CONDEMNATION procedures will highlight a public hearing Tuesday on the controversial Randolph Drain project. The 2 p.m. hearing in the city hall was called by the intercounty drain board of Wayne and Oakland counties to take up condemnations for securing easements along the drain path and to plan a loan for making partial payment to engineers who have developed the planned improvement.

DEADLINE for submitting suggestions for the Fourth of July parade here has been extended to March 15, according to Jaycee Harvey Tull. A $17.76 prize will be awarded the person coming up with the winning theme. Meanwhile, Tull reminds persons and organizations planning to enter floats or otherwise participate in the parade to call him at 349-0035. Theme suggestions should be sent to him at 43721 Galway Drive, Northville.

ANOTHER and final registration period will be sponsored today by the League of Women Voters. City and township residents may register for the upcoming April election at Silver Springs Elementary School from 7 to 9 p.m. Deadline for registering is March 4.

May Election Likely in Township

Financial Condition Labeled 'Critical'

Refinement of an austerity budget and agreement on a May 18 millage election very likely will highlight a special meeting of the Northville Township Board next Monday night.

Decision to meet that evening — three days before the regular board meeting — was reached this past Sunday afternoon when board members continued to strip its proposed 1976-77 budget bone-clean in the face of critical financial problems.

The board appears to be solidly behind the proposition that the new budget must be balanced — no matter how seriously such a budget will eat into township services.

Where board members seem to disagree is over the amounts of cuts for certain departments. For example, Clerk Clarice Sass and Trustee Richard Mitchell contend public safety should be least affected by cutbacks, while other board members say the police department must also share a large portion of the cut since it represents the largest budget outlay.

The scenario that seems to be shaping up goes like this:

- A balanced budget of about $500,000 (up $60,000) probably will be presented to the public at the March 23 settlement day hearing. This budget will call for drastic reductions in a number of services such as police department, library and recreation departments.

- A millage proposition, representing sufficient operating monies to restore cuts and to beef up these and other services, probably will be developed and placed on the Presidential Primary ballot on May 18.

- Should the millage proposition be approved by voters, the board probably will borrow funds, either from the water and sewer department or against anticipated tax income, to restore services through the remainder of 1976.

This borrowing is seen as a necessity since no millage approved during this calendar year will be collected until January of 1977.

- If the millage is disapproved, all township departments will be required to sustain substantial reductions pending such time that a millage proposal is approved.

Police, library and recreation department spokesmen will be asked at next Monday's meeting to react to the board's intentions to slash outlays for these services. The board will seek specific reports of how these services will be affected by the austerity budget.

Departmental reports will be limited to one-half hour each.

Going into the meeting, the board intends to decide by the meeting's end its final budget figures.

Another area where the board appears to be in total or near total agreement is that it will "write off" existing IOU's to the township's public improvement fund from which some $72,800 was borrowed over the past two years to make up deficits in the operational budget.

Such a step will prohibit borrowing monies from the City to Give Away Beds

Civic or charitable organizations of Northville may have some of the equipment and furniture in the vacated Eastlawn Convalescent Center, the Northville City Council announced Monday.

Equipment includes such things as beds, dressers, chairs, etc.

Larger items such as kitchen equipment are to be auctioned later, the council decided.

Bids are being accepted for razing of the main structure on the premises. Some of the buildings are to be retained, however, for storage and other city purposes.

A tenant will live on the premises pending completion of the donations and sale.

Interested persons should contact City Manager Steven Walters at 349-1300.

Historical Link Broken

A major link to Salem Township's past came to a close this past week with the death of one of its most celebrated residents, Victor Lewis. Mr. Lewis, whose father was a soldier in the Civil War, died at the age of 94. Late last fall the still cheerful, alert old man posed for this picture in front of the old Lewis homestead. Turn to Page 13-A for the obituary and to Jack Hoffman's column on Page 14-A for some reminiscing about this man.

Eastlawn Closing Ends Era

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

For more than a half-century it was constantly busy, but this week the place on the hill is quiet.

And empty buildings are mourning the passing of one of Northville's oldest institutions.

The demise of the place called Eastlawn was not unexpected.

Its struggle to survive had been ongoing for years, and in the last two years ever tightening state regulations for nursing homes had choked off its thin profit margin and thus its will to live.

"The handwriting was on the wall for quite awhile," admitted Eastlawn's administrator, Richard Vezzosi, just before leaving the premises for the last time Friday. "It was an old building and to comply and still survive economically was impossible. It's happening all over the state where old buildings are being used. They just weren't built with today's regulations in mind."

After having granted Eastlawn temporary extensions pending corrections of facility deficiencies, the health department finally ordered Eastlawn vacated two weeks ago. The last of the 92 patients was moved February 17.

Transfer of the patients had occurred gradually, with the initial residents being transferred by Eastlawn itself, while the last 26 were placed in Wayne County nursing homes by the placement bureau of the Social Services department, according to Vezzosi.

The City of Northville last year purchased the facility and the property, but granted Vezzosi a lease to remain.

Plans call for the hillside to become the site of a municipally owned senior citizens housing development. The apartment complex will be a totally new building. Plans for its construction south of the existing buildings are being made now by the Northville Housing Commission.

Most of the existing old buildings probably will be razed. See related story on Page 1.

The story of Eastlawn is an old one dating back to 1920 in Detroit, but the site and the original building occupied by Eastlawn here goes back much further in history.

Even one of the community's streets, High Street, owes its existence and its name to the place where Eastlawn is located.

The hillside was originally platted by John C. Buchner, who built a palatial brick home on top of the hill probably more than 100 years ago. The house still stands today, constituting a portion of the Eastlawn facility.

A man of considerable means, Buchner was born in Orion Township Oakland County on March 30, 1843. He married Helen I. Bowlby of Pontiac. Just when he moved to Northville has not been established, but records indicate it was prior to 1869. It was Buchner who eventually sold the land to the Village of Northville on which the jail and council chambers were built in 1876.

Village marshal at the time, Buchner's "downtown" property was located on the south side of Main Street at what today would be the northeast corner of the Northville Square property. He reportedly had a livery stable next door. The brick jail building constructed by the village council many years later

Ken Rathburn Buried Tuesday

Kenneth Rathburn, owner of the Chevrolet dealership in Northville until it closed in 1970, died at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor on Friday.

KENNETH RATHBURN

The 68-year-old Northville resident for 40 years suffered a heart failure. He had been hospitalized for three weeks.

Funeral services were held yesterday from the Casterline Funeral Home, with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville officiating.

Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Rathburn had launched the Chevrolet agency here in January, 1932, a year before his marriage on September 7, 1933. His wife, Madelon, survives him.

The same week he launched his business here The Record carried banner stories of the death of Eddie Stinson, aviation pioneer and Northville airplane manufacturer, and of emergency meetings following the bank closing here.

Cattle Puncher and Spouse

Love Beef in Field or on Table

If your husband's a Texan and manager of Michigan's largest cattle farm you'd better know something about preparing beef.

But Debbie Maurer isn't the least bit worried; she never has been. She learned to cope with hefty Texas appetites long before she married Frank.

For her, cooking beef is just as natural as sittin' on a horse. "I'm a Texan, too," she laughs, quickly putting down those who would remind her that "people who work in candy factories hate candy."

"We both love beef — in the field and on the table."

Husband Frank manages two of Premier Corporation's farms near Fowlerville where 800 head of black angus make their home before heading to your grocery store.

If you've driven west past Howell on old Grand River you've probably noticed the most famous of these two spreads, called Meadow Brook, where her husband spends most of his time for Premier.

In Texas he would be called a cowboy.

Here in Michigan, where he and his wife have lived for about four years, Frank's a farm manager which means plenty of hard work in cowboy lingo.

Debbie, mother of two, agreed to share her husband's

BEEF WITH DUMPLINGS

1 3- to 4-pound beef pot roast
2 tablespoons shortening
1 1-pound can tomatoes
¼ cup wine vinegar
¼ cup water
1 clove garlic, minced
½ teaspoon mixed pickling spices
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

1 tube refrigerated biscuits (10 biscuits)

1 tablespoon snipped parsley
Trim excess fat from roast. In Dutch oven or large skillet, slowly brown meat on all sides in hot shortening. Add next 7 ingredients. Cover; cook slowly 2½ hours or till meat is tender. Place biscuits on meat; sprinkle with parsley. Cover tightly and steam 15 minutes or till "dumplings" are done. Remove meat and dumplings to warm platter. Make Pot Roast Gravy (below) except add water to juices to make 2½ cups. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

POT ROAST GRAVY

Lift pot roast to hot platter. Skim most of fat from pan juices. Add water to juices to make 1½ cups. Put ½ cup cold water in shaker; add 4 tablespoons flour; shake well. Stir into juices; cook, stirring constantly, till gravy is bubbly. Season with salt and pepper. Simmer 2 to 3 minutes; stir occasionally. Makes 2 cups.

As is the case with many male kitchen dabblers, beef is a prime ingredient for many of his favorite recipes. White's favorite is Beef Stroganoff, made with round steak although sometimes he will switch to ground beef.

BEEF STROGANOFF

1 pound round steak
1—3 ounce can of mushrooms
1 small sliced onion
Package of Lipton French Onion soup mix
1 cup of sour cream
2 tablespoons of flour
2 ounces of tomato sauce
Cut round steak in one-half inch cubes, dredge in flour and brown in two teaspoons of margarine. If one pound of ground beef is used pour off extra grease. Add the can of mushrooms, removing juice, but adding mushroom can of water. Add the sliced onion and stir in the soup mix. Heat to boiling. Blend together the sour cream, flour and the tomato sauce and stir it into the boiling mixture. Cook and stir until thick.

Serve over hot buttered noodles. Serves four.

It's All in How You Prepare It

All cuts or grades of beef that are available in local stores can be made juicy and delicious.

The key to success, insists Dick Posthumus of the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, is proper cooking procedures.

The beef industry spokesman points out that the method for cooking fresh beef cuts depends upon three factors:

Tenderness, size and thickness of the cut, and available cooking facilities.

Tender steaks, one inch or more in thickness, including rib, rib eye (Delmonico), T-bone, Porterhouse, Sirloin and filet mignon (Tenderloin) should be broiled at moderate temperature to desired doneness.

If they are less than one inch thick or come from young beef, you may want to pan-broil or pan-fry these cuts instead.

Less tender cuts, including chuck, round and rump are best braised as pot-roasts or steaks. They also can be cooked in liquid as can other less tender cuts such as shank, brisket and stew meat.

Large cuts of rib, rump, sirloin tip or round can be roasted at the traditional 300 degrees F to 325 degrees F until meat thermometer registers proper doneness.

If it is allowed to set for about 10 to 15 minutes it will continue to cook. So allow for about 5 degrees on the meat thermometer if you wish to wait for it to cool slightly before carving.

"We know today that beef cooked long and slow will enhance the tenderness," said Posthumus. "This is largely the theory behind today's 'crockpots'. You can also take advantage of this low temperature cookery with your beef roasts by turning the oven down to around 225 degrees F. (It is not a good idea to go below 200 degrees F or spoilage could develop).

"You will want to have a meat thermometer so you know how done your roast is, especially if this cooking method is new to you. A rough guide for 3 to 8 pound roasts would be about one hour for the first pound and about 40 minutes for each additional pound."

For solid beef roasts low temperature cooking can do a lot to enhance beef tenderness. For beef loafs and other preconditioned beef it is not recommended.

Here's a look at the procedures to follow in various cooking methods:

To Roast

Season as desired; place meat fat side up on a rack in open roasting pan; insert meat thermometer; do not add water; do not baste; do not cover. Roast in slow oven to desired doneness.

To Broil

Set oven regulator for broiling; broil meat 2 to 5 inches from heat until top is brown; season and turn meat to cook until done. Serve at once.

To Pan-Broil

Place meat in heavy frying pan, do not add water; do not baste; do not cover. Cook slowly, turning occasionally; pour fat from pan as it accumulates. Season and serve at once.

To Pan-Fry

Brown meat on both sides in small amount of fat. Season, but do not cover. Cook at moderate temperature, turning occasionally until done.

AN OUTSTANDING WOMAN—Named recently as Woman of the Year by Zeta Phi Beta Professional Sorority is Mrs. Theresa Dixon, Director of Nursing Services at Northville State Hospital. A very busy and enthusiastic woman, Mrs. Dixon has consistently worked toward the improvement of the quality of life through health care and education.

Wins Outstanding Award

Hospital Staffer Honored

Mrs. Theresa Dixon, director of Nursing Services at Northville State Hospital has been named Woman of the Year by the Beta Omicron Zeta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

An awards luncheon honoring Mrs. Dixon will be held at noon on March 6 at the Sheraton Southfield Hotel.

Zeta Phi Beta is an integrated and international sorority whose membership includes women in various professional fields. Mrs. Dixon is a life member of the sorority, President of the Detroit District, Michigan Nurses Association, Vice President of the Michigan Nurses Association as well as participating in many other professional organizations.

Throughout the thirty-one years that she has practiced nursing in Detroit, Mrs. Dixon has worked toward improvements in the quality of life through health care and education. For 23 years she operated STRIDE, a support service for girls from ages 12 through 17. The project was financed by Mrs. Dixon through bake and candy sales and provided classes in reading, writing, social awareness as well as the use of the ballot in voting. She also organized "Dixon's Daily Doubles" in 1974, a group of early teen-aged girls who grocery shopped for disabled senior citizens.

Honored before in 1972, 1973 and 1974, Mrs. Dixon received awards for outstanding services to the nursing profession. In 1975 she was presented the first Ludie Andrews Distinguished Service Award in New York City and has been nominated by the Michigan Nurses Association for the Mary Mahoney Award given by the American Nurses Association.

China Painters Air 'Rose' Topic

A demonstration of roses for the second firing will highlight a meeting tomorrow (Thursday) of the Northville Spring Chapter of China Painters.

The meeting will get underway at 10:30 a.m. at St. Alexander's Church, 27285 Shiawassee Road in Farmington. Presenting the demonstration will be Grace Biggs.

Members and guests are reminded to bring a sack lunch and they are urged to remain for the business meeting. Visitors are welcome with a $1 donation.

Town Hall Lecture

'Alone, Need Help 'What Can I Do?'

At some time in every woman's life she will find herself alone with problems. What can she do about it?

Sonya K. Friedman, Ph.D., will address herself to this question on Thursday, March 11 when she presents the third in the 1975-76 Northville Town Hall series of lectures at the new Plymouth Hilton Inn on Northville Road.

Her talk, entitled "Women in Transition," will get underway at 11 a.m.

A prominent psychologist who has a private practice in Troy, Dr. Friedman told The Record that many women today, liberated or not, suffer tremendous traumas when faced with the period of transition — be it entering college, a career, or marriage, leaving marriage or losing a husband.

Finding herself alone with these kinds of problems means she must know what her ultimate responsibility is.

"She must recognize that it is she who wants to change," said Dr. Friedman, "even though others may not want to conform to her wants or even desires."

"If she wants more she must also ask herself, 'What am I willing to give or give up?'"

Married with two children, Dr. Friedman earned a B.A. from Brooklyn College, an M.Ed. and a Ph.D. from Wayne State University. She has appeared regularly on ABC-TV, has been seen on television on the Mike Douglas Show, the Lou Gordon Show, on the AM New York and the AM Detroit shows, Morning Exchange in Cleveland and the Bob Kennedy and Company show in Chicago. She also has been on the CBS Regis Philbin show in St. Louis.

Among her publications credits is "I've Had It, You've Had It," Nash Publications, June, 1974. She is presently working on "The Divorced Family" in collaboration with Diana Dubroff and Bill Manville.

Prior to entering private practice, she was a school psychologist for the Rochester Community Schools, a speech therapist for Pontiac Public Schools, and a speech and hearing therapist for Des Moines Public Schools.

She serves in advisory capacity for Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and Martin Place Hospital.

Sponsored by Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church, the Town Hall lectures are followed by celebrity luncheons, also at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Luncheon tickets must be purchased for this lecture by Friday and only by ticket holders. Mrs. Frank Schokluk, 349-4714, is in charge of luncheon reservations.

A special feature at the upcoming luncheon will be a "Weekend Fling" prize offered by the Plymouth Hilton. Only luncheon guests, however, will be eligible for this prize.

Will Rogers, Jr., will complete the current lecture series on April 8.

Garden Club To Visit Detroit

A visit to the Detroit Garden Center, Pewabic Pottery, and the Renaissance Center is planned by the Women's National Farm & Garden Association next Monday.

Aboard the bus will be a historian who will serve as host in a visit to the Indian Village where members and their guests will tour two of the homes.

Lunch at the Top of The Flame is planned.

Members are asked to be at the Northville Square parking lot at 9:45 a.m. The bus will leave promptly at 10 a.m.

Anyone with questions about the trip may call Mary Ester Fountain at 349-2783.

CAROLE SUE TERRY

Announcement of the engagement of Carole Sue Terry to Paul Joseph Kobe is made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Robert Terry of 43625 Nine Mile Road.

Parents of the bridegroom-to-be are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kobe of Paw Paw, Michigan.

The bride-elect is a 1970 Northville High School graduate and a graduate of 1974 Western Michigan University where she was a member of Pi Theta Epsilon and Kappa Phi.

She presently is an occupational therapist at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

Her fiancé, a 1974 graduate of Western Michigan University, was a member of Epsilon Pi Tau. He is assistant manager of Soil Conservation District Nursery.

A May 22 wedding has been set.

New Novi HS Commons the Key to Bottling up Noise

Perhaps one of the most interesting facets of the new Novi High School, scheduled to open for the 1977-78 school year is the Commons.

A separate building which is shaped like a large keyhole, the Commons was intended to isolate loud noise traffic areas such as the cafeteria and the locker room area from study areas. When a person walks into the building, the first thing he'll probably notice will be the lockers. Not only will there be lockers on the outside wall of the round Commons, others will be located like the spokes of a wheel perpendicular to the center portion of the Commons.

The center portion of the commons is a cafeteria area made up of two additional tiers on which round tables will be located.

"The whole idea is to make it a place where the kids enjoy to come," said Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz in explaining the use of the round tables. Decreased noise from less shouting is another advantage of round tables.

On the top tier is also a platform area extending into the lower tier areas which could be used by a band while there is dancing on the first level.

Dr. Kratz also noted that the cafeteria area could be used as a theater in the round.

"The whole idea was for the community to use it," explained Dr. Kratz. "If someone wanted to rent it for a wedding, that would certainly be possible—or as a church."

Dr. Kratz said the cafeteria area is also large enough to be used for some recreational activities.

"This is big enough to put volleyball nets across," said Dr. Kratz. "Some of the gym activities could go in there. Some have talked of wrestling or tumbling."

One advantage of using the Commons for recreational activity is that a custodian would not have to put up any gates or fences to separate instructional areas for after hours activities because the building is separate from the high school.

Interestingly, the round cafeteria area is not separated by any sort of wall or glass from the locker area, which is completely visible to people in the cafeteria.

Another feature of the Commons is a community-faculty dining room area where anyone in the community will be able to come to get a hot lunch for a nominal $.75.

"You might not feel comfortable eating in the high school with the students, but you will if you know it's a community center," explained Dr. Kratz.

The Commons also has complete kitchen facilities and will have several offices where counselors, and possibly at some time in the future an assistant principal, could be located.

Structurally, the building will be topped off by a wooden dome platform covered with a plastic spray. It will have a white granular finish.

According to Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr, the building originally was designed to be round because it is "cheaper to build and operate (than a squarish building) because it would have less perimeter wall" than a comparable number of square feet in a square building.

An enclosed hallway from the Commons to the new high school to provide protection for youngsters after leaving their coats in the lockers of the Commons was eliminated because of budgetary consideration. However, to solve that problem there are added lockers in the high school for youngsters when requested by a parent.

The Commons will also have a student bookstore to purchase supplies.

Police Corporal Frank Barabas examines the trailer floor that forced a move

Quarters Condemned

Traffic Bureau Floored

A mobile home used by the Novi Police Department has been condemned by the building department after the floor gave way during use last week. No one reportedly was injured.

The incident occurred last Wednesday and by Thursday afternoon, the Traffic Bureau and Community Service Bureau, both of which had been located in the trailer behind police headquarters on Novi Road, were moved into temporary quarters at the 12 Mile city offices.

"The building was not geared for the purpose it was being used for," commented Corporal Frank Barabas after the trailer was declared unfit for use.

Originally the trailer was purchased in 1971 for about $6,000 to be used as a temporary facility by the detective bureau. About a year ago the traffic and CSO groups took over the trailer after the city offices were moved out of the police department building and the detective bureau moved into the city's portion of the building. The traffic bureau and CSO's had been located in the basement.

