

$2.5 Million Theme Park Set for Kensington

While hearings were being held and speculation was rampant about location of a multi-million-dollar theme park in the South Lyon-Brighton area, another, totally separate theme park endeavor has been moving quietly forward and is scheduled to open this summer.

The location: 100 acres in Kensington Metropark, near the administration office building.

David Laidlaw, executive director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, confirmed Monday that a theme park is indeed planned for Kensington Park. "Very definitely," he said.

Work has already begun on an old barn located near the park administrative office building and footings were being poured Monday for another building a few feet from the barn.

The reported $2.5 million theme park will be developed by a group of private investors who have entered into a 30-year contract with the HCMA, which owns the 4,500-acre Kensington Park. Name of the private corporation is the Kensington Children's Farm, a name in keeping with the farm and American-in-the-1800's theme.

Laidlaw said the theme park development, including all facilities, will revert back to the HCMA at the conclusion of the 30 years.

The Kensington Children's Farm, he added, will pay the HCMA a rent based on a percentage of the gross from the theme park operation.

Principals in the Kensington Children's Farm corporation are: President Michael Ternes, of Standard Steel Treating; Vice-President Lloyd Heussner, who is constructing a Cadillac-Oldsmobile dealership in Brighton; and Treasurer Peter Christiano, administrator with the City of Southfield.

Serving as educational advisor will be Paul Shoemaker, retired administrator from the Redford School District. Duane Girbach, Livingston County Extension agent, will advise on animal care.

Lincoln Friend, a Southfield resident who will be general manager of the theme park operation, said that architect for the corporation is James Coquillard, with the Southfield firm of Coquillard, Dolgner, Dunden and Argenta.

Plans, which reportedly have been six years in the making, call for development of the theme park in at least two phases, Friend said.

The first, or old farm phase, calls for construction of a whole farm, while the second, or old village phase, calls for construction of an old-time village.

Friend said that plans for the second phase are tentative at this time and development of it would depend on the success of the farm phase.

"The big thing is the educational value to the Drop It, Or Keep It?

Special Ed Decision Scheduled April 26

Should Northville continue to be the operating agent for the institutionalized mentally retarded program now underway here?

That's a question Northville school board members must formally answer before the month is up.

Under the current contract, Northville must notify the Wayne County Intermediate School District 60 days prior to the expiration of the contract on June 30 of its intentions.

In introducing the matter to the school board Monday night, Superintendent Raymond Spear indicated he would have a recommendation for the board at its next meeting on April 26.

Board members gave no early indication as to their position on whether to retain or drop the district's role in operating the program involving some 800 residents of Plymouth Center for Human Development and the Northville Residential Center — state institutions for mentally retarded located in Northville Township.

Less than half of these 800 are enrolled in off-campus classrooms. The remainder are taught in the institutions.

According to Spear, the district's options include:

- Drop the program.
- Drop its operative role but retaining minimal numbers of classes for mentally retarded.
- Retain its operative role but look elsewhere for most of its needed classroom space for the 1976-77 school year.

Spear sees only minimal use of Northville classrooms next year — perhaps a continuation of the special education classes existing now at Moraine and Silver Springs Elementary schools.

Concerning classroom needs for next year, the board already by its decision to utilize Cooke Middle School next year for its own junior high program has forced an intensified search for space elsewhere.

Presently, Cooke Middle School is being used only for the special education program. It is accommodating 327 mentally retarded children. Thirty mentally retarded children are located at Moraine and 11 at Silver Springs.

Spear has confirmed that an empty school in Livonia is under consideration, as are buildings on the Wayne County Child Development Center property where the township hall is located.

Wayne County Intermediate School District officials have reactivated their request for use of some of the Child Development Center buildings in conjunction with the use of others there by the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center for alcoholism, the superintendent said.

Speak said another idea under consideration is the leasing or purchase of portable buildings to be located possibly on the property of the Plymouth Center property or vacant land on Six Mile Road presently owned by the Northville School District.

And during board discussion of the matter Monday, it also was suggested that some or all of the ground-level classrooms in Main Street Elementary School could be used.

Some officials, Spear included, did not appear to especially like the Main Street alternative because of the difficulty it posed for movement of handicapped

APPLICATIONS for senior citizens desiring residency in the proposed Allen Terrace apartment complex are now being accepted at the city hall. Applications may be obtained from the city clerk's office; they will be mailed upon request by telephone (349-1300). Applications will be evaluated in part on the basis of application date, income level and residency, with priority being given to Northville city residents and Northville township residents over those living outside the community.

A PROPOSED ordinance to license and regulate the operation of public dances, dance halls, roller skating and roller skating rinks in the City of Northville will come up for public hearing on Monday, April 19 at 8 p.m.

A BOILER at Northville High School "blew" over the weekend, causing damage in the boiler room. Had someone been in the room at the time he probably would have been killed, according to Superintendent Raymond Spear. The boiler was one of two that had been "retubed" just last winter at a cost of $10,000. It is believed a shut-off valve malfunctioned, however an investigation is underway as is a detailed check of the second boiler.

Churches Tell Easter Story

The message of Easter, "For He is risen," will be told next Sunday in area churches.

"Let Him be crucified," the story of Good Friday, will be read as a prelude for the devout two days before.

A joint Good Friday service to which the community is welcome will be held at 1:30 p.m. at Northville First United Methodist Church at 777 West Eight Mile Road with First Presbyterian Church of Northville participating.

"I Am Innocent" from the Book of Matthew, chapter 27, verse 24, is being taken as the subject of the sermon by the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of the Presbyterian Church. His message will cover scripture verses 15-50 from Matthew 27.

The Reverend Guenther Branstner of the host church will lead the worship and the Methodist choir under the direction of Mrs. Gary Becker will provide music.

The story of the life of Christ, based on the Gospel but interpreted in words, dances and instrumentalization of today, will be presented by senior high youth of First Presbyterian Church at a 7 a.m. sunrise service Easter morning.

"Celebrate Life!" — the contemporary drama — will be followed by a breakfast prepared by the Junior Youth fellowship for those attending the sunrise service.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure will present the Easter Sunday message at 9:30 and 11 a.m. His topic, "The End of That Road," will be the second in a two-part series that began Palm Sunday with "That Lonely Road."

Presbyterian Women's Association is holding its traditional White Breakfast with Communion at 9 a.m. today (Wednesday) at the church.

Maundy Thursday service will be at 8 p.m. Communion will be served and the confirmation class received into the membership of the church.

"Who Are You Looking For?" is the title of the Easter sermon to be given by the Reverend Guenther Branstner at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Easter Sunday morning.

A special sunrise service presentation is scheduled for 7 a.m. with a musical presentation, "The Clown," to be given by the youth club choir of the church under the direction of Mrs. Gary Becker, choir director.

A breakfast will follow at 7:30 a.m. It will be given by the Methodist men.

Last Sunday the tradition of distributing palm fronds was continued at both services.

A communion service will be held tomorrow (Thursday) evening at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, corner of Elm and High streets, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The following day, on Good Friday, services are planned at 1 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m., with Assistant Pastor Ralph Schmidt in charge. The evening Tennebrae service will begin with seven candles lighted, which are put out one at a time until total darkness occurs. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

Township Resets Tax Hike Vote

It's now definite — Northville Township residents will be voting on a millage increase request at the August 3 primary election.

The amount, however, has not yet been settled. At the April 8 meeting of the board of trustees the action was taken setting the date. Supervisor Betty Lennox explained that the township had been too late in deciding to go for a millage hike to get on the May 18 preferential primary.

There is a school election in June with not enough time after to schedule a July election, she continued, suggesting the August 3 primary.

In other action, the board approved the low bid of $5,056 from William F. Sell and Son, Incorporated, of Taylor for a Ford tractor for the recreation department.

Director Charles Froberger explained that the department no longer has the use of a Thomson tractor and needs one for field maintenance urgently.

Request of Robert Lupini of Docksey Street near Ridge Road for a lot split was sent to the township planning commission for its recommendation.

Annual membership fee of $300 for SEMCOG, from the contingency fund, was approved after Mrs. Lennox stated that such benefits as

Chocolate Eggs Await Big Hunt

An estimated 700 youngsters will be rushing across park lawns here Saturday morning in search of 3,000 chocolate eggs.

The massive search is all part of the Northville Jaycees annual Easter egg hunt.

Starting time for the hunt is 10 a.m. sharp in the Northville Recreation Area of the parkway along Hines Drive, about a block south of Seven Mile Road.

In addition to the chocolate eggs, special prizes furnished by local merchants will be awarded to some of the lucky finders, according to the Jaycee project chairman, Michael Lemon.

The hunt will be divided into five categories, he said. These include: A division for pre-school age children, one for children Kindergarten through first grade; for second and third graders; for fourth and fifth graders, and for sixth graders.

"Most importantly, be sure to get there on time. Come five minutes late and the hunt will be all over and you're going to have some unhappy youngsters on your hands," emphasized Lemon.

News Around Northville

An appeal for any early photographs of Wash-Oak school now being restored in the Mill Race Historical Village is being made by project chairman Bruce Butzke.

The earliest one the Northville Historical Society has dates to 1941. Anyone with an earlier picture should contact Butzke at 349-6265. Moved to the Mill Race last fall, the school now is placed on a new foundation next to the old library. Funds for its foundation and roof have been given by Northville Mothers' Club.

When restored, the school is expected to be a model classroom for today's children to see how students of the past learned.

Northville Historical Society this week announced it has received the gift of $10,000 from the estate of the late Floyd Kehrl.

Barbara Baluha of Northville is co-chairman of a China Decorators' Guild exhibit to be held April 30 through May 1 in Northville Square.

Area china decorators will give on-floor demonstrations of hand-painting china and there will be 25 tables of china on exhibit and for sale.

Mrs. Baluha adds that examples of hand-painted china currently are on display in a window on the upper level of the square. There will be no admission charge for the exhibit.

Orient Chapter, Past Matrons, will meet at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday, April 21, at the Plymouth home of Mrs. Leo Patterson.

Area residents are invited to enter their pet fish in a tropical fish show being sponsored by the Downriver

Aquarium Society at Northville Square April 22-25.

There are to be 38 classes of fish, including native fish of Michigan and Canada. Prizes and plaques are to be given. An auction is scheduled for noon to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 24-25.

Registration is $1 for the first entry and 50 cents for each additional until the deadline of April 21. After that date all registrations are $1.

For information or registration forms call the show committee at 291-5446. Admission to the show is free.

Schoolcraft College will offer a workshop on self-health for women at 8 p.m. today (Wednesday).

The workshop will be conducted by Joan Ehret and Paula Weinbaum from the Ann Arbor Women's Health Collective. They will discuss what services and information one is entitled to as a patient and how to obtain them.

In Our Town They Demonstrate Early Hand Crafts

By JEANDAY

A WEAVING demonstration by John and Gloria Teeter will highlight the Northville Historical Society meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday, April 22, in the Mill Race Library.

The Teeters have been involved in the community ever since they moved to the red house at 571 Randolph from Dearborn Heights five years ago.

Through an interest in antiques and early handcrafts, Mrs. Teeter explains, they began collecting early handspun, handwoven textiles, such as sheets, blankets and coverlets.

"This led us to learning the crafts of spinning, natural dyeing and weaving ourselves. We enjoy sharing our findings of textile tools and handmade materials and the processes by which they were made with interested people," says Gloria Teeter.

As members of the Northville Historical Society, they are happy to do just this next week. The public is invited.

John Teeter has served as vice president of the historical society and currently is chairman of the furnishings, research and education committee. Professionally he is a design engineer with Williams Research Corporation in Walled Lake.

Both Teeters have done lecture demonstrations for guilds and historical societies as well as school children throughout the state. They belong to local and national weaving and spinning guilds.

In addition, they've interested their two teenage daughters, Vikkie, a sophomore at Northville High School, and Sandy, a student at Eastern Michigan University, in early crafts.

Their purchase of the former Edgerton home was an appropriate one as it already boasted a large crafts studio used by Kate Edgerton. Mrs. Edgerton and her daughter, Linda, moved to Norwich, Connecticut, where they've continued their crafts interests while tracing their ancestors in that area.

"We visit them once a year," Mrs. Teeter reports, "and keep in touch." She adds that Linda is much involved with Bicentennial activities in the East and is in charge of two college libraries.

Incidentally, even those who do not know the Teeters may have seen them traveling about town in a van big enough to haul spinning wheels and marked with license plates spelling out "WEAVE."

THREE FLOWER experts and members of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will be among those attending the Michigan Graduate Judges Association, WNFGA, symposium for judges and students next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ann Arbor Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Gene Cushing, Mrs. Frank Whitmyer and Mrs. Frank Cartee will hear a program on constructing and judging "Abstracts and Assemblages," a talk by Dr. Warren Wagner, University of Michigan professor of Botany, on "Exploring for Rare Plants," and offerings on landscaping, flowers and judging.

THREE ACTIVE Northville members of the Wayne County Osteopathic Association Auxiliary are working to make the auxiliary's fifth annual fund-raising luncheon and fashion show a success on April 27.

Mrs. Robert Mandell has been creating posters for the event to be held in the new Fairlane Club in Dearborn. She, Mrs. George Pappas and Mrs. George Daraban have tickets at $9 for "Wide World of Fashion" to be given by Crowleys as a benefit for the osteopathic scholarship, loan, research and progress funds.

Reservations are welcome and should be made by Monday with Mrs. Mandell at 349-6563.

A TURKISH FOLK dance group from Istanbul on its first visit to the United States is being hosted in the state by the Turkish-American Cultural Association of Michigan.

Local members are Dr. and Mrs. Nurettin Gokcora, Dr. Nermin Farfar and Mrs. Yuksel Anisoglu.

The 250-member sponsoring organization of Turkish-American doctors is bringing the youthful ensemble of 38 men and women here to give recognition of the Turkish cultural heritage in the United States, sponsors explain.

The dancers are appearing at Music Hall in Detroit this Friday, will continue performances in 20 cities with a return appearance scheduled for May 5 in Detroit Masonic Temple.

Miss Ahearn is vice president of the River Park chapter and a charter member of the Business and Professional Women of Novi. Those wishing to attend the Secretaries Week dinner may call Mrs. Rita Taylor, 846-6000, extension 302. Deadline is Friday.

Purple too wild, violet too much for you? Purple or violet in a room, however, is often associated with sophistication and mature taste. The fact is, as backgrounds for 18th and 19th century antiques, handsome reproductions, heirloom silver and fine contemporary furnishings, rooms in purple or violet have great charm and atmosphere. If you are unsure of your reactions to the color, it is wise to shop first for a fabric. Each different color in it will require attention or duplication in the room. A floral print which includes purple or violet will often indicate the remaining colors for a complete scheme.

Ball-Playing Brother Introduced Couple

Because her brother was a ball player, Ethel Maas met and later became the bride of Herman N. Hartner who had been a professional player with the Chicago White Sox.

The wedding was a home ceremony in Detroit 60 years ago on March 27.

At the time of their meeting he was playing on Michigan semi-pro baseball teams. He was a pitcher — "one of the best," his family declares.

His career began at age 15 as he played semi-pro in Mack Park in Chicago. He turned pro at 18 and signed with the White Sox.

He's now 85 and retired from his former career as a guard with 30 years' service at Detroit House of Correction. It was this job that brought the Hartners to Northville where they have lived since 1929.

The Hartners live at 325 South Rogers and feel fortunate, as Mrs. Hartner observes, "to have our family live in a circle around us."

Both sons, Herman H. "Bud" Hartner (director of the Northville Department of Public Works) and Ray G. Hartner, and their daughter, Mrs. Irvin (Ethel) Ware, and their families all live in Northville.

The couple also has six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

To mark the 60th milestone the family took the honorees to dinner at Victoria Station.

Arnold Kehrls Mark Golden Anniversary

When the Reverend and Mrs. Arnold H. Kehrl exchanged marriage vows 50 years ago tomorrow, on April 15, 1926, unlike many young couples they had a home waiting for them.

The bridegroom was just beginning his ministry at Downer's Grove, Illinois, and they were married in his church and moved into a new parsonage.

Dr. George Wheaton Taft, president of the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary, performed the service.

Now retired and living in Plymouth where they are members of the Baptist church, the Kehrls have lived and worked in Detroit, Sault Ste. Marie and Grand Rapids. Mrs. Kehrl, the former Juanita Marie Darst, still works part-time in retail clothing shops.

Her husband was born on a farm on Seven Mile Road in Northville and remains active in YMCA work and sports, including golf and handball.

Mrs. Kehrl was born in Illinois, moved to Spokane, Washington, but returned to Illinois to visit a brother — and met her future husband. Their daughter, Mrs. Roland (Marie) Bonamici, lives in Northville. They have two sons, John A. in Big Indian, New York, and Robert F. in Toledo, and eight grandchildren.

Their golden anniversary was celebrated last Sunday with a special observance at the Plymouth Baptist Church and a family dinner at Meadowbrook Country Club.

At the dinner were their children and their spouses their grandchildren, Andrew and James Bonamici of Northville, Greta and David Kehrl of Toledo, and the Reverend Kehrl's sister-in-law, Mrs. Floyd Kehrl of Northville.

Is School Backing Out on Taft Payment Promise?

By WAYNE LODER

While residents along Taft Road have contended all along that the Novi School District should pay more per front foot than homeowners being assessed for the paving of Taft Road, the question is suddenly up in the air over whether the district will pay any money at all.

The answer to that question can only come from the Novi School Board.

Legally, because it is a governmental body, the school district cannot be special assessed. However, the Novi city administration contends it had planned on the basis of previous school board action on receiving $22 a front foot for the 2,640 front feet owned by the school district for a total of $58,080.

However, Novi Schools Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz says that the district may pay only as much as homeowners, or less, depending upon the wishes of the school board. Much, he said, depends on the millage question voted on Monday (see story, this page). Homeowners will be paying $10 a front foot as part of a bonding program approved by voters earlier this year.

