Board revives old township hall proposal

Threshing oats

Visitors Sunday to Maybury State Park's living farm were treated to a special demonstration of a once familiar harvesting technique with the threshing of oats. A 1936 Belle City separator, owned by V. J. Vincent of Green Oak, was used. Shocks of oats, grown on six acres of park property, were hauled in from the field by a team of horses. See story on Page 15-A.

Township board members, council meet

Is library grant jeopardized?

Four Northville Township boardmembers attended the city council meeting Monday night.

Supervisor Betty Lennox said the members wished to explain to the council the township's reasons for proposing a second bid for federal funds for a fire-police complex and to ascertain the council's feeling on what impact the bid might have on the joint city-township library request.

In attendance with the supervisor were Clerk Clarice Sass, Treasurer Charles Rosenberg and Trustee John Swienkowski.

While the session produced better understanding between the two bodies and eased some tensions created by the recent council declaration that it intends to look closely at joint city-township programs to determine if equity exists, it did not produce agreement on the question of whether or not the township fire-police complex proposal will jeopardize the bid for federal funds for a new library.

The possibility still looms that if the township decides at its September 8 meeting to file an application for federal funding of a township hall complex the city will apply for a library grant by itself. This was, in fact, the recommendation made by the city manager in written form to the council.

Clerk Sass and Trustee Swienkowski expressed the opinion that each bid for federal funds would stand on its own merit.

Mayor Pro Tem Paul Vernon (Mayor A. M. Allen was absent) and City Manager Steven Walters held to the opinion that a second bid by the township would be harmful to the city-township library bid.

Treasurer Rosenberg stated that the township's number one priority bid was the library. When asked by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie what the township response would be if asked by the federal government "which bid is your number one priority?", the treasurer said "I think I can confidently say the majority of the board would favor the library."

Clerk Sass noted that she had attended a seminar in Washington and that proponents of the public works bill were emphatic that each project would stand on its own. "I see no relationship between the two bids and don't agree that the library bid would be jeopardized." Trustee Swienkowski emphasized a viewpoint shared by his fellow boardmembers that the township bid for a fire-police

Curriculum chief hired

A curriculum coordinator was approved for hire by a 5-2 vote of the Northville Board of Education Monday night.

He is Michael W. Burley, 36, of Ypsilanti, presently with the Monroe school system.

Voting against the hiring were Trustees Marjorie Sliger and Christopher Johnson, who emphasized that they do not disagree with the selection but rather that they feel the money would be better spent in retention of two additional classroom teachers.

Priority of the board, they emphasized, should focus on instruction in an attempt to improve the pupil-teacher ratio.

Superintendent Raymond Spear, voicing the opinion of the remaining board members, noted that hiring of a curriculum coordinator had been recommended by the citizens advisory committee in formulating a "shopping list" of needs prior to the last successful millage election.

In regard to teachers, the superintendent pointed out that the district now has 201 teachers—two more than the 199 suggested by the citizens group.

When it was noted that the board earlier had authorized the search for a curriculum coordinator, whose responsibility will be for grades K-12, Mrs. Sliger reminded the board that she (and Johnson) were not yet then members and thus were not part of the authorization.

The new curriculum coordinator, who has five years of experience as a curriculum coordinator, has both BA and MA degrees.

In another split vote, the board decided to retain Ralls Hamill Becker Carne, Inc., architects, to develop recommendations relative to Main Street School and to determine the remaining lifetime of the annex building.

Voting against this measure were Mrs. Sliger, Johnson, and Treasurer Karen Wilkinson.

The negative votes represented a desire of these board members to consider other architectural firms for the project.

Ralls Hamill Becker Carne

is the architectural firm that designed two of the district's latest schools and that developed a previous study relative to the Main Street complex of buildings.

Mrs. Sliger took the position that another architectural opinion would be desirable, and Johnson pointed out that by employing a different architect for this relatively small job the board would be in a better position to compare architectural services in the event an architect is needed for a major future project here.

On the other hand, the four remaining members took the position that Ralls Hamill Becker Carne had performed well in the past for the district

Grant request considered in hastily called meeting

After voting to spend up to $500 to update plans for a police-fire department administrative facility at a special meeting last Thursday, Northville Township Board of Trustees set a second special meeting for 8 p.m. Wednesday, September 8.

At that time it will be decided whether to apply for a federal grant to build the complex and to set wording for the November ballot regarding the planned site for it.

Concern centered upon the gift of an 8.9-acre piece of property given the township by Thompson-Brown April 14, 1972, for a municipal complex.

By provision of the warranty deed, the land would revert to the development company next April if construction had not been started and grading requirements been approved by the firm.

When it became apparent that the township did not have funds to begin building early in June, the board voted to accept an offer from the firm to drop the reverter clause in return for 2.06 acres on the north side of Six Mile Road for a sales office.

A Six Mile Road easement and the remaining 6.84 acres then would be given the township with no requirements.

At the meeting the first week in June such a plan had the approval of Donald Morgan, township attorney.

Since then, it appeared he and some trustees had had second thoughts.

As a result last week's special meeting was requested in writing by trustees John Swienkowski and Richard Mitchell.

They said they decided upon the action by the first of the week after receiving further information on the Public Works Employment Act grants and an update of estimated costs of the original study which had cost the township $10,000.

The request was made in writing by them as both the supervisor and clerk were on vacation.

The updated estimate by Ralls Hamill Becker Carne, Incorporated, architects and planners, who did the original township drawings, was given as $662,800 with fee to assist in preparation of federal forms not to exceed $500.

Calling of the meeting and the proposal to seek federal funding did not meet with unanimous approval of all trustees, it was evident at the start of the meeting, as Treasurer Charles Rosenberg asked the attorney if the meeting were legal and was told it appeared so.