Reginald Damron, Fire and Building Inspector, checked over the structure for deficiencies at that time and reported that the floor needed reinforcing. Following the latest incident, Damron insisted he had notified the administration of the condition of the trailer

However, upon checking his files, he found that the letter had been sent only to Barabas.

"It's a breakdown in communication all along the line," explained Damron. "I send a memorandum and then leave it up to the department to see that it's taken care of."

City administrative officials insist they were unaware of the situation.

"From what I've been able to find out, no one over here was aware of it," said Assistant Manager John Merrifield. "I talked with Ed (Kriewall-city manager) and he wasn't aware of it." Kriewall is currently on vacation in Florida.

Meanwhile Barabas complained that the administration was aware of the problems. "It's the same old story — wait until it happens and then we'll do something."

Deputize Clerks For Registration

Secretaries in all Novi schools have been deputized by the city clerk to register citizens for the upcoming school election, it was announced this week.

In a cooperative effort by the Novi unit of the League of Women Voters and City Clerk Geraldine Stipp, the special registration program provides that any Novi citizen 18 years old or older may register at any Novi school during any school day between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

In addition, citizens may also register on Wednesday, March 10 and Thursday, March 11, from 6 to 9 p.m., at any of these schools.

The League of Women Voters also is assisting in the registration of Novi High School students on Wednesday, March 10 from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the high school.

'Possible Layoff Is Not A Threat'

Citing the possibility of a millage renewal and increase failure and the return of tenure teachers on leave, Novi School Board last Thursday approved notification of personnel cuts of teachers and administrators.

Notification of possible layoff of non-tenure teachers and administrators is required by state law 90 days before the actual layoff. Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz said that the work of the administrators and teachers has not been satisfactory, but the school district must comply with the law in the event voters do not approve the millage or tenure teachers return.

Administrators pink slipped were assistant high school principal Charles Nanas, assistant Middle School principal Paul LePlae, and director of community education Milan Obrenovich. Listed as possible layoffs are all one and two year probationary teachers.

They are: Marianne Aldrich; Margaret Anderson; Annilee Artz; William Ayotte; Gregg Balko; Barbara Ball; Georgia Bingham; Greg Carnacchi; George Culbert; Tim Daley; Robert Emerson; June Fox; Deborah Golding; Margaret Haddock.

Others are: Rebecca Hurst; Michaelene Jaworowicz; Nancy Kantor; Dennis Lampron; John Lawrence; Richard Lenz; Leslie McDonald; Chris Monohon; Caterina Rogers; Roberta Rosenberg; Susan Ruddy; Katherine Snow; Lynn Serensen and Jill Tarczy.

"This appears like a threat and a club," commented board member Joel Colliau. "As one board member, I don't intend it to be."

Speaking of the teachers pink slipped, member James Helmer commented, "I think it's sad several of these people are the same people we pink slipped last year and they must go through it again. These are some pretty tremendous teachers."

Helmer was referring to the pink slipping of several teachers last year because of the possibility of tenure teachers returning from leave to bump probationary teachers.

Currently there are 14 tenure teachers on leave who could bump probationary teachers in the 1976-77 school year. Contract now allows teachers on leave one year of absence with a second year if approved by the board. Previously they were allowed five years and Dr. Kratz said that three are currently on leave under the five year provisions.

In addition, failure to renew the millage or add the 3½ mills additional will cut some tenure teachers, according to Dr. Kratz.

Questioned by student representative Kevin Anderson about possible loss of North Central accreditation if the cuts go into effect, Dr.

Kratz replied that the district might be cited, but that North Central allows time to correct problems.

As far as possible problems should it be necessary to run the high school and middle school without assistant principals, Dr. Kratz said it could be done by the present principals, but not as efficiently.

He added that if the millages fail, he would recommend the community education program be dropped.

Dr. Kratz said later that if voters fail to renew or grant additional millage April 12, that would cut out 30 percent of the budget and at least that percentage of employees, including ancillary help, would have to be laid off. If the 9½ mill renewal is approved but the 3½ mills is not, Dr. Kratz said cuts would be necessary, but it is currently impossible to estimate how many.

'Champion of the People', Mrs. Ina Gorman Dies

INA GORMAN

Ina B. Gorman, remembered by some residents of Novi as a "champion of the people" died Tuesday, February 24, at her home following a massive cerebral hemorrhage.

Age 62 at her death, Mrs. Gorman was well known for the representation she gave at council meetings for Orchard Hills Subdivision, where she lived. She rarely missed a council meeting and was never afraid to speak her mind.

"She was the champion of the people," commented City Clerk Geraldine Stipp after learning of the death of Mrs. Gorman. "When she came it was to fight for herself — it was to work for the interest of her neighbors."

At one time City Engineer Harry Mosher jokingly asked Mrs. Gorman to become an inspector for the city after a long battle by both Mrs. Gorman and Mosher to get the street paving project in Orchard Hills completed. She was oftentimes out walking the streets checking the progress and notifying the city of things she felt were not quite right.

Mrs. Gorman had served as president of the Orchard Hills Homeowners Association although she continued to work for the subdivision even after she was no longer president. She also served on the Novi Beautification Commission since its inception in 1974.

Mrs. Gorman lived in Novi since 1967. She previously lived in northwest Detroit and before that grew up in Howell.

She is survived by her husband, Adolph, and her mother, Ida L. Davis Risdon of Novi. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Brooks of Novi and sons Douglas and Donald. She also has five grandchildren and a brother, R. Duane Risdon, surviving.

Services for Mrs. Gorman were held Saturday at MacDonald's Funeral Home in Howell with Pastor Charles Boerger of St. Paul's Lutheran in Northville presiding. Interment was at Lakeview Cemetery in Howell.

Wixom Applies for Grants

More Money Sought

After a presentation by Assistant to the Mayor Bernard VanOsedale outlining a suggested plan, Wixom council members last Tuesday night approved the city's application for second year funding under the federally funded community block grant program. If the programs outlined in the application meet eligibility requirements of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Wixom stands to gain $246,000 in community block grant funds in 1976.

Eligible activities listed by HUD for the second year plan include the acquisition of blighted or deteriorated properties for removal and the conservation and preservation of historical properties listed in the National Register of Historical Buildings. Others are rehabilitation and code enforcement projects.

Funding must be applied for each year with an outline presented to HUD listing the projected use of funds. Two public hearings, the first of which was Tuesday night and the second scheduled for March 9, must be held. After completion of the public hearings the application is forwarded to the Southeastern Municipal Council of Governments (SEMOG), the reviewing agency for this area, and then on to HUD for their review and final approval.

In the first of a five year plan of funding under the community block grant, Wixom received $246,000 in federal monies. Those funds were earmarked by the city for acquisition of parkland, acquiring a site for senior citizen housing, code enforcement inspection and the demolition and rehabilitation loan and grant program. According to VanOsedale, not all the projects designed for funding are completed but will be in some stage of development by the time the second year application for funds is submitted. "At this point we are at 50 percent completion of the first year program. Considering the monies were not released until last September we are on schedule." The major project of the first year funding, acquisition of parkland, is the only one of several programs actually completed.

The community block grant program is an outgrowth of several federal housing acts with urban renewal, model cities and open space incorporated into one act administered by HUD. Under the block grant program, monies are allocated to

Mrs. Path To Report On Party

Mrs. Herbert C. Path of Jamestown Circle will report on the success of the Valentine Card Party of which she was chairman at the March 10 meeting of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries, to be held in the Goodwill Building on Brush at East Grand Boulevard in Detroit.

Prior to the business meeting at which the report will be made a luncheon will be served and the guest speaker, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Hickey will discuss "The Heritage of Father Gabriel Richard and Rev. John Monteith." Mrs. Bernard M. Segner, program chairman, will introduce Msgr. Hickey.

Msgr. Hickey whose honorary title is "Historiographer, City of Detroit" is a native Detroit, a member of the renowned Hickey merchandising family. For many years he served as Chancellor of the Detroit Archdiocese under the late Cardinal Mooney. His later ministry was served in St. Mary's of Redford parish.

Membership in and attendance at meetings of the Women's Association are open to any persons interested in helping provide vocational testing and training and employment for handicapped people.

Courtesy parking is available in the Goodwill lot on Milwaukee between John R and Brush streets.

SPRING FLING—Flower power workers for the Novi Welcome Wagon's second annual spring fling bingo and fashion show display just a few of the decorations that will be used at their annual fund raising project. Shown with Darlene Evans, chairperson of decorations are Dena Douglas, Paula Pfeiffer and Suzanne Levitt. The event will be held at the Village Oaks School at 7:30 p.m., March 18.

EXPERT'S TOUCH—With Marji Kunz, Fashion Editor for the Detroit Free Press commenting on the newest creations for spring, Northville Newcomer's Club members had a first hand look at what's new in fashions. The luncheon-fashion show was held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn on February

AAUW Headliner

'Future Shock' on Tap

A film titled Future Shock, based on the 1970 best seller book Future Shock by Alvin Toffler, will headline a meeting of the American Association of University Women here next Tuesday evening.

The meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School cafeteria.

Following the film showing will be small discussion groups with the following discussion topics led by:

Community—Dorothy Gay; economic factors, Jane Rodgers; 21st Century, Mary Lou Battle; legislation, Jan Purcell; and conformity vs. creativity, Sherrie Glason.

Hostesses for the occasion will be Joyce Murdock, Jan Purcell, and Arlene Stabenau. President Karel Whitaker points out that because so much interest was previously shown in this program the meeting is to be open to guests of members. All meetings are open to prospective members — those who hold the baccalaureate or a higher degree from a regionally accredited college or university.

Artist to Discuss Drawing At Meeting on Tuesday

Three Cities Art Club will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, March 10 in the Credit Union Building on South Harvey Street in Plymouth.

Phelps Hines of Northville will be discussing and demonstrating various techniques of pen and ink drawing.

Hines is well known in this area for his excellent pen and ink work as well as his charcoal portraits. He has taught drawing and painting both in public school classes and in private classes.

Theme for the meeting is flowers. Members are asked to bring a current work of this subject. Visitors and prospective members are welcome to attend.

Persons wishing additional information may call Frances Wilson at 624-2389.

Pretty Picture Luncheon Planned by BPW Club

A "Picture Pretty Luncheon" is planned Thursday, March 11 by the Christian Women - Business & Professional Women's Club.

The meeting will be held at the Mayflower Meeting House, corner of Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth, beginning at noon.

Speaker for the occasion will be Rusty Hiemmer, who will be framing life's scene with words.

Also featured will be a do-it-yourself framing demonstration by Charlene Tobin, and a presentation by soprano May Urso titled "Coloring Songs with Notes."

Reservations for the meeting must be submitted by March 8. Interested persons may call Jo Cone at 477-3825.

Friday's the Deadline For 'Woman of the Year'

Friday is the deadline for submitting nominations for the 1976 Woman of the Year Award in Northville.

Nominations for the annual honor, a project of the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary, may be submitted by organizations or individuals with application forms available from Mrs. Lesa Buckland, 349-0773.

Chairman Sharon Lang expects that at least as many nominations will be received as last year when 13 women were suggested for the honor.

She stresses that the quality of a woman's involvement is important as the auxiliary is seeking an outstanding woman who will be honored at a tea the first week in April. First honoree was Beatrice Carlson, followed by Pearl Weber, Pat Wright and Annalee Mathes.

LaMaze Class Ready to Go

For the first time the LaMaze method of childbirth will be taught in the Novi area in classes scheduled to begin tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. The classes, conducted by a registered nurse and scheduled for a seven week period, will be held at the Living Lord Lutheran Church, 47000 Ten Mile Road, Novi.

'Glimpse of Spring'

Part of the fun of arranging a fashion show is getting a preview of spring dresses and pants outfits. Village Creek Garden Club President Nancy Bayer, left, and Vice President Kay Wrublewski model new spring looks as they visit Claire Kelley's shop in Northville to plan the club's "Glimpse of Spring" luncheon and fashion show to be given at noon March 30 in Farmington Holiday Inn. Claire Kelley models will present the show. Tickets at $5 are available from Margie Katz, 349-9412, or Juanita Baker, 349-4164.

Crafts Program Planned

A crafts program will highlight a meeting of the Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club on Monday evening at the Sword of the Spirit Lutheran Church, 34563 West Seven Mile Road, in Livonia.

The meeting will get underway at 8 p.m.

A choice of five different groups will be offered: lamp making, applied pillows, eggs in a basket, tooth fairy pillows and soap wrappings.

Crafts made at this meeting will be taken to the April Convention, reports Patricia Nixon of Northville, to be sold to those attending. Proceeds from this sale will be donated to Girlstown, a facility for homeless young women which is supported by the Junior Club.

Anyone interested in joining the club or attending this meeting may contact Mrs. Diane Ramsey of 16046 Winchester Drive in Northville.

Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club is affiliated with the Michigan Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Bicentennial Dance Planned

A sit-down dinner dance, sponsored by the Novi Bicentennial Coordinating Committee, will be held Saturday evening (March 6) at the Holiday Inn on 10 Mile Road near the eastern border of Novi.

Deadline for purchasing tickets for the event is Thursday. Tickets, costing $25 per couple, may be obtained by calling 349-1976 or at the Security Bank of Novi located on 10 Mile Road.

The dinner dance will get underway at 8 p.m. Band music will be provided for the dance.

Costumes are optional, but prizes will be awarded for the top ones. A 100 prize goes to the first place costume, $50 to the second place winner.

Pat Dorrian, one of the bulwarks in the Northville High School English Department for years, has been named the Michigan Creative Writing Teacher of the Year.

Miss Dorrian was picked for the state's highest award in creative writing for the consistently successful performance of her students in the annual Michigan Youth Arts Festival.

"It's the kids who should be getting the recognition," Miss Dorrian observed. She teaches honors English and three creative writing courses at Northville High School and in addition, teaches on a humanities team.

Pat Dorrian

She Is Tops In the State

Miss Dorrian received notification of her selection last week. But she will actually receive the award at the May 22 Youth Arts Festival banquet, scheduled to be held at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.

Co-sponsor of the Youth Arts Festival competition is the Michigan Council of Teachers of English, a group to which Miss Dorrian belongs. The Youth Arts Festival features competition in all the arts, including dance, drama and painting, as well as writing.

Last year a teacher at Interlochen, a private school near Cadillac for gifted students, received the Michigan Creative Writing Teacher of the Year award.

This is the first time that a teacher from Northville has been singled out for the award.

Plymouth Concert Features Two American Composers

Works of two American composers will be featured by the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in its fifth concert of the season at 4 p.m. Sunday, March 7 in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, Joy west of Canton Center roads.

William Doppmann, a popular soloist with local audiences, will be heard with the orchestra in Edward MacDowell's Piano Concerto No. 2 in D Minor.

Ron Nelson — "a conservative modern in the Howard Hanson style," in the words of conductor Wayne Dunlap — will be represented by his "Savannah River Holiday," composed in 1953.

Other works include Haydn's Symphony No. 103 ("Drumroll") and Respighi's "Pines of Rome."

This program was originally scheduled for April but was firmed up to allow further polishing and rehearsal of a musical based on work of the Shakers, an early American religious sect. The Shaker work will be performed April 25.

Tickets for the March 7 concert will be at regular prices — $3.50 for adults, $1.75 for senior citizens and free to K-12 students.

MacDowell was lionized by audiences as both composer and performer during his lifetime, and his works are being revived during the American bicentennial. Although he admired Grieg, MacDowell wrote more in the Germanic spirit of Schumann and Mendelssohn, both of whom wrote excellent minor key piano concertos.

MacDowell's second concerto, composed in 1888, "has an American freshness about it that makes it very attractive," said conductor Dunlap.

Doppmann, 41, earned two degrees at the University of Michigan and is now artist-in-residence at Grand Valley State Colleges, Allendale. He has taught at Iowa State University, the State University of Iowa and the University of Texas. A Levintritt prizewinner, he has recorded for Columbia Records, performed as soloist with more than 50 orchestras in America and made four tours of Europe.

Doppmann is well known for his bright interpretations of Mozart but is equally at home with the 19th century romantics.

The Haydn symphony was programmed not only because the classical giant is a favorite of Dunlap's but because Plymouth Symphony concert goers ranked Haydn high in a survey.

Respighi's "Pines" will bring the program to a grand climax and provide a great challenge to the orchestra.

During intermission, items made by the Shakers will be sold to raise funds for the specially-commissioned April 25 program.

Baby sitting by qualified girl scouts will be provided. The Salvation Army will provide free bus rides to senior citizens from the Tonquish Creek Manor in Plymouth.

He's Finalist For 'Merit'

David Seidel, a senior at Novi High School, has been named a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program.

David is one of 14,000 finalists across the United States. Twenty five percent of the number will win merit scholarships totaling over $10 million.

David, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seidel of 22801 Heatherbrae in Novi, has two older brothers. An engineering student, he has been accepted at the University of Michigan. His present grade point average at Novi High School is 3.94 on the 4.0 scale.

Purpose of the merit scholarship program is to identify and honor academic excellence among secondary school students and to award a sizeable number of scholarships to highly able students each year.

As a finalist, David is in a select group of students representing less than one-half of one percent of the nation's graduating secondary school seniors.

Bureau Floored

Barabas noted that not only were there several weak places in the flooring, Damron had written up other safety hazards including no fire extinguisher, wiring not up to code and the need for "watch your step" signs. "He wrote it up and like usual, nothing was done," commented Barabas. According to Donald Savin, the building inspector who condemned the structure, "In terms of its overall condition, the trailer's not in bad condition although the floor is structurally deficient." Savin said the trailer must communities designed as entitlement cities or "hold-harmless" cities. Wixom is one such city claiming that designation.

Other cities not holding such designation can vie for discretionary monies — in actuality, the left-overs — monies not allocated to entitlement cities. Those cities literally compete for monies and are awarded "points" on the merit of the individual projects outlined in their applications.

Wixom's designation as an entitlement city goes back to 1969 when the city received approval for urban renewal funds. Although the urban renewal program never got off the ground floor and was ultimately scrapped in 1971, the city nevertheless retained its original government approval for funding.

be brought up to the ANSI standards, which cover trailers, and added that "I'm maintaining the City of Novi must come up with an engineering design" to make certain repairs are sufficient so that the floor will stand up to the use which the trailer is being used for.

According to Merrifield, he will soon be taking bids from contractors for repair of the mobile home. He added that the city may look into renting space from the school district.

Barabas said that he hopes the traffic bureau will eventually be able to move into the present Novi Public Library on Novi Road next to the police station. He noted that with the traffic bureau at the 12 Mile office, there is no direct communication with the police department except by radio. Telephones are to be installed later.

Anyone wishing to contact the Traffic Bureau can do so by telephoning 349-2444. The Community Service Bureau will also be located at the 12 Mile office and can be called at the same number.

VOICE OF DEMOCRACY—Christine Fritz, a Novi High School junior, was awarded first place recently in the annual Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the Lawrence A. Sims VFW Post 3952 of Wixom. She was awarded a $50 U.S. Savings Bond.

'Surveillance Is Great But Can We Afford It?'

While members of the Novi City Council agreed Monday night that a police surveillance unit is valuable in fighting crime, they also wondered if the city will be able to afford it later down the road.

Nonetheless, the council approved the renewal by a 4-1 vote with Councilman Robert Schmidt dissenting.

The unit, which has been in operation for a year and uses four undercover policemen to catch criminals in action, is partially funded through a federal grant.

It will cost the city $6,814 this year.

But the ratio of city responsibility will increase to 50 percent and eventually Novi will have to foot the entire bill.

Schmidt expressed dissatisfaction that the council must renew the program on a 15 month basis, which will carry it into the next budget year. "We won't know then what the city's financial situation will be," said Schmidt.

Mayor Gilbert Henderson stated that a policeman may have to be laid off in the future if the funds are lacking.

Sergeant Gordon Nelson of the Novi Police Department pointed out that if the council did not approve the grant, the jobs of the four policemen that were hired to fill the regular duty vacancies created by the grant would be in jeopardy.

Nelson staunchly defended the unit and credited it with reducing robberies by 45 percent in 1975 over '74 in the city.

Nelson also said that narcotic related crimes have dropped by 49 percent since the unit was started.

Councilman James Shaw wanted to know what the conviction rate was for those that were caught by the unit. "About 99 percent compared to 35 percent before the unit was started," said Nelson.

Nelson explained that the surveillance team uses sophisticated equipment including cameras that help in catching the criminal while he is in the act of committing the misdeed.

"We show the pictures in court and their lawyer can't say anything," Nelson pointed out.

Company VP Red Faced

It floated from Nova Scotia to Prince Edward Island and back without a wrinkle.

