

Made-in-Northville Motorcycle Flick Coming Our Way

BY JACK W. HOFFMAN

Northville's fame is exploding across the country faster than a hyped up Harley-Davidson.

And soon it's going to come roaring into the Detroit metropolitan area as an R-rated motorcycle flick titled, "Northville Cemetery Massacre."

All of which is bound to make some folks hereabouts a little nervous.

That's because much of the film was shot in this area and, under the innocent working title of "Freedom R.I.P.," it attracted quite a few local supporting stars — including some of Northville's men in Blue.

Nobody here apparently has seen the film, which is being booked into movie houses in other parts of the country, but if it is anything like the advertisements that Jim Allen spotted in Fort Meyers, Florida recently, it should be a beaut.

Although the name "Northville" in the title of the film attracted his attention to newspaper ads and theater billboards in Florida, it wasn't until later Allen, the son of Northville's mayor, realized, "that it might be the same film made in Northville a few years ago."

It is indeed the same film, declared Marty Zide of American International Pictures, who said the movie, "is starting to play in various parts of the country. We expect to be the distributor when it comes to Michigan soon."

Nobody, not even Zide, seems to know much about the movie, although a spokesman for Allied Film Distributors, insisted "it is a disaster" that originally was to play under the title "Jack Town."

Telephone numbers of the film's producers, obtained by this newspaper when it published a feature story on the movie-making in 1971, have been disconnected. At the end of another number obtained from American International, The Record learned that "he isn't here and I don't know if he'll ever return."

Presently, the movie is being handled by the Cannon distributing corporation out of New York City.

What's the story line?

Who knows, not even the people connected with the movie back in 1971 knew much about it. And its producers, William Dear and Robert Dyke, avoided discussing the script when questioned by the newspaper.

They admitted, however, that it would contain some violence.

"I was only in one scene," said Northville Police Captain Louie Westfall. "I come roaring up to a pasture out in the country, the siren screaming and the lights flashing. There's been a fight out in the field. That's about all. Other policemen were in it more than me. Officer (Howard) Reeves had biggest roles, I think. Talk to him."

But Reeves, on the midnight shift, was unavailable during the reporter's daylight hours.

Philosophizing five years ago, Dyke told this reporter motorcycle movies generally are awful, but they have a big following and they make money.

Before Dyke and Dear decided to sink $120,000 of their savings and the savings of others into the movie, a thorough study of motorcycle races was made of bike movies. "I think I sat through every one ever made to see what they did right and wrong and how we could improve them," Dyke said.

All of the movies seemed to have "this central theme of super violence. Hippies on bikes who move into a town and take it over, scaring the people half to death."

"They do nothing to portray bikers as anything but threats to society."

"We don't see that. Here is a group of people...strange looking...who live their own strict standards but who don't try to put their life styles over on others."

But he added, "Don't get me wrong. We're not portraying them as Boy Scouts. Not by any means. We're trying to say something about their camaraderie while breaking down society's image of them."

Refusing to disclose the story line, Dyke

School to Ask 3.9 Mill Hike April 3

17-Mill Renewal Set, Too

A two-part millage proposal — one calling for renewal of 17 mills and the other asking for a 3.9 mill increase — will be put to Northville School District voters on Saturday, April 3.

Acting upon the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Committee—1976 (CAC), the school board voted unanimously Monday to place both propositions on the April ballot.

Decision to hold a special school election on April 3 was made back in January.

The board lauded the committee for its work and took under advisement other recommendations of the CAC. These include:

1. Improve financial planning, including the hiring of a business manager and development of closer coordination between central administration and building principals.
2. Institute semi-annual (summer) school tax collection.
3. Negotiate two-year faculty contracts.
4. Issue quarterly reports to the community to improve communication.
5. Initiate curriculum review at all levels, upgrade textbooks, improve the high school library, and re-establish a curriculum council.
6. Return to a fundamental approach to education — basic teaching methods and firmer discipline standards.

In voting to recommend the two millage proposals to the board, the CAC had near unanimous agreement. All members favored the 17-mill renewal proposition, and only one disapproved the 3.9 proposal — but only because he felt 3.9 was an insufficient amount.

According to CAC findings, the 17-mill renewal would provide only a "stripped down" program in 1976-77, with reductions from the present number of teachers, fewer classes and no extracurricular activities, including sports.

The 3.9 mill addition, CAC concluded, would restore teacher and class levels to approximate parity with the 1975-76 year as well as provide a full extracurricular program. "There would be no 'frills', however, just a basic educational program," it stressed.

CAC emphasized that from

Up A Ladder

"It may have looked funny, but it worked... we only lost about two limbs," chuckled Ray Casterline when his wife propped up tree limbs in their yard at 332 South Rogers with several ladders in the face of what probably was the worst ice storm here in history. What's more, while passers-by laughed Mrs. Casterline employed a proven remedy — she watered the trees to melt the ice weighing down branches. Elsewhere many hundreds of trees were destroyed or damaged, power and telephone lines were downed, and citizens everywhere were inconvenienced for periods lasting, in some cases, to early this week. See story and pictures on Page 5-C.

Survey Supports 17 Mills

A public opinion survey conducted by the Northville Citizens Advisory Committee—1976 (CAC) shows that an overwhelming number of voters would approve the 17-mill proposal to go on the April 3 ballot.

In that respect, it supported the findings of still another survey, conducted recently by a recently formed Northville polling firm.

With 201 persons of the 360 persons picked at random in the Northville Mother's Club Directory, 80 percent of them said they would vote today for the 17-mill renewal. The remainder said they would not vote for it.

Without specifying an amount, a related question, would they support additional operation millage over and above the renewal, 54-percent said no, 46-percent yes.

However, when asked if they would support additional operational millage to maintain a full program of extracurricular activities, 53-

ARCHITECT Donald DiComo of Northville presented an artist's rendering and a scale model of the proposed Allen Terrace Senior Citizens Facility at Monday night's work session of the Northville City Council.

BARGAINING rights of school administrators in Northville and their request to be recognized as a formal bargaining unit was denied Monday by the Northville School Board. Although the board understood the action of the administrators, who reportedly have a charter in a national organization, board members pointed out that the law has established a framework within which employees who desire to organize should follow. In denying the request and following a recommendation by the personnel sub-committee, the school board members requested the administrators to follow that established procedure and make application for an election.

Township Budget Agreement Near

Scrap Public Improvement Fund?

Working until 2:30 a.m. Monday, the Northville Township Board failed to reach agreement on its proposed new budget — but it came close.

Going into tomorrow's regular meeting, it appears the board is about to finalize a budget that is balanced at $466,988 but balanced only because the board proposes to tap the public improvement fund to supplement anticipated income.

Also the board is likely to come up with a series of perhaps three or more ballot propositions that would earmark funds for specific purposes, and it probably will call for an election to coincide with the May 18 Presidential Primary.

Five of the seven board members favored the "compromise" budget ($466,988), which represents an increase of $29,916 over the current fiscal year budget but which is $213,900 under the figure initially proposed in the new budget ($680,880).

Supervisor Betty Lennox and Trustee James Nowka opposed the proposal because, in their opinion, use of public improvement monies to supplement operational income simply puts off until next year an inevitable economic crunch.

They lobbied for a budget that would match income with expenditure.

Other board members, however, see little other recourse, short of effectively doing away with library and recreation services and seriously damaging the police department. Furthermore, they argue that existing public improvement funds make it difficult to convince voters that it has an economic problem now.

When Monday's meeting broke up, Lennox and Nowka appeared to be wavering from their position of opposition, but there still was no unanimous agreement — something the board is hoping to achieve to give it greater clout going into any upcoming millage increase election.

If the board tomorrow does what it was aiming for at Monday's meeting, it will mean total elimination of the remaining $47,000 in the public improvement funds. Of this $47,000, half will be used to make up a projected deficit in the new budget, the other half is likely to be channeled into a budget contingency.

This past year the board tapped the public improvement fund for some $70,000, and it has since decided informally not to pay this money back.

If the final budget does indeed call for total elimination of the remaining $47,000 in public improvement monies, it will mean that in less than two years this fund has dropped from $163,000 to zero.

Even with use of the $47,000 public improvement monies, however, the board still must cut into departmental budgets.

Earlier in the meeting, with some 25 citizens on hand, the board heard from spokesmen from the library, recreation and police departments on service cuts that would have to be made if the most serious cutback proposals going into the meeting became a reality.

Citizens present at the meeting overwhelmingly supported funding the police department — if need be at the expense of non-public safety outlays for library and recreation. Public safety, they emphasized, should be the township's number one priority.

"I can get along without the library and without recreation," declared one citizen in echoing sentiments of others, "but I cannot get along without police and fire protection."

The other major point made by citizens was that separate ballot proposals should be made, thus permitting voters to pick and choose which departments they are willing to fund with additional tax dollars.

If a single proposition, lumping library, recreation and police together in one package, is placed on the ballot, it will go down to

Tastes Run from Exotic to Baked Beans

Area Mayors Are Old Hands At Concocting Culinary Delights

BY NANCY DINGELDEY

It is said the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. But that does not include or necessarily need a woman's hand.

That fact is evident with three local mayors — all of whom are equally capable of stepping into a kitchen and whipping up a culinary delight.

Mayor Gilbert Henderson of Novi "cooked" his way through Michigan State University. For three years he worked in the kitchen of a large girls' dormitory.

Although the food was mass produced and didn't require much skill, Henderson claims it was a fun job.

The Novi Mayor also spent one summer as chief chef at a scout camp near Waterloo, Michigan. "That," he says, "was rough!"

Kitchen duties now may include a breakfast or two each week or possibly preparing a lunch. Henderson says he feels he has an obligation to help his working wife Myrna, but because of his work schedule he never prepares a dinner.

According to Mrs. Henderson, hubby's top favorite has to be baked beans although his culinary skills are really apparent when it comes to making big pots of homemade soup. Mrs. Henderson said he makes a variety of soups, but his choice is bean soup, the recipe he chose to share.

Mayor Val Vangieson of Wixom says he feels food makes the man. "Just look at me," he laughed.

Vangieson's tastes in food are far-reaching with Chinese, curries, Greek and Syrian foods topping the list of favorites.

He added that what pleases him depends on his mood. His "mood" this month appears to be "exotic" which is shown by the recipe submitted — mandarin chicken with stir fried vegetables.

Although Vangieson says he can manage quite well in a kitchen, it's the special sauces that make the better than average food, and those he rarely tries to prepare.

Wife Sylvia, however, says Val does a tremendous job in the kitchen. "He used to make homemade bread until his schedule got too heavy and his chicken paprikash is very good."

Northville Mayor "Mike" Allen's tastes in food tend to be simpler with fish and big salads rated tops, with liver and onions another big favorite.

Allen a widower, says it's sometimes hard to get together with his daughter Sharon for meals. Sharon who lives at home and is employed at a local supermarket has irregular working hours.

According to other sources, however, Mayor Allen makes a super chili dog and tremendous salads. But he, too, enjoys a "good pot of baked beans", and his, he feels "are kind of good. I usually take my beans to gatherings that call for a dish to pass and everyone seems to like them."

Recipes from the cooking mayor's follow for the delight of The Record-Novi News readers:

MAYOR ALLEN'S BAKED BEANS

1 3-pound jar of Great Northern cooked beans
½ pound sliced bacon cut into approximately ¼ inch wide strips
1½ tablespoons dry onions
1 cup brown sugar
1 14-ounce bottle catsup
1 teaspoon salt
pepper to taste

Mix ingredients thoroughly. Place in a flat loaf pan or casserole the size of which would allow the ingredients to be approximately two inches thick. Cover entire surface with remaining half-pound of bacon strips. Slightly pepper the top layer of bacon.

Bake two hours at 375 until juices have baked down. Serve hot.

HENDERSON'S BEAN SOUP

Cover two pounds of navy beans with water and soak overnight. Drain water. Add a ham bone and any left-over drippings covering both the bone and beans with fresh water. Cook slowly until beans are tender. Add water periodically to keep beans covered.

When beans are tender remove the bone and add water to desired soup consistency. Then add:

1 medium onion, chopped
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 cup thin noodles

Cook soup approximately ½ hour longer until noodles and onions are tender. Serve with homemade bread, crispy relishes and a variety of cheeses and crackers followed by a favorite dessert.

VANGIESON'S MANDARIN CHICKEN WITH STIR-FRIED VEGETABLES

1 6 ounce boned chicken breast
6 ounces fresh or canned water chestnuts
2 slices fresh ginger
6 to 8 ounces fresh peapods
2 scallions
¼ cup chopped cashews

(A) Marinade for chicken:

¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons wine (sherry)
1 tablespoon water
2 teaspoons cornstarch mixed in 2 teaspoons water

Mix the following sauces in small individual dishes:

(B) For cooking chicken:
2 tablespoons Hoisin sauce
1 tablespoon water
2 teaspoons Chinese soy bean hot sauce
2 teaspoons cornstarch mixed in two teaspoons water

(C) Cooking sauce

1 tablespoon soy sauce
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon cornstarch mixed with one teaspoon water

Oil needed for complete recipe:
1½ cups for cooking chicken
2 tablespoons for cooking vegetables
2 tablespoons for combining with chicken

¼ teaspoon salt

Oil needed for complete recipe:

1½ cups for cooking chicken
2 tablespoons for cooking vegetables
2 tablespoons for combining with chicken

General instructions:

(1) Cut boned chicken breasts into thin slices, then cut in half. Marinate in sauce A for at least 20 minutes.

(2) Snip off tips and string the peapods. Blanch for one minute in boiling water, plunge immediately in ice cold water.

(3) Slice water chestnuts into thin slices. Chop scallions and cashews, keeping vegetables in separate piles.

To Cook:

(1) Add 2 tablespoons oil to marinating chicken and mix well.

(2) Heat ½ cup oil to smoking hot. Immediately add 1 cup oil (this brings the oil to the exact temperature necessary for cooking vegetables properly.) Quickly add marinated diced chicken to pan. Stir constantly until chicken is pale, about one to two minutes. Drain oil. Add sauce B. Stir and heat well, remove to bowl.

(3) Heat 2 tablespoons oil over hot heat. Add scallions and ginger. Stir for a few seconds. Add peapods and water chestnuts. Add sauce C. Stir a couple of seconds, then add chicken mixture and stir again until hot.

(4) Pour onto heated serving platter and top with chopped cashews and serve with steamed rice.

All the ingredients needed for this dish are available fresh at local Chinese markets.

HAI — YAAAA—Preparing Chinese food requires a sharp knife, flexible wrist, patience and a lot of chopping. Wixom's Val Vangieson, the cleaver wielding mayor who says food makes the man, begins to prepare his exotic Mandarin chicken with stir fried vegetables. Vangieson, whose tastes in food change with his mood, says he feels eating should be an exciting experience. The jovial mayor warns, however, that artichokes and cooked carrots are two foods his mood never tolerates.

Methodists Plan Fashion Show

The ninth annual fashion show sponsored by Schoolcraft College Women's Club to raise funds for the student loan fund will be presented March 17.

It will be held in Waterman Center on the campus beginning at 8 p.m.

This year, according to Vice-President Iva Ryan, fashions will be presented by Claire Kelly of Northville. She will provide the latest in women's styles, worn by two of her own firm's professional models, and provide the commentary.

Three women's club members also will be modeling. They are Mrs. Larry Williams, Mrs. Cecil Woodruff and Mrs. Richard Tomalty.

Men's fashions will be provided by John Smith of Plymouth. Club models will be Larry Williams, Dr. Cecil Woodruff, and Richard Tomalty.

Teenage young ladies and children's fashions will be presented by the Top Drawer of Plymouth. Modeling for the young ladies' division will be Cathy Monfette, Susan Allen, and Sara Burke. Modeling children's clothing will be Barbara Woodruff, Molly Woodruff, Megan and Melanie Williams, and Jill and Kristen Tomalty. Mrs. Woodruff will be the commentator for the Top Drawer.

Hair fashions for club models are being provided by the Mane Objective of Northville and the Cosmetics by Fashion 220.

Most of the models are members of the club or their families.

"We are celebrating this special year (Bicentennial) with Betsy Ross centerpieces for our tables made by our club members and supervised by Mrs. Nita Diebel," said Mrs. Ryan. Betsy Ross table scene posed by Nadia Mansour will open our program with the singing of a special solo accompanied by her sister, Dina."

Master of ceremonies for the show will be Mrs. Donald Irving.

Tickets for the show may be obtained at the student activities office at Schoolcraft.

College Women, Families to Model

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cottongim of South Lyon announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Sue, to Joseph Anthony Parrelly, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Parrelly, Jr. of Northville.

The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of South Lyon High School and is presently employed at S.S. Kresge's in Arborland.

Her fiancé graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1974 and is a trainer for Standardbred horses at Northville Downs.

An early June wedding is planned.

A luncheon style show, titled "You've Come A Long Way, Lady," will be presented Tuesday, April 6 by the Northville United Methodist women.

