man were arrested for assault and battery of police officers during a graduation party June 7.

Arrested for A and B and for resisting arrest were Joseph Bureau, 21, of 23624 Willowbrook and Richard Dovin, 20, of Inkster.

According to reports, patrolmen Roy and Butler, and corporal Burnham responded to a disturbance at 23696 Willowbrook. After being requested to proceed to the patrol car to discuss the situation, Dovin, who had been drinking, descended the steps from the porch backward and stumbled over a planter falling to the ground.

Bureau then reportedly shoved Butler violently to the ground injuring Butler's ankle. When he was advised he was under arrest, Bureau physically resisted but was finally handcuffed.

Dovin was reportedly interfering in the arrest and allegedly struck Roy in the face. Dovin attempted to flee but was subdued and handcuffed.

Bureau posted $200 cash bond with exam set for June 19 in 52nd district court. Dovin was lodged in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $200 cash bond with the same court date.

An electric Royal typewriter valued at $450 was taken from Northwest Industries the night of June 4, according to police reports.

Entry was gained by breaking a window in the men's room and crawling through. A file drawer had $50 damage done to it when it was pried open with a claw hammer.

Police are investigating.

Six maple trees valued at $150 were chopped down recently by vandals at a home on LeMay.

Neighborhood youths were suspected in the incident.

A warrant has been issued by the Oakland County prosecutor's office for the arrest of a 32-year-old Highland man for indecent exposure by a sexually delinquent person. The charge is a felony and sentence could range from one day to life in prison.

According to detectives, the man allegedly exposed himself to three females who were sitting in a car at the parking lot next door to the A-Train on Grand River last week.

The girls obtained a license number and then reported the incident to police. According to detectives, the suspect is currently on probation for a similar incident in which he exposed himself to a group of girl scouts.

A 22-year-old Brighton woman received a fractured skull June 3 after she was injured in an auto accident at the corner of Haggerty and 12 Mile Roads.

According to traffic officer William Brown, arrested in the case for drunk in public and later charged with driving under the influence of liquor was Pete Deaths, 58, of Detroit.

Brown stated that Deaths was southbound on Haggerty Road and failed to stop for a stop sign at 12 Mile, striking the Gladstone car. Mrs. Gladstone was conveyed to Botsford Hospital with head injuries.

Dennis Sharkins, 18, of 1811 East Lake Drive in Novi received an incapacitating injury following an auto accident May 31 at 3:10 a.m.

According to reports, Sharkins was northbound on East Lake Drive north of Montecello when he lost control, running over two fences, and finally stopping at the edge of Walled Lake.

The subject's father stated that the son had left home at a high rate of speed ¼ mile from the impact scene and that the younger Sharkins was under the influence of alcohol or narcotics.

Rene DeLaGardie, 13, of 23764 East LeBost received a non-incapacitating injury May 23 as she was struck by a car while riding a bicycle.

According to reports, Miss DeLaGardie was riding a bicycle on the south side of 10 Mile west of Meadowbrook and crossed over to the north side because she saw a 15-year-old youth threatening to throw a rock at her.

As Miss DeLaGardie crossed the road, she was struck by a car westbound on 10 Mile. Vision of the driver of that vehicle was obstructed by a truck westbound on Ten Mile which was turning left onto southbound Meadowbrook.

Two men face charges of felonious larceny and carrying a concealed weapon following their arrest early last Wednesday morning on Eight Mile Road, just east of Center Street in Northville. Arraigned on the charges were James Charles Lau, 20, of Westland and Ralph Lonnie Cochran, 35, of Cleveland, Georgia. Bond was set at $2,500.

According to Novi Police, they received information that building materials were being removed from a construction site on North Center Street, north of Galway Drive.

Relaying the information to Northville police, Northville Corporal James Petres spotted the truck on Center Street near Ely Drive about 4:20 a.m. The vehicle matched the description and Petres stopped it on eastbound Eight Mile Road.

Novi officers arrested the two for felonious larceny and a search of the truck turned up the gun under the seat. Police reported they found 150 sheets of plywood and several two-by-fours in the truck. Value of the materials was placed at $900.

In Township

Michigan State Police have charged a Salem township man with larceny over $100 in connection with the theft of railroad ties from a repair site on Currie Road south of Seven Mile.

Arraigned on the charge Thursday was Morris D. Warren of 9515 Five Mile Road. He stood mute and examination was set for June 17 in 14th District Court.

According to state police reports, Warren allegedly removed 30 railroad ties from the C & O tracks in May. Following investigation by C & O Railroad police, he was arrested.

Reports indicated that while the suspect was being booked, four persons were removing ties from Warren's residence. Troopers confiscated 15 of the 30 original ties which have a value of $10.76 each.

Juvenile arrests, a stolen car set on fire and thefts kept Northville township police busy during the past week.

A 1971 Ford discovered burning late last week Tuesday on Beck Road near Main Street was later found to be stolen.

The car was taken sometime before 11 p.m. from the parking lot of a bar in Redford township, the Detroit car owner reported.

A Northville juvenile was lodged in the Wayne County Youth Home last week after he allegedly took a butcher knife and went to settle an argument with another boy.

The 16-year-old was found near Moraine Elementary School about 7:30 p.m. last Tuesday after his father notified police.

No one was injured and the youth went with officers peacefully. Investigation is continuing.

Two youths were apprehended for possession of stolen property Saturday evening after they spotted a township police car and ditched the motorcycle they were riding in the area of Northville Road and Waterford Bend.

A 14-year-old Plymouth boy and a 13-year-old Canton township boy were riding a 1972 Yamaha motorcycle without helmets.

A check of the license showed it had been stolen that morning from Canton township and the ignition had been hot-wired. Both were turned over to their parents and are to appear in juvenile court.

Two juveniles from Southfield and Birmingham, were ticketed for possession of marijuana and are scheduled to appear in juvenile court.

The two were in a car which went through a red light Friday evening and following a routine search, police found the marijuana on one of the youths.

Theft of a mini-bike valued at $425 was reported Saturday. The bike was taken Thursday or Friday from a garage in the 42000 block of Sunnydale along with a tool set valued at $50.

There's 'SRO' At Township

Never judge a month before it's over

That's the philosophy Northville Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun is following.

"May began really quietly," he said this week. "We had two or three weeks where our police reports fell off. But the end of the month turned that around."

During the last six days of May, township police made 22 arrests on everything from warrants, to drunkenness to escapees. Another eight persons were ticketed for various offenses but were not held in jail.

"We were so cramped for space," Nisun said, "that one fellow was $10 short of bail money and we arranged a loan for him because we needed the space."

A coin collection was reported stolen from the family of a home on Richards Court. Discovered missing Sunday, the collection was last seen Monday.

A tape player and three tapes, valued at more than $100, were stolen from a car parked in the 18600 area of Innsbrook Apartments.

The theft took place sometime last Tuesday morning while the car was locked.

Township police recovered an escapee from Northville State Hospital. The man was found about 8 p.m. last Monday in a wooded area off Fry and Five Mile. He was turned over to security guards.

In Northville

A Northville youth playing in the woods behind Maplewood found a bicycle which had been stolen in mid-May.

The youth turned the girl's bicycle over to police Saturday afternoon and a check of department files showed it had been reported stolen May 18 from Hutton and Dunlap.

Two teenagers were ticketed early Sunday morning for altering their drivers licenses. Police reported that both said they had changed dates allegedly to permit them to enter adult theaters.

They and their two friends were also arrested for being disorderly after creating a disturbance on Main near Center streets while officers were issuing the tickets for

Juvenile Arrests Spell More Serious Crimes

Although fewer juvenile crime reports were handled by Northville City Police in April of this year than in April of 1974, the incidents were of a more serious nature.

According to a report recently released by the department, a total of 15 juveniles were involved in police action during April, none involving traffic offenses.

During April of 1974, 19 juvenile cases were handled, eight of which were traffic related.

altered licenses

Theft of a yellow 1973 Schwinn 10-speed was reported last week after the bicycle was noticed missing from a garage on Clement Court.

The bicycle, last seen during the first part of June, was valued at $100.

Traffic accidents are continuing to show an increase this year when compared with figures for the same time last year, according to a report recently issued by Northville City Police Department's traffic division.

Through the first four months of this year, 94 accidents have been reported to city police, up from the 79 reported through April of 1974.

However, injuries are down 15 percent compared with the number of persons hurt last year.

In Wixom

Three persons received possible injuries in Wixom June 4 when a car struck a stop sign and railroad pole at the railroad crossing on Beck Road.

According to reports, Earl Hendrickson, 33, of Beck Road in Wixom stated that his brakes froze as he was southbound on Beck Road and, rather than hit the train at the crossing, he ran the car into the stop sign and a railroad pole.

He received no injuries but his wife Diane and daughters Dorothy and Kytrine received possible injuries and were taken by Novi Ambulance to Providence Hospital.

Information Sought

Information is needed for the arrest and conviction of persons who maliciously destroyed two flowering crabs, two columnar maples and pulled petunias from the parking lot at Dunlap and Wing between 2:15 a.m. and 2:25 a.m. on Monday, June 9, 1975. Cost to replace the above trees and flowers will be approximately $500.

The Silent Observer program will pay cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons committing serious crimes in the City and Township of Northville. You can give your information anonymously, and still be eligible for a reward.

The program is financed jointly by the City and Township of Northville and the Northville Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with The Northville Record.

For more information about the program, or to report crime information, call the Northville City Police (349-1280) or Township Police (459-1700).

How to Report Information

To report crime information anonymously by telephone, call either police department and give them your information. Then give them a code number which you will be able to recall, such as your social security number forward or backward, etc. The Police Officer will give you the Silent Observer report number. Your code number is recorded separately from the report, and sealed in an envelope and locked in a secure place. It is kept strictly confidential.

How to Claim A Reward

Remember your code and report numbers. If a conviction results from your information, details of the crime and conviction will appear in this column, along with the amount of the reward and the club report number (but not your code number). When you see this information, call either the Northville City Manager or Township Supervisor in person, and give your code number. Confidential arrangements will then be made with you to deliver your cash reward.

PURPOSE OF THE PROGRAM

The purpose of the Silent Observer Program is (1) to provide a deterrent to crime through the automatic offering of rewards for all serious crimes; (2) to assist law enforcement efforts by encouraging individuals to supply information about criminal activities, and (3) to inform the public about the crime problems, and increase their awareness of and alertness to criminal activities.

Schwartz Earns Award At Cranbrook

Raymond Schwartz, a senior at Northville High School, has won second place in Cranbrook Institute of Science's Michigan Wildlife Art Competition.

His entry is a pen and ink drawing of a puss moth and he received $75 for second prize.

Works were judged for their scientific accuracy of portrayal, skill in medium use and interpretation of the animal's character.

Schwartz's work and other winners will be on display at Cranbrook through mid-September after which it is hoped the exhibition will travel to high schools throughout the state.

Only 33 works from high schools throughout the state were selected for the competition.

Schwartz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schwartz of Livonia, formerly of Northville.

PARK FIRST—When park ranger Marve DeWitt appeared at the entrance gate early Sunday morning, June 1 he was greeted by Richard Dunchock and his 11-year-old daughter, Patty, first persons to officially enter Maybury Urban State Park. The father-daughter bicyclists spent hours Shown above, front to back, are Nancy Sailor, Becky Albus, Carolyn Owens and Stacey Wedge. The menu, planned by Marie-Claire Hopkins and Lefka Simeon for their first year French classes, included croissants, sandwiches au chocolat and the traditional French cafe au lait, among other foods. Guests at the breakfast were Emily Serafa's Spanish students and Assistant Principal Barbara Campbell. Last week, the first-year French students got together for a dinner.

Board Re-Hires Some Pink-Slipped Teachers

Nine of 33 teachers pink-slipped for budget reasons by Northville School Board in March were re-hired by board action Monday night, leaving the district with 28 unfilled positions.

