

$5.9 Million School Budget Seen as Tightest Ever

A balanced budget of $5,901,591 for the 1975-76 school year was adopted by a 6-0 vote of the Northville Board of Education Monday night.

The budget represents an increase of $371,409 over the actual expended budget in 1974-75 of $5,530,182.

School Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson was absent.

Roger Nieuwkoop, school board treasurer, told the 20 people attending the budget hearing that the document "is not a business as usual budget."

Nieuwkoop noted that the allocation for instruction showed an increase of $75,396 over last year. He said this is especially significant in that the allocation for teacher salaries increased $169,021 from last year.

The increase reflects the recent negotiated teacher contract. Other salary items, like driver education, extra-curricular and athletic director, were cut in this year's budget to make room for the rising teacher salaries.

Nieuwkoop also explained that the budget reflects increases in items over which the Northville School Board has no control. These items include fixed charges, up $60,733 over last year, operation of the plant, up $114,348 over last year, and maintenance, up $33,472 over last year.

"This budget is reflective of the climate in the community and state and nation today," Nieuwkoop said. "I am extremely concerned that this budget does not have much room to compensate for changes."

There is not a contingency fund in the school district budget. Some contingencies mentioned that might throw the budget figures off are an executive order cut in state aid, a state equalized valuation adjustment, maintenance repairs, health insurance rate increases, and hikes in utility bills.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said that he has a red folder on his desk to remind him of another item which showed an increase over the 1974-75 budget. In fact, the $154,163 deficit did not even appear in the budget last year. A school district is required by law to present a balanced budget and Superintendent Spear said that he hopes to liquidate the deficit this year.

Spear also added that he and the school board will keep a tighter reign on the Northville school budget than in years past. He named the following items which will help the board keep the budget under control:

1, a print-out of all anticipated revenues and expenditures from the computer the school district is now using; 2, a cash flow chart of the actual cash received and spent; 3, the superintendent has to recognize that he got burned with the budget last year and to avoid a repetition of budget problems; 4, the superintendent is now authorized to use the auditors in more ways to help oversee the school financial situation; 5, Administrative Assistant to the Business Office Tom Goulding has implemented a line graph chart of utility expenditures; 6, Superintendent Spear hopes there will be revenues to hire a director of business and finance to provide an experienced person who could add even more expertise in handling the school district finances.

Spear also noted that on the revenue side, the Northville School District may see an increase in two areas; if the

Six Vie for Mayor, Council Posts As City Casts Ballots Tuesday

☆☆☆ Few Hear Candidates Give Views

Fewer than 20 persons were on hand Thursday to hear candidates for the Northville City Council state their views and answer questions of the public.

The public forum was sponsored by the Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi League of Women Voters. Attendance here contrasted sharply with the turnout in a similar forum Monday in Novi where nearly 150 persons heard Novi candidates speak.

Officials blamed the poor turnout partly on the fact that several other major activities were occurring here the same evening, among them the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner dance and a meeting of the Historical Society.

All of the six Northville candidates were on hand for the forum, which disclosed little new information about the candidates or their positions.

In a departure from city issues, candidates were asked from the audience to state their positions on the upcoming school millage election. In every case but one the candidates said they personally supported the millage increase. Thomas Bongiovanni, candidate for mayor, declined to state his position.

Very briefly, here are some of the remarks made by the candidates:

DECK STAIRS—Completion of two exterior stairways on Northville's municipal parking deck were expected to be completed this week. The interior covered stairway is being removed because it represented a safety and health hazard. Women were afraid to use it, and the trash was regularly tossed there and vandals often left their calling cards.

A mayor and two councilmen will be elected from a list of six candidates when voters go to the polls next Tuesday in what is expected to be a relatively light turnout.

According to the clerk's office, a total of 3410 persons are registered to vote. That compares with 3,050 who were registered to vote two years ago when 1,100 persons went to the polls to elect two councilmen and the mayor.

Challenging Incumbent Mayor A. M. Allen, 60, is Thomas Bongiovanni, a 32-year-old Northville Downs employee whose major plank suggests a clean-up of drug abuse that he insists is going unchallenged in the city and township. Allen, who has served as mayor longer than any man in the 148-year history of Northville, is campaigning on his record.

Two challengers also are battling the two council candidates seeking re-election.

The challengers are Stanley Johnston, a Northville real estate owner and former long-time member of the board of education, and Eugene Wagner, an unsuccessful council candidate two years ago who is a part owner of the Arcade 5 located in Northville Square.

The two incumbent councilmen are David Biery, a 37-year-old branch officer with Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, and Paul Vernon, 53, who is national account manager for Allen Testproducts Division of Allen Group, Inc.

Wagner's campaign stresses the fact that he would not have resigned had annexation been approved; Johnston points to his previous past public service and the fact that his business is located here; Biery points to his past service with the city and the fact that he is a life-long resident; and Vernon notes that besides his council service he serves as chairman of the Beautification Commission and the Historical District Commission.

Biery and Vernon were elected to the council four years ago. Both are former members of the zoning board of appeals. Vernon has been mayor pro tem for the past

Special Ed Pact Gets Board OK

Contract with Wayne County Intermediate School District for institutional special education services was approved by a 6-0 vote of the Northville School Board Monday night, contingent upon approval of language changes by attorneys for both groups and acceptance of the document by the intermediate district.

Absent from Monday's meeting was School Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson.

The one-year contract calls for 100 percent reimbursement of costs incurred by the Northville School District in educating the 808 students from Northville Residential Training Center and the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

Although the program in the two centers is expected to begin as soon as possible, the approximate 26 students who will be educated in the public schools are not expected to be incorporated into the local schools until second semester.

Donna Sewrey, consultant for special education from Wayne County Intermediate School District, has been working with Northville in setting up programs. She explained that the six teachers at the two centers will eventually be increased to a staff of 220. The 26 students who will be brought into Northville school are physically handicapped students.

Miss Sewrey explained that only those students who were in the same general age bracket as elementary children would be attending the schools. The older children and adults would be educated within the centers.

She added that all the students have been educated in the centers previously but that state law changes have said that the youngsters need education and that is not the function of the department of mental health but is the duty of the department of public instruction.

In a related matter, school board trustees approved contracts for 17 special education teachers who will teach at the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

Superintendent Raymond Spear pointed out that provisions will have to be made in the contract with the Northville Education Association since most of the teachers may be working 230 days in the special education program. Teachers working the Northville schools work a 187 day work year.

Two Men Die in Mid-Air Plane Crash

Two men were killed and two other individuals are listed in serious condition as the result of a midair collision of two small aircraft which occurred near the Salem Airport Sunday.

Arthur Rogers of Livonia was killed instantly when the Cessna 172 he was piloting hit a Piper Cherokee 180 at approximately 3:35 p.m.

The identity of the second pilot who was flying alone has not yet been released by State Police. The man was believed to be from Portsmouth, Ohio, where the second plane was registered. Officers said Tuesday that they hope to make a positive identification from fingerprints and dental records which are presently being studied at the crime lab.

According to police, both pilots were burned beyond recognition.

Two passengers in the Rogers' plane are still listed in critical condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. They are Beverly Rogers, the 21-year-old daughter of the Cessna pilot, and Jack Marr, Rogers' 51-year-old brother-in-law who resides in Plymouth.

Miss Rogers has severe cuts and multiple fractures, while Marr is suffering from cuts and burns.

A witness to the crash reported that the single-engine planes appeared to be coming in over each other toward the Salem Airport landing strip when the lower plane suddenly pulled up.

The lower plane — Rogers' Cessna 172 — appeared to hit the Piper Cherokee in the belly.

Pilots at the airport stated that the lower plane is a type that carries the wings over the pilot's head, while the wings on the higher plane are located lower than the pilot's head. They theorized that the location of the wings may have created blind spots and that the two pilots were unable to see each other. The Salem Airport does not have a control tower. Pilots are required to notify other planes in the area over an open channel when they are preparing either to take off or land.

The planes collided at 200 to 300 feet in the air and immediately plummeted to the ground in a swampy area approximately 100 yards short of the landing strip.

Philip Presnell of the Northville Township Police Department was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the accident. He reported that the immediate area was covered with nothing "but smoke and flames. It was a burning inferno," he said.

The Salem Township Fire Department put out the fire and the South Lyon Ambulance Service transported Miss Rogers and Marr to the hospital in Ann Arbor.

Coming to Our Town

Traveling Circus to Play One-Day Benefit for Band

By JEAN DAY

THE CIRCUS is coming to town with trained animals, clowns, acrobats, trapeze artists and jugglers.

Two performances are scheduled by the Voorheis Brothers Circus at 4 and 7 p.m. Saturday, November 8, in the Northville High School gymnasium as a benefit for the Northville High School Band.

Billed as the "all-new, Bicentennial edition," the circus is produced by "Colonel" Bill Voorheis. He promises it will include popular chimps and other animal acts.

Bringing the circus here is an ambitious project of the Northville High School Band and band parents. Band members will be playing in the circus band and helping out as "circus hands."

Band members now are selling tickets with proceeds earmarked for next summer's marching band camp, which again will be at Hale, Michigan.

In the pre-sale, tickets are available at reduced rates, Mrs. Betty Hoover of the band parents announces. They are $1 for students and $2 for adults. There's also a "family plan" with up to two adults and four children for $6.50. At the door prices will be $1.50 for students and $2.75 for adults.

FOURTH ANNUAL TIVOLI Fair, sponsored by the Northville Historical Society, will be held this year in the Northville Square community room for two days, Friday and Saturday, November 21-22.

The fair, which takes its theme from the Tivoli Gardens of Copenhagen, will run from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. opening day and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. the second. It promises to be "bigger than ever" with a wide range of arts and crafts geared to inflation-hit budgets, says the society sponsors.

The committee delightedly reports there's even a waiting list for booths at the fair. Already promised are craft booths for macrame, basketry, weaving, jewelry, spinning, Christmas decorations of all descriptions, hand painted china, dried flower arrangements, wooden toys, oil and acrylic painting, wooden wares, tableau art, decoupage, vue d'optique, stained glass, dolls and animals, leather goods, handwoven articles and doll house miniatures.

The historical society will have its Country Store which Gail Norback, Carol Butske and other committee members have worked for all year long. Wares will include handmades, candy, plants, canned goods and homemade pastries, ruffled and patchwork aprons, sunbonnets, doorstops, tea cosies.

With the admittance donation of 75 cents is the opportunity to win an afghan donated by Mrs. E. M. Starkweather.

Donation and country store proceeds will be used for Mill Race Historical Village restoration work.

At its October meeting last Thursday Northville Historical Society wished Mrs. Barbara Scantlin well as she prepared to move from the community. One of its most active members, Barbara had been in charge of the autograph quilt project, her original idea for friends of the society to have their names inscribed on a replica of a "memory quilt" for a $5 donation.

The white quilt with blue embroidered signatures finally will be used in a bedroom of the Hunter House now being restored. Mrs. Shirley Millard of 49041 Ridge Court has volunteered to take over the quilt project and has set a final date for accepting signatures of Sunday, November 23.

She plans to have it on display during the annual Northville merchants' Christmas Walk that day. The quilt now boasts about 85 signatures. Signatures for the quilt may be mailed to Mrs. Millard with checks. She may be called at 349-5656 for additional information.

Incidentally, Mrs. Scantlin's move brings the Brian Ehrle family back to Northville. They have leased her home in Shadbrook.

Mrs. Scantlin leaves today for Williamsburg, Virginia. From Virginia she plans to continue south to Gulfport, Florida, to visit her mother.

Northville is considered "home" by more than one resident who has been transferred away only to return later.

Other former residents moving back to the community are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes who have bought the George Clark home on West Main Street. The Clarks have moved to a condominium in Plymouth.

The Eugene Karrers are returning to Northville after a stay in Philadelphia. They have purchased the Kenneth Shelly home at 45926 Pickford in Shadbrook.

Earlier this year the William Slattery moved into Morgan Court in Lexington Commons when they were transferred back from England.

NORTHVILLE JAYCEE Auxiliary drew a crowd of 112 to the old library building in the Mill Race Village last Friday night for a benefit art auction. Mrs. John Dugan, co-chairman, reports the auxiliary was "really thrilled" with the response to this "first" which yielded more than $500 for auxiliary projects.

In addition, it was a "fun" evening for those attending as they sipped champagne while viewing art on display before the bidding began at 9 p.m.

SHIPSHEWANA, Indiana, and the weekly Amish outdoor sale there will be the destination of Baseline Chapter, Quarters antique study group, for its annual fall field trip next Wednesday. Members are rising early to leave from the home of Mrs. George Miller at 7 a.m. Reservations should be made with her or Mrs. Harvey Smith.

News Around Northville

Northville Senior Citizens who have made reservations for a bus trip to Frankenmuth this Saturday are asked to check in at Kerr House with Mrs. Richard Sharon, club trip chairman, before boarding the bus, which is scheduled to leave at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Sharon reports that 50 members of the Northville club have signed up for the outing.

A presentation on "Open Classrooms" will follow the cooperative dinner planned by Alpha Nu Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, at 6 p.m. Monday at Miller School in Plymouth.

Mrs. Nancy Fieldman, social chairman, asks members to bring a passing dish and table service to the meeting at the school, located at 43721 Hanford. Those attending should take Sheldon Road south to Warren and go east to Hanford.

The open classroom presentation will be given by Mrs. Shirley Spaniel, Miller School principal.

Northville PTA Coordinating Council will meet at 8 p.m. this Thursday in the board of education offices to hear Dinghy Sharpe speak on "Bucket Brigade." Mrs. Sharpe is a member of the Michigan State PTA Board.

Mrs. Paul Barber, a Northville musician and teacher, will direct three woodwind ensembles in the musical program following the Federation Day meeting of the Farmington Musicale November 5 at Farmington Community Library.

Mrs. Barber is an instrumental music teacher in Farmington elementary schools and is co-advisor of the Glockenspiels, a junior club of Farmington Musicale. The woodwind ensembles she is presenting are all members of the Glockenspiels.

Area residents are invited to attend this meeting and may call Mrs. Charles Osterdale, 474-2958, to make reservation. There is a small guest fee for the tea following. Baby sitting is available.

Delta Delta Delta alumnae of Dearborn-Western Wayne County will celebrate Founder's Day and the 20th anniversary of their alumnae chapter with a special "This Is Your Life" program at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, November 11.

All Tri Deltas are invited to attend and may make reservations for the potluck dinner with Mrs. Walter Eichhorn, 422-7812.

Northville members attending include Mrs. Richard Sievert of 47141 Chigwidden and Mrs. L. W. Mosher of 41999 Scenic Lane.

Members in charge of the program are Mrs. Charles Repp and Mrs. Dora Busse of Plymouth and Mrs. Homer Tolan of Birmingham.

GETTING ACQUAINTED—Members of Northville's newly organized branch of the American Association of University Women have coffee together "just to get to know each other." Mrs. Stacey Morgano, right,

Two Presentations Thursday

League Panel Studies Presidency

Six items dealing with the office of the President of the United States will be discussed by a League of Women Voters panel as the Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi branch studies the executive branch of government.

A morning discussion at 9 a.m. and an evening one at 8 p.m. are scheduled for this Thursday by the league.

Mrs. Carolann Ayres will open her home at 518 Morgan Circle, Northville, for the morning session with baby sitting to be available with Mrs. Lesa Buckland with advance reservation by calling her at 349-0773.

The evening session will be at Epiphany Lutheran Church on Five Mile Road east of Bradner. All interested area residents are invited.

Panel members are Mrs. Marcia Borowski, Mrs. Barbara Hill, Mrs. Sally Posthill, Mrs. Barbara Suhay and Mrs. Nancy White.

The study sessions are being held, the league explains, in preparation for a forthcoming "Consensus on the Presidency."

The panel discussion will include the following topics: Evolution of the Presidency, Powers of the President, Staffing the Presidency, Personality and the Presidency, The President and Congress and Reform.

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS BRIDSON

Jill Meadows Wed To Douglas Bridson

A friendship in junior high school ultimately led to marriage for a couple who have been dating each other for the past five years.

Jill Marie Meadows and Douglas John Bridson exchanged vows in an early evening ceremony October 11 at Ward United Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Dr. Bartlett Hess. Both the bride's engagement ring as well as her wedding band were family heirlooms.

She is the daughter of Novi residents, Mr. and Mrs. James Puckett of 22759 Meadowbrook. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bridson of 540 Chester, South Lyon.

Given in marriage by her stepfather and her mother, the bride was adorned in a long white gown featuring a lace bodice and a chiffon overlay skirt, with an accented pleated trim around the bottom and the train.

Her bouquet was composed of white roses, orchids, baby's breath and ivory, all of which were done in a combination of silk and dried flowers.

Mrs. Anise Patterson, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor.

She wore a floor length dark green quiana knit dress with an empire waist.

Three friends of the bride, Mrs. Roxanne Fallert, Mrs. Yvonne Cole and Mrs. Lynette Williamson were bridesmaids. All wore gowns in a salmon shade similar in style to the matron of honor's.

The Misses Donna and Joanne Kulfi, sisters of the bride, as well as a sister of the groom, Miss Julie Bridson, were junior bridesmaids in the wedding party.

Miss Danyel Meadows, a niece of the bride, attended as flower girl.

Junior bridesmaids' gowns were done in a burgundy color while Miss Meadows wore a yellow gown.

All attendants carried a bouquet of fall-colored silk and dried flowers. Headpieces were composed of one red rose and greens.

Mr. David Williamson, a friend of the groom, attended as best man.

Three brothers of the groom, Mr. Jim Bridson, Mr. Jeff Bridson, and Mr. David Bridson, joined with a brother-in-law, Mr. Ronald Patterson and two friends, Mr. Paul Fallert and Mr. Charles Downing in attending the groom.

Remember Those Sunflower Buttons?

He Collects Campaign Give-Aways

Like the saying, "You can't tell the players without a scorecard," Northville City Manager Steven Walters declares, "If you don't know the history of candidates, it's hard to identify campaign material."

Walters talked for the first time in Northville about his extensive collection of presidential campaign memorabilia to the Northville Historical Society last Thursday.

He was stressing in his introduction the importance of studying political campaign history to be able to appreciate old material.

A stick pin bearing the inscription, "Mama, Where's Papa?" he said, isn't difficult to recognize as belonging to the campaign of 1884 if you know that Grover Cleveland in that election was accused, and rightly so, of having fathered an illegitimate child earlier.

A 1956 button picturing a shoe sole with a hole in it can be identified with Adlai Stevenson, who wore out his shoe leather in that campaign and was photographed with the worn sole showing.

"It's this kind of trivia that's important to a collector," Walters explains, noting that often the candidate's name is not on an item.

He uses the Stevenson campaign to show how the same material on an issue or theme can be used by both parties. The opposition (Eisenhower) used the shoe on a button with the slogan, "Think—don't let this happen to you! Vote for IKE."

Walters' collection includes campaign material reaching back to the Andrew Jackson campaign, which, he points out, really was the beginning of political campaigns as we know them.

He began, he remembers, by taking over a collection of about 100 items begun by his mother.

Walters is a member of the Michigan Chapter of the American Political Items Collectors. There now are 4,000 members in the Michigan chapter, which meets four times a year.

Walters remembers it began in 1963 in his Ann Arbor apartment as he and other collectors got together.

Today Walters' collection fills boxes and showcases. He has more than 600 different items on President Johnson alone.

"But I'm always looking for new items to add to my collections," Walters says, noting that buttons, tabs, ribbons and such souvenirs as a tiny gold teddy bear from the Teddy Roosevelt campaign are collectables.

Those old enough to remember campaigns of the past will recognize the Kansas sunflower button of Landon and Knox, and know the meaning of the Willie button reading, "I don't want Eleanor either."

"Someone looking at buttons 50 years from now will have to know something of history to understand them," Walters mentions as he cites the 1972 campaign as "unprecedented — for the first time buttons were recalled for candidate defects."

Eagleton's name didn't stay on buttons, he recalls, as he was dropped after his history of psychiatric care and his driving record became public.

Since political items, which Walters defines as anything the candidate gives away, are relatively prevalent they are not too expensive to collect with 1900-era memorabilia ranging from about $25 to $100.

Walters points out that age alone doesn't determine value of items. It's easier to get an Andrew Jackson coin, he illustrates, than some Coolidge items. Maybe because times were economically tight, he speculates, fewer items were distributed during the Coolidge campaign and thus are more scarce.

Walters weaves in tidbits of history he has gleaned as he displays his collection. In mentioning Coolidge, Walters recalls his comment to incoming President Hoover, "You stand every day for three to four hours hearing visitors want something they shouldn't have."

If you find an old political button in the back of a desk drawer, it might be one picturing an atom bomb exploding with the slogan, "Go with Goldwater."

If you check, you'll realize quickly that's an anti-Goldwater button, Walters points out. Such a button could become the start of a new hobby — but if you don't want it, call Steve.

Novi Gears Up for Heavy Turnout

65 Percent Turnout

A relatively heavy turnout with 65 percent of the voters coming to the polls is expected by Wixom City Clerk June Buck for the November 4 election.

While there are no questions on the ballot, residents will be asked to elect a mayor and three council members. Mayor Val Vangieson is running unopposed in an attempt to retain his two year seat. He reached the top city post in the summer of 1974 when Gilbert Willis resigned his post as mayor.

All three council incumbents are seeking re-election for four year terms. They are Robert Dingeldey, Lillian Spencer and Melvin Green. Green was named to the council to fill the post previously held by Vangieson who was named mayor.

Other persons running for council are Carlton Oldford and Michael McDonald. Robert VanZandt is an avowed write-in candidate.

There are 1,600 registered voters, up approximately 100 from the last election two years ago. Absentee voters can pick up ballots until Saturday at 2 p.m. at the city clerk's office.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Voting places for the city's three precincts are: precinct one, Loon Lake Elementary; precinct two, Wixom Elementary; precinct three, Wixom City Hall.

Novi School Work On Schedule

Both the new high school and elementary school portions of the Novi School District Building program are progressing on schedule, according to Dr. Gerald Kratz, superintendent.

The high school, which is being constructed on the southeast corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads is "right on schedule", said Kratz. He noted that 35 brick masons are working daily on the structure and "the weather has been very helpful."

If construction continues on schedule, the $11.5 million high school should be ready to open its doors in the fall of 1977. Capacity of the new high school will be 1500 optimum and 2100 maximum, according to Dr. Kratz. The present high school, he noted, is already operating over capacity with 820 students while the school was designed to hold 4750 students. The present high school will become a middle school. Use of three portable classrooms has helped take care of the current high school overflow, but Dr. Kratz said that next year, before the new high school opens, the school district will be faced with more high school students and a need for further classroom space.

A possible solution, according to Dr. Kratz, would be utilization of part or all of the present board office for classrooms. The superintendent

Will Serve Dayton-Hudson

Novi OK's Water Line

Novi Council October 20 approved the extension of Detroit water to serve the Dayton-Hudson shopping center.

Approval was given to extend the water line from 14 Mile down to Novi Road south of the project and a line east from Novi Road on 12 Mile.

However, the council decided to wait on the remaining part of the project which includes an extension along Novi Road, west on 10 Mile to Taft Road and east on 10 Mile to Meadowbrook Glens subdivision. The library and new high school would be served on the remaining portion of the line.

However, the council decided that it wanted the city engineers to do a further study of water needs within the city and to report back to council. According to city manager Ed Kriewall, if the water project is completed as suggested, Detroit water would not be available to the area west of Taft Road in Novi until the year 2000.

"This will have a tremendous impact on the people who have businesses and residences west of Taft Road," countered mayor Robert Daley. "What we need is a master water plan."

As it stands now, the council approved, however, extending the transmission line from where it now ends at 14 Mile and Decker Road down to 12 Mile. Council also approved the construction of lines east on 12 Mile and south on Novi Road. Dayton-Hudson has agreed to pick up completely the cost for the line fronting the project. That portion of the project must be completed by January of 1977, according to the city manager.

Total cost of the overall project, if approval for completion comes later, should be approximately $2 million or slightly more.

Council unanimously gave approval to the portions of the project from 14 Mile to 12 Mile and from 12 Mile south and east fronting along the Dayton-Hudson property.

Novi Landlord Fees Approved

Approval of fees for the controversial landlord ordinance was given by Novi Council last Monday.

The ordinance is intended to license landlords doing business within the city of Novi and requires an annual inspection and license.

An initial land lord ordinance approved by the council was struck down by the courts as being discriminatory. The new ordinance was intended to accomplish the same ends but to solve the problems noted by the courts in the initial ordinance.

Licensing fee per building was set at $25. In addition, there are the following inspection fees:

Single family dwelling, $10; rooming house, $4; apartments, motels, hotels, $5; Convalescent Home $2 per bed.

Industrial buildings; up to 5,000 square feet, $10; 5,000 to 25,000 square feet, $20; 25,001 to 100,000, $30; 100,001 to 500,000 square feet, $40; 500,001 to 1,000,000 square feet, $50; over 1,000,000 square feet, $60.

Commercial buildings (including all floors): up to 1,500, $5; 1,501 to 5,000 square feet, $10; 5,001 to 25,000 square feet, $20; 25,001 to 100,000 square feet, $30; 100,001 to 500,000 square feet, $40; 500,001 to 1,000,000 square feet, $50; over 1,000,000 square feet, $60.

