

Township Board Receives Surprise Millage Report

Two surprises were handed Northville township trustees last Tuesday as citizens study committees failed to endorse suggested millage hikes for recreation and police.

In a lengthy special meeting that twice disrupted into name-calling between the audience and trustees only the proposed .5 millage increase for library needs received approval of its study committee.

No action was taken on the reports which reduced the 1.5 mill suggestion of the trustees to 1. for police and did not advocate any special recreation funding.

A special meeting was set for 8 p.m. Tuesday at which Supervisor Betty Lennox stated she hoped the amount to be placed on the primary ballot in August could be set. If it is and routine business is completed, she indicated, the regular township meeting Thursday may be cancelled. If not, the millage increase request will be set Thursday.

Michael L. Wilson, spokesman for the police fact-finding committee, in a detailed report recommended a 1 mill levy, stating that "need for expansion has not been demonstrated" in material presented by Police Chief Ronald Nisun.

The report cited the fact that a new state police post in Northville township will be operative the latter part of this year with 35 officers covering surrounding townships and a crime laboratory on the premises.

Written by Wilson and Abe Rubenstein, the report considered updated recommendations by the chief but pointed out that the committee did not feel "number of complaints alone are documentation for an increase."

With "visibility" of state police officers in the area and assurance from the Wayne County Sheriff Department that its present patrol will continue, the report stated, it was felt present service could be continued with an additional 1. mill levy and added state revenue of approximately $87,000 reserved for police.

While recommending maintenance of the present force, the report also endorsed the concept of a police commission of citizens and also a board commission for "more accountability," which, it was contended, presently is lacking.

Questioned by Treasurer Charles Rosenberg whether the committee had returned such "budget line items as reserve officer pay to the proposal," Wilson said the committee "doesn't profess to be 100 percent accurate" as it was basing the report on information obtainable and using current budget as base.

Trustee John Swienkowski asked if a force increased to 11 men would put two police cars on the road and was told by Nisun that it would not.

Nisun endorsed the concept of a commission to help take "politics out of the police," saying, "It makes a politician out of me to keep seven people (board of trustees) happy!"

Joseph Fiorelli, a member of the audience, asked for a definition of police accountability, saying he didn't "really see what three more non-professionals could do."

At this point the meeting became a shouting exchange

Candidates
Air Views
At Forum

It was a night of opinions, praise and criticism last Wednesday as candidates for the Northville Board of Education faced the public.

Some 75 persons were on hand for the public forum co-sponsored by the local chapter of the League of Women Voters and the AAUW.

Each of the seven candidates were given five minutes to make statements, and then written questions were posed by the public and answered verbally by the candidates.

What follows is a synopsis of the candidates' statements, in the order they were given, and their answers to key questions.

Joseph Benstein

With 12 years experience as a learning specialist, he believes he is equipped to help create an atmosphere where teachers and administrators can be more effective.

He perceives several areas where, as a board member, he can work to improve the school system.

The district needs a unified K-12 developmental curriculum that can be accomplished with the establishment of goals or minimal objectives. At present, without these kinds of important objectives, the system falls short in unified programs; its testing and evaluation are lacking. Objectives need to be developed at each learning level, and teaching strategies and task analysis are essential to accurately record a child's progress and growth.

In the area of budgeting, the board needs to develop better monitoring procedures so that the past difficulties do not force additional hardships on completed her junior year at Duke University, was one of 14 persons hired and trained to take the census which is expected to increase township revenues. Mrs. Ardis McLeod heads the census-taking team.

Thumb Found

Two Northville youths made a gruesome discovery Monday afternoon as they were entering Northville Square. Lying on the sidewalk by the door was a man's thumb.

The slightly flushed youths appeared at the police station with the bizarre tale which was at first thought to be a hoax. But when a police car dispatched to the location

Land Gift Change OK'd by Township

Northville Township trustees voted unanimously last week to accept the offer of Thompson-Brown Company to drop a reverter clause involved in an 89 acre site at Six Mile near Winchester given to the township several years ago in exchange for 2.06 acres.

new offer. It was pointed out that the site still was sufficient for an administrative building and fire station.

Trustee John Swienkowski said the action was a no-choice one as the township has no money to begin construction.

A gift to the township when the firm began construction of Northville Commons, it originally had a clause stipulating the land reverted to the company if an administrative building had not been started on the site by April, 1977.

By returning the 2.06 acre piece of the property on the north side of Six Mile Road for a sales office, the township would be freed from the reverter requirement stipulated four years ago as well as from grading requirements.

A 60-foot easement for ingress and egress off Six Mile also was provided in the new agreement.

Township Engineer William Mosher and attorney Donald Morgan, both present at the special session, approved the

Officials Fear Pollution of River

A resolution urging the Michigan Department of Natural Resources to reconsider its decision to abandon a "super sewer" plan involving Washtenaw County has been adopted by unanimous vote of Northville City Council.

The adoption followed a report to council Monday by Mayor A.M. Allen, who blistered the DNR's action and its apparent "fend for yourselves" advice to Wayne and Oakland county communities.

(See related story on Page 1-D).

According to the mayor, the DNR's position is a potentially dangerous one that could lead to establishment of a sewage treatment plant in Novi on Northville's northern boundary, further pollute the Rouge River as it passes through Northville, and possibly trigger a building moratorium throughout the area.

The mayor is particularly angry because it appears to him Northville's paid-for capacity in the Rouge interceptor is being whittled away by other communities.

What's more, he was upset by a report from a property owner in Novi, who told the mayor Novi officials had approached him about possibly purchasing his land for development of a sewage treatment plant at the edge of Northville. Effluent from such a plant, he said, would be emptied into the Rouge River.

Name of the property owner was not disclosed.

Charging that the Rouge is already polluted and "would become a stinking mess" with still another contributor of waste to the stream, the council ordered the city manager to have an analysis of the water taken immediately at the point that it enters Northville from Novi. Furthermore, it requested the DNR to take its own sampling.

Like Novi, Northville favored the super sewer plan that would have led to joint development by communities in Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties. Without Washtenaw, the plan is not operable, according to officials.

In the City of Northville's case, however, support of the plan was seen as morale support only since the city has already purchased sufficient capacity in the existing interceptor to take care of the community at its optimum — 9,000 people. But Northville officials are fearful that the

College Tax Hike On Ballot

More than 10,000 voters will be eligible to cast ballots Monday for two Northville School Board members and a Schoolcraft Community College millage proposal.

But Thomas Goulding, administrative assistant to the board, expects a light turnout, based on the small number of absentee ballots requested so far.

He notes that last June's school board election brought only 10 percent of registered voters to the polls. But he feels this year's turnout may be slightly higher because of the millage proposal. "When there's money involved, people are more interested," he said.

Seven candidates are competing for two school board seats presently held by Board President Dr. Orlo Robinson and Trustee Martin Rinehart, neither of whom is seeking re-election.

Names appearing on the ballot will be Joseph H. Benstein, Betty S. Hancock, Christopher J. Johnson, Timothy D. Lemon, James C. Lewis, Marjorie J. Slinger and James Terasi, Jr. (Candidate pictures, biographical profiles and statements on the issues appear elsewhere in The Record.)

School board members are elected at large.

Voters also will decide the fate of a request for .53 additional mills for Schoolcraft Community College. The new millage will be used for both operating and building costs.

If passed, the proposal will cost property owners 53 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation, of $13.25 yearly for the owner of a $50,000 home.

Present millage for the community college totals 2.13 mills.

The school administration at 303 West Main Street will be open on Saturday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. to facilitate absentee voting. Ballots also may be obtained this week during the administration's regular 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. schedule.

Voting, on paper ballots, will be conducted Monday from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the following polling places:

- Precinct One will vote at the Central Board Office, 303 West Main Street. This precinct covers the area south of Eight Mile to the city limits, bounded by Beck Road on the west and Northville Road on the east.

- Precinct Two voters should go to Silver Springs Elementary School, 19801 Silver Springs. This includes residents between Northville Road and Haggerty Road

MR. AND MRS. PAUL KOBE

Carole Terry Wed in May

Carole Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Robert Terry of 43625 Nine Mile Road in Northville, exchanged rings and vows with Paul Kobe in a late afternoon ceremony May 22.

For the wedding in Kalamazoo Interfaith Chapel the bride's minister, the Reverend Guenther Branstner, went from Northville to share officiating duties with Father Brian Ryan, S.A., of Kalamazoo.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kobe of Paw Paw.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess A-line gown of peau de soie. The bodice was styled with tiny stand-up collar and long sleeves. Venise lace trim adorned the bodice and edged the skirt, which extended into a train.

Matching lace outlined the fingertip veil held by a pearl-decorated headpiece.

The colonial bridal bouquet was of daisies and baby's breath.

Kristine Terry, honor maid for her sister, wore a yellow Qiana gown, styled in A-line with its collar forming a brief cape over the shoulders and back. She carried a colonial daisy bouquet, as did Carol Goodwin, bridesmaid, whose gown matched the honor maid's.

Michelle Lynn and Tamara Shayne Blair, daughters of the bridegroom's sister, were flower girls in mint green with eyelet overlays. They carried baskets of flowers.

Dalton C. Rumsey was best man. Groomsman was Lawrence Rogowski.

More than 200 guests attended the ceremony and reception following at Knights of Columbus Hall in Paw Paw. They were from Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and throughout southern Michigan.

Both the bride and her husband are 1974 graduates of Western Michigan University where they met. The new Mrs. Kobe also is a graduate of Northville High School and was an occupational therapist at St. Mary Hospital before her marriage.

Her husband is assistant manager of Paw Paw Soil Conservation District Nursery.

After a wedding trip through the southern states and the Smoky Mountains they are making their home in Paw Paw.

Seek Valedictorian Of Class of 1926

By JEAN DAY

FIFTY YEARS AGO it was a "nice, hot day with peonies in full bloom" for the commencement of the Northville High School graduating class of 1926.

Beth (Ponsford) Lapham, co-chairman for the 50th anniversary celebration of the 33-member class with Mrs. James Huff (Edna Kreeger), recalled this week that peony blooms were picked to decorate the second floor auditorium of the old high school on Main Street for the June 23 exercises.

The class was less than a tenth the size of this year's 340-member class, which also had a sunny, hot day for commencement Tuesday. Instead of today's blue robes, however, the girls 50 years ago wore white dresses, Beth Lapham remembers.

The anniversary reunion will be June 19 at the Round Table Club in Plymouth. Planners have located all but three members of the class and letters have been sent announcing the reunion at which Delbert Campbell of South Lyon will serve as master of ceremonies. Reservation deadline is June 14.

Class President Leslie Fraser, who gave the salutatory address, has indicated he will be on hand. Among the three not located is Avis Brown, who gave the valedictory. Others are Albert Kohler and Dortha Dunbar. Four, the chairmen know, are deceased.

Other members are coming from as far as Illinois and Florida. Anyone with information about the missing three is asked to call either chairman.

THIRTY-NINE YEARS of marriage were celebrated at a surprise anniversary party Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Ian Wilson of 536 West Main Street. In spite of the fact that 100 friends and relatives were in on the planning and attended the event at a Fenton school, it was a well-kept secret with both Ian and Marcia Wilson admitting they were "completely surprised" as they went to view a grandchild's school work.

The party had been planned, for three months by the couple's three daughters, Bonnie Marino, who attended with her husband Edward from Miami, Florida; Kip Karl, with husband Peter of Fenton; and Patsy Anderson of Florida. Mrs. Anderson's husband, who is completing law school there, was unable to attend.

Mr. Wilson's sister, Margaret Sharpe, and her son, John, attended from Fayette, North Carolina.

A Northville contingent of fellow tennis players included the Grant Allens, Robert Boshovens, Daniel Bolands, Louis Mortensons, Thomas Klientelers, Neal Johnsons and William Hieders. Many of Mr. Wilson's associates at Detroit Race Course also were on hand.

Reason for the 39th year celebration was a trip the Wilsons are planning to Scotland the beginning of August. The anniversary gift also was a "bon voyage" for the journey.

WHEN QUEEN ELIZABETH II of England visits the United States this July, she is to be presented with a book compiled by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. listing VIF's (Very Important Females).

The name of Miss Ruth Margaret Knapp, long-time Northville resident before she moved to Ann Arbor area, has been accepted for the listing. A World War I nurse and graduate of Harper Hospital School of Nursing, Miss Knapp had been visited by South Lyon Junior Girl Scout Troop 508. The troop recommended that her name be one of five VIF's honored by troops in Northern Oakland County.

Miss Knapp had been a faithful worker for Northville Town Hall and last month entertained the town hall committee at her residence, the Lutheran Retirement Center.

News of her honor was passed along by Marian Zayti, who says "this lovely happening made dear Ruth Knapp ecstatic."

A FLOWER-ARRANGING program is planned for the June meeting of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at 12:30 p.m. Monday. It will be presented by two of the group's own members, Mrs. Gene Cushing and Mrs. Frank Whitmyer.

Mrs. N. H. Whiteside will open her home at 20173 Whipple Drive for the meeting with members bringing guests asked to notify the hostess. Members not contacted about supplies to bring for the flower-arranging demonstration should contact Wilma Cushing.

Hostess chairman is Mrs. Stuart Campbell, assisted by Mrs. Frederick Harper, Mrs. Marilyn Meyer and Mrs. Charles Fountain.

PEGGY MEYER of Northville received plaudits from members of the Schoolcraft College Women's Advisory Committee at its June 2 meeting for being honored as an outstanding volunteer by the City of Livonia.

Her volunteering, done at the college, includes production of the Women's Resource Center monthly bulletin, and membership on the advisory committee.

At the final meeting for 1975-76, center director Jean Christensen announced that a fall highlight will be the campus appearance of Caroline Bird, author of "Born Female," on November 17. Her topic is to be "Marriage."

A two-day program on job "recycling" for unemployed teachers also is in the planning stages, it was reported.

PARTICIPATING in a regional meeting of Detroit Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority June 18-20 will be Mrs. Rex Spencer of Northville, a past president of the chapter.

Nursery Lists Openings

Novi Nursery School which meets in a country barn renovated as a nursery for preschoolers at 21633 Beck Road has some openings in a summer program beginning July 6.

Both cooperative and private programs for preschoolers are held at the barn during the school year.

The private, summer program for children three to five years old will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to noon in July. Located in a rural setting, it will offer outdoor activities, nature hikes, crafts, literature and music. Bicentennial projects also are planned, it is announced.

Methodist Women Clarify 'Equal Rights' Feelings

'ERA Will Protect Gains'

—Laura Callow

Abolishing discriminatory laws while "protecting gains we have made" are given as reasons to support the Equal Rights Amendment by Laura Callow, new co-chairman of the Michigan ERA-America committee.

The Livonia homemaker spoke to the Northville Morning Fellowship of Methodist Women April 27, answering questions raised about what ERA will or will not do.

As she has been doing about twice a week for the past year, Mrs. Callow spoke about the areas in which, ERA supporters feel, discrimination still exists against women.

"A 1975 Michigan study," she cites, "reveals 44 discriminatory practices against women in insurance — women cannot purchase disability insurance without paying a higher rate than men."

"There are pension plans that pay women less than men, defending the practice because they say women live longer."

"Social Security laws also have such inequities," Mrs. Callow notes.

Social Security, however, she feels, is not truly an ERA question but an area in need of reform with or without ERA.

"Under ERA," she states, "women will not lose any benefits they have now, nor will homemakers be taxed on nonexistent income."

Laura Callow believes strongly, however, that "tax laws deal with the homemaker harshly," illustrating her view that they are discriminatory by pointing out that a couple wed many years and accumulating an estate of some size will find that death of one or the other creates two different situations

"If she dies, he will not have a penny to pay, but if he dies, she will be taxed as the government says she didn't earn the money."

"ERA paves the way to give vested rights to her husband's income and legal status to the role of homemaker."

The claims that ERA ratification will result in homosexual marriages and unisex bathrooms, Mrs. Callow views as "kinds of things that are being raised as smokescreens to distract from essential ERA intentions."

Agreeing that women have made gains in the areas of equal pay and credit, she points out that equal pay provisions still do not cover all working women, including those in federal training programs

On the anti-ERA accusation that women will be drafted, Mrs. Callow points out that there is no draft for anyone at the present time but that Congress already has constitutional power to draft women "because women are citizens and citizens have responsibilities."

Under ERA, she adds, there would no longer be higher qualifications for women to enlist than for men.

Regarding alimony and child support rights:

"Michigan law was amended in 1970 because of the trend toward uniform marriage and divorce laws with either party receiving alimony."

"A woman," she continues, "never had an automatic right to alimony and in the matter of child custody the well-being of the child is the primary concern."

Mrs. Callow, an area resident for 18 years and the mother of two grown sons and an 11-year-old daughter, is a member of the new coalition, Women Organized to Meet Existing Needs (WOMEN), composed of AAUW, Democratic and Republican women workers, Business and Professional Women, League of Women Voters and NOW representatives.

Mrs. Callow is a past president of the Livonia LWV and has been active in NOW.

She has appeared on television and radio to speak for the ERA cause — a cause to which she now devotes all her volunteer energy.

Feeling that women's church groups today should "do more than raise funds," members of the Morning Fellowship at First Methodist Church in Northville have been looking at social issues.

Therefore, co-chairmen Barbara Kimery and Judith Wikman scheduled a pro-ERA (Equal Rights Amendment) speaker and an anti-ERA speaker for successive meetings because "the ERA issue has become clouded and members had questions."

They point out that the Methodist church already has gone on record in support of ERA and that the conversations were for information and not for formal action.

In May the fellowship group went to Lansing to meet with their legislators. In April pro-ERA speaker Laura Callow outlined history of the amendment, and in June anti-ERA spokeswoman Elaine Donnelly spoke. Their comments are given in these separate stories.

