FAIR ENTRANT—Mrs. Kathryn Cobb of 618 Carpenter Street inspects jars of carefully prepared vegetables and fruits as she prepares to enter them in the Northville Community Fair Thursday. While this is the first year that the six-year-old Northville fair has had a homemaking competition, it's not the first time Mrs. Cobb has entered fairs. She's a blue ribbon winner from Michigan State Fairs.

Rides, Races, Canning, Contests

Fair Offers Fun

Four days of midway fun, rides, contests, exhibits and racing are upcoming as the sixth annual Northville Community Fair opens this Thursday to run through Sunday at Northville Downs.

A top attraction for the first time will be the Wolverine Futurity races with an 8 p.m. post time Saturday and a 2 p.m. start Sunday with a $100,000 total purse.

First event at the fair Thursday will be the annual 4-H horse show given by the Double-N Riders from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Western, English and fun classes are open to area horse owners.

Opening day also is senior citizens' day at the fair with a host of special contests and movies. Judging of canned and baked goods, needlework, hobbies and fine arts also will be Thursday afternoon.

See the special fair section, page 3, for a daily schedule of events and their locations at the Downs.

A highlight of kids' day on Friday will be the popular goat show and milking contest at 1 p.m. Free movies and contests are planned, according to Mrs. Marjorie Cinader, president of the Northville Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the fair.

A three-day antique show arranged by Larry Nelson of Northville will open at 11 a.m. Friday in the lower clubhouse and will feature booths of more than 20 dealers.

For the first time, the St. Paul's Lutheran Church women will serve a German dinner in a big tent on the east side of the fairgrounds from 5 to 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Another Fair Feature: Money-Saving Coupons. See Special Fair Supplement

"Every kind of food imaginable" will be offered at the fair, Mrs. Cinader says, pointing out that 50 booths have been earmarked for firms and clubs. Many of them will be selling such fast-foods as pizza, hot dogs, sloppy joes, snow cones and even Italian breads.

Northville High School Boosters Club will be selling season football tickets for home varsity and junior varsity games for the first time at a fair booth.

Saturday events include a time and distance, Speed Road Rally sponsored by the Schoolcraft Sports Car Club with registration beginning at 10 a.m. and the first car out at noon. Antique car judging will be at 4 p.m. Saturday under the grandstand.

Except for the final day when closing time is 10 p.m., the fair will run until 11 p.m. each day.

Mrs. Cinader stresses that the only event for which admission is charged is the Wolverine Futurity. Adults are $2 and children $1 for the races.

This year's fair is the first to include judging and display of homemakers' canning, baking and needlework. After the judging Thursday afternoon visitors will be able to view such home arts as prize-winning pickles, fruits, vegetables, jams and jellies.

Until 10:30 a.m. Thursday needlepoint, crewel embroidery, regular embroidery, applique and quilting as well as the kitchen goods may be entered in the competitions for which prizes ranging from $50 and $25 down to $1 will be awarded. All exhibits must be in place by 11 a.m. Thursday.

Although it's slated for Thursday, senior citizens' day at the fair, sponsors of the fair's first tobacco-spitting contest are hoping to attract "women and younger persons who generally have had no previous experience with tobacco chewing and spitting." This fun event will be at 4 p.m.

Each contestant will receive a free vest and chewing tobacco.

Task Force Ponders Action

After nearly three hours of discussion, the citizen's task force on Northville School District's financial crisis agreed that the "school board cannot make a prudent decision on the financial situation by July 21 (Monday) with the information given tonight."

That motion, made by Dr. John Romanik and supported by Richard Bohn, passed by a 17-13 vote of the group.

The task force also elected Hugh Lockhart chairman and named Sandy Walts as secretary of the group. About 60 attended last Wednesday's meeting.

Next meeting has been set for tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. in the school board offices at which time the task force will evaluate the school board's action taken Monday and decide whether or not to support the millage campaign.

The consensus of the group appeared to be that, while they were willing to work toward passing a school millage, they needed more information on just what caused the projected deficit of $600,000.

Said Dr. Romanik, "People who have children in school are the ones who vote in school millage. I have five children. But as informed as I am, in no way would I vote for even one-half mill with what I know now."

Shirley Spaniel, a resident of Northville who serves as principal of Miller Elementary School in Plymouth, told the group that "four months ago I asked if there was enough money to keep Main Street Elementary open and open the new schools."

"That did not seem to concern the board then. I'm unhappy about the situation and concerned over fiscal responsibility," she said.

Mrs. Spaniel explained that the task force was not provided with the proposed budget to make its recommendations on millage.

However, she noted that "if we are concerned, we must support the millage. Obviously they need some money. We must rely on the administration and the school board." She added that if the millage passes, the task force should recommend the district hire a "capable assistant superintendent for business."

Several citizens, including Mrs. Spaniel, urged the task force recommend not opening year-round school until after the millage election in the event that a negative vote would force some schools to close and children to be bused to another school.

Marilyn Hopping, a resident of the school district and teacher at Cooke Middle School, said she "would like to see the group arrive at a consensus that if three mills does not pass, alternatives are suggested other than those already proposed."

A suggestion that the board and administration look at five percent cuts throughout all areas of the budget prompted school board Trustee John Hobart to explain that "salaries represent 75 percent of the budget and most of the other areas outside of salaries have taken more than a five percent cut."

One resident suggested that teachers accept their step increments automatically given for another year of experience and forgo any other raises.

John Berry of West Main reminded the task force that "due to the reaction of the public, the school board said Main Street Elementary would remain open as long as

Council Vetoes Sunday Cycles

With two of five members absent the Northville city council voted two to one Monday night not to permit Sunday motorcycle racing.

The action ends a controversy resulting from a request from Half-Mile Motorcycle Corporation to conduct races on Sunday in the event a meet scheduled for the previous day (Saturday) was rained out.

The racing corporation has been staging three races each year at Northville Downs under a city ordinance that provides four such races may be conducted annually between April and November. But mechanically-propelled vehicle racing is banned Sundays during the April to November period.

A vote on the issue was postponed following a public hearing July 7 on the proposed ordinance amendment to permit Sunday racing in case of a Saturday rainout only. The delay was ordered after heated debate challenged the right of Councilman Paul Folino, an employee of Northville Downs, to vote on the issue.

Monday night City Attorney Philip Ogilvie ruled that the councilman's employment did not constitute a financial interest. The attorney added that Councilman David Biery, who along with Councilman Wallace Nichols was absent Monday night, as the director of admissions for both the Downs and motorcycle corporation should not vote on the issue. Councilman Biery had indicated his intention to abstain.

Prior to Monday night's

15 MONTHS AWAY—Work began this week on the $2.5 million Michigan State Police complex in Northville township. Completion of the 40,300 square-foot facility is slated for

Air Walkaway Problems

Notifying residents by telephone in the area of Northville State Hospital when a patient escapes was just one of many suggestions offered at a public hearing last week concerning problems with walkaways and escapes at the hospital. More than 40 people attended the Thursday night hearing sponsored by the Northville Township Board, including representatives of the state hospital and the state's task force studying the problem.

Hospital security personnel estimated there are about 500 walkaways and escapes each year.

Shirley Ruffner, a resident who lives near the hospital, suggested that "95 percent of the problem could be solved by placing one security guard along Seven Mile Road since all the people who escape go that way."

She said that two of her friends ran over patients who wandered out onto Seven Mile Road.

Joseph Fiorilli of Harbert Drive said that three weeks ago "I had to swerve around a woman who was walking on Seven Mile and when I turned around, she had her arms out stopping traffic."

He attributed much of the problem to the fact that

South Lyon Rites Read By Mayor

Linnette Deanne Salley became the bride of Keith Russell Sopp in a home ceremony Friday evening, July 18, in South Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Showerman attended the couple.

Because the Mayor of South Lyon Andrew Rajkovich, who performed the double-ring service, could officiate only in the City of South Lyon, and the Showermans live in Lyon Township, the couple and attendants crossed the road to a new home being constructed for Showerman's father.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Linden D. Seymour of East Lansing and is an advertising representative for The Northville Record. She is a former South Lyon resident.

Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sopp, South Lyon residents until they moved to Santa Maria Island in Florida last month.

Also participating in the service were the bride's son, Matthew Salley, 6, and Ann Showerman, also 6.

SUMMER VISITORS—Dimitra Zarafonitou, right, of Greece and Elizabeth Wells, left, of Trinidad, chat with their Northville hosts, Marjorie Bohn and her mother, Mrs. Richard Bohn, as they visit before attending the Girl Scout International Women's Year Conference in Ann Arbor this week and next.

Foreign Scouts Meet in Michigan

In brief skirts and blue jeans, Dimitra Zarafonitou and Elizabeth Wells looked like teen-agers everywhere as they visited the Richard Bohn family at 220 North Wing Street in Northville last weekend.

But, the 17-year-old Girl Scouts were in Michigan from Greece and Trinidad, respectively, to help answer a serious question — "Are there ways to make the world a better place in which to live?"

Twenty-six Girl Guides (Scouts) from 14 foreign countries and 24 Girl Scouts in the United States are meeting in Ann Arbor from July 20 through 31 for their own International Women's Year conference. They will be seeking answers to this and other questions.

Mrs. Bohn, who has been active in scouting since the family moved to Northville, is a troop services director. Helping entertain the visitors was the Bohns' daughter, Marjorie, 16.

Before taking the girls to Concordia Lutheran Junior College for the conference, Sunday, the Bohns visited Girl Scout Camp Linden where another daughter, Carolyn, has been camping.

The visitors reported it is similar to camps in their countries.

Before coming to Michigan the girls had been in New York. Both spoke English, and Mrs. Bohn thinks it helped in getting acquainted that the Bohns had spent four years in Greece on Ford assignments.

Dimitra will visit Florida and Elizabeth will go on to Mark Twain country, Hannibal, Missouri, before going home.

The conference this week, and next is focusing on the same theme as the United Nations' International Women's Year conference in Mexico City — "Equality, Development, Peace"

The scouts will "examine the roles of women in various aspects of society to decide what makes a workable community, and to discover ways in which Girl Scouts and Girl Guides can help in the development process."

Leaders point out that "no matter where we live or who we are, each one of us is caught up in the self-made task — that of finding out how to live harmoniously on this earth."

The scouts hope to discuss this and learn as they listen to experts discuss the emerging role of women in public and family life, education, health and nutrition, politics, and community development.

Part of the "learning" for her young guests, Mrs. Bohn is sure, will be first-hand observation of daily living as they visit in homes here and for two weeks with their scout teammates before returning home.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyne Brown of Wayne announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jackie Lynn, to Dennis Primeau.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Primeau of 45601 Nine Mile Road in Northville.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School and is employed as a secretary at Newburg Dental Offices. Her fiancé is a graduate of Northville High School and St. Clair Community College and is employed as a police officer with the Wayne Police Department.

The wedding will be in August.

Historical Society Postpones Talk

Northville Historical Society's July meeting, scheduled for this Thursday, has been canceled to avoid conflict with the opening day of the Northville Community Fair.

Colonel Edward Gilbert, chief conservator at Greenfield Village-Henry Ford Museum, who was to speak on the restoration of antiques, will do so at the August 28 meeting.

There's A New Look To Romantic News

By JEAN DAY

Formalities are changing in romantic news — engagement announcements and weddings — as can be seen by pictures and stories in this month's women's pages.

For the first time, both parents of a couple have announced the engagement, at the request of the young couple. Also, the picture submitted was of the couple.

In deciding to use the wording requested, Jack Hoffman, assistant to the publisher, cited "reverse women's liberation" as a reason.

"I'm all for it; a man should get as much notice as a woman," he stated.

Given a choice, your woman's editor would stick to the Emily Post concept that it is a prerogative of the bride-elect's parents to make the announcement, especially if the tradition that the bride's family is giving the wedding is followed.

Wedding news for some time has been changing. Stories detail what the men of the wedding party wear if it is other than traditional and if the bride includes it in her information.

For example, it has been noted that the bridegroom's attendants wore shirts with ruffles matching the gowns of the bridesmaids they escorted. One all-white wedding party included the ushers and best man in white.

Increased interest in the ceremony itself is reflected in recent wedding stories. The newspaper is most willing to report that the couple wrote the service, or that certain music was included to make it more meaningful.

A more difficult problem that is appearing on wedding forms filled out by the bride or her mother is that of names.

In years past, incomplete names brought a call to the family. If the bride's attendant was married, she was the matron of honor and her name would be used, Mrs. John Smith, not Mary Smith.

The women's liberation movement has changed this usage as League of Women Voters and American Association of University Women, among others, have asked to have their own names used in print.

Should this extend to social announcements?

Many young people think so.

For those who would like to stay with tradition in making announcements of engagements and weddings, which still are the formal announcements of life (as are birth and death announcements), we do suggest using complete names.

Judy Smith may be pleased later that her wedding story gave her complete name, Judith Anne Smith, as she was married to William Stratton Jones. Nicknames identify close friends in informal correspondence, but wedding and engagement announcements are read by many strangers.

Until very recently it has meant that a woman is divorced if her name appears as Mrs. Jane White. The use of a woman's first name with the title "Mrs." still does indicate that to most older people.

The exception has been when a woman has a professional career of her own, but is married. Artists and other creative people as well as teachers have adopted this usage.

In a formal announcement, however, most women prefer to have their husband's name used.

We agree that personal details supply paragraphs for interesting reading of clipped stories — even years later. We like to know that a girl wore her mother's wedding gown or that a honeymoon destination was chosen for a special reason.

To help in supplying all bridal facts this newspaper has both engagement and wedding forms listing information needed. Specific times, places and people still are needed to make a complete news story.

We shall be glad to assist in filling out the forms.

To keep stories timely and for greatest reader interest it has been necessary to establish deadlines for wedding stories. Stories and pictures must be submitted to the newspaper within 15 days after the ceremony has taken place.

Both wedding and engagement pictures must be black and white. Color pictures are not acceptable. Specific sizes are not required, but pictures must be very clear. High school or college graduation pictures usually are acceptable for engagement announcements.

Color pictures, frankly, have been a problem for many area brides. Finding that these were the only pictures taken professionally at the wedding can be corrected if the photographer is told in advance that a black and white print is wanted for the newspaper as soon as possible after the ceremony.

A studio portrait of the bride also may be taken in advance and makes it possible to have the wedding story and picture in the paper the week after the wedding.

From a news viewpoint, we like this promptness. We like having a part in and sharing the community's romantic news. Wedding and engagement stories are among the truly "happy news" — and we want that.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yerkes Mark Year

Last Tuesday, July 15, was a most sentimental day for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yerkes of 319 Hill Street.

It was their golden wedding anniversary, and they were honor guests for dinner at the John Burkman home on Baseline where they had exchanged marriage vows exactly 50 years ago.

At that time it was the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Sr.

There was special sentiment, too, in 1925 as they asked the Reverend William T. Jacques, who was minister of the Northville Presbyterian Church from 1888-1892 and had retired, to marry them.

He had married Mr. and Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Sr., also.

Mrs. Yerkes, the former Hazel Bishop, recalls that it was a small family wedding with a little, two-and-a-half year old niece, Jane Holden (now Mrs. John C. Bertelsen of Florida), carrying the ring.

Mrs. Yerkes met her future husband when she came here from Ypsilanti to work as a secretary. He had lived in Northville since he was nine years old and his parents moved here from Milford. He was owner of the Northville Lumber Company until he sold it seven years ago.

To mark the anniversary,

Mrs. Burkman, who is Mrs. Yerkes sister, used the gold-banded china which had been used on the couple's wedding day.

Co-hosts at the family dinner for 15 were the Burkman's daughter and son, Mrs. Stewart Oldford of Hartland and Conrad Burkman, and their spouses.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Yerkes, Mrs. W.L. Holden (his brother and sister), Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Holmes and Miss Mary Helen Holmes of Birmingham (cousins), and Mrs. Fred Fordon of Grosse Pointe (a niece).

Heirloom Jewelry Worn by Bride

When Mandy Renee Schroder came down the aisle to become the bride of John Andrew Chedrick, Jr., at Our Lady of Victory Church June 21, her gown and those of the bridal attendants, the mothers, grandmothers and great-grandmother all had been handmade for the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Schroder of Ridge Road in Northville.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Andrew Chedrick, Sr., of Scott Avenue in Northville.

For the 8 p.m. service the bride had made her gown of white French imported lace with roses and rusebuds over white polyester crepe. A lace ruffle edged the Y-neckline of the fitted bodice which was styled with underbust gathers, high midriff and fitted long sleeves gathered to lace-over-crepe cuffs with covered buttons and loop closings.

The flared skirt extended into a train. The three-tier, floor-length veil was appliqued and edged with rose patterns of the dress fabric. It was held by a rhinestone and pearl crown, the "something borrowed" from her grandmother, Mrs. Charles M. Smith of Livonia.

She carried a bouquet of white dried flowers, mums, baby's breath, silk roses, yellow forget-me-nots and ferns edged with white lace and tied with white ribbons. The bouquet she threw was of fresh flowers.

For "something old" the bride wore two gold rings, one set with rubies and pearls that had belonged to her great-grandmother and a ruby-set one that had been her great-grandmother's.

The gold bracelet she wore belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Del Campbell, and had been given to her by her grandmother.

Father Gerard Hadad officiated for the double-ring service with the couple reading passages from the Bible. Paul Laboda of Lansing, former organist of the church, played and sang, "Sunrise Sunset," "We've Only Just Begun" and the "Wedding Song."

Mrs. Tim March of Plymouth was matron of honor in a long, yellow dotted polyester crepe gown with high-waisted fitted bodice with full nylon chiffon sleeves gathered into cuffs.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Diane Krieg of Plymouth, sister of the bridegroom, and Carol Petrosky, his aunt. Their gowns and hats were styled like that of the matron of honor, but were green.

Junior bridesmaids were Maria Schroder and Chris Chedrick, sisters of the bride and bridegroom, respectively. They wore long, green dotted polyester and cotton gowns fashioned with high waistlines and round necks with short, puff sleeves made by their mothers.

All carried baskets of green, white and yellow dried flowers, forget-me-nots, mums, baby's breath and fern.

The bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Otha Cole of South Lyon, was escorted down the aisle by the bridegroom's grandfather, Paul Petrosky of Northville at the beginning of the procession of attendants.

