Although Autumn is painting Northville flowers with silvery gloss more regularly now that October is waning, there still is enough warmth in the smiles of sunshine to melt the frostiest morning. What's more, for Elizabeth, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeMattia of 589 Morgan Court, there's a pleasant softness about the marigolds that continue their glowing enchantment of color right up to Halloween.

Quarter Report

City Budget's on Target

First quarter financial report shows the city is nearly "on target" budget-wise, Northville city councilmen learned this week.

The report by City Manager Steven Walters indicates the city has expended 22.2 percent of its 1975-76 budget of $1,259,460. The city had anticipated spending 25 percent of its budget by this period.

Northville is 25 percent through its fiscal budget.

At the conclusion of September, the city had spent $279,945.90 as compared with the projected expenditure of $311,605.

Most of the line item expenditures indicated that the city is spending at amounts below projections.

In the area of revenue, the report shows that the city has received 93 percent of its $491,000 budgeted property taxes; 40.5 percent of the state-shared revenues of $135,300; 41.3 percent of the $22,000 in licenses, fees and permits; 22.3 percent of the $83,500 in fines and forfeits;

21.2 percent of the $95,500 in sales and services; 30 percent of the $77,800 in federal grants; 34.6 percent of other revenues; and 14.2 of the interfund reimbursements of $337,060.

In nearly all of these revenue categories the city has received a larger percent of its projected income to date.

As for outlay, the city has spent 24.4 percent, or $51,071.15, of its city hall budget of $209,220. It has spent 20.5 percent of its public safety budget of $492,900; 24.3 percent of the public works and related category budget of $281,600; 51.4 percent has been spent or appropriated for the recreation department and library budget totaling $73,200; and 10.8 percent of the fringe benefits budget of $202,540.

All $27,500 of the city's recreation department budget monies have been appropriated, whereas 22 percent of the library budget of $45,700 has been spent or appropriated.

In the public improvements fund category, the city has spent or appropriated 19.9 percent or $130,031.89, of its $654,700 budget. It had projected to spend 18 percent or $114,825 by this date.

The original budget, according to the city manager, has been revised to reflect a $1,000 appropriation for the bicentennial project; CETA grant support of employees for an amount totaling $32,000; and $1,200 senior citizens grant for library services.

Thus the original balanced budget of $1,225,260 is balanced at a $34,200 higher figure of $1,259,460.

Patterson Seeks Legislation

Rips 'Good Time' Law

Although serious crimes in Michigan increased between 1960 and 1975, only one more person was added to the prison population during the 15 years.

"And from that, I can only conclude that the Parole Board every year is patrolling just enough prisoners to keep the prison population constant and to avoid overcrowding," L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County Prosecutor, told an audience of more than 50 last week.

Patterson was the guest of the Northville Branch of the American Association of University Women. His talk at the Mill Race centered around Michigan parole practices.

The prosecutor pointed out that in 1960, Michigan had a prison population of 9,237. Fifteen years later, in 1975, there were 9,238 persons in prison. During the same time, crimes increased dramatically — murder, 219 percent increase; rape, 276 percent; armed robbery, 448 percent; and aggravated assault, 243 percent.

Patterson urged members and guests of the AAUW to write their legislators, asking that four bills currently in committee, be relaxed and made law. If enacted, the bills would change Michigan's so called "good time" law, making it necessary for persons convicted of violent crimes to serve the minimum sentence.

The bills are House Bill 4290, 4291, 4292 and Senate Bill 485. All have been in committee for the past two years, the prosecutor said.

As the law is now written, time off for good behavior is subtracted from the Election Reaction

Tax Fears Defeat Annexation Issue

Economics played the predominate role in last week's overwhelming defeat of the Northville annexation proposition.

That's the consensus of proponents and opponents as they assess the mood of the voter in the wake of the election held October 14 in Northville Township.

By a surprisingly large margin, voters axed annexation 2,000 to 890.

According to leaders in the movement, township taxpayers simply did not want their taxes increased and the annexation vote reflected that position.

A sampling of township voters by this newspaper supported that theory.

Mark Lysinger, one of the chief opponents of annexation, said he came away from the election with "a couple different reactions."

"Number one, I was optimistic and felt we could win, but in no way did I anticipate the margin of victory."

"Number two, the people definitely voted their pocketbooks."

"And three, in conjunction with the pocketbook issue, people felt services would not be improved by annexation."

"There's no doubt about it," said Township Trustee John MacDonald, a strong advocate of annexation, "it was a matter of economics."

"For me it was awfully disappointing... sad, really. I don't know what else to say," he continued.

"Unfortunately people who are naturally concerned about taxes were led to believe their total tax bill would double or triple. It won't, of course. But it's hard to tell people the township tax is just a tiny portion of their total tax bill. Doubling or tripling the township tax is a whole lot different than doubling or tripling all taxes."

MacDonald said the township board will have to do its best to operate the township on its present millage — even if it means "dipping into the public improvement fund for operational monies."

MacDonald pledged to do "all I can" to keep the township out of debt. "I'm not going out of my way to make it hard for the township out of spite. It has all the problems it can handle without that."

Clarice Sass, recently appointed clerk of the township, sees the vote as a mandate of the people to preserve township government.

"I will work to do the best job possible for the township, just as I have been doing. I don't anticipate any major changes in the operation of the township," she said.

Nevertheless, Mrs. Sass said that she is personally looking into the possibility of a charter township form of government for Northville.

"This is one avenue that I think should be explored, but before I've done some more research I cannot make any recommendations."

"I do know that the people with whom I have spoken would definitely support additional millage — provided it is for the operation of township government, not city government. They recognize the township's need for more money and would support a millage proposal."

Clerk Sass said she is unaware of any movement within the township for incorporation — other than possibly considering charter township.

City Manager Steven Walters noted that city residents generally were Candidates To Speak

Northville's two mayoral candidates and four candidates for two council seats have been invited to participate in the annual Candidates' Night presentation of the Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi League of Women Voters at 8 p.m. this Thursday in city council chambers.

Northville Mayor A. M. Allen, seeking his ninth term, is opposed by Thomas Bongiovanni. Seeking the two council seats are incumbents David Biery and Paul Vernon who are opposed by Stanley Johnston and Eugene Wagner in the November 4 election.

See their statements on Page 6-A.

Put Entire City In One County?

Should the boundaries be adjusted so that the City of Northville is located entirely within one county?

And if so, should Northville be part of Wayne or Oakland county?

These are questions that will receive close attention by city officials during the next six to eight months as they consider ridding itself of a two-county headache.

Part of the city, that portion located south of Base Line, is located in Wayne County, and part in Oakland county, that portion located north of Base Line.

Geographically, the larger part of the city is located in Wayne County. Population-wise, the two sections of the city are very nearly the same size — roughly 3,000 in each.

Reminded by the city manager of a new state law permitting readjustment of county boundaries, the council Monday night authorized him to begin preparing a detailed report of the advantages and disadvantages of being in two counties versus one county.

Readjustment of boundaries under Act 160 requires positive vote of all FIVE STREET LIGHTS are to be installed in the two blocks of South Griswold Street, from Main to Beal. The council order calls for lights at Beal, Cady and Main and one in the center of each of the two blocks. Council also noted that it has urged the township board to consider installation of a street light at the intersection of Griswold and Eight Mile Road.

SUNDAY'S THE TIME to gain an extra hour of sleep as area residents join most of the nation in the "setback" from Daylight Saving Time. The official time to set clocks back an hour is 2 a.m. Sunday. The easy way to remember the twice-yearly adjustment is "Spring forward — Fall backward."

VETERANS' DAY, officially moved to Monday, October 27, by the Monday Holiday Bill, still is a confusing observance. Northville city offices will be closed, but Northville township ones will be open. The post office will be closed with no mail delivery. Banks, however, will be open as financial institutions are continuing to observe the traditional November 11 date.

The annual pancake breakfast served by the Northville American Legion will be held at 6:30 a.m. on November 11, the traditional Veterans' Day. That also will be the date of legion installation ceremonies.

Single Parents Mix Workshops, Parties

A three-day Eastern Michigan Regional Conference of Parents Without Partners is being hosted by the Northville-Novati chapter beginning next Friday, October 31, at the new Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Open to the public, the first regional conference begins with a poolside reception on the inn's Atrium Terrace next Friday.

A Halloween costume ball, hosted by the Wyandotte-Dowdner chapter, will follow from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be by "The Escorts."

Workshops on value clarification and leadership are featured Saturday, November 1, after registration from 8 to 9:30 a.m. A regional business meeting will be held from 10 a.m. to noon.

A presidents' luncheon will be held Saturday from noon to 1:30 p.m.

The workshops scheduled include:

Values Clarification from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. led by Elizabeth Connell, and legal aspects of single family life discussed by Henry Gorbein and Bruce Keiden, attorneys. Leadership workshops from 1:30 to 3 p.m. will discuss ethics and grievance, newsletters and membership. From 3:15 to 4:45 p.m. sessions will be on leadership training, family activities and adult activities.

After a cocktail hour from 6 to 7 p.m. November 1 there will be a buffet dinner with keynote speaker and presidential awards.

A Black Mask Ball with music by "Big Sam and his Band" will follow from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Afterglows follow, planners promise.

A poolside brunch from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. (Dutch treat), with swimming concludes the conference on November 2.

Northville-Novati President Connie Mallott explains that single parents may register as guests for the conference for $13.50 including the Saturday dinner and ball. Members will be $12.

This week is deadline for registration with Mrs. Beverly Cline, 24005 Pheasant Run, Novi.

READY FOR MART—Preparing pine cone wreaths and other decorations for the Greens Mart of the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association are, from left, Lillian Herbstreit, Estelle Millington and Anne Dales. Items made in the workshop and cedar, pine and balsam roping will be sold November 23 at Northville Square and at a mobile home in the municipal parking lot on Main Street.

Their Toast Will Aid Old Schoolhouse

By JEANDAY

THE FIRST SATURDAY in December has come to signal the beginning of the Christmas social season in Northville as it's the date reserved for the annual benefit cocktail parties given by Northville Mothers' Club.

This will be the fourth year for the event with nine club members opening their homes December 6. In early November 500 invitations will go in the mail.

This year's hostesses will be Mrs. Edward Hodge and Mrs. Keith Wright, chairman and co-chairman for the benefit, together with Mrs. Herbert Weston, Mrs. Richard Lyon, Mrs. William VanBuren, Mrs. Charles Fountain, Mrs. Irvin Marburger (who will host club life members), Mrs. I. M. McLeod and Mrs. Martin Rinehart, club president.

Inflation finally has forced the club to raise the price of the benefit from $5 to $7.50. Bonnie Rinehart points out, however, that all profits are used for school and youth projects with this year's earmarked for aiding restoration of the Wash-Oak school in the Mill Race Village. Northville Historical Society and school officials envision the one room schoolhouse as a teaching facility for local children to "live past history" in classes there.

The school is slated by the mover, C. L. Hofess, for its journey to the Mill Race Village next week, weather permitting. Like the library, now restored, it will have to be completely reconstructed inside. Mothers' Club members were told Monday night as they viewed slides of Mill Race accomplishments while meeting in the old library.

John Burkman, historical society chairman, and Raymond Riddell, vice president, brought the club up to date on accomplishments, including the beginning of work on the Victorian home recently moved to the Mill Race.

Other guests at Monday's meeting were Mrs. Harold Rinehart of Ogden, Utah, and Mrs. Joseph Meggs of Denver, Colorado, mothers of Martin and Bonnie Rinehart. It was a suggestion by Mrs. Meggs to her daughter-in-law that resulted in the Christmas cocktail benefits four years ago after they had been a successful project in Denver.

Monday night the club also set an April 3, 1976, date for its annual dinner dance at Meadowbrook Country Club. Announcement was made that a final gift of $400 from last year's fund raising has been given to Northville High School library.

STEVEN WALTERS, Northville city manager, will bring a lighthearted approach to the significance of the development of presidential campaigns historically as he speaks to the Northville Historical Society at its meeting in the Mill Race library at 8 p.m. this Thursday.

In conjunction with his talk he will show and explain his campaign items. He is a member of the American Political Items Collectors' organization. Guests are welcome.

NEWCOMERS November outing to the "Toronto Art Exhibit" at Cranbrook Institute in Bloomfield Hills is proving popular as reservations are coming in fast for the women's activity for which a bus will leave from Northville Square parking lot at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday, November 5.

Those participating will stop for luncheon at "Victoria Station," where an entire railroad car has been specially reserved (usually the popular restaurant doesn't take reservations). The Cranbrook tour will follow at 1 p.m.

Planners announce that cost for the bus and tour is $2.50 with luncheons an individual expense. Mrs. Michael Gordon, chairman, is in charge of reservations, 348-1872, with the deadline November 1.

A Newcomer couple event for November will be the third annual progressive dinner Saturday, November 15. According to Mrs. Marvin Landrum, chairman, the cost is $7 per couple with reservations limited to 60 couples.

Each couple also will be asked to bring an hors d'oeuvre, a part of the dinner or a finger dessert. Dinner menu features beef burgundy and a special spinach souffle.

Cocktails will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the homes of Jim and Cora Marshall and Rick and Gail Webster. Dinner is planned at 9 p.m. at the homes of nine couples — John and Claudia Berry, Dick and Nancy Bohn, Ray and Gloria Collins, John and Denise Dobelek, Bob and Louise Lackey, Don and Mary Lou Platte, Bob and Joan Sellen, Les and Sherry Unger and Chuck and Pam Urban. Dessert from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. will be with Jim and Judy Kohl and Craig and Linda Parker.

Mrs. Landrum is taking reservations, 455-6498, with checks required by November 7.

MYSTERY TRIPS don't often have a destination 700 miles out in the Atlantic ocean, but that's where Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor of 20076 Valley Road found themselves two weeks ago as part of a group of 14 golf-loving couples.

Like the other members of the group from Farmington Country Club, the Taylors put in $1,500 for a mystery golf outing but had no idea their flight would take them to Castle Harbour in Bermuda. (Because a passport was needed, all but one of the group thought the destination would be Europe.)

Even the airline, Eastern, played along "and threw a few curves" by keeping the travelers in a private room while informing other passengers of the trip. Then all flight signs were taken down. One stewardess demonstrated oxygen masks in Spanish as well as English while another announced the plane was on its way to Tokyo. The captain announced sunny skies over Butte, Montana, before revealing the real destination.

Mrs. Taylor reports that it was a great week of golfing on the Castle Harbour golf course. The scheming, she says, began 11 months previously in the Ford Motor Company office of George Stringwell, a member of the group, charged with planning a mystery outing for the golfers.

QUESTERS from all three local chapters — Baseline, Silver Springs and Novi VI — of the antiques study society are at a state meeting at Bay Valley Inn where they are to hear an expert on "Closonne."

Mrs. Constance Palinsky, a collector of the enamelware which features different colors separated by thin strips of metal, will speak and show examples she has collected since 1969. Mrs. Palinsky owns a gallery of art and antiques in Flint and is an award-winning painter and sculptor.

Northville Questers attending include Marian Pickl, Virginia Hayward, Sheryl Swayne, Ruth Klein, Dorothy Greer, Jeanne Langtry and Ruth Burkman. Peg Beard of Northville is state treasurer.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN church women have been holding weekly workshops every Thursday to be ready for their bazaar which will be held at the church from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, November 7.

Calico items, toys, stuffed animals, doll clothes, ceramics, plants, cards, wrapping paper, Christmas decorations and unusual painted woodenware are among the items to be available.

State Historian Tells Club

Civil War Caused Manpower Shortage Here

DAY FOR HISTORY—Dr. Robert Warner, right, director of the Michigan Historical Commission and a professor of history at University of Michigan, talks with John Burkman, Northville Historical Society chairman, and Mrs. Richard Henderson, Northville Woman's Club program chairman, Friday at the Mill Race Village where he spoke to club members on local history.

By JEAN DAY

"Girls suffer much for want of beaus, but I'm willing to do what I can for them," wrote the brother of Augustus Pomeroy as he told of conditions back home in Northville during the Civil War.

Augustus Pomeroy was serving as a member of Company C in the Michigan Infantry as he received the communications from home in 1864.

Pomeroy also was told in a letter dated January 12, 1864, that Northville had had "some as cold weather as we've had in years with good sleighing for the past week."

Pointing out that it's rare to have such back and forth communication, Dr. Robert Warner, director of the Michigan Historical Collection in Ann Arbor, used the correspondence from the agency's files to illustrate for Northville Woman's Club last Friday the "new history."

"We're now studying history from top to bottom and seeing how ordinary citizens lived, what their problems were and how they coped with them," he said as he spoke in the historic library building now restored in the Mill Race Village.

For his talk, "Local History and Its New Importance," Dr. Warner, a member of the University of Michigan faculty since 1953 and winner of the 1972 Ann Arbor Historical Society Award of Merit, researched files of the Michigan collection to find Northville letters.

He explained that there are many letters from soldiers but few like those he read telling what it was like "back home." Pomeroy's brother told of taking two girls to an outing "at Mr. Stark's." He also noted that he was paying $10 a month for board and that it would have been more if he "didn't go home over the Sabbath."

Such notice of local history, Dr. Warner pointed out, is a "phenomenon of recent vintage" as study of local happenings used to have no esteem as it showed no broad concerns and "stressed only the good and successful."

History, as a discipline, was in disfavor, Dr. Warner said, seeming "remote and dull," until students began to realize that "it shouldn't be so as it's all around us."

The 40-year-old Michigan Historical Collections agency, he explained, collects and makes available manuscripts from the entire state, starting with records of St. Anne's Parish in Detroit of 1704 which note the baptism of Cadillac's daughter.

The agency's second largest collection, the papers of Gerald Ford that date back to 1963, now are "getting a great deal of attention," the speaker reported.

Dr. Warner read a letter from Walter H. Jackson, written from Northville in October, 1965, stating that it had been fine weather all fall and that business was good with the writer adding, "I have no fears that I shall prosper."

This man's work, Dr. Warner told the club, was unusual for his time because he was one of the first dentists in the state at a time when dentists were self-trained. Thus, he pointed out, through such study of local history, the beginning of a new profession can be seen.

Such records, he continued, are valuable as they provide an economic history, showing how people find jobs and make their living.

He called a Northville Union School catalog detailing "the absence of vice found in large towns and the fresh air and pure water of Northville" a "prime example of a major movement to suburbia—in 1866!"

The new history, he detailed, is developing in four, non-academic areas—historic preservation, "a national phenomenon happening everywhere"; restoration movements, like Fort Michilimackinac; local museums; and in a revival and expansion of local historical societies.

The latter, he concluded, are important as they "give people a sense of belonging to their communities."

Interchange Decision Due in Two Months

$9.4 Million Plan Receives Support

Within 60 days, the Michigan State Highway Department should announce a final decision on which of five alternatives for reconstruction of the I-96-Novi Road Interchange has been approved, according to Jack Morgan, Manager of the Public Involvement Section of the highway department.

Morgan and several colleagues from the state highway department appeared at a public hearing last Wednesday night to receive public input on the project and to inform residents of the city of highway department progress on the project.

Approximately 150 residents showed up to ply the highway department representatives with questions.

The atmosphere at the public hearing appeared different than a July public hearing on the interchange held by the city at which numerous residents verbally attacked the highway department and plans for Novi.

Five alternates, ranging from a do-nothing plan to a $9.4 million complete reconstruction of the bridge were presented.

"The prime reason for the improvement of this interchange is that for some time, even with current traffic loads, traffic congestion and confusing turning moves have resulted in excessive accident exposure and experience," stated Morgan. "The main cause for this is that turning movements involving left turns onto I-96 access ramps from Novi Road must be completed after traffic lights change and oncoming traffic has cleared."

Morgan noted that congestion at the interchange is caused because the Novi business district is located south of the interchange, including Adell, and that the Dayton-Hudson shopping center will be opening at Novi and Twelve Mile roads. A Big Boy restaurant is also planned for Novi Road south of the bridge. Both Walled Lake and Novi are experiencing heavy population growth.

Morgan described each of the alternates and noted that alternate five, at a cost of $9.4 million, is the preferred alternate.

"Probably the major difference and advantage of alternate five, compared with alternates three and four, is that alternate five permits free-flow right turns from Novi Road to merge with the freeway traffic at will. Right turns onto the freeway from Novi Road with alternates three and four can be made only after passing through a traffic signal. Left turns onto freeway access ramps will be eliminated with alternate five," said Morgan.

Alternate five also allows limited access right-of-way in all four quadrants, preventing developments from interfering with interchange movements. It also requires the relocation of Adell Boulevard. Two proposals to the location of Adell have been included. One calls for it to go through homes on the north side of Fonda. The other calls for it to take the Big Boy property to further north. The first alternative is preferred to prevent access problems for people turning left from Adell onto northbound Novi Road.

Also speaking for the highway department was Bill Wines, of the right of way division. He explained the various facets of acquiring businesses and homes needed during renovation of the interchange. The preferred alternate calls for the highway department to purchase 11 residential and six commercial properties.

