Allen Terrace Contract Is Modified

Civil Rights Suit Names Northville

A charge of discrimination brought against the Northville Board of Education could cost the Northville district some $25,000 — not counting legal fees.

The charge, a class action suit filed by the NEA on behalf of female coaches, is presently being investigated by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission and the civil rights section of the House Education and Welfare (HEW) department, and a hearing is expected to be held soon.

The case involves pay for female coaches versus male coaches. Teachers contend that, contrary to law, pay for male coaches has been consistently greater than for female coaches doing the same level of work.

According to teacher spokesman Barbara LeBeauf, the discrimination is "so blatantly obvious, we're confident the ruling will be in our favor."

But what really angers Ms. LeBeauf, girls' coaches, the Parade Tune-up

It's still a couple weeks away, but Northville's annual July 4 parade is shaping up to be "the best ever," say sponsoring Northville Jaycees. Among the participants will be these four youngsters, who are tuning up for their

Independent 'Clerk' To Be Hired by City

A contract with the architectural firm of Kamp-DiComo Associates has been modified to provide for an independent field supervisor in the building of Allen Terrace senior citizens apartments.

Northville City Council approved the modification Monday following receipt of a letter from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, which indicated it had approved the general concept of utilizing the architectural firm but it advised the hiring of an independent field supervisor.

Under the previous city-approved arrangement the supervisor was to be hired by the architect. Now, however, the city will hire him.

Payment for the services of Kamp-DiComo will be reduced by the amount to be paid to the field supervisor. Thus, total cost to the city is to remain the same as originally contracted.

Kamp-DiComo, architect for the apartment complex to be built on the hillside of the former Eastlawn Convalescent Center property, has been hired under an "extended services" arrangement to provide those kinds of services normally provided by a general contractor.

In the construction of the complex, the city will assume the role of general contractor with the architect serving as the city's agent.

Total fee for the basic services, under the revised contract, is not to exceed $184,000 — less the cost of the supervisor.

The supervisor, who will serve "as sort of a clerk of the works", is to be on the site daily to inspect progress and keep the city informed of any difficulties involving work of subcontractors. His service is seen as a way of avoiding any possible conflict of interest

For Northville Schools

Hire Two Administrators

Two Farmington residents have been named to fill top administrative posts with the Northville school systems.

They are Burton Knighton, Ph.D., who will become the new director of personnel, replacing Ronald Horwath, and Nancy Soper, who will become the director of instruction, replacing Miss Florence Panattoni.

Dr. Knighton, currently executive director of the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies, Inc., has been tentatively scheduled to begin work in mid-July, while Ms. Soper will assume her duties beginning July 1.

Ms. Soper, who will receive her Ph.D. in general administration this coming fall at Wayne State University, is now curriculum coordinator for the Wayne-Westland School District.

Both of them have been placed on the 1976-77 level 9, step 3 salary schedule and will receive the 1975-76 pay scale of $26,044, with upward adjustments if the new salary schedule so indicates.

Both were appointed last week by unanimous vote of the school board, following a report by Superintendent Raymond Spear on the selection process leading to his recommendation for their appointment.

According to Spear, a total of 151 applications were received for the two posts — 80 of them for director of personnel and 71 for director of instruction.

After review of all of the applications and their statements of attitudes, beliefs and philosophies, the number of applicants was narrowed to 24 for director of instruction and to 18 for the director of personnel.

Prior to her retirement, Miss Panattoni reviewed the narrowed list of applicants and recommended her top seven and 10 choices. Each of these choices was interviewed by a committee of principals, teachers and Miss Panattoni.

The committee recommendations then went back to the superintendent, who rescreened all of the top 42 applicants before making his final recommendations. Spear said the two appointees were top choices of the interviewing committee, the board's personnel subcommittee, and himself. "Both," he said, "have a great deal to offer Northville schools and are well experienced and qualified to hold the posts."

Dr. Knighton, who received his B.S. and M.A. degrees at Wayne State University and his Ph.D. at the University of Michigan, has 10 years teaching experience, 14 years of administrative work. He has been with the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies, a consulting agency for Michigan schools, for the past six years — four years as associate director and the last two years as executive director.

As executive director, he holds the titles of assistant professor of educational administration at U-M and associate professor at Wayne State where he lectures and occasionally teaches.

He has been an assistant principal and a principal of Detroit elementary and middle schools.

Married with three children, 48-year-old Dr. Knighton lives at 33920 State Street in Farmington.

Ms. Soper received her B.A. degree from Morehead State University (Kentucky), her M.A. degree from Michigan State University. A widow with no children, she has four years teaching experience, 11 years administration experience.

She has been with the Wayne-Westland school system for the past eight years — three years as elementary principal and five years in the curriculum department.

Ms. Soper lives at 25821 Livingston Court in Farmington Hills.

Miss Panattoni, who held the dual titles of assistant superintendent and director of instruction, has retired. Horwath, who is retiring from his administrative post probably will return to teaching at the Northville middle school level next fall.

Three other posts have yet to be filled. They are curriculum director, administrative assistant in the business area, and athletic director.

The curriculum director post is a new one that has been authorized but never filled during the past four years because of the district's financial condition.

The business manager post has been vacant since the resignation of Earl Bussard, although Thomas Goulding has been serving as a temporary replacement with an administrative assistant title. Rather than appoint a single business manager, the board probably will create a second administrative RESIGNATION of Francis Gazlay from the city planning commission and the zoning board of appeals was regrettably accepted by the city council this week. Gazlay had served a combined total of 15 years on the two bodies. He seeks more time to devote to restoration of the Mill Race Historical Village. A replacement probably will be named late in July. Gazlay retains his seat on the Northville Historical District Commission.

RIGHT TURN ON RED has been ordered for northbound Center Street traffic at Eight Mile Road following a traffic investigation by the police department. The order of the city council will permit motorists to turn east on Eight Mile on a red light after stopping and determining that they can proceed safely.

CITY MANAGER Steven Walters has been authorized to notify tenants of the city-owned house at 136 East Cady to vacate the property. Authorization carries with it permission to have the house demolished at the most appropriate time.

A SPECIAL MEETING of Northville Township board of trustees is set for 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 29, at the board offices at 16300 Sheldon Road. Supervisor Betty Lennox reports that the board is expected to confirm appointment of a building inspector. Study of the millage proposal also is on the agenda.

NEXT regular meeting of the Northville City Council has been set for Thursday, July 1, replacing the meeting originally scheduled for July 5.

Rezoning Problem Nears Solution

Cure for a city zoning headache appears to be in the offing this week following resumption and another adjournment of a public hearing.

The matter involves the Walnut Street property of Harry Larkin and that of his neighbor.

Larkin's property is up for rezoning from a professional office classification to the residential designation it originally held.

A recommendation by a split vote of the planning commission suggests the rezoning.

Originally, the property was zoned residential, but last year when the city council overruled the position of the planning commission by rezoning the Hammond property (southwest corner of Center and Walnut) from residential to PO it also rezoned the adjacent Walnut property of Larkin and his neighbor.

Later, when planners recommended the return of the property back to the residential classification, Larkin objected. This week with resumption of the 17,800,000 Gallons

It's A Record!

Northville Township water users broke all records for water usage early this month as an average of two-and-a-half million gallons a day was pumped during the week of June 4 through 11.

"People were sprinkling to save their lawns during the hot, dry spell," notes Mrs. Frances Mattison, manager of the township sewer and water department.

During the period a record 17,800,000 gallons was pumped. The previous high, recorded last year, was 15,800,000 gallons in a week.

Supervisor Betty Lennox points out that usage generally is up, partly due to such new developments as the Seven Mile Road shopping center, but the early June record-breaker, township officials feel, was due to increased water use by individual homeowners.

"We could see the new high coming," Mrs. Mattison says, "as the recorders in the office were pumping at peak all the time."

The records have shown high but not peak use this past week, she adds, mentioning that there has been enough rain for many to reduce lawn sprinkling.

The water is purchased from the Detroit Metro Water Department with bills going out quarterly to township users.

The next billing, the end of this month, will reflect this record use, Mrs. Mattison warns.

50 Year Old Poem Recalls Meaker Vows

By JEAN DAY

FIFTY YEARS AGO, when Mary Fuller became the bride of Merritt F. Meaker, her father composed a poem comparing his household to the bird's nest in the front yard and telling that "now the last little bird has left the tree."

A. E. Fuller's poem, written the night of June 10, 1926, was published in The Record and the yellow newspaper clipping was saved by his daughter.

It was brought out as the couple, now retired and living in Noblesville, Indiana, marked the golden milestone at an open house Sunday, June 13, in the First Friends Church of Noblesville. Women of the church served cake and punch from a decorated table.

Relatives and friends from Michigan, New York and the state of Washington were among the many who honored the couple. Hosts were the Meakers' two children, Merritt Meaker of Dearborn and Helen Bowser of Cicero, Indiana.

A COMBINED couple shower and engagement party was given for Beverly Spiker and Russell Kelly Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Casterline II at their Rogers Street home. Mrs. Dennis Spiker assisted with the brunch for 15 couples and family members honoring her daughter and future son-in-law. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kelly.

The couple will exchange vows in a candlelight service this Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiating. A reception will follow at Meadowbrook Country Club.

A special contribution to the brunch was made by Beverly's brother, Fred, a student in the culinary arts program at Schoolcraft College and assistant to the pastry chef at the new Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn. He made the flower-decorated pastel petit fours. The torte dessert was made by Leonard Stec, instructor at Schoolcraft who also is making the wedding cake.

A special earlier was honored at a bridal fete given by Mrs. Dean Lenheiser for the bride-elect to meet Mrs. Kelly's friends. Her three sisters, who will be her attendants, were among the guests. Matron of honor will be Valeria Junod with Gwen Ascher and Carole Spiker serving as bridesmaids. Bill French is to be best man with Bill and Tim Kelly ushering for their brother.

CONVENTIONS in lavish locations are providing a travel lure for area residents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burkman have just returned from the meeting of the Associated Credit Bureau of America held in the Hyatt Regency Hotel in San Francisco. The entrance and lobby, Ruth Burkman reports, were abloom with white chrysanthemums in rows 30 feet long and 12 feet wide. The plants, she was informed, are changed every four days to keep their fresh appearance.

This is the hotel that is famous at Christmas for its masses of poinsettias. In their five-day visit the Burkman included a 49-mile scenic drive of the bay area.

Mrs. Russell Atchison this week is attending the bi-yearly national convention of Delta Gamma sorority. It is being held in the new Hallmark Center in Kansas City, Missouri. The center with 100 specialty shops and an unusual stone waterfall is reportedly reviving a depressed area of that city.

well as petunia and pansy plants around restored buildings.

"A little rain and a little sun and it will look good for the Fourth," hopes Mrs. Hoffmann, who credits troop mothers Mrs. Marlene Shott and Karen Olsen with organizing and helping with the project.

Girl Scout float plans for the July 4 parade are reported well under way this week, but there's a call out for additional assistance. Girl Scout organizations or individuals not contacted are urged to call Yvonne Isaacson at 349-3192.

Still needed is a Junior Girl Scout to ride on the float along with other girls to be involved in related activity behind the float. A leader or someone who has a leader's uniform also is sought.

A GARAGE or yard sale that can promise more than 1,000 visitors is the tempting offer of Gail Norback of Northville Historical Society who is selling space at the Mill Race Village for July 4.

"Anybody who wants to hold her yard sale here can contact me and have space at a nominal price by crafts workers and antique dealers," she says. She may be contacted at 349-0294.

The Northville Historical Society itself for the second year will be holding a white elephant sale at the village on the holiday. Anyone wishing to donate items to help make the event a success is asked to bring them to the village any Saturday between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. or to the home of chairman Nancy Bohn at 220 North Wing Street at any convenient time.

In addition to the booth items, she reveals, a selection of interior and exterior doors will be for sale. "Some are old and some are new," she explains, suggesting that anyone needing a door, measure the frame beforehand and ask for details at the society's booth.

There also are special donations to be awarded July 4. They include a rocking chair from Stone's Unfinished Furniture, a brass rubbing by Mrs. Bohn, a handwoven basket by Helen Maki, a toy from the Moonkins, jewelry from Claire Kelly, a $10 gift certificate from the Sunflower Shop and one from the Barn Door Antiques, a hanging plant from the Garden Barn and a weekend for two at the Plymouth Hilton. Tickets are available from society members, the Sunflower Shop and Black's Hardware.

A BENEFIT garage sale given last Saturday and Sunday by Thelma Goleski at 601 Orchard Drive yielded $125.62 for cancer research. Mrs. Goleski reports that she donated the proceeds through Hutzel Hospital chapter of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Everyone attending the special sale was given an opportunity to win a new Timex watch with a special band made by a cancer patient. Lucky recipient was Ruth Pietila, a Salem Township resident.

Couples Exchange Vows, Rings in Church Ceremonies

Wallace-Pieknik

A honeymoon to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands followed the exchange of vows and rings by Michele Elizabeth Wallace and Stephen Anthony Pieknik.

The altar of St. Simon and Jude Catholic Church in Westland was banked with arrangements of gladioli, mums, carnations, daisies, baby's breath and ferns for the 4 p.m. ceremony June 5.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Wallace, Jr., of 46103 Grand River in Novi.

Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pieknik of Westland.

Father Andrew Nieckarz officiated at the ceremony in which the bride offered a bouquet of carnations and baby's breath to the blessed Virgin Mary.

Kathy Mazurek was organist, playing "The Wedding Song" as the bride came down the aisle. Other selections were "Annie's Song" by John Denver, "I Honestly Love You," "Theme from Romeo and Juliet," "I Love How You Love Me," and "Mother at Thy Feet We're Kneeling."

The bride's polyester organza gown was trimmed with Venice lace at the neckline, on the cape sleeves, waistline, and around the ruffled hemline. Matching appliques adorned the entire gown.

The bride designed and made her three-tier cathedral-length veil of illusion edged with matching lace and adorned with appliques and seed pearls. It was held by an applique headpiece.

White roses, lily of the valley, baby's breath and fern formed her large cascading bouquet.

Cristina Tyler was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Jackie Kirchenbauer, sister of the bride; Paulette Gipp, sister of the bridegroom; Christina Pieknik, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Kathi Simmons, Dawn Tian, Andrea Pieknik; junior bridesmaid was Patrice Pieknik. The latter two are sisters of the bridegroom.

Heather Lynn Hurlburt was flower girl for her aunt.

Bridal attendants wore powder blue polyester knit gowns, with v-neck halters and chiffon capes, and blue picture hats. They carried spring flower bouquets tied with streamers.

The junior bridesmaids and flower girl were in short-sleeved blue chiffon gowns with fresh flower headpieces. They carried baskets of spring flowers.

Steven Skindell was best man. Ushers were David Kirchenbauer; John Gipp; Gary Pieknik, cousin of the bridegroom; and Phillip, John and Christopher Pieknik, brothers of the bridegroom.

Jeffrey Kaloustian was ring bearer.

A family tradition was continued as the bride and her father were driven to the church by Louis Pavlovich.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Pruss-Szelong Hall on Joy Road. More than 370 people attended with out-of-town guests from Peoria, Illinois; Richmond, Virginia; Van Wert, Ohio; Coldwater, Michigan and from Florida.

Bridal reception table was decorated with silver candelabra with fresh flowers. Polish and Armenian music was played by the "Ravin Blue" band.

The six-tier cake was surrounded with 12 smaller cakes with a water fountain in the middle of the arrangement decorated with pastel flowers. The cake was made by Leonard Stec.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Northville High. She is employed by Columbia Pictures in Southfield. Her husband is a 1972 Franklin High School graduate. He attended Schoolcraft College and is employed by Consolidated Gas Company as a mechanical-electrical draftsman.

They are making their home in Dearborn.

nuptial mass June 11 for which the couple wrote personal vows.

The double ring rites included a candle-lighting ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Higgins, Jr., of 46180 West Main Street in Northville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James William Hoose, Sr., of Southfield.

Because of the illness of the bride's father, she was given in marriage by her brothers, William Higgins, III, and Thomas Higgins.

Flowers were entwined in the altar candelabra which were tied with large white bows.

Accompanied by guitars, Karen Garrett, the bride's roommate, sang, "Brian's Song," "Today" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's gown of ivory organza over taffeta was adorned with Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. It was fashioned on Victorian lines with stand-up collar and full sleeves gathered into cuffs fastened with tiny, covered buttons that also were used down the back of the gown.

Ivory lace edged the Juliet cap and illusion veil.

The gown previously had been worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. Alan W. Hughes, who came from Glendale, Arizona, to serve as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. William C. Higgins III, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Kathleen Fallon. All wore peach knit, empire-style gowns trimmed with matching lace.

The bride, a graduate of South Lyon High School, is a student in the RN nursing program at Madonna College in Livonia. Her husband is employed at Plymouth Plating Company.

Holly-Maguire

Of interest here is the marriage in Las Vegas, Nevada, of Maureen C. Holly of that city to William G. Maguire of Plymouth.

It was an event of May 29 in St. Francis de Sales Church there.

The bridegroom is a 1971 graduate of Northville High School and is the son of John T. Maguire of Plymouth and of the late Mrs. Maguire.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Holly, Jr., of Las Vegas. She is a 1971 graduate of Clark High School in Las Vegas.

Both now are attending Mesa Junior College in San Diego, California. Both also served in the U.S. Navy.

For her wedding the bride wore a full-sleeved gown with tiny stand-up collar edged with a ruffle. Her full-length veil of illusion was outlined with lace medallions.

Debra Johnson was her matron of honor.

John Jerome of Novi was best man with Charles and John Holly serving as groomsmen and ushers.

bride's home followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C., the newlyweds are making their home at 6373 Lake Albano in San Diego.

Jaycees Promise Gala Days Will Be Biggest Ever

"Bigger and better than ever," is the promise for this year's Gala Days, sponsored by the Novi Jaycees.

John Lee, Jaycees chairman, expects crowds of more than 15,000 people to attend the four-day summer festival, which will run from Thursday, June 24 through Sunday, June 27.

In a new location this year, Gala Days will be held on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Haggerty Roads on property donated by Morris Lapham and Maureen Nacker.

There is no admission fee to the grounds which will open at 5:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday and noon Saturday and Sunday, until midnight each evening.

Sixteen rides will line the midway, and special events, including karate exhibitions, motorcycle shows and a fireworks display are planned.

The official Bicentennial Benjamin Franklin will visit Gala Days Saturday from 12 to 3 p.m. He will be available to pose for souvenir pictures by local shutterbugs. Mike Alecia, of the Novi Lions, says "Franklin" has worked at Greenfield Village and will portray the popular American statesman at Independence Day ceremonies in Philadelphia.

A first this year is the pinball tent which will house 25 machines.

Various community groups will operate other games of skill, with prizes for the winners.

Merchants will offer jewelry, T-shirts and crafts.

Live entertainment has been arranged by the Novi Lions for their ever-popular food and beer tent. In addition, the Lions will give away a 1976 Ford Granada Sunday at 8 p.m.

"With the money we are planning to draw from Gala Days, the Novi Jaycees have many more community betterment programs planned, such as the Welcome to Novi signs put up in prior years," Lee said.

Scheduled special events are as follows:

Thursday — A karate exhibition at 8 p.m.

Friday — Motorcycle shows at 6 and 8 p.m., presented by Action Cycle of Walled Lake.

Saturday — Karate shows at noon and 3 p.m. Motorcycle shows at 4, 6 and 7:30 p.m. Fireworks, presented by the Committee Proposes Two New Fire Houses

Two new fire stations and four new vehicles will be the top priority items for the fire department capital equipment millage.

