

State Takes Over Women's Prison at DeHoCo Here

Michigan officially took over operation of the women's division of the Detroit House of Correction here Monday.

Ownership of the prison property is retained by the City of Detroit, which continues to own and operate the men's division of DeHoCo.

The women's prison — the only one in Michigan that houses women convicted of felony crimes — is located on the north side of Five Mile Road near Ridge Road in Northville Township. The men's prison is located in Plymouth Township on the south side of Five Mile.

According to Perry Johnson, director of the State Department of Corrections, operation of the prison by the state is a temporary one until a new $10 million women's prison, now under construction near Ypsilanti, is opened in 1977.

A new superintendent of the prison is to be named by the state, perhaps in January, to replace Dorothy Mann, who has decided to leave.

Deputy superintendent now on the job for the state is Gloria J. Richardson, a former program supervisor at the W. J. Maxey Training School for juveniles at Whitmore Lake.

Sixty-nine of the 77 DeHoCo employees decided to remain at the prison as state employees, said Johnson. An additional 24 new employees are being hired, and the state expects to increase its nursing staff for the facility's infirmary.

With the exception of six male corrections officers who will work on the perimeter of the institution, male business manager and two maintenance personnel, all of the employees are females.

The prison currently houses 269 women who are serving time for felony crimes, while about 68 others are serving time for misdemeanors.

With the opening of the new prison near Ypsilanti, that facility will be used for female felons only. Housing of misdemeanors at that time will become the responsibility of the county, although spokesmen for the City of Detroit have not yet indicated what use they will make of DeHoCo when the new state prison is opened.

Transfer of DeHoCo represents the first time in history that Michigan has operated a prison facility for women. Until now its convicted felons were housed at DeHoCo through contract with Detroit.

Authorization to assume administration and operation of DeHoCo by the state was granted with the signing of enabling legislation by Governor William Milliken on August 4. The act provided for about $200,000 to renovate the 50-year-old cottage-type facility for temporary operation by the state.

Johnson said the first six months of operation under state management will be a difficult transition period for the institution

Two-Stage Senior Housing Proposed

80-100 Units Seen in First Phase

Preliminary design for the proposed senior citizens housing development to be located on the Eastlawn Convalescent Center hill received unanimous Northville City Council approval Monday night.

Council action followed a slide presentation by the architect, Donald DiComo of Kamp-DiComo Associates.

Councilmen applauded the initial concept represented by the preliminary design phase, and by its action the council authorized the architect to proceed with the design development phase.

Earlier, the Northville Housing Commission, which is the prime-mover of the project, accepted the preliminary design as did some 50 members of the Northville Senior Citizens Club who were given a preview of the drawings by the Housing Commission.

As presently conceived, the development would be divided into two stages. The first, for which construction conceivably could begin early next spring, suggests a terraced development of from 80 to 100 one-bedroom units. It would be a three-story low-rise complex.

This initial project, according to DiComo, will have all of the necessary supportive facilities for expansion, as represented by the second stage for which no timetable has yet been established. The second stage suggests a seven or eight story high-rise building providing another 100 units. It would be located at the north edge of the initial building.

Both projects would cover only 7½ percent of the 11½ acre site, which has been purchased by the city. Eastlawn Convalescent Center, presently occupying the highest point of the hill, can continue to occupy existing buildings for another two years under the purchase agreement.

According to DiComo, space represented by the new buildings, together with the space needed for parking and drives, will still leave nearly 80-percent of the picturesque hillside in its natural state.

The steep and densely wooded hillside lies just northwest of the intersection of Elm and High streets. It rises from a stream at the southeast corner to a height of 115 feet at the north property line.

"The natural woodlands of the site will give a very picturesque view of the surrounding area," states the facilities description presented by the architect. "It will be an ever changing landscape from winter when the adjacent city can be seen readily from one of the highest points in Northville, changing in the spring to light green foliage which during the summer months will completely conceal the project, to the fall when the changing fall colors will be at their height of beauty and then extending into a white winterland of snow. No other site in Northville could equal its beauty."

The exterior design of the proposed buildings has not yet been established, DiComo emphasized in explaining that initial drawings and a topographic model show block buildings only to indicate site configuration.

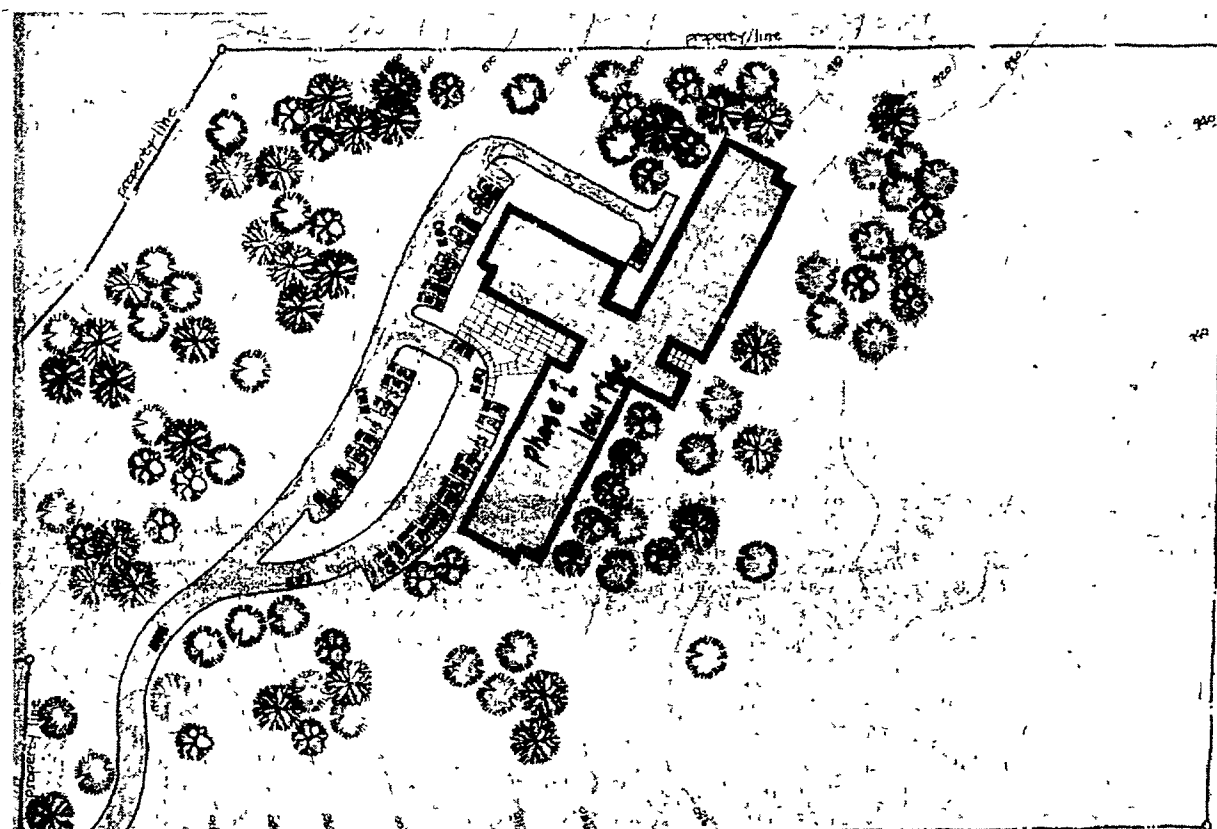

Initial drawings suggest that the drive to the first-stage building be located at High and Elm streets, opposite St. Paul's Lutheran Church. With construction of the second stage, that of the high rise, the proposal suggests that a second drive be provided from Base Line near the high school. The High-Elm drive would be on a 10-percent grade.

Councilmen have voiced some concern about location of the drives and of the location of the buildings themselves, reserving their final judgment until after examining "witness stakes" to be installed on the site by the architect. Concerning the buildings, council members mentioned that they had hoped the buildings could be located further down (south) the hillside, than is presently contemplated. However, DiComo pointed out that location is restricted by the steep grade.

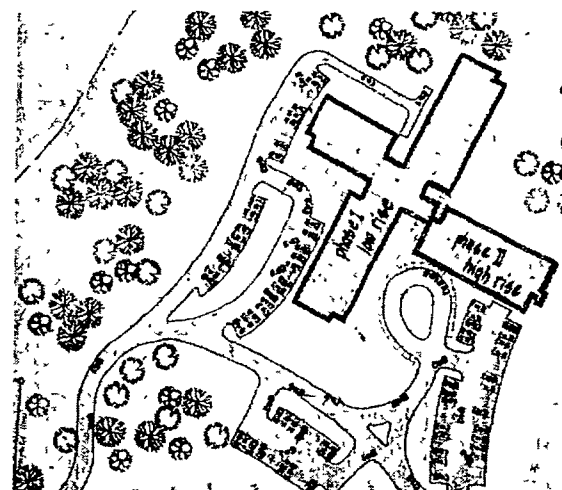

As presently conceived a typical living unit will provide an area of approximately 500 to 600 square feet per apartment with the following rooms or areas:

1. Entry. Having an adjacent coat closet providing four lineal feet of rod and shelf space.
2. Living-Dining Area. Approximately 11½ x 18 feet. The dining space will be adjacent to the kitchen with a raised snack bar or pass over counter.
3. Kitchen. Approximately 7 x 18 feet; about 17 lineal feet of counter space including a single compartment sink with garbage disposal and single

Jewelry Employee Hurt in Robbery

A clerk at Noder's Jewelry in downtown Northville was injured early Monday afternoon during an armed robbery of the store in which an undetermined amount of money was taken.

Treated for facial cuts and a possible concussion was Veronica Myers of South Lyon who was alone in the store at the time of the robbery. She was released from St. Mary Hospital Monday evening.

She said two men walked into the store at Main and Center streets shortly before 1 p.m. and one asked to have a watch fixed. When she told him there was no one available at the time to do repairs, he reportedly pulled

Recreation Cost Sharing

City Eyes Formula Change

Alternative ways of financing the Northville Recreation Department are being studied by the Northville City Council.

Council's consideration of possible change in the cost-sharing formula between the city and township arises because of an anticipated burgeoning increase in the next recreation department budget.

In a report to the city council last week, City Manager Steven Walters, said, "We can expect to see a substantial increase in the proposed 1976-77 recreation budget, both in terms of the total expenditures and the proposed contributions from the city and the township."

The manager predicted the government's proposed contributions will be about 60-percent greater than the present 1976-76 levels. The current budget is $89,000, of which $38,000 is earmarked from the township and $27,517 from the city based on a patronage formula.

First peek at the new budget is to come later this month since the township has requested an early presentation, said Walters, "because of the timing of planning and decision-making leading up to the township board's millage requests early in 1976."

The manager suggested the council study the current cost-sharing formula for the following reasons:

1. The size of the recreation budget is expected to increase substantially, making it even more important that cost sharing be on an equitable basis.
2. The present city-township recreation agreement concerning cost sharing is informal and vague.

3. The township board may propose 1976 millage levies earmarked for specific programs, which will place the township's future recreation contributions in the context of a millage rate. This is a different context philosophically, he explained, from the present cost-sharing formula based on number of participants.

Walters asked council to consider three possible cost sharing formulas:

- Contributions based on participation, as is presently done. This formula, he pointed out, assumes that if more residents participate in the program from one governmental unit, then all taxpayers from that unit should pay more toward the program. It produces an equal contribution per participant for the city and township, he noted, but unequal per capital contributions and tax burdens.

• Contributions based on population. This formula, he said, assumes that the city and township should contribute the same support per resident, based on a view of the recreation department financing as creating an equal recreational opportunity for every citizen. However, because of the unequal tax raising potential between the city and township, the population formula produces unequal tax burdens.

• Contributions based on tax base. This formula, he CHRISTMAS HOURS in downtown Northville stores are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

THREE POLICY ITEMS will be up for consideration at the Northville Board of Education meeting this Monday. Board members will discuss the procedure to follow when parents ask to review school records, procedure for Sunday use of school facilities, and a health exam policy. Also up for discussion will be a boundary line change between Novi and Northville, a student expulsion recommendation, and hiring of teachers for the special education program.

INSPECTING NURSERY—Viewing facilities at Willowbeck Farm, new home of the Novi Cooperative Nursery are from left, Mrs. Paulette Donaldson, Mrs. Sandy Cheney and Mrs. Lane Norton, nursery teacher and owner of the Beck Road farm. Interested parents and children may visit during an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. this Sunday.

Novi Cooperative Nursery Finds Permanent Home

After moving every year since it was formed, Novi Cooperative Nursery now has a permanent home at Willowbeck Farm at 21633 Beck Road north of Eight Mile Road.

The nursery for three and four year olds has signed a four-year contract and has moved from Ramblewood Swim Club where sessions were held for the past year.

An open house from 3 to 5 p.m. this Sunday is planned to show off the new facility to interested parents and children of the area.

There now are openings in both morning and afternoon sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday for four year olds and on Tuesday and Thursday mornings for three year olds.

Lane Norton, the cooperative nursery teacher, will be on hand Sunday to talk with children and parents, Mrs. Sandy Cheney explains.

Mrs. Norton and her husband, Richard, have purchased the Beck Road property that formerly belonged to the Paul Reagans. Plans are to use the barn as a permanent nursery.

Youngsters also will be going on exploratory field trips through the countryside.

Interested parents may contact Mrs. Judy McBride, Novi cooperative nursery membership chairman, at 348-2330.

Berryman Concerts Start Wednesday

The first in a series of winter concerts dedicated to George Berryman will be held at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, December 10, in the Northville High School auditorium.

The popular middle school band, directed to whom the concerts are dedicated is on health leave, awaiting a kidney transplant.

Bicentennial music played by the Northville High symphonic band represents various American composers, including John Philip Sousa and William Schuman.

Of special interest will be the Overture of Chester, which at one time was considered for our country's national anthem.

Under the baton of director Michael Rumbell the band also will play selections from West Side Story.

"Richness of orchestration and romance in melody are two leading characteristics of the American music used to carry out the Bicentennial theme," he notes.

Also dedicated to Berryman, under whose direction many band students received their first training, are concerts at 8 p.m. on December 12 and 15 under the direction of Robert Williams.

The concert December 12 will be by the Wind Ensemble and the December 15th one will include the Northville High School choir.

Birth Told

Matthew, meaning "gift of God", is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mycek (Barbara Kelly) of South Lyon, for their first child.

Matthew Adam was born November 25 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor weighing seven pounds and two ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Vivian Marble of Bellaire and the late Frank B. Kelly. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Annette Mycek of Dearborn and the late Adam B. Mycek.

Matthew, named for his paternal grandfather and his great-grandfather, is the 15th great-grandchild for Mrs. Marie Ackley of Springfield, Ohio.

Suburban Housewives: Their Traumas Are Topic

By JEAN DAY

"THE CHANGING ROLE of the Suburban Woman" is the topic to be discussed by Dr. Sung-ran Cho, medical director of the Fieldbrook Unit at Northville State Hospital, as she speaks to Northville Woman's Club this Friday.

In the program at 1:30 p.m. at Northville Presbyterian Church she is to examine the emotional traumas women are experiencing as suburban housewives.

The psychiatrist will be speaking from local experience as the Fieldbrook Unit serves people from this area. It has 60 in-patient beds, out-patient services and a follow-up after-care program for discharged patients.

Mrs. Russell Anger, program chairman of the day, will introduce the Korean-born doctor. She is married and the mother of three children. She is a resident of Livonia where she also has a private practice. She explains that she is "psycho-therapy oriented."

After being educated in Seoul, Korea, medical school with a year's internship there, Dr. Cho came to the United States for a year's internship in Pittsburgh. After three years of psychiatric training, she was certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology in 1968 and came to Northville State Hospital in July of that year.

A tea will follow the program, Mrs. George Weiss, president, announces.

"LEFTOVERS" are no problem for members of Northville Mothers' Club, who expect to be hosting several hundred couples at the fourth annual cocktail benefit this Saturday evening in nine members' homes.

The whiskey sour punch, if any remains, as well as the cheese balls and dips all are whisked into refrigerators after the event to be brought out next Monday night for the club's own Christmas potluck party at which charter and life members are honor guests.

Sixty members, including 29 honorees, are signed up to attend the dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. V. V. Boll at 18262-Arselot. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Keith Wright, Mrs. Ronald Horwath, Mrs. Charles Fountain and Mrs. Donald Willoughby.

Charter member Iris Kampf is to present reminiscences of the early days of the club, which was formed in the depression year of 1936 to help supply milk for needy students. The 35-member club, which requires all members to work on its projects, has earned the reputation of being a "fairly godmother" to the schools as it annually gives its earnings to aid education and young people.

Last month the club donated $1,000 to Northville Historical Society to start restoration of the one-room, Wash-Oak schoolhouse which has been moved to the Mill Race Historical Village. When completed, it will be used for classes to be held as they were years ago.

PARTY GUESTS of Doris and Bill Farrington will be the first to dance in the new Jolly Miller restaurant, and supper club in the Plymouth Hilton Inn this Saturday evening.

The Farringtons will entertain Northville friends as well as guests from Birmingham and Grosse Pointe, including their two sons and daughter, first at cocktails in one of the hotel's new suites. Because they have elegant traditional Williamsburg-type furnishings, Mrs. Farrington is planning to decorate for that evening with Christmas dried flower arrangements as is done in Colonial Williamsburg.

She expects also to use a distinctive spun glass angel arrangement she has created. After cocktails the group will dine in the hotel's Terrace Room by the indoor pool and then christen the dance floor of the Jolly Miller.

Among their guests will be Deane Baker, owner of the Hilton, who took over the hotel and completed its construction. At its opening he explained that the name "Jolly Miller" for the supper club (located in the area that formerly was the Thunderbird restaurant) was chosen with a nod to the many mills that flourished in the Northville-Plymouth area in earlier days.

NO RESERVATIONS are necessary for the League of Women Voters' holiday tea to be given from 1 to 3 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the Mill Race library.

"It's very informal," says Lesa Buckland, mentioning that the annual event is a great way for prospective members to get to know about the Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi League.

In addition to being social, the tea focuses upon local education with guests to include Dr. Gerald B. Kratz, Novi superintendent of schools, John M. Hoben, Plymouth superintendent, and Raymond Spear, Northville superintendent.

Pacheco-Albrecht Homes To Host Newcomers

The striking contemporary home of Dr. and Mrs. Vincente Pacheco at 45942 Northview off Clement Road is one of two homes to be open for the Christmas cocktail party of Northville Newcomers' Club next Saturday, December 13.

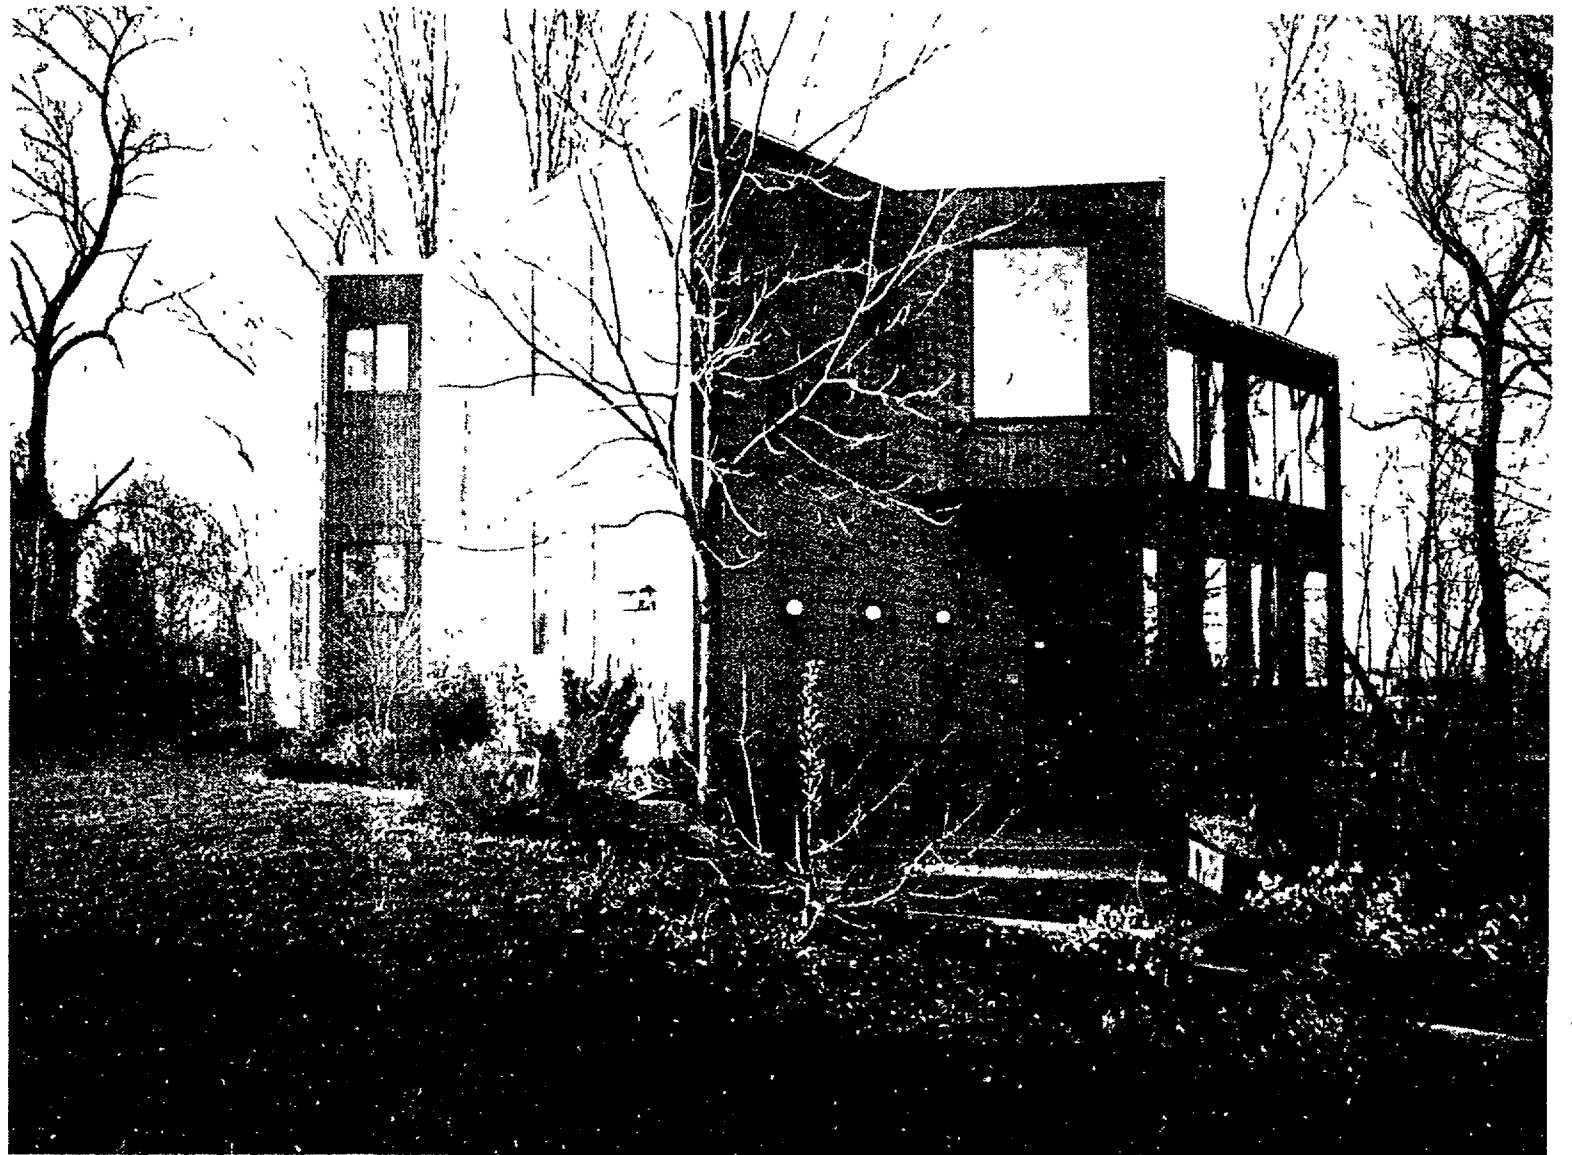

Donna Pacheco already has expanded her maximum from 25 to 35 couples to accommodate reservations being made for the party to be held from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Another 25 couples will gather concurrently at the home of Betty and Sid Albrecht of 16868 Dundalk Court in Northville Commons.

Couples attending are asked to bring an hors d'oeuvre in addition to their $4 donation as well as a white elephant gift, Mrs. Charles Peltz, Newcomers' president, relates.

From the balcony off the master bedroom on the top level of the Pacheco home it's possible to see as far as Northville State Hospital. Dr. Pacheco, a child psychiatrist, is on the staff at adjacent Hawthorn Center and has a private practice.

Dock-Marina Ordinance Receives Novi Council Okay

Without much debate Monday, Novi Council approved an ordinance regulating docks or marinas operated as businesses in Novi.

The ordinance came largely as the result of the wish by

Available

Novi Council is actively looking for businesses interested in locating an establishment in Novi which could make use of a Class "C" Liquor License.

With the recent mid-decade census of the city, Novi is allotted an additional three liquor licenses. The city had one liquor license left over previously while six liquor licenses have already been issued in the city.

According to the administration, there are 15-16 applicants for a Class "C" Liquor License, but the administration and council indicated Monday that it wants to wait on issuing licenses until more requests have been received to allow the council a better choice.

Councilman Philip Goodman Monday suggested that the Chamber of Commerce should be notified because a lot of developers may not be aware the liquor licenses are available.

City Manager Edward Kriewall noted that the previous council had held off issuing the previous final liquor license because it wanted to keep it for use by a large hotel, motel or bowling alley.

Council indicated that it may consider holding a liquor license for a developer who promises to build an establishment up to the standards sought by the council. One problem in the past, according to the manager, was that businesses would not develop property unless they were certain the liquor license was available.

A similar case happened with the Arkin home on Nine Mile. While Arkin Industries owns the elegant old home and is interested in having a large brand name restaurant lease the home, no restaurant is willing to do so without a definite liquor license, according to the city administration

Novi residents and officials for some sort of law to stop any future problems with docks and marinas such as the city had with the Walled Lake Dock near the corner of East Lake Drive and Novi Road.

A long battle in court between the city and Franchise Exposition eventually resulted in Circuit Court Judge Robert Webster ruling that the dock was unsafe and restraining use of the dock for commercial or business purposes.

