

Levitt under Fire for Highland Lakes Problems

In an effort to resolve resident complaints at Highland Lakes, Northville Township Board members voted unanimously to send a list of continuing problems to Levitt and Sons' New York office and to the corporation's trustee assigned by the Justice Department.

At the urging of Treasurer Charles Rosenberg, the board also authorized the township supervisor to check with the attorney on regulations covering dumping construction materials on building sites and, if Levitt is found in violation of township regulations, to have the building department issue a violation.

The action took place at the board's Thursday meeting.

Board members, at the suggestion of Trustee James Nowka, placed a one-week time limit during which Levitt is to clear the area near Lehigh Lane of construction materials "under threat that we will take appropriate action if it is not done," Nowka said.

(Levitt reportedly cleaned up the dump area on Friday—the day following the board meeting. ED.).

Last month, the board ordered Levitt to fill 21 basements on Queen Anne Court since they had stood open for two years and Levitt spokesmen said they did not believe any building would begin until late fall. Instead of filling the basements, Levitt has taken out building permits for some of the units.

Trustee Richard Mitchell said that with "the permits out, they have 90 days to begin construction and two years before the permits expire."

Several Highland Lakes residents attending the meeting also expressed concern over the issuance of permits.

Commented Robert Gibb, who lives adjacent to Queen Anne Court, "We still have open basements. You're giving Levitt too much."

Michael Wilson, president of the Highland Lakes Resident Advisory Board, urged the township to deal with Levitt in New York and Washington. "You are foolish to listen to promises from Levitt. They could sell any day."

"I also suggest you review who owns the various land out there. If Levitt leaves within the next few months, you will have internal problems and people will be coming to you."

Township Building Official Carl Lundquist pleaded with the board to allow Levitt time to clean up the construction dump area off Lehigh Lane.

"Wait," he said. "They will do something soon and the area will be cleaned up."

Several residents, including Mary Neples and Lila Lutz, said the condition had existed for three years and that nothing was ever cleaned up. "Trucks dump but never take it out," Mrs. Neples said.

Mrs. Lutz commented that the trash is scattered over about one acre and that the commons area was never completed as promised.

Traffic Safety Curbs Backfire

Signs Trigger Complaints

Recently installed restrictive turn signs in the northeastern section of the city ran into sharp criticism this week but the signs will remain operative at least until the next council meeting.

"Why are you making it so difficult for me to get home...it's a hassle...I can't believe it was studied that way," said Arthur Adams of 960 Allen Drive, one of several citizens who complained about the signs either at Monday's council meeting or by letter.

Mayor A.M. Allen responded by saying the council is not purposely trying to inconvenience local residents but rather it is attempting to curb unsafe traffic through residential areas.

"We've been wrestling with this (traffic) situation since Christmas," said Mayor A.M. Allen, "and we don't claim to have all the answers. We're still trying to find the best solution. Just bear with us awhile longer."

Two signs that have come under most criticism include the no right turn on Base Line at northbound Center and the no left turn on Novi Street at eastbound Eight Mile Road. The restricted turns are for 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. and for 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The latter sign, according to Adams and others, makes entrance to Village Green Subdivision by residents unnecessarily inconvenient. Sally Burke, also a resident of Allen Drive, made a similar complaint by letter.

Councilman Paul Vernon, who is an Allen Drive neighbor of these two residents, reminded Adams of his earlier complaints about high speed through traffic on Allen Drive. Claiming such traffic has diminished now that the restrictive turn signs at Allen and Novi Road and at Eight Mile and Novi Street have been erected, Vernon concluded, "I find that having fewer speeders on Allen is more important than this little inconvenience (caused by the signs)."

Adams said he can get to his home on Allen by driving Randolph to Taft, and Taft through Lexington Commons (northeast) and Northville Heights, as quickly as he can by zigzagging the course through northeast Northville made necessary by the no turn signs.

Mrs. Burke faulted the suggested alternative North Center Street route past the High School and Elementary School because it simply moved the traffic problem to other residential streets.

Larry Thompson, 741 Grace Drive, said the no right turn at Baseline has not eliminated the problem. Sooner or later motorists will take other routes through the residential areas of northeast Northville. As a matter of fact, some northbound Center Street motorists have begun turning right into the alley to Grace (midway between Eight Mile and Baseline). And the resident on North Center at this alley urged council not to erect a no turn sign here because the alley is also the entrance to his driveway.

In reference to Adams' remark regarding apparent lack of study, Councilman Paul Folino pointed out that the city manager and the police department had surveyed the traffic problem. Furthermore, it was noted that the matter was brought to the council's attention by angry residents in northeast Northville who complained about traffic.

Following those complaints and the traffic study, the council ordered no left turn signs on westbound Novi Road, the no right turn sign onto Baseline at North Center, and stop signs on Baseline at Grace and on Baseline at Novi.

Since then another resident at Baseline and Horton has complained about heavy through traffic on Horton.

Despite the police department study,

Ban Cycle Racing?

Although a public hearing has been set to consider a proposal to permit Sunday motorcycle racing in special circumstance, citizen revolt could trigger revocation of a proposal for total ban of such racing.

Several citizens called for the ban at Monday's council meeting, but a motion by Councilman Paul Folino to bring the ban proposal to public hearing along with the special permit proposal drew no council support and hence died.

However, Councilman Paul Vernon made it clear that he favored public hearing on the ban proposal—but at a different time than for the proposal currently before council.

The latter was requested by Staton Lorenz, president of the motorcycle racing corporation, in the wake of the recently rained-out race at Northville Downs.

Specifically, the proposed ordinance amendment would provide "that in the event that a race scheduled on a Saturday from March 1 through November 30th is cancelled due to inclement weather, it may be rescheduled on the following day (Sunday), provided that no racing activity of any kind shall occur before 3 p.m. nor after 10 p.m. on such a rescheduled Sunday."

The proposed amendment also would provide that "a race which is rescheduled to another day because of inclement weather shall not be counted as an additional race...."

(Present city ordinance permits a maximum of four motorized races per year).

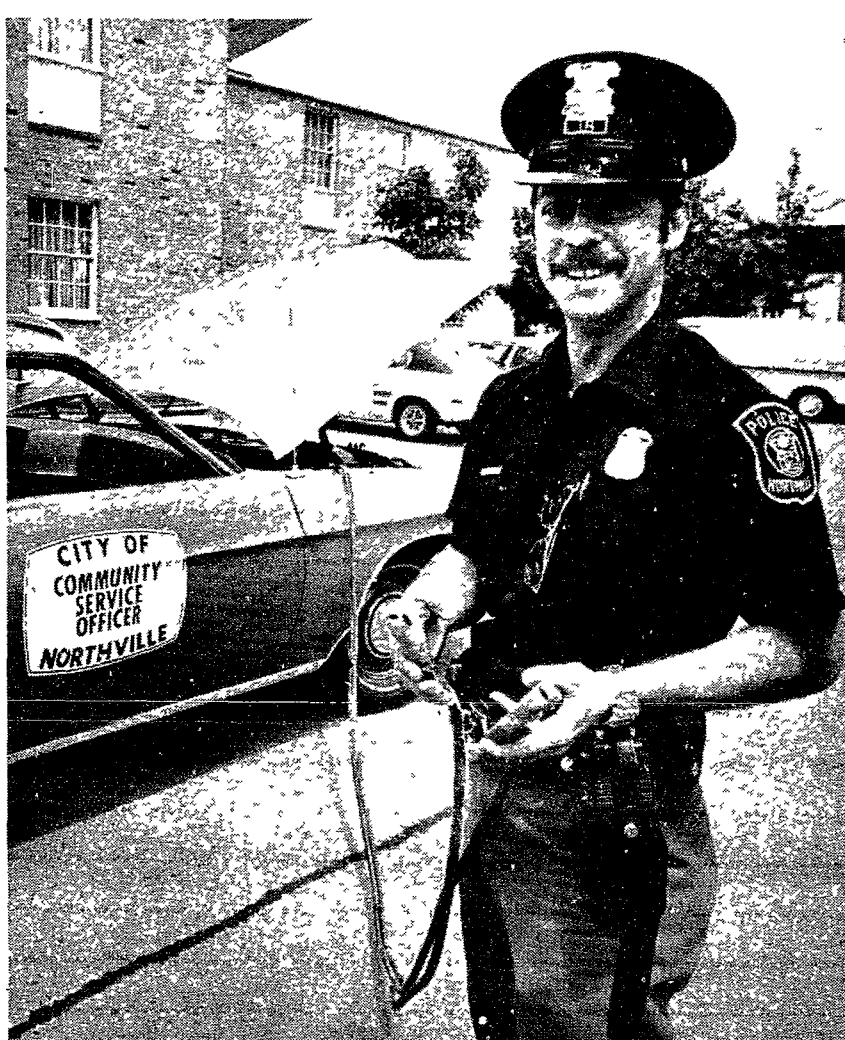

Hearing on the proposed ordinance amendment has been set for Monday, July 7.

Based on Monday council discussion, it is possible that the ban proposal might be reconsidered later in July. And Frank Pauli, 508 Gardner, has indicated he may petition for a referendum on the motorcycle racing matter should council not enact a ban on its own.

The so-called "ban" is really a restriction that would effectively block motorcycle racing at Northville Downs. The proposal suggests that no (motorized) racing be permitted "at any site within 1000 feet of occupied residences." Homes now exist well within this distance.

Having voiced concerns over citizen complaints and personal observations following motorcycle races, council last fall initiated the ordinance ban idea. And after receiving the requested ordinance draft from the city attorney, council ordered it to public

COMMUNITY SERVICE—Northville's Community Service Officer Gary Callender has a specially equipped car complete with jumper cables, push bumpers, gas exchange system and first aid equipment. Callender's job focuses on helping citizens and enforcing city ordinances.

New CS Officer

'My Job Is to Help Citizens'

By SALLY BURKE

"The program has great potential," Gary Callender, Northville City Police Department's community service officer commented about his new post.

"I'm going to make the program work. In fact, it's already working," he added, noting that people are becoming aware of the community service officer (CSO) and are requesting to see him to answer questions they have concerning city ordinances and other matters.

Callender, who has been a full-time member of the city force since January of 1974, was named CSO in May of this year.

"My job is to help the citizens of the community. It's public relations and, if the police department has good public relations, then that's also good public relations for the city," Callender commented.

Along with his job goes a specially equipped car. It differs in appearance from the other Northville police vehicles in that it is solid blue and the door decals identify him as Northville's community service officer.

In addition to emergency police equipment, the car is equipped with 30 feet of jumper cables, push bumpers which will not damage cars, a gas exchange system, fire extinguishers and first aid equipment.

His job focuses on public relations, enforcement of city ordinances and performing house checks when homeowners are on vacation.

Ordinance enforcement include those covering signs, parking, trailers, abandoned vehicles, vision obstructions at intersections, snow removal and horses and motorcycles in cemeteries.

He also delivers subpoenas, will check on the senior citizens in the phone-check program when it begins operation and will assist with vehicle inspections for 72-hour equipment violation stickers.

Mostly, he'll handle the non-criminal complaints, freeing the patrolmen's time for other types of complaints.

He will handle criminal complaints when other officers on duty are busy and does have all powers of arrest.

"Once people understand the purpose of my job, they are usually cooperative, even though I am enforcing ordinances," he added.

"If anyone has a question on an ordinance or a concern about something they consider an eyesore, they're welcome to call and ask for me," he added. "I'll either stop by to see them or contact them by phone."

Police Captain Louis Westfall commented that he believes the CSO program "will be good for both the community and the police department."

He added that the specially equipped car will "enable the officer quickly to move a vehicle which is blocking the road, whether it be due to an accident, dead battery, out of gas or just abandoned."

Concluded Captain Westfall, "The program is aimed at helping citizens."

Salary Pacts Near Signing

Settlement of contracts for union and non-union employees with the City of Northville has been reached and now awaits only formal signatures.

Council Monday authorized formalization of the contracts following committee review of the final contract drafts. Overall economic improvement is pegged at about seven percent, with wage adjustments accounting for two percent of this figure. Basic agreement with DPW and clerical employees calls for a two percent wage increase July 1; semi-annual cost of living with five percent maximum; 55 age retirement with 25 years service and three percent deduction to $13,500; two more holidays; 35 percent sick leave paid on retirement; Blue Cross prescription rider.

Agreement with police calls for two percent wage increase July 1; semi-annual cost of living with five percent maximum; 55 age retirement with 25 years service and three percent deduction to $13,500; a Blue Cross dental plan; a Blue Cross OB rider; and a clothing allowance increase to $350.

Non-union employees are to receive the same wage and

KATHLEEN FONTANA

Engaged

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Kathleen Vera Fontana to George C. Murany is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick C. Fontana of Green Valley, Arizona.

The future bridegroom, who now lives in Green Valley, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Murany of 46842 Grasmere Road, Northville. He is a 1973 graduate of Northville High School.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Woodstock, Illinois, Community High School.

They plan a September 6, 1975, wedding.

Northville-Plymouth chapter of the American Association for Retired Persons will have a sack luncheon at noon next Wednesday, June 25, at the Plymouth Presbyterian Church. A sing-along will follow.

Mrs. Ruth Abel, a Family Services supervisor, will be the guest speaker. Visitors are welcome at the meeting and program, which will be the last until September.

Greater Northville Republican Club will hold its annual potluck picnic at 6:30 p.m. this Thursday at the West Eight Mile Road home of State Representative and Mrs. R. Robert Geake.

Each family attending is asked to bring both a hot and a cold passing dish. Beverages will be furnished. All interested area residents are welcome.

Plans are being made to participate in the Fourth of July parade, the Northville Fair and the annual downtown sidewalk sale.

Among those honored at the 13th annual recognition dinner for long-time employees of Eastern Michigan University May 28 was Marjorie Prosser of 8925 Chubb Road in Northville.

who is administrative secretary in the physical plant at the university.

She was among 26 individuals and eight retirees honored at the program at which EMU President James H. Brickley spoke. She has 10 years of service at the university.

Mrs. David Taylor of Northville is coordinator for a fashion show to be modeled by members of Farmington Country Club at a luncheon program following the club's 1975 ladies invitational golf tournament at the club June 26.

The day starts with a continental breakfast and "shotgun" start for golf at 8:45 a.m. At the style show afterward fashions will be from Margo's of Village Knoll Center in Birmingham, Mrs. Taylor announces. Mrs. William Walters is general chairman.

Northville Business and Professional Women will end their year with a picnic at 6 p.m. Monday at the home of Dr. Carol Geake, 48525 West Eight Mile Road. Club members are to bring table service and a passing dish.

A special feature of the evening will be a demonstration by Dr. Geake's assistant, Carol Lamb, with obedience trained dogs. Known as an expert dog trainer, she is the owner of an assortment of 10 collies and shelties.

A donation of $100 to Northville Jaycees was approved last week by Northville Township Trustees.

The donation will go toward support of the community July Fourth parade and fireworks festivities.

Five Northville High School graduates are among 1,024 outstanding Michigan high school graduating seniors named by the University of Michigan as Regents-Alumni Scholars.

They are Kurt E. Andersen, 44213 Wyngate, Donna A. Guard, 20375 Woodhill Road, Theodore C. Slabey, 1088 Horton, Diane L. Wilkinson, 19956 Caldwell, and Eve M. Williams, 200 North Ely.

Each year the U-M selects Regents-Alumni Scholars for their "superior academic achievement and their potential contribution to the scholarly community of the University of Michigan."

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS VAN WAGNER

Thomas Van Wagner, Bride to Live in U.P.

A wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula followed the marriage of Kathleen Sue Trusock to Thomas Edward Van Wagner of Novi at 7:30 p.m. May 30 in Battle Creek.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Van Wagner of 39736 Village Wood Road in Novi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Trusock of Battle Creek. The Reverend Charles Fisher officiated at the double ring service at St. Philip Catholic Church where the altars were decorated with yellow floral arrangements and a mint-green banner and lighted by candelabra.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an Empire-waist gown of sheer white organza, fashioned with a scoop neckline with satin ribbon and lace daisy trimming. The skirt extended into a chapel train and was edged with a ruffled flounce. A daisy headpiece held her veil of illusion.

The bride's bouquet of white daisies and yellow baby's breath was tied with yellow streamers.

Nancy (Elaine) Houser was honor maid in a soft yellow gown styled with a v-neckline, cape sleeves and gathers below the bustline forming an A-line skirt.

She carried yellow daisies and baby's breath tied with mint green streamers.

Bridesmaids were Kathleen Trewhella of Battle Creek, Diane Jayroe of Novi and Sue Sauber of Midland. Their gowns and flowers matched those of the maid of honor except that the streamers were yellow.

Kara Trusock of Escanaba, niece of the bride, was flower girl with Thomas Trusock of Battle Creek, her brother, serving as ring bearer.

James Parker Van Wagner was best man. Ushers were Jon Van Wagner, Mark Earl, Charles Griffith, Michael McHale, Daniel Flattery, David Miller and Jeff Jensen, all in mint green tuxedos.

A reception followed for 150 guests with dinner and dancing at the Legion Supper Club in Battle Creek.

The couple met in the fall of 1973 at Michigan Technological University through the bridegroom's brother, Jim. The bride, a graduate of St. Philip High School in Battle Creek, now is a junior in medical technology at MTU.

Her husband, a Novi High School graduate, is a senior in forestry at MTU where he is a member of Blue Key National Fraternity, Xi Sigma Pi honor fraternity in forestry and Phi Kappa Phi honor fraternity. They are making their home at 2106 East Woodmar in Houghton.

Plan to Celebrate Women's Year Here

By JEAN DAY

THE FIRST HALF of this International Women's Year slipped by almost unnoticed locally as well as nationally with only such aware groups as the Business and Professional Women and the League of Women Voters planning observances.

All area women, however, are being invited to participate in an International Women's Year Festival scheduled for September 17 and 18 in the Waterman Center of Schoolcraft College.

Plans are being formulated for speakers, exhibits and entertainment that will make it a two-day "celebration" of women's achievements and potential. The event is being co-sponsored by Wayne State University's College of Life-Long Learning.

Right now input is wanted by Jean Christensen, head of the Schoolcraft Women's Resource Center. She wants to know exactly what kinds of speakers and exhibits will attract women of the area to attend the IWY celebration.

Program possibilities were discussed (along with ever-present budget limitations) at a third meeting of the reorganized Women's Advisory Committee last week. Our community is represented by six women on the 28-member committee.

They are Mrs. Ruth Baker of 18505 Jamestown Circle, Mrs. Jeanne Federspill of 21150 East Chigwidden Drive, Mrs. Dorothy Knecht of 17455 Ridge Road, Mrs. Peggy Meyer of 47103 Timberlane, Mrs. Mary Samples of 416 Chattman Drive (Novi) and your columnist.

There's an indirect representative in Mrs. Alta Olson of Plymouth, who is a counselor at Northville High School. Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas also is a participant.

Lois Wade, a returning student at Schoolcraft is coordinator for IWY at the college, and this week is in Mexico City attending the IWY activities at the United Nations World Conference. Mrs. Dumas is to be one of three Wayne County representatives attending the National Association of Counties IWY conference in Hawaii.

Arrangements for the September Schoolcraft celebration will be developed at the committee's next meeting, July 16; so if you have suggestions, the committee members want you to contact them soon.

ERAINIE WITZKE and Erica Doecke have been friends for many years, but they met for the first time only this month. Mrs. Witzke began the pen-pal friendship during her high school days but admits she "never thought it would come to pass" that she and her Australian correspondent would meet.

But Erica and her husband, Marcus, were houseguests of the Arthur Witzkes of 45731 Fermanagh from Tuesday through Friday last week. The Australians, who live in Highgate near Adelaide, are taking a "once in a lifetime leave" for four months to travel through the United States and Europe. He is a government accountant.

Before arriving in Northville they had visited many of our western parks and had seen snow for the first time. After Michigan they were going to New York and Washington, D. C. Mrs. Witzke says the couple has distant relatives and friends in many parts of the country to visit.