In a report submitted to City Council Monday, the Novi Fire Department Planning Committee recommended a three-year purchasing program to expand and improve the city's fire protection services.

The committee, chaired by G. Brent Canup, was responsible to recommend expenditures from a one-mill levy for the fire department. Income over the three-year duration of the millage is estimated to be $500,000.

Land, buildings and vehicles recommended in the report will cost an estimated $415,000.

For the year 1976-77, the committee suggests purchase of two parcels of land, one in the southeast section of Novi, and one in the northwest section of the city.

It also proposes that two 1500-gallon tankers be ordered, on which there is a lead time of one year before delivery.

In the 1977-78 year, the committee recommends building a new station on the southeast parcel and the order of a full-sized, 750-gallon pumper.

In the final year covered by the report, 1978-79, the second station would be built and a 250-gallon attack pumper would be purchased.

The report listed four possible locations for the southeast station. At the top of the list was the Meadowbrook and Chatham area. Other suggested locations, in order of preference, were Nine Mile and the railroad tracks and Ten Mile and Meadowbrook.

Gordon Appleton, a fire department lieutenant, and a member of the committee, said that accessibility to population and schools was the most important consideration in choosing a site.

Estimated cost of an acre of land in the southeast area is $30,000.

Only one location is recommended for the northwest area fire station and that is West Lake and South Lake. Land cost there is estimated to be $25,000 per acre.

The committee explained its reasoning for not recommending a new fire station in the southwest section of Novi:

"It was felt by the members of this committee that because Fire Station No. 1 (Novi Road) would be relieved of much of its present load and because its equipment would be updated, that this station would adequately serve the needs of the residents west of Novi Road until such time as funds became available for a station in that area," the report said.

A drawing with a recommended design for all future fire stations was submitted with the report. It calls for a 40-foot by 70-foot building with two bays. Buildings will be constructed to allow expansion on one side.

Each station will cost an estimated $100,000 and should require a year of construction time.

A breakdown of the $160,000 vehicle expenditures proposed in the committee report estimated the cost of each of the two recommended tankers at $35,000. The pumper will cost approximately $65,000 and the attack pumper, $25,000. Equipment such as pumps and hoses for the trucks and furnishings for the stations were also included in the report. No detailed cost estimates for these items were given, but Canup told the council that when all such incidentals are bought, expenditures would be "pretty close" to the $500,000 budget.

Accessories for the new stations, including cleaning supplies and tools, will be paid for by the city general fund.

Members of the citizen's committee were Canup, Nat Adams, Audrey Murphy, Fire Chief Duane Bell, Appleton and Greg Wisner, firemen's association president.

Council accepted the report as a guideline for future action.

Call Forum On Freeway

A public meeting to discuss the proposed route of the new M-275 freeway from I-96 to M-59 will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, June 24, in the auditorium of Walled Lake Western High School, 600 Beck Road, Walled Lake.

The meeting, called by the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, will update the public on the freeway study and environmental impact statement.

Homeowners Face Higher Water Bills

Water rates in Novi will go up 46 percent effective July 1, reflecting recent increases by the City of Detroit.

Novi City Council unanimously passed a resolution Monday raising the cost of 1000 gallons of water from 50 cents to 74 cents. Equipment and service fees were increased in the same resolution.

The Detroit Metro Water Department, which supplies Novi, raised its rates to the suburbs 39 percent May 1.

In a memo to council, Fred D. Todd, finance director said, "A rate adjustment is mandatory in order to maintain financial stability within our Water Fund."

Todd noted that this was the first increase in Novi water rates since 1967. He said a 1972 rate hike by Detroit was absorbed by the Novi Water Fund.

Councilwoman Romaine Roethel said she would like to see the new rates reconsidered if the suburbs win a lawsuit against Detroit over the latest water price increases.

The new rates were calculated by estimating a usage of 400 million gallons in the coming year. To the 41.5 cents per 1000 gallons charged by Detroit, water loss costs, operating expenses and bond payments were added.

Todd estimates water loss at 1.5 percent.

Accident Victim

Hundreds Mourn Novi High Student

Nearly 200 people, many of them classmates and teachers, attended the funeral of Peter Donald Meyer Thursday.

Meyer, who liked to be called "Pete", was 17 and a student at Novi High School.

He was riding his bicycle near his home on Novi Road, June 14, when he was struck and killed by a passing truck.

Meyer had completed his junior year and planned to be a mechanic, like his father. He was an honor student who enjoyed his small engines class most of all.

At the time of the accident, Meyer was riding home from his summer job at RJ Engineering Company on Ten Mile Road. He worked as a groundskeeper there, planting flowers and cutting the grass.

Viola Meyer, Pete's mother, described him as a boy who loved the outdoors. He enjoyed gardening and was an avid bird-watcher. At the family's cottage in northern Michigan, he liked to water ski and snowmobile. He had planned a backpacking trip on the Appalachian Trail this summer.

Meyer attended Novi schools, beginning first grade at Orchard Hills. He was a member of the tennis club and at one time had played coronet in the band.

His counselor, Gloria Soulliere, said he was a likeable boy who always had a smile and a "hi" when she met him in the hall.

Meyer's favorite indoor activities were chess and reading. His mother said he was a "bookworm" who visited the library once a week, and that librarians at the high school were going to dedicate a book to him.

Heinrich Meyer, Pete's father, is employed in the service department of Severs Cadillac in Detroit. Mr. Meyer had hoped the dealership would sponsor Pete for training at G.M. Tech Center.

Meyer had four brothers and a sister, all living at home.

Heinrich, Jr., 21 studies electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology and also works as a supervisor at United Parcel Service.

Thomas, 19, is employed by WWJ Form Tool Company.

Mark, 16, will begin 11th grade at Novi High School in the fall. Dianne, 13, will enter ninth grade and Douglas, 7, will be a second grader.

The Meyer family resides at 23623 Novi Road.

Meyer's paternal grandmother, Lottchen Jobe, lives in Brighton.

Presiding at the funeral was the Reverend Dale Gross, pastor of the Milford Baptist Chapel. Services were held at the Ted C. Sullivan Funeral Home in Novi with burial at Parkview Memorial Cemetery in Livonia.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole led the 40-car funeral procession.

GALA DAYS 1975—This was the scene at last year's Gala Days festivities as thousands of residents flocked to the site for the rides as well as other activities. The midway is expected to be even bigger at this year's event, which for the first time will be located in a field at 10 Mile and Haggerty Roads. The festivities, sponsored by the Novi Jaycees, will be held Thursday, June 24 through Sunday, June 27.

Cost Savings Expected

Board Buys 'Boss' System

Approval of purchase of the power management "Boss" system for the new Novi High School was approved by the Novi School Board Thursday.

Winning the bid was Gillis Electric of Livonia which bid $75,900 and will be installing Honeywell Equipment. Honeywell Equipment bid $78,340.

Low bid was from Systems Technology of Detroit which bid $61,690 with similar equipment.

Intent of purchasing the equipment is to provide a cost savings in operation through efficient management of the power systems including heat within the new high school. The estimate was that with either system a 14 percent cost savings could be realized over a traditional school not equipped.

Gillis Electric, which is doing on site work, was able to install the Honeywell equipment for less than Honeywell because it was already at the site and could do the installation at lower cost.

The decision to go with Gillis over Systems Technology was based upon the fact that Systems Technology is a small company and the administration questioned the certainty that the company would be around when the other schools in the district are added onto the system. Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr indicated that interphasing of equipment would be easier and with fewer problems when the company that installed the original equipment is able to do the other equipment.

The equipment will actually be purchased by the schools with monitoring provided by the district. Additional personnel are not expected to be needed.

Cost of the system is to come from the 1974 building and site fund. The board received a report which indicated an unencumbered balance of $975,000. However, as member James Helmer pointed out, the second elementary school that the district promised to purchase with the bond issue has not been built and is estimated to cost $1.5 million.

Member Joel Colliau replied that "The new high school is incomplete in its facilities. We owe to this community a complete high school. We have existing property that when sold will give us a substantial amount of money. I think we can come

School Board Offers Bike Trail Funds

The Novi School Board has requested that $12,000 of the $28,000 it is contributing toward the paving of Taft Road be used for bicycle paths along Taft Road.

Approval of the resolution came after Clara Porter representing Novi Parks and Recreation and the Novi Bicycle Path Committee asked the school board for the money. The $12,000 was the price tag for the bike paths which were dropped by Novi City Council from the Taft Road paving bids the previous Monday.

The $12,000 would pay for an eight foot wide paved shoulder. Council had indicated several reasons for not approving the expenditure including the question of taking away funds from the overall road paving program as approved by voters.

"I think a life is worth more than $12,000," said Mrs. Porter.

Dr. Gerald Kratz, superintendent of schools, pointed out that the road bonding monies must be used for roads and not for bike paths. Member James Helmer moved that the school board offering of $10 a front foot over 10 years be revised to allow immediate expenditure to the city of $12,000 for the bike paths.

Square Dance Groups Thrive on 'Fun and Exercise'

By JEAN DAY

"Grand right and left, bow to the corner lady and honor your partners all!"

These traditional square dance calls are issued regularly here as more and more people are getting their exercise and having a lot of fun doing so at old-fashioned dances.

In addition to three square dance groups meeting in Northville there have been special country-dancing events sponsored by PTAs and a swim club square dance.

Air conditioning is making it comfortable for square dance enthusiasts to continue gathering through summer at the weekly sessions at Northville Square at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays.

This actually is a square dance workshop, says caller Mike Trombly, who explains it is composed of dancers with experience.

"It's really modern western square dancing for people who have been dancing for 30 weeks or more and want good sessions to brush-up on their skills," says Trombly who would be happy to add a beginners' group in the fall.

In addition to the square dance workshop, the newest such group, there is a family square dance club that is about 17 years old and a three-year-old adult square dance group.

Five times a year the family square dance club meets at First Presbyterian Church in Northville, beginning the evening with a potluck dinner. Afterward, Dave Palmer issues the calls as fathers dance with daughters and mothers with sons.

Mixer country dances also are called. After a songfest intermission, more intricate squares are called for older children and parents.

"It's been good for our children and the only real dancing exercise they've had," says Mrs. I.M. McLeod, who has served on the five-member committee that collects dues, sets up a work schedule and reserves the church.

Mrs. Douglas Smith, just finishing as president of the group, mentions that "the singing part probably is an unusual addition to most square dance evenings." It's one of the most popular parts with the younger children, they report.

There has been a trend to families with younger children joining the group, which first met in an area barn and was composed of families with young teens.

One thing that hasn't changed is the full roster. Membership is limited to 30 families and there's a waiting list.

Mrs. Harry Cikanek, who served on this year's planning committee, points out that the waiting list isn't surprising as those belonging receive five evenings of fun for their $16 a year family membership.

Since many families drop out as their children grow older, some of the parents who enjoyed the exercise and potluck sociability formed an adult square dance group in the spring of 1973.

"We called all former members who had expressed an interest," recalls Mrs. Orin Hove, who organized the adult club with Mrs. Glenn Deibert.

It began meeting four times a year at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, but members "enjoyed getting exercise this way so much they increased it to five," adds Mrs. Hove.

Ron Seim of Westland is the caller.

"Everybody seems to enjoy him. The dances are not too complicated as we always have guests and new people," Mrs. Hove explains. The group concluded its year last Saturday with a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bretz.

"I can't talk highly enough about it," enthuses Mrs. Kenneth Rathert. The Ratherts and the William Mahers headed the group for the past year.

"It's fun and challenging but not a 'pro' group," Doris Rathert says, stressing that the club is non-denominational, as is the family square dance club, and rents meeting space in the church.

Members say they're already looking forward to the first fall meeting set for September 18. The adult dances are scheduled for the first Saturdays of November, February, March and April. Membership is $15 a couple yearly.

There are a few openings in the adult club for couples who would like to "come for fun and exercise," says Mrs. Hove, noting that "we always lose a few couples during football season."

Like the family club, the adult group begins the evening with a potluck dinner and conversation.

Area couples interested may call the new chairmen, Mrs. Thomas Curl or Mrs. Warren Stoddard, or Mrs. Rathert.

Caller Trombly may be reached at 464-2375 for information about the Northville Square dances.

These, Shirley Jallad, publicity chairman for the square, explains, are less structured as dancers "go as they choose and pay for each session attended."

SQUARE FUN—Obeying the calls of Mike Trombly are Evelyn Ling of Randolph Street and Nathan H. Siegel, a Highland Lakes resident. Both are square dance enthusiasts who don western garb for the weekly workshop sessions held in the community room of Northville Square.

Escapees from Northville State Hospital Sought

Michigan State Police are still seeking at least six mental patients assigned to Northville State Hospital who escaped custody during the past week. Two male patients escaped while making appearances in court.

Considered possibly dangerous, a male patient escaped while in a Detroit court on June 14. On June 15 a second patient considered dangerous escaped custody while at Detroit Recorder's Court.

Another patient escaped from hospital grounds on June 15. He was last seen at 1:20 p.m. Michigan state police said the subject should be considered dangerous.

The exact time of escape is unknown for two male patients who left the hospital grounds June 16. Both are considered dangerous and are being sought by authorities.

On June 18 another Northville State Hospital patient, also considered dangerous, escaped the grounds at an unknown time.

A court committed male patient failed to return to the hospital facility after being given a one day pass. The man has been missing since June 17 and is considered harmless.

Michigan State Police are still seeking a 16-year-old youth referred to Hawthorn Center by the juvenile home. The youth walked away from the center at approximately 9:30 a.m. June 14.

A woman prisoner of the Detroit House of Correction is still being sought following her escape June 16. The woman was serving 2½ to 5 years for attempted breaking and entering.

A male patient of Northville State Hospital considered extremely dangerous failed to return to the facility following the issuance of a one day pass. Previous to the patient's commitment to the hospital, he had killed three men with his bare hands. The patient, however, did return to the facility on his own volition later the next day.

On the lighter side, Michigan State Police were called to St. John's Seminary at Five Mile and Sheldon Roads in the early morning hours of June 18. The priests reported a disturbance on the grounds.

The intruders told the priests they wanted to "talk with God."

In Northville...

A 15-year-old Northville youth was arrested, charged with breaking and entering and lodged at the Wayne County Youth Home pending a hearing on the charge June 11. According to police, the youth was released by the juvenile court.

The youth was apprehended by Northville City Police as he was found hiding under a table in the Big Boy Restaurant. Police had responded to an alarm call at the restaurant at 12:52 a.m.

The officers found the rear door to the alley open and the manager's office broken into. After finding the youth and asked why he was in the restaurant, the youth replied, "You know why — money."

Six days later, the same youth was again arrested on charges of breaking and entering a residence on Carrington Street. The police were alerted by the sister of a second youth involved in the incident.

The second youth admitted his part in the theft and implicated the other boy. Police were able to recover most of the valuables, including a rifle, taken from the house. The items were found hidden in or around the two youths' homes.

Northville City Police are continuing their investigation of three breaking and entering to businesses in the Northville Square. All occurred between 9 p.m. June 15 and 7 a.m. June 16.

Police found entry was made through a door located on the first floor level that exited into an alleyway. The building alarm system had been disconnected.

A man arrested Memorial Day on I-96 for stealing tires from a broken-down car has been bound over for trial by the 52nd District Court. Nathaniel Hudson, 20, of Detroit will face arraignment in Circuit Court, July 1, on the charge of larceny from a motor vehicle, a felony.

Two other men arrested at the same time pleaded guilty to larceny under $100, a misdemeanor. They are Larry Williams, 17, and Kirkland Parker, 17, both of Detroit.

A young woman who was with the men at the time of their arrest was released without charge.

Police are investigating malicious destruction of property involving a car parked inside a garage in the 45300 block of 11 Mile Road. The car's owner, told Novi Police that it was damaged between June 10 and June 12. Estimated cost of repair is $519.

As the boy was checking the front door of the residence on Nalene Street he saw what appeared to be a lit candle in the living room. Shortly thereafter he heard someone running through the woods behind the house.

Police were summoned and a further check of the house showed several bedrooms had been ransacked. It was unknown if anything had been removed from the house.

Wixom Police later the same week were able to tie the breaking and entering to a sixteen-year-old Wixom juvenile and 17-year-old David Carroll of Walled Lake. The juvenile admitted to breaking into the home and implicated Carroll.

bond pending examination after appearing before Judge Gene Schnell in 52nd District Court.

A truck and contents of a U-Haul carry-all were totally destroyed in a fire on I-96 just west of Wixom Road at 1 a.m. June 14. Wixom Police were notified of the dense smoke coming from the storage area of the truck with the Wixom Fire Department responding to the scene.

The east bound slow lanes of the expressway were blocked until the fire was extinguished. Cause of the blaze was attributed to careless smoking earlier while loading the truck.

Emergency flashers on an unoccupied 1973 Cadillac parked in the employee parking area at Ford's drew the attention of a Wixom patrol unit last week.

On checking the license plates of the vehicle and finding the car stolen, Police impounded the car.

A few hours later, police were dispatched to Ford security where an employee was reporting the earlier impounded car stolen. The man told police the car was a loaner while his car was being repaired.

A 23-channel citizen's band radio was taken from a pickup truck parked in a front yard on Twelve Mile Road. The owner told police the radio was taken sometime between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. June 11.

Once again car thieves made a score from the employee parking lot at Ford's. A 1972 Lincoln Mark IV was reported stolen sometime between 5:15 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. June 15.

In Township...

A Lincoln Park man was seriously injured when his motorcycle went out of control early Sunday morning. Billy Moore was transported to St. Mary Hospital following the accident at Eight Mile and Griswold roads.

According to Northville Township Police, Moore travelling westbound on Eight Mile lost control of the cycle striking the curb of a traffic island. He then became airborne, striking a road sign. Measurements at the scene of the accident showed that Moore travelled some 293 feet before the point of impact.

After impact, Moore was thrown an additional 25 feet north of the vehicle. Further study disclosed that Moore had skidded 105 feet in the eastbound lane prior to striking the curb.

Another cyclist, 17-year-old Christopher Gaines of Neptune Court was injured when he lost control of his motorcycle at Five Mile Road and Park Lane early Monday morning.

Gaines' cycle left the pavement, went onto the gravel shoulder and rolled over. No other vehicles were involved in the accident.

A Northville Township woman making a left turn from Jamestown Circle onto Northville Road Sunday afternoon struck a motorcycle driven by Curt Olewnik of Wixom.

Witnesses told police the car driven by Lena Hammond pulled out in front of Olewnik who attempted to avoid the car but was struck by the left front fender. Olewnik was treated for injuries at St. Mary Hospital.

In yet another accident at Northville Road and Jamestown Circle, involving a car and bicycle, a 13-year-old Northville youngster was injured and taken to St. Mary Hospital. A friend riding on the handlebars of the bike received less serious injuries.

Witnesses to that accident said the boys suddenly cut across the road from the shoulder to the yellow dividing line. A car travelling southbound on Northville Road swerved but was unable to avoid hitting the bike.

A cleaning man at the Michigan National Bank was found to be the culprit in a series of small money thefts at the bank.

According to police, Ronald Finch of Detroit voluntarily told authorities he had taken money from the bank although he refused to make a written statement or give any further details regarding the incident.

Michigan National Bank officials told police the bank had been victimized by thefts of money for sometime. The bank was under surveillance by security guards in an attempt to stop those thefts.

Those security guards saw Finch leave the bank, go to his car and unlock the trunk with a second man standing nearby. At that time, Finch pulled the money from a box in the trunk and handed it to the man.

