

Northville Backs Jail, Ford and Udall in Primary

Wayne County Jail, Republican Gerald Ford and Democrat Morris Udall were big winners in Northville's City and township Primary Election Tuesday.

With 46 percent of the township's registered voters casting ballots and 38 percent voting in the city, the county jail proposition carried easily here to reflect a somewhat similar voting pattern elsewhere in the county.

The combined vote here was 2,096 to 808 in favor of the half-mill tax increase to finance construction of a new jail in downtown Detroit.

Ford won by a better than two to one margin over Ronald Reagan in the Republican race, winning here 1,871 to 826.

And Udall swamped Jimmy Carter in Northville, 674 to 349, although Carter eked out a narrow victory over Udall state-wide.

Wallace, who polled 1,396 votes in Northville four years ago to win the local 1972 Democratic race, picked up only 75 votes in Northville this year.

Voters in the Oakland County section of the city did not vote on the jail proposition, but they faced an Oakland County proposition seeking renewal of a quarter mill tax for Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Voters here approved the parks proposal 318 votes to 168.

Winning Republican delegates in the city were: Precinct 1—Judith C. Krueger, who garnered 139 votes to Robert Krueger's 128 votes. She is committed to Ford.

Precinct 3—Fay Waldren, committed to Ford, picked up 181 votes while uncommitted Barbara Bergum collected 62 votes.

Precinct 4—John Pacific, committed to Ford, polled 78 votes.

There were no Republican delegate candidates in Precinct 2. Democrats do not pick their delegates until later.

The Republican delegate slot in Precinct 8 was the only one in Northville Township to be contested. Wilson Grier received 50 votes to Dwight Sieggreen's 26. Both candidates were uncommitted.

Vote counts for other delegates in the Township were as follows: Precinct 1, Timothy D. Lemon (uncommitted) 101; Precinct 2, Irving Benson (Ford) 149; Precinct 3, Lloyd Cullen (uncommitted) 4; Precinct 4, Betty Hoffman (Ford) 9; Precinct 5, Marguerite Loy (uncommitted) 35; Precinct 6, Virginia Hayward (uncommitted) 89; and Precinct 7, Hester B. Courter (Ford) 65.

Locally, the big surprise was Udall's victory. He won in all four city precincts and in all eight township precincts.

Ford had no difficulty in beating off challenger Reagan in Northville, home of the GOP Executive Secretary William McLaughlin, who campaigned for the President.

Like Udall, Ford won in every city and township precinct. Unlike Udall, however, Ford matched his win here with similar resounding victories elsewhere in the state.

Anti-abortion candidate Ellen McCormack came up with 15 votes, followed by Senator Henry Jackson of Washington with 13, former Oklahoma Senator Fred Harris with 8, and Sargent Shriver trailed with 7.

A total of 1,399 persons voted in the City of Northville where 3,665 persons are registered. In the township, 2,535 of the 5,399 registered voters went to the polls.

Seven in Battle For School Board

Filing nominating petitions before this week's deadline were Joseph H. Benstein, 19511 Dartmouth; Betty S. Hancock, 42565 West Eight Mile Road; Christopher J. Johnson, 47234 Dunsany; Timothy D. Lemon, 46246 West Finner Court; James C. Lewis, 835 Yorktown Court; Marjorie J. Sliger, 18439 Fermanagh Court; and James Terrasi, Jr., 19803 Crystal Lake.

Biographical sketches, pictures and the candidates' answers to six questions posed by the local chapter of the League of Women Voters will be published in The Record on June 9.

The League also has scheduled a meet the candidates forum for Wednesday, June 2.

Both of the school board positions that the seven candidates are seeking are for four-year terms. They are the seats currently held by Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson and Trustee Martin Rinehart, both of whom decided some time ago not to seek re-election.

None of the seven candidates have held elective school or municipal offices in

Challenged by Unsuccessful Bidder

City's Decision on CM Stirs up Hornets' Nest

An unsuccessful bidder for the Allen Terrace construction management contract has challenged the city's decision to hire Kamp-DiComo with a formal complaint to the Municipal Finance Commission (MFC).

Tony Ban, vice-president of Northville Contracting Company, filed the complaint last week charging that Northville City Council violated MFC policy by hiring the project's architect to also act as its construction manager.

In addition, Ban told The Record that the council made a mistake in not selecting the lowest, qualified bidder.

Richard Allen, deputy director of the MFC confirmed, "the commission has a policy that the architect on a building cannot also act as a construction manager." According to Allen the policy is designed to prevent a possible conflict of interest.

"Traditionally, the architect's fees are based on a percentage of the building. He has no incentive to cut costs," Allen said. He added that one role of the CM is to review architectural plans and recommend cost savings.

City Manager Steven Walters, however, dismissed the controversy as a "problem of semantics."

"In its pure form," said Walters, "the CM has a commitment to the owner to build a building for a certain cost. He hires the sub-contractors, pays the sub-contractors and modifies the design. That's not what we have in mind at all."

Walters said the CM on the Allen Terrace job would act primarily as a field supervisor, and do a certain amount of paperwork. He said the city would act as a general contractor and enter into a series of sub-contracts with the trades.

"If the contract was properly worded and decision-making control retained by the owner, I think the MFC would approve it," said Walters. The term "construction manager" won't be used in the contract with DiComo according to Walters. Instead the architect will be hired for "extended services."

Allen said the additional architectural services would be carefully reviewed regardless of the term used to describe them. He also differed with Walter's definition of a CM.

"In a typical CM arrangement, the municipality or school district always acts as the general contractor. Under the CM concept, as many as 15 to 20 contracts will be let out by the owner, and the CM will then work with the subcontractors," Allen said.

"We would have some problems with the Northville idea as I understand it," he added.

If the MFC finds the city in violation of its policy, "at the very minimum the commission would not approve bond proceeds for CM fees," Allen said. This means "that the CM would have to be paid from the city's general fund."

Allen said, however, that there is a chance that the MFC would refuse to approve the bond issue for the project altogether. "It depends how the commission feels. In this project we see Northville at the very inception. We have notice, and the city has notice that this is against our policy. If they go ahead notwithstanding, it will show a total disregard for commission policy."

Walters and City Attorney Phillip Ogilvie have scheduled a meeting with the MFC director this week.

Donald DiComo said that many school districts have contracts with their architects to perform what he called "construction administration." He also said that the American Institute of Architects has confronted MFC and reached a compromise allowing architects to do "scheduling and administering on multi-stage — multi-phase contracts, not stressing the term 'construction management'."

DiComo did, however, give Walters a copy of MFC policy before the contract was awarded. "I wanted them (the city council) to be fully

Township to Share Cost Of New Library Designing

Northville Township board agreed last Thursday to provide $2,250 as its half of funding for a preliminary schematic design for a new public library.

It also voted concurrence that the preferred location be within the publicly owned property bounded by Wing Street on the east, Main Street on the north, Cady Street on the south and Main Street Elementary on the west.

Architectural firm of Merritt, Cole and McCallum of Farmington was approved to receive the contract for the city and township.

Action was taken following a presentation by library commission members Carolann Ayers, president, and Jay Wendt

It was not unanimous, however, with Margaret Tegge, acting as clerk pro tem in place of Clarice Sass, voting against the motion. Richard Mitchell and James Nowka were absent.

Mrs. Tegge stated her objection was based upon the fact that the board was working on an austerity budget and was taking money from the contingency fund to make the unbudgeted allocation.

Treasurer Charles Rosenberg disagreed, stating he viewed the expenditure as "a golden opportunity to possibly build a half-million dollar library for $2,250."

With the preliminary work done, Wendt told the board, if federal funds are approved, probably over an anticipated veto by President Ford, the township will be in position to begin construction within the required 90 days to receive funding.

Another trustee, Dr. John Swienkowski, disagreed, saying that he does not believe Congress will "move that fast," but voted for the funding "to get the deal off center and see where we are."

Objection was voiced from the audience by Mrs. Pat Cousineau who said at three different points during the meeting that she did not understand denying a budgeted item, a third police car, and then voting an unbudgeted one.

The objection of Mrs. Cousineau, a police department employee, was in reference to the board's action to deny purchase of a third police car at this time.

This action was taken to back up a telephone vote earlier. Mrs. Tegge abstained, pointing out she had not been party to the earlier vote, which the board said was necessary because of ordering deadline.

In explaining his denial at this time the board pointed out to Mrs. Cousineau that "it would be three cars for a six man force." If mileage increases are voted in August, Swienkowski added, such items will be part of the picture.

In other financial action, the board voted to approve the request of recreation director Charles Froberger for a fence at the creek in the back of the ball diamond on fish hatchery property if funds can be obtained through HUD.

He sought 700 feet of fencing to prevent possibility of serious injury from a fall there.

Girl Scouts Tap Mothers

Area girl scouts recently held annual meetings and elected new officers.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, which includes Northville scouts, elected Frances S. Bauer of Plymouth to act as president for the next three years.

The Southern Oakland Girl Scouts, of which Novi is a part, did not elect a new president, but did seat a new board of directors. Shirley Brooks of Novi will represent local girl scouts on that board.

The area representative on the By-Law Review Committee is JoAnn Morse. Martha Bently is the Plymouth-Northville member of the Personnel Policy Manual Review Committee.

Daughter Born

Mr. and Mrs. Tellis Lawson of Eugene, Oregon, are announcing the birth of their daughter May 11. She weighed seven pounds, eleven ounces.

The baby's mother is the former Debbie Zimmerman of Northville. Maternal grandparents are the Frank Zimmermans of Northville.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lawson of Roslindale, Massachusetts.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Frank B. Zimmerman of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Buell Kellogg of Saline and Mrs. Anne I. Davis of Rosebury, Massachusetts. Great-great-grandmothers are Mrs. Minnie Fischer of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Vera Kellogg of Ypsilanti.

Baking Brownies

It's impossible even for a Brownie to resist tasting a bit of the sweet dough that will go into a batch of cookies destined for the Veterans' Hospital in Ann Arbor. Brownie Troop No. 211 of Amerman School bakes the cookies each month to be served at a party

Anne Hopkins Wed to Pastor

A summer romance at American Baptist Assembly in Green Lake, Wisconsin, two years ago, culminated in the marriage last Saturday of Anne Lynne Hopkins to the Reverend David Emery Grieger.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins of 18498 Jamestown Circle, worked as a lifeguard while her future bridegroom was a staff counselor.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Grieger of Seaside, California.

They exchanged vows and rings in an 11 a.m. ceremony at Covenant Baptist Church on James Couzens Drive.

Officiating were Dr. William F. Keucher and the Reverend Edward A. Libby of Covenant Baptist Church and the Reverend William A. Bingham of First Baptist Church of Ypsilanti.

The bridegroom now is serving as associate pastor at the Ypsilanti church. He is a 1971 graduate of the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California, and a 1975 graduate of Andover Newton Theological Seminary.

His bride is a 1972 graduate of Northville High School and a 1976 graduate of University of Michigan.

In the wedding ceremony both sets of parents participated, giving special vows. Mrs. Catherine DeLaney of Farmington sang "Wedding Song" by Stookey and "Wedding Prayer" by Harnick.

The bride designed her wedding gown of polyester satin. Created by her mother, it featured hand-run Alencon lace trim at the high neckline and cuffs and on the veil. It was fashioned with an Empire waistline, full, puff sleeves with tight lace cuffs and extended into a train.

Matching lace trimmed the bride's bonnet cap.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, delphinium, stephanotis, ivy and baby's breath.

Edith Griffiths of Farmington was honor maid. Bridesmaids were Margaret Stuber of Howell and Kathryn Hildebrandt of Northville. They made their floor-length gowns of sky-blue Quiana, fashioned with high waists, long sleeves and a front diamond-shaped insert.

They carried colonial bouquets of miniature carnations, daisies, roses and baby's breath.

The Reverend Edward Bastille of Meadville, Pennsylvania, was best man. Groomsmen were Alan Hacker and William Hacker. Ushers were Nicholas Nealer and Donald VonSchmittou.

A reception followed in the church fellowship hall for approximately 300 guests, including out-of-townsmen from Seaside and Santa Barbara, California, Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois.

After a wedding trip to Holland, Michigan, the couple will live in Ann Arbor.

This Entertaining Honors Couples

By JEAN DAY

ENTERTAINING these days centers upon departures, new homes and romantic announcements.

Jim and Nancy vanBuren, who are looking forward to moving into the colonial home they have purchased in Syracuse, New York, will be honored at a farewell potluck this Saturday being hosted by the Roger Pyetts.

The vanBurens expect to move in mid-June to the new home, which is just 20 months old.

They are selling their Northville tudor-style home to the Douglas Shaw family of Howell. He is an electrical contractor with offices in Farmington.

His wife, Barbara, is a friend of Mrs. Jack Doheny and has been helping her with arrangements for the women's golf invitational to be held at Meadowbrook Country Club August 19-20. Edie Doheny reports that she started her work as chairman last January.

She plans a welcome for Mrs. Shaw after the family is settled. The Shaws, she adds, have three daughters — a high school student and two collegians.

JANE FORRER and her fiancé, Scott Wilson, were honorees at a dinner party and shower last Saturday to introduce him to her parents' friends.

The Richard Kays, former Northville residents now living in Grosse Pointe, and the William Sligers hosted the party at the Sliger home for a small group of close friends. Jane, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Forrer, and her fiancé have set a July 24 date for their wedding in First Presbyterian Church.

The party was held Saturday as Scott already was scheduled to be in Detroit on business. He is a sales engineer with a St. Louis, Missouri, firm.

Guests included the Robert Bogarts, former Northville residents now living in Norwood, near Charlevoix, Michigan.

The bride-elect will have a special memento, in addition to the miscellaneous shower gifts, as guests signed wishes for the couple in indelible ink on kitchen toweling.

VIEWS OF LAKE St. Clair and the river will be enjoyed by members of Base Line Questers this Thursday as the antiques study group is the guest of Mrs. Edwin Langtry who has moved from Northville to a new home fronting the lake in New Baltimore.

While Jeanné Langtry is an antiquer, her new home's kitchen (with a water view) boasts the latest equipment. The home is a one-level design with the family room and master bedroom also having lake vistas.

The Questers are to meet at the home of Mrs. John Burkman, president, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow to pool cars for the hour-long trip. The meeting will feature the chapter's annual silent auction for which members (sometimes reluctantly) part with a personal antique — although some have been known to buy an item for the auction which raises funds for Quester donations to such projects as the Mill Race restoration.

Ruth Burkman's donation will be a footed, oval turquoise opaque bowl designed to hold a floral centerpiece.

MAKING MUSIC was what it was all about last Sunday as the new Choralaires singing group and the Novi Community Band drew rave notices after their concert, "We Are the Music Makers," at Walled Lake Western High School.

"It was super!"

"The most professional group of its kind I have ever heard!"

"Move over Mormon Tabernacle Choir... Novi has its own excellent group."

These were comments from the enthusiastic audience of nearly 400.

The Choralaires group was formed in the fall of 1975 to fill a need in Novi, Northville and surrounding areas for a select adult choral ensemble. Auditions were held in the fall, and singers began rehearsing concert selections in January of this year under the direction of William Edwards.

Next performance at 7 p.m. Tuesday will be to a select audience of the Northville Senior Citizens Club at its monthly potluck at First Presbyterian Church in Northville.

NEW OFFICERS of the Northville Business and Professional Women will be installed following dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Hillside Inn.

Past presidents are in charge of the ceremony under the chairmanship of Dorothy Guido. Phyllis Harrison, immediate past state president of BPW and national program chairman, will be the installing officer.

Mrs. Vivian (McKeever) Blake will be the new president as she takes over from Mrs. Virginia Plunkett. Mrs. Louise Cutler is vice president with Janice Daniels, secretary, and Simone Sandrock, treasurer. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Guido, 349-2039.

Northville members last weekend attending the state convention at Michigan Inn in Southfield were Mrs. Plunkett, Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Guido, Mrs. Marlene Danol, Mrs. Laura Hartlep, Donald and Hazel Starr.

ANNUAL POLICE Ball which benefits the general fund of the Northville Police Officers' Association (and is used for all its charities) is upcoming, and the city's policemen are hoping the community will support it by dancing to the "big band" era sounds of Tex Beneke and his band.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday, May 29, at the Light Guard Armory on East Eight Mile Road. Tickets in advance are $12.50 a couple or $7 each person; at the door, $14 a couple, $8 single. Officer John Sherman is chairman with Officer Douglas Ritchie as co-chairman. ## Silver Springs Exchange

English Export's Energetic

By JEAN DAY

Jo Sparks has to be one of England's most dynamic exports.

Ever since she arrived to teach Chris Modrack's kindergarteners, first and second graders at Silver Springs School starting May 6, this lively British teacher has been in motion.

She and Principal Nancy Nieldman, whose house guest she is during her stay, are trying to cram everything possible into the time permitted in Northville's first mini-exchange of teachers.

Mrs. Sparks is a veteran teacher, who teaches the same age children in Queensway School in Banbury, England. This, too, is a new school, only six-and-a-half years old, with open architecture in England.

"However, you have much better resources," she observes, but notes, on the other hand, that she "straightaway noticed the shortage of windows."

"I hate to be shut in and not be able to say to my class, 'Look there's a rainbow' or in the summer spill out to a sand box outdoors by the window where I can still watch the little children."

Mrs. Fieldman agrees that this window concept, while saving heat, is an American concern also.

Mrs. Sparks thinks her Northville pupils may be a bit more lively than her British ones, but feels "children are the same the world over — they all try you out."

She mentions that there was a language barrier at first when she gave such instructions as, "Tidy up and put the rubbish in the bin," but that they caught on and "things are going well, really very well."

Last week the class enthusiastically received a first batch of letters from their English counterparts being taught by Miss Modrack. The youngsters were answering mail she had taken with her to England.

"They are so interested in names," Mrs. Sparks reports, "for they found ones like Ian (Scottish for John) and Nichola."

Mrs. Sparks arrived just in time to participate in Michigan Week projects in the schools and was pleased that her "boning up" on Michigan birds and flowers had impressed her pupils.

When they felt the Bicentennial was "a long time ago," however, she gave them a little British history, pointing out that London was old 300 years ago when it survived the great fire started in a bakery in Pudding Lane.

The children, she adds, were amazed to imagine streets so narrow that residents could touch hands across them from their windows.

Mrs. Sparks' main concern with her American youngsters was that so many are "with latch keys."

Children so young would not be letting themselves in alone after school in England, she says, although "we're getting to the stage of economic necessity."

There is a General Foods factory in Banbury, she says, "with more and more mums taking shift work but they take the twilight or tea shift so that dads are home."

In addition to her classroom hours Jo Sparks has been spending time keeping speaking engagements. She had spoken to three classes at Oakland University with 110 students in one last Thursday — and "they're harder to face than the little ones in my class."

Last Thursday night she spoke at Eastern Michigan University.

The lectures are helping pay her transportation here with an assist from the Northville Education Association. Miss Modrack, who vacationed in Britain on an ESY break first, paid her own transportation.

As approved by the Northville Board of Education, there was no cost to the district in the exchange with each teacher being paid her regular salary by her district.

Mrs. Sparks took time out to have two daughters and returned to teaching 12 years ago. She has been the support of her family. Her older daughter, Judith, now is nearly 20 and is getting a barister degree while Joanna, nearly 18, is taking secretarial work.

In England Mrs. Sparks has been instructing teachers in teaching little children how to read and is hoping to be headmistress of her own school

There are still many little schools with one or two classes in the little villages in England, she notes, stressing that she feels these little children feel less pressured in their learning.

Because schools receive funds equally from the state, Mrs. Sparks explains, PTA associations provide individual schools with such extras as color television and even a mini-bus.

Last week at Silver Springs Elementary parents of the children in her class were invited to a breakfast at the school to meet the exchange teacher. It was arranged by mothers headed by Mrs. Lorraine Petro and Mrs. Nancy Bock, school secretary who has a son in the class.