Voting against reinstating four elementary teachers was Trustee Andrew Orphan who indicated he was not convinced there would be enough money in the budget for their salaries.

The nine include five special services teachers whose "uniqueness of position make it necessary to hire them back in order to operate the school district," Superintendent Raymond Spear and Personnel Director Ronald Horwath said.

There are Jane Anderson, Title I; Dennis Colligan, special education at the middle school; Donna McManus, elementary librarian; Frank Satarino, high school counselor; and Rosemary Sheppard, special education at the elementary school level.

Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni commented that the salaries of the special education teachers and the Title I teacher are reimbursed about 75 percent by state monies.

Also re-hired were Ronald Van Horn, Amerman; Lucinda Runyan, Main Street; Debra Heist, Amerman; and Patricia Hopkins, Moraine.

Trustee Karen Wilkinson said she also was concerned about funds for next year but that the teacher-pupil ratio at the elementary level was also important.

Horwath explained that seven positions have been cut from the elementary level, bringing the authorized staff to 63, and that these four persons mean the level of teachers stands at 58.

Also hired by the board Monday was Mrs. Barbara Holmes who will teach second and third grade at Silver Springs. She has six and one-half years experience in Northville and is returning from a maternity leave.

Spear commented that with retirements, interns leaving, resignations, leaves and pink-slipped teachers, the district had 38 vacancies. "We have reinstated 10 tonight, leaving us with 28 unfilled authorized staff positions. I don't know how we can operate the district without re-hiring at least a few more of the pink-slipped teachers before schools re-open."

Board members also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Kathleen Morris, a Northville High home economics teacher, who is moving from Michigan.

A maternity leave for Mrs. Cathy Van Horn, high school English teacher, was denied on the basis that she did not notify the district six months before the expected birth of her child (in August) and that she has been back from a leave for less than one year, not the required two years according to the contract.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

It would appear that the Northville State Police complex has dodged its final bullet.

Still there are many local citizens, officials and state legislators who will not rest easily until they see the bricks and mortar.

Last week the project that has overcome many obstacles since the proposal was born more than four years ago passed its most severe test.

The outcome of the controversy that found a caucus of Wayne County Democrats seeking more State Police assistance for the central city of Detroit may prove to be most beneficial to the vast majority of citizens who are the victims of crime throughout the metropolitan area.

Finances alone have not kept State Police patrols and crime lab expertise out of the city. The discussions that led to the withdrawal of opposition to the Northville project may have opened the door to broader participation of State Police patrols on all expressways and greater cooperation between State Police and central city police agencies.

At any rate a seven-county area with more than four million people throughout the metropolitan area will be served by the crime laboratory facilities and patrol units at the Northville complex. And the entire Second District, largest in the state, will be directed from the local headquarters.

The proposal was well conceived, properly located and economically feasible. For these reasons it passed the test of reason when studied more closely by numerous legislators and state administrators during the past week's upheaval.

And it is to the credit of legislators in both parties who helped iron out the difficulties and prevent costly delay.

But special mention should be made of Detroit's Democratic Representative William A. Ryan, Democrat William Keith of Garden City and Senator William Faust, a Democrat of Wayne. There were many others including area mayors, civic leaders and police officials.

Yet State Senator Carl Pursell deserves the most recognition. Working from a minority position as a Republican, Pursell was still able to pull sides together through many hours of personal effort. He is well respected by members of both parties and his perseverance and integrity paid off.

It may sound trite, but somehow the old saying "anything worthwhile is worth working for" seems highly appropriate now. In the years to come the Michigan State Police complex in Northville township will be recognized as one of the community's greatest assets.

In the past a frequently heard criticism has been that huge portions of township property have been consumed by non-taxpaying facilities.

The Michigan State Police complex will be one non-taxpaying facility that will pay direct dividends to the community in many forms.

Speaking of crime, vandalism may not be the severest form, but it is both senseless and highly tormenting to those who are its victims.

While the city of Northville and Mill Race Historical Village work to provide the community with a bit of beauty and history, pranksters bent upon gaining nothing more than a little fun destroy their efforts.

A window was smashed out of the latest addition to Mill Race Village along with windows in two trucks used to move the old house.

In the city parking lot at Dunlap and Wing streets two flowering crabs, two maples and a planter filled with petunias were the next targets of the fun-seeking pranksters.

The merry-making continued by pulling stop signs out of the ground along Lake, Horton and Baseline streets. For more kicks a few manhole covers were removed on Grace Street.

Good clean fun. Nobody was hurt. The trees, flowers, stop signs, windows and manhole covers can be replaced.

Anybody who would snitch to the "Silent Observer" would be a fink.

Total cost to the taxpayers, individuals and insurance companies will only be about $1,000.

Last week this newspaper reported that several merchants had pulled out of Northville Square because of poor business. The owners of the Square are still very confident of its success, however.

They're not alone. Some merchants in the Square are doing very well and are happy they opened a store in Northville.

One who called to say so is Mim Gorman of The et cetera Shop.

The Square gift shop just completed its first year in business and it was a very successful one, reports Mim. "I like Northville and I'm glad we're in business here. The people are great," she states.

And in the near future I'm sure other merchants who fill the vacancies in the Square will discover that the lull was purely temporary and that you can't beat Northville for doing good business with good people.

How's that, Mim? Positive enough?

YES . . .

Any question which bothers as many people as the Kennedy assassination deserves a second investigation. This is not to say that the honorable men and women of the Warren Commission reached conclusions other than those dictated by the evidence and testimony they weighed. Nor is it to suggest they were part of a grand conspiracy which placed the national interest, as they saw it, above a full disclosure of the facts.

I have seen at least three television talk shows of late devoted to the topic, and have read other accounts in newspapers and magazines. There is indeed much about the entire matter left unsettled. It would not hurt to take a look at the Zapruder film, Oswald's voice chart and witnesses who say they've never been called to testify.

There is much concern, too, with the credibility of our government. Agencies which supposedly protect the best interests of America and its people have been involved in many questionable activities, and trust in government in this country is currently very low.

We deserve another look at the Kennedy assassination if only to confirm the Warren Commission's original findings. Surely, a free and open society can expect nothing less.

Dave Heinzman

NO . . .

There is a movement afoot to rekindle the investigation of the death of President Kennedy. I don't think this is necessary. Conclusions have been drawn by several investigative committees, notably the Warren Commission. Their conclusions seem to indicate that there was no conspiracy, other than that of one individual.

I can think of other causes which would be served if the nation's reading and viewing public were to be dragged through this unfortunate period in our history. Those are:

—a new source of controversy for the national evening television news
—an emotional springboard for Ted Kennedy's presidential plans for '76
—a chance for the liberal breast beaters to prove what a rotten nation we are morally.

If the interested parties are really serious in their attempt to rekindle this tragedy, I strongly urge them to concentrate on getting the Warren Report released in its entirety to the national press.

If this is done, then the entire story can be evaluated by the total American public. The findings, I'm sure, will prove once and for all that the deed was the work of one deranged mind.

Eyes Novi Library Move

To the Editor:

The charm of Novi is about to make a move. Soon... too soon for some... the little white Novi Library will lose its identity to whatever else and become without doubt a part of neo-nostalgia.

(It is imperative to say... but only parenthetically... that a new Novi Library is fast going up. There will be no dearth of books but the prejudicial view can only predict a possible dearth of charm. Let's forget about the future until it arrives, appropriately enough, in America's Bicentennial year.)

It looks like a cottage: A white frame building... tiny when you know it's a library. But it's a fooler, with an interior of wall to wall knowledge one wouldn't, indeed one couldn't believe without taking the tour. You could do that in two minutes with your eyes closed. Open them... to an incredible display of all that a modern community library should contain, from juvenile fiction to an abundance of reference works, to popular and scholarly periodicals, to the very latest of best sellers. But that's not the meaning of charm.

It's been said that flattery will get you nowhere. Not true. Dottie Flattery can get you anywhere in the world in a wink... without benefit of Novi taxpayers will be forced to fork over thousands more of wasted dollars soon — thanks to the strange logic of a couple of city councilmen.

Taxpayers should know their names — Denis Berry and Edwin Presnell.

It was these two, joined by a third — George Athas, who quit the council some time ago — who stubbornly refused last December to approve a method of school tax collection that would have ended the annual waste.

For years school officials, many other citizens of Novi, and this newspaper have repeatedly urged the Novi council to adopt a split tax collection system for the school district and end the necessity each year of borrowing money.

Split tax collection simply means that instead of collecting all of the school taxes once each year (in the winter), the city would collect half the school taxes in the winter and the other half in the summer. Presently, when school bills come due in summer and fall months the school board must borrow money because tax revenues do not arrive until December.

Although voters also favored this system to save tax dollars, several council members have offered all kinds of weak excuses for not implementing it. And just as soon as one of their arguments falls on its face they prop up another.

The irony of all this is that the same council which begs for additional income for city operation is unconcerned about wasting school income, completely ignoring the fact that it is the same poor taxpayer who suffers for their stubbornness.

(In fairness, it should be noted that the majority of council members do not share the views of Presnell and Berry on this issue. Last December Mayor Robert Daley and Council members Louis Campbell, Philip Goodman, and Romain Roethel voted for split tax collection. Although they were in the majority, they were one vote short for passage.)

Procrastination, that has been the name of the game since the beginning.

First council opponents rolled out the argument that mortgage institutions would not go along with dual tax collections. When that one was proved false someone suggested dual tax collection is illegal, despite the fact that it is legally and successfully being used in other communities. They argued it would be too expensive to collect taxes twice annually, even though taxpayers already pay taxes twice (city taxes in the summer, school taxes in the winter) and even though the school district offered to pay any additional costs.

They tried scaring the homeowner, using false estimates while neglecting to point out that it is the mortgaged homeowner who stands to benefit most from dual tax collection, the large landowners the least.

But the real classic is the latest argument that more public debate on the question is needed. Split tax collection has been debated to death for more than five years.

First proposed here in 1970, split tax collection was kicked around until in the early part of 1971 the Novi council said it had "no objection to dividing the collection of school taxes provided the majority of citizens concur." Late that same year, after much publicity and debate, an advisory election was held and the majority of voters cast their ballots in favor of a split tax system.

Today, four years after voters spoke, still nothing has been done. What has this procrastination meant? This past year alone it cost taxpayers $34,600 —

Unlikely as it once seemed, a bill to deal with the problem of teacher strikes has now been reported out of the House Labor Committee for consideration by the full House. The Labor Committee at one time seemed bent on burying all teacher strike bills.

The bill, House Bill 5181, is the one which was worked out behind closed doors by representatives from various education groups. As it currently reads, it would permit teachers to strike for up to five weeks and so is sure to be vigorously debated on the floor of the House.

Although the Democratic leadership which produced this bill had the courtesy to allow their fellow Democrat William Keith of Garden City to introduce it after they ignored the recommendations of the special committee which he chaired, Keith tells me he is still not satisfied with it and will offer several amendments during House debate.

Basically, Keith's amendments will provide for financial penalties from the first day of the strike, for a specific definition of when courts should order binding arbitration, and for a public report when negotiations have broken down and a strike is imminent. These elements are all lacking in the present wording of the bill.

I cannot support the bill as it now stands, since it is little better than the current law which has proven to be ineffective in settling education employee disputes. Hopefully, a compromise can still be worked out which will be recognized as fair to both the teachers and to the general public.

money that was needlessly paid out in interest on borrowed money. And in the four previous years it cost, in order, $17,521, $13,521, $13,165, and $10,622.

In other words had council adopted the split tax system when it was first proposed it could have saved taxpayers a total of $89,429.

That's not all. Because Councilman Berry and Presnell continue to procrastinate, the school will be forced to borrow upwards of $1 million for the 1975-76 school year. And if the full $1 million is borrowed it will mean another $42,000 waste, boosting the total amount of squandered tax dollars since 1970 to more than $131,000!

