

ABC of Moving

Its roof gone, its sides weary of age, and looking just a shell of its former greatness, the century old Wash-Oak schoolhouse was welcomed to Northville last week as it joined a growing number of historical buildings taking up residence in the Northville Historical Village. A new roof is to be built and its interior and exterior refurbished under sponsorship by the Northville Mothers Club. The move was a donation of C. L. Hofsess. The school formerly was located on Currie Road in Salem and it served children in both Oakland and Washtenaw counties, hence its name.

Sacred Heart Gets Approval For Center Here

Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center is a giant step closer to becoming the principal tenant of the vacant Wayne County Child Development facility here.

That's because the public works committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners last week approved the Sacred Heart proposal in concept following indication that the Schoolcraft College-Wayne State University consortium is withdrawing its proposal for use of the property.

County Commissioner Mary Dumas said approval of the Sacred Heart plan by the full board is likely to come soon.

Sacred Heart is a non-profit, privately operated facility for the treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics. Presently located in the heart of Detroit, it plans to expand its services by developing its main facility here in Northville Township.

Letters of intent to withdraw the consortium proposal were sent to the county by the presidents of Schoolcraft and Wayne State Formal withdrawal action is expected to be taken at tonight's meeting of the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dumas is predicting that Sacred Heart may begin moving into the facility here even before a contract is formalized "because the county is anxious to get the buildings occupied to prevent deterioration."

"I don't anticipate any problems with local municipalities using portions of the center in conjunction with Sacred Heart," Mrs. Dumas said. "I think the township hall will remain, of course, and that arrangements can be made for use of facilities by your recreation department."

Mrs. Dumas said the Wayne County Intermediate School District also is seeking use of part of the facility for the educational program for handicapped that the Northville school system is undertaking.

Other agencies which asked for space in the consortium plan also are to be considered for inclusion in the Sacred Heart plan, the commissioner said.

Father Vaughn Quinn, director of Sacred Heart, is not as optimistic as is Mrs. Dumas about early occupation of the buildings located on the sprawling site off Sheldon near Five Mile Road. (Most of the buildings have been vacant for more than a year since the Child Development Center was phased out of existence.)

He told The Record on Friday that "a lot of details" must be ironed out before Sacred Heart can contemplate the move. "We don't want to move in there and find out later that we're facing some unexpected maintenance problems," he said.

Father Quinn said he was to meet with the Sacred Heart board of directors today (Wednesday) to begin the arduous task of working out contract details.

Among other things a detailed analysis of renovation work necessary to occupy the buildings must be completed, he suggested.

He indicated also that specific provision for shared use of the facility by other agencies must be completed.

The college consortium's withdrawal from consideration of leasing the property was prompted primarily by economics, a college spokesman said. Neither Wayne State nor Schoolcraft were financially able to develop the center into a college campus as planned.

Expected cutbacks in aid to higher education in the wake of the state's financial crisis hurried the plan's demise.

"There simply is not enough money available to us now or in the foreseeable future to hold out much hope. Cost of reconditioning the buildings to bring them up to state code had become prohibitive."

Also influencing the consortium's withdrawal was the fact that a new state law requires legislative approval of consortium proposals and there was no guarantee that such approval was forthcoming, it was pointed out.

Plan by the consortium called for establishment of a campus on the center property, with interrelated educational programs being offered by Schoolcraft College and Wayne State University leading possibly to a four-year college degree.

Churches Plan Special Services

Special services of Thanksgiving have been scheduled by Northville churches for next Wednesday night, Thanksgiving Eve, including a union service to which the community is invited.

"How lovely is thy dwelling place, O Lord of hosts!" from Psalm 84 will be the Thanksgiving theme of the ecumenical service at 8 p.m. Wednesday at First United Methodist Church of Northville at 777 West Eight Mile Road.

As has become a tradition in recent years, the service will be a joint one with First Presbyterian Church of Northville. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure of the Presbyterian church will present the sermon.

Combined choirs of the two churches will sing with the two newly organized bell ringer, choirs of the Methodist church performing for the first time under the direction of Mrs. Stacey Becker.

The Reverend Guenther Branstner of the host church invites anyone in the community interested to attend the union service.

Bell ringers of the Presbyterian church will be playing at their church services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. this Sunday. An ingathering of canned goods, nuts and fruit will be held this Sunday at the church with children of the church school asked to share their food in this annual project.

Food collected at both services will be used to help provide for inner-city families at Thanksgiving.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church will have a Thanksgiving theme at the 7:30 p.m. mass on Thanksgiving Eve. A special Thanksgiving Day mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. next Thursday.

Parishioners are being asked to bring canned goods to both masses for distribution to the needy.

"America, Praise God," will be the topic for the Thanksgiving Eve communion service at 7:30 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Pastor Charles Boerger has announced.

First Baptist Church of Northville will hold Thanksgiving service at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday. Assistant Pastor Michael Farrell announced that the service will continue the tradition of having the congregation give personal testimonies of thankfulness. A short pastoral message will follow.

A Thanksgiving dinner at 6:30 p.m. this Thursday will open a four-day evangelical series, "Growing with Christ," at Plymouth Wesleyan Church, 42290 Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

Commissioner J. Clyde Cox will speak following the Thursday dinner, at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday.

Commissioner Cox for several years was the divisional commander of the Eastern Michigan Division of the Salvation Army. He later became eastern territorial commander and then was responsible for the central states, which include Michigan.

Pastor David L. Cox announces also that song evangelist will be Howard Cox of Arlington, Illinois, a graduate of Highland Park High and the son of the Commissioner, as is the pastor

Reconsiders Split Taxes

Proposal for split school tax collection is being reconsidered in Northville Township in the wake of a plea from School Superintendent Raymond Spear.

The township board, which previously had unanimously rejected the proposal of the school board, last Thursday heard Spear's appeal for reconsideration and then, after lengthy discussion, asked that the following information be submitted to the board so that it consider the matter in December:

- Letters of commitment from the major financial institutions that they will not raise monthly mortgage payment bills of their Northville customers if split tax collection is instituted here.

- Data concerning the amount of money earned by the school district, through interest, by investing the money it borrows annually.

- Data concerning the amount of money that the school district might earn, through interest, by investing tax dollars that would be collected in the split tax collection process.

Basically, split tax collection means that instead of collecting school taxes once each year, in the winter, the township would collect half of the school taxes in the winter and the other half in the summer.

The school board has asked the township and the city to institute split school tax collections so that it, the school district, can avoid the necessity each year of borrowing money. The school board annually borrows money so that it can pay bills that come due prior to the winter collection of taxes.

City of Novi recently agreed to collect its school taxes on a split basis, which means it will be collecting for that portion of Northville's school district lying in Novi (primarily Connemara and Brookland Farms

AN ELECTION COST survey is being conducted by the local League of Women Voters as part of a state study. Area cost per voter ranges from a low of 54 cents in the City of Northville to $3.07 in the Novi school election, the league reports in its November bulletin.

WOULD-BE PARTICIPANTS in Northville's Bicentennial Fourth of July parade which will be held on Sunday, July 4, are invited to call Harvey Tull, 349-0035, or John Buckland, 349-0773, of the Northville Jaycees who are annual sponsors of the July 4 parade.

PARENT-TEACHER conferences will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. this Thursday at Northville High School. Teachers will be on hand during the three hours to talk to parents without appointments needed. The first high school report cards of the current year were being sent home with students Tuesday.

Recall Petitions Cite Lennox, MacDonald

Petitions seeking the recall of Township Supervisor Betty Lennox and Trustee John MacDonald are being circulated under the sponsorship of the Northville Township Boosters Club.

R. M. Lysinger, president of the organization supporting strong township government, acknowledged Tuesday that the petitions to hold a recall election came about as the result of action by the Boosters club.

"I support the action," Lysinger stated. He said the club has no timetable for filing its petitions, but said a good guess would be that an election could be held "early next year."

The petitions lists seven reasons for recalling the supervisor and six for the trustee.

Both Supervisor Lennox and Trustee MacDonald said distortions and falsehoods are contained in the petition statements.

Both also indicated that the action may prompt counter petitions involving other members of the board who they (Lennox and MacDonald) contend have issued misleading and inaccurate statements to township citizens.

The whole recall issue revolves around the question of annexation to the city of Northville.

Supervisor Lennox and Trustee MacDonald supported annexation to the city. Two other board members not named in the recall petitions, Treasurer Charles Rosenberg and Trustee James Nowka, also supported annexation. Clerk Clarice Sass and Trustees Richard Mitchell and Dr. John Swienkowski opposed annexation to the city.

Annexation was voted down October 14 by a vote of 2,000 to 890.

Reasons given on the petition for recall of Supervisor Lennox are:

1—That she has unnecessarily provoked the community by publicly declaring the Township will not be able to afford to stay in

In Our Town This Weekend

Tivoli Fair, Christmas Walk, Greens Mart on Tap

By JEAN DAY

THIS IS THE WEEKEND to enjoy living in a small town.

Plan to gather the family together and stroll through Christmas-decorated stores from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday as Northville merchants hold annual Christmas open house.

Greet Santa on his arrival at 2 p.m. Sunday on the upper level of Northville Square shopping center.

Pause in the square or at the George Miller sales lot on Main Street and select your own fresh greens for decorating at the Greens Mart of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Treat yourself to a loaf of very tasty pumpkin bread being sold at 75 cents or $1, depending on size, in the parking lot adjacent to Rathert Insurance. It will help the Northville High School marching band return to band camp next summer.

Light "little fires of Christmas" by buying the band boosters luminaria kits of five paper bags, sand and candles for $1. When set aglow after dark, according to instructions, the luminaria makes a bright path to a doorway. A custom that's coming eastward from Mexico and the Southwest, the symbolism is that the candles light the way for the Christ Child.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY start your Christmas shopping at the fourth and biggest Tivoli Fair sponsored by the Northville Historical Society in Northville Square Community Room.

You'll in effect be shopping in 68 different boutiques as well as the society's own country store. As befits a country store the booth will include all manner of calico chickens—casserole covers, doorstops, bun keepers and tea cozies.

This year's Tivoli Fair is attracting artists and craftspeople from many Michigan places—the society even has had a waiting list for spaces. In addition, the society reports, there's an abundance of local Northville talent displaying and selling handcrafted wares.

Twelve handweavers from the Northville Handweavers' Guild will have two booths of handwoven articles, including pillows, wall-hangings, stoles, belts, purses and table decor. President Heather Fee explains that, because fibers are so expensive and weaving is so time-consuming, handwoven articles seem a bit costly; however, she stresses, a handwoven article cared for properly will last many, many years.

Local artisans and their wares will include:

Marie Bonamici, Gene Bilinsky and Barbara Meadows, jewelry;

Elizabeth Etz and Barbara Baluha, hand-painted china;

Mary Beth and Don Baxter, tin and wood crafts;

Gloria and John Teeter, traditional handcrafts, weaving supplies and handspun fibers;

Marcia Græener, pottery;

Moonkin Toys, handcrafted wooden toys;

Carol Noffz, calico articles;

Shirley Smith, dolls and pillows;

Jane Kaake, macrame;

Marge Cinader, shell jewelry and crochet articles;

Gennara Marci, pewter work.

The fair will open at 10 a.m. both days, running until 9 p.m. Friday and until 5 p.m. Saturday. Society members are admitted free with membership cards. Regular admission of 75 cents also gives a chance on a handmade afghan donated by Mrs. E. M. Starkweather.

A MINIATURE Dollhouse of 18th century Federal and Greek Revival architecture with period furnishings will be a scene-stopper on the Christmas Walk. It's in the window of IV Seasons Flowers and Gifts at 149 East Main Street.

Unveiled at a preview showing last Sunday, the nine-room miniature has been entrancing little girls, their mothers and grandmothers all week.

The work of Joanne Luers Hennessy of Livonia, the dollhouse and its furnishings will be on display all during the holiday season. Their creator still doesn't feel she has completed the project and plans to add items. Complementing the scene are tiny costumed dolls that are the work of her sister, Sue Foucher of Farmington. Both dolls and the miniature furniture are on sale at IV Seasons.

Mrs. Hennessy's miniatures now are sold in 10 different shops. They include hand-caned Victorian rockers no bigger than a cup ($36) with thread-thin caning.

In addition to making these, the mother-of-six-children fashioned the pine-and-walnut stained, dollhouse, last summer of popsicle sticks and tongue depressors. It's an elegant home with pillared formal entrance balanced by a pair of Palladian windows. Sunday strollers will view the exterior from the inside of the shop.

THE CHRISTMAS WALK, a tradition of more than a dozen years in downtown Northville, began the Sunday before Thanksgiving as merchants invited shoppers to stop by for a preview of Christmas offerings and to sip punch and cookies.

More and more stores have joined the preview each year with many offering hospitality.

Twenty-eight downtown businesses, including three in Northville Square and others adjacent to Main and Center streets, are among those indicating they will be open this Sunday.

Main Street shops include Lapham's

Men's Shop, Freydl's Men's and Ladies' Wear, Del's Shoes, Brader's Department Store, Summit Gifts, Northville Pharmacy, Long's Fancy Bath Boutique, Blacks Hardware, Noder's Jewelry, Marquis, Needlepoint by Donna and Connie's Stitchery, Little People Shoppe, Paper and Spice and the Old Mill restaurant. As previously mentioned, IV Seasons Flowers and Gifts also will be open.

East on Main Street the Bedspread Place will hold open house.

In Northville Square shops open will include El Cetera, By Chance, Richards Boys and Girls Wear and the Book Mark.

Open on Center Street will be Jones Floral, Schraders Furniture, Green's Creative Home Center and Ely Tru Value Hardware.

On Dunlap Street the Northville Watch and Clock Shop will hold open house.

Open in Mary Alexander Court off the Main Street parking lot will be Spinning, Wheel Fabric Shop and Northville Sporting Goods.

Cady Street shops of Claire Kelly and Nista's Fashions and Things also will be open.

TOWN HALL REVELATION—Dr. Richard E. Straith, who spoke on plastic surgery to Northville Town Hall last Thursday, shows Mrs. Arthur Palarchio, chairman, and Mrs.

Kathy Simpson Speaks Vows Here

Kathy Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Simpson of Midland and formerly of Northville, chose Northville First Presbyterian Church as the setting for her marriage November 1 to Dennis Warlick.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warlick of Riverview, Michigan.

For the double-ring, candlelight service at 7 p.m., the bride wore an ivory Quiana knit gown with re-embroidered lace forming the deep yoke and adorning the sleeves. It was fashioned with an empire waist, and extended into a chapel train. A matching headpiece held her fingertip veil of illusion.

The bridal bouquet was a colonial nosegay.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the service in which the bride was given in marriage by her father. Bud Brown sang "The Wedding Song" and "One Hand, One Heart" accompanied by the guitar.

Rhoda Ginsburg was honor maid. Bridesmaids were the bride's sister-in-law, Kim Simpson, and Cindi Warlick, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore forest green gowns in empire style with white lace accenting the necklines.

Curtis Warlick was best man for his brother. Ushers were Michael Peregor and Douglas Simpson, brother of the bride.

A reception followed at Vladimirs for 150 guests.

After a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains the newlyweds are making their home in Dearborn. The new Mrs. Warlick is a registered nurse employed at Children's Hospital of Michigan. Her husband is laboratory director at Ferro-Tech Agglomeration on Grosse Ile.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS WARLICK

Wedding Date Upcoming

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Nichols, Jr., of 113 High Street announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathryn Jean, to Aubrey Walter Downs.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Walter Downs of Livonia.

They are to be married this Saturday, November 22.

The bride-elect was employed as a nurse at St. Mary Hospital until October. For two years previously she worked at Children's Hospital of Michigan.

A 1968 graduate of Berkley High School, she attended Michigan State University for a year and then Grace Hospital School of Nursing from which she was graduated in 1972.

Her fiancé is self-employed with Downs Moving and Storage Company and previously served in the Peace Corps.

He received his BA and MA degrees in business administration from Eastern Michigan University after graduating from Somerville High School in New Jersey.

Looking Good Longer— Plastic Surgeon Tells How

By JEAN DAY

"People have to look good to compete today," declared Dr. Richard E. Straith, noted Detroit-area plastic surgeon, observing that an increasing number of younger women as well as men are getting face lifts.

Speaking at the second Northville Town Hall lecture of the season at the Plymouth Hilton Inn, Dr. Straith told his audience that "happiness is the name of the game — it (a lift) is not going to solve problems, but if it makes you feel better, that's the way to go."

He was referring at this point to cosmetic surgery, such as removal of eye "bags" that gave one male patient enough confidence to capture a vice president's post in his company.

Dr. Straith stressed that he leaves cosmetic decisions up to his patients, feeling that if they decide it's needed, it is.

In regard to reconstructive surgery for deformities, however, he had strong advice: the sooner the better.

Showing before and after color slides of children with blood tumors and large moles on their faces as well as those with grotesquely shaped noses, Dr. Straith emphasized that much of this surgery can be done when a baby is a week old.

"There's no reason for a youngster going through school with such deformities," he stated.

"Noses," he continued, showing before and after views of humped, elongated and generally oversized ones, "should be done as soon as they have gone beyond the pretty profile stage, usually between 12 and 15 years old, but I have done them as young as eight."

"Just don't wait until the adolescent is 18 or 20," he urged. He gave the same advice for youngsters with buck teeth, showing slides of an operation that uses vertical slits between teeth to correct severe conditions.

In addition to improving the profiles of beauty queens and models whose faces are their living, Dr. Straith and other staff surgeons at Straith Memorial Hospital in Southfield work extensively on accident victims.

At the hospital, founded by his father, a pioneer in plastic surgery, Dr. Straith said many patients are seen who have gone through car windshields or been involved in motorcycle accidents.

In many cases, he pointed out, surgery is necessary to remove scars from stitching done in emergency rooms.

"We don't like sutures," he said, stating that in most cases taping works better and does not leave the wide scars.

There are no guarantees to plastic surgery, he stated candidly, pointing out that "there are complications on every type of plastic surgery, and the problem for the surgeon is getting out without problems later on."

Looking good longer can involve removal of sagging fat under the arms often caused by weight loss (for $1200), a facial "peel" to remove small wrinkles (for $750) or a complete facial lift that pulls up the jawline and removes eye bags (ranging from $1000 to $1200 when done by younger staff surgeons to $1900 by the speaker.)

Dr. Straith emphasized that facial lift fees depend upon what is needed with lids, cheeks, jaws and chins priced separately.

Most facial operations, he said, require a hospital stay of four to five days, sometimes six if there are bleeding complications.

The question of how painful such an operation is was answered by Mrs. John H. Ganschow, who attended the lecture, and who had had her second "lift" from Dr. Straith four months before.

"There's discomfort, but it's really not painful," she stated, adding that the plus is

"the wonderful feeling you get after when you look in a mirror."

Mrs. Ganschow declined to tell her age, but claimed, "I'm a lot older than I look."

Mentioning that he was seeing more women in their forties wanting facial lifts, rather than those who formerly were in their mid-fifties, Dr. Straith said that breast surgery also has been getting more popular lately.

He showed slides illustrating incisions made under the breast to enlarge with implants, "but not with silicone injections — don't ever do that."

A "keyhole" cut, he illustrated, is used to raise deeply sagging breasts.

Abdominal surgery, he continued, "can be very satisfactory where indicated although we don't do it too often." He showed slides of operations on severely distended abdomens.

Thighs, too, he added, can be lifted.

As Dr. Straith told a member of the audience at the conclusion of his talk, "Everything falls, Honey!"

But, if you choose, you can have it "lifted," at least for a while

Kuzilas Feted by Family

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary last weekend were two of Northville's active senior citizens, John and Mary Kuzila of 18487 Jamestown Circle in King's Mill.

Their five children feted them at a reception for about 150 guests at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth Saturday. The couple was married 50 years ago the day before, November 14, 1925, in Grassflat, Pennsylvania, in Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

They repeated their nuptial vows in a 5 p.m. mass at Our Lady of Victory Church with Father Robert Humenay, their grandnephew from Erie, Pennsylvania, serving as the celebrant. Reverend Gerard Hadad bestowed the Papal blessing.

The Kuzilas have been Michigan residents in the Detroit area for 48 years.

Since moving to Northville they have been active in the Northville Senior Citizens Club and the Plymouth chapter, AARP, as well as the Southeastern Michigan Traveling Senior Citizens with whom they traveled on an outing to Lake Superior this fall.

Mrs. Kuzila likes to crochet while her husband still golfs and bowls. He is a member of the Monaghan Knights of Columbus.

He has been associated with the Ward Baking Company, Schmidt Brewing Company, Jim O'Donnell Distributing Company and Northwest Distributors.

Their children are Michael J. of Detroit, John E. of Utica, Ronald J. of St. Clair Shores, Mrs. Margaret Smith of Ottawa, Illinois and Mrs. Nancy Savage of Monroe. There are 15 grandchildren.

GOP Eyes Murphy Appointment

A vote tomorrow (Thursday) by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners will determine if Dennis Murphy of Novi is appointed to replace Lew Coy or if residents of Oakland County must foot a $15,000 to $25,000 bill for a special election.

As reported in this newspaper two weeks ago, Murphy, an unsuccessful candidate for Novi City Council, was among early names submitted as candidates for the board seat formerly held by Coy. Coy resigned October 23 for personal reasons and to begin work as a court official in the 52nd District Court of Judge Martin Boyle.

A successor must be chosen by November 22 by a simple majority of the board or a special election must be held. Among the areas represented in the 24th District are Novi, Wixom, South Lyon, Lyon Township, Farmington Hills, Walled Lake, and the Oakland County portion of Northville. Based upon confirmed reports, the majority Republican caucus met in closed session last Thursday and all of the remaining 14 Republicans, except for Birmingham commissioner Mary Dearborn, favored appointing Murphy to fill the post.

If Mrs. Dearborn votes against the appointment tomorrow, and all 12 Democrats also oppose the nomination, Murphy's appointment would be defeated 13-13.

"I'm opposed to not holding an election," Mrs. Dearborn told this newspaper. "I have deep feelings for allowing people to vote for their representative."

Mrs. Dearborn insisted that the Republicans had not researched out Murphy's background. "While Mr. Murphy may work out well, he hasn't been in the community long and doesn't have a proven record."

She added that the Republicans had not seriously considered anyone else and that at one party caucus she had a name to put into nomination but when she arrived, the Republicans had already decided to back Murphy.

Because of her stand against the appointment of Murphy, Mrs. Dearborn said that she has been threatened in various ways by other Republicans. "The main one (threat) is that if I don't do it (vote for Murphy), I can expect some opposition in the primary."

Lillian Moffitt, Republican caucus leader insisted that there have been no open threats against Mrs. Dearborn. "I have no knowledge of anything like this. It was not discussed in caucus."

Mrs. Moffitt conceded that individuals could have made such statements to Mrs. Dearborn outside of the caucus meeting.

The Republican caucus leader insisted that candidates had been examined and that Murphy turned out to be the best qualified. She pointed out that he has a good financial background, knows government and his community.

Mrs. Moffitt said that she and the Republicans have no qualms about appointing a successor rather than going to an election.

"Historically the vacancies have been filled by appointment," she said. "With a special election, there is the problem of the additional cost of $15,000 to $20,000. Most municipalities have a bare bones budget. Is it right to put the burden on local government and the people?"

She noted that a low turnout would be expected and that if there is an election, the process (including a special primary and special general election) could mean a successor would not be sworn in until April 1, thus leaving the residents of the 24th District without a representative for almost half a year. That person would then face another primary in August and election in November as the term is up at the end of 1976.

While the Republicans are hoping for at least one Democrat to cross party lines to get Murphy appointed, Bernard Lennon, leader of the board's Democratic caucus, said he does not expect an appointment to be made — either Republican or Democrat.

He conceded that if the Republicans are unable to appoint Murphy, the Democrats have some candidates they will nominate. "There are a couple of people who have expressed interest," said Lennon.

But Lennon also said he would not be opposed to an election.

"I'm not going to be the one to say the people shouldn't be allowed to elect a commissioner who will spend $60 million to save $25,000," stated Lennon.