The luncheon program, to be held in the fellowship hall at 777 West Eight Mile Road, will include a Maurice salad as the main dish.

Fashions and narration are to be furnished by Claire Kelly.

Models will be Methodist women:

Vi Gallagher, Karon Woodruff, Joan Sturgill, Evelyn McGuire, Diane Demorese, Eva Sparling and Virginia Olson.

Assisting General Chairman Elsie Routhieux will be luncheon chairmen, Pat Eden and Shirley DeHoff; decorations chairman, Sher Watkins; door prizes chairman, Kathy Witt; and piano, Aurelia Powledge.

Tickets for the event are $3.50 per person.

Co-chairing the ticket sales are Katherine Beveridge, 349-1446, and Barb Bergum, 349-6166.

Tickets are available at the church office or from the ticket chairmen. Tickets must be purchased and paid for by March 30.

A nursery is to be provided for those making reservations when purchasing tickets.

Persons with questions are invited to call Nanci Olgren at 349-6432.

The play by the NBC Players is part of a series of productions planned in conjunction with Bicentennial observance in Northville. Under the direction of Michelle Parrelly, play participants

Talk Topic: Aging Feet

"Feet Grow Old, Too" will be the title of a talk to be presented Friday, March 19 at a meeting of the Novi-Farmington Hills chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Giving the talk will be Dr. Mortan Hack, president of the Hack Shoe Company and a lecturer in all the residency training programs in orthopedic surgery in South-eastern Michigan.

It will begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Farmington Hills Community Library, 32737 West 12 Mile Road between Orchard Lake and Farmington roads.

Dr. Hack is president-elect of the Prescription Footwear Association and a past president of the Michigan State Podiatry Association.

According to Berniece Frederick of Novi, first vice-president of the chapter, the Tax-Aide program "is going very well. The especially trained aides have been busy at least once a week all through February and have appointments in Farmington and Redford Township during March."

Anyone needing help may contact Joseph Anderson at 476-6743 for times and places.

Tour chairman and member of the board of directors, James Meeker of Farmington Hills, is planning several interesting trips for the spring season. Details are to be available at the March meeting.

75 Attend Dance

About 75 persons attended the dinner dance sponsored by Holy Cross Episcopal Church Saturday, February 28 at the Holiday Inn. Mrs. Lawrence Fleming of Northville was in charge of the successful event.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER TEA—Mothers and their daughters of the Northville Woman's Club enjoyed an afternoon of refreshments and entertainment. Though it was billed as a tea, punch provided a delightful substitute as Ann Myron serves for Julie Anger, Debbie Curl and her mother, Lois Curl.

DAR to Hear Novi High Teacher

Mrs. Ceile Carter, a teacher in Novi High School, will be the guest speaker for John Sackett chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, when it meets for a noon luncheon meeting at the Plymouth Credit Union Bldg., 500 S. Harvey, Plymouth, Saturday, March 13.

Mrs. Donald Thompson, Mrs. Charles Hildenbrand, Miss Carol Murray, Novi;

Mrs. Marilyn McBeth, Dearborn; and Mrs. Wade Clay, Jr. of Livonia, are the hostesses.

Mrs. Carter, a member of the Caddo Tribe, will speak about American Indians, as "The First Americans".

Dr. Helen Ditzhazy, Farmington, principal of Novi High School and regent of John Sackett chapter, will preside.

Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution (D.A.R.) will meet at 12 noon Monday at the Lake Pointe Village Club House, 14170 Shadywood Drive, off Wilcox Road, Plymouth.

A business meeting is planned. Each member is asked to bring a sandwich.

'Millionaires' to Gather

A millionaires party is being planned by the Northville Jaycees for Saturday, March 27.

To be held in the Northville Square Community Room, the party will get underway at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 each or $9 per couple, entitling participants to the first million of betting chips and refreshments.

Group rates for 10 or more persons are available, a spokesman said.

Proceeds from the party will help support Jaycee projects in the community, such as the Easter egg hunt, July 4th activities, and restoration of the community house at the fish hatchery.

Tickets will be available at the door or by calling 349-7185 or 348-1697.

Plan Free Pap Tests

A free clinic for Pap tests will be held Monday through Friday, March 19 in Plymouth, it was announced this week.

The clinic is being co-sponsored by the Michigan Cancer Foundation and the Plymouth Nurses Association.

Advance appointments are necessary. They may be made by calling the Michigan Cancer Foundation on weekdays between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at 453-3010 or 453-1432.

Local area women are urged to take advantage of this free service, said Mrs. Ainsley Lebowitz of Northville, who pointed out that women under 18 must have parental consent. "The Pap test is a very reliable test for detecting cancer of the cervix, one of the most common cancers in women," she said. "If detected early, such cancers are curable."

The Pap test is a painless procedure administered by a physician or registered nurse. It takes about five minutes of a woman's time. The test can be taken at any time except during a menstrual period and for four days thereafter. The test requires a collection of cells from the cervix. The cells are examined by microscope for abnormalities in color, size, or shape.

If a woman's Pap test is negative she will be informed. If the test shows some abnormality, the woman and her physician will be notified.

Physicians recommend that women have a Pap test at least once a year. Some women should have the test more often.

Irregular bleeding or unusual vaginal discharge are among the first visible signs of cervical cancer. The Pap test indicates signs of such cancer long before the visible signs are apparent. Although such signs do not always indicate the presence of cervical cancer, they should be reported immediately to a physician.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is the only cancer control agency within the United Foundation, Mrs. Lebowitz said.

Power Loss Darkens Novi, Wixom

Wixom, Edison Lineman Tells What It's Like

What was it like on the other side of the pole last week — for the men from Detroit Edison who worked to restore power outages following Tuesday's ice storm?

Providing some insights was veteran lineman Corbin Tillman of Wixom. Tillman and his four man crew based in New Hudson have worked the "good and the bad."

It's not an easy job being a lineman, says Tillman. Even under good conditions danger is always present. Life insurance rates are high — classified just under those of a steeplejack.

For the thousands of people in Wixom and Novi whose homes were darkened and cold, the lengthening hours without power became something of a nightmare.

For the men on the lines to restore the lost power, their hours were also cold and long. During the storm, Tillman, as well as every other crew in the Edison system, was on the job at least 16 hours a day.

Service must be restored, no matter what.

In the first hours following the power outages in Wixom, Tillman and crew worked on the "backbone" of that city's source of electricity — the lines running down Wixom Road.

The first of many complications came after repairing a break near the Wixom Pole Yard. Using a "hot stick" to close a "reclosure" and complete the circuit, an unknown break further down the line sent a surge of power through the lines.

That surge was enough to blow the insulators from the pole and send a ball of flame into the sky. Work had to be started anew but fortunately no one was injured.

Electricity and just how it gets to the home is a complex series of substations, lines, circuits and transformers. It's not as easy as throwing a switch. Even without storms the job is time consuming and dangerous.

The lines or "phases" in Edison talk, are never dead. In one thin phase alone there are 7,620 volts of electricity — more than enough to kill.

According to Tillman, the crews worked in the rain and lightning and fog. They were cold, tired and hungry. The rigs got stuck in the mud and they had flat tires.

The men hiked hundreds of poles and waded to their waists in swamp waters and muck.

Even under good conditions the job is dangerous. This past week the job was further complicated by clearing ice from the wires or having a phase pull off the poles further on down the line. It was one of arcing wires and fires, broken poles and fallen trees.

The linemen knew areas were engulfed in darkness, that customers were complaining more and more with each passing hour without power. They understood, but the job is not one that can be done with speed.

In the face of danger the hard-working, sometimes hard-living men work well together. There's a sense of understanding between them. "Knowing each other and how you work is necessary and important," said Tillman.

Downed electrical wires continued to play havoc as late as Monday as Detroit Edison linemen continued their fight to restore power to residents of Novi and Wixom.

The battle to restore power came after one of the worst ice storms in recent history ripped down power lines throughout the suburban area with a ¾ inch glaze of ice. Novi and Wixom were among the cities hardest hit by the resulting electrical blackouts following the storm. Novi also reported widespread flooding.

According to Wixom officials, 95 percent of the city was without power from Tuesday evening until late Thursday. In Novi, up to 75 percent of the population was without electricity as almost all of the city with the exception of the two most populated subdivisions, Willowbrook and Village Oaks, was left without electrical service.

Both the township and city of Northville reported power outages for only a few hours on Wednesday.

In Novi, the area north of Grand River was hardest hit. Power restoration appeared to begin in the southern portions of the city with linemen apparently working their way northward. The Walled Lake area from 13 Mile Road north was the last reported section without power.

City officials stated power was restored to the northernmost section of Walled Lake Monday, leaving electrical outages only at individual homes in scattered portions of the city. Scattered outages still existed in Wixom Tuesday.

Progress in restoring the power was hampered Friday in both Wixom and Novi when high winds tore down many of the makeshift repairs, actually leaving more of Novi without power than after the initial ice storm.

Both the city offices and the school board responded to the plea for help in Novi. An emergency shelter was set up at Novi Elementary Wednesday afternoon as the school district provided hot meals and a place to sleep for people in affected homes.

Coordinating the activity was Assistant City Manager John Merrifield, Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr and Sergeant Dale Gross of the Novi Police Department.

"We know people are going to need help," said Gross from his station at the emergency control center at Novi City Hall last week. Semi-emergency control status was in effect in the city beginning Wednesday morning with the Novi Fire Department on emergency standby and Novi Police officers put on 12 hour shifts.

The city may still be, along with the rest of Oakland County, declared a disaster area, according to Novi City Manager Edward Kriewall. That would enable residents throughout the county to receive federal funds to take care of damages resulting from the storm.

Besides the emergency vigil at the city hall, many residents, including some council members, volunteered their services. Dry ice pellets were shipped in from Indiana by a resident of a neighboring community who asked only that he be reimbursed the cost of the ice plus shipping — 30 cents a pound. Six tons were distributed to residents at the city hall — including to residents unable to pay the cost of the dry ice.

High School Greenhouse To Be Botanist's Delight

Mention the greenhouse planned for the new Novi High School to a botanist and chances are you'll get more than just a little reaction.

Just as the new Novi High School at 10 Mile and Taft can be described in one word — superlative — that same adjective can be used to describe the greenhouse.

"It's a unique utilization of wasted space," says Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz. The greenhouse will actually jut out of the roof of the new building, thus allowing sunlight to enter from morning until night.

According to Douglas Day, in his third year as a Novi biology teacher and the main driving force behind the greenhouse, the new 34 foot x 14 foot structure is twice the size of the present greenhouse and hopefully will allow an entire class to view the biological process.

"Now we have to let three or four use it and then three or four more," explains Day. "You can't work with the whole class."

Day estimates that half of all high school students during their high school careers will benefit from the new structure. Classes utilizing the facility will be not only biology, but also all life science students.

The importance of the new greenhouse is emphasized by the fact that in it, Day plans to "go from mosses right on through to higher plants."

"There's no way for some people to identify the parts of a plant from a diagram," says Day. "Unless you slice it open, a lot of people can't identify things in an actual plant on the basis of what they have studied in books."

"I think facilities like this are more important than an extra football field or 10 tennis courts as opposed to eight," adds Day. "My philosophy is that students in general should be exposed to as many different types of things as possible."

"Roughly 90 percent of the people in the United States today are into plants. I get riddled all day with what to do with 'my plant'. I hope that when they get through my class, they won't have to ask."

The new high school is scheduled to be opened in 1977.

Art Memorial

In the Works

In memory of Ina B. Gorman, a prominent citizen of Novi who recently died, a collection is being taken to purchase a painting to be placed in the new Novi Library.

Heading up the drive is Audrey Murphy, 349-0376.

Mrs. Gorman, remembered as a "champion of the people," was usually in attendance at council meetings and usually was fighting for the interests of her neighbors and other residents.

'By the Light'

Living up to the postal service slogan, Wixom postal clerk Sandy Evans sorts the daily mail by light of a Coleman lantern. The post office was without power and heat for almost 48 hours following the ice storm that hit the area last Tuesday. The lantern served double duty as a place to warm hands as an alternating crew well-bundled against the cold continued processing the mail throughout the blackout. Flashlights and special emergency lights were also pressed into service. Mail delivery to Wixom residents was cancelled Wednesday due to fallen Edison lines, downed trees and mail boxes frozen shut with ice.

Could Bankrupt City

Novi Fears 'Sharing the Wealth'

Novi city officials are continuing to fight a bill which they say could bankrupt the city in three years if enacted by the state legislature.

The bill, termed the "Share the Wealth Proposal" is supposed to have the effect of taking half of all additional tax revenue derived from new industrial and commercial growth, throwing it into a big pot and dividing it up on a per capita basis in communities which have not had substantial industrial or commercial tax growth.

The problem is that city officials fear that the bill does more than it purports to do, and could actually take away over 90 percent of additional industrial and commercial growth tax dollars from Novi.

The reason is that while the bill seeks to take away 50 percent of additional tax dollars, it does so by taking 50 percent of the increase in State Equalized Valuation times the "average tax rate" for all communities involved. Because Novi's tax rate is among the lowest in Oakland County, the bill reportedly would have the effect of taking away almost all additional industrial and commercial tax dollars.

According to a study of the Michigan Department of Management and Budget, had the bill been in effect in 1974, Novi city government would have lost $197,000 or approximately 94 percent of all additional commercial and industrial taxes.

"The effect it would have is that we would have to discourage growth in Novi," said City Manager Edward Kriewall. "More growth requires services and if the revenue brought in by new growth is siphoned off, we could not support services."

According to the Kriewall, Novi only would be hurt, not helped, by the bill. It also could damage the economy of the state of Michigan and actually adversely affect Detroit, the very area it is intended to help.

According to Novi Finance Director Frederick Todd, a big problem with the bill is that it does not take into account the fact that bonds were issued in the past on projects in local communities on the basis of expected growth and increased tax income. Under the new plan, municipalities could be put in a situation of not being able to pay off those bills.

City Assessor and Assistant Manager John Merrifield said that the city could go bankrupt in three years under the "Share the Wealth" plan.

While initial reports indicated that some school districts would also suffer under the plan, later reports indicate that only municipipalities and county governments actually would suffer. Seven different counties would come under the plan, if it is approved. Besides Oakland County, they are Washtenaw, Wayne, St. Clair, Macomb, Livingston and Monroe counties.

Wixom would also be hit hard by the new plan. If the plan had been in effect in 1974, Wixom would have lost $112,600.

While many people say they do not feel the plan can gain approval, Representative Richard Fessler said he fears a coalition of outstate and Detroit representatives forming which could eventually get the bill passed.

Other officials have indicated a feeling that the governor originally proposed the bill as an effort to scare the state with the legislation and then to come back with a piece of compromise legislation more acceptable.

Pink Slips Approved

Novi School Board last week gave final approval to the pink slipping of several teachers and administrators.

The school board had previously discussed the necessity of the notifications, indicating agreement with the measure. The notifications were required by state law 90 days before the end of the contract years.

The pink slipping was necessary because of the possibility of a millage renewal and increase failure plus the return of tenure teachers on leave.

Administrators pink slipped were assistant high school principal Charles Nanas, assistant Middle School principal Paul LePae and director of community education Milan Obrenovich. Listed as possible layoffs are also all one and two year probationary teachers.

They are: Marianne Aldrich; Margaret Anderson;

Investors Seek Okay For Liquor License

They came in all shapes and sizes with one thing on their minds: to persuade the Novi Council to award them a Class C liquor license.

Novi Council Monday night heard from nearly a dozen different representatives interested in getting one of the four liquor licenses available thanks to the recently finished mid-decade census. The city already has six liquor licenses in use.

Purpose of the meeting of the minds Monday was to give the council a better idea of exactly what proposals are available and what would be best for the city.

John Carlin, attorney for J. L. Hudson restaurant, explained that a 4,800 foot restaurant will be located in the Hudson store in the regional shopping center. The store is seeking the license with the intent of having no sitdown bar, only a service bar for tables.

"We have a lot of money going into the project," said the J. L. Hudson representative. "A liquor license is the difference between a profit and a loss."

Dave Fullington, owner of the Depot Restaurant in the Roman Plaza explained that he hopes to expand the restaurant and add liquor facilities for restaurant patrons.

Tony Reich, representing a group of investors said that the group is interested in locating a restaurant either in the current Antique Shop on Grand River west of Taft or in the old Arkin home on Nine Mile.

Police Blotter

Rigs Vandalized

In Wixom

Between 8 p.m. February 27 and 7 a.m. March 1 three tractor rigs parked at the Tel Way Truck Sales on Twelve Mile Road received extensive damage from unknown persons.

Those persons slashed six tires mounted on a GMC tractor and broke out all the windows in the cab section. Damage to the tractor, which was parked at Tel Way for repairs, was estimated at $700.

Damage to the second tractor truck was estimated at $125. Vandalism pried open a door to the tool storage area on the truck and ransacked the box. Tools and a tool box valued at $85 were taken.

Windows were broken on the right side of the cab of the third rig with damage estimated at $60.

Wixom - Police are continuing their investigation of the case.