Jeffrey A. Schroder, brother of the bride, was best man. Edward Avis of South Lyon, Charles Avis of Plymouth, both cousins of the bride, and David Collins and Paul Szarnowski were ushers.

Men of the wedding party wore white tuxedos and vests with white braid trim with ushers wearing ruffled shirts to match the bridal attendants' dresses.

For the wedding and reception following in the church parlors for 225 guests the bride's mother made and wore a long aqua sleeveless gown with matching lace jacket. The bridegroom's mother wore a long peach knit polyester gown, which she had made. Both had wrist corsages to match their ensembles.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds are making their home in South Lyon.

The new Mrs. Chedrick is a 1974 graduate of Northville High School and is employed by William J. Morrison, Jr., C.P.A. in Plymouth. She plans to attend Schoolcraft College this fall.

The bridegroom is a 1972 Northville High graduate and is employed by D & C, Incorporated, in Walled Lake as assistant manager. He also has his own business in Northville, John's Mower and Minibike Sales and Service. He attends Schoolcraft

Daughter Wears Mother's Gown

When Sharon M. Crishon became the bride of Thomas S. Rich in a 4 p.m. ceremony June 28 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth, she wore the ivory satin wedding gown that her mother had worn in her June wedding 26 years ago.

Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Crishon of 1030 Grace Court in Northville.

Her gown was fashioned with a lace-trimmed portrait neckline, long sleeves and a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was held by the headpiece that the bridegroom's mother had worn for her wedding. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Rich, Jr., of 486 Morgan Circle in Northville.

Officiating at the double-ring service was the Reverend Robert S. Shank, Jr. Both parents gave the bride away.

The bride carried a cascade of yellow roses and carnations.

Honor maid Sandra Crishon, in a yellow polyester crepe, Empire-waisted gown with lace trim, carried a white basket of spring flowers.

Katheryn S. Rich was bridesmaid in matching ensemble. William S. Rich was best man with David Gumble ushering.

Out-of-town guests from Virginia were among the 56 attending the ceremony and reception following at Vladimirs. A wedding trip around the upper part of the state followed for the couple.

Both are graduates of Northville High School, the bride in January, 1973, and the bridegroom in June, 1972. They will make their home in Ypsilanti while both attend Eastern Michigan University.

Garden Reception Follows Service

A garden reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents followed the June 28 marriage of Karen Van Wormer and Kim Marburger in First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Van Wormer of Orchard Lake. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Irvin F. Marburger of 20149 Whipple Drive in Northville.

The Reverend Richard Henderson officiated at the double ring rites at 3:30 p.m. White glads, Majestic daisies and baby's breath arrangements decorated the church.

After the mothers of the couple were seated and before the bridal procession came down the aisle, a duet of Pat Madden and Tom Hall, who also accompanied on his guitar, presented "Annie's Song." Their duet, "Wedding Song," then followed the exchange of vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza with Venice lace trim and matching headpiece.

She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath. All floral arrangements were made by Kim's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jones, who operated Jones Floral Company here before her retirement to Pompano Beach, Florida. She presently is visiting the Marburgers.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Dan (Kim) Gunter, was matron of honor in a yellow knit halter dress with matching jacket. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Mary Jo Marburger, the bridegroom's sister, Trina Catania and Mrs. Fred Hicks. They wore gowns matching that of the matron of honor.

Dawn Kelly was flower girl in a yellow gingham dress with organdy pinafore. She carried a basket of daisies. Randy Marburger was best man for his brother. Ushers were Fred Hicks, Stan Nirider, Pat Cayley, Jerry LaCross and Dan Gunter.

The 200 guests attending included out-of-towners from Ohio, Connecticut, Wisconsin and Florida.

The newlyweds were introduced by their roommates while the bride was a student at Eastern Michigan University from which she was graduated in 1974. She presently is a teacher at the Little Red Schoolhouse Nursery.

The bridegroom, a 1969 graduate of Northville High School, now is a senior at University of Michigan.

The couple will live in Ypsilanti.

Martha Hoyer Tops Council Field

Drawing strong support from northern Novi, Martha Hoyer was elected Tuesday to a three month council seat in one of the lightest turnouts in the history of Novi.

Mrs. Hoyer, a planning commissioner and former president of the Northern Novi Civic Association tallied 297 votes and was followed by Joseph Toth with 132 votes.

Other candidates and vote totals were: William O'Brien, 108; Russell Button, 98; Kenneth Maxwell, 97; Reynel Rodriguez, 47; Homer Starr, 29; Gerald Bauer, 14; Mahlon Green, 4.

Only 826 voters, representing 13 percent of the 6,317 voters came to the polls.

Mrs. Hoyer received strong support from the northern Novi area where she is a resident and polled 127 votes in precinct four. She defeated her eight rivals in four of the seven precincts.

Mrs. Hoyer earlier told this newspaper, "if elected I shall consistently endeavor to face each issue squarely, make my own decisions and cast my votes solely on the merits of the proposal; not on its perpetrator." Mrs. Hoyer receives a three month council seat that will run only until the November general election. The seat previously was held by George Athas, who resigned because he said the council was unable to get things done.

The election was required after the time limit ran out for council to select a successor. Thirty ballots failed.

Newest member of Novi's council is Martha L. Hoyer. Mrs. Hoyer is past president of the Northern Novi Civic Association and has been a member of the Novi Planning Board the past two years.

Age 36, she is a graduate of Cass Technical High School and currently works at Seneca Electric Company.

Mrs. Hoyer is married, has two children, and lives at 203 Bernstadt in northern Novi.

School Board Rejects Elementary Proposal

'Making Novi Road bigger doesn't make it better'

... Kratz

In an attempt to remain "fiscally responsible", Novi School Board has rejected a proposal by the state highway department concerning Novi Elementary with two counter proposals.

The highway department is attempting to finalize plans for the Novi Road-I-96 interchange and one of the problems is what to do concerning Novi Elementary which is located on the east side of Novi Road south of the expressway.

In the preferred alternate, which was presented to the public at a June 23 special public meeting, the highway department called for purchasing 100 feet of frontage of the school site. The plan called for placement of a fence on the property.

If agreed upon by the school board, the plan would have called for landlocking the connected Novi Community Building because access would have been denied. Additionally, the school would have lost an exit to the driveway which currently negates the need for buses to back up after picking up youngsters at the school.

School district administrators indicated at the public meeting that the board would not agree to allow the highway department to purchase part of the land and not purchase it all. Reason given was that the district would not be able to sell the remaining land for the purchase price of a new school.

If the highway department cut off all access by buying all of the school property, it would have to provide the cost of replacing the building—an estimated $1.5 to $1.75 million. If the highway department did not take any of the property, school officials figured that since the property was the first piece of land south of the freeway, it could be sold to business for the approximate cost of a new school.

The highway department cannot condemn the land of another public body and, thus, would have to come to some sort of an agreement with the school board.

The highway department met with school officials last week and asked that the administration take the proposal to the school board to determine the feeling of members on the proposal.

Adding to its original proposal, the highway department agreed to put up a traffic light which would allow the school and Adell industries, which would be channeled through Fonda Street, to have ready access to Novi Road despite the estimated 60,000 cars a day which would be travelling down Novi Road.

Going upon the recommendation of Dr. Gerald Kratz, superintendent of Novi Schools, the school board last Thursday night agreed to make two counterproposals.

The first proposal is that the highway department purchase all of the school site.

The second proposal is that the school district allow the highway department to purchase the needed right of way property in exchange for giving the school access to Eleven Mile through highway department purchase of a corridor of land heading south from behind the school; landlocked property just south of the expressway and east of Novi Road; and approximately one acre of land with 100 feet of frontage immediately south of the present school site.

"My idea is that if we have the frontage, then when we sell it, we'll be able to buy a new school," explained Kratz.

Kratz indicated the highway department proposal is not acceptable and that it would be fiscally irresponsible for the school district to allow the highway department to purchase part of the property and then when it's necessary to construct a new school turn back to the taxpayers and explain the district needs some more money because it gave away some of its land.

"They seem to think because they're making this magnanimous interchange that will increase the worth of our property and we should give it to them," added Kratz.

"Just because they're making it (Novi Road) bigger doesn't make it a better situation. It makes a bad situation worse," said Kratz, speaking of the safety aspect.

He added that a fence would naturally invite young climbers from the school to try their skill. He also said that the bus situation would be bad. If the highway department agreed to alternate two, as presented by the school board, the extra land to the south would be paved, allowing the buses extra room to turn around. It would still allow teachers parking space also.

Kratz indicated he is also concerned over the community building because by landlocking it, the highway department must buy it and could tear it down. If the highway department did that, the elementary school would lose its gymnasium.

However, Kratz said that the highway department does not really want the community building or to tear it down and the school district

School Board Bans Rover

Rather than provide porta-johns for dogs the Novi school board probably will enact a policy banning domestic pets from school property.

By a vote of 4-1, the board last week directed the superintendent and school attorney to draw up such a policy proposal and to present it to the board later this month for possible adoption.

Casting the lone dissenting vote was Trustee Joel Colliau. Absent from the meeting were Secretary LaVerne DeWaard and Trustee Robert Wilkins.

Colliau said he would prefer a policy that restricted but did not ban pets. Pets on a leash that might accompany adults and/or their children to school playground areas seemed more reasonable, he suggested.

"I personally cannot see the necessity (for the ban)," he said. "I cannot see it being enforced."

Although she raised the question of enforcement, Trustee Sharon Pelchat strongly favored the ban pointing out that school children, including her own, are soiling their clothing on the excrement of animals.

The problem, she asserted, has become "ridiculous," and she suggested facetiously, "maybe we should (provide) dog porta-johns."

Superintendent Gerald Kratz said it is a matter of "mess and safety," adding that "we wouldn't have brought this matter to you (the board) if it hadn't been a problem."

Orchard Hills apparently has been experiencing the most problems, although the superintendent noted that horses are becoming a serious problem in the high school area.

Reacting to the question of enforcement, Dr. Kratz said that without a policy, enforcement is impossible. With a policy at least city policemen would be empowered to do something when the school reports complaints, he said.

School Attorney Frederick Knauer explained that the policy he will propose will exempt those cases, for example, in which pets may be brought to school for classroom purposes.

18,000

Gala Days Packed

With an estimated 15,000 to 18,000 spectators and participants in attendance, the four night Gala Days celebration was a huge success, according to promoters of the event.

Gala Days, sponsored annually by the Novi Jaycees, is intended as a community project with many social and service groups participating.

"That's the idea — to get the community working on one thing," said Gala Days Chairman Dave McCarthy Sunday during the final hours of the event. "We've involved everyone in the community. A lot of merchants donated time, money, and prizes."

On Thursday, the opening day, a horse show was the big event of the night while youngsters and adults got their first glimpse at such items as the 12 rides, the Lion's beer tent, the merchants tent and the community tent where there were games of skill provided.

As usual the dunk tank was a big event and some of the thousands in attendance paid premium prices to be able to dunk some of the Jaycee notables as well as some city officials who put their dry clothes on the line in order to raise money for charity.

One of the best-received activities was the helicopter rides in which participants got to ride for $5 in either the helicopter involved in the Jackson Prison escape or the helicopter used by CKLW's traffic girl Jo-Jo.

With higher than normal winds Friday night, spectators were disappointed as the Monroe Matic Hot Air Balloon, over six stories high was not inflated.

Perhaps the high point of the four day celebration was the fireworks display Friday night as hundreds of cars jammed the parking lot at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook and watched more than 170 aerial shots explode in the space of only 25 minutes.

Both Friday and Saturday, Action Cycle of Union Lake put on a show which saw Bob

Says Novi Council

'Let People Set Millage'

If the Novi Bicycle Committee and the Novi Parks and Recreation Commission are in earnest about getting half mill questions on the November ballot, they'll apparently have to gather petitions to do it.

Council Monday turned down a request from both bodies to put on the November ballot two questions that would provide, if approved by voters, ½ mill for bicycle paths for three years and ½ mill for parks for three years.

The request was brought to the council by City Manager Ed Kriewall who represented the requests as an attempt by the groups to negate the need to spend time gathering the petitions.

Discussion over the matter became quickly not whether the questions should be put on the ballots so residents could decide, but, instead, whether it would be fiscally sound for the city if voters approve such measures — particularly regarding the bike paths.

"Whatever is selected is going to exclude other items," stated Mayor Robert Daley who contended that the city council could end up putting a total of several requests on the ballot with a total of eight mills — if the council put on the ballot all proposals being brought before it.

"There are a lot of glamour items we'd like to see," added Daley. "But let's look at the basics. Let's get streets, sewers, and fire department first."

Councilman Louie Campbell also vocally opposed the bicycle path proposal stating, "I'd hate to be one person sitting here and expect bicycle trails all over the city for ½ mill. There's no way."

Kriewall pointed out that the bicycle committee intended to build several miles of roads to show residents what is being accomplished with the money, and then after three years is up, seek a further millage.

Campbell indicated he would not support even putting the question on the ballot without hearing the bicycle committee proposal and program from the committee itself.

"We need to know the type of program and the improvements," stated Campbell.

"I think the priorities are getting a little backward," added Councilman Philip Goodman. "I think the council should realize we are going to have a ballot that's a little full. I for one am not willing to put on the ballot a measure that will put $750,000 into bicycle paths over the next three years until at least the minimum number of signatures are submitted on a petition."

Councilman Edwin Presnell moved that the bicycle path

Van Zandt Still Seeks Spot on Wixom Ballot

An apartment dweller in Wixom is currently seeking help from the Michigan Civil Liberties Union in an effort to get his name on the printed ballot as a candidate for council in the November general election.

Mike VanZandt, a 23 year-old resident living in Indian Lodge is seeking to have his name put on the ballot, even though he did not submit nominating petitions before the June 17 deadline.

According to VanZandt, "I went on the assumption I couldn't run because I couldn't meet the requirements."

Wixom's city charter requires that candidates live in the city for two years prior to the election and that they be property owners.

VanZandt is not a property owner and will have lived only one year in the city when the election is held.

However, VanZandt said that he has been informed of an attorney general's ruling striking down the property requirement by pointing to certain court cases.

VanZandt said that a friend of his had called the Wixom city clerk's office and was informed of the property requirement. He then figured that any nominating petition he would return would not even be accepted so he did not file.

VanZandt said that because

Friday and Saturday. From left, Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. William Hirth, Mrs. Robert Parlette and Mrs. Norwood Balko put the noodles through a spaetzle press.

At Northville Fair

Taste These German Recipes

A German feast awaits Northville Fair goers with spaetzle, bratwurst, German chocolate cake and other special treats.

Sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran church, Northville, church women will be selling German dinners at the fair this Friday and Saturday, from 5-8 p.m. in a tent near the race track kitchen at the Downs.

Spaetzle, a German noodle, can be used with any meal. This recipe has been handed down in the William Hirth family for a number of generations.

SPAETZLE
2 C. flour

½ tsp. salt
3 eggs
¾ C. water
½ C. butter or oleo

Mix the flour, salt, eggs and water together until well done. Then press through a potato ricer or a spaetzle press. Brown butter or oleo in a skillet and pour over spaetzle. Serve warm either by itself or with sauerkraut as a topping.

Annie Nichols of St. Paul's contributed this family recipe for the fair. It goes along well with bratwurst or spaetzle

CALICO THREE BEAN SALAD
1 C. Green beans, drained

1 C. yellow (wax) beans, drained
1 C. rinsed kidney beans
½ C. onions cut in rings
1 C. chopped celery

SAUCE
two-thirds C. vinegar one-third C. oil
¾ C. sugar
½ tsp. salt
Garlic salt to taste

Mix the vinegar, oil, sugar and salt together into a sauce. Then pour over the beans, celery and onions. Marinate 24 hours while stirring occasionally. Garbanza beans and green peppers or lima beans can also be substituted for the beans in the salad.

A slightly warm dish of German potato salad can satisfy anyone's hunger. Clara Bernhardt donated this recipe.

GERMAN POTATO SALAD
8-10 medium sized white potatoes
8 slices of bacon
3 small onions cut in rings
1 C. celery (optional)
3 hard boiled eggs (optional)
¼ C. vinegar plus enough water to make ½ C. liquid
1 Tbsp. sugar, Salt and pepper to taste

Cook the potatoes in their jackets in salted water. Cool slightly, peel and dice. In the meantime, fry the bacon until crisp and then remove from pan. Add vinegar, water mixture, sugar, salt and pepper to the bacon grease. This liquid is a sweet and sour dressing and is flavored to taste. Add more vinegar, sugar, salt or pepper if necessary. Let the liquid slightly thicken with a small amount of flour and water or cornstarch.

Pour the partially thickened hot dressing over potatoes, celery, onions and broken pieces of bacon. Parsley or chives can be added. Serve slightly warm.

Cookie Sale Provides Camperships

This summer 75 Girl Scouts in this area will go to camp with the help of scholarships provided by profits from the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, it was announced today by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

In all, $2,500 will be spent to ensure that girls who need financial help can attend Camp Linden, the 430-acre Girl Scout camp in Livingston County. Each girl will spend two weeks at the camp, learning to swim, sail and back-pack, as well as studying nature and ecology.

Twenty-six of the campership winners come from Westland-Wayne area, 22 from Ann Arbor, seven from western Washtenaw county, six from eastern Washtenaw County, four from Plymouth-Northville area, and five each from Livingston County and southern Wayne County.

In addition, 30 girls will attend Camp Linden through the Community Camp Placement program supported by Washtenaw United Way. These camperships are underwritten by United Way contributions and by special gifts from community groups.

In 1974, over 650 girls attended Camp Linden for resident camping, as well as 169 Girl Scout troops with 575 girl members who camped there for shorter periods.

Last year, 79 girls received full or partial Huron Valley camp scholarships at a total cost of $2,215.

In addition, the Council underwrote all or part of the camp costs of 79 Girl Scouts who applied for aid to the Community Camp Placement Committee. Total cost was $1,900.

SUN CATCHERS—Steven Walters displays some of the stained glass designs which the Northville city manager has created. His collection ranges from Winnie the Pooh figures to terrariums, all done in stained glass with lead trim.