Several residents and city officials spoke.

City Manager Ed Kriewall recommended that alternate 5-A be constructed because it will be needed when Novi reaches its ultimate development and would be the safest from an accident standpoint.

City Engineer Harry Mosher also supported alternate five-A stating, "Those of us who use Novi Road are aware of its present inadequacies. I view this as a major surgery necessary for present day and future Novi."

"I feel with the tax dollars we have given up to the State Highway Department for lands given up for roads without objection, we should settle for nothing less than the best we can get," commented Mayoral candidate Louie Campbell.

He also noted that if only minimal improvements are done, the city down the road would have to pick up a greater percentage of the cost of improvements.

He also elicited from Wines that if Adell is rerouted through the residences on the north side of Fonda, then the residents left on the south side of Fonda could also sell for fair market value to the highway department. "It would be entirely voluntary," Wines noted.

However, a petition with 30 signatures presented by a representative of the I-96 Shell station states that the improvements are "uncalled for and unnecessary at this time."

A representative of the real estate section of Shell Oil added that "this entire project is not going to be needed for 10 years." He suggested that the dollar difference between the lesser improvements of alternate two and alternate five could be allowed to accumulate interest and that the interest would pay for the extra costs caused by inflation over the years.

HOMEcoming BEAUTY—Novi Homecoming queen Mary Fisher receives a hug and smile from brother Fred after the announcement was made at last Friday's game that she had been selected as the 1975-76 homecoming queen. Other members of the queen's court were Janet Cook, Kate Pierce and Leigh Tarzy.

GHOUL'S PARADISE—Three ghouls guaranteed to grip more than just your imagination sneaked out of their ghostly lair for a look at passersby on Novi Road last week. Part of the Novi Jaycee haunted house group, the three will be taking up positions with many of their creepy cohorts at a new location this year on Novi Road at 12 Mile. The action begins Thursday, October 23 and runs through Thursday, October 30. Hours are 7-11 p.m. weekdays and 2-11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Cost is $7.50 per person, while group rates are available.

Novi About Faces

On HUD Application

Novi Council has elected to go with the county in seeking funds under the Housing and Community Development grant program for 1976.

The recommendation by the city administration comes as a complete turn-around as the administration had recommended previously that the city continue to go on its own in seeking funds.

The city for 1975 was given $112,000 for loans and grants to be given to qualified homeowners to fix their homes.

"HUD indicated that if we continue on our own all we will get will be loans and grants," said City Manager Ed Kriewall. "It starts to look as if this is the only place we can use the funds for now or in the future. We're getting a little frustrated with the whole thing. It becomes apparent they want us to go with the county."

Kriewall said that while the city could be in line for $100,000 for loans and grants if it goes on its own, the city would be eligible for $3 per person based on the new census if the city elects to go with the county. This would raise approximately $40,000 which, according to the administration, could be used in just about any way the city elects. "It's pretty much wide open use of the money from the county," stated Kriewall.

Mayor Robert Daley argued that the city had scored so high on its application last year when it went on its own because "of social needs in the community."

"We knew we had needs HUD normally looks at. This council should address itself to where there's a vital social need," said the mayor.

Councilman Denis Berry, who has continually argued that the city should have gone originally with the county in its first grant application contended that, "You're talking about (helping) a handful of people."

Council member Romaine Roethel responded that "We haven't given it (loans and grants) an opportunity to find out if it will work." Mayor Daley added that the city should go with the loans and grants because "There's a potential improvement to the city of $100,000."

A decision by the city was necessary at the meeting because the county had extended its deadline one day to allow the city to go with it if the council so desired.

Homecoming's Cold, Lively

It was a cold and windy homecoming night at Novi last Friday. So cold that the girls in the Novi drill team probably froze in their new green and gold uniforms as they marched around the field.

Despite the cold weather floats paraded around the track outside the football field and the homecoming queen was crowned. This year's queen is senior Mary Fisher who received the crown from last year's queen Mary Dawn Withers.

Janet Cook, Kate Pierce and Leigh Tarzy were the other three senior girls on the homecoming court. Representing the junior class was Reggie Smith and the representative of the underclassmen was Melissa Faulkner.

The seniors won the float competition with the float theme, "Wildcats hold the key to an electrifying victory." The float consisted of two goal posts with some seniors holding what appeared to be an electric wire between the posts.

Veteran's Day Closings Set

Both the Novi City Offices and the Novi library will be closed Monday in celebration of Veteran's Day.

The Novi post office will not be open for business although box holders can pick up mail until 10 a.m. Outgoing mail will be dispatched from the post office between 3 and 5 p.m.

Ruling May Affect Novi Annexation

Boundary Unit Unlawful

A ruling by the Michigan Court of Appeals that the State Boundary Commission is unconstitutional could have a direct bearing on the annexation dispute between the City of Novi and Novi Township.

Pro annexation forces suffered a serious setback when Appeals Court Judges D. E. Holbrook, V. J. Brennan and M. F. Kavanaugh ruled on October 13 in a Midland case that the Boundary Commission is unconstitutional.

John Bauckham, attorney for the Michigan Township Association, said that the ruling was based on improper legislative procedures followed by the Michigan Legislature in enacting the Boundary Commission law and, in particular, the annexation provisions.

Assistant Attorney General Frank Pipp told this newspaper that the Attorney General's office, which represents the Boundary Commission, has not decided whether to appeal the Midland ruling to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Most observers believe, however, that the appeal will be made. Pipp said a decision should be made within two weeks.

"If they don't appeal, it'll be the law of the land," contended Bauckham. He added that the Midland annexation battle is identical to the Novi case and thus would have a direct bearing on the Court of Appeal decision in the Novi case. He is also the attorney for Novi Township.

However, Novi city Attorney David Fried refuted Bauckham's statement. He explained that there are different issues involved. In addition, a different panel of the Court of Appeals will hear the Novi case and will rule independently of the Midland ruling by the other panel.

"They can arrive at a totally different conclusion," he added. He did concede that the ruling would be the law of the land as far as Midland and lower courts are concerned.

Fried also admitted that, "I think that it makes it a tougher fight."

While the Midland case is the first to be ruled on by the Court of Appeals, Novi and many other communities have been waiting in the

Wixom Duplexes Coming

Wixom council last week approved rezoning of a 56 acre parcel of land owned by the Howard T. Keating Company for construction of a subdivision of duplex homes.

Location of the acreage is the area just north of Pontiac Trail and west of Beck Road, from Western High School. Council approved rezoning the property from RA-1 (single family residential) to RB (two family residential). The planning commission had previously recommended approval of the rezoning request.

David Keating, of the Howard T. Keating Real Estate Company of Birmingham, explained that the company plans to have 128 building sites on the parcel, which is to be called Indian Wells Subdivision. Minimum lot acreage would be 10,000 square feet.

According to Keating, the developer wants to construct duplexes with, perhaps, one three bedroom living area and the second area two bedroom. "The owner would probably live in one and rent out the other. We have been getting feedback that people are looking for something different."

Councilman Robert Dingeldey complained that, "We have been hoodwinked by many developers who got a rezoning so they could speculate." Dingeldey contended that the developer was not certain of the marketability of the duplexes or specifics as far as construction of the duplexes on the lots.

"We are not speculators," responded Keating. "We are doers. This has been our history in the past. If I told you people I was sure (the duplexes would sell), I wouldn't expect you to believe me."

Keating added that as soon as the rezoning takes place,

League Readies

Candidate Night

Novi's two mayoral and 15 council candidates all have indicated they will be present for the Novi Candidates' Night at 7:30 p.m. Monday, October 27, in Orchard Hills Elementary School.

The program is sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi in cooperation with Novi Friends of the Library, Novi Jaycee Auxiliary and the Novi Chamber of Commerce. The community is invited to attend.

ALMA LASSIE—Jennifer G. McLaren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne S. McLaren of 42243 Nottingham Court, Northville, and a 1974 Northville High graduate, is a member of the spirited and colorful Kiltie Lassies, a Scottish Highland dance group of 13 coeds at Alma College where she is a sophomore.

At Schoolcraft

Workshop's for Widows

A Harvard mental health authority and author will be the keynote speaker at a workshop on coping with widowhood, October 25 at Schoolcraft College.

She is Dr. Phyllis R. Silverman of the Harvard Medical School and its laboratory of community psychiatry. Dr. Silverman is the originator of the self-help widow-to-widow program and has authored and edited a number of books on the subject including Helping Each Other in Widowhood.

She will speak during the morning session.

Open to persons throughout the Detroit Metropolitan Area, the Coping With Widowhood seminar is a cooperative effort of Schoolcraft Community Services and the Newman Campus Ministry.

It is designed for men and women who have been widowed or who help others in widow-to-widow programs. It is also for community service agencies, church groups, funeral directors, nursing home staff and others interested in community support for the widowed.

Following lunch, a six-member panel consisting of representatives from community organizations serving widowed persons will discuss how they were formed and the different methods used to serve widowed persons.

Volunteers Sought For Women's Center

The Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College is seeking volunteers for research, peer counseling and to provide personal experience assistance on a one-to-one basis.

Community research volunteers are needed to explore various topics of interest to women such as education and employment opportunities, social services and legal rights.

The Center also needs persons interested in receiving training to work as peer counselor volunteers. Basic training for peer counseling involves learning interpersonal communication skills and problem-solving skills. Peer counseling volunteer candidates should contact Ms. Peggy Price in the community services office or at 591-6400 before October 20.

Candidates are interviewed and then attend training sessions in November.

A third category of volunteer need is for one-to-one resource volunteers. These volunteers should be people who have undergone specific life experiences such as natural childbirth, parenting, returning to school or employment, menopause, divorce, widowhood or alcoholism and are willing to share their understanding and insight on a one-to-one basis with others. Persons interested in participating in this project should contact Ms. Susie Durkin at 591-6400, extension 217.

Shut Center Boosters Slate Bazaar To Relocate At Orchard Hills School

The Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College is being moved from the library to new facilities in the second house south of the main campus along Haggerty Road.

The house will also serve as center for a number of Community Services programs. Women's Programs and Services, Cultural and Public Affairs and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) will be located there.

Community Services Dean Ron Griffith said the Center will provide needed facilities for these programs plus flexibility for new development.

The Women's Resource Center will be closed October 23 for its move to the new Center. Regular 9 to 3 daily hours will be resumed on November 3. The Center is also open from 7 to 9 on Tuesday evenings.

Jean Christensen, who heads Women's Programs and Services, said the public is welcome to visit the new facilities.

A holiday bazaar is the latest project of Orchard Hills School Boosters' Club to help raise funds to improve the school playground.

It is to be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, November 15, at the school.

Proceeds are earmarked for a $500 merry-go-round and for a log sitting area at $150.

The club points out that parents of all children in the school are members of the boosters and are being asked to make or bake items for the bazaar, which is a club "first".

Parents are asked to contact Mrs. Eileen Kidd, 349-4635, Mrs. Ginger Gillick, 349-9967, and Mrs. Jean Bushman, 349-4969, if they can help.

QUICK-ACTING—Harry B. Richards, a Northville rural mail carrier, receives a Special Achievement Award from the U.S. Postal Service presented by Postmaster John Steimel, left, in recognition of his assistance in helping control a fire started by an exploded can of gasoline near a home on his mail route. While delivering his route in July, Richards noticed the fire and immediately grabbed a broom to help the homeowner.

Trick-Treat For UNICEF

Children from Northville's elementary schools will be joining their fellow students across the United States in the collection for UNICEF this year.

With UNICEF marking its 25th consecutive year, the students with their canisters will "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" on Friday, October 31.

Commented Mrs. Naomi Poe, elementary teacher at Moraine, "This year, more Northville children than ever will be collecting for UNICEF. We've expanded the program to other schools this year and hope to have a good turnout."

Twenty-five Halloweens ago, UNICEF began when a Sunday school class in Pennsylvania collected funds to fight hunger, disease and ignorance which plagued children in less fortunate lands.

Although the result was small, only $17, within three years the idea had spread to every state. Since 1968, collections have never fallen below $3 million.

"We hope that many adults and children will be participating in National UNICEF Day, 1975," Mrs. Poe commented.

Enact Bicentennial Play

Twenty-one Northville ESY ninth grade students presented the Bicentennial play, "1776", as the program for the fall meeting of District Nine of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs October 12.

At the meeting in Leright's restaurant in Westland, the students enacted the debate between the colonies that preceded the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

The students first performed the play last year as a project of John Whalen's English class at Cooke Middle School. Michelle (Missy) Parrelly was student director.

Costumes were improvised with parents' help.

Meet Your Candidates for Northville City Council

A. MALCOLM ALLEN

THOMAS BONGIOVANNI

For Mayor...

(Elect One)

A. Malcolm Allen
Ago 60, owns and operates Allen Monument Works at 580 South Main Street, has been in the monument business more than 40 years — most of it in Northville, incumbent, was first elected mayor in 1958 after having served 10 years on the council, has served longer than any elected person in Northville's 148 year history, has served on virtually every board or committee in local municipal government, presently is member of Northville Historical District Commission and the Northville Economic Development Corporation, member several professional and civic organizations, he is a widower with two children, lives at 900 Scott.

1. I see a continuously improving department that can better serve both the young and the old. I believe operation by the school system would be the most economical and efficient course, provided adequate funds are earmarked by the school for its operations.

2. Development of a north-south route, by all means. This is the number one road construction priority in the city, and I plan to give it my closest attention during the next two years. The county must be made to recognize the importance of this project.

3. Construction of a new library is essential. Planning must begin immediately. In view of the recent annexation election, however, the city will have to re-evaluate its position regarding the library and other shared services with the township.

4. Any improvement of the CBD must emphasize retention of the area's historical and architectural beauty. We have something that few other communities have, and we should do what we can to improve yet preserve our old downtown buildings. Preservation of historically and architecturally significant buildings is the theme of the Historical District Commission on which I have served for two years.

5. There are few things closer to my heart than the community of Northville. I have enjoyed serving Northville for more than a quarter century and I would consider it a privilege and an honor to serve its citizens for another two years.

Thomas E. Bongiovanni

Age 32, born and raised in Northville, educated in Northville public schools, Cleary Business College, United States Army Communications School, and Schoolcraft College, member of VFW and American Legion posts here, former member of

EDITOR'S NOTE: Candidates for mayor and for two council seats in the City of Northville were asked to submit answers to five specific questions posed by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi.

The questions are:

1. 50 words. What do you see as the future of the recreation department?

2. 50 words. What suggestions would you have to ease traffic congestion in the city?

3. 50 words. What plans should be made for the library when the lease is up at Northville Square?

4. 75 words. What plan do you favor for the development of the Central Business District? Explain your answer.

5. 50 words. Why are you a candidate for the Northville City Council?

Optimist Club, had hair dressing business in Northville for four years, presently employed at Northville Downs, served in Vietnam as a communications specialist, is single, comes from a family that has lived here for 52 years.

1. The recreation department has a basic need if it is to continue serving all the people of Northville. The old community center building, (now the Board of Education Building) should be converted to its original intended use, a city recreation building. We could put it to good use now.

2. The route between Novi Road and Main Street appears to be the main cause of traffic congestion. To prevent needless traffic filtering through the city, an extension of Griswold to Novi Road should be considered. This should also benefit the Historical Village on Griswold because of easier access.

3. There is a committee investigating the possibility of a new up-to-date library building that would serve the citizens of Northville for years to come. I believe that there is a definite need for a library that will be economical, yet will efficiently serve all the needs of Northville.

4. The development of the Central Business District is important. A serious look at a ring road plan with the interior roads partially or entirely closed to automobile traffic is necessary. The former right-of-way could be designed and landscaped to beautify the Central Business District. This would be in keeping with the historical image that Northville has been noted for.

5. Having lived in Northville all my life, I am aware of the conditions as they were, and as they are. The drug problem is out of control, coupled with an increase in vandalism, just to mention a few problems. I would undertake programs to deal with these difficulties and others.

For Councilman

David M. Biery

Age 37, born in Northville, is branch officer in Redford Township for Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, educated in Northville public schools, at Hope College and at American Institute of Banking, elected to city council four years ago, is member of Presbyterian Church, a former officer in Northville Swim Club, former member Northville Zoning Board of Appeals, Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, and Northville Optimist Club (served as president), and now is member of Northwest Detroit Lions Club, is married and has three children, lives at 217 West Dunlap.

1. I feel we have a good active recreation commission and director and I would like to see the department continue to expand so that it will be able to meet the recreation needs for all citizens of all ages.

2. The expressway opening and the eventual widening of Beck Road will help. However, the north-south movement of traffic through the city will continue to be a problem until a north-south bypass is developed. The council is presently waiting for a feasibility study on a bypass to be completed.

3. We cannot wait for the lease to run out. The library commission has to continue planning for the future so that there can be a smooth transition from there temporary home in the Square to a new permanent home hopefully in the same general area.

4. I am in favor of the continuing development and improvement of the CBD so that it can continue to be a viable shopping area able to successfully compete with the shopping centers. I feel this should include development of the central CBD with parking on the perimeter.

DAVID BIERY

STANLEY JOHNSTON

PAUL VERNON

EUGENE WAGNER

5. I have enjoyed serving the city as a councilman for the past four years and I hope the voters will see fit to re-elect me so that I might continue to contribute whatever talent I possess to the improvement of our community.

Stanley J. Johnston

Age 52, born in Morenci, graduated from Morenci High School, served nearly four years in the United States Marine Corps in World War II, graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1950 with a degree in education, was a teacher in Northville seven years until 1959 when entered private business, has lived in Northville more than 23 years, served as recreation director (part-time) for four years while a teacher and coach, served eight years on the Northville Board of Education — two years as president, member of Our Lady of Victory Church, married, lives at 20489 Lexington Boulevard.

1. More study should be given to the proposal that the school district direct the recreational program. As a former recreation director I believe that a school operated program would be advantageous. The schools already own and maintain fine recreational facilities and it has trained personnel to supervise activities.

2. A north-south route on our easterly border has been advocated as a solution to our traffic problem on Center Street. I agree with this. The widening of Center Street would serve only to compound the present problem. Efforts to widen Eight Mile between center and Novi Road should continue.

3. The Library has been pushed around long enough. The City should not wait for the School District and the Township to solve its financial problems before moving ahead. If we wait for this to happen we may never have a new Library.

4. If and when it's needed, expansion should take place on South Center and East Main. I would approach with extreme caution any further commercial development on West Main and North Center. I would be very concerned over any proposal that would detract from our present identity. The focal point of our entire Northville Community is "up-town". Most people like it that way and so do I. The mall concept needs a great deal more study.

5. I served eight years on the Northville Board of Education and I would now like to serve in City government. Several citizens have urged me to be a candidate because of this past experience. Since my business is in Northville I am readily available to all citizens.

Paul R. Vernon

Age 53, employed as national account manager for Allen Testproducts Division of Allen Group, Inc., president of Northville Civic Association four years, served on Zoning Board of Appeals for 3½ years — as vice-chairman for two consecutive terms, has served on the Beautification Commission for five years — chairman for four consecutive terms, elected to city council four years ago, mayor pro-tem for the past two years, has been member of the Historical District Commission for two years — chairman for both years, director of Northwest Wayne County Sanitation Authority — serves as secretary, lives at 1080 Allen Drive, is married, has one daughter and two grandchildren.

1. Recreation Department future very bright. Full time Director employed past year has expanded activities available to all citizens of Northville School District with emphasis on elementary grade children, youth and senior citizens. Plans include community recreation building to complement school and public facilities now in use.

2. Motorists passing through Northville to and from employment generate most congestion. Griswold bypass under study authorized by City Council and planned Beck Road improvement will route traffic around instead of through. Planned widening of North Center-Eight Mile intersection will relieve congestion in that area.

3. Need for library facility to serve rapidly growing community is obvious. Northville Square lease arrangement is temporary until plans for permanent facility are finalized. Library Commission and Blue Ribbon Committee have worked diligently with regular progress reports to City Council that has committed to persevere until new facility becomes reality.

4. CBD as viable community shopping center will drive if it continues to be convenient. Study authorized by City Council indicates need to realign parking and create pedestrian environment to encourage downtown shopping. Fragmentation by neighborhood commercial areas must be discouraged. Efforts to attract complimenting businesses to CBD must be accelerated with continuing sensitivity to shopping needs of entire community.

5. My accomplishments as hard working Councilman for past four years and as Mayor Pro-tem for past two years speak for themselves. I have served as Chairman of Historical District Commission and Chairman of Beautification Commission. I have introduced ordinances to protect our environment and the heritage of Northville but my work is not yet completed.

Eugene R. Wagner

Age 42, born in Dearborn, president of Target International, has B.S. degree in education and has done graduate work — Notre Dame, Black Hills State and University of Maryland, past president of Dearborn Civitan Club, past vice-president of Dearborn Heights Jaycees; member Elks, Dearborn Pioneer Club, past director of Northville Square Merchants Association, chamber of commerce in Dearborn and Westland, Federation of Independent Businessmen, active in U-F and American Cancer Society, former candidates for mayor of Dearborn, for state representative, and for the Northville council, is president of Northville Colts Little League Football Association, married, has six children, lives at 663 Thayer Boulevard.