Novi Police officers informed the Wixom Police Department that they had secured information on a possible theft at a Wixom building site. According to police reports, three men admitted stealing several door walls and frames from a site at the Village Apartments on February 28.

A check with a building foreman at the construction area verified the theft. Reported missing were 14 or 15 door wall frames and 28 to 30 door wall windows.

Value for each door wall was set at $110.

Miscellaneous tools valued at over $500 were reported stolen from a van parked at the Village Apartments. The incident occurred at some time between 7 p.m. February 27 and 2:30 p.m. February 28.

There were no signs of forced entry to the vehicle owned by a Centerline, Michigan man.

A $150 public address system was removed from a car parked in a driveway in the 2000 area of Teaneck Circle. Thieves gained entry to the car through the window on the driver's side of the car.

The incident occurred between midnight and 8:30 a.m. February 18.

The Wixom Fire Department responded to a truck fire in a rig parked behind the 76 gas station on Wixom Road and I-96. When firemen arrived they found the vehicle engulfed in flames.

In Novi

Novi police have arrested two 17-year-old youths for their alleged involvement with two breakings and enterings over the weekend.

Arrested were Brian Damron, 17, of Novi and Barry Zufelt, 17, also of Novi.

According to Detective Gordon Nelson, officers on patrol Saturday night discovered a vehicle with Damron in it parked at the loading dock behind the high school. Spread out on the loading dock were alleged burglary tools. While officers did not discover any breaking and entering of the high school, upon checking the Middle School they did find a back window broken and two windows inside leading to rooms broken. Thirty dollars was reportedly missing.

Damron was later arraigned Sunday for B&E and possession of burglary tools although no date was set for an exam. Zufelt was also arraigned and exam date set.

A tree limb fell Tuesday, March 7, causing $100 damage to a snowmobile parked in the 1500 area of East Lake Drive.

In Township

A canvas windbreak sign at Northville Charlie's on West Seven Mile Road was damaged by vandals sometime March 5. The sign, valued at $350 was slashed with a knife.

An employee of the business told Northville Township Police he had no suspects in mind in the case and could think of no reason for the vandalism.

An AM-FM stereo radio valued at $200 was taken from the dashboard of a car parked in a driveway in the 19000 block of Crystal Lake Drive.

The radio was taken from a reportedly locked vehicle sometime between 7:15 p.m. March 5 and 3:00 p.m. March 6.

Scratches to the hood and trunk of a car parked in the 18500 area of Innsbrook were reported to township police March 5.

It is believed the incident occurred between noon and 7 p.m. Friday and damage to the 1974 Mustang was estimated at $150.

A 1971 Chevrolet with no license plates was taken from a residence in the 49000 block of West Six Mile Road. It is believed the owner's son took the car without permission at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Police are still searching for the suspect and the automobile.

In Northville

A 1973 AMC Matador valued at $2,000 was stolen from a parking place at Horton Street and East Main. The owner reportedly left the keys in the ignition.

The owner, a Saginaw resident said he parked the car at 1:45 p.m. March 1. When he returned 15 minutes later, the car was gone. Laying on the back seat of the car was $200 in miscellaneous men's and women's clothing.

A locked 10-speed Schwinn bicycle parked on the north side of the Wagon Wheel Lounge building was stolen sometime between 8 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. March 5. The owner placed a value of $170 on the bicycle.

Two sliding glass window walls located in the rear of a home in the 21000 block of Stanstead were broken by a child shooting a slingshot. Damage totalled $300 in the incident which occurred Saturday at 7 p.m.

A 1972 blue Ford Maverick was stolen from a driveway in the 500 block of Horton Street. It is believed the car belonging to Consumers Power Company was taken between 7 p.m. Saturday and 11:45 a.m. Sunday.

A beer bottle is believed by police to be the tool used to smash a plate glass window at Urban's Partition and Remodeling Company on Baseline Road. Damage was estimated at $200 by the owner in the incident which occurred between 8 a.m. and 1:15 p.m. Sunday.

An Admiral portable 19 inch TV set and a plastic driving helmet were taken from an unlocked tack room sometime between midnight and 7:30 a.m. March 1.

The items were kept in Barn No. 2 in the St. Lawrence barn area of Northville Downs and were valued at $125.

Northville resident Vincent Smith, employed at the Ford Valve Plant was recently injured at the plant when an overhead door in the process of opening splintered, hitting him in the head.

A piece of the door fell onto Smith's head causing a gash from the front to the back of his head. Smith was immediately transferred to St. Mary Hospital for treatment.

That Pioneering Spirit Emerges

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Along about last Thursday night many of us probably felt as if we had done our thing for the Bicentennial — from the pioneering viewpoint at any rate.

Waking to the chill of an unheated room in the morning, groping through a darkened house with but a candle or flashlight, hauling water — shades of the pioneer spirit... to the point of wishing for an outhouse!

Some of us weren't as bad off as others. We had fireplaces and gas stoves. At least there was some heat and food could be prepared. As the hours of outage grew longer however I became more increasingly aware of the fact that I had a freezer full of food that would spoil without power.

One thing the outage has taught us... our lives are run by electric switches and gadgets. We take electricity for granted... without it we are almost completely lost.

We can't do our laundry, heat our homes, use bathroom facilities, cook and probably, to the kids anyway, the most important loss of all — no tube to stare at.

Children today, and many parents too, are so TV oriented that without it they are lost. Kids home from school just didn't seem to know how to function without the availability of entertainment.

Hubby and I had several games of 500 rummy played by light of the Coleman lantern — almost like a camping trip.

And so it was... our days without electricity. I'm sure there were many who cheered when life was reilluminated. And then there was Northridge — approaching the weekend still without power.

At a mardi-gras party hosted by Lois and Mel Green at their home on Beck Road Tuesday night, many guests pointed accusing fingers at Bob Trombley and blamed him for the power failure. Just as he yelled "mardi" (which took the place of bingo) the lights went out. It was suggested later that if he said it again the lights would go on!

It didn't work.

Since Tuesday was the big day in New Orleans for the traditional Mardi Gras carnival, the Greens decided to hold their party in Wixom on the proper day "to really capture the spirit."

The original group was expected to be 50 or more guests but the great flu bug and power failures throughout the city cut the list in half.

In getting ready for the party, Lois and Mel did their own bit for ecology. They scavenged beer and wine bottles — along Beck Road which had been uncovered by the melting snow, washed them and proceeded to drip the sides with candlewax. Voila... candle holders on the small red and white checked cloth covered tables placed throughout the rooms.

Huge posters, streamers and two gaily colored stuffed parrots added to the decorations. Carrying on with the Mardi Gras theme, Lois strung beaded necklaces which are always thrown from the floats in the New Orleans parade to the throngs along the streets. The necklaces were given to their guests as they arrived.

"Antoinette" may be a famous restaurant in New Orleans. But in Wixom, for the evening at least, the restaurant was "Meltoines." A buffet dinner was served at 8:30 with typical Louisiana Cajun food on the menu. And everyone got a menu at "Meltoines" even if it was only a two-man operation.

Featured dishes were chicken ala gros oignon (fried chicken with large sweet onions), painperdu — a slightly hardened bread dipped in egg yolk served with honey or syrup and green beans with pecans.

There were red beans with rice — a sort of chili using diced ham instead of hamburger, southern fried chicken, fruit and marshmallow salad, tossed salad and pralines.

And if that wasn't enough, Italian spaghetti and Swedish meat balls were also served along with wine during dinner.

Some guests arrived in costumes with Melva and Bill Allred copping top honors in their clown outfits. It was a real chore to get the make-up off later that night with no water source... there were some mighty funny looking people running around town the next day.

Lois said later that she and Mel really enjoyed giving the party — even after the lights went out. "We had such fun with this party we're thinking about having a Mardi Gras every year."

Hopefully it will be with full power and no great bugs.

Senior Forum Set
At Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College will present a four-part Senior Forum in March and April on the Legal Affairs of the Older Adult.

Sessions are scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. on Fridays at the College's Center at Garden City, and will begin on Friday with "The Will and its Specifics." The speaker will be P. Carl Schluter, an attorney and part-time instructor at the College.

On March 19, a speaker from the Dearborn Social Security Office will present "Retirement Income," and on March 26 a representative from the Wayne County Protective Agency will discuss "Consumerism and the Older Adult."

The Forum series will conclude on April 2 with David Hickey, a senior assistant manager from the Garden City National Bank of Detroit, who will present "Daily Living and the Bank."

No pre-registration is necessary for the Senior Forum sessions which are open to the public and meet without charge. Further information may be obtained by calling Senior Adult Services at 591-6400, extension 218. The Schoolcraft Center at Garden City is located at 29205 Florence Street at Middlebelt in Garden City.

Some people love patterns, other are devoted to plain fabrics whose interest comes from color and variety and richness of texture. But here are some general thoughts about the use of patterns: a marvelous bold, beautiful wallpaper may be too much for your whole room, but why not try it on one wall? With a splashy print or plaid fabric for draperies and bedspread, you may achieve greater harmony in your room with plain walls and carpeting. Figured wallpaper does best with muted fabric decorations, but there are some patterns you will find that go together with great distinction, especially matching large and small floral prints.

Let us at GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110, help you avoid the costly and disappointing mistakes so common in decorating your home. We have the largest selection of wallpaper patterns in this area — more than 100,000 patterns to choose from. We can get every pattern that is available on the market today. We can help you coordinate paints to your wallpaper selections, from our large selection of FULLER-O'BRIEN PAINTS!

Novi Class Fixes Engines

When spring comes, the thoughts of man usually turn to such things as women, motorcycles — and the unfortunate necessity of trimming limbs from trees, mowing the lawn, and rototilling the garden.

When it comes to Novi High School's "small engines class", it soon becomes obvious that the function is not only to teach the ins and outs of the trade, but also to see that those motorcycles are in-tune, the lawnmower is over-hauled and ready to attack the lawn, and the chain-saw does more than make a loud noise.

Many people in the community are unaware that in an effort to provide engines for the 16 students to work on, the class offers to fix any small engine equipment for the cost of parts plus a $1 service charge. This includes such things as snowmobiles, outboard motors, go-carts, and all-terrain vehicles.

According to instructor David Haywood, "We usually get more work than we can handle but it's slower this year. I think it's because it's such a hard winter, no one's thought about getting their lawn mowers and other things ready to go."

The first semester of the two hour block course consists of studying engines through books and manuals, as well as taking apart two and four cycle engines.

"The second semester we run a repair shop where we do everything from rebuilding to a minor tune-up," explains Haywood.

When the service amounts to more than a tune-up, Haywood says, "we like to tear down the whole engine so we can spec all the parts, replace the bad ones and then reassemble it — basically we overhaul the whole engine and replace anything that is bad."

So far in three years of teaching the class, Haywood says the students have yet to be stumped by a faulty engine, but "I've had some engines that weren't worth fixing."

Haywood says that the procedure to be followed by people interested in getting a small engine repaired is to contact him at the high school. Haywood says that he will then get information about the engine and what needs to be done. Engines are then worked on in a first come-first served basis from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"If anyone wants anything done, now's the time to do it," says Haywood.

Wayne Acts for Communities

Seeks Block Grant

Wayne County is getting ready to bid for $1.8 million in Federal Community Development Block Grant funds on behalf of 24 outcounty communities.

The board of commissioners directed the Office of Program Development and Coordination to prepare a second-year application for the federal money that can be used for housing and community development projects. The application must have board approval before it's sent on to Washington.

Last year, the county netted $637,000, for its 18 member urban coalition — and expects to double that figure this year, according to James Curran who directs the county's Office of Program Development and Coordination.

"Every community that was with us last year will at least get the same funding," Curran said. "But actually we're fighting to double that amount and we think there's a very good chance that will happen."

"Without the county, these smaller communities wouldn't stand a chance for funding under this program," he said. "And this year we've got six new communities so we've set a target goal of $1.8 million."

The HUD program is in the second phase of a three-year congressional authorization and works this way:

Eligible counties (those with a population exceeding 200,000) must garner member communities (those local governments with populations under 50,000) and then file an application on behalf of the entire coalition.

This helps smaller communities because the county administers the projects, cuts the red tape and has the staff and planning experts necessary to handle grant applications, Curran explained.

"Otherwise, they would lose out. Or it would be so expensive it wouldn't be worth the effort," he added.

Curran said the bulk of the money received last year went for recreation-oriented projects like parks and neighborhood playgrounds, a service center for senior citizens, storm drainage and water mains — and other "hard projects" that involve building or physical improvement.

Citizens of member communities are invited to voice their opinions on 1976 projects at two scheduled public hearings at the following locations:

Wednesday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Brownstown Township Hall, 21313 Telegraph, Brownstown Township.

Thursday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Allen Park City Hall, 16850 Southfield.

Local communities participating in the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Program are:

Allen Park, Highland Park, Southgate, Ecorse, Plymouth Township, Grosse Pointe Park, Melvindale, Van Buren Township, Plymouth, Canton Township, Northville Township, Grosse Ile Township, Sumpter Township, Brownstown Township, Grosse Pointe, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Northville.

The six new members for 1976 are: Garden City, Wyandotte, Hamtramck, Trenton, Riverview, and Woodhaven.

Commissioners principally involved in this effort are Royce Smith (D-Belleville), Jarrette Simons (D-Detroit) and Clemens Bykowski (D-Detroit).

Futurist to Speak at Schoolcraft

Celebrated futurist and author Alvin Toffler will present a lecture at Schoolcraft College on March 23.

Cosponsored by the City of Livonia and the Schoolcraft College Bicentennial committees, Toffler will speak in the main gymnasium at 8 p.m. His announced topic is "Learning for Tomorrow," which is the title of his book published in 1974.

Toffler's Future Shock, 1970, was the book that skyrocketed him to fame with sales exceeded six million copies in 20 different languages. Much in topic yet today, it deals with the problems of adapting to accelerating change. His most recent book, Eco-Spasm Report, 1975, describes strategies for avoiding economic collapse.

In "Learning for Tomorrow" Toffler stresses that education is intended to prepare children for the future. But what if those who teach have a false image of what lies ahead? To help our children cope with rapid change, to understand and to succeed in the new world that is taking form around us, we must design an education oriented to tomorrow.

Returning from extensive research and speaking tours,

Toffler warns that the crisis of change has intensified and now threatens our economic survival: "In the next 25 years all of us will be required to deal with more change than we have ever had to handle — changes in our life styles, our consumer patterns, jobs, schools, churches and families. This will require a new future-consciousness in politics, new methods of planning, and new ways of redemocratizing America."

Philip Power, co-publisher of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, has been selected as honorary chairman for this special event and will introduce Toffler.

Tickets at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students are available at: The Schoolcraft College Bookstore; The Pierson Center, 32625 Seven Mile Road, Livonia; Hudson's at Westland and Downtown, and Grinnell's in the Livonia Mall. Mail orders will be accepted by mailing a check made payable to "Schoolcraft College" to the Bookstore, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, MI 48151. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

ALLEN FUNT

Allen Funt
To Smile
At College

Allen Funt, the man who gave America "Smile, you're on candid camera," will appear at Schoolcraft College on Thursday, March 18. Creator of the "New Candid Camera" television show, this famous eavesdropper with the zoom lens will show and narrate some of his best films at 8 p.m. in the Waterman Campus Center. He will also conduct a question and answer session with the audience.

Funt's preoccupation with catching people off guard and making them laugh at themselves has taken many forms. Soon after the initial success with Candid Microphone on the ABC Radio Network, there followed Candid Camera, a top-rated television show for many years.

The idea came to him while serving in the Army Signal Corps during World War II. He used a wire recorder, the predecessor of today's tape recorder. The portability of the contraption led him to try out various concealment techniques. The happy result was Candid Microphone which premiered on ABC Radio soon after Funt left the Army...

Whether the elusive Funt will "stash a camera around the area is a never-divulged secret, but it may be wise to keep smiling — who knows?

Tickets are $2.50 and available at the College Bookstore Mondays through Thursdays from 8:45 a.m. to 7 p.m. and until 3:15 p.m. on Friday.

Novi Appoints
HS Secretary

Several personnel recommendations were approved by the Novi School Board last week.

Named as secretary to the Novi High School principal was Beverly Cook, who had been counseling secretary at the high school. She is replacing Joan McAllister who left to become the Northville city clerk.

Returning from lay-off to replace Mrs. Cook in the counseling office is JoAnn Koch.

The board also approved the hiring of election workers May Skellenger (chief of workers), Laree Bell, Shirley Brooks, Myra Hoyer, and Dorothy Withers.

Novi Schools Explain Request

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is a series of questions and answers supplied by the Novi School District administration. The questions are intended to help explain the need behind a 9½ mill renewal and 3½ mill increase requested in an April 12 election.

Is the Novi Community School District Growing?

The school district student population has increased approximately four percent from last year and this growth is expected to continue for the next five years. Estimates from the Needs Assessment No. II Citizens Committee indicate that there will be 3800 students in the 1980-81 school year. This will be an increase of 1025 students or 37 percent more than our present enrollment. To accommodate this growth, additional operating funds are needed as new buildings are opened, staff added and program offerings improve.