The man left the money and fled the location when the security guards approached. Finch was arrested and lodged pending his examination.

A Northville youngster was attacked at Meads Mill Middle School walk-way area

Friday by four unidentified youths. According to reports, the youths took the boy's bike and began to destroy it.

Damage was done to the front tire and rim, the gear shift, chain and hand brake.

A fiberglass row boat valued at $250 was taken from its mooring at Swan Harbor Lake. The owner said the boat was taken sometime between 6:30 p.m. June 11 and 6:30 p.m. June 16.

A sailboat valued at $120 that had been secured with a lock and chain to a dock at Swan Harbor Lake was stolen last week. The owner of the boat later found it at Silver Spring Lake totally destroyed.

For New Jail

Wayne Seeks Variances

Wayne County officials will seek variances from State and Detroit city building codes in order to use present design plans for a new 400-inmate downtown jail facility, according to John Barr, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

Barr said the decision to seek the exceptions was reached in a meeting of county officials and the project architects after a three-judge Circuit Court panel issued an "advisory opinion" that the plans must conform to the State and city codes.

Schematic drawings for the jail facility call for 52-square foot cells. The Detroit city building code requires residential rooms to have at least 70 square feet.

The schematic drawings also call for some dormitory accommodations, while the jail standards of the Michigan Department of Corrections require all single-person cells.

Barr said failure to win the exceptions to the two codes could force the Board of Commissioners to take another look at a twice-rejected proposal to convert a downtown warehouse into a jail facility, due to the "several million dollars" of additional cost of increasing the cell sizes in the planned new construction.

However, Barr said, "getting the exceptions to the code to fit our plan is the simplest, easiest approach."

"If the variances don't come through, if we're faced with erecting a $30 million building instead of the $20.6 million one we now plan, we will have to look at the

A residence on Seven Mile Road was broken into sometime between 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. June 14. During that time the intruders managed to take an antique clock, two rifles, ammunition and a container holding $90 in quarters and half dollars.

Total value of the missing items amounted to $500.

A ten-speed bicycle valued at $140 was reported stolen from a patio area behind a residence on Jamestown Circle. The unlocked bike was believed to have been taken between 6 p.m. June 18 and 9 a.m. June 19.

Michigan State Police activity within Northville Township during the month of May included the handling of 69 complaints, it was reported recently.

According to Lieutenant William Tomczyk, Plymouth Post commander, of the 69 complaints, 17 were closed by arrest with 26 cases pending. Of the remaining number, four were closed by exceptional clearance and 22 had other dispositions.

Included in the number investigated were two larceny charges, four accidents, seven assaults to other departments and one non-aggravated assault.

Others included two narcotics charges, one arson, one stolen automobile and two criminal sexual conduct cases.

To date, 321 complaints in Northville Township have been handled by the state police.

CECILIA POND

Wins WSU Award

A book award for Excellence in German Studies was presented to Cecilia Ann Pond of 18137 Jamestown Circle, Northville, at a recent afternoon reception of the German Cultural Club of Wayne State University.

The book, "Fruehe Erzählungen" by Heinrich Boll, was presented by Dr. Herbert Weil, Consul General of the German Republic, at the Manogian Hall event.

Ms. Pond is completing her second year of German culture and language studies at Wayne. She hopes to put her language skills to the test this summer when she visits Germany with other members of the WSU German Cultural Club.

She presently is serving as club secretary. She also is on the staff of the German newspaper at WSU.

She is a scholarship student at WSU majoring in Criminal Justice and explains that she is studying German just "because I like it."

Oakland Offers Wood Chips

The winter's devastating ice storm is beginning to yield minor dividends in the form of free wood chips for residents who will pick them up while the supply lasts.

The Oakland County Road Commission is stockpiling the chips at five locations in the county for free distribution.

"Persons desiring some of the chips must bring their own bags or containers and load the chips," said John L. Grubba, managing director of the road commission. "The locations are unattended, except when road commission trucks are unloading chips."

He listed the locations of chip stockpiles as:

- Avon township — the southeast quadrant of the intersection of Crooks road and the Grand Trunk Western railroad tracks, south of Hamlin road.
- Groveland - Springfield townships — southeast quadrant of Dixie highway-Oakhill road intersection.
- Oakland township — southeast corner of the intersection of Orion and Adams roads

- Royal Oak township — at the township hall, behind the community center
- West Bloomfield township — southeast corner of the Pontiac Trail-Halstead road intersection.

Road crews had time only to remove fallen trees and limbs from roads during and immediately after the ice storm, Grubba explained.

Sculptures On Display

Fiber sculptures created by Schoolcraft College art students will be on display in the Bradner Library on campus through July 15.

According to instructor Mary Ann Zotto-Beltz, the sculptures are finely crafted in fiber without metal or other structural support. Using her techniques, the students attempt to make good use of space through creative form.

The sculptures take many different forms and can be described as impressionistic. Some sculptures incorporate clay for special effect.

An advocate of art in public places, Ms. Zotto-Beltz said the display can be viewed between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. and from 6 to 9 p.m.

Novi Soft Cone Stand May Reopen by July 4

A controversial Novi soft cone stand may be able to reopen its doors as early as the July 4th weekend if steps are taken to fulfill requirements set forth by the planning board.

Cone Zone, located at 10 Mile and Meadowbrook, had opened up in April without the necessary site plan approval from the planning board. It later took the city to court to stop tickets from being issued against it, but later dropped the suit and closed its doors.

In the latest development, the Novi Planning Board last week gave tentative site plan approval to the establishment if parking problems at the location are worked out to the satisfaction of the board.

The main block previously was not the question of parking, but rather a belief by the planning board that such an establishment was not allowed in a B-1 business district.

Owner Donald Henrich last Wednesday presented the board with a plan which calls for enclosing the front of the building. The board decided that this does make it a fast food carry-out establishment — an allowed use in the district.

However, according to Planning Board Chairman John Roethel, the board directed that certain changes be made in the parking. Those changes, as submitted by Henrich, must be approved by the planning consultant and then the site plan approval subcommittee of the planning board.

At that point, Henrich will have to secure a building permit.

Henrich told The Novi News that "it looks very probable" Cone Zone can be opened by July 4.

Henrich said that, despite expected competition from a similar establishment in a shopping center across Meadowbrook Road, his shop will remain open for business until his children, who are working at the cone stand, are through school.

"It's a family deal, said Henrich. "It's been in the backs of our minds quite a few years. It gives work to our children."

Summed up Henrich of the latest developments, "We're very pleased the way things are shaping up."

'Bedsheet Ballot' Threat Fades with Decision

A state Board of Canvassers ruling June 17 substantially reduces the possibility of a cumbersome, paper "bedsheet" ballot for the November election.

The decision not to certify the Communist Party's petitions to appear on the ballot, followed a challenge against the Communists by a group of clerks from Wayne County communities.

Clarice Sass, Northville Township clerk, was one of the succes-ful challengers. She estimates that voting by machine rather than paper ballot will save Michigan taxpayers at least $4 million. The Board of Canvassers decision leaves a maximum of nine political parties to qualify for the November election. Nine reportedly is the largest number of parties a standard voting machine can accommodate.

The Communists will appeal the ruling in court, possibly naming Mrs. Sass and other challengers in their action.

Mrs. Sass said that because all challengers acted as private citizens, they will have to pay their own legal expenses, if action is taken against them.

The Communist Party filed 21,871 signatures on their ballot petitions. The law requires 17,674.

After investigating the challenge against the Communists, the Board of Canvassers disqualified 4,832 signatures, leaving the party 635 names short.

Mrs. Sass said the Communist Party was chosen for challenge because it filed the fewest signatures, and was thus easiest to examine.

She added that the sole motivation for the challenge is the high cost of running a paper ballot election.

The outcome of the Communist Party's law suit, and another suit filed by Eugene McCarthy, may yet necessitate the bedsheet ballot. Mr. McCarthy was refused certification in an earlier Board of Canvassers ruling.

Others, besides Mrs. Sass, to participate in the challenge were clerks from the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Brownstown Township and Huron Township.

'Chart Was Correct'

Defend Millage 'Promise'

Despite cuts, revision, and program shifts at the high school, the program "will be about the same as last year," according to Superintendent Raymond Spear.

The superintendent was asked to explain what some persons have been describing as misleading contradictions in a chart titled "What Will The Millage Buy" in the April, 1976 issue of Opening School Doors.

The chart showed four bar graphs, making a comparison of what was expected to happen if recent millage proposals were passed or defeated.

Specifically, some persons point to the words, "Expanded course offerings in middle and high school," to prove that the school board is failing to live up to pre-millage promises of what would happen if the 17-mill renewal as well as the 3.9

mill addition were approved.

According to the superintendent, the content of the bar graphs remain accurate, pointing out that some people interpret the size of the bars as an indication of class offerings. The bar sizes, he explained, were intended to reflect millage levies — not educational programs.

The words "Expanded course offerings in middle and high school," appearing in the bar titled, "with additional 3.9 operating millage," are meant to show an expansion over what would have happened if voters had approved only the 17-mill renewal proposition.

"I think if people will read the content in each of the bars, rather than comparing the size of the bars, they will see that the chart is not misleading but rather an accurate statement of fact," the superintendent said.

For example, he noted that the 1975-76 millage level, as indicated in the first bar, said "limited course offerings" at the high school and middle schools were provided. With approval of the 17-mill renewal, as indicated in the third bar, readers were advised that the renewal was insufficient to retain the "limited" status quo by these words: "More seriously limited course offerings in middle and high school."

Northville Man Named Delegate

William McLaughlin of Northville will be an at-large delegate committed to Ford at the Republican national convention in Kansas City August 16-20.

McLaughlin is the state GOP chairman.

Ed Haan of Brighton is a Ford alternate delegate in the 19th district. He is on the executive committee of Livingston County.

Northville Women's Caucus, and the Northville Education Association (NEA), is that the board is knowingly continuing to violate the law, she said.

Despite the board's concurrence in the findings of a committee of teachers and administrators that discrimination does indeed exist, the board last week decided against retroactive pay for those teachers being discriminated against, she pointed out.

The board vote was 6-1, with Trustee Dr. Robert Mandell casting the dissenting opinion. He pointed to the findings of the committee, established by the board, and noted that the board was created to investigate discrimination and to recommend a solution. In its recommendation, the committee concluded that female coaches were receiving unequal pay for equal work, and it recommended that pay levels be equalized and that female coaches be paid a year of retroactive pay for work performed this past year.

According to Ms. LeBeauf, pay for girls' coaches had been "left in limbo" during last year's contract negotiation, pending the findings and recommendation of the committee. "But now that the committee has made its study and recommendations the board refused to do anything about it."

The board takes the position that salary matters are a negotiable matter to be settled in current 1976-77 contract talks. Teachers, on the other hand, contend the committee's study and recommendation concerned pay scales for the 1975-76 school year.

Members of the committee that made the study and recommendation included:

Ronald Horwath, director of personnel; William Craft and Michael Janchick, principals; and teachers Patricia Bubel, Ms. LeBeauf, John Mason and Robert Williams. Its study was launched early last winter.

The board's decision, she declared, is clearly illegal because "while admitting discrimination does exist it refuses to take positive steps to correct it. Establishing a committee, authorizing the study, accepting the report and recommending a solution but refusing to do anything about it satisfies no one."

"Why did the board want a study if it didn't intend to do anything about it?"

According to Ms. LeBeauf, teachers were prepared to settle for a year of retroactive pay, which would have cost the district about $4,500. Now, forced to continue its case, teachers "are really angry" and will press for retroactive pay for the past five years, she said. If the Civil Rights Commission rules in favor of teachers, it will cost the board approximately $25,000 — "not counting the money they will toss down the drain for their lawyers."

Apparently, the board "prefers to pay out more money for lawyers fighting a case in which it knows it is clearly wrong, losing even more money in the process, rather than pay a portion of what rightfully belongs to the teachers."

Concerning a comment by Superintendent Raymond Spear, made following last week's board meeting, that the board would have paid the one-year of retroactive pay if he had been given teachers' written agreement not to ask for additional retroactive pay, Ms. LeBeauf bristled: "Not once did he or the board ever suggest that to us earlier. They take their discriminatory action and then he says what they would have done if. Can't you see, it's just another stall, just like the creation of the committee was a stall."

A letter has been sent to Board Vice President Sylvia Gucken by the Women's Caucus contesting the board's action and pointing out a related discriminatory practice, Ms. LeBeauf said.

The letter refers to the board's recent approval of sponsors for next year's school athletic teams, pointing out that the board is providing additional sports programs in 1976-77 for boys with only token concessions for girls. Thus, according to the Women's Caucus, a wrong is not only being continued it is being compounded.

Relative to coaches salaries, the Women's Caucus has noted numerous inequities. For example, these "equated salaries" have been pointed out to Mrs. Gucken:

Varsity basketball — $624 for female coaches, $1,436 for male coaches; JV basketball, $345 for female coaches, $879 for male coaches.

Varsity swimming — $651 for female coaches, $1504 for male coaches.

Varsity track — $651 for female coaches, $1083 for male coaches.

Varsity track — $651 for female coaches, $1083 for male coaches.

Varsity softball-baseball — $467 for female coaches, $1,030 for male coaches.

Varsity tennis — $362 for female coaches, $624 for male coaches.

Face Higher Water Bills

at 11 percent of water purchased or 4.6 cents per 1000 gallons. Operating costs, including meter readers, maintenance, equipment replacement and billing were pegged at 20.5 cents per 1000 gallons. Bond interest requires an additional 4.0 cents per 1000 gallons.

A capital equipment and contingency fund of $15,000 or 3.8 cents per gallon also was tacked on for a total of 74.4 cents per thousand gallons, which Todd said is the amount required to operate Novi's water system.

For the average homeowner, using 30,000 gallons of water per calendar quarter, bills will increase from the current $17.50 to $25.52. This jump of $8.02 per quarter means a yearly increase just over $32.00 for water service.

Reporters are not unlike anyone else working for a living. There are certain aspects of their jobs they enjoy more than others. And there are some assignments they hate.

I have never known a reporter who likes to cover a fatal accident.

When I was still in college and working for the Albion Evening Recorder, a small daily newspaper, it happened that I was the only person sitting around the newsroom when word was received that a child had been hit by a car.

I arrived at the scene to find the body of a boy being lifted into an ambulance. The candy he had clutched in his hand when he ran across the street into the path of a car was strewn on the pavement.

In the emergency room of the hospital I stood helplessly by as the doctor told a limp young mother that he was sorry, her son was dead.

Last week two young reporters from this newspaper came upon the scene of a fatal accident in Novi. They took a picture of what they saw. It was not staged, or recreated.

The three-column picture of the accident scene appeared at the bottom of page one along with the story of the death of 17-year-old Pete Meyer, who had been riding his bicycle home from work along Novi Road.

If second chances were given in life, we would hope that the accident had never happened. We would not suggest, however, that the story or the picture should not have been used.

Contrary to the opinion expressed in a letter to the editor this week, we firmly contend that both the story and the picture upheld the best principles of journalistic reporting.

There was no sensationalism involved. An accident happened and a reporter was there. And he performed the rotten part of his job to the best of his ability.

It is unfortunate that an example such as the Novi bicycle tragedy exists to remind all motorists, all bicyclists and all parents that summer vacation is here and that our streets and highways will carry more traffic than ever.

Annually at this time police and safety experts issue appeals to drivers of all vehicles to exercise caution, particularly in residential areas where young people may be running or riding.

The Pete Meyer bicycle accident picture was real life. It happened in Novi. It could happen in Northville, Wixom or anywhere that cars, trucks and bikes carry people.

Talk this over in one of your family discussions. Impress upon yourself and your children the responsibilities of watching out for others as you drive a car or ride a bicycle.

A matter of routine business took place Monday night at the Northville city council meeting. The council accepted the resignation of Fran Gazlay from the planning commission and the board of appeals.

What isn't routine is the contribution, Gazlay has made and continues to make to the community of Northville.

He's been a member of the planning commission for about 10 years. And five of those years he's been the planners' representative on the board of appeals.

Aside from John Burkman, there isn't anyone who has donated more time to the development of the Northville Historical Society's Mill Race Village than Gazlay. And much of the effort he has expended has been the nuts and bolts kind — physically working for countless hours to help bring about the realization of a dream at Mill Race Village.

After a decade of contributing his considerable talent to committee duties Fran has decided to relinquish these responsibilities to others.

His reason: he wants to devote more time to his work on the Northville Historical District Commission and his pet project, Mill Race Village.

Congratulations and thanks to Fran Gazlay, a Number One Good Citizen.

GOOD . . .

The coupon war was too good to be true! With the high cost of groceries today, this was a welcomed event. The consumers gained from this war in that we were able to purchase items that at other times we may not have been able to afford. Great scott! (pun intended) Some markets even offered triple value on coupons and some items were almost free. The grocery chains also benefited by the increased business — not only were more products purchased, but the new shopper to that store also did her complete shopping.

The product manufacturers also benefited in that their items were purchased and the consumer was made aware of the quality of the particular product. The consumer may not have tried the product except for the special discount. This war will undoubtedly lead to increased sales on a great number of products. I purchased items that I have never tried before and liked them. It will also make people more coupon conscious and remind them to use coupons in their regular shopping trips.

In addition to the rebate which I received, I expect my grocery bill to be less for the next few weeks due to the fact that I have stocked up on a great number of items.

I feel the grocery stores, consumers, and product manufacturers will benefit greatly if the coupon discount was offered at least twice a year.

Speaking for Myself

Coupon War?

BAD . . .

When will American shoppers learn that you don't get something for nothing in this world?

All those shoppers who found grocery store shelves half or almost entirely empty and who stood in long lines with their fistfuls of double and triple value coupons thought they were getting a bargain.

But were they?

The so-called "coupon war" was a well-planned promotional gimmick by the major chain stores that had nothing to do with saving customers' money.

These people are pro's, and they're in business to make money.

Actually, their real reason for doubling and tripling coupon values was to lure hordes of unsuspecting bargain hunters into the store to help reduce inventories.

When the average shopper arrived at a store offering the double value "bargain" just how many times did he or she find those items on the shelves?

I know a woman who told me she went to one of the supermarkets three times in the same day looking for that bargain item that never appeared on the shelves.

And do you think the manager gave her a rain check. No way!

Those double and triple value coupons are nothing but a rip-off.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Kelly Monteith's complaint the other night hit a familiar chord. Maybe you've made it yourself.

His tongue-in-cheek beef was aimed at the primer-level inventor who devised the "wait-walk" traffic signals for pedestrians.

The guy who walks hasn't got a chance, and the guy who waits isn't any safer.

It happens all the time. The signal is green and says "walk" as you approach but no sooner have you stepped from the curb and are a quarter way across a six-lane street when the "wait" signal winks on.

At this point to "wait" can be a little shattering. If taken literally, it means waiting there in the middle of the street so that impatient motorists revving up their engines can get a good crack at you.

Monteith figures "wait" really means "run your buns off, stupid."

Since obviously the inventor of the "walk-wait" signal figured most pedestrians are imbeciles who don't know the meaning of standard green-yellow-red signals, why then did he expect pedestrians to understand a "wait" at mid-street?

What's wrong with "run"? It's a shorter word, right-out of my favorite, "run, Spot, run" reader, and a "walk" plus a "run" is a whole lot more meaningful. Even "dash" or "dart" would have been better than "wait."

I'm convinced the "wait" is waiting just for me. It's teamed up with "walk" in a devious scheme. "Here he comes, get set," says "walk" to "wait" as I approach. As soon as my foot leaves the curb "walk" screams "now" and "wait" blinks to life with a "gotcha!"