1. To provide the best rounded, total recreation program that funds available will allow.

2. A one-way loop traffic flow around the perimeter of the Business District. North on Hutton to Dunlap, West on Dunlap to Wing Street, South on Wing to Cady Street, East on Cady (with light at Cady and Center Street) to Church Street, North on Church to Main Street, West on Main to Hutton Street.

3. The Library should remain at the Square. Use the

'Dracula' Practices At Northville High

If bats are reported flying around Northville High School auditorium or if stakes are seen darting to the hearts of screaming victims, don't worry, it's all part of the production of the fall play at Northville High School — Dracula.

"Usually we do a comedy in the fall," Play Director Kurt Kinde said. "This year for a change of pace we decided on a different kind of play."

"This one is the real intense, bats flying through the crowd, people disappearing, stakes through the heart, Dracula," continued Kinde. "It's designed as a suspense thriller."

Ron Jennings has been chosen for the lead role of Dracula.

Rob Buttery is Von Helsing; Doug Webster is John Harker; Joan Valo will play Doctor Seward; LuAnn McElroy will play Lucy

Seward; Amy Vargo will play the maid; and Al Bilinsky will play Buttermilk.

Three evening performances are planned November 19, 21, and 22 at 8 p.m. each night. On Saturday, November 22 there will be a 2 p.m. matinee.

Production of the play is already underway. Kinde said students are still needed to help with props, set crew, and play publicity, however.

Reservations for the play may be made by calling 349-3400 and requesting the date, time, and number of tickets.

There also will be a program printed for the play. Businesses may have their names printed in the program as sponsors for a $15 donation to the theater fund. Names of patrons will also be printed in the program for a $10 donation to the theater fund. Two complimentary tickets will be given for each donation.

Loans Needed

Short-term loan funds are still the first priority of need for financial aid to students at Schoolcraft College.

That was the message John Toney, director of financial aids, delivered to the Schoolcraft College Foundation at its annual meeting.

She Retires At Hospital

Co-workers, friends and family of Mrs. Marguerite Iversen, who is retiring as switchboard supervisor at Northville State Hospital the end of this month, helped her celebrate at a dinner Friday at the Danish Club on Grand River.

Mrs. Iversen, an area resident since 1941, has been a hospital employee 21 years.

She and her husband, Elmer, opened a bakery in Northville's old opera house in 1943, which they operated for five and a half years. He afterward worked for Kroger's and then for the Northville Public Schools, retiring five years ago.

The Iversens lived first on Northville Road, where the Clark gas station now is located, and then lived on Center Street. When the home was sold for the Chatham parking lot, they moved to Ridge Road Mobile Home Park in Plymouth.

Mrs. Iversen received a gift of luggage at the dinner program Friday at which the Reverend George Jerome, hospital chaplain, officiated.

91 Join Gifted Program

Winchester Elementary School hosted the beginning of the CREATE program for gifted elementary students in the Northville schools, October 8 in the Winchester gymnasium.

There are 91 children who have been identified to participate in the program which involves career exploration for the academically talented and gifted.

Students are selected for the program if their IQ tests are high, if they are doing work two years beyond their grade level, or are recommended by their teacher as a talented student. At the Winchester gymnasium the students viewed career displays in the fields of botany, engineering, chemistry, broadcasting, French, German, lapidary art, music, photography, plastics, and veterinary science.

The plan calls for students to report on which field they are interested in and for career centers to be established in the individual schools. The gifted students will work on an individualized basis under the supervision of a parent volunteer.

"The important thing is that these children will then go back to their classrooms and get other children interested in what they are doing," Assistant Superintendent of Northville Schools Florence Panattoni said. "The program brings enrichment to the whole classroom."

The career centers will be staffed by volunteers and the Northville School District will provide materials.

Miss Panattoni said she hopes to have the centers established by the end of November.

Plans Benefit Luncheon

Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters again will hold a "Luncheon Is Served" party to raise funds for its charitable work in Northville and for state projects it supports.

It is being held at 12:30 p.m. next Friday, October 31, at Northville United Methodist Church, 777 West Eight Mile Road.

In conjunction there will be a bake sale under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clifford Rollings and a white elephant table for which Mrs. Paul Beard is chairman.

Mrs. Ruth Starkweather has donated one of her handmade afghans which will be given away that day. Chances may be purchased from Mrs. Wilbur Johnston.

Mrs. Walter Stamann and Mrs. Earl Howser are in charge of table decorations. Many of the foods used in preparing the luncheon will be door prizes, planners announce.

Luncheon tickets at $2 are available from Mrs. Ralph Simons, 349-3287.

AAUW to Meet at NHS

Northville Branch of the American Association of University Women will host Clark Kelly and Dorothy Cole at the November meeting.

Topic for the evening will be Northville Public Schools entering into an agreement with Wayne County Intermediate School District to handle special education for Plymouth Center for Human Development and Northville Residential Center.

Kelly is coordinator of special education for Northville Public Schools while Mrs. Cole is a special education teacher at Plymouth Center.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, November 11, at the Northville High School cafeteria. The group meets the second Tuesday of every month at the high school cafeteria.

Meet Your Wixom Candidates

For Council

(Elect 3)

ROBERT A. DINGELDEY

Age 45, incumbent Robert Dingeldey lives at 2220 Euna. Supervisor, Michigan Bell Telephone. Married, three children, high school graduate with one year of college.

Past president, vice-president and treasurer of the Hickory Hills Civic Association; chairman of the Wixom Feasibility Study Committee; member of the Wixom City Negotiations team for Police Department contracts; delegate to Michigan Municipal League; Wixom representative at Michigan Municipal Conventions; past president of the Wixom Goodfellows; committee member of Boy Scouts. Served three years in the U.S. Coast Guard.

1. Of equal importance are four priorities which I feel should be vigorously addressed:

Recreation—develop to the greatest extent possible the newly acquired park land and construct a network of bike paths linking all corners of the city.

Commercial District—initiate a feasible plan for attracting commercial enterprises. Small businesses might also help build a sense of pride in the community.

Charter Revision—appoint an energetic study committee to evaluate and revise the present charter for voter approval.

City Hall Expansion—Provide the space so urgently needed by city government, the police department and the community as a whole.

2. I do not favor the industrialization of Wixom as the sole foundation for a sound tax base. The Master Plan has dedicated almost half of the total land area of the city to industry. In my opinion, this is far too great. I would rather see the city strive to increase the residential and commercial development areas.

3. The phenomenal financial burden of implementing any of the numerous suggested alternatives to the railroad situation are of such magnitude that the citizens of Wixom would find it impossible to bear them alone. However, regardless of

Editor's Note: In Wixom on November 4, all eyes in the community will be on the council races as incumbent Mayor Val Vangieson will be running unopposed. The council seats of Robert Dingeldey, Melvin Green and Lillian Spencer are all up for grabs. All three incumbents are seeking re-election to the four year terms. In addition, Michael McDonald and Carlton Oldford have also filed. Robert VanZandt is an avowed write-in candidate.

The Novi News contacted all candidates and asked for biographical information as well as 100 word answers to the following questions:

Name the top priorities which the city should address itself to and how do you favor solving them?

Do you favor industrialization of Wixom or a further trend toward residential development?

What alternative do you favor to help solve the critical railroad situation in Wixom?

Following is information about the candidates and their answers to the questions.

which alternative is the most feasible, this situation will remain uncorrected until the city gains the full cooperation of the railroad, county, state and federal governments.

MELVINA GREEN

Age 41, incumbent Melvin Green lives at 29241 Beck Road in Wixom. Works for Western Electric Company in Plymouth.

Married, two sons. Member of the Presbyterian Church where he is a Church Elder, member church worship committee and the church choir. He has a Master's degree in business administration from Michigan State. He has served on the Wixom Planning Commission.

1. The spiraling property tax burden must be brought under control since people of limited resources are literally being taxed out of their homes. Since the community is not in a strong position to significantly influence the tax bill (80 percent being taken by the schools and the county), I feel that Wixom should support Commerce Township's legal action against the state, both financially and as co-plaintiffs.

The city hall-civic center must proceed quickly. The need for additional office space is self evident and I feel that we should build a facility that we all can be proud of, one with a multi-purpose function as library, recreation, public meetings, city facilities, etc. The current plans will accomplish this.

Tax relief for retired persons in need should be implemented through grants or loans to keep people from being taxed out of their homes.

2. Industrialization should proceed according to the Master Plan, confining the growth generally to the area south of Pontiac Trail. Residential growth in this area could too easily take the form of trailer parks, as buffers against the already present heavy industrial zoning in Novi Township.

3. There is currently no alternative to Wixom's railroads that is economically feasible without federal grants. Wixom simply cannot afford the millions that an overpass would require and we all know the C&O will never relocate their switching yard. Being realistic, we will have to learn to live with this problem for some time to come, although the Beck Road extension to Loon Lake Road may alleviate the problem by changing some traffic patterns and reducing traffic on Wixom Road.

MICHAEL L. McDONALD

Age 30, Michael McDonald lives at 2005 Lamella. Chemist at Reichhold Chemical Incorporated of Ferndale.

Married. Science Degree from Schoolcraft Community College. Attended University of Detroit. Member of Detroit Curling Club. Lived in Wixom since 1973.

1. Wixom to present has not experienced a budgetary problem. Money has been abundant through local millage and state and federal sharing. With the present economic problems, the end of abundant funding is near. Local taxes are at a level which cause many homeowners to think twice about any increase, even if necessary. Wixom's first priority is to use collected revenues wisely and plan budgets which give the taxpayer the most for his money. The growing needs of a developing community are also priorities which must be faced. Wixom's future lies in the proper management of its revenue resources and its revenue planning to allow for orderly growth.

2. Wixom's present problems seem to stem from a common error of many growing communities—lack of an outlined development plan. Hit and miss industrial and residential zoning cause problems which often lead to complete disaster. In planning a community development program, many factors come into play. Wixom's planners must look to the county plans and neighboring communities to work out guidelines which allow Wixom's industrial and residential areas to develop in an orderly fashion along larger already developing patterns. To disregard the zoning and planning of neighboring communities and the county will surely limit the planning of Wixom's future.

3. The present situation in Wixom in regard to the railroad is not so much a hazard but a nuisance. The trains seem to block the crossing at the wrong times for everyone. If we would reflect a minute on exactly how much of our time is wasted waiting for a train, we would see it really isn't all that much. The added tax burden to build and maintain a massive overpass, not to mention the destruction of our small town intersection, must be thoroughly examined before any action can take place.

CARLTON S. OLDFORD

Age 53, Carlton Oldford lives at 1959 Charms Road. Married, one son.

Oldford has studied at the University of Detroit. He was the Wixom Building Official from 1972-74 and is currently involved in property management and residential building.

Life member of the N.R.A.; member of Elks Lodge 1968, Independent Order of Foresters and the Michigan Chapter of the International Brotherhood of Building Officials.

1. Priorities are:

a. Reduce taxes on all property.

b. Reduce taxes on senior citizens to a point where they can live in their own home in dignity on Social Security income.

c. The lack of communication between city hall and the citizens.

d. The planning commission should allow a commercial plaza in the south central section of Wixom.

e. Roads.

At the present time, there is a bill in Lansing which would repeal the present constitutional limit of 50 mills and re-establish the limit at 24 mills.

It also repeals the section prohibiting the graduated Income Tax. This bill in its entirety may not be the answer I'm looking for but, I personally think the property tax is regressive, long outdated and totally unrelated to ability to pay.

Communications are bad and I would like to improve them by personal contact.

2. It is my feeling that we do need a shopping plaza of perhaps 10 acres or more, planned and developed within the city. I don't believe in spot zoning a large number of small shops or stores throughout the city and the old downtown area is not the answer. However, commercial does also reduce property tax and add convenience to any city if done properly.

We now have enough multiple and rental units to last this city for some time to come. Let's look toward some businesses to help beautify the city and add to our tax base. More subdivisions such as we are getting now and make the city a model for others to look at and other citizens want to raise their families here.

3. The roads such as Wixom, Pontiac Trail and the C&O Railroad and other badly needed new roads, I do not have the answer. I do know the problem, however. I have a number of ideas but it would take government financing for this city to do anything practical. It should be worked on a continuous basis until the solution is found and the problem solved.

LILLIAN M. SPENCER

Age 62, incumbent Lillian Spencer lives at 51225 Pontiac Trail. Works at Spencer Airport in Wixom, graduate of Carnegie Institute.

Mrs. Spencer belongs to the Wixom Chamber of Commerce, Wixom Historical Society, Wixom Goodfellows, League of Women's Voters. She is a Board member of the Senior and Youth Employment Service, past secretary and treasurer of the Michigan Brown Swiss Association, 4-H Leader for 22 years.

1. The two foremost priorities Wixom should address itself to are the proposed addition to the present City Hall. City government is in dire need of office space and the citizens of Wixom must have a community room with adequate facilities also provided for the library.

A small shopping center would be a welcome addition to the city. It could help to create a sense of unity and independence.

2. I favor a well balanced community. Industry should be confined to the set boundaries of the Master Plan. More single family homes and restrict the number of multiple dwellings. We must try to find a way to preserve our open space and plan for adequate recreation area.

3. I agree Wixom has a critical railroad problem. The council has been studying this problem for some time. The Master Plan indicates a ring road, but all solutions will be so costly that it would be an incomprehensible burden on the citizens of Wixom. The only way to accomplish this tremendous task is to get the total cooperation of the County, State and Federal governments.

ROBERT VANZANDT

Age 24, avowed write-in candidate Robert VanZandt lives at 48240 Pontiac Trail, Apartment 102. Works at Holloway Construction Company. Associates Degree from Ferris State College and a Bachelor of Science in education from Central Michigan University where he was a political science major. VanZandt is married and has one daughter. Internal director of the Wixom Jaycees, Jaycee sponsored Wixom Red Cross Blood Bank, member of the Environmental Studies Committee. Boys Club director of the Chippewa Big Brother and Sister Program, chapter president of the Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity; officer in the Lambda Chi Alpha National Social Fraternity; Precinct delegate, Royal Oak.

1. The City Charter must be revised to once again provide the city with a workable tool in administering city affairs. The following points must be investigated:

A. Revision election qualifications;
B. Residency requirements for appointed city officials;
C. Establishment of the City Manager and definition of his duties;

D. The office of Mayor should be extended to three years.

We need definite action to correct any possible deficiencies in the city charter. I firmly support the expense of a special election to bring about any deemed necessary revisions.

2. I am for a suspension on the building of any additional multiple dwelling units in the city. The city must establish a committee to investigate the various problems connected with multiple dwelling units. I believe the physical structure of a complex can hinder or aid in crime prevention. The opinions of the fire department and police department should be sought in approval or rejection of proposed floor plans of multiple dwelling units. These units should be inspected on a quarterly basis by the city, this will enable the city to establish some control to prolong the quality of all multiple dwelling complexes.

3. The railroad situation must be solved. It seems that as time goes by, the trains stand still blocking the intersections and causing possible problems in emergencies as well as everyday situations. The city must start enforcing any laws that dictate the amount of time a train can lawfully block an intersection. I am for establishing an additional bypass and/or extension track which would be constructed for the halting of intersection blockage. An overpass not only would be too costly, but it would take too much space to provide an adequate upgrade for the overpass.

For Mayor

(Unopposed)

VAL C. VANGIESON

Age 42, incumbent Mayor Val Vangieson lives at 50498 Pontiac Trail. Married, two daughters and two sons.

A veterinarian with own practice in Wixom, also Director of Epidemiology for the Wayne County Health Department. Bachelor of Science degree, Doctor of Veterinary Medicine and a Masters of Public Health degree. Member of Rotary Club and Veterinary Association.

1. a. Railroad and road crossings with resulting traffic congestion (see third question),
b. Lack of a true Commercial district: With our increasing population, we are now in a more favorable position to attract Commercial. In the past, we were told our area could not support certain businesses. I plan to appoint a committee which includes a member of Council, Planning Commission, local business and the mayor's office to solicit Commercial for

c. More available space for community activities: It is time we expand facilities at City Hall for Community activities. This type of physical plant is surely needed to meet increasing demands of our citizens.

2. Development of presently planned lands should give a balance to the city in future years. I would, at this time, have to state my strong arguments to the contrary to change my opinion. I especially believe that any reduction of individual family dwellings would be a disservice to the city.

3. An overpass is the only logical answer, either as a result of a ring road or one located on Beck Road in a proposed industrial area. The biggest question raised would be the method of financing. Because of the many communities this would serve, I believe Federal, State, County and City monies should be utilized. We have been trying for this type of aid but have met with blank walls in all directions.

Alcohol Awareness Topic for Seminar

A three-part Alcohol Awareness Program, sponsored by the 35th District Court and the Northville Jaycees, will be held three consecutive Tuesdays in November.

Sessions will begin at 8 p.m. on November 4, 11 and 18 in the 35th District Court in Plymouth City Hall. The court is located on the second floor at 201 South Main Street in Plymouth.

Programs are open to the public and anyone curious about alcohol and its effects on the human mind and body is welcome to attend. Questions will be answered concerning treatment facilities available in the Northville area.

The first session, on November 4, will concern pharmacology of alcohol and the progression of alcohol. Speaker will be Dr. Frank Hollingsworth, Ph.D., executive director of Friendship House in Bay City.

On November 11, a panel composed of two members of AA and two members of Alanon will discuss how alcohol affected their lives

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Next Monday (October 27) may be the government's designated "Veteran's Day", but as far as members of Northville's American Legion Post are concerned Veteran's Day is still November 11.

And that's when they'll stage their annual Pancake Breakfast at the Legion Hall.

For about the 15th consecutive year, Postmaster John Steimel will be serving up the juice, pancakes, sausage and hot coffee. Commander Tom Madgwick, Louie Katzebeck and Charley Buttermore will be on kitchen detail, too.

With the help of Charley Freydl, Sr., Steimel recalls that the Veteran's Day breakfast has been a tradition in Northville for about 40 years.

It started out as a family get-together in the old "Dugout" on Main Street. Later the Legion offered the breakfast free to veterans. Now there's a nominal charge.

Five years ago I wrote a column on the poor turnout after I had attended the Legion's Veteran's Day Pancake Breakfast.

The column is repeated below with a reminder that Tuesday, November 11 is coming up soon. The Legion Hall is located at the corner of Center and Dunlap streets.

Why not stop by any time after 6:30 a.m. for breakfast, a little fellowship and a silent tribute to those veterans who never returned.

I can remember when you couldn't squeeze into the basement dining area of the American Legion hall for breakfast on November 11. And when you did, there'd be a dozen familiar faces.

On the surface it was a time for kidding, an early-morning get-together before going to work. But it was a tribute, too. The kind that most, who would rather forget about the service, wars, uniforms and military discipline, make to the guys they knew, however briefly, who didn't luck out.

The songs they're writing these days carry a different tune and "when Johnny comes marching home again" has heard its last hurrah.

The tables at the American Legion hall were nearly empty Wednesday morning, but one of the Legionnaires waiting on tables lied that "the crowd has been steady".

Wednesday I thought about two of my friends in the service (we were boys in '44) who never won any medals for heroism but gave everything they had and deserve at least a moment's memory by someone other than their families.

One was a Catholic and the other a Jew. Not that this made any difference and probably none of us would have known, except that the Catholic embarrassed the rest of us by kneeling at this bunk every night and praying, and the Jew had the appearance and name associated with his religion.

Vince Kraut, the Catholic, was a 19-year-old from Philadelphia. He acted tough and looked underfed. He dove his P-47 right to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Florida.

Seymour Sobole was the Jew. He was from Detroit and I still remember the time in Florida at primary pilot training when his Dad visited him. They seemed like a lonesome couple.

Because of his initials, and his appearance, I guess, Seymour was tagged "Sad Sack", a familiar character in a popular wartime army news magazine.

He roomed with me through much of our training and I admired his intelligence and his driving desire to succeed. He was the first cadet in our primary class to solo, an honor of which he was quietly proud. Unexplainably, probably because of his intense desire, he was later washed out.

I'll never forget Seymour because of one incident. It happened on a troop train when we were being transported from pre-flight training to primary. It was hot and crowded. And for lack of anything better to do some of the loud mouths were picking on "the Sad Sack".

Finally, it became unbearable and Seymour, a whopping 150-pounder, stood up and challenged his tormentor. You could hear the silence in our car and you could feel the tension radiating from every pore in Seymour's body.

The loud mouth never moved and Seymour wasn't a "Sad Sack" anymore.

After he washed out as a pilot, Seymour became a navigator. When I returned home after the war, I read his name in a list published in a Detroit newspaper... "Lt. Seymour Sobole, navigator, shot down, Pacific theater".

There are a lot of Vince Krauts and Seymour Soboles who might have been the mayors, lawyers, merchants or reporters in our towns today.

And on November 11 we should pause to remember these "teenagers" of the past. Brush-cuts, praying and fighting, they compare favorably in my book with the peace marchers of today.