During the 12 teaching-days' exchange Mrs. Fieldman is making sure her visitor takes in such highlights as Greenfield Village, Eastern Market, Lansing and a Brunch-with-Bach concert in Detroit as well as retirement fetes for Assistant Superintendent Florence Panattoni and Betty Willing. She attended the dinner lecture at Hawthorn dedication to hear Dr. Leon Eisenberg, chairman of psychiatry at Harvard University.

With such a non-stop pace, it probably was with foresight that David Martin of the Banbury school picked this slim, energetic Englishwoman for the mini-exchange, which administrators are hoping may be the first of many.

'Voc Ed'

PTSO Topic

Vocational education will be the topic of a general meeting of the Northville PTSO scheduled for 8 p.m. today, Wednesday, in the high school cafeteria.

Dean Ted Diebel of Schoolcraft College will be the speaker.

The meeting is open to everyone interested. Coffee will be served.

At a special meeting of the executive board of the PTSO last Wednesday the report of its ESY-TSY committee was discussed. The board voted to accept the report for further consideration.

SUSAN BURTON

Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Burton of 48100 11 Mile Road in Novi announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Rene, to Freddy Joseph Smith of New Hudson.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of 60501 Grand River in New Hudson and is a June, 1969, graduate of South Lyon High School.

The bride-elect is a June, 1975, graduate of Novi High School and now is employed by Holiday Inn. He is employed by Kaplan Trucking Company.

They have set an October 2, 1976, wedding date.

They've Been 'Adopted'

By WAYNE LODER

There was almost a boyish look of enjoyment on the face of John Richter last Thursday as the class of almost 25 Novi psychology students milled around the front of the room wishing him a happy 73rd birthday and he and his wife Mary a happy 30th anniversary.

Richter, blind for the last 37 years, has never lost his ability to communicate with the younger generation and he was in prime form as he answered queries from students about the many decades he has spent in Novi.

Teacher Bob Emerson calls the pair "adopted grandparents."

"So often when you go to a hospital or a rest home there seems to be a feeling that older people have reached their limitations," said Emerson. "I think the emphasis should be on the value of older people. I think it's an appreciation of age."

The Richters appear to be the perfect example of what Emerson was trying to show.

"I feel that the Richters have shown the young people that they are young and energetic and very actively productive in their lives," explained Emerson.

The visits have had a real effect on the students also. One of the, Ken Snew, was so taken by the Richters that he blindfolded himself and went through a full day of school without using his eyesight.

He related to the class later during one of the Richter's visits that he was amazed to find that the people he expected to help him did not while others did.

Snew and student Ricci Mulligan also wrote and sang a song with guitar accompaniment which he called "Handicapped" which tells that "I am not the handicapped even though I can't see."

The celebration last week was a festive occasion and certainly another highlight in the lives of the Richters. Celebrating their 30th anniversary and Richter's 73rd birthday that day, they related during an interview which was videotaped for other classes, how they met.

"It was about 30 years ago," recalled Richter. "I

Water — Yes, City Hall—No

While Novi voters approved by a sound margin borrowing $3.6 million in bonds to construct water mains, Wixom voters overwhelmingly said no to issuance of $750,000 in bonds to finance renovation and additions to the city hall.

Meanwhile in surprising results from both communities, Morris Udall was a sound victor in the Democratic camp while Gerald Ford far outdistanced Ronald Reagan.

Only one precinct in Novi failed to give approval to the request to bond for the water main which will eventually service the Twelve Oaks Mall area as well as the new high school and library.

Precinct four, representing the north end, defeated the proposition 221 to 144, but all other precincts in the city except precinct one gave the proposal firm support.

Passage of the proposal is not expected to raise taxes as taps are to be used to pay off the bond sale.

In Wixom, defeat of the added millage through bonding for the city hall drew angry reactions from Mayor Val Vangieson.

"This mayor is very disappointed that the citizens of Wixom have no trust in their mayor and council and prefer to think that information gleaned from other sources was more reliable," said Vangieson.

The mayor was apparently referring to a campaign by former building official Carlton Oldford who held there was no need for the project and said that the present city hall could be repaired for $100,000. Oldford led a petition campaign that got the question on the ballot.

Vangieson said that the bonding request may be repeated in November.

Wixom precinct results on the city hall renovation were: Precinct one, yes-166, no-315; Precinct two, yes-52, no-118;

Precinct three, yes-127, no-156.

In Novi, four precinct delegates were elected. They were: Precinct one, Donald Campbell, 110 votes; Precinct four, Melvin Stephens, 58 votes; Precinct five, Mary Murphy, 49 votes; Precinct seven, Joseph Toth, 49 votes.

In Wixom, Richard Fenske was elected precinct delegate in precinct three.

The same trend in the primary appeared evident in both communities. In Novi, Udall won for the Republicans with 637 to 343 for Jimmy Carter and 83 for George Wallace while thirty were uncommitted. In Wixom, Udall got 186 to Carter's 157 and Wallace's 37.

In Novi, Gerald Ford won over Reagan on the Republican ticket, 1292 to 738 while in Wixom Ford garnered 324 votes to Reagan's 236.

The county question asking for a quarter mill renewal for the parks and recreation commission was carried in Novi 1525-1287, but went down to defeat in Wixom 465-449.

With two-thirds of the county precincts reporting, the parks question appeared on its way to a win, 78,724 to 54,636.

Seeks Library Budget Control

Council Eyes Charter Change

Novi's charter commission may soon be addressing the question of whether the library budget should be brought under the control of the city council.

That was the consensus of at least two council members at last week's budget session and other council members indicated no quarrel with exploring the possibility.

The suggestion was raised in response to the recent request by the Novi library board to levy the second half of a mill which it is allowed under charter. That money is to be used to help the library to finish payments and to open the new municipal library.

The financial crunch apparently arose after the library board decided to construct both phases of the library due to favorable building conditions resulting in lower construction costs. The second phase is scheduled to be needed for library use in about 10 years.

However, while the council appeared upset at having to unexpectedly agree to levy the extra half mill, it was even more upset because an additional cash loan from the city was necessary.

Most critical of the library board's actions was council member Martha Hoyer who said, "I think they really erred in what they did. I hope the library board knows what a bind they've thrust on us."

Mrs. Hoyer suggested putting the nearly autonomous library board's budget under the control of the council through a change in the charter. Council member Patricia Karevich appeared in agreement commenting, "I think if we are going to assume their debts, we should have a say in what they do."

The council had been approached by the library board for the levying of the additional half mill two weeks ago, but council held off making a final decision until Finance Director Fred Todd had studied the library budget to make a determination of money needs.

Todd responded to that at the budget session by saying that he foresees not only that the library will have to levy the full mill for two years, but that to operate the new library it will have to continue levying more than the half mill, but less than the full mill.

Teachers Reinstated

Twenty-six teachers pink slipped in the face of possible layoffs which could have resulted had a 3.5 mill question been defeated were reinstated in action by the Novi School Board at its last meeting.

Three administrative personnel, Assistant High School Principal Charles

However, Todd said that in addition the city will have to loan the library $60,000 to $134,000 depending on many variables including when the contractor will have to be paid and when a federal grant is expected to be received.

"The worst situation would be the contractor paid in full in July and the federal grant funds not received until after August, 1976, which would mean a cash shortage of $133,960," said a letter from Todd to the council.

Todd recommended that the money be loaned from federal revenue sharing funds with the difference being made up from the general fund. However, council members pointed out that doing that would require that the city spread out carefully capital equipment purchases over the next fiscal year.

With library board chairman Helen McAskin in attendance, the council threw out the idea of stopping construction and operation of the library now, but determined that the loss of grant funds would put the library board in a worse financial situation than it currently is in.

While the library board had indicated all along that it was planning on renting out the phase II space of the library

8 Candidates File For Board Seats

Unless a write-in campaign emerges, Ruth Waldenmayer of 40677 Ten Mile has been virtually assured of election June 14 to the three-year term on the Novi school board as she was the only person to file for that term, currently held by Terrance Jolly.

While Mrs. Waldenmayer was the only person to file for the three-year term, seven candidates including Jolly will be seeking election to the two four-year terms being vacated by Ray Warren and LaVerne DeWaard.

Filing for the four-year seat by the 4 p.m. Monday deadline were: Brent Canup, 47201 Glamorgan; Maurice R. Cherf, 25320 Beck Road;

Russell J. Fertitta, 23259 Ennshore; Terrance K. Jolly, 22557 Brook Forest; John R. Milam, 23675 Stonehenge; Raymond A. Murphy, 22616 Heatherbrae; and Lawrence W. Smith, 26950 Taft Road.

Neither incumbent DeWaard nor Warren filed to run for another term. A tea honoring their contribution to the district will be held after the June 17 board session.

Biographical sketches, pictures and the candidates' answers to four questions posed by the local chapter of the League of Women Voters will be published on June 2.

The League will also be holding a meet the candidates forum before the election.

Austerity Budget Action Expected

The Wixom City Council is expected to act on the mayor's proposed budget for the 1976-77 fiscal year at the scheduled council meeting next Tuesday night.

Described by Mayor Val Vangieson as tight, and conservative, the proposed budget is set at $1,051,433. That figure reflects a cut of approximately $25,741 in expenditures over last year's budget.

Vangieson said of his proposed budget that he viewed it as austere. He further remarked that the city was making every effort to live within its means.

As required by the City Charter which states the budget must be presented to council by the last meeting in May, council members will then take the action to accept, reject or change expenditures.

Budget study sessions have been held during the past month with department heads in attendance. The proposed budget reflects a hold-the-line attitude in all departments including salaries.

A public hearing on the budget will be held during the Tuesday night meeting at which time the budget will be discussed in its entirety.

'They're Tops'

Novi valedictorian Kathryn Ossian and salutatorian David Seidel discuss molecular configurations during their independent studies chemistry class. The announcement of the valedictorian and salutatorian came last week from the school administrative offices.

Name Kathryn Ossian, David Seidel Top Grads

Kathryn Ossian has been named valedictorian of the 1976 Novi High School graduating class. Named as salutatorian is David Seidel.

Miss Ossian is the sister of Michael Ossian who was honored last year as valedictorian. Like her brother, Miss Ossian has also attained a perfect 4.0 grade point average. Seidel has a 3.94 average.

Miss Ossian, daughter of George and Marjorie Ossian of 23486 Meadowbrook came to Novi High School in her sophomore year after attending Mettetal Junior High in Detroit.

While at Novi she has been a member of the Spanish Club, ski club and choir as well as flag carrier with the marching band. She played softball last year.

In addition, she furthered her interest in darkroom photography as president of the camera club.

Miss Ossian will be following her brother's footsteps as she, too, will be attending Michigan State University in the fall. She received a stipend scholarship from Michigan State University for superior academic record in high school.

According to Miss Ossian, she plans to major in food science and human nutrition and is aiming eventually to receive a doctorate in that field. Afterward, she has plans to work either for the government or in private industry.

At the end of her high school career, Miss Ossian admitted that "I can't believe it came so quickly."

"For a school this size, we had the best course offerings we could. The teachers are great and I liked the small atmosphere because you know everybody," recalled Miss Ossian.

Seidel is the son of Paul and Kathryn Seidel, 22801 Heatherbrae Way.

Seidel is News Editor on the Wildcats Roar, the student newspaper. He has been on the debate team three years, as well as the forensics team. He is vice president of the camera club and has been secretary of the

Jaycee Auxiliary

Cops State Honors

Top awards came the way of the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary May 7-9 as not only was the auxiliary named "auxiliary of the year" in its class, Sharon Larson was awarded the "Outstanding President" award.

The awards were presented during the Michigan Jaycee's state convention held in Grand Rapids.

The auxiliary was voted tops in the state among groups with 15-24 members on the basis of activity. Mrs. Larson was named for the "Outstanding President" award after her qualifications were entered by the auxiliary and she was interviewed and selected for first place over 32 other presidents.

"Our auxiliary worked very hard this year and we are really thrilled to be selected for such an honor," commented Mrs. Larson.

The Novi auxiliary worked on 98 projects in the last year, a period of time when it had an average of 18 members. The projects included community service activities as well as money makers and individual improvement functions. Three of the projects, the treasure hunt, Jaycee state golf outing and spring district meeting were also recognized during the state convention as award winning projects.

Pam Balagna was named one of the ten "Outstanding Spokettes" in Michigan for her participation as a first year member, Kathy Crawford was honored as one of five young women nominated for a Mainstay award. That award is given for an auxiliary member who has been active in her local chapter and the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary for more than five years.

Students of Miss Millie's School of Dance will salute the Bicentennial as well as Walt Disney in their annual dance recital this Saturday at Plymouth Salem High School, Joy and Canton roads.

Irene Durham, president; Beth Wolgumuth, senior vice-president; and Nancy Gazley, junior vice-president.

Following the installation program, a buffet dinner was served to more than 200 guests followed by an evening of dancing to the music of the "Suburbanites".

Plat Extended For One Year

A one-year extension of preliminary plat approval for a proposed Smoker-Gordon subdivision on the west side of Braden Road south of Franklin was granted by Northville township board Thursday at its May meeting.

A spokesman for the firm stated it has no plans at this time but wished to "have its options open."

The request was being made because of the general economic conditions of 1974 and 1975 which slowed the housing industry, and the developer stated, forced delay of the project. The extension will be to July 18, 1977.

Approval also was given for a lot split to Robert Lupini, dividing two lots (19 and 20) into three at 18432 Docksey. It was pointed out that the split would result in lots that were compatible in size with those on adjacent Ridge Court, which runs into Docksey.

The split had been recommended for denial by the planning commission based on the present zoning ordinance. Neighbors had not objected, the board was told.

After hearing an appeal on "inconsistencies" in the classification of property of James A. Pasco at 42680 Waterford Road from his attorney, Phillip A. Gillis, the board requested an opinion from its attorney and asked that he discuss the matter with Gillis.

Gillis was objecting to charges levied by the water department for lines to the property, which is the Pasco residence and also contains a barn nursery. A charge in excess of $7,000 previously had been approved by the board at $6 per foot of frontage. Gillis argued that the property is zoned residential, not commercial.

The board accepted a letter of agreement with Wayne County covering recreational use of fields on Sheldon Road. The board voted to support action of District Judge Dunbar Davis in appointing Louis Hopping a magistrate of the court.

After hearing a detailed presentation by the township's civil defense director, James Schrot, the board voted approval of his volunteer efforts. It also agreed to support his efforts and to accept the civil defense program concept.

Schrot indicated he needed an assistant and knew of an interested citizen. He was authorized to have a second volunteer and to try to secure a surplus generator through civil defense, when he explained that this would be without cost to the township.

Debate Erupts in Wixom

Once again the question of an industrial development district in Wixom came before the Wixom City Council Tuesday night.

And once again the subject brought a reaction from Councilman James Lahde and a stern dressing down of Lahde by Mayor Val Vangieson.

Jerry J. Tomecek of Jasic Industries along with Richard Warfield of the State Office of Economic Expansion appeared before the council asking for an industrial development district designation.

Jasic, manufacturers of acupuncture equipment has been in business at their present location on Beck Road since 1971. The industrial district designation being sought is on the property immediately adjacent to the present building.

Tomecek admitted he was not aware of the steps involved in applying for the designation and said he thought there was nothing formal about it.

Eighteen months ago Tomecek had apparently asked the building department about the State Act covering industrial expansion projects with its resultant tax breaks.

Tomecek further stated he was turned down in his initial attempt to file by former Building Official Carlton Oldford. Apparently Tomecek got the idea that the city was not interested in granting industrial district designations.

No attempt to pursue the subject was made by Tomecek although he did go ahead with plans for construction of a new building. That construction began last July.

In a later meeting with Warfield, Tomecek learned of a clause in the act covering buildings already under construction.

According to Warfield, the building can legally come under the state act if construction was begun during a period not exceeding 18 months.

12 months of passage of the original act.

Although Tomecek's approach to receiving an industrial district designation differs greatly from the Korex Company's, he too is seeking a 50 percent tax break for a twelve year period. The tax incentive was designed to keep industries in Michigan.

Korex was granted permission to relocate within the city and construct a larger facility for their soap making operations some four months ago. That permission was not granted without a hassle however.

Tomecek was told by the council that in order to even be considered for the designation he seeks, he must still follow the assigned procedures in filing, with the subject discussed at a public hearing.

That hearing has been tentatively scheduled for June 22 contingent upon the city receiving a proper legal description of the property Tomecek wishes to include in the district.

Voting against the request for application were Lahde and Councilman Robert Dingeldey.

Although Dingeldey made no comment as to his reasons for his vote, Lahde once again argued the city had no guidelines and asked for a study session to "hash them out."

Saying his reasons were "not directed personally towards Tomecek", Lahde further stated, "I don't believe government should subsidize industry. There are enough incentives here in Wixom to hold industries without the further addition of tax breaks."

Councilman Gunnar Mettala supported the Jasic request saying his own job depended greatly on the financial well-being of industry.

Mettala continued, "I am more interested in the survival of industry and the jobs created in those industries by keeping a company in the area."

Lahde countered, "I am not acting on emotions or greed. We were put here for a reason — that reason is to make decisions not for the good of one person but for the well-being of the entire community."

When Lahde repeated his request for a study session, Vangieson pointed out that he (Lahde) consistently requests study sessions and then misses more than he attends.

Vangieson further rebuked the mayor pro tem by pointing out that when the act was discussed, Lahde was not in attendance.

'On the Steps'

The eighth grade class of Novi Middle School gathered on the steps of the Capitol in Washington D.C. with Congressman William Broomfield, May 7. Their visit with the representative was all a part of a three-day was blind and living alone and put an ad into the newspaper to get someone to do the cooking. That's how I met Mary."

Bicentennial trip to the nation's capital. A prized souvenir of their excursion is a United States flag which Broomfield had flown atop the Capitol building and presented to the school.

Richter added that things have not always been rosy, "but you've got to work together and pull together in life."

The Richters found themselves the recipients of several birthday and anniversary cakes from the students. It was fitting that Richter told of the need of handicapped people, no matter what their handicap, for friendship.

"Regardless of what the handicap may be, give a hand and a how do you do," urged Richter. "We walk amongst people and when they don't say anything, you wonder if they want you."

Richter said later that the experience of being adopted grandparents has been meaningful to him and his wife.

"I think what they had in mind was friendship and the neighborly act which we used to have and have gotten away from."

"I always want to pass on my past experiences so I can help them through life," adds Richter. "I believe I've accomplished a lot."

As proof of that, the Richters, who live on Taft Road, say that they now get a special greeting from many of the students.

"There are more horns blowing as they recognize me when they go by," explains Richter. "It makes you feel like somebody cares."

Reinstate Personnel

Nanas, assistant Middle School Principal Paul LePae, and Community Education Director Milan Obrenovich, were not reinstated, pending further review by the board.

Teachers reinstated included: Marianne Aldrich; Annilee Artz; William Ayotte; Gregg Balko; Barbara Ball; Georgia Bingham; Greg Carnacchi; George Culbert; Tim Daley; Robert Emerson; June Fox; Deborah Golding; and Margaret Haddock.

Others were: Rebecca Hurst; Nancy Kantor; Dennis Lampron; John Lawrence; Richard Lenz; Leslie McDonald; Chris Monohon; Catarina Rogers; Roberta Rosenberg; Susan Ruddy; Katherine Snow; Lynn Serensen; and Jill Tarczy.

No action has yet been taken to reinstate several noon aides and paraprofessionals who were laid off during cutbacks last year. They are expected to be called back for the next school year, according to the superintendent's office.

Among other personnel recommendations approved by the board were retirement for three individuals. Retiring are Bethel Adams, a sixth grade teacher at the Middle School who has been in the district 17 years, Mary Hart, Orchard Hills Librarian with the district 20 years; and Doris Darling, Cafeteria Manager who was with the district 26.9 years.

Resignation was also accepted from Margaret Anderson, first grade teacher at Village Oaks who is moving.

The board approved employment of Patricia Belluci for Data Processing Level I, step three.

A National Merit Scholar, Seidel was also a top forensics student, competing in extemporaneous speech in state competition. Last year he also debated in the state competition.

Seidel said that he will be majoring in engineering either mechanical or aeronautical at University of Michigan.

"I've always been fascinated by airplanes and space. I just love going in airports and wandering through," said Seidel. He said that he may go for both degrees eventually. Which he seeks first may depend on the look of the job market.