City Manager's Hobby Catches Ray of Sunshine

Sun catchers have recently blossomed in Northville. Steven Walters, Northville city manager, is creating a wonderland of bright and colorful stained glass window designs called sun catchers. These hanging figures received their name because the stained glass catches the sun's light and illuminates it. A variety of glass Mickey Mouse and Winnie the Pooh figures, frogs, spiders, balloons and sailboats are suspended in front of the city manager's windows. A glass fishbowl figure rests on a table with lead halos blending into the figures to form faces. Blue stained glass accents the figures with a light blue tint. Walters has made all the sun catchers in his windows but calls his terrariums his masterpieces. One is shaped like an old lantern and decorated in brown and yellow stained glass. An orange sunburst with rays decorates the sides of the terrarium. The other one, a gift for some friends, is delicately trimmed with twisted lead and has a round opening in the middle of the sides for plants to droop over. The father of three has only been working on his glass designs since last fall. "Staining glass has been around since the early Middle Ages," he said. "It was mainly used for making church windows."

WALTERS' MASTERPIECE

He decided to try his hand at the craft after he saw some at the store. "I haven't taken any lessons but I enjoy the craft of it," said Walters. He did not plan on selling his items but sometimes finds the glassware unexpectedly gone. "I wasn't home at the time one night but some friends brought over some out of town guests," he said. "They liked what was hanging on our front window and bought it." Walters usually gives his artwork away and estimates he has given away more than 60. The city manager always uses a pattern when creating his figures but also enjoys designing his own. To make a sun catcher, a pattern is first drawn on paper and traced with magic marker. Glass which comes in sheets or squares is cut with glaziers pliers to fit the pattern. The pliers can then cut the glass in bits to fit the pattern exactly. Soldered lead is then shaped around the glass and holds it in place. The glass is pre-colored and bought from a glass company which specializes in church windows. It is available in 65 textures and colors.

Walters made a Winnie the Pooh in very rough textured glass to resemble the bear's fur. Mickey Mouse is made of smooth glass and carries a small tennis racket complete with screening to resemble racket strings. It takes about half an hour for Walters to make small figures such as frogs or balloons. Other larger ones may take up to three hours. "All my work is done when I have a spare moment," said Walters. His two older sons David, 11, and Tom, 7, have joined their father in making some smaller figures. Two-year-old Richard eventually gets to put the sun catchers on his bedroom window. Their father wants to make a large stained glass window for his home using traditional ideas. He added however that it would be a more time-consuming and difficult job

Aim New Program At Retired Seniors

Area senior adults can now register for a Study After Retirement Program (START) through senior adult services at Schoolcraft College.

According to Betty Andrews, who heads senior adult programs at the college, the START program provides an I.D. card which makes seniors eligible for programs and services at a special rate or without charge.

To be eligible, seniors should be residents of the Schoolcraft College District and retired from full-time employment.

"We issue temporary cards when seniors first register with us," Ms. Andrews said, "but dates for obtaining a permanent one have been set." These include August 11 and 12 and September 16 and 17 from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. at the Waterman Center.

Advance registration for fall classes is approaching and may help avoid waiting in long lines at regular registration. The advance period will be held in the Waterman Center from July 28 through August 1.

To obtain registration or further information, interested seniors should call senior adult services or admissions at 591-6400.

Christopher J. Rasak, son of Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell Rasak, 21154 Centerfarm Lane, was among the almost 600 freshmen and transfer students who attended a recent summer orientation program for new students who will enter Wilkes College in Pennsylvania this September.

The orientation program was held for the first time during the summer months as an experimental function designed to save time for students when they arrive on campus for the start of classes in the fall.

The incoming students and their parents were welcomed to Wilkes College by Dean of Academic Affairs Robert S. Capin, who will become acting president of the institution on September 1.

Parents and students were briefed by various deans, taken on campus tours and had conferences with department chairmen in keeping with their respective majors. The parents attended a buffet and reception at the

Schoolcraft

Several Northville area students have been named to the Dean's List at Schoolcraft College for the winter semester.

S. Cavender, Elaine Clark, Thomas A. Cunningham, William A. Custer, Jane Gaitskill, Laura A. Kriss, Steven T. Sechler, Patricia E. Sonk, and Mary S. Stern.

Michigan Tech

Three Northville residents were among the 828 graduates of Michigan Technological University on Saturday, May 24.

Daniel J. Condon, son of Mr. Frank J. Condon of 335 Linden Street, received a bachelor of science degree in forestry.

Susan E. Condon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Jarvis, 20275 Woodhill, earned a bachelor of arts degree in liberal arts with honor.

John P. Daavettla received a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering with honor. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Daavettla, 7405 Pontiac Trail.

U of M

Three Northville-Nov residents have been named to the University of Michigan College of Engineering dean's list for the last semester.

They are Guy Jonathan of 409 Larry Drive, Mark Nelson Haynie of 44020 Cottisford, and Scott T. Slocum of 18246 Jamestown Circle.

High Schoolers Attend This College Program

Terre Haute, Ind.—L. Wayne Brasure, a senior at Northville high school, is attending Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology's unique "Operation Catapult" program for outstanding students who have completed their junior year in high school.

Brasure is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Brasure, 542 West Main st. He was chosen for the program from a field of more than 500 applicants from 44 states. Students ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school class and made superior scores on nationally administered achievement tests.

"Operation Catapult" is an incentive program conducted each summer by Rose-Hulman. The three-week summer resident program provides participants with the opportunity to use digital and analog computers, as well as a wide range of scientific instruments and equipment to solve basic engineering problems.

The human resources of the college—the faculty, staff and student counselors—also are available for consultation throughout the projects-oriented program.

Each of the three-week sessions (June 8-28, June 29-July 19, and July 20-Aug 9) is limited to 70 boys who have demonstrated an aptitude and interest in engineering, physics, chemistry or mathematics.

Objectives of the program are: 1) to provide a practical experience in the use of the "scientific method" of investigation; 2) to stimulate further study required if one is to progress toward a career in engineering or science; and 3) to provide an opportunity for group living in a campus setting.

While two hours of college credit are given upon completion of the program, the primary benefit to participants is the opportunity to tackle college level problems. With this insight, students are better prepared to make decisions concerning career opportunities and objectives and to evaluate areas of study in college, whether they be engineering, science, medicine or a wide variety of fields.

Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology is one of the select few independent colleges of engineering and science for men in the United States. It was founded in 1874 by Chauncey Rose, a pioneer industrialist and entrepreneur who saw the need for broadly-educated scientists and engineers to help in the social and economic development of the nation. It was known as Rose Polytechnic Institute until January 6, 1971 when the name was changed to Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology in recognition of nearly a century of support by the Hulman family of Terre Haute, Indiana, and the re-endowment of the college through the transfer to the school of the entire assets of the Hulman Foundation in 1970.

Students who have never attended Schoolcraft must be admitted to the college before registration can take place. Applications are available from the admissions office on campus or may be obtained by telephoning 591-6400, Ext. 228. Students new to the college will also need to consult a counselor to complete the registration form.

Returning students have the option of counselor-advising or self-advising, but it must be completed prior to registration.

The college has scheduled two later registration periods. Special registration for classes at the Center in Garden City will be held on August 14, and regular registration will be held days and evenings August 26-27 on campus.

Schoolcraft Opens Registration Monday

Advance registration for fall semester classes at Schoolcraft College will be held throughout the week of July 28-August 1 in the Waterman Campus Center.

Registrar Russ Bogarin has reserved 8:30 to 9:30 the first two mornings for students who will graduate at the end of the semester.

Sophomores whose last names begin with the letters A-H will register at 9:30 July 28, and those with names I-N at 1 that afternoon. The balance of the sophomores are scheduled for 9:30 the following morning.

Freshmen with last names A-C register at 1 p.m. July 29, and continue through the alphabet in this schedule:

Planners Criticize Novi Lounge

Board members indicated that originally the complex was represented to them as a bowling alley and lounge with the emphasis on the bowling alley.

"He's not building a whole building, he's building one part of a building" complained board members several times throughout the evening.

"You can't pick out the men's restroom and build it only," commented member Robert Bretz.

"The theme of the building is changed," added board member Marth Hoyer who pointed out that the very first site plan did not even have the lounge, which was subsequently added.

"To me this is not as serious as if they had changed half of the building or turned it around," commented Cairns, who noted that the lounge portion of the building that is being constructed is in accordance with the approved site plan. "It does still bother me," he added.

"If we plan it and it doesn't come out as we plan it, what the hell is the use of planning it?" asked member Donald Gleason.

Representatives of the developer explained to the planning board that a lack of financing made it impossible to complete the bowling alley at this time and that as soon as there is financing available, the bowling alley will be added.

Board members indicated a wariness in believing that the bowling alley will ever be constructed, though representatives of the developer replied in unison "you're wrong".

According to Bretz, when the developer realized that he could not finish the total site plan, he should have come back for site plan review.

"We're going to find out what the answer is for future reference. This is beyond us now," commented the chairman.

He added, "all we can do is recommend to the building because they supported me."

VanZandt added that he feels the property requirement should be struck down to allow a renter to vote for the person best qualified to represent him.

"A renter doesn't have the right to vote for another renter to represent his needs," explained VanZandt.

If he is able to get on the ballot, VanZandt said that he expects he would be a strong candidate, partially because of his young age. "I think the youngest councilman now is 35.

"I like the way the mayor and some of the people on the council are working and my philosophy appears to be more in line than some incumbents," he added.

VanZandt added that he is not a rabble-rouser looking for trouble but wants to run because "I enjoy the community and I enjoy getting involved."

In the November election, incumbents Robert Dingeldey, Melvin Green, and Lillian Spencer will all be seeking re-election. Other candidates are Michael McDonald and former building inspector Carlton Oldford.

Mayor Val Vangieson will be running unopposed for that post.

For Wixom Crossings

Staman Seeks Grant

Wixom council recently went on record supporting an attempt by former Oakland County Road Commissioner Frazer W. Staman who is seeking a "demonstration" grant from the federal government to take care of Novi's railroad problems.

"The probabilities of the congress appropriating it are slim," admitted assistant to the Mayor Bernard VanOsedale. "He (Staman) wants a consensus from the council supporting his effort."

Staman told this newspaper that he began battling for the grant a year ago after he heard an Illinois congressman tell the American Roadbuilder's Association of a city in his state that received a demonstration grant which was 100 percent federally funded. The money was used to solve a city's railroad problem.

"I then wrote to our Congressman Bill Broomfield and asked him to check to see if it would be possible to get a grant for Wixom."

Staman said that a city in Indiana last year also received a federal grant which paid for elevating the railroad to alleviate the problem.

Staman pointed out that the federal government has $12 billion in its road fund and this is where money for the grants is coming.

"If people don't take advantage of the program, it goes to someone else," explained Staman. "You have to start someplace and you never know where you'll end up."

Staman explained that he had not sought to have city officials involved in seeking the grant previously because of "the uncertainty of it all." Staman noted that Broomfield has done a lot of work toward trying to get Wixom the grant and he wanted to make certain the city fathers supported the effort.

Staman indicated the grant may be one of the only viable solutions to the railroad problem.

Gets Science Funds

Schoolcraft College has received a grant for nearly $110,000 from the National Science Foundation (NSF). The grant was officially accepted by the Board of Trustees at its June 25 meeting.

The money will support a project to develop an associate degree program in Petroleum Technology. It was proposed and developed by Schoolcraft geology instructors John Bedford and William Ryan.

The program is designed to train petroleum geology technicians.

of the misinformation given him, he is now seeking legal aid from any organization that would support his attempt, such as the Civil Liberties Union or the Oakland County Legal Aids Society.

While VanZandt said he could wage a write-in campaign, he doubts that he would stand a chance of winning due to the fact that a write-in vote must be cast in his name as it appears in the voting roles. While everyone knows him as Mike, his real first name is Robert.

"I really want to get on the ballot," said VanZandt. "I have people already working on my campaign. That's the reason I decided to run —

Board Will Decide

Students Want to Build

Students at Novi High School may one day soon become builders of a 1400 square foot ranch home in Clark subdivision.

A proposal that suggests just such a classroom project for industrial arts students is being considered by the board of education for possible approval later this month.

Under this proposal, which has been proposed by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elie, the school would enter into contract with the Elies for construction of the frame house to be located on one of two lots owned by the couple in Clark subdivision.

The Elies would provide the lot and all of the materials for construction.

They intend to live in the house, but should they decide to sell it the Elies would agree to divide any profits they might realize in such a sale with the school.

Ideally, the school would purchase land and provide materials for such a house, then sell the house and use all of the profits for purchasing another lot and the necessary materials for the succeeding house, according to Superintendent Gerald Kratz. But at the present time the district is not in a financial position to make such an investment. Meanwhile, the proposal of Mr. and Mrs. Elie appears to be a logical alternative, he added.

Purpose of the project would be to give students the experience of actually building a house. Until now their classroom experiences have been limited mostly to basement construction and remodeling.

House construction has been a goal of the class for some time.

Elie, who appeared before the board of education last

Thursday, suggested that the following points should be addressed by the board if the proposal is to become a reality.

Boys should be insured; average four days a week or more on the job; contract ends with school as of June 1976; all materials will be supplied by Elie within 48 hours of request; dry wall taping will be done by a hired professional (paid by Elie); the Elies would reserve the right to hire an outside professional to oversee construction when it is deemed necessary (again paid by Elie);

A board decision should be made no later than August 1 if materials are to be ordered on time; basement foundation should be ready for flooring by the second week in September; furnace is to be connected to maintain working conditions throughout the winter; the Elies intend to occupy the house sometime in the summer of 1976.

Superintendent Kratz cautioned Elie that he may be over-optimistic if he expects the house to be completed within a year.

Planners Approve Request

Act May Save Farm

First step toward inclusion of the historic 160 acre Meyer Farm under State Act 116 was received last week as the request received recommendation for approval by the planning board.

To come under the act, the owner of the farm would have to agree to continue to farm the land for at least 10 years. In return, the farm land owner would receive income tax credit and would not have to participate for that period of time in any special assessment districts such as for sewer or water. The state would make up the cost to the city.

Representatives of the Meyer farm indicated that even if the council gives the property an AG zoning — a change from its present R1F zoning — Meyer would continue to seek to be brought under the act because "the zoning itself would not preserve this type of farm."

"If we reject the request, we're supposed to give our reasons and I don't have any reasons," commented chairman John Roethel. The motion was unanimous to recommend approval that the farm be brought under the act.

Two other governmental bodies, the Oakland County Planning Commission and the Oakland Soil Conservation District, must also give their recommendation before Novi's council ultimately makes a recommendation on whether the farm should come under the act. The state then takes over making a decision.

According to City Clerk Gerry Stipp, she expects the council to make its decision at the August 18 regular council meeting or early in September.

Association Picks Former Resident

A University of Georgia College of Agriculture dairy scientist and former Northville resident has been named the outstanding teacher in dairy production for 1975 by the American Dairy Science Association.

Dr. Olin T. Fosgate, professor of dairy science at University of Georgia, received the ADSA's Outstanding Teacher Award at the organization's recent annual meeting in Manhattan, Kansas. The award, which is sponsored by the Ralston Purina Company, carried a stipend of $1,000.

Fosgate's national honor saluted his 18 years of teaching at University of Georgia. He teaches an unusually broad range of topics, among them dairy cattle breeding, dairy cattle nutrition, milk secretion, artificial insemination, and the introductory dairy science course.

He came to University of Georgia with a broad background of experience in all aspects of dairy production, along with an excellent education in the academic side of dairy and related sciences. His active research program is geared toward obtaining information and understanding which makes his teaching more effective.

Born in Peru, New York, he was an honor student at Northville High School, graduating in 1935. He attended Eastern Michigan University and obtained advanced degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He was first a research assistant at that school, then came to University of Georgia in August of 1957.

He is a charter member of the Society for the Study of Reproduction, and is also a member of the American Society of Animal Science, the American Dairy Science Association, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Zeta and Gamma Sigma Delta, among other organizations.

Fosgate has written scores of scientific and technical papers and publications, and in 1970 received the Outstanding Teacher Award from Gamma Sigma Delta, the national honorary society for agriculture and related sciences. This was only the third time the award had gone to a University of Georgia teacher.

That same year, the undergraduate student body in the College of Agriculture voted Fosgate the Outstanding Teacher in Agriculture. He is the only teacher ever to have won both this award and the Gamma Sigma Delta honor.

Fosgate had been instrumental in developing and obtaining approval for a Ph. D. program in animal science in the areas of breeding, nutrition and animal products. He has served as interdepartmental coordinator of this program since its inception in 1962. In his career, Fosgate has directed four students to the Ph. D. program and 17 students to the M.S. degree.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. today (Wednesday) for Ruth L. Hoeft of South Lyon who died Saturday, July 19, at Grace Northwest Hospital. She was 62 years old.

Miss Hoeft was born September 17, 1912, in Detroit, the daughter of Julius and Emilie (Krohn) Hoeft. She was employed as a telephone controller for Michigan Bell in Southfield. She also was a member of the Pioneers Club of Michigan Bell and Holy Cross Evangelical Lutheran Church in Livonia.

Surviving are six nieces and three nephews.

Services will be held at the Ross B. Northrop and Son

Funeral Home where the Reverend Richard Schultz of Holy Cross will officiate. Burial will follow in Glen Eden Cemetery.

GERTRUDE HALE

Funeral services were held Monday, July 14, for Gertrude M. Hale of 27330 Haggerty Road who died July 10 in Warren Memorial Hospital. She was 81 years old.

Born May 27, 1894, in Ontario, Canada, she was the daughter of William and Nancy (Davis) Whalls. Her husband, Harry Hale, preceded her in death.

Surviving are a son, Harold, two brothers, one sister and two grandchildren.

Services were held at the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home where the Reverend Richard Dunkelberger officiated. Burial followed in Acacia Park.

HEATHER HANERT

Heather Lynn Hanert, three and one-half year old daughter of Rhett Hall and Kathleen (Pankow) Hanert, died Monday, July 14, at Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Born January 28, 1972, in Ann Arbor, she had suffered from a heart ailment since birth. She was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Plymouth.

Surviving besides her parents who live at 7201 Six Mile Road, are her grandparents, Mrs. Ruth Hanert of South Lyon and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pankow of Plymouth.