Student Views Meads Mill

To the Editor:

I'm an Eight grade student at Meads Mill Middle School. I read Mr. R. Stovers letter in the Record last week, and I agree totally. I've rewritten Mr. R. Stovers article in my own words and here's my point of view about Meads Mill School. I hope you would consider publishing this because it speaks for not only me but many students.

Trying to learn at Meads Mill School is like trying to get homework done with thirty people talking to you at the same time. Being in the pods is twice as bad because then it's like one hundred and fifty people crammed all together and trying to work. For instance this is how messed up our school is:

Half of our teachers are teaching subjects they're not experienced in. I really fell sorry for those teachers who even went to college and majored for a special class and ended up with another. Most all of us kids are used to specific teachers for subjects, but now they're all mixed up. Gym teachers are teaching science and math, and art teachers are teaching English. We kids really suffer the most though. It's just like being shoved on a bus and shipped to the nearest place that's open and has room. Even though Meads Mill doesn't have the room, the school board members must just say it'll be okay.

Most of us kids also won't get enough of the education we need this last year in Jr. High in order to get us through High School or finding a good job. We're the ones who really suffer as well as the teacher who gets tossed about.

What we really need is another school instead of this overcrowded place they call "Meads Mill". The real problem is that the people say the public won't spend anymore money on the school system, but yet they'll spend extra to see the football games this fall. We ask ourselves which do we really need for us kids, proper education or sports?

I hear that many people don't like Mr. Spear and his ideas, so they're not willing to spend anymore money on the system. They act like they don't care, but it's hurting us in a terrible way.

Maybe I and some of the YES . . .

YEA! Stop further investigations of the C.I.A.! It can serve no useful purpose other than to further the political ambitions of certain Congressional and Senatorial investigators.

The leaking of classified documents given these investigators have no place on the front pages of the newspapers. They are damaging to the national security of our nation.

Agents in other countries where there are no "Showcase" forms of government, are afraid to assist the CIA for fear of exposure. This assistance is needed, and a line of communications is a must for our nation to survive.

Since the beginning of time, one form or another has existed for this very purpose of intelligence gathering. Every major power in the world today has agents spread out all over the globe for the sole purpose of spying and usurping governments.

People screamed when they were made aware that a plot had been discovered to assassinate Castro, yet Castro had no qualms at all about attempting to place missiles in his country with the idea in mind to wipe out thousands here in the United States.

I believe the CIA should be accountable to another governmental agency to complete the checks and counterchecks set up in a republic such as ours, and if wrongdoing is found it will be made public without the sensationalism often accompanying a blaring headline.

Speaking for Myself

Stop CIA Investigation?

NO . . .

Not to seem ungrateful, but I had no intention of writing in this column on this or any other topic. I am doing it because I recognized a kindred desperation in the voice of the person who asked me.

The hearings being held on the conduct of the CIA seem a little tame in comparison to the Nixon humiliation. Just as with Nixon, the hearings have tended to confirm what we have known all along: there is a powerful element in the intelligence community which is mesmerized by its own gadgetry and is preoccupied with its own rigid and regressive view of human events.

They seem like fools to be suffered as yet another price of our complex world society. They are in reality dangerous people who believe they are not constrained by the same principles of law and justice as the rest of us.

So the hearings should continue until the full extent of the agency's illegal acts is known. Such acts committed in the name of patriotism are the real threat to national security.

It occurs to me that I am now a likely candidate for one of their lists regardless of my motivation to write this piece.

The congressional investigations should continue until we can array all the CIA's marvelous lists in front of us and then begin to draw the obvious conclusions.

Abraham Lincoln was not yet president of the United States when the Detroit House of Correction, now located partly in Northville Township and partly in Plymouth Township, went to the drawing boards. In fact, Lincoln had not begun the famous Douglas Debates when Detroit Mayor Oliver Moulton Hyde recommended establishment of the jail in the spring of 1857.

It wasn't until March 15, 1861, that the Michigan legislature finally voted establishment of the "workhouse," however. By then construction was already underway. The buildings were completed on July 6, 1861 and Z. R. Brockway took over the admission of the first prisoners.

The Detroit House of Correction of 1861 was not originally located in Northville, of course. The first buildings were located in Detroit in a three block area encompassing part of what had been the old city cemetery — bounded by Division, Wilkins, Russell and Riopelle streets.

During the Civil War and in the years succeeding until 1885, prisoners were housed in the Detroit House of Correction from throughout Michigan and United States territories. A law enacted in 1885 prohibited the housing of any prisoners not from Michigan. Nevertheless, the number of prisoners at the time stood at approximately 585, of which one-seventh were females.

Fifty-nine years after the opening of the prison, Detroit moved the facilities into the country — the first city in the nation to undertake a "country prison" of such a large scale. To superintend the move Detroit chose Edward Denniston of Kansas City, perhaps the most renowned penal expert in the nation at the time.

Utilizing prisoners for the work, Denniston turned the rolling countryside along Five Mile Road into a magnificent, 800-acre prison farm in little more than a year's time. Men lived in tents during the first year of construction, and even after the initial dormitory building was completed some of them still were housed in tents. Nevertheless, there were relatively few escapes and, in fact, there was a waiting list of men who wanted to be moved from Detroit to the country prison.

Upon being returned to the farm, an escaped prisoner was required to wear a blue jean blouse, containing the conspicuous printed label, "I tried to escape." Within a day or two he was returned to Detroit, never to get another chance at "the open air reformatory."

By the mid '20's, the Detroit House of Correction was acclaimed one of the finest institutions of its kind in the world. Then, in the spring of 1926, Detroit announced expansion of the facility. An 180 acre farm on the opposite side of Five Mile Road, in Northville Township, was purchased and construction of prison buildings to a house a "colony of women" was begun.

Architect for the women's prison, which featured English style cottages, was Albert Kahn.

Duplex Rezoning Gets Wixom OK

The developer will begin work on 25 acres as the first phase. The motion to rezone the property was approved 3-2 on the strength of Mayor Val Vangieson's tiebreaking vote. Dingeldey and Fred Morehead were opposed to the rezoning while Jim Lahde and Gunnar Mettala favored it. Council also approved unanimously the rezoning of a five acre piece of property at 12 Mile and Beck Road owned by Thunderbird Day Camp. According to a representative of the day camp, the camp has received an offer to purchase that property from Monroe Electric of Redford contingent on the rezoning of that property from RA-2 (single family residential) to M-1 (light industrial district). The company plans to use the parcel as a base of operations and for a warehouse. Council also authorized the city auditor to set up a separate fund for the Wixom Library. Council also approved putting $18,420 into the library fund. That amount was included in the budget. Council gave Assitant to the Mayor Bernard VanOsedale permission to apply for Title 10 funds to be used primarily to construct bicycle paths within the city or for other "labor intensive projects." According to Van Osdale, $1.5 million will be provided by the federal government to Oakland County to be divided up by 95 jurisdictions there. The money is to be used 75 percent for labor and 25 percent for cost of materials. Council also heard from Ed Rose and Sons, developer of Village Apartments over a drainage problem there which the city in an earlier agreement had agreed to help. A representative told the council Village Apartments has been unable to ascertain an agreement for right-of-way to put in a drainage pipe to drain off three feet of water to the Norton Drain which accumulates in a drainage basin on the property. They charge that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, which had been located in Wixom many years, had sealed off the natural drainage course. The C&O wanted a 30 inch drain to help solve problems that were there before Village Apartments, the representatives charged. Ed Rose and Sons wanted to construct only a 15 inch drain. The city had previously agreed to help ascertain right-of-way. Council agreed to discuss the matter at a special study session. DPW superintendent Robert Trombley told council that cost of a pump and related equipment for pumping out basements of homes would cost $730. He recommended against getting involved with pumping because, "I think the city is getting into something it may not be able to handle." He noted that the pump weighs 70 pounds and would take two men plus a supervisor to handle. He noted that some damage to a house could be caused by the pump. Question of providing a pump had arisen when councilmembers noted that power failures had caused water to back-up in basements. Trombley stated that not only would there have to be six inches of water on the ground for the pump to work, "If the lights are out 48 hours, you're going to have to have someone there 48 hours." Councilman Dingeldey contended that "this is a service that should be offered to residents." The matter was referred back to the fire department for consideration because the council indicated that the fire department, not the DPW would handle the pump if the city decided to buy it.

Plant Hosts

Drop-in Center

The Walled Lake School District and the Wixom Ford plant began a new experiment in adult education this fall. Called a Drop-In Learning Center, the program provides workers the opportunity to participate in high school completion and/or G.E.D. preparation classes in an individualized instructional program. The plant's center is open Monday through Friday from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m. providing workers with the opportunity to come in early or stay late for their studies. "This way going to school doesn't even cost them the price of gasoline," the district's Regional Co-ordinator, Larry Barlow said. The classes are free to students and qualify a person to collect Veteran's benefits.

News From Lansing

By R. Robert Geake
State Representative

It appears that the new Political Reform Act will be opened up this fall for several amendments, both technical and substantive.

The first problem to be corrected in the new Public Act 227 should be to allow groups such as the League of Women Voters, Civic Searchlight, the Urban Alliance, etc. to participate in ballot issue questions, even though they are non-profit corporations. These groups were accidentally prohibited from such activity in the rush to pass the bill before the summer recess.

The most reasonable approach would be to create a separate section for voter information committees or organizations and give them exemption under Section 95 which controls corporations, both profit and non-profit.

Republicans will be pushing this fall for two other important changes. The first would eliminate the so-called "Cooper Amendment" which allows unlimited transfers of funds between labor unions, thus permitting statewide labor organizations to funnel large amounts of money into specific legislative districts in order to elect or defeat key lawmakers.

The second change would eliminate the prohibitions found in the corporations section preventing corporation political action committees from contributing to ballot question committees or other political committees. However, it goes without saying that these two proposals will meet with a great deal of opposition from the Democrats.

It is also my hope that general Republican-Democratic agreement can be reached on reducing the coverage of the financial disclosure provisions for public officials. As the act is presently written, it will require approximately 25,000 public officials throughout the state to file financial disclosure statements, plus an additional 130,000 statements from candidates for elected office.

However, there seems to be an indication that there can be movement towards a local option provision so that the number of local officials covered could be scaled down considerably, at least in the initial stages of the act and that local government would have some control over who must file disclosure statements.

In addition, there may be a move to increase the $15 floor on the minimum campaign contribution which must be reported by name and address of contributor to $50.00. This is being encouraged by Common Cause and also editorially by one of the Detroit daily papers. Democrats may be expected to support the proposal. During the floor debate on the bill in August the Republicans favored a $0 floor, making all contributions reportable, then compromised on the $15 figure.

I have mailed detailed summaries of the new act to all elected officials on the Northville City Council, Northville Township Board, and Northville School Board as well as to many appointive officials for their comments. I have a few copies left which I would be happy to send to anyone who requests one.

Council Rents Store

Novi Council has approved using a building at 12 Mile and Novi Roads as location for a new meeting place which could be used by various boards and commissions, as well as for storage. The building was previously "Herb's Sales and Service" but was purchased by Dayton-Hudson. Though the building will soon be unused, Dayton-Hudson has indicated to the city that the building will not be torn down for at least two or three years.

In a report to the city council, City Manager Ed Kriewall recommended that the building be used by the city. Dayton-Hudson has agreed to allow the city to do so.

Various rooms in the establishment would be used for differing purposes if the recommendation of the city manager is followed.

The city manager recommended the following uses:

Showroom—meeting place for special council and study sessions and use by other city boards;

Family Room—conference room for the administration when the manager's office is inadequate from a size standpoint. Council study meeting facility. Committee meeting facility;

Machine Shop—storage for water department copper and brass goods. Storage for DPW out of season equipment;

Living Room and Dining Room—Location for Historical Society or Bicentennial office;

Bedroom one—building department field office for Dayton-Hudson project; Bedroom two—Johnson and Anderson field office; Bedroom three—other office.

Cost to the city for use of the building would be for utilities and insurance.

'Voters Were Punished'

To the Editor:

Two months ago, the voters of the Northville School District defeated a 2.6 mill tax increase requested by the school board by a substantial majority. In effect the voters said that they cannot afford the luxury of half-full schools for everyone's convenience, nor can they tolerate the business-as-usual attitude of the school administration during the current economic squeeze.

Instead of evaluating the minimum efficient space and teaching needs of the school district, and acting to do the best job possible with the available resources, the administration promptly moved to punish the rebellious voters and their children by closing three schools and creating the present overcrowded conditions. Many educational courses were dropped and "keep-the-students-busy" type activities were substituted. The whole thing leaves us with a hostile attitude toward tax increases when there are obvious solutions which are being rejected by the school administration.

It should be obvious that the cost of opening only one more school building would be minimal. We have the building, the administrative staff and the teachers now. The only additional cost should be heat, electricity and custodial care. Some of this cost would be offset by decreased busing of students back and forth between schools. This may also require shifting some grades from the high school to the middle school and the middle school to the elementary; but let's get on with the job if that is what is required to live within the current available revenue.

We are tired of being asked to finance the business-as-usual and we can't do that attitudes of the school administration, and we are sickened by the current punishment form of blackmail. The job can be done within present income if the administration would start to think "can," instead of "we don't want to change."

We taxpayers must live within our incomes. No one gives us an increase in salary every time we ask. Until the school administration demonstrates a positive attempt to live within the available revenue by trying all possible forms of cost reduction and reorganization, we are going to vote no to tax increase requests.

Donald C. Young Jr.

Mayors to Speak

To the Editor:

Being elected to the Novi Charter Commission almost a year and many meetings ago, I would like to help generate more interest to the citizens of our charter meetings.

Our last meeting of October 14, we heard Mr. William Carter, with "Citizen's Research Council of Michigan" in Detroit. They have an office in Lansing also and have been involved in rechartering charters since 1917. So it was a very, very interesting study session in the structuring of City government.

Novi has some very good charter provisions, but there is also some bad charter drafting that needs changing. Mr. Carter told us of the four different forms of Municipal government — "The Commission Form", "The Weak Mayor Form", "The Council-Manager Form" and "The Strong Manager Form". Three of those forms are tied together in the present charter, thereby creating confusion in the performance of government.

Our next meeting of October 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the administration building on Taft Road, our speaker will be Livonia's Mayor, Ed McNamara. Aside from the form of government, Livonia has had many attempts to amend their charter. The structure of their charter is very different so it also should be a very interesting meeting.

In the future meetings of November and December, Mayor Gene McKinny of Westland and Troy's Mayor Frank Gerstanecher will be speaking.

Last but not least, I think the Novi Citizens should know that three of our council people have attended some of our meetings, so I would personally like to thank Romaine Roethel, Louie Campbell and Martha Hoyer. They have been at many meetings so I feel it's important to say, "I appreciate your time, interest and input at our charter meetings." Again I say "Thank you."

Respectfully,
Barbara Shoemaker

Is there anything more important in life than your child? Do you take pride in the fact that he is bright, beautiful and healthy?

Much of this can be attributed to the care you have given him, plus the gigantic progress made in the field of science and medicine wherein such diseases as polio, diphtheria, small pox, scarlet fever, German measles, mumps, etc., have been controlled.

A few weeks ago over nineteen million dollars was raised by Mr. Jerry Lewis and his great organization. You and millions of other good people made this possible for Jerry's "Kids" who have muscular dystrophy. This letter is not an appeal for donations. We, concerned parents of the Michigan Association for emotionally disturbed children are offering you an opportunity to help these misunderstood, unfortunate children, wherein you and these children will benefit in a practical, loving way.

For the first time the Hawthorn Chapter of M.A.E.D.C. is going to have several tables at Westland Center on November 7, 8 and 9. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

They gave an opportunity to see and buy the many, many handmade gifts we have spent months making.

We have something to offer for all ages — from infants to grandparents such as non-allergenic stuffed toys, puppets, appliqued seat shirts, baby sweaters, quilted Christmas stockings, quilted purses, smocks, terrariums, and much more and all at very reasonable prices.

Emotional illness is, in my opinion, the forgotten disease. It robs these children of their self esteem and pride and from personal experience I can honestly say it makes a person feel downright rotten! The Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children works throughout the year, without the help of Hollywood stars or other celebrities to help these children.

Will you please mark the dates mentioned above on your calendar, come to Westland with some friends to see the gift items we have so proudly made?

Thank you for the hundredth time,

Supports Novi Bike Millage

To the Editor:

A millage proposal to build bicycle trails will be on the next Novi election ballot.

We would strongly urge that Novi voters support this question as strongly as possible.

Building even a starter system of trails as proposed would alleviate many of the traffic problems involving bicyclists, promote safety for the bicyclists, and be accomplished at a relatively low cost.

Again, vote yes.

minimum sentence rather than from the maximum sentence.

Crimes covered would include murder, armed robbery, rape, kidnapping and sexual assault.

Patterson pointed out that while 43 states have "good time" laws, "only four take the time off the minimum sentence as is done in Michigan. The rest take it off the maximum sentence."

He explained that the parole board maintains "good time" is necessary to keep order in prisons.

Patterson pointed out that "good time" does two things — "It drastically undercuts sentences of judges and its operation automatically reduces sentences, making it responsible for the premature release on parole of people who are still very dangerous."

He emphasized that it makes prisoners "mathematically eligible for parole, whether or not they are rehabilitated."

Regular "good time" is written into Michigan law. In addition, Patterson explained, there is a "special good time off" which is not automatic but is given as credit at the discretion of the warden.

For example, a sentence of 10 years, automatically is reduced to seven years and six months, but with special time can be reduced as far as six years and four months. A sentence of 30 years automatically becomes 18 years and eight months but may be reduced as low as 13 years and one month with special time off.

Patterson noted that "Of those prisoners released on parole in 1968, 46.1 percent of them were back in prison by 1972. How can you operate a business with a 46.1 percent rate of failure?" he asked the audience.

The prosecutor, who has been in office since January, 1973, cited six cases, including one last January in Northville, in which persons were murdered in Oakland County by parolees released through the "good time" law.

In one case, the parolee committed five capital crimes within 12 days after being let out on parole, ending with the parolee being shot by Livingston County Sheriff's Deputies during a robbery. It was after that case that Patterson's office began taking the Parole Board to task. "They admitted they were wrong in paroling this prisoner. Having admitted they are wrong would have satisfied me if they would have tightened up on who was being paroled."

But Patterson said the story of parolees committing rapes, murders and robberies repeated itself again and again. Finally, his office sued the Parole Board.

Patterson contends that "When the state created the Parole Board, it should have set up the guidelines. If an agency is allowed to set its own rules, it becomes its own little legislature which constitutes an unconstitutional delegation of authority."

He added that when prisoners are "cut loose 21 years early from their sentence, you're bound to read headlines in the paper of parolees committing violent crimes."

"People convicted of violent crimes are returned to society before their time not because they are rehabilitated but because of the 'good time' law," Patterson emphasized.

One County for City?

voters in both counties.

Since enactment of the 1974 law, only one city has managed to win readjustment of boundaries — and that was the City of New Baltimore. (It was New Baltimore for which the new law was originally conceived, but before adoption it was modified to apply to all cities located in more than one county.)

New Baltimore's switch by vote in November, 1974, was a landmark decision.

According to State Senator, Milton Zaagman of Grand Rapids, who along with Senator John Bowman of Roseville introduced the bill that was enacted into law June 20, 1974, Northville is one of seven Michigan cities that lie in two or more counties.

The cities are: Holland (Allegan and Ottawa counties); Brown City (Lapeer and Sanilac); Lansing (Ingham, Eaton and Clinton); Memphis (St. Clair and Macomb); Midland (Bay and Midland); Milan (Monroe and Washtenaw); and Northville.

At last year's election, voters in St. Clair and Macomb approved a proposal which places the entire city of New Baltimore in Macomb. Until last year, New Baltimore, like Northville, was located in two counties.

"It was a long, hard struggle to resolve the problem," New Baltimore Clerk Terea Orczykowski told this newspaper following the 1974 election. She said other legislation and methods of giving New Baltimore single-county status were considered and abandoned over the years.

"I remember talking with your clerk, Mrs. Milne (the late Martha Milne) about the problems you run into when you are part of two counties.

"Here one of the chief complaints has been the difference in millage in the two sections of the city. Another major problem has been county services. We are 30 miles from Port Huron, which is the county seat of St. Clair, and we are 10 miles from Mt. Clemens, which is the county seat of Macomb.

"Elections... completely different slates of candidates... are hard to administer, and for the people they are awfully confusing. Another problem is the court system... you go to one court if you live in one place and to another if you live in the other."

Several years ago, according to Mrs. Orczykowski, an advisory vote in New Baltimore clearly indicated that the residents of the city preferred the one-county status.

Mrs. Orczykowski emphasized that New Baltimore's petition for single county status "was not a negative question. The question considered was the same in both counties: Shall

2nd Hearing Set

A proposal to change the zoning of the recently city purchased Eastlawn Convalescent Center property will be aired at a second public hearing on Monday, November 3.