The final unanimous vote to update the plans, but not to file them without further board approval, came after a motion to update and file the plans was defeated by a 3-3 vote.

Swienkowski, Mitchell and Clerk Clarice Sass voted for it, John MacDonald, Supervisor Betty Lennox and Rosenberg, against Trustee James Nowka was absent.

The vote came after almost three hours of discussion between board members and members of an audience of about 30 persons.

Citizens split on township hall decision

Although last week's special meeting of Northville Township Board of Trustees was called with only two days' notice, it drew an audience of about 30 persons.

As the board considered appropriating up to $500 to update plans for a township hall, fire and police complex in order to apply for a federal grant, it was apparent that not everyone was in agreement on the proposal.

Dr. John Swienkowski, one of the two trustees calling the special session, agreed with Treasurer Charles Rosenberg that shared services with the city were important but stated he felt it was unrealistic to think the township was not going to grow and need buildings.

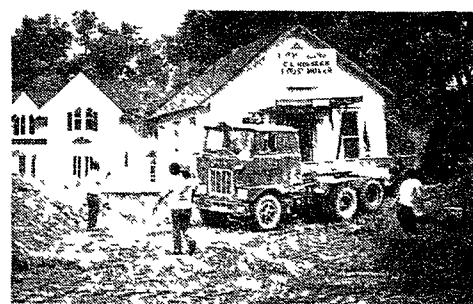

As some trustees expressed concern regarding city-township relations and status of the joint library request, Alfred Bott, Jr., a resident of Marilyn Street, and member of the audience, disagreed.

Pointing out that "we voted the city down," he stated "I really don't care what the city thinks. I think the voters have directed you and I don't see what this library baloney is all about. We have a chance for a million dollar building for $500."

Sidney Thomas, a Highland Lakes resident, pointed out that the board had voted two appropriations for drawings to submit for joint federal funding and said it felt it was unanimous in agreeing upon the need for it.

He expressed concern that applying for a grant for a township complex would jeopardize the library grant. Calling the library versus a fire station a "moot point," Constantine Carson, a Northville Commons resident, stated he felt the "real question was acquiring for TWO FAMILIES to provide a home for an exchange student from Mexico are being sought by the Northville Rotary Club. The girl, Aracely Lopez, will attend Northville High School this year. A Rotary committee composed of Paul Vernon, Ken Rathert and Mike Tarpinian reports that a home for the first three months has been arranged. They plan to have the teenager stay about three months with each of three families. They suggest that it would be desirable for the family to have a teenage daughter. Interested families should contact Vernon or Rathert.

WITH THE OPENING of school just around the corner, negotiations between the Northville Board of Education and the Northville Education Association are intensifying. According to Burton S. Knighton, director of personnel, the negotiating teams met again last Sunday evening and the following Monday afternoon. "There will be intensive negotiation sessions between now and the opening day of school (September 8) in a concerted effort to reach a contract agreement with the Northville Education Association," he said late Monday.

Trip east follows Allen-Hoffman wedding

Northville Mayor A. Malcolm Allen and his bride of last Saturday, Betty Jean Hoffman, now are on a wedding trip to Toronto, Canada, and the New England states.

They were married before members of their immediate families in a 10 a.m. ceremony at First Presbyterian Church of Northville where both are members.

The altar was decorated with a pink and white floral arrangement as the Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the double-ring service.

The former Mrs. Hoffman is the daughter of Dr. L. W. Snow of 502 West Main Street, Northville, and Florida, where he now is spending the summer. The Allens plan to visit him there next winter.

Mayor Allen's mother, Mrs. Azie Allen, lives in Durand, Michigan.

For the ceremony and luncheon reception following at Win Schuler's in West Bloomfield, the bride chose an original design dress by Nipon of whisper pink crepe fashioned with a diagonally pleated skirt and matching scarf lined in white that tied at the neckline.

She carried a Bible from Mayor Allen's family marked with satin streamers. Tied into the ribbons were sprigs of Stephanotis.

Mrs. Hugh F. Rhorer came from Lexington, Kentucky, to be her mother's attendant. She wore a blue and white dress.

Mrs. Rhorer, the former Patricia Hoffman, is speech pathologist in the Lexington public schools. Her husband is working toward his master's degree in economics at the University of Kentucky.

James Allen was his father's best man.