How do schools affect the location of desirable industry and business establishments?

Industry locates in communities where schools are in a healthy condition, since schools are necessary certain defeat, the board was warned.

Several citizens volunteered to help sell a millage hike.

Here briefly are the service cuts that would have to be made, based on departmental spokesmen comments, if the most serious cuts were implemented. Included, also, are the outlays that were proposed and on the table when the board work session broke up early Tuesday morning:

Library

If the library budget were set at $29,100 instead of the proposed $38,085, it would mean elimination of a community service librarian and thus several service programs involving senior citizens, and other evening programs, summer reading workshop, etc.; and reduction of library hours from 44 to perhaps 35 hours a week.

The board before leaving, proposed adding enough money to the library budget to pay for the two pages, but it did not add enough for the community service librarian and enough to keep the library open 44 hours. The final figure was fixed at $30,280, up $1,180 from the lowest proposal of $29,100.

Recreation

If the recreation department budget is slashed to $34,804, from an earlier reduced figure of $43,000, it would mean across the board increases in fees ranging from 30 percent to 400 percent, reduction of senior citizen services, reduction of personnel, serious cuts in the program for the handicapped, elimination of the contingency fund, reduction of the number of mailings to citizens, elimination of maintenance employees, and postponement of equipment purchases. By meeting's end, the recreation budget outlay remained at $34,807

Police

If the police department budget is slashed to $90,969 from the present budget of $120,356, which will actually top $134,000, it will mean elimination of one shift — probably midnights, reduction of the dispatching service to one shift six days a week, insufficient monies for preventative maintenance of vehicles and equipment, and reduction of personnel.

By meeting's end the police outlay had been boosted to $135,000, approximately what this year's outlay represents. The higher figure still will mean a reduction in service. It appeared also that the board would restore $7,500 to the budget for road dusting (two applications).

Raises are not provided in the budget, although Supervisor Lennox made a strong pitch for granting some raises to non-elected employees of the township.

With the conclusion of Monday's 6½ hour meeting, these are the major budget outlays that were on the table:

Township Board, $12,804; supervisor's department, $20,200; clerk's department, $23,545; treasurer's department, $28,315; elections, $11,067; accounting and auditing, $2,750;

Board of review, $125; cemetery, $550; township hall and grounds, $17,900; police, $135,000; ambulance, $1,960; fire, $28,200; building inspection, $43,003; public works (road dusting), $7,500; senior citizens, $1,500; recreation, $34,807; library, $30,280; planning commission, $8,000; board of appeals, $200; employee fringe benefits, $41,680; general administration, $17,602; raises, 0

Poet Maxine Kumin To Discuss Poetry

Schoolcraft College will present Poet Maxine Kumin in two performances on Thursday, March 18 in the Liberal Arts Theater.

A recipient of the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry in 1973 for her book Up Country, Ms. Kumin will discuss poetry informally at 4 p.m. and will read from her poems at 8 p.m.

In addition to writing poetry, Ms. Kumin, who was born in Philadelphia in 1925, is a novelist and author of children's books. She holds Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees from Radcliffe College.

Previously Ms. Kumin was a staff member at the Bread Loaf Writers Conference for several years and was an instructor at Tufts University and Newton College. She was visiting lecturer in English at the University of Massachusetts in 1972, and during the winter of 1975 was adjunct professor of writing at Columbia University.

Ms. Kumin has been awarded the Lowell Mason Palmer Award of the Poetry Society of America, a grant from the National Council on the Arts and Humanities, the William Marion Reedy Award of the Poetry Society of America and Poetry Magazine's Annual Eunice Tietjens Memorial Prize.

A couple of years ago South Lyon's Leslie Kendall had high hopes of breaking into the big time of show business with a Paul Anka creation, "This is Your Song".

The daughter of the former WJR baritone, Fred Kendall, Leslie is a determined trouper who has her sights set on the top. And, in my opinion, she has the talent to reach her goal.

"This is Your Song" didn't make it, although it received heavy play by many of the disc jockeys.

But now there are two more Leslie Kendall songs that are absolutely beautiful: "Maybe September" and "Saddest Thing of All". They are on the Percy Faith 'Summer Place '76' album. Her voice has a wispy, throaty quality that seems to add a new dimension to Leslie's singing and positively captures the attention of the listener.

It would seem that Percy Faith, the renowned arranger-conductor, was able to bring out this talent in Leslie.

But, unhappily, just as they were about to record another album with two more selections by Leslie, Faith died of cancer.

I had asked Dick Ambler, Leslie's uncle and a Northville resident, to have Leslie jot down some of her impressions of her work with Faith. I'd like to quote from a letter she wrote to Ambler.

"Percy was recording his last album when he died. He completed only four songs and had picked out two for me that we never got to hear. 'Summer Place '76' has sold tremendously well and he was really excited about the next album because he was capturing an even more contemporary sound.

"'Maybe September' was his favorite song of all time. In his will he requested the instrumental version to be played at his funeral. Tony Bennett recorded it the first time. When Percy asked me to sing it on the last album, he said 'sing it just like Tony'. I thought that would be easy, but Tony's phrasing is some of the most challenging stuff I've ever tried to emulate. He never runs out of air! I was really discouraged when we went in to record but after it was over Percy hugged me and said I had really captured the lyric. I can't tell you what that meant to me.

"Percy was a tease when he wanted you to relax. He said he couldn't understand a word I said because I was from the midwest. The night of the session I wore my favorite shoes. I'm 5'7" and those shoes add another four inches. Percy put his arm around me and introduced me to his 50-piece orchestra as his 'new halfback'. Jokes and laughs were his way of making us all relax, but he never lost control. Everyone there was in awe of his talent. It was the most exciting night of my career and a night I'll never forget".

There's a chance that a TV special will be staged paying tribute to Percy Faith. The singers who will be invited to take part in the production will include Doris Day, Tony Bennett, Johnny Mathis and a half-back from South Lyon who sang Faith's favorite song on his very last album.

Raps Historical Society; Sees Mill Race As Big Waste

To the Editor:
This week's issue of the Northville Record shows that this town is a perfect example of people with more time, energy and money than they know what to do with. We have a Historical Society.

Pardon me if I sound stupid, but what historical event took place here in Northville? Northville is a very pleasant town and I choose to live here. However, I've been reading the Centennial Edition of the Northville Record and cannot find anything for the Historical Society to represent.

A mill was started, somebody opened a store, people settled farms — just like thousands of towns all over the country. Just what is the Historical Society preserving and for what?

Northville had a station along the underground railroad to aid run-away slaves...notice how many were encouraged to live here. We have such a large black population. What is Northville so proud of? Gettysburg it isn't. Every city, town and burg has old buildings — big deal! The Mill Race Village has two dilapidated buildings...empty shells that the society will have to buy things to put into them. That's historical? Perhaps they should change their names to the Society for the Preservation of Old Buildings.

If one will never take any visitors to the Mill Race Historical Village because no history was ever made there. If I want to show them how the townfolks preserve old houses, I shall take them down Dunlap, Randolph, Rogers, etc.

Balls, bazaars, home tours, etc. to raise money for what? $350 for a brick on a wall. How much medicine for the victims of Guatemala would $350 buy?

Charities everywhere are crying for help and money. Police Athletic League, POW's, Crippled Children's Society, Fish, Big Brother, St. Jude, MS, Cancer Society, etc. These societies help PEOPLE. They try to change society for the betterment of all society.

The Historical Society seems like a big cop-out....a real status symbol...something to get your name in the Northville Record.

So please people, don't ask me to contribute time, money or energy to the Historical Society. I'm too busy teaching my pet rock to sit up and beg. Revolutionary.

'Penalty' Clause:

Is It Known?

To the Editor:

On February 29, 1976 the following article appeared in the Detroit News: — (front page): "New Law Allows Hike in Millage with No Extra Cash to Schools".

Michigan residents have heard the line many times — "vote for higher school taxes and the extra dollars will be used to improve your child's education."

But under a little-known and confusing law, a vote to increase school tax millage this year could actually reduce the amount of state aid allotted to many school districts.

Thus, in an affected district with a newly passed higher millage, residents will be paying higher local taxes but the schools will not get an increase in funds. The residents' higher taxes will be used merely to replace state funds which the district would have received if the additional millage had been defeated by voters.

This law is known as Section 143 of Public Act 261 — the state school-aid amendments that were adopted last September.

The article goes on to say that one district "contacted everyone from the governor's office to the state legislature and the Department of Education... and actually got written confirmation from the governor's office and key legislators."

Has our board of education knowledge of this law? If so, will they explain to the voters how our school district stands? Would it be foolish on our parts to vote for an increase in millage when we would gain nothing by it except an increase in taxes? I feel that everyone would appreciate straightforward answers.

As it stands now, I would be very hesitant in approving any increase in millage.

Speaking for Myself

Foreign Aid: Stop It Now?

JAMES WITTSTOCK

YES . . .

There is no doubt in my thinking that we should abolish all foreign aid. We have sent billions of dollars to practically every country in the world. Let's take a look at some of the results of this program:

—All these giveaways have failed to win friends. Take a look at the way most of these recipients have voted against us in the United Nations on such important issues as Zionism and Taiwan.

—Regarding foreign aid in the form of food, this policy has been counter-productive in many cases, such as in Bangladesh. Some of the food we gave them resulted in healthier men and women who then had more children destined to live in poverty themselves. Thus, the net result was more starving people instead of fewer.

—Looking at what it means to you and me, we pay a dear price for this aid. Our taxes are higher, the federal deficit is greater, and this, in turn, means more inflation. You pay more taxes, and the money you have left buys less.

In summary, our foreign aid program has been very costly, the goals it proposes have not been reached, and we have not gained any prestige because of it. In the future, if we do give any more foreign aid, there should definitely be some strings attached to it.

James Wittstock
New Hudson

DIANA RODRIGUEZ

NO . . .

To many people Foreign Aid means billions of American dollars in food, equipment and money siphoned from our country and stockpiled in some far off government's warehouse. It is military weapons supplied to countries which have, in turn, used them on our allies. Unfortunately all of the above are likely to be true in some instances and if there wasn't more to Foreign Aid than that I'd say, "Forget it."

However, Foreign Aid is also feeding hungry people, helping countries develop modern methods of farming and industry. It is helping build houses, schools, hospitals and bridges. It is digging wells and building roads and establishing much needed family-planning programs.

For political and military reasons it seems necessary to play the "I'll give you all of this if you'll be my friend" routine. Hopefully it is working at least part of the time.

We have our own economic problems but overall America is still the richest nation in the world and has a lot to offer her fellow earthlings. There is a lot wrong with our present brand of Foreign Aid, but cutting it off entirely would be much worse.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

BY JACK W. HOFFMAN

A quiz:

The southbound school bus is stopped to unload passengers and its red lights are flashing. You are northbound on this same boulevard street. Must you bring your car to a stop?

According to "an independent poll" conducted by Mrs. JoAnn Vaughn of Novi, only one of 28 friends and neighbors answered the question correctly. What's more, she flunked, I flunked, Tom Goulding, director of school transportation for Northville flunked, and chances are you didn't do so well either.

No. You need not stop.

All of which confirms Mrs. Vaughn's observation, "I think a lot of the laws about school buses are not understood by the general public."

She asked us to check into school bus laws so, with the help of Tom's copy of the Michigan Vehicle Code, here goes:

1. The school bus signal requiring motorists to stop are two alternately flashing red lights located at the front and back of the bus.

2. Motorists must come to a full stop at least 10 feet from the bus when these signals are actuated.

3. The bus driver must actuate these signals at least 200 feet in advance of his or her stop.

4. Motorists driving on divided highways where an intervening space, physical barrier, or clearly indicated dividing sections so constructed as to impede vehicular traffic, need not stop upon meeting a school bus which has stopped across the dividing space, barrier or section.

5. Here, in this area, motorists must stop for school buses whether or not the municipality is a city or a township.

6. Only buses transporting school children may be painted yellow. All school buses must be painted yellow.

7. The driver of the vehicle illegally passing a bus, under the law, is the presumed owner. Thus, if the bus driver copies down the license number the owner of the car is liable, even though he may not have been driving it at the time.

8. It is legal and proper for children to cross the road in front of the stopped school bus upon being discharged.

9. The driver of the school bus, before resuming motion, must deactivate the flashing lights and permit stopped traffic to proceed "and shall when resuming motion proceed in such a manner as to allow congested traffic to disperse by keeping the bus as near to the right side of the road as can be done with safety."

10. School buses cannot stop to receive or discharge passengers unless the bus is clearly visible by motorists from either direction at a distance of at least 500 feet.

Small Numbers But Large Success

Ford Workers 'Drop in' to Learn

Lunch boxes and school books dot the long tables, a scattered group of people with heads bowed seem engrossed in studies. It's quiet, with only the occasional shuffling of papers or feet, a cough.

But down a few short corridors the noise of an assembly line in full production is deafening.

In the large, well-lit room at the Ford Wixom Assembly Plant a handful of men sit quietly, seriously studying in hopes of attaining a high school diploma. Their lunch boxes sit close by for use when they report to their scheduled shifts in the plant.

In a joint effort with the Ford Motor Company and the Walled Lake Community Education Department, a drop-in learning center was established last fall for hourly plant employees. Ford provided the in-plant classroom and furnishings, Community Education the teacher-director.

The drop-in center provides Ford employees with the opportunity of securing a high school diploma with hours flexible enough to fit into almost any shift assignment.

According to Susan Dohring, teacher-director of the center, individualized learning is the key to the whole program. "The biggest selling point is that there is not a lot of hassling — the students set their own learning pace."

On entering the program, each student is pre-tested in the basic skill areas of math, reading, English and history. The tests determine where to place the students in their studies with a specific program developed to strengthen the weak areas.

Basically the program follows the path of General Education Development (GED) preparation. The Michigan State Department of Education issues a high school equivalency certificate or diploma upon completion or by passing the GED test.

Gradually adding more people to the program as "the word gets around," Ms. Dohring says the center is successful. "Even though the numbers are small, there is a high degree of success. So far we've had four students take the GED test and four have passed."

"These people are not afraid to tackle the work, they never fool around and they help each other," Ms. Dohring had nothing but high praise for the students pointing out that the students seem to work twenty times harder than a regular classroom students."

On joining the program, students elect the number of hours per week they plan to spend on their studies. The usual period is three hours per day, four days a week. It was also pointed out that the study time needed to complete the course requires the person to get to work that much earlier or stay that much later.

The Wixom Assembly Plant is the only Ford location in their world-wide operations having a learning center on the premises. In the past, similar centers have been run at the Ford Rouge Plant and the Michigan Truck Plant in Wayne.

According to Ford spokesman Hal Pope, the company is more than pleased with the success of the program and said they felt the essential ingredient was the instructor. "Mrs. Dohring is committed and personally involved with her students. The people are there because they want to be and are a dedicated group."

Larry Barlow, coordinator for the community education program cited Ford Motor's traditional strong support of education as the main reason for contacting the company as well as "always looking for beneficial programs to add within the community."

"Together we have given the educational opportunity to many people that would not necessarily be able to get it elsewhere," continued Barlow.

'Spiders: Let Them Eat Cake'

To the Editor:

Education in Northville certainly has its share of problems. One immediate problem that must be resolved is how to get the people of Northville to care enough about our children so that they vote FOR them instead of against them.

Another problem is how to get that gossamer-spinning group away from weaving webs to trap the school board and superintendent and get them out hustling for millage supporters. This is no time for prolixity but for action, no time for hostility but concern.

SPIDER and the people who voted against millage for education have succeeded in frustrating any solution to the school situation. They have become roadblocks to a solution. And if they are not part of the solution then they become part of the problem. We cannot continue to let them plague us with their negative and hostile attitudes. Or we shall have to lay off even more teachers, and increase the number of students per classroom and hallway even more.

The board and superintendent cannot be blamed if the people of Northville refuse to show concern for our children. We cannot vote down millage and still expect more teachers, smaller classroom size, and comfortable schools. Blame lies with those who prefer spinning increasingly intricate and tedious questions to taking action. Blame lies with those monstrous people who voted against our own children. Those same people chose to ignore a sad and desperate problem in order to reissue Marie Antoinette's cruel and cynical instructions to the famished French, "Let them eat cake."

between Ten Mile and Novi Road is to be used exclusively for a left turn lane. The confusion arises from the fact that this lane has been used for many years as a passing lane. The fact that it is a hilly stretch of highway causes sight restriction, and with the speed limit set at 50 miles per hour any accident would be of a severe nature.

I would like to see preventive measure taken before lives are lost — not after when it's too late.

Help Needed

To the Editor:

In spite of the recent storm — spring is coming! It is a season of hope for most of us.

But for the emotionally and mentally ill there is very little hope. Their illness is frightening and painful and under the best of conditions take a long, long time for them to recover. Now to add to all their problems, the money for mental health has been drastically cut by the state legislature.