Gabriel Glantz, an owner of the dock, has not yet indicated whether he will appeal the decision.

The new ordinance requires licensing of any commercial dock or marina along with a fee which is to be established later.

The license requires necessary permits under the Inland Lakes and Streams Act plus certification from a professional engineer that the facilities are not dangerous and can bear the weight of at least 200 pounds per square foot.

Also required is sufficient paved off-street parking to the tune of one parking space for every two boat berths and one parking space for every five running feet of dock space. A minimum of 875 square feet of space must be left for exclusive use of each boat berthed at the marina. Toilet facilities must be located at the dock which have been approved by the Oakland County Department of Health.

Renewal of license is required each year. Each application requires a site plan with all information and an environmental impact study must be included.

A violation of the ordinance by operating a commercial dock or marina without a permit can be convicted and punished with a fine of up to $500 and 90 days imprisonment. Each day upon which a violation occurs will be deemed to constitute a separate offense.

The ordinance was given a stamp of approval previously by the committee for the improvement of Walled Lake made up of residents in both Novi and Walled Lake.

Walled Lake City Clerk Ruby Lewandowski said that the Walled Lake Council has not, as yet, considered or taken any action on a similar ordinance to govern their portion of the lake.

Says Federal Highway Administration

Novi Road Widening Required

Goodfellows Sell Papers

To Help Novi's Needy

Their hands may get cold, but their hearts will be warm when Novi's Goodfellows take to the streets at 5 a.m. this Friday and Saturday selling The Novi News for a donation to raise money for food and clothes for Novi's needy.

Last year the Goodfellows were able through donations, as well as the annual newspaper sale, to raise $1,700 to $1,800 for 61 food baskets and clothes baskets which were given to residents and families throughout Novi.

According to Leon Dochot, chairman of the annual drive, there will be about 10 Goodfellows out selling copies of The Novi News, which were donated for the occasion by Sliger Home Newspapers.

The Goodfellows are hoping to collect enough money to take care of every needy person and family who applies and is qualified.

For children, the Goodfellows will give clothes baskets. For girls, included will be a dress or pants suit, a slip, underwear, stockings, slippers, pajamas and toys. Boys will receive a shirt, pants, underwear, pajamas and toys.

Food baskets for families will include a turkey, canned goods, milk, flour, sugar, coffee, pancake flour, syrup, rolled oats, potatoes, sweet potatoes, bread, oleo, celery, lettuce, radishes, onions, and cranberry sauce.

To submit the name of a person or family to receive food or clothes baskets, call 624-1248 or 349-2188. Names submitted are investigated to determine need before the baskets are handed out.

Besides the newspaper sale, the Goodfellows have also sought donations from businesses in the city.

The Wixom Goodfellows will also be selling The Novi News for a donation December 12-14.

The Federal Highway Administration may refuse to fund improvements to the Novi Road-I-96 Interchange unless Novi Road is widened south of the interchange, according to a Federal Highway Administration official.

James Wesley, an engineer with the Federal Highway Administration, told the Novi News Monday that "We can't build the interchange without someone doing something with Novi Road (south of the project)."

Despite the apparent warning, neither Novi nor state officials appear concerned that the project may be in jeopardy due to the necessary widening. The city and Oakland County currently are submitting a plan for widening Novi Road under a federal safety grant.

The plan, as assembled by Oakland County, calls for widening Novi Road to five lanes from the interchange project south to Flint Street approximately 1000 feet south of Grand River. It also calls for deceleration and acceleration lanes on Grand River plus relocation to the east of the entrance of 11 Mile from Grand River.

The city and county are hoping that federal funds will be used to widen the road. If safety funds are used, the split would be 70-30 or 90-10 depending upon exactly how hazardous the situation is. In either case, the federal government would pay the larger portion while the county would be responsible for the remainder although Novi City Manager Edward Kriewall has indicated the city would be willing to split the cost.

While the safety grant fund is reportedly near depletion and an urban systems fund (which also could be used) is depleted, both state and city officials are certain monies will be available — if not now, later when another bill is passed replenishing those funds.

Both governments also appear certain that due to the potential safety hazard, the federal government will certainly hand out the safety grant.

The grant request is currently at the state level and will be passed on shortly to the federal government.

"The request is in our traffic and safety division. They verbally said it looks okay," stated George Lott, Federal Aid Urban Engineer in the local government section of the state highway department. Lott said he expects the Federal Highway Administration will program the widening without problem.

He conceded, however, that the Federal Highway Administration "could care less" how the state or local governments come up with the funds to widen Novi Road — as long as it is widened.

Similarly, Kriewall said he expects no problem with receiving the grant though he indicated if the grant is not forthcoming, the city and county will not be able to — on their own — afford to widen that portion of Novi Road. He noted Monday that Novi Road from Grand River to Eight Mile is scheduled for widening on the five year county road program.

Wesley said that the Federal Highway Administration will not put federal monies into an improvement on the interchange only to have a bottleneck just south where seven lanes would have to merge into two lanes if no widening is done. He would not comment on whether he expects the federal safety grant to be approved for the project.

A. Ross Heath, an engineer with the Michigan Highway

Department, said that the state has "known for some time" that the federal government would not fund the improvements to the interchange without the widening of Novi Road south.

Heath said that "We're talking about a $10 million interchange improvement. It's very true that our department, the county and city won't let the project go down the drain."

He added there are many solutions to the problem, even if the safety grant is not approved. Asked to elaborate, Heath said only that the county and city could pick up the cost.

Heath added that the state is not willing to pick up any of the cost although he said that the department is able to do, within reason, whatever it wants to.

Help from the state in getting the safety grant for the widening marked a complete turn-around from the early plans for the interchange improvements when state officials indicated that widening Novi Road was strictly a city, county problem.

Mist Blamed For Record Accidents

By WAYNE LODER

The Guinness Book of World Records would probably have to be rewritten in several categories if Novi police ever send in the results of one of the most hair-raising nights to ever happen in the history of Novi.

Possible records — for a six hour period — include:

1. Most traffic accidents — 40;
2. Most hit and run traffic accidents — 15;
3. Most times a patrol car was nearly hit by a spinning car — 8;
4. Most traffic accidents written up by one officer — 13

The whole episode began shortly after 9 p.m. the night of Tuesday, November 25 when a light mist hit Novi, freezing on the pavement and making driving treacherous.

First report of an accident came in at 9:27 when Raymond Praedel, 21, of Detroit rolled his car over on Eight Mile Road at Meadowbrook after going into a skid. He was taken to Botsford Hospital with bruises.

A short while later, Novi police including Traffic Officer William Brown and several other officers converged on I-96 near the Paragon Steel Bridge because of several minor automobile accidents which had caused a semi tractor trailer to jack-knife in an attempt to keep from hitting

Michigan Company Buys 'West Oakland'

West Oakland Bank, which has two branches in Novi, has been acquired through purchase of stock by Michigan National Corporation of Bloomfield, parent company of Michigan National Bank.

Complete terms were not disclosed but 100 percent of the outstanding shares of West Oakland Bank were purchased by Michigan National Corporation last week.

West Oakland Bank has assets of $22.5 million and will be joining the $3.2 billion Michigan National Corporation.

According to Donald Stacy, President of West Oakland Bank, "We anticipate to expand services with the resources behind us as a result of the Michigan National Corporation purchase."

West Oakland Bank has been in existence four years. According to Stacy, the bank is putting in application to change its name to Michigan National Bank-West Oakland.

In Wixom Committee Report

Charter Revision Eyed

A proposal that a charter revision question be put on the ballot to determine if residents of Wixom want a charter revision committee to revise the charter and possibly change the form of city government has been proposed by the Wixom Charter Amendment Committee.

The recommendation that the residents of Wixom make the decision on type of government was made in a report presented to the city council last week by William Travis, chairman of the amendment committee and former assistant to the mayor.

"The second and perhaps the most significant reason for revising the Wixom City Charter is to provide a system of government that can better coordinate day to day operations of each department of the city. Thus, Wixom can provide more effective services to its citizens," said the report.

The form of city government in Wixom has long been a topic of discussion since the city charter allows for a strong mayor who does not work fulltime as mayor. In addition, the assistant to the mayor is appointed by the mayor and answers to him — not the council.

The report also noted that a charter review committee should be established because many state and federal laws existing in 1958 have been changed by legislative action or judicial review rendering several sections of the charter as null and void. The report added that the Justice of the Peace Courts as a case in point. "There are sections on taxation and elections and others that can only serve to deter and confuse any citizen that may attempt to become involved in the government of Wixom."

A write-in candidate for Wixom Council, Robert Michael VanZandt, claimed that a friend of his was told by an official in the city clerk's office that "because of property and residency requirements in the charter, VanZandt could not file to run for council. VanZandt lives in Indian Lodge Apartments and had not lived in the city long enough to fill the residency requirement listed in the charter.

However, subsequent investigation revealed that both the lengthy residency requirement and property requirements have been struck down in court rulings and, thus, VanZandt could legally have filed for council despite the Wixom charter provisions.

The report by the charter amendment committee noted three areas where the mayor and council had generally indicated an interest in solving problems: the administration's purchase ceiling of $500; the residency requirements imposed on the department heads and other administrative officers of the city; and the question of whether or not the mayor or council can give some degree of job security to department heads and other appointed administrative officers of the city.

The charter amendment committee recommended that the city council adopt a resolution amending the Post Office Moves To Temporary Site

Despite the disappearance of the Novi Post Office from its old location on Grand River this past weekend, residents should rest assured that the post office is still alive and kicking.

The post office is now leasing temporary quarters at 43111 Grand River, east of Novi Road and next door to Novi Auto Parts, which owns the building.

"The reason for our move is that our new building is not yet completed and we outgrew our old quarters," said Novi Postmaster Neal Lahring. "We also have better parking here. Before we could only park about three cars in front of the old building. Here we can park about seven plus there is parking on the side."

The Novi Post Office eventually will be moving into the Walt Zuckin building on Novi Road south of the railroad tracks, but according to Lahring, the architectural renovation inside of that building is not yet completed despite the fact it was originally expected the post office would have moved into the building by September of 1975.

The temporary quarters on Grand River has an additional 1200 square feet of space over the old post office and with approximately half million pieces of Christmas mail flowing through the Novi Post Office, the space will be needed.

"We're going to have more mail because the people are mailing to beat the December 28 rate hike," pointed out Lahring. That hike will raise the cost of first class letters from $.10 to $.13 and post cards from $.07 to $.09.

The Novi Postmaster added that if the post office had not leased the new facilities, "We'd have had to rent temporary quarters for incoming parcel post which we have done in the past."

Lahring estimates that by September of 1976, the new building on Novi Road should be ready for operation. That building will have 7,200 square feet, more than four times the size of the old post office.

CHILDREN ONLY—Looking at gifts to give Mom or Dad are, from left, John Dugan, Scott Worth and Brian Worth. Priced for children's pocketbooks, the items will be on sale at the annual Children Only bazaar to be given by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. this Saturday in the Northville city council chambers in city hall. Youngsters may choose from a host of gifts in the $1 to $2 range that will be on display. Duplicates are gift wrapped ready to give.

To Be Held in Northville Square

Seek Bloodmobile Donors

Appointments now are being taken for a Northville community bloodmobile to be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, December 23, in the community room of the Northville Square shopping center.

It is sponsored by the American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan chapter, which points out that donors are "helping save someone's life."

While thanking faithful blood donors and volunteers in the Northville area for continued involvement and support of the blood program, the Red Cross points out that residents should be aware of the responsibilities of the "total coverage" program.

When a community accepts a blood program through the Red Cross, there is a goal figure of four percent of the community population which is set and should be met within a year's time, officials explain.

Northville area's goal is 728 pints of blood a year. So far, approximately 200 have been given by Northville residents.

"It's going to require maximum involvement from potential donors to meet this goal," the Red Cross points out.

It adds that, since commercial blood banks have dissolved operations in the five county area surrounding Detroit, blood needs have leaped from a goal of 190,000 to 215,000 units of blood per year. The more than 80 Detroit hospitals require approximately 4,600 pints of blood in a normal week.

Only five percent of the population in the United States has donated blood, says the Red Cross, adding that when a person donates once a year he protects himself, his spouse, parents, grandparents, dependent children 16 years old and younger (17 year olds are urged to donate) as well as in-laws.

This one annual donation, the Red Cross guaranteed, ensures that blood needs will be met at no cost to the patient even though he is hospitalized elsewhere in the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Appointments may be made by calling 349-2665 or 349-7571. Walk-ins also will be welcome.

Mothers' Club Shares Snacks

Here's New Party Recipes

New recipes for "dipping and snacking" always are in demand for holiday entertaining.

Those attending the nine Christmas cocktail benefits being sponsored by Northville Mothers' Club this Saturday evening will be sampling several new recipes, as well as snacking on favorites from other years.

The new cheese ball for nibbling owes its flavor to fresh mushrooms, bacon slices and green onions. The club received the recipe from life member Ruth Mary Atchison

CHEESE BALL

1 C. chopped fresh mushrooms
4 Tbsp. butter or oleo
4 Tbsp. onion juice
2 pkg. 8 oz. softened cream cheese
4 Tbsp. creamy peanut butter
6 green onions chopped fine
5 slices bacon

Cook and stir mushrooms in butter for five minutes. Stir in onion juice. Remove from heat. Beat cream cheese and peanut butter until fluffy. Stir in mushrooms and cover. Refrigerate for at least one hour. Chop green onions. Fry, dry and crumble five slices of bacon.

Shape cream cheese mixture into two balls and roll in bacon and onions. Refrigerate until ready to serve with round cocktail crackers.

Place all in casserole. Saute 1/2 C. chopped pecans in 2 Tbsp. butter. Sprinkle over top of other ingredients. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 min. Serve with large box round crackers.

HOT PEPPER JELLY DIP

3 large green peppers (1 cup)
6 C. sugar
1 1/2 C. cider vinegar
1 bottle Certo
1 tsp. cayenne pepper

Remove seeds and grind peppers fine. Do not use juice. Combine green peppers with sugar and vinegar. Bring to full rolling boil. Continue cooking 10 minutes more. Cool 5-10 min. Add Certo and cayenne pepper. Cool. More cayenne pepper may be added if desired for flavor. Green food coloring adds color. Pour into jars and seal.

To serve ladle over two or three slices of cream cheese. Serve with Triscuit-type crackers.

A favorite from previous benefits is this recipe:

BRAUNSCHWEIGER SPREAD

1 lb. Braunschweiger
1/4 C. mayonnaise
3 Tbsp. dill pickle juice
3 drops tabasco sauce
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 tsp. garlic salt
1 Eight oz. cream cheese

Mix above with one-third of cream cheese. Add one-third C. chopped onion and 1/4 C. chopped dill pickle.

Mix well and put in bowl lined with Saran wrap (empty Cool Whip container, large size, works well). Chill overnight. Unmold and ice with other two-thirds cream cheese softened with a little milk. Decorate whole ball with sliced stuffed green olives. Serve with crackers.

Proceeds from the fourth annual Mothers' Club Christmas event, which is expected to draw more than 600 people, will be used to help restore the Wash-Oak, one-room school house which last month was moved to the Mill Race Historical Village.

When restored, it is to be used for classes so that local students can attend school for a day much the same way as children did a century ago.

'Who Cares?'

Is Lunch Topic

Christian Women's Club has scheduled its Christmas luncheon for noon to 2 p.m. next Thursday, December 11, at the Mayflower Meeting House.

Yuletide music will be presented by the 20-voice Bentley High School ensemble conducted by Jerry Smith.

Donna Hackney of Southfield, a former Christian Women chairman, will speak on the topic, "Crushed and Hurting — and Who Cares?" She is a wife, mother, grandmother and teacher.

There will be a gift at each luncheon table. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Jackie Crow, 522-1528. A nursery will be available at United Assembly of God Church on Ann Arbor Trail.

These recipes will be among those served with a whiskey punch at the homes of Mrs. Martin Rinehart, club president, Mrs. Edward Hodge and Mrs. Keith Wright, co-chairmen for the benefit, and Mrs. Herbert Weston, Mrs. Richard Lyon, Mrs. Irvin Marburger, Mrs. William VanBuren, Mrs. Charles Fountain and Mrs. Donald Willoughby this Saturday night.

Village Oaks

Plans Bazaar

A variety of handmade items in a "big range" of prices is promised for the Christmas bazaar of Village Oaks Elementary School to be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at the school.

Ornaments, stuffed animals, straw flower arrangements and jewelry are featured with many gifts priced so that children can afford to do their Christmas shopping at the bazaar.

Mothers and fifth grade students are sponsoring the event with proceeds earmarked for outdoor education week for fifth graders.

Senior Citizens Schedule Election, Turkey Dinner

Election of officers and a holiday turkey dinner will highlight December meetings of Northville Senior Citizens' Club.

Officers for 1976 will be voted upon at a business session on Tuesday, December 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall council chambers. A social hour will follow.

Turkey furnished by the Northville Recreation Department will be featured at the potluck dinner which has been moved up from the fourth Tuesday of the month to December 16 at 6 p.m. at Northville Presbyterian Church.

Members are asked to have their membership cards to show at the door and to bring dishes other than meat for the potluck. A program of Christmas entertainment will follow.

Old Friends Shop Sold in Northville

Announcement of the sale of her business, Old Friends resale shop, and its removal to Plymouth is being made by Mrs. Marge Davis.

The business has been purchased by Rose Trask and Marilyn "Lynnie" Eckhout, both young Plymouth residents, who plan to move the shop to 689 North Mill Street in Plymouth across from Heide's Greenhouse and Flower Shop.

The resale shop of furniture, jewelry and household items is to be renamed "Heidi's Menagerie."

The present building at 16796 Northville Road, which Mrs. Davis owned, has been purchased by Dr. R. J. Slating, a veterinarian, who plans to operate the Mill Stream Animal Hospital there. Dr. Slating has been associated with Dr. Carol Geake, a Northville veterinarian on Eight Mile Road.

Mrs. Davis opened the Old Friends business almost a year ago on December 7, 1974. In announcing its sale, she explained that it had been more demanding than she had anticipated.

It presently is "very busy," she adds with holiday sales. She plans to continue doing business through December 24 with the new owners now working with her.

Merchandise in the shop at the end of business on the day before Christmas will be moved to the Mill Street location, which will open January 1, 1976.

Mrs. Davis adds that persons having memberships at Old Friends will have their accounts transferred to the new business.

BICENTENNIAL DEBATER—Ricci Mulligan (above) and Mitch Adelman were finalists from Novi High School in the Bicentennial Youth Debate local competition held in November. The competition is sponsored by the National Bicentennial Debate Council and district competition will be held Wednesday, December 10 at Novi High School beginning at 3 p.m. Other schools in the district are Brighton, South Lyon, Milford, Hartland, and Walled Lake and they have until December 8 to register for the district competition. Novi Lions Club will co-sponsor with the high school a dinner December 10 for district debate entrants. Other Novi students to compete in the local competition were Bob Davis, Tim Northrup, Katie Trinka, Kathy Ossian, Chris Fritz and Dave Seidel.

"when changes in custody procedures and treatment programming will occur."

"Some changes," he said, "will be made gradually to maintain orderly operation of the institution."

Some of the repairs and changes planned for the physical plant include the purchase of a new kitchen range, repainting of the entire institution, replacement of windows, repair of leaking faucets and plumbing fixtures, repair of the infirmary and installation of an electronic detection system to deter escapes. A new telephone communications system and emergency lighting also are to be installed.

"While remodeling of the facility is necessary," explained Johnson, "it is being made in light of our short term use of the facility."

In the area of treatment, the education program already has been expanded with the use of state school aid. The departmental parole contract program now being used in male institutions is planned here as well as additional vocational training, the corrections director said.

"Where appropriate, procedures and policies will parallel those found in our male institutions," he said.

Assisting the department in matters of treatment programming is the Task Force on Women in Criminal Justice, made up of some 30 citizens from throughout the state.

A total of $2 million has been appropriated for operation of the women's division of DeHoCo during the current fiscal year.

NOW to Elect

Northwest Wayne County chapter of the National Organization for Women, which includes women students at Schoolcraft College, will hold its annual election of officers at its December meeting.

The meeting at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at 27475 Five Mile Road will start at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Feminist entertainment also is planned.

AAUW to Hear Singers Tuesday

Northville Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its December meeting on Tuesday beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School cafeteria.

The branch will host the Plymouth AAUW choral group which will present a selection of Christmas carols. Members are also asked to bring a completed craft item to display at the meeting. They will also have an opportunity to learn macrame or make bread men decorations.

Chairman of hostesses for the evening is Cathy Lang who will be assisted by Kathy Crossman, Sue Harper and Jane Smith.

Northville AAUW President Karel Whitaker reports that the group has "two action study groups studying vital issues which mirror concerns of women today."

Topics for the 1975-76 year selected by the branch are "Economic Facts of Life, Living with Less," and "The 21st Century, Deciding for the Future."

Women in the Northville-Novi area who are interested in learning more about the AAUW or who would like to join the group should call Judy Bloomquist, membership chairman, at 349-7681.

Northville Man, Boy Unhurt in Plane Crash

A Northville area man and his son emerged unhurt from the wreckage of their light plane Saturday afternoon after crashing into a field in Salem Township.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reports that a small plane piloted by Northville psychologist, Dr. J. Clayton Lafferty, 47, 18260 Laraugh, crashed shortly after take-off from Salem Airport, in Salem Township.

A spokesman for the department stated that the plane had just taken off and was enroute to Pontiac Airport when the pilot lost ground visibility and attempted to land.

The pilot, according to the spokesman, apparently attempted to take the plane underneath some high tension wires and crashed into a field just beyond the runway. The spokesman stated that the aircraft slid across the field and was almost demolished during the process with the tail section, engine and wings pulling off from the force of the impact. Salem Township Fire Fighters were called to the scene. However, the wreckage did not burst into flames.

Neither Lafferty nor his 12 year old son, Craig, a passenger in the plane, were injured in the crash which occurred at 1:19 p.m. The incident marks the third time in little over two months that an accident has occurred at the airport which is located at 9751 Six Mile Road.

Two men were killed and two other persons seriously injured in a midair collision of two small airplanes October 26.

Clerk Hurt In Robbery

a gun and announced it was a holdup. The other man left the store at this point, she said.

The clerk emptied the cash register and was then ordered into the office to open the safe. When she told the gunman she did not know the combination, he slammed her head into a mirror on the wall. The breaking glass cut her face.

Mrs. Myers was ordered to lock herself in the bathroom while the gunman fled. A short time later, four women entered the store, police said, and heard glass from the broken mirror fall to the floor. About the same time, the clerk, hearing their voices, came out of the bathroom.

The women, seeing she was covered with blood and hurt, notified police.

Investigating officers were unable to speak with Mrs. Myers until Tuesday and store owner Ray Noder was still trying to determine how much cash was missing and whether or not any merchandise had been stolen, police reported.

The armed robbery is the second in Northville in as many weeks. On November 19, a lone gunman robbed Hamlet Food Mart on Novi Road of approximately $150 and disarmed two officers who walked in during the hold-up. Michael Duane Simon of Plymouth Township was charged with the crime last Tuesday and is awaiting pre-trial examination.

Monday afternoon's robbery is the first to occur at a downtown store in recent years.

Novi City Council Changes Street Dedication Policy

A new city policy seeking "quick" dedication of new streets in subdivisions and a second smaller letter of credit from developers in new subdivisions was revealed to the Novi city council by the city administration last week.

City Manager Edward Kriewall and City Engineer Harry Mosher from Johnson and Anderson indicated that the faster street dedication is necessary because some paved streets are not dedicated by the city until years after they were paved. Many times maintenance problems have already shown up. The new policy is intended to see to it that streets dedicated have been "policed" by the developer and are new without numerous repairs which may have weakened them.

"For some reason in Novi there are a number of streets pavements two, three or four years old that have never been accepted by the city," said Mosher.

Mosher recommended that the city accept the streets when they're new. "The developer would like to unload them so he doesn't have to pay the cost of plowing."

In addition, each street that the city dedicates entitles the city to further Act 51 maintenance monies. However, to receive the monies in October, 1976, the city must dedicate the streets by the end of the previous year.

Mosher and Kriewall pointed out that there are several streets in Fairfield Farms and Heatherwyke subdivisions that should be accepted by the city.

"Hopefully this summer we can come up with one or two streets to be accepted every other week or so," said Mosher.

However, Councilman Philip Goodman pointed out that if streets are accepted by the city now, there may not be enough money for snow removal in the current budget since additional Act 51 monies would come in for maintenance next winter.

In a related matter, the administration recommended that in new subdivisions in which streets have already been constructed, the letter of credit which the developer must put up equal to the estimated street construction costs, would be discontinued after the streets are finished and a second letter of credit be required. The second letter of credit would be worth only a small percentage of the subdivision construction costs and would be intended to take care of any maintenance costs that might occur between the time the streets are constructed and the final subdivision homes are constructed.

Main reason for the second letter of credit is that the initial letter of credit must be legally released when the streets are completed. Thus the city would have no clout should maintenance problems occur because the city would not be able to withhold any of the developer's money to pay for the maintenance should the developer refuse to pay for repairs.

Following much debate Monday, Novi Council voted to table action on dedications in Heatherwyke and Fairfield Farm subdivisions until December 8 or 15 to allow City Attorney David Fried to contact developer Kaufman and Broad to determine if the developer will allow an extension of the original letter of credit which falls due shortly. Reason for seeking an extension of that letter of credit is in hopes of getting Kaufman and Broad to allow the city time enough to determine repairs which should be made before dedication and so that engineers Johnson and Anderson can determine a percentage figure of construction costs which would be adequate to cover maintenance repairs after the city accepts the streets.

In addition, homeowners in those subdivisions are being contacted by their associations to determine if the homeowners have any repair problems on their streets which the city should be aware of before accepting dedication.

We, the undersigned residents of Northville Township, oppose any recall action taken against Betty Lennox, Supervisor, and John MacDonald, Trustee.

We believe that they have always acted in the best interests of the community.

Propose Wixom Charter Revision

charter so that the administration can spend up to $3,000 without council okay.

"Since the charter was adopted in 1958, the value of the dollar has been reduced considerably, and the relative position of $500 in the first city budget has changed even more dramatically," said the report.

To the problem of requiring appointed administrative officers to live within the city, the committee recommended that instead of requiring those officers to move into the city, the charter should require that within six months of their appointment that those officers reside within the area of Oakland County that was originally occupied by the townships of Commerce, Lyon, Novi and Milford.