Officiating at the services Wednesday, July 16, at the Casterline Funeral Home was the Reverend Leonard Koeninger. Burial followed in Salem Walker Cemetery, Salem.

Pets Licensed?

Dog Census Underway

Northville Township's dog census is currently underway with five census takers visiting homes.

According to Clerk Betty Lennox, the five women are going door-to-door inquiring whether or not any dogs are owned by homeowners. If so, handouts of the township's dog licensing policy are given and information on dogs is taken.

Residents are then expected to go to township hall and obtain licenses for all unlicensed dogs they own. Mrs. Lennox explained that they will have to pay the $2 license fee plus the $2 late penalty. In January, both increase to $3.

If dog owners fail to comply, they are reminded by telephone. If they still fail to obtain a license, they are then mailed a violation notice which carries a fine of not less than $10.

Mrs. Lennox noted that "the licensing of dogs is for the protection of our citizens. It is insurance that dogs in the township have been vaccinated against rabies and the license will aid us in matching lost dogs with their owners."

The census takers have discovered so far that approximately two-thirds of the dogs in the township are not licensed. In one eastern subdivision of the township, only eight of 100 dogs were licensed.

Speaking for Myself

Subject Athletes To Assault Charges?

GEORGE THOMPSON

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

YES . . .

When Henry Boucha of the Minnesota North Stars had Dave Forbes of the Boston Bruins charged with aggravated assault for inflicting serious damage to his eye during a hockey game, the question of whether or not an athlete should be charged with assault for incidents occurring during a "game" was brought to public scrutiny for the first time.

It is necessary to answer the proposed question with an eye toward a legal definition of assault, and how this particular incident relates to that definition.

Any hockey player (or athlete in general) expects some shoving or fighting to occur during a game. This expected rough and tumble does not, apparently, incite fear in the hearts of professional players. It would, therefore, be exempt from the definition of assault: "any act causing a well-founded apprehension of immediate peril from a force already partially or fully put in motion is an assault."

One account of the Boucha-Forbes incident given by a witness just 10 feet from the event reported that "Forbes jabbed his stick at Henry's eye as though it was a bayonet."

I believe that having a hockey stick shoved at an eye in such a manner would give anyone a "well-founded apprehension of immediate peril." Along with the "force already partially or fully put in motion (that of the hockey stick)" we have what would be legally considered an assault. Thus Henry Boucha had a perfect right to see that Mr. Forbes has his day in court.

Simply because the incident took place during a sporting event does not free Forbes from following laws which govern behavior in our society. Nor does it free him from just punishment for having broken the law.

Barbara Donley
South Lyon

NO . . .

Juan Marichal hits John Roseboro over the head with a baseball bat. Dick McAuliffe attacks Tommy John after being struck by a pitched ball. Bert Campaneris throws his bat at Lerrin LaGrow. Dave Forbes hits Henry Boucha with his hockey stick.

What is different about the above incidents is that only Dave Forbes has been charged with criminal assault and made to stand trial. Let us hope he is the first and last professional athlete to be brought to court and tried on criminal charges resulting from a fight occurring during a sporting event.

It is significant the jurors voting for acquittal were the ones knowledgeable about hockey. Hockey is a fast hard contact sport and emotions easily can run rampant during the heat of the contest.

Three officials are assigned to each game to supervise the play and maintain order. Penalties are assessed against players for minor infractions of the rules and players can be ejected from the game for more serious violations.

In addition the players' actions are subject to review by the league president, with suspension and fines being levied against him.

The injured player can seek redress in the civil courts. The other players in the league have their own ways of dealing with the player that intentionally injures another player.

Slashing, cross checking and spearing are all fouls committed with the hockey stick. Is every hockey player committing such a foul, every base runner bowling over the catcher, every pitcher hitting a batter with a pitched ball, every football player making a late tackle to be charged with assault? Who will draw the line between what is just part of the game and what is criminal assault?

Our prosecutors and judges have far more important things to do than interfere in professional sports. The lid on this can of worms should be kept sealed.

George Thompson
Brighton

For a change of pace this week, bits and pieces that have collected on the spindle along with a few impressions as we reach the mid-summer mark.

The Northville city council has expressed concern, as have other observers, over the so-called comprehensive political reform bill now being considered by Michigan state legislators.

They're afraid the cure may be worse than the illness.

For example, one section of the bill calls for public disclosure of sources of income, real property holdings and business affiliations for mayors, village presidents, city managers, township trustees and supervisors, members of zoning and planning commissions in cities and townships, township constables, etc.

Practically speaking, the council fears it would be impossible to find anyone who would serve on such non-paid appointive bodies as the planning and zoning commissions.

Fines and jail sentences are prescribed for various violations of the act.

In suggesting that City Manager Steven Walters convey these concerns to the state legislature Councilman Paul Vernon noted that well-intentioned and needed legislation often goes too far in its corrective action.

He fears that the result of such disclosures at local-level offices, particularly where compensation is in the nature of an honorarium, would be to discourage citizen participation.

He also suggests that such a requirement infringes upon the rights of the individual to privacy.

At long last work is beginning on railroad crossing gates at Seven Mile and Northville Road.

Township officials have pursued this for years. Several accidents and at least two deaths have occurred at the difficult crossing.

Speaking of practicalities, I still believe that legislation governing teacher strikes should include specific language outlining exactly what happens when there is a strike.

In districts where strikes have been staged, school boards and teacher unions are faced with the unpleasant decision of whether or not extra-curricular activities (sports, band, etc.) should continue during the strike period.

The new law should specify that a strike means that all activities cease. It would remove the responsibility and establish clear-cut guidelines and consequences.

Furthermore, it is a matter of fact proven by experience that a football schedule will do more to bring about settlement at the bargaining table than any number of lost classroom days.

I have proposed this amendment to both Senators Carl Pursell and Daniel Cooper, but their reaction has been less than enthusiastic.

There's something about amusement rides being erected in the early-morning hours that brings back memories of the days of the traveling circuses and September county fairs.

I remember how I envied the lucky kids who were able to obtain jobs helping circus roustabouts. They'd get up at 5 a.m. and work half-a-day for free tickets.

Don't forget the Northville Fair.

The Chamber of Commerce has arranged a full program of events Thursday through Sunday.

With good weather, it should be one of the best ever.

'Proud to be Northville Band Member'

To the Editor:

I'm writing what I feel is a most needed response to the letter you printed, written by a Northville student, criticizing the Northville High School Marching Band in the July 4 parade. The person who wrote the letter obviously is not and never was in the band, and therefore knows relatively little about it. Maybe first I should point out that our band is not trying to, nor can be, fairly compared to the Milford marching band, which is among the best high school bands in the country. It is excellent, which is the reason it was invited to be in the parade. We may not win trophies, but what we do get from marching band in Northville, I feel, is much more meaningful and lasting. Mr. Williams has established a relationship with the band, both as a whole and as individuals, that makes being a member of marching band an enjoyable experience. If any member of the Milford band misses one drill rehearsal, he or she is expelled from the band.

The writer of that letter also criticizes that we didn't wear our full uniforms, but rather white blouses with the uniform pants. Our band also didn't have seven of its members faint and carried to the side for first aid. For every other event during the year, such as Michigan Week, the Memorial Day Parade, the Homecoming Parade, and all football season, we certainly do wear our full uniforms. It is only this one day, in the midst of summer, that we leave off our jackets and overlays. If full uniform is more important to you than health, well then, maybe you should move to Milford.

Every Northville band member who marched in the parade, did so because he or she wanted to, not because they were "required" to, as in some bands. How many people, now and in years past, haven't even bothered to get up and watch the parade, let alone participate in it? I think our band deserves credit for the time, work, and spirit everyone puts forth. And I hope at least some people will think twice when they see the Northville High School Marching Band.

Thank you,
Laurie Day
a proud member of the band

Who Was Inaccurate?

To the Editor:

(Re: Letter criticizing reporting and Sunday cycle races).

The writer, Charles Toussaint, criticizes reporting by the Northville Record as not being more accurate, however his letter certainly falls very short of being anywhere near accurate.

Had he listened to what was being said he would have heard me say that when I was physically unable to perform my then regular duties, that Mr. Carlo assigned me to another job where I could sit at a gate and still work. He did not continue my salary when I did not work; he switched jobs so I could continue to work and draw a salary.

Also remember that this took place 15 years ago, the year 1960, long before I was on the city council. I'm sure Mr. Carlo has done the same for others. As for my own record of voting on matters involving the Downs, I have opposed Mr. Carlo and the track on many issues.

It appears funny to me that Mr. Toussaint was never this critical of harness racing during all the years of his employment at Northville Downs. Is he now a bitter ex-employee? Is he also bitter against the Detroit Race Course and Hazel Park and opposed to racing there as an ex-employee?

League Needs Help

To the Editor:

Monday night I went to my first Novi Little League meeting, only to be completely appalled.

Here sat a group of approximately twenty people (supposedly the largest turnout ever) half organized, bickering amongst themselves. The newest managers wanting changes and a better league. The senior managers sat saying, "It's always been this way, no one wants to help."

Now, I find myself wondering where are all the parents of the kids I saw, playing ball this year. Many of whom stood watching a game and complaining about

Historic Tiffin House: Demolishers vs. Preservers

By JACK HOFFMAN

It's been 15 years since the occupant of the house first showed me through the worn old rooms and then invited me to "sit a spell" by the crackling pot-bellied stove.

"Just think," he smiled, "when I bought this house my tax was $1.75. Now it's about $70."

Charlie Tiffin was a firm believer in the old saw, "Only two things are certain in life — taxes and death."

Charlie's gone now. And so is his brother Bill, who in later years shared the house with him at the corner of Wixom and Maple roads in Wixom. These two old bachelors died in 1973 — Charlie at age 94 and Bill at 104.

Taxes live on, and now they've ballooned to about $310.

Also surviving, at least temporarily, is the house in which Charlie and his brother lived.

Wixom council members were expected to decide this week if the city should purchase and preserve the house or let someone else buy it, the city tear it down, and put up some modern tax-producer in its place.

Some Wixom citizens argue it should be preserved because it is one of the most historic old houses in Wixom. Others, however, say it is an eyesore and should be destroyed.

Charlie Tiffin was a realist — a philosophical realist who probably would have put his money on the Demolishers to win over the Preservers. "A polished apple," he would have said, "ain't worth nothin' until it's shining in a pie."

The house originally was the parsonage for the original Baptist Church, Charlie told me in 1960. The church was built next to the cemetery as was a red brick schoolhouse — the pride of the early Wixom settlers. The frame parsonage was built at the southwest corner more than 115 years ago.

Charlie, who moved into the house in 1900, recalled the wooden walk that stretched along Wixom Road.

Services were held in the schoolhouse until on January 12, 1865 the new church was dedicated. In 1897, using a team of horses, members of the congregation moved the church building from near Maple and Wixom roads to a site opposite the present-day Baptist Church.

Tiffin was only seven months old when his family moved to Wixom in 1879 — just about the time when Wixom reached its peak as a major Oakland County center for grain (upwards of 35,000 bushels) and for wool (40,000 pounds).

When finally the Tiffins moved into the corner house, it "looked about the same" then as it did in 1960, Charlie said. In 1960 the pot-bellied stove occupied the living room, which opened onto Maple Road and the walls were covered with a smoke stained and blistered wallpaper that appeared to be as old as the house. Charlie remembered attending a wedding in this room when it served as the parsonage.

The unmistakable odor of farmhouse and burning, coal and simmering soup was everywhere. Sparsely furnished, the house was neat but badly in need of a thorough scrubbing. Charlie did the housekeeping but, admittedly, "the inside stuff" wasn't his specialty. He liked the "outside stuff" — the yard work and the gardening.

Brother Bill, on the other hand, was the cook. It was his "home-made" soup a visitor smelled upon entering the house. He did his cooking then on a wood-burning stove and, believe it or not, as he turned the corner on 100 he was still baking pies and cakes. His chocolate cake was great. To that I can attest.

I grew fond of these two old gentlemen and revisited them occasionally.

My last visit was in 1972.

Progress had overtaken the two brothers. They still pumped their own water from a well in their front yard every morning and night, but a television set had replaced the worn out radio that brought them the play-by-play of the Detroit Tigers.

We sat on the porch, where the brothers often sat and listened to their corn growing, and Charlie said, "Across the road there was just one farmhouse when we moved here. Now there are over 40 houses on that one little farm. We'll be right in the middle of the city if this sort of thing keeps up."

Charlie could see that time was running out in more ways than one.

He died the next spring, after one last harvest of corn, and a few weeks later his white-haired brother called it quits at age 104.

Now, just two years later, officials are pondering the fate of the historic house in which the Tiffin brothers lived. I hope realist Charlie Tiffin was wrong. I hope the Preservers win. That apple might not be worth anything until it is in the pie, Charlie, but once the pie's gone it is gone forever.

Future generations deserve more than a few crumbs of memory.

Offers Apology

To the Editor:

I would like to apologize to Supervisor Larry Wright for my ill-conceived reaction to the announcement of his resignation. In the surprise of the moment, I attempted to express my concern and high regard for him and did not realize it came out wrong until I read the Record. During his time in office Supervisor Wright totally committed himself by spending long hours and taking no vacations to serve our community. In doing this, he has sacrificed a well-earned retirement from a highly successful business and his health. Larry has served during a most difficult time when the Township has experienced the problems of rapid growth, financial difficulty, and the uncertainty of direction caused by annexation. I am not sure that anyone could have done a better job under these conditions.

Larry has done a good job. I am proud to know him and to have had the opportunity to work with him.

Therefore, I hope more of you parents will be at the next meeting, Monday August 18, 8:00, Novi High School, instead of sitting home shirking the responsibility to someone else.

NEWS BIRTHDAYS

TWO PILOT RUNS of a pick-up and delivery service to take Northville-area senior citizens to appointments or on errands are slated for next Monday and Thursday, July 28 and 31. Through the Wayne County Office on Aging a SEMTA van will take those who make reservations with Northville City Hall, 349-1300, to places in Northville and environs without charge. Senior citizens in the city or township may use the escort service for doctor or dental appointments or for special shopping.

A PUBLIC HEARING to extend membership on the Northville Township Board of Appeals from the present three to five members will be held at 8 p.m. next Tuesday preceding the regular meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission in the township offices. Establishment of new fees for submission of site plans will be discussed at the meeting to follow.

APPOINTMENT of a supervisor for Northville township will take place at a special meeting of the board on Wednesday, July 30. The meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the township offices. Supervisor Lawrence Wright asked to step down earlier this month due to health reasons.

IT'S NOT too early, says Jan Reef, to plan on attending the Second Annual Dinner Dance sponsored by the Schoolcraft College Foundation. The event features a very special dinner menu, two wines, live band music and lots of fellowship. And Reef points out that proceeds help provide scholarships for Schoolcraft students. The dinner dance will be held at Waterman Campus Center on Saturday evening, September 20. Tickets are now available by contacting the college foundation office (591-6400) or from one of the Northville Governors on the Foundation: Reef, Violet Bradford, A.R. Clarke, Carl Johnson, Philip Ogilvie, Bill Secord or Jack Werner.

YEAR-ROUND SCHOOL opening most likely will be delayed from its planned August 11 starting date until after the August 18 millage election. Superintendent Raymond Spear commented that should the millage fail and the board find it necessary to close a school, it would not be in the best interest of the students to be moving them and teachers after classes have started. A decision is expected by next week.

Task Force Organizes

there was a school district. I feel the school board is stuck with the superintendent's decision (to propose its closing if millage fails). Why is Main Street back as an issue.

"Any school that has a potential of closing will get static from the surrounding neighborhood," he said.

Berry noted that he was for the millage but opposed to the short time given voters. "Why the mysteries surrounding the money. The cloud is an embarrassment to somebody. If millage is the only way, then I'll vote for the millage but I don't think it will pass."

Pat Wright told the group that she wants "however much money is needed for quality education. But the board must convince me. I can't work as hard for a millage campaign if the schools are operating at 50 percent capacity. I feel the millage will not pass."

Mrs. Wright suggested that the district should not open the two new elementary schools, should put all junior high students in Meads Mill and use the high school and Cooke Middle School for high schoolers.

Chairman Lockhart observed that the "last cut any of us wants is closing of any of the schools. We have committed ourselves heavily when Main Street was kept open. We better be prepared to pay if we want our children to go to neighborhood schools."

Marilyn Kaestner of Novi Street, a teacher at Amerman, said she wanted the task force to make a commitment that none of the proposed cuts would be reinstated without all being reinstated.

Barbara LeBoeuf, a high school teacher, reminded the group that "the same superintendent who is asking for millage has returned millage to you for the past five years. Now people are concerned about the shortage but no one ever questioned why millage was returned."

Joseph Fiorilli of Harbert Drive wanted the board to "resign in September if the millage fails so we can get a new board by October." He said if the millage passes, the board could view that as a vote of confidence.

Al Geisler of Northville Estates, a parent of two high school students, said he felt the task force had "insufficient time for a study. A valuable study will take four or five months to complete."

He said that school board must have known about the need for millage for some time and said that "in these times and economic climate, people will not vote for millage if they are not sure every alternative has been looked at."

begin issuing violations. The "no parking" signs went up last week but township police are finding motorists are ignoring the signs.

Ask 2.6 Mills

Spear said that if schools were to be closed, the three which would save the most money and provide the most economic efficiency would be Silver Springs Elementary, Meads Mill Middle School and Main Street Elementary. The superintendent noted that closing Amerman and Winchester elementaries would not result in significant savings because of the added costs of transportation.

By school, the savings of closing (utility costs less the added cost of transportation) are, Cooke Middle, $25,000; Meads Mill, $45,000; Amerman, $22,000; Main Street, $20,000; Moraine, $19,000; Silver Springs, $23,000; and Winchester, $10,000.

Trustee Hobart said that he feels there are other savings to be realized if schools were closed besides utility costs.

At one point Monday, he proposed closing Cooke Middle School and housing all students in Meads Mill which could hold the total junior high population. He said teachers could then be better utilized, all year-round middle school programs would be in one building and he estimated the millage request could be pared to 1.5 mills.