They will go on to London where their daughter is a pharmacist in a British hospital and, with her, tour the continent for six weeks.

Mrs. Witzke remembers that the friendship began as she wrote to someone in Australia who was seeking a pen pal and had listed her name in a Lutheran publication. The response was so great that the youngster gave names to friends — and Erica Marcus got hers.

"Sometimes we wrote frequently and sometimes only a couple of times a year," Mrs. Witzke recalls. She admits that she was hoping the visit would turn out well — as it did.

The visitors noted that "there are vegi-plots all over" just as there are in Australia. The roads here, however, win out over the Australian ones in which, they told their hosts, they can be stuck in mud holes for as long as three days.

WHEN COURTNEY Casterline became two years old last week, she had a party for each year. First, small friends were entertained at a circus party Monday afternoon. Clown pictures on the paper accessories were duplicated on the decorated cake, and her mother, Mrs. Ray J. Casterline, II, created ice cream clown desserts.

In the evening there was a family party with both sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Casterline and Dr. and Mrs. Russell Atchison, among the guests.

Later this year the young Casterlines and the Atchisons plan to exchange homes with Mrs. Casterline moving into the home in which she grew up on Rogers Street while her parents redo the young Casterlines' home on Cady Street.

Houseguests of the Atchisons are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stillson, former Northville residents now making their home in Sevierville, Tennessee. They leave Thursday. Early last week Dr. and Mrs. Atchison entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Goodrich of East Tawas.

CARING STUDENTS, fellow teachers and friends of George Berryman have been holding benefits and making donations to show the Cooke Middle School instrumental music teacher their concern.

Berryman this week was home from St. Mary Hospital where he was being treated for kidney failure. Because this has been a long illness, he has exhausted his paid sick days by six-and-a-half days and has medical expenses beyond his insurance, the Northville Education Association pointed out last week as members were asked for donations. Several already have given a day's pay.

A student activity party and a Cooke honors band concert donation raised $155 while students at Cooke Annex responded to make a bake sale a $120 success. "Even students who don't take band wanted to help," teachers of the sixth graders explained.

Berryman has been with the Northville school system for eight years and is himself a former student here.

Name New Chairmen For Mothers' Club

Committee chairmen for the 1975-76 year for Northville Mothers' Club have been named by Mrs. Martin Rinehart, who succeeded

Mrs. E.O. Weber as president last month.

They are Mrs. John Conder, finance; Mrs. Roger Nieuwkoop and Mrs. Irving McLeod, marathon bridge tournament chairmen; with Mrs. Roger Pyett, assisting marathon chairman.

Other are Mrs. D. Keith Wright, social; Mrs. Don Williams, program; Mrs. Douglas Day, schools-education; Mrs. Charles Smith, publicity; Mrs. William Winemaster, telephone; and Mrs. John Veselenak, dance.

Other new officers for the coming year are Mrs. Kalin Johnson, vice president; Mrs. James McCurdy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward Hodge, recording secretary; and Mrs. Ronald Horwath, treasurer.

Pianists Rated Superior

Four piano pupils of Mrs. Leland Mills of Northville won high honors in national piano playing auditions held in Livonia June 13 and sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, Teacher Division of the American College of Musicians.

The students entered at the national level with a 10-piece memorized program and the required musicianship phases for their level of achievement.

Heather Reagan of Northville and Susan Edwards of Livonia received 95 percent scores. Leslie Abitz and Willie Newman, both of Northville, were entered in the Critic's Circle with perfect scores of 99 percent, a superior plus rating.

This was the first time pupils of Mrs. Mills had been entered in the auditions, which were held at Hammell Music Company.

Thomas Hurley of Green Bay, Wisconsin, was the visiting judge.

Piano students compete for local, district, state or national honors in the auditions. More than 70,000 piano pupils participate in the annual event, which originated in 1929.

National Guild certificates and pins were presented to Susan Edwards and Heather Reagan for outstanding achievements in guild auditions.

Schlick and Sherrie Wilkinson.

Leslie Abitz and Willie Newman were presented guild certificates for their perfect audition scores and played in the 1 p.m. recital. Others performing were Mickey Newman, Jeff and Kelly Jamieson, Kim and Margie Clark, Nancy Orr and Erich Nowka.

"THOSE ARE WHAT?"—Eight members of the Gorge-Us Gourmets inspect the Michigan pastries that were part of an all-Michigan menu at the Wixom-Walled Lake club's

Wixom Friends Share Recipes

Gal Gourmets Cook up Meal

By JEAN DAY

The soup needed a little salt, but the fresh asparagus was cooked just to tender perfection.

That was the consensus of nine members of the Gorge-Us Gourmets of the Wixom-Walled Lake area gathering for their monthly cooperative dinner.

A "Discover Michigan" theme had been chosen for the gourmet club's May dinner at Walled Lake Western High School.

Like other gourmet dinner groups that flourish throughout the area, members are assigned a type of dish — salad, vegetable, main course or dessert — with the specific recipe left to the discretion of the maker.

Unlike most gourmet clubs, however, this is an all-women gathering. The 10 members leave husbands and children home for this one evening a month and bring their gourmet fixings to the home economics room at the high school.

"I cooked my husband a steak before I left," explained Audrey Hines whose onion casserole was a Michigan vegetable on the menu.

"The only time he objected," she added, "was when I gave him a TV dinner."

Mrs. Hines, who now teaches community education cooking classes, was one of the founding group in 1971. She, Chris Flatley, Meme Pepper and Ellen Callahan met while taking a cooking class.

"We taught the teacher," they declared, explaining that they "just clicked" and the monthly cooking spree began.

In this way it became an all-women club.

To find themes for the monthly feasts the club went around the world gastronomically, using ethnic recipes as they "toured" China, Denmark, England, France, Greece, Hawaii, Lithuania and the Orient, cooking Indian, Japanese and Korean fare.

The cooks remember some of their foreign nights as less than complete successes. The Bulgarian evening "wasn't one of our better meals," they admitted candidly.

"And remember Tahiti — everybody's dish was made of bananas from appetizer to dessert."

Mrs. Hines' daughter, Nancy Zajack, is a member of the club. Another mother-daughter duo is Mrs. Flatley and Alexa Urquhart. There's also a sister combination in Meme Pepper and Ellen Callahan.

In reviewing their past menus members cited Nancy's rosewater rice pudding, brought to the Indian dinner, as one of the more unusual (though less palatable than some) dishes.

After eating their way around the globe, the gourmets began to sample regional food of the United States, planning menus around Pennsylvania Dutch, New Orleans and Northeastern area recipes.

The girls will be going down south for their dinner June 26.

Meme Pepper, secretary, runs off the previous month's recipes and assigns courses for the upcoming dinner. For June, she challenges her fellow cooks to bring "them good vittles what comes from Alabama, Georgia, Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina."

"Can't you just picture all o that yummy food, like roast coon grits and corn licker?" she writes.

As each cook arrives with her dish, she's greeted with questions about the contents and with squeals of delight when it's as unusual as Alexa's herb-onion batter bread brought to the Michigan dinner.

The Michigan meal began with Alex Stack's Drop Noodles and Chicken Soup served from a tureen by Mrs. Flatley, who reported this was a family recipe. Her Ukrainian father, she said, had made it for 50 years.

The appetizer by Marjorie Schenck was a curry dip for raw Michigan vegetables. The recipe for the dip came from a United Methodist cookbook.

Nancy Dingeldey used Michigan-made and grown vegetables for her salad of thinly sliced cucumbers and onions in Michigan vinegar, water, home-grown dill, salt, oil and sugar.

Mrs. Zajack brought the turkey casserole, a recipe from "Michigan Meats."

Mrs. Callahan brought Michigan-style pasties, the kind Upper Peninsula miners took with them for lunch.

Sylvia Vangieson, wife of Wixom's mayor, explained she "won't use a pressure cooker" for asparagus as she cooked the green stalks just-to-done and ready to serve minutes later.

Mrs. Vangieson also had brought the cherry (naturally) cheese cake pie that completed the Michigan dinner.

"I don't think gourmet necessarily means all-day cooking," commented Mrs. Dingeldey as she watched the timing of the asparagus, which was served without sauce.

The discussion continued on what constitutes "gourmet" food with members observing that cost isn't always the factor either.

"Sometimes gourmet food is cheap."

"But remember that one dish that cost $20?"

There were no steep costs involved in the typical Michigan menu, however, and

HERB-ONION BATTER BREAD

3/4 C. all-purpose flour
2 Tbsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. ground sage
1/4 tsp. ground thyme
1 C. finely chopped onion
1 egg
2 pkg. instant blend dry yeast
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. crushed rosemary leaves
1/4 C. butter or oleo
1 1/4 C. warm water

In a large mixer bowl, combine 1 1/2 C. flour, yeast, sugar, salt and seasonings; mix well. Saute onion in butter until golden, add to flour mixture. Add water and egg. Blend at low speed until moistened; beat 3 minutes at medium speed. By hand, gradually stir in remaining flour to make a stiff batter. Spoon into greased, 2 quart casserole. Cover; let rise in a warm place until light and doubled, about 1 hour (although this only took a half hour). Bake at 375 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes until golden brown. Remove from pan. Serve warm or cold.

CARROT LOAF

3 C. carrots
1 C. cracker crumbs
1 medium onion, chopped
1 egg
1 C. shredded sharp cheese
2-3 C. carrot liquid
salt and pepper

Cook carrots in water until nearly done. Drain, saving the liquid. Mash carrots, add egg, crumbs and onion, salt, pepper and cheese. Add carrot liquid. Place in buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

TURKEY CASSEROLE

Saute 2 Tbsp. minced onion in 1/4 C. oleo. Blend in 1/4 C. flour. Add 1 C. milk and 1 C. chicken or turkey broth, and two chicken bouillon cubes. Cook over low heat until thickened. Stir in two beaten eggs. Cook one minute. Remove from heat and stir in 1/4 C. salad dressing, and 3 1/2 C. diced cooked turkey, 1/4 C. slivered almonds, 2 Tbsp. minced pimento, 1 can of chow mein noodles. Put in greased casserole. Place in cold oven. Turn to 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Do not overcook.

Vangieson Unopposed

Wixom Mayor Val Vangieson will run unopposed in the November election for mayor. Though councilman Gunnar Mettala and past Mayor Wesley McAtee took out petitions, neither submitted them for the mayor's position.

In the race for the three council seats up at large, incumbents Lillian Spencer, Robert Dingeldey, and Melvin Green have all filed. Former building official Carlton Oldford, as well as Michael McDonald have also filed petitions.

Vangieson had indicated as recently as last week that he might not seek re-election for mayor. He cited family considerations.

Civic Leader Bachert, 63, Dies Here

City of Novi's American Flag flew at half staff this week in honor of one of the community's most distinguished citizens, Hadley J. Bachert, who died suddenly Tuesday, June 12 of a heart attack.

The 63-year-old former township supervisor was stricken while visiting the bingo parlor, sponsored by the Novi Rotary Club of which he was a member and a past president.

A week earlier Mr. Bachert had suffered a minor heart attack but otherwise his health had been good.

Hundreds of friends and relatives paid their respects this past week at Hårbn Funeral Home, 43801 Grand River, where the funeral was conducted Monday afternoon. All three rooms of the funeral home were filled to capacity.

Until Novi had incorporated as a city, Mr. Bachert had been very closely associated BEGINNING AND END—Hadley Bachert, who died last week, was 44 years old in 1956 when he was sworn into Novi township office for the first time. Administering the oath for the former clerk (and later supervisor) is Edmund Yerkes, then Novi justice of the peace.

Council Eyes Randolph Drain Cost

Drain Hearing Set July 9

Following the setting of apportionment by the inter-county drain board last week for the Randolph Drain, Novi council has set a July 9 public hearing to determine method of payment—not only for that drain, but also for future drains in the city.

The inter-county drain board June 10 set the apportionment at 35.40427 percent for Novi, 62.19039 for Northville, 2.0776 for Oakland County and .32774 for Wayne County. Northville will pay $467,177, Novi $265,958, Oakland County $15,607 and Wayne County $2,462.

Novi council has gone on record several times opposing the apportionment which had risen for Novi from 26.97 to 29.9315 and finally 35.40427 percent. Novi council has been critical of Northville's past mistakes—allowing Thompson-Brown to build its condos on the edge of the stream in Lexington Commons and for permitting the development of the Northville Green apartments on the edge of the same stream.

Novi City Attorney David Fried told the council last Wednesday that "I concluded it would not be to our benefit to contest it."

Fried noted that the inter-county drain board had brought up the fact that during the time Novi and Northville have been squabbling over the apportionment, cost of the total project has doubled—thus negating any savings either community might have realized.

Novi has 20 days from June 10 to contest the apportionment if it so desires, Fried said.

The city attorney pointed out that the drain board engineers said there was still time to go out for bids this year on the project, but added that in his opinion, the bids will not go out this year—even if the apportionment is not contested.

"I think we all concluded their method of arriving at the total apportionment was not so unfair as to say there was not reasoning behind it."

Fried pointed out that "when we go to use that drain, we won't have to pay for use based on the present zoning." He noted that buying capacity in the drain was the reason Novi's apportionment had raised from 29 percent to 35 percent.

Councilmember Romaine Roethel questioned whether easement costs had been included in the project cost estimate and Fried responded that they had not. He added that the city will be expected to pay 35 percent of the cost of all easements required—the same percent as the city share of the project.

Novi City Council set a public hearing July 9 to discuss financing of the project and financing in relation to the total drainage of the city. In other words, the city is considering the possibility of city wide assessment through bonding for all future drains including the Randolph Drain and the Patnales Drain. The alternative would be special assessment on affected property owners.

If the council takes no action on the total drainage package, it will decide on financing for the Randolph Drain.

Northville's City Council has already gone on record as supporting the apportionment figures.

The Randolph Drain which the communities plan to improve extends easterly from Beck Road in Novi, just north of Northville Estates subdivision to the Lexington Commons subdivision property in the city of Northville. It then angles southeasterly to cross Eight Mile Road at Taft, circles past Northville Green apartments along Randolph to eventually cross Center Street to empty into a branch of the Middle Rouge River at Hutton Street north of Dunlap.

Court Strikes Down Landlord Ordinance

Circuit Court Judge John O'Brien has ruled parts of Novi's controversial landlord ordinance unconstitutional, but landlords around the city may not be out of the hot water yet.

Purpose of the ordinance which was passed in May of 1974, was to enforce the state building code and eliminate slum housing by allowing Novi's building inspectors ready access to homes commercially rented for long periods of time.

The ordinance was challenged by a group of Novi residents headed by then Oakland County Road Commissioner Frazer W. Staman. That group said that the ordinance was unconstitutional because it didn't include transient landlords. The ordinance excluded commercial and industrial establishments, convalescent homes, and hotels. It also excluded housing less than three years old.

The ordinance was intended to exclude homes rented for short periods of time. Part of the reason was the limited building department personnel to enforce the ordinance.

Fried said that "we thought we'd attack the problem piecemeal" but because the court ruled it discriminated against the permanent and not transient rentals, "now we'll include all those."

Fried said the new ordinance now in preparation would apply to all dwellings no matter how long they are rented, as well as hotels, motels, and nursing homes.

Part of the ruling would require that the city eliminate the criminal penalty for failure to allow a building inspector to enter. According to Fried, the intent of the ordinance was not to include criminal penalties for failure to open a house to inspectors, but Judge O'Brien ruled the ordinance could be construed that way. License can be revoked for failure to admit a building inspector.

Hearing Set For Marina

A public hearing on the Walled Lake Dock marina permit will be held at 7 p.m. July 2 in the Novi Middle School cafeteria.

The public hearing was scheduled as the result of an article in the Novi News last week which quoted DNR officials that the city had received notice that they could request a public hearing and that the city had not responded. City officials

Council Eyes Taft Payment Plans

How much bonding capacity Novi has left could determine how industrious a proposed general assessment program for the city could be.

Council met in special session last week to discuss the feasibility of general assessment bonding in relation to road paving throughout the city—and particularly in regards to the controversial Taft Road.

In the past, the council has been unable to agree on a dollar figure for assessment of residents along Taft Road should the road be paved. Councilman Denis Berry has refused to compromise up to $14 a front foot while Councilman Louie Campbell has refused to compromise below $14 a front foot.

With petitions submitted by residents opposing the paving, five votes of the council were needed to approve any assessment figure and with Councilman Edwin Presnell abstaining because he represents a client who owns property on Taft Road, only one dissenting vote of the remainder could defeat any motion.

Councilman Berry suggested at a recent council meeting that the council consider using citywide general assessment bonding to accomplish paving of roads throughout the city as opposed to special assessment. Past councilman Russell Button reportedly had suggested the proposal to Berry.

With the city's bonding attorney present at the special meeting, the council was told by him that bonding is certainly an alternative although the city must keep its eyes on the total bonding capacity of the city as it moves ahead with the proposal. Novi would be allowed by the Michigan Finance Commission to bond only up to 10 percent of its assessed valuation.

While this means the city could bond for up to $14,000,000, the city has to take into consideration other projects which the city has already bonded for. The administration is to investigate the situation to determine how much bonding capacity the city has left.

However, the city could get around this problem by only using general assessment bonding on only some of the projects.

"I'm proposing two programs," said Berry. "I'm proposing that we maintain the existing program (special assessment) to handle subdivision roads on an 80-20 level and then on the major roads such as Taft Road go to general assessment with a bonding issue."

Bonding attorney Dennis Neiman of Miller, Canfield, Paddock, and Stone pointed out that the city does not necessarily have to go with the 80-20 funding level and that decision on city share of the funding should be made on an individual project basis.

"Each is a special case unto itself," said Neiman, "It's a question of benefits."

Neiman pointed out that given the great number of unimproved roads in the city and the limited bonding capacity, "resources might not be able to meet demand" if the city went with straight general assessment bonding.

Bonding which comes through a special assessment district does not eat up the bonding capacity of the city since it is not included within that bonding capacity.

The city fathers also have to take into consideration that bonding capacity will be needed should the city decide to go with general obligation bonding to pay for drains such as the Randolph or the Patnales.

Council indicated support for putting a bonding question on the November ballot although Mayor Robert Daley said that if the council asks for three mills, he may not favor the question.

"I want to look at the program and see what the dollar figures are," said Daley, who added that other areas that need funding "Cannot we attack one problem with our combined resources and go onto other problems after we lick it?" asked councilman Berry.

Councilmen Berry and Campbell, who had not been able to agree on a dollar figure for assessment for Taft road, agreed to meet as a two man committee to get the proposal headed in the right direction. They were to meet to look at the financial situation of the city and determine how ambitious the program would be. They were also to discuss whether there would be full or partial construction of city streets and to determine what streets should be priority order.

A three man committee, as allowed by charter, is to later be formed to hold public hearings, make an investigation and come up with a recommendation and program which the council could adopt as a basis for the bonding question in the November election

ADE Fund Appeal Successful in Wixom

An appeal by the Alcohol and Drug Education (ADE) program of Walled Lake for funding met with success as a five member Wixom council reallocated $2,500 to ADE last Tuesday.

At the previous council meeting, the council had removed from the proposed budget $2,500 which would have gone to ADE, as well as $3,275 for unified funding under the Lakes Agency Council. The money was put into the contingency fund.

Councilman Melvin Green at that council meeting had suggested that "I don't know if we can force people through taxes to support a group they may not believe in."

The council had voted at that time 4-2 against funding.

Green was absent at the latest council meeting at which more than a dozen representatives and users of ADE took their case to the council chambers.

"You don't know what's going on with ADE," contended a spokesman of the group. "You're out of it. You may be doing a great injustice even to your own children."

"That $2,500 is really important to our program. We're on a very tight budget. If you can't think of any reason to support us, there are 12 right behind me."

"I'm surprised to find five students in a classroom who haven't tried something. The peer pressure is great. You're out of it if you don't try it. We have a preventative program

Novi Council Fails to Act

On Pink Request

A request by developer Dave Pink for extension of the court ordered July 1 completion of roads and ditches in Willowbrook Estates II in Novi received no action by Novi Council Monday.