He added that he would like to be involved in research and design of airplanes and space capsules "or anything in the space program."

"I'd love to get into NASA," added Seidel. "They do basic research which other companies follow."

Seidel will be receiving a scholarship from the AAL (Aid Association for Lutherans). He is also receiving the University of Michigan Regents Alumni scholarship.

Novi School Board

Eyes Novi El Use

Although the Novi School Board is going to try to sell Novi Elementary on Novi Road, the board recently approved recommended uses of the building during the school year 1976-77.

The building is not to be used for students as they will be attending the new Novi Elementary.

However, the board approved that the building be used:

- to house the high school alternative Education program;
- as warehouse space in the northwest wing;
- to house the Oakland-Livingston Human Service Agency which serves senior citizens;
- as rental of available space to other municipalities or private enterprises.

The board specified that an alarm company would be retained to provide security for the warehouse portion, which will be used to provide storage of items for the new high school.

The board also directed that specifications be drawn so that advertisements can be placed to sell the building. Because the Novi-Community Center, which is owned by the city, is connected and gets its lifeline from the elementary school, the board indicated that the administration should try to work out an agreement with the city to sell the entire structure.

City Manager Edward Kriewall said that the city's concern is seeing to it that a community center remains to serve the community. He said that an arrangement could be worked out so that the new elementary could be used for that function.

He added that the city may sell the community center to the school initially so that whoever is buying the building would only have to deal with one unit of government. He added that the city could use the elementary building as a community service center and the city could build a new community service center at the municipal site at 10 Mile and Taft Road.

Area Communities Salute Michigan Week

Michigan Week luncheon hosted by the Northville Rotary Club. They are Mayor and Mrs. Fred Beck and Councilman and Mrs. Floyd Thormann.

SNAP-P-P—Grey skies and constant showers did not keep the crowd away on Youth Day in Wixom where performances of the "Gunfighters" were packed. Center front in one act found Duke Dennison the master of the whip with Bruce Kirby clutching the paper. The "dude" to the left is Phil "Wyatt Earp" Leonard while "Bear Slow" Dingledey lights up a puff.

BAND PERFORMS—As Michael Rumbell strikes up the Northville High School band, Michigan Week guests from Utica watch and listen along with their Northville hosts.

They're Honored

Grand prize winner in the annual beautification awards for businesses, governmental agencies and churches went this year to Dewey Gardner, owner of IV Seasons Flowers.

Presentation of the grand prize plaque was made Monday at the exchange mayor's luncheon hosted by the Northville Rotary Club. The awards program is sponsored by the Northville Beautification Commission. Presenting this and other awards was Rotarian Paul Vernon, chairman of the Beautification Commission, who also as mayor pro-tem of Northville was a city host to visiting municipal officials from Utica who were guests at the luncheon.

IV Seasons copped 156 points out of a possible 168 points for an overall 92.85 percent score in judging by commission members. Awards are made on the appearance of buildings and grounds.

A second exception award went to Mr. and Mrs. James Cutler of Cutler Realty, the city's only three-time winner. Other beautification award winners were:

Detroit Federal Savings & Loan, Michigan Bell Telephone, John Mach Ford Sales, Paper 'N Spice, Green's Creative Home Center, Inc., Good Time Party Store, Del's Shoes, Long's Plumbing and Boutique, Manufacturer National Bank of Detroit's drive-in branch, Casterline Funeral Home, Northville Downs, Chuck's Boron Service Station, Asher's 76 Station, Northville Post Office, Northville Presbyterian Church, and Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. Categories in the contest are for auto service, businesses that have landscaping, street-side businesses, industries, and schools, churches and government buildings.

Commission members inspect buildings and grounds in the fall and spring prior to reaching their decisions with the advent of Michigan Week.

Week Got Off to A Wet Start

It was a whole lot wetter Saturday morning than drizzled down from the sky as Northville volunteer firemen staged their annual street washing to kick off Michigan Week festivities.

As usual, when the washing of downtown Main and Center streets neared the finish, firemen turned their hoses on each other and a few of the bystanders.

When it was over there wasn't a dry fireman in the bunch. What's more, Councilman Paul Vernon got a dousing, too.

Later Saturday morning, a flag raising ceremony was conducted at the city hall followed by tree plantings in the city hall park. The trees, donated by members of the planning commission, the beautification commission and the historical district commission as part of the Plant A Tree In Northville project, included a locust, sycamore and a maple.

Boy Scouts of VFW troop 721 distributed litter bags, Michigan Week buttons and Facts about Michigan leaflets to adults in the downtown area.

Saturday's festivities were part of Civic Pride Day. On Monday, Mayor Exchange Day, Mayor and Mrs. Fred Beck of Utica and Councilman and Mrs. Floyd Thormann of the exchange city, were guests of Northville.

Their hosts included Mayor pro-tem Vernon, Councilmen Wallace Nichols and Paul Folino and their wives, City Manager and Mrs. Steven Walters, and Mrs. Robert Brueck, Michigan Week chairmen.

Representing Northville in Utica Monday were Mayor A. Malcolm Allen and Councilman Stanley Johnston.

Among activities Monday during the visit of guests from Utica was a flag raising ceremony at the Mill Race Historical Village, a tour of the buildings there, a performance by the Northville High School Band, a luncheon hosted by the Northville Rotary Club, and a tour of the Ford Valve Plant and Northville Laboratory.

Pop was provided the performing bandmen by the Northville Kiwanis Club.

Monday evening officials of Utica and Northville and their guests met at the Red Fox Restaurant, midway between the two communities, for dinner and a discussion of the day's events.

On Tuesday, Heritage Day, the Mill Race was open for visits by school children. Traditional handicrafts and weaving demonstrations were set up in the historic buildings.

Thursday is Education Day and a host of activities are planned in Northville schools. On Friday, Youth Day, a street concert by the Northville High Jazz Band will take place on Main Street east of Center from 3 to 4 p.m.

AWARD WINNERS—Among the award winners on hand to accept their plaques Monday for beautification of buildings and grounds for 1976 were (left to right) James Roth of Good Time Party Store, Jack Warner of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Wilson Hayes of Michigan Bell Telephone Company, James Long of Long's Plumbing and Boutique, Charles Abner of Chuck's Boron Service Station, John Carlo of Northville Downs, the Reverend, Lloyd Brasore of the Northville Presbyterian Church, Dewey Gardner (grand prize winner) of IV Seasons Flowers, Ray Casterline of Casterline Funeral Home, Mrs. and Mr. James Cutler of Cutler Realty, Mrs. and Mr. Howard Green of Green's Creative Home Center, Inc., Edyth Cole of Paper 'N Spice, James Ella Witherspoon of the Northville Post Office, and the Reverend Fr. Gerard Hadad.

Wixom Newsbeat

Yard Sale's Tomorrow

Not too many days left in Wixom's ambitious celebrating of Michigan Week. What has passed up has proved to be fun and a credit to the minds that thought them up... and to Carolyn Morehead who put them all together.

After Saturday night it will be, for her, a necessary period of R&R... speak softly and don't telephone early!

Yet to come tomorrow and Saturday the Historical Society yard sale at the Tiffin House. Donations are still being accepted at City Hall or by calling Margaret Ladd at 624-1297.

What's going to be at the yard sale? Well, donations of all shapes, sizes and varieties have come in from around the city to please even the most discriminate of garage sale seekers.

There are pieces of old furniture, dishes, books, lots of clothing in all sizes and collectables. There will be attic treasures, toys, games, knickknacks and certainly, an assortment of stuff that doesn't fit into any category.

The sale starts at 10 a.m. and runs to 4 p.m. both days. In case of rain, the sale will be held the following weekend. All proceeds from the sale will go into the Society's restoration fund with work bees at the house scheduled to begin in June.

And while you're out Saturday, why not stop at the Library open house from 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. which is being planned by the Friends of the Library.

The program will include the dedication of library shelving purchased with funds donated to the library by the Wixom Co-op and the Frank and Bessie Wimmer Foundation. Stop in, have some delicious refreshments and see how the library has grown in just a few short years.

And to top off the whole week you can join in on the spring treasure hunt.

For those who find hunts a little brain boggling, a special cheat sheet has been made up this year. If you find it necessary to use, you can't win a money prize but you are still entitled to some on the lesser list.

I always leave a hunt with an Excedrin 007 so the sheet will be a welcome relief. Thanks to the sponsors I may be able to enjoy the dinner.

At this point I can not promise any spare reservations but a simple phone call to Bonnie and Denny Haight at 624-5135 will give the word. Along with Pam and Tony Dodge thinking up some stinkers, this ought to be a real hunt!

You know, it's kind of fun living in Wixom where occasionally you can see a muskrat running down a road or listening to the owls hoot in their trees at night.

But even more pleasant is having to come to a dead halt while driving down Hopkins Drive to allow two wild ducks to cross the road.

Since they came from the vicinity of the Dave Schwanky's, I asked him about the ducks. "Well," he says, "we actually have four couples living in our backyard and who you waited for was probably 'Big Mamma' and her son."

Dave went on to tell about "Big Mamma" who just ain't afraid of muthin'. The duck even has the family cat buffaloes.

When the cat was younger it thought it was going to play "let's chase the ducks." Ole "Big Mamma" didn't move a quack and she took good care of the meow.

Mamma rules the roost and the cat gets out of the way even to the point of jumping on the family picnic bench to avoid an altercation.

No babies yet this year, says Dave, but with four couples, that backyard ought to be quite a sight. Last year two couples had twenty-four. Once while they were in the little creek behind the house the babies got mixed-up.

"You never heard such a commotion... the water was bubbling and churning as the mamas tried to sort out the babies. It must have taken them an hour to get the mess straightened out."

A couple of years ago, "Big Mamma" and her brood were crossing Wixom Road and a motorist didn't stop. Mamma got clipped but the Schwanky boys rescued her and put her in the safety of the creek.

The lady now has a game right leg which makes her waddle just a little unique among ducks.

So please, be just a little more careful around Wixom Road and Hopkins Drive... this is one duck who deserves to be preserved!

Questionnaire Advises

'Remove State Aid Ceiling'

If they could have their way, the Northville School Board would eliminate the 27-mill ceiling on operational millage reimbursements by the state. The Board would also base regional variations in the state guarantee level on the local cost of doing business.

At least that's the way the Board responded to a school financing questionnaire sent to them by James Phelps, special assistant to the governor.

The Northville Board also said it would oppose two constitutional amendments—one to place limits on school operating millages and one to allow school boards to set millages without a vote of the people.

The questionnaire is part of a larger study on the property tax. All school boards and local governments will be surveyed by the Governor's Task Force on Property Tax Revision.

Phelps said the task force wants to know, "Has the property tax been adequate? Has it been fair?"

The questionnaire sounds out local school boards on alternatives to the present tax and financing system. Results of the school financing questionnaire, will be published in an interim report in July. After that public hearings will be held and final recommendations will be sent to the governor in the fall.

School Superintendent Ray Spear filled out the questionnaire for the Northville district by compiling the answers of individuals on the board to each question.

Spear said that removing the 27-mill ceiling is particularly important because "the present system doesn't reward effort."

Under the current law, local taxes are matched by the state only to the 27-mill limit. In Northville, the present operational millage is 28.9 mills.

According to Gerald Kratz, superintendent of the Novi schools, their board has not seen the questionnaire as yet.

Fire Protection

Tops Agenda

Fire and police protection will be the topic of the May 21 meeting of the Farmington-Novi chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons at 1:30 p.m. in the Farmington Hills library.

Farmington Hills fire inspector William H. Gerhart will be the speaker.

Frank Morgan, a member who has been named National Implantation Specialist for AARP, will be the speaker at the chapter's June 18 meeting. A splash party and potluck are planned for July 18 at Chatham Hills condominium on Grand River.

Does your bedroom need rearranging? Here are some tips from a decorating expert: A bedroom arrangement is a personal one, since the room is usually small and must accommodate large pieces of furniture. The secret of successful furniture grouping in a bedroom is the elimination of all unnecessary clutter, a good color scheme, plenty of light, and what might be called space-increasing illusions. Painting low multiple chest units to match your bedspread helps this illusion. Slip-cover the headboard of a double bed to match the bedspread, too. A tailored spread is a great help in creating an uncluttered atmosphere.

Police Blotter

Novi Police Seek Attempted Rapist in Attack

In Novi

Novi Police are searching for a 30 to 40-year-old man of slight build with dark hair and a moustache involved in an unsuccessful attempted rape Friday night in Waterview apartments.

The breaking and entering of the apartment marks the second in two weeks. There have been two other unsuccessful attempts.

According to Novi Detective Lieutenant Richard Faulkner, the man entered the apartment by cutting a screen and opening the window. He then crept quietly to the living room where he found the 34-year-old victim.

The man reportedly crept up behind her and put a nylon around her neck, choking her. He then dragged her into the bedroom where he stripped her and sexually assaulted her, but failed in the rape attempt. He then left, taking her wallet which contained $2, according to Faulkner.

The woman was told to stay in bed as the man left. She then locked the window and left the apartment to report the incident. When she returned, a rock had been thrown through her window.

Tracking dogs called to the scene failed to locate the man. A composite drawing by an Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy verified that the man involved in the latest attack was the same man who entered another Waterview apartment recently and was scared off by the woman.

Screens have been slashed to gain entry in each incident.

Novi Police Department working in conjunction with the Walled Lake Police department apprehended John Hajdas, 24, of Highland and Arnold Muzyczka, 24, of Detroit in connection with the theft of 302x4's taken from the Beachwalk Apartments construction site.

Both men were stopped in Walled Lake in a pickup truck with the lumber in the truck. They were arraigned May 17 before District Court Judge Gene Schnelz. Muzyczka pled guilty and was fined $100 or 10 days in Oakland County Jail. Hajdas originally pled guilty and was to be fined $100 and three days in jail, but withdrew the plea and requested a trial. He was released on $100 bond.

Guernsey's Dairy, 21300 Novi Road was broken into May 16 and $120 taken. Police are investigating.

A $450 fiberglass cap was taken from an El Rancho vehicle parked in the 23700 area of Willowbrook.

An escapee from Louisiana State Prison was arrested by Novi May 14 after a Novi surveillance team discovered him at Helen's Hideaway in Novi.

After checking to determine if the sentence of Ray Proffitt had been completed, Novi Police proceeded to take him into custody. He had been serving time for armed robbery. He was lodged in Oakland County Jail to await transport back to the Louisiana prison. He had lived in Novi previously.

A stripped 1975 Chevrolet pickup truck was discovered May 16 on Taft Road a quarter mile north of Nine Mile.

Missing were tires, radio and other items. It had been stolen from Detroit.

A $400 10 speed Raleigh Bicycle was taken May 15 from a garage in the 27400 area of Novi Road. A window was broken out to gain entry.

A Citizens Band radio, speaker and two antennae valued at $231 were taken from a car parked at Westgate VI Apartments May 13.

A $130 Midland Citizens Band Radio was stolen from a car parked in the 23800 area of Meadowbrook. The incident occurred May 13.

In Township

The manager of the Trading Post, tired of the number of breaking and enterings suffered at the store, installed an alarm system which paid off early Friday morning.

Michael Haggerty, manager of the store located on Seven Mile Road in Salem Township got a call from an area resident saying the alarm at the store was sounding.

Grabbing his rifle and flashlight, Haggerty raced to the store. He got there in time to nab Charles Faulkner climbing out the front window.

Lowering his rifle and aiming it at Faulkner, Haggerty told him "to get back towards the building."

Instead, according to Haggerty, Faulkner jumped at Haggerty and during the scuffle, grabbed the gun.

Haggerty, looking down the barrel of the rifle told police later that Faulkner's finger was on the trigger.

Still holding the flashlight, Haggerty grabbed the barrel of the gun, shoved it out of the way and knocked Faulkner unconscious by hitting him on the head with the flashlight.

State police troopers arriving on the scene arrested Faulkner, found later to be on parole from a previous charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

An area resident observing the scene saw a second man escape from the area in a car. His information was flashed to Northville Township units providing back-up to the troopers.

Township police in response apprehended the second suspect identified as Charles Zamborowski at Napier and Seven Mile roads. Zamborowski, also 18, of Garden City previously lived in South Lyon.

Zamborowski was turned over to the state police. Both men were arraigned on breaking and entering charges. Faulkner was also charged with attempt to do great bodily harm.

Bail was set at $2,000 cash bond on Zamborowski and $15,000 cash bond on Faulkner. Both are lodged at the Washtenaw County Jail.

It is still unclear if there is a third suspect involved in the burglary. Police are investigating that possibility.

Faulkner and Zamborowski gained entry to the store by breaking a front window. Police found a blanket containing four 12-packs of beer and a cassette tape player lying inside the building.

Haggerty, apparently unruffled by the experience said the store has been hit several times in the past. "This is the first time it has happened since we put in the alarm system."

"We want to let these punks know we mean business, and we're going to get them from now on," he added.

In Northville

A man who told acquaintances "he had nothing to live for" apparently took his own life last week. Walter Boyd, 46, of 265 Linden was found shot to death.

Boyd was found by two friends last Friday who ran to George Strange to tell him of the incident. Strange notified Northville city police who investigated. They reported Boyd had been dead two days.

A Schwinn Continental bicycle left unlocked at the Northville Arcade Thursday was found taken when the owner returned 10 minutes later. The bike was valued at $150.

A gas grill mounted in a back yard patio area on Springfield was taken sometime during the night of May 12. The owner told police the grill was worth $150.

In Wixom

Police from both Novi and Walled Lake apprehended two youths shortly after they had been seen removing parts from a parked car.

A resident of the Village Apartments on Pontiac Trail alerted Wixom Police shortly after midnight Wednesday of two suspicious men tampering with a parked car at the complex.

The resident was able to supply the police with a description of the fleeing car along with its license number. The youths were apprehended within minutes of the police information broadcast.

Arrested was 18-year-old John Samples and a juvenile companion detained. Both were residents of Novi. The two were transported to Wixom and turned over to police.

Samples told police he and his companion had gone to the apartment complex to visit a friend. Not finding him there, they left.

Samples further stated he happened to drive past a car similar to his and noticed the car had a turn signal part that he needed for his car.

Samples said he simply got out of his car and took the turn signal off the parked vehicle and left.

A Panasonic tape unit valued at $179 was ripped from the dashboard of a van parked in the employees lot of the Ford Motor Company.

The owner of the vehicle told police the car was locked when he left it to report for his 5 p.m. shift on May 11. The theft was discovered at 4 a.m. May 12 as he was leaving the plant.

Wixom Police investigated the theft of four full wheel covers from a car parked in the employees lot at Ford Motor. The covers, valued at $160 were taken sometime between 5:15 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. May 10.

A Yamaha dirt bike chained to a mailbox post in front of a residence on North Wixom Road was discovered missing by its owner at 3 a.m. May 9. The mailbox had been torn off the post and the chain slid up over it to remove the cycle.

A citizens band radio and an AM-FM radio with an approximate value of $167 were pulled from the dashboard of a car parked at the Indian Lodge Apartments. The wires of both units were cut.

The incident was thought to have occurred between 3 a.m. and 8:50 a.m. May 9. The owner told police the car was locked.

A portable tape player attached under the dashboard of a reportedly locked car was taken sometime between 10 p.m. May 9 and 8:30 a.m. May 10. The car was parked in a lot in the Village Apartments.

Value of the tape player was estimated to be $100.

An assortment of plants and pottery vases were taken from the front showwindows of Flowers by John on Wixom Road. According to owner

John Parvu, the persons involved apparently had no knowledge of flowers based on what was taken.

Window panes were broken out of both large windows as well as the entry way to gain access to the merchandise. Damage was estimated at $50 with $175 in plants taken. Several glass items displayed in the window were also smashed.

Parvu said the incident had to occur sometime between 10:30 p.m. May 6 and 8:30 a.m. May 7. He was working late getting ready for Mother's Day.

Township Honors

Four Policemen

Four Northville township police officers received citation ribbons and certificates at the township board's May meeting last Thursday in a Citizens' Advisory Committee program begun a year ago.

