Solar Energy Center?

"We're encouraged and so is the county," said Northville Township Supervisor Betty Lennox this week in explaining that the proposal for establishment of the United States solar energy research laboratory on the vacant Wayne County Child Development Center is moving ahead. "The federal government has given Michigan some money to help prepare the proposal — we're the only state that I am aware of that has received such funds." The proposal must be submitted by Washington by June 15, but county and state officials expect it to be submitted by the end of May. Whichever location—and numerous states are bidding for the multi-million dollar project—is finally picked, construction is expected to get underway by the first of next year. The Northville location being proposed is located on the west side of Sheldon (running left to right in the picture). The township hall is among the complex of buildings at right center. Directly opposite is the recreation area the township has been given permission to use for the next year. Beyond it, in the woods, is the Boy Scout cabin that also may be used for township recreational purposes. It is the area beyond the woods, stretching almost to Beck Road on the west and to Six Mile on the south, where the solar center would be located. Purpose of the center, to be the only one of its kind in the United States, is to develop a dependable, inexpensive energy utilizing the rays of the sun for use by the government, industry and homes.

Treasure Hunt

Train 'Grave' Probed

They swarmed along the banks of the wrecked train, looking for flowers.

But the covey of men, women and children were hunting for "treasure," not pollen, and the buzzing was that of their metal detectors.

For the second straight Sunday, members of the Michigan Treasure Hunters Club had converged on the southwest corner of Northville Township in search of pieces of history from one of the nation's worst railroad disasters.

They found relatively little of the wreckage from the 1907 train crash, but most agreed "it was fun."

Using pictures and stories taken from the record as clues, members combed the edges of the track, stopping and then digging just under the surface whenever their detectors indicated something metallic hidden under the ground.

Bill Gladden of Novi had arranged the hunt, which was sanctioned by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad and the Detroit House of Correction on whose property the accident had occurred those many years ago.

A representative of C&O was present. Members parked their cars on DeHoCo's farm property at the northwest corner of Five Mile and Napier roads.

Thirty-three persons had been killed and scores injured when a Pere Marquette passenger train, consisting of 10 coaches and a baggage car slammed head-on into a westbound freight train on that warm July 20 morning of 1907.

The tracks cut through an embankment on the old Vansickle farm, now operated by

Council Decision Near

CM Concept Considered

Further exploration of the construction management concept for development of the senior citizens complex will take place at a special meeting of the Northville City Council on Monday night.

Council may decide at that time to hire one of the firms from which it is receiving proposals.

Two proposals have been submitted to date — one by the architect of the complex, called Allen Terrace, and the other by Construction Management, Inc. of Southfield. The architect is Donald DiComo of Northville Township.

Other proposals are expected. It is essential, City Manager Steven Walters reminded councilmen, that an early decision be made since with each passing day the work now being performed by the architect involves some responsibilities that a construction manager normally assumes.

According to the manager, proposals to date are within $12,000 of each other, even though the firms' cost estimates were arrived at through different formulas.

Officials are keeping cost proposals confidential pending receipt of any others that may be made.

With construction management, it has been explained, the role of a general contractor is assumed by the city itself. The on-site construction manager, in a sense, becomes a city employee whose job is to assemble a team of subcontractors, based on competitive bidding, offering the city the best combination of price and quality.

Construction control in the area of timing for receipt of building materials, construction and installation, is a basic part of the construction manager's role, officials have been told.

Also to be discussed Monday, possibly with a decision being made, is the matter of establishment of a trust fund to subsidize senior citizens who have documented

NEGOTIATIONS for leasing of classrooms in the vacated Main Street Elementary School to the Calvary Baptist Church and the Montessori Center of Michigan for one year have been authorized by the school board. Meanwhile, officials are considering a request by Schoolcraft College for a contract to lease all of the Middle School Annex building for the next school year.

NO-RIGHT TURNS at the intersection of Main and Center streets were ordered this week by the city council to safeguard pedestrian traffic. Councilman Stanley Johnston had noted earlier that cars, in order to see Main Street traffic before turning, had to move out beyond the edge of the corner buildings thus blocking pedestrian right-of-way.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS are now available at the Northville Township Hall for the Tuesday, May 18 Presidential Primary Election.

YOUR BLOOD is needed to make Northville's annual community blood bank a success, says organizer Mrs. Elden Biery, adding that walk-ins are welcome at First Presbyterian Church of Northville between 2 and 8 p.m. this Friday. Held under auspices of the American Red Cross, the blood bank provides for neighbors in the Northville community, but because this is a growing area, donations are not keeping pace with the population, Mrs. Biery points out.

City Offers $1,000 Reward

Eyes Stiffer Curfew To Curb Vandalism

Vandalism in the city is picking the pockets of taxpayers, Northville councilmen warned this week in launching what could be a three-pronged attack on the mounting problem.

Under consideration by council are three admittedly drastic steps:

- Revising city ordinance to put more teeth in the section dealing with malicious damage of property.

- Establishment of a $1,000 reward system payable for arrest and conviction of anyone found guilty of vandalism — whether it be for damage to a traffic sign or burning of a vacant building.

- Lowering the curfew hour from midnight to 11 p.m., and rewriting the law to cover any juvenile through the age of 17.

The ordinance revision was set for public hearing on Monday, May 25; the $1,000 reward resolution was adopted this week; and the proposed curfew change was tabled pending meeting of the council with members of the Northville High School student council.

All three proposals were introduced Monday by Councilman Paul Vernon and strongly endorsed by other members who are "fed up" with the spiraling problem.

Mayor A. M. Allen was furious Monday after learning that after less than a week of the erection of the "duck crossing sign" in front of the Ford Motor plant the sign had been destroyed.

"We've got to do something," the mayor said prior to Monday's meeting. "It's gotten completely out of hand. There's nothing safe in the city as long as these hoodlums are roaming the streets," he added, pointing out that vandalism in the past year has cost the city just under one mill of tax dollars. A mill of city taxes amounts to $46,000.

Officials pointed out that in recent weeks newly planted trees have been broken down, numerous traffic signs damaged or destroyed, two drinking fountains destroyed or stolen, a city-owned building destroyed by fire, other private and public buildings marred by graffiti, automobiles damaged and automobile parts stolen, street lights damaged, fencing damaged, the new "Welcome to Northville" sign mutilated at Center and Eight Mile roads, etc., etc.

In approving the ordinance change for public hearing, the council directed City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to research its legality.

Basic ingredient of the proposed ordinance is that it establishes an escalating financial penalty:

"Irrespective of the provisions provided in this act for violating its penalties," it reads, "any person convicted of an act of malicious damage or vandalism shall reimburse the city for up to three times the amount of the damage as determined by the court but in no case shall it be less than an amount equal to the cost for repairing or replacing the damaged public property."

"In every case of conviction for the offenses, the court before whom such conviction is obtained, shall enter judgment in favor of the city against the defendant for liquidating damages in the sum as provided (above). The city shall, with assistance of the prosecuting attorney, collect the award by execution or otherwise."

"If two or more defendants are convicted of the malicious damage or vandalism, the judgment for damages shall be entered against them jointly. If the defendant is a minor, the judgment shall be entered against his or her parents or guardians."

"Upon collection, the sums shall be credited to the appropriate fund or funds of the city and shall be used for repairs and improvements to public property."

While agreeing with the intent of the ordinance proposal and supporting council concerns, the city attorney cautioned council

.9 Mill Hike Set In New City Budget

A revised proposed budget calling for a tax increase of just under one mill has been approved for submission to public hearing on Monday, May 24.

The proposal would increase the City of Northville's tax rate from 9.9 mills to 10.8 mills.

It pegs the outlay for general expenditures at $1,415,640 — up $88,186 over projected expenditures of $1,327,454 for the current fiscal year that ends June 30.

Prior to budget trimming sessions, the originally proposed budget would have increased the tax rate by 1.8 mills.

As now proposed, the budget calls for use of current year revenues of $1,396,640 plus $19,000 of the prior year's surplus.

It entails categorical expenditures of:

- $234,750 for general government purposes.

- $557,890 for public safety (police and fire).

- $319,700 for public works.

- $80,400 for library and recreation.

- $222,900 for insurance, fringe benefits and supplies.

In its last budget session last week, the council decided to reduce the tax levy by $42,000, noted an increase of $14,800 in additional federal revenue sharing, included CETA extension monies of $8,700 in its calculations, and chopped $100 from miscellaneous revenues for a net reduction of $18,600 in anticipated revenues.

During its budget discussions last week, the city manager was asked to leave the room and during his absence, the council decided to boost his salary by roughly $5,000 — from $20,000 to $25,000, which includes fringes.

The budget suggests a salary of $14,200 for the city clerk, up from $11,856; $21,700 for the superintendent of public instruction, up from $18,907; and $21,000 for the assistant superintendent of public instruction, up from $16,598.

Salaries of police administrators have been left untouched since the sergeants and lieutenants requested and were granted bargaining rights.

Meanwhile, the first proposal of the Northville Police Officers Association was presented to council Monday. Negotiated settlement of the police contract could force a change later in the proposed city budget.

Among initial demands of policemen are an across the board salary increase of $3,000 for each officer; two additional holidays; two additional vacation days with one additional day per year per year of service up to 15 years of service; increase of cleaning allowance to $75 every six months; increase of dental

Hearing Set For Zoning

Recommended proposal to change the zoning of the Walnut property immediately west of Center Street from a professional office designation to a residential classification will go to a Northville Council public hearing on May 24.

Council set the hearing following receipt of the recommendation from the planning commission.

The proposal involves the property of Harry Larkin, 113 Walnut Street, and the lot directly behind his property.

Originally zoned residential, the property was changed to professional office during the time the Hammond home at the southwest corner was changed to PO.

Planners, by a 4 to 3 vote, recommended that the property be changed back to residential to prevent encroachment on an otherwise residential street. The planning commission took its action on April 6.

AAUW Sets Planning Meeting

Planning for the 1976-77 season will highlight the Tuesday, May 11, meeting of the Northville branch of the American Association of University Women.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville High School cafeteria.

Possibilities for future meeting topics and the future goals and objectives of the AAUW chapter will also be explored, Nanci Olgren, program chairman, explained.

Members will be selecting priorities for the group's long-range planning and branch action projects for 1976-77.

Leading discussion groups will be Sharon Clason, Meredith Girard, Betty Rathbone, Pat Custer, Jill Armstrong, Stacey Morgano and Jane Ann Nicholls.

Hostess for the meeting will be Karen Strong with Jane Rodgers and Sally Burke assisting.

Women interested in joining the Northville branch of AAUW or in learning more about the organization are asked to contact Judy Bloomquist at 349-7681.

AAUW is a nationwide association of women university and college graduates who are thinking and acting on issues and needs facing the nation and the world.

Mothers Every Day

First-time mothers Susan Rosinski, left, with year-old Amy and Valerie Reinwand with six-month-old Matthew pose at the Reinwands' Wixom home with the reasons they are celebrating Mother's Day Sunday.

The babies are double cousins as Mrs. Rosinski is married to Mrs. Reinwand's brother. They also are part of a five-generation family.

Hoosier Degree

David McFadden of Northville has received a bachelor of science degree in biological sciences at Indiana University in Bloomington.

He was among a host of Michigan residents awarded degrees at I-U this month.

'Yankee Doodle' Comes to Novi-Town

"Yankee Doodle," a rousing musical salute to the makers and shakers of the U.S.A., will be presented under sponsorship of the Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 22, in the Novi High School commons.

A children's play by the Southfield Repertory Theatre, the revue will act, sing, dance and mime its way through 148 years of American history to recapture many famous and forgotten events and figures. The creation of the ice cream cone, the discovery of chewing gum, and mass-produced valentines are as American as Thomas Edison's inventions, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, Paul Revere and Charles Lindbergh, point out the sponsors.

Tickets are on sale now through May 20 at $1.50 at Meadowbrook Pharmacy, Security Bank of Novi, and The Northville Record. French Waller, 349-2393, may be contacted also.

Parents Announce Sons' Births

Jeremiah Leslie Beebe, born April 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beebe of Whitmore Lake, is the first child of the couple and also is a fifth generation baby.

His mother is the former Donna Brown, a 1970 Northville High School graduate and registered nurse. His father, a 1967 NHS graduate, presently is attending Eastern Michigan University working on his master's degree in business education.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Brown of Northville while paternal ones are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beebe of Novi.

Mrs. Lois Kingsley of South Lyon is maternal great-grandmother. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Beebe of Lehigh Acres, Florida.

Maternal great-great-grandmother is Mrs. Pearl Doty of Novi.

The baby was born in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor with a birth weight of eight pounds, eleven ounces.

In Our Town 'Wine for Nancy' Tops Branch Events

By JEANDAY

ANY CELEBRATION in this Bicentennial year takes on an added glow. But the 40th birthday observance of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association would be special any year.

Plans have been in the making to celebrate the milestone at the annual meeting at 12:30 p.m. next Monday at the home of Betty Cooper in Shadbrook, Joe Krause, president, announces.

Hostess chairman is Cheryl Swayne, assisted by Eunice Switzer, Mary Ellen Daly and Estelle Millington. Barbara Yoder, scholarship chairman, will discuss this program and tell how the branch selects and aids outstanding recipients.

As part of the anniversary celebration a group picture of all branch members will be taken at the meeting which members will be able to obtain through treasurer Bernice List. Details were finalized at a board meeting Monday hosted by Ardis McLeod.

Afterward, board members were invited to a "Wine for Nancy" honoring active member Nancy vanBuren who this year served as branch membership chairman. It was given by President Krause at her home on Fonner Road.

The vanBurens, who are moving east next month, were honored at a potluck farewell earlier given by Roger and Anne Pyett for subdivision friends. James vanBuren was appointed manager of the General Motors Fisher Body Division plant at Syracuse, New York, April 1.

A HOUSE-COOLING party marked the departure of Kathy and Paul Hughes recently. They flew to England Saturday where he has been transferred to the Ford automotive plant at Warley, near London.

The cocktail-dinner party was held at the new gallery Mrs. Hughes had renovated on Main Street by the Bedsprad Place. It was given the last Sunday in April by Mrs. Hughes, who wanted to see friends before leaving. She was assisted by Birmingham friends, Geraldine Lattimer and Marge Johnston, whom she had met earlier overseas.

They said goodbye to about 50 friends before leaving for Tennessee to see their sons. They are keeping their Northville home but have an apartment in Chigwell, Essex, now.

MOTHERS' CLUB Monday elected Phia Johnson president. Other new officers for the coming year are Jean Anne Weston, vice president; Sue Wright, treasurer; Luanne McCurdy, recording secretary; and Beverly Williams, corresponding secretary.

They will be installed at the club's annual picnic meeting May 17 at the Beck Road home of Claire Lincoln. Hostesses at Monday's meeting were CeCe Williams, Carolyn Nieuwkoop (the daughter of Virginia Pauli and a second generation club member) and Ardis McLeod.

Bonnie Rinehart, MC president, announces that the club voted to renew for a second year its commitment to help with the renovation of the Wash-Oak schoolhouse which has been moved to its permanent foundation in the Mill Race Historical Village. A new roof is being constructed this week.

The club began with a $1,000 donation to help move the schoolhouse from Currie Road to the Mill Race and later gave an added $3,569 for initial renovation. This, the Northville Historical Society points out, helped cover such items as moving permits costing $150.

Next year the society hopes the little schoolhouse will be plastered and painted and be furnished with a pot-belly stove, old desks and a slateboard.

A SING-ALONG starring Father Joseph Dustin at 8:30 p.m. this Friday in the social hall of Our Lady of Victory church is being sponsored by Northville Mothers' Club. It is one of the events, co-chairmen Connie Conder and Pat Brown point out, that finance such projects as the Mill Race renovation and, in previous years, aid to Northville schools.

Tickets at $7.50 a couple still are available from the chairmen and include beer, peanuts and set-ups. They may be called at 349-6546 or 349-4072.

"It's an infectious sort of fun and will include dancing," promises Mrs. Conder. The event will be an informal reunion for a group of high school friends from St. Mary's of Redford. Arranged by the Tom Paynes and the Ronnie Abrahams, all Morgan Circle residents, the reunion is bringing guests to the sing-along from Bloomfield Hills, Livonia, Pontiac and Orchard Lake.

Anyone without plans for Friday night is urged to join the sing-along by Mrs. Conder.

Friday night, however, is one of those triple-header nights in the community. In addition to the sing-along, there's the tribute dinner-dance for retiring assistant superintendent of schools, Florence Panattoni, being held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

"GODSPELL" opening night also is Friday. Sponsored by the Friends of Northville Drama and the Northville Recreation Department, it will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Northville Square community room. Saturday's performance will move downstairs to be given at 9 p.m. in the lower level of the square.

The Northville High School cast is directed by Kurt Kinde, who has volunteered his time. Tickets are $2.50 for students and $3 for adults and may be reserved by calling Mrs. Dorothy Sitarski at 349-1279. If any tickets remain, they will be available at the door, Jay Ward, Friends chairman, announces.

"NORTHVILLE—The First 100 Years," covering the years 1827 to 1927, now has been completed by Jack Hoffman, editor of The Northville Record and assistant to the publisher, for whom the writing was a labor of love. It covers incidents and families that shaped the community's history.

Publication of the book is a Quester Community Service project. The book still may be ordered at a pre-publication price of $9 which should be sent to Northville Post Office box 1776.

TOWN HALL Board of Awards has donated profits totaling an impressive $25,420 in the years from 1961 to 1973, Mrs. H. F. Wagenschutz, chairman, tallied. Last year a subsidized token sum was given, but the board is excited that this year there is about $3,000 to distribute to area charities applying by June 1. A like amount will go to the sponsoring Our Lady of Victory Church.

Charities interested in applying should contact Mrs. Wagenschutz at 349-2976. Because town hall also is supported by women in adjoining communities, their organizations also may apply.

AN OLD-FASHIONED Harvest Festival is being revived at First Presbyterian Church in Northville. General chairman Pearl Stephens announces that an October 7 date has been reserved for the Bicentennial special event. She recalls that the festival was an annual project before World War II.

Gail Gross is her co-chairman with Amy Grieger representing the woman's association. It is to be an all-church project with booths filled with garden produce, baked and canned goods, candy, crafts, sewing, plants and games.

It's Mother's Day— Earlier Than Expected

By WAYNE LODER

Janine Curtis was planning on spending a nice quiet Mother's Day weekend at the hospital having her third child.

Instead, a mad rush through Novi ended with Mrs. Curtis giving birth to twins in the front seat of the family car as a combined troop of Novi police, ambulance attendants, Community Service Officers and state police lent a helping hand.

According to Mrs. Curtis, the whole incident started at her Milford home Friday morning "when I felt the pressure of the baby's head". After Mrs. Curtis called her husband who came home from Detroit, the two began their trip to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

The trip went without incident until the couple reached the rest area on I-96 in Novi.

"I told my husband the baby was coming and he'd have to stop," recalls Mrs. Curtis. Instead, her husband speeded up, exiting at Novi Road on his way to the Novi Police Department.

The mother remembers that the baby arrived before the car left the freeway, although police said the baby actually was born later.

Curtis pulled his car into the parking lot across the street near the Novi Police Department, little realizing that by so doing he was in the parking lot of Novi Ambulance Service.

"He pulled up across the street and ran over here screaming that his wife was going to have a baby," says Gerald Pratt, the Novi Police officer who responded to the call.

There were no officers in the police station and Pratt was responding to a call in the north end of the city when he got the "woman in labor" call.

Within four minutes he had arrived at the ambulance service. Behind Pratt came Michigan State Police Trooper Dorothy Brown who happened to see Pratt's flashing lights and decided to back him up on the call.

By the time Pratt arrived, "Bill Rogers of Novi Ambulance was holding the first baby."

Mrs. Curtis recalls that while she and her husband were originally expecting two babies, tests performed the previous week showed there would

Double Trouble

They didn't quite arrive as expected over the Mother's Day weekend, but twins Jeremy and William Curtis provided plenty of excitement last Friday as they were born in the front seat of an automobile across from the Novi Police Department. Mother Janine Curtis of Milford was being driven to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia when the babies decided they just weren't going to wait.

In a surprise move, the Novi Library Board Monday requested that the Novi Council allow it to levy an additional half mill to pay remaining bills plus opening expenses for the new municipal library.

By charter, the library board is empowered to levy up to one mill, but because a previous council set the level at 1/2 mill by ordinance, the board had to come back for an ordinance amendment to allow it to levy the remaining half mill.

The council reluctantly approved an amendment to the ordinance allowing the library board to levy up to 1/2 mill additional but specified that the actual amount would be decided late in May after Finance Director Fred Todd has been able to go over the library's books to determine financial need.

While the additional millage would be levied beginning with the July taxes, the city could be put into a bind because $122,000 would have to be given to the library board before the July taxes to pay bills.