But the newest sports craft to hit the American market ran into trouble in a Salem Township wheat field.

Manufactured in Toledo and just now being introduced to the public, the revolutionary new "flying boat" was here briefly last week upon returning from Canada where it was successfully put through its paces by the new company's vice-president of marketing, Anthony Thompson.

Thompson played a key role in the development of the hovercraft and formation of Windcraft M & M, Inc.

And much of that initial experimentation was done here in the engine laboratory of Lynn Hicks, 53667 Eight Mile Road. Hicks is the same man who toiled the snowmobile that last year set the unofficial world speed record.

After a few spins around in the yard of the Hicks home, Thompson floated back to a wet wheat field where the ground was more level.

Enroute the craft lost some of its horsepower and floundered like a wounded duck just as the reporter showed up.

Boosted back up the hillside to the Hicks yard again, the hovercraft regained some of its lost power and skimmed over the yard with ease. The temporary loss of power went unexplained, pending closer examination of the engine.

"I just don't understand it," repeated Thompson. "I speed all over the Prince Edward Island waters and up and down the Maumee River in Toledo without a hitch and then this. Could it be the Michigan gasoline?" he joked.

The windcraft is powered by a 46-horsepower snowmobile engine. It has a payload of 450 pounds over land and ice and 225 pounds over water.

With a fuel tank capacity of 4.6 gallons, it has a one hour drive time at full bore and one hour plus at normal speed. It has a speed of 30 mph over water, 40 mph over land, and 50 mph plus over ice and snow.

The fiberglass craft rides on a cushion of air just as do the big public transportation hovercrafts in England.

"It is really a flying boat," explained Thompson, "that can also fly over land, making it a truly amphibious craft. It rises approximately seven inches off the surface and really moves out."

The vehicle is registered by the United States Coast Guard as a Class A boat.

Silencer Goes Up

Steel girders go up on the giant Novi High School commons building to be located immediately north of the central part of the high school near the corner of 10 Mile and Taft roads. Separation of the two units of the high school is expected to reduce the noise level in the academic area of the high school. Not only will there be lockers on the outside wall of the round commons building, others will be located like the spokes of a wheel perpendicular to the center portion of the building. The new high school is scheduled to open for the 1977-78 school year.

ART WINNERS—Winners of the 1976 Scholastic Arts Awards were named this past week and Northville produced a host of them. They are (l to r) Jeff Liddell, a gold key for sculpture; Nathan Green, who won a gold key and two certificates for pastels; Mark Kavasch, a gold key and blue ribbon for jewelry; Bill Bloomhuff, certificate for ink drawing; Jennifer Chaffee, a scholastic portfolio accepted for national judging, a gold key for textile design, gold key for water color, and two certificates for pencil drawings; Mike Wurst, certificate for textile design, certificate for mixed media, and certificate for pottery; Sandy Miron, gold key for textile design; and Sheri Cannon, certificate in photography.

Lutheran Pastor Plans Parent-Child Classes

A series of programs aimed at improving parent-child relationships entitled, "How to Survive Being a Parent," is planned by the Reverend Frederick Prezioso, pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church in Northville Township.

For parents only, the three sessions will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. on consecutive Wednesdays beginning March 24 at the church parsonage. Cost for the series will be $10. Improving communication at home between parent and child will be one of the major topics, according to the pastor.

The first session, he said, will be used to explore concerns of parents attending. Then the group will discuss one-to-one relationships with parent and child.

How to stop children from fighting, how to help the rebellious or destructive child and how to keep from feeling inadequate or guilty as a parent are among the topics to be reviewed.

"To have both parents and children treated with respect and dignity will be a goal," the pastor explained, listing this and communication as vital to good parent-child relationships.

Reverend Prezioso has a total of 750 hours in counseling and has studied at the Huron Valley International Transactional Analysis Institute in Ann Arbor and at the Institute for Advanced Studies of Bloomfield Hills with Dr. Reuel Howe.

He has a BS degree from Syracuse University and his master's degree from the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. He is a clinical member of the international TAA and a member of the American Association of Pastoral Counselors.

Reverend Prezioso serves as a volunteer trainer and counseling supervisor at Our House Crisis Center in Plymouth.

He is a teacher of marriage enrichment classes for couples and does individual and group counseling using TA, Gestalt, Behavior Modification and Reality Therapy techniques.

Set Meet For Condos

The West Oakland Area of United Condominium Owners of Michigan will meet March 9, at 8 P.M. at Highland Lakes Condominium Clubhouse in Northville.

Highland Lakes is located south of 8 Mile Road, approximately one mile west of Haggerty Road.

Mr. Joseph Cunningham, from Plante, Moran, C.P.A. Associates in Southfield, will speak regarding "Condominium Association Income Tax."

This meeting has been rescheduled from the January meeting which was cancelled because of bad weather.

All co-owners, particularly association representatives, are welcome to attend.

'Montessori' Is Topic

The Montessori method of education for pre-schoolers will be the topic of a program at the Northville Public Library on Tuesday March 9 at 8:15 p.m. Featured speaker will be Marcia Wignes who presently teaches at the Montessori School in Plymouth.

The Montessori method was developed in Italy in 1907 by Dr. Maria Montessori and emphasizes a child's instinctive love and need for purposeful work. The Montessori classroom, according to Ms. Wignes, is filled with a wide range of projects and learning devices aimed at developing the early stages of cognitive growth. The child works independently while the teacher takes on the role of observer and catalyst.

In announcing the new series of sessions to study parent-child relationships, Reverend Prezioso points out that relationships can change at different points in a child's life.

He feels that the years from one-and-a-half to seven are formative, but offers the hope that "youth always is reconsidering." From 13-18, he points out, is a "recycling" period when junior high age youngsters are "doing what they were taught but also asking questions about its validity." For additional information about the parent-child series or to register, call Reverend Prezioso at home, 453-1191, or at the church, 453-8807.

Closing of Eastlawn Convalescent Center End of Era became a restaurant and still later the State Farm Insurance office of Paul Folino until it was razed to make way for Northville Square.

Buchner sold the 20 x 128-foot lot to the village for the negotiated price of $240.

In 1923 Buchner moved to Long Beach, California to make his home with a daughter. Three years later he was back in Northville and in the spring of 1926 he died at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Katherine Hurlbut, who at the time lived at 310 Dunlap Street. He was buried in Pontiac.

Most oldtimers still refer to the hill as Buchner's Hill or, as Charles Hutton wrote recently in one of his frequent poems in The Record, "Buckner's Hill," even though W.E. Scotten, nephew of a wealthy tobacco manufacturer, lived there for many years after Buchner moved out.

Many older residents of the community still marvel about the magnificent sled rides down the hill, past the Lutheran Church, across Randolph and Dunlap Streets and, in some instances, all the way to Northville Downs (then the fairgrounds). One of those who remembered these lickity-split rides was the late Conrad Langfield, former mayor of Northville and owner of Northville Laboratories.

The name, Eastlawn, drew its name from the fact that the original facility, founded by Dr. A.B. Wickham, stood on the east side of Detroit.

Dr. Wickham, a specialist in the treatment of tuberculosis, studied initially in the East, returning to Detroit in 1916 to complete his post-graduate work. He was particularly interested in the "home-treater" technique for treating TB patients, and in his first few years of practicing in Detroit he encouraged many of his patients to have sleeping porches constructed "to ensure ideal conditions for rest in the open air."

In 1920 he purchased a 10 acre plot on the east side of Detroit and had his first sanatorium cottage erected. It was a small frame structure with screened-in walls and shutters that could be raised and lowered as the weather dictated. On rainy days the lone occupant spent his time in a lamp-lighted isolation.

Soon other cottages were built. One of them was financed by the Detroit Commandery, another was built at a cost of $1400 by the wealthy patient who occupied it.

Dr. Wickham soon became disenchanted with the area where his sanatorium was located, primarily because of the urban development going on around it. He began looking elsewhere for property, eventually selecting the Northville site.

He bought the property from Scotten, who occupied the house built by Buchner. Scotten called his home, "Broadview", because of the vast view it commanded.

Broadview was remodeled by Dr. Wickham and it served both as his home and as part of the sanatorium. Upon purchasing the property, the doctor had 12 small frame cottages moved from his property in Detroit to Northville. Some of these original buildings still stand.

That Dr. Wickham chose Northville was hardly accidental. The world's medical experts had already cast their eyes in this direction with the announcement in 1919 that Detroit would build a massive TB treatment center "in the hills of Northville" — a center which eventually would be named for its creator, William H. Maybury.

Eastlawn, the privately owned TB sanatorium, like Maybury, eventually lost its patients to giant strides in preventative medicine. Beginning in the 1930's the sanatorium had cared for state-supported, TB patients.

In 1930 Dr. Wickham became ill and Dr. Royce R. Shafter joined the operation, eventually becoming the sole owner upon Dr. Wickham's retirement. It was Dr. Shafter who saw the end of Eastlawn as a TB sanatorium. He sold the facility in 1955 to Lawrence Keller, who began the series of convalescent home operations that marked its existence until last month.

In the 50 years of Eastlawn's existence, it was more than walls and beds. It was home for thousands of men and women, some for longer periods than others, but home nevertheless.

Many despised the place; just as many or more loved it. Often those who left returned to visit it years later.

Quite a few died here.

For those who remember it fondly, Eastlawn was the place on Northville's mountain where a community of friends could enjoy birds, rabbits, the trees, a small sugarbush (the remains of which still exist), and a magnificent view.

Years ago when Eastlawn was a haven for those ill with TB, one of its occupants, A.L. Anderson, saw it this way:

There's a place on the hill near the edge of town;
it's a place with a mystic lure.

You could stand on its roof and look straight down, it's a place where they take the cure.

There's a job to be done by the folks on the hill
That no villager has in his work;

But they're doing it well with a prayer and a will,
And no one is there who will shirk.

But the day will arrive when the folks will descend
Down the road that winds all the way.

They'll return to the town at the foot of the hill, gloom that existed in the community in that Depression year, Mr. Rathburn opened his business with optimism, featuring a special Chevrolet Sedan with Synco-Mesh transmission and top speeds of 65 to 75 miles per hour.
And that will be their great day.

His first salesroom was then located at 128 West Main Street where the poolroom and upholstery shop were later located but eventually razed to make way for the municipal parking lot opposite Northville Square shopping center.

In 1934, Mr. Rathburn added the Oldsmobile franchise.

Twenty years after the firm's establishment he held the grand opening of brand new quarters on Northville Road — a building that now

Reappoint Coy To County Slot

Low L. Coy, former Republican commissioner from Wixom, has been reappointed to the Oakland County Board of Institutions.

The appointment came on a 14-10 party-line vote in which the Republicans backed Bloomfield Hills physician Dr. Harry L. Riggs.

Coy, who resigned from the board last October, has been in constant opposition to his fellow Republicans who favored closing the county hospital. Coy will fill out the unexpired term of Bruno Jandasek, who resigned. The term will run until December 31, 1977. Coy's previous term had expired at the end of 1975.

Eighth in Film Series Scheduled Thursday

The eighth in the America film series narrated by Alistair Cooke will be presented by the Northville Public Library on Thursday, March 4 beginning at 8:15 p.m.

In Thursday night's episode entitled, "Money on the Land," the focus is on the period at the turn of the century when American life moved from the farm to the city. It was at this same time the tycoons of the great industrial powers were amassing their great fortunes Cooke brings to light many obscure and ironic facts of our history and documents the narrative with authentic photographs.

A brief intermission during the film will be held at which time refreshments will be served. Admission is free and transportation will be provided by volunteer drivers from the Northville Kiwanis Club to those needing it.

Anyone who would like to attend and needs a ride should contact the library at 349-3020 by 5 p.m. Thursday.

Major Streets Plan Approved By State Highway Commission

A plan for setting standards for major Northville roads has been authorized for submission to the State Highway Commission by the Northville City Council.

Required by the state, the plan suggests the upgrading of existing major streets over the next five years.

The plan, according to City Manager Steven Walters, includes a time schedule for implementation of parking restrictions, stop sign relocations, and other measures as may be necessary to bring all the existing streets into compliance with the criteria of the state.

Had the plan not been submitted, he explained, it could have meant that the state would reclassify "major streets" to "local streets" with the corresponding loss of gas and weight tax revenues.

The use of a vacuum cleaner or a stiff brush are the best methods of cleaning a carpet. Never mind stories of Tom Sawyer and his rug-beating exploits: a carpet should never be placed on a line or against a wall and beaten — it imposes undue strain on the fabric, and may cause fraying edges as well. If a carpet has become excessively dusty, it should be placed face upwards on a dry lawn and lightly beaten. Don't use soap and water on spots; try, instead, a reputable carpet cleaner. Take good care of what you walk on — without it, where would you be?

If you are thinking about doing your spring cleaning early, do drop in to GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Chamber Seeks Office

A request of the Northville Chamber of Commerce for small office space in the city hall is being considered by the city council.

Discussed at Monday's meeting, the council tabled the matter pending final disposition of the space formerly occupied by the library in the eastern portion of the city hall.

A plan for dividing this room for several offices, including one possibly for the mayor, councilmen, and the city attorney, are being drawn for submission to the council by the city manager. Most of the space is being used now by the recreation department.

Concerning the request by Chamber President Richard Lyon, some council members questioned the propriety of providing space at cost for

Ice Shanties
Better Look Out

Ice is melting fast on inland lakes, so fishermen with ice shanties should seriously consider removing them, advises Ralph L. Hay of Northville, fisheries habitat biologist with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Many rivers are in flood stage with ice flows, he reports. Because of these conditions, inland fishing pressure has been very low. Fishing pressure on Lake St. Clair, Lake Erie, St. Clair and Detroit rivers also is low.

Hay reminds fishermen that the season for walleye, sauger, northern pike and muskellunge ended on inland waters February 29. However, walleye and sauger may be taken from the Detroit River, St. Clair River, Lake Erie, and Lake St. Clair at any time.

Minimum size for walleye is 15 inches, except 13 inches on Lake Gogebic, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair, Detroit River, St. Clair River, and the Muskegon River from M-20 in Big Rapids to Croton Dam.

Hay sends along the following fisheries tidbits: All species of salmon and trout spawn in the fall except steelhead. Most steelhead spawn in the spring. Eggs of fall spawners hatch during the winter and for the spring spawning steelhead the eggs hatch within a few weeks.

All species of warm water fish spawn during the spring or early summer and their eggs hatch within a few weeks.

Godspell Planned

HS Musical

"We thought it was a shame that the kids were not going to have a spring play because the school board can't finance it. So a group of parents figured why can't we raise the money," Mrs. Joan A. Johnson explained.

And that's precisely what they are doing. Under the name of the Friends of Northville Drama and with the support of the Northville Parks and Recreation Department a fund raising campaign is now under way.

The group's goal is to raise at least $1,500 to pay for royalties, costumes and other necessary expenses.

So far the $380 that they have raised is considerably short of the goal.

The Friends of Northville made hundreds of phone calls to citizens in the community and sent out letters to area merchants asking for donations.

Under the direction of Kurt Kinde rehearsals for the musical play "Godspell" were to have started yesterday.

"Tryouts were last week but the cast has not been posted yet because we don't have the money," spokeswoman Johnson explained.

"The whole community usually supports the spring play and we are still hoping they will," Mrs. Johnson continued.

Donations can be made by sending checks made out to the Friends of Northville Drama and mailing them to 47234 Dunsany, Northville, Michigan, 48167.

"With a donation of $10 or more you will receive one free ticket and your name will be printed in the program as a patron," she explained.

The play is scheduled to open April 30 and May 1, and continue on May 7 and 8 but nothing can be started until the royalties are paid.

For more information on how citizens may help, call Joan Johnson at 349-5298 or Charles Froberger at the Parks and Recreation Department, 349-0203.

For Novi Schools

Housing Study Readied

A Housing Committee report making recommendations in three different areas should be ready for action by the March 4th or 18th Novi School Board meetings.

The Housing Committee was asked to study and make recommendations on changes in elementary school boundaries; to recommend additional classrooms at the high school; and to decide on need and utilization of the Novi Elementary School Building.

Perhaps affecting the most people will be the elementary school boundary changes brought about by the opening of the new Novi Elementary on Taft Road.

The Housing Committee has presented seven different possible alternatives for what students should attend the new elementary.

Those alternatives are:

- transferring Meadowbrook Lake, Olde Orchard and Applegate to new elementary;

- transferring Meadowbrook Glens, north side of 10 Mile, Olde Orchard and Applegate to new elementary;

- transferring Meadowbrook Glens (west of Hampton Hill), Olde Orchard and Applegate;

- transferring Meadowbrook Glens East, Olde Orchard, Applegate, South of Nine Mile (between Novi Road and Haggerty) and Novi 26;

- transferring Olde Orchard, Applegate, south of Nine Mile and Novi 26;

- transferring Olde Orchard, Applegate, North of 10 Mile and South of Nine Mile.

Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr also discussed briefly the pros and cons of each possibility relative to growth potential in areas of the city and need for expansion space in each of the three elementary schools.

While there is not expected to be much of an increase in enrollment of high school students, the administration noted that the need for relocatable classrooms for high school use would be necessary in order to 1) relieve the present overcrowded conditions of the high school; 2) provide more flexibility in scheduling; relieve the effect of scheduling non-specialized classes in specialized classroom areas, and 4) to provide some additional room for the possibility of additional student move-ins.

The committee also agrees with the Needs Assessment Committee II that Novi Elementary should not be used for classrooms during the 1976-77 school year. If the building is not disposed of prior to September, 1976, it could be used, they indicated.

- to continue to house the high school alternative education program;
- to continue to house the present pre-school education program;
- to house the administrative offices;
- to provide warehouse

- space for the school district;
- to provide warehouse space for the new high school equipment purchasing program;
- to continue providing use of the community building to the citizens of Novi;
- rental of available space to other municipalities or private enterprises.

Victor Lewis, 94, Son of Civil War Veteran, Dies

VICTOR LEWIS

Victor Emmanuel Lewis, the man Salem named a street after, died last Wednesday at the age of 94.

And as he willed it, the private critic of racial bigotry, white or black, was buried beside friends of both races in the pioneer cemetery, Thayer, at the northeast corner of Six Mile and Napier roads.

The funeral service was held at Casterline Funeral Home in Northville, the Reverend Ivan B. Speight of Salem Bible Church officiating.

Nearly all of Salem Township's officials and some past officials were present.

Mr. Lewis had been seriously ill for just a few days. Although his health had been gradually declining, he remained active and alert until he suffered an apparent heart attack.

Like his father before him, who died at 96, Victor Lewis lived a long life.

Born on April 19, 1881 in a tiny house on Nine Mile Road, not far from Pontiac Trail in Lyon Township, he was the son of John W. and Evangeline (Smith) Lewis.

The senior Lewis, who served in the Civil War in Michigan's distinguished First Colored Regiment, moved to Salem shortly after the War Between the States. He was a stone mason and a blacksmith most of his life.

Victor Lewis' grandfather was born a "free man" but his grandmother was born a slave in Virginia.

Stories circulated that the Lewis family came to Michigan as part of the celebrated Underground Railroad are untrue. John Lewis' home had been in Canada prior to serving in the army. His wife, having a Dutch ancestry, had been raised in Indiana.

There were eight children in the Lewis family. Only two survive, John Franklin, 84, and Mattie Evelyn, 87, of Detroit. Both of the survivors were born in Salem.

Mr. Lewis is also survived by 12 nieces and nephews, 43 grand nieces and grandnephews, 48 great-grandnieces and grandnephews, and 19 great-

After attending the old Salem country school, Victor Lewis became a blacksmith. During his lifetime, he also worked as a logger, cutting much of the virgin timber then standing in Salem and Northville townships, a farmer, carpenter, handyman, and a traveling farm construction supervisor.

It was while he had this latter job that Mr. Lewis became convinced that black and white people "have lots in common."

"In all my years I've never been mistreated; I've never been discriminated against," he told this newspaper three years ago. "I've worked on plenty of jobs so I know we can get along if we try."

Mr. Lewis had married many years ago, but the marriage failed soon thereafter.

They had no children.

A few years ago, Salem Township honored Victor Lewis, naming a street after him. Victor Lewis Street borders the Lewis homestead where until a couple of years ago he lived alone. When his health began to wane, he moved in with his brother, Frank, who lives a couple of blocks away.

In 1973 when interviewed by this newspaper, Mr. Lewis expressed deep regret that racial strife still exists in the United States long after his father went to war to help end it.

"I think about it a lot; it's frightful," he said. "I think about how nice the people are here (in Salem) and I think why can't we all have this kind of love. Right here in this house I use to have white kids stay overnight and I use to stay in their houses. Nobody even talked about the color...."