Hobart added that he would "rather close Cooke than an elementary school since that (elementary level) is where the neighborhood school concept exists."

Rinehart emphasized that, should the millage fail, the board will have to consider rearranging the grade structure but he cautioned the audience not to interpret possible cuts discussed Monday "as holding a gun to your head."

Trustee P. Roger Nieuwkoop added that with the 2.6 mills, some things will suffer. "But the realities are that there is no chance in the world that the community would pass four mills."

"I feel sorry for the senior citizens. How can I ask them to vote for millage. I feel responsible to them," Nieuwkoop said.

He explained that the board has committed itself to the neighborhood school concept and "it bothers me to talk about closing schools. I do not know if the community is ready to close schools. I feel the people are willing to pay additional millage to keep schools open."

In answering a question from the audience, board members noted that offering either traditional or year-round programs rather than both would not save money.

Following a report on the progress of teacher negotiations from the district's negotiator Ronald Horwath, Acting Chairman Sylvia Gucken said she feels it is "of the utmost importance that the Northville Education Association and Northville Public Schools show faith in the community and reach a settlement before the August 18 election."

The audience made few comments concerning the board's decision to ask for 2.6 mills, however, Al Geisler, a member of the citizens' task force, complimented the board's action.

"A 2.6 mill increase is what you want and need, as I figure it," he said.

Trespassers

Face Tickets

People seeking relief from the warm weather at the Griswold gravel pit during the past week kept Northville township police busy writing trespassing tickets.

Ten persons were issued trespassing tickets and another was arrested on three traffic warrants held by Detroit Police Department.

Cars, dune buggies, motorcycles and people swimming generated arrests, police said. The Griswold gravel pit and other lakes in Highland Lakes subdivision are private and for use of residents only.

Those ticketed ranged in age from 17 to 31 and were from Northville, Detroit, Westland, Plymouth and Farmington.

Vetoes Cycles

vote two letters and a petition bearing 25 signatures were read opposing all Sunday racing.

Councilman Folino gave the amendment proposal a "reverse twist" by making a motion "not to adopt". Both Councilman Folino and Councilman Paul Vernon voted "yes", meaning they opposed the Sunday racing provision.

Mayor A. M. Allen voted "no".

City Attorney Ogilvie explained before the vote that three votes would be required for adoption of the ordinance, not simply a two to one majority. Because there are five members on the council, any amendment must have at least three votes for passage, he explained.

Frank Pauli, 508 Gardner, asked the council to consider banning all motorcycle racing at all times at Northville Downs.

The major is now assigned at the Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell.

Commissioned in 1962 through the aviation cadet program, he holds the aeronautical rating of senior navigator and served 13 months in Vietnam.

Hearing Airs Problems

"Northville State supervisors and residents of the community do not communicate with each other."

Fiorilli suggested that computers be used to check patients who are missing and that closed circuit cameras be installed to scan the parking lot.

Dr. Calvin Chen, representing vacationing Northville State Hospital administrator Dr. Richard Budd, said that the hospital does house dangerous patients.

"Only dangerous patients are allowed to be committed. They are dangerous to themselves, to others or cannot take care of their own basic physical needs," he explained.

He said only patients who have been judged trustworthy are given ground privilege cards. Dr. Chen noted that about 700 to 750 patients are housed at the hospital, that the hospital has a total staff of 850 and that of those, 350 are attendants.

Charles McQueer, director of security at the hospital, told the group that he has eight people on security but that they are also responsible for the fire department and the 45-vehicle motor pool.

"I've had one man per shift per day for the last two weeks because of vacations," he said. "It is not the ground card patients we are worried about but the escapees who go through a window or door to get out."

McQueer said that he and Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun had met recently and the hospital is now also notifying the township when a patient is discovered missing. Previously, only the Michigan State Police had been alerted.

State Police Lieutenant William Tomczyk said the part "the state police play is very little. We take the information and broadcast it to neighboring departments."

Speaking as a township resident, Lieutenant Tomczyk suggested the hospital hire two or three more security people and place them along Seven Mile Road.

Township Clerk Betty Lennox told the group that Ypsilanti State Hospital blows a siren when they have an escape and that a telephone chain is also started.

Thomas Jones, representing the state department of mental health, said that the department is "finding now that in passing the new legislative code rights of the public may have been violated. This is what the task force hopes to determine."

He said that mental health department proposed budget allocations have been increased over the past two months due to the increasing concern of the public over escaped patients.

One township resident, who suggested that trustees be given identification badges to wear so area homeowners would not become overly alarmed if they come across the trustees, also said that ground card trustees turned out in the morning with nothing to keep them busy will naturally wander off the grounds.

Another resident suggested that one phone number be given neighbors of the hospital so that they would not encounter delays in transferring calls when reporting escaped patients.

Township board members said they would be compiling the results of the hearing and forwarding it to the task force in Lansing.

Backyard Patios Replace Them In Modern Homes

Not so long ago, the front porch was the center of summer time leisure activity.

That was where kids made forts and played house.

Where Grandpa rocked in his chair, and read or snoozed and greeted passers-by.

Where courting couples said goodnight or lounged away a Sunday afternoon.

Where adults had their coffee after dinner.

But those days are fading.

Homebuilders and architects agree: modern suburban folk have traded in the old model front porch for backyard patios and verandas.

Donald DiComo, architect and Northville resident, explained that, in the American residential tradition, porches were first built on the front of the house because the rear of the house faced the farm and barnyard and animals. Porches were private, quiet areas and pleasant places to be with guests.

Front porches stayed with us, DiComo explained, until recently, until the development of suburbia, "postage stamp lots, and traffic."

"It's the noise pollution as much as the desire for privacy," he said, that's forced the retreat to the backyard.

OBSERVATION DECK—The long graceful porch with its delicate lattice work was one of the selling points for Mr. and Mrs. David Long when they purchased their home (above) on Lake Street in South Lyon five years ago. Mrs. Long reports that the porch serves a variety of functions, including a play area for her daughter, a place to keep her plants, and an observation deck where she and her husband can sit and watch the cars go by.

FORMAL FACADE—Giant, classic columns distinguish the front veranda at the Colton A. Park home on Main Street in Brighton (right). Built in 1875 by Fred T. Hyne, the home was badly damaged by fire in 1913. Rebuilt by Mr. Hyne, the home remained in the Hyne family until 1951, when it was sold to the Parks.

MOSS PLANT ACCENTS—Moss planters are hung in the graceful arches of this Victorian porch at 418 West Main Street in Northville (below). This is one of the many well-maintained homes of the last century that are found on tree-lined streets in town. James B. Harris, president of the Northville Historical Society, and his wife are proud owners of this yellow-and-white landmark.

It Means Brotherhood at Work

"All men are brothers" and "we are our brothers' keepers" are two tenets of the Christian faith physically demonstrated recently by a group from the South Lyon First United Presbyterian Church.

The 18 teens, four adult advisors and three pre-teens transformed their Christian witness into practical relevance during a work project at the St. James African Methodist Episcopal Church in Cadiz, Ohio. The South Lyon group, assisted by black teenagers of the Methodist congregation, spent a week applying 16 gallons of paint to the exterior of the St. James parish house.

In addition the young people painted the bathroom and kitchen, installed a new kitchen sink and laid floor tile. All materials for the redecorating project were provided through funds earned by the South Lyon Fellowship

While in Cadiz, the South Lyonites prepared their own meals and slept at the United Presbyterian Church pastored by the Reverend Louis Thomas. Mr. Thomas was instrumental in making arrangements for the work project.

Working closely with the South Lyon group were Clarijean (CJ) Haury, a senior from Pittsburg Theological Seminary, and session members and trustees of St. James. In addition to attending church services on Sunday at both Cadiz churches, the South Lyon contingent held their own devotional and musical services each evening.

Accompanied by advisors Mr. and Mrs. James Race, Mrs. Helen Kingsley and Richard Lenz, the teens enjoyed a picnic and swimming at Tappan Dam Lake, toured a pottery factory and a coal strip mine and went bowling. Women of the

A.M.E. church entertained them at a special dinner one evening.

This is the sixth year the senior high fellowship of the local church has undertaken this type of missionary project. Other work details were performed at various locations in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Tennessee in the past. Funds for the materials and expenses for the trips has come from glass and paper drives, sale of Christmas cards, stationary, cookies and most recently from pancake suppers sponsored by the Youth Fellowship.

Donations of canned foods from members of the South Lyon congregation helped to feed the hungry, industrious workers.

This Christian mission work would have been difficult, if not impossible, according to the advisors, without the aid of several local businessmen and the American Aggregates Corporation. Glass was transported to Charlotte by the corporation while Elwood LaChance trucked the paper to Mauseon, Ohio. Loading paper was made more convenient by use of an elevator loaned by Bob Bowers and Norm Bondy provided a trailer for handy transportation whenever needed.

WORK FOR THE NIGHT IS COMING—South Lyon Presbyterian youths demonstrated Christian brotherhood as well as expending plenty of elbow grease as they readied the exterior of this parish house at Cadiz, Ohio for a paint job recently. The kids not only scraped and brushed the clapboards but applied 16 gallons of paint before the job was completed.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Northville is planning its first annual old fashioned picnic on Sunday, August 24, at Kensington Park's Hickory Ridge.

There will be a sharing table where all families participating will bring a dessert dish. A home-baked pie judging contest and a song-fest are but two special features planned. Other events are planned for all ages.

St. George Evangelical Lutheran Church, 803 West Main Street, Brighton, will begin its third annual summer program tomorrow, July 24. Sessions for youth, aged four years through fifth grade, will be held each Thursday through August 21, from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Cost is 30 cents per child. Activities, including games, crafts, music, and movies, will be supervised by adult and high school staff.

Dr. Harry Love and the Trumpets of Praise Trio from the Maranatha Baptist College in Wisconsin will be appearing at both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services this Sunday, July 27, at the First Baptist Church of Wixom, 620 North Wixom Road.

The Dorcas Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Hamburg elected officers at a circle meeting held July 15. Newly-elected officers are Evelyn Schroeder, president; Eva Armstrong, secretary; Faith Kukuk, treasurer; and Geneva Carberry, publicity.

The Sisters' Singing Group from Sanderville, Georgia, will be presenting a concert of choir music tonight (July 23) at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of South Lyon. The youth choir is composed of 35 members of the Sisters Baptist Church.

Novi Baptists Host Witness Team

The "Swordbearers," an 11-member team providing music, testimonies and seminars, will be at First Baptist Church of Novi from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, July 31 and August 1.

From Cedarville College in Ohio, the team is an organization of the Christian Service Department of the college, a Baptist college of arts and sciences now enrolling more than 1,000 students.

Purpose of the "Swordbearers" is to aid local churches in evangelistic outreach by working with and encouraging young people and their families in their music, teaching, seminars and preaching.

Both vocal and instrumental music is planned for their appearance here as well as seminars geared to young people. Issues to be covered include self-acceptance, God's will, Christian liberties, Christian's use of leisure time, evangelism and "quiet time."

The Novi church, located at Taft and 11 Mile roads, invites the public to attend the two evening programs.

Swordbearers from Cedarville College will be at Novi Baptist Church

Sunday Is Christmas In Hamburg

"There's no confusing this celebration with commercialism," says the Reverend Carl Welsner as he prepared to conduct two Christmas services this Sunday morning, July 27, at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Hamburg.

Celebrating Christmas in July, Mr. Welsner explained, started in 1966, when the Christmas morning service (December 25) was poorly attended.

At that time, the pastor decided it wasn't just the winter weather that was keeping people away.

"It's the exhaustion and noise and festivities of the Christmas season," Mr. Welsner said.

Christmas services this Sunday will be at 9 and 10:30 a.m.

Trees Have Four Needs

By KATHY COPLEY

Every tree needs four things: food, water, air, and sunshine. An ailing tree doesn't have the proper balance of the four, so you have to figure out which elements need to be altered.

The chances are that it is a little of all four if your tree: appears to be dying back, especially at the very top; has leaves which prematurely turn yellow and fall; has leaves which are smaller or appear later than usual; shows signs of insect or disease damage; has twigs, and then whole branches, which die back.

To get more available food to the tree roots, follow this system, similar to the one professionals use. With a crowbar, make holes 18" apart and 18" deep completely around the drip line. (The drip line is the circle which represents the outer limits of the branches.)

Fill these holes two-thirds with commercial fertilizer — the kind you use on the lawn is fine — and one-third dirt. If the crowbar method is too taxing, use an electric drill with an auger bit. Soaking the area 1 to 2 days before hand will make either method easier.

Determine the amount of fertilizer necessary per tree per year by measuring the diameter of the trunk 5 feet from the ground, and consulting this table

Diameter	Fertilizer per year in pounds
5"	12
8"	32

Plan to feed each tree at least once a year, but skip the first year feeding for a new tree since the nursery has been giving it plenty. A bit of bone meal worked into the soil with a new tree is a good idea, since it is slow acting and can't burn young feeder roots.

If the tree (or shrub) is in a high traffic area where the ground from the trunk to the drip line is compacted, lack of air could sap the tree's vigor. To provide more air, follow the same crowbar technique as for making fertilizer holes, but leave the holes empty. This technique will also help available water get down to the roots.

Sometimes just removing a larger area of sod sand doing some shallow cultivating does the trick.

In heavy clay soil, too much soil moisture may be a problem, especially if the trees in question are in a well-watered lawn, but the more frequent problem is insufficient water. Tree roots are an extensive system of food and water gatherers which go deep into the soil, requiring deep watering.

Good soil holds sufficient water from rainfall to rainfall, but trees in poor soil or new trees need generous watering every 10 days.

There are other reasons for trees to lose their vigor, like need for pruning, root competition, and disease. More about them later.

Vegetable Crops Require Thinning

Thin vegetable crops to proper spacing for best development, advise horticulturists at Michigan State University.

Thin when plants are small and the soil is moist to avoid

Here's How to Water Garden

Trying to give your garden just the right amount of water may make you feel like Goldilocks as she tried the bears' porridge.

You can give your garden too much water — "This porridge is too hot!" — and drown the plant roots. According to horticulturists at Michigan State University, wilting, yellowing of the foliage, reduced vigor and the death of foliage and shoots are likely results.

Complete Selection & Services

You can also give your garden too little water — "This porridge is too cold!" Plants will develop shallow, insufficient root systems and grow poorly. Carrots and radishes will develop unpleasantly strong flavors if grown without enough water, the experts say.

To avoid both overwatering and underwatering, the horticulturists suggest watering on a week during dry weather so that the soil is moistened to a depth of six inches. This will give your plants just the water they need — "This porridge is just right!" — without exposing them to extreme fluctuations in moisture.

Going from conditions of drought to near flood can be quite a shock to your plants, the specialists note. Avoiding such changes will keep the plants healthy and growing steadily and will help prevent some garden problems, such as blossom end rot in tomatoes, peppers and squash.

Don't try to water your garden with a hand-held garden hose, the experts advise. You'll be tired of standing there long before your garden has received enough water to do it any good. Invest instead in a soaker hose or install a trickle irrigation system, they suggest. Either of these will deliver water to the ground around the plants at such a rate that the ground can soak it up. You'll have less run-off and, because the plant foliage doesn't get wet, fewer disease problems.

A Father Who Became A Man

Fifteen years ago,
A father was born.
Young, full haired and active.
Age revealed no worn.

Through the years he suffered.
Worked each day, each week.
Tried to climb a mountain,
Pot of gold he'd seek.

Never hit the jack pot.
Never gained a roll.
But he earned a million
On the "Father Poll".

To his four young children,
To his faithful wife,
He is a Goliath;
He's our love, our life.

Arlene Ford

Voices

What is the meaning of life on this earth?
No answers as yet satisfy.
Without understanding we question life's worth,
And its blessings we are apt to deny.

There are myriad voices proclaiming to guide
In the ways they feel sure bring the light,
Yet with what certainty do we decide
Which voice knows the wrong from the right?

The truths of the ages are ever the same,
No matter the length of our strife,
The purpose we seek is ever the aim—
To solve the mystery of life.

How long will it be until truth becomes known
To all of mankind upon earth?
What is the answer for you alone,
And how will be measured your worth?

The answer will come as we let ourselves go,
In our search for true values within,
And the light of all truth will increasingly show

Charles E. Hutton

And The Race Is On

Why are people rushing?
Where on earth's the end?
Racing for a trophy?
Stop and touch a friend.

Walk through nature's beauty.
Smell the lovely scent.
Taste the savory honey.
Love — that's what God meant.

Stop and smell the roses.
Look into the eyes.
Feel the hearts of others.
Hear their aching cries.

Rushing's not the answer.
All it ever brings;
Nerves unraveled — bleeding;
Headaches, banging rings.

The great trophy offered
Isn't all that great.
Hell is at the checker flag;
Heaven's at the gate.

God Is Green

White is boring, black is drab.
White the good guy? Black the bad?

This is nonsense — so obscure.
Thinking skin can make one pure.

What a vision to behold!
Making man from just one mold.

Dabbing colors, here and there;
Spreading love for all to share.

Red and yellow, brown and peach;
God adores us — all and each.

Pretty painting, human being.
Bet like nature, God is green!

Sunrise

If you should see a sunrise
Painted reds, and grays and blues
You'll feel my love across the miles
Reaching — To encircle you.

Motel Mourn

We fell in bed too tired to look
After we had signed the book;
We saw the room the morning after—
Suddenly pained; then wracked with laughter.

F. A. Hasenau

My Grandma

When Grandma smiled her smile at me
It was like a rivulet,
It ran up from her mouth to eyes
And twinkled as it set.

F. A. Hasenau

Ring-A-Ling

Bluebush road,
Mud Creek lane;
Hemmingway drive,
Peppermint Cane.

Rosy Arbour,
Spongy Stream,
Tamarack Trail,
All form a dream.

Who thought of 14th,
Or Avenue A?
Couldn't they ever -
Find time for word-play?