The November hearing was ordered by the city council following a recommendation the boundary line of Macomb County be adjusted to include the entire city of New Baltimore."

Approximately one-quarter of the 5,000 residents of New Baltimore (at the time) lived in the St. Clair County portion of the city.

By city council resolution, New Baltimore requested the two counties to place the proposal on their ballots and they (counties) "had to be responsive to our request. It didn't require approval of the county boards. It did, though, mean that voters of both counties had to approve the question."

In commenting on the sequence of events in New Baltimore, City Manager Steven Walters said the council may want to conduct a straw vote in Northville, following his report, to determine the feeling of the people about possible readjustment before it is formally placed on the county ballots.

Placement on the county ballots requires the petition of 10 percent of the registered electors of Northville, or it may be formally requested without petitioning by city council resolution.

Tax Fears Defeat Annexation Issue

disappointed that the township did not see the long range benefits of a merger of the two governments.

"Financially, however, the township's decision will have little impact on the city," he continued. "The chief concern of the city at this point, is whether the township will be able to continue financing shared services, such as library, recreation and the fire department, in view of its financial problems."

"Most township officials are worried about continuing these services because of the township citizens' reluctance to finance them. By next spring financing by the township is expected to reach a very critical stage. What happens then is anybody's guess."

Mrs. Duane Hamlin of Meade Street said she "was very happy" about the annexation defeat. "We didn't want our taxes at least doubled, and we didn't think the services they offered were worth the tax increase."

"We had mixed reactions," said Mrs. Frank Haynes of Highland Lakes. "We didn't vote, but if we had I would have voted against annexation while my husband would have voted for it. I believed our taxes would have gone up too much, and he thought the services we would receive would be worth the tax increase. A vote by us wouldn't have meant much either way."

Mrs. Victor Jarvis of Woodhill Road, west of the city, said "I'm glad it turned out the way it did. You see, we happen to like our water here and had annexation passed we were afraid we would have had city water."

Mrs. Stewart Kissinger of Innsbrook, off Seven Mile Road, said she and her husband "were disappointed. We were convinced annexation would have been the best thing for the township."

Mrs. John Hallman, a township resident in Kings Mill, said she and her husband are relatively new residents of the township and depended a good deal on the advice of neighbors and those registering them. "Nearly everyone with whom we spoke was very much against annexation... our vote reflected their arguments."

There simply were no advantages "for us," said Mrs. Donald Graham of Franklin Road. "None of the arguments for annexation showed us we would benefit... so I was glad the way it turned out."

Mrs. Daniel Friend, another Kings Mill resident, agreed with Mrs. Graham. "We were kind of glad we were not annexed," she said. "We didn't feel there was any benefit to it."

"I personally feel that if the township needs money it should ask us for it. I don't like the idea of them raising our taxes without asking... and that's what it would have meant with the city charter."

Lois Walker, a proponent of annexation who lives in Highland Lakes, takes the position that the township board will have to develop a priority list of services. To that end, she has suggested that a survey of township citizens be taken to determine what services the township now has should be expanded or curtailed.

"Personally, in view of the gravity of the situation I think expansion of the fire department is essential, even if it means abolishment of the police department. I have nothing against the policemen; they are doing a fine job. But priority wise, in my opinion the fire department is the most important service we now have. The only problem is that there isn't enough of it; it has to be expanded."

"Quite frankly, I don't think the people will support any millage in the township. In fact, I'm afraid the people's thinking on annexation may have a negative impact on the school millage proposal. I hope not, and I will work towards its passage. But I'm worried."

"I've heard talk about incorporation of the township, but I would oppose any movement like that. It's stupid... a costly duplication of government."

Mrs. Roger Kolassa of Ridge Road was "very happy" with the election turnout because, in her opinion, annexation would have substantially increased taxes without a corresponding increase in services.

"It stands to reason, it seems to me, that you couldn't have all those services they talked about without a large increase in taxes. I just couldn't go along with that kind of talk," she said.

Another person who was "happy" with the election decision was Mrs. Gus Kolb of Franklin Road.

Mrs. Robert Lackey of Northville Commons said she hoped annexation would pass. She voted for the merger, she said, "because I believe we would have had more efficient government than we now have under the township. Also, I think our services would have been improved."

Although she had voted for annexation the first time it came up two years ago, Mrs. Timothy Lake was "completely undecided this time."

A resident in the southern section of the township, she said she was so confused by the issues this time that she decided not to cast a vote either way.

Mrs. William R. Lucas, a senior citizen living in Innsbrook, said "we were dumbfounded by the result of the election. We thought it would be close at least, even though we hoped annexation would be turned down. It was close the last time.

"Of course, taxes were the big issue. Although it wouldn't have hurt us much... we have a pension on which to live... but we felt it would hurt other older citizens who must live on social security. And it seems to me that young people also would be hurt."

"I was surprised by the number of people who voted, by absentee ballots like we did. There were a lot of people at the post office when we went in to mail ours. I guess, our two votes didn't mean much... it passed by such a big number."

Another Highland Lakes resident, Kenneth Miller, said the decision "was all right by me. I think if we need services we should take care of them ourselves (under township government). I know my taxes are going to go up, but I'd rather pay them to the township and take care of our own backyard — not the city."

The Carl Knoths, who live on Thornapple off Sheldon Road, were another couple who probably would have split their votes had they gone to the polls.

"We are not yet citizens of the United States," said Mrs. Knoth, "so we could not vote. Had we been able to, I would have voted for annexation because I think for the future of our community a single government is the only way to go."

"My husband, on the other hand, is more persuaded by what happens to the pocketbook. Our taxes are high now, so I think if he had voted he would have been against annexation because it would have meant an increase in our taxes."

Alcoholic Priest Wants to Expand Rehabilitation Unit

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

He would have made a good drill sergeant...demanding, spit and polish, tough as nails.

Instead he's a begging priest from Canada, whose mother was so rich "she didn't count her money, she weighed it."

He's a former professional hockey player who still plays non-professionally two or three nights a week in Livonia (without the cleric collar), a former boxer, and an ex-professional football player.

And he's an alcoholic with a mission.

The mission of Father Vaughan Quinn, who took the vow of poverty with the Oblates of Mary Immaculate order, is to expand the Sacred Heart Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center in Detroit's inner city by utilizing the now vacant Wayne County Child Development Center in Northville Township.

He has submitted a proposal to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to lease the huge complex of buildings and land, located on Sheldon Road near Five Mile, and it, together with another lease proposal made by a consortium of Schoolcraft College and Wayne State University are now under study.

Father Quinn's proposal is backed by the Michigan Department of Social Services.

If successful, he plans to operate the much larger Northville facility the same way he and his staff of 48, mostly alcoholics, operate Sacred Heart in Detroit — a strict regimen of total abstinence, rigorous physical and mental exercise, and 17 weeks of counseling, group therapy, lectures and films.

If Sacred Heart is awarded the lease for the Northville facility it will continue to also operate the present center.

Major difference in the Northville facility will be the fact that it will accommodate larger numbers (300 or more); it will treat female alcoholics as well as male alcoholics. Presently, only males are admitted to Sacred Heart. They come by choice, by pleas of family and friends and by strong suggestion of police and court.

Also, the Northville facility will emphasize job training.

Sacred Heart downtown will be primarily a drunk tank...the drying out center during those critical first few days when a man begins taking the cold turkey cure.

A regular guest lecturer at Brighton Hospital for alcoholism, Father Quinn is the director of Sacred Heart, a non-profit, non-sectarian agency whose board of directors includes several influential professional, business and political leaders — among them an executive with the neighboring Stroh Brewery, the Wayne County prosecutor, the sheriff, and former Detroit Mayor Roman Gribbs.

Father Quinn, the alcoholic priest with a mission, has a hobby of raising St. Bernards, of restoring old fire trucks, and of helping men kick the habit

Church Is Way of Life for Weavers

By JEAN DAY

"They're dedicated Christians," explains Sharon Weaver as she lists her family's involvements with the Plymouth Seventh Day Adventist Church.

For Sharon, her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Weaver of Northville, and her five brothers and sisters the church is an important part of their life.

Her father, who is nationally known for his five-day stop-smoking clinics, was reelected head elder of the 65-member church this year.

Sharon's mother, Natalie Weaver, has conducted vegetarian cooking schools throughout the Detroit area and shares her recipes widely. It is estimated that 70 to 75 percent of all Seventh Day Adventists are vegetarians.

They also neither smoke nor drink.

In an effort to help publicize the Plymouth church which is located at 4295 Napier Road south of Plymouth Road, Sharon tells her family's complete dedication to the Seventh Day Adventist way of life.

Church services are held at 11 a.m. Saturday mornings in the Plymouth church, following Sabbath School for young people at 9:30 a.m. Sharon plays for the church service.

Another Northville member, Felix Lorenz, provides special vocal music. Robert Weise is the church pastor.

The church also holds Wednesday night prayer meetings and once a month has Saturday afternoon musical programs, Sharon notes. Social events include a potluck dinner after church on the second Saturday of each month.

The church is one of 12 in the metropolitan Detroit area. Two church schools also are operated by the denomination for elementary and junior-high students. One is located on the west side of Detroit on Grand River near Fenkell while the other is on the east side in Warren.

Sharon attended the one on Grand River and then went to boarding school at the Adelphian Academy in Holly for high school, as did four other members of the family. Ellen Weaver presently is a student at the school.

Sharon then went on to Andrews University at Berrien Springs, Michigan, for part of her nursing training. The university, she points out, also is a Seventh Day Adventist seminary.

Her sister, Susan, now is a freshman in a public health program there.

Right now Sharon is taking time off from her studies but plans to return to a Seventh Day Adventist-affiliated hospital in Chattanooga, Tennessee, to complete her training by next year. She's presently doing volunteer work at a local nursing home.

Her plans are to go into the mission field. She says she hopes to return to Pakistan where her father with the family did mission service for five years.

While mentioning the strong mission work and health concerns of her religion, Sharon stresses, however, that the core of the Seventh Day Adventist religion is taking Jesus Christ as a personal Savior.

Because of this relationship with Christ, she continues, church members are active in helping others.

Sharon's brother, Dr. Donald Weaver, who lives in Dearborn Heights with his wife, Sandy, a nurse, and their daughter, also conducts five-day, stop-smoking clinics. He presently is taking his residency in surgery at Wayne State University. His father is on the staff there as well as at the Veterans' Hospital in Allen Park.

Follow-ups have shown that of those who have attended at least three of five days in the clinics 80 percent have stopped smoking, Sharon points out.

Another brother, Robert, is a pre-dental student in Keene, Texas. Sharon's oldest sister, Karen, a nurse, is married to Dr. David McFadden, a physician, and lives in Dayton, Ohio, with their two sons. She is active in the church there.

In respect to alcoholism, Sharon says, the church does not conduct its own programs but refers those with problems to AA while offering support of the church.

With obvious admiration and love, Sharon sums up her parents' activities, saying, "My folks are called constantly, but they don't mind because they really are dedicated Christians."

Churches to Hear Former Missionary

Mary L. Scott, former missionary to China and general secretary of the Nazarene World Missionary Society, will speak at two Livingston County churches this weekend.

On Friday (October 24), Miss Scott will be guest speaker at a fellowship dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Howell Church of the Nazarene, at the corner of Brooks and McCarthy.

On Sunday, she will speak at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Brighton Church of the Nazarene, 5291 Ethel Road. Miss Scott was a missionary to North China from 1940 to 1945.

After furlough to the United States, she returned to missionary work in southern China in 1947.

Two years later, political upheaval in China forced her to return to the United States.

This year, Miss Scott retired after serving 25 years as secretary of the Nazarene World Missionary Society.

The Nazarene World Missionary Society is an auxiliary organization to the Department of World Missions, which has more than 375,000 supporting church members.

The Church of the Nazarene has 547 full-time missionaries in 50 locations around the world under the supervision of the denomination's Department of World Missions.

Guidance

God does not keep his sunshine from the poor,
Nor does the rain fall less on one than on another.
The bounties of the earth we can be sure
Are there for all who plant the seed, and thus inure.

As to the worthiness of any need
We first seek meditation as our guide;
Our inner preparation we will heed
And more important, in our faith abide.

To achieve the goal God asks us to pursue,
We follow, then, the path our guidance shows;
The light we see pervades our minds anew,
And we realize omniscience in repose.

As we awake to see fruition of our needs,
We turn again with thanks for gifts fulfilled,
And understand, according to our deeds
This truth, in answers to our prayers, instilled.

In Quest of The Elusive Whatever or

How to Express The Inexpressible?

If I only knew what evokes it!
...I only know what it evokes.

If I only knew what its depths contain!
...I only know how oh-so-deep it is.

If I could only put my finger on it!
...I only know I can't nail it down with a word.

If I could only say how sensitive the nerve.
...I only have the nerve to say I'm sensitive.

If I only had the courage to explain
...only I can't explain why I need courage.

If I could only capture that Elusive Whatever!
...I only succeed in feeling Whatever it sets free.

Whenever you find there are now words that fit...
you'll know your Elusive Whatever's been hit.

Spooks

Haunted house, scary ghost...
Don't know when I'm scared the most!
Midnight howling, moaning, too—
Chasing kids—and me—and YOU!

Eerie lights and shadows stark...
I'll try hiding in the park
Or cellar, church or cemetery...
But all of them are wild and hairy—!

Guess I'd better jump in bed and cover up and pray instead...!

WELCOMING APPROACH—An entrance path to a front door can be an inviting welcome for guests, as this approach of railroad tie steps with plantings of evergreens beside the stones illustrates. Pots along the edges can be filled with seasonal plants and low lights provide a safe night approach. This country home of landscape designer Milo Hunt was open on the Northville Home Tour last month.

Harvest Doesn't End Gardening

The garden work isn't done when the harvest is finished.

"The fall garden cleanup is an important step for controlling disease and insect problems in next year's garden," says Jesse Saylor, Michigan State University horticulturist. "Many disease organisms and insects can overwinter in garden debris. If you don't clear them out in the fall, they'll be there, waiting, when you plant next spring."

Debris from plants that suffered from diseases or that may be harboring insects should not be put onto the compost pile, Saylor emphasizes. Instead, bag it and carry it away or burn it or bury it some distance from the garden spot.

"Be especially conscientious about removing fallen fruit and leaves under fruit trees," he advises. "Scab and many other diseases will overwinter in the leaves and pose an even more serious problem next year."

Part of the fall garden wrap-up is completing your records of this year's garden.

"Records are an easy-to-neglect but important part of successful gardening," Saylor declares. "Writing down which varieties you chose, how well they yielded, how well your family liked their produce and whether they had any particular disease problems will help you choose your varieties next year.

"A map of your garden will also come in handy when planting time comes around again," he adds. "It's always a good idea to rotate crops from one location to another so that closely related ones that are susceptible to the same diseases do not follow each other in the same spot. If you write this information down, you don't have to rely on your memory."

Out of Horse's Mouth

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments and horse show news to Sally Saddle, care of The South Lyon Herald, 101 North Lafayette, South Lyon, Mi. 48178.

Although we discussed the subject in this column in May, many horse owners need to be reminded about the dangers of Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA), commonly referred to as "Swamp Fever."

Swamp fever is a type of anemia resulting from a viral infectious disease. Although the disease may be found in various states, the condition is nearly always fatal.

The primary method of infection is caused by fly-biting insects. The Coggins Test is, at the present time, the most reliable method of detection.

Owners of animals that seem to be perfectly healthy should be cautious, since even horses that appear to be perfectly healthy may be carriers.

Examples of the disease are much more prevalent than many people would think. In 1974 the Michigan Department of Agriculture listed 90 positive horses out of 13,000 tested in Michigan, alone.

Individual horse owners can and should take a number of precautions to prevent a tragedy occurring to their animal.

Contacting the local veterinarian for testing and advice is the most obvious step any horse owner can take.

Owners and purchasers of horses should require a recent Coggins Test in all transactions involving 1) mares brought in for breeding 2) stallions standing at stud 3) horses boarded on your property or any barn where your horses may be stabled, and 4) horses purchased, sold, or given away.

Horse owners or other persons interested in learning more about what precautions may be taken against the disease are invited to contact the West Michigan Equine Health Organization, 635 Ottawa Street, Muskegon, Mi. 49440.

WINNING JUDGE—Gayle Davidson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson of 46876 11 Mile Road, Novi, displays the silver tray that was her first place award in the Macomb County 4-H Invitational Horse Judging Contest this month. A member of the Double N Riders 4-H Club, Gayle won top honors in judging competition with 74 others.

Community here. Can you imagine the reaction of these guys when they learn this one jackass has brought the wrath of Quinn down on all of them?"

Although it retains the name Sacred Heart, the center is not run by or financed by the Catholic church. It is financed primarily by fees charged residents, many of whom may receive financial assistance through welfare or some other social services fund.

It is voluntary; residents are free to go whenever they choose.

But there's a catch. Sacred Heart uses a form of blackmail.

"When one of them thinks he'd like to bust out of here, I tell him, 'Sure, go right ahead.' But I might remind him of a few things: Like, the family has promised me if their son or husband leaves before the 17 weeks are up they'll disown him and not welcome him back; or his boss has said, 'quit the Center and there'll be no job waiting for you; or the police may learn about some outstanding court date; or maybe the judge who set aside a jail sentence will have a change of heart.'"

The priest smiles and adds, "Members of the Community seldom want to leave."

Born in Montreal, the son of a renowned physician and his rich wife, Father Quinn lived high in a house that had seven servants. By the time he was 16 he was already a heavy drinker experiencing alcoholic blackouts.

Booze gave him the confidence to climb mountains. He was a rebellious youth with an insatiable appetite for challenge. Perhaps because no one thought he could do it, he drove himself to learn and play the game of hockey until, in 1951, he was hired to play goalie for the Montreal Canadiens.

Still not satisfied he became a professional linebacker for the Verdun Shamcats, a farm club of the Calgary Stampers, in 1953. He also boxed, and traveled the world and still he was bored.

Finally, he decided on the absolute rebellion. He turned his back on money and joined the toughest religious order around — the Oblates of Mary Immaculate. What's more because there was no booze to be had, he was forced to give it up during the nine long years of religious training until he was ordained in 1964.

For the alcoholic, booze is always waiting in the wings — cajoling its fuzzy thinking victims. Three days into parish work, the young priest succumbed and was carried home stoned to the gills. As it did before he entered the priesthood, alcohol gave him false confidence.

"If I had a bottle of Haig and Haig when I was writing sermons, I could make Fulton Sheen look like he had a speech impediment and was a drop-out from kindergarten."

His drinking grew worse, and his behavior became so erratic that even his friends insisted something had to be done.

"I stood at an altar, fully vested, four months ordained, saying, 'Oh, Lord, don't let me get too smashed tonight.'"

Eventually he was committed to a mental institution in Chicago and later referred to Guest House, a home for alcoholic priests at Lake Orion north of Pontiac. He had his last drink on June 16, 1965, but like all on-the-wagon alcoholics he knows he remains a potential victim. So although he operates Sacred Heart for alcoholics he refuses to let down his own guard. He is a member of an AA group and attends meetings regularly.

After seven months at Guest House, he returned to Canada to study all he could about the disease that nearly killed him, and then he turned to the skid rows of Canada and the United States to learn what he couldn't learn from books.

A stopover at Sacred Heart turned into a prolonged visit. He came on the scene only a few months after it was established in 1967 by Father James Bodary and William Carey. The initial idea of the center was that it would serve as another flophouse for liquor-saturated tramps. Quarters were located in the old Sacred Heart School, abandoned by the archdiocese of Detroit when the parish was deserted by members moving to the suburbs.

When Father Quinn arrived three months after its opening Sacred Heart was filled to capacity with 123 residents. In November of 1972, the center was relocated in a former YWCA building at 569 East Elizabeth. The building is four stories with the first floor housing the business offices, director's office, reception area, dining facilities, kitchen area and swimming pool. The second floor houses the intake offices, chapel, therapy rooms, office facilities, gymnasium and coffee shop. On the third floor are the medical department and counseling offices as well as dormitory facilities. The fourth floor consists of dormitories....and Father Quinn's apartment.

He is the only staffer living on the premises. . . of course, unless you count the three giant St. Bernards that together with a parrot command as much respect as does Father Quinn.

Those St. Bernards are treated royally. After all, the litter of one of them was sold to heat the place one winter.

Father Quinn's love for booze has been replaced by a love for antique fire engines. There's a small fleet of them out back of the center where residents care for them almost as much as they do any member of the Community. One of them is from Howell.

"I tried like heck to get one of them on with Cosell the other night during the halftime show at the Pontiac Stadium. Mr. Ford told me if I had gotten to him a little early he could have pulled it off, but things already had been sewed up tight by the time I asked him. I figured it would have been a great way to say to my critics in Northville (there's a controversy over who should use the Child Development Center): 'Look, Sacred Heart has fire trucks.'"

A Column About People, Places 'n Things

CHANGING HANDS—Gerald Stone (right) turns over the keys in a symbolic transfer of ownership of Stone's Unfinished Furniture Store in Northville to the new owners, Robert Boshoven (left) and Matthew Twomey.