While you are doing your spring house cleaning, will you please think of these people? Every year we of The Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children have a rummage sale. Last year we raised enough money to supply materials for Mr. John Swallow and his shop class at Hawthorn Center to build new playground equipment. But members also try to help the patients at Northville State Hospital.

Our porch at 605 Grace is the place to drop off your donations.

What we are in desperate need of is as follows:

Children's clothing and shoes in good condition; dishes, vases, clay pots, kitchen utensils, pots and pans, electrical appliances that still work; toys in good condition; costume jewelry, books; furniture that can be moved from our house to Hawthorn Center;

Anything a baby might need; large size men's and women's clothing and shoes in good condition; and linens, drapes, curtains, bedspreads, rugs, blankets, etc.

We are also going to sell homemade baked goods.

I hope you will help us help these desperately ill children and adults.

Last year The Little Peoples Shop gave us some beautiful merchandise as they have for so many years.

If you can't use whatever you have to give away, please remember 605 Grace (the porch that has been the recipient for all donations for the past eight years). We are disabled, so we cannot pick up your donations, but if you need something picked up, please call us at 349-7197 and we will contact one of our members who is in better physical condition than we are and they will arrange to pick up your donations.

Many, Many thanks again for your help, Roger and Shirley Matthews

Laud Wildcats

To the Editor:

To anyone who understands the agony of defeat and the joy of winning has got to be proud of the Novi Varsity Basketball team. The entire team and coach must be congratulated on the outstanding performance they gave during the recent District playoffs. The last game played against Willow Run, even though Novi lost by one basket in overtime, was not a loss but a gain to Novi in that they proved that the win-loss column with their own conference was not the true picture of their accomplishments.

Again, congratulations Novi Basketball team. All of Novi is proud of you.

Arts Backed

To the Editor:

What Novi Foundation, organized for the benefit of the residents of Novi, has started its first membership campaign and what does it plan to do for the residents of Novi?

Answer: The Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts plans to make scholarships available to musical education programs such as the one at Interlochen. It plans to sponsor programs in the performing arts located in Novi or proposed to be located in Novi (like a community Little Theatre).

It has brought to Novi a community inter-action that has been nothing less, than super-terrific. Because Novi has three post offices and as many school districts serving it, certain gaps have existed in Novi residents identifying with their city. The Foundation serves all the people of Novi — north, south, east and west, and brings them together working toward a common goal — promoting the Performing Arts in Novi.

did indicate it would contain a good deal of satire, emphasize humor, and offer some unusual photography.

For example, he cites the scene with the elderly couple with the flat tire. "The camera moves in on their faces as the motorcyclists get off their bikes and approach the car. You can see it. And the audience will feel it and expect violence. And yet when the camera pulls back you don't see violence. You see a bunch of motorcyclists changing the couple's tire."

A local couple reportedly played the role but their identity was not disclosed.

Besides involving Northville policemen, the film also found spots for the Washtenaw County deputy sheriffs. Parts of the film also were shot in Detroit and Warren.

Among other places, film was shot here in Rural Hill Cemetery, which may or may not have given rise to the title.

The film crew asked to use the funeral parlors of Casterline Funeral Home but the request was denied. "They didn't have insurance, and for all we know they might have driven their bikes right into our place," remembered Ray Casterline.

"They may have shot some film out in front of our place. It's public property," added Casterline, as a worried look crept over his face when he heard the R-rated come-on, "The day law and order went berserk!"

Said Captain Westfall: "You know, we were supposed to get paid for our work... and we never saw any money."

Also receiving awards for periods of service with the city are: Ken Cookson (10 years), Marvin Tobel (10 years) and John Franch (15 years). All of them are moving from the city.

Cookson is also to be honored as fireman of the year.

Following the awards, to be given out at 7 p.m. at the UAW Hall in Wixom, a dance will be held.

School to Ask 3.9 Mill Increase

the outset it had established that "it would not be a rubber stamp for the board — that it would remain independent and objective. Numerous financial and non-financial questions were raised and put to the board and administration. These were answered in detail at public meetings of the CAC during February.

"A financial sub-committee, composed of members with strong expertise in business and finance, met frequently with administrators to review district financial controls and systems. They reported that the district's books are now in good order, and that it has installed accurate, current financial control systems to keep expenditures in line.

"A survey sub-committee developed and conducted a comprehensive community poll to determine citizen attitudes towards the schools, finances, educational techniques and millage. Results of the survey were presented to the board Monday night for information and possible action.

"A complete communications program has been planned for the next four weeks to advise voters of the fact relating to the millage proposals and other issues. The entire committee, together with other interested individuals and groups, will be working to publicize the millage vote and request approval of both proposals.

"Special attention will be given senior citizens and others who have opposed past millages to show them the positive advantages and, in many cases, the insignificant tax impact of the total package.

"Persons interested in working with the Citizens Advisory Committee in promoting the millage should call Arlen Westling at 349-5698 or Miles Tuttle at 349-8119."

Echoing the findings of the committee, Superintendent Raymond Spear said approval of only the 17-mill proposal would necessitate additional educational cutbacks. It would mean, for example, elimination of all art, music and physical education programs at the elementary level and wiping out all extracurricular activities at the high school, he said.

Addition of the 3.9 mills he told board members would enable the district to hire additional teachers, reduce the teacher-pupil ratio, expand class offerings, bring class selections back to six hours with additional funds available for textbooks and library books, reinstate extracurricular activities, and possibly hire a curriculum coordinator for grades K-12.

Although the state aid act as presently written would penalize the district and, in effect, reduce the buying power of 3.9 mills to 2.8 mills, Spear said he is optimistic that the law will be changed so that the district can benefit from all 3.9 mills.

Concerning the CAC's recommendations and the board's resulting action, James Lewis, acting chairman for the Society of People Interested in Demanding Educational Responsibility (SPIDER), said that while his group is still waiting for written answers to its questions submitted to the board, it "endorses and urges a 'yes' vote on the 17-mill renewal as necessary to keep our educational system operational.

"We further hope that you will spell out for us tonight exactly what each additional mill you plan to request will buy, and will allow questions and discussions of these items at the time they are proposed.

"Despite a great deal of misinformation about and misunderstanding of our group and its aims, SPIDER wishes to be constructive. We will not submit further questions to you this week, but will submit all the questions citizens have asked us concerning the high school to the PTSO meeting to be held March 17 (in the cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.). We urge all interested citizens to attend. We understand that other local school meetings are planned and hope as many of you as possible will be present to provide our community with meaningful answers to questions we have been asked as well as those others are asking."

SPIDER commended the board for attempts to listen to and establish dialogue with the citizenry at grass roots meetings, adding that it hopes "this dialogue will continue beyond April 3rd, because many of us are simply not satisfied with the end products of our system — that is the quality of the graduates the Northville district is turning out..."

Northville Musicians Score High in District

Northville's high school symphony band and the wind ensemble came up with high marks in competition with other high schools in the metropolitan area.

The two local musical groups competed in separate performances Saturday. The symphony band, under the direction of Michael Rumbell, competed at Dexter while the wind ensemble, under the direction of Robert Williams, competed at Grosse Pointe.

Northville's wind ensemble was awarded a first division rating — highest rating possible. The symphony band fared well, also, receiving a second division rating.

With the first division rating it won, the wind ensemble becomes eligible for competition in the state festival this spring.

Ernie Sweeten Leads Way

All-Area Cagers Big Shooters

When it comes to being able to put the ball through the hoop, the 1976 Sliger Home Newspaper All-Area basketball team is a tough crew to beat.

Led by 6-6 Hartland center Ernie Sweeten and his 23 points-per-game average, the 1976 All-Area first team averaged close to 97 points per game — 17 points higher than the 80 point-per-game average of the 1975 All-Area squad.

In addition to Sweeten, two other members of the All-Area first team managed to keep the nets burning by averaging better than 20 points per contest. Novi's Scott Parsons hit for a 20.8 average and South Lyon's Kevin Baize was close behind with a 20.6 average.

The other two first team members — Northville's Cris Armada and Pinckney's Gary Wiltse — did not top the 20 point-per-game average of Sweeten, Parsons, and Baize, but were no slouches in the scoring department either. Armada averaged 17.2 points per game in the tough Class A Western Six Conference, while Wiltse tallied 14 points per game to lead the Pinckney squad.

It was the year of the guard as far as Sliger Home Newspaper staffers were concerned. While there was a general shortage of outstanding centers and forwards, there was a corresponding abundance of good backcourt men. A total of six guards received strong consideration for either first or second team honors and five of them were named to one or the other of the two top teams, even though staffers attempted to follow the standard format of a center, two forwards, and two guards on both the first and second teams.

The 1976 All-Area cage squad is also considerably younger than the 1975 team. Only one underclassman — Hartland's Sweeten — made either the first or second team last year. But this year's team contains four underclassmen. All four are juniors and received second team honors.

Sweeten, a first-team selection last year as well, is the only repeater on this year's team. Three players — Sweeten, Parsons, and Armada — were unanimous first-team picks.

ERNIE SWEETEN, a 6-6 senior, almost singlehandedly carried the Class B Hartland High Eagles to their first Genesee Suburban Conference title in seven years.

It's the second year in a row that Sweeten has been picked to the Sliger All-Area cage first team.

Sweeten helped Hartland rack up its 10-2 league posting and 16-4 overall record with his 23 points-per-game average and accurate 70 percent shooting from the foul line.

Ernie also proved to be the "king of the boards" by averaging 16 rebounds a game.

"He was the kid who was tough and the one we looked to each game," said Hartland Coach Jerry Doerr.

Brighton Coach Larry Mason called Sweeten the best player in the area and added that when Ernie is on the court he dominates the game.

Sweeten's highest game this year was a 35 point rampage against Holly in which he sank 10 of 11 free throws.

Sweeten snared 30 rebounds against Milford Lakeland and in another match pumped in 14 of 16 shots from the floor.

SCOTT PARSONS' 47-point scoring performance against South Lyon helped lift the Novi co-captain's scoring average to almost 21 points a game.

The 6-1 senior shot an amazing 53.3 percent from the floor, canning 130 out of 244 attempts.

"Scott is a complete ball player," Coach Ron Flutur complimented. "He plays good defense and is our second leading rebounder."

Parsons averaged 5.6 rebounds a game, collected 25 assists and led the team in steals with 57.

"Scott is an exceptional shooter. He can hurt you inside or out," Flutur explained.

"He is so strong around the basket and has such good movement that he gets free for a lot of shots."

Parsons is an impressive 76.2 percent free throw shooter.

The Southeastern Conference honored Parsons on its first team all-league squad.

Parsons scored 353 points this year which breaks the school record.

CRIS ARMADA was the number four guard and saw only limited action last season. This year, more often than not, Armada was Northville's most potent scoring weapon.

The 5-8 senior guard has already been accepted at Michigan State University where he plans to try out as a "walk-on" with the Green and White cagers.

"Cris is coachable and very friendly. He practices hard and plays hard," noted Coach Walt Koepke.

Armada has excellent speed, shoots and dribbles well, plays a very aggressive defense and passes and drives to the bucket superbly.

"Cris is the second best guard in the western suburbs next to Dave Niles of Garden City West," Koepke said.

Armada was voted by the coaches to the All-Western-Six first team.

Armada led the team with 361 points, good for a 17.2 per game average.

The Mustang captain also was tops on the team in steals and assists.

GARY WILTSE, a six foot senior was the key to Class B Pinckney High's defense while also providing the scoring punch needed to lead the Pirates to a 9-5 Ingham County league showing and a 10-10 overall record.

The quick forward averaged 13 points a game and hauled down more than 11 rebounds per game.

Assigned to cover the league's leading scorer Chuck Westock, a 23 point average for the first place Williamston Hornets, Wiltse not only held the top scorer to seven points, but sank 16 markers himself and snared 18 rebounds during the Pirate victory.

"Gary was the key factor in our defensive play," explained Pinckney Coach D.J. Lincoln. "He was a team player and had a great attitude."

Wiltse, whose high game for the season was 23 markers against Fowlerville, received honorable mention in the Sliger All-Area selections last year.

KEVIN BAIZE, a 6-1 senior guard from South Lyon, probably boasts more natural ability than any other member of the 1976 All-Area team. A 6-4 high jumper and a 53-second 440 man for the South Lyon track team, Baize was one of the quickest guards in the Southeastern Conference and also had the jumping ability to move in under the boards.

Baize was one of the few bright spots on the South Lyon team which finished the season with an overall record of 3-18. The only consistent scorer on the team, Baize had one of the top averages in the conference by hitting for 20.6 points per game, and also led the squad in steals and assists.

He was named to the All-SEC second team by the coaches.

One SEC coach remarked that Baize's talents would have been much more obvious if he had played

Burbank's House Stands

Luther Burbank, who was responsible for improving and developing more varieties of things that grow than anyone who ever lived, was born on March 7, 1849. At the age of 22, he made one of his earliest contributions — the Burbank potato. Out of his later experiments came new varieties of tomatoes, peas, rhubarb, squash, corn, asparagus and odorless onions.

The house in which Burbank was born now stands at Greenfield Village.

Village Oaks Students Form Bible Club in Novi

The non-denominational "Boys and Girls Bible club" has been meeting for just over a month, but already 20-30 Village Oaks youngsters in Novi have taken advantage of the opportunity to learn about the Bible, through the club.

Meeting every Thursday in the music room of Village Oaks School from 3:35 p.m. to 4:45 p.m., the Bible Club is for youngsters in grades kindergarten through fifth.

"Sometimes the attendance is a little low and sometimes it's up," says one of the teachers, Martha McNutt. "We're pleased but we're wanting more."

With 20-30 boys and girls attending each session, Mrs. McNutt says the response has been enthusiastic — both from the youngsters and the many parents who sit in.

"The children love it," says Mrs. McNutt. "We're just giving them the Bible. They're starved to hear the truth."

The Bible Club follows a slightly different format than many similar Bible Study classes. Not only are there songs, verses and stories, there are also puppet shows designed to spread the Bible through the telling of stories from the Bible. For instance, planned for next week is the tale of "Jonah and the Whale" — although Mrs. McNutt confides the club hasn't run across a whale puppet to use yet.

There are also plans to bring a ventriloquist and his dummy in for a session.

As for future plans, according to Mrs. McNutt, "We'd like to get the Bible Club in all the elementary

Catholics to Learn About Changes In Confession

The 10-county Catholic Diocese of Lansing, which includes Livingston County, recently launched a one-year education program intended to change Catholics' attitudes and understanding of confession, or the sacrament of penance.

The program, according to Father Donald Eder, Diocesan Communications Director, is the result of a decision by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops to make the sacrament, the traditional way by which Catholics believe their sins are forgiven, more relevant to present day needs.

"The Bishops have been concerned that the sacrament of penance has lost its meaning for some Catholics," explained Father Eder.

"They saw a need to re-instruct the people in the meaning of sin and to help them understand the sacrament as a means of reconciliation with God."

The new rite, which involves the priest and penitent in common prayer, a more informal atmosphere, and greater use of scripture, is more apt to bring about "a change of heart on the part of the penitent as well as provide an opportunity for pastoral guidance," according to Father Eder.

The year-long program began in February with three days of study for the 201 priests of the Diocese conducted by theological scholars from across the country.

Other education activities will include area and parish classes for religion teachers, parish seminars, and sermons.

The Diocesan Liturgical Worship Commission and the Education Office of the Diocese are responsible for development and implementation of the program.

"With the year-long program before adoption of the changes, we hope to avoid some of the confusion that surrounded the changes in the ceremonies of the mass," said Father Eder.

Members of the South Lyon United Methodist Church voted overwhelmingly Wednesday night to accept the plans for a new parsonage to be built at an approximate cost of $43,500. The three bedroom ranch style brick home will be erected on the church site at 640 South Lafayette Street and will encompass nearly 1,700 square feet. Construction will begin shortly, after minor changes in the bathroom plans for the new building. Cheek and Boyd are the contractors.

A barbecue dinner is planned Friday, March 19, at the Novi United Methodist Church, located near the corner of 10 Mile and Meadowbrook roads.

The dinner will be held from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., with an admission price of $2.50 for adults and $1.75 for children.

"Sound of the Trumpet," a contemporary dramatic motion picture on the return of Christ, will be shown March 14 at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of South Lyon. Aden Cosmol, popular newscaster and producer of provocative television documentaries, produced this "penetrating analysis of today's world, and the joyful discovery that God does care — about man's future, and, equally important, about man's present."

Missionary To Speak

The Reverend T.K. Foo will be the featured speaker at a Lenten program on Monday, March 15 at the United Methodist Church of Northville, Eight Mile west of Taft Road.

The Reverend Foo and his wife Kim will show slides and speak on the country of Malaysia following a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper.

At the present time, Reverend Foo is pastor of the Henderson and Chapin United Methodist churches near Owosso and is a former pastor in Malaysia.

He's Honor Student

Keith DeBoer, a sophomore at the Baptist College of Grand Rapids, was recently named to the school's dean's list for outstanding academic achievement.