The additional millage would bring in an additional $140,000 over the two years which Library Board Chairman Helen McAskin said would be the maximum length the millage would have to be levied. However, the library board is also expecting $72,000 from a construction grant. The board needs to pay close to $200,000 to finish up the costs and then open to the public.

So far the library board has managed to meet obligations of $698,000 of the $850,000 project.

Mrs. McAskin blamed the need for additional millage on a combination of the library board constructing both phases of the library plan initially because of low construction costs plus inability to find a renter for the unfurnished second phase. The extra construction raised initial cost up from $719,000 to $850,000.

The board had hoped to find a renter willing to lease the building with enough up front monies to allow the board not only to finish off the second phase, but also to pay most of the remaining bills. Because by law the structure must be rented or leased to a non-profit type organization, the board has been unable to find an organization in the position to lease the building.

The Novi School Board turned down such a request while the city of Novi has not seriously considered the possibility.

Council members appeared upset at the sudden appearance of the library board requesting the millage okay.

"I was under the impression the library with the 1/2 mill would see itself through without the additional half mill," said Councilman James Shay. "This is the first time it's been drawn to my attention we may be put into this position and I'm disturbed about it."

City Manager Edward Kriewall said that the nearly autonomous library board should from here on out submit its budget to the city council for review. No library board budget was included in 1976-77 budget as proposed by the city manager Monday night.

While both Mrs. McAskin and library building chairman Dieron Tafralian said the library board expected to levy the extra millage only for two years, Mayor Gilbert Henderson did not seem convinced. "If we approve it, you have to know it's probably open-ended. It will probably be needed for over two years," he said.

But without the city allowing the library board to levy the additional millage, "I'm afraid the city will have to bear our debts," explained Mrs. McAskin.

As Councilman Philip Goodman explained, "We'll still have to dip into our pockets even though we'll get paid back. This places a burden on the administration that could cause us to end up in a deficit position."

Todd told the council that he did not see the loan coming out of the general fund but suggested possibly using federal revenue sharing monies.

Council directed that Todd examine the library finances and to come back to the council next week with a review of the financial situation and the millage amount necessary to be levied.

The library tax levy amount is expected to be set May 24 when all other tax levies are also set.

Council member Martha Hoyer was the only member to vote against the ordinance amendment raising the library millage limit. She did not explain her vote. Council member Romaine Roethel was absent from the meeting.

Council also directed that the city attorney investigate what must be done to bring the library budget under review and control of the council.

Warrant Sought In Hit-Run Fatal

A warrant could be issued before the end of the week charging a 40-year-old Milford man in the hit-run death of a Farmington man April 26 in Novi.

The Oakland County prosecutor's office is currently interviewing witnesses and is expected to issue a two-count warrant against the Milford man for manslaughter and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

The warrant was sought after police recovered from the man's garage what they say was the vehicle involved in the death of 25-year-old Ronald Kelly who was struck and killed as he rode his bicycle along the shoulder of Grand River near Taft.

Recovery of the automobile Tuesday, April 27, came after a concerted effort by the news media for tips led Novi Police to a Lake Sherwood, home in northwestern Oakland County where the car was discovered in a garage.

The owner of the car was contacted by a neighbor at the request of police, and, he showed up at 9 p.m. Tuesday evening at the Novi Police Department but refused to make any statements.

The man did, however, give a verbal consent to search the garage of his home where the car was recovered and impounded for investigation by the Michigan State Police crime lab.

Austerity Budget Is Presented

A continued austerity budget has been revealed by Novi City Manager Edward Kriewall as, on Monday, he proposed a 1976-77 fiscal year budget totaling $2,332,000.

The recommended budget represents an increase by approximately $380,000 over the 1975-76 fiscal year budget of $1,947,000, although according to a budget message by the city manager, estimated actual expenditures for the current fiscal year will total $1,917,000.

for a net gain of approximately $30,000.

The $380,000 revenue increase is expected to include:

- an additional $102,700 from licenses and fees because of building fee increases;
- an additional $92,800 from state shared revenues because of the single business tax;
- $68,200 municipal service charge because of changes in accounting and proposed hiring of city engineer;

- $40,000 from other places including increased interest earnings;

- $436,500 from collection of a proposed collection fee of one percent, plus growth;

- $26,400, from public employment program and greater use of federal revenue sharing funds;
- $11,000 from prior year's surplus.

Meanwhile, the increase in revenues is expected to be offset by the spending of $136,000 additional in the building department, $102,000 in the DPW for equipment purchases and because of a change in accounting, plus $59,800 additional dollars going to the police department.

In addition, the new position of city engineer will cost $30,800. Other expenditures will add $50,000 expenditures.

According to the manager's statement, "It is apparent that the budget relies heavily on increased building revenues and continuation of federal funds for public employment programs. If either area fails to provide adequate revenues, cutbacks will be required."

While, according to Kriewall, the budget is a continued austerity budget, there are three new general fund positions created. This includes two clerk-typists and a city engineer. The park budget also provides for a park maintenance man while the water budget allows for the hiring of a park maintenance man.

The additional clerical positions may be funded under grant programs while "you will also note that nearly all major equipment purchases and several other items will be paid by federal revenue sharing funds."

The city manager noted that while the police department had asked that three new grant requests be included as a part of this budget, "we choose to deal with each request separately

Wixom Budget Sessions Begin; Other Topics to be Included

Combined budget hearings and discussion sessions have been planned by the Wixom City Council for the next two week period. The action to combine the meetings was approved at the council table Tuesday night.

The proposed 1976-77 budget will be studied along with discussions on topics considered too lengthy and involved for a regular council meeting.

The availability of some outside source people and their schedules were also considered in the decision to combine the meetings.

No action on any topic will be taken by the council during the study sessions.

The study sessions will include such topics as solid waste disposal, open space, Oakland County Road Commission plans, labor relations and a proposal by the Korex Company.

The dates chosen for the meetings are Wednesday, May 5 and Thursday, May 6. Meetings next week are planned for Wednesday, May 12 and Thursday, May 13. All sessions will be held in council chambers beginning at 8 p.m.

It is expected that the discussion periods will be given 1 1/2 hours of time with the budget taking a one hour period at each meeting.

Earn U-M Master Nursing Degrees

By JEAN DAY

For Jeanne White and Judy Coates of Northville last Saturday was the end of a "long haul".

After two years of graduate study both received impressive master of science degrees in nursing at commencement exercises at University of Michigan.

Mrs. White's degree was in medical-surgical nursing while Mrs. Coates' was in psychiatric nursing.

In the process of studying on federal grants to train nursing leaders the two women, cooperated on a research paper for which they surveyed 35 of the state's 45 schools of nursing to check differences in programs.

Both entered the federal program independently and found themselves in class together the first day. It followed naturally that they become research partners.

Judy Coates, a baccalaureate nursing graduate of Michigan State University, was teaching at Mercy College when she applied for the federal grant through the National Institute of Mental Health.

Jeanne White's grant came through the National Institute for Health. Both provided tuition and a monthly stipend.

Mrs. White already was a diploma graduate of Henry Ford Hospital who afterward went to Madonna College for her bachelor's degree, and then taught there.

With their own professional backgrounds pointing up the confusion that exists in nursing qualifications, the women were interested in finding out more about the differences in the abilities of students from various schools in planning nursing care.

Mrs. White points out that there are associate degree nurses from two-year programs, diploma nurses from three-year programs and bachelor degree nurses from four-year schools.

She adds that an attempt to standardize nursing training is being started in New York where a baccalaureate degree will be required by 1980.

From the 35 schools responding to their survey, the women visited six and tested more than 200 nursing students. Surprisingly, they found little or no difference in the ability of differently trained nurses to plan nursing care.

They have presented their findings in a symposium on nursing at the Rackham building in Ann Arbor attended by nursing representatives from throughout the state. They also have offered their information to the Michigan League of Nursing.

While working on their thesis the women have been busy caring for their families and have also tutored nurses failing their state boards.

Judy Coates adjusts Jeanne White's cap as both receive MS degrees in nursing

Mrs. Coates, in addition, has been teaching quarter-time at University of Michigan and at Schoolcraft. She hopes to teach psychiatric nursing in the fall, probably at Madonna College.

She is the mother of teenagers Cathy and Caren, who both are home with her at 19061 Sheldon Road. Because she had participated in her commencement earlier at MSU, she chose to forego the exercises Saturday at U-M in order to hold a "barn sale" at her home.

For Jeanne White, her husband, George, and children, David and Kathy, of 985 North Center Street, however, Saturday's commencement was a red letter day. "Please mention my husband," requests Mrs. White, lauding his support of her efforts and noting that "he's even learned to cook for us."

Commencement was a sentimental occasion for her, she explains, as her father, Clarence Sovey, who was planning to be a lawyer, attended the university during the depression years but had to drop out before graduating.

Her only regret, she says, is that he is not alive now to see her graduate — "but I'm really doing it for him." Her family celebrated with her afterward at Weber's in Ann Arbor.

She did specialized work developing programs for diabetics during her U-M stint and ideally would like to continue such nurse-patient preventive medicine but points out "the field isn't there yet."

She currently hopes to work in public health or to return to teaching.

Conferring, the nurses do have advice for women considering entering the profession:

Both say that the lack of degree standardization is confusing but they feel a woman should "go for the higher education as it pays off in career openings later."

It certainly has for these Northville women in white.

Tribute to Miss Pan Friday

Kenneth Krezel, a former student of Miss Florence Panattoni's, is flying in from New York to be master of ceremonies at the dinner dance in her honor Friday evening at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

He is one of many friends, associates, students and parents paying tribute to Northville's assistant superintendent of schools, is being planned by the Extended School Year advisory board of teachers and parents.

Luncheon Fetes Administrator

A luncheon to honor Miss Florence Panattoni, retiring Northville assistant superintendent of schools, is being planned by the Extended School Year advisory board of teachers and parents.

It will be held Friday, May 14, at the Round Table Club in the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Lowell Richcreek heads the arrangements committee.

by calling Irene Simion at 349-3400.

Krezel, who was involved in play production and debate taught by Miss Pan during his years at Northville High School, has remained in close touch with his former teacher.

After graduation from Northville High in 1956, he went on to Michigan State University, graduating in 1959. He now is a theatrical producer in New York and owner of the Ivoryton Playhouse in Ivoryton, Connecticut, known as New England's pioneer playhouse.

He said he considers the tribute "a must" and is one of many former students and friends coming from all over Michigan and from outstate.

Miss Panattoni took on play direction and debate when she came to Northville High School as a teacher 28 years ago. She became curriculum coordinator and now is retiring as the top woman administrator in the Northville school system.

Dinner planners still are accepting reservations for Friday. Cocktails are scheduled at 7 p.m. with dinner following at 8 p.m.

Babysitting Clinic Set

The Wixom Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring a babysitting clinic for all students in grades five through eight at the Wixom City Hall Annex on May 11 and May 12.

Past clinics have been very successful in giving young people embarking on babysitting "careers" useful and helpful information in child care. Parents of children left in the care of these students can also rest a little easier knowing their sitters have some background information in babysitting procedure.

Wixom Police and Fire officials will be on hand at the clinics to instruct the students in handling emergencies. The Police will demonstrate techniques in reporting suspicious happenings and what to do during these circumstances. The Fire Department will cover the "what to do's" in such emergency situations as fire, tornado, and electrical storms.

A nurse will be on hand to talk and demonstrate child care practices with an instructor from a nursery school speaking on entertainment for children.

Enrollment in the babysitting clinic is limited to 40. Reservations should be made through Kathy Nelson at 624-1092 or Judy VanZandt at 624-8410.

According to band boosters, the camp offers a unique program combining recreational activities such as boating, swimming and volleyball together with instructional sessions in instrumental music and ensemble playing.

Cost for the one-week session is $45 per student, and it includes food and lodging. Registration deadline is June 11. To register or to obtain additional information students or parents are asked to contact Gordon Seiler at 349-5155 or Mrs. Jan Rolston at 349-5750.

Parents interested in serving as chaperons are asked to contact Seiler.

Senior Citizens to Watch Tigers

First trip of the season to a Detroit Tiger baseball game for members of the Northville Senior Citizens Club is slated for this Saturday. A bus will leave Kerr House at noon for the stadium. Fifty-two members participated in a Northland Theater outing April 24. Other trips for May and June are being planned and will be announced.

Monthly potluck dinner meetings of the club have featured outstanding entertainment during the past months, officers report.

The Choralaires, a new, 28-member singing group, will present a musical program at the May 25 meeting which will begin at 6 p.m. in fellowship hall of Northville Presbyterian church.

Musical programs also highlighted previous meetings with the Plymouth Community Chorus appearing in April and the We-Way-Co Sweet Adelines in March. "1976" was presented by Northville students in February.

President Clarence Harsch reports that the programs and the potluck dinners both have been "highly enjoyable" and urges members especially to attend the May dinner meeting. He may be contacted for further information.

Band Honor Night Set

Plans are being completed for an honor night May 21 for the Northville High School bands and for summer marching band camp. Mrs. Betty Hoover, band parents president, announced this week.

Band students will be honored for their years of service at the honor night program and reception to which parents are invited. It will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, May 21, in the school auditorium.

Dates for the summer band camp are August 30 through September 5. The camp is being held again this year at YMCA Camp Mahn-Go-Tah. See located three miles north of Hale, Michigan.

Mrs. Hoover pointed out that it is being conducted immediately before school resumes on September 8.

All band students, she added, who wish to be in marching band must attend band camp. Those who attend and later drop marching band will be required to refund to the band parents organization the portion of costs for band camp paid by it.

Student fee for band camp this year is $26. It is due by May 15 and should be mailed with a stamped return address envelope to Mrs. Karel Whitaker, 1068 Grace Court.

All band camp participants must have a physical examination for camp. Forms will be sent to those registering and must include insurance information, immunization record and permission of parents to send students for emergency treatment.

Dr. John Brown for the fourth year will be donating his services at a health clinic for students and counselors. It will be scheduled for the latter part of this month, Mrs. Hoover stated.

Parent counselors for band camp are needed with volunteers asked to contact Mrs. Marcia Frid, 349-1959, or Mrs. Hoover, 349-2190.

A final Sunday concert will be presented at the camp on September 5 with parents invited. Parents wishing to have dinner at the camp then are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Hoover or Mrs. Delores Boyd, 349-0326.

OLV Parents to Hear School Round-up Report

Last general meeting of the present school year for parents having children in the religious education program at Our Lady of Victory School will be held at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, May 12, in the social hall.

Joseph Leddy is to recap the year's progress to date with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bustamante, PTO-CCD (Confraternity of Christian Doctrine) presidents, providing feedback on classroom evaluations that took place during February. New offices for the 1976-77 year will be presented, and goals for the upcoming year outlined.

Father Gerard Hadad also will speak.

The PTO-CCD officers announce that all teachers will be present and available to answer questions. All parents of students in OLV school are urged to attend.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Red Maple's First

First tree to be donated in the Plant a Tree in Northville Bicentennial project sponsored by the Northville Beautification Commission is this red sunset maple from the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club of which Mrs. Virginia Plunkett, right, is president. Mrs. Paul Vernon of the beautification commission also applies a bit of "tender encouragement" to the new tree planted just south of the Northville well on Arbor Day. Organizations and individuals wishing to contribute toward the planting of a tree on public land in Northville may call Mrs. Vernon at 349-5741 or any member of the commission.

Sass Heads Committee

Clarice Sass, Northville Township clerk, has been appointed chairman of the legislative committee of the Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerks Association. She also was named tri-county liaison chairman for the association.

The appointments were made at the quarterly meeting of the association April 26 in Dearborn.

Officers for 1976-77 were elected at the meeting with Rose M. Legg, clerk of Brownstown Township, chosen as chairman. Her first duty was the appointment of the legislative committee.

Top Orators At State

Victories in the district and regional tournaments have qualified two Novi High School students for competition in the State Individual Events Speech Tournament to be held at the University of Michigan Saturday.

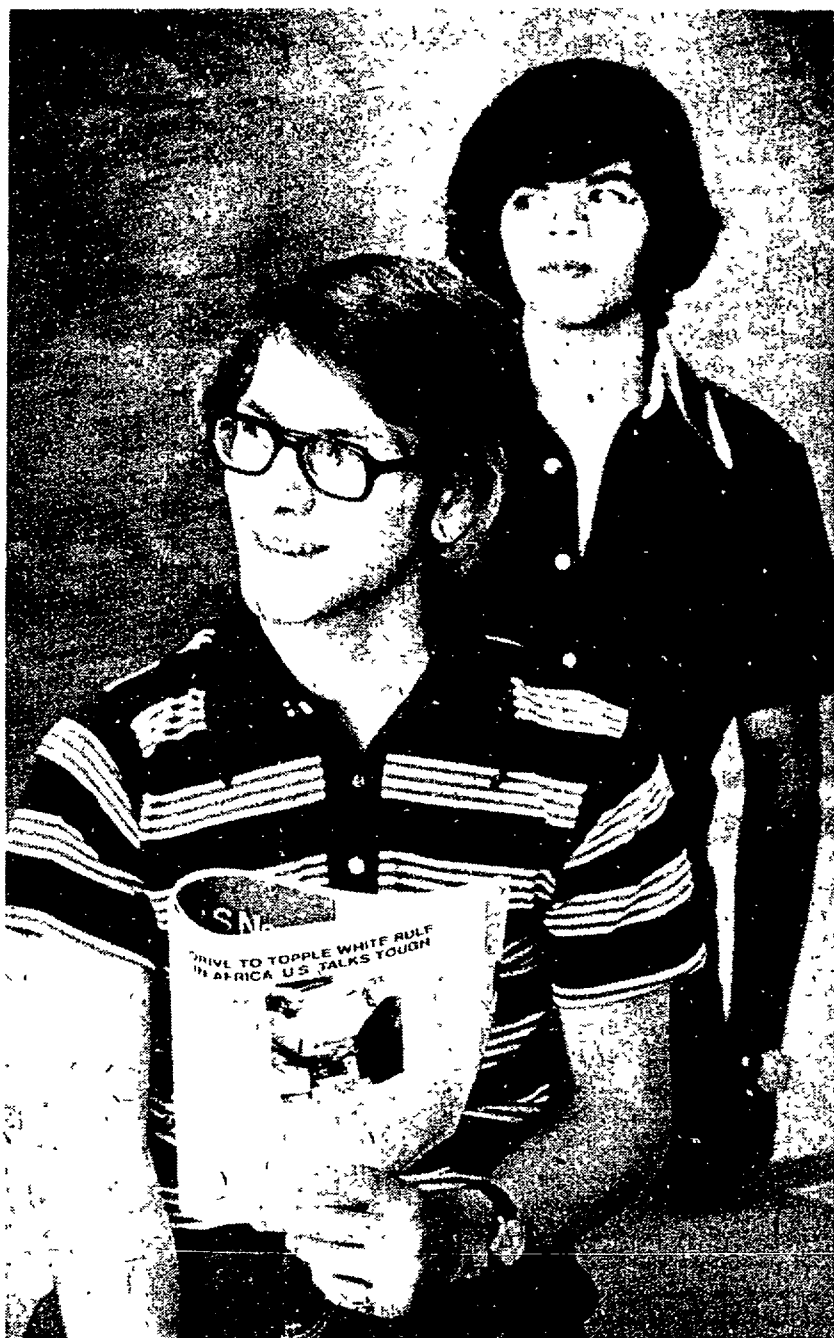

Senior David Seidel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seidel of 22801 Heatherbrae Way will compete in Extempore Speech. Suketu Sanghvi, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Sanghvi of Shadow Pine Way will enter the competition in original oratory.

Both are honor students. Seidel is a national merit scholar finalist while Sanghvi carries a 4.0 grade point average.

The competitor in the Extempore Speech event does not know what topic he will be required to speak on until 45 minutes before he must present it. He is then given 30 minutes to prepare a seven minute speech. Typical of the topics Seidel has spoken on in the district and regional elimination is: "What effect will the resolution of the Angolan conflict have on other African nations?"

Sanghvi's event, Original Oratory, calls for an original persuasive speech thoroughly prepared and delivered from memory. The subject of his oration will deal with the current phenomena of "pop psychology".

First round of competition begins at 9 a.m. Saturday and will continue for five rounds until winners are announced in each category at 5 p.m.

Register for Jaycette Pet Show

A children's pet show with proceeds to benefit the Wayne County Anti-Cruelty Association is being sponsored by the Northville Jaycettes Sunday, May 23, on the scout recreation building grounds. The show will open at noon with a demonstration by Terry Shoenback, owner of Riverview Dog Academy Pet Center, of obedience and guarding.

Advance registration may be made by mail using the coupon printed in this week's paper at a fee of 50 cents per category for each pet. Deadline for mail registration is May 17 with registration from noon to 1 p.m. the day of the show following with a charge of 75 cents.

