Fair to Mars

"Oh, my gosh, why did I ever get on this thing... it's going to Mars!" screams one of the hundreds of youngsters (and adults) who climbed aboard the hair-raising rides during Northville's community fair at Northville Downs last week.

Attendance was off by 25-percent because of the 2½ days of rain, but the cool, damp weather failed to mar enthusiasm of those who attended. See pictures and story on Page 7-A.

Library, rec votes upset council

City-township honeymoon over

By their action taken at the polls on August 3 Northville Township voters produced shock waves that brought a sharp response from the Northville city council Monday night.

Councilman Paul Vernon urged fellow councilmembers to examine the possible necessity of "going our own way" in the light of the overwhelming defeat by township voters of requests for financial support of library and recreation programs jointly operated by the city and township.

His introduction of the subject at the opening of Monday night's council session resulted in the calling of a special meeting September 27 to study all existing programs conducted with the township.

Councilman Vernon said he had received numerous calls from city residents who interpreted the township vote as indicating "the people in the township are not willing to participate with the city in these efforts" (library and recreation).

He insisted that the city should look closely at all contractual arrangements with the township to be certain no inequities exist "and so we're not caught short by township decisions."

Vernon included library, recreation and fire services and suggested that the township might be getting a "better break" than it should. He also noted that the city is providing water to some township residents west of the city and that the township has failed to improve the lines carrying water to the residences, thereby impairing service.

"We ought to give them notice that we intend to discontinue the service unless the system is brought up to standard," Vernon added.

In general the council indicated that its "honeymoon with the township was over. There's strong feeling by most councilmembers that the city has bent over backwards to accommodate the township and that the time has now come for all jointly-sponsored programs to be conducted on strictly a business basis.

Included in the statistics to substantiate the inequity were police assistance records for the past year which showed the city responding to township calls for help 22 times compared to one assist from the township. With Novi the city received help 11 times and gave assistance seven times during the same period.

Councilman Wallace Nichols modified his position by saying he agreed with Vernon but cautioned "we can't build a wall around ourselves."

Councilman Stanley Johnston thought otherwise. "Past records show we haven't wanted a wall. But those who voted gave money to police where there's no sharing of services and refused help where there is sharing. Many people didn't vote, maybe they don't care. But those who did vote don't want to be part of the library and recreation programs," Johnston stated.

The council made it clear it was not seeking a divorce from city-township programs. Rather it intends to look closely at all costs of jointly-sponsored programs to be certain that equity exists. And it also wants to find out how much "going it alone" will cost if, as Councilman Vernon put it, "we get caught in that kind of a bind."

Zoning approved for solar center

Should the federal government decide to locate its planned Solar Energy Research Institute (SERI) in Northville Township, there will be no obstacles in zoning or ordinance specifications. Upon recommendation of its planning commission, Northville Township Board of Trustees Thursday voted unanimously to rezone about 320 acres on Beck Road between Five and Six Mile from R-2 (residential) to RD (research and development).

It, in the same action, amended ordinance 47 to eliminate height limitations for any tower-type structure SERI may need.

Because setback requirements of two and a half times the height of the structure will be needed, Trustee James Nowka pointed out, the change will be limited to RD zoning and will not be applicable, he said, to business structures.

Wayne County representatives at the meeting called the prospect of the SERI installation "a fantastically valuable asset" to the township, county and state should it be located here.

After finding it is not legally possible to include in the motion the requirement that the parcel be returned to its original zoning should the institute not be located here, trustees were assured that Wayne County would seek to do so.

Francis Bennett, director of the Wayne County Planning Commission, told the board that the county was not trying to change zoning restrictions and if the institute is not approved would "return the property to its present use."

Wilson Grier, who two weeks ago won election as Republican nominee for township supervisor, questioned from the audience what fire fighting equipment was going to be necessary and asked if a precedent were being established.

Township ok's sewers for Meadowbrook sub

A special assessment district for installation of sewers in Meadowbrook subdivision was established at last Thursday's meeting of Northville Township Board of Trustees.

The board acted unanimously after learning that 11 of 15 affected property owners had signed the petition.

It was pointed out that the height restriction was limited to RD zoning and that the institute would be responsible for its own fire protection.

The proposal to locate SERI in Michigan is one of 20 now being considered in Washington.

Northville's site is one of five possible permanent sites being considered in the state. In the past, planners have stated that Northville is receiving "very favorable consideration."

The makeup of the assessment district was challenged, however, by one of the involved property owners, William Yant.

He told the board he lived on Pierson and was surrounded by four vacant lots. He also stated he felt the district should include Smock Road.

Future building uses set

School board ok's site here for new library

In approving a school site for the proposed new public library, the Northville Board of Education Monday also established a course for future use of all school buildings on the Main Street property.

The far-reaching decisions of the board mean that—

- A parcel of property southeast of the administration building will be deeded to the township and-or city for a new library.

- The present school administrative building (board office) eventually will be returned to a recreational use for which it was originally constructed.

- The administrative offices will be moved to Main Street Elementary School when the present administrative building becomes a recreational center.

- Main Street School will be reactivated for classrooms in the 1977-78 school year for an enrollment of 250 to 300 children.

- The Annex Building will continue to be used for special education classrooms, Schoolcraft College classrooms and for any other similarly leased program as long as the building can be economically maintained.

More specifically concerning the proposed library site, the board voted to deed the property to the township and-or city but left legal documentation up to the board attorney.

Only stipulation carried with the board vote was that the property should revert to the school if the library is ever sold for a non-library use.

Based on comments by the board, it would appear that transfer of the deed either will be without cost or in exchange with the city for street right-of-way land lying between the administration building and the Annex. If the latter becomes a reality it probably will mean the deed will go to the city only.

A proposed stipulation that the library be available to all children of the school district was withdrawn when Library Commission President Mrs. Charles Ayers advised the board that such a stipulation could possibly jeopardize future library operation.

The slated commission intention, however, is to make the library available to students attending Northville schools from Salem and Lyon townships. Novi residents attending Northville schools already have access to the Northville library because Novi is a member of the Wayne County Federated Library System.

The land for the library decision together with related board intentions relative to the other buildings were recommendations of the board's facilities subcommittee. They also were recommendations, except in one instance, of the citizens facilities committee. Lone exception was that the citizens facilities committee had recommended that the board offices be moved to the top floor of the Annex building.

Board members opted for these offices to be located in

A $500 donation was presented to the Northville Kiwanis Club Monday by the Northville Knights of Columbus, Council 6762, to aid Kiwanians in their on-going programs for local handicapped children. Making the presentation by the Knights who raised the money for the children through club projects was Walter Abinski and Richard Formella. Kiwanis President Robert Schron extended the club's appreciation for the gift on behalf of the club and the children. Schron also announced that Northville teenagers, in cooperation with the club, had raised approximately $70 for handicapped children through a blue grass-rock concert at the high school Saturday.

SPECIAL MEETING of business and professional people of Northville's central business district will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the Northville city council chambers. A promotional committee of retail merchants and the Chamber of Commerce will disclose ideas on how to improve business in Northville.

REPORTS of near accidents mounted last week as Dunlap Street motorists "miss" the new stop signs at Linden Street. Because Linden has been designated a "major" street by the state, it and not Dunlap has become the through street.

Restaurant up for sale

Financially-plagued Captain's Table Restaurant, formerly the Drawbridge, will go up for public sale on August 31.

The sale was ordered by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge William Cahalan upon the mortgage foreclosure lawsuit brought by Metropolitan Savings Association. Building and all fixtures within the building are to be sold as Metropolitan seeks to recover an investment of $368,000 plus interest.

Elizabeth Kalota plays a scene with Detroit Robert Bryson

Elizabeth Kalota stars in Village productions

Northville High alumna and veteran of many high school plays, Liz Kalota already knows she can take the rigors of a "five-a-day" professional show routine as she appears this summer in "Town Hall Revue" musical show in Greenfield Village.

On weekends, through September 4, she moves to the Henry Ford Museum Theater to play the ingenue lead, "Georgina," in the Greenfield Village Players' production of the historic comedy, "Our American Cousin."

More formally, the young actress is Elizabeth Kalota, one of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kalota of 44102 Cotisford Court in Brookland Farms, Novi.

"We've seen it about six times as all our friends want to see her," says her mother of the revival of the 19th century farce that depicts the adventures of American Yankee Asa Trenchard abroad on a visit to the home of his English cousin.

As expected, the American's typical outspokenness shatters the quiet of the countryside and upsets the decorum of the English drawing room.

Predictably, however, Trenchard's bumbling awkwardness eventually works to his advantage and he succeeds in defeating the deeds of the oily English villain in the farce.

Miss Kalota wears costumes of the 1890 era as the comedy is presented each Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

For a week in September her schedule will overlap with the beginning or her senior year at Eastern Michigan University.

She will commute to finish the season for "she wouldn't miss any of it," explains her mother.

At Eastern Miss Kalota is majoring in theatre arts and ultimately would like to work in children's theatre. She has a minor in literature with specialization in children's literature.

Last summer she worked in children's theatre, giving shows at the Dearborn library.

She has toured in little theatre and played on campus in University Players productions of "Dames at Sea" and "A Flea in her Ear."

"I think she was in every show they had during her high school years," Mrs. Kalota remembers, mentioning that the part of Liesl in "Sound of Music" in 1973 was Liz's favorite. "She loved that role," recalls her mother.

The 1973 honors graduate of Northville High won dramatic department awards here and at Eastern has been serving as president of the EMU Players. She also has been vice president of Alpha Psi Omega sorority.

Friends visiting Greenfield Village this summer are catching Liz' act in the town hall during the day. The dance revue calls for quick changes and fast stepping.

Seats for "Our American Cousin," however, are reserved and may be obtained at the theater box office the evenings of the performances.

A combination dinner-theatre package is available some evenings. For reservations call 271-1620, extension 264.

In Our Town Ecumenical vows encouraged here

By JEAN DAY

WEDDING NEWS is changing.

Virtually gone are reports of ceremonies outdoors in the park or woods favored by flower children of the sixties.

While many young people are writing their own vows to make their services more personally meaningful, many others have been returning to traditional ceremonies.

Locally, our community is one of several in Michigan holding ecumenical services with Catholic priests and Protestant ministers cooperating to enable young people to wed in religious ceremonies.

"Michigan certainly is one of the leaders in this ecumenism," agrees the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of First Presbyterian Church in Northville who has been participating in services with other clergy for some time.

"We get together at points where we can," he explains, stating that the services bring two traditions together to give the participants a sense of belonging to a church. He adds that in addition to using Catholic and Protestant doctrines, his church has been participating with Christian Scientists by using quotations from Mary Baker Eddy's "Key to the Scriptures."

JUNE BRIDE Kristine Ann Frew planned a shared service as she married Van M. Vermeesch at 12:30 p.m. June 26 in First Presbyterian Church.

"Father Gerard Hadad (of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church) gave the vows to my husband and I repeated mine to Mr. Brasure," Kris relates. The two clergymen then gave the marriage pronouncement together.

Kris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frew of 965 Novi Street, and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vermeesch of Livonia.

For the service the church altar was decorated with arrangements of white lilies, white and yellow daisies and baby's breath. Mrs. Frew made matching nosegays to tie at the end of the pews.

The young couple also personalized the service by having Brad Dase play guitar music. Carl Stephens sang "There Is Love" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a summer wedding gown of white English lace fashioned with Empire waist and capelet sleeves. The flounced skirt extended into a chapel train. A matching lace picture hat held her waist-length veil.

The bride chose an "everlasting" nosegay arrangement of dried white roses and baby's breath to carry.

Jayne Frew, in a long pastel yellow gown with lace embroidery on the bodice and sleeves, was her sister's honor maid. Sisters of the couple, Lisa Frew and Vicki Vermeesch, and Ellen Kirchner were bridesmaids in green.

Paul Vermeesch was best man for his brother. Ushers were Jim LeFevre, George Donnelly, Ken Gibb, and Eric Vermeesch.

A reception for 110 guests followed at Botsford Inn with visitors attending from New York, Connecticut, Minnesota, Chicago and Grand Rapids.

The couple had met while camping six years ago. The new Mrs. Vermeesch is a 1975 graduate of Northville High School and is attending Schoolcraft College. Her husband attended Lake Superior State College and presently is working for Norquick Distributors. They are living in Northville.

THIRTY-ONE YEARS ago the marriage of Harriet Carlson to Corporal Edward Landau was far from traditional. He was injured in an automobile accident enroute to get his license, but the ceremony took place on schedule — only at Fort Wayne Army Hospital.

The wedding was recalled, coincidentally, by a newspaper clipping found by Mrs. C. S. Niemi. Elsewhere in this week's issue is the wedding story of the Landau's son, Edward Carl, who married Diane Foster last month.

His parents were married January 12, 1945, in what the senior Mrs. Landau thinks was the only wedding ever held at Fort Wayne.

Her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, recalls hospital officials inviting them to "bring the wedding down here."

"I rode down with the preacher and held the wedding cake," she remembers. The preacher was the Reverend Thomas W. Smith who was at First Presbyterian Church in Northville at the time. The wedding cake, adds Mrs. Landau, was cut so that 150 hospitalized soldiers each had a piece. "Dad (the late Arthur Carlson) drove me and four bridesmaids down and had a flat tire on the way," she continues, "delaying the ceremony until 9 p.m. Afterward I went home and Ed was in the hospital for 33 days."

She wore the traditional sweetheart-neck satin gown and illusion veil she had chosen for the wedding and carried a sheaf of flowers.

SEPTEMBER bride-elect Debra Guard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guard of Woodhill Road, was honored Sunday at a miscellaneous bridal shower for 25 guests. It was given by her aunt, Mrs. Truman Guard, of Roseville.

She will become the bride of Priya Prasad in a September 24 ceremony.

Owners of tour home use antiques with imagination

By JEAN DAY

Ten vari-sized crocks holding bright geranium plants decorate the doorway of the colonial home of the Robert C. Middletons in Edenderry and give visitors a hint of imaginative details inside.

In the five years since the Middletons and their four children moved into the home on Arselot Drive they have made it a distinctive reflection of themselves and their love of antiques.

Hallways and bathrooms as well as the major living areas have received Carolyn Middleton's "do-it-yourself" attention.

Sue Wright, chairman of the 10th annual Northville Home Tour September 30, points out she is especially delighted to have this home on the tour as "there are so many ideas that are original with the couple that other antiquers may want to consider."

One of Carolyn Middleton's clever thoughts is on view in the spacious, open foyer.

Pointing out that they bought the home after it was built, Mrs. Middleton says she never would have chosen such a large entry herself — and then wouldn't have had room to convert daughter Molly's antique iron baby bed into the entry seat it has become.

It's painted a wine-red and looks great with the brick-tile floor and floral striped wallpaper.

Tour visitors will want to notice the seven old Toby mugs collected by Bob Middleton and displayed on a wood shelf on a back wall of the entry under an old wall clock.

"We were meant to have this house," declares Mrs. Middleton as she points out that they had been collecting stained glass windows for a home they planned to build — and found that all were "perfect fits" for windows in their white colonial.

The first on view is a Victorian window that looks like a white-etched lace curtain. Mrs. Middleton has used it as a drape on the top of the front window in the entry.

Four stained glass windows are sun-catchers in the county kitchen-family room area.

In this area, as she has done throughout the house, Carolyn has used bright accents of paint. The four chairs around her oak pedestal table are red, as are the tartan-covered chairs in the family room which is backed with a massive stone fireplace.

Focal point of the room is the large antique drum used as a coffee table. Its inscription reads, "George Puckett Post No. 264, Mancelona, Michigan."

It was one of the Middleton "finds" in the attic of an antique shop. Mrs. Middleton remembers that "it was covered with pigeon droppings and there was a hole in one side." But refurbished and with a glass top, it is an outstanding coffee table.

Another "practical" antique is the large yellow Colman's mustard tin mounted on the kitchen wall to hold potato chip bags. Other old tins on shelves and counters repeat the red accents of the kitchen.

One of the family's most unusual antiques is the basin in the first-floor half-bath. On a white-painted iron stand, it boasts a back-splash of flower tiles.

Mrs. Middleton mentions that the grand piano in the living room and her dining room furniture are acquisitions from her parents' home as they moved to smaller quarters about the time the Middletons moved to Northville.

A first-floor study that doubles as a bedroom is furnished with a French Canadian cupboard "brought back in pieces on the roof of the car."

"I found the tiny diamond-patterned wallpaper along with all the others I used right in Northville at Black's," says Mrs. Middleton, adding that it, too, was Canadian-made.

At the top of the stairs there are 30 pictures of family decorating the walls.

"I don't believe in family pictures all over the living room," comments Mrs. Middleton, "but I like having these for us to see."

Mrs. Middleton has just finished painting the master bedroom a soft cream color. The shutters she used on the windows instead of curtains also match. Tour visitors will notice that window treatments throughout the home have been chosen to give as much light as possible.

The Tiffany-type lamp that hangs by the brass bed in the Middletons' bedroom was another find many years ago near Caseville. Mrs. Middleton remembers it cost only $15 with the owner amazed that she wanted it.

A blue glass tulip lamp hangs in the bedroom of 15-year-old daughter Kyle Roggenbuck's room. Her old iron bed came from Mrs. Middleton's father's family while the wagon wheel quilt was from her mother's. To enlarge the room the small-print paper was used on the ceiling as well as walls.

Against the yellow background Mrs. Middleton has painted furniture green or blue.

A delightful piece in the room is the miniature salesman's sample dresser in original cream color with delicate blue flower decoration. It's now Kyle's jewelry box.

This was a buy at an antique show in Northville Square, Mrs. Middleton reveals.

Randy Roggenbuck, 17, this summer is sharing his room with brother Tobin Roggenbuck, 19, a sophomore at Michigan State University. It is in reds and blues with wallpaper in a bold geometric print.

The room of the youngest in the family, Molly Middleton, 9, is furnished with two white iron beds with the pastel pink and lemon colors of the floral block-printed wallpaper used.

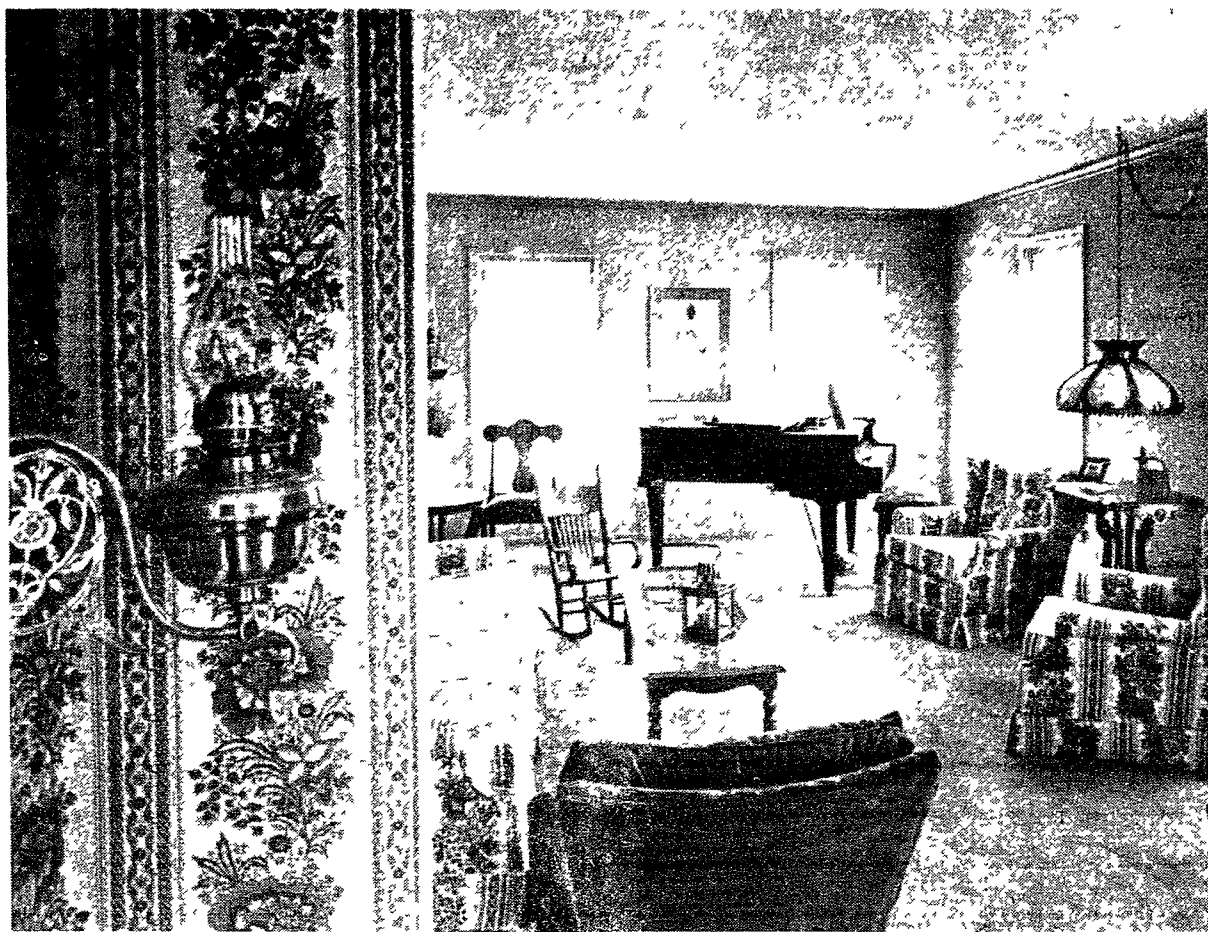

The eyecatcher here is a miniature white ice cream parlor table and chair set with pink-checked seats and cover.