Rides Set To Polls

Off-duty officers from the Novi Police Officers Association will be providing rides Tuesday for all persons unable to find transportation to the voting locations.

According to Corporal Frank Barabas, vice-president of the association, off-duty officers will provide rides in private cars for all persons who request transportation.

To receive a ride, contact the city clerk's office at 349-4300.

Voters to Elect

Mayor, 4 Councilmen

A heavier than normal turnout is expected next Tuesday when Novi residents go to the polls to decide on a mayor, four council members and four millage proposals.

With 6700 registered voters, city clerk Gerry Stipp expects a relatively good turnout with 60-60 percent of the registered voters making it to the polls. Approximately 400 more residents are registered than during the last election. Mrs. Stipp said she expects the good turnout, because of the many millage questions on the ballot.

In the hotly contested mayoral race, long-time councilman Louie Campbell will clash with Novi School Board president Gilbert Henderson.

Some political observers see the race as even while others give Campbell the edge.

The four year seats currently held by Denis Berry, Martha Hoyer and Edwin Presnell are up for grabs. Presnell is not seeking re-election, citing personal reasons.

Mrs. Hoyer's seat was gained in a special July election in which she defeated eight other candidates for the remaining three months of the term that had been held by George Athas.

Filing to run for the three four-year seats besides Berry and Mrs. Hoyer are: Meyer Brennan, 24617 Old Orchard; William R. O'Brien, 41131 South McMahon Circle; Kenneth Maxwell, 41431 Glyme; Dennis L. Murphy, 41711 Borchart Drive; Robert D. Schmid, 28105 Summit Drive; James A. Shaw, 23960 Lynwood; William Spencer, Jr., 1231 East Lake Drive; Melvin Stephens, 135 DeGross; and Joseph G. Toth, 22734 Chestnut Tree Way.

Filing for the two-year council seat previously held by Louie Campbell who resigned to run for mayor were four persons. They are: Richard Bureau, 23824 Willowbrook; Arthur Butt, 44109 Grand River; Jack W. Carter, 40960 Ten Mile; and Patricia A. Kerevich, 25904 Clark Street.

Interestingly, the top five vote getters in the July election for Martha Hoyer's seat are seeking election to council. In that election, Mrs. Hoyer won with 297 votes. Joseph Toth received 132 while O'Brien tallied 108, Butt, 98, and Maxwell, 97.

That election was one of the lightest in the city's history with only 826 voters, representing 13 percent of those registered, coming to the polls.

Besides the council and mayoral races, four millage questions are on the ballot.

Proposal A asks for approval of a road bonding

Delivers in Pinch

He's A Father—12 Times

When Jack Mosher II of Taft Road woke up last October 14, he didn't have any idea that by the end of the day he would have been a father — 12 times.

Truthfully Mosher didn't even expect to be a father once. It all started when Katy, a part Saint Bernard, went into labor early in the morning Tuesday and started having problems when the second puppy refused to come out.

Mosher, a former veterinary aid who lived just two houses down the street on Taft Road from the Al and Pat Corte residence where the births were taking place, was called.

"I ran over there and tried to straighten one of them out because it was on its side so the others couldn't get out," recalls Mosher.

It turned out that the second pup was dead, as was the third. It took Mosher 1½ hours but he finally straightened out the problem and things were rolling again. There wasn't another problem until the sixth one, which also was dead. "From there I helped her all the way through until the last two which she did by herself," says Mosher.

While they aren't Mosher's first births — he's helped out with some other animal births — it's got to be the first time he's become a father 12 times in a row.

Bond Frees Suspect In Wixom Murder

A Wixom man is free on $15,000 bond after being charged with murder in the death of his brother October 22.

Charged with murdering his brother is Terence Milhollan, 20, of 36998 Twelve Mile Road in Wixom. The dead man is identified as Timothy Milhollan, 25, of the same address.

The younger Milhollan was taken before District Court Judge Martin Boyle and released on $15,000 surety bond pending exam set for October 31.

According to police reports, Wixom police received a call of a possible homicide at 3:23 a.m. October 22. Upon arrival, they found the father of the deceased attempting mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Timothy was pronounced dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital.

An investigation of the death determined that both brothers had been at the Wolverine Lounge until closing time at 2:30 a.m. when they left. Between the time the brothers left and arrived home, Timothy was apparently struck by a blow that caused the death.

Dr. John Burton, Chief Pathologist for the Oakland County medical Examiner's office determined that death was caused by a blunt instrument hitting the left side of the head in the upper area of the left ear. The report said this could have caused a loss of consciousness which would have caused the breathing to stop.

Traveling Great-Grandmother

She's Holding China-Painting Seminars

Novi's Goldie Latchford puts the finishing touches on another beautiful design

By JEAN DAY

Mrs. Goldie Latchford of Novi may be a great-grandmother six times over, but she's far from a sedentary one.

The well-known china painting teacher has been traveling all over the country conducting seminars. She has just returned from Pennsylvania and Illinois where she taught china decorating in fruit and pansy designs, her specialties.

This Friday and Saturday she will have a booth at the North Central Regional Convention of China Painters being held at the Troy Hilton Hotel. Six states will be represented, she says, with continuous demonstrations going on all day long.

Mrs. Latchford is donating a large tankard which she has decorated with grapes as a door prize for the event.

Begun as a hobby in 1955, china painting is threatening to turn into a job, says Mrs. Latchford as she tells of her students and her many club affiliations. She began the skilled craft, she remembers, when "working myself to the bone in the store and my doctor said to get a hobby."

Her husband, Daniel, has retired as owner of Midwest Parachute Sales in Novi. They have been Novi residents for 23 years, living at 46881 Grand River, but now are building in a new area on North Center Street in Northville.

Mrs. Latchford studied for several years under Winifred Brase of California, who, she explains, is acknowledged by those in the field of china decorating, as being foremost in the craft.

She started her hobby in adult education classes, in Walled Lake, Goldie Latchford remembers, and went on to seek out experts, such as Emma Begun who in turn had studied under George Lycohn who died around the turn of the century.

"His things now are at a premium," she adds, mentioning that she is pleased to own a jardiniere decorated by him.

Many of Mrs. Latchford's students now are teachers, including Mary Stricker of Walled Lake who is to demonstrate the painting of kittens to Spring Chapter

There are about 40 china painting teachers now in the Detroit area as the craft is becoming a popular one with growing numbers of clubs.

The Northville chapter was organized by Miss Elizabeth Etz, Mrs. Latchford says, and is composed in large portion of her students. Mrs. Latchford currently is second vice president of the Northville Spring painters. She also is serving as second vice president of the International China Painters Association and president of the Michigan association of china painting teachers. She's second vice president of the China Decorators Guild.

And she really is a great-grandmother, though a young one, with her two children having supplied her with eight grandchildren — who among them now have six children.

Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Richardson, Jr., of 19151 Meadowbrook Road, Northville, hosted a surprise 50th wedding anniversary party for Mrs. Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Martin, who originally were from Sebawaing, Michigan, but now live in Detroit.

The party was given at Willow Creek Clubhouse in Westland, where a grandson has his apartment, on October 19.

The first of several special anniversary events was a family dinner October 17, the couple's anniversary night, at Hillside Inn. The next evening the grandchildren took their grandparents to Canada's Top Hat restaurant for dinner and dancing.

The Martins have a daughter, three grandsons, Bob Richardson III, Marty Richardson and Todd Richardson, and three great-granddaughters. Mr. Martin has been retired for several years and was previously employed for 47 years by the same engraving company, originally Everton Engraving Company.

Topic Is 'Goals'

Sociologist Head Speaks at College

A sociologist of national reputation will speak at Schoolcraft College on October 30.

He is Dr. Alfred Lee, president of the American Sociological Association (ASA) and a part chairman of the Michigan Sociological Association. He will speak at noon in the Liberal Arts Theater. Admission is free and the public welcome.

As president of ASA, Dr. Lee is very much concerned that sociologists play a relevant role in current controversies. His topic will be "The Goals of Sociologists."

Dr. Lee's appearance is being sponsored by the Social Sciences Department and Student Activities. It is being coordinated by Ron Jameson, a Schoolcraft sociology instructor and a director of the Michigan Association.

Author of numerous books and professional articles, Dr. Lee will head a session at the Michigan Association's fall conference at Henry Ford Community College on October 31. Mr. Jameson is chairperson for the conference.

Dr. Lee is professor emeritus at Brooklyn College

An Astronaut

Newest Cookie Cutter Since the Star

Commemorate an event like the landing on the moon with an original astronaut cookie cutter. Combine it with a tried-and-true 25-year-old rolled cookie recipe.

The result is a novel Bicentennial souvenir that is useful as well as different.

The red, white and blue box that holds the four-and-a-half inch cutter has the recipe printed on the back and is marked ACC Distributors, Box 1969, Northville.

The initials stand for "Astronaut Cookie Cutter" — and Audrey Cunningham, an area resident who lives on North Territorial Road in Plymouth and who tossed around the cookie cutter idea for three years before actually working on it last February.

An admitted cookie-cutter fancier, Mrs. Cunningham says she tried to interest her own four grown children in the design before going ahead herself.

"I guess it takes your own enthusiasm to make an idea work," she adds as she explains how with some help from her husband and a neighbor she arranged for the manufacture of the first cutters last May. They're made of tin-washed steel by a Pennsylvania company. She personally with an embossing stamp impresses each one with the notation, "1776-1976 THE MOON 7-20-69, PAT. PEND."

She then inserts the cutters in the attractive box depicting a white-suited astronaut on the moon walk.

With her white-sugar cookie recipe that was a family favorite Mrs. Cunningham bakes the cookies and ices them "with a dab of blue for the face."

"I've been told it's the newest design since the star," she mentions as she lists shops carrying her Bicentennial package. Locally, it's in the Et Cetera Shop in Northville Square.

The museum shop in Greenfield Village also is carrying it. "At first, they said it would be in competition with their own crafts," she recalls, "but I reminded them of the airplane in the back of the museum and of their philosophy of 'collecting for tomorrow' and they decided to stock my astronaut."

With the nation's Bicentennial increasing everyone's sense of history the time seems right for Mrs. Cunningham's cookie cutter. Her Bicentennial issue is limited to 1,976 orders. After that, she hopes to "put it in the right hands for distribution" as she does have a patent pending.

Hoping her astronaut cutter "will become a classic in the American kitchen," Mrs. Cunningham's sharing her recipe:

ASTRONAUT COOKIES

4 C. all-purpose flour
½ tsp. baking soda
¼ tsp. salt
1 C. margarine (room temperature)
1½ C. sugar
3 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
Confectioner's sugar (frosting)

Sift first three ingredients together. In a separate bowl, cream margarine. Gradually beat in sugar. Add eggs one at a time, beat well until light. Add vanilla, stir in flour mixture, mix well.

Cover and chill at least one hour. (firm enough to roll). Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease cookie sheet. On a floured board, roll a little of the dough at a time, ¼ inch thick. Cut Astronauts and also some two-inch circles of earths. Bake eight minutes or until light golden. Cool on wire rack.

Board Appreciates Task Force Help

While agreeing there is a continued need for citizen input and more communication between the board and the board of education, Northville School Board Trustee Martin Rinehart said his policy subcommittee does not advocate retaining a permanent citizens task force committee.

Hugh Lockhart, chairman of the citizens task force organized to help pass the August millage request, told the board that he personally agreed with Rinehart's position.

Lockhart also read a statement from the League of Women Voters, at whose request the task force was formed, which noted that while they continue to support the task force's efforts to improve communication with the community, the group has served its intended function.

Lockhart commented that "Some method must be found to increase communication between the board and the community."

School board members agreed, noting they will be studying citizen groups. Trustees unanimously thanked the task force for its participation in the August millage campaign.

THOMAS BONGIOVANNI

DAVID BIERY

STANLEY JOHNSTON

PAUL VERNON

friends and enemies because he has chosen courses that are not always popular. He notes that under his guidance, the city has built a city hall, has developed a fine parks and recreation program, and has provided adequate municipal parking.

He cites five major projects confronting the city, which he would like a part in implementing — senior citizens housing, a north-south route along Griswold from Main to Novi Road, construction of a new library, extension of Wing Street to Seven Mile Road, and development of a parking structure-retail or public establishment southeast of the Center-Cady Street corner.

Thomas Bongiovanni — A lifelong resident, he is aware of serious drug problems occurring in the school system which in his opinion are not being adequately addressed by the city council and mayor. He contends that although Beer Hill is located in the township, it reflects poor attention to the drug problem in the city schools. He maintains that under the charter the mayor has and should exercise more power than other council members in dealing with city problems. If elected he pledges to make the office of mayor more than a title.

For Council Elect Two)

David Biery—Life-long resident of Northville, he has learned a great deal about municipal government in the past four years as a member of the council and this knowledge better equips him for the council post. Although because of outside pressures he did not decide to run until shortly before the nominating petition deadline, he has decided not to give up the post without a fight. He very much wants to remain on the council to complete the planning and see the implementation of some of the projects which he played a role in launching.

Stanley Johnston—He praises the work of the existing council and the city's employees. Emphasizes that he is an independent, reaching his own decisions after deliberating both sides of issues. He sees his service on the board of education as giving him important experience in dealing with public issues. Concerning the proposed ring road around the center of the central business district, he fears it might destroy the city's identity and he says he cannot support it until seeing more persuasive evidence. He opposes any radical change in the CBD, which he says is the city's focal point. He supports construction of a new library and opposes its permanent location in the shopping center. He points to his approximately 85-percent attendance record over an eight year period on the school board as an indication of his dedication to elected office.

Paul Vernon—He stresses that in the four years he has served on the council he has been a working councilman, completely involved with city matters. His occupation permits him to spend a great deal of time on city business and it keeps him sensitive to the day-to-day needs of the city. He points to his chairmanship of both the Beautification Commission and the Historical Commission as evidence that he is active in municipal affairs beyond the council table.

He says he has devoted much of his time to the preservation of the historical heritage of the community and has been instrumental in development of progressive and protective legislation. He is proud of Northville, he notes that some of his work remains unfinished, and he adds that he has more to give of himself to make the community a better place in which to live.

Eugene Wagner—He contends that although annexation was defeated, it remains the central issue in this campaign, and he notes that unlike the incumbent candidates he would never pledge to resign if he were a council member. His position on this matter illustrates that the welfare of the city is his chief concern and that he is interested in serving only city residents. He questions the wisdom of the incumbents based on their pledge to resign, and he says the city council must begin focusing its attention on the heritage of the city.

In answering a question about how he proposed to deal with the problems of drugs, etc. in the schools, Wagner said he proposed two years ago that a committee of school and city personnel be established to deal with the problem.

Vernon refuted suggestions that the city has been doing nothing about the drug problem; through the police department much is being done correctly, and city officials are cooperating with school officials in promoting preventative measures, he asserted.

Biery echoed Vernon's remarks, but Bongiovanni insisted a major drug problem exists in schools located within the city limits. Being of a younger age than others, he said he is privy to information about teens, and he recommended greater attention be given by council and the mayor to this problem.

Allen disagreed with Bongiovanni's assessment, insisting the problem is not anywhere near the level he suggests. As for Beer Hill, he noted that the continuation of the problem there is an indication of a lack of adequate township policing. The city, he emphasized, can be proud of its police department, which has one of the greatest numbers of policemen for the area covered of any community in Michigan.

To some degree, the problem reflects lack of parental responsibility, insisted the mayor and Johnston. Wagner declared that the council must set high behavioral standards for students, suggesting an inadequate job is now being done by the council in this area.

In response to the question if the council has contingency plans in case the township finds it can no longer financially support joint city-township programs, Biery said he is prepared to cooperate with the township so long as it is able to pay its share of such programs. Where the township cannot afford to participate financially, such as in the case of senior citizens housing, then service must be extended to city residents first, township residents secondarily, he said.

Vernon said he would favor operation of the recreation department by the school system, which covers citizens in both the city and township, but provided only that sufficient funds are specifically earmarked by the school for recreation.

Johnson, a former part-time recreation director, concurred with Vernon, suggesting further that one-half mill might be sufficient to adequately fund the program.

Bongiovanni said he did not know enough about joint programs to comment, and Wagner insisted he would be guided only by the rule, "do what is good for the city, not the township." Pointing out that he is president of the Colts little league football association, a completely self-supporting recreation for youth, he suggested that the recreation program might possibly be operated successfully by private enterprise.

Asked how he as mayor could legally direct what should be done in schools relative to drugs, Bongiovanni responded by saying that the mayor is authorized to protect the city and the schools he is concerned about are located in the city.

Asked about programs available for young adults, Johnston said the schools are offering many activities, but he said he would support any good additional program if it would provide kids with something else to do instead of frequenting Beer Hill.

Wagner said kids need more supervised places to go, and he suggested that Arcade 5 in Northville Square is an example of an establishment for young people that insists upon high standard of conduct. It is doing something constructive, he said, noting that he is an owner of the firm.

Vernon pointed out that with the hiring recently of a full-time recreation department director, a significant step forward has been taken to provide more comprehensive programs for citizens.

Bongiovanni said he is impressed with the new recreation director and that he (Bongiovanni) is confident the director will provide programs for teens whenever or wherever sufficient interest is shown.

Biery noted that many extra-curricular activities are provided for youth in the school system and that many other activities are provided through the recreation department that would appeal to the young adult age group. Like the mayor, he suggested that a little more discipline at home would go a long way in preventing drug related problems.

Relative to the city's role in SEMCOG, all of the candidates but one voiced support of continued participation in the regional organization. Wagner said he did not know enough about the organization to comment.

Relative to studies to determine the advantages and disadvantages of placement of the city entirely within one county, incumbents noted a number of problems related to dual county jurisdiction but they stressed that a good deal of study will be required before they can intelligently judge the value of the concept locally.

Novi Friends

Meet Tuesday

Friends of the Novi Public Library will meet Tuesday, November 4, at 1 p.m. Topic for the meeting will be a demonstration of the newest sewing techniques for knit fabrics.

Those interested in attending the meeting are asked to contact the Novi Library at 349-0720 for information on the place of the meeting.

At the group's last meeting, members decided to sell note paper decorated with a sketch of the new library building currently under construction at Taft and 10 Mile roads. The stationery should be available in January, group spokesmen added.

Michigan's Bicentennial tree, a Moraine honey locust, is balled and ready for trip from Northville to Lansing

Planted in Lansing Tuesday

Bicentennial Tree from Northville

Michigan's official Bicentennial tree, scheduled to be planted in Lansing yesterday, is a 25-year-old Moraine honey locust from Northville.

Grown on the Green Ridge Nursery property on Napier Road the tree, which weighs about 20 tons, was donated by owner John Miller to commemorate the nation's Bicentennial.

Nursery workers last weekend placed the roots in a ball about 11 feet in diameter in preparation for special loading equipment to lift it on a tractor Monday to take to Lansing. The Michigan Association of Nurseries is paying for the move.

Miller, a director and incoming president of the association, said he decided to donate the tree as he wished to do something for the Bicentennial.

For several years, on Arbor Day, he has given a tree to be planted on capitol grounds.

It was decided to plant the large Bicentennial tree in conjunction with "Keep Michigan Beautiful" week. It is being given to the City of Lansing and is planted on the Lansing Community College campus in downtown Lansing at Grand and Shiawassee avenues.

By planting such a large tree, the nurseries are hoping to encourage all citizens to plant a tree for the start of the Bicentennial.

Irish Tree Company, Monday, loaded the large locust onto a lowboy trailer with a special dolly developed for the purpose.

Green Ridge Nursery is considered unique among Michigan nurseries for the type of plant material it has available on its land. The gift tree is not the only large one moved from the nursery, the staff notes, mentioning a large pin oak that was purchased by a Birmingham resident and moved there.

A close schedule was adhered to for the Bicentennial gift tree so that the roots would be out of the ground for the shortest time possible with work beginning last Friday. The presentation ceremonies were set for 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Novi Coop Nursery Sets Christmas Craft Auction

Novi Cooperative Nursery will hold its second annual auction of handmade gift items and Christmas decorations at 7 p.m. Thursday, November 6, at Ramblewood Swim Club, 38500 Nine Mile Road, Farmington Hills.

"We have everything from doll clothes to Christmas wreaths," reports Mrs. Sandy Cheney, chairman. There also will be a "bake sale" and boutique of small items. Everyone in the community is welcome. Mrs. Cheney states. She may be called at 349-8442 for more information.

The non-profit community nursery is preparing for a mid-November move from its present quarters at Ramblewood to the Norton farm on Beck Road where a barn is being remodeled for its use. Mrs. Lane Norton is the nursery's teacher.

Township OKs Resolution

A resolution giving the Wayne County Board of Public Works permission to represent the township in applying for grant monies for planning the Rouge Valley Wastewater Control District has been adopted by the Northville Township Board.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by six of the seven board members present at Monday's special board meeting.

The board also adopted a resolution establishing new site plan review fees, and it tabled until the next regular meeting a resolution amending a previous resolution on Planned Neighborhood Development (PND) fees.

Absent from the meeting was Treasurer Charles Rosenberg.

At Cooke Annex

Defensive Driving Set

A four-part Senior Forum series on defensive driving will be presented beginning November 4 by Schoolcraft College at Northville.

It is a National Safety Council course and will be taught by Ted Bussey of the Greater Detroit Safety Council. Open to drivers of all ages, participants will learn what driving defensively involves, how and why various accidents occur and what it takes to prevent them.

The series will meet on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. at the Schoolcraft Northville Cooke Center through November 25. Offered through community services, topics will include avoiding collisions with vehicles ahead, and avoiding those with oncoming and vehicles from behind. Presentations will also be devoted to intersection collisions and the art of passing and being passed. The final session will deal with "The Mystery Crash."

Registration is $5.50 and tuition grants are available to seniors who have registered for a senior adult card through senior adult services. Registration or further information may be obtained by calling community services at 591-6400, extension 218. The Northville Cooke Center is located at 405 West Main Street in Northville.

'Kick the Habit' Monday

Dr. Arthur Weaver, an oral surgeon and Northville resident, is conducting an annual five-day smoking withdrawal clinic at Canton High School auditorium, Joy and Canton Center roads.

It will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning Monday, November 3, and continuing through November 7. The clinic is open to all area residents without any charge. Smokers of any age are welcome, according to Mike McCauley, Canton social studies teacher, who has made arrangements for the clinic. He urges smokers to "come and bring a friend who needs help to break this deadly and costly habit."

Group Meets

November 10

The Book Discussion Group of the Northville Public Library will meet on Monday, November 10, instead of November 11 as originally scheduled. At this session, which begins at 8 p.m. in the library, the group will discuss "Democracy in America" by Alexis de Tocqueville.

De Tocqueville, a Frenchman who traveled through America in 1832, was interested in assessing the democratic way of life and its impact on the people living it. In what has become a classic on the subject, he discusses the advantages and disadvantages of the majority rule, and much of what he says has relevance to what is happening today.

The paperback edition of "Democracy in America" is available locally in book stores.

Everyone is invited to attend this discussion group. Those interested may register in person at the library or by calling 349-3020.

Seek School Paving Bids

For Elementary Walkways

Northville school administrators were taken by surprise when no bids were received for expanded asphalt paving at Winchester and Silver Springs elementary schools.

The bids were for expanding the play areas at both schools and for paving walkways which are expected to become muddy with fall weather.

But Monday night school board trustees authorized the administration to rebid the walkways, asking for concrete paving.

A plan to put down gravel now and bid asphalt in the spring was found to be more expensive than putting in concrete now. Play areas will be bid for asphalt next year.

May Buy New Radar

Northville City Council is considering a proposal to purchase a new radar unit for the city police department. Under consideration is the Moving Radar Unit, called Movar, produced by CMI incorporated of Minturn, Colorado. Movar is now being used by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Recommended for purchase by Police Captain Louis Westfall, the new radar unit is priced at $2,395, but under a shared State of Michigan bid it may be purchased by cities at a reduced price of $1,375, Westfall said.

"Our present radar unit has been in service since 1971 and has cost very little in maintenance cost since purchased," reported Westfall. "However, it was recently sent in for service and now needs service once again."

He said the accuracy of the old unit is being questioned by police officers.

City councilmen directed Westfall to investigate the proposed new unit more fully.

Two Die As Planes Collide in Mid-Air

SALEM AIR TRAGEDY—Workmen search through the wreckage of two small aircraft which collided 100 yards north of the landing strip at the Salem Airport Sunday afternoon. Two men were killed in the tragic accident and two others are listed in serious condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. The accident apparently occurred as the two planes were headed for a landing. Witnesses stated that one plane was flying above the other, when the lower plane appeared to veer upward into the higher aircraft. Experts are attempting to determine the exact cause of the crash.

Federal Aeronautics Administration were at the site Monday to try to determine the cause of the accident which occurred in clear, sunny weather with light winds of 10 to 15 miles per hour.

Greg Cameron of Pontiac was skeet shooting in the area when the crash occurred. "I looked up and it looked as if the two planes were playing games with each other," he said. "They were no further than 10 feet apart. It just didn't seem right."

Extend Sewer

Extension of a city sewer, at property owner expense, across the city line to a proposed new warehouse and equipment storage building in the township has been approved by the Northville City Council.

The property, owned by Jack Doherty, is located just inside Northville Township on Wallis or Silver Springs Road, located east of the railroad near the city's department of public works yard.