Registration is open to children in the sixth grade or younger who are Northville residents with entries limited to three categories. Mail entries should be sent to Mrs. Peggy Thies, 9064 Marlowe, Plymouth, 48170.

Pet owners must have and show proof of vaccination for rabies and distemper for their dog or cat the day of the show. All dogs must be on a leash at all times. Cats and other pets must be confined to a box or cage.

Categories for which ribbons and Bicentennial coins will be awarded include best dressed pet, most unusual pet, tallest dog (shoulder to foot), biggest cat (weight), smallest dog (weight, a year old or older), longest dog (nose to tail), longest tail of a cat, most spots (dog), longest ears (dog), and obedience ("come, sit and stay").

The ribbons and prizes for winners, the Jaycettes announce, have been donated by local veterinarians and by Ely's and Sons of Northville. Judges will be Richard Slating, D.V.M., Tim Wilcox, D.V.M., Donald Vanlengen, D.V.M., Moraine Elementary principal, and Mrs. Thelma Leonard, president of the anti-cruelty association.

All proceeds will be given, the Jaycettes announce, to the new clinic of the association to be located at 13569 Joseph Campau in Detroit. An open house is planned at the clinic June 13 when the public is welcome to inspect the new facility.

Children bringing pets to the show are asked to arrive early to check in their pets and be assigned numbers for the classes they are entering.

Classes will begin at 2 p.m. A donation of 50 cents will be asked for those attending who are over 12 years old. Children 12 and under will be free.

Mark Masser, a professional photographer of Southfield who specializes in family and special events, pictures, will be present, the Jaycettes report, to take color pictures of children and their pets.

Call Jaycette members at 349-5706 or 349-7767 for additional information.

Where to Put Deuce?

Twos Becoming Problem

Now that we have it, what do we do with it?

That's the question some puzzled storekeepers are asking themselves when their customers hand them a crisp new two-dollar bill.

The deuce is still somewhat of a novelty, and most area merchants say they have seen relatively few of them. But once people begin treating the two less like souvenirs and more like spending money, cash register drawers will require some rearrangement.

Large registers, like those found in the major supermarkets have five trays — plenty of room for ones, twos, fives, tens and twenties. Gerald Jeske, manager of the Northville A&P, said his cashiers will just have to find a new place to keep the coupons that now rest in that fifth slot.

The extra bill will create somewhat more of a problem for the small stores. Barry Hyman, manager of the Book Mark Shop in Northville Square, has a five-tray cash register drawer, but he used the extra tray for rolls of change. He is slipping the two-dollar bills under the register's removable drawer, where he keeps the checks his customers write.

At the Cheese and Wine Shop, also in Northville Square, clerk Diane Lindholm makes room for the twos by banishing the twenties to the space under the removable drawer.

Karen Wigginton, manager of the square's L. G. Haig shoe store, doesn't want the new bills in her cash register at all. She hasn't received one yet, but plans to put them in a separate little cash box where she keeps her charge account receipts.

Wigginton believes that there is too much chance to mix up the twos with other bills. She was almost short-changed while shopping in another store when a clerk pulled a two from the slot where the fives used to be.

"We throw them ($2 bills) in the bottom of the cash drawer under the tray — just as we do $50 bills and coupons," reported a spokesman for Chatham supermarkets, adding that "they're another piece of paper we have no place for."

Eventually, he anticipated, there will be registers with adequate drawer space for such bills.

Whether the $2 bills are a problem, he said, "really depends on how the cashier views them as some do get uptight. Some make it a point to get rid of them by giving them out right away while others are placing them under the tray, as instructed, if they keep them."

Development Group to Review Applicants

Novi's Community Development Block Grant Citizens Advisory Committee has been empowered by the council to review applications for grants under the Housing and Community Development program.

The committee will be the deciding factor in which homes receive $3,500 grants which are intended to be used to bring homes up to code. The city is receiving $112,400 for that purpose. A home can receive more than one $3,500 grant if necessary to bring the home up to code.

Previously, the council was to make the final decision in which homes would receive grants. However, according to council member Patricia Karevich, a member of the committee, "Now that we have done the background work, we would like to go all the way to go out for bids and accept people for the grants."

Under the rules of the committee, a representative of the City of Novi will be in attendance at all meetings of the committee. While that person has a voice but does not have a vote, he does carry veto power.

That point drew criticism from City Attorney David Fried who suggested "it's abrogating the power of the block grant committee."

For eligibility to receive the grants, an applicant must be the owner-occupant of a home containing no more than two dwelling units located within the area, surrounding Walled Lake and in the City of Novi. The income requirement states that priority must be given to persons of low and moderate income. The committee decided that persons averaging less than 80 percent of the median income of the City of Novi ($13,342) may be eligible.

Next step is preparation of the applications which may be available soon.

He refused to elaborate on the situation.

Fight Smoking

An Anti-smoking Clinic, sponsored by the Community Education Department of the Walled Lake School District, will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. for five consecutive evenings beginning on Sunday, May 2. The clinic will be presented by Dr. Arthur Weaver, a Wayne State University Medical School Professor.

THE PRIDE OF '76—Along with other groups throughout the city, two Girl Scout troops and one Brownie troop from Wixom Elementary School pooled their resources to buy and plant a tree as a part of Wixom's observance of the nation's Bicentennial celebration. The girls chose the designated Bicentennial tree — the pin oak, and planted it near the historically designated Tiffin House. Adding finishing touches to the ceremony are Lexia Morphew of Brownie Troop 7 and Nancy Peck of Girl Scout Troop 385. In the background are Carol Dingeldey, Debbie Olschefske, Lucy Salisz, Stacey Rae, Dawn Hulme and Dawn Mills.

Rubbish Contract OK'd

A three-year contract for garbage and rubbish pick-up with the Bloomfield Disposal Service was approved by Wixom city officials at the last council meeting.

Normally the city enters into one-year contracts but on the recommendation of City Clerk June Buck the feasibility of a three-year contract was discussed.

According to Buck, 12 disposal companies were contacted to submit bids. Only two were received with Bloomfield, current contract holders, submitting the lowest bids.

The decision to enter into the three-year contract centered on the five-cent per home differential spread over a three year period. Council members said they felt there would be a substantial savings to the city with the longer contract.

Cost for garbage pick-up for the coming year will be $29,289.20. Weekly home pick-up is broken down to 44 cents per unit with business pick-up set at 82 cents and multiple dwelling at 24 cents.

The total figure also includes pick-up at the Finnish Camp and the D.P.W. facility.

Second year costs will be 46 cents per home, 86 cents business and 25 cents multiple with the third-year contract set at 49 cents home, 92 cents business and 27 cents multiple.

In her remarks to council, Buck also said the present company was very reliable and complaints on the service minor. "They are a very dependable company and the residents seem to be satisfied."

Present Budget

if they receive approval. Therefore, specific funding as a part of this budget has been eliminated."

Grants for which requests were made include a crime prevention bureau, court service officer plus an expanded traffic bureau.

Interestingly, the budget actually includes a slight drop in the general fund tax levy from the $6.5 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation down to $6.25. The city manager explained that the levy was lowered because he elected to go with the one percent collection fee which, he said, will offset the general fund reduction and actually does end up in the general fund anyway.

Kriewall explained the decision was made to go with the collection fee rather than charge school districts administrative costs borne by the city because of the dual tax collection which the city finally approved.

The budget also includes a levy of 1 mill for the road fund, .9 mill for the road program, .5 mill for the library and 1 mill for special fire capital improvement program.

Kriewall also told the Novi News that the budget is an austerity budget from the standpoint that "we've tried to limit hiring."

He explained that "our hiring is not in relation to our growth."

Kriewall said that the city is warily watching the situation with federal funds, hoping that programs under which city employees are currently being paid are not curtailed. He said that if they should be curtailed, the city might be faced with layoffs. The other situation which could cause layoffs, according to Kriewall, is if growth in the community unexpectedly slows down.

Special study sessions on the budget are planned for May 10, May 12, May 19 and May 22 with public hearing and adoption of the budget planned for Monday, May 24. The May 10 study session will follow scheduled public hearings and is planned for approximately 9 p.m. at the Novi Schools Administration Building.

Don't Mention the Word 'Trees'

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Wixom's Bicentennial efforts are moving in the right direction with tree plantings taking place throughout the city during this past week.

As a part of the Bicentennial plans for the year, various organizations in the city bought trees and designated the city properties that would be beautified by them.

Organized and coordinated by Liz Peck of Hopkins Drive, the trees were delivered last Wednesday in preparation for their planting. Several Scout groups had special programs surrounding the planting of "their" trees.

But no matter how well planned, organized and coordinated there seems to be, some kinks are quickly straightened. Others leave one scratching their head.

Such was the case in the "plant a tree" program. These trees planted in 1976 will hold many memories, some of which are laughable.

It's questionable if 82-year-old Aurel Murg of Birch Park is laughing after his efforts with the trees. If anything, he must have at least suffered a back ache.

Murg, as he is called by just about everyone who knows him, volunteered to plant the trees purchased by the Birch Park Association.

Armed with shovel and rake, Murg proceeded to Fire Station 1 on Wixom Road. There he found five trees placed next to stakes. Not really knowing how many trees had been purchased for Birch Park, Murg set about the job of digging five holes.

Now these holes had to be dug pretty big. According to Northville's Green Ridge Nursery, the large trees balled in their burlap coverings weighed close to 175 pounds each. Three of the five were large trees, two were ornamentals.

At this point it must be understood that Birch Park did buy three trees but they weren't all at one location. Secondly, and unbelievably, Murg himself hefted those bulky trees into those holes all by himself.

After digging the holes and placing the trees, Murg hopped in his car to begin hauling water from his home for the trees. While Murg was gone, a group of youngsters who had planned to plant trees got their fire stations mixed up and went to the area where Murg was working.

At the scene they found the five trees in their nice holes and proceeded to fill them up, with an extra serving or two of dirt piled up the trunk. They left before Murg returned.

Can you imagine the thoughts that went through Murg's head when he came back with the water? About that point Margaret Ladd drove up. She had been told there was some older man running around town planting all the trees.

Knowing of the ceremonies that had been planned she thought she'd better do some checking. What she saw was a dignified white-haired gentleman "absolutely hopping mad".

There he was, scooping off all the dirt and redigging the holes so he could properly water the trees. Margaret left with Murg still muttering over the trees.

Meanwhile, the five trees at Station No. 2 were waiting for the group of youngsters that were supposed to plant them. They had left, however, thinking they had completed their good deed, not knowing it was at the wrong place.

A-ha, Birch Park had a tree at Station 2 also and so Murg made his way to Pontiac Trail — finding another five trees. At this point, I'm sure he must have been shaking his head!

It wouldn't have been so bad if another well-meaning female hadn't stopped at that station and demanded to know what he was doing with all the trees. I can assure you there were no police reports on a white-haired gentleman chasing a female around the fire station brandishing a shovel.

I have yet to find out just how many trees Murg planted all by himself. I can say they received tender loving care. And if titles should be bestowed, perhaps First Forester of Wixom would be suitable for Aurel Murg.

Wixom School librarian Dorothy Thompson recently received the PTA council merit award in district ceremonies. Dorothy was chosen for the recognition by the Wixom School staff for her energetic contributions to the children of the school.

There are few people living in Wixom who aren't acquainted with Dorothy and have always found her devoted to extending education through books.

For years, Dorothy ran the summer reading program for the youngsters in Wixom, as well as special programs throughout the year. The award certainly was deserved and we're delighted Dorothy was chosen.

Dennis Greenwald, a fifth grader at Loon Lake School was the first place winner in the Wixom Jaycee sponsored "design a float" contest.

Dennis' design, the national shield with eagle, will be used as the Wixom Jaycee and Auxiliary entry in the Youth Day Parade, May 15. The parade is the Michigan Week kick-off to a week long series of events in Wixom.

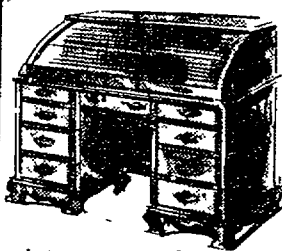

Second prize in the design contest went to Lisa Doria, a fifth grader at Wixom Elementary. Debbie Aubrey, a Wixom school sixth grade student, was awarded the third place ribbon.

And don't forget ... the Wixom Jaycee community blood bank drive this Saturday at the City Hall Community Building on Pontiac Trail. Hours for the blood bank are 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The blood drive will credit the community or individual donors and their families. The program is under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

Although many families' needs are covered through their work or union, the demand for blood is growing daily. Through the blood bank

Northville Group Grows to 40

Better Food for Less Money Is Aim of Food Co-op

By JEAN DAY

Better quality for less money.

That's the aim and purpose of the food cooperative organized early this year by members of the Northville branch of the American Association of University Women.

Since February the new co-op has grown from 20 to about 40 members and includes some senior citizens and non-members as well as AAUW women.

Every other Thursday members share a "potluck" of fresh vegetables and fruit purchased by buyers Sheila Norgren and Betty Rathbone at Eastern Market.

Coordinators have been Pat Custer and Joanne Wisley with Joyce Murdock and Jan Beaber now taking over for them.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Custer enumerates, Mrs. Norgren's market purchases gave participants a head of cabbage, lettuce, spinach, two cucumbers, a green pepper, five pounds of Idaho potatoes, 10 or 12 apples, oranges and four grapefruit.

This cost each participant $4.25 in advance with members usually paying for their next order when they pick up the current one.

Pick-up point is Northville Square with members to bring two bags and collect their produce between 10 and 11:30 a.m. the day it is purchased.

Mrs. Norgren last Thursday pointed out with pride the fact that the co-op purchase of fresh spinach was the first Michigan crop this year.

Quality and freshness are stressed by Mrs. Custer as she praises the co-op. Some items are included in the purchases only once a month. These include carrots, onions and potatoes.

Currently a preference sheet is being filled out by about 30 members so that buyers can determine specifically customer wishes.

"It's running smoothly," Mrs. Custer says with satisfaction as she tells how members share such duties as comparison shopping.

Four dollars of the $4.25 charged each each time is used for food purchases with the 25 cents being for transportation charges. The women estimate that this order purchased in a store would cost between $5 and $6.50.

They stress, however, that quality as well as economy is the consideration.

There also are special orders available, in addition to the produce, for cheese, eggs and peanut butter. Shari Clason has been in charge of these, as well as being baby sitter for the buyers.

Mrs. Custer gives credit to Lucia Danes for being the "biggest organizer" and setting up the co-op operation. Linda Pate also was credited with being the co-op book-keeper who figures out the unit pricing.

Because there has been some surplus in the division of purchases, this "extra" has been sold by the co-op to give the organization a small treasury.

The women don't plan to continue the project in the summer and will stop sometime in June. The treasury may be needed when it is resumed in the fall.

Mrs. Custer is typical of the AAUW members in the food cooperative as she's a young mother with two-year-old Bradley and five-year-old Benjie.

The cooperative has had the advantage or disadvantage, depending on viewpoints, of introducing members to new foods.

Brussel sprouts, it was pointed out, were viewed differently by members with some finding families rejecting them and others welcoming "new things."

For the AAUW, the food cooperative gives the newly organized Northville branch a very "today" image of college women.

These are not the gloves-and-tea drinkers of the 1950's.

They're the realistic wives of the 1970's who took as a goal, when the branch formed, the task of learning today's economic facts of life and learning how to "live with less."

FOOD BARGAINS—Pat Custer, left, eagerly inspects her "potluck" share bought in last Thursday's food cooperative by Sheila Norgren, center, as Joyce Murdock, also an AAUW co-op member, looks on. Each member of the new cooperative pays $4.25 for her share of fresh produce purchased at Eastern Market.

Preserving Farm Is Aim

Toll Gate Farm Gets Act 116 OK

The historic Meyer farm in Novi has been placed under the Farm Land and Open Space Act 116 in order to receive benefits which could allow it to keep operating as a farm for the next 10 years.

According to Gary Renthrop, attorney for owner A. H. Meyer, Meyer has agreed to the restriction that the 160-acre property be used as a farm and not be developed for the next 10 years.

In return for keeping the farm operating under the conditions of the agreement, it is not required to participate in any special assessment districts, according to Renthrop.

"If an assessment came down on a front foot basis, that type of assessment could come in in excess of $150,000 because of the large number of front feet," said Renthrop. "Usually when this thing happens, it forces the farmer to sell some of his land to pay the taxes."

Another benefit is that the property must be assessed on a local level as agricultural land. According to city officials, the change will reduce taxes on the property by $4,900 a year including $850 which will be lost to the city, with the remainder being lost by the school district and county.

Because Meyer is independently wealthy and the property in question is located near the Twelve Oaks Mall site, which could increase its worth, attempts to get the farm rezoned from the current "R-1-F" (residential) to an agricultural zoning drew comments that the owner might be seeking the rezoning for speculative purposes to lower taxes. The rezoning request was denied by both the planning board and city council.

However, the 83-year-old

Meyer staunchly held that his request was intended to keep the farm on a business basis that would allow it to continue as a farm.

"It's the furthest thing from his mind," said Renthrop.

Referring to the agreement with the government, Renthrop added, "There isn't a speculator who is willing to commit any piece of property for 10 years."

If Meyer should default on the agreement, he would have to pay back to the city the tax money lost, plus any special assessments. A penalty would also be imposed.

The city of Novi as the local governing municipality gave its stamp of approval last year to the agreement. The state government gave its final approval within the last two weeks.

USA Is Subject

Approximately 1,100 slides review the history of America and Michigan in this study of freedom, innovation, invention and enterprise.

Third through eighth grade students will see the program on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. High school social studies classes may see it on Thursday.

A free evening showing of "Only in America" will be presented Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. A special invitation has been extended to Northville senior citizens, but all members of the community are welcome to attend.

Northville Permits Sewer Tap

An agreement to permit a township property owner to tie into the city sanitary sewer line has been approved by a 4-1 vote of the Northville City Council.

Voting against the agreement was Wallace Nichols.

The request was made by William T. Reilly for a 2.11-acre site situated at the southeast corner of Clement and Woodhill.

Township Supervisor Betty Lennox endorsed the tie in. Under the agreement, the property owner must provide a sewer meter, must pay double the rate that city residents pay, and he is prohibited from emptying storm waters into the line.

The possibility of up to three homes being constructed on the site was reported to council.

Councilman Nichols was concerned that other similar properties in the township, adjacent to city sanitary sewer lines, may make similar requests.

City Manager Steven Walters pointed out that in the case of the Woodhill property no extension of the city's eight-inch sewer line is needed. It already exists in front of the property, therefore the city is not, by its action, indicating to extend sewer lines elsewhere to accommodate township residents, he said.

Crane Touches Wire, Kills Worker in Northville

In Northville

A 34-year-old Plymouth man died following an occupational injury at Huff Welding Company on Old Novi Road Friday morning.

Northville City Police officers responded to what was thought to be a heart attack victim. The officers were advised by a co-worker, George Wolfe, that he and Donald Cash were attempting to load an axle on a trailer with a loading crane.

While Wolfe was operating the crane, Cash was guiding the trailer axle which was hooked to the crane by a steel cable. While swinging the crane, it apparently came in contact with an overhead Detroit Edison power line.

Wolfe said he saw Cash fall but did not realize what had happened. A customer called Novi Ambulance while the owner, Charles Huff gave mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Further investigation showed electrical burns on the trailer axle as well as the frame of the trailer. Officers were advised by Botsford Hospital that Cash died at 9:56 a.m. from a cardiac arrest as a result of the electrical shock injury.

An early morning house fire on Beal Street Sunday spread through the entire second floor of the residence causing injuries but creating both smoke and structural damage.

Northville City Police officers responding to the 6 a.m. fire said they saw flames coming from second story windows of the house.

Owner Thomas Bongiovanni said there were no other people in the house at the time of the fire with the cause of the blaze as yet unknown.

Three more incidents of tire puncturing were reported to police during the past week. Tires on two cars parked in the lower deck at Center and Cady streets were punctured while the owners of the cars were bowling April 23. Three tires were punctured on one car while two were damaged on the second car.

A tire of a new car parked in the lot at Miller Dodge on Hutton Street was also discovered to have been punctured. The three incidents appear to have been related.

But at John Mach Ford Sales, employees found a trunk lock on a new car punched out and its spare tire missing. The Goodyear white wall tire was valued at $70 while damage to the car was estimated to be $60.

The dashboard of a Toyota car parked at the Northville Shell Station was slashed during a fifteen minute period the owner was away from the car. It appeared the 12" long slash was made with a knife.

Two portable citizens band radios valued at $330 were taken from a reportedly locked car parked at Elm and High Streets. Entry was made by smashing the back window of the station wagon causing an estimated $100 damage.

A resident of Chidwiden and another on Dunsany Court both reported barbecue grills taken from the backyards of their homes. Both incidents occurred sometime during the night of April 28.

One grill was a portable model valued at $124 and was taken from the back lawn of the home. The other was the upper portion of a gas grill which could be slipped off its mounting post. That grill was valued at $100.