F. A. Hasenau

Taken for Granted

When will we ever stop and awaken
To all nature's beauty we have taken,
The earth has given us so much
With out a thought of thanks for such Stop, and look around you

The sky so blue
The trees so tall,
The colored leaves in the fall,

The lakes and streams,
There's rain, grass and dreams
The seasons and so many hours
And then we have flowers

Rocks and rivers, mountains to climb
Sunsets sublime,
Sand, berries, sunshine so bright Animals, fish, and moonlight

People so beautiful, it's hard to express
A woman so tender for man to caress,
Hair, hands, faces and eyes
Look how graceful a bird flies

Raindrops and snow
Breezes that blow
Hot spells, and gardens,
"Watch out for the crow"

Rainbows, sunlight, evening, and morning
Beautiful seashores, people are scorning
Camping, fishing, hunting for game

Fran McCasey

The Personal Touch

Little girls grow up too fast
I've wondered what takes place,
From ages twelve to thirteen
They completely change their pace

From denims to corduroys and finally to lace
From baseball teams to dances, parties and the like
They alter all their clothing
And they never ride their bike.

There's empty shampoo bottles
And rings around the tub,
"Perhaps I'll be a model"
Or maybe a secretary,
Or maybe I'll just dawdle
Or maybe even Marry.

The telephone keeps ringing,
There's giggles and delight,
I guess, to them the whole world
Seems completely out of sight.
Mother can I borrow your panty hose?
There goes my Sat. night.

There's wet towels everywhere
And toothpaste caps galore
The bath tub is working overtime,
Competing with the floor.

How many empty hangers in their closets, alas While all the chairs are burdened to a point of total collapse,

Then she appears, with flowing hair and pretty eyes,
"I'll pick up my room tomorrow, Mom."
But, of course she knows
By tomorrow mom will have made room,
For another batch of clothes.

Out of the Horse's Mouth

Dear Sally,
Do horses need a dentist,
and if so, how often?

M.H. Brighton

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments and horse show news to Sally Saddle, care of The South Lyon Herald, 101 North Lafayette, South Lyon, Michigan 48167.

Sally Saddle

Yes, horses definitely do require "dental work" involving a process called floating. (The removal of sharp protrusions from the horse's teeth due to irregular wear).

Horses chew in a circular motion with the upper jaw stationary and the lower jaw moving sideways. The resulting action causes irregular wear on the teeth.

The horse's molars are the teeth which require floating. Horse owners can check to see if their animal requires floating by looking for sores in the mouth and on the tongue. Horses which need floating often are uncomfortable and may not eat or chew their grain as thoroughly.

Other signs to watch for are grain in the horse's manure and excess saliva. The mouth may also be physically checked for protrusions. To do this grab the animal's tongue on the inside of the mouth by the bars. Extreme caution should be used, however, since the teeth will be sharp.

Generally horses should have their teeth floated by a veterinarian once a year. Older horses, however, may require the process more often.

Linda Hubriak of Northville took away several honors in the Milford Arapaho Riders 4-H Club Open Horse Show July 13.

Mounted on her horse "Fritos Bandito," Miss Hubriak won first places in Senior Western Pleasure and in Senior Western Horsemanship. She also captured a second place in Bareback Horsemanship, a third place in Western Riding and a fifth place in Senior Fitting and Showing.

When you're driving to Florida, try to plan your departure so that you can stay the first night in Berea, Kentucky.

Once there you can have your dinner at Boone Tavern Hotel. This place will always remain a pleasant memory of an occasion when dining was comprised of 1900 cuisine, carefully prepared and served in a friendly manner. Ninety percent of the staff is comprised of students from Berea College, owners of the hotel, and enrollees in their hotel management courses. The prices are moderate and a no-tipping rule is strictly observed.

If you have time, it is enjoyable to visit Berea College. Here students are accepted for entry only if they come from poor families and without funds. Every student here works his or her way through college. There are no exceptions and I have found them the brightest and most polite kids anywhere. You'll leave feeling your faith in young America is restored and refreshed.

Also, "Wilderness Road," a civil war musical drama, plays nightly except Sunday at the Indian Fort Theatre and is very worthwhile.

On the road map, you'll locate Berea on I-75 about 120 miles south of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Business Briefs

G.E. MILLER DODGE Sales and Service in Northville has become the broadcasting studios for radio station WIID, 1090 on the AM dial.

Sponsored by the Dodge Boys, the programs will continue from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday, July 25. The radio station is based in Garden City.

According to G.E. Miller, "They're right here on the corner of Main and Hutton broadcasting with their disc jockeys."

GARY C. HOLVICK, Brighton district agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, was cited July 21 for outstanding life insurance sales among the company's more than 3,400 agents nationally during the 1974-75 agents' honor year.

He is associated with the Steve T. Mellinger, Jr. general agency, Flint.

Holvick achieved membership in the Marathon Club. An NML agent becomes a member of the Marathon Club by insuring 100 or more people during the agents' year.

Honor presentations were made at the 95th annual meeting of the Association of Agents of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, at the company's home office, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, July 21-23. Award winners will be cited for record sales in the agents' honor year, ending May 31.

DON COX II, who works at Corrigan's Sunoco in Brighton has received a special "Mystery Car" Award from a representative of the Gates Rubber Company, Denver, Colorado.

The award, a plaque bearing three Eisenhower silver dollars and two Kennedy half-dollars was presented to Cox for exceptional customer service when he "caught" the Gates mystery car.

The Gates Rubber Company sponsors this award program, now in its 43rd year, to reward service station personnel who properly check for certain worn or defective parts.

A fleet of Gates mystery cars travel across the country stopping at service stations. Each car is equipped with a worn fan belt, faulty radiator hose and defective windshield wiper blades.

DR. ROSS GRISWOLD, D.O., of South Lyon was one of five Oakland County doctors attending the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at the annual American Osteopathic Association House of Delegates in Chicago recently. He was part of the 23 member Michigan delegation to the convention.

Some of the topics discussed by the policy-making body of the 15,000 osteopathic physicians were medical malpractice insurance, national health insurance, and hospital accreditation. There was a total of 150 delegates representing their state associations.

MICHIGAN Land Development Association (MLDA), at its annual membership meeting on July 10th, elected Roy J. Russell as its new president, succeeding Carl Wilde of Gladwin.

Russell is senior vice president of Thompson-Brown Company, a Farmington based Land Development and Real Estate firm.

The annual MLDA meeting was held at Michaywe, near Gaylord, Michigan, and drew land developers from all over the State.

Elected as vice president was Ted Bosgraaf of Burnips, and Harriet Chase of Howard City was elected secretary-treasurer.

Russell, 45, has been involved with land development in Michigan for over 20 years. Since joining Thompson-Brown Company in 1963, he has been responsible for the planning, engineering and development of over 4000 residential, commercial and industrial building sites. Since 1970, Russell has served as Project Director of Thompson-Brown's 2800 acre Michaywe second home-recreational development near Gaylord.

SECURITY BANCORP, Inc., of Southgate, Michigan, parent of Security Bank and Trust Company and Security Bank of Novi, has announced consolidated earnings for six months ending June 30, 1975 and for the second quarter as compared to like periods of 1974. Net earnings for the first six months improved 13.4 percent over 1974, while the second quarter of 1975 showed a 22.2 percent increase. The first quarter improvement was 6.3 percent.

BATTLE CREEK (1870)

Sojourner Truth, former slave and political activist, returned here today in the midst of her latest campaign.

Mrs. Frances Titus, a long time friend, summed up the life's work of this former slave, "This woman has been an advocate against the evils of slavery...first of Black people, then of women", she said.

The purpose of her most recent drive is to convince Congress to set aside farm land in the Western United States for the slaves freed during and after the recent war between the states.

Truth said that she became involved in helping the slaves because "no one did anything to help them. They (the former slaves) were forced to live in poverty and filth. I want the majority in this country, who always get what they want, to tell Congress to give the Negro what he deserves. Give them land at the outset. Give them teachers and learn them to read," she added.

Truth is expected to continue her petition drive, which has already taken her to many states around the country.

Truth commented on what the public can do, "Send petitions to Washington to get for the Colored people what this country owes them," she said.

Presbyterians Jolt Tavern with First Defeat

STOPPING ACTION—Fisher Sporting Goods' catcher has already placed the tag on John McMillan during the third inning of an upset victory last Thursday. Action, previous leader, was dropped 8-1 by second place Fisher. Position games this week between the two leaders in each league should determine league champions.

American League Softball

Rough Slo-Pitch Action Stings Top Challengers

Count last week as a rough one for the top teams in the Northville Recreation Slo-Pitch American League race.

Except for first place Lapham's, the next three teams, Joe's Little Bar, John Mach Ford, and Hamlet Food Mart all added at least one game to their loss columns.

Lapham's, after being upset last week, went the easy route this week with a forfeit victory over Manufacturer's Bank.

Second place Joe's Little Bar was stung by Zayti Trucking 7-6 in the big upset of the week. In that game, Joe's Little Bar started out hot but then fizzled to set the stage for the upset.

Joe's Little Bar started out the action scoring four runs in the first inning. Tex Trumbull, Scott Leu and Bill Andrews all singled to start out the game. John Boland sacrificed in two runs while Ed Kritch and Tom Eis followed with doubles.

Zayti Trucking pecked away at the lead scoring one run in the second and two in the third. Joe's Little Bar retaliated with one run in the third and one in the fourth to take a 6-3 lead.

The fifth inning was crucial in the upset as Zayti came up with four singles and three runs to tie up the score 6-6.

Zayti and Mike Hill singled and Jim Daniel's sacrifice in Zayti for the winning run in the sixth inning to make the upset complete.

John Mach Ford, which had been tied with Joe's Little Bar at 8-4 going into the week's action fell 10-9 to Joe's.

Joe's scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning but John Mach retaliated with three runs in the second on five singles.

In the bottom of the second inning, Joe's Little Bar tied up the score as Todd Eis doubled and Doug Crisan singled him in.

In the fourth inning John Mach went ahead by one run but Joe's Little Bar responded with a pair of runs in its portion of the fourth inning to take the lead.

A triple by Jeff Crawford was the big blow as John Mach took back the lead 6-5 in the top of the fifth inning. Joe's Little Bar regained the lead in the fifth with triples by Andrews and Crisan pacing the team to its four runs.

The battle see-sawed some more as the car-men scored one run in the sixth which was matched by Joe's Little Bar in the bottom of the inning.

John Mach's two seventh inning runs were not enough to win the game.

Two days later, John Mach was the victim of another upset as Fairway Landscaping whiffed the car-men 9-8.

Fairway scored one run in the first, three in the third, two in the fifth and three in the final seventh inning while John Mach pushed across one in the first, two in the second, one in the fourth and four in the sixth.

In Fairway's three run third inning, Ron Hubbard came up with a double and King Marburger ripped a triple for Fairway. Stan Nirider's triple and Marburger's double in the fifth paced Fairway to two runs in the fifth.

John Mach and Crawford led the car-men with three singles each.

The ax that fell on Hamlet was held by Winners Circle as Hamlet fell 10-6.

Both teams waited until the late innings to do most of their scoring. Hamlet only had one run in the first four innings while Winners Circle didn't have any.

In the top of the fifth, Winner's Circle came up with five runs to take a 5-1 lead. Steve Utley's two run homer climaxed the Winner's Circle rally.

Hamlet scored two runs in the bottom of the inning with Jim Hostetler leading the way with a triple.

Winner's Circle upped its lead to 8-3 in the top of the sixth as the first three men, Jeff Moon, Jerry Imsland, and Norm Anger all scored. Hamlet responded with two runs in the sixth as Dale Devitt's double scored both runs.

Winner's Circle put the icing on the cake with two more runs in the seventh including a two RBI single by Imsland.

A homer by Mark Edwards in the seventh inning scored the final runs for the loser.

J & J roofing was probably as surprised as anyone following last week's action. With only three wins going into the week's play, J & J upset Zayti Trucking 11-8 and then dumped Northville Vanilla 13-8. Only the week before, Northville Vanilla had upset league leader Lapham's.

Against Zayti, J & J Roofing used even scoring throughout the game to win.

Zayti lumped its runs together scoring five in the first and three in the seventh.

In the top of the first, J & J scored three runs on four singles only to see Zayti come back with five runs as Zayti's triple was the big blow. With only one single, but joined with some timely errors, J & J tied up the score 5-5 in the second inning. Ron Renault's double helped J & J up its lead to 8-5 in the fifth.

J & J scored three more runs in the sixth to wrap up the game.

Zayti rallied for three runs in the seventh inning on four singles, but it wasn't enough. J & J scored eight runs in the final inning to whip Northville Vanilla 13-8.

J & J was behind 7-5 going into the seventh inning as Northville Vanilla had scored four runs in the sixth with the big blows being doubles by Todd Hannert and Dale Griffith.

The winner utilized seven singles in the seventh inning along with a couple of walks and an error to score the eight crucial runs to win the game.

Winners Circle scored a 5-3 victory over Fairway Landscaping.

Winner's Circle scored one run in the fourth and four runs in the fifth. Imsland's double and Bill Norton's triple led the fifth inning charge.

Novi All Stars

Dump Fenton

Novi Little League All Stars won one of three contests in Linden recently.

In the first game against Lake Fenton all stars, Novi broke a 9-9 seventh inning tie to win 14-12 in eight innings.

In a game against Davison, Novi fell 5-3 though hits were equal at eight for each team.

Playing against all stars from Walled Lake Saturday, it took extra innings, but Walled Lake managed to beat Novi 8-7.

Joe's Pantry Remains in Second

If prayer is the secret of success, the Presbyterians must have been doing plenty of praying last Tuesday as that team handed league leader Tavern its first loss of the season 6-3.

Meanwhile, Joe's Party Pantry stayed right on the heels of the leader with a 14-3 record by easily dumping two opponents.

The Presbyterians must have found the key to success in the first inning as four Presbyterians crossed the plate against Tavern. In that inning, Rich Myers, Tom Osborne, Rich Sanford, and Art Loveland came up with singles while Bill Bretz pounded out a timely double.

Tavern responded by pushing home its first three men. Jeff Sudz started off action with a double, another player reached base on an error, and Bob Hubbert shoved across a run with a single. A. J. Vaughn's double knocked home another run while Mark Finley's ground out rounded out the scoring for Tavern.

The Presbyterians came up with two more runs in the second on singles, by Henry Fisher and Rich Myers, and a long triple by Jim Curl. Both teams were stifled during the remainder of the game as the Presbyterians came up with only three more hits and Tavern four.

The Presbyterians, who now stand 10-3-2, is the only team to have blemished the Tavern record as it earlier also handed Tavern a tie. Second place Joe's Party Pantry continued to stay in the battle. In the first game of the week the Pantrymen ripped apart the Lutherans 15-5 in a game shortened to 5 innings on account of the 10 run rule.

In the first inning three singles accounted for two Pantry runs while two singles and an error helped the Lutheran's match that output in the bottom of the first inning. Joe's Pantry used some power hitting to score four runs and clinch the game in the bottom of the second inning as Sherman and Gary Callender both punched out homers while Ron White contributed a double.

Denis Myers' double was the big factor in the Lutheran's one run second inning which closed the gap to 6-3. A homer by Pantryman Brian Hale in the third added another run though three singles helped the Lutherans close the gap to 7-5. In the fourth inning, Joe's Party Pantry added two more runs on two hits but blew open the game with six runs in the final fifth inning.

In that inning, Ed Thompson's double and Roy Sahin's triple were the big blows.

Later in the week, a low scoring affair saw Joe's Pantry slip by Ely's 6-2.

In that game, Ely's started off the action in the top of the first when Bill Prevost tripled and came home on an error. Joe's Party Pantry didn't have any extra base hits during the first two innings but still managed to score five runs.

Ely's added another run in the fourth. Callender's homer for Joe's Party Pantry in the fifth inning rounded out the scoring.

Despite picking up two wins on forfeits, Little Caesar's-Newcomers still dropped a notch in the standings as the Eagles squeezed by 7-6. The pizzamen accepted forfeits from the Jaycees and Adray.

In the Eagles-Little Caesar's game, the pizzamen scored four times in the first inning on three hits, once in the second inning, and once in the final seventh inning.

The Eagles spread out their runs scoring once in the first, twice in each of the second and third, and then came from one run behind in the bottom of the seventh with two runs to win. Four singles accounted for the seventh inning Eagle rally while John Shandius' double was a big blow in the second.

The Eagles moved ahead of Little Caesar's-Newcomers in the standings by also dumping the Jaycees 7-2. Ross Hahn's triple knocked in two runs in the first inning as the Eagles went ahead 3-0 in the bottom of the first. No further runs crossed the plate until the fifth when Bob Kelley's double pushed across another run for the Eagles.

The Jaycees answered the Eagles with two runs in the sixth thanks to three singles followed by a triple by Tom Donoghue.

Eagles wrapped up the contest with three more runs on two singles, an error and a walk in the sixth inning while the Jaycees were unable to score any runs in the seventh.

The Cyclones remained a factor in the race, upping their record to 10-4 by defeating Ross Northrop 17-7.

During the five inning affair, there wasn't a half inning that went by without someone crossing the plate. Ross Northrop scored a single run in each of the first, second and fifth innings and two runs in the third and fourth innings.

Cyclones were a little more potent scoring eight runs in the first three innings, and nine runs in the last two.

For the winner, Mark Lisowski rapped a homer in the second. Wojcik was perfect at the plate with a double and two singles. For Ross Northrop, Ed Bagdon was the big gun with a triple, double, and single in three times at the plate.

It was a different story, however, when Ross Northrop faced the Lutheran's and easily won 17-1.

In a meeting of two teams battling to stay out of the cellar, the Jaycees edged VFW 7-6.

After the VFW scored a single run in the first inning, the Jaycees came up with three first inning runs thanks to a single by Tom Lang, followed by a double by Pete Magnan and a homer by Tom Donoghue.

The Jaycees added two more in the third on Vince Hanson's triple.

The VFW rallied for four runs in the fifth inning on five hits but during the final two innings was unable to score anymore, taking a 6-5 lead into the bottom of the seventh. A double by Sinkwitt, an error, and singles by Tom Barber and Mike Lemon added two more runs for the Jaycees to win.

In the other game, Adray forfeited a game to the Lutheran's.

Thomson Tourney Attracts Teams

Sponsored by the Northville Recreation Department, the Thomson Memorial Tournament will bring some of the best slo-pitch teams in the area to Northville to participate in the tournament this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A double elimination tournament, it will be held at Thomson field and will feature 20 teams, including squads from such cities as Brighton, Walled Lake, Waterford, Pontiac, Allen Park, Dearborn Heights and Inkster.