As to the problem of providing job security for department heads and other appointed officers of the city, the committee stated that the problem cannot be solved through any charter amendment.

"A charter amendment may not substantially change the form of government of the existing charter. Any amendment that would require the reappointment of an appointed officer, thereby giving job security, would deprive the mayor of the only means available to administer to the needs of the city and, therefore change the basic form of government," stated the report. The committee recommended that a charter review committee would allow the voters to decide if they want a change.

Since the charter allows the mayor to hire and fire administrative personnel, a certain amount of job insecurity prevails upon a change in the holder of the top office. That job insecurity may have been one of several reasons why former police chief George VonBehren left the employ of the city.

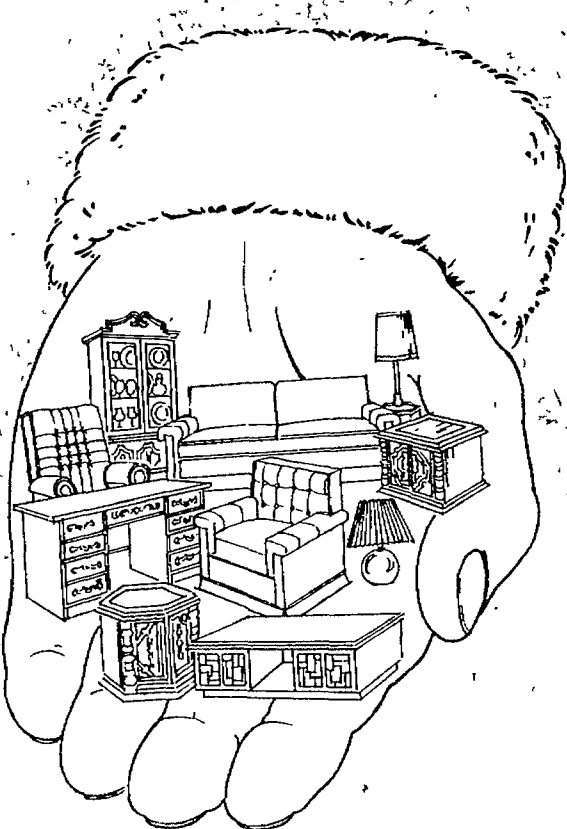

Council set a study session for last night (Tuesday) to discuss the proposals by the charter amendment committee.

Legion Installs New Members

Ten persons were inducted into the American Legion Post 147 and three women joined the Legion Auxiliary in formal initiation ceremonies conducted at the post headquarters in Northville recently.

Those taking the pledge "to God and country" as Legionnaires were:

William Ackerman, Donald A. Campbell, Arnold B. Ford, Phil Gardner, R. C. Hock, Constance Mallett, Leonard Przybyciewicz, E. T. Schiappacasse, Paul R. Vernon and Otto Wohlgenuth.

Inducted into the Auxiliary were Barbara Madgwick, Constance Mallett, Pam Dietz, and Norma Vernon.

ceremonies were Captain James Zito, Robert Pohlman, Norman Schollett, Ed Oliver, and Donald Riffenburg.

"The American Legion and its Auxiliary cherish four great principles," initiates were reminded by the Lloyd H. Green Post commander, Thomas Madgwick. "They are justice, freedom, democracy and loyalty. All members of the American Legion and Auxiliary pledge themselves to serve the disabled, the widowed, the distressed and the orphaned, and we are devoted to the cause of service to the community, state and nation."

"These new members have joined the ranks of veterans in the largest veterans' organization in the world," he added, upon congratulating the initiates.

Gardner, Constance Mallett, Robert Hock, Eugene Schiappacasse, Paul R. Vernon (city councilman), Leonard Przybyciewicz, and William C. Ackerman.

Eyes Committee

To Help Apartments

An unsuccessful write-in candidate for Wixom council has sent a letter to Wixom council urging establishment of a committee to study problems stemming from the concentration of multiple dwelling units in Wixom.

Robert Michael VanZandt, who polled 24 write-in votes November 4 for council said that the council should consider: insuring the long lasting quality of all multiple dwelling structures; explore methods to fight crime in the existing structures by using joint tenant-city cooperation; try to spread interest between tenants and the community; establish a liaison system to place an input into problems faced by both the apartment community and city government.

"I realize the above points are extremely vague," wrote VanZandt. "The community would have to define its objectives and pursue them to conclusions. I feel it is of great necessity to be able to comfortably co-exist with the multiple dwelling units and the city as a whole. Any inputs and knowledge gained would be a benefit to the total community."

Require Road Widening

Heath admitted that his department may not have realized as early as an August public hearing held by the city of Novi that the federal government would insist on the widening. But he insisted the problem was later made clear in meetings to local and county officials.

Kriewall said that he not been told the widening was a requirement although he knew the state highway department was helping the city and county to receive the safety grant.

While the Michigan Highway Department has not yet decided which of five alternatives will be used for the interchange, Heath said that the Route Location and Design Division is recommending alternate 5-A to the Michigan Highway Commission for approval. That alternate calls for $9.44 million worth of improvements plus relocation of Adell Boulevard slightly north which will eliminate homes on the north side of that street.

Heath indicated that few problems are expected and a final decision from the highway department on the alternate should come within 30 days.

Bound Over On Charges In Accident

A tentative trial date of December 19 has been set in the case of Michael Francis Sypula, who was bound over to Washtenaw County Circuit Court following a preliminary examination last week Tuesday.

Sypula, 22, of Romulus, is charged with negligent homicide in connection with a collision in Salem Township which killed two men and injured a third.

The defendant was southbound on Napier Road when his truck collided with a westbound car on Six Mile Road.

Morris Givens of 8112 Frederick and LeRoy Beard of Detroit, both passengers in the car, were killed in the crash. Givens' son, Raymond, who was driving the westbound vehicle, was hospitalized with injuries.

Sypula's preliminary examination was held before Judge Kenneth Bronson of the 14th District Court last week. The defendant remains free on personal recognizance since his arrest and arraignment October 9.

Speaking for Myself Phone Devices For Answering?

JOYCE MURDOCK

"This is really quite an undertaking for a small town. It might be the biggest thing we've ever accomplished."

Mayor Mike Allen, a veteran of more than a quarter-century of service in local government, was whispering in the darkened council chambers Monday night as slides of the senior citizens' housing facility were being shown.

Later the council was to approve the first stage progress reported by Architect Don DiComo. Ground-breaking is scheduled for next spring with occupancy a year later.

First phase of the project would provide 80 to 100 living units with another 100 units proposed at a later date when demand and financing make the expansion feasible.

The mayor's comment is appropriate for several reasons.

It is not unusual for a community of any size to recognize worthwhile needs, as the Northville city council has done in the matter of senior citizen housing.

But to pursue the need, find a practical method to provide it, and then follow through is where the difference between daydreaming and reality becomes discernible.

The Northville city council has purchased an ideal site for the community's senior citizens to enjoy their waning years. Further, it is determined that this facility will be available first to those who have made their home in the city.

The housing commission plan, strongly supported by the city council, calls for the city to finance its own senior citizen housing with no federal-financing strings attached.

The facility will be operated on a self-sustaining, non-profit basis. It will, supporters of the project believe, be better than most comparable facilities because it will reflect the thinking and desires of the local community. Structurally, the complex will be built to strict local standards; space-wise the units will be a cut above the norm; and in design and location it will blend into one of the community's most scenic, tree-covered hills, an atmosphere befitting longtime residents who chose Northville as their home for these very characteristics.

As the mayor said: quite an undertaking for a small town. Maybe its most significant accomplishment.

The Goodfellows are coming!

This year we are told that Northville, like Novi and Wixom, will sell sections of The Northville Record and Novi News to raise funds for the area's needy.

Rotarian C. A. Smith is organizing a Northville Goodfellows organization, which he promises will be in action this year.

It's been happening for years in Novi and Wixom and hundreds of families have received food, clothing and toys turning what might have been a sad Christmas into a joyous and thankful one.

So when you see a Goodfellow in Novi this weekend and in Northville or Wixom the following weekend, stop and give him whatever you can spare for his Goodfellow newspaper.

He may look cold standing in the street hawking papers, but he's really bringing warmth into our own community homes.

Young People Protest Ouster From Clubhouse

To the Editor:
We, the young adults of Highland Lakes feel we are being treated unfairly. As of Monday, November 24, 1975, we were, without notice, kicked out of our clubhouse. This clubhouse is supposedly here for the residents; our parents pay a fee for use of the clubhouse, and the clubhouse up until now has been used mainly by young adults. (12 years to 20 years). Now only homeowners and their guests are allowed. There is word around that there is in existence, a two-page sheet of damages which were supposed to have taken place over the weekend of November 21-23. We haven't even been told the exact reasons we were kicked out. We do know that some of the damages which we are being blamed for have been here for years. Some of these damages would be considered normal maintenance on any other publicly used building, but here they are called deliberate damage. We have been blamed for not watching each other, and letting the proper people know when damage has been done. This is not entirely true. It was the young adults who submitted a letter this summer to our Resident Advisory Board so that we could form a panel to derive what type of punishments should be inflicted upon those who have caused trouble. We did this because we felt that the proper authority at the club house wasn't providing a stiff enough punishment. We never heard from our board. We also know of incidents when damage was done. The proper authorities were told and absolutely nothing was done. So why put the blame on us? We feel that the vandalism here at Highland Lakes has been quite mild compared to a few years ago. We have tried to make people accept us as young adults and not just trouble makers and look what we've gotten... No clubhouse privileges at all. We have had some adult homeowners who have had some parties you wouldn't believe. And they have definitely done some damage; but that was overlooked. Is this justice? As you Highland Lakes residents know by now, we haven't done any great damages since being thrown out of the clubhouse. We're sure that this is not what was expected from us, but we felt it was better to fight this in the open than to treat others as underhanded as we've been treated. Why put the blame on us for a couple of incompetent, irresponsible, staff members at our clubhouse. So now, we as young adults want to know what is on this two page sheet of damages that we are being blamed for, and a chance to defend ourselves. This is the democratic way... We feel at the present time that this is a nice place to visit but we wish we didn't live here.

Thin Ice

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Here we go again.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) is the target of another psychological broadside by those who insist the Metropark system is archaic, unimaginative, too conservative and provincial.

From here the attack smells of sour grapes... or maybe a little like the inside of a Belle Isle restroom.

In the first of a two-part series by The Detroit Free Press, a Metropark critic is quoted as saying that HCMA is "too efficient. Even the bathrooms are always very clean, smelling of Lysol. They sweep up the leaves, everything is nicely ordered, laid out, programmed. But parks are supposed to be a refuge from programmed existence, a place to wander and relax."

Guess who authored that dribble?

It was none other than the founder of the Friends of Belle Isle, Marilyn Tuchow, who is dedicated to the task of "cleaning up" Detroit's most famous park.

Isn't it strange that a gal who has seen how filthy and "unprogrammed existence" can ruin an otherwise beautiful park now advocates that HCMA should ease up on its spit and polish?

A park "refuge from programmed existence" is a figment of the imagination of those who think beer cans grow on toadstools and candy wrappers from Queen Anne's lace. Unfortunately, Ms. Tuchow, where man wanders and relaxes he soils that which he enjoys, leaving for the next wanderer more skunk than cabbage.

While most of us would prefer unspoiled woods, and meadows in which to wander and relax, there are no such parks that permit us the luxury of being the first and last visitors. The next best choice, it seems to me, is a place such as Kensington Metropark where an administration believes cleanliness, safety and my general well-being are important.

HCMA's Metroparks may have an antiseptic atmosphere; it may not experiment with exciting commercial sideshows; and it may cling to that "old-fashioned" notion that nature is worth preserving on the periphery of the City. But I, for one, find the Metroparks healthier than garbage-strewn Belle Isle. What's more the "programmed" Sunday morning nature walks at Kensington are a whole lot more invigorating than the unprogrammed hikes through the beer cans and wine bottles in Cass Benton.

Three cheers for the Metroparks and Lysol!

News From Lansing

By R. Robert Geake
State Representative

Many people write to me asking what the legislature is doing about drug dealers. During the summer the House Judiciary Committee held a series of public hearings throughout the state and is now acting on a package of bills to toughen up Michigan drug laws in an effort to deal more effectively and severely with major drug "pushers" and suppliers.

Action in this area has been prompted in part by knowledge that the agreement between Turkey and the United States under which the U.S. bought up the country's opium crop has expired; the result being that greater amounts of hard drugs may be expected to be entering the U.S. in the near future. It is also recognized that Michigan is one of the few remaining states with a major urban center that has rather weak laws to cope with major drug activities. Because of this, state and federal enforcement officials feel that Detroit is becoming a center for drug operators who have fled the more stringent laws in New York and other states.

The package of three bills would provide for mandatory minimum sentences, legalized wiretapping, and an end to early parole for violators.

House Bill 5545 would amend the Michigan Controlled Substances Act to include a schedule of mandatory minimum sentences for persons convicted of manufacturing, possessing or delivering significant amounts of drugs. As the bill now stands, the amounts and penalties would be:

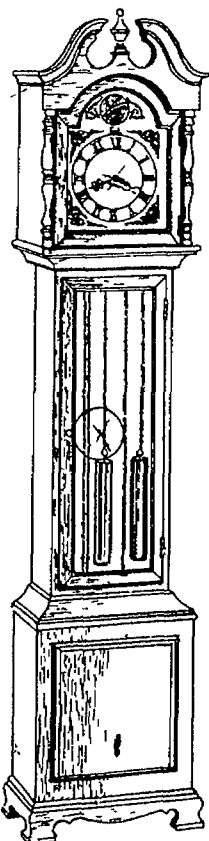

650 grams or more — life imprisonment
225 to 650 grams — twenty to thirty years
50 to 225 grams — ten to twenty years less than 50 grams — up to ten years.

New York officials commenting on the proposed bills have said that they believe the levels involved may be too high for effective enforcement. On the other hand, the bulk of current enforcement activity has been on small users and "street people" with no significant effect on drug traffic except to drive up the price of illicit drugs on the street when a raid makes the drugs temporarily hard to find and purchase.

House Bill 5546 would establish a system of legal wiretapping through issuance of a warrant to tap a particular person, at a particular place, for the purpose of obtaining specific information. Warrants would be issued by the state Court of Appeals. All warrantless wiretapping would be illegal unless carried on with the permission of one of the participants to the conversation. This provision is important since the recent decision of the Michigan Court of Appeals which departed from the U.S. Supreme Court standard in this area and now requires a warrant even for taps with the consent of one of the parties. The bill is controversial because any form of legal wiretapping presents the danger of incursion on personal privacy and the civil liberties which most Americans hold dear.

House Bill 5547 would prohibit giving time off for good behavior to persons convicted under the above bill serving a mandatory minimum sentence.

Anyone wishing more information or copies of these bills may call me at my home in Northville or send a note to my office in the Capitol Building, Lansing, Mich. 48901.

Trustee Mitchell Gives Recall Views

To the Editor:

In response to your recent request for comments concerning the circulation of recall petitions, I offer the following remarks. I also request you place this letter in the "Letters to the Editor" column in the December 3rd, 1975 issue of your paper.

As a public official I am sworn to represent the residents of the Township and to insure that all individuals are guaranteed their rights as residents. The circulation of recall petitions is a right of the citizens.

Also, as a Township official, I have had the opportunity over the last several years to watch those officials dedicated to annexation to perform continually in the best interest of their position.

In 1973 the voters turned down annexation. In 1974 these officials campaigned on the basis that annexation was not an issue. (If I remember correctly, your newspaper took a position that annexation was not the issue.) In 1975 these public officials made it very clear that annexation was the issue.

Should Township residents believe these officials have again changed their position, or should we believe that they will continue to work for annexation?

I am also disappointed over the lack of positive action on the part of the Board of Trustees.

I would like to see a Township Board dedicated to the Township!

M. Richard Mitchell
Trustee

Other Views

To the Editor:

We are being asked to recall our township supervisor and a township trustee. The charges listed in the petition do not justify this action.

It is apparent that prejudices and personal animosity are the motivations for this severe and divisive action. Also, it is questionable that those who advocate the recall possess the talents to better govern than those they seek to recall.

We who have lived in the community for many years have enjoyed the fairness, friendliness and dignity that is offered here. Those who have relocated here in the past few years have been attracted by these qualities.

Certainly none of us benefit from a recall campaign and it is contrary to the practice in the community to initiate costly and disruptive action over differences of this nature. It would be chaotic if those favoring annexation launched a similar campaign to recall township officials who opposed annexation.

I am in hopes that the citizens of Northville Township will again examine the truths and the facts and respond with fairness, friendliness and dignity.

The best possible resolution of this action would be withdrawal of the petition by the Northville Township Boosters or let the petitions die for lack of support.

To the Editor:

I have just learned of the existence of recall petitions for Betty Lennox and John McDonald.

In my humble opinion, this is one of the cheapest pieces of "political" skulduggery and attempts at character destruction I have ever seen.

The Northville Community would best be served if the coterie of mis-fits responsible for this shabby play were exposed for what they are and what they represent.

Lauds Story

To the Editor:

The Wixom Extension Study Group wishes to express its appreciation for the excellent write-up concerning its Fiftieth Anniversary, carried in the November 5th, Wixom Newsbeat of the Novi News.

Nancy Dingelday gave us a truly beautiful dedication which the Community so deeply appreciates and which our County Council will be delighted with when the write-up is presented to them in December.

Extension is made up of many dedicated women in the County who quietly work to do so much for their communities. When we are recognized it is doubly appreciated. And if we are publicly mentioned in our endeavors from time to time, we can accomplish even more.

An especial 'Bouquet' to Nancy for her splendid article

Thank You

To the Editor:

I would like to thank you for your kind editorial column about me in last week's "Speaking for The Record".

There have been so many people giving contributions, praying for me, helping me in many ways and just caring and showing it. It is often impossible for me to even know the identity of many of these people. So I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has helped me, especially those whom I haven't had opportunity to thank personally.

As I have reflected during this Thanksgiving day I see more and more how much I have to be thankful for this year. Even my health problems have given me great opportunity to see accomplishments towards my greatest goal in life, that being to share my faith in Jesus Christ with others. I know my life is under the Lord's full control and that He is using even my illness to strengthen me in other ways. I also know He is using this illness to reach others with the message that everyone needs to accept Christ as his own personal Lord and Savior. This is something we can all think about as we approach the celebration of Christ's birth.

Again let me express my deepest thanks to all who have shown such help and kindness to me and my wife.

Sincerely,

George Berryman

An Apology

A letter to the editor appearing in last week's Northville Record referring to recall petitions being circulated stated that the action was "based on lies, misinformation, and pure rot".

The Record regrets that it did not edit this personal opinion from the letter and apologizes to The Northville Boosters Club.

It has always been the policy of this newspaper to delete such phrases. Inexcusably, we slipped.

Shopping Center Plan Criticized

To the Editor:

I was quite dismayed to read in last week's Novi News that there was to be a shopping center built on the plot of land that is now the lovely rural landscape bordered by Haggerty, Grand River and Ten Mile roads. Not only am I saddened at the thought of the ruin of a beautiful view from our Old Orchard condominium, but I also question the wisdom of building so many shopping centers in such close proximity.

Also in last Wednesday's paper was an article about the opening of the new A&P on Ten Mile Road and the additional shops which are to be built there. In this article, the developer was quoted as saying that he expected no conflicts with the Dayton-Hudson center as the local center will be a "community center" and not a "regional center."

I would like to think that one of the advantages of a "community center" is that it brings the people of one community together and therefore serves a similar function as the old village marketplace. As Novi has no downtown shopping area to do this, it would be advisable if the A&P shopping center and the Meadowbrook Center across the road could coordinate their activities so that Novi residents could be encouraged to shop in one area.

An additional shopping center on Haggerty and Ten Mile will serve to disperse the populace and provide unnecessary competition that will only hurt the economy of the area's businesses. I hope the City Council is aware of this fact and will act accordingly when they decide how to modify the existing zoning ordinance.

A Plaudit For Bozzo

To the Editor:

My sincere appreciation for the fine coverage you gave us this past season. The reaction to your articles was phenomenal. You would be amazed at the large soccer following in this area.

The big disappointment, of course, was that we were unable to continue to the playoffs. The second protest by the Macomb coach caught me by complete surprise. I feel for those kids — they had a real good chance to reach the National Championships.

The soccer players at Schoolcraft College and I thank John Bozzo for his interest and the exposure he gave us in his fine written articles.

Yours truly,

Two-Stage Senior Citizen Housing Project Proposed

lever faucet, a range-oven unit, and frost free refrigerator. An oven unit with self-cleaning feature is suggested if the construction budget will allow. Ventilation hood and fan over the range. Twenty lineal feet of upper cabinet space is planned.

4. Bedroom. Approximately 11½ x 12 feet, large enough to accommodate two adjacent twin beds, if necessary, or one double bed. Five lineal feet of closet space is proposed.

5. Bath. This 5 x 7½ foot room will include toilet, lavatory with single lever faucet, and a tub-shower combination. It will be outfitted with grab bars adjacent to the toilet and vertical and horizontal grab bars at the tub area. Ceramic tile floors and wainscots are planned.

6. Closets. A linen closet of approximately 20 square feet of shelf space, and a storage closet with 3½ x 4 feet of space for shelves, hook strips, etc., have been proposed.

A number of the units will be designed especially for handicapped persons. Generally speaking, these will include wider doorways and a larger kitchen and bathroom to accommodate wheelchairs, DiComo said. Counters, and kitchen and bathroom equipment will be lower than in other units.

The architect's proposal also provides for balconies, suggesting to council that "if financially possible, we would recommend that balconies be provided at all living units."

As presently envisioned, senior citizens living in any of the units would have a good view of the landscape, DiComo said.

In addition to the living units, the first-phase development also suggests several commons areas which would be available for residents and for other senior citizens of the community. Among these are:

1. Activities Center. This center will contain several elements including a multi-purpose room which should accommodate (at the first stage) approximately 150 to 200 persons. Adjacent to the multi-purpose room will be a kitchen which will be outfitted primarily for serving purposes. It will include cabinets, ranges, ovens, sinks and counter tops necessary for serving dinners or similar functions.

A chair storage area will be provided to store unused chairs and tables as may be required for the alternative uses of the multi-purpose room. Toilet rooms will be adjacent and designed for the handicapped and elderly.

The multi-purpose room will be a center where house meetings, bridge games, bingo, birthday parties, and special guest speakers can be accommodated, or where movies, slide shows, dancing and other similar functions can take place.

To increase its function, explained the architect, the multi-purpose room will be adjacent to an exterior patio located on the south or sunny side of the building and near the main entrance. Its use will be primarily for summer, with lounge chairs, tables and similar garden type furniture provided.

2. Recreation Area. This area is primarily a game room which is to be equipped with appropriate furniture, perhaps including pool tables, card tables, table tennis, etc.

3. Arts and Crafts Room. This room, said DiComo, might be outfitted to take care of the needs for pottery making, woodworking, sewing, metal crafts, oil painting, photography or for other arts and crafts activities. It will include, therefore, counters, sinks, ceramic kilns, wood shop equipment, work benches, sewing machines, art easels, etc.

4. Library. This area will make it possible, said DiComo, for the senior citizens to build a library of their own particular interests. The walls will be provided with shelves and reading tables and lounge furniture will be required.

The senior citizens facility also will provide a comfortable main entrance area immediately adjacent to administrative offices. Off the lobby area will be a mail room where individually locked mailboxes are to be provided.

Also to be provided will be a central laundry area.

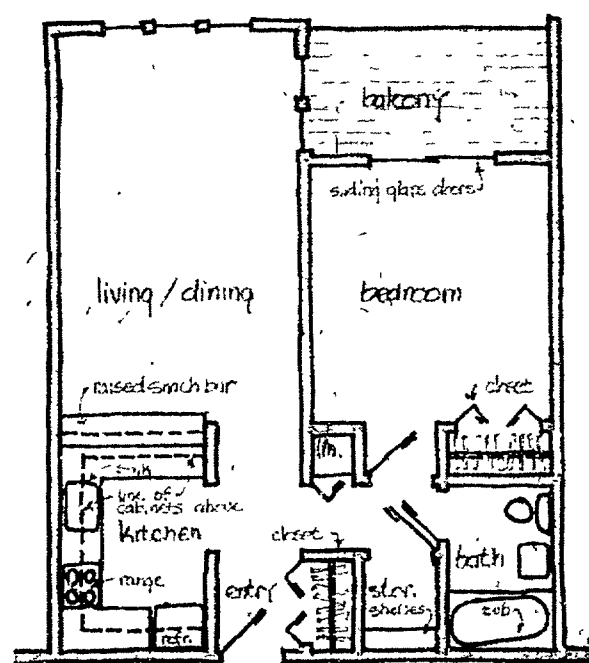

A trash room is planned on each floor. It will feature a chute system where trash can be disposed. The chute will be connected to a compactor or incinerator.

Public transportation, perhaps involving a mini-bus, is contemplated by the Housing Commission.

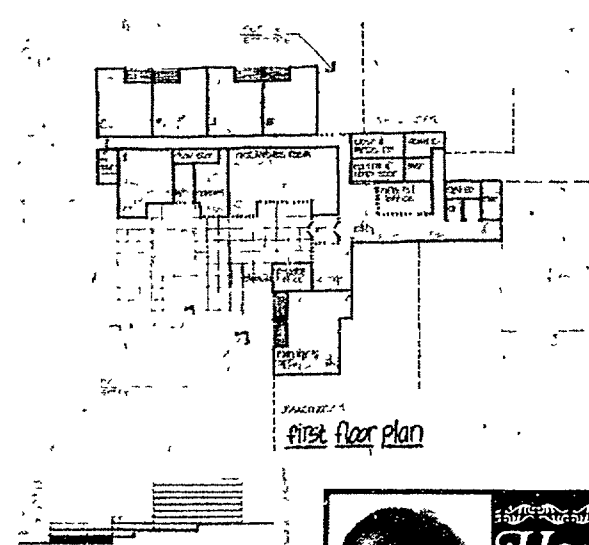

Special smoke detectors are planned for each room, and an emergency call system is to be installed in each bathroom.

Don't be afraid of dyeing! This is a relatively simple procedure, and if you follow the dye maker's directions carefully you can obtain wonderful results. Many times, we have an old spread or set of slipcovers whose material is still good but a little faded. With your washing machine as your helper, you can change all that. If you like your present color scheme, buy the same color dye and you will spark up your still useful items. When the dyeing process is finished, be sure to clean out the drum of your washing machine with a proper detergent, so that it is as clean as before—if this is properly done, you can't even tell that the machine was used for the dyeing purpose.