As a result, Pink could lose a $40,000 bond if the work is not completed by July 1 and the city desires to make him forfeit the bond.

"I feel we have played games long enough with Pink and the court order should be met," stated mayor pro-tem Romaine Roethel.

Other councilmembers indicated similar feelings, though the city manager said that Pink's intent has been good.

City Attorney David Fried pointed out that Pink said he could get the remaining area ditched in one week though City Engineer Harry Mosher disagreed with the estimate.

The council directed Mosher to report back at the first meeting in July his recommendation.

Teachers Ratify

Approval or rejection of a newly negotiated teachers' contract here is expected to be voted tomorrow night (Thursday) at the Novi Board of Education meeting.

The proposed two-year contract was ratified late last week by teachers, following several days of review by the teachers.

Teachers voted 112 to 15 to ratify the contract.

Settlement was reached a week ago Saturday, and teachers voted on the proposal Thursday.

"I believe it is a good contract for both teachers and the board of education," commented Carol Smith, president of the Novi Teachers Association.

It is essentially the same contract that was earlier approved by the board but rejected by teachers. Main difference is that it is a two-year contract instead of a three-year contract as initially proposed.

Of the 28 school districts in Oakland County, 16 of them have reached agreements to date.

and we have an information program. Without your support, we will have to shutdown."

Several students explained to the council how they had been hooked on drugs and became straight after joining ADE.

"I've been going to ADE for four years," said one young lady. "For the last three I've been straight."

"I'm one of the drug addicts — or I was until I met (director) Tom Foley," said another. "Tom Foley is the one who molded my character. If I hadn't met Tom or Jeanne (another of the ADE family), I'd probably be dead today."

A former Wolverine Lake Village policeman told the council that while working with ADE, he had persuaded one drug addict to stop breaking into homes to support his habit.

"I'd estimate he was stealing $3,000 a month to support his habit," said the former policeman.

"I think it's a minimal amount," said Mayor Val Vangieson of the $2,500. "I think we've got to address ourselves to this need. It's the only game in town."

"I'd like to see us reconsider the whole issue of community programs," added Councilman James Lahde.

"That young lady changed my mind," said Councilmember Lillian Spencer, referring to a girls who said she went off drugs through the help of ADE. Mrs. Spencer had previously been opposed to allocating the funds.

Council unanimously supported giving the $2,500 to ADE

A proposal to reallocate the $3,275 to Unified Funding was tabled until the next council meeting when Jerry Beers, representing the Lakes Agency Council, will seek to reinstitute funding.

"Let them bring a presentation like this," said one councilmember who supported tabling the matter until the next councilmeeting.

Landlord Ordinance Out

Fried met with the council last Monday following the ruling by Judge O'Brien earlier that day.

"The majority of the council has taken the position the ordinance is an effective ordinance because the building department believes it's an excellent tool," added Fried. "The building department has recommended we continue to have such an ordinance. They will service it (the expanded ordinance) as best they can." Fried said he expects to have the new ordinance back to the council within 1½ weeks.

The case was not appealed because of the cost involved, Fried said.

In a second case in which Steve Glantz challenged the constitutionality of the landlord ordinance, Circuit Court Judge James Thorburn did not rule the ordinance unconstitutional except for the search procedure.

"We have two completely opposite opinions by two circuit court judges," explained Fried.

"Judge O'Brien's opinion does not destroy the effectiveness of the ordinance," he added.

Responding to the possibility of a new ordinance, Frazer Staman told this newspaper, "He (Fried) may try it, but a city that claims it's broke should be spending money a little more wisely."

"I imagine there will be even more people who will oppose it."

College to Register

Schoollcraft College will hold registration for the summer session all day and evening of Friday, June 27. Classes begin the following Monday.

Students graduating at the end of the summer session will register at 8:30 a.m. in the auxiliary gym. Those whose last names begin with Z thru M register between 9 and 11. In the afternoon, last names L through A will register from 1 to 3:30.

Open registration will be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. that evening, also in the auxiliary gym.

Day and evening classes are being offered in accounting, biology, business, chemistry, economics, electricity-electronics, English, history, mathematics, practical nursing, political science, psychology, sociology and speech.

Tuition is $11 per credit hour for residents of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth. Out-of-district students pay $22 and out-of-state students pay $33.

Senior Citizens Helped

Library Program Popular

"We've had a tremendous response from the senior citizens to the community service library program," Community Service Librarian Anne Vargo told Northville Township Board members last week.

Miss Vargo, who is working at the Northville Public Library under the township's CETA grant, explained that on June 30 the grant expires unless refunded.

She added that in the short time she has been in Northville, many new programs have been implemented, including serving senior residents in their homes and book discussion groups.

"Twenty people are being served at their homes by nine volunteers. Most of the residents are 80 or older and 16 are receiving large print books. Four have talking book machines," she said.

Miss Vargo also explained that both convalescent homes in the community are being served by the library.

ONION CASSEROLE

8-10 medium onions butter or oleo milk
1 C. crushed cracker crumbs
salt and pepper

Peel and slice onions into ¼ inch rings. Bring to a boil and simmer five minutes. Drain. Place layer of onion rings in bottom of well-buttered 1½ quart casserole. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover with crumbs, dot with oleo. Repeat layers twice more, ending with crumbs. Add milk until it almost comes to the top. Bake 1 hour at 325 degrees.

MICHIGAN CHERRY CHEESE CAKE PIE

1½ C. Michigan wheat flour
¾ C. butter
1C corn flakes
½ tsp. salt
6-7 tsp. water

Make crust of above. Place in pie pan and bake at 450 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Filling:
1 bag of frozen Michigan cherries
¾ C. sugar
4 Tbsp. cornstarch

Thaw cherries, mix juice, cornstarch and sugar and bring to a boil, stirring until thickened. Pour into baked pie crust, and bake 15 minutes. 350 degrees. Cool slightly.

Topping:
8 oz. cream cheese
one-third C. sugar
½ tsp. vanilla
1 egg

Mix together and spread on filling, leaving a hole in center to look pretty. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Other recipes from the gourmet Michigan dinner will be run in later issues.

with township government for many years. After a good deal of grass roots involvement following World War II, he was first appointed township clerk in 1956 as a temporary replacement for long-time clerk Earl Banks, who had become ill.

Mr. Banks, who had been township clerk in Novi for 36 years, died April 2, 1956, and Mr. Bachert remained in the clerk's position, winning his first election to the post the following year.

It was during this period when three factions of the Republican party surfaced, stirring a steady controversy in Novi. Mr. Bachert, at the time, was on the side of that faction which sought the defeat of then supervisor Frazer Staman.

The 1957 GOP slate with which he was associated, for example, included Herbert Guntzviller for supervisor; Incumbent Bachert for clerk; Ray Harrison for treasurer; Stanley Balon and Gordon Promo, Jr. for trustees; Leo Harrawood for board of review; and Robert K. Anderson for justice of the peace.

The other main GOP slate included Incumbent Staman for supervisor; Arthur Heslip for clerk; Harry Watson for treasurer; Harold Miller and Incumbent Frank Clark for trustees; Incumbent Kenneth Cook for board of review; Incumbent Constable Vern Loeffler; and Edmund P. Yerkes, incumbent justice of peace.

When Staman resigned as supervisor in the fall of 1962 to take a position on the Oakland County Road Commission, Mr. Bachert was named to fill the vacancy. He was nominated by the late Frank Watza, then trustee. Incidentally, Mr. Bachert joined the real estate firm of Frank Watza — Novi Realty — in June, 1959, and it was this firm that Mr. Bachert owned and operated at the time of his death.

Although they were political opponents in earlier years, Staman and Mr. Bachert were friends at the time of his death.

Even though he rarely discussed his military life, Mr. Bachert was a much decorated infantryman during World War II. He was twice wounded, once during the invasion of Italy and the other during the invasion of France. During the latter engagement, he lost a leg and was severely wounded in the other leg. A resident of Novi since 1941, Mr. Bachert was a life member of AMVETS, member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post in Walled Lake, and the American Legion post in Northville.

He also was a member of the Novi United Methodist Church, past grand of the Novi Oddfellows, and a member of the Masonic lodge in Walled Lake.

Born in Pontiac in October 12, 1911, he was the son of Henry R. and Jessie (Newton) Bachert.

Besides his wife, Kathryn, he is survived by a sister, Leitha Collin of Union Lake, and a brother, George, of Detroit.

Funeral service was from Harbin Funeral Home, with the Reverend Philip M. Seymour and the Reverend Karl Zeigler officiating.

Burial was in Lakeland Hills Memorial Cemetery.

stated that they had never received any such notice.

City Manager Ed Kriewall told this newspaper Monday that as a result of the article, he contacted DNR officials who came to Novi Monday afternoon to discuss the situation. Attorney Gabriel Glantz, who owns the dock, was present at the meeting.

The marina has already opened without a required Marina permit and officials of the DNR have said that no action will be taken on the infraction. The public hearing is allowed so that residents can state their feelings toward the dock receiving the permit.

If the DNR should fail to issue a permit, the marina would be closed down

Kriewall admitted that there would have to be extremely strong opposition shown at the meeting before the DNR would consider not issuing the permit.

A structural engineer from the DNR was scheduled to come out to Novi yesterday to inspect the dock to determine whether it meets all marina requirements of the state and to determine the number of boats that would be allowed at the marina.

Original Currier & Ives Go on View at Mill Race

An exhibition of original lithographs published by N. Currier and Currier & Ives is planned at the Mill Race Historical Village during the Fourth of July festivities there.

Announcement of the exhibition was announced by Ray Riddell of the Northville Historical Society.

The valuable lithographs are being made available here courtesy of The Travelers Insurance Companies and its Northville agent, Henrikson Agency, Inc., 311 East Main Street.

A private showing of the 22 prints is planned June 29 from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

For the public showing the Silver Springs Questers group has volunteered to "picture sit." The prints will be displayed in the old church building at the Mill Race.

"It's the finest exhibition of 'Currier' that I've ever seen," said Riddell. "We are fortunate to have them here, and the Historical Society is proud to join with Mr. (Wes) Henrikson in letting Northville-Noví area residents view them."

The 22 prints in this exhibit include:

Brush on The Homestretch, 1869; Cutter Yacht "Maria", 1852; A Four-Oared Shell Race, 1884; Hunting, Fishing and Forest Scenes, 1867; My Cottage Home, 1868; Summer Shades, 1859; The Surprise, 1858; "A Brush" on The Snow, 1871; Mill River Scenery, no date; The Riverside, no date; The Sleigh Race, 1859; A Summer Ramble, no date;

The Sunset Tree, no date; Bound Down The River, 1870; Eventide—The Curfew, no date; The First Ride, no date; The Ingleside Winter, no date; The Landing of Columbus Oct'r 11

Landing of The Pilgrims at Plymouth 11th Dec. 1620, no date; The Sperm Whale "In A Flurry", 1852; The Whale Fishery "Laying On", 1852; William Penn's Treaty With The Indians, no date.

Nathaniel Currier was but 21 years old when in 1835 he published the first print under his own name.

In Uniform

Marine Lance Corporal Eric S. Hansor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hansor of 26545 Taft Road, participated in "Bell Buster," an amphibious training exercise off the coast of the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, California.

He took part in training which included beach landings and tactical maneuvers under simulated combat conditions.

The exercise was designed to test the operational readiness and capabilities of Marine Corps ground units and air support elements.

Hansor is a 1974 graduate of Novi High School.

Airman Gerald H. Burkowski, son of Mrs. Ena F. Burkowski of 25630 Strath Haven, Novi, has graduated at Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi, from the Air Training Command's basic course for electronic specialists.

The airman, who received instruction in communications and electronics systems principles, is remaining at Keesler for advanced training.

Airman Burkowski is a 1972 graduate of Stevenson High School in Livonia.

'Read-to-Me' At Library

A summer reading program for elementary students in Novi is being sponsored by Friends of the Novi Library.

Students in grades one through five may obtain registration forms from the public library at 25870 Novi Road and the forms should be completed by Friday, June 20.

Cards will be given to students on which books read will be recorded. Books read from June 23 through July 30 will be listed for prizes given out August 1.

Pre-schoolers may register in the same way for a "read to me" program with adults reading books to the children and completing the card.

Offer Movies

Four free movies will be shown Saturday in Northville, City Hall Council Chambers for pre-schoolers through third graders.

The movies are sponsored by Friends of the Northville Library every third Saturday of the month and begin at 10:30 a.m.

Council Pledges Help

Loan Money to Save Tiffin House

The Tiffin property apparently will end up as a park or historical site as the result of Wixom council action last week, but the immediate problem is to come up with the $12,000 to purchase the property.

Concerned residents of Wixom brought the matter to the council and received a promise that the city would finance purchase of the property and house. The house is located on the southwest corner of Wixom

and Maple Roads

During the meeting, councilmembers had indicated that they agreed with the purchase but were uncertain that the city could help with financing the project.

"We could agree with it in concept, but we're not NBD," stated Councilman Fred Morehead "Budgetwise it is not there. Twelve thousand dollars would almost break us now."

Mrs. Margaret Ladd, spokesman for the residents, said that action was necessary by the council because the property had been in probate court several years and the attorney for the estate wanted to close the sale as soon as possible.

"We went through the house and if a building inspector went through, he'd say it's not fit to live in," said Mrs. Ladd "It's kind of like a house you'd find in Greenfield Village."

"The person most interested in buying the property wants to bulldoze the house and build two new houses," added Mrs. Ladd. She noted that fund raising projects could be used to furnish the home.

Councilman Jim Lahde questioned whether the restoration of the Tiffin house, as well as purchase of a similar historical home on Charms road could be used as a bicentennial project. He suggested that they could both be moved to safer locations, although resident Nancy Dingeldey contended that the home on Charms Road might well fall apart if moved.

"You would lose some of the historical value if you move it," added Mrs. Ladd of the Tiffin house.

"I'd like to see the Tiffin house stay right where it is because it's a very nice place," said councilmember Lillian Spencer. "It's a historical spot."

Council approved loaning the group $12,000 which the council directed assistant to the Mayor Bernie VanOsedale to scrape out of the upcoming budget and to work with the group in closing the deal.

Board Denies Rezoning

Two recommendations to the township board from Northville Township Planning Commission were accepted by trustees last week.

Rezoning of a parcel of land from residential to general business to permit installation of an ice cream parlor on Waterford Road was denied.

Submitted by James Pasco, the petition was denied because it constituted spot zoning, would require curb cuts into a residential street, would be hazardous, the public objected to the plan and it was in conflict with the township master plan.

Board members also supported a recommendation from planners to allow W-0-Mac to withdraw its petition for multiple rezoning.

New books available in the public library this week are:

Thinking of Buying a New or Used Home? In buying a used home you have the advantage of knowing in advance what the neighbors will be like. Usually residents around the house in question will have lived there for some time themselves. Stable areas also have established facilities, like libraries, shopping centers, police and fire protection, and recreational facilities. Many older homes are built in a way that would make them prohibitively expensive if built today and are bargains compared to the cheaply constructed new homes being offered. Call us today — we have several nice vintage homes listed.

BRUCE ROY REALTY, INC., 150 N. Center St., Northville, 349-8700 has videotaped all our listings to give the buyer a real chance to "see before he inspects." Once you find your dream home we will assist you with many of the necessary details. Through our close associations with the local financial institutions we can help you arrange for a mortgage. # Northville Graduates Star on Football Field

NORTHVILLE GRADUATION—It was "a little chilly" but sunny last week Tuesday evening as members of Northville's 106 graduating class marched into the infield at the football stadium for commencement exercises. Earlier (on the previous Sunday) graduates themselves conducted the baccalaureate service held in the high school gymnasium. The Reverend Father Gerard Hadad offered the prayer for baccalaureate, while the Reverend Cedric

Whitcomb gave the graduation invocation. Speakers included Hilde C. G. Vande Velde, a foreign exchange student; Valedictorian Diane Wilkinson; Salutatorian Kurt Andersen; Superintendent Raymond Spear; High School Principal Michael Tarpinian; and Assistant Principal Campbell read a congratulatory letter from President Gerald Ford. The high school band provided the music.

PARTY TIME—Following Northville's graduation ceremony last week, the traditional all-night senior party was held in the high school. It carried the theme, "My Generation." Having fun here are grads Nancy Myron and Art Greenlee.

Novi Firemen Don't Fill Pools

Get those garden hoses ready

The Novi Firemen's Association has announced that it will not be filling swimming pools for residents. Although the decision was made some time ago, the association had not made public the policy change until the recent warm weather brought a rash of requests.

According to Gregory Wisner, President of the Firemen's Association, the association had filled pools in previous years for a charge which was used to buy and maintain fire equipment. He added that the association "is going to make other arrangements" regarding maintenance of equipment.

Wisner could give no real reason for the decision of the members not to fill pools. He suggested that "It's hard at times to organize the guys to fill them."

HONORED FOR SERVICE—Ada Fritz (left) and Eloisia Johnstone (right) were recently honored for their years of teaching in Northville. Presenting the certificates was Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni to the teachers who will be retiring at the end of the school year.

Eloisia Johnstone Recalls Early Teaching Days

When Eloisia Johnstone retires at the end of June after 24 years of teaching, she'll leave Cooke Annex knowing she'll be missed.

Mrs. Johnstone, who has spent 19 years teaching in Northville, remembers some school districts where teachers were not as fortunate.

"After teaching one year at a county normal school, I taught in a 'tar paper' district outside of Flint," she recalls.

"I had 90 students in grades kindergarten through four and taught half of them in the morning and half in the afternoon."

"I was the eighth teacher hired for that class in one year. The families chased all the others out with pokers and by throwing bricks through windows," she adds.

The parents, most of them auto company workers who moved to Michigan from the South, "stayed until the bill collectors caught up with them and then one day you'd ask where Johnnie was and someone would say 'Oh, they moved out last night.'"

And if parents didn't like the way you taught, due process was carried out with pokers and bricks.

Mrs. Johnstone's background is in music, although she never taught music in Northville. "We moved to the area and had an apartment," she adds, "and I couldn't practice my instrument in an apartment."

She played the trumpet. Born in Oneida, New York, she moved to the Flint area with her parents. She received her bachelor's degree in music from the Eastern School of Music in Rochester, New York; master's from Wayne State University; and did post-graduate work at the University of Kentucky, Michigan State University and University of Chicago.

She's taught music for all grades in the Caroga Lake area of the Adirondack Mountains in New York, north of Gloversville and Johnstown "right next to a nine hole golf course. I went back and forth to school on skis from October to April," she notes.

Two years later she married and taught music in southern New York state. Her husband took a job in Michigan and after raising her family, Mrs. Johnstone began teaching in Northville.

"Northville seemed like a sleepy town when I came here," she recalls. "The first year I taught here, there was a picnic at the Willows in Hines Park and the whole faculty went with husbands and wives."

"You knew all the teachers then. Now, you don't because there are so many."

Her 19 years in Northville have been spent teaching third grade, a third-fourth grade combination at Main Street, fourth grade at Amerman, sixth grade, remedial reading, humanities, science and math.

She now teaches on Track A of year-round school which closes Monday, June 30.

Mrs. Johnstone and her husband have a daughter living in Detroit and another daughter in Colorado.

They have purchased a home in Florida and plan to move there from their home on Reservoir Road after she retires.

"My husband hopes he'll be warmer in Florida and I'm afraid I will be," she adds.

Ada Fritz Retires

33 Years at Main Street Yield Memories to Cherish

When Miss Ada Fritz dismissed her fifth grade class at Main Street Elementary School in Northville last week, she completed 42 years of teaching—33 of them right at Main Street.

"I'm leaving on a happy note," says Miss Fritz as she reveals her plans to go home to Ogemaw County where she has a sister and seven nieces and nephews.

She's taking with her many memories and mementos of the students she's taught here.