STONE'S UNFINISHED FURNITURE Store, 215 East Main in Northville, has a new set of owners but will retain the same name and operation.

Robert Boshoven and Matthew Twomey officially opened for business last Thursday after completing the purchase of the building and business a day earlier.

The new owners plan to continue operating the business as an unfinished furniture store and, at least for now, to keep the name of the store the same.

Boshoven, who lives at 900 West Main, has been a resident of Northville for eight years. He and his wife Donna have four children, Candace age 20, Jamie 18, Lynda 16, and Bob Jr. 13.

Twomey is a resident of Bloomfield Hills. He and his wife Martha have two children, Matthew Jr., 3, and Molly, 5.

Both partners previously were employed by International Business Machines. Boshoven worked there for 12 years and Twomey was there for seven years. Prior to working for IBM, Boshoven was a teacher and coach at Sexton High School in Lansing and Twomey was an accounting supervisor for General Motors.

Gerald Stone, originally the owner of Stone's Gamble Store, started the unfinished furniture business in June, 1970, on the second floor of his hardware. Later he sold the hardware to the Robert Blacks and three years ago purchased the former A&P store building and converted it into an unfinished furniture store. He built a warehouse on Main Street next to the furniture store.

Stone will continue to manufacture furniture and sell it wholesale to the new owners. Stone will retain ownership of the warehouse.

The Stones, who recently sold their home at Rogers and Seven Mile, now reside at 55280 West Eight Mile Road. They will continue to live in the area. Stone said he will raise cows in his spare time.

MARY LOU WEINZIERL, owner of the Blue Wig in the Brighton Mall, announces she has a new line of cosmetics made from the Aloe Vera plant juices.

The complete cosmetic line, by Marylou Bloch, has a base formula of Aloe fluid. The liquid of the Aloe plant (found in Aruba and South America), has significant healing values, according to Mrs. Bloch.

The plant juices, Mrs. Bloch said, can be used to relieve arthritic pains, as a sunburn remedy, as a tonic for better digestion and to relieve ulcers and poor elimination.

Mrs. Weinzierl invites all women to visit the Blue Wig to learn the latest make-up techniques using her new line of cosmetics.

DON L. GRILL of Landmark Real Estate, Brighton, has been chosen Realtor of the Year by the Livingston County Board of Realtors.

Grill, a realtor for 16 years, the past eight in the Brighton area, has taken many real estate courses including real estate law and appraising.

DENISE BIEGERT

MRS. DENISE BIEGERT of South Lyon has recently passed her examination and obtained a Real Estate License from the State of Michigan.

Mrs. Biegert is associated with Earl Keim Realty of Plymouth and works out of the Earl Keim office in Hartland.

A South Lyon resident for the past four years, she was formerly associated with the Gambles Store and Noling Real Estate in South Lyon.

JERRY DUNCAN

PHILLIPS TRAVEL AGENCY in South Lyon has announced the appointment of Jerry Duncan to the position of Director of Group Sales.

The announcement was made by Dallas Phillips, owner of the South Lyon-based travel service.

"With the increased interest in travel, particularly in regard to the increase brought about by the Bicentennial year, we felt the need to increase our staff," stated Phillips.

Phillips also announced that his agency is now celebrating the anniversary of its 10th year in its present location at 110 N. Lafayette.

A life-long South Lyon resident, Duncan is a graduate of South Lyon High School. He presently resides in Green Oak Township with his wife and two children.

In the eight years that Grill has been in Livingston County he has been an active member of the Livingston County Board of Realtors, serving on several committees and as an officer on the board of directors.

He also was instrumental in organizing the multi-service for Livingston County.

They are Robert and Geraldine Van Dam, Early American Antiques, of Wixom, and Sally Thomas and Company of Hartland. They will display from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. on the Thursday and Friday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on the Saturday. Admission is $1.50. There will be a bake sale and tea room operated by the church women's society.

In announcing the fair the historical society points out that this is the village's sesquicentennial year and that it is described in the National Register of Historic Places in Washington, D.C., as being significant for its "high concentration of only slightly modified early buildings rarely found in the suburban area of Detroit."

SECURITY BANCORP. Inc. of Southgate, Michigan, parent of Security Bank & Trust Company and Security Bank of Novi, announced consolidated earnings for nine months ended September 30, 1975 and for the third quarter compared to like periods of 1974. When customers come looking for you, why play hard to get?

Some prospects may come looking in the Yellow Pages just for you. Maybe because a satisfied customer recommended you or because they saw your other advertising, or just passed by your place of business and liked what they saw.

Other prospects may be looking for anyone.

They may be newcomers who don't know the area, or people with an emergency buying problem. Or maybe they're dissatisfied with people they're now doing business with. Whatever the reasons, don't keep your business a secret. Tell customers everything they need to know to make it easy to buy from you. United Airlines will soon announce a new service from Detroit to New Orleans beginning December 19. This flight will have one stop in Cleveland, leaving Detroit at 9:25 a.m. and arriving in New Orleans at 11:22 a.m. The schedule times are attractive to both the vacationist and the businessman. The service should do well.

Colonel George A. Jarrett, retired, formerly of Brighton, writes me from Aiea, Hawaii. Previously, I wrote that the hydrofoil service from Honolulu to Maui might not interest some because of the time consumed (2½ hours). George takes issue with this statement. He claims you see more beauty on the sea trip when you travel slower. I presume this is true. However, the average hurrying, time-pressed tourist from the mainland usually does not have that extra time to allocate to slower modes of travel.

If one is retired and a resident there, he or she can better appreciate the slower transportations and thus better enjoy the beauty and peacefulness that abounds in Hawaii. Thank you, Colonel Jarrett, for your interest in the column and your kindness in writing me. I intend to use some of your material as a basis for future articles.

A Novi resident asked me my opinion for the three leading restaurants in the fringe area of Detroit. I took a sampling of opinion from a group of my friends. They seemed to think that for "grande classe" service and gourmet food the "Chambertin" in the Holiday Inn at Michigan and Outer Drive was tops. Running a close second was the "Atrium," located on Telegraph Road north of 12 Mile Road. And in third place was "The Great Dane" on Northwestern Highway between 13 and 14 Mile roads.

Because a local choice would be interpreted as home-town favoritism, my friends agreed not to include restaurants from this area in their selections.

If you want to name your favorite eating spot, send your choice along and share with us the reasons why you have found it so outstanding.

A Detroit travel columnist last week argued in print that the extra frills on plane trips should be eliminated so that the cost of fares could be reduced. I'm glad he has finally joined the ranks of the exploited...we've been squawking about the unnecessary, cost-inflating frills for years.

Mustangs Fight For Best Finish

Northville's varsity golfers drew their varsity golf season to a close with a tie for third place at the Class A State Golf Tournament last Saturday, on a cold, wind and rain-swept Forest Akers Golf Course in East Lansing.

The Mustangs finished in a three-way tie for third place with a 340 score over the 18-hole tournament. The Andover and Birmingham Groves teams also finished the tourney with 340 strokes. It was the best finish in a state golf tournament for a Northville team. Fourth was the previous best.

Kalamazoo Loy Norrix won the tournament with a 325 total and Grosse Pointe North was second with 336.

"Depending on the weather I hoped we would shoot either a 320 or 325," Northville Golf Coach Al Jones said. "It's the same old story, a rotten day. I don't care what you say you can't play your best golf on a day like this. It's amazing they play as good as they do."

The golfers were forced to play in cold 42 degree weather as a brisk wind blew over the course. About 45 minutes into the tournament it began to rain and play continued through the showers which lasted for about two hours.

"The biggest thing was the rain," Senior Northville golfer Greg Mack said. "Then when the rain quit it was the wind. The temperature didn't really bother me."

Mack finished the tournament with an 88 score after 18 holes. Chip Chamberlin, a junior, carded an 87. Senior Jim Dales carded an 83 and his brother, junior Don Dales, shot an 82.

Although Jones had hopes that Northville might win the state tournament, he was pleased with the high finish. It was especially pleasing in that it was the last event that Jones will bring a golf team to since he plans to retire this January and end his 30 year career as a coach and teacher.

Al Jones to Retire This Winter

Al Jones stood on the Forest Akers Golf Course, hunching his shoulders against the cold wind, and took a final look at a state high school golf tournament from the viewpoint of a coach.

At the end of this semester Jones will trade his teaching and coaching positions in for retirement at a house he has already built on a lake in Arkansas, which is also near two golf courses he plans to play often.

Retirement will mark the end of a successful 30 year career of coaching and teaching during which Jones has never had a losing team. He has coached football, baseball, basketball, and golf on the varsity level and been athletic director during those years.

After graduation from Michigan Agricultural College Jones began his teaching and coaching career 30 years ago in Zeeland, Michigan where he was athletic director and coach of the varsity baseball, basketball and football teams.

Three years later Jones moved to Northville to take over the head varsity football coaching job. He lost the first game of that 1948 season to Brighton by a 13-6 score, but went on to post a 6-2 record. The big win of the season was a 20-7 victory over Plymouth

"That solidified my position," Jones said of the Canton victory. "After I beat Plymouth they were ready to give me the key to the city."

The Canton victory rated a 12 inch article on the front page of the Northville Record, along with pictures of both Jones and his assistant coach, Charlie Ketterer.

When asked to name the highlights of his coaching career, Jones is at a loss only for places to start. He was unbeaten and ranked in the state one year in football, helped form the Wayne Oakland League, was athletic director when Northville rose to become a power in high school sports, has led the golf team to five straight Western Six titles, five regional titles in 12 years and qualified the team for the state tournament eight different years.

Many of the athletes he has coached have gone on to do well in the college and professional ranks. Among them are golfers Jimmy St. Germain and Al Eiverson.

He was head of the social studies department at Northville High School and has taught history, math, health, gym, and estimates that he has taught about 800

Northville residents how to drive. His favorite academic subject to teach is American History. Also, he was chief negotiator for the school contract one year.

"I'm satisfied with it," Jones said of his 30 year track record. "I've had some good teams. I don't think a person can be in a system and not have a rough time at some point. I've got off pretty lucky. For the most part I've said what I've thought and got away with it."

In a letter to Ron Horwath, personnel director of the Northville School District, Jones stated his plans simply.

"I would like to take the opportunity to inform you of my intention to retire at the end of the semester," Jones wrote. The letter went on to ask Horwath to inform the proper authorities about the retirement plans.

When Jones was athletic director and baseball coach he hired Horwath into the Northville School District as a football coach and math teacher.

"Jones has always had a good season," Horwath said, "and the last few years he has had fantastic seasons."

Horwath said that he will notify the board of education, at a future meeting, of Jones' retirement plans.

Wildcat Comeback Effort Falls Short

Lincoln High School's Rail Splitters cut enough holes in the Novi varsity football line to score three touchdowns and thwart come-from-behind efforts by a Wildcat team hungry for a homecoming victory. Lincoln won that game by a 19-14 score last Friday at Novi.

"We played well, played our hearts out, and we still couldn't get it done," John Osborne, a disappointed Novi Head Football coach, said while leaving the field after the loss.

Trailing by a 14-13 score Lincoln scored its go ahead touchdown with only 1:18 left to play in the final quarter. Lincoln quarterback George Czinski threw a pass to Jim Smith which covered nine yards and was good for a touchdown. Two other long pass plays highlighted that 75 yard Lincoln scoring drive.

The Wildcats took over the football at their own 36 yard line but turned over the ball on downs after failing to get a first down via four desperation passes.

Prior to the last Lincoln touchdown Novi had put together a 79 yard touchdown drive of its own. Doug Maier covered the last yard on a running play to score the touchdown with 6:29 to play in the fourth quarter. Ben Galyon kicked the extra point.

One of the big plays on that drive was a 12 yard pass from John McMurray to Randy Wroten on a third down with eight yards to go for a touchdown. Wroten converted a third and four situation with an 11 yard run and Maier had a 22 yard run during that drive.

That fourth quarter Novi touchdown erased a 13-6 deficit which faced the Wildcats after Lincoln scored in the early moments of the fourth quarter on a two yard run by Dean Armheim.

Even luck was going in the Lincoln direction as the Rail Splitters converted a fumble into their first touchdown. Lincoln recovered a Novi fumble at the Wildcat 39 yard line and was driving in for a touchdown. Lincoln's Armheim was running near the goal line when he was hit by a Novi defender and fumbled. Pat Burns fell on that fumble in the end zone to give Lincoln a touchdown.

Novi followed with a 51 yard scoring drive. Wroten ended the drive with a four yard touchdown scamper around left end. Galyon kicked the extra point for the Wildcats.

Then for awhile it looked like no one wanted the football. Novi Wildcat Mark Mills recovered a fumble on the kickoff following the touchdown. The Wildcats took over and promptly fumbled the football back to Lincoln. Fumbles plagued Novi all night as the Wildcats dropped the football six times and lost possession on three of those occasions.

The loss drops Novi to a 1-5 mark on the season and a 1-4 record in Southeastern Conference play.

Novi had a total net yards gained of 198 yards. Andy McComas led the Wildcat rushers with 83 yards and Maier had 34 yards as the Wildcats ground out 186 yards rushing.

Novi passers were two of 13 attempts. John McMurray threw both of the completions.

Defensively Mills and Jon Buck each recovered a fumble for the Novi cause.

Mustangs Nipped In Close Game

While the Northville defense may have played one of its better games this season, its offense sputtered and stalled, and Waterford Mott scored one touchdown which was good for a 7-0 victory over the Mustangs last Friday at a varsity football game in Northville.

Northville's offense was plagued by mistakes which caused penalties and brought scoring drives to a halt. The Mustang offense also fumbled four times, losing possession of the football on two of those occasions.

"Offensively we made too many mistakes," Northville Football Coach Chuck Shonta said. "There were too many fumbles and penalties. Offensively we didn't execute or do our jobs. When we did look good on offense and do the job well, we'd get a 15 yard penalty that would stop the drive."

On offense the Mustangs gained 137 yards rushing and one yard passing. Eric Lampela led the ground gainers with 70 yards rushing and Greg Armstrong added 48 yards. Lampela was one of seven in the passing department and had one pass intercepted.

Northville Assistant Coach Chuck Apap pointed out that the Mustangs had bad field position during the first half, but were unable to take advantage of the good field position they had in the second half.

Injuries were also a problem again this week for Northville. Senior starters Bill Piccolo, end and linebacker, and Ron Jennings, halfback, were forced to leave the game as a result of injuries. Piccolo injured his knee and coaches feared he may be unable to play during the rest of the season. Jennings re-injured his shoulder.

Compounding problems even more were the 65 yards worth of penalties assessed against Northville during the game.

"Defensively we played one of our better games as far as hitting," Northville Coach Shonta said. "Defensively we thought we played good ball. They were able to move the ball on us but when we had to stop them we did. We stopped them inside our 20 yard line about four times."

Shonta said that losing Piccolo to an injury early in the third quarter was a strong blow to the defensive unit. Shonta called Piccolo the mainstay of the defensive unit and the team leader.

Waterford Mott ran up 236 yards rushing and 14 yards passing against the Mustangs. The Mott touchdown, scored after Piccolo was injured and left the game, came on a 22 yard pass play.

Tim Conder led Northville's defense with nine first hits and six assists. Gary Winemaster had 6 first hits and eight assists and Mark Morland also turned in a fine performance with seven first hits and five assists. Coaches said that each of these players played their best defensive games of the season.

The loss leaves Northville with a 1-3 record in Western Six Conference play and a 3-3 mark overall.

Trotters Underway

At 8 p.m. Monday a bugle sounded through the loudspeakers announcing the beginning of Jackson Action at Northville Downs.

The 3,546 people in attendance watched as number 6 Papas Dave won the first race of the night paying $15.40 to win, $9 to place, and $4.20 to show.

It marked the end of a month of preparation as the newly redecorated Northville Downs will serve as the host site to the Jackson Trotting Association Monday through Saturday until December 31.

The pari-mutuel handle during the first night was $361,131.

Paul Scores Twice For Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College suffered its first soccer loss of the season, but Coach Larry Christoff says the team still has a good chance to qualify for regional and possibly national competition.

The loss was a 2-1 decision dealt by Lakeland, Ohio on October 11 at Lakeland. Schoolcraft got in the scoring column first on the strength of an Ennio Petralla goal and then fell apart allowing Lakeland to score two goals. Lakeland now leads the Michigan Junior College Athletic League soccer standings. Schoolcraft is third, one-half of a game behind Macomb College. The top two teams in the league will move on to regional play in November.

Northville resident Steve Paul helped Schoolcraft get back into the winning column by scoring both Schoolcraft goals during a 2-1 victory over Henry Ford Community College, October 14 at Schoolcraft.

Schoolcraft now has a 4-1-2 soccer record this season.

Underclassmen Ignite Northville Swimmers

Sophomore Vida Mikalonis, of Northville, led her Mustang teammates with fine performances at the Michigan High School Girls' Invitational Swim Meet held last Saturday at Wayne State University. Northville swimming coach Karen Turner called the meet a high class event with a chance for her swimmers to compete "head-to-head" with the best swimmers in Michigan. Mikalonis, a mainstay throughout the regular season, showed her talent at the invitational, where no team scores were kept. She set a Northville High School record in two events and was a member of a record setting relay team.

Both the individual records Mikalonis broke were marks previously set by herself. Her 2:23.24 time in the 200 yard Individual Medley is almost three seconds faster than the previous mark of 2:26.2. The time was good for eighth place in the event. Linda Hein of Livonia Stevenson won the event with a 2:17.99 time.

Mikalonis also notched a fourth place in the 100 yard butterfly with a 1:02.98 time. The time is also a school record which beats the old mark of 1:04.7. Hein of Livonia Stevenson had the winning time in that event of 1:00.1, a new state record.

Both performances qualify her for competition in the state tournament. The top 16 swimmers in each event earned the right to compete in the Michigan High School Athletic Association swimming tournament this November.

Freshman Kyle Roggenbuck was also a top performer at the Wayne State meet. She earned a seventh place in the 50 yard freestyle with a 26.11 time. The winning time in that event was 25.207 which was posted by Carol Eggers of Livonia Stevenson. Roggenbuck also finished ninth in the 100 yard freestyle event with a 58.1 time. Rose CaHann of Bay City Central won that event with a time of 55.662.

Mikalonis and Roggenbuck got together to spark their teammates, Tracey Piscopink and Kathy Biery, to a fifth place finish among the entrants in the 400 yard freestyle relay. The time they swam of four minutes flat is another Northville High School record, breaking the old mark of 4:06.0 set by the same relay team. Livonia Stevenson had the winning team in that relay event which was won with a 3:51.02 time.

Athletes of the Week

Don Dales

Becky Albus

Andy McComas

Mary Kardell

Junior Northville golfer Don Dales is this week's Mustang of the Week. He carded the low Northville score at the Michigan High School Athletic Association Golf Tournament in East Lansing with an 82 score. Dales was instrumental in getting Northville to the state tournament and in the regional title the Mustangs won en route to the state event when he carded a 76 during the regional tournament two weeks ago.

Becky Albus, the first singles player on Northville's tennis team, is this week's Mustang of the Week. Albus won her tennis matches in three meets last week. She defeated her Walled Lake Western opponent last Tuesday by 6-1, 6-3 scores. Albus defeated a Livonia Churchill opponent in two tie breaker sets by 7-5, 7-4 scores last Thursday, and the next day she dominated her Walled Lake Central opponent, 6-0, 6-0.

Novi running back Andy McComas is this week's Wildcat of the Week. He was the leading rusher in the Novi loss to Lincoln with 83 yards on that Wildcat homecoming night. McComas is a 5-10, 165 pound junior halfback.

Novi basketball player Mary Kardell was chosen the Ladycat of the Week by her coach Chris Hayward. Kardell is the team's leading rebounder with 13 per game. Last week against Saline she had 17 rebounds and nine points in a Novi win, leading the team in both departments. She has been a strong and consistent player throughout the season.

Singles Improve In Tennis Wins

Northville's tennis team realized some improvement from its singles players in two dual meet victories last week. The Mustangs won a 4-3 squeaker over Livonia Churchill, last Thursday at Livonia and defeated Walled Lake Western 5-2, in a home meet October 14.

Number one and two singles players, Becky Albus and Sarah Kunst, fought hard to win their respective singles matches at Livonia. Albus, by scores of 7-5, 7-6 over Denise Tracy and Kunst came from behind after losing the first set 6-7 to defeat Nancy Packard in the next two sets by 6-0, 6-3 scores.

Lori Hopping defeated Patty Dixon 6-2, 6-1 in the third singles match and Claudia Riegner beat Gail Landrum in the fourth singles match by scores of 6-4, 6-2.

Northville players lost all the doubles matches against Livonia. Mary Korte and Paula Horst fell to Evvone Cekel and Sandy Vasas by 4-6, 1-6 scores; Cathy Herbel and Sheri Kaiponen were defeated by Tina Fotiv and Rhonda Good by scores of 3-6, 1-6; and Karin Lotarski and Debbie Salmotto lost to Karen Pizarek and Lori Waite by 2-6, 4-6 scores.