Did you know that GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110, can custom-dye paint to just the color you want—more than 1,000 possible colors? Do come in and see us soon for friendly, personalized service from the people who know their products. Typewriter-like instrument punches holes in tape

Assistant to the Publisher

If there is a single word that best describes newspaper printing today it probably is the word "change."

In less than 20 years, newspapering has changed from the mechanical process that characterized print shops for more than 100 years to a computer sophistication that boggles the mind.

And what is new today is old tomorrow.

In fact, the change has been so rapid that manufacturers of printing equipment point out that more change in publishing has occurred in the past decade than occurred in all the years since Benjamin Franklin cranked up his single sheet printing press a couple of centuries ago.

Most people touring the plant for Sliger Home Newspapers are surprised to learn that Linotype machines and metal type were laid to rest a long time ago.

Metal type, or the so-called "hot type" letter press method of printing disappeared here in 1966, and in its place "cold type" or the photographic method of printing was substituted.

Take a tour of our plant and see the change for yourself.

Step 1

A typed newspaper story, prepared by the reporter, such as this one, is retyped on a machine that looks and operates much like a standard electric typewriter. Biggest difference is that instead of reproducing a typed sheet of paper it punches tiny holes in a paper tape. The holes in this tape represent the letters, sentences and paragraphs in the reporter's story.

Some newspapers use a magnetic tape rather than the punched tape. It operates the same way the tape for voice recording works. Sliger Home Newspapers have used both methods, preferring the punched tape for reliability and economy.

After the stories are placed on paper tape, the spool of tape is run through a computer — in this case an ultra fast translator-camera that "reads" the holes in the tape and photographs the letters these holes represent. The computer reaches into its complex memory network to differentiate one hole (by position) from another. The computer's brain also is programmed to understand codes, fed to it by the operator, for spacing, for margins and for type sizes.

The computer is able to "read" a punched line, depending upon the width of the story, in two or three seconds. Its mind works so rapidly that in those few seconds the machine is able to translate and photograph each letter of a line individually, plus place just enough space between letters and words so that the right and left margins are even (called "justified" copy). Thus, to read and photograph each letter in this sentence requires fewer than five seconds.

Open up the side of the computer and you'll find hundreds of tiny lights flickering on and off as the computer "reads" the holes in the tape. As in the human brain, an electrical charge is essential to a functioning computer.

The computer is as delicate as it is smart. For example, static electricity — the kind you might generate by walking across the carpet in your living room — can work havoc with this mechanical brain. Even the kind of carpeting installed in today's newspaper composing room, therefore, is important to publishing. Someone charged with static electricity might accidentally brush against the computer and instantly erase its memory banks, thus turning it into a useless metal idiot.

Step 3

Another of the machines in the composing room is the instrument that makes the headlines for the newspaper. This machine works on the same principle as the computer, but it needs no tape to activate its interior photographing mechanism. As the operator strikes the typewriter-like keyboard the machine quickly photographs the letters on the strip of film.

The operator of the headliner can pick the size of the type by simply turning a dial, or she may change the style of type by inserting a different negative inside the machine.

Step 4

Film for the computer as well as for the headliner is run through an automatic developing tank, which turns the film into strips of white paper containing the image of the story and the headline. The strip of paper is allowed to dry before moving on to the next step.

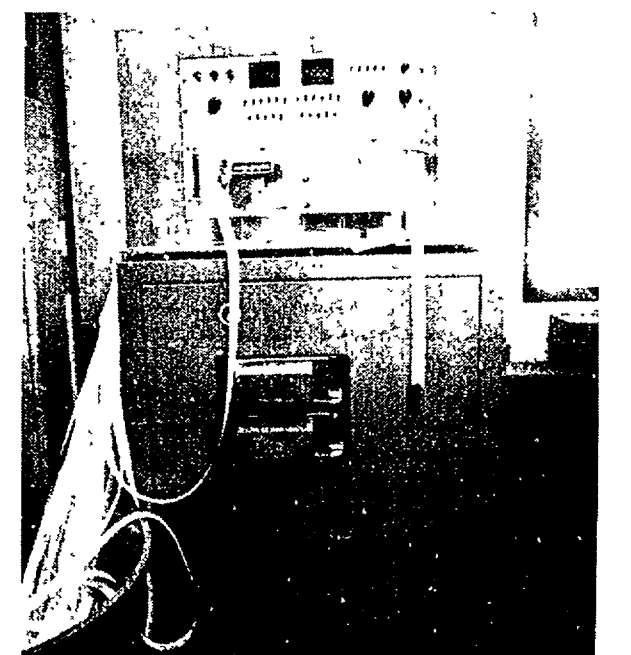

Step 5

A sheet of paper the size of a newspaper page is placed on a glass table top. One side of the paper is entirely white, the other contains vertical lines representing the columns in the newspaper. It also contains horizontal lines measuring 21 inches from top to bottom. The lined side of the paper is placed face down on the glass so that when the light beneath the table is turned on it shines through the page showing up the lines on the white side of the paper.

Using the editor's "dummy" or page make-up guide, the light table technician pastes the stories, headlines and pictures onto the blank side of the paper using the horizontal and vertical lines to position the type material and the pictures correctly on the page.

Instead of ordinary glue or paste, which is messy, wax is used to paste the stories and pictures onto the

Sunday's A Big Day For Brighton Baptists

Members of the Tri-Lakes Baptist Church, Brighton, will celebrate two occasions this Sunday (December 7).

At a special service at 3 p.m., the congregation will dedicate the new church auditorium and commemorate the 20th anniversary of the founding of the church.

According to Pastor Ken Ouellette, the Reverend J. O. Phillips, pastor of the Faithway Baptist Church in Ypsilanti and president of Faithway Baptist College, will be dedication speaker.

The Reverend Bruce Stine, who served as Tri-Lakes pastor before Mr. Ouellette, and other former ministers will also participate in the service.

Music will be presented by Rene Ouellette, oldest son of the pastor.

Under the direction of Church Finance Consultants of Clarkston, the Tri-Lakes church launched a fundraising campaign for the new addition in January. Construction began in June and was completed in late October.

The 4,000 square-foot auditorium provides seating for 400, a choir platform and baptistry.

Cost of the finished auditorium was approximately $62,000.

Mr. Ouellette has been pastor at Tri-Lakes for two years.

Anniversary Service Set

Synod President Coming

Dr. Howard A. Christensen, president of the Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, will preach the sermon and assist with communion at Brighton's Lord of Life Church celebrates its second anniversary Sunday (December 7).

The anniversary service will be held at 10 a.m. in the multi-purpose room at Spencer Elementary School, Spencer Road, Brighton.

Dr. Christensen was born in Racine, Wisconsin, and studied in Iowa before receiving his bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin.

He is a graduate of Grand View Seminary in Des Moines and received a Master of Religious Education degree from Drake University, Des Moines.

Dr. Christensen served in Nebraska and Michigan before becoming clergy-assistant to the president of the Michigan Synod in 1962. He was elected president in 1972. Two years ago, Dr. Christensen officiated at the service of organization of Lord of Life Church as it became part of the Lutheran Church in America.

The congregation currently numbers 45 families, and plans to construct a church building in 1977.

Northville Actors Star in Church Christmas Play

"Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be presented for the communities of Northville, Novi and Livonia by the music department of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at 27475 Five Mile Road, Livonia, this weekend.

For the second consecutive year Judie Gorden, a Northville resident with her husband, James and family at 46968 Curtis, will be taking the role of the mother of the young crippled boy in the performances.

Tilman Dozier of 16106 Thorndyke Court in Northville for the first year will be one of the three kings.

Amahl, the young crippled boy, again will be played by Don Stromberg, a sixth grader at Roosevelt School in Livonia.

The 12-year-old boy's beautiful soprano voice thrilled the parish last year in the one performance given. Mrs. Gorden reports that so many requests had been received to repeat the Christmas offering that three performances have been scheduled.

The play will be given at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. this Friday for about 1,200 children of area public schools and at 6:30 p.m. Sunday for the congregation and the community.

Ralph Reid and William Walker of Livonia will be the other kings in the story of the three Magi who encounter a crippled boy on their journey to visit the Christ Child.

Don Stromberg's brother, Bob, 16, plays the role of the page.

The play is directed by Patricia Hutchison of St. Paul's music staff. Pianists are Lila Hindmarsh and Joan Haggard.

Setting a headline on a photographing machine

page. The wax is spread evenly on a strip of paper type by running the paper through a powered roller in a waxing machine.

When the page is entirely pasted up and the light is turned off, at this point it resembles the final newspaper page. It would be the same as if the stories, pictures, headlines and advertisements on this page were cut out and repasted in the same position on a clean white sheet of paper.

A third photographic step is next. The first photographic step was producing the image of the story on the film inside the computer. A second picture-taking step involved producing the headline on another strip of film inside the headliner machine.

In the third photographic step, the pasted-up page is taken from the light table to the camera room where the page is placed on an easel mounted in front of the eye of lens of a large camera. Instead of focusing this camera by adjusting the camera itself, it is focused by adjusting the distance between the lens and the easel. The easel is moved back and forth on a track in front of the lens. On either side of the easel and pointed directly at the page are several powerful arc lights, which light up the page evenly to eliminate all shadows.

The camera is mounted in the wall of the darkroom. The lens is located outside the darkroom, in the camera room, while the back side of the camera is located in the darkroom itself. When the back of the camera is opened, one can peer through the bellows of the camera to the inside of the lens pointed at the easel. The rear opening of the camera is perhaps three-feet square. The "door" or plate over this opening swings down to form a table top when open.

Working in darkness, with only the red safelight to light his way, the camera operator removes the fresh film from a box and places it on the camera door. If one were to turn on the light at this point he would see a sheet of paper film the size of the newspaper page. The film is pulled tightly against the camera door by a vacuum of air. Thus, when the door is swung shut the film stays positioned inside the camera directly in front of the lens.

After the picture of the newspaper page has been taken, the operator develops the film in chemicals much the same way he would develop an album photograph. When completed he has a negative of the newspaper page.

Step 7

Now comes a fourth photographic step. In another room, a vacuum frame is used to produce a "positive" plate from the negative. Most significant difference between this and the other photographic steps is that the film in this case is not paper but rather metal. It looks and sounds like a sheet of tin.

Placed in the vacuum frame, the page negative is placed over the metal plate. At the direction of the operator, powerful lights shine through the negative onto the plate.

The metal plate is then taken from the easel and placed in a large flat sink. Here a chemical developer, looking a little like thick red paint, is sponged over the surface of the thin plate. Slowly, the image of the newspaper page begins appearing. Once printed, the metal picture is washed clean and prepared for the press.

offset" presses. The word "offset" comes from the fact that the inked surface does not print directly on the paper — but instead it prints on a rubber cylinder, and from the rubber cylinder the image of the page is offset onto the paper.

The metal "picture" plate produced in the last photographic step is wrapped around a cylinder on the press. The plate has no raised surface as does a letterpress plate. Letterpress printing is done on the relief principle whereby raised surfaces are inked and then pressed against the paper.

The image of the smooth offset plate is transferred to the rubber cylinder through a chemical-electrolysis process.

Simply stated, a micro-thin layer of water flows across the offset plate, adhering only to those portions of the page where there are no images. Thus, the ink, which does not mix with the water, sticks to only those non-watered portions of the plate, or to the images on the plate. In other words, the water forms the "molds" for the images on the page.

The Sliger Home Newspapers press is really a series of six four-page presses that can operate individually or together, depending upon the number of pages to be printed. It has a capacity of 24 regular size newspaper pages, such as the one containing this story, or 48 tabloid size pages.

With each additional color that may be added the number of pages that can be printed at one time is reduced.

Besides the Sliger publications, The Northville Record-Novi News, The South Lyon Herald and The Brighton Argus, this press also prints The Fenton Independent newspapers plus perhaps two-dozen other newspapers and advertising circulars.

The plant is located in Northville, near the intersection of Northville and Seven Mile roads.

Growing Healthy Plants

How You Pot 'em Is Important

By KATHY COPLEY

A plant needs four things to grow: water, air, nutrients, and sunlight. The first three are contained in the soil so it is no surprise that a poorly potted plant has real problems.

The shame of it all is that potting is one of those jobs you only have to do once if you do it right.

First comes the pot. Pick one with at least one drainage hole in the bottom so excess water has somewhere to go. Water surrounding plant roots chokes off the air, causing them to rot. No plant can survive that.

The composition of the pot makes little difference as long as it suits the appearance of the plant. Die-hard gardeners stick to clay pots because they have advantages over plastic, metal, and glazed ceramic ones.

Un glazed pots allow air and moisture to pass through the pot walls so there is less chance of water-logged soil. The evaporation of moisture through the pot walls also raises the humidity slightly. This ability of clay pots to breathe is their greatest advantage.

Clay has the disadvantage on the appearance side of things. The minerals and salts in water build up on clay, discoloring it after a while. The very moist soil in the lower parts of the pot often encourage moulds and algae on the outside, both of which are more unsightly than harmful.

To get the advantages of clay without the accompanying disadvantages, put a clay pot inside a slightly larger decorative container. Spagnum moss over the soil and rim of the clay pot will disguise this trick.

To clean a clay pot (with the plant removed, of course), soak the pot in boiling water to which a bit of household bleach has been added. In a few hours, most of the stains will come off when you rub with a stiff brush or steel wool.

The pot walls will absorb some of the bleach, so soak them in more hot water to clean the pores.

Plastic is nice because water won't discolor it. Soil will stay moist (or wet, as the case may be) longer in plastic than in clay. For moisture loving plants this may be an advantage. By the same token, an over-watered pot in plastic will stay soggy much longer than an over-watered plant in clay.

Once you have decided on the material for the pot, choose the size. For some reasons, plants resent being transplanted into a pot which is much larger than the one it is in now. The reason may be that the soil in a pot which is too large stays moist too long, and moist soil is cool soil.

Some plants only produce blooms or off-sets when they are "slightly" pot-bound. Amaryllis, African Violets, Norfolk Pines, and Spider Plants are among those which like their roots to fill the pot before they do their thing.

A rule of thumb is to put a plant into a pot which is no more than 1" wider at the top than the present pot. In all probability, the new pot will be one-third to 1/2 as wide as the plant is high.

To further control moisture and humidity, it is a good idea to set the pot in a waterproof saucer filled about two-thirds full with attractive pebbles. Excess water can drain from the pot into the pebbles and two good things happen. The soil can have the alternate moisture and drying out periods which are good for most plants. And moisture on the pebbles raises the humidity in the air immediately surrounding the plant.

The advantages of this system disappear if you have the bottom of the pot sitting in the water.

Potting mixtures come next, but that is next week

Predict 'Best Season Ever'

Michigan Snowmobiles Ready

Michigan's 1975-76 snowmobiling season should be the best ever with a record 6.5 million acres of public lands open to the state's vast army of winter sports enthusiasts, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"All this state needs to have its greatest snowmobiling season is plenty of snow since snowmobilers will have more marked trails and better-groomed facilities than in any previous winter," stated Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"The popularity of snowmobiling continues to grow in Michigan with more than 436,000 snowmobiles reported in the state," Ratke pointed out. "More snowmobiles are operated in Michigan than in any other state."

"Approximately 145,000 of these snowmobiles still are unregistered even though Michigan's current three-year registration period began last January. But the first heavy snowfall should send thousands of outdoor enthusiasts scurrying to Department of State offices," he added.

Snowmobiles must be registered to run on all public lands.

Ratke blamed Michigan's poor economic climate and the mid-winter registration period for the current large number of unregistered snowmobiles.

The accompanying Auto Club map pinpoints the location of 158 marked snowmobile trails — 26 more than last season — at state parks, southern game areas and state and national forests.

Sixty percent of Michigan's marked snowmobile trails on state and federal land are located in Lower Michigan, Auto Club noted.

"The bulk of the new trails are in the Upper Peninsula where 23 state forest areas have been added to give the U.P. more than 1,100 miles of marked state forest trails this winter," Ratke stated.

"All 46 U.P. state forest trails listed by Auto Club will be groomed on a regular basis for the first time to provide added enjoyment for winter sports enthusiasts," he said. "The 1,100 miles of state forest trails in northern Lower Michigan also will be routinely groomed."

Snowmobilers also can travel on more than six million acres of state and national forest open country and 98,000 acres of 68 state parks, two less than last winter.

Benzie and Day state parks have been incorporated into the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore. While snowmobiling isn't allowed in the dunes area, it is permissible on the dirt and gravel roads that run through the former state parks. Snowmobilers should check at the National Parks Service office at Frankfort before snowmobiling in the lakeshore area.

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) southern game areas will have trails and acreage open to snowmobilers from Jan. 1 to March 31, 1976.

Snowmobilers are not allowed to run machines on state lands unless four or more inches of snow are on the ground. Vehicle entrance permits, costing $5 annually or $1 daily, must be obtained for snowmobiles to be operated in sections of state parks and recreation areas designated for their use. These permits also are required for cars, trucks and other vehicles used to bring snowmobiles into these public areas.

At present, snowmobilers are allowed to operate machines anywhere in national forests, except where prohibiting signs are posted.

The U.S. Forest Service offices in Michigan have until Dec. 31, 1976, to set new regulations which would further restrict snowmobiling on federal lands. Interim regulations could be enacted prior to that date and snowmobilers should check at ranger stations or Forest Service field offices before using federal lands. No permits are needed on federal lands.

Auto Club pointed out that according to state law, children under 12 cannot operate a snowmobile on public property without adult supervision. Youngsters aged 12 to 15 must pass an eight-hour DNR snowmobile safety course to drive on public property without adult supervision. Specific information on where these courses are offered can be obtained at DNR regional offices.

A record 39 persons died in Michigan snowmobile accidents last winter with nearly half of the fatalities occurring on highways or highway shoulders. Seventy percent of the 39 deaths happened at night.

Dr. Meara to Head St. John's Advisors

The Advisory Board of St. John's Provincial Seminary elected Dr. John Meara chairman at its November meeting.

The Advisory Board was established in 1972 by the Bishops of Michigan to help develop the basic policy of the seminary, located near Northville, and to advise the Bishops in the areas of academics, pastoral formation, public relations, continuing education and business management as they relate to the Provincial Seminary.

The members of the Board are: Dorothy M. Church, secretary of the Board, who has served on the Review Committee of the Michigan-Ohio Regional Bishops Meeting and is from St. Matthew's Parish, Detroit; Dr. Maurice Elvekrog, a practicing psychologist, from Birmingham; L. David Gorman, executive assistant to the vice-president of Body and Assembly Operations, Ford Motor Company, and a member of Divine Child Parish in Dearborn; Dr. James A. Jaska, professor of Communications at Western Michigan University, and a member of St. Catherine of Sienna Parish, Portage; Father Theodore J. Kozlowski, pastor of St. Francis DeSales Parish, Holland;

Dr. John W. Meara, Jr., doctor of dentistry and chairman of the Advisory Board, who is from St. Thomas Aquinas Parish, Lansing; Father Peter A. Minelli, director of the department of worship and ministry, the Diocese of Marquette; Sister Trinita Schilling, I.H.M., religious education coordinator of the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Troy Vicariate, Archdiocese of Detroit; Father James A. Suchocki, St. Joseph Parish, Manistee; and Maurice Q. Tessin, vice chairman of the Advisory Board, manager of operations planning, financial analyst, Dow Chemical Company, and a member of Blessed Sacrament Parish, Midland.

The meeting also was attended by members of the Liaison Board of the Bishops of Michigan: Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, Bishop Paul V. Donovan and Bishop Arthur H. Krawczak. Representing the administration of the seminary was the rector, the Reverend Robert Rose. Representing the faculty was Sister Frances Tobin, R.S.C.J. Deacon James Bjorun and James La Victoire represented the deacons and the students of the seminary, respectively.

Father Rose addressed the board on the direction for the future of the Seminary. The board discussed the needs and concerns of the seminary and the goals and objectives of the board for 1975-1976.

The board expressed interest in the current institutional self-study that the seminary has undertaken toward the accreditation of the Master of Divinity degree by the Association of Theological Schools and the North Central Association.

St. John's Provincial Seminary has prepared candidates for the Roman Catholic priesthood to serve the people of the State of Michigan since 1949.

A Sonnet

The verdant leaves which once adorned the trees
Did later turn to gold and brownish hues.
Deep tawny colors told us these were keys
To close the door so gently while we muse
On happy memories. Don't think they die:
Remember kindly that which summer brought—
Its warmth and life. Recall it with a sigh
And warmly dwell on laughter, joy, and not
At all upon impending ice and cold.
But now the trees stand bare; the leaves have gone
In dirt they rot to make a future mold
For life. They're thus ensconced 'till spring's new dawn.
What now appears so dead is just a guise
To savor and enjoy if we are wise.

Ruth M. Burlas

Papa

He's so familiar in my mind,
Papa, so gentle, human and kind
Always sitting in his chair
To see it empty was quite rare

Helping Hand

The baseball game on the radio
The paper folder at his feet
His pipe rack with an overflow
Of matches, ash-tray, and something sweet

His Irish eyes would twinkle
When you kissed him on the cheek
His clothes never had a wrinkle
He was always so darn neat

He could always tell a story
Of what happened years ago
His dear old eyes would glisten
When we all sat up to listen,

His pleasures were little ones,
Offering the children a stick of gum
Or handing out a little change
To any child within his range

He'd lite up his pipe with such a grand flair
And blow out the match with a gust of air
He'd puff away, if it was lit or not
And never give it another thought

He'd never forget to say the Grace
When everyone was in his place
He had a way of waiting, until we all began to eat,
Then everyone would have to drop, his fork in fast retreat

He always enjoyed his Sunday meal
But didn't hesitate to reveal
If the roast was tough he had a way
Of exaggerating it to Nan's dismay

With courtesy he was always free
He never neglected to see
With a wink of his eye we had a Bourbon and Squirt
If you didn't have one he could be quite curt

He always took notice of everything in sight
His way of complimenting was always just right
The best one I ever received is on this page
My daughter, your agility exceeds your age

He loved to go out for a ride
With his Nan close by his side
I'll always remember how he liked to show
Harsen's Island where he and Nan used to go

Now he's gone, and so is his chair
I hope it belongs to another so RARE
To fill Papa's place would be hard to do
But if someone else does, I HOPE HE'S LOVED TOO"

By Fran Mc Casey

Suddenly

Suddenly there's an empty place
At the table when we say the grace
There's an empty chair across the room
There's that uncertain feeling of gloom:

I was so lucky to be part of his life
It was God's will that I became his wife
But suddenly the whole world has changed
My whole way of living has been rearranged

Suddenly I feel the loss
Of your place in bed when you'd turn and toss
The dresser is so neat and clean
I wish I could yell, and holler, and scream

He is gone I must realize
His happy nature was just a disguise
He knew all along he had little time
He kept right on pushing until the end of the line

Where do I start? What do I do?
How do I begin to follow it through
I must not grieve, he wouldn't approve
I'll pull myself together, and get in the groove

Your driving in the driveway
Is growing fainter every day
Suddenly I must realize you're gone,
You'll always be with me when I hear our song

I've lost him to another
But I had him for a little while
His time was up on Earth, I must let him go with a smile

He left me with a job to do,
I must get busy and follow through

Suddenly I am all alone
Sitting here beside the phone
All in all I know your love was real
I'll hold on to it, then my heart will heal!

Mr. Bentley of South Lyon reports that he has "discovered" an excellent resort called Coconut Cove near Negril, Jamaica. He says it has a 1,000 foot white sand beach, tennis courts, horseback riding, golf and the like. While it boasts of a gourmet restaurant, it also has apartment type accommodations where you can prepare your own meals and save about 50 per cent on your food costs. Lots of vacationing couples have long arguments whether or not 'Mother' should be required to cook while on trips. Perhaps the answer should be: Train Father to cook and then let him decide!

There's a fascinating 16-day Easter Cruise that includes eight Caribbean Ports: St. Thomas, St. Maarten, Martinique, Barbados, Grenada, Caracas, Aruba and Montego Bay. The transporting company is the Norwegian American Line, that has an excellent performance reputation. The observance of Easter rites at sea should be a unique and moving experience.

KLM, Singapore Airlines, and J.A.L. have introduced "executive" cabins in economy class for business travelers. Also, KLM is segregating full fare passengers from cut-rate charter groups because the latter group has a tendency to celebrate their get-togetherness by loud talk and disturbing tactics most of the trip.

Zero hour is approaching, the count down begins
The check list is started, all systems are go.
Suiting up is set in motion, pads are all in place.
Have we entered into a new world space race?

Next comes the uniform all zippered and snapped
Then the helmet is secured and all laces are tightened.
And now to the moon, is that what you think?
Of course it's not, it's just to the local hockey rink.

A Column About People, Places 'n Things

NEW OWNER of Paper n' Spice Gift Shop, located at 115 East Main Street in Northville, is Eydie Cole, who lives with her husband Richard, and their two teenage sons, Greg and Jonathon in Northville.

Their daughter, Mary, attends Kalamazoo College and their son, Kevin, is attending Michigan State University until he enters law school in May. A married son, Richard, and his wife and their two children have been residents of Northville for several years.

Formerly an administrative assistant at Catholic Central High School in Detroit, she later was employed in sales for Real Estate One, Inc.

Future plans for the shop, which was purchased from Dewey Gardner, include offering a greater variety of merchandise, combining quality with moderate prices. Suggestions will be welcome, she emphasized. "We hope our shop becomes a place where people feel comfortable browsing for that special item for home or gift."

IF THERE is a single most popular TV show for patrons of Northville Charley's, the new Chuck Muer tavern-type restaurant on Seven Mile Road across from Northville State Hospital, it has to be Monday Night Football, reports General Manager Tom Sechler.

Customer enthusiasm for that single show, he says, gives it an easy "Number One" rating.

Nearly every eye in the place turns to the huge TV screen, covering much of the east wall, to watch the featured Monday Night Game of the Week. And to lend a little more atmosphere to the occasion, waitresses come dressed in football jerseys and bartenders become refs, complete with whistles.

BRIGHTON'S DENNIS SULLIVAN has been named national sales manager of Vlasic Foods, it was announced today by Robert Vlasic, chairman of the firm.

Sullivan is responsible for national sales of all retail items, supervising a sales force of 16 regional sales managers and 68 broker organizations for Vlasic, makers of America's best-selling pickle.