Lennon added he expects no appointment to be made tomorrow partially because he expects at least one Republican to be out of town and other board members may be deer hunting. He said there has been no conscious attempt on the part of the Democrats to have all members present because of the expected vote to fill Coy's seat.

According to Howard Altman, Director of Elections, cost of a special election would be spread through taxes over all of Oakland County. The primary and special elections could be held 90 days or sooner following board failure to choose a successor to Coy.

While Lennon would not reveal what Democrats might be nominated for office, Republicans with their names in consideration besides Murphy are Herbert and Elsa Harms and Wixom councilman Fred Morehead.

Murphy was an unsuccessful candidate for Novi Council in the November 4 election. Age 40, he is vice-president of public funds for Bank of the Commonwealth and lives at 41711 Borchart Drive in Novi. He has been a resident of the city three years.

READY FOR ACTION—Six earthmovers form a formidable line of machinery after a day's work at the Dayton-Hudson Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi at 12 Mile and Novi roads. Latest word from Dayton-Hudson officials is that the 130 store center will hold its official groundbreaking ceremony in mid December. Dayton-Hudson has been involved in site preparation for the last few months. Main stores to be located at the shopping center, which is scheduled to open in mid 1977, include Sears, Hudsons, and Penneys.

Court Orders

Center Rezoning

Circuit Court Judge James Thorburn last week ruled against Novi in the Town Center lawsuit seeking rezoning for a shopping center to be constructed at the corner of Ten Mile and Haggerty roads.

According to Novi City Attorney David Fried, Judge Thorburn ruled last Wednesday that the statute and ordinance permitting petitions against rezonings was ambiguous and vague as it relates to this parcel of property and ordered the city clerk to publish the ordinance for rezoning.

The lawsuit regarded a ruling by Fried in April that petitions submitted opposing a shopping center at the corner of Ten Mile and Haggerty required a five-sevenths council vote for approval. While the council voted 4-3 in favor of the rezonings for the shopping center, the motion failed.

Purpose of the rezoning request last December, which included several proposed zoning changes, was to establish a name brand neighborhood shopping center and to bring in small industrial users. Multiple family dwellings were to be used as buffer zones between the center and the nearby Old Orchard condominiums.

The council and planning board at that time received a petition from 152 homeowners representing 78 percent of Old Orchard residents opposing the rezoning request.

Royal Development Company (Town Center) replied to the resident's points with proposals attempting to solve the problems cited but the city council consequently in public session turned down the proposed settlements after meeting in an executive session.

The seven month lawsuit followed in which Town Center questioned whether the petitioners could truly be considered as being opposite the Town Center property, as required under city ordinance.

According to Fried, with the decision by Judge Thorburn, the council must now decide whether to allow the rezonings to stand or whether to expend the necessary funds to take the battle to the state Court of Appeals.

A & P to Open On March 1

Opening date for Novi's first full-fledged supermarket, A&P WEO has been set for about March 1, according to Dan Arnold of Arnold Associates, exclusive leasing agents for the Novi Commons Shopping Center.

Actual work on the center, which will encompass 100,600 square feet, began approximately in March of this year. The center is located on the northwest corner of 10 Mile and Meadowbrook Roads.

Drops Murder Charge

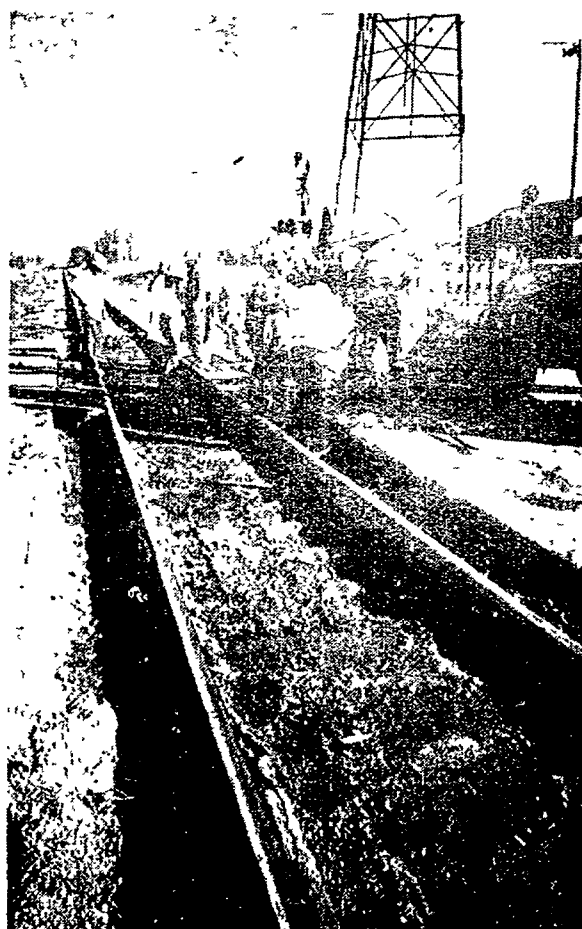

Murder charges lodged against a Wixom man in the death of his brother were dropped last Tuesday by 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle.

Charged with murdering his brother October 22 had been Terence Milhollan, 20, of 46998 Twelve Mile Road. The dead man was identified as Timothy Milhollan, 25, of the same address.

According to police reports, the death of the elder brother occurred between the time the brothers had left Wolverine Lounge at 2:30 a.m. and when they arrived home. Timothy was apparently struck by a blow that caused the death. Judge Boyle said after the case was dismissed that, "There was not sufficient evidence to prove a crime had been committed. He (medical examiner Dr. John Burton) said it could have been done by any number of things."

Burton's report determined that a blow to the left side of the head in the upper area of the left ear caused the death. The report said the blow could have caused a loss of consciousness which would have caused the breathing to stop. Boyle said after the exam that the blow could have been accidental.

SPURLINE RENOVATION—Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad workmen dig out the railroad crossing on South Wixom Road in Wixom just north of the Ford plant. South Wixom Road was expected to be closed to through traffic this week from Monday to Thursday.

South Wixom Road Closes

C & O Smooths Crossing

After months of complaints over the condition of the railroad crossings in Wixom, residents this week are finding a portion of South Wixom road closed due to renovation of the Lincoln spurline crossing.

Detouring of traffic on South Wixom Road was scheduled to begin Monday and end Thursday. The detour route uses West Road, Beck Road and Pontiac Trail.

"The City of Wixom has been plagued with deteriorating crossings for a number of years," said Assistant to the Mayor Bernard VanOsdale. "At long last a pre-cast cement crossing will be installed on the Lincoln spur line on South Wixom Road."

The special nature of the pre-cast crossing, which eliminates spikes which loosen with time, also requires that the entire roadway be closed due to the one piece construction of the rails. The same type construction was used in Northville on the Seven Mile Road crossing and Seven Mile was also blocked off for several days. VanOsdale said he inspected that crossing.

Federal funding is being used by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to pay for the work. Receipt of those funds has reportedly been the holdup in the work on the crossing.

Wixom Police Department is making a special effort to help alleviate any traffic problems at the Wixom Ford Plant on South Wixom Road that may be caused by the closing of the road. At peak rush hour periods — 4:30 p.m. - 5 p.m. — as one shift leaves and the other arrives, traffic reportedly backs up on northbound Wixom Road turning left into the Ford plant. At times, the back-up goes down to the westbound I-96 off ramp as employees who live in Detroit flock to the Ford Plant.

Ford security people also will be strategically located to help alleviate any added traffic problems.

While the spur line track is being renovated now, work on the Chesapeake and Ohio tracks which run through the center of downtown Wixom will not come at least until the spring, according to VanOsdale.

While the crossing was worked on last year, the new railroad work will be in conjunction with an overall renovation of the intersection, according to VanOsdale.

Holiday Services Set

Two area churches have special services scheduled for Thanksgiving.

In Novi, the Episcopal Church of the Holy Cross, 46200 10 Mile Road will hold a Thanksgiving service at 10 a.m. Thursday according to Father Leslie Harding.

In Wixom, First Baptist of Wixom, 620 North Wixom Road will hold a potluck Harvest Home Supper which will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday. Everyone is welcome and people attending are asked to bring two dishes, one a meat dish and the second a vegetable or dessert dish. Beverage is provided. At 7:30 p.m., following the dinner, a Thanksgiving praise service will be held at which testimonies will be given.

The Church of the Holy Family Catholic Church in Novi is encouraging members to attend services at the Northville Catholic Church. For a complete listing of Northville services, see Record, 1.

Sorry Folks—

They're Not Bike Paths

In case you've been wondering, the striping that's going on along Grand River from the C&O overpass west doesn't mean the county is developing bike paths.

What it does mean, according to a spokesman for the Oakland County Road Department, is that the three-lane highway is being changed to a two-lane road as is now required by Michigan highway specifications.

The state is attempting to eliminate all three-lane roads in Michigan, primarily because of the traffic hazards they create.

Because the three-lane portion of Grand River is about 30 feet wide, creation of two 12-foot lanes leaves a couple feet of roadway on either side of the road. "People naturally conclude that we are re-striping the road to create bike paths at the side of the road," a spokesman explained. "Bikers probably will use the edge of the road but this wasn't the reason for the change."

The road department is striping the outside edges of the two lanes to discourage motorists from using the extra portion for passing.

At approaches to intersections, a third, middle lane will remain for turning purposes only.

Re-striping of Grand River will extend to the western boundary of the county, and probably will be continued on by Livingston County's road department, this newspaper was told.

Still Time to Nominate

Novi's Jaycettes have extended deadline for nominations for the annual "Woman of the Year" award from November 8 to November 30.

There is no age limit but the nominee must be a resident or employed in Novi. Quality of the nominee's actions, not quantity will be used as a basis for decision by the judges.

Nominating forms can be obtained by calling Marilyn Nielson, 348-1297.

Cheerleaders Spur Lions

The eight Novi Wildcat varsity cheerleaders last Sunday cheered the Detroit Lions on to victory before a crowd of approximately 75,000.

According to sponsor Gayle Taylor, Novi High School had one of four high school cheerleading squads across the state chosen to cheer at the Lions, Green Bay Packers game. They were chosen to appear by Harold Arnoldi, director of entertainment for the Lions following a spring application submitted by the cheerleaders.

The Novi cheerleaders used mounts and cheers adapted to the Detroit Lions, according to Mrs. Taylor.

GO HURONS—Thomas Karch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Karch of 44815 Eleven Mile Rd., is a tenor saxophone player for the 1975-76 Eastern Michigan University marching band. Thomas is a junior, majoring in music education. The EMU marching band performs at all Eastern Michigan home football games.

News Around Northville

BPW to Hear Aide

"Oh, Yes, You Can!" is the title of a talk declaring that women can be more active politically to be heard by Northville Business and Professional Women's Club at its dinner meeting Monday.

The business meeting and program will follow dinner at 6:30 p.m. at Hillside Inn with President Virginia Plunkett presiding.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Lurena Miller, district assistant to Congressman Marvin Esch. Mrs. Miller, who has worked for Esch since 1966, is a lifetime resident of South Lyon and has been active in local affairs in that community.

The program is sponsored by the BPW committee on legislation with Dr. Carol Geake, chairman.

'Herbs' Club Topic

"Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Herbs But Were Afraid to Ask" will be discussed by Mary Gerathy at the meeting of Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. this Friday in Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Gerathy has become known nationally as the "herb lady" through her lectures all over the United States. She is a member of the Herb Society national board and a 23-year member of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

She is bringing herbs to illustrate her talk as she explains how to grow, use and decorate with herbs.

She will be introduced by Mrs. Shirley Davison, program chairman for the day.

Baseline Questers will hold their annual Christmas craft-making program at 10 a.m. this Thursday at the home of Mrs. Leonard Klein, 18450 Fermanagh Court.

Northville Questers were cited at the state meeting at Bay Valley Inn last month for their project of writing a history of the Northville community. Participating have been Silver Springs, Baseline, Novi VI and the now-disbanded Meads Mill chapters.

AARP to Elect

Questers Meet

Silver Springs Questers are meeting at 12:30 p.m. today (Wednesday) at the Seven Mile Road home of Mrs. Richard Foy.

The hostess will present a study paper covering the history of Christmas customs dating from antiquity to the 18th century as her Bicentennial project.

There also will be a demonstration on making wax figurines used for angels and creche scenes

Election of officers and directors for 1976 will highlight the November meeting of the Plymouth-Northville Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons, which will open with sewing and crafts at 10 a.m. Wednesday, November 26, at Plymouth Presbyterian Church.

Members are asked to bring their own coffee cups and a sack lunch for noon. A sing-along is planned for 12:45 p.m. with business meeting and election at 1 p.m.

Honor Parents at Party

An open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward Tromans, 420 Morgan Circle, honored her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Williams of Detroit, on their 50th wedding anniversary November 9.

A cake highlighted the reception for about 130 guests.

The couple had married in Detroit on that date after Mrs. Williams came from Cornwall, England to be his bride. Her husband had come to this country in 1923 and then sent for her.

They also have a son, Richard, in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and eight grandchildren.

Two granddaughters, Kim and Terri, assisted their parents at the reception. The Tromans' third daughter, Leslie, was married in England last summer and is living in Cornwall.

Tell Births of Lisa, Jolie

Announcement of the birth of a daughter, Lisa Anne, November 14 is made by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Psenka, Jr., of Birmingham. Mrs. Psenka is the former Alice Mansfield of Novi.

Their daughter was born at Beaumont Hospital and weighed eight pounds, ten ounces. She joins a little brother, Jonathan, 2, at home.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Psenka of Bloomfield Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Mansfield of Novi. The baby also has a great-grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Niemi of Michigami, and a great-grandfather, John W. Carter of Melvindale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ziegler of 24275 Hampton Hill Road, Novi, announce the birth of their daughter, Jolie Valentine, November 9 at Providence Hospital. She weighed eight pounds, eight ounces.

The baby has two brothers, David and John, and a sister, Christine.

Lois & Howard Green

One of the most important arts in decor is the art of illusion — creating a desired effect using imagination and inventiveness. And most helpful in this, is the use of mirrors. Mirrors, strategically placed, can add depth and breadth to a room, reflect a beautiful painting or work of art, and dress up an area which might otherwise look bare. In the small vestibule, a mirror used over a wall shelf can offer a last-minute place to primp before going out, or just add a dash of charm where a heavier piece of furniture might prove overpowering. The magician uses mirrors in his bag of tricks, so you be just as ingenious!

FATEFUL FINISH—Dracula, played by Ron Jennings, meets his doom as he is discovered by Harker, played by Doug Webster, who drives a stake through the vampire's heart. Rob Buttery, who plays the part of Von Helsing, looks on as Harker does the dirty work. Lucy, as played by Lea Ann McElroy, holds the candelabra in the background.

Northville High School students will give four performances of the play "Dracula" beginning at 8:00 p.m. November 19, 21, and 22, with a 2:00 p.m. Saturday matinee. Tickets will be two dollars for students and $2.25 for adults.

Four Performances Set

'Dracula' Opens Tonight at NHS

Four performances of "Dracula", the Northville High School fall play, will begin tonight at 8 p.m.

Performances will also be given Friday and Saturday at the same time with a 2 p.m. matinee also scheduled for Saturday.

Tickets will be two dollars for students and $2.25 for adults. Ticket reservations may be made by calling the high school or at the high school ticket office.

Set in Transylvania in the early 1900's, the plot revolves around the mysterious Count Dracula.

Lucy Seward, daughter of the physician in charge of a sanatorium near London, is mysteriously anemic. Doctor Van Helsing, a specialist in obscure diseases, suspects a vampire which, according to legend, is an ugly soul, grave-bound by day and roaming the earth at night.

Earthly life of the vampire is sustained by sucking the blood of innocent people.

Instituting a search, Van Helsing uncovers Count Dracula as such a vampire and, finding the grave, drives a stake through the heart of the corpse from which he comes thus ending the vampire's existence.

The cast of nine consists of: Dracula, Senior Ron Jennings; Lucy, Junior Lea Ann McElroy; Professor Van Helsing, Senior Rob Buttery; Dr. Seward, Sophomore Joan Valo; Harker, Senior Doug Webster; Renfield, to be shared by Senior Gordie Rooker and Junior Pete Daniels; the Attendant Butterworth, Senior Al Bilinski; and the Maid, Sophomore Amy Vargo.

Rehearsals are Monday through Friday from 6:00 to 9 p.m. A few Saturday rehearsals closer to the opening also are planned. Assistant Directors Jan Kalota and Debbie Drewitz are aiding Director Kurt Kinde while preparing for the November 19 opening.

Crews are busy backstage under the supervision of the following chairpersons: Dave Penrod, set construction; Lisa Ward, lights; Karen Kennedy, tickets; Eric Horner, properties; Bill Hartmann and Dave Iverson, sound; Lisa Ward, publicity; Patty Adams, make-up; Kathy Herald and Michele Lafferty, costumes.

Kinde has announced a new program of "Sponsorship" to begin with the "Dracula" play. The term "sponsor" will apply to any person who donates $10 to the Northville High School Drama Club. The sponsor will then receive two complimentary tickets and his or her name will appear in the program.

Businesses may also become sponsors by making a donation of $15, explained Kinde. Those interested in becoming a sponsor may do so by calling the high school or by contacting Kinde or Ward.

Lake Voters Deny Millage Requests

Voters in the Walled Lake School District last Wednesday soundly defeated a request for renewal of 10 mills and increase of three mills for operating tax levy, 2,101 to 1,371.

Only 3,472 of the school district's 19,000 voters, about 18 percent of the registered voters, turned out for the election. In precinct 4, which includes almost all Wixom residents, the millage fell 206 to 102. In precinct one, which includes voters in 6½ square miles of Novi, as well as Walled Lake and Farmington residents, the millage was defeated 358 to 174.

The 10 mill renewal comes from a four mill levy renewed in 1971 and a six mill renewal in 1974 while the additional three mills was said by the administration to be necessary to continue existing programs.

The $5.7 million would have represented 34 percent of the school district's budget.

"I had a feeling it was a hard time to try and pass the millage at a time like this," said Assistant Superintendent Rolfe Langerman.

"The board will probably call a meeting in the future and sit down and decide what approach to take" to solve the millage problem, he added. The board will probably be faced with coming back to the voters for another attempt. "I don't foresee the board coming back until after the holidays," stated Langerman. He indicated he could give no idea of what the board might request in its second attempt.

"If they were to lose everything, it would be a severe curtailment of some kind," suggested Langerman. "Most of our budget is in instruction. Around 78 percent is for salaries of all personnel. That leaves 22 percent for non-salaried things. When you're talking about losing 34 percent, it's a sizable amount."

The next school board meeting is planned for Monday, December 8.

FIRST OF SEVERAL—Two more and perhaps three of the "Welcome to Downtown Northville" signs, such as this one at the southwest corner of Main and Griswold, are to be erected in the city, it was announced this week by the Northville Beautification Commission. A project of the commission, the signs will be erected at the intersection of Eight Mile and Randolph streets and at the high school corner, Center and Eight Mile by February. Another of the signs, made and installed by Green Ridge Nursery, may be located at Seven Mile and South Main. Members of the commission who inspected the Griswold-Main sign this week are (l to r) Ruth Burkman, Ann Brueck, Thelma Vernon, Milo Hunt, and Chairman Paul Vernon.

U.S. Army Reserve School in Livonia; Lt. Col. Donald "Digger" Odell, former prisoner of war in Vietnam and one of the Air Force's most celebrated officers; and SFC Robert Sparks, of the Army Recruiting Station in Plymouth. Lt. Col. Odell presented a blanket to the winner of a race named in his honor, and the other guests all took part in special activities and presentations in the winners' circle for races named in honor of their services as the track sought to pay tribute to the often forgotten veterans on this Veterans' Day in 1975. Harness racing continues nightly throughout the winter at Northville Downs. Post time each night is 8:15 p.m.

Combines Poetry Writing With Skydiving, Fencing

P.F. Lazor is an expert skydiver; he is an artist, practices fencing regularly, is an inventor, a designer. But mostly, he writes poetry.

And with the sale of his first collection of works, called Unsung Memories, he has become a book publisher as well.

A long-time resident of Salem who graduated from South Lyon High School in 1972, he created a firm, Memorial Publishing, to put out the book now on sale in most area book stores.

The 95-page hard cover book sells for $4.95.

Unsung Memories is a collection of sensitive poetry about love and nature. It is an emotional look backward at the forces that have moved the author in his 21 years.

He speaks of childhood —

"We ran like sparkling rivers - past our yards into new faces . . ."

Of youth —

"In my youth - standing in the mirror - of prophecy - I can wrinkle the features - of old men - wearily walking across due time - into the presence of my face . . ."

Of himself —

"I may be just a drop of life - splashed against the shore of eternity . . ."

Of clouds —

"Michigan has purple mountains - if you look thru a special evening - to the west - while the sun - is kissing the clouds goodbye . . ."

Of the seasons —

"When autumn came - I stayed awake - on the last bed of color - to watch the dawn of winter . . ."

His book contains songs:

"Clear sunny morning - must carry me away - from those games I couldn't play - They were real only thru yesterday - And all the sky seems to say - Is now it's a new day."

His book contains an introduction —

"I would trade in two or three best poems - for the oddest clothes and a life worth of gold - but the steps to my poetry inside, not for - a castle of diamond or the wisdom of the old . . ."

LOCAL POET P. F. LAZOR

It speaks of wisdom —

"For life the wage is an older age . . ."

And of optimism —

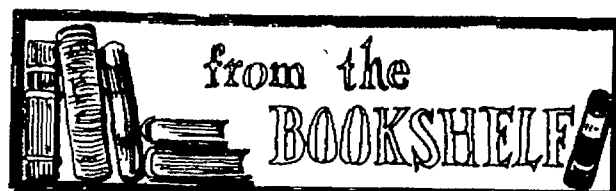

"And I heard the wind today, say - keep to the path - you're taking - desires destination will be breaking - your life has just begun . . ."

Lazor is working now on his first record album, base titled "My Story". The music and lyrics, some of which appear in his book, were basically finished two years ago. He expects the album to be ready for production or release soon after his moving to California in January.

Memorial Publishing also is preparing photo posters of his written quotations.

In addition he is compiling another book of poems, to come out in paperback form, and is sub-authoring a book by an Ann Arbor resident.

Besides his writing and publishing, Lazor also is busy designing clothing and business logos.

IN NOVI ADULT READING

"The Raider," Jesse Hill Ford; A beautiful novel set in West Tennessee before and during the Civil War. It was possible in the 1830's for a man to stake out his own domain and, with the help of the Chickasaws and his own strength and resourcefulness, he could become the leader of a frontier community. But after his plantation prospered, the Civil War would obliterate everything he had worked for. Elias McCutcheon was such a man and "The Raider" tells his story.

"Valley Forge," MacKinlay Kantor; Author brings the bitterest days of the Revolution to life in this novel. He involves the reader with events through vivid accounts of people who made them — the apprentice lad who dumped tea in Boston Harbor, the coward who deserted the Continental Army and joined the Redcoats and the sons of trappers and farmers, some too young to fight and some too old.

"Terms of Endearment," Larry McMurtry; At the center of this novel is Aurora Greenway, a charming and demanding New Englander transplanted to Texas. Around her are her daughter, Emma, her maid, Rosie, and her devoted string of suitors. The book is written by the author of "The Last Picture Show" and "All My Friends are Going To Be Strangers."

"Screwball," Carole Lombard; The life of Carole Lombard. The transition period from silents to talkies is the background for Carole Lombard's rise to stardom. Her career is vividly created as is her personal life. This is the complete biography of a hometown girl who became one of the greatest stars of Hollywood's triumphant age.

"Auld Acquaintance," Guy Lombardo; For over 50 years, Guy Lombardo and the Royal Canadians have been playing "the sweetest music this side of heaven" to ever-faithful audiences. This is the story of the man behind that music and the band that has become an American tradition.

IN NORTHVILLE ADULT FICTION

"Catch the Saint," Leslie Charteris; Two stories in which the Saint tracks down an art swindle and collars a crime lord.

ADULT NON-FICTION

"Barron's How to Prepare for the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business," Eugene C. Jaffee; Part of Barron's Educational Series.

"Medical School Admission: A Systematic Guide," James S. Nelson; Provides practical advice to help you gain admission to the medical school of your choice.