School Board Secretary Ray Warren summed up the feeling of many when he asked recently, "It's shameful...when are taxpayers going to do something about it?"

GAL Director Likes Girls' Sports Coverage

To the Editor:

As I wind up my long and satisfying association with Northville High School Girls' after school sports program, I want to cast my vote for Wayne Loder and The Northville Record as most improved in their effort to give more and better coverage to Girls' Sports at Northville High School.

Recognizing both a girl and boy for "Mustanger of the Week" has gone a long way to put girl athletes in the spotlight along with their boy counterparts. The action pictures and significant articles have not only pleased coaches and players, but I'm sure, made the community more aware of the drama and excitement that are the lifeblood of all sports and all athletes.

Keep up the good work!

card catalogue or airline ticket. Head Librarian since the doors opened in September of 1960, Dottie has been a prime mover (circulator in some circles) of what began with a few donated books and an annual loan from the State... to a present collection of some 13,000 books, 55 different periodicals, at least 10 sets of a variety of encyclopediae, assorted paperbacks, governmental pamphlets, a weekly preschool reading hour, and, of course, a copying machine.

That's not all. For art lovers the open stacks include not just a few but rather a breathtaking collection of massive coffee table books... the kind one impatiently waits to be marked down at the bookstore... the kind one would love to give as a very special gift. If what you want isn't there it's bound to come along in the Circuit Book Collection of large and distinctive creative art books. These exquisitely written, illustrated and/or reproduced works of art rotate on a three month basis and can be circulated in and out of the library along with the novels, the cookbooks, the Who's Who and the whodunnits.

If you belong to an interest group the N.L. can provide you with any of 3,500 films available. If you need to know some rare and immortal fact the N.L. (if it can't supply it) can find it via its membership in the Wayne County Federated Library System, or on inter-library loans from prestigious university collections. And of course the Harvard Classics are there.

If you're just crazy about National Geographic Magazine the N.L. has every issue dating back to 1916... hard bound (but certainly not gagged) and occupying one whole wall length shelf of the tiny oasis.

There are a lot of cliches about books: Books are friends; Books are the gateway to the world; You can burn a book but you can't kill the knowledge within. Something like that. It doesn't matter. What matters, to some degree at least, is that books, once discovered, at any age, can perform miracles. It's the getting to them that counts. For some readers that's easy, for others it's terrifying.

Here's where the charm comes in.

In the little white library in Novi life is a cozy world; a friendly world. All of that knowledge, all of man's experience, all of the beauty of the earth, all of the mirth of humanity and the tears of history... are bound in a cover of warmth. The coldness and fear associated with the sprawling granite of a big city library are not allowed to circulate in this simple edifice of wood.

Nostalgia? Certainly. Corn? Perhaps. Our home away from home is being discarded in the name of progress. Paradoxically, of course, it is that very progress, the innate curiosity, creativity and productivity of authorship that has swollen the walls to this painful moment in time. Gutenberg started something McLuhan can't stop.

So for Dottie Flattery and the librarians who have assisted so ably since 1960 (first Rose White, followed by Mary Wilson), the move is a conscious notion of pilgrim's progress and pride. They've nurtured the baby into and out of adolescence... into white wood and one big easy chair... now, almost, into mortar and bricks and who knows how many chairs. For them it's important... an academic thing, an accommodation to a growing community, a... let's face it... necessity. (Like laughing with tears in your eyes)

But this much is true: When the wind blows chill on a winter's afternoon, when the fireplace burns cheerfully at home, when you're dying for a good book to read... nostalgia will happen your way. A part of the mood will be missing. You can get the book. But getting it won't be the same.

See it while you can. It's just over the railroad tracks, just back and to the left of the City Hall as you drive into Novi from Northville. Don't let this quaint and lively part of history go through its revision without first enjoying its cozy composite of charm.

Mary Kelly

Postscript:

The new Novi Library will be located at Taft and Ten Mile roads. In spite of the writer's prejudice she'll be there when it opens. It's bound to be terrific. Flattery will make it so.

Longtime Resident Dies

AARON OLIVER

Aaron W. Oliver, one of Novi's oldest residents died Monday at the age of 94. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Thursday, in Novi.

Mr. Oliver came to the area in 1906 when Novi was still a township and refused to let his age slow him down during the past few years.

A farmer all his life, Mr. Oliver took up farming on 11 Mile Road where his family had farmed since 1829.

Though he had a chronic sore throat during his early years, Mr. Oliver attributed his recovery to a book from which he learned that improper breathing had been the problem.

"I also never smoked. I could never figure out why anyone wants to smoke and become addicted to something injurious," he said recently referring to how he had reached such an old age. "I didn't drink to get drunk. I always knew enough to control myself. Outdoor life...being in the sunshine while farming...also probably helped."

He didn't give up driving until about a year and a half ago. He drove all the way to California — when he was only 86.

At the age of 80, he took up the violin — something he had always wanted to do — and took lessons.

Mr. Oliver was also quite a poet though he didn't write too much lately. "I'm too busy with my infirmities," he used to say.

Speaking philosophically of his advancing years, he had observed, "Even the wild animals have a will to live and man is no exception. Everybody has it, but it lessens some as you get older. You realize more it's the creator's plan of life and it's a wise thing people die. If they didn't, how long would it be before we'd be in trouble."

"A lot of people will say they're going to heaven or some other place. But I'm truthful, I don't know where I'm going."

He was born in Troy in 1881 to Charles W. and Helen (Webster) Oliver.

He is survived by his widow, Mary Ann Forse and daughter, Mrs. Whitney (Ethel) Hames of Clawson, a sister, Mrs. Isabel Hazen of Pontiac, and two brothers, Aaron Virgil of Oxford and John W. of St. Petersburg, Florida.

Also surviving are 17 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren, and six great-great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at Harbin Funeral Home in Novi at 1 p.m., with Reverend Karl Zeigler presiding. He will be buried in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

Selling a house by yourself is being penny wise and dollar foolish. Comparison is the name of the game, and you have but ONE house to show. In a purchase of this importance, buyers want to shop around. They think you are already prejudiced and they may not even ask you questions that are easily answered. If you follow up, it may seem that you are mighty anxious to sell. You may never see the potential customer again.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

Buyers compare one home with another in order to decide that yours is the right one for them.

Police Post Clears Hurdle

Colonel George L. Halverson, commander of the State Police, expressed pleasure at the turn of events. His office has worked nearly four years (and under two commanders) in mapping out plans for the complex to include a post unit plus Second District headquarters and a crime laboratory in one facility. The Second District is the largest in the state and the new Northville complex will be unique among all State Police facilities in that it will include three services.

Senator Pursell pointed out that the complex will serve seven counties with patrol and crime laboratory service. In a statement released this week he said: "The Northville complex will be a major facility that will help local police in the battle against crime. I want to personally thank the Northville civic leaders, particularly William Sliger and Philip Ogilvie, for their leadership and attendance in Lansing. This list also includes many of the mayors, supervisors and law enforcement officials who joined in the fight to keep the Headquarters here. Detroit should have State Police service and since there are 13 posts in the Upper Peninsula, maybe it is time we work for additional facilities where the people are and where the need is greatest. I hope the citizens of this area appreciate this new and expanded law enforcement agency."

Last Thursday's concurrent resolution by the Joint Capital Outlay Committee authorized a project cost of $2,248,000 for the Northville complex. Bids have been received within the cost projection. The resolution is expected to receive House and Senate approval this week. Bids will be awarded June 17 at a meeting of the State Administrative Review Board.

The Northville project has had strong support from the Governor's office as well as the legislature. The final approval is considered routine.

Architect Karl Nelson said he expects work to begin in July with completion set for October, 1976. The 40,300 square-foot complex includes 20,000 square feet for the crime lab and 10,000 square feet each for the post and district headquarters. It is to be located on a 10-acre site next to and west of Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile Road.

Northville Township Supervisor Lawrence Wright and Trustee John MacDonald attended the Thursday session in Lansing on behalf of Northville township.

Walled Lake Dock Opens for Business

"Speaking of a meeting the DNR had with representatives of the dock last week, Haywood stated that "I think we arrived at a certain understanding. Glantz's position is less adamant. I've had to back off a little."

The permit could be issued within two weeks, Haywood said.

According to Haywood, the DNR will take no action in response to the opening of the marina this past weekend without the required license.

"I doubt in light of what's been going on... that a prosecutor would issue a warrant," stated Haywood. "They don't look too receptively on these minor infractions."

According to Haywood, the penalty would only be a misdemeanor punishable by 90 days and/or $100 fine. Haywood admitted that he's still disturbed over the 500 foot dock though there's little that can now be done.

"When I look at the aerial photos, I think it's an abortion in terms of use of the water," said Haywood. "It's too long and it's inconsistent with the other docks."

Haywood added that the dock impedes navigational traffic.

The city of Novi had been unsuccessful in court in stopping reconstruction of the dock and to have pilings — which had previously been in the water — removed.

Instead, Judge Robert Webster ordered that the dock owners be allowed to repair the dock.

Residents in the area had been trying to get the pilings removed in order to stop the possibility of injury to youngsters playing on what was left of the dock.

The dock was once part of the Walled Lake Casino complex but fell into disuse after the casino burned down.

the vacant council seat, only William O'Brien and A. Russell Button have held a council seat in the past. Martha Hoyer is on the planning commission while Joseph Toth is head of the Beautification Commission. Gerald Bauer is also on the Beautification Commission. Homer Starr is on the charter commission. Reynal Rodriguez is on the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The person winning the council seat will hold that office until the November general election when the position will once again be up for grabs.

Novi Board Approves Plan For Alternative School

An alternative high school program called "Extension," similar to the one now in existence in Northville, has been approved for adoption in Novi.

By a vote of 6-0 (Trustee James Helmer was absent) the Novi Board of Education Thursday approved the program which officials stress will not be a duplication of the school system's present co-operative work program.

The new program, which is to be instituted with the new school year, will require the hiring of one additional teacher. It is estimated that some 25 to 30 students will participate at the outset.

In approving the pilot program, the board specified that a detailed report of the program's success or failure is to be presented to the board at the conclusion of the 1975-76 school year.

Although the program is seen as a tool to sustain interest and broaden the educational horizons of both bright and potential drop-out students, it very likely will be most used for those students who have lost interest in school.

Participants will receive a combination of traditional academic education and on-the-job observation. They probably will meet in a classroom outside the high school as is the case in Northville.

The job aspect of the program means students will choose an occupational field where they will observe the work of employees and-or employers. Depending on the job situation, some students may from time to time participate in a work situation. Unlike co-operative work students, participants in the alternative school will not be paid.

Purpose of the work program is to explore future career choices.

Participating students would, according to Superintendent Gerald Kratz, have to meet all graduation requirements established by the board. Their schedule would be as follows:

First and second hours, English-social studies; third hour, elective; fourth hour, extension seminar; and fifth and sixth hours extension (work) experience.

"Extension," said Dr. Kratz, aims to increase the students' self-confidence, motivation, and self-image and install a love for inquiry.

Participants, who will be juniors and seniors, are required to furnish their own transportation to places of work.

The program planned in Novi was developed by a team of teachers, administrators, parents and students.

Only one member of the audience raised any objections about the program. He was Russell Fertitta, whose central argument was that observing others work is not likely to sustain a student's interest.

Earlier in the meeting, Fertitta also took the board to task for what he termed as an extremely poor speaker system used for last week's graduation exercises. Many of the speakers, he said, could not be heard by the audience.

Board members sympathized with Fertitta, assuring him that the situation would not be repeated.

In other action Thursday, the board authorized administrators to borrow up to $1 million against anticipated tax income. Exact amount to be borrowed has not yet been determined. The money, which officials estimate will cost the district up to $40,000 in interest, is needed to meet bills received by the board from the beginning of the new fiscal year in July to December when school taxes begin coming in.