'Tightest Ever' Budget

November 6 millage issue passes it will mean about $380,000 in added revenue, and a special education contract with the Plymouth Center for Human Development may also mean increased revenue for the school district.

Spear noted that the budget item for teaching supplies has been reduced $34,314 to $105,925 in the 1975-76 school budget from a figure of $140,239 last year. Administrative Assistant Goulding noted that this may be offset somewhat by an increase of $15,108 in office supplies. Goulding said that teachers often use office supplies, like paper to mimeograph tests on, in the course of their teaching duties.

Nieuwkoop again raised the subject of contingencies. He said that the board will probably have to make mid-year cuts in the budget and that there is no way contingencies could be made in the budget this year.

"We were criticized last year for not telling the people," Nieuwkoop said, "so I want to go on record now as telling the people we may run into problems."

School Board Secretary Karen Wilkinson said that the budget is only a guideline and subject to change as the year progresses.

Trustee Martin Rinehart added that there have been similar budget problems while he has been a member of the school board, but in years past there was a contingency fund to meet with unexpected drops in revenue or unexpected costs.

During the 1975-76 school year Northville schools will educate 94 more students than last year. There will be 199 teachers to educate those students, a drop of 19 from last year, and the school district will pay $75,396 more for instruction this year.

Instruction represents 67.14 per cent of the 1975-76 budget. In the 1974-75 budget instruction accounted for 70.29 per cent of the budget. In the 1973-74 school year instruction was 69.92 per cent of the budget.

Administrative Assistant Goulding noted that the Northville school budgets have been increasing in the recent years, but added that they have been increasing at a decreasing rate. The school population, on which state aid figures are based, has also been increasing, but at a decreasing rate.

Local revenues is the largest revenue item in the budget, accounting for $4,517,016, or 74 per cent of revenues. The taxes are based on 28.90 mills. Within that item local taxes provided the largest source of income with $4,233,746.

The millage rate last year was 28.07 accounting for $3,712,995 in local taxes. Local revenue in the 1974-75 school year was $3,973,846.

State support in the 1975-76 school year was $1,269,901. The previous year that item accounted for $1,189,334 in state aid.

Federal grants accounted for $114,674 in revenue, a drop from last year's total of $126,439.

Of the 13 general fund expenditure items, six received cuts in allocation while seven received increases. Instruction was increased $75,396 over last year to $3,962,340, administration was decreased $22,038 to $159,258, attendance increased $445 to $700, health service was decreased $445 to $2,000, transportation was decreased $9,064 to $212,776, operation of the plant was increased $114,348 to $645,800, maintenance was increased $33,472 to $645,800, fixed charges were increased $60,733 to $412,229.

Capital outlay was decreased $12,780 to $6,500, student services were decreased $17,245 to $27,403, transfers were increased $6,189 to $22,189, deficit was increased from nothing in the 1974-75 budget to $154,163, and projects were decreased $11,765 to $114,674.

For Two Schools

Novi Buys Equipment

Novi School Board October 16 gave approval to use approximately $24,000 from the 1970 Building and Site Fund for purchase of various items for Village Oaks and Novi Middle School.

According to information provided the board, the $24,000 represented the balance left over from the original funds allocated for building of these two schools. The board agreed to purchase library books, as well as instructional and audio visual equipment including playground equipment, projectors, band instruments, and vocational education equipment.

"We've looked at the number of books available at Village Oaks and the Middle School and feel their libraries should be expanded," commented Dr. Gerald Kratz, superintendent.

Artist's in Festival

Gerald Wojchikosky, a Northville artist specializing in macrame and Indian craft, is among those participating in the annual fall festival of arts at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Trenton November 14-16.

It is to be a juried show, with a wide variety of art forms including sculpture and

WE NEED THIS PROGRAM JUNIOR POLICE

When I was a child in Northville, Mr. Joe Denton was the chief of police. His junior police program was very successful at creating good relations between the children of Northville and the Police. Now they can help in reducing vandalism and dealing with our DRUG PROBLEM.

The Health, Welfare and Safety of the People of Northville is my MAIN INTEREST. As Mayor there would be a direct telephone line open 24 hours a day, for the use of Northville citizens. I trust that I can gain your support.

WE NEED THIS PROGRAM JUNIOR FIRE PATROL

In order to help prevent fires and to instill fire safety in our young people I will endeavor to start a Junior Fire Patrol. There are many cities that have found this very helpful in preventing fires. I feel this would be of great value to the people of NORTHVILLE.

Russ Button has demonstrated his ability, integrity and devotion to the community. He was largely responsible for the incorporation of Novi as a Village and later as a City.

He has an intimate knowledge of Novi's need and potential, which comes from years of living and working here.

Russ Button believes that the City is meant to serve its residents, not the people serve the City. Also, the first obligation of the City is to its citizens, and not to some outside interest.

He firmly holds that government is obliged to furnish the services that people want and are willing to pay for. Officials should not decide what the people must have.

He recognizes Zoning as a tool for orderly growth, not a weapon to stifle development.

Through his many years in business and in government he has often shown that most problems can be solved on a person-to-person basis. Cooperation and respect build cities, not petty politics.

HERE ARE RUSS BUTTON'S VIEWS

Q. How would you run the City if the operating millage is defeated?

BUTTON: The only alternative to increased millage is to increase the industrial tax base. Additional residents add to the problem. Novi must consider business and industry more. We lost a number of businesses because our neighbors do more to attract them.

Q. What should be the working relationship between the City Manager, Mayor and Council?

BUTTON: Having served on three Novi Charter Commissions, I prefer a Council-Manager form of government with the Mayor elected by and from the Council. This was the system in the Village and in the present School Board. The Mayor-Council is the legislative and the Manager is the administrative head of government.

The present Charter, and probably the revised Charter, calls for an elected Mayor, but gives him only one vote the same as any Councilman. I believe this is a mistake.

Q. What do you believe the millage should be in the Charter?

BUTTON: I believe the operating millage should be for the proper operation of the City. Additional programs, such as roads, can be financed by special assessments and-or voted millage.

Q. Do you favor revision of the Master Plan?

BUTTON: Novi's Master Plan is revised every time there is a zoning change. There has been a lot of work done in revising the nomenclature to make it more workable. I believe this should be adopted.

VOTE NOV. 4th

Speaking for The Record

Allen, Johnston, Vernon Best for City

By BILL SLIGER

Two elections will be conducted in Northville next week.

The first occurs Tuesday and involves only the city.

On Thursday school district voters will cast ballots for the second time in three months on the question of additional operating millage.

In the race for city council two candidates are competing for the two-year term of mayor and four candidates seek the two four-year council seats.

This may be the last time Mayor A. M. Allen will run for office. He's been mayor for nearly 20 years and has been a member of the council for nearly 30 years.

His achievements are as remarkable as his longevity in office.

Mayor Allen was a member of the council that hired Northville's first city manager. The smooth transformation from village commission form of government to city manager operation was not a lucky accident. It is an achievement that many communities never accomplish.

He has been a member of the council that has paved nearly all the city's streets, installed a modern water system, built a city hall, acquired open space areas and developed parks, encouraged revitalization of the business district, promoted restoration and preservation of historical buildings, developed free public parking, promoted recreation, library and senior citizen facilities and adopted plans for senior citizen housing.

Yet the city is virtually debt free and the local tax rate is one of the very lowest of any city in the state.

Our Novi Choices

Henderson Packs Leadership Ability

Although both mayoral candidates in Novi are well qualified and obviously civic-minded, we are persuaded to cast our support for Gilbert Henderson after having observed both men in public office for several years and on the basis of their answers to questions we posed during an in-depth two-hour interview.

One thing most voters will agree: Novi desperately needs a person for mayor with proven leadership — one who can fashion a positive image out of a council that unfortunately is most characterized by its "bickering-no compromise" inaction.

During his six years on the school board and in two terms as that body's president, Henderson has clearly demonstrated his leadership ability. Meetings under his direction have been largely smooth and productive, and in the past six years the school board has risen from a level of mediocrity to one of excellence even though its members often disagree. While other board members and especially the superintendent share in the school board's new stature, Henderson has played a key role in shaping it.

No one can deny that Louie Campbell has a better knowledge of city government and its problems. He

We Support All Proposals But 'D'

Of the four propositions appearing on the Novi ballot, this newspaper supports——Proposal A covering road paving.

—Proposal B for fire department purchases.

—Proposal C for raising general operational monies.

We do not support Proposal D calling for a half-mill to construct bicycle paths in the city.

actually less than one-half the allowable levy.

Mayor Allen has always been a low-key performer. But he has worked hard and long for the city he must certainly love for a salary that now has reached $600 per year.

Mayor Allen has earned the support of city voters.

For city council we believe Incumbent Councilman Paul Vernon and Stanley Johnston are the best choices.

Vernon is a workhorse and deeply involved in many worthwhile community projects. He heads up the Beautification Commission and sees to it that active projects to help improve the city are undertaken and completed.

He enjoys his service on the council and considers it a trust the people have placed in him. Vernon does his homework well and is an able mayor pro tem. He is a sound thinker and competent spokesman. He should be re-elected.

Johnston will strengthen the council.

He is a longtime Northville resident, veteran of eight years on the board of education and a local businessman.

He has a proven ability to comprehend public apprehension and find meaningful compromise. His presence on the council will surely improve mutual understanding between the city and school district.

What we like best about Johnston is his common sense.

No one can know Incumbent Councilman David Biery and not like him. We do not doubt his capability. But his performance on the council over the past two years has been disappointing.

He has missed 19 of the last 68 city council meetings, an absentee record of more than 25 percent — by far the poorest on the council. His interest in city matters seems to be waning.

That's why we believe the return of Vernon and a councilman newcomer of Johnston's stature will provide the community with a better city council.

Millage Needed
To Restore Order

School district voters must surely know the story on the 2.6-mill increase by now.

The same package was defeated by 450 votes in August. Since then three schools have been closed, several teachers unhired and some programs either reduced or curtailed.

A substantial representative group of citizens implored the board of education to seek the needed operating funds again. And thus it is doing so.

If the millage passes, the board has said it will re-open all schools, rehire teachers and restore the curriculum to normal.

There can be no question that the district needs the money. It would not have put itself through the mental and physical gymnastics that have been experienced in the first two months of the school year if they were avoidable.

Emotions run high on school matters and how they have been handled recently in Northville. It is difficult to predict public reaction to the upcoming vote, because it is impossible to know the chief reason for opposition.

Obviously, it is not higher taxes alone.

But the fact remains, Northville's school program is suffering under present conditions. Many children are not receiving the opportunity for education they deserve.

Last August I voted "YES" for the 2.6-mill package and I shall do so again next week Thursday, November 6.

If this immediate and most pressing problem can be resolved, then interested citizens and the board can (and should) turn their attention to long-range improvements.

It Has Little Chance,
But Consortium's Best

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The consortium-proposal by Schoolcraft College and Wayne State University for lease of the Wayne County Child Development facility in Northville Township is, in my opinion, the better deal for Northville residents.

That is not to say the proposal to establish an alcoholic rehabilitation center, with perhaps experimental treatment for drug addiction, is a poor one. Not at all. Anyone having visited Sacred Heart in Detroit and having spoken with its dynamic director must be impressed with the very beneficial work being done there.

But support of the consortium plan may be academic. If it isn't able to come up with sufficient funds to lease the facility — an amount yet to be negotiated, then it would be unreasonable to expect the county to "give" the facility to the consortium when Sacred Heart apparently is prepared to pay for it. At this point there appears to be little hope that the consortium can come up with needed funds to consummate the lease.

Meanwhile, there are several factors which persuade me and others, including the city council, to favor the consortium proposal.

The very nature of the consortium plan — that of developing the center into a campus where educational opportunities can be extended to local residents for vocational training and for undergraduate and graduate academic work is a very important direct local benefit.

And within the framework of that campus concept are a host of related educational and socially advantageous opportunities, not the least of which could be a college library available to the Northville community.

From a strictly provincial viewpoint, far more local residents would benefit by college classrooms at the center than would local alcoholics and their families if Sacred Heart was located here.

Still another local advantage of the college campus plan is the fact that the consortium intends to make portions of the center property available to the Northville Recreation Department. Although Sacred Heart says it may modify its initial proposal to accommodate local recreational programs, I doubt that it will ever materialize — at least to a meaningful degree.

Sacred Heart's present proposal leaves too many unanswered questions. Until it is revised — and it is in that stage now — no one can be certain what other programs might be accommodated there. Even members of Sacred Heart's board of directors found fault in the initial proposal and they ordered some yet undisclosed modifications.

The consortium proposal was submitted to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners well within the time deadline fixed by the commissioners themselves. What's more, more than 15 other agencies submitted proposals within this period.

All of them were made public immediately, and this newspaper detailed each of them.

And then, after receiving a recommendation from a county-wide blue ribbon committee (it included two Northville residents) that the county created, commissioners concurred with the recommendation naming the consortium plan as the best suited for the property.

At county direction the consortium plan was modified to integrate programs of several other applying agencies into the campus, including the township hall.

Meanwhile, almost one year after the county's deadline for submission of lease proposals to the county, the Sacred Heart plan suddenly materialized (no one really knows how it happened to be presented to the commissioners, not even the public works chairman) and it quickly picked up major support.

Although most officials will deny it, I am personally convinced strong lobbying interests are pressuring the county to lease the property to Sacred Heart. There's nothing wrong with persuasion, except in this case it is being done unfairly at the expense of the consortium. Even the director of the State Social Services Department, John Dempsey, is discrediting the consortium plan in an effort to persuade the county to lease the center to Sacred Heart.

Dempsey's chief argument is that if Sacred Heart isn't given the lease Michigan will lose millions of dollars in potential federal grant money. I am inclined to believe that the Sacred Heart proposal was prepared by or at least engineered by Dempsey to fit requirements of federal funding and, more specifically, to fit the Child Development site so that the state might snare federal funds.

And he uses the same costly excuse that so many other bureaucrats use: "If we don't get the money another state will."

Finally, Dempsey's public suggestion that recent drug arrests occurring at the University of Michigan might someday be repeated in Northville if the campus plan materializes certainly is unbecoming of the title he holds.

Hoyer, Schmid
Shaw for 4-Years

With 15 persons running for four council seats, Novi voters will have plenty of candidates from which to choose. And based on our interviews of little known candidates and on the basis of observing others for years, we are confident that Novi voters have several candidates with outstanding qualifications.

We firmly believe that in the race among 11 candidates seeking three four-year council seats, the city would be best represented by incumbent Martha Hoyer and two relatively new faces, James Shaw and Robert Schmid.

Mrs. Hoyer may be an incumbent member only since the July special election, but her involvement in city government goes back to her membership on the planning board.

She has shown herself to be an independent thinker who weighs both sides of an issue before committing herself. And she has proven many times that she listens to her constituents and fairly represents all of the city and not just her own lake area.

James Shaw may not be a well-known resident of Novi, but his knowledge of the issues and his common sense interpretation of Novi's problems indicate the city is no stranger to him. An educator in Farmington, he is president of the Echo Valley Homeowners' Association. We are impressed with the man and his credentials.

Robert Schmid is a progressive thinker who is well qualified to be a member of the city council. We see in him fresh, positive ideas and approaches to problems that can help restore confidence in the council.

Although not offering them our endorsements, we are nevertheless impressed with Joseph Toth and Melvin Stephens. Toth, chairman of the Beautification Commission, has been involved in civic affairs here for several years. He is a respected member of the community with a demonstrated willingness to help make it a better place in which to live.

The council, in our opinion, would not suffer if 20-year-old Stephens is elected. Though he is young and an obvious newcomer to the political arena, we wished all other candidates had his intellect, common sense and poise. He is a logical thinker with a deep sense of responsibility and interest in his community.

Karevich Best
For Two Years

In the two-year council race, the most impressive candidate in our opinion is Pat Karevich, although we still see admirable qualities in Russell Button. Like Mrs. Hoyer, candidate Karevich is an independent thinker with a fine track record for public service. The council would improve with her election.

Finally, in making our council selections we were influenced by the fact that each of our choices is pledging to work cooperatively with whichever mayoral candidate wins election. In them we see constructive cooperation and intelligent compromise on a council that today lacks both of these ingredients.

Our Wixom Picks

All Incumbents Deserve Support

In Wixom where three council seats and the mayor's post are to be filled, this newspaper believes the efforts and accomplishments of each of the incumbents justifies their re-election.

Mayor Val Vangieson, who is running unopposed, and councilmen Robert Dingeldey, Melvin Green and Lillian Spencer have demonstrated by their performance that they are keenly aware of the city's problems and are able and prepared to cope with them.

Dr. Vangieson, who stepped into the top spot upon the resignation of Gilbert Willis, has impressed us with his administrative ability and his knack of producing a relaxed atmosphere for smoothly run council meetings.

Dingeldey, Green and Mrs. Spencer, while independent thinkers, have demonstrated a willingness to compromise when it is for the good of the community. All deserve re-election.

Novi Proposals

The road proposal represents one of the very few compromise measures to come out of the present council. It is a constructive proposal in which candidates Louie Campbell and Denis Berry played key roles. And it represents an important, vital step forward that candidate Russell Button has long advocated.

For too long, paving within the city has been a haphazard program. With this proposal the city council is advocating road improvement for 18 miles of priority roadway in Novi.

While some residents will argue they already have been special assessed for pavement in front of their homes and therefore would be "penalized" by having to pay twice for road improvement, they must remember that Proposal A is for paving main roads within the city which most residents use. And property owners along these roads will be expected to pay $10 per front foot to help defray the cost.

This newspaper also supports Proposal B which will provide the fire department one mill for three years with which to purchase land, vehicles, vehicular equipment and to build fire department facilities. Specifically, the department plans to erect a fire station in the southern portion of the city to serve populated areas there. Remaining monies will be used to purchase needed trucks and other equipment.

The fire department has done well to live within its budget, but with city growth escalating and prices on equipment skyrocketing, the department needs a shot in the arm if it is to continue to provide satisfactory service.

Perhaps most crucial to the effort by the city to continue providing adequate services is Proposal C which asks to raise the current general operating charter limitation by one mill. By failing to lay off employees last winter, the city now appears caught in a depression of its own which can only end in economic disaster unless relief funds arrive. Inflation and negotiations with unions have caught up with the city's low millage limit. A cutback of already limited services appears inevitable without the addition of at least one mill.

This newspaper is not supporting Proposal D which calls for 1/2 mill for three years for constructing bicycle paths. While bicycle paths are a worthy project, they cannot by any sound yardstick be viewed as a priority item when the city is in need of financial help in so many other crucial areas.

This newspaper urges a yes vote on proposals A, B, and C and a no vote on Proposal D.

'Use Care, But Vote'

To the Editor:
November 4, 1975 should be a red letter day for every voting citizen of Novi. Neighbors, please don't stay complacently at home and let someone else decide our future. As never before, we can tell our City Council, our mouthpiece in government, the direction we would like to grow, as one of the most promising suburban areas in Michigan.

We have a choice of two totally different personalities of men who are seeking the office of mayor. Their position on Novi's vital issues should be clearly understood by all. What are these vital issues? Ask yourself what problems confront our city and how do these affect each individual, family, and business? There are many problems but Novi is not unique, every city has them. We are unique, however, for we can and we must find capable people to serve us, who are willing and able to face these problems directly and have the capability to find answers compatible to all! The mayor alone does not govern the functions of our city government. Four of the six council seats will be filled by our November 4 vote, which by means of number, could bring a complete change to the complexion of the Novi City Council. Each voter must select from a wide range of candidates, for these people can very directly affect our lifestyle here in Novi, as well as our children, and our pocketbooks.

Novi voters must have open and well informed minds when we go to the polls. You have given us your support in the past on vital educational issues. We hope as friends and neighbors you again will vote wisely by studying and learning about the candidates and their position on the issues confronting us. Your vote will be a vote of confidence in the future of Novi!

With deep concern for Novi,

Novi Proposals Stir Mixed Reactions

To the Editor:

It would appear that the Novi City Council got the message from the citizens of Novi and is going to let the voters choose which millage proposals they approve and which tax increases they are not willing to pay.

The one mill for three years requested for the fire department equipment and facilities should be approved without hesitation. The ballot wording provides for a restricted fund from which only permanent fire facilities can be purchased, and it will give Novi the additional fire stations and rolling stock that we need badly at this time.

The road bonding question is a cruel attempt to deceive the main road residents. The average main road resident is not going to get any cost reduction and may end up paying more if the road in front of his house is paved. Let's take the case of a home owner with a 125 foot lot and an assessed valuation of $25,000. His front foot cost reduction of $4 per foot ($14 v.s. $10) saves him $500; but he will pay $850 more in taxes to retire the road bonds (1.7 mills for 20 years) and still he must pay $1,250 ($10 per foot) assessment or a total of $2,000 in taxes and assessment for the paving that he does not need. Instead of saving $500, it will cost him $350 more ($850 v.s. $500). This property owner must have more than 200 feet of frontage before he can save any money on the generous assessment reduction of $4 per front foot, but with more property, his assessed valuation will be higher and he will still be a loser.

There must be a better way. Most rural communities have a two or three mill voted increase restricted to roads which combined with gas tax revenue covers ALL costs of maintenance, resurfacing and construction with NO special assessments. Perhaps somewhere down the pike, Novi will have an enlightened council that believes in letting the public at large pay for the roads that everyone uses instead of trying to stick a few unfortunate residents with a large share of the cost of improvements they don't want or need.

The request for operating millage is a sly attempt to fool the voters. The wording, "shall the charter of the City of Novi be amended so as to provide for raising the ad valorem tax limitation by one mill," really means can the City raise the millage for general operation from 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 mills, an increase of 15 percent to do the same job. We have had little by way of proposed added programs, only hints of possible cuts if we don't give more to help the city endure inflation while we taxpayers suffer with less spendable income for our own families. Assessed valuations in the City of Novi have increased an average of ten percent per year for the last five or six years. Since the resulting higher annual taxes have already cut into our standard of living, I am not willing to vote still more operating income for the City when it means cutting my own living standard still further. The City Administration can practice the same economy and belt tightening that all of us citizens must follow in order to live with the current inflation.

Donald C. Young Jr.

To the Editor:

Over the years I have written a number of "letters" in an attempt to get a road program for Novi. It might be interesting to review this history in support of our present Bonding Proposal, especially, for our new residents.

The attempt to get a road program is not new. One of the selling points for the village incorporation was that "now we can get some roads." But in 17 years Novi has built only 2 1/2 miles of roads.

As a member of the Village Council, I proposed a road program similar to the one you now have before you. The Novi News says on the January 20, 1972 editorial page — "When Russ Button argues for a total road improvement program in Novi — it isn't a new argument. He was making the same statements a dozen years ago as a member of the first village council. They made sense then, and they make sense today."

Over the years there were limited attempts to improve some of the worst roads. Parts of Beck and Taft were graded, graveled and sealcoated. Our first manager put a lot of gravel around Walled Lake on roads where it had not been seen in years. Seeley was black topped to accommodate the mobile home park, and a piece of Nine Mile was paved at a cost to one resident of $28,000 (page 10A, Novi News, Jan 20, '72) to accommodate the industry on Nine Mile Road. In 1971 a Road Committee was formed by the Council to "review the road situation in our city and to make specific recommendations to improve our roads."

On the editorial page of The Novi News of April 16, 1975 I wrote, "Now, after five years the Road Committee is as dead as the proverbial duck and nobody knows what to do with Taft Road."

On January 6, 1972, page 8A in The Novi News I wrote a "letter" which in the light of today, you might find interesting — "We have traveled the roads in Novi for the past 60 years. — In all seriousness the dirt roads of today are no different than they were then. — It seems to us that the biggest problem is to get the backing of you, the people of Novi." This was almost four years ago. We are still looking for your "backing."

There have been several attempts at "piecemeal" solutions by millage and/or assessments of $10, $12, or $14 per front foot, but all have failed.

I have always favored the bonding method, but it was not until I talked with Mr. Berry that I have been able to get anyone to listen. (Novi News page 3C, May 21, 1975)

Now that someone has listened, and you have a proposal before you, it might be well to consider a few facts:

1. I am not 100 per cent in favor of the program as presented. If I had something to say about it I believe the program should cover all the mile roads. We are going to tax them. I have some reservations about the assessments, and there is a place in any road program for sealcoat, blacktop, and concrete. If there were not, two of them would be "out of business"

2. I also realize that this is, without doubt, a compromise solution and is probably the best we can hope to get from seven councilmen.

3. Sooner or later, Novi must build some roads.

4. We have bonded all of our ACT 51 monies that we can for Meadowbrook Road. To bond any more for Taft would cripple our salt and snow operations on all our roads.

5. We cannot build roads any other way but by a bond issue, and build them now.

6. According to our city manager we are spending $30,000 to $40,000 per year for salt and $70,000 to $75,000 per year for routine maintenance—grading, gravel, and drainage, not including snow removal. This money gives us no permanent benefit.

7. The bonding program will cost on an average of about $160,000 per year. So with a round figure maintenance cost of $100,000 and a safety factor of 20 per cent, there will be an $80,000 savings to apply against the $160,000 payment.

8. So - the 2 mill request on the road bonding proposal will actually cost us only 1 (one) mill. No other proposal on the ballot can do this, even though they are all necessary.