"Washington Irving: As Others Saw Him," George William Sanderlin; Biography of one of America's earliest great literary figures with selections from his works and a collection of opinions written by critics of his day and since.

JUVENILE FICTION

"The Wizard in the Tree," Lloyd Chudley Alexander; Mallory's encounter with the wizard begins a chain of events that change the lives of the villagers dominated by a suspicious squire.

"How the Witch Got Alf," Cora Annett; Alf, the donkey, takes drastic measures to find out that he is loved as much as the old folks' other animals.

"The Ghost Belonged to Me," Richard Peck; In 1913 in Missouri, a quartet of characters share adventures from exploding steamboats to "exorcizing" a ghost.

"The Edge of Next Year," Mary Slattery Stolz; An Ursula Nordstrom book. When his mother is killed in a car accident, a 13-year-old boy tries to cope with his grief and sense of loss.

"Truth and Consequences," Miriam Burt Young; A sixth grade girl almost ruins her relationship with her best friend until she learns to temper her honesty with a little tact.

JUVENILE PICTURE BOOKS

"My Brown Bag Book," June York Behrens; Brief text and color photographs suggest ways to turn a paper bag into a house, game, mask, snowman, purse, puppet and other things.

"I'm Moving," Martha Whitmore Hickman; William explains what he has brought with him and what he had to leave behind when his family moved to a new town.

"The Bear's Bicycle," Emilie Warren McLeod; An Atlantic Monthly Press book. A bear describes his afternoon bicycle ride.

"Mandy's Grandmother," Liesel Moak Skarpen; At first meeting, Mandy and her grandmother are a disappointment to each other as neither is quite what the other expected.

"Squirrels," Brian Wildsmith; Text and watercolor illustrations describe the characteristics and habits of squirrels throughout the year.

"The Squire's Bride," P.C. Asbjornsen; A Norwegian folk tale. The old widower squire is determined to marry the farmer's daughter who is equally determined he will not.

"A Christmas Party," Carolyn Sherwin Bailey; One Christmas Eve, the forest gives a party for the animals.

"Black Gold: The Story of Oil," William E. Butterworth; Traces the history of oil from its use by ancient Sumerians through the present energy crisis, with emphasis on the men who fought for control of the oil industry.

"Over the River and through the Wood," Lydia Maria Child; Pictures illustrate the traditional Thanksgiving song.

"Be A Winner in Tennis," Charles Ira Coombs; An introduction to the history, equipment, rules and skills of tennis.

Library Friends

Meet Thursday

The Friends of the Northville Public Library will meet Thursday, November 20 at 8 p.m. in the library. Anyone interested in joining the Friends organization is invited to attend, and current members are urged to be there if possible.

The library is located on the lower level of Northville Square.

WINTER-READY—The new drinking fountain in the municipal parking lot on West Main Street across from Northville Square is bundled in burlap for winter. Ted Mapes, assistant director of the city Department of Public Works, reports the fountain's water line has been closed off to prevent frost damage.

Senior Films Friday

The life of Eleanor Roosevelt and the American people during World War II will be the subjects of two films to be shown at the Senior Citizens program on Friday, November 21, at the Northville Public Library.

The program, which is part of a regular monthly series sponsored by the Northville Public Library, begins at 10 a.m. and runs for about an hour and a half.

Following the films, there will be a short discussion and refreshments will be served. There is no charge for admission.

Anyone interested in attending is asked to register at the library or by calling 349-3020.

Novi, Pink

Reach Terms

On Ditches

An agreement with Novi developer Dave Pink over a solution to problems with the ditches in Willowbrook II subdivision has been reached.

According to City Manager Ed Kriewall, a meeting with Pink last week yielded an agreement to have Pink buy necessary materials while the city would provide the labor needed. The plan is for a four inch plastic corrugated pipe to be located in pea gravel under topsoil in all of the Dave Pink ditches. All basement sump pumps would be connected into the pipe, thus relieving surface runoff, where the problem of standing water has occurred.

The city council two weeks ago agreed to provide city funds of up to $5,000 for the cost of the project if Pink would agree to provide 50 percent of the total cost.

While the project was estimated to cost between $8,000 and $12,000, Kriewall said that cost will actually be lower than anticipated, at $5,000 to $6,000.

"We're going to propose to him (Pink) that the 50 percent level be culminated in sod," said Kriewall, explaining that the city and Pink would each end up paying 50 percent of the total project cost by splitting the sod cost where necessary.

According to Kriewall, work on the ditches was supposed to begin Monday of this week and should be completed by the middle of next week.

"We have some similar installations in other subdivisions such as Orchard Hills," said the city manager.

'Hippie Culture Is As Bad As Structured Religion'

A book of short pieces of prose and poetry by a young Northville man writing under the pseudonym, Prometheus, has been published by Vantage Press and is now available in area book stores.

Title "Socrates Meets Jesus and Other Short Pieces of Prose and Poetry," the 72-page book reflects the ideas, philosophies and observations of the author at a time when shortly after graduation from Michigan State University he traveled to California and was swept up in the Hippie movement in the late 1960's.

Since then James Hart, a 1962 graduate of Northville High School, has rejoined the "establishment" but he retains much of his former criticism of a society that, in his opinion, is marred by hypocrisy.

Nevertheless, Hart also is super-critical of the Hippie culture, which he insists "is just as bad" as formally structured religion that he attacks satirically in this, his first published work.

"Like the Hippies I met and lived with in California, the people who get their kicks by hanging out on Beer Hill are religious freaks who fool no one but themselves. Men don't spend their time sitting in a park taking dope; children do. Men spend their time working for the betterment of themselves and others," he asserts.

"The drug crowd lay on its catch phrases, like 'acid eyes tell no lies,' and think they are being profound. They can't see that by taking acid or dope they are reducing their capacity to perceive what is real."

Now an operator of his own construction firm, Hart emphasizes that he is equally "turned off" by formal religions that offer escapes from reality by "doctrinal highs."

In his book, the author introduces Socrates to Christ and the resulting dialogue constitutes much of the book. Questions such as, "Is knowledge evil?" and "Why did God create mankind?" and the answers are offered as stimulating reading.

Both his prose and his poetry, however, are full of double meanings and readers will not likely catch the author's intended thoughts even after two or three readings.

Lines, phrases and even words are carefully chosen, admits Hart, to express abstract ideas and thoughts. They are not meant, therefore, for superficial entertainment, but rather for thought provoking study.

Novi Schools

U-F Totals Up

The annual United Foundation Torch Drive held in the Novi School District showed a marked increase this year over last in the contribution of school employees.

The school district this year gathered $3,066.75 from employees, $1,007.90 more than last year. Information supplied by the administration shows that 71.6 percent of all hourly employees contributed an average gift of $5.28 while 79.4 percent of the salaried employees contributed an average gift of $16.76.

KATHY MILLER

She Joins Youth Assistance

New Youth Assistance worker for Novi is Kathy Miller. She is replacing Wally Cook.

Mrs. Miller will be spending time with community organizations working to prevent delinquency and neglect. She also will be working with families which need counseling. Mrs. Miller will accept referrals from organizations or families calling 349-8398.

The program is funded through the county, school district and city.

Commissioners

John Unger of 44885 Thornapple Lane has been appointed to the Northville Township Board of Appeals to replace John Miller, who is retiring from public service after more than 20 years.

In other action by the township board, all three members of the planning commission, whose terms were expiring, were reappointed to three-year terms. They are: Bernard Baldwin, William Bohan and Chairman John Dugan.

Concerning another candidate for the appeals board, it was noted that the township is considering expanding this board from three to five members thereby creating two additional posts that will have to be filled.

Recall:

Award for Service

Regardless of the outcome of the recall campaign now underway in Northville township, there will be no winners. And the biggest loser will be the community of Northville itself.

Township residents who are given the opportunity to sign petitions seeking an election for the recall of Supervisor Betty Lennox and Trustee John MacDonald should weigh the proposal carefully.

While they may hide it, the action is deeply disturbing to the lives of the supervisor and trustee.

Place yourself, if you can, in their position.

Because they actively supported annexation of the township to the city, they are being labelled unfit for township office.

Yet the views of both were well known before they were elected. And just last year Mrs. Lennox along with four other pro-annexation candidates defeated some of the very opponents who now support the recall action.

Imagine that as an elected official you have spoken forthrightly for what you believe to be the best interests of the public you were elected to serve?

You might even contend that those officials who oppose annexation were more interested in the preservation of a system rather than the welfare of the taxpayers.

But everyone is entitled to their opinion. And many believe that annexation lost in Northville township because it contains an immediate tax increase, not because the concept is undesirable.

What is the penalty for expressing your convictions...for supporting an unpopular cause...for being on the losing side?

For one thing, you'll get your name in the metro daily that was contacted by un-named local sources as soon as The Record learned of the petitions and checked the source.

And people all around the area will wonder what's going on out in Northville; what's wrong with that gal, Lennox; and MacDonald's law practice is certain to receive a great boost.

I wonder how many other members of the township board working with little pay and helping in the best way they know to serve their community would like to have their reputations (and professions) placed in jeopardy for doing exactly what Betty Lennox and John MacDonald have done?

And if we threaten elected officials with recall every time they do not agree with an opinion we may hold, how many competent candidates will we attract for local office?

Betty Lennox and John MacDonald may very well be the best officials on the Northville township board. They are honest; they are hard-working; and they are most competent.

They do not deserve this kind of harassment. In fact, they should be receiving praise for their contributions to the community.

Isn't it ironic that the organization that conceived the recall action and now sponsors its campaign calls itself the Northville Township "Boosters" Club?

Make It Roses

"The first half of the season is over. The second half starts Saturday."

Speaking before a jam-packed Monday noon crowd of Ann Arbor M-Club boosters Coach Bo Schembechler made it clear that he'll have roses, not oranges, for New Year's.

Anyone even casually interested in football must be aware that Saturday is the big clash between the mighty Wolverines of Michigan and Woody Hayes' Ohio State Buckeyes.

It's difficult to remember when this final game of the season has not been the decider for the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

This year the runner-up will be mollified by a trip to Miami's Orange Bowl. Right now, however, neither Bo nor Woody can smell anything but Pasadena Roses.

What happens if there's a tie? Would Michigan go to the Rose Bowl because Ohio State went last year? Or would the committee of Athletic Directors decide that the Buckeyes would be the most representative team of the conference because Michigan played two tie games outside the conference?

It's almost like a replay of history when Michigan and Ohio State meet in the final game of the season. Over the past six years the record stands at three wins for Ohio State, two for Michigan and one tie.

The air at Michigan's massive stadium will be filled with electricity Saturday afternoon as 104,000 fans witness football's most exciting rivalry.

May the best team win. Go Blue.

George Wallace Good President?

BETTY SWIFT

YES . . .

Yes, I believe he would. Not only because we need a change from the policies of the two major parties but also because he seems to be the only person with the courage to speak out against the ills that they have bequeathed to us. His stand is simple, easy to understand and to the point. . . . "The people say no busing, but the politicians give us busing," . . . "The people say don't force us to have school books that have curse words in them and school books that are anti-God, but the politicians ignore us!" . . . "The people say we want to be stronger than our enemies, the Communists, but the politicians ignore the people."

He is against the foreign policy being pursued by our present leaders of aiding our Communist enemies with billions of our hard earned tax dollars, scientific technology, that someday could be used militarily against us, and unreasonable amounts of our food which causes shortages here at home, thereby raising prices and ultimately our cost of living.

Some people say he is racist. They back up this cry by his actions in trying to keep for the states their right to run their own school system. He put up a good fight but lost. If he had won our schools would not be controlled by the Federal Government as they increasingly are now.

Being paralyzed is another reason people say he should not be our president. Franklin D. Roosevelt who also could not walk, was the president of the United States for sixteen years, the longest term of any president in the history of our country.

Nearly all recent surveys show that the average voter has had his confidence in national political leaders shaken by the loss of South Vietnam, high unemployment, and raising prices. We are ready for a president with the patriotism and dogged courage of George Wallace.

Louise Rickert
Howell

NO . . .

The 1976 presidential election comes in an unprecedented political situation—a President and a Vice President resigning in disgrace and an appointed President and Vice President in office.

To come up with a presidential candidate the Democrats and the Republicans squabble within their parties. The Democrats are a hatchery with presidential hopefuls as numerous as chicks in a brooder; Republicans step and side step in a painful public minuet of who will challenge Gerald Ford.

What is needed is a candidate who will restore public confidence and who will lead the country out of its present deep economic and political crisis.

Our constitution provides for a harmonious balance of power within a three-branch government—legislative, judiciary, and executive. We have watched the legislative branch wither away and as it did, we have watched the unwarranted and disproportionate growth of power in the other two.

The presidential candidate for 1976 must restore to the people the government the constitution provides.

The presidential candidate must be one who is acceptable to the congress. He must have a plan for meeting the great concerns of the nation—crime, education, health and quality of life for all, rural and city. His record in these areas in his home base must be marked with success.

This candidate must be one who has shown he can work with the justice department in an open-minded, sensitive, impartial way.

This candidate must have a record of political integrity, and olympian sense of justice for all, a dedication to the rights of the individual.

This candidate must be in the optimum of health. Our president cannot be in fragile health with the danger of overwhelming infections threatening his life daily.

This candidate cannot be George Wallace.

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Since many of us are quick to criticize the ever increasing rates of the utility companies, it is only fair that occasionally we should toss them a crumb or two.

Take a piece of crummy legislation that is working its way through the state legislature at the behest of labor unions. If it finally becomes law the Communications Workers of America (CWA) and the Michigan AFL-CIO will be able to share a larger chunk of responsibility for your next phone bill increase.

If it had a name, "Featherbedding" would be an especially appropriate subtitle for Senate Bill 128.

Sponsored by our own lawmaker, Senator Carl Pursell, the bill will force the creation of a new job and title of "Manhole Watcher." Naturally, utility companies are a little upset, knowing full well the new job is going to cost them a pile of dough.

All of which means it will cost you and me a bundle, too.

Michigan Bell's vice-president, G. Robert Harrington, estimates the new job will cost that company alone $3 million more annually. It will cost other utility companies and municipalities millions more.

Ostensibly, the bill is a safety device that will protect below-ground workers from getting sticks and stones and assorted other debris tossed onto their heads by disrespectful above-ground folk. It may create more problems than it eliminates, however. Who, for example, is going to protect the Manhole Watcher from getting creamed by disrespectful motorists?

A Watcher of the Manhole Watcher?

Michigan Bell says that it has had just one fatality at a manhole site in more than 30 years—and that one occurred above ground in 1941 when one of those disrespectful motorists smashed through a barricade.

What's more, Bell says its employee time loss resulting from manhole injuries is negligible—something less than a day for every 100 man years!

All of which seems to suggest that creation of the job is really more important than the safety of the manhole workers.

Having climbed down a manhole a few years ago to inspect for myself the goings on beneath ground, I suspect the unions are really merely trying to put a little more dignity into the job. Who, for example, can maintain a self-respecting decorum when getting hit in the face by a flying jelly sandwich?

Or getting caught dealing Five-Card Stud?

News From Lansing

By R. Robert Geake
State Representative

Under the present law, an individual is temporarily disqualified from drawing unemployment benefits if he leaves work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the employer. Under the pretext of "tightening" the definition of a "voluntary quit", a bill now before the House for consideration would radically restructure the definition to guarantee that almost everyone would be able to collect benefits immediately.

It is estimated that this bill, House Bill 5712, would increase the cost to employers in Michigan for unemployment compensation insurance by $250 million. This $250 million would be in addition to increased costs legislated by the unemployment compensation compromise of last June and comes in the face of a Democrat-sponsored worker's compensation bill which is expected to add an additional $600 million in costs to the existing workers' compensation insurance of Michigan's employers.

House Bill 5712 expands the concept of "good cause" to extend employer liability to cover employees who quit for "personal good cause" not attributable to the employer. The bill creates six broad loopholes to allow employees to voluntarily leave work through no fault of the employer and collect benefits immediately. The new reasons legitimize a quit if the employee believes that the work is not suitable because of (1) some degree of risk involved to his health; (2) safety; (3) morals; (4) his physical fitness and prior training; (5) his experience and prior earnings; and (6) his length of unemployment and prospects for securing work in his customary occupation.

Rather than tighten the definition of a "voluntary quit" and setting standards as its advocates allege, this bill would destroy the only existing standard in the law: that the employee's unemployment be due to the actions of the employer. The end result is that the Unemployment Compensation Act would become another expensive welfare program rather than the insurance system it was intended to be.

An amendment added in committee would close one loophole by stating that a person could not use distance and travel time as a legitimate quit if the individual left work for that purpose or in changing address. However, even this modest concession to Michigan's employers appears to be an attempt by urban Democrats to discourage white flight from the city rather than an expressed concern for equity under the unemployment compensation system or the state of the economy!

New Law Gives Check on Budget

Next week Michigan legislators will be receiving their first monthly statement of state revenues and expenditures from the department of management and budget as the result of a three-year effort on the part of State Senator Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) to keep the legislators informed on a regular basis of the economic position of the state.

Budget specialists have come under attack recently in light of the "surprise" projected deficit of $300 million announced by Governor Milliken. A number of legislators complained that they should have been informed earlier of the expected deficit. Had the bill been passed sooner, the House and Senate would have been receiving monthly reports all along, said Pursell.

"This is the first budget reform to my knowledge in some time, and I think it is long overdue. We may have been able to avoid the recent crisis if we had only known exactly what the state's financial picture looked like when we first passed this budget," Pursell said. "This new law attempts to make the legislature a co-equal branch of government by keeping us informed. At the same time, we will be able to make these reports public documents, and let the rest of the people in the state know what's going on."

The reports, which will be certified and submitted to the legislature within 20 days following the end of each month, will contain the general purpose revenues, gross expenditures, estimates of fiscal year-end fund balances and listings of and justifications for projected supplemental appropriations

Readers Speak

Courses Don't Ready Students for World

To the Editor:

It seems necessary to respond to Mr. Donahue's letter of November 12. Mr. Donahue teaches "Now Poetry" at Northville High School. He is astonished at having read an unpleasant comment about his course, within the context of the millage proposal debate.

Mr. Donahue quite properly defended his course, but, justification for the course as it is now offered is another matter.

As a teacher of English composition at the college freshman level, my concern is not singularly devoted to the pros and cons of "Now Poetry", but I most certainly must include that course in any discussion of the English program at Northville High. And since I have heard the English Department referred to (by a high administrator) as the very best department at NHS my concern for the other departments would logically follow.

Perhaps more parents should carefully review the NHS course description booklet. It would also be prudent to research the accuracy of some of those descriptions.

Three years of English are required; however, only one course in English is compulsory: that course is a freshman survey of the many aspects of the English program. For example: the textbook includes abridged versions of a novel and one of Shakespeare's plays. Students, then are given only parts of the whole... abridged versions with altered language and footnotes. Is this a concession to student's ability to comprehend, or an insult to student's intelligence? If students learn via the Reader's Digest concept will they be apt to continue that condensed recipe?

There are two courses of particular interest to me: Practical Writing and Composition 3. Students are not required to take either of these. They may opt instead for "Now Poetry" for which there is no prerequisite. When they get into college and are faced with English Composition, a requirement, they discover that "Now Poetry" offers a rather inadequate base for sixteen weeks of writing; they are bewildered and terrified by the process of learning, for the first time, how to write a research paper.

When they get into an introductory course in literature, a requirement, they discover that having had "Now Poetry" is of no use to them because they have yet to learn the mechanics, the foundations and variations, of Then Poetry.

Mr. Donahue failed to mention that his course covers only a decade and a half of modern poetry. Recordings are used extensively. If the textbook costs average out to 37 cents per student I find that provocative and uncomfortable.

What I am saying is that high school students in Northville and elsewhere are being offered a wide range of electives. No one is taking them by the hand and insisting that to prepare not only for college, but for coping in any job or career situation (including housewifery and motherhood), one must learn to read and write one's own language coherently and properly.

Colleges and universities across the nation are requiring remedial composition in preparation for basic composition. One precedes the other by normal policy requirement.

I teach both of the above courses. The research paper is part of the second course. Remedial comp. students are not ready for that kind of work.

Don't be misled. My students do not reflect any one segment of society; they do not reflect any one financial, ethnic, or educational background. They reflect all manner of high schools and they come to me ill-prepared for college writing. My courses are service courses. By that I mean that they are absolutely basic to the quality of each student's work in all of his or her other college courses.

I recently gave a spelling test of thirty words. Out of fifty students over 70 percent failed to spell half of the words correctly. I recently gave a vocabulary test of thirty words. The result was the same as above. Students were astonished; they did not recognize most of the words. I pulled all of the words from college freshman reading materials. I can send them to a dictionary but when I do I can only hope and pray that, 1) they know how to use a dictionary to the full extent, and 2) they know the first few letters of the word they can't comprehend.

This is not indigenous to my particular university. Universities and colleges across the country, from open admission policy to the most sophisticated kind of entrance screening are facing this unpleasant and alarming reality. The national questions is: "What happened to bonehead English?"

I would hope that Northville parents and educators would not be so securely insulated as to ignore this and consider it somebody else's problem. That just is not so.

As long as high schools find it fashionable to offer electives and not firmly require basics, high school students are in jeopardy. As long as students can avail themselves of modern poetry without the prerequisite of the foundations of poetry, they are in jeopardy. As long as high school students can jump into Drama 1 without first studying the several kinds of plays written by the world's enduring playwrights, they are, indeed, in jeopardy.

Math students do not undertake geometry or calculus without first studying fundamental math and algebra. How then can a student take a creative writing course without first learning how to write?

There is nothing wrong with advanced poetry courses, gifted children programs, or career development surveys and programs at the middle school level. They are not frills, BUT THEY ARE USELESS, in my considered opinion, if high schools do not follow through with basic course offerings which are required.

Most of Northville high school graduates are ill-prepared for both college and careers. History proves that the world's major ills can be traced to an inability to communicate. There is a direct link between these two disparate facts.

Wants Sign For Horsemen

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Robert Remer, manager of Maybury State Park, with a copy to this newspaper. Dear Mr. Remer:

As owners of a pleasure horse we are very much interested in the park that you are in charge of, Maybury State Park, that has been opened to horseback riding.

We have a number of questions (problems?) which we would like to direct to your attention. Any clarification will be appreciated.

1. We note that there are no facilities for drinking water either for the horseback riders or their mounts. (Some of us have to travel a long distance to enjoy the park and it would be almost impossible to carry water for our horses in saddle bags.) We were told there is an artesian well, but signs posted state it is unsafe for use. Perhaps your budget does not allow additional water-pumps for this side of the park as the hikers and bicycle riders enjoy on their side of the park. We are not asking for anything special. We note that there are hoses which we pass upon entry to the park. Couldn't a water-trough be placed by the road and filled via these hoses? Since the water comes from wells there would be no expense involved for anyone.

2. Why is there no sign placed on Beck road which advises riders that this is the entrance for horseback riders? Many people to whom we have spoken have no idea of how they are to gain entry. If you were riding on Beck road, you would think that it is a private residence instead of a park. (If a wooden sign can be placed at the entrance on Eight Mile road telling us that horses cannot enter here, a similar sign should be placed on Beck road stating that horses should enter here.)

3. We note that the road was widened in front of the entrance on Eight Mile road for easier access. With all of this expense, couldn't we have some signs (even one?) on Beck road which would warn motorists that horses would be using the road so that they could be on the alert?

We understand that a number of these decisions are perhaps not yours to make. If this is the case, please provide us with the names and addresses of the people to whom we should direct our inquiry.

Besides the three above items, we are all quite pleased with the park. It is a pleasure to have a safe place to ride. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely yours,
Iris Tomczeszyn (Mrs.)

Vets Against Fund Tapping

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was written by VFW Post 4012 Commander Merle L. Hoag, who enclosed this note to The Record:

"...Post 4012 in Northville has mailed the following letter to Governor Milliken, Senator Pursell, and representative Geake, urging them not to tamper with the Veterans' Trust Fund of Michigan in an effort to solve the financial problems of the state.

"...all veterans (should) immediately write to their representatives in Lansing protesting the plan to confiscate these monies. The Veterans' Trust Fund was set up to provide aid to the men and their families who so valiantly offered their lives to preserve democracy for all of us. Can we now offer a few minutes of our time to protect their rights? Let's let Lansing know that another source of money can and should be found."