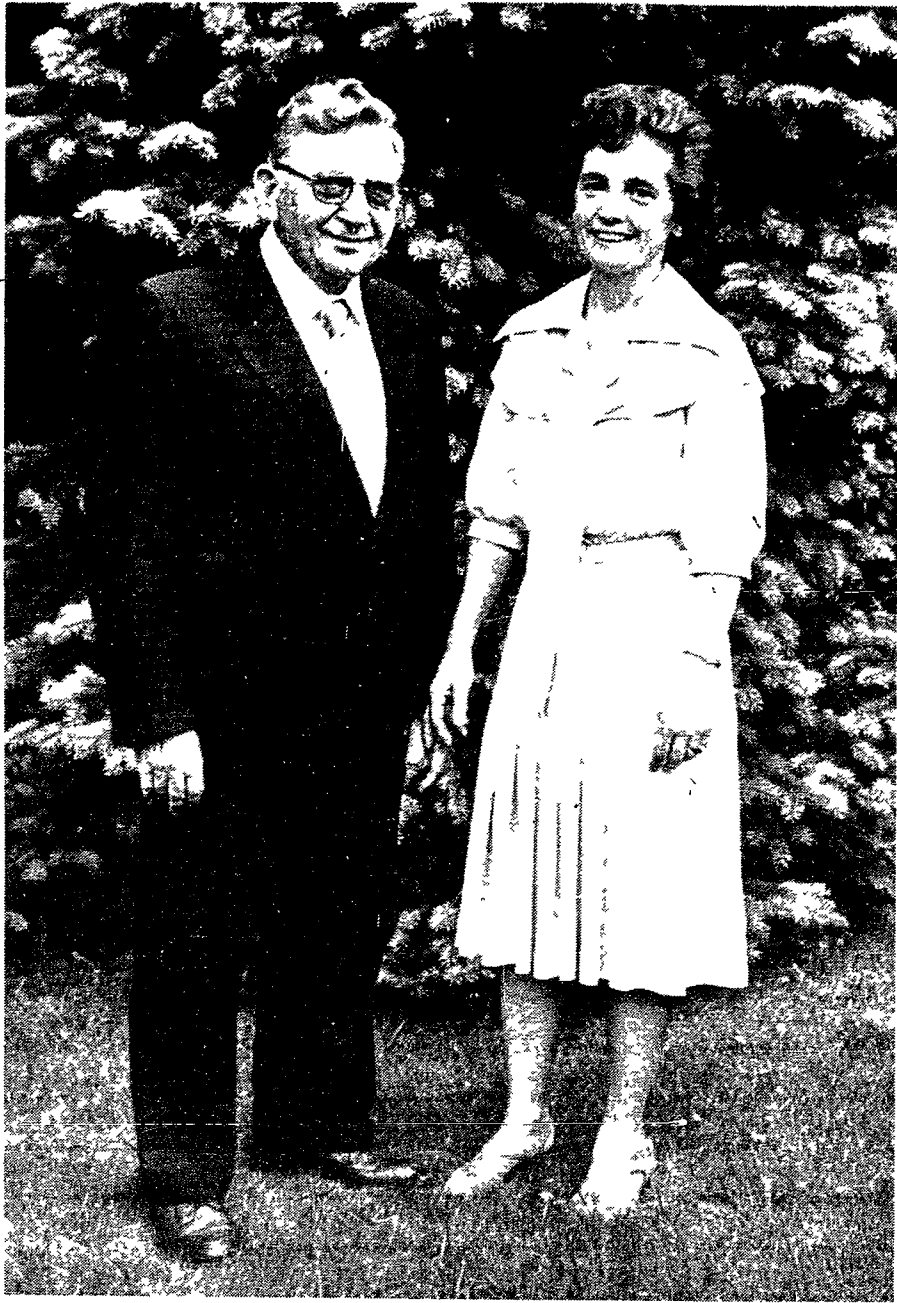

Both the mayor and his bride are long-time Northville residents.

He has served as the city's mayor for 18 years and has been active in city government for 29 years.

He has been self-employed for 40 years with Allen Monument Works. A Mason and Rotarian, he is past president of Monument Builders of Michigan and was a member of Wayne County Board of Supervisors. He is a graduate of Northern High School in Flint where his firm has offices.

Mrs. Allen is a graduate of Northville High School and Alma College. She is a member of Northville Woman's Club and a past president of Northville Mothers' Club. She presently is serving as vice president of the Northville Republican Club and is a GOP precinct delegate.

Upon their return they will live in Northville.

In Our Town Former residents among visitors here

By JEAN DAY

LATE SUMMER entertaining has focused upon visitors to our town who have included relatives and former residents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wiley, former residents of Eight Mile Road, arrived last Sunday from their home in Conshohocken, Pennsylvania, a suburb of Philadelphia, to visit the A. L. Wisterts.

The couples get together almost every Labor Day weekend for a fishing vacation and reunion at the Wistert cottage on the Bruce Peninsula in Canada. It's located at Houdenville on Lake Huron.

Beverly Wistert returned last week from the cottage where she had been vacationing with her mother after spending the summer coordinating a college intern program in Washington, D.C. She will be a senior this fall at University of Michigan where she is majoring in political science.

PETER AND JAN Lindholm, former Northville residents, have returned to their home at Jamestown, New York, after visiting the Martin Rineharts. The Rineharts hosted a cocktail party August 21 for old friends of the couple, who moved east about 16 months ago.

They were accompanied here by daughters Martha and Cindy. Cindy, 14, returned later by plane Monday, having stayed on for a longer visit with Holly Rinehart.

LIEUTENANT Colonel and Mrs. Peter Heraper and their son and daughter, David and Linda, have been visiting the David L. Longridges. Mrs. Heraper is Mrs. Longridge's sister. The family has just returned from Wiesbaden, Germany, where Lieutenant Colonel Heraper, a surgeon, has been stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

The Herapers and daughter Linda will be leaving this week for the west coast where he is being reassigned to Spokane, Washington. Their son will be returning to Kalamazoo College for his sophomore year. Since returning from Germany the family has visited Mrs. Heraper's parents in Florida and sister in Marshall.

THE BRENT WASIK family of Springfield Drive is back from an overseas vacation to England.

The Wasiks and their three children, Donna, Annette and Brent, Jr., spent three weeks visiting Mrs. Wasik's relatives in Sheffield and London. Mary Wasik stayed on for three additional weeks' reunion with her brothers and sisters.

OTHER SCHOOL children who will have foreign vacations to relate as school resumes next week include Christopher, Laurie and Tricia Campbell who accompanied their parents, the Donald A. Campbells of Sutters Lane, Mexico City earlier in the summer.

They were travelers with the Paul Folinos to an insurance company convention. The Folinos were accompanied by their daughters, Theresa and Paula. The two families drove in the Folino motor home to Chicago, flying to Mexico City from there. From that base they made sightseeing side trips, including one to the pyramids.