Ronald Demeter, chairman, assisted by Police Chief Ronald Nisun, presented the honors to patrolmen Phillip C. Presnell and Dennis M. Roscoe for meritorious service and life saving.

Two reserves, Sergeant Robert Reh and Officer E. Fred Petersen, Jr., received life saving-protection awards.

Demeter explained that the citizens' group has set up five classifications for outstanding service: medal of valor for extraordinary duty; meritorious service, bravery on duty; life saving (and protecting); department commendation (a letter signed by the chief); and a citizens' award for citizens who aid police.

He said the group had reviewed officers' files and the awards being presented were based on this. Uniform awards then will be made in the future, based on the classifications.

Relations Strained In Talks

Negotiations on next year's contract between the Northville School Board and the Northville Education Association (NEA) are apparently off to a bad start. Rick Cross, chairperson of the teachers' bargaining team, wrote in a memo to teachers that the board's proposals are "to say the least, unreasonable."

The teachers received three separate proposals on May 6 from David Kempner of Keller, Thoma, Toppin and Schwarze, the firm which will represent the board in negotiations. Two of the proposals covered special education teachers and the third "regular teachers."

The NEA wants a single contract covering all teachers. Naomi Poe, president of the NEA told The Record Monday, "We feel we're all Northville teachers. I have visited every special education class in the district, and I don't see anything that different about what they do. There is a problem in negotiating two contracts — it's hard enough to negotiate one."

Superintendent of Schools, Raymond Spear refused to comment on why the board is seeking separate contracts for the two groups of teachers.

Cross said, however, that the board feels dividing teachers into two groups would make it more difficult for them to strike. "We have not implied or threatened that we would take that action," said Cross. "Teachers' strikes are against the law."

Another area of disagreement appears to be the board's proposal to remove an anti-discrimination provision from the contract. Under current contract language, any teacher who believes he has been discriminated against because of race, color, creed, sex or national origin can file a grievance.

Spear said this language is inappropriate in the contract because there is legal action teachers can take through the courts or Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Cross, however, contends that because such action is costly and time-consuming, the deletion of this contract provision is a denial of teachers' civil liberties.

The NEA bargaining team is expected to have their demands on the table by June 15. The present contract expires September 6.

Set Health Fair

A "Health Fair" with the theme "Today is the first day of the rest of your life" is being presented by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary at the Novi High School Thursday, May 20.

There will be eight display areas including speakers, physical fitness stress tests, filmstrips, printed materials, and other visual aids.

The "fair" will be set up in the Commons area of the high school so that students may view the exhibits during their lunch hours, from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Germeroth, Debbie Mietla, Keith Assenmacher; fourth row, Eric Egeland, Rob Buttery, Jan Kalota, Pete Daniels, Karen Kennedy, Peggy Sitarski and Dave Holland.

Fund Luncheon Set for Pursell

A "Citizens for Carl Pursell" luncheon will be held next Monday, (May 24) at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville to help raise funds for the state senator's campaign for U.S. Congress in the second district.

John Carlo of Northville Downs is sponsoring the luncheon, which will be free to all guests.

A committee headed up by Al Wistert is contacting area residents inviting them to see and hear Senator Pursell and help his campaign for the seat being vacated by Congressman Marvin Esch — a candidate for U.S. Senate.

Wistert is co-chairman of Senator Pursell's Northville campaign along with Rosemary Hagge.

The luncheon will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Working with Carlo and Wistert on the benefit luncheon are A. R. Clarke and Margaret Zayti.

Pursell is a Plymouth resident who has served the area as both a Wayne County Commissioner and a State Senator. A Republican, he is seeking nomination in the August primary.

Senator Pursell has been active in educational and local government legislative affairs and played a major role in helping secure the new Michigan State Police Post, Second District Headquarters and Crime Laboratory facility for Northville Township.

All area residents interested in contributing money to the Pursell campaign are invited to attend the luncheon or submit a pledge.

For more information, call 349-1000.

Scout Gets Eagle Rank

Eagle is boy scouting's highest rank, and Randy Tharp, 16, is only the second member in the history of his Novi troop to achieve it. Randy, a member of Troop No. 54, received his Eagle Progress Award at a Court of Honor Monday.

Before a Scout can be considered for the honor, he must earn 24 separate merit badges. In addition, each Eagle candidate must plan, develop and give leadership to others in a community service project.

Randy's project was to provide toys for needy children last Christmas. He distributed handbills throughout the Novi area asking for repairable toys. Then he organized the toy collection, repair and distribution to various charitable organizations.

Randy has been an active member of Troop No. 54 since 1971.

Randy lives at 45335 Byrnes Drive in Northville and is a sophomore at Northville High School.

Temporary Head Named.

Troy Milligan, Northville township's electrical inspector, was named interim building inspector by the township board last Thursday.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Carl Lundquist, who had served as township building inspector for six years, but wished to retire within two weeks to northern Michigan.

Supervisor Betty Lennox stated that the township was advertising for applicants for the post at a salary of $14,000 to $16,000 a year and has received applications.

Applicants, she said, will be screened by a committee including herself, Clerk Clarice Sass and township engineer William Mosher. Recommendation then will be made to the board.

She stressed that she feels "this is one of the most important jobs in the township."

Mary Dumas on Justice Unit

Wayne County Commissioner Mary E. Dumas (R-Livonia) has been appointed by Governor Milliken to Michigan's Advisory Committee on Juvenile Justice.

The 24-member committee will review and recommend a state plan for the use of about $948,000 budgeted for juvenile justice and delinquency prevention in fiscal year 1976.

Mrs. Dumas was administered the oath of office by Juvenile Judge Y. Gladys Barsamian, who is a member of the Michigan Juvenile Justice Services Commission. Judge Barsamian and Mrs. Dumas have long been advocates of juvenile delinquency prevention programs.

"Increasing crime statistics reveal that 50 percent of all major crimes are committed by juveniles and youths under the age of 25," Mrs. Dumas stated. "This is occurring not only in the central city of Detroit, but in the suburban communities as well."

"If we do not wish to continue building bigger and better jails for adult offenders, then we must tackle the crime problem at its source, and that is during young people's formative years."

"I am looking forward to working with Judge Barsamian and other state and county officials in establishing programs designed to curb juvenile crime," Mrs. Dumas said.

The Federal Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Act of 1974 requires that the state advisory committee be established as a condition for receipt of Federal grants.

Walter Douglas, vice-president of New Detroit, Inc. was designated by the Governor as chairman of the advisory committee. In order to assure coordination between the two bodies, many of the newly-appointed members also serve on the Juvenile Justice Services Commission.

As Federal law requires, the committee membership is one-half nongovernmental and one-third under the age of 26. The committee is expected to meet at least quarterly.

Whoodini to Appear

Mr. Whoodini, the talented magician, and Bozo the Clown will entertain at the grand opening of the Perry Drug Store in the Northville Mall Shopping Center in Northville. The magician will appear from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Bozo from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday as part of the full-day festivities which are open to the public free of charge.

Perry Celebrates Sunday

A full day of grand opening activities will be held for the public on Sunday, May 23, at the Perry Drug store in the Northville Plaza Shopping Center on West Seven Mile Road.

According to Mike Weiner, registered pharmacist and manager of the store, the festivities will begin at 10 a.m. with a special ribbon-cutting ceremony. Jack A. Robinson, president of the drug store chain, Mrs. Betty M. Lennox, Supervisor of the Township of Northville, and A. Malcolm Allen, Mayor of Northville, will officially open the store. Perry Drug Stores will also present a $150 donation to the Northville Senior Citizens Club.

Shortly after 10 a.m. a free pancake brunch will be served to all guests at the store. Throughout the day, prizes and gifts will be distributed.

The magician, Mr. Whoodini, will be on hand from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to entertain the public with a fascinating display of skills. The featured attraction of the afternoon will be TV's Bozo the Clown. The popular entertainer will visit with the children from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Opening of the new store has increased the number of communities served by Perry Drug Stores to 30. The chain now comprises 39 units.

The Northville store, which contains 8,000 square feet of space, offers area residents a broad variety of merchandise not normally found in a neighborhood drug store, along with the traditional lines of health aids, toiletries and cosmetics. As in all its stores, the emphasis is on Red Coat Prescription Service. At Perry, the pharmacists are dressed in red coats to stress the point that the heart of the business is prescription service.

This newest store, as all other Perry Units, is open till 10 p.m. every day of the year.

Manager Weiner, who has served with Perry Drug Stores for four years, was formerly manager of the Perry store in Livonia. Charles Hupp, registered pharmacist, is the assistant manager. Other members of the management team are Suzanne Fessler, merchandise manager, Sandy Hull, Cosmetic Department Head, and Jane Nelson, Tobacco Department Head.

Band Clinic Slated

Members of the Northville High School marching band planning to attend summer band camp in August may receive free camp physicals again this year.

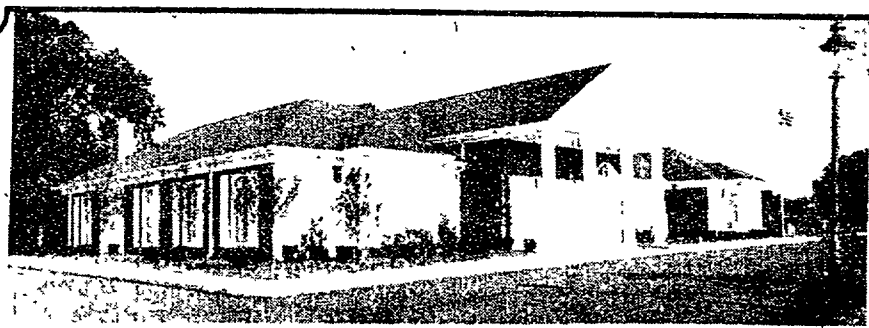

A band camp clinic will be held next Wednesday, May 26, in the high school band room. Physicals for girls will be given at 6:30 p.m. with boys following at 8 p.m.

Dr. John Brown, a Northville resident and parent of a band member, for the fourth year is donating his time. Mrs. Betty Hoover, Northville Band Parents president, announces.

Students should have health forms, which have been distributed, filled out with insurance information, immunization records, and emergency permission signed. They are to be turned in at the clinic.

If students receive their physicals from their own physician, Mrs. Hoover states, forms must be mailed to her at 43700 Nine Mile Road in Northville.

The marching band camp is being conducted at YMCA Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See near Hale, Michigan.

Books added to area library collections this week include:

ADULT FICTION

"The Edge," John V. Lindsay; A California congressman is running for re-election in the not-too-distant future when the country is in the throes of chaos, martial law has been declared, and the President wants to set aside the Bill of Rights.

"The Choirboys," Joseph Wambaugh; A group of policemen share some of their off-duty time in MacArthur Park drinking and carrying on.

ADULT NON-FICTION

"The Pictorial Encyclopedia of the Evolution of Man," Jan Jelinek; Outlines many of the discoveries that have led to the unravelling of Man's origins and development.

"The Greatest, My Own Story," Muhammad Ali.

"Clout — Mayor Daley and His City," Len O'Connor; Documented description and analysis of America's last great boss.

"Sculpture," by the Editors of Newsweek Books; Traces the development of this art from the prehistoric times to the present.

JUVENILE FICTION

"The Garden is Doing Fine," Carol J. Farley; Corrie refuses to believe that her father is dying until she realizes that no matter what happens, a part of him will always live in her.

"Ruffles and Drums," Betty Cavanna; Devoted to the revolutionary cause, sixteen-year-old Sarah finds it difficult to accept the presence of a young British officer convalescing in their Concord house.

"Earthquake," Matthew F. Christopher; After running away from camp in the Adirondack Mountains on his horse, Jeff encounters unimaginable ordeals, including a severe earthquake.

"The Case of the Burgled Blessing Box," Scott Corbett; Twelve-year-old inspector Tangle investigates the missing receipts of a revivalist religious group.

"Thunder at Gettysburg," Patricia Lee Gauch; Based on the account of one girl's experience during the battle.

"Letters to Horseface," F.N. Monjo; While journeying through Italy in 1770, fourteen-year-old Wolfgang Mozart relates his experiences in letters to his sister.

"Kelly's Creek," Doris Buchanan Smith; An eight-year-old boy's struggle to cope with a special physical problem is relieved by daily visits to a marsh and learning about its marine life.

"Cat in the Mirror," Mary Slattery Stolz; When Erin hits her head in the Metropolitan Museum, she finds herself transported to ancient Egypt.

JUVENILE NON-FICTION

"Kangaroos, Opossums, and Other Marsupials," Marie M. Jenkins; Examines in general the history and characteristics of marsupials, and discusses specifically the habits and characteristics of opossums, kangaroos, and other similar animals. Includes a section of monstremes.

"Chickens, Chickens, Chickens," Peter Richard Limburg; Discusses the physical characteristics, behavior, diseases, breeds, raising, and peck order of chickens and includes information on egg production and chickens in history, folklore, and the English language.

"Speak Softly, and Carry a Beagle," Charles Schulz; Further adventures of the Peanuts gang.

"Kings and Queens," Janice Young Brooks; A history of the Plantagenets of England, the early rulers of Britain.

"Wonders of Wild Ducks," Thomas D. Pegely; Includes index. Describes the characteristics and habits of the species of ducks found in North America and the threats to their continued existence.

"Pet Birds," Joan Joseph; Discusses the different breeds of birds available as pets and the care, food, and housing they require.

Will America Kill English?

"Strictly Speaking," a current best seller by the news commentator Edwin Newman, in which he poses the question: "Will America be the death of the English language?" will be the topic of the next book discussion at the Northville Public Library.

The discussion is scheduled for Tuesday, May 25, at 8:15 p.m. in the library. Anyone interested may attend.

Copies of the book in paperback are available at The Book Mark, on the upper level of the Northville Square.

The book discussion group, which has been meeting monthly since January, is growing in size, but new members are always welcome.

This will be the final session until September.

Jazz Clinic Set

If you've wondered what ever happened to baritone saxman Bruce Johnstone and bassist Rick Petrone since they left Maynard Ferguson, you can find out this Thursday, May 20, at Schoolcraft College in the Waterman Center.

They've formed a quintet called New York Mary, have a great new album and are appearing in concerts and clinics across the country.

All area jazz band instructors are cordially invited to take advantage of the opportunity to attend and bring their bands. The clinic begins at 1 p.m. and continues until around 3 p.m. A courtesy call to 591-6400, Ext. 342, will be appreciated if you plan to attend.

and requiring up front funds to be paid, after Mrs. McAskin left the study session council members threw out the idea that the library board had been operating without an actual plan to pay off the remaining cost of the library. Council members contended that the front money received would have been used to furnish the second phase of the library for use by the organization renting it and thus would not have been used to pay contractor obligations already present.

"It sounds like from the very beginning they depended on that other half mill if they were looking at it realistically," commented Mrs. Hoyer.

Dave Heinzman is getting plenty of practice these days working on behalf of school millage issues.

He's a Northville resident who devoted a lot of time and considerable talent to writing releases and constructing presentations for the Northville school millage request in April.

As director of college relations at Schoolcraft College, he's performing similar services for the June 14 school election at which time Schoolcraft will ask for a hike of .53 mills.

Last week we discussed Schoolcraft's needs with Board of Trustees President Paul Kadish, College President Dr. C. Nelson Grote, Business Manager Kenneth Lindner and Heinzman.

It's most interesting to review what has happened to the area community college since its doors were opened to students 12 years ago.

Last fall the student enrollment at Schoolcraft reached 10,152. About 8,000 are taking transferable college level courses — some 5,400 on a part-time basis and 2,600 full time. Another 2,100 enjoy leisure time adult education courses that might include conversational French, wine tasting or any number of interesting hobbies.

The average age of the Schoolcraft student is 28.

The point is that Schoolcraft performs a unique service to the community. It is a college for all people — those who have just graduated from high school and seek specialized skills that may require just two years of college-level training, or those who will later advance to four-year colleges. And for many others Schoolcraft offers the opportunity for self-improvement, or the education that was temporarily set aside in favor of work or neglected until maturity set in.

Still many more — some with college degrees — find the community college handy for sharpening up old minds or developing new interests that earlier career-studies did not include.

In 1964 Schoolcraft started with support of a one-mill levy. A few years later the public voted another .77 mills to bring the operating millage level to 1.77 — that's $1.77 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

In addition the college has used its legal authority to levy debt retirement millage for its building programs. Currently this amounts to .36 mills — or a total levy of 2.13 mills.

If you live in a $50,000 home, the state equalized valuation of your property for tax-levying purposes is $25,000. So that means that under present conditions you pay $53.25 annually to Schoolcraft.

On June 14 the college is asking the $50,000 homeowner for another $13.25 per year.

Schoolcraft administrators believe that this new all-purpose millage (which can be used for both operating and building purposes) will satisfy the needs for many years to come. They plan a $10 million building program to complete the culinary arts addition, construct a new learning resources center, remodel the library, construct a fine arts facility and make additions to the applied science building and the campus center for student affairs. An engineering study for future development of the campus will also be included.

Schoolcraft is not looking to taxpayers alone to raise the monies necessary to provide the broad services offered by the college. It has introduced a 19 per cent increase in tuition fees, which brings tuition at Schoolcraft to $13 per credit hour.

A full year at Schoolcraft still costs less than half tuition rates charged at Eastern, Wayne State, MSU or the U of M.

In my opinion our community is fortunate to have a facility like Schoolcraft within its borders. The price we must pay to support its activities may be the best bargain a taxpayer receives.

It would be my personal concern that the community would permit the facility to become so large that its formula of efficiency would be lost.

This does not appear to be the case in the current proposal. And it's evident that the board and administration are well aware of the dangers of over-expansion.

Local voters should lend their support to Schoolcraft's request for .53 mills on the June 14 ballot.

Approval of an expenditure of $2,250 by the Northville Township Board for funds to be matched by the city for site plan studies and an architectural rendering for a new library brought some criticism last week.

It also received one negative vote from a non-member of the board.

Like the recreation commission, the library commission is an advisory body composed of city and township residents appointed by the city council and township board.

Library Commission Chairman Carolann Ayers points out that the library budget was slashed at a previous township meeting. And, in addition, the board indicated it could not afford a request for $25,000 for land acquisition purposes. Come back with a realistic request, the board advised the commission.

It did so, and both the Township Board and the commission deserve to be congratulated for their action.

They do not deserve criticism from police-lobby interests who argue that a new police car should be purchased instead. The force has three cars for its six members. The same economy measures that have been exercised in dealing with other services — such as recreation and library — must be observed in all departments.

As a last straw, it is inconceivable to me that a non-elected employee of the township can sit in for an absent official representing the electorate and cast a vote.

If it's legal, it's undemocratic. And if tested in court, I can't imagine such a circumstance being upheld.

Board members are elected by the public. When vacancies occur, elected officials may appoint successors until another election is held. A temporary absence should leave the vote uncast.

To transfer, or accept, this authority and responsibility is unthinkable.

JAMES CAMPBELL

Speaking for Myself

Right Turn On Red?

JOHN RICHTER

GOOD . . .

Michigan's new right turn on red law is reasonable and should be very beneficial in reducing traffic congestion and in increasing traffic flow through intersections.

It should also go a long way towards reducing driver irritation and impatience which contributes to our high accident volume in this state.

Many states have had a similar law for several years and they report few accidents and little problems other than the initial panic, which resulted from a general lack of public education and understanding.

The Automobile Club of Michigan's Safety and Traffic Division recently conducted a survey of 11 large cities across the state. This survey was to determine how drivers were adjusting and to what degree cities were deluding the law by putting up prohibiting signs.

In the areas surveyed, only 279 out of 2,498 intersections or 11 percent were signed to prohibit right turn on red.

I believe the law is a good one and will result in good public reaction. The resulting increased traffic flow should help to make happier and more contented drivers.

J. E. Campbell, Manager
Livingston County Branch—
Automobile Club of Michigan

BAD . . .

The world is traveling too fast today and the right turn on red in another example. If people would only slow down, there wouldn't be so many accidents.

The new law was passed to save time and gas. How far can you go in those extra few seconds? And, let's face it, you aren't saving more than half a teaspoonful of gas since you have to stop anyway.