Dear Governor Milliken;
As Commander of the 560 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post 4012 Northville, Michigan, I must speak out in opposition to plans to liquidate or eliminate the Michigan Veterans trust fund, according to your statement October 22nd.

Elimination of the veterans' fund in order to aid the state is, at best, a temporary solution and an expensive answer to the fiscal problems facing Michigan at this time. It does not present a viable or long range solution to our problems.

The Veterans Trust Fund, established after the end of World War II, has aided countless thousands of deserving veterans and their families. We of the V.F.W. feel very strongly that it should be continued. The trust fund has operated at no cost to the state, using money accrued from interest to pay claims and administer the program of aiding deserving veterans. If it were dissolved, it would mean not only the waste of the corpus of the fund, but an additional drain from the state treasury to pay out claims to worthy claimants.

I believe the veterans of Michigan might be receptive to the idea of the USE of the fund to relieve the present financial difficulties, with repayment as was done in 1959. We are firmly opposed to the elimination or liquidation of all of it or any part of it.

To this end, we of the Veterans of Foreign Wars hope that you will seek another method of solving the present financial dilemma facing the State of Michigan.

Sincerely yours,
Merle L. Hoag, Commander
Northville VFW Post 4012

She Responds On Millage

To the Editor:
A comment in regards to last week's Record on the defeat of the millage. Mrs.

John Hinman's remarks might have been from personal experience. I beg to differ. We gave much more than $20 not for football alone but for the sake of the Honors Society and all other extra curricular activities. We also voted YES on the millage this time and every other time. Anyone who wastes a dollar a week, and don't we all, could afford to vote YES. So don't include us in generalizations.

Mrs. Elden Biery

To the Editor:
I'd like to take this opportunity to thank the Novi News for their endorsement of my candidacy for the Novi City Council.

A very special thank you goes to the many wonderful people supporting me throughout the campaign and at the polls.

I will do my best to help the people of Novi regain their confidence in our city government.

Scouts Offer Babysitting To Northville Shoppers

Northville's Cadette Girl Scouts are sponsoring a babysitting service for shoppers beginning Friday, November 21.

The service will be provided in Northville Square on Friday evenings from 6 to 9 p.m. and all day on Saturdays from November 22 through December 20 with the exception of December 5 and 6 when the scouts will be camping.

The Cadettes will care for children from walking age through age eight while their parents shop. There is no charge but the girls are

To the Editor:

I took my car to Phil's 76 service station to have some work done. I was told to park the car in the back of the station. Which happens to be part of the public parking lot. That night all four tires were slashed. My insurance nor Phil's Insurance would cover the tires. Phil, who felt very sorry about what had happened put new tires on the car at his loss. I would like to say at this time thank you to Phil Rossellé a man who cares.

P.S. To the person or persons who did this, you sure cost everyone a lot of money for 10 minutes of stupidity or fun as you must think. Very sick.

No Permits Issued Yet

Occupancy permits still have not been issued and will not be issued until Beachwalk developers solve the problem of silt running off an easement onto neighboring property.

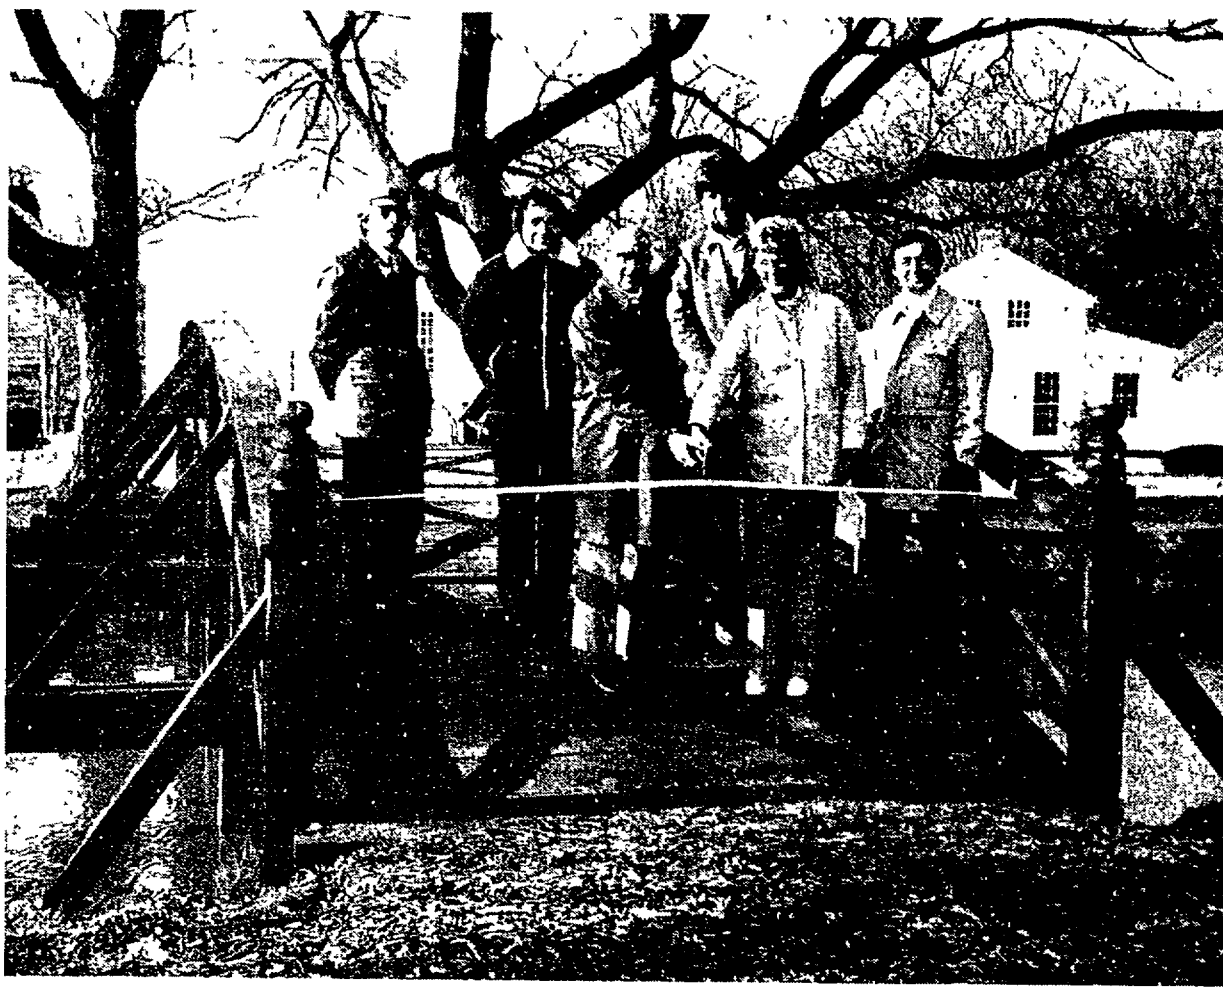

According to Novi City Manager Ed Kriewall, "As far as activity, it's been quiet."

Beachwalk development, which is located on East Lake Drive in Novi, has long been the subject of complaints from neighbors. The last complaint, one which succeeded in persuading the city not to issue occupancy permits, centers on runoff to neighboring property from a drain easement which goes to Walled Lake.

Kriewall said that financial problems for the developer, which have been suffered from time-to-time, have once again stopped activity.

"There's a long list of bill collectors they owe money to," said the city manager.

Kriewall said that the developer will probably take some action within the next couple of weeks before the weather shuts down the project for another winter.

Cancel Meeting

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, Northville School Board has cancelled its regularly scheduled meeting for Monday, November 24.

Split School Tax

subdivisions) as well as for the Novi School District.

Novi reached its agreement at the request of Novi School Board, which had been urging split taxes for years.

In the wake of the Novi agreement, the Northville board decided to once again try to persuade Northville to collect its taxes twice annually also.

City of Northville has not yet decided if it will institute split collection for the schools. However, even though the city manager, Steven Walters, has voiced disagreement with split collection, councilmen appear to be leaning in favor of the process.

It was on the basis of material sent to it by the city manager that the township board several weeks ago refused the school board's request.

Based on remarks of township board members at last week's meeting, it appears that at least one and possibly more are now prepared to support the proposal.

In his appeal last week, Spear refuted one of the major arguments used by the city manager, namely that Manufacturer's National Bank would be forced to increase monthly bills of its Northville customers if split tax collection were instituted. Spokesmen for Manufacturers, however, have assured Spear that there will be no increase unless shortages appear likely in escrow accounts at time taxes come due.

Spear estimated that few homeowners would experience such a shortage and therefore no increase would be necessary.

The superintendent also noted that major banks and savings and loans did not increase monthly bills of their customers in Bloomfield Hills when split tax collection was instituted there.

Nevertheless, board members insisted that they be given something in writing to assure them that bills here would not be increased.

Treasurer Charles Rosenberg commented that while he personally finds value in the split collection concept, he is reluctant to back its implementation in view of the negative position taken by voters in school and township millage elections here. The people have indicated at the polls that they do not want their taxes tampered with, he reasoned, and that feeling may exist over the method of collection as well.

Dr. John Swienkowski noted that the school, which now seeks the help of the township, failed to come to the township's aid when it (school) refused liability in a recent township drain dispute.

Arguing for split tax collection was Trustee

John MacDonald, who said split tax collection not only would represent a substantial savings of tax dollars but it also would make payment of school taxes less burdensome in that only half would be required in the winter, half in the summer.

In remarks from the audience, a Top of the Deck column supporting split taxes came under heavy criticism as being "highly one sided" and "distorted". Also criticized was Spear and the board of education for "poor financing" that they now want to push off onto the people through split tax collection.

In response to questions from the board, Spear admitted that he cannot guarantee that the district will not have to borrow money in the future if the township adopts split collection. Furthermore, he conceded that the estimated $70,000 paid out in interest on borrowed money this past year would have been partially made up by investments made by the school district.

Concerning the township's previously estimated cost of introducing split tax collection in the township, Supervisor Betty Lennox explained that re-examination of data indicates the cost will be $2,680 instead of $8,130.

Spear pointed out as he had in making the initial request, that the school board is prepared to pick up any additional costs incurred by the township in making split tax collections.

The superintendent also said he would evaluate an alternative suggestion of Trustee Richard Mitchell that the township continue to collect all of its school taxes in the winter and the city collect all of its school taxes in the summer. That way, he reasoned, only one of the municipalities would have to change its collection process while still providing tax funds for the school district at two different times during the year.

Such a change for the city alone, Mitchell said, would be easier for it than it would the township since the city already collects city taxes in the summer, its school taxes in the winter.

School officials have estimated that borrowing money during the past five years has cost the district $264,731 in interest.

Superintendent Spear estimates that split tax collection in the township would save the district $38,760 in interest; $15,960 in the Wayne portion of the city; $8,360 in the Oakland portion; and $9,820 in the City of Novi.

The school board did not request that split tax collections be instituted in the other parts of the school district — in Lyon Township, Salem Township, and Novi Township — because the tax yield is so much smaller in these sections.

It is estimated that split tax collection in Lyon Township would save the district $760; in Novi Township $760; and in Salem Township $1,520.

Safety Devices Make Good Gifts

Have you been wondering what to give those on your Christmas list who seem to have everything?

Northville's Fire Department may have the answer with both useful and safe gifts. Beginning this week, the department is selling fire extinguishers, smoke detectors and escape ladders.

Fire extinguishers are Coast Guard approved and are good for fighting paper, flammable liquid and electrical fires. They may be used in homes, cars and boats, fire officials said. Prices are $16 and $24, depending upon the size of extinguisher.

Smoke detectors are battery operated and sell for $50, including installation by the fire department. If homeowners desire, firemen will visit the homes and suggest where smoke detectors should be placed.

Escape ladders are also being sold by the department and prices vary according to length. The chain link ladders are used on the exteriors of buildings when fires occur and there is no other access to escape except windows.

Persons interested in purchasing any of the items may call Northville City Hall at 349-1300 and leave a message for chief fireman Charles Gross at 349-4997.

Fire Chief Herman (Bud) Hartner added that all homes in the area should be outfitted with this fire safety equipment. All items being sold by the fire department are also priced less than in retail stores.

Those interested in inspecting the fire safety equipment may stop by the fire hall in city hall on West Main Street between 7 and 8 p.m. on Thursdays or visit the display at the city hall, 215 West Main Street.

Recall Petitions Cite Lennox, MacDonald

the Mutual Assistance Program with the City of Northville.

2 — That she has publicly declared that it will cost the Township 10 mills to continue as a Township without substantiating evidence as facts.

3 — That she has publicly demeaned the professional training and image of the Township Police Department.

4 — That she has publicly and erroneously declared that certain income groups and those having low tax valuations would not have had to pay increased millage had the most recent annexation vote passed.

5 — That she has publicly, erroneously and without substantiation declared that remaining a township will hinder the orderly growth and development of Northville Township to a point where it will become stagnant, ineffective and unable to cope with its problems.

6 — That she has approved appropriation of township funds of $1,000 to aid and assist the State Boundary Commission in the attempted abolition of Northville Township.

7 — That she has, through her public statements and campaigning for annexation evidenced she no longer wishes to govern the township.

Reasons given on the petition for recall of Trustee MacDonald are:

1 — As a leader of the pro-annexation movement, he has publicly declared he is still in favor of annexation despite its overwhelming defeat.

2 — He has publicly declared in favor of a partial annexation of certain sections of Northville Township to the City of Northville, contrary to the best interests of the Township.

3 — He has favored annexation to the detriment, best interests and very survival of the Township.

4 — He has, through a signed letter, erroneously declared that certain income groups and those having low tax valuations would not have had to pay increased millage, had the last annexation vote passed.

5 — He has approved appropriation of Township funds of $1,000 to assist the State Boundary Commission in the attempted abolition of Northville Township.

6 — He has, through his public statements and campaigning for annexation, evidenced that he no longer wishes to govern the Township.

Accompanying the petitions are copies of statements attributed to Supervisor Lennox and Trustee MacDonald that had appeared in The Northville Record. Lysinger said the photo copies were made to verify reasons given in the petitions for recall. Both Mrs. Lennox and MacDonald charged that the excerpts are misleading and inaccurate because they are taken out of context and do not contain the complete statement.

In MacDonald's case, a statement attributed to the trustee and appearing in The Record following the annexation defeat was used with the petition to support reason number two (above). The photo-copied statement taken from the pages of The Record includes the following:

He said a partial annexation was a possibility if certain sections of the township that desired cityhood with Northville would support such petitions.

"It would have to be a....

The photo-copy stops at this point. Trustee MacDonald notes that the complete statement continued thusly:

"It would have to be a reasonable 'squaring off' of an area. But that's not the best solution. Total annexation is," MacDonald stated.

Both the supervisor and trustee note that the board voted funds (maximum $1,000) for legal fees because the township was named a defendant in a suit brought by six township residents, including a board member. They claim that much less than $1,000 was spent on the suit.

Supervisor Lennox also voiced objections to the "misleading excerpted photo copies" accompanying the petitions, and vehemently denied the charges made in the reasons given for her recall.

She said the public statement concerning the availability of around-the-clock police protection if annexation occurred was not a criticism of the township police. She said that the combined city-township police department would have provided the total community with immediate service, "and that's what I said and what I meant."

The supervisor also noted that she has always taken the position that if annexation failed, she would "work hard for excellent township government and that's what I am doing."

Between 800 and 900 signatures are needed to bring about a recall election (25 percent of the number of votes at the last election for governor). Lysinger declined to say how many signatures have been obtained to date.

When completed the petitions are given to the township clerk, who has five days to examine them for validity. An election would probably follow within 60 days. The officials cited for recall are given an opportunity to respond to the charges, and both the charges and the responses appear on the ballots.

Motor Vehicle Receipts Decline

Receipts in Michigan's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund are continuing to decline, reported the State Highway Commission this past week in releasing distributions for area cities and villages.

But gas tax revenues registered a slight increase in the July-September quarter compared to the same period of 1974, the commission added.

All state motor fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. Gross receipts for the quarter totaled $113,254,345, a decline of $393,329, or four-tenths of one percent, from the third quarter of 1974 and a drop of $3,319,876 from the third quarter of 1973.

It was the fifth consecutive quarter of reduced income in comparison to the same three-month period of the previous year.

Local distributions for the third quarter:

Northville, up from $16,786 in 1974 to $16,980 this year; Novi, down from $35,929 in 1974 to $35,263; South Lyon, up from $7,985 to $8,007; Walled Lake, down from $12,174 to $11,944; and Wixom, down slightly from $10,195 to $10,193.

Sacred Heart

township board, which earlier by a split vote endorsed Sacred Heart, authorized establishment of a committee to serve as liaison between Sacred Heart and the community. It named Clerk Clarice Sass as chairman of the committee, which is to include representatives from the library and recreation departments.

The committee proposal was suggested by Dr. John Swienkowski, trustee, who expressed hope that the fire hall on the center property can be used possibly as an auxiliary community fire department facility.

John Seckinger's 'Coach of Year'

Coach of the Year honors are nothing new to John Seckinger.

So his selection as Area Coach of the Year by Sliger Home Newspapers this year is something that won't surprise those who know Seckinger.

In 1968, the diminutive mentor guided Grass Lake to a perfect 9-0 season and was chosen Jackson Area Coach of the Year.

In 1974, Seckinger's Grass Lake team went 7-2, and he was chosen — for the second time — as Michigan High School Region Three Coach of the Year.

Seckinger was head coach at Grass Lake, a Class D high school near Jackson, for eight years before coming to Brighton this season.

During those eight years, Seckinger led his team to a 45-24-3 overall record.

White's Top, Too

For Pinckney High School's football Pirates, the road to being named All-Area Team of the Year has been a long one.

Over the past four seasons, Coach Tom Wilson's Pirates have won 28 of their last 36 games — but not until this year have the Buccaneers been chosen as Team of the Year by Sliger Home Newspaper staffers.

This year, however, Pinckney boasted the best record — 8-1 — of any area team. And the Pirates also boasted the area's Player of the Year, junior Halfback Roger White, who rushed for 997 yards and scored 16 touchdowns.

The Pirates placed five players on the 22-man All-Area offensive and defensive teams picked by Home Newspaper sports writers with the help of area coaches.

Northville, which finished with a 6-3 slate, actually dominated the teams with seven players selected. But even that factor may be a tribute to the Pirates, whose talent was so well-balanced that almost every Buccaneer played in every game.

Pinckney nearly claimed a sort of "triple crown" this year, but missed when staffers tapped Brighton's John Seckinger as Coach of the Year.

Wilson (our All-Area Coach of the Year in 1973) was edged out by Seckinger, who turned football fortunes around at Brighton High by leading the Bulldogs to a 4-5 record, their best slate in a decade.

When he was named Coach of the Year two seasons ago, Wilson pledged that his Pirates would soon be Team of the Year.

But that honor was delayed a year when the Buccaneers fell on hard times last season and finished with a disappointing — by Pinckney standards — 6-3 record. Northville captured last season's honors instead, with a 7-2 slate.

In 1972 and 1973, the situation was even more frustrating for the Pirates. Both years, Pinckney ended 7-2. But both years, the Pirates saw Novi named Team of the Year, as the Wildcats went undefeated through two straight seasons.

This year, however, there was no stopping Pinckney. Keyed by great depth and balance, plus the spirit which has become a Pirate trademark, Pinckney won eight of nine games this year. The Bucs lost only to Ingham County League champion Bath, which finished 9-0 and nearly entered the Class C state playoffs.

As explosive as ever on offense (the Pirates racked up 278 points this season), Pinckney was nearly impenetrable defensively.

The Pirates posted shutouts in five games this year, and weren't scored upon at all until the fourth game of the campaign. All told, the Bucs gave up only 53 points — an average of only 5.9 per game.

Pinckney finished second in the Ingham County League and also fared well outside the loop, beating Southeastern Conference foes Dexter and Brighton in non-league play.

Primarily a rushing team, Pinckney used its trap-oriented game play to near perfection with White and teammates Dale Wilson, Rick Winslow, Greg Amburgey, Rex Winkelhaus and Tom Stone providing most of the running firepower.

The key to Pinckney's success, however, was probably its enthusiasm, and the excellent leadership the Pirates' 11 seniors provided.

"Our seniors were terrific all year long," Wilson said after his Pirates capped their season with a 14-3 comeback win over Brighton. "They had great determination to go out as winners, and they did."

Pinckney is only the fourth team to be named Team of the Year since staffers began picking these squads in 1969. South Lyon, Novi and Northville have been chosen in the past, with Novi being tapped three times.

All told, 22 players were picked for this year's "dream team". No one was picked on both offense and defense, though several players were perhaps deserving of such honors.

Northville, with seven selections, and Pinckney, with five, dominated the teams. Novi and Brighton (which both finished 4-5) were represented by four players each, while Hartland and South Lyon each placed one player on the first teams.

Here are this year's All-Area selections:

Two Performances This Weekend

Youth Perform 'Cool in the Furnace'

"It's Cool in The Furnace", a folk musical by Beryl Red and Grace Hawthorne, will be presented Saturday and Sunday, November 22 and 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the South Lyon First United Presbyterian Church.

The contemporary musical by the composers of "Lightshine" is the story of three young boys who were thrown into a fiery furnace by mean King Nebuchadnezzar after they refused to worship a golden image. Ivor Thomas will be featured as Daniel with Brad Oyster and Jon Radnothy alternating as the mean king.

The production is directed by Richard Lenz and Susie Hutchings, the same team which provided the impetus for the South Lyon Band Parents' hit production of "Lightshine" in the spring of 1975. They are assisted by Debbie Fike.

Admittance to the musical is free and Lenz has issued an invitation to "bring the whole family to see this fun-filled musical."

The cast includes 20 choral members and six actors, almost entirely drawn from the junior and senior high classes of the Presbyterian Church. Lenz, choir director at the church, has been rehearsing the group for the past two and one half months. Piano accompaniment augmented by flute and trumpet will provide the instrumental background for the one-hour production. Jean Tietz will assist Lenz at the piano.

Lenz is currently completing his student teaching at Smart Junior High School at Walled Lake where he has also taught in two elementary schools. He is scheduled to receive his bachelor of music degree in piano performance in December from the University of Michigan. He will also receive a teaching certificate in vocal music. Biblical background for the musical is drawn from the book of Daniel, chapter three, and follows the capture and enslavement of the Hebrews as they were taken into Babylon.

Jon Radnothy as King Nebuchadnezzar berates his subjects in "Cool in the Furnace" this weekend.

The Christian Fellowship Center in Brighton has scheduled a series of dedication activities to commemorate the opening this weekend of the new church building, at Old U.S. 23 and Hyne Road in Brighton Township, according to Pastor R. A. Doorn.

On Friday (November 21) at 9 a.m., Mrs. Doorn, also an ordained minister, will hostess a women's breakfast at Uncle John's Pancake House on East Grand River. The Reverend Bernice Matejcek of the Faith Temple in Flint will be guest speaker.

Special services will be held both Friday and Saturday evenings, at 7:30 p.m. At the Friday service, the Reverend James Beall, of the Bethesda Missionary Temple in Detroit and pastor of "America to Your Knees" radio ministry, will be guest speaker.

On Saturday, a Presbyterian minister, the Reverend Herbert Stewart, from Belfast, Northern Ireland, will be speaker.

Three services will be held on Sunday. Jamaican minister, the Reverend Hubert Nicholson, will deliver messages at both the 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. services Sunday. Missionaries "Gwen and Sigi" will lead the 10 p.m. worship service.

Two hand-tied quilts and a crewel picture will be given away at the annual Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Altar Society of St. Joseph Catholic Church, South Lyon. The bazaar is scheduled for this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Featured will be a "visit with Santa," a children's corner, Christmas gift booth, handcrafts, baked goods and collectibles. Luncheon-type foods will be available all day.

M.Y.F. Collection Set

If Brighton's Methodist Youth Fellowship's project is successful, the local FISH (Friends In Service Helping) group will have a well-stocked pantry.