Re-employment of seven second-year probationary teachers who earlier were "pink slipped" was authorized by the board. They are Margaret Anderson, Gregg Balko, Gregory Carmacchi and Gail McIntyre of Village Oaks Elementary; Lynn Eden, sixth grade at the middle school; Rebecca Hurst of Orchard Hills Elementary; and Dennis Lampron of Novi Elementary.

Also re-employed after pink slipping for continuation of first year probationary status was Catarina Paolucci, special education at the middle school.

With these latest hirings, the board now has re-employed all but two of the teachers whose contracts were not earlier renewed.

Two other teachers hired last week include Roberta

Rosenberg, who is filling a new half-time position as speech therapist at a salary of $5,170, and Jill Tarczy, a fourth grade replacement at Orchard Hills Elementary, at a salary of $9,429.

Patricia Reilly, school social worker, was reappointed for the 1975-76 school year, and Corinne R. Engberg of the middle school was granted resignation from a leave status.

Bernard Bach

Northville Father Stresses Education

By JEAN DAY

Bernard Bach's Father's Day gift this year might well be considered the diploma his eldest son, Bernard, Jr., receives this week from Harvard University — cum laude in biology.

It represents a family philosophy of the best education possible for living, but the Northville father of four is quick to point out that "all education is just a starting point," and must be obtained with common sense.

Bach, a sales engineer with Industrial Burner Systems of Detroit and Northville resident at 20336 Woodhill Road, reflects the thinking of the many good fathers in the community and is representative of those who consciously work to give guidance and assistance to their children.

In addition to Bernard, Jr., 22, the Bachs have a daughter, Stephanie, 19, a sophomore at Michigan State University, and sons Greg, 13, and David, 9.

"It's like raising two families," Mrs. Bach observes as she says, "It's not as easy to play baseball with your nine-year-old when you're 50 as it was with your firstborn 13 years ago."

But Bernard Bach tries to attend Greg and David's ball games as faithfully as he did Bernie's — and when all were playing here a couple of years ago he watched as many as seven games a week.

When it's pointed out that he has been fortunate to be home most of the time, unlike many suburban fathers who travel a great deal, Bach says directly, "I planned it that way." It was a definite decision, his wife, Doty, concurs, made when Bernie was a baby.

"I did all the traveling I wanted to during World War II at government expense," Bach declares. Being on hand has meant being involved as president of both Northville Booster Club and Northville Swim Club as well as with individual projects of the youngsters.

It has meant keeping up with modern math to help with homework and, as David adds, "being there to fix anything I break."

It has meant encouraging all the youngsters in their school and work projects. Son Greg this year is taking on lawn mowing jobs. His dad is the mechanic who is teaching how to keep the mowers running.

FAMILY AFFAIR—Operating a 200-acre farm takes a lot of time, but Salem's Curtis Hamilton gets plenty of help from his 11 children, each of whom has a different job. Ranging in age from Carol, 25, all the way down to Nanci, two, the Hamilton children think their Dad is someone pretty special. Oh yes, the four-legged creature in the midst of this family portrait was born approximately two hours before this photo was taken.

Farmer Grows Big Family

By DOROTHY SHIPLEY

Someone once said something to the effect that it's not quantity but quality that really counts in life.

And it was quality which made Curtis Hamilton the choice for outstanding fathers from the South Lyon area.

Although to be perfectly honest Hamilton could also easily be the winner for the quantity of a father's love as well.

A farmer by profession, Hamilton is the father of 11 offspring ranging from two to 25 years of age. In all, he and his wife June are the parents of six girls and five boys.

No one needs to ask any of the Hamilton brood how they feel about the head of the house. It's plain from the look on 11 happy faces and the laughter that constantly revolves around the guy in the blue denim overalls.

Someone from a smaller family might speculate how one man is able to give every child the attention he or she needs and deserves.

Yet, to Hamilton, providing a father's love is as natural and easy as milking cows or plowing fields or just breathing the clean country air which surrounds their farm of over 200 acres.

Hamilton will tell you frankly and without much embellishment that there is nothing fancy to being a good father to 11 kids.

To him, it's a matter of setting some basic guidelines for each child to follow as he or she matures, sticking to them and to be there when they need him, even when they think they don't.

"I try to think that I'm the head of this outfit here," laughs Hamilton in his down-to-earth manner. "All the kids have chores which depend upon their age and so forth and I try to give them a sense of responsibility as they grow up."

"Our children have always had a Christian education in the home and through regular church attendance and we've always insisted on regular school attendance. More than one year we've had several of our kids that have never missed a day of school," he says proudly.

Hamilton explains that he takes a particular interest in this last activity of the children's — education — and insists that every child bring samples of their schoolwork home.

"One of my daughters used to bring all her A papers home but would throw the ones away that weren't so good," said the Salem Township farmer. "I finally told her to let me see those too because they were the most important ones."

They came in all sizes and shapes, in words and drawings of fathers of all sizes and shapes.

But they had one common theme: "My Dad is the world's best."

More than 125 letters and cards were received by this newspaper from children and grandchildren who love and respect their fathers and grandfathers.

Obviously, a far, far greater number than these deeply love their parents and grandparents. Nevertheless, these took the time to send this newspaper personal tributes to their father. Those tributes echo the sentiments of all of us as we prepare to observe Father's Day 1975.

Most of the letters were from elementary age youngsters, but some were from married children. One of the latter was Mrs. Robert Fitzroy of Pontiac, who wrote that her father died when she was seven. Her mother remarried, she said, and from that day to the present her stepfather has filled her life with love. And now her stepfather, Earl Marcoe of South Lyon, treats her husband and their children as he would his own.

Many of those from children were delightfully funny. For example, Dale Akins of Northville drew a picture of his father wearing a baseball cap, labeling it "Dear Old Dad." With it was this accompanying tribute: "My dad is the world's best because he has 3 sides. One, He's a super-sportsman. 2, He's an intelligent businessman. 3, He's just a super man. He's raising a super kid — me. My dad is really super."

Quite a few youngsters, most from Spencer Elementary School in Brighton, put their messages in rhymes such as Karen Buiten, who wrote of her father, Roger: "My dad is nice — But he likes mice. Not that they're so bad — But because they make mom mad. He lets me stay up late when mom goes out for a date. He makes me very glad — That's why I like dad."

Debbie wrote of her father, Russell Morgan of Brighton: "My dad is very very nice! I wouldn't sell him for any price."

Along with other youngsters of Amerman Elementary School in Northville, Karen sent a drawing of her father, Tom Routhieux. It appears to be a man giving a four-legged kitchen table a karate chop, but the printed message explains all: "My daddy gives me piggy back rides all the time. My daddy likes deviled ham sandwiches the best."

Mary Richcreek of Northville said, "Happiness is having a dad like mine... I bet that if all the dads were put together they couldn't be as good as mine."

Mark Olson of Novi drew a handsome big mustache on his father's face, gave it a great big smile, and wrote: "My dad is the greatest dad in the world because He put my Bike together."

Sally Szuma of Novi gave her father a brush mustache, stubble beard, and green eyes and then included this message: "My Dad is the greatest Dad in the world because he understands me, thought, drinks, smokes, takes me places, he resels, he is an engineer for Ford. And I love him!"

Two other Novi youngsters from Orchard Hills Elementary insist their fathers are the greatest. Donny says his father, John Hykal, is a "plumber" and makes "100 dollars a day and night," while Joanne says her dad "makes 10 or 15 dollars a week but on Saturday or Sunday he doesn't go to work."

Said Donna Keen of Northville about her father, David: "He's a strong yet gentle man. His shoulder is always there for me to cry on. In our house we all appreciate and love our dad. In fact I don't know what we'd do without him; and I pray we never have to find out."

"I can always remember my mom saying, 'You were just a twinkle in your dad's eye.' At first I didn't understand her but when I got older, I understood completely and if I may say something, I am very proud to be the daughter of Charles J. Weathered," wrote Tracey of her Northville father.

Lorrie Root, 18, of Northville said that despite a job that often has kept him away from home, her father, Kenneth, "is very special to me."

In 1972, she wrote, "our house burned down in a fire. All those things my father worked for were gone. That was the first time that I remember seeing my father cry. But he was the one who gave my mother strength, and to us — hope..."

"As I read the newspaper each day, I read about hundreds of children who don't know what a real father, who loves them and cares for them, is like. I am not one of these children; I wish I could give them 'that father' they need. But all I can do is tell you about a person who is very special to me — my father."

Following are names of many other fathers, whose children expressed love and respect for them in letters and messages to this newspaper. They are listed by community:

They Share Job Joys and Sorrows

"It's a good sharing of each other's problems on the job," explains the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor of Northville First Presbyterian Church, as he talks about the functions of the Northville-Novl Ministers' Association.

Without officers or formal structure members of the association get together about once a month at lunch at various places. It's usually on the second Tuesday of the month, notes Mrs. Margaret Nauman, secretary of the Northville Presbyterian Church, who sends out the notices.

The ministers try to visit different area institutions for firsthand contact, often having lunch at them.

Currently the members have been making visits to Northville State Hospital, St. John's Seminary and Our Lady of Providence. Arrangements were made by Father Stanley C. Kukulski, Catholic chaplain at Northville State Hospital.

"Anything in the community that comes up is discussed," Reverend Brasure continues, pointing out that another function of the association members is participating in turn in "taking care of devotions at Beverly Manor Convalescent Home." Assignments are set up by the Reverend Richard Henderson, associate pastor of Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Reverend Brasure cites a similar association in Livonia to which he also belongs and through it contributes a day a month to the Protestant chaplaincy at St. Mary Hospital.

"While membership at our Northville area meetings varies each month, the get-togethers contribute to a full communication of our joys and sorrows," declares Reverend Brasure.

Old Spring Bulbs Fizzle?

Try Transplanting

If your tulips and hyacinth flowers were smaller this spring than you remember them, it may be time to replant them.

According to Jesse Saylor, Michigan State University horticulturist, tulips and hyacinths normally decline in three years unless they are dug up and replanted.

Signs of decline include small flowers, few flowers, or both. The cause, Saylor says, is usually overcrowding. To improve blooming, or simply to move the bulbs to a new location, dig the bulbs, store them and replant in the fall.

Summer is the best time to dig bulbs. Wait until the leaves turn yellow, and then uncover a few bulbs. If the bulb coats have turned brown, the bulbs are ready to be dug. Keep only large, healthy bulbs that are firm and free of decayed spots. Wash off any soil that remains on the bulbs and remove any old, dry scales. Treat them with a fungicide to prevent diseases during storage.

Spread the bulbs in a shaded place to dry. When the outer scales have dried, store the bulbs away from sunlight in a dry basement, cellar, garage or shed. Avoid temperatures below 50 degrees F. or above 70 degrees.

To avoid confusion at planting time, Saylor recommends separating the bulbs by species or varieties and labeling the containers. A few bulbs can be stored in paper bags. Hang the bags from the ceiling or wall. Large quantities of bulbs should be stored on shallow trays with screen bottoms.

Chemical-Organic

Here's Some Tips On Bug Controls

BY KATHY COPLEY

If you plan to let chemicals control the bugs in your garden, any good nursery can recommend several broad coverage insecticides which will do the job for you. If you plan to use organic controls, you are likely to find poorly informed nursery personnel.

Don't let this apparent lack of information lead you to believe that chemicals are the only way to garden. Give the organic methods a fair trial, and then decide for yourself whether the ease of chemical use overshadows the damage that their use does to beneficial insects, birds, and sometimes pets and small children.

Control sucking insects with the organically approved contact poison Black Leaf 40 (Nicotine Sulfate 40 percent). The concentrate is very poisonous to humans, but when 1 teaspoon of Black Leaf 40 and 1 cubic inch of soap are diluted in a gallon of water, it loses much of its toxicity for man. Use Black Leaf 40 as a contact spray every 7-10 days.