'Rights Are Swept Away'

—Elaine Donnelly

"Rights are being swept away under this new principle of equality," Elaine Donnelly told the Morning Fellowship of Northville United Methodist Women June 1.

Mrs. Donnelly, the Michigan Chairman of the National Stop ERA Committee, was the second speaker to talk to the women's group about the Equal Rights Amendment.

She spoke out against the ERA, as she has been doing for nearly four years.

"ERA is not for women at all," Mrs. Donnelly said "It would eliminate all sex discrimination in the laws, even that which benefits women."

As an example she cited state laws which, she says, require a husband to support his wife thereby strengthening the family unit. If ERA is ratified, Mrs. Donnelly asserts that a wife would have an equal obligation to support her husband. "Motherhood would become a high risk occupation," she said.

Mrs. Donnelly also believes that passage of the ERA would result in equal military obligations for both sexes and the end of all-girl schools.

Labor legislation which limits the number of hours women can work and the amount of weight they can lift might be wiped out, Mrs. Donnelly tears, snouid ERA become a part of the Constitution.

"There is no guarantee that women's benefits would be extended to men," she said, refuting a common argument of ERA supporters.

Mrs. Donnelly also opposes ERA on the grounds that it might legalize marriage between homosexuals and allow such couples to adopt children.

She believes that ERA would lead to more affirmative action programs, which she calls "systematic discrimination against men."

Affirmative action plans in the Detroit Police Department have discriminated against men while pushing women into jobs they don't want, according to Mrs. Donnelly. She denies the claims of feminists that women are second-class citizens. She says that laws already on the books "spell out everything that women need."

As examples, the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972 and the Equal Pay Act of 1963 all prohibit discrimination against women in employment. "ERA is not going to add to employment rights," Mrs. Donnelly said.

There are also the 1972 Education Amendments to protect women's right to education and a 1974 law forbidding lenders from denying women credit.

"If there are laws that discriminate against women, we'd like to see them," she said, adding that it is better to work with state legislatures to change undesirable laws that to place the matter of equal rights into the hands of Federal courts, which would ultimately be responsible for interpreting the ERA.

Much of Mrs. Donnelly's work in Michigan is aimed at getting the legislature to rescind its ratification of ERA. The amendment was ratified in this state in 1972, but Mrs. Donnelly says, "Opinion has changed so much. Women are turning against ERA."

Many ERA supporters say it is illegal to rescind an amendment once it has been ratified, but Mrs. Donnelly has gathered contrary opinions from a number of legal scholars.

Mrs. Donnelly said she at first supported ERA until she began to carefully research the issue several years ago. "The more people know about ERA, the more they oppose it," she said.

Mrs. Donnelly, the mother of two daughters, said she considers her work against ERA an extension of her responsibility as a mother.

News Around Northville

Valerie Smith, a Northville resident and art student at University of Michigan, will give a talk-demonstration on "Indian Bead Weaving" at the June meeting of Northville Handweavers Guild.

It will be held at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the Mill Race Village library.

Miss Smith has studied American Indian weaving extensively and will be demonstrating the type of strip bead weaving that would be attached to an Indian belt.

The speaker also has created and repaired Indian costumes authentically.

The meeting is open to the public.

Pam Korody, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Korody of 19560 Meadowbrook Road, Northville, has been accepted as a member of the Livonia Youth Symphony after an audition, it was announced last week.

Mrs. Della Gustaf, who had major surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor Hospital, now is recuperating at her home at 350 Debra Lane. She was hospitalized for five weeks.

Pam, who has just completed ninth grade at Northville High School, last year was a member of the Livonia Junior Orchestra. A clarinetist, she will be among the younger members of the Youth Symphony, which accepts students in 10th through 12th grades.

Mrs. Harvey Smith was elected president of the Base Line chapter of Questers at the antiques society group's annual meeting in May. It was held at the New Baltimore home of Mrs. Edwin Langtry, a former Northville resident.

Mrs. George Miller will be trip chairman and second vice president. Other officers are Mrs. William Borgman, first vice president; Miss Betty LeMaster, treasurer; Mrs. Irma Kellogg, recording secretary; and Mrs. John Miller, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Robert Greig is historian.

Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Bruce Roy will be co-chairmen of a major fall project, hosting the meeting September 29 of Past State Presidents of Michigan Questers at the Mill Race Village.

Two Northville artists will be among those featured in an outdoor art show being held from noon to 5 p.m. this Saturday, June 12, on the lawn of the Old Village Gallery at 383 Starkweather in Plymouth.

Caroline Dunphy and Cuyler McCutchan will have their watercolors on view.

Extension of the deadline for making application for annual Northville Town Hall awards to area charities is announced by Mrs. Arthur Palarchio, chairman.

It was extended from June 1 to June 10, she explains, as some groups in outlying areas which support the Northville Town Hall program were not aware of the time limitation to apply for monies.

Town hall shares half of its profits with the communities that support it and has in excess of $3,000 to distribute, Mrs. Palarchio states, after a "most successful year."

The other half of its profit is given to the sponsoring Our Lady of Victory Church.

In the past awards have been made to King's Daughter projects, Novi library, women's resource center at Schoolcraft, Big Sisters of South Lyon. Application should be made immediately, Mrs. Palarchio requests, by any organization wishing funds, to Northville Township Hall Board of Awards, Box 93, Northville

8 Vie Monday In School Races

More interest has emerged in this year's Novi school board race than any in a long time as eight candidates have filed for three vacancies while a write-in campaign is underway for a ninth candidate. That interest will come to a head Monday as voters to the polls.

The showing is in sharp contrast to last year's school board elections when Joel Colliau and Gilbert Henderson retained their seats with respective vote totals of 32 and 31. They were unopposed.

This year seven candidates have filed for two four-year terms while only one candidate filed for the three-year vacancy, only to see a write-in campaign emerge for a second candidate.

Filing for the three-year seat was Ruth Waldenmayer, 40677 Ten Mile. Also seeking the seat on the basis of a write-in campaign in Richard Bureau, 23624 Willowbrook. They are both seeking the seat which had been held for the last six months by Terry Jolly who replaced Henderson when he was elected mayor.

Jolly, of 22557 Brook Forest, filed for the four year terms. Those terms had been previously held by LaVerne DeWaard and Ray Warren, both of whom decided to step down.

Besides Jolly, filing for the four-year seat were: Brent Canup, 47201 Glamorgan; Maurice R. Churf, 25320 Beck Road; Russell J. Fertitta, 23259 Ennshore; John R. Milam, 23675 Stonehenge; Raymond A. Murphy, 22616 Heatherbrae; and Lawrence W. Smith, 26950 Taft Road.

All voters in the Novi School District will cast their votes at the Novi Community Building on Noyi Road north of Grand River. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Rounding out pre-election activity will be a League of Women Voters' candidates night scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Middle School Library. All candidates have been invited.

In addition, biographies of candidates plus their answers to questions posed by the League of Women Voters are carried in this issue of the Novi News on page 9-A.

Combines Treasurer, Controller Offices

Council Creates Finance Department

GRADUATION'S HERE — Novi Class President Bob Sasena (right) gives exchange student from Belgium John Verhulst a lesson in how to move the tassel during graduation ceremonies. Verhulst, a graduate in his home country from St. Jan Berchmans College near Antwerp before he came to the United States last year, has found the United States educational system much different — starting with the fact that Belgium high schools are all girl or all boy. He plans to go back to Antwerp this summer and after attending a university there will come back to the United States for graduate work in chemistry and business administration. Graduation exercises in Novi were held Tuesday night.

In a major change to the structure of Novi city government, Novi City Council Monday night approved consolidation of the treasurer's office and controller's office into a single finance department effective July 1.

The change adds the title of treasurer to Finance Director Fred Todd. Meanwhile, former Treasurer Evelyn Natzel became assistant treasurer while former controller Frances Loynes will later be changed, by ordinance, to accounting supervisor.

In making the presentation to the council Monday night, Todd emphasized that the change in titles for Mrs. Natzel and Mrs. Loynes is not a demotion as they will continue to have basically the same duties and with an increase in pay which was approved later in the evening by council.

Apparently the decision to change the structure has been considered by the city council for at least a month and, according to Todd, final decision was made last week in executive session.

Todd told The Novi News that the change is intended to streamline the financial operation of the city and provide tighter controls over city monies.

Specifically, Todd said that it would improve the financial end of the city as relates to issuance of warrants of distraint allowing the city to confiscate items on which personal property tax is delinquent.

"As finance director I could not participate actively," said Todd. "I was more or less a coach because I didn't have any legal authority to effect collection."

Todd added that when problems arise in the collection, he can personally take a hand in confiscating the equipment. Besides that, Todd said that the workload is increasing and there has not been added staff to take care of the increase. He said that he will be able to help out.

Todd added that as a result of being able to take a hand in confiscating equipment, he as finance director treasurer will also be able to get a treasurer's bond which provides monetary protection if suit is brought forth against the city during confiscation of equipment because of delinquent property taxes.

In addition, Todd said he will be able to sign funds-on-hands certificates for bonding which are required by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission as proof that the city has enough funds on hand to finish a project when it seeks permission to sell bonds.

Previously the bond council had advised the city on such matters, but Todd said the city should be reviewing the matters themselves and be advising the bond council instead.

"We're reversing the flow of information," said Todd.

Summing up, Todd added, "We're trying to make one working unit. To do that we're changing some job titles."

According to Todd, there is no change in the duties of the city controller.

"The only change there is the name of the job — accounting supervisor. It's a more descriptive title of her function," said Todd.

Building Fees Hiked in Wixom

The cost of building permits and accompanying fees will be more expensive to the builder and homeowner in Wixom since the passage of an amendment to the building ordinance.

By a five to one vote, the Wixom City Council at its last meeting raised the costs of permits in all areas of the building department. That vote came after pointed questioning by council members.

Building official William Tyler told council he had surveyed at least six other communities before revising the fee schedule.

He added that even by increasing the fees, the costs of building in Wixom were still lower than those of the areas contacted. One major change occurred in costs for a minimum building permit. A $10 hike was instituted in that area with the fee now set at $15.

Charges for both residential and industrial building are set on valuation based on a cost of $10 per square foot. Councilman Melvin Green questioned if both permits should cost the same. He said he "automatically figured

174 Grads Complete Exercises

Novi High School awarded 174 diplomas to its 1976 graduates last night in commencement ceremonies at the stadium.

Addressing their classmates were Kathy Ossian, valedictorian, and David Seidel, salutatorian.

The song "Mahogany" was sung by Carol Rosey, Asako Tokuhiko, Matt Bumann, and Ken Snew, accompanied by Denise Stipp. The song was chosen by the class, said Principal Dr. Helen Ditzhazy, because the words were meaningful to them.

A Baccalaureate service Sunday in the gymnasium was attended by about 100 seniors. Terrance Prisk, assistant director of youth ministry at Ward United Presbyterian Church in Livonia, was the speaker.

Father Leslie F. Harding of Holy Cross Episcopal Church in Novi offered the Baccalaureate invocation and benediction.

School Renews Land Option

Novi School Board has given its stamp of approval to a land purchase option agreement with the City of Novi on land which is intended to be used eventually as the site of a municipal center.

However, board members continued to voice dissatisfaction over the city's failure to take advantage of the offer, which has been open several years.

Joel Colliau, in making an original motion to keep the option to purchase the over 60 acres of property open at Taft and 10 Mile said, "If the city has no intention of doing anything with it at the end of two and a half years, I think we should move to sell or use it for other purposes."

Added member LaVerne DeWaard, a long opponent of the option agreement, "I don't know why this school district should be tied up when another governmental body is not moving."

The school board, after discussion, approved 5-1 keeping the option open until June of 1978 for a $1 cost. If the city should exercise the option, it would pay $4,397.06 per acre.

DeWaard received no support when he moved to require the city to pay $10,000 to keep the option open. An attempt by DeWaard to lower the option length to one and a half years also failed.

"I think the city is in a new ballgame," said member Robert Wilkins referring to the new city council. Wilkins indicated that the original intent was to use the property for the municipal complex and said that he wanted everything possible done to see fruition of the plans.

The agreement includes a compromise portion regarding the architectural style of buildings which could be built by the city on the property if it exercised its option. The school district originally had sought to have a yes-no say over any buildings. The city council, however, questioned that. After exploring the possibility of a negative declaration where the school district would say in the option what could not be constructed, a new proposal was submitted to the school avoided cannot be continued much longer." According to Kriewall, planning of the construction could take less than a year, with actual construction taking an additional year. He expects to see construction of a police station and city hall which would be attached but separate. Also, Kriewall anticipates a community building to replace the one at Novi Elementary which will be lost when that structure is sold.

While city councilmen unanimously agreed that they would like to see the land purchased within two years, the big question in all minds was one of money. Sale of the current buildings owned by the buildings.

City Officials Express Hope For Municipal Complex Action

With the Novi School Board approving extension of the land purchase option at the proposed municipal center site at 10 Mile and Taft roads, Novi city councilmen and officials are almost unanimous in their hopes that the city will be able to take action before the option runs out in two years.

"I feel we will be taking action within two years," said City Manager Edward Kriewall "because even with the added use of the old library, we have no space available to hire anyone else."

"Further, the police station is inadequate as an efficient facility to serve the community. Facility overcrowding breeds inefficiency. With the immense growth of the community, staff additions that have been

CLASSROOM FIRE—Firemen investigate damage done to a portable classroom behind Novi High School Monday night in what the fire department calls suspected arson. Four fires were reportedly started in the structure and caused about $500 damage before being extinguished by a custodian with later assistance from both stations of the Novi Fire Department. One custodian reported seeing two youngsters running near the site and, according to Fire Chief Duane Bell, chased them in a car but was unable to stop them. A window at the structure was apparently broken to gain entry. Police are investigating.

Ten Area Students Head for Girls State

THEY'RE DELEGATES — Ten girls from Northville and Novi will be leaving this Saturday to attend the 1976 American Legion Auxiliary Girls State June 12-20 at Olivet College. From left, front, are Margaret Renaud, sponsored by Northville Business and Professional Women jointly with Northville Women's Club; Denise Paquette, Vicete Tool and Engineering, Novi; Peggy Sitarski, by her father, Walter Sitarski, Northville; second row, Laurie Day, Northville Mothers' Club; Michelle Caudell, Novi Rotary; Terri Bogues, City of Novi; Patty Pohlman, Novi, American Legion Auxiliary Unit 147; Jennifer Roethel, Northwest Detroit American Legion Auxiliary Unit 190; Cathy Foust, Northville, North Central Engineering; Cheryl Pohlman, local chairman for Girls State.

Mary Kovar, sponsored by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary, was not present when the picture was taken.

For nine days, beginning this Saturday, 10 Northville and Novi girls who will be high school seniors in the fall, will be among 500 girls from throughout the state attending Girls State at Olivet College. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, the girls will study government by taking political roles, forming governmental units, electing their own delegates at city, county and state levels to form a model state.

Nine girls are being sent to the college campus at Olivet through the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit 147.

The tenth, Jennifer Roethel, is sponsored by the Northwest Detroit American Legion Auxiliary Unit 190, the auxiliary to which her mother, Mrs. John Roethel, belongs.

Mrs. Roethel in 1975 was named director of the national Girls Nation. This is held at the American University in Washington, D.C., with delegates named from each Girls State to attend.

Miss Cheryl Pohlman, who attended the Michigan Girls State herself as a delegate two years ago, was in charge of arrangements for Northville Auxiliary Unit 147 of the American Legion to send five girls from Novi and four from Northville to the program.

The girls were recommended by counseling staffs of their respective high schools.

Miss Pohlman explains that those attending are chosen by their financial sponsors in their communities from the counseling lists. Sponsoring clubs and businesses paid $85 for each participant this year.

The girls are high school juniors who are expected to be able to put into use the knowledge gained at Girls State.

Northville girls and their sponsors are Cathy Foust, North Central Engineering; Margaret Renaud, sponsored jointly by Northville Woman's Club and Northville Business and Professional Women; Laurie Day, Northville Mothers' Club; and Peggy Sitarski, Walter Sitarski.

Novi Officials Hopeful Of Action on Complex

city including the community building, police department and interim city hall according to Kriewall could provide as high as 30 percent of the total project cost. He added that several grant vehicles may be available for funding of construction costs.

While those methods of funding are available, the basic means would be through either a general obligation bonding issue, which would be voted on by residents, or through a building authority which would issue bonds and pay them back either through a millage or by renting to departments within the city and drawing money from the general fund, said Kriewall. He did not indicate if the city could realistically expect to pay for it from the general fund.

"It would be my hope to exercise it (the option agreement) within two years," commented Mayor Gilbert Henderson. "Our initial problem is purchasing the site. How soon we can act is unknown."

According to veteran council member Romaine Roethel who has been on the council since the inception of the municipal complex idea around 1973, "I think the new finance director should come up with a feasible plan for funding within a year."

She added that she could not support a building authority that could sell bonds without going to the people for approval.

"If our revenue sharing and CETA monies continue, along with growth, we should be able to budget a certain number of dollars to be put aside toward the project. At least it would be a start in the right direction."

Mrs. Roethel said she supports the concept.

"The operation is inefficient because we're not all under one roof. I can't imagine a city of 25,000 people (within five years) without a city complex," she summed up.

Councilman Philip Goodman, the sole other council member to be around when the concept was originally agreed upon between the city and the school, said, "I feel it's important for the city to prepare for the city complex at that location — the sooner the better."

"If we can do it in the next year-and-a-half, we should before construction costs get out of sight."

Council member Patricia Karevich said, "We're going to have to do something. But I don't think we can financially take care of it now. I wouldn't even touch it-for awhile."

Responding to criticism that the city has not taken action previously, Mrs. Karevich said, "I understand when they (the Novi School Board) went to buy the property, they knew the city could not afford it. If they thought we could go in and buy the property off them, they were dreaming."