"Color" don't mean anything. If you're black or if you're white when you're laid down to rest nobody's going to care. They're going to say he 'was good' or he 'was bad'.

"When I go and they lay me down by my momma and daddy I'll be there with my white friends and my colored friends just like I am now."

Friends of both colors gathered at the graveside and agreed that Victor Lewis was a good man, and then they buried him beside his parents and his friends Saturday afternoon.

This month Northville Township will be adopting its budget for the fiscal year 1976-77 (April 1 to March 31).

Citizens who wish to know how their tax dollars are spent have an opportunity to learn first-hand by attending board sessions, particularly at budget time.

The board meets next Monday night and has its "settlement night" budget hearing scheduled for Tuesday night, March 23.

There's some in-fighting going on within the board, a normal situation for any governing body. But it's obvious that unless the board chooses to seek more tax dollars from voters, it will be hard-pressed to expand many services.

Police and recreation requests head up the list of biggest demands for more money. All services will cost more. And pay hikes are on tap, too.

The budget's first draft had expenditures listed at $680,000, up more than $200,000 from last year.

Anticipated revenues stand at $468,532, about $25,000 more than last year's budget.

Police requests total nearly $100,000 more than last year, which would include five more officers and two additional police cars — a priority that certainly must raise some eyebrows in the light of the scheduled opening of a new Michigan State Police complex in the township this year.

Presence of the state troopers would seem to reduce the need for expansion of township police.

Recreation, library and salaries add another $60,000 to the projected costs.

It would appear that the board has decided it must cut sharply into the requests, bring its budget into line and try to live without a tax hike.

Reaching agreement on priorities — police, recreation, library, salaries, etc., looms as the board's most difficult budget assignment.

I recall several years ago hearing references being made to the nation's Bicentennial and wondering why there was such a rush to start planning for 1976.

Well, it's 1976 already and communities the nation over are planning celebrations marking the nation's 200th birthday.

In Northville numerous organizations are involved, including the schools, beautification commission and Jaycees.

One of the main movers in Northville is John (Jack) Burkman, who spends a lot of his time working to complete the Mill Race Village project for the Northville Historical Society. Jack's also chairman of the "Northville American Revolution Bicentennial Commission," the committee in charge of local programs for the observance.

Right now the committee could use some volunteer help for one of its projects: short play productions concerning local history.

A players' group directed by Cheryl Gazlay plans to stage the productions throughout the year for any interested organization.

They have four plays now, but could use three or four more.

So, if you're an amateur writer, why not do a little research about Northville and come up with an original production about 20 to 30 minutes long for a cast of five or six.

Call Cheryl if you can write or act and would like to take part in this portion of Northville's observance. The phone number is 349-5748.

Meanwhile, Burkman is always looking for help at Mill Race Village. By the Fourth of July the Historical Society hopes to have six buildings on the site ready for public inspection. The Mill Race bridge is complete, the parking lot will be ready and the plaque-lined wall is under construction. Landscaping and lighting are also upcoming projects.

A donation of either time and labor, or money would be welcome. Historical Society memberships are $8 annually; your family name carved into a plaque on the wall calls for a donation of $350.

Mill Race Village is an outstanding achievement that will stand as a reminder of our community's history for decades. Current residents can be a part of that history.

Just call Burkman, or write to Northville Historical Society, box 128, Northville.

Another Bicentennial project now under way and sponsored by Northville Questers is a history of the community.

It was written by Jack Hoffman of The Record staff. Jack is a real history buff and was chiefly responsible for compiling material and pictures that filled The Record's 136-page centennial edition in 1969.

In his book, "Northville...The First 100 Years," he traces the people, places and events that have marked Northville's history. And he gives readers a closer link to that past by weaving into the more than 30 chapters the growth of a huge black maple that has lived through it all — from 1713 to the present.

Questers Virginia Hayward and Sue Holstein are chairmen of the history project and right now they are offering the book at a special pre-publication price.

Everything is leading up to a bang-up Fourth with a bigger-than-ever Jaycees' parade, barbecue, flea market and fireworks.

Falling on Sunday, the Fourth in Northville may start with joint church services at Mill Race Village, hopefully with all area church groups participating.

Jack Hoffman isn't the only area history author.

Over in Plymouth an old friend, Sam Hudson, recently completed a new book on the history of Plymouth.

It's 240 pages of history and pictures and entitled "The Story of Plymouth, Michigan: A Midwest Microcosm."

SHERRY DE SANTIS

YES . . .

According to the most recent reports, Gerald Ford is still president with no Amazon armies in sight prepared to oust him from his office.

Cooling down? We got the nation's answer to women's lib last year, with the rejection of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Women's libbers are usually at their most effective in more "uneventful" years; quieter, more secure times. 1975, a year of near-depression and double-digit unemployment, and 1976, a year when we seem more concerned about the latest loser the Democrats have dug up, the newest Bicentennial gimmick, did Patty Hearst pluck her eyebrows before coming to court, and are we going to have to rent out the family Mark IV to pay for this week's groceries.

The hard-core libbers, those for example who are in favor of women being drafted and men having babies are few and far between and usually are coolly received by the remainder of the female population.

I, however, have always been of the opinion that before there can ever be complete social equality between man and woman, there first must be complete equality between man and man, so let's work on THAT. We're almost there.

Cooling Down?

CAROLYN BURKE

NO . . .

The phrase "cooling down" seems to suggest a temporary hotbed of emotion that will pass in time. Women's liberation is not simply an emotional issue. It is based upon the premise that all persons, whether male or female, should have a choice about what to do with their lives.

Your sex should not determine your ability to get a job, nor your pay. Neither should your sex dictate your lifestyle or behavior.

The philosophy of the movement is to open new careers and new lifestyles for women, as well as men.

Because the movement stresses choosing your life according to all the options available, it presents the only reasonable alternative to forcing men and women into predetermined roles, where they are often frustrated and unhappy.

It is long past time for us to stop restricting the females in our society to homemaking and child rearing. It is likewise unfair to force all men to be pillars of strength, burdened with all the economic support of the family.

Children who have all options open to them will choose a lifestyle most conducive to their own happiness, rather than to the expectations an impersonal society places upon them.

Why "cool down" a movement which stresses choosing the jobs and lifestyles which will make you happy?

Editor's Note: This letter was written by a Northville youngster to President Lincoln during his birth month with a copy delivered to The Northville Record. The spelling is John's.
Dear Mr. Lincoln
I wish I could visit you and talk to you.
I want you to see the differences between now and then. Now days are better but people puff out!! And I don't like that. Now people are trying to make things faster. I don't mind that. But they are wrecking the beauty. I don't like that. So I think me and you should do something about it.

JACK W.
HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

The first time I met him, perhaps 15 years ago, it was a glorious spring morning; the trees had leafed out, the air was clean and fresh, and brilliant red roses clung to his porch trellis drenching the place in sweetness.

I had driven to Salem from our home then in South Lyon to interview Victor Lewis, patriarch of Salem's black community, and I found him sitting alone on the porch swing savoring the beauty of the morning.

"Com'on," he invited, "sit down. We can talk right here."

It was there on the porch of the Lewis homestead, located just a "stone's throw from main street" and a shorter ways to the place where he and his father had operated a blacksmith shop, that I came to know the man who died last week at the age of 94.

I came away from that first meeting, regretting that I had not taken a camera with me to capture the special flavor of the morning setting. Several times in succeeding years I went back to visit Victor Lewis or his younger brother, Frank, but the setting was never quite as moving.

Last fall Edmund Yerkes and I visited the two men at Frank's home and then later drove to the then vacant homestead with Victor. Years had weathered the man and the house.

Mr. Lewis walked slowly from the car and stood there in the front yard, looking at the house his father built well before the turn of the century. He smiled wryly and apologized, "It doesn't look so good any more."

And then I remembered that a few years earlier he had told me parts of the house were constructed by his father, but that the main section had once been a blacksmith shop.

"There were some happy times inside here," he had said in 1973 recalling the large family his parents had raised in the house, and then probably remembering that his father demanded strict obedience and had seldom spared the rod he added, "and some not so happy."

Until a couple of years ago, Mr. Lewis had lived alone in the house. He was never an exceptionally good housekeeper, nor a cook. Those traits belong to his brother, Frank. But he managed. Then relatives began noticing a decline in his ability to care for himself.

That's when the family decided that Victor should move in with Frank, whose immaculately well-kept home is located a couple blocks away.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Finally, I reminded him of our first visit 15 years earlier and asked if he would sit in the porch swing one last time. Obliging, he took a seat and instantly a smile came to his face, and he said, "I could sit here forever."

The paint had peeled from the old house, the porch rail was rotting, and it was a chilly November afternoon. But for an instant, I think I felt the morning sun and smelled the roses.

Concerning last week's column relative to the extra day in February, Ted Strasser of Northville, who is everybody's favorite Sunday morning host over radio station WJR, sends along the following:

Can't give you an explanation of why the 28 year cycle for February 29th Sundays (or any other days) but this may explain the pattern a bit more: According to The Old Farmer's Almanac — 1975, the years containing 5 Sundays in February (necessary to have Sunday fall on the 29th) recur in regular order every 400 years. The order is as follows: Three times with intervals of 28 years each, and then comes one after an interval of 40 years; then two with intervals of 28 years each, and then there is an interval of 40 years before another such year. This is followed by three intervals of 28 years each. This occupies 400 years, and then the same order will come round again.

The following conditions are necessary in order that there be a Sunday, February 29 (or 5 Sundays in the month): the year must be a leap year and the first day of January must fall on Thursday.

If you think there's a long wait between Sundays falling on February 29th though, how about this? February 1886 had no full moon. This will not reoccur for 2,500,000 years ... and may not then if we ever have a space war and the moon is blown to bits.

Back to the subject of leap year ... did you ever hear the story of how women's special privilege of doing the proposing in these years is traced back to an old story about St. Patrick and St. Bridget?

This was, of course, in the days long before celibacy was mandatory for either priests or nuns. Bridget, who was in charge of a group of nuns, came to Patrick in tears, saying there was much unrest and anxiety among her women because of the unfair custom that prohibited women from taking the initiative in matrimony. The great man, sternly celibate himself, was sympathetic. He offered to grant the ladies the right to do their own proposing one full year out of every seven.

Bridget, evidently good at bargaining, talked him into giving them one year out of every four — and the longest one at that. Then, because the agreement was immediately in effect, Bridget (in what would seem to me a bit of a double-cross) proposed to Patrick. He begged off, on the ground that he had taken a vow of celibacy, but his natural gallantry made him soften his refusal a bit by giving Bridget a kiss and a silk gown. Anyone who doubts this story is referred to the fact that up to the last century or so it was an unwritten law in the British Isles that any man had to pay a forfeiture of a silk dress to the lady he turned down.

Marvin Stempien Quits Dem Post

Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia) has resigned his position as chairman of the Wayne Second District Democratic Party Organization. His reasons for doing so were said to be "several and personal."

Having been first elected in January, 1973, and re-elected to a second two-year term to expire in January, 1977, Stempien said that, although he was resigning as chairman, he would continue to work as a member of the Democratic Executive Board. Stempien said he was proud of the hard work of District Democrats in community affairs over the three years he has been chairman. In particular, he cited the efforts of Democrats this year in establishing a Red Cross blood bank and a scholarship fund for nursing students at Schoolcraft College.

3 Area Residents Cited by Colleges

Janice Nyquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Nyquist of Northville, has been placed on the Dean's List for outstanding academic achievement at the Baptist College of Grand Rapids.

The Grand Rapids Baptist college is a center for Christian education on a 125-acre campus in the northeast section of Grand Rapids. It offers a liberal arts curriculum leading to bachelor of arts, bachelor of music or bachelor of religious education degrees.

Two local area residents have been named to the Dean's List for scholastic excellence at Albion College. They are:

Lois E. Rodenbeck, senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egon Rodenbeck of 390 Debra Lane, Northville; and Bettina C. Guzdial, senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmela Guzdial, 23582 Stonehenge, Novi.

To be named to the list the two students had to have a 3.4 or better scholastic average (based on a 4.0 system) while carrying a full class schedule.

Albion College is a liberal arts, co-educational institution founded in 1835 and located in south-central Michigan.

Spiders Submit More Questions

Five more questions have been asked the Northville Board of Education by the Society of People Interested in Demanding Educational Responsibility (SPIDER).

According to Acting Chairman Jim Lewis, none of the questions asked by SPIDER has been answered.

The latest questions are:

1. Who is responsible for requirements and electives in various departments at the high school?
2. Who determines the sequence of courses within the high school, coordinating them within the entire curriculum?
3. Is there going to be an evaluation of curriculum at the elementary level, i.e., individual math, no formal reading program, lack of handwriting skills, etc.?
4. What's happened to the daily reading program being conducted with all children (early elementary) in the open classes at Amerman School, especially those with reading difficulties?

5. Are all ninth graders pre-tested as freshmen entering high school (in reading, composition and math skills) and placed accordingly in the appropriate class? How often are they evaluated to determine whether or not they are keeping up with, or surpassing, the pace of the class? By whom?

Fessler, Jaycees Team Up

State Representative Richard Fessler (R-Union Lake) and members of area Jaycees and Jaycettes are combining forces in March to help senior citizens file for their property tax refunds.

They will help those who are eligible for the Senior Citizen Homestead Property Tax credit complete the MI-1040CR - 1 form.

"Many people are not aware that they are eligible for a property tax credit," Fessler said, "and often those who are aware are confused by the complicated form they have to fill out. Because of this, we will be helping elderly people file this form."

The first session will be Thursday, March 4 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Novi City Hall, 43315 Sixth Gate. The Novi Jaycees are sponsoring the session for residents of Novi Township, Northville, Novi and the immediate vicinity.

The second session will be Saturday, March 6, from 9 a.m. to noon at Wixom City Hall Annex. Sponsors of the meeting for residents of Milford Township, Lyon Township, the City of Wixom, South Lyon and the Village of Milford are the Wixom, Milford, and South Lyon Jaycees and Jaycettes.

Session three will be held Saturday, March 6 from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at Clifford Smart Junior High School library.

Those senior citizens interested in attending any of the sessions should bring records of their total 1975 income, including social security, any pension they receive, interest and dividends from savings accounts or stocks or bonds, any salary or wages they received and any other income.

They should also bring with them their property tax records for 1975 and their state assessed valuation.

State Representative

Final legislative approval has been given to the Department of Natural Resources to make permanent the state park campsite reservation program begun as an experiment two years ago.

Because of the success of the experimental program, the DNR asked the legislature to make the program permanent and since this is one of the non-controversial subject matters that we face, we gave speedy approval.

The reservation system will operate like it has in the past two years with one change. Reservations will have to be received by the state park where the camper wants a space only 15 days in advance of arrival instead of the three weeks advance notice required in previous years.

To make a reservation the camper fills out a simple form, mails it to the state park where he wishes a space along with a 2 reservation fee and the campsite rental fee for the number of nights of the visit. The minimum stay under the reservation is four nights while the maximum is 15 nights.

During the two-season test period 31,726 Michigan and out-of-state campers reserved space in our state parks. Use of reservations increased by 24 percent last year and the DNR expects to confirm more than 22,000 reservations during the May 1 to September 30 camping season in 1976.

The law provides that no more than half the sites can be reserved so there is space for other campers, including those who want space for less than four days, on a first-come, first-served basis.

However, 71,000 campers were turned away from the state parks last year because of filled campsites, so you can see it is to your advantage to make a reservation if at all possible when you plan to go camping.

Several campers from our area wrote to me last year suggesting that the state do away with entrance fees and campsite fees in our state parks, using income tax and other state revenues instead.

Registration Underway

Registration has begun for students planning to enroll in Northville's voluntary year-round school program next school year.

Parents interested in enrolling their children in the 45-15 program for 1976-77 are being invited to fill out registration forms now so that school officials can determine early the extent of the program to be operated next year.

The 45-15 year-round school program provides for 180 days of instruction for each child just as does the traditional program. However, it consists of four 45-day sessions in school with each one followed by a 15-day vacation on a year-round basis, reminds the project director, Rebecca Muller.

Traditional holiday vacations such as Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, and the "off times" found in a traditional September to June calendar are observed.

Ms. Muller outlined the following benefits of the program:

For the Children

- Children participating in the year-round program do as well as children in the traditional program in their first year in YRS and significantly better than comparable children in the traditional school year in their second year in the program.

- Children with special needs who are in the year-round program tend to mainstream into the regular classroom with greater ease.

- Children demonstrate significant progress in developing positive self-concepts and attitudes toward school and work in the YRS program.

- Children have the opportunity to relax for three week blocks of time intermittently during the school year, thus reducing the stress of a continuous 180 days of school for teachers, parents and the child.

- Student attendance is 22.6 percent higher in the year-round school program than on the traditional calendar.

For the Teachers

- Student behavior problems diminish and are less serious in the YRS program. Teacher responses indicate that children with weak self-control in the classroom have demonstrated improvement in behavior.

- Year-round school makes it possible to have short term goals, have more careful planning regarding goals, and have more goal evaluation.

- Year-round school gives teaching a more professional status, by providing teachers an opportunity to create and re-evaluate ongoing programs, as well as enrich and refresh themselves through shorter, more frequent breaks. The result is consistently high quality classroom instruction.

As one teacher puts it, "The breaks give the teacher an opportunity to plan better programs and to individualize instruction."

Teacher attendance is significantly better under YRS. In the three years of the program, teachers have been absent an average of three days less than teachers in the traditional program.

Growth figures, according to Ms. Muller, indicate community acceptance of the program. In 1973 the total YRS enrollment numbered 170, in 1975 the figure was approximately 1500.

Persons wishing additional information about any aspect of the program may call the project director at 349-3400, extension 215, or contact any of the building principals.

City Eyes
Aid Plan

"I don't want to see city residents shortchanged in recreation because of the budget retrenching in the township," declared City Councilman Paul Vernon Monday as the council discussed the proposed city-township recreation budget.

Other council members echoed his remark and directed the city manager to develop an alternate plan for financing the city's portion of the recreation department cost so that city residents enjoy fuller benefits than apparently will township residents.

As things stand now the recreation budget probably will be slashed substantially because of the township's inability financially to support its share of the initially proposed budget or even a compromise reduced budget proposal.

In anticipation of reduced income, the recreation commission has beefed up fees for participation in recreation programs to the extent that many of them are nearly or entirely self-supporting.

As planned now, a general registration fee will be waived in favor of a fee for each activity.

A suggestion by the city manager to subsidize city resident participation was applauded by the council, which directed him to formalize the plan.

Basically, the plan would mean that city participants would pay a lesser fee than township participants because the city would subsidize them beyond the formula share of the city and township for the overall reduced budget. Manager Steven Walters likened it to the recent automobile rebates.

The budget cost sharing formula is based on participation, which shows that 56-percent of the persons involved in recreational programs live in the township.

It is estimated that of the reduced $146,000 proposed budget, $76,700 would result from financial participation of the city and township, the remainder from fees.

May Election Is Likely

public improvement fund in the upcoming fiscal year because that fund will be just about dry. That's another reason the board is so adamant in insisting that all departments will have to stay within their budgets this next year.

"The financial situation of the township is critical," declared Supervisor Betty Lennox in opening Sunday's budget session. "We've been paying out more money than we've been taking in, and we simply cannot do that anymore. The public improvement fund has just about run out."

Although no formal agreement has been reached as yet, this is how the budget is shaping up by department:

- The township board department outlay will be held to $14,754, which includes elimination of salaries for board members attending board meetings.

- The supervisor's department will be cut to $19,800, down from $22,134 in the current 1975-76 budget.

- The clerk's department will be held at $23,155 — down from the first budget draft of $26,460.

- Treasurer's department will be pegged at $28,415, down from the first draft of $29,015.

- The election's category will be slashed from the first draft of $14,700 to $11,072.

- Police department will be chopped from the current budget appropriation of $120,356 and from the first draft, of the new budget of $212,421 to under $100,000.

- The fire department budget will go from its current level of $23,000 to $28,200, representing contractual agreement.

- Road dusting outlay of $7,500 probably will be eliminated, despite opposition by Trustee Mitchell.

- The recreation department will be slashed from the first draft outlay of $60,791 to about $35,000 (that's about $8,000 less than is in the current budget).

- The library budget will be cut from the first draft figure of $38,085 to $29,100 ($27,240 was earmarked in the current budget).

- Token stipends for members of the planning commission and the board of appeals probably will be eliminated.

- Employee fringe benefits, for which $44,900 was suggested in the first draft, will be slashed to $38,200.

- General administration outlay will be cut to $18,052 — from $22,294 as initially suggested.