Antiquers will want to give themselves extra time to browse for ideas in this tour home September 30.

Four other homes are to be on view on the 10th annual tour co-sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Northville's women's association and Northville Historical Society.

They include a three-story Victorian home, a Gothic cottage and two Baus-built contemporary homes.

Tickets are available in advance from Mrs. Martin Rinehart, 349-1468, and will be sold the day of the tour at Mill Race Historical Village, which also will be open.

Antiques "live" comfortably with contemporary pieces in the Middletons' light living room.

The Robert C. Middletons will open their double-wing colonial home in Edenderry for the 10th annual Northville Home Tour.

Painted wrought-iron furnishings are used in Molly Middleton's pink and lemon bedroom.

Stained glass windows prove a "perfect fit" in the Middletons' five-year-old home.

Mustard and reds in canisters, painted chairs and wallpaper create a distinctive kitchen-keeping room area.

Impact study for Twelve Oaks area done

Streets, sewer lines eyed near center

Resolutions concerning improvements to Twelve Mile and a sanitary sewer district in the area of the Twelve Oaks Mall were approved unanimously by the Novi City Council Monday.

Novi Council approved a resolution to widen 12 Mile Road on both sides of Novi Road for about 150 feet plus tapers and for placement of a bituminous overlay on 12 Mile Road from Novi Road east for 1,250 feet to tie into flare-lane approach work being done by Dayton Hudson.

Council had previously turned down the same proposal from the Oakland County Road Commission, but at that time the road commission was proposing that Dayton Hudson pay two-thirds, the road commission one-sixth and the City of Novi one-sixth.

The council turned down the request, not only on the basis of the $7,000 which the city would have to provide, but also in the belief that the proposed improvements were minimal and would not solve the expected problems.

While the money question was resolved by Dayton Hudson's offer, council members still admitted reservations to the "minimal" work.

"Although I think Dayton Hudson is being generous, I still think we're jeopardizing more extensive work because of this patchwork effort," said council member Romaine Roethel. "I feel this work will delay any extensive improvement we want done on this road. When traffic gets to the point of unbearability, the county will have to do something."

While Councilman Philip Goodman maintained that "to widen 12 Mile Road for 300 feet is like trying to kill an elephant with a flyswatter," he added that since the work is at no cost to the city, it should take the offer.

Council approved unanimously (Robert Schmid was absent) the road work, but Councilman James Shaw directed that a letter also be sent to the road commission expressing the city's concern over the problem and dissatisfaction with the road commission's answer.

Apparently no work would have been proposed by the road commission for 12 Mile had not bids for the widening of Novi Road been lower than anticipated.

Council also approved resolution one toward establishing a sanitary sewer district in the area between Novi Road, Taft Road, 12½ Mile and the I-96 expressway.

Such a district was originally requested by Dayton Hudson, which owned property to the west of Novi Road across from the Twelve Oaks Mall. But Dayton Hudson was concerned primarily with land immediately adjacent to Novi Road which has been rezoned and is in the process of being sold by Dayton Hudson to Redford Sales and Service for establishment of an auto dealership and possibly later a hotel.

However, City Manager Edward Kriewall recommended expansion of the proposed district because of numerous requests by property owners along the south side of 12 Mile Road, most of whom he indicated were holding the land for speculative purposes.

Kriewall noted that while much of the area is zoned residential, the character of the property is changing because of the shopping center and periphery development.

"We really want to get everything underground that has to go there," added Kriewall who explained that with Novi Road being widened to five lanes, there would not be enough public-owned right-of-way left for installation of utilities without easement acquisition, possibly a costly and time-consuming proposition.

Resolution I directs the city engineers, Johnson and Anderson, to investigate the area to determine parameters of gravity flow, to decide the size of the field and possible routes for the sewer, and estimated cost.

Novi Index needs names

Novi's Jaycee Auxiliary, in cooperation with the Novi Police and Fire Departments, is attempting to update the Invalid Index that was instituted last year.

The Invalid Index is a confidential file held by the police and fire emergency dispatcher listing ill or handicapped persons who need special assistance in case of fire or emergency.

The Index contains the individual's address, name and phone number, type of disability and other vital information to aid the rescue unit. The Index is designed for both the physically and mentally handicapped and should list specifics such as whether the individual uses oxygen tanks, is confined to one particular room, or any other emergency information.

Persons interested in having a card on file should call Pam Balagna, 349-7705 or Sharon Larson, 349-7225 with the necessary information. Or if a resident knows someone who would benefit from the program, the name and phone number of that person should be sent and he or she will be contacted. Information may also be mailed to Pam Balagna, 24543 Knollwood, Novi.

Expand curriculum council

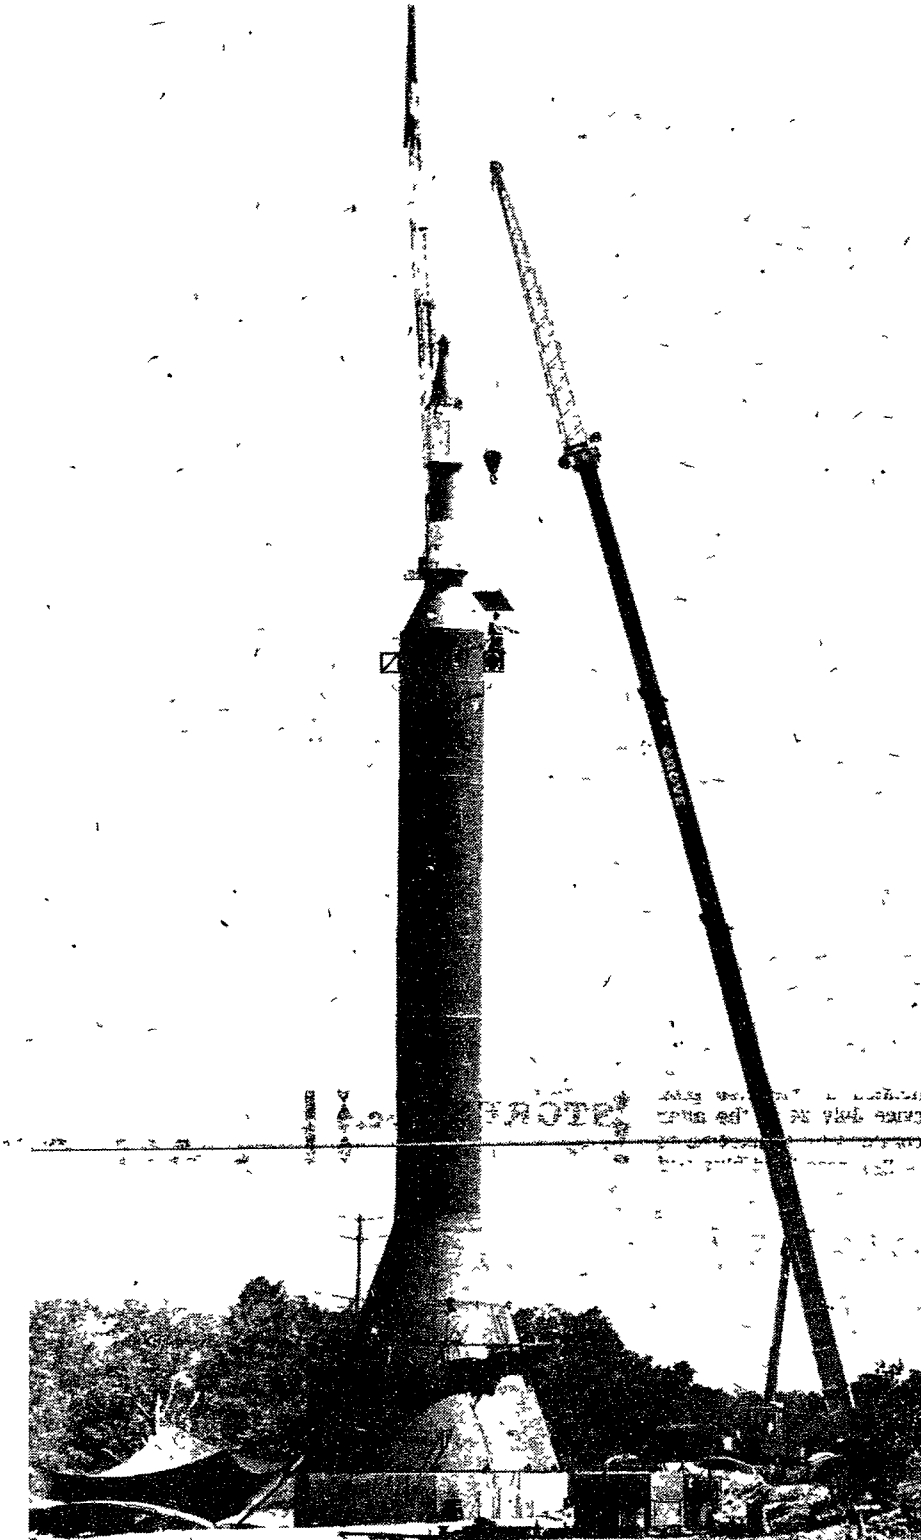

The addition of parents to the Novi School District Curriculum Council was approved at the school board meeting last Thursday.

The Curriculum Council is intended to help the board of education and professional staff in forming and continuing sound curriculum.

Previously the Curriculum Council had included a continuing membership and study group membership. The continuing membership included a central office representative, secondary school administrator, elementary school administrator, middle school administrator, secondary school teacher, middle school teacher, three elementary school teachers (one from each school), and one reading teacher.

The study group membership utilized representative staff members interested in the project under discussion.

Travelers along Novi Road were probably waiting for the smoke to appear and the lift-off to begin as they witnessed the sudden appearance of what looked like a giant spaceship. Nothing quite so romantic was happening to the city of Novi as workmen were actually constructing the first phases of the new Twelve Oaks Mall water tower. The 125 foot structure will eventually hold 200,000 gallons of water in reserve to fight fires. Made of prefabricated pieces, the tower is expected to be completed in four weeks with additional internal work plus painting of the structure to take another two weeks.

Novi denies B-3 rezoning

A rezoning request for eight acres of property on 12 Mile Road west of Haggerty to be changed from RIF residential to B-3 general business for a major restaurant and bowling alley was denied by the city council Monday.

The decision came after a similar recommendation from the planning board to deny the rezoning request.

The planning board suggested it be denied because: proposed rezoning contrary to general development of area as it now exists; contrary to master plan of 1967; and represents an intrusion of commercial into a residential area.

Council unanimously voted to deny the proposal, 6-0 with Councilman Robert Schmid absent.

A service road which would start a quarter mile north of 12 Mile on Novi Road and go west a short distance before curving south is also proposed. That road would cross 12 Mile and proceed south for a way before going east and intersecting Novi Road at the main entrance to the Twelve Oaks Mall.

That service road would help provide access for commercial property without need for immediate access to 12 Mile or Novi Road, indicated Cairns.

He suggested that as development continues, other secondary thoroughfares would be needed. Cairns said that a "concentric land use

A need for major revamping of streets surrounding the Twelve Oaks Mall is one finding of an impact study completed by Novi City Planners Vilcan-Leman and on its way to the city offices in finished form this week.

The impact study, which is being funded primarily by a federal grant, encompasses from the western city limits to Haggerty Road on the east, and from 13 Mile Road south to the I-96 expressway. It is the first portion of a master plan which could have far reaching effects on the rapidly growing community.

According to Charles Cairns, senior planner with Vilcan-Leman, the impact study is intended primarily to indicate what types of development should be included and where they should be placed near the regional shopping center.

Traffic patterns, as an outgrowth of this development, are also crucial in determining the structure of thoroughfares servicing the areas.

In an interview with The Novi News, Cairns indicated that the traffic problems around the center were not accurately painted in an article in The Detroit News. "I think they unduly overemphasized a problem which will take care of itself," said Cairns.

Yet Cairns indicated that traffic problems will exist as the mall opens, particularly on 12 Mile where only flare lanes at entrances plus flaring at the 12 Mile and Novi Road intersection will take place. That road, which is two lanes, will carry from the east 23 percent of all traffic to the mall, based upon a 1974 study by Barton-Aschman Associates of Chicago.

By comparison, I-96 will carry 29 percent of the total mall traffic from the east.

"That's only six percent more on a much more efficient road," said Cairns.

"We think when the site opens, we may have a traffic problem on 12 Mile Road," added Cairns. "It won't be improved to the extent it should be to handle traffic effectively."

"We found that if all the roads are five lanes, traffic should be moved pretty efficiently although there will be overloading for an hour from 5-6 p.m.," said Cairns.

He added that Novi Road, which is scheduled to be five lanes from 12 Mile south to Grand River, should be six lanes with a divided medium to handle traffic when complete development of the area is completed.

Twelve Mile and all other mile roads should also be expanded to five lanes, said Cairns.

Additional roads and location changes are also evident in the impact study, said Cairns. Meadowbrook Road, north of the expressway would curve west and border the mall property, under the impact study plan. This would make Meadowbrook Road more advantageous to people aiming for the mall from the south, helping to distribute mall-bound traffic more evenly.

Also proposed is a north-south extension of Decker Road from 14 Mile to 13 Mile. And surprisingly a road is proposed from 13 Mile south to 12 Mile which would reach 12 Mile between the Meyer Farm and Oakland Hills Cemetery. It would intersect 12 Mile at the same point Meadowbrook Road would reach 12 Mile from the south, said Cairns.

Cairns noted that road could, if M-275 ever reaches 13 Mile Road, persuade freeway users to get off at 13 Mile and go down the proposed collector road to the mall rather than using the I-96 freeway.

A service road which would start a quarter mile north of 12 Mile on Novi Road and go west a short distance before curving south is also proposed. That road would cross 12 Mile and proceed south for a way before going east and intersecting Novi Road at the main entrance to the Twelve Oaks Mall.

That service road would help provide access for commercial property without need for immediate access to 12 Mile or Novi Road, indicated Cairns.

He suggested that as development continues, other secondary thoroughfares would be needed.

Cairns said that a "concentric land use approach" was used in determining locations for various types of development. He said this means highest intensity nonresidential uses would be provided closest to the center and as distance increases, development would go to lower intensity nonresidential uses. Then highest intensity residential uses such as apartments would begin and would decrease (as distance increases) to lower intensity single family residential uses. Cairns said that general commercial area is planned for west of Novi Road between the expressway and 12 Mile. It

Novi Woods New elementary named by board

Old-timers can rest easy.

Novi Elementary, the school which has been harboring youngsters within its doors since 1928 will not find its name usurped by the elementary school which is replacing it.

With little discussion, Novi School Board last Thursday approved the name Novi Woods for the new elementary on Taft Road south of the present junior high.

The name came upon the recommendation of a committee of staff, parents and administration appointed by Board President Sharon Pelchat. She appointed the committee after resident Peter Carr in a letter to the board suggested that other names besides Novi Elementary be considered for the new structure.

Previously the school board had indicated a willingness to go along with transferring the name Novi Elementary to the new structure. But the board decided earlier to see what the committee would recommend before making a final decision.

"We discussed at length the pro's and con's of changing names or going with the same name. We all agreed that it (Novi Woods) was a good compromise," said former school board president Ray Warren, head of the committee. Novi Elementary was the committee's second choice.

Only comment from the school board came from Joel Colliu who said, "It sounds like Huntington Woods or Harper Woods. But if that's what they want, it's okay with me."

The new name was unanimously approved, 6-0, by the board with James Helmer absent.

Novi Woods Elementary will open this school year with approximately 400 students in attendance.

Lonn-Williams

When Libby (Elizabeth Ann) Lonn came down the aisle of First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth to become the bride of Kirk Robert Williams August 6, she paused to present a rose and a kiss to her mother and to her bridegroom's mother.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor O. Lonn of 40733 Appolo in Northville, and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Williams of 42240 Ladywood in Northville.

The Reverend Theodore Taylor officiated at the 7 p.m. double ring service at which Donald Gallop sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride's colonial style gown of ivory bridal satin with embroidered organza overlay was fashioned with a ruffle around the scoop neckline and a wide hemline flounce. It was made by her sister, Mrs. Barton N. (Patricia) Harper, who was matron of honor.

A lace, ruffled headpiece held the bride's full-length double veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature white carnations, pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Harper and bridesmaid Karen Dresch wore Empire-waisted A-line gowns of pastel blue and mint green confetti floss, respectively, which they had made.

They carried colonial bouquets with matching carnations, corn flowers and baby's breath.

The bride's niece, Heather

MacDonald, as flower girl was in yellow.

Barton Harper was best man. The bride's brother, Victor J. Lonn, was usher. Her nephew, Rickie Annett, was ring bearer.

Guests attended from South Carolina, Ohio and Florida.

The couple, both 1973 Northville High School graduates, met on the senior class trip to the Bahamas. Their wedding trip to Aruba was a gift of the bridegroom's parents.

They will make their home in Ypsilanti while the bridegroom is attending Schoolcraft College. The bride is working at the Seven Up Bottling Company of Detroit.

Krug-Couri

A July 31 wedding in Peoria, Illinois, united a former Novi resident, Cathy Jo Krug, in marriage with Edward Couri.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLean, are former owners of the Spinning Wheel Fabric Shop in Northville, and now live in Bradenton Florida.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Couri of Peoria.

His cousin, Father Jim Jamall, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 8:30 p.m. in St. Mark's Church.

LaHood, sang "The Wedding Song," "We've Only Just Begun," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Turn Around."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of candlelight silk organza frosted with appliques of Swiss lace threaded with satin ribbon and embroidered with seed pearls.

A wide ruffle edged the skirt which extended into a chapel train. A headpiece of tiny flowers centered with seed pearls held her long mantilla which also was edged with the lace banding.

She carried a colonial nosegay tied with satin streamers.

Mrs. Jeanine Ford of Wixom was her attendant with Mrs. Denise Collins of Novi, Mary Couri of Austin, Texas, Mrs. Margie McCullough of Peoria and Mrs. Pat Schneidwind serving as bridesmaids in long blue gowns.

They carried colonial bouquets of blue daisies.

Junior bridesmaids Jennifer and Julianne Stone of Northville were dressed in embroidered candlelight eyelet pinafores over their Wedgewood blue gowns. They held petite Cinderella bouquets of blue daisies.