Local residents will be watching the two teams from Northville—Joe's Little Bar and Winner's Circle Bar-Restaurant. Joe's Little Bar will play its first round game Friday at 6:30 p.m. against S & E Auto of Allen Park. Winner's Circle faces tournament favorite Brandenburg Construction of Walled Lake at 7:45 p.m. Both games will be played at Thomson field though losers' bracket games will begin Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Child Development Center diamond on Sheldon between Five and Six Mile Roads.

Winners' games will continue on through Saturday also while the championship game, which will pit an undefeated team in the winners bracket against a once beaten team in the losers bracket, will be played 8:30 p.m. Sunday. If the undefeated team should lose in that game, a final play-off championship game will be played following.

Local residents will also have their eyes on hometown product and All American football player Steve Juday who will be playing on the Blasy Electric team out of Midland.

In addition, residents will get to see last year's state class B champion Trojan Homes of Troy playing.

Bankers Shatter Kelly for Ruth Trophy

OUT AT HOME—West Oakland's Steve Weber grimaces in pain but still manages to tag out Kelly Construction's Mark Frere at home during last Friday's opener of a playoff series. West Oakland defeated Kelly Construction, the co-leader in the Babe Ruth League of the Novi Little League, in a quick two games.

West Oakland Bank took all the marbles Monday in the tough Babe Ruth Division of the Novi Little League coming up with a pair of wins over Kelly Construction Company in a best of three series.

Both teams had ended the season 10-3 and agreed to the play-offs to determine the final champ.

Pitchers in the first game were Rick Faulkner for West Oakland and Kevin Ary, one of the fastest pitchers in the league.

In the first game Friday, West Oakland came up with the victory 7-4 as both pitchers went all the way.

Kelly Construction picked up single runs in the first and second innings of the game before West Oakland broke open the game in the third inning with three runs. Three walks, an error, a hit batter and a single produced the runs.

West Oakland scored three times in the fourth, also, on an error, two walks and three hits to put the game out of reach. West Oakland scored another run in the fifth.

Big guns for West Oakland were Steve Kerr and Steve Weber, both going 2-4 while Mare Frere paced Kelly with three hits in four trips.

West Oakland wrapped up the series Monday by a score of 9-4. Steve Kerr gave up just four hits in picking up the win while Peter Camron went the distance for Kelly giving up 13 hits and striking out seven.

Neither team picked up a run until the third when West Oakland's Ron Wright blasted a homer with a man on to put the bankers up 2-0. Kelly didn't score any runs until the fifth inning when a walk, two singles and two errors produced two runs. The inning before that, however, West Oakland scored one run on four hits. In West Oakland's sixth inning, 10 batters went to the plate and scored six runs. Two walks plus singles by Louie Balogh, Wright, Faulkner, Kerr, and Bill McAuley accounted for the runs.

Big guns for West Oakland were Steve Weber and Steve Kerr with three hits each.

SPORT FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT

by Larry Wichman

Here's quite a baseball oddity... There was once a pitcher who pitched only one complete big league game in his life—but that one game was, amazingly enough, a no-hitter! His name was Bobo Holloman. Despite pitching a no-hitter in the American League in 1953, Holloman was never able to pitch another complete game in the majors before that or after that!

What would you say have been the biggest upsets in sports history?... A national sports service recently took a survey and here are their picks... In football, the Jets beating the Colts in the 1969 Super Bowl... In baseball, the Braves, coming from last place on July 4, 1914, to win the pennant that year... And in golf, a 20 year old unknown ex-caddy, Francis Ouimet, winning the 1913 U.S. Open.

We've all looked at a baseball home plate hundreds of times—but most people, for some reason, miss this question... Can you remember the point of home plate faces the pitcher or the catcher? The point faces the catcher.

I bet you didn't know that oil changes, tune-ups and many other services were available at the Uniroyal Dunlap Tire store...

Lorraine Advances by Forfeit Method

Novi Women's slo-pitch leader Lorraine Tool & Die added another victory to its string last week without even having to get dusty from running the bases as B&V Construction forfeited due to a lack of players.

Novi Rexall Drugs continues to appear strong as the pharmacists downed Ministrelli Construction 23-5.

Novi Rexall scored three runs in the first inning and then really opened it up in the second inning with 13 hits and 10 runs. In that inning, getting doubles were Joanne Athey, Joan Bear, Ginger Gillick, Sandy Kovar, and Joan Bear, who got her second.

Novi Rexall added five runs in the third, two in the fifth, and five in the sixth.

Ministrelli scored two runs in the second, one in the fourth, and two in the fifth.

Novi Rexall came up with 36 runs during the game with three players smacking out five hits. They were Joan Bear, Sandy Kovar and Patty O'Dowd. Getting four hits each were Dana Bauer, Joanne Athey, and Ginger Gillick while Patty Cameron came up with three singles.

Novi Rexall also scored a 7-1 victory over Novi Hardware.

In that game Rexall came up with two runs in the bottom of the first inning as Gail Janson, Bauer, and Cameron all came up with doubles. Novi Hardware came back with its lone run of the game on a homer by Nancy Hinsel.

The pharmacists added the decisive runs in the fourth inning when four runs crossed the plate. Karen Taylor started out action that inning with a single. Joan Bear and Kathy Ortwin followed with doubles before Chris Hebson knocked out a homer. Novi Rexall added its final run in the sixth.

Novi Hardware did come up with a 20-4 victory, however, over B&V Construction thanks to some potent bats.

Novi Hardware started out with four runs in the first inning on homers by Barb Roen, Nancy Hinsel, and Terry Kay. Hinsel added her second homer in the second inning as Novi Hardware added 11 runs in that inning.

Debra King homered in the second inning for Novi Hardware also. Five runs crossed the plate for Novi Hardware in the third.

Kathy Crane, Ann Jordan, Terry Kay, Nancy Hinsel and Debra King all were perfect at the plate for Novi Hardware.

In another game last week, Typewriter Shop took advantage of plenty of walks and 18 hits to dump Diamond Automation 13-3.

Eleven batters walked for the winner which started out the game with five runs in the first inning when five batters walked.

Sherri Bishop led the winner with three singles and double while Marla McKenny hit a double and two singles. Patience Slyziuk also came up with a double and two singles.

Novi Hardware also defeated the Typewriter Shop 18-14.

While Typewriter Shop started out hot with its 14 runs in the first three innings, Novi Hardware ended up hot with 16 of its 18 runs in the final two innings.

A triple by Jan Edwards and doubles by Robin Stipp and Sam Bishop were the big hits in the five run first inning for the Typewriter Shop. Bishop also had a double in the six run second inning, as well as the third inning. Slyziuk rapped a homer and Robin Stipp also had a double in that inning.

In the nine run fourth inning, Debra King ripped out a triple while Irene Bureau, Terry Kay and Ann Jordan all came up with doubles.

Nancy Hinsel started off the seven run Hardware inning with a homer and then Barb Rogh, and Irene Bureau came up with doubles, as well as Ninsel who came up again in the same inning.

Novi Plans Funmobiles

In cooperation with the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Department, Novi's recreation department will be providing five free "funmobiles" for residents during the next week.

A fashionmobile and a sportsmobile have already been held.

Remaining funmobiles are: swimmobile, 3-5 p.m. July 24 at Orchard Hills; showmobile, 7-9 p.m. July 24 at Orchard Hills; Moviemobile, 2-4 p.m. July 28 at Village Oaks; puppetmobile, 10-11 a.m. July 29 at Orchard Hills; skatemobile, 10-noon, July 31 at Orchard Hills.

According to recreation director Milan Obrenovich, the funmobiles are being provided free of charge to Novi by Oakland County thanks to a federal grant. Up to seven funmobiles can be provided to each community in Oakland County upon request, with additional funmobiles at a nominal charge. Northville also

The Novi funmobiles are free to all residents.

Any private group interested in renting the funmobiles at other times should contact Obrenovich at 349-5126.

Team Two Wins

All-Star Game

Despite on and off threats of rain, team number two defeated team number one in the annual Novi minor league all-star game played at Bosco Field last Saturday.

Winning manager Bob Hartson stated while the score was 12-4 in the third inning in favor of Jim Clancy's team number one, excellent pitching by Tim Bunker and Jeff Tomaneck together with an all-out team effort spurred team two to a 20-16 win.

Coach Hartson added that both teams played excellent ball.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

Mr. William P. White has arrived from Oakland, California and is visiting his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Violet White, and grandson Tim of Old Orchard. Mr. White plans to spend about a month in Michigan visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glance of Stassen Street recently spent a weekend in Saginaw. While there they had dinner at the Anchor Inn, attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Seaman's daughter, and also participated in an all day outing with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Reisig on Jack Glance's yacht on a lake near Coleman.

Mrs. Elayne Belanger and children of Rose City have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Pat Sulla, of Thirteen Mile Road. While here they helped Ricky Sulla celebrate his sixth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson of Brighton spent the weekend as guests of Eugenie Choquet and Leon Dochot of South Lake Drive.

Dan Munro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brent Munro, has returned after visiting former Novi residents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lynn, now living in Culleoka, Tennessee.

Sue Brough was guest of honor at a bridal shower given for her by several of her friends at the home of Jody, Tina and Jennie Brown on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller, former residents of Novi now living at St. Helen, Michigan, were visiting friends and relatives in Novi. They are staying with their son Dick Miller and his family of Farmington.

Mike and Cindy Warner of Taft Road have returned from spending their vacation visiting friends and relatives in San Diego, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Taft Road have returned from the Cemetery Convention held in Traverse City last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warren of Haggerty Road have returned from spending one week in an Evangelism Crusade which was in the form of Drive Inn Marina meetings. They entertained 11 guests including Terry Lytle with his chalk ministry, and the Heieni Singing family.

They held eight meetings starting from Lake Erie, going up the Canadian side and crossing over to the Ohio side showing the film "Thief in the Night".

Mrs. Mary Thomas of East Lake Drive has returned from spending three days with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Harlow at Thendara near the Telabaraccas River.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glance of Stassen Street have returned from spending a week in the area of Leesburg, Florida.

Mrs. Irene Nautz of Willowbrook entertained several friends on Saturday evening including Dolly Alegnani, Wilma Wagonis, Hazel Mellon and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brewer and daughter Dawn from Beaumont, Texas are visiting his mother, Mrs. Steve Brewer, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralo Radowski.

Novi will be holding the first annual girls' slo pitch invitational tournament on August 2-3 starting at 10 a.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Approximately 120 14 and 15 year-old girls will be involved from Northville, Walled Lake, South Lyon, North and South Farmington park districts.

Parents Without Partners

The regular meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on Friday, July 25 at the American Legion Hall. Special speaker will be Lois Zameck who will give a book review on "How to be Your Own Best Friend". On Saturday, July 26, there will be a swimming house party by reservation only. The family outing being planned is a canoe and picnic trip on the Huron River. Families can meet at 12 noon at the Northville Square or go directly to the Heavens Canoe rental. Everyone is asked to bring their own picnic luncheon.

July 30 there will be a Newcomers Discussion. Call Bev at 348-1892 if you are interested in the Parents Without Partners group. The discussion will be about "Adjusting to Single Parenthood". Any questions, contact president Connie Mallett at 349-9346.

Novi Blue Star Mothers

The next meeting of this group will be on August 7 at the home of Dolly Alegnani with co-hostess Lottie Race. The ladies will complete plans

A NEW LOOK—Visitors to the Novi City Hall will notice that the area around the city hall has taken a new look recently. Both CETA and DPW workers have been cleaning up the area, while across the street from the city hall, the land has been graded and a park established primarily for use by city for their picnic being planned for the Veterans Hospital in the month of August.

Willowbrook Association

The Association held a drawing last weekend at the Novi Community Building and the lucky winner of the two bikes was Frank Leurck. All monies from this project will be used for special project and charitable contributions. The second annual family picnic is being planned in August, with more details at a later date. A general membership meeting is being planned for September.

Novi Jaycee Auxiliary

The general membership meeting was held on July 22 at the home of Marty McCarthy and final plans were made for the C.P.R. class being sponsored by the auxiliary for the community. Also final plans were made for the special Senior Citizen trip the Auxiliary is helping with on August 2. The Auxiliary will be joining with the Jaycees on August 5 at Holiday Inn for the "Roast Ben Hempker" evening. Contact Sharon Larsen or Gary Duran for more information.

Novi Weight Watchers

The Novi Weight Watchers meets every Tuesday evening from 7-8 p.m. at the Lutheran Church on Ten Mile with local resident Rosie Tague as lecturer next Tuesday. You may join at any time and during July, anyone who has been a former Weight Watcher member may return for only $3.50 ($3.00 regular fee and "special" missed meeting fee 50 cents).

Novi Dispatchers and Clerks

August 16 and 17 is the date for the annual Trash and Treasures Sale being sponsored by this group. For pick-up, call 624-0173 or 349-9143. If you have had a garage sale and don't know what to do with the leftovers, etc., call them. Also if you have furniture, etc., they are employees. Tom Marcus of Marcus Glass donated the use of his land for the park. Novi resident Farrell Rose offered, for a nominal cost, shrubs and trees which will be placed in various set off areas around the city hall. The Novi Chamber of Commerce is picking up the cost of landscaping and the trees and shrubs.

Novi Girl Scouts

Camp Yntema is the site for the Bicentennial Fair for Brownies in Southern Oakland County. On August 12, the girls will visit a country fair put on by Junior and Cadette Scouts. See what it was like to live 200 years ago, make some early American crafts, etc. Contact the Council Service Center for additional details.

A reminder for troops of the group discount tickets, available for for youth groups at the Music Festival 75 at Meadowbrook. There will be a children's concert on July 26 beginning at 11:00 a.m. with the Pennsylvania Ballet.

Novi Rotary

At their last meeting they started the Classification Talks with Dick Bingham speaking on the insurance business. He also reported on the new membership procedures. Plans are continuing for the Hadley Bachert Memorial and contributions are still being accepted. The Davisburg Rodeo is coming up. Tickets are available and there will be additional information at this week's meeting.

Novi Parks and Recreation

There are only a few weeks remaining to take advantage of the specially discounted tickets being made available for residents of the City of Novi. Pick them up at the Novi City Hall, 349-4300, or the School Administration Building, 349-5126. If you are planning to visit Cedar Point Funland, the tickets at the discounted price are adults $5.60 and children $4.60. This is for all day and the tickets cover all rides and attractions. Cedar Point is located off the causeway stemming from Sandusky, Ohio about a two-and-one-half hour ride from the Detroit area. There is also a Camper Village inside the amusement park. Information on this is also available at the city hall Sites at Camper Village cost $6.00 a day for a family of four. There are also sites available with sewers and water hookups.

Novi Little League

The Novi Little League will be meeting Monday, August 18 at 8 p.m. at the Novi High School. This will be an open meeting and any parent with a boy involved in Little League or who will be next year is encouraged to attend. The following items will be on the agenda: how the league is run, plans for the banquet, the raffle, nominations for officers, duties of officers, field maintenance, and the financial report. Anyone having any questions contact 349-0729.

Novi Senior Citizens

The Novi Senior Citizens officers have tried to contact all members regarding the upcoming trip to Henry Ford's home, Fairlane, sponsored by Novi Jaycee Auxiliary. If you haven't been contacted, you are urged to call one of the officers. All those planning to attend the trip are encouraged to have the correct change, $.75, for the admission. There will be an important meeting on August 13 when the usual Wednesday covered dish luncheon will be held. Mrs. McParland will be giving information regarding a trip to Nashville, Tennessee to see the Grand Ole Opry. Everyone is urged to remember their own table service for the luncheon.

Novi Youth Assistance

About 24 Youth Assistance members and their spouses attended the "Get Acquainted" potluck dinner at the home of the B. Adams' on Lewlyn.

Many of the sub-committee members including the Camp Committee head, Mrs. Adams, were present and reported 19 youngsters left on Sunday, July 20 for Camp Fairhaven near Hartland, with additional ones to be placed as yet in several other camps. If you are on the camp committee and have some spare time, give her a call because of the additional referrals and help needed in several areas.

Another project Youth Assistance undertook this year was to sponsor a girls' baseball team. The original Drug Abuse sub-committee is working with this project.

Novi Community Education and Recreation
Hatha Yoga classes are being taught throughout the summer months with six weeks of class remaining. The class meets on Monday from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. at the night school. Call 349-5126 for information.

The traveling Mobile Recreation units are as follows: for the Orchard Hills Teen Activity Center on July 21 from 6-8 p.m. there will be a sportsmobile, on July 24 from 7-9 p.m. there will be a showmobile. For youngsters at Orchard Hills on July 24 from 3-5 p.m. there will be a swimmobile, July 28 from 2-5 p.m. the moviemobile, July 28 at Village Oaks from 2-4 p.m. the moviemobile and on July 29 at Village Oaks will be the puppetmobile from 2-4 p.m. The puppetmobile will bring stories to life on the stage for youngsters and inspire them to produce their own puppet shows.

Novi Community Band

The Novi Community Band is continuing through the summer months under the direction of Guy Smith. The group meets on Monday evening from 7-9 p.m. Current, and former musicians are welcomed. They are urged to come and make new friends, while having an evening of fun, in music. There is no charge. All ages are welcome and the following instruments are needed—flute, clarinets, trumpets, etc.

She Declines

Novi Presidency

When Sharon Pelchat was nominated for the office of president of the Novi Board of Education early last week she declined to accept it. An article in The Novi News incorrectly stated that it was Ray Warren who declined to accept the position when he, too, was nominated for the post.

As it turned out, neither received the post which went instead to Gilbert Henderson. Other new officers of the board, which held its first regular meeting last Thursday, include Warren, vice-president, LaVerne DeWaard, secretary, and James Helmer, treasurer.

Big Crowds Attend Gala Days

Capistrant and Steve Smith do precision trials riding which included going over barrels and cars, as well as other precision balancing attempts.

Also well received Saturday was a karate show which included brick breaking demonstrations.

Because of windy and threatening weather Saturday, a precision skill and thrill air show was postponed until Sunday but was well received.