A Suzuki motorcycle parked in an apartment parking lot off Randolph Street was reported stolen May 1. The owner told police a key was not needed to start the cycle. Township Police recovered the motorcycle at Main and Clement on May 2.

In Township

A Salem Township man hitchhiking to South Lyon was assaulted and robbed of $200 after he accepted a ride from four men in a red van.

The victim, Thomas VanSickle told Northville Township Police he took the ride on westbound Seven Mile across from Rural Hill Cemetery. When he questioned the driver about the route they were taking he was told to "shut up" and was assaulted.

After being kicked, punched and robbed of the $200, VanSickle said he was pushed out the left side of the van. He said he held onto the door and steering wheel before being knocked to the ground. The van rolled over his ankle as he lay sprawled in the roadway.

A witness in the Kings Mill area who saw VanSickle pushed from the van, supplied police with the license number of the vehicle.

VanSickle gave investigating officers a description of the interior of the van as well as the occupants. He also told police the men were all drinking beer and smoking marijuana.

A Vega station wagon abandoned on Sheldon Road one-half mile south of Six Mile because of car trouble was set afire Friday for no apparent reason.

A witness to the fire who was playing ball in a field across the road told police he saw a car pull up behind the disabled vehicle. One man left the car and entered the station wagon.

A short time later he saw the man leave the car after which it burst into flames. The second car then pulled out onto Sheldon and headed north at a high speed.

Northville Township Fire Department extinguished the flames and the car was impounded. The owner of the car advised he had no idea of who or why anyone would set fire to the car.

A car stolen from the parking lot at Northville Charlie's was recovered a short time later by Novi Police after it was involved in a major property destruction accident in that city.

The owner of the car reported to police his car was taken at some time between 9:45 p.m. and 11:15 p.m. May 1. The car was recovered and impounded by Novi officers shortly after midnight May 2.

Four steel belted radial tires and wheels valued at $400 were taken from a car as it was parked in a driveway on Robinwood.

The owner found the car at 7 a.m. Thursday morning propped up with bricks which had been taken from his yard.

Marks Small Engine Repair shop on Northville Road was the scene April 27 of a second larceny of a power mower. A similar theft occurred one week earlier.

In the second incident a self-propelled lawn mower which was at the shop for repair work was stolen from the yard area behind the building.

Value of the mower was estimated at $200.

Michigan State Police were called to investigate the death of a patient of Northville State Hospital at approximately 11 a.m. April 25.

The 19-year-old male inmate, managed to skirt several locked areas to reach the eighth floor of Building "A" before leaping to his death.

In Novi

Valuable coins plus silver ingots valued from $3,000 to $5,000 have been recovered following a breaking and entering Tuesday, April 27 of a home in the 24300 area of Pinecrest in Novi.

As a result of evidence at the crime scene, according to Detective Robert Starnes, a surveillance unit set up Saturday to watch a home in Detroit and then followed a woman who left that home carrying in the trunk of her car a container which later was determined to be carrying the stolen items.

The 35-year-old Detroit woman was arrested and the items recovered during an inventory search of the car which she had abandoned after the surveillance crew followed her. She has been charged with possession of stolen property, and a warrant may be sought for carrying a concealed weapon and violation of the narcotics law.

In addition, her boyfriend is under investigation in connection with the B&E itself.

Police have suspects in a case last Friday in which a woman sitting in her Water-view Apartment discovered a man in the apartment.

The woman screamed and was knocked or fell to the floor. She was also struck on the left eye and about the lips.

The suspect then fled the apartment when the woman kept screaming.

Entry was apparently gained through a bedroom window. A purse was discovered missing.

Damage from $3,000 to $5,000 was caused to an Edison transformer, a garage and two parked cars when a car went out of control causing the damage. The driver of the car then took off without stopping.

The accident occurred at a home on Center Street just north of Galway. A driver in an Edison truck responding to the call informed police that a car fitting the description of the hit-run vehicle was on the shoulder of Eight Mile west of Newburg in Livonia and that he had seen two figures run from the car.

Police responding determined that the car was involved in the accident, but could not locate the two people who fled the car.

The automobile was later reported stolen to Northville police.

Two windows valued at $400 were broken out of the Novi 26 clubhouse May 1. Rocks apparently caused the damage.

A Lowe canoe valued at $250 was taken from the bank near the rear of a home in the area of 1300 East Lake Drive May 1.

The driver of a gas truck parked at Jimmy's Texaco on Grand River reported that a bag containing $600 was taken April 30 from the cab of the truck. Police are investigating.

A $200 window at the new Security Bank of Novi building on 10 Mile at Meadowbrook was reportedly damaged by a pellet gun April 30.

A motorcyclist apparently escaped serious injury after being involved in a five vehicle accident last Saturday.

According to police reports, David McBurney, 25 of Plymouth, was on his motorcycle northbound on Novi Road at Nine Mile waiting behind another car for a light.

A Frito Lay truck driven by Frank Sircely, 33, of 3975 Potter in Wixom struck McBurney's vehicle from behind, smashing the cycle into the car in front while McBurney was hurled into the southbound lane. A driver in that lane went into the ditch to avoid McBurney.

Another vehicle then struck the Frito Lay truck from behind as there reportedly were no brake lights on the truck. McBurney was taken to Botsford Hospital by ambulance but then released. Sircely was given tickets for failure to stop in safe distance and for defective equipment.

Laura Ireland of 43008 11 Mile in Novi received a possible injury April 30 when she ran from the south side of Grand River to the north side and was reportedly struck by the front of a westbound vehicle which swerved to avoid her. She was taken to Botsford Hospital for treatment.

In Wixom

A Wixom boy and his accomplice from Walled Lake were arrested April 19 and charged with a recent breaking and entering of Loon Lake School. Both juveniles will be petitioned to juvenile court.

The father of one of the boys called Wolverine Police and advised them that his son had been involved in a theft. Wixom Police in turn were notified.

Apparently the high school aged boys had stored approximately $2200 worth of items stolen from the school in a barn at one of the homes. Other family members alerted the father who notified the police.

Included in the recovered property were three tape recorders, two stereo receiver sets, twenty califone headsets, three telex adapters as well as two violins, a coronet and a saxophone.

A car parked in the lot next to the Wixom Auto Parts store was broken into between 11 a.m. and noon April 23. An AM-FM stereo tape player valued at $250 was taken from the reportedly locked car.

A resident of Hillcrest Road told police she put a letter containing a $20 bill in her mailbox for pick-up by the mail carrier. Checking the mailbox later, the woman reported the letter gone but that regular delivery had not yet been made.

The resident told Wixom Police she thought she knew the person who could be responsible for the several mailbox thefts in the city during the past few weeks.

Police are currently checking through the similar cases Tampering with mail or the contents of mailboxes is a federal offense.

HIT-RUN CAR—Novi Detective Lieutenant Richard Faulkner examines the damage to the hit-run vehicle involved in the April 26 fatality of a bicycle rider on Grand River Road. A 40-year-old Milford man, owner of the car, is a suspect in the accident.

The car, which has a large gaping hole in the passenger's side of the windshield and some damage to the front bumper, has been definitely established as the car involved, according to detectives. The car is being kept as evidence and the news media has been asked not to reveal its location.

According to Detective

Lieutenant Richard Faulkner, the car involved had just passed a Volkswagen when it apparently overcompensated and swerved to the edge of the roadway striking Kelly and flipping him over the car. He landed 150 feet from the point of impact.

The hit-run car slowed to a stop and then sped off. The Volkswagen stopped and the husband jumped out to offer aid while his wife headed to the Novi Police Department for help. Initial reports said she had followed the hit-run vehicle, but those reports were incorrect, according to Faulkner.

The hit-run car then went down Clark Street, a dead-end road where several witnesses reported seeing the car driven in a hazardous manner. Police theorize the car left the subdivision by going down 11 Mile and continuing on either that road or Taft.

At least three witnesses in different cars reported seeing the vehicle minutes after the accident on a route that would have led it to Lake Sherwood, according to Faulkner.

Kelly died early Tuesday morning after being transported to Botsford Hospital.

During the search for the car, Novi Police followed up on several of the 100 or more tips which flowed into the department.

Several more came in even after the car was recovered. Police are seeking further witnesses as they continue their investigation.

Time to Repair Lawn Scuffing

It's time to repair trouble spots in your lawn caused by scuffing, drying, salt spillage, or other winter happenings. Overseeding and fertilization should bring quick improvement. Scratch a seed mix into thin areas, along with a little fertilizer.

Special assessments for road improvements are rarely greeted by abutting property owners with affection.

And in Novi residents of the Taft Road section from Ten Mile to Grand River scheduled for paving are no exception.

They have hired an attorney and are taking legal action to oppose assessments of $10 per front foot, or approximately 17 percent of the improvement costs.

The Taft Road controversy is reminiscent of the Randolph paving that took place in Northville several years ago.

Residents of the street opposed paving assessments of 25 percent for reasons that sound very much like those being forwarded on behalf of the Taft Road property owners.

They contended that the improvement was for the benefit of the public at large, not the abutting property owners, and that actually paving would be detrimental rather than a benefit to residents of the street.

In November 1967 Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, Jr., of the Wayne County Circuit Court ruled that the improvement did constitute a benefit to abutting property owners and the assessment was reasonable. Beyond declaring the city's legal right to levy the assessment, Judge Moynihan suggested the city could have levied higher assessments to cover costs of other improvements on the street, including storm sewer and land costs to remove a bad curve.

Many cities impose special assessments as high as 100 percent for street improvements. While it was the policy of the City of Northville to impose assessments of 25 percent back in the mid-sixties, today special assessments for street improvements are levied at 75 percent.

Normally, in cases similar to the Taft Road case where the street to be improved carries more than the normal "neighborhood" type traffic, assessment levels are either reduced or assessments are based on minimal asphalt paving as required for low-traffic streets.

At $10 per front foot (or approximately 17 percent assessment) the city would seem to be well within reasonable limits. It can point out that other streets have been paved under an assessment levy of $14 per front foot. The reduction recognizes both the nature of the road and the fact that taxpayers-at-large recently approved extra millage to help offset the cost of road improvements in Novi.

It is easier to cite equity from an observer's standpoint than to pay hard cash for something you really don't want to buy.

But historically courts have upheld city government's right to impose assessments for such projects. And it would appear that the Novi council has made every effort to hold the assessment well within the limits of reasonableness.

More than many cities, Novi faces a heavy burden of road improvement costs. It must take advantage of every opportunity to spread costs over a broad taxpayer base, particularly recognizing that properties on improved streets do receive special benefit, if it is to accumulate enough money to complete the job. The City of Novi cannot afford to pave its streets without an assessment program.

Hopefully, the city and board of education will resolve its differences over the school district's role in helping to pay for paving that will certainly benefit school facilities.

Although the city cannot impose assessment levies against the school district, it is clear that the board of education recognized its responsibilities in a June 6, 1975 letter to the Novi city manager when it agreed to pay an assessment of "$22 a running foot for paving of Taft Road contiguous to the school property until June 5, 1976".

Speaking of money, the Northville Jaycees could use some.

This year's Bicentennial Parade project will be more costly than ever. It will be the biggest Fourth of July event ever undertaken by the Jaycees.

Chairman Hugh Sutherland predicts that unless contributions normally received from businesses and interested citizens are much higher than ever, the Jaycees will fall short some $2,000.

He notes that the July Fourth celebration is not a money-making affair. Any proceeds are contributed to worthwhile charities.

The event has become an important one in the lives of many Northville area families who enjoy the fun and tradition of the small town Independence Day observance complete with parade, barbecue and fireworks.

In the next week or two the Jaycees will be mailing out their annual appeal letters for financial help. It's really needed this year, says Sutherland. And the young attorney reminds contributors that the cash gifts are tax deductible.

If you want to help the Jaycees and you can afford a small contribution, mail it to Northville Jaycees, P.O. Box 241, Northville.

And while we're on the subject of money, we'll close with another money matter.

City councilmembers sat tall in their council seats last week and declared they were giving the city manager a $5,000 pay hike.

That's a 25 percent raise from his current salary of $20,000.

Perhaps the council was embarrassed by the fact that the budget shows at least one city employee receiving higher wages than the manager.

It's more likely that after 2½-years on the job Steven Walters has proven that he's one very competent manager who has earned the increase.

And the council deserves credit for recognizing the fact and taking action that might raise some taxpayer eyebrows.

Speaking for Myself My Choice For President

GEORGE KETTUNEN

FORD . . .

On August 9, 1974, Gerald R. Ford became president under the most adverse peacetime conditions that ever existed for any president.

His administration seemed doomed by an overwhelming Democratic majority in both House and Senate and a mounting business recession and unemployment exceeded only by the depression of the '30's.

An oil precipitated energy crisis never before experienced in this country's history was occurring, not to mention the political crises magnified and exploited by some portions of the public media.

During the less than three years of his term in office, without the benefit of a cooperative Congress, and in spite of the spend now, worry later attitude of the almost veto-proof Congress, he had under his administration, without the usual excesses, bridled the recession.

Employment in the U.S. is the highest in its history and the unemployment rate for the last five months has been on a steady decrease.

The energy crisis has eased. Our foreign policy, in spite of the unprecedented interference by some Congressmen even though mandated under the Constitution to be directed by the executive, has survived the most stringent third world abuses.

No man is better equipped by experience and tested ability to carry out the domestic programs and foreign policy that has helped us survive and strive forward during these last 33 months than Gerald R. Ford, a well balanced American.

REAGAN . . .

The decision to support Governor Reagan for president was one of the most difficult decisions that I have had to make in my years of political leadership in the Republican party. The conventional wisdom within the party hierarchy has it that this challenge should not be taking place. I disagree. This is the first meaningful primary within the G.O.P. within recent history. The challenge has strengthened President Ford's campaign posture and credibility as a candidate. Republicans are being given a choice in 1976. I feel that Governor Reagan is a viable choice; the results of the Texas primary vindicate that position.

In answer to the critics of Governor Reagan as to his record as Governor of California, his record is an admirable one which should be emulated here in Michigan. Governor Jerry Brown has stated his admiration for his predecessor's policies. Should such policies have been pursued here in Michigan, I suspect that our state budget would not be at the $6 billion level that it is today.

In other issues such as Social Security for instance, Governor Reagan has addressed this issue head on. Many of us have for years been concerned with the fiscal disaster of the Social Security system as it is presently constituted. Governor Reagan is the first with the intestinal fortitude to raise this as an issue. It is problematical as to whether he can reverse the trend. What is important is that he has addressed the issue in the manner that he has. It is this willingness to address these difficult issues that have made me a supporter of Governor Ronald Reagan.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Friday marks the first anniversary of the end of the longest and costliest war in the history of the United States.

America's tenth war began on August 5, 1964, and it was nearly 11 years later on May 7, 1975 when the Vietnam conflict officially ended.

In this Bicentennial year of our nation, it is interesting to note that the American Revolutionary War, second longest in this country's history — from 1775 to 1784, produced just a fraction of the armed forces generated by Vietnam.

It would take 3,391 American Revolutionary Armies to equal the number of soldiers, 9,834,000, who served during the Vietnam war.

Only 4,000 men were killed during the entire nine year Revolutionary War, compared with the 46,000 who were killed in Vietnam. An additional 57,000 persons died in non-hostile action during the Vietnam conflict.

The first of what is termed the "big" wars, World War I, which lasted only two years — 1917 to 1918, saw 4,744,000 men called into service. Total deaths during the two years amounted to 116,000 — or less than one-fourth of the men lost by both sides in the Civil War.

A total of 16,535,000 men and women put on military uniforms during World War II, which claimed 406,000 lives — still less than the overall 500,000 deaths on both sides in the Civil War.

The Civil War pitted 2,213,000 Union soldiers against an estimated 1-million Confederate soldiers, with the Union suffering 364,511 deaths as compared with 133,821 deaths by the South. Of the total Confederate deaths an estimated 28,000 died in Union prisons.

America's second war, the War of 1812, lasted for three years until 1815. It produced 287,000 participants and 2,000 service deaths.

The smallest armed force was called up for the third American war, the Mexican War, from 1846 to 1848. Nevertheless, the death toll was staggering — 18 percent of the 79,000 soldiers who served or a total of 13,000.

Although the so-called Indian Wars spanned 81 years, from 1817 to 1898, these conflicts were by no means of continuous uninterrupted duration and hence, in terms of length, they cannot be called the "longest." During the Indian conflicts a total of 106,000 soldiers served and untold numbers of Indians were involved.

Despite the infamous disaster at Little Big Horn, only 1,000 soldiers died in all of these conflicts. It is safe to say that many, many more American Indians were killed.

The four-year Spanish-American war, 1898 to 1902,

For Daughter's Education

He Finds Best Construction Crew Available

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following "letter to the editor" far exceeds the 500-word limitation stipulated by this newspaper. But our editors were struck by the style and poignancy of the writer's message. We commend it to your reading. The author is a 29-year-old steel salesman, Joel Goler, who moved to Innsbrook Apartments in Northville a year and a half ago. Last June his wife died. Joel is now both mother and father to his two daughters, Darci, 5, and Heather, 2.

I was fourteen when Castro came to power in Cuba. Many people tried to flee the tyranny, violence and upheaval on the island. Not all could. Families sent their children to the U.S. hoping some day that they would be reunited—but knowing that at least their children would be free.

One of these children became my foster brother, and lived with my family for a year and a half. His parents were fortunate—they were permitted to leave Cuba. They had been millionaires in Havana, but they arrived in the U.S. with only the clothes they could wear on their back. But they were free and they were alive. When his parents flew north to be reunited, it was I who took my brother to the airport. If I was entitled to any rewards for my year and a half of "sacrifice," that day at the airport paid me in full.

Our families stayed in touch over the years. Last year I visited Bernie and met his uncle. His uncle told me what happened the day Castro's representative came to the department store in Havana. The government representative said, "congratulations, today we are partners. We own the store and you will work it." Then he asked, "Do you have any other property?" B. Bernie's uncle said "yes"—he owned two buildings. But his uncle said "you can't have them."

Obviously a very heated discussion followed. Bernie's uncle eventually was forced to give the location of his buildings. But the government representative was surprised at the answer. "The two buildings are in my son's heads." He told the agent, "When my sons started school, I told each of them that they were beginning to build a skyscraper in their head. The first years would lay the foundation and structure upon which all other floors would be built. Each year of school would build another level, until, eventually, their minds would house a beautiful, strong skyscraper. And these, Mr. Government Agent, are buildings that neither you, nor anyone else can take."

I relate this story because my first child is now in kindergarten, and I, concerned for her education, want her to have the best education possible. She already understands that she is building her own building. But I am concerned that the building materials furnished be of the highest caliber and that the construction crew be the most skilled. My little girl owns the land for her building, but she knows practically nothing about construction. I function as a general contractor for her.

Acting in such an analogous manner, I attended a meeting last Tuesday, April 27, to gain information first hand from teachers, administrators, parents and students involved in Northville's voluntary extended school year program. I listened and I learned. When the meeting concluded, I felt that I must relate my thoughts.

My daughter will participate in the extended school year program when she enters first grade later this year. Why? Well obviously many worthwhile and substantiated facts were presented—but one fact above all others convinced me. I have known many teachers, but until this evening, I had never come across a group of teachers so sold on the merits of their program. Remember, I'm looking for the best construction crew available. Many crews have the craftsmanship and many crews have the desire. But maintaining the desire is something else.

I listened to several teachers who claimed initial skepticism toward the program—but yet they now are among its greatest advocates. This says a lot to me because I want my child taught by someone who, besides demonstrating academic proficiency, enjoys teaching, and can come to the classroom with spirit and joy.

Now I don't mean that traditional school year teachers don't enjoy teaching—rather that the 45-15 concept of school being held for 45 class days followed by 15 vacation days gives the teachers a more positive scheduling of time. It keeps them fresh.

How fresh are you, facing your two or three children every day of a long vacation. Have you ever heard "there's nothing to do" or "what can I do?" By the end of two or three weeks you can't wait to have your children back in school. But how about the teacher who has twenty or thirty children for five or six or more hours every day for 18 weeks without let-up.

The most important part of education is the teacher, and if the teacher doesn't feel like teaching, tell me how your children are going to learn. After experiencing the 45-15 schedule, the teachers commented on how positive they felt. They had a chance to relax. They didn't spend the last month or six weeks thinking about summer vacation. They had a chance to regroup and reorganize themselves. They came back to the teaching environment charged with energy. Think of what that means to the quality of education your child receives.

When I hear nothing but praise from all the educators involved in 45-15, I know that my daughter will be given the best. How could I do better for my daughter? She will be taught by teachers who want to teach and love to teach.

Tonight I found a construction crew.
Sincerely yours,
Joel Goler

Four Named For Expressway To Boards Sign Bid Awarded In Wixom

Reappointments to four city commissions were announced by Wixom Mayor Val Vangieson at the regular council meeting last Tuesday.