9. I told you 17 years ago that every mile road in Novi should be "graded, graveled, and sealcoated." Since then we have spent about one half million on salt, one million on maintenance, construction costs have tripled, and we are right where we started 17 years ago.

10. So, what are you going to do now?

I advise you to pass the bonding proposal.

Russell Button

News from Lansing

Where to Cut Budget?

By STATE REPRESENTATIVE R. ROBERT GEAKE

The legislature's top priority this fall is going to be attempting to solve the current financial crisis now faced by the State of Michigan.

Only a few days after our return for the fall session we were told by top officials in the Department of Management and Budget that expected revenues would not support the already tight budget we adopted in August. As reported earlier, the expected $50 million budget carryover from last year only amounted to $900,000 in the final accounting.

Then we were told that estimated revenues were $100 million short of the budgeted amounts. A few days later our shortage grew to somewhere between that figure and $200 million.

Now, as of a day or so ago, the estimated shortage has grown to somewhere near $298 million — that's about ten percent of the total general fund budget adopted in August!

Unlike the federal government, Michigan government operates under a constitution which requires a balanced budget each year. When anticipated revenues fall short of planned expenditures we have two choices — either cut the budget or raise taxes to provide additional money. As far as I am concerned, the alternative of raising taxes is unacceptable.

In an all-day caucus last Friday, House Republicans expressed unanimous opposition to increasing taxes during the remainder of this year or at any time during the next year. Shortly afterward Governor Milliken also announced his belief that no tax increase should be imposed.

This leaves a hard and bitter question — where do we cut the budget?

The Governor, in his special message of October 22, said he will issue an Executive Order trimming $150 million which will affect state agencies, schools and colleges. He estimated that it will be necessary for agencies, with some exceptions, to cut in excess of three percent on top of the 1.5 percent previously ordered. The only department which will not be reduced further will be Corrections, which operates, our overcrowded and understaffed state prison system.

The Governor's staff advisors have recommended closing the remainder of the budget gap by converting to the new federal fiscal year of October 1 to September 30. This would create a one time only 15-month fiscal year, a move which has been ridiculed by critics as "Chinese bookkeeping."

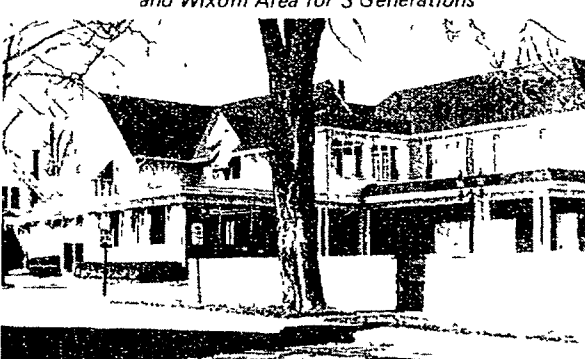

However, the extension of the fiscal year would allow state agencies, especially the Department of Social Services, to take full advantage of federal funds. This move alone could amount to a $90 million step toward balancing the books on the "current" fiscal year.

Also proposed was elimination of the Veterans Trust Fund and the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund which would meld an estimated $70 million into the General Fund of the state. Veterans' organizations have vigorously opposed abolishing the Trust Fund, stating that a loan to the state General Fund would be about as far as they would go.

Taken all together, the state's financial picture looks extremely serious and it appears that no unit of government which depends on the state for a substantial amount of funds will go unscathed.

I will assure you, however, that I will stand firm in my opposition to any tax increases. After all, when a family has only so much income, it must budget accordingly to make sure that the outgo does not exceed the income. I feel it's about time government did the same thing.

Second Time for 2.6 Mill Proposal

Northville School Millage Vote Next Week

Northville School District voters will go to the polls next Thursday, November 6, to vote for a second time on a proposal to add 2.6 mills to the school tax rate for the 1975-76 school year.

The same 2.6 school millage issue was defeated by a 1765 to 1303 vote in the August 18 election.

As a result of the millage defeat and other losses in revenue which included a drop in state equalized valuation and an executive order cutback from the governor, the Northville schools were forced to tighten their belts.

Three schools were closed in the wake of the defeat, Silver Springs, Main Street, and Cooke. Meads Mill, Winchester, and the high school are facing crowded conditions. Staff and materials have also been cut from the Northville Schools budget.

Before the 1975-76 school year began there was a $154,163 deficit from the previous year which the Northville Board of Education has had to liquidate this budget year.

Passage of the 2.6 mill request will mean an added $380,000 to the school district. Northville's Board of Education has stated that it would re-open all three of the closed schools and look into when residents want Main Street Elementary re-opened — immediately, later in the year, or next school year.

Amerman and Moraine schools are not crowded as the other schools, but they also feel the money pinch. William Craft, principal of Amerman, said his school is not going to be able to get as many things like books and teaching supplies, as they have in the past.

At Monday's board of education meeting, school board members appeared at a loss over how to support the millage.

"We have a millage election next Thursday and I am not optimistic," School Board Trustee Dr. Robert Mandell said. "We should support it with a campaign."

Trustee Martin Rinehart said that he thought going into the community as a school board member was more of a detriment than a help in passing the millage.

Trustee John Hobart said he thought it would be more effective if the board could get neighbors talking to each other in favor of the millage.

Superintendent of Northville Schools Raymond Spear said that an information sheet about the millage was prepared, but was not mailed because it was found in conflict with new campaign reform laws.

The second millage request has been made possible through several changes in the state laws, permitting school districts to fix their millage rate by the second Tuesday in November. Previously, the millage rates had to be set by early September.

Northville's budget, adopted Monday night, is based on a tax rate of 28.9 operational mills and does not include the additional 2.6 mills going before voters next week.

Township Bid to Favor Sacred Heart Center Over Schoolcraft College Ends in Deadlock

A proposed resolution endorsing the establishment of the Sacred Heart Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center in Northville Township failed to win majority support Monday at a special meeting of the township board.

Had it been adopted, the resolution would have been presented to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners urging the commissioners to lease the Wayne County Child Development Center to Sacred Heart.

Currently, the commissioners are considering the proposal of the Schoolcraft College-Wayne State University consortium to turn the now virtually vacant facility into a college campus.

Sacred Heart, which appears now to have major county support, proposes to expand its rehabilitation work to the facility here, creating a cottage campus for men and women recovering from alcoholism.

The first township motion Monday, to table the matter pending receipt of more information, died in a 3 to 3 deadlock; and the second, to adopt the resolution, failed by the same tie vote.

Those voting for the resolution were Clerk Clarice Sass, who drew up the resolution and who, has spearheaded local support for Sacred Heart's proposal and Trustees Richard Mitchell and Dr. John Swienkowski. Voting against it were Supervisor Betty Lennox and Trustees John MacDonald and James Nowka.

Treasurer Charles Rosenberg was absent, but Clerk Sass said he favored the Sacred Heart proposal.

Mrs. Lennox explained that she would vote for the measure only if it was supported unanimously by the board.

The main difference of opinion was that the proponents felt the Sacred Heart proposal is more beneficial to the township than is the college proposal. MacDonald and Nowka, on the other hand, took the position that on the basis of present information they could not support one over the other.

Both proposals are in the process of being changed.

Dr. Swienkowski argued that Sacred Heart requires public support to be successful and therefore its staff and residents are likely to go out of their way to make a good impression with the community. He said far more potential for community involvement for and with residents exists with the Sacred Heart plan.

He noted that Sacred Heart's director has pledged to place a local resident on its board of directors if it comes to Northville.

And he pointed out that potentially there may be a way to utilize Sacred Heart's personnel for assistance with volunteer firemen.

Mrs. Sass said she had arranged for representatives of local organizations and neighborhoods to visit Sacred Heart's facility in Detroit and in every instance they returned fully supportive of the proposal.

Most board members have now visited Sacred Heart.

And a letter was presented to the board from Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun expressing his confidence that the center if located here will not cause any serious problems.

MacDonald faulted one section of the proposed resolution because it stated without foundation that the Sacred Heart center "would cause no financial burden on the township."

And although he and others praised the work of Sacred Heart, MacDonald said it would be foolish to assume that Sacred Heart could utilize 30 cottages at the center for rehabilitation of male and female alcoholics without encountering some problems involving the community.

Six Seek Three Seats

two years — a position he received by election of fellow council members.

Johnston, a former teacher-coach and recreation director here who now operates Northville Realty, was a member of the Northville school board for eight years — two years as president.

Wagner, president of the Northville Colts Little League Football Association, is a past director of the Northville Square Merchant's Association.

Of all of the candidates, none is better known than the incumbent mayor. Owner of Allen Monument Works here, he was first elected to the old village council nearly 30 years ago. Second mayor of the city, he was first elevated to the top position, following the death of the late Claude "Pete" Ely, in 1958. He has been mayor ever since, and he is now seeking an unprecedented ninth term. He is a widower, his wife having died this past year.

Challenger Bongiovanni was born and raised in Northville, coming from a family that has lived here for 52 years. He is a former hair dresser who once had a business here. Now, however, he is employed in the parimutuel (betting) department. He has never held a public office, but he was once active in the Optimist Club here.

The candidate winning the mayor's seat and the two council seats will join two other council members, whose positions are not up in this election. They are Councilman Paul Folino and Councilman Wallace Nichols.

Council seats are for four year terms, the mayor's position is for two years.

Mayor Allen was unopposed two years ago. Folino and Nichols won their seats in that 1973 election by defeating challengers Wagner, Wesley Henrikson, Allen Ingle, Gerald Stone and Lawrence Sheehan.

Polls will open at 7 a.m., close at 8 p.m.

Walled Lake

'Built by the Same Race of People Who Worked the Copper Mines'

By WAYNE LODER

Ever wonder how Walled Lake got its name? Chances are if you live in the area of the lake, you've at least once overheard a couple of the local "historians" arguing over the source of the name. Historians pretty much agree that the lake got its name from a stone wall which at one time made up the side of the lake.

Henry Severance, an author and historian wrote in Michigan History Magazine that Walled Lake during the late 1870's "was a small village in Oakland County nestling on the northwest shore of a beautiful little body of water named Walled Lake because of a natural stone wall on the south and southwest banks, vestiges of which still remain (in 1928)."

According to other historians, the stone wall was five feet thick and four feet high, stretching along the shore of the lake.

On top of the wall was earth and sod. There appeared to be little regularity in the way the stones were heaped on top of each other. However, in some places, the sides of the wall rose straight up indicating the stones had been laid by hand. No mortar or cement was ever found.

Because the area had been a rendezvous for the Indians, it followed logically that the white men who settled there believed that the Indians had a hand in putting up the wall.

A writer in the History of Oakland County (1877) held that "it must have been a heavy tax on human ingenuity to assign any possible reason which could have operated to induce the indolent savages to perform the severe labor which would be necessary to the execution of such a work."

Another historian records that a copper spear about six inches long was unearthed on the banks of the lake by a farmer. The historian hinted that the work may have been done "by the same race of people who anciently worked the copper mines of Lake Superior." Other items of interest were found in the area, including a ball of iron.

"It is plain," wrote the historian, "that these relics are not of Indian origin, as are the numerous arrowheads, tomahawks, and belts of wampum taken from the soil in the immediate vicinity. It is apparent that they and the singular walls of stone are a higher antiquity, reaching far beyond the earliest existence of the Indian race."

Geologists, however, are quick to discount the theories that either a "higher race" of earlier times or the Indians created the wall. They forwarded two possible theories. One suggested that the rocks were the creation of the ice during the ice age. The other was that the ebbing and flowing of ice on the lake had piled the rocks up on shore. The geologists apparently did not address themselves to why no other lakes

Don't Overlook Gardening Gifts

BY KATHY COPLEY

It is a little early to think about Christmas present buying, but some of the best gifts for gardeners are shown in the mail order catalogs coming this month. An order placed in the next week should be here for Christmas giving.

A plant is always welcome, but some other suggestions might make your gift a more unique one.

In the under $10 range, consider: a watering can, decorative for indoors or sturdy for outdoors; a bulb planter; pruning clippers; a plant mister; soil test kit; cotton, plastic, or leather gardening gloves; seed started trays complete with planting medium, tray, heating cable, and seeds.

Still in the under $10 range are: flower dri for drying natural looking fresh flowers, a soaker hose; fertilizer for houseplants; garden hand tools; potting soil, plant markers in wood or plastic; hyacinth or crocus forcing glasses.

Still in this price range: rooting hormone powder for propagation; terrarium tools or a terrarium jar; hemp or cord hangers for plant baskets; or a subscription to one of the leading plant magazines like Plants Alive, Flower and Garden, or Organic Gardening. Look them over at the magazine stand, buy the one you want, and use the subscription card.

An enormous number of books fall into this cost area so browse the local bookstores.

$10 to $20 will get you an enormous selection of plants and planters, though not always both a plant and a planter. The handmade pottery pots are especially popular and can be found in vast quantities in this range.

Florists carry them, but another place to look is flea markets where local craftsmen show their wares. Local high schools may have ceramics classes so pay attention to the dates of their art shows.

Compost kits, plant stands, and outdoor garden tools like tree sprayers fit into this range, too. $30 and up gets you: a heavy duty wheel barrow; green houses ranging from a window unit formed like a large plastic bubble (at $30) to a free-standing model complete with brick floor and heating unit for $4000 or more. Someone interested in indoor gardening under light can get started for $30 with 2 gro-lites and some handy person to set them up over a shelf or table. A complete set-up with 2 gro-lites is in the $50-$60 range. Elaborate furniture-like models quickly reach $250. Check a catalog or ad in a gardening magazine for the equipment which will, your needs.

A gift certificate to some local store or to a mail order catalog is always nice, but with the many gadgets and gizmos available, you ought to be able to make a welcome choice yourself.

New Church To Replace Gym Nave

For almost two years now, The Reverend John Hirsch has been preaching from beneath a basketball hoop in the gym of Brighton's Birkenstock School.

By the end of winter, though, Mr. Hirsch will have traded his "sporty" altar for a more traditional pulpit and sanctuary.

Two weeks ago, ground clearance began at the church's wooded, 10-acre site at the corner of Hyne and Hacker roads in Brighton Township. Soon, footings will be poured for the new home of Brighton's Shepherd of the Lakes Lutheran Church.

The church building, Mr. Hirsch said, has seemed a long time coming. Still, much has been accomplished in two years.

In September, 1973, Mr. Hirsch and his family moved to Brighton. Fresh out of seminary, he was called by the denomination mission board to start a Lutheran church (Missouri Synod) to serve residents in the north Brighton area.

In November that year, Mr. Hirsch and a few parishioners held their first service in the gym at Birkenstock elementary school, on East Grand River Avenue.

Since then, church membership has grown steadily. Now, there are some 125 adult members, and a church family of 185.

Why has the church grown in such a short time? Mr. Hirsch believes the involvement of Brighton residents in his church demonstrates the need for a new parish in the fast-developing Brighton area. New residents seem to be looking for a home church, and others transferred memberships from Detroit churches.

With a loan from the denomination's extension fund, the church bought its 10 acres in the spring of 1974.

Since then, Mr. Hirsch, church members, and a Farmington architect have been working out plans for the $145,000 sanctuary and office building. The result, Mr. Hirsch said, will be an unusual church design.

One feature, he said, will be a fan-shaped, rather than rectangular, sanctuary. In a semi-circular nave, the pastor said, more people will sit nearer the altar than in the more traditional sanctuary.

Also, Mr. Hirsch explained, the building has been designed with an eye to preserving and enjoying the natural features of the land. Few trees will be removed, and the rough-hewn cedar church exterior will blend with the wooded character of the property.

Windows behind the altar, the pastor said, will also give "an outdoorsy feeling inside the church."

"This way, you see, if the sermon is boring, people can look behind me to snow falling on the trees."

If the church continues to grow at the rate it has, Mr. Hirsch says, it may be full to its 180 seating capacity the day it opens.

Hopefully, he said, they've anticipated that problem in designing a flexible building. As planned, the sanctuary can be expanded to seat 300 by removing a few partitions.

Denise Pfeffer, a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Brighton, recently received an advanced certificate from Bishop James S. Sullivan. The certificate will enable her to teach religion to Catholic students in formal education classes. The advanced certificate is awarded upon the parishioner's completion of 200 hours of class work.

Bishop Kenneth J. Povish, a native of Alpena and current Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Crookston, Minnesota, has been appointed the third bishop of the 10-county Lansing Diocese, which includes Livingston County. The appointment, made by Pope Paul, was announced last week by Archbishop Jean Jodot, Apostolic Delegate to the United States. Bishop Povish succeeds Bishop Alexander Zaleski who died in May, after governing the 205,000-member diocese since 1964. Bishop Povish is expected to assume his responsibilities in Lansing in mid-November.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Brighton will hold a bazaar Thursday and Friday, November 6 and 7, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, November 8, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Handmade items, Christmas, children's, and bicentennial booths, and pantry goods will be featured. A handmade quilt in the "double wedding ring" pattern will be raffled.

The Brighton Ministerial Fellowship will hold its next monthly meeting at the Wesleyan Church on Tuesday, November 4, at 9 a.m. Ministers will work on plans for the annual ecumenical Thanksgiving service to be held at Brighton High School on November 24. The Brighton Ministerial Fellowship meets on the first Tuesday of each month at 9 a.m. All Brighton clergy are encouraged to attend meetings.

Revival services with Evangelist Harold L. Myers and his family will be held at the Brighton Church of the Nazarene, 5291 Ethel, Tuesday through Sunday, November 4-9.

A sacrificial supper with soup as the main course is planned for 6 p.m. Sunday, November 9, at First United Methodist Church in Northville.

All members and their families are invited to attend the supper and worship service which will feature a dialogue dealing with "World Hunger" by Mrs. Judy Wilman and Mrs. Joan Sturgill. It will include remarks of a farmer and a concerned American consumer. A film, the H H Factor, also will be shown. A nursery will be provided.

The evening is sponsored by the Work Area Missions of the church with Mrs. Lois Strasser and Mrs. Doris Herrick as chairmen.

Baptists Set Twentieth Homecoming

Baptists meet in South Lyon at the First Baptist Church November 2 to celebrate their 20th year with their annual homecoming festivities.

Highlight of the day will be a special "Homecoming Service" at 2:30 p.m. The Reverend James Coldiron, state evangelist secretary for the Baptist congregations, will present a message of inspiration and challenge. Gospel singing and testimonies will also be a part of the program. A nursery will be provided.

The "homecoming" will be preceded by a fellowship potluck meal at 1 p.m.

The full day begins with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. and the regular worship service at 11 a.m. Pastor Robert Beddingfield invites the public to attend all of the services.

Sunday's worship services will be held in the new sanctuary which was dedicated on February 7, 1974. It seats 700 persons and was constructed at a cost of $161,000.

The tiny original congregation which built the first building at 60820 Marjorie Ann has grown to 550 members and is led by Pastor Beddingfield who came to South Lyon in August, 1966.

reportedly ended up with a similar wall on their boundaries.

Historians note that in the early 1800's, the stones from portions of the wall were used to fill in holes in Novi Road.

Over the years, the lake has grown larger and has covered up much of the farmland which used to surround it. Silt has settled over much of the bottom of the lake.

Does the wall still exist? Conflicting reports continue to emerge from skindivers and scuba divers who have gone down to explore the bottom of the lake. Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, who used to dive in the lake during various searches, insists that while there is still "something" down there, it could hardly have ever been mistaken for a wall.

"It looked more like a shoal or a reef. It sure doesn't look manmade," says BeGole. "It's made of boulders. They vary from human head size to fist size."

Meanwhile, Ned Teshar, head diver with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department recalls that there is a very definite wall. "It's not very high, about one foot," he says. Vegetation and silt have covered much of it.

Teshar confirms that it is made of stone. He contends, however, that the wall runs from 14 Mile Road south to Novi Road, which would place the location in a slightly different area than the "south and southwest banks" where author Severance wrote that the wall was located. BeGole agrees that the rock formation runs from 14 Mile Road south to Novi Road.

Many questions remain today. Did the wall one day exist? What caused it? Does the wall still exist? Is it possible the wall was and is located in more than one area of the lake?

Historians, geologists and residents will probably continue to argue those questions for some time to come.

AUTUMN HILLSIDE—Chrysanthemum clusters planted this fall blend with bright marigolds from summer to provide fall color in this hillside garden behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Malinowski on Clement Road in Northville. Earlier in summer the area gave a welcome yield of strawberries as those plants flourished among the rocks. The Malinowskis say they appreciate the privacy as well as the outlook the terrain offers.

College Attracts 36 Troopers

Of the 36 members stationed at the Detroit State Police Post, nearly all have a college degree or are presently working towards their degree.

The educational background was recently released by Lieutenant William Tomczyk, post commander. He commented that "Our officers are continually studying, keeping up with the latest information available to them."

Lieutenant Tomczyk has completed three credits in management courses. Sergeant James Belcher, majoring in law enforcement, has completed three semesters at Schoolcraft College. Detective Sergeant

BOTH TOPS—Danny Earehart of Northville and his Morgan horse, Poplar's Skee Daddle both are "Top Ten" winners nationally at the Grand National Morgan Horse Show in October in Oklahoma City.

CHAMPION—Poplar's Mr. Ed from the Eddie Earehart Farm in Northville ridden by David Earehart takes double Top Ten honors at the national competition on Oklahoma City.

$60.4 Million

Oakland Eyes Budget

A summary of the proposed 1976 budget of $60.4 million has been sent to the finance committee of the Board of Commissioners by County Executive Daniel T. Murphy.

The budget is 8.3 percent higher than the 1975 budget, marking the first time since 1967 that a budget increase has been held under 10 percent. Last year's increase was 12.4 percent.

"Holding the budget increase to less than 10 percent during these inflationary times is extremely difficult and requires disciplined fiscal responsibility by both public officials and the general public," Murphy said. "All of us must accept the fact that the demand for increased government services must be balanced against the need for fiscal responsibility."

Murphy pointed out that the budget he is proposing would require no deficit financing and no new taxes.

The 1976 budget also calls for no new positions to be added to county government.

"We will continue to provide the same services," Murphy said, "and we believe we can continue to improve those services through full implementation of the government reorganization taking place this year."

Murphy said holding the budget increase to a minimum relies heavily on continuation of cost control measures instituted by the administration earlier this year.

More than half the budget —

$37.8 million — will be financed through the property tax. Although taxes have not been raised, property tax revenues are expected to increase by $3.1 million, or 9.2 percent, through inflation and normal growth.

Approximately $22.6 million

Local Horses Win Big

Northville can boast of having some of the best Morgan horses in the nation.

At the Grand National Morgan Horse Show held October 16-19 at the Oklahoma City fairgrounds the Eddie Earehart family of 9666 Chubb Road in Northville and their horses claimed a host of "Top Ten" awards.

Being in the Top Ten means that the rider, or the horse, is judged one of the 10 best in the United States or Canada.

Danny Earehart was a Top Ten rider in three divisions:

saddle seat, stock seat and western seat.

The Eareharts' Poplar Farm stallion, Poplar's Mr. Ed, was a Top Ten park saddle and park harness champion.

Poplar's Skee Daddle was reserve champion, amateur park saddle Morgan and a Top Ten Gelding, a Top Ten junior exhibitor park saddle Morgan and a Top Ten junior saddle Morgan.

Taffy Tall was a junior exhibitor English pleasure finalist.

Forum Set For Women

Topics have been announced for the next two open forums by the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College.

On October 30 the topic will be Environmentalism-Feminism, A Way to Social Change. It is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Room B-210 of the Liberal Arts Building.

Facilitators Sue Kaufman and Mary Sherwin will present similarities between those concerned with improving the environment and those concerned with feminism. Participants will enjoy a group experience while exploring ways to resolve world concerns.

The Equal Rights Amendment (ERA) will be discussed, pro and con, at 8 p.m. November 5 in the Waterman Center. The pro side will be taken by Audrey Perry, executive coordinator of Women Organized to Meet Existing Needs (WOMEN). Opposition will be provided by Elaine Donnelly who is the Michigan Chairman of the Stop ERA Committee. Sister Margaret Basso will moderate the program.

Admission to the Open Forum Series is free and the general public welcome.

1920's: Glory Years of Sports

Kidney Pads, Rubberized Pants and Black Bloomers

They were the glory years ... the years when the excitement of a touchdown or a basket ignited bonfires under community pride.

Perhaps there is just as much excitement and enthusiasm generated by today's high school games as in the 1920's, but in the mellowing recollections of an older generation there appears to be nothing like a Flapper Era game to swell the community's ego.

Take the football season of 1923 for example. Northville High hadn't seen a winning season like it in years. And it seemed as though the entire population of 2,300 turned out to watch the Mustangs.

Back then, of course, fans of both Northville and Novi focused their attention here since Novi didn't have a high school of its own and most of its students attended Northville.

By the time the first flakes of November fell, the town had worked itself into a fever pitch. Coach A. K. Miller's eleven had won the Suburban High School League championship by piling up four victories and a tie. "A beautiful silver trophy will be awarded at the next league meeting," The Record reported proudly.

But a technicality defused all this pent up emotion. Northville had unknowingly played an ineligible man in half of the Plymouth game, it was learned, and the Mustangs had to forfeit the title to the Rocks.

Edward Riley, captain of the would-be championship team, remembers the season vividly. "This was one of the best football teams that Northville High had for years," he recalls. "Many of the players were older than the 17-18 year-olds who usually played because some came back from the service or returned after dropping out of school."