The question now is one of whether the school district morally committed itself to a $22 a front foot figure when it passed a resolution March 6, 1975 authorizing "the administration to prepare a resolution which would approve the school district's entering into a special assessment district for the paving of Taft Road at the rate of $22 per front foot plus interest, to be paid back by the school district from the general fund and/or the sewer payback."

The sewer payback refers to an agreement by the city of Novi to pay the school district money received from anyone tapping into the 11 Mile sewer. The school board had put up $100,000 front money to fund the 11 Mile sewer.

For some reason the final school resolution was never brought back for approval. Dr. Kratz contends that the district never received a resolution from the Novi city council to be reviewed by the board attorney and then sent to the school board for approval.

However, a letter from Dr. Kratz addressed to Mayor Robert Daley dated March 10 indicated no action by the city, in the form of supplying a resolution to be reviewed by the Novi School Board attorney, was required. That letter said simply that after the resolution to have a resolution drawn up, "The school board directed its attorney to proceed to draw up a document to comply with the meaning of the motion."

School Board Attorney Frederick Knauer could shed little light on the situation, and was unable to remember whether he had or had not received such a directive from the administration. He contended that if he had received a directive to draft a resolution and had not done so, the matter would have been called to his attention.

Following the March meetings, the Novi City Council sent a request to the Novi School Board asking how long the $22 a foot figure would be good.

The board did consider the question and a letter was sent back to the city administration.

"After carefully examining all of the ramifications, the board instructed the administration to extend its offer of participation at $22 a running foot for the paving of Taft Road contiguous to the school property until June 5, 1976," said the letter. "I hope this communication will clarify the position of the Board of Education on this vital project."

"When the $22 figure was discussed, it was before the bonding question was approved," said Dr. Kratz last week. "No way was the road bonding project conceived. It's a different ballgame."

Dr. Kratz contended the board was on record saying it would pay a certain dollar funding but, "we weren't taken up on that offer."

However, Novi's city administration received no notice that the offer was being withdrawn.

Voters Approve 878-840 3½ Mill School Tax Hike

The heaviest turnout in the history of the Novi School District helped Novi Monday to become one of only three Oakland County school districts to succeed in passage of a millage increase.

Novi voters approved a 9½ mill renewal 1,314 to 402 and then squeaked by a 3½ mill two year increase 878 to 840. A total of 1,739 voters came to the polls, approximately 32 percent of the 5,500 registered voters.

According to Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz, the 1,739 voters is the highest total ever to come to the polls with the second highest in 1973 when 1,148 voted on a renewal plus a bonding proposal for new school buildings.

Novi joins South Lyon and Oxford as the only districts in Oakland County recently to receive increase approval. South Lyon's three mill increase was also approved Monday with only 13 votes separating the yes side and no side.

Northville School District has also approved a 3.9 mill increase.

"On behalf of the Board of Education, I would like to thank all of the citizens for providing the funds to continue quality education in Novi," said School Board President Ray Warren, after the results were tabulated. "Even though it may have required great personal sacrifice, the results have reaffirmed that the children and youth are at the top of the priority list."

"I know that the lives of students in the schools will be enriched because of the actions of the majority of voters at the polls today. Their confidence evidenced by their positive action is greatly appreciated and will not be forgotten."

The three mill increase will raise approximately $490,000 during each of the two years it is in effect, and raises the operational millage of the district to 32.03 mills. The 9½ mill renewal is for five years.

Dr. Kratz did not appear surprised at the close vote on the increase.

"Anytime you're asking someone to raise taxes, the only time they can say no is through municipal or school elections."

The superintendent pointed out that the additional funds will come in for next year's budget. In the meantime, "We'll continue curtailment of field trips and the staff which were laid off will not be recalled until the next school year."

The district had laid off at least seven noon aides and teacher aids. It also pink slipped 28 teachers and three administrators to be laid off if the millage did not pass.

While Dr. Kratz said he expects the board to continue its careful scrutiny of expenses in order to save money, "We'll continue a fine quality program and excess class size will be avoided. Two teachers will be added, one in special education and one in the high school. We'll reinstate all field trips and we'll be able to open up our two new schools."

Other changes will include purchase of two buses and hiring of two bus drivers, expanded community education program as well as being able to continue in-service training for the faculty.

Dr. Kratz said he hopes the board will take advantage of a change in the state law which now allows school districts to bus senior citizens free of charge to events. Currently the district charges senior citizens groups $1 per mile plus layover time for use of school buses.

Fear that a state law would remain on the books, taking away subsidies as school districts receive local millage approval may soon end, said Dr. Kratz. He explained that "a house bill which was just passed would remove the penalty for raising local millage passed the House by a 99-3 vote. It will be taken up in the Senate in the next week or two. We're optimistic that section will be changed."

If it is not changed, the school board has already gone on record that it will not levy the millage increase because it would raise the effective rate of gain over a mill because of the drop in state subsidy.

Dr. Kratz expressed his thanks to the people who worked to get the millage passed.

"In the final analysis the kids are the winners and that's what it's all about," he said.

Fire Destroys 'Landmark'

By NANCY DINGELDEY

The Welfare farm located near the corner of Beck Road and Pontiac Trail has been a sort of landmark to area residents. The contentedly grazing cattle and well tended barn added charm and atmosphere to the quasi-rural community.

But on Wednesday night, a suspected arsonist set the 76-year-old barn ablaze trapping a herd of 15 registered, pure bred Black Angus cattle inside. Nine of those animals died inside the barn. The tenth had to be destroyed later after being burned in a vain attempt to re-enter the barn for her calf.

The blaze was discovered by an Oakland County Sheriff's deputy patrolling the area. It was approximately 10:30 p.m. when the deputy saw the fire and spotted a young man carrying gasoline can running from the scene.

Flames were already licking their way through the front portion of the barn when the first fire unit from Wixom answered the fire call. Additional units from surrounding areas were called in to help quell the inferno which was fed by 1000 bales of hay and 100 bales of straw kept inside the building.

Rescuers attempting to release the trapped animals from the barn were driven back by the intense heat of the fire. Fiery cinders blown by a north wind started grass fires in the fields south of Pontiac Trail.

Wixom police officers attempting to move their vehicles from Pontiac Trail were repelled, again by the intensive heat engulfing the area. That heat was enough to scorch the side of one unit, fuse its front signal light and blue overhead lens cover, melt the radar cone and blacken and crack the windshield. Only certain plastic portions of the second vehicle were damaged.

A tracking dog was called in to search for the suspected arsonist who escaped into the fields south of Pontiac Trail. The dog was unable to get a scent but the hunt continued.

Efforts to save the barn were unsuccessful. Buildings close to the barn housing antique cars were emptied. A tractor was used to tear down a fence allowing the few surviving cattle to escape to the fields. Bellows of agony came from the remaining animals trapped inside.

The smoking, smouldering ruins are all that remain of the old barn. Two of the surviving cows should be calving any day giving Welfare the chance to rebuild his herd.

But the hurt inside Erwin Welfare is deep. Those sleek Black Angus were his pride and joy and he watched over them like an anxious father.

Seek Novi Volunteers

Novi Council is currently seeking persons interested in serving on an industrial and commercial development committee created by the council last week.

Purpose of the committee is to work for good development through community promotions, public relations, and proper use of new acts encouraging development.

Council opted for a seven man committee. Representing the administration on the committee will be the city manager and the finance director. In addition, there is to be a member of the council, the planning board, the chamber of commerce, the financial community and a member at large from the city.

Specifically, the committee is to be charged with:

1. Communicating with existing and potential business and commercial concerns regarding growth, utilities, legislation, development control and zoning;

2. Referring potential growth prospects to various agencies for necessary information and approvals;

3. Recommending to the city council ordinances and the effect of industrial and commercial legislation;

4. Actively pursuing the promotion of Novi as a commercial and industrial potential;

5. Studying the possibility of an industrial and commercial development commission.

The council will review applicants for the at large member and interested persons are asked to contact the city manager's office. The council indicated it also wanted the right to review other persons for seats on the committee.

Council OK's Department

In an effort to streamline its accounting procedures for sewer and water funds and to provide a vehicle for front monies for certain water projects, Novi Council last week approved creation of a single water and sewer department.

Previously, water and sewer funds were informally administered under the DPW.

The action formalizes that practice.

In addition, according to City Manager Edward Kriewall, the action also allows the water and sewer funds to be mingled. Since the city has more sewer funds at this point than are needed to meet bonding obligations,

Teachers Cross Ocean in Class Trade

British Exchange

When Chris Modrack, a third year elementary teacher at Silver Springs school in Northville, leaves this Friday for England, she will be participating in a teacher exchange that is a "first" for the district.

For three weeks beginning May 3 she will be teaching at Queensway School in Banbury, 70 miles from London.

In her place at Silver Springs will be Mrs. Jo Sparks of Queensway School who will take over Miss Modrack's class of kindergartners, first and second graders.

These are the same grades Mrs. Sparks teaches in England.

The brief exchange was approved earlier by the Northville Board of Education when proposed by Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni and Mrs. Nancy Fieldman, Silver Springs principal, after it was explained that it is being done at no cost to the district.

Miss Modrack, who teaches in year-round school, will travel on her vacation break in the program before beginning teaching duties in Banbury. She is paying her own travel expenses.

Mrs. Sparks' travel costs are being paid in part by the Northville Education Association and by workshops she will conduct at Oakland University.

An experienced teacher with college and high school-age children for whom she is the support, Mrs. Sparks has specialized in drama and, Mrs. Fieldman says, is reported to be "a dynamic personality."

The exchange was arranged with Banbury Headmaster David Martins, who taught American workshops and has been at Oakland University, by Mrs. Fieldman. The principal also has invited the English teacher to live with her during the exchange.

Northville staff members, adds Mrs. Fieldman, are planning dinner invitations and a breakfast for parents in the exchange class.

Twenty-five-year-old Miss Modrack will be staying with Mrs. Sparks' family after visiting a friend from college days at Michigan State University. Miss Modrack completed half her work toward a master's degree in educational psychology at Wayne State University in an individual program that Mrs. Fieldman explains was designed by the teacher herself.

"This will be a real study for me, for her (Mrs. Sparks) and for the children," declares Miss Modrack enthusiastically.

Children in her class already are excited at the prospect of the exchange and have been composing pen-pal letters to their English counterparts.

Her principal, too, is interested in the exchange and the teaching philosophies that may be involved.

She observes that it has been reported, "In England the emphasis is on getting the individual child to his full potential while in America the emphasis is on the class reaching its proper level."

Jazz Band Gets Role with Rich

Northville's high school jazz band will be featured in the warmups May 2 and 3 when Buddy Rich and his Big Band Machine appear in concert at Clarenceville High Auditorium.

The local music makers will team up with the Clarenceville Jazz Ensemble in the warm-ups that begin at 7:30 p.m.

A special affinity exists between Buddy and Clarenceville.

His band opened the jazz series in 1969 and it was the first concert he had played in a high school auditorium. Two years ago he played a concert there on his birthday.

Students surprised him with a birthday cake, complete with re-lighting candles and dropped hundreds of balloons from the ports in the auditorium.

The event so surprised Buddy that the audience got a brief glimpse of the softy beneath the "Peck's Bad Boy" guise he most often exhibits.

Ticket information for the concert may be secured by calling either 476-1060 or 474-2720.

those funds can be mingled with the water funds and used, legally, to provide front monies for water projects, he explained.

Bonding for water projects is being held up because of a court case. However, the city has put on the May 18 primary election ballot a question which would allow the city to bond, if approved, for $3.6 million for a water line which will serve the Twelve Oaks Mall as well as the new high school and library at 10 Mile and Taft roads. The money would be reimbursed through future water taps.

However, Kriewall pointed out that is at least four months in the future and the city has to move soon to meet the deadline of January 1, 1977.

The new department means that water and sewer funds will be received in a separate water receiving fund and sewer receiving fund. From there, they will be doled out into certain other funds including a water operation and maintenance fund, sewer operation and maintenance fund, water replacement fund, water bond and interest fund, water and sewer capital improvement fund, sewer contracts fund, sewer replacement fund and sewer bond and interest fund.

The Walled Lake Arm sewer fund will stay separate. "Our auditors, Plante and Moran, spent considerable time during the last audit and ran into difficulties reviewing the maze of water and sewer funds," said a letter from Finance Director Fred Todd. "This was primarily caused by having several funds, where one fund would serve the purpose and also meet legal requirements."

According to Todd's letter, because the city is planning to computerize its accounting function, the reorganization was also necessary for that reason.

Council approved unanimously creation of the water and sewer department.

Greenhouse Is OK

After an hour's discussion at its March 30 meeting, Northville Township Planning Commission unanimously agreed that James Pasco's proposed site plan for a greenhouse is in keeping with the farm definition in the zoning ordinance.

The commission disagreed over the need for approval of the site plan, causing some of its delay.

What Pasco can sell and the parking facilities at the nursery business, located at 42680 Waterford Road, also were questioned by planners. Consultant George Vilcan pointed out that the courts would be a safeguard if Pasco's operation should conflict with the ordinance.

"I think we are playing games, trying to ramrod a commercial business as a residential," Planner Kenneth Sewell said during the discussion.

Pasco was in attendance and claimed the operation of the business meets requirements of the ordinance as it is now written.

To Party

All Night

The Spirit of '76 is no better exemplified than in the enthusiasm of the graduating class of Northville High and their parents who are sponsoring the annual all-night senior party on June 8.

Theme for the party is "Spirits of '76".

Well over one hundred parents of seniors met at Northville High School's cafeteria to kick off the extensive planning that accompanies this traditional event.

Ten committees have been formed to organize the event.

Headed by General Chairman Doug Behrend, the committee chairpersons are Flo Leikeet, breakfast committee 349-5061; Ted Marzonie, buffet committee 349-2903; clean-up committee. Gerry Talbot 349-8459; Connie Conder, decorations committee 349-6546.

Gwen Marburger, entertainment committee 349-0524; Bernie Riegner, publicity committee 349-3614; Jerry Tuggle-security, 349-1728; Nona Skinner, telephone committee 349-4797; Ted Heckler, treasurer 349-5035; and Check Room, Gee Gee Salvatore 349-8418.

Parental participation in a committee would be appreciated, emphasized Behrend.

"To insure a successful and fun-filled party with good food and good music, plenty of decorations and a revolutionary good time, a $10.00 donation is being asked from each family of a graduating senior," he said.

City Approves

Landscaping

Landscaping improvements behind the city hall and at the entrance to the department of public works yard have been authorized by the Northville City Council.

Assistant DPW Superintendent Theodore Mapes recommended that the railroad ties behind the city hall, be removed and used elsewhere. He recommended plantings at the lower public entrance walkway at the city hall, the police department and at the DPW yard entrance.

Total estimated cost of these projects has been put at just under $1,000.

Friday with Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz, plus School Board President Ray Warren and member Sharon Pelchat judging the event. Don Wilson, teacher and author, was the special guest speaker and handed out the awards.

A contemporary service is planned at 8:45 a.m., with Pastor Schmidt, and the traditional service, with Pastor Boerger, will begin at 10:30 a.m. Communion will be celebrated at all services, and either the day school choir or the adult choir and trumpet instrumentation will perform at these services.

Holy communion will be celebrated at an 8 p.m. service at Epiphany Lutheran Church, 41390 Five Mile Road (one mile west of Haggerty), on Maundy Thursday.

On the following day Epiphany will join with other Plymouth area churches in a communion service at the First United Methodist Church on North Territorial Road. A joint choir will perform, and Scripture readings, prayers, and Lenten hymns are planned.

"Beneath the Cross" is the theme of this joint Good Friday service dealing with the cross as the focal point of Christian religion.

Traditional services with Easter-related sermons, together with the celebration of communion, will be held at Epiphany beginning at 7:30 a.m. and 10 a.m.

Joint children and adult choirs will be singing at the 10:30 a.m. service. Nursery care will be provided for this service.

At 8:45 a congregational Easter breakfast will be held at the church.

A regular 6:45 a.m. mass was said today, with confession planned at 7 p.m. tonight and devotions and mass a half-hour later at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, 770 Thayer.

A 7:30 p.m. mass is planned tomorrow (Thursday), with exposition of the Blessed Sacrament until Midnight.

A liturgical service, with communion, is planned from 1 to 3 p.m. Good Friday. Soloist Darryl Pepin will be performing.

Blessing of food takes place at noon on Saturday, confession from 3 to 4 p.m., followed by a 7:30 p.m. Easter vigil service and mass, with singing by the choir, and a midnight mass.

Masses are scheduled at the regular services Easter Sunday: 8 a.m., 9:30 a.m. with the choir, 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

A prayer meeting will take place tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Northville, 217 North Wing Street. On Good Friday evening, beginning at 7:30 p.m., a communion worship service is planned.

Randy Casteel will be featured on trumpet at a 6 a.m. Easter sunrise service to be held in the Northville recreation area of the Middle Rouge parkway off Edward-Hines Drive. Soloist for the occasion will be Mrs. Nancy Smalldon.

Delivering the sunrise service sermon will be the Reverend Michael Farrell. It will be followed with a continental breakfast back at the church.

Sunday School will take place at 9:45 a.m., followed by an 11 a.m. service and still later by a 7 p.m. service. Duane Elmer, guest missionary from South Africa, will be preaching.

Special music centering on the Easter theme is planned at all of these services. At the 11 a.m. service the choir will sing.

The message of Easter will be delivered at Christian Community Church, 41355 Six Mile Road, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services Easter Sunday by the Reverend Irving M. Mitchell.

Theme Park Underway

children, bringing back history," Friend said.

Some rides are planned for the theme park, but Friend said they would not be of the carnival variety. He suggested that pony and wagon rides might be part of the farm theme development and in the future, possibly a swan ride on Kent Lake, which is at the base of the 100-acre site.

A train, of late 1800's vintage, also is planned, Laidlaw confirmed.