All monies ($28,489) initially suggested for raises, fringes and longevity will be eliminated.

If these budget allocations hold firm, it will mean reduction in personnel in several areas; probably elimination of reserve police officers, elimination of patrolling, and perhaps institution of an emergency-only service; and reduction of library hours.

Concerning the library allocation, Clerk Sass repeated an earlier recommendation that the present library be dissolved and that it be shifted to the high school library. Such a move, she suggested, would help beef up high school book shelves, which have fewer books than recommended by the North Central Association, while eliminating the need for quarters in Northville Square shopping center.

Other board members strongly disagreed with her, however, suggesting that a move could not be made in time to help the township out of its financial problem even if it were a feasible idea.

Complicating the suggested departmental cuts is the fact that the township shares some of its services with the city. So while the township may agree to slash appropriations for recreation and library, those resulting service reductions may be unacceptable to the city. Should that be the case and the township sticks to its limited allocations, joint agreements could be jeopardized.

Novi Superintendent
To Address Parents

Gerald Kratz, Ph.D., superintendent of Novi schools, will be the guest speaker at the March 10 meeting of the Novi High School Parent Advisory Council.

The meeting will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

Meetings of this group are not limited to parents of high school students, emphasizes Secretary Joyce A. Cherf, but rather they are open to anyone living in the Novi school district.

The PAC's February meeting was devoted to the subject of achievement testing at the high school. Guest speakers were Dr. Richard Watson, director of program evaluation for Oakland Schools, and Julia Crowther, director of special education and coordinator of testing for Novi schools.

Summation was given by Novi High School Principal Helen Ditzhazy, Ph.D., followed by a question and answer session.

After the program, PAC appointed a subcommittee to work with Dr. Ditzhazy to explore the feasibility of implementing a testing program at the high school.

Shrubs and Trees

Force Blooms For Early Spring

By KATHY COPLEY

Forcing blooms on the cut branches of flowering shrubs or trees is a pleasant way to hurry spring along, and it is something that requires no more gardening skill than making a clean cut with a sharp knife and filling a large vase or jar with lukewarm water.

The idea behind forcing blooms is that the buds, formed last year, need only moisture and warm temperatures to bring them into flower. Forsythias are probably the most commonly forced shrub. This may be because they are so plentiful or because the bushes could usually use a little pruning this time of year.

But forsythia are by no means the only shrubs worth forcing. In fact, any shrub or tree with attractive blooms is worth trying. Just keep in mind that, the later the plant blooms naturally, the longer it will take to bloom inside.

Forsythia normally bloom in early April and a branch cut in mid-March will bloom indoors in about 8 days. Rhododendron bloom in mid-May to early June and, cut in mid-March, it will take in the neighborhood of 25-30 days to bloom indoors. By that time you are likely to figure the branch is dead.

Forcing the branches of fruit trees into Christmas bloom has long been an English tradition, but fruit trees aren't the only branches.

A not so obvious choice is the pussy willow. Cut the branches when the catkins are just getting plump but before they have opened into clusters of tiny flowers.

It isn't unusual for pussy willow branches to root in a jar of water so you can plant the newly rooted branches in a moist spot this spring. They not only grow quickly but do well in spots too wet for other shrubs.

If you have any of the following, try your hand at forcing them: Abelia, Cornus (Dogwood), Deutzia, Kolkwitzia (Beautybush), Lonicera (Honeysuckle), Magnolia, Prunus (Cherry, apricot, almond, nectarine, peach, or plum), Rhododendron, or Viburnum.

Change the water regularly to keep it from souring and supporting too much algae. Add pea-size aquarium gravel to help keep the water fresh, too.

A car rolls through the road garage, and the bidding begins

It Happens Each Month in Lansing

By DENNIS KEENON

By 10 a.m. Saturday, February 21, you couldn't find a place to park.

Cars were lined a half mile up Canal Road, many partially on the roadway, and people were trudging through slush that had blanketed the Lansing area overnight toward a State Highway and Transportation Department garage off Saginaw Street near I-96.

Around 600 persons, some traveling hundreds of miles, had braved slippery roads and miserable Michigan weather that morning for one reason — a chance to get a good deal on a car or truck at the monthly vehicle auction conducted by the State Department of Management and Budget, Purchasing Division.

"We get at least 400 people at the auctions and sell between 150 and 200 vehicles a month," Douglas Dodge, Department of Management and Budget, explained.

The vehicles all are state-owned, Dodge said. Some are in excellent condition, some are not.

"We've had some nice cars go through the auction," he said. "We auctioned off a Mercury used by Allison Green (state treasurer). Other vehicles, of course, may need repairs."

Different departments and branches in state government, Dodge explained, have different policies about trading in their fleets.

"For example," he said, "Michigan State University is getting rid of its 1975 vehicles with 23,000 or more miles. My department's policy is three years or 70,000 miles."

In general, monies gained at the auction are funneled back to the department or branch which used the car, Dodge said.

Action at the auction can become hot and heavy. Vehicles up for bids are parked in back of the road garage where the actual auction takes place.

"The wise bidder," Dodge observed, "will come here the day before the auction and look over the lot. And he should pick out more than one vehicle. If he loses out on his first pick, he won't have to scurry back outside to look them over again."

In the back parking lot, muddy and slushy on this Saturday, persons are scrutinizing the merchandise, opening up hoods to inspect engines, checking out tires and starting the cars.

All prospective bidders are given typed sheets, listing bidding rules and a brief description of all vehicles to be auctioned, including what repairs they may need.

The vehicles may be listed as being in excellent condition or remarks such as "needs horn, brakes, shocks, front end loose, uses oil" may be included on the bid sheet.

Cars and trucks to be sold are driven from the back parking lot through the road garage, where it's wall-to-wall people and the auctioneer and his helpers are running the show from a platform near the middle of the building.

People have a final opportunity to make a quick inspection as the car rolls through and the bidding begins.

"We have a list of how much money we think the vehicle should go for," Dodge said, "but we don't hold out for the top dollar on every car because that wouldn't be fair to the bidders. Eventually, they'd find someplace else to go where they could deal for less money."

The state started auctioning its vehicles 14 years ago, Dodge said, at first, exclusively to dealers, before opening it up to the public seven or eight years ago.

"We still get dealers from Ohio, Indiana, New York and we have one who comes from South Dakota three times a year," Dodge said.

From time to time, other vehicle auctions are held in Marquette, Gaylord and Clarkston. Lansing's next auction will be Saturday, March 20, while one is scheduled June 5 in Clarkston, at 8120 White Lake Road.

"Although we've been around a long time, a lot of people still don't know about our auctions," Dodge said. "It's an opportunity to get a pretty good deal."

BICENTENNIAL WAGON TRAIN

A Pilgrimage of wagons from all over the country to Pennsylvania in celebration of our nation's 200th birthday is an experience no one should pass up!

The Michigan Horse Council will be the official coordinator of Michigan's participation. The Council is inviting everyone — horseman and non-horseman — to join in the event. If you can't ride, hitch up a team, if you can't find a team, hoof it. Many of our ancestors walked the major part of the journey west.

Michigan's official wagon leaves Lansing on May 5. Driving it through to Valley Forge will be George and Doris Miller of Belleville with their two children, Laura and Eric.

Pulling the wagon will be a team of Belgian horses owned by Orlo Roberts, also of Belleville.

The wagon train will travel short distances the first few days in order to accommodate inexperienced travelers. The first encampment will be in Charlotte, the next in Bellevue. Then on to Battle Creek where there will be a "People Show." The people on the wagons will be judged according to performance, instead of the horses.

Classes to be entered include: famous figures, authentic western, authentic

Local Women Observe World Day of Prayer

Women from the Brighton, South Lyon, and Northville-Novu areas will join millions of people from 169 countries in a chain of prayer this Friday (March 5) when the ninetieth annual World Day of Prayer is celebrated.

On Friday, Protestant, Catholic, and orthodox women from many races and languages will express their unity in Christ, and share an offering to aid hungry and needy persons around the world.

The worldwide ecumenical service is sponsored by the International Committee for World Day of Prayer, which has appointed Church Women United official sponsor of the celebration in the U.S.

Women in local units of Church Women United have prepared services which explore the application of faith to cross-cultural problems.

In the U.S., offerings go to a fund administered by the Intercontinental Mission Committee of Church Women United, which supports a variety of educational projects.

Women's colleges in Asia, the Middle East, and the Orient receive annual grants from World Day of Prayer offerings. The Committee on Christian Literature for Women and Children, founded with World Day of Prayer gifts, also receives an annual grant.

Annual gifts are also made for Christian ministries in national parks, and for scholarships for women through the World Council of Churches and to the International Committee for the World Day of Prayer for leadership training.

Offerings also make possible gifts for short-term projects.

This year, gifts are being made through Church World Service and UNICEF for projects in Niger, the Malagasy Republic, and Bolivia to provide safe and accessible water supplies.

Contributions are also being made for legal defense and family assistance for political prisoners, under repressive regimes, for physical and psychological rehabilitation of political refugees in Latin America, and to projects which help women make full contributions in their communities.

Locally, World Day of Prayer Services are being held in the following communities.

Brighton

Church Women United will hold a service for all Brighton area women at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, 730 Rickett Road, at 1 p.m.

Babysitting will be available during the service, and refreshments will be served after.

South Lyon

The South Lyon area observance will be hosted this year by the women of the First United Presbyterian Church. A coffee hour at 10 a.m. precedes the religious service which begins at 10:30 a.m. Coffee will be served in the basement dining room. Baby sitting will be available. The public is invited to attend.

A combined choir of members of the four participating churches — South Lyon and New Hudson United Methodist, St. Joseph Catholic and Presbyterian — will present special music.

Northville-Novu

Novi United Methodist Church, 41671 West Ten Mile Road, will host a 10:30 a.m. service for Northville-Novu women.

The service is being planned jointly by women from Northville and Novi Methodist churches, the Church of the Holy Family in Novi, the First Presbyterian Church in Northville and Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church of Northville.

Music will be provided by a choir of women from the five participating churches.

READY—These women from the Novi United Methodist Church are ready to participate in the upcoming World Day of Prayer

"HEY CULLIGAN MAN!"

The picturesque church building located at Angle and Tower Roads near South Lyon, known through the years as Salem-Walker Country Church, will reopen this Sunday. A 2:30 p.m. service is planned with the Reverend Jack Briggs bringing the message.

This special service will be highlighted by music by the Brighton Aires and others. The public is invited to attend.

Pastor Briggs and his wife, Ethel, longtime residents of the South Lyon area, are spearheading this new endeavor. The new church will be "completely independent, fundamental and missionary, according to Mr. Briggs. Regular Sunday morning services are planned for succeeding weeks at the church which has been closed for most of the winter.

"It was while we were living in South Lyon (the family came from Pennsylvania in 1941) that we were converted to Christ by the efforts of a Baptist pastor from Plymouth in the fall of 1950," Mr. Briggs recalls.

Soon after this conversion, the Briggs family started to attend services at the Salem-Walker Church where the late Pastor Patrick Clifford from Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth was preaching. "It was under his ministry that I answered the call to preach the Gospel of Christ and we surrendered our lives to go forth in missionary work," says the local pastor.

"In 1952 our family of five

A Communion Service is planned for 7:30 p.m. today, Ash Wednesday, by the Cross of Christ Lutheran Church at South Lyon. The congregation currently meets at Kiwanis Hall while their new church is being built.

South Lyon Methodists meet tonight (Wednesday) for a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. followed by a Charge Conference at 8 p.m. The new parsonage proposal will be presented to the Conference and all members of the church will be eligible to vote on the plan. Holy Communion will be served by Dr. Milton Bank following the Charge Conference.

Potluck dinners followed by worship services are planned for six consecutive Wednesdays during Lent.

The first Lenten Vespers will be held tonight (Wednesday) at the South Lyon Immanuel Lutheran Church at 7 p.m.

The Mariners group from the First Presbyterian Church in Brighton will attend the Livingston County Players' production of "Don't Drink the Water" this Saturday, March 6, at 8 p.m. at the Mill Pond Theatre. Tickets cost $2.50 per person.

Those interested in attending should call Ken or Sally Everett at 227-7167 for reservations.

The Reverend Howard A. Snyder, executive director of Light and Life Men International, will speak at the Highland Church of the Nazarene, 1211 West Livingston Road, on Sunday March 7 at 10 and 11 a.m.

A graduate of Spring Arbor and Greenville Colleges and the Asbury Theological Seminary, Mr. Snyder served as a Free Methodist Church missionary in Brazil from 1968 to 1975. He is also contributing editor to several religious publications.

Ukrainian Pysanky shown by Cecelia Ference

Egg Decorating Set Saturday

Ukrainian Pysanky, the ancient art of egg decorating, will be demonstrated March 6 at 1 p.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in South Lyon by Cecelia Ference of Saline.

Mrs. Ference tells this tale (one of several in their folklore) of how it came to pass that the Ukrainian people adopted the art of Pysanky as part of their beloved cultural traditions.

"The story is of Mother Mary, whose tears fell on a basket of plain eggs — at the time Jesus was crucified. "When someone looked at the basket, they saw that those eggs were plain no longer, but instead were marvelously designed and of all colors of Pysanky as part of their beautiful!

"When Mary stood up, the eggs fell out of the basket and rolled in all the directions of the compass — thus symbolizing the birth of Christianity all over the world. "There is even a tradition belief among many Ukrainians," Mrs. Ference explains, "that as long as there are Pysanky, the world shall continue to exist. It is as though they are a talisman against the "Evil One" who is intent on destroying the world with his wickedness."

Many Ukrainian traditions of the Easter season center around the Pysanky making. Dyes were prepared — some by old secret recipes, Kistka's, a 'tool' used for writing on the egg with hot wax, were made as everyone had a favorite way of making one that "worked perfectly".

The intricately beautiful designs are "drawn" on the egg and it is from this that the name "Pysanka" or "written" is derived.

Mrs. Ference will demonstrate designs, dyeing techniques, and finishing of the products. She notes that the stylized flowers, deer, chickens and trees drawn on Pysanky do not require any particular artistic talent.

A Sonnet

Be happy, carefree; smile with me this day.
Enjoy the fields, the trees, earth's warmth, the sky;
And wander with me down beside the bay.
Let's watch the chipmunks as they scamper by,
Then pause to peek at us. White swallows glide
Across the sky, then dip toward gentle waves.
Inhale the scent of pines that rise beside
The sandy shore. Oh Lord, how nature raves!
Though winters come with dull gray clouds and cold,
And rains relentlessly engulf the land,
They merely play a role that's very old:
Their script will never change. So take my hand
And stroll with me this wondrous summer day,
And love this precious life till sun's last ray.

By Ruth Burlas

Wisdom

Life and death go side by side,
Like love and friends
Or strength and pride.
They're not opposites
They're parallels;
Death brings new life to someone, somehow,
Although it's not visible on the surface right now,
And if between your birth and your dying day
You help but one person along the way
Your life's not been a loss,
It's been for a good cause.

Grandpa helped me.

Lessons

We will try from day to day
To do the best we can;
If we stumble on the way,
It may be in the plan

That we get some bumps and bruises
As we learn to understand
That there are no real excuses
To be used to countermand

The lessons to be learned
As we move along the road
Toward the point of our objective
And the lifting of our load.

It is not for one to state
Just what we need to know
In order to equate
The lesson with the blow.

We need to lend an ear
To the voice from deep within
That guides, if we but hear
Toward the goal that we would win.

Charles E. Hutton

I Call Her Sunshine

I've never been able to understand
Why her affection is so much in demand
She's so full of love, but she holds it inside
All her emotions, she can't seem to divide

When she's excited her face will flush
Her cheeks take on a rosy blush
Her eyes cast off a certain glow
She's different than anyone I know

She'll sit for awhile
She'll listen and smile
She'll never miss a word
You know you've been heard

She'll always protect everyone's reputation
She defends each and all whatever the situation
She won't recognize a rumor
I wish I possessed her humor

She'll find something beautiful in everything you say
I guess it's because she's made that way
I am sure she's learned to master this art
From giving and sharing of her heart

Learn to Love

To learn to Love,
It's a very simple thing.

We have only to listen to each other;
to understand each other.
I have tried to understand, but sometimes people just don't make any sense.

We must learn to trust.
I didn't trust you,
but now I do.
Isn't that proof that I am trying, too?

Together, we have many things to do, places to go, people to meet
But, we only need to take that first step onto our feet.

I know I've tried,
And, I know I'm learning.
How about you?
Are you trying to understand my fears; tears, and laughter?

I have only one more thing to say,
Please Try.

Jean Marie Stark

Good Worker

Turn my work in every day,
Don't ignore and play.
Ask if I have to,
Don't turn away.
Teachers are for help,
Not delay.
Check my plan,
Don't go stray.
That is how to be a good worker
Every day.

Ellen McClure
Age 7

Editor's Note: The following was written by 16-year-old Rick Miller in memory of his grandfather, the late Lyle Rakestraw of Eight Mile Road.

Why?

Why?

Why do people live?
Why do we die?
What makes us laugh?
Why do we cry?

"I don't know my boy,"
My grandfather would say,
"But we all do,
And no one knows for sure
What makes us blue
Or why we hang on to life,
Or why we were created
Or are destroyed.

But we all do
So do you,
And so shall you.

Some day maybe you'll know,
What you can't say—
Or show—
Or express—
You'll just know.
And you'll tell your grandson
What I'm telling you."

He told me.

1-3 Card Of Thanks

The family of Gerald B. Raymor wish to express their thanks to all their relatives and friends for the many expressions of sympathy and kindness shown us during our recent bereavement. A special thanks to Pastor Speight for his comforting words.

Mr. & Mrs. Jerry L. Raymor
Mr. & Mrs. Terry Sharrard
Mr. & Mrs. Richard L. Whitaker

The family of Wilson Bishop extend their deepest gratitude and thanks to the many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy with flowers, cards and calls. A special thanks to Rev. Mitchinson for his kind words and support and to the ladies of the United Methodist Church of New Hudson, to the pall bearers who have known him thru the years, to Dick Phillips, always so thoughtful.

Brenda and Bob Briggs

1-3 Card Of Thanks

I would like to thank all who sent cards and offered assistance during my convalescence.

Don Coe

The family of Leonard King wish to express their thanks to the South Lyon Ambulance Service for their promptness, to Monsignor A.A. Matyr, to the ladies of the Altar Society for the delicious dinner, to all who donated food to our home and to the church, to the many relatives, friends and neighbors, without them we would have never managed to endure our loss of a dear husband and father, for the many floral tributes, masses, and donations to the heart fund. Special thanks to Mrs. Tena King, Tony and Mary Ann Galika, Jim and Vickie Greer, Mr. Joe Charron, and Phillips Funeral Home.

Mrs. Leonard King
Melody, Sharon and Remi

1-4 In Memoriam

In loving memory of dear husband and dad Louis A. Lanning who passed away March 8, 1965. Today is a day of remembrance and many sad regrets and a day we shall always remember when the rest of the world forgets. You bade no one a last farewell, not even said goodbye. You were gone before we knew it and only God knows why.

traveled to Pennsylvania to attend The New Tribes Missionary Training Institute for our preparation for foreign service. Upon completion of this, we sailed from New York City to Venezuela, South America to work with the jungle Indian tribe known as the Piaros for three and one-half years."

Returning to the States, the Briggs worked in the missionary training program serving as assistant director and as counselors and teachers. Mr. Briggs ministered as an evangelist and a pastor in much of the United States for more than 14 years.

His most recent pastorate was at the Baptist Mission in Howell, sponsored by the First Baptist Church of South Lyon.

Free factory air conditioning.

A savings of $425 off list price.

Take it from Ed McMahon:

- Better hurry. Buy a 1976 Pacer now at any AMC Dealer, the way you want it, and we'll include factory installed air conditioning free. This offer good for limited time only.
- Pacer is the first wide small car (even wider than Granada, Nova and Volare).
- Pacer's width means outstanding interior roominess and seating comfort.
- Pacer's wide stance means an exceptionally smooth and stable ride.
- And Pacer is backed by the wide coverage of AMC's exclusive BUYER PROTECTION PLAN.
- It all adds up to one terrific value. Yet the price of this Pacer, including free air conditioning, is only ...

$3499*

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price, factory air conditioning included. Destination charges, dealer prep, other options and taxes not included. Fleet and military sales excluded.

Shown with optional W/S/W tires [$36] and wheel covers [$32]

NEW EMPLOYEES of James Cutler Realty, corner of Rayson and Center streets in Northville, are Andy Henderson, E. Lyn Henderson, Lloyd Morgan and Peggy Hoag.