Chewing insects can be controlled with any of three stomach poisons. Sabadilla, made from the seeds of a South American plant, has been used in dust form for a long time.

Rotenone is perhaps the best of the organic insect controls. It is made of cube, derris, and other tropical plants and is almost non-toxic to man. However, it is toxic to insects and fish.

Pyrethrum is the third stomach poison. It is non-poisonous to man and leaves very little residue on plants or in the soil. It is made of ground up chrysanthemum species.

Roses, phlox, zinnias, and other plants are affected by black spot and mildew, especially in hot, humid weather. Fine powdered sulfur is a good fungicide for use of roses and phlox, but don't use it on cucurbits or when the temperature is over 80 degrees.

Bordeaux mixture was THE fungicide until 1940, when stronger ones were introduced. Use it very carefully because it is harmful to all warm-blooded creatures (though not as harmful as modern fungicides.) Made of copper sulfate, hydrated lime, and water, it leaves a conspicuous but harmless residue.

Using organic pest and fungus control means that the only step necessary between spraying and eating is washing the fruit or vegetable. These particular poisons are not absorbed by the plant, so none of the materials are eaten by animals or humans.

The same is not true of the widely used chemicals. They are absorbed into the plant, and thus into the fruit or vegetable. This means that spraying with malathion, methoxychlor, or Carbaryl must be stopped a certain number of days before harvesting the sprayed vegetable. In a way this minimizes their usefulness on those plants which bear for a long time. On flowers, it doesn't make so much difference.

The list below gives the number of days which must pass between the last spraying and the first harvesting, if chemical sprays are your answer to bugs:

Crop	Days
Beans	5
Beets (roots)	10
Broccoli	15
Cabbage	10
Carrots	10
Corn	10
Cucumber	3
Eggplant	5
Lettuce	15
Melons	3
Onions	10
Peas	10
Radishes	10
Spinach	15
Squash	3
Tomatoes	3
Turnips	5

My own recommendation on the issue of chemical or organic control is to use the organic method for the everyday bug problem, and resort to chemicals if and when the pest population gets out of hand.

'Know Shrub

Before Pruning'

Before you take the pruning shears to your flowering shrubs, know what you're working with. advises Joe Cox, Extension landscape architect at Michigan State University.

"Know when the plant blooms so your pruning helps, not hinders," he says. Both early and late blooming shrubs are usually

Why Didn't Plant Bloom?

"I waited all winter for my flowering 'whatsit' to bloom, and when spring came it didn't flower. What happened? What'd I do wrong?"

First of all, don't despair. Michigan State University horticulturist Jesse Saylor points out there are several reasons for failure to bloom. One of these is the age of the plant.

Temperature often affects blossoming, Saylor points out. Extremely low winter temperatures or a late spring frost may kill or damage flower buds.

Some plants, including tulips, crocus and daffodils, won't flower unless there is a cold season. Bulbs planted too near a warm basement, for instance, may do very poorly because they missed their cold weather rest period.

Other plants, called "photoperiodic" plants, are triggered into blooming by the length of the day.

It is very amusing to reflect on today's advertising ideas for airlines.

Consider Air France boasting about the wonderful food they serve in their first class section. Ninety-nine percent of the possible passengers are interested, first in cost of the trip, second in safety record of the airlines, and third in courtesy and attitude of personnel in that order. And they don't give a tinker's damn about their menus.

In reality, Air France food is average or often just below average. Now we have a leading U.S. airline proudly announcing that on flights within this country they will serve a European cuisine. Wake up T.W.A., most of us who travel would prefer American type food.

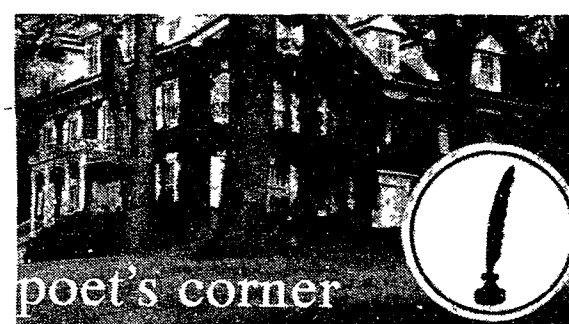

I find it foolhardy to rate airlines since we are all responsive to our own experiences, but for foreign European travel I think B.O.A.C. and Pan-Am give friendly, on-time service and fewer cancelled flights. For oriental travel, China Airlines and Northwest make your trip delightful, as, I am sure, do J.A.L. and T.W.A.

"Jet Lag" is used to describe a malady resulting from the physical body responses to drastic and sudden time changes. For instance, when one takes a through return flight from Hong Kong to Detroit he completely reverses the time cycle. Twelve o'clock noon here is twelve o'clock midnight there.

Since our bodies are keyed to the repetition of time cycles any change affects our respiration, pulse and often our mental attitude. Perhaps you would like to try a simple method I have found quite successful. If you are traveling east, get up at three or 4 a.m. for two or three mornings before you leave.

Obviously, the opposite is true for west-bound traffic. Sleep until 10 or 11 a.m. for the required two or three days before departure.

Americans have become careless about overweight of their luggage because there are no

So Young

You are so beautiful,
So tiny and fragile.
You are so innocent,
Oblivious to the problems of our world.
So young.

I have taught you to walk, talk, pray,
And to sing.
Yet, even though you have learned,
you are so quiet.
So young.

I love you, you are my child.
And — in your own way,
Do you love me?
It means so much to me.
But, you are so...distant,
so young.

It scares me.
Your big brown eyes seem to be constantly afraid.
Why?

It angers me,
you don't respond
You never tell me you love me you just give me that sorrowful, painful look.
Why?

So young.
So beautiful, innocent and fragile.
I tell you these things,
and I'm sad that you can't hear.

I'm sad that you're not here.
I love you.

I need you.

limitations in the U.S. There are still limits on luggage weight for foreign travel: 44 pounds, tourist class; 66 pounds for first class. If you find your luggage overweight from too much gift shopping try these tips:

Put your lightest suitcoat on a solid wire hanger, then place your overcoat over the suitcoat. Fill the pockets of both coats with your heaviest objects. Carry it on board and hang it up in the rear or front closets.

Technically, there is a guideline of 70 pounds per bag on U.S. local travel but this type of local baggage is never weighed.

Use of credit cards, both local and international, can be a pleasant adjunct to travel shopping. They are extremely convenient but at the same time somewhat dangerous. On three or four occasions travelers from Northville have complained about a credit card "rip-off" practiced in some foreign countries. This is the way it worked: sandwiches and drinks were consumed in a lunch bar. When the check arrived the Northvillite presented an American Express credit card. The waiter disappeared behind the bar, later returning with a voucher covering the amount of the check. And the victim signed the check.

Sounds OK so far, but here's what happened. While the waiter was gone he made an additional voucher and imprinted the credit card. Sometime later he completed the second voucher and forged the victim's name so cleverly that American Express also was duped. The original bill of $16.50 was thereby increased by a false amount of $25, which our hero paid under protest and never recovered.

Moral: In foreign countries use your credit cards, but insist they be used in your presence. The imprint validating machine is easily portable. If they won't bring it to your table go with the waiter to the machine. What country and city? Mexico City, Mexico, and within the last year, London and Copenhagen.

Here's an invitation to readers to participate in the preparation of this column. Tell me about the trips you have enjoyed the most or about places you have lived and where you think others would enjoy visiting. If you have a complaint or compliment about an airline, bus company, railroad, hotel or motel please let us hear them. And if you have any travel questions, write us and we will do our best to find an answer for you. Write to me in care of this newspaper.

New State Law Hikes Benefits

Unemployment benefits will increase as much as $30 per week under new legislation approved by the State Legislature and signed by Gov. Milliken, according to an announcement by Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESOC) Director S. Martin Taylor.

The new rate schedule became effective Sunday, June 8. However, the first benefit increases will be reflected in checks issued on or after June 16.

The law increases unemployment payments from 55 percent of a claimant's average weekly wage to 60 percent, subject to these maximums: no dependents, $97 per week; one dependent, $107; two dependents, $119; three dependents, $128; four or more dependents, $136.

The law provides for increases of up to $30 for claimants at their maximum rate, Taylor said. However, not all claimants will receive the full $30 and a few claimants may not be eligible for any increase at all.

Persons who have exhausted regular benefits of up to 26 weeks and are currently drawing extended benefits (EB) may also receive an increase in payments, but persons currently receiving federally funded FSB or AFSB payments will receive no increase. Claimants drawing Special Unemployment Assistance (SUA) will gain increases, the same as regular claimants.

Effective January 1, 1976 the wage base upon which employer taxes are computed will be increased from $4500 to $5400 per employee.

The law also provides for changes in the disqualification provisions. Anybody voluntarily quitting a job without good cause attributable to the employer, or anyone fired for misconduct connected with work, may lose 13 weeks of benefits and must serve a 13 week requalification period. The old period was six weeks. This portion of the law takes effect November 30, 1975.

Anyone fired for theft or willful destruction of property with loss or damage of $25 or less, may lose 12 weeks of benefits and must serve a 12 week requalification period. This is unchanged from the old law.

Persons fired for assault and battery, or theft or willful destruction of property with loss or damage of more than $25, lose all benefits remaining with the employer, who fired them. Such persons, must also wait a minimum of 13 weeks before they can claim benefits from any other employer for whom they previously worked. The old law provided for 12 weeks loss of benefits and a 12 week requalification period.

There are also changes in the dependency requirements. The number of dependents claimed was formerly fixed at the time of filing a claim regardless of later births, deaths or changes in support status. Allowance for dependents will now be considered, on a weekly basis, permitting a change in the dependency class during the payment period.

The amended law also allows as dependents certain children, brothers and sisters, if they are full-time students and under the age of 22.

Under the old law, no spouse earning $21 or more in the week before a claim was filed could be allowed as a dependent. The $21 requirement has been deleted and a spouse may be allowed as a dependent, provided the claimant furnished more than half the support of the spouse in the 90 days previous to the claimed week.

The period for appealing administrative decisions has been increased from 15 to 20 days under the new act.

The show is the largest and most comprehensive display of material handling equipment, systems and services to be assembled anywhere in the United States in 1975. About 240 companies will be exhibiting in the show sponsored by the Material Handling Institute, Inc. An attendance of over 20,000 is expected to view the exhibits.

Accompanying the show is a symposium and seminar. Both educational events are designed to enable the participants to learn more about solving material handling problems.

REMODELING COMPLETED—The interior remodeling of the Old Mill Restaurant, located on Main Street in downtown Northville, has now been completed, reports owner Richard Kopacki. pruned in the spring, but for different reasons, he says.

"Early flowering types, like forsythia, pussy willow, lilacs and quince, form their flower buds on last year's growth," he explains. "Prune them in the spring after flowering to remove dead or diseased branches and to promote strong new growth to bear next year's flowers."

Pruning in the fall or in the spring before the flowers appear removes the buds so the shrubs don't flower at all.

Late flowering types, such as mock orange, butterfly bush and hydrangea, form their flower buds on the present year's growth. They should be pruned in the spring, Cox says, to promote vigorous new growth and remove unwanted or excessively long stems.

Pruning should not be used to change the natural shape or size of a plant, he cautions. Prune, rather, to retain the natural shape and keep the plant healthy.

Grows Big Family

Whenever the kids have trouble with their homework we try to sit down and work on the problems together."

A spring candidate for the South Lyon Board of Education this year, Hamilton points out, with pride, that several of their older children have been able to completely finance some college training for themselves.

Raising a family of 11 is no easy task these days either economically or psychologically. Yet, the Salem Township farmer is extremely modest about his contribution to a happy family and only speaks reluctantly about the way the rest of his family feel about him.

