

Giant Parade, Fireworks Spark Record Crowds

Thousands of people, including many from neighboring communities, flocked to Northville Friday to watch the Fourth of July parade and to enjoy the subsequent holiday festivities at the Mill Race Historical Village.

It was the largest crowd ever to watch the annual parade sponsored by Northville Jaycees and its auxiliary. Adults and youngsters lined both sides of Main Street, four and five people deep, from Hutton west to well past the city hall.

Still more people were strung out along the entire route of the parade, many of whom relaxed in their own yards or in the yards of friends and neighbors as the 69 unit parade passed by under warm sunny skies.

Hundreds more jammed the Mill Race grounds in the afternoon.

And that night a gigantic crowd of spectators turned out for the fireworks in the high school athletic field area. They dotted the hillside on the north edge of the high school parking lot, watched from atop their cars in the parking lot, from the hillside west of Amerman Elementary School, from Cooke Middle School, and from neighborhoods throughout the city.

A major traffic jam developed following the hour-long show. No accidents, however, were reported.

Concerning the fireworks, Jaycee President Tom Walts, who has headed the fireworks display for years, offered a public apology for a "less than satisfactory" performance. He noted that the firm from which the Jaycees had previously purchased its fireworks discontinued operation this year. As a result Jaycees were forced to purchase from an unknown company, which produced less impressive fireworks than the kind Jaycees and the public were accustomed to here, he explained.

The grand finale fizzled, said Walts, who promised it wouldn't happen again.

Despite what Jaycees themselves termed was a poor climax to the day's activities, most everyone enjoyed themselves — avoiding dangerous holiday traffic by staying home and soaking up the summer sunshine and the fun and food cooked up by Jaycees and cooperating organizations.

One of the big features of the day was the watermelon eating contest held at the Mill Race.

Sixty Northville youngsters slobbered their way through a pile of melons. This event, like the parade, chicken barbecue, dunk tank and fireworks, was sponsored by Jaycees

Nine watermelon heats were held pitting children aged 12 and under against each other. Each was given one-eighth of a melon and while parents watched and proudly cheered their kids on to the tune of shouted encouragement from friends, the youngsters gulped down the watermelon, seeds and all.

"That's how my kid eats at home," one father observed

The championship went to David Martin, 10, who ate the whole thing in 32 seconds flat. A close second was notched by Allyson Farquhar, and Colin Alberts took third place.

Other finalists who enjoyed the competition were John and Steve McLellan, Jeff Totten, Doug Martin and Mike Peters.

"Events like this cannot happen without local business contributions," said Jaycee spokesmen. "Our special thanks go to Kroger's (watermelons), John Mach Ford (watermelon trophies made by Steve Millard), Good Time Party Store, Guernsey Dairy and Cloverdale's."

Cycle Racing Triggers Protest; Change Tabled

Council decision on a highly volatile motorcycle racing amendment here was delayed Monday pending legal advice as to whether or not a councilman who works part time at Northville Downs should or should not abstain from voting.

Mayor A. M. Allen postponed the decision making following a heated public hearing in which he demanded order as two members of the audience traded verbal blows.

All but two of the 18 member audience appeared to oppose the amendment, some voiced strong opposition to all motorcycle racing, and one called for the abolishment of all racing, including harness racing.

The amendment under consideration would change the existing city law to permit a Saturday race, washed out because of inclement weather, to be rescheduled the following day, on Sunday. Presently, the law prohibits Sunday racing.

The amendment was requested by Staton Lorenz, president of the motorcycle racing corporation, in the wake of a rained out race this past spring.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie was not present Monday (he is vacationing) to render immediate advice on the abstention matter so the mayor refused to call for a vote, insisting upon legal advice beforehand.

The mayor said the advice is doubly important because the eventual decision of the council could be challenged in court.

The delay developed when one of motorcycle racing's staunchest foes, Frank Pauli, requested that Councilman David Biery abstain from voting because of his management level involvement with Northville Downs (admissions manager). The motorcycle corporation leases the half-mile harness track for its races.

Council voted 5-0 to allow his abstention, but focus of attention then shifted to Councilman Paul Folino, a part-time employee at the Downs.

Folino is an opponent of motorcycle racing, Biery a proponent.

Earlier, Folino himself had noted his 32-year continuous employment at the Downs as part of his defense of harness racing when Charles Toussaint angrily denounced both motorcycle and harness racing, charging that the latter does nothing positive for the community.

It was Toussaint's arguments with John Carlo, executive manager of the Downs, that sparked the mayor's demand for order or leave the room.

In that exchange, Toussaint charged that the Downs has "total disregard" for the citizens of the community, that citizens would be willing to pay higher taxes to get rid of harness racing, that the criminal element attracted to Northville by the Downs is

NEWS BRIEFS

A QUESTIONNAIRE was mailed to senior citizens this week by the Northville Housing Commission, requesting home ownership and income data. The information is to be used to develop averages for use in planning for senior citizen housing in the city. Senior citizens who may not have received the questionnaire, for one reason or another, and who wish to cooperate in this project may obtain copies of the questionnaire at the city hall.

NORTHVILLE SCHOOL'S deficit for the 1974-75 school year is being pegged at $129,125. Board Treasurer P. Roger Nieuwkoop told the board Monday that although the audit has not been held, the June 30 fiscal year shows an increase in the board's previous estimated deficit of $115,000.

AN ESTIMATED 3,000 tax bills went out last week in the City of Northville, signalling the start (July 1) of the new fiscal year. The bills represented more than one-half million dollars, with the bulk being assessed in the Wayne County section of the city ($370,271.92) and the remainder ($174,535.64) in the Oakland County section. City taxes are payable through August 31 without penalty.

PLANNED start tomorrow of the second annual Farmers Market in downtown Northville was postponed one week until more crops have been harvested for sale, according to a Northville Retail Merchants Association.

COUNCILMAN David Biery has been named council representative to the scheduled League of Women Voters meeting tonight (Wednesday) to consider formation of a task force for exploring options open to the school district in the face of a financial crisis.

'Ask for 3 Mills in August'—Spear

An August 18 special millage election has been set by Northville School Board and although the millage rate sought has not been decided, Superintendent Raymond Spear urged the board Monday to "seek at least three mills."

The August election date was established last week Tuesday in a special meeting of the board with members adding that they will set the millage request at their next meeting on July 21.

Spear commented that the proposed $6.2 million budget needs a four mill increase in the tax levy to raise the funds necessary to operate the program for the 1975-76 school year but that he feels it is "unrealistic to go for four mills."

"I feel we can reduce the program somewhat without being injurious to students. But I hope the board considers nothing less than three mills," the superintendent told the board.

The meeting held Monday focused mainly on budget problems of the school district and started an hour late (9 p.m.) while the board waited for a quorum. Absent were Trustees Karen Wilkinson and Martin Rinehart.

In a report to the board, Spear outlined the anticipated revenues and expenditures for the coming school year. He noted the following:

Total anticipated revenue — $5,645,746, including an increase of $609,300 over last year's revenue. $4,413,746 will be raised locally. Increase comes in higher state equalized valuation (SEV), levying .83 mills authorized but not levied this year and a projected increase of 70 students.

Local revenue increase will total $516,989, or about three mills, based on an SEV of $146,500,000 for 1975-76, and $92,314 from state revenues.

Last year the district received $5,187,969 in revenue, including $4,001,080 from local sources. Spear estimates that $151,526 revenue received last year will not be available this year. He cited less transportation reimbursement and the lack of a year-round school grant as examples.

Total anticipated expenditures — $6,219,542, an increase of approximately $1,008,600 over last year which Spear said is "burdening the budget." He said that a reduction of $197,300 was made in the budget before it was presented to the school board with $76,000 of the cuts made in administrative positions.

He said the difference in expenditures and revenues will be $573,796 and that four mills would generate $586,000 in taxes.

Reductions in the expenditures suggested by the administration include line item reductions, $195,440, including reduction of four teaching positions.

Other cuts proposed include reduction of 15 teaching positions, $150,000; elimination of all extra-curricular activities, $110,000; and closing three schools,

Main Street, Cooke Middle and Moraine, $138,500. Spear added that the last cut would total $188,000 with the reduction of five additional staff positions by closing three buildings.

Total of all cuts would be $593,940, or approximately the amount needed to balance the

Tap Dr. Robinson For Fourth Term

By unanimous action of Northville School Board, Dr. Orlo J. Robinson was elected to his fourth term as president of the board.

Board members elected officers and set an August 18 date for a millage vote during a special session last Tuesday.

Also elected by unanimous ballot were Sylvia Gucken to the post of vice-president; Karen Wilkinson, secretary; and P. Roger Nieuwkoop who was re-elected to a second term as treasurer.

Other members completing the board are Trustees Martin Rinehart, John Hobart and Dr. Robert Mandell. Rinehart held the office of president and Hobart was secretary last year.

Dr. Robinson, who is entering his eighth year on the Northville board, served as president in 1970, 1971 and 1972. Last year he held the office of vice-president.

Mrs. Gucken becomes the first woman to ever serve as vice-president of the Northville board. In 1973, she was secretary of the board. In other action last Tuesday, school board members unanimously voted to hold a special millage election on Monday, August 18. The millage rate will be determined at the board's next special meeting on July 21. See related story on Page One of The Record

City, Township Eye CETA Fund Use

Although federal grants to the city and township under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) has not been entirely established, it appears local grants will equal or exceed last year's receipts.

In the case of the city, the amount of money to be received is clouded by the fact that Oakland County has not announced the amount of any of its disbursements. Wayne and Oakland are the clearing houses for local level grants.

Nevertheless, City Manager Steven Walters, predicts the total this year will be "about the same" as last year, meaning that the five city employees hired and paid with CETA funds last year be retained.

The city has been notified that it will receive $8,100 through Wayne County under the Title II section of CETA. As for Title VI monies, the city has been allocated $32,000 but the county is expected to take part of that amount for employment of county personnel. Thus, Walters estimates the city will receive from $16,000 to $24,000 in Title VI monies.

He predicts the city also will

Local Woman Aids Opera in Michigan

Mrs. James Gorden of Northville, a supporter of the Michigan Opera Theatre and one of five members on the planning committee for ticket sales, attended the official launching of the 1975-76 season in June in Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. George Romney opened her home for the meeting for 100 ticket committee members. "The Romneys are interested in seeing things like the opera happen in the city," Mrs. Gorden reports.

The upcoming season was discussed by David DiChiera, founder and general director of MOT, which presents professional productions of opera in English at Music Hall Center in downtown Detroit.

The new season, it was announced, will include "Porgy and Bess," October 3, 5, 8, 10 and 11; "LaBohème," November 7, 9, 12, 14 and 15; "Lucia di Lammermoor," January 16, 18, 21, 23 and 24, and "The Barber of Seville," February 6, 8, 11, 13 and 14.

OPERA HELPER—Mrs. James Gorden of Northville looks over upcoming programs of the Michigan Opera Theatre with David DiChiera, founder and general director, as the new season officially got under way at a meeting at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. George Romney. Mrs. Gorden is one of 100 ticket committee members and one of five members of the planning committee for sales. She has brochures and order forms on hand for the new season, beginning with "Porgy and Bess" October 3 at Detroit Music Hall. She may be called at 349-7123.

Reunion's A Big One For Derrick Family

By JEAN DAY

A SURPRISE reunion brought together 52 members of the immediate family of Florence and Peter Derrick during the Fourth of July holiday at their home at 4894 West Eight Mile Road. Thirteen of the couple's 14 children with spouses and 33 grandchildren participated.

"It took half a year to plan it," reports their daughter, Mrs. Donald (Mable) Byington of Livonia, who relates how they all drove in together in a procession Friday to begin the three-day festivities. They included backyard cookouts and games for the children. Climaxing the reunion was a celebration marking Mrs. Derrick's birthday, which falls on July 6.

The couple's oldest son, Ralph, his wife and three daughters attended from Rapid City, South Dakota, where he is stationed with the Air Force. Their daughter, Susan, also in the Air Force, came from Reese Air Force Base in Texas.

Another daughter, Mrs. Robert (Grace) Reese, her husband and three children came from Cheshire, Massachusetts. Mrs. James (Faith) Scott, with her husband and three children came from Glenn, Michigan. Mrs. George (Hope) Hannah and her family came from Farmington.

Sons Jack of Northville, Richard of Livonia and Charles of Brighton and their families were on hand as were the Byingtons, Mrs. Joseph (Frances) Fettes and family of Walled Lake, sons Mario of West Bloomfield and Angelo of Northville and their wives. A daughter, Theresa, lives at home.

Only absent child was Peter, Jr., of Colorado who was not able to attend. The couple's only living parent, Mrs. Frances Derrick of Livonia, attended as did "Derrick's" brother, Robert, and sister, Dorothy. The only grandson not on hand was the Hannahs' son, Andy, who is in the U.S. Navy.

"We plan to do it again in five years," Mrs. Byington adds.

KING'S MILL residents in court 13 celebrated the Fourth of July with a block party Friday night beginning with a potluck at 6 p.m. and continuing with a sing-along. About 50 residents and friends were expected.

ANNUAL PICNIC and plant auction of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Fund and Garden Association will be held at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the Mill Race Village. Mrs. Warner Krause, president, is hoping they'll be able to set up tables under the trees — but is glad the old library building will be available in event of rain.

Auctioneer Mary Ware will sell plants which members are to bring, along with their table service and passing dish for the potluck picnic. Mrs. Ware again is donating a popular hens-and-chickens wall hanging plant as her contribution. The event is a guest day.

Mrs. Joseph Keese is hostess chairman, assisted by Mrs. Irving

McLeod, Mrs. Orin Hove and Mrs. Robert Yoder. This will be the last meeting of the branch until September 8 — when those bulbs you plant in the fall to bloom in spring will be the program topic.

TENNIS PLAYERS in the Northville Newcomers tennis league not only improved their game but had so much fun while doing so that a winter league already is being planned.

Thirty Newcomer couples enjoyed a tennis party and potluck dinner at the Lexington Commons courts and shelter last month following six weeks of league play. The finale was organized by Mrs. Jerrie Kissel.

Seventy Newcomers participated in the tennis league. Mrs. Richard Webster, chairman, announces that winners in the ladies singles are Pat Brown, beginner; Jean Connelly, intermediate, and Joy Holloway, advanced.

Couples winners are Pat and Jim Brown, beginner; Linda and Harvey Tull, intermediate; and Bob and Judy Lorenz, advanced.

The winter league is being organized by Mrs. Thomas Spade, 349-7819, who may be contacted for information.

SUMMER IN MEXICO is more than a vacation for Melissa Robinson, now a senior at Grand Valley State College and a dean's list student. She left June 14 for summer school at Guadalajara where she will earn 15 credits.

Her mother, Mrs. Thomas Sechler of Northville, reports that she "rode the bus all the way to Guadalajara." Melissa also is the daughter of Paul Robinson of Warren.

A Spanish major, she is staying with a Mexican family on the international collegiate program. Before returning the end of August she will take a two-week field trip "back-packing" to ruins in the Yucatan — 900 miles from Guadalajara.

ACTIVITIES of former Northville residents are newsworthy. Dorothy Wroten, who moved with her family to Commerce Lake area about four years ago and was well-known here for her creative painting on tin and wood, was the organizer of an arts and crafts show held the end of June at Byers Country Store, one of Michigan's historical sites.

Authentic old-time crafts were demonstrated with two Northville residents, Suzy Mynatt and Gloria Teeter, assisting with demonstrations of chair caning and spinning. This first show was such a delight with 30 craftsmen participating, Mrs. Mynatt reports, that a fall repeat is anticipated. She stresses that it was unusual for its adherence to true folk art. The setting, she adds, is worth a trip to Commerce Village.

From Florida comes the announcement that Bruce and Bev McAllister are opening a "south" studio in the Mullett Bay Plaza on U.S. Highway No. 1 at Stuart, Florida.

Parents Announce Births

With the birth of their second son, Patrick Alan, July 3, Mr. and Mrs. George Ciot, Jr., of New Hudson have broken a tradition in the Ciot family of having just a single son that has continued for at least three generations.

The baby, who was born at Providence Hospital with a weight of seven pounds, three and a half ounces, joins a brother, John Carl, 2, at home.

The baby's mother is the former Barbara White of Novi.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard White of Novi. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Ciot, Sr., of Walled Lake. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Bidwell of Farmington and Mrs. Frances Grocholski of Detroit.

From North Muskegon, Michigan, comes announcement of the birth of a daughter, Amanda Marie, to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hosko of that city. Mrs. Hosko is the former Penny Anchors of Novi.

Their first child was born June 27 in Muskegon with a birth weight of six pounds, three ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anchors of Novi are the maternal grandparents. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hosko, Sr. of Muskegon. Maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. and Mrs. Raymond Anchors, Sr. Mrs. William DeMoor is the paternal great-grandmother.

This Year's Grads Apply To 60 Different Schools

Northville High School graduates of the Class of 1975 have made application to 60 different colleges, according to a tabulation by the high school counseling department.

One-third of the class of 320 students was graduated with honors (B average or better) in June, and many of the students are headed toward more education.

Greatest number of applications, as usual, 69, is to Schoolcraft Community College with the next highest number, 59, being to Michigan State University, followed by 38 to University of Michigan, Eastern Michigan University with 36 and Western Michigan University with 22 follow.

Mrs. Rose Marie Forsythe of the counseling department points out, however, that there is no method for tabulating acceptances by the colleges to which the students apply.