Players dressed in "very skimpy" uniforms with shoulder and kidney pads to protect themselves. They wore cleats (not steel) and helmets without neck protector. Mouth guards were not used.

Many changes in football rules have occurred since 1923. Back then there were no free substitutions nor offensive and defensive squads. A single team played the entire game.

"We were lucky if we got a full squad at times," recalls Riley. "We had about 15 to 20 regular and if you missed practice that week without an excuse you missed playing in the next game."

Riley ranks these four players as the key to the 1923 success: James Wood, Gordon Crouch, Lawrence LeFevre, and Bruce Knowles.

The 1924 Palladium, however, saluted Riley as savoring the team from two defeats. He scored the only TD in a 7-6 decision over Redford and the two touchdowns against Wayne. The 12-12 tie with Wayne was enough to give Northville the title.

Besides Wayne and Redford, the Suburban League included Farmington, Dearborn, Plymouth and, of course, Northville.

As was the case for many years, the Plymouth-Northville contest was the highlight of the season. The game took place at the fairgrounds, now Northville Downs, during the county fair. Huge crowds packed the benches.

Because of this keen rivalry, the announcement that Plymouth, not Northville, would receive the league trophy was absolutely staggering.

"I felt the decision was a fair one," says Riley. "I think it was because one of the boys had low marks in school."

Edmund Yerkes, who played right guard, claims it was because one of the boys transferred in from Farmington and did not know he was ineligible to play until the end of the season.

The Way It Used to Be

A LOCAL HISTORICAL SERIES PUBLISHED IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE NATION'S BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Whatever the reason, Northville High finished the season on top of the pack but without the title. It would not be until 1927 that the Orange and Black would again claim top honors.

By the time the '27 season rolled around, football had been modernized and Northville had a new coach.

Coach Ray Doeksen became something of a legend in Northville. "He was a hard-driving mentor who would not stand for any fooling around on the field. He was a disciplinarian," recalls Donald (Beaver) Ware, a tackle on the '27 team.

Dr. Russell Atchison, a guard in '27, remembers that Doeksen fostered the team spirit that held the players together. "He was a sincere coach who would get the boys so worked up emotionally for a game that he had the kids crying as they got out on the field."

Uniforms that year consisted of one pair of khaki pants, square mud cleat shoes, and black jerseys with yellow numbers. Quarterback Terry Thompson was captain, Dr. L. W. Snow was the team physician and one of the Mustangs' most loyal supporters.

"Plymouth was the school to beat even if you lost every other game," says Dr. Atchison. "Excitement for that game seemed about the same as you have now for the Ohio State-Michigan game. We even painted our helmets for the games. We wanted to look good for the big day."

Northville beat Plymouth twice that year — by scores of 31-0 and 18-0.

Both Dr. Atchison and Ware remember the non-league Eastern game as one of the toughest played that year. Northville finally won it, 12-9, but the Mustangs had to battle hard to defeat their larger opponents.

Besides being bigger, Eastern players wore rubberized pants and steel mud cleats. Northville players, on the other hand, wore their only uniforms and they had but one substitute in full uniform to back them up on the rain soaked gridiron.

When the 15 man Northville squad arrived at Eastern and saw the 40 opponents sitting on the steps to the guest locker room, "it was a little terrifying let me tell you," recalls Dr. Atchison.

In the face of such odds, Northville turned to skill and ingenuity. Eastern hated to play in mud so Northville directed all its plays through the mud. "We also noticed that before the other team hit us, their players closed their eyes," adds the doctor. "We then started some evasive maneuvers to confuse them."

"We knew we'd win. When we played sports we felt we were representing our community and our pride in living here," says Dr. Atchison.

While it was the football team that gained much of the publicity in the 1920's, the 1924 girls' basketball and track team also captured league titles and individual honors.

Though newspapers make no mention of it and the year book only refers to it briefly, the athletic honors for girls marked a first in history here.

A. K. Miller's wife, Anita, coached both teams. The cagers won six games, losing only to Plymouth and Dearborn, to claim the title. Dearborn shared the championship, however, since the two teams tied. Very little is remembered of the track team except for the individual honors won at the league meet.

Uniforms consisted of black pleated serge bloomers with a felt orange letter, orange shirts and black stockings. Girls also wore high topped tennis shoes.

One of the outstanding players was Marjorie (Horan) Coolman, who played on both of these teams.

"Those bloomers were a handicap to me because of the five-inch hems," she recalls. "I finally made a pair of black satin tight bloomers to play ball and run track in. People were shocked but I didn't care. It made it so much easier to run in."

Average height for girls in those days was 5'6". Mrs. Coolman, who played center on the basketball team, was 5'8".

"I didn't worry about my looks because all I cared about was playing well," she says.

"My father kept reassuring me that I'd be a knockout when I turned 18 so I stopped thinking about looks."

Marjorie Coolman also excelled in track. In the Suburban League meet held in Wayne, she won the 100 and 50 yard dashes, took first in high jump, and with teammates Virginia Smith and Lucile Wickham came up second in the relay.

By day's end Mrs. Coolman was awarded the individual cup for achieving the higher number of points over all other contestants.

"I was so excited about it that I couldn't sleep for two days," she remembers. "I later threw it (cup) out, though, because it began to look tacky."

Now her grandchildren are sorry she threw it away because it is hard for them to imagine grandmother as Northville High School's stellar girl athlete... in those Glory Years of another era.

Carried unanimously.
City Manager reported on two bills that were in question from the September 15th meeting.
COMMUNICATIONS: City Manager read letter from League of Women Voters.
Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to appoint Heidi Crissey as United Nations Day Chairperson on October 24, 1975.
Carried unanimously.
A letter was received from the Northville Township Supervisor stating the Board is unable to commit any funding for the Senior Citizens Housing Project.
Received a resolution from the City of Rockwood opposing H.B. 5527, abolishing the present voluntary association with SEMCOG.
Council will discuss H.B. 5527 on October 20th at which time City Attorney will have a copy of it and will be able to brief Council.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITY ZENS: Bill Bingley, Zoning Board of Appeals Chairman, requested Council to OK publication of City Manager's letter to City Attorney and his response regarding lot splits to clarify last week's article in the Record.
City Council had no objections.
HOMECOMING PARADE & BONFIRE: Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to approve the Homecoming Parade route on October 10th at 6:30 p.m., with notification to the Police Department, and the Bonfire on October 8th at approximately 8 to 10 p.m. with a fire truck standing by. Also City Manager will check with Oakland County regarding the Smoke Abatement Law.
Carried unanimously.
LIBRARY COMMISSION: Margie Sliger reported for the Library Commission on their initial experience being in the Northville Square Mall. The Library has increased circulation by an additional 2,000 per month. Their expanding programs are also bringing in more people.
A three year project on Library costs and revenues was reported on by Carol Ann Ayers.

NORTHVILLE SQUARE SIGN: Mr. Radford, representing Northville Square Mall, requested City's approval (as owners) to erect a 5' x 7' sign, which is within the ordinance in the south parking lot along S. Center.
Council objected to only allowing one individual business to advertise on the sign as presented by Northville Square.
Mayor Allen said the shopping mall is a new concept for a small town and an advertising sign for the mall needs further study.
BI-CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE REQUEST: City Council received a request for a contribution of $250, to partially underwrite activities sponsored by the Northville Bi-Centennial Committee.
Motion by Councilman Nichols, support by Councilman Folino to underwrite the Bi-Centennial Committee in an amount not to exceed $1,000 for a period of one year.

SUMMER SCHOOL TAX COLLECTION PROPOSAL: City Council took no action; there will be further discussion on the Summer School Tax Collection Proposal after the annexation election.

STREET LIGHTS ON GRISWOLD: City Manager recommended five street lights be installed on Griswold between Main and Beal.
Councilman Vernon encouraged City Manager for any proposal to decrease vandalism and street lights are one good way to do this.
Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Vernon to install five 400 watt Mercury vapor street lights at a total cost of $1,900, with no monthly billing for over three years to offset credit for paying in full.
POLICE VEHICLE BIDS: The Police Captain said they would like to try an intermediate size vehicle. He has checked with other Police Departments and they seem to be turning to the intermediate vehicles. The Police Department was given the use of a Pontiac LeMans demo, which they found to be very roadworthy.
Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Vernon to accept the bid from Bruce Craig for an intermediate size Pontiac LeMans at $4,239.58 including spotlights.
Carried unanimously.
POLICE CAR SERVICE: City Council reviewed Captain Westfall's report on prices and service availability for the Police Department vehicles. City Council directed City Manager to continue obtaining service on basis of best price and service.
EXTENSION OF WORKMAN'S COMPENSATION POLICY: By extending the Workman's Comp. policy the City has greater potential to lower insurance rates now that they are under a general umbrella liability policy.
Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Vernon to extend the present Workman's Compensation policy for three months in order to cause due date to coincide with the general umbrella liability policy of the City.
Carried unanimously.
APPOINTMENTS: The Planning Commission vacancy will be filled after October 14th.
The Zoning Board of Appeals vacancy of Sid Frid will be discussed at the October 14th study session.
ELECTION COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS: Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to appoint Councilman Wallace Nichols to the Election Commission.
Carried unanimously.
MISCELLANEOUS: The list of Matters Referred will be discussed at the October 14th study session.
City Attorney reported on Court suit of the legality of the Boundary Commission from a hearing on October 3rd, at which time the Court refused to act. There will be no interference with the Township election on October 14th.
Paul Folino brought up the problem of a truck continually parking at the corner of Mary Alexander Court and S. Center. City Manager will check into this.
There being no further business, the Mayor adjourned the meeting at 10:20 p.m.
Respectfully submitted,
Cathy Keller

Northville will receive about $125,312 in grants during the 1975-76 school year, Assistant Superintendent of Northville Schools Florence Panattoni reported to the Northville school board at their October 6 meeting.
She said that in the 1975-76 school year the Northville schools will receive about $138,312 of grants. That figure for the 1974-75 school year was $114,491, and for the 1974-75 school year it was $131,014.
Miss Panattoni recommended that in the future the board consider hiring a full time person whose sole responsibility it would be to write proposals for grants to get money for the Northville schools.
"No school district can afford everything they would like to have," Miss Panattoni said. "As districts get larger, if grants continue in the same fashion, most districts hire a full time person to write the proposals."
Miss Panattoni said that the money from grants is used mainly to buy equipment for the school district. Some examples she gave were: $7,000 for science equipment, $2,000 for a reading machine, $2,500 for a reading lab, $4,000 for language arts equipment, and $1,700 for books.
Miss Panattoni added that the Northville schools have been improving their efforts in the area of special education and should now begin to intensify efforts to develop special programs for gifted children.
She defined a gifted child as one doing work two years above his own grade level, or with an Intelligence Quotient score of 150-160, or someone who is talented in a specific area like art or music.
There will be a mini-conference for the gifted children October 8. The children will listen to presentations about different fields of study and choose one to pursue.
Last year the program for gifted children was held during the lunch period. This year Miss Panattoni hopes to hold the program sometime other than lunch hour during the school day.
School Board Trustee Dr. Robert Mandell pointed out that the gifted program is not exclusively for the gifted student. He said that the children participating in the gifted program are expected to bring their experiences back to the classroom to share with the rest of the students.

New Hilton Features Park

"THE PARK," an unusual feature of the new 195-room Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Road just south of Five Mile Road in Plymouth, is an eating and swimming area modeled on the inner court design of an atrium in an early Roman home. It will be ready to serve guests this Saturday as the hotel opens.

Deane Baker, owner of the new five-story Hilton, announces also that an adjacent facility, the Jolly Miller restaurant and supper club, is expected to open in mid-November. Located in a park-like setting on a seven-acre site, the hotel has more than 500 spaces for parking.

It offers convention and banquet facilities for up to 1,000 people, the largest of any metropolitan-area hotel, Baker stated at an opening press conference last Thursday. There is a 12,000 square foot ballroom and 15 meeting rooms for conferences, wedding receptions and private parties. Baker said the first convention will be a regional Parents Without Partners conference beginning this Friday and hosted by the Northville-Novi chapter.

Growing trees, flowers and plants create a garden atmosphere for "The Park," which is an 80 by 100-foot room rising three stories high and containing a 50 by 20-foot swimming pool, a sauna and whirlpool as well as a coffee-and-snack shop and bar.

The Jolly Miller restaurant and supper club is being completed in the area that formerly was the Thunderbird Inn of the structure. It will feature dancing.

Baker, who is a University of Michigan regent, is president of the Deane Baker Company of Dearborn. He noted, however, that he has purchased the inn in his own name, without involvement by his company. Initial operations are being overseen by Carl G. Thurston, nationally recognized hotel management consultant, now a Northville resident in Innsbrook.

Don L. Harrill, previously manager of the Airport Hilton Inn at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, has been appointed general manager of the Plymouth Hilton. David Lagarde is director of sales while John Carrell Gaudet is executive chef, also coming from the airport Hilton.

CENTURY 21 Heritage Properties Company has opened its offices in Novi at 43335 Ten Mile Road in the original West Oakland Bank building on 10 Mile, just west of Novi Road. The establishment engages in residential, commercial and industrial real estate in west Oakland County and in western Wayne County. Principals in the enterprise are owners M. W. Lenover and Wren Malone, Jr.

NO COINS NEEDED—You don't need a dime to make a call with Michigan Bell's new Bicentennial phone — one of four new coin phone styles added to the company's "Design Line." The coin phones, older models which have been removed from service, are reconditioned at the Western Electric Service Center in Plymouth. Pictured with the Bicentennial phone is Mary Robertson, an administrative clerk at the Western Center.

RUSSELL E. DUTTWEILER

RUSSELL E. DUTTWEILER joined the newly-formed Powder Consolidation Division of Kelsey-Hayes Company as general manager. The division is located in Brighton.

Announcement was made today by James R. Lizenby, vice president of Powder Consolidation at Kelsey-Hayes Company, subsidiary of Fruehauf Corporation.

In 1967 he was manager of CF6 materials engineering during the initial development of that engine and in 1969 became manager, materials engineering, Lynn, Massachusetts. While there, he was responsible for the efficient exploitation of materials and processes for all jet engines developed and manufactured at the Lynn facility.

In 1971, Duttweiler was assigned to the position of manager, composite technology programs, Evendale, Ohio. Here he was responsible for the management of all significant composite development programs including the TF39 Graphite Composite Blade program and J79 Boron-Aluminum program.

Later he assumed the role of manager, Composite Blade Development where he was responsible for the production of development composite airfoils as well as related materials and process technology activities.

In September, 1972 he became manager, materials development, having principle responsibility for the development of advanced titanium-base alloys and nickel-base superalloys. And in April 1973, he assumed position as manager, materials application engineering at the Evendale facility.

Duttweiler received his metallurgical engineering degree from the University of Illinois in 1960. He is a member of the American Society for Metals.

FALL APPEARS to bring out the "hunter" in man and often telephone lines and cables seem to end up as the hunter's targets, according to Haze Wilson, Michigan Bell's local manager.

Every year more than 100 cases of phone trouble are traced to bullets or pellets hitting telephone lines or cables. Such careless use of firearms can knock out phone service to many customers, Wilson said.

"A single shot or pellet can cut off scores of conversations — possibly one of which could be an emergency call for police or fire or a call from someone sick or bedridden," Wilson said.

"It is in the hunter's own best interests to avoid hitting our lines or cables," he said, "because the hunter might need to use a phone himself to call for help in case of an accident."

Persons can be held financially responsible for damaging telephone equipment or property, Wilson added.

VFW Gift Is Lauded

Donations of flowers for 307 graves of "Unknowns", servicemen buried in France, have brought thanks from the American Battle Monuments Commission to the Ladies Auxiliary to L. A. Sims VFW Post 3952-Wixom-Walled Lake.

The auxiliary has received "Program of Service" memorial cards and pictures with the note of thanks for the donation.

The auxiliary announces it will be supporting yearly the American Memorial Day in France with a donation for the flowers.

The graves chosen are in the Normandy American Cemetery. Its site was chosen, the auxiliary explains, because of its historical location on top of a cliff overlooking famous Omaha Beach, the scene of the greatest amphibious troop landing in history.

The official name "Normandy" is derived from the name of the province in which the cemetery is located. The site covers 172 acres. Its use is granted in perpetuity by the French government in gratitude of its liberation in World War II.

The auxiliary points out that there are 9,386 American war dead buried there with 307 headstones marking the graves of "unknowns". It is these for whom the donation for flowers was made.

The remains of 14,000 others buried in this region were returned home at the request of next of kin. There are buried here, side by side, a father and his son, and in 33 instances two brothers rest side by side.

They are from every state in the union and the District of Columbia, plus a few from England, Scotland and Canada.

Budget

will be financed out of interest paid on the investment of county funds, federal and state revenue sharing, and various fees paid for special county services such as the courts and the county hospital. Total receipts from these sources are expected to be down $300,000 over 1975.

The largest expenditure category in the 1976 budget is 25.9 million for personnel costs which includes wage increases negotiated in response to inflation pressures.

Non-departmental appropriations, such as care of the mentally ill, social services, employee retirement fund, and other items, accounts for $20.3 million.

The operating budgets for county departments and institutions, $14.2 million, makes up the remainder of the proposed 1976 expenditures.

VIEW OF 'THE PARK'—This three-story high area in the new Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Road at Five Mile Road is named "The Park" and offers coffeshop-bar diners a view of the indoor swimming pool and sauna. As it opens this weekend, the hotel is hosting a regional meeting of Parents Without Partners.

Army jobs now:

Coach Unhappy After Slim Win

Northville Varsity Football Coach Chuck Shonta stood outside the gate of the Walled Lake Western football field last Friday, happy to finish the game with a 7-6 victory and disappointed with the team's performance during the game.

The Mustangs held on to gain the one point victory on the strength of a second quarter touchdown scored by Eric Lampela on a one yard run and an extra point kick by Scott Travers.

Despite the slim lead the Northville Mustangs seemed to be pretty much in control until there was 6:06 left in the third quarter. That's when Kirk Bouckaert plunged over the goal-line from one yard out for a touchdown.

The Walled Lake Western team went for all the marbles when they tried for a two point conversion after the score. Their quarterback, Rick Fuson, threw a pass which fell incomplete in the end zone. A completed pass would have given Western an 8-6 lead.

After that touchdown Walled Lake smelled victory and their offense was on the march. Fortunately for Northville, the defense rose to the occasion. On three different occasions Walled Lake Western was unable to get a first down or a touchdown when they were within the Mustang 20 yard line.

However, Northville Coach Shonta was even unhappy with those performances.

"We finally learned after three quarters that they were going to run the same pattern," Shonta said. "We knew what they were going to do and how they were going to do it. We're very fortunate to win."

It was Kevin Corcoran and Mark Morland who trapped Walled Lake's Dean Brown at the Northville five yard line, short of a first down, in the early moments of the fourth quarter.

After an exchange of punts Walled Lake was again on the march. Their drive ended on the Mustang 18 yard line when Tim Conder intercepted a Fuson pass.

Northville's offense sputtered and again the Warriors from Walled Lake set out on a war path leading toward the end zone. Fuson led the Warrior team to the 18 yard line where two of his passes were batted down by Northville defenders, ending the final Walled Lake scoring threat. Corcoran knocked down one of the Warrior passes and Greg Armstrong batted away the final throwing attempt.

Gary Winemaster and Dave Holland led the Northville tackle charts with seven tackles apiece. Vince Bustamante, Mark Morland, Chriss Missel, Tim Conder, and Corcoran each had four tackles for Northville.

Walled Lake was able to grind out 109 yards rushing against Northville and were successful with big passing plays against the Mustangs as they gained 112 yards through the air for a net offensive total of 221 yards.

Walled Lake completed four of 13 passes, including one for 46 yards and another for 35 yards.

The Mustangs had a net offense of 213 yards with quarterback Lampela accounting for a large percentage of that total. Lampela gained 89 yards in 12 rushing attempts and completed one of seven passes for 24 yards.

Bruce McGlory gained 42 yards in 11 carries and Greg Armstrong had 35 yards in 15 rushing attempts.

Coach Shonta was happy with the victory but disappointed with missed assignments on offense and penalties. Northville again drew a healthy share of penalties as they were assessed six times for 55 yards.

The Mustang offense fumbled only once in the game, losing possession of the football on that occasion.

Northville's varsity football team now has a 4-3 record overall and is 2-3 in Western Six Conference play.

SLIPPERY DEFENDER—Walled Lake Western's Jeff Martin (33) slips past Northville back Greg Armstrong (14), who is looking downfield, and heads toward quarterback Eric Lampela (15), who reacts quickly with a sidestep. Lampela was more successful against Walled Lake than this picture may show. He was the offensive leader for Northville as he gained 89 yards rushing and 24 yards passing. Lampela also scored the only Northville touchdown of the game on a one yard run.

VanWagner Rushes Toward 1000 Mark

Minnesota Morris completed a 21 yard desperation pass for a touchdown with 25 seconds remaining in a college football game, October 18, to hand Michigan Tech their first homecoming loss since 1969, 16-15.

In that game junior tailback Jim VanWagner, of Novi, carried 40 times for 147 yards. He has become the seventh player in Michigan college football history to reach a career rushing mark of over 3,000 yards. He now has 3,121 yards to rank fifth on the state's all-time rushing list. He has two games left this season. VanWagner also scored one touchdown in the game, on a one-yard run. He is also just two yards shy of his second straight 1,000 yard season.

Northville May End Novi Grid Rivalry

Next year may be the last time that local fans can watch the varsity football teams from Northville and Novi play a game against each other.

Officials at Northville High School are looking into the possibility of dropping Novi, along with South Lyon, from their football schedule.

The reason for the proposed change is rooted in the high school Play-Off system rules. Both Novi and South Lyon are classified as Class B schools, while Northville is a Class A school.

Under the Play-Off system, a school that wins over a Class A school gets 80 points, but a school that defeats a Class B school will get only 64 points.

Class rankings are determined by student enrollment. Class A schools are those with 1,459 students or more, while Class B schools begin at 723 students.

"If we went 9-0," explained Northville High School Principal Michael Tarpinian, "and there were several Class B schools in the schedule, we would not qualify for the playoff."

Officials at both Northville and Novi said they dislike ending the football series between the two schools.

"We like to play them," Novi Varsity Football Coach John Osborne said, "but I can understand their reasoning. If they play us, because of the class size difference, if they were even to have an undefeated season, they may not be able to gain entry to the post-season play-offs."

Officials at Northville High School have yet to find any new teams to play next year and they said Novi will definitely be on the 1976 schedule. That game, incidentally, if it is the final game between the two schools, will also be the "rubber" game in the series between Northville and Novi. The record now stands at two wins apiece for each school.

Schoolcraft Battles For Soccer Title

Schoolcraft's Soccer team scored two wins to grab the Michigan Conference championship and this Wednesday will play Cuyahoga West for the Region 12 Soccer Title, 3:30 p.m. at Schoolcraft A win this Wednesday would qualify Schoolcraft for the Inter-Region Playoffs in Illinois this November.

Schoolcraft Coach Larry Christoff said that he is so excited with the prospect of possible inter-region and a chance to qualify for national competition that he cannot even sleep.

Lifting Schoolcraft toward that goal was a 1-0 victory last Saturday over Cuyahoga Community College at Metro. Charles Yonish scored the lone goal in that game for Schoolcraft after a previous Schoolcraft goal was nullified by an offside penalty.

Schoolcraft also notched an impressive 8-2 victory over Kellogg Community College, October 21 at Schoolcraft.

"It was embarrassing because their coach thought I was trying to run the score up," Christoff said. He added that his substitutes were in the game early in the second quarter.

Gans Finishes 2nd

Northville members of the Bulldog Aquatic Club swam well in AAU sanctioned competition at the Fifth Annual International Invitation Swim Meet, October 11 and 12, at the University of Windsor pool.

Russell Gans, age 12, was runner up for the individual high point award as he led the Bulldog club to a fourth place finish in the team competition.

Gans finished third in three events, the 100 yard backstroke, 100 yard breaststroke, and 200 yard freestyle. He also was fourth in both the 100 yard butterfly and 200 yard individual medley; he was fifth in the 100 yard freestyle.

Coaches Analyze at Halftime, Players Score in Second Half

A little halftime analysis, resulting in some added deception in the backfield, were the events which led to a 13-7 comeback varsity football victory for Novi, last Friday at Milan.

Trailing by a 7-0 score at halftime, after a 32 yard touchdown run by Larry Thomas of Milan, the Novi coaches and players talked at halftime and added another option to their wishbone option offense.

Novi Assistant Varsity Football Coach Rick Trudeau said the Milan defense was reacting quickly to the outside whenever the Wildcats went toward the end with an option. Head Coach John Osborne and Trudeau decided to have quarterback Randy Wroten fake a play into the line before heading outside.

The strategy worked. On the second play of the second half Wroten, a junior, faked a handoff into the line, rolled toward the end, and sprinted 69 yards for a touchdown. Ben Galyon kicked the extra point which knotted the score at 7-7.

Wroten had a fantastic night offensively. He gained 131 yards rushing in 15 carries. He completed three of five passes for 54 yards. He also kept the Milan defense from cheating to the outside when he ran the option by faking running plays into the line. Of course those were not all fakes into the line.

Doug Maier, a senior, usually carried out those fakes, but he also ran the football his share of the time as he carried 19 times for 79 yards, and was Novi's workhorse on offense.