Ever since the Singing Cop of Flint taught us to stop, look and listen in the Thirties, I've been a milquetoast at street corners.

How many times have you stood at a corner, facing a red light, and had to dodge pedestrians coming from the opposite side? And then feel guilty for being in their way?

Worse. You're standing at the corner with a half dozen others. The light's red, but the others, seeing no traffic, leave you to share the curb with your conscience? It's a lonely, even embarrassing feeling.

Imagine. Embarrassed for obeying the law.

It's 6 a.m. and you're standing alone at Main and Center, facing a red light and a car hasn't passed in a month. You feel a little silly, don't you? The whole world's watching. You're guilty if you do and you're guilty if you don't.

Freud must have something to say about this kind of guilt complex.

But then he probably invented "wait."

Board's Proposed High School Cuts Affect Education

To the Editor:

I am concerned about the proposed cuts of teachers and sections at the high school for the 1976-1977 school year. I am equally concerned about the cuts that will have to be made at the middle school because they will ultimately affect the sequence of a student's overall academic program.

A group of parents met with the high school principals and Mr. Westling of the CAC on Thursday, June 10, to try to clarify some of these cuts. The superintendent had already called a group of concerned parents

"irresponsible" (I was one of them) because we circulated a fact sheet listing the proposed cuts; he said the fact sheet contained erroneous information. I went to that meeting to find out where our information was wrong, but at the end of the meeting, I could see no major discrepancy between the facts that we had distributed two weeks earlier and what the principals and Mr. Westling were saying that night. The only differences were in some instances where the administration had changed its mind and was "working on some alternatives." At the time it was written it appears that the facts we reported were accurate. (I have long been an advocate of generating accurate information to the community.)

An appeal to the board on June 14 to consider our concerns seemed to fall on disinterested ears. I had to leave the board meeting early (the smoke in that room is hazardous to my health) but not before I heard Mr. Longridge's plea for the community to pull together. I agree, but how can we pull together when we are continuously given the short end of the rope? The audience was allowed 15 minutes to respond to a two hour presentation.

I guess what I resent the most is the time and effort many people spent working for the millage this spring after being assured on more than one occasion that the passage of 3.9 additional mills would mean the continuance of the 1975-1976 program at least at the same level. Now I learn that next year the

Superintendent, Seven Sages Stifle Grade Debate

To the Editor:

Your news story on school grade restructuring omitted several significant sidelights. To many of us, the Board of Education's June 14th meeting perfectly delineated the twilight zone where Board members appear to reside and the world of educational reality our kids are facing head-on.

The drama (as we saw it): Enter Superintendent and Seven Sages. Amend agenda to grant muttering peasants 15 minutes of "input." Begin with half-hour review of Superintendent's "logic" in restructuring 1976-77 programs. Follow with parade of high school, middle school and elementary principals to assure citizenry that school planning remains "flexible" even though some programs and courses offerings "come up short at the check-out counter." Then grant citizens their 15 minutes. Listen in stony silence. Immediately cut off further dialogue. Grant Superintendent rebuttal time. Follow with individual Board statements, including Vice President's stern lecture to citizens who refuse to "get it together" by utilizing "proper channels."

I think this whole ill-staged melodrama (which came off like something of a cross between Gilbert and Sullivan and "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman") might be perversely entertaining to our community if it weren't so tragic in its implications for our children.

The fact is that once again the Board refused to listen to what citizens were saying. The real issue that parents, students, and teachers addressed themselves to, during their allotted 15 minutes was the educational pros and cons of grade restructuring and whether we aren't making a mistake in pursuing a 6-3-3 formula with severe curriculum cutbacks if another solution might be better. Only one Board member, Mr. Hobart, addressed this issue directly. Yet the only reason he gave us to why the Board rejected a 5-2-3 formula (which would have put sixth and seventh grades at one middle school, eighth and ninth at another) was that it would call for some additional expense in busing, not that it was educationally unsound.

It's also fact that, as of June 10th, (see attached copy of administrative memo), 21 courses have been ordered dropped from high school class offerings, including Calculus, first-year French and German, Russian, Vocational Welding, Business Machines, Journalism, Debate and both Concert bands. All of these in the face of officials' promises (see attached pre-millage chart) of "expanded course offerings in Middle & High School."

Where did the 3.9 extra millage go? Where did the new $600,000 "shortage" the Superintendent keeps referring to actually come from? Are there even bigger financial set-backs building behind the scenes we should brace ourselves for in the months ahead?

I called the Superintendent's office for two successive days to try and get answers to these questions. Unfortunately, he was unavailable.

At this point, I can only hope sincerely that our two new Board members fare better in unraveling the strands of this scenario. Meantime, the rest of us will just have to wait patiently for the next mind-boggling act of "As You Lump It."

To the Editor:

I urge our Board of Education to address itself to the 5-2-3 grade structure which was requested by parents, students and teachers on June 14th. After a more than two hour presentation of the poorly planned 6-3-3 grade structure, we have yet to hear the facts concerning other alternatives.

To quote from the position paper concerning the Middle School Concept presented by principal Mr. Michael Janchick "...in order for any programs at the high school and middle schools are going to be far less than what the students had this year.

I do not feel qualified to consider the 6-3-3 distribution of grades versus 5-2-3, but I do feel qualified to comment on the educational program that our children have received in the Northville system. We should be going forward not backward. I do hope there will be a reconsideration of the inadequate secondary program that is being proposed for next year.

school system to achieve the maximum potential of a particular grade level structure, it is necessary and desirable for all parties concerned to support and encourage the desired course. The public, Board of Education, superintendent, building administration and faculty must be willing to make an all-out commitment to a particular philosophy of grade level organization."

I do not see this all-out commitment due to lack of communication and proper planning involving all parties concerned.

Our board should "get-it-together." It's time to produce some well-planned alternatives and communicate these to the public well in advance of the change to be made.

Critiques Critic

To the Editor:

Trustee Rinehart's swansong hits upon an ontological dilemma. In his specious, inaccurate criticism of my criticism of Mr. Lemon's calculated yet dismal polemical disaster before the sophisticated public, Rinehart has perhaps unwittingly bared the dialectic operative in this community; one so all-pervasive as to render it impossible to employ such simplistic notions as "You have got to stop fighting," and "Get it together, folks." Attaching such euphemisms to a severely scarred injury results only in offering up the grandiose libation of a gigantic yet temporary band-aid, or one last pathetic stab at making chaos out of chaos, ergo dropping the final curtain at the end of the second act.

The tension referred to demonstrates a sub-zero arrogance on one end of the continuum, as opposed to an ultra-hot frustration of the collective sensibilities on the other. Between the two there is the "warm." One can hardly draw comparisons between the two tensions and their elusive ideal to carefully labeled caricatures of the herd stumbling about in the dark mumbly inconsistencies.

That is what Mr. Rinehart would have us believe. By using the jargon he flatters me, suggesting my influence is greater than Walter Cronkite's. By using the inappropriate "vindictive," he casts me as a diabolical female lingo engaged in conspiracy. By displaying his inability to comprehend my letter he attributes words and notions to me not mine.

One need only have attended Candidate's Night or the election night board meetings to see the parallels between the Autocratic Stance of Lemon in a board member's chair, and the Autocratic Posture and awesome presence of that August Body so neatly dented via the ballot. My auditory powers and the audience's were compatible. The response to Mr. Lemon's politically incongruous statements was unified: an angry reaction to a public action. There was no "attack." Rather, a cup of ironic vision. Any other kind is less than adequate to the task of assessing the past board and its highly approved and socially evaluated administrator.

The ironic vision is our most useful defense against the power structure. We have been subjected to its oligarchical control quite long enough. Kudos to B. F. Skinner, his de-humanizing notions have been the source of the operant conditioning that has taken place in the Board Room these last years to the degree that we respond as controlled. The public has X amount of minutes (X equals 15) to lament the existing ignominious situation. Conversely, the Ad-Board takes whatever time deemed necessary to rhapsodize its success. It sets up the rhapsody first, the lament second, accompanying the lament by a series of distractions comparable to a 17th century Russian Orthodox ceremony on the Czar's birthday. It is then that the audience (what's left of it) is presented with a rebuttal by the Elect: slap the wrists of the public and whoop a wrenching bid for unity...a pathos bordering on paranoia.

It all depends upon where one sits. Behind the dais sits a well-oiled machine in control. Before it sits "concerned citizens." If one of the latter seizes a lemon he gets a Bleedinghart. "Foul! Unfair!" he cries. Recall: the Elect times us at 15, itself at 90. This is fair?

So "Foul and foul again" is my reply to that. Lemon had his chance, went out on the wrong limb, and with all his access to the privileged CAC information (Rinehart's comment validates the rumor that Lemon was the Ad-Board's favored candidate), came in 5th. His omnipotence, not my letter, broke the limb.

Sour grapes and lemons do not a victory make. The roof is still intact though leaky. The winners can now begin to move toward the "warm," putting fins to the dialectic and polemics by administering preventive medicine rather than the band-aids of the past.

Need Park Vote

To the Editor:

I would like to publicly thank Novi City Manager, Ed Kriewall, and council members Romaine Roethel and Philip Goodman for their recent support of Novi's Parks and Rec's request to put a millage question on the August 3 primary ballot.

Unfortunately the mayor and other council members did not agree that the people of Novi should have the opportunity to vote on this important issue at this time. It is true that Novi needs a municipal complex to house city administration and police department, but unless a special millage is passed for Parks and Rec now, it will be years before sufficient funds are squeezed out of a general millage for city administration.

The Parks and Rec Commission has worked hard over the past several years to try to obtain park land and provide recreation facilities and programs. Like everyone else, what they need is money. They have studied Novi's needs and presented some concrete plans. The people of Novi should be allowed to vote on whether they support these plans with a special millage.

Sincerely,
George Wright

Why Jolly?

To The Editor;

I have never found it necessary to write to a newspaper before. However this time I cannot remain silent on this issue and maybe you can explain it to me.

My point is on this past Novi School Board election. I realize that all newspapers notify their readers as to who they intend to support. What I found to be in poor taste and judgment was in stating why you were not supporting Terry Jolly. Would it not have been proper and fair to have explained why you were not giving your support to each of the other candidates instead of just one of them. This seemed to be very unfair to me.

Also I would like to mention at this time that I did not feel much pride in the picture of our 1976 Graduation Class on their important day. I am sure that board member suffered enough embarrassment without it being displayed on the front page of our paper. Again I must say that this showed poor taste and judgment on your part.

Mrs. Barbara Thompson

Poor Judgment

To the Editor:

I am writing you in regards to the photo published with the story about Peter D. Meyer who was killed by a truck while riding his bicycle. The article appeared in the Novi News June 16th.

I think the photograph and accompanying caption was a shoddy and most irresponsible attempt at journalism. In my opinion, the photograph was a needless "re-creation" of the tragedy. I am sure there are many others who feel such sickening morbidity is uncalled for. The picture was nothing but a cheap shot at sensationalism with utterly no regard being given to the heartbreaking effect it would have on family and friends.

I sincerely hope such poor judgment and taste is not instituted in this paper again.

State Representative

House Joint Resolution WW, which would deny bail for career criminals, passed the House last week by a vote of 86 to 17. I supported the resolution. The resolution is actually a proposed amendment to the Michigan Constitution and would require a favorable vote by the people of the state in order to take effect.

It would require denial of bail to:

—persons charged with felonies who were convicted of at least three other felonies in the past 15 years;

—persons charged with murder or treason, criminal sexual conduct in the first degree, armed robbery or kidnapping to extort money, with courts given discretion to permit bail if convinced that the accused will not present a danger to society;

—persons charged with felonies while on bail from a prior felony charge, or while on probation or parole from a prior felony conviction; —persons appealing convictions under any of the above offenses.

Under the present wording of the Michigan Constitution, bail is denied only for those accused of murder or treason.

The measure would require courts to expedite trials or appeals when bail is denied, and could permit bail if the prosecution requests a delay in trials or hearings.

The resolution survived a number of attempts to weaken or destroy it, mostly through amendments offered by the liberal Representative H. Lynn Jondahl of East Lansing. Jondahl led off with an amendment which would have permitted judges to still let career criminals out on bail at the judge's discretion, an amendment which lost by a vote of 33 to 64. He then offered amendments one by one to strike out the significant sections of the bill, all of which lost by substantial margins.

Other amendments which would have weakened the proposed constitutional amendment were those to reduce the span of the criminal's career to be counted to just ten years (lost 32 to 62) and to guarantee bail if the trial is delayed more than 14 days after the original court date is set (lost 26 to 65).

Another amendment would have weakened the bill by establishing a more narrow definition of a "felony". This proposed amendment lost on a vote of 45 to 59.

I voted against all of these amendments because of my strong belief that career criminals belong in jail while they are awaiting trial for still further violent crimes. Newspaper reports of holdups, rapes, and murders committed by people already awaiting trial for similar acts who have gotten out on bail are becoming all too frequent.

If the resolution now passes the state Senate by the required two-thirds majority, the people will have an opportunity to let their wishes be known on this issue.

City Halts Township Service

City trash and garbage pick-up for five Northville Township residences near the fish hatchery was ordered stopped this week.

Over the appeal of several of the township residents, Mayor A.M. Allen and fellow council members concurred in a decision of the city manager to halt the pick-up.

Until this past week, the city was unaware that the five residences had been receiving the service — in one instance for more than eight years.

The residences are located along a private road on the south side of Seven Mile Road, east of the fish hatchery. Property owners had been placing their trash at the foot of the road at the city boundary line.

One of the property owners, David Filkin, asked council to continue the service on the basis that while his home is not located inside the city the adjacent piece of vacant land on which he pays taxes is located in the city.

His city tax on the vacant land is approximately $67 this year. A neighbor also pays $28 of taxes on vacant land inside the city.

However, city council members and the manager pointed out that (one) city ordinance provides pick-up for only residences located in the city and (two) the taxes paid on the vacant land do not come near paying for the weekly rubbish and garbage pick-up.

Township Population At 12,489

Northville Township now has 12,489 residents, according to the special census completed June 3, making an increase of 2,967 over the official 1970 figure of 9,522.

In announcing the new figure, Francis M. Clark, special census supervisor from the Bureau of Census, stated that while it is preliminary and subject to review, the amount is "believed to be substantially correct."

Supervisor Betty Lennox says the township is pleased with the results of the special count, which is remarkably close to the SEMCOG prediction of 12,400.

Beginning in 1978, she points out, the township will begin to benefit from the population increase in receiving additional state funds of $63,942. In seeking the special census, the township had projected that it might bring in about $69,468 additionally. "The almost $6,000 the special census cost the township will be returned tenfold the first year (1978)," Mrs. Lennox commented this week.

Cost to the township of the special census is to be $5,973, covering salaries of supervisors and census takers this month.

The anticipated population increase was not quite so high as expected, the township found, as there are fewer residents in area institutions than in 1970.

This was more than offset by increases in such areas as Highland Lakes and Innsbrook apartments on Seven Mile Road.

In 1970 the area including Northville State Hospital listed 1469 people with only 1010 registered in the new census.

Greatest growth area was that including Highland Lakes with that portion of the township showing a 1976 population of 2847 and a 1970 population of 1249.

Only two residential areas showed slight decreases. These were the western part of the township including Maybury State Park and Taft and Bloomcrest subdivisions and an area between Six and Seven Mile roads west to Napier and including Our Lady of Providence.

Mrs. Lennox noted that the $147,895 expected from the state this year under the new census figures would have been $211,837.

Hiring of this supervisor probably will occur later this summer, following receipt of proposals from prospective supervisors, the manager said.

The architect's basic services will include normal structural, mechanical and electrical engineering services. The firm is to be responsible for five phases: schematic design, design development, construction document phase, bid documents and bidding phase, and construction phase.

A few of Kamp-DiComo's duties under the latter phase are:

- Advise and consult with the city and represent the city in giving instructions to the sub-contractors.
- Coordinate the work of the contractors so that the project is completed in accordance with the city's objectives on cost, time and quality.

- Schedule and conduct pre-construction and progress meetings at which contractors, the city and the architect can discuss jointly matters of procedures, progress, problems and scheduling.

- Provide detail scheduling for the operations of the contractors on the project, including realistic activity sequences and durations, allocations of labor and materials, processing of shop drawings and samples, and delivery of building materials requiring long lead time procurement.

- Monitor schedule of construction processes.

- Recommend courses of action to the city when

Board Watching High School YRS

With numbers of year-round schools gradually diminishing at the high school and middle school levels, school officials could yet decide to drop ESY at these two levels.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, "We will continue to keep a close eye on these figures over the next few weeks in considering the appropriateness of continuing ESY."

If ESY is dropped at the high school, he explained, it could have a serious impact on ESY at the middle school. Parents might decide, if ESY is dropped at the high school, to withdraw their children from ESY at the middle schools, he observed.

Another possibility, he said, is that if ESY is dropped at the high school, the school board may want to seriously consider placing middle school ESY in one school building rather than offering it as is now planned at both Meads Mill and Cooke middle schools.

Enrollment of ESY at both the high school and middle school levels presently is projected at significantly lower numbers for the start of the 1976-77 program.

Presently, the ESY enrollment at the high school is projected at 136 (down from 209 this year); and at the middle school it is now estimated that the middle school enrollment of ESY will be 268 (down from 307 this year).

If enrollment projections remain unchanged in the next few weeks, it will mean the high school will have 136 ESY in a school with a total 10-12 enrollment of 1,216 students. At the middle school level, enrollment in two schools will total 268 ESY students in buildings having a total of 1,060 students.

At the elementary school level, the ESY program continues to have a larger number of students than the traditional program. Projections call for 1,069 ESY pupils and 1,030 TSY pupils.

Offer Bike Funds

Novi City manager Edward F. Kriewall, Jr., presented the school board resolution to council Monday. Kriewall said his initial reaction to the resolution was that the board was trying to spend the same money twice. But he said Dr. Kratz assured him that the resolution was not tied to the sewer front foot assessment agreement.

Council member Phillip J. Goodman warned the Council against a rash decision simply because the money might be available to build a bike path. He said he had doubts about the safety of a bicycle trail built on a road shoulder.

He suggested that the Council seek expert information on the potential number of bike riders and acceptable safety standards before reconsidering the bike paths.

Goodwin also said that a bicycle path on Taft Road might encourage bike traffic on Ten Mile and Grand River.

Council member Patricia A.

Karevich proposed that council also look at the possibility of a four-foot wide sidewalk separated from the road by a four-foot expanse of gravel.

Mrs. Porter, who attended the Monday session said she would locate an official, possibly from Oakland County, who could provide the safety information Goodman was seeking.

City Engineer Harry D. Mosher said the council could probably change their minds on the bicycle trails within 30 days, without delaying bids.

The board unanimously approved accepting the bid of Gillis Electric. The board also accepted the bid of Audio Alert of Farmington Hills for alarm equipment for all schools.

Zoning Cure Seen

hearing, Larkin told council that he "would go along with the residential zoning" if a barrier of some kind were erected between his property and that of the Hammond property.

He is seeking the barrier, perhaps parking blocks, to prevent the encroachment of vehicles from the Hammond property onto his own.

The Hammond property has been sold and is to become a doctor's office. Parking is to be provided in the rear of the Hammond lot, adjacent to Larkin's driveway.

Council once again adjourned the hearing pending discussion with the Hammond property owner relative to the barrier. Meanwhile, also, Larkin is to inspect the doctor's parking plans to determine if they may already satisfy his request for a barrier.