While students are notified of their acceptance, she says, the counseling office usually doesn't know unless the student in turn tells his or her counselor. The office keeps track of institutions to which student records and applications are sent and is trying for the student "feedback," she explains.

Exceptions include Michigan State University, which does notify the schools, and which has reported 44 acceptances from among the 59 students applying this year. Of that number, Mrs. Forsythe notes, 31 have stated they will attend.

University of Michigan has notified that 29 of the 38 applying have been accepted with 22 expected to attend. Of the 22 applying to Western 16 have been accepted.

Last year's Michigan "confidentiality" law entitling a student access to and privacy of his records is blamed by Mrs. Forsythe for lack of follow up on the part of colleges. Under the law, she says, it's impossible to have significant response.

"We no longer recommend students to colleges on the applications," she adds, explaining that only transcripts are mailed out. Counselors, she continues, do contact colleges personally on behalf of students they work with.

Northville High Principal Michael Tarpinian also is concerned with lack of a method to ascertain where NHS graduates are going to college and says the staff is still working on a way to tabulate.

He suggests that students who have been accepted by a college and who plan to enter, or their parents, notify the high school counseling office.

If enough do so, he hopes to have a compilation by the end of summer.

Other colleges or universities to which 1975 graduates have applied include Central Michigan, 16, Northern Michigan, 7 (with 7 accepted), Oakland Community, 6, and Washtenaw, 5.

Four applications each have gone to Ferris (3 accepted), Oakland, Albion (4 accepted), Lawrence Institute of Technology and Grand Valley.

Three each applied to Alma, Duke, Concordia Lutheran Junior College (3 accepted), Grand Rapids Bible College, Grand Valley State (3 accepted), Madonna, Northwood Institute and Wayne State.

Two applications each were sent to University of Michigan—Dearborn, Cincinnati University, Hillsdale, Lake Superior State, Moody Bible Institute, Kalamazoo, Vanderbilt University, Wittenburg University, Spring Arbor and University of New Mexico.

One student each has applied to Dartmouth, University of Colorado, American University, Society of Arts and Crafts art school, Bowling Green, Ball State, University of Dayton, Concordia Lutheran, Bethel College, Denison University, Hope College, Henry Ford Community College, and Harvard.

Others with one applicant are Evangel College, University of Kentucky, Michigan College of Mining and Technology, McPherson Community Health Center, University of Vermont, Northern Arizona University, Ohio Northern, Stanford, Olivet, Ohio University, Northwestern Michigan University and Tri-State

Since many students apply to more than one institution, it is difficult to consider the listing anything more than an indication of student interest, Mrs. Forsythe stressed

State Funding Promising For Inmate Education

State reimbursement for Detroit House of Correction inmates studying at Schoolcraft College is anticipated when DeHoCo becomes a state correctional facility under pending house and senate bills.

State Senator Carl Pursell has notified Schoolcraft College President Dr. C. Nelson Grote that Senate Bill

No. 306 and the House version are expected to go to the governor for signature, probably late in July.

Pursell indicated that this will make possible a continuation of the three-way cooperation with Plymouth Center for Human Development in training inmates as child care workers.

Novi Middle School Sets August Registrations

Novi Middle Schoolers and their parents should circle the week of August 18-22 on their calendars

That's the time when students will register for the 1975-76 school year, Principal Dr. Robert Youngberg said. Registration will take place from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

Parents are asked to bring their children to school to fill out the registration forms, to obtain class schedules, lockers and textbooks.

Parents whose children are new to the middle school should bring $10 for the book deposit. Parents of returning students are asked to come prepared to bring the balance of the book deposit up to $10, the principal added.

Those who will not be in town during registration week should call the school at 349-5750 the week before or after registration to make other arrangements. The first day of classes for Novi Middle School will be Wednesday, September 3.

Residents Charge Novi Dock Illegal Marina

Fried Aims Ordinances At Dock

In an effort to place safety controls on the controversial Walled Lake Dock, Novi City Attorney David Fried will be presenting ordinances for possible adoption by the city council Wednesday.

Bringing the suggestion to council Monday, Fried said that in his opinion, residents hearing last week were not content to depend on the DNR as the controlling body.

"There is some diversity of opinion whether the council can legislate in this field," admitted Fried. He said that the only way to determine whether the city could legislate would be to pass the ordinance and go to the courts if someone wants to contest the ordinances.

Fried told this newspaper that the safety ordinances would require the dock be brought up to standard. He specified further that the ordinances would govern construction as well as facilities which would have to go with a marina.

The city attorney also revealed that he will be going before Judge Robert Webster in an attempt to enjoin the facility from operating. Fried cited the ruling by Judge Webster which allowed the dock to be constructed in a safe manner by June of this year.

Fried said he will present Judge Webster the state's engineer's report which states

DOCK DAMAGE—Phillip (left) and Paul Ostrowski of Detroit fish from the area of the Walled Lake dock which was damaged by a fire bomb in the early morning of July 4. The firebombing marks the fifth bombing of the lake in the past 10 years according to detectives, and comes only two days after a public hearing between some 200 angry residents and the DNR (for story see page 6-A).

DNR Hears Complaints

Department of Natural Resource (DNR) officials disputed claims of 200 angry residents last week that an illegal marina is in operation on Walled Lake.

In a public hearing held in Novi Middle school's cafeteria, Wednesday, July 2, Walled Lake, and Novi residents and officials charged Gabriel Glantz, an attorney, with putting up a marina sign at the Walled Lake dock and operating an illegal marina without a DNR permit.

"Glantz's dock is not a marina," said Claude Schmitt, the DNR's submerged lands management official from Lansing. "It is more in line with a livery service and no one has jurisdiction over it."

Contacted by The Novi News the following day, Schmitt said Glantz's existing structure is "just a dock". A livery would come under the waterways commissions law which regulates basically the safety of boats that are rented.

When one woman resident claimed Glantz told her he charged $100 per boat for summer storage, Schmitt said, such a transaction would constitute a marina and therefore, Glantz would be breaking the law. However, he added, "We have to have proof if he is operating a marina though. If he is, report him to the local conservation officer. He will only be charged with a misdemeanor though. A misdemeanor is punishable by a $100 fine and/or 90 days in jail."

Glantz, though, only represents a franchise exposition," Schmitt later added "I wouldn't know who would be subject to the fine or the jail sentence if Glantz was found breaking the law."

Glantz originally was informed by the DNR that he would need a permit to rebuild an old dock he owned and then another permit to operate a 250 boat marina.

He contested the order for a dock permit before assistant attorney general Jerome Maslowski. Maslowski ruled that since the attorney was not building a new structure but repairing an existing one, a permit would not be needed although only pilings remained from the original 1925 structure.

One controversial issue was the hearing itself. Glantz charged that "the city of Novi" waived its right to a public hearing by failing to answer to letters sent out which asked whether the city wanted a public hearing to be held "for constitutional reasons, the hearing is being held too late. It shouldn't make a difference in the DNR's decision," said Glantz.

Schmitt explained the late hearing by saying that although the 20 day waiting period for setting up a hearing passed, the DNR had granted time to hold one because the city failed to receive the letter and thus failed to respond.

The DNR's decision, to be announced sometime in August, will be based not only on the input of residents but it also will take into consideration such things as parking facilities and access to the site. Schmitt later told this newspaper that because of concern by residents over the number of boats that could end up using the lake as the result of the establishment, he is asking the Marine Safety Division for a study of density

Chamber Prepares Millage Petitions

Petitions to put a two mill seven year capital expenditure proposal on the November ballot are currently being readied by Novi's Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber will begin circulating the petitions by July 17, according to Carl Evans, chairman of the chamber's millage committee.

The campaign marks the second time in recent history that the chamber has taken a political stand regarding a Novi millage proposal. During the spring, the chamber took a controversial stand opposing a two mill proposal which included one mill for capital expenditures and one for general operating. That proposal was soundly defeated by voters.

Councilman Philip Goodman, an attorney, had pointed to an attorney general's ruling in a Grand Rapids case in which he held that a chamber of commerce could not support financially a political position regarding a school millage. Possible result could be loss of the chamber's non profit status if upheld in court.

In that earlier campaign, the chamber had placed several quarter page ads in the Novi News opposing the Novi millage proposal. Evans said no final decision has been made whether the chamber would place ads in the upcoming campaign, but "my own feeling is they can be chamber ads."

"It isn't talking about a school millage," added Evans comparing the campaign to the case ruled upon by the attorney general. "My own feeling is I'm not afraid of that. He doesn't make the ruling. The courts make rulings."

Evans added that the board has not made a decision concerning the placing of ads and commented, "there are other members on the board who may opt to put them individually."

The chamber will need approximately 1000 signatures to get the question on the ballot. While the wording for the petitions has not received final okay from the chamber attorney, Evans said "the intent is to have them (the council) spend whatever is necessary to get the fire department up to snuff."

Second priority appears to be purchase of property which would include a municipal site at 10 Mile and Taft Roads.

"It was the consensus of the chamber of commerce that we needed better fire fighting and there is property the city is obligated to purchase from the school board which it has not yet purchased," stated Evans.

Evans noted that while the millage question would limit the council to capital expenditures, the council would have to decide specifically what it would be used for.

In determining to go with the two mill proposal for seven years, the chamber heard from City Manager Ed Kriewall and Fire Consultant Duane Bell.

According to Kriewall, the two mill proposal "won't do anything substantially to our operational outlook. It will take some burden off purchasing fire equipment. It could help us out but it will be minor."

Kriewall said that he had talked with the chamber concerning municipal land acquisition and noted that land acquisition and fire equipment, which could include a new station, are top priorities of the move.

"It's pretty hard to tie the council's hands on how much is to be spent at any time for any one purpose," added Kriewall. "We might need a new police station. It's one of a number of priorities."

Kriewall said he believes the chamber intends for the city to buy the municipal property at 10 Mile and Taft and then depend on a building authority to construct buildings

Candidates To Speak Tuesday

Nine candidates for the single vacancy on the Novi city council have been invited to speak before members of the Novi Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday noon.

The meeting will be held at Saratoga Trunk restaurant Novi's special election is scheduled for Tuesday, July 22. The council vacancy was created by the resignation of Councilman George Athas and the special election had to be called when the council could not agree on a replacement after conducting 30 different polls in two council sessions.

Candidates for the open seat are Gerald Bauer, Russell Button, Mahlon Green, Martha Hoyner, Kenneth Maxwell, William O'Brien, Reynel Rodriguez, Homer Starr and Joseph Toth.

The term lasts only until next November's general election.

Criminal Justice Grants OK'd

Novi Readies Undercover Squad

Novi and Wixom have been named to receive federal and state monies for law enforcement programs.

Novi will receive approximately $130,000 during the 1975-76 fiscal year for a special investigation unit while Wixom will receive approximately $24,000 for a crime prevention program.

The Wixom program goes into its second year of funding and is intended to provide information to businesses and residents which will help stop burglaries and make the home or business more secure.

The Novi program, meanwhile, is a new type program which calls for the usage of four undercover officers for surveillance and intelligence work to bring criminals to justice. A secretary for the unit is also provided.

Novi council Monday night confirmed signing of the contract which would call for the city to pick up $6,900 of the cost the first year. Cost to the city the second year would be approximately $7,500 due to increased wages for the surveillance officers.

After two years, the city could either drop the program entirely or seek 50 percent federal funding. If the city does receive funding the third year, it obligates itself to carrying on the project alone the fourth year.

The council also approved allowing the city manager to replace the four patrolmen who will be joining the undercover squad. All replacement patrolmen are to be told that the job may end after two years depending largely on the financial situation of the city.

Several undercover cars will be needed to help and, while the grant pays for the cars, the city still has to give approval for their purchase.

Council directed the police department to report back with several automobiles for decision by the council which to purchase.

Detective Gordon Nelson, who will have command of the surveillance team told this newspaper that "It is unique because the officers in this grant have been chosen from the existing ranks of the police department." Nelson added that all of the four men chosen appeared before an oral board of Novi and state police supervisors.

"Their main objective is to reduce the escalating crime," said Nelson. "This can be done by having the officers dressed in the civilian fashion of the people who are associated with these types of crimes."

"They will be able to do this by using disguises. They may be a Ford Motor worker for two weeks. They may take upon themselves the face of a fence. They may be disguised as a used car salesman or a narcotics purchaser."

"This unit is an intelligence unit with the purpose of apprehending known and suspected criminals in the very act of breaking the law." Nelson said that the surveillance team will develop a communication of informants so, for instance, if pills are being sold in a school, the surveillance team will hear about it.

Nelson said that in some cases, the police department will hear through the grapevine who is responsible for a crime, but is unable to prove it. The surveillance

Blood Test Laws Too Hazy

By WAYNE LODER
(Second of a series)

Despite dozens of court cases, most hospitals are still pretty much in the dark when it comes to advising doctors on the legality of taking blood samples for police from suspected drinking drivers.

Without written consent from the patient, most doctors appear to fear the possibility of a civil suit for malpractice or assault and battery. On the advice of counsel, Botsford Hospital, which services Novi and Wixom has taken a stand against its doctors administering the test without consent of the patient.

Botsford Administrator Seymour Cantor has requested the Oakland County prosecutor's office to give a written opinion to clarify the situation.

As the situation stands now, law enforcement officers often cite court rulings to doctors in an attempt to get the blood test taken. "They still won't take the test," says one Wixom officer.

The most often cited court case is the 1966 ruling by the United States Supreme Court of Schmerber vs. California. In that case Schmerber was appealing his conviction of the criminal offense of driving his automobile under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

A physician, over the objection of Schmerber, followed the request of a police officer and extracted a blood sample which subsequently showed a high percentage of blood alcohol. Schmerber argued he was denied due process of law, as well as being denied his privilege against self-incrimination. He also argued that he was subjected to an unreasonable search and seizure in violation of the fourth amendment to the bill of rights.

In a split vote, the United States Supreme Court ruled that the test had not violated his right against self-incrimination.

Regarding whether the police were justified in requiring Schmerber to submit to the blood test, Justice Brennan, who wrote the majority opinion, stated:

"The officer in the present case, however, might reasonably have believed that he was confronted with an emergency, in which the delay necessary to obtain an arrest warrant, under the circumstances, threatened the destruction of evidence. We are told that the percentage of alcohol in the blood begins to diminish shortly after drinking stops, as the body functions to eliminate it from the system. Particularly in a case such as this, where time had to be taken to bring the accused to a hospital and to investigate the scene of the accident, there was no time to seek out a magistrate and secure a warrant. Given these special facts, we conclude that the attempt to secure evidence of blood-alcohol content in this case was an appropriate incident to (Schmerber's) arrest."

The Emergency Physician Legal Bulletin, a publication intended to advise doctors of their legal rights, asserts that "The U.S. Supreme Court again had to do some deft legal reasoning to arrive at its conclusion against Schmerber. This was not accomplished without dissenting opinions from Justices Warren, Black, Douglas and Fortas. It is important

Northville Seeks to Hire Building-Ground Director

Northville School District is looking for a director of buildings and grounds, a new position in the district. In addition, the school board re-hired three pink-slipped teachers.

Job specifications, approved Monday night by the school board, note that the director will supervise all maintenance employees, custodial employees and transportation employees and the duties they perform.

The director will be responsible for the overall operation, maintenance and upkeep of the schools, supervision of the custodians and contractors who do work in the district. In addition, he will set up transportation schedules and must also have some background in negotiations.

Salary range of the post is $19,000 to $20,000, Superintendent Raymond Spear said. He added that the post will be filled as soon as possible.

In other personnel matters, the board re-hired three teachers, noting that 19 remain on pink-slipped status and that a total of 25 teaching positions remain unfilled in the district.

The three re-hired teachers bring the staff to a total of 191½ teachers, Spear commented.

Re-hired were Mrs. Lorraine Woodard, English; Miss Linda Webberman, science and math, and Miss Mary Minor, physical education and ESY recreation. All teach at the high school level.

New contracts were awarded to Mrs. Virginia Baumgartner and Joseph Blake, both school social workers. Both replace teachers who resigned.

Both are graduates of Wayne State University with masters degrees in social work. Mrs. Baumgartner, a 1969 graduate, will work in the elementary schools at a salary of $16,576. She has 14 years experience.

Blake, a 1971 graduate, has seven years teaching experience and will be employed at the secondary level. He will earn $16,576.

Stop-Work Order Lifted

Beachwalk Works Again

The Beachwalk development in Novi is once again open for business.

The development was issued a "grandfather clause" soil erosion permit July 1 and, according to City Manager Ed Kriewall, Novi lifted its stop-work order on the project the following day.

The city required the project to submit a plan to the county to receive the permit.

Three major measures are being taken at the site to stop sedimentation from draining into Walled Lake.

In the southern portion of the project where the parking lots have not yet been paved, drains will be completely blocked by plywood with pea gravel placed over the plywood. This will cause the water to back up. Some will absorb into the ground while the rest will be pumped into an adjacent wooded area also owned by the developer where the water will absorb into the ground or be carried on through the natural drainage course.

A second measure calls for sodding next to curbs to stop mud from occurring which then flows into the drains.

The third measure will be to place burlap around the catch basins and replace the straw currently there with pea stone.

Kriewall said that inspections will be made by the city to determine that the developer is complying with the plan as submitted.

Citizens Protest Racing; Cycle Amendment Delayed

frightening, that the noise created by motorcycle racing and the negative results of harness racing has become intolerable.

Furthermore, Toussaint challenged the city attorney's earlier repeated cautioning that court precedent suggests that a total ban of motorcycle racing here could result in court removal of all restrictions on such racing. "I disagree with Ogilvie. Other attorneys will tell you that if it came to a vote we could eliminate horse racing," he asserted.