The Farm development, Friend said, will include a sugar house, a hen coop, a corn crib, a wagon shed and old mowing machinery, as well as other farm implements, plus farm animals.

Children will be able to see how milking and rug weaving are done and how yarn is made, he said.

A fast food service also is planned for the farm phase.

Friend said plans for a Meadow Brook-type music bowl are "vague".

Commenting on a possible village development, Friend said that it might include an old-fashioned fire house, complete with horse drawn engines, an old church, an old town hall and shops.

No fee has been determined for admittance to the theme park, Friend said. But he suggested any fees will be nominal, so that the objective of providing an educational activity might be achieved.

Laidlaw denied the theme park was being kept a secret.

"It's not so much we were proceeding on the Q-T as it is we wanted to have all the information together first," Laidlaw said. "Otherwise, some people may get the wrong kind of idea."

Friend took basically the same stance on publicity.

"They (the investors) don't want widespread publicity on this thing," Friend said. "They want it to be low key. They want to just kind of open it up."

Meanwhile, nothing has been heard for months on the theme park originally proposed for South Lyon and later rumored moving to Livingston County. Thought to be a prime area for that theme park was the American Aggregate property — ironically about three miles south on Kensington Road from Kensington Metropark.

Representing two investors in that endeavor was Michael Biber, a Farmington Hills attorney and Lyon Township resident.

7 Board Members

Hearing on a lawsuit brought against members of the Northville Board of Education by homeowners adjacent to Cooke Middle School will come up in circuit court today (Wednesday).

The lawsuit, started by seven property owners, seeks an injunction to stop the chance of walkaways from the school's special education program by insisting that a fence be erected.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, if the judge should decide to issue the injunction "it could have a far reaching effect, encouraging others who live adjacent to schools to use the courts in getting schools to put up fences."

If the injunction is issued, he said, and a child should wander onto a neighbor's yard each of the seven board members could be arrested.

Furthermore, the lawsuit seeks restitution of money allegedly lost by the plaintiffs because of the loss of property values since the start of the special education program for mentally retarded children at Cooke, Spear said.

The minimum amount sought per property is $20,000.

The irony of this case, asserted Spear, is that property owners were seeking the fence prior to the start of the special education program.

Kindergartners Get Homework

Kindergartners usually do not have to do homework but a unique program at Winchester Elementary School is providing them with some.

Teachers Phylis Saunders and Cathy Bloomfield have incorporated homework assignments with parents' help as school-related learning experiences.

The carry-over of school to home is in the hopes that the children can learn through the sharing of a common activity.

Last month the pupils had to go to the library with their parents and obtain a library card.

During April, cooking at home is the assignment. The idea is to teach the students to learn to do something by following directions and then to share their culinary treat with classmates.

Dad figures into the homework assignment for May as the emphasis is on occupational career interest. The students will drive with their father to where he works and take a tour of the office or the plant.

June brings the whole family together for a field trip. The kindergartners will go to the zoo or museum with their family and then bring back pictures or brochures to share with their classmates.

The school-related learning experience with the parents so far has been termed a success by Principal Milton Jacobi.

O'Hara's in Novi

James O'Hara, candidate for the United States Senate seat vacated by the retirement of Phil Hart, will be in Novi to attend a special Southwestern Oakland County Democratic Club meeting Wednesday, April 21.

The meeting is planned for 8 p.m. at the Novi Middle School.

Library to Consider Possible School Site

Northville school board has agreed in principal to consider property near the administration building as a possible site of a new public library.

The board took its action Monday upon a request of the Northville Library Commission which wants to have an architect explore the feasibility of such a site.

One of the suggestions being considered is that the library be located at the rear of the administration building in an area where parking is now provided.

In agreeing to permit the exploration with the assumption that such a site could be made available for the library, the board indicated that a final decision is contingent upon satisfactory resolution of several related matters:

1. Resolution of assurance that adequate playground space remains available for the Main Street School children with the loss of the property.

2. Resolution of permanent location of the board of education offices.

3. Resolution of conflict-or provisions for adequate parking for the city, library, recreation department, and the schools.

4. Resolution of disposition of the annex building, which presently is used by Schoolcraft College under a three year lease that can be terminated by either party.

5. Resolution of legal complications which would arise with the relinquishing of the property due to a portion of the school district being used outside of the city and township of Northville.

The board's action was endorsed by the board's sub-committee on facilities and by the recently established citizens school facility study committee.

Among the long-standing alternatives that the school and other groups have considered for school properties in this area include:

- Moving of board offices to the second floor of Main Street Elementary School, with classrooms to be retained on the first floor for walk-in students from the neighborhood.

- Use of the present administrative facility, which originally was Northville's community building, as a recreational center operated by the city-township recreation department.

- Use of the annex building (old high school, now called the Middle School Annex) as board offices and-or a supplies depot, or demolition of the building.

In Uniform

A Novi man has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Texas, from the technical training course for U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanics.

Airman Ronald R. Wilenius, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wilenius of 25896 Clark Street, was trained to repair current Air Force jet aircraft. Completion of the course enables him to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force. The airman now goes to George AFB, California, for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Airman Wilenius, a 1974 graduate of Novi High School, attended Oakland Community College at Pontiac.

Whew! Walk's 22 Miles Long

It's still more than a month away, but Northville Jaycees are already gearing up for the annual Walk for Mankind.

The Saturday, May 22 walk to aid the underprivileged of this country and others is expected to draw some 1,000 participants this year — or about 300 more than took part in 1975.

Jaycees are hoping the walk will raise $15,000. Plans call for the walk to take participants over a grueling 22-mile course through the city and township. Last year's march covered 20 miles.

Money is raised by participants soliciting donations for each mile they manage to walk.

Registration for the walk will get underway at 7:30 a.m. on the morning of the walk. The walk itself will start at 10 a.m. at Northville Downs.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS WINNER—Competing against hundreds throughout the state, William Wizinsky, a senior at Novi High School has won the state award in residential drafting in the annual Michigan Industrial Education Association awards. The state contest was held Friday in Port Huron and 32 students from throughout the state competed in Wizinsky's category for 11th and 12th graders. He had previously won the regional competition. Wizinsky will be going to Lawrence Tech on a scholarship to study architecture.

Moisture Meter Earns Him Science Fair Prize

Colin Bergel, a seventh grader at Our Lady of Victory School, gained first place honors for the junior division in the earth science category of the Oakland County South Science Fair.

The 12-year-old Northville youth was awarded two plaques, one for himself and one for the school, at award ceremonies Sunday at Ford Auditorium.

Bergel's project, that was originally done for the school science fair, was on display March 13-15 at Cobo Hall.

"The project was designed, built and researched entirely by himself," explained

Gerald DeGrazia, the boy's science teacher. Bergel constructed a moisture meter which tests the water content of soil.

Citizens Group to Study Township Budget Tonight

First meeting of a new Northville township citizens' study committee on budget proposals will be held at 8 p.m. today in the township offices on Sheldon Road.

Northville Township Board of Trustees approved creation of the committee at its April 8 meeting. It will meet with Supervisor Betty Lennox and Treasurer Charles Rosenberg and report back to the board at its May meeting.

Mrs. Lennox accepted names of volunteers from the audience after a millage increase election was set for the August 3 primary.

At the meeting it was indicated that a request of a 2.5 mill increase was probable with .5 to be allocated to recreation, .5 to library and 1.5 to police.

In discussing projected costs Rosenberg stated he personally feels it "would be dangerous to go lower than these amounts."

James Nowka indicated he is in "full agreement" with the division.

Dr. John Swienkowski stated, "I personally do not like 2.5 but honestly feel in looking ahead we have to be honest with the people — there is no place left to cut."

Rosenberg said the proposed millage increases will allow the recreation department a full program and the library full services with the police department getting graduated increases in services.

Response of members in the audience in signing for the study committee drew appreciation from board members with the comment made that "voters can evaluate what we're up against and maybe generate support."

Local Girl Featured In 'Campus Candidis'

Carol Turnbull, a senior at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, has been featured in Campus Candidis, a university publication publicizing the achievements of students.

A resident advisor intern in Jones Hall on the campus, Miss Turnbull received a residence hall leadership scholarship. A 1972 graduate of Northville High School, she is majoring in speech pathology and has a minor in child dramatics.

Commenting on this, she is quoted as explaining, "I would like to encourage people to do all they can when it comes to different combinations ... I found that taking a variety of courses helps your thinking broaden."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Turnbull of 365 Eaton Drive in Northville.

At EMU she is involved with the university choir and the traveling children's theater.

Art Teacher's Painting Picked

"Oh, it's thrilling, unbelievable," exclaimed a Meads Mill Middle School teacher upon learning that one of her watercolor paintings has been picked for showing in the prestigious Michigan Watercolor Exhibit.

She is Shirley Talmadge, an art teacher at Meads Mill.

Of the nearly 400 entries received, only 58 were selected for display in the show at the Detroit Institute of Arts opening April 21 and running through May 23.

Governor William Milliken will present awards to 10 outstanding show paintings at 6 p.m. on April 21.

"There's only one show of this kind a year so it's a special thrill to have a painting picked for display," explained Ms. Talmadge, who has been painting watercolors only a couple of years.

Her painting, to be hung in the south wing of the Institute, is titled "Spring Radiance". It is an impressionistic painting of flowers inspired during a class trip to the University of Michigan Botanical Gardens.

The show was juried by Dr. John Neff, curator of modern art at the Detroit Institute, and by Dr. Charles Mallard, curator of the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden in Washington, D.C.

Two months ago another of Ms. Talmadge's paintings was accepted for showing in the Silver Metal Show at the Scarab Club in Detroit.

Northville Planners Approve Photo Kiosk

Plans for establishment of a photo kiosk on the property of Ely's True Value supply store have been approved by the Northville Planning Commission.

Plans of Fox Stanley Photo Products of Plymouth were approved by the commission, which earlier had voiced some concern over the architectural renderings. Inclusion of brick, however, in the small 40-square foot building proposal allayed some of these objections.

Furthermore, concerning the sign proposed for the building, Webb Schoenfeld of Fox-Stanley indicated that the matter was to be carried to the board of appeals this week in hopes of securing a variance on the total square footage for signs.

Charles Ely, Jr. told planners that he was convinced the location of the kiosk at the south side of the parking lot, adjacent to a grassy-garden area kept by Ely, would not interfere with the existing parking and traffic flow patterns.

The prefabricated building, which is only five feet wide on one side, will be operated during daylight hours, featuring seven-hour photo finishing service. Processing will be done in Plymouth.

Planners approved site plans, architectural plans as well as landscaping plans, but the matter of signs was left alone pending action of the board of appeals. Signs are proposed around the building at the lip of the roof.

In other action last week, the planning commission by a split vote turned down a proposal to retain the professional office (PO) zoning for a couple of lots on Walnut Street near Center and then, also by split vote, planners recommended the city council change the zoning back to a residential classification.

Recommendation to retain the PO zoning, which was strongly suggested by one of the owners of the two lots, was defeated by a vote of 4-3. Voting to retain were Bruce Turnbull, C. Thomas Wheaton, and James Cutler; voting no on the motion of Turnbull were Chairman J. Burton DeRusha, Francis Gazlay, Lisa Buckland, and John Genitti.

It was by the same voting lineup that the subject motion by Gazlay to recommend switching the zoning back from PO to residential was approved.

Originally, the property was zoned residential, but last year when the city council overruled the position of the planning commission by rezoning the Hammond and Lapham property on North Center Street, just south of Walnut, to PO it also rezoned the adjacent Walnut property of Harry Larkin and his neighbor.

Although initially Larkin preferred that his property retain the residential zoning, he argued last week in favor of the PO zoning because his property is now adjacent to a parking lot and an office facility.

Planner Wheaton took the position that at this point it would be unfair to Larkin to change his property back to residential. The adjacent PO property has been allowed without the usual green belt requirements because Larkin's property was no longer zoned residential, he noted.

Other planners, however, argued that the commission should not waive good planning because of an alleged unfairness or because it may not financially benefit Larkin.

The recommendation of the planning commission goes now to the city council for the final decision. Quipped Larkin upon the planning commission's 4-3 decision, "I hope I can do the same for you some day."

In other action last week, the planners approved the site plan for a revised apartment structure at 20900 Taft Road on the former Dr. Wahi property now known as the Mount property.

Originally, plans called for development of a five unit structure. However, in resubmitting the proposal last week Architect Jack Branch pointed out that the number of units proposed had been reduced to three.

Planning Consultant Ronald Nino recommended approval of the plans.

Subsequently, the commission approved the plans subject to final written agreement from Northville school officials that the property may be tied into the school's sanitary sewer system and that a drainage easement has been granted.

Late in the meeting, the planning commission heard a report from Architect Donald DiComo on the disposition of the city council's proposal to develop a senior citizens housing complex on the slope of Buckner's hill northwest of Elm and High streets.

BICENTENNIAL PLAY—Ann Prine, Greg Adelman and Debbie Lear practice part of a play entitled "Bicentennial Bonanza" which is being presented today (Wednesday) at the Novi Middle School for students. The format of the play follows a television quiz show with an emcee, contestants and a helpful assistant. Famous characters from the past such as Paul Revere, Francis Scott Key and George Washington make guest appearances.

For Worthington Corporation

OK's Tax Exempt Bonds

Novi City Council last week agreed to put its name to tax exempt bonds being issued for the Worthington Service Corporation on a structure to be built in Novex I industrial park.

The council took the action under a state law which authorizes the issuance of industrial development revenue bonds for the purpose of constructing industrial buildings. The bonds are tax exempt and thus purchased for a lower interest rate. While the city's name will be on the bonds, according to a city bonding attorney the city has no liability to pay off the bonds should the issuing company be unable to pay them off for any reason. The city's credit rating also would not be hurt.

While the law has been on the books since 1963, this is the first time the City of Novi has allowed its name to be put on bonds under the bill.

According to city manager Edward Kriewall, the original bill was passed as an inducement for industry to locate in Michigan.

And, according to City Assessor John Merrifield, "I used the $22 a front foot they promised as part of the overall package."

Merrifield explained that the city decided to bond for a certain amount ($4.8 million) with voter approval and that amount combined with the special assessment of $10 a front foot for affected home owners and whatever money was received from the school district determined the number of miles of roads to be paved. The city anticipated receiving $22 a front foot, contended Merrifield. If less money is received, the road program will have to be adjusted, he said.

Entering into the question is the fact that when the school board asked for a resolution to be prepared committing it to $22 a front foot, it also specified that the funds would be paid in 10 annual installments of principal plus interest.

However, according to City Manager Edward Kriewall, without the school district's money up front, the city would have to borrow from its general fund to get going on Taft Road this year. Bonding is held up, at least temporarily, because of a court case elsewhere in the state.

Kriewall said that despite recent statements from the school superintendent, "We're going to presume they're going to pay $22 a front foot."

Dr. Kratz said that while he does not plan to bring the matter up at Thursday night's 8 p.m. school board meeting at the Middle School, he said that board members may bring up the question.

Dr. Kratz contended that the only answer to the disagreement is for the school board and city administration to get together to discuss the question.

"It seems some agreement will have to be worked out to agree on what has transpired," said Dr. Kratz.

Novi council met in closed session Monday night and agreed that Mayor Gilbert Henderson, who will be attending Thursday's board meeting, should inform the board that the council still believes the $22 a front foot figure is equitable.

Henderson said that he had met with Dr. Kratz and School Board President Ray Warren, and Dr. Kratz had indicated a willingness to compromise down to $16 a front foot or a similar figure on the theory that Taft Road resident costs had dropped a similar amount.

However, council members opposed that, explaining that homeowners along Taft Road are also paying for the paving through taxes from the road bonding issue approved by voters, as well as by the special assessment.

OK J&A Payment

A resolution authorizing partial payment to engineers of the Randolph Drain project has been adopted by the Northville City Council.

To receive payment a similar resolution must be adopted by Novi.

The resolution agrees to fund the sum of $67,000 to pay engineering fees and preliminary expenses by the issuance of drainage district promissory notes to be payable out of assessments. Although the engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson has been working on the Randolph Drain project for several years under the direction of the Wayne-Oakland Intercounty Drain Board, it has never been paid for its work to date.

Okay Teacher Contracts

Teacher contracts have been extended to all Northville staffers by the Northville Board of Education.

Intention to extend or not to extend contracts must, under the existing agreement, occur two months before the end of the school year.

When the matter came up for discussion and action at Monday's board meeting, the board went into executive session for 40 minutes.

It was explained later that the executive session was called because some board members have reservations about one of the teachers.

Upon returning, Board Treasurer P. Roger Nieuwkoop indicated that he wanted a certain teacher notified of his concerns and that he expected a follow-up to determine if corrective steps are being taken.

The teacher was not identified, nor were the concerns.

Board members voted unanimously (one was absent) to grant continuing tenure to 177 teachers, to move 14 teachers from probationary status to tenure, four from first-year probation to second-year probation, three to continue at second-year probation, and one to continue at first-year probation.

It was pointed out that no teachers were placed on third year probationary status, thus supporting some members' contention that the district should know by the end of two years whether or not a teacher should be retained or fired.

The teachers who were continued at second-year and first-year status joined the system in mid-year, hence the continuation, explained Superintendent Raymond Spear.

In related action Monday, the board pink-slipped all of the special education teachers involved in the program for mentally retarded institutionalized children.

The latter action was taken by the board because it has not yet decided if it will continue to operate the program.

By its action the board formally notified these teachers (there are 89 teachers, nurses, therapists and psychologists involved) that they are to be laid off at the end of the school year unless Northville retains its operative role.

Should Northville decide not to serve as the operating agent next year, it is assumed, according to Spear, that another school district that assumes the role will extend contracts to most or all of these teachers.

Aquarium Show

Set for April 22-25

Local aquarium hobbyists are wearing big smiles as they anticipate the big spring show scheduled at the Northville Square shopping mall April 22-25.