PINCH-HITTING for Northville's new A&P store, located on Seven Mile Road east of Northville Road near the new State Police headquarters now under construction, Al Kaline was a top attraction this past week in signing autographs for baseball fans. Here he signs an autograph for Chris Schrot of Northville.

BOB EBERTH of Wilson Ford-Mercury Sales in Brighton, has attained membership in the Ford Society of Professional Sales Counselors for 1975, the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company recently announced.

Society membership only can be attained by those Ford salesmen who display outstanding sales achievement during the calendar year.

Eberth has been with Wilson since 1972.

CARL E. PFEIFFER, president of Michigan Seamless Tube Company, and George S. Dillon, chairman of Airco, Inc., today jointly announced an agreement under which Michigan Seamless Tube Company will purchase the assets, properties and businesses of Airco's Viking Division.

Under terms of the preliminary agreement, the Viking Division, whose sales were in excess of $16 million, will be sold for about $10 million, representing approximately net book value, which will be more specifically determined by audit as of February 29, 1976.

Airco's Viking Division is a producer of titanium, nickel-base-alloy and stainless steel forged seamless rings, principally used in aircraft and turbine engines. The division also produces specialty forgings and extrusions from high-temperature, high-strength alloys. These products are sold mainly to the electronic, petroleum, nuclear and petrochemical industries.

Michigan Seamless Tube Company and its divisions manufacture carbon and alloy seamless steel tubing and welded carbon, alloy, and stainless steel tubing from steel billets and coils at mills in South Lyon and Detroit, Michigan, and Rosenberg, Texas. A plant in Shelby, Ohio, manufactures fabricated parts from welded steel tubing. The MacSteel Division at Jackson, Michigan, produces steel bars by the unique (CCC) continuous centrifugal casting method using steel scrap as raw material. The U.S. Broach & Machine Company, subsidiary, with plants in Detroit, Michigan, and Sumter, South Carolina, produces broaching machines and tools.

Michigan Seamless Tube Company employs about 1,657 persons. Its sales for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1975 were $124.7 million.

Asked why Airco had decided to sell, an Airco spokesman replied, "We concluded it was not a necessary adjunct to our businesses and that it was not likely to achieve its full potential within our organization."

Michigan Seamless Tube President Carl E. Pfeiffer said that Michigan believes it can expand the Viking product line in a manner that will complement Michigan's present product line.

WILLIAM L. MIRON has been elected president of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee, the non-profit organization whose chief function is to attract and sustain a healthy tax base in the community. Other officers include John S. Canterbury, vice-chairman; William S. Milne, treasurer; and Steven Walters, secretary.

PHILIP GOLDSMITH, of Novi, has been named manager of a Sentry Drug Store in Southgate.

A registered pharmacist, Goldsmith graduated from Wayne State University in 1972 with a Bachelor of Science degree in pharmacy.

More Metric Signs Appear on Roads

Motorists in Michigan are going to see more signs on state highways giving distances in both miles and kilometers.

Two new signs have been erected by the Department of State Highways and Transportation on Interstate 94 Freeway showing distances to Chicago and Detroit in both miles and kilometers. The westbound I-94 sign near Watervliet reads "Chicago 100 miles (161 kilometers)" and the eastbound I-94 sign near Albion reads "Detroit 100 miles (161 kilometers)." (One mile is equal to 1.61 kilometers.)

To help prepare the public for an expected nationwide conversion to the metric system, 21 signs showing distances in both miles and kilometers were erected on US-27 between Lansing and Grayling in 1973.

Five such signs have been erected as part of a sign and roadside upgrading project on US-23 between I-94 and I-96 near Brighton. The sign on northbound US-23 near Whitmore Lake reads "Brighton 14 miles (23 kilometers)" and "Flint 50 miles (80 kilometers)." The four similar signs on southbound US-23 give distances to Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Plymouth and Toledo, Ohio, in both miles and kilometers.

Two signs giving distances in miles and kilometers have been posted on Interstate 696 between I-96 and US-10 freeways in Oakland County.

Four additional signs showing distances between cities will be posted on I-94 between Detroit and Port Huron and 32 signs in miles

By CLIFF HILL

I don't like to write about the "seamy" side of travel yet I was virtually shocked into doing this article when I read police statistics indicating that every ten minutes somewhere in the United States a hotel or motel room is stripped of valuables by some thief — a burglar belonging to an elite class of room-strippers.

Hotels of high repute (and even higher room rates) tend to put a lid on release of any news about robberies in and on their premises. Their motto seems to be, "If it's bad for business — hide the facts!"

You might be interested in some observations gleaned from my meager travel experiences:

First, after checking in, go to your room, assemble your valuable jewelry; then, after taking out enough for one day's expenditures, take the remainder of your valuables to the hotel safe deposit division where you can place it all for security. This is the first and great commandment.

Second: Don't rely on hotel detectives to guard your room. They are mostly concerned with guarding the hotel's reputation, quieting celebrating drunks, and "shooing" out prostitutes.

Third: Purchase and take along a portable lock that you can jam into the inside door edge. You can also lock a closet door or a table drawer with this device.

Fourth: Don't be a "friendly" vacationer! Strangers, some wearing your lodge, fraternity, or church pin, may attempt a conversation with you in bar or lobby — ignore them. If you must, be polite, but you don't owe them a duty for even that. These "glad-handers" are seeking background information to facilitate their use of your credit cards, and to find out when you'll be out of your room so they can rip off your valuables.

Five: At check-in, when you receive your room key, never return it to desk clerk until you finally check out at departure time.

Six: Don't leave costly cameras, purses, or expensive equipment around your room. Lock them up in your luggage, then put your luggage in a locked closet. (I have often been acutely suspicious of cleaning maids and room service personnel.)

Seven: Don't believe the ads about how easy it is to replace stolen or lost Traveler's Checks. It's always a difficult and time consuming effort that can spoil a vacation. So put what you don't need for that day in hotel safety deposit. When you use this service insist on enrolling your mother's maiden name on your signature card for additional identification — in case you misplace deposit key.

Eighth: Pray!

Hither and Yon

You are leaving your hotel for a short or medium-distant destination. Don't choose a taxi cab with assistance from the pompously dressed doorman. Never, not ever!

Walk through waiting lines of cabs to the curbside 100 feet away and hail a vacant cab. The driver will be delighted because he probably thought the waiting line was too long with which to compete. Drivers of lined-up cabs will appreciate it, too. They're hoping for an airport trip of at least $20. In disgust, waiting cabbies sometimes "stretch" your trip to make up for their disappointment.

League of Women Voters

Fair Housing in Advertising Boosted

The League of Women Voters and area REALTORS are cooperating in a program to encourage compliance with fair housing laws and to increase awareness of equal housing opportunities in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Results of a 30-month League monitoring project are being presented. The Housing Action Committee surveyed more than 5000 newspaper real estate display ads in 20 area newspapers to determine if they complied with HUD advertising guidelines for fair housing.

Discrimination in advertising, renting, and selling housing is illegal. The League of Women Voters of the Detroit Metropolitan Area believes the public is not aware that equal access to housing is required by the 1968 federal and state Fair Housing Laws. A great many people, particularly minorities, do not realize that everyone has the right to live in any house he can afford anywhere.

A prospective buyer may first learn of available housing through newspaper advertising. The Equal Housing Opportunity logo, created by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, signifies that housing is available for sale or rent to everyone. That logo is a house with an equal sign inside and the words "Equal Housing Opportunity" underneath.

The League of Women Voters is seeking to educate the public to recognize and understand the Equal Housing Opportunity logo. The League received a grant from the Ford Foundation to produce and distribute a 30-second television public service film explaining that logo. The film, created by the award-winning Crunch Bird Studios of Detroit, has been distributed nationally as well as to local TV stations. (See Appendix I.)

HUD's Advertising Guidelines for Fair Housing specify how the Equal Housing Opportunity logo should be used in real estate display advertisements (See Appendix II). The League sent letters to the real estate firms whose ads were monitored in 1973 and 1974 urging REALTORS to evaluate the spirit with which they were conveying Equal Opportunity in their advertising (See Appendix III).

Mrs. Ann Wettlaufer who tabulated the results of the League's Housing Action Committee said, "We believe the study shows that the League's monitoring has made a difference in the amount of indication of equal housing opportunities in real estate display ads."

The firms that were monitored and contacted in 1973 showed significant increase in their compliance with advertising guidelines in 1974. But the high percentage of non-complying firms monitored for the first time in 1975 indicates a lack of awareness of the federal guidelines which were established three years ago.

The 1975 survey showed that in only one newspaper, the Livonia Observer and Eccentric, did all of the real estate ads include indication of equal housing opportunity. Mrs. Wettlaufer pointed out that some advertisers used the equal opportunity symbol in one newspaper but not another.

The study was undertaken in connection with the national League of Women Voters' position of support of programs to promote equal housing opportunity. The project was begun after both HUD and state civil rights officials told the League that no government agency had the staff to monitor housing ads.

"We know that more than advertising is needed to make all persons aware that equal housing is available to them,"

Mrs. Wettlaufer said. "Some of the necessary steps are the combined efforts of (1) government agencies enforcing fair housing laws, (2) the real estate industry affirmatively marketing, (3) the mortgage industry affirmatively lending, and (4) the news media publicizing that all housing is available to everyone who can afford it wherever it is."

The League hopes this study will "encourage the appropriate agencies and society as a whole to work for compliance with the fair housing laws," Mrs. Wettlaufer concluded. Copies of the final report are being given to HUD, the Justice Department, the Michigan Department of Civil Rights, and area real estate groups.

The study was done by the Housing Action Committee of the League of Women Voters of the Detroit Metropolitan Area. Heading the Committee were Mrs. Paula Tobocman of the West Bloomfield-Farmington League, Mrs. Joyce Mittenthal of the Detroit League, and Mrs. Ann Wettlaufer of the Birmingham - Bloomfield League. Representatives from each of the 16 local Leagues in the tri-county area participated in the monitoring project.

and kilometers will be posted on I-75 between Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie under general sign and roadside upgrading projects, possibly beginning this year.

Ninety-two percent of the world's population uses the metric system or is committed to "metrication," which uses grams, liters and meters, for example, rather than ounces, quarts and yards.

President Ford in December signed a bill declaring it the policy of the United States to plan increasing use of the metric system and to establish a U.S. Metric Board to coordinate and encourage voluntary conversion.

Many private companies, particularly those involved in international trading, are gradually adopting the metric system. Engineers in the Department of State Highways and Transportation have used metric measurements in designing a bridge and section of highway in preparation for an eventual conversion to the metric system.

The metric system was devised in the 18th and 19th centuries to meet more precise needs of technological progress and to standardize measure. It measures distance, weight and volume in units related to every other metric use by a factor of 10, so conversion between units is simple.

Although the metric system was legalized for use in the United States in 1866, it never replaced the older, more cumbersome but already established "English system." Today both systems are used in physics, chemistry, photography, medicine and military ordnance.

New Low Tar Entry Packs Taste Of Cigarettes Having 60% More Tar.

'Enriched Flavor' idea succeeds—increases taste of new 9 mg. tar MERIT without the usual increase in tar.

You can write today for a study conducted by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion for Philip Morris showing new MERIT delivers as much—or more—flavor than five current leading low tar cigarettes.

Brands having up to 60% more tar than MERIT!

The reason is 'Enriched Flavor.' An extraordinary taste find developed and perfected after years of research at our Richmond Research Center.

And it's only in MERIT. At 9 mg., lower in tar than 98% of all cigarettes sold today.

If you smoke—you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, tested at home.*

The results were conclusive.

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

Maier and Mills Place in State

Novi's Doug Maier lost two matches while winning four to place fifth in the State Class B Wrestling Championships Saturday.

The two defeats suffered by Maier were to the state champ of a year ago and to the eventual winner of this year's tourney.

Maier in his first match took on the eventual state champ, Mark Krager of Lake Shore and was edged 7-3. "Doug had him in a

Three consecutive victories were rattled off by Maier before he lost to last year's champ Mike Degain from Madison.

"Doug was winning with 40 seconds to go. Then he made a mistake and got pinned," Gardner explained.

Maier beat Brett Pittelcow of Hastings, 6-5 to place fifth.

"It was disappointing because Doug was two mistakes away from being the state champ," related Gardner.

Kevin Mills placed 13th in the state despite losing both of his matches.

Since his first loss was to the eventual champion, Mills moved up in the rankings.

"Kevin did very well when you consider he has only been wrestling for a year and a half," Gardner said.

Mount Pleasant High School won the team title.

The Novi wrestling team finished the year with a 13-2 overall record and finished second in the Southeastern Conference with a 6-1 league mark. The Wildcat grapplers also had several fine tournament performances.

Doug Maier took the crown for most pins with 21 and most total points earned at 184.

The team voted Sasena the most aggressive wrestler, Doug Maier the most outstanding, and Mark Mills the most improved.

The Wildcats will be losing six seniors due to graduation but should still be tough with eight returning lettermen.

Mustangs Sink Churchill; League Meet This Week

Northville swimmers smashed Livonia Churchill 123-49 to set the stage for this week's Western Six League Meet.

"I did not want to pour it on; I just wanted everybody to get ready for the league meet," Coach Ben Lauber commented on the one-sided victory.

Coach Lauber's reasoning makes sense since the League Meet is this Thursday and Saturday at Churchill.

Thursday the preliminaries start at 4 p.m. and the finals will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday.

"Spectator support means a lot to the swimmers," Lauber stated with hopes of a good turnout for the league meet.

Northville, Harrison and an improved Plymouth Canton squad are the teams that should finish first through third, Lauber noted.

Northville has the depth to place four boys in every event and with seedings according to best times, the Mustangs would seem to be the favorites.

"I'm looking forward to a nice performance at the league meet. Our swimmers are up for it and really excited," Lauber continued.

In the Churchill meet, the 200 yard medley relay team of Carl Haynie, Matt Sullivan, Steve Laffler and Pete Couse finished first with a time of 1:52.1 and Dean Alii, Bob Simone, Randy Roggenbuck and Mark Yanoshik followed close behind.

Sophomore Bruce Hackman's time of 2:01.9 was his best of the year and good enough to take first in the 200

Dennis Weyburne finished second in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:02.1 surpassing his season's best.

Joe Devereaux, Ed Erdos, Haynie and Sullivan all captured firsts.

Coach Lauber found Derek Gan's performance in the 500 yard freestyle especially gratifying as his second-place time of 5:38.0 was 10 seconds faster than his best of the year.

Roggenbuck and freshman Bill Lockwood also swam the fastest they had all season.

Senior Defense

Playing their last home game, seniors Biff McAllister and Don Durocher clamp a tight defense against South Lyon. Scott Parsons

Parson Scores 47

Novi's Defense Rips South Lyon

Scott Parsons pumped in 47 points to lead Novi to a 76-67 victory over South Lyon Friday night.

The sparkling scoring performance bettered the school record for most points in one game formerly held by John VanWagner with 39.

Parsons not only scored big but collected seven steals, six assists and seven rebounds. "It was undoubtedly the best game of his life," Coach

Ron Flutur said.

After starting all his seniors in their last home game appearance, Flutur substituted when Novi fell behind 14-6 in the first quarter.

John Pisha, Bob Bannatz and Bill Giorgio came off the bench to join Parsons and Dave Pisha and proceeded to score the game's next eighteen points.

"Our defense was good in the second quarter. Because of steals that turned into layups, we scored 31 points in the second quarter," Flutur said proudly.

Up by 19 points late in the third quarter, Flutur cleared the bench and South Lyon whittled the final margin of victory to nine points.

Dave Pisha hit for eight points and snared 13 rebounds to support Parsons' fine game. Parsons was named starting forward on the All-Southeastern squad. Bannatz and Giorgio earned honorable mentions.

The Wildcats last night battled league foe Lincoln in the opening round of State Tournament District play. Novi will play Thursday and Saturday, unless they lose.

Bob Blakmer's rebound shot with eight seconds left in the game lifted the Novi JV's to a 54-53 victory over South Lyon Friday.

The Wildcats were ahead throughout the entire game until South Lyon took the lead 53-52. With 20 seconds to go Blackmer canned his only field goal of the night.

South Lyon had beaten Novi by 23 points earlier in the year so the one-point-revenge victory was especially gratifying to Coach Brian Howard's squad.

"This was the best game we've played all year. We cut down on our turnovers, improved our shooting and played good defense," Howard beamed.

"We really improved over the entire year and the kids really worked hard," noted Howard.

The JV cagers ended the season with a 6-12 overall record and 5-9 in Southeastern Conference play.

Bill McCauley and Brad McQuiston each hit the twines for 11 points. Mike Bizeau added nine while Kevin Pyant netted seven for the winners. Novi hit 16 of 29 from the freethrow line and 19 of 47 from the field.

Schoolcraft Places Third; Ready for Nationals

The Schoolcraft College gymnastics team has completed its regular season and is now preparing for national competition which begins March 12.

At the Triton Invitational in Chicago on February 13, the Ocelots placed third. Co-captain Brian Ratliff took a first place on rings with a new school record of 88.55 points, and a second place on parallel bars. John Timm and co-captain Doug Foster placed fifth and seventh respectively in the all-around, and Bill Mainville placed fifth in long horse vaulting.

The Ocelots set a new team scoring record with 116.15 points while placing third in a tri-meet against DuPage College (126.15) and Eastern Michigan University (132.20) on February 20. Led by Foster with a record setting 8.05 on floor exercise, Ratliff followed with an 8.2 on rings and a 7.9 on parallel bars, and Mainville tallied a personal high of 8.1 in vaulting. John Timm finished just six-tenths of a point from a new all-around record with his score of 36.95. Other team members contributing to the record team score were Cliff Hurd, Lyle Percival, Dave Boehm and Jeff Piotrowski.

The Ocelots will compete in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) gymnastics championships at DuPage College in Chicago on March 12 and 13.

EASY LAYUP—Mark Lisowski of Northville drives towards the basket for an easy underhand dog shot. Churchill thrashed the Mustangs by 20 to capture the Western Six championship Friday.

Coach Pleased with Hard Work

Despite her team's two losses in the last two outings Coach Debbie Davis is extremely pleased with the Northville girl gymnasts.

Ann Arbor defeated the home-townners 119-70, but Coach Davis was especially proud of the score since Ann Arbor was a good team and five of the Northville girls missed the meet because of cheerleading duties and illness.

One week ago against Wayne Memorial the Northville girls posted their highest point total of the year but still lost, 102-79.

Sue Kinnaird placed second in vaulting and teammates Natalie Folino and Dana Foster captured fourth and fifth, respectively.

Marianne Neff and Natalie Folino tied for first in the floor exercises and Brett Evans, usually a tumbler, captured a fifth the first time she had competed.

Andy Conder captured a first on the trampoline and Michelle Kouts gained a fourth.

The girls had their best luck on the balance beam placing second, third, fourth and fifth. Joan Davis, Ester Fountain, Natalie Folino and Marianne Neff were the girls who placed.

Despite having broken uneven parallel bars at the school for two months and not being able to practice, Joan Davis placed fourth.

Lose to Churchill

Northville Cagers Fall Apart

Hopes of playing the role of "spoiler" were quickly banished as Livonia Churchill got off to a quick 17-3 first-quarter lead and went on to smash Northville 56-36 to clinch an undisputed Western Six Championship last Friday.

"It was a disappointing end of the year. We just folded the last three weeks," Coach Walt Koepke confessed.

"Teams that we had played even earlier in the year annihilated us at the end of the season," commented the baffled Koepke.

Churchill stretched their 30-14 half time lead to a 19 point third-quarter margin, and it was apparent that Churchill had wrapped up the conference crown.

Cris Armada, despite being plagued by fouls and injuries, managed to lead the Mustangs limited scoring attack with 15 points.

Tom Bay and Dave Clare led the Churchill charge with 16 and 14 points respectively.

Jay Slagle and Bill Picollo each came down with eight rebounds.

The Mustangs will be taking on the winner of the Trenton-Detroit Mumford game today as March Madness gets under way with the Districts. The game will begin at 4:00 p.m. at Mumford.

Koepke and other suburban coaches are upset with the district pairings which have suburban teams traveling to Detroit Public School League's gyms.

The logic behind this is to allow more Detroit teams to make it into the regionals without having to knock each other out.

The long travel involved and the afternoon starting time do not permit working parents to attend the game. This is what bolsters Koepke.

"We should play teams in the area like we have in the past: Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington," suggested Koepke.

Senior guard Cris Armada was named to the first team of the All-Western Six squad. Churchill's Dave Clare, Matt Foster, and Tom Bay joined Armada and Mike Styles of Harrison to the first team.

Tony Armada was voted by the coaches to the second team, and Mark Lisowski earned an honorable mention.