"You don't know what you are saying," retorted Carlo, and Toussaint shouted back, "...and I don't need any smart ass remark from you." Mayor Allen demanded order, saying "you will address the table or leave the room."

Later Carlo noted that Toussaint, despite his vilification of the Downs, "works at the Downs and makes a living down there."

The Downs executive reminded the audience that state rebates to Northville resulting from harness racing produces about $700,000 in revenues for the city annually. "And I believe that's about half of the city's budget."

"Our racing isn't disgraceful," stated Carlo, who pointed out that the Downs, in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce, was instrumental in establishment of a community fair in Northville. The Downs, he suggested, provides its facilities for the fair as a civic gesture and, as in the case of motorcycle racing, as a means of advertising the facility for its harness racing activity.

Responding, Toussaint said he works only "part time" at the Downs and that if he had to depend on the income for his livelihood he would starve.

People come to Northville not because of the track, he declared, but because of its folksy atmosphere, its smallness. Carlo did not start the fair, he added. A fairgrounds existed before the Downs and it was this earlier fair that sparked the Downs, not the Downs the fair, he said.

In stating his opposition to the amendment and to motorcycle racing in general, Pauli submitted a petition to council that was signed by 46 persons calling for abolishment of all motorcycle racing.

Concerning that suggested abolishment, Pauli expressed serious doubt that the court would permit an environmental hazard to health of citizens to stand. He said the noise created by the motorcycles, especially in the Gardener Street area is "deafening."

Conversations cannot be carried on in his yard because of the noise, he asserted, noting that he had been in Councilman Paul Vernon's home during a race for himself the seriousness of the noise.

Noise was the chief complaint of most everyone who spoke against the proposed amendment and motorcycle racing. Among these were E. A. Chapman, Beverly Schoch, Elmer Schubert, Catherine Allen, Fritz Carle, and Alfred Glaser.

Schubert, who lives on Beal Street, pointed out that he, like others, had moved to the area of the track knowing that it and harness racing existed. Motorcycle racing, however, is a relatively new neighborhood nuisance that citizens cannot bear, he added.

"What's wrong with the city of Northville?" asserted Carle, who lives on Baseline. "Does it need money so badly they permit this (racing)? This isn't human anymore."

Mrs. Schoch, a Yerkes Street resident, reminded council that in voicing her lone opposition to motorcycle racing at an earlier meeting she had correctly stated that there were many others besides herself who opposed such racing. "It deprives us of peace and tranquillity. I'm against motorcycle racing at the Downs," she declared, triggering a round of applause from the audience.

Chapman reminded the mayor that he (Chapman) had complained to him about the noise earlier and that the mayor had indicated that he, too, could hear it.

"It is absolutely impossible for us to stay home; the noise is unbearable," said Alfred Glaser, a River Street resident.

Referring to the matter of abstention, Lorenz indicated that both Biery and Folino "have been employees of mine" during one or more of the eight motorcycle races that have been conducted at the Downs over the past years.

As for the proposed amendment, he pointed out that it was not the corporation's intention of conducting a Sunday race "except in those rare instances when a Saturday race had been rained out. The odds against such a rainout, he pointed out, are 8 to 1.

Lorenz stated that races conducted in Northville are operated professionally and, intentionally, with the least amount of nuisance to the public as possible. He conceded that noise remains a problem but he suggested that a new noise level ruling to go into effect soon should solve the noise problem.

Folino, who took the position that his unionized part-time work with the Downs does not constitute a conflict of interest and should not prevent him from voting on the proposed amendment, agreed with the mayor that the city attorney should render an opinion before a vote is taken.

His motion to reject the amendment, supported by Councilman Wallace Nichols, was withdrawn.

Folino, who stressed that he has always opposed motorcycle racing even though he worked one motorcycle meet at the Downs, strongly defended harness racing at the track. He lauded Carlo for his civic mindedness and his loyalty to employees, and he claimed that while harness racing at the Downs may attract some undesirable people it also attracts many fine people.

Councilman Vernon, who did not indicate how he might vote on the amendment, faulted the argument that without the Sunday option for rainouts the motorcycle racing promoters would be unable to attract top drivers. It has not been a deterrent in the past, he said, noting that racing officials previously have boasted the top caliber of drivers participating in Downs motorcycle races.

The argument to which Vernon referred is that in committing themselves to race here, drivers from across the nation who could race elsewhere profitably, want some assurance that in the case of a washout here they will not have to spend several days of their time waiting for rescheduling.

Like Vernon, Mayor Allen did not indicate his position on the proposed amendment. Aside from his efforts to keep order, his major contribution during the debate was to explain, in the absence of Ogilvie, the city manager's advice relative to suggested total ban of motorcycle racing.

Once the city attorney has rendered his ruling on the abstention matter, the decision that the council must make is whether or not the proposed amendment should be approved. It will not involve a decision as to whether all motorcycle racing should be banned.

At an earlier meeting, however, Folino urged that the "total ban" suggestion should be considered, and he did not think the "total ban" idea should be aired at the same hearing as the amendment, he favored discussion of the "total ban" concept at a separate hearing.

Two Days after Hearing

Firebomb Damages Novi Dock

Hostility toward the Walled Lake Dock reached a high point July 4 as a fire bomb partially destroyed one corner of the platform at the end of the 500 foot structure.

According to Novi Detective Gordon Nelson, the fire bombing marks the fifth time in the last ten years that the dock has been bombed. The firebombing occurred only 1½ days after a meeting where Department of Natural Resources officials met with close to 200 angry residents intent on stopping the dock from receiving a marina permit and operating at the site.

Nelson said that the police department received a call from Pat Moore, manager of the dock, at 3 a.m. July 4 who said that the structure had been bombed.

Mrs. Moore, lives near the dock.

As police and fire department personnel were being dispatched to the scene, the police department received another call from an anonymous male who said that 10 sticks of dynamite had been placed on the dock and would explode. The caller warned police and firemen not to go out on the dock.

The Michigan State Bomb Squad responded and assisted Novi police but found no signs of any dynamite. Nelson theorized that the bomb threat was intended to keep the firemen from putting out the blaze.

The bomb squad collected a damaged can believed to have contained the explosive material used. The blaze was out when the fire department arrived.

Three witnesses observed a small boat without running lights in the area of the dock at about the time of the bombing and reported that the boat headed north across the lake.

According to Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, his department has suspects in the case as the result of investigation. One of the suspects reportedly had threatened to bomb the structure in the past. BeGole would not give further details.

Use of the "grapevine" helped develop other suspects, BeGole said.

No exact estimate was available on the damage although several floor planks were damaged and a 2" x 4" pole was destroyed. Plywood signs were used to repair the damaged floor area while makeshift railings were constructed. The dock was used for fishing over the July 4th weekend.

Approximately $500 damage was incurred to the dock about three weeks ago as an unknown subject knocked side railings of the structure into the water.

Residents Protest Novi Dock

of boats using the lake currently.

Novi City Attorney David Fried said, "We are opposed to the magnitude of the project. It would destroy the rights of others and the effectiveness of the lake."

He added that a traffic hazard would be created at the Novi-East Lake Drive intersection. Plans also would have to be made for parking, cleaning out boat facilities and providing waste receptacles Glantz had not, said Fried, made sufficient plans to take these areas into account.

Novi city officials also were prepared to test the safety of the renovated dock but were denied access to it. Schmitt and John Urbain, regional environmental specialist for the DNR, stated the dock is not safe. But when a civil judge inspected it, he said it was adequate after repairs, said the DNR officials.

Three certified scuba divers spoke at the hearing against the dock's reconstruction. One of the divers, Charlie Kruevelis, said he dived underneath the dock and discovered the old water-logged frame was the new dock's foundation. "The logs squeezed like pillows," he said. Another resident, Robert Wirick, said the dock's handrails "are made of sloppy lumber with spikes connecting them."

Walled Lake mayor William Roberts said the Walled Lake city council went on record opposing the marina as "ecologically damaging".

"It took many hours and a lot of money to clean up Walled Lake," he said. "It can only hold so many boats.

The marina would be damaging to ownership rights and to other boats. I trust the state of Michigan won't let this happen."

Undercover Squad

grant will allow the officers to watch a known criminal's moves until he slips up or attempts to commit another crime at which time a marked police unit will be called in to make the arrest.

According to Nelson, the four man detail will concentrate on particular portions of the city.

"Your narcotics is higher in one part than another," he explained. "Robberies are concentrated on stores and banks and gas stations while larcenies are scattered pretty much throughout the city."

Refuting the "big brother is watching" train of thought, Nelson commented, "If you're not doing anything wrong or plan to do anything wrong, you have nothing to worry about—but if you are, there will be a good chance you will get caught."

After making his statement concerning the constitutionality of the hearing and after listening to a few residents speak, Glantz, as well as his few supporters, walked out of the marina hearing after only about 45 minutes.

Most of the complaints on the marina centered on having too many boats crowding the area and on danger to small children. Residents argued that since the lake is shallow, in some cases up to 300 feet off the shoreline, swimming would become dangerous with boats going by.

One major problem did arise which the residents did not expect to encounter. They said they had believed that if the DNR denied the marina permit, the dock would be torn down.

Urbain and Schmitt, however, said the DNR is just reviewing Glantz's request for a marina permit. Residents would have to sue in civil court to have the dock removed, they said. "The DNR has nothing to do with the removal of the dock," said Schmitt.

One forty-year resident said, "I don't care if it's a $500,000 dock. We don't need it. One man shouldn't come in and take over." Urbain responded saying a civil court will have to decide that.

H. E. Beeson, a Walled Lake homeowner, appeared angry as he said, "I am completely opposed to the marina. I've been a resident for 45 years and only now is the lake showing signs of coming back. The marina would be disastrous."

Beeson added that he was surprised the public hearing was even held. "The size of the lake and the number of boats alone should be an automatic yardstick," he said. "After weekends, the highpowered boats leave injured fish on the shore, tear up fish beds and we residents have to rake up the seaweed."

Accusations suggesting

Glantz was only out to make money were repeatedly made by the audience. Gaspare LaMarca, Walled Lake city councilman, summed up his feelings when he said, "We've paid $20 million for sewers and spent many long hours and weekends cleaning up the lake. The fish are coming back and the water is almost clean enough to drink. It's senseless to build a marina in a small lake. We would have accidents."

Walled Lake Mayor Williams later told this newspaper, "We will take appropriate action" if Glantz's permit is issued. He would not rule out the possibility of a joint lawsuit with Novi against Glantz if approval is given.

Attorney Fried Prepares Marina Safety Ordinances

the dock is not safe. Responding to the possibility of entering into a joint lawsuit with Walled Lake against Franchise Expositions should the dock receive a marina permit, Fried said the city would consider doing so if it felt it could prove the dock is interfering with the riparian rights of the Novi City Park.

Fried said that state statute governing marinas does not allow them to take away the riparian rights of water usage by nearby homeowners.

They Eye Bicentennial

Charlie Chaplin, John Dickinson, Thomas Jefferson and an assortment of other characters from the past roamed the halls of Cooke Middle School during the last week of Northville's Extended School Year program.

One of the major attractions was the presentation of the play "1776" by eighth grade students in John Whalen's English class. The students had been working to present the play to the entire school in two performances.

"1776" is based on the Continental Congress meetings at which the Declaration of Independence was decided upon and signed. Lines from the play, such as "I, New York, abstain, courteously," echoed through the halls for some time before and after the final performance, the teachers note.

Students in Carol Pasco's "20's and 30's" class decided to bring the era to school by planning various activities. The 1932 Depression election was re-enacted with students playing the roles of Hoover and Roosevelt, presenting campaign speeches, slogans and songs. Brett Blanchard played Hoover and Bob Crisan was Roosevelt.

The election was held but history was changed and Hoover won the election. The seventh and eighth graders also held a style show featuring fashions of the era.

A student-produced Charlie Chaplin movie was made by the class using the all-star cast of the "20's and 30's" class, Mrs. Pasco said. "All in all, the past became the present in a very lively fashion," she added.

HATS WERE IN—Digging into their parents' closets netted Cooke seventh and eighth graders plenty of costumes for their "20's and 30's" class project. The students are all members of Carol Pasco's Extended School Year class.

Sparling Picked to Head Metro's Torch Drive

David M. Sparling of Northville, general manager of Ford Motor Company's glass division, has been named Metropolitan Unit chairman in the United Foundation's 1975 Torch Drive.

In his top volunteer post, Sparling will coordinate the Torch Drive campaign among 25,000 small metropolitan businesses, all federal, state, county and local government elements and all tax-supported colleges, universities and schools in the tri-country area.

Last year Sparling served as a group chairman in the Metropolitan Unit, which is one of the six chapter campaign units that raise more than 90 percent of the Torch Drive's total goal. Sparling is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and received his MBA degree from Harvard University.

This year's Torch Drive runs from October 14 through November 6 to raise operating funds for nearly 140 health and community service agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. General Chairman for the 1975 Torch Drive is Ford Motor Credit Company President John C. Dean. Last year's campaign raised more than $36 million.

Novi Planning Board Rejects Meyer Farm Rezoning

Novi's Planning Board has recommended against a proposed zoning change that would give the historic Meyers Toll Gate Farm an agricultural zoning.

At a special planning board hearing last Wednesday, that body voted 5-2 to deny the request for recommendation to the council that the property, located on the northwest corner of 12 Mile and Meadowbrook roads, be rezoned from R1F to AG.

Following discussion, the board agreed to deny the request because:

1. It would cause an element of spot zoning;

2. Present uses of the property are allowed under the present R1F zoning;

3. It is felt the rezoning would not be compatible with an urbanizing community;

4. It is recommended the district remain in the present classification because if it is rezoned AG now, it is assumed it would be immediately changed back to R1F upon adoption of the new zoning ordinance;

5. It is present council policy that all agricultural property be zoned to R1F and rezoning to AG on this parcel would be contrary to that policy

6. Present master plan adopted in 1967 indicates the property should be zoned R1H or R1F

The council next gets a shot at the rezoning request

August 11 when another public hearing will be held

The request was made in an effort to lessen assessment and taxes through the lower zoning and so the farm could stop losing money due to high taxes based on residential zoning.

James Williams, attorney representing owner A H Meyer contended, "Mr. Meyer's true intent is to continue doing what he has done since 1951 and that is to continue farming. I hope we've convinced you we have no ill motive."

"People seem to think the sole purpose is to zone it agricultural and to rezone it sometime in the future"

Williams argued not only that the property should be rezoned for agricultural but that the new zoning ordinance under consideration should have an AG zoning classification specifically for properties of this type

"This could remain open space for as long as I or my children live and that would be an asset to the city," contended Williams

Williams noted that Meyer wants the property to be zoned agricultural and to remain an open space in the future and has even contacted Michigan State University concerning the possibility of deeding the property over to it with the understanding it would remain a farm in the future. The attorney said that while MSU would agree to see to it that the property is used as a farm for 20 years, it could not guarantee its use beyond that point and thus Meyer would not agree to deeding over the property.

Williams noted that state act 116 would allow a tax reduction for a period of 10 years if approval is given, but asked the planning board not to hold off helping out Meyer because of that possibility.

Planning consultant Chuck Cairns recommended against the rezoning, citing several reasons including the fact that "it would be spot zoning of a sort." Williams questioned whether a parcel as big as 160 acres could be considered spot zoning.

"We have areas in the city that are spot zoned that we've had trouble with and I think we may have some problem here," replied Cairns.

Cairns also pointed out that farming is allowed in the R1F zoning classification and that even if the property were reclassified, when the new zoning ordinance is adopted the property would revert to R1 because the new map eliminates all agricultural zoning. He also said the rezoning would not be compatible with urbanizing area.

Williams argued that the inheritance tax would be higher if the property is zoned single family and that some of the property would have to be sold to pay it while if the property is zoned and assessed at agricultural value, "the tax could be paid without having to sell it"

Cairns responded that "I can't use economics as ground rules for land planning"

Board member Robert Bretz questioned why the owner had not appeared when the property was originally rezoned from AG to R1F and noted that some other property in the city had been left agricultural upon request and that if Meyer had asked, that property also would have been left

Bretz conceded, "I don't agree with the rules our assessor says he has to follow. I don't think we should assess all farm property out of existence"

"If we agree, there are several other pieces that should be included under the same basis and the council should be cognizant of those properties"

Board member James Koster moved for denial and he was supported by Donald Gleason. They were joined in voting against the rezoning by Donald Smith, Edward Dobek, and Chairman John Roethel. Bretz and Gary Roberts supported the rezoning. James Cherfoli and Martha Hoyer were absent.

Too Hazy

Hospitals Eye Blood Test Laws

to note that nowhere in any of these case opinions is any statement made about the possible civil liability of the emergency department physician to the arrested motorist for the tort of assault and battery."

Corporal Frank Barabas, head of Novi's Traffic Bureau, contends that while a suit can be brought for anything including assault and battery, all the elements of a crime must be present "or you don't have a crime."

Barabas says that taking a shot of blood with a needle does not have all the elements necessary for the crime of assault and battery.

He points out that the Michigan State Handbook of Criminal Law and Procedures defines simple assault as "an attempt or offer, with force and violence, to do corporal hurt to another, with an apparent present means of carrying out the attempt." The same handbook defines assault and battery as "an assault coupled with a batter. When an assault is coupled with the actual striking or unlawful touching of the victim, inflicting some physical hurt, we have an assault and battery."