He is the son of the Reverend and Mrs. Walter DeBoer of Whitmore Lake. The Grand Rapids Baptist College, located on a 125-acre campus in the northeast section of the city, offers a liberal arts curriculum leading to bachelor's degrees in the arts, music, and religious education.

on a better team. "They looked for him to do everything for them in South Lyon," said the coach. "He had to bring the ball up the floor and also had to bear the bulk of the responsibility for scoring. I think he could have been much better on a team where he didn't have to do everything."

DAVE LARSON, a 5-10 junior guard, was Mr. Hustle on the basketball court for the first place Hartland Eagles.

Larson averaged 14 points a game, sank 70 percent of his free throws and contributed six assists a game.

He executed excellent ball control and was busy feeding Ernie Sweeten under the boards:

"Dave was our playmaker and could penetrate any defense," said Hartland Coach Jerry Doerr.

When the other Eagle high scorers were either down or out with the flu in the important title clincher against Lake Fenton, Larson kept the championship drive alive by sinking 25 points and tossing in crucial free throws in the final seconds to ice the win.

"TONY ARMADA is the guy we will build around next year," predicts Koepke of the 5' 11" junior forward.

Tony provided Northville with scoring punch and board strength.

Despite being a short forward, Tony would jump the opening tip-offs for the Mustangs and often would win the jump against much taller centers.

"The two Armada's were the backbone of this year's team," Koepke commented.

Although only a junior, Tony was named to the Western-Six All-Conference second team.

Tony finished the season with 250 points for an 11.9 per game average. The younger Armada was tops on the team in both field goal (57.7) and free throw (71.1) percentage and led all Mustang rebounders with 135.

TOM BABINEAU, Brighton High School's 5-8 junior guard, was the workhorse of the Bulldog squad in its 8-11 season.

"Tom handled the ball about 80 percent of the time because of his excellent control of it," said Brighton Coach Larry Mason. "He worked harder than any player I have ever coached. In fact that is my only complaint. I had to sit him out for awhile or else he would burn himself out by the fourth quarter."

Babineau, who received honorable mention in the SEC voting, averaged 13 points a game, was second on the team in steals, and racked up an average of six assists per game.

The "little" guard scored in the 20's five times, hit 44 percent of his shots from the floor and made 69 percent of his free throws.

DEAN CLARK, a 6-3 junior, was the cager that the Brighton High squad depended on each game to give a solid, steady performance.

The consistent forward failed to score in double figures only twice. He made 43 percent of his shots count from the floor for a 13 point average while leading the team in rebounds with eight per game.

TOM BABINEAU

TONY ARMADA

"Dean had the uncanny ability to react to any defense thrown against him," said Coach Larry Mason. "Whenever he got near the hoop you could always be sure that he was either going to make a basket or get fouled."

Clark received honorable mention recognition on the SEC All-Conference team.

FLOYD DREFFS was named to the All-Area second team by a split decision as staffers debated for close to an hour before selecting him over Novi's Bill Giorgio, a fine junior guard.

The closeness of the decision in no way detracts from Dreffs' abilities or his right to All-Area recognition, however.

The muscular 5-8 senior guard was the key player on the Whitmore Lake squad which bettered the school record for regular season wins by posting a 12-8 record. Dreffs led the team in scoring with a 15.9 points-per-game average and also led the team in assists and minutes played.

Extremely aggressive, Dreffs was effective in bringing the ball up the floor against the press and just as effective on the Trojan full-court press. A strong penetrator, his head-long drives to the bucket were a key to the Whitmore Lake offense.

"Floyd was the catalyst that made the team go," commented Bill Shellenbarger, coach of the Whitmore Lake squad. "He could start on any team in the county. We would have been in a lot of trouble without him."

Many friends of this column are inquiring about the names of what must be rated as the "bargain" countries of Europe (considering costs and U.S. money exchange rates).

A list would include, in random order, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Yugoslavia, Austria, and Ireland. There is no over-crowding there, so prices are lower, U.S. money is welcome, and the exchange rates are more favorable.

Of course, you will want to visit London, Amsterdam, Paris, or Rome if it's your first European trip. But plan ahead and ration your vacation days meagerly in these places. Costs are often outrageously high and service sometimes snobbish.

By all means, don't miss the villages and country towns of Europe and England. Here you become friends with genuine "down to earth" people, essence of generations of European culture. Don't worry about language differences. There's always someone you meet in these places who can speak understandable English and if you try, you'll soon pick up some rudimentary local expressions even if they are heavily sprinkled with profanity.

You will enjoy your trip more if you plan each and every day very carefully. Determine the focal points of your personal interests — and do some research accordingly. It is obvious from my physical structure that food is one of my great fascinations. I have often copied names of famous dishes from gourmet magazines for countries I intend to visit. It's great fun to test them while you're there. Remember: half the pleasure of a vacation trip is in the dreams and plans before you even start out.

About hotels — be sure, if roaming around in a rented car, to have a positive, confirmed prepaid reservation for the night you arrive and the night before you depart for home. These are two critical nights when you shouldn't wear yourself out trying to find a room for your tired self.

In case you are seeking clean, inexpensive hotels, note this address: Passport Publications, Box 24684, Los Angeles, California 90024. Booklet is listed as: Passport to Inexpensive European Hotels. It costs two dollars (prepaid). It is invaluable and can be relied upon.

At airports — especially European — don't take a cab. Instead take the airport bus to the downtown airline terminal and then a cab to your hotel.

Example: The taxi from the airport to the Hilton Hotel in Rome is $22 U.S. Bus fare to the terminal is $3 U.S. and the cab to the Hilton is $2.50. Net saving is $16.50. Additional time consumed: not more than 30 minutes.

Bell: 'Come Here, Watson...'

Alexander Graham Bell received a patent on his invention of the telephone on March 7, 1876. Three days later, at his home in Boston, he transmitted the first clear and distinct telephone message. Bell's words, "Come here, Watson, I want you," were directed to his assistant, Thomas A. Watson, who was on another floor of the house. That same message was used nearly 40 years later when Bell and Watson inaugurated transcontinental telephone service.

Rejuvenates Damaged Shrub

Pruning—A Plant Face-lift

BY KATHY COPLEY

Pruning can improve a plant's appearance by keeping its size in line with its surroundings. It can add to a plant's usefulness as a privacy screener, specimen plant, etc. It can also rejuvenate a shrub damaged by a hard winter or old age.

Flowering ornamentals need special attention because pruning at the wrong time may rob you of many flowering branches. Plants which bloom on wood formed last year should be pruned after they bloom. Others bloom on new wood, branches formed this spring.

There isn't much problem knowing which is which.

Shrubs which bloom between early spring and May or early June are flowering on last year's growth. Shrubs which bloom after early June generally bloom on this year's growth.

Lilacs are among the plants which develop buds through the summer and fall which remain dormant over the winter. Warm spring weather breaks the winter dormancy and they bloom in mid-spring. Cutting branches in March would destroy many flower buds. Thus, prune these after flowering.

Pyracantha (Firethorn) blooms on new wood so it needs to be cut back in early spring to leave time for new growth before bloom time. This type of pruning in spring usually delays flowering but it also increases the number of shoots on which flowers are formed.

Regardless of when you prune, avoid drastic measures like cutting an entire shrub down to ground level. Instead, remove one-third of the broken, dead, or straggling canes every year for three years. By the end of this time the shrub will be completely re-shaped without the shock or unsightliness of a complete shearing.

If a shrub just needs to be trimmed off the top to re-shape it, don't cut off more than one-third the length of any branch.

Now is a good time to re-shape these flowering shrubs: Cornus, Hydrangea, Holly, Potentilla, Prunus, Pyracantha, Rhododendron (gentle pruning over several years), Rose of Sharon, Trumpet Vine, Fruit and Shade trees.

To prune the shrubs in this group, wait until they flower and cut sprays for the house as you prune. These bloom on last year's wood: Azalea, Bittersweet, Cydonia (Quince), Daphne, Deutzia, Forsythia, Lonicera (Honeysuckle), Magnolia, Philadelphus (Mock Orange), Redbud, Syringa (Lilac), Viburnum, and Weigela.

The Dreamer

The rainbow stretches wide its brilliant hues.
We know it really isn't there, but yet
These colors tease our minds. This clever ruse
No less is dearly loved. No doubt you've met
The man who tries to reach the rainbow's end,
Believing there he'll find the golden mold,
And then the broken parts of life will mend.
Our earthly sorrows, pains, and ills, we're told,
Will one day vanish as the early mist.
Some say he knows no treasure waits him there,
And he's a dunce, a grown-up optimist
With dreams like rainbows surging through the air.
Facade! The jester's not the fool he seems;
And great ideas have oft emerged from dreams.

Ruth Burlas

A Little Girl's Letter to God

Dear God, up in Heaven I'm writing to you Because we need all the help you can give,
Mommy and Daddy pray always, to you up above;
Please God, help my dear Mommy to live..

She is young and so pretty, she loves you dear God,
He has been sick such a long time now;
We would do anything to make Mommy well,
Please God if you just tell us how.

My daddy works hard, then he comes home at night,
He kisses Mommy and I, then we pray,
For the Doctor told Daddy that Mommy won't live,
So you see God, there's no other way.

We love Mommy so much, and we want her with us,
But You know what is best for us here;
And I heard Mommy say, she is ready to go,
When You decide that You want her up there.

But what about Daddy, it will sure break his heart,
And I'll be too sad to say goodbye;
If You decide to take Mommy up in Heaven with You,
Could you find room for Daddy and I.

We want to be with Mommy forever dear God,
Daddy and I will do whatever you say;
Here comes Daddy now, with tears in his eyes,
He said You just took my Mommy away.

I can't write anymore, tears are coming so fast,
Daddy needs me and I need him too;
Please don't wait very long, to call us both home,
To be forever with Mommy and You.

Foster Ashby

Prelude to Spring

Even now, there are signs that the maples are waking,
Soon their sap will be here for the taking;
The willows' spring yellow shows high in their branches,
While the marsh adds red to the growth it enhances

The warmth of our welcome awaits a spring bird;
What a thrill it will be when a robin is heard!
We welcome new life of the catkins soft dress
And the smile of the crocus, fresh out of its nest.

The squirrels are nipping at buds of the trees
To get at the nectar ahead of the bees;
Spiles and buckets are ready and waiting
The transition of sap to sweet syrup coming.

But it's still too soon to relax from our season;
March winds and cold may well be the reason,
Yet the sun in the sky rises higher each day,
And it's sure to warm up by the middle of May!

Charles E. Hutton

Those Golden Years

The "golden years" are those, I guess,
When all through life, we don't confess
The time gone by, as but a day,
Until the town folk start to say
"You don't look a day past sixty".

The "golden years" are those, no doubt,
When you tend to get a little stout,
And even though you look that way,
All the town folk still will say
"You don't look a day past sixty".

The "golden years" are, I suppose
When time goes by and heavy grows,
But we all know that's fallacy
Like the town folk, here, who always say
"You don't look a day past sixty".

And when at last our span is o'er,
And angels meet us at the door,
We pause to rest, though come what may,
And then we hear St. Peter say—
"You don't look a day past sixty"!

Charles E. Hutton

RICHARD MERRIAM has joined Rizzo Real Estate of Northville as a realtor associate specializing in condominium and residential resales.

Prior to entering the real estate profession, Merriam was employed by the Ford Motor Company as a professional engineer.

He and his wife, Dorothy, are residents in Northville's Highland Lakes subdivision where he serves on the resident advisory board for the Highland Lakes Condominium Association.

Rizzo Real Estate is located at 505 North Center.

RICHARD MERRIAM

DONALD W. SMITH, district manager for Woodmen Accident and Life Insurance, has been honored with the company's 1975 Millionaire Award.

Smith who works out of the Woodmen Accident and Life office in South Lyon, earned the award for issuing more than $1 million of individual life insurance protection during the calendar year. Such recognition goes only to a select group of representatives.

"The achievement is significant," stated the company, "because of the new dimension in financial security it gives to many individuals, families, and businesses."

FRANK HIBBERD, realtor associate at Rymal Symes Company of Novi, was honored last month upon being installed into the United Northwestern Realty Association Million Dollar Club at the annual awards night banquet held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Hibberd earned this honor, along with 124 other associates, from among the more than 3,000 possible candidates in the organization. He qualified for membership by personally listing and selling over $1.2 million worth of real estate during 1975.

FRANK HIBBERD

SEVERAL staffers of Century 21 Hartford 409, Inc., of 224 South Main Street, Northville, were honored February 26 at the United Northwest Realtors Association awards banquet.

Inducted into the Million Dollar Sales Club because they sold $1 million or more in real estate during 1975 were Robert Aitchison and Richard Ruffner.

Also, the Northville office of Century 21 received the regional top sales award for closing $581,000 during the month of June.

During the past year, Century 21 added to its existing staff of Aitchison, Miriam Peterson, Douglas Slessor, Freda Crosson, and Richard and Shirley Ruffner, the following personnel: Lyle Carey, Tim McElmurry, Betty Mills, Myrtle Belanger, Jerry schools, but we need helpers — women who can offer their time. We need someone capable of giving a story and effective Bible verse."

Plans call for a class to begin at Novi Elementary in the near future. Right now there are three teachers. Besides Mrs. McNutt, other teachers are Joan Thomas, who has a missionary church affiliation and Phyllis Graham, who has a Catholic affiliation. Mrs. McNutt has a Baptist affiliation.

Anyone interested in more information on the classes or in volunteering to assist can call Mrs. Thomas at 349-1724 or Mrs. McNutt at 477-8140.

Greek Menu Tops This Anniversary

A "Holiday in Greece" dinner dance is being sponsored by the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Greek Orthodox Church of Plymouth Saturday, March 20, to mark its first anniversary.

Famous Greek entertainment, a menu which includes four popular Greek entrees and authentic Greek belly dancers will be featured.

The dinner dance will be held at the Dearborn Heights VFW hall. Tickets are $12.50 a person with the public invited. For information or tickets call 476-5236 or 453-1528.

The Very Reverend Efstathios Metallinos is priest of the church located at 39851 West Five Mile Road. It is part of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

Crawford, Marcia Bizeau, and Dian Daskas.

UKRAINIAN ART of Easter egg decorating will be taught at Northville Square Shopping Center, 133 West Main Street, Northville, on Saturday, March 20. The workshop will be conducted in the upper level of the Square between noon and 1:30 p.m. and 2 to 2:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the members of the Ukrainian community under the direction of Mrs. Martha Wichorek, the workshop is free to the public. However, there will be a $1.50 charge for materials only.

Reservations may be made by calling the Cheese and Wine Barn in the Square at 348-9280.

A GREYHOUND Package Express service has been established in Novi at 26475 Novi Road, agent James Stragea has announced.

The agency is located at the J & D Service Station. Convenient scheduling for shipment to all parts of the United States is available. The package express offers a "guaranteed next bus out" service for those customers who want to hurry their deliveries.

JAMES SARTWELL has returned from Detroit following successful completion of Ziebart Rustproofing Company's technical training program, announces Steven Waite, owner of the Ziebart Auto

Out of the Horse's

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments and horse show news to "Sally Saddle", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mi. 48178.

Horse Competition

Interscholastic horse competition, initiated last year at the Huron Valley High School in Milford-Highland is gaining in popularity with several schools now mounting teams to participate.

An organization meeting is planned for March 18 at 7:30 p.m. at Lakewood Farms, Bogie Lake Road, Union Lake. All coaches or interested persons are invited to attend.

Schools interested in participating in this sport should have representation at this meeting.

Beverly Grunheid and Richard Benson are spearheading the movement in this area. For further information call Mrs. Grunheid, 437-1525.

Another in the series of horse clinics held at Tiergarten Farms, 26975 Martindale Road, South Lyon is slated for March 20 from 2-4 p.m. Karin Wolski will demonstrate horse care at this meeting.

The fee is $1.50 or $3 for those wishing to participate.

Confession

The Diocese of Lansing is composed of 84 parishes in the counties of Clinton, Eaton, Genesee, Hillsdale, Ingham, Jackson, Lenawee, Livingston, Shiawassee, and Washtenaw.

About People, Places 'n Things

Truck Rustproofing facility located at 5955 Whitmore Lake Road in Brighton.

The technical training was designed to familiarize Sartwell with details of Ziebart automotive rustproofing.

With the Ziebart process, all rust-prone metal throughout the bodies of cars and trucks are coated with an exclusive rust preventive sealant.

Small holes are strategically placed throughout the vehicle body, allowing Ziebart's patented spray tools to be inserted into all hidden "boxed-in" sections, such as rocker panels, headlight rims and door assemblies.

These are the areas most prone to rust. They trap and hold moisture and seldom have a chance to completely dry out.

Firearms Law Cracks Down on Criminal

By ELMER E. WHITE

LANSING—Aiming to deter potential criminals, Michigan is cracking down on those who commit crimes while carrying guns.

As of next January 1, anyone convicted of a felony committed while he or she possessed a firearm will face a mandatory two-year jail sentence — in addition to the sentence for the crime.