Prior to joining Vlasic, Sullivan, 34, spent four years as sales manager for a large Michigan food brokerage firm.

Before that he was regional sales manager with the General Products Division of Philip Morris, Inc.

He spent two years with the Jello-O Division of General Foods following receipt of the degree of master of business administration from the University of Detroit.

A native Detroit, Sullivan is married and has three children.

MISS LIZ SKRUCH of Dearborn has won "The Place for Juniors" contest sponsored by Richards Boys and Girls Wear, which has nine stores including one located in Northville Square.

For winning the contest, Miss Skpruch was awarded a Princess Phone.

DENNIS SULLIVAN

Sponsored by "The Place" departments of the stores, the contest emphasized the importance of a place where "in-between" age boys and girls clothing is correctly proportioned, styled, and appropriately priced.

The chain's "The Place" department concept was an innovation of the store president, Richard Kahn, who became aware of the clothing problems of his own subteen daughter.

JOHN H. JOHNSTON, president of Stop-N-Go Foods, Inc., announced to shareholders last week that the Board of Directors has approved the issuance of a 5 cents per common share dividend.

The dividend is payable to stockholders of record, December 19, 1975, and payable on January 16, 1976.

Johnston indicated in his announcement that this dividend reflects the company's confidence that sales and profits will progress to favorable levels in the upcoming fiscal year.

Stop-N-Go Foods is a Dayton, Ohio, based convenience food store chain with 425 outlets throughout 19 states. The company stock is sold over the counter and is handled by The Ohio Company of Columbus, Ohio. One of Stop-N-Go's outlets is in Brighton.

NEWEST and perhaps most vital state facility located in Lansing is the recently opened Energy Conversion Center for which a Novi firm played a major role.

The center was constructed under the direction of the Department of Management and Budget at a cost of $4.8 million. The design was completely by S. T. Gerganoff Associates, with S. F. Sonk Associates of Novi serving as consulting engineers.

The ECC consists of an energy center containing two floors of 11,500 square feet each, and a service facility measuring 16,000 square feet.

The energy plant houses heating and cooling equipment as well as electrical equipment needed to supply each of the buildings on the Secondary Governmental Complex site. The service facility houses all of the necessary functions of the physical plant, which are required to maintain the total complex.

The energy plant is operated under the concept of utilizing a fossil fuel for converting fuel energy into heating and cooling energy. The use of a central boiler plant with a centralized steam absorption chiller system provides high pressure steam and/or medium temperature hot water and chilled water to each of the buildings in the complex.

The ECC serves the General Office Building, 30,000 foot photo lab, Liquor Commission warehouse, General Services warehouse, Police Training Academy, Secretary of State Building, First District Police Post, D.S.H. & T. warehouse (under construction), proposed police administration building, proposed joint motor pool facility, and the Testing and Research Lab.

Distribution is accomplished through the use of more than 11,700 feet of concrete reinforced tunneling ranging in size from 10 to 6 feet in diameter. The tunnel, which carries heating, cooling and electrical power, also provides for telephone cables and surveillance systems to each of the buildings. The tunnel alone cost $5.3 million.

15,000 Order Specialized Bicentennial License Plates

LANSING—Some Michigan motorists are "getting with it" in the spirit of the Bicentennial. You'll see it on their license plates.

One clever car owner ordered a 1976 "vanity" plate — the kind that bears a name or special message and costs $25 more than a regular plate — with a comment from Paul Revere's time:

2IFBYC. (as in "—, two if by sea.")

Others chose: TPARTY, HAIL 76, 7DSIX and LXXVI.

A spokesman from the Department of State, which handles license plate sales, reports some 317 car owners asked for special Bicentennial messages on their 1976 red-white-and-blue plates.

NEARLY 15,000 personalized plates were ordered this year, compared to one-third that number last time around.

Those orders are carefully screened to keep obscenities and vulgarities off the fronts and backs of vehicles on Michigan highways.

"There are only about half a dozen rejections per year," says the spokesman. "And about four of those are obscenities in foreign languages." The department uses language experts to check out requests for plates with messages in other tongues.

FOLKS WHO don't bother with personalized plates will get the more common version, with three letters and three numbers.

But all the car owners in one community won't necessarily have the same — or even similar — letter combinations.

That's because the department sends all plates starting with B, C and D, for instance, to one area. But if plate sales offices in that area run out, those in charge simply call around to other areas to see who has extras. Thus a driver in Detroit might wind up with a plate beginning with an M, while most other Detroit area motorists have B, C or D plates.

DOES THE NAME still hold a sort of "magic?" Could George Romney, former governor of Michigan, former president of American Motors, former Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, win an election?

A small batch of Michigan's state senators — six out of 38 — say yes.

They're urging Romney to run for the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by Democrat Phil Hart.

"DEAR GEORGE," says their letter.

"The people of Michigan are still benefitting from the leadership you provided as governor... Your honesty and integrity are beyond reproach. Your overwhelming popularity with the Michigan electorate are beyond reproach..."

Those senators signing the letter include: Senate Minority Leader Robert W. Davis of Gaylord and Sens. Charles O. Zollar of Benton Harbor, John Toepp of Cadillac, Alvin DeGrow of Pigeon, Richard Allen of Alma and Robert Young of Saginaw. All, of course, are Republicans.

At this point, however, the former governor indicates that he is not interested in making the race. His supporters show no sign of giving up their urging, and time will tell if they are successful.

GOOD NEWS for Michigan anglers who plan to set up shanties and fish through the ice this winter. The Department of Natural Resources scheduled early December for the first sales of 1976 fishing licenses.

About 1.5 million licenses were to be in the hands of 2,800 local dealers by then — along with some 350,000 salmon and trout stamps.

The licenses will cost a bit more this year: $5.25 for residents, $10.25 for non-residents and $5.25 for the salmon and trout stamp. But, says DNR official Robert D. Burke, "the fee increases — the first since 1968 — are needed to offset inflation and rising costs in order to maintain current program levels."

There was no fee increase for those special licenses for senior citizens. They cost 75 cents and cover all waters and all fish species.

OFFICE BUILDINGS should be more than just office buildings, piles of brick and mortar. They need art and beauty too.

So declared Gov. William Milliken as he addressed yet another special commission — this one dealing with "art in state buildings."

"I believe that if ever there was a time when we heeded things of the spirit, things that inspire people and help them cope with the problems that face them — art — it is right now," the governor said.

Horse's Mouth

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is part one of a two part series on Basic English Equitation.

ALL types of equitation, including Western, are basically the same. The good rider is a balanced rider.

The rider's inner thighs are close to the saddle and his knee caps are pointed straight ahead. If the upper leg is in the proper position, the lower leg and foot are more apt to be in the proper position also. The rider's heels are lower than his toe and his feet are in a natural position as, when walking — almost parallel to the horse's sides. The balls of the feet — which are the strongest part of the sole — rest on the tread of the stirrup iron.

The stirrup leather hangs perpendicular to the ground. They must be directly under his body to be most effective. The rider can test the correctness of his leg position by standing in the stirrups while balancing himself with his hands on the horse's neck. If he is able to maintain his balance in this position as long as he wants to, his feet are in the proper position.

The means by which the rider communicates to the horse is the language of the aids. Aids are natural — hands, legs, voice, weight — and artificial — crops, spurs, martingale, etc. The rider must learn to use his aids to the best advantage of both himself and his horse. He must learn what aids and combination of aids will bring about the desired responses.

The horse's "MOTOR" is in his rear. He begins all his movements with his hind legs. In order to ask for a forward movement, the rider must ask the hind legs to move off. This is done with a squeeze of the calf behind the girth. At the same time the rider moves his hips forward in the saddle as if he were trying to push the saddle toward the withers. These two movements tell the horse forward.

One always gives the horse the benefit of the doubt when applying aids. Never kick violently when asking for a forward movement. The calves are squeezed. If the horse does not respond, they are squeezed harder. If this is not effective, the heels are used. The rider's aids become progressively stronger until the horse does respond.

A good rider knows that the horse has been trained by a system of reward and punishment with emphasis on the rewards. The "punishment" is the use of the legs, hands, etc., while the reward is the cessation of the use of these aids.

The good rider applies the aids until he feels the horse begin to respond, then he should release them. If the horse does not follow through with his response, the rider re-applies the aids. The responsive horse is the one trained to respond to aids that were increasingly more subtle while the unresponsive horse has been trained to respond to the harsh aids of an uneducated trainer.

The hands control the horse's forehead. They not only control direction, they control speed. The hands and legs are almost always used together but not simultaneously. The horse has a rather simple brain and can respond to only one aid at a time. To apply both rein and leg pressure at the same time will confuse him. The legs are applied a little before the hands in most cases.

Weight, as already mentioned, is very important to the horse. An even distribution of the rider's weight will keep the horse on a straight line and balanced. Weight is used for forward movement, to retard speed and when turning. More about this later.

Peperomia:

A Brazil Native

Deep green to bluish-green leaves with silver markings and red stems make the watermelon peperomia (Peperomia sandersii) a colorful addition to any houseplant grouping.

This native of Brazil grows a rosette of three-to four-inch leaves in regular potting soil — given indirect sun, warm temperatures and low humidity. Peperomia sandersii is not the easiest houseplant to propagate, the experts note.

Here's A CHRISTMAS GIFT That Will Really Make Him Smile!

The Falcon Custom Graphite Driver

Play it Straight With Us... Falcon Graphite

Let's face it. The key to lower scores is control. And control off the tee is vital. One of the best ways to achieve maximum control is with the all-new FALCON Graphite Driver. Here's why:

It's lighter. A lot lighter. And it's easy to understand that you can swing a lighter golf club with less effort. With more control. With faster head speed.

Though it's lighter, the FALCON Graphite Driver has more weight in the head. Substantially more weight. For better club head "feel." Greater power at impact. And longer drives.

There is only one FALCON MAXIMUM Graphite Shaft. It's designed exclusively for FALCON clubs. So we've been able to combine shaft and head into a single precision engineered instrument. The result is ideal weight distribution. Faster shaft recovery. And consistent squareness in the critical impact zone. The FALCON MAXIMUM Graphite Driver delivers maximum control and maximum distance. Without asking you to change your swing.

But there's more to the FALCON story than advanced engineering. There's craftsmanship. The kind of total craftsmanship rarely encountered today.

Think about it. The big golf club factories produce thousands of clubs every day. Their objective is to make the most. We have a different commitment.

Not to compromise. To hand-make every club as if we were going to play it ourselves. So instead of making the most, we settle for making the best.

We're attentive to the little things. The things that first make a golf club good. And then great. Take our finish. The deep, lustrous ebony base receives five full coats of the highest quality polyurethane. Each coat is hand-buffed employing the same meticulous method used to finish a Rolls Royce.

The same attention to detail assures proper lie. Exact loft. Precise bulge and roll. The right face angle. And perfect balance. The result is a totally functional golf club that also achieves outstanding beauty.

And to keep it looking great, each club comes equipped with its own soft knit head cover emblazoned with the distinctive FALCON crest.

One more thing. Our credentials. We're not newcomers. Far from it. Falcon Golf pioneered the use of carbon graphite shafts. We were among the very first to recognize the exciting potential which graphite materials offered to modern club making. We didn't waste our head start. We used it to perfect the games finest graphite golf club.

And what does all this care, craftsmanship and premium quality cost? A lot less than you'd think. Because the all-new FALCON Graphite Driver is sensibly priced at $84.50, postpaid in the U.S.A. Use your Mastercharge or BankAmericard. There's only one catch. Since quantity isn't our primary goal, there may not be enough to go around. So don't delay. Order your FALCON Graphite Driver today!

HOLD IT BUDDY—Dan Platte thwarts an escape attempt by his 126 pound opponent in the final match of the championship round of the Northville Invitational Tournament. Platte went on to post a 6-2 victory and place first in his weight class.

Ashby, Platte Individual Champs

Mustangs Win Their Own Tournament

Showing strong depth, Northville's wrestling team won the tournament it hosted here last Saturday over seven other schools.

Ten of the 12 Mustangs won tournament medals. Dan Platte and Brent Ashby led the way with championship in the 126 and 145 pound weight classes, respectively.

Northville wrestlers also earned three seconds, three thirds and two fourth places.

Coach Gary Emerson said his team's victory at the Northville Invitational wrestling tournament is the first tourney win for a Mustang wrestling team since 1967.

"All of the kids had a fine effort," Emerson said. "I don't think we could have edged out another point.

"We don't have that many outstanding wrestlers," continued Emerson. "If we're going to win Dan and Brent have got to place and the rest of them have got to fill in."

Northville's matmen did just that as they wound up the tournament with 112 team points and the championship trophy. Willow Run was a close second with 110 and Clarenceville was right behind with 109. Crestwood was fourth with 105, followed by Milford with 105, Plymouth with 105, Cherry Hill 41, and Hartland 37.

Northville was trailing Crestwood by one team point going into the final round of consolation and championship competition.

Keith Kreutzberg started things rolling in the Northville direction when he pinned his opponent with 1:37 gone in the consolation final of the 112 weight division for a third place finish. He posted a 3-1 record in the tournament, winning by pins in two earlier matches and being pinned in his only loss.

Dan Platte earned some more team points with a 6-2 decision over his Crestwood opponent in the championship final of the 126-pound weight division.

Platte led his opponent throughout the championship match. He rode a takedown, reversal and near pin to the victory, allowing his opponent only two points via escapes. Platte won two matches earlier in the tournament, one by a 7-1 decision and the other with a pin in 51 seconds.

Rick Bentley added fuel to the Northville fires when he pinned his consolation round opponent for third place in the 132-pound weight division. The pin came with 3:30 gone in the match. Bentley posted a 3-1 record enroute to the finals. He won a 12-3 decision and pinned an opponent with 3:19 gone. He lost his first match when he was pinned at the 1:33 mark.

Ashby scored valuable points when he defeated his 145-pound opponent by a 4-2 score in one of the most exciting matches of the finals.

Behind by two points in the second period, Ashby tied the score when he reversed his opponent. The score remained tied until there were only 30 seconds left in the match. At that point Ashby earned the winning points when he nearly pinned the Willow Run wrestler.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS

Sports
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1975 1-C

Lions Upset Northville

A spirited South Lyon varsity basketball team upset Northville 61-59 in a season opener here last week Tuesday.

Trailing at the end of the first two quarters, the Mustangs rallied to gain a 10 point edge at the end of the third period before being nipped by the Lions in the final stanza.

It was a bitter disappointment for Coach Walt Koepke and his Mustangs who prepared five weeks for the game.

"The real key to the game was our rebounding which was not good at all," Koepke said. "South Lyon was bigger than we were. Of course, everyone is going to be bigger than us. We're just going to have to get more aggressive on the backboards."

Bright spots in the Northville lineup were forwards Tony Armada and Mark Lisowski. Both were aggressive rebounders and tough on defense, Koepke said.

Armada led the Northville scorers with 19 points. Armada was especially effective on offense with his quick drives to the basket. He also was second on the rebounding chart for his team with seven.

Leading Northville on the rebounding charts was Lisowski who had eight. He also scored 10 points.

Scoring for Northville was balanced with two other players hitting double figures. Chris Armada and Jay Slagle had 12 and 11 points, respectively. Mike Graham also had seven points.

It was Tony Armada who had the tough assignment of guarding South Lyon's top scorer Kevin Baize. Koepke remarked that Armada contributed a fine defensive effort, despite allowing Baize to score 26 points.

Baize was the Lion sparkplug late in the game. He was their only player to score in the third period and netted the winning points on a 15-foot jump shot with 1:29 remaining in the game.

Play was ragged and the action was fast in the first quarter. Tony Armada led Northville with seven points in that period, most of them on layups after his quick drives to the basket. South Lyon posted a 16-15 lead at the end of this quarter.

South Lyon led by as many as seven points in the second stanza and would post a 33-30 lead at halftime. Tony Armada again led Northville, collecting eight points in this quarter.

Applying a full court press at the start of the second half, the Mustangs forced six South Lyon turnovers and took advantage of the resulting scoring opportunities to net 13 straight points.

South Lyon settled down after calling a time out and Baize scored their first points of the third period with 3:56 remaining. He netted all of the eight Lion points in that period as an inspired Northville team posted a 51-41 edge at the start of the fourth quarter.

Forging right back in that final period, South Lyon slowly whittled away at the Northville lead. The Lions applied their own full court press and Mustang players began making crucial turnovers.

With 1:54 left to play, Lion center Scott Herald drew a foul while netting a layup. He connected on the resulting free throw to give South Lyon a 59-57 lead.

Moments later Chris Armada knotted the score at 59 points apiece when he swished two free throws.

This set the stage for the winning basket scored by Baize. After he scored the Lions took advantage of a Mustang turnover to control the basketball for most of the 1:29 left to play.

"We were very inexperienced," Koepke said. "We didn't handle that fourth quarter well. We didn't run our offense. If we had been running our offense right we should have scored."

Koepke remarked that at times the Mustangs played with aggressiveness and spark, while on other occasions they were disorganized and made mistakes.

"These kids work real hard," Koepke said. "Nobody likes to lose and I think we're going to eventually get things straightened out."

Northville players were hot from the floor as they connected on 58 percent of their shots, making 25 of 43 attempts. They also netted nine of 13 free throws.

South Lyon was 42 percent from the floor, making 26 of 63 attempts. They also connected on nine of 15 free throws.

Both teams were even in the rebounding department, each grabbing 22 caroms. South Lyon center Herald led all rebounders with 11, half his team's total.

Northville saw action again Tuesday when they were slated to compete in an away contest at Fenton. The junior varsity will begin play at 6:15 p.m. with the varsity following immediately afterwards.

Ladycats Enter Regional Play

Novi's Ladycat basketball team enters Class B regional girls' competition tonight when they play Avondale, 7 p.m. at Troy Athens High School.

Following the Novi game, at about 8:30 p.m., Algonac and Warren Woods will play.

Winners of both these games will advance to the final round of the regionals, 7:30 p.m. Friday, at Troy Athens High School.

After winning the district championship last Monday, the Ladycats have brought their record this season to a 16-3 mark. Their accomplishments include a tie for the league title as well as the district championship.

Coach Chris Hayward plans on improving Novi's record in girls' regional basketball play. Two years ago she guided another Ladycat team to a district championship, only to meet defeat in the first regional game. Novi teams have never won a regional game.

She reports that spirit and confidence remain high among the Novi players as they move further into the state tournament. The team held a meeting and decided everyone would give 110 percent effort toward winning.

"No one's going to beat us except ourselves," reports Coach Hayward. "No one's going to blow us off the court. We're a good enough ball club that we can play with anybody."

Scouting reports indicate that Avondale, the first Novi opponent in the regional, is tall but not real fast. Coach Hayward hopes to make up for the height disadvantage with speedy play by the Ladycats.

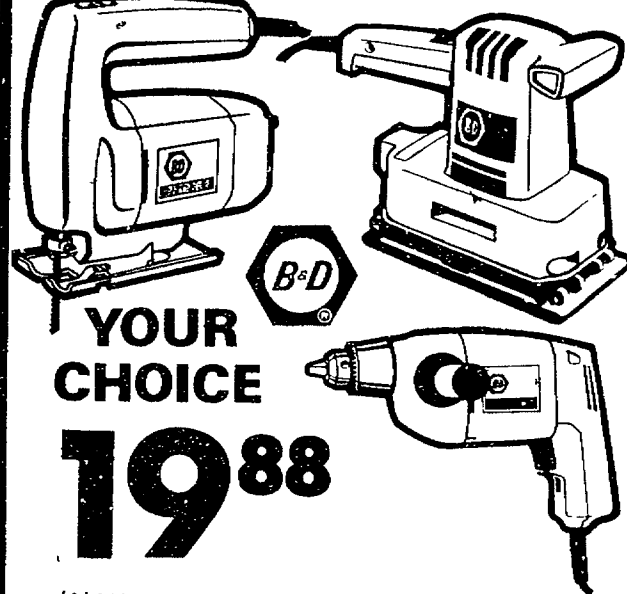

She gave the Novi second team credit for a crucial win over Pinckney in the district finals. Novi won that game by a 44-2 score.

"During a 2½ hour practice, the Sunday before the game, our second team learned Pinckney's offense and defense and ran it to perfection," Coach Hayward explained. "So when our starters stepped in the game they were prepared. They did an excellent job and a lot of the credit goes to those who didn't even play."

WILDCAT HOPEFULS—Coach Ron Flutur has a nucleus of six players which he plans to mold into a contender in the Southeastern Conference basketball race. They are: (from

Milan, Saline Favorites In SEC Race

Milan and Saline will battle it out for honors in Southeastern Conference (SEC) basketball this year.

Sound familiar?

It should. Those two teams have been battling it out for the SEC championship for the past three years. Saline went 16-0 to win the title in 1974 with Milan second, the Big Reds came back strong last year with a 16-0 record to finish ahead of the Hornets, and this year those two teams should prove to be the cream of the crop once again in 1975-76.

That, at any rate, is virtually the unanimous opinion of each of the conference coaches who also see Dexter as a possible dark horse candidate. After that, the coaches are predicting a wide open race. Novi will be better, Lincoln will be better, South Lyon will be better, Chelsea lost a lot but has good athletes returning, and Brighton will be right in there with the rest of them.

One thing's for sure, even veteran SEC basketball fans are going to need a program to identify the players around the league this year as graduation took a heavy toll on almost every team in the conference.

Biggest loss was Stan Joplin, Milan's marvelous 6-3 All-State forward who has been a starter for the past four years before graduating in the spring. But Joplin won't be the only SEC standout no longer around this year. Every player on both the first and second All-Conference team last year has graduated.

Saline lost 6-5 All-SEC center Dan Scott and 6-2 All-SEC forward Tim Slepky. Milan lost sweet-shooting All-SEC forward Jay Cummings in addition to Joplin. And Chelsea's fine backcourt duo of Dave Alber and Gary Wonders is also gone.

Taking their places will be such standouts as Saline's Steve Monty and Tom Mitchell, Milan's Jim Dutton, Bill Giorgio of Novi, and South Lyon's Kevin Baize. And, of course, there will be others as the season progresses.

Graduation hit Milan particularly hard as the Big Reds lost four of their five starters. But it would be a mistake to feel sorry for Coach Ron Dingman because the Big Reds have plenty in reserve. In fact, Saline's Jim Bradley claims that Milan is once again the "team to beat in the SEC."

The lone returning starter from the 1975 champions is Jim Dutton, a 6-2 center who is being switched to forward this year to take advantage of his strong shooting. Taking over for Dutton in the middle will be Eric Wurster, a 6-2 junior who saw plenty of varsity action as a sophomore last year. The other forward slot will go to Al Tallas, tallest man on the team at 6-4.

Taking over as guards this year will be 6-0 junior Ron Dingman, son of the coach, and Don Tomford, another six footer, who Dingman says will be the floor leader. Dingman, the player, and Tomford were the two back-up guards on the 1975 championship squad. Saline will also be tough this year in spite of their losses to graduation. "They have a nucleus of players back from last year and they've got kids moving up from junior varsity teams which have lost just once in the past two years," commented one SEC coach. "You'd better believe they're going to be tough."

The Hornets have two good forwards returning from last year's team in 6-2 Tom Mitchell and 6-1 Craig Kivi. And not even the loss of the 6-5 Scotten will be felt too much as another 6-5 center, Steve Monty, is on hand to take over where Scotten left off. Another forward who figures prominently in Coach Jim Bradley's plans is 6-2 sophomore Mike McGuire who the Hornet mentor predicts "will be a good one before he's done."

In the backcourt the Hornets have a returning starter in 6-0 senior Dick Fosdick and high-scoring Dave Slagenwhite up from last year's 19-1 junior varsity team.

Right now Monty is recovering from a broken hand suffered in football, but Bradley predicts that "when we get past our injuries, we're going to be a very good basketball team."

Just about everyone is predicting a "down year" for Chelsea, the 1975 third place finisher, because of their heavy graduation losses. Everybody except Chelsea Coach Tom Balistrere, that is.

The Bulldogs should be strong at guard in spite of the loss of Alber and Wonders as 6-0 Randy Guenther and 5-10 Howard Salzer are ready to step in. Both are seniors, and both were selected to the all-SEC offensive backfield in football. The Chelsea forwards will be respectable with 6-1 junior Tony Robards and 6-2 Randy Sweeney set to take over. Robards, a husky 185 pound junior, was also a member of the All-SEC offensive backfield in football and is described by Balistrere as a rugged, aggressive rebounder.

The key to the Chelsea success, however, lies with senior center Mike Tobin, the tallest man in the league at 6-8. Tobin did not play last year, but Balistrere says that "if the big boy plays well, we're going to be fairly tough to beat."

Ypsilanti Lincoln lost its top three players to graduation — Keith Parks, Scott Hubbard, and Rich Sweeney — but Coach Rod Marlatt believes his Railsplitters are capable of at least repeating last year's fourth place finish.

"We're a good fundamental team and we should be a better shooting team and a better running team," he says. Marlatt's biggest concern is the lack of any real height which may create rebounding problems.

Returning to a starting forward position is 6-1 senior George Czinski. Johann Barbour, a 5-11 senior, should get the starting nod at the other forward with 6-1, 185 pound senior Dean Amrhein slated to go at center. Amrhein lacks good height, but is a strong player and Marlatt is hopeful that his front line is "physical" enough to make up for its lack of height.

In the backcourt the Railsplitters will have Linard Wesley, a 5-10 junior who earned a starting berth last year as a sophomore, and 5-10 junior Jeff Chambers. Mike Williams, a senior, will also see plenty of playing time in the backcourt.

If the Railsplitters can get the ball off the boards, they have speed to burn.

Dexter is the team picked by the coaches as the most likely to challenge Milan and Saline for the title if a race develops. Coach Dave Lowe tends to agree.

"We have everybody back from the team which finished fifth last year," he says. "If things break our way, we could be right at the top."

The big man at Dexter is 6-7 junior center Dave Sing, a tower of strength under the boards. Six-two senior forward Bruce Vail is also a returning starter as is 6-4 senior Mark Mast at the other forward. With 6-3 Bill Mussip available for back up support at the forward position, the Dreadnaughts have the biggest front line in the SEC.

The only loss to graduation was guard Jeff Montibeller, but Lowe believes he has a replacement in 6-0 junior Mark Ianni. With 6-0 senior Doug Gross returning as a starter at the other guard slot, the Dreadnaughts are ready to make their move.