Added Councilman James Shaw, "We should be taking every action possible to make a purchase agreement. I don't think we will ever see a better opportunity price-wise for land."

Shaw added that if the city is unable to consummate the deal within two years that he hoped the school board would not pull back the option agreement.

Councilman Robert Schmid commented that the municipal complex idea is "great", and "that would be a good spot" at 20 Mile and Taft.

"I personally don't see how we can afford to buy it in the next few years," he added. Schmid said that at this time he does not believe the council should go back to the voters for bonding approval.

"We're committing ourselves to one whale of a lot of bonding over the past few years. We're committed to a lot of money based on growth."

Schmid said, however, that he favors looking into grants to help out the eventual purchase. Schmid added that he would like a committee formed of members of the community to look into the feasibility of the project and what should be placed on the property. He pointed out that he would rather have committee members from the community determine the need for the project when the city council decides whether to go to the voters.

Mayor pro-tem Martha Hoyer echoed the comments of many of the council members.

"I would like to see a complex built and all offices under one roof. The question is money."

Mrs. Hoyer said that she would favor a vote of the people strictly on municipal office money.

"I really don't think we'd get the millage unless it's specifically for a set item," she said. She also wanted grants explored.

Mrs. Hoyer added that with a municipal complex, she believes the city could eventually end up saving some monies.

"We have secretaries in each building who could be floating around if they were under one roof," she explained. "I see savings in every department, I think we could run more efficiently."

According to Kriewall, the next step is to establish a needs assessment committee.

"When we establish the committee, we will give them the parameters of what we're looking for in the way of guidelines — locations, sizes, needs."

Kriewall added that the committee would suggest approximate locations for buildings in the municipal complex area.

'Waylaid Hummer'

Former Novi Councilman Denis Berry found this injured hummingbird hopping around his yard one day last week, unable to use one of its wings. After diligent searching to find a home for the bird, Berry succeeded in getting the Nankin Mills Nature Center on Edward Hines Parkway to give the bird a home until it recovers. Before turning the bird over, Berry showed it to Orchard Hills students who were quite fascinated by it.

Leaders of the troop are Jackie Ball, Sandy Walter and Phyllis Calhoun.

Township Clerk Attends Conference

Clarice Sass, Northville Township clerk, better understands the workings of government, she says, after attending a four-day legislative conference in Washington last month.

The conference was sponsored by U.S. Representative William Ford (D), and was attended by 120 clerks from his congressional district.

The clerks heard a number of speakers from federal agencies discuss local issues in terms of revenue sharing and other federal grants.

Mrs. Sass paid her own way to the conference.

She will give a complete report of her trip at the township board meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the township hall.

In Uniform

Private First Class Thomas C. Johnson, home on furlough, was recently decorated with the Army's Commendation Medal for exceptionally meritorious achievement during the period of August 18 to September 4, 1975.

Serving as a Medical Aidman attached to Company A, Second Battalion Airborne, 505th Infantry, Johnson in the course of a single evening treated 45 cases of jungle-related diseases to include two serious machete wounds and heat casualty during his highly successful completion of the Jungle Operations Training Course.

Johnson enlisted in the U.S. Army Paratroops in January, 1975. He finished his paramedic training after jump school while stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Johnson also received the Colonel's orderly citation.

Prior to Johnson's enlistment in the Army he attended the University of Michigan and was enrolled in the Pre-Medical course.

Johnson was a 1973 graduate of Northville High School, and was a varsity wrestler and football player. While attending Northville High, Johnson won the national science award for construction of a laser beam and was awarded the sportsmanship trophy in football.

Johnson's parents are both teachers and reside in Northville Township. Thomas E. Johnson teaches social studies at Northville High School and his wife Elaine teaches in Plymouth.

Upon completion of his tour of duty with the paratroopers, Johnson intends to enroll at Michigan State University and is hopeful of becoming a physician or a medical officer in the Army.

community's purchased capacity is being ignored by the Wayne County Road Department which has jurisdiction over the Rouge interceptor.

Meyor Allen has charged that the county road department has not adequately safeguarded use of the interceptor and is no longer able to guarantee Northville its purchased future use in the system.

Thus, if the DNR should order a building moratorium, as happened years ago, Northville is likely to be included along with communities that did not provide for additional development, he warned.

Allen suggested Northville consider an injunction to prevent construction of a second sewage treatment plant in Novi where one already exists in the Walled Lake area.

Councilman Stanley Johnston, who shared concerns with other council members over the DNR's position, suggested the manager investigate whether or not Novi has indeed launched initial steps for a new sewage treatment plant.

OK Membership

Novi School Board has approved continuing its membership in the Michigan Association of School Boards for the new school year.

Cost of membership is $994, an increase of $199 which is based on a sliding scale using the size of the school district student population. Approximately $100 of that fee will be returned to the County intermediate school district, according to member LaVerne DeWaard.

City Sends Appeal Back to Plan Board

An appeal to council of a site plan denial by the planning commission has been returned to planners to work out a compromise solution.

Meanwhile, the Northville council adjourned the appeals hearing, pending possible settlement of a disagreement between the planning commission and Dennis Rouge over the latter's plan for development of an apartment complex on the east side of Taft Road north of Eight Mile Road.

Major objections by planners concerned two driveways to the development from Taft Road.

Council took the position that it could not intelligently decide the case without additional information. Members did, however, vote support of a compromise that would provide that one of the drives be limited to one-way in traffic and the second retain its two-way pattern.

Planning Chairman J. Burton DeRusha and Roux, both present at Monday's appeal hearing, supported this compromise.

However, Roux pointed out that his appeal covered both site plan and architectural plan review since the planning commission had not differentiated between the two in making its denial.

Concerning the planned drives, investigation by the police and fire departments disclosed no particular safety hazard, and in fact the departments found the two-drive proposal advantageous for emergency uses.

On the other hand, DeRusha pointed to statute guidelines that suggested sight distances of motorists traveling on Taft near the drives would be less than desirable and that one of the drives would be too close to a drive on the opposite side of the street in the Thompson-

Brown development.

Roux told council members he was forced to appeal the planners' denial because no opportunity was given for compromise. Furthermore, he voiced strong objection to the planning consultant, Ronald Nino, who had advised him (Roux, a builder) to get a professional architect to draw his plans since his were not satisfactory.

He emphasized that his chief complaint was against the consultant, not the planning commission members.

Parish Honors Sister Therese

Sister Jeannine Therese, a first-grader teacher at our Lady of Victory School, was honored by her parish and her class on her Silver Jubilee of Religious Profession as an Adrian Dominican.

A liturgy at Our Lady of Victory Church on Pentecost Sunday (June 6) was followed by a reception in her honor at the school. In charge of Sunday's reception was Mrs. Maude Huff, president of Our Lady's League. Members of the League served as hostesses.

Among many guests at the reception was Mrs. Gladys Off, the nun's sister.

Prior to the celebration Sunday, Sister Jeannine's first graders, aided by their mothers, planned a surprise for their teacher.

Principal Philip Schwartz also presented the Sister with a gift from the school. Sister Jeannine Therese has been an OLV teacher for 10 years.

Sunday's events were recorded on film and tape so that the Sister's brothers Kenneth and Frank McGorray could share in Jubilee Day, even though they were unable to be present.

Watch Out Swimmers

Northville Township police were given "teeth" to curb noisy, boisterous swimming parties that have caused resident complaints at community pools last week.

An ordinance was approved at a special meeting June 2 by the trustees making it possible for police to ticket anyone in the water without permission of the owner, who must be present or have given written permission to the swimmer.

Supervisor Betty Lennox indicated the police request came as a result of problems in policing activities of young people at Highland Lakes. The ordinance will take effect July 10.

Health AARP Topic

Novi and Farmington members of the AARP Chapter will hear a health-related program at their meeting at 1:30 p.m. June 18 in the Farmington library on 12 Mile Road.

Frank Ryan, national implementation program specialist of AARP, will be in Plans are underway for a splash party-potluck picnic to be held July 16 at the indoor pool of Chatham Hills apartments on Grand River.

Township Minutes

Northville Township Board of Trustees Special Meeting June 1, 1976 8 p.m.

Present: Supervisor Lennox, Clerk Sass, Treasurer Rosenberg, Trustees: Mitchell, Swienckowski, Nowka, MacDonald.

The meeting was opened with the Pledge to the Flag. Status of Millage Study by Citizens' Committee.

Mrs. Rubenstein, Chairman of the Citizens' Committee, said that the Study Committee was split into three sub-committees. Police, Recreation and Library. Mike Wilson submitted the police report to the board. He recommended that a standing committee-police commission be formed so that the police department could be taken out of the political arena.

Their recommendation was one mill. Mr. Jim Terrace presented a resolution from the Recreation Study Committee. Committee recommends that the voters should be allowed to decide upon a 0.5 mill tax for the purpose of funding a recreation program — however the committee cannot recommend adoption of this 0.5 mill tax by the voters. Library Mrs. Rubenstein reported that the committee felt the 0.5 mill request was conservative and they concurred with it. Special Board Meeting was set for Tuesday, June 8 at 8 p.m. to study the millage proposal.

Moved and supported that the township accept a warranty deed from Thompson Brown for approximately 7 acres without a reverter clause and without the approval of grades and grading plan clause with a 60 foot easement for ingress and egress to Six Mile Road, further Mrs. Sass to look into possible Federal Funding to implement preliminary plans for a Township Civic Center previously prepared by Halls, Hamill and Becker associates, of Livonia. Motion carried. Robert Lupini—Lot Split.

Mrs. Ann Willis read a statement signed by residents of the Docksey Subdivision. Moved by MacDonald, supported by Nowka to reconsider the Lupini lot split. Motion carried.

Moved and supported to accept the recommendation of the Planning Commission and to deny the Lupini lot split. Motion carried.

Swimming Ordinance. (Regulations) Moved and supported to adopt the Ordinance, as presented by Mr. Morgan, relative to swimming regulations. Effective 30 days after publication.

Resignation from John Unger, Board of Appeals.

Moved and supported to accept the letter of resignation from John Unger, as a member of the Board of Appeals. Solar Energy Plan.

A request received from the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, to rezone 300+ acres in the NW ¼ Section 11 and SW ¼ Sec. 11, from R-2 (Residential) to RD (Research & Development), land being considered for the Solar Energy Research Institute. Discussion was on the request to forego rezoning fees, except those for publishing, engineering, consultant and attorney fees. The township board felt that the benefits to the township would include substantial employment, adding to the area's economy. Moved and supported that rezoning fees be waived, except those for publishing, attorney, consulting and engineering fees. Motion carried.

Super Sewer—Resolution Moved and supported to table the Super Sewer Resolution until the next meeting. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 12:10 a.m. Clarice Sass, Clerk.

Bicentennial Flower Garden

Winchester students celebrated our Bicentennial with the planting of a 13 star flag in red, white, and blue petunias. The flag (26 feet x 13 feet) in dimension is resting on a berm which is 18 inches at its highest point. The design was submitted by Elaine La'Rou (left)—a third grader at the school. Other designs submitted by Mike Leavitt (right), grade 4; and Matt Murphy (center), grade 3, were given honorable mention. The project took 10 flats of petunias, 14 yards of top soil, two yards of mulch, and a great deal of help (including time, equipment, and supplies) from many local businessmen. The student council wishes to nominate the following companies for the good neighbor award: Northfield Construction, Kocian Excavating, Green Ridge Nursery, and Billis Greenhouse. Hopefully in a month or so the flower bed will be in full bloom and a spectacular sight to behold.

She Attends Madonna Orientation

Mary Ann Pilarz of Northville attended a new student orientation at Madonna College, recently.

Madonna's academic dean, who described requirements for completion of associate and bachelor's degrees and introduced other members of the administration. They also had an opportunity to meet with departmental advisors and register for classes to begin in September. Madonna is a coeducational liberal arts college with an enrollment of about two thousand students.

problem becomes; people moved here to be able to have their children attend neighboring schools; long range planning for its opening should be started, and shorter range plans for its interim use are important.

Terrasi — has made a 180-degree turn on this issue, and now favors the opening of this school for neighborhood students.

Lemon — short range leasing of building will give citizens committee time to study its future use; then when it becomes economically and educational sound for classroom use it should be used as soon as possible.

Johnson — neighborhood schools, especially for small children, are essential; busing of young children is unhealthy educationally, and the school should be opened so that this busing can stop.

Hancock — in very near future, additional classrooms will be needed; use of this school should be phased in for classroom purpose as the need arises.

Benstein — supports opening of the school, but insists that students there be given equal opportunity; since it is generally agreed neighborhood elementary schools are desirable it should be so used, meanwhile leasing is a good alternative.

On ESY:
 Benstein — benefits certain children, his included; evaluation of its economy is essential so that an intelligent decision can be made; two programs cannot be sustained if facts suggest otherwise.

Johnson — at present, ESY at the high school requires more dollars per child than regular program, and benefits there as reflected by numbers involved suggest to him that it should either be mandated or dropped; more interest is shown by students in ESY at the middle school and elementary levels, and he finds it more plausible there, though more study is needed.

Lemon — CAC committee did not, as was suggested, recommend against ESY; on the contrary, the committee survey showed that 53-percent of the people favored it, 23-percent opposed it, and 18-percent had no opinion.

Lewis — At the moment, in the wake of voters' recent millage approval, there is nothing to indicate that citizens want to abandon ESY; but long range periodic review of its value is needed; shift of ninth graders from the high school requires a new look at ESY in the high school now.

Sliger — has taught ESY and found it educationally sound at the elementary level where the program is selling itself; it should be retained on a voluntary basis; number of participants at the high school is lacking and therefore course offerings are limited, suggesting that review of its value there is needed.

Terrasi — As long as the public desires it, ESY should be retained; but should the community decide it is not economically sound the program should be dropped.

Hancock — supports ESY at the elementary level, but a study of making it a mandated program is needed; at the high school level, insufficient interest has been shown to reflect quality education.

On 3-year contract for superintendent:

Terrasi — that it did not carry a unanimous vote to reflect board approval of his performance bothers him.

Sliger — believes contract board decision reflects somewhat the community feeling, but doubts if board appraisal of the superintendent's performance truly reflects public opinion.

Lewis — opposes 3-year contract; the community does not give the superintendent the high marks given him by the board; community cannot afford luxury of multi-year contracts of this kind.

Lemon — most districts have 3-year contracts, and therefore board decision was not unusual; personally, he would have preferred a two-year contract.

Johnson — regardless of position of other districts, Northville need not and should not look to what others are doing, but rather set its own standards in contractual matters; accountability, annually, must be primary objective.

Hancock — does not feel 3-year contract is necessary; prefers two-year contract.

Benstein — 3-year contract bothers him because of the "rumble" in the community; and he wonders if indeed evaluation of superintendent was genuine or a public relations gesture by the board.

Motorcyclists Injured in Northville Township Crash

In Township...

Catherine and John Stilson of Welch Street, Northville, remain hospitalized following a motorcycle-car crash at Six Mile and Northville Road Saturday night. Stilson was reported in poor condition while his wife was listed in fair condition by hospital authorities.

The Stilson's were on a motorcycle northbound on Northville Road. They were struck broadside by a car driven by 19-year-old Robert Squire of Livonia as he was thought to have attempted to make a left turn onto Six Mile.

The limbs of the Stilson couple were apparently caught between the car and cycle at impact. Stilson's foot and several fingers were severed, while his wife suffered a severely lacerated foot and other injuries.

The couple were thrown at least 15 feet by the impact of the crash. Squire and his passenger received only possible minor injuries.

Charges on Squire are pending completion of police investigation

A two car accident at Six Mile and Beck Roads claimed the life of a Livonia youth Wednesday. Pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital was 18-year-old Matthew DuFresne.

DuFresne was a passenger in a car driven by Michael Turpin of Detroit. Turpin was suffering from shock and a laceration of the forearm following the accident.

According to police reports, a car driven by 19-year-old Edward Brown of Ann Arbor north bound on Beck Road, failed to heed the stop sign at Six Mile and ran broadside into the Turpin car. Charges against Brown will be made pending further investigation by Michigan State Police.

The breaking and entering of a home in the 15000 area of Lakeside Friday netted thieves some $2845 in valuables.

Rooms on both floors of the house had been rifled with furniture disarranged, drawers pulled out and items thrown about the room. Women's and men's jewelry, a 16 mm projector and an AM-FM radio were taken.

A sterling silver coffee pot and eight piece set of gold plated silverware were found outside the house on a picnic table.

A female inmate of the Detroit House of Correction was charged with larceny of $122 from the accounts of other DeHoCo inmates.

The inmate, employed in the commissary and resident store, was able to place catalogue orders for other inmates. Apparently she substituted her name on orders made by others with the monies deducted from their accounts.

The woman was placed on bond pending further investigation by Michigan State Police.

In a three-day period, three women prisoners of DeHoCo escaped custody. On June 2 a prisoner, escaped while a patient at Wayne County General Hospital. She was last seen wearing a pink gown, blue and white striped robe with a white towel wrapped around her head.

The following day an inmate serving additional time for a prior escape and an original sentence for manslaughter, again escaped from the facility.

The third escape occurred June 4. That prisoner was reported missing at 10:30 a.m. The woman was last seen wearing a blue and white blouse and blue jeans.

The body of a woman found in a creek in Northville Township two weeks ago was identified by Detective Sergeant Harry Reed of the Michigan State Police Crime Lab as a January escapee from DeHoCo.

Identification was made through the woman's fingerprints.

In Northville...

A 16-year-old Northville youth was critically injured Saturday when he either fell or jumped from the walk-over bridge adjacent to diamond Number 2 on Seven Mile Road. Police declined to divulge the name of the youth. The youth sustained a broken neck, fractured skull and broken shoulder following the 20 foot fall into the rocky creek bed below. Northville city police found the youth unconscious lying in 1 1/4 feet of water.