It was Maier who set up and scored the winning touchdown for Novi. He had a long run which brought the ball to the one yard line. It took Maier two more tries before he scored the touchdown on another dive into the line.

The eventual winning score by Maier came early in the fourth quarter, but the game was far from over. Milan's team came close to turning the tables on Novi late in that final period.

With 3:02 left in the game Milan got the ball on their own 40 yard line and marched to the Novi 20 yard line with about one minute left in the game.

"They saw they were losing time," Assistant Coach Trudeau said "So they left their ground game, which got them down to the 20, and went to the air. We were able to tackle the quarterback for a loss."

Juniors Andy McComas and John Pisha ended the Milan threat by catching the Milan quarterback in the backfield. Trudeau said the Novi defense played especially well and mentioned the defensive backs in particular, as they rushed up to stop numerous running plays for short gains.

Defensive back Norm Free, along with end Jeff Slattery, led the Novi tacklers with 14 total tackles. Jon Buck was close behind with 13 tackles. Andy McComas and Bob Sasena each had 12 total tackles, Doug Maier had ten and Bob Bannatz had nine points.

The win over Milan brings Novi's record to 2-5 overall and 2-4 in Southeastern Conference play.

"We played good against Milan," Trudeau said. "The way we played against Milan is the way we could have played all year. We're young and we're getting things together. This might have been the game, we put everything together and turned the corner. We still have not reached our potential."

5th at Regional

Northville 2nd at League Tennis Tourney

Northville's tennis team finished the tennis season by placing fifth in regional and second in Western Six Conference competition.

The Mustangs earned nine team points in a regional tournament, October 10 and 11 at Ann Arbor Pioneer, to finish fifth. East Lansing won the event with 20 points, Ann Arbor Huron was second with 16, Plymouth Salem had 14 and Ann Arbor Pioneer had 13 team points.

Becky Albus won her first two matches before losing to an Ann Arbor Pioneer opponent. Sarah Kunst won her first match and was defeated in her second match, also by an Ann Arbor Huron opponent. Northville Tennis Coach Uta Filkin said that Kunst may have been nervous during her loss because as a member of the Northville football homecoming court she had to return to Northville that same night.

Mary Korte and Paula Horst won their first two matches before losing to the eventual winner, a team from Plymouth Salem. Joan Davis and Claudia Riegner beat a Ypsilanti team before losing to an Ann Arbor Pioneer team.

"Some of the schools were a lot bigger and had a lot more coaches," Northville Tennis Coach Filkin said. "Northville, for what we have and the people we have, we did the best possible."

Coach Filkin was also pleased with the Northville finish at the league tournament, October 29 and 30, at Farmington Harrison, where Northville finished second behind the Harrison team.

Hopping was especially commended by coach Filkin for a fine job. She won three matches before losing in the semi-finals to a Farmington Harrison player. Hopping is a sophomore.

Debbie Salmett, another sophomore, lost her first singles match and was eliminated from the tournament. Albus, a junior, won her first match and then lost in the second round of play. Kunst, a senior, also won her first match and was defeated in the second round.

Juniors Karin Lotarski and Riegner were eliminated quickly when they lost their first match of the tourney. Korte, a senior, and Horst, a junior, won their first doubles match and then lost to a Farmington Harrison doubles team. Juniors Cathy Herbel and Sheri Kaiponen were eliminated from the competition in the first round of play.

"I really enjoyed the girls and working with them," Coach Filkin said. "They're very honest and very fair players."

Coach Filkin especially commended Kunst as a consistent player all year.

Athletes of the Week

Janet Cook

Don Wilber

Cathy Foust

Junior Novi quarterback Randy Wroten is the Wildcat of the Week. He led Novi in the winning football game over Milan. Wroten had a 49 yard touchdown run in that game and gained a total of 15 carries for 131 yards on the ground. He was also successful passing as he completed three of five passes for 54 yards. That gave Wroten a personal total offense of 184 yards against Milan.

Janet Cook, senior co captain of the Novi varsity basketball team, is this week's Ladycat of the Week. She is a versatile performer who can play both guard and forward. Her strong suits are defensive play and rebounding. In last week's win over Brighton, Cook scored three points, and was very aggressive defensively with ten steals to her credit.

Northville Sophomore Cross Country runner Don Wilber is this week's Mustang of the Week. He has been a strong performer for the Mustangs throughout the season, adding depth to the Northville Cross Country Team behind the line running of Bob Gould. Wilber clocked his best time of the year in the Western Six Conference meet with a 16:20 time good for seventh place.

Cathy Foust, a junior co captain of the Northville swimming team, is this week's Mustang of the Week. Swimming Coach Karen Turner said Foust's continuous hard work and perseverance has made Foust one of the team's most valuable swimmers. She has placed high consistently in the 200 and 500 yard freestyle events. In the 500 yard freestyle she has dropped her time from 7:07.6 to 6:35.53.

Underclassmen Lead Swimmers To Another Conference Victory

Freshman Kyle Roggenbuck and sophomore Vida Mikalonis continued to spark the Northville swimming team as they led the squad to a Western Six Conference win over Walled Lake Western, 97-75, October 23 at Walled Lake.

The Northville swimmers suffered a non-league dual meet loss October 21 at Ypsilanti by a 92-79 score. The Northville Mustangs still sport an undefeated 7-0 mark in Western Six Conference competition and now have a 10-2 mark overall.

Mikalonis took a first place in both the 100 yard butterfly and the 100 yard backstroke against Walled Lake. Roggenbuck finished with a first place in the 500 yard freestyle race against Walled Lake.

Both swimmers were double winners against Ypsilanti. Roggenbuck won the 200 yard freestyle and the 50 yard freestyle, while Mikalonis placed first in the 200 yard individual medley and the 100 yard butterfly.

In that Ypsilanti meet, the Northville 200 yard medley relay team qualified for the state swim meet later this year when they won that event with a 2:05:04 time. Members of that relay team are Marge Boland, Tracey Piscopink, and mainstays Roggenbuck and Mikalonis. That same relay team lowered its time against Walled Lake Western to take another first place and crack a school record with a 2:03:3 time. The old record of 2:04:8 was set in 1974.

Boland cracked a school record in the 100 yard breaststroke with a 1:17.2 time and first place in that event. The previous record of 1:18.5 was set in 1973 by Sandy Bacanyi.

Mikalonis lowered another one of her records when she clocked a 1:06:2 time in the 100 yard backstroke and finished first in that event. She set the previous record of 1:06.5 in 1974.

Northville Swimming Coach Karen Turner was very pleased with the results of the Walled Lake meet. She was especially happy with Marge Boland and her record breaking 100 yard breaststroke performance. This is the last week of dual meet competition for the Northville swimmers who will then move into the league and regional swim tournaments.

Burke Wins Football Contest After Top Entry Is Disqualified

A wrong name, wrong address and a wrong telephone number added up to a disappointing football contest entry for someone who might otherwise have won first place.

The entry was submitted under the name of someone who knew nothing about the contest. Disqualified, it contained only one mistake — the best of over 100 entries. Winning first place therefore was Myles Burke of 42825 11tham, who came up with just two wrong picks.

And sharing second and third place money were three persons, all of whom had two mistakes and were tied in scoring Nebraska's victory over Colorado. The three are Mike Lurvey of 18813 Jamestown Circle, Joe Hamp of 46132 Norton and Toby White of 335 Eagon Drive.

Each guessed scores that were 36 points off the mark. Myles, on the other hand, picked a score of 30-21, and thus was 33 points off. Nebraska won the game, 63-21.

Eight other contestants submitted entries with two mistakes, but they finished out of the money because of their scores. They were: Pat Brown, Mary O'Meara, Jim Howell, Scott Love, David Young, Bob Kain, Stu Lamb and John Davis.

Twenty-nine entries contained three mistakes, 27 had four mistakes, and the remainder had five mistakes or more.

Only one person guessed the Illinois victory over Michigan State. Other most missed games included Novi's triumph over Milan and Minnesota's victory over Iowa.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Enter Today! You May Be A Winner!

HERE ARE THE RULES

Take a plain piece of paper and number down the left hand side from 1 to 16. You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 16 and each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend. To complete your entry you must do the following:

(1) after each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding square.
(2) following the sponsor's name — write the name of the winning team.
(3) in addition you must pick a score on the outcome of the game in square 16. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner.

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry). In case of tie, prize money will be split.

NOTE: Only ONE entry per HOUSEHOLD family per week. Prize money paid only to name on entry. PLEASE do not enter several times using friends' names. Such entries will be disqualified if discovered.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office at 104 W. Main each week.

Entries should be addressed "Football Contest" Northville Record, 104 W. Main, Northville and must be postmarked or brought to our office no later than 5 p.m. each Friday.

Employees of The Northville Record—Novi News or sponsoring merchants are not eligible.

Everyone Plays In Cage Win

All 13 of the Novi varsity basketball players saw action and 11 of them scored as Novi won an impressive 40-26 victory against Brighton, October 21 at Brighton.

"Brighton has always been second to us in the league," Novi Varsity Basketball Coach Chris Hayward said. "They lost a lot of players through graduation so they were weaker than we expected."

"We worked ball control in the second half," Coach Hayward said. "So I think we could have scored more than we did."

Mary Kardell led the Novi scoring barrage with ten points. Elaine Maki had eight points and Dede McAllen had seven points for Novi.

Janet Cook scored three points in the game and was especially effective on defense where she stole the basketball ten times. The Novi team was strong on defense, holding Brighton scoreless during the third quarter.

Novi is now tied for second place with Lincoln in the Southeastern Conference standings with identical 3-1 records. Tuesday Novi is scheduled to play against an unbeaten first place Dexter team. Novi now has a 7-2 record on the season.

Other scorers for Novi were: Joan Collins with three points; Patty Cameron, J. Brown, Jeannie Whithers, and Mary Fisher each scored two points; and Lari Neutz scored on point.

Novi Harriers Finish Season

Novi's cross country team ended its season with competition in the Southeastern Conference and regional meets, and a look toward the future.

The top Novi finish in both events were turned in by freshman Jeff Johnston. He placed 14th of 42 runners in the conference meet and 42nd of 154 runners at the regional meet.

Two other top performances at the league meet were also turned in by freshmen. They were Glen Claudell and Tim Smith.

Novi ends the season in fifth place of the Southeastern Conference cross country standings.

"We're young and I'm encouraged," Novi Cross Country Coach Norm Norgren said. "I'm encouraged that my freshmen can develop. I am very enthusiastic."

Norgren also commended his two seniors, Mark

McKenny and Biff McAllister, for fine races in the regional competition.

Raffle Held

About 70 persons were in attendance at Bosco Field last Sunday as the Novi Little League held a fund raising raffle.

Everyone was able to enjoy free cider and donuts provided by Novi merchants as Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole drew for the prizes and handed out awards.

Minor league team number five sold the most tickets of any team and each of its members received ten dollar gift certificates. The three top individual sellers, Allan Provow, Jeff Tomanek, and Bobby Hartson each received a 25 dollar bond Porvow, who topped all sellers with 80 sales, donated his prize money back to the league.

Sophomore Cagers Remain Undefeated

Novi's junior varsity basketball team preserved its unbeaten record with a come-from-behind 19-16 victory October 21 at Brighton.

Four of the five Novi starters fouled out during the game which Novi Basketball Coach Chris Hayward called a hair raiser.

Novi overcame an 11-7 halftime deficit by netting seven points in the third quarter and holding Brighton scoreless in that period. Both teams played even in the final quarter, each scoring five points.

Ricci Mulligan, the only starter who did not foul out, led Novi with eight points. Mary Ann Winksky had five, Laura Birou had three, and Betty Banks, Sue Beal, and Shelly Brough each had one point.

The junior varsity now sports a 4-0 record in Southeastern Conference play and a 9-0 mark on the season.

Wilson Scores For Pacers

Northville's Pacer "A" Midgits lost their fourth straight hockey game in four outings by a 6-1 score to the Inkster Midget team, last Thursday at Sportsland Arena.

Mickey Wilson scored the only Northville goal in the first period of play.

The loss of forward Eric Purcell with a broken arm, early in the season, and a need for more men at forward positions has continued to offset the fine defensive work of the Pacer team behind the alert goal tending of Mark Collins and Dave Green.

BOB GOULD—Northville cross country runner Bob Gould will compete at the state tournament this Saturday in Grand Blanc. He earned that chance by finishing sixth in the regional meet last Saturday at Cass Benton.

Novi Wrestlers Add Alpena To Winter Tourney Schedule

The Novi wrestling squad has added an invitational wrestling meet at Alpena to its schedule for January 23-25, 1975.

The decision was approved by the board Thursday with the lone dissenting vote that of Board President Gilbert Henderson who contended that if Novi's participation in the invitational is not approved, "if you don't replace this with another meet, I still feel your season is long enough."

"I still say that school people, including the coaches, will live to see the day when they regret extending the football season. And 25 wrestling opportunities are enough."

Henderson also contended that the invitational would not give the students any new experience and that it also would take an "unreasonable" amount of student time.

Wrestling coach Russ Gardner responded that "I thought it would be a good tournament to go to since we never meet upper peninsula schools except in the state finals." He added that students are never required to go to invitational.

The trip will begin at 3 p.m.

JV's Beaten Badly

Northville's junior varsity football team was soundly defeated by Waterford Mott, 14-0 in a football game played last Thursday at Waterford High School.

"They handled us real well," Northville Junior Varsity Coach Darrel Schumacher said. "We could not get any offense going at all. They had as much trouble mounting an offense as we did, although they did do a better job."

The Waterford Mott team scored both its touchdowns on short runs in the third quarter.

Northville had 121 yards total offense during the game. Dan Davis was the leading rusher with 48 yards in 16 carries. Doug Marzone completed four of 14 passes for 31 yards.

Coach Schumacher said he was pleased with the defensive play of John Marzone, Rick Kennedy, Paul LeVoie, and Dave Duguid.

Bob Gould Qualifies For State Competition

Cross country season for most of the Northville players ended on a sadder note after the regional competition, last Saturday at Cass Benton.

Northville finished ninth in the team standings of that event and only one Mustang runner, Bob Gould, qualified to go on to the state competition, November 1 at Grand Blanc.

Gould finished ninth at the Regional Tournament.

There were 23 teams at the Class A regional last Saturday. Pontiac Central finished first, followed by West Bloomfield and Grand Blanc in second and third place respectively.

"We didn't run as well as we could have," Northville Cross Country Coach Ralph Redmond said. "It was the same old bugaboo that's been bothering us all year, of bringing in our fourth and fifth men. We've got to get our fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh men in there and build that team depth. This is a good team and they want to do it. It might be maturity that's holding them back now."

Gould is a junior and will be able to return next year. Don Wilber, a Northville sophomore who finished 24th in the regional, will also be able to work toward another season of competition next year.

Northville finished second in the Western Six Conference cross country competition, October 21 at Hickory Hills Golf Course.

A strong Livonia Churchill team took first place with 31 points, with Northville trailing in second with 59 team points.

Churchill's Todd Wint set a league course record and won the event when he clocked a 15:30 time.

Bob Gould, a junior, turned in the best Northville performance when he finished in fourth place with a time of 16:00.

Sophomore Don Wiber turned in his best performance of the year with a 16:20 time and seventh place.

Both Gould and Wilber will represent Northville on the All-League team.

"Gould probably could have had a better time," Northville Cross Country Coach Ralph Redmond said. "What he tried to do was bust Wint. Their pace was so quick the first mile that Bob suffered a little from it."

"Gould was the only one to challenge the leader,"

Redmond added. "Everyone else found a comfortable pace and stayed there."

Redmond cited sophomore Phil Reed as a big difference in the league race for Northville. The sophomore Reed clocked a 16:42 time to finish ninth among the competition. Dave Behrens, a senior, also drew praise for his best performance of the season. He finished the course in 17:00 for 16th place.

SEEKING HEARTS OF GOLD—Miss Barbara Clement of Novi, right, compares notes with Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley of Grosse Pointe, Heart of Gold Award Council chairman, as they seek nominations of area women volunteers who have given outstanding service. Miss Clement is a representative to the council from National Bank of Detroit's Women's Club. Co-sponsored by Women for the United Foundation and the Award Council, the annual award is made at a February luncheon. Nominations must be submitted by November 13 by calling 965-7100, extension 209.

Novi Choralaires

Anyone interested in joining the Choralaires, a quality mixed chorus made up of members from Oakland and Wayne counties is asked to call 349-0036 or 478-4000 for information. Auditions are currently in progress and the group meets on Tuesday nights.

Parents Without Partners

A reminder of the Black Mask Ball scheduled for Saturday, November 1 from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. at the Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Road. This is part of the regional meeting scheduled for this weekend. All of Novi-Northville Parents Without Partners are also invited to the downriver Halloween Costume Ball to be held on Friday, October 31, also at the Plymouth Hilton. Music will be by "The Escorts". There will be a poolside reception on the Atrium Terrace featuring free cider and doughnuts. For information, contact Connie Mallett, president, at 349-9346 or Beverly Cline at 348-1892.

Novi Jaycees

The Jaycee Haunted House opened last Thursday and will continue through Thursday, October 30. The hours through the week will be from 7 p.m. - 11 p.m. and on the weekend will be from 2 p.m. - 11 p.m. with special rate during the hours of 2 p.m. - 6 p.m. on Saturday. For information on group rates call 349-7705. The next Jaycee meeting will be November 4 at 8 p.m. at Holiday Inn.

Novi Blue Star Mothers

The next meeting will be noon, November 6 at the home of Marie Tripp on Washington. Everyone is asked to bring their own table service and a sandwich. Dessert and beverage are furnished by the hostess. Plans will be made at this time for the Christmas party to be held at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Novi Lion's Club

The Novi Lion's Club will host District Governor Everett Devroy October 29 (tonight) at 6:30 p.m. in the Holiday Inn in Farmington. Devroy heads District 11 A-2 which has 70 clubs and more than 3,000 members in Macomb, Oakland and St. Clair counties.

The purpose of Governor Devroy's visit will be to advise and assist President Donald A. Durocher, Secretary Daniel Steinback, and other officers in matters pertaining to the administration, and to the Lions' program of community and international service.

Novi Athletic Booster Club

The next meeting coming up on November 5 is a very important meeting. At this time the group will be discussing the matter of having or not having recognition banquets as they have sponsored in the past. If you are a parent with a youngster involved in the athletic program, plan now to attend their guaranteed short meeting and voice your opinion. They also welcome as participants in this club, anyone in the community who is interested in the athletic program of the Novi school system.

Orchard Hills Booster Club

Any parent in the Orchard Hills area who is working on projects for the Bazaar to be held on November 15 are urged to contact Eileen Kidd or Ginger Gillick. They would like to have any of the finished articles you have already made to be turned in as soon as possible, even though you will be continuing to work on additional items. The Bazaar will be open from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. and is available to anyone in the community to purchase items for the home as well as Christmas gifts. Some of the items being offered are on display in the showcase at the school.

next regular lodge meeting on November 13. Other events coming up include the visitation at Hamburg of District 6 on Wednesday, November 5.

Everyone is reminded of the Rummage and Bake Sale being held on October 31 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. with items being brought to the hall on Novi Road on Thursday, October 30. The sale will continue through November 1. Everyone furnishing bake goods is asked to bring them in as early as possible on the sale days.

Novi Rotary

Special speakers at the last Rotary meeting were Chief Lee BeGole and Sergeant Gordon Nelson. They spoke about the growth of the city and how the police department must improve conditions to keep up with this growth and be able to protect the citizens. The department has received several Federal grants including one dealing with a surveillance unit and also one for improved radio equipment. Rotary continues to meet at Holiday Inn in Farmington and members are reminded that November will be make-up month.

Novi Lions Auxiliary

Special guests at the recent membership team presented by the membership were Cathy Campbell and Mary Ann Weber. Additional reports were heard on the rummage sale with articles being given to the Salvation Army and the Canadian Indians. On October 29, there will be a joint meeting at the Holiday Inn for the second annual dinner starting at 6:30 p.m. to honor the Junior Olympic program. There is a spaghetti dinner being planned for Saturday, November 1 from 5 p.m. - 8 p.m. Tickets are adults, $2 and children, $1, all you can eat, at the Novi Community Building. Also on November 1, is the deadline for Lions and wives to get their reservations and money in for the hayride scheduled for November 22. The next meeting will be at the home of Judy Gross on Meadowbrook on November 17.

North Novi Civic Association

A very good attendance was seen at the "Candidates Night" last Tuesday sponsored by this group for the citizens in Novi in an effort to encourage people to get out and vote. In the absence of LaVerne Reinke, who was called away earlier in the day because of the death of his father, vice president Larry Kern presided. There is a need for parents in the community who plan to bring their children to the Halloween party at the community hall to call 624-2311. Refreshments will be furnished: hot dogs, soft drinks, etc., and the group wants to be adequately prepared so no child will be left out.

Cub Scout Pack 239

Everyone is reminded that tickets are still available for "Tom Sawyer". For additional information contact 349-5794. A committee meeting is planned for 8 p.m. October 30 at the home of Ed Rhea. At this time, those present will be setting up the events for the remainder of the Cub Scout year. The next Pack meeting will be November 6 at 7:30 p.m. at Village Oaks.

Novi School Menu

November 3 - 7, 1975
Monday—Chili con carne and crackers, bread and butter, finger salad, peaches and milk.
Tuesday—Cook's surprise.
Wednesday—Tasty meat loaf, mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, buttered vegetable, jello and milk.

Thursday—Michigan hot dogs and buns, potato chips, buttered vegetable, chilled fruit cup and milk.

Friday—Oven baked fish, tartar sauce, french fries, bread and butter, cole slaw, cookies and milk.

Novi Senior Citizens

Novi Senior Citizens met at the Novi Community Building on Novi Road on Tuesday, October 28 at 7 p.m. Judy McParland, of the Charter Consultants answered final questions and made arrangements with members who are planning to go on the trip to Nashville, Tennessee. Mrs. Helen Trahan reported on the purchase of a loudspeaker. Nominating Chairman, Mrs. Russell Race and committee presented suggestions for new officers. Hostesses were Mrs. Jennie Champion and Mrs. Anna Ortwin. The next meeting will be a potluck luncheon at the United Methodist Church at 12 noon Wednesday, November 12.

Novi Jaycee Auxiliary

Work has already begun on the Women of the Year project with applications being submitted from local organizations and from individuals. Anyone having any questions on this project can contact Marilyn Nielsen. The next regular meeting will be on November 25 and at this time, there will be a Craft Auction so members are reminded now to start working on projects for this event.

Public Hearing Set For Taft Sewers

Novi council last week set November 24 as hearing date for the proposed 10 Mile-Taft sanitary sewer line to serve the new high school and the library.

Purpose of the hearing is to hear objections to the $364,000 project. Plans call for the sewer to be brought out 10 Mile Road from the existing sewer, west along Novi Road, to just west of Taft Road.

A tap charge of $1,500 will help pay for the sewer while, according to City Manager Ed Kriewall, the interceptor fee per tap will be an additional $807. An additional $60 will be added per tap as the user's share of the cost of oversizing along 10 Mile that already exists.

According to Ed Kriewall, the city manager, 544 taps must be tapped into the project to pay all costs. He added that 100 taps will go in as soon as the sewer is put through.

General obligation bonds would be sold to pay for the project, according to the city manager, who suggested that they be 10 year bonds. Upon questioning, Kriewall admitted that "if growth doesn't come, we would need to put on an ad valorem tax."

"If and when an ad valorem tax is added, let's do it with our eyes open," admonished Mayor Robert Daley.

Council also set November 24 as the date for the second public hearing on the Grand River-Taft sanitary sewer. Total cost of that sewer would be $416,000 and would be paid for by bonding which would utilize a tap method of payment. Cost per tap would be $3,256.

Of the project's cost, $65,120 would be paid for by the Michigan State Highway Department which represents the cost of 20 taps to be used at the rest area.

The first public hearing has been set November 24 for Glenda Street resurfacing. Homeowners there were asked, but did not desire to wait on resurfacing of the streets until after the sanitary sewer and water are available to the area 6-9 months from now, according to the city manager.

Thanks

To the many friends & customers who made our years in Novi and in business so memorable. Special thanks to the Novi Police and Novi Firemen in all our time of need. We hope to see you at our new location in Milford.

Thanks again.

K & B Plans New Novi Subdivision

Request for tentative preliminary plat approval of the Jason subdivision met a snag at Novi's council table last week due to a question on whether the subdivision would be included in a planned RUD (Residential Unit Development).

The property in question is just south of 10 Mile and West of Haggerty in the vicinity of Nolan Drive and, if the subdivision plat is approved would include 24 lots covering 11.57 acres. Developer Kaufman and Broad wanted to include the subdivision as an RUD. The RUD was first used in the Village Oaks area and Heatherbrae residents were able to join for a fee, thus being able to use recreation facilities including the Village Oaks Clubhouse. The plan which Kaufman and Broad would apparently like to follow would not cost the new residents anything to use the facilities.

City Attorney David Fried suggested that the council should not extend the RUD because the original time limit for additional people to join the RUD had expired. Kaufman and Broad on the original master plan for the area had wanted to include the Jason subdivision as an RUD.

Council member Romaine Roethel, lives in Village Oaks, suggested giving new homeowners the option of joining the Village Oaks Common Area Association.