She's also leaving behind special memories with students she has taught. One former fourth grade pupil, now graduated, recalled Miss Fritz's teaching in a letter. Other parents of former students have called to invite her to attend graduation of their son with them and another family asked her to share a family picnic.

"She's cleaning out her desk," Nick Serkaian called last week to report. His son, John, had Miss Fritz as his first teacher when the family moved to Northville. Now, he said, six years later she had found an exam spelling paper of words that were John's "stars to steer by" and had sent it on to him.

"She certainly steered him in the right direction," adds Serkaian, "and this illustrates the kind of teacher she's been." The spelling paper contained such words as "brave," "courteous" and "self-reliant."

"I've been happy working with them," Miss Fritz says of the many students who have sat in her classrooms as she taught third, fourth, fifth or sixth grades at Main Street School. If she has a preference for any grade, she adds, it would be fourth just because that's the one she taught for 20 years.

Along with letters from students, Miss Fritz knows she's going to treasure the school board's resolution of appreciation for her service. She already has responded to it with a resolution of her own.

She's pleased, too, about an 8 a.m. Mass to be said this coming Sunday at Our Lady of Victory Church in celebration of her retirement.

After graduation from Michigan Normal College at Ypsilanti Miss Fritz taught in Ogemaw County for nine years before coming to Northville. There were 44 children in the room—ranging from beginners through eighth graders, she recalls.

Her immediate retirement plans include a trip to attend the Delta Kappa Gamma national convention in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, July 16-20, with other Alpha Nu chapter members, Miss Florence Keith, Miss Ione Palmer and Mrs. Louva Waterman.

She then plans to make her home in West Branch where she bought a little house last fall near her sister's.

"I'm going to continue to serve my fellow man," she declares, explaining that it will be in a new way, however, as she thinks she will be a volunteer helper in gerontology as workers are needed in that area.

She already is aware that Ogemaw County where West Branch is located has one of the largest percentages of senior citizen population living below poverty level.

Miss Fritz was surprised at the recent retirement dinner given for her and Mrs. Eloisia Johnstone to have her sister and niece, Mrs. Fred Johnson and Mrs. Michael Winters, come from West Branch for the event.

She's been in close touch with her family through the years as she spent summers in a little house in the woods about 15 miles from Rose City which had belonged to her parents.

"My grandparents moved to northern Michigan with a team of oxen and settled," Miss Fritz explains, adding that her father's parents came from Canada. Her father served on the school board and instilled in her the feeling "that you do everything you can to get an education."

For Ada Fritz this meant punching the telephone company switchboard in Rose City and attending County Normal in West Branch for a year while saving money to go to Ypsilanti.

Through the years Miss Fritz has helped her nieces and nephews, even assisting in the births of three on the farm.

"Sharing pleases me," she sums up, "for it's things that can never be measured that count."

Her friends in Northville know that retiring isn't easy for Ada Fritz. They know, though, that she's not shedding a tear but is looking ahead firmly to sharing her time with those who need her in northern Michigan.

Township Board Supports Livonia's Water Solution

The Northville Township Board passed a resolution Thursday, June 12 supporting the city of Livonia's action against Detroit's increase in water rates.

Livonia, which is one of the approximately 90 communities buying the water, has asked the State Public Services Commission in Lansing to take over Detroit's rate structure, establish a set rate, conduct an independent audit on Detroit's books to determine if the rate increase is warranted and to guide the city in the selling of water.

Detroit has been keeping its own books, setting the rates and working independently in selling its water.

Lawrence Wright, Northville township supervisor, said the township board is supporting a move suggested by Livonia that the rates be investigated and that the State Public Service Commission step in.

Livonia's Mayor Edward McNamara, one of seven appointed to the Water Commission by Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, has been protesting the alleged water hikes that are scheduled for September 1.

"The reason given for the upcoming water hike was due to the water treatment plants," said Wright. "The government has clamped down on purifying water and this has gotten costly. We feel that there must be a public hearing on this."

Frances Madison, Northville township's manager of the water and sewer department, said "I have only heard rumors concerning the price hike. I am not aware of any price increase yet in the figures they charge us."

Northville township pays for water by the cubic foot. Detroit charges $1.82 for the first 10,000 cubic feet, $1.58 for the next 90,000 and $1.40 after that.

According to Mrs. Madison an overall pumping and transportation charge of 49 cents per 1000 cubic feet is also charged for "distances with a higher elevation than the uniform area."

"In other words we pay for the distance the water is pumped," she added.

Meters set around the township measure the amount of water which comes into the township's system. Readings are taken twice a month and the township pays a monthly meter fee according to the size of the meter. The township has meters ranging from four to eighteen inches and costing between $6.25 to $51 per month.

May estimates for the township consumption of water ran to 5,057,300 cubic feet or 37,831,133 gallons of water used. With the cost of water, the transportation and pumping fee, and the monthly meter rent, May's total township payment amounted to $9,744 and 55 cents.

The State House and Senate must now act on the Livonia recommendation before the Public Service Commission can do anything about the rates.

Legislative Bills

By unanimous action, Northville Township Trustees voted to support four resolutions on bills currently before the state legislature.

Trustees went on record opposing House Bill 4602 which would require all employers to report job openings to the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

They voted to support: Senate Bill 156—allowing local communities to adopt a building code incorporating standards equal to or better than those prescribed by existing state code;

Senate Bill 581—providing tax exemption for senior citizens over 70; and Senate Bill 38—providing for registration and regulation of snowmobiles.

Correction

In the recent election for two Novi School Board seats, Audrey Murphy received two write-in votes which were not included in the vote totals printed in the Novi News.

In the unopposed races, incumbents Joel Colliau and Gil Henderson were reelected with 32 and 31 votes respectively.

Mrs. Alcalá Resigns From Library Board

A controversy over the attendance record of one of the members of Novi's Library Board ended quietly last week as council received her resignation.

The library board had requested that the council replace Betsy Alcalá due to absenteeism. The matter had been brought to the attention of council several months ago and the council at that time requested the library board to bring in a detailed account of the alleged absenteeism, a detailed affirmation of why Mrs. Alcalá should be replaced, and to bring back any positive board action that had been taken to return Mrs.

Alcalá to regular meeting attendance.

The report brought back to the council showed that between March 15, 1971 and January 20, 1975, Mrs. Alcalá had been present for 31 library board meetings and absent for 24. She had not attended a meeting since November 4, 1974, added the report.

"It is the duty of a board member to step aside from an office when other responsibilities interfere and prevent a member from effective participation in board decisions," said the report by Board Chairman Helen McAskin.

The report was brought back to the council June 2 and the council agreed that a hearing should be set.

"I don't think we should dismiss her out of hand," stated Councilman Denis Berry, who requested that attendance records of all members of the library board be made available to the council.

Berry stated that before Mrs. Alcalá came into office, she had said she would be unavailable for meetings 2-3 months each year due to vacations.

Before the hearing could be held, council last week received a letter from Mrs. Alcalá stating that "I do not feel it necessary to defend nine years of service with the city. It is with deep regret that I find it necessary to conclude my participation as a volunteer in this manner."

City Clerk Gerry Stupp said that she expects the council will make a decision on replacement at the July 7 council meeting.

Novi Names

New Officer

Novi's new Community Service Officer is Janet Christensen.

Mrs. Christensen was a 1970 graduate of Northville High School. She finished first on the oral and second on the written test for the CSO position and is taking the place of Mark Stohler who left the department.

Mrs. Christensen has completed two years at Schoolcraft College and one year at Eastern in secondary education with a history major.

She is the daughter of Milton and Eileen Parsons of Kings Mill in Northville. Her husband, Bill, is a teacher at the Novi Middle School.

Rising Costs, Recession, Blunders

How School District Got Itself Into Present Deficit Position

By BILL SLIGER

As the dust begins to clear on the 1974-75 fiscal year of the Northville public school system some hard economic facts reveal themselves.

Taxpayers may not like what they see. But, then, neither do school board members or administrators.

Flatly stated, the Northville school district could face a deficit of as much as $600,000 for the fiscal year 1975-76, which begins July 1.

The district will end the current year having spent $112,000 more than it received in revenues.

First off, let's answer the obvious question: How did the system get itself into such a position?

Four ways: 1—Rising costs; 2—Economic recession; 3—Stabilizing growth, which accompanied the recession; 4—Administrative blunders.

There's no intention here of performing a hatchet job on anyone. More than likely, that position will have its full share of candidates.

The effort, instead, will be to explain. For despite the opportunity of criticism, the nagging realization that such a situation can come about is painfully clear to anyone conducting business in today's economy.

It has always been the conviction of this writer that the public has the capacity to understand if it is given the facts. It is, after all, the public's school system. And it must decide what course should be taken based upon the information its elected school board and administrators provide.

Between now and the opening of school next fall some hard decisions must be made. And they involve the board, administration, teachers and employees of the system, as well as residents of the district.

Where the board and administration finds itself completely naked is in the area of improper cost projects for the 1974-75 school year. This discovery was not made until early this year.

A March audit predicted a deficit of $139,000. It now appears that by the June 30 year end the actual deficit will be $112,000.

About $35,000 of this can be explained by the fact that the recession caused the state to cut back on its aid. But in many other areas, it was simply a case of sloppy budgeting.

For example, the district either under-estimated or over-spent in the following areas: $17,000 in transportation salaries; $18,000 in teacher supplies; $7,000 in library books; $18,000 in salaries for custodians.

In January when it started making cuts in a vain effort to bring the budget in balance, the decision was to cut expenses by reducing custodian supplies. The cut-back was on paper only. Expenditures had already exceeded the budget and the result was $10,000 over-spent.

Other glaring errors in cost projections included $6,000 underestimate in employee insurance and $36,000 in Blue Cross-Blue Shield payments. In the latter instance the cost figure in the current budget was the same as the previous year when 18 fewer teachers were eligible for the plan.

It's unlikely that the board or administration is comfortable in its present bed of circumstances. But the information revealed here comes from Superintendent Ray Spear, who knows that flak will follow.

Redfaced and wiser, the Northville superintendent has pulled on his field boots and is trodding in the budget trenches.

And now the superintendent and board face 1975-76. They have a firm handle on what's ahead, but it's unlikely they really know how to proceed.

Three new schools will open this fall. Enrollment has levelled off and probably won't exceed this year's student body of 4,380.

While more teachers will not be required to fill the classrooms, all schools, except the high school, will have vacant rooms. Amerman, Moraine, Silver Springs and Winchester elementary schools will operate at about 65 per cent capacity. Main Street elementary will be down to 40 per cent. The new Meade's Mill middle school will be about half filled and Cooke middle school about 60 per cent. The high school tops 100 per cent capacity.

Start-up and operating costs in the new facilities will hit the system hardest next year. Heat, light, water, maintenance, etc., will hike costs by at least $225,000.

Other built-in increases for salaries, legal fees, supplies and maintenance, not including teacher and employee salaries remaining to be negotiated, amount to more than $200,000.

As the school district faces the new year, it will find its revenues some $292,000 below its new obligations.

It must also make up the $112,000 deficit. And it must negotiate a settlement with teachers and employees.

Last year the district levied 28.07 mills for operating expenses, plus 7.33 mills for debt retirement.

This year the levy will probably be 28.9 mills, plus 7.30 mills for debt retirement. Actually, the board will gain about eight-tenths of a mill for operating purposes. The increase represents millage it had available but did not levy last year.

An increase in state equalized valuation (SEV) from $132,000,000 to $146,000,000 provides the district with a larger tax base. But under the state aid formula, revenues from the state are reduced as SEV goes up.

At any rate it appears that the district's income in 1975-76 will be $5,542,000 compared to $5,187,000 for the fiscal year 1974-75.

The state aid formula is still undetermined, however.

Not counting upcoming negotiations, current budget projections point to a need for $5,834,000.

Picking up the current deficit and guessing at the salary settlement, the district could face a $600,000 deficit.

That amounts to four mills. And at that point the board is not inclined to ask voters for more tax dollars.

Superintendent Spear sees three other possibilities (besides a tax hike).

One would be the temporary closing of three schools: Main, Moraine and Cooke. Another would be severe belt-tightening. And the third is minimal adjustment in salaries.

With the exception of a tax hike, which most observers see as unlikely, none of the alternatives alone would solve the problem.

For the future an upturn in the economy accompanied by student growth to increase the efficiency of school operations are the main hopes for recovery.

But right now the Northville public school system faces what must be its toughest budget year ever.

The board of education must reach a decision no later than September 1.

Perhaps the biggest boost to its chore would be an early, and favorable, settlement with teachers and employees.

Last Day of School

BECKY DAVIS

YES . . .

It's about time! It is 1975, and up until now the University of Michigan has let its women athletes go virtually unrecognized and unrewarded. A woman athlete who puts in her time and effort representing the U of M deserves recognition as much as any man. The recent decision of the U-M Board in Control of Intercollegiate Athletics to award block-M awards to women was a good one.

Women compete in interscholastic sports for the same reasons as men — the thrill of competition and the joy of participation and physical activity. It means just as much to them at their level as it does to the men at theirs. They work just as hard physically, mentally, and emotionally. The level of performance may not be as high as that of the men, but the women are competing against women, not men.

Most women in college today had no opportunity to compete in interscholastic sports in high school. They came to collegiate athletics relatively untrained compared to the men. However, in the next few years that will change. Most high schools now offer a variety of varsity sports for girls, thus the women entering college will be far better trained as athletes.

The quality and prestige of Michigan athletics for men will not diminish when women start wearing the block-M. The men will be performing at the same high level as always. And the women, provided with a quality athletic program which includes good coaches, equipment, and publicity, will perform at a level of excellence which will be worthy of the traditional block-M.

Turn Signs Under Fire

To the Editor:

How quiet it is in Northville, now that our City Fathers have made it impossible for those of us living in the Eight Mile area to get home at night! While the "No Left Turn" and "No Right Turn" signs are undoubtedly effective in curbing the driver looking for a short-cut around the traffic lights, they also make it extremely difficult for residents to gain access to their homes.

The sign prohibiting right turns from northbound Center Street to Baseline will simply force inventive drivers to turn one block sooner, at Lake, thereby increasing traffic on that street. The signs prohibiting left turns from eastbound Eight Mile Road will force local traffic onto Northbound Center, Hill, and Maplewood Streets, past Amerman Elementary School. Prohibiting left turns from Westbound Eight Mile Road requires residents of that area to drive half a mile to Griswold, thence to Baseline, down the hairpin turn on the hill, and past the already busy lumberyard.

Surely our Northville police do not want to be forced into the position of issuing tickets to Northville residents for driving home after work at night! Surely also, none of us would like to receive a ticket for such a ridiculous offense. But, ridiculous as it seems, that is exactly what is going to begin happening unless the City Council modifies its ordinance to permit local traffic only.

Speaking for Myself

Block M's For Women?

BOB UFER

NO . . .

I'm not opposed to some sort of an award for the many fine young women who participate in athletics. I firmly believe that they ought to get an award. But not the revered Block M.

It's no accident that a young man who wears the Block M can hold his head up wherever he goes in this great country. The Block M has become a symbol of prestige and excellence through 95 years of distinguished competition of the highest calibre. Competition against the likes of Illinois, UCLA, Stanford, and Notre Dame.

Should that same Block M be awarded to someone for synchronized swimming to music? How does somebody compete in synchronized swimming anyway?

You may argue that girls train just as hard as the boys do, but that is not the point. The difference is tradition and quality of competition. The boys on the junior varsity teams work as hard as the varsity players do, but they are not entitled to wear the Block M.

Those who wear the Block M have demonstrated a high degree of excellence, a degree of excellence backed up by 95 years of excellence in intercollegiate athletics.

How can you compare a program that has only been around for one or two years with a program that has withstood the test of 95 years of time?

I don't believe that my stand is anti-women. Perhaps in 10 or 20 years, the question should be considered. But not now, not at this stage. Women should get a Scroll M or a Blue M. But not the Block M.

THREE CAR COLLISION—Terri Lynn Cox, 14, and Peter Concannon, 16, of Livonia were rushed to the Wayne County General Hospital last Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. after they were injured in a three car accident on Northville Road and Five Mile near Edward Hines Drive. A car driven by David Fekete, 19, of Livonia, failed to yield and was hit by Concannon. Fekete then hit the car driven by Daniel Goralewski, 17, of Inkster. No ticket was issued but hazardous action on the part of Fekete was cited as the cause of the accident.

Likes Column

To the Editor:
I would like to congratulate Mr. Jack Hoffman on the recent article on his "Top of the Deck" column. As he pointed out, the issue of dual school tax collection is long overdue for resolution. The actions of the Novi City Council do not surprise any of its citizens. It is sad to see the ways in which Novi squanders money, particularly since the city is presently in a very critical financial lack of funds. This situation as it was pointed out in the article is the direct result of the actions of a few councilmembers and their inability to come to an agreement.

She'll Keep In Touch

To the Editor:
Always I have appreciated sincerely your kind consideration for teachers and students during the years I have been teaching elementary children in the Main Street School of Northville.
As I retire from forty-two years of teaching in the public schools of Ogemaw and Wayne counties, I have many happy memories of my work with students, parents, and teachers. I deeply appreciate the kindness all have shown me.

I shall miss my associations with our youth, but I'll keep in touch via The Northville Record at my home in Ogemaw County.
With kindest personal regards.

Sincerely yours,
Miss Ada W. Fritz

'Thanks' Go To Bill Milne

To the Editor:
Just a quick note to say THANKS for a great job to Bill Milne of Skene Crest Farms for digging all the post holes to mark the horse trails in Maybury State Park. He enabled us to have the horse trails open for last Sunday's grand opening. We had been told that if the horse people didn't build their own trails and have them approved by Sunday, they would not be open. Yeah Bill Milne!

Sincerely,
The Potter Family, the Powell Family, the Townsend Family, the Broderick Family

The school tax collection is but one of the many issues that will cost the citizens of Novi dearly because of the inadequacies that are going on in the city council. The need for a special election to fill the vacancy created by George Athas' resignation, will cost the taxpayers in the neighborhood of $3000. No one at this time can estimate what will be the cost penalty to be incurred on the paving of Taft Road due to the council procrastination to make a decision. And many other areas which I do not wish to go into at this time.

The obvious lack of decision making ability by some council members will be a key issue on the upcoming July 22 election as well as the November election. There will also be issues that could determine the growth pattern of the City of Novi, such as the zoning of property along 10 Mile Road and the recent actions of the Planning Board and its catering to transient merchants.

Let me again thank Jack Hoffman for a splendid piece of journalism and to encourage him to bring out the facts on all issues so that the citizens of Novi can be made aware of the many ways their city is being mishandled by a few council members.

Sincerely,
Rey Rodriguez

Newspaper Praised

To the Editor:
Since moving to the City of Novi about two years ago so many nice things have happened, and one of them is The Novi News each week.

For a paper that covers news from more than one city, the stories (whether re: political issues, news about our schools and their growth, sports, excellent police protection, etc.) are superb! We're at an advantage, for example, when Novi and Northville schools try new programs and they're successful — each can try out the programs.

Don't be surprised to find a pile of Novi News at my home. They're so interesting I hate to throw them out! Keep up the unbiased, fair reporting, "just plain good reading." Good Work!

Echo Valley

Road Paving

Approved

Despite some protests from residents, Novi Council last week approved the plans and specifications for Echo Valley Estates Street resurfacing.

Total cost of the project will be approximately $62,900 and council approved assessment on a per lot basis.

Cost per lot for homeowners will be $648 minus 20 percent city share for a cost of approximately $520.

Original request for the resurfacing had come through petitions from homeowners. City engineers Johnson and Anderson presented two plans, one which would cost $93,300 and the other which would cost $62,900. The higher cost of the first plan was justified through complete ditching in the subdivision.

The second plan, which was adopted, called for only minimal ditching although the resurfacing would be exactly the same.

City engineer Harry Mosher estimated that life of the pavement would be 15 years with either plan.

Said one resident, "When the estimate was $300 we would go with it. If it's $675, you pay for it yourself. Just don't do in front of our house."