Barabas points to the Michigan Statutes Annotated which states in one section, "Samples and specimens of urine, breath and saliva shall be taken and collected in a reasonable manner; but only a duly licensed physician or a licensed nurse or medical technician under the direction of a licensed physician and duly qualified to withdraw blood acting in a medical environment, at the request of a police officer, can withdraw blood for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content therein under the provisions of this act. No liability for a crime or civil damages predicated on the act of withdrawing blood and related procedures attaches to a qualified person who withdraws blood or assists in the withdrawal in accordance with this act unless the withdrawal is performed in a negligent manner."

Barabas also points to the consent clause of the Michigan Vehicle Code which says "a person who operates a vehicle upon the public highways of this state is deemed to have given consent to chemical tests of his blood, breath, urine or other bodily substances for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of his blood if (a) he is arrested for driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or while his ability to operate a vehicle has been impaired due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor."

But the attorney for Botsford Hospital points to the subsequent section of the Michigan Vehicle Code and state law which says that "a person under arrest shall be advised of his right to refuse to submit to chemical tests; and if he refuses the request of a law enforcement officer to submit to chemical tests, no test shall be given"

The motor vehicle code continues on to note that upon refusal there are "consequences" to the refusal — presumably automatic loss of license.

However, Mike Izzo, Chief of Warrants for the Oakland County prosecutor's office said that in his opinion, there cannot be automatic revocation of license for failure to take the blood test — only for failure to take the breathalyzer test. He holds that while a person can be required to take the breathalyzer, the law does not allow for his license to be suspended if he refuses to take a blood test instead.

With so many laws and court cases on the books, the only final answer appears to be a written opinion by the Oakland County Prosecutor's office. And if that fails to settle the question, the Botsford Administrator says that the next step will be the attorney general.

Helicopters, Balloon Added to Gala Days

Some additions have been made to the plans for Novi's annual Gala Days July 17-20.

Helicopter rides will be provided in two famous helicopters. One is the helicopter that was involved in the famed Jackson Prison escape of Dale Remling while the other is the helicopter used by traffic girl Jo-Jo of CKLW.

In addition, MonroeMatic

Shock Absorbers July 18 from 4-10 p.m. will hold hot air balloon demonstrations. The balloon is six stories high.

In addition, Dr. Irving Adler will administer free Glaucoma tests from 1-7 p.m. Saturday. The tests are sponsored by the Novi Lion's Club

Gala Days will be held on the hill on the southeast corner of 10 Mile and Meadowbrook roads.

Board Eyes Election For Millage

budget without any additional voted millage.

Trustee John Hobart said that the school's financial problems come at an unfortunate time because of economic problems being felt by taxpayers.

He explained that the district's SEV was lower last year than anticipated, that the state cut $35,000 in aid, enrollment was lower than expected and that inflation also was felt by the district.

"Utility bills went up 38.5 percent; oil and gas for transportation, 57 percent and insurance, 16 percent. We were hit by inflation, too," he said.

"Maybe we are opening the three new schools one year too early and I'm sure that will be debated," Hobart said. "But we are opening the three new schools to provide the very best in educational environment for the children."

"We must ask for additional millage for the education of the taxpayers' children. We have no other recourse," Hobart concluded

Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson pointed out that since the 1971-72 school year, the district has levied a total of five mills less than authorized by the voters.

Spear concluded that he hates "to think of the devastating ramifications the board would have to take in a fine school district, should the millage request fail."

The board has made no decision on the amount of millage it will seek from voters August 18. A task force, established by the League of Women Voters, holds its first meeting tonight (Wednesday) at 8 in the board offices.

The board will make its recommendation on the millage at its July 21 meeting.

News From Lansing

By R. Robert Geake
State Representative

With all the clamor and concern lately about rising rates for utilities such as telephone, gas and electricity, you'd think something would be done about it. Well, something has been done. Sort of.

Some time ago, the House approved House Resolution 42, which created a special House Committee to investigate the rate setting procedures of the Public Service Commission. I voted for the Resolution. The intent, of course, was to see if the public interest was really being served in the procedures used by the PSC to determine utility rates. (Utilities must get approval from the PCS for any increase in their rates).

The Committee so far has been unable to determine whether or not the public interest is being served by the PSC, though, largely because it has been charged that the public interest is not being served by the Committee itself. The Committee is made up of five Democrats and four Republicans.

Recently the Governor and others criticized the procedures being used by the Committee. These procedures involved questioning PSC staff members behind closed doors for several hours without benefit of counsel. Also, the Democrat Committee Chairman has relied heavily on lawyers and accountants working for or associated with our Democrat Attorney General who usually opposes both the PSC and the utilities of rate hearings. People have questioned whether or not this constitutes a conflict of interest, and whether or not the Committee will be able to conduct the investigation in a fair and unbiased manner.

Now the four Republicans on the Committee have asked the Chairman to appoint a staff member who will essentially work for them, in order to ensure that the public interest is served in the case. They point out that the Watergate Committee in the U.S. Congress had counsels for both the majority and minority-party members, so that all the facts could come out and everyone would be satisfied.

It is unfortunate that an issue like this has become entangled in procedural matters. But since it is so important, it is a very "political" issue. So many of those involved (particularly the Attorney General, who has said he wants to run for the U.S. Senate next year) are apparently trying to guide the Committee toward conclusions which they think will be politically best for them.

A NORTHVILLE landmark, the old Jones greenhouse on Dubuar was razed this past week, making way for a new house to be built on the site for John Genitti, Jr., owner of E.M.B. Market.

Adult, Tot Swim Classes At Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College is offering parent and tot swim classes from July 14-24.

Two one-hour sessions will be offered from 10 to 11 a.m. and 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays. According to Sharon Danforth who has taught the course for two years, it provides an opportunity for parents to work with their youngsters under expert direction in a controlled environment. "It also helps enable the child to become comfortable in water and learn fundamentals which are preparatory to swimming," she added.

Children should be trained and wear plastic pants while in class. The cost is $12 and registration may be obtained by calling the registrar's office at 591-6400.

The course is being offered through community services and enrollment will be limited.

If you'd like to get more education, or get training for a job you'd like to work at, there's a new program of basic education grants from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Applications for the program are being distributed by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

These grants provide financial assistance to qualified high school graduates who are seeking post-high-school training or education. The amount of the grant is based on your income or that of your family, and it may be combined with other forms of public aid in order to meet the full costs of education. These basic education grants, which range between $50 and $800, are not loans and do not have to be repaid.

Applications are now available if you plan to enroll between July 1, 1975 and June 30, 1976, in a college, junior college, technical school or vocational school. You can get an application at your nearest MESC office.

Jaycees Laud Fourth Support

To the Editor:
The Northville Jaycees would like to thank the entire community for its great turnout on the 4th of July. We are proud to be part of this community and are particularly grateful for the opportunity to present the 4th of July festivities. Of course, our thanks for financial support from the city, township, merchants, and individuals cannot be over emphasized.

On behalf of the Jaycees I would like to extend our sincere appreciation to all the members of the community who supported the Jaycee 4th of July raffle and chicken barbecue. Without their help it would be impossible for the Jaycees to put on such a program.

Every member of the Jaycees is proud to be part of the 4th and the many man hours of work can only be worthwhile when the community response is such as it was in '75.

Special thanks are due the city officials, police and fire department personnel for their help; and to The Northville Record for its excellent pre and post coverage of the 4th of July festivities.

Thanks again to each of you for your participation, support and enthusiasm.

Sincerely,
Bob Risher, Director
Northville Jaycees
Chairman—4th of July the schools to use the savings for anything other than to better our children's education. It is money I voted for them to use for education, not to pay interest.

Finally, you Mr. Young and I can give our reasons for and against split-tax until we're blue in the face and it doesn't mean a thing. What you so conveniently forgot in your letter is the very real fact that the majority of voters told city council that they wanted split-tax collection. Obviously, Presnell and Berry and a Mr. Donald C. Young could care less about the majority. I'll remember Presnell and Berry at election time. And I think I'll remember Donald C. Young too — just in case.

Top of The Deck

"Where to sit is very important," says Ann. "Those rafts are really flexible and when you go into a rapids they'll toss you around and right into the water if you're not careful.

"They buck like a horse. I've got a horse and that's about what it feels like...only you've got less control," says the mother of two little girls.

When the rafts reached the point where the Little Colorado joined the big river the 'crystal clear' water turned brown. "It was brown all the rest of the way, except it was white with foam in the rapids."

Unlike other raft expeditions on the river Sanderson makes no attempt to skirt the rapids. In fact, it guides purposely steer their rafts into the biggest, most dangerous rapids, says Ann, who remembers several of the most turbulent by name. There are three kinds of water action on the Colorado, she explains in the language of the natives. "There's the smallest, called the ripples, then the ripples, and then the rapids.

Third biggest and most dangerous was Crystal Rapids. The hole or swell created by this turbulence is constantly changing in size and location. Giant pushed his raft right into the mouth of Crystal, which at the instant of the rafts' passage was estimated to have "opened up about 15 feet."

"We lost a 70-year-old woman, a 25-year-old girl, and a clothing bag in Crystal," says Ann nonchalantly. "We lost an awful lot of people during the trip. Altogether, eight of them went overboard." Fortunately, no one was injured. Although Ann and her father managed to stick to the raft, a mean rapids called Hermit sent Joe for a loop. He was flipped into the water but managed to hang onto the side of the raft as it plunged through the rapids.

When people go overboard (everyone wears a life-preserver) there's no way to recover them until after they have ridden through the rapids. And once back aboard you're left shivering from fright or from the icy cold or from both.

The Colorado has taken many lives over the years. In fact, during one of the side trips (hikes) enroute down the river, the party inspected the remains of a human skeleton. They also saw a lot of animal life, including wild burros — presumably the offspring of runaway pack animals of long ago prospectors.

"Yeah, I'd do it again...sometime...maybe," hedges Ann who, like my wife, thinks the 'best' vacation is two weeks of enjoying wilderness country from inside a luxurious hotel.

She adds, "It's really a man's trip. Give me a good motel in Florida."

Bolenbaugh who is a volunteer at the state hospital's clothing room The Open Door): My front porch is the dropping off point for clothing, shoes, etc. There is NO money for her to buy the clothes she needs for many of the patients.

A few of us decided to help her out by having a yard sale of back-to-school clothing, shoes, etc. for children and adults. We also have a number of household items in excellent condition and furniture, too.

This sale will be held in the backyard of 605 Grace (between Baseline and Lake) starting August 4. Any donations you may have may be dropped off on the front porch of 605 Grace also.

Why not bring some friends the week of August 4 and see what bargains you can find? You will be helping the patients of Northville State Hospital and your pocketbook at the same time.

Any leftover clothing will go to Northville-Nowi Fish for their clothes closet.

Your generosity and help with the Hawthorn rummage sale will enable the children at Hawthorn Center to have new, much needed playground equipment.

I would especially like to thank Clara Farmer of the Little People's Shop and Don Stenfeldt of Summit Gifts for their most generous donations of "new items" and Mr. Fred Casterline for his cash donation.

You are truly wonderful people — all of you in Northville and Novi.

He Clarifies DUR Story

To the Editor:
I enjoyed the recent inaugural feature "The Way It Used To Be" on the interurban service to Northville from Detroit via Farmington and Plymouth in the June 25th issue of The Record. However, several discrepancies should be noted.

First of all the cars were generally 50 feet or longer in length. The car No. 7775 you featured was 49 ft. 6 in. long, and was built by the Barney and Smith Car Co. of Dayton, Ohio. The Plymouth line was operated but not owned by the DUR. The Detroit, Plymouth & Northville Ry. Co. merged about 1901 with the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago Ry. which never was owned by the DUR. In 1908 the DJ&C operation was taken over by the Michigan Electric Ry. after the abandonment of the Plymouth line and the entire line from Dearborn to Jackson ceased operation in May of 1928.

Also, in your article of July 2nd concerning the DUR feature you published a picture with a caption showing it as an electric interurban car. Actually this is a McKeen gas car which had a mechanical transmission. I also note that it shows Southern Pacific as the owner. The closest the SP has EVER gotten to Detroit is New Orleans or Tucumari, New Mexico.

Sincerely,
Fred H. Crissey

Seeks More Attendance

To the Editor:
The Novi Charter

Commission was established after the question of Charter Revision received a majority vote in the November 1974 election.

The meetings are the second and fourth Tuesday of every month for more than six months these meetings have been held with meager attendance. It is the desire of the Commission to stimulate better attendance at their meetings.

Since the municipal government is very closely associated with ownership of homes and property in the area, many rights of the average Novi citizen are under scrutiny during the Charter Commission existence. A wide range of subjects are included in the City Charter — Municipal Powers, Nomination and Elections and Organization of Government have already received preliminary revision.

Each agenda approved by the Charter Commission has a section reserved for "Audience Participation". The Commission would welcome an audience and participation in the evening's proceedings. All citizens and property owners of Novi are welcome. The meeting place is the Novi School Administration Building 25575 Taft Road, with ample seating space. Adequate parking space and air conditioning insure your comfort on those second and fourth Tuesdays every month.

Praise Hartner

To the Editor:
There is an unsung hero in our town His name is Bud Hartner, our fire chief. For the paltry sum the city of Northville pays him, he is on call 24 hours a day He is also head of the Department of Public Works. For the pittance (these days) the city pays him he has the pleasant (?) job of carrying dead bodies out of fires, swimming pools and off of railroad tracks We should be proud of this man I know I am.

Once when a family was burned out in Novi, I called his wife to see if Bud had any extra slacks. He sent over a pair he had never worn. They were brand new and a very good brand. His wife, Marguerite, helps everyone, too. She is compassionate, thoughtful and helps anyone who needs help, particularly the elderly Why don't we have a Mr. and Mrs Hartner Day?

He Apologizes For Fireworks

To the Editor:
The fireworks admittedly were not very good this year and where was the finale and the American Flag? Well, granted, the show could have been better and I am sorry it wasn't.

In previous years the fireworks were purchased from a firm that recently went out of business. This year I went to a new company that I knew nothing about. As a result, some of the fireworks were of inferior quality and the ordered "finale" and popular American Flag display were never sent. For this I am sorry. Let me assure your readers, it WILL be bigger and better next year.

Band Scored For Appearance

To the Editor:

The embarrassment of the appearance and performance of the Northville High School Marching Band at the 4th of July parade must have been felt by all Northvilleites. It's a sad day when a neighboring town, namely Milford, comes forth in full uniform, numerous vivacious members, all instruments being used to their fullest extent, compared to our meager number of members participating and wearing a variety of top apparel. Were our instruments for show only? An echo of drums was the only evidence of music. What has happened to our enthusiasm?

Hats off to Milford. Thanks for making our parade one with a band.

Top of Deck Draws Defense

To the Editor:

I would like to reply to Donald C. Young's letter to the editor in which he called Jack Hoffman's Top of the Deck article on split-tax collection a one sided presentation.

First, of course, there will be a small expense to the schools for a split-tax collection. We voters realized this when the majority of us voted for it. However, the very small amount it would cost makes the $40,000.00 and more each year a very substantial savings.

Second, I would not expect

Futurity Races Top Attractions at Northville Fair

Northville's sixth annual community fair July 24-27 at the Downs promises four days of fun, $5,000 in premiums and a weekend of state-sanctioned Wolverine Futurity races.

This is the first year that the fair has had the Futurity races with $25,000 purses, according to Marjory Cinader, president of the Northville Chamber of Commerce which sponsors the fair.

Opening day of the fair, she announces, will be a salute to senior citizens with special events for them. A highlight will be a tobacco spitting contest at 4 p.m.

Friday, July 25, will be Kids' Day with special events beginning at noon and including free movies from 2 to 6 p.m.

It also is the opening day of an antique show being held in the lower concourse area through Sunday with more than 30 dealers. There are no admission charges.

Both Friday and Saturday nights, Mrs. Cinader adds, there will be dinner from 5 to 8 p.m. served by women of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

A road rally will be held Saturday under sponsorship of the Schoolcraft Sports Car Club. It is a time, distance and speed event with classes for experienced and for novice drivers. Registration will be at 10 a.m. with the first car to start at noon.

Entry fees are $4 per car (two people) with $1 charged for each additional person over 15 years old.

The Wolverine Futurity will be at 8 p.m. Saturday. Antique car judging will be earlier at 4 p.m. Free movies will be shown at 2 p.m.

Sunday the Wolverine Futurity will be run at 2 p.m.

This is the only fair event to which admission will be charged, according to Mrs. Cinader. It will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. There will be no betting on the races.

Total purse for the futurity will be $100,000 with $25,000 for each of the two major races on the two days. It is sponsored by the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association and the Department of Agriculture.

This is the second year that the state has sanctioned the Northville fair and participated in providing monies for prizes.

In addition to the midway rides and games, other attractions will be contests and homemaking exhibits, including baked goods, canning, needlework creative hobbies and crafts.

The popular goat milking contest will be repeated this year. Checkers and chess competitions and a bonnet-making contest are slated as senior citizen attractions on Thursday.

Kids' Day competitive events begin at 3 p.m. Friday, and include sawdust dives, bubblegum blowing, balloon blowing, sack races, three legged races, ball throwing, donut, pie and watermelon eating competitions.

Premium awards ranging from $50 to $1 will be given for baked goods, canning, home arts and fine arts. Exhibits must be in place by 11 a.m. on July 24.

Exhibitor tags may be picked up at the fair office at Northville Downs from July 10 through 23 or when exhibits are brought in.

receive $10,000 to $15,000 from Oakland County.