It was pedestrian versus the motorcycle in an accident at Eight Mile and Grace Street May 28, with the cyclist on the losing end.

The motorcycle driver, Sherri Sackett of Westland was found lying in the middle of the street in a semi-conscious state. She was transferred to St. Mary Hospital. The young pedestrian involved received only minor injuries.

A storage house behind a residence on Summerside was broken into sometime between 6:30 p.m. June 2 and 3:30 p.m. June 3. A riding lawn mower and other gardening equipment valued at $840 were taken.

Air was released from the brake systems on approximately 20 railroad cars parked near the Northville overpass last Tuesday. The handbrake on another car was also released causing the car to run down the track and derail.

Northville police were advised by a railroad detective that the persons involved apparently had railroad knowledge. The detective further stated that had the car not derailed it would have rolled onto the main track and could have possibly caused a serious accident.

The forcible entry into a gas station on Eight Mile Road netted thieves an estimated $2,236 in equipment and tools. The incident occurred between 10 p.m. June 2 and 5 a.m. June 3.

A window in the garage area was broken with the metal bars on the inside bent to allow entry.

An FM stereo-car radio was taken from an unlocked vehicle parked near the Griswold gravel pit Sunday afternoon. The radio was valued at $175.

A tape player and assorted tapes were removed from an apparently unlocked truck parked behind Stone's Decorating Center. The exact time of the theft was unknown since the truck was parked waiting for repairs.

Value of the loss was estimated at $190.

In Novi...

Four Novi men were taken into custody June 2 after allegedly being involved in malicious destruction of property to Novi Middle School portable classrooms to the tune of over $100.

Arrested in the incident were: Martin Schultz, 17, of 22849 Redford; David Brennan, 17, of 24617 Old Orchard; Leon Blackburn Jr., 18, of 23705 East LeBost and Reginal Caskey of 23624 Willowbrook.

According to police reports, eight sets of wooden and metal steps leading to the classrooms were overturned and some broken. One classroom window was broken and several large garbage cans from the loading dock behind the school overturned.

A custodian on duty observed the boys fleeing in a car after he investigated noises. He provided police the license number of the getaway car.

A 7 1/2 horsepower Johnson boat motor valued at $250 was taken June 2-4 from a shed behind a home in the 1500 area of West Lake Drive. A small link chain was cut to gain entry.

Vandals destroyed seven gas lamps valued at $200 in the Meadowbrook Lake park sometime before June 4, according to police reports. Railings from a foot bridge were also broken off causing $100 damage.

A truck parked at D&Z Standard on Grand River at Novi Road was broken into June 2-3 and a digger, as well as various tools valued at over $100 taken. Padlocks and press locks were pried open to enter the truck. Other vehicles were also reportedly broken into but nothing was missing.

Two motorcycles were taken June 1 from a garage in the area of 41000 Borchart. One of the motorcycles was subsequently recovered June 6 in a field south of Orchard Hills subdivision and west of Meadowbrook Road. There was slight damage to the vehicle.

Council Considers Vandalism Patrol

A suggestion that a citizens surveillance patrol be established in the city to help combat vandalism has been taken under advisement by the Northville City Council.

The matter was referred to a council committee including Stanley Johnson and Wallace Nichols, which is exploring with high school students a proposal to beef up the city's curfew ordinance.

Richard Bohn made the patrol suggestion at Monday's council meeting, pointing out that other communities, such as Birmingham, have met with success in such programs of volunteer help.

Purpose of the patrol would be to report to police any suspicious acts of possible vandalism. Bohn expressed the opinion that such a patrol would be a preferred alternative to change in the curfew ordinance.

City Attorney Philip

June 1 a citizens band radio was taken from a vehicle parked in the area of 22500 Chestnut Tree Way. A window was broken to gain entry causing $75 damage. The radio was valued at $114.

Paul Prescott, 20, of 3301 George St. in Wixom received an incapacitating injury May 26 at 3:50 a.m. He reportedly drove off the road on East Lake Drive and hit six mailboxes. The car traveled 124 feet before striking a tree. Prescott, who was taken to Botsford Hospital, was issued a violation for improper lane usage.

In Wixom...

Three Ford Torino automobiles were the mark of thieves in attempted larcenies in the Ford Motor employee parking lot Thursday. The thieves finally scored on the third try, all of which occurred sometime after midnight.

In each incident, the locked cars were broken into with the ignition switch broken out. According to reports, nothing else was tampered with in the cars.

Wixom Police investigated three breaking and enterings to the same location during a one week period. On each occasion several pieces of antique furniture and a riding lawn mower were removed.

Police were unable to locate the person who was attempting to steal a water pump from the Highgate-on-the-Lake subdivision May 28. The pump was carried from the area but was dropped as the suspect fled the scene.

A doorwall on a second floor unit of the Indian Lodge Apartment complex was shattered by a pellet or BB. The glass door crystallized on impact. The incident occurred shortly after 11 a.m. Memorial Day.

A 1971 Chevrolet was reported stolen from the Village Apartment parking area sometime between 7 a.m. May 28, and 5 p.m. May

29. A summer resident of Wixom reported her residence broken into with a record player and about 50 records missing. The player itself was very old and carried a value of $200.

Census Takers At Work Here

Fourteen census takers will be knocking on Northville Township residents' doors during the next 10 days compiling statistics in a special census that township officials expect will result in added revenue in 1978.

Francis M. Clark of the U.S. Bureau of Census hired the enumerators last week after administering tests. He also employed Mrs. Ardis McLeod as field chairman.

After a half-day training session the census takers, mostly township residents, began work.

They are Collean Ronayne, Faye Driscoll, Lynne Lane, Robin Couse, Cecily Hayward, Donald Sanregret (Garden City), Janice Hobart, Georganna Kiplinger, Winifred Mitchell, Rosemary-Bustamante, Carrie Konrad, Rosemarie Palachio, Susan Krusinski and Jean Aubrey. Township Supervisor Betty Lennox stated that it had been necessary to call some people who had worked on elections and to hire people who had taken census reports in other communities to get the necessary number.

Editorials...

a page for expressions
...yours and ours

Mrs. Marjorie Sliger
18439 Fermanagh Court
Northville, Michigan 48167

Dear Candidate Sliger:

As you know, the decision to run for the Northville Board of Education was yours alone. I offered neither encouragement nor opposition.

I have never supported the theory that there are "certain" people who should not run for public office. It is a privilege of citizenship.

I confess, however, that I have struggled with the problem of how to react editorially. I've never had a wife run for public office before.

You know how uptight I get when anyone suggests the press is not objective in its news columns ... and how strongly I uphold the responsibility to express opinions on editorial pages.

You know, perhaps better than anyone, how unbending I am in arguing for the rights of a free press.

Well, believe it or not, I am now confronted by a circumstance where I find myself conceding there's a point at which complete freedom to write what one truly believes is superseded by responsibility.

I have concluded it would be an irresponsible misuse of my position to endorse candidates for the board of education in this particular instance.

But I must warn you. If you should win election to the board, there will be no holds barred. You are fair game, just like any other elected official.

You know how firmly I stand behind our reporters. They are professionals. Their job is to cover meetings accurately and call the shots as they see them. Any reporter worth his or her salt would not have it any other way.

Our coverage of school board affairs ... our editorial support or criticism of-board activities ... will not change, regardless of board membership.

So you're on your own, Old Girl.

Naturally, you have my vote.

But there are many issues where we do not see eye-to-eye, including some school matters.

So if you should be elected, there may be some uncomfortable times around the house.

But we've had 20 happy years together.

And 20 out of 29 isn't bad.

Good Luck.

Elsewhere in this edition there's coverage of all candidates for school board offices in Northville and Novi.

Candidates have responded to questions posed by the League of Women Voters and their statements along with comments made by Northville candidates at a "candidates night" meeting have been reported.

Read their statements, then remember to vote for your favorite candidates next Monday in Northville and Novi.

A proposal to increase the tax levy for Schoolcraft College by .53 mills will appear on next Monday's ballot.

In dollars and cents to the owner of a $20,000 home, that means an annual tax hike of $5.30; for the $40,000 homeowner, the increase would be $10.60.

The explanation isn't intended as a means of pointing out how small the request, but rather to give the taxpayer some idea of what .53 mills means in money.

Obviously, a host of "small hikes" by a variety of tax-supported agencies adds up to a considerable amount at the end of the year.

But, in my opinion, Schoolcraft has done an outstanding job of providing educational facilities for young and old citizens alike in our five-community district.

It has demonstrated its fiscal integrity by outlining a plan for the use of the .53 mills it now seeks. It will be an "all purpose" millage that can be used for both operating and building expenses.

By 1981 the college projects all of the .53 mills, plus the current 1.77 mills, will be needed for operating purposes.

Meanwhile, the college may legally levy an additional millage for building purposes. The amount of this levy is controlled by the valuation of the district.

For 1976, for example, the debt-retirement levy was .36 mills, for a total Schoolcraft tax of 2.13 mills (1.77 plus .36).

Over the next five years Schoolcraft sees its millage needs climbing to a total of 2.99 mills by 1980.

With the passage of the .53 mills added to its 1.77 operating levy, Schoolcraft forecasts a program to meet the growing needs that have seen college enrollment increased by more than 200 per cent in the past 10 years.

The college has, I believe, maintained fiscal controls while performing the important function the community college concept was designed to accomplish.

Vote YES next Monday for the Schoolcraft College tax levy.

GOOD ...

Finally, the United States is going to join the rest of the world. What took so long?

For many decades the metric system has been the standard of measure throughout the world. Every major industrial nation uses metric weights and measures. How simple it is. Every measurement — distance, volume, weight — is graduated by tens.

On the other hand, I think someone took a hat filled with various numbers and picked out a few at random to comprise our present system — 12 inches to one foot, three feet to one yard, 16 ounces to one pound, 5,280 feet to one mile. Confusing isn't it?

Sure it's going to be difficult to switch because most of us are lazy and resist change. But surely it would make it easier for our large and small manufacturers to compete in the highly competitive world market.

Take a company that produces equipment for worldwide distribution as well as in the U.S. Wouldn't it be easier (not to mention cheaper) to produce one standard-size piece rather than two sizes for two separate markets?

To catch up, every child should be taught both systems right from the start with the emphasis on metric. Now is the time. As for teaching the adults — any suggestions?

Speaking for Myself

Metric System?

BAD ...

Although switching to the metric system is sound mathematically, I am not in favor of the change.

It will create monetary and physical hardships on many people.

I am an auto mechanic and have to buy my own tools. I will have to spend over $2,000 to change over to metric tools when the auto companies switch to the new system.

I have also worked in a tool and die shop and know that the cost and time to convert will be out of this world.

It will not be hard to use the new system with the help of conversion tables and it will not take any longer to repair cars.

But changing over will cost everybody, from big business on down.

However, big business will be able to absorb the cost while the independent mechanic or small businessman will have to struggle.

Milam, Murphy, Waldenmayer

Best for Novi Schools

This newspaper supports John Milam and Ray Murphy for the four-year terms and Ruth Waldenmayer for the three-year term on the Novi Board of Education.

Milam, a relative newcomer to the area with only four years' residency in Novi, has impressed us with his sincerity, his inquisitiveness and his intelligence. Though he appears even younger than his 30 years, his maturity became obvious to us in his rigorous questioning by our staffers. His business background should also prove valuable asset to the board.

Ray Murphy's credentials, his proven involvement in city and school related activities, and his prodding demand for candid answers lead us to believe that he will bring to the board a healthy airing of all issues before decision making.

Having been involved with the school district on committees that include the first Needs Assessment Committee and the Fine Arts Advisory Committee, Murphy suggests to us that he will be a positive member and his own boss in matters before the board.

Offends Tradition

To the Editor:

When Mr. Tim Lemon said that it is those "splinter groups" in Northville who cause trouble for the schools he was offending Northville tradition.

When he strongly suggested school millage he was insulting the intelligence of the community.

When Mr. Lemon said that the promises to the CAC (made after the millage), were being carried out, and that things will be better and broader at the high school this fall, he was speaking to an audience which included some teachers and parents who knew otherwise.

And when he was overheard later saying he thinks the board is just fine and the people don't understand the top administration, he displayed his naivete completely, thereby losing all credibility as a candidate for the Northville School Board. Mr. Lemon's statements were made at "Candidate's Night," in the school board room, Wednesday, June 2. Seven candidates for the school board presented themselves to an interested audience. Six of those candidates made what seemed to me to be sincere and thoughtful presentations. The audience was looking for a breath of fresh air; it received it in varying degrees. Unfortunately, the fresh air was accompanied by what appeared to be a faint odor of rubber.

To clarify: The audience included and represented untold numbers of people who can well recall the many "splinter groups" which have served as Board and Administration watchdogs in Northville for years: Effective and responsible participation in this time honored activity has been, is, and will continue to be, an educational and political tradition in this school district.

The audience included and represented innumerable

While this newspaper believes Incumbent Terry Jolly is well qualified to serve on the board, we are concerned about his lackluster performance during the half year he has been a board member. We supported him in his candidacy for district judge, and given the same circumstances we would do so again, but Jolly has failed to demonstrate for us and others the same interest in school matters that he has shown for the law.

Although not endorsing him for election, this newspaper also is impressed with his obvious interest in school matters and the qualifications of Maurice Gerd, who we believe would be a good school board member.

Ruth Waldenmayer is an easy choice over write-in candidate Richard Bureau. On the basis of our interviews, we were far more impressed by Mrs. Waldenmayer. She is intelligent and has been extremely active as a parent in school matters.

We urge Novi residents to vote Monday for John Milam, Ray Murphy and Ruth Waldenmayer.

Northville citizens who have over the years served on many committees of many names. Some of these have been Ad-Board appointed and blessed; others have been publicly organized to function independently while seeking cooperation from the school system. None of these has ever claimed the distinction of having swung a millage.

The Northville electorate has voted thoughtfully, largely on the basis of many sources of information, including data from varied groups, individuals, and this newspaper. Northville voters are good at doing their homework; they expect their Board and Administration to be good at doing their homework. Mr. Lemon shuffled a lot of papers but he failed to do his homework. To show contempt for Northville's tradition of political savvy and by doing so imply that the Ad-Board

HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Dear Jim:

It began, I guess, that night when the nurse smiled and said, "You have a boy, Mr. Hoffman."

"Are you sure?" I had asked in a surprise of doubt. With two tiny girls — the golden haired adventurer who first blessed our home and the dark button-eyed cherub who came along second — I had begun to think you would be a sprig from the same branch. But, no, the nurse assured me, "You have a boy."

Beautiful flower you were not.

All babies are born old — tiny, skinny and wrinkled. And you were as ugly as any. It wasn't until later, well into your first year, when I could see the beginning of a handsome blossom.

We were closest in those first years. You were always in my arms, squeezing my thumbs and snuggling close and laughing when I smothered my face against yours.

That this kind of physical closeness did not persist as you and the other children grew older is my shame. I envy those other fathers for their unabashed show of affection for their children.

In a wink of my eye you were in school. Remember that first day? Mom, as usual, was wet-eyed; Dad, as usual, was hurrying away. That, too, is my regret. Too often I was too preoccupied to savor those precious early moments and, later, to share your important steps through the grades.

I'll bet you won't believe this, but your Dad cried once — and it was for the very sick, nearly unconscious little boy he carried into Sessions Hospital that evening not so many years ago. I stood by your hospital bed and wept real tears because I thought I was going to lose you.

It may have appeared to be anger to you, but I was near tears a few years later when I rushed you to the Northern Michigan hospital with that awful cut on your cheek. But you were back at our camping tent a couple of hours later, laughing and playing, hardly slowed by the fat lip and heavy bandages. Only then could I smile.

And when you wanted to quit school, and you took a few clothes that wintry day and ran away from home, I was literally sick with worry. Then when you returned because no one would pick you up while trying to hitchhike to the Northwest Territory, I was thrilled, relieved and ashamed of myself for not having listened to you.

The camping trips were best for me because we were alone and because we could share your greatest love — God's great wildernesses. Remember the trip into the interior of Algonquin? It will be with me forever.

That you love the outdoors so much and that you are intent in making it a part of whatever pursuit should come your way is my greatest measure of satisfaction. So with your new diploma in hand together with the paper that takes you away to the Army and the wildernesses of Alaska, I am a proud father.

Love, Dad

Let's Change System

To the Editor:

This week the average Northville resident will walk out to his mailbox, remove his copy of the Record, and scan the pages. He will encounter a picture of the girls that will soon be on their way to Girl's State. "Such intelligent, talented girls," he will think to himself, "to be chosen to attend Girl's State. Why, they must be in the top of their high school class. They must have been involved in the school government, they might even be thinking of going into law. What a wonderful experience this will be for them."

Did you know that the method, in Northville, of being chosen for Girl's State is equivalent to having your name drawn out of a hat? Any Junior girl can submit her name. There are no other qualifications necessary. High school activities, community projects, counselor recommendations, student government positions, and grade point average are not considered. The list of girls is forwarded to the various clubs and organizations. If Girl No 1 is the daughter of club president "A", then she will be chosen. If Girl No 2 is the best friend of the daughter of club president "B", the club will sponsor her. Some girls offer to pay their own tuition if the organization will sponsor her in name only.

Please understand that this is not a criticism of the girls that are going to Girl's State, but rather a criticism of the method of choosing the girls in Northville. In other cities, the girls are required to submit a letter stating their qualifications and expressing why they would like to attend Girl's State; this letter is then forwarded to the sponsoring organizations. This way the clubs can choose the girls that they feel are most deserving of a sponsorship. We feel that the above system should be adopted next year.