Novi could well be the most improved team in the conference this year. Hot-shooting Bill Giorgio, who started as a sophomore last year, is set to go at one guard position, while 6-1 senior Scott Parsons and 5-11 junior Andy McComas will alternate at guard and forward Greg Porter is the other guard candidate.

"We've got the guys who can put the ball in the hoop," comments Coach Ron Flutur. "Our biggest concern will be getting the ball off the boards." The Wildcats have four players in the 6-3, 6-4 class who all have a shot at a starting slot. They are 6-3 senior Don Durocher, and a trio of 6-4 juniors — John Pisha, Bob Bannatz, and Ken Robinson.

"We're going to be much better this year," says Flutur, "but we're still a year away." Brighton is yet another team hit hard by graduation as all five starters and seven of the top eight players are no longer around this year. Still, Coach Larry Mason is hopeful because last year's fine junior varsity squad, which went 16-4, is now moving up to the varsity.

Mason will mold his team around three players who saw occasional starting time last year. They are 6-5 senior center Neil Larson, 6-3 senior forward Steve Berry, and 5-9 junior guard Tom Babineau.

"We have a lot of ifs who haven't proven themselves yet," says the Bulldog coach. "I think that we're probably going to be a second half ball club because it's going to take our newcomers a while to jell."

South Lyon is hoping to move up in the SEC standings after last year's eighth place finish with a 1-13 record.

Heart of the Lion attack will be guard Kevin Baize, a 6-1 senior with amazing quickness and agility. Coach Bill Thomas rates his backcourt ace as "a possible college prospect."

The Lions will have more height this year with 6-4 junior Scott Herald taking over in the center spot for Ed Hock, who was a second team All-SEC center last year in spite of being only 6-0. Another key performer for the Lions will be 6-2 junior forward Rob Jorae, who started as a sophomore last year and should be ready to step up and shoulder a greater share of the load.

Wildcat Grapplers Are Tougher

With a turnout of 49 wrestlers, including eight returning lettermen, Novi Wrestling Coach Russ Gardner predicts this year's team will be tougher than last season's squad which finished with a 12-3 dual meet record and a fourth in the Southeastern Conference.

Added to the group of lettermen are a bunch of underclassmen who wrestled to a 13-1 record and a Southeastern Conference championship on the 1974-75 junior varsity team.

Every bit of that wrestling talent will be needed this year as Coach Gardner expects the Southeastern Conference teams to be very tough.

"The first six teams in the league will be knocking the crap out of each other," Gardner said. "At our coaches' meeting none of us would really say who we thought would take the title."

Besides the tough league matches, Gardner has also upgraded his team's non-league schedule. Added to the schedule is Highland Park, a second game against Detroit Catholic Central, and a tournament at Alpena.

Novi's own tournament, scheduled for December 20, will also feature tougher teams with the addition of Northville, Taylor Center, Dearborn, and Milford, all Class A schools, to the event.

Gardner also notes that the Novi wrestling program has improved overall. He is especially pleased that 10 freshmen, twice the usual number, have turned out for the team.

A leader among the letter winners is Mark McKenny, a junior, who posted a 31-8 record in the 98 pound division as a sophomore.

Senior Scott Spielman is also slated to see action at the lower weights. Gardner reports that Spielman had a good record last season and participated in AAU wrestling events this past summer.

Tony McCarty, a sophomore, had a 25-9 varsity record as a freshman and went to the regional tournament last March. McCarty is a 126 pounder.

Senior letter winner Bob Sasena has placed first and then second in his past two years of wrestling. As a 138 pounder last year, Sasena posted a 29-8 record.

Sasena may wrestle at a different weight this season to help make room for another senior letter winner, Mark Mills, on the Novi lineup. Mills is also a 138 pounder.

Doug Maier, a senior letter winner who placed in the league last season, will probably hold down the 167 pound weight division. Maier just finished a successful football season, earning All-League and All-Area honors.

Two senior lettermen, Gil Spiers and Jim Auten, are doing battle for the heavyweight position.

Gardner mentioned a couple sophomores who will break into the varsity lineup. Randy Weaver wrestled junior varsity last season and was third at an AAU tournament this past summer. Kevin Mills also wrestled on the junior varsity team last season and should move up to varsity for the 1975-76 season.

Other grapplers mentioned by Gardner, who should help the Novi team, are: Juniors Mark Boyce and Ken Kardel; sophomores Bob Lewis, Mark Frere, Steve Weaver, Andy Anton, and Tom Yake; and freshman Russel Bayne.

Mustang JV's Stomp South Lyon

Northville's junior varsity basketball team opened its season with a commanding 49-27 victory over South Lyon here last Tuesday.

Mark Hooth led the Mustangs in the scoring department with 16 and also was high on the rebound charts with nine.

Jeff Norton, Jeff Weber, Brian Prom, and Chris Campbell each netted six points. Scott McMillan had five points and Greg Suckow scored four.

Leading the Northville rebounders was guard Dave Duguid who grabbed 11 off the backboard. Weber had seven rebounds.

"For the first ball game I think some of the kids made nice moves on their own going for the basket on offense," Coach Omar Harrison said.

Boiler Wins 2nd Straight

The Michigan Boiler over 30 Hockey Team won its seventh straight game Sunday with a 2-1 decision over the Westland Stars.

Charly Drake scored the first Boiler goal with assists from Dimitrios Lambros and Brian Kerry Ray LeVan netted the winning goal with assists from Lambros and Drake.

Swim Team Depends on Sophomores

With the heart of last year's championship swimming team lost to graduation, Northville Coach Ben Lauber is anxious to see whether the younger members of his squad will take up the challenge of swim competition during the upcoming season.

"We lost six boys last year," Lauber said. "None of them you could label a weak competitive swimmer."

He said those swimmers lost had posted the fastest team times in the low and middle distance free-style events, the individual medley, and the breaststroke event.

There are 35 boys out for the swim team, including 13 lettermen. Lauber said he hasn't had a chance to determine who will swim in which events as yet. Some of the team members are switching events in order to compensate for the graduated swimmers.

"We're depending heavily on the strength of our sophomore class," the coach said. "Our freshman team last year was the best ever. I feel the sophomores can do well in making up for the loss of last year's senior group."

Despite the losses, to graduation, Lauber said he is still looking forward to a fine season and expects to be contending with Farmington Harrison for the Western Six Conference Swim Championship. Either Northville or Harrison has won the title every year since the league has been in existence.

Harrison is the only team which beat Northville last year as the Mustangs posted a 15-2 dual meet record, losing twice to the Harrison squad. Northville swimmers came on strong at the end of the season to win the league swim tournament and cop the league crown.

Earlier last season the Mustangs won the Redford Union Relays. Lauber indicated the team is hopeful of repeating as the champion of that event, which will be held again December 13.

Although youthful, the team has the nucleus of a good squad, said Lauber. The swimmers are now working out six days a week in preparation for their first meet, December 2 at Livonia Bentley. During practice, Lauber adds, the team has shown itself as being one of the hardest working squads he has coached.

Returning to the free-style events, at the short and middle distances, are Senior Ed Erdos, Senior Saulius Mikalonis, and Sophomore Mark Yanoschik.

At the distance free-style spots will be Senior Dean Alli, Senior Mark McDaniel, Junior Jim Cahill, Sophomore Bruce Hackman, and Sophomore Derek Gans.

Swimming the butterfly event will be Senior Pete Talbot, Senior Dennis Weyburne, Junior Randy Roggenbuck, and Sophomore

The divers include Senior Joe Devereaux, Senior Scott Knapp, and Freshman Brian Vradenburg.

Those members of the team who are returning lettermen are: Alli, Devereaux, Erdos, Knapp, McDaniel, Mikalonis, Talbot, Weyburne, Jim Cahill, Roggenbuck, Wright, Laffler, and Sullivan.

Athletes of the Week

Tony Armada

Tony Armada earned Mustang of the Week honors for his play in Northville's first varsity basketball of the season. Despite losing that game to South Lyon, Armada led the Mustangs with 19 points and was second on the rebound charts with seven caroms. Armada hustled throughout the game and created excitement for the Northville fans with his quick drives to the basket. Northville Coach Walt Koepke also gave Armada credit for a fine defensive game.

Mary Kardel

Mary Kardel has earned Ladycat of the Week honors for her play in the Class B district finals of the girls' basketball tournament last Monday. She led her Novi teammates with 20 points as they beat Pinckney in that final game. Kardel also set a new girls' scoring record with that point total. She attained this performance while playing over an injury sustained early in tournament play.

Northville Wrestlers Win

He won three matches without a loss on the way to the championship at 145. Ashby pinned one opponent at the 2:28 mark and earned a 17-10 decision over another wrestler.

Mike Georgoff rounded out the Northville scoring when he earned a 2-0 decision in the final consolation match of the 167-weight class. Georgoff won two points on a reversal in the second period and rode his opponent the final period to get the victory.

On his way to the third place finish, Georgoff had a 3-1 record. He pinned his first opponent in 45 seconds, was pinned in 1:14 of his next match, and won a 6-2 decision in his third match.

Coach Emerson indicated that Mark Morland's fourth place finish in the 185 class was a pleasant surprise. Morland is a first year wrestler and has been working out with the team for only one week, Emerson said. Morland was pinned in the final match and lost an earlier 14-9 decision. He pinned his second opponent and won 5-2 in his third match.

Dennis Singleton lost a 7-2 decision in the championship match at 155 to finish second. He pinned his first opponent at the 1:34 mark and won an 8-2 decision in the second match.

At the 138 division Northville had another second place when Ed Talbot was pinned with 1:47 gone in the championship match. Talbot won his first match with an 18-4 score and pinned his second opponent in 21 seconds.

Dave Bentley lost a 6-0 decision in the championship round of the 119 weight class and fell into second place. He had won his first match 9-5 and pinned his second opponent in 58 seconds.

Emerson also expressed pleasure with Lance Irey's fourth place finish in the 98 pound class. The coach noted that Irey is a senior in his first year of wrestling. Irey posted a 2-2 record in the tournament.

Five Earn All-State

Honorable Mention

Five local high school football players received honorable mention honors on the Detroit News All-State football team in an article last Sunday in that newspaper.

In the Class A division two Northville players were named, Scott Travers as a lineman and Eric Lampela in the backfield.

Novi had three selections in Class B. John Pisha won honors as a lineman and Doug Maier and Andy McComas were selected in the backfield.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE

624-0173

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tank of Nine Mile Road attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Linda Galk, to Michael Roman at St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Detroit on November 21. The reception was at Mercy College where about 250 guests were present. The couple left for a honeymoon trip which included San Francisco, Hawaii and Las Vegas.

Guests for Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Fran Kohl of Rushton Street in Country Cousins were Jim and Phyllis Kohl, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Goldrick and Maggie Smith of Detroit.

Successful deer hunters in the Novi area included the Russ Bultion family which has returned from Lost Lake Woods Club near Lincoln, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Taft Road attended the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Street of Howell on Sunday. About 80 guests were present at the open house.

Mae Atkinson and Kathryn Bachert of Fonda Street were guests of Leatha Collins of Union Lake for Thanksgiving Day dinner.

Mr. Leslie Clarke, accompanied by his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Timko and son Patrick, have returned from hunting in the area of LeRoy and Elk Rapids. While in the area they attended Friday the 35th wedding anniversary party of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Norgren of LeRoy.

Guests for Thanksgiving Day family celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell of Farmington Hills were Signa Mitchell and the George Dingaman family of Novi, Lois Fulk of Wixom and Bob Doran of Walled Lake.

Pastor Arnold Cook, formerly associated with the First Baptist Church, now president of Southland Bible College of Pikeville, Kentucky, was in the Novi area last week, visiting several friends.

Karen Sulla of 13 Mile Road entertained several of her friends, Lisa, Debbie, Bridget, Sophie, Pat, Karen H. and Anne at a slumber party last week on the occasion of her 11th birthday.

Mrs. Justin Burton, former resident of Novi, was visiting with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Burton of 11 Mile Road for several days and then they all returned to her residence in Canadian Lakes for Thanksgiving celebration.

Asa Caswell of Owenton and his sons Allan, John and Bob have returned from hunting in the St. Helen area. Steve Brewer and Jeff have also returned from their cabin near Beaverton.

Peggy Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart of 13 Mile Road has returned to classes at Grand Rapids Bible College after being home for Thanksgiving.

The Ken Cook home on 12 Mile Road was the scene of a family dinner for Thanksgiving and guests included Bob Gotro of Northville, Mr. and Mrs. John Measel and family of South Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. David Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cook of Milford.

Novi Senior Citizens

The Novi Senior Citizens will have a Christmas covered dish luncheon at the United Methodist Church at 41671 Ten Mile Road on Wednesday, December 10 at noon. The group voted that each person attending should bring a $2 gift marked for man or woman. Everyone is asked to bring a passing dish and own table service. Roy Crites will entertain with the Barbershop Quartet from his club. Also on the program will be the Novi High School Choir.

Ruth Ann Zimmer will lead everyone in Christmas carols. Those who are working on the hats and scarfs for ages nine-15 for the Jayettes, please call Emilie Neuhauser. The members also voted to fill a Goodfellow basket and the canned goods can be brought to this meeting or see Mary Skeltis. Plans are also being made for the annual Rotary Christmas party December 18 at noon. Chairman is Dr. Stiles and the party will be held at the Novi Community Building at 26360 Novi Road.

Novi Boy Scouts

The Novi Boy Scouts held a court of honor at their meeting Monday evening at the Novi Community Building. Each boy planning to register for this coming year should turn in $12 during the first week in January. The boys and their sponsors are planning a camping trip during the weekend of December 5-7 at Burns Frontier Cabin located at Waterloo Recreation Area in Chelsea. Cost is $5.

Novi Youth Assistance

The next meeting will be Wednesday, December 10 at the Administration Building of the Novi High School. Reports were heard at the last meeting about the new offices that are now available for Kathy Miller, on 12 Mile Road, and she can be reached on Tuesday and Thursday at 349-8398. Plans were made to purchase a telephone answering service for the other days she is not able to be in the area. Reports will be heard about the Parent Education program being sponsored by this group under the direction of Pete Carr.

Cub Scout Pack 240 Orchard Hills

The next pack meeting has been changed to Wednesday, December 17 instead of Thursday and will be the Christmas Party. The Committee met on December 1 at the home of Cub master Gordon Buck.

Novi Planners Suggest Variance As 'West Oakland' Eyes Move

Novi Zoning Board recently asked West Oakland Bank to go to the Novi Appeal Board for approval for variance which would allow West Oakland Bank to move into a house immediately to the south of its present 12 Mile facility.

reason for the move is that the 12-Mile-Nov Road Parcel has become too costly to keep. The bank is hoping to sell that parcel. Approval for a variance would thus be required from the board of appeals.

West Oakland came to the planning board originally for site plan approval. According to Planning Board Chairman John Roethel, the board would like for West Oakland Bank to keep the corner parcel because under the present RC (Regional Center) zoning, the side yard requirement would make it almost impossible for commercial use of the parcel. Roethel also noted that there are plans for further widening of the intersection which might eat away some of the remaining frontage.

In other action, the planning board indicated approval for an Edison substation to be located adjacent to the Edison right-of-way just north of the freeway on what is currently landlocked State Highway Department property. Edison would buy the property if approval for construction can be received from all parties. The substation would service the Dayton-Hudson property to the north and neighboring properties. A line may also be put under the freeway so properties, to the south could be serviced.

Planning Board has also given its okay for occupancy permits for The Goat Farm, a bar on Novi Road which plans to open for business later this week.

The bar emerged as a controversy over the past few months due to the phase construction of a site plan which originally had included a howling alley as well as a bar.

However, Novi's Building Department issued a building permit before the planning board was aware of the phase construction.

Novi Jaycee Auxiliary Plans Lunch with Santa

The Novi Jaycee Auxiliary will be presenting "Lunch With Santa" Saturday, December 6 at the Novi Middle School Cafeteria.

Santa is scheduled to make appearances for the luncheons which will have seatings at 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Cost is $1.25.

After lunch of hot dogs, potato chips, juice and cookies, there will be entertainment, a chance to shop at the children's only shop (prices range from $2.50 to $1), and a visit with Santa.

Parents are invited to bring their cameras. Tickets must be purchased in advance and children under six must be accompanied by an adult. Tickets can be obtained by calling Sandy Mitchell of Willowbrook Subdivision at 474-4377, Sandy Bertsch of Meadowbrook Glens at 349-7215, or Bobbie Breitberg of Village Oaks at 349-5689.

According to Roethel, there is no time limit on when construction must start on the second phase bowling alley.

Similar phase problems also existed on the Novi Commons Shopping Center on 10 Mile Road where buffer apartments were to be constructed ringling the shopping center. Instead of the apartments and the shopping center being constructed at the same time, only the shopping center is currently under construction.

However, the apartments are reportedly on the way within the next few months, as soon as satisfactory financing becomes available

OK Furniture Bids

Bids totaling $23,436 for classroom furniture for the new elementary school have been accepted by Novi School Board.

On the basis of recommendations by the Novi Administration, Novi School Board accepted the bid of McFadden Corporation of Lansing of $6,476 for chairs. A bid of $980 for student desks was accepted from Michigan School Service of Detroit. A bid of $16,060 from State Wide Equipment Company of Dearborn was accepted for tables.

Bids were received from seven different classroom equipment companies and Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr explained in detail why each furniture recommendation presented was preferable to others submitted.

Auto Club Predicts Brisk Increase in State Skiing

Michigan skiers will be schussing toward new records at state ski resorts this winter if early indications prove correct, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"A brisk summer tourist season, hundreds of early reservation inquiries and the prospect of year-around skiing at three lodges have prompted predictions that, weather permitting, business will be up 15 to 25 percent over last winter's record season," stated Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

The spectacular growth in the popularity of Michigan slopes is mostly a result of steadily increasing long-distance travel costs, he said.

"Skiers have watched once-bargain western or European ski trips turn more costly each winter. They've now realized excellent snow conditions are available at resorts here in Michigan," he explained.

"The lure of close-to-home ski holidays also is bringing many persons here from eastern and midwestern states who have found Michigan slopes among the best east of the Mississippi," Ratke added.

Despite the economic downturn across the state and nation, operators of the 57 ski areas listed in Auto Club's 1976 guide have invested close to $2 million over the summer in new facilities and equipment to handle the expected onslaught of ski-buffs this winter.

In the western Upper Peninsula, Vulcan, U.S.A., at Vulcan, southeast of Iron Mountain, will open this winter. The $1-million complex is the first new state ski resort in several years.

"At least three ski resorts — Mt. Holly, near Holly; Swiss Valley, near Jones, and Timber Ridge, near Kalamazoo — have erected wooden slopes where skiers can practice on 'polysnow,' plastic beads that act like the real thing," Ratke said.

Plastic snow slopes for beginners have been open at the lodges since early October. When the real stuff starts falling, the platforms will be dismantled until spring.

If the new idea catches on, these slopes could offer year-around skiing," Ratke said.

In addition, 33 resorts statewide now offer cross-country ski trails, 44 percent more than last year. Some lodges even rent snowshoes and provide picnic packs for trail lunches.

New accommodations, low-cost dining for skiing families watching their budgets and new snowmaking equipment producing up to 10 times more white stuff also have been added at many facilities, Auto Club noted.

Skiers returning to 37 lodges will find daily weekend lift fees unchanged from last year. Twenty resorts have raised rates from 25 cents to $2.50 daily. Boyne Mountain, near Boyne Falls; Boyne Highlands, near Harbor Springs, and Sugar Loaf, near Cedar, have the highest lift fees in the state — $10 daily on weekends. Sugar Loaf raised its lift fees $1 for this season with Boyne Mountain and the Highlands unchanged from last winter.

Here is a brief description of what skiers will find in each state tourist region this season:

Southeast Michigan: Six of eight lodges offer weekend skiing on lighted slopes, providing excellent after-dinner recreation for Detroit-area residents. Mt. Brighton boasts a new 900-foot-long run and a double chair lift. Mt. Holly has invested $300,000 in a new chair lift and a new slope — one of the longest in the area. Holly's lodge also has received a face lift. Lift fees in the region run from $3 to $7.50.

East Michigan: Daily lift fees on weekends from $5 to $7.50 open these nine lodges to families seeking skiing relatively close to major cities. Sylvan Knob near Gaylord has added overnight lodging for groups and a new practice hill. Mt. Maria near Spruce has spent nearly $250,000 to widen and lengthen all slopes, add a new chair lift and build two new ski slopes. Bintl Apple Mountain near Freeland has lengthened its runs and increased its lighting and snowmaking capacity.

West Michigan: A total of 473 runs at 26 lodges offers skiers the widest variety of conditions in the state, but it also is the most expensive area to ski. Weekend lift fees range from $1.50 to $10 daily. Twenty-eight lodges offer package rates with rooms or condominiums and 11 feature weekend entertainment. Timberlee near Traverse City has purchased new slope and cross-country trail grooming equipment. Swiss Valley near Jones has spent $100,000 developing a quarter-mile-long run. Timber Ridge near Kalamazoo has a new 1,600-foot-long run and other improvements costing $150,000. A new motel and group lodge means Caberfae near Cadillac can now sleep 300 persons. Boyne Mountain at Boyne Falls has added a four-place chair lift and a 1,200-seat cafeteria at its new convention center. Cannonsburg ski area at Cannonsburg has spent $250,000 to build one of the highest hills in the Lower Peninsula. Sugar Loaf near Cedar sports a new convention center.

Upper Peninsula: Visitors to the 14 U.P. lodges usually enjoy the earliest and latest skiing of the season, with deluxe accommodations available at many resorts. Lift fees vary from $1 to $9 daily. Lift use is free at Crystallia, near Crystal Falls. New slopes await skiers at Brule Mountain near Iron River, Mt. Zion near Ironwood and Pine Mountain at Iron Mountain. Big Powderhorn near Bessemer now can sleep 1,800 persons since 10 new rental chalets were completed. A new restaurant also is featured. Porcupine Mountain's old chalet has been remodeled and a new $300,000 model constructed close by. Vulcan, U.S.A., the state's newest ski resort, features nine downhill runs, cross-country skiing and package rates through nearby motels.

Autos, Chicken Highlight Tours

Flint and Frankenmuth are two communities with just about as much contrast as you'll find, yet each has its own distinctive appeal, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Since they're only 26 miles apart, the highlights of each can be seen in a day, but at least two days are recommended for best sightseeing," says Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Flint, third largest city in the state and birthplace of General Motors, includes an outstanding cultural center, plant tours and automotive landmarks among its attractions. Frankenmuth, 1.5 percent the size of Flint, focuses its appeal on attractions connected with its German heritage.

"The Flint Cultural Center, only five minutes from downtown, consists of three top attractions," Ratke points out.

The Flint Institute of Arts, housed in the Enos A. and Sarah DeWaters Art Center, has been catering to the art interests of the area since 1930. The Institute is known for its Renaissance decorative arts, Chinese paintings, bronzes, jades, 18th and 19th century European glass and 19th and 20th century French and American painting and sculpture. It offers an extensive educational program and special annual exhibition.

The Robert T. Longway Planetarium offers regularly changing sky shows throughout the year. The roof serves as an observation tower where telescopes are available to the public during the summer months.

The Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. Museum, dedicated in 1966 after years of planning and research, traces Flint's automotive history through displays, artifacts and an outstanding exhibit of antique cars. A popular exhibit is "Moments in the American Past," which features three-dimensional scenes of Flint, state and national history.

If viewing automotive landmarks is to your liking, Flint has many surviving today. At 423 E. Kearsley St., once Flint's most fashionable avenue and near the downtown area, is the former home of Albert Champion, who began manufacturing spark plugs in 1908. Champion lived in the house in 1919-20. The late Charles Stewart Mott lived in the house from 1912-16, afterwards moving to his last home, Applewood, at 1400 E. Kearsley.

Perhaps the most interesting historic structure in Flint's industrial history is the Durant-Dort Carriage Co. office building on West Water Street. Built in the 1890s, it was headquarters of the carriage company which W. C. Durant boosted into the largest volume producer of carriages by the turn of the century.

The Sloan Museum can help visitors learn more about Flint automotive sites.

Frankenmuth's famous chicken dinners, German sausage, cheese and Christmas ornaments and displays from many parts of the world at Bronner's, an every-day-is-Christmas showplace, draw visitors the year around. The Bavarian Inn, features Glockenspiel Tower, with a 35-bell carillon. The inn is famous for its chicken dinners as is Zehnder's Hotel across the street.

Visitors should be sure to see Bronner's Tannenbaum Shop, with its year-around display of Christmas decorations, the world's largest. Prices range from a few cents to hundreds of dollars. If you're looking for a Christmas wonderland, this is it. There is no admission charge.

Frankenmuth's German heritage has become a town trademark. Even the local bank sports a high-sloped room with carved gables, and in most stores, clerks wear Black Forest garb.

Here is a partial list of other Frankenmuth specialty stores: the Schnitzelbank Shop, with its resident wood carver; Kern's and Ruppert's, both featuring homemade sausages; the Glass Haus, where you can see glass blowers at work; and nostalgic Rau's Country Store; the Village Store, with its large selection of Black Forest cuckoo clocks, and the Cheese Haus.

• OBITUARIES •

ETHEL CAYLEY

Funeral services were held Friday for Ethel Maude Cayley of Grand River in Wixom, a resident of Wixom for the past 35 years, who died Monday, November 24, in University Convalescent Home in Livonia. She was 81 years old.

Born December 11, 1893, in Campbell, Ontario, Canada, she was the daughter of Martin and Elizabeth (Thompson) Fredrick. Her husband died on April 25, 1963. She was a member of St. Patrick Mission Church of South Lyon.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Lindenmuth of Utica, Mrs. Jean McLeay of Redford, three sons, John Fredrick of Dearborn, James Joseph of Detroit, Martin C. of Howell, and nine grandchildren.

Rosary was recited Wednesday evening at the Casterline Funeral Home with the Reverend Father Gerard Hadad officiating. Funeral services were held Friday at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Milford where the Reverend Father Frank Zieleninski officiated. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Milford.

CITY OF NOVI NOTICE OF ENACTMENT

ORDINANCE No. 75-71

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE BUSINESS OF OPERATING DOCKS AND/OR MARINAS; TO PROVIDE RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE OPERATION OF THE BUSINESS OF OPERATING DOCKS AND/OR MARINAS; TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE.

THE CITY OF NOVI ORDAINS:

Section 1.01 As used in this Ordinance:

(a) "Person" means an individual, firm, partnership, association, copartnership, corporation, common law trust, an organization or a combination thereof.