Ron George of Austin was best man with Jay Balestreri of Prairie Village, Kansas, Nick Wilson of Denver, Jim LaHood of Peoria and Tom Scheirer of Darien, Illinois, serving as groomsmen.

A club reception followed for about 275 guests.

After a wedding trip west to California, Las Vegas and Mexico, the couple will live in Bradenton.

The bride is a 1973 graduate of Novi High School. Her husband is a 1967 graduate of Bergan High School in Peoria and a 1971 graduate of the University of Missouri.

Foster-Landau

Preceding Diane Marie Foster down the aisle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church as she became the bride of Edward Carl Landau were her three sisters, Denise, Darlene and Dana, who were bridesmaids in long blue gowns.

All are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Foster of 320 Sherrie Lane in Northville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Landau of 201 Fairbrook in Northville.

Pastor Ralph Schmidt officiated at the 2:30 p.m. service July 24 at the altar decorated with arrangements of yellow roses and blue and white carnations.

Bands of daisy lace applique edged scoop-illusion neckline and short sleeves of the bride's fitted gown.

The skirt extended into a full sweep. Tiny daisy appliques were scattered over her full-length veil of illusion held with a half-cap of matching lace.

She wore the bridegroom's gift of a single black pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Linda Glaza, also in blue, was maid of honor. All bridal attendants carried blue carnation bouquets to match their gowns, which were fashioned with v-necklines, cap sleeves and deep peplums at the fitted waistlines. They wore matching shoulder veils.

Randell Smirnow was best man. Ushers were Dave Rooker, Jack Carter and Ken Lach.

A reception followed for 125 guests at the church. Pastor Schmidt and others then were guests for a continuation of the reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Guests included his grandmother, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson.

Sonny's service station career's ending Saturday

by LaLeche

He's described by his boss as "the best service station man I've ever seen". Most people call him Gael, but the oldtimers remember him as "Sonny". Saturday Gael "Sonny" Downer will retire after 31 years of pumping gas, checking batteries, cleaning windshields, tinkering with engines and making customers feel welcome at Asher's 76 Station, Seven Mile at Rogers.

Downer, who turned 65 last December but looks and acts more like 45, started his service station career in August, 1945 at the Main and Wing Street Gulf station then owned by Orson Atchinson. In November, 1960 he joined Asher's.

Before going to work for Atchinson, Downer had been a cook and baker at Maybury Sanatorium for 11½ years.

He remembers that gasoline was five gallons for 94 cents when he started out. That buys about 1½ gallons today.

What would make anyone want to work at a job that calls for 11-hour days six days a week?

There aren't many around who will still do that, says Downer. "But, if you like people, it's great."

He believes a good service station attendant must know how to handle the public... "some like a little conversation, a joke or two... some don't."

Downer's been accused of paying more attention to cars driven by the fairer sex, but he only smiles in response to that question.

He remembers one young lady who was afraid to set a mouse trap. So when he delivered her car to the house he obliged by setting the trap, too. "Just part of the service", he explains.

Downer and his wife, Edna, have two married daughters. The Downers live at 46050 Frederick in a house that Gael built in 1936 when he was working nights as a baker. Mrs. Downer is a former school teacher. Both their daughters are college graduates with teaching degrees.

Gael explains that he got his nickname "Sonny" when he was barely 18, freckle-faced, curly-headed and working at Maybury.

In those days he liked to play pool. And one Saturday night some of the girls from Maybury looked into the window of the local pool hall in Northville and saw Downer engrossed in competition at the all-male pool room.

They walked inside and one of the girls blurted out "there's sonny boy."

Needless to say, Downer's fellow pool hustlers never called him Gael again.

After Saturday Gael figures he and Edna will spend more time visiting their daughters — Ann in Kingston, Ontario and Jean in Eaton Rapids. They go to Florida in the winter.

Gael hasn't lost his sense of humor, which has made him a favorite of customers at Asher's.

Reminded that his wife had a birthday coming up last week, a neighbor asked him what he intended to buy for her as a gift.

"Oh, I'll just wake her up at midnight and throw another blanket on the bed," Gael isn't really excited about retirement.

"I try never to worry and I'm used to adjusting. I think I'll adjust to retirement."

'A little joke and a little smile goes a long ways.'

'Treat the customer's car like it was your own.'

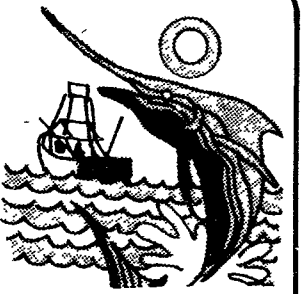

Edison asks easement

With the planned widening of Novi Road north of Grand River, Detroit Edison has approached the Novi School Board for purchase of easements to place three combined electric-telephone poles on Novi Elementary property.

Though fairly routine request, Novi School Board indicated that it wanted the administration to attempt to get from Detroit Edison in return a letter which verifies that electricity at the new Novi High School will be turned on October 17. Edison previously had indicated it would turn the electricity on that date.

But Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kraft pointed out that we have to have power for heat or we're out of business. He noted that all of the trades at the new high school are working toward the goal of enclosing the building and having the heating plant in operation. Without electricity and the resulting heat, school could require costly repairs due to the freezing winter weather. In addition, work could be slowed down because of the cold.

Township ok's split

Approval of a land split for Northville builder Frank A. Bauss was given by the Northville Township Board of Trustees last Thursday for a parcel of about 3.7 acres on Valencia.

Action to divide the property into four lots was taken after the request had been sent to the planning commission which returned it to the trustees recommending denial "without prejudice."

Since the property was slightly below the acre specification (.925 acres) required for each lot, action by the trustees was needed. Supervisor Betty Lennox reported that all adjacent property owners had been notified and that no objections had been received.

The action was by a divided vote with Dr. John Swienkowski and Richard Mitchell voting against it along with Clerk Clarice Sass.

Band leaves for camp

Northville High School Marching Band will leave Monday, August 30, for its fifth annual session at summer band camp.

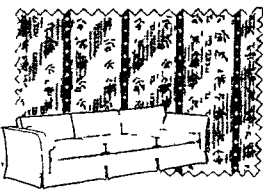

Band members are to depart from the high school parking lot at 7 a.m. for Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See, a YMCA camp near Hale, Michigan.

Sunday, September 5, at the conclusion of camp, the band will present a concert for parents and friends before returning home.

Parents who would like to attend and have dinner at camp at 11:30 a.m. before the concert should make reservations in advance with Mrs. Ann Youngquist, new president of the Northville Band Parents.

They should be made by August 29 with her at 349-8173. Dinners are $2.75 for those over 12 years old and $1.75 for children under 12.

Attendance down

Harvest dance set in county

Plans for a Bicentennial Fall Harvest Dinner-Dance, sponsored by the Oakland County American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, are under way.

Invitations are extended to all community officials of Oakland County, including Northville, school officials, service clubs, and community organizations.

Leg lost in crash as traveler checks automobile trunk

In Novi

A Dearborn heights man lost his leg in an automobile accident Sunday as he checked for leaking Coleman fuel in the trunk of his car.

According to officer John Zimmer, Robert Esper, 46, was eastbound on I-96 when a woman riding in the same car, Ann Chinchak of Wyandotte, complained of being sick from the smell of Coleman gas in the trunk of the car.

Esper drove onto the shoulder of the eastbound off ramp at Novi Road and stopped about 300 feet from the intersection.

As he checked the trunk, a car driven by Wilfred Decoste, 32, of 40159 Washington in Highland Hills Trailer Park in Novi hit the curve at a high rate of speed and struck the stopped vehicle from behind, trapping Decoste in between and moving the Decoste vehicle 45 feet from the impact.

Esper was rushed to Botsford Hospital by Novi Ambulance where surgeons removed his left leg below the knee. His right leg was also fractured and left hip was injured. His condition was listed Monday as stable but guarded, according to Zimmer.

The woman in the Esper vehicle was not hurt as she had just stepped out of the car before the vehicle was struck. No action has been taken against Decoste pending completion of the investigation. According to Zimmer, officers could detect alcohol on Decoste's breath.

Westgate VI in Novi was hit with a rash of crimes in the early morning hours of Sunday, August 15.

A $300 tool bag and tools were stolen from a pickup truck in the apartment complex. Another car was unsuccessfully towed.

An FM radio was taken from another car while two other cars were broken into and damaged. On one the ignition was punched.

A van had two rear window screens sliced open in an effort to enter.

Novi officers on the way to answer a call at the apartment complex saw two subjects walking along Pontiac Trail. Suspecting the subjects might be involved in the earlier crimes, the officers turned around to question them only to find both males making a successful break into some heavy woods nearby. No tracking dog was available and officers were unable to locate the men.

Subsequently the officers continued onto Westgate Six where a resident was holding a 16-year-old Milford youth he had found in his pickup truck. Wires had been disconnected from the ignition switch.

The boy was taken to Oakland County Children's Village where he is being held. He is also suspected in a breaking and entering in Walled Lake.

That night, a woman in one of the apartments screamed, scaring off some burglars who were preparing to enter through a bedroom window. She screamed when she thought she heard a voice going "shhh".

In an unusual incident, a traveler through Novi reported stopping at the rest area on I-96 last Thursday because of his car overheating.

As the man attempted to take the thermostat from his car, some rusty water ran onto the pavement.

A subject approached the man and yelled obscenities at him and shouted "you... young punks are always screaming about ecology".

After the traveler told the man he was fixing his car and to get lost, the suspect picked up the heavy cover to a garbage can and started chasing the victim around the outside of the rest rooms threatening to kill him. A witness called police but before they could arrive the suspect left. Police did receive the license number of the vehicle and are investigating the incident.

Eighteen Frito-Lay trailers at the Frito-Lay Truck Terminal, 25460 Novi Road were damaged by vandals sometime between 6 p.m. August 11 and 6 a.m. August 12.

Damage included the cutting of most of the air lines and breakage of tail lights. Total damage was set at $800.

According to police reports, the destruction may be related to a strike by the bakers' and confection union. Detectives are investigating.

Scaffolding valued at $387 was taken July 11-August 1 from a home in the 41000 area of Llewellyn.

A car parked in the driveway of a vacant home in the 44600 area of 12 Mile August 9 was found to have been stolen from Southfield. The auto, a 1976 Buick, had been stripped.

A Delco radio, tape deck and 30 tapes valued at several hundred dollars were stolen August 12 from a car parked in the area of 24600 Bashian.

A CB radio valued at over $100 was stolen August 13 from a car parked in the 24000 area of Chipmunk.

Golf clubs and a golf cart valued at several hundred dollars were stolen August 13 from a car parked in the 48000 area of Cedarwood. They were stolen from a convertible.

John Miller, 31, of Walled Lake has been sentenced to two years' probation and $200 cost in circuit court for felonious assault in an incident which happened November 26, 1974.

Miller was involved in an incident in which Kenneth Kuczynski, 34 of Garden City was abducted from the Novi Inn. Kuczynski, who knew Miller, was taken to Miller's home where he was shackled in chains and several padlocks. A cement block was attached to Kuczynski's chained legs and his head was completely covered with masking tape. He was then put inside a completely insulated, padded Corvette and chained to the car.

Kuczynski finally managed to free himself from the vehicle and fell headfirst through a garage door and hobbled to neighbors who called Wolverine Lake police. He had been allegedly beaten during the ordeal and needed several stitches to sew up the cuts suffered when he fell through the window.

According to Detective Robert Starnes, the incident was the result of a longstanding dispute between the individuals.

Miller was also ordered by the court to submit to psychiatric examination.

In Wixom

A co-owner of Hot and Tasty Pizza, 49341 Pontiac Trail, found herself the victim of con artists August 8.

The woman, whom police declined to identify, agreed to purchase 200 pounds of mozzarella cheese and 12 pounds of bacon, as well as ham, cut up peppers, and 150 pounds of margarine for $272.

The man with whom she was making the transactions gave her a receipt after she gave him the money and then told her to open the back door and he'd pull the truck around to unload it.

Instead, he and another man left in a 1972 Mercury Marquis, heading toward the freeway.

A $1,000 dune buggy was stolen August 9 from Watkins garage on Pontiac Trail.

A malicious destruction of property was reported August 9 when a car left the roadway in the vicinity of 3000 West Maple and ran over a maple tree valued at $100. There was also $50 damage to the lawn.

A $170 Citizen Band radio was taken August 6 at Ford Motor Company from a Dodge Motor Home. A vent window was pried out to gain entry.

Another employee of Ford was luckier. He reported that his van's window was broken and entry gained. But his CB radio, which he theorized the thieves were after, was safe in a locker inside the assembly plant.

Approximately $1,440 in golf bag, shoes, hand tools and golf clubs were stolen August 7 from a car parked in the Village Apartments.

A CB radio valued at $179 was stolen August 12 from a pick-up truck at Johnnie's Garage, 47564 Pontiac Trail.

In Northville

Unknown persons set fire to a mail hamper behind the post office on South Wing Street sometime Monday morning.

Investigating city police officers said they believed youths were involved in the incident since six empty beer bottles were found inside the hamper.

Police theorized a lit cigarette tossed into the hamper was the cause of the blaze.

A new Cobra Citizens Band radio valued at $200 was taken from a car parked at the east end of the Northville Downs parking lot. The incident occurred between 7 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. Friday.

A 1974 Dodge pickup truck with a missing tail gate was reported stolen from a city parking lot Friday.

The owner, who placed a value of $4000 on the truck, said it was taken sometime between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Seven used cars parked at Miller's Dodge Sales on Huton Street were damaged by vandals sometime between 6 p.m. August 10 and 9 a.m. August 11.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated to be $121.

An apparently unlocked Winnebago recreational vehicle was entered by unknown persons over the weekend. The owner reported a Panasonic radio and 100 feet of outdoor extension cord missing from the vehicle.

A 10-speed bike valued at $110 was reported stolen from the high school August 9. The youthful owner told police he was inside the school for 15 minutes and had not locked the bike.

In Township

A full set of golf clubs, bag, cart and miscellaneous equipment were taken from the Dum Rovin Golf Club between 9 and 10:30 p.m. August 10.

The owner, who estimated the equipment to be worth $627, told Northville Township police he left the clubs outside the entrance to the lounge area.

Approximately $328 in valuables were taken from a car parked in a field off Lehigh Court Saturday. According to the owner, the items were taken from both the interior of the car and from the trunk.

Taken in the incident were tools and a tool box, stereo speakers and eight rounds of ammunition.

A large plate glass window was broken at the Federal Mogul offices on Northville Road last week. Police believe a marble propelled by a slingshot caused the estimated $500 damage.

A 1972 blue Mercury was reported stolen from a parking area on Neptune Court sometime after midnight Friday.

The owner told police there were no valuables in the car when it was taken.

Michigan State Police investigated the larceny of industrial equipment from a construction site on Napier Road between Five and Six Mile Roads early Tuesday morning.

Taken from the location was a pair of battery run flashing lights used on road barricades. A value of $125 was placed on the missing items.

Fire heavily damages Northville Charley's

A Friday morning fire gutted the kitchen at Northville Charley's, 41122 Seven Mile Road, causing an estimated $20,000 to $30,000 damage.

Exact cause of the fire is undetermined although Northville Fire Chief Herman Hartner, Jr. theorized that an overheated french frying machine may have caught fire.

A passerby who noticed smoke called the fire department at 3:40 a.m. which responded with 18 men, two pumps and the rescue truck.

According to Hartner, the department battled the blaze for 30 minutes. A carbon dioxide fire fighting system in the kitchen helped contain the blaze to that area, Hartner indicated.

Pat Diggles, general manager of Northville Charley's, said that $20,000 to $30,000 damage was caused mostly to the kitchen area.

Some water and smoke damage was also suffered outside in the bar and dining room areas. According to Diggles, 20 trades people worked over the week-end to get the restaurant in operable condition. In addition, employees worked 18 hours a day during the same period to see to it that Northville Charley's could reopen as soon as possible.

It reopened for business at 5 p.m. Monday.

Marganne Baluha, background, and Marcia Collins, foreground, admire the 45 works of art on display at the Northville Public Library. Youngsters in grades one through eight entered the Children's Art Show in progress at the city library. Initially, judges were going to award prizes for the best work.

But when they found that all of the work was good decided to give all 45 entrants a medallion. The idea for the show came from Lois Winters, who describes herself as a "friend of the library." She also helped in the workshops.

Library party set Saturday

A party for the children enrolled in the Summer Reading Club at the Northville Public Library will be held in the City Hall council chambers this Friday beginning at 3.30 p.m.

According to club coordinator, Anne Vargo, a record 188 children participated in this year's reading club. A large percentage of those children will receive certificates at the party for reading 10 or more books.

Teens to dance in tennis shoes

A teen dance in tennis shoes will be sponsored by the Northville Jaycees on Friday, August 27.

Announcement of the dance was made this week by the dance chairman for the Jaycees, William Zapke, who promises a "fun packed evening just for the teenagers of the city and township of Northville."

Labeled an "End of Summer Dance," it will be held on the tennis courts at the Northville Fish Hatchery Park from 8 to 11 p.m.

Tentative plans call for music to be furnished by the Sly Dog Band, with a possible guest appearance of a popular disc jockey. Refreshments will be sold.

"The dance is our way of extending our appreciation to the teenagers of Northville who have made it a better community in which to live," said Zapke, who added, "and of course it's the signal of the summer's end and the beginning of another school year."

Tickets costing $2 each, will be sold at the teen clubs of Our Lady of Victory Church and Highland Lakes, and at Arcade 5, the Giftfiddler, and Custard Time.

Joint services face uncertain future

While we commend the Northville Township Board for its action in approving the proposal for a new library in appropriating $2,000 for additional plans, we recognize, too, that the board walks a precarious line in the wake of the recent vote by the people in turning down an earmarked tax increase for the library and recreation departments.

Some interpret the overwhelming defeat (1424 to 1011 for the library proposal and 1530 to 905 for the recreation proposal) as a public expression of library and recreation negativity. We do not. We see it simply as the public's unwillingness to pay additional taxes for these services.

One cannot lose sight of the fact that 51-percent of the library users are township residents — hardly an indication that township residents are anti-library or that they want the service cut.

The question is not can the township afford to maintain a new library building, but rather can it afford to operate what it already has?

Certainly it can if the township board is willing to use available general fund and CETA monies.

If one recognizes, as we do, that the jointly operated library, recreation and fire departments are mutually beneficial to township and city residents — both from economical and service standpoints — it follows that every effort should be exerted to continue these services. The township board's action last week suggests that a majority of the current board members, lame ducks among them, are committed to this end.

But what of the new board members who will take office in November? Therein is the real question mark.

It is this uncertainty that prompts some city officials to call for the development of substitute measures in the event the township should decide to end its participation in jointly operated services.

Alternative plans are indeed necessary to protect the interests of city residents. But they should be discussed fully and openly so that they come as no surprise to township officials and residents.

'Pass' inexcusable

Elected officials, we believe, should always be prepared to vote on an issue when called upon.

Reasons for "abstaining" are rare and involve possible conflicts of interest. But to "pass" one's turn in voting rotation is inexcusable.

Last week Northville Township Treasurer Charles Rosenberg chose this course in a critical library vote. He passed the "swing" vote to a fellow boardmember, and one can only wonder how the treasurer would have voted had the victim of Rosenberg's "pass" — Trustee Dr. John Swienkowski — cast a "no" vote placing the question in a deadlock.

After Dr. Swienkowski's vote, Rosenberg's vote had no significance.

Perhaps Northville Township should follow the procedure used by many elected bodies. Every vote is roll call and rotated so that a different official votes first each time.

News or PR?

At a recent Wixom city council meeting one councilman accused two others of waging a personal vendetta against a local industry. One of the accused walked out of the meeting in disgust.

The hassle was heated. And the Novi News reported it on page one.

Immediately following the meeting, the city's paid assistant-to-the-mayor had informed The News reporter that such council proceedings should not be reported.

And after the story appeared the councilman who levied the charges called the newspaper to indicate his disapproval of the story. Not that it was inaccurate. But that it was reported.