.53 Millage

To the Editor:

The League of Women Voters is nonpartisan in that it may not support or oppose any political party or any candidate. However, the League is empowered to be partisan about governmental issues chosen for study and action.

The League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi strongly supports the .53 millage increase asked for by Schoolcraft College on the June 14 ballot.

Schoolcraft College offers a fine educational opportunity to many local students. Because of increased costs due to inflation and loss of State appropriations the college finds itself in the position of raising tuition and asking for a millage increase. The millage increase will help replace lost operating funds and provide new facilities and equipment.

Schoolcraft College offers us one of the best returns for our tax dollars. A .53 millage increase is more than a reasonable request. The League urges voters to support the .53 millage increase asked for by Schoolcraft College.

appointed CAC is in any way unique from the groups that preceded it indicates, to me at least, a poor reading of this community. I don't like hearing a candidate say that "splinter groups" are troublesome. I don't like being told that the CAC was the sole influence of my voting behavior. I don't like being told that everything is hunky-dory at the high school when I know otherwise. Mr. Lemon's numbers were out of line. Mr. Lemon's Sheaf of papers was incomplete. Mr. Lemon's perception of the way things should be and the way things are one and the same. He is relatively new to this community; however, some of the other candidates are in that boat yet they were able to perceive the situation clearly. So length of residency is not a factor; a keen sense of the needs and desires of Northville voters, teachers, and students is. Only a neophyte would fail to see the tremendous energy and dedication of this total community toward its school system. That energy takes various forms. It shall continue to do so.

Lysinger Unopposed In Primary

R. M. Lysinger will run unopposed in the August primary for a two-year seat on the Northville Township Board of Trustees, following the withdrawal Friday of Dr. John J. Swienkowski.

Swienkowski and Lysinger had each filed petitions for both the two-year term and a four-year term. Swienkowski withdrew from the two-year race and Lysinger from the four-year race before the deadline for such action June 4.

The action leaves Lysinger as the only candidate — Republican or Democrat — for the two-year seat thereby virtually assuring his election to the board in November.

Other candidates to withdraw from township contests are James A. Pasco, who had filed for supervisor, and Edith D. McKnight, who was a candidate for one of the two four-year trustee slots.

The two-year term results from the death of Township Treasurer Joseph Straub and the subsequent appointment of Trustee Charles Rosenberg to his position. Swienkowski was then appointed to fill Rosenberg's seat on an interim basis until this year's election.

The withdrawals leave Supervisor Betty Lennox facing Wilson C. Grier in the August Republican primary. The clerk's race between Clarice Sass and Rosemary Zillich and the treasurer's contest between Richard Henningson and Constantine Carson remain unchanged.

Two Republican nominees will face the lone Democratic candidate, Margaret A. Cramer, in November for two four-year trustee seats. Republican candidates are Swienkowski, Arthur G. Munzinger, Wesley Rogalski, John R. Unger and Michael L. Wilson.

Precinct Five will vote at the Central Board Offices, 303 West Main. Voters living between Seven Mile and Five Mile Roads, east of Northville Road and west to the school district boundary, including Kings Mill, Edenberry and Shadbrook vote there.

Surprises on Millage

Township Fields Reports

with Fiorelli "wondering what the committee was looking at." Trustee John MacDonald told him to "Sit down" and discussion resumed with the recreation committee report Recreation committee chairman James Terrasi, Jr., read the report prepared by himself, Charles Schaeffer, Jr., and Ronald Cousineau. Pointing out that the township is faced with the problems of providing a wide range of services with limited availability of funding and establishing relative priorities between competing uses of available funds," the report stated the township should allow the voters to decide upon a .5 mill increase for recreation.

"The committee cannot recommend adoption of this .5 mill tax by the voters," concluded the report.

It recommended establishment of a township recreation program separate from that of the city, "basic in nature, under a part-time director...in no case, should the program require funding by a special voted millage."

The report obviously surprised the board. Rosenberg asked if the committee had any figures on how many of the recreation programs are self-supporting and questioned how the township could pay for a part-time director when it now is only paying part of the full-time director's salary.

Terrasi stated that the recreation director was "a very hard man to get a hold of" and that the committee had not been able to meet with him and had difficulty in obtaining figures, not receiving any report until after mid-May.

Trustee James Nowka wondered "if there was anybody on the committee who had a good understanding of how the recreation operates," saying he felt there was a "very basic misunderstanding of essential elements of its budget."

Again, at this point, a noisy exchange with members of the audience ensued briefly as MacDonald questioned the make-up of the committees. He accused two members of being "closely aligned with the police."

Nowka said he feels about 60 percent of the recreation program is self-supporting and that he is "so totally involved in the program that he could sell it easily." He stressed that much of it is operated with volunteer help.

Rosenberg accused the approach of "short circuiting 1,000 kids in the program" Terrasi charged that the board "wanted someone to go along (with its proposals) rather than fact-find."

Gael Terrasi asked the board how it could justify a 59.1 recreation increase. Nowka responded that the community is "not poverty-stricken and can paddle its own canoe" and that a "scrub" program now has been "uplifted into a worthwhile one for children of the community."

Mrs. Dora Rubenstein presented a brief library report, stating her committee had met with representatives of the library commission and felt "an extremely competent job is being done."

Projections, the report said, "were quite conservative and it appeared a half-mill would be sufficient." Mrs. Rubenstein raised the question of how the millage would be placed on the ballot and said that if it were as a lump sum she would like to see amounts specifically pigeonholed and reserved only for the specific use.

Otherwise, she suggested, the increases should be listed separately for voters to vote upon.

MacDonald said he did not think this was the intention of the board as voters "would pick and choose," supporting only their areas of interest.

Eugene Reynders, a member of the audience, objected, saying "I think the electorate should have the right to decide what it wants."

This decision, the board indicated, will be made when amount of millage to be sought is decided.

The board took blame on itself for not giving study committee members better direction or being available to confer with the study groups. Wilson explained that he had "labored under the tremendous pressure" of feeling the board had asked a small group of people its opinion.

Trustee Richard Mitchell pointed out that "right or wrong the committee was selected and in a short time since April had done a job over and above what many would have."

Mrs. Lennox promised that the committee would review the reports and come to conclusions by this week.

The Northville Record / THE NOVI NEWS

The Brighton Argus / THE SOUTH LYON HERALD

Wednesday, June 9, 1976

When Northville held its graduation exercises Tuesday, a photographer for Sliger Home Newspapers was among those graduates to receive a diploma.

She is Sherrill Cannon, an 18-year-old who joined the newspaper staff under the school's cooperative-occupational training program as a 16-year-old junior in October of 1974.

Interviewed by James Galbraith, the newspaper's director of photography, Sherrill was chosen from a number of candidates on the basis of her attitude concerning the field of photography. She felt photography would be an excellent means of expression. Upon starting, she had absolutely no camera experience — and that in itself was a criterion for her selection.

In the two years since she joined the staff, Sherrill has developed photographic skills of which this newspaper is proud. She has become a self-confident, articulate photographer who, despite the pressure of newspapering, has maintained a serious enthusiasm for her work both with the camera and as a technician in the laboratory.

As a culmination of her student work, Sherrill was asked to develop a portfolio of her camera work covering these subjects: Pathos of aging, sports, scenics, general news, and architecture. We offer some of them for readers' enjoyment and as a measure of our pride for this young lady who will remain with the staff.

The attractive new Y.M.C.A. facilities at Snow Mountain Ranch in Granby, Colorado is the destination, the time is June, 1976 and the cast of characters includes 41 youths and 8 adults from the South Lyon and Northville United Methodist congregations.

This modern-day drama opens with the east boarding a chartered bus in South Lyon at 5 p.m., June 18 carrying a load of luggage, an assortment of sports equipment and lots of high expectations of Christian adventure designed to rival or exceed anything they have experienced so far in their young lives.

The group will be spending an exciting week living, learning, and playing in close fellowship with 600 to a 1,000 other Christians under the leadership of Youth Club, Inc., an interdenominational organization for young Christians.

"This is an opportunity for all of us to really grow as Christians," says an enthusiastic Linda Stevens of South Lyon.

Linda and her husband, Rick, are the coordinators for this trip to Colorado and it has been their "baby" since their return from a similar experience last summer.

Last July, they chaperoned nine South Lyon young people on a similar trip to Estes Park, Colorado which was such a "tremendous" experience that they determined to offer this opportunity for Christian fellowship and learning to a much larger group of teens.

"This is our second year and we're looking forward to all kinds of good things," Linda declares. "The kids may be surprised to find that although we may worship in a slightly different manner, the seeds of faith that we learn at home are all very much the same. We all have similar beliefs and we learn to share our Christian values in ways we might never have learned at home."

"There's a strong sense of unity out there. They'll learn some new ways, some new forms of worship but the same traditions that are instilled here will be there too. We just re-establish them.

"Sometimes it may be difficult for high school youths to relate to strangers but out there, they'll do it and enjoy it. Last year all the teens related on a one-to-one basis and returned feeling like one big loving family."

"The Holy Spirit seemed to fill us all - He was that much closer to us in that setting," Linda recalls.

"We're especially pleased that this year the camp will be reserved for Youth Club people only during our stay," concludes Linda as she hurries through the hurried schedule of a wife and mother who is a popular substitute teacher in South Lyon Elementary Schools as well as sharing with her husband the duties of senior high Sunday School teacher at the South Lyon church.

The Stevenses are hosting a get-acquainted day this Sunday at their Ten Mile Road home for all of those planning to make the journey to Colorado. Parents of the teenagers are invited to attend if they wish.

Following a 20-hour straight-through bus ride, the Michigan contingent arrives at Snow Mountain by late afternoon Saturday in time to explore the facilities before beginning a full week of fun and fellowship. Morning meditation in the out-of-doors with the Rocky Mountains as a backdrop is the initial event daily. Personal prayer and scripture reading make up this ritual.

Logos (written word) or Bible study is next on the agenda, followed by individual choices of a variety of workshops, an hour of choral music and a workshop activity. A two-day musical workshop led by Christian composers, Avery and Marsh, is included.

Afternoons will be free periods when the camp residents may participate in sports, reading, resting or sightseeing - or all four. The chartered bus will be available for four hours each day and some tours of the area are planned.

Following dinner each evening, a worship celebration will be held before lights out. The "celebration of life" with music is a highlight of the day, according to Mrs. Stevens.

The final day in camp, June 25, various choral groups will present musical selections.

Transportation for the trip, including food money out and back, is approximately $95 per person. In South Lyon a smorgasbord, three rummage sales and various other activities put on by the youths and their parents provided a majority of this money. The remainder and camp registration fees of $80 each were paid by the individuals planning to attend.

In addition to the Stevenses, Pat Little, Karen Smith and Jim and Janet Head will accompany the South Lyonites.

Youths, eagerly anticipating the Christian-style retreat include several returnees: Janine McFadden, Gay Hannah, Lynda Smith, Mike Misslitz and Scott Herald. First time Youth Club campers are: Mary Abel, Scott Borders, Dennis Bentley, Mike Brenay, Andy Bunnell, Sue Christensen, Mark Lawson, German exchange student Constanz Kuhn, Scott and Laurie Jayne, Connie May, Bob Misslitz, Loren McFadden, Linda Schwarck, Kristine Slevoski, Kelly and Ron Smith, Martha Spirl, Dino Viscosi, John Westcott and Peggy Bullard.

Being westward-bound for senior high students in the Northville Methodist Youth Club has meant an unending series of fund-raising events all this year.

With 14 young people and two adults participating in the camp trip, it was necessary to raise $90 for each, not including transportation, according to youth club secretary-treasurer Doris Herrick. One of the most successful fund-raisers was a spaghetti dinner. The young people also served up a pancake brunch, which was an after-church event one Sunday.

"They've also been selling," Mrs. Herrick recalls. "They've had bake sales and a rummage sale, and they've sold candy and plastic bags."

Members held a "slave market" to sell services and a car wash.

And they've made their financial goal.

Working closely with the young people on the projects have been sponsors, Dr. and Mrs. George Berquist, who report that the Colorado trip will be a reality for the following young people:

Jill Berquist, Steve Cooper, Doug Cook, Lori Norsby, Dena Irwin, Rich Meyer, Ann Dayton, Cheryl DeHoff, Jack Lancaster, Dave Gallagher, Jeff Norton, Mary Lillburn, Rob Holloway and Chris Eden.

Adults accompanying them will be Mrs. Berquist and Mrs. Marilyn Meyer.

Many of the Methodists shown here are returning to Colorado this month, along with some 40 other young people and adults from South Lyon and Northville, to attend Youth Club, Inc. camp at Granby at the foot of the Rockies. Second and third from left in the back row are Linda and Rick Stevens of 10 Mile Road who are coordinating the bus trip which departs from South Lyon at 5 p.m. June 18. Last year's week at the Youth Camp at Estes Park was so spiritually uplifting that the Stevenses determined to open it to all who wanted to attend this year.

New Members Goal Of Baptist Crusade

Ten visitation teams from Orchard Hills Baptist Church in Novi have canvassed more than 1300 homes in the Novi area and have enrolled 88 persons in its Bible study program as a result, Pastor Thomas Martin announces.

"Our people are very excited about what God is doing in our church," he states, pointing out that Bible study attendance has increased by 25 percent as a direct result of the campaign the church is conducting to enroll persons in Bible study that presently are not in such a program.

Beginning June 13, he adds, the same program of enrollment will be extended to the Milford area in a new mission work.

On May 23 the church ordained four men as deacons who had been involved in a six-month training program prior to this.

They are Don Pendergrass, Dale Gross, Lynn Ireland and Gary Irwin. They are the first deacons ever ordained by the Orchard Hills church.

Corrie Griswold and Verdine Lloyd, owners of the women's apparel shop, celebrated the first anniversary of their opening with a special sale during the final two weeks of May.

SHARON WELTER, 26, a former office clerk at Hamburg Township Hall, recently opened her own business in the shopping center across from Buck Lake.

Sharon's Uniforms, located at 6468 East M-36, originated because of Mrs. Welter's previous positions as a waitress and working in Convalescent Homes.

"I realized how hard it was to get uniforms in this area," she said. "I located here because I'm in the center of the circle of hospitals."

Prior to the opening of Sharon's shop, the localities handling uniforms were in Lansing, Pontiac, Flint and Farmington.

Although her store is rather small, Sharon carries a large selection of women's uniforms, ladies' smocks, men's work clothes, women's and men's professional white shoes, and accessories.

She also takes catalogue orders with a 10 percent discount and no shipping charges. Sharon said she hopes to move to larger quarters in the same shopping center this fall. Patty Michaels helps at the shop part-time.

Sharon and her husband, Gerald, who is employed at MacValves in Wixom, reside a short distance from the shop with their two daughters, ages nine and four.

MAX BROWN, owner of the A&W Rootbeer Drive-in in South Lyon, has received a letter of thanks for his participation in the Easter Seal Telethon.

Brown, along with the owners of the A&W Rootbeer Stands in Dexter, Chelsea, Brighton, and Ann Arbor collected money for the Easter Seal Drive in their business establishments and also donated hot dogs, buns, and rootbeer for the people who participated in the Telethon at the Tel-Twelve Mall.

"It was your concern for handicapped children and your cooperation in this national project that made it a success and I join all Easter Seal people in telling you how grateful we are," Easter Seal representative and television personality Wayne Rogers told Brown in the letter.

"You and your fellow operators donated $157,000 which will be used to finance rehabilitation services for children in your own communities. This is a very impressive total and reflects the tremendous amount of hard work and generosity that went into the project on your part," Rogers continued.

MICHIGAN BELL announced today it is closing its public office at 459 S. Main in Plymouth at the end of its business day Friday, June 11.

"We're closing the office because there's not enough business to keep it open," explained Haze Wilson, manager here for Michigan Bell. "The number of customers who pay their bills or transact other telephone business in person has dropped off significantly since the office was opened in 1969."

GRAND OPENING of the new Perry drug store at the Northville Plaza shopping center on West Seven Mile Road in Northville was celebrated recently by more than a thousand guests who participated in the day-long event.

Mrs. Betty Lennox, supervisor of the Township of Northville and A. Malcolm Allen, mayor of the City of Northville, joined Jack A. Robinson, president of the drug store chain, in officially opening the store.

The ceremony included the cutting of a 14-foot ribbon-of-money and the donation of the funds to the Northville Senior Citizens Club. According to Clarence Harsch, president of the 250-member club, the funds will be used to purchase equipment and supplies.

The donation of funds to the Northville Senior Citizens Club was done under a program established by Perry Drug Stores to support senior citizens.

"Senior Citizens deserve our support," said Robinson, "especially since they have supported us as customers and have helped to build our business."

The company's program provides for the contribution of funds or equipment for the development of facilities or activities for senior citizen groups located in areas served by Perry Drug Stores. And, as part of the program, Perry offers senior citizen discount cards which permit discounts on prescription drugs, convalescent aids, and Perry private label merchandise.

The opening of the new store has boosted the number of units in the drug store chain to 39 and has increased the number of communities served by Perry Drug Stores to 30.

The common stock of Perry Drug Stores is traded in the Over-the-Counter market.

State Joins U.S. Fight Against Flu

By ELMER E. WHITE

LANSING—Nearly 60 years ago — before antibiotics and immunization programs — a flu epidemic brought the touch of death to 2 percent of families in this country each month.

Today, Michigan's Public Health Department is racing against time, trying to immunize people, as part of a federal program aimed against preventing another possible flu outbreak.

"We don't know if the flu is coming," says a health department spokesman. "And we don't even know that it would be a problem if it did. But the prevention is better than taking the chance."

IMMUNIZING SHOTS against so-called "swine flu" are expected to begin sometime later this summer, when a special bivalent (acting against swine flu and another strain at the same time) vaccine is made available.

That vaccine is aimed at high risk persons, such as older folks in nursing homes.