I've been blind for the last 37 years and this new law creates particularly serious problems for the blind. A seeing eye dog is trained to lead his master across the intersection when the traffic comes to a stop. If cars keep turning right on red, the dog has no way of knowing when to go.

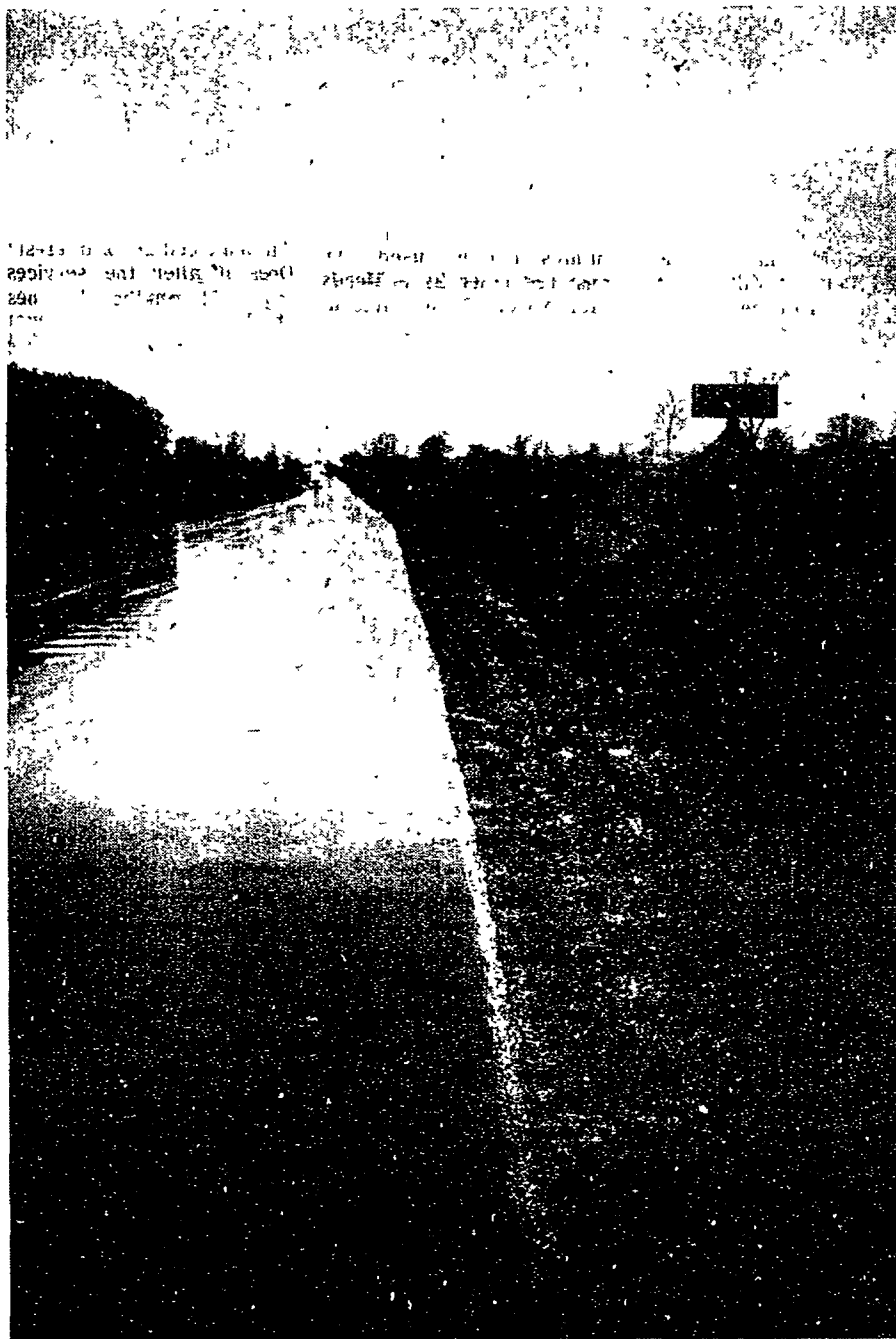

The blind people like me who don't have a dog but carry only a white cane (which means that motorists are legally required to stop) are in even a worse predicament. I cross the intersection when I don't hear traffic and think I have the green light. When you're in an auto you look to the left, I step off the curb and smack, that's it.

The little gas and time that are saved doesn't amount to much when you consider that lives are being jeopardized by the right turn on red. Red means stop and let's call it stop.

Senior Citizens Love Northville

To the Editor:

A comprehensive survey that requested answers to direct questions pertaining to Northville Senior Citizens reveals many interesting facts.

Elderly people LOVE Northville. They enjoy the peace and quiet, the small town atmosphere, the companionship of old friends. They are happy with their homes, most of them own their homes, many of them have lived in their homes for half a century or more and have their children and grandchildren near them. They are reaping their reward of their implementing religious, homeloving and grateful life.

Take a leisurely walk with me through an old neighborhood, see the surrounding hills and valleys, the primitive countryside, the clean rushing streams, the old waterwheel at the Ford plant adjoining the pond that is home for hundreds of ducks and other feathered friends, where you may indulge in a refreshing drink of cold spring water at the ever running well.

Take a look at Cass Benton Park where we see acres of beautiful well-kept grounds and picnic areas that line the shore of a wandering brook and picnic tables that are nestled in tree shaded spots. The same acres provide toboggan slides, hills for sleds and other sports during the winter season.

Let's stop for a moment and view the Northville Downs and admire those four legged beauties that have contributed so much to the community.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Race track naive bettors cost bettors a total of $404,166 in 1975, according to the annual report of State Racing Commissioner F. F. Fauri.

The money represents 1975 uncashed pari-mutuel tickets at Michigan's harness and thoroughbred race tracks. Here at Northville Downs, for example, $23,918 worth of tickets was uncashed in 1975, while $19,530 was uncashed for the Jackson-at-Northville meet.

Amount of uncashed tickets generally increases with increasing attendance and betting at Michigan tracks, but not always.

During the recently concluded Northville meet, bettors for one reason or another failed to cash $23,531.40 worth of tickets, reports Northville Downs Recording Secretary Margaret Zayti.

Under state law, money for uncashed tickets is kept by the local tracks for 60 days (it used to be for one full year), then it is turned over to the state treasurer's office where the money is held for seven years. If at the end of seven years the money is unclaimed, it is funneled into the state treasury.

"It's hard to believe, I know, but a lot of money never reaches the hands of the winning ticket holders — mostly because they just don't know they have won," says Mrs. Zayti.

"It happens to a lot of people, unfortunately, but mostly it is the $2 and gimmick bettors who really don't understand racing and betting. Maybe they come to the track for the first time, or maybe they rarely attend.

"For example, a person may bet to show and his horse comes in first. Because he thinks his horse had to show (place third) he tosses away a perfectly good ticket.

"Not long ago a man wanted to bet $2 on the Trifecta; he wanted 1-4-6. But he went to the wrong window and got a $12 Trifecta ticket instead. The race finished 1-6-4 so he figured he had lost and threw away the ticket after tearing it in half.

"It wasn't until the following day when he learned that the ticket was a winner — a $1,400 winner!

"He came back to the track and frantically looked for the torn up ticket but was unable to find it."

Some winning tickets are lost or misplaced, some are kept as souvenirs by persons not knowing they have winners, and still others accidentally mis-bet a horse and leave the track without checking to see that they've accidentally picked the winner.

The state is all the richer for the patrons' naive bet because relatively few of the tickets are claimed within the seven-year period.

Northville Downs is a regular gold mine for the state, admits State Deputy Treasurer R. D. Trede after examining records in the treasurer's office. In the past five years $104,736 in uncashed betting monies from the Downs have been deposited with the state,

News From Lansing

By R. Robert Geake
State Representative

With approval of extension of the fiscal year Michigan may finally be able to balance the books this year, at least on paper.

The Senate reluctantly approved the measure last week after balking on two previous votes. The House passed the bill earlier this year although I voted against it.

The measure extends the end of the fiscal year from June 30 to September 30 and offsets a $105 million deficit in the current year by picking up that much more revenue than is spent.

I and many other lawmakers believe that bookkeeping gimmicks such as this are only delaying the inevitable and that eventually, government overspending of revenues will catch up with us.

If you remember, the legislature also borrowed from the Veteran's Trust Fund (which I opposed) and the Uninsured Motorist Fund to keep above water this year. The year before Michigan's Office of Management and Budget counted June's sales tax in the current fiscal year instead of the new fiscal year as is done traditionally, thus getting thirteen months sales tax revenues into twelve months. Where I come from, we call that robbing Peter to pay Paul.

Now the Senate is considering passage of a 99.9 million dollar supplemental (that means additional) appropriation requested yet this year for the State Department of Social Services. That's what the department says it needs to make it through this year without cutting off aid to those on welfare.

The "sunset law" concept is starting to attract attention around the capitol. It calls for the automatic phasing out of governmental programs and agencies unless they can justify their continued existence to the legislature at specified intervals.

As it is now, once the state creates a program or agency, it is continued indefinitely. The tendency is to drift along and not do anything, even if there is no real need for the agency.

Colorado has recently enacted such a concept.

House Republican Leader Dennis Cawthorne has asked the Governor to appoint a task force to study the sunset approach during the next year. He suggested that one-fifth of the state's programs could be scheduled for termination each year to avoid a log jam of renewal studies.

As one Colorado legislator is reported to have grumbled recently, "The closest thing to eternal life on this earth is a governmental program or regulatory agency." Michigan may soon be doing something constructive to end this state of affairs.

JACK W.

and of this amount only $814 has been claimed.

This same ratio of claims "holds true" for other race tracks in the state, he says.

"Keep in mind," he reminds me, "anybody who comes in here (Lansing) to make a claim must present an unutilized ticket and fill out a simple form."

In other words, if you're going to throw away those tickets don't tear them in half. I may find a $1,400 winner. Better me than the trash barrel.

I think you could give a little more space to credit the Meads Mill Symphonic Band for their great achievement of getting a one final rating at the Michigan Junior High State Band Festival. We have worked very hard and long to reach that goal. (We had been working at it for about four months). I will also take this chance to publicly thank Mr. John Mason for being a great director for us. I don't think could have made it without him.

Criticizes City for CM Decision

To the Editor:

The city council decision to award a construction management contract in the amount of $109,200 to the Allen Terrace designing architect was more than poor judgment. It is quite clear the council hasn't the faintest idea what CM is, that it is a violation of state ruling to award such a contract to an architect and more regrettable that the council is apparently more interested in shoveling work to their architect than in saving taxpayer's money.

Action of the council as reported in the May 12th issue of The Record contains serious inaccuracies which should be corrected:

First, contrary to Mr. Walters' reported statement, absolutely no costs are duplicated by the construction manager because his responsibilities and services are completely separate and distinct. Where there is no duplication of service, there is no duplication of cost.

Secondly, the only bid correct in The Record article was the architect's bid. Northville Contracting Co. bid $70,950.00, not $87,750.00 as reported in the paper. The public might be interested in knowing that the difference was to be paid to the firm of Kamp-DiComo, the architect, in the event that someone else was awarded the CM contract.

Thirdly, the article left the clear impression that all bids except the architect's restricted the city to some sort of rigid timetable whereby the ultimate cost to the city would go higher than the architect's bid. This is nonsense. All construction management proposals predicate the value of the actual construction phase on the projected duration of the project. In this manner, the client pays only for actual services received rather than for some blown up guess formulated by the bidder. In this case, it would be virtually impossible for either of the two low bidders to cost the city an ultimate amount anywhere near the architect's price, because his bid is approximately 50 percent higher than the two low bids.

It is my opinion that these three facts alone clearly show insufficient consideration of the proposals prior to the award of contract and a complete lack of judgment by the city council.

The problem here, however, is far more serious. The Municipal Finance Commission, which is responsible for the disbursement of all bond issue funding in the state, has ruled that architectural firms are prohibited completely from practicing construction management. Such a dual role by the architect, it is said, constitutes a conflict of interest and is therefore not in the public interest.

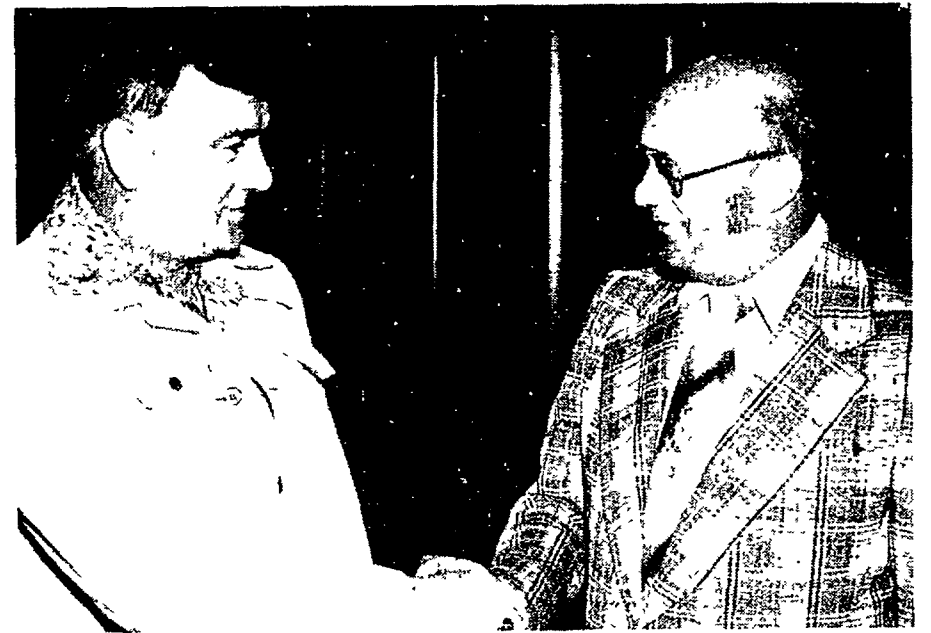

Whether one concurs with this ruling is not the issue; it is a plain and simple fact. For a city council to make such an award is wrong. For a city council to sustain the award after being informed of its error, is a gross impropriety. I would hope our city council will value its reputation and act accordingly.

There are of course ways to get around anything. The usual approach in a case such as this one is to retain the architect and call his services by another name. An extended service contract instead of construction management. Does this eliminate conflict of interest? Does it alter the services required to run the job? Does it justify wasting over $25,000? The answer is obvious.

The practice of construction management is a profession just as is the practice of architecture. They should both be left to their respective professionals. The two low bidders are qualified professionals and they soundly defeated the designing architect in the economic competition. While it is not unusual in CM to bypass a low bidder when his qualifications are less than a higher bidder, the present circumstances do not justify such an action.

Yours truly,
Tony Ban

NOTICE TO SENIOR CITIZENS

Applications Now Being Taken For Residency in Allen Terrace, The Northville Senior Citizens Housing Project

Applications are now being taken from those senior citizens who are interested in the possibility of residency in Allen Terrace.

Application forms may be obtained from the City Clerk's Office, 215 W. Main St., and will be mailed on request (Phone 349-1300).

Applicants will be evaluated in part on the basis of application date, income level and residency, with priority being given to Northville City residents and Northville Township residents over those living outside of the community.

We expect to serve some tenants who will need financial assistance, as well as some tenants whose income allows them to pay a full rent. If you are interested in being considered for occupancy in Allen Terrace, you should submit your application at this time regardless of your own income situation. There is no commitment on your part by filing an application form at this time.

Godspell Aided

To the Editor:

We would like to say, one more thank you to everyone that helped on the production of "Godspell". Without their support we never would have been able to override the school board's decision to eliminate the one non-athletic event that many people look forward to each spring.

A special thank you goes to the following business patrons:

A&P Company, Allen Monuments, Arcade 5, Asher '76 Station, Bright Bar Steel Co., Casterline's, Chatham, Claire Kelly, Northville, Cloverdale Farms, D&D Carpets, D&J Good Time Party Store, Elias Brothers Restaurant.

Et Cetera Shop, Freydl's Cleaners, Guernsey's Farms, Gulf Gas Station, Hamlet Food Mart, Heath Electric Co., Henrikson Agency, Inc., Lee E. Holland, C.P.A., Krogers, Maranatha Coney Island, Bernard Miller, O.D., New Hudson Fence.

Ross B. Northrop & Son, Northville Insurance Agency, Northville Lumber Co., Northville Record, Northville Pharmacy, Northville

Women's Club, Northville Mall.

Phil's '76 Station, Dave Pink Builder Inc., Shrader's Home Furnishing, Spagey's Market, Jamaican Pool Service, and WYFC Christian Radio.

And finally a big thanks to our parents who put up with odd hours, dance marathons, an overnight trip, and an contributed in every way possible.

Again, thanks to everyone for giving us an experience we will never forget.

Sincerely,
The Cast and Crews of
"Godspell"

buildings that represent over a century of pleasant memories that mere words are inadequate to express.

And if you listen closely, you will notice that the robins and bluejays and other birds are having a singing contest and directing your attention to the thousands of flowers and the tree lined streets of beautiful and charming well kept homes, many of them appear to be doll houses.

It is like a walk through fairyland.

It would seem, that at times, many of us take all of this for granted, if we observe and recognize the overall priceless value that all this represents is it not easy to understand why they LOVE Northville?

The survey further reveals their wants are reasonable and few. They want good health, they desire community services to help them remain self-caring, independent and energetic.

They desire social activities, recreational and educational assistance, they want help to overcome loneliness which too many of them find very difficult and depressing.

Some of them are in need of financial assistance from outside sources.

Many of the elderly say they have too many problems in maintaining their homes — the increasing taxes, the ever-increasing utility costs and inflation have created a burden they can hardly bear.

Many express a desire for the convenience of one-floor reasonably-priced units in the same relative neighborhood where they may continue to enjoy the same friendships, near churches, shopping centers and other social activities.

The City of Northville and Northville Township have shown their interest in assisting the elderly by already providing a meeting place for social gatherings, transportation for various trips and the proposed Senior Citizen Housing development is another important measure to make life more livable and to enable them to remain in the community they love so well.

Application forms for Senior Citizens Housing may be obtained at City Hall or call 349-1300 for further particulars. It is advised that applications be submitted at your earliest convenience.

John Unger Gets Post In Township

John R. Unger was appointed to fill the vacancy on Northville Township Planning Commission at the township board meeting last Thursday.

Unger, a resident of 44885 Thornapple Lane, has been serving during the past year on the township board of appeals. He is a manager of technical planning and liaison, product planning, engine division, Ford Motor Company.

He has been with Ford since 1966.

A graduate of Harvard school of business administration, he has a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Pennsylvania State.

In recommending him for the vacancy caused by the resignation of Fred Philippeau, who was moving from the community, Supervisor Betty Lennox stated Unger originally had submitted an application to serve on the planning commission but had accepted the board of appeals post and had done a good job there.

Mrs. Lennox added that she had received several applications from citizens. She noted that she feels the township is fortunate to have "very qualified persons" serving on its boards.

At the suggestion of Dr. John Swienkowski, it was agreed that applicants will receive letters of appreciation for their interest and notification that their resumes will be kept for future vacancies.

Unger will fill out the term of Philippeau, which expires November 13, 1976.

The board stated it will fill the vacancy on the board of appeals created by his appointment at a later date.

Benstein is a learning specialist at Bryant Junior High School in Livonia; Mrs. Hancock was previously a candidate for the school board and has been active in parent-teacher organizations; Johnson, president of his 1973 Northville graduating class, is now a political science major at U-M;

Lemon, advertising manager of the Detroit Diesel Allison Division, is secretary of the school Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC); Lewis, president of the Stockwell Marcuse Advertising Agency, was acting chairman of the SPIDER group here; Mrs. Sliger, a former teacher here, is a member and past president of the library board; and Terrasi, a cost accountant for Ford Motor Company, is a member of the CAC.

Township Sets

June Interviews

Interviewing for census takers for Northville Township will be June 1 with applications for the temporary jobs expected to be available in the township offices by next week.

Supervisor Betty Lennox announced Monday that she was notified that forms are being sent with Francis Clark of the U.S. Bureau of Census, doing the interviewing June 1.