"We have a quiet little city. We don't like these kinds of things in the paper," he explained.

We know from experience Wixom wants and appreciates news coverage of its numerous community activities.

But it's difficult to believe that the majority of citizens and officials would agree the news should be censored.

If that were the case, the Wixom council would be well advised to hire a public relations firm, ban the press and public from its meetings and simply distribute its utopian releases.

A real pro retires

Too often in these days of specialization and formal education we come to think of professionalism as something that comes with a cap, gown and diploma.

But the dictionary describes a professional as one who has great skill or experience in a particular field.

And Gael Downer is a professional in his field — service station attendant.

His boss, Bill Asher, calls him "the best I've ever seen." And with 25 years in the business, Asher has seen many.

Downer figures he has worked "seven years of Saturdays" in his 31-year career in service stations. And during that time he says he has tried to be as interested in the customer's car he is servicing as he would his own.

Downer will retire Saturday and the service station business will lose a true professional.

"I'll miss him," says Asher.

So will his customers.

Speaking for Myself

LLOYD BRASURE

BURIAL . . .

As we look through the Old Testament we see that for those of the Jewish religion burning of the dead had a number of negative connotations.

It was used for the burial of the dead of criminals, as a sign of unrighteousness of the deceased, or as a sign of vengeance by the living.

When Christianity came along, and being an offshoot of the Jewish faith, it continued the practices of that group and thereby fostered burial of the body.

It appears that the strongest reason for opposition to cremation concerned resurrection of the body at the second coming of Christ.

Some taught there was no resurrection of the body and felt that burning of the body was a fitting ending to life. Others, in opposition to this view and believing in a resurrected body, buried the body intact.

Some people have strong feelings about how the deceased "looks" or "that everything is there" and consequently even the thought of contributing a vital organ for transplant purposes is dismissed. If organs cannot be removed for these purposes since it might change or take away from a portion of the person, then cremation is not a possibility since it affects or alters the entire person.

Pastor John Hirsch

CREMATION . . .

Many of us believe that cremation is a proper and dignified way to care for the deceased. This is no violation of our doctrinal standards, that are interpretations of Christian scripture. We do recognize that others will disagree with us for various reasons.

The human body was not made for eternal existence in its present form. We are fragile, destructible, meant to age and die, and return to the nature of the earth, dust or ashes as the funeral liturgy indicates. Christian concepts of immortality revolve around survival of the soul, created for eternal fellowship with the Divine. The body 'imperishable' referred to by the Apostle Paul is the changed form of existence, following death in this life.

Cremation is merely the act of allowing to occur quickly that which was intended to occur. Artificial means of prolonging a semblance of physical reality after death is somewhat contrary to the natural process.

Many believe that cremation is a better and less costly manner of honoring the dead, that can lead to memorials given to serve the living in creative and helpful ways.

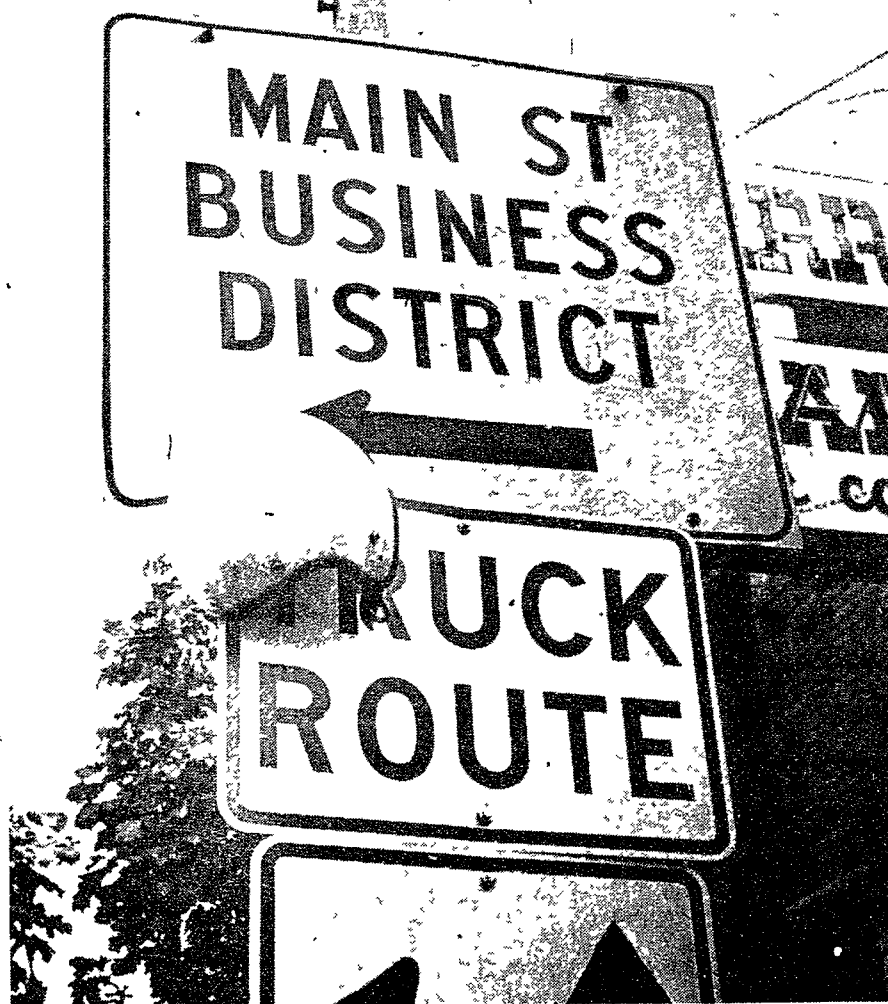

"Columbarium" is the name of a chapel room in our church reserved for niches providing space for urns.

Fire safety jeopardized

To the Editor:

An Open Letter to the Northville Township Board.

Maybe, just maybe you weren't and aren't aware of how fortunate or unfortunate we in the township may be.

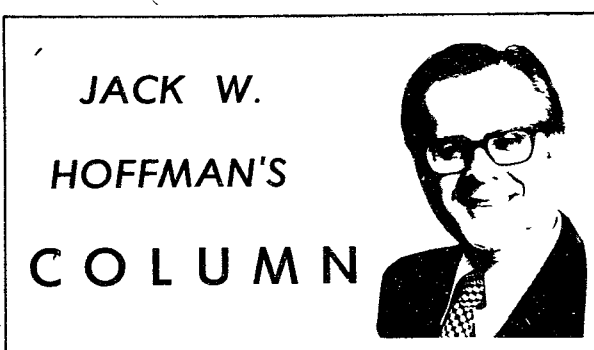

It seems that for the very short sighted and dangerous lack of a commercial type battery charger, (about $100.00), the township's 3,000 gallon water tanker (fire hydrant of wheels) being stored at township direction and insistence at the Child Development Center, couldn't be started the other morning at 3:30 a.m. to respond to a serious fire at Northville Charley's restaurant. The tanker is required to respond to all township fires. It did not.

We are fortunate and most specifically is Northville Charley's simply because there is a fire hydrant right in front of the building since Seven Mile Road east of town has a water line and for that reason the building was saved. Lacking a hydrant and or the tanker it certainly would have been lost.

The township and some residents could have been very unfortunate indeed had it been a serious house fire at 3:30 a.m. or at any other time for that matter where there are no hydrants or an extra 3,000 gallons of water!

Please let's not be penny wise and pound foolish, township officials. Authorize the purchase of a battery charger to the fire department specifications forthwith! You see they don't really need it, but we the township residents do!!

HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Down with mutineers

Christopher Columbus was my kind of man. And not because he discovered the Americas.

But because he ignored the warnings and protests of those who inhabited his vessels.

Unencumbered by detailed maps and assurances of how to reach his destination, good ol' Columbus simply pointed his ships, like I point the family car, and sailed forth into adventure after adventure.

His important discoveries, therefore, were by the most part accidental...

The same accidental way we've discovered fascinating little places, that would have forever missed our attention but for my brilliant navigation.

So we Columbuses occasionally become lost in pursuit of adventure. So what? We've seen and done things that self-assured map readers will never experience.

Recently, for example, driving by dead reckoning has shown us that some good folks of Newport still use outhouses, that Vermontville is as pretty in summer as in spring, and that the back yards of Laingsburg have lovely gardens.

We've met and enjoyed the hill-country folks of West Virginia, become mired in an abandoned but fascinating Civil War battleground, trailed sheep meandering along main street in Olivegreen, and discovered untouched meadows in the Rockies.

Dead reckoning may produce a dead end now and then, just as it did for Columbus, but the pleasures of the backroads and the tiny jewels tucked away in the creases of today's screaming freeways are worth every ounce of the roundabout trip from one place to another.

Closer to home, even a different route from house to office, from town to town, produces adventure.

Unfortunately, the same rebellious crews that bellyached to Chris are constantly moaning and groaning in our car. Maybe they inhabit your car, too.

The instant I turn our motorized ship off the main route in search of a new route to the East, the complaints begin:

"Oh, no, not again! Are you sure you know where you're going? We're going to be late. It's a gravel road. Who told you this was the way? This road's not even on the map. We've never gone this way before. Suppose we run out of gas? You're going to get lost again, stupid."

If Columbus had been swayed by that kind of rebellion we'd be tooling the family car around Germany, afraid to venture too far for fear of falling off the edge of the world.

Someday I'm going to muster up the courage of Chris and dump the whole mutinous bunch of them overboard and let them sing their dirge to the rag-weeds.

CLOSING SOON—The shelves in Northville's Kroger supermarket tell the story of what's ahead. A history of doing business in Northville since the early 1940's will end August 28 when Kroger closes its 14,000-square-foot store opened here in 1961. The company has been negotiating with the Northville Economic Development Corporation for possible sale of the facility to the local non-profit group. The building, not considered large enough by Kroger to compete with modern 30,000-square-foot super food stores, has parking space for 125 cars. Kroger has indicated it may return to the Northville area in the future in a larger facility.

Howard F. Mitchell, 70, a Northville restaurant owner for 30 years, died Friday, August 13 in Charlotte Harbor, Florida where he had been living for the past two years with his wife, Agnes.

Five years later they moved the Old Mill to its present location at 130 East Main Street. In October of 1974 they sold the business to the present owners, Richard and Kathy Hopecki.

The Mitchells had no children of their own, but they referred to many youngsters they "adopted" and gave employment as "our family."

Upon their retirement, Agnes, who survives her husband at 622 South Palmetto Street in Charlotte Harbor, remembered that they had had "two generations in some families work at the restaurant and several foreign exchange students."

'Execution: God-given right of government'

To the Editor:

Recently, the Reverend Richard Henderson addressed the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville on a Christian response to capital punishment.

The theme of the associate pastor's message was that Christians could not support capital punishment. He said that the Bible teaches that we are to love one another, and since you obviously cannot love someone by putting them in an electric chair, Christians cannot support capital punishment.

There is merit, and certainly logic, in that reasoning. Christianity is distinct among personal faiths for its strong teaching of "love one another." Sentencing another person to death is not an act of love.

However, there remains one vital question that Mr. Henderson failed to adequately answer. The question that must be addressed is what the Bible says on the subject.

Christian theology has too often turned to logic before turning to the Word of God. The Bible must remain the final source in determining our position and beliefs. Christianity which is not Biblical is not Christianity; it is humanism or a product of man's own reasoning.

One cannot deal with capital punishment from a Biblical standpoint without considering Romans 13:1-4.

The passage says (1) we are to be subject to the government, (2) for the government is ordained by God and derives its power from Him, (3) those who resist the government resist God, (4) don't fear the government for it is a minister of God to you, and (5) "But if you do what is evil, be afraid; for it does not bear the sword for nothing; for it is a minister of God, an avenger who brings wrath upon the one who practices evil."

The sword is an instrument of war used to take another's life. When God gave the sword to human government, He gave to it the power of life and death over those who break the law.

In Genesis 9:6, when God instituted human government, He instructed Noah "Whoever sheds man's blood, by man his blood shall be shed, for in the image of God He made man."

To take another's life willfully is to destroy the image of God. The old testament is replete with the injunction that the man who kills another man is himself to be killed. The new testament supports that command.

And thus, although capital punishment may not seem loving, it definitely is Biblical and God-given. It must also be pointed out, that although it may not be an act of love to the man executed, it is an act of love toward the rest of society. Execution of first-degree murderers removes the danger of repeat offenders.

For too long, we have overemphasized the love of God at the expense of the justice of God. God is love, but He is also holy and just. The Bible repeatedly warns us that whatever a man sows, he will also reap. Although God loves sinners, He hates sin. It seems to me that Mr. Henderson chose the wrong question for his sermon.

From a Biblical stance, the question we must ask is not

Cheers for day camp

To the Editor:

My two children have just finished a delightful five weeks of Day Camp at Winchester School. Activities were well planned, innovative and allowed even the very youngest child to achieve a feeling of accomplishment about his project.

Written communications from the two teachers each week were complete and concise. The rapport they had with the children, and the children with each other was beautiful.

My thanks to the Recreation Department and to Connie McLaughlin and Betty Jo Terry for giving my children some pleasant memories of this summer.

Main Street School, however, because of extensive costs in renovating the Annex for this purpose.

Furthermore, Board Vice President John Hobart, who reported the recommendations of the two committees, explained that the citizens group very likely made this recommendation because it feared if the administrative offices were moved to Main Street School it might eventually mean that the building would lose its classroom function.

To this question, the board went on record as stating Main Street will be used for classrooms permanently and that the move of administrative offices to the building is seen only as a temporary one.

At its next meeting, scheduled for August 30, the board probably will authorize planning by an architect for combined use of Main Street for administrative offices and classroom functions.

Significant in the board's intended uses for Main Street School is the provision that the school's enrollment be pared from its former enrollment size of 550 to a maximum not to exceed 300.

The board sees the school as being used primarily by walkers living within the vicinity of the school. Presently, there are about 120 to 150 youngsters who would be walkers, which means some students would be bused to the school when it opens. (The school is not now being used for Northville classrooms).

Still to be decided by the board is what portion of the building will be used for administrative offices. It would appear, based on previous study, that these offices might be located on the second floor while school classrooms would be located on the first.

Besides looking at the proposed split use of the building, the architect—if he is retained—also would determine if a multi-purpose room should be developed for Main Street children, and he is to give the board an estimate of the remaining lifetime of the Annex building.

Continued use of the Annex is viewed as temporary at this time since its interior is deteriorating. Intention of the board is to discontinue use of this building when maintenance costs become unreasonable. At that time the building is to be razed. Meanwhile, it is to be used under a lease arrangement with the institutionalized special education division and with Schoolcraft College.

Leases for both of the latter programs have been approved for the ensuing school year. Rooms are to be used by institutionalized blind children and by Schoolcraft for its community instructional classes.

Leases also have been approved for use of classrooms this coming school year at Main Street School by the Michigan Montessori Center and by the Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth.

The latter will use six classrooms plus faculty and kitchen facilities at a cost of $24,000 for the year. Montessori will use one classroom for $4,000.

In approving the contract with Calvary, the board stipulated that a shift in the classrooms might be necessitated during the school year if remodeling or redecorating work becomes necessary to ready the building for Northville classes for the beginning of the 1977-78 school year.

The lease authorized with Schoolcraft for the Annex calls for payment of $8,000 to Northville. In addition, the board has authorized lease of classrooms at the high school for night use by Schoolcraft at a cost of up to $10,000—depending upon the number of rooms used by the college.

Schoolcraft used Annex rooms this past year but not classrooms at the high school.

Concerning the present administrative offices, the board intends to turn the building over to recreational use when the city and township can financially operate it for this purpose.

In other words, the move of the administrative offices to Main Street School hinges upon the ability of the city and township, which jointly operate the recreation department, to finance operation of the building for recreation. And in view of the recent recreational millage defeat in the township, this use could be delayed for some time.

Possibility that the library site might be transferred in exchange for the street right-of-way developed when it was learned that the West Street right-of-way between the two school buildings never legally has been vacated although the street was long ago closed and the school has been using the property for years.

Board Trustee Marjorie Sliger, who reminded the board she is a member of the library commission, was informed by Board President Sylvia Gucken that she could and should vote on deeding the property for library use. The action was subsequently approved by all members of the board except Trustee P. Roger Nieuwkoop, who was absent.

Similarly, all present members supported the recommendations for future use of all other Main Street school property.

Once deeding of the property for the library has been executed or formally committed to writing by the school board attorney, the library commission later this month will submit its formal application to the federal government for funds to build the library.

Under a newly-enacted law, federal funds have been made available for municipal construction of this kind. Local officials are hopeful that the application, endorsed by both the city and the township, will produce sufficient monies to completely pay for the proposed new building.

It has been estimated that maintenance of the new building will approximate the $14,000 currently paid by the city and township for leasing the present library quarters in Northville Square shopping center.

in order to distribute costs and benefits better.

Cost of the assessment to the 15 owners was estimated at $75,000 by Township Engineer William Mosher, who was authorized to prepare specifications.

After hearing concerns of residents of Grandview Acres subdivision regarding a planned North Ridge Apartments project, the board made a motion directing the planning commission to place the matter on its August 31 agenda.

Home owners appearing at the meeting stated the plans seem to allow construction within 30 feet of their lot lines.

The board also appointed Troy Milligan, township electrical inspector, as interim building official after Supervisor Betty Lennox explained that Martin had given his resignation due to health reasons.

He is to be paid the regular building official's salary of $14,600 a year.

Skits set

Northville Historical Society members and guests will be entertained with Bicentennial melodrama skits by the Northville Players at their meeting next Thursday, August 26, in the old library building in the Mill Race.

The players will present the series of skits on early Northville history.

Cairns said that "if the plan is adopted, it would not be our intent to rezone land. We want to control development. Each rezoning request would be studied on its own merits."

Cairns said that ideally the plan should be adopted by both the planning board and the city council. He noted that the planning board has already indicated its agreement with the plan. And public input was very important in helping the planning consultants reach their conclusions on many items.

Restaurant up for sale

As of June, 1975, more than $13,000 of interest was owed Metropolitan.

A principal owner, Paul E. Fregolle, could not be reached in repeated attempts by this newspaper to determine if he would attempt to satisfy his creditors prior to the scheduled sale.

Under foreclosure sales of this kind, the property goes to the highest bidder.

Closed for several months, the restaurant at the corner of Center and Dunlap had been struggling financially for quite some time. Metropolitan first filed its lawsuit on October 14, 1974.

The restaurant, which originally was the Northville Methodist Church building until 1972, was formally opened in April of 1973.

"Can I as a believer in Jesus Christ support capital punishment?" was the question posed by the Northville Masonic Lodge. He taught sociology, government and history at the high school until his retirement as a teacher at the end of the 1968-69 school year.

Besides his wife, Ethel Skow of Fort Myers, survivors include two sons, Delano of Fort Myers and Phillip of Northville; two daughters, Mrs. James Molloy of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Mrs. Harold Baar of East Lansing; a half brother, two sisters, three half sisters and 13 grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Southside Christ Church building fund as a memorial.

to process an application for federal funds for the building to be constructed on property at Wing and Cady facing on the city park.

Approval had been given by the city council August 2, and the commission, if the township concurred, was to seek approval of the Northville school board last Monday.

School board approval could be given, Mrs. Wiegand told the board, only if both the city and township approved the federal request and only if they provided the additional $4,000 ($2,000 each) needed to complete architectural renderings needed for submission for the public works grant.

Part of the construction would be on school property.

"We are qualified in every way to apply for the grant," commission member Jay Wendt told the trustees, saying it would be "a darn shame to have the ability to build a library as a free gift and to pass it by."

"Give us the charge to

"We gambled $2,250 before the millage election," observed Rosenberg, referring to the original appropriation to begin architectural work. "A gamble now presents a much more dismal picture."

Supervisor Betty Lennox pointed out that the township will realize more monies in 1977-78 as a result of the new census.