Because Mike Graham underwent surgery yesterday on his left knee, Pete Wright will be brought up from the JV's to replace him in the tournament.

The Northville JV Basketball team ended the season with a 46-44 victory over Livonia Churchill last Friday. "Jeff Norton played a good ball game. He went to the board and got some clutch points," Coach Omar Harrison said.

Northville took a 26-12 lead into the locker room at half time before Churchill surged in the final two quarters.

"Churchill played a bad first half but really got hot in the second half. We just couldn't stop them," Harrison observed.

The game was tied at 35 at the end of three quarters before Norton scored a few crucial buckets.

The Mustangs could have pulled away but a dismal 4 of 17 performance from the charity stripe made things close.

Norton ended the game with 12 points and Pete Wright clicked for 11.

Doug Harding snared 10 rebounds and tallied nine points despite playing over an injury.

The jayvee cagers ended the season with an 11-9 record despite not playing with a set team. The jayvee's did not always know who they would have playing with them as John Horwath, Harding and Wright all served stints with the varsity.

Coach Harrison had special commendation for three freshmen, Norton, Chris Campbell and Greg Suckow, who played together well and gave the squad extra depth.

OLV Just Keeps on Winning; Playoff Championship Next?

The Cougars of Our Lady of Victory began their quest for the CYO grade school playoff championship as they roared to their 21 and 22 wins of the season at Detroit's Bishop Borgess High School.

OLV downed Dearborn Heights St. Mel's 37-34 in a see-saw, pressure-packed game on Sunday.

Trailing by one at the half, the Northville squad out-scored the Shamrocks by four in the third stanza only to fall behind early in the fourth.

Trailing by one with 1:40 remaining, OLV regained the lead 33-32 on Pat McLaughlin's fast-break layup.

Mike Wagner hit two from the charity line to widen the margin before Dave Hammerschmidt of the Shamrocks scored on a jumper to once again close the gap.

With just seconds remaining, Todd Nadeau was fouled and calmly sank two shots to put the game on ice. Nadeau led the winners with 17 points. Wagner hit for nine and Terry Sheehan who was strong on the boards had four points.

Pat Dewan played a tenacious defensive game and added two points as did Jim Harding and McLaughlin. Dave Greer had an important foul shot.

The locals began their tourney run on Saturday when they held off a last quarter surge by Birmingham's Holy Name to win 50-39.

The Cougars enjoyed a 24 point third period lead only to see the dogged Hurricanes outscore them in the final period by 13.

Nadeau paced the balanced scoring attack with 16 points and was assisted by Wagner's 12, McLaughlin's 10, and two each by Dewan and Harding.

Northville Girls Third in Tourney

Waterford Mott became the fourth victim of the Northville Girls' Volleyball team. The exhibition team easily handled Mott, winning 15-2 and 15-0 while the varsity struggled 15-11 before matching the exhibition team's shutout.

Becky Albus single-handedly won the second game by serving 15 consecutive points.

Sheryl Wissman who contributed 11 points to the first-game win. Theresa Norris served nine points in the second game.

The Northville girls lost their chance to capture first place league honors when they dropped the deciding match to the Churchill Chargers by a score of 6-15, 15-10 and 7-13.

The varsity squad ended with a 7-3 league record.

"The back row displayed good skills by their ability to pass the ball to the setter," said Coach Jane Stubenvoll.

Patty Brown was outstanding at the net. Serving honors went to Debbie Maguire, who contributed nine points during the second game.

The exhibition team could not get things together as they lost 8-15 and 4-15.

honors in its own volleyball invitational.

Franklin beat Northville by 15-7 and 17-15, but the girls turned things around and topped Ann Arbor Pioneer 15-9 and 15-11.

The Cahill brothers topple pool records at Northville

Cahill Brothers Help Lauber Win

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following feature story is the third in a series highlighting family combinations active in Northville and Novi sports.

By KEVIN BRAZELL

Northville swimmers not only boast the Cahill brother trio but also two brother-and-sister combinations that have gained their success in the pool.

Tom and Tim Cahill are freshmen twins who Coach Ben Lauber claims "really give depth" to the varsity swim team.

The whole Cahill family is swimming oriented as Sue and Patrick swim with the AAU.

"Their parents have done well to have them enjoy swimming rather than its being a drudgery," Coach Lauber stated.

Oldest brother Jim is a junior. He is tops in the 200 and 500 yard freestyle in addition to holding the pool record for the 400 yard freestyle relay.

It was Jim who interested the twins in competitive swimming four years ago.

Both Tom and Tim are the top freshmen swimmers. Tom handles the 200 and 500 yard freestyle and Tim holds the freshman record for the individual medley.

All the brothers will swim AAU in the summer and hope in the future to go on to college and swim.

The brother-and-sister combination of Randy and Kyle Roggenbuck hold six pool records at Northville.

Kyle holds the upper hand as she has the record for the girls' medley relay, 200 freestyle, 50 freestyle, 500 freestyle, and the 400 relay. Randy holds the mark with a clocking of 57.3 for the 100 yard fly.

Saulius and Vida Mikalonis are another brother-sister combination with an impressive list of pool accomplishments.

Saulius has provided the boys' team with depth and Vida has been a record setter with the girls. Vida holds the girls' records for the medley relay, 200 individual medley, 100 yard fly, 100 freestyle, 100 yard backstroke and 400 freestyle relay.

Freshmen Jeff Lindemeir and sophomore brother Steve are both first year wrestlers for Coach Gary Emerson at Northville.

The younger Jeff came out for the team halfway through the season and then talked his older brother into joining up after the season was three-quarters gone.

They didn't really have time to learn many moves, but Emerson termed the brothers "a pleasant surprise."

Memorial Race Set

A memorial race will be run Saturday at Northville Downs in honor of Easy Irv, the popular horse which recently died.

Race fans know that Easy Irv holds the Northville track record with a clocking of two minutes flat and is pictured on the back cover of this season's program.

Jerry Grubnick of Southfield will accept a plaque on behalf of Charles and Bea Farber of Brighton who owned the horse. Grubnick was the groom for Easy Irv for most of the horse's career.

Easy Irv was a winner in his last race on December 16, 1975, with a clocking of 2:02.3 at the Northville track.

Easy Irv's career record was 133 starts, 43 firsts, 20 seconds, and 23 thirds for a combined winnings of $223,993.

After 50 nights of racing at Northville Downs, the mutual handle is up to $17,649,420, a .3 percent increase compared to this time last year.

However, attendance is down almost eleven percent. So far 162,083 have passed through the turnstiles, an average of 3,242 a night. This compares to 181,531 or a 3,631 per night average last year.

The inclement January and early February weather is probably responsible for the 10.7 percent decrease in attendance.

Fishing Winner

Francis J. Bateman, 41292 Lehigh Court, won angling recognition in the Metropolitan South Florida Fishing Tournament when he landed an eight pound seven ounce Jack in the Plug division. He fished out of Islamorada and will be awarded a citation for his catch.

Athletes of the Week

Scott Parsons netted 47 points and had seven steals, six assists and seven rebounds to pace Novi to a 76-67 victory over South Lyon. "It was without a doubt his best game of his life," Coach Ron Flutur stated after Parsons' school scoring record performance.

Three impressive victories by Doug Maier enabled him to capture fifth in the State Class B Wrestling Championship. Maier's only losses in the tournament were to the eventual state champ and last year's winner. "He was two mistakes away from being the state champ," Coach Russ Gardner said.

Patty Brown came up with some very powerful and crucial hits during the Northville Girls' Volleyball Tournament Saturday to earn Mustang of the Week. "Patty has been our strongest hitter this season and she will truly be missed next year," commented Coach Jane Slubenvoll.

Sports Shorts

The Novi varsity and JV girls' volleyball teams both came up with victories against South Lyon Friday. The varsity lost the first game 15-17 before winning 15-6 and 15-13.

Jenny Spiers tallied 12 points all in one game to propel the Ladycats JV's past South Lyon 15-2 and 15-13. Polly Sinclair and Kathy Gardella were the other leading scorers.

Saturday the girls traveled to Saline to compete in an eight-team invitational tournament and managed an impressive third place finish.

"It was a real team effort. We played exceptionally well," Coach Michalene Jaworwicz complimented.

The Ladycats will be in action tomorrow against Thurston.

Monday Night, March 15 at 7 p.m. is the final night to register for play this season in the Novi Little League.

Registrations will be held in the Commons at Novi High School.

All participants who have their eighth birthday on or before July 31, 1976 are eligible to play.

The fees range from $15 in the Minor Division to $22.50 for those in the senior league.

For further information, call player agent Dick

Hayosh, 349-8612.

Registration for baseball and softball will be held Saturday, March 13, at the Scout Building, 215 West Cady.

Leagues and rates are as follows:

Baseball: T-Ball (6-7), $10.50; H-League (8-9), $13.00; G-League (10-11), $15.50; F-League (12-13), $15.50; and E-League (14-15), $15.50.

Softball: Primary (9-11), $10.50; Intermediate (12-13), $13.00; Senior (14-15), $13.00.

Non-residents within the Northville school district will be charged an additional 50 cents to each of the above rates.

Non-residents outside the Northville school district will be charged an additional $2.00.

The promise of glamour, travel and excitement awaits all figure skaters with a knowledge of the basic jumps and spins of figure skating, and all skaters who would like a most unusual job as a line skater or star in the world-famous Ice Capades.

Auditions will be held Friday, March 12 immediately following the evening performance at Olympia Stadium in Detroit.

Applicants must be at least 17 years of age.

Audition judges will be Clifford MacGraham, Ice Capades Performance Director; Debbie Hummel Dolan, Line Captain; and the Ice Capades coaching staff.

For more information contact Rosanne Kozerski at Olympia Stadium, 895-7000

LaFave Wins

Margaret LaFave placed fourth in the 100 yard free style and sixth in the 50 yard fly for the Walled Lake Swim Club Class C meet at Taylor.

Julie Pierce claimed a fifth in the 50 yard fly and Karen Hogue captured sixth in the 100 yard breast stroke.

Mike Ward placed first in the 110 yard fly and Patricia LaFave finished first in her heat for the 100 yard free style among the 11 and 12-year-olds.

Marla Hughes had a strong showing in the Mini-meet at Clarenceville last weekend. Marla gained a third place finish in the 25 yard free style, fourth in the fifty yard free style and a sixth in the 25 yard fly.

Tell Your Wife We've Been Thinking About Her.

Of all you cherish, what's most important to you? Your wife — of course. Just think of all she does for you and your family. She's irreplaceable and if she should die, dollars can't take her place. But an adequate life insurance policy could help to get some of her many jobs done and to keep your household going. Ask your State Farm agent for details.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

Bill Fox celebrated his birthday on Sunday by entertaining his family at Topinka's in Detroit. His guests included his wife and two daughters, Robin and Lori, and their escorts. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pastor (April) of Farmington Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eli (Holly) of South Lyon.

Mrs. Janice Renn, former 12 Mile Road resident has returned home to Asheville, North Carolina after visiting her sister and her family Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cook for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilenius have returned from visiting his brother Ron Wilenius, who is stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas, and other relatives in San Antonio, Texas.

Weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Pat Sulla of 13 Mile Road were Mr. and Mrs. Don Genta and their three boys of Harrison, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Saboley and family of Sierra Drive have moved to Florida where they will be involved in the drive-in evangelism work.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fox attended the wedding of their niece Judy Matthews on Valentine's Day in Petosky.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Callan of Meadowbrook have returned from Grantham, Pennsylvania where they watched the Maranatha Bible College team wrestle with N.C.C.A.A. at Messiah College. Maranatha was 5th out of 16. Their son Roy was fourth in his group.

John Caswell, Douglas Caswell of Owenton and Rick McDonald are visiting at Bejonic, Michigan this week.

VOICE

Mrs. Mary Paonessa, well known speaker on sex education, will present her talk on "How to talk to your child on the facts of life" this Thursday evening March 4, at the Village Oaks gym. This meeting will be a joint meeting with the Novi Co-op Nursery and will begin at 8 p.m. They are expecting a large group of interested parents to attend as Mrs. Paonessa has proven to be a most popular and effective speaker.

Novi Weight Watchers

The Novi class of Weight Watchers continues to grow and the deadline for joining or rejoining at half price has been extended to March 7. Everyone is encouraged to start attending as soon as possible to be eligible for the new discount coupons to be distributed March 7 through 13. There are special rates available for senior citizens and for families. Information can be obtained by calling Rosie Tague at 349-8888. The group meets on Tuesdays at 7 p.m. - 8 p.m. at the Lutheran church on 10 Mile Road.

Novi Welcome Wagon

Spring Fling Fashion Show will be held on March 18 at Village Oaks Elementary School at 8 p.m. and anyone who can set up or help clean up is asked to call Suzanne at 348-1064. This will replace the regular monthly meeting so everyone is urged to attend or help in some way. A deadline of March 12 has been set for reservations for the couples activity on April 11 to see the Harlem Globetrotters when discount tickets are available for $3.25. This will be a family activity. The couples "dining out group" will be going to Bernette's. If interested, call Barb, 349-4653. March 16 at 1:30 p.m. will be the monthly birthday party at Whitehall Convalescent Home. The Needlearts group will be meeting on the first and third Tuesdays. For information call Connie at 477-9666. There is still a need for one more person in the book exchange. Call Jan at 349-7384. Golf will soon be starting. Call Phyllis at 349-4396.

Novi Senior Citizens

The Novi Senior Citizens met on Tuesday, February 24 and there were 45 in attendance. Present was Mrs. Rosylan Fueretes, fifth grade teacher from Orchard Hills who spoke regarding the need for senior citizens to teach youngsters knitting and crocheting skills, as well as helping with reading projects. Mr. Milan Obrenovich explained the cost involved in bus transportation which is $1 per mile divided by the number present. Another guest was Mrs. Suellen Haas, candidate for County Commissioner in the 24th District who was interested in knowing the needs of the senior citizens. Transportation and hot lunches seemed to be the needs. Anyone wishing to attend the Ice Capades should let President Alice Tank know as soon as possible in order to arrange for bus transportation. The next meeting will be Wednesday, March 10 at the Novi United Methodist Church, 41671 10 Mile. Everyone is asked to bring a passing dish and their own table service. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Norman LaMessurier.

Novi Rebekah Lodge

Next regular meeting will be March 11. Members are to be contacted for items to sell at a "silent auction" on this night. Proceeds are to be divided between the Eye Research Foundation and sending a teenager from District 6 on the pilgrimage to the United Nations.

Novi Rotary News

At the last meeting of the Novi Rotary held on Thursday at the Holiday Inn, the winning team in the membership contest was announced and members were Mike Ardelean, Lee BeGole, Duane Bell and Dick Bingham. A report was heard from those who attended the Mercy College Dinner Theater. Announcement was made of the arts and crafts show on March 20 and there was a reminder of the April 12 Novi Blood Drive.

Novi School Menu

Monday, March 8 — Chili con carne and crackers, bread and butter, pickle slices, applesauce and milk. Tuesday, March 9 — Roast beef, mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, buttered vegetables, chocolate brownies and milk.

Wednesday, March 10 — American chop suey, chow mein noodles, hot rolls and butter, pickles, fruit and milk.

Thursday, March 11 — Michigan hot dogs and buns, French fries, baked beans, fruit cup and milk.

Friday, March 12 — Creamy macaroni and cheese, tuna or peanut butter sandwiches, cabbage salad, fruited dessert and milk.

Novi Foundation

This group is a licensed non-profit organization recently formed to provide several things including scholarships for Novi residents involved in the performing arts, music, dance, voice, etc. It also is to provide seed money for groups forming or formed in Novi which are involved in the performing arts. Another project being planned is to send qualified students who live in the City of Novi to the National Music Camp at Interlochen. Funds for this will be raised through a membership drive of local businesses and residents. A $10.00 donation will list anyone on the rolls as a contributing member although all donations are welcome. For further information, call Carol Bauer, 349-9143 or Cindy Hoops, 349-0036.

Novi Pin Pointers

Mystery game was won by Evelyn Cotter. High bowlers were Rita Stockemer with 181, 185 in a 534 series, Pat O'Malley with 199 in a 512 series, and Shirley Selep with 200 in a 520 series. Standings are as follows:

Novi Historical Society

Plans are continuing for the formation of this group and nine members will soon be appointed by the council. If you are interested in working in the group, contact the Novi City Hall at 349-4300. The group is looking for a picture of the original tollgate in Novi and also for items to be put on display in the Bicentennial Building on 12 Mile Road. Another goal will be to find ways of preserving some of the older buildings in the community. For additional information on these projects contact Ed Presnell at 476-8911.

Parents Without Partners

New officers include president - Art Stewart, vice president - John Fattel, treasurer - Betty Butler, membership - Linn Kleinschmidt and adult activities - Beverly Cline. The Cluster Dance will be held on STUDENT PROJECT—A first-year high school art class at Novi High School has a display of rug hooking and weaving at the Michigan National Bank located at 10 Mile and Novi roads. The designs are originals by the students. The display will continue until Tuesday. Two of the students are shown here with their efforts. They are Robert Lewis and Mary Turpin. Other students whose works are being displayed are Randy Weaver, Danny Stirrman, Kevin Mills, Sherri Appleton, Mark Byberg, Laurie Sailus, Jann Toth and Julie Henderson. The class instructor is Mrs. Jane Fox.

March 6th at the Bonnie Brook Country Club at 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. The Novi-Northville group is responsible for the planning of this dance and encourages everyone to attend. League bowling is being held on Mondays at Brentwood Lanes on Plymouth Road at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday is skiing night (weather permitting). Contact John Fattel, 478-3785. Bowling will be on March 5 at Northville Lanes at 9 p.m. with refreshments and dancing afterwards. Location is to be announced. Call 349-1665 for further information.

NESPO

The next regular meeting will be March 9 at 8 p.m. in the Novi Elementary School library. All parents of students are urged to come to this meeting, especially if you've not attended before. Plans will be made for the annual cupcake sale on March 12 honoring principal Roy Williams' birthday. There is no rollerskating planned for the month of March.

Cub Scout Pack No. 54

The annual Blue and Gold was held last week and was very well attended by the families of the Cubs. Special guests at the potluck dinner were the president of NESPO, Mrs. Diane Canup and her family, Mr. Brent Canup and children Brenda and Brent, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, a county commissioner and his wife. NESPO is the sponsoring organization for the pack. Four boys received awards and they were Allan Provov, wolf badge, one gold and silver arrow; Paul Matteson, Michael Le Mieux, and James Clancy, wolf badge and gold arrow.

Novi Youth Assistance Plans for the March 11 meeting will be made by the officers who will be having a board meeting on March 4 at the Youth Assistance offices on 12 Mile Road. There is a need for people in the community to work on various committees within this organization, which is structured to help youngsters before they reach the Juvenile Court. The most current area in which help is needed is with the Camp Committee which is getting underway working towards the annual horse show to be held in June. This is the big money making project of the year and funds will go towards sending children to camp. If you feel you can give a couple of hours prior to camp time helping in planning, contacting youngsters, driving them to get their physicals or helping with transportation to camp when needed, contact either Jody Adams or Clara Porter at 349-6876 for details.

Novi Parks and Recreation

Fred Todd, Finance Director for the City of Novi is the guest speaker at the Parks and Recreation meeting to be held tonight (Wednesday) at the Administration Building. There will be continued discussion of the monies that have been allocated for the city park on South Lake Drive. Reports will be heard from the various activities like volleyball, etc that will soon be finishing up.

Novi Co-op Nursery The nursery has started accepting applications for next year's program from parents of youngsters in the community who are 3-5 years old. Anyone interested can contact Judy McBride at 348-2330. The nursery is combining with VOICE on March 4 for a joint meeting to hear Mrs. Mary Paoness speak on "Pre-school Sex Education" to be held at the Village Oaks school gym at 8 p.m. The nursery is located on Beck Road between Eight and Nine Mile roads. An open house will be planned in the near future, as well as election of officers.

North Novi Civic Association

The next meeting will be March 16 at the Novi Community Building and again, if you live in the area

Novi Schools Lump Their Bond Monies

Novi School Board last week approved a resolution allowing the lumping of bond monies together in order to obtain higher interest rates.

While the money must be separated when paying off debt retirement funds, in the meantime it can be lumped together in order to receive a higher interest rate on certificates of deposits compared to the daily rate available from a savings account.

The resolution will not go into effect until the next tax collection, according to the administration, because funds have already been allocated. The resolution was approved unanimously.

Bid Cost Resolution Adopted by Novi

A resolution allowing the school district to purchase items at the bid cost received by the state Department of Management and Budget was approved by Novi School Board last Thursday.