Margaret Ladd was given a three-year reappointment to the Library Board while George Johns and Sidney Resner were each given three-year terms on the city building authority.

Robert Trombley, Fredric Parton and John Wieland will each serve three-year terms on the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Neil Taylor and Frances Hurst were reappointed to serve additional three-year terms on Wixom's Board of Appeals.

Mayoral appointments are made at the mayor's discretion and do not require council approval.

Traffic signing on eight miles of I-96 (I-275) now under construction in Oakland County is among projects for which bids have been received by the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation.

The traffic signing is to take place on I-96 from the I-696 interchange south to the M-14 interchange near Livonia. The project is expected to be completed by November and will be done by Midwest Bridge Co., of Williamston. The low bid was for $553,846.

Among other projects for which bids have been received is the paving of 3.2 miles of Interstate 275 in Romulus at an estimated $2.5 million and the construction of a seven-span bridge for $1.3 million on I-475 freeway in Flint.

All bids must be approved by the State Highway Commission and State Highway Administration.

Withdrawn from the bidding process was an estimated $4.7 million paving project on four miles of I-275 between Five Mile and Nine Mile roads in Livonia, Northville Township, Novi and Farmington Township.

Vandalism on Rise

members that the law could possibly be in violation of state statute.

Nevertheless, councilmen pushed for its adoption, suggesting it would be wiser to be challenged in court than permit the vandalism to continue unchecked.

Concerning the $1,000 reward resolution, waived aside thoughts that perhaps the reward should be graduated to fit the seriousness of the property damage.

"I view vandalism as a crime, whether it be for tearing up a sign or burning down a building," declared Vernon. Others supported him, particularly Councilman Wallace Nichols who called for the crackdown last month.

"With the problem such as it is I don't think it is time to equivocate," said Nichols. "Silent observer hasn't worked all that well. So it costs $5,000 a month; maybe it can nip the problem before it goes any further."

As for the reward system encouraging "finking on friends" just to collect money, Vernon and others agreed, "If a kid can't trust his buddy, it will serve the purpose for which it is intended: no vandal is safe."

"The way I look at it," said Vernon, "a crime is a crime; you can't be a little bit pregnant."

Although he pushed hard for the proposed curfew change, Vernon accepted the suggestion of Nichols that the proposal be placed on the back-burner pending an invitation to the student council to attend the next city council meeting to discuss the proposal and solicit suggestions from students on how best to cope with the problem.

In discussing the proposal, officials agreed it would very likely raise the greatest amount of community objection.

It would also, they noted, put a crimp on late night activities in and around the arcade at Northville Square shopping center—a crimp that several councilmen would welcome. Much of the problem originates at the arcade, they contend, with the congregating of youths in the parking lot and sidewalk area.

It could also affect activities at the high school.

Key to the ordinance proposal, emphasized Vernon, is its emphasis on loitering, idling or congregating in or on any street, highway, alley, park or other public property (including places, such as the arcade, open to the general public).

It lowers the curfew hour from midnight to 11 p.m. for minors under 18 years of age, and it prohibits minors under the age of 12 years to be out after 10 p.m.

It would cover 17-year-olds.

Exempted, according to Vernon, would be minors (17 and under) who are going to or returning from work, or who are accompanied by a parent or guardian or who are on an errand directed by parent or guardian.

Presumably, it would mean that minors 17 and under could not frequent a restaurant after 11 p.m., and it could possibly force an earlier ending to school activities such as dances following sporting events.

"Most kids are home by 11 p.m.," said Councilman Stanley Johnston. "It's perhaps no more than 10 percent who are out later, but it is among that 10-percent where the problem is centered."

Admitted Vernon: "These are drastic steps, but we have a serious problem that requires drastic steps."

Seeks 'Throwaway' Vote

State Representative Richard Fessler (R-Union Lake) is supporting a petition drive to place the nonreturnable bottle issue on the ballot.

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) is leading the drive to ask voters if they want to ban nonreturnable bottles in Michigan.

"The drive is necessary," Fessler said, "because legislation to ban throw-away bottles apparently has died in the House Appropriations Committee where it was relegated months ago."

The drive needs 300,000 signatures before June 1 if the issue is to be placed on the ballot.

"Studies show that banning throw-aways would reduce litter on our highways, save precious energy and increase employment," Fessler said. Legislation has been introduced in the House again to require the use of returnable beverage containers in the state.

"This is an attempt by the sponsor to by-pass the Appropriations Committee and get legislative action on the issue," Fessler said.

"I have always been a supporter of environmental protection and I think there is proof that this measure would benefit our state without placing undue hardship on our work force, in spite of criticism to the contrary."

Fessler said petitions are available at his office for anyone interested in circulating them. They can be obtained by writing him at the Capitol Building, Lansing involved 392,000 American soldiers of whom 11,000 died.

On June 27, 1950 the Korean War began and lasted until January 31, 1955. During this time 6,807,001 (I was the one) served in the United States military forces. This war, which historians prefer to call a "Conflict," claimed 55,000 lives.

With the end of the Korean War until the "official" start of the Vietnam war, a total of 3,195,000 service personnel served the country, and during this post-Korean conflict era, 20,000 service deaths occurred from various causes—some hostile.

In other words, five times more soldiers died in this post-Korean "non-war" period than died in the entire nine-year American Revolutionary War.

Altogether, 44,482,000 men and women served in the American armed forces during the 10 wars since 1775. And according to the Veterans Administration, 29,459,000 of them are still living.

Treasure hunters scour the edges of the tracks in southwest Northville in search of buried train wreckage

Herb Bissa for the Detroit House of Correction. Neither of the train engineers had seen the approaching disaster until it was too late to stop.

Six coaches and the baggage car were smashed to splinters.

The dead and injured were hauled up the embankment to the shade of nearby apple trees on the VanSickle farm. Some of the stumps of this orchard are still visible.

Soon after Gladden read the story of the crash in "The Way It Used to Be" feature in the November 26, 1975 edition of the newspaper, he made a "quick search of the area", turning up an ornate window frame from one of the coaches. His find excited fellow members who persuaded him to organize a comprehensive search.

A week ago snow, rain and cold weather washed out the hunt except for a few diehards. It was rescheduled for this past Sunday.

Club members unearthed perhaps a couple hundred pounds of scrap metal, little of which probably was part of the 1907 wreckage. Most were pieces of "newer" railroad equipment, including numerous railroad spikes, wire, and tin cans.

Several small pieces of brass, some ornately engraved, were identified as parts from the interior decor of the 1907 coaches. According to members they appeared to be coat hooks or possibly window latches.

CM Concept Considered

financial need in order to live in the apartment complex.

Preliminary applications are being received now to give officials an idea of the economic levels of potential tenants. First priorities for renting one of the 100 one-bedroom units will be city residency, age, and time of application.

Allen Terrace is to be located on the 12-acre site purchased last summer on the hillside between Randolph and Base Line streets — commonly known as the Eastlawn property or Buchner hill.

The four-level initial development is to be located south of where the Eastlawn convalescent home stood prior to its razing. Plans call for a "bid before bond" procedure used in the past by the Northville school system. While this procedure is not expected to result in any cost reduction, it will give the city a better handle on costs before proceeding with bonding, Walters told members of the Northville Kiwanis Club earlier Monday.

The city manager was a guest speaker before the club. He was invited to outline the Allen Terrace project by Kiwanian John Steimel, a member of the Northville Housing Commission which has spearheaded the project over the past half-dozen years.

The Kiwanis Club reportedly is considering an appropriation for the trust fund, thus making it the first service club in the community to do so. Others are expected to do the same.

What A Life! Swim in Daytime, Race at Night

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Elberta did 20 fast laps around the pool, sans tank suit, and then climbed out of the water to be towelled off.

"Good girl," said the trainer, and the four-year-old mare who holds a track record at the Detroit Race Course leaned sensuously into the towel.

Her glistening sides pumped from the workout. She was one of 30 horses who had taken a dip Saturday before heading for the automatic hot walk in the poolroom of Shady Lanes farm on Marshall Road just south of Nine Mile Road.

Swimming workout for horses is not a new innovation, nor is it commonplace.

"I was taking them swimming 20 years ago in Ireland," said the acting farm manager, Charles McErlain, who added quickly, "but that was in a pond, not a pool."

Shady Lanes was the first horse farm in Michigan to develop an indoor swimming pool for horses a half dozen years ago. Several others have since been opened in the state, and a number of other outdoor pools exist today.

An indoor pool reportedly is being considered by one of the Northville horse farms.

"I think swimming pools for horses was started in Australia, but I don't really know for sure," said McErlain.

"It's mostly for horses that have leg trouble," explained the man who prefers "workout on the track" despite his management of the Shady Lanes farm's pool.

"Look here," he said, pointing to the knobby leg of one of the trotters just out of the pool. "That's a calcium deposit build-up that bothers the horse when he is working out on a dirt track. He races well, sure, but the owner doesn't want to take the chance of hurting him in training."

In the Shady Lanes farm pool, a 40-foot oval, all four of the horse's legs are working hard in the water but his feet are not touching the bottom.

"I'm not an expert, but they tell me that 20 minutes of swimming is like eight miles of jogging on the track."

Harness horses as well as the thoroughbreds are put through their paces in the pool. Upwards of 40 of them a day use the 10-foot deep pool filled with 60-degree water.

Shady Lanes is a stabling farm for horses owned and trained by others. McErlain's job is to care for the animals, which range in number from the current population of 70 to 112 when the stables are filled.

The 160-acre farm, located between South Lyon and Whitmore Lake, formerly a chicken breeding plant, is owned by James Hoban who has little or no interest in race horses. For him the farm is strictly business.

Many of the horses stabled at the farm travel back and forth daily to the metropolitan Detroit race tracks during the racing seasons.

Not all of the horses work out in the pool, "but most of those who have tried it seem to get a kick out of it," smiled McErlain.

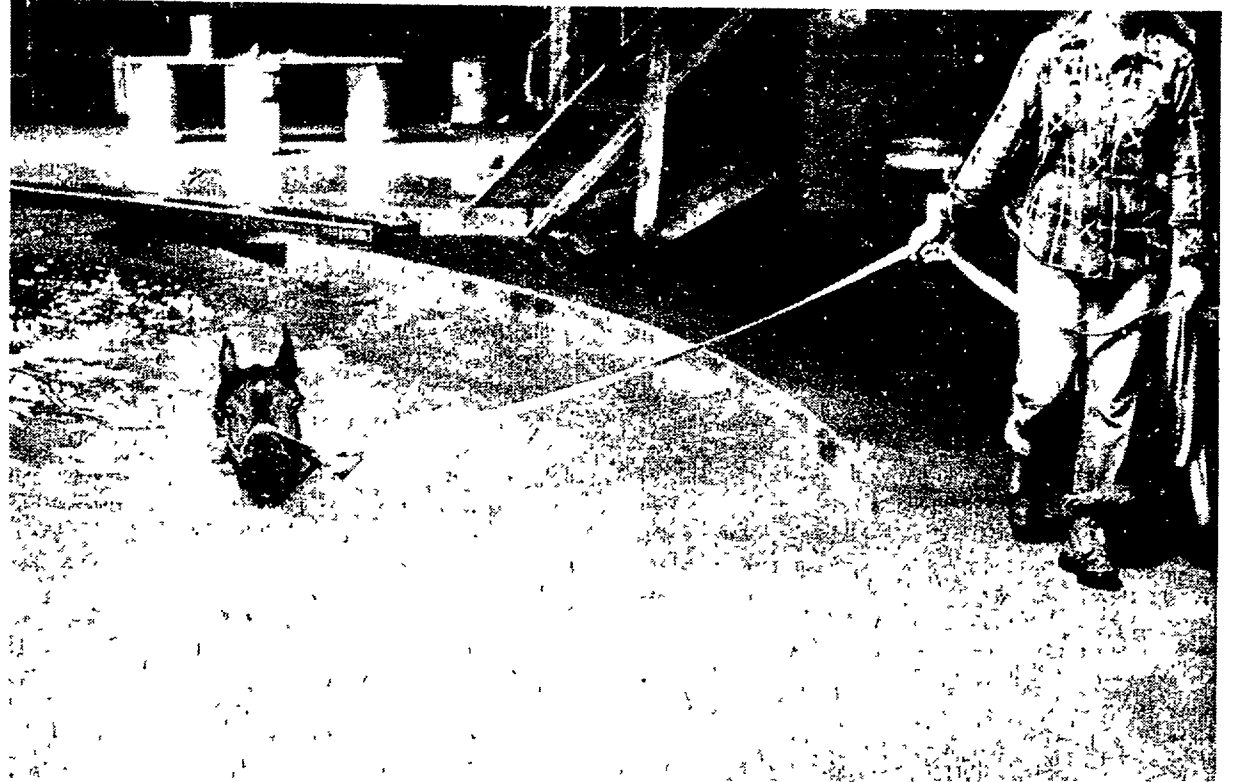

"Some fight it at first, and, believe it or not, some can't swim and that raises a bit of a problem."

The horses are led down into the pool along a slip-retardant incline.

"You should see 'em the first time they go in. Some fight it, some just take to it naturally. Some go in head first and submarine all the way to the other side."

The first time a horse goes swimming, three ropes are attached to the animal just in case he can't swim or in case he tries to climb out the side of the pool. "Once he gets the hang of it, a single rope is used."

Farm hands, holding the rope, walk briskly around the edge of the pool, keeping the animal close to the side to increase the distance. Stubborn horses are tethered to the center of the pool where they must tread water to keep afloat."

Daily swim in the Shady Lanes pool is the same as a good workout on the track

The pool is 10-feet deep throughout, which means that the horse does not touch the bottom anywhere.

Horses swim from one to 20 minutes.

"I'd say that about 95-percent of them seem to like it," said McErlain. "In my five years here I'd guess that maybe a half dozen of them hated the water."

All of the horses "talk" while swimming, either because of ecstasy "or maybe they're just scared."

During the initial laps around the pool only the horse's head and neck stick out of the water. But as he grows tired, his rear quarters begin to rise to the surface. "That's when we know they've had enough and it's time to get them out."

Swimming is a tiring exercise and after a long workout, the animal strains noticeably on the walk out of the pool. Some can barely stand.

"It's hard work, but it seems to help them. Knobby knees or not, we've got a lot of winners here who swim during the day and knock out the skeptics at night."

Some like it, some don't, and some can't swim

By CLIFF HILL

If you haven't investigated charter flights lately or if you were under the impression that bargain charter fares were available only to members of clubs, you are in for a very pleasant surprise thanks to a new travel concept, the one-stop inclusive tour charter or O.T.C.

O.T.C. packages must include air transportation, hotel accommodations, ground transfers and baggage handling charges. Features such as meals, sight-seeing tours, theater tickets or special parties may also be added to the package and included within its basic cost. Often the cost of the entire package will be considerably less than the air fare alone for a scheduled flight.

"The O.T.C. has established the opportunity for distant travel, especially overseas, within the budget of a majority of Americans," says William A. Hardenstine, senior vice-president of World Airways, the largest independently owned airline. "The O.T.C. is going to revolutionize American's concepts of vacation travel."

For example, an O.T.C. package including round-trip air fare between Detroit and Las Vegas including 3 nights in a deluxe hotel, is available for approximately $199. The lowest scheduled air fare for a stay in Las Vegas of the same duration is $290, and this is air fare only.

Several rules were established by the Civil Aeronautics Board when it approved the O.T.C. travel concept. Besides round trip passage on a charter flight, the package must include a minimum of $15 per night for ground accommodations ($7.50 for a child under 12 who shares a room with a full-price passenger). The tour must last at least seven days if the destination is outside of North America or four days within North America including the U.S., Canada, Mexico and the Caribbean.

Hotel operators are also excited about O.T.C. business prospects. They say that charter package guests can expect the same treatment as those paying full room rates.

Here are several impartial tips to travelers shopping for an O.T.C.

1. The majority of tour organizers operate as wholesalers rather than retailers so you should plan to check several travel agents in order to find out what's available.

With the number of O.T.C. programs planned to date and the newness of the entire concept, no one travel agent has complete knowledge of everything available. The size of the travel agency isn't What's It Like Being Wife of Minister?

The local minister has always been regarded as a moral pillar in the community. On or off church premises, he's expected to lead an exemplary life.

So it can be with his family members, his wife and children. Perhaps more than any other spouse, the minister's wife seems to bear responsibility for her husband's job, a special burden to act appropriately. And what's usually dismissed as typical kids' stuff may get special attention when a minister's son or daughter is involved.

The following is the first of a two-part series on the minister's family. Here, three local pastors' wives talk about their role. Next week, parsonage youngsters talk about their experiences.

I Felt Tied in Knots

"Women's roles are changing, and for the better," says Virginia Branstner, and she believes her role as a minister's wife is no exception.

Mrs. Branstner is an elementary teacher, mother of four, and the wife of Guenther C. Branstner, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Northville.

Her full-time job and her family responsibilities don't leave her much time for church activities. "I view myself pretty much as any other church member," she says. "I try not to take a leadership role."

The Branstners were married 28 years ago, and Mrs. Branstner remembers that being a clergyman's wife was different then. The congregation saw her as an extension of her husband. They expected her to be actively involved with the church.

"I felt tied in knots at the very beginning," she said.

As recently as 15 years ago, Mrs. Branstner said that a clergyman's wife had to base her behavior on what people in the congregation would think.

"If you wore make-up, you were criticized," she said. "If you worked, you were criticized."

VIRGINIA BRANSTNER OF NORTHVILLE

Mrs. Branstner loves her job and says she is much happier when she is working. She has been teaching full-time for the past 12 years.

Right now she is a first-second grade teacher at Farrand Elementary School in Plymouth.

There was a time, several years ago, at another church, when her desire to work created a conflict in the congregation. Mrs. Branstner respected the parishioner's wishes and stayed home.

We're Human, Too

Mrs. Berneice Bank knew exactly what she was getting into when she accepted the marriage proposal of Dr. Milton Bank three years ago. And she wouldn't have had it any other way.

"The church has always been my life, ever since I was a little girl in Indiana," says Mrs. Bank, a pleasant, soft-spoken woman with a warm and easy smile.

"I knew that the man I married would have to share my interest in church activities. And the fact that I married a minister hasn't changed my lifestyle at all. There wasn't much more that I could do as the wife of a minister that I wasn't already doing."

It was the second marriage for both Mrs. Bank and her husband, now the minister at the First United Methodist Church of South Lyon.

Both their original spouses had passed away and they became acquainted at the Westside United Methodist Church in Ann Arbor where Dr. Bank was the minister and Mrs. Bank was an active member of the congregation.

They were married on Valentine's Day at King's Chapel in Boston by Dr. Bank's son who followed his father into the ministry.

Mrs. Bank's interest in church work would seem to make her the ideal person to be the wife of a minister. She was particularly active with the youth group at the Westside Methodist Church.

"My husband used to tell me that he always knew when I came into the church because all the young people would be gathered around me," says Mrs. Bank with a smile.

"I've always believed that if you're a member of some organization, you ought to be active in that organization. I wondered at first if being the wife of a minister would change my relationship with the church, but it hasn't. I'm still doing the same things I've always done and enjoying them as much as I always have."

"If you're a member of a church, you're a member of the church, even if you are the minister's wife, and should still help out with all the activities of the church."

Although she says that her relationship with the church has not changed as a result of being the wife of a minister, Mrs. Bank is aware of some of the pitfalls and high expectations that are placed on a minister and his wife.

She recalls, for example, one minister who stirred the ire of a church women's group by picking all the cashews out of a neatly-prepared dish of mixed nuts. "They were upset," she recalls, "but I just asked them what difference his taste for cashews made in his ministry."

"I think sometimes people expect too much of a minister. That hasn't happened here in South Lyon, but I've been in congregations where it has happened. I sometimes think that a lot of people don't realize how much a minister works. He has to be on call 24 hours per day and he has to work on weekends as well. We can never plan anything for Saturday nights because my husband always wants to work on polishing his sermon.

"The thing that people have to remember is that ministers and their wives are humans, too."

She says she was surprised to hear a lot of the complaints of ministers' wives when she attended a retreat of ministers' wives some time ago.

"Some of the women said that you just can't have close friends in the congregation and that you always have to be careful of what you say and whom you're talking to."

"But I don't feel that way at all. I think to be a good minister's wife you must have understanding, a realization that your husband's time belongs to his church, and a genuine love for people."

"I've never felt that I've been anyone less than myself. I try not to say anything that would embarrass my husband, but when I have something to say, I say it — but in a diplomatic way."

"You've got to love people and you've got to be yourself. You can't pretend. If you try to be something you're not, the people will know it. It has to be sincere."

Wed to Man, Not Job

Brighton's Linda Anderson has been married to Lutheran pastor Richard Anderson for 12 years, and, over that time, she says she's never felt pressure to be anything she isn't.