"A major purpose of this bill is to make punishment so certain that the potential law-breaker will decide against an unlawful act," said Governor William Milliken, who signed the mandatory jail sentence measure into law earlier this month.

BACKERS of the firearm law foresee two possible problems: higher prison populations and-or plea bargaining.

Milliken says the state must quickly pass legislation for bonding programs to finance new and expanded facilities. "This is something we must do anyway, since our prisons are already filled and getting more crowded every day," the governor said.

State Corrections Director Perry M. Johnson says his department predicts it will have to accommodate some 13,000 offenders by January 1, nearly 1,200 more than there now are beds for.

Johnson says the biggest factor in the prison population increase is the "unprecedented number of felony convictions and corresponding prison commitments."

"In 1975 there were about 3,000 more convictions than in 1974, and about 1,000 more commitments," he says. "We think this will increase in 1976."

LEGISLATIVE proponents of the new gun law, meanwhile, are asking county prosecutors to enforce its provisions strictly.

"Plea bargaining (agreeing to allow an accused person to plead guilty to a lesser offense than he or she is charged with initially) would make the law meaningless," says Senator John Hertel, D-Harper Woods, a prime sponsor of the gun measure.

"Criminals would get the message that they could ignore the law, if prosecutors allowed plea bargaining," he said.

HAVE TROUBLE cashing checks because you don't drive and therefore can't produce that one piece of ID that some folks require to prove that you're really you?

Get a Personal Identification card from the Secretary of State.

The cards, available now, include a photograph, an ID number, name, address, birthdate, sex and signature. The first card, valid for four years, costs $3. The renewal cards are $1.50.

A LEGAL BIRTH certificate or certain other legal documents must be taken to a Secretary of State driver license station or police or sheriff's office which normally issues licenses.

Substitutes for the birth certificate include any three of the following: original hospital certificate; original baptismal certificate with church seals; original marriage license; original or photostat of military records (discharge); photostat of school records; photostat of insurance application; photostat of welfare records; photostat of hospital entry records; photostat of doctor's office records.

IF YOU'D LIKE to help save a steam engine from the junk heap, drop a line to Representative Edward E. Mahalak, D-Romulus. He's campaigning mightily to restore the historic steam locomotive No. 1223 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

No. 1223, donated for use as an exhibit at the fairgrounds, fell into such disrepair that the fair board has been ordered to restore it or get rid of it. And the fair board can't afford restoration.

"IF WE DO NOT restore it, and allow it to be reduced to scrap, we will have lost a colorful and irreplaceable relic of our railroading past," Mahalak declares.

He's introduced a resolution that would authorize the fair board and the Department of Agriculture to solicit funds from folks who want to help with the restoration.

INSTANT LOTTERY Game No. 2 could shortly be a sell-out.

Sales are maintaining a million-a-day pace, reports the Lottery Bureau, and at that rate, the total number of available tickets — some 57 million — will be gone by early or mid-March.

Lottery Chief Gus Harrison says the success of the first two Instant Games "has pushed us far ahead of last year's sales pace."

Net profit for lottery tickets in the past two years was about $65 million per year. This year, the bureau estimates net revenue for the state will be some $90 million.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES aimed at helping the blind move around more confidently are now being used in training programs at two Michigan rehabilitation centers.

The Rehabilitation Institute in Detroit and the Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Kalamazoo are using:

—Kay Ultrasonic Spectacles, which allow the wearer to locate objects in the space directly in front of his or her head.

cane" of the sort used by the blind for some years.

THE PATHSOUNDER and the Kay Spectacles aren't designed to replace the conventional long cane or guide dog, but they can warn of objects that the cane or dog might miss.

The Institute and the Center each expect to evaluate 30 students for training during the coming year, and to actually train 10 students.

Blind persons can obtain additional information about the devices and training from their local Services to the Blind counselor, who can be reached through the county Department of Social Services.

AH, THE BEAUTY of it, driving nearly four miles with the sun shining on the water to the right of you, water to the left of you — and land in the far-off distance.

That's the reaction many folks have to crossing the Mackinac Bridge.

But for others, the experience is terrifying.

So the Mackinac Bridge Authority offers to drive for the people who have agoraphobia, an abnormal fear of crossing or of being in open spaces.

"THE MOST EFFICIENT use of our tax dollars is especially important now because of the very critical fiscal situation Michigan now faces," says Governor William Milliken, whose office is sponsoring the study in conjunction with a special committee created by the Legislature.

"We must limit government spending and make certain that the money we do appropriate is used wisely and well," the governor says.

Directing the task force staff will be Warren King and Associates, Inc., a Chicago-based consulting firm which has worked on similar problems in 24 other states. King says his company had helped implement average reductions of some 3 percent in those states.

The study is expected to take about 10 months.

Church Capsules

Special Lenten services at the New Hudson United Methodist Church are scheduled for each Thursday evening. This week's service on March 11 begins at 7:30 p.m. and will be conducted by the United Methodist Women with Edith Dunn in charge. Refreshments will follow the worship.

The opening program last Thursday included a learning experience for children and youth at 5 p.m.; a potluck supper at 6 p.m. and worship conducted by the Church School personnel at 7:15 p.m.

A Corporation-Congregational Meeting is scheduled for March 28 at the First United Presbyterian Church at South Lyon. Purpose of the meeting is to elect trustees, elect one member to the nominating committee to nominate elders in the fall and to elect four people from the congregation to be on the Pulpit Nominating Committee to search for another pastor. Frank Heath, Jim Race and Mrs. Linda Hansen have been elected to the Pulpit Committee to represent the Session.

Pastor Norman Riedesel is retiring in June following 15 years of service in South Lyon. He and his wife, Sadie, will go to Mexico as missionaries this fall.

Guaranteed challenge:

If you're a young person looking for some real challenge, now's the time to look into the Army. From electronics to carpentry, from cooks to combat arms, the Army today has more challenging opportunities to offer than anyone.

$361 a month to start

Army pay is better than ever. And with free meals, free lodging, and free medical and dental care, you'll be surprised how far that pay will go.

Job-training courses

Ever wonder where to get that "experience necessary" the classified ads always ask for? A good place is the Army. With hundreds of job-training courses, the Army can teach you skills you'll be glad to have later on.

Educational opportunities

Whether it's finishing high school or earning college credits, being in the Army can help you. And if you sign up for the Army's newest educational program, Project Ahead, you'll be able to start college at the same time you enlist — with the Army paying up to 75% of your tuition and fees for approved courses.

Travel opportunities

Joining the Army can mean a chance to work and live in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Korea, Panama or almost anywhere in the continental U.S.

Join now, go later

You can do just that — join now and report up to nine months later — with the Army's special Delayed Entry Program. A terrific option for high school seniors and others with unfinished business ahead of them.

Tar/Taste Theory Exploded.

New 9 mg. tar MERIT with 'Enriched Flavor' proves taste no longer depends on amount of tar.

Until today, cigarette flavor pretty much depended on the amount of tar that went along with it.

Regardless of "low tar, good taste" claims, regardless of fancy-filters and "space-age" filtering systems—you couldn't get high taste without high tar.

Nor low tar without low taste.

That was the theory.

Until today.

By isolating certain "key" ingredients of tobacco in cigarette smoke, ingredients that deliver taste way out of proportion to tar, researchers at Philip Morris have developed an 'Enriched Flavor' process so successful at boosting flavor, the resulting cigarette actually delivers as much—or more—taste than brands having more tar.

The cigarette is 9 mg. tar MERIT. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

If you smoke—you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar cigarette brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself—all tested at home*.

MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly, too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.

Mustangs Take Western Six Title

The Northville swimmers saw to it that Coach Ben Lauber went out a winner as the Mustangs captured the Western Six title Saturday at Livonia Churchill.

"This was a great way to finish up; I was proud of everybody's performance," the retiring coach said.

"These guys make it hard to retire; I could not have asked for more," Lauber stated.

Northville finished the two day meet with 412 points, Harrison was a distant second with 315 and Canton was third with 171. Churchill finished up with 103 and Walled Lake Western 84.

Pete Talbot got the Mustangs fired up Thursday in the preliminaries with a record breaking performance in the 100 yard butterfly.

Saturday the 200 yard medley relay team of Carl Haynie, Matt Sullivan, Randy Roggenbuck and Saulius Mikalonis got things started on the right foot, taking a first and breaking the team and league record with a clocking of 1:44.3.

—THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS—

1-C

"The victory in the medley relay is what we needed for team spirit; it really fired the team up," explained Lauber.

Tom Cahill broke two freshmen team records with a clocking of 2:00.2 in the 200 yard freestyle and 5:30.5 in the 500 yard freestyle.

Bob Simone is another freshman who did an excellent job according to Lauber. Simone placed third in the 100 yard breaststroke finishing in 1:07.6, cutting 16 seconds off his time from the season's start.

Roggenbuck and Sullivan were the outstanding swimmers of the meet for Northville. Sullivan placed first and broke the league record in the 100 yard breaststroke. Roggenbuck led all other competition in the 100 yard butterfly. Both were on the winning medley relay team.

Dennis Weyburne was a pleasant surprise placing sixth in the 100 yard backstroke as was Mark McDaniels with his best time of the year in the 100 yard freestyle.

Tri-captain Mikalonis had an exceptional day finishing fifth in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle as well as sharing in the record breaking performance of the medley relay.

for strong performances. Yanoschik was the league champ for the 50 yard freestyle.

As has been the case all year, Joe Devereaux and Scott Knapp finished one and two in the diving, marking the second year they have placed one-two in the league meet.

"Joe and Scott have been a big factor in our final record," stated Lauber.

"You don't win a meet by 94 points unless everybody performs well," Lauber concluded of the team victory.

Lauber wished to give special thanks to the parents of all the boys he has coached in the last eight years.

"The parents have given a lot of effort and really helped make it enjoyable for me," thanked Lauber.

Lauber can look back proudly on his eight years of coaching at Northville. During that time Lauber-led teams boast an impressive 96-8 dual meet record, a State Championship in 1973, three league championships and twice the runner-up in the Western Six League.

Northville will be represented at the State meet this weekend in Ann Arbor by the 200 yard relay team of Haynie, Sullivan, Roggenbuck, and Mikalonis. Sullivan will swim the 100 yard breaststroke and Devereaux and Knapp will participate in the diving

Novi Edged in Overtime Flyers Triumph 79-77

Novi came less than four minutes away from winning their first district title in the school's history. With just 3:34 to go in the game Novi led Willow Run by nine but began to falter and eventually lost 79-77 in overtime Saturday, at Dexter.

"We were at a point where we could slow down and work for a layup but their press rattled us and we were out of time outs," Coach Ron Flutur explained.

Willow Run got hot and pulled ahead by two with just seconds remaining.

Bill Giorgio was fouled and sank the first half of a one and one to send the game into overtime.

The Flyers quickly moved ahead by seven in the overtime period but clutch free throws by Andy McComas and Bob Bannatz enabled the Wildcats to pull within two Trailing 77-75 with 14 ties left on the clock, Scott Parsons sank both ends of a pressure-packed one and one situation and another overtime seemed apparent.

However, Jerry Coolman of Willow Run hit a 20-foot jumper with just seven seconds to crush the Wildcats' hopes.

"We played a good game, they were quicker and rebounded better but we stayed with them," Flutur observed.

The rough and physical game saw the Novi cagers outrebounded 53-33. It was Novi's shooting 26 of 59 from the floor and 25 of 36 from the charity stripe that kept the game so close.

Parsons wound up with 23 points, Bannatz 22 and Giorgio 13 points for the Wildcats.

Unfortunately, the Novi quintet practiced for the game in a 40 degree gym without heat or lights and two players missing with the flu.

Flutur announced after the game that Novi has scheduled Willow Run for the opening game on next year's schedule.

To reach the district finals Novi bumped off Pinckney 77-54 Thursday.

The Wildcats had little trouble and led throughout. Flutur had plenty of time to substitute leading 60-42 going into the final stanza.

Every Novi player managed to see action and all got their name in the scorer's column.

Parsons and Giorgio led the charge with 24 and 20 points respectively. John Pisha

"We beat them by six and they beat us by seven, so it should be a close game," explained Coach Ron Flutur before the opening game of district play.

Flutur did not know how accurate his assessment was. It took two clutch free throws by John Pisha with 20 seconds and a layup by Scott Parsons with 7 seconds left to beat Lincoln 70-69.

"We proved we can play when we're behind," commented the elated coach after the opening round victory.

"We hung tough, showed guts and determination and did not choke," beamed Flutur.

The score was tied at 34 at half time Lincoln outscored Novi by five in the early minutes of the second half

Trenton Ousts Northville 78-62

"March Madness" for the Northville cagers was short-lived as Trenton knocked out the Mustangs 78-62 in their opening game of the tourney.

The contest was originally scheduled for Wednesday but a power failure at Detroit Mumford caused postponement until the following day. Despite the loss Coach Walt Koepke felt the delay had no effect on his team.

"I was pleased; they played as well as they could," Koepke commented.

"We blocked well and rebounded with them and even shot well," Koepke noted.

Despite a first quarter let-down the Mustangs came up with a strong second quarter and trailed by four, 39-35, at the half. The game saw Trenton pulled away.

"Bill Piccolo played one of his best games of the year and Jay Slagle improved weekly," praised Koepke.

Steve Deller of Trenton led all scorers with 20 points while Tony Armada led the Mustangs with 18.

The Mustangs hit 25 of 53 floor shots and converted 12 of 19 free throw opportunities.

Trenton canned an impressive 14 of 15 at the line. After losing seven key players from last year's squad and expected by most Western Six coaches to finish last, Koepke was 10-11 record and fourth-place league finish.

Koepke noted the victories over Canton, Churchill and Mott on successive Fridays as the highpoint of the year.

"We were playing well and had a chance at the championship. I was really disappointed with the last two weeks, though," stated Koepke.

"They practiced hard all year. I'm glad we ended the season with a good game against Trenton," Koepke said.

The Armada brothers led Northville throughout the season and the final statistics bear this out.

Tony Armada paced the Mustangs with the highest field-goal and free throw percentage as well as being the most prolific rebounder with 135.

The Northville JV cagers ended the season with an 11-9 record. The Mustangs were usually led by Horwath, Doug Harding, Pete Wright, Jeff Norton, and Scott McMillan.

Winning Season Ends

Our Lady of Victory's Cougars' quest for the CYO Grade School Basketball Championship came to a premature end Sunday as they fell to Detroit St. Christopher 47-43 in the tourney quarter finals at Detroit's Bishop Borgess High School.

The Northville quintet raced to an 18-12 first period lead and then went cold as the game became a see-saw battle with the margin never exceeding six points.

Trailing 34-28 entering the final stanza, the Crusaders began feeding their all-star guard Joe Chops who fired in his team's final 10 points.

The victors caught OLV for the first time with 3:20 left as Chops' jumper tied the score at 38.

Chops then hit for two more field goals before Mike Wagner hammered in a rebound to cut the deficit to 42-40.

With 56 seconds remaining, Todd Nadeau intercepted a pass at midcourt and raced in to tie the score.

Chops led the Crusaders with 31 points including 23 in the second half.

Wagner paced the Blue and White with 17 points. Nadeau netted 13, Pat McLaughlin 7, Pat Dewan 4 and Terry Sheehan 2, to round out the scoring.

The talented Northville five reached the quarter final round by downing Melvindale's St. Mary Magdeline 50-41 on Saturday.

OLV poured in 19 points in the second quarter to rush to a 16 points lead and were never in trouble.

The balanced scoring attack included Wagner's 18 points, Nadeau's 13 and McLaughlin with 10 points.

Wagner had 11 rebounds while McLaughlin and Sheehan pulled down eight apiece.

Sunday's loss was only the team's second in 25 outings and ended the greatest season in the parish's history. Every team and individual record was smashed along the way.

The Cougars scored 1,272 points under the guidance of Coach Gary Tuz, 378 more than the opposition.

Mike Wagner netted 445 points for a season average of 17.8 to pace the potent attack.

Cagers to Dine

The Northville Basketball Banquet will be held Tuesday, March 16 at 6:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Tickets for the smorgas-bord dinner may be purchased at the door for $5.

SLAGLE SHOOT—Senior Jay Slagle takes a five-foot jump-shot during district play against Trenton. Tony Armada awaits the rebound. Northville lost to bring their season record to 10-11.

before the Wildcats made their move.

Bill Giorgio and Parsons were the big guns with 20 points apiece.

Dave Pisha tallied for 11 and Bob Bannatz netted 10 points. John and Dave Pisha, Parsons and Bannatz all pulled down 10 rebounds, and Andy McComas and Parsons each had four assists.

However, the real story of the game was told at the free throw line where Novi hit 19 of 29 compared to Lincoln's 9 of 20.

Despite the loss to Willow Run, Novi completed its most successful year in the school's history.

The Wildcats ended the year with a 12-9 record, going an impressive 9-3 the second half of the season.