In taking Larkin's request under advisement, council reminded him, however, that zoning cannot be made conditional.

position. In that event, Goulding probably will become administrative assistant-finance, while the second person probably will become an administrative assistant-operations.

The latter administrator would be in charge of physical plants and their operation, and Goulding would be in charge of the district's finances.

It appears likely, according to the superintendent, that an adjustment of some administrator's responsibilities will be made to include the function of an athletic director instead of appointing an additional person.

Robert Kucher was the last athletic director in the district. He has resigned from that post, however, and it is presently vacant.

In other action last week, the school board approved a contract for the remainder of the 1975-76 school year with assignment at the Plymouth Center for Human Development for Diane Marie Mitchell, and it granted a leave of absence to Debra Heist, an elementary teacher.

The board also extended teaching contracts to 89 teachers in the institutionalized special education program. The teachers had been "pink-slipped" earlier when it was not yet known that the district would retain its operative role for the program.

This Hot-under-Collar Couple Build Their Own 'Energy House'

By BARBARA JOHNSON

A few years ago, Ward and Annette Gremore — a working couple in their 20's — went house shopping in Livingston County. They found they couldn't afford homes they liked.

Gremore got mad. Mad enough to do something about it.

"It's absurd that housing is the number one industry in this country. It's ridiculous that you pay carpenters $16 an hour and plumbers $20 an hour, especially for the toothpick and tarpaper quality you get."

Gremore's anger at the housing industry — together with his concern about dwindling energy sources and a belief in self-sufficiency — prompted him to build his own home on Sexton Road in Marion Township.

The couple will finish their unique, 12-sided home this summer for less than $20,000. At a rate of $25 per square foot for 3,100 feet, they figure they would have paid at least $75,000 to have it built.

At least as important to them as the cost of the house is the fact it depends almost entirely on alternate, renewable sources of energy — the sun, wind, and ground air — for heat and electricity.

Gremore is one of a few energy innovators in the area. Jim Day, a custom builder in Brighton, is another. Both are convinced that nature's solutions to the energy crunch are staring us in the face.

"Becoming sensitive to nature is what solar energy, alternate energy sources, is all about," says Day. "We have to sit on the front porch and feel the little breezes and think how to use wind. We have to watch what animals do for shelter and warmth. We have to draw our knowledge from the simple things in nature."

And both Gremore and Day insist that the principles of alternate energy systems are simple.

"We're talking about horse sense," says Day. Gremore, a county ambulance driver, points out that he had no special training in building or engineering. He read some simple "how-to" books on home construction and applied principles of seventh grade physical science, he says.

Because of Michigan's climate and the fact the sun shines an average of 190 days a year, no single energy alternate now known — such as the sun — can be relied on to produce power consistently. Gremore's home integrates a number of alternate energy systems.

His "foundation," for example, is built to store ground air heat. That is, the home is built on stilts; air-tight walls protect the open air and ground beneath the first floor from freezing. The ground air, which maintains an average temperature of 50 to 55 degrees Fahrenheit, is then conducted into four liquid propane gas heaters mounted on walls inside the home.

Conventional home furnaces, Gremore points out, must heat cold winter air from, say 10 degrees F to 70 degrees. His heaters need to boost the temperature of ground air only about 15 to 20 degrees.

Once the home is heated, Gremore says, chances are it will stay warm. He's built exterior walls nine and one-half inches thick with three times the usual insulation.

'A smaller, but still comfortable home similar to his could be built for $2 per square foot . . .'

is now constructed, he says, it incorporates several energy savers.

No windows, for example, face north or northwest. Walls are six inches thick with insulation and a layer of plastic.

Day discovered the value of plastic two years ago when he tried covering the floor of his attic with $10 worth of plastic. In December alone that year, he saved $30 in heating costs.

"Insulating the hell out of your walls" is the key to reducing fuel consumption and heat bills, he says.

Day offers other insulating and energy saving tips:

—Insulate refrigerators and freezers with six to eight inches of styrofoam and plastic.

—In place of air conditioning install an 18 to 24-inch fan in the attic ceiling, and cut four-by-four foot holes in the stairway, living room, or kitchen. Cover the fan in the summer with an open wood grate and, in winter, with a six to eight-inch insulated panel.

—Insulate ceilings with six to 12 inches of loose fiber glass or poured insulation.

—Glue styrofoam to floor joists and basement walls to one foot below outside ground level.

—Insulate crawl spaces with six or more inches of insulation stapled or wired between joists and glue styrofoam to foundation walls above ground level with vents open in summer and closed in winter.

—Cover entire house with plastic — crawl spaces, attic, outside walls, along studs.

—Windows should have two storms or two layers of framed plastic.

—In summer, open windows and doors on cool nights and close during the day. Storm windows should be kept on most windows to keep cool air indoors.

Miss Bennett at Pulpit
At Novi Methodist Church

By PAT BERNARDO

In the fourth chapter of Acts, John and Peter are brought before the elders because their preaching has created political and social unrest.

Their account of themselves, as recorded in Acts 4:20 is "We cannot but speak which we have seen and heard."

Susan Bennett, an ordained deacon and summer intern in the ministry at United Methodist Church in Novi, used this scripture as the basis for her first sermon Sunday.

The test, drawn from the week's epistle lesson, was also a personal statement, Miss Bennett said, about "why I'm in the church. And it was a challenge to members about why they're in the church."

Miss Bennett, 24, is a student at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary in Evanston, Illinois, which is a part of the Northwestern University Graduate School of Religion. She will receive her Master of Divinity degree next June.

She first became interested in the ministry while an undergraduate at Michigan State University.

"I got involved in a church in East Lansing that was what I thought a church should be. It was socially and politically involved," she said.

In addition, she had certain "personal agenda" to work out. "What do I want to do with my life? Do I really want to go out and teach school?"

Miss Bennett enrolled in the United Methodist seminary just for a year, to see if she would like it. When she returned to school for her second year of academic studies, she had made up her mind.

"This is it," she remembers thinking. "I want to be ordained."

In June, 1975, she was ordained a deacon and she spent a year of internship, working as an associate pastor at a church in Yankton, South Dakota.

In her current position at United Methodist Church in Novi she is responsible for Christian education. She is setting up the fall Sunday School program and recruiting teachers. She is planning the Vacation Bible School which will be held the first two weeks of August. A Youth Club for grades two through 12 that will provide mid-week, after-school religious study and recreation next fall, is also under her direction.

Two Priests Celebrate
Fortieth Anniversary

A 40th anniversary of priestly ordination should be a time of celebration. But on Sunday, June 20, at South Lyon St. Joseph's Catholic Church it was a time of "double" celebration.

Both the church pastor Monsignor Albert A. Matyn and his associate, Monsignor Peter J. Hill, observed their 40th anniversaries in the priesthood with a Concelebrated Mass at 3 p.m. Later the congregation and friends of the men joined them at an informal reception in the parish hall.

The priests were ordained on July 6, 1936 in Louvain, Belgium.

Msgr. Matyn was born in Detroit in November of 1910 while Msgr. Hill arrived in Utrecht, Holland in the same month of the same year only 10 days later. Coincidence did not cease there as the two young men met as they began their theological studies in October, 1932 at the American College of the University of Louvain. They became close friends, have remained so over the years and have spent some time working together in the Detroit area.

Educated in Detroit at St. Charles School and Sacred Heart Seminary, Msgr. Matyn did graduate work in classical languages at the University of Michigan. His friend did his graduate work in history at the University of New Mexico and has spent most of his priesthood in the Archdiocese of Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Both have completed 25 years in seminary work, both as teachers and later as rectors — Msgr. Matyn at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit and Msgr. Hill at Immaculate Heart Seminary, Santa Fe.

Before coming to St. Joseph approximately three years ago, Msgr. Matyn served as pastor of St. Lucy in St. Clair Shores for five years and St. Matthew's in Detroit for nearly six years.

"The semirural pastorate here in South Lyon is a real joy after the years in the big city," comments Msgr. Matyn. "The warmth and friendliness of the people really touch me."

Although Msgr. Hill loves the "Land of Enchantment" (New Mexico) he enjoys visiting Michigan at least twice a year and is considered a member of the Matyn family.

Church
Capsules

The Brighton Church of the Nazarene, 5291 Ethel, will hold a Bible School session beginning Monday (June 28) through July 2. Activities will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. each day.

All children in the community are welcome to participate. For more information, call the church office at 227-6604.

In celebration of the nation's Bicentennial, Lutheran churches of the Missouri Synod will show the film "Freedom Is" at 6 p.m. July 3 and 4, over WJIM, channel six.

According to Brighton Pastor John Hirsch, the film was financed by Sunday school children in Lutheran churches around the country. The film stars Jonathan Winters, Richard Roundtree, Edward Asner, Joseph Cotton and Dan Dailey.

The Spirit of '76 will be the theme for a Bicentennial Sunday School contest beginning June 27 at Calvary Baptist Church, 57885 Grand River, New Hudson. The attendance contest will emphasize the lives of the patriots and the Minutemen and the Christianity of the founding fathers.

Cut Flowers Last With An Assist

By KATHY COPLEY

One of the real pleasures of a flower garden is having enough flowers to cut for the house. There are a number of tricks which will make cut flowers last longer — whether they come from the florist or the back forty.

The trick to keeping flowers fresh is in keeping the cells of stems, leaves, and flower heads full of moisture. Start by picking them when they are their most turgid, most moisture filled — early morning or late evening.

Cut stems with a sharp knife, making an angle cut to expose a large stem area to water. Remove the bottom 4" of foliage, or more if the foliage will be submerged.

A vase of warm water is a great place for stem clogging bacteria to multiply. Most leaves decay quickly in water and, in the process, assist in the multiplying of bacteria which will eventually choke off the water supply to stems and flowers.

Because of the special characteristics of some flowers, the stems should be crushed, burned with a candle, or dipped in boiling water to prolong their freshness.

Most flowers benefit from being soaked in warm water (100 degrees F) for 2-3 hours, or overnight. Flowers with a pliable stem, like tulips, can be straightened up during this process by wrapping the stems tightly in newspaper before submerging them. This trains the stems to remain straighter longer.

If an arrangement has to sit in the sun, put it in the refrigerator for the night. A short vacation in a cool climate does wonders.

The list which follows indicates the best way to treat a variety of garden and florist flowers. You may not always have the 5 drops of this or pinch of that which is indicated, but a mixture of 1 part water and 1 part clear carbonated drink (7-UP, ginger ale, etc.) will also help the carbonation and acid keep down the growth of bacteria and the sweetness acts a little like plant food. (No-cal pops won't work.)

ACHILLEA: 2 Tbs. salt in 2 quarts water.

ANEMONE: 1/4 C. vinegar in 2 quarts water.

APPLE BLOSSOMS: cut when in bud, crush woody stems with hammer; 2 Tbs. ammonia in 2 quarts water.

ASTER: 2 Tbs. sugar and 1 Tbs. salt in 1 quart water. Foliage decays quickly in water.

BEGONIA: 2 Tbs. salt in 2 quarts water.

BELLS OF IRELAND: remove all foliage.

CAMPANULA: 2 Tbs. washing soda in 2 quarts water.

CARNATION: soak in cool water for 6-8 hours. Don't submerge flower heads.

CHRYSANTHEMUM: Soak in hot water; 10 drops oil of clove in 2 quarts water.

COREOPSIS: 1 Tbs salt in 1 quart water.

DAHLIA: Burn stem end for several seconds; 5 Tbs. alcohol in 2 quarts ice water.

DAISY: 8 drops oil of peppermint in 1 quart water.

EVERGREENS: 1 Tbs glycerine in 1 quart water.

FERN: submerge in water 12 hours, shake off excess when ready to use.

FREESIA: treat like gladiolus.

GERANIUM: 5 drops oil of peppermint in 1 quart water.

GLADIOLUS: 5 Tbs. vinegar in 1 quart water; as lower flowers fade, cut them off and shorten stem.

HOLLYHOCK: burn ends as for dahlia; 1 handful rock salt in 2 quarts water.

HYACINTH: Squeeze substance from end of stem as soon as picked; plunge immediately into very cold water containing 5 drops oil of peppermint.

IRIS: 3 drops oil of peppermint in 1 quart water.

LILAC: Never pull off green leaf near flower head: it conducts water to the bloom; split stem, remove 3/4 of lower leaves to prevent wilting, and condition in hot water 2 hours.

LILY OF THE VALLEY: 1/2 C. vinegar in 1 pint water.

MARIGOLD: keep water sweet by adding 1 lump charcoal; change water often.

NARCISSUS and family: no more than 1" water.

PEONY: 3 Tbs. sugar in 1 quart water.

PETUNIA: 1 Tbs. sugar in 1 pint water.

POINSETTIA: Burn end of stem as for dahlia; 1 handful rock salt in 2 quarts water.

POPPY: Same as poinsettia.

ROSE: 2 Tbs. powdered alum in 1 quart water or 2 Tbs. table salt in 1 quart water.

SNAPDRAGON: 2 Tbs. salt in 2 quarts water.

VIOLET: Bunch and submerge for 2 hours; keep water cool.

VIOLA, PANSY: same as violet.

ZINNIA: 5 drops oil of peppermint in 1 quart water.

Growing Up!

Tepee stakings for pole beans and a wide trellis for cucumber vines utilize saplings cut down on this hillside property in Northville Township. Mrs. Vincente Pacheco, who annually plants the hilly garden with her husband, reports that the beans will grow "right to the top" of the tepees. The vertical gardening also makes for easier picking.

Splash!

The effect of a raindrop striking bare soil is devastating. Soil particles are detached by the force and carried away by surface water — adding up to soil erosion. Covering bare soil with compost or fertilizing to encourage ground cover helps to reduce erosion.

Vegetable Garden

Use Care When Picking Site

The site for your home vegetable garden is one of the most important factors in your gardening success, according to extension horticulturists at Michigan State University.

Look for a spot with fertile, well drained soil, plenty of sunlight and a reliable supply of water, the experts advise. These are the conditions necessary for healthy plant growth.

Check soil fertility with a soil test. Ask your county extension agent to help you. He'll provide a container and tell you how to take the sample to send to the MSU soils lab for analysis.

The test will tell whether your soil will supply enough nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium and whether these nutrients are in the proper balance. Too much of one may prevent plants from taking up the others, the horticulturists explain, even though all three elements are present.

Following the laboratory's fertilizer and lime recommendations guarantees you won't be dumping on costly chemicals that you don't need.

Well drained soil absorbs moisture readily but doesn't hold it so that plant roots are constantly surrounded by water, the horticulturists explain. Plant roots must have oxygen as well as water so they can take up nutrients and keep the plant growing and healthy. Soggy soil cuts off this oxygen and plants grow weak and spindly.

Vegetables need several hours of direct sunlight every day for good growth and health, the experts advise. Very few will thrive in even a semishaded spot.

Water is another essential. The soil should be soaked to a depth of six inches once a week. Too little water retards growth of most crops and makes some — carrots and radishes, for instance — grow strong-flavored or bitter. A hose and faucet combination is much preferred over the bucket brigade approach to watering. It is nearly impossible to water more than a few plants with water you have to carry yourself.

If possible, your garden site should be close to home, the experts suggest. The convenience of a backyard garden where you can put in your spare time makes it preferable to a spot some distance away.

Island Queen's Running Daily

This summer the Island Queen, popular sternwheeler, makes 45-minute tours of Kent Lake in Kensington Metropark seven days a week from noon to 6 p.m.

The boat departs hourly from the dock at the Boat Rental Building, located across from Maple Beach. Visitors have an excellent view of the 22 miles of shoreline. Charges are 50 cents per person.

I'd love to live—in a quiet world—
Out on an edge,
Where I'd dangle my feet
Off of the Earth—
To see if the water's warm.

Wonderful! I'm
Forsaking me,
The kite string broken—
We would ride
Upon my own melting.

Thomas Mitchell

A Sweet Memory

The skipper of the small sloop
Looked toward the sun—
A huge red disk hovering above
A line of tall green pines
Along the shore to the east.
His was the only craft
On the lake.
As the cool
Blue water slowly slipped by,
He could feel the gentle westerly
Caress the back of his neck
And see it softly fill the Bulk of the high white sail.
He was absolutely alone

A peace within himself. But,
As he watched the sun
Turn from red to gold,
Ascending inch by inch,
He knew that it would soon
Be over.
By forenoon
The lake would begin to fill,
And his feeling would dissipate—
Becoming only
A sweet memory.

Ode to An Old Tree

May apples in their soft, green foliage bed
Bloom trustingly around the friendly trees;
They nestle at a monarch's feet, now dead,
As though reflecting his soliloquies:

"The great, the humble, all have rested here
Beneath my boughs, have tarried on their way.
Even now, my roots support them, far and near,
Refreshing them for yet another day.

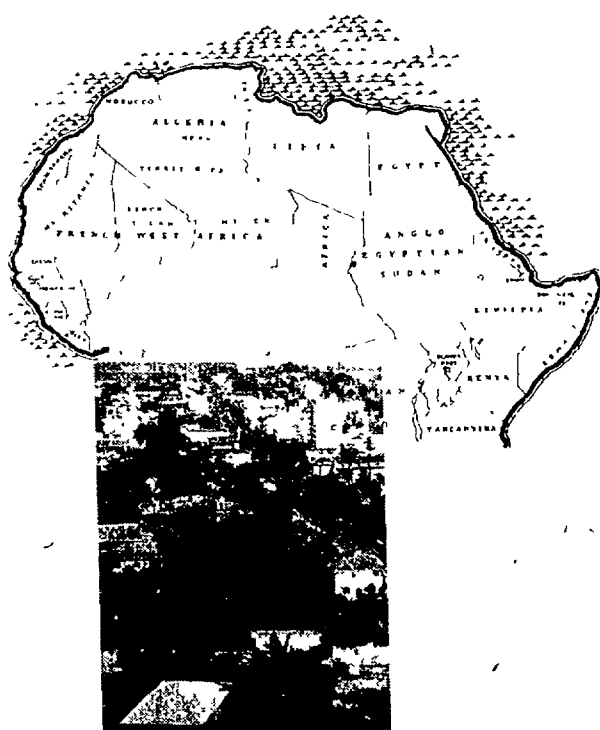

"I grew from all the elements of earth
And spread my arms for man and beast to see;
Throughout my steadfast life, since birth
I offered shelter for the refugee.

"I lived a life of many friendly years
Among my lofty brothers of the woods;
Once standing midst a myriad of peers
To yield at last, to nature's hardships.

"My woodland spirit constantly lives on
With friends who ever shall remain
To linger and to meditate upon
The life they've shared with me in this domain."

Charles E. Hutton

LANSING—Seems Michigan's money problems are looking less drastic these days. One report says, for instance, that the latest estimates suggest the improving economy will bring additional resources for 1976-77 to at least $75 million (along with known additional expenses of more than $66 million).

But with those estimates come a warning. Just because we're not as broke as we thought we were, that's no excuse to start spending.

"SLOWLY BUT SURELY we're recovering from our economic doldrums," says Representative Mel DeStigter, vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

But, says the West Olive Republican, "there's one pitfall we must watch out for. Whenever we begin to bring ourselves out of an economic downturn, we face a great temptation to increase our spending as the picture brightens."

DeStigter says this is "exactly what our economy can't stand at this time and we must resist that temptation if we are to meet some of the mandatory spending increases in our budget."

CARE MUST ALSO be taken to avoid the impression that a little bit of the budget doesn't make any difference.

Some House leaders still talk in terms of the legislative budget being "only one-half of one per cent of the entire state budget."