In order to permit the retention of Anne Vargo, a librarian hired late in the fiscal year and employee paid with federal monies received by the township, the city has offered to assume most of her salary for the new year if the township will use its federal money to pay her for the initial two or three months.

The township is considering that proposition, says Clerk Betty Lennox, who points out that a decision is expected to be made at a special board meeting within a week to 10 days.

Studies Physics

Wayne Brasure, who will be a senior at Northville High School this fall, is attending a summer session from June 29 through July 19 at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology at Terre Haute, Indiana.

He will receive college credits for the course in physics and computers. He plans to enter University of Michigan upon graduation to study astronomy.

According to Mrs. Lennox, the township will receive $11,918 under Title II this year. Last year it received $12,131 and the previous year $11,609. Currently, eight persons are enrolled under Title II, but the clerk points out that an insufficient amount of federal money will be received this year to retain all of them.

(Upon learning that it would lose some of the federal money to which it was entitled unless it used it up, the township late in the year hired additional personnel to use up its allotment. Thus, even if it receives the same amount as last year it will be insufficient to carry these additional people for the entire year).

Mrs. Lennox predicts the township's share of Title VI money will be two to three times larger than the amount received under Title II, but as in the case of the city the county has not determined the exact amount.

Although Northville's fireworks were less spectacular than Jaycees had hoped for they were colorful volunteer dance instruction. "On her own time, during her lunch hour, she taught these youngsters how to dance," a parent said. "Both the children and their parents are very appreciative of what she did."

Library Plans Creative Writing Workshop

Creative writing will be the topic of a six-week workshop beginning Tuesday, July 15, at the Northville Public Library.

The workshop, which begins at 7 p.m., is free and is open to all ages, Anne Vargo, community service librarian, added. The first session will be devoted to a discussion of the methods the group will be using.

Miss Vargo said that a collection of the works will be put together at the end of the workshop which runs through August 19.

"The sessions will be unstructured and everyone is welcome to attend," she commented.

Record Crowd Sees Fireworks

Speaking of kids, Mayor Pro tem Paul Vernon lauded youngsters — mostly from Jaycee families — who spent some time following the fireworks and again the next morning picking up litter left by spectators.

Another "good deed" reported involved 38 residents of Wishing Well Manor convalescent center on West Main Street. Most all of them were transported to the Mill Race by the center owners and by Al Potts of Northville Pharmacy and treated to barbecued chicken dinners.

What's more enough dinners were purchased to feed those at the center who were unable to attend. It was the second year in a row that convalescent center residents have been treated by Potts and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nowka.

Big prize winner in the Fourth of July contest sponsored by Jaycees was Mike Wilson, an employee of Alexander Hamilton and a resident in Highland Lakes at 19816 Crystal Lake Drive.

Wilson had a choice of prizes and opted for $500 worth of merchandise certificates with S&H Green Stamps.

Trophy winners in the parade divisions and the antique car judging were:

Antique cars, first, Ray Jackson of Northville with a 1932 Ford; second, J. Haas of Plymouth with a 1934 Ford; third, Carol Flora of Farmington with a 1932 Plymouth.

Parade musical groups, first, Milford High School; second, Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps; third, Clan MacRae pipe band; fourth, Windsor Tri-Club Lions Youth Band; fourth, Troubadors Musical Corps.

Miscellaneous parade vehicles, first, Pontiac Unicyclists; second, Farmington Elks Motorized Drill Team; third, Robert Kiwak, antique high wheel cycle.

Equestrian, first, Farmington Hills Mounted Auxiliary Police; second, Copps Stable; third, Pillsbury Family.

Junior Marching, first, St. Roberts Cardinalettes; second, Miss Millie's School of Dance; third, Boy Scout VFW Troop No 721.

Senior Marching, first, Northwest Territory Militia; second, VFW Color Guard, third, U.S. Marine Corps Color Guard.

Floats, first, Northville Historical Society; second, King's Mill, third, Canton-Plymouth-Northville YMCA.

Even the weather cooperated, commented Jaycee workers, who called the day "super" from beginning to end.

Winners of the bicycle entries in the parade were:

Seven and under category. David Wayne, first; Mitchell Thrush, second, Sante Ercoli, third; and Wendy Marbey, fourth.

Eight to 11 category. Tammy Craig, first; Sheila Goley, second; Tia Rathburn, third; and Monte Mitchell, fourth.

12 and up category. John Hawley, first; Greg Suchomel, second, Tim Frader, third; and John Drielt, fourth.

Guru's Students Propose TM Class for Brighton

John Strouss explains Transcendental Meditation

Transcendental Meditation, according to John and Susie Strouss of Ann Arbor, is a method by which people can "move toward a more peaceful situation in the world."

A method of "relaxing fulfillment" handed down by people of all cultures for 5,000 years, Transcendental Meditation is being tried by more and more Americans every day, according to followers of the philosophy.

Not a religion, "TM" nevertheless is practiced religiously by millions of people around the world. It is a practice which has become more widespread since the emergence of the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, Indian guru who first came to worldwide attention when he tutored the Beatles in the mid-Sixties.

The Strousses, affiliated with Ann Arbor's branch of the International Meditation Society, say they studied under the Maharishi for six months.

Last Wednesday, they brought their expertise to Brighton's St. Paul's Episcopal Church, where they conducted a free, "get-acquainted" lecture on TM.

The purpose of the lecture, according to John Strouss, was to provide the 15-20 persons who attended "enough information about Transcendental Meditation ... to make an intelligent decision" on whether to try the method.

The Strousses hoped to interest enough people in TM, they said, to enable them to teach a course on the subject in Brighton.

Such courses don't come cheaply.

For the four-day instruction provided by the Strousses, married couples are expected to pay $200 to the non-profit International Meditation Society.

Adults taking the course individually are assessed $125 for the four, two-hour lessons, the Strousses said. Charges for younger persons range downward, depending on age and financial status.

Even little children may learn TM, John Strouss said. Those under 10 years old who wish to try are expected to donate two weeks' allowance, or their favorite toy, to the Meditation Society.

The benefits of practicing Transcendental Meditation are both physiological and psychological, according to John Strouss.

"Basically, it's for fulfillment and to develop to the ultimate potential of ourselves," Strouss said.

"TM is a simple technique which enables us to appreciate refined states of thought. It is a simple, natural technique which affects every aspect of a person's life."

From a psychological standpoint, Strouss said, the practice of TM "helps people rid themselves of accumulated stress and tension which sleep can't get at."

Physiologically, Strouss said, Transcendental Meditation provides the body with relaxation of bodily functions, such as the slowing of breathing, heartbeat, etc., which helps the body's systems.

Strouss noted that TM is not a substitute for sleep. Nor is it a trance-like state.

"TM is very different from just sitting with our eyes closed, or taking a nap," Strouss said. "It is a method of looking inward toward the source of our thoughts, and thus gaining greater understanding."

"TM is definitely not a technique for withdrawing from life," Strouss noted. "It is a preparation for activity."

Since the quality of a person's activity is largely dependent upon the quality of that person's rest, Susie Strouss said, TM enhances the quality of life.

"The world remains the same, but we learn to appreciate it so much more," Mrs. Strouss stated. "Living becomes more of a joy because it takes less effort."

The Bible School will be held on consecutive Wednesday evenings for a period of five weeks.

Northville Presbyterian young people planning to participate in the annual youth work camp, being held August 5-13 this year, must make reservations with the church by July 15, the Reverend Richard Henderson, associate minister, announced this week.

About a dozen young people are expected to attend the work camp which will be held on the grounds of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church at Lake Erie. It is an ecumenical camp, Reverend Henderson explains, which is in need of painting, renovating and cleaning help. Senior high young people of the Northville church sold fertilizer this spring to finance the work camp.

A single service at 9:30 a.m. will be held at First Presbyterian Church of Northville during July and August, according to the Reverend Lloyd Brasure. The men's Bible class of the church will be meeting at 10:45 a.m. Sundays in the church kitchen and has adopted the name, "Pairs and Spares," for the summer as it invites wives and any other interested persons to join the sessions.

Twelve South Lyon United Methodists are enjoying Youth Club camp at Estes Park, Colorado this week.

The nine youths accompanied by three adult left early Saturday morning by bus from Drayton Plains. The bus was chartered by a Drayton Plains church group for the two and one half day trip west.

Camp activities will include Bible study, music, clinics and classes as well as free time. The group arrives home July 14.

Attending from South Lyon are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mrs. Donald Crowther, Jeff Burt, Mike Misslitz, Karen Newman, Janine McFadden, Lynda Smith, Scott Herald, Alex McLellan, Barbara McLellan, and Gay Hannah.

Included is a selection on English handbells.

For 11 weeks during the summer the Gospel Heralds travel throughout the east, south and midwest representing the Bible Institute and performing in 76 churches. According

New Church Purchases Property

For three and one-half years, the Fellowship Bible Church has been holding regular services in the Hartland Music Hall.

Last month, the church took the first step toward building its own facility when it bought two and one-half acres on Hartland Road, just north of M-59, in Hartland Township.

According to Pastor Glenn Essenburg, the church takes special pride in its new property and building plans because the group is a local, independent parish.

"When many churches start out, they get financial help from, for example, the home missions division of the national church."

In the case of Fellowship Bible Church, however, all funds are generated locally, by members.

Plans call for building the parsonage first, Mr. Essenburg said. Eventually, the group hopes to build a church on the same property, he said.

Guiding the church building program, the pastor said, are members of the Deacon Board — Russell Janks, Milton Senter, George Taylor, Donald Rogers and Carl Lynsco.

Weed War Adviseable

If establishing a new lawn is in your plans for fall, now is the time to wage all-out war on troublesome perennial weeds, according to turfgrass specialists at Michigan State University.

"Quackgrass, tall fescue and yellow nutsedge are the three perennial grasses most likely to be a problem," says William Meggitt, Extension crop and soil specialist. "The best time to control them is in the summer, when they are actively growing."

Sport-treat these weeds with either Amitrol-T or Dalapon, Meggitt advises. Both these chemicals are post-emergence herbicides. That is, they are used to control weeds after they have germinated.

Use Amitrol at the rate of 12 teaspoons per gallon of water; Dalapon, at the rate of 30 teaspoons per gallon. Spray the weeds, wait for them to die, and then dig them out by hand to be sure you've destroyed all the underground plant parts.

PARKING GARDEN—Who says parking lots have to be unattractive? Utilizing tile rejects, the City of Northville has created a garden of flowers and trees in its new municipal parking lots on Main and Cady Streets. Colorful petunias and a variety of trees were planted there this spring and now they, a bricked garden wall, and a new drinking fountain have turned what could be a drab asphalt lot into a pleasant city attraction.

Landscaping Color Adds Sparkle

Color in the landscape is like the sparkle of sunlight on water — somehow it says, "This is where the action is!"

So says Joe Cox, Extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University. He points out that both natural and man-made materials offer a wide range of color possibilities.

Buildings, fences, driveways, walks and parking areas are generally not high attraction areas, he notes. They tend to be the background to which the home landscaper adds natural materials to create the desired effect.

"With careful planning, you can put together a landscape that will provide year-round interest by providing a panorama of color that 'changes' with the seasons," Cox suggests.

Spring color is easy to achieve, he observes, because of the multitude of spring-flowering plants available. The end of your spring flowers need not spell the end of landscape color, however. For summer color, look for foliage plants and annual flowers.

"Visualize the red-leaved Japanese maple silhouetted against the bare wall of a house or garage," he suggests. "Or the light gray-green foliage mass of a Russian olive tucked away in the rear of your yard, adding visual depth and creating a restful, cool oasis."

Contrasting, the light leaves are the black, angular limbs of the Russian olive, which will draw the eye during any season of the year.

"You could also take advantage of the cheery contrast created by clustering masses of red petunias, white alyssum and blue lobelia against a dark green background of Japanese yews," he says, "or the appeal of a stand of yellow and white daisies against a stately blue spruce."

The varying greens of shrubs and trees; colorful flowers, tree bark in white, black and dozens of shades in between — these are some of the natural resources you have to work with. Man-made objects, too, can add color and

Multi-Purpose Herbs

Great on Toast, for Headaches, in Bath!

By KATHY COPLEY

No one needs to be told that herbs add flavor and aroma to everything from hamburgers to gourmet sauces. But they have other culinary uses not so well known.

Herb butters will keep in the refrigerator, unopened, for six months. Once opened, they can be used for toast, sandwiches, meats, potatoes, vegetables, and all those other things you flavor with butter. Recipes vary, of course, but I discovered these three sets of proportions: 3 TBS. fresh herb in ½ pound salted butter; 2 TBS. fresh or dried herb in 4 ounces of butter; or 1 TBS. fresh herb in ¼ pound of butter.

Some of the herbs most commonly used for herb butters are mint, chervil, basil, chive, lovage, rosemary, savory, tarragon, thyme, parsley, and marjoram.

Herb teas have long been reported to have medicinal value, but their unusual flavor is enough to make them worth a try. Pour 1 cup of boiling water over a handful of fresh, crushed leaves and let it steep for 5-10 minutes. Rosemary tea is reportedly good for colds, headaches, and promoting sociability. Sage tea is a spring tonic, basil tea a tranquilizer, and angelica tea is good for digestion and colic. Every herb tea is best when sweetened with honey.

Tarragon vinegar is a common ingredient in gourmet cooking, but numerous other herbs are equally suited for flavoring cider vinegar. Soak the leaves of basil, fennel, or savory in vinegar for 1-2 weeks. For dill vinegar, use the airy seed head and leave it in the bottle as decoration.

Fines herbs are nothing more than three or more herbs minced together and usually added to soups, stews, meats, salads, and vegetables. Three popular combinations are: tarragon-thyme-rosemary; chives-marjoram-parsley; basil-burnet-chervil.

Along the same line is a bouquet garni, sprigs of three or more herbs tied together or caught in cheesecloth. These are cooked in soup, stews, or sauces, but removed before serving. Popular combinations here are: tarragon-thyme; marjoram-parsley-sage; sweet bay-chives-lovage.

Herb baths are more cooling and refreshing than the ordinary kind. Crush a handful of fresh herb leaves, especially mint, sweet woodruff or lavender, under the running hot water and the aroma will be quickly released. If washing all the little herb crumbs out of the tub turns you off, wrap them in a small square of cheesecloth or pour boiling water over the herbs in a bowl and strain the hot liquid into the bath water.

Herbs are also useful as potpourri closet and drawer fresheners. Thoroughly dry the leaves of several aromatic herbs (mint, lavender, and rose petals are nice in a lingerie drawer) and combine them in whatever proportions turn you on. Wrap them in the ever-present cheesecloth or put the crushed leaves in one of those hanging sachet holders many dime stores carry.

For more information on herbs, write (or join) the Herb Society of America, Horticultural Hall, 300 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02115.

'Off with Their Heads' Is Good Flower Advice

Home flower growers can learn a lesson from Alice's adventures in Wonderland.

No, it's not to paint the white roses red, as the Red Queen's gardeners did, but to put into practice the queen's favorite threat: "Off with their heads!"

As the queen's gardeners probably knew, and as the horticulturists at Michigan State University recommend, removing the old flowers and the seed heads of many annual flowers will prolong flowering.

This is especially important for pansies, zinnias, snapdragons, cosmos and the larger marigolds, the experts note. Petunias, moss roses, verbena, annual phlox and dianthus, on the other hand, will flower all summer without your help, though pruning long, ungainly stems will keep the plants tidier.

Earth Star's Hardy

Stars are not made or born — they grow in little pots.

"Earth star" is another name for several varieties of bromeliads that belong to the Cryptanthus group. They get their name from their habit of growing leaves in a starry rosette.

Cryptanthus itself means "hidden flower," according to horticulturists at Michigan State University. Unlike other bromeliads, which display their flowers on an erect, showy spike that grows from the center of the rosette, Cryptanthus conceal their flowers beneath their leaves.

A favorite variety is Cryptanthus bromelioides tricolor. The bright green of the leaves contrasts with a rosy pink at the base of the leaves and along their margins. White stripes run lengthwise along the sword-shape leaves.

For best results with these low-growing plants, give them plenty of light and keep the soil just barely moist at all times. Because they have small root systems, a moist atmosphere and frequent syringing of the leaves is beneficial.

Cryptanthus are hardy plants, well suited to average home temperatures and able to withstand low humidity. It is well suited for use in both dish gardens and terrariums

State Gets Auto Inspection Reprieve

LANSING—Motor vehicle inspection once or twice a year is a must in 40 of these United States.

Michigan is one of the exceptions.

Because of that, the state has been threatened with withholding of federal highway safety funds.

But Michigan now has a reprieve from the Department of Transportation. The state has until November, 1976 to prove the effectiveness of its own automobile safety inspection method, the check-lane system.

THE PROOF, if it's to be found, will come from data from an experimental program being conducted in Jackson County with new techniques and equipment. The aim is to check some 10,000 cars before the end of October. Some of those checked this summer will be re-inspected next year.

And officials say the checkups will be more thorough than those now being conducted throughout the state.

Governor William Milliken says he expects the Jackson County program will show that Michigan's system can meet federal safety standards at less cost than in some other compulsory inspection systems.

MICHIGAN'S check-lane system involved some 300,000 vehicles last year. Of those, some 65 percent showed defects of one sort or another.

That check-lane method will continue in effect across Michigan while the Jackson County program goes on.

Officials say there'll be an emphasis on brake inspections, since defects in brakes account for more accidents than any other defect.

HOW CAN YOU be guaranteed by the state that your lights will go on when you flick the switch during coming years? And that you can afford to put the power on?