Sponsored by the Down River Aquarium Society, the show is expected to attract between 200 and 300 entries in 38 classes that include educational, photo, arts and crafts, and tank beautiful.

Highlighting the event will be day-long auctions on Saturday and Sunday where hobbyists can buy and sell fish and equipment.

According to Michael Barkley, show chairman of Lincoln Park, the show is open to any hobbyist who wishes to enter. Awards will include Best of Show, Best Egglayer, Best Exhibit, Best Livebearer, and Celebrity's Choice.

First, second, and third place plaques will be awarded in all classes.

Entries will be shown in singles or pairs at the discretion of the exhibitor. Entries shown in pairs will have both fish judged as a single entry, however.

All entries will be displayed in a flat sided tank of at least 2½ gallon capacity with the exception of Bettas, which will be displayed in two quart drum bowls, and Killies, which will be shown in any size drum bowl.

Set-up for exhibitors begins April 19 and continues through Wednesday, April 21. The show opens to the public on April 22 and continues through Sunday, April 25. Exhibitors will begin to remove their entries at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Entry fees are $1 for the first entry and 50-cents for each additional entry. All entries after 9 p.m. Saturday, April 17, however, will be $1.

Dealer displays will have a $20 fee and will be non-competitive. All dealer entries will be awarded a plaque.

BICENTENNIAL READING—Students in Mrs. Vi Wuestnick's fifth grade class at Amerman Elementary School performed a choral reading for the Northville Rotary Club last week Tuesday. The Bicentennial program, entitled "Our Country 'Tis of Thee", covers the important events in the history of the United States. The youngsters will be performing the reading for other schools and organizations in the future. The work was written by Bill Martin of Oakland University.

Clerks Oppose Plan

Eye Mail Registration

A proposed bill to permit registration for federal elections by post card is viewed with unanimous opposition and concern by Northville Township, Novi and Wixom clerks.

Duplicate voting, tremendous costs and lack of local level control are cited by opponents, who include Senator Robert Griffin.

Northville Township Clerk Clarice Sass reported that Griffin has written her that he considers the proposal unconstitutional as it takes away voting requirements.

"It would be absolute disaster," Mrs. Sass said, pointing out that some people would be registered for federal elections only and that two sets of voting machines might be required for some elections.

"We've lots of duplicate voter registrations already," she pointed out as she questioned whether those who own more than one home might receive two registration post cards.

The present duplicates, she explained, have occurred since last October when the registrations were begun at the Secretary of State offices.

"I don't think it should be done," said Novi City Clerk Gerry Stipp. "It only covers federal elections and people will be confused thinking they've registered for everything." Mrs. Stipp noted that people can register for all elections at the Secretary of State's office or at any local municipal office.

She added that her thoughts may not apply in other states because "in other states they may not have as easy registration as in Michigan."

"I think it's funny," commented Wixom City Clerk June Buck. "I think they should look at it closer because it would get lost in the mail. They wouldn't be registered on the books and there would be mass confusion at the polls."

Miss Buck agreed that there would be people thinking they were registering for all elections when actually they would be registering only for the federal elections.

Novi Seeks Bids

To Remove Trailer

Approval was given last week by Novi Council to seek bids for the removal of a trailer which had been used by the traffic bureau before a resident fell through the floor about two months ago, resulting in condemnation of the structure.

Novi's administration indicated that it would cost more to fix up the trailer than it is worth. The trailer was originally purchased in 1971 for about $6,000 with additional items such as skirting and air conditioning pushing the price up to $10,000.

The trailer was used by the detective bureau and later passed on to the traffic bureau and the community service bureau. Both of those groups are now stationed at the 12 Mile city offices.

According to the administration, after the new municipal library is opened and the old building vacated, the traffic and CSO groups will be allowed to move into the old building, which is located next to the police station on Novi Road just south of Grand River.

Part of the reason the repairs would cost more than the value of the structure is that more than 50 percent of the floor must be altered and repaired and, according to Everett Bailey, director of the building and safety department, the structure would be forced to meet the "barrier free design" requirements. That means the structure would have to be accessible to the handicapped through ramps or other means.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Three area school districts — Northville, Novi and South Lyon — pleaded with voters this month to renew expiring millage levies and add a little more sugar to the pot for spiraling operating expenses.

All three districts won the renewal proposals comfortably. On April 3 in Northville the 3.9-mill hike passed by some 400 votes, a margin representing 10 per cent of the ballots cast.

On Monday Novi gained 3½ mills for operating purposes by a scant 38 votes, while on the same day in South Lyon a 3-mill hike passed by a mere 13 votes.

It is difficult to pinpoint the reasons for reversals in voter response at the polls. Northville's tax hike request had been to the polls three times; South Lyon's twice.

But certainly concerned citizen involvement coupled with the real threat of curtailed school programs would have to rank at the top.

In Northville it is, I believe, unfortunate that board and administration members would list "renewed credibility in the school board and administration" on the part of the public as a reason for passage of the millage.

One of the most immediate problems facing the Northville board of education is the matter of administrating the special education program for institutionalized children.

The decision of whether or not to renew the program for another year will be made at the April 26 meeting.

It would appear the superintendent favors retaining this responsibility, though it is not clear why.

There should be no argument with this district's willingness to cooperate in the program to educate these children.

The issue is whether or not the local district should assume the direction of a program with a staff of 80 in addition to the management of its own teaching complement of 200.

Double negotiations are involved, perhaps with two unions.

Is it not more realistic to propose that the Intermediate District manage the program, which may be the largest in the state, and assign students to leased classroom space in Northville and other surrounding districts?

Such a proclamation from those who have been under public fire is — in polite terms — untimely.

Because the millage needs of the Northville district have been so clearly evident, there has been a reluctance to create waves that might detract attention from this need and thereby diminish chances for passage.

But the district has its money now. It is time to prove the responsive attitude that accompanied the millage campaign was not a facade.

The chaos the Northville district has known for the past year began when the present board and administration waited until the eleventh hour to decide that school buildings would have to be closed and programs curtailed if more money were not provided.

It was a management faux pas.

The same board and the same administration have been given a second chance.

And when they reestablish their ability to perform, as I believe they can and will, it will not be necessary to declare their own credibility. It will be evident.

The special education staff would then be the responsibility of the Intermediate District, which now passes along state dollars to Northville for operation of the program.

Under the present arrangement, Northville will be forced next year to lease classroom space elsewhere because it will not be able to accommodate all the children in its own buildings.

Regardless of whether or not Northville manages the special education program, the number of special education students to be taught within the local district could very well be the same.

It's possible Northville could achieve some monetary advantage by operating the multi-million-dollar program. But should this be the measure? Or should the welfare of the special education program and the operation of the local district be given priority?

If the Intermediate District declines to manage the special education program, there's always another area district. Again Northville's role would be one of full participation in the program to educate the institutionalized.

Best Bug?

While legislators debate the matter of whether or not to make the dragonfly Michigan's state bug, youngsters in our area have their own ideas on the subject. Six were asked to tell us what bug they think should be given the state title. Not only did they ignore the dragonfly, each of the six had a different choice.

Bumblebee . . .

I think the bumblebee should be the state bug, 'cause it makes its home here and gets honey from flowers and things and gives it to the bears. It has babies and takes care of them. It only stings anyone who bothers it. God wanted the bumblebee so He could have some honey; leftovers I get.

Johnny Williams, 7

Grasshopper . . .

I sure like him; he helps make my garden grow. Yup, and he hops around, and he flies sometimes and he's green. He's a grasshopper . . . let's see, because he hops on grass?

Matt Demattos, 7

Fly . . .

Sure, because I like the shiney blue on its back and it doesn't sting. Once I had one and all the time it followed me around, and sometimes it stayed on my arm. It crawled under my covers once. I think the fly is best; there are lots to go 'round, too.

Susan Schrader, 7

Ladybug . . .

It's got a nice color and it flies around and doesn't hurt anyone and it doesn't sting. I like the ladybug; it's not a very bug, and it looks nice on your hand. I found a field mouse once, and I let it go because it could have died if I kept it. You can't keep things; ladybugs gotta go.

David Jones, 8

Yellow Jacket . . .

I like the color . . . it's yellow, stupid, what do you think, it's a green frog? It gets honey, and boy, it stings good . . . except in the summertime when it's snowy, and then it don't come out of its hole so much. Now can we get on to animals? How about the toad? For you. Old yellow jacket's gonna go up like this, and then zoom, a stinger right on your nose.

Ant . . .

Sometimes it can roll over on its back and sometimes it flies and sometimes it walks, sorta. It's black; I like black. You can catch ants . . . if you walk fast.

HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

If you're worried because the nation is just a silly millimeter away from a whole raft of new measurements, take heart...they're not half as bad as our own English speaking gibberish.

Take the standard measurement, the "inch", for example. What's so sacred about it? Sure, it's a short, easily pronounced single syllable, but jot it down on a piece of paper and study it awhile and you soon see that it isn't even a whole word. Just a piece of a pinch or part of a finch.

And "foot" and "yard". They may be single syllabic whole words, but they've got double meanings.

For example, if twelve inches is a foot, what is a toe? And how many toes in a foot?

For goodness sakes, I can't even add an "s" to the foot to make it plural. Instead of saying three foots I must create a whole new word and say three feet.

If three feet constitute a yard, will a yard of feet fit three shoes?

If your yard is full of bare-footed kids, little ones and big ones, how many square feet will a bag of Vigoro fertilize?

If you tell your son, "Don't you dare set foot in there!", are you telling him: (a) to avoid the place unless he wants five toes in the pants or; (b) enjoy himself but don't put down his ruler because the place is full of thieves or; (c) he is too small because it takes three feet to fit the neighbor's yard?

Back to the inch

This basic unit of English measurement, according to my sources, originally was devised to represent one-third the width of the thumbs of three men. Not just three men, mind you, but one big man's thumb, a moderate size man's thumb, and a little man's thumb.

No wonder Phil Ogilvie misses so many "short" putts. His ball is always a fat man's inch away from the hole. All of which gives rise to the old saying, "He's all thumbs."

Sports writers go ape over the inch. With the 1976 baseball season now underway, we can expect to hear and read: the Tigers won or lost by an inch; they came within an inch of winning; they keep inching along; or they're losing the American League race, inch by inch.

And when the Derby comes up we will undoubtedly hear, "That horse is every inch a thoroughbred."

The foot is just as bad: it's a unit of measurement;

'Taft Paving Isn't Fair To Residents'

To the Editor:
Last week the Novi City Council approved Resolution No. 5 in connection with the proposed paving of Taft Road (Ten Mile to Grand River). It is to this point that I direct my comments. Many of these views reflect not only my husband's and my thinking, but also that of many other Taft Road residents.
First of all, I wonder whether or not the Council had not already decided "before the fact" that Taft Road would be paved despite protesting petitions from the residents living thereon. To wit, one day last summer when I noticed Consumers Power staking our front yard, I called Mr. Kriewall (City Manager) to inquire as to their purpose. He told me that he knew of no reason for it and assured me that it had nothing to do with any road paving plans. Subsequently, I questioned the Consumers Power men and they not only told me they were marking their lines in connection with the paving of Taft Road, but they also showed me a set of plans therefor which had been furnished them by the City of Novi! Then, in a recent issue of a Detroit newspaper dealing with the millage vote, it is stated that City Clerk Gerry Stipp said that "the first phase of the project, involving Taft Road, will begin this summer." If this be the case and paving plans are going ahead, why the formality of Resolution No. 5? Had they already voted, and what about our petitions?

Also, it is noted that all of the council members as well as the mayor contributed to a recent paid political advertisement advocating the paving of Taft Road, in addition to other roads. As misleading as this ad was, it seems a bit unethical and in poor taste for an elected official who is supposed to "represent the people" to take such a biased position.

Are not the people of Taft Road deserving of equal representation? Does not the council or the mayor give any consideration to their position?
As to the condition of Taft Road necessitating frequent front-end alignments, exhaust system replacements, shocks, etc., how a car is driven can well be the cause of such repairs. Whether concrete, gravel or asphalt, a road can hardly be blamed if a car is driven in accordance with existing conditions. We have lived on Taft Road for 6½ years (and my husband

CAC-76 Assigned New School Duties

The life of the Citizens Advisory Committee-76 was extended Monday by action of the Northville Board of Education.

Upon the recommendation of Board Trustee John Hobart and Superintendent Raymond Spear, the board unanimously agreed to keep CAC-76 active to take up new specified duties.

The board also authorized letters of appreciation to be sent CAC-76 members for their role in soliciting support for the recently passed millage.

According to Spear, the objective of CAC-76 at this point is "to assist the board of education in maintaining grass roots involvement of lay persons for the purpose of improving the educational programs of the Northville Public Schools."

Hobart outlined these specific areas of responsibility for the committee:

1. Analyze the April 3 election and related data for the intended purpose of determining community reaction to the CAC-76 approach to informing the community about the election facts, campaign activities of the committee, and general attitude toward the outcome of the election.
2. Assist the board of education whenever possible in utilizing the 3.9 mill increase as well as the implementing of the 10 CAC recommendations made to, and accepted by, the board.
3. Serve as a board-community liaison to accomplish such things as:
 - Periodic publications

In addition the committee should make an attempt to determine why such a large portion of the voting public opposed the request for a 3.9 mill increase and recommend ways the board might improve those citizens' attitudes toward schools.

- Hold periodic meetings with community groups.
- Make periodic surveys to measure effectiveness of board relationships with the community as well as identifying community knowledge and reaction to the Citizens Curriculum Committee and the Citizens Facilities Committee activities.
- Identify and recommend ways in which the schools can improve communications relating to CAC activities.

with senior citizens.

—Develop and maintain an appropriate level of communication understanding regarding the non-operation of Main Street School until it is reopened for student use.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

it's the terminal part of the leg; and it's the basis for a host of colloquialisms.

A few of the latter include: He has one foot in the grave; she got off on the wrong foot; foot of the bed; foot soldier; he marched at the foot of the parade; foot of the street; put your best foot forward; foot of the table; after he was fired, he fell on his feet and found a better job; foot the bill; his car ran out of gas so he had to foot it; and he put his foot in his mouth.

And the yard isn't much better. The yard can be part of our property; it can be a unit of linear measurement; a unit of volume as a yard of gravel; abbreviation for Scotland Yard; a winter pasture for deer; reference to cloth as in yard goods; a three-foot glass of ale; an enclosure for cattle or railroad cars; and part of a sailing vessel.

And if the metric system's deci, centi and milli blow your mind, what conceivable defense can you make for the English pottle, jack and hoghead? Let's face it, our language is weighted with peculiar measurements:

One mouthful will take one-half ounce; two mouthfuls (or is it mouthful) will take a handful or a jigger; two jiggers will take a jack, a jackpot or a double jigger; two jacks will take a gill, a jill or a double jack; two gills will take a cup; two cups take a pint or one pound;

Two pints take a quart; two quarts take a pottle; two pottles take a gallon; two gallons take a peck; two pecks take one-half bushel; two one-half bushels take a bushel of eight gallons; two bushels take a cask, strike or a comb;

Two casks take a barrel; two barrels take a hoghead; two hogheads take a pipe or butt; and two pipes take a tun or 2120 pounds.

All of which brings me to this last quiz: if a gallon can take two pottles, can two half-pints take a bully?

Ah, yes, spring is here at last.

Start Screening For School Posts

Screening of some 150 applicants for two administrative posts in the Northville school system is underway.

The two posts to be filled are those currently held by Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni as director of instruction and the other by Ronald Horwath as director of personnel.

Both Miss Panattoni and Horwath are leaving — Miss Panattoni to retire and Horwath to another position, perhaps back to teaching.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, 71 persons applied for Miss Panattoni's job and 80 for Horwath's job.

These applicants are to be screened down to 25, or so before interviewing begins, Spear informed board members Monday.

In addition to these two posts, applications for three others are to be sought soon, he indicated. These include a business manager, curriculum coordinator, and an athletic director.

drives its length twice a day going to and from work), and we have yet to have a car out of alignment nor has an exhaust system had to be replaced or shocks installed any more often than when we lived in Westland where the roads were paved. Also, paved roads do require maintenance.

The present condition of Taft Road has been brought about by the "city at large" and their use thereof. And that is why the property owners firmly believe that the same "city at large" should bear the costs of any improvements. Taft Road from Grand River to the high school was a surfaced road when we moved to Novi in 1969. It was more than sufficient to serve the residents along the way. Eventually, however, the traffic generated by the school with its attendant activities and the public meetings held on their premises; the building of the middle school (and now the new elementary school) which brought truck loads of sand, gravel and other materials; and the city's own grading of the road itself brought about the eventual destruction of that surface. Many chunks of that road ended up in our front yard. The same reasons might also apply to the present condition of the rest of Taft Road. Excessive and improper grading has also served to hamper drainage. Where the road was once level with our driveway, for example, it is now several inches lower. Thus the water has no place to go. The whole road has been made into a canal of sorts.

Somewhat deceptively, the voters of Novi (24 percent so it is reported) were led to approve the recent road millage proposal. They were led to believe that they are paying their "fair share" for a road The Novi News terms "the most traveled gravel road in the city," and yet there are comparatively few residents along that road. Under present planning, the paving of Taft Road would put undue hardship on many of these people for while their houses are not pretentious, many have frontages of better than 100 feet. Not only would they be required to pay the recently voted millage, but in addition a front foot assessment. Yet, would they derive any more benefit than someone, say, from Village Oaks driving to and from school, a council meeting, or some other public function? Paving would only tend to increase traffic flow of all kinds and excessive speeds (which we already have) and would be of no actual benefit to the Taft Road residents. Instead, it would accentuate already perilous conditions and in some ways create additional hazards. Let those who want the road paved (if it must be) and those who derive the greatest usage therefrom pay their "fair share", and then maybe we will be willing to pay ours.

Very truly yours,
Mary S. Wikman

'Wrong Firm'

Says Planner

To the Editor:

This letter is directed to those in attendance at the Planning Board Study Session on April 7, 1976.