Parsons, who will be the only starter lost next year, led the team in scoring, setting the school record with 420 points.

Bannatz led the squad in rebounding with 187. John and Dave Pisha were close behind with 178 and 171 respectively.

Parsons came away with 63 steals and McComas passed for 51 assists to pace the Wildcats.

"I am extremely pleased with this team and really enjoyed working with them," claimed Flutur.

"Every team has its ups

Flutur praised his team for working so hard and looked optimistically ahead to next year.

GOING TO MAKE A SPLASH—Coach Ben Lauber gets tossed into the pool following Northville's conquest of the Western Six League title. The Northville tankers won the meet by 97 points over second place Harrison. Lauber has been the winning coach of three league titles and finished as the runner-up twice. This is Lauber's last year as the swimming coach. Lauber boasts a 96-8 record and a state championship in 1973.

Athletes of the Week

Randy Roggenbuck finished first in the 100 yard butterfly and helped the medley relay team capture a first in Saturday's Western Six League meet. His clocking of 56.4 in the butterfly broke the team record. Coach Lauber felt Randy's performance was outstanding.

Scott Parsons netted 67 points in three tournament games to earn Wildcat of the week honors. Parsons clicked for 20 against Lincoln, 24 against Pinckney and tallied 23 in the loss to Willow Run. Parsons has been Wildcat of the week before and earned all league and all area first team honors.

Matt Sullivan finished first in the 100 yard breaststroke and helped the relay team win Sullivan's performance in the breaststroke broke the Western Six league record. Both Sullivan and Roggenbuck have qualified for the State meet Saturday in Ann Arbor.

Volleyballers End Year

Both the exhibition and varsity volleyball teams came up with sweet victory over Lutheran West last Wednesday.

The exhibition team won by a score of 15-3 and 15-10 while the varsity produced a 15-3 and 15-13 win.

"The varsity played extremely aggressive ball and Lutheran West was unable to stop their momentum," Coach Jane Stubenvoll commented.

Patty Brown had two fantastic blocks while Debbie Maguire and Kim Adams helped out in the spiking department.

"It was especially nice to win our final season game. Consistent serving was possibly the most important single facet," Coach Stubenvoll claimed.

Kim Kratz had top serving honors on the exhibition team with nine points while Becky Albus collected 13 points in the Varsity's second game.

Excellent back-row play by Lori Hopping highlighted the victory.

The varsity girls ended the year on a sour note losing to the Redford Union Panthers in the pre-regional rounds by scores of 8-15, 16-14 and 9-15.

Debbie Maguire, Patty Brown and Kim Adams were all excellent at the net. Lori Hopping proved her ability in the back row picking up some very difficult spikes.

Both the varsity and exhibition teams ended the year with identical 10-6 records.

"I would like to thank all the faithful parents and friends who came to our games and who so wholeheartedly let the team know they were behind them 100 per cent," thanked Stubenvoll.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

Proud parents of a baby girl are Andy and Nancy Dobek. Her name is Carol Ellen and she was born on March 6 at Providence Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 1 ounce. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dobek of 12 Mile Road.

Eugenie Choquet and Leon Dochot of South Lake Drive have returned from visiting in Gladwin, Michigan.

Marty Willacker of Taft Road was pleasantly surprised at a quarterly Bicentennial birthday party at the home of his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Willacker of Detroit, on February 28.

Jeremy Gregory entertained his friend, Mathew Salow, at his grandmother's home last week, Mrs. Erwin F'Geppart of Meadowbrook Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cook of 12 Mile Road attended the dinner at Botsford Inn sponsored by the Metropolitan Airstream Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stipp of Novi Road attended the wedding of his nephew, Craig Smith, to Marian Grant last Saturday at the Walled Lake Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilenius and family entertained their son and his new wife, Don and Amy Wilenius, at Frankenmuth prior to Don's leaving for service on March 1.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy King, well known in this area and now living in Northville, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary last Sunday with friends and relatives.

Karen Sulla, daughter of Mrs. Pat Sulla of 13 Mile Road, was elected president of her 6th grade class at Maple Elementary. She is following in the footsteps of her sister Anne who had also been elected president of her class.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Taft Road and sons Dannie and Britt have returned from an extended trip and vacation to the south. They were accompanied by Mr. Smith's sister and brother, Ralza and Edith. While in the south they visited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Brehul of Dayton, Tennessee. They also visited former residents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Spisak and Paul Cummings of Bradenton and Sarasota, respectively.

for the education of the children of engineers, scientists, and management people who are the essential personnel of desirable industry. A school system with a reasonable tax rate is an advantage to a community securing new industry. It is of great importance to a community to secure desirable industrial, commercial and office installations, as these projects increase the taxable wealth of the community and make higher tax rates less necessary.

Even Mayor Ice Snuffs-Out Electricity Is Forced To Move

There were lots of people displaced in Novi as the result of Tuesday's ice storm and the resulting downed electrical wires which blackened lights in most homes in the northern half of the city.

Following suit in the move was none other than Novi Mayor Gilbert Henderson and the five members of his family. The Henderson family lives in Novi Heights subdivision just south of Grand River and west of the railroad tracks. The entire sub was hurried into darkness when a main transmission line was felled by the hanging ice or a falling branch.

"On Tuesday evening we were sitting around doing things when the lights went out," recalled the mayor. "We had decorative candles and so we lit them and started to play euchre by candlelight."

"By Wednesday it was obvious we weren't going to have electricity," added Henderson. "When I heard Farmington schools were closed, I knew something big was happening because they don't usually go out."

Henderson is the principal of East Junior High in the Farmington School District.

Next step was to take the frozen goods from the freezer and store them at the homes of friends.

Not only that, other homes were opened to the Hendersons as places to stay.

"Myrna and I have had five families or more offer," said Henderson, whose family ended up staying with long-time friends Mary and Robert Wilkins and their two children in Willowbrook Subdivision, one of the areas not hit by the blackout. Wilkins is a member of the Novi school board.

Admitting that with 10 people at the dinner table, "We really filled it up," Henderson was also quick to point out that "We've enjoyed it," with much of the thanks going to the people of Novi.

In addition, Wrigley's donated a refrigerator truck for people to store their frozen food. Several generators were donated for use and held in standby in case any resident utilizing a life support function machine lost electricity.

Wixom City Hall was opened Thursday night to residents on a 24-hour basis for water and shelter although food services were not available. Additional facilities were opened at the fire station on North Wixom Road Friday with both facilities manned by volunteers from the fire department and by city employees.

In both Novi and Wixom, additional police units were utilized to patrol the darkened subdivisions during the period of heavy fog that shrouded the area. Novi detectives reported that five breaking and enterings occurred during that time.

Wixom police and city offices lost telephone communication for a 24-hour period with postal delivery curtailed in the city Wednesday due to downed wires, road hazards and frozen shut mailboxes.

All schools in the Walled Lake School District were closed for the three day period. Novi High and Middle Schools were also closed with the administration moving their facilities to Novi Elementary School.

Area motels were jammed with people who left their homes. Others in both communities moved in with friends or relatives.

While loss of power was not a big problem in either the city or township of Northville, township police reserves were called in Tuesday to watch over the few downed wires as well as road hazards created by fallen trees.

The Northville DPW spent the greater portion of Wednesday night cleaning up downed trees and limbs, the situation that proved to be the most troublesome to residents.

A spokesman for Green Ridge Nursery of Northville called the ice storm the worst ever encountered locally. Tree damage was widespread, stretching from South Lyon to north of Wixom. Lesser damage was reported to the area south and east of Plymouth.

A resolution commending the efforts of Novi residents during the power failure emergency was approved by Novi council Monday night.

In the resolution, the council thanked the citizens who volunteered during the emergency situation, saying, "The emergency condition has tested the endurance of both residents and service units of our government and that a spirit of helping and serving was evident."

Special thanks was given by the council to the Novi school system, volunteer firemen, police department, DPW and building departments for their efforts and cooperation in serving the public good throughout the crisis.

Todd Supports

Cindy Todd of Northville, a student at Northern Michigan University, had a supporting role in "Kiss Me, Kate," a musical which is being produced by the university's drama and music departments.

"Kiss Me, Kate," is a Cole Porter musical version of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

Miss Todd, who performed in the chorus, is a sophomore accounting major. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Beecher Todd, 488 Welch.

LYNN D. ALLEN
OAKLAND COUNTY CLERK—REGISTER OF DEEDS

It's less than a month old, but a newly chartered fraternal organization is already planning its first major project — a tootsie roll sale to benefit mentally retarded children.

The sale by the Northville Knights of Columbus, Chapter 6762, will be held in the downtown area on April 9, 10 and 11.

Seventy percent of the funds collected from this sale will be retained within the council (including the communities of Northville, Novi and South Lyon), with the remaining 30-percent going to the state council to be used for retarded children elsewhere in the state.

The group also has begun a drive to aid Boysville of Michigan.

Members of the new chapter took their second and third degree initiation rites in Plymouth on February 22 — the official date of the chartering.

Associated with Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, the local chapter of the Knights of Columbus is dedicated to helping making the parish and the community a better place in which to live.

There are presently 54 members in the chapter, which draws its membership primarily from the Northville, Novi and South Lyon area. It is part of the five community district (Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Belleville and Wayne) for which Walter Zacharias of Livonia serves as the grand knight.

Richard Formella, grand knight; Paul Folino, deputy grand knight; Ronald Metty, recorder; Walter Zabinski, financial secretary; Thomas Broderick, treasurer; William Cole II, advocate; Gerald Gellner, warden; Martin McQuire, James Miller, and James Sugrue III, trustees; Richard Blaney, chancellor; Robert Norton and Kenneth Domingue, members of the board of trustees (one more to be elected); and the Reverend Fr. Gerard Hadad, chaplain. The chapter meets the first and third Thursday of each month in the OLV social hall beginning at 8 p.m.

RICHARD FORMELLA

Anyone interested in becoming associated with the chapter are urged to contact any of the officers or attend one of the regular meetings.

Stempien May Run

Marvin R. Stempien, 1972 Second District Democratic nominee for Congress, announced Thursday that he is seriously considering becoming a candidate for the same seat in 1976.

"If the political climate as it now appears remains essentially unchanged," Stempien said he would enter the Democratic primary in the congressional district apparently being vacated by Marvin Esch, who is an announced candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Stempien, a 42-year-old Livonia attorney and former six year member of the Michigan House of Representatives, stated that the "tenor of the times" demands honest, straightforward responses to the problems facing people in the district and the nation.

"With Ford-Nixon economic policies strangling working people, and with Republicans failing to offer leadership on both domestic and foreign policy matters, people must demand new leadership from our elected leaders," Stempien declared. Stempien said that honesty in government, a need to make Congress more responsive, a return to a more balanced national budget, protection of the population from crime and a reduction in inflation and unemployment would be key issues in the 1976 campaign.

NOTICE
SPECIAL ELECTION

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE CITY OF NOVI:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that at the Special Election to be held in the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan, on the 23rd day of March, 1976, from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., there will be submitted to vote of the qualified electors of said City the following proposition:

Jazz Concert Music Varied

Northville High School's spring concert series will get underway tomorrow night with a jazzy variety show "that should fit your every mood," Band Parent Club President Betty Hoover has announced.

The 8 p.m. concert in the high school auditorium will feature the Michigan Tech Jazz Ensemble.

Also on deck will be the Dick Sharpe Trio consisting of David Goodwin on drums, Steven King on bass, and Sharpe at the keyboard.

Sharpe is the musical director of Oakland University and Meadowbrook Foundation.

The big jazz — rock sounds of Jazz Ensemble I and II, under the leadership of Robert Williams and Michael Rumbell — has successfully bridged the so-called generation gap in past performances.

"Time after time it has delighted new fans with artistry and unique playing of jazz-rock music," said Mrs. Hoover.

"Piano styles in jazz are as varied as the men who play them," she added. "This will be true of the playing of Dick Sharpe and his trio."

Topping off the evening the Northville Jazz Ensemble I will knock out the sounds of Alone Again, Naturally, Give It One, and Groovin' Hard.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students and children, with the proceeds going to the performing groups to pay for transportation.

It should be an enjoyable evening for all those who enjoy fine jazz, promises department spokesman.

Womencenter Plans OCC Women's Day

Women possibly interested in returning to school or in a career are being invited to the International Women's Day at Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College on Wednesday, March 17, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in J Building.

The all day event commemorating women's historic and current struggle for equality and human rights will begin at 9 a.m. with an orientation session to introduce women to the services and programs available on the Orchard Ridge campus.

Richard Thompson, campus provost, will begin the morning session.

Other faculty members will explain the applied science and liberal arts degree programs, and acquaint guests with the counseling department.

Later in the morning women will have an opportunity to talk in small groups with women students of all ages who have recently returned to school.

The afternoon session beginning at noon will start with Sadie Davis presenting an overview of the current position of women in the work force, followed by informative workshops led by women who are currently in the work force.

The International Women's Day program, sponsored by the Orchard Ridge Womencenter, is free and includes free use of a supervised play center for children.

Guests are asked to bring their own brown bag lunch or purchase their lunch in the cafeteria.

Talking Bike in Northville

'Alex' to Stress Safety

Automobile Club of Michigan's newest safety spokesman, a talking bicycle named "Alex the Always Alert," is visiting Northville elementary schools today as part of a statewide program to reduce accidents involving bicyclists.

"Alex the Always Alert," is a specially-equipped, 10-speed bicycle with a face mounted on its handlebars and eyes that flash in cadence with a voice from a remote-controlled tape recorder mounted on the rear fender. Alex has a female counterpart named "Alice."

The six bikes developed by Auto Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department, will be seen by half the elementary school students in Michigan before school ends this year.

"Our talking bikes are the backbone of a safe bicycling program aimed at five- to 14-year-old youngsters, whose involvement in Michigan bicycle accidents has increased 54 percent in the last five years," stated Richard Roberts, Auto Club's Northville-area manager.

"While bicycling is one of a youngster's favorite warm weather pastimes, improper riding techniques and failure to share the road safely with other vehicles can prove to be a very dangerous combination," Roberts said.

Five- to 14-year-olds in Michigan accounted for more than half of the 68 fatal and 4,728 bicycle injury accidents in 1974, Auto Club stated. (1975 figures are unavailable.)

Auto Club will conduct its safe bicycling program at Our Lady of Victory and Moraine schools Wednesday, March 10.

Alec tells youngsters they can avoid accidents while bicycling this summer by following this six point plan:

- Always ride on the right side of the road. Children under 12 should ride on sidewalks or other offstreet areas.
- Always ride single file on or off the roadway.
- Don't carry passengers on the handlebars or rear fender. The practice limits steering and vision.
- Don't dart into a street from a driveway or from between parked cars.
- Be alert for opening car doors.
- Keep bicycles in good repair, especially braking mechanisms

Guest speakers for the occasion will be Sue Vickers of the Edwards Printing Company of Ann Arbor, who will speak on "Getting Your Genealogy Printed or Published."

Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting. The society meets the third Wednesday of the month, with the exception of June, July and August.

Interested persons may call 522-0246 to learn more about the organization.

Schoolcraft Class Visits

Members of the Schoolcraft College class of Laura Hixson of Northville will be special guests of the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society on Wednesday, March 17.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held at the Carl Sandburg Library, 30100 West Seven Mile Road, Livonia.

Mrs. Hixson teaches a genealogy class at Schoolcraft.

Novi School Board Okays Pink Slips

Board members reiterated that the pink slipping was not intended to appear as a club due to the upcoming millage renewal and addition being requested.

"It's no reflection on Mr. LePlae, Mr. Nanas or Mr. Obrenovich's responsibility and dedication to this school district. It's simply complying with the law so if in case some disaster did happen that we do have ourselves in compliance with Public Act 247 or 1970," said Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz.

Board member Robert Wilkins did object to the wording of the resolution allowing pink slipping of three administrators and the extension of contracts with seven others.

"We are in effect renewing contracts on administrators and the board has done nothing in terms of reviewing the qualifications, the abilities and the so-called value performance and management by objective criteria," that the administration is using," said Wilkins. "One of our obligations is review of this. I would ask to table this."

Board agreed to withhold approval of the new contracts until after an executive session March 11 when the matter will be discussed. The board did, however, approve the notification of the four administrators of termination of contract.

Investors Seek Liquor Licenses

"We're talking about an adult eating place — one of the finest in the area with 150 seating capacity," Reich said. If the liquor license is approved, Reich said the restaurant could open in six months.

Larry Sheehan, executive vice-president of Little Caesars, explained that his group wants to open a franchise operation north of Grand River on the west side of Novi Road.

"We feel in the community of Novi, there is nothing in town similar to it," he explained of the facility.

Bernard Friedman, representing a group of investors, said he will speak in the future of plans for a bowling alley and a liquor license.

Leonard Herman, meanwhile, explained that Drakeshire Lanes wants to open a $1 million bowling alley and would like a Class C license. The structure could be in construction within six months.

Dayton-Hudson Properties will also be reporting to council in the future on its request for a liquor license. Presentations by other groups including the Pepper Tree are also to be made.