While the resolution does not require the board to participate in purchases, assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr said that the school district would be able to participate when the bid received by the Department of Management and Budget is lower.

The Department of Management and Budget receives bids in order to provide goods at lower cost to school districts throughout the state by large purchase buying. Cost to school districts for use of the state's buying power is two percent of the cost of the goods.

Dr. Barr was named the purchasing agent.

north of 12 Mile Road, plan to attend this meeting. The group plans to discuss the road program and will be having a pledge support project available for anyone at the meeting. Watch for the flyer that will be distributed in the area for other projects and plans prior to the meeting.

Novi Jaycee Auxiliary On March 2 the Jaycees sponsored an appreciation dinner at the Village Oaks club house for the Jaycees. On the same day, several members worked on the Immunization Clinic at Walled Lake. The next board meeting will be March 9 at the home of Marty McCarthy. The Auxiliary is also sponsoring a babysitting clinic at the Middle School for youngsters in that age group which started March 3, 10 and 17. Chairman is Marilyn Nielsen.

Novi Lions At the general meeting on February 24, a film was shown, "The Other Man's Family" by Denny Ireland. This film shows what happens when fire breaks out and how to handle it in the home. Plans include at a later date additional information about smoke and heat detectors. March is National Eye Month and applications are available for anyone wishing to donate their eyes after death. Contact President Don Durocher. Everyone is reminded of the Wild Game Dinner to be held on Thursday March 4 at Vladimir's being presented by the Westown Lions Club.

Orchard Hills Booster A reminder of the board meeting at 7:30 p.m. on March 9 at the Orchard Hills School will include plans for the publication of the recipe book. The deadline for submitting both recipes and household hints has been extended but everyone is urged to get them into the Orchard Hills School as soon as possible. Plans will also be completed for the Book Fair on March 18 and 19 when books for children can be purchased.

Novi Athletic Booster Club

The new officers will be presiding at the March meeting scheduled for March 3 at the high school. Any parent or person in the community who enjoys sports is urged to attend to help in the special work this group does in boosting sports in Novi. The tickets are on sale and can be obtained from secretary Marilyn Yakek at 349-8856 for the annual dance scheduled for March 20 at the Wixom Hall.

Novi Blue Star Mothers

The Blue Star Mothers will be resuming their meetings starting March 4 at 12 noon at the home of Helen Burnstrum. They will be bringing their own sandwich and table service with dessert being served by the hostess. Mrs. Winnie Dobek, president, is interested in obtaining new members to help carry on the many worthwhile projects this group sponsors at the Veteran's Hospital in Ann Arbor. Contact her at 349-1904 regarding eligibility for membership.

Novi to Exchange With Northern Town

Novi will be exchanging with Manistee on Mayor's Exchange Day, Monday, May 17.

The luck of the draw paired Novi with Manistee, which is located on the shore of Lake Michigan in the northwest portion of the lower peninsula. The annual exchange is part of Michigan Week held each year.

Last year the city failed to participate in Mayor's Exchange Day because of the costs involved. This year, the Michigan Week, celebration including the mayor's exchange day has been allocated up to $2,500. Named chairman of the Mayor's Exchange Day activities was Arvie Athas.

Girls State Chairman Attends Legion Meet

Romaine Roethel of Novi, Girls State chairman, was in Philadelphia last week participating in the National Executive Committee Meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The National Executive Committee, 150 members representing every state, is the organization's governing body between its national conventions. Its purpose is to evaluate the numerous auxiliary programs which include: Veterans' affairs and rehabilitation, community service, children and youth, Americanism, civil defense and emergency planning, education and scholarships and youth citizenship training (Girls State and Girls Nation).

Among activities planned are a speech at the NEC luncheon by Mrs. Birch Bayh and a visit to the site of the Continental Army's winter encampment in 1777-78 at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

Recover Thousands of Dollars of Loot, Arrest Two

In Novi

Thefts of thousands of dollars worth of building and other materials in Novi, Wixom and Brighton were solved this past week with the apprehension and arrest of two suspects.

Still other arrests are pending as Novi police and state police, working cooperatively, continue their investigation.

"Much of the stolen merchandise has been recovered and still more probably will be turned up before this investigation ends," said Novi Detective Robert Starnes who was assisted by Novi Detective John Johnson in the exhaustive investigation.

Thefts of new automobile parts near Wixom and a $100,000 arson of a home in Commerce Township are involved in the case.

As of Tuesday morning two men had been arrested. They are, Ronald Davis, 17, of Farmington and William Frederick, 21, of Redford. Police Tuesday had a warrant for the arrest of a third, unidentified subject. Other warrants were being sought.

Reacting to the theft of automobile parts at the C&O Railroad, south of 12 Mile Road, on February 12 a surveillance team of Novi police and railroad detectives was set up.

At about 1:30 a.m. Sunday, the surveillance team observed three subjects in the process of stealing tires and radios from new Thunderbirds and Lincolns produced at the nearby Ford assembly plant.

One of the three was arrested (Davis), but the other two escaped.

Questioning and additional investigation turned up the second suspect and a search warrant was obtained for entering a home in Redford occupied by Frederick, who was arrested.

Recovered in the Redford house "were thousands of dollars" worth of building materials, including insulated door walls, metal window frames, kitchen cabinets, etc.

Upon further investigation, detectives solved the arson two weeks ago of a home in Commerce Township resulting in a $100,000 loss, according to Starnes.

In addition they obtained information regarding the theft of a $15,000 backhoe, which was stolen in Brighton the same night as the railroad theft here.

Building materials have been traced to Novi, Wixom, and Brighton, Starnes said.

In Township

It took area police officials only an hour to locate and apprehend a 19-year-old escapee from the Northville jail whose freedom took him less than a mile from the lock-up.

Northville City Police were holding 19-year-old Wayne Askins of South Lyon, arrested at approximately 1 a.m. Saturday morning, on charges of possession of a stolen vehicle following a report of a suspicious vehicle and resulting chase. Askins was arrested by two auxiliary patrolmen after they were dispatched to a North Rogers Street address. Officers spotted Askins running from the vehicle, pursued him into the wooded area behind the house and found him a short time later lying on the ground in a semi-conscious state. He was immediately transferred by ambulance to Wayne County General Hospital where he was examined and released to police to be transferred back to Northville.

A registration check on the vehicle, a pick-up truck, and further investigation by Michigan State Police confirmed that the truck had been stolen from New Hudson. Askins was booked and on the pretense of wanting to make a phone call at approximately 11 a.m., managed to slip out the window of the police booking room and escape. The information was immediately broadcast by Northville police with the information that he was believed to be heading south.

Chief Ronald Nisun of the Northville Township Police Department immediately took up a position at Thornapple Lane in an unmarked police unit. Other units were dispatched from the township to the area along with three units from the Plymouth Post of the Michigan State Police. While on Thornapple, Nisun spotted a man matching the description of the escapee walking along the road and called for him to stop. Instead, Askins ran into a yard and as Nisun began to chase him on foot several large neighborhood dogs took chase after Nisun who was forced to stop. After making his way back to the patrol vehicle, Nisun informed the other units and again took up the search.

Approximately one-half hour later as he was interviewing a resident on Thornapple, Nisun happened to spot Askins hiding near a storage shed in the rear of the residence. With no interference from the neighborhood animal sentries, Nisun was able to apprehend Askins who was immediately turned over to Northville authorities.

Preliminary examination on felony charges of receiving and concealing stolen property is scheduled for March 8 with Askins lodged in Northville pending $5,000 cash or surety bond.

A handy-talkie radio valued at $560 was taken from the Maybury State Park house on Beck Road. The incident was not reported to Michigan State Police until February 23 since the radio was kept in the house at all times and park rangers thought it was simply misplaced.

Three escapes from Northville State Hospital were investigated by the Michigan State Police on Friday. At 6:30 a.m. a female inmate was reported missing and as yet has not been returned to the facility. A male inmate was reported missing at 3:15 p.m. the same day and police are still seeking his whereabouts.

At 7:45 p.m. another male patient walked away from the grounds but was returned to the hospital by his parents later the same day.

An inmate last seen on February 23 at 11:40 p.m. was returned to Northville by Detroit General Hospital authorities after being apprehended by Detroit Police.

In the last of reported escapes during the week, a male patient, not considered dangerous by hospital officials is still being sought after leaving Northville grounds at 2:30 p.m. February 25.

A citizens band radio valued at $125 was taken from a pick-up truck parked in a lot in the 18000 area of Jamestown Circle. Police believe the incident occurred between 4:30 p.m. February 21 and 2 a.m. February 22.

Damage estimated at $100 was done by vandals to the windows of a wash bay at the National Pride Car Wash. The windows, which had been smashed, were found during a routine patrol by township police. The incident occurred between 11 p.m. February 27 and 2 a.m. February 28.

Township police investigated a case of malicious destruction of property to a vehicle parked on the street in the area of Lake Success and Silver Springs Drive.

In the incident which occurred between 2 a.m. and 9 a.m. February 28, police found the radio antenna broken off, turn signal indicator lens, seats slashed and rubbing compound or wax smeared throughout the interior of the car. The right front tire was flattened with the exterior of the car scratched. There were no damage estimates available.

In Northville

Northville City Police were alerted by two concession stand operators at Northville Downs of suspected counterfeit $20 bills being passed. The incident was reported between 10 p.m. and 11 p.m. on February 10 with police unable to locate the suspect. Both bills bore serial numbers reported by Hazel Park Police as being counterfeit.

A man who had parked his van on Wing and Cady Street returned to find the front end covered with approximately one quart of bright yellow paint. The incident occurred at 8 p.m. on February 20. Damage was estimated at $300.

A fight over a girlfriend took place recently in the men's rest room at Northville High School with the student victim filing charges for assault and battery. According to police reports, the fight broke out at 7:30 a.m. between the two students with 18-year-old Christopher Tague of Northville attacking 17-year-old Robert Sharry, also of Northville. Tague apparently was annoyed with Sharry for seeing Tague's ex-girlfriend and told witnesses "he was going to get him."

The resulting beating left Sharry with a bruised and swollen face, cuts around the mouth and a possible broken nose.

A warrant charging Tague with assault and battery was subsequently issued. Two men posing as Consumers Power meter readers entered a home on Cady Street in what police believe was an attempted larceny. The two men, who were allowed into the house, told the owner that Consumers Power owed the people $50 due to a meter overread. They gave the resident a $100 bill and wanted the change. Police believe the one man was trying to keep the resident busy while the other was searching the house for valuables. When the men were told change for the big bill was not available the two left driving away in a green pick-up truck. The incident occurred February 18 at 2:30 p.m.

It was car versus tree in a car accident which found the tree the victor. Police found Charles Foster of Plymouth at 1:45 a.m. Sunday on the passenger side of his vehicle after he had run into a tree. Foster who had sustained injuries around the mouth was transported to St. Mary Hospital for treatment.

Police officers recently summoned to the 500 block of Langfield on a complaint were notified of another incident in the same block. Responding to the second call, police were informed that a citizens band radio valued at $130 was taken from the owner's pick-up truck.

In Wixom

A Wixom resident who was forced to abandon his car after sliding into a ditch during bad weather returned to find it broken into. In the incident, which was reported to Wixom Police on Friday, an estimated $263 in miscellaneous tools and bowling equipment was taken.

Three payroll checks stolen during a breaking and entering at the Grandmont Recreation facilities in Detroit some time ago were found stuffed behind the back seat of a Wixom Police patrol vehicle. The checks were found during a routine servicing of the vehicle.

Wixom Police theorize the checks were placed behind the seat by an unknown person being questioned by police and could have occurred at any time.

The checks were turned over to detectives at the Fourteenth Precinct of the Detroit Police Department.

An unknown person helped himself to a one pound coffee can containing approximately $135 in silver dollars and half dollars from a home on North Wixom Road. The owner told police the can containing the money disappeared sometime between February 15 and February 22. The same intruder also took the front panelling off of a gun cabinet located in the basement of the home.

A fire at the Korex Company plant on Wixom Road and Pontiac Trail caused an estimated $120 damage to 1000 soap containers Saturday.

The containers were held in a storage area on the west side of the building. Peter Paisley, owner of the business, told Wixom Police he felt an unknown employee ignited one pallet of soap.

Pickled Frog Auctioned

By NANCY DINGELDEY

A pickled frog, puppies and kittens, pogo sticks and articles of clothing almost taken from the backs of some favorite teachers were just a few of the articles put on the auction block at Western High School last week. From the auction and assembly that followed almost $950 was raised by the students and staff of Western for the victims of the recent Guatemala earthquakes.

Feeling something should be done for those victims and the person responsible for "getting the whole thing together" was Laurel Adler, a staff member at Western. Mrs. Adler's thoughts of those South American people run deep since she has spent the past nine summers in Guatemala both studying and visiting. Lasting friendships have been made through those visits, with many of her acquaintances living in the devastated area.

Mrs. Adler mentioned the idea of an auction to James Rikkers and Dean Smith, both assistant principals at Western as a means of making money for the victims. The idea was well taken by those officials, welcomed by the staff with enthusiasm for the project quickly spreading to the student level. Before long, items for the auction flooded the school with many displayed in the main showcase at the school. Added to the auction was a taco sale netting some $42 to the cause and a bake sale gaining $50. A case of grapefruit and a book of Eisenhower paintings valued at $50 were donated by businesses in Union Lake.

It didn't take long for the idea to really get growing and the first auction held during the lunch periods on Friday met with such success that a second session was scheduled for Monday. Rikkers and Smith gladly volunteered to be the auctioneers.

The pickled frog, donated by the Biology Department was caught in the center of a "battle" between the track team and the swim team, both of which were competing during the bidding for its little bud. The swim team was the victor in that event capturing the little critter and gleefully presenting it to their coach. That little tidbit went for $7. The pogo sticks, four in all, were donated by the student congress and sold for $6 each.

From the auction came an idea for an assembly with students contributing at the door for admission. Wrestling coaches were pitted against their younger proteges, teachers matched with members of the basketball team in basket shooting competitions. But the real highlight of the afternoon came from a Western staff member ... a circus performer turned bookkeeper. For one hour, at least, she was back in the center arena doing her circus whip act to the delight of the crowd.

Mrs. Adler said the monies raised in last week's flurry of programs will be used to "adopt" two Guatemalan children through the Christian Children's Fund and to possibly aid in the reconstruction of a hospital located near the center of the earthquake. She added that there was such great response from the school that it might be possible to embark on a "people to people" type program with an annual event held each February to raise the funds necessary to continue the support of the adopted youngsters.

Voc. Ed. Officials Confer

Local vocational education administrators from the Schoolcraft College District met at the College during the National Vocational Education Week early in February.

Meeting with Schoolcraft Dean of Applied Sciences Ted Diebel and representing the College's five member school districts were Bruce Bucholtz of Garden City, Harold Gaerman of Plymouth, Arlie Fairner of Livonia, Robert Young of Clarenceville and Florence Panattoni of Northville.

The vocational educators agreed to identify commonalities among programs offered and then develop a plan for better articulation between the secondary schools and the college.

With assistance from the Michigan State Department of Education the local administrators hope to develop a pattern for articulation which will serve the local district and provide guidelines for similar multiple district community colleges throughout the state.

It is intended that such a plan will make better use of existing programs in the area at all levels and provide better career options for the students served by the local schools and Schoolcraft College.

PUBLIC HEARING ON ORDINANCE REGULATING THE DISPENSING OF FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS: Mayor Allen opened the public hearing on the Ordinance.

Regulating the Dispensing of Flammable Liquids. City Manager summarized the ordinance as published in The Record.

Mr. Larry Burdick, Shell Oil Territory Manager, said that his company is interested in making the station in Northville a self serve station.

Mayor Allen expressed his concern over the possibility of an accident occurring in a self serve station because of the general public's lack of knowledge in the dispensing procedure.

Mr. Burdick replied that the system and controls his company has would prevent anything from happening in the operation of such a station.

Also present was an Engineer from Shell, who added that the station would comply with state regulations and that the state has approved it already.

Discussion followed between Council and the Shell representatives as to safe guards and precautions used, with the general consensus being that the controls are not foolproof.

There being no further comments, the public hearing was closed.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 74-70 AS AMENDED BY 75-70.01, AN ORDINANCE DIVIDING THE CITY OF NOVI INTO FIRE LIMITS AS REQUIRED BY MICHIGAN CONSTRUCTION CODE.

THE CITY OF NOVI ORDAINS:

PART I

That pursuant to Rule 408.30423, Rule 423, of the Michigan Construction Code, the City of Novi provides as follows:

Section 301.0 General: For the purpose of control of use and construction of buildings to prevent conflagration from fire, fire limiting districts designated "fire limits" and "outside fire limits" are hereby created and established.

Section 301.1 Fire Limits: The fire limits shall comprise areas designated in the official Zoning Ordinance of the City of Novi as Office-Service Districts, Office-Service-Commercial Districts, Local Business Districts, Community Business Districts, General Business Districts, Freeway Service Districts, Light Industrial Districts and General Industrial Districts, and as designated in the official Zoning Map of the City of Novi.

Section 301.2 Outside Fire Limits: All other areas not included in the fire limits shall be designated as outside fire limits.

Section 301.3 Official Zoning Map of the City of Novi: The official zoning map of the City of Novi, as established pursuant to the provisions of any existing or future zoning ordinance or ordinances, shall likewise constitute a map of the City on which the above described areas, fire limits, shall be plainly designated by symbols, indicating Office-Service Districts, Office-Service-Commercial Districts, Local Business Districts, Community Business Districts, General Business Districts, Freeway Service Districts, Light Industrial Districts and General Industrial Districts or zones. A copy of such map shall be displayed in the office of the Director of Building and Safety.

PART II

All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this ordinance full force and effect.

PART III

Should any provision of this ordinance be held invalid for any reason, such holding shall not be construed as affecting the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this ordinance.

PART IV

The provisions of this ordinance are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of public health, safety, and welfare, and are hereby ordered to take effect immediately after posting and publication thereof in full in a manner prescribed by the City Charter.

MADE AND PASSED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NOVI, THIS 1st DAY OF March, 1976.

In Wixom

Korex Back on Agenda

Peter Paisley, owner of the Korex Company and under fire by two Wixom City Council members during the past month over his application for an industrial development district in the city, was again the source of discussion at the Wixom Council meeting Tuesday night.

The discussion was sparked by an article that appeared in the Oakland Press and drawn to council's attention reporting Paisley had approached Milford Township officials asking for a similar tax break incentive. In previous meetings Councilman James Lahde had publicly stated "I could care less if they moved from the city." It would appear from Paisley's actions that he was investigating just such a move.

According to the state act governing the creation of industrial development districts, Paisley could build a new plant in Wixom, close the present facility and stay within the rules of the act. However, if Paisley chose to build a plant in another city, he would have to continue operating his present facility in order to receive the tax benefits.

According to Paisley he prefers to stay in Wixom. "Contrary to public opinion I do care about Wixom and I have been cast in an unfavorable light," Paisley said he has received phone calls from Pontiac, Detroit and Farmington Hills offering property for relocation. He said he also received calls from Ohio and an unnamed person in the Michigan governor's office.

"I'm between a rock and a hard spot," said Paisley, "and frankly I do not have the time to play games. This political battle is costly, time consuming to me and I'd like to see it resolved."

In a 4-2 vote of the city council, Paisley got the nod to proceed with plans to construct a new building on 15.5 acres of land the company owns west of Wixom Road. But apparently Paisley would like to see full council concurrence in his plan which would grant the company a 50 percent tax break for a twelve year period.

Councilman Robert Dingeldey stated his opposition to the plan because nothing concrete had been established regarding the present Korex facility and what would be done with it once the company moved. Dingeldey has long referred to the present building as a "blight on the community."

Paisley, on the other hand said it wasn't economically feasible just to hand over the property to the city. Paisley called for a meeting of the complete council, if necessary, to sit down and "talk things out." He said he preferred no newspaper reporters and felt the meeting should be closed to the public "so everyone could get everything off their chests."

"I don't want to operate in a community where I'm not wanted," continued Paisley.

It's Underway

Integration of special education students from the Plymouth Center for Human Development and the Northville Residential Training Center into the Northville school system came off successfully last week, reports Clark Kelley, special education coordinator for Northville schools.

He pointed out Monday, however, that the process of integrating students from the two institutions has not been completed.

When the transfer has been completed, there will be 30 physically handicapped students attending Moraine Elementary School, 12 deaf-blind students attending Silver Springs Elementary School and about 300 other special education students attending Cooke Middle School.

The Northville system will be servicing totally 817 students from the two institutions and the system, Kelly pointed out. Not all will be attending classes in Northville schools, however.

Interim director of the new special education program is Donna Surrey.

PAC to Meet