Next, Sunday (November 23), some 15 to 20 junior high M.Y.F. members will ring doorbells throughout Brighton, from 6:30 to 8 p.m., collecting canned goods and non-perishable foodstuffs to donate to FISH.

FISH, an inter-denominational local organization, provides food, clothing, and emergency assistance to needy families in the Brighton area.

Policeman Is Licensed Preacher

Some people might not know whether to address him as Sergeant or Reverend, but Novi's Dale Gross was Sunday licensed as a Southern Baptist minister. "I feel that God has revealed to me that he wants me to stay in police work, at least for the time being, and I'll probably continue preaching as an evangelist," explains Gross. "I can foresee maybe, if God wills, I may become a mission pastor of a small church — literally starting a new church somewhere in Oakland County."

Gross notes that the Southern Baptist Church has plans to begin five churches in Oakland County and, if God is willing, Gross might be ordained to preach at one.

"We believe as Christians we should spread and increase," says Gross. "We're concerned for our country. America needs help. I think the problem with America is our society has become so sophisticated and educated, they're living away from God and looking for thrills and satisfaction in every way except the right way."

Gross is working toward an Associates Degree at Schoolcraft College and plans to receive a Bachelors Degree in sociology perhaps at a Bible College.

Our Dream Team

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK: There was no question in the minds of the Sliger staffers as to who the area's best quarterback was. The honor goes to Northville's ERIC LAMPELLA, a 6-1, 170 pound senior. A strong passer and elusive runner, Lampella accounted for more than 1,700 yards of total offense as he passed for 1,100 and ran for 600 more. A smooth ball handler, Lampella was particularly effective on roll out and option plays. "He must have converted 90 percent of Northville's third down plays all by himself," commented our Northville reporter. South Lyon Coach Bob Keezer said that Lampella was "the best quarterback we've seen all year."

RUNNING BACKS: Running backs on the All-Area team are Pinckney's ROGER WHITE, Hartland's DAVE STEWART, and Novi's ANDY COMAS.

White, our Player of the Year, is a 5-10, 160 pound junior, with a nose for the goal line. White scored 16 touchdowns this year to break the former Pinckney school record of 14. He wasn't bad at other times either, as he rushed for 997 yards. "He's got good balance and tremendous acceleration," commented our Brighton reporter. "He really hits a hole."

Stewart (5-10, 160), a quick, slashing runner from Hartland, topped the 1,000 yard mark on a weak Eagle team that finished with a 3-6 record. Needing 80 yards in the final game to top 1,000, Stewart picked up 162 to finish the season with 1,082 yards. "Dave Stewart was our offense," commented Hartland Coach Steve Schyck. Stewart tallied eight touchdowns for the Eagles.

Hobbled by an injury which caused him to miss two games, Novi's McComas (5-10, 165), carried the ball 95 times for 449 yards — an average of 4.5 yards per carry. Only a junior, he was a second team All-Southeastern Conference (SEC) selection at both running back and defensive end.

CENTER: Another easy choice for the All-Area team was Northville's fine senior center, SCOTT TRAVERS. Big at 6-2 and 200 pounds and fast, Travers was a two-year starter for the Mustangs and was a unanimous selection on the Western Six All-Conference squad. Northville coaches graded Travers at 85 percent blocking efficiency.

GUARDS: Pinckney's MIKE HALLORAN (5-9, 165), and Northville's MARK GROSS (6-1, 180), a pair of juniors, are this year's All-Area guards.

Halloran received high praise from Brighton Coach John Seckinger. "He's a great trap blocker with good quickness and exceptional leverage," noted the Brighton mentor of the hard-nosed Halloran. "He was one of the keys to our running attack." Apparently SEC coaches agreed with that evaluation as they named Halloran to a second team guard position on the All-Conference team in a year that produced a number of very fine guards.

Cross graded out at 70 percent blocking efficiency by his Northville coaches and received honorable mention on the Western Six All-Conference squad. "Mark will be one of the keys to our offensive attack next year," noted Northville Coach Chuck Shonta.

TACKLES: Perhaps the best single position on this year's All-Area squad was the tackle position, as staffers had to decide between several outstanding performers. Selected were Northville's DAVE HOLLAND and Pinckney's RANDY NICKERSON.

Holland, a rugged 6-0, 190 pound senior, was called an exceptionally tough blocker by his Northville coaches. That opinion was shared by most of the Mustang opponents who commented that Holland was one of the toughest blockers they had faced all year. He received an 80 percent blocking efficiency rating from his coaches and was named to the Western Six All-Conference squad.

Only a junior, Nickerson may well have been the key to the Pinckney offense. A 6-1, 220 pound tower of strength, Nickerson is called a "college blocker" by Pinckney Coach Tom Wilson. The 8-1 Pirates scored 282 points this year, and 208 of them were scored by running behind Nickerson.

ENDS: While the tackle position was strong, there was a shortage of offensive ends this year, so Sliger staffers selected a couple of players who saw the bulk of their duty at other positions — JOHN PISHA and JEFF SLATTERY, both of Novi.

An outstanding defensive back, Slattery, a 5-10, 150 pound senior, was a strong receiving threat whenever Coach John Osborne switched him over to the offensive unit. Although he caught just five passes for 46 yards, Slattery was still selected to the All-SEC first team as an offensive end.

Pisha, a 6-4, 185 pound junior, played most of the season at the tackle positions where he performed well enough to receive second team All-SEC recognition as both an offensive and defensive tackle. With his good height and speed, Pisha developed into a fine receiver when he was switched to the end position at the end of the season. In three games, the tall junior snared seven passes for 163 yards and proved to be a major problem for opposing defensive backs.

DEFENSE

ENDS: The All-Area team boasts an outstanding pair of defensive ends in Northville's GARY WINEMASTER and Brighton's DAN PHILION.

Winemaster, a 6-3, 210 pound senior, has been one of the key members of the tough Northville defense for the past two years and was a unanimous selection on the Western Six All-Conference squad both years. Big, strong, and fast, he is rated as a top college prospect by the Mustang coaching staff. One of three candidates for our Player of the Year award, Winemaster received the ultimate compliment from opposing coaches — they rarely ran toward his side of the field.

Philion played tackle for the Brighton Bulldogs, but was switched to end on the All-Area squad. A 6-0, 210 pound senior, he was a second team All-SEC selection at defensive tackle. A hard hitter with good quickness, he thwarted opponents' attempts to run away from him by roaming all over the field to make tackles. "He was one of the most impressive kids we saw all year," commented South Lyon Coach Bob Keezer. "He was a one-man wrecking crew out there."

TACKLES: A couple of big 200-pounders man the defensive tackles on the All-Area team — Brighton's DAVE DONOVAN and Pinckney's CRAIG PARKER.

Brighton's John Seckinger touted Donovan (6-0, 200) as the best football player in the area. "He's so fundamentally sound, it's pathetic," said the Brighton coach. A starter since his freshman year, Donovan has played five different positions for the Bulldogs, seeing duty this year at offensive and defensive tackles and offensive end. Donovan was named to an offensive end position on the All-SEC second team and has already received several small college scholarship offers. His defensive stats include 17 solo tackles, 41 first hits, and five quarterback sacks.

The biggest man on the team at 6-0 and 250 pounds, Parker was a key to the Pinckney defense which registered five shutouts this year. Just a junior, he was in on 128 tackles this year. Pinckney Coach Tom Wilson said that Parker has amazing speed for a player of his size. "He was one of the hardest workers on the team. We came to expect great games from him every week."

LINEBACKERS: There were more candidates for linebacker than any other position on the team as staffers looked at nine players before finally selecting Northville's BILL PICCOLO, Novi's DOUG MAIER, Pinckney's MIKE BARNARD, and South Lyon's MIKE KOZIARA.

A 6-1, 200 pound senior, Piccolo was a first team All-Western Six selection in spite of the fact that he missed the final three games of the season with an injury. In spite of his absence for one-third of the season, Piccolo still managed to lead the team in tackles — an amazing statistic for a strong defensive squad which had a number of outstanding players. "He was the heart of our defense," commented Coach Chuck Shonta.

Maier, a 5-10, 180 pound senior, was another of the candidates that staffers considered as Player of the Year. The hard-nosed Maier has registered a bushel-full of honors while playing for the Wildcats. He was named to the All-Area team last year as a defensive end and was also an All-SEC choice at both offensive guard and defensive end last year. This year Maier was named to the All-SEC first team at a linebacking position. Presently contemplating a scholarship offer from Northwestern, Maier had 80 first hits and 51 assists for the Wildcats this year. "He's the best football player we have," said Coach John Osborne.

At 5-10 and 160 pounds, Barnard was another key member of the tough Pinckney defense. He set a new Pinckney High School record by being in on 142 tackles.

The only South Lyon player named to the 1975 All-Area team was junior linebacker Mike Koziara, a 6-1, 160 pound junior. Koziara was one of the bright spots on a South Lyon squad which posted a 1-8 record. A good tackler, Koziara also proved to be an offensive threat for the defense with pass interceptions and blocked punts.

DEFENSIVE HALFBACK: The All-Area defensive halfbacks boast both size and speed. They are Brighton's BOB SCHMIDT, Pinckney's GARY WILTSE, and Northville's BRUCE MCGLOWRY.

A 5-9, 160 pound junior, Schmidt was one of the keys to the

Brighton High weren't as impressive — until it is remembered that it has been over a decade since Brighton last fielded a winning football team.

In fact, in the two years before Seckinger came to town, the Bulldogs had won a grand total of only three games.

This season, Brighton ended with a 4-5 record — and never were the Bulldogs totally outclassed.

In fact, Brighton lost all five games by a total of only 32 points. The Bulldogs' worst defeat — by 11 points — was administered by our Team of the Year, Pinckney. And Brighton lost to undefeated Southeastern Conference champion Chelsea by only six points, 26-20.

A physical education teacher, Seckinger is a coach who will probably never be accused of being extravagant in his use of the passing game.

Seckinger's teams are primarily run-oriented. They rely, as Brighton did this year, on a hard-running offense and a stingy, hard-hitting defense.

Although he has been a successful coach wherever he has labored, Seckinger — tight-lipped by nature — is loath to shoulder honors all by himself.

"I guess you could say I'm a 'we man,'" Seckinger has said. "I believe it takes the players, coaches and the community to have a solid football program. One main reason I've been successful is that I've had good assistants."

Seckinger is also a firm believer in fundamentals.

"People have said my teams are predictable. I say, 'Yes, they know where we're going. But let's see them stop us,'" Seckinger said.

"We may not win all the time, but what we don't know about football we'll make up for with hard work and effort."

Underlining his coaching philosophy, Seckinger says, is a belief in young men.

"I believe in kids and I believe they come through when you least expect it," he says. "I think we have to show an interest in kids, even if they're seniors and the season is over. We have to show them we care."

That belief was rewarded in his first year at Brighton, the mentor said.

"We had quality young men with good character this year," Seckinger said after the season ended. "We had a good blend between our juniors and our seniors."

"We improved this year, but there is still room for more improvement," Seckinger stated. "Now, if next year's juniors and seniors are willing to work hard, we'll try to continue to improve."

Smoke Those Houseplant Bugs Out

By KATHY COPLEY

There are lots of reasons for not using expensive chemicals to control bugs on your houseplants, so you don't need a list of reasons as much as you need to know a list of remedies.

For plants infected by aphids (often called plant lice), blow tobacco smoke through the foliage. This acts like many of the nicotine-based chemicals, but it's a lot easier and a good excuse for not giving up smoking. These soft-bodied insects can also be controlled with frequent misting with warm water.

Red spider mites are insidious pests which do serious damage to a plant before you realize they are there. They are microscopic but you will know they are there by their fine, almost dusty webs on the undersides of leaves. Shake the webs over a piece of white paper and they fall off for closer inspection.

These pests of impatiens, ivy, shefflera, and coleus like dry, warm air so they spread rapidly indoors. Mist frequently with warm water to control them.

Both aphids and spider mites can be controlled by brushing the affected surfaces with a solution of 1 Tbs. alcohol in 1 quart soapy water. Use a soft artists' paintbrush so you don't hurt the tender new growth most often affected.

Those oval encrustations on plants with smooth leaf surfaces, like rubber trees and figs, are called scale.

Wash the affected area with warm, soapy water. Sometimes rubbing the spots with a piece of nylon stocking helps remove stubborn infestations.

1-3 Card Of Thanks

FAMILY of Noel Turner wishes to thank the relatives, neighbors & friends for the many acts of kindness shown following the sudden death of our loved one The Family of Noel Turner

THE FAMILY of the late Anna Schoenhals would like to thank all our friends and relatives for flowers, cards, visits and food during the recent illness and loss of our sister and aunt A special thank you to Pastor Anderson for his visits and prayers, to the St. George Lutheran A.L.C.W. for the dinner served following the services, and to all who contributed for the memorial fund and for flowers. Sharing sorrow lightens the burden. May God Bless You All

1-4 In Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear wife Mildred Who passed away November 18th, 1973

When you lose someone you loved so dear, The grief is hard to hide, even though you know she suffered little the day she died, But still the hurt is deep inside. So put your arms around her Lord, Treat her with special care, to make up for all she suffered and all that seemed unfair. Loved and always remembered in our prayers Martin Benning Sr. and Family.

City of Northville

The warmth, the friendliness, the security of the old-fashioned neighborhood — it can't be created, but somehow we've captured it. Maybe it's because we're in Northville—two square miles of turn-of-the-century charm. Dotted with green hills and mill ponds, quaint shops and historic homes, tree-lined streets and friendly people. Or, maybe it's because we're blessed with gentle people right here

CLASSIFIED CASE HISTORY:

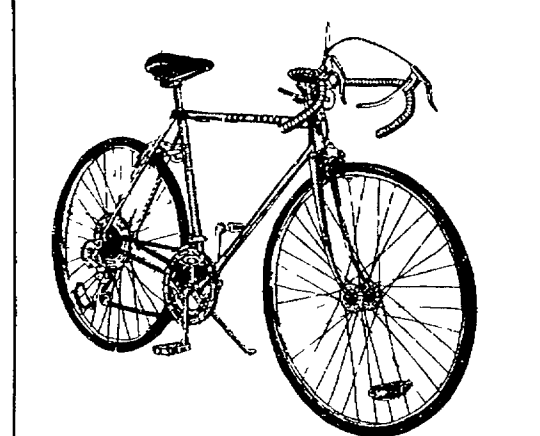

Outgrown ice skates are of no use to you... but think of the many people who could wear and enjoy them during this winter season! Why don't you let someone else in on a good thing, while you put some extra cash in your billfold for a new pair of skates or something else you'd like to buy. It's easy to find a buyer—just dial 349-1700 and place a low-cost ad in the Classified pages of this newspaper. Do it today for quick results!

PHIL RONGO

NOW THE CAPTAIN'S TABLE, the former Drawbridge restaurant in Northville has a new name and new management. Phil Rongo, formerly associated with the Clam Shop in downtown Detroit, is manager and business associate of Paul Fregolle, owner, in the restaurant.

Rongo has been on deck for the past month as the restaurant changed to a two-price menu featuring all seafood. Last Thursday the name change became official as the "Captain's Table" sign went up at the restaurant at 145 North Center Street in the building that formerly was the Methodist church.

The new manager and 11 new staff people have been working out the new menu with dinners at $7.50 and $10.50. All, Rongo points out, include soup or chowder, salad, marinated herring or fresh shrimp cocktail, potatoes, entree, and coffee or tea.

For $10.50 there's steamed live lobster, Alaska king crab legs, fancy lobster tail, seafood plate, surf and turf.

The $7.50 menu includes fresh file of sole, trout, perch, scrod, finnan haddie, frog legs, soft shell crabs (in season), flounder, clams, oysters (in season), whitefish, red snapper or shrimp.

rugged Brighton defense this year. An all-around athlete, Schmidt also played quarterback for the Bulldogs for half the season. A sure tackler and hard-nosed player, he had 17 solo tackles and 61 first hits for the Bulldogs, while also intercepting three passes. He was a first team All-SEC selection. Pinckney's Tom Wilson called Schmidt "one of the better athletes in Livingston County."

Gary Wiltse, a 6-2, 170 pound senior, picked off seven passes for the Pirates this year — just one shy of the school record set by his older brother, Steve, two years ago. With his good height, he was more than a match for opposing receivers.

McGlowry saw plenty of action for the Mustangs this year, working in both the offensive and defensive backfields. A 5-11, 175 pound senior, he was particularly effective on defense where he received honorable mention recognition on the Western Six All-Conference team. McGlowry continued the Northville tradition of strong defensive halfbacks by intercepting five passes this year.

Smoke Those Bugs Out

outside, but most people don't look forward to having them in pots indoors. To get rid of them, mix 1 Tsp. dry mustard in 1 gallon of water and pour it through the soil. The worms will crawl out through the drainage holes.

Or water the plant with water in which potatoes have been boiled. I have never had reason to try either of these remedies so I don't know why or how well they work.

While over-watering isn't exactly a plant pest, it can do as much or more damage than a few mealy bugs. Here's a tip that may help. In a pot with no drainage holes, fill the bottom ¼-1/3 with broken crockery, sand, gravel, etc., and insert a common plastic drinking straw. Add the plant and enough soil to fill in around it. Then cut the straw off at soil level.

Excess water drains through the sand and gravel and evaporates gradually through the straw. In a large pot, a short section of ½" pipe serves the same purpose.

If you have had success with a home plant remedy, send it to this newspaper for inclusion in a future article.

Luncheon menu includes sandwiches from $1.85, salads from $2.50 and broiler specialties with London broil and a skirt steak both priced at $3.50. Seafood specialties include scrod and perch at $3.10.

DR. R. G. WETTERSTROEM of the Northville area has been named a Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

The degree of Fellowship may be attained in either of two ways: successful completion of 600 or more hours of accredited continuing medical study, or achievement of diplomate status in the specialty of family practice as a result of passing a certifying examination administered by the American Board of Family Practice.

Fellowship entitles the conferee to use the title "Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians," or "FAAFP". The degree was conferred October 7 upon more than 1,000 members of the Academy in conjunction with the AAFP's annual convention and scientific assembly in Chicago. Ceremonies were held in McCormick Place's Arie Crown Theatre in Chicago before more than 2,500 persons. Fellowship candidates wore academic robes and mortarboard caps. They were recognized according to state chapter groups and the oath of fellowship was recited en masse.

The Academy, representing more than 37,000 family doctors, pioneered among national medical groups requiring members to take continuing study, a minimum of 150 accredited hours every three years. The AAFP, headquartered in Kansas City, is the largest of medicine's specialty groups.

COUNTRY FURNITURE and "a cross section of primitive pieces" will be exhibited by Sally Burgess of Brighton at a Christmas antique show being held from noon to 10 p.m. November 29 and 30 at historic Botsford Inn on Grand River at Eight Mile Road in Farmington. A special feature of the show will be a collection of majolica pieces as well as Victorian furniture in oak and walnut. Admission and parking are free.

ALESANDER H. RASEGAN of South Lyon has been promoted to chief engineer of chassis components of the Chevrolet Motor Division's Engineering Center in Warren.

The promotion was announced by Robert C. Stempel, Chevrolet's Director of Engineering. Stempel announced the appointment of two executive chief engineers, two chief engineers, and two staff engineers to new positions at the division's Engineering Center.

Rasegan, who was formerly staff engineer for brakes, suspensions, steering and engine mounts, takes over as chief engineer for chassis components from H. Bernard Ernst who was promoted to executive engineer of administration.

Rasegan joined Chevrolet Engineering and attended General Motors Institute as their sponsored student in 1960, receiving a BS degree in engineering in 1964 and an MS degree in engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1967.

He served in a number of engineering posts including senior research engineer, project engineer, and design engineer until his promotion to his previous position of staff engineer of components in 1973.

Rasegan resides in South Lyon.

GERRY DODDS, a long-time Northville resident, has joined the sales staff of Thompson-Brown Realty Company, it was announced this week by Rosemary Hagge, associate-broker.

Formerly manager of H & R Block, she also has had experience in selling commercial and industrial properties for a Novi firm. Having attended advance tax schools, she worked as a tax consultant for a local firm, and she planned and supervised construction of the office building now used by Dr. Shafiq Ali.

She has been active in several civic projects, and presently she provides volunteer photographic work for Schoolcraft College. Her hobby is photography.

Mrs. Dodds is an active member of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

She, her husband Kenneth W., and their children, Carol and John Dyer, live at 19680 Clement Road.

THE LEMON TREE SALON OF BEAUTY, 808 Old U.S. 23, five miles north of Grand River and three miles south of M-59, is now open for business.

Sue Thompson, owner and operator, announces that the salon has a complete service in manicures and facials. The manicurist specializes in nail wrapping and patie nails. The facial experts are also skilled in body waxing.

The salon is open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings. There are four operators.

MARVIN L. ESCH, U.S. Representative from the Second District, will address the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors National Association (SMACNA), on November 24 at the Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

EDWARD F. O'MEARA Jr., a veteran sales executive with the Gold Bond Stamp Company, has been named Gold Bond zone manager for the Southeastern United States and Bahamas, company officials announced here today.

The appointment was announced by H. Glendon Johnson, national vice president of sales for the Gold Bond Stamp Company.

Johnson said O'Meara, a native of Novi, will be responsible for all sales activity of the Gold Bond Stamp Company in the Southeastern United States including Florida, Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina and the Bahamas. The headquarters office for the Southeastern Zone of the Gold Bond Stamp Company is located in Atlanta.

O'Meara has devoted a life-long career to the incentive and trading stamp industries. Most recently he was assistant zone manager in the Minneapolis office of the Gold Bond Stamp Company.

He attended school at Arizona State University and the University of Michigan. He is currently moving his family from Minnesota to a new home in the Indian Hills area of suburban Atlanta.

The Gold Bond Stamp Company is headquartered in Minneapolis, Minn.

Mustang Swimmers Finish Eighth in State

Northville's "Big Orange" swimming team swam against some powerful competition at the Girls' State Swimming and Diving Championships last Friday and Saturday in Ann Arbor and wound up with a very respectable eighth place finish.

Leading the squad, as they have all season, were Sophomore Vida Mikalonis, who placed in two events, and Freshman Kyle Roggenbuck, who placed in one of the individual events.

Both swimmers combined with teammates Tracey Piscopink and Marge Boland for an eighth place finish in the 200-yard medley relay.

These performances earned Northville 35 team points and the eighth spot in the team standings. Just behind the Mustangs was another Western Six Conference school, Livonia Churchill, which had 32 team points and finished ninth.

Scoring points in the meet were swimmers from 31 different schools. It was the fourth year for the Michigan High School Athletic Association sanctioned girls' swim tournament. The event was held at the University of Michigan Matt Mann Pool.

Out-swimming the rest of the field was the team from East Lansing which piled up 203 points to win the state championship. Second in the team standings was the squad from Livonia Stevenson which had 166 team points.

Northville Coach Karen Turner was very pleased with the performance of the Mustang tankers. Most of the girls from Northville, who attended the state, reached peaked performances, swimming their fastest times of the season, she noted.

Roggenbuck, who won the highest position for the Mustangs when she swam to a second place finish in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 25.25. It was her fastest time of the season and a Northville girls' team record. She was in the third position during the early part of the race but came on strong at the end to finish second.

Going into the 50-yard freestyle Roggenbuck was seeded sixth and her high finish was somewhat of a surprise. Her fastest time during the season was a 25.8 mark, which was the previous Northville team record. She broke that record in winning her preliminary heat with a 25.49 time.

Coach Turner indicated that a faulty turn had caused Roggenbuck to swerve a little in the preliminary event and slowed her time. The freshman swimmer corrected the problem in the finals, swimming straight in the middle of her lane for her fastest time of the season.

"That's really moving it for a freshman," commented the coach about Roggenbuck's time.

The winning time in the 50 yard freestyle was a new state record turned in by Livonia Stevenson swimmer Carol Eggers of 25.02. The previous record in the event was 25.10 set in 1972.

Mikalonis placed in two events as she won a fifth in the 100-yard butterfly and an 11th in the 100-yard backstroke. She was seeded three prior to the butterfly event and finished with a 1:02.65 time for the fifth slot. Her time in the preliminaries of that event was a 1:01.62 mark.