Visitors at the H. O. Evans home on Woodhill for the past two weeks have been Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs. Milton Kerr, and her husband, the Reverend Kerr, of St. Petersburg, Florida.

THE BUFFET luncheon given last Thursday by Ronald Angove for about 14 of his mother's friends has to be one of the most special of the summer. His mother, Mrs. William B. Firman, Jr., was home for the event from Whitehall Convalescent Home on West 10 Mile Road where she is recuperating.

She is at the Firman home on Westridge on weekends when members of the family can be on hand, but visitors may drop by at any time at Whitehall, Lou Firman's family reports.

Sharing a Whitehall room with Mrs. Firman is another Northville resident, Mrs. Bea Letchfield, a former nurse of Dr. R. M. Atchison.

Miss Elizabeth Etz also is recuperating. She returned to her home on Rogers Street Friday after having eye surgery.

A REHEARSAL dinner for Nancy Jeanne Ambler, who became Mrs. James Worthley last Saturday, was hosted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton H. Worthley of Alpena, last Friday at Hillside Inn.

Earlier Nancy had been the honoree at two bridal showers.

The first was a miscellaneous one given by her mother's friends July 31 at the home of Mrs. H. O. Evans. Co-hostesses were Mrs. William Sliger and Mrs. Alfred Parmenter. Nancy is the daughter of the Richard Amblers of Timberlane.

She was entertained by school friends at a miscellaneous shower August 22 at the home of Krista (Pink) Murtha. Co-hostess was Mrs. Raymond (Gwen Spiker) Ascher.

The auxiliary is anxious that returning students know applications for up to 50 registrants will be available at the middle schools. There is a $1 registration fee to cover materials. Guest speakers will include police and fire department officers and a nurse. Certificates will be presented to those who successfully complete the series.

FOUR AREA artisans are among those who will be participating in the 1976 crafts show at the Plymouth Fall Festival at the Plymouth Central Middle School on Church Street September 11 and 12. The show is sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

Northville artists include Mary Beth Baxter who paints distinctive Early American and floral designs on tin and wooden ware; June Moon of the Moonkins wooden toys and dollhouses; Jane Walker who does watercolor and colored pencil drawings; and Carolyn Dunphy, watercolorist who has a studio on Center Street in downtown Northville.

Sponsors point out that this is the sixth year for the show with artists participating on an invitational basis, having submitted their work to be juried. More than 8,000 attended last year's show.

Hours this year are from noon to 9 p.m. Saturday, September 11, and from noon to 7 p.m. the following day. Admission is $1 for adults with students under 16 free with an adult and senior citizens 50 cents.

MRS. ROBERT MARTIN

MRS. DENNIS RAYMOND ANCHORS

Tuckfield-Martin Dennis Anchors vows recited weds Lowell girl

Susan Tuckfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tuckfield of 526 Morgan Circle, Northville, became the bride of Robert Martin in a 4 p.m. ceremony August 14 at First United Methodist Church of Farmington.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Martin of Walled Lake.

The Reverend John N. Howell officiated at the double ring service, which included a symbolic candlelighting ceremony.

Yellow bows decorated pews as the bride walked down the aisle on a yellow runner to the flower-decorated altar lighted by two candelabra.

She wore a scoop neck, short-sleeved dress with daisy appliques decorating the bodice and sleeves and wore a yellow rose with baby's breath on a yellow neck-ribbon. Yellow roses and baby's breath formed her bouquet.

Instead of an honor maid, the bride chose two close friends, Patricia Strack and Mrs. Robert Hakim, to be bridesmaids. Her cousin, Meg Potter was junior bridesmaid. They wore yellow chiffon gowns and carried bouquets of mixed garden flowers.

The bride's seven-year-old sister, Lisa, was flower girl, carrying a basket of flowers.

The bridegroom's brother, William Martin, was best man. His son (the bridegroom's nephew) was ring bearer. Ushers were Robert Hakim and Scott Tuckfield. They wore yellow tuxedos while the bridegroom was in white.

A reception for 150 guests, including the bride's grandparents from Florida, followed at Meadowbrook Country Club.

After a trip to Bermuda the newlyweds are living in Plymouth. The bride is a junior at University of Michigan where she plans to continue her studies.

Her husband, a 1976 graduate of Lawrence Institute of Technology with a major in mechanical engineering, is employed at Federal Broach, Incorporated.

One wedding resulted in another when Dennis Raymond Anchors claimed Debra Jean Rickert as his bride in a 7:30 p.m. ceremony last Friday, August 27, in East Grand Rapids.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayntond Anchors of 23950 Meadowbrook Road, Novi, had met his future bride at her cousin's wedding.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darle Rickert of Lowell, Michigan.

They exchanged vows they had written themselves before the Reverend Edward Brigham in a double-ring ceremony at Eastminster Presbyterian Church. John Piper was soloist. Paul Balgum played the organ.

Give in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white polyester taffeta with a square neckline and full sleeves gathered into cuffs edged in lace. It extended into a chapel train. Lace was repeated in double front panels down the front and scallops of lace embroidered with seed pearls edged her triple, floor-length veil.

Darcie Rickert, flower girl, and Doreen Rickert, junior bridesmaid, were in red-and-white check gowns.

Tom Bingham was best man with Ron Bennett, Howard Ambinder, R. Scott Kennedy, Jeff Rickert, Jay Rickert and Leo Forster serving as ushers. Greg Kennedy was ring bearer.

A buffet reception and dance followed for about 300 guests at Deer Run Golf Club in Lowell for which the White Feather band played.

After a Caribbean cruise the couple will live in Lowell.

The new Mrs. Anchors attended Western Michigan University and has been a volunteer youth contact center counselor and a rape crisis team member.