"You see, I'm not a minister's wife. I'm Dick's wife. You don't refer to other women as 'the doctor's wife' or 'the teacher's wife.' If Dick changes jobs, I'm still his wife."

In her view, there's little difference between

Home Grown Tomatoes Top Garden Treat

No garden treat surpasses your own home-grown

According to statistics from Bedding Plants, Incorporated, the international organization of bedding plant growers, tomato transplants are the most popular vegetable plants grown for the home garden.

These tomato transplants will be labeled for your convenience. Most home gardeners want large, red, slightly acid, slicing tomatoes. They should look for the fine hybrid tomatoes, which produce numerous fruits of uniform size on healthy, disease-resistant plants.

Often gardeners choose one or two plants of specialty or novelty tomatoes to complete their tomato gardens. The thick-walled Italian canner or tomato paste varieties, the small, round red or yellow cherry tomatoes, the large yellow-fruited slicing tomatoes, and the newer cocktail tomato varieties are some examples of desirable kinds to plant.

Make Garden Portable—with Containers

You've heard of portable TV's and portable radios—and now you can even have a portable flower garden as well.

You can move your plants around as lighting conditions change—and move them indoors to add temporary color as decorations. How is this "miracle" possible? It's simple—just plant in containers.

Growing flowers in containers is easy, according to the new Ortho gardening book, "House Plants Indoors/Outdoors." Almost any kind of container will do—clay, plastic, glass, etc. You can even use something quite different that doesn't usually hold plants to make an excitingly unique display—like an old fish bowl, a kerosene lamp, a decorative storage jar, or whatever else you can think of; let your imagination be your guide.

Not All Are Bad Guys

Bugs with White Hats?

By KATHY COPLEY

Not everything which crawls across your prize Syringa swegiflexa is a hazard to its health. In fact, there are quite a number of insects which, in their larvae or adult stages, are the enemies of the real bad guys of the garden.

Such beneficial bugs fall into two categories, predators and parasites. Predators kill and eat their prey; parasites attach themselves to the live insect and draw their life needs from the insect, in the end killing it.

Gardening Is Easier

Gardening for home gardeners is easier now than ever before.

Scientific research into plant growth mysteries and into cultural methods has resulted in numerous changes in plant production and cultural techniques.

Fertilizers for vegetable gardens or for flower gardens are being produced in a new, light-weight granular form for ease in handling and uniformity in application. study the results of soil tests which can be done for you by your State University Agronomy Department, and follow directions for use of any fertilizer recommended to fit the special soil requirements in your garden.

The praying mantis is probably the largest of the predators. A young mantis feeds on aphids, flies and small caterpillars. Mature ones eat grasshoppers, large beetles, and others. The female mantis has a nasty habit of eating the smaller male after mating.

Mantis egg cases can be ordered from garden supply houses, so it is possible to introduce a mantis population in the home garden.

Lady bugs are well known as insect-eaters. Their prey includes Japanese beetle larvae, aphids, mites, scale, mealy bugs, leaf hoppers, corn ear worm, and others. One lady bug larva eats 25 aphids a day, not enough to control the world population, but a good start when you consider how many larva there are around.

Some fairly surprising insects are helpful in controlling less helpful ones. Dragon flies and damselflies eat mosquitoes and midges. Aquatic insects feed on mosquito larvae. Lacewings, in their larval and adult stages eat aphids, mealy bugs, scale, thrips, and mites. Fireflies eat slugs and caterpillars while still in their larval stage.

As larvae, robber flies, tiger beetles and blister beetles feed on grasshopper eggs and other soil larvae.

Other predators include antlions (also called aphid lions, for good reason), beetles, dobson flies, fiery hunters, flowerflies, hornets, shield bugs, soldier bugs, ground beetles, checkered beetles, rove beetles, assassin and ambush bugs, and stink bugs.

An excellent reference to use for identification of these insects is The Gardener's Bug Book by Cynthia Westwood (published by Doubleday). It contains a physical description of all potential pests and beneficial insects as well as techniques for their introduction and control.

"Captain" Cockren

Crusty old,
"Captain" Cockren,
Stumbled through the door
And out into
The white gulf sand.
He cursed aloud
When the sharp,
Mid-morning sun
Stabbed him squarely
In his one good eye.

Harvests

From the gardens of the past
We reap the harvests of today;
From seed we planted in life's soil
Grow flower or thistle, come what may.

The thought seeds nourished in our mind
Bear good or ill along the way,
Depending on the choice we make —
To serve, or be served — cry or pray.

The light is there for those who seek;
Our step is but to meditate,
And thus, to cultivate our souls
To realize, and demonstrate.

Parenting

It must be hard being a parent and all—
Forever standing firm and tall.
To pray and hope
Your kid won't turn to dope...
To wait all those trying years and see
What kind of a person he or she will be.
To try and discipline by whatever ways
And watch it appear to not even daze.
To suffer the pains of disappointment and disillusion
And the waves of rebellion and hatred that WILL be sent.
To lie awake at night and wonder
What went wrong, where did you blunder...
To cry alone until the tears show only on the inside
And wish you were the fortune teller that your children confide.
It must be difficult to see part of yourself growing up and astray.
After all, it seems like a million years and a day
When you first began to show them "the way."
It must be a very difficult task?
To find the answer I won't have to ask.
It must be a trial of faith and pure devotion
That is escaped by nearly none.
It's no easy job, that I'm certain.
Not for man or woman.
You do it right the first time or lose the chance forever more
You never win and yet you never lose:
Being a parent must seem something like a war.

THE RELOCATION of the Brighton office of Real Estate One to 117 West Grand River was announced today by Daniel R. Williamson, director of corporate property for the Farmington Hills based firm, with 28 metropolitan Detroit offices and 26 outstate Michigan offices.

Under the direct supervision of Nancy Vinnes, the original Brighton office was opened in November, 1973.

"During 1974, the staff participated in 57 transactions totaling $2,159,000 and in 1975 increased total production almost 50 percent with 89 transactions totaling $3,158,000," said Mrs. Vinnes.

necessarily a reflection of its knowledge or reliability, it depends on the individual agent serving you.

2. Thoroughly review each program of interest. You should study the fine print items in the travel brochure and understand each element offered in the package. How many days will be spent at the destination? Are meals included and how many? Can you upgrade your hotel accommodations at a moderate increase in price? Are the "extras" in the package really valuable and are they things you want to participate in?

3. The best key to discovering the reliability of the tour operator is to find out whether he's operating several charters to a particular destination or just a few since he has to convince the Civil Aeronautics Board that he has the resources to operate his programs. At the same time you're looking into O.T.C.'s you might check other types of charter offerings since a variety of arrangements exist.

"For the first three months of 1976, sales have exceeded $1,200,000 and I am predicting we will top $4,000,000 before the year is over.

"Moving to larger, more modern quarters gives our staff a greater opportunity to serve the Livingston County communities, and being able to say we are directly across from the Canopy, one of Brighton's best known landmarks, makes it very easy for our clients to find us."

GARY SMITH, registered pharmacist, has been promoted to the position of manager of the Perry Store in the Brighton Mall on East Grand River in Brighton.

The announcement was made by Jack A. Robinson, president of the 39-unit drug store chain.

Smith, 27, formerly served as assistant manager of the store. He first joined Perry in December, 1974, as an intern.

Smith is a member of the Michigan Pharmaceutical Association and the American Pharmaceutical Association.

He earned his pharmacy degree at Ferris State College. Smith and his wife, Nancy, live in Brighton.

Richcreek is in the Detroit sales office located in Southfield.

A native of Marion, Indiana, he joined the firm in 1962 as a shift foreman in the company's Marion plant. He worked in production and cost analysis positions until 1969 when he was transferred to Detroit.

A graduate of Indiana University with an associate degree in business administration, he is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Society of Plastics Engineers. He and his family have been Northville residents for seven years.

A teller at the Grand River office "sold" 40 new $100 bills for $80 each, 50 new $50 bills for $40 each, 75 new $20 bills for $16 each, 100 new $10 bills for $8 each, 100 new $5 bills for $4 each and 500 Bicentennial silver clad dollars for 50 cents each.

TED COLLEY

Colley has been in professional sales for the past 15 years and has lived in Brighton for 10 years. He is a member of the Church of Christ, Brighton Masonic Lodge, Brighton Booster Club and initially served on the Brighton Little Football board.

American Federal Savings will be giving away money throughout the week long celebration. Customers will receive a "silver" dollar for every $1,000 deposited at the new branch, up to a maximum of 10 "silver" dollars.

Farmington, Farmington Hills and Novi area residents received a special direct mail piece containing a key which may open the Treasure Chest at the branch. Owners of the lucky keys will qualify for the drawing to award 20 prizes which include a TV, CB radio transceiver, man's and lady's LED watches and more. The Treasure Chest drawing will be held Saturday, May 8 at 2 p.m. Extra keys are also available at the branch.

AMERICAN PRIMITIVES of Brighton antique dealer Sally Burgess will be among the items featured in a Spirit of '76 antique show at Meridian Mall, 19823 East Grand River, in Okemos, Michigan, April 28 through May 2. "China influence" pieces also will be special attractions, according to promoters Marjorie Kulifay and Gloria Siegert. There is no admission or parking charge.

"MA BELL" is predicting that Michigan residents will make more than one million long distance calls on Mother's Day.

Because Mother's Day is traditionally one of the busiest holidays of the year for the phone company — second only to Christmas — Michigan Bell is urging customers to call during the less busy hours.

Haze Wilson, local Michigan Bell manager, said calls in the early morning, all afternoon or early evening have a better chance of going right through on Mother's Day.

"This means that callers will be better off phoning before 9 a.m. or between 1 and 8 p.m. on Sunday," Wilson said.

Across the country the telephone industry rearranges circuits generally used for heavy business day calling to make available a maximum number of transmission paths for Mother's Day calls, he said.

Since so many persons will be using long distance circuits for extended conversations, some calls may not go through on the first attempt. If that happens, he suggested that callers wait a few minutes instead of immediately trying to place the call again.

Some may want to phone on Saturday to avoid the Mother's Day congestion. "And to save time and money, callers can dial their own calls direct. No matter what the hour — direct dial rates are lower than operator-assisted rates," Wilson said.

About 650,000 long distance Mother's Day calls will be made within the state and 400,000 will be made to places outside Michigan — including calls to overseas countries, he estimated. About 90 percent of these calls will be dialed direct by customers.

Nationwide, the Bell System predicts it will handle more than 13.1 million telephone calls between states and 400,000 overseas calls.

I Felt Tied in Knots

"That wouldn't happen anymore," said Mrs. Branstner.

She now feels free to come to her own decisions, based on her own feelings.

"I set my own priorities. I try to do a few things well," she said.

Her time is divided between her job, the church Youth Club, and the family cottage up north.

Sometimes, Mrs. Branstner still feels a twinge of guilt because she doesn't have time for all the things she feels she should do. As an example, she mentioned a recent Women's Society style show that she had to miss.

"I should have been there and I would have loved to be there, but it was at Noon and it was impossible," she said.

It's a busy life, but one Mrs. Branstner now finds "very satisfying." She credits changing ideas about women for releasing her from some of the rigid limitations of the past.

"Our whole lifestyle has changed — throughout the country. Our vision and attitudes have changed about what women can do," she said. "Things are much better for women now."

Being in the Northville congregation has also reduced the burden which Mrs. Branstner carries as the pastor's wife.

"When you have a congregation with a lot of leadership, you don't have to take all the responsibilities," she said. "This is as it should be."

minister's wives who find their duties difficult and wives of other professionals.

The happiest wives are those who are "persons within themselves," she says. Those who have a rough time are those whose identity is based on their husband's job, who are married to that role.

A teacher who holds a master's in social work degree, Mrs. Anderson has organized year-round programs for retarded persons at St. George's Church. She's also been an active volunteer in Livingston Intermediate School District activities, and hse's helped set up programs for the retarded through the city library.

In those ways, she says, she's put her talents to good use.

"I don't do much with the ladies' groups, or sing in the choir. But that's just because my talents aren't in those areas."

In part, Mrs. Anderson says the women's movement has made it easier for her to pursue her own interests. By and large, parishioners have less conventional expectations of ministers' wives.

"I know a few people raise their eyebrows if I wear slacks to communion. But, mostly, I think it's a compliment to the congregation that I feel so free to use my talents as I want to."

Last year, the church women's group nominated her for the local Jay-C-ette woman of the year award. That, she said, was the "greatest compliment."

"It showed me the congregation is where it should be."

Prominent Detroit Friends Salute 'Headmaster'

MR. AND MRS. F. ELDEN SHAW

Local area couple will be in the spotlight in testimonial dinner tomorrow night

Tributes will rain down on a local resident from all directions tomorrow night in a star-studded testimonial dinner at the Raleigh House in Southfield.

But 91-year-old F. Alden Shaw isn't the least bit nervous. He's more concerned about the flat of tomato plants he has growing in his house at 52095 West Nine Mile Road near Chubb.

"Oh, yes, it will be nice to see old friends, and, of course, I am very honored by so many kindnesses," is the closest he comes to excitement as he and his wife reminisce in their charming farm home where they have lived for 43 years.

Shaw is founder of the famous Detroit Country Day School, located on 13 Mile Road in Birmingham, of which he is the headmaster emeritus.

Next fall he will begin his 63rd year of teaching, offering a course on Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau.

Honorary chairman of tomorrow's testimonial will be one of his former pupils, Semon "Bunkie" Knudsen, now president of White Motor Company.

And serving as master of ceremonies will be still another former Country Day pupil of Shaw — Bud Guest, well-known radio entertainer and public speaker.

"He has been overly kind to me over the years," smiles Shaw. "I knew his father well, and Bud's son was a student of mine, too. The last time I visited with him was when he spoke in Northville last year."

Among honored guests will be Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, Secretary of State Richard Austin, United States Representative John Conyers, and Walter Poole, former associate conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and teacher of music at Country Day in the early days of the school.

One of his closest friends, the Rt. Reverend Richard S. Emrich, former bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, will be unable to attend. But he has sent his personal good wishes to the Lyon Township couple.

He counts among his closest friends the current headmaster of Country Day, Richard Schlegel.

An oil portrait of Shaw has been completed by the well-known Michigan artist, Patricia Burnett, and will be presented to him by Dr. Clayton Gordon, president of the board of trustees.

It was in 1914 that Shaw, a graduate of Boston Latin School and Harvard University, came to Detroit to start a career. Shortly thereafter, the following announcement appeared:

"Mr. F. Alden Shaw, A. B. (Harvard, 1909), announces that September next, he will open a small school for boys. Having had experience as a teacher in Boston, and as a private tutor in the families of Mr. George Lee, of Boston, and Mr. Edwin D. Morgan of New York, he comes to Detroit, where there would seem to be a larger field for him."

Four students answered the call, and Shaw, tutoring at his home then located on Ferry Avenue in downtown Detroit, had made the beginning. A year later, he was joined by his mother, who became in effect, the mother of the school. While her son tutored an increasing number of students each year, Mrs. Shaw took care of first aid, food, and much of the administrative work.

In two years the school moved with the Shaws to Euclid Avenue, also in downtown Detroit. Soon after came World War I, and he enlisted in the field artillery, leaving the school in the hands of his mother and the faculty members who were exempt from the draft.

Upon his return from the war, he plunged into the redevelopment of the school. The house on Euclid Avenue had a small lot, and it was obvious that a move to larger facilities was needed.

In 1919, Shaw rented the large Senator Palmer Estate at Second Avenue and Six Mile Road, and 80 students and a faculty of six had a new school.

The Palmer Estate contained two large ponds for hockey and several fields for athletics, and for the first time, a wide program of extracurricular activities and sports was offered the students.

Shaw and his faculty were now assisted by his bride, Amy Ellis, who became the bookkeeper and business manager of the growing school.

But the Palmer Estate was rented only temporarily, and when it was sold

In 1925, the school was forced back into the cramped quarters of the Euclid Avenue home. For two years he continued teaching there while negotiating for a better location with the many friends he had accumulated over the years.

Personal friends, the late Walter O. Briggs and Luman Goodenough assisted him in forming a corporation in 1926 and purchasing land on Seven Mile Road at Wyoming.

In 1927 the first graduating class received diplomas. Among the three graduates was the late Oliver Burke, Jr., world acclaimed chemist and creator of the synthetic rubber process.

During World War II, Country Day was virtually turned into a military school. For the purpose of preparing his students for the draft, he instituted military uniforms, organized drills in place of athletics, and engaged military officers to lecture to the student body. As a result, all Country Day students entered the service as commissioned officers.

It was during the years at the Seven Mile location that Shaw fostered close relationships with students, parents and faculty.

Among his "boys", besides Knudsen and Guest, were Frederick G. Buesser, Jr., past president of the Michigan Bar Association Anthony C. Buesser, lawyer and secretary of the Country Day board of trustees; Blaise Newman, account executive of J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency; Roger Davis, Stanley S. Kresge, Dr. Frazer MacKenzie, Dr. Bruce A. Kresge, Edward B. Flint, and Robert C. VanderKloot.

The Shaws' three sons also attended the school. Their daughter, however, attended school in Ann Arbor since Country Day was not yet then co-educational.

Soon after the war, the surroundings of the school changed radically, Seven Mile Road, which had been a two-lane

The Headmaster

I gave to him a boy of mine,
His life to shape and plan
And when he'd finished his design
He gave me back a man.

I called it: "Sending him to school"
So runs the common thought.
But more than precept, maxim, rule
The wise Headmaster taught.

From text books boys will knowledge get,
But more from what they see.
They learn from high example set
Just what a man should be.

Of him I write no fulsome line.
But gratefully I can Say this: He took a boy of mine and gave me back a Man.

Proclamation Designates May 15-22

Northville Plans Michigan Week

With plans already being formulated, Mayor A.M. Allen has formally proclaimed May 15-22 as Michigan Week in Northville. He signed the proclamation last week in the presence of Mrs. Robert F. Brueck, chairman of the local event. The proclamation reads in part:

"Michigan Week began in a small way more than two decades ago, and has grown into a unique tradition which is observed in communities of both Michigan peninsulas. Michigan Week is the program through which we, the people of Michigan, learn more about our state and promote its welfare in every possible way.

"Michigan—Pioneer in Progress" is the theme of the 23rd annual observance of Michigan Week saluting this Bicentennial year. Once again, this will be an opportunity to show our pride in Northville and in Michigan itself."

Designated days of the week, which begins Saturday, May 15 as Community Pride Day, are:

Sunday, May 16, Spiritual Foundation; Monday, May 17, Government Day; Tuesday, May 18, Our Heritage; Wednesday, May 19, Livelihood Day; Thursday, May 20, Education Day; Friday, May 21, Hospitality Day; and Saturday, May 22, Youth Day.

According to Mrs. Brueck, Northville's celebration will begin with the traditional street washing of downtown Main and Center streets by Northville firemen.

The street washing, which will begin at 7:30 a.m., will be followed by a flag raising ceremony by city policemen at the city hall.

At 9 a.m. Green Ridge Nursery will plant a tree in the park behind the city hall. The tree is a donation to the city by members of the Northville Beautification Commission as their individual contribution to the Plant A Tree program now underway in the community.

Wilson Funk will have his helpers handing out litter bags and distributing informative materials about the state in the downtown area.

Churches of the community are being asked to offer special prayers for the city, county and state officials for spiritual guidance in running the government.

On Monday, Northville is paired with Utica in the traditional mayor's exchange program.

"We will be hosting officials from Utica, and Mayor Allen will travel to Utica for the day," Mrs. Brueck said. "This day will start with a flag raising ceremony at the Mill Race Historical Village and a tour of the grounds."

Visitors from Utica will include Mayor and Mrs. Fred Beck and Mayor pro-tem and Mrs. Roy Juneau.

The visitors will tour points of interest in Northville and be the guests of the Northville Rotary Club, whose regular weekly meeting will be changed from Tuesday to Monday, at a luncheon program. At this program awards will be given out by the Northville Beautification Commission for outstanding business improvements for the year.

On Tuesday the Mill Race will be open for visitors and

Planners

Turn Down Bid For Lot Split

A lot split proposal was denied in a recommendation of the Northville Township Planning Commission last week Tuesday.

The recommended denial goes now to the township board. It involves a request of Robert Lupini to divide two lots into three on his Ridge Court property.

Lupini claimed the decision not to allow him to divide his property will cause him undue financial hardship since he has a prospective buyer for one of the lots.

Planning Consultant George Vilcan's letter to the commission suggested that it should recommend to deny the request because public utilities are not available.

The commission also voted to prolong taking any action on site plan approval for a second warehouse building that Jack Doheny wishes to build on Silver Springs Court.

The commission decided unanimously to wait until Doheny provides architectural plans showing the buildings elevation and outline of the green belt which is necessary.