Merchants Celebrate Bicentennial Minus One

Twenty-two Northville merchants can't wait for the nation's bicentennial celebration one year from now.

So they're holding a "199 Twilight Sale".

It's sort of a 200 minus one birthday party and local shoppers will receive the gifts.

Starting this week shoppers can register at any of the participating stores for bicentennial dollars that are worth $1.99 each. Winners will be selected from the registered shoppers on June 27 and announced in The Record edition of July 2.

Then on Thursday, July 3 the 22 participating stores are staging a twilight sale from 6 to 10 p.m. when the lucky winners of $199 worth of $1.99 gift certificates can spend them just like cash at any of the 22 stores.

The Twilight Sale will offer a host of bargains to all shoppers, but the ones lucky enough to have won the $1.99 gift certificates will enjoy even greater savings.

The only stipulation is that the $1.99 certificates must be redeemed at the July 3 Twilight Sale.

So start signing up now, wherever you shop in any of the following stores: Brader's, Lapham's, John's EMB, IV Season's, Paper & Spice, Et Cetera, D & C, Green's Creative Home Center, Perko's Shoes, Black's Hardware, Marquis, Spinning Wheel, Ely Hardware, Del's Shoes, Cheese & Wine Barn, Summit Gifts, Richards Boys' and Girls' Wear, Claire Kelly Fashions, The Book Mark, Freydl's, Men's & Ladies' Wear, Nista's Fashions & things, Noder's Jewelry.

hearing by a 4-1 vote (David Biery cast the dissenting vote).

Most officials had expected major public support for the ban at that hearing last November. But it did not materialize. Only one citizen supported it, while a number of others opposed it—including one of the early critics of motorcycle racing. In view of the public's position council killed the ban by a 3-2 vote (Folino and Wallace Nichols voted for it).

At this week's meeting Pauli said he had not attended last fall's hearing because he thought the council would approve the ban with or without public support.

Others who Monday criticized all motorcycle racing at the Downs included Christopher Gazlay of 117 Baseline, John Berry of 628 West Main and Laura Hixson, who lives immediately west of the Main Street elementary property.

David Danes of 121 High Street applauded council for making the existing ordinance as stiff as possible but he urged that efforts to make it even more restrictive be taken. Richard Bohn of 220 North Wing warned council that the limited Sunday permit suggested by the ordinance amendment would be a grave mistake, opening up a "Pandora's Box" of problems.

Denis Roux, 21130 East Chigwidden Drive, observed that the city's new zoning ordinance restricts the noise level of an entire factory but in motorcycle racing the noise level of only one vehicle is measured.

Concerning the proposed ban, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie again cautioned citizens that a ban might be struck down by the courts and thus leave the city wide open for unlimited motorized racing. Purpose of the existing ordinance, he explained, is to limit racing as much as possible without triggering a court challenge.

Levitt and Sons under Fire

Rosenberg urged the township to withhold building and occupancy permits until the construction material were removed; however, Mitchell cautioned that one problem (dumping) would just lead to another (forcing the open basements to exist.)

In a related matter, Township Engineer William Mosher said the township is pressing Levitt to complete and develop Wallis Street as a second access and egress for Highland Lakes.

Because the garden apartments have not nor are they likely to be developed, only one paved entrance and exit exists in the development — via Eight Mile Road. The road to Seven Mile is an old construction route.

Last month, Rosenberg had suggested that the township consider requiring early development of major streets in subdivisions so similar situations would not occur in the future.

Mosher explained that development of the Wallis Street route to connect with existing streets in Highland Lakes would provide quick access to the fire department and another entrance-exit for residents.

Wallis Street joins South Main Street in the City of Northville under the railroad viaduct by the old well.

Echo Valley Paving

homeowners association for Echo Valley told the council that "I would feel most of our residents are in support of the concept" of resurfacing.

The vote to accept the plans and specifications was unanimous with councilman Louie Campbell abstaining because he lives in that subdivision.

Residents present at the public hearing suggested that the assessment should be on a per lot basis since the streets curve and some homes would have twice as much front footage as other homes.

Council approved the per lot basis with the understanding that one house located on two lots would be assessed for only one lot as that house receives only one unit of benefit.

However, the council also decided that when there are two lots with a house on one and, perhaps, a swimming pool on the other, there would be assessments for both lots, since the second lot could be sold and a house constructed on it.

Mosher estimated that bids could be awarded by October or November.

Signs Stir Complaint

Police Captain Louis Westfall admitted that policemen generally are displeased with the signs.

One of the letters complaining about the no turn sign on Baseline came from Buddy J. Dye, manager of Northville Lumber Company. He suggested the sign will have an adverse affect upon his business. However, at Monday's meeting he declined to make any additional comments, pointing out he was unaware of problems that triggered the traffic controls.

Although Mayor Allen sympathized with the lumber company, pointing out that this business was located on Baseline long before some homes in the area, Vernon reminded fellow council members that the no turn sign does not eliminate route to the lumber company but rather forces a change for only a few hours each day.

Vernon added, however, that perhaps the no turn signs should be made effective only during weekdays since those are the days on which through traffic occurs most frequently.

Concerning a suggestion by citizens that residents of the subdivisions affected by the signs be given special permits to turn, officials concluded it would be a discriminatory practice that would make prosecution of violations difficult.

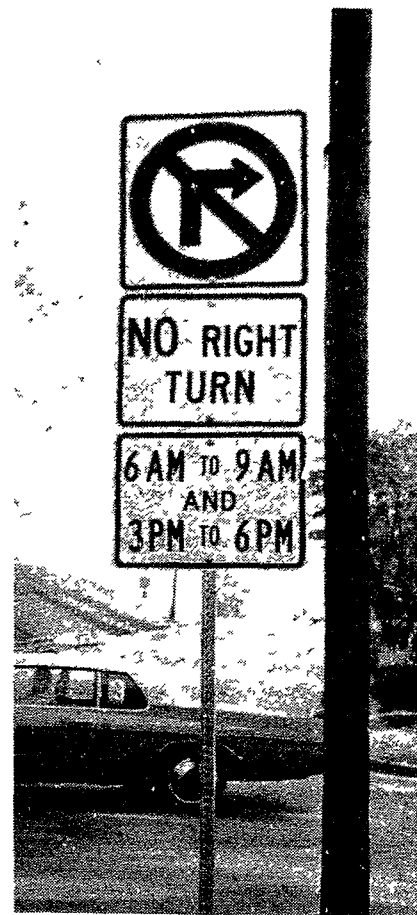

Council told citizens attending Monday's meeting that plans call for widening of the approaches at Center and Eight Mile roads, a step which officials are hopeful would reduce much of the traffic bottleneck that has produced most of the alternative traffic through residential areas.

A request to Wayne County for this project has been made, officials stated.

In related business, council later in the meeting awarded a contract (not to exceed $14,500) to Mosher Associates engineering for a feasibility study and preliminary engineering plans for a Griswold traffic bypass.

Earlier, the council ordered the aerial photography work for this project. This photography has now been completed, reported City Manager Steven Walters.

Council contends that much of the city's traffic problems are directly related to the lack of a good north-south route through the city, and officials are convinced an extension of Griswold over or around the millpond, past Baseline and Eight Mile roads, to tie in with Novi Road is the answer.

Such a route, officials pointed out, would substantially reduce the kind of residential traffic in northeast Novi that is now hounding the city.

Although Wayne County officials have discouraged such a route and have indicated no county money for the study will be allocated Northville, the council is determined to push ahead in hopes that some day, once the study is completed, federal or state monies will be made available for assisting in construction.

Young Attorneys Aid Prosecutors

'The Supreme Court Is Our Ball Park'

By ROLLY PETERSON

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lee William Atkinson, on the Prosecutor's Appellate Service staff, argued on behalf of the people in the Byron Lee Hoffmeister murder case. The State Supreme Court unanimous decision reducing a first degree murder conviction to second degree murder has the Brighton community in an uproar. Hoffmeister was found guilty by a 12-man jury of the first-degree murder slaying of 17-year-old Wendy Ann Braddon in August of 1971. She was stabbed and slashed to death near the Pleasant Valley Road exit ramp from expressway I-96.

Fred Snowdon, former assistant Michigan basketball coach, had a crop of basketball players at the University of Arizona who were conspicuous for their youth and as a result were known as the Kiddie Korp.

Michigan has what might be considered its Kiddie Corp, too. But they're not basketball players.

They're four attorneys who ply their profession in the highest courts in this state, the Michigan Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. And, on occasion, they might appear in federal courts, too, including the United States Supreme Court.

Their average age — 28.

They are the Prosecutor's Appellate Service, with offices in the Stoddard Building, kitty corner from the State capital building in Lansing. Headed by Edward Reilly Wilson III, oldest of the bunch at 33, the Prosecutor's Appellate Service argues criminal cases on appeal, upon request of local prosecuting attorneys from approximately 60 outstate counties.

Even the Service, itself, is youthful. It was established three years ago to provide the criminal expertise and manpower which local prosecuting attorneys, by dint of an increasing number of appealed cases, could not handle.

Currently, the Prosecutor's Appellate Service is funded through a federal grant. In July, it will become part of the State Attorney General's office, with finances for operation coming out of the state's general fund.

It's no accident that men like Lee William Atkinson, 26 and just two years out of the University of Michigan Law School, are hired to argue in the state's highest courts.

Wilson, a former assistant prosecutor in Wayne County, did the hiring. He says he had the chance to get more experienced, learned looking men whom one might think would stand a better chance before justices of the Supreme Court. But he opted for youth.

Wilson explained his rationale.

"First of all," he says, "I look for brightness. Secondly, the person must have an eagerness to be involved in criminal law. Thirdly, that person must have a great deal of energy."

Amplifying on the need for energy, he said that some people meet the criteria of brightness, but they don't react quickly. "I like quickness," he said.

Personable, voluble, Atkinson swoops down on questions, snapping off polysyllabic answers at a machine-gun clip, ever enthusiastic, consumed by his work and enthralled by criminal law.

"I can get more excited about the concepts of first degree murder, search and seizure and constitutional rights in terms of self incrimination than I can over whether or not the city has a right to put up a fence in your back yard," Atkinson said.

"It's exciting."

Clothes. What do they mean? By Atkinson's own admission, "My clothes fit my personality."

Mod, dapper, the extrovert, that's Atkinson. Platform shoes, blue pants, red and white-striped sports coat on a blue background, blue velvet tie, a shirt with blue and red pin stripes on white.

"For us, the Supreme Court is our ballpark," Atkinson said. "That's where it's done, that's where it's at, that's where the law is made. That's my bailiwick."

With the usual gush of enthusiasm, he argues before the Supreme Court. A few justices smile as he utters strings of polysyllables, occasionally looking down at a little black book which is his constant companion in this world of criminal law.

"Every attorney has his own approach," Atkinson says. "I have this little black book which I find effective for a number of reasons, one of which is an attorney who has never seen it before sometimes gets antsy because I go into the Supreme Court with just this and he's never seen it before."

"I cut up briefs, so I can put the words I want to say into the parts of the brief where our underlying law is."

Most attorneys carry bulging brief cases and other assorted materials into the Supreme Court.

"We tend, in preparing," Atkinson said, "to sit down and write out what we want to say, because that's where you get the use of language, the use of phrasing, structure. And then if you've written it down and read it three or four times, you may not glance down at it at all."

Wilson, sitting behind his director's desk, is dressed much more conservatively. His responses are measured.

Concurring with Atkinson, Wilson says, "I write out word for word what I want to say. I read it over four or five times. Then I draft a skeleton to help, if I get off-the-wall questions,

Bicentennial Observance

Local History Series To Start Next Week

A year-long monthly series entitled "The Way It Used to Be" begins next week in Sliger Home Newspapers.

The series is designed to coincide with the nation's bicentennial celebration by recalling interesting bits of local history.

Each of the communities served by Home Newspapers will have its own series, researched and written by staffers of the individual local newspapers.

And in each of the communities — Northville, Novi, South Lyon and Brighton — the monthly feature will be sponsored by businesses and organizations within that community.

Starting June 25 "The Way It Used to Be" will be published the last edition of each month through May, 1976.

Arrangements have been made to have each of the three different series in The Northville Record-Nov, South Lyon Herald and Brighton Argus newspapers reproduced in lasting, fine quality book form for public purchase.

Details of how the reproductions may be purchased will be published along with the monthly features. No orders will be filled until the final feature has been published in May, 1976, and all orders will be completed by June, 1976 to coincide with the nation's 200th birthday.

"The Way It Used to Be" is an attempt by Sliger Home Newspaper staffers to recall community highlights and history of the local communities served by Home Newspapers so that readers may be better informed on their own hometowns.

Staffs in each of the three areas served by Home Newspapers have chosen their own subjects.

For example, in the Northville-Nov, area "The

In Brighton, the series will include: the Crouse family of Hartland; historic buildings; school consolidation; the glory years in sports; the I-96 and US-23 expressways; area entertainment of yesteryear; World War II in Brighton; Governor Kinsley Bingham; the Civil War; and Pinckney, area Ghost towns and park history.

In South Lyon The Herald series will include: the old train depot, referred to as the "witch's hat;" area Indians; school district development from the one-room schoolhouse; the business history of South Lyon; a look at the long history of Michigan Seamless Tube in South Lyon; development of the local library and of local government; the underground railroad; old New Hudson; centennial farms and early settler families.

The names of the local organizations and business cooperating with Sliger Home Newspapers in presenting the historical series will be published next week when the new year-long feature will be introduced in each of the Home Newspapers.

The 10-county Catholic Diocese of Lansing, which includes Livingston County, has joined the effort of the National Catholic Charities Office to help relocate Vietnamese refugees. Groups or individuals, Catholic or not, who wish to make a commitment to provide housing or employment opportunities to refugees should contact the Office of Social and Community Service, 311 Seymour, Lansing, 48933. Application forms will be sent, and interviews with potential sponsors will be arranged.

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Brighton will hold a luncheon program on Monday, June 23, at 12:30 p.m. at the church. A Michigan State Police trooper will present a slide program and discuss self-protection for women. Babysitters will be provided during the luncheon. Women interested in attending should call Jane Clarke (229-9664) or Dottie Reed (227-7802).

In order to establish a crisis center in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church of Brighton, Father Larry Carver, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, has asked for donations of the following items: television set, stereo, pool table ping-pong table, games and records. Persons who can help locate such items should contact Father Carver at 229-2821.

Vacation Bible School will be offered next week, June 23-27, at the Highland Church of the Nazarene, 1211 West Livingston Road. Sessions will be held each evening, Monday through Friday, from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., with a closing program at 10 a.m. Sunday, June 29. The theme of this year's Bible school is "Clap Your Hands, Jesus is Lord." The nightly sessions will offer songs, Bible memorization, stories, handcrafts, games, and a community service project for all members of the family.

Hawaiian Trip, Car Are Prizes

2 Churches Hold June Festivals

If two Brighton area churches have their way, there won't be a dull moment the last two weekends in June.

Both churches, St. Patrick's Catholic Church and St. John's Catholic Church, will be holding three-day festivals which offer games, prizes, carnival rides, food and refreshments to area residents.

The first such event for St. Patrick's, the festival will be held this Friday through Sunday, June 20, 21 and 22, on parish grounds on Rickett Road off East Grand River.

Proceeds from the festival will be used to start a parish activities and building fund, announced festival chairman John Gibson.

Prizes to be awarded at festival drawings include a vacation to Hawaii for two or $2,500, a side of beef and a deep freeze, a color television, five $100 cash prizes, and 10 $50 bonds.

Tickets for the drawings may be purchased in advance from members of St. Patrick's.

St. Patrick's festival hours will be from 6 to 11 p.m. on Friday, from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday, and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

On Sunday, carnival rides will be offered at reduced prices, and dinner will be served.

Organizers of the event are John Gibson, chairman; Don Lazar, co-chairman; Jan Bachelor and Sister Helen McAllister, publicity chairmen; Frency Ricard, coordinator; Fred Wickstandt, Henry Miller, and John Danich, ticket chairmen; Mike Beauchamp, Stan Glodeck, Ralph Thorn and Tony Sincic, games and rides chairmen; Frank Fazekas, Mike Bond, and Richard Sestak, finance chairmen; Marguerite Hughes and Mary Fitzgerald, food chairmen.

The festival planned by St.

John's Church is the ninth annual for that parish.

To be held Friday through Sunday, June 27, 28 and 29, the festival will be held on parish grounds at M-59 and Hacker Road.

Festival hours are from 5 to 11 p.m. on Friday, from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Saturday, and from noon until 8 p.m. on Sunday.

Featured festival events include a performance by the Fifth Michigan Regiment Band of Howell, and a country store selling homemade items operated by the church Altar Society.

Steak fries will be held at 3 p.m. on Saturday and at 1 p.m. Sunday. Tickets for the dinner are $3. Hot dogs are also available for 50 cents.

Prizes to be awarded include an American Motors Pacer Sport Coupe, $500 in cash, an AM-FM portable television, a clock radio, and transistor radios.

Tickets for prizes may be purchased in advance from church members or by calling festival chairman Paul Welch (632-7821) or publicity chairman Penny Murphy (632-7256).

Admission to the festival grounds is free, Mrs. Murphy said.

Brighton's Father Raymond Klauke, Sister Helen McAllister, and Jan Bachelor (l-r), of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, are prepared to present some lucky ticket holder with a trip for two to Hawaii at the first parish festival scheduled this weekend.

Grand prize to be awarded at the ninth annual St. John's Catholic Church festival, set for June 27, 28, and 29, is this 1975 American Motors Pacer. Posing with the car are Paul Welch, festival chairman, Father Allen Theis, and publicity chairman Penny Murphy.

Hanging Baskets Brighten Porches

BY KATHY COPLEY

Indoors and out, hanging baskets are a nice way to brighten a porch, deck, patio, or carport. They are an especially good way to extend limited gardening areas and bring the garden up close.

Numerous plants are specially suited for baskets because of their pendulous nature. Ferns have long been popular in baskets, but other foliage plants are equally appropriate. For use outdoors, try wandering jew, vinca, spiderwort, strawberry saxifrage, and coleus.

Twenty or so flowering plants are good basket choices. Match their needs for sun or shade with the proposed site, and they will perform well. A shade basket is easier to manage; it will need daily watering and probably no misting. In the sun, a basket may need twice daily watering and daily misting. For a windy location, double the watering and misting requirements.

Because of their shape or hardness to wind and dryness, these are good choices (SHADE) impatiens, begonia, fuschia, primrose, and heliotrope; (SUN) gazania, petunia, lantana, nasturtium, alyssum, ageratum, marigold, chrysanthemum, verbena, salvia, phlox, and marguerite.

Many of these plants are available in pre-planted baskets, but they are also easy to make at home. You'll need a large wire or plastic covered wire basket, or other container with good drainage; a pressed fiber liner, plastic liner, or a slab of green sheet moss; rich, loose soil made of equal parts composted or rotten manure, garden loam, and leaf mold; and the plants.

Line the basket with sheet moss, green side out, or simply slip in the commercial liner. Fill either with the soil to within 2" of the rim.

Set each plant into the soil at the level it was previously growing. Water well, until water is literally dripping from the basket, and hang it in position.

Mix plants if you like, like white alyssum to hang over the edge and marigolds in the center for height. Or put hanging begonias around the outside and a single upright variety in the middle. Cascade petunias on the edges and a standard variety in the center is another option.

Wax Plant Is A Climber

The Wax plant (Hoya carnosa) is a climber. Though slow to grow at first, it will eventually cover a trellis or other support with its twining stems and fleshy, waxy leaves.

The Wax plant likes lots of sun or bright light, according to horticulturists at Michigan State University. Average house temperatures and humidity are adequate.

Give your Wax plant a soil made up of equal parts loam, sand and peat moss or leaf mold, the experts advise. Allow the soil to dry between waterings. In the fall, the plant will go into a rest period. Water less frequently until growth begins again.