Figuring all folks in Michigan would welcome "the assured availability of power at an affordable price," Governor William Milliken has named a high-powered advisory committee to help come up with answers to those questions.

The committee, chaired by former Lt. Governor James Brickley, will deal specifically with ways to finance the construction of new power generating capacity.

"THE MAJOR utilities in Michigan and throughout the nation are facing a financial crisis," Milliken says. "In Michigan, utilities have stopped nearly all construction of new generating capacity that is essential for our future economic growth. Clearly, financing of construction is the major challenge."

Thus, the governor is asking the committee to look into ways to pay for building, including such alternatives as expansion of publicly-owned facilities and debt guarantees for investor-owned utilities.

MEANWHILE, it's reported that peak demand for electricity is below previous estimates in Michigan, mainly because of voluntary energy conservation and reduced commercial and industrial business activity.

But the State Public Service Commission says it is impossible at this point to determine whether there will be a crunch. Fuels to run generating equipment might become scarce, the commission points out, and unexpected disruption of generating equipment can come at any time.

The commission recently adopted a final order dealing with permanent emergency procedures for Consumers Power and Detroit Edison, the state's two major electrical facilities.

THREE BILLION pounds of corn, 2.8 billion pounds of grapes, 277 million pounds of sugar and syrups, 73,000 pounds of rhubarb...

Sounds like a super recipe for some weird concoction.

But it's just a portion of what went into making the nearly five billion gallons of beer, wine and distilled spirits produced in this country during 1973. (Figures for 1974 aren't yet complete.)

SO WHAT, you say?

Well, the figures come from the Michigan Council on Alcohol Problems, which recently recalled comments from a Harvard University nutritionist who suggests a lower alcohol intake might help solve the world food crisis.

That list for alcohol makers continues: 579 million pounds of rice, nearly 177 million pounds of rye, six million pounds of apples, three million pounds of peaches...

Peek at the personal side of Michigan's governors in a historical exhibit on display at Frankenmuth.

The show, entitled "Michigan's Governors: Personal Glimpses," includes photographs and documents telling something about the lives of 12 Michigan chief executives — William Milliken and G. Mennen Williams among them.

The exhibit moves to the Muskegon County Museum in mid-July.

Paint Resists Slump

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.—Paint sales are able to resist downturns in the construction industry better than sales of most other building products, largely because much of the spending on paint is for maintenance and renovation of older structures.

Nevertheless, any marked decline in general industrial activity is bound to restrict paint consumption to some degree. Hence, last year's slump in the national economy played a large part in restricting paint shipments to about the same level as that seen in 1973.

With economic recovery expected during the latter half of this year, however, demand for paint should pick up from such markets as housing, furniture, and appliances, with prospects for paint manufacturers generally favorable beyond the near term. Over the years, the industry has shown quite steady if spectacular growth.

THERE ARE TWO broad categories for paint sales: Trade and industrial. The first consists of paint sold to consumers, contractors, and professional painters for new construction and for repainting, refinishing, and maintenance.

The second, industrial, consists of coatings sold to manufacturers for application during the stages of producing finished articles.

Until recently, trade sales had been more important in the industry's growth, but just about half of the $3.5 billion of total U.S. paint sales is now accounted for by industrial sales. Experts feel that in the future volume of industrial coatings will surpass that of consumer paints.

CONCERN OVER the effects of ingredients on human health has helped change paint technology. A federal law was enacted in 1973 limiting the amount of lead in new paint. Also, the paint industry has been under mounting pressure to change formulations in such a way as to lessen the pollution problems stemming from traditional paint manufacture.

Solvent-based paints have been mostly changed to water-based in sales to consumers for homes and apartments, but according to the National Paint and Coatings Association more than 90 percent of industrial finishes are traditional polluting formulations. In the future more industrial finishes are expected to be water-based, providing greater safety in manufacture and in application.

ANOTHER REASON that new paint technologies are being stepped up is the increasing use of building materials such as aluminum, asbestos, and vinyl siding, plus other nonlumber products requiring little or no finishing. The long-term impact of such replacement materials on the sale of paints is a matter of deep concern for the paint manufacturers.

For the present, however, since far more paint is used to repaint old houses than in new construction substitute materials will have only a limited impact on paint sales.

THERE ARE MORE than 1,500 firms involved in the manufacture of paint, but five corporations — Sherwin-Williams, du Pont, PPG Industries, SCM Corp., and Celanese Corp. — probably account for 50 percent of total volume.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends the common stock of PPG Industries for purchase at this time. PPG is well known for its line of Pittsburgh paints, and it is also one of the nation's largest makers of float and sheet glass. Its chemical division is an important producer of heavy chemicals such as chlorine and alkalis.

Further, PPG is the leading supplier of fiber glass cord to the tire industry. The company's future earnings base has been considerably enlarged in recent years through an aggressive capital spending program, and PPG's prospects for the long term are bright.

Readers interested in a free detailed report on PPG Industries may write to Babson's Reports, Wellesley Hills, Mass. 02181.

Church Capsules

to Lee Walker, director of public relations at the institute, "The purpose of the tour is to communicate Jesus Christ both in church services and on a one-to-one basis and to broaden the knowledge of the Appalachian Bible Institute." During the service a narrated slide presentation giving information about the institute will be shown.

Members of the team include Clyde Gwin, Ashville, Ohio; Paula Guyer, Altoona, Pennsylvania; Tom Jeffcott, Sacramento, California; Ted Merrell, Posen, Illinois; Becky Pipkin, Bradley, West Virginia; and Sandra Schorner, Hanover, Pennsylvania. A faculty member traveling with the team will present a brief Bible message at the end of the service.

Pastor Cedric Whitcomb invites the public to the concert for which there is no charge.

Vacation church school for children aged three to 12 will begin next Monday, July 21, at the Hartland United Methodist Church. Classes will be held each day, Monday through Friday, July 25, from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Bible lessons, crafts, songs, games and refreshments will be offered. To register their children or for more information, parents should call church education director Mrs. Dale Luebke (632-5573) or the church (632-7476).

Catholics in the Brighton area contributed $8,804 to the Lansing Diocese's annual Diocesan Service Appeal, the Diocese Office of Communications announced last week. This year, the fund drive received $652,602 to assist more than 26 agencies, programs, and services in the 10-county Diocese. The total amount is an increase over the $643,143 collected last year, and represents 97 percent of the $675,000 Diocesan goal. Forty-five of the 84 parishes in the Diocese exceeded their goals.

The Darcas Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Hamburg, will hold its annual picnic at the home of Eva Armstrong, 9773 Beverly Drive, Lakeland, on Tuesday, July 15, at 12 noon.

Those Were The Days

It was fun to ride "the interurban"
On the old Northwestern line!
Once a year, we Methodist kids
Would thrill to the trolley's whine

As we headed east and far away
For many and many a mile,
Until, at last, we boarded a boat
For our favorite place, Belle Isle!

It was there we found Utopia
With ponies, swings and a zoo...
Aquariums, flowers and merry-go-rounds
And a ride in a canoe!

A picnic lunch and lots of games —
Too soon our day was done,
And we ferried the river once again,
Back to our "interurban".

But the old Northwestern line, we thought
Was the best ride anywhere,
With its red-plush seats awaiting us
To speed us from here to there!

Summer Fashions

How can a mother put across
A word of true compassion,
It seems my words are at a loss
I can't keep up with the fashion

Of daughters running round the house
In Bikinis and bare feet
I haven't seen them in a blouse
Since we've had this wave of heat

Shoes it seems are a thing of the past
A skirt alas, don't even bother
This world of fashion cannot last
They don't even have modesty in front of their father

A pin curl is unknown
A curler, mother how old fashioned
An apron they'll disown
I wonder how they'd like it, if their mother got into the action

Fran Mc Casey

My Pleasure

Want to have a pleasure?
Want to have some fun?
Walking in a crowded group,
Try this little pun.

Keep a smile upon your face.
Soon a laugh will come.
When the audience who see
Wonders what they've done!

Tax Free Stores at various departure airports throughout the world always hold a great deal of enchantment for the neophyte traveler. Some have genuine bargains. In others, although the articles are tax free, they bear such a high mark-up that the purchase of them is inadvisable. (All kinds of booze are usually sold at bargain prices, so are furs in the Anchorage airport, cameras in Tokyo and Hong Kong airports, silk and Batik cloth in Bangkok, ivory earrings in Bombay, etc.)

On some international flights, the stewardesses will wheel a cart up the plane aisle containing cigarettes, lighters, whiskey, and perfumes. Usually, these are the best bargains of all. The articles are genuine, the prices the lowest available.

Most important: Remember these items are part of your list on your customs declarations and are taxable if over the exemption total.

Tours are generally for group travel and are now available for cut-rate individual travel. I am a great advocate of the use of tour-basing prices for trips. For example, a tour to Las Vegas may include coupons for jai alai games, dinner and entertainment, breakfasts, drinks in Show Bars and all sorts of goodies, all for less costs to the traveler than a round-trip air fare not on a tour.

If traveling in Europe, Asia or most foreign countries, the variety of tours and where they go and what they include are beyond this column's available space. Special tours, such as Bridge Players Tours, Piano Tuners Tours, Attorneys Conventions, etc., hold no charms for me. I want to get away from regular routine matters — meet new people, talk about new ideas, see new places.

I remember a tour of Mexico City in 1968 when my son-in-law, Cap Pethers, and I had two voucher tickets for the bull fight at the Hippodrome Arena. The cost was $4 each, and it included limousine to the arena and return. Another Michigander and his wife, without inclusive tour benefits, bought two bull fight tickets from a scalper for $8.50 each and spent $6.50 for cab fares to and from. The crowning insult was that they had to walk two blocks from the Hippodrome to catch a cab while our transportation was waiting at the exit gate. I heard no further scornful remarks about "those damn tours."

By the way, be sure to see the Mexican Ballet at the National Theatre when you are in Mexico City. And get your tickets ahead of time — it's always crowded.

You will often see hotel reservation offices in foreign airport arrival locations. Generally, they are fakes. If you check your hotel reservations with them, they will invariably inform you that for some reason your hotel cannot honor your reservation and proceed to send you to another hotel where they can collect a commission.

Joe's Pantry Dumps Eagles in Showdown

EASY OUT—Hugh Woodside of the Eagles finds himself an easy out during the second inning of last week's game against Joe's Party Pantry. While the Eagles scored six runs in the first three innings, Joe's Pantry scored 15 in the final four innings to win the game between two of the top teams in the Northville Recreation National League.

Tavern Keeps National Lead Intact

Joe's Party Pantry jumped into second place by winning over the Eagles last week with a score of 15-6 in the Northville Slo-Pitch National League.

Surprisingly the Eagles scored consistently in the first three innings while holding the Pantrymen scoreless. Three runs were scored in the first inning, two in the second and one in the third to give the Eagles a six run lead. This, however, turned out to be their only threat for the rest of the game.

Joe's Party Pantry burst out of their sluggishness with runs by Bob Radigan, Ed Thompson and Gary Sabin in the fourth. Bob Walton helped in the scoring with two RBI's.

Eleven runs in the fifth stunned the Eagles for good as Joe's Party Pantry kept scoring. Two walks and four errors helped lengthen the lead while Gary Callender's homerun and three RBI's sealed the game in favor of the Pantrymen. They added one more run in the sixth to win the game.

Little Caesar's-Newcomers split its two games by losing to the Presbyterians 4-3. The Presbyterians gained an lead with two runs in the first while keeping Little Caesar's-Newcomers scoreless.

The Pizzamen rallied with two runs by John Bauman and Les Unger to tie the game at 2-2 in the second inning. A third run by Pizzaman Tom Dougherty in the third sent Little Caesar's-Newcomers into the lead.

Scoreless innings shortened the game until the Presbyterians let loose with a run by Tom Osborne and one in the seventh by Rich Myers That gave the game to the Presbyterians.

The Pizzamen overwhelmed the Eagles 15-9 in a very consistent game. Little Caesar's-Newcomers managed to score every inning to defeat the Eagles.

Bob Martin and Jim Richardson led off the inning with two runs for the Pizzaman and runs were also scored in the second and third innings. Bob Kelley tallied the lone run for the Eagles in the second inning.

Little Caesar's-Newcomers gained three more runs in the fourth, two in the fifth and two in the sixth. The Eagles fought back with one in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the sixth to make the game 11-5.

The Pizzamen collected four more in the final seventh as did the Eagles but Little Caesar's-Newcomers finally took the game.

First place Tavern won an easy victory over the Lutherans with a score of 16-1.

The league leaders blasted away in the first inning for a total of eleven runs. The Lutherans got one run by John Fauer in the third which accounted for their only run. Tavern scored three more runs with Jeff Sudz getting an RBI in the third for Tavern. Two more runs were added to finish the game for Tavern in the fifth.

Joe's Party Pantry won last week's ballgame against Ely's 12-6. Two errors and an RBI by Gary Callender helped the Pantrymen earn three runs in the first.

Both teams scored one run in the second and Ely's let loose with five runs in the third to lead the game 6-4. The Pantryment put a stop to the challenge by scoring three runs on a homerun by Richard Starr. Starr was also credited with three RBI's.

Scoreless innings dominated until the final seventh when four errors and five runs finished the game in favor of Joe's Party Pantry.

VFW lost to Ross Northrop 13-8. Five runs opened up the top of the inning in favor of Northrop. Bruce Schmitz earned an RBI with his doublebagger for Ross Northrop. VFW also belted out four in the first and it looked tight as the score stood 5-4 in favor of Ross Northrop.

An even bigger challenge came from the VFW as they hit for three more runs in the second to take the lead 7-5. Ross Northrop demolished the lead however with a big five run score in the third. Brad McAllister slugged a triple and an RBI to help the team along.

That finished any threat by the VFW who had their final run in the fourth by David Wilder. Mike Myers got the RBI for that inning. Seventh place Ross Northrop went on to earn three more runs in the fifth to finally win the game in the sixth.

The J.C.'s also beat the VFW by a score of 8-1. Six runs were scored by the J.C.'s in the first inning with Tom Lang, Pete Magnan and Dave Pevour making RBI's. The VFW managed to get one run in the first with an RBI by Mike Myers.

Leo Kinsella scored the J.C.'s run in the second which brought the 7-1 score in favor of the J.C.'s. The rest of the game was scoreless until the seventh and last inning when Jerry Decker scored.

The Lutherans wiped out last place Adray Appliance in a 19-5 victory. With two RBI's and a homerun by Joe Grasley and RBI's by D. Mitchell, Simkins, Dennis Myers, Ernest Edick and Gary Mapes, the Lutherans put eleven runs up on the scoreboard.

Adray Appliance came back in the second with two runs by Don Lanning and Al Simon and three in the third. Ron Nisun had one RBI and Lanning two RBI's in the third inning.

Five runs by the Lutherans in the fourth destroyed any Adray Appliance hopes. The fifth and final inning ended when the Lutherans connected with a triple and an RBI by Wayne Lontier and three runs to take the game.

Lontier excelled during the game with one RBI, two doubles and a triple to help the Lutherans in their victory.

In Novi National

Action Dumps Jim Storm

To Hold Slo-Pitch Lead

The action team continued last week to sizzle as the leader in the Novi Slo-Pitch softball national league leader routed Jim Storm 16-4 and then ripped apart Portec 14-6 to take a commanding two game lead.

The Action team picked up two runs in the first inning thanks to triples by Bill White and Bob Pisha while Jim Storm retaliated with one run in the first inning. Action picked up a pair of runs in the fourth while Jim Storm tied up the contest on a pair of timely errors and a pair of singles which scored three runs.

While Jim Storm found itself unable to score any more runs during the contest, Action came up with five runs in the sixth and seven more in the seventh.

In the profitable sixth inning, Pisha's two run homer was the big highlight though his teammates slashed out four singles to help. A triple by David Ward combined with two singles, and doubles by Osborn, Pisha and Rick Dale yielded the seventh inning runs.

Plenty of extra base hits helped Action top Portec 14-6 in a battle between the National's first and last place teams.

Action scored two in the first, three in the second, three in the fifth and five in the seventh. Portec, meanwhile, pushed across all of its six runs in the second inning. Singles by six players plus a double by James Kaczmarezyk helped Portec in the second.

Meanwhile Bill White had a perfect day at the plate for the winner slugging out two homers plus a pair of doubles which accounted for five RBI's and three more runs.

Pisha, meanwhile, came up with a homer and a triple. McMillan scored four times as he reached base safely on two singles, a double and an error. All told, Action came up with nine extra base hits.

John Arsfeau hit three singles for the loser.

In a battle between the second place team in the national league and the first place team in the American, Michigan Tractor upended Fisher Sporting Goods 13-6.

Fisher, which entered action with only two losses in the tough National League just couldn't get untracked during the first three innings while Michigan Tractor jumped off to a quick 13 run lead thanks to eight runs in the first and five more in the second.

In the first inning, Michigan Tractor started off the action with a lead-off homer by Edward Brown. Three errors plus doubles by Edward Brown, David Brown and Joseph LaFleche and two other singles scored the other runs.

In the second inning, Jewel Ryan ripped out a triple, Clark Moran shoved out a double while Mark Gretel climaxed the inning with a three run homer.

Fisher scored five of its six runs in the fourth when John Pitt's triple, Dan Kardel's double and Larry Taylor's homer paced the Fisher bats.

The victory pushed Novi Tractor into a tie for first in the American League with a 9-3 record.