Albus defeated Shelly Piilo 6-1, 6-3 in the first singles match of the Walled Lake Western meet. Kunst beat Lori Wendland 6-0, 6-0. Hopping beat Kim Spencer 6-4, 6-4, and Riegner lost to Vivi Jensen, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6, in the other singles matches.

Korte and Horst lost their doubles match to Cindy and Mindy Dopp, 4-6, 6-2, 3-6. Joan Davis and Lotarski defeated Sue Cousino and Becky Driskill 6-3, 6-2 while Herbel and Salmotto defeated Sarah Lajovic and Paula Katona 6-1, 6-4.

Northville's varsity tennis team won its third competition of the week by skunking Walled Lake Central 7-0 in an away meet last Friday.

Albus defeated Julie Wilson, 6-0, 6-0; Kunst beat Sue Ginster, 6-1, 6-0. Hopping defeated Lynette Wilkoff, 6-1, 6-1; and Riegner beat Lisa Zachmann, 6-2, 6-0.

JV Cagers Unbeaten

Novi's junior varsity girls' basketball team preserved its unbeaten record with a 37-10 victory over Saline in a home game October 14.

Betty Banks led the Ladycats of Novi with eight points. Mary Ann Wizinsky and Ricci Mulligan each had six points.

Other Novi scorers were: Heather Barr with five, Anne Robinson, Polly Sinclair, Shelly Brough, Sue Beal, Mary Beth Szeles and Sue Maki each with two points.

The junior varsity club is now 3-0 in the Southeastern Conference and 8-0 on the season.

Hamp Wins Football Contest With Fourteen Correct Answers

It was a week of mistakes as every contestant missed at least two games in this newspaper's football contest. In fact, more than half of the contestants missed five or more games last week. Thirty-one of them had six mistakes.

The two contestants who missed two games were the top winners, while one of the three who had three mistakes took third place. Winning first place money by virtue of his closer guessed score of the Minnesota win over Detroit was Tony Hamp of 46132 Norton. He picked the Vikings to win by a score of 28 to 14. (They actually won 25-19.)

In second place was Joe Holman of 17130 Beck Road. He picked Minnesota by a score of 24 to 10. The third place winner was Fred Wick of 230 Fairbrook. He had three mistakes and had picked the Vikings to win by a score of 27 to 17. Two others who also had three mistakes but who finished out of the money because they predicted Detroit-Minnesota scores were Thomas Wick of 9267 Tower Road and Doosie Cole of 9262 Six Mile Road. Most missed games were Louisiana State's 17-14 victory over Kentucky in the Southeastern Conference; Auburn's come-from-behind 31-27 triumph over Georgia Tech; and Purdue's 26-24 win over Illinois in the final minutes of a homecoming game in Champaign. Contestants who missed four games included: Pete Wright, Scott Love, Bobby Pote, Steven Dyskstra, Jim Howell, Nick Trapani, Lance Hahn, Jim Herbel, Doug Castillo, Frances Kritch, Nomie Kyle.

Snyder's World Championship Softball Team

Snyder Softball Team Is World Champion

The Snyder Softball Club, in its 20th season in the Detroit area, won the coveted Major Slo-Pitch Softball United States Slo-Pitch Softball Association World Series and World's Championship in Silver Stadium, Rochester, New York, September 28.

No one could be happier with the championship than owner-manager of the softball club, Jim Snyder.

"This is the biggest player-spectator sport in North America," Snyder said. "Everybody loves it. The caliber of ball we play, as far as we're concerned, is way better than major league baseball."

Snyder is also the founder the president of the Major Metro Travel League. Rick Trudeau, a teacher and coach at Novi High School, was one of the players on the squad.

Snyder calls Trudeau the best shortstop in the world. Snyder's team has been very successful. They have won 20 local and national invitational tournaments over the past three years.

Colts Skunk Romulus

Dave Greer starred with two touchdown runs, one of 30 and another of ten yards, leading the Northville Colts varsity football team to a 14-0 victory which completed a sweep of three games from the Romulus Flyers, last Thursday.

Greer also scored on an extra point attempt and Mark Holland passed to Brent Gross for the other extra point. The varsity record now stands at 6-0-1.

The junior varsity team extended its unbeaten mark to 7-0 with a 14-0 win.

Frosh Leads Novi Harriers

Novi's cross country team earned its second victory of the season with a 24-31 decision over Dexter, Monday at Cass Benton.

The Wildcat runners placed in the second through sixth spots to lift the season mark to 2-6. Jeff Johnston, a Novi freshman, was the highest Wildcat finisher with a 17:49 time and second place. The winning time was 17:41 by a Dexter runner.

"It was a good team effort,"

Novi Cross Country Coach Norm Norgren said. "Johnston should have won the meet but he's only a freshman and he has problems when he is out in front. I have trouble convincing him that there are some races he will lead all the way."

The Dexter win also marked the first time that Novi has had five runners finish the race with times lower than 20 minutes. Those are not fantastic times but they are a definite improvement for Novi. "We're getting better slowly," Norgren said.

Biff McAllister finished third for Novi, Mark McKenney was fourth, Glen Claudell finished fifth and Geoff Morse was tenth. All ran sub-20 minute times.

Other Novi finishers were: Kevin Branshaw, 11th; Phil Ralright, 14th; and Paul Young, 15th.

Gould Defeated in Super Race

It was the cross country match-up of the season Thursday at Cass Benton and Northville's Bob Gould ran his best time of the season, but it was only good for second place in a meet which Livonia Churchill won by a 17-43 score.

The Wint-Gould match-up produced most of the excitement in the meet. Gould trailed Wint during the race, hoping to stress his opponent at some point on the course and end up the victor.

In the end Gould had to fight just to hold on to second position as a Churchill junior, Victor Wietecha, clocked a 15:56 time for third place. Don Wilber, a sophomore, finished fourth in the competition for Northville with a 16:22 time.

Then the Livonia Churchill pack closed off the Northville runners by grabbing the fifth through ninth spots. All of their times were in the 16 minute mark.

Wildcat JV's Get First Win

Novi's junior varsity football team posted its first win of the season with a 14-12 decision at Lincoln Thursday.

Lincoln got on the scoreboard first by returning an interception for a touchdown in the first quarter. The Wildcats followed with two touchdowns.

Mike Bizeau scored on a two yard pass from Jeff Bunker in the third quarter, and Bunker added the conversion on a run. Kevin Mills scored the final Novi touchdown on a 50 yard run in the fourth quarter. Lincoln scored again but missed the extra point attempt.

"Our defense did the job the whole game," Novi Coach Brian Howard said. "Our offense came alive in the second half."

Mills rushed for 113 yards in the game and Bunker completed seven of 12 passes for 72 yards.

Tim Putnam led the defense with 21 tackles; R.J. Bayne had 20 tackles. Kevin Pyant had two intercepted passes.

Mustang Cagers Lose Two

Northville's basketball team was beaten twice in cage competition last week.

Livonia Churchill's team defeated the Mustangs by a 42-17 score, October 16. Denise MacDermaid led the Northville scoring with six Western by a score of 72-40. Brown led the Mustangs with 14 points, Kathy Belkowski had ten points and Kim Adams six points. Brown also led Northville in rebounds with 16.

points and Rita Tuley had five points. Louise Hopping, Linda Gallivan and Patty Brown each had two points for Northville.

Despite having two girls score in double figures, Northville lost to Walled Lake

JV's Lose To Canton

Northville's junior varsity football team lost a game to Plymouth Canton last Thursday by a 26-19 score.

Dan Davis scored two of the Northville touchdowns on runs of 13 and four yards. Dave Duguid scored the other Northville touchdown on a run of 76 yards. Davis kicked the extra point after Duguid's score.

Novi Cagers Gain 2nd Place Tie

Novi's varsity girls' basketball team moved into a tie for second place in the Southeastern Conference standings with a 35-29 victory over Saline, October 14, in a game played at Novi.

The Ladycats of Novi had to cope with a full court woman-to-woman defense throughout the entire game to gain the victory. Novi Coach Chris Hayward said the defense hampered Novi's deliberate style of play.

"But they kept their poise well," Coach Hayward said of the Novi players, "considering they were under a lot of pressure."

Mary Kardell led Novi with nine points and 17 rebounds.

The win gives Novi a tie for second with Saline in the league. Both teams have identical 2-1 league marks. Novi is 6-2 overall.

Other Novi scorers against Saline were: Elaine Maki and Patty Cameron, with eight points apiece. Novi's Neitz with four points, and Dede McAllen, Janet Cook and Carol Poyhonen each with two points.

Exchange Student Tries Cross Country Competition

Johnny Verhulst has experienced many surprises since he came to the United States as an exchange student from Belgium not the least of which are large cars, fast-food restaurants and a broken leg.

He broke his leg participating in cross country competition, one of the many activities in which he participates at Novi High School.

Joining the cross country team after the season had started, he was surprised at the length and number of workouts. He said his track team in Belgium runs four miles a week, while the cross country team here runs four miles every weeknight.

His leg started hurting after one of the races and the coaches thought it was a charley horse. He ran in another race against Manchester, not knowing that his leg was broken. He finished that race with a time of 20 minutes.

Following the Manchester meet Verhulst had some X-rays taken that showed that his leg had a minor fracture. The injury ended his cross country competition.

Verhulst is involved in other activities at Novi High School and is surprised at the amount of time devoted to extra-curricular activities by students in the United States. He noted that the educational system in the United States stresses the practical, while the educational system in Belgium is mostly theory.

There also is more freedom in choosing an academic program at Novi High School than in Belgium schools he has attended, Verhulst said.

When he talks about his "family" it is difficult for a stranger to determine whether he means his family in Antwerp, Belgium, or the Mr. and Mrs. Tom Szeles family of 22682 Winfield, who are his host family in the United States.

Verhulst said that he wanted to stay with a family who would accept him as a son. This in line with the purpose of the exchange program, which stresses cultural interaction through family living experience.

Another exchange student at Novi High School this year is Rene Devaud of Switzerland, who is living with the Willard Fear family of 22601 Ennshore.

Officials of the Youth for Understanding group which runs the exchange program has announced that more exchange students will be arriving in the United States in January and that host families for them are needed.

Novi Board Eyes Collection Policy

Novi School Board is currently considering adoption of a fund raising policy for use by student groups throughout the school district.

In an information report presented to the school board last Thursday, the administration recommended:

- All fund raising projects in the elementary schools be conducted on school property; off-site projects be permitted in secondary schools, but must be coordinated with those projects of other schools through the superintendent's office;

- Solicitation of outright cash gifts be prohibited and games of chance forbidden. Fund-raising projects should provide a commodity or a service to those who contribute;

- All profits become the property of the school and/or its organizations;

- Financial records must be kept and conform to regulations for internal accounts; No projects will be allowed that are for an undetermined use;

- Fund-raising activities must not conflict with scheduled curricula;

- Building regulations may be established as supplements to system-wide regulations;

- Soliciting funds in the schools by outside groups from students for any cause is discouraged. Special approval by the management team or from the Board of Education or both must be obtained.

Trustee Joel Colliau suggested placing a limitation on the number of door to door activities per school. He indicated that he did not want several door-to-door fund raising events for different groups hitting the community in the same month.

Dr. Gerald Kratz, Superintendent of the school district, noted that under the new policy, each school could set the number of fund raising events allowed. He added that funds raised would have to stay within the school district. The Board is expected to act on the fund raising policy at the next regular Board session, Thursday, October 16.

Novi Adopts Ordinance On Fire Hydrant Use

An ordinance controlling the use of fire hydrants within the city of Novi was approved by the city council last week.

The ordinance provides that a permit is necessary for any person to draw water from a fire hydrant. Cost of use of a fire hydrant includes:

- Deposit of $200 to be used as security for costs of water, repairs to hydrant, if any, and inspection charge;
- Permit fee of $20;
- Inspection charge of $10;
- Rental fee of $3 per day for each fire hydrant used during the life of the permit; And a charge for the consumption of water based on prevailing water rates.

Previously users had been charged a deposit of $200 but there was no charge for the permit. There was a $10 inspection fee and a charge for the water.

The most significant difference, according to DPW Superintendent Ed Sniadak, is that there is now a $3 per day charge per hydrant during the life of the permit.

Plan Story Hour, Films, Forums

Children participating in the story hour at Novi Public Library had a special treat last week when Novi Fire Chief Duane Bell visited the library during the story hour and talked with them about fire safety.

Each child received a fireman's hat from Chief Bell and all children were taken on a tour of the fire hall, learning how the equipment works.

This session of the story hour for four-year-olds will end next Wednesday, October 23, with the second session beginning Wednesday, November 5.

Anyone interested in enrolling their child for the November group may call the Novi Public Library at 349-0720 for further information. Story teller for the preschool sessions is Mrs. Ruth Urevig.

A special Halloween selection of free films for children will be shown Saturday, October 25, at the Northville Public Library.

The films, sponsored by Friends of the Northville Library, begin at 9:30 a.m. and will run for about one hour, spokesmen said. Scheduled for Saturday are "Ghost and Goblin," "Trick or Treat," "Georgie" and "Georgie to the Rescue."

"Lifestyle Challenges of Retirement" will be the topic of a program for senior citizens at 10 a.m. on Friday, October 24, in the Northville Public Library.

Betty Andrews, head of the Senior Adult Services at Schoolcraft College, will speak about educational and cultural opportunities open to retirees.

Following the talk, there will be a short question and answer session, and refreshments will be served. There is no charge for admission.

Anyone who would like to attend but lacks transportation should call the library at 349-3020 by tomorrow, Thursday, October 23, and arrangements for a ride to and from the library will be made.

Who owns the land and who decides how it should be used? These and related questions will be examined in the second session of the American Issues Forum at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, October 28 at the Northville Public Library.

Discussion will follow the viewing of two short films. The first, entitled "The Human Race Is Losing," examines the problems created by technology. The second film, "Sharing the Land," traces the history of land development in Michigan.

Those interested in attending the forum are asked to consider the following question, which is quoted from the format outlined by the American Issues Forum: "The right to property is among our founding principles, but how do we balance individual rights against public needs?"

The Forum evolves from the ideals of our founding fathers in its emphasis on the free exchange of ideas.

Armed robbery of the Quik Pik Party Store at 41106 Five Mile Road late Sunday night is under investigation by Northville Township Police.

According to reports, two men entered the store about 10:40 p.m. and demanded money from the clerk. One was armed with a pistol, the clerk said. About $90 was taken from the cash drawer and both men escaped on foot, running west on Five Mile Road. The robbery was witnessed by a customer but no one was injured.

Township police reports said the girl was walking on Northville Road south of Seven Mile when she accepted a ride from a 27-year-old man.

Instead of taking her to Kings Mill as she requested, he drove into the Northville Athletic Field area of Hines Park where he attempted to rape her. She struggled and he finally drove her to the entrance of King's Mill.

The man was described as having curly brown hair and had white paint on his arm and slacks.

Two bucket seats, valued at $1,000, were removed from a car parked in the 18200 area of Jamestown Circle between October 11 and 12.

The woman was found at a home on Seven Mile near Haggerty Road about 9 p.m. last week Tuesday.

A 26-year-old woman told police an attempt was made to assault her early Tuesday morning as she walked on Wing near Dunlap streets. The incident took place shortly after midnight.

She told police she was walking north on Wing when an 18-year-old man walking towards her grabbed her around the neck and tried to force her into a car. He was unable to unlock the car as she struggled and after she broke loose she ran to a nearby home and summoned police.

Her attacker was described as about five-foot 10 inches tall, short brown hair, beard along the chin line and dressed in blue jeans and a blue jacket.

A 1973 Ford Thunderbird valued at $2,500 was reported stolen October 14 from the parking lot at Ford Motor Company.

Police received a tip October 14 from a Wixom resident of a possible drug buy going on at Maple North Apartments in Wixom. Upon arrival, police learned that the car had just left the parking lot and pursued it, stopping it on West Maple, east of Beck. The car was searched with the owner's consent and two baggies of suspected marijuana found in the trunk.

Three persons were in the car. All were from Wixom including a juvenile. Charges are pending lab analysis of the suspected marijuana.

According to reports, the girl jumped 50-60 feet from the bridge when police arrived to try and stop her. She was taken to Botsford Hospital with internal injuries and a fractured spine.

Officers Charles Brown and Robert Rasmussen on patrol at 3:29 a.m. Friday discovered a storage shed and workshop at 26950 Taft Road ablaze. They quickly contacted the fire department which was able to contain the blaze without it causing extensive damage to the structure.

Loretta Nagy, 16, of Farmington was seriously injured and taken to Botsford Hospital October 13 when she flipped her motorcycle as she traveled on Novi Road south of Nine Mile. The accident occurred at 4:47 p.m. No enforcement action was taken.

Christens Station

Wixom city architect Ron Winebrenner (second from right) hands the keys to Wixom's two new fire stations to Mayor Val Vangieson while Fire Chief Robert Potter (right) and Acting Building Authority Chairman Mike Cannazzaro look on. The scene took place last Sunday during the open house celebrating the opening of Wixom's two new stations. With locations on north Wixom Road near Maple and Pontiac Trail west of Wixom Road, the two stations cost respectively $138,000 and $132,000. Able to hold four trucks each, the stations have the capability of being added to for storing larger equipment. The stations are intended to allow full coverage of the city, both east and west of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks.

Testifies on Beer Hill Problem

Testifying at a public hearing on the Wayne County budget proposed for next year, Northville Township Supervisor Betty Lennox has again called on the county commissioners to provide more help for control of vandalism and drug troubles in the Cass-Benton or "Beer Hill" section of Edward Hines Park.

At the hearing, October 13,

Mrs. Lennox pleaded, "We need more help. Please consider some way to help us with this problem."

Mrs. Lennox has previously appeared before both the commissioners' Public Works and Public Safety and Judiciary Committees to ask for more assistance in controlling the problems that she said have been escalating for the past several years.

Although she did not ask for an increase in manpower from the sheriff's department that patrols the county parks system, she is fearful of possible budget cuts that could reduce the number of deputies already available, she said in an interview after the hearing.

She pointed out that one budget proposal would eliminate the sheriff's road patrols in townships, which also serves as a back-up force for the parks deputies.

She emphasized that consumption of alcohol and the use and selling of narcotics on Beer Hill has increased drastically in the past two years, and that residents of the nearby Kings Mill condominium complex are plagued with a new level of disturbance.

Novi, Wixom Benefit from Grant

By April of 1976 a new police radio system made possible by a federal communications grant is expected to be in use, allowing Novi, Wixom and surrounding Oakland County communities new equipment and three new police frequencies.

Contracts for all participating communities were presented to them at a special meeting last week. Communities participating are Novi, Wixom, Milford, White Lake Township, South Lyon, Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake and Kensington Park.

The grant totals $300,000 with Novi's share being $3,890.

"We were using the sheriff's frequency. It was getting so overloaded it was becoming inoperable," said Novi detective Gordon Nelson who represented Novi in plans for the new system.

While Novi and the other communities involved have been operating on high band, the grant enables them to move over to unused frequencies on the low band.

The plan calls for use of three frequencies. For emergency use there are two frequencies to be used—one for receiving and one for talking. There will also be a general frequency for conversation of a less imperative nature.

The plan calls for a central transmission tower in Milford, the highest area in the participating communities. A phone line system—and perhaps later a microwave tower system—will transmit transmissions from each police station to the Milford transmitter which will then beam it out.

In addition, there will be four repeater stations around Oakland county designed to boost transmissions from walkie-talkies in the field.

Each city will be able to retain its own dispatching if it wishes. Wixom utilizes Milford dispatching and will probably continue to do so.

Specifically, the police grant puts a base station in each police department, mobile radio units in each patrol vehicle, and portable walkie-talkies in each vehicle.

According to Nelson, the system also includes the ability of hooking into the teletype system.

Specifications for the system are being drawn up and must be approved in Lansing before bids are received on the system. The system should be in operation by April of next year, according to Nelson.

It takes a lot of energy to keep you in hot water.

Water heating is the second biggest user of energy in the home. So keep showers short, wash only full loads in your washer and dishwasher, always use cold water when it will do the job as well as hot, and repair leaky hot water faucets. When you save hot water, you save energy—and money.

Today, everyone is aware of the need to conserve energy.

To help we are offering a free booklet, "It Makes Sense to Save Energy." Stop in and pick up your copy. At Consumers Power, we are working diligently to keep up with your energy needs. But there's none to waste.

LEADING RUSHER—Novi junior halfback Andy McComas is threading his way past what appears to be a sea of Lincoln High School football players. McComas led the Wildcat rushing attack with 83 yards on the ground in a losing effort on homecoming night against Lincoln. Novi lost the game by a 19-13 score.

BETSY ROSS BY GOSH—A modern day Betsy Ross smiles for the Novi Homecoming football fans as she weaves a Wildcat flag. It was the junior class of 1977 who chose the maker of the first United States flag as the subject for their homecoming float. All the floats in the homecoming parade were created with a bicentennial theme in mind.