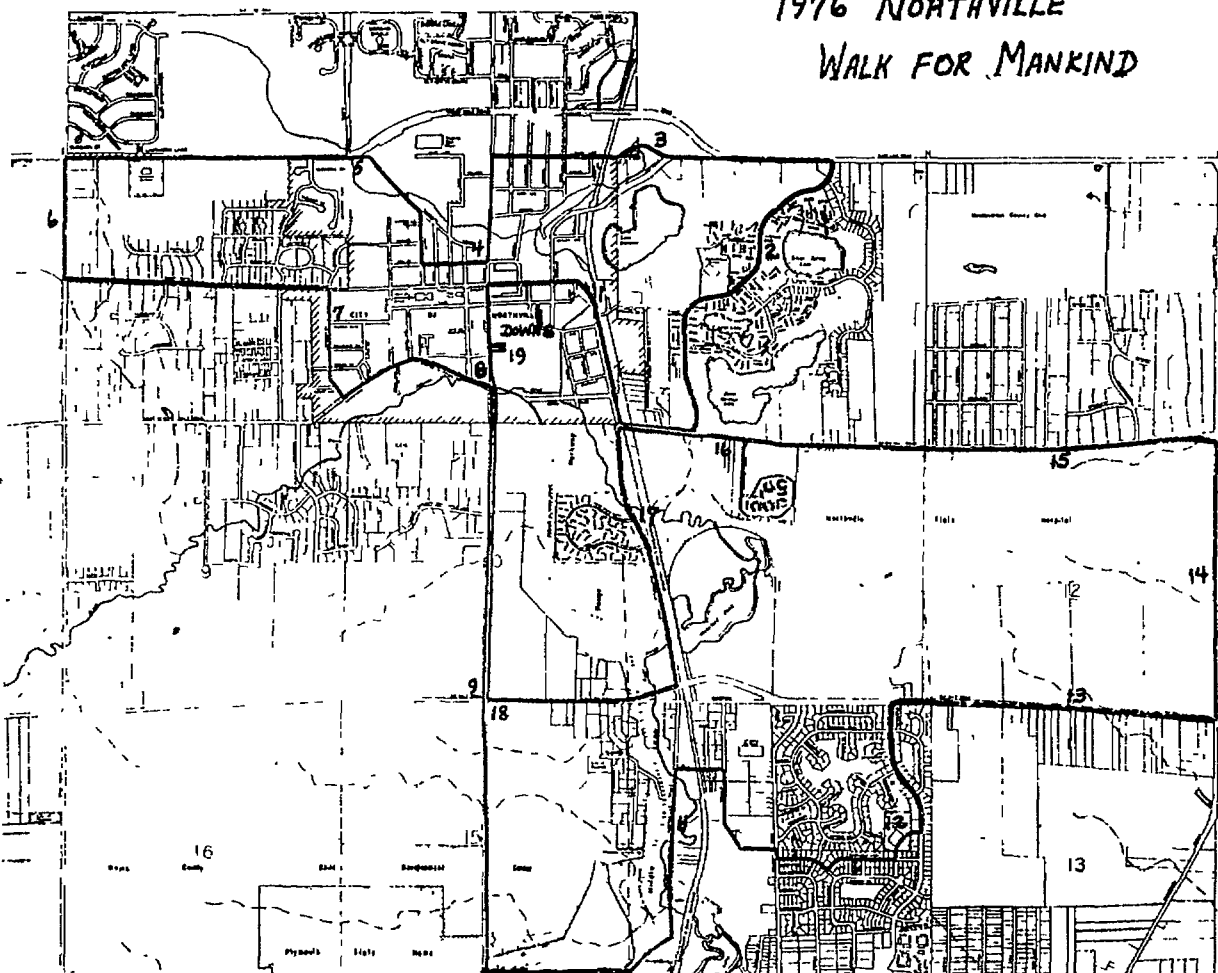

The special interim census is expected to take about two weeks to complete.

Mrs. Lennox said a revenue sharing allocation adjustment is expected as a result, but that the township won't collect the increase until 1978.

Census takers must be 18 years old or older, citizens of the U.S., physically fit and willing to work a flexible schedule when required.

aware of any possible problem," he said.

He also gave Walters two articles from an architectural magazine outlining the pros and cons of allowing the architect to do construction management.

Walters passed along copies of the MFC policy to council members at the last meeting, when the contract was considered. When questioned about the policy, Walters told the council, "this is a gray area. There's nothing they (MFC) can do if the local communities decide differently."

Allen said, however, that MFC regulations are enforceable in court.

DiComo told the Record, "In my heart, I don't feel there is a conflict of interest." He said, however, that he could not hold the city to any decision that would jeopardize the project's financing.

Walters said that council will reconsider the contract at its next meeting, but doubts it will change the award unless an impasse is reached with the MFC.

Daniel Conley, another unsuccessful bidder on the contract, said he does not intend to pursue the issue, although he was contacted by Ban.

Conley agrees that by calling the contract "extended services" rather than "construction management" the city can get approval from MFC.

Conley said, however, he believes the city made a bad decision because "they (Kamp-DiComo) are offering to do for $109,000 what I proposed to do for $73,000."

"We were allowed no defense," Conley said, adding that he was told by someone in the city manager's office not to attend the city council meeting. Ban also said that Walters "encouraged me to stay away. He didn't want a public dialogue to disrupt the meeting."

Both Ban, and Conley submitted proposals for the CM contract that were lower than that of DiComo. DiComo bid $109,200, Conley $73,500

Library Gets Aid

At Rosenberg's request, the item of a business machine demonstration was removed from the agenda, as it was felt that the board has to "look at expenditures" first.

Hearing that four election machines were in questionable condition, with one known to be in "very bad" condition, the board authorized the supervisor to check into the situation and costs.

Approval was given for the purchase of three signs for township offices, authorized last fall, and approved by Vilican-Lehman at a cost of $662.92.

The black signs with white letters, Mrs. Lennox explained, will be designed and placed to end confusion at the offices. She added that the price reflects a discount obtained by Vilican-Lehman. The board voted not to have Wayne County pay for all delinquent taxes outstanding (and then have it collect interest and penalties.)

Support was given for a resolution from the Wayne County Clerks Association seeking postage-free mailing of absentee voter materials.

Request to support millage for the Wayne County jail was received and filed.

Walkers can select their own favorite charity to receive the remainder.

This year, walkers are being encouraged to donate their share to George Berryman, a music teacher at Northville High School. Mr. Berryman recently underwent a kidney transplant and contributions will be applied to his medical expenses.

Registration will start at 7:30 a.m. at Northville Downs. All participants should bring their completed sponsor sheets.

Promptly at 9, rain or shine, the walk will begin.

Most walkers will finish between 2 and 4 in the afternoon, but Booth predicts the track team will be in by noon. Besides the City Council, checkpoints will be furnished by Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas, Friends of the Library, State Representative Bob Geake, Highland Lakes Home Owners, Historical Society, Kiwanis, Knights of Columbus, Legion Club, Township Supervisor Betty Lennox and the Republican Club.

Advice for 1976 Graduates

'How the Heck Can I Find A Job?'

By PATRICIA BERNARDO

You've crammed for that last exam, written that last paper, and managed to stay awake through the commencement speech. But all these tasks will seem simple compared to the one that lies ahead — finding a job.

Spring graduates can take heart from signs that the job market is better this year than last. For example, the University of Michigan reports that campus recruiting is up and that employers are talking more positively about prospects for the 1976 class.

It is wise to keep in mind, however, that the national unemployment rate is still seven percent and likely to jump even higher once millions of young people begin their transitions from student to worker.

Jobs are scarce, but you can get one with some persistence, organization and planning. Here are some practical tips.

The first step to finding a job is (pardon the cliché) finding yourself. You have to decide what kind of work you can do. That way you can target your search on the jobs you have the best chance of landing.

One suggestion is to draw up a personal inventory. Write down all the successful events in your life such as classes in which you excelled, election to student office, athletic letters, or part-time jobs. Analyze these successes to see what they tell you about your skills and abilities.

You may find, for example, that you work well with your hands or that your best efforts are those in which you are part of a team.

Once you have a profile of yourself on paper, go to your guidance counselor, college placement representative or Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) interviewer. Ask for help in matching your qualifications to a job.

It is important at this point that you be flexible about the kind of work you will do. Some fields are overcrowded, and, unhappily, the job you have had in mind all your life may not be available.

Teaching is the most obvious example of a saturated job market, especially in the elementary grades and in high school social studies and English. If you want a career in education, you may have to approach it a different way.

Evert Ardis, director of career planning and placement at the University of Michigan says, "there is a lively market in school administration — principals and superintendents." You may want to consider graduate school to qualify for such a post.

Or, Ardis suggests, you might look for a job at lower than a professional level and work your way up.

"It is really difficult for a student with no skills to find a good job," says John A. Ishler, coordinator of cooperative education and senior placement at Novi High School. You may find that you need additional vocational training in addition to your diploma or degree.

Ishler recommends technical school or the armed services to build skills. He says that there are many jobs available for good secretaries, medical assistants, dental assistants, lab or X-ray technicians, or those with technical skills in electronics, pneumatics, hydraulics or business machine repair.

Ardis reports a sizable demand for management trainees and sales representatives open to liberal arts graduates who are willing to take a few extra courses in business.

Maureen Gorshak, a counselor at Northville High School, says that volunteer work may also provide the chance to build saleable skills.

Once you know what jobs are within your reach, where do you find them?

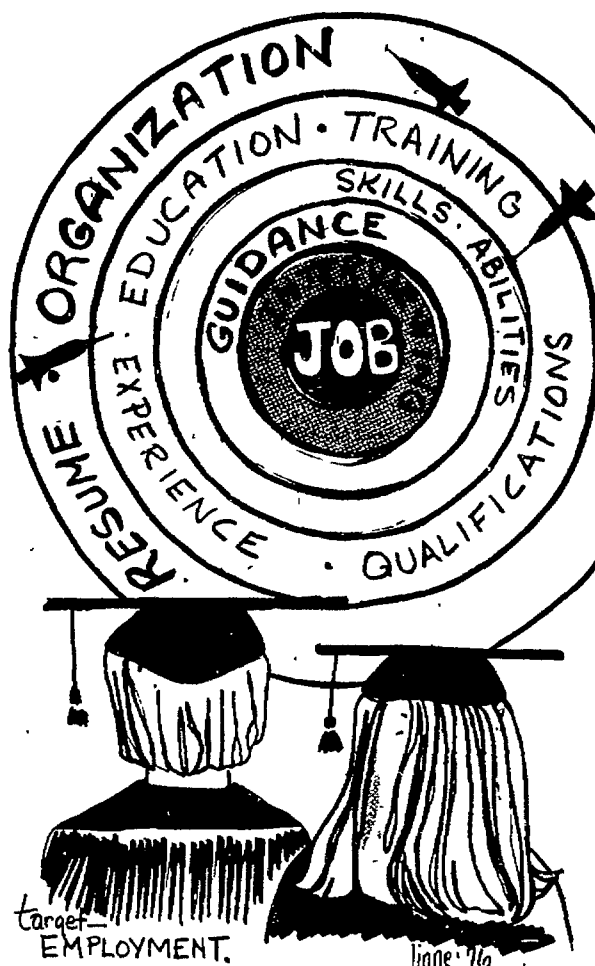

Virtually all colleges, high schools and trade schools offer a placement service with lists of contacts. Start at your school and check back periodically (at least once a week) for new listings.

You should also register at MESC, especially if you are interested in factory or clerical jobs.

The government, at all levels, is a major employer. The Federal Civil Service Commission has a toll-free number, 800-572-8242, which you can call from anywhere in Michigan to get information on current openings. Michigan Civil Service positions are listed at the MESC and you can find out about city or county jobs at the local city hall or county building.

Read the want ads, especially on Sunday. If you are looking for a professional position, read the journals written for people in your field.

Stop by the local Chamber of Commerce. Most will have directories of area businesses, industries and community services. Make a list of those that seem likely to employ people with your skills and stop by in person to see the personnel manager or office manager.

Alva Olson, a counselor at Northville High, says that this is very effective. One of her students made 11 personal contacts over a weekend and received two job offers.

There are differing opinions about the usefulness of employment agencies. It can be said in their favor that they frequently have jobs that cannot be located through any other source. Some companies in the area use an agency rather than screen large numbers of applicants themselves.

If you do sign up with a private agency, get in writing the charge for their services and what the terms of payment are.

Reputable agencies charge only if they find you a job. And beware of the agency that uses the "warm body" approach — sending you to interview for jobs in which you are not interested or for which you are not qualified. A good agency will attempt to match your background to the job. If they don't, they are wasting your time and the employer's.

Gorshak says that the inexperienced worker can sometimes find a job by first registering with a temporary employment service, such as Kelly Services. This gives you a chance to demonstrate your ability to an employer on the job, and may lead to a permanent offer. Many people think of these services as employing only women, or only secretaries. In fact, they welcome applicants of both sexes, and have openings in marketing and retailing, as well as many kinds of office work.

Perhaps the best way to look for a job is by using what the U-M career planning and placement office calls the "human resources network." The university estimates that up to 80 percent of professional jobs are not listed publicly at all, but are filled through personal contacts.

You can build such a network by talking to everyone you know who might have a lead to a job — teachers, relatives, friends, and members of your church or any other organization to which you belong.

Once you get the name of an employer in the field in which you are interested, make an appointment and ask for his assistance, not a job.

People already working in your profession can best tell you how to tailor your resume to the job you are seeking and what the job outlook is. They may even have a colleague who is hiring, and you may end up with a referral.

When looking for a job, remember the wider your search, the more you will uncover. If you are willing to commute to Detroit or Ann Arbor, or if you are willing to relocate in another city you increase your possibilities.

Every job seeker should master the mechanics of letter writing, resume preparation and interviewing.

Letters should be to the point, and should mention the specific job for which you are applying. Your letter represents you, and thus should be neat, and well organized. Double check spelling, punctuation and grammar.

The same is true for resumes. Some employers say it is worth the money to have your resume printed because it makes a better impression. But at the very least a resume should be neatly and accurately typed on a single page. Make photocopies, but do not send out carbons.

Sample letters and resume formats can be found at your guidance or placement office or at MESC.

When you are invited to interview for a job, you should prepare carefully.

Make up a fact sheet listing the names and addresses of all schools you attended and all relevant dates. List all previous employers, their addresses, telephone numbers and the dates of your employment.

Think of people you could use as references and ask their permission to give their names to the employer. Write out their correct names, addresses, telephone numbers and occupations on your fact sheet. Some employers require as many as three references who are not relatives or former employers.

The fact sheet will help you fill out the company's application blank. Even though the firm has your resume, they will probably want their own form completed, and it may ask for additional information.

Ishler says "the worst thing you can do in thumb through the telephone directory or call home to get the information you need."

"Make sure the application has no cross-outs or

Rare Books Accent St. John's Collection

Among the many developing departments at St. John's Provincial Seminary, one that has seen much development and expansion is the library, under the direction of Sr. Claudia Carlen IHM.

As the head librarian for the past four years, Sr. Claudia has guided the library to expand its facilities and services to outsiders, to obtain many new volumes of books, and to initiate the Gabriel Richard Rare Book Room, anticipated to be completed in the fall of 1976, which will display the valuable works that the Seminary possesses.

Sr. Claudia IHM came to St. John's after serving in a number of positions, among them — head librarian at Marygrove College, library consultant at the North American College in Rome. Sr. Claudia is also a member of the Catholic Library Association, is listed in the Who's Who of American Women, and is the author of three books (Guide to Encyclicals of the Roman Pontiffs, Guide to the Documents of Pius XII, and The Dictionary of Papal Pronouncements).

The most recent endeavor of Sr. Claudia has been the Gabriel Richard Rare Book Room. Thanks to the financial support of many, especially the Alumni Association, a classroom was converted into a display room for the rare and treasured books in the Seminary's possession.

The room will contain some very valuable historical books and letters.

The collection of Fr. Gabriel Richard, numbering 54 of his personally autographed books, 11 of his theological notebooks written in his own hand, and two wood-cuts believed to be from his own press, are in the collection. Also contained here are 250 volumes, believed to have belonged to his personal theological library, which, Sr. Claudia says, proves to be an extensive library for a man at that period.

Among the other rare treasures in the collection are a personal letter of St. Charles Borromeo, dated May, 1569, very clear and well preserved, written in early Italian. St. Charles Borromeo is the patron saint of seminaries, and Cardinal Mooney was responsible for obtaining the letter and subsequently leaving it for St. John's.

A number of books of Bishop Borgess are in the collection, including a Kolberger Bible, printed in Nuremberg, Germany, 1478, a volume which is bound in leather backing, covered and overlaid with an actual illuminated manuscript. There is also a Book of Kells, a facsimile of a book done by the Irish monks, in Ireland around 800; this particular book of the Seminary is a facsimile done in Switzerland, but was one of a very limited edition, which makes even this facsimile very valuable.

The Rare Book Room is not the only concern of the library though. Sr. Claudia has been instrumental in guiding the library in expanding in volumes of books, numbering 40,000, 320 periodicals, and 40 newspapers. She feels the library is strong in theology and Scripture, bound periodicals and reference works. There is a good collection of bibliography books which give access to the knowledge of what's published and written in many other areas.

Sr. Claudia feels this is very important for keeping in touch with current books and what is available. The library has greatly improved in obtaining books in other areas, such as the humanities, social sciences and the arts.

She also has contacts at Marygrove College and at Michigan State University, which are very beneficial in obtaining works or articles not contained within St. John's library.

The expansion of the volumes and references of the library has prompted the Theological Library Service, which continues to grow at a rapid pace.

Church Capsules

South Lyon residents and those of the surrounding area will have plenty of opportunity to browse through rummage and reusable household items at two local churches this weekend.

A rummage sale will be held May 21 and 22 at St. Joseph Catholic Church, 810 Lafayette Street from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday at the South Lyon United Methodist Church, 640 South Lafayette. In addition to selected rummage, a wide variety of plants for indoors or outdoors will also be offered for sale. Many of these will be rock garden plants.

"Celebrate Life", a puppet drama with music by Beryl Red of "Lightshine" fame and lyrics by Ragan Courtney, will be presented at the South Lyon United Methodist Church this Sunday, May 23, by the Chancel and Senior Chords. Services are at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

The musical tells the story of Jesus in simple, dramatic terms. The tone is warm, intimate and worshipful. The message and music of "Celebrate Life" communicates to young and old in a way that permits all persons to celebrate together the life of Jesus Christ, the Lord.

Mrs. Harold Teter and Dr. Milton Bank, pastor of the church, will be the liturgists for the drama.

Selections include: "The Truth Shall Make You Free", "Hail, O Blessed One", "Song of Mary", "There Is a Great Joy Coming", "After This He Went Journeying", "I Quietly Turned to You", "In Remembrance", and "Carry Him Gently".

Soloists are: Jim Head, Julianne Little and Mike Misslitz.

Jackie Livesay of Ann Arbor is directing the musical as well as the church choirs during the year. The public is invited to attend.

The Norman Phillips family, gospel singers, will present two concerts at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. this Sunday (May 23) at the Highland Church of the Nazarene.

The church is located at 1211 West Livingston Road.

Youth group programs at the First Baptist Church of Northville now begin at 5:30 p.m. on Sundays. The regular evening service follows at 6:30 p.m.

The First Baptist Church of Wixom will be providing bus transportation for those attending the Institute of Basic Youth Conflicts, set for May 24-29 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

Cost of the seminar, which includes 30 hours of instruction, is $35 per person or $55 per couple. Application forms are also available at the First Baptist Church.

Topics to be discussed include how to resolve family conflicts, how to discover purpose in life, and how to develop a meaningful relationship with God.

Baptist Pastor Ordained

It's 'Reverend Farrell' Now

It's now the Reverend J. Michael Farrell as well as Pastor Farrell.

The assistant pastor of First Baptist Church of Northville officially was ordained in a 7 p.m. service May 11 at the church after being unanimously approved that afternoon by an ordination council.

Twenty Baptist pastors orally questioned him on church doctrine and then voted to recommend that the young pastor be ordained "Reverend."