"I'm willing to gamble an added $2,000," Trustee John MacDonald declared, "because it will be a sad day for this community if we can't support a library."

Clerk Clarice Sass differed, asking, "Didn't we say, 'let the people decide' and what do you think the people of the community were telling us when they voted it down?"

"This is part of fiscal responsibility,"

Trustee James Nowka responded that he felt "there is a coalition of people who don't like joint services and people who want less service."

He added that "maybe we didn't work hard enough."

Mitchell asked, "Why not a fire station, too? The point is that since we don't have regard for where operating revenue is coming from, why not jump on the band wagon and try for emergency service versus luxury service."

Mrs. Wiegand, in urging the approval of the application and appropriation of the additional $2,000, said that "shared services are better services for everybody" with township users constituting 51-52 percent of the total.

MacDonald, seconded by Nowka, called for the vote, which went "yes" by MacDonald, Nowka and Mrs. Lennox with Treasurer Rosenberg then passing and

Dr. John Swienkowski voting "yes."

Clerk Sass and Mitchell cast the "no" votes with Rosenberg then voting "yes."

Even Smokey is worried

Spiraling CB fad gives rise to new wave of costly thefts

By WAYNE LODER

Your heart pounds as you catch your first glimpse of the broken car window.

You run to the car, but before you get there, you know exactly what you're going to see.

Your brand new $200 CB radio is gone, the dash is damaged where the CB was pried from its mount and enough wires are cut under your dash from the cut-and-snip thief that you'll probably need a master electrician to splice them all together.

If you're like most people, you knew it could happen when you first bought that CB, but you figured it's always the other guy who has his stolen. After all, you lock your car when you leave it. And you always try to make your trips into stores short when you're out in public. In fact, this time you were in the store for less than five minutes, picking up a magazine.

Unfortunately for the honest CB enthusiast, police officials estimate it takes only two minutes for a thief to enter a car, get that CB radio out and jump back in the getaway vehicle.

Every day hundreds are stolen from throughout the United States, and as the fad increases, the thefts continue to rise. Local police departments have found their communities hit, but there seems to be little those departments can do to stem the tide.

In a six-month period from January through June of this year, Novi has suffered 45 thefts. Other local communities have followed suit.

The rash of thefts can be directly related to the rise in the popularity of the citizen band radio. 8-track tape decks used to be the popular items until thieves found out the market was flooded and there was no longer the ready buyer.

The CB craze may go that route, too, but few people think it will be in the next few years.

Probably less than 10 percent—or even lower—of all CB's stolen are recovered. And even fewer can be identified and returned to their owners.

This means the CB enthusiast had better take some precautions of his—or her—own.

"Usually the first-time buyer doesn't ask (about precautions)," says John Andrews, owner of the Oasis CB Shop in Hartland. "It's the one after he gets ripped off who asks."

There are several different ways to approach the problem.

Of police departments contacted, representatives all agreed the problem would be substantially solved if owners would use a slip mount and take the CB with them.

"I had a guy who walked in carrying a CB and he said 'where this goes, I go'," recalls Detective Robert Starnes of the Novi Police Department. "He had one ripped off before and had some friends who had theirs stolen."

Many CB truckers, adds Andrews, "have slip mounts and carry them around inside the store like a little suitcase."

SLIPPING IT OUT—Jack Derosa of Hartland shows how easy it is to use a slip mount to remove a CB radio from a car.

Police Chief Joel Allen of South Lyon recommends placing the radio in the trunk of the car if a person is in a place where he can't take it with him.

"We never had an incident where someone's broken into a trunk to get a CB," he says.

While most departments recommend this as the ideal solution, ironically insurance companies have made it almost impossible for a CB owner to insure a radio that could be removed from the car. Most insurance companies require that for insurance to be granted on the CB that it must be permanently mounted to the vehicle.

But even if the CB is permanently mounted, there are other things that can be done.

Most often mentioned in a canvas of police departments is that tell-tale antenna.

"They can get smaller antennas, whip antennas that go in the gutter of the trunk. Some are magnetic or clip ons and they can just take them off and put them in the trunk," said Starnes.

A spokesman for Solid State Instruments Corporation of Lakeland pointed out that retracting antennas can look just like regular radio antennas and thus fool thieves.

Another antenna is the so-called "flip-flop" which is up while the owner is using the CB, but manually flips down into the trunk out of sight when not in use.

"The idea is not to advertise the CB by concealing the antenna," says John Haggis, a salesman for Radio Shack in Brighton.

But Allen warns that "a person shouldn't feel overly secure about a fold down CB antenna."

He points out that prior to CB radios, the 8-track tape decks were being stolen at a high rate, but there was no tell-tale antenna to identify which cars they were in. The thief would just walk along looking in cars. Says Allen, "The more sophisticated they become, the less thieves will be fooled."

Burglar alarms are also a possibility.

However, Starnes warns that alarms can be circumvented easily by the professional thief who knows what wires to cut. And if no one is nearby, the alarm probably will go unheeded. The short time it takes for a thief to remove the CB could make the alarm little more than an inconvenience.

"From the time they break into the car to the time they're back in their own car, it isn't two minutes," says Starnes.

But Sergeant Bruce Deacon of the Northville City Police holds that burglar alarms are a deterrent. "The burglar alarm draws a lot of attention," says Deacon. "This scares them. But in order for it to work, it's got to be in an area where people are."

Beyond the precautions named, investigators advise writing down the serial number and keeping it in a secure place.

David Schwanky of the Wixom Police Department notes that owners of less than 25 percent of the stolen CB's have a serial number to provide the police department.

Unfortunately some serial numbers are stamped only on paper which is then glued onto the back of the receiver. In that case, the serial number or a driver's license number helps.

"This gives us the opportunity to know what we're looking for," says Starnes. "Every day there's an area police broadcast where they list recovered items. There's a possibility two or three of the CB's are ours—but we have no way of knowing."

As another precaution, Starnes recommends that the CB owner who has a garage use it:

"The majority have been stolen from driveways when they had an empty garage right there where they could have parked their car," says the detective.

A final tip is to camouflage the radio inside the car so that it is not visible by anyone looking into the car.

Police recommend that CB owners take the CB from the car when it is not in use in order to protect it from thieves.

Church vacation Bible schools in full swing

Church parking lots may not be as full on Sunday mornings this time of the year.

But look around during the week, and chances are you'll see lots going on.

Kids singing, playing games, and taking time out for quiet and prayer.

It's summer, and for many area youngsters (and a few volunteer moms) that means a week or two of vacation Bible school.

The programs vary from church to church. Some stress a revival-like experience for youngsters. Others take an ecumenical approach and emphasize recreation activities.

But the result is usually the same—a few days of fun and learning and a highlight of summer for many.

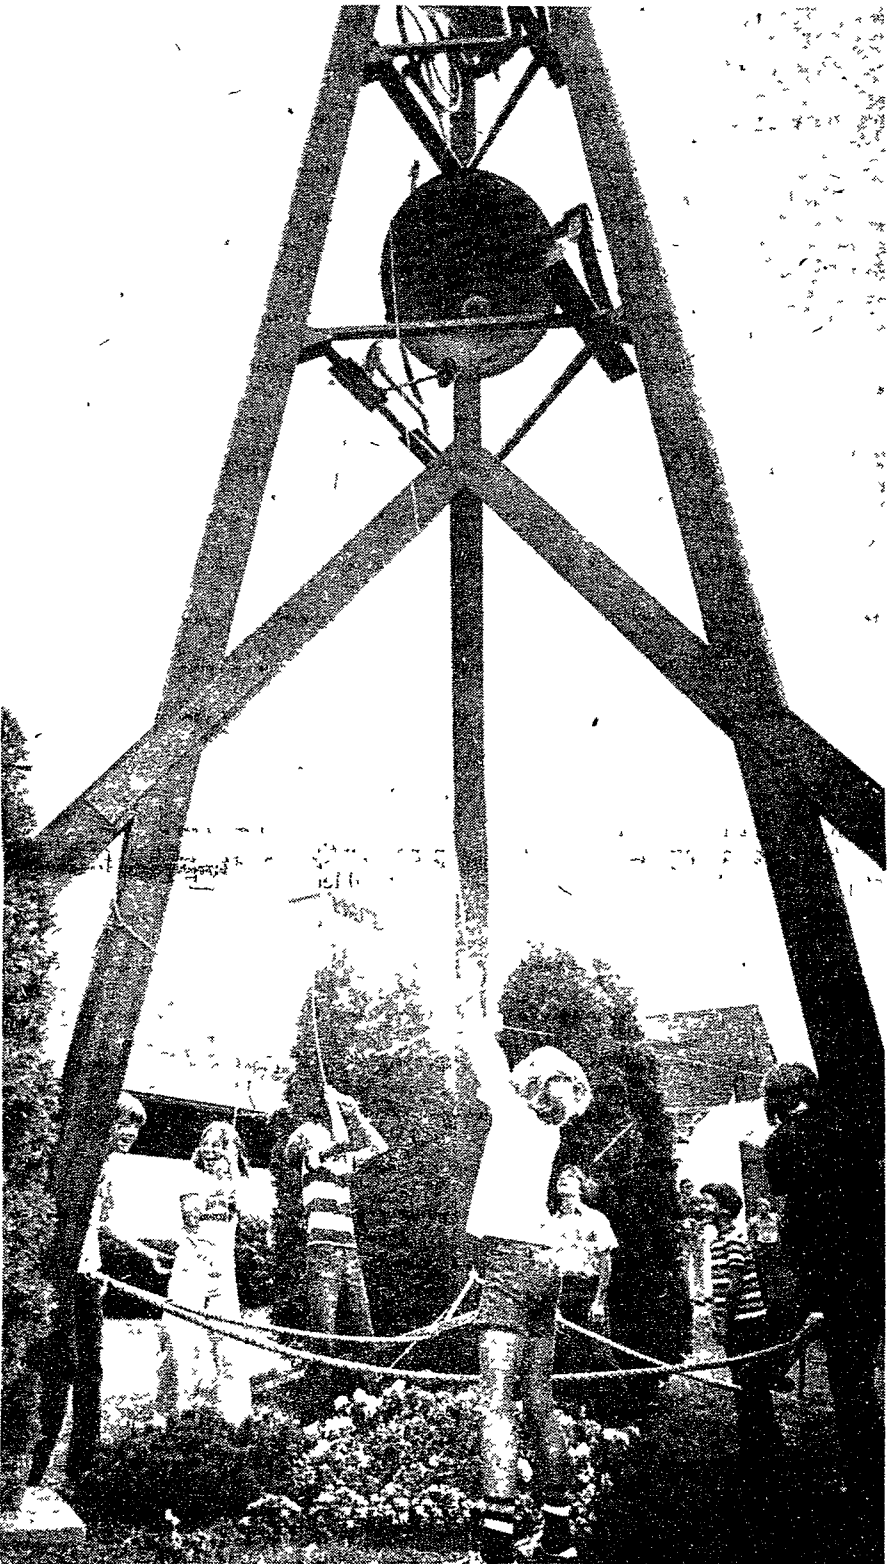

WHALE OF A TIME—Reverend Susan Bennett joins youngsters on the last day of church school in painting a "whale" at Novi United Methodist. Constructed out of plastic by the supervisors, the whale, which was inflated with a fan, was used as an area for Bible study by the youngsters. Approximately 75-80 students participated in the church school program which included visits to local convalescent homes.

MARKETPLACE—

Youngsters who attended South Lyon's United Presbyterian Bible School were treated to a new experience — eating in the style of Biblical characters. (From left) Laura Siclovian, Jennifer Powell and Shellyn Sprinkles take turns helping each other "wash up for dinner" before being served crackers with rice or honey by teachers Joan Shifferd and Sally Lusk. The Marketplace also featured booths for pottery, weaving, and baking of unleavened bread.

BIBLE SCHOOL SUMMONS—Bell ringing has started the day for some 300 Hamburg area youngsters the last two weeks. All were attending Bible school at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on M-36. The last session was the 10th annual summer program, and attendance has steadily grown over the years. According to Pastor Carl Welser, many non-church members from the small village turn out for the lively "mini-revival" meetings.

Nine teenagers, including two from Novi and one from Northville, attended "The All Saints Gathering" in the New Orleans Superdome August 11-15 from St. John American Lutheran Church in Farmington.

Attending from Novi were Marti and Melinda

DeWaard while from Northville was Eric Lampela. Chaperones for the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Brent Canup of Novi.

In total, 25,000 teens and chaperones representing the Lutheran Church of America, Lutheran Church of Missouri Synod and the American Lutheran Church attended the event.

The teens from St. John's raised $1,000 through slave days and garage sales to help pay for the trip, according to Mrs. Canup. This went to pay for the trip and registration fees, which included room and board.

The gathering has been in the works for two and a half years. Visitors went on tours and sight-seeing trips during their stay.

Other teens going from St. John American Lutheran Church were Tom Erwin, Marlene Walck, Lisa Varnes, Ralph Dingle and Mark and Brenda Fox, all from Farmington.

Ethel Ogilvie and her husband, what's his name, er-ah-yes, Phil, had a grand 10-day air trip out to Vancouver and then Calgary where they switched to a bus for a wonder-filled stay at Lake Louise and Banff. They report lovely hotels and golf courses and fields of colorful flowers. Ethel informed me they located Fatigue Mountain near Canmore at 9707 feet elevation. Needless to say Phil was reluctant to leave the location.

A Farmington bowling friend reports that Fountain Head Lodge at a state park of the same name, located about 100 miles southeast of Oklahoma City, is a fine place for kids as well as their parents. She tells me children's programs are well supervised and cleverly interesting. Costs: $28.00 per day for two adults and one child in the same room. Seems reasonable.

Tokyo Notes:

Late summer attractions here are roof top beer gardens, impromptu street festivals, an Oriental Luna Park — and that always fascinating game, Japanese-style baseball, where each player bows reverently to the umpire before he takes his turn at bat.

If you measure an airline by its equipment the Japan Air Lines must merit some consideration of its fleet of 747's — the largest in the Orient and second largest in the world. Facilities at Haneda airport in Tokyo have improved a great deal with the opening of a 50-room hotel in the terminal. Officials have speeded up the luggage carousels and streamlined the public health examination and immigration and custom check-out counters with Express Service lines. Personally, I would recommend the Monorail ride into downtown Tokyo. It only takes 15 minutes and costs 230 yen, less than a dollar U.S. and only 20 percent of a taxi-ride. Also remember, don't tip taxi drivers in Japan — it's not necessary. When you are leaving Japan you can convert two hundred dollars worth of yen into U.S. or other foreign currency — but only once and then only at time of departure. Try to visit Shinjuku Gyoen, former palace gardens of the emperor with swans and willow trees and its flood of iris.

One of my most amusing memories of Japan was the leading hitter in the baseball league there. He was fondly nicknamed "Dog-batter." This puzzled me until I saw Imoya play. He stood at the plate with both feet together until the baseball came speeding at him then swung the bat and simultaneously lifted his left leg in the gesture of a dog passing an inviting hydrant. Sayonara!

New law curbs medical incompetence

By ELMER E. WHITE

LANSING—Michigan folks might be even better protected from those few incompetent doctors who may be practicing in the state. That's the aim of legislation signed into law recently by Governor William Milliken.

The measure increases the authority of the Medical Practice Board to monitor Michigan doctors.

Lauding the law, the governor said it will help assure the public that "doctors are performing their duties in accordance with the highest professional standards."

Most Michigan doctors are highly skilled professionals, the governor pointed out. "And," he added, "this law will help remove from their ranks those few who are not competent to practice medicine."

How will that be accomplished?

Among other provisions, the law allows the board to start its own investigations and it establishes a procedure for hearing complaints.

IN ADDITION, it requires review of a licensee's file when information about malpractice, medical society disciplinary action, substantiated complaint, revocation, suspension or limitation of hospital staff privileges, or notice of felony conviction reaches the board.

It also requires the board to decide within 60 days of getting such information whether or not it will begin disciplinary proceedings.

And it calls for the board to report suspensions, limitations or any action against doctors to the Department of Public Health and Social Services, malpractice insurance companies, professional societies, and appropriate licensed health facilities.

The bill is a revised version of one Milliken vetoed earlier this year.

WHILE SOME OF OUR nation's hardier souls were rushing for gold in California, the Michigan Legislature was looking to the education of its children.

It was in 1849, the year that great gold rush began, that lawmakers in our state established the Michigan Board of Education.

Back then, the board consisted of three persons: a Detroit lawyer named Samuel Barstow; Randolph Manning, a future justice of the state Supreme Court; and the Reverend Samuel Newbury of Jackson County.

Today there are eight people on the board, four men and four women. That's a 50 percent ratio of women — the highest percentage of women serving on any state board of education in the country.

WITH THE MYSTERIES of Mars a little less mysterious these days, the thoughts of colonizing space may also seem a little less fantastic.

A Lansing shoe salesman, Dick Christmas, thinks human space colonization is far from far-fetched, and he thinks people should celebrate July 20, the day man first landed on the moon, as a special holiday.

Efforts to make "Moon Day" an official holiday in Michigan thus far have failed, although Christmas reportedly has spent some $3,000 contacting state and federal officials around the country trying to round up firm support for his idea.

CROP PRODUCTION in the Republic of Tunisia is up — thanks in part to recommendations from the director of Michigan's Department of Agriculture.

Director B. Dale Ball proposed more efficient use of irrigation in that country when Tunisians asked for suggestions during an agricultural export trade mission to the Mediterranean country three years ago.

This summer Ball received Tunisia's second highest medal, the "Medal of the Republic," in appreciation for that farming assistance.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE a 40-pound, 15-ounce northern muskellunge? Or a 31-pound, 8-ounce brown trout? Or a 22-pound, 1-ounce Atlantic salmon?

Sounds like the tall tales of the fish that got away.

But these fish were caught, in Michigan, this summer, and set three of the six records tallied by Michigan fishermen for 1976.

THE SPLAKE RECORD was broken twice this season. First, a fisherman pulled in an 11-pound, 8-ounce specimen of the brown trout-lake trout hybrid. Then just about four weeks later, another fisherman landed an 11-pound, 10-ounce splake.

The sixth of the record-breaking fish takes was a 32-pound tiger muskellunge.

CB radio thefts tag latest fad

While some CB companies are trying to come out with burglarproof CB radios, most police departments and CB stores say not to believe it.

"There's no such thing as a burglarproof CB," says the spokesman for Solid State. "I've had customers rivet them to the car. They've taken chisels and done quite a bit of damage to the cars getting them out."

"There are various locks," adds Allen. "But the locking device is only as good as what you lock it to. If you lock it to a flimsy part of the dashboard..."

"If you have something in the car and they know it, they'll get it," says Haggis.

For the hearty persons who do permanently attach their CB to the car, insurance is an added precaution. But it doesn't come cheaply.

At one time, CB radios were included by most companies in the car policy. Today, almost without exception, it is a rider and costs extra. Most companies charge about $10 per year per $100 of value. One company charges a flat rate of $20, no matter the value.

But insurance salesmen candidly admit that most companies really do not want to bother insuring the CB's because of the high theft rate.

"I can't blame them," says Deacon. "They're really getting stuck. People who had never turned in a claim are now turning in their stolen CB's."

But many people are taking a different route in attacking the CB problem.

"I do have the solution," one police department clerk told a reporter. "Don't buy one."

The more we study, the more we know.
The more we know, the more we forget.
The more we forget, the less we know.
The less we know, the more we forget.
The more we know, the more we forget.
So why study?

Student—"Who, me?"

Student—"But I don't think I deserve an absolute zero."
Teacher—"Neither do I, but it is the lowest mark that I am allowed to give."

History Teacher—"Can any of you tell me what makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"
Obese Student—"I don't know, or I'd take some myself."

Get off to a good start!