John T. Jerome Earns OU Honor

John T. Jerome of 22867 Cranbrook in Novi has been named to the dean's list at Ohio University for the 1976 winter quarter.

To be named to the list, issued in April, a student must have earned a grade point average of 3.3 or better on a scale of 4.0 (straight A) for the quarter and have earned 15 hours, 12 of which were taken for a letter grade.

Jerome is the son of the Reverend George Jerome. He is among 1,983 students named to the list at the Athens, Ohio, school.

Oakland Law Library Dedicated Today

Citizens of Oakland County have one of the finest law libraries in existence, but a good percentage of the population (even some librarians, as well as city, village and township officials) do not know it exists.

On May 5, at 4 p.m., the library will be formally dedicated to two former Oakland County Circuit Court jurists. Lifelong county residents, Clark J. Adams and Philip Pratt, will be on hand for the dedication that will take place in the Commissioner's Auditorium at 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac. The public is invited.

Some form of a law reference library has been in existence since 1904, when Oakland County's third Court House was built on the corner of Saginaw and Huron, in downtown Pontiac.

The first library was on the second floor of the Court House, and consisted of simply two rooms. One room had two tables for reading, but only one dim ceiling light.

Shelving units, 12 feet high, lined the walls of both rooms. The high shelves had to be reached by using an old, oak step ladder. That same ladder is still in use in 1976.

Because of poor ventilation, the library was beastly hot in the summer. During the winter, the temperature alternated between extreme hot and cold, due to the steam heat.

At times, the heat was so intense that the glue on the bindings of the books dried up causing many book covers to fall off.

From 1959 until 1960, the library was closed because there was no one to care for the books that now numbered some 7500 volumes.

Richard L. Beer was hired in 1960, as the law library's first professionally trained librarian.

Beer soon discovered that the collections were in shambles. Not one set of Michigan's state statutes was complete. Nor were those that were used and stored in the offices of the judges or the prosecutor.

It took Beer nearly a year to put things in order, so that county staff and library patrons could find the materials they needed.

The next task for the new law librarian was to begin planning for a new library, as the present Oakland County Court House Towers were then under construction on North Telegraph.

Several students, employed for the summer, assisted Beer with organizing and packing the books.

In August, 1961, the entire library collection was moved to its present location on the fifth floor of the Court Tower.

Norma Merriman was Beer's first full time assistant. She was followed by Georgia O'Rourke, then Betty Stoll, then Jane Gonder.

In 1973, Karen Moss, current acquisitions librarian, joined Beer. In 1974, Lane Fichtenau, catalog librarian, was added, bringing the present library staff to three professionals.

Throughout the years, the library has received many gifts of books from individual attorneys and law firms.

By 1973, the library collection had developed to the point that shelving units had to be rearranged in order to permit further expansion for books, but this has cut down on seating area.

The new library offices, built in 1975, eliminated more seating. However, these offices were needed for a more efficient library operation. The library now has a storage room, as well as a conference room, available for the use of the patrons.

By 1975, the collection grew to approximately 30,000 volumes. This growth required the major shifting of collections to make room for new materials. The latest shift, completed near the end of 1975, necessitated using the top of the book ranges as additional shelf space.

The old, oak library ladder is back in use again.

Within the last two years, the library has been acquiring material on microfilm. This may be viewed and copied on the microfilm reader-printer available in the Audio-Visual Room. In addition, the library is beginning to move into the audio field, and has some course material available on cassettes.

This county facility is also the base library for the Oakland University paralegal program.

The library is for public use. Patrons need not be members of the legal profession.

League Taps Kriewall

Novi City Manager Edward Kriewall has been appointed to serve on the Michigan Municipal League Governmental Training Committee.

"We will be involved in assessment of training needs for municipal officials and employees, the evaluation of existing training programs and the establishment of programs by the league to fill training needs," said Kriewall.

"This group will serve as an advisory committee for the implementation of the League Action Training and Development Service being funded under the Federal Intergovernmental Personnel Act (IPA) which will have as its primary objective the extension of the league's educational program on a continuing basis."

Kriewall added that the league is interested in expanding its training to municipal employees in the middle management department head staff and line employees.

"Areas of government employees that have been neglected as far as training such as equipment operators will be implemented," said the city manager.

Kriewall is one of 11 administrators in the governmental training committee selected from among city and county employees throughout the state.

Air Force Bound

Mark A. Porter, 18, of 40579 Village Oaks Road in Novi will be leaving soon for basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas for six weeks of basics.

Porter will then attend school to become a jet engine mechanic. He was a January, 1976 graduate of Novi High School.

Attend LWV Conclave

The League of Women Voters of the United States will hold its national convention May 3-7 at the New York Hilton Hotel in New York City.

Among those attending from LWV of Northville - Plymouth - Canton - Novi will be Annalee Mathes of Northville and Sally Posthill of Plymouth.

More than 1,500 delegates from around the country who are League leaders are expected to participate in the League's 32nd convention at which the national program for the next two years will be determined.

Commenting on the forthcoming convention, the League of Women Voters national president Ruth C. Clusen said:

"There couldn't be a more fitting time for the League's national convention than during a presidential election year. Not only does our 56 year old organization have a long tradition of voter service to the American public, but we have remained a strong force in bringing change to government. Candidates will be watching League convention activities, I believe, because they know that our national program will underline many of the critical areas where change is needed."

MERIT!

'Enriched Flavor' process prompts unprecedented response to taste of new low tar MERIT.

Smokers are talking about a new kind of cigarette.

It's MERIT. The remarkable new low tar cigarette made with the 'Enriched Flavor' process.

MERIT has only 9 mg. tar. One of the lowest tar levels in smoking today. Yet, taste tests proved that MERIT delivers as much—or more—flavor than cigarettes having up to 60% more tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested in what people like yourself are writing to us about MERIT.

Sub to Get Water

Novi City Council last week unanimously approved resolution five directing the assessor to set the assessment roll for Meadowbrook Manor subdivision water main.

She's Courtmate

The World Championship of Tennis Finals will be held in Dallas at Southern Methodist University's Moody Coliseum May 4-9 with Diana Dye, a student at SMU, serving as a WCT Courtmate for the many activities surrounding pro tennis' most spectacular week.

Miss Dye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shirl Dye of Walnut Creek, California, is a biology-pre-med major at SMU. She graduated from Northville High School.

The roll is to be set based upon an estimated $88,000 figure which includes use of ductile iron pipe for the water main. A lower price of $73,000 would be levied if residents in the subdivision agreed to use asbestos piping. However, residents so far have indicated they want the ductile iron.

After bids come in, a meeting will be held between the city and residents to determine which kind of pipe will be used. Projected starting date on the project is July or August.

Novi Council also approved resolution five for the Dayton Hudson water line which will eventually serve the Twelve Oaks Mall. Total cost of the project is estimated at $400,000 and Dayton Hudson will be paying $170,000 of that sum.

street on the outskirts of town, soon was a six-lane boulevard thriving with business on all sides and residential areas north and south of it. The school was again in the midst of the growing city and was being hemmed in by the coming of industries and homes.

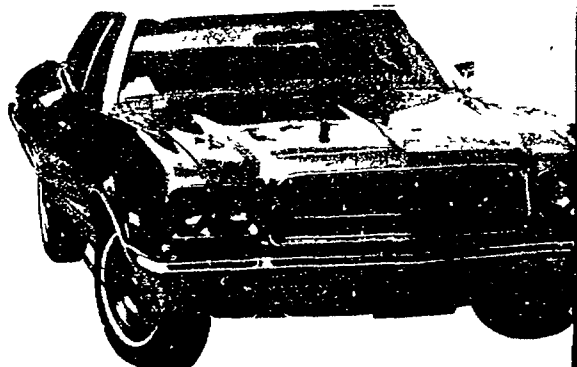

These conditions, coupled with increasing enrollment and population shift, forced Country Day to move again. In 1956, a 33-acre site at Thirteen Mile and Lahser was purchased.

In 1961, after Country Day had settled into its new site and things were moving smoothly, Shaw retired and became headmaster emeritus. Nevertheless, he has taught a philosophy course every fall since then, serves as a member of the board of trustees, and is a vital presence in the school's life.

Married 53 years, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have four children, two great-grandchildren and 13 grandchildren. One of their grandsons was killed in Vietnam.

The man who launched Michigan's most famous day school moves among his tulip beds, behind the old house, and says later, slowly "It has been a fine life; the school has been rewarding in so many ways."

It was Shaw who inspired Edgar A. Guest, acclaimed American poet and father of Bud Guest, to write an expressive accolade titled, "The Headmaster."

Novi Wins First Track Meet in Three Years

The Novi tracksters have finally ended their three year drought with an 88-44 victory over Clarenceville, last Monday.

"Things are improving and we are looking forward to winning a few more," claimed Coach Del Munson after the victory.

"It was a good team effort. We showed a lot of interest and pride," stated the coach.

The Wildcats captured 11 first places, seven seconds and broke two school records.

Ben Gaylon heaved the shot put over 46 feet to top his own school mark. Tom Morris ran a 23.7 in the 220 yard dash breaking the record that had stood since John Davey held the record in 1969. Both record breakers took first place in their events.

Novi got a quick start in the field events. In addition to Gaylon the shot putters slammed the event as Lou Bannatz finished second and Joe Sylvestri was third. Gaylon was also first in the discus.

Long jumper, Andy Raddant leaped 18' 11" to take first and Mark Mills added to the score finishing third.

The high jumpers placed one-two with the performances of Tom Morris and Jeff MacDermaid. MacDermaid also topped the pole vault competition clearing 10' 6". Don Moore a promising junior was second in the vaulting.

The 880 relay team of Raddant, Sylvestri, Geoff Morse and Morris finished well ahead of the Clarenceville runners with a clocking of 138.1.

Mark Mills was first in the 880 yard dash and Morse beat out the competition in the 440. Kevin Pyant gave a strong showing placing third in the 440.

Bryant Hammond who usually finishes first in the hurdles placed second in both the high and low hurdles but anchored the winning mile relay team of Raddant, Morris, and Mills.

yard dash as did Jeff Johnston and Glenn Caudell in the mile.

The 440 relay team of Tom Yake, Don Moore, Pyant and Sylvestri also came away winners.

Thursday, undefeated league leader, Saline appeared to be the second Novi victim as the Wildcats led 31-14 after a strong field event showing. However, an admitted coaching error and weakness in the distance events allowed the visitors to pull away 73-59.

Gaylon again won the shot put and the discus and MacDermaid cleared 11 feet for first in the pole vault. Morris and Raddant were victors in the high jump and long jump respectively.

However, from then on, Saline went to work and Novi's weakness became apparent.

Novi managed a third in the 880 and Saline swept both the mile and the two mile.

"The coaching staff blew it by putting Jeff Johnstone, who is usually a miler, in the two mile run. He would have taken a first in the mile but ended up not placing in the two mile," admitted Munson.

"Bad handoffs cost us the 880 relay and they just out ran us in the 440," continued Munson.

Hammond managed first place finishes in both the high and low hurdles and Morris was again first in the 440 yard dash.

Morris broke the school record he had broken three days earlier in the 220 but finished second.

"It was a dead heat but they gave the Saline runner the nod," Munson said.

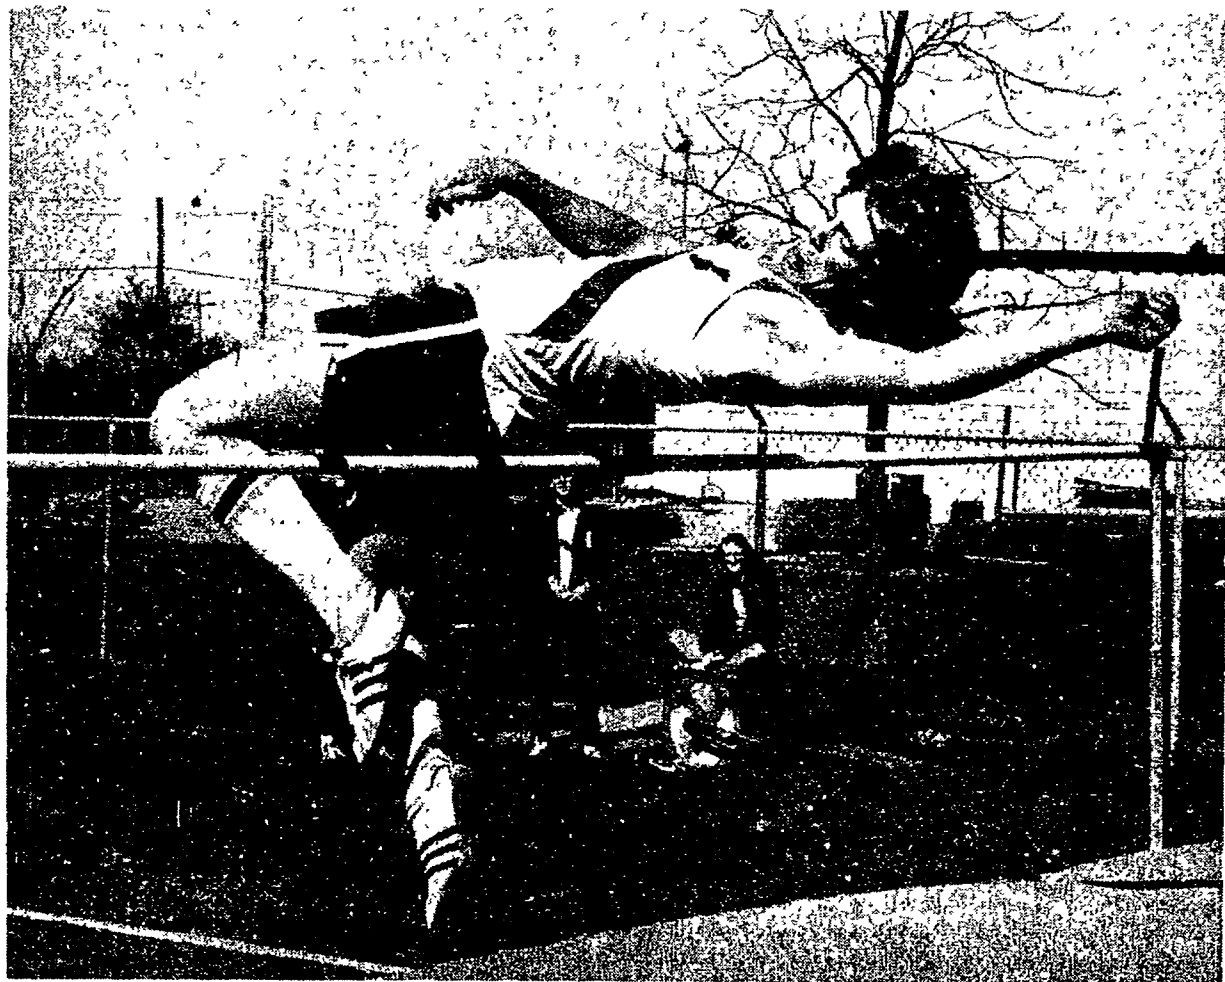

The mile relay team posted a first place victory to conclude Novi's scoring.

"There were a lot of good individual efforts. We just need more depth in the half mile on up," revealed Munson.

The Wildcat tracksters, with a 1-2 record travel to Brighton tomorrow.

Vida Mikalonis—Northville's First 'All America' Swimmer

Seven years ago Vida Mikalonis was asked by her father if she wanted to take up swimming.

Vida calmly responded, "Sure, why not?"

Recently the name "Vida Mikalonis" has become synonymous with girls' swimming at Northville High School.

Now the sophomore's name will be spread across the country as the two-year varsity letter winner has received recognition as a high school All-American for her outstanding achievements in swimming, academics, sportsmanship and extra-curricular activities.

Her name will appear in a published volume which will be sent to well known colleges and universities and appear in Women's Sport Magazine.

"I was so excited when I found out, that I couldn't believe it," explained Vida.

"I get a lot of kidding from my friends. When I walk down the halls in school, they say, 'Here comes the All-American,'" Mikalonis said.

Now an All-American, Vida sets her goals high.

"I want to take first in the state, go to the nationals and hopefully go to the Olympics," explains the 16-year-old.

"She has obtained an overall grade point average of 3.294, and has still been able to handle long hours of practice and strenuous swim meets," praised swim coach, Karen Turner.

Mikalonis holds the current Northville girls' swim team's record in the 200 yard individual medley, 100 yard butterfly, 100 yard backstroke, and the 100 yard freestyle.

The slender swimmer is also a member of the record-holding 200 yard medley relay and the 400 freestyle relay teams.

"Vida is a very hard worker and I can put her in any event and know that she will place," stated Turner.

Other outstanding swimming achievements of Mikalonis over the past two years include:

1974—Member of the League Champion 200 yard medley relay team, 1974—League champion in the 100 yard butterfly, 1974—League champion in the 100 yard backstroke, 1974—14th in the State meet in the 100 yard butterfly, 1974—14th in the State meet in the 100 yard backstroke.

1975—Member of the League champion 200 yard medley relay team, 1975—League champion in the 200 yard individual medley, 1975—League champion in the 100 yard backstroke, 1975—Fifth in the State meet in the 100 yard butterfly, 1975—11th in the State meet in the 100 yard backstroke, 1975—Eighth place in the Detroit News swim meet for the 200 yard individual medley.

Vida's brother, Saulius, also holds the Northville swim record in the 200 yard individual medley relay.

"My brother and dad and all my coaches have been of help in my development as a swimmer," thanked Mikalonis.

Mr. and Mrs. Liudas Mikalonis of 46090 Norton are the parents of the All-American.

Scott Parsons the top hurler for Novi

Wildcats Split Pair; Defeat Milan, 4-2

"When we don't make errors, we win," claims Novi baseball coach Rick Trudeau.

This was the case last week as Novi played errorless ball against Milan and won, 4-2, but two bobbles cost the Wildcats the game, 6-5, versus Lincoln.

Tuesday all of Lincoln's runs were unearned as Scott Parsons was tagged with the loss.

Parsons tried to help his own cause with a two run scoring triple in the third that got Novi on the board. Mark Frere's bases loaded double accounted for the other three Novi tallies but the two errors and a few misplayed pop-ups were disastrous for Novi.

Parsons again took the hill on Friday against Milan.

However, this time with defensive support and a good relief job by Bill Giorgio, the senior left-hander was able to post his second win of the season.

Russ Gardner piloted the victory as Coach Trudeau was in the hospital for minor surgery.

Dave Beal drove in a pair of runs with a double. Parsons and Biff McAllister collected the other two runs.

"We don't lose, we beat ourselves," said Trudeau who still thinks Novi has a shot at the conference title despite a 2-4 record. Chelsea is on top with a 4-0 mark.

The Novi JV baseball squad lost two games last week to drop their record to 1-6.

Last Tuesday, Lincoln sneaked past the Wildcats, 3-2, despite a two-hit pitching performance by Rick Faulkner. Duane Coda's two-run double accounted for all of Novi's scoring.

Milan edged the home-towners, 6-5, last Friday.

Bill McAulley struck out nine and gave up six hits in picking up the loss. McAulley was victimized by two costly errors that allowed three unearned runs to score.

Coda went three-for-three as the designated hitter and Steve Weber ripped a pair of safeties.

"Despite the losses, our hitting is improving and the pitching is starting to come around," claimed Coach Brian Howard.

Northville 4-2 for April

"We are playing good ball but we have to cut down on our errors," commented Coach Mary Minor after the Northville girls' softball team posted a 4-2 record for the month of April.

Pat Brown picked up the victory in the first game of the year as the Mustangs ripped Willow Run, 16-8.

Kim DeRusha belted a home run and a triple and knocked in four runs. Chris Suddendorf slashed out four hits and also collected four RBI's.

Kim Adams' triple drove in two runs and enabled the Mustangs to squeak by Wayne Memorial, 6-4, in eight innings.

Brown turned in a fine performance on the mound, striking out four and allowing only six hits.

Against Ypsilanti, the girls got off to a quick 10-0 lead and after five innings the "mercy rule" was applied.

Suddendorf carried the big bat, driving in three runs.

Eight Mustang errors in the sixth inning enabled Lutheran West to snap the Northville win streak at three as they lost, 12-5.

Louise Hopping was the starting and losing pitcher. Kim Tromans did an excellent job in relief according to Coach Minor.

Last Tuesday, the Northville squad tallied their first league victory with a 13-3 drubbing of Walled Lake Western.

Debbie Maguire belted four hits and Becky Albus and Adams had three apiece to aid the offensive attack.

Only four Northville errors and 11 stolen bases were also key points in the victory. Again it was Brown pitching the entire game for the victory.

Plymouth Canton, another league foe, brought the Mustangs' record to 4-2 edging Northville, 12-11.

Hopping and Maguire each had three hits in the defeat. "Pat Brown is pitching smart and using her change-up well. She is cutting down on walks," claimed Minor, after the squad's first six games.