"I guess they like me well enough," admits Hamilton with a shy grin. "I remember when my oldest daughter went away to school in South Carolina. I got a letter from her six weeks later saying that she never realized how lucky she was."

"She said she had met a lot of kids who hadn't had a good homelife like she had and she really appreciated what she had been brought up with now."

"I guess, to me, that's about the nicest thing a father could hear from one of his children."

Stresses Education

Since his wife's illness a year and a half ago, he has become the maker of school lunches, giving Mrs. Bach a few minutes extra before she leaves for her half-time teaching post at Cooke Middle School annex.

"Dad makes the best tuna sandwiches," declares Greg, while brother Dave chimes in, "but I prefer his egg salad ones." The family also praises his sour dough bread.

"There's nothing he won't do to help me," Mrs. Bach adds as she says she finds he often "throws a load of clothes in the washer." He fully appreciates her contribution, she explains, to the heavy education budget.

That Bach "relates" to girls, too, is evident when daughter Stephanie breezes in with a special greeting between the two. "Let's dance, Dad," she says to the man who taught her.

The "greatest thing" that son Bernie wished for this week as he graduated and prepared to enter medical school at the University of Cincinnati was to have the whole family on hand — and all five elatedly were to be. There's just that kind of family spirit.

Area Pastors Meet To Discuss Problems

The Reverend George Jerome, Protestant chaplain at Northville State Hospital, with Father Kukulski and the Presbyterian ministers often are joined by Pastor James F. Andrews of Northville's Full Salvation Union Church and by the Reverend Charles F. Boerger of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Northville, and his assistant, the Reverend Ralph Schmidt.

Cards also go out monthly to Father Gerard Hadad and Father Kevin O'Brien of Our Lady of Victory Church, to the Reverend Don Hohmann of the New Life Assembly of God, to the Reverend James Lifeld of the Living Lord Lutheran Church, to the Reverend Leslie Harding of the Church of the Holy Cross in Novi.

Others receiving notices are the Reverend G. Harold Ahlberg of Plymouth Evangelical Covenant Church, Reverend Guenther Branstner of Northville First United Methodist Church and the Reverend Philip Seymour of Novi United Methodist Church.

High's tennis team) beat me 7 to 6," Norton said. "I've never been able to beat him but that's the closest I've come."

"Usually, Maryann comes along to play but we couldn't get her up this time."

Maryann usually doesn't miss out on the action.

"We have fun playing tennis, going for walks and I like to ride my pony, Sparky," said Maryann.

Raising children alone isn't as difficult as you might think, Norton said.

"Oh, I'm kept pretty busy," he said, "but the kids have become pretty self-reliant. They pack their own lunches and get themselves off to school. I usually do the cooking at night — they think I make great spaghetti — but if I'm not here they make their own dinner."

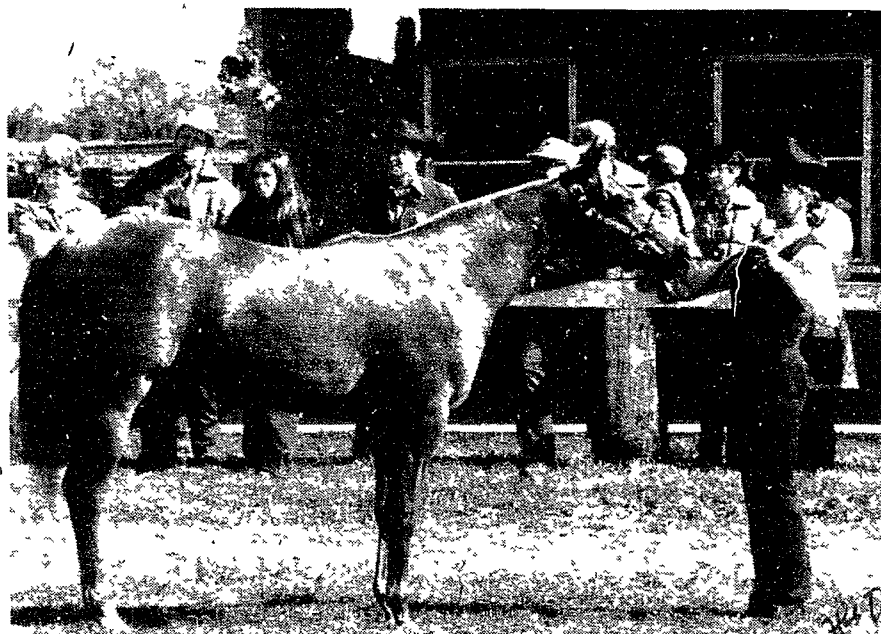

It can be an adventure at times, too, he said.

"Last winter I hosted my first pajama party for Maryann," Norton said. "I was a little leary about having all these little girls here at once but we had a great time."

"We roasted hot dogs in the fireplace. The girls were laid out like cord wood in their sleeping bags. It was a lot of fun, and we really enjoyed ourselves."

COUNTING ON DAD—Greg Bach, left, relies on his father, Bernard Bach, to help keep things going as he takes on lawn mowing jobs near his home on Woodhill Road in Northville. Son David and daughter Stephanie also supply encouragement. The family's eldest son, Bernard, Jr., was at Harvard when the Father's Day picture was taken.

DIED—One of the top show horses in the area, Beware Skips Squaw, owned by Jim Spagnuolo of 203 Debra Lane, had to be destroyed last week because of an incurable bone disease. The two-year-old quarterhorse was the 1974 state champion halter filly, state champion halter mare and halter horse-all ages.

Putz Wolski's third place team consisted of five Southfield residents: Debbie Mindell, Amy Mindell, Jenny Jacobs, Allen Berger, Jody Berger and substitute team member, Ilana Kutinsky.

A team comprised entirely of Union Lake residents was the fourth place winner and included riders Vicki Gartner, Ann Furlong, Bonnie Maten, Susan Moore, Cathy Lynch and Margaret Kivett.

Vicki Gartner was also captain of the fifth place team. Her fellow riders included Union Lake residents Laurie Hess, Jerody Ward, Jeni Hess, Meghan Galbraith and Doug Strock.

The youngest competitor in the show was six years of age while the oldest was 16.

One area rider was reported a winner at the recent Fort Gratiot Lyons Show. Lisa Grunheid, riding "Kane's Geni" placed first in Saddle Seat Equitation, for riders 13 years of age and under and second place in the same age division in stock seat equitation.

Chip Simon of Adray slides unsuccessfully home during the third inning of last week's game with the Northville J.C.'s but doesn't seem to be able to believe the call of the umpire...who continues to call Simon out. The Jaycees won the contest 17-7 in Northville Recreation Department slow pitch action.

Novi Action Is Furious

The action is already hot and furious in Novi men's slo-pitch softball action even though the season has just started.

No team looks like a runaway in either league. In the American Division, Novi Tire and Michigan Tractor are tied for first, each with 4-1 records while Jim Storm Insurance trails close behind with a 3-2 record.

In the National League, three teams are tied for the top spot as Novi Inn, Fisher's Sporting, and Action all have identical 4-1 records.

In one of last week's big games, Action outslugged Novi Inn 13-8 to drop Novi Inn out of sole possession of first place in the national league.

Action scored two runs in the first, five in the third, a single run in the fourth, two in the fifth and three in the sixth innings to win the game.

Big gun for Action was Bill White who went 4-4 at the plate while slamming out two homers. Tim Assemany also slugged a homer and a single for the winner while Dennis Diem aced out two doubles and a single.

For the loser, Joseph Charnley claimed a homer, double and single to lead the team. Harvey Wilson came up with a double and two singles while Anthony Olivich hit three singles.

Novi Tire stayed in first place in the American League by defeating J.P. Realty 7-3. The Tire Men scored two runs in each of the first three innings and added an insurance run in the final inning.

J.P. Realty, meanwhile, showed across all three of its runs in the final seventh inning, but it wasn't enough. Both David Temple and Mike

Joe's Pantry Slugs Way To National League Lead

Joe's Party Pantry moved into undisputed possession of first place last week in the Northville Slo-Pitch National League but Tavern and the Eagles stayed close on the heels of the leader.

Joe's Pantry had been tied with the Cyclones at 5-1 going into action last week but Joe's managed to come up with an easy 12-1 victory over Adray while the Cyclones dropped a pair of tough games.

The leader waited until the fifth inning to score its first run but broke the game wide open against Adray scoring seven runs in the fifth and three runs in the sixth to wrap up the contest.

Triples by Callender and Frice in the fifth were the big blows as Joe's gained five other hits. Ritchie claimed a double for Joe's Pantry in the sixth.

The Cyclones meanwhile were bombed by the Eagles, 22-2 and Tavern 14-4.

The Eagles, in third place in the National League at 5-1-1, had no trouble with the previous leader scoring two runs in the first inning and then blasting out 10 runs on seven hits in the second inning.

Big blows in the second inning were a triple by Shandilis and doubles by Maki and Primeau. Primeau also wracked up a triple in the third inning and Kelly and B. Maki a double to help the cause. Kelly had a triple and Woodside a double in the fifth inning.

Tavern scored five runs in the fifth and six in the fifth to beat the Cyclones 14-4. Finley and D'Hane paced Tavern with a pair of doubles although Pringle, Kanar and Vaughn all had three singles.

Ross-Northrup upped its record to 5-3 by downing Little Caesars 14-9. Hall led Ross-Northrup with three singles and double. Bagdon knocked a homer for the winner. Northrup scored nine runs in the fifth inning to take the lead after falling behind 6-5.

Second place Tavern made quick work of Ely's winning 14-4.

Four runs in the first inning for Tavern paced by a Pane homer was a good indication of things to come. Tavern added three runs in the third with a triple by Vaughn and a double by Finley the big blows. Doubles by Kanar, Hubbard and Vaughn in the fourth yielded two more runs for the winner.

Tavern added its five decisive runs in the sixth with the big blow a double by Hubbard, who went 4-4 for the night.

Eagles had little trouble with the VFW winning 12-3. Eagles spread out their runs with innings of 1,3,2,2,2,2, runs. J Maki went 3-3 to lead the winner.

Lutherans might not have had a win going into action last week but they still trampled the J.C.'s 19-8 and then edged Little Caesars 10-8.

Against the J.C.'s, Lutherans scored four runs in the first, three in the second, two in the third and five in the fourth and five in the fifth.

Boerger, who went 3-4 slammed a homer. Mapes and Frey each had three hits for the winner.

The J.C.'s made it a game for two innings scoring two first and four in the second but couldn't get but two more during the rest of the game. Eight errors hurt the loser.

Lutherans bumped Little Caesars 10-8 Mitchell paced the Lutherans with three singles while Steckley for the loser ripped a homer and single.

The Presbyterians edged the VFW 15-14 on the strength of five runs in the final seventh compared to only four for the Presbyterians.

Meysers tallied four hits and J. Curl three for the winner while Myers, Brevik and Mott ripped three hits apiece for the loser.

The J.C.'s did beat Adray 17-7 as the winner came up with six runs in the third inning and 11 runs in the fourth

Top Teams Have Problems In American League Race

No one has fewer than two losses in the tough American League of the Northville Recreation Department slo-pitch softball as action last week took its toll among the leaders.

John Mach Ford, previous leader, dropped a pair of contests while co-leader Tavern-Marcus split a pair of games.

In the week's first contest, John Mach just couldn't get untracked and fell to Laphams 6-1.

Laphams scored two in the fourth, three in the fifth, and one in the sixth to wrap up the game.

Borth led Laphams with a single and double although Thomson also had a crucial double in the fourth.

John Mach couldn't recover later in the week either as Manufacturers made the car men victims again, 7-4.

Manufacturers scored four in the first, two in the second, and one in the seventh for the win. Kucher led Manufacturers with three singles.