School days are just around the corner and if your family is like many thousands of others around this area, you're already making preparations to get your youngsters off to a good start this year. That means a substantial outlay in hard-earned cash in most cases, however! Clothes to buy, books and school supplies . . . perhaps even transportation in the forms of bicycles or automobiles. Putting your hands on that extra cash may be a little easier than you thought! Now that summer is almost over, you very likely have items around your home that you'll no longer need . . . and that can be turned into ready cash by advertising them for sale through the Want Ads of this newspaper! It's so easy to place your ad . . . just write down the items you wish to offer for sale and then call one of our friendly Ad-Visors. They'll help you word your ad so it will produce the greatest response at the lowest cost possible. It's a great way to get your family off to a good start before school begins!

Look at the Green

Mountains move within me—
the air held its breath escaping into a solitude so peaceful—the land.

I was all there.
Everything was so clear.
There hadn't been any need for need.

The richness—
the velvety green...
trees — valleys below
rose out to greet me... tranquility and me became as one—
and I sought out to believe, hoping... there would never be a time when peace would leave... with the moment fading and leaving me empty...
Maybe not.

They came slowly to me...
memories so long ago that time had formed a blanket... as if by chance the sea slipped in and broke the wall...
on through the seasons
I had lived... with time as an everlasting guardian to watch over each day...
shadowing the secrets,
the moments of laughter, the smiles and the tears... and the hurting life in the darkness sometimes—
yet with the wall broken, openness became one with now—as it was time to realize and to keep on.

Samaritans

Do you figure you're a failure
In everything you do?
Do you think you won't achieve your goal
Or cannot see it through?

It may not be as easy
To think up instead of down;
The smile you started out to wear,
Instead becomes a frown.

But someone's bound to come along
Who has a problem, too,
And then, the first thing that you know,
You don't feel quite so blue!

As you try to help another,
Your troubles seem to fade,
And, like as not, you'll both look up
To say, "we've got it made!"

Dumb Doodles

There's always the clown who borrows your pen;
You may get it back but you don't know when.

Then there's the goof who always sneezes
Full in your face with accompanying wheezes.

But the one who drives me into psychosis
Is the bird who chokes me with halitosis.

Charles E. Hutton

Death

Death is not a word to fear or even one to mourn,
For the nicest thing about our death is that we'll be reborn.

So don't cry when they leave you but let yourself be glad Rejoice for they have found the peace that they have never had.

Have faith that God will keep His word that life is not the end,
And that your loved One waits for you when you turn round that bend.

Carol Rosowski

Solitude

Solitude is sometimes as restless misery...
a world of non-reality...
a sin, sometimes to mankind.
Some see in it — insanity.
But through it can be found, if looked for,
a consciousness of self... an understanding... but not the diseased heart that some people seem to see.

80 youths improve pictured rocks

Diana Sue Chubb, 45799 Grand River in Novi, has joined 79 other young people this summer in projects to improve the Picture Rocks National Lakeshore on Lake Superior.

The group of high school juniors and seniors are involved in a Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) Project which includes building bridges, improving hiking trails and roadways, planting trees, and doing historical restoration throughout the Picture Rocks area.

Created in 1966, the national lakeshore stretches nearly 40 miles along Lake Superior from the Picture Rocks near Munising to the Grand Sable Dunes at Grand Marais.

The YCC project is being funded through the National Park Service and administered by Northern Michigan University.

"It's a real good feeling to work together and see your project completed," said Miss Chubb. "Working outside in the fresh air gives me quite an appetite and I don't have any trouble sleeping at night."

Daily routine includes six hours work on projects and two hours of environmental education. Some projects require camping overnight at the site. Field trips and other recreational activity are scheduled on weekends.

Stairs to the Lake Superior beach were built by the group along the remote Hurricane River. Improvements were made along the right-of-way of the Log Slide Road leading to the Grand Sable Dunes. Trail and road work was completed into Little Beaver lake and a rustic amphitheater was constructed under the pines at 12-Mile Beach campground.

A bridge was decked over the turbulent Miners River and others were built spanning Spray Creek and the Mosquito River. Historical restoration was carried out on a docking and shore facility at Sand Point near the Lakeshore headquarters.

The crews have tackled erosion problems, dismantled old buildings, conducted general cleanup and made campground improvements.

"We're delighted with the youths' work," said Superintendent Robert Burns.

Looking into Michigan's past

Michigan State Agricultural College, 1857, East Lansing. College Hall, standing amidst the 677 acres of wild land which would eventually become the site of today's Michigan State University. College Hall, begun in 1856, was the first building in America designed for scientific agricultural instruction.

The Capitol in the Wilderness, at Lansing, 1847, as painted by Robert Thom, from "A History of Michigan in Paintings." The scene is Michigan's first Capitol, nearing completion in the late summer. On the left of the three men in the foreground is Epaphroditus Ransom, chief justice of the Supreme Court since 1843, who would be elected governor in November and deliver his inaugural address in the new Capitol on January 3, 1848. In the center is Alpheus Felch, former governor who resigned on March 3, 1847, to become U.S. senator. On the right is William L. Greenly, lieutenant-governor, who on March 16, 1847, signed the bill which made Lansing the capital. (Copyright 1965, Michigan Bell Telephone Company; all rights reserved.)

The end of the Toledo War came in this building in 1836 in Ann Arbor. Michigan surrendered its claims to the Toledo Strip, at a convention meeting in the first Washtenaw County Courthouse, shown in this sketch. This courthouse, where Michigan "surrendered" in its war with Ohio—and with the U.S. Congress—was torn down later in the nineteenth century and replaced with a new building on the same location. (This same process was repeated in the middle twentieth century to provide for the present Washtenaw County Courthouse.) In return for its surrender of Toledo, Michigan was given the western two-thirds of the Upper Peninsula... along with Congressional approval of its request for statehood.

The Birthplace of the Republican Party, Jackson, 1854. The meeting of citizens had to be held outdoors when more than three thousand persons showed up, to launch the new political party. Originally scheduled for City Hall, the gathering wound up at this historic spot on what was then the outskirts of the village.

Inside or outside

Improper watering kills plants

By KATHY COPLEY

Inside or outside, large or small, more plants die from improper watering than any other single cause. Determining the right amount of water depends on the plant and the type of soil.

Plants fall into three watering categories: those which must be constantly moist (shade plants), those which should dry out slightly between waterings (most of the rest of the plant world), and those which need a fairly dry period between infrequent waterings (Cactus, etc.).

The right kind of soil makes the right kind of watering more simple. Cacti need sharp, sandy soil which drains quickly. Planting them in peat moss—which holds several times its weight in water—will possibly kill them, or at least stunt their growth.

Begonias need constantly moist soil. Too sandy and all the water drains through; peat moss, compost, sphagnum moss are the answer here. Non-soil mixes, high in vermiculite and peat to hold great amounts of water, are excellent.

They have a second advantage. Each particle can only hold a certain amount of water so the excess drains away, leaving the "soil" loose at all times. It is the myriad air passages in this type of mix which save the roots from suffocating as they would with an equal amount of water held in ordinary garden soil.

One of the best ways to assure the proper amount of water is to water on a schedule. Outside, give grass, trees, and flowers one inch of water a week, supplementing or replacing rain. One inch of water should moisten the soil to four inches, the range in which most roots grow. Tree roots are dense in the top 18 inches of soil so give them extra.

One inch of water won't keep a bluegrass lawn looking picture pretty, but it will keep it going until the cool days and frequent rains of Fall bring it back. Bluegrass is used extensively here—either blends or a single strain—because it greens up quickly in spring and fall, responds quickly to water and fertilizer, and is nearly dormant in temperatures above 80 degrees, thus reducing its water requirements.

Frequent watering makes the grass think the temperature is lower than 80 degrees so it goes right on growing and looking good.

A watering schedule for indoor plants can be weekly in the winter but usually must be every three to four days in the summer. And of course a plant in a sunny window needs more than one in a north window.

Also consider the fact that a Swedish ivy in a southern window on the first floor will need less water than the same size Swedish ivy on the second floor, what with hot air rising.

Measure specific amount of water, check to see if the plant droops before it gets that much again according to your schedule, and adjust accordingly. This way you will know when it last got water and how much.

Soil color should be a clue to water needs. Shade plants need uniformly moist soil, so it will be uniformly dark in color. Most plants need soil to dry out just slightly before the next watering. Scratch the soil surface to see how far down it is dry.

Naturally, the size of the pot has a lot to do with how deeply you scratch to find moist soil. In a 1½ inch pot, only the top ¼ inch can afford to be dry. In a tree tub, the top two to three inches could be dry with no problem.

Several companies have marketed devices with which to measure soil moisture.

Football's in the air

There was a nip in the air last weekend and the cider mills are beginning to open. And in case there's any doubt, these pictures should prove that autumn and football are fast approaching. On the left, Northville High School cheerleader Beth Harrison practices for the upcoming season. In the center, Steve Juday, a former Northville and Michigan State quarterback, hikes the ball to Mike Zayti as the Northville alumni practice in preparation for their battle with the Plymouth alumni 8 p.m. September 11 at Plymouth Salem High School. And on the right, flanker-back Gregg Harper of Northville High School takes time out from excruciating weightlifting to pause for a picture. Harper, a senior, is one of a host of outstanding players who head coach Chuck Shonta thinks will lead Northville to a fine season.

Hockey group seeks players for expansion

Doug Pattison remembers playing hockey in the Detroit Recreation League in the early 1950s when all of the games were played on Saturday afternoons at the Olympia Stadium.

Hockey has grown quicker than a Bobby Hull slapshot since those days, with indoor ice arenas, players and teams popping up overnight.

There is a hockey group in Northville that has tasted just a bit of that popularity and is now concentrating its efforts to see that Northville becomes more a part of that boom.

"We're trying to generate more interest in the area to keep our association going and growing," says David Creedon, a hockey coach and president of the Northville Hockey Association (NHA).

Creedon, along with NHA board directors Pattison and David Vincent, is launching a drive to get more boys, especially those aged 9 and 10, to join teams which play in a league against teams from Livonia, Farmington, Redford and Dearborn, just to name a few.

The NHA is like other sports groups, hockey or otherwise, across the area and the nation. It's private because it's non-public, but it's public because it's aimed solely at its community.

"I think it's important that boys participate in community sports," emphasizes Vincent, whose son plays hockey.

Vincent and friends are trying to promote hockey around the community and the community around hockey. The NHA admits it accepts boys from cities like Novi, South Lyon and Wixom where there are no hockey programs, but it does not recruit boys from other areas.

"Other areas come in and recruit our players for their leagues," says Vincent, who would much prefer these kids stay in Northville.

Those other places, like Livonia, have bigger and ostensibly better hockey programs than Northville.

"We're smaller than a lot of these other places," says Pattison. "We have 120 kids in our program now where a place like Farmington has 500."

"But here you don't have to scramble to make a team," adds Pattison whose two sons play hockey in Northville.

And fewer kids means more individual attention.

"We teach these kids hockey," Creedon says. "Around the league we have a reputation as being competitive and being sportsmen."

None of the men would come out and say it but the Northville kids play a brand of hockey reminiscent of the Montreal Canadians, as opposed to the Philadelphia Flyers type of mayhem.

"A lot of those other leagues like to play like the Flyers," admits Greg Phillips, 21, who played in the NHA for five years.

"Kids learn good basic hockey in Northville," says Phillips, who quickly adds that he and his friends enjoyed playing in the league.

"We put on as good a program as any in the area," affirms Pattison.

But nice guys don't always finish last as the NHA pee wees proved two years ago.

Then, the 11-12-year-old boys made it to the finals of the Silver Skate Stick Tournament, an international hockey playoff sanctioned by the American and Canadian Amateur Hockey associations that attracts 10,000 teams yearly.

But even with that on-the-Village Blues nips Old Timers

John Boland's two-run single in the 10th inning proved to be the difference as Village Blues nipped Old Timers 7-5 in the battle for first place in the American League in Northville's Men's Slo-pitch League.

Village Blues next plays a best-of-three game playoff with the top men's slo-pitch team from South Lyon Monday evening at South Lyon.

The two teams will play a doubleheader there, and if they split, the third and deciding game will be played Tuesday night in Northville.

The winner of that series advances to the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association (MRPA) state tournament the weekend of September 4 in Vassar.

Village Blues and Old Timers entered a week ago Tuesday's games tied for first place, with two games remaining for both teams. Village Blues scored single runs in the second and fourth innings, getting run-producing hits from Jim O'Brien and Gary Winemaster.

Old Timers picked up a single run in the bottom of the fourth on a double by Jim Lake and an RBI single by Joe Lineman.

Village Blues came right back in the top of the fifth with two runs, thanks to singles by Jim O'Brien and Jim Yanoshik and two errors by Old Timers.

But Old Timers exploded in their half of the sixth with three runs to knot the score at four each.

Old Timers rapped out five hits in the inning, including an RBI double from Don Thomson and RBI singles by Tom Allentis and Jim Overbey.

The game then turned into a defensive contest, with each team miffing a chance to score.

Village Blues had two men on in the eighth with one out but failed to score.

Old Timers loaded the bases with two outs in the ninth but Don Thomson ended the threat by flying out to right field.

In the 10th, Village Blues' star Jim Yanoshik reached base on an error and moved around to third after a single by Trumbull and a walk to Jeff Moon.

Boland then delivered his game-winning hit. Tom Eis drove in Boland with an insurance run to make the score 7-4.

Old Timers went down fighting in their half of the 10th.

Tom Kidley led off with a triple and scored on a sacrifice by Jim Lake. The next batter flied out but Joe Lineman and Jim Overbey rapped out back-to-back singles. But Bob Boshoven ended the game by popping out to third base.

Village Blues blasted 12 hits in the game, including three by Jim O'Brien, while Joe Lineman and Jim Overbey paced Old Timers 17-hit assault with three safeties each.

Village Blues then clinched the American League championship with an easy 14-2 romp over C.D.S. Jeff Moon and John Boland hit four-baggers for the champs.

Old Timers clinched second place with a close 13-10 win over Hamlet. Tom Alberts cleared the fences and Tom Overbey had four hits and three RBI's for Old Timers who move into the league playoffs this week.

In other games last week prior to playoff action, National League champ Rizzo-Belanger whitewashed Our Lady of Victory, 12-0 thanks to four RBI's by Jim Niemi and three hits by Gary MacLean.

Rizzo-Belanger moves into state tournament play August 27 in Allen Park in the Inter-City tournament.

Joe's Party Pantry had an easy time with Foundry Flak, 11-4. Little Caesars whipped Ely's, 14-4, and then Ely's came back to knock off Our Lady of Victory, 10-6.

Playoffs deciding state tourney rep

Six teams in the Novi Men's Softball League are vying this week for the right to represent Novi in the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association (MRPA) state tournament set for Vassar on Labor Day weekend.

American League East division champ Action, and runner-up Fisher's Sporting Goods, plus American League

West champ M&B are three of the six teams chosen by virtue of league crowns and won-lost percentage to compete in the playoff games finishing tonight, Wednesday or possibly Thursday night.

In the National League, East champ J. P. Realty and runner-up Portec are joined by West titlist Willowbrook Merchants.

The team which emerges from the games held at the Novi High School will advance to MRPA district play against Ben Powell Trucking of Independence Township, just outside of Clarkston. The site of that best-of-three game series has yet to be determined.

Action and J. P. Realty each drew a bye in first round play because they boosted the best won-lost records.

Although Fisher's had the same record as J. P. Realty, the latter team drew a bye because they were a division winner.

In the final regular season games last week, in the American League Action, Fisher's and M&B all won twice.

Action took Jim Storm Insurance, 9-5, and then outslugged Kramar Jewelers, 22-11.

Fisher's which was the only team to beat Action this year, got out the big bats and bested Novi Inn, 20-8, and Michigan Tractor, 14-5.

M&B got good pitching and fine defense as they blanked Michigan Tractor, 7-0. Then the West winner showed their power with a 23-10 clubbing of Quad Company.

Quad Company played to a 7-7 tie with Kramar Jewelers. Michigan Tractor squashed American Enclosure, 29-12, and Jim Storm easily beat Novi Inn, 20-12.

In the National League, J. P. Realty rolled up two easy wins, clubbing Goat Farm, 21-2, and ripping Novi Police, 28-1.

Willowbrook Merchants warmed up for the playoffs with two tightly played wins, whitewashing Old Orchard, 7-0, and then squeezing by Jaycees, 6-4.

Of the six playoff teams, only Portec stumbled last week. The East runner-up handled Goat Farm, 19-12 but was surprised by Community Management, 11-3.

Community Management ended up the season on an optimistic note by taking two more games, shutting out Goat Farm, 7-0 and then shearing Old Orchard, 15-5.

Other problems are worked out.

This year, the NHA has secured Centaur Frams in Farmington and the Novi Ice Arena as home ice for their teams. When the league started in 1968, teams traveled to Jackson to practice and play.

And the injury issue is being refuted by countless professionals, physicians and laymen.

A recent Detroit News story said the number of injuries in football to participate was one to one.

Pattison's 14-year-old son Richard has been playing hockey for six years, averaging 55 to 60 games a year, and all he has to show for his toil is a broken nose — busted while watching a game.

The men say the advantages to hockey easily outweigh the disadvantages. The league has exchange ice success the NHA still finds itself struggling.

"We're probably not as vocal or aggressive as we should be in the community," admits Vincent, but the group faces other problems rather than those of publicity.

Like money. It's expensive to play hockey. The equipment, sticks, skates and pads are expensive. Sponsor fees cover only the basic shirt and shorts.

And ice time. It'll cost the NHA $30,000 to rent ice time. That cost is passed along to the boys to the tune of $39 a month. The boys practice and play eight hours a month.

In addition to sponsor fees and the participants own pocketbooks, the NHA has sought money through donations and fund raisers.

In 1974, they got $1,200 from the Recreation Department to subsidize Northville boys but because of the department's monetary woes, it gave nothing last year and will give nothing this year.

programs where a Northville team will play a Canadian team twice in Canada and stay in the homes of the players.

The Canadians will then come to Northville for two games and visit the homes of their opponents.

"The boys get a chance to meet other people this way," explains Creedon.

But hockey's greatest advantage, according to Vincent, is that it's a great sport for the family.

"You probably have more parent participation in hockey than other sports," he believes.

NHA will hold another registration session for boys age 7 to 16 Saturday, September 11. The league also needs parents to serve on its board of directors.

The victors banged out 16 hits in the win, including a home run by Denise McDermaid. They also made nine errors.

If Cast-Your-Line captures the league title, they'll move on to the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association state tournament — Labor Day weekend in Mt. Pleasant.

K-Matic moved into second place last week with a doubleheader victory over Northville Record by scores of 12-2 and 12-8.

In the 12-2 win, K-Matic outthrew Northville Record 11-2.

Goat Farm continues to roll in the Northville Co-ed Slo-pitch league.

The second place team knocked off front-runner Griffin's Sports Shop, 3-2, for the second time this year. Griffin's has lost twice this year, both times to Goat Farm.

Kathy Jarema sealed Griffin's defeat Sunday with a single in the eighth inning to drive in Patti Brown with the winning run.

Kim Adams was the winning pitcher.

With only three weeks remaining in league play, Griffin's still holds a commanding lead over Goat Farm with an 11-2 record. Goat Farm is 7-5 but is riding a five game winning streak.

Evans recalls bizarre trip

The trip ended one month prematurely for Scott Evans, but the 22-year-old Northville resident has enough unusual memories, plus four friends, to last a lifetime.

Evans, a four-year starting pitcher for Michigan State University, and 19 other college baseball players spent the summer touring Central and South America, playing native teams and acting as Christian missionaries for Overseas Crusades Inc.

The two-month tour that began in mid-June ended one month later for Evans on a ball field in Monteria, Colombia.

There, in the process of completing a play, Evans' foot sank in a depression on the field. As a result, he tore some ligaments in his left foot.

Although the medical attention was mediocre at best in Colombia, Evans had to wait until he got to the Panama Canal — two weeks later — before receiving expert care.

"It'll be all right," he insists, "the doctors say I don't need an operation."

It was the incident right after the injury that typified some of the bizarre events that happened to Evans and his teammates in Latin America.