Kaudell Third in Run

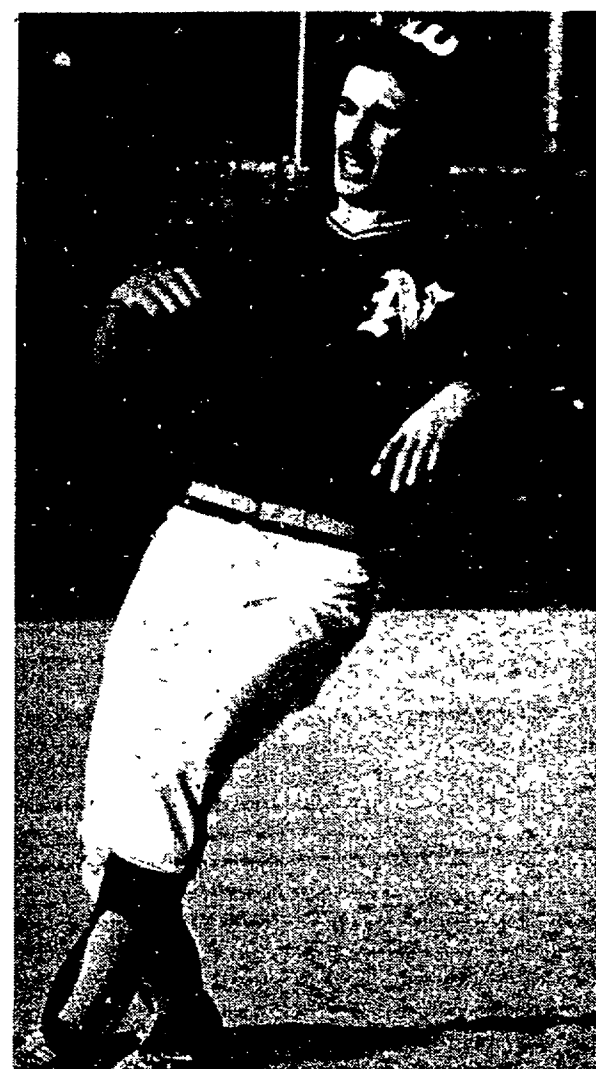

Chris Kaudell, a sixth grader at the Novi Middle School, placed third in the 17-and-under age division in the eight-and-a-quarter mile run down Woodward last weekend.

There were 400 runners competing as part of the Detroit Bicentennial Parade and there were 70 who dropped out.

Kaudell, 12, a member of the Detroit striders, ran the distance from the State Fair Grounds to Grand Circus Park in 52:50.

Last year, Kaudell was credited with running the fastest mile in the United States among 11 year olds.

Dave Beal drove in a pair of runs

Sports Shorts

Pat McAllen, a 1975 graduate of Novi High School, is a member of the Ferris State College baseball squad this season.

The freshman hurler boasts a 3-0 record with an impressive 1.77 ERA.

The Bulldogs of Coach Walt Piggott have won 15 of their first 22 games.

The Novi Little League, senior league for boys 13-15 will have tryouts Monday. Tryouts will be at 6:00 p.m. at the Novi High School.

For more information call Dave Lavioie at 349-2241.

Coach Chris Hayward and the Novi Girls' track team got an unexpected vacation this week when their scheduled meet with Saline was cancelled.

The Northville Village Blues won four straight games to take the South Lyon Softball Tournament.

A pair of home runs by Jeff Moon and two round trippers by Jim O'Brein provided the punch to get past Mount Pleasant, 22-14, in the championship game.

Novi Rec Season Starts

The Novi Parks and Recreation Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League, the largest league in Novi's history, opens its season Monday.

The 18 teams this year will be divided into two leagues and four divisions as follows: American League — East Division — Fisher Sports, Action, Jim Storm and Novi Inn.

American League — West Division — Kramer Jewelry, Michigan Tractor, M&B, American Enclosures and Quad Community.

National League — East Division — Novi Police Officers Association, Portec, and others.

National League — West Division — Community Management, Novi Jaycees, North Novi Civic Association, Willowbrook Merchants and Old Orchard.

Each of the 18 teams will play a 24 game schedule. The American League will play Monday and Wednesday and the National League plays each Tuesday and Thursday.

All games are played at the Novi High School, fields number two and three. Two games are played on each diamond Monday through Thursday, beginning May 10 and ending August 18. First games begin at 6:15 p.m. with the second game starting at 7:30 p.m.

Due to the ever increasing use of the Novi School District's softball and baseball fields, many groups are encountering difficulties in finding available fields in the district.

In an attempt to eliminate the frequent disappointment and inconvenience of a group arriving at a field only to find it unavailable for their use, and to assure all community members an equal opportunity to use the fields, a reservation system has been enacted.

Fields may be guaranteed by picking up a reservation permit at the Novi Central Administration Office Building, 25375 Taft Road.

If a group is using a field without a reservation permit and a group with a permit arrives, the group holding the permit shall be entitled to use the field as designated on the permit.

Reservations will be made no further than a week in advance, with a limitation of one reservation per one-week period per group.

However, requests on a day-to-day basis may be granted if a field is available that day.

Scheduled games will have preference over practices, scrimmages and general play. Reservations will be limited to a two-hour period.

Athletes of the Week

MARY ANNE BALAGNA has been named Ladycat of the week based on her outstanding defensive play. Balagna leads the Novi girls' softball team in fielding with an .867 average. "Mary Anne is a very solid fielder and a consistent hitter. Her greatest asset is that she can play any place on the field," complimented Coach Russ Gardner. Balagna is tied for the team lead in stolen bases with six. She has seven RBI's and is slugging at a .384 clip.

DENNIS SINGLETON broke the school record in the high hurdles with a time of 14.9 in a triangular meet last Tuesday. To earn Mustang of the week honors Singleton, coming off an injury, broke the record which had stood since 1971. In the victory over Canton, Singleton ran a 15 flat which is the best time recorded so far in the Western Six. He also placed first in the high jump and ran on the victorious 440 relay team. The clocking of 14.9 places Singleton in the top ten in the state, so far this year.

Singleton Breaks Old Hurdle Record

Despite a record breaking performance by Dennis Singleton in the high hurdles, Northville came out on the short end of a triangular meet against Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem last Tuesday.

Stevenson finished with 73%, Salem 68 and Northville was a distant third with 31%.

Singleton, coming off an injury, ran a 14.9 in the high hurdles breaking the old school mark held by Dave Mitchell back in 1971.

Bob Gould ran his best time of the year with a 9:56.1 in the two mile run.

"We were running well with good times but they were stronger," Coach Ralph Redmond said.

Last Thursday Northville had things more to their liking as they drubbed Plymouth Canton, 90-42.

"We opened strong in the field events and it was never in doubt," Redmond said.

Northville slammed the shot-put with Bruce Lampella, Mark Morland and Tim Ellis placing one-two-three.

Dan Earhart won the pole vault, clearing 11 feet and Singleton took the high jump, going over at 5'8".

Moreland threw the discus 124'1" to break the school record which was held briefly by Ellis.

The Mustangs also slammed the mile run with Bob Gould, Ray Coram and Phil Reed finishing first through third.

Other first place winners for Northville were: Kevin Corcoran in the 100 yard dash, Ray Coram in the low hurdles and the 440 and 880 relay teams.

Brian Prom and Nathan Hay, both sophomores, were bright spots as both went over 18 feet for the first time in the long jump.

Bowlers Win in Olympics

Two Northville youths won honors at the Wayne County Special Olympics in the bowling portion of the competition Saturday at Westland Bowl.

Kelly Lott placed second in the eight and nine-year-old bracket and John Katke was third in the 12-13 grouping based on their two game total pins score. Both received trophies.

Charles Bedford, Mark Demrose, Bill Donovan, Karen Veresh, David Smith, Kathy Lockhart, Heidi VanEe, Karen Tallman, Beth Norton and Paul McGuire, all of Northville, were among the over 600 that participated.

"Everybody enjoyed themselves. It was very worthwhile and we will definitely be doing it again next year," stated Recreation Director Charles Froberger.

Hugh Lockhart and the Northville Kiwanis Club were responsible for providing plenty of practice throughout the year for all the youngsters.

"All the parents and the Kiwanis Club deserve thanks for all their help," Froberger said.

This Saturday the track and field portion of the Special Olympics takes place at Plymouth Salem High School. Those who do well at the County regional will earn the right to join 4,000 others at the State Olympics held at Central Michigan University June 3-6.

"This has been such a success that our program in the future will be geared towards the Olympics," Froberger stated.

Netters Get Hot Girls Win First

Coach Bob Simpson and his Northville netters had an easy time with Walled Lake Western and Plymouth Canton last week to push their record to 6-1.

The Mustangs shut out Western, 7½-0, last Wednesday as all the scores were one-sided. Only Rudy Horst had to go to three sets before winning.

Greg McFadden, Doug Castillo, Horst and Charley Whiteside all won at the singles spots.

The doubles teams of Tim Kelly and Ron Angell, Steve Lafler and Steve Pyett and Tom Folino and Jeff Hodge all won their matches in two sets. Five of the six doubles sets were won by a 6-1 score.

"We were up for Western and really played well," Simpson said.

Plymouth Canton was a little tougher for the Mustangs but not much as Northville won 6-1½ on Friday.

McFadden was the only loser for Northville. Castillo, Horst, Whiteside and the usual doubles teams all won in two sets.

The Northville girls' track team won its first meet of the year very handily with a 93-21 drubbing of Willow Run last Tuesday.

The Mustangs placed first in ten events and slammed the 880 yard run, low hurdles, mile run, 440 dash, two mile run and the 220.

"It was a real team victory. Everybody supported everyone else and the team enthusiasm was very high," explained Coach Dennis McDonald.

Denise MacDermid placed first in both the shot-put and the discus. Sharon Brodrick also captured a pair of firsts in the high jump and the mile run. Brodrick ran a 7:20.4 mile.

Ann Dayton had another good day finishing first in the low hurdles and the 440 yard dash. She was also a member of the winning 880 yard relay team.

Other first place finishers were Rita Tully in the 880 yard run, Amy Perry in the two mile run, and Kim Kratz in the 220 yard dash.

The girls were not quite so fortunate against Walled Lake Western last Thursday as the Mustangs managed only two firsts in losing, 97-17. MacDermid in the shot-put and Perry in the two mile were the only first-place winners for Northville.

"We lowered our times from previous meets even though we lost," claimed Coach McDonald.

Errors Continue to Plague Novi

The Novi girls' softball team committed six errors in the first inning of two different games last week. The score ended the same, but the results were different.

Novi lost to Lincoln 19-14 last Tuesday, but bounced back to top Oak Park by the same score the following day.

Annie Robinson carried the big bat against Lincoln, belting out three hits, two of which were doubles, and notching four RBI's.

Lilli Jolgren and Sue Beall each rapped out a pair of hits. Beall knocked in three runs. Shelly Brough also connected for a trio of RBI's.

Elaine Maki went the distance in picking up the loss. Maki allowed 15 hits while striking out one.

Against Oak Park right fielder, Monica Summitt came in to relieve starting pitcher Beall and was credited with the victory as Novi rallied for seven runs in the last two innings.

Robinson led off the first inning with a home run. Heather Barr went a perfect three-for-three to aid the offensive attack.

Beall collected two hits that scored four runs while Ricci

Mulligan and Jeanne Brown each had a pair of hits and drove in three.

"We always seem to play well after the first inning," Coach Russ Gardner commented.

Sue Thomas is the leading hitter with a .571 average. Mary Anne Balagna is the "Ladycats" top fielder with an .867 fielding average. Balagna is also tied with Jolgren in stolen bases with six.

Brown and Robinson are the other big sticks for Novi. The two girls are tied for team leadership in RBI's with 14.

Robinson paces the squad in runs-scored with 15. Brown's 13 safeties are tops.

Novi Lifts Record

After losing the opener, the Novi tennis team has come on to win three straight.

Greg Goff and Ted Wrobel won their single matches and the doubles teams of Mike Tuck and Scott Spielman and Bill Withers and Barry Skown came away winners to lift Novi past Hartland, 4-3, last Tuesday.

Thursday Novi ripped Chelsea, 6-1, as the doubles team of Withers and Skown looked especially impressive winning 6-1, 6-0.

Goff, Tim Kelly, Bill Spencer and Wrobel all won in singles.

John DeBrule and Steve Jones also won at the number two doubles spot.

Against Clarenceville everyone won except for Kelly as the Wildcats notched another 6-1 victory.

Especially gratifying in last week's play was Goff's victory over Terry Rosky, 7-5 and 6-2. Rosky of Hartland was last year's regional winner.

be only one — and that one was scheduled to arrive over the Mother's Day weekend.

"The paramedic said I was too big to have just one," recalls Mrs. Curtis of the moments after the first birth.

coverage by retirees, a sick leave bonus system, raising accumulated vacation days to 45, establishment of a lounge area for employees, equalization of overtime, etc.

Representing the city in bargaining will be Councilmen Paul Vernon and Stanley Johnston and City Manager Steven Walters.

COMMUNICATIONS: Letter from Northville Jaycees concerning the Walk for Mankind on May 22. Mayor Allen asked the Council to walk the first mile. The route will be the same as last year. More information will be sent.

Letter from Utica on Mayors' Exchange Day May 17 asking who will participate.

Letter from Northville Post, 4012 asking for participation in the Memorial Day Parade Sunday, May 30, 1976.

Sure enough, just a few minutes later the second baby arrived.

"It's about the easiest births I ever saw," remembers Pratt who helped out in the car along with trooper Brown and paramedic Rogers. "The mother didn't let out a peep but she was biting hell out of her husband's coat."

All of the ambulances from Novi Ambulance were ironically tied up and Novi dispatchers contacted both Suburban Ambulance and Oakland County Ambulance. Just after the second baby arrived, so did Oakland County Ambulance. Close behind was Suburban Ambulance.

The first ambulance took both babies to the hospital while the second ambulance followed with the mother.

The verdict: two boys. Mrs. Curtis admits that after her first two children Glenn and Donald, she had hoped for a girl, but she didn't seem terribly disappointed. She says, however, "There is no next time. Four is plenty."

The first child will be named Jeremy and the second William after the ambulance attendant who helped with the deliveries.

And while the babies mark the second and third that officer Pratt has delivered, it appears he hopes to spread out that duty to the other officers if the occasion ever arises again.

Pratt has taken it upon himself to distribute to each officer a booklet entitled "Emergency Childbirth Rules."

City Manager commented the more involved the more it costs to run the program.

Councilman Nichols asked about the three different means of funding programs. City Manager pointed out there are actually two ways, subsidizing and curtailing the level of township participation. The city may have to pay a bigger share next year if city participation increases. The city manager maintained the city should not be penalized if a distortion occurs.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Vernon to approve the subsidy fee to the Recreation Department of $12,000. for city residents participation.

Carried unanimously.

LIBRARY SITE PLAN. Carolann Ayers, President of Northville Library, asked if there were any questions on the Preliminary Site Plan for the Northville Public Library.

Councilman Nichols questioned the letter from School Superintendent Spear as to his actual intent.

Mrs. Ayers commented she had attended a Citizens Action Federation Committee, supported his position and was read into the School Board Minutes, also support by letter with a resolution of the five subjects.

The first factor in the letter from Mr. Spear, concerning legal complications which could arise with relinquishing property due to the school district being located outside the city and township of Northville, could probably be solved by forming a legal entity to take the title in the opinion of the city lawyer. He suggested this might clear up the legal aspect Title could go to the library.

First, second and fourth items, concerning adequate playground space, permanent location of board office and disposition of Annex Bldg., could be decided by the school board.

The third item, concerning parking, would be a joint consideration of the board and city council.

City Manager stated all the items would not have to be resolved as only 60 percent of property is owned by school board and 40 percent is city property. Councilman Nichols stated most of these problems have been recognized and are still in the same stage.

Mayor Allen asked for approval of the preliminary site plan to submit back to the school board.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Folino, that the city pay to the library the sum of $2,250 for preliminary site plan subject to the township appropriating the same amount.

Carried unanimously.

WATER SERVICE FOR TOWNSHIP PROPERTY AT CLEMENT AND WOODHILL: The city manager read a letter from the township supervisor concerning sewer service for the estate of Carrie M. Taft, Clement and Woodhill.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Vernon to accept sewage from this acreage in the township.

Carried unanimously.

INTERFUND LOANS DISPOSITION: City manager discussed his memo on the disposition of inter fund loans reducing loans and other liabilities from one fund to another. Other loans will be liquidated. This should be acted on by city council.

Councilman Vernon asked if this is why the auditors recommended that there be a repay date on loans.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Johnston to cancel loans of $10,000 by the General Fund and $12,154 by the Public Improvement Fund to the Local Street Fund.

Carried unanimously.

ALLEN TERRACE PROJECT: The City Manager reviewed the Allen Terrace financing and operating costs and he explained the $2,645,000 projected costs to occupancy.

A decision on how to treat the property of the north end would have to be made, perhaps sell the property and put monies in trust fund.

Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Folino to adopt the Building Authority Resolution.

Carried unanimously.

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT: City Manager will get other prices and proposals for the May 3 meeting.

RENT SUBSIDY TRUST FUND: The City attorney will have conferred with Trust Departments of Banks and report back at the May 3 meeting.

APPOINTMENT: This will be held until the May 3 meeting.

MISCELLANEOUS: Letter from the district court showing reimbursement for 1974-75 in the total amount of $22,159.34.

Councilman Johnston stated that cars making a right turn from W. Main onto Center were creating a hazard. The cars' stop over the pedestrian crosswalk, forcing walkers to walk into the street to get around the cars. This would be looked into.

Councilman Folino stated that the No Right Turn signs at Dunlap, 4 Mile and N. Center are up too high to be seen.

Councilman Vernon said legislation was passed on PA 243 which provides that where property is equalized assessed by the county results in increased SEV. Municipalities have to adjust so they do not collect more tax.

Councilman Nichols would like to propose a standing award offering up to $1,000 for information leading to the apprehension and conviction for vandalism. This would be reviewed for next meeting.

Also brought up by Mayor Allen was a statement by a member of the Police Department that they could not do anything about the vandalism in the cemetery unless it was posted. City manager would look into this.

Mayor Allen attended a Ford Motor Company meeting last week and stated the plant manager was very concerned and would like to improve public relations at the plant. A lady had called the plant manager and complained about the duck crossings. Mayor Allen has had duck crossings signs made and would like to put these up. He would also like publicity on the duck crossings.

There being no further business, Mayor Allen adjourned the meeting at 10:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan McAllister

With your vote, you can help Novi and yourself.

VOTE YES ON THE WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM IMPROVEMENT BONDING PROPOSITION
TUESDAY, MAY 18, 1976.

You have the chance to vote for your City and your neighborhood. By voting Yes for the Water Supply System Improvement Bonding Proposition on Tuesday, May 18th, you can help your community and yourself.

The new water supply system, when it's finished, will provide water to your new High School, new library, and the new Twelve Oaks Mall. It will also increase water pressure to those subdivisions where water pressure is poor. It will be the primary source of water for years to come.

How will it be paid for? Not with increased millage. THIS IS NOT A REQUEST FOR MILLAGE. The new water supply system will be financed with $3,600,00 of general obligation bonds issued by the City of Novi. It is anticipated that the debt will be paid for by new development through the collection of connection charges. Is it important that you vote Yes? If the proposition is not passed, here's what will happen:

- First, the new High School scheduled to open in September, 1977, cannot open.
- Subdivisions with a poor water supply will get no help.
- The new library will not have water.
- The Twelve Oaks Mall will not get the water it needs and important income and jobs may be kept from the area.
- Even continued growth of the community may be jeopardized.

Vote Yes! It's very important.

This is how proposition will appear on your ballot:

Shall the City of Novi, County of Oakland, Michigan, borrow the principal sum of not to exceed Three Million Six Hundred Thousand ($3,600,00) Dollars and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefore, for the purpose of defraying the cost of acquiring and constructing improvements to the water supply system of the City, consisting of water supply facilities and all appurtenances and attaching relating thereto?

This is not a request for millage.

Living gracefully within your home is not so much an art as it is the application of intelligent planning. Today the old methods of trial and error, hit or miss, just won't work. Don't scatter furniture around a room and hope it works; generally it doesn't. Putting a room together is something like painting a picture. You decide, first of all, the scene you want to reproduce. Then you decide on a color scheme. Then you paint the walls, add the furniture, and complete the arrangement harmoniously with well-chosen accessories. It turns out that there is nothing mysterious or tricky about room arrangement. A little planning ahead goes a long way!

Let us help you plan your decorating schemes, here at GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110. We carry and install beautiful draperies — custom made from the finest quality and workmanship. Complete your window treatment with custom-made window shades — we provide free estimates and installations. We will also custom-tint paint to just the color you want — more than 1,000 possible colors, using our fine FULLER-O'BRIEN PAINTS.