Here's June Tips For Gardeners

From lawn and garden experts at Michigan State University come these tips on timely outdoor garden activities for June.

—Thin root crops that are becoming crowded —In late June, fertilize asparagus. Also, keep an eye peeled for asparagus beetles feeding on the asparagus leaves. Control them with malathion, Sevin or methoxychlor to prevent defoliation.

—Pick strawberries early in the morning when the fruit is cool. Remove damaged berries from the patch to minimize fruit rot. Refrigerate berries as soon as possible after harvest to maintain top quality.

—Prune flowering shrubs, such as forsythia, lilac, flowering quince and mock orange, after they are finished blooming.

—Keep a close watch on plants in containers, because they will need more water as the weather gets warmer. Water when the soil is dry until water runs out the bottom of the container. Then don't water again until the soil feels dry. Hanging baskets dry rapidly — check them often.

—If spring flowering bulbs performed poorly this year, you may need to thin and transplant them. Dig them up after the bulb coat turns light brown and store them in a cool, dry place until fall. Then replant.

Pinch mums to make the plants bushy and bear more flowers. Remove the top half-inch of each shoot when it reaches six inches in length.

—Prune and fertilize rambler roses after they have flowered.

—Plant gladioli throughout June for a continuous supply of cut flowers later.

—Move potted azaleas into a partially shaded spot in the garden, plunging the pots into the soil.

—Check newly transplanted trees to see that all rope or wire is removed from the trunks. A piece of rope left on a growing tree can become a noose that girdles it. Also check guy wires on young trees. If they are too tight or no longer needed, remove them to avoid girdling and killing the trees.

—Watch honey locust trees for leafhoppers and plant bugs in June and July. Control them with malathion or Sevin.

—Control the bronze birch borer early in June with lindane. Keep plants healthy by watering and fertilizing

2-1 Houses For Sale

There is a maintenance free exterior on this attractive three year old brick and aluminum Ranch Home. Featured are three good sized bedrooms, spacious 12x18 kitchen with dining area, and a step saving 1st floor laundry and utility room. Privileges on a small, private, restricted lake go with this fine house. There is very good freeway access. $36,500 with assumable 8 1/4 mortgage available.

Are you looking for a traditional four bedroom colonial with a family size country kitchen, a lovely family room with a raised hearth brick fireplace, and the other niceties you expect in a home today? If you are, we have one for you, on a large lot in an area of other fine homes, out of the hustle and bustle of town but in a location that will keep the family taxi service to Little League, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, etc. to a minimum. Owner is asking $55,500 and there is a very assumable 8 percent mortgage available. By appointment only. P.S. Quick occupancy!!!

Year 'round peace and contentment is available in this wooded waterfront setting featuring a beautifully kept and appointed home that has a maintenance free exterior, outdoor shuffle board court, patio area with brick bar B Que pit, a safe and sandy beach, water skiing, sailing, fishing, and sunrises over the water that you can't believe. $41,500. By Appointment only.

By CLIFF HILL

Toronto, Ontario...This beautiful metropolitan center has become a weekend adventure for hundreds of Michigan travelers who are searching for an "in" place with unlimited dimensions for enjoyment. You can drive there over Canadian Highway 401 in about four hours or fly there in 35 minutes. Most hotels have special weekend "deals" — The Royal York, for instance, offers a "A Royal Weekend" of three days, two nights, for $99 that includes three days enclosed parking, two buffet breakfasts for two ($16), four drinks (up to $12), voucher for $5 towards dinner — this means your double room costs about $25 per night — a decent charge in today's range of prices. These offers range from $69 on up.

Once here, what to do? For gourmets some of the finest food in the world. For nature lovers, Don Mills Park System running from downtown Toronto into the suburbs. The Metro Caravan 75, June 22 to July 1 opens a Mini-World mix of song, dance, art and cuisine.

Theater — a great assortment from traditional to dinner-type. From the viewing gallery of the Toronto Dominion Building you can see the mists rising about Niagara Falls some 70 miles away.

The Science Museum will hold your children and you spellbound for hours. "Art In The Parks" will charm anyone with a bent for beauty. There's an International Guitar Festival coming and a "singles" bar at the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

I recall having dinner with Carl Johnson at the Leningraski Hotel in Moscow Russia, in 1958. The waiter was patient as I struggled with the menu. The last item I ordered was "green peas." Carl didn't want to go through my agony, so he scanned his dictionary and pointed to the phrase "give me the same." The food finally arrived. I had a beautiful meal and Carl had five dishes of peas — one for each course including dessert.

A well-meaning lady has phoned asking me the approved manner to pack women's clothing in a bag. She asked whether dresses should be placed in the bottom or the top of the suitcase. Frankly I can't answer this one. It should be apparent that if you put the dresses on the bottom — turn the suitcase over — then the dresses are on top so I flunked the first question as a travel columnist.

Here's an invitation to readers to participate in the preparation of this column. Tell me about the trips you have enjoyed the most or about places you have lived and where you think others would enjoy visiting. If you have a complaint or compliment about an airline, bus company, railroad, hotel or motel please let us hear them. And if you have any travel questions, write us and we will do our best to find an answer for you. Write to me in care of this newspaper.

Young Lawyers Relish Battle In Court Arena

so I can return to my argument and continue with the logic. I don't read it. It just gives me confidence to have it in front of me."

The Wayne State University Law School instruction Wilson received, to use only a few notes so spontaneity is retained, has flown out the second-floor window.

Skill of delivery is important, Wilson says, adding, "In an appellate court, I like to think it has worlds of effect, to justify my own existence. Courts can be turned off by certain things."

But logic and law, it appears, is more important in the higher courts.

"You have to stake out what the issues are," Wilson said, "try to anticipate where the court wants to go and then try to mold them as close as you can get them to where you think they ought to be."

Knowing the personalities on the Supreme Court, of the Michigan Court of Appeals, for that matter, also is the major part of the legal game plan for the youthful prosecutors.

"Levin (Justice Charles Levin) is the one who, if you persuade, and he is on your side, has a good chance of taking another judge with him," Atkinson says. "He's the intellectual heavyweight."

Lawrence Lindemer, recently appointed by the governor to replace the late Thomas M. Kavanaugh, shows signs of being an outstanding justice, both Wilson and Atkinson agree.

"You get vibrations sometimes when you're talking to judges or arguing before them whether you're on the same wave length, whether they're interested in and alert to the subtleties of issues you're talking about," Wilson said.

All of the justices are bright, the two attorneys emphasized.

"That's the most important thing about any judge at the trial level, in the Appellate Court, whatever," Wilson said. "He's got to be bright, he's got to be alert, he's got to be interesting."

"Everybody's got certain philosophical biases, because none of us can go through life without acquiring them," the director continued. "And no one can object to them as long as they're recognized and kept under control by the individual."

The higher courts differ, too, a factor with which the Prosecutor's Appellate Service must deal.

"There are real differences in different courts," Wilson said. "The Court of Appeals here in Michigan generally is what is called a cold bench. They generally don't ask many questions."

"The Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati is a very hot bench. If you go down there you might not get three words out before some judge jumps out and says, 'You mean to say you're saying that?!' Right away, it's question time. It's a very hot atmosphere."

"I think the Michigan Supreme Court is somewhere in between," Wilson concluded.

For good reason, Wilson says energy is a must for anyone working for the Prosecutor's Appellate Service. The Service will handle 260 cases this year in the Supreme Court and Michigan Court of Appeals. That's 60 cases a man.

Wilson says, however, that administrative duties that he must perform cut into the time he might spend on cases. So subtract half a man from the four-man staff and you have three and one-half devoting their attention to criminal cases on appeal.

When he was working in Wayne County, Wilson said, 50 cases a year was considered a heavy work load.

How many do the prosecutors win? Wins and losses are no real measure, Wilson says.

"Some cases ought to be lost," he said. "Some have reversible error."

If the Supreme Court grants leave to appeal, Wilson explained, that means there's something about the case the justices want to look at, and it implicitly means there's something about the case that they think is reversibly erroneous.

As Atkinson interjected: "Something happened below that they're not comfortable with."

"So when we go to the Supreme Court," Wilson continued, "the presumption is against us. About half of the criminal cases are won anyway."

What cases reach the Michigan Supreme Court? "They grant leave to appeal when they want to," Wilson said.

"The Supreme Court sits up there sort of in isolation with little darts being shot at it constantly. They get all sorts of requests for relief, all sorts of requests for creating new rules of law. They filter the darts, as it were, and decide which ones present issues the court wants to decide. In the vast, vast majority of cases, they just say no."

Occasionally, the Prosecutor's Appellate Service goes into the federal courts to argue a case.

Tom Nelson, one of the staffers, is currently researching and preparing for a case that may be heard before the United States Supreme Court, highest court in the land.

Nelson is 26 years old. He was hired this month fresh out of the University of Michigan Law School.

A vice president since 1969, he has received the added designation of senior regional officer. Donnan administers the Farmington Region of the bank's Branch Department, which includes ten offices.

On the bank's staff since 1947, his first officer appointment came in 1961. He holds a graduate certificate from the American Institute of Banking and is a graduate of the Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin.

A member of the Northville City Planning Commission, Donnan and his wife Sarah have four children and live on Sherrie Lane.

JIMMY'S RESTAURANT in South Lyon was one of the top fund raisers in the fourth annual Coffee Day Campaign sponsored by the Easter Seal Society of Oakland County.

Waitresses at Jimmy's were able to solicit $235 in donations from customers in exchange for free coffee on Good Friday.

More than 106 Oakland County restaurants participated in the program which netted approximately $12,400. Top fund raisers were the seven Maple House restaurants which earned $3,540 for handicapped children. The Maple House restaurant in Troy accounted for $1,212 of the total.

Jimmy's donation of $235 placed the South Lyon restaurant in twelfth place among the list of 106 restaurants which participated in the program.

A total of $45 was raised at the Tack Room Restaurant in Northville and $28.25 was raised at Saratoga Trunk Restaurant in Novi.

DENNIS P. CHYNOWETH, 3306 Hope Lake, Brighton, district representative in this area for Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL), recently was cited for his excellent sales and service to members.

That achievement during agency year 1974 qualified him for the Society's President's Club.

AAL is a fraternal life and health insurance society headquartered in Appleton, Wisconsin. It has more than one million members in 4,700 AAL local branches throughout the United States.

Michigan Mirror: Beer Ban Ordered

LANSING—Hassles over where to put electrical power plants might be kept to a minimum if Democratic Representative Howard Wolpe of Kalamazoo has his way.

Wolpe is proposing creation of a State Power Facility Siting Council to map Michigan spots most suitable for power plants. In addition, the council would gather citizens' reactions to 10-year-plans that would be required from all electric utility companies. It also would certify company requests for new construction.

"INDIVIDUALS, interest groups, local governments and affected pollution abatement and other agencies would all have a say in reviewing 10-year-plans and applications for facility construction," Wolpe says.

"No site would be certified if located in a park or a recreational, wilderness or historical area."

BEFORE YOU POP the top on that beer can in a state park, check the signs. You may be breaking the rules.

Alcoholic beverages are prohibited in several state parks and parts of others. The ban marks an attempt by the Department of Natural Resources to make the parks quieter for campers. The department hopes that no drinking will mean no rowdiness and disturbances.

Those areas where alcohol is banned will be posted, the DNR says.

MICHIGAN TRAVELERS are taking advantage of increased train service at a mighty clip.

Governor William Milliken reports that ridership of Amtrak passenger trains in the state has tripled in the past three years as service has been extended.

On the Detroit-to-Chicago run alone, ridership has doubled. About 157,000 folks rode the rails between those two cities in 1973. Last year the number jumped to nearly 237,000.

Milliken currently is asking the legislature to approve a revenue bonding program for statewide transportation improvements, including railroad work.

A LIGHTER FOOT on the gas pedal may mean a longer life.

That's the indication drawn from a recent study — touted as the first of its kind in the nation — analyzing the relationships of vehicle use, fuel availability, crashes and traffic deaths in Michigan.

The study, undertaken by the University of Michigan Highway Safety Research Institute in cooperation with the state Safety Commission, showed that the 55 mile-an-hour speed limit resulted in a 20 percent reduction in freeway traffic deaths and a 40 percent reduction on other state trunklines.

"THIS LIFE-SAVING effect was recorded when traffic patterns and traffic volume were back up to normal after the end of the fuel shortages last year," says Secretary of State Richard Austin, chairman of the Safety Commission. "It is directly related to the enforcement of the 55 mph speed limit."

A summary of study conclusions notes that "the reduction of driver exposure due to the energy crisis does NOT account for the 29 percent reduction in fatal crashes during the first half of 1974."

In addition, the study says the reduction in speeds on all types of roads reduced crash severity, which in turn resulted in fewer traffic deaths.

BUT THE STUDY didn't just point up good.

Austin says findings show drivers in the 17-19 age group generally "were indifferent to both high fuel prices and the lowered speed limit."

"Not only did they show almost no reduction in fatal crashes during the height of the energy crisis, their involvement in fatal crashes actually increased to an all-time high in the period after the energy crisis — when other age groups were maintaining dramatic reductions," he says. The fatality rate in that younger age group went up almost 50 percent in the last half of 1974.

It's suggested that this increase in fatality rate for the 17-19-year-old drivers, as well as "a disproportionate share of speeding violations during the energy crisis," points up a need for more work with younger drivers.

Northville League Victim of 'Accidents'

Jerry Imsland helps Hulsey off the field as athletic director Ed Kricitz (partially hidden left) holds an ice-pack to Hulsey's eye. The Northville Recreation slo-pitch league has had more than its share of accidents during the first half of the season.

By WAYNE LODER

"It's been quite a year," says Northville Recreation athletic director Ed Kricitz as he pushes back the baseball cap that rarely leaves its resting place on his head.

"The season is only half over and if we have another half like the first, we'll need a paramedic out there."

It's not that Kricitz hasn't seen accidents during the years that he has helped direct the Northville recreation men's slo-pitch softball. It's just that he's never seen quite so many in a single season.

"Since the start of the season, we've had four serious accidents and several sprained ankles," explains Kricitz. "In an average season you'd have maybe one serious accident and half a dozen sprained ankles—but this year they're killing each other out there."

As far as serious injuries, there was the time toward the beginning of the season when one outfielder ran into another as they ran for a ball. One had 10-12 stitches on his head while the other received stitches to his lower ear.

"Another had a shoulder separation," recalls Kricitz of a separate incident. "Two outfielders tried to avoid each other and one came in low. The other trying to catch the ball, leaped over the other fellow, caught his feet, and came down on his shoulder."

"Another fellow broke his ankle in two places sliding into third. The bag did him in," says the director. "We've had three other sprained ankles from sliding."

Another time an outfielder for Manufacturers ignored the warning track and ran directly into the fence bar which hit him right between the eyes.

fields that have a warning track. I could see it at a field where isn't one but when you have one that's 10 feet wide, there's no reason for running helter-skelter into the fence."

The latest incidents happened last Friday night in a game between Tavern-Marcus and Winners Circle.

"There was a fellow running toward second trying to stop the double-play. The short-stop let the ball fly and nailed him in the eye."

In a second incident that same game, another player was scrambling for a foul ball down the third baseline and "instead of leaning over the fence, he attempted to stop and slid right under the fence. It was bowed out so tight, he was trapped there and couldn't get out. He couldn't get out until some of the guys came out and lifted up the fence."

"It's kind of like the Keystone Kops," concedes Kricitz. "It's like they're playing for the pennant. It's fine to compete, but I just can't see them running into a fence or not giving into a fellow outfielder."

Kricitz says that he is uncertain what to attribute the abnormally high number of accidents to.

"There are a lot of new teams this year and a lot of team members haven't been playing together very long which could be a reason."

No matter what the reason for the increased accidents, one thing is certain—the recreation department is going to be taking some action.

"After our experiences this year, our supervisory people who are out there will take a basic course in first aid over the winter."

As far as immediate action, Kricitz admits candidly that "We only have little band-aids out there now. We're going to have the big ones from here on out."

Sports Schools Set For Novi Students

Novi Community Education is now accepting registration for several sports "schools" to be held during the summer.

Boys' sessions include baseball, basketball, football and wrestling school while girls' sessions include basketball, cheerleading, softball and volleyball schools. There will be co-ed schools for tennis, golf and summer band.

The boys' baseball is for boys 9-14 years old and will be held at the Novi High School gym and baseball field for two weeks beginning July 21. Held each week-day, the class will cost $12 and registrants should bring their own workout gear. It is coached by Rick Trudeau.

The football school, which will be coached by John Cicchelli will run from July 7-August 1 and is for students presently in the 4-9th grades.

Location is the high school football field and cost is $12. The class will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The boys' basketball school will also be coached by

Tire, Fisher Triumph

Top Novi Teams Clash

Anytime you have the top teams in the league clash, there's bound to be plenty of action and Novi Recreation slo-pitch fans got a double dose last week as the top teams in both divisions tangled.

In the American Division, Novi Tire edged Michigan Tractor 6-5 while in the National Division, Fisher Sporting crumpled Novi Inn 11-5.

Both divisions had made a full circuit and held their position night where the first and second place teams clash, as well as the third and fourth, and the fifth and sixth.

In the National Division, Fisher Sporting, Novi Inn, and Action were all tied at 4-1 and the luck of the draw pitted Novi Inn and Fisher Sporting while Action played the JC's. Though score sheets have not been returned, Action easily defeated the JC's 16-3. Jim Storm also defeated the Novi Police Officers Association 23-11.

Both Novi Tire and Michigan Tractor entered action last week with identical 4-1 records in command of the American division race.

Michigan Tractor bunched four runs in the first inning and added another in the fourth, but it wasn't enough as Novi Tire came up with one run in the third, two in the fourth and two in the fifth before the winning run in the seventh inning.

Michigan Tractor started out like it was going to take complete control of the game as four runs crossed the plate and another runner threatened before Novi Tire got the final two outs in the first inning.

Dave Brown led off with a single and then watched as four of his teammates hit back to back doubles. Clark Moran, Joseph LaFleche, Edward Brown, and Jose Dominguez all slugged out doubles.

Dominguez single followed by Joseph Bishop's double in the fourth was the only other Michigan Tractor run.

Some heads-up running by Bill Wichman, who led off the third inning for Novi Tire with a single netted the winner its first run as he made it home on Mike Fenchel's single.

Tom Renner's single, Dave Gienapp's double and Larry Wichman's single in the fourth added a pair of runs for Novi Tire.

An error to get a man on base and a triple by Reynel Rodriguez were the big factors in Novi Tire's two run fifth inning. Bill Wichman wrapped up the contest for his team in the sixth inning with a homer.

In the big game in the National Division, the game wasn't quite so close as hot Fisher Sporting Goods handed Novi Inn its second straight defeat in two weeks.

Fisher didn't waste any time putting its bats to work as lead-off man Ron Thompson singled, pitcher Richard Elie slammed a double and Joe Donner ripped a triple to give the league leader the first three runs as Donner came home on a ground out.

Novi Inn responded with a single run in the second inning as Paul Christian doubled and was sent home on a single by George Hawkins.

Fisher came right back utilizing an error followed by singles by Elie and Donner to add its fourth run in the third inning to take the lead 4-1.

Young Racers Battle In Soap Box Derby

Northville's Soap Box Derby is rapidly approaching as youngsters throughout the area have been preparing their racers in anticipation of the head-to-head battle for trophies and prizes.

The derby will be held this Saturday at 10 a.m. on the Maplewood Street Hill, the traditional site of the derby.

Two racers will compete per heat in the double elimination contest and trophies will be awarded to the first, second, and third place finishers.

There are no entry fees for the derby which is open to all community youngsters between the ages of eight and 13 years. Advance registration is not required although it may be given to

Rules for the competition are:

1. Each racer must have four wheels set on two parallel axles.

2. Wheel diameter must not exceed 16 inches and the car must run only on gravity. No motors of any type are permitted.

3. The racer must have some sort of steering system.

4. The racer must have some sort of braking system.

5. The driver must wear a protective helmet of some sort.

6. Judges may disqualify a racer if it is in unsafe operating condition or violates the spirit of the above rules.

For further information, contact Wolfe at 477-0119.