Fisher came back with an easy 23-2 victory over Lakewood Colony thanks to some heavy hitting. By the third inning, Fisher was leading 6-1, then added six runs in the fourth and eight more runs in the fifth. Fisher put the topping on the cake with three more runs in the sixth.

There were several big guns for Fisher. Pitt was perfect at the plate rapping out two singles, a double and timely homers in the fourth and sixth. His hits were good for five RBI's and four runs. Tim Fisher, meanwhile, ripped out a sixth inning homer as well as a double and single as he scored four times and came up with four RBI's.

Ron Thompson's three doubles scored two RBI's and three runs while O'Brien came up with three triples.

Novi Tire certainly didn't have much trouble remaining in first place in the American Division ripping apart Portec 32-4.

Novi Tire scored nine times in the first inning and 10 times in the second.

Extra base raps in the first inning included doubles by Barney Auton, Tom Renner and Starr with a homer by Bill Barnes.

In the second inning, Mike Fenchel, Reynel Rodriguez, Larry Wichman, Ron Balogh, and Tom Mowbray all slugged out doubles. Barnes came up with his second homer of the game to round out the second inning scoring.

In the third inning, Auton and Mowbray both tallied triples while Fenchel, Renner, Barnes, and Wichman rapped out doubles to score five more runs. In the fifth inning, Novi Tire came up with four more runs thanks to homers by Renner and Wichman.

For Portec, John Herms led the way with a double and triple while Max Evans also had a triple.

Novi Inn remained within striking distance in the National League as it ripped the NPOA 10-5.

Novi Inn scored three times in the first, twice in the fourth, and five times in the fifth. George Hawkins slashed out three doubles for the winner while Ed Cheeseman accumulated a triple and two singles. Morena's homer in the fifth was a big blow as was Gary Reinwand's fourth inning round tripper.

The NPOA scored all five of its runs in the sixth inning thanks to five singles and a double by Summer.

Lakewood Colony came up with a strong offensive and excellent defensive effort to hand the NPOA its second loss 14-0.

A triple by Don Kolodziejki in the first inning was a big blow for Lakewood as it scored two runs to start off. Iain McDonald's homer in the second helped Lakewood score four more runs. Curtis Nicholas added a homer for Lakewood in the fourth. John Helling paced the winner with two doubles and a single while Kolodziejki had a triple and single. MacDonald ended up with a homer and two singles.

Novi Inn put its power hitters to work to defeat the Jaycees 11-0. Accumulating 20 hits, Novi Inn claimed four homers Harvey Wilson, Michael Bingham, Charles Faulkner and Paul Christian hit those. Bingham also tallied a double and single while Faulkner had two singles. Shoemaker ripped three singles while Faulkner had two singles besides his homer. Christian came up with a pair of doubles in addition to his homer.

Novi Inn wrapped up action by defeating Community Management 13-4. The winner came up with 17 hits which included homers by Bingham and Otlewski in the high point nine run third inning. Cheeseman also rapped out a homer in the second.

Raditz paced the winner with a double and two singles while Shoemaker came up with three singles. Christian had a triple and double.

John Stpak's triple and single led the loser while Keith Andre rapped out three singles.

J. P. Realty had one of its more profitable weeks by crumpling the Jaycees 9-2 and tying Lakewood Colony 10-10. Against the Jaycees, the Realtors let loose with 14 hits including two homers by Roger Pelchat, and one by James Woelkers and John Withers.

Time limit ended the game as Lakewood tied the Realtors 10-10.

Northville Teams Tie for Second Spot

A big battle for second place has caused a rare four team tie in Northville's Recreational Slo-Pitch League.

Joe's Little Bar, John Mach Ford, Manufacturer's Bank and Tavern-Marcus are slowly but surely challenging American league leader Lapham for first place. Lapham has 9 wins and 2 losses and the four second-place teams stand at 7 wins and 4 losses.

Joe's Little Bar, in an important game, fell 6-4 to Lapham's last week.

The first and second innings remained scoreless until the end of the second when RBI's by Dennis Colligan and Jim Yanoschik gave Joe's Little Bar the edge over their rivals with two runs.

Not to be outdone, the league leaders battled back in the third with singles by George Borth, Tom Alberts and Ted Marzonia and a crucial two run error which gave Lapham's four runs.

Both teams remained hitless until the fifth inning when Joe's Little Bar earned two runs on a double by Doug Crisan and an error. In the eighth and final inning, Lapham's bounded back with a mighty four hits and two runs. George Borth and Joe Lineman scored runs and Lineman and Tom Alberts were credited with RBI's.

Second place Manufacturer's Bank also lost their game last week. In a battle with J&J Roofing, the bankers were upset 11-7.

J&J Roofing, a fifth place team, had its bats booming with six hits and five runs in the first inning. Singles by Cole, Coran, McDonald, Davidson, and Euker and a double by Van practically won the game for the roofers in the first. It wasn't until the third inning that the bankers were even able to score. J&J

Roofers also scored one run in the third.

Three runs were scored by Manufacturer's in the fourth on three hits and one error. The roofers responded with a homer by J. O'Brien and three hits to give the team 11 runs. The bankers finished out the seventh and final inning with three runs.

Northville Vanilla was blasted by Joe's Little Bar in a 12-4 romp. Second place Joe's Little Bar belted out three runs in the first and Bill Andrews earned an RBI to give the team a 4-0 lead in the second. Two hits and an error gave Northville Vanilla three runs and the game began to look close. The fourth inning saw Joe's Little Bar smash out six more runs to almost clinch the game. Tex Trumbell, Scott Leu, Bill Andrews, Ed Kritch and Jerry Hajousiewicz contributed with their RBI's.

In the fifth, two runs were scored for Joe's Little Bar and ended the final inning with a last ditch effort by Northville Vanilla's single run.

Second place John Mach Ford held third place Hamlet to a two hit shut-out in which John Mach won 11-0.

The winning team erupted with a grand total of five runs in the first and two in the second. Three runs in the third and one in the fourth finished the game in the fifth inning. Norman Kubitsky and Nick Lubnik were Hamlet's only players to make any hits. A triple by Jeff Crawford was a big blow for the car men in the third.

Last place Spagy's lost to John Mach Ford 14-7 in a seven inning game. John Mach gained one run in the first and pounded in five more in the second. Jeff Jones was credited with two RBI's and a home run for John Mach in the second.

Both teams battled in the fourth for runs. John Mach scored two runs and Spagy's broke out of their game batting slump to smash in five runs. With a burst of energy, John Mach lengthened its lead in the sixth with five more runs. The final seventh inning saw each team score one run.

Hamlet, in its second game last week, edged Zayti Trucking in a close 6-5 game. Hamlet moved ahead in the first with one run. Zayti Trucking was held hitless until the fourth. Hamlet then scored two runs in the third when Nick Libnik and Brian Maston scored on an error, and Norman Kubitsky's sacrifice. Kubitsky was credited with one RBI. Zayti Trucking picked up its first two runs in the fourth while another was added in the fifth.

Hamlet broke the 3-3 tie in the fifth with runs by Nick Libnik, Brian Maston and Dave Fendelet. The game ended with Zayti Trucking's final two runs in the sixth.

Fourth place tied teams, Zayti Trucking and Fairway Landscaping, battled it out in a game which Fairway eventually ended up winning 15-7.

Zayti Trucking started the scoring with six runs out of four hits, a walk and an error. Fairway fought back in the second with two runs to shorten the lead between the two teams.

Both teams were runless until the fourth when Fairway's Gerald Levan scored to give the team three runs. Rick Bingley of Zayti Trucking again scored for his team giving them a four run lead over Fairway.

In a burst of energy, seven runs were scored in the sixth for Fairway which clinched the game. John Norris added the final run to give Fairway a eight point lead and the game.

Fairway also bombarded Northville Vanilla by a score of 13-3. Fairway players Stan Nirider, Joe Hay, Kim Marburger, John Norris and Gerald Levan scored five of the runs and Terry Mills was credited with four RBI's and a home run to give Fairway a six run lead in the first. Both teams remained scoreless until the fourth when Northville Vanilla scored one run. By then it was too late. Fairway lengthened its five run lead with four more runs.

Coach Schipper Honored; Named Top NCAA Coach

A former Northville high school football coach, Ron Schipper, who is now head football coach at Central College in Pella, Iowa, is the second winningest NCAA Division II and III coach in the nation, according to statistics released by the NCAA.

The 14-year Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference veteran's win percentage of .797 on 101 victories, 25 defeats and 2-ties-ranks third among coaches of all NCAA divisions, topped only by Joe Paterno of Penn State (.847) and Wittenberg's Dave Maurer (.831).

Only college head coaches with a minimum of five years experience at four-year institutions are included in the NCAA figures.

Schipper's 101 triumphs earn him 12th place on the career victory list headed by Eddie Robinson of Grambling. Central's 34-10-0 record over the last five seasons put the Big Red in the select top 20 teams over that period. During that time, Central has allowed opponents just 8.48 points per game, good for second in the nation behind Hampden-Sydney's 6.72.

Central's string of 15 consecutive victories is the longest in either Division II or III.

Schipper-coached Central is the reigning NCAA Division III national champion, a title won in the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl with a 10-8 victory over Ithaca (N.Y.) College.

Central College is a four-year liberal arts college offering a broad program of cultural training. Affiliated with the Reformed Church of America, the home campus is in Pella, Iowa, with branch campuses in Austria, England, France, Spain and Mexico.

SPORT FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT by Larry Wichman

What was the shortest home run ever hit?...in a minor league game some years ago, a batter hit the ball a few inches in front of the plate. The umpire called it fair, but the pitcher and catcher thought the ball hit off the batter's foot before rolling in front of the plate, which would have made it foul...They stood and argued with the umpire, the ball resting six inches from home, while the batter raced around the bases and crossed the plate — with what turned out to be the shortest home run of all time!

We take night baseball for granted these days — but, do you know when the very first night game in the major leagues was played?...it was in 1935, at Crosley Field, Cincinnati...Then, surprisingly, it was three more years till another park put in lights...The second big league field to be equipped for night baseball was old Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, in 1938.

More and more ex-Little Leaguers have now grown up and are playing major league ball—but, do you know who was the first boy in history to play Little League baseball and then go to the big leagues...The first boy to graduate from the Little Leagues to the majors was pitcher Joey Jay when he broke in with the Braves in 1953.

I bet you didn't know that, oil changes, tune-ups and many other services were available at the Unroyal, Dunlap Tire store...

Alumni Football Meeting Planned

All Northville alumni interested in playing in the annual alumni football game this fall are required to be at a special meeting scheduled for 9 p.m. this Monday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Mike Zayti, who is organizing the event reported a poor turnout for the first meeting and said that ball players are needed. Northville will be facing Plymouth Alumni September 5 at the Plymouth Central field.

Anyone interested in playing who cannot attend the Monday meeting should contact Zayti at 349-0360.

All-Star Team Splits Games with Mic-Mac

Northville's Class "E" All-Stars split their two games in the fourth annual July 4 doubleheader against 14-15 year-old all-stars from Detroit's M.I.C.-M.A.C. Association.

Northville dropped a 1-0 decision in the opener but pulled out an 8-7 squeaker in the nightcap thanks to a four run burst in the last of the ninth.

In the first game, a dropped fly ball after two were out in the first inning resulted in the only run of the game. Excellent pitching by Roland Tarrow, Bill Barlow and Dave Austin was offset by two M.I.C.—M.A.C. pitchers who did not give up a hit until two were out in the ninth. Bob Zdanowski tallied the only Northville hit. Both teams played good defensive ball.

In the second game, the lead changed hands several times before Bob Heckrel singled home the winning run in the top of the ninth inning for the Northville All-Stars.

Tavern's Sunday Profits To Aid Training Center

As a benefit for residents of the Northville Residential Training Center, The Tavern at 18730 Northville Road will be open from noon to midnight this Sunday.

Profits from the sale of sandwiches, beer and liquor will be donated to the Northville Association for Retarded Children and Adults by owners Will Grier and Art Jahn.

Monies will be used, the center explained, for some of the "many needs that state funds can't be used for, such as taking residents to events in the community or buying teenagers' beauty aids, hair ribbons or barrettes."

Idea for the benefit evolved, Mrs. Dolly LaCroix, center volunteer services coordinator, explained, when staff members dropped by at The Tavern and the owners became interested in their work. Of the 220 residents at the center, who range in age from nine to 86, there are about 170 young people.

These young people, Mrs. LaCroix explains, especially are in need of a chance to have community activity, such as going shopping or to the movies.

Since The Tavern is not open Sundays normally, the owners volunteered to open it for the Sunday benefit to help the center's residents

The evening will begin with a general introduction to the College highlighted by a slide presentation. Individuals will then meet in small groups with representatives from admissions, counseling, financial aids and student activities who will disseminate information and answer questions.

Various ways the college serves area residents will be underscored by this year's theme "The College Designed with the Community in Mind."

A number of programs developed by the College in response to community needs are available to both returning and new students and will be presented by representatives from the office of student affairs.

LIFEGUARD CONTROVERSY—Despite plenty of activity over the July 4 weekend, the Novi city park beach may be closed by the city council unless the city places lifeguards on the beach and puts up buoys as well as taking required water samples.

'Hire Lifeguards Or Ban Swimming'

Novi council may close down the Novi Park Beach if the parks and recreation commission fails to hire and provide lifeguards at the beach.

City Attorney David Fried said the city certainly had a moral obligation to make the beach safe.

being stored. Fried said the city should comply with the law or shut down the beach.

"Either we close it down or we go out and line up people and buy equipment so we can swim safely," stated councilman Philip Goodman.

Councilman Denis Berry added that the city is in violation of law by not having the water regularly tested and by not providing buoys.

City Manager Ed Kriewall stated that the parks and recreation commission had considered staffing a lifeguard but ran into problems with scheduling due to required breaks every 45 minutes.

Cedric Whitcomb, Pastor

"Jet Was Warned of Tricky Winds" was the headline of an article in last week's Detroit News. The article went on to describe the tragic crash of Eastern Airlines flight 66 at Kennedy International Airport which took the lives of 112 people.

Recordings of the controllers' conversations with two pilots show that apparently when the Eastern flight ran into the danger area, the winds caused it to crash. A pilot just ahead of the fatal Eastern aircraft recommended that the control tower change runways because of a wind shear down near the ground. Another pilot asked to be diverted to another nearby airport because of the same condition.

The warnings were apparently ignored and 112 people were suddenly launched out into eternity. My purpose is not to sit in judgment on the control tower because I'm sure they did all they could in light of the facts they had at hand, but there is a lesson here for all of us.

A warning was sent out concerning tricky winds and pilots know what those things mean. The Bible has warned people for ages of the tricky devices of Satan and his design upon their lives. If he can get people to ignore the Word of God and its warnings he can accomplish his devious purposes. He'd like to convince you that it's all up to you as far as your eternal destiny is concerned. The Bible says, "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast" (Ephesians 2:8, 9). Its not what you do, but what Christ has already done for you that gets you to Heaven.

French Composers Top Music Festival

The third program of the Ninth Annual Schoolcraft College 1975 Summer Music Festival will be presented on Monday evening, July 14, at 8:30 p.m. in the Theatre of the Liberal Arts Building. A program of music by French composers will be performed. Violist Meyer Schapiro, one of the newest members of the Summer Music School faculty, will open the program with Five Dances by Marin Marais, a Baroque composer who wrote for the viola da gamba. His accompanist will be Allen Shaffer, assistant director for the Summer Music School.

Two of Claude Debussy's last compositions will be performed. The lovely Sonata for Flute, Viola and Harp, composed in 1915, will be played by faculty members Clement Barone, flute, David Ireland, viola, and guest harpist Elyze Yockey. Debra Fayroian, also new to the faculty this summer, will perform the Sonata for Cello and Piano, also composed in 1915. Her accompanist will be Tamara Najar. The final work on Monday's program is perhaps one of the most unusual of the many works to be performed during the last nine years of the festival. Pianist Allen Shaffer and reciter Robert W. Jones, who is composer-in-residence at Schoolcraft College, will perform Francis Poulenc's setting of Jean de Brunhoff's international children's favorite, Story of Babar, the Little Elephant. This work, composed in 1940 and dedicated to the composer's "little cousins and friends," is a setting of the text that is to France what Winnie the Pooh is to England and Br'er Rabbit is to America. Tickets will be available at the door. Admission is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children

Northville City Council Minutes

Jaycees Plan Class

June 16, 1975
Mayor Allen called the meeting to order at 8:05 p.m.
ROLL CALL: Present: Allen, Biery, Folino, Nichols, Vernon
MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING: Minutes of the Council meeting of June 2 stand approved as submitted.
MINUTES OF BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS: Minutes of the Planning Commission of May 20, Zoning Board of Appeals of May 13, Beautification Commission of May 14, and Library Commission of June 5 were received and placed on file.
APPROVAL OF BILLS: Questions on General Fund checks No. 2155 and 2195 will be reported on next meeting. Mayor Allen asked how the senior citizen phone-check program is doing and City Manager replied that no one has signed up for it yet. He will discuss the program with the Senior Citizens' Club and FISH.

Brief discussion followed on Council's policy of approving bills over $500 and waiving bids if over $1,000. Councilman Nichols suggested raising these figures to $750 and $1,500 respectively, due to the rising costs of most items.
EQUIPMENT FUND $2,408.75
GENERAL FUND 43,527.00
LOCAL STREET FUND 2,158.56
MAJOR STREET FUND 2,600.33
PAYROLL FUND 4,092.44
RECREATION FUND 2,448.09
SEWER AND WATER FUND 2,296.42
TRUST AND AGENCY FUND 419.42
Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Biery to approve the bills as presented.
Carried unanimously.