Mr. Veltman's son was misinformed when he stated that Johnson and Anderson did the engineering at their site at Seeley Road and Grand River. A follow-up on this statement revealed that they did not do the engineering of the site nor do they ever do this type of work for individual firms in the City of Novi. The engineering firm employed for this particular site is from another community.

Amendment OK'd

An amendment to the Northville city and township agreement involving the Fish Hatchery park property has been approved by the city council.

The agreement made in 1972 provides that the method of dividing maintenance and operating costs are to be reviewed and renegotiated prior to December 31, 1975.

Since the 1975 date has long ago expired, the amendment continues the division of costs with the stipulation that maintenance and operating costs are to be reviewed and renegotiated annually.

If neither party requests to review and renegotiate the method of division the cost prior to March 1 of any year, the existing method of dividing costs are to be continued for the remainder of the year.

The award signifies outstanding accomplishment in the field. Other local board members attending were William E. Booth, Louise Cutler, Lois C. Decision Coming On Special Ed children, because other groups (Montessori and Baptist school people) are trying to lease temporary classroom space there for next fall, or because studies have not been completed to show future use of this and adjacent school buildings.

Whatever buildings or classrooms used for the special education program, they are to be entirely funded through the Wayne County Intermediate School District with state funds.

The superintendent indicated prior to Monday's meeting that he personally favors retaining the operative role in Northville "because we've spent a lot of hours getting it started and this experience should be valuable next year."

Nevertheless, he indicated that there would not be as much spin-off benefit for Northville next year as there has been this year. "We wouldn't be using Silver Springs this year if it hadn't been for this program," he said.

Spear said one of his chief worries concerning retention of the operative role is that of contract bargaining with teachers. His concern was echoed later at the board meeting by Treasurer P. Roger Nieuwkoop and Trustee John Hobart.

Presently, the Northville Education Association is the bargaining agent for the special education teachers. The fact that the latter teachers work under different conditions and more days per year could make for problems in bargaining, school officials fear.

There are 89 certified personnel in the special education program including teachers, nurses, therapists and psychologists.

In a related discussion Monday, Spear disclosed that non-certified special education personnel (150 aides) had voted on April 2 to have the Michigan Federation of Teachers represent them. However, the AFL-CIO reportedly has contested the vote and the matter is to go to a hearing.

According to Donna Sewrey, acting director of the special education program, it is anticipated that in addition to the mentally retarded institutionalized children presently involved in off-campus classrooms, an additional 275 children could be ready for classrooms for the next school year.

Thus, it is possible classroom space will be needed for 643 children instead of the 368 presently in Northville classrooms.

Assuming that the classrooms now being used at Moraine and Silver Springs continue to be used next year for this purpose, her figures suggest that Northville — or whichever agency becomes the operative agent next year — will need to find 62 classrooms.

Should Northville decide not to retain its operative role, the transfer of this role to another school district, such as Livonia, "will present no major problem," said Spear, "because they will assume all of the present special education staff and materials now on board."

Township Resets Election

maps at half-cost ($162) made it worthwhile to belong.

Permission was granted for the Northville Jaycees to hold their third annual Walk for Mankind through the township May 22 with proceeds to benefit Project Concern.

Resolution of Trustee James Nowka to rescind all compensation for members of all boards and commissions for the fiscal year was adopted unanimously. This includes the board of trustees, water and sewer, board of review, planning commission and board of appeals.

Resignation of Fred Philippeau from the planning commission was accepted with a letter of thanks for his services to be sent.

Resolution of Trustee Richard Mitchell to include the township in the city's resolution in opposition of the proposed increase in the property transfer tax to fund mass transit was approved.

By a split vote the board approved an amendment to the zoning ordinance deleting nursery plant material from farm use which was recommended by the planning commission.

Mitchell and Dr. John Swienkowski opposed the amendment, not on the nursery provision, but on the fact they felt the township was becoming "too restrictive." Mitchell pointed out that, as the ordinance reads, "a farmer will have to come before the board of appeals to have livestock — that's too restrictive."

Approval was voted on a water main use charge for a service connection to the proposed building on Pasco property of $7,376.76, for new rates for Kocian Excavating Company and replacement of a water main on Five Mile Road where the existing main was covered by road widening.

Will Rogers, Jr.—It's Like Listening to His Father

'His Was Always Humor with No Malice'

Chip-off-the-Block Stirs Memory of Laughs

By JEAN DAY

"I never met a man I didn't like." That's one of the most oft-quoted remarks of America's gentle humorist, Will Rogers.

But it's also one of the least understood. "There were lots of people he didn't like," his son, Will Rogers, Jr., told Northville Town Hall last Thursday, explaining, "I think what he meant was that he never met a man that he started out thinking he didn't like."

The elder son of the actor-humorist whose observations appeared on the front pages of newspapers before his untimely death in an airplane crash in 1935 spoke with pride of his father and his warm philosophy of life.

It was not always this way, however, he told his audience at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

He admitted he feels partially responsible for his father not being better remembered.

After the death of Will Rogers, Sr., in a crash in Alaska with Wiley Post, his son remembers gathering up all "the priceless words of Will Rogers — and mother had saved everything" and placing them in a vault in the office of the Beverly Hills Citizen.

Will Rogers, Jr., had just bought the paper and was busy writing and was into politics. (In 1942 he was elected to Congress.)

It wasn't until eight or ten years later, he admits, that Donald Day of the Reader's Digest talked him into letting the material be used for a book, "The Autobiography of Will Rogers," and then insisted he read the typescript.

"Gee, he's no cornball," his son comprehended suddenly.

"I didn't realize how perceptive he was," he continued, "for he clearly saw that in 1928-29 it was a false prosperity."

For those old enough to remember the senior Will it was almost like hearing him as Will Rogers, Jr., drew comments of his father:

"Millions have been made in wheat last week but not by anybody who ever raised any."

And — "America's foreign policy is an open book — a checkbook."

His father, he pointed out, was careful not to affiliate himself with either Republicans or Democrats as he became known for his topical humor.

"I am a member of no organized party — I am a Democrat," he once quipped, his son said as he told how his father most wanted to be remembered as a newspaper man and analyst.

"He wrote all his own material and because of this there is a consistent philosophy that runs through it all."

"He never became bitter; it was always a warm humor with no malice and no hate," his son said, adding that for political humorists this was unique as "even Mark Twain became embittered in his old age."

Will, Jr., talked about the three-to-four paragraph commentaries that appeared on the front pages of about 400 papers daily, saying that "people would read the headlines and then see what Will Rogers had to say about them."

'Bootlegging Is Joy, But Not Art'

It was almost as though his famous father was on hand last Thursday at Northville Town Hall as Will Rogers, Jr., drew some of his humorous comments:

• "I read in the papers this week that 13 bankers were indicted in Detroit—13—I thought Detroit was a bigger town than that."

• "I could solve the parking problem — make it a law that you can't drive a car on the street until it's paid for."

• On movies, arts and sciences — "Everything that gives enjoyment isn't art ... if it were, bootlegging would be at the top of the list."

• On meeting a group of Daughters of Descendants of the Mayflower — "We didn't come over on the Mayflower; we met you at the boat and made the mistake of letting you land."

• "Did you ever notice that every time a pilgrim is pictured praying his gun is right beside him — to see that he got what he was praying for!"

He criticized Hoover at first, the speaker continued, but explained that when the depression deepened and there were long lines of unemployed his father began to defend the president:

"Quit blaming the Republicans — they're not smart enough to think of all this."

Will Rogers, Jr., mentioned knowing personally of Hoover as he had attended Stanford University when the former president was its head and invited students in for discussions on government.

"Herber Hoover really has not received the credit he should have," the speaker declared, mentioning that Hoover also was "quite an engineer" (he had been a mining engineer) and said he was responsible for "all the screws in the world being made uniform and going in the same direction."

Will Rogers, Sr., knew all the presidents from Woodrow Wilson to Franklin D. Roosevelt, but, his son said, his favorite was Calvin Coolidge:

"It wasn't that he did nothing — it was that he did it better than anyone else."

"To me the most touching memorial is a bronze statue of dad in the Capitol."

"As you go toward the House of Representatives, there's dad slouched down looking toward the door — the guides say he's trying to see what's going on — but the toe of the statue is shiny bronze because people go by and just have to touch him. It's most revealing of how they feel about him."

Rogers explains that his father was born in 1879 in Indian territory that later became Oklahoma and that his grandfather was a tribal leader who helped make the territory a state. Will Rogers, Sr., was one-eighth Cherokee and liked to say he was civilized — "no oil was found on our reservation."

"He was the first American of Indian ancestry who became a success," his son notes, mentioning how as a Follies actor with bow and arrow he did a great deal to change the Indian image in the 1910's through 1930's.

Because Will Rogers, Sr., as a young man did not like managing a ranch he took off for South America and then South Africa. Enroute he met and joined up with Texas Jack's Wild West Circus as "Will Rogers, the Cherokee Kid and World's Greatest Roper."

He was an accomplished roper and appeared in many rodeos.

His life changed greatly after he met Betty Blake at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 and married her.

"She had him stay in New York to get better bookings and finally he did hit the top with the Follies," his son remembers.

"I'm convinced there would have been no Will Rogers without her, her son says, adding that she died in 1942 of cancer.

Will Rogers became a columnist after he was invited to send back telegrams to the New York Times on a trip to Europe. He went on to success in motion pictures and at the time of his death in 1935 he and Shirley Temple were box office champions.

Will, Jr., recalled his father's great love of flying, telling how he would drive his father to Alhambra airport near their California home.

"It was just a shack but was the postal headquarters for airmail and dad would get on the scales, be weighed and pay his weight like mail to go to New York — he'd climb into the front cockpit and be off on a 24 to 36 hour trip east."

"It was no surprise that dad went to Alaska with Wiley Post. They were at 150 feet when the motor went out and both were killed instantly — an impressive Oklahoma rock marks the spot — it's a black dot pilots point out."

Rogers adds that both his parents are buried in a memorial to his father at Claremore, Oklahoma.

One of three children of Will Rogers, Sr., Rogers told his audience that he still continues active in Indian affairs and helps operate his father's estate and copyrights. A brother, Jim, is a horseman and rancher in California and his sister, Mary, currently is in Greece.

Will, Jr., took his father's role in a movie of his life at the request of Jack Warner and says he now "is proud" to lecture about him with an appreciation he didn't have as an adolescent.

Methodists Break Ground

New Home Begun For Pastor Bank

Dr. Robert P. Ward, superintendent of the Ann Arbor District of the Detroit Conference of the United Methodist Church, led the South Lyon congregation in ground breaking ceremonies April 4 for a new parsonage. The three-bedroom ranch style home will be erected approximately 150 feet southwest of the church at 640 South Lafayette Street. Contractors for the $43,200 home are Floyd Cheek and Gary Boyd. The house, which has a large family room and full basement, encompasses 1632 square feet. A two-car attached garage is included in the planned construction. The South Lyon congregation sold their former parsonage on East Lake Street last summer and began immediately to formulate plans for the new parsonage. The present pastor, Dr. Milton Bank and Mrs. Bank, currently reside at Colonial Acres. Ten church members, the pastor and one of the contractors all took a hand with the shovel during the ground breaking which was held at 10:45 a.m. between the two morning worship services. First to use the spade was Dr. Ward who said, "As a co-worker with you in the building of God's kingdom and for the advancement of Christ's Church, I break this ground." He was followed by Edward Bourns, chairman of the Administrative Board; Robert Wright, Council on Ministries chairman; Fred Burt, chairman of Pastor Parish Relations; Eloise Rich, standing in for Carol Knepley who is president of the United Methodist Women; Gay Hannah, youth representative to the board; Holly Elie, chairman of education; Linda Stevens, Youth Club; Lester Slaughter, Sr. president of United Methodist Men; Leroy Herbon, chairman of the Building Committee; James Brenay, chairman of the Trustees; Boyd, contractor, and Dr. Bank.

Members of the congregation joined in the union prayer which was followed by the blessing, given by Dr. Ward, and the Doxology, sung by the congregation.

BREAKING GROUND—South Lyon Methodists gathered Sunday at the site of their new parsonage (south and west of the church) to break ground for the pastor's new home. Taking his turn with the spade is Dr. Milton Bank, pastor of the South Lyon Church. Looking on are a few of the other church members who participated in the ceremonies: (from left) Leroy Herbon, chairman of the Building Committee; Fred Burt, chairman of Pastor-Parish Relations; Gay Hannah, youth representative; Edward Bourns, chairman of the Administrative Board; Robert Ward, Council on Ministries and Dr. Robert Ward, superintendent of the Ann Arbor District of the Methodist Conference. The shovel used was donated by Lester Slaughter, Sr., president of the United Methodist Men, and is the same one used in the ground breaking for the new church on December 22, 1969.

'Pilgrim Virgin' Arrives Here

A replica of the statue of Our Lady of Fatima will be at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville for five-and-a-half hours on Monday, April 26.

The International Pilgrim Virgin arrived at Metropolitan airport April 1 and will be at different Catholic churches in the Detroit area through April 29. Escorted by members of the Knights of Columbus in full uniform the beautifully carved statue is to arrive at the Northville church at 6:30 p.m. Father Leo Gabriel of Wisconsin travels with the statue through the area.

A special mass is scheduled for 7 p.m. with the statue to remain at OLV until midnight.

The host church explains that, while the statue is only a block of wood, it is carved beautifully into a likeness of the vision of Fatima as described by Sister Lucia sole survivor of three shepherd children to whom a vision appeared in 1917 at Fatima, Portugal.

According to Catholic church history of the "peace plan from heaven" associated with the statue, World War I was 29 months old when Pope Benedict XV, after fruitless appeals to nations to cease hostilities, decreed a Crusade for Peace. He wrote, "Since all graces are distributed through the hands of the Blessed Virgin, now in this terrible hour we wish more than ever that the prayers of Mary's afflicted children be directed with lively confidence to the august Mother of God...

"To this end we ordain that...the invocation Queen of Peace pray for us, be permanently added to the Litany of Loretto (after the verse, Queen of the Holy Rosary.)"

The explanation continues that "eight days later Our Blessed Mother answered...by her appearance at Fatima, Portugal, six times to the children.

"I have come to warn the faithful to amend their lives and to ask pardon for their sins...If people do as I ask, many souls will be converted and there will be peace."

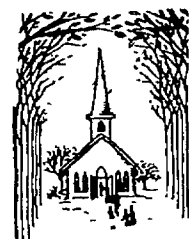

Fifty years have elapsed since, the Catholic church states, and in that time pilgrims from all walks of life, from every nation in the world—young and old, sick and well, rich and poor, have gone to Fatima to seek her blessings and favors.

Because it was realized that many would like to visit the shrine, the idea developed of bringing Fatima to the world with a traveling replica. It was planned at a youth conference at Fatima after Pope Pius XII had crowned the original statue of Fatima.

On May 13, 1947, this replica was carried professionally out of the Cova da Iria (Cove of St. Irene with Irene meaning Peace in Greek) to be borne through the nations of Europe toward the border of Russia.

The Bishop of Fatima reported, "None of us anticipated the wonderful things that began to happen as soon as the statue left the Cova."

A Blue Army made up of 40 million men, women and children all over the world who are doing what was asked by offering prayer and sacrifice daily was formed.

Editor's Note: A schedule of special Holy Week services in your community appears in the A section of this newspaper.

"Celebrate Life", a dramatic musical about the birth, life, death, and resurrection of Christ, will be presented this Sunday (April 18) at the First United Methodist Church in Brighton.

The cast of 46 includes the chancel choir, liturgical dancers, instrumentalists, and four narrators in the roles of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

A Revival begins April 18 at the First Freewill Baptist Church of Novi, 51395 10 Mile Road, corner of Napier. Everyone is invited to attend the 7 p.m. meeting which will be led by the Reverend E.J. Ramey of Detroit.

Joy, Inc., a full time Christian musical group will be at Epiphany Lutheran Church on Five Mile Road, Sunday, April 25th, at the 10:30 worship hour, according to Fred Prezioso, pastor of the local congregation.

Joy, Inc. will present a reverent blend of contemporary and classical forms of music in various tempos. Instruments such as trombone, trumpet, guitar, drums, flute and electric piano are combined in this dramatic presentation.

A free-will offering will be received to support the work of Joy, Inc. in its continuing musical ministry.

A series of discussions aimed at helping people be more effective parents, "How to Survive Being A Parent," will be led by the Reverend Fred Prezioso.

Mix and Match

Flower Combos Aplenty

The bedding plant displays at garden supply stores each spring fire the imagination with many "mix or match" possibilities! Once the gardener decides whether the garden will be a bed of one kind of annual (such as impatiens or petunia) in one color or in mixed colors, or whether the garden will be a glorious mixture of kinds and colors, then the choice of plants is simplified.

Ideas for the use of annual bedding plants include: a bed or mound garden of yellow petunias with a border of white sweet alyssum or parsley border for a rose bed; yellow or orange hedge-type marigolds used with red or white tall snapdragons with mixed colors of dwarf snapdragons in front and cleome or blue salvia in the background.

Other interesting combinations include tall red salvia, French marigolds, white vinca or sweet alyssum with bachelor's buttons, larkspur or flowering tobacco plants worked in. A border of petunias around a bed of hedge-type zinnias, the flower colors complementing one another makes a striking display.

Islands of color by the terrace, on a balcony or suspended bring much enjoyment to outdoor summer living. When using bedding plants in containers, consider

Geraniums May Be Just What Your Garden Needs

Pump Some Life Into Your Lawn

Spring weather is on your side. It yearns to turn a lawn attractive, urging the grass to fresh new growth. And you can lend a few assists.

If the lawn is discolored, the grass foliage scorched brown by winter weather, mow it closely and sweep up the duff. One such scaping early in the season does no harm and lets sunlight penetrate deep into the sod warming the soil quickly.