John Mach aced out three singles and Dave Taulbee two singles and a double to pace John Mach.

Tavern-Marcus, previous co-leader, was dumped by upstart Northville Vanilla 18-8.

Vanilla shoved across two runs in the first, seven in the third, three in the fourth, and six in the fifth.

Pauli tallied a triple and two singles while Griffith had a double and two singles for the winner. Body also had three singles.

For Tavern, Baluha aced three singles.

Tavern-Marcus, however, did crumple Fairway's plans of getting out of the cellar by handing Fairway a 7-3 defeat.

Tavern-Marcus scored two in the first, three in the third, and one in each of the fifth and sixth innings.

Whitlow's triple shoved across two runs in the first for the winner while Heathcock's homer in the third added two more runs. Heathcock went 4-4 at the plate.

Nirider led the loser with a double and a single.

Laphams jumped into a tie for first by thumping Zayti Trucking 14-3. Eight runs crossed the plate for Laphams in the third inning and four more in the fourth. Phillippi's five RBI's on a double and single were big factors in the win. Lake also had a double and single for the winner.

Little Joe's Bar remained in first place by dumping Spagy's 11-8. Five runs in the final inning made the difference. Yanoschick's triple and double led the team

Mustang Coaches Vote

Name Leu Top Athlete of Year

Scott Leu, Northville's 6-1 all-around basketball, football, and baseball player has been named by Northville coaches as "Athlete of the Year."

Announcement of the selection of Leu for the honor was made at the annual spring honors convocation by Coach Walt Koepke.

Rules for choosing the Athlete of the Year allow the head coach in each sport to nominate three candidates from his sport. The entire coaching staff, along with the athletic director, then votes for the top three selections for Athlete of the Year.

The criteria for selecting the winner are leadership, athletic performance, devotion and scholastic achievement.

During three years of varsity sports, Leu has established himself as a standout in basketball, football and baseball.

In football, Leu missed being named to the all-conference team this year at defensive back by one vote. He's remembered most in that sport for his nine interceptions this past year which broke a school record and helped the Mustangs clinch second spot in the Western Six.

In baseball, Leu made honorable mention all conference as he played third base.

Leu's strong suit though is basketball and Leu, co-captain of the team, gained recognition by his teammates as he was named most valuable player.

Northville's "quarterback" guard, Leu was the sparkplug who led the Mustangs to the Western Six championship. Leu averaged 14 points a game to lead the Mustangs in scoring but his strength also was in setting up the play and keeping the Northville defense ready.

Leu also came through in the clutch for the Mustangs. It was his 30 foot jumper in the last second which enabled Northville to beat Waterford Mott, and it was his two free throws in the last 10 seconds which gave the Mustangs a win over Livonia Churchill.

Leu was a unanimous choice of the league coaches on the All Conference basketball team and was named to the Sliger all area team in both football and basketball.

Leu has already signed a letter of intent to play basketball with the Michigan Tech team. According to Leu, basketball is an up and coming sport at Michigan Tech, although it's still in competition with the hockey program there.

"It's on the uprise," says Leu. "They have a good coach and they have some good players joining the team."

Leu said that he received 8-10 scholarship offers from various colleges. While most were for basketball, Hillsdale and Northwood Institute tried to recruit him for football.

In fact, Michigan Tech also wanted him to play football as well as basketball, but Leu told them he wanted to concentrate on basketball.

An honor student at Northville, graduating with a 3.4 GPA, Leu says he will major in general business at Michigan Tech and will go into either law or business administration.

"This year I figure on working hard," said Leu. "If you work hard, everything falls into place."

Leu has also been in the honor society, and was in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

"He was a good choice and exemplified what the athlete of the year should be," said Athletic Director Bob Kucher. "He was very devoted to the athletic program and proving himself. When he came to us as a freshman, he was on the small side but that didn't discourage him. He had a lot of determination and stuck it out."

"Even though smaller in size, he never lacked in spirit," said Kucher.

"His record speaks for itself," added baseball and football coach Chuck Shonta.

TOP ATHLETE—Scott Leu was named by Northville coaches as the athlete of the year at the recent honors convocation. During three years of varsity sports, Leu participated in baseball, basketball and football and was widely recognized throughout the school and the student body for his athletic effort.

Earehart, Nelson Are Track Co-captains

Individual awards and next year's captains were announced recently at the annual Mustang track team picnic.

"I thought the team did an excellent job in making their selections," reported coach Ralph Redmond.

Dennis Keegan was a unanimous pick for the "Most Valuable" trophy as he had proved to be the team spark plug for the entire season. Keegan was a member of the record setting 440 relay team and also competed in the sprints and long jump.

In what proved to be very close balloting, Dennis Singleton topped the "Most Improved" award. Singleton, a sophomore running in both the high and low hurdles has proven himself to be a definite contender for All League honors next year.

The "Guts Award," presented to the team member who "gives more than what is asked" was presented to Robert Gould. Larry Pink received the scholar-athlete award as he has compiled a 3.8 grade point average along with his athletic prowess. Dennis Keegan gained his second honor of the night as he earned the High Point Award with 111 points for the season.

Redmond and assistant coach Ed Gabrys announced that next year's co-captains will be middle distance runner Dan Earehart and

Activity Center Begins

A Teen Activity Center sponsored by United Community Services will be open this summer from June 30th to Aug. 7th for middle and high school age students in the Novi area. The Center will be open on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 6 until 10 p.m. at the Orchard Hills School.

Nightly activities will include use of a pool table, Ping-pong, baseball, volleyball, basketball, watching TV, listening to a juke box, dancing and various table games. There will also be informal "rap sessions" each evening. A number of full length motion pictures have also been scheduled throughout the summer and will be shown without charge at the Center.

Various crafts will be offered at the Center at different times during the summer. Tentatively these include woodcarving, leatherwork, photography, painting, plastics and macrame. Yoga instruction and archery lessons will also be given.

In addition to these nightly activities a number of daily excursions have been planned. Among these are trips to Cedar Point, a Tiger ballgame, and the Detroit Cultural Center. An overnight campout and a bike trip will also be organized.

Schedules of dates and times for trips, craft instruction, and movies will be posted at the Center. Sign-up sheets for trips and crafts will also be available at the Center since a limited number of students will be participating in some activities.

Northville Claims Sports Trophy

Northville has officially won the "all sports" trophy for finishing with the most points of any school in the Western Six during the past school year.

With six activities used to determine the winner, Northville was far out in front. Standings are decided on the basis of points with six points awarded for a first place, five for a second place finish and so on down to one point for a sixth place finish.

Northville ended with 40 points while Canton and Churchill were tied for second with 34. Walled Lake Western had 29 points while Mott finished with 26½. Harrison was last in the standings with 25½.

During the year, Northville finished first in basketball, swimming and golf, second in football, baseball, and tennis, third in track and fifth in cross country and wrestling.

This is only the third year for the award and Livonia Churchill claimed the award during the first two years.

"It's interesting that of all the schools in the league, we're the smallest in enrollment," stated Athletic Director Bob Kucher. "That speaks highly of our athletic program."

Coaches Ben Lauber, Bob Simpson, Walt Koepke and Chuck Apap surround Athletic Director Bob Kucher and sports' award.

while Trumbull also tallied three singles for the winner. Spagy's was paced by Marzoni's three singles.

Zayti Trucking bombed Northville Vanilla 9-2 to stay in the running.

Zayti scored five runs in the first inning on five singles and added two more in the second and one in the third. Northville Vanilla scored its two runs in the fifth on a double and three singles.

Winner's Circle edged J & J Roofing 4-3. A double by Phillips and a crucial single by O'Shay in the fourth were the big blows for the loser as three runs crossed the plate, but it wasn't enough as Winner's Circle scored two in the first, one in the third and one in the fourth.

Manufacturers Bank also scored a forfeit victory over Winner's Circle to round out action.

final two innings. The JC's collected eight hits and Lakewood 12.

SPORT FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT

by Larry Wichman

Do you know why the "bullpen" in a baseball park is called a bullpen?... In the old days, the Bull Durham Tobacco Co., put their advertising signs on the fences in many, many ball parks around the country and a lot of their signs were located in the area of the park where relief pitchers warmed up... That area began to be called the "bullpen", and it's been that ever since.

Believe it or not, a complete 9-inning big league baseball game was once played in 51 minutes!... It was a game between the Giants and Phils in 1919.

Here's a baseball record that just doesn't seem possible, but it's true... The entire Chicago White Sox team of 1908 hit only three home runs ALL SEASON!... Just think, there have been times in baseball history when one player hit three home runs in one game — but imagine, here's a whole team that totaled only three homers all year!... It's hard to believe, but it happened.

I bet you didn't know that oil changes, tune-ups and many other services were available at the Uniroyal Dunlap Tire store...

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

Our world's talking and thinking peace. If only there were peace and people and nations could get along with each other. Peace is not found in the White House, Paris or the conference table. It's found in the Persons of the Godhead.

God authors peace! "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace..." (1 Corinthians 14:33). Christ gives peace! "The word which God sent... preaching peace by Jesus, Christ" (Acts 10:36). He gives the same kind of peace He had here on earth. He faced death, harrassment and wicked people with an unruffled serenity and calm that was unbelievable. He was a rock when it came to being at peace. The Holy Spirit gives peace! "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace..." (Galatians 5:22). Peace comes from Him!

In the past seventeen years there have been fifty-three wars, twenty-one of major proportion. Before World War II there were 2.6 wars per year. Since World War II there are three wars per year. In this enlightened, intellectual we are creating more war than peace. The New York Times said, "Peace is a fable." World peace is based on circumstances and man today knows no peace.

Peace is not found in talks and treaties, nor is it found in intellect. It's found in God Himself. Are you trusting Him for your own personal peace? You can!

CETA Grant Employees

Aid Camp, Playgrounds

Commerce Township has offered the use of employees hired with $12,900 of its Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds to the Walled Lake School District's Summer Day Camp and Playground program.

The money will allow the district to decrease the cost to children taking part in the day camp and to expand the playground program in Commerce Township.

"Offering us the use of the funds was the Township Board's idea. We were delighted to accept since we share their concern for providing good recreational activities for our children," said Assistant Superintendent Roland J. Langerman.

This concern has resulted in an effective co-operative program, he said. The school district is handling the hiring and the supervision of the program and the Township is taking care of administering the funds.

The Day Camp, which is offered for youngsters between the ages of 8 and 12 at the district's Outdoor Education Center is held in three separate two week sessions. Each session costs $25 for district residents and $35 for non-residents. This fee is $7 less than expected as a result of the Township gift. Last year 297 children participated in the program. The playground program is offered at seven of the district's elementary schools for youngsters in the first through seventh grade as of Fall 1975. The cost for the six week program is $5 per child. This includes a T-shirt. The seven schools are Dublin, Glengary, Decker, Twin Beach, Walled Lake, Union Lake and Commerce Elementaries.

Wixom Newsbeat

Who's Laughing?

By NANCY DINGELDEY

I knew my bubble would have to burst sometime ... but to a bloomin' optimist there's always hope I even felt a little smug every time I crossed the railroad tracks in town and saw the redwood tub of geraniums perched on the library steps. I used to think people really do appreciate a little color here and there. Nobody would be so crass as to rip off the geraniums.

I wonder who had the last laugh. My only thought is that the person who swiped the tub must really have needed it.

My mind must be back in the dark ages when people just didn't help themselves to anything. I used to get creamed by my mother for so much as picking a flower that belonged in a neighbor's yard. So much for the tub and the pretty posies. It was small but it weighed a lot and I guess as an optimist I can only hope the jerk who took it slipped a disc in his back while walking off with the "freebie."

Stories about left-over slaves from the orgy are slowly sitting in. Two of the latest to be used by their owners are Arlene Munk and Denny Haight. Arlene, who was purchased jointly by some Highgate gals and her husband, was "ordered" to give a going-away luncheon.