Her husband, a graduate of Michigan State University, is a member of Western Michigan Housewares Association and is employed in Anchors Sales. He has been active in Boy Scouting in Lowell.

MR. AND MRS. JEFFREY ROBERT LIGHTFOOT

Lightfoot-Leavenworth rites read

After a wedding trip to Quebec, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia, Canada, and the eastern United States, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Robert Lightfoot are making their home in Northville.

A teacher at Amerman school, he exchanged vows and rings with Deborah Ann Leavenworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leavenworth of Plymouth, in a 1 p.m. ceremony July 10 at First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lightfoot of Thompsonville, Michigan. The Reverend Philip Rodgers Magee and Dr. Henry J. Walsh officiated at the service.

The bride's Empire-fashioned gown of voile had long, gathered sleeves and was adorned with lace inserts.

Her shoulder veil of illusion was held with a floral headpiece of daisies, baby's breath and miniature carnations matching the flowers in her nosegay.

Nanette Muzzy of Charleston, South Carolina, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Leavenworth, sister of the bride, and Mrs. LuAnne Nelson, a college friend.

They wore long, light green dotted swiss gowns in Empire style and carried white wicker baskets of flowers.

Amanda Lightfoot was flower girl and Anderson Lightfoot was ring bearer. They are the niece and nephew of the bridegroom. Ronald VanHorn of Northville was best man. Donald, John and Barry Lightfoot and Gary Leavenworth ushered.

A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents for 200 guests.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Plymouth High School and Central Michigan University in 1973 in special education. She taught in Quincy, Michigan, prior to her marriage and now is employed with AAA of Michigan.

Her husband received his BS degree from Michigan State University and his MA from Eastern Michigan University. They are living at 349 First Street in Northville.

Girl Scouts seek helpers

Plymouth and Northville retirees with personnel or sales experience, and adults who enjoy working with other adults are currently being recruited by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council to supervise the growing Girl Scouting program in this area.

Positions as volunteer supervisors, called troop services directors, are open at three Northville and six Plymouth elementary schools, according to Council field director Mrs. Barbara Radabaugh.

AAUW branch begins year

The start of the 1976-77 season for Northville's Branch of the American Association of University Women is just around the corner and the group is welcoming interested women to join.

Chartered last September, Northville's Branch is open to all women in the Northville- Novi area who hold degrees from accredited four-year colleges and universities.

Anyone interested in learning more about AAUW or in joining the group is asked to call Karel Whitaker, president, at 349-5714.

AAUW is concerned with study and action of four timely topics each year. The group also works to mobilize volunteer woman power for community service, secure equal opportunities for women in education, industry, government and the professions.

The Northville Branch meets the second Tuesday of each month at Northville High School's cafeteria. Meetings begin at 7:30 p.m.

Food cooperative enrolls

Northville Food Cooperative, sponsored by the Northville branch of the American Association of University Women, will begin its second year of operation in October, instead of September.

Sponsors stress that the cooperative is open to anyone and that membership in the AAUW is not a requirement. It is only necessary, they point out, to be willing to participate in the various jobs involved in running the operation.

It will meet once a month in October, November and December when only special orders will be taken. These will be for such items as eggs, cheese and honey which are obtained from local sources.

Because of the large volume buying, sponsors explain, prices usually are lower through the cooperative.

In January, February and March there will be two meetings a month with fruits and vegetables available to purchase.

Anyone who wishes to renew membership or join for the first time is asked to call Janet Beaber, 348-2332, or Jane Rodgers, 476-1708.

Ordinance offenders — beware!
Novi does have an ordinance enforcement team — and the two young ladies mean business.
Since the activation of the department four months ago, residents have steadily been learning that the city is taking a firm stand in "trying to get the city cleaner and better looking," according to Janet Christensen, ordinance enforcement officer along with Marilyn Kreger.
Interestingly, the ordinance enforcement bureau came into effect because of the abandonment of the Community Service Bureau after three years. Loss of federal funding for that bureau put a financial hardship on the city that caused it to try and better utilize its manpower from the CSO bureau as ordinance enforcement officers.
At the time, it was noted that it would be an easy jump because some enforcement of ordinances which the CSO's were required to perform, such as the junk car ordinance. Two of the three CSO officers elected to go into the building department. A third member declined and opted to be laid off.

The change in jobs was anything but easy. Yet both Mrs. Kreger and Mrs. Christensen say they are happy in their current positions.
"I had grown to my maximum potential there (as a CSO)," recalls Mrs. Christensen who had been a CSO for 15 months. "By switching I was able to get more experience in law enforcement."
Mrs. Kreger had her heart set on eventually becoming a traffic officer.
"The CSO concept is a beautiful training ground for an officer. Eventually you learn all you can in that capacity. Nobody should be in that job more than two years because eventually it becomes frustrating."
But the switch meant learning by heart city ordinances that in total measure several inches thick. And both admit that they're still working on that. "It's not like the police department where the ordinances are pretty short," says Mrs. Christensen.

Though some people might consider ordinance enforcement to be a man's job, both ordinance enforcement officers agree that being women has helped them accomplish their mission.
"It's a tremendous advantage," says Mrs. Kreger. "When you go up to someone who has dumped two loads of topsoil and explain to him that he can't bring anymore in and that he can't spread what he has (without a permit), he's not half as likely to get mad as a woman."
"They act less hostile to a woman," adds Mrs. Christensen. "I had one man who said that if I was a man he'd punch me in the nose. But he complied."
Though both are cracking down on ordinance violators, they also admit there are some ordinances that do not seem entirely fair at times and so it takes special consideration to make a determination on whether enforcement should be taken.