"Immediately when I went down I heard the people in the stands laughing at me," Evans recalls, without a trace of bitterness in his voice.

"It was funny to see the contrast between the fans and my teammates. The outfielders got together in center field and started praying for me."

Evans' teammates then moved him to the top of the dugout where he put ice on his knee and tried to watch the remainder of the game. But the fans persisted.

"There's this 15-inch high fence that separates the fans from the field," Evans says, "and people were yelling at me in Spanish."

"One of the guys in the stands knew English and he yelled to me, 'Hey gringo, they're calling you coward and chicken.'"

"They threw stones and spit at me, but I didn't feel threatened," Evans says. "They were all excited by the game and knew I was a Christian."

While Evans was with the team, it won 15 of 18 games, and tied two. One of the ties resulted when the umpires called the game because of wet grounds.

"It hadn't rained for hours and the field was dry, but the game was tied. The fans were happy with the tie."

Another game was cancelled when the team was caught between two feuding baseball leagues.

"We were supposed to play a game on the Colombia-Venezuela border," laughs Evans. "Two teams wanted to play us, but the heads of each league threatened to cancel our visas if we played the other team."

And then there was the time when immediately after a game ended, someone turned off the lights (all the games were played at night) and the fans charged the field to grab a souvenir.

"I was scared then," Evans admits. "The fans always were trying to get some of our equipment."

Luckily, Evans' coach, Chuck Knabe, had an intuitive feeling that something like that would happen, so he had the players take extra precautions. As a result, the fans got very little.

But Evans liked the fans. "They're really wild about baseball. The South American teams are well disciplined, but their pitching is weak and they don't hit with power. The fans like to see us hit."

Apparently the fans also liked to see the Americans proselytize.

"We held baseball clinics before and after the games. Our purpose was to share Christ from a platform of athletics," explains Evans.

Sometimes the team would draw as many as 2,000 people to the clinics, and many of them received Christ, Evans says.

Scott Evans

The excitement wasn't limited to the playing field. "The food was so bad that I lost 15 pounds," says the 6 foot 4 inch strapping 200-pounder.

"We had rice packed like a snowball, soup, and I still don't know what was in it, and a leathery beef. If we were blindfolded we could have eaten it," he quipped.

The extreme living standards of the South American's effect on Evans, on Evans.

"It was like the feudal system there. People were either very rich or very poor."

And the beauty of Medellin, a small town 8,000 feet up in the Colombian mountains, also impressed Evans.

Evans enjoyed the tour but has no desire to do it again. "Recently, Evans, who was the president of his college graduating class, began work with IBM in Detroit. He'll restrict his involvement in sports to recreational leagues."

Evans has one special memory from his trip.

"These four guys were heckling me for four straight nights. One night I was in the Public Address booth when they found me and started heckling me some more."

"We talked for a while and when the coach came to get me he found us on our knees, on the floor, praying. The hecklers turned towards Christ."

'M' star at Schoolcraft

By STEVE RAPHAEL

"I'd give Grote a full scholarship and major medical," said Al McGuire, head basketball coach at Marquette University.

McGuire made his comment two years ago, minutes after his Milwaukee-based team nipped the University of Michigan which was led by its bruising, brawling defensive guard, Steve Grote.

Grote, a freshman then, was right out of Elder High School in Cincinnati where, as a senior, he was an all-American football player and Ohio Player of the Year in basketball after leading Elder to the state championship.

So what is the fiery, aggressive senior co-captain of the Wolverines doing coaching young ladies at Schoolcraft College?

"I like coaching women," says the curly-headed blonde matter-of-factly in his soft, slow southern drawl.

And the women like being coached by him.

"I've really learned a lot," says Kim Adams, an 18-year-old graduate of Northville High School, who'll be attending Schoolcraft next month.

"He's so thorough, and he's patient. He has to be patient

Julienne Little, a 16-year-old junior at South Lyon, says Grote, who's not known for his outside shooting, has helped her a lot in her outside shooting.

"He knows his basketball," she says, "he gives us good pointers, but he pushes us too hard. He's got to learn we're just kids."

Nancy Roll, the 26-year-old women's basketball coach at Schoolcraft who's running Schoolcraft's 10-day basketball camp for 20 area young women, is happy with Grote.

"I think the girls are responding quite well to him. The problem is one of terminology.

"Women coaches don't have his experience so a lot of what he's telling the girls is either new or different to them.

"They get flabbergasted and confused sometimes, but Steve's an easygoing guy (off the court) and he's been patient."

Grote, who taught at a girls' camp at Dexter this summer, before Ann Arbor native Ms. Roll convinced him to come to Schoolcraft, says the young women lack balance and timing.

"That's the key. They can't shoot a jump shot because their timing is wrong. They have to relax and be in control. And they have to keep their bodies low to the ground. You can't play basketball standing straight up," says the summertime coach.

Grote's style is low to the ground, hard and physical.

He uses his 6 foot, 2 inch, 190-pound frame to muscle quicker but smaller guards to the basket. He takes them down the baseline where he's able to pop in short jump shots and-or use his deceptive quickness to go around players for a layup.

Grote's style has worked well for him. As a freshman for Michigan, he sparked the team to a Big 10 co-championship with Indiana (Michigan is the last team to beat the national champs in regular season play).

In his sophomore and junior years, Grote admits his play was uneven. But Michigan still did well, advancing to post-season play both years and finishing second to Indiana in the national championship game last March.

Grote has made the all-Big 10 team and also academic all-American. A gourmet cook, the soft-spoken Ohio native is majoring in speech with an eye to working in radio or television after graduation.

A pro career is uncertain right now, Grote admits. Besides, he adds, "I've always prepared myself for the worst."

The worst might have been in June when Grote suffered a collapsed lung during the Olympic basketball trials.

A lot of people, including Grote, thought he had a great chance to make the team and join Wolverine teammate Phil Hubbard in Montreal.

"They definitely were looking for big guards," says Grote, who noted that some of the nation's quicker, smaller guards, like teammate Ricky Greene, were passed up for more physical players.

Now Grote, fully recovered from the lung disorder, is in the midst of preparing himself for his final year at Michigan, playing for a team that many cage pundits say has a great chance for a national championship.

Devereaux dives to AAU ranking

Diver Joe Devereaux earned a national ranking recently at the national Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) swimming and diving championships held at Cupertino, California.

The 18-year-old township resident finished 16th and 17th, respectively in the one meter and three meter diving competition. He dove against 26 of the nation's finest divers.

Devereaux won the trip to Cupertino finishing third and fifth respectively in the three and one meter events at an AAU regional meet in Pennsylvania last month.

Devereaux finished fourth in the state meet last March.

"We were really discouraged at first when Joe called us and gave us the news," said the diver's mother, Jan Devereaux. "But he felt he did well enough for his first national meet."

"He told us he dove real steady and didn't blow a dive," added Mrs. Devereaux, who said her son got some help from his college coach-to-be, University of Michigan diving coach Dick Kimball.

"Mr. Kimball felt that Joe did real well, and he taught Joe a lot. Joe did learn that timing is his problem. He goes too fast into the water and doesn't have enough time for his twirling and somersaults," Mrs. Devereaux said.

She said that Kimball had eight of his divers at the meet and all placed high, making Joe more optimistic.

"Frankly, I never heard Joe so enthusiastic," she said.

Andy Carl and David Gulassa, the two California teenagers traveling across America by bicycle, arrived in Boston last Wednesday evening.

They arrived in Boston and immediately plunged into the Atlantic Ocean to symbolically end their transcontinental voyage.

David then hopped on his bike and pedaled back to a farm in central Massachusetts where he'll stay with his family for a year.

Novi accepts 4 acres

'Glens plat approved

Novi Council has given tentative approval to the preliminary plat for Meadowbrook Glens number four and accepted 4.18 acres of undeveloped open space.

The 4.18 acres had previously been held by developers Holtzman and Silverman after construction of the first three subdivisions. It butts up to 10 Mile Road at the C&O Railroad tracks.

An adjoining piece of property, slightly over one acre, which is also vacant and basically unbuildable is included as open space in the preliminary plat offered for Meadowbrook Glens number four. That preliminary plat, for which tentative approval was recommended by the planning board, includes a cluster type format for the property.

Under the cluster option, open space must be provided. However, council member Martha Hoyer, a former planning board member, said she believed the cluster option was intended to provide open space throughout the development and not in one unbuildable area.

Originally both parcels of open space which Holtzman and Silverman were interested in having the city accept were termed a park, but council members objected to the designation pointing out not only that it was almost inaccessible from the subdivision, but also that such a designation might denote both liability on the part of the city and also further maintenance by the city.

Councilman Philip Goodman emphasized that acceptance of the property by the city means no more maintenance than had been provided previously.

Ok contract

A contract for flaring of Meadowbrook Road at 10 Mile Road in Novi has been approved by the Oakland County Road Commission.

Mike Harabedian, Inc., of Troy, was awarded the $15,256 contract. The intersection is being flared for installation of a traffic light.

While the city is paying the complete construction cost, Oakland County Road Commission will pay the cost of the traffic light.

Beautification stressed

Mobile home living defended

Mobile homes viewed by some as a distasteful sort of living...viewed by others as more private than apartment dwelling and more economical than the traditionally structured home. Communities have battled over the inclusion of mobile home parks in their areas. They are thought of as trailer "camps" with the inhabitants jammed together on postage-stamp size plots.

Charges ranging from the deterioration in value of surrounding homes to not carrying the full weight of school taxes, are used in the argument to exclude mobile parks from entering areas. Often included in those arguments is the thought that people who choose to live in mobile homes do not care about how their area may look through someone else's eyes.

Choosing to prove this notion a fallacy, Pat and Gary Downs instituted a "home beautiful" program at Old Dutch Farms Mobile Park. Together they manage the growing community on Napier Road in Novi.

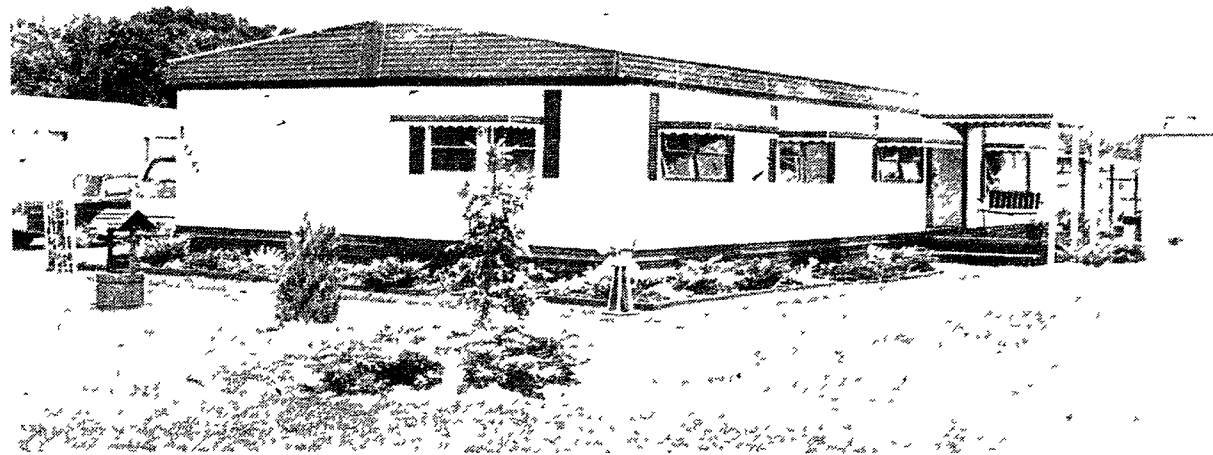

"People have to care about where they are living and want to keep up their property no matter what the size," commented Pat Downs.

"A mobile home doesn't need to carry the connotation of a dump with no room to move around. The areas can be as pretty as any other residential community."

With that thought in mind, the young couple instituted the idea to beautify the area. The program, begun this past spring, was announced in the park's community newsletter, the "Lokel Yokel".

Each month, three different winners are chosen from the over three hundred homes currently in the park. As an incentive to boost the program, winners are given half off on one month's rent.

Shrubs, sod, flowers and little sidewalks appear at almost every residence. Some show more care than others but the Downs said they felt

PRIZE WINNER—Proving that people do care, Joseph and Audrey Cuddington spent many hours in planting and caring for their property. They were recently named one of three winners in a "home beautiful" program at Old Dutch Farms Mobile Park.

Some people have planted vegetable gardens with corn and tomatoes growing in well tended areas. To Pat Downs, the "home beautiful" program is showing good results.

July contest winners, Joseph and Audrey Cuddington have surrounded their home with shrubs and colorful flowers. A rose trellis, wishing well and tiny windmill are decorative additions to the well-manicured lawn.

The Cuddington's son Gary and wife Carol, also park residents, took honors in the July contest as well. Again, care of their home was apparent from the nurturing of small trees to the additional wooded terrace area in the front of the home.

A redwood deck edged with tidy low shrubs continuing around their home won John and Pat Neuman honors in another section of the park. As the contest continues from month to month, it appears more residents may well take a greater interest in beautifying homes.

And that's exactly what the Downs are hoping for.

Police pinpoint city vandalism

Northville's downtown area north of Main, east of Center, and north to Base Line is the center of most reported vandalism in the city, a police department report shows.

Since January, a total of 27 cases of vandalism have occurred in this area, according to the report into the Northville City Council.

The next greatest area of concentration for vandalism appears in that area of the city lying south of Main Street and west of Center. Nineteen cases of vandalism occurred here this year through June.

Sixteen cases of vandalism occurred in the southeast section of the city, south of Main and east of Center.

In the police report, the city is divided into nine areas to facilitate easy identification of locations where vandalism is happening most frequently.

The least amount of vandalism in the first six months of the year occurred in Lexington Commons South where just one incident was reported. Thirteen cases occurred in Ammerman-Northville Heights area, and three others in Lexington Commons North (west of Taft).

Six cases occurred in the northeast section of the city (north of Base Line and east of Center, including Village Green), and 16 cases were reported in the area west of Center, between Main and Base Line.

Police reported that 33 cases of vandalism were under $50 in nature, 28 were of $50 to $100 damage variety, and 34 resulted in more than $100 damage.

Of the reported vandalism, the largest amount is happening on Fridays in evening hours, the report shows.

Other data compiled by police indicate that 11 drunk arrests involved persons under the age of 18, nine involved persons between the ages of 18 to 20, and 52 involved persons 21 years old and older.

Over the first six months of this year, most drunk arrests occurred in March (19), the least number of May (six). Of the total 72 cases for all six months, 10 others came in January, 12 in February, 17 in

Presidential debate sought by League

Calling for "equal time for issues," the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi announced this week that it is participating in a nationwide League drive to bring the two major Presidential candidates together in a series of face-to-face debates.

If the candidates agree to participate, it will mark the first time in 16 years that the nation will be offered Presidential debates, League publicity chairman Lesa Buckland said.

"The LWV wants to make it clear to the two major Presidential candidates that the public will not settle for the usual election time. The League wants solid answers, as to what the candidates stand for and how they intend to deal with the nation's problems if elected to the Presidency.

"A petition drive of this magnitude will clearly demonstrate to both major candidates that Presidential debates are a vital part of political accountability."

Each member of this country's 136,000 LWV members will be asked to obtain at least 30 signatures on a petition which states: "We, the people, urge the major party candidates for President to meet in public debate on the issues facing the country."

Once at least four million votes have been collected nationally, the League of Women Voters Education Fund will present the documents to the two candidates.

Each LWV member received a copy of the petition in the last national publication, Voter, and all of the petitions are to be collected by September 10.

Those interested in signing the petition may contact the following: Annalee Mathes in Northville, 349-7334; Maggie Bohn in Novi at 349-4355; Barb Suhay in Plymouth, 455-5723; or Barb Casteodale in Canton, 455-4274.

Antique car club forms in Northville

Area antique automobile enthusiasts received a big boost recently with the organization here of a club just for them.

Called the Northville Antique Automobile Club, the organization is made up of members from the areas of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Belleville, Livonia and Redford.

Closest other club of its kind is located in Brighton.

"Our club is not just limited to those who own antique cars," emphasizes Club President William McMillan. "Anyone who is interested in antique cars... in the historical significance of the automobile is encouraged to join."

Purposes of the club range from studying the history of American automobiles to discussing the problems and techniques in restoring these vehicles back to their original condition.

Meetings of the Northville club are held the third Wednesday of each month at 8:30 p.m. at the Scout Recreation Building located on Cady Street, immediately east of the Cady Street Cemetery.

Anyone interested in joining the organization or in obtaining additional information is invited to call McMillan at 349-7456 or the club secretary, Phil Fischer, at 455-6018.

April, and eight in June.

Most of the arrests (42) occurred in the area south of Main, east of Center — a result of activity at Northville Downs, according to police.

In his report to council, Police Captain Louie Westphal pointed out that in May "we began to experience an increasing amount of burglaries which continued to increase into the month of June at an alarming rate."

"The police department has been working on several suspects whom we suspect of being involved and have actually apprehended two of the suspects," he said. One of the suspects, a juvenile, "has been apprehended on two occasions for burglary and has been positively identified by fingerprints in a third burglary," he continued.

Captain Westphal said the juvenile was referred to the juvenile courts in each of the three cases but that in all three he was placed on probation and released.

On July 11, the department apprehended another local burglary suspect, an adult, at the time the crime was taking place. The defendant was released on a $5,000 surety bond signed by the father of the suspect, Westphal told council members.

"What can we do to eliminate this wrist-slapping by the courts?" asked Councilman Paul Folino.

Responded Councilman Paul Vernon: "Pull the right levers on the voting machine."

In addition to the burglaries, Westphal said larcenies in the month of June also increased "at an alarming rate." Most of these involved larceny from motor vehicles (11), he said. All 11 of these cases, he said, occurred on the same night, with four of them taking place at Foundry Flak and seven at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

The police department, he said, has apprehended a suspect in the Wagon Wheel cases and now are awaiting an analysis of fingerprints by the Michigan State Police crime laboratory.

Noncorrected truancy habits are processed through the county attendance department and/or probate court. See student conduct code.

ABSENCE PROCEDURES

Absences from school will be excused for the following reasons:

1. Personal illness or illness in the family.
2. Death in the family.
3. Court Appointments.
4. Religious Holidays.
5. Prearranged family vacations.
6. Medical appointments will be excused only if it is impossible for the student to get an appointment during out-of-school hours.

In the cases of 3, 4, 5, 6, the absence should be prearranged in the school office three days in advance and the teachers notified.

The following is attendance procedure in cases 1 and 2 above:

1. The parent or guardian is to notify the school by phone on the first or second day of the absence.
2. In case the parent does not call, the student receives an unexcused admission slip, but will be admitted to class. He may receive an "E" or a "zero" for the days missed unless the parent calls.
3. Homework missed can be made up.
4. At the end of the day the student will leave the slip with the last hour teacher who will return it to the office.
5. The principal will be responsible for notifying the home about unexcused absences.

TARDINESS

1. If a student is tardy to school during the first hour he goes directly to class. After first hour, he must report to the office.

2. The students who are tardy because a teacher has detained them, must secure a pass from the detaining teacher for the tardiness to be excused.

3. Once a teacher has warned a student about tardiness, they will keep the student after school whenever they feel it is necessary for them to do so.

MAKE UP WORK

It is the student's responsibility to make up his or her missed work. If it is necessary for a student to miss school, parents should contact the office in advance so arrangements can be made to have school work completed.

DROPPING SUBJECTS CHANGES OF SCHEDULE

Subjects may not be changed after the third week of school. After the third week students may receive an E from the teacher for dropping a course.

LUNCH PERIODS

Students will eat during one of four lunch periods this year. Students may purchase milk separately if they do not desire a hot lunch. All students eat in the food commons. The student's room location will designate when lunch is to be eaten. Teachers will also advise. A few guidelines for students during lunch periods:

1. No food trays, utensils, or cartons are to leave the food commons.

2. After eating, all cartons, dishes, trays, and silverware are to be returned to the proper area.

Classes are in session during the lunch periods. No students are to be in the parking lot area during lunch. Help us provide a good lunch period environment for all students.