COMMUNICATIONS: Resolution from Grosse Pointe Woods supporting SB 156, which would allow local construction codes to be adopted, was received.
Motion by Councilman Nichols support by Councilman Folino to adopt a resolution similar to Grosse Pointe Woods', in support of SB 156.
Carried unanimously.
Resolution from Grosse Pointe Woods opposing HB 4602 was received and placed on file.
Letter from the Detroit Metro Water Dept. was received announcing a public hearing July 29 to consider raising sewage rates. This will be on the next agenda.
City Manager reminded Council of SEMCOG's annual meeting June 26.
COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Arthur Adams, 960 Allen Dr., stated that the signs put up recently on 8 Mile restricting turns have made it very difficult for him to get home in the evening. As a resident he feels he should be allowed to turn onto Novi St to get home and not be forced to go several blocks out of his way. Councilman Vernon said he has the same problem but he would rather have fewer speeders on Allen Drive.
Mayor Allen assured Adams that this is still under study and not necessarily the final solution.
Laura Hixson, 521 W. Main, explained that when it rains the water runs down onto her property from the school parking lot next door and floods her basement. The storm drain is located just past the point where the water angles across the lot so it does not catch it. Mayor Allen promised that the City will look at this.

8 MILE AND CENTER TRAFFIC PROBLEM: City Manager reported fewer complaints concerning through traffic since the no turn signs are up, but some people are having problems with the signs, such as Northville Lumber, who wrote a letter to Council. They requested the "No right turn" sign at Baseline and Center be removed. A letter was also received from Sally Burdette, 468 Allen Drive, concerning the signs on 8 Mile Rd.
Councilman Vernon asked what effect the signs have made on accidents at 8 Mile and Novi Rd. A report will be ready on this next meeting.
In reference to the letter from Northville Lumber, in which the manager said they are experiencing problems directing customers to them, Councilman Vernon noted that there are many other routes to the lumber yard. He suggested that the restrictions could be in effect Monday through Friday only, and this would help the situation.
Mr. Bud Dye, Manager of Northville Lumber, was present and said he will write another letter after considering the situation again.
Mr. Larry Thompson, 741 Grace, commented that the traffic not able to turn at Baseline will only turn one block before and come up the sidewalks. He said he is turning down the alley now which runs between Baseline and 8 Mile, and children play in the alley. He asked if residents could have a pass to turn at Baseline.
Mayor Allen replied that such a procedure could not be enforced. The widening of the Center and 8 Mile intersection will alleviate much of the problem, but it is a County road and the City needs County approval. The Mayor repeated that this is still under study and not necessarily a final solution.

SENIOR CITIZENS STEERING COMMITTEE: Memo from City Manager was discussed in which he recommended council appoint a senior citizens steering committee with the charges of recommending to the City and Township ways in which both agencies can better serve senior citizens. To maintain information on programs in the community that serve senior citizens and ways to coordinate these efforts. Also they would seek resources outside the community, such as county, state and federal funds. This committee would be the grant agent for the submission of an application for Title III funds for continuation of the escort service and would review the desirability of establishing a Northville Community Council on Aging.
Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Nichols to adopt a resolution establishing the Northville Senior Citizens Steering Committee.
Carried unanimously.
Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Folino to approve the state of candidates for the Senior Citizen Steering Committee as recommended by the City Manager, with Councilman Biery to serve as the City representative.

Carried unanimously.
RANDOLPH DRAIN: The Drain Board approved the appropriation as proposed at the meeting June 18. Novi City Attorney and Manager expressed objections on the appropriation and have 20 days to take legal action if they wish to challenge this further.
Item 15 was moved up on the agenda because several residents were in the audience. City Attorney reported that the title is still in the names of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell, the original owners. They have both passed away, as has a daughter, and it appears Ken Farrell, the son, is the heir. Probate proceedings have not been started because of the cost involved. These will begin soon, however. Mr. Ogilvie has talked with Ken Farrell, who has requested the City to demolish the house and have the expense handled as a special assessment on the property. After ownership has been established, the City will look into Mr. Farrell's request.
RANDOLPH DRAIN: Denis Roux, 2130 E. Chippewidun, inquired about the possibility of negotiating for water and sewer service at the same time. The Drain Board acquiesces the right-of-way for the Randolph Drain. This would enable him to extend the utilities out to Northville Estates.
Mayor Allen suggested that this be postponed until the drain project begins, probably the beginning of July.
MECHANICALLY PROPELLED VEHICULAR RACING ORD.: A proposed amendment to the Mechanically Propelled Vehicular Racing Ord. was presented which would allow the rescheduling of races on Sunday if rained out on Saturday.
Councilman Nichols expressed concern that some people may misconstrue this as a way of racing on Sunday.
Frank Paul, 508 Gardner, asked what procedure would be followed to ban all motorcycle racing. He feels it is a noise nuisance and thought Council was going to ban racing last fall when the subject was discussed. A public hearing was held then on an amendment that would prohibit racing within 1,000 ft of residential areas, but it was not adopted.
City Attorney explained that under Michigan law motorcycle racing is legal, and that to ban all racing could invite a lawsuit, the consequences of which could be recast every weekend. The present ordinance does not endorse it, only that it is a means of controlling them.
Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Folino to approve the proposed amendment to Title 2, Chapter 2, Section 2-204 for publication and set public hearing for July 7.
Carried unanimously.
Mr. Gastay, 117 Baseline, asked if Councilman Nichols would bring City now which runs between Baseline and 8 Mile, and children play in the alley. He asked if residents could have a pass to turn at Baseline.
Mayor Allen replied that such a procedure could not be enforced. The widening of the Center and 8 Mile intersection will alleviate much of the problem, but it is a County road and the City needs County approval. The Mayor repeated that this is still under study and not necessarily a final solution.

With the slogan "Could you save the life of your best friend?", the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring a cardio-pulmonary resuscitation instruction class July 23 at 8 p.m. at the Village Oaks Clubhouse.
The class will be free and will be taught by licensed cardio-pulmonary instructors. The auxiliary is encouraging young adults as well as older members of the community to take the class.
Forty persons will be allowed to attend and the auxiliary is requesting interested persons to make reservations by July 21 by calling Sandie Mayer at 349-5269 or Marilyn Kiesel at 349-2488.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CITY OF NORTHVILLE
The City Council of the City of Northville will hold a public hearing on Monday, July 21, 1975, at 8:00 p.m. in the Northville City Hall to consider the adoption of the following amendment to Title 2, Chapter 2:
AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 2-202 OF THE PURCHASES AND SALES ORDINANCE, TITLE 2, CHAPTER 2 OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE, TO PROVIDE FOR HIGHER LIMITS ON PURCHASES.
The City of Northville ordains:
Section 1. Section 2-202 of the Purchases and Sales Ordinance, Title 2, Chapter 2 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville, is hereby amended to read as follows: Sec. 2-202 PURCHASES: LIMITATIONS ON AND REQUIREMENTS RESPECTING—(a) The purchasing agent is hereby authorized to make purchases on behalf of the city, without consent of the council, where each such purchase shall not exceed the sum $1,000.00.
(b) All purchases in excess of $1,000.00 shall only be authorized and ordered by the city council.
(c) All of such purchases which do not exceed the sum of $2,000.00 may be authorized and ordered by the city council without the necessity of advertising for sealed competitive bids.
(d) Sealed bids shall be asked for in all transactions involving the expenditure of more than $2,000.00 and the transaction evidenced by written contract submitted to and approved by the council; provided, however, that this requirement shall not extend to instances involving the employment of professional services, and that it may be waived in instances where the council, by unanimous resolution of those present, deems it to be clearly to the city's advantage to contract without competitive bidding.
(e) No purchase shall be subdivided for the purpose of circumventing the purchasing limits specified above. However, a series of purchases from one vendor which individually are within the above limits but collectively exceed them, shall not be deemed to be one purchase for purposes of this ordinance if such series of purchases could not reasonably have been made at one time.
(f) All open market purchases, shall wherever possible, be based on competitive bids which may be solicited by the purchasing officer via telephone or mail. The purchasing officer shall keep a record of all open market orders and the bids submitted in competition thereon; and such records shall be open to public inspection.
(g) Purchases from public utilities with which the city has a franchise shall not be governed by this ordinance.

The Mayor asked Council's opinion on Glen Long's feeling that the parking space cost of $1,800 is too high. Mr. Long understood the last assessment was $1,200 per space. Council agreed the $1,800 figure is accurate based on current costs, and noted that the last assessment for parking was higher than $1,200.

Police Blotter: Beer Hill Assailant Still Hospitalized

In Township

A 22-year-old Detroit man was listed in fair condition Tuesday with a skull fracture and other injuries sustained after he allegedly assaulted a man at Beer Hill and a crowd chased the suspect.

Michigan State Police said the incident began about 9 p.m. Friday, July 4, at Beer Hill when the suspect approached a 20-year-old Redford township man about the sale of drugs and an argument broke out.

The 20-year-old was reportedly hit with the closed end of a switchblade and struck in the face. Both apparently decided to talk out the problem, state police learned, however a crowd rushed to aid the 20-year-old.

The suspect opened the knife and swung at the crowd. A 14-year-old Livonia youth was cut on his lower back and the 20-year-old suffered cuts on his fingers and face. The suspect was knocked down and kicked by about 20 other people in a scuffle which ended on Northville Road at Cass Benton Drive.

Police said all three were taken to St. Mary Hospital for treatment. The suspect was later transferred to Wayne County General Hospital.

State police are withholding names of those involved pending completion of investigation and issuance of warrants.

Reckless driving was listed as the cause of an accident last Wednesday evening in which an 18-year-old Plymouth youth escaped serious injury.

State police reports said the accident took place about 9 p.m. on Sheldon at Five Mile when a car driven by Robert Wayne McFall went out of control and rolled over while going through the northbound intersection. McFall sustained cuts and bruises.

Witnesses told police they estimated his speed at 70 to 80 mph and McFall said he was testing the car. He denied he was racing. Police issued him and the driver of another car, Richard Timothy Ellison of Dearborn, tickets for reckless driving. The second youth's car was not involved in the accident.

A 50-year-old Redford township woman was knocked down and her purse stolen while she walked in the InnsBrook parking lot about 10:40 p.m. Thursday.

Northville township police said the woman was knocked down from behind by a man who grabbed her purse and then ran. Her purse contained about $60 in cash along with identification and other papers. She was not injured.

Township police issued more than 20 trespassing tickets to persons in the area of Highland Lakes' lakes during the past week.

Those ticketed ranged in age from 17 to 25 and were from Northville, South Lyon, Detroit, Farmington, Dearborn and Hazel Park.

In a related matter, three persons were injured at the Griswold gravel pit over the weekend. A girl cut her leg open on glass Saturday afternoon and two teenagers sustained arm and leg cuts

Friday night when they fell off a steep cliff.

Items valued at $280 were stolen from a car parked at Waterford Pond on Six Mile near Northville Road Sunday afternoon.

Taken was an am-fm tape deck and about 15 tapes in a brown case. The theft took place between 2:30 and 4 p.m. from a locked car.

Four bicycles were reported stolen to township police with two of them taken from Griswold Street south of Eight Mile about 2:30 last Monday afternoon.

The two Vista bicycles, both 10<sup>1/2</sup> speed models, were reportedly ridden away by two 15-year-old youths headed into Northville. Police are investigating.

Two other bicycles were stolen Tuesday from the township. A red, white and blue Sears 10-speed was taken from a garage in the 42200 block of Old Bedford and a white men's 10-speed chained to a fence was taken from the 19700 area of Dearborn Court.

In Novi

The Dayton Hudson construction site on Novi Road was hit by thieves who made off with $3,000 worth of tires from two trailers.

According to reports, 26 tires were taken sometime from July 3-7. The trailers were jacked up and the tires removed. The detective bureau is investigating.

Clark Moran, 19, of 40440 Ten Mile received an incapacitating injury and Ron Buck, 18, of 24350 LeBost received a non-incapacitating injury during an auto accident at 10 Mile and Haggerty Roads at 2:05 a.m. July 4.

Injured in the second auto involved was Howard Strauss, 55, of 23340 LeBost who received a non-incapacitating injury. All of the injured were taken to Botsford Hospital.

According to reports, the Strauss car was westbound on 10 Mile at Haggerty when Moran failed to stop for a red flashing signal at the intersection. The Moran car was broadsided by Strauss. Moran was cited for disregarding a red flashing signal.

Evelyn McPerson, 53, of Walled Lake was taken to Botsford Hospital July 6 after dropping a knife on her right leg and injuring herself. She was at the Flea Market at 13 Mile and Novi Road in Novi.

A van valued at $6,000 was rented from the I-96 Sunoco June 28 and is now listed as stolen. Officers checking the subject who signed for the van and paid $60 deposit found that he no longer lived in South Lyon as he had stated. The vehicle has been entered in the LEIN.

BURNED AUTO—Novi traffic officer William Brown examines what is left of a car found burning July 3 in a field at West Road and South Lake Drive. The auto had previously been stolen and the car was stripped of all usable parts. Novi's fire department is investigating the arson while the detective bureau is investigating the theft. The fire department found a burned cloth in the area of the gas tank neck after the fire was extinguished.

A $4,500 Drag Boat was taken July 4 from where it was moored in the 1100 area of East Lake Drive. The boat had been moored to a two foot square cement anchor which was also taken.

A total of $1,000 damage was done to a trailer stored in the 1200 area of East Lake Drive when it was peppered with BB's and a window broken out.

A $100 window at West Oakland Bank Twelve Mile branch was broken out with a piece of asphalt July 4-5.

Two windows valued at $150 were broken out July 5 from a Boron station at 24235 Novi Road by rocks.

One of the windows was the front window of the station while the other was on the fuel pump.

investigate an assault and battery incident which took place Sunday night in front of Winner's Circle Bar on West Main Street near Center.

According to reports, a white male truck bar owner Vernon Huntoon in the mouth about 8:30 p.m. after Huntoon attempted to keep the suspect from re-entering the business.

The owner told police that a group of people was refused drinks after they became loud and argumentative inside the bar and the group was then asked to leave.

When Huntoon went outside to quiet the group down, one man started back inside and, when Huntoon attempted to stop him, the suspect struck him and went back inside the bar.

Police were called and, when they arrived the suspect had fled the area.

Approximately $150 damage was done to the First United Methodist Church sign at the north end of the church parking lot on Eight Mile near Randolph.

Finn Camp Marks Anniversary

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Our 199th birthday has come and gone and so marks the beginning of our bicentennial year. Judging by the Northville parade on the Fourth, people are really gearing up for next year.

The Fourth of July is always a big day when I was growing up and for the first time since I have lived in Michigan I can say it brought back memories.

Plaudits are in order for those people who planned that whopping goodie. From a sidewalk superintendent, it just couldn't have been better.

The Fourth of July is synonymous with flags flying, family picnics, fireworks and chicken barbecues.

Meanwhile, at the Finn Camp, everything, and I mean everything was decked out in red, white and blue bunting as the Finns, in conjunction with their fiftieth anniversary celebration, hosted an old fashioned picnic. There were games for every age, canoe races, watermelons in the lake and baseball games. There was even a three inning match pitting the "young chicks" (those under 35) with "those other females over 35." It was never decided what to name them—the "old crows" or the "stewing hens." The game was a total fiasco ending in a 17-2 decision ... just as the "crows" were beginning to get the feel of the ball.

Carolyn and Fred Morehead spent their holiday across the border as they "did" the picturesque countryside on Fred's cycle. They crossed over at Sarnia, took in the comforts of a Holiday Inn and then journeyed on to Grand Bend and the Pinery. From that point on it was "roughing it" for a couple of days, sleeping under the stars and blessing the weathermen.

Their return trip brought them home by way of Wallaceburg where they boarded the ferry to Marine City. Taking a cycle as a vacation vehicle may have its points...especially now when gas is a major pain in the purse Carolyn, somewhat proudly, said they spend less than $8 on gasoline for a 500 mile trip.

Saturday night found the newly re-formed Loon Lake Players making their stage debut at the Finn Camp "playhouse" for one night only the audience was wowwed by the group's presentation of "Don't Drink the Water" by Woody Allen. Considering they had had their one and only dress rehearsal the night before ... and it must be added it was the only time the full cast met, the play came off with few difficulties. Comedies seem to be the group's forte and the two hour production was a complete success.

Cast as leading man in the role of the New Jersey caterer was Eric Eklund with Al Kujala as the embassy secretary and Ken Hollanen as the ambassador's son. Shirley Kujala had a cameo role while Marie Tuorin Fogle spent her time behind the scenes as prompter. Marie also did a terrific job handling the staging and scenery. Hank Mack was the "meanest man in Wixom" Saturday night in his role as "Krojack of the Secret Police."

The group's yet to be announced play is scheduled for August 23. There was talk of a mystery but after Saturday night, they might stick with comedy.

The Mel Green family spent the Fourth on their farm near Defiance, Ohio along with sixty guests from the "Fancy Farmers" square dancing club. On the many acres of farm land the Green's have purchased their guests erected a tent city and camped out for the four days.

Several weeks beforehand were spent cleaning barns and chicken coops in readiness for the big outing with the Bill Allred's lending helping hands. There was a need for a lady's outhouse so a very rustic private privy was erected. Lois felt it was so rustic that she decided to add the woman's touch ... that touch included gold carpeting on the floor, red draperies on three sides and valance around the door. Needless to say, the privy was dubbed the "throne room."