(b) "Dock" means all forms of dock, wharf, pier or other structure used as a means of entrance to or exit from watercraft or used in connection with fishing and other waterfront activities.

(c) "Marina" means a facility which is owned or operated by a person extending into or over an inland lake or stream and offering services to the public or members of the marina for docking, loading, or other services of a recreational watercraft.

(d) "Business of Operating a Dock" means the permitting of another person to use a dock by the owner or possessor of the dock for a valuable consideration.

(e) "Business of Operating a Marina" means the permitting of another person to use a marina by the owner or possessor of the marina for a valuable consideration.

(f) "Department" means the Department of Building of the City of Novi.

(g) "Inland Lakes and Streams Act" means Act 346 of Public Acts of 1972 known as the Inland Lakes and Streams Act of 1972.

Section 2.01 Any person wishing to engage in the business of operating a dock or in the business of operating a marina shall make application to the Department for a license to do so; such application to be accompanied by a fee established by a resolution of the City Council of Novi and the Department shall issue such license upon the following conditions; namely:

A. Each applicant shall state in his application the following:

1. The applicant's name and address.

2. The common address and legal description of the land that the applicant seeks to utilize as a dock or marina.

3. That the applicant has obtained all of the necessary permits that are required under the Inland Lakes and Streams Act. (A copy of such permit shall be attached to the application.)

4. That the dock and facilities which the applicant desires to utilize in his business has been designed or examined by a Professional Engineer. That the Professional Engineer has certified that the dock and facilities are constructed so as not to endanger the life of the users and that the weight-bearing capacity of such dock is not less than 200 pounds per square foot, live load. (A copy of such certificate shall be attached to the application bearing the seal of the Professional Engineer.)

5. That there is sufficient paved off-street parking space on the property on which the business will be operated in order to accommodate one parking space for every two boat berths and one parking space for every five running feet of dock length.

6. That there is provided within such marina a minimum of eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of space for the exclusive use of each boat berthed at such marina.

7. That there are toilet facilities on such premises approved by the Oakland County Department of Health. (A copy of such approval shall be attached to the application.)

8. That there are facilities on such premises for receiving of human body wastes from toilet and other receptacles intended to receive or retain body wastes on boats berthed at such marina.

B. Each application shall have attached to it a site plan drawn to scale, of the boundaries of the premises and the locations and dimensions of the dock, boat berths, and parking spaces, together with plans and specifications including detailed drawings of the dock, specifications of the materials used therein, the weight-bearing capacity of the dock in pounds per square foot, live load.

C. Each application shall have attached to it an environmental impact study demonstrating that the facility and the operation of the dock and/or marina is not likely to pollute, impair or destroy the air, water, or other natural resources or the public trust therein.

Section 2.02 Every person who receives a license to engage in the business of operating a dock and/or marina shall thereafter make an application to the Department for a renewal of such license on or before January 1st of each succeeding year; such application to be accompanied by a fee established by resolution of the City Council of Novi. The Department shall issue such license upon the following conditions; namely:

A. Each applicant shall state on his application the following:

1. The applicant's name and address.

2. The common address and legal description of the land that the applicant seeks to utilize as a dock or marina.

3. That the applicant has obtained all of the necessary permits that are required under the Inland Lakes and Streams Act. (A copy of such permit shall be attached to the application.)

4. That the dock and facilities which the applicant desires to utilize in his business have been designed or examined by a Professional Engineer. That the Professional Engineer has certified that the dock is constructed so as not to endanger the life of the users and that the weight-bearing capacity of such dock is not less than 200 pounds per square foot, live load. (A copy of such certificate shall be attached to the application bearing the seal of the professional Engineer.)

5. That there is sufficient paved off-street parking space on the property on which the business will be operated in order to accommodate one parking space for every two boat berths and one parking space for every five running feet of dock length.

6. That there is provided within such marina a minimum of eight hundred and seventy-five square feet of space for the exclusive use of each boat berthed at such marina.

7. That there are toilet facilities on such premises approved by the Oakland County Department of Health. (A copy of such approval shall be attached to the application.)

8. That there are facilities on such premises for receiving of human body wastes from toilets and other receptacles intended to receive or retain body wastes on boats berthed at such marina.

B. Each application shall have attached to it a site plan drawn to scale of the boundaries of the premises and the locations and dimensions of the dock, boat berths, and parking spaces together with plans and specifications including detailed drawings of the dock, specifications of the materials used therein, the weight-bearing capacity of the dock in pounds per square foot, live load.

C. Each application shall have attached to it an environmental impact study demonstrating that the facility and the operation of the dock and/or marina is not likely to pollute, impair or destroy the air, water, or other natural resources or the public trust therein.

If any licensee fails to comply with this Section, the renewal of his license shall be withheld, but the licensee may be reinstated by the Department upon subsequent compliance with the provisions of this Section.

Section 3.01 The Director of the Department shall withhold the renewal of the license or revoke the license for any of the following causes:

(a) For fraud or deceit in procuring a license to engage in the business of operating a dock or marina or in the renewal of the license.

(b) The dock has become in disrepair so that the weight-bearing capacity of such dock shall be less than 200 pounds per square foot, live load.

(c) The dock has become in such disrepair as to be likely to endanger persons or property.

Section 3.02 Prior to the refusal to renew the license or the revocation of the license, a hearing shall be held before the Director of the Department upon notice given to the licensee in writing specifying the time, place of hearing, and reason for withholding the license or revocation of the license. Notice shall be served upon the licensee personally or by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the address of the licensee on his application, ten (10) days before the date of hearing described in the notice. At the hearing, the licensee may be represented by Counsel and a record shall be made, however, the record need not be a verbatim record.

Section 3.03 The determination to refuse to renew the license or the revocation of the license is appealable to the Zoning Board of Appeals, upon written request for a hearing before said Board of Appeals. In the absence of such request being filed within ten (10) days after determination of withholding the renewal of the license or revocation of the license, said determination is final.

Section 4.01 Where the owner or occupant demands a warrant for inspection of the premises, the Department shall obtain a warrant from a court of competent jurisdiction. The Department shall prepare the warrant, stating the address of the property to be inspected, the nature of the inspection, and the reasons for the inspection. It shall be appropriate and sufficient to set forth the basis for inspection (e.g. license application, license renewal, complaint, area of recurrent violation basis) established in this Ordinance. The warrant shall also state that it is issued pursuant to this ordinance, and that it is for the purposes set forth in this ordinance.

If the court finds that the warrant is in proper form, and in accordance with this Ordinance, it shall be issued forthwith.

Section 5.01 Any person who engages in the business of operating a dock and/or marina without a license or during the period of time such license is withheld or revoked by the Department or who violates any provision or provisions of this Ordinance, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500.00 and imprisonment for a term not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both in the discretion of the court. Every day upon which any such violation occurs shall be deemed to constitute a separate offense.

Section 6.01 It is the legislative intent that all provisions and sections, clauses and sentences of the ordinance be liberally construed, and should any provision, section, clause or sentence be held unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not be construed as affecting the validity of any of the remaining provisions, sections, clauses, or sentences, it being the intent that this ordinance shall stand notwithstanding the validity of any provision, section, clause or sentence.

Section 7.01 This ordinance is hereby declared necessary for the preservation of the peace, health, safety and welfare of the people of the City of Novi and shall take effect upon publication in full as required by the City Charter.

MADE AND PASSED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NOVI, THIS 1ST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1975.

Gilbert Henderson, Mayor
Geraldine Stipp, City Clerk
I, Geraldine Stipp, City Clerk of the City of Novi, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of an ordinance adopted by the City Council of the City of Novi at a regular meeting held Monday, December 1, 1975, in the City of Novi. Copies of said Ordinance are available at the office of the City Clerk.

Freezing Mist Causes Accidents

other cars sitting helter-skelter on the road and curb.

From that point on, Novi police lost count of all the accidents.

"They just would not slow down," recalled Brown. "They'd try to maintain 55 miles per hour or better. The patrol car was just missed eight times. I saw eight accidents where they'd spin, hit a bridge abutment, lose a fender, headlight or bumper and keep right on going."

"The whole thing was treacherous (I-96 from Haggerty to Beck Road) but that bridge seemed to have the main calling card," said Brown. Only lane to remain open was the center lane. Flares were set up to warn drivers to slow down because of all the cars sitting along the freeway unable to move.

Brown said it looked pretty much like a demolition derby. "That sums it up nice — there were cars ricocheting off each other and not bothering to stop and find out who they hit. I'd say we had 14-15 hit and runs where they'd hit an object and just keep going."

Brown, who wrote up 13 accidents himself, said that the accidents happened so fast that drivers were confused as to which cars hit them and how and why it happened. Many would stop but by the time officers were able to get to taking information for the report, the drivers had given up and headed on their way.

Several accidents were also reported on city streets and motorists on Novi Road were held up for almost half an hour shortly after 10 p.m. when a 26-year-old Milford woman escaped serious injury when her car was slammed by a southbound Chesapeake and Ohio train.

According to Officer Gerald Pratt, Loraine Taylor apparently was trying to beat the train and when she realized she could not make it tried to brake — only to stall the car on the tracks. The train, going an estimated 25 miles per hour hit the front end, spinning the car around. The driver was taken to Botsford Hospital with bruises.

According to Pratt, if the train had been traveling northbound, Mrs. Taylor probably would have been killed because a guard rail would not have been located in such a relation to her that it would have stopped the car from being dragged along in front of the train — as happened during the accident.

Ironically, none of the surrounding communities apparently received the freezing mist or suffered the rash of accidents like Novi.

"The rest weren't getting hit at all," stated Brown. "Walled Lake didn't have any accidents and neither did Wixom."

Hospital Resident Dies After Jump

In Township

Investigation is continuing into the death of a Northville State Hospital resident who died last week Monday from injuries sustained when he jumped from a second story window.

The incident took place on Friday, November 21, in C. Building. Another resident who also jumped from the window suffered two broken heels.

Michigan State Police said Jerome Simmons, 26, of Detroit was taken to Clinton Valley State Hospital November 22 with a skull fracture. He later lapsed into a coma and died Monday.

The other resident who jumped from the window told state police detectives they jumped because friends told them to. He said they were not pushed.

Northville Township Police are probing the cause of a house fire last week Tuesday which completely destroyed the Charles McFall residence on West Seven Mile Road, just west of Beck Road.

According to reports, no one was home at the time the blaze broke out in the one story dwelling about 8 p.m. Firemen remained on the scene until after midnight and were assisted by firemen from the Salem department. One wall of the home had to be ripped out to fight the fire.

A Detroit woman remains hospitalized following a head-on crash early Thursday morning on Six Mile Road. Driver of the other car fled the scene on foot and was captured in a nearby field by a witness.

Hospitalized with a fractured cheek, broken arm, eye and facial cuts is Donna Louise Sherlock, 26. A passenger in her car, Aretilia Louise Nelson, 25, of Detroit, was treated at St. Mary Hospital and released.

Arrested for leaving the scene of an injury accident was Douglas John Logan, 22, of Detroit.

Miss Sherlock told township officers she was westbound on Six Mile about one-quarter mile west of Haggerty when the Logan vehicle allegedly crossed the centerline and struck her car head-on. The accident took place at 5:35 a.m.

A 16-year-old Plymouth youth sustained minor injuries at midnight Saturday when the car he was driving went off the end of West Main Street at Beck Road, striking a fence at Maybury State Park.

Michigan State Police said the youth, who was alone in his car, was speeding at the time of the accident. He refused medical treatment.

A Westland man was injured when he lost control of his car on icy roads Wednesday morning, went into a ditch and rolled over. William A. Kachenko, 22, refused medical treatment. He told officers he was westbound on Five Mile Road one-half mile west of Sheldon when he lost control of his car and slid into a ditch on the south side of the road. No tickets were issued in the accident which took place about noon.

Two attempted break-ins were reported to township police during the past week. An attempt was made to enter the Oasis Golf Center on Five Mile Road last Wednesday night. Officers found sliding doors had been damaged with a pry tool and footprints were found near the building.

Unknown persons attempted to gain entry to a home in the 20100 area of Westview between November 21 and 24. Damage was done to several windows, storm windows were removed from two windows and a screen was pried off.

An attempt was made to enter the Oasis Golf Center on Five Mile Road last Wednesday night. Officers found sliding doors had been damaged with a pry tool and footprints were found near the building.

Unknown persons attempted to gain entry to a home in the 20100 area of Westview between November 21 and 24. Damage was done to several windows, storm windows were removed from two windows and a screen was pried off.

Theft of a 1972 Ford pick-up truck was reported last Monday evening. The brown truck was stolen from the maintenance drive sometime between 1 and 9 p.m. Township reports said the keys were left in the ignition at Meadowbrook Club.

In Northville

One pick-up truck was stolen and an attempt made to steal another from John Mach Ford on Seven Mile Road. The incidents took place sometime late Thursday or early Friday.

Stolen was a 1976 yellow Ford pick-up which was later recovered by Northville police on Lexington Boulevard south of Eight Mile Road. The truck was found shortly before noon Friday.

Investigation showed the ignition had been hot-wired and blood was found on the driver's side of the vehicle. Police said an attempt was also made to take a 1976 blue pick-up. Pry marks were found on the vent window, the air cleaner had been removed and the ignition had been tampered with.

Three thefts of vehicle and mechanical equipment were reported to Northville police recently.

Three tires and wheels, valued at more than $375, were stolen off of a 1976 Dodge pick-up at G. E. Miller Sales on Hutton Street between Wednesday and Friday. In order to remove the snow tires, thieves jacked the truck up, damaging the rear quarter panel.

A 23-channel citizen's band radio, valued at more than $100, was stolen from the parking lot on Cady and Wing early Saturday evening. Unknown persons had unlocked the driver's side

And sometime during daylight hours November 19, thieves walked off with a hydraulic floor jack from Phil's 76 on West Main Street and Wing. Value of the jack was placed at $260.

A 20-year-old Northville man, Mark Alan Jeffries of Innsbrook Drive, was treated for injuries he sustained early Sunday morning when the car he was driving struck several trees.

The one-car accident took place shortly after 2:30 a.m. on southbound Griswold near Butler. Police are continuing to investigate.

Windows were broken in three locations in Northville last week. Police on routine patrol discovered a window broken out of the east side of Northville High School Friday night. A rock was found inside the school and no entry was gained to the building.

Police theorize a tree limb was used to break a window in a garage door in the 500 block of Beal Street. The damage was discovered Friday.

A snowball thrown through a bedroom window in Bristol Court shattered the thermopane window. No one was injured in the incident which took place about 10 p.m. Wednesday.

In Wixom

A brick thrown through the liner of a swimming pool in the 3000 area of Potter Road November 27 reportedly caused $600 damage to the pool.

The incident occurred between 2:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Police are continuing to investigate.

A black antique stove weighing 175 pounds and standing five feet tall was one of two items reportedly stolen last week from a home in the 2800 area of West Maple. The stove was valued at $250. Also taken was a silver toy machine gun valued at $100. Both were taken from the front yard of the home. Police are investigating.

A Wixom resident who works in Pontiac reported that between November 19 and November 25 a pistol he owned was taken from his duffel bag. The man had been traveling throughout Michigan.

An emergency locating transmitter valued at $85 was taken from an airplane at Spencer Airport sometime between November 10 and November 22.

In Novi

Novi Police report that a home in the 47000 block of Sycamore was broken into November 30 by way of a sliding glass door which was pried open.

Missing was $160 in cash and $650 in jewelry.

Northwest Industries, 39550 Grand River was broken into Monday morning after 3 a.m. and a typewriter and cash valued at $340 taken. Detectives are investigating.

Michael Conway, 19, of 26269 Novi Road has pled guilty before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle to obtaining money under false pretenses and violation of the Michigan Controlled Substance Act.

In September, the police department received a disorderly person complaint at Grand River and Old Orchard. According to detectives, Conway was arrested and it was determined by the Michigan Department of Health that he was under the influence of drugs. The disorderly person charge was dismissed and Conway was charged for violating the Michigan Controlled Substance Act. Two Novi residents on September 5 reported to police that their check book had previously been stolen from their car.

On the same day the Grand River branch of National Bank of Detroit reported a forged check had been cashed at a drive-in window for $20.50. A warrant was subsequently obtained charging Conway with the crime.

Boyle has set January as

Paul Brewer of Walled Lake was sentenced November 10

Discuss Problems

Wixom Eyes Ambulance

At the request of Councilman James Lahde, Wixom Council is currently investigating the possibilities of locating an ambulance service within the city.

While Mayor Val Vangieson indicated the proposition could be costly, Lahde read a letter to the city from a resident who required immediate medical care only to arrive at a Pontiac Hospital an hour after an ambulance was called. The resident complained that not only did the ambulance driver take the "long" route, but the attendant did not use correct medical procedures and the subject was buffeted around on a bed or stretcher in the ambulance which was not secured correctly.

Vangieson indicated that a full service ambulance is costly because trained personnel are needed. He indicated it might be a possibility if the ambulance served the area outside of the immediate city.

Councilman Gunnar Mettala noted that Ford Motor Company may be interested in building a garage within the city to house an ambulance which would also serve the assembly plant.

Council requested that Police Chief Philip Leonard keep a tally of the response time on ambulance calls within the city so the council can further determine the extent of ambulance service problems.

Council is currently considering expenditure of funds for boundary and topographical survey maps to be prepared on the Huron Clinton parkway land which the city recently purchased. The information is required by Oakland County which is going to prepare a recreation plan for the property, at the request of the city.

Estimated cost to have the city engineer do the survey work is $7,500 to $8,000 but Councilman Lahde is to contact the county to determine exactly what survey information is needed and whether that information may already be available.

Council approved a request from Building Official William Tyler for an extension from the requirement that he move into the city.

ROTARY STORY—Looking at a sample copy of the brochure that is being prepared for Northville Rotary Club's upcoming Golden Anniversary celebrations are the three Rotarians with the longest membership in the club. They are (l to r) Leslie Lee, who has been ill for some time, Russell Amerman, and E. M. Bogart

Golden Anniversary Dance

Northville Rotary Club To Celebrate Birthday

It was 1926...

...The longest and costliest coal strike in the nation's history had come to a close.

James Huff had just purchased Elliott's Hardware at the northwest corner of Main and Center, E. A. Kohler was advertising groceries from his store where the Wagon Wheel Restaurant is now located, Northville's handsome new Penniman-Allen Theatre had just opened...

And Northville's newest service organization, the Rotary Club, received its charter in a dinner program at the high school attended by some 400 persons.

Now, 50 years later,

Northville Rotarians are preparing to celebrate the golden anniversary of that chartering event with a dinner dance to be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn on January 16.

"We're very excited about it, and we're pleased to be able to make it a public celebration in which residents of the community in which our Rotary Club grew up can join us," said Russell Amerman, Rotary publicity chairman for the event.

Ticket Chairman Richard Lyon will begin taking reservations on December 12. Deadline for receiving reservations will be January 5.

None of the original charter members of the club are still living, according to Amerman, who pointed out that the last three surviving members died just this past year — B. A. Stephens, Dr. H. H. Burkhardt, and Charles Schoultz.

Present members with the greatest longevity are Leslie Lee, who joined the club in 1930; E. M. Bogart, who joined the following year in 1931; and Amerman, who became a Northville Rotarian in 1933.

"We're not sure, but we understand that one of the members who was with the Ypsilanti Club when that Club served as our sponsor in 1926 may still be living. If that is true we are hopeful he might be able to attend our anniversary," said Amerman, who along with Bogart, has begun preparation of an anniversary program complete with the club's history.

The Northville Record / THE NOVI NEWS

Wednesday, December 3, 1975

Bogart, incidentally, has nearly 40 years of perfect attendance.

Charter members of the club were:

A. C. Balden, Fritz W. Bramigk, Ross A. Brooks, H. H. Burkhardt, F. J. Cochran, F. E. Hills, F. S. Harmon, Ed. A. Kenney, E. C. Langfield, J. M. McClintock, John McCully, Wellington Roberts, Charles Schoultz, G. Joe Schuler, Mark R. Seeley, Floyd Shafer, B. A. Stephens, and Charles T. Thornton.

Officers and directors of that first club were:

Brooks, president; Thornton, vice-president; McClintock, secretary; Harmon, treasurer; Burkhardt, sergeant-at-arms; and directors Cochran, Brooks, Thornton, Burkhardt, and Hills.

Guest of honor for the occasion was William R. Yendall of London, Ontario, governor of the 23rd district International Rotary.

Although the program for the January anniversary celebration has not yet been formalized, it is expected that Rotary's District Governor Henry Montague of Birmingham will be present. Twenty-one past district governors have been invited to attend, and representatives of all 45 Rotary clubs in the local district have been invited, according to Amerman, himself a past district governor.

Representatives from other local organizations also are expected to attend.

Chairmen for the anniversary banquet include:

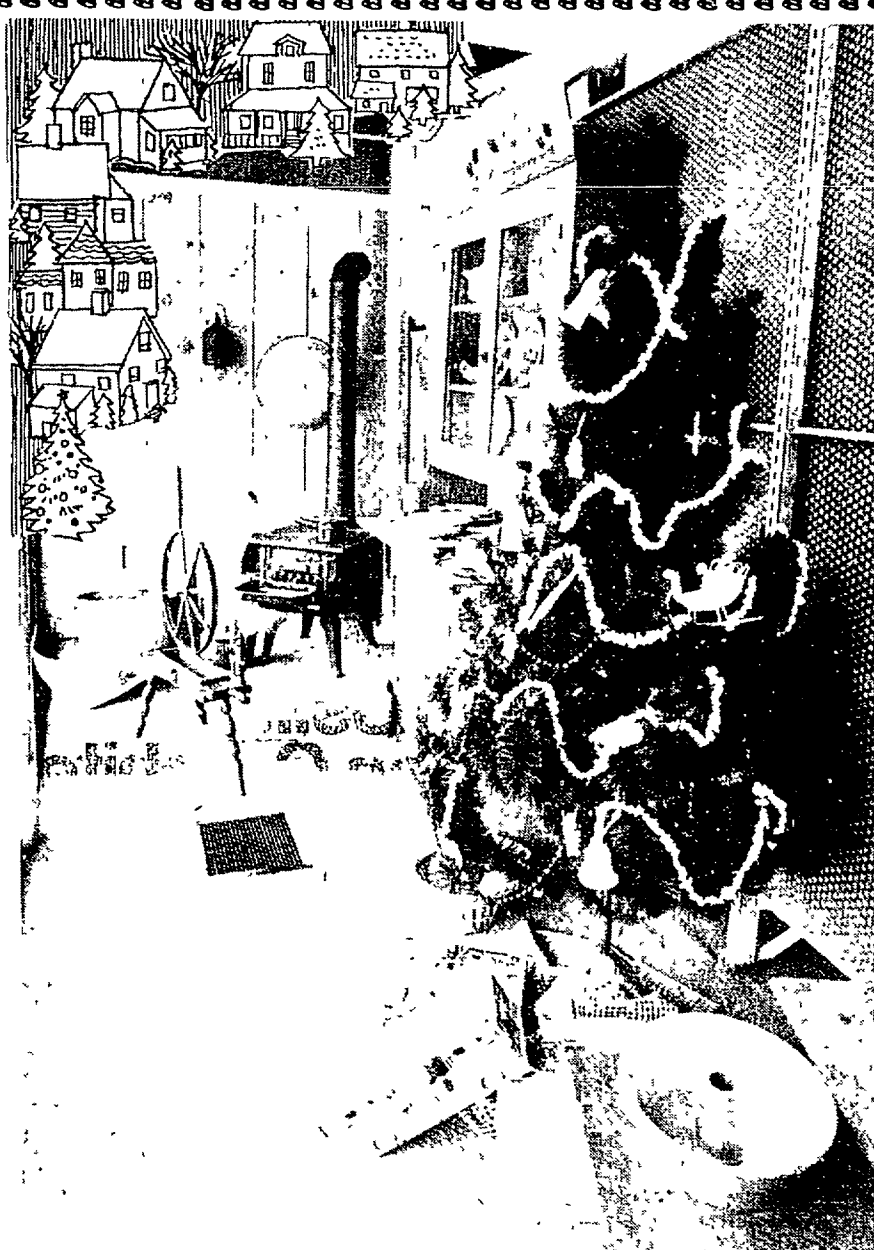

Russell Clarke, arrangements; Wesley Henrikson, banquet program; Jack Werner, finances; Nate Whiteside, printing; Lyon, invitations and reservations; Bogart and Amerman, history; Steven Walters, projects; Ethel Ogilvie, Rotary Anns; and Amerman, publicity.

Attendance is to be limited to 250 persons.

The Rotary Club of Northville meets each Monday at noon in the social hall of the Presbyterian Church. It has met there for nearly all of its 50 years, according to Amerman, except for a few years during World War II when, because of rationing, it met jointly with the now defunct Northville Exchange Club, in the Methodist Church—now the Captain's Table Restaurant.

College Cabaret Theater

Presents Godspell Soon

Schoolcraft College will present Godspell in two performances of its new student cabaret theater, December 12 and 13, in the Waterman Campus Center.

According to Lawrence Rudick, theater instructor at the college, the popular musical is based loosely on the Gospel according to St. Matthew, with various parables enacted against a backdrop of symbolic fencing.

"In Godspell," Dr. Rudick says, "Christ is pictured as a man with problems, desires, hopes and ambitions. He is an idealist and succumbs as a martyr, but he dies having revealed courage, compassion, tenacity, wit and most importantly humanity."

He added, "the performers are clad in outlandish clown-like costumes and the entire production has the atmosphere of a bizarre carnival with the deep fervor of a revival meeting."

Included in the $6.75 ticket price is a French cuisine of gourmet snacks consisting of Quiche Lorraine, bowls of mixed cheeses and fruits, French bread with red and white wines. Dining will begin at 6:30 with the Godspell performance following at 8 p.m.

The Godspell cast includes Dennis Saltarelli of Northville; Rhonda Boccarossa, Steve Doud and Julie Rotary of Livonia; Charla Baird and Phil Shangraw of Plymouth; Helen Slaven of Garden City; Kruk of Detroit and Jerry Westerman of Ann Arbor.

Lewis Kaplan of Stevenson High School will direct the cast with Bob Gregory of Clarenceville High School serving as technical director.

Jean Newell, a Livonia dance instructor, is directing the choreography and Schoolcraft student Laurie Wiselogle of Livonia is the production prompter.

Tickets are available at the campus bookstore daily Monday through Friday. Reservations can be picked up at the door if tickets have been paid for in advance of the scheduled performance. Persons attending should plan to park in the North Parking Lot and enter Waterman Center by the north-east door.