The luncheon, held last Thursday honored three Highgateers, Gerri VonBehren, Margaret Rohwetter and Marilyn Dock who will shortly say their last good-byes to Wixom.

Arlene's job: totally prepare for, clean-up and entertain at the luncheon and knowing Arlene, she enjoyed every minute of it. The VonBehrens are on their way this week to their new home in Portage, the Rohwetters will be relocating in Traverse City as soon as they sell their home here and the Docks are heading to Atlanta, Georgia. Marilyn's husband works for Jacques Cousteau promoting and selling diving gear.

Our other "slave," Denny Haight worked off his three hours by teaching five-year-old Joey Victory some of the finer points of hitting a baseball. According to Rose, Denny attacked the job with enthusiasm and the Victory's were delighted with the lessons.

According to Rose, Denny drilled a hole through a baseball, strung a rope through it and attached it to a frame of a swing set. This invention allowed Joey the opportunity to practice his "swings" without his mentor.

Many slaves still have not been used but hopefully we'll have more clever stories coming in the next few weeks.

The familiar sound of the yellow school bus has come to an end with the close of school for another summer. Celebrating this event, 12 mothers joined at the Bijou Restaurant in Southfield for that "one last fling" last week.

Joining the group were Michelle Hoffmeyer, Bonnie Haight, Barbara Rhind, Margaret Rohwetter, Gerri VonBehren and Marie Walsh. Completing the table were Joan Hollister, Sylvia Vangieson, Bev Paisley and Lois Green.

The Wixom Library Board is sponsoring the investigation and writing of an anecdotal record of the early days of Wixom as a bicentennial project. Such appeal may be taken by any person aggrieved or by any officer, Department, Board or Bureau of the City. The appellant shall file with the Board of Appeals on blanks to be furnished by the Building Inspector, a notice of appeals specifying the grounds thereof. The Building Inspector shall forthwith transmit to the Board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken. The final decision of such appeal shall be in the form of a resolution either reversing, modifying, or affirming, wholly or partly, the decision or determination appealed from.

The Board of Appeals shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of the appeal and give due notice thereof to all persons to whom any real property within 300 feet of the premises in question shall be assessed. Such notice shall be delivered in person or by United States mail, addressed to the respective owners at the address given on the last assessment rolls, and shall decide such appeal within a reasonable time.

FEES FOR APPEALS. A fee in an amount set by Resolution of the Novi City Council shall be paid to the Department of Building and Safety at the time the notice of appeal is filed, which the Department of Building and Safety shall forthwith pay over to the City Treasurer to the credit of the Department of Building and Safety of the City of Novi. ## Amerman Students Win 'Field Day' Ribbons

Editor's Note: The following report on field day at Amerman Elementary was written by Robert Foster, Mickey Newman, Jim Phillips, Jimmy Roth, John Simone and Tom Spade, all students in Room 15. A total of 318 fourth and fifth graders won ribbons in the event.

Amerman school had a field day on Thursday, June 5. This is what Mr. (William) Craft, the principal of the school, said, "I really think it's great. It's truly a hard competition." When we asked Mrs. (Mary) Najarian, the gym teacher and chairman of the field day why she likes field day, she replied, "because it's a chance for competition and it's fun."

She told us that we win ribbons so that we can have something to show for what we did. But you can only win two ribbons so everyone can have a chance to win a ribbon.

Mrs. Najarian has a lot to do for field day so she asked people to help. Each teacher is in charge of one event. A special thanks to the mothers who helped organize the children. They made sure the boys and girls were at the right event.

The events this year included the standing broad jump, running broad jump, volleyball between the knees, shuttle race, sack race, 50 meter dash and 100 meter dash.

OK Changes

Novi council last week approved transfer of one liquor license and the addition of co-licensees on another liquor license.

Council approved a request from the Velt Corporation for transfer of a resort Class C and SDM liquor license with dance permit from Germfask, Michigan to 40380 Grand River at the request of John and Maxine Edwards.

Council also approved a request to add Clyde and Joanne Valente onto the 1974-75 SDM license of the 7-Eleven Store located at 24111 Meadowbrook.

Teacher Dismissal Upheld by 6-1 Vote

By a vote of 6-1, Northville School Board voted to uphold its March dismissal of Linda Mines, a teacher at Main Street Elementary.

Voting against the dismissal was Trustee P. Roger Nieuwkoop who said he was not convinced that the administration had given her sufficient time to correct deficiencies cited in evaluations, that he was not convinced she did not follow up on administrative suggestions and that evidence presented by the administration did not warrant her dismissal.

A motion to grant her third year probation made by Nieuwkoop originally won support from Trustee Sylvia Gucken who later withdrew her second.

The action of the board followed more than seven hours of hearings behind closed doors during May and June.

Superintendent Raymond Spear challenged Nieuwkoop's charge that the administration had not given her time to correct teaching methods. He noted that Miss Mines had been told in December of dissatisfaction by administrators.

Trustee Karen Wilkinson said she felt the evaluation process was carried out correctly and that it was a continuing process "and this is the crux of the case."

Mrs. Gucken said she supported several of Nieuwkoop's points "but I am concerned that we separate the individual from the process."

Trustee Wilkinson, supported by Vice-President Dr. Orlo Robinson, moved to re-affirm the board action of March 25. Dissenting vote was cast by Nieuwkoop.

Board Awards

Two Contracts

Northville School Board awarded bids for playground equipment for the two new elementary schools and for rubbish removal for all buildings.

The playground equipment bid went to Herbert Jennings Incorporated of Litchfield at a price of $14,876.32. The equipment will be installed at both Silver Springs and Winchester elementary schools and will include items such as tether balls, bike racks, swings, slides, basketball back boards and baseball backstops.

The board authorized the administration to enter into an agreement with B and J Removal of Northville for rubbish removal for the 1975-76 school year at a price of $7,200.

The firm has been used by the district for the past one and one-half years and Superintendent Raymond Spear said it is less expensive than using school district personnel to dispose of the district's rubbish.

BYD Program

Opens at NHS

Northville High School is participating in a national Bicentennial program called Bicentennial Youth Debates (BYD). BYD has both High School and College-Age divisions and is open to any person under 25 years of age who has not yet received a Bachelors Degree.

Local school events will take place between September 27 and November 1.

The purpose of the BYD is to encourage students to examine American history and values through forensic efforts. There will be a winner in each of three events — Lincoln-Douglas Debate, Extemporaneous Speaking and Persuasive Speaking.

Additional information on Northville High's program may be obtained from Bud Bourgeois, English instructor, at 349-3400.

On Mark Twain

Library Sets Discussion

The works of Mark Twain will be the topic for the second session of the Northville Public Library book discussion group which will meet on Wednesday, June 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Old Library Building.

The program will feature a short film entitled "An Interview with Mark Twain," in which Hal Holbrook impersonates the celebrated speaking style of Samuel Clemens, who achieved almost as much fame through his talent for lecturing as he did by writing.

The discussion will center on Twain's best-known and perhaps greatest book, "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." To broaden the discussion, participants are asked to read one other work by or about Mark Twain. Suggestions include "The Gilded Age," "The Mysterious Stranger" and "Letters to the Earth," all of which present a side of Twain which contradicts his image as a great humorist, for they present his more cynical side.

Other suggestions are "The Autobiography of Mark Twain" and collections of his short stories.

Limited copies of these and other works by and about Mark Twain are available at the library, Anne Vargo, community service librarian said.

The discussion group is open to everyone and there is no charge or obligation to join. At the first session which featured the film "Future Shock," a large representing many different ages was present.

"Aside from the literary aspect of the discussion group, I feel a great deal can be gained simply by bringing together people varying in age from students to senior citizens to share opinions and feelings," commented Miss Vargo.

The Old Library Building is located on the site of the Mill Race Historical Village on Griswold Street, north of Main. Those interested in participating are asked to register at the library or call 349-3020.

"Come and bring a friend as we delve into the America of 150 years ago as chronicled by one of the geniuses of American Literature in a setting which evokes the past," stated Miss Vargo.

Novi Offers

Reading Club

Friends of the Novi Library will sponsor a summer reading program for students in grades one through five.

Forms for registration are available at the Novi Public Library, 25870 Novi Road, and should be completed between June 18 and 20.

Cards will be given to the students on which to record the books. Books read from June 23 through July 30 will be recorded for prizes.

On Friday, August 1, awards will be given out, Friends spokesman said.

Pre-schools may register in the same way for a "read to me" program. Adults will read books to the children and will complete the card.

Friends Seek Book Donors

Friends of the Northville Public Library are seeking donations of books for the annual used book sale. The sale will be held during Northville's downtown sidewalk sales in August.

Those who have hardcover and paper back books they wish to donate may drop them off inside the library during regular hours.

Donors who are unable to get to the library or who have a large number of books to donate may make arrangements with Jane Wiegand, Northville Library Board member, by calling 349-5945.

WORKING FOR LIBRARY—Four large wooden tables from the Northville Public Library were sanded in preparation for refinishing by several young volunteers last week. Above, Floyd Kupsky and Bill Fiorilli, graduates of Northville High, work on the tables. Several members of the Community Service class at Northville High also donated many hours of their time to the project, Anne Vargo, Community Service Librarian, said. The volunteers included Claire Rubach, Carole Birdsall and Jennifer Chaffee. Members of Friends of the Library are continuing the project this week, doing the actual staining and refinishing and the group has purchased all materials for preparing the tables for the new library location in Northville Square. The move is expected to begin late next week.

Co-op Nursery Elects in Novi

Officers for the coming year have been elected by the Novi Cooperative Nursery. Mrs. Nona Pickering is president with Mrs. Janice Landback, Mrs. Marilyn Kiesel and Mrs. Sandy Cheney assisting as vice presidents.

Others are Mrs. Sue LaBounty, treasurer, Mrs. Pam Wright, secretary; Mrs.

Debbie Oye, council delegate, and Mrs. Judy McBride, membership chairman.

Mrs. McBride reports that there are openings in both the three and four year old sections for the fall. She may be contacted at 348-2331. The nursery meets at Ramblewood Swim Club on Nine Mile Road near Haggerty.

Free Movies

On Tap Here

Four movies will be sponsored Saturday, June 21, by Friends of the Northville Library. The movies, for preschoolers through third grade, will begin at 10:30 a.m. in Northville City Hall Council Chambers.

Scheduled to be shown Saturday are "Blueberries for Sal," "Happy Owls," "Time of Wonder," and "Ugly Duckling."

New books available in the public library include:

IN NOVI ADULT READING

"Conversations with Kennedy," Benjamin C. Bradlee; President Kennedy once said that the reason biography and history fascinate so is they help answer the question "What is he like?" Here, the author writes of their five-year acquaintance from the vantage of both journalist and friend.

"The New Vigilantes," James D. Horan; Authentic in many details, the novel deals with men so frustrated by the corruption of society that they take the law into their own hands. The men are a group of Vietnam veterans, eight survivors of years in a prison camp. They are appalled at the cynicism and apathy they encounter at home when they attempt to combat the drug trade.

"Breach of Faith: The Fall of Richard Nixon," Theodore H. White; White starts his story with a masterful account of the last days of Richard Nixon in the White House, as those closest to him recognize that he had deceived them and they must force him out.

"RAINCHECK" POLICY
Everything you buy at Kroger is guaranteed for your total satisfaction regardless of manufacturer. If you are not satisfied, Kroger will replace your item with the same brand or a comparable brand or refund your money.

We also guarantee that we will do everything in our power to have ample supplies of all advertised specials on our shelves when you shop for them. If, due to conditions beyond our control, we run out of an advertised special, we will substitute the same item in a comparable brand (when such an item is available) reflecting the same savings or, if you prefer, give you a "RAIN CHECK" which entitles you to the same advertised special at the same price any time within 30 days.