Going into the backstroke event Mikalonis was seeded seventh and she eventually finished the race in 11th place with a 1:04.24 mark. Her time in the preliminaries of that event was a 1:04.24 mark. She holds the Northville team record in that event of 1:02.8, which was set two weeks ago at the Western Six Conference Swim Meet.

"Her times in the preliminaries were faster," Coach Turner said, "that's a lot of swimming for a sophomore. Six races in two days at top speed."

Both Roggenbuck and Mikalonis combined with Piscopink, a senior, and Boland, a sophomore, for a 2:00.05 time in the 200-yard medley relay for eighth place in that event. The time breaks the previous Northville team record in that event of 2:00.4, which was also set at the conference swim meet by the same relay squad.

There were two other entries from Northville in the state competition. Boland swam in the 100-yard breaststroke event. Her preliminary time of 1:16.7 was not good enough to reach either the consolation or final rounds of the tournament.

Northville's entry in the 400 yard freestyle relay also failed to get past the preliminary events. The team of Piscopink, Kathy Biery, Cathy Foust and Krysten VanRenterghem swam to a 4:02.01 time in the preliminaries. All the members of that relay team, except senior Piscopink, will be eligible to return to competition for Northville next season.

In the diving regionals, held November 11 at Bloomfield Lahser High School, Northville failed to advance any divers to the state finals. Mustang divers Andy Conder, Kathy Settles, and Barb Jones placed 22nd, 23rd, and 33rd respectively for Northville.

Northville's swim team looks strong for next year. Besides Piscopink, there is only one other senior who will graduate this school year, she is Jan Greenlee. The rest of the team, which won a league title and was 10-2 in dual meet competition, was made up of underclassmen.

Clutch Final Second Shot Nets Novi A Thrilling Win

Patty Cameron connected on what was probably the most exciting shot of her basketball career at Novi High School with 11 seconds left in a game against Lincoln last Tuesday, giving Novi a victory and a clear shot at a share of the Southeastern Conference title.

About 225 people in the Novi High School gym erupted in a frenzy of screams and yells as Lincoln and Novi traded the lead during the final quarter of play. Novi finally ended on top by a 31-29 margin, but the victory was not easy.

The Ladycats from Novi fought from three points down twice to bring the score to a one point difference. Elaine Maki swished a shot in from the corner to make up the deficit once and Anne Robinson, a freshman recently brought up from the Junior varsity, netted two free throws to keep the Ladycats close.

However with 51 seconds left in the game things looked bleak for the Ladycats. Mary Kardel, senior co-captain of the Ladycats, had fouled out and Lincoln held a one point edge.

It was the freshman Robinson who pulled down a rebound at the Lincoln end of the court and cleared the basketball to Cameron. Cameron sent the ball through the hoop for two points and before Lincoln could get the basketball down the court again the buzzer sounded ending the game.

Earlier in the season Lincoln had defeated Novi by the same one point margin under similar circumstances. During that earlier contest Novi held the edge late in the game until Lincoln went ahead by one point with only seconds to play.

"Everything evens out," commented Novi Coach Chris Hayward. "The same thing happened to us down there."

Coach Hayward had hoped a full court press would be effective in stopping Lincoln but the Railsplitters proved too fast and aggressive for that tactic to succeed.

"Our full court press didn't work," commented Hayward. "They read it real well, and went to the middle which is where you're supposed to go."

Despite leaving the game early, Kardel led the Ladycats in the scoring department with 10 points. Dede McAllen netted eight points, Cameron had four, Carol Pohynen scored three, while Robinson, Maki and Janet Cook each had two points.

That win, coupled with Friday's 47-40 victory over Saline, gives the Ladycats a 7-2 league record and a 10-2 mark overall. This past Tuesday Novi was scheduled to play against Dexter, the only other team to beat the Ladycats this season. A Novi victory over Dexter would give the Ladycats a share of the Southeastern Conference Girls' Basketball title.

Against Saline, Novi recovered from a 10-4 deficit in the fourth quarter to gain the victory.

"Other than that first quarter were fine," Coach Hayward said. "For awhile we couldn't buy a basket."

The Novi players recovered quickly with Cameron leading the way in the scoring column with 14 points. Robinson netted 12 points for Novi, Maki had nine, Cook scored six, while Pohynen, Kardel and Lari Neutz each had two points.

"We used full court presses against Saline, both the zone and man-to-man," Coach Hayward said. "We were much more aggressive defensively. Three different times we caught them in the corner where they couldn't move. They finally went to all outside shooting against us in the second half."

Coach Hayward added that one of the goals going into the Saline game was to keep Saline player Mary Kay Crosse from scoring. Crosse netted 12 points against the Ladycats during their first matchup, but managed only two points in last Friday's game.

After the Dexter game the Ladycats will enter into the Class B District Basketball Tournament at Brighton. Their first game is slated for 6:30 p.m. this Thursday against the host school, Brighton. The winner of that contest will advance to the second round of play 6:30 p.m. Saturday against South Lyon. The second round winner will move on to the district finals which are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. next Monday.

SUPER SOPHOMORE—Vida Mikalonis, a sophomore swimmer on the Northville team, has rewritten the Mustang record book with her performances throughout the season. She finished the season with another fine effort at the Girls' State Swimming and Diving Championships in Ann Arbor last Friday and Saturday. Mikalonis is shown above racing to the fifth place finish in the 100 yard butterfly event. She also was 11th in the 100 yard backstroke.

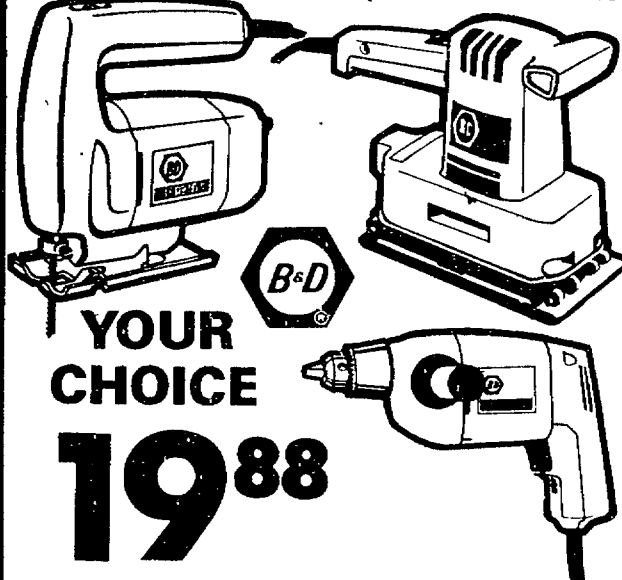

CLUTCH SCORER—Patty Cameron (21) lets loose with a lay-up for the Novi Varsity Basketball team. When the pressure was on in a game against Lincoln Cameron connected on another lay-up with only 11 seconds left to play. The shot gave the Ladycats a 31-29 victory. Watching the outcome of Cameron's shot is Dede McAllen (15) another Novi player.

Cage Hopes Pinned on Untested Seniors

Coaches of the Western Six varsity basketball teams have a tradition they adhere to every year.

After the season is over they all gather at the home of coach of the team which finished on top of the league standings. During their meeting the All-League basketball team is picked and often the conversation rolls around to which team will be the title contender next year.

Last year the meeting was held at the home of Northville Varsity Basketball Coach Walt Koepke. His team finished the 1974-75 season with a 22-2 record and a league championship.

All the coaches were aware that Northville had 10 seniors on the team last year and Koepke remembers that the Mustangs were not mentioned as a title contender for the 1975-76 season which begins November 25 here against South Lyon at 6:30 p.m.

"This is the first year I have coached a varsity basketball team when I have not had a single starter back," Koepke said. "Normally that's the time for a coach to start talking about a rebuilding year. I don't think I have to resort to that because I still think we can have a winning season."

Prospects for the upcoming season suffered a setback last week when Jay Slagle and Tony Armada both injured their ankles and will probably not see action in the first game. Also, two other players quite the team, one of whom was slated to start for the Mustangs in their opening game.

"Being realistic," Koepke added, "we can't really think about a championship. I think we can win more than we lose."

Koepke mentioned that like last year he has a good group of hard-working players.

Lack of height was listed as a problem for the Mustangs. Koepke said his team will be working on problem areas of rebounding, ball handling, and aggressiveness on defense. Practices have been held six days a week since October 27.

"At times our shooting appears to be quite good," commented the coach, "but we have some periods where it seems to be kind of weak."

All five of the top players on this year's Northville team are senior letter winners returning from the 1974-75 championship team.

Cris Armada, a 5-8, 144 pound senior guard, is described by his coach as the steadiest, most aggressive, and most exciting player on the team.

"He is extremely quick, aggressive, and a good defensive player," Koepke said. "Being a student of karate has helped him with his quickness and defense."

Mark Lisowski, a 6-0, 182 pound senior guard, is said to be equally aggressive. He has improved all areas of his game this year.

As the biggest player on the team, Jay Slagle, a 6-4, 188 pound senior, will hold down the center slot. Koepke said Slagle also has improved over last year and even though he didn't play much last season. "We're going to get a good performance from him" this year.

Injured during the football season, Bill Piccolo, a 6-2, 190 pound forward, probably will miss the first few games. The coach said Northville's basketball performance will suffer until Piccolo returns to the lineup.

Despite an injury which forced him to sit out the last three football games, Piccolo, an aggressive linebacker, was named to the Western Six Conference All-League team and the Sliger Publications All-Area team.

A junior with the best chance to see action is 5-11, 148 pound forward Tony Armada. He was the leading scorer on the junior varsity team last season.

Another junior who could possibly see a lot of action, and who is doing well in practice, is 5-7, 149 pound Mike Graham.

Spelling Slagle at the center position will be 6-3, 176 pound junior Dave Duey. Reports are that Duey also has improved during practice this fall.

"Our center has a habit of getting into foul trouble so Duey could be playing quite a bit of basketball," Koepke said.

Other players on the team are: Bob Sweeney, Rick Bischoff, Mike Murray, Greg Harper, Dave Brewer, Earl Bingley, Steve Hudolin and Don Morelli. Morelli also is recovering from a football injury and should be ready for action after Christmas.

Athletes of the Week

ANNE ROBINSON

Anne Robinson, a freshman on the Novi Varsity Basketball team, earned Wildcat of the Week honors with her play in two victories last week. Recently brought up from the junior varsity team, Robinson grabbed a crucial rebound late in a game against Lincoln and cleared the ball to a teammate who scored the winning points. Earlier in that game she netted two free throws which kept the game within reach. In another game against Saline, Robinson was the second leading scorer with 12 points.

KYLE ROGGENBUCK

Kyle Roggenbuck, a freshman on the Northville swimming team, earned Mustang of the Week honors with her performance at the state swimming meet in Ann Arbor last Friday and Saturday. Her second place finish in the 50 yard freestyle represents the highest individual finish for Northville which placed eighth in the team competition. In earning second place honors Roggenbuck shattered the Northville team record in that event twice, once in the preliminary round and again in the finals.

Mustangs Enter Tourney Seeking First Victory

Northville's varsity basketball team fell to defeat for the 14th time this season after dropping their final home game to Livonia Churchill by a 36-25 score, last Thursday.

The team has yet to win a game.

Kathy Belkowski led the Northville effort against Churchill with 11 points. Patty Brown was second in the scoring column with six points, Denise McDermaid had four points, while Kim Adams and Chris Suddendorf each had two points.

Northville made an early bid to win the game, taking an early 4-0 lead in the first stanza. After falling behind later in that period the Mustangs fought back to gain a 9-8 lead early in the second quarter. Churchill dominated the game from that point.

Walled Lake Western soundly defeated the Mustangs by a 74-32 score last Tuesday at Walled Lake.

Sharon Broderick led the Mustang scorers with 11 points. Suddendorf had six points, while Belkowski and Debbie Korte each netted four points.

Final hope of a regular season victory slipped away as the Mustangs dropped their 15th straight game to Ann Arbor. Huron last Monday night.

Despite their 0-15 record during the regular season play, the Mustangs are preparing for the Class A district basketball tournament held at Farmington.

Northville drew a bye in the first round of that tournament and will advance to second round competition where the team will meet the victor of a game between Plymouth Canton and Farmington. That second round match will be played 8:30 p.m. November 24. The winner of the second round will move into the finals which are being played 7 p.m. November 25.

"Considering the type of season we have had," Coach Minor said, "the kids' spirits are high and they are ready to give what they have to the game."

NORTHVILLE RECORD - NOVI NEWS FOOTBALL CONTEST

Enter Today! You May Be A Winner!

HERE ARE THE RULES

Take a plain piece of paper and number down the left hand side from 1 to 16. You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 16 and each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend. To complete your entry you must do the following:

- (1) after each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding square.
- (2) following the sponsor's name — write the name of the winning team
- (3) in addition you must pick a score on the outcome of the game in square 16. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner.

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry). In case of tie, prize money will be split.

NOTE: Only ONE entry per HOUSEHOLD family per week. Prize money paid only to name on entry. PLEASE do not enter several times using friends' names. Such entries will be disqualified if discovered.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office at 104 W. Main each week.

Entries should be addressed "Football Contest" Northville Record, 104 W. Main, Northville and must be postmarked or brought to our office no later than 5 p.m. each Friday.

Wildcat JV Cagers Unbeaten

Novi's junior varsity basketball team earned at least a share of the Southeastern Conference Girls' Basketball title last Friday, extending its unbeaten streak to 15 straight games with a 35-7 victory at Saline.

A victory this Tuesday at Dexter will give the Ladycat squad sole possession of the league title. This is the third year in a row that the Novi junior varsity team has won the league championship.

Laura Birou led all Novi scorers in the game with 11 points. Ricci Mulligan, Mary Ann Wiggins and Betty Banks each had six points, while Polly Sinclair, Shelly Brough and Patty Tredinnick scored two points apiece.

Coach Chris Hayward said her junior varsity team used a full court press to its advantage in the Saline game, holding Saline scoreless in the third quarter. In 15 games this season, Novi has held its opposition scoreless in 14 quarters.

Earlier last week Novi won a close fought game over a team from Lincoln by a 39-25 score. The Ladycats overcame a 6-4 first quarter deficit to win the game.

Wizinski led the scoring against Lincoln with 12 points. Banks and Mulligan netted seven points apiece, Sue Beal scored five points, and Birou and Heather Barr each scored four points.

Over the past three years Novi's junior varsity basketball teams have compiled a 27-2 record in the Southeastern Conference.

Harriers Receive Honors

Junior cross country runner Bob Gould and his sophomore teammate, Don Wilber, shared the most valuable runner award at Northville's cross country awards banquet, held last Tuesday at the Presbyterian Church.

"Both were justified in gaining this award," Coach Ralph Redmond said. "Gould, who somewhat overshadowed Wilber, for his outstanding performances, and Wilber for setting a sophomore record."

Both were consistent runners for Northville.

Wilber also was honored as the scholar athlete of the cross country team.

Sophomore Phil Reed received the most improved award and John Coram won the leadership award.

Mustangs Lose Again

Northville's junior varsity basketball team remained winless on the season after dropping a 27-10 decision to Livonia Churchill, last Thursday at Northville.

Anne Pond and Cindy Beradi combined to lead the Northville scorers with three points apiece. Kim Tromans had two points, while Liz Pixley and Donna Korte each scored one point.

Stuart Wins Football Contest

Steve Stuart came up with the top prize money in this past week's football contest by virtue of his tie-breaking score for Michigan's victory over Illinois.

Steve, like most other contestants, figured the Wolverines would clobber Illinois by a bigger margin than the 21-15 win they posted Saturday afternoon. Nevertheless, the 292 Sherrie Lane resident's guess of 35-14 was good enough to win.

Second and third place winners, also with two mistakes but with poorer tie-breaking scores, were Bob Heckerl of 18585 Sheldon Road, in second, and Fred J. Robinson of 21060 Taft, in third.

The three winners were the only contestants to have only two mistakes. Eleven others finished out of the money with three mistakes. They were: Steve Dykstra, Glen Soleau, Pat Lewis, Steve Lindemier, Myles Burke, Bob Potter, Tim Bennett, Jim Howell, Frances Kritch, Mike McClure, and Jim Behen.

Twenty-three contestants had four mistakes, 30 had five mistakes, 31 had six mistakes, and the remainder had seven mistakes or more.

Most missed game in last week's contest was the Indiana-Wisconsin contest, of course, because that game ended in a 9-9 tie. To get it right a contestant had to guess a tie, and none did that. Pittsburgh's surprising 34-20 triumph over Notre Dame caused quite a few problems for contestants as did Houston's one-point squeaker, 20-19 over Miami.

Soccer Is Popular Recreation Sport

Talk with local recreation officials and you may be convinced that soccer is the up and coming sport.

A sport which has enjoyed strong world-wide participation and following, soccer is now beginning to gain status in this country where it has not traditionally been one of the more popular sports.

Local soccer officials speculate that some of the reasons for the popularity of the sport may be televised professional soccer games and the introduction of such foreign stars like Pele to the professional soccer teams in the United States.

Whatever the reason, the Western Suburban Soccer League, still in its first full year of operation, has experienced a 50-percent increase in participation. Last spring the league held its first games with 400 players, and this fall reports indicate there are 600 youngsters playing soccer in the program.

Eight Northville teams were entered through the Northville Parks and Recreation Department. In total there were 38 teams divided into the four age group divisions.

Area parks and recreation departments decided to form the Western Suburban League last winter, instead of joining the Michigan Youth Soccer League. Teams in the suburban league are grouped closer together for easier travelling.

Plymouth is the headquarters for the league. Other entrants are from the cities of Livonia, Farmington, and West Bloomfield.

League officials are hoping for participation of about 800 kids this spring and their success has them talking about making soccer a varsity sport at the high schools.

"Soccer is growing tremendously in the area," said Chuck Skene, Plymouth's assistant recreation director and a graduate of Northville High School. "You don't have to buy a lot of equipment to field a team, and size is not as much a factor as in football."

Once goal posts and soccer balls are purchased the biggest expense is for uniforms and shoes. Even those items are not so expensive because T-shirts, shorts, and knee socks are the usual uniform and tennis shoes may be worn.

Each team carries about 15 players on its roster. A team consists of 11 players during the game. Northville teams are entered in each age division except the 16 and under bracket.

Dan Swayne, coach of Northville's Arsenal team, which was unbeaten in the 14 and under league, said soccer is a great conditioning sport. There is constant action in the two 45-minute halves of play, he noted.

"There's still some of the contact," Swayne said, "and all of the team play and spirit that football and hockey provide."

Swayne had his Arsenal team practice five days a week during the season. The players work on the art of dribbling the soccer ball with their feet and they also practice team play.

Assisting Swayne with the coaching duties was Dr. Marvin Gans, athletic director of Schoolcraft College.

Schoolcraft's fine soccer team has advanced to Inter-Region play against other junior colleges. But the college coach, Larry Christoff, reports that it seems like every year he has to start building his soccer talent from scratch.

Recreation officials report that he may now have a building ground for the soccer program.

Schoolcraft Soccer Barred From Inter-Region Tourney

Schoolcraft's championship soccer team was barred from Inter-Region competition by an order from the executive director of the National Junior College Athletic Association.

One of the Schoolcraft players was found to have participated on a team in the Detroit Recreation League. It is against the rules for a player to play on more than one team.

The order was issued as a result of a protest from Macomb County Community College.

Macomb went to the Inter-Region Tournament, last Friday and Saturday in Illinois, in place of Schoolcraft as a result of the executive order.

Schoolcraft had compiled an 8-1-1 record on the season including Michigan and a Region 12 soccer titles.

Coach Larry Christoff received the shocking news the Wednesday before he planned to take his team to Illinois for the tournament.

Dr. Marvin Gans, Schoolcraft athletic director, reports that the player at fault had participated in the other league more than once during the season.

During the lull between tournaments and the regular season the Schoolcraft player again participated in the Detroit league. Dr. Gans reports that he took that players' uniform away and kicked him off the team. However, Macomb County Community College found out about the indiscretion and filed a protest.

Each team carries about 15 players on its roster. A team consists of 11 players during the game. Northville teams are entered in each age division except the 16 and under bracket.

Dan Swayne, coach of Northville's Arsenal team, which was unbeaten in the 14 and under league, said soccer is a great conditioning sport. There is constant action in the two 45-minute halves of play,

THE MEADS MILL UNDECLARED FOOTBALL TEAM

Meads Mill Opens with Perfect Season

Meads Mill Middle School almost didn't have a football team in this, its first year of operation. Because of budget problems the middle school football program was cut from the Northville School District budget.

When private donations brought a reinstatement of the program, Football Coach Dave Schopp and his players went out and opened the school's football history with a perfect 6-0 record against opponents.

"We did get started a little late," Schopp said. "We practiced Saturdays to make up for missed practices."

Schopp was encouraged that 35 of the 38 players who joined the football team finished the season. Usually, he said, ten or twelve leave the team.

Those players who stayed combined to score a total of 202 points during the season, while allowing their opponents to score only 18 points.

Joe Hamp was the leading scorer for the Meads Mill team with nine touchdowns. Quarterback Bob Crisan accounted for seven touchdowns as he passed for five scores and ran for two more. Todd Nadeau and Ken Webber each scored four touchdowns and Rob Marzonie had one touchdown.

Undeclared seasons are not new to Schopp. Back in 1972 he coached the Cooke Middle School football team to a perfect season.

"Probably the key to our success was the defense usually turned the ball over in good field position," Schopp said of this year's unbeaten team. "Plus Joe Hamp is just an outstanding runner and he broke a lot of plays himself

"The team improved during the year," continued Schopp. "We were able to play more boys during the end of the season."

Schopp added that the Meads Mill eighth grade players developed skills this past season which will be an asset to the high school football team.

The seventh grade team at Meads Mill finished the season with a 3-2-1 record.

Ashby, Platte Lead Wrestlers

Northville Wrestling Coach Gary Emerson is predicting a possible third place finish in the Western Six Conference competition for the Mustangs.

His pick for the number one slot is Walled Lake Western. Behind Western he sees Waterford Mott, followed by a battle between Northville and Farmington Harrison for third place.

"Walled Lake Western will again be the league champ without a doubt," says Emerson. "They have only one sport they're good at and that's wrestling. They have more kids out in one year than we have in three years."

Northville finished fifth in the Western Six Conference wrestling standings last season. This fall there are 32 wrestlers on the team, including nine returning lettermen.

Senior Co-captains Brant Ashby and Dan Platte lead the field of returning veterans.

Ashby was the Western Six Champion at the 130 pound weight division last season. He is expected to wrestle in a heavier division during the upcoming competition.

Platte was unbeaten against league wrestlers but he didn't get a crack at the championship because he fell ill prior to the conference wrestling tournament. Platte, a junior, grappled at the 112 pound level last year and is expected to work at a heavier weight this season.

"At the heavier weights we don't have too many kids and at the real light weights we don't have too many," explains Emerson. "In the middle we'll be really rough."

Two more of the returning letterwinners placed in the league meet last season. David Bentley, a junior, was second in the 98 pound competition last season and Rick Bentley, a senior, finished third in the 105 pound division.

Also returning are five more juniors who were letter winners last season and who are in their third year of wrestling competition. They are: Greg Cole, Mike Georgoff, Norman Pratt, Ed Talbot, and Bob Zabinski.

The team has been holding workouts since October 27 in preparation for their first meet slated November 25 at Howell.

National Campers and Hikers

The local chapter "Rarin' to Go" will be meeting at the home of president Norm Balko on November 22. At this time, they will be planning the rest of the year's programs until camping resumes again in April. The group is still interested in acquiring new members who are interested in Family Camping of all kinds.

Novi Boy Scouts

The Boy Scouts are planning to go camping from December 5-7 at Burn's Frontier Cabin at Waterloo Recreation Area. The first 17 boys who register and pay their $5 fee will be going. On Monday, December 1 from 7:30 p.m. - 9 p.m., a Court of Honor will be held at the Community Building. New boys who have recently joined the troops are: John Bairr, Scott Brayton, Michael Brewster, David Heinz, Mike Kamish, Steven LaRiviere, Wayne Limbriht, John Stark, Steve Tomanek and Scott Gross.

V.O.I.C.E.