Later in the year, and it's not known at this point exactly when, a monovalent (dealing with swine flu alone) vaccine is expected to be available in Michigan.

WHEN THAT VACCINE comes, there's to be an all out push to administer it to any and all who will take the medicine.

"The real problem is getting organized," says the health department representative. "We have to get the doctors, nurses, volunteers to man large free public clinics."

They also have to get the needed equipment — needles, syringes, even "guns" to administer the shots. Michigan has asked federal authorities for several of the guns, which reportedly administer the vaccine through the skin more quickly and less uncomfortably than with a needle.

There's no firm date yet as to when the vaccine will be available.

WILL MICHIGAN'S drinking age be raised back closer to the age 21 as it used to be?

If the Michigan Council on Alcohol Problems (MICAP) has anything to say about it, the answer is yes.

MICAP reports results of a recent survey of high school principals, which found only 8 percent of those responding (438 of the 750 queried responded) who said they favored keeping the drinking age at 18.

Another 31 percent said boost it to 19, 9 percent said make it 20 and 52 percent said change it back to 21.

WARNING of a "trickle down" effect is Allen B. Rice, executive director of the council.

"Records from the Michigan State Police have shown a dramatic jump in alcohol-related accidents among the 18 to 20 year olds," he says. "But this is not the main reason we favor the move to raise the legal drinking age."

"The primary reason for our endorsement of this idea is our concern for the impact of the lower drinking age on teenagers under 18 years"

TODAY, 26 states have a legal drinking age of 18, 24 states and the District of Columbia have 19 or older as their drinking age. California, the largest state, still maintains a 21 year old legal drinking age.

A bill has been introduced in the Michigan Legislature to hike the state's drinking age to 19.

THE HUNTERS had a field day.

Michigan's Department of Natural Resources reports that the 1975 firearm deer season was the most successful ever for buck hunters.

"A record number of bucks — 96,890 — were taken last year, which exceeded the previous season high in 1946 when 89,470 bucks were harvested in the state," says Dave Arnold, DNR deer specialist.

ANOTHER 10,080 antlerless deer were taken during the season — meaning that about one of seven hunters, according to a postcard survey — brought home venison.

Arnold says the total harvest exceeds his "very liberal" pre-season estimate of 100,000 animals.

The total number of firearm deer hunters in 1975, 710,000, also was a record. The high in 1974 was 657,500.

Words

If the words are worth the writing
They should have something to say, for the purpose of igniting
In a somewhat different way

A thought or two of interest —
A whim, a truth, a smile,
As they follow onward in their quest
Of a message worth the while.

They move along life's highway
In search of every mood,
And find, beside a by-way
A wild flower in a wood.

A blossoming creation
Alone, yet blooming fair
To serve with inspiration
It's humble purpose there.

The thought, inspired by the vine
Is part of heaven's plan,
Containing in a single bine
A mighty test for man.

Few canoeable streams in the state can match the blend of beauty, excitement and history found along Michigan's Pere Marquette, Big and Little Manistee and Pine rivers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

With more than 2,000 canoes available for up to two weeks' travel on more than 500 miles of water, these streams offer both novice and experienced paddlers the chance to lose themselves in nature while learning of the state's past, when rivers and Michigan's pine forests were tamed to help build a nation.

Of the four, the Pere Marquette is the southernmost and easiest to canoe, with no portages or rapids. It took its present name from Father Jacques Marquette, 17th Century French missionary-explorer who died on a bluff near present-day Ludington.

Rising from fingerling creeks near Bladwin in Lake County, the "PM's" main stream surges to life a few miles south of that village, just east of the M-37 bridge.

Baldwin is canoe headquarters for the river, with 700 craft at four liveries available for up to a week's journey 100 miles downstream to Ludington, with rentals from $6 and $7 daily. Day-long trips chosen by most take paddlers from the M-37 public access site 20 miles and four hours later to Bowman's Bridge on Carrs Road.

Both brown and rainbow trout are abundant here and the seven-mile-per-hour current quickly takes canoeists along high banks dotted with fishing lodges.

Those preferring quiet water can rent canoes at Branch or Walhalla, 15 and 20 miles west on US-10, respectively. A livery also is in Ludington.

While much of the upper river was too shallow for logging, the lower half was a prime route to Ludington's mills. Named after a pioneer lumberman who owned the first mill there in 1849, Ludington was one of the state's busiest mill towns, and at its peak in 1892 cut 152 million feet of lumber annually.

Canoeists can help Ludington celebrate its past and the Bicentennial when that city opens its Pioneer Village, a reconstruction of 19th Century homes and shops. A July 4th celebration follows with a parade, fireworks and choral sings. The city's harvest festival is in mid-September. Baldwin holds its annual Troutarama festival in late July.

Both state and national forest campsites are available at six spots downstream from Baldwin. A city park for day or overnight use is at Scottsville.

Only 16 miles north of Baldwin lie three rivers, each still relatively untouched by civilization.

The Little Manistee River flows cool and deep from Luther to Manistee and is perfect water for novice or expert. Trips from several hours to four days are offered from Solberg's Marina at Manistee for $7 daily rental.

Brown and rainbow trout are found in the river from M-37 bridge downstream and spring anglers will find its gravel bars covered with steelhead in April and May.

Many canoeists rate the neighboring Pine River as one for better paddlers only. It probably is the most traveled of the four, with more than 900 canoes available from at least seven liveries in Baldwin, Manistee and near Wellston.

Trips from two to 14 hours take canoeists through enough turns and fast water to satisfy almost anyone. The river is shallow near Edgett's Bridge southwest of Cadillac off US-131, but it quickly changes mood, growing deep and strong by the time it passes Peterson Bridge off M-37, site of one of four campgrounds.

Manistee, a town destroyed by the disastrous statewide fire of 1871 but rebuilt when salt mining began there, annually hosts the National Strawberry Festival in early July. This year it features an art festival, a sailing race and a parade. Visitors can visit the free local historical museum as well over July 4th weekend

Kelly and Angell League Champs

Mustang Netters Capture Western-Six Title

By KEVIN BRAZELL

Tim Kelly and Ron Angell went all the way to become league champs and aided the Northville cause of tying for first in the league tennis match. This combined with points earned during dual meet competition gave Northville its second Western Six League championship in three years.

Northville tied with Harrison at the league match with 10 points apiece and Churchill ended up with eight points.

"I would have been happy with a 10-5 record and a second place finish to Churchill," confessed Coach Bob Simpson.

"But this team worked as hard as any group I've ever had and did everything I could have expected. They really performed like champs," stated the coach.

Fortunately for Simpson he will be losing only two netters to graduation, Kelly and Tom Folino.

"Kelly and Folino will be hard to replace. They gave us team leadership," commented Simpson.

But Simpson has some other top notch youngsters to replace them. The Northville JV's won the Western Six League tournament in solid fashion.

Singles players Steve Dragon, John Dyer, Tim

Wilson and Dave Wilson all made it to the semis thus guaranteeing an all Northville final. In the finals Wilson defeated Dragon 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Three of the four doubles teams were also from Northville with John Marzonia and John Cannarsa winning the competition. Dave Herbel and Mike McNamara and Kurt Kistner and Neil Bradley made it to the semis in doubles.

At the Varsity league match, Greg McFadden drew a bye and then went on to win his first match with impressive 6-0 and 6-1 scores. Then the number one singles man lost, 6-3, 7-5, to Steve Prueter who advanced into the semis for all league recognition. With the bye and one victory McFadden collected two points toward the Northville total.

"Greg, a junior playing number one, played a lot of seniors. He should be all league next year," claimed Simpson.

McFadden ended the year with a 7-8 record in dual matches. Doug Castillo also had a bye in the first round but lost in three sets, 7-6, 3-6, 7-5, to Dan Clark of Churchill in his first round of play.

Rudy Horst picked up a point for Northville by winning his first-round match, 6-0, 6-2, before losing his second match in three sets.

Charlie Whiteside also netted one point for the Mustangs with a first-round victory over Tom Welch of Churchill by 6-3 and 7-5 scores. Whiteside then lost, 6-1, 6-1, to an eventual all leaguer.

Kelly and Angell at doubles got rolling early and just could not be stopped. They won their first match by blanking Canton's number two doubles team, 6-0, 6-0.

Almost as quickly the senior and freshman disposed of Walled Lakes number two doubles, 6-3, 6-2.

In the semis, Kelly and Angell went to a tiebreaker in the first set before winning, 7-6, 6-2, against a team from Mott.

The first set of the finals the Northville combo struggled in the first set before winning, 7-5, and then played a near perfect second set winning, 6-0, to take all League honors.

Simpson complimented the pair on their competitiveness and desire to win which were evidenced by a 14-1 season mark for Kelly and Angell.

Steve Pyett and Steve Laffler lost to Churchill's number two team in the very first match, yet still drew strong praise from the coach.

"Laffler and Pyett were one of the most pleasing and unexpected things that happened all year. The sophomores will really help us next year." Laffler and Pyett also boasted a 14-1 record.

Folino and Jeff Hodge picked up two points for the Mustangs with two surprising victories. The duo beat the Harrison team, 6-3 and 6-4, after having lost to them earlier in the year.

Then Folino and Hodge disposed of Canton's number one doubles combination, 6-3, 6-3, before losing in three sets to Walled Lake's number one squad which ended up losing to Kelly and Angell in the finals.

Folino and Hodge ended up with an 8-3 record.

After winning the league trophy, Simpson had special praise for everyone and reemphasized he is looking forward to defending his title next year.

"Our goal is to retire the league trophy by winning the league three years in a row. It will be tough because everyone will be looking to knock us off."

Simpson concluded by saying the league title and everyone's fine records were especially gratifying since he had not expected it.

—THE NORTHVILLE RECORD—NOVI NEWS—

1-C

Janet Cook First at State

Janet Cook, who was already named this year's outstanding female athlete at Novi High School, lived up to expectations by becoming Novi's first state champion at the Girls' Track Class "B" championship this past weekend in Comstock.

In the process Cook broke the school record but more important set the state mark at 15.1 second in the hurdles.

"Tears ran down my face with emotion and excitement but Janet was very calm and unemotional," stated Coach Chris Hayward.

Cook also placed fifth in the state meet with a leap of 17' 2" in the long jump bettering her own school record.

The 440 relay team of Cook, Betty Banks, Jerry Sibole and Ann McKay was third.

"Novi scored 12½ points at the State meet and Janet had something to do with every one of them," explained Hayward.

"It was very rewarding taking that many girls to state and having them do so well," stated the coach of the tenth top team in the state.

"There are 14 events in girls track and 12 of the records were bettered at this meet," said Hayward.

To qualify for state the girls showed well at the Regional on May 22.

Novi finished fourth in their region again thanks largely to the fine effort of Cook. Cook was second in the long jump as she traveled 16' 5" and first in the hurdles in a time of 15.3.

Again the 440 relay team of Cook, Banks, Sibole and McKay were in top form as they broke the school record with a 51.6 clocking.

Mary Kardell ran strong two mile to finish second in 13.27.

Two weeks ago at the Southeastern Conference meet Novi finished a disappointing fifth.

"I was disappointed, we had some girls missing but there were some fine individual performances," Hayward said.

It was another banner day for Janet Cook. Cook broke her own conference record by over a foot, leaping 16' 10½" to win the long jump.

Cook won the hurdles with an impressive time of 15 seconds flat but on a sour note the defending champ in the shot-put placed fifth.

"Janet decided she would concentrate on the long jump and the hurdles and that is what she did," explained the coach.

Kardell ran her personal best with a 13:03 time in the two mile to finish runnerup in the league.

Dianna Sauders set the school record in the high jump clearing 5' 2" to finish in second place. Ginger Hensel was fifth at 4' 10" which was a personal best for the freshmen.

Again the same 440 relay team came through, this time finishing third.

Jerry Sibole was fifth in the 110 dash and Megan Raddant had her best leap of the season in the long jump to earn praise from Hayward.

An outstanding Brighton team used their balance and depth to easily win the conference meet.

"Although we finished fifth in the league we took more points than any other Southeastern Conference team at the state meet. In fact Saline and Novi were the only league teams to score points," Hayward stated.

Janet Cook set the state record in the hurdles to become Novi's only state champion

NEWARK, N.J.

BANG-UP TIME—Invitations went out this week to potential drivers for the Demolition Derby to be held Friday, August 13 during the annual Northville Fair. Both male and female drivers are being sought. Application blanks may be secured at Cal's Gulf, Les Bowden & Associates, and at Northville Auto Parts. Because of the large number of cars expected, four heats will precede the feature demolition battle, fair spokesmen said. The last two running cars from each heat will qualify to compete for the championship.

Pantry Wins Big

Joe's Party Pantry smashed the ball all over the park, collecting 19 hits in defeating Rizzo-Belanger, 15-5, to pull into a three-way tie for first place with Belanger and the Casterline Pioneers in the National League in Northville Men's Softball play last week.

Rick Starr had a home run and a double to pace the potent Pantry attack.

The Pioneers kept pace with two impressive victories as they ripped the Eagles, 15-5, and the Township Merchants, 15-12.

Chuck Stanford, Bill Berner, Delmar Vittoe and Bob Hubbard all collected extra base hits in the victory over the Eagles while eight Merchant errors made things easier for Casterline. In American League play, a home run by John Ridley enabled the Old Timers to edge Hamlet, 5-4, to remain alone in first place.

Four hits by Doug Crisan and three by Tom Eis combined with an errorless defense allowed the Village Blues to mercy Spagy's, 11-1, to keep the Blues hot on the trail of the Old Timers.

Other scores in Northville Men's Softball action last week were: Sheehan's Little Ceasars 17, Foundry Flash 3; Ely's 15, Northville Jaycees 11; Moonkin-Mach 12, Northville 8; St. Pauls Lutheran 6, Moonkin-Mach 5; Eagles 11, OLV Men's Club 6; Township Merchants 11, Little Ceasars 10; Winners Circle 4,

Most Valuable Athlete

Bill Piccolo was named last Wednesday as Northville High School's most valuable athlete. Piccolo was a linebacker and tight end on the football team and earned all-area and all-league, first-team honors. During the winter Pic was a starting forward on the basketball team. The 6'2", 200 pound senior was third baseman and designated hitter on the baseball squad. Piccolo was the leading hitter for the Northville nine with a .442 batting average, driving in 15 runs and clouting a pair of round trippers. The all-around athlete plans on attending Miami of Ohio University, where he wants to play baseball. If he gets the "ok" from the doctor on his knee, he might be a walk-on in football also. "After looking at the names on the trophy and knowing what fine athletes they were it is really an honor," said Piccolo.

Novi Drops Pre-Districts

In what Coach Rick Trudeau termed Novi's best game of the year the Wildcats lost their pre-district contest to Avondale, 2-1, last Tuesday.

"It was a shame we lost because we out played them," stated the coach.

Dave Beall played an excellent game at third base and Randy Wroten made a fantastic catch that saved a home run," claimed Trudeau.

Scott Parsons went the distance and allowed just three hits while striking out seven and walking five.

"Scott gave up more walks than usual but it was still one of his better games," said Trudeau of the losing pitcher.

The Wildcats scored their only run in the third inning to tie the score at 1-1. Beall singled and was followed by a base hit by Norm Free and then a walk to Bill Giorgio loaded the bases. The Avondale pitcher attempted a pick-off to second base and threw the ball into center field to allow Beall to scamper home.

"We had the opportunities but just could not get the big hit," explained Trudeau.

Avondale came up with the winning run in the eighth inning to knock Novi out of further state play off competition.

The story of the game was that the Wildcats stranded 12 men on the base paths.

Novi ended the year in fifth place with a 6-8 mark in the Southeastern Conference and the loss to Avondale dropped the Wildcats to 8-13 overall.

Beall ended up leading the team in batting, slugging for a .352 average. Wroten was close behind at .333 and Free ended the season at .304.

Wroten and Beall were also tops in the RBI department with 13 and 11 respectively.

Wroten, the junior center fielder also paced the club in stolen bases with 12, hits with 22, and had one home run.

Greg Porter drew 13 walks and Free scored 16 times and committed only one error to earn honors for the Wildcats.

Parsons' 6-4 record, and 1.87 ERA, led all Novi hurlers.

"We were a young team and made a lot of mistakes. I thought our hitting would be stronger," stated Trudeau, looking back on the season.

"Next year we will be a smarter team with more experience at all positions but we will have no proven pitchers."

"We will definitely miss Parsons, Free and Biff McAllister, all of whom improved greatly," evaluated the coach.

Parsons was named to the SEC first team and Wroten received second squad recognition.

Mustangs Hit for Average

Bob Kucher and his Northville baseball squad ended the season on a disappointing note dropping the finale, 4-0, to Livonia Churchill.

Churchill picked up three unearned runs in the second inning which proved to be more than enough to win.

Jim LaPlante, Dave Heckerele, and Jim Niemi held the Chargers to just four hits but walks and errors were costly to the Mustangs. LaPlante was tagged with the defeat.

Jim Carson playing his last game for Northville ripped a pair of hits.

Bill Bardwell of Churchill blanked the Mustangs on six hits and whiffed 10.

On a brighter note Niemi was selected to represent Northville on the 23 man Livonia All Star team. The Livonia area All Stars will take on the Downriver All Star squad Wednesday, June 23, at Ford Field in Livonia, at 7 p.m.

The Mustangs ended the season with a 13-10 record and their 5-5 mark in the Western Six gave Northville a third-place finish behind league-champ Plymouth Canton and runner-up Churchill.

Canton won the title with a 7-3 record by beating Churchill in the last game of the year 12-10.

League champs Canton bested the Mustangs, 1-0 and 2-1, in what Kucher referred to as two of the best played games of the season. Northville split their two decisions with Churchill.

Northville had seven players finish above the .300 mark and had an impressive .289 team batting average.