Lapham's, Joe's Little Bar Collide for Softball Lead

Last night's battle between Lapham's and Joe's Little Bar promised to settle a lot in the American League Recreation slo-pitch softball league.

Entering the game, both teams only had two losses while Lapham's had six wins and Joe's Little Bar only five because of a rain-out last week.

Lapham's was an easy victor over J&J Roofing 13-1 while Tavern-Marcus fell out of first with two losses.

Lapham's just ripped apart J&J's pitching and probably would have almost doubled the score again had it battled the usual seven innings. As it was, the game was stopped after 4½ innings due to the 10 run rule.

Though J&J gained one run in the first, Lapham's quickly responded in the bottom of the inning with two runs thanks to a triple by George Borth and singles by Rich Sievert and Jim Lake.

The second inning was decisive for Lapham's as six runs crossed the plate.

Lapham's bats were pretty silent in the third, but seeing a way to end the game quickly, Lapham's shoved five runs home in the fourth. Nadeau's triple was the big blow scoring a couple of runs, but Lake, Daryl Egeland, Alberts, and Phillippi tallied singles.

J&J only tallied two hits. Upstart Manufacturers Bank used some powerful batting to hand Tavern-Marcus only its second loss of the season.

Manufacturers was well on its way to the upset in the first inning when four runs crossed the plate. Jim Newman's homer sent home two runs as Omar Harrison was on base with a single. Bob Simpson's triple added two more runs as Gary Temple had reached base on a single and Larson had walked.

The bankers cashed in for two more runs in the third on Larson's and Don VanIngen's singles, interspersed with three walks.

Tavern-Marcus came back with four runs of its own thanks to a pair of round trip clouts by Keith Heathcock and Don Whitlow. James Benore, Bob Middleton and Toby Roggenbuck also slashed out singles as the score was narrowed to 9-4.

Singles by VanIngen and Norton followed by a sacrifice by Kucher added another run for Manufacturers in the fifth while a double by Steve Baluha and an error helped the loser score another run in the fifth.

Whitlow smacked his second homer in the sixth for Tavern-Marcus to wrap up the scoring.

Dazed by the loss, Tavern-Marcus completely lost its cool as Winner's Circle smacked out 16 hits on their way to a 14-3 victory.

Jeff Moon's triple gave Winner's Circle its first run as Norm Anger pushed him home with a single.

Tavern-Marcus looked like the team of old in the bottom of the first as an error, walk, and back to back singles by Roggenbuck, Middleton, and Heathcock gave Tavern-Marcus three runs. But that was all the loser could put on the scoreboard.

Winner's Circle meanwhile scored three in the third thanks to singles by Steve Utley and John Delinski added to a double by Moon and a sacrifice by Jerry Inslund. Three more runs scored for the victor in the fifth on singles by Utley, Moon and Inslund.

Winner's Circle put the contest out of reach in the sixth with five runs. A pair of walks added to singles by Delinski, Inslund, Anger, John Sting and Dick O'Hare pushed across the runs.

Winner's Circle had more of a fight earlier in the week but still managed to pick up a slim 3-1 win over last place Spagy's.

Fairway Landscape jumped out of the cellar by defeating Hamlet Food Mart 15-12.

Hamlet started off the action scoring three runs in the first and five in the second. Hits by Nick Lubnik, Dave Fendele, Bob Engel and Jim Hosteller accounted for the first inning runs while a pair of walks and errors added to singles by Fendele, Lubnik, Engel, Hosteller and Duane Bloomquist pushed across the five runs in the second.

Fairway responded with five runs in the third on singles by Ron Hubbard, Joe Hay, Dave Coe, Gerald Levan and Matt McIntosh.

Seven runs in the third put Fairway ahead to stay. Hubbard, Hay, Levan, John Norris, Gerry LaCross and Craig MacDermaid accounted for the runs.

Fairway added a pair of runs in the sixth on singles by Hay and Coe.

Hamlet rounded out its scoring with three runs in the sixth on singles by Brian Maston, Norm Kubitskey, and a triple by Lubnik who then scored on an error.

Winner's Circle came back with two runs in the bottom of the inning on a walk, a single by Utley and a double by Moon. Winner's Circle waited until the sixth inning to push another run across on an error and a double by Utley.

BOTTOMS UP—Bill Norton of Winners Circle finds himself on the ground as he tries to make it to first base during last week's

Slo-Pitch Bats Come Alive

Jerry Inslund recalls his football past as he bowls over a catcher to tally a run

It wouldn't be too surprising if the few residents near Thomson Field begin complaining of the noise.

If last week's action in the National League of Northville Recreation Slo-pitch is any gauge, there's no doubt the crack of the bat is becoming louder and more prevalent.

The National League race shapes up to be a battle between four teams and each one has proven that its offensive strength will have to be reckoned with.

Tavern—leader of the league with an 8-0-1 record, stymied Ross Northrop 12-1 and third place Joe's Party Pantry 14-5. The second place Cyclones dumped the Presbyterian team 13-3 and the VFW 29-3 while the fourth place Eagles whipped the Lutherans 18-5.

The big game of the week had to be Tavern's clash with Joe's Party Pantry. The Pantry team had six wins and only one loss going into the contest compared with Tavern's undefeated mark.

Tavern started off the action in control scoring three runs in each of the first and second innings. Singles by Richard Pringle, Jeff Sudz, Bob Hubbard, A. J. Vaughn, and Hugh Bray scored the three runs in the first inning while a triple by Pringle and singles by Vaughn and Rich Wight helped out in the second inning.

Vaughn unloaded a two run homer in the fourth inning and singles by Pringle and Sudz helped Tavern go ahead 9-1 going into the bottom of the fourth.

A homer by Vaughn in the fourth inning yielded two runs as Bob Hubbard had previously reached base on a single.

Singles by Pringle and Bob Kannar added the final run for Tavern in the fifth inning.

The Cyclones whipped up a tidal wave as they destroyed the VFW 29-3. Three singles netted the two first inning runs for the Cyclones and VFW matched that output in the bottom of the first inning.

However, the Cyclones added five runs in the third to take a solid lead. Twelve runs crossed the plate in the fourth inning thanks to a triple by Lisowski and eight other singles. Ten runs in the fifth inning came by way of five singles, several walks and several errors for the Cyclones.

Cyclones also blew down the Presbyterian Mens Club 13-3. Seven runs crossed the plate for the Cyclones in the opening inning which included a homer by M. Lisowski which accounted for three runs.

The Cyclones coasted home from there. J. C. LaPlante went 4-4 at the plate for the winner while J. F. LaPlante hit three singles.

The Eagles continue to be a contender in the race as they bombed the Lutherans 18-5 to record their sixth victory against one loss and one tie.

The Eagles had innings of 1,3,1,7,1 and 5 runs while the Lutherans scored one run in the fourth and four in the fifth.

Bob Primeau's triple and single during the night accounted for three RBI's for the winner. Jerry Maki slugged out three singles also as the Eagles came up with 16 hits.

The Lutherans were led by Joe Grasey who slammed out a triple and double.

Ely's was involved in three contests and picked up a victory over the J.C.'s thanks to a forfeit but dropped the other two contests.

The Presbyterian's came up with 17 hits on way to defeating Ely's 17-12. Big man at the plate for the Presbyterian's was Les Greshaw who wrapped out two doubles and three singles and accounted for six RBI's as well as scoring three times himself.

For Ely's, Tony Rizzo was the big gun punching out two doubles and a single as he scored three times and pushed across three RBI's.

Adray also bounced Ely's 18-7. Strong hitting which accounted for 23 men reaching base for Adray was the cause. Adray scored six times in the first, once in the third, four times in each of the fourth and fifth innings, and three times in the sixth.

Bob Reh was one of the big guns for the winner as he accumulated three singles, and a double scoring three times. Ron Nisun came up with a pair of doubles while Roger Eising claimed a double and two singles as did Chip Simon.

Ely's scored its seven runs in the week. Ross Northrop scored three times in the second, four times in the third, six times in the fifth and once in the sixth.

Jim Moore's triple and double paced the team although Brad McAllister ripped out a double and two singles while Roger Dowdell came up with three singles.

For Adray, Bob Lulek came up with a triple and double.

Little Caesars edged out VFW in the final game of the week, 4-3.

Little Caesars scored three runs in the second and one in the sixth inning to wrap up the game. VFW scored one run in the first and two in the sixth.

A double by John Bauman combined with three singles from teammates was the big blow in the second for the pizza men. Charles Fialon's three singles paced the VFW

Sports Briefs

FRESHMAN WILDCAT and catcher Ricci Mulligan was named by the coaches of the Southeastern Conference to the all league softball team. Brighton placed three players on the team while Saline placed two, as did Dexter. Lincoln and Novi both placed one player on the first team. Novi finished 0-5 in the conference.

JOHN BOLAND, ace Mustang pitcher added another honor to those he accumulated during his high school career as the Detroit News gave him an honorable mention as pitcher in Metro-West. Boland finished the year with a 6-1 record on the mound, losing his lone game to Plymouth Salem in the district tournament. Boland pitched Northville to a second place finish in the Western Six.

OPEN SWIMMING at the Northville High School pool will begin June 24. The pool will be available for public use from 3-5 p.m. each weekday and from 1-5 p.m. each Saturday.

Admission to the program is $1.65 per student and $1 per adult. All participants must bring their own suit and a towel. Non-swimmers and children under eight years of age should be accompanied by an adult.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT

by Larry Wichman

Can you imagine a big league baseball player leading the league in making most errors, in being struck out the most times, and in hitting into the most doubles plays — and still being voted Most Valuable Player in his league for that year? Did you know this once happened? It was 1942 Joe Gordon did all those things, yet won the Most Valuable award that year in the American League. There's a lesson to be learned from this. It shows that even though you have faults, you can overcome them and be recognized for your good points.

How do you figure this one. Only about 10 per cent of the U.S. population is left handed, yet almost 30 per cent of major league baseball players are left handed!

Here's a golf question that may surprise you. Of all the pro golfers in the world active today, which one has won the most tournaments? It's not Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Billy Casper or Gary Player, but Roberto DeVicenzo of Argentina, who's best remembered for the scorecard error that cost him the 1968 U.S. Masters championship. DeVicenzo has won more overall golf tournaments than anyone else, although most golf fans wouldn't guess that he had.

I bet you didn't know that oil changes, tune-ups and many other services were available at the Uniroyal Dunlap Tire store...

Top Teams Clash

Three more runs crossed the plate for Fisher in the fourth inning thanks to an error, walk, a fielder's choice and singles by Dan Kadel and Thompson.

Novi Inn's lone run in the fourth came about thanks to another double by Christian and another single by Hawkins.

Caucarella's double and John Pitt's single added another run for Fisher in the fifth although that was eclipsed by Novi Inn's three runs thanks to singles by Ed Cheeseman, Mike Bingham, and Harvey Wilson with the big blow a double by Dave Otlewski. But that was all the runs there were for Novi Inn.

Ron Thompson slashed out a long homer after Gary Staub's single to give Fisher a pair of insurance runs in the sixth inning. A double by Donner and single by Larry Taylor made it 11-5 in favor of Fisher to end the game in the seventh inning.

Though all eyes were glued to the action among the division leaders, there was plenty of competition among the other teams.

J.P. Realty came through with 10 runs in the final three innings to clip Community Management 10-3. Community started off the scoring in the third inning with two runs, mostly thanks to a single by Marshall Mesaros and a double by Steve Brown.

Another run was added in the fourth inning after a Community Management man reached base on an error and crossed the plate on a triple by Dave Baseman.

Realtors, seeing themselves falling behind, began some fireworks of their own and tied up the game in the bottom of the fourth inning. A pair of walks starting off that inning helped, but a double by Roger Pelchat, single by Bennett Wright, and a single by John Withers were the big blows.

J.P. Realty took the lead in the fifth with a single by Carl Helwig, a fielder's choice, an error, and a single by Pelchat adding two runs.

Fireworks erupted in the sixth for the realtors as Dave Piotrowicz and Ron Walk both clouted round trippers. John Withers, Murl Schmitz and Carl Helwig accounted for other hits in the four run sixth inning.

In the other reported game, Lakewood soundly thumped Portec 14-6.

An error and singles by Dan Taylor and Curtis Nicholas made it 3-0 in the third inning and Lakewood upped its lead to 7-0 in the fourth as Dan DelGrosso, Roger Davis, James Breen had back to back singles before Don Kolodziejewski and Stan Saladyk followed up with a pair of doubles.

In the top of the fifth inning, a single by John Helling and a long homer by DelGrosso gave Lakewood a seemingly insurmountable lead of 9-0.

But Portec was not ready to play dead and singles by Jerome Miller, John Herms, Thomas Burba and Greg DeBord, along with a double by James Kaczmarezyk and a two run homer by Douglas Arseneau gave Portec six quick runs in the fifth. But the effort proved to be futile as Lakewood responded with five hits and five runs of its own in the top of the sixth.

PARSON to PERSON

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." (John 14:27). For the past several weeks we've been considering what real peace is and where it's found.

People today know no peace. They're looking for it in a bottle and as a result, we have 25 million known alcoholics, in drugs, sex, and pills. One man said, "I've got so many troubles that if any more come it'll be two weeks before I can worry about it."

"There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto wicked" (Isaiah 48:22). And Isaiah 57:21 says the same thing. "Peace, peace, when there is no peace" (Jeremiah 8:11). "We looked for peace, but no good came and behold, a time of trouble" (Jeremiah 8:15).

Did you know that there'll be no world peace? That may be somewhat shocking, but that's what the Bible says. God doesn't give peace to wicked men. I appreciate the intentions of the men in Washington, D.C., but they are wicked men (our elected leaders contribute to the degradation of that city) and God does not give peace to the wicked.

Peace comes from God and He gives it to His own, those who've received Him. While there'll be no world peace, there can be real peace in your own heart by knowing Christ. Do you?

Human life is alluring and seductive. There are few who really know it. Many regard it as the true life even though it is so short and often disappointing. They follow after the fleeting pleasure of this life even though the fruits are very bitter. They even rejoice in the forbidden fruit that they may sorrow forever. They enjoy "a little sin" for a season that they may suffer for an eternity.

There is but one help. It is JESUS CHRIST. He has stated it clearly:

"...As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

"That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

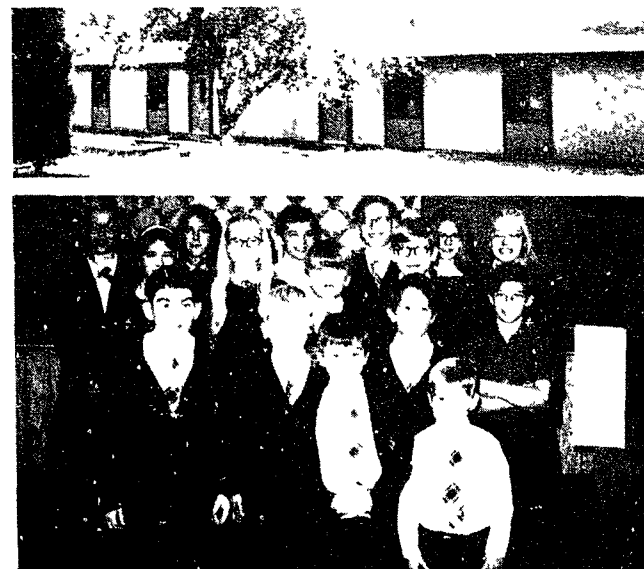

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life.

"For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

MRS. ELLA M. FOREMAN
Mrs. Ella M. Foreman, 71, a Northville resident until she moved to Pontiac in 1961, died June 10 at Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of a year.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Casterline Funeral Home, Incorporated, with Pastor Bruce Hanson of Peace Lutheran Church in Pontiac officiating. Interment was in Novi Cemetery.
Mrs. Foreman was born October 30, 1903, in Novi to Gustave A. and Emilie (Janetski) Bernhardt. She was the widow of Earl A. Foreman.
She had been making her home in Waterford where her son, Ted E. lives.
Other survivors are two brothers, Fred and Henry Bernhardt, both of Northville; a grandson, Ted Foreman II, of Waterford.
Mrs. Foreman was a member of Peace Lutheran Church in Pontiac and of the Lutheran Ladies Auxiliary, Chapter 22, in Northville.

A controversial Wixom rezoning request which would have allowed establishment of a truck terminal for repair of trucks on Grand River was denied unanimously by the council last Tuesday. Council did approve a second rezoning.

Novi Council Considers Two Rezoning Pleas

Novi council approved one rezoning last week but denied a second request.
Council approved a rezoning request by Joseph Wydak, Douglas Haulund, and Jack Kavlakian who had requested that 300 feet of property on Novi Road across from Westridge Downs be rezoned from M1 to C2.
Purpose of the rezoning was to allow for a public garage for auto repairs. The planning board, had previously approved the rezoning 6-2 while the council approved it 5-1 with councilman Louie Campbell opposed.

Council, however, denied a request for rezoning of 10 acres at 11 Mile and Whipple adjacent to the C and O Railroad and Novi Heights Subdivision. That request was for a change from R1 to M2 (restricted manufacturing).
The planning board had previously voted 8-0 to deny it because the only present access is through a residential area. The board also did not approve of having M2 zoning abutting residential property and said that the request is inconsistent with present industrial zoning in the area.
Council denied the request unanimously.

Council also approved an ordinance amendment to set fee for appeal to the Board of Appeals by resolution of the

Debbie Cox Given

MSU Scholarship

Debbie Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Cox of Haggerty Road in Novi has been awarded the Michigan State University Community College Honors scholarship.

Miss Cox, a 1974 graduate of Novi High School has been attending Oakland Community College where she has attained a 3.85 grade point average. She will be entering Michigan State University in January as a junior and will major in music therapy.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hayes had requested that the council rezone the northeast corner of Napier and Grand River roads from RA1 (single family residential) to M1 (light manufacturing).

Purpose of the request was to set up a truck terminal to service semi's owned by Stanley Hayes Sand and Gravel of Livonia.

Representatives of the company contended that Grand River is not suited to single family residential at council. The ordinance had previously set the amount at $25.

The council postponed until August 11 a public hearing on a request by A.H. Meyer for rezoning of his property from RFI to AG.

Council also approved hiring approximately three parks and recreation assistants.

Board Appoints Three

Three persons were appointed to boards and commissions by Northville Township Board in action last week.

Named as representative from the board to the Advisory Citation Committee for residents and police officers was Trustee Richard Mitchell

Trustee James Nowka was appointed to represent the township at Housing Commission meetings with the City of Northville.

Re-appointed to a term on the Water and Sewer Commission was Armin J. Grossman. His new term runs until the first Tuesday in July, 1978.

that point and that access to I-96 was good.

"This traffic problem is not going to decrease or remain the same unless other class A roads are constructed," said a spokesman. He also pointed out that Detroit Edison lines located there will make development of single family residential difficult.

Representatives also contended that trucks would not pass on Grand River near Leisure Co-op Homes, the main pocket of opposition to the rezoning.

"Now they are painting a rosy picture in words," said George Johns, an opponent of the rezoning representing several residents at Leisure Co-op.

Johns asked that the council concur with the planning commission which had previously gone on record opposing the rezoning.

"It's R-1 now and if this is rezoned to M1, then the next piece will go and the next and the next," said Johns.

Another resident of Leisure Co-op said that when the residents moved to that apartment complex, they had assurance that the property along Grand River would remain zoned as it had been.

Councilman Jim Lahde moved for rejection of the rezoning because of pollution problems and said it would be spot zoning. Lahde also questioned the quality of growth that would be coming in.

Councilmember Lillian Spencer agreed "They (Leisure Co-op Apartments) were here first. They invested money and I don't think they should have to put up with it."

Councilman Gunnar Mettala noted that the city would have control of the establishment but Lahde disagreed. Other councilmen questioned how much control the council has over Holloway Sand and Gravel Company.