The added warmth hastens revival. And young leaves hidden in the turf are better displayed with the spent herbage gone. Don't do away with new green leaf, though; the grass needs all it can muster for making food to carry on the revival.

If the lawn is thin, or lacks modern lawngrass varieties that you would like to have there, scatter top-quality seed lightly wherever thickening is in order. But seed stands a reasonably good chance of rooting only if it strikes moist soil. So, it's a good idea to scratch-in overseedings. Scarify bare soil especially, to make it receptive (tiny lawnseeds will find a good home in the scratches).

Adequate fertility is another "must" for quick revival. An early feeding is essential if lawn fertilization was neglected in autumn, says the Lawn Institute.

Fertilizer encourages lusty grass growth ahead of the weeds, and is the best possible deterrent to unwanted invaders.

Gradual-release fertilizers provide nutrient constancy, and over a series of years accumulate in the soil sufficiently to sustain grass for many weeks even should feeding be delayed

Quick Compost Easily Made

Want some quick compost to enrich your garden? The American Association of Nurserymen, in its Green Survival program, recommends the following procedure for making a small amount of compost in a fairly short time.

Crumble a bushel of leaves into a clear polyethylene plastic bag, add two gallons of water and five or six pounds of high-content nitrogen commercial fertilizer (20-10-5 works well). Place the bag in a sunny spot and turn it over every other day. In three or four weeks, you should have a good quality compost. It can be stored until ready for use.

Invisible?

I was born a twin, a pair; One half of a whole. She was so outgoing. Always stole the show.

I was bashful and afraid, Basking in her light. She portrayed her role by day. I dreamed mine at night.

Through the years, I envied her. But I overcame. I found my real half in life. He gave me his name.

Yet I wonder, am I here, Or living in a dream? On our birthday every year, Invisible I seem.

I send her a birthday card, Holding no regrets. But each year, she sends me none. She says, she forgets!

Arlene Rex Ford

Love, Honor, and ?

Recently we renewed Our promises we said. Seventeen years ago He and she were wed.

It made me wonder where in time, I promised everything. Love and honor and obey, I refused to sing.

Love and honor, I agreed. But the last is doubt. Did I really say that I Would clean the toilet out?

It isn't in the Bible, "Woman, clean the pot!" The constitution doesn't say. Perhaps I just forgot?

But I swear, when we wed I agreed to cherish. A purple heart is what I want. I survived this marriage!

Arlene Rex Ford

Sticks and Stones

Hate is such an evil word. What does it mean to you? Anger isn't strong enough. Violence comes in view.

Think about it, really deep. Do you ever hate? Or is it just anger When others won't relate.

Is your hate — protection? Fear of feeling worse? Do you strike at others, So they won't strike first?

Do you ever throw stones? (Putting others down.) In a vicious cycle? Going round and round?

Sticks and stones aren't equal. Sticks can break the bones. But the real villains, Are those little stones.

Stones can kill a person. Names can really hurt. I'd rather see a stick thrown, Than hear a stone with dirt.

Tips For The Novice Automechanic

by Scott Connor

Repairing Dim Headlights

Some automobiles are being driven around with one headlight noticeably dimmer than the other.

While one manufacturer uses this to show the bulb is burned out and still mark the car's position to oncoming traffic, the Automotive Parts & Accessories Association says this condition is usually caused by excessive resistance in the headlight grounding circuit.

It is a condition that is not difficult to correct — you can do it yourself.

Find the wires coming from the back of the malfunctioning headlamp assembly. One of three is going to divide from the other two and be fastened by a screw to the sheet metal or a structural member in the area of the headlamp or the radiator.

Remove this screw and sandpaper the terminal and the metal area to which it is fastened to a metal-bright finish.

CLEAN + LUBRICATE TANGS + CONTACTS

Apply a bit of petroleum jelly, grease or even just plain motor oil off the engine's dipstick to the area and the terminal and refasten the wire with its screw.

If the screw won't tighten properly because it is stripped, replace it with a larger screw, or a bolt and nut with a star washer on it.

Fasten the ground wire terminal to the sheet metal tightly to assure a good circuit-to-ground for the headlight. If the wire itself is frayed or has several strands broken, replace it.

In most cases, the foregoing will correct the problem of a dim headlight. If, however the headlight still does not operate as intended, remove the bulb and check the wires and socket connector inside the headlamp assembly for worn insulation, looseness or corrosion.

Apply electrical tape to any detected worn spots in the insulation. Sandpaper the three prongs on the back of the headlight bulb to metal brightness and do the same for the interior contacts of the socket, using an emery board trimmed down to permit its entry into the socket.

Application of a light coating of lubricant before re-connecting will help retard future corrosion on these contacts.

When reconnecting the bulb to the socket, examine the fit of each of the three contacts for looseness. If any is encountered, adjust by bending either the male or female parts of the contacts to assure a tight fit for each.

Any frayed or broken wires encountered during your examination should be replaced, as the necessary amount of current for adequate lamp brightness cannot get through the reduced conductor.

Just because he's different Doesn't make him queer.
His manner may be reticent
And his worth may not appear

In score cards on the playing field,
Or trophies on the shelf;
In none of these may be revealed
The jewel of inner self.

But underneath his drab facade
Is a radiating glow
That comes from deep within the clod—
The one you learn to know

By looking for the light that gleams,
And in your search, to find
That those who seem to have no dreams
Are blest with cosmic minds.

Charles E. Hutton

Blue

Blue . . . sensual secretive blue.
Royal and Pornographic too.
On high, the sky.
On she, the eye,
Smiling True.

Dog's names, sad fearful faces,
Flicks in dark wet tones,
Veins Showing inside traces,
Shivering to the bones,
Turning Blue.

Paint, you Blue Boy,
Play your toy.
Do you . . . I do,
She was, True Blue.

Richard Sebastian

I Watched A Hawk

Today, I watched a hawk
Soaring high with the wind.
It was a bitter wind—
The last of winter.
But, the hawk
Didn't seem to mind.
He was having Too much fun
Staying aloft
Without having to Flap his wings.

Anthony Solmen

Gravity

I felt the urge to fly
the other day
the winds were right, hard and strong,
and I spread my arms to catch them.
but the air slipped by,
untrappable nothingness.
and I was left earthbound, arms outstretched,
asking why?

J.W. Miller

Day's Done

The sun is setting.
There is a glow in the west.
The day is 'most done now.
And we've flown our best.
So, little sky lark,
As you sit on your pad,
I thank you in silence.
For the fun we had.
With night near at hand, pal,
I feel well blessed,
And leave you 'til next time
Tucked safe in your nest.

Anthony L. Solmen

I'll Drink to That!

This year, I want to thank you.
My way of eating cake.
While you're all celebrating,
July the fifth, I'll take.

The candles will be burning,
And fireworks galore.
"Happy Birthday, America!"
Two hundred years, she's wore.

I never had a birthday
To call my very own.
And though I'm getting middle aged,
This year, I take the throne.

While you're all sipping champagne,
I'm going to play the queen.
I'll change that "A" in America,
To "Happy Birthday, Arlene!"

Arlene Rex Ford

To My Mother, Bea Carlson

I'm glad I am who I am and born where I was born.
I'm glad my folks were you and Dad,
The thought brightens up my morn.
I'm glad my life and my position was to be raised a Christian.
You taught me right and I love you for it,
It's plain as it can be.
No movie star or high society, or lady of leisure be cause here I am such be the case, I don't want to be anyone but me.

Shirley Nuottila

War

The soldier reminisced about the war,
Relaying vivid tales of flirts with death.
He didn't know how I disliked the lore
Of people caught in strife, I held my breath
As he portrayed the fights of days gone by.
To him old times returned; he lived once more
With troops who wanted to identify With bravery and fame. He could ignore
The maimed and dead. Forget the women left
With children, all alone, whose homes were razed
By army rule; and mothers now bereft
Because they lost a son. I sighed and gazed Upon this man of unknown age. I bore
His tale, but wondered to myself, "Which war?"

Out of the Horse's

Bicentennial Show

The Downriver Lawyer's Wives are sponsoring a Bicentennial Open Horse Show on May 2 as their annual charity fund raising event.

The judge is John Neep for the show which begins at 9 a.m., rain or shine. The location is the Wayne County 4-H Fair Association Fairgrounds, Quirk Road, Belleville.

Only mares and geldings may be shown. Classes are western and English with six ribbons and one trophy per class.

There will be a high point trophy awarded in both the horse and pony divisions.

Entry fees are $2 and $2.50 per class and the gate fee is $1.50 per car.

For further information, call 676-2390.

Buying a horse is a costly proposition. You may be one of a growing number of sports-minded people who have thought about buying a horse for your child to ride or just for your own pleasure. Be forewarned that the pleasures of ownership come at a stiff price—especially in feeding and caring for the horse.

Figure on an initial $500 to $1,500 to buy the animal and another $500 to $2,000 for riding equipment. Beyond that, the annual cost of keeping a horse can run from $900 to $2,500.

Convicts Think '76, Too

By ELMER E. WHITE

LANSING—Inmates at the State Correctional Facility in Muskegon want to help celebrate the Bicentennial along with everyone else.

So they've filed a formal application for "Bicentennial Community" status. The application has been forwarded to the administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in Washington.

Michigan already has some 260 governmental units and 15 educational institutions with the official designation.

PRISON RESIDENTS involved in the project say they hope to put together a slide program dealing with recent trends in community-corrections involvement as part of their 200th birthday celebration activities.

In addition, they plan a puppet production for area schools and construction of a bicentennial float to enter in Muskegon area parades.

THE SPECIAL bicentennial designation generally is limited to governmental units, colleges and universities and military installations.

But Lieutenant Governor James Damman, chairman of Michigan's Bicentennial Commission, says the prison application should receive special consideration.

"It is assuredly an indication that these men have a commitment to the bicentennial observance and want very much to take part in it," he told the national bicentennial administrator.

MONEY CHAINS. Whiskey chains. Post card chains. They've all been tried in the past, with little gain for most participants.

The latest type of chain letter-type scheme to come to the attention of Michigan's Department of Commerce involves U.S. Savings Bonds.

It apparently works this way: People are asked to pay for a list of names, then buy two bonds and sell the list to others. There is, of course, the promise of a big payoff for those who get involved.

The catch: It's illegal. Anyone caught participating in the scheme risks up to seven years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

"THE UNFORTUNATE THING is that those who are caught and face the penalties are usually not the perpetrators of those schemes," says Hugh Maken, director of the department's corporation and securities bureau.

"They are really victims, while the culprits have long since taken a handsome profit and disappeared." Maken points out, nonetheless, that anyone who sells or offers one of these chain lists is liable for the full penalty of the law.

"For their own protection, persons who are contacted about taking part in a 'chain bond' scheme should contact us," Maken says. If you're contacted, write: Corporation and Securities Bureau, Enforcement Section, Lansing, MI 48913.

Bob Ellis and Jack Doheny outside new quarters

JACK DOHENY Supplies, Inc., Michigan's largest supplier of Municipal Sewer Equipment, has opened its large new quarters in Northville.

The 100 x 100 foot or 10,000 square foot building is located at 777 Silver Springs Court on the property that years ago was the site of Northville's historic Silver Springs bottling works.

The new building is just a couple of blocks from Doheny's previous location, across the street from the city's DPW yard. It contains four offices.

Doheny, who has been in Michigan for 25 years and who has had a warehouse in Northville for four years, is the owner and manager of the business.

Joining Doheny in welcoming guests to the opening of the new facility Tuesday evening were two of the firm's top salesmen, James Jenkins and Robert Ellis as well as secretaries Ethel Wallis and Ruth Connarn.

Interestingly, in developing the new building, Doheny tapped into one of the two abandoned six-inch wells that had been used by Silver Springs "and the water checked out beautifully. We're getting excellent drinking water from that old well."

Doheny has plans to develop an identically-sized building next door for leasing purposes.

Doheny supplies equipment for TV inspection of sewers with video and audio tape, grouting of sewers and manholes, root control, air testing, mechanical power rodding, jet power rodder capable of vacuuming all debris, blower and ventilating systems, camera and survey equipment, and a complete line of pumps.

The Grand Opening starting Saturday, April 10, will continue through this week. Store hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

A SPECIAL VEHICLES automotive firm, Cars & Concepts, has opened operations in Brighton, announces the company's president, Richard R. Chrysler.

Cars & Concepts is presently operating at three locations, 135 West North Street (office), 8940 Rickett Road (mailing) and 5492 Military (engineering and prototype).

The company's main product line will be removable roof panels.

A 14,000 square feet facility has been leased to house engineering and prototype starting June 15, Chrysler said.

Cars & Concepts' new 29,000 square feet production and corporate office facility on East Grand River near Brighton Hospital is under construction.

Completion date for the facility will be July, Chrysler said, in time for the 1977 model year production.

Chrysler was formerly division vice president and general manager of Hurst Performance. He began with Hurst in 1966 and has been involved in all phases of specialty automotive manufacturing. Some 35,000 special vehicles have been developed under Chrysler's direct supervision.

Chrysler has appointed David R. Wakely director of purchasing for Cars & Concepts.

Wakely attended Macomb County Community College in Warren and has 10-years' experience in the auto industry; his last position as product designer for Ford Motor Company.

"Dave's specific product knowledge is in the area of removable roof panels, the main product line of Cars & Concepts, and will be a valuable asset to our specialty automotive production business," Chrysler said.

Cars & Concepts officials estimate they will employ 250 persons by this September 1.

A PROCLAMATION designating April 18-24 as Private Property Week has been issued by the Mayor of Northville, A. Malcolm Allen.

The proclamation focuses on the services provided by the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors, praising that group's members for their effort in providing homes and properties in this area.

Specifically, it notes that Realtors give of their time and energies to the Northville area by their activity in civic affairs, charitable causes, educational programs and by being alert to the needs of their neighbors.

A NATION-WIDE study shows that nine out of ten persons who have arranged a funeral in recent years were very satisfied with the way funeral directors served them.

That was the underlying conclusion in the survey's findings released by Central Surveys, Inc., who conducted the opinion study during the last two months on the public's attitudes toward funeral directors.

The survey also found that:

— 95 per cent felt the funeral director did a good job of explaining the charges for services, facilities and merchandise available.

— Most people feel that funeral directors' charges are "in line" rather than "high" or "low".

— 97 per cent said the funeral director and his staff were helpful and considerate in all ways.

— Most people would call the same funeral director again.

— Only a very small minority had any unfavorable comments.

Respondents also agreed that funeral directors gave an adequate explanation of the services, facilities and merchandise they had available and 94 per cent said the funeral director did not attempt to pressure them into undesired or unnecessary expenses, services, facilities or merchandise.

Test for Gardening

Does Your Dirt Crumble?

By KATHY COPLEY

Now that the ground is drying out a bit, it is time to consider what steps will be necessary to condition the soil before you plant. Whether your planting efforts will include trees, roses, or wildflowers, the steps will be the same.

Before you take spade to soil, pick up a handful and squeeze it. If it crumbles apart it is friable, or ready to work. If it keeps the shape of the squeeze, let it dry out more. You will do more harm than good trying to work soil that is too wet.

The alternate freezing and thawing of the winter has worked the soil up, leaving many tiny tunnels for the passage of air and water. Digging the soil too soon destroys these passages which will be essential to healthy root and plant growth.

If the soil is friable, spade or roto-till it to a depth of 8". Twelve inches is better for the plants but not so good for the digger. For a large garden a roto-tiller is almost essential. It churns the soil, thoroughly mixing in any of the materials you add to condition the soil. It can be rented locally; or check the paper to see if roto-tiller owners are available to do the job.

All soil can use turning over in the spring. This maneuver kills sprouting weeds by exposing the roots to the sun. It kills insect larvae by giving birds a clear shot at them. It gives the surface debris a chance to be broken down by contact with soil organisms.

Both sandy and clay soil can use conditioning with fibrous material, preferably of an organic nature like peat moss, grass clippings, compost, or manure. These materials add nutrients in addition to improving the soil's moisture retaining qualities.

Clay soil generally is characterized by such small particles that the soil has little or no natural drainage. Work in coarse sand to provide drainage for excess water.

A soil test reveals a soil's pH as well as its content of nitrogen, phosphorous, iron, and other elements essential to growth. Spring is the best time to add the products which will provide a balance of nutrients.

CLAM EATERS here have helped down 10,817 "Sister Arline Cherrystone Clams" and raise $1081.70 for Sister Arline Schmeer's search for a clam-related cure for cancer.

The clam eaters' gift of five cents per clam was matched by Chuck Muer, owner of the restaurants selling Sister Arline Clams.

The total gift of $1081.70 will be presented to fund co-chairman Sister Loretta Ann Waish, O.P., on April 12 at 10 a.m. at Muer's Clamdiggers restaurant, 30555 Grand River in Farmington Township.

Chuck Muer's Clams for Cancer campaign ran from December 15 to February 29 at three Michigan and three Ohio restaurants.

In Michigan, the restaurants were: Charley's Raw Bar & Seafood Restaurant in Hotel Pontchartrain, Detroit, Clamdiggers in Farmington Township; and Gandy Dancer in Ann Arbor.

In Ohio, the restaurants were: Engine House No. 5 in Columbus; Charley's Crab in Beachwood, and Charley's Crab in Montgomery.

A Dominican nun, Dr. Arline Schmeer is director of marine studies at the American Medical Center, Denver, Colorado. Her 14-year study has shown that a substance called mercenene, found in Littleneck, cherrystone and quahog clams, kills human cancer cells in tissue culture.

Although the substance has been effective in mice and tissue cultures, it has not been synthesized for use on human beings. This would require some five more years of research, but funds for the project are running short.

Further information on the Sister Arline fund may be had by phoning (313) 628-8363.

For containers with sloping or curved sides, plant the bedding plants half-way between the rim and the center of the container for best root growth and health of the plants.