Bill Piccolo led the squad slugging at a .442 clip. Nick Hamp at .386, Bryan Riegner, .381, Jim Niemi, .345, Greg Armstrong, .333, Tim Conder, .302 and Jim Carson at .300 were Northville's most potent offensive weapons.

Riegner led the Mustangs with 24 hits. Niemi and Piccolo were tied for the team leadership in RBI's with 15 and round trippers with two apiece.

Don Funk led the pitching staff in victories with a 5-1 record while Heckerele and LaPlante each collected four.

LaPlante had the lowest ERA with a 1.96 and Funk led the team in strikeouts with 65. Northville had a team ERA of 2.85.

The underclassmen on this season's squad will be playing together this summer in the Livonia Connie Mack League as Kucher needs to find some more pitching for next year.

Heckerele, Tim Conder and Greg Armstrong all earned honorable mentions to league. Plymouth Canton finished on top of the Western-Six with a 7-3 mark while Northville, Churchill, Harrison and Western all ended up at 5-5.

The fact that Canton, Churchill and Northville all placed three men on the all league team and the four way tie for second place reflects the balance of the Western Six according to Coach Kucher.

Scott Parsons and Biff McAllister will be missed

Dave Beall played a solid third base in the final game

Northville Youths Shine at Olympics

Seven residents of Northville traveled to Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant last weekend to participate in the State Special Olympics. All seven youngsters returned proudly bearing medals, as four won two.

John Katke, 12, placed first in the 50 yard freestyle and second in the 25 yard backstroke while Beth Norton was a gold medal winner in the 25 yard butterfly and collected a silver medal in the 25 yard freestyle competition.

Kevin Schrott took a first in bowling and a second place in the 25 yard butterfly.

Paul McGuire, 19, was the other two-medal winner, coming in second and third in the 50 yard freestyle and the 25 yard freestyle respectively.

Kelly Lott, 9, was the only winner in the track and field events. Lott received a second place medal in the softball throw.

Mark Demrose, 11, and Bill Donovan, 16, each came in second in their divisions in swimming. Demrose competed in the 25 yard backstroke and Donovan swam the same distance in the breaststroke.

There were over 4,000 who participated in the state olympics during the Thursday through Sunday affair at CMU.

"It was very gratifying that everyone we sent up there returned with a medal," stated Recreation Director Charles Froberger.

"We could not have done it without the financial help of the Northville Kiwanis and the Lions of Columbus and the time of chaperones Gail Meehl and Kenneth Darnel," Froberger claimed.

All but two of the medals won were in the swimming portion of the competition. It was a weekly swim program at Northville High School sponsored by the Northville Civitans that helped the young athletes prepare for the competition.

Froberger also wished to thank Clark Kelly and all the parents who made his job easier.

"The Special Olympics are open to all mentally of physically impaired youths over eight years of age."

"Contestants compete in groups divided according to age, sex and ability," explained Wayne County Coordinating Director of the olympics, Dilcie Green.

"The emphasis is not on winning but in participation," pointed out Mrs. Green.

"Due to involvement and participation in various sports, the Special Olympics create a sense of team spirit which these children seldom experience otherwise," she continued.

Froberger termed the olympics a general success.

Sport Shorts

Chris Friel placed first in the heavyweight division in the AAU freestyle wrestling tournament at Livonia Stevenson High School this past weekend.

Jack Lancaster was second in the heavyweights, Don Lucas was third in the 148 pound grouping and Jack Stabenau wrestling for the first time at 140 pounds was also third.

Lucas is currently rated number five in the state.

All the boys are members of the Northville Wrestling Club which meets every Tuesday night at the high school under the supervision of Gary Emerson.

The Concordia College Cardinal baseball team completed another in a string of successful seasons, capturing the Conference Championship for the fourth time in the last five years. The Cards from Ann Arbor were 8-1 in conference play and 14-7 overall.

Norm Boerger of Northville was a member of the Concordia squad and recently gained recognition as a first team all-conference selection.

Bob Shippe of Novi gained all-conference honorable mention in the balloting for the Cards.

The seventh annual Soap Box Derby in Northville will be held Saturday, June 26, at 10 a.m.

The derby is open to all children ages eight to 13. Registrations must be turned in before the race and all participants must wear a helmet.

Brochures and information will be passed out at area schools in the near future. For more information contact Jim Martin at 591-6641.

Trackmen Place 11th

Dennis Singleton and Bob Gould completed successful seasons for the Northville track team as both placed 11th at the Class "A" State Meet in Grand Rapids.

Gould qualified for the state meet with a 9:42 clocking in the two mile which was good for second at the regionals.

The junior two-miler never lost in his event in any dual meet this season and was credited with breaking the school record.

Singleton finished third in the high hurdles in the regionals to make the cut to go to Grand Rapids.

The junior hurdler was only beaten once in dual meet competition, and also holds the school record.

Coach Ralph Redmond was particularly pleased with the boys' performance at the state meet since the temperature on the track was 86 degrees.

Gould and Singleton should make up the nucleus of next year's squad.

Local Skaters Do Well

Two Northville girls skated off with high honors in the Michigan State Roller Skating Championships held last weekend at the Northland Roller Rink in Southfield.

Lynn Austin, 1972-73-74 United States Roller Skating Association, national champion is on her way to the top again.

The Northville High School senior and employee at D&D Floor Covering placed second in the Junior Pairs Free Style Division, with her partner, Kevin Van Kirk of Flint.

Judy Landau and her partner, Larry Chopp of Wayne took first place in the International Senior Dance Division.

Austin's second place finish qualifies her for the regional competition this July. A first-through-third place performance there will qualify Lynn and Kevin for the nationals in Texas this August.

Austin has been skating competitively for five years under the direction of Don Gaits at the Pontiac University Skating Center.

Landau wins her third consecutive state championship in 1974.

She won the International Sophomore Dance Division and took second, in 1975 in the International Junior Dance Division. They also qualify for the regionals.

Judy and Larry skate at Riverside Roller Rink in Livonia and are trained by Mike Blue of Westland.

Track Meet On the Mark

The Northville Jaycees annual Track Meet will be held at 10 a.m. this Saturday at the Northville High School Track.

The meet is open to all boys and girls ages 8-18 from Brighton, Novi, South Lyon and Northville.

Medals and ribbons will be given to all participants.

To register just report to the field at 9:30 a.m. There is no registration fee.

Schoolcraft Starts Evaluation Report

Schoolcraft College is preparing its first self-evaluation report in compliance with Title IX, the regulation which prohibits sex discrimination.

According to student affairs vice president Edward V. McNally, the report under preparation by the various divisions of the College is to be completed by the third week in July. McNally is Schoolcraft's coordinator for Title IX adherence.

The self-evaluation becomes a detailed written account of the College's efforts against discrimination of students or employees because of their sex. "We'll have to include a copy of it whenever we apply for Federal funding," McNally said, "and it will also be on record should HEW (the department of Health, Education and Welfare) decide to check on us."

The self-study is another step in Schoolcraft's efforts towards full compliance with provisions of Title IX. One of the earliest actions taken was McNally's appointment as coordinator by President C. Nelson Grote in September, 1975.

At that time Dr. Grote said he viewed compliance here as more of a continuing rather than an implementing action. He noted that the college's long-standing policy prohibited discrimination on the basis of sex as well as race, creed, color or national origin. It has since been expanded to cover age as well.

A second major action was the adopting and publishing of complaint procedures in March, 1976. They provide a guide for and insure review for students and employees who feel their rights under Title IX have been denied.

The procedures establish that the coordinator is the first level for resolving any complaints. If a solution is not reached at this level, a six-member committee, three male and three female, are appointed from all segments of the college. They are designated by the President who also names an ex-officio chairperson, receives the committee's report and makes a final determination. Copies of the President's official decision are made available to all interested parties.

McNally said no complaints or charges of Title IX violations have been lodged with him as coordinator to date. He reminds all concerned that he can be reached in the Student Affairs Building on campus. His phone number is 591-6400, Ext. 222

OK Wixom Fee Hike

All building permits automatically carry with them a performance bond based on the valuation of the building. Councilman Robert Dingeldey, he sought to abolish that charge to the homeowner.

The bond was established to insure that all work was properly completed and the area cleared of any unsightly debris. The fee is returned after the final okay by the building official.

Repeating prior thoughts, Dingeldey said he felt stringent performance bonds would stop homeowners from securing proper permits. Although bonding remains, the cost was lowered from $100 to $25 on a minimum building permit.

The newly adopted amendment to the ordinance goes beyond what many consider to be the "permit required" operations of building garages, additions or erecting fences. It includes such areas as replacement of water heaters, garbage disposals and moving lighting fixtures.

According to Tyler, ordinary repairs may be made without a permit if those repairs do not include alteration or relocation of a water supply, electrical wiring or cutting away of walls or other work affecting the public health or general safety.

Green's further comments on the fee schedule included the feeling that by passing the ordinance the council could be "promoting subterfuge projects by homeowners."

Dingeldey urged council members to consider dropping permit fees to local residents on lesser jobs altogether and charging higher fees to developers.

"In that way the homeowner would be able to do his projects without the additional cost of a permit but the city, as a courtesy, would inspect the job to insure that the work was done properly.

Even with passage of the new fee schedule, Tyler told the council the building

"In that way the homeowner would be able to do his projects without the additional cost of a permit but the city, as a courtesy, would inspect the job to insure that the work was done properly.

Even with passage of the new fee schedule, Tyler told the council the building department would not be self-sustaining. Additional revenue for the coming year was estimated to be $8,000.

Board OK's Option

Continued from Novi, 1 board which allowed review by a member of the library board, council and a representative of the board of education.

The city council now must approve the proposal.

Create Department

Mrs. Loynes said yesterday that "I had no objection. The county has done the same thing. I've been told I'm doing the same thing and I'm here to do a job."

Mrs. Natzel remained more quiet on the change to assistant treasurer and while she had mixed emotions, she said that if the change works as described, there will be better management of funds overall plus additional help provided to take care of the increasing workload.

"As long as it's not considered a demotion and not a reduction, I will take it the way Fred told me," she said. "I will be in charge of my department as it has been."

Both Mrs. Natzel and Mrs. Loynes received an approximate five percent increase in salary for 1976-77 fiscal year. Mrs. Natzel will be making $14,700 while Mrs. Loynes will make $15,750.

Other administrative personnel salaries approved were: Executive Secretary, $9,975; Fire Chief, $15,750; Deputy Assessor-Labor Relations, $17,500 in two wage accounts; Clerk, $17,850; DPW Superintendent, $19,163; Building Director, $20,213; Assessor-Assistant to Manager, $20,475; Police Chief, $21,525; Finance Director-Treasurer, $22,050; City Manager, $26,250.

Pupils Relive Past

Paul Revere hats and long dresses were the costume of the day in 1776. Northville's Winchester School tried to re-create the colonial look at their Old-Fashioned Dress-

Up day last Thursday. Showing off their Bicentennial garb are first-graders John Dugan and Sheila Worden with first-grade teacher June Glotzober.

Wixom Newsbeat

45 Graduate from City

By NANCY DINGELDEY
Farewell to what some might term the hallowed halls of ivy as 45 Wixom sons and daughters graduated from Walled Lake Western high school in ceremonies Tuesday night.

extending congratulations and best wishes in future endeavors. Many of these graduates will go on to colleges and universities across the country. Others will stay in the area to enter the business world.

Western, at any rate, is now behind and an even broader horizon is spread before the grads. God speed to all.

And another cycle comes to a close as the yellow school bus made its last stop of the route. The kids are off for summer vacation.

I view summer vacation as a blessing. No more hassle getting kids out the door before the bus rumbles by. No more searching for the misplaced math book or stray sock. No more early mornings at the ironing board because no other outfit is suitable for school that day.

No more "I don't care if it's still light out" trauma of the bathtub or bed. No more phone calls ten minutes after school starts asking for delivery of a notebook left at home.

Summer is a blessing. Calm, peace...no rush, no fuss. Fewer clothes in the wash...just more bathing suits and lost beach towels.

Kids are as excited over the last day of school as they are the first. I guess I can count myself fortunate because my kids never run out of things to do over the summer. There's a big world out there that needs to be re-explored.

In one short month we in Wixom will be joining hundreds of thousands of people across the country in a tribute to our nation's Bicentennial...a great big

Plans in Wixom for the celebration are moving along at a decent pace but the spark and enthusiasm for the day-long event haven't kindled the fires that are necessary to insure success.

Determination has sparked the Bicentennial Committee but more willing hands are needed to help with the work load. Planned for the day... dedication of the Wixom parkland, a possible vaudeville show, our very own fireworks display, and an evening dance to bring everything to a close.

An old-fashioned picnic in the park, games for adults and youngsters and a stab at a concert-in-the-park are among items being pursued.

The Bicentennial Committee is trying for a good time for everyone on July 4...one the youngsters might recall in later years...one that us older folk might remember too.

If anyone can lend a helping hand to the Bicentennial Committee it would surely be a welcome one. One little effort will help a great deal. Ideas and thoughts are always in demand.

A little patriotism, a salute to the old red, white and blue and a good time is in store for Wixom on July 4. To add your two cents worth, call Margaret Ladd at 624-1297 or even me at 624-3950.

Area Libraries

Set Summer Hours

Warm weather, notebooks tossed in a corner for the duration, bare feet and sleeping-in all signal the coming of summer and the end of school for another year.

Those same things also signal the initiation of summer library hours in Northville, Novi and Wixom. The first two libraries report the new hours will go into effect June 14. Wixom's changeover occurs immediately.

All three libraries will be closed on Saturday with hours instituted instead on Friday. The hours will remain in effect until September 1.

In Northville, designated library hours are Monday and Thursday from noon until 8 p.m. Friday hours are 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Novi Library hours will be Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Friday hours are 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Wixom Library hours are set for Monday and Wednesday 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. Further, the library will be open on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Friday.

The area libraries will also be conducting summer reading programs for youngsters through the sixth grade. Both Northville and Wixom have chosen the theme "Happy Birthday to US" featuring books commemorating the Bicentennial.

Although no special theme has been adopted by the Novi Library, their reading program is aimed at encouraging youngsters to come to the library and read the books of their choice.

Nutrition Site Seeks Help

Northville Nutrition Site, the official name for the senior citizen lunch program in the city municipal building, is in need of volunteers.

They are needed from a minimum of an hour daily to the maximum of two hours to serve food in the senior program or to act as drivers taking the meals to shut-ins. It is a Monday through Friday program.

Because some volunteers will not be able to serve through summer as they will have young children home from school, additional help is being sought. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Christine Crowe, 349-0203 or 453-5303.

Additional Employees

Hired by Novi Schools

Approval by a 6-0 vote was given Thursday to a request for additional employees to be hired by Novi School District for the 1976-77 school year.

The board approved administration recommendation to hire three and a half additional classroom teachers (one secondary, two and a half elementary), a half time social worker, a half time reading teacher at the secondary level and one music instructor.

In addition the board approved hiring two additional bus drivers and one CETA maintenance man.

Discussion ensued about the need of the school district to hire and train maintenance people to handle the sophisticated systems at the new high school. While the 1977-78 tentative budget includes additional maintenance people, superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz said the district would not know how many to hire until the district makes a determination whether it would go with a monitoring system such as the Honeywell BOSS system.

In addition, the administration said that additional classroom teachers at some levels are being considered and will be recommended later if enrollment figures justify the need in September.

Schedule Track Meet

The Northville Jaycees annual Track Meet will be held at 10 a.m. this Saturday at the Northville High School Track.

The meet is open to all boys and girls ages 8-18 from Brighton, Novi, South Lyon and Northville.

Medals and ribbons will be given to all participants. To register just report to the field at 9:30 a.m. There is no registration fee.

Miss Pollock and Friend

Among the hundreds of young and not-so-young-anymore friends of kindergarten teacher Grace Pollock to wish her well at the ice cream social in her honor last Thursday is Suzy Picotte. Since Suzy's still a preschooler, she won't have the longtime kindergarten teacher who is retiring after teaching 33 years in Northville — 32 of them in the kindergarten room at Main Street Elementary. About $350 was collected in a "wishing well" donation at the social and was given to Miss Pollock to use if she wishes for porch furniture for the porch being added to her Northville home.

Salute Schoolcraft College

A proclamation designating Schoolcraft College Day on June 4 was presented to school officials last week by Northville Mayor A.M. Allen. It was one of several received by the college from area mayors at a college breakfast last week. The Northville proclamation read in part: Whereas, the adult residents of this community have benefited from opportunities provided by Schoolcraft College since 1964, and Whereas, these opportunities have included college transfer and career programs of study, as well as job upgrading, personal enrichment, leisure time activities and special services to the community, and Whereas, Schoolcraft College has maintained "open door" admissions policy scheduled classes at times and locations most convenient to students, and continues to offer programs and services with reasonable tuition and fees, Now, therefore, I, A. Malcolm Allen, mayor of the City of Northville, do hereby proclaim the Fourth of June, 1976, as Schoolcraft College Day.

Tree Planting Here Salutes Bicentennial

Northville will take part in a state-wide Centennial-Bicentennial Tree Planting Day Friday as proclaimed by Governor William G. Milliken. John Burkman, chairman of the community's Bicentennial Commission, and City Councilman Paul Vernon, chairman of the Beautification Commission, announced that two trees would be planted in observance of the occasion. The trees are from a special crop designated by the state for Tree Planting Day. They were grown from seeds taken last fall from 100-year-old maples planted near Niles by a farmhand in 1876 in commemoration of the nation's Centennial. The seedlings are being distributed by the Department of Natural Resources to nearly 200 Bicentennial organizations in communities throughout Michigan. The seedlings were raised by an accelerated growth process by the School of Forestry at Michigan State University.