Approximately 800 persons took advantage of a free Sunday morning pancake breakfast. Quaker Oats donated about 35 gallons of batter, Krogers donated 10 cases of syrup, Guernsey's Dairy donated 240 pints of milk and 7-Eleven donated coffee.

"They couldn't believe the pancake breakfast was free," commented McCarthy.

Sunday the Novi firemen doused the flames of the upstart Novi policemen during the tug-of-war. Admittedly the firemen started out with a few more people but volunteers from the audience helped out the police while further volunteers helped out the firemen, finally helping the firemen pull the policemen through a spray of water.

And George Dingman of Novi must have been a pretty happy man though he wasn't present Sunday as Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole drew Dingman's name from a bin as winner of a new Pinto being given away by the Lions Club.

Gala Days 1975 was not a hastily conceived event either, according to McCarthy.

"We've worked on this one since January. There's been a 10 man committee meeting at my house every Sunday," said McCarthy, who added that plans are already in the making for the 1976 Gala Days.

Monday night Novi council approved a resolution making the Jaycees the official bicentennial coordinating agency. Though the resolution mentions that the Jaycees have decided to hold the annual event on July 4, McCarthy admitted candidly that no final decision has been made.

"We're going to see if Novi can make a big enough dent and if it would be prudent to put it on at that time," said McCarthy.

Summed up McCarthy of the four day 1975 celebration, "It's been a super crowd. Everybody enjoyed themselves. Everybody says to do it the same way next year."

Thousands crowded the midway during the four day long Gala Days event.

Bob Capistrant of Action Cycle in Union Lake demonstrates how to ride a motorcycle over mom's car.

Gala Days chairman Dave McCarthy (right) with wife Marty and son David inherited this dog "Gala" from a visitor who gave away seven puppies at the event Saturday.

Rejects State Plan

would be able to negotiate to purchase it back.

"I think either of these two proposals is fiscally responsible," Kratz told the board Thursday. He added it would be fiscally irresponsible to require less.

Board President Gilbert Henderson noted that

Oakland County would need some of the school property for right of way in any case when Novi Road is widened south to Grand River some day and indicated the school would do better to deal with the highway department now.

Next step is for the highway department to study the proposals and make a determination.

Party Store Hold-Up Nets Lone Gunman $86

In Township

A lone gunman who held up the Quik Pik party store on Five Mile near Haggerty escaped Thursday night with approximately $86 in cash.

Township police said neither of the two women clerks was injured.

The robbery occurred about 11:30 p.m., just minutes after township officers had left the store area. Police Chief Ronald Nisun said the store had been staked out "due to numerous recent holdups in other towns of party stores."

According to police reports, a man walked into the store while the two clerks were in a store room. The women said they heard someone enter the store and when they went to the main part of the store, the man produced a weapon and demanded money.

Approximately $86 in small bills was taken and the man then ordered the women to enter the restroom. He fled the area on foot.

Police said the robber is approximately 23 or 24 years old, six feet tall with light brown eyebrows. He was wearing an orange wig, fake black beard, plaid shirt, blue jeans, brown leather jacket and had pencil marks on both sides of his face.

Investigating officers said the weapon is possibly a sawed-off double-barrel shot gun.

Three persons were hospitalized Friday afternoon following a three-car accident on Seven Mile Road east of Napier.

Taken to St. Mary Hospital were Mark Stephen Morland of 18605 Ridge Road, a passenger in his car, Bruce Thomas Morland, also of Ridge Road, and Edward Klonica of Detroit. Driver of the third car, Dale Mark Ashby of Ypsilanti, was not injured.

Township police said the accident took place about 3:45 p.m. when the Morland vehicle, which was attempting to turn left from westbound Seven Mile, crossed the center line into the path of the eastbound Klonica vehicle. The head-on crash forced the Morland car back into Ashby's car, also westbound on Seven Mile.

Approximately $900 worth of building materials were stolen from a construction site on Rippling Lane in Highland Lakes Friday afternoon or early Saturday.

Contractor Dennis Roux told police that 100 sheets of plywood and 300 two-by-fours were taken. Truck tire tracks were found at the site.

More than 950 amphetamines with a street value of $500 to $1,000, were turned over to township officers Thursday morning by a couple who found the bottle of pills on Beer Hill.

Break-in of the Boron Service Station on Six Mile at Haggerty was reported about 8 a.m. last Tuesday. Police said the garage door windows had been broken to gain entrance and several tools were misplaced inside the building. Investigation is continuing.

A child's red pony cart, valued at $200, was stolen between July 12 and 14 from the front lawn of the Little Red Schoolhouse on West Eight Mile Road.

A routine traffic stop last Tuesday night by township police netted them more than they expected.

After stopping the car on Northville Road north of Five Mile Road, police made a routine search of the vehicle and its occupants.

A 14-year-old Plymouth youth was arrested for carrying a concealed knife, for being in possession of marijuana and for being in possession of alcohol. He has been turned over to juvenile court.

Investigation is continuing into the destruction of nine windows at Sampson-Hill on Northville Road last Monday morning.

Nine windows, valued at $250, were broken by six or seven youths reportedly cleaning the area behind the business. Police said the youths, employed by Wayne County, also drove a hi-lo, damaging a table and door in the garage area.

Charges are pending in the assault of a 19-year-old inmate at Detroit House of Correction's women's division after she was attacked by a 22-year-old inmate July 11. Michigan State Police said the 19-year-old was beaten in one of the dorm areas. She was hospitalized for treatment of nose, arm, leg, head and shoulder injuries.

In Northville

A 17-year-old Northville youth was treated for minor injuries following a two-car accident Friday night in front of the Wagon Wheel lounge on South Main Street.

Taken to St. Mary Hospital with lip injuries was Patrick E. Stotiker of 15460 Fry Road. Three passengers in his car were not hurt, city police said.

According to reports, a car driven by William Allen Degrow, 19, of 46600 West Main Street was pulling out of the lounge parking lot when he failed to yield and struck the Stotiker car.

The fire department was called to wash down the street after the impact ruptured the Stotiker car's gas line.

A self-propelled lawn mower, valued at $190, was stolen from a garage in the 400 block of Lake Street over the weekend.

Fruit juice was the only thing discovered missing following the break-in of a home in the 400 block of Yerkes Street Sunday.

Owner of the home told police the break-in took place between 2 and 10 p.m. Papers in an upstairs filing cabinet were disturbed and a light switch was broken. Entrance was gained through a window.

A 20-year-old Northville man has been charged with disorderly conduct after he appeared at the Palace Restaurant early Monday morning without his clothes.

When police arrived on the scene, the man was seated at the counter, identifying himself as God and saying that it was "the time for heaven."

Witnesses told officers they had seen him walking down Main Street without his clothes. He was arrested about 2:45 a.m.

Theft of a new pick-up truck from the sales lot of John Mach Ford on Seven Mile Road was reported to Northville city police Thursday.

According to dealership personnel, the half-ton pickup was last noticed July 11 when it was parked in the southwest part of the lot. The Ford truck is all white with a silver step bumper on the rear.

Two bicycles were found in the city and turned over to police last week. On Tuesday, a 20-inch yellow Huffy was found in a vacant lot at the southwest corner of Cady and Church.

Thursday, a girl's red Schwinn without fenders was discovered in the creek behind a house in the 500 block of Randolph.

It was either maliciousness or thievery when potted plants were stolen from three porches of homes on Dunlap and Randolph street last week.

The plants were taken Thursday between noon and 4:30 p.m.

In Novi

A Novi man has been arrested in the theft of approximately $1,000 worth of items taken July 12 from a home in the 26000 area of Stonehenge.

Roommate of the owner reported the theft of amplifier, turntable, speaker and money.

Novi police subsequently arrested an individual in the theft. According to detectives, police received a call from Novi Towing that an individual returning a U-Haul Trailer late did not have sufficient funds to cover the cost of rental.

Police happened to notice that the person renting the trailer had an address one digit less than the home that was burglarized.

As a result of interrogation, officers obtained information on several burglaries in northern Michigan as well as Novi and also obtained information on the location of a fence buying stolen goods. As a result, detectives participated in a raid and confiscated from the fence's home in Redford the items taken in the Stonehenge theft.

A two count warrant for the burglary of the house has been lodged against Bradley Gudnason, 22, of 23645 Stonehenge. He was arraigned on July 18 and held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of a $5,000 cash bond. Exam has been set for July 28 in 52nd district court.

The fence, who police did not name, has been charged with receiving and concealing stolen property by Redford Township Police.

Novi detectives noted that ironically, the amount of money received from the fence for the stolen goods was less than the cost of the overdue U-Haul trailer.

The Oakland County medical examiner has ruled that the drowning death of William Joseph Warren of Taylor was accidental.

Warren was found June 1 in a Novi pond south of Grand River and east of Wixom Road. The report noted he had been drinking heavily.

William Livingston, 19, of 23941 East LeBost and Donald Moore, 18, of 40960 Mooringside pled guilty in district court to siphoning gas from cars in Old Orchard Condominiums July 18.

According to detectives the men were apprehended by officers in the parking lot at 3 a.m. July 18.

The subjects had been drinking. Livingston was charged with being drunk in public and larceny while Moore was charged with larceny.

Both men were sentenced to three weekends in Oakland County Jail and reportedly received stern warnings from Judge Gene Schmelz who told them to pass the word along that the sentence is a typical sentence that individuals will receive in similar offenses.

A $100 yellow Lenox bicycle was removed from a home in the 41000 area of Glyme July 14. It was taken from a garage.

A construction site on Glyme had approximately $1,528 worth of goods taken sometime before July 17. Taken was wood, plywood, a generator, and a radial arm saw.

A truck parked at Kerr Drug Store on Nine Mile was burglarized July 17 of an undetermined amount of drugs. Driver of the truck noticed that the seals on the door had been broken and upon investigation found that some boxes had apparently been opened. An investigation is to be made later.

Five year-old Karl Coldwell of 23421 Novi Road received burns to his back July 17 as he attempted to climb a cupboard, hit a cord to an electric pan spilling hot grease on his back.

He was transported to Botsford Hospital and then to the University of Michigan Burn Center via Novi Ambulance.

Two unoccupied apartments in Westgate VI Apartments on Pontiac Trail were burglarized of $925 worth of appliances. Taken was a whirlpool oven and five whirlpool dishwashers.

A Caterpillar Tractor in for repairs at Michigan Tractor was apparently released to the incorrect individual, according to reports.

The tractor, valued at $7,500, had not been picked up time by the owner company, and after several calls, to the company, someone stopped at Michigan Tractor January 2 representing himself as being from the company and hauled away the tractor for the cost of repairs. The company owning the tractor later called Michigan Tractor and said it was ready to pick it up.

A total of $3,238 worth of goods was taken July 12 from a home in the 44500 area of 12 Mile Road. A screen had been pulled off to gain entry.

Many items including a drum set, stereo, and a shotgun were taken. Detectives are investigating.

The NAC Corporation at 47087 Grand River was burglarized July 15-16 of $1,810 worth of items including an IBM typewriter, Sears tool box, tools, calculator, cameras, saws, and tools. The empty tool box was found outside.

According to reports, a wheelbarrow was also found which was apparently used to transport the goods to Grand River.

Allan Thomas Pozdol, 27053 Wixom Road in Novi received an incapacitating injury July 21. He was a passenger in a car driven by Clifford Pennington, of Detroit who also received an incapacitating injury.

The accident occurred July 10 on the eastbound exit ramp of I-96 going onto Novi Road. Pennington reportedly missed the exit ramp and travelled 300 feet through a field and ditch. Both were taken to the hospital. There was no enforcement action.

In Wixom

A 1973 Honda 350 CC motorcycle valued at $900 was taken from the Indian Lodge Apartment July 12-14.

A Hawes Revolver and ammunition valued at $165 was taken from one of the cottages at the Finn Camp.

Report Outlines Oakland Roads

Novi-Wixom residents are receiving the 1974 annual report of the Oakland County Road Commission with their newspaper this week.

The eight-page tabloid report is included with this issue of The Novi News and is being similarly distributed as inserts in 19 other newspapers circulated in Oakland County.

The report, labeled "Oakland Roads," features the 10-year catch-up road improvement program recommended by Citizens Research Council of Michigan, outlining the additional financing required from sources within the county in order to bring the county's road adequacy rate from the present 20 percent up to about 99 percent in the next six years.

There is also a feature on off-duty interests of road commission employees, a questionnaire that readers are invited to complete and return to the road commission, and the first independently-audited financial report ever published in the road commission's annual reports.

"In the spirit of full disclosure, we have chosen, for the second consecutive year, to distribute our report through the county's excellent newspapers," said John L. Grubba, managing director. "Everyone uses county roads, every operator of a motor vehicle helps pay for them and consequently every resident of the county is entitled to see our annual report."

In spite of the broad distribution, Grubba said, the cost of the 1974 report, including production and distribution, has been held to about five cents a copy.

Northville Juvenile Cases Decline During June

Total number of juveniles involved in Northville City Police cases during June dropped when compared with the same month last year as officers handled 21 cases last month, down from 35 in June of 1974.

According to a report recently released by the department, 20 of the cases this year were for non-traffic offenses. Of the 35 handled during the same month last year, 26 were for non-traffic cases.

Those involved in the reports ranged in age from 13 to 16 and included one girl. Cases investigated were minors in possession of alcohol, five; disorderly conduct, three; thefts from buildings, three; narcotics, three; and carrying concealed weapons, two.

Other cases were referred to juvenile court and the remaining 14 were handled within the local department.

Through the first six months of 1975, city police handled 86 cases, down from 120 reported through June of 1974.

The majority of the cases reported this year involve theft and runaways. In 1974, one-fourth of the juvenile cases involved traffic offenses.

Hickory Hill Schedules Regatta

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Occasionally, and I must stress the occasionally, I get the urge to zap out this column before the eleventh hour deadline appears. But inevitably outside forces interfere and even though I go down "fighting", I lose the battle.

The "occasionally" happened this week. Got the good old typewriter and paper and smugly sat down to type...until a big, boomy storm broke and knocked out the power.

Losing electricity really blows my mind...and a lot of projects. Why is it when there is no electricity I suddenly get the urge to iron...or vacuum...or write columns.

Quite possibly it was a good thing the lights went out. I was feeling rather witty. At that point I was determined to write but found it rather difficult to type by the light of one candle power.

The urchins thought the whole matter of total darkness rather exciting and began conspiring all manner of things to do. Mother's suggestion of bed for lack of anything better was met with unseen icy stares.

But still feeling clever, witty and undaunted by downed Edison lines, I rummaged through the garage and succeeded in finding the good old Coleman lantern. A few pumps on the pumper, a match and voila...beautiful light to type by. It was not too long, however, before I was being baked alive by the heat of the lantern. Not only that, the fumes made my eyes water.

Solution...crank down the lantern, forget about being clever and witty and go to bed. Utter frustration!

As well as being clever and witty, this column is meant to be informative and perhaps even educational. We are going to be extra-super informative this week by listing coming events some of which could benefit by your volunteering spirit.

Thursday, July 24...that's tomorrow, at 1 p.m. in the library...The Fair committee will be going over plans for the Fair to be held on September 12 and 13. Interested in learning more about or helping with the Fair? Please come...you are welcome!

The Wixom Historical Society and bicentennial committee both are picking up steam. Lots of people with enthusiasm and ideas scattered all around town with the thought of incorporating some activities into the Fair in September. Check with the library or at city hall for the next meeting date.

The Hickory Hill Civic Association has dreamed up a city wide regatta to be held on Loon Lake on Sunday, August 4. We know that it wouldn't dare rain on that date but just in case, September 6 is the next choice. There will be sail boat races with racing classifications for size of boat, canoe and row boat races and so as not to leave one person out...inner tube races.

Cash prizes will go to the winners of each classification with small entry fees charged. Hot dogs, pop and goodies will be on sale at the Hickory Hills beach for all to enjoy during this day of fun.

Roy and Karen Boman, Don Burgin, Bob Dingeldey and Mike Cannazzaro are planning the day long event which could be the start of something new in these parts.

Look for more information on this...it sounds like great fun.

The Friends of the Library are planning ahead too. For their first meeting scheduled this fall, the "Plant Lady" who scored such a success with the group last spring, will be making a return visit. She was met with such enthusiasm that the Friends are sure you'd like to make a note of the date in advance...Thursday, September 18.

Fourteen National Parks, 7700 miles, rain, snow and 110 degree weather are some of the remembrances of Margaret and Jim Ladd's five week vacation trip. Along with daughters Kristen and teeny Jennifer, the Ladd's left Wixom in mid-June and headed west seeing just about everything there was to see between here and Phoenix, Arizona where they visited with Margaret's folks.

The route was not as the crow flies but rather more in a circle as they headed to Mt. Rushmore in the Black Hills. "I can see why it was chosen as the symbol of the bicentennial...what an absolutely gorgeous place...gigantic and spotlessly clean", reported Margaret, adding it was "slack" weather in South Dakota. Then it was over to Wyoming and down into "God's Country"...the Colorado Rockies, taking the Trail Ridge Road through Rocky Mountain National Park. There they were greeted by snow...and skiers. I told Margaret they just don't give up. They headed into Estes Park and took the "million dollar highway" from Durango to Silverton with Margaret absolutely delighted with all the old buildings along the way.

Mesa Verde National Park in the southern part of Colorado was another stop. The place is widely known for its Indian cliff dwellings and ancient artifacts...although its not exactly the place for a stroller but an absolutely fascinating place."

Down thru New Mexico and into Arizona where they visited with Marg's folks for three weeks is where the Ladds basked in the 110 degree sunshine.

Now that they're back home in Wixom and the car unloaded "all over the dining room table" Margaret summed up the whole trip... "It was fantastic and we really enjoyed it but it sure is good to be home."

WHERE HAVE THEY GONE?—Novi Public Library's summer reading program has left a lot of empty spaces in the children's book section and "At times, it looks like a toothless mouth," Librarian Dorothy Flattery says looking over the shelves. Mrs. Flattery notes that the 150 students in the program have been responsible for a big increase in circulation which last week topped 1,100 books. "The program also brings adults into the library with the children," Mrs. Flattery adds, "and they usually check out a book while they're here, too. The reading program, run by Friends of the Novi Library, ends next Wednesday with the members receiving certificates on August 1.