"People have lived in the community many years and have the community at heart. Suddenly we become a city and because of new zoning regulations they can't continue on," explains Mrs. Kreger. "I'm not going to harass those people. We have what we call grandfathering in."
Mrs. Christensen points out that the sign ordinance, somewhat ambiguous at times, also creates problems.
"He (the businessman) needs something so that people can see his business. At the same time I can see citizens not wanting to look at signs all the way up and down Grand River," says Mrs. Christensen. She points out that every effort is made to enforce the ordinance the same with all people and that when a dispute comes up, it can be taken to the board of appeals.

$14,000 regional fire study decision due

Historical graves hit by vandals

The Wixom Cemetery was vandalized Sunday night with unknown assailants toppling gravestones, smashing carved animals and even carting away one grave marker.
In all, Wixom Police counted 27 acts of malicious destruction of property—some worse than others. A large number of flags marking gravesites were so badly damaged they were ordered burned.
A crew from the Department of Public Works moved into the cemetery shortly after the damage was discovered to begin clean-up operations. DPW Administrator Robert Trombley said some of the markers were simply knocked over while others would require extensive repair work.

Damage was confined to the center section of the cemetery. Some of the gravestones there date back to the mid-1800's. Weathered with age and of the thin tablet design of that era, those markers were easy prey to the vandals.
Small carved lambs and birds atop stones marking the graves of small children were removed and smashed beyond repair. A Virgin Mary statue stood headless.
A bulky, more recent marker was removed from its site and dumped on West Maple Road some 300 feet from its grave.
Most severely damaged was the marker at the grave of Reverend Samuel Wire. The marker, placed in 1870 was broken into three pieces when it was toppled. Wire played a part in the history of the Wixom Baptist Church and it was he who apparently built the Tiffin house.
A marker belonging to Maria Johnson, illegible except for her name, will also require extensive repair work.

Summing up the feelings of many people when they heard of the vandalism was life-long resident Hilda Furman. "It's so senseless—so unnecessary. They must be sick, sad people."

Toppled tombstones

A tombstone dating back to 1875 is carefully returned to its site by Wixom Police Officer Roger DeClercq after vandals created havoc in one of the older sections of the cemetery Sunday night. According to DeClercq, 27 cases of malicious destruction of property occurred resulting in several broken markers, smashed statues and the removal from the cemetery of one tombstone. It was recovered from West Maple Road some 300 feet from the cemetery.

Novi and Wixom councils will soon be faced with a decision whether to go any further in studying a regional fire department concept that could ultimately call for a drastic reorganization of firefighting as it exists today.
In a meeting of managers Monday morning from seven local communities, cost estimates were presented for a regional fire department study to be conducted, if approval is given, by the Public Administration Service, an administrative consulting firm from Chicago.
According to Novi City Manager Edward Kriewall, total cost of the study would be $14,000 of which Novi would be expected to fund about $1,500. Wixom would pay approximately $200. Both councils will have to approve or deny the request for study funds by an October 1 deadline.

According to Kriewall, funding of the study would be on a 50-50 state equalized valuation, population basis. Farmington Hills, original community to suggest the regional fire concept, would pay $4,000, the highest cost of any community.
"The study will encompass various plans for reorganizing from improved mutual aid to full regional fire department," said Kriewall. It is expected to take six months to complete.

All of the communities in a four-township area including Novi, Farmington, Commerce and West Bloomfield would be expected to fund the study. "We're reviewing the fine points of the proposal including the cost sharing and hope to take it to our boards and councils in a few weeks," said the Novi manager.

According to Kriewall, Novi's administration will recommend paying the funds for the study.
"It will be well spent," added Kriewall. "It involves an awful lot of research. You're dealing with many communities and they all operate differently. To piece it all together will be quite a task."

Farmington Hills originally suggested the regional fire department possibility a few months ago when it became concerned about consideration by Novi of building a fire station in the southeast portion of the city, an area close to a fire station in the Farmington Industrial Park off Grand River.

Meetings of fire chiefs and managers followed until communities within what were the original townships of Commerce, Farmington, West Bloomfield and Novi were involved. They then asked the Public Administration Service to come up with a cost estimate for a study to determine the feasibility of regional fire service, ranging from improved mutual aid to an actual regional fire system. Conjecture is that if a regional fire department should emerge, it could be five years down the road and that a small millage throughout the regional area would support manned stations throughout the area.

However, something less than a full regional system could emerge.
Another aspect to enter Monday's discussion is Emergency Medical Service (EMS), a system of quick medical attention by trained paramedics.
According to Kriewall, Novi's fire department has been investigating the possibility of EMS and

Novi El', sports study Thursday

Future uses of the old Novi Elementary, interscholastic vs. intramural sports, and funding of field trips are the main subjects planned for discussion at a Novi School Board study session Thursday at 6 p.m.
While originally the meeting was to begin at 7:30 p.m. for discussion of athletics and extracurricular subjects only, board last week decided also to explore the route the district will take in selling, leasing, or otherwise utilizing the now vacant Novi

Elementary on Novi Road. Up to this point the district has had no firm offers to purchase Novi Elementary, but according to Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kriatz, there have been inquiries from three organizations about leasing the structure. One was a convalescent home, another Detroit Bible College and the third the Wayne County Intermediate School District which wanted a place for special ed students. Both the Report by police 'eye-opener'

What was termed by council members as a comprehensive "eye-opening" report from the crime prevention unit of the Wixom Police Department was submitted to council last Tuesday night.

The report came after a question was raised at a previous meeting by Councilman Melvin Green. He voiced his concern over the increased crime rate in the city despite the existence of the unit.

Without exception, the report was viewed favorably by officials although Councilwoman Lilian Spencer took exception to a closing remark contained in the report.