Additional performances of Godspell are planned for January, February and March.

Condo Owners Meet

West Oakland Area of United Condominium Owners of Michigan will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Coventry Parkhomes Condominium's clubhouse in Royal Oak.

"The Gas Rate Structure" is the topic to be discussed. It will include an update on and explanation of UCOM's ongoing efforts through the Michigan Public Service Commission.

WINTER STAKING—About 640 grave plots in the newest section of Northville's municipally owned Rural Hill Cemetery now are staked out for winter. This number, according to James Allen of Allen Monuments, represents half of the total in the new section at the rear, or south side, of the cemetery. The new section utilizes a hedgerow concept that differs from the layout of the rest of the cemetery with markers back-to-back. The cemetery is maintained by the city with Allen Monuments keeping records and selling the lots as a free community service.

Wixom Newsbeat

New Recipe Book on Sale Here

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Shedding a few unwanted pounds gathered over the Thanksgiving holidays is tops on the list of things to do this week. It's amazing how nibbling on goodies for a couple of days can add so many inches around the waist.

And the newest item to hit the Wixom scene won't help take off inches either. Introduced at the Holiday Bazaar is the first edition of "The Friends Cookery" ... 72 pages of super-scrumptious ways with recipes submitted by Friends of the Library. They're time and taste tested and now available in a spiral bound book with a special cover designed by Bev Walters. For $2.25 each they would be a delightful addition to recipe collection and make perfect Christmas gifts.

Look for "The Friends Cookery" at the library or call Arlene Monk at 624-1195 or Bev Walters at 624-3727 for your copy.

A holiday special is coming up for the kids on Saturday.

December 13, at the library from 1 p.m. - 3 p.m. It's a Christmas party featuring movies and a special puppet show staged by the sixth grade Girl Scouts of Wixom School. There will be refreshments and lots of fun for any aged child. You are asked to R.S.V.P. for this holiday treat by calling the library at 624-2513.

Still more as the holiday season starts its whirl. There are a few tickets available for the "Christmas Around the World" evening sponsored by the Farmington Hills chapter of the Sweet Adelines. Dancing, a buffet dinner, and entertainment are planned for this gala event with tickets available only through chapter members. Those to call in Wixom are Oggie Piilo at 624-1928 and Elna Salo at 624-1991. Sure to be a great night out, ticket cost is $7 each with beer and mix provided. Bring your own additions.

And you'll be seeing the Goodfellows out in force shortly both with their newspapers to sell. Help support a very local charity and provide a happy Christmas to those a little less fortunate.

The Holiday Bazaar proved to be a great success for Wixom's Historical Society as they raised over $350 for several planned projects. The Society has designed a "signature" or "friendship" quilt with squares being sold for signatures. Those squares are then embroidered and pieced together to form the quilt. Colors, right in line with the bicentennial, are blue and white with the names embroidered in red. It is hoped that two quilts can be made, one to be sold and the other to become a part of the furnishings in the Tiffin House.

In case you missed the bazaar or did not have a chance to buy a signature patch, they are available from Helen Tillman or Margaret Ladd. Proceeds from the quilt will be used to buy a historical marker.

And if anyone could be thanked for an extra-long Indian Summer, the Society would do it. The warmer temperatures that stretched into mid-November allowed workers at the Tiffin House time to tar part of the roof, totally clean out the house and remove all but the original barn structure. There was even time to do a little yard work before the chill winds began to whistle. There is, of course, plenty of work yet to be done come spring time but a good toehold has been established.

Northville Resident To Display Jewelry

A Northville resident will be among 85 craftsmen from Southeastern Michigan who will be participating in a Christmas Art Fair this weekend.

Sponsored by the Michigan Artists and Craftsmen Guild, the fair will be held in the Pendleton Room and ballroom on the second floor of the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor.

Exhibiting silver and gold jewelry will be Anna Martin of 44053 Brookwood. A silversmith, Miss Martin will also be selling small wall sculptures of flowers.

The fair will be held on Saturday, December 6, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Sunday, December 7, from noon until 6 p.m. The Artists and Craftsmen Guild is affiliated with the University of Michigan.

Christmas Concert Features Two Distinguished Soloists

Two distinguished soloists will join the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in its annual Christmas season concert at 4 p.m. this Sunday, December 7, and a large crowd is expected in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School. Pianist David Pope will be heard with the orchestra in George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue." A native of Minnesota and pupil of Ernst von Dohanyi, Pope has performed in Europe, Asia, Latin America and the U.S. Soprano Virginia Starr will be soloist in Mozart's "Exsultate, Jubilate". A professor of voice at Bowling Green State University in Ohio, Ms. Starr has performed with the San Francisco Opera Company, Colorado Opera Festival, Cleveland Orchestra and Akron Symphony.

Emil Raab, guest conductor, replacing musical director Wayne Dunlap, will be leading his third and probably final concert. Symphony Society President Jane Moehle said, "He's done this out of love for Wayne. We expect a big turnout to thank Emil for doing such an excellent job. Wayne expects to be back for the January 25 concert."

Plans to perform "Amahl and the Night Visitors," Menotti's opera, had to be cancelled, Mrs. Moehle said. For that reason, tickets will be at the usual prices — $3.50 for adults, $1.75 for senior citizens and free admission to K-12 students.

Raab will conduct the orchestra in excerpts from "Amahl," four dance episodes from Aaron Copland's "Rodeo," and Chadwick's "Jubilee and Noel" from "Symphonic Sketches."

Middle School

Plans Concerts

Concerts by the Middle School bands and choruses are planned for December in Novi.

At 7:30 p.m. Thursday, December 11, the instrumental department will present its winter concert featuring the sixth grade junior band, the seventh grade cadet band, eighth grade concert band and the orchestra, made up of students in the seventh through ninth grades.

On Wednesday, December 17, the vocal department will present in concert the sixth, seventh and eighth grade choruses. Featured will be seventh and eighth grade soloists. Poems will also be read.

Parents and friends are welcome to attend the concerts which will be held at the Middle School. No admission will be charged.

Christmas Project

Jaycee Candy Sale Starts

"Share Christmas with Others" is the theme of the annual candy cane sale that Northville Jaycees will stage here this month. The sale began Monday

Sales through store displays will continue throughout the month, with a concentrated street sale slated Friday, Saturday and Sunday — December 19 from 5 to 9 p.m.,

December 20 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and December 21, from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m.

As in the past donations will be used to purchase Christmas gifts for several Northville area institutions as well as to serve other community needs now under consideration by the Jaycee project committee.

In announcing the annual sale, Project Chairman William Weitzel said, "Any citizen with personal involvement with a Northville community institution or a citizen who may know of some needy family, or children is invited to contact us at 464-2152. We are open to all suggestions, particularly specific cases where the Jaycees can truly make the meaning of Christmas come true."

Donations are to be generated by store displays and by the street sales. No door-to-door solicitation is planned.

In years past the candy cane sale here has resulted in sufficient donations to permit Jaycees to purchase, among other things, a wheelchair and hospital walker for Eastlawn Convalescent Center; a tape recorder and projector for the Wayne County Child Development Center; portable television sets for the Plymouth State Home; and a new juke box for the students at Our Lady of Providence.

Goal for this year's campaign calls for the sale of 4,000 candy canes, with receipts pegged at $800 and expenses at $200.

Assisting Weitzel is Jaycee Bob Risher.

Northville Ok's License Transfer

A liquor license transfer has been recommended for approval by the Northville City Council.

The recommendation goes to the Michigan Liquor License Control Commission, which makes the final decision.

Involved is the sale of Little Joe's Bar, located at 157 East Main Street, to Robert J. and Pauline Getzie of Royal Oak by Joseph A. and Cherie N. Nagy.

Sale required transfer of a Class C and SDM license.

Council's recommendation was based on a report by the police department, which after investigating the new owner's background and the bar premises concluded there were no reasons apparent for disapproving the transfer application.

The new owner told councilmen he has no plans for moving the business to another location, and that eventually he hopes to remodel the interior to develop an English pub type atmosphere.

Relative to the outstanding complaints made to council about the previous owner and his operation by adjacent business people, Getzie told officials he will make an attempt to avoid those conditions that prompted the complaints.

Adjacent merchants, Louis Whittington and Delbert Black, had complained about improperly parked cars, vandalism and conduct of bar patrons.

Program Slated On 'Facts of Life'

"How to talk to your child on the facts of life" will be the topic of a combined PTA and Northville Cooperative Nursery program on Thursday, December 11. The program begins at 8 p.m. in the Northville High School Auditorium.

Sponsoring the program will be the Northville Area PTA Coordinating Council, the school PTA organizations and the Northville Cooperative Nursery.

Speaker will be Mrs. Mary Paonessa of Clawson. The talk will be geared to parents of children between the ages of three and 13 and all interested residents of the area are invited to attend.

Mrs. Paonessa is the mother of three children, two teenagers and one pre-teen. Active in church and community organizations, she holds a masters degree from Wayne State University in family life education.

A teacher at Clawson High School, she conducts courses in marriage and child development and career development. She and her husband also teach a course in human sexuality at Oakland University.

Township Planners OK New PND Fee Schedule

A new schedule of fees for Planned Neighborhood Development (PND) was approved by the Northville Township Planning Commission last week Tuesday.

The fee schedule goes now to the board of trustees for its approval.

In an unanimous vote, the commission decided to base the PND fees on a per-acre charge. Now the fees are based on the type of dwelling unit proposed in the PND.

The proposed PND fees will yield about the same dollar figure but will make billing much easier, a township official explained.

Required under the proposed fee schedule is a base charge of $1,500, which is divided equally between the township, the planning consultant, and the engineering consultant.

Added to this is a per-acre charge of $25, with five dollars going to the township, $10 to the planning consultant, and

If an additional review of the PND is required to verify that modifications of an original proposal conform with the conditional of the planning commission, the proposed fee schedule requires another base charge of $600 will be divided between the three groups.

An additional $2.50 will be charged per acre with the planning consultant getting $1.50 per acre and the engineering consultant collecting one dollar per acre.

The original resolution, passed in 1974, has a base charge, a per acre charge, plus additional charges for single family, multiple dwelling, or cluster dwelling units contained within the PND.

With the season's first appearance of snow, Northville Postmaster John Steimel reminds customers of all area post offices to help keep private roads passable and approaches to mail boxes clear.

Cooperation of rural and suburban postal customers is essential during snowstorms, he emphasized.

"Postal customers are responsible for keeping approaches to their mail boxes clear of snow and other obstructions that would make mail delivery difficult or impossible," Steimel said, "People should be aware that failure to clear paths to mail boxes promptly, after snow may temporarily prevent carriers from making deliveries after a heavy snowfall."

There also may be a need to ask postal customers to relocate their boxes on a new line of travel if excessive and extended detours are necessary, the postmaster said.

"Highway officials are responsible for keeping public roads passable and in good repair," Steimel noted, "but in areas where mail service is provided over roads not maintained by road authorities, the owner of the road is responsible."

Rural carriers will make every reasonable effort to serve the greatest number of customers during severe weather, he promised, "but service on foot when roads are impassable is not required. Also, when state highway authorities or local police consider road travel hazardous, postal service may be curtailed until the inclement weather abates." Keeping sidewalks cleared of snow also is important, added Steimel, and in Northville snow clogged sidewalks may not only delay delivery of mail but it can result in a citation for violation of a city ordinance.

Novi Curriculum Undergoes Change

Novi School Board has given its approval to allowing a change in curriculum through use of a "totally individualized program of learning" for math students at the Novi Middle School.

In May of 1973, a report of the possibility of piloting a new program in math at the Middle School was presented. A summer workshop was held from August 15-20 in 1973 to prepare for the program change. That fall the program began and was continued as a pilot program to the present.

While the program was being used only in the math laboratory, recommendation by the administration was that the program be approved as part of the regular math curriculum at the Middle School and that it be expanded into each math classroom with material currently on hand distributed out into mini-resource centers within specified areas of each room.

The program allows students to work on materials according to their own capabilities and the administration states that the curriculum change and the mini-resource centers "would create a more effective working environment and reduce problems connected with accessibility."

Main problem being faced by the administration was a loss of para-professionals in the Middle School being laid off in the recent cutbacks approved by the school.

One math teacher told the board, "I don't think I can do the same job next month without them that I'm having done this month. It will be very hard for me to spread myself. The kids will not be seeing the same success."

Board unanimously approved the change in curriculum.

Township Commission Denies Business Rezoning

A request for rezoning of 1.98 acres on 42422 West Seven Mile from R-3 residential to B-3 general business was unanimously denied because of lack of progress by the Northville Planning Commission at its regular meeting last Tuesday in the township offices.

Leo Soave, owner of the property, asked the commission to hold his petition until next spring so as to give him a chance to explore alternatives.

At a previous meeting the commission indicated that it was not receptive to the rezoning request.

Soave said he hoped the commission attitude would change in the future.

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT CITY OF NORTHVILLE

The City Council of the City of Northville, following a public hearing Monday, November 24, 1975, has adopted the following amendment to Title 7, Chapter 4, Section 7-402, Sanitary Sewer Ordinance:

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 7-402, "APPLICATION FOR PERMIT, FEES, RATES, CHARGES", OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE, FOR THE PURPOSE OF REVISING THE SEWER SERVICE RATES, BILLING DUE DATE, AND PENALTIES, AND CONNECTION CHARGES FOR THE USE OF SANITARY SEWERS IN THE CITY.

The City of Northville ordains:

Section 1. Sec. 7-402 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7-402 APPLICATION FOR PERMIT, FEES, RATES, CHARGES — Application for a permit shall be made to the city in such form and detail as it may prescribe, accompanied with the payment of such charges as may be determined from time to time by the council except that tapping charges shall be uniform to all property owners on streets of equal width irrespective of the location of the lateral sewer in said streets.

(a) SEWER SERVICE RATES — The rates to be charged for sewer service and treatment shall be as follows:

Quarterly sewer service charge for customer using both water & sewer service — $1.80.

Quarterly sewer service charge for customer using sewer service only — $3.60.

First 20,000 gallons per quarter $0.40 per 1,000 gals.

All over 20,000 gallons per quarter $0.30 per 1,000 gals.

Services which are not metered shall be charged a reasonable rate as set by city council resolution.

FOR SEWER SERVICE TO CUSTOMERS LOCATED OUTSIDE THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY, THE CHARGE FOR THE FIRST 20,000 GALLONS PER QUARTER, INCLUDING THE SERVICE CHARGE, SHALL BE DOUBLE THE RATES CHARGED INSIDE THE CITY.

(b) CONNECTION CHARGES — A charge of $250.00 shall be made for each six inch tap to the city sewer system which has been constructed and to which all connections have been made and paid for by others than the city.

A charge of $500.00 shall be made for each six inch tap to the city sewer system constructed by the city.

The city council shall set by resolution the connection fee for taps larger than six inch.

All sewer connections must be inspected and approved by the city.

(c) BILLING — Charges for sewer treatment shall be collected with the water bills quarterly and are payable 30 days after the date of the bill. FOR ALL BILLS NOT PAID WITHIN 30 DAYS OF DATE OF BILL, A PENALTY OF TEN PERCENT (10 percent) SHALL BE ADDED.

(d) ENFORCEMENT — Charges for sewer service shall constitute a lien on the property served and if not paid in six months shall be placed on the next general tax roll with the 10 percent penalty and collected as a part of the general city taxes.

Section 2. This ordinance shall become effective ten days after enactment thereof and after publication thereof, and shall apply to all sewer service bills mailed after the effective date hereof.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 7-306 "VIOLATIONS; SERVICE, DISCONTINUANCE; RESUMPTION, COST"; SECTION 7-313 "WATER RATES, DUE DATE, PENALTY"; SECTION 7-318 "WATER RATES AND CHARGES"; AND SECTION 7-323 "RATES AND CHARGES"; FOR THE PURPOSE OF REVISING THE WATER SERVICE CHARGES, BILLING DUE DATE AND PENALTIES, AND CONNECTION CHARGES FOR THE USE OF THE WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM OF THE CITY.

The City of Northville ordains:

Section 1. Sec. 7-306 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7-306 VIOLATIONS; SERVICE, DISCONTINUANCE; RESUMPTION, COST — Any premises may be disconnected from the distribution pipes of the City waterworks system and the supply of water withheld from such premises upon violation by the owner or occupant of said premises, of any provision of this ordinance or of the regulations adopted pursuant thereto. Whenever the water is turned off from any premises because of any such violation, OR WHENEVER WATER IS TURNED OFF FROM ANY PREMISES AT THE REQUEST OF THE OWNER OR HIS AGENT, A CHARGE OF $5.00 FOR UP TO A 1" METER AND $10.00 FOR METERS OVER 1" SHALL BE MADE TO RESTORE SAID SERVICE, TO COVER THE COST OF LABOR.

Section 2. Sec. 7-313 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7-313 WATER RATES, DUE DATE, PENALTY — The rates to be charged consumers of water shall be such as are now in force or which shall be established from time to time by the council. All charges shall become due at such time as shall be established by resolution of the council, and if such charges are not paid within 30 days after the same shall become due, then a penalty of 10 per cent shall be added thereto. Water bills not paid six months after due date shall be placed on the next general tax roll INCLUDING THE 10 per cent penalty and collected as a part of the general city taxes.

Section 3. Sec. 7-318 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7-318 WATER RATES AND CHARGES — THE CHARGES FOR WATER SERVICE TO EACH PREMISES CONNECTED TO THE SYSTEM SHALL BE AS FOLLOWS:

(a) FOR WATER FURNISHED THROUGH A METER:

Quarterly water service charge for customer using both water & sewer service — $1.80.

Quarterly water service charge for customer using water service only — $3.60.

First 7,000 gallons per quarter $0.56 per 1,000 gals.

Next 13,000 gallons per quarter $1.02 per 1,000 gals.

All over 20,000 gallons per quarter $0.62 per 1,000 gals.

(b) For water furnished otherwise than through meters, the City Council shall fix a reasonable rate by resolution.

(c) For building or construction purposes, the following charges shall be made for the use of water from the time of installation of the service pipe until a meter is installed:

For up to and including a 1" service pipe $20.00 for each 6 months or fraction thereof

For 1 1/2" service pipe $50.00 for each 6 months or fraction thereof

For 2" service pipe $100.00 for each 6 months or fraction thereof

The above charge shall be paid before approval of a building permit.

(d) For fire hydrants located on private property a charge of $25.00 per year shall be collected. Said charge shall be paid in four equal installments payable at the time of quarterly billing.

(e) For water being supplied to users outside the corporate limits of the City, the charge for the first 20,000 gallons per quarter including service charge shall be double the rates charged inside the City.

(f) CONNECTION CHARGES — For each 3/4" or 1" connection to any water main which has been constructed and to which all connections have been made and paid for by others than the city the charge shall be $250.00.

For each 3/4" or 1" connection to any water main construction by the city the charge shall be $500.00.

All connections to the water system shall be subject to inspection and approval prior to use.

For connections larger than 1" the connection charges shall be fixed by the City Council by resolution.

(g) BILLING — Charges for water service furnished by the system shall be collected in quarterly periods, and bills shall be sent to each user immediately after the end of the period and shall be due and payable at the office of the city treasurer 30 days after the date of the bill.

For all bills not paid within 30 days of the date of bill, a penalty of 10 per cent shall be added.

(h) ENFORCEMENT — Charges for water service shall constitute a lien on the property served and if not paid within six months shall be placed on the next general tax roll of the City INCLUDING THE 10 per cent penalty and collected as a part of the general City taxes.

The city shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the non-payment of water rates when due. In such instance a charge of $5.00 FOR UP TO A 1" METER AND $10.00 FOR METERS OVER 1" shall be made when service is restored.

(i) OUTSIDE READING METER — For each new 3/4" or 1" connection to any water main, an additional charge of $25.00 shall be made for the provision and installation of an outside reading meter.

Section 4. Sec. 7-323 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7-323 RATES AND CHARGES (4) (a) The charges for water service to each premises connected to the system shall be measured by the City water meter installed in each premises, and such water charges shall be as follows:

Quarterly water service charge for customer using both water and sewer service — $1.80.

Quarterly water service charge for customer using water service only — $3.60.

First 7,000 gallons per quarter $0.56 per 1,000 gals.

Next 13,000 gallons per quarter $1.02 per 1,000 gals.

All over 20,000 gallons per quarter $0.62 per 1,000 gals.

The minimum charges per quarter are as follows:

(b) For water furnished otherwise than through meters, the City Council shall fix a reasonable rate by resolution.

(c) For building or construction purposes, the following charges shall be made for the use of water from the time of installation of the service pipe until a meter is installed:

For up to and including a 1" service pipe $20.00 for each 6 months or fraction thereof

For 1 1/2" service pipe $50.00 for each 6 months or fraction thereof

For 2" service pipe $100.00 for each 6 months or fraction thereof

The above charge shall be paid before approval of a building permit.

(d) For fire hydrants located on private property a charge of $25.00 per year shall be collected. Said charge shall be paid in four equal installments payable at the time of quarterly billing.

(e) For water being supplied to users outside the corporate limits of the City, the charge for the first 20,000 gallons per quarter including service charge shall be double the rates charged inside the City.

(f) CONNECTION CHARGES — For each 3/4" or 1" connection to any water main which has been constructed and to which all connections have been made and paid for by others than the city the charge shall be $250.00.

For each 3/4" or 1" connection to any water main construction by the city the charge shall be $500.00.

All connections to the water system shall be subject to inspection and approval prior to use.

For connections larger than 1" the connection charges shall be fixed by the City Council by resolution.

(g) BILLING — Charges for water service furnished by the system shall be collected in quarterly periods, and bills shall be sent to each user immediately after the end of the period and shall be due and payable at the office of the city treasurer 30 days after the date of the bill.

For all bills not paid within 30 days of the date of bill, a penalty of 10 per cent shall be added.

(h) ENFORCEMENT — The charges for water services which are under the provisions of section 21, Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended (5), made a lien on all premises served thereby, unless notice is given that a tenant is responsible, are hereby recognized to constitute such a lien and whenever any such charge against any piece of property shall be delinquent for six months, the city official or officials in charge of the collection thereof shall certify annually, on April 1st of each year, to the tax assessing officer of the city, the fact of such delinquency, whereupon such charge shall be by him entered upon the next tax roll as a charge against such premises and shall be collected and the lien thereof enforced in the same manner as general city taxes against such premises are collected, and the lien thereof enforced; provided, however, where notice is given that tenant is responsible for such charges, as provided by said section 21, no further service shall be rendered such premises until a cash deposit sufficient to cover one quarter's estimated usage, but not less than $25.00, shall have been made as security for payment of such charges.

In addition to other remedies provided, the city shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the nonpayment of water rates when due. Water services so discontinued shall not be restored until all sums then due and owing shall be paid, plus a turn-on charge of $5.00 FOR UP TO A 1" METER AND $10.00 FOR METERS OVER 1".

Section 5. This ordinance shall become effective ten days after enactment thereof, and after publication thereof, and shall apply to all water service bills mailed after the effective date hereof.

Field Trip Policy May Be Changed

Novi School Board at its latest meeting was unable to reach agreement on a proposed field trip revision and failed to take any action.

If approved by the school board the field trip policy would have included a revision which required extra curricular field trips for destinations outside Michigan or beyond 150 miles from Novi or for periods of time beyond one day to receive approval by the school board prior to June of the school year preceding the anticipated trip.

The revision was suggested at a recent school board meeting because it is possible for a class to raise funds and to make plans for such a trip only to be turned down by the school board causing undue pressure on the board from parents and students.

If the revision had been approved, Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz had recommended that the revision be enforced beginning with the 1976-77 school year.

Board member Joel Colliard suggested the present field trip policy also be revised to state "Use of private vehicles is prohibited unless driven by an employee and approved by the superintendent."

Other board members did not appear in agreement noting that on a field trip and in emergencies, the fastest way to a hospital would probably be by private car.

Member Robert Wilkins voiced his opposition to the revision. "I have a policy opposing long distance out of state extra curricular trips because all the kids don't get to go," he said.

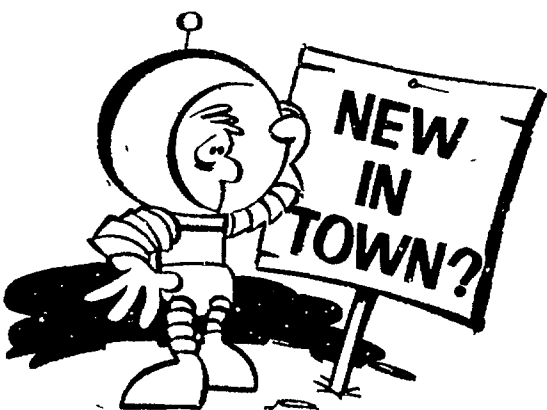

The field trip revision was defeated 6-1 with Board President Ray Warren in favor.

IN NOVI ADULT READING

"The Chinese Bandit," Stephen Becker; An adventure story set against the turmoil of China in 1947. The Chinese Bandit is Jake Dodds, a brawling Marine sergeant, fluent in Chinese and conniving on the black market. When he nearly kills a general in a brawl, he is smuggled out of Peking with a camel caravan headed west as guardian of some rare merchandise.

"My Lord, John," Georgette Heyer; This posthumously published final novel of Heyer's is different from anything she has written. She was fascinated by the medieval period of English history and has woven a colorful pageant dealing with the House of Lancaster from the last days of Richard II to the time just before Henry V's accession to the throne.

"Hauntings, Is There Anybody There?," Norah Lofts; Twelve stories about houses that are strange, eerie and not as empty as they should be.

"The Eagle Has Landed," Jack Higgins; A select group of German paratroopers trains to drop in and kidnap Churchill.

NEW CRAFT BOOKS

"Handcrafted Playgrounds," M. Friedberg; Designs you can build yourself.

"McCall's Book of Quilts," McCall's; Complete step-by-step instructions, diagrams and patterns for 77 full color quilting projects.

Poet's Workshop

Starts Tonight

The Northville Public Library is sponsoring a poet's workshop tonight, Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 8 in the library. Anyone who writes poetry is invited to attend.

The discussion will center on how and where to submit poetry for publication and aspects of the copyright law. P.F. Lazor, a local poet, who has succeeded in publishing a collection of his work, will be on hand to lead the discussion.

If enough people show an interest at this first meeting, the library will consider making this a regular on-going feature.

Anyone who would like to attend should register at the library or by calling 349-3020.