BOOKS

A $10.00 Deposit fee is payable at the time of registration for all new students. Books will be issued the first week of school. Secure your books as soon as possible. Self protection is the best protection regarding lost books. Follow these simple procedures:

1. Identify your property well.
2. Do not leave books lying around. Keep them in your lockers.
3. Do not take books to the food commons. There is no provision for storage there.
4. Take care of books. Protective covers are suggested.
5. Refund of the deposit fee is based on condition of books and the return of all books, and is payable upon graduation or moving, or dropping out.
6. Grades will be held if all books are not returned.

LEAVING THE BUILDING ILLNESS OR EMERGENCY

Students are never to leave the building prior to the last bell unless they are on an approved training program or have a permit from the attendance office.

A student will not be sent home during school hours unless:

1. A parent or guardian is home.
2. A parent or guardian has been called.
3. An emergency number has been called.
4. Prior arrangements are made.
5. A call has been received from a parent.

HUNTING SEASON POLICY

Students may be excused for hunting if the following conditions are met prior to absence.

1. Students must currently be passing in all subjects and have satisfactory attendance record.
2. Maximum of two days excused for bird hunting and one week for deer hunting.
3. Written request from parents for the time off.
4. Pre-arranged absence permit signed by all teachers and turned into the asst. principal.
5. No current history of disciplinary action.
6. Students meeting these criteria are entitled to make up work for the maximum excused period.

FAILURES AND INCOMPLETES

The most common causes of failure are irregular attendance and neglect to fulfill required assignments. Few students fail if they produce that level of achievement of which they are capable. EFFORT and ATTENDANCE are your best measure of success. Incompletes are recorded as an E grade if the work is not made up in three weeks after the end of the marking period. Parents will be notified of all marking period and semester failure and incompletes.

TEACHERS AND LEGAL AUTHORITY

All teachers have full authority to initiate or exercise disciplinary action on any student infraction.

DRESS AND APPEARANCE

If Novi is to assume a leadership position among the better Class B schools in the state, its students must think, look and act the part. Novi High School is a community tax supported institution provided for your educational growth. It ranks among the best. We want our students to rank number one.

All students can and shall present a clean and neat appearance. This is nothing more than good grooming and evidence of maturity. A pleasing appearance denotes pride and satisfaction, with ones self growing selfconfidence and maturity.

Fundamental responsibility for standards of dress and grooming rest with the home. School clothing, as a minimum standard, should be clean, neat, and adequately cover the student.

When it is determined by the faculty or administration that dress or grooming interferes with the educational process or environment, student will be sent home pending a conference with parents. Parents will be called in all cases.

Mustaches, beards and hair should be clean cut, and properly groomed.

Dress or grooming creating a safety or health hazard will not be allowed.

Shoes must be worn at all times.

LIBRARY

The library will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The library is a place provided for your convenience for studying, or doing specific library assignments. With proper permission, you may be given a pass from study hall to the library when the use of library materials is involved in your assignment. This permission will be a library pass issued by the teacher who wishes you to use the library. Procedures regarding book checkout, renewal of books, use of current magazines, lost books and fines will be announced by the librarian. Group trips to the library may be arranged in advance by the teachers with the librarian.

SCHOOL INSURANCE

School insurance is provided by the school board to all students through the school year covering accidents occurring in school, to and from start of school. This insurance coverage includes all extracurricular activities, but does not include students driving their own vehicles to or from school, or at any other time while in their own vehicles.

ACCIDENTS AND INJURIES

1. First Aid supplies are kept in the First Aid Room located in the counseling center.

2. All accidents are to be reported to the principal immediately and the accident form completed on the same day and filed in the office by the teacher and student.

3. In case of serious accident the office will contact the parent.

4. Any accident involving school insurance should be reported and recorded the same day it happens. Forms should be completed by parents and school personnel promptly.

LOCKER

Lockers will be assigned through the office. No locker is to be changed without the approval of the office. Materials should be stored neatly in the locker to insure easy access. There should be no writing of any kind on a locker. Lockers will be inspected periodically by the librarian, and a list of books removed can be checked by contacting the librarian. If locker is not working properly, report this to the assistant principal's office.

TELEPHONE

A pay telephone is available for students near the school entrance. Students shall not be excused from class to place calls. Students may not use the phones in the office, as a general rule, due to continual school business in process. Necessary calls to parents can usually be made during lunch period.

HONOR ROLL

Honor roll is evaluated at the end of each marking period. Students must have a 3.0 average.

Grades of D or E in academic subjects will disqualify a student. The honor roll is determined on the basis of all credit bearing classes.

REPORT CARDS

These are issued four times a year, and are mailed shortly after the following dates:

1. November 5
3. April 1
2. January 21
4. June 14

DEFICIENCY NOTICES

These are used to inform parents and the student that the student is in imminent danger of failing a course. A conference should be arranged by the parent. Phone 349-5155

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

Many scholarships are available for advanced education for graduating seniors who have demonstrated outstanding leadership ability, high academic competence, and have special need for financial help. Application for scholarships to colleges, schools of nursing, business schools, etc., may be obtained through the Counseling Office.

Each candidate for a college scholarship is required to take the National Merit Scholarship Test in his Junior year of school. This test is administered in the high school for all students who wish to take it and pay the small test fee. Also given in the Junior year of school is the preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test.

Students interested in the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Exam must take the ACT prior to November of their senior year.

DRIVERS EDUCATION

Driver Education as prescribed the State Department of Public Instruction is offered to students who have attained the age of 15½ years. With the certificate issued on completion of this course, drivers licenses may be obtained at the age of 16. An official birth certificate is necessary when one obtains his license. Without such a driver education certificate, a license cannot be obtained until age 18. At Novi, the Driver Education program is operated during the summer months and in special sessions during fall and spring.

VISITORS

Visitation privileges for friends from other schools or communities are very limited. There is no admittance during school hours to individuals other than students enrolled at Novi High School, their parents, or those reporting directly to the office on official business. Visitors must obtain a pass from the assistant principal's office.

TRANSPORTATION

The Novi Community Schools operate busses over routes transporting students each day to and from school. The busses travel many miles each year to various destinations transporting students.

The safety of every student on these trips is of utmost importance. The bus policy will again be distributed to each student. Classroom conduct should be maintained on the busses at all times. Your cooperation with the bus driver is most important to safety. The bus driver is in complete charge. Smoking or eating is not permitted on the bus. Discipline cases may be deprived of bus transportation.

DELINQUENCY

A student involved in illegal activities or an act of vandalism will have the case disposed of by its individual aspects. It may be necessary to require financial restitutions, exclude pupils from all non-classroom activities, refer the pupil to probate court, or expel the pupil from school. Parental, administrative, and legal discussions will be held in all such cases, after informing the student of his rights and the charges. Vandalism is and narcotics can become a civil law matter.

DETENTION

School district policy indicates that reasonable detention at the close of school day is permissible as a means of discipline. All teachers have this authority and will notify parents by letter, or phone, concerning the days of detention.

CONFERENCES WITH TEACHERS

Students and/or parents are encouraged to consult with teachers pertaining to any phase of the learning process. Each teacher is assigned a conference period during the day and is available after school until 3:00 p.m. Parents should take advantage of this conference time to consult with their child's teachers. Please call the school for appointment arrangements. 349-5159

NOTICE OF SCHOOL CLOSING

In every case where school must be closed due to inclement weather, announcements to this effect will be carried by local radio and T.V. stations. PLEASE DO NOT CALL SCHOOL EMPLOYEES! The following stations will be asked to announce school closing: WWJ (Detroit) and WJR (Detroit) as soon after 6:00 a.m. as we are able to reach the stations.

HALL CONDUCT AND TRAFFIC

Undue hall traffic during instruction interferes with classroom teaching. No student is expected to be in the hall without a hall pass.

Hall passes allow a student to go only to the area designated and return. Their use is limited.

DROP-OUT

Students who have dropped from school or have been suspended and wish to be reinstated must make personal application to the principal with parents present.

HALLWAYS

A school can be judged by the appearance of its hallways. Containers are provided for paper and refuse. Help us provide a neat and attractive building for you.

FIRE DRILLS

Several fire drills are scheduled during the year for an average of one per month. Teachers and students will be alerted to the first drill in the fall and the procedures to be followed. Thereafter, the drills are conducted without advance notice. Special directions will be posted in each room. Read them and do as your teacher directs.

WORKING PERMITS

Application for a work permit for those students resident in the school district is issued at the high school office. Upon completion of the form by the student and the employer, the form should be returned to the high school office. Work permits are required from age 14-18 unless employed by parents. No student under 18 will be excused for employment purposes during school hours. The one exception to this will be Co-op and Skill Center students if the student meets requirements.

MOTOR VEHICLES AND BICYCLE REGULATIONS

As a general rule all students who can readily do so will use the school system-bus service. Because of the safety factors involved the administration reserves the right to grant specific permission to drive to school. Transportation of students to school in a student driven automobile is a privilege and not a right.

Motor vehicle permits, including motor cycles will be issued by the principal's office. Written permission of parent for operation of a motor vehicle is required. A designated area is reserved for students vehicle parking. No car or motor cycle is to leave the parking lot without specific permission of the school principal.

The bus system is readily available to all students. No student belongs in a car during the school day without specific authorization.

FIELD TRIPS

Field trips for any class or group must be planned in advance and approved by the administration.

A permission slip signed by the parent MUST be given to the sponsor and filed in the office before any student may accompany his group on a trip.

Extracurricular Field trips may have a bus fee charged along with the cost of the activity.

PASSES TO THE OFFICE

A student will not be given permission to come to the office during an instructional period—UNLESS:

1. He has an appointment slip from the office that has been issued earlier.
2. A request is sent from the office asking for the student.
3. An emergency arises and the teacher feels it is necessary to send the student to the office.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government is an organization devoted to constructive relationships regarding the student body and school. Your representative in the Student Government can be no better than the representatives you elect. The Student Government assumes a leadership role and is a student organization devoted to promoting fine school spirit and constructive relationships. Student Government meets daily during 4th hour in room no. 1. All students are invited to attend during their lunch hour.

Students who run for the office of representative to Student Government, if elected, must elect the class in their class schedule in the following year.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

All student organizations must deposit all funds with Mrs. Cook and pay all bills by checks written by the Board of Education office.

Treasurers book will be kept by the sponsor of each organization, and should be checked monthly. Requisition orders will be completed in the office by the sponsor. All bills must be paid within thirty days. The organization sponsor and treasurer will expedite this procedure with the office secretary.

PROCEDURES FOR ALL EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Class sponsors are in charge and directly responsible for all extra curricular activities. The following steps are to be followed for official approval of all extra curricular activities. This applies to all classes, clubs, and student activities.

1. Discuss request with sponsor first.
2. Obtain approval of sponsor, outline activity details and organize committees.
3. Obtain approval for building use and complete activity forms two weeks prior to activity.
3. Obtain approval.
4. Dance bands when employed by school groups must be contracted through the office. A contract is available to the sponsor for this purpose. No band will be employed without a signed contract by the band representative and the school official.
5. After organization of activity is completed and approved work closely with your sponsor.
6. The school building will not be available for use on Sundays.

OFFICERS

Every students organization, club, or class will have a teacher sponsor. Each class and student organization in school elect officers for the year. These officers conduct the business of the class meeting. No student may be president of more than one organization at one time. All must have attended Novi School the semester previous to election.

SCHEDULING EVENTS

Only approved events appearing on the school calendar may be scheduled by a class or sponsor of a club or activity. To schedule an event the groups must submit their request to Student Government for scheduling and then it is brought to the Assistant Principal or Principal for approval.

All fund raising activities conducted by student organizations must comply with district and building policies. Copies of these policies are available from either Student Government or the assistant principal.

PUBLICATIONS

The official newspaper of Novi High School is the Wildcats Roar which is published once a month.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Novi High School has chapter membership in the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. The purpose of the society is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character among pupils of Novi High School.

Membership in the chapter is based upon scholarship (a "B" average), leadership, service, and character. Students from the junior and senior classes are invited to apply.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors a high school student can receive.

ANNUAL YEARBOOK

RESPONSIBILITIES — SCHOOL — COMMUNITY

A variety of influences play upon students and help to shape their attitudes and determine their actions. Among those influences are the home and the attitudes it fosters, peer group relationships, the news media and what it selects to emphasize to its audience, society and the attitudes and feelings prevalent within, as well as the school and its program.

If a school is to perform the functions which the majority of our society expects of it, the school has the right to expect that a variety of persons and institutions will assume their responsibilities.

A. A student is expected to:

1. Attend school regularly, to arrive on time, and to devote his main energies to learning with his group.
2. Understand and observe the rules of the school.
3. Participate with the school staff in the development of school rules at his developmental level.
4. Recognize that there are channels through which rules or conditions can be questioned or studied and that proper channels should be used.

B. The parent is expected to:

1. See that his child attends school regularly and is punctual.
2. Establish and maintain communication with the school.
3. Be responsible for the child's health, personal cleanliness, acceptable grooming and suitable dress.
4. Assume responsibility in working with school personnel and community agencies in solving behavioral problems.
5. Develop and maintain in their children respect for lawful procedures and for other people, their rights and their property.

C. The teacher is expected to:

1. Provide a good atmosphere for learning and teaching.
2. Help the student realize that as an individual he is important and that, as a group member, he should act in a responsible way.
3. Seek conferences with parents and other school personnel in an effort to understand students who present behavioral problems.

4. Know and enforce consistent and fairly the rules and policies of the school. He will report to the administration instances of serious misbehavior.

5. Use procedures appropriate for age, background, and level of maturity in disciplining children.

6. Participate with staff in formulating rules which relate to his school.

7. Work with students so they understand the objectives of the course and what they are expected to learn.

D. The Principal is expected to:

1. Make known and interpret to students, parents and school staff the specific school discipline policies.

2. Formulate and implement plans for effective student involvement in the development of recommendations which may affect school policies and procedures.

3. Provide time at meetings for discussions of techniques of good discipline.

4. Appoint a representative committee of teachers to establish and review annually the school rules relating to behavior outside individual classrooms.

5. Provide teachers with relief of serious problems as soon as possible and to support all building personnel in maintaining appropriate and effective discipline.

6. Arrange and be available for conferences with members of the staff, pupils, parents and other on discipline matters.

7. Attempt to solve more severe discipline cases by the use of one or more of several procedures.

8. Survey innovative adaptive educational programs and make necessary proposals to the superintendent to help minimize discipline problems.

9. Inform teachers consistently of principal's disciplinary action.

NOVI STUDENT CONDUCT CODE

FOR SECONDARY SCHOOLS

The Board of Education of the Novi Community School District recognizes the following:

That the primary intent of society in establishing the public schools is to provide an opportunity for learning.

That the students have full rights of citizenship as delineated in the United States Constitution and its amendments.

That citizenship rights must not be abridged, obstructed, or in other ways altered except in accordance with due process of law.

That education is one of these citizenship rights.

That students have a responsibility to be accountable for their actions.

That the target group is youth who are still in the mainstream of society. We believe that we may reach those in this group who are uninformed or misinformed, and those who will accept guidance. We doubt if classroom instruction can reach the extreme deviants who need therapy.

We expect young high school adults to conduct themselves in a responsible manner. Sometimes this may not be the case with a few students. Disciplinary measures are indicated.

A Student-Conduct Code was studied by a committee of parents, teachers, students, and administrators in 1970-71. The committee recommended adoption of a Student Conduct Code by the Board of Education. The Student Conduct Code was adopted by the Board of Education on February 29, 1972.

Due process will be followed in all disciplinary cases. Following are code procedures for disciplinary action.

Administrators and teachers also have rights and duties. The teacher is required by law to maintain a suitable environment for learning and administrators have the responsibility for maintaining and facilitating the educational program.

The teacher has the authority to debar students from a class for just cause. The principal or his designee is authorized by statute to suspend students for just cause. The Board of Education has the authority to expel students from school for just cause. The following rules, regulations and due process procedures statement are designed to protect all members of the educational community in the exercise of their rights and duties.

It is evident that many conditions are reflected in the discipline of the student body. Teachers, custodians, bus drivers and administrators are assured that the Board of Education of Novi Community Schools will pledge their support to disciplinary actions taken, provided that they have acted responsibly, in the administration of discipline.

Nothing in this statement of student rights shall be held to limit the due process rights of educators or non-certificated school employees nor their use of the recognized or established District grievance procedure.

DEBARMENT, SUSPENSION, EXPULSION DEFINED

DEBARMENT: Removal of student from a particular class or classes, but not from the building.

SUSPENSION: Removal of a student from school by the principal or his designee.

EXPULSION: Removal of a student from school by action of the Board of Education.

DUE PROCESS

Procedural Rules and Regulations for the School Community.

The constitutional rights of individuals assure the protection of due process of law; therefore, this system of constitutionally and legally sound procedures is developed with regard to the administration of discipline in the schools of Michigan.

1. The hallmark of the exercise of disciplinary authority shall be reasonableness and fairness.

2. Every effort shall be made by administrators and faculty members to resolve problems through effective utilization of school district resources in cooperation with the student and his parent or guardian.

3. A student must be given an opportunity for a hearing with the appropriate school administrator. A hearing shall be held to allow the student and his parent or guardian to contest the facts which may lead or have led to disciplinary action, or to contest the appropriateness of the sanction imposed by a disciplinary authority, or if the student and his parent or guardian allege prejudice or unfairness.

PROCEDURES FOR DEBARMENT, SUSPENSION, AND EXPULSION

A. Procedure for debarment from class

Teachers shall observe the following procedure before classroom debarment:

1. The teacher shall hold a private conference with the student during the teacher's preparation period or at any other convenient time.

2. The teacher shall contact the parent by letter, telephone or personal conference.

3. If the above actions fail, the student shall be sent to the principal and a report filed indicating compliance with step A1 and 2 above.

In case of emergency situations as determined by the teacher's professional judgment, a student may be immediately debarred from the classroom and sent to the office. After the emergency situation has been brought under control, debarment and/or suspension procedures may be initiated.

B. Procedure for suspension from school in a conference with a school administrator of the charges brought against him including the rationale for the actions which may be taken against him. The parent may be notified if, in the professional judgment of the administrator, such notification is warranted.

1. A student shall be fully informed

2. The parent shall be notified by telephone, letter, or personal contact if the student is to be temporarily separated or suspended from school or retained after school. A written record of such contact shall be made in all cases of suspension.

3. The administrator will make every attempt to have a parent conference for suspensions requiring them. Parents and students have a right for a conference to be held at school during regular school hours.

4. Parents and students shall be notified of their right of appeal.

C. Procedure for expulsion

1. Written notice of charges against a student shall be supplied to the student and his parent or guardian and included within this notice shall be a statement of the time and place for the hearing, which time therefore shall be reasonable for the parties involved.

2. Parent or guardian shall be present at the hearing.

3. The student, parent or guardian may be represented by legal counsel.

4. The student shall be given an opportunity to give his version of the facts and their implications. He should be allowed to offer the testimony of other witnesses and other evidence.

5. The student shall be allowed to observe all evidence offered against him. In addition he shall be allowed to question any witness.

6. The hearing shall be conducted by the Board of Education who shall make its determination solely upon the evidence presented at the hearing.

7. A record shall be kept of the hearing.

8. The Board of Education shall state within a reasonable time after the hearing, its findings as to whether or not the student charged is guilty of the conduct charged and its decision as to expulsion.

9. The findings of the hearing authority shall be reduced to writing and sent to the student and his parent or guardian.

10. The student and his parent or guardian shall be made aware of their right to appeal the decision of the hearing authority to the appropriate appellate authority.

NOTE: Suspension per se does not automatically fail a student. Regardless of the length of the suspension, if the quality of the student's work for the time he is in school is such that his overall average for the marking period is passing, the suspension will not prohibit him from receiving credit.