Council held off taking any action on the request until Kaufman and Broad determines whether it wants the subdivision entered as an RUD. The matter was held over until the November 3 council meeting.

Meet Your Candidates for Novi Council

For Council 4-Year. . .

(Elect 3)

DENIS M. BERRY

Age 37, 41163 McMahon Circle. Employed at Bradford Production Incorporated as director personnel and labor relations, sales. Bachelor of Science Degree, University of Michigan. Two daughters. Member Jaycees, Elons. On original city charter commission. Served on city council since 1969. Has been mayor pro-tem.

1. I feel there should be a 8½ mill limitation in order to provide orderly growth. One mill for general operation and one mill for capital improvement projects. The City of Novi has been struggling since 1968 with a 6½ mill charter limitation that has been inadequate for seven years.

2. The current level of city services cannot and will not be maintained if the one mill for general operating millage does not pass. Lay-offs are a fact of life that will follow the defeat of the general operation one mill request.

3. The relationship between the council, the mayor and the city manager should be exactly that which is set down in the city charter. The members of the city council as well as the mayor should allow the city manager to be the administrator of the city and stop interfering with the day to day operation of the city.

4. The master plan is only a guide to the orderly development of a community. It should provide the proper mixture of residential, commercial, industrial and recreational zoning. The proposed revision does not properly address itself to these areas.

MEYER BRENNAN

Age 48, 24617 Olde Orchard Road. With General Motors Cadillac Division. Two years of Business Administration at Hunter College in New York City. Married, three children. United States Navy. Worked as coordinator for Market Research Company. Quality assurance and liaison man between inspection division and production management for General Motors. On subdivision building and grounds committee.

1. I believe the 6½ mills for general municipal purposes, and the 1 mill for specific street and highway improvements should be adequate. I am not in a position to commit myself further on this subject at this time, as a lot depends on future financial needs of the city.

2. I would be forced in an emergency situation to support a motion for a special tax assessment for the period allowed in sec. 9.1 of the city charter.

3. I believe the relationship between city officials and department heads should be one of communicating ideas on pending issues and cooperating with each other for the good of the community. The issues should be clear to all parties involved before a decision is made.

4. The master plan should be revised according to the growth and needs of the city. How can there be a complete revision without knowing what future commitments will have to be made? We must be flexible in this respect, we can revise according to the update study.

MARTHA L. HOYER

Age 36, 203 Bernstadt. Works for Seneca Electric. Graduate of Cass Technical High School. Married, two children. Member of Novi Planning Board two years, president of Northern Novi Civic Association two years, elected to Novi council July, 1975 to fill three month unexpired term.

1. Minimum eight mills. This developing community must carry financial responsibility of city services plus front monies for public utilities, roads, etc. at low SEV with no allowance for frills or luxuries. Current millage is not comparable even to surrounding communities with benefit of much higher SEV.

2. Impossible. "Bullet has been bitten till we're choking on the powder". Current budget balanced with no wage increases and four union contracts are currently being negotiated. Lack of development keeps SEV and projected incomes down. Contract increases alone cannot be covered by budget review thus necessitating staff reduction.

3. City Manager — Administrator. Mayor — chair person of council and City P.R. Council — policy setting and city P.R. All city employees accountable to manager and manager accountable to mayor and council. Manager in daily contact with needs and problems to make recommendations to policy setting body and mayor on priorities. Council to have healthy discussion on recommendations with Mayor presiding as leader to control discussion per rules of order thus forming a united team. Revision is a necessity. Impact of some developments since adoption never studied. Future impact of proposed and under-way development needs immediate attention. This plan is a lay-out of the future of our city and consistent deviation is a defeat of its purpose.

4. Updating Master Plan a priority item... difficult to deal with the growing pains of a city with an antiquated plan. Novi needs the approach of interested citizens and professional people to provide an updated master plan which would be all-inclusive with flexibility of periodic review.

KENNETH M. MAXWELL

Age 34, lives at 41431 Glyme Drive. Works in insurance sales for Bankers Life of Des Moines, Iowa, Southfield office. Attended Redford High, Ferris State College. Married, two children. Past Boy Scout Leader, Eagle Scout, God and Country Award, founder and past president of Young Married Group at Nardin Park Methodist Church. Past member, first vice-president of University Lions Club in Detroit, charter member and fund raiser for Northwestern W.M.C.A., co-founder of annual Christmas party for 500 children at Northville State Hospital.

1. With the voting of the millage in this election, I do not want to comment one way or another.

2. You cannot maintain the current level, and there would have to be cut backs in all city offices, police, building departments, etc.

3. The city manager should be the administrator, the council should make the rules, and the mayor should be in charge of the council.

4. I feel that it should be revised into a working plan, once it is brought up to date, it should be lived with.

DENNIS L. MURPHY

Age 40, 41711 Borchart Drive. Vice-President of Public Funds for Bank of Commonwealth. Bachelor of Business Administration from University of Detroit, finance major. Magna Cum Laude. Married, four children. Member Michigan School Business Officials Association, Municipal Finance Officers Association, Alumni Association Delta Sigma Pi, Orchard Hills Homeowners Association.

1. Present acceptable millage limitation is an undetermined number. Complete analysis of the city's operating and debt level requirements coupled with cooperative efforts of the Charter Commission and interest citizens groups — based on ability to tax, special assessments and willingness to pay — is necessary to determine a proper limitation.

2. For the interim period, deficit spending (i.e. Tax Anticipation Notes) would be recommended in order to maintain proper service levels. Long term goal would be the identification of proper fiscal responsibility (millage level) and a business approach to staffing and budgets.

3. I agree with the approach of a "full time" city manager. That is, the job of city manager is to handle the day-to-day operation of the city without the "interference" of a part time mayor and council. The thrust of the legislative group (mayor and council) is to provide direction and policy for the city manager to act within. The city manager should be responsive to the directions of the council and mayor, and be in a position to accurately reflect the city's total status at prescribed intervals.

4. Updating Master Plan a priority item... difficult to deal with the growing pains of a city with an antiquated plan. Novi needs the approach of interested citizens and professional people to provide an updated master plan which would be all-inclusive with flexibility of periodic review.

WILLIAM R. O'BRIEN

Age 49, lives at 41131 South McMahon Circle. High school government teacher at Southfield Public Schools, Bachelor of Arts at Eastern Michigan University in history and education, Masters of Arts at University of Michigan in geography. Further Education in location analysis. Married, five children, National Education Association member, local officer and member of American Association of Geographers, National Social Science Honor Society, member of homeowners association, active in Scouts, Little League, supported creation of Novi Community Schools, village of Novi incorporation, city incineration, organized petition drive which brought first sanitary sewers to Novi, served term on city council, wrote ordinances creating Parks and Recreation Commission, Parks and Recreation Commissioner.

1. The only limits of a charter millage should be whatever the community feels it can reasonably afford. We currently have a 6.5

general fund rate and unless the council and others can show dire need, that is all the public will vote. Millage should be set by a trusted council.

2. By continuing austerity. If, in fact, the budget is as lean as reported, then like a family on a fixed income, we will hold the line and perhaps again petition the public for more operating millage.

3. The charter of Novi is a typical "strong council — professional manager — weak mayor" government system. The mayor is the council "chairman" and is entitled to one vote but no veto. The mayor is also the "official" representative of the city. The Council hires a full time manager to administer the city's services which the council and the charter determine to be necessary and within the approved yearly budget.

4. A cursory examination of the "proposed zoning map" appears to be the final stage of Vilcan-Leman's "zoning standards" prepared for the planning board in June, 1973. I feel pleased that after two years of difficult study the new zoning standards will finally go to a public hearing.

ROBERT D. SCHMID

Age 44, 28105 Summit Drive. Works for State Farm Insurance Company. Bachelor of Arts-Hillsdale College, graduate work Michigan State University. Married, three children. Member Summit Hills Homeowners Association, State Farm Activities Association, American Legion.

1. Limitation small in comparison to others, and probably needs raising. However, lack of confidence in city leadership makes it doubtful voters are ready to increase. Priority — to demand efficiency in each department, revise accounting procedures, realistically project future needs, communicate with voters, thus increasing confidence in administration.

2. I'm not interested in maintaining city services, but in improving them. This can only be done by upgrading our efficiency.

3. I believe in a strong city manager who efficiently operates the city daily without interference from the council or mayor, but remains accountable to them for the efficiency and effectiveness of his administration. The council should intelligently work together to solve city problems, making an honest attempt at compromise when opinions differ. The mayor should display a style of leadership which encourages cooperation and decisiveness rather than encouraging factional interests. Mayor should be responsive and responsible to the electorate in an effort to increase voter confidence in city administration. Honest communication needed among administration, council, mayor and public.

4. Master plan should be revised and adhered to without deviation, except on predetermined periodic review. It should present a balance that maintains the beauty of our area and still is progressive. It must be developed with the interests of all Novi residents in mind rather than special interest groups.

Editor's Note: Candidates for council and mayor in Novi were asked to answer the following questions posed by the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi:

1. (50 words) What do you think the millage limitation in the city charter should be? Explain your answer.

2. (50 words) If the one mill for general operating does not pass, how would you maintain the current level of city services?

3. (100 words) Describe what you think the working relationship of the council, the mayor and the city manager to each other should be.

4. (50 words) What are your feelings about the proposed revision of the master plan?

JAMES A. SHAW

Age 31, 23960 Lynwood. Educator, Farmington Public Schools. Bachelor of Arts degree from University of Michigan, working on Master of Arts in Education Business Administration. Married, three children. Served on Needs Assessment Committee for Novi Public Schools. President, Echo Valley Civic Association. Has held various positions in professional organizations.

1. What amount of millage does it take to operate the city? Nobody has bothered to ask the Novi resident what kind of city he wants and can afford. City charter limitations on millage should be reflective of expert opinion of needs and costs and citizen opinion of wants and ability to pay.

2. Without the one mill increase we cannot continue the current level of city services, but the council has not made an effort to explain how the passage or defeat of that proposal will affect them. The people need to know how that mill translates to services based on the reports of city management.

3. Central to most of the problems of Novi has been the frequent inability of the Council to "perceive their proper role as established by the city charter. All too often we have had "too many chiefs", all wanting to be city manager. In my mind there is a very clear distinction of the Council as a policy making body and the manager as the chief administrator. I think it is incumbent upon all parties concerned that they be mindful of their respective positions and exercise compassion, judgment and common sense when dealing with one another, matters and persons appearing before them.

4. The direction and control of Novi's growth can be managed — with a comprehensive master plan! Updating of the master plan is essential, but of equal importance is the assurance that it will be comprehensive in nature to include not only land use but also the location and priorities of sewer, water and road development.

WILLIAM SPENCER, JR.

Age 33 lives at 1231 East Lake Drive. Tool and Die machinist, graduate Oakland Community College, Associate Degree Business Administration and Applied Science Degree Management. Presently senior at Madonna College with business major. Married, two children.

1. The city's power to tax as provided for in the city charter should stand as written. And if changes are necessary it should be only by the vote of the majority.

2. Be it the will of the majority to deny the request for millage, the council should solicit the support and recommendations of all employees so as to find means of maintaining an adequate level of services. The suggestions of the employees should be a prime source in the quest of efficiency.

3. Ideally, the working relationship of the council, the mayor, and the city manager to each other should be a harmonious one. They should work within the confines of the city charter and exercise only those powers delegated to them by the voters. And if each were solely dedicated to the common goal of providing for the needs and wants of all the people in the City of Novi, some harmony could be attained.

4. I have negative feelings about the proposed revision of the master plan. We should retain as much of our rural atmosphere that is possible. A certain amount of growth is inevitable, but I do not feel that we should foster objectives merely for the sake of inducing growth.

MELVIN L. STEPHENS

Age 20, lives at 135 DeGross. 1973 graduate Novi High School. Attending Eastern Michigan University in business administration with management major. Attended junior college. National Honor Society. Society of Outstanding American High School Seniors, attended Wolverine Boys State. President of student government association at junior college. Was resident advisor in dorm.

1. I believe that we should maintain the current millage limitation. I want to hold the line on tax increases. It is time that we realize that an increase in taxes is not always the best answer. The city should value each tax dollar. Priorities on spending must be set.

2. If the one mill increase does not pass, it is an indication by the community that they want the city to operate on current funds. Cuts in some departments must then be made. Other programs will have to wait for future funding. In general, the city would have to tighten their belt.

3. No answer.

4. To be a useful tool, the master plan needs revision. Once revised it should be used as a guide to planning and development. I am in general in favor of the proposed revisions. In this critical period of Novi's life, some type of index is necessary.

LOUIE C. CAMPBELL

Age 43, 24121 Lynwood. Employed by Detroit Gas Products. Bachelor of Science, civil engineering. Married, three children. Past president, Novi Rotary. American Welding Society, Redford Lodge 152 Free and Accepted Masons, Northville Commandery, Oakland County Education Advisory Committee, Farmington School District Vocational Education Advisory Committee, former member of city council.

1. Millage limitations must be established by the citizens. City growth requires adequate funding. The Southeastern Michigan Junior Achievement. In Novi Federation of Homeowners.

1. Today the city operates of 7.5 mills. Our city needs 15 mills to provide adequate city services! The current 7.5 mills is needed plus two mills for the fire department, one for police, two mills for roads, one for parks and recreation, 0.5 mill for DPW, and one mill for the General Fund.

2. Current city services cannot be maintained without the additional millage. Our city employees will need salary increases. Our city offices are understaffed and operating on a tight budget. Material costs are rising and union negotiations may impact the current budget. Some Federal funds may be requested. Layoffs may be necessary.

3. The city council must be a responsive, progressive, governing body that represents all members of our community. The council has to work with the mayor and city manager to establish and maintain a modern and efficient city administration.

The mayor is the prime mover and tie-breaker on the city council. He should be a neutral member of the city government. He has to keep the council from bogging down on trivial and non-legislative matters.

The city manager has to keep the council informed with up-to-date facts on year-to-date expenditures, department operations, status, future needs and potential problems.

4. Our city needs a basic blueprint. Any master plan has to be periodically reviewed and updated. Our master plan does not reflect the existing development and future programs planned for our city. Nor does it cover such housing concepts condominiums, townhouses, planned communities, etc. A revision to our master plan is necessary.

5. It is clear to me that the first city charter commission wanted the city government to be one with a weak mayor — strong city manager. The job of the city manager is to carry out the policies and ordinances approved by the city council or electorate. The mayor must concern himself with leading the council through an orderly process of collecting information and ultimately arriving at a decision. He must help the council to guide the public through city services to solve their concerns before reaching the council level.

6. The present situation is that council is trying to decide if they should contract with a firm to study our master plan to see if it needs revising and if so what revisions are necessary. When (and if) the study is done, I will be able to make a rational decision.

Farms OK'd

Novi Council last week gave approval for two farms to come under Public Act 116 of the State of Michigan.

That act allows qualifying farms certain tax advantages.

Receiving approval from the city to come under the act was Dinsler's Greenhouse on Wixom Road north of 10 Mile and a farm owned by Alvin Smith on 10 Mile east of Wixom Road. Both come under specialty farm provisions of the act as Dinsler's is a greenhouse while Smith raises horses.

RICHARD A. BUREAU

Age 43, 23824 Willowbrook Drive. District Manager for National Manufacturer. Married, five children. Korean veteran. Has been member of Civic Associations, various charter commissions, Goodfellows, Commissioner B.S.A. Canister Chairman March of Dimes, past Chairman Northwest Political Club, Distinguished Service Award from Nankin Jaycees. Active in parks and recreation programs.

1. The millage limitations in the city charter should remain as is, 6 1/2 mills. Additional millage should be passed only by a vote of those electors owning property in the City of Novi.

2. If the proposed one mill increase for the general operating fund is not passed, the current level of city services will not be cut. At least for the present, I feel we have adequate funds available and should squeeze by.

3. The working relationship between the Mayor, Council and City Manager should be a workable one. One with authority, compromise and compatibility.

4. I do not feel the proposed revision of the master plan is as urgent as some people think. However when you have numerous development proposals in a growing community it is necessary to review certain aspects of the Master Plan periodically.

A. RUSSELL BUTTON

Age 66, 44109 Grand River, Novi Building Service, Country Cousins Mobile Village. Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from Michigan State University. Married, two children. Masons, Chamber of Commerce. Member of Novi Incorporation Commission, Novi Village Charter Commission, Novi Village Council, Novi City Incorporation Commission, Novi City Charter Commission, Novi Building Authority, Novi Charter Revision Commission.

1. The millage in the charter should be for the proper operation of the city. The city has operated on 6 1/2 mills for the past 17 years. This election should determine what the residents are willing to pay for. Any additional programs should be financed by a special assessment and/or voted millage.

2. The only alternative to increased millage is an increase in industrial tax base. Additional residents only add to the problem. We lost the Lincoln Plant because we did not incorporate. We lost Perkins Diesel because we would not build 1/2 mile of road. Novi must have more industry.

3. I prefer the council-manager form of government, with the mayor elected by and from the council. The mayor-council is the legislative and the manager is the administrative head of the government. The manager should be free to administer without interference of legislators. This is not true in the present charter. This is not the fault of the charter commission but of the Attorney General.

The present charter and probably the revised charter call for an elected mayor but leave him with no more authority than the other councilmen I believe this is a mistake.

4. Novi has a master plan. It is revised every time there is a public hearing and a zoning change. There has been a lot of work done in revising the nomenclature in the zoning ordinance to make it more workable. I believe this should be adopted.

JACK W. CARTER

Age 51, 40960 Ten Mile Road. Manager Chatham Supermarket of Northville. Graduate Everts High School in Kentucky. Married, five children. Resident of Novi 21 years.

1. The millage limitation of the city charter should not be changed at this time. I feel a millage increase on the homeowners and the residents of the city of Novi would be an untimely expense. I would like to have the opportunity to investigate where the money is going.

2. If the one mill capital improvement does not pass the city council should make sure our tax dollars are budgeted properly and that we get one hundred percent productivity from our taxes.

3. The working relationship of the council, the mayor and the city manager to each other should be of unity, to compromise, and to establish trust in each other for the betterment of the city and the residents of Novi. They are elected by the people and should work as a unit for the people.

4. The master plan has been neglected considerably and should be revised. With the proposed Dayton-Hudson, the requirements of the police and fire department will be greater, but Dayton-Hudson has not requested any building permits. Everything is a big if. At this time the master plan centers around Dayton-Hudson.

PATRICIA A. KAREVICH

Age 32, 25904 Clark. Attended Central Michigan University. Married, three children. Member Novi Parks and Recreation Committee, election committee, Novi representative to the Oakland-Livingston Human Service Agency, Novi Community Development Block Grant Committee, member Novi Heights Homeowners Association, NESPO Committee, organized 1973 March of Dimes Drive and chaired 1974 drive, conceived and organized first Novi Student Government Day, conceived concept of Beautification Committee in Novi, Novi Jaycee "Woman of Year".

1. Currently Novi is operating on 6.5 mills plus one mill for roads and 1/2 mill for library. Until the residents of Novi feel their city requires added monies, it should continue to operate according to the present city charter. Confidence in our government goes hand in hand with adding millages.

2. If the one mill General Operating does not pass, I would have to maintain the same level of spending by making cuts in city services and wait until there is an increased tax base. Timely decisions save money.

3. The city manager is a full time professional employee of the city. He should run the city and report to the council. He needs the power to operate. The council and mayor are part-time employees. As elected representatives, they are responsible to the citizens for setting policy and making legislative decisions. The council and mayor should stay out of the day to day operations of the city.

4. Development in Novi is inevitable. Future development will be guided by a master plan which is approximately 10 years old and out of date based on current land use and recent rezoning decisions. If our future growth is to be orderly, our plan must be updated now and adhered to.

Novi police, who backed up in the arrest, held Milhollan for 1 1/2 hours for questioning by Wixom police. He was then taken to Wixom for booking and lodged in Oakland County Jail. He was arraigned at 5:30 p.m. and released afterward.

The murder is the third in the history of the city, according to Sergeant Larry Beamish. The last occurred 4-5 years ago when a courier for Ford was robbed and murdered.

program to total $4,825,000 which would be paid off over the next 20 years. The council has presented a program of 18.78 miles of roads to be paved with the monies. Taft Road is at the top of the list.

If approval is given the average millage will be 1.7 mills with the debt service being paid off over 20 years.

Proposal B asks for one mill for three years to be used by the fire department to purchase land, vehicles, vehicular equipment and to build fire department facilities. The fire department is hoping to construct a station which would service the southern portion of the city. The department also is hoping to purchase additional fire trucks.

Proposal C requests that the charter of the city be amended to raise the tax limit from its current 6 1/2 mills up to 7 1/2 mills. The administration has contended that it needs the extra mill just to stay even due to negotiations with various unions and inflation. Lay-offs may result if the increase is denied, city officials have said.

Proposal D asks for 1/2 mills for three years with which to build bicycle paths. If the proposal is passed, 6-14 miles of bike paths would be constructed, according to the Bicycle Path Committee which sought out the signatures necessary to get the question on the ballot.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday. Absentee ballots are available through Saturday at 2 p.m.

Following is a list of precincts and voting places:

School Construction On Schedule in Novi

dent said that "it could be we'd have to move out (of the present board offices)". If so, the administration may consider renting part of the new library or moving into Novi Elementary

The future of Novi Elementary remains questionable. According to Dr. Kratz, "Can you imagine all the construction next year that will be going on (nearby on the I-96-Now Road interchange)? Can you imagine trying to get kids in there with buses?"

Dr. Kratz said that if the second Novi Needs Assessment Committee deems it necessary, the district may put all of the Novi Elementary youngsters into the new Novi elementary school until construction work is completed on the interchange. The new Novi elementary building is scheduled for completion in April and use in the fall of 1976. It will have a capacity of 550 students.

According to Dr. Kratz, when the present building program is completed (and a second elementary school is constructed sometime in the future), the district should be able to hold 5,000 students optimally or 6,000 maximum which should take care of the holding population of the Novi School District's portion of school aged youngsters in the city.

But, according to Dr. Kratz, with the "decreasing increase" of students during the past few years, information provided by the second Needs Assessment Committee will determine where the school district should go in terms of further construction of buildings and best use of the present buildings.

"We've got 30 excellent citizens involved on that committee," said Dr. Kratz. "One thing I don't believe in is having a committee like that and then not using them."

Henderson contended that "if I were a building administrator, it would give me some guidelines to say yes or no (on outside requests)."

The vote was unanimous in favor of the policy.

Wixom Seeks to Buy Land

Within a week, Wixom city officials are expected to close a deal with the Metro Park system for 47 acres of parkway in Commerce Township.

Negotiations on the land have been going on for almost two years and cost to the city will be approximately $150,000, according to Wixom

Mayor Val Vangieson.

Money to purchase the property will come from funds provided under the Housing and Community Development program.

"It will provide needed recreational land as vacant lands become filled with housing and commercial," said Vangieson.

The property is located in Commerce Township, just north of the City of Wixom.

OK's Fund Policy

Novi School Board recently approved a new soliciting funds policy to oversee fund raising projects involving Novi school students.

The policy states that elementary school fund raising projects must be conducted on school property while off site projects are allowed in secondary schools, but must be coordinated with other schools through the superintendent's office.

Solicitation of outright funds is prohibited. No projects are allowed that are for an undetermined use. Building regulations may be established as supplements to system-wide regulations.

Solicitation of funds from students by outside groups at any school is prohibited under the policy.

Break-Ins, Thefts, Robbery Top Area Police News

In Township

Household items and electrical appliances valued at more than $1,550 were stolen during a break-in of a home on Haggerty Road north of Five Mile Road last Wednesday morning.

Township police reports said every room of the home had been rummaged through after unknown persons gained entrance by breaking a rear door window.

Missing are a stereo, television, jewelry, two clocks, adding machine, two radios, watches, typewriter, tape recorder, movie camera and a toaster.

A car stolen October 10 from Livonia was recovered Saturday afternoon in Northville township, completely stripped.

A youth walking in a wooded area on Five Mile near Robinwood spotted the 1975 Ford. Township police said the vehicle identification plate had been removed along with license plates.

Two escapees from Northville State Hospital were recovered by township police last Tuesday afternoon.

A 19-year-old man was found walking on Sheldon near Five Mile Road with a state hospital grounds pass. The same day, a 26-year-old man was found on Meadowbrook Road near Seven Mile Road.

Clothing and a travel bag, valued at $200, were stolen from a 1975 Buick parked in the 18700 area of Jamestown Circle between October 19 and 20.

Reported to township police this past Saturday, the theft occurred while the vehicle was locked. Stolen were two women's pantsuits and a gray travel bag.

Although nothing was stolen, two cars were damaged during the past week during attempted thefts.

A car parked in a driveway in the 15000 block of Portis had the roof slit and the glove box rifled between Wednesday and Thursday.

Last week Monday, an older model Ford was damaged during the night while it was parked on Richards Court. The passenger door was dented, paint scraped off both doors and a wiper was broken.

Vicious dogs are suspected of killing more than 70 chickens in the 40000 area of Seven Mile Road this past week.

Township police said the incident occurred between 10 and 11 a.m. Friday in the rear yard of a home.

In Northville

A 25-year-old hitch-hiker picked up in Flint Saturday afternoon was physically kicked out of the car in Northville shortly after 7 p.m.