Village Oaks first general meeting which was held on November 11 was a success. Village Oaks School parents had an opportunity to meet and ask questions of personnel representing all areas involved in Novi School special services. During the business meeting, it was voted to sponsor purchase of various pieces of equipment suggested by faculty for the school from designated monies now in VOICE treasury. Watch for details of the December 4 Sing-a-long.

Orchard Hills Booster Club

Tonight, November 19, there is a meeting at the Orchard Hills Gym at 8 p.m. A very special program is being planned entitled an "Ideal Program" and there will be a clarification of your values and those of your child. This program was planned by Mrs. Traynor and Mrs. Prine, both of the teaching staff. Other business will include a report from the Bazaar. These working on the committee would like to give a very special thank you to Custodian Joe Talozolo, and also to everyone who helped make it a success.

Set Meeting with Planners

Consider Cricket Corners Multiples

A proposal for a multiple housing development on 52 acres at Beck and Six Mile roads still has life despite a recent recommendation of the Northville Township Planning Commission that it be denied.

In reviewing the commission's recommendation and the proposal, called Cricket Corners, the township board last week decided to meet with planners to further discuss the matter before reaching a decision.

The joint township board-planning commission meeting is to take place at 7:15 p.m., prior to the regular Thursday, December 11 meeting of the board.

Township Treasurer Charles Rosenberg moved to table further consideration until December 11 because, in his opinion, the proposal "appears to have merit."

Spokesmen for the proposed development argued that it represents a density of eight units per acre, considerably less than multiple housing complexes elsewhere that have not proven to be a handicap to the communities in which they are located.

Development of single family housing on the property is economically unsound, a spokesman argued, and the fact that the property is bounded on two sides by mining operations compounds the problem of gaining financing for single family housing. Furthermore, the township already has vetoed a proposal for development of mobile home sites on the property, board members were reminded.

In response to the argument of financing, Trustee Richard Mitchell argued that if the board recognized economics in this case as being one of the factors that should influence the board decision, then this same factor must be considered in all other rezoning cases, most of which argue economics.

In making the denial motion, Planner Fred Philippeau two months ago had pointed out that there still are "large amounts of undeveloped land already zoned for multiple in the township and no demand is seen for additional."

The recommendation for the township board of trustees for denial also pointed out that three feasible ways are available to develop the property under the present zoning, including the new planned neighborhood development-cluster concept.

In recommending denial to the planners, Planning Consultant George Vilcan had stated that the change to multiple "could reopen the demand for a mobile home park," which the developers originally sought.

Christmas Stamps Here

But Supply May Be Short

Both of the two Christmas stamp designs issued for the 1975 holiday mailing are literally "price-less."

And, in addition to carrying no monetary denomination, they may be somewhat difficult to obtain in the Northville area where a first supply of 20,000 depicting an 1878 card was only received Monday.

The first shipment of the religious stamp, with a 15th century madonna and child painting reproduced, was received the first week in November, according to Postmaster John Steimel, who felt they would sell out fast.

Novi and Wixom post offices, however, anticipated no difficulties last week as they had received shipments of both versions through the Royal Oak post office.

many suburban Wayne County post offices not getting their Christmas quotas.

"We may well run out of all 10 cent stamps during the holiday season," predicted Northville post office staff members.

The non-denominational format was adopted because of uncertainty of postage rates at the time it was necessary to begin production of the stamps.

Stamps for domestic use are valid for postage at 10 cents, the present first-class rate which is not being raised for the 1975 Christmas mailing.

In event of subsequent increase in first-class rates, which are expected to go to 13 cents, the postal service states, the value of the Christmas stamps will remain at 10 cents.

This year's religious stamp is based upon a madonna and child painting by Domenico Ghirlandaio, a 15th century Italian artist of the Florentine school. The painting hangs in the National Gallery of Art. The stamp upon which the design is used was done by Bradbury Thompson.

A Christmas card of 1878 depicting a cupid swinging from a holly-decorated bell and bearing the "Merry Christmas!" message is the basis for the other holiday stamp. The original card was by Louis Prang and was adapted by Steven Dohanos. It is among the early Christmas cards in the collection of the Museum of the City of New York.

Slate Nature Hike

Sunday morning guided nature hikes for the general public along the nature trails at Kensington Metropark near Milford will be held on Sunday, November 23.

Walks start at 9 a.m. only and take about two hours. Persons should meet at the nature center building and naturalists will explain about fall color, migrating birds and mammals.

Novi Boundary Hearing Date Set

The Michigan Court of Appeals will hear the Novi Boundary case December 4 at 10 a.m. in Lansing.

Serving on that panel will be justices Nathan Kaufman, Thomas M. Burns, and Louis McGregor.

The Novi case involves a judgment by the State Boundaries Commission allowing all of the township except for Brookland Farms to be annexed by the City of Novi. However, an appeal to Ingham County Circuit Court brought an opinion that the State Boundaries Commission is unconstitutional.

An appeal of the decision by the City of Novi and a counter appeal by Novi Township left both bodies waiting for the Michigan Court of Appeals hearing.

In a recent hearing before a different panel of the Michigan Court of Appeals, the panel ruled in a case between the City of Midland and the Township of Midland that the boundary commission is unconstitutional. Novi City Attorney David Fried is hoping to persuade the panel hearing the Novi case that the other panel was wrong.

Fried told the Novi council Monday that he expects the issue to be decided ultimately in the Michigan Supreme Court.

I-275 Section Set For Traffic Friday

A four-mile section of Interstate 275 Freeway in Monroe County will be opened to traffic at 11 a.m., November 21, the State Highway Commission announced today.

The opening boosts Michigan's total interstate mileage to 1,066 and total freeway mileage to 1,589.

The four-mile section extends from Interstate 75 north of Monroe to US-24. It interchanges with both I-75 and US-24 to form the first section of the north-south I-275 Freeway, planned to carry traffic from I-75 north of Monroe to I-75 northwest of Pontiac, passing along the eastern borders of Northville and Novi.

Dedication ceremonies, sponsored by the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, will be held in the I-275 interchange with I-75 just north of Monroe. Attending will be Miss Michigan Transpo 1976, Barbara Tomak of Lansing, and state and local officials. Keynote speaker will be Rep. Raymond C. Kehres of Monroe. The public is invited.

Contractor on the $8.9 million project was Holloway Construction Company of Wixom. Bids were taken in May, 1973.

Historical Society to Hear Nostalgia Talk Tomorrow

Antique tools and early grist mills will be the subject of a talk by Donald Peterson to the Northville Historical Society at its November meeting at 8 p.m. this Thursday in the old library in the Mill Race.

Entitled, "Nostalgia — The Result of Competition and Suffering," his talk will include information about the Nankin Mill in Westland.

Three-screen slides and movies are used to illustrate the subject.

Peterson, a Westland resident, is a member of the Mid-West Tool Collectors, Early Engine Club of Greenfield Village and the Housewares-Hardware Association of Michigan.

program chairman, will introduce the speaker.

Tri-Delts Raise Funds

Delta Delta Delta sorority alumnae of Dearborn-Western Wayne County will sponsor a mini-carnival Tuesday, December 2, to raise funds and collect toys for the Children's Leukemia Foundation.

The carnival is part of Sleighbell Day, a national program sponsored by Tri-Deltas to raise money to support research for children's blood diseases.

Locally all proceeds and toys will be donated to the Child Research Center and Beaumont Hospital.

Admission to the carnival, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drayton, 27480 Spring Valley Drive, Farmington Hills, is a wrapped toy for a leukemia patient.

Reservations should be made with Mrs. Homer Tolan, 851-4663, by November 29.

A & P Opens In Spring of '76

The development will feature three major stores: A&P, TGY junior department store, and PAC Drugs. Besides those stores, the L-shaped shopping center will hold approximately 22 other stores including, if negotiations currently under way are successful, a book store, gift shop, restaurant, beauty shop, lady's boutique, medical offices, ice cream parlor, sporting goods, and electronics stores.

"We're looking for additional people and tenants," said Arnold. "We're optimistic bringing the largest center to date in Novi."

Arnold said that problems are not expected in competing with the Dayton-Hudson shopping center opening in mid-1977 because, "We're called a community center. We're not a regional center. We serve the purpose of serving the immediate community. Psychologically, it's a different shopping atmosphere."

Arnold explained that, "Novi has taken the response of a regional shopping center and will have people coming in from Howell and all areas. We're involved with the thousands of people within a five mile radius."

Appearing enthusiastic about opening the first full grocery store in Novi, Arnold said, "They're (A&P) determined to get back their share of the market." What A&P calls a "super-store" with 30,000 square feet is almost double the average supermarket store size of 16,000.

Ring the shopping center will be a road which will also provide access to multiple apartments to be located to the west and north of the shopping center as a buffer zone.

"We're contemplating approximately 100 units to be constructed on the back end," said Arnold. Original construction of the shopping center itself was held up for almost a year because of financing problems and Arnold said that the two story rental apartments will be constructed "as soon as satisfactory financing becomes available."

Construction on apartments should begin within the next few months, Arnold indicated.

The shopping center is on property which was originally owned by Max Sheldon who subsequently sold it to Temple Management, a Southfield based firm which developed the Brighton Mall and others.

Board Won't Join Lawsuit

Northville Township Board has reaffirmed its stand not to participate further in the action of townships against the county to ensure continued sheriff's patrolling.

Northville had been part of a group of Wayne County townships pledged to fight in the courts any attempt to remove or curtail sheriff's patrol operation in townships.

From time to time, some commissioners have argued that patrolling in townships should be subsidized by the township since they presently do not pay any more for this service than do cities, which are not patrolled by the county.

Last month, however, after learning that the cost of this legal battle already had exceeded the township's authorized limit, the board determined it would no longer participate financially.

An appeal by a spokesman for the association, Plymouth Township Supervisor, J. D. McLaren, was rejected last week by the board, which directed the attorney not to pursue the matter further for the township.

Township Arrests 26

Twenty-four adults and two juveniles were arrested by Northville Township Police in September. The figures were recently released in a report by Chief Ronald Nisun.

Adults were arrested on charges of drunkenness, drunken driving, child neglect, possession of marijuana, breaking and entering, open liquor in vehicles and traffic warrants.

The juveniles were arrested on charges of breaking and entering and operating a motorcycle without a license.

Township officers also issued 49 verbal traffic warnings during September, wrote 65 traffic tickets and issued 10 parking violations.

Pioneer's Granddaughter Dies

MRS. ROSS DUSENBURY

Mrs. Ross B. Dusenbury, granddaughter of a Michigan pioneer who walked to the Territorial Legislature with sandwiches in his pocket, died in Tyrone, North Carolina on November 10.

The former Northville resident was 94 years old.

She was born to Charles and Evelyn Yerkes on March 31, 1881 in Northville, narrowly missing being born on April Fool's Day, as she liked to point out. She was christened Grace Evelyn Yerkes, taking as her middle name the first name of her mother, who was born Evelyn Wells.

Her grandfather, William

Her father's 80-acre farm included much of the subdivision area northeast of Base Line and Center Street. The family farmhouse still stands at the northeast corner of Base Line and Grace.

Grace Yerkes attended school in Northville through the 11th grade. She went to Central High School in Detroit for her senior year, making it a stepping stone to the University of Michigan.

University yearbook.

After her graduation from the University of Michigan in 1904, she accepted a teaching position at Northville High School. Later, she went to teach in Mt. Pleasant where she met her husband, Ross Butler Dusenbury.

Mrs. Dusenbury and her family made their home in and around Detroit until she and her husband moved to Tyrone, North Carolina 30 years ago.

Mrs. Dusenbury was active in church work in the Presbyterian Church and later in the Congregational Church.

She is survived by two sons, George and Charles, and by six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. She will be buried in the Yerkes Cemetery in Northville.

JOHN MATTHEWS

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for John Matthews of East LeBost Drive in Novi who died Saturday, November 15, in Botsford Hospital at the age of 82.

A resident of Novi for the past five years, Mr. Matthews was born December 23, 1892, in Mousehole, England, the son of Edward M. and Susan (Madden) Matthews. His wife, Gladys, preceded him in death.

Retired from Burroughs-Adding Machine Company of Detroit, Mr. Matthews was a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church of Highland Park.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Cummings of Novi, Mrs. Mae Nicholls of Livonia, a son, John E. Matthews of Redford Township, a sister, Mrs. Betty Barnes of Pensance, England, a brother, Gordon Matthews of Erwin, Tennessee, 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home where the Reverend James Weiss of Trinity Church of Detroit officiated. Burial was in Oak View Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Police Blotter

Charges Brought in Fight, Break-In

In Novi

Two men were arrested November 16 shortly after 2:30 a.m. at Dave's Hamburgers after one allegedly pulled a knife on the other and a fight ensued.

According to detectives, arrested were James Cook, Jr., 20, of 41840 Aspen in Novi and Charles Hayes, 28, of Garden City.

Cook was allegedly being disorderly at Dave's when Hayes walked in and told Cook to leave. When Cook refused, Hayes allegedly pulled a knife on Cook and threatened him, telling him to leave. A fight then reportedly broke out and Hayes fled in his car.

Novi police were called and subsequently arrested Cook for being a disorderly person. Wixom police stopped Hayes at 12 Mile and Grand River and turned him over to Novi police who issued him an ordinance violation for disorderly person. He was released on $25 bond.

Cook could not post bond and was lodged in Oakland County Jail. He was arraigned before 52nd District Court Judge Gene Schnelz, pled guilty to disorderly person, and was fined $50 and released.

Hayes is scheduled to appear in court November 20 on the same charge.

A 30-year-old Novi man is being charged with illegal entry after he allegedly broke down a door of a neighbor in the area of 39700 Village Wood in Lakewood Condominiums November 6.

According to Novi detectives, a resident reported that the subject had parked his car directly behind his. When the subject attempted to leave for work the next morning, he found his car blocked and attempted to summon the woman. When she did not answer her door, he allegedly broke her door off the hinges and entered the condominium, using profanity at the woman. A warrant has been received charging him with illegal entry, a misdemeanor.

Ten truck tires valued at $2,640 were stolen November 13 from a semi trailer truck which was parked on I-696 after breaking down.

According to police reports, the truck was left overnight and when the driver returned in the morning, wood blocks were sitting in place of the tires. Two Michelin tires and eight General tires were missing. The truck was owned by the Walter Toebe Company.

The Novi Detective Bureau is investigating.

Two wire wheel covers valued at $90 were stolen November 14 from a Torino parked in a lot at Westgate VI on Pontiac Trail.

A glass door wall at the rear of a home in the 24000 area of Pinecrest was found broken November 15 by a rock. Value was set at $185.

In Northville

A 20-year-old Northville youth will face charges of breaking and entering December 11 when he appears in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Arraigned last week Wednesday before 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis was Robert Kahler of 220 South Main Street. Examination was waived the same day and he was bound over to circuit court. Kahler is free on $3,000 bond.

City police have charged him with breaking and entering the Arcade 5 in Northville Square. He was caught about 12:45 a.m. November 12 during the process of allegedly breaking into the business, police said. A warrant has been issued for a second subject involved in the break-in, city police detectives reported.

Two electric typewriters, valued at a total of $900, were stolen earlier this month from Northville High School.

The machines, both Remington models, were taken from a locked room between November 7 and 11. The case remains under investigation.

Approximately $250 damage was done early Saturday morning to a car parked behind the Captain's Table on Dunlap and Center streets.

Owner of the 1973 vehicle reported the passenger's door was kicked in and the windshield broken. Investigation is continuing.

A stake truck parked inside Foundry Flak on East Cady Street sustained an undetermined amount of damage Wednesday or Thursday after unknown persons broke into the building.

The distributor was smashed and hoses were ripped off from under the hood, the owner reported to police.

Two thefts took place during the past week. About noon Monday, a wallet and set of keys were taken from a purse in the Et Cetera Shop in Northville Square. The wallet, minus the money it contained, was found the same day in the men's room of the building.

And gasoline was siphoned from a vehicle parked in the driveway of a home in the 21200 area of Summerside. The theft occurred sometime between Wednesday and Thursday morning.

In Township

More than $200 damage was done to three model homes on Longwood Court in Highland Lakes early last week.

Four windows were broken by stones and eggs while walls and carpeting in one home were also damaged by eggs. The damage took place between late last week Sunday and 8 a.m. Monday morning.

An am-fm stereo radio, valued at $200, was stolen from a 1974 Thunderbird while the car was parked on Seabrook Court.

Taken between last week Tuesday and Wednesday, the Philco model radio was stolen from the car while it was locked. An attempt was also made to pry open the trunk, owners reported.

Two escapees from the men's division of Detroit House of Correction were apprehended by Northville Township Police about 10 p.m. Saturday. The 24 and 31 year old men, both from Detroit and wearing prison clothing, were walking through a parking lot on Seven Mile Road near Maxwell Street, when caught. They were turned over to DeHoCo guards.

Township police finally reunited a wandering goat with his owners last Tuesday night after the goat broke loose from Farmington Hills.

A hitchhiker told police the goat followed him from the area of Eight Mile and Newburgh to Seven Mile Road west of Haggerty Road.

After checking with area police departments, township officers found the owner who lived on Halstead Road in Farmington Hills.

Township Records

5 Robberies to Date

A total of five armed robbery cases were investigated by Northville Township Police Department during the first nine months of this year. Two of the cases took place in Cass Benton Park near Beer Hill with the rest occurring in other areas of the township.

According to a report recently released by Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun, several areas of criminal activity are increasing.

During September, seven break-ins were reported along with four attempted break-ins. The previous month, six break-ins took place.

Thefts generally increased including one stolen car which was later recovered. Categories of thefts which decreased included bicycle thefts and thefts from vehicles.

In September, officers apprehended six escapees from various institutions in the township, up from four recovered in August, Chief Nisun said.

Township officers also investigated one assault and battery complaint, one fire bombing, one indecent exposure, one child neglect case, eight ordinance violations and 13 malicious destruction of property incidents.

According to the figures released, all categories of liquor related violations showed a decrease in September when compared with August.

Officers also treated six sick or injured persons, investigated one death from natural causes, assisted other police agencies eight times, assisted 12 citizens and assisted the fire department at four alarms in September.

In Wixom

Wixom police report that $3,300 worth of materials was taken November 12 from a parking lot at Holloway Construction Company, 29250 Wixom Road. Taken were 340 fence posts and five chain link fence rolls.

A $5,000 John Deere bulldozer was reported stolen November 10 from Telway Trucking, 48600 Twelve Mile Road.

A trailer was apparently used to haul the bulldozer away.

A $2,000 Pontiac Bonneville was reportedly stolen from the Ford plant November 11. It has been entered into the LEIN.

Malicious destruction of property was reported November 10 at Spencer Airport where an aircraft had the wires cut to both its landing lights and both of the landing lights pulled from the plane. There was $125 damage.

There was $300 damage done to a trailer at Old Dutch Farms Sales, 49200 Grand River. The trailer was reportedly hit with a cement block which broke one window and dented the front panel of the trailer.

32nd Degree Honorees

Among the more than 300 Master Masons in southeastern Michigan who received Scottish Rite Masonry's 32nd Degree recently were three local area men — Charles A. Bakkila of 7839 Salem Road, Melvin P. Mitchell of 18295 Jamestown Circle, and Charles W. Hildenbrand of 24471 Old Orchard. Keynote speaker at the traditional 32nd Degree banquet was Elliot M. Estes, president of General Motors Corporation.

County Rejects Township's Plea for Traffic Signs

An appeal by Northville Township officials for development of strict traffic controls, such as 'no parking' signs along the shoulders of the road in Edward Hines parkway, has been rejected by the Wayne County Road Commission.

The township was urging such controls as a means of discouraging "Beer Hill" problems in the park.

Meanwhile, the property manager, Glenn Pelot, of King's Mill subdivision, adjacent to Beer Hill, has complimented township officials for their efforts to solve the Beer Hill problems, which include drug abuse, disturbing the peace and vandalism.

And County Commissioner Mary Dumas has reported that county action is being taken to install a higher fence between Beer Hill and the King's Mill subdivision.

Boutique Aids Historical Society

By NANCY DINGELDEY

I am feeling very smug...for once I beat the weatherman! It really wasn't that much of a coup since there was a little cooperation. For once (and underline the once) I actually managed to get the darn windows washed outside before the snow came down. That's why I say there was cooperation...you must admit we've been "unseasonable".

But usually around this time of year...and after procrastinating about one week too long, I find myself out on a ladder washing windows as the snow is drifting down. Since gloves are impossible one finds the hands turning blue and literally freezing in grotesque shapes all for the want of a clean window.

But this year I can proudly say I did the job with a minimum amount of fuss...with the sun shining and a balmy breeze at my back. And glory be to the gods who kept the grass green and the mums blooming until mid-November!

LUTZ BUILDING RAMP—The Lutz Building in Novi now has a ramp along its east side to allow handicapped individuals access to the city hall annex. A window was

A bountiful bevy of beautiful "boons" is yours for the choosing at the Boutique (Sometimes we do get carried away). But it's just another way of suggesting a super shopping place...the Wixom Holiday Boutique. It's this Saturday, November 22 at the V.F.W. on Loon Lake Road from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Sponsored by the Wixom Historical Society, the Boutique will feature a wide variety of great gift items to suit your wallet and taste.

There will be leatherwork, macramé items, imports, Christmas decorations, plaques for every room in the house and novel stocking stuffers. A light lunch and a bake sale, candles, stained glass and pottery will add to the color and sights and sounds of this nice, convenient place to do your shopping.

The proceeds of the Boutique will be used by the Historical Society to aid in the restoration of the Tiffin property. A small donation of 25 cents will be charged at the door as a means of swelling the coffers. There will be no charge for children.

In addition the Society will also sell the note papers depicting some of Wixom's early buildings and "signature" patches. Borrowing an idea from years past, the ladies of the Society have decided to make a "signature" patchwork quilt. Pieces of the quilt will be "sold", the buyer signs his or her name to it with the signature then embroidered by a volunteer. The pieces will be sewed together and quilted into a queen-size coverlet to be sold during our bicentennial year. The chosen color scheme is red, white and blue. On display during the boutique will be Hilday Furmen's "signature" quilt that was won many years ago by her family. Be sure and look at it...there are some familiar names there.

It was "good-bye" time last week, unfortunately, at City Hall. Marcia Clement who worked alongside June Buck in the Clerk's office bid adieu to the City and now awaits the birth of her first baby sometime after the first of the year. She was presented with a highchair by the staffers at City Hall and all enjoyed a cake aptly decorated with diaper pins and a baby mirror.

Having received many phone calls myself regarding the sale of garbage bags to city residents I got the complete story for any of you who might be interested. The sale is being conducted by a taken out and a door installed to put in the ramp. The ramp was put in so that the city could comply with state law requiring access to public buildings by the handicapped.

legitimate outside concern sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Police, Leland F. Pratt lodge of which members of the Wixom, Police Department, surrounding departments plus the Oakland County Sheriff's Department belong.

The selling of the garbage bags is a fund raiser for the lodge named after the popular police chief of Walled Lake who died a few years ago. The monies derived from the sale are earmarked for the lodge general fund for use in youth work. Spokesman Jerry Pastula emphasized that the money was not for the Wixom Police Department and that members of the department were not participating in the sale in any way. Cost of the garbage bags is around $19 per box of 100 with a percentage of the sales going to the lodge.

On Novi Water Lines

Hearing's December 15

Water and sewer lines throughout Novi were the big topic for discussion Monday as the new Novi Council was brought up to date on existing and planned lines.

In two pieces of action regarding water mains, council set a meeting at 8 p.m. December 15 in the Novi School Administration Building for public hearings on the proposed Dayton-Hudson water main and on the Meadowbrook Manor water main.

Tentative cost of the Dayton-Hudson line, the portion of the line fronting on the shopping center along Novi Road was set at $360,000 of which most is expected to be picked up by Dayton-Hudson. Ultimately the line will continue on to serve the new high school and library at 10 Mile and Taft. It is being brought down from 14 Mile Road.

Tentative cost of the Meadowbrook Manor water main is $93,000 or approximately $2,735 per lot. That water main was petitioned for by residents after a contractor who installed sanitary sewer lines in the subdivision offered a very low price to residents if they agreed to put in the water main before the contractor had to repave the roads, which were torn up when the sewer lines were put in.