The "only" still bothers those who are conscious of all the state budget coming from the pockets of the taxpayers. And "only" a little bit still hurt when it came from someone's hard-earned cash.

USING SOLAR ENERGY to heat home could mean a tax break. And the same goes for wind or hydrothermal energy systems.

Government William Milliken recently signed a package of three bills aimed at helping those who have "the initiative and imagination to install" such systems.

The bills exempt a person installing such mechanisms from paying sales tax on them; exempts such mechanisms from the use tax; and provides a means whereby property owners may apply for a property tax exemption through the local assessor if such a system is used.

CLEAN UP the clutter in the Capitol. That's the goal of House

Republican leader Dennis O. Cawthorne.

The Manistee lawmaker says the Legislature has turned the Capitol into a "trash bin." "Anyone who has toured other state capitols will agree that by comparison, the interior of our building is a disgrace."

BANNING HALLWAY debris and construction of uniform storage compartments on the ground floor will do the trick nicely, Cawthorne figures.

He won approval of the Legislative Council to do just that this summer — at an estimated cost of some $33,000.

The plan will shrink the ground floor hallways by two feet on each side — the amount of space to be taken up with the compartments — but Cawthorne notes that the action will still leave a "14-foot hall absolutely free of clutter."

PAY YOUR CREDIT card bills on time? Unhappy about the prospect of having to pay an extra credit card service charge if you don't have to pay interest on bills?

Representative Thaddeus Stopczynski, D-Detroit, has the answer.

He's introduced legislation that would prohibit banks from charging any fees for credit cards other than interest on unpaid balances. Specifically, the proposal would ban any fees on the issuance, use or non-use of credit cards, other than permitted interest rates on those unpaid balances.

THIS CONCEPT does not consider expenses which must be borne by the credit card office in supplying its service without charge to the person who pays no interest. When these users are not charged, such costs must be taxed against those who already pay interest when they take longer periods to pay their debts.

"THE PEOPLE who took out and use bank credit cards did so in good faith, with the understanding that they would pay no service fee and no interest if they paid their statements promptly," Stopczynski said. He apparently feels that there should not be allowance for changes as circumstances change.

"Now there are banks that plan to or may violate this consumer trust." (Citibank of New York announced plans to charge a monthly service fee of its Master Charge customers, even if they pay their bills immediately.)

Stopczynski says the Legislature should protect Michigan bank card users from such action, as have Connecticut, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

From Independence Hall in Philadelphia to San Diego in Southern California the glib American public is again being "suckerized" by vendors who insist that their products are genuine Bicentennial artifacts.

More and more each day we become disgusted with the lack of dignity and reverence used in celebrating our 200th Birthday. Every sort of cheapness disguised as patriotism is shoved our way until we become nauseated with the whole performance.

Bags of sawdust or wood chips from under Independence Hall (?) cost one dollar. Many of the cities celebrating the Bicentennial did not exist when our country was born but businessmen, anxious to promote sales, clamor to get into the act.

Los Angeles is saying "Happy Birthday" with what is advertised as "The Biggest Dog Show in The West." Chicago stages a "Rhumba" march, Alabama holds a "Peanut" parade, Kansas has a "Beautiful Baby" Contest, and all these varied promotions are billed as Bicentennial attractions.

V. Sisnew, writing in a daily paper published by a Trade Union in Moscow on April 6, 1976, complains: "Sears Roebuck has outdone all the others. For its promotion it used pictures familiar to every American from childhood — the wounded flag-bearer, drummer, and flutist fearlessly leading American rebels into battle against British soldiers. These three figures, promoting our Bicentennial celebration, appear in Sears' display windows to advertise disposable toilets."

Is there any way we can encourage dignity and patriotism to raise their heads and march again with the American Dream, revering our past, acknowledging our present, and improving our future?

Let us change from a merchandising circus to a respectful birthday celebration!

MICHIGAN BELL has asked for a 19.3 percent rate increase in a proposal that it says would "restore its ability to provide top quality service, generate new job opportunities, and give customers new options to help control the size of their phone bills."

Company President David K. Easlick said favorable action on the request by the Michigan Public Service Commission is "essential to the state's economy, to our customers and to us."

He said that the rate increase means the company would "regain the financial strength necessary to begin hiring the additional employees we need to restore construction cutbacks that are costing jobs in other industries."

Michigan Bell, he said, recently began laying off employees and further reducing its spending program in an attempt to ease its financial slump.

In its rate request, Michigan Bell is seeking to recover about $100 million in cost increases while the remainder would result from a higher authorized profit level, Eastlick said.

Increases in the most popular basic service — a one-party line with unlimited calling — would range from $1.55 per month in Detroit up to $1.95 in outstate exchanges, according to the company.

Hazen Wilson, Bell manager for the Northville area, has stated that the cost to Northville customers will increase from $6.35 to $8.30.

DAVE'S AUTO PARTS in South Lyon has added a wide line of foreign car parts available through local service stations and garages under the Worldparts banners, according to Dave Blake, owner.

Featuring more than 5,000 popular replacement components from tune-up parts to exhaust systems, the Worldparts program offers parts for 92 percent of all foreign cars on the road today. Seventeen makes of imports are covered, including Volkswagen, Toyota, Datsun, Opel, Volvo, Mercedes-Benz, MG, Fiat, Triumph, Renault, BMW, Capri, Porsche, Saab, Jaguar, Audi and Pinto engine parts.

All of the import car parts supplied by Worldparts and distributed by Dave's Auto Parts are equal to or exceed original equipment quality.

The accreditation indicates the facility meets standards set by the Joint Commission's Accreditation Council for Long Term Care Facilities (AC-LTCF) as determined by on site surveys. The standards set forth optimal achievable goals of excellence against which a facility can measure itself and be measured by the AC-LTCF survey.

The "E" award is given for excellence by the American Health Care Association and recognizes the facility's ability to exceed licensure standards and other inspections it receives.

TWO SOUTH LYON YOUTHS have won all-expense paid trips to California in the Jet Journey to the Stars Contest sponsored by Showerman's IGA.

Winners of the California trip are Frank Barabas, who finished first in the contest, and Bobby Tallent, the second place finisher. In addition, 18 other youngsters won prizes that included baseball gloves, footballs, basketballs, and tennis rackets.

Barabas and Tallent will receive an all-expense paid trip to Anaheim, California. They will get the "red carpet" treatment and visit such places as Disneyland, Marineland, Knott's Berry Farm, Universal Studios, and the Wax Museum.

THERE'S A FUN WAY to fight the skyrocketing cost of food, strawberry growers are advising home-makers: "Go out to the country and pick your own fruits this summer."

The earliest and record strawberry crop in Southeastern Michigan's history makes this season an especially good time to "pick your own."

"Pick your own prices may be half what you would expect to pay in the supermarket," growers suggest. Nevertheless, even pick your own prices are up over last year's prices due to rising production costs.

Pick your own berries are selling at an average of from 40 cents to 55 cents per quart — considerably less than offered in most supermarkets.

Growers offer this advice to prospective pickers: • Wear proper clothing to protect yourself from the elements. That includes some type of hat during the warm weather to avoid sun stroke.

• Many farms don't permit children under 10 to pick and they insist on supervision for children who are over 10.

Jamie North Eyes First Derby Trophy Here Saturday After 2 Years of Frustration

By STEVE RAPHAEL

Soap box derby racers, beware, Jamie North thinks this is his year.

"I got big hopes this year," says the confident blue-eyed freckle-faced Northville 12-year-old. Jamie is in the midst of shaping up his racer mechanically, and revving himself up emotionally for Saturday's big soap box derby race.

The race is sponsored by the Northville Jaycees. It will begin 10 a.m. at the hill on North Center St. at Ely. Youngsters age 8 to 13 may register for the event up to a half-hour before it starts.

For more information call Jim Martin at 591-6641, or Ken Baldwin at 261-4328.

Don't mistake Jamie's confidence for cockiness. He's been to the soap box mountain...er...hill twice before and has finished fourth both times.

This year, though, Jamie thinks things will be different. He's in the process of fixing up his car to insure himself of at least a third place finish.

It'll take a lot of work that will include repainting his orange and black dragster-styled car to red, white and blue. Jamie says he'll be putting number 76 on it, too.

But there's more to building a winning car than just a paint job.

"My dad and I have a whole list of things to do to get the car ready," says a determined Jamie, who'll attend Cooke School this fall.

The list includes cleaning and oiling the wheels, tightening nuts and bolts, especially on the brakes, sanding the wheels to improve traction and tightening the wooden parts.

And this is just the reconditioning. Jamie guesses that it took him, his dad and older brother Bill two to three months to build this car. He says it took him two or three winters, one night a week, to build his first car, a car that he has since outgrown.

Jamie's interest in car-racing pre-dates that first car. When he was six, his dad bought him a set of go-kart wheels. His interest grew and with the help of Bill, who was a drag racer, began building that first car four or five years ago. His mother estimates that after buying plywood, plaster and paint it cost $100 to build the racer.

Jamie doesn't pay the bills but says he doesn't mind the long hours it takes to build a car. "If you're interested in it and like it a lot it's a fun job," says Jamie who also plays baseball, hockey, and rather grudgingly, the piano.

But Jamie is more than a participant in car racing; he's also a spectator. Thanks to an uncle, he's been to the Indianapolis 500 five straight years where he has cheered on his hero A.J. Foyt.

He also has a second favorite in the race track circle, University of Michigan physicist, Janet Guthrie who he'd like to see win the Indy 500. "It would be different for a change."

Jamie would like a change, too, from his two consecutive fourth place finishes. He's assessed his two fourth-place finishes and thinks he knows why he lost.

"Two years ago I was driving real close to the curb so I kept turning my wheels. Then the car started wobbling. You have to keep the wheels straight."

To avoid that mistake Jamie now has a rope steering wheel which he says makes it easier to turn the wheels.

Last year Jamie lost to the first girl ever to win the Northville Derby, 11-year-old Sue Seever. But she raced in a car belonging to her brother built under national soap box derby specifications.

Northville derby winners are not eligible for the national derby because most entrants don't build their cars under national specifications.

This year, Jamie will have some help. The Jaycees are sponsoring two classes, one for cars built under national specs, the other for cars built for fun in the family basement.

Jamie drives the basement variety but he says that when he's driving down the derby hill he fancies himself at the Indy 500 blazing around the oval track in record speeds.

But for the short term Jamie would just like to win a trophy at Northville and even someday build a car that would qualify him for the Akron derby.

Big dreams for a small boy but the small boy has mature perspective on winning and losing.

"I'd like to win, anybody would," Jamie says, "but I've learned to accept defeat."

Talking to him, though, one suspects that defeat will have to wait awhile.

Baseball Coach, Too

Novi's Rick Trudeau— A Superstar in Softball

The pitcher was struggling on the mound. The zip was gone from his fastball and his curve was hanging high over the plate rather than breaking sharply.

Quickly the coach ran to the mound to offer support and comfort to his struggling 17-year-old charger.

Bearded, 30-year-old Rick Trudeau has been doing this sort of thing at Novi High School since 1971. A business teacher during school hours, Trudeau turns to his first love, baseball, once the school bell rings.

As the Wildcats' coach he has been ringing some bells of his own. Trudeau's teams have won two conference championships and in 1973 finished second in the state class C high school baseball championships to Blissfield. And like the kids whom he coaches, Trudeau plays and excels at the summer pastime, but his sport is slo-pitch softball where he's considered one of the best shortstops in the country.

"I made the all-star team in seven of the eight tournaments we played in," says Trudeau modestly, yet

The "we" is Trudeau's team, Snyder's, considered one of the greatest slo-pitch team ever assembled and the defending world champion.

It was in the world tournament last September where

"Rick's the best. There may be shortstops with better arms who hit more home runs, but no one's smarter than Rick. He's our team leader; without him we're not a team."

Trudeau, too, stresses the

'Rick's the best. There may be shortstops with better arms who hit more home runs, but no one's smarter than Rick.'—Jim Snyder

Trudeau didn't make the all-tournament team.

He pulled a groin muscle in the next-to-last game and had to sit out the championship game won by Snyder's, costing him the all-star selection and the title "all-world" that goes with that selection.

But that doesn't deter Trudeau's manager, Jim Snyder, who founded his softball team, from heaping praise upon his star player.

team aspect of slo-pitch, in a game that has become known as a home run derby contest.

"There's more to slo-pitch than home runs," Trudeau stresses. "Our team can do a lot of things well. We play defense and we hit singles. I owe my success to the team."

The right-handed Trudeau hit .595 last year, mostly singles, and played flawless defense. And although he seldom hit home runs, he can, on occasion, put his 6' 1", 205-pound frame into the soft, mushy ball and propel it the needed 275-300 foot over the fence.

But Trudeau always has been a hitter. He played third base for Western Michigan University in the mid-1960's, hitting .440 in his sophomore year. In his senior year he made the all Mid-American conference team as a third baseman. But the road from baseball to softball superstar was rocky.

From the lofty perch at Western Michigan in Kalamazoo, Trudeau signed with the Cleveland Indians and went on to play baseball at Rock Hill, South Carolina in the Western Carolina League.

There he encountered eight-hour bus rides, puny paychecks and favoritism among the coaches for another third baseman.

Things quickly went downhill. "I didn't hit well that year and I was released," says Trudeau. "I was upset because I thought I could eventually make it."

Bats Boom in Jr. League

13 Runs Down, Girls Win

Girls' Softball — Down by 13 runs in the second inning, the Red Devils of the Intermediates in the Girls' Softball League, came roaring back to upend a shocked Super-Chics, 18-13. Sandra Flannigan swung the hot bat for the fired-up winners, belting three home runs.

The Red Devils' victory helped tighten up the race in the Intermediates. The Super-chics lost to the Phillies, 15-9, and quickly fell into a first place tie as the Phillies made it two straight, running past the Spirit of 76ers, 15-9.

The Travelers strengthened their hold on first place with a pair of victories, first edging the Wranglers, 7-5, and then clubbing the Nickerbockers, 23-7.

The Blues weren't singing them as they slew the Green Giants, 13-9, and played a 7-7 tie with the Cavaliers, to keep their hold on first place in the Primaries.

"E" League — Southpaw Dave Chapman, after pitching relief for weeks, was finally given his chance to start last week. The 15-year-old didn't let his team down as he struck out 11 batters and pitched a no-hitter, as his last place Giants surprised the second place Reds, 5-0.

Apparently shaken by the whitewash, the Reds proceeded to drop a 6-3 verdict to the Astros. The two-game lapse hurt the Reds since the first place Dodgers found the going rough last week, falling to the Colts, 5-4.

"H" League — The division leaders held onto first place last week. East leader Padres ripped the Dodgers, 13-7, held off the Angels, 8-3, and dealt the Cards a setback, 13-8. Meanwhile, west leader Mets played only once and got a scare from the Cubs before winning, 4-3.

In other games last week, the Reds were hot winning three times, 8-5 over the Expos, slaughtering the Dodgers, 17-4, and scalping the Braves, 12-7. The Astros squeezed by the Phillies, 4-3, and then had a laugh at the expense of the Giants, 16-4. The Expos took two last week, first from the Pirates, 8-4, and then the Dodgers, 13-10. The Dodgers then nipped the Angels, 13-12. The Phillies beat the Pirates, 10-2, the Cards pounded the Pirates, 24-1, and the Braves made the week anything but heavenly for the Angels, ripping them, 14-5.

"G" League — The race in the Western Division tightened up last week as the first place Braves fell to the Mets, 2-1, while the second place Giants were winning a pair.

In the Mets-Braves game, Dave Malinowski out-duelled Dan Nielsen and Scott Ponce for the victory. Meanwhile, the Giants whipped the Pirates, 7-1, and the nosed out the Reds, 8-7.

Craig Beaudoin and Todd Kerry of the Angels combined to shut out the Phillies, 10-0. But hitting dominated the remainder of the games last week.

Five home runs were hit in the Rangers 10-9 victory over the Cards. Dave Longridge, Todd Bartling and Todd Lincoln of the Cards, and John Robertson and Bob Schoettley of the Rangers blasted round-trippers.

The Yankees rapped the Dodgers, 22-6, behind the lusty home run hitting of Scott Worden, Ted Behen and Chris McCormick.

Jim Thompson and Mike Messing hit four baggers to lead the Eastern Division leading Cubs past the Reds, 12-8.

Leaders Win In Slo-pitch Softball

Front runners Old Timers and Rizzo Belanger held onto first place in their respective divisions last week.

Faced by the lusty hitting of Gary Lisowski, Rizzo Belanger shot down the Eagles, 8-3. Lisowski had three hits, including an inside-the-park home run and four RBIs. Casterline then fell, 10-0.

Old Timers squeaked out a win by straightening out a Circle, 8-4. The hitting of Jim Newman and the all-round defensive play of Old Timers aided the victory.

In other games, The Eagles soared over Moonkin-Mach, 13-3. Rod Runke had an inside-the-park home run plus three RBIs for the winners. The Eagles won again, beating the Jaycees, 17-7. Don Hallock had an inside-the-park home run and three RBIs.

CDS nipped Exotic, 12-11, but Bill McDonald hit an inside-the-park home run for the losers. Village Blues got home runs from Jeff Moon and Gary Winemaster to whip Presbyterians, 14-2. Jeff Moon had three RBIs. Jim Wallace had two home runs, for Casterline to pace his team past Little Caesars, 10-3.

Village Blues broke a 9-9 tie with six runs in the eighth inning to make Winner's Circle losers, 15-9.

Other scores saw Casterline beat Foundry Flask, 15-8. Township Merchants knocked off Elys, 14-6. Moonkin-Mach up-ended Little Caesars, 13-12. Spagy's left Hamlet talking to themselves, 7-4. Olumen's pulled off a softball rarity, winning a pitcher's game from Foundry-Flask, 1-0. St. Paul beat Joe's Party Pantry, 6-3. CDS rolled over Hamlet, 10-4. Exotic Rubber bounded Spagy's, 19-9 and Zayti surprised Ross Northrop, 16-6.

Standings Change In Novi Baseball

In the Novi Little League, log jams were broken and teams leap-frogged one another as action continued last week.

Minor League — Merchants parlayed an unusual triple play into a victory and subsequently first place in the Minor League. Merchants and league leader Auto Parts squared off, and going into the last half of the seventh inning Merchants held a slim 3-1 lead. But Auto Parts loaded the bases with no one out when Merchants pulled off the bizarre triple play.

The play started when the Auto Parts batter lined a single into short left field driving in a run and making the score 3-2. The Merchants' left fielder threw the ball to second to get a force out. Meanwhile, the runner at second tried to score and was thrown out at the plate for the second out.

Then confusion reigned. The boy who got the original hit went to third base but so did the boy who was initially forced out at second base. With two runners at third, Merchants' Brian Waack put the tag on one of the runners sent back to second base thus making the third out and ending the game.

Century 21 was anything but neighborly as it won two games last week and moved into sole possession of third place. Kevin Alexander had five hits as his team first knocked off tough luck Auto Parts, 16-4 and then Fendt Transit, 10-9 in a battle for third place.

In other games, Mark Liddle and James McKarin each had a two-run home run to power Fendt Transit to a 13-6 victory over Poured Brick Walls. Craig Isham had a home run to pace Andy's Meat Hut's 14-1 romp over Firebaugh & Reynolds. Rich Sfarbaugh continued the home run barrage last week as he had a two-run shot for Spartan Concrete as it drubbed hapless Firebaugh & Reynolds, 10-1. Cardona's Pizza nipped Spartan Concrete, 5-3.