The hitch-hiker, who lives in Sault Ste. Marie, told police the driver of the car drove off with $100 in cash and his belongings which were in a back pack. The incident took place on South Main Street at the Seven Mile cut off.

Bruce Corpe, the hitch-hiker, said he asked to get out of the car at South Main and Seven Mile and as he reached over the back seat to retrieve his back pack, the driver kicked him out of the car and drove off. He said a shotgun was lying on the back seat.

The car was described as a white Ford and the driver is possibly from the West Branch area. Police are continuing their investigation.

Approximately $170 worth of items were stolen from a garage on Welch Street near the city limits sometime between last week Monday and Tuesday.

Owner of the home told police unknown persons entered the closed garage, taking anti freeze and numerous tools. An electric lawn edger and hammer were dropped on the lawn.

Police theorize a slingshot may have been used to break two windows in an apartment in the 300 block of Griswold Street Sunday afternoon.

Resident told officers a rock was propelled through the front screen and window and across the room, breaking another window on the opposite side of the room. The damage took place between 4 and 7 p.m.

In Wixom

Wixom police report that a 17 year old Walled Lake man committed suicide at the Finn Camp on Loon Lake Road October 18. Dead is Robert Hartwid, 2451 Roselawn in Walled Lake.

He was found lying on a bed in one of the cabins by a friend. He had been shot in the stomach by a shotgun. A suicide note was also found.

A $100 two foot by three foot sign saying park entrance was stolen October 1 from the entrance to Highgate on the Lake.

Between October 15 and 19, Patty's Pizza was burglarized of $150 in cash, two radios, a set of pots and pans and 15 dish rags. Owner Ed Coogan October 21 chased from the building someone who was trying to enter after hours but the subject escaped.

In Novi

A total of $431 worth of merchandise was taken October 17-20 from Hallmark Printing, 40001 Grand River. Entry was gained through a rear door. Taken was a Panasonic Tape player, 24 tapes, a paymaster check protector and an Allen adding machine. Detectives are investigating.

An instrument panel was taken October 20-21 from a tractor parked at the Detroit Edison site at North Hills. Wire cutters were used to remove the panel, which was valued at $200.

A 1970 Ford pickup was stolen last week from the 39,000 area of Village Wood where it had been parked. It had not been locked.

A 1971 red Dodge Challenger was stolen at 2:43 a.m. October 19 from a home in the 26900 area of O'Jaustin. The owners were awakened when the car was started.

A 14 year-old girl was allegedly raped October 22 in a field near Beck Road.

According to Novi detectives, the Dearborn Heights Police Department contacted Novi police over a complaint filed with their department by the parents of the girl. The girl told her parents that she had been baby sitting in Dearborn Heights and the 19 year-old man who was to take her home afterward allegedly raped her. Through investigation, it was learned the crime allegedly took place on Beck Road near Nine Mile.

the suspect with first degree sexual misconduct.

Multi-Elmac Company on Heslip Drive had two large windows valued at $300 each broken by rocks Tuesday morning. There was no entry to the building. The detective bureau is investigating.

Slight damage was suffered by a Novi school bus after it was hit by another driver at 7:57 a.m. Tuesday. No children were on the bus and no one was injured.

According to Corporal Ralph Fluhart, the bus and the vehicle that struck it were going eastbound on Grand River. As the bus prepared to turn south onto Novi Road, the driver of the car, who was on the inside lane, struck the rear of the school bus as he tried to avoid cars turning north onto Novi Road from his lane.

Charles Chall of Brighton was given a citation for improper passing.

Chiefs Elect Nisun V-P

OLV Students

Parents Ask For Bus Stops

A plea from three parents of Our Lady of Victory Catholic School children living in Northville Commons for a bus stop inside the subdivision is being studied by Northville school administrators.

Spokesman for the group, Patrick Mellish, told the school board Monday night that presently, all parochial students walk to Winchester Elementary to get that bus to OLV. He asked that a compromise bus stop within the subdivision be made for approximately 20 students.

Mrs. Mellish explained that they were "not objecting to the walk to Winchester. But from there, my daughter must ride a bus. The trip doesn't end when she reaches Winchester."

Administrative Assistant Thomas Goulding said that a total of 45-50 students leave Winchester each morning for both OLV and St. Paul's Lutheran School from Northville Commons and Colony.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said that he was afraid if the board agreed to place bus stops within Northville Commons, other parents with similar situations in other subdivisions would demand bus transportation for their parochial students.

The board directed administrators to review with the parents where parochial students live to see if a pattern exists where buses could stop.

Trustee Roger Nieuwkoop reminded parents that if "you choose to educate your children in a parochial school, there are sacrifices you make. I have my own two children in parochial school and know the problems." He cautioned the school board about getting involved in special bus stops for the transportation of non-public school students.

• OBITUARIES •

PEARL BOYD

Funeral services were held yesterday (Tuesday) morning for Pearl A. Boyd of 525 Fairbrook who died Sunday in Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, at the age of 69.

Mrs. Boyd, who moved back to Northville three years ago, was born October 13, 1906, in Dexter, the daughter of Arthur and Emma (Bell) Gregory. Her husband, Cleo G. Boyd, died on August 17, 1972.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Gene (Evalyn) Garner of Livonia, Mrs. William (Spess) of Northville, Mrs. James (Charlene) Priest of Dyersburg, Tennessee, a son, Walter of Northville, two brothers, Floyd Gregory of Northville, Donald Gregory of California, and five grandchildren.

Services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend Guenther Branstner of the First United Methodist Church of Northville officiated. Burial followed in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens, Novi.

The family suggests that contributions be made in her name to Children's Hospital in Detroit.

PERCY HODSON

A resident of Northville for the past four years, Percy G. Hodson of 404 West Main Street died Thursday, October 23, in Beverly Manor in Novi at the age of 90. He had been ill for the past two months.

Mr. Hodson was born October 8, 1885, in England, the son of George and Anne Hodson. A retired railroad accountant, he lived in Philadelphia before moving to Northville.

Surviving are a son, Robert N. Hodson of Northville, a sister, Mrs. Ellen Armstrong of Philadelphia, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church where the Reverend Father Gerard Hadad officiated. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were handled by the Casterline Funeral Home.

TERRANCE MUSSELMAN

Funeral services were held Monday for Terrance (Terry) Michael Musselman of Farmington Hills who died suddenly on Thursday, October 23, in Bloomington, Illinois, at the age of 34.

Mr. Musselman, formerly of South Lyon, lived in Farmington Hills for the past three years. A 1959 graduate of Northville High School, he attended Henry Ford Community College. He was employed as supervising foreman at Michigan Bell for the past 11 years and had served in the U.S. Navy.

Born September 4, 1941, in Bloomington, he was the son of Ivo and Vivian (Gibson) Musselman Jr. His wife, Dolias, whom he married in 1959, survives him.

Also surviving are his mother, two children Kimberly and Thomas, and a brother, Gerald Musselman of Plymouth.

Services were held at the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville where the Reverend Headley Thweatt of the Main Street Baptist Church in Plymouth officiated. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery, Plymouth.

When Will It Open?

Main Street School

"What will happen at Main Street Elementary if the millage passes," was a question asked Monday night of Northville School Board members by Main Street parent Neil Wasserman.

School board members emphasized that if the November 6 millage request for 2.6 mills is approved, all schools will be reopened.

Currently, Main Street, Silver Springs Elementary and Cooke Middle School are closed by the financial pinch which followed the August millage defeat.

Trustees said that "Just when the school will be opened will be determined after the election."

Several Main Street parents are urging that the school be kept closed until improvements are made. Board members said they wish to bring the school up to par with newer buildings but that a total of $38,000 has been allocated for reopening the building.

Just how much of the improvements to windows, ceilings, walls and carpeting can be done with $38,000 and still cover normal costs of reopening the building must be determined.

Board members emphasized that following a successful millage vote next week, parents of Main Street Elementary will be surveyed to find out their wishes on opening the building.

Should it open immediately, at second semester or next school year with improvements will be asked. Superintendent Raymond Spear commented that through the closings of the schools, "Main Street parents and children have suffered least. They have been transferred to Moraine and Amerman elementary schools and are not experiencing the overcrowded conditions which exist at Meads Mill Middle School and Winchester Elementary."

At Schoolcraft

Students Plan Coffees

With President Ralph Sylvester of Detroit, vice President John O'Neill of Garden City and Treasurer Kevin Anderson of Livonia heading this year's executive board, the Student Senate at Schoolcraft College has announced a number of scheduled events and committee appointments.

A series of campus-wide coffee meetings for students will be held November 4-6, while freshman elections are scheduled for November 15-19. Other planned activities include participation in the Edge City College Game, a simulation experience, and rewriting the Senate constitution and bylaws, as well as revising guidelines for clubs and organizations.

A number of standing committee appointments have been completed. Jeff Stabenau of Northville will chair public relations. His committee includes Nancy Deremo and Joe Horvath of Livonia, and Dawn Withers of Redford. Finance is chaired by Kevin Anderson with Plymouth's Chuck O'Flaherty as an appointed member. John O'Neill is heading Clubs and Organizations assisted by Jeff Spaulding of Plymouth.

Two other persons very much a part of Senate activity are Patrick Newman, counselor for student activities, and Theresa Kero of Garden City, new clerical aide in student government.

According to President Sylvester, the committees help the Senate by making recommendations on all matters which come before that body.

He said he hopes to see more accomplished this year, and would like to have more students get involved.

Richard Lyon, present board member; Glenn Long, present member; Marge Cinader, completing her year as president; Les Bowden, present member; and Ann Roy, elected for three years. A unanimous vote was cast for the new slate at a brief business meeting at the dinner.

At Annual Dinner-Dance

Chamber Elects Directors

Ann Roy, Lee Holland and Michael Preville were elected to three-year terms on the board of the Northville Chamber of Commerce while Aaron Gellerman was named to a two-year term at the annual election last Thursday.

The election was held during a brief business meeting at the annual chamber dinner dance at Meadowbrook Country Club. The new directors were named by unanimous vote with Gellerman to fill the remaining term of Mel Anderson, who resigned for health reasons.

Forty-nine attended the event at which President Marge Cinader presided.

She cited chamber accomplishments of the past year, including the donation of $5,000 for a pedestrian bridge now being completed at the Mill Race Historical Village.

This was given to Northville Historical Society, she said, for the people of the community and to be a "path for future generations."

During the past year the chamber also has assumed a third of the cost of the Silent Observer program, sharing expenses with the city and township.

It sponsored Tuesday shopping trips for senior citizens and an OSHA seminar.

In addition, as annually, it sponsored the Northville Fair. Mrs. Cinader has volunteered to take chairmanship of the fair next year.

In appreciation of her year as first woman president of the chamber and also for serving as fair chairman,

Mrs. Cinader was presented with a pair of diamond earrings.

In turn, Mrs. Cinader presented a personal gift of earrings to Sheryl Comiskey, who heads the office, in appreciation of her assistance and support of chamber projects.

Schoolcraft Plans Climate Study

Schoolcraft College is planning to lease instructional space for its climate systems technology program in the new Manor Industrial Park in Garden City.

Authorization to negotiate a three-year lease for 5,000 square feet of floor space for the technical program was voted by college trustees at a special meeting August 13. The cost has been placed at approximately $12,000 annually. The action is subject to programmatic approval by the State Office of School Organization and Planning.

Climate systems technology has been offered at Schoolcraft since the 1973 fall semester. Providing more permanent facilities has been a problem since its introduction. Originally located in a College-owned house adjacent to the campus, it was hoped to move the program this year to the Wayne County Child Development Center.

Occupancy there by a consortium of Schoolcraft and Wayne State University, however, has been delayed.

The program of study leads to an associate's degree and requires 62 credit hours in refrigeration, heating and air-conditioning. Students gain employable skills and knowledge in the design, application, installation and servicing of the various types of climate systems.

Manor Industrial Park is located on Venoy between Warren and Ford Road in western Garden City. Schoolcraft has two other Garden City facilities. Its center is located at 29205 Florence Street, and the college will be using rooms for evening classes this fall in the Harrison Middle School, 6701 Harrison.

Question Sign for Square

Proposal for a Northville Square shopping center sign to be erected in the municipal parking lot south of Cady Street remains a big question mark.

The proposal originally ran into an ordinance snag, but eventually this problem was resolved.

Now, however, with the original obstacles out of the way Northville Square has modified its sign proposal, thus creating another potential roadblock.

Originally, Northville Square proposed that the lighted sign, to be located along Center Street midway between the Cady Street and southern boundary of the parking lot, carry the name of the shopping center, not the tenants. Now it proposes that the sign also carry the name of Elias Brothers Restaurant.

A spokesman for the Square told councilmen Monday that it was decided to include the restaurant name because Elias Brothers would pay for the $5,000 sign if its name were included.

revised sign it has been suggested that the ordinance be amended.

This proposal has split the council, with Mayor A.M. Allen arguing that special consideration is warranted since Northville Square represents a new concept in downtown merchandising. Other council members, however, contend the ordinance ought not be changed simply to persuade a store to pay for the sign.

To accommodate the Allen suggests that council consider permitting such a sign to include the names of all stores within the Square. He notes that presently all downtown businesses "have their shingles out" except at the Square, and he argues that the parking lot sign naming tenants would be more desirable than a host of signs attached to the Square building which, under the law, is permissible.

Council tabled the sign proposal pending additional consideration by the shopping center management and by city officials.

Jim Copp and wrestling champ

Copp Coaches Dominican Teams

Jim Copp of 21890 Rathlone, a teacher of mathematics and the former head wrestling coach at Lee M. Thurston High School, recently returned to Northville after five weeks of coaching the Dominican national youth and adult wrestling teams in the Dominican Republic.

At the request of the Dominican Secretariat of Sports and the Wrestling Federation, Copp was sent to prepare the top wrestlers in the Dominican Republic from age eight to 15 for the World Youth Wrestling Championship which was hosted in Santo Domingo July 28 through August 3.

His trip was arranged by the Michigan Partners and by the American Chamber of Commerce in Santo Domingo.

The Dominican team placed sixth among the 16 nations participating, winning one gold and one bronze medal in the 13 events.

The United States won the meet points with six gold medals, two silvers and one bronze. Peru and Panama placed second and third respectively.

Highlight of the international event for the Dominican team was the gold medal won by 11-year old Angel Cespedes in the 50-pound weight division.

This was the first gold medal the Dominican Republic has ever won in any international event. Immediately after the awards ceremony the excited young wrestler leaped into the arms of Coach Copp who carried the youngster to his proud parents.

"I was very much impressed with the graciousness of the Dominican people," Copp said. "They have to be among the warmest, most friendly people on earth. I look forward to working with them again in the future."

After the Youth Wrestling Championship ended Copp was asked by the Wrestling Federation to remain with the Dominican Republic team through October, but his commitment at Lee M. Thurston High School required a return to Michigan.

For two of the five weeks Copp was joined in the Dominican Republic by his wife, Carol, and their three daughters, Chris, Laura, and Kathy.

Besides sightseeing and swimming, the family got to know many Dominicans.

"Not being able to speak Spanish was not really as much of a barrier as I had expected," Copp said. "The assistant coach of the Dominican team had a fair command of English and he served as translator during practices."

"During times away from the gymnasium," Copp continued, "I picked up some key words and phrases and improvised with sign language. Somehow I was always able to understand or be understood."

Here's Tips for Safe 'Trick or Treat'

Trick or treaters will be out in force Friday night and Northville Township Police have issued a few reminders for the children and parents.

Hours of trick or treat in the township will be from 5:30 to 8 p.m. and parents are asked to limit their children to these hours. City of Northville

Police remind parents that trick or treat hours are from 5 to 7 p.m. on Friday.

Rules set down by township police for trick or treaters are:

1. Wear Fluorescent costumes. If your costume is not fluorescent, please attach some type of fluorescent tape to it.

2. If any type of a mask is worn be sure it is the type with the large eye openings.

3. Take the mask off when crossing streets so you can see clearly.

4. Take a flashlight along so others can see you clearly.

5. Use the sidewalks as much as possible. If no sidewalks are available, please stay to the side of the road.

6. Always have adult supervision along with you.

7. Stay in groups. Do not go off by yourself.

8. Attend locally sponsored activities.

9. Parents: Check all the treats that have been brought home by the children for any dangerous articles. Also check for wrappers that appear to have been tampered with. If you believe something is wrong with the treat please keep it out of reach of the children and contact us.

In addition to trick or treating, other Halloween activities throughout the area are planned by various groups and township police hope that everyone will have a fun and safe Halloween this year.

Those parents or children who have problems or questions may contact the township police at 459-1700.

Title I Aids Children In School

"All the credit must go to Jane Anderson," Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni commented referring to the success of Northville's Title I program for elementary children with special needs.

Miss Panattoni explained that Mrs. Anderson "did an exceptional job with the $18,603 we received last year." That figure covered Mrs. Anderson's salary, an aide and materials.

A total of 48 children were served by the program. Some of the children participated for only a short time until their reading and math skills improved but 36 started and completed the entire program. An average of one year and three months growth in reading and math was realized.

Twenty children gained one year, five months; five gained one year, four months; seven gained one year, two months; two gained nine months; and two others gained seven months.

Miss Panattoni emphasized that "no student gained less than seven months educationally in the program and no student regressed through the program."

POPCORN AND CIDER—Northville's Fire Department will be giving out free popcorn and cider in front of the fire hall on West Main Street between 5 and 7 p.m. Friday night. Getting in some early sampling of the firemen's traditional

Alcohol Awareness Series Opens Tuesday Evening

First of a series of three lectures on alcohol awareness will be held Tuesday, November 4, at the 35th District Court in the Plymouth City Hall.

The programs are being sponsored jointly by the Northville Jaycees and the 35th District Court.

Topic for Tuesday is the pharmacology and progression of alcohol. Guest speaker will be Dr. Frank Hollingsworth, Ph.D., executive director of Friendship House in Bay City.

Programs begin at 8 p.m. on the second floor of Plymouth City Hall, 201 South Main Street. The public is invited to attend the lectures.

Grant Leave

Request for maternity leave for Mrs. Carol L. VanSoest was granted Monday by the Northville School Board. The leave becomes effective November 7. Mrs. VanSoest is a teacher at Winchester Elementary.

We, the following members of the Amerman School PTA Executive Board, support the school millage and encourage everyone to vote, November 6th.

Holiday Boutique's November 22

By NANCY DINGELDEY

The date is set for one of the best and craft shows in the area designed especially for holiday gift giving. The ever popular Holiday Boutique, sponsored this year by the Wixom Historical Society will be held on November 22 at the V.F.W. Post on Loon Lake Road. Hours for the show will be 10 a.m.-4 p.m. with booths available to anyone who wishes to inquire.

Ten percent of the gross proceeds of the individual sales will go to the Historical Society for their work in the restoration of the Tiffin House and other projects planned by the Society.

Many artists from last year have already booked space with new and delightful ideas perfectly suited to any member on your Christmas list. The Finnish ladies will be returning with their lovely assortment of imported gifts, there will be leather work, Christmas ornaments and decorations plus a multitude of other colorful items.

It's a day in Wixom that should not be missed. The Boutique is a treasure trove of super gifts. For more details and information on the Boutique, call Helen Tillman at 624-5315 or Nancy Dingeldey at 624-3950.

Speaking of the Tiffin House... if you happened to drive down Wixom Road on Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning you probably noticed a huge heap of junk by the side of the road, which by the way, was totally cleared away by Wixom's really great G-men (that's gar-bage men). The house is almost totally cleaned, done last Wednesday afternoon by several hearty females. Another cleaning campaign call-out happened last Sunday afternoon and it's nice to report that the place is starting to shape up. The Society is hoping to get the house in a good semblance of order and winterized before the first flakes fly.

The open house at Fire Station No. 2 last Sunday was a huge and total success with hundreds of Wixom residents pouring out to help initiate the structure. It was easy to see that all the firemen and their wives were extremely proud of the station and along with city clerk Junie Buck worked very hard to insure the success of the afternoon.

On display for the very first time was the brand new rescue truck added to the department's vehicles. Even more super is the fact that the firemen themselves pooled their knowledge and completely built the inside of the truck to meet their needs. Cabinets were designed and built for equipment needed on rescue runs, the floor carpeted and the truck is available to Wixom residents should the need arise.

Some visitors left the open house with large grins as a result of the door prize drawing staged by the department. Lucky Rose Victory had her name drawn for the first and biggest gift... a portable T.V. Mark Hieber, son of Gayle and Gerry Hieber claimed the second prize of a Panasonic AM-FM radio. Winning the battery operated portable radios were Kevin Muns, Pam DuFresne, William Wilkie, Lynne Hull and Michelle Maxwell. And winning a certificate for a super-duper hair cut was lucky Steve Brewer. Maybe he wasn't smiling as much as everybody else because little boys aren't all that delighted with hair cuts.

Other good stuff planned for our enjoyment... the Jaycee sponsored Halloween Dance at the U.A.W. Hall on Wixom Road, Friday, October 31 is the night and hopefully it will prove that not only the little kids will be the ghosts and goblins on this witchy eve. Costumes are the 'in' thing for the dance.

Don Nissen has to be one of the happiest guys in Wixom and rightfully so. Don, who is the owner of the Red Oaks Bar, decided to purchase some of those neat instant lottery tickets he always has on hand... and what do you know... he hit a biggie in that pile. Can you imagine the shock of seeing three $10,000 appearing on one of the little tickets. That would never happen to me in a million years but you can't be just a little happy for the Nissens.

Then there's the little story passed on by one of the Jaycette members. The gals decided to go in on a special charity project with several other groups in the area. The project... help an animal at the Detroit Zoo. The deal is, you write in and tell the zoo you'd like to support an animal's feed bill for the year and then the zoo writes back giving you an animal.

Well, I thought it was a really super idea and a kind of fun one at that. Maybe the zoo would even be nice enough to point out the "adopted" animal, giving a better sense of knowing it was getting bigger and plumper on behalf of your efforts.

Informant Cindy Petersen stopped me very quickly by adding the variety of animal chosen for the Jaycettes... you guessed it... the biggest one they could find... an elephant!

little bit smaller to sort of match up with the coiffers!

Two very important dates coming up in November which concern all of us. The first is Tuesday, November 4... election day in Wixom. We will be electing a mayor and three councilpeople. The second date... Wednesday, November 12... the Walled Lake Consolidated School District millage election. Please... circle the dates and remember to vote. It's one sure fire method of having a say in what goes on.

Wixom Council Pursues Federal Bike Path Funds

Despite the fact there may be no federal funds available for bike paths until next year, Wixom council still appears to be interested in pursuing the idea.

Council met for an informal study session last week and heard from city engineer Larry Pate that Oakland County estimates the cost of bike trails at $26,000 for a four foot lane while recommending that bike trails be at least eight feet wide.

Councilman Robert Dingeldey has been pushing establishment of bike paths and he requested the city engineer to come up with cost estimates. Pate told the council at the informal session that it should plan "on where you think you really want them and we'll give you any sort of cost estimate you want."

Dingeldey suggested the paths could be put on Loon Lake, Beck, Pontiac Trail and Wixom roads ultimately. Other council members suggested going with just Wixom Road and Pontiac Trail.

Pate noted that there is a problem on some roads with acquiring right of way due to the relatively narrow width of right of way which is included by the road bed.

Pate also suggested that the council members look over a book from the Oakland County Road Commission explaining the many facets of bicycle trail planning and construction.

The council, with Melvin Green absent, also discussed with Pate the plan which the city should follow in the future as to storm water drainage in new developments.

"I think we've kind of committed ourselves to retaining water in the city," suggested Mayor Val Vangieson. Council discussed utilization of retention ponds and the aesthetic side of runoff ditches.

Council indicated that it wanted Pate to look at laws and rules used by the city to govern retention basins and runoff and to make suggestions for changes that would improve what the city has on the books.

It was noted that retention of water can be eliminated in the future when the master drain plan, presented to the city by the engineers two years ago, is put into effect. Council members noted that there are some faults with the master drain plan.

Council also got a look at working drawings for addition to the city hall and was told that the engineer would be ready to go out for bids within a month.

Fire Marshal Gives OK To Northville Schools

Rumors seem to spread as fast as fires and now there's one that's spreading which involves the Northville schools and fire officials.

The rumor currently making the rounds is that the Northville schools were found in violation of state fire laws because of their overcrowded condition is false.

Officials at the state fire marshal's office did visit both Silver Springs and Winchester Elementary schools for a recheck on September 9. The completion of both buildings was found to be in order and the visiting fire marshal wrote an approval.

Northville Fire Chief Herman Hartner also has heard the rumor, but he has received no notification from the state fire marshal, who handles the school inspections, about any violations, he told this newspaper.

State fire marshals said they have found no violations in the Northville schools.

"RAINCHECK" POLICY
Everything you buy at Kroger is guaranteed for your total satisfaction regardless of manufacturer. If you are not satisfied, Kroger will replace your item with the same brand or a comparable brand or refund your money. We also guarantee that we will do everything in our power to have ample supplies of all advertised specials on our shelves when you shop for them. If, due to conditions beyond our control, we run out of an advertised special, we will substitute the same item in a comparable brand (when such an item is available) reflecting the same savings or, if you prefer, give you a "RAIN CHECK" which entitles you to the same advertised special at the same price any time within 30 days.