Abandonment of 'Super Sewer' Plans Deals Hard Pressed Communities A Blow

A decision recently to abandon the so-called "super sewer" leaves local communities with no definite alternative plan to provide needed sewage disposal capacity.

The Water Resources Commission (WRC) of the Department of Natural Resources ruled out the controversial Alternate I, or regional sewer system, because of strong objections from Washtenaw County and some Wayne and Oakland County municipalities.

The decision exempted Washtenaw County from participation in a regional plan, and left Wayne and Oakland counties to find some acceptable alternative. George Bingham, chief engineer of the Wayne County Department of Public Works (a part of the Road Commission) said he would call a meeting of Wayne and Oakland county municipalities.

Northville, Northville Township and Novi were all on record supporting super sewer. Each of these communities passed resolutions favoring Alternate I, in response to a Road Commission effort to line up solid local support behind the proposal.

Northville took the Road Commission's form resolution one step further, by opposing any plan which would expand the upstream Walled Lake sewage treatment plant.

Both Novi and Northville Township are rapidly growing and badly in need of the additional sewage capacity super sewer was to provide.

Edward Kriewall, Novi city manager, said Novi will exceed its available capacity in two or three years. Novi currently owns 4 cfs (cubic feet per second) capacity in the Rouge River sewage disposal system. This is adequate for a population of 10,000. In addition, Novi has 3000 taps into the Walled Lake plant.

Northville Township is "desperate for sewer capacity," according to Betty Lennox, township supervisor. The township currently rents 4 cfs of excess capacity from Livonia in the Rouge System, and is fully using that capacity now.

The City of Northville is in better shape, having purchased 3.6 cfs in the Rouge system in 1955. This capacity will serve 9,000 people, the projected ultimate population of the city.

For this reason, Northville stated in its support resolution that it would accept no financial responsibility for the new sewer.

Northville's primary interest in super sewer is the growth of Novi and other communities to the north. Should they exceed their present capacity, the excess sewage will flow (and perhaps overflow) through pipelines under Northville. In addition, treated wastes from Walled Lake are discharged into a tributary of the Rouge River, which makes its way through the city.

Northville officials believe that Novi, for example, is much closer to exceeding its capacity than it admits. A holding tank in Novi stores excess sewage for release during off-peak hours. Wayne County, which meters waste water flows, shows that the holding tank has been used several times, although Kriewall doubts that the tank has ever been needed.

Three alternate plans which were subjected to engineering and environmental impact studies remain, from which Oakland and Wayne counties may choose. These are alternates III, VB and XIII.

Alternate III would be a modified version of super sewer, excluding Washtenaw County. All local treatment plants in the study area would be abandoned and one large new plant built at the mouth of the Huron River discharging into Lake Erie. This would be the only alternate compatible with the Northville resolution opposing expansion of the Walled Lake plant.

Alternate VB would expand and improve the Walled Lake facility to serve northern Oakland County. Two plants in Wayne County would be expanded — City of Trenton and Wayne County-Trenton. Two new plants would be built — one on the Huron River below Belleville and one in Brownstown Township.

Alternate XIII would abandon all present treatment plants except Walled Lake, which would serve northern Oakland County. A new plant on Lake Erie would handle the needs of the rest of the area.

Regardless of which alternate is chosen by Wayne and Oakland counties, Washtenaw County intends to expand its Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti Township plants, which discharge into the Huron River.

Getting local communities together on a plan may prove difficult, since not everyone in the Wayne-Oakland County portion of the study area agreed on super sewer.

In Wayne County, Canton Township and Van Buren Township want local control of their waste treatment operation. They shared Washtenaw County's fear that super sewer would leave them at the mercy of the Wayne County Road Commission which would allocate capacity and determine rates.

In Oakland County, only Novi and Commerce Township passed the road commission's resolution favoring super sewer. Other communities, particularly Walled Lake, opposed it.

Kriewall, on learning of the WRC decision Friday, could not say which remaining alternate might now be most acceptable to Novi. He said that he expects "significant changes in costs" for all plans since populous Washtenaw County will not be accepting a share. "All present figures," said Kriewall "were predicated on the inclusion of Washtenaw County."

He added that Novi may also want to consider new options, such as building a plant on Novi Road south of Nine Mile. Whatever Novi's final preference, it will be based on "cost considerations," he said. Mrs. Lennox also is taking a wait-and-see attitude, saying she has not studied other alternates.

Steven Walters, Northville city manager, says Northville still supports Plan I. He says that Washtenaw County may yet join in the regional sewer system since costs of providing high level treatment to protect the Huron River from pollution will be more than local citizens will want to pay. Walters called the WRC decision "a political cop-out." He said the WRC should have chosen alternate Plan I for the area based on water quality control and financial interests of the citizens. Alternate I was the cheapest of all plans studied.

Washtenaw County, however, with unanimous support from all its local communities, has long maintained it would rather spend money to treat sewage than merely transport it. The Alternate I Lake Erie plant would provide a lower level of treatment than an "inland" plant.

Eighty percent of the costs of the sewage treatment system are to be paid from federal funds. But this money will be lost, unless contracts for the system are let out by next summer.

WRC has in the past threatened a sewer hook-up ban, thus stopping new construction, to force a decision. Bingham said that WRC may yet take this action if a compromise between the local communities is not forthcoming.

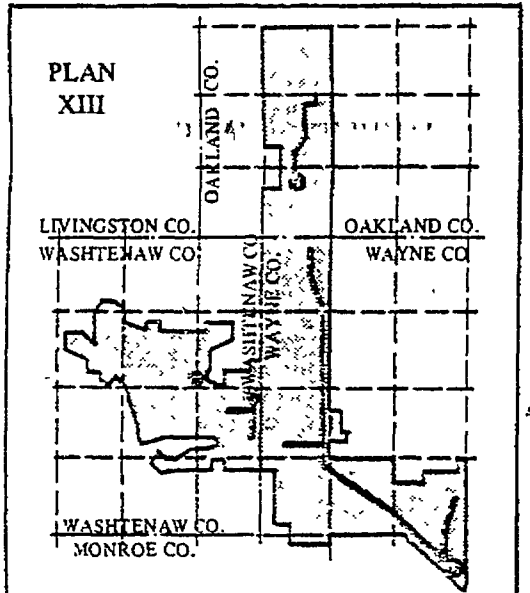

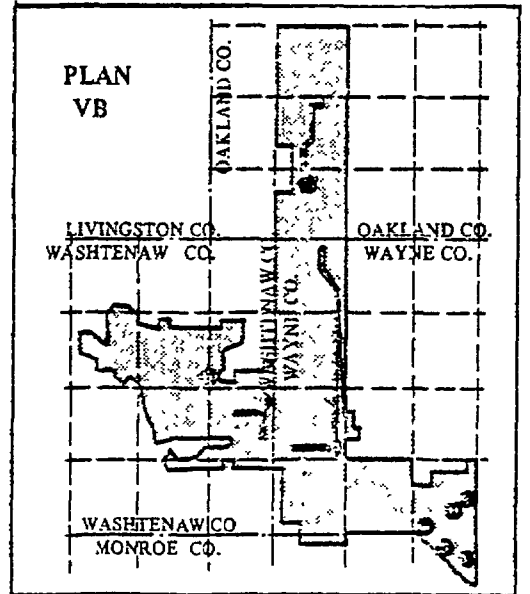

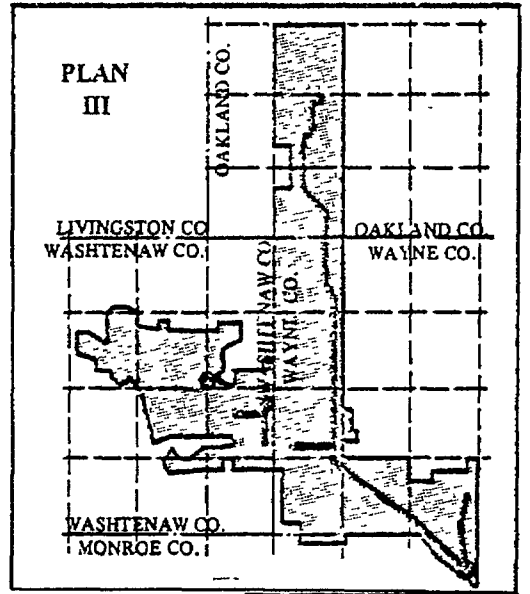

Walters said that if such a ban were applied to Northville, he would contest it in court, since the city has adequate sewer capacity to support any new development.

Municipalities in the wastewater control study area are as follows:

Oakland County: City of Novi, City of Walled Lake, Commerce Township, Novi Township, Springfield Township, White Lake Township and Village of Wolverine Lake.

Wayne County: City of Belleville, City of Flat Rock, City of Gibraltar, City of Northville, City of Plymouth, City of Rockwood, City of Romulus, City of Trenton, City of Woodhaven, Brownstown Township, Canton Township, Huron Township, Northville Township, Plymouth Township, Sumpter Township and Van Buren Township.

Washtenaw County: City of Ann Arbor, City of Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor Township, August Township, Pittsfield Township, Scio Township, Superior Township, and Ypsilanti Township.

These are the remaining three plans from which the counties of Oakland and Wayne may choose following abandonment of the preferred proposal.

For Twelve Oaks Mall

Sewer Assist Pledged

In order to expedite construction of the Hudson sewer to serve the new Twelve Oaks Mall, Novi city council has approved two resolutions affirming the county proposed apportionment for the sewer plus the city's willingness to provide front monies.

Total cost of the sewer, which will run south from the shopping center to connect with the main line at 10 Mile, is estimated at $1,465,000. A second arm of the sewer will extend east to Meadowbrook. The city will pick up the total cost of the sewer.

Advancement of the sewer funds, which are to be given on an as needed basis, is to come from the water and sewer capital fund. Payback to the fund is to come from bonds which will be sold to finance the project. According to Finance Director Fred Todd, by providing the front monies, the city is able to save about

Novi Fights Soil Erosion

Novi City Council recently approved unanimously a resolution naming the city of Novi as an authorized public agency to enforce the Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Act within its boundaries.

In addition, the city would also be able to provide better control under the act as it can follow the progress of projects on a first-hand basis.

three months construction time compared to waiting for the bonds to be issued through the drain commission.

Payoff of the bonds is to be made through tap charges.

The bonds are to be paid off over 20 years which Todd estimated would eventually require the selling of approximately 2000 tap fees to pay off the entire cost. Dayton Hudson is purchasing 450 tap units at $832 each which will give the city right off the top $375,000 leaving about 1,450 more to sell. Todd said the sewer is also expected to service peripheral development east of Novi Road near the shopping center.

Todd said that Oakland County estimates the city will only have to front $300,000 to $400,000.

Capping The Job

Workmen are currently in the process of completing the dome on the Commons building at the new Novi High School. With a wood base, the Commons building dome will be surfaced with a special type of spray on insulation with a white granular finish. The Commons is a separate building shaped like a large keyhole and is intended to isolate loud noise traffic areas such as the cafeteria and the locker room from study areas. The cafeteria area could also be used as a theater in the round.

KAREN ZBIKOWSKI

Gets Albion Scholarship

Karen Ann Zbikowski, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ted Zbikowski of Northville, has received a renewable honor scholarship from Albion College.

She is receiving the scholarship for her outstanding academic accomplishments at Our Lady of Mercy High School, Farmington Hills, where she is a senior. She will be graduating June 6.

An active member of the National Honor Society, she recently, along with other selected seniors from the metropolitan Detroit area, received a certificate from Phi Beta Kappa Society in ceremonies at Ford Auditorium.

Karen also has been a tutor in French and has headed the Mercy math tutoring program. She has received service awards from the math department, the honor society and an Award of Excellence from the school language department.

At Albion, she will begin her studies in pre-medicine this fall. She attended Cooke Middle School in the seventh and eighth grades.

Exchange Students Are Coming

Youth for Understanding, the nation's largest student exchange program, announces that teenagers from Japan, Germany, Finland, Greece and Sweden will be arriving in this area during August to live with host families and attend high school.

"We are anxious to have these students live with local families," says Philip Yasinski, executive director, "because area communities have so much to offer these special foreign visitors."

This summer over 2,500 students from Latin America, Europe, Africa and Asia will arrive in the United States to spend a year living with American families across the country.

This exchange of students has been taking place annually for 25 years since Youth for Understanding was founded in Ann Arbor in 1951. Students have been hosted by Northville families for many years in the program.

"Youth for Understanding exchange students may enter our country as strangers," states Mr. Yasinski, "but they leave, each and every one of them, as members of their American families."

For details on becoming a host family to an exchange student who will arrive this summer, contact Mrs. Norman Endahl, 37840 Ladywood, Livonia, 464-2420.

Hines Park Bikers To Aid Diabetics

Bikers may enter the 20-mile ride at any of four checkpoints located at Haggerty, Ann Arbor Trail, Merriman Road and Woodbine at any time of the day. They may ride as many miles as they wish. Each rider must have an official sponsor form to be eligible for prizes. Hot dogs and pop donated by Lum's Restaurants and Faygo Beverages will be served to all official riders throughout the day and coupons for hamburgers and pop will be distributed by Jack-in-the-Box Restaurants. A special feature of the day will be the participation of the Michigan chapter of the High Wheelers. Members of the group will kick off the event and have pledged to ride at least 100 miles during the day.

29 Brownies Fly-up

Twenty-nine Brownies from four troops meeting at Amerman Elementary School officially became Girl Scouts in a fly-up ceremony May 21. They received their fly-up wings and scout pins at the program in which the school's two Junior Scout troops assisted. Punch and Girl Scout cookies were served at the reception.

Flying up from Brownie Troop 220 were Shannon Near, Nicky Forman, Katrine Powell, Stephanie Chesney, Laura Goscinski, Kim Richcreek and Maggie Conley. From Brownie Troop 134 were Diane Beaber, Marianne Broasch, Lisa Anderson, Terri Campbell, Lisa Merritt, Katy Lindenberg, Kathy Lilburn and Karen Leech.

State Gets 5 Bids

The Eisenhour Construction Company of East Lansing was lowest of five bidders for paving four miles of Interstate 96 (I-275) Freeway in Oakland and Wayne counties, the Department of State Highways and Transportation announced last week.

The $4.4 million project is scheduled for completion in December, 1976. The eight-lane divided freeway between Five Mile Road and Nine Mile Road in Livonia, Northville Township and Farmington Township will be repaved along with ramps at the Six Mile, Seven Mile and Eight Mile interchanges. The highway department also selected a bid of $2.2 million from Ministrelli Construction Company of Novi to reconstruct Six Mile Road between Merriman and Inkster roads in Livonia and Redford Township. All bids were rejected on a project for construction of 1.7 miles of M-14 Freeway near Plymouth in Wayne County with new bid-taking scheduled for a later date.

The ladies met at the home of Lucy Needham last Thursday for a luncheon. Following was a short business meeting. They set the date of August 18 for a picnic for the patients at the Huron Park. Reports were also heard from their participation in the Memorial Day parade.

As it rescinded approval of a two-into-three lot split for Robert Lupini at a special meeting June 2, Northville Township Board of Trustees agreed ruefully that it should have heeded recommendation of its planning commission.

Although planners had recommended denial on the basis that the division into three lots of property of Lupini at 18432 Dicksey did not conform to requirements, the board agreed to do so as the resulting lots would be as large as some on adjoining Ridge Court.

There also appeared to be no opposition to the request with no neighbors objecting. There were plenty of objections at last week's meeting, however, and the board was presented a petition by Richard Willis and signed by 15 property owners. Mrs. Willis said she had called the township and been told no action would be taken at the May meeting, and, therefore, no property owners attended.

Supervisor Betty Lennox reported that the split had not been recorded by Wayne County yet and that the township attorney said the action could be reconsidered. Lupini objected, stating he already had sold one lot and had taken initial action toward building a home on it by sinking a well.

Dr. John Swiencowski spoke for the board when he observed that "there's no way the board's going to come out looking good on this, but the only criteria for such a split, undue hardship, has not been proved."

OK Testing Program By Novi Board

Without much discussion, Novi School Board Thursday approved a districtwide testing program which includes additional testing programs at Novi High School.

Beginning in the fall of 1976, a 20 percent sample of the tenth and twelfth grades will be administered the Stanford Achievement Test.

According to the Novi administration, hopefully conclusions can be drawn as to how well Novi High School students are doing compared to others based upon national, state and local norms and where Novi's program offerings should be strengthened.

Approximate cost of the testing would be $1 per student for the 85-90 who would be taking the test. Recommendation to administer the test was made by the Novi High School Parents Advisory Council. In addition, the board approved a testing program which includes tests on various levels from kindergarten to grade twelve.

Schoolcraft College Millage Deserves Your Support

Schoolcraft College has placed a modest millage proposal on the ballot for Monday, June 14, 1976. It is for 53-100 of a mill increase (53 cents per $1,000 State Equalized Valuation). Approval will generate money for both general operations and for debt services.

For residents of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth, we cannot think of a better way to invest ½ mill. The college has served these school districts since 1964. That many have been served well is best illustrated by Schoolcraft's phenomenal growth:

The college has had no voted millage increase since 1966. It has operated on 1.77 mills plus a small levy for debt service. Schoolcraft has consistently maintained high quality instruction at reasonable costs, but just raised tuition 19 percent in light of current economic conditions.

The college today has reached a critical point in its history. Quite simply, it needs new money if it is to continue to provide the programs and services so many wish to have. It also needs new money for expansion so it may serve others as well.

Schoolcraft College has a demonstrated record of balanced budgets and sound fiscal management. It is an investment made collectively by residents of the college district, and one which deserves your support through a Yes Vote on Monday, June 14, 1976.

—Citizens for Schoolcraft College

P.S. Incidentally, your tax increase will be very small—approximately $13 for a $50,000 home, less state and federal tax credits.