Written by Officer Richard Zugler, coordinator of the unit, he closed the report with the statement, "So let us not be misguided into thinking our crime prevention unit is able to or was even intended to reduce our crime rate at all."
Spencer said she liked the report until the last sentence which led her to inquire rhetorically why the unit

Out with the old and in with the new.

That's what Novi Library Board members are anticipating as they announced after Monday's board meeting that the old library building will close for the final time Friday, September 10 at 5 p.m.

The new library, located on 10 Mile at Taft Road, is tentatively scheduled to open for business Monday, September 27. A ribbon-cutting ceremony and open house are scheduled for the following Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

According to trustee Helen McAskin, big trucks are needed to move library shelves and anyone willing to donate the use of a truck should contact Paul Black at 348-2073.

Helping in the move from the old library will be the Novi Friends of the Library, the Novi Jaycees and the Novi DPW. In addition to the books at the old library, approximately 100 cases of stored books will also be moved to the new library.

Because furniture for the new library is not set to arrive until January, Mrs. McAskin said that the Wayne-Oakland Federated Library System has agreed to loan the library shelves, chairs and a table which will be added to what furniture the library board was using in the old building. There will be no furniture for children until January.

"The citizens of the community can help by circulating eight books, taking them out from the old library and returning them to the new library after it opens," said Mrs. McAskin. "If each person in Novi does that, we won't have to move any books."

The new library will be able to offer expanded services to its patrons: study areas for students, sitting areas for leisure reading, space for children's workshops, reading programs and movies, and space to build a collection of books, periodicals and audio-visual materials for the growing population of the city."

Police, school ask detour cooperation

Due to extremely bad dust conditions along the construction area of Taft Road from Grand River to 10 Mile, Novi Police and school officials are requesting that motorists use alternate routes as much as possible.

"You can go through at 15 miles per hour and throw up a lot of dust," commented traffic bureau head Frank Barabas. Numerous complaints have been received.

The city administration has noted that the contractor is watering down the road at night but that does not seem to be solving the problem.

While the road is officially closed to all but local traffic, Barabas noted that tickets will be given in the future for "disregarding a traffic control device" to people using it as a through street.

Assistant Novi Schools Superintendent Dr. William Barr asked that people going to the schools come in preferably from 11 Mile Road and into the high school parking lot. The administration building, high school, middle school and Novi Woods Elementary are all accessible from the high school parking lot.

He asked that drivers refrain from coming down Taft Road from 10 Mile.

According to Barabas, Beech Road and 11 Mile can be used as a detour.

September home tour features tudor design of builder

By JEAN DAY

As might be expected of a builder like Northville's

Frank "Tony" Bauss, his own spacious English Tudor home in Edenderry is impressive and dramatic, both in design and furnishings. Tour visitors on the 10th annual Northville Home Tour September 30 will find highlights include a balconied, two-story living room, a sauna, a separate apartment for visiting relatives and a wine cellar whose door is the safe from an estate.

Because she and her husband both enjoy antiques, especially at estate sales, Mrs. Bauss explains, their home is an eclectic blend with antiques complementing contemporary furnishings and sculpture.

When they open their home to benefit the women's association of First Presbyterian Church and Northville Historical Society, the couple will be doing so for the second time...only this is a different home from the one open on the 1970 tour on West Main Street.

Visitors will approach the new home by wide Canadian flagstone steps. Typical Tudor detailing is evident in the half-timbered, stucco second story and the shake roof as well as in the herringbone-pattern brick at the entrance and the diamond-paned windows.

Inside Mrs. Bauss has continued the grayed green color throughout. Coarse-woven, neutral fabrics are used for the davenport and draperies in the library off the entry. A metal sculpture in the room, Mrs. Bauss points out, is the work of her brother-in-law. She uses plant groups here and on the stair landing.

A floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace wall dominates one end of the two-story living room.

On the opposite end is a second-floor balcony hallway to bedrooms.

The wood-beamed high ceilings make possible a wall arrangement of decorated front organ pipes purchased when the old Methodist church became the Drawbridge restaurant.

The pipes and a framed sheet of Gregorian chant music form a grouping by the grand piano Mrs. Bauss recalls buying the monk's music years ago in New York.

In the room are seven clocks collected by the couple. Others are on shelves and walls through the home. Mrs. Bauss also likes oriental rugs and has used one on the wood floor in the kitchen-dining area.

In the kitchen, dark wood contrasts with mustard-print wallpaper. "I like a compact, convenient kitchen," says the homeowner.

Also on the first floor is a year-round Florida room furnished with green rattan furniture. The ceiling is natural cedar. Most of the pictures in the wall arrangement here are nautical views. The room looks out on an open patio.

A laundry and first-floor office are on main level with another "work shop" area for the builder located in the basement. There also are three-year-old son Erik's playroom, the sauna and wine cellar.

The safe door for the wine cellar came from a sale at the Alfred Glancy estate, Mrs. Bauss reveals, adding that she "seldom locks it" as she's usually in a hurry when she runs down for another bottle of wine for guests.

Now occupying a self-contained apartment at one end of the second floor (reached by its own stairway) are Mrs. Bauss' parents who are visiting from Florida. It has its own kitchen-living area and will be open on the tour.