Suggested plant combinations suitable for containers include: red geraniums, white cascading petunias, lemon drop or petite marigolds and dracaena; white geraniums, red cascading petunias with blue ageratum or lobelia; pink geraniums, pink-flowered wax begonias, trailing variegated vinca and pink cascading petunias, coral cascading petunias, coral coleus, blue ageratum and dracaena.

Some good hanging basket annuals which can be used alone are cascading petunias, lantana, ivy-leaved geraniums, sweet alyssum, lobelia and impatiens. Let the impatiens plants will somewhat so that the stems droop; after this period of wilting, the stems will continue to droop more gracefully and when flowering begins, the effect is splendid.

Maui, Hawaii

We are staying at the Sheraton Maui Hotel here on the golden sands of the finest beaches in the Pacific. This hotel is one of the most beautiful in the world and also expensive. Rooms average 50 to 60 dollars. Breakfast is $3.75, lunch $6.00 to $8.50. At dinner time, try the Discovery Room on the top floor — the entertainment is colorful and done with great dignity. Cost will run from thirty to forty dollars and well worth it. (Try their House Salad — it's superb.)

Because I hadn't had any conversations with whales since Acapulco Bay ten years ago we decided to take a cruise on the schooner J.J. Cook. I vary rarely partake of the juice of the grape. Since there were no soft drinks on board and booze was free, I ordered a Mai Tai (whatever that was — it at least sounded Native Hawaiian). After I gulped the first half of my drink, it must have sharpened my perception because I was the first to sight an immense hump-back whale and, worse luck, won the award of another Mai Tai. Wading into the second drink, I observed many other whales of all types. Two of them even performed back flips for my enjoyment. For some reason, my wife didn't discover half as many whales as I did.

Later, with my booze all gone, the whales lost their interest — their leaps were smaller and the back flips (which the captain claimed he had never heard of before) disappeared.

An interesting excursion in Maui is to visit the Whalers Market Place, which is within walking distance of the Sheraton Hotel. There are interesting shops dealing in scrimshaw — art work jewelry hand made from whale bones. Also, the Quarter Deck Restaurant has wonderful seafood. Try their Crab Continental with fresh mushrooms and avocado or Broiled Prawns Portofino. I consider this place a classic.

I will write from Hawaii — the Big Island — in a few days. Until then — Aloha!

Raging Inferno Wipes Out Detroit

Detroit, Michigan, June 11, 1805—Detroit is nothing more than a heap of smoldering ashes. The entire city has been consumed by a raging inferno that began this morning about nine o'clock.

The blaze reportedly began at John Harvey's stable at the western end of St. Anne Street, when an employee carelessly knocked hot ashes from his pipe onto a pile of straw. Within a few minutes, flames shot out of the roof of the stable, carrying blazing sparks that quickly ignited the tinder-dry roofs they landed on. Yelling men rushed the fire engine to the blaze and a bucket brigade immediately formed down to the nearby river. Frantically passed buckets were emptied into the engine, a water tank on four wheels, as sweating, cursing, pleading men took turns on the hand-operated pump.

A wind blowing from the southwest fanned the flames into a consuming frenzy of fire which leaped across streets to ignite everything in its path. Hoping to clear a strip of homes and stop the spreading holocaust, men with axes desperately but, futilely slashed and hacked at buildings.

Early fear gave way to spreading panic as it became clear that nothing could stop the fire. Women, children and men began salvaging operations, taking everything out of their homes that could be carried, and hauling their household goods to the safety of the grounds outside of the palisades surrounding the settlement. Those who had time, hitched their horses to carts or wagons and filled these with possessions to be drawn to safety.

Confusion reigned as women screamed for lost children, horses reared and whinnied in panic at the awesome sight and sound of the crackling flames, and men yelled encouragement or orders to each other in their efforts to save what could be saved.

Children scurried with their arms laden with food, clothing and anything else they could carry; women lugged clothing, pots, pans and family heirlooms; and men shouldered cabinets, beds, chairs, tables and other household furnishings.

Most of the people found safety outside the palisades, but many also launched boats or got into canoes to watch the burning of the settlement from the vantage of the river. Almost miraculously, not one life was lost in the fire.

Hard-bitten and hard-working men, courageous and dedicated women, wept helplessly as they saw their life's work going up in flames before their very eyes.

Many thought about the fire ordinances that had been passed by the city, and how annoyed some had been at being required to have two ladders, one fixed to the roof and going to the chimney and another to get to the roof from the ground; to keep a barrel filled with water; to close off fireplaces at night so wind gusts wouldn't blow hot embers into the room; to clean chimneys once every two weeks. Increasing violations of the fire ordinances had recently led to an increase in inspections from once to twice a month.

Today, not a single building remains standing, except for a blockhouse near the river. In the smoldering field of ashes, only a few lonely stone and brick chimneys, like gravestones, mark a dead Detroit.

On January 11 of this year, President Jefferson created the Michigan Territory with Detroit as its capital. The law takes effect of July 1, when the new territorial governor and judges will take over. There is little question about what their first priority of business will be — the rebuilding of Detroit.

pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church in Northville Township.

The three sessions will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. on consecutive Thursdays, beginning April 29th, at the church parsonage, 41339 Greenbriar Lane, in Lake Pointe Subdivision. Cost for the series will be $10.

This discussion series will focus on the issues that participants bring to the group.

"We will help each other," commented Pastor Prezioso. "Families that are experiencing difficulty in some part of their relationship with their children can hear ideas and solutions that have been tried successfully by others in the group. I will share information about child development, and communications and problem solving skills that will help parents cope more effectively.

"Very often the parents will themselves unconsciously encourage their children to rebel or enter into a destructive competition with one another. Once they become aware of what is happening, it's much easier to interrupt destructive patterns. Our aim is to help parents achieve this goal."

For additional information about this series, or to register, you may contact Pastor Prezioso at his home, 41339 Greenbriar Lane (453-1191) or at the church, 41390 Five Mile Road (453-8807).

Out of the Horse's Mouth

If you're still interested at those prices, a local riding stable is probably the best place to buy your first horse or to find someone with a horse to sell. Any agricultural school or the county agent in your area can provide free information about horses, and some keep tabs on reliable breeders.

Make sure that the horse you buy fits the rider's needs and level of horsemanship. "Any reputable horseman should let you try out the horse before buying it," says Michael Nolan, of the American Horse Council, in Washington, D.C.

A good veterinarian and a farrier, a blacksmith who works only with horses, should examine the horse before you buy — a cost of $20 to $30. County agents, ag. schools, and local stables can help you locate these specialists.

Vet and farrier add to the upkeep. Once the animal is yours, the annual bill for shots, deworming, and teeth filings will run you at least $60 to $150. The farrier bill is steeper — $150 to $250 per year. Horseshoes must be changed every five to eight weeks and cost $12 to $25 for four.

There's a lot of good books on buying a horse. One for novice horse owners is Marcia S. Cooper's "Take Care of Your Horse".

Novi Topples Mustangs as Records Break

Sports

Wednesday, April 14, 1976 • THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS— 1-C

The Novi girl tracksters are off and running. The Ladycats captured nine firsts, seven seconds and eight thirds, and in the process broke three school records and tied another, in last Friday's 71½-42½ triumph over Northville.

Betty Banks captured three firsts and a second and in the process broke the school record for the 220 yard dash with a clocking of 28 seconds flat and set the school mark with a 72½ foot toss in the discus.

Janet Cook ran away with first place honors in every event in which she participated and her 16 foot long jump equaled the school mark. Cook gained firsts in the low hurdles, the long jump as well as being a member of the winning 440 and 880 relay teams.

"Everybody improved on their best times, all the girls were just super," claimed an elated Novi coach, Chris Hayward.

"I am really excited about this year's team; we are a lot stronger than I expected," analyzed Hayward.

Novi's Leigh Tarczy ran an exceptional 2:38.8 in the 880 yard run and Kathy Brzezniak cracked the 14-minute mark in the two mile run to earn special praise from Hayward.

Dede McAllen placed second in the shotput and first in the mile run to further aid the Novi cause.

Despite the loss, Northville coach Steve McDonald was also pleased with the performance of his troops.

"Overall it was a good performance for a young team; we will show better," McDonald assured.

Denise MacDermaid, Sharon Brodrick, Nancy Schemph, Amy Perry and the mile relay team of Kelly Williams, Brodrick, Schemph and Rita Tuly collected first place honors in the defeat.

"Our distance came through and we held our own in the field events but the sprints and the hurdles did not look strong," observed McDonald.

"Amy Perry had an excellent time in the two mile and Sharon Brodrick did well in the high jump, mile run and mile relay," said the encouraged coach.

Sophomore Joan Davis captured two seconds and a third while newcomer Schemph placed first in the 440. Today Novi will host Dexter. Tomorrow Waterford Mott will be Northville's guest. Both meets start at 4:00 p.m.

Novi Long Jumper Places at Relays

Andy Roddant finished fifth with a long jump of 20 feet, four inches to place fifth for Novi at the Country Day Relays.

Coach Del Munson took 12 Novi tracksters to the invitational relay but Roddant was the only one to place.

Munson was pleased with the showing of freshman Jeff Johnston who ran a 5:01 in the mile in the first time he had ever competed.

Ben Galyan qualified for the finals in the shotput but did not place.

Mustang Netters Win Two; Brighton and Fenton Fall

"The 'Ville' is ready" proudly claims Northville tennis coach Bob Simpson after the Mustang netters collected a pair of easy victories in the first week of tennis action.

Brighton traveled to Northville last Wednesday but was no match for the Northville squad as the Mustangs won every match posting a 7-0 victory.

Number one singles, Greg McFadden, had trouble in the early going but came on to win 7-6 and 6-3. Doug Castillo and Rudy Horst, playing number two and three singles, both had a relatively easy time disposing of their Brighton opponents. Castillo won two by an identical 6-2 score while Horst took his match 6-4 and 6-3.

Number four singles, Chuck Whiteside, found the going easy, whitewashing his opposition 6-0 and 6-0.

The double teams of Tim Kelly and Ron Angell, Steve Laffler and Steve Pyett and Tom Folino and Dan Conder were all impressive.

Kelly and Angell and Folino and Conder both won their matches 6-2, 6-2 while Laffler and Pyett shut out the opposition 6-0 twice.

"It was a good way to open up and I was especially pleased with Castillo, Whiteside and all the doubles," stated Simpson.

After the scheduled match a group of Northville exhibition players followed the trend set by the varsity netters' by besting Brighton in every match.

"Lance Carter, Steve Dragon, John Cannarsa, John Marzonia, Jeff Hodge and Tim Wilson all looked especially good," Simpson praised his younger netters out for disciplinary action, the host Mustangs thrashed their guests 6-1.

Again the single players, McFadden, Castillo, Horst and Whiteside disposed of the Fenton netters in the minimal two sets.

"Kelly and Angell played a good team and gained some experience," Simpson claimed after the Northville pair won 6-4, 4-6, and 6-3.

Laffler and Pyett won 6-3 and 6-4 but Folino and Conder lost their match 5-7, 7-5 and 6-4.

Today the Mustangs travel to Plymouth Salem for what should be a close, tough match. Northville has never beaten Salem in tennis.

MAKING A POINT—Coach Bob Kucher of Northville questions the umpire's decision during the Mustangs' 7-3 decision over Clarenceville. As is usually the case, the umpire's decision prevailed.

Mustangs Victorious In Season Opener

Jim Niemi smashed a solo home run to left center in the fifth inning to break up a 3-3 ballgame and give reliever Jim LaPlante the victory.

Don Funk started for Northville and gave up all three Clarenceville runs. Funk suffered some control problems, walking five while giving up four hits and striking out six in the four innings he worked. After two of the walks, Funk displayed a good pick-off move to first, catching the runners leaning the wrong way.

LaPlante came on in the fifth and pitched three scoreless innings, yielding just two hits while striking out a pair.

Bill Piccolo drove in the first Mustang run in the first inning with a bloop single that the right fielder lost in the bright sunshine.

Piccolo's single followed a walk to Nick Hemp and a perfect sacrifice bunt by Doug Marzonia.

Scott Travers drove in two more runs in the third with a bases loaded, wind blown double, scoring Marzonia and Bryan Riegner.

After the Niemi four bagger, LaPlante, Hamp and Marzonia singled and then Riegner doubled to left to drive in two more runs to round out the Northville scoring.

Piccolo paced the Mustang attack going three for four and picking up three RBI's.

"I was very pleased the way we made contact with the ball and made problems for their defense," said Coach Bob Kucher.

"We only had two strikeouts and any time you have less than five in a high school game, you're doing good," claimed Kucher.

Kucher was pleased with LaPlante's relief job but was disappointed with the squad's defense.

"We have a lot of young kids and nobody is out there taking charge. That is why there were balls dropping in between players," Kucher explained.

Hamp and Marzonia, the one and two hitters, reached base safely five of the seven times they were up and Niemi collected a pair of walks in addition to his round tripper.

Dave Heckerl will be on the mound today as the Northville nine welcome rival Novi.

Athletes of the Week

BETTY BANKS of Novi captured three first place finishes and a second in aiding Novi to an impressive opening victory over rival Northville. The time of 28 seconds flat in the 220 yard dash broke the school record. Banks heaved the discus 225' to set the school mark in the new event. She also ran the anchor leg of the winning 440 relay team.

CHUCK WHITESIDE, the number four singles player for Northville, earns the honor of Mustang of the week. Whiteside defeated his Brighton opponent 6-0 and 6-0 and looked almost as good against Fenton, 4-3 and 6-1. Northville won both matches. Coach Bob Simpson claims Whiteside has been a pleasant surprise. The Mustang netter is a junior.

OPEN YOUR EYES—Tom Folino of Northville may be playing with his eyes closed, but one cannot argue with his success. Folino and his partner, Dan Conder, defeated their Brighton opponents 6-2, 6-2 as the Mustang netters won 7-0.

National Bantam Hockey Championship.

The Michigan Bosquett team won this title last weekend in Warwick, Rhode Island, in a tournament involving teams from the states of Washington, New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Minnesota and Illinois.

Bosquett had a season record of 78 victories and 4 losses, two of the latter occurring against Canadian teams. In addition to winning Don Dales of Northville played on Roberts Pools when that team won the Nationals last year.

Baseball Picks With Poetic Touch

By KEVIN BRAZELL

Once again the baseball season is here, Just like Sports Illustrated, here are the picks for the year.

Short and sweet and hopefully prophetic, They may not be funny, but at least they're poetic.

AMERICAN LEAGUE EAST

BOSTON—The Red Sox almost won it all in '75. With good years from Rice and Lynn again they'll thrive.

They have the talent with Yaz, Tiant and Fisk. You can bet on the Sox without too much risk.

BALTIMORE—The Orioles still have Robinson, Palmer and Gritch, A questionable Jackson and then Holtzman to pitch. If Reggie does show and they can find a reliever, The Birds could catch Boston, claims wily Earl Weaver.

NEW YORK—The great "Catfish" Hunter may still be good for 20, But the Sox and the O's see the Yanks trailing by plenty. Billy's back in the old stadium; all Yanks have short hair. But that trade Bonds for Rivers just did not seem fair.

DETROIT—Last year was a disaster when they lost 102, Even with Staub, Johnson and May, the Tigers will lose quite a few. Horton, Hiller and Rodriguez appear awfully good. The Bengals bounce out of the basement but knock on wood.

CLEVELAND—Powell, Bell and Hendricks are real potent stuff. But for Robby's tribe to be a contender, it's just too tough. Eckersly, Dobson and Peterson hurl good ammunition. To win their strong division, takes more than ambition.

MILWAUKEE—Aaron and Scott are big men in the city of beer. But with a last place finish, fans won't have much to cheer. Even if Hammerin' Hank hit more homers than Ruth, They're good for last place and that is the truth.

AMERICAN LEAGUE WEST

OAKLAND—Though Reggie Jackson and Holtzman have been traded away. The A's should still win if Charlie O. has his say. With Campy, Claudell and fastballing Vida Blue, This won't be the year they finish number two.

CALIFORNIA—They got Bobby Bonds in a very smart deal. He hits homers and is known for the bases he'll steal. Nolan Ryan and Frank Tanana throw lots of fire. But to pass Oakland, it is more hitting they desire.

KANSAS CITY—Oakland and California will give them the word. Even with Mayberry, no higher finish than third. Busby and Splitorff are quite good on the mound. Too bad the Royals don't have more talent around.

TEXAS—Burroughs, Singer and Harrah are the talent they've got. But the Rangers are destined to finish in the fourth-place spot. Gaylord Perry is their pitcher to fear, Even with his spitter, this won't be their year.

MINNESOTA—Batting champ Carew has no trouble getting on base. The Twins will still have a tough time keeping out of last place. Gene Mauch takes over the helm for the Twins. Even with Blyleven they'll have more losses than wins.

CHICAGO—With Wilbur Wood throwing the knuckle-ball supreme, Staying out of the cellar is the best they can dream. Bill Vecek wants the Sox to wear pants that are short. But Pat Kelly and Ralph Garr won't provide enough support.

NATIONAL LEAGUE EAST

PHILADELPHIA—The Phils greet the return of an Allen named Dick. With Carlton and Katt pitching, they're a first-place pick.

The Pirates will try to give 'em a chase. At the end of the summer it's the Phils in first place.

PITTSBURGH—Stargell and Sanguillen provide hitting galore. But the main problem is their pitching is poor. They won their division and then lost to the Reds. This will be the year the Phils finish ahead.

ST. LOUIS—Hrabosky gained fame when he learned to meditate. Too bad most of their pitchers are just second rate. The Cards count on Lou Brock to steal many a base. Even with Simmons and Smith they'll finish in third place.

NEW YORK—Ten years ago the Mets were really quite funny, But recently the forecast has been clearing and sunny. Tom Seaver and Lolich and then there's Joe Torre; Their fourth-place finish will bring little glory.

MONTREAL—Their name implies a great exposition. Only Chicago will keep them out of last position. Woody Fryman and colleagues offer little to cheer; Expos are overshadowed by the Olympics this year.