ELECTRIFYING KEY—It was the senior class of 1976, (who else?), who won the bicentennial float competition with their theme, "Wildcats hold the key for an electrifying victory." Children on the float watch an enactment of a modern version of Benjamin Franklin's kite experiment, this time using football goalposts as a background, seniors fly their kite with an electrocuted wire.

Court Says Boundary Unit Illegal

wings for the decision to be made. "I think they'll all be consolidated before the Supreme Court," Fried stated.

The Novi case involved a judgment by the State Boundaries Commission allowing all of the township except for Brookland Farms to be annexed. However, an appeal to Ingham County Circuit Court brought an opinion that the State Boundaries Commission is unconstitutional.

"He (Judge Jack Warren) had said the amendment to the home rule act was unconstitutional because it arbitrarily designated 100 people as a group which were not entitled to an election," explained Fried.

An appeal of the decision by the City of Novi, and a counter appeal by Novi Township, left those two bodies waiting for a hearing by the Michigan Court of Appeals.

The Ingham County Circuit Court had also ruled previously in the Midland case.

No date has been set for the Appeals Court hearing though Fried estimated that the hearing should be within 30-60 days.

Because of the Appeals Court ruling in the Midland case, the status of 20-30 annexations allowed by the State Boundaries Commission could be questionable. Pipp refused to comment on their status although he indicated there could be some lawsuits forthcoming. Pipp said he could not comment on what effect the decision would have on the Northville annexation battle.

Donald Morgan, Northville Township attorney, said he was hesitant to comment on how the appeal's court ruling might affect Northville until he sees the written opinion by the Court of Appeals. "Any case depends on the particulars involved."

"I'm sure it will be appealed," he added.

Morgan added that "prior actions" in the Northville situation may make the issue dead and the decision a moot point.

Services Set for Mrs. Waldo Johnson

A memorial service for Ruth Christensen Johnson will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Mrs. Johnson, who was a lifelong resident of Northville, died Tuesday at Whitehall Convalescent Center.

She was the wife of Dr. Waldo T. Johnson and lived at 22047 Novi Road. In March, 1972, when she was honored as a 50-year life member of Northville Woman's Club, she commented that she felt it unusual "to be able to live all your life in the home in which you were born."

She was born July 22, 1893, to Rasmus and Mary (Milroy) Christensen.

Mrs. Johnson also was a past president of Northville Woman's Club and at the time of her death the club's oldest past president in time of service.

When she was honored by the club in 1972, Mrs. Johnson mentioned that it was a milestone period in her life as on the previous December 31 she and her husband had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

In addition to Dr. Johnson, survivors include two sons, Dr. Tom Johnson of Ada, Michigan, and Kalin of Northville; six grandchildren and a brother, John Christensen of Riverton, New Jersey.

Mrs. Johnson also was a member of the Northville First Presbyterian Church and of the Northville Book Club.

The Reverend Frank Storch of Norwalk, Ohio, a Presbyterian minister and friend of the family, will officiate at the service Friday. A family burial Prayers were offered Thursday evening at the A.J. Desmond and Sons Funeral Home in Troy with funeral services said Friday morning at Gesu Church in Detroit.

Northville Public Schools Annual Report — 1974-75 School Year

SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT

This report is published in keeping with the Michigan School Code for the purpose of informing citizens of the Northville Public Schools District regarding the educational program, along with receipts and expenditures of the district for the 1974-75 school year.

The official audit and formal report of the district's 1974-75 budget shows a negative financial balance of $154,146. This deficit was the result of three major factors: a substantial increase in student enrollment, a significant increase in salaries and wages, and a result of thousands of dollars in anticipated State Aid not being realized. This created the need for immediate implementation of immediate budget curtailments totaling $130,000 even prior to the October adoption of the 1974-75 budget.

In January 1975, by Executive Order of the Governor, our State Aid was further cut along with all other districts by three-fourths of one per cent. This resulted in another revenue loss of some $35,000.

The district's 1974-75 financial problems encountered a third blow in March 1975 when it was discovered that budget reports being submitted to the Superintendent and the Board of Education were not revealing an accurate assessment of the district's encumbrances.

The revenue shortages experienced were appropriately dealt with via corresponding curtailments in expenditures.

The discovery of the encumbrances not being fully reported led to the order for an official audit of the district's financial records, the confirmation of an anticipated deficit of $130,000 by June 30, 1975, and the resignation of the district's Director of Business and Finance.

At this late date (end of March), the Board and Superintendent were left without much recourse except to maintain an extra tight control on all expenditures for the remainder of the year to keep an expected deficit as minimal as possible.

The result of the difficulties experienced during the year established total expenditures of $5,530,185 while revenues amounted to only $5,376,039.

The 1974-75 Board of Education was composed of seven members with no membership change occurring during the school year. The organizational meeting of the Board held on July 8, 1974 established Mr. Martin Rinehart as President; Dr. Orlo J. Robinson, Vice President; Mr. John P. Hobart, Secretary, and Mr. P. Roger Nieuwkoop, Treasurer. The three Trustees' positions were held by Mrs. Sylvia O. Gucken, Mr. Andrew Orphan, and Mrs. Karen Wilkinson. Mrs. Gucken and Mrs. Wilkinson were elected to four-year terms on the Board at the June 10, 1974 election. Mrs. Gucken was re-elected as an incumbent, while Mrs. Wilkinson replaced retiring President Stanley Johnston.

Meetings of the Board were held on the second and fourth Monday of each month (with a few exceptions) during the year. However, it should be noted that many special meetings and work sessions were also held in order to meet the demands of our growing school district.

During the course of the 1974-75 school year, the Board with continuing assistance from the district's Architect, Ralls-Hamill-Becker-Carne, Inc., and the Superintendent, completed the major portion of construction of three new schools (two elementary and one middle school) to meet the anticipated expansion of the community population and student enrollment.

This construction program was made possible through the Board's second successful effort at "Bids Before Bonds" which received strong voter approval in June of 1973. It is anticipated that this building program will provide adequate classroom space for at least grades K-6 through the late 1970's and possibly into the early 1980's.

The three new schools were officially accepted by the District in the late spring of 1975 and formally dedicated on May 18, 1975. Students were scheduled to utilize these buildings beginning with the 1975-76 school year, however, revenue shortages for 75-76 may well lead to the closing of at least one of these new schools, along with one or two of the existing buildings.

The Board was involved with many other problems, projects and tasks during the 1974-75 school year including but not limited to:

1. Continued its involvement with the operation of Year-Round School with the implementation of its third year of operation and extending the program from K-8 to K-12. Some 1,250 students and their families enjoyed this program option. State validation of the district's Year-Round School program objectives was achieved in late spring with resultant certification that children in Year-Round School do as well as or better than students in the traditional School Year program. Students who were enrolled in the program for two years showed greater progress than students in the traditional program. Also certified was the District's contention that there is no significant difference between cost per pupil for Year-Round students and Traditional school year students.
2. Successfully implemented the use of computers to handle the district's financial transactions including payroll, budget reports, as well as general ledger which reported accounts receivable and payable. The district is now cooperating with the Wayne County Intermediate School District in securing maximum staff-student ratio through the County's Computer Center.
3. Continued involvement and participation in the City, Township, School Feasibility Study which was aimed at finding the best approach to meeting total community facility needs for recreation, Senior Citizen housing, library and Board Offices. Senior Citizen housing was referred to the City-Township for disposition, library and recreation facility needs were referred to the City-Township for study and consideration of desirable future school involvement and school needs were referred to the Board of Education for disposition.
4. Negotiated the purchase of 130 acres of land on Six Mile Road west of Sheldon to serve as a future site for school building needs including a new high school, middle school and a district-wide nature center.
5. Conducting of public hearings to provide public input into the drawing of new school attendance area boundary lines as well as the establishment of a new transportation policy, both actions resulting from the completion of the three new schools and rethinking them for operation in the fall of 1975.
6. Participated with the City and Township in an extensive study of the community's recreation needs with an eye toward the possible assumption of the total program by the district. The year's efforts and activities led to a desire to maintain the program as has been expanded by the City and Township.

In carrying out the normal operation of the School District, it was necessary to involve the assistance of outside agencies. During 1974-75 the Board of Education employed the law firms of Orin, MacFarland and Nordberg, and Keller, Thomas, Toppin & Schwabe, P.C. to assist in legal matters. The audit of the district's financial records (data reported hereto) was conducted by Plante & Moran, Certified Public Accountants. All financial transactions were completed with the assistance and cooperation of Manufacturers National Bank. The also utilized the services of Ralls-Hamill-Becker-Carne, Inc., Architect, previously mentioned.

The administration of the Board's policies and the District's programs and activities was carried out under the direction of Raymond E. Spear, Superintendent of Schools, who completed his eighth year as the District's Superintendent in June, 1975. Assistants to the Superintendent included Miss Florence Panatier, Assistant Superintendent, completing seven and one-half years in this position; Mr. Earl T. Busard, Director of Business and Finance who resigned his position in March and not replaced; Mr. J. Ronald Horwath, Director of Personnel, who completed his first year in this position and his ninth year as a Northville administrator.

Three new positions were added to the Superintendent's Office staff in the 1974-75 school year. The position of Coordinator of Special Education was filled by Mrs. Barbara Hajdusiewicz for the first semester and Mr. Clark Kelly second semester, while the position of Coordinator of Vocational and Career Education was filled by Mr. Frederick Holdsworth who was reassigned from the High School principalship. Both coordinators were employed to assist the Assistant Superintendent's Office with ever expanding program demands.

The position of Administrative Assistant for Business and Finance was established to assist the Business Office and was filled by Mr. Thomas Goulding. Mr. Goulding has been assuming several of the duties held by the Director of Business and Finance.

The Assistant Superintendent has the major responsibility for the organization of and improvement in the instructional program, grades K-12. The time and efforts of this office are devoted to working with and giving assistance to teachers and principals in carrying out the schools' major responsibility, educating children.

Significant accomplishments of the Assistant Superintendent's Office this past year included:

1. Consulting and overseeing administration and staff consideration and selection of classroom and library equipment for the new schools
2. Directed and coordinated district efforts in complying with requirements and ultimately achieving of State Validation of the Year-Round School Program.
3. Organized and conducted a Staff-Inservice Education Program for teachers in grades K-12 in the area of humanizing education.
4. Edited the district's four issues of "Opening of School Doors".
5. Chaired the Community Recreation Program Study previously mentioned in this report.
6. Provided necessary leadership and direction in the launching of a district-wide Career Education Program.

The position of Director of Business and Finance is responsible for the supervision of all classified personnel and related programs including transportation, building and site maintenance and cafeteria. All classified personnel matters have since been reassigned to the Personnel Office. In addition, this office is responsible for the proper carrying out of all financial aspects of the operation of the district. The financial condition of the district as reflected in this Annual Report has established some weaknesses in the district's practices and procedures in this office and as such will lead to necessary changes to more effectively cope with the financial operation.

The Personnel Director assisted the Superintendent primarily with personnel matters including, but not limited to, teacher recruitment replacement, contract implementation and the negotiation of a new Master Agreement with the Northville Education Association. The Personnel Director also assumed the responsibility for classified personnel matters.

The High School was administered by Principal Michael Turpin, a seven-year experienced administrator from Detroit, who replaced Fred Holdsworth; Assistant Principal Barbara Campbell in her second year; and Eddy McDougal, first-year Assistant Principal who had served as a teacher at the High School for three years, and Robert Kucher, Athletic Director. The 1974-75 enrollment reached an all-time high of 1,499 students in grades 9-12 (94 over 1973-74), who taught in our 52-classroom high school by 75 teachers, including four full-time librarians.

Ida B. Cooke Middle School was administered by Principal David Longridge in his first year as principal and eighth year as a District Administrator (Mr. Longridge replaced Mr. Horwath who became Personnel Director), and Assistant Principal J. Michael Janichik in his first year. Mr. Janichik replaced Mr. Richard Norton who requested reassignment to the classroom. Mr. Longridge devoted time to both the sixth grade program at the Annex and the seventh and eighth grades at Cooke, however, most of his efforts were primarily at Cooke. The Annex was the main responsibility of Mr. Janichik and served the educational needs of 326 sixth graders in 13 classrooms with 12 teachers and a counselor. Cooke School served 713 seventh and eighth grade students with its 30 teaching station facility under the guidance of 32.5 teachers, two counselors and a librarian.

The district's three elementary schools were headed by Principal William Craft, in his seventh year at Ann Arbor, Principal Donald Van Ingen, in his seventh year at Main Street (1974 year as an administrator in the district), and Principal Milton Jacob, in his ninth year at Moraine.

The three elementary principals supervised a combined staff of 66.5 classroom teachers and 26 special services personnel, including art, music, physical education, reading, speech correction, library and special education consultants, who served our 1974-75 elementary enrollment of 1,842 students in grades K-5. Special education consultants also served both secondary school levels. Instruction for elementary students was carried out within the 25 classrooms at Ann Arbor School, 20 rooms at Main Street School, and 23 rooms at Moraine School.

The total enrollment of 4,380 students in grades K-12 reflects an increase of 114 over September, 1973 enrollment and 527 over 1972-73. This increased student body was housed in our school buildings containing 153 classrooms, and they received their education under the supervision of 178 full-time classroom teachers and 39 supporting staff members. Our classroom teacher-pupil ratio was 24.8 to 1, with a 1974-75 student-teacher ratio of 20 to 1.

The addition of two positions of Administrative Intern were again incorporated into the 1974-75 program to assist at the Ann Arbor School and Cooke Middle School. These positions were filled for one year by Mrs. Nancy Feldman at Ann Arbor and Mr. David Shopp at Cooke. The program was designed to provide administrative assistance to the principals in the buildings, while at the same time serve as an on the job experience for staff members who are interested in future administrative positions in the district.

The 1974-75 school year found the district and the Northville Education Association working within the framework of the second year of a two-year agreement which was reached in late September, 1973. This agreement established general working conditions and fringe benefits for teachers and provided a 1974-75 salary schedule which ranged from a minimum of $9,100 to a maximum of $19,000. Raises granted teachers ranged from a low of $782 for a teacher holding a Bachelor's Degree to a high of $1,950 for a teacher with a Master's Degree. The salary schedule granted teachers with no experience and a Master's Degree a starting salary of $9,100 and a maximum after 10 years of service with a B.A. Degree of $15,900. Teachers with an M.A. Degree received $9,900, while teachers with 10 years or more of service holding an M.A. Degree received $19,000. A teacher with 30 hours of graduate work beyond the M.A. Degree received an additional $800.

Our Extra-curricular Program was maintained at a similar level as that of 1973-74, with a minor adjustment in the salary schedule. The district is pleased and proud of the many honors which our Extra-curricular Program brought our students, staff and schools during this year.

The total accomplishments of your Board of Education and the Professional Staff of the Northville Public Schools were many and far-reaching. The school year 1974-75 constitutes another generally productive and educational year for our children and citizens but ends under a financial cloud which the 1975-76 school year must clear away.

The community and schools continue to grow, but for the time at a slower than previous rate. May we continue to work together in meeting the needs and demands of our growing community and ever-changing society. To this end a credibility gap which emerged between the public and its Board of Education can be closed and ultimately eliminated.

The support and cooperation of the citizens of this school district continue to be appreciated and are of the utmost importance if we are to maintain a forward movement in the task of providing a well-rounded education for the children of the Northville Public Schools.

Signed Raymond E. Spear
Superintendent of Schools

Community Meets Police Chief

By Nancy Dingeldey

The nation's bicentennial year of celebration draws ever closer with each passing month. And each month finds more and more announcements of area plans for incorporation in the year-long event.

Probably one of the most striking items to hit the scene thus far are the new Michigan license plates. Although I've heard some say they really look ghastly, I personally think they're sharp... bright red, white and blue, the field of stars to the left and white ripples at the bottom. Missing from the plate, however, is the announcement for all to see, the "great lake state". Well, I guess with that addition you'd never see the necessary numbers.

From the scores of people working in their various ways for the bicentennial some really good ideas have emerged. Helen Tillman's love of early Americana was shared by other members of the Union Lake Baptist Church who agreed that waiting until January 1, 1976 was not a necessity for a bicentennial celebration. Helen, as church historian and five others planned an "old fashioned Sunday" and dubbed it "a time to remember".

It all began at 10 a.m. on one of our glorious fall mornings. Throughout the day parishioners and friends experienced a Sunday that used to be. An old pump organ, complete with mirrors and hurricane lamps, was moved into the sanctuary and played during the morning services. The offertory music was played on a harpsichord moved in special for the day. The church was filled with people dressed in old fashioned clothes with the pastor appearing in stern black suit with black stovepipe hat... a perfect picture of yesteryear.

An old farm wagon with a portable organ was moved into the meadow behind the church and the church band accompanied those assembled in an old fashioned hymn singing following a pot luck buffet. Then the ice cream social with hand-dipped ice cream cones for all.

Throughout the day people viewed a beautiful collection of antiquity set up in the adult Sunday school classrooms including a living room and bedroom of a bygone era. There were old dishes, books, clothing and church records, adding to the total picture of the past.

Those attending the city council meeting last week had the opportunity of meeting for the first time Wixom's new police chief who took over his post this past Monday. Phil Leonard comes to Wixom after 25 years of service in the Detroit Police Department. Mr. Leonard says his greatest attraction to Wixom is the city itself as he and his wife Jackie (Jacqueline) moved to Detroit from a small town much like Wixom. The Leonard's have five daughters: 16 year-old Denise in the eleventh grade; Cindy, a sophomore at Lake Superior College in Sault St. Marie majoring in ecology; Sue, who is employed by Bendix International in an aerospace program; Nancy who is married and in computerized payroll at the G.M. Tech Center; and Brenda, married with one child and living in San Francisco.

Leisure time activities show the Leonard's to enjoy the out-of-doors with camping high on the list. But even more enjoyable to the whole family is cycling with Leonard saying they are all anxious to "hit the roads" around Wixom. Golf and cross-country skiing were sports enjoyed many years back which just might find their spot again once the family relocated here.

On Sunday the Leonard's were in Wixom to join the community at the Fire Department open house which gave them the opportunity to become even better acquainted with the City.

Northridge neighbors once again joined in a morning coffee to greet a long lost friend. The Andersons, who moved from Hopkins Drive a few years back to relocate in Phoenix, Arizona with another transfer along the way that say the family move to Marietta, Georgia, renewed old acquaintances during this past week.

Julie Anderson flew in from Georgia "just to visit" spending time with Judy Trebing and former Wixom resident Lyn DeAlteris. Marlie Ridley had a coffee on Friday morning bringing together everyone who knew Julie. It was also a great opportunity for everyone to visit Marlie in the Ridley's new home near Holly.

It is now AB Timothy Tillman, with a great big long service number following his name, who has completed his basic training in Texas and is now stationed at Keesler AFB in Mississippi. That's a far cry from Denver, Colorado where Tim wanted to go. For a while at least, he's traded in his snow skis for a pair of water skis. Tim, who expects to be home for Christmas is in the band and studying avionics inertial and radar navigation systems.

And a little added note... Mary and Gerry Pastula were "absolutely overwhelmed" with all the kind thoughts from their many friends in Wixom following the death of Gerry's dad. They just wanted to say "thank you" again for the many thoughts and as Mary put it, "Wixom is just filled with wonderful and super people."

The Holiday Boutique this year is being sponsored by the Wixom Historical Society and is, in part, a fund raiser for the many activities planned by the Society. The actual date for the Boutique will be announced next week. Booth space may be reserved through Helen Tillman or Nancy Dingeldey at 624-3950.

Handmade articles perfect for gift giving, lovely Finnish imports, and a host of other items will be available during this annual event. Watch carefully for more information and by all means... tell your friends!

Jaycee Phone Books Ready in Novi

The last of several thousand bicentennial telephone books compiled by the Novi Jaycees were scheduled to be delivered free to Novi residents this past weekend.

According to Gary Durand, President of the Novi Jaycees, "one purpose is to list all the telephone numbers in one book because they are listed in two books from Michigan Bell."

Ruona Joins Ferris Band

Novi's Chris Ruona, a cornet player, was one member of the 150 piece Ferris State College Band which hosted 12 high school bands in the homecoming parade and 28th Annual Band Day last Saturday in Big Rapids.

The massed bands, composed of 1100 musicians, also performed half half-time activities during the football game to the Bicentennial theme of "American Heritage."

Novi Residents Get Free Help

Any homeowners in Novi building and needing a consultant on electrical needs or problems are invited to ask for advice from Novi Electrical Inspector Wayne Merriman.

Merriman told this newspaper that "I've got the feeling that people are afraid of inspectors. My big thing is safety. They're our taxpayers and I'm always willing to help."

Merriman says that he has been doing this in the past. "I've been showing how to wire swimming pools and additions. I don't do the work for them but I'm here for advice."

Anyone wishing to contact Merriman can call the Building and Safety Department at 349-4300.