The motion to deny was unanimously approved.

A second request by Sami Poota, owner of the Wixom General Store to have rezoned a parcel of land from M1 (light manufacturing) to B3

The parcel in question is east of South Wixom Road, south of Pontiac Trail, and west of the C&O railroad tracks.

Purpose of the rezoning was to move the store just south of a Kentucky Fried Chicken planned for Wixom Road.

Bill Abrams of Wainstock questioned whether there would be screening and Planning Board Chairman Gerald Hieber said a six foot masonry wall would have to be constructed before Building Inspector William Tyler would issue an occupancy permit.

The rezoning was unanimously approved by council.

Asks Repair

Correction of a drainage problem on Main Street, immediately west of Main Street Elementary School, has been requested by Mrs. Laura Hixson.

A resident in the house next to the new school parking lot, Mrs. Hixson told council members Monday that water this past week ran down the roadside, into the drive, along the sidewalk to her home and thus flooded the basement.

A catch basin exists, she pointed out, but the curb needs replacement to make it effective.

Northville Council Minutes

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES

June 2, 1975

Mayor Allen called the meeting to order at 8 p.m.

ROLL CALL. Present: Allen, Biery, Folino, Nichols, Vernon. PREVIOUS MEETING. Minutes of the May 20th Council meeting stand approved as submitted.

MINUTES OF BOARDS & COMMISSIONS. Minutes of the Beautification Commission of April 16th and the Library Commission of May 25th were received and placed on file.

APPROVAL OF BILLS. Motion by Councilman Folino to approve the City Manager's report on the 106 bumper blocks totaling $1,219.00 from Nu Cast Step & Stone Co.

Carried unanimously. Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Biery to approve the bills as presented:
Equipment Fund $4,224.50
General Fund 36,746.02
Local Street Fund 1,063.47
Major Street Fund 2,035.15
Payroll Fund 8,992.02
Public Improvement Fund 70,516.95
SDR Investments 160,000.00
Recreation Fund 6,229.22
Sewer and Water Fund 11,004.29
Trust and Agency Fund 8,765.00

Carried unanimously. COMMUNICATIONS. None.

CITIZENS. Virginia Martin, 331 S. Rogers, presented a petition requesting action to require the owners of 370 First St. to maintain the house in a safe and sanitary condition. They feel the house is a menace to the neighborhood.

City Manager reported that the City Building Inspector checked the house and said it is not structurally unsafe but primarily deteriorated on the outside. City Attorney noted that the legal problem is one of establishing ownership, as it is currently in Probate Court because the original owner is deceased. He will check into the status of this to determine what can be done.

Bill Spess, 341 S. Rogers, said he lives behind the house and being a volunteer fireman he is concerned with the possibility of vandals setting fire to it and the damage it could do to surrounding homes.

Councilman Folino has discussed the problem with the possible owner of the property, Ken Farrell, and said that Mr. Farrell feels the house should be demolished but he does not have the funds to do it and does not want to sell.

Neighbors reported that both doors to the house are open, but that the windows were boarded up.

Council assured those present that the doors would be boarded up immediately and the Mayor instructed the City Attorney to use his judgement if there are any legal steps the City can take to rectify the situation.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM, GRACE & BASELINE AREA. City Manager reported that the "No left turn" signs put up recently have helped curb the thru traffic in this area. A further report will be made next meeting.

Councilman Folino suggested moving the trucks prohibited sign for Center St. further east because trucks do not have enough time to turn before getting to Center St.

SEMOG GENERAL ASSEMBLY. Notice was received of SEMOG's General Assembly June 26th. City Manager said the 1990 Transportation Plan will be discussed. He will attend and Councilman Folino and Vernon are planning to go.

City Manager reported that SEMOG has temporarily changed Center Street's designation on the 1990 Transportation Plan.

UNION NEGOTIATIONS. City Manager reported verbal acceptance of the economics from both City employee unions.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS FUND. City Manager presented a breakdown of expenditures for the 75.76 Public Improvements Fund. This will be discussed further at the next meeting.

Mayor Allen recommended that one item on the list, that of a City gardener, is needed now and Council concurred.

Councilman Folino suggested a D.P.W. man be used as gardener and a college student could be hired for the summer to take his place. City Manager was directed to go ahead with this.

Councilman Vernon suggested that the boulevard on S. Main be curbed and lawns planted. Mayor Allen recommended that the Beautification Commission draw up a landscaping plan and submit it to Wayne County Road Commission for their approval.

PARKING DECK. City Manager reported that at the annual Building Authority meeting the parking deck was discussed relative to the leakage problem, and a third method of solving this was suggested by pumping a sealant in from underneath under pressure. Last Friday the City Manager and Councilman Folino met with representatives of Peerless Cement to discuss the problem.

Councilman Folino stated that Peerless will provide the City with complete information on this particular method and that Council may inspect buildings that have had this treatment.

City Manager recommended that the interior stairway at the deck be eliminated and that an outside one be constructed on the east side and a smaller one on the west side. An assessment would be necessary, but the area merchants seem to be highly in favor of the plan.

PARKING SPACES FOR LONG BUILDING. Memo from City Manager was discussed regarding a parking assessment for a portion of Glenn Long's building at 190 E. Main to allow an office tenant to occupy it. Mr. Long would require six spaces.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Nichols to set the cost per parking space at $1,800 to the property owner, to be in effect until January 1, 1976, at which time it will be reviewed and adjusted and at six-month intervals thereafter.

Carried unanimously. Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Folino to approve the parking assessment contract between Glen and Lois Long and the City of Northville, subject to the six-month review in reference to the policy just established.

Carried unanimously. WAYNE CO. TAX SUIT. City Attorney briefed Council on the tax suit filed that is temporarily blocking distribution of tax bills and could become serious if it is not settled soon.

APPOINTMENTS. The list of commission terms due to expire July 1st was held over to the next meeting.

MECHANICALLY PROPELLED VEHICULAR RACING ORD. Memo from the City Manager regarding a proposed change in the Mechanically Propelled Vehicular Racing Ordinance was discussed which would allow rescheduling in the event of rain.

Stanton Lorenz, head of the organization which hosts the motorcycle races, was present and explained the situation that had occurred the previous Saturday when the race was rained out. He requested permission to hold the race Thursday evening, June 5th.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Folino to approve the Thursday night racing within the confines of the ordinance.

Yeas: Allen, Folino, Nichols, Vernon. Abstained: Biery. Carried.

City Manager and Attorney will work on the proposed amendment to this ordinance and have it ready for consideration at the next meeting.

SIDEWALK SALES. Charles Lapham was present to request the closing of Center St. from Cady to Dunlap and Main St. from Hutton to Wing for the sidewalk sales August 2nd. In the event of rain he asked to hold the sale the following Saturday.

Respectfully submitted,
Patricia Rajdi

Police Blotter

Kotyuk Bound Over to Circuit Court

In Township

Frank John Kotyuk of South Lyon was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court to face charges of assault with intent to rob while being armed and felonious driving. He waived examination on the charges recently when he appeared in 35th District Court and will appear for circuit court examination July 3. He is being held in Wayne County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Kotyuk was arrested following a three car accident May 18 at Hines, Northville and Five Mile roads which reportedly took place after an armed robbery attempt. A Dearborn girl who sustained burns after her car exploded in the accident remains hospitalized, Northville Township Police said.

Three thefts in two days took place in Northville Township between June 9 and 10.

A New Hudson man had $50 stolen from his 1970 Pontiac convertible early Tuesday evening on June 10.

According to the Northville Township Police, the car was parked along the shoulder of the Griswold gravel pit when the theft occurred. The money was in an envelope in the locked glove compartment. Police discovered pry marks along the lock of the compartment and $60 was left untouched.

A statue and a mailbox, total worth $207, were stolen from a house in the West Seven Mile area between 1 and 2 p.m. on Monday, June 9. The statue was five feet high and made of grey concrete.

A whitewall radial tire, valued at $70, was stolen between last week Monday, and Tuesday on Eddington Place in Highland Lakes.

Township police found pry marks around the lock of the 1975 Gran Torino. The tire, in the trunk at the time, was stolen in the early evening.

In Novi

A Novi businessman found that the latter part of May was a poor time to do business as he found himself defrauded of $10,264 as the result of business dealings with a corporation he had dealt with for 1½ years.

Detectives would not release all details, but the subject who allegedly obtained the money is a known international fugitive who is being sought by the FBI, the Novi Police Department and another federal agency.

According to detectives, the man is known to police in several states and other countries as a confidence man and had check artist who has been involved in various types of fraudulent schemes.

Aside from the $10,264 obtained in the Novi fraud, the subject is also believed to have obtained money in the Detroit area at the same time using fraudulent means.

Detectives refused to release the subject's name and possible whereabouts due to the subject's past ability to avoid apprehension and prosecution.

A Ward's mini-bike valued at $236 was stolen from a shed behind a residence on East Lake Drive June 9-11.

According to reports, a door had been forced open to gain entry. Police are investigating.

Novi police on routine traffic patrol June 9 recovered a $5000 Buick which had been stolen earlier from Livonia.

The car was found at 12 Mile and Taft Road. The tires had apparently been changed and the ignition was punched.

Golf clubs and other golf equipment as well as a radial tire were stolen last week from a locked vehicle on Brookforest. Total value of the goods taken was set at $355.

The trunk was popped open to gain entry to the goods.

Two tires valued at $135 were discovered stolen last week from a home in the 27000 area of Taft Road. Police are investigating.

A $100 Sears tape deck was taken from a car parked in the 40900 block of Malott June 8. Wires were cut to remove the tape deck.

A Raleigh competition 10 speed bicycle valued at $280 was removed June 6 from a garage in the 23000 block of Stonehenge.

In Northville

Nicholas James Roy of Plymouth was sentenced to three years' probation and ordered to pay court costs amounting to $495 after he pled guilty to a charge of gross indecency between male and female.

Roy, arrested January 15 by Northville City Police, was sentenced recently before Wayne County Circuit Judge Roman S. Gribbs.

The charge stems from an incident January 14 which occurred after Roy picked up a young girl who was hitchhiking.

A Melvindale man was taken to St. Mary Hospital Monday, June 16 after swerving off Eight Mile Road while riding his motorcycle.

Ward L. Hummel, Jr. said he was riding eastbound on Eight Mile near Taft around 6:30 p.m. when he tried to avoid hitting a girl who ran into the street. According to Northville city police Hummel said he did not remember anything else.

A witness to the accident said that Hummel was driving down Eight Mile when suddenly he swerved without warning.

The bike, valued at $125, was first noticed missing by its owners on June 13.

A rash of stereo radio thefts have kept the Northville police busy the past week.

An AM-FM Philco Ford stereo, valued at $250, was stolen from a 1975 Ford Elite between last Wednesday, June 11 and Thursday, June 12.

The incident took place in the 41000 block of Lehigh Lane. No signs of forced entry were found by police. The owner told police the car was locked while in the parking lot. The tuning knobs were also taken.

Thieves took a $250 Philco Ford AM-FM stereo radio from a 1974 Ford Elite that was locked and parked outside a home. The theft occurred in the 19000 block of Schoolhouse Court between last Wednesday and Thursday. The radio was removed without force from the car.

A $250 Philco Ford AM-FM stereo radio was also taken from a 1974 Ford which was parked in the Kenyon Court area last Wednesday or Thursday. The theft occurred early in the morning. The driver's side door was opened using an unknown device according to police.

A Northville township man reported that an AM-FM Philco Ford radio, worth $150, was stolen from his 1975 Mercury Montego in the 41000 block of Leidel Court. The car was locked at the time of the theft. Police did not find any pry marks on the car.

Vandals bent the gate in front of the Consumer Power Company on Napier Road and Seven Mile around 10:30 p.m. last Saturday, June 14.

According to police, a witness saw a new model Ford or Mercury chaining its front car bumper to the middle of the gate. The car then pulled the posts from the ground and bent the gate. Damage was estimated by police at $175 for the gate. A nylon rope and chain were found at the sight.

A 750 cc engine, cycle heads, carburetors, and exhaust pipes worth $400 were stolen from a 1973 Kawasaki motorcycle in the 46000 block of West Seven Mile Road.

The cycle was parked on the west side of the owner's house when the incident occurred. The custom-made and modified parts were stolen by unbolting the assembly from the crank case. Connecting wires and lines had also been cut with side cutter type pliers. Cylinders, bolts, nuts and washers were found on the ground next to the cycle.

Northville city police investigated a report of vandalism at Northville High School last Wednesday, June 11 in the early hours.

A six by four foot window, valued at more than $100, was found broken. It faced the courtyard between the bedroom and the showers. The incident took place on the night of the graduation party.

In Wixom

Two tires valued at $160 were taken the night of June 9 from the rear wheels of a car parked in the Village Apartments.

According to reports, Wixom police received a call of a possible larceny in progress and found the front and rear tires of a car had the lug nuts removed.

Feeling that the thief might return, police waited in an undercover vehicle until 5:12 at which point they decided the thief would not return and left to check other parking lots in the complex.

When police returned three

A Sears Kenmore refrigerator valued at $150 was taken from a living room in Village Apartments. The owner found it missing June 12.

There were no signs of forced entry.

Two 13-year old girls reported they were walking along Beck Road south of Maple when two subjects in a black Ford with a blue top pulled off the side of the road.

One of the occupants stuck out what appeared to be a rifle and yelled "Bang." The girls contacted police after reaching home and Walled Lake Police have also been notified.

Eighteen year-old Gary Maxwell of Detroit received an incapacitating injury at 3 p.m. June 8 when he was thrown from a trail bike after hitting a hole.

Maxwell was riding behind a house on Beck Road when he was thrown. He was conveyed to Botsford Hospital.

Emile Gross, 28, of Drayton Plains received an incapacitating injury June 8 at 1:50 p.m. when his motorcycle was struck by another car.

According to reports, a vehicle driven by David Thomson, 16, of Detroit came off the eastbound I-96 exit ramp and, according to a witness, failed to come to a complete halt striking Thomson who was traveling on Wixom Road. His motorcycle was forced by the impact into another motorcycle alongside, which was driven by Dennis Rogers of Novi. Gross was taken to Botsford Hospital while Rogers had no reported injury.

Police are investigating

Show Biz Draws Councilman

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Last Saturday brought the long awaited stage debut of Fred Morehead. The production is unlikely to draw any rave notices and even less likely to make Fred a star...but then we can't have everything.

There aren't many people around who would allow themselves to be bought at a slave auction, such as Wixomites witnessed in the early days of May, and even fewer who would draw the admiring glances of a modern dance group. But Fred did. And he was bought by the group and immediately cast as a BIRD in Saturday's production. Fred said it didn't take much time to practice up being a bird which might explain some of the weird noises he was making at the council table last Tuesday night.

Unfortunately, an early deadline makes it impossible to give a blow by blow description of Fred's acting role and I'm afraid to let my imagination wander. However, I'm inclined to believe it wouldn't go far enough. So instead of guessing, I'll have to ask you to "tune in next week for the continuing saga of Fred the Bird". Let's hope he didn't lay an egg!

One group of treasure hunters who didn't lay an egg were the Victors, the Hights, and the Dodges of Northridge. They were out last Saturday night solving clues in the Burrough's hunt. They proved to be most clever in their problem solving and captured the first place trophy and the obvious distinction of having a hunt to put on next year. I understand John Victory was not overly anxious to be victorious but that's the way it goes.

Nearly 100 people turned out for the hunt which, strangely enough was put on by last year's winners...Joan and Howard Hollister, Jeannie and Denny Andrews and their friends the Rutherford of Farmington. "Strictly legit", said Joan. "nobody knew what we were up to".

Others from Wixom competing during the evening were Jerry and Mary Jo Naragon, Liz and Rich Peck, the Jerores, Byrds and Hiebers, Bev and Peter Paisley, and Carolyn and Fred Morehead - just to name a few.

Kids didn't need any extra urging to get off the school buses last Thursday...whoops and hollers erupted as every kid celebrated the last day of school. The school day itself was taken up with class picnics and a baseball game between the teachers and sixth grade students. The teachers whopped the kids who were really out for blood while the rest of the school jeered and cheered for the "home team".

Second grade teacher Barb Bayliss brought her hubby to school to entertain the little ones with his music...I was told he sounded just like John Denver...really and truly.

With the teachers unable to join in on the "whoopie's" until Friday, the P.T.A. again served a lovely buffet lunch to them on their extra last day. Coordinated by Karen Boman and helped along by Jane Fitzgerald and Kay Hoard it was a sumptuous way of saying "have a good summer".

School awards were also presented during the last hours of the educational year with honors awarded to sixth grade students. Kathy Tillman, Sally Hollister and Joe Baxter received the citizenship award while Connie Boggs and Jean Houtz were presented with the scholarship award. Kellie Burke and Fred Perry captured the attendance crown with nearly unblemished records. Achievement awards were given to Nancy Steller and Greg Enders.

The Presidential physical fitness awards were presented during the ceremonies to Brigitte Nissen, and Lisa Jasieniecki. Sixth grader Chris Bowman and Dina Haney, a fifth grader, both won the award in the first year category.

Negotiations are underway to purchase the Tiffin house on Wixom and Maple roads and to restore it as a historical landmark. And the first steps are being taken to form a historical society here in Wixom. Its goals, of course, would be to protect and restore a part of Wixom's past. If one looks beneath the surface there is a great deal of history in this town of ours.

Running simultaneously with the historical preservation project is the library sponsored bicentennial manuscript. Both need the support and enthusiasm of our citizens. Old pictures, memorabilia, anecdotes, researchers and people who are willing to spend a little time learning about their city are needed to help in the projects. And, if as it is hoped, the Tiffin property can be saved from a bulldozer, many people, armed with rakes, hoes, hammers and brooms will be needed. To facilitate matters, the library at this point will take calls relating to either project. Call 624-2512...you are needed.

Honors, Degrees Conferred

Students Earn Awards

College of Wooster

Martha E. Gazlay of 221 South Rogers graduated from the College of Wooster at Wooster, Ohio last week.

She received a bachelor of arts degree and a teaching certificate in physical education, her practice teaching having been completed in San Diego, California this spring. In the fall she will be in school taking courses toward a degree in physical therapy.

Adrian College

Sherry Ellison, a junior music and education major at Adrian College, has been named to the dean's list for the spring semester.

To achieve the honor a student must have maintained a 3.25 (B plus) grade point average on the basis of at least 14 credit hours. Those who earned the distinction are listed alphabetically by state and city.

Miss Ellison lives at 552 West Dunlap.

Western Michigan

Three area students were among the 1,454 candidates for bachelor's degrees at Western Michigan University's recent commencement which ended the second semester of the 1974-75 academic year.

Northville students receiving degrees were Karen J. Dyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dyke, 46265 Sunset, and Terry L. Hennings, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hennings, 19713 Hayes Court. A Wixom graduate is Linda S. Kenaga, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kenaga, 47746 Hickory.

As part of the ceremony, Dr. John T. Bernhard was

At L.I.T.

Linda Wroten, 24022 Heartwood, has been named to the dean's honor roll for academic excellence during the past term at the Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Students are placed on the dean's honor roll when they have maintained a 3.5 or better honor point average out of a possible 4 points awarded for an all-A record.

Since a B average earns 3 honor points, all students on the dean's honor roll have maintained a perfect or near perfect record.

Eastern Michigan

Cheryl Wizinsky, daughter of Elizabeth Wizinsky of 40661 Oakwood Drive, Novi, has been selected as a resident advisor for the 1975-76 academic year at Eastern Michigan University.

Students are selected for the position on the basis of academic and social maturity and stability.

She will be a junior at Eastern this fall. She is studying social work and sociology.

Denison University

Sally Sliger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sliger, 18439 Fermanagh Court, was one of about 450 persons receiving bachelor's degrees at Denison University's 134th commencement May 31.

She received a BA degree in history and economics and was a dean's list student and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority in which she was corresponding secretary for a year and pledge trainer during her senior year.