Senior League — William H. Kelly played only one game last week but it was enough to break its first place tie with Michigan Bank. Kelly beat Michigan Bank in the showdown, 5-4. But Michigan Bank showed some poise and, paced by the one-hit pitching of Rick Faulkner, blanked the Patriots 3-1.

Bob McCallister hit a home run for Suburban Wall but it wasn't enough as his team fell to Guardian Industries, 5-3. But Suburban Wall found a "cousin" in Mario Sinicola, beating the winless team twice, 8-5 and 9-7.

Major League — A week of showdowns in Novi continued as Party Store and first place Michigan Tractor of the Red Division met. And like other showdowns last week, the top team fell to the underdog. Pat Alexander hurled a two-hitter and Jeff Demarest and Mark Morano batted out three hits apiece as Party Store had a gala time whipping Michigan Tractor, 9-0.

Party Store had more reason to celebrate as it continued its lusty hitting, bombing General Filters, 18-8. The Blue Division showdown pitted first place Rexall against second place Bain Brothers. Form held true as Bain Brothers' Todd Faulkner and Steve Kramer combined on a no-hitter to nip the front-runner, 4-1. But Bain Brothers failed to hold onto first place when Michigan

Tractor rolled over them, 11-10.

In other games last week, Eric Lafferty continued to swing a blazing bat for Firemen, as his team conquered B&V, 8-6. But Policemen cuffed Firemen 6-0, thanks to the three-hit pitching of Vince Buzolits and a grand slam home run by Ardie Tomaszewski and a solo shot by Rick Bergan.

Pony League — Only in the Pony League did the standings remain the same, primarily because only one game was played last week. In that one, league-leading J.S. Trudeau had an easy time disposing of cellar dweller Pete's Sunoco, 18-1. Dean Rose blossomed for the winners, pitching a one-hitter over four innings and knocking out a single, double, and a triple.

Boy Pulls Off Triple Play

In T-Ball games last week, Gary Piotrowicz pulled off an unassisted triple play as the Braves whipped the Cubs, 19-1. The Braves then fell to the Astros, 15-10.

The Mets knocked off the Astros, 23-18, and, in turn, the Mets were nosed out by the Dodgers, 23-22.

No team was able to win twice last week in the closely contested league. The Pirates shot down the Cardinals, 15-10, but could only gain a 13-13 tie with the Giants.

Meanwhile, the Cubs, derailed the Phillies, 13-12, and the Reds squaked by the Giants in a slugfest, 30-29. The Reds and Cardinals were rained out.

SET TO GO—When it comes to the summer pastime, Rick Trudeau is a man of many hats. He confers with the Novi High School pitcher and catcher during a recent game wearing his Snyder's hat. "Right after a baseball game I usually have to run to a softball game," he says.

Trudeau—A Softball Star

Instead of trying to catch on to a new team, Trudeau headed to the Global League, a kind of forerunner of the World Football and Hockey leagues, where high salaries and worldwide travel was promised.

Trudeau found himself playing in the Caribbean and then in Venezuela. But there was no glamour.

"As it turned out," says Trudeau who smiles easily, "the league was a pay-as-you-go operation, and not too many people were paying to see us play."

"The league was charging Venezuelan peasants $1.50 to see us play when these same people could pay half a buck to see Rico Carty or Juan Marichal play winter ball."

Trudeau says the league owed him $3,000, money which he could have used to get himself out of Venezuela. He and his teammates were stranded in the Latin American country for three months when they found they had no money to get home.

"We literally begged for food," Trudeau recalls, "and we ate bananas. It's the cheapest food."

A political connection and money from home finally liberated Trudeau from south of the border. Since he was married and the father of a son and daughter he opted for stability teaching school at Novi and playing hardball in the summer.

"You know, it's a funny thing, but I don't remember how I found out about Snyder's," says Trudeau trying to recall how he wound up playing softball.

"I think a friend called and told me about the team."

Regardless, Trudeau wound up playing part-time for Snyder's in 1971 and full time in 1972.

The requirements of playing big time softball are great. Tournaments are played in small towns on the weekends and doubleheaders are played in the Detroit area twice during the week.

Trudeau says the requirements of the team put a strain on his family but "I really love the game."

So much in fact, that he harbors a now not-so-secret wish to coach a boys' softball team someday.

"There's more action in softball. There's always something happening," Trudeau explains.

Until that time arrives, though, Trudeau will have to be content just being an ordinary star of a championship team.

No longer does he make long bus trips all hours of the night to out-of-the-way "rube towns". Instead, Snyder's flies to the out-of-the-way rube towns like Columbus, Indiana, or Tullahoma, Tennessee, bastions of the softball world.

But there's one big difference now for Rick Trudeau. He's playing with a winner.

Action Continues to Roll

Action continues to mow down every team in sight in the Novi Men's Softball League.

Last week the first and second place teams in the American League West division fell to the East division juggernaut. First-place M&B fell 22-13, then it was Michigan Tractor's turn to be plowed under, 27-10.

Fisher Sporting Goods proved that the East Division is the class of the American League as it walloped M&B, 20-10, and then easily disposed of American Enclosure, 10-4.

Michigan Tractor fell to Jim Storm Insurance, 17-9, which also won over Kramar Jewelry, 1-0 by virtue of a forfeit. American Enclosure had an easy time with Quad Company, 18-9.

In the National League, East leader J.P. Realty and West leader Willowbrook Merchants continue to roll, both winning last week.

Willowbrook pounded N.P.O.A., 18-9 and then narrowly edged Old Orchard, 12-9. J.P. Realty played just once but won handily over Community Management, 22-12.

Goat Farm won 1-9 over the Jaycees and then tied Community Management at 11. Portec disposed of N.N.C.A., 21-5, but fell to the Jaycees, 13-5. N.N.C.A. ripped N.P.O.A., 20-9.

Connie Mack Team Wins 1, Loses 2

The Northville Parks and Recreation Department entry in the Livonia Connie Mack League won its first game Thursday evening.

Paced by the hitting of Paul McDonald and Dave Brewer, Northville downed the Southfield High School team 4-3 in eight innings at Northville High School.

The Thurston High School Varsity, 9-3.

Oasis got off to a bad start in the first inning when its starting pitcher and catcher had to leave the game with injuries.

Keith Spigarelli hit a solo home run for the losers in the fifth inning over the left field fence, a 320-foot shot.

But the team, sponsored by Oasis Golf, saw its league record drop to 1-2-1 as it fell to

Grads Swansong:

Boston Tea Party

The sponsors of the annual Northville High School graduation party had a revolutionary idea for the event—a party theme based on the Bicentennial.

The majority of the senior class attended the all night party entitled the "Spirits of '76."

Upon entering the school from graduation ceremonies, each senior was given a computer card with his or her name on it. The card served as an admissions ticket to the party.

Grads were then taken to the scene of the Boston Tea Party (the elaborately decorated high school cafeteria). The walls and windows were transformed into scenes of boats and docks. The school courtyard was decorated like a cemetery with tombstones of teachers, each with an appropriate epitaph.

Food was very 20th century though. Shrimp, pizza, meatballs and submarine sandwiches were served.

Council Approves Liquor For New Bowling Lanes

Novi Council has approved issuance of a class C liquor license to Novi Lanes which plans to build a 40 lane alley on the east side of Novi Road about a quarter mile south of Nine Mile.

According to Leonard Herman, with partner Nathan Harris who plans to construct the alley, it can be open by January 10. The land is currently zoned industrial.

"We are as vitally concerned in running a top-notch establishment as the city council," said Herman when questioned about facilities at the establishment. He said that while plans include a pool room, "If pool tables cause problems, we would shut them down."

Three different developers, including Herman, presented the council with their plans for bowling alleys in the community if provided a liquor license by the council.

Bernard Friedman told of plans for a 40 lane alley called Blossom Lanes which would have been located on the south side of Grand River between Seeley and Meadowbrook roads. Doors to the place could have been opened by October.

James Rea also presented the council with plans for an alley on the south side of Twelve Mile west of Haggerty, an area currently zoned residential. Plans included starting out with 36 lanes and expanding, if warranted, up to 100 lanes.

Councilman James Shaw moved to give the license to Novi Lanes explaining that "Novi Road enhances this community more while the other locations have complications."

The motion carried 5-2 with Robert Schmid and Philip Goodman opposed.

The council also received the unexpected news from Michigan Liquor Control Commission that instead of having only four class "C" licenses available to hand out, the city actually had five available.

City Manager Edward Kriewall later explained that after the city had its mid-decade census, the Liquor Control Commission said the city had four licenses available to be handed out. Since the city had one available previously which had not been handed out, it believed that the city had picked up only three additional from the census.

That information, which was verified with a telephone call to the LCC later, proved incorrect and thus the city had five available.

The council had previously passed a resolution setting aside one liquor license for a bowling alley, one for the coming J. L. Hudson Store and another for the Novi Associates Development Area for a restaurant at the Twelve Oaks Mall. The other license was to be reserved for a restaurant or hotel-motel-motor inn.

According to Kriewall, with an extra license now available, he is hopeful it will be allocated to a restaurant away from the Dayton Hudson development site.

New 40 lane facility will be located on Novi Road, South of Nine Mile.

Streets Accepted By City Council

Acceptance by the city of Novi of certain Kaufman and Broad subdivision streets and utilities was approved by the Novi city council last week, subject to compliance with city engineer recommendations.

Accepted in the resolution were: sanitary sewers, street paving and storm drainage facilities in Heatherwyke Subdivision, Heatherwood Subdivision, Fairfield Farms Subdivision and Heathergreen Subdivision;

Water systems, sanitary sewer systems, street paving and storm drainage facilities within the rights of way of Cranbrook Drive, Village Oaks Road and Village Woods Parkhomes Community; the Willowbrook Drive Bridge over the Patnales Drain.

Acceptance of the various items means the city will now be expected to operate and maintain the utilities.

"Responsive, consistent and reliable maintenance of utility systems by the city will certainly merit recognition, and support by the majority of residents to whom those systems are vital," said a letter from city engineers Johnson and Anderson.

It also means that certain for performance bonds being held by the city which were required of Kaufman and Broad will be returned. Other funds will be held.

While the council did approve the acceptance, it did specify that certain points raised in the letter from J&A must be enforced.

Council also received a complaint from Susan O'Donnell of Fairfield Farms subdivision who complained that maintenance has not been done on some roads already received.

Robert Wilkins, school board member, complained concerning a damaged storm drain in front of Village Oaks Elementary that has not been fixed despite the fact it happened two years ago.

Wilkins contended that the storm drain still belongs to Kaufman and Broad and that despite numerous letters and communication, nothing has been done to fix it. He noted the school has at least two lawsuits against it because of the drain and "the school can't get buses in at times."

"If the city takes that over, it will have a multi-thousand dollar bill and that doesn't seem fair," Wilkins told the council.

A representative of K&B told Wilkins that he will work with the school to get the problem solved if indeed it is a Kaufman and Broad problem. He explained the company does have legal action against it and he can only take so much action. He added that he was unaware of the problem.

The street or egress on which the drain is located was not included in the utilities accepted by council.

Parents elected to the PTSO school board for the coming year are Al Geisler, Florence Hinman, Mary Kelly and Douglas Whitaker.

Students elected are Carolyn Calmes, Michelle Rotta, Mary Wertheimer and Julie Weyburne. Teachers elected are Sharon Bucklin and Cathy Lilley.

Report Outlines Improvements for Fine Arts in School

A fine arts citizens committee report giving recommendations on improvement in fine arts areas within the Novi School District has been presented to the Novi School Board.

The report included input from fine arts department faculty as well as residents in the community. Included in the 34 page report was a background analysis of each subject area plus recommendations on areas for improvement.

"Our concern was the total fine arts program," said Dr. Robert Youngberg, Middle School Principal who was chairman of the group. He explained that individual faculty members wrote the history of the fine arts area and gave recommendations. Then the total fine arts committee made recommendations.

The group reviewed and gave recommendations on the dramatic arts at the high school and middle school, art program for all grades, vocal music at the high school and elementary, performing arts at the Middle School and instrumental music at the high school and middle school.

In the dramatic arts, the group recommended that with the new high school auditorium, additional personnel should be added including an auditorium use co-ordinator, drama and musical directors, technical designers and builders, and choreographers. As far as funding, the group noted that many functions will be self-sustaining but that board backing may be necessary.

On Middle School dramatic arts, the group hopes that a small budget will be given in the future to purchase play booklets and wood to construct scenery. The group noted that it hopes for the performing arts and the English Department to join together in a six-week play production class.

On art, recommendations include expansion to two full time instructors and an increased budget. The group expressed an interest in developing present course offerings further to cover metal working, fabrics, canvas painting, printmaking and wheel thrown pottery. New courses recommended include commercial designing and photography.

On K-5 vocal music, the following recommendations were included:

- $1000 for musical instruments and thereafter a workable budget of $250 per year per school; separate music room and regular piano maintenance; new textbooks; new stereo record playing system; new recorders ($200 per school); school concert series; upper elementary choir time in schedule; field trips; in-service training; participation in music program productions by classroom teachers and administrators; curriculum offering assuring continuity; adopt board philosophy for elementary vocal music.

For the high school music department, recommendations for curriculum changes include: music appreciation, non-auditioned mens' group, non-auditioned women's group, basic theory, madrigal group, bell choir.

Other recommendations include: avoid scheduling disinterested students; nominal fee each semester; allocate school funds of $6 per student; robes; robe storage; piano; ramp for piano moving; piano benches.

Performing arts at the middle school includes drama, speech, music classes. Recommendations include further study between the middle school fine arts department and English teachers to resolve some existing overlapping activities. Also recommended finances be increased from $300 annually to $500 to purchase needed teaching materials.

Recommendations for the high school band include:

- Budget — $2,040;
- Miscellaneous — repairs to facilities more punctual, piano tuned twice each year or upon need; establishment of repair request systems; general storage improvement; establish uniform cleaning system; explore seriously need for district music coordinator; involvement by teacher in building and site fund expenditures; improvement in insurance coverage to replace stolen instruments.

The group is also recommending that a philosophy from the board be given regarding goals. It recommended greater care to avoid programming conflicts, that the ensemble class be expanded, that sectional rehearsal provisions be made and that the band director's high school half schedule is too limiting.

For the Middle School band, recommendations include a budget of $940 plus the following program considerations: avoid schedule conflicts; make provisions for exploratory program; need for beginning band class; continue biannual piano tuning.

On the question of a strings program throughout the district, recommendations include: need for Board of Education philosophy statement; strings specialist; need 13-15 experienced non-participants in high school interested in resuming.

As far as private instruction, the committee is recommending use of school facilities after dismissal plus removal of board policy preventing Novi teachers from giving paid instruction.

Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz commented he expects the recommendations of the committee to be "prioritized" and "we will see within the limits of the budget what we can do."

He, as well as committee members, had noted that some of the recommendations have already been instituted while others will be put into effect when the new high school opens.

A study meeting is expected to be held later by the board to wrestle with the board policy and recommendations regarding the fine arts program.

Novi Seeks Grant For Master Plan

Novi City Council has approved seeking second year funding of a planning grant which ultimately will result in an updated master plan for the city.

The council resolved unanimously to have the State Department of Management and Budget make application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for Urban Planning Assistance.

If approved as expected, the grant would give Novi approximately $17,000 in governmental funds while putting up only $8,800 of city money.

The first year program included an impact study of the area around the Dayton Hudson Twelve Oaks Mall shopping center site. Reports on that are to be forthcoming in July, according to planner Charles Cairns of Vilcan-Leman.

The second year course of study includes:

- A. Housing Element ($10,000 cost) includes a visual survey of neighborhoods within the city to identify areas in need of rehabilitation or other remedial activity. The survey will also identify environmental problems which affect housing quality. An assessment will be made of needs of residents in the community with emphasis on low income, large family, elderly and handicapped households;
- B. Economic Base includes a market analysis ($4,500) which (1) determines existing and potential trade areas in city; (2) comparison of existing floor space and retail sales potential compared to supporting ability of community; (3) determines square footage needs for future shopping in short range (5 years) and long-range

(1985) time period based on market penetration of centers in Novi into surrounding communities and the market penetration of centers outside of Novi into Novi.

Also included is a study ($1,500) of the Novi Road-Grand River commercial area and changes needed to make the area into a more useful and efficient function as a retail, office and residential area.

An Industrial Areas Plan ($4,000) will include a survey of current industrial base and what can be done to improve the industrial base of the community. A proposed layout of industrial district areas will be included.

C. Community facilities includes a recreation areas plan ($2,250), a fire station location plan ($2,500) and municipal center study ($500).

In addition, maps relating to the various areas of study will be prepared.

Cairns was questioned by council member Romaine Roethel concerning the fire station study. She noted that it was included at the end of the year's plan and she said that the fire department planning committee now working on a plan for use of millage money would not want to wait a year for implementation.

Cairns replied that the fire station study could be moved to the beginning of the year's activity.

Planning Board Chairman John Roethel when asked his recommendation as far as continuing the program said "I really think we have no choice but to go ahead with the program."

Council unanimously approved seeking the second year funding. The program will ultimately take three years to complete.

School Personnel Receive Board OK

The following personnel recommendations were approved by the Novi School Board last Thursday.

Appointed as election workers at a rate of $2 an hour for the school election June 14 were Dorothy Withers, Myra Hoyer, Anne Wilson, and Francis Daleo. Chief of the election workers is May Skellenger at $2.50 per hour.

The board approved employment of Nancy Gronowski as a substitute bus driver at $4.05 an hour. The resignation of Eugene Roberts as Orchard Hills custodian was approved.

Transfer requests approved were Gloria Crawford from Village Oaks to Novi Elementary, Dorothy Shook from Novi Elementary to Village Oaks and Sylvia Wright from Novi Elementary to Village Oaks.

Returning from leave status are: Diane Harmon, elementary teacher Village Oaks; Kay Tartar, elementary teacher Village Oaks; Bridget Patrick, library.

The board also agreed to hire four additional maintenance laborers from June-August to cut grass as well as move the Novi Elementary books and equipment to the new elementary and to install playground equipment at the new elementary building.

Carried unanimously

COMMUNICATIONS: Mayor Allen discussed a meeting he attended with the Assistant DPW Superintendent on the proposed County Interceptor sewers for this area, and the Water Resources Commission decision not to authorize the joint intercounty plan. If Novi were permitted a local sewage treatment plant they would dump their effluent into our stream, which nearly dries up in the summer. Belleville is also concerned because they are down stream from the A2 Ypsi effluent.

Mayor Allen mentioned a building moratorium could be placed against Northville until the area wide problem is solved.

Councilman Vernon suggested we have the stream tested while it is at a low level to show the high pollution content. It was then suggested to have two tests, one by a private concern and one by the National Water Resources Commission. The City Manager will arrange for this.

If a treatment plant were built in Novi and one in Walled Lake it would affect not only Northville but the Town and the Plymouth and Plymouth Township and further pollute the Rouge River.

Mayor Allen asked the City Manager to read a resolution to be sent to the Water Resources Commission and the Board of County Commissioners registering our strong opposition to the action taken to fragment the sewage disposal areas.

It was suggested that Novi be contacted concerning their intentions regarding a local treatment plant.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Nichols to adopt the Resolution as amended.

Carried unanimously.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Paul Craig, 490 Griswold, requested consideration of a signal light at Main and Griswold streets. He mentioned he had a petition signed by citizens living in the area.

Mayor Allen stated that two legs of the intersection are Wayne County roads. A request has been made a year ago and Wayne County did not feel there was enough traffic to warrant a traffic light. Mayor Allen suggested another study be made of the automobile traffic and pedestrian traffic and these reports with the petition then be sent to Wayne County.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to have a traffic count taken and submit this with the petition to the Wayne County Road Commission.