In the service the ordination message was delivered by Dr. Warren Wiersbe, senior pastor of the Moody Church in Chicago. He formerly pastored Calvary Baptist Church in Covington, Kentucky, where the

PASTOR FARRELL

Reverend Farrell grew up. All participating pastors performed the laying on of hands and delivered the ordination prayer.

Dr. David Clark, pastor of Berean Baptist Church in Portage, Michigan, made the charge to the candidate.

The Reverend Wilfred Bellamy of Farmington, director of missionary internships, then made the charge to the church.

The invocation and scripture reading were by Dr. Howard Sugden, pastor of South Baptist Church in Lansing.

Launch Fund Drive

Father Robert J. Kilcoyn of St. Colman Parish, Farmington, and Mr. and Mrs. James Tapp of St. Joseph Parish, South Lyon are coordinating the 1976 Archdiocesan Development Fund Appeal for the Farmington Southfield Vicariate of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit.

The annual appeal is underway now through May 23 in each of the 341 parishes and missions of the Archdiocese. The Development Appeal provides funds for ongoing religious, educational, and charitable programs and services in Oakland, Lapeer, Macomb, Monroe, Wayne and St. Clair counties.

Cardinal John Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit, has set two objectives for the 1976 Appeal: an increase of $400,000 over last year's total of $1.5 million, and 25,000 new contributors. The Cardinal indicated the Archdiocese was limiting expenditures but that increasing costs made the additional $400,000 necessary to continue the many ongoing programs and services supported by the Appeal.

Parishes in the Farmington - Southfield Vicariate contributed $118,481 to the 1975 Appeal. The Vicariate is made up of the following parishes: St. Joseph, South Lyon; Holy Family, Novi; Our Lady of Sorrows, St. Alexander, St. Clare of Assisi, St. Colman, St. Fabian, St. Gerald, Farmington; St. Beatrice, St. Bede, St. Ives, St. Michael, Divine Providence, and Mother of God, Southfield.

Wait on Impatiens

Frost Remains A Danger

By KATHY COPLEY

LAWNS

By now, healthy lawns should be thick and deep green with little thatch still showing. If much dead grass shows, hand rake the worst areas to remove the dead grass and rough up the soil, then plant seed. Cover the area with a thin layer of top soil, peat moss, or compost, firm it down well, and keep it watered until new shoots appear.

If the thatchy areas are too large, consider de-thatching them in the fall. A layer of thatch—dead grass, twigs, leaves—less than 1/2" thick is good protection from too much sun and too little water. More than that should be removed.

At a minimum, fertilize a lawn 4 times a year, on the spring and summer's major holidays. If you missed Easter, there is still Memorial Day.

SHRUBS AND TREES

Lilacs and forsythia which didn't bloom this year can be prodded into action by applying superphosphate. Plants like these set their buds this year for next year's flowers. Phosphate is the chemical which promotes large flowers and healthy root systems. Use it this season for next year's flowers.

It will also encourage rose bushes to produce more, larger, and brilliantly colored flowers. For some reason, scratching a cup of epsom salts into the soil around a rose bush does the same thing. Do epsom salts contain a high proportion of phosphorous?

Preventative care is easier than an emergency assault on bugs and blights. Treat small infestations with the proper sprays so they won't become large ones.

FLOWERS

All danger of frost should be past so annuals can go in now. Wait on impatiens, though, since even a light frost could turn the leaves and stems black.

Plants which were started indoors need to be gradually acclimated to living outdoors. Several days before planting, put them in a protected spot outdoors where they will receive a bit of sunlight but won't be hit too hard by wind or rain. This process, called hardening off, readies them for life among the elements.

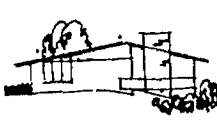

Seeds should be sown in dry soil, started plants should be "set wet," as the farmer's saying goes. A thorough soaking helps the roots "get through the period of shock" which all plants experience when they are set in garden soil. Plants in peat pots should be set with the rim of the pot below the soil line. Plants in these pots suffer less shock than those removed from their pot for planting, but the peat dries out quickly if it is above the soil line.

VEGETABLES

Cool season crops like salad greens are already showing a fourth or fifth set of leaves if you planted them as soon as the soil was workable. Now add all but peppers, tomatoes, and eggplant, all quite frost sensitive.

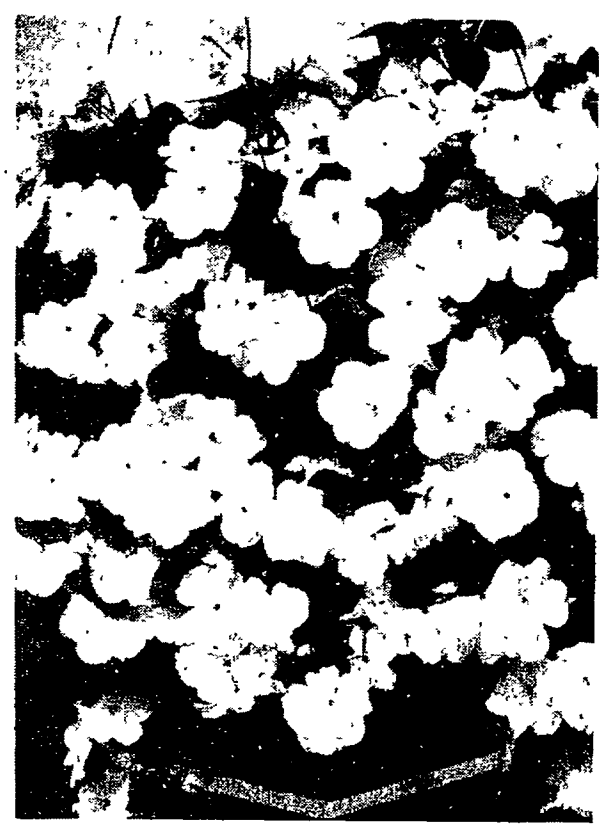

Keep an eye peeled for bugs, especially if you grew a particular plant in the same spot last year. Many chemical sprays are available and organic products are becoming easier to find. A "home remedy" for many bugs is a "tea" made from tomato leaves soaked in water and poured over a plant under attack. Chive or garlic leaves make another good tea. There effect is largely due to the fact that many insects are attracted and repelled by scents; the stronger the smell, the more likely they will be repelled. Most vegetables need plenty of water and routine applications of a balanced fertilizer. Large, blemish free vegetables are the result of stable growing conditions, not erratic applications of fertilizer and feast or famine watering practices. Plants which suffer deprivations as seedlings can never be expected to produce top quality fruit.

Here's Some Advice For Natural Gardeners

Tips for "natural gardening" have been assembled by the Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club for the conservation-conscious:

If you like roses, but are bothered by aphids, merely plant chives around the plants. Chives form a nice border, the leaves are good in salads and the flowers are attractive.

To keep Japanese beetles away from roses, plant common geraniums among them.

Bean weevils are repelled by marigolds or nasturtiums. If worms bother cabbage plants, mint or tomatoes will keep them away.

Any variety of marigolds will produce a substance in the soil which kills nematodes (microscopic sucking insects which attack roots and cause plants to wilt).

Ashes from burned hardwood, when scattered around squash plants, will drive away squash beetles and cutworms.

Radishes planted among squash vines will protect them from bugs.

Onions grown among potatoes will keep potato bugs away.

Nothing Sunday

Business, At the airport cafeteria Was slow For a Sunday. Sarah served the hot coffee To her single customer At the counter Then, she went To the window And looked outside. Outside, It was very cold and, Across the way, An old, leaning barn Stood alone On the top of A small hill. Everything in sight Was covered with A soft white snow That had fallen The night before. The clouds were Gray and low, And they ran Across the field With the wind. The man At the counter Ordered another coffee, And Sarah turned From the window And fetched it for him.

There is springing up, not only in America but in Europe as well, off-beat museums and entertainment centers. The latest is now open to the public and is a museum devoted to ballooning. It is located 25 miles west of Caens in Normandy.

It was originally built in 1626 as a chateau and it now contains books, films and prints depicting historical launchings of balloons and balloon racing. It has been officially designated as a French Balloon Port open to private owners of balloons who either wish to use the place as a home mooring or a take-off in cross-country travel.

While we are in that area, it is interesting to note that the French are constructing and opening a series of budget-priced hotels. They will be known as "Two-Star Comfort". Hotel Ibis in Bagnolet, near Paris, is an example where the rates are $21 for a single room and $24 for a double. They are also opening a "One-Star Comfort" rated hotel called Brochant Latour at 163 Avenue de Clichy in Paris.

Returning tourists complain loudly of the bad roads in France. The auto clubs are warning tourists never to drive on side roads at dusk or at nighttime. Most complaints are that the roads are single lane, twisting and have many blind spots. Generally speaking, in comparison, England has much better roads and warning signs but even there the traffic pattern of keeping to the left is hazardous.

session were presented by George McDaniel, chairman of the church board of deacons.

Randy Casteel and David Nyquist played a trumpet duet during the service for which Mrs. Jean Bonasse played the organ and Mrs. Carol Grosan, the piano.

The benediction then was given by the Reverend Michael Farrell.

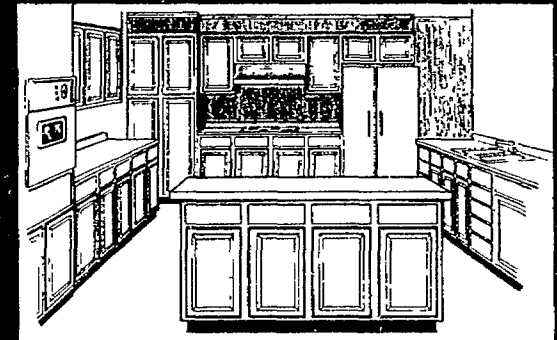

He has served as assistant pastor of the church since June 19, 1972, after being graduated that month from Moody Bible Institute with a pastoral-Greek major.

He was born February 19, 1949, in Covington to Robert and Mary Lou Farrell; he is the first of their three children.

Pastor Farrell was saved at the age of 11 and was baptized and joined Calvary Baptist Church in Covington at age 13. After graduation from high school, he attended the University of Kentucky Northern Community College for two years.

On November 30, 1974, he married Marsha Roesch, a member of the Northville church. They are parents of a son, David Michael, born December 19, 1975.

How to Find A Job

erasures," Ishler adds. "Print clearly. Know what you're going to write before you start."

Dress for an interview depends on the job. Neat jeans may be okay for a factory job according to Ishley, but an office job calls for a simple dress for women and a sport coat or suit for men.

When in doubt, "be conservative," advises Gorshak.

Don't smoke or chew gum.

It is a good idea to know something about the company before you arrive for your interview.

If you have time, write the company for an annual report. If not, check the Detroit Public Library, U-M Library or Schoolcraft College Library for background materials. All are open to the public for reference purposes. Ask the librarian for Standard and Poor's Corporation Record or Moody's Manual.

Some employment counselors recommend practice interviewing — through your school placement service, with a friend, or even alone in front of a mirror.

If you carefully prepared your personal inventory and fact sheet, you should be ready for many of the questions you will be asked. But some common questions may catch you off guard, and these are the ones you should practice.

Some examples are: "Why do you want to work for our company?" "What do you think determines a person's progress in a good company?" or "What are your long-range career goals?" Some employers will also create a hypothetical problem and ask you how you would solve it on the job.

The purpose of these questions is to get at your attitude, and says Olson, "more jobs are lost because of attitude than because of lack of skills."

Be friendly and enthusiastic and as relaxed as possible.

You should also have some questions for the employer and Ishler says these questions should tell the employer you are as interested in what you can do for him as what he can do for you.

Ask about chances for long-range promotion or about company training programs. Last, and casually, ask about fringe benefits and pay.

When you leave the employer's office, ask when you can call him to find out his decision. Then call him promptly the day and time he recommends.

You may, of course, be able to stumble onto a job through sheer dumb luck. But don't count on it.

Competition for most jobs will be keen, and only a systematic job-hunting effort will give you an edge. And, by the way, the time to start is now.

Finding a job, particularly that first job, may be the hardest work you'll ever do.

Extensive taste-testing with thousands of smokers shows 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivers more taste than higher tar brands.

The bottom line was conclusive:
In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion, smokers from all across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette

What's really startling—

Less tar. Yet more taste.

That's the report on a

Dave Knauss was the winner of the Belle Isle Bikeathon

Knauss Wins Belle Isle Bikeathon

Over 5,000 bikers crowded Belle Isle to participate in the Pepsi Cola-sponsored, world's largest bike-a-thon last weekend. When the 24 hours of cycling was over, Dave Knauss, 18, a senior at Northville High School, was named the best male rider and Gary Dillion, also from Northville, was third.

Knauss covered 235 miles in the first twelve hours Saturday and at this pace he would have easily broken the record of 430 miles but the next twelve hours were marred by a rain delay. Knauss ended up with 285 miles.

After finishing third last year, the first place plaque was particularly gratifying to the biker. Last year he covered 330 miles.

"I really wanted the record of 430 miles and I think I would have done it if it were not for the rain, but I was happy with what I did," Knauss stated.

Knauss has been racing for five years and is a member of the Wolverine Schwinn of Ann Arbor racing team.

The Northville youth has raced in three United States Cycling Federation races and finished third in one of them.

Knauss trains, on an average of 300 miles a week, spending between three to eight hours pedaling his Fuji cycle.

"I want to go to either Claremont College in California or North Carolina Wesleyan where they have varsity cycle teams."

Knauss also sets his goals on the Olympics.

"If I place in the top five at the State Championship June 20 in Lansing, I will be able to go to the Nationals in Kentucky in August. Then I will have a chance to get into the Olympic development races for the Olympics in 1980," Knauss said.

Dillion, 16, and a junior at Northville High School, covered 205 miles to be named the third best male rider.

Novi Beats League Leader

Scott Parsons hurled a four hitter and fanned six as Novi handed league leader Chelsea their first league loss of the year last Tuesday, 2-1.

"Scott threw very well. It was definitely one of his better pitched games," Coach Rick Trudeau claimed.

Norm Free drove in the two Novi runs in the third inning with a bases loaded single.

"It was certainly good to beat the team on top. This should give us some confidence in ourselves," said Trudeau.

Bill Giorgio gave up all six runs and Free again collected the Novi RBI as Farmington Harrison bested Novi last Thursday.

Parsons again got the call to start on Friday against Saline and yielded just one run in four innings before developing arm trouble.

Catcher John Buck, who had relieved for the first time ever the day before and done a good job, came on to replace Parsons.

This time Buck was not so effective as he was slashed for five runs and Novi found themselves on the short end of a 6-5 game.

Randy Wroten and Dave Beall carried the big sticks for Novi, each collecting a pair of RBIs.

Novi had the tying and winning run on base in the seventh but could not push them across.

"We still have some tough ball games to go, Brighton and Lincoln. Right now our goal is to finish over .500 and finish third after recovering from our poor start," Trudeau said.

"Now we have shown we have a winning attitude," stated the mentor of the 5-5 in league play squad.

Brighton and Chelsea currently top the South-eastern Conference. Novi has beaten each of these teams once.

Drop 3 More

Wildcat JV's Keep on Losing

The Novi JV baseball squad was beaten three times last week to drop its record to a disappointing 2-10.

Despite ripping 11 hits and committing only one error, a season low, Dexter downed the Wildcats, 8-5. Bill McCauley went all the way, falling victim to a five-run fifth inning Dexter rally.

Mark Frere and Tim Putnam each lifted their batting average with a pair of hits and Duane Coda drove in a pair of runs.

Then, last Tuesday 11 Novi errors, a season high, allowed Chelsea to sneak away with a 14-13 ten-inning affair.

"Not only did we make 11 errors but we committed several mental errors," stated Coach Brian Howard after the poorly played game.

Steve Weber and Coda each had four safeties apiece to pace the 16 hit attack.

Things continued to get worse for the JV team as Saline's John Michael flung a no-hitter against the Wildcats. Saline won, 11-0, to drop the cellar-dwelling Novi nine to 2-9 in conference play.

Coach Howard did have special praise for Coda. Putnam and Frere also earned an honorable mention from the coach for performing well after returning from the varsity.

Seven Will Go to State Olympics

Seven Northville youngsters have qualified through their outstanding performance in the Wayne County Special Olympics to compete at the state-wide Olympics, Northville Recreation Director Charles Froberger announced yesterday.

John Katke, Kelly Lott, Beth Norton, Mark Demrose, Bill Donovan, Paul McGuire and Karen Tallman all earned the right to represent Northville by winning or placing in at least one event on May 7 at Plymouth Canton High School. They will join 4,000 other handicapped children at Central Michigan University, June 3-6.

The Northville Civitan Club and the Northville Kiwanis will make it possible for these children to go to the State Olympics by donating the expense money.

Results of May 7 Wayne County Olympics were:

John Katke, 12, — first in the 25 yard freestyle, first in the 50 yard backstroke, first in the 25 yard backstroke. Katke will be competing in the swimming and bowling at the state level.

Kelly Lott, 12, — first in the softball throw and first in bowling. Lott will compete in the softball throw, 50 yard dash and bowling.

Beth Norton, 19, — first 25 yard freestyle, first place 50 yard freestyle, first place 25 yard backstroke, first place 25 yard butterfly, and first place in diving. Norton will be competing in the swimming and bowling.

Mark Demrose, 11, — first in the 25 yard backstroke and second in the 25 yard freestyle. Demrose will be competing in swimming and bowling.

Bill Donovan, 16, — first in the 25 yard backstroke. Donovan will be competing in the swimming and bowling.

Paul McGuire, 19, — second in the 25 yard freestyle. McGuire will be competing in the swimming and bowling.

Karen Tallman, 19, — third in the 50 yard freestyle. Tallman will be competing in swimming.

Karen Veresh, 19, — second in the 25 yard breast stroke.

David Smith, Charles Bedford, Kathy Lockhart and Tammy Nulty also participated.

"Everybody enjoyed themselves. It was very worthwhile and we will definitely be doing it again next year," stated Froberger.

"This has been such a success that our program in the future will be geared towards the Olympics," Froberger stated.

Froberger again wished to thank the Northville Civitans, Kiwanis, Knights of Columbus and parents all of whom helped to make his job easier.

Mustangs Still on Top In Western Six Tennis

Now that the Northville tennis team is in undisputed possession of first place in the Western Six League, everyone is looking to knock off the Mustangs.

Bob Simpson and his squad responded in near perfect form when Walled Lake

Western came to town last Wednesday. The locals ripped Western, 7-0.

All seven matches were won in the minimum two sets with seven sets won by a 6-0 score.

Greg McFadden put an end to his inconsistent play, winning 6-2, 6-0 at the number one singles spot.

Doug Castillo and Rudy Horst, playing number two and three singles, respectively, both routed their opponents by skunking them, 6-0, 6-0.

Charlie Whiteside won, 6-3, 6-3 at number four singles.

Tim Kelly and Ron Angell, the number one doubles, went to a tie-breaker in the first set before winning for the 11th consecutive match.

Steve Laffler and Steve Pyett and Tom Folino and Jeff Hodge also won in the doubles competition.

Northville was scheduled to play in the Trenton Invitational on Saturday but the day-long rain forced the permanent postponement of the tournament.

Northville, standing at 10-1 overall and a perfect 6-0 in the league, travel to Harrison today.

The regionals start this Friday and Coach Simpson is quite optimistic.

"Our one two and three singles all have a good chance and our one two and three doubles could do well. Let's just say everybody has a shot," Simpson said.

Doug Castillo does the job for Coach Bob Simpson

Novi Netters Busy

By KEVIN BRAZELL

Rain and bad weather two weeks ago caused the Novi tennis team to be very busy last week. Two make-up matches, plus two scheduled matches forced the netters into action four times last week.

When it was all over, the netters had won a pair and lost the same.

Monday, Novi squeaked by Brighton, 4-3.

Greg Goff and Ted Wroebel won at singles and Mike Tuck and Scott Spielman and Bill Withers and Barry Skown all came away winners.

Wroebel had the easiest time of it, winning 6-2, 6-0.