CHICAGO—All the Cubs have is Madlock and Monday; So what do they do from Tuesday through Sunday. The Cubs have little pitching or hitting around, That is why Chicago appears cellar-bound.

NATIONAL LEAGUE WEST

CINCINNATI—Even though Bench is getting a divorce, With another pennant there will be no remorse. The Reds won it all and may repeat this season, Bench, Morgan, Perez and Rose are the reason.

LOS ANGELES—Despite Marshall's troubles at Michigan State, With a little more pitching the Dodgers could be great. Steve Garvey and Sutton are heroes in L.A. This won't be the year but next season may.

SAN FRANCISCO—They talked of moving the Giants out of the Bay area. So finishing third there will create no hysteria. Murcer and Montefusco are hard names to rhyme. For the Giants to win it will take more time.

ATLANTA—Wynn, Evans and Williams provide plenty of power. Even with Messersmith, their pitching will go sour. Phil Niekro will win with his great knuckleball. But Bristol has no one in the bullpen on whom he can call.

SAN DIEGO—Willie Davis and McCovey give a lot of punch. Too bad the rest play like they're all out to lunch. Any other talent they have is only a myth. Even if the Padres pray, they'll still finish fifth.

HOUSTON—The Astrodome may be the eighth wonder. But Ceasar Cedeno provides the only thunder. Their luck has been bad in seasons past, It won't change; they're good for last.

Take some money but don't bet it all, Heed these predictions; you could be rich next fall.

Hoelt to Help Civitans

Former Detroit Tiger pitching star Billy Hoelt has agreed to embark on a little different kind of pitching this season; he's volunteered to serve as the honorary state chairman of the Civitan retardation prevention campaign. Hoelt, well-known for his 16 years in professional baseball — eight of them with Tigers — will serve as the chief spokesman for the important campaign which was kicked-off at a state Civitan meeting held at the Bay Valley Inn this month. Hoelt now resides in Livonia.

Civitan, a 55-year-old international organization which boasts 55,000 members in 1,200 clubs — including nearly 30 in all parts of Michigan — has long been active in citizenship-building, youth work and aid to the mentally and physically handicapped. Northville Civitans, headed by President Robert Cervin, will take part in the program.

The campaign is part of a national effort being spearheaded by Civitan and the National Association for Retarded Citizens, with popular television entertainer Tony Orlando serving as the chairman.

What Spring Means . . .

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Forsythia and jonquils, sunny skies and a few snow flakes now and then remind us that spring is really upon us. One author refers to spring as a "new beginning". It really is a super time of year!

What fun it is to shed the winter coats. Just think ... it must be pretty close to packing away the mittens and winter caps once and for all.

Spring means Easter and advance visits by the Easter Bunny to the kids in both Northridge and Highgate subdivisions for their annual Easter hunt.

Miss Bunny hid her goodies for the little kids in and around the Victory homestead on Hopkins Drive Saturday afternoon.

The older kids headed to the Northridge access lot for their hunt and all the fun. Miss Bunny visited the little tykes in Highgate Saturday morning with an enormous amount of attention given to the furry visitor.

Spring means the annual Northridge Flower Sale which is being handled this year by Karlene Goede. Order blanks and information on the types of flowers offered for public sale this year are available from Karlene at 624-0295.

Spring means a new display in the Historical Society showcase at City Hall. This month's offering is entitled "Spring Fancies" with some delightful Easter garb of yesteryear.

There is a stunning bonnet of black silk flowers and netting, a lace trimmed parasol and all the other garb that a fashionable lady would wear. There are even a few men's articles to see.

The first display in the showcase, built especially for the Society was entitled "That's Entertainment". Many people took a few minutes to view the articles collected from Wixom residents.

Be sure to stop in City Hall and view a little part of the past

The Historical Society is looking ahead to May and are currently planning a yard sale at the Tiffin House. All proceeds will go into the restoration fund.

The Society has chosen Friday, May 21 and Saturday, May 22 for the sale. Hours each day will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All donations for the sale may be taken to City Hall preceding the sale. The Society does ask that any clothing donated should be clean and marked for size.

This advance notice is intended for all those up-to-date people who just may be involved in spring cleaning. There may be several items that you no longer need but someone else could use.

Any usable items from baby clothes to books, from bric-a-brac to tools will be most welcomed by the Society and aid in their restoration plans for the Tiffin House.

The Bicentennial Commission headed by Margaret Ladd is moving "full steam ahead" with a commission sponsored Arbor Day for April 30.

Letters to all subdivisions, groups and service organizations in the city were mailed a few weeks ago suggesting a tree be purchased and planted in key areas around the city. Margaret and cohort Liz Peck reported the response has been great with over half the organizations responding, so far.

the favorite choice for planting. That's the Wixom Senior Citizen's choice for their tree at City Hall. Boy Scout Troop 102 will plant their red maple at Fire Station No. 2 with the Junior Girl Scout Troop 505 planting theirs at the Tiffin House.

Northridge Subdivision's red maple will go to Fire Station No. 1 with the Finnish Camp designating the Tiffin House as their choice.

Two Girl Scout and two Boy Scout Troops plan on pooling their resources for the purchase of a pin oak, the designated Bicentennial tree, which will also find its home at the Tiffin House.

The Historical Society decided to add a little springtime color to the Tiffin House by choosing a flowering crab.

All the trees will be marked with wooden plaques placed nearby with the name of the organization placing the tree. The trees will then become a living reminder of Wixom's Bicentennial celebration.

Magic Show

Attracts 100

The magic show held at the Northville Library during National Library Week delighted a crowd of over 100 children and 30 adults.

Despite a contrary guinea pig, "The Great Wintini" amazed the audience with his clever feats of magic and kept his sense of humor.

At the completion of the Magic Show, the Friends of the Library awarded their handmade quilt to Earl Nelson of Chicago, Illinois. Nelson is the father of Carol Halverson, a member of the Friends organization.

Area children turned in 125 guesses as to the dollar amount of pennies in the see-through bank displayed at the library. Karl Kofler and Joe Rogers came the closest to the actual $9.57 and split the prize money. Each went home with $5 worth of Bicentennial quarters.

Since the program sponsored by the Friends was such a success, plans are in the making for similar events in the future.

Libraries Close

Both the Northville and Novi Public Libraries will be closed Friday, April 16 in observance of Good Friday.

MODERN DANCE—Flappers Debbie Morandy (left) and Nora Pugsley perform a modern dance during a performance by 35 seventh and eighth graders from Novi Middle School Monday night. The modern dance episodes took their theme from history with students performing to music ranging from "Yankee Doodle" to "Take Me Out to the Ballgame". The modern dance was organized by girls' phys ed coach Barbara Bail.

Area Homes in Demand

The current record-setting demand for existing homes should assure continued strong real estate market and minimal vacancies in the Northville-Nowi area through 1976.

This is the outlook reported by Theodore Zukosky, President of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of REALTORS (WWOCBR) to area officials in local ceremonies proclaiming April 18-24 as Private Property Week.

He said that homes in the area continue to rate high with prospective buyers and that local home values are expected to appreciate even higher.

Zukosky pointed out that since 1970 the average sale price of a home in the Northville area had climbed from approximately $34,453 to $50,884 at the end of 1975, and in Novi from $28,036 to $38,122, according to WWOCBR statistics.

"This indicates that, with continued growth in the area, land values will rise and owners will be able to realize a substantial return on their investment should they elect to sell in the future," he added.

"The current boom in home sales, which started last June, is being aided by growing levels of available mortgage money and softened interest rates

"We cannot say with certainty how long these conditions will continue but more and more families are realizing that costs will continue to rise and are taking advantage of present favorable conditions to move into the market," the Board President stated.

PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK—Members of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors have declared April 18-24 Private Property Week. And proclamations have been signed in the City of Northville, as shown above with Mayor A. M. Allen signing the proclamation, and by Supervisor Betty Lennox in Northville Township and Mayor Gilbert Henderson in the City of Novi. Flanking Mayor Allen in a ceremony duplicated in both Northville township and the City of Novi are: (standing l. to r.) Realtors Bruce Roy and Carl Johnson, and (seated at left) the president of the Wayne Oakland Board, Theodore Zukosky. At right is Dick Ruffner, Realtor of Northville's Century 21 Hartford.

Novi Council last week gave Novi City Manager Edward Kriewall permission to hire two building inspectors.

According to the administration, the two new building inspectors will be "cost justified" and will pay for themselves because of costs for inspections for the new shopping center and expected peripheral development.

Council OK's JC Programs

Northville Jaycees received double-barrel approval Monday from the city council for some of their upcoming activities.

Council approved plans of Jaycees' to conduct their annual Walk for Mankind on Saturday, May 22, and councilmen decided to once again sponsor one of the check-in stations along the walking route.

What's more, Mayor A.M. Allen and other council members may accept the Jaycee invitation to lead participants over the first mile of the route that still is to be decided.

In other action Monday, council approved the Jaycees' plans for the annual Fourth of July parade, its fireworks display and the other activities that have become part of the organization's regular holiday routine.

Council also voted to donate $500 again as the city's part in assisting Jaycees to put on the fireworks display that caps July Fourth activities.

Meanwhile, the Jaycee Auxiliary has announced the winner of the "name the theme for the parade" contest. A $17.76 check was presented to the seventh grade class at Our Lady of Victory School where the teacher had made development of the theme a class project.

The winning theme: "Famous Events in America's First 200 Years."

Will McDonald's Suffer From 'Fallen Arches'

The "golden arches" of McDonald's soon will be coming to Northville Township. The only question is how high will the arches rise at the Five Mile and Haggerty location.

The township planning commission last week unanimously approved the final site plan for the fast food restaurant, with the stipulation that the sanitary sewer meets with requirements of the township board of trustees.

McDonald's must agree to switch to the township system when sewers are provided.

Despite site plan approval, a hitch has developed for McDonald's, which is seeking approval of a sign that is not in compliance with the current zoning ordinance. Hang-up is the sign's height.

The height of the arches will be taken before the board of appeals, a McDonald's spokesman indicated.

Course Aids Mechanics' Certification

Schoolcraft College will offer a training program in preparation for automobile mechanic certification beginning in May.

An in-service training program, it is designed to prepare working mechanics for the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (NIASE) tests for certification as a General Automobile Mechanic.

NIASE is endorsed by virtually all associations concerned with automotive service.

Students spend a total of eight clock hours in class on as many different subjects including engine repair, automatic transmission, manual transmission and rear axle, front end, brakes, electrical systems, heating and air-conditioning and engine tune-up.

Two four-hour sections are being offered: the first will be held on May 8 and 15 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; section two will meet on May 12 and 19 from 6 to 10 p.m.

Uranium Found in Township

'Radioactive' Warning True

A woman told township police last week that she found a box in her home and was "a little concerned" since it was inscribed "radio active". The box was removed from the home and transported to police headquarters.

A tenant of the house contacted the Michigan Department of Health and advised of the recovery of the possibly radioactive object. An officer from the division of radiological health was dispatched to investigate.

His further examination with a geiger counter confirmed that the box did contain radioactive uranium. The grey, seven pound box was valued at $6,400. Township officials were assured there was no health hazard.

The state official further stated he felt the object belonged to a missile and was possibly stolen from its place of manufacture. The federal government has been contacted in the case.

While searching Monday for a suspected submerged vehicle in Lake Success, Michigan State Police divers found a second vehicle.

The search was originally established to find a 1974 Javelin valued at $2,500. It was found at the bottom of the lake after it was stolen earlier the same day in Detroit.

Along with water and body damage police found the radio had been removed from the dashboard.

At the same time, police recovered a 1972 Oldsmobile. The car had extensive body and water damage. That car had been reported stolen in July, 1975 from Farmington Hills.

A third stolen vehicle was recovered in front of a residence on Jamestown Circle. Police responded to an abandoned automobile call at 5 p.m., April 9.

A vehicle check showed the 1971 Lincoln was stolen from a Ufca woman in January.

A Livonia woman was injured and taken to Botsford Hospital for treatment following a two vehicle collision on Seven Mile near Gerald. The accident occurred at 8 a.m. April 7.

According to reports, the injured woman was westbound on Seven Mile driving in the right lane. She stated a vehicle passed her on the right causing her to swerve into the outer lane.

A truck eastbound on Seven Mile was making a left turn onto Gerald, striking the car. Both drivers said they did not see each other.

Northville Township Police investigated a case of malicious destruction of property in the 18400 block of Jamestown Circle. In the incident, which occurred between 4 p.m. April 10 and 11:15 a.m. April 11, all four tires on a vehicle were slashed.

Value of the tires was listed at $240.

More car and window smashing episodes were reported to township police during the week. A car windshield was smashed at approximately 11:30 p.m. April 3. The car was parked at a residence on Neptune Court. Value was placed at $122.

Using a hammer, vandals smashed a windshield of a car parked in the 18200 area of Jamestown Circle. The incident apparently occurred between 4 p.m. April 6 and 11:30 a.m. April 7. Value was placed at $150.

Township police were advised that someone threw a padlock through a doorwall, smashing it and causing $200 damage. The incident occurred in the 18100 area of Jamestown Circle at 9 p.m. April 6.

Four yellow and chrome full sized wheel covers were taken from a 1975 Cadillac parked at Northville Charlie's. Value of the wheel covers was placed at $160 in the incident April 5 between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Four wire wheel covers valued at $125 were taken from a car parked in the 16100 area of Old Bedford. The incident occurred between 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday.

A black and white TV set was reportedly taken from the Kings Mill Clubhouse on Jamestown Circle. The set was taken between 8:30 p.m. April 6 and 4 a.m. April 7.

Final sentencing for Frank Kotyuk, charged last year with armed robbery and felonious driving in which a young woman was seriously injured, was handed down April 1. Kotyuk was given concurrent sentences of one year's probation in each offense.

Northville Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun said he was "very disappointed with the sentence." Nisun pointed out that both crimes were serious and said he felt the injured woman suffered more punishment than Kotyuk himself.

Nisun further said "I think there should have been more in the line of punishment for Kotyuk. What he got was not severe enough to match the actual crimes."

A Northville State Hospital patient was reported missing and is still being sought by authorities. The patient walked away from the grounds April 5.

A female patient left the state hospital grounds sometime April 5 and was reported missing to the Michigan State Police. The patient was found by Detroit Police officers and returned to the facility.

A male patient who left the grounds of Northville State Hospital April 6 was returned to the facility by the Detroit Crisis Center at 1 a.m. April 8.

A walk-away from hospital grounds April 5 was located and returned later the same day by safety officers of the institution.

IN THE CITY

A purse snatching took place in the parking lot of the Chatham Supermarket Thursday at 2:45 p.m. The woman victim told Northville city police she was walking to her car when two young males approached her.

When they were next to her she said they grabbed her purse and fled behind Chatham's. The woman told police there was approximately $100 in cash in her purse at the time.

The theft occurred sometime between 6 p.m. Friday and noon Saturday.

Northville city police recently investigated a breaking and entering at a home in the 20000 area of Taft Road. According to the owner, it did not appear that anything had been taken.

Entry to the home was made through an upstairs window by breaking the glass. The front storm door window was also broken out with broken glass scattered about the living room.

IN NOVI

No cause has yet been determined in the death of 17-year-old David McFarland who was found dead last Thursday in his Waterview Apartment home on Walden Court in Novi.

According to detectives, the boy's mother found the youth dead when she returned to the apartment at 6:27 p.m. A subsequent autopsy by the Oakland County Medical Examiner yielded nothing unusual. The case is under investigation with further lab tests slated.

A suspect is in custody for the Monday breaking and entering of Bob-O-Link Golf Course on Grand River. Taken in the burglary, which was discovered at 7:14 a.m. Monday, was a set of power built golf clubs and a set of Tiddis clubs. Total value was $350.

A suspect who was later arrested for possession of marijuana at the scene is being investigated in relation to the case. A vial of hash was also found in the suspect's car.

A 1973 Ford van valued at $2,500 with two $300 lawn mowers, as well as other various items, was stolen April 10 from, where it was parked in the area of 4000 Fenmore Way.

A Honda motorcycle valued at $2,000 was stolen from a carport area in the 45000 area of Wilshire Court April 10.

IN WIXOM

A Wixom woman living at the Village Apartments was just a little surprised when she found all four tires and rims missing from her car. According to reports, the woman told Wixom Police the car was parked in plain sight in the parking lot at the apartment complex. It was last noticed intact by the woman at 8 p.m. April 3.

At 1:30 p.m. April 4, however, she found the tires had been removed. The car had been placed on concrete blocks and pieces of wood during the removal operation. An estimated $250 value was placed on the stolen tires.

Wixom Police investigated the theft of a citizens band radio from a locked van parked in the employee's parking area at the Ford Motor Company.

The theft took place between 5:15 p.m. and 11 p.m. April 6 while the owner was at work. Value of the radio was placed at $180.

Two incidents of larceny of mail were reported to Wixom Police during the week. Both incidents occurred April 4.

A woman living in the 1400 block of Morningdove told police she put two letters in the mailbox Sunday afternoon. At 10:30 Monday morning when she said she intended to add another letter, she found the others missing. One of the missing pieces of mail contained a check.

The second case reported to police occurred at the Maple North Complex. The woman reporting that incident told police she had put two pieces of mail in the mailbox Sunday afternoon. Both envelopes contained checks.

At 8 a.m. Monday morning when she was going to add another piece of mail, she

Ford in Future

Purchase of a new Ford police patrol car was approved last week by the Northville City Council.

The contract was awarded to John Mach Ford on the basis of its low bid of $3,825.99 (including trade-in). Base bid was $5,025.99, minus $1,200 for trade-in of a 1975 Plymouth.

Smell Flowers

"Spring Flowers" will be the topic of two guided nature walks to be held at Kensington Metropark near Milford on Sunday, May 2 and Sunday May 30 at 8 a.m. Persons should meet at the Nature Center.

The walks will last about 2 hours and floral identification, folklore, and habitats will be discussed.