Richard Bohn discussed the possibility of a citizens' police auxiliary being formed to augment the Police Department patrol in helping control vandalism.

Councilman Folino mentioned we do have a paid auxiliary but stated that Livonia and Birmingham have citizens auxiliary.

The City Manager commented that different levels of involvement are possible with a citizens auxiliary and that such a group might act as a source of reports only.

Mayor Allen stated the committee, which included Councilmen Nichols and Johnston, Mrs. Joanne Cook and students from the high school, would consider the auxiliary police idea.

APPEAL OF PLANNING COMMISSION DECISION BY DENIS ROUX: The City Manager explained that Mr. Roux was making an appeal under Section 4015 of the Zoning Ordinance regarding site plan approval being appealed to the City Council. A summary of what had precipitated this appeal was given, along with communications from Louis Westfall, Captain of the Police Dept., and Herman Hartner, Fire Chief, with comments on the two driveways onto Taft Road.

Planning Commission's refusal to approve the site plan which provides for two driveways with a circular drive on Taft Rd. Mr. Roux's position is that the two driveways are desirable because they allow preservation of existing trees and advantages to police, fire and DPW. The Planning Commission's position is that the Taft Road hill creates a traffic hazard and one driveway would be preferable. A rearrangement of buildings might be necessary to allow a single drive.

The memos from the Police and Fire departments also indicated an acceptance of the circular drive from their viewpoints.

Councilman Vernon asked if site work had already been started. The answer was no.

Mr. DeRusha, Chairman of the Planning Commission, stated the Planning Commission's views and also presented excerpts from the proposed subdivision ordinance concerning traffic site distance.

Mayor Allen suggested the problem was not an insurmountable problem. He does not feel the council can make these decisions. He recommended that Mr. Roux get together with the Planning Consultant and Commission and compromise. The Council concurred.

The City Attorney pointed out that from a legal standpoint the Council could override the Planning Commission. However there did not seem to be enough information. The attorney suggested Mr. Roux go back to the Planning Commission, then if he is not satisfied he can come back to the Council.

Mayor Allen adjourned the hearing until reconsideration by the Planning Commission.

MAYBURY STATE URBAN PARK DEDICATION CEREMONY: On Saturday, June 12, a formal open house and dedication ceremony will be held to commemorate the opening of the Maybury State Urban Park.

Councilman Nichols, Johnston and City Manager Walters will attend.

SEMOG GENERAL ASSEMBLY MEETING: The City Manager and Councilman Folino will attend the General Assembly meeting on June 24 at Botsford Inn.

ALLEN TERRACE TRUST FUND: The City Manager explained the Allen Terrace Trust Fund Agreement.

Councilman Nichols asked if the City Council could suggest the type of bonds and investments the bank invests in.

The City Manager answered yes, however we pay a fee for every action we request, which is not practical in the early state of the trust.

Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Folino that the Mayor and City Clerk sign the Investment Assistance Agreement for the Allen Terrace Trust Fund.

Carried unanimously.

MISCELLANEOUS: Councilman Nichols asked about the necessity of No Right Turns at 4 Mile and Center St.

Councilman Vernon asked for a reconsideration of these intersections by the M.P.D. be reported for the agenda of next meeting.

The City Clerk attended the public hearing House Bill 6010 concerning establishment of tax base sharing districts. The City will consider a resolution opposing the bill at the next meeting.

A communication from the Superintendent of Schools concerning the summer tax collection which will not be requested this summer because the Township did not agree to the collection.

There being no further business, Mayor Allen adjourned the meeting at 9:55 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Joan McAllister

Clean-up Campaign

Let's Clip Weeds Down, Mayor Urges Residents

Mayor A. M. Allen appealed to city residents this week to clip weeds growing around telephone poles, support wires, fire hydrants and in ditches.

"It's a shame to see the condition of some places," said the mayor. "It spoils the appearance of the entire community, and in this Bicentennial year I think we should have a little more pride. Let's get cleaned up for the Fourth."

At the same time, the mayor expressed disgust over the condition of landscaping on the property of the vacant Captain's Table restaurant at the southwest corner of Dunlap and Center.

The mayor directed the city manager to have the city remove the weeds and bill owners for the work.

And if the city cannot legally order the owners to pay for the work before July 4, the mayor and Mayor Pro Tem Paul Vernon told council they personally would pay for it.

"It's disgraceful," said Allen. "I want that place cleaned up by the Fourth."

In still another related matter, the mayor urged that the city police department look into cases where property owners are parking vehicles on their front lawns and on medians between the street and sidewalk. "If we've got an ordinance on this sort of thing, let's enforce it," he said.

He pointed to properties on South Wing Street and on Rayson Street where trucks and cars are regularly being parked on lawns as examples of unsightly conditions which should be stopped.

Council members also complained about the number of campers being parked in driveways and they noted that city police should report locations where street corners are being obscured by shrubs or low tree branches.

Concerning the parking of recreational vehicles, the manager pointed out that several of the most obvious cases, particularly in the northern part of the city, have been granted permits as provided by city ordinance.

He noted that on Horton, for example, three neighboring homes have such vehicles parked there by permit. To deny one and not all of them such permission simply because one is too close to another, he said, is unfair.

The manager said he personally would prefer that the ordinance be changed to prohibit all such parking rather than make exceptions.

HONORS UPON HONORS—Terrance Jolly, Ray Warren, Kevin Anderson and LaVerne

DeWaard receive recognition for their contributions to the Novi School Board.

In Novi Ceremonies

Board Honors Its Own

Honors upon honors were heaped upon retiring Novi School Board members LaVerne DeWaard and Ray Warren as they attended their final board meeting Thursday — which fittingly was the first school board meeting to be held at the new Novi Elementary.

Also honored for their contributions to the board were Terrance Jolly who was defeated in the June 14 school election and Kevin Anderson, student representative for the past year.

Resolutions were passed honoring all three board members. The resolution regarding Warren noted that his "experience, counsel and knowledge has been invaluable to many individuals as well as to the local, state and national organizations with which he has been associated as a member of the board of education."

The resolution also noted his contributions to the district in his field of expertise, construction and land development.

Over Warren's seven and a half years on the board, he has served at various times as secretary, vice president and president of the school board, including being president for the past six months.

DeWaard was also honored for his eight years on the board.

His resolution of appreciation noted that "Mr. DeWaard's experience, counsel and knowledge has been invaluable to many individuals as well as to the local, state and national organizations which includes membership on the Legislative Committee for the Michigan Association of School Boards, and his many contributions in his role as both member and president of the Oakland Intermediate School District Board of Education."

The resolution to Jolly said that the board "takes great pride in the service which Terrance K. Jolly has given to the educational community during his term of office as a member of the Board of Education.

The Board recognizes Mr. Jolly's many valuable contributions through his past experiences, his understanding, his intelligence, and of prime importance, his ability to work with people to accomplish educational objectives."

Kevin Anderson, student representative, was also honored for over a year of service.

Organizational meeting of the new school board is set for 8 p.m. Monday, July 12 at the administration building.

Wixom Newsbeat

Gala Parties Honor Grads

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Anyone driving down Maple Road had no trouble knowing that something special was going on in one of the houses. Strung from the porch was a huge banner proclaiming "The Spirit of '76 Lives Here" hung in honor of graduating senior Nancy Tillman.

Knowing immediately the banner came from a well known oil company I asked Helen how she ever managed to get her hands on one.

The Tillmans, it seems, plan ahead. Two years ago they managed to talk a gas station owner out of the banner and it's been hidden in the back of a closet ever since just waiting for "the day."

The Tillmans were just one Wixom family holding open houses in honor of their children. Other seniors feted were Melanie Hurst, Bob Pastula and David Parvu.

Helen said well over 100 people dropped in to congratulate Nancy with guests exclaiming over Corb's famous light posts on their way in. Corb, you'll remember, picked them up at Detroit's big garage sale sometime back.

On hand were Helen's parents, Mr. & Mrs. C. M. Wittman of Utica, New York who flew in for the occasion. Although "grandpa" returned home after a few days' visit, "grandma" stayed on to enjoy the Tillman hospitality.

Other out-of-town guests include Helen's sister, Nancy Jayne and daughter Andrea of Des Moines, Iowa. After a stop in Wixom and two continued on their way east "Bicentennial-ing." Other family members taking part in the celebration was sister, Gail. She and her family came in from Ypsilanti.

But Helen says that the biggest thrill came with the arrival of old, old friends, dating back to the Tillman's Iowa Falls, Iowa days.

Carol and Dale Smith of Marshalltown, Iowa made the drive to Wixom especially for the one day visit. That's a long way to come for just one day and Helen said she was totally shocked when they walked in.

Company didn't end with the open house. A few days later there were more houseguests as Helen's nephew and wife, Kurt and Marla Brinkman of Gilmore City, Iowa, paid a call. They were on their way east to a new job assignment.

And if the days weren't busy enough, Nancy Tillman packed up and went on a "senior sneak trip" with a group from the Union Lake Baptist Church. An annual event, the excursion is a mystery with a new point of interest chosen every year.

Some 16 youths joined together in the trip that took them to Philadelphia and Ocean City, New Jersey for five days. What better place to choose for the "spirit of '76'."

One last planning session for those working on the day-long Bicentennial celebration in Wixom on July 4 is scheduled for Thursday, June 24. The meeting/scheduled for 8 p.m. at City Hall hopefully will draw together all the loose ends.

What has developed is a day-long celebration, purposely flavored "old-fashioned" that will hopefully be remembered long after the Bicentennial's final breath.

An early suggestion is that families bring blankets or chairs to sit on in order to be comfortable, a big picnic lunch to munch on throughout the day and be prepared for lots of activities.

There'll be live entertainment, kids and adult games, water fights, and balloons, all topped off with a huge fireworks display. A wind up dance will then be held on the Finn Camp grounds.

Sound like fun — you betcha! Instead of a picnic in your own back yard, why not join with your friends, relatives and neighbors in one great biggie.

Or, if you're the kind that usually leaves town over the holiday, why not stay close to home this year — nice and safe and inexpensive.

While planning the menu for your picnic lunch, don't forget to include a bell. At precisely 2 p.m. bells will be rung throughout the nation marking the first ringing of the liberty bell in 1776.

We in Wixom will join in that bell ringing. Cow bells, dinner bells, jingle bells... bring them along and let freedom ring!

Schoolcraft Offers Career Opportunity

Schoolcraft College can provide both educational and placement help for persons interested in a career in climate control as featured in a recent edition of "The Pathfinder."

The Pathfinder is the career information guide published bi-monthly by the Southeastern Michigan League of Community Colleges (SEMLCC). Its April issue advised: "be cool, fire up with a career in climate control."

According to The Pathfinder, employment in the area of heating and air conditioning is expected to climb into the mid 1980's. While it is difficult to project building trends and the number of job opportunities, the publication points out that as the energy crisis persists the field will grow.

The kinds of employers who hire heating and cooling workers include refrigeration and air conditioning shops, cold storage, meat packing and food processing plants, auto and truck air conditioning shops, public utilities, department stores, schools, hospitals, banks and major manufacturers.

Schoolcraft currently has 95 full and part-time students enrolled in its associate degree climate systems technology program. Students can also enroll in certificate programs in heating and refrigeration.

Climate control courses are also offered at Macomb County and C. S. Mott community colleges among the other SEMLCC institutions.

Persons interested in the degree or certificate programs Schoolcraft College offers in climate control should contact the admissions office at 591-6400, extension 228.

Schoolcraft's placement office directed by Dr. Ronald Monfette, coordinates many of its placement activities through the SEMLCC regional placement center.

Students wishing part-time or graduate employment should register with the placement office which is located in the third house next to the south student parking lot.

Peterson is chairman of the Gala Days booth and would like to hear from anyone in the community not working in another booth. Youth Assistance needs workers in theirs, which will be throwing balls at a milk bottle. Call 348-3358 if you can help.

Novi Contract Goes to Macomb

A bid from Macomb Contracting Corporation of Fraser for construction of the water transmission mains along Novi Road and Twelve Mile to service the Twelve Oaks Mall has been approved by Novi city council.

The bid was for $317,000, approximately five percent lower than the construction costs as estimated by engineering consultants Johnson and Anderson.

The bids received ranged from the $317,000 low bid up to $435,842 for the high bid.

Dayton Hudson is to pay $165,000, its share of the costs. According to City Manager Edward Kriewall, it was necessary for the council to take action in order to get the line in before work begins on the widening of Novi Road from I-96 to 12 Mile. He notes bids have already been accepted by the county on the job.

Specifically, the water line for which bids were accepted will run along Novi Road from 12 Mile, south to the expressway. A branch will travel along 12 Mile approximately 1800 feet. Those lines are expected to be completed within three months, according to Finance Director Fred Todd.

However, the water line from 14 Mile down to 12 Mile will not be completed until the first part of 1977, added Todd. The line will eventually travel down to 10 Mile road where it will branch east to Meadowbrook Glens and west to the new high school on Taft Road.

Jaycees Plan Parade and Fireworks

From early morning to late at night, Northville's observance of the nation's 200th birthday should be a memorable one lasting another 100 years.

The Sunday, July 4 program will open with an ecumenical outdoor church service and close with a giant fireworks display.

And sandwiched between these starting and closing events will be a host of colorful activities that are bound to make the Fourth a "stay at home" day for area residents who may have been thinking of traveling.

Here, briefly, is the schedule:

8 a.m. — Church service on the Mill Race Historical Village grounds.

10 a.m. — A breath-taking parade.

11 a.m. — Start of a flea market, craft show and barbecue.

12:30 p.m. — Watermelon eating contest.

1:30 p.m. — Bicentennial ceremony.

5 p.m. — Announcement of raffle winners.

10 p.m. — Fireworks at the high school.

Packed into the day will be these "fun for everyone" activities:

Historical Society Events: Lemonade sale, white elephant sale, kissing booth, historical buildings open to the public.

Jaycees: Chicken barbecue, dunk tank, watermelon eating contest, parade, fireworks, raffle. Northville Bicentennial Committee: 20 minute performances throughout the day by the Bicentennial Players, dramatizing the history of Northville — the Switzerland of Wayne County.

Northwest Territorial Militia: marches and drills, musket displays and musket firing.

Music: Northville High School Band.

Refreshments: Mother's Club spread in front of the historical schoolhouse.

Already one of the finest small-town extravaganzas in Michigan, this year's annual Fourth parade should be the best ever held in Northville, promise proud Jaycees.

The bands alone will be worthy of the thousands of spectators the parade is expected to draw. Among them will be: Northville High School Band, Amherstburg Community Band, Clan McCrae Pipe Band, Plymouth Pife & Drum Corps, Lions Youth Band of Windsor, Milford High School, Frost Junior High Tuba Singers, and Novi High School (not yet confirmed).

Special musical groups will include the Troubadours Musical Corps and the Brigadier Baton & Musical Corps.

Marching units to participate include veterans of Northville VFW 4012, Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147, American Legion Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary, Girl Scout Troop 656, Campfire Girls, United States Marines contingent, Northwest Territorial Militia, Boy Scout Troop 721, and St. Roberts Cardinals.

Miscellaneous vehicles: Michigan State Police, Northville Township Police, City of Northville Police, Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas, Wayne County Sheriff's Department, Unicyclist Robert Kwak, Westridge Wheelers (seven of them), Wayne County 40 et 8 locomotive.

Equestrian: Roberts Farms, Copps Riding School & Equestrian Team, Skencrest Farms, Michigan Appaloosa Club, Poplar Farms.

Antique Cars: Model A Restorers Club, Willy's Overland Knight Restorers Club, Classic Car Club of America, Northville Auto Club.

Among the floats, but not all of them:

Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Jim Storm Insurance Agency, Northville Business & Professional Women's Club, Northville Historical Society, Northville Commons, Cub Scout Pack 721, Our Lady of Victory Church, League of Women Voters; Northville Rotary Club, Northville Beautification Commission, Northville Colony Estates, Northville Newcomers, King's Mill, Cutler Realty, Northville Charley's, and The Northville Record.

Still other participants will include city and township officials; county, state, national politicians; Frank Bodrie (teenage clown), Mike McKee (11-year-old stilt walker), and the Milton Koenigs pulling a cannon.

Other parade participants — groups, individuals and floats — are to be announced later.

Area Students Win College Honors

Seven area students have been named to the academic honors list at Central Michigan University for the winter semester of 1976.

Named to the list were: Leslie Pearce, senior, 22905 Telford Drive, Novi; Kevin Nissen, sophomore, 3055 West Maple, Wixom; Mark Dougher, junior, 44860 Thornapple; David Gloer, sophomore, 804 Springfield Drive, Northville; Karen Henrich, senior, 38242 Tralee Trail, Northville; Maureen Hussey, senior, 37931 Rhonwood, Northville, and Stephen Serkaian, senior, 45755 Bloomcrest Drive, Northville.

To be eligible for the academic honors list, a student must have a cumulative grade average of "B" or better for his or her entire college career.

Receiving straight "A's" for the winter semester were Leslie Pierce of Novi, Maureen Hussey of Northville and Barbara Hodson of 404 West Main in Northville.

Several students from this area have been named to the Dean's List at Madonna College, Livonia, for high academic achievement during the winter semester.

Earning first honors for achieving a grade point average of 3.5 or better of a perfect 4.0 are:

From Northville —

Elizabeth M. Blanchard, Bettajoyce F. Chio and Mary E. Smith.

From Novi — Dianne L. Haas.

From Wixom — Mary J. Burrows.

From South Lyon — Jerry L. Boyer.

Earning second honors for achieving a grade point average between 3.25 and 3.49 are:

From Northville — Susan M. Hapley, Marilyn D. Miller and Anita G. Moyer.

Two area residents have been named to the spring semester academic dean's list at Hillsdale College.

Earning all A grades was Gregory M. Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. V.V. Ball, 18262 Arselot Drive.

Earning B or better grades was Susan Ann Heckler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Heckler, 18410 Fermanagh Court.

Both students are graduates of Northville High School.

Parade Route

When July 4 rolls around, Main Street (center of picture) will be lined with spectators as they watch what promises to be the longest, most colorful parade in Northville's history. And when it's over, thousands of people will visit the Mill Race Historical Village located just west and north of the Ford Valve Plant at the lower right of the picture to enjoy the festivities there. Ford Motor, incidentally, plans to exhibit old and new cars for spectators who include the beautiful "waterwheel" grounds as part of their Big Fourth itinerary.

Reimbursement Sought for Vote

A resolution which would provide for reimbursement of the costs of a special election March 23 held to determine a successor for former county commissioner Lew Coy has been introduced by the successor to his position.

Republican 24th District Commissioner Dennis Murphy of Novi introduced the bill on the floor June 3 in which "the Oakland County Board of Commissioners would admit its error in judgment in calling for a special election and correct the situation by payment to the local units the amount expended by said units by the conduct of the special election."

In introducing the legislation Murphy noted that voter turnout for both the primary and general election was less than 15 percent of the registered voters in each and that the cost of the primary was $8.24 per vote cast and in the general election $2.17 per vote cast.

The election was held after the county board in a fight along party lines failed to appoint either Murphy or Democrat William T. Roberts, mayor of Walled Lake, to the position.

The election which followed cost taxpayers $12,982 which included $8,564 which was borne by the local units of government through taxes.

The resolution was referred to the Finance Committee for consideration.

Murphy represents Novi, Wixom, South Lyon, Lyon Township, Walled Lake, part of Farmington Hills and the Oakland County portion of Northville.