North Farmington, a strong class "A" squad, ripped the Wildcats 6-1. Bill Spencer was the only winner for Novi and he had to go three sets before winning.

Hartland edged the netters from Novi 4-3, last Wednesday.

Goff and Kelly went to three sets before winning and the doubles team of Withers and Skown had an easy time of it, 6-2, 6-1.

Goff, Spencer, Tuck, Wroebel and Withers and Skown all won to help Novi defeat Chelsea to end the week's play.

Goff and Spencer were really on their game as both won, 6-0, 6-1.

"Mike Tuck, usually a doubles player, filled in at singles and played a real good match against Chelsea," complimented Coach Dave Haywood.

"Goff has also played well, winning eight out of 11 and the doubles team of Withers and Skown is also 8-3," analyzed Haywood.

John Debrule is still nursing a bad knee and is questionable for the regionals which start Friday at Cranbrook.

"We are in a tough regional with Cranbrook but I think our one through three singles will show strong," claimed the coach.

Mike Tuck did a good job filling in at the number three singles spot

Mott Rips Northville

Waterford Mott just plain overpowered Northville, taking 13 first places and coasting to an 83-57 victory last Thursday.

"We had good times turned in but they were exceptionally strong," explained Coach Ralph Redmond.

"We were without Kevin Corcoran and Mark Morland and Singleton was shook up in the low hurdles. We came away feeling if we were at full strength it would have been much closer," claimed Redmond.

Bob Gould ran a good time of 9:52 in the two mile to take one of only three firsts for the Mustangs.

The 880 relay team of Bob Sweeney, Singleton, Earl Bingley and Frank Nelson finished ahead of the competition as did Sweeney in the 440.

Bingley placed second in the long jump, 100 yard dash and the 220, for one of his most successful performances since his accident.

"Earl jumped 18'6", in the first time he has competed in the long jump after his injury. He did a good job," stated Redmond.

Dan Earhart was second in the 880 yard dash and Bill Barlow was a pleasant surprise clearing 10 feet in the pole vault for second.

finishers were: John Coram, Frank Nelson and Don Wilber.

Singelton, Earhart, Rick Rose, Dan Presswood, Brian Turnbull, Barry Grady, and Ray Coram all placed third for the Mustangs.

The Mustangs placed seventh and just three points out of third in the 16 team invitational Cardinal Relay at Jackson on Saturday.

The 880 relay team of Corcoran, Tim Ellis, Singelton and Bingley were clocked in 1:37 flat to take Northville's only first place.

The Mustangs did pick up three seconds and three fourths.

Gardner Returns

Novi Softball Coach Russ Gardner sat out a one-game suspension, after withdrawing his resignation, he returned for the Dexter game. The girls responded with a 22-4 victory last Tuesday.

The Ladycats' defense was at its best as they committed only three errors. The previous best was seven.

Mary Anne Balagna ripped out three hits and collected five RBI's to pace the offensive attack. Jeanny Brown also notched five RBI's.

Sue Thomas thrashed out a trio of safeties, driving in four runs while Mary Beth Zealous provided a home run and three RBI's. Balagna also had round-tripper.

Ricci Mulligan, replacing Elaine Maki on the mound, went the distance to pick up the victory in her second game as a pitcher. Maki was forced to quit the team to get a job.

"We definitely miss Elaine's pitching. Our other pitchers have been having trouble with walks," stated Gardner.

The control problems were evident against Oak Park last Thursday as Novi pitchers walked ten batters and all ten scored. Oak Park won the game, 18-7.

Novi collected 11 hits. Zealous had three and Ann Robinson two to pace the Ladycats.

College Offers Tennis

Schoolcraft College has scheduled summer tennis classes and is offering tennis memberships for May through August.

Four instructional periods in tennis are being offered for beginners and intermediates. Participants in each will have four lessons of one and one-half hours each.

The first period will meet May 24, 26, 31 and June 2; the second on May 25, 27, June 1 and 3; the third on June 14, 16, 21 and 23, and the last on June 15, 17, 22 and 24. Classes begin at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day until 8:30 p.m.

The College is again offering summer tennis memberships. Family memberships are $40 complete. Individual adult memberships are $25, and junior memberships (17 and under) are $15. Memberships are valid from May 17 through August 29 and insure court time by reservation.

Further information regarding tennis classes or memberships may be obtained by calling 591-6392. The College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

Records Fall Novi Lose Two More

It was a week for record performances for the Novi thinclads but unfortunately for the Wildcats it was not a week for winning.

Five records were broken or tied in two league meets. Shot-putter Ben Gaylon started the record smashing by surpassing his own mark with a heave of 47 feet in the 86-46 loss to Lincoln on Tuesday.

Andy Raddant then proceeded to jump 21'4" in the long jump, besting the mark formerly held by John Dayey.

Tom Morris, in the 220 yard dash, crossed the finish line in 23.1, to set yet another school record in the Lincoln meet.

Raddant in the 440, Morris in the high jump, MacDermid in the pole vault and Jeff Johnston in the two mile were the other first places captured by the Wildcats.

Bryant Hammond was beaten for the first time all season in the high hurdles.

"Against Milan on Thursday we should have won but we had sub-par performances from a few," stated Coach Del Munson after the 75-57 loss to Milan. "On paper we were the better team but our boys just did not deliver," Munson said.

Raddant did deliver, tying the school record in the 440 running the distance in 53 seconds flat. MacDermid also topped the school mark going over 11'6" in the pole vault.

Morris turned in a good time for a sophomore with a 10.6 second performance in the 100 yard dash which was good for first place.

Johnston and Glenn Caudell also pleased Munson, finishing second and third in the two mile run.

"The Sanghui brothers, Rahul and Suketu, are showing lots of promise and could develop into top notch distance men," observed the coach.

Tom Yakel did a good job in the field events and the 880 relay according to Munson.

Local Pitcher

Pat McAllen, a freshman at Ferris State College and resident of Novi, boasts a perfect 5-0 record for the Bulldog Varsity Baseball squad.

The local southpaw has pitched 41 innings while giving up 18 earned runs for an ERA of 3.88.

McAllen pitching in seven games has yielded 32 hits while whiffing 47 batters.

Horse Show Coming To Northville Downs

With more than a week to go before the show opens, 320 horses already have been entered in the second annual ASHAM Horse Show to be held at Northville Downs.

"It's going to be a great show," says Eleanor H. Pedersen, show registrar, who is predicting the total number of entries "could go to almost 400 horses if they continue to come in as they are right now.

"Last year we had 276 entries just before the show opened, and then in a last minute spurt the total climbed to 372," she pointed out.

Heaviest interest, as expected, are Arabians, but a large number is developing in the American saddlebred division as well, Mrs. Pedersen reports.

Co-sponsored by the Northville Kiwanis Club and the American Saddle Horse Association of Michigan (ASHAM), the show will be held here on May 28, 29 and 30.

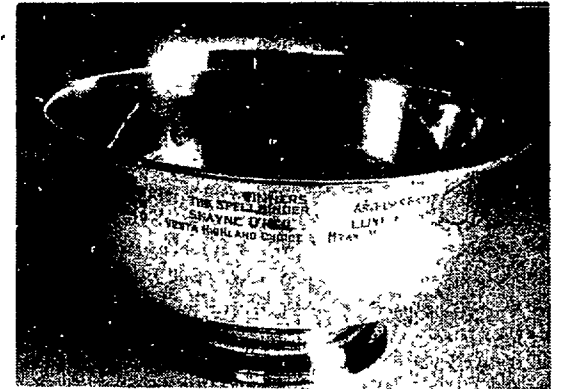

Competing in 93 events, horses will be coming to the Downs from throughout Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. They will include saddle horses, ponies, Arabians and half-Arabians.

The Class A show is a major qualifying event approved by the American Horse Show Association, the Michigan Horse Show Association, and the Tri-State Horse Show Association, Inc.

Since the horse show is self-supporting, the ticket cost for general admission has been held to $1, according to Kiwanis President Robert Schron.

A $1 ticket entitles the holder to admission on all three days of the show, he emphasizes. Children under 12 years of age are admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

Show times: 6:30 p.m. on Friday, May 28; 8:30, 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 29; and 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 30.

SHOW PRIZE—The N. C. Schrader Memorial Challenge Trophy, reactivated last year after a retirement of 35 years, will again be a top prize in this year's ASHAM horse show. Candy Princess, owned by the Taft Johnstons, was last year's winner of the trophy.

Weak Bats Hurt

The Northville Girls' softball team has become quite used to close games. All three of the games played last week were decided by one run with Northville the victor in one.

"Defensively we've been superb but our last three losses have been by four runs," Coach Mary Minor stated.

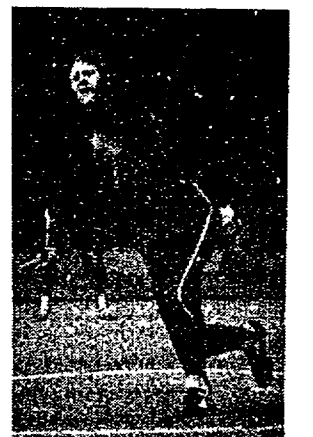

"Once we get the bats going there will be no stopping us," she claimed.

Last Tuesday the Mustangs won by one run, besting Churchill, 7-6. Northville was down 6-3 in the seventh inning but clutch hitting by Pat Brown, Kim DeRusha, Becky Albus and Kim Adams helped to pull it out.

The next day, despite solid hitting by Louise Hopping, Suzie Heinzman and Adams, Northville lost to Waterford Mott, 8-7.

Northville collected only four hits against Walled Lake Western on Thursday and were edged again 4-3.

Brown, who has pitched well, received the decision in all three games.

Mustangs Rained Out

The Northville baseball squad, the league leaders in the Western Six League, were kept out of action last week because of bad weather. Rain and cold forced the cancellation of a double-header with Redford Union slated for Saturday and a league contest with Plymouth Canton on Monday.

Weather permitting the Mustangs will get back into action today against Farmington Harrison.

Area Leagues Start Play

Here Are the Scores and Standings

NOVILITTLE LEAGUE

Despite the challenge of "Mother Nature", Northville Junior Baseball opened its regular season on schedule last week.

After the initial action which was dominated by high scoring contests, only 20 of the 69 teams remained undefeated. Some of them are sure to fall as the leaders meet head on in this week's play.

With renewed enthusiasm, the Junior Baseball program has over 900 boys and girls playing this year in a schedule which runs through July 17. Games are played Monday through Friday nights and Saturdays at diamonds in the Northville area.

Scores and standings as of May 15 are as follows:

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

By JEANNE CLARKE
624-0173

A surprise 25th wedding anniversary party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Allan Burton last week by their three daughters, Sue, Paula and Nancy, at their home on 11 Mile Road.

About 25 friends and guests were present and special guests were former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Burton from Canadian Lakes near Big Rapids.

Another anniversary to be celebrated in the near future in the Burton family will be the 50th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Justin Burton.

This will be an open house on May 23 at the home of their son, Doug Burton on 11 Mile.

Pat Gombasy, daughter of Louis Gombasy of Clark Street, had her first communion at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Northville. There was an open house at her home during the afternoon. About 90 people attended including some from Ohio, Flat Rock, Detroit and surrounding areas.

Mrs. Nesby Button has returned after spending three weeks in Winterpark, Florida. She had been called there because of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Rosa Lee. While there she visited her sister, Mrs. Inez Perkins Van Inthoudt, and her niece, Patricia Perkins.

Patricia, 21, was elected Miss Orlando for this year and was busy preparing to be a participant in the Miss Florida Pageant. She has made her home and attended school in Novi in the past and had been the Methodist Church organist.

Sandy Brough was guest of honor at a bridal shower

Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Louise Whyte in South Lyon. Co-hostess was Mrs. Marian Capo. About 25 guests were present. She will be married to Steve Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Roberts, former residents of Novi Road now living in Milford, in June.

Dr. James Travis, of Blue Mountain College in Mississippi was in the area for a short time to attend the funeral of his brother, Herbert Travis, a former resident of Novi. He visited his mother, Mrs. Marie Travis, and sister, Mrs. Leslie Clarke, while here.

Today, May 19, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kern of East Lake Drive are celebrating their 15th wedding anniversary and on May 24 their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards, will be celebrating their 30th anniversary.

Mrs. Bill Jones of East Lake Drive has returned home following surgery recently at Ann Arbor Hospital in Wayne.

Novi Little League

A reminder of the spaghetti dinner scheduled for May 23 from 1 - 5 p.m. at the Novi Community Building. Children 1 - 11, $1.25; 12 and up $2.25; and family rate of $8.50.

Novi Girl Scouts

May 27, Thursday, 7:30 - 10 p.m. will be the last evening class of orientation for leaders to be held at the Nardin Park United Methodist Church on 11 Mile west of Middlebelt in Farmington.

Southern Oakland Girl Scout day at Bob-lo will be Thursday, June 24, with boat departing Detroit 9:30 a.m. and departing Bob-lo at 4 p.m. Tickets must be ordered before June 18. This is a get-acquainted day for all Girl Scouts from the entire south-eastern Michigan area. Each leader should have received information on special prices; if not, contact Ginny Folsom at 349-5713.

Parents Without Partners

This Thursday there will be a dance workshop at 8 p.m. Call 348-1892 for information. Plans were made at the last meeting for the next house party, scheduled for May 22. Call 453-3185 for information. Golf is continuing at Dun Rovin May 24 at 6:30 p.m. All chapters and guests are welcome. $2 all you can play. Other days to keep in mind: May 27, bicycling 7:30 p.m. Hines Drive. Call 348-1892. Next general membership meeting will be May 28.

Novi Welcome Wagon

Installation banquet will be this Thursday night at the Holiday Inn in Magnus Hall; call Joan Benoit, 478-0267, if you need transportation or have any other questions. There will be a board meeting for all new and old officers and committee chairmen at Pat Soderblom's Monday at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is asked to turn in information on last position to Nancy Trabin before the meeting. Ladies daytime bridge will meet on Tuesday, May 25, at 1 p.m. There is still a need for a bicycling chairman; call Carlene, 349-3934.

Novi Blood Bank

Co-chairmen of the Novi Blood Bank Drive, held recently, were Ray Tobias and the Reverend Carl Ziegler. They report that 103 pints were donated by the citizens and would like to thank everyone for their cooperation.

This blood is available free of charge to anyone who lives or works in Novi. Additional information regarding the Novi Blood Bank can be obtained by calling Coordinator Ray Tobias of Michigan Tractor. There will not be another opportunity to give blood until some time in the fall when another drive is planned for September or October.

Novi Foundation for Performing Arts

A reminder of the forthcoming production of "Yankee Doodle" at 2 p.m. this Saturday at the Novi High School Commons. This is recommended for children four years old through 4th or 5th grades. Fourteen performers from the Southfield Repertory Theatre will present this musical composed by Airand Harris. The production was sold out last weekend in Southfield for all three performances. Tickets for the Novi program are available at Meadowbrook Pharmacy, The Northville Record and Security Bank of Novi, or at the door. For any further information call 349-0036 or 349-0251.

North Novi Civic Association had a meeting

FLAG RAISING—A little rain couldn't stop residents from Lakewood Parkhomes in Novi from showing up for an honorary flag raising Saturday as VFW Post 4012 of Northville presented the homeowners group both a Bicentennial Flag and a United States flag to fly over the development. Present for the ceremonies were: (back row, from left) Mary Devlin, Mary Elliott, Ron Hembree, Post 4012 Commander Merl Hoag, Everett McCollum, Leonard Moore (front) Tracy Elliot, Kelley Devlin, Kelley Case, Vince Noble, John Crimshaw, Joan Noble, and Cindy Noble.

last Wednesday at the Novi Community Building. Plans were made for a meeting at a later date with the Novi Parks and Recreation Committee regarding the work at the Lake Shore Park in restoring it for use this summer.

Reports were heard regarding the clean-up day. Anyone still having brush not picked up should call the Novi City Hall or 624-2311. There was a discussion of the association's participation in Gala Days and also regarding the Memorial Day parade.

Anyone wishing to help with the float or wishing to have children in costume on the float should call the above number.

Novi Rotary

Speaker at the last meeting held at the Holiday Inn at noon on Thursday was Mike Ardelean.

Jaycee Auxiliary General membership meeting will be held May 25 at the home of Linda Pochter. A report will be heard from Health Fair held May 20 for high school students during their lunch hour.

Reports will also be heard regarding awards taken by the local chapter at the state convention. Gala Days will be discussed and investigation is being made into the possibility of sponsoring a food booth. The auxiliary welcomes two new members, Mona Misch and Bethany Evans.

Novi Lions Club

Annual elections were held Wednesday night at the Holiday Inn. The following people were elected to office: President, Chuck Nanas; Vice president, John McEachern; 2nd Vice president, Cliff Spiers; 3rd vice president, Joe Toth; secretary, Jerry Morgan; treasurer, Mike Alecia; tall twister, Marv Tobel; and lion tamer, Merv Free. The installation dinner will be on June 11 at the Northville Park House (formerly "The Tavern") on Northville Road. Dinner and dancing will be $25 per couple and everyone is invited. Contact Tom Darling, Chairman for information. Tickets are still on sale for the new Granada which is on display at Darling Mobile Homes on Novi Road. Lion member Doctor Adler is recuperating from a heart attack at Sinai Hospital.

Novi Pin Pointers

The annual bowling banquet was held at the Detroit Race Course and following dinner awards were given out. Patricia O'Malley won the high game trophy with 247, Pat Crupi received a pin for 234. She also received a trophy for high series with 592, and Diane Alexander received a pin for 591. The most improved bowler is Renee Abate with an improvement of 14 pins.

A triplicate award was presented to Vera Johnson for three games, all with same score. Diane Canup and Jean Forter both received the Detroit women's bowling award for 200 games. Another part of the program included several baby gifts being presented to Pat Grant, member of the league. Officers are: President, Rita Stockemer; vice president, Pat Grant; treasurer, Lora Lee Longhurst; and secretary, Barb Pietron. This league is open to any women in Novi area and they bowl on Thursday mornings at Belaire Lanes on 10 Mile and Orchard Lake. Bowling will resume September 15 and anyone interested should contact Barb Pietron at 474-0531.

Novi Club Scout Pack 240

A Bike Derby took place on Sunday, May 16 at 1 p.m. with about 50 boys participating in a six mile ride on the unopened part of the new expressway between 8 Mile and 11 Mile. The next pack meeting will be Thursday, May 27 at 7 p.m.

Novi Band Boosters

The long awaited new band uniforms were on display for the first time when the band was invited to participate in the Wixom Bicentennial Parade last Saturday. The Novi Band took first place in a contest over Walled Lake and Livonia. They will also be wearing their new uniforms at the Spring Concert being held tonight (Wednesday) at the high school. They will be presenting some marches in the first part of the program with the fifth grade band playing during the intermission.

Novi Senior Citizens

The Novi Senior Citizens met at the Novi United Methodist Church at 41671 10 Mile at noon May 12 for a covered dish lunch with 50 members present. A happy busload of senior citizens left Friday, May 14 for Holland, Michigan to see the Tulip Festival. The next meeting will be May 25 at the Novi Community Building on Novi Road. Everyone is again urged to remember to bring their own table service to help with expenses. Plans will be made for the "Luncheon is Served" event on June 9 at the Novi United Methodist Church.

Rebekah Lodge

The Past Noble Grand will meet with Mrs. Betty Harbin at her home on Grand River on May 20 at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is reminded to bring their own table service and passing dish. The Rummage and Bake Sale Chairperson, Irene Wendland, reports a very successful one and would like to thank all those who participated in any way. Noble Grand Laee Bell is making plans to visit Elsie Brooks at Bortz Resthaven in Bloomfield to present her with her 50 years membership pin. Anyone interested in going should contact Mrs. Bell at 349-2835.

Orientation Is May 25

An orientation will be conducted Tuesday, May 25 for all children attending kindergarten during the 1976-77 school year at Village Oaks Elementary in Novi.

Children are to arrive at the school by 10:30 a.m. and will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m.

The orientation is intended to help prepare them for their forthcoming kindergarten experiences and will give them a chance to meet their teacher.

Parents with questions should call 349-3240 for information.