While the engineer's estimated cost was $93,000, the contractor offered to do the work for $40,000 to $45,000, according to the administration. It was noted the project will still have to go out for bids. A closer cost estimate is expected at the December 15 meeting. Because the election netted four new council members, City Engineer Harry Mosher and City Manager Edward Kriewall explained exactly where the city stands regarding sanitary sewer lines and water lines and what is expected in the future.

Pending special assessment projects were also discussed including the Grand River-Taft Sewer, the 10 Mile-Taft Road Sewer, Glenda Street Resurfacing, and the Novi Heights Subdivision Sewer.

Driver Ed's

Underway Now

Teen driver education classes will be starting November 17 at the Western Wayne County YWCA.

The first class will meet for five weeks on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. A second class is to begin December 1 to meet from 5 to 7 p.m., Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Taught by college trained instructors the classes will offer 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours behind the wheel. Call 561-4110 to register.

Karen Kennedy Crowned Junior Miss

D-1

Wednesday, November 19, 1975

Karen Ann Kennedy became Northville's Junior Miss for 1975-76 last Saturday night in a competition at Northville First Presbyterian Church, the eighth sponsored by the Northville Jaycees.

The Northville High School senior won out in a close competition with five other senior girls at the end of a talent-filled evening.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy of 21710 Taft Road. The family moved to Northville as Karen entered the 10th grade. The new Junior Miss will be 18 years old December 31.

First runner-up in the competition was Valli Muzzin with Mary Jo Doheny named second runner-up. The 1975-76 Junior Miss as well as both runners-up are members of the National Honor Society.

Other contestants were Kathy Assenmacher, Debbie Germeroth and Kris Kofler.

Karen will represent Northville in the regional competition December 13 in Ypsilanti. Winners in the regionals will go on to compete for the title of Michigan Junior Miss in January in Pontiac.

In addition to giving individual talent acts, the girls joined forces to entertain a large audience with an original Bicentennial skit tracing the history of the country from 'Revolutionary times in song and dance.

Serving as master of ceremonies for the third year was Nick Serkaian, a Northville resident and WMZK radio personality. He stressed that the event was more than a beauty or talent competition and was "a program to recognize the positive achievement of today's youth."

"A Junior Miss," he told the audience, "is the type of girl you would be proud to have for your own daughter."

Northville High School Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Michael Rumbell played throughout the evening with its performance dedicated to George Berryman, Northville band teacher on leave of absence because of illness.

During the day the six contestants met with the judges who judged them on personal conferences (35 points) and scholarship (15 points). During the evening they were judged on creative and performing arts (20 points) and poise and appearance (15 points). Total points added to 85.

Judges were Mrs. Annalee Mathes, president of the Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi League of Women Voters and Northville Woman of the Year; Miss Florence Panattoni, assistant superintendent of schools; Charles Rosenberg, Northville Township treasurer; and William C. Sliger, publisher of The Northville Record.

Both David Reduzzi and Mrs. Chris Campbell, co-chairmen for the Jaycees and auxiliary, lauded the girls in the competition and commented upon the high caliber of talent exhibited. Northville Jaycee President Tom Walts welcomed the girls, their parents and guests.

For her talent selection Karen played Sergei Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C Sharp Minor on the piano.

First runner-up Valli Muzzin was applauded for her vocal selection, "Quando, Quando, Quando." She concluded the song with an original dance number.

Second runner-up Mary Jo Doheny's dramatic reading, selections from Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology," also won acclaim.

Well-done vocal solos also were performed by the three

Reappoint 2 Women To Canvassers Board

Two women were reappointed to terms on the board of canvassers for Northville School District.

Named to four-year terms ending December 31, 1979, were Mrs. Carol Forrer, Republican, and Mrs. Dorothy Guido, Democrat. They will serve with Joseph Fiorilli, Democrat, and Charles Smith, Republican. Terms of the men expire December 31, 1977.

The canvassers, who check election results, serve without pay. Two Democrats and two Republicans must be appointed to the board.

Private Kathleen M. Kennedy, daughter of Richard J. Kennedy, 19863 Silver Spring Drive, completed with honors the basic dental assistant course September 12 at the Army's Academy of Health Sciences, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. She is a 1972 graduate of Milford High School and attended Oakland Community College, Farmington. Before entering the Army Private Kennedy was employed by Veterinary Medical Laboratories.

Airman Mark E. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Weaver of 41372 Lehigh Lane, has been selected for technical training in the U.S. Air Force administrative field at Keesler AFB, Mississippi. The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas, where he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Weaver is a 1975 graduate of Northville High School.

VOLUNTEER HONOR—Mrs. Donald Thorpe (right) of Novi was one of 16 women volunteers honored recently at the United Foundation's Torch Drive residential report luncheon at the Sheraton-Southfield. Presenting Mrs. Thorpe with the traditional "Door Belle" award charm is Mrs. Alan Miller of St. Clair Shores, the 1975 Torch Drive residential chairman. A region leader in the Torch Drive's Northwest residential unit, Mrs. Thorpe received the award for achieving 132 percent improvement over last year's campaign coverage. The Northwest Unit includes all of Oakland County except for non-campaign areas in Pontiac and the northern section of the county. This year's Torch Drive, which ended November 6, will support nearly 140 health and community service agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. The 1975 campaign goal is $34,750.

BUMP REDUCER—Seven Mile Road was reopened late last week with the completion of a unique grade crossing improvement by the C&O Railroad. All four lanes of the road were closed most of the week and much of the traffic detoured around the crossing by using Gerald Avenue. Instead of timber and blacktop normally installed between tracks, C&O installed slabs of concrete on either side of each rail—a new technique aimed at taking the bump out of crossings. The Northville improvement was the first of a series of these kinds of repairs to be made in the metropolitan area.

Board Eyes Safety Act

Michigan's Occupational Safety and Health Act will be the topic of a workshop for Northville School board members and administrators later this month. The act, passed in 1974, covers industry as well as all school districts.

Speaking to the board last week, James Weiskopf, a representative of MIOSHA told the board he would be touring school buildings in Northville during the next few weeks, alerting administrators to possible violations existing under the safety act.

Violations could include safety goggles for machines, pitch of stairways, guards on machinery, conditions in boiler and mechanical rooms and other areas.

Violations given by MIOSHA inspectors carry fines and employers are given a certain length of time in which to correct them. If not corrected, a second violation carrying a steeper fine is issued, Weiskopf commented.

NEW BICENTENNIAL OFFICE—Novi City employee Alice Ackerman mans the new city bicentennial telephone while Steve DuLac, a bicentennial committee member, who silk screened shirts and bumper stickers for sale by the committee, shows off one of his creations. The number for the new bicentennial office, which is located in the old Herb's Sales and Service building on Twelve Mile at Novi Road, is 348-1976. Information about bicentennial activities, as well as the T-shirts and bumper stickers, will be available there. Money collected from the sale of the T-shirts ($3.50 for children and $4 for adults) and bumper stickers ($.50) will go for community bicentennial projects.

New Teacher Hired

Contract for Lorraine Thompson, a special education teacher at the Plymouth Center for Human Development, was approved by the Northville School Board.

Mrs. Thompson, a 1974 graduate of Wayne State University, holds a BS degree in special education. She has taught at the Center for one and one-half years and will earn $8,029.

The hiring of Mrs. Thompson brings to 18 the number of teachers hired for the special education program being handled through the Northville School District.

Get a hair analysis.

There's one way to find out what condition your hair is really in. That's by a hair analysis.

Here's how you can have your hair analyzed. Come in and fill out a Redken Hair Analysis Questionnaire. Then we'll snip a sample of your hair which we'll examine microscopically. Afterwards, we'll show you a magnified photograph of your hair and discuss the findings with you. They will enable us to plan a program to help recondition and maintain the condition of your hair.

Give your hair a physical check up. Make an appointment today for a hair analysis.

Novi May Revise Car Policy

In a possible turn-around, Novi Council is considering changing the car policy for city employees to allow them to take the city cars they use home with them.

The policy, at the suggestion of councilman Denis Berry, was discussed October 3 by the council.

"It appears (the present) policy has hurt only one group — the building inspectors," stated Berry. "I can't see punishing the members of the building department."

The car policy was changed in January or February of this year to allow only the DPW superintendent, water and sewer service man, fire marshal, fire chief and city manager to take the city cars home. Reasons were to save money and gas in case of rationing.

Meanwhile, building department officials were restricted from taking their cars home. Berry noted that one building inspector had been told by then City Manager Harold Saunders that he would be able to use a city car. The inspector sold his own car and when the new policy was put into effect had to buy another car because he was no longer allowed to take the city car home.

Council member Romaine Roethel noted that the officials still allowed to use the cars are on call 24 hours a day but Councilman Edwin Presnell contended that the building department is also on 24-hour call.

"If there's an emergency, the building inspectors have to come out," he stated, adding that nowhere in the minutes can it be found where the council gave approval for the names left on the list to take home the city cars.

Councilman Philip Goodman suggested, and the council agreed, that the city manager should conduct a survey to indicate the frequency with which city employees are required to come on duty during emergencies and to pick up and use the city cars. Mayor Robert Daley suggested that perhaps the police chief also should be able to take home a city car.

2 Get Scholarships

Two residents from Wixom and another from Northville have been awarded scholarships at Northern Michigan University during the 1975-76 academic year.

From Wixom they are Barbara A. Eastland of 3327 Theodore Street and Frida M. Waara of 1429 Nightingale, and from Northville the recipient is Donald N. Bode of 520 Grace Street. NMU Financial Aids Director Robert Pecotte said scholarships have been awarded to both undergraduate and graduate students from 28 various funds and programs.

All three of the area students receiving scholarships received them through the Board of Control of the University.

Councilman Berry asked on behalf of a citizen if he could trim the pine trees rather than cut them down. City Manager reported that the trees have been cut down already.

There being no further comments, the public hearing was closed.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to adopt the amendment to Section 7-207, Sight Clearance.

Carried unanimously.

PARKING STUDY: Motion by Councilman Nichols support by Councilman Folino to accept the CBD Parking Study and authorize its publication.

Carried unanimously.

LIQUOR LICENSES AT 137 S CENTER & 157 E MAIN: Application for a liquor license special permit to allow sale, service and consumption of alcoholic beverages in the concourse area of the Northville Cocktail Lounge, 137 S Center, was tabled pending an appearance next meeting from a representative of the lounge to explain the "concourse" area.

Request from Robert and Pauline Getzle for transfer of ownership of 1975 Class C liquor license at 157 E. Main, from Joseph and Cherle Nagy. The police report was not completed yet and Council deferred action pending receipt of it.

Mr. Getzle said he had no immediate changes planned for the bar but will eventually change it to put with the atmosphere of Northville.

FINANCIAL REPORT: The first quarter Financial Report was presented and discussed. A status report on the Public Improvements Fund was also presented.

PURCHASE OF CASH REGISTER: Memo from City Manager recommending that the City purchase a Victor Model 560 Electronic Cash Register for $2,970 as one cash register has broken down, and waive bids on the basis that there is no advantage to the City from competitive bidding. Four other cash registers were studied, but desired features and functions ruled all of them out.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to waive bids in the best interests of the City on the purchase of a Victor 560 cash register. Carried unanimously.

Motion by Councilman Berry support by Councilman Folino to approve the purchase of the Victor 560 Electronic Cash Register for $2,970.00.

Carried unanimously.

The meeting was recessed at 9:45 p.m. for a five minute break.

REZONING OF LOT 636: A public hearing October 7, 1975, the Planning Commission approved a recommendation to Council that Lot 636, Assessor's Plat No. 6 be rezoned from R-1b to R-4.

Motion by Councilman Berry support by Councilman Folino to approve for publication and set public hearing on November 3, 1975 to consider the rezoning of Lot 636, Assessor's Plat No. 6, from R-1b to R-4.

Carried unanimously.

EXTENSION OF SANITARY SEWER ON SILVER SPRING DRIVE: Letter from Northville Township Supervisor requesting that the City allow the sanitary sewer in Silver Spring Dr. to be extended to the Doherty property, located on the former Silver Springs Water Co. land, as the Township has no sanitary sewer there and no plans for one in the future.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Berry to approve the sewer tap for the Doherty property into the existing main.

Carried unanimously.

COUNTY BOUNDARIES: Memo from City Manager regarding county boundary adjustments for cities that are in more than one county to include such cities in only one county. Such action calls for an election in both affected counties at a general election. Council felt this was worth consideration and City Manager will begin working on a report on the advantages and disadvantages of being in two counties vs. one.

SCHOOL TAX: The Township Board rejected the proposal by the School District for a 50 per cent summer school tax collection. Council discussed the proposal and the fact that the savings for the School district would be much less without the participation of the Township City Manager to inform the Township that if they would reconsider their decision, the City would approve the School's proposal.

RADAR UNIT: Item 18, purchase of radar unit, was taken up next. Memo from Captain Westfall recommending the City purchase a "Mover" radar unit. Action was tabled to next meeting pending further information on maintenance and comments from users.

WATER & SEWER RATES: Memo from City Manager regarding water and sewer rates. This will be taken up at the next meeting.

RESOLUTION RE WAYNE CO. B OF PW: Action tabled until next meeting.

APPOINTMENTS: Letter of resignation from Russ Amerman. Councilman Vernon recommended Art Adams to

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT CITY OF NORTHVILLE

The City Council of the City of Northville, following a public hearing Monday, November 3, 1975, has adopted an amendment to the Zoning Map incorporated in Section 2.02 of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, as follows:

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE ZONING MAP OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE INCORPORATED IN SECTION 2.02 OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE, TO RE-ZONE LOT NO. 636 OF NORTHVILLE ASSESSOR'S PLAT NO. 6 FROM R-1 B TO R-4.

The City of Northville ordains:

Section 1. Section 2.02 of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, incorporating the Zoning Map of the City of Northville, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2.02—BOUNDARY INTERPRETATION
The boundaries of these districts are hereby established as shown on the Zoning Map, City of Northville Zoning Ordinance which accompanies this Ordinance, and which map with all notations, references, and other information shown thereon shall be as much a part of this Ordinance as if fully described herein.

The Official Zoning Map shall be identified by the signature of the Mayor attested by the City Clerk, and bearing the seal of the City under the following words: This is to certify that this is the Official Zoning Map referred to in Section 2.02 of the Code of the City of Northville (include date of adoption). If, in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, changes are made in district boundaries or other matter portrayed on the Official Zoning Map within five (5) normal working days after the amendment has been approved by the City Council together with an entry on the Official Zoning Map as follows: Date and an index number of Council action.

The original and one (1) copy of the official map are to be maintained and kept up to date; one (1) copy in the Chief Enforcement Office and the original in the City Clerk's Office; accessible to the public and shall be the final authority as to the current zoning status of lands, buildings and other structures in the City.

The Zoning Map as established herein is further amended, effective on the date so stated for each such amendment, as follows:

(a) The northern part of Lot 553 of Assessor's Northville Plat No. 6, measuring 106 ft. on the east and 75 ft. on the west, on the property served and by the system shall be collected in quarterly periods, and bills shall be sent to each user immediately after the end of the period and shall be due and payable at the office of the city treasurer 30 days after the date of the bill, a penalty of 10 per cent shall be added.

Also entertaining during the evening with numbers from "Jesus Christ Superstar" was Paula Dyke, Northville Junior Miss for 1974-75, who crowned her successor.

For poise and appearance judging the girls changed to evening gowns and were escorted to the stage by their fathers.

Each also answered an unrehearsed question from Serkaian

Junior Miss Kennedy, asked if Northville, were losing its small-town atmosphere, responded that it was obvious it was because of the population explosion. "The country isn't here any more, and it's too bad," she commented.

As Northville's Junior Miss she wins a full-tuition scholarship to Eastern Michigan University which is renewable for four years so long as a grade point average of at least 3.0 is maintained.

Miss Kennedy, who has been interested in the field of oceanography, had been considering several colleges but has not made up her mind.

Both runners-up received gifts and prizes from local merchants, including Noder's Jewelers, Fashion Cellar, Summit Gifts, Freydl's, Northville Pharmacy and Northville Charley's.

Novi Schools Serve 72 Free Lunches Daily

Novi school district serves an average of 72 free lunches each day, according to a report from the administration.

In addition, five youngsters are available for reduced price lunches, which cost 20 cents. There are 117 students eligible for the free lunch.

Novi school district is part of a federally funded program which offers meals free to children who come from families with income below an eligibility standard established by each state. A higher family income ceiling is allowed for reduced price lunches.

In return for providing free and reduced price lunches, the school district receives federal subsidies. For each free meal, the school receives $62.25 and 11 cents worth of agricultural commodities. For reduced price lunches, the school district receives back $.55 and 11 cents of commodities.

Two Establish Strong Records

Two Oakland University students from Northville have established strong records as members of the university's student organizations.

The students, both recipients of special Student Life Scholarships at OU, are Allan Benedict and Freida Ong.

Benedict, a freshman, is a member of American Chemical Society, Area Hall Council, and plays intramural basketball. He is a physics major.

Miss Ong, a sophomore, is a member of Area Hall Council, Admissions Committee and international students' organizations. She is a nursing major.

HARRY ZION

Just in Case Schools Close...

Novi School closings this winter will be announced on radio stations WJR, CKLW, WXYZ and WWJ.

Calls will still be taken in each building, although the administration recommends listening to the radio.

Before schools are closed, the administration checks with the County Road Commission, state police and local police on roads while administrators themselves drive throughout the school district to make road checks.

Harry Zion Receives Regents Scholarship

Harry Zion, a 1975 Northville High School graduate, is a freshman recipient of a Board of Regents Scholarship, at Eastern Michigan University, majoring in biology and minoring in mathematics and ceramics.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Zion of 744 Carpenter.

A member of the NHS honor society and maintaining a 3.45 grade point average in high school, he also participated in the art club.

Commenting on his major at EMU he said, "My seventh grade biology teacher influenced my decision concerning my field of study. I have always been interested in the subject."

Township Planners OK Seven Mile Road Pizza Parlor

Northville Crossing, restaurant, now planned as a Little Caesars pizza parlor and bar to be located just east of the C & O railroad crossing on Seven Mile Road, received a green light at a recent meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission.

Preliminary site plan approval was recommended unanimously subject to compliance with conditions stipulated by William Mosher, township engineering consultant, primarily relating to drainage.

Owner Larry Sheehan, who presently operates a Little Caesars pizza treat in downtown Northville, has been seeking the approval since April, and has revised his plans to provide additional parking and access routes. Sheehan, a Northville resident at 45748 Clement Court, said Friday he expects to begin construction shortly after the first of the new year and plans to open in late spring of 1976.

Sheehan, who is executive vice president of Little Caesars Enterprises, Incorporated, the parent company, said he personally will own the Northville Crossing restaurant as he presently does the pizza treat on Main Street.

This operation will close when the new restaurant is opened, he announced. He said he expects then to lease the building, which he owns.

He also personally owns the operations in Farmington, Farmington Hills and Livonia while the firm, he said, operates the newly opened Little Caesars in White Lake and Warren.

Like the latter operations, Sheehan expects to have big screen television in the Northville Crossing where, he said, the menu will include spaghetti and salads with pizza, submarine sandwiches and pitcher beer only in the area designed for family dining.

O'Sheehan's bar will be located through a doorway to a back room. Sheehan received approval of the license from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission early this year.

In the bar, he stated, he expects to serve half-pound hamburgers and "corned beef and cabbage on traditional days."

Sing-along sessions with banjo and piano music are planned.

Sheehan said he plans to take out building permits "the minute the ground starts to break." Originally, he had intended to build this fall, but blacktopping and curb-cut operations, he said, shut down by mid-November.

The restaurant, he said, will be among 120 Little Caesars franchised and co-owned in the United States and Canada.

At the planning commission meeting it was pointed out that the restaurant now is completely separate from phase two planning for the adjacent shopping center.

A letter from Wayne County Road Commission approving the project and one from the railroad regarding water drain-off, not anticipated as a problem, were read.

At the planning commission session, with only William Bohan absent, the request of Leo Soave to rezone property at 42422 West Seven Mile Road across from the shopping center under construction was tabled until the November meeting.

Saying he operates a small bakery business and would like to bring it to Northville, Soave, a Livonia resident, was requesting rezoning of 1.98 acres from R-3 residential to B-2 general business.

Also tabled until the next meeting was action on a proposed zoning ordinance amendment deleting nursery and plant material sales from farm use. A public hearing on the proposal had been held September 30.

Construction to Start in the Spring on This New Pizza Parlor in the Township

City Planners OK Car Wash Plan

Architectural plan approval for refurbishing the service station building at the corner of East Main and Park Place was granted Belanger, Inc., which plans to convert the building to a car wash, by the Northville Planning Commission last week Tuesday.

Approval of the architectural change plan was recommended by the Northville Historical District Commission.

A combination of stone and board and batten will be used to develop "simple, clean lines" without requiring reconstruction. Special glass that will let in light but not permit anyone to see interior equipment from the outside will be used in the windows.

Extensive landscaping is planned, involving trees and shrubs, especially along the side of the building visible from the Main Street curve.

Belanger will use the car wash for research and to demonstrate the equipment it has developed and is manufacturing in its adjacent factory building. It utilizes a non-scratching cloth material in place of vinyl brushes used in many car washes.

In other action last week, the planners accepted plans for review from Dr. William S. Demray, who has purchased the Owl and Wheel Antique building at the northwest corner of Main and Griswold and who plans to install dental offices on the first floor. An antique business will be operated in the basement, and Dr. Demray will live on the second floor.

Only major exterior change apparently will be a ramp for handicapped to a rear entrance.

Because this building also is located in Northville's historic district, Dr. Demray's proposal will go to the historical commission for its recommendation. The commission recommends to the planning commission in cases involving business or industrial buildings; its action is final in cases involving residential buildings.

Planning Commission Chairman J. Burton DeRusha named Commissioners Bruce Turnbull and James Cutler to a committee to study the city's sign ordinance and to recommend any changes that they may find necessary.

The commission's second november meeting has been cancelled.

Fessler to Speak On Parole Laws

State Representative Richard D. Fessler of Union Lake is to speak on "Parole Laws — How Well Do They Work?" at the meeting of the Greater Northville Republican Club at 8 p.m. this Thursday in Northville Square community room.

Fessler, a Republican, represents the 24th District which includes Oakland County (in part), the cities of South Lyon, Wixom, Walled Lake, Novi, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake and Northville (in part) as well as townships including Lyon and Novi.

An attorney, he is a member of the Oakland County Bar Association, Michigan and American bar associations. He was appointed to the Michigan District Court Association by the state bar.

He is a graduate of Oakland Community College, Oakland University and University of Detroit Law School.

He served as assistant prosecuting attorney in Oakland county under L. Brooks Patterson, entering private practice in Pontiac in 1973.

Active in the Republican party for 11 years, Fessler has been a precinct delegate, county committee member, and was charter chairman of the original Young Republicans Club at Oakland Community College Highland Lake campus.

He is married and has three children.

Guests are welcome at the meeting and coffee session.

"Some types of advertising get tossed out, but the Yellow Pages is kept handy all year. We've been advertising in the Yellow Pages for 16 years and have found it to be the most effective advertising existing today. Over the years we have decreased our advertising space occasionally and found our business suffered as a direct result of it." — Jerry D. Kennedy, Lackey's Floor Covering, 4430 N. Woodward, Royal Oak.

Novi Approves Salary Changes

Request for salary adjustment for three Novi school teachers was approved by Novi School Board Thursday.

They were: Timothy Daley, from $11,138 to $11,683 (BA plus 15); Ronald Flutur, from $11,453 to $11,969 (BA plus 15); and Christine Hayward, from $11,453 to $11,969 (BA plus 15).

The Board also gave tenure status to William Christensen.

MICHIGAN'S FURNITURE RENTAL EXPERTS

"When people come in and rent from us, more often than not they say they found us in the Yellow Pages. We're in five different Yellow Pages directories right now and, as far as we're concerned, the Yellow Pages carries the majority of our ad load for us. In our kind of business, we know we must advertise in the Yellow Pages to prosper." — Irvin Kessler, Globe Interior Rental, 1100 East Maple Road, Troy.