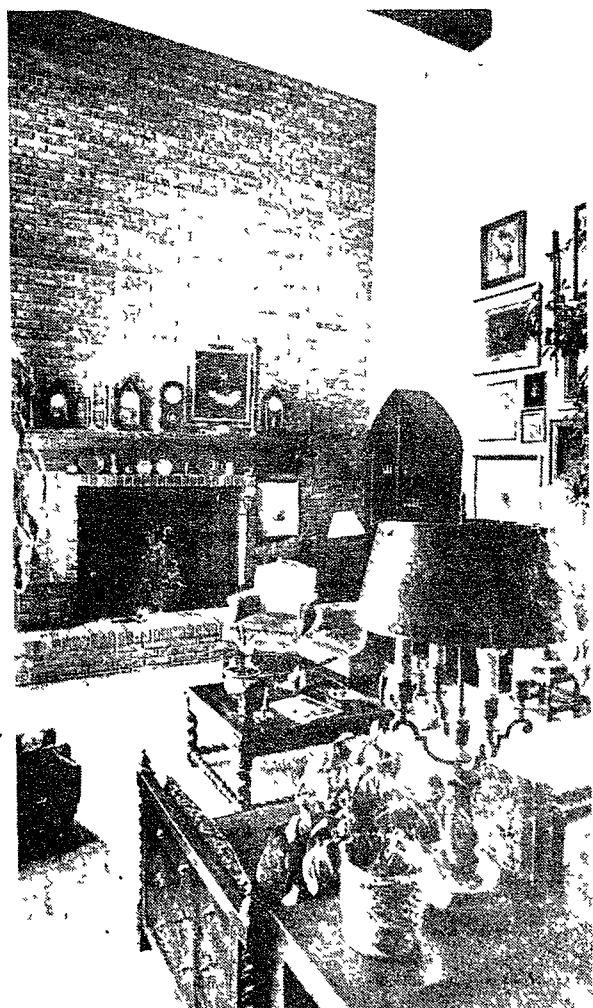

Visitors should look upward as they enter to notice the alcove bunks on a deck for young guests. They are reached by ship ladders.

Off the main stairway on the second floor are a nursery that Erik has vacated for the former guest room. The guest room now is a third floor area reached by a circular staircase.

The master bedroom, located off the balcony hall, features a king-sized bed. Nine old botanical prints form a grouping by the bedside with four others arranged over a dresser in the room.

Northville's Greene wins art awards

Many artists compete years before finally winning awards in competition.

But a 16-year-old Northville sophomore, Nathan Greene, has captured a series of coveted awards in his very first year of competition.

Latest achievement of Nathan was the first-place award in the prestigious Wildlife Art Contest sponsored annually by the Cranbrook Institute of Science at Bloomfield Hills.

His Blue-ribbon watercolor of a barn owl is the featured painting in the current issue of the Michigan Natural Resources magazine.

A total of 271 young artists throughout Michigan entered in this second annual Cranbrook contest for high schoolers. For his achievement, Nathan was awarded the first-prize of $100, sharing cash prizes with 39 other winners.

Top prize was the $100, while $75 went to the second prize winner, $50 to the third place winner, and $10 honorable mention prizes to 36 others.

Earlier, Nathan won a gold key and two certificates for his works entered in the Scholastic Art Work Contest, and in the Michigan Youth Art Festival his painting was judged among the top 18 outstanding entries in Michigan.

The gold key winner, a caricature of Washington crossing the Delaware and being attacked by sharks, also was the honored entry in the Michigan Youth Art Festival. The other winners by the Northville youth was a painting of Thomas Edison and a caricature of General Custer.

Although this was Nathan's first year of competition, he has been painting since he was a young elementary student. He took private art lessons when he was a second and third grader.

"My favorites are wildlife and caricatures," says the Northville sophomore art student. He works in all kinds of media, but enjoys watercolors best.

Creating paintings such as the barn owl are not "overnight" projects. Nathan estimates he spent 300 hours over two months in painting the Cranbrook winner. He was inspired to do the barn owl after seeing a photograph in a bird book.

Originally, he had begun with a horned owl watercolor. But after spending "an awful lot of time on it, I had it sitting in the kitchen and it got splattered from something cooking on the stove," he recalls now with a smile. At the time, however, it was no smiling matter. He had just begun the barn owl when he spotted information on the Cranbrook contest hanging in the high school art room here. He decided to enter and then redoubled his efforts to complete it.

Competition in the wildlife art contest was open to students in grades 9 through 12 from Michigan's 800 high schools. Subjects were limited to species of mammals, insects, birds and fish found in Michigan.

Contestants were asked to submit a colored slide of their work and from these the finalists were chosen. The original artwork was then submitted for final judging.

Nathan was informed that he was the winner just before the last school year closed. He plans to compete again this coming year. "I'll enter as many contests as I can, but I may never win again."

A resident of Northville for the past five years, he formerly lived in Wixom and in Livonia.

His two older brothers, one of whom is a 17-year-old photographer, also paint but do not take it as seriously as does Nathan. His mother also paints, mostly oils, but for her it is strictly a hobby.

Nathan plans to make painting his life work — either as a free lance artist or as a medical illustrator.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greene of 42239 Ludlow Court.

Officials to hear SEMCOG update

Representatives from Northville township and city, together with those from four other communities, are invited to attend a meeting of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) at 8 p.m. this Thursday, September 2, at the Northville Township Hall.

Francis P. Bennett, director of the Wayne County Planning Commission, explains the meeting is being held to show local elected officials throughout Wayne County methods and purposes of SEMCOG's "Small Area Forecast" program.

The SEMCOG staff, in conjunction with several county planning offices of the region and the City of Detroit Planning Department, is engaged in a program which directly relates to the long range future of the region, Bennett states.

The program, he says, attempts to determine, by five-year intervals, the direction and nature regional development will take until the year 2000.

Since the results directly relate to local planning efforts, a series of meetings throughout the county has been scheduled.

Invited to the Northville meeting are Mrs. Betty Lennox, Northville Township supervisor, Mrs. Clarice Sass, township clerk, Northville Mayor A. Malcolm Allen and Clerk Joan McAllister.

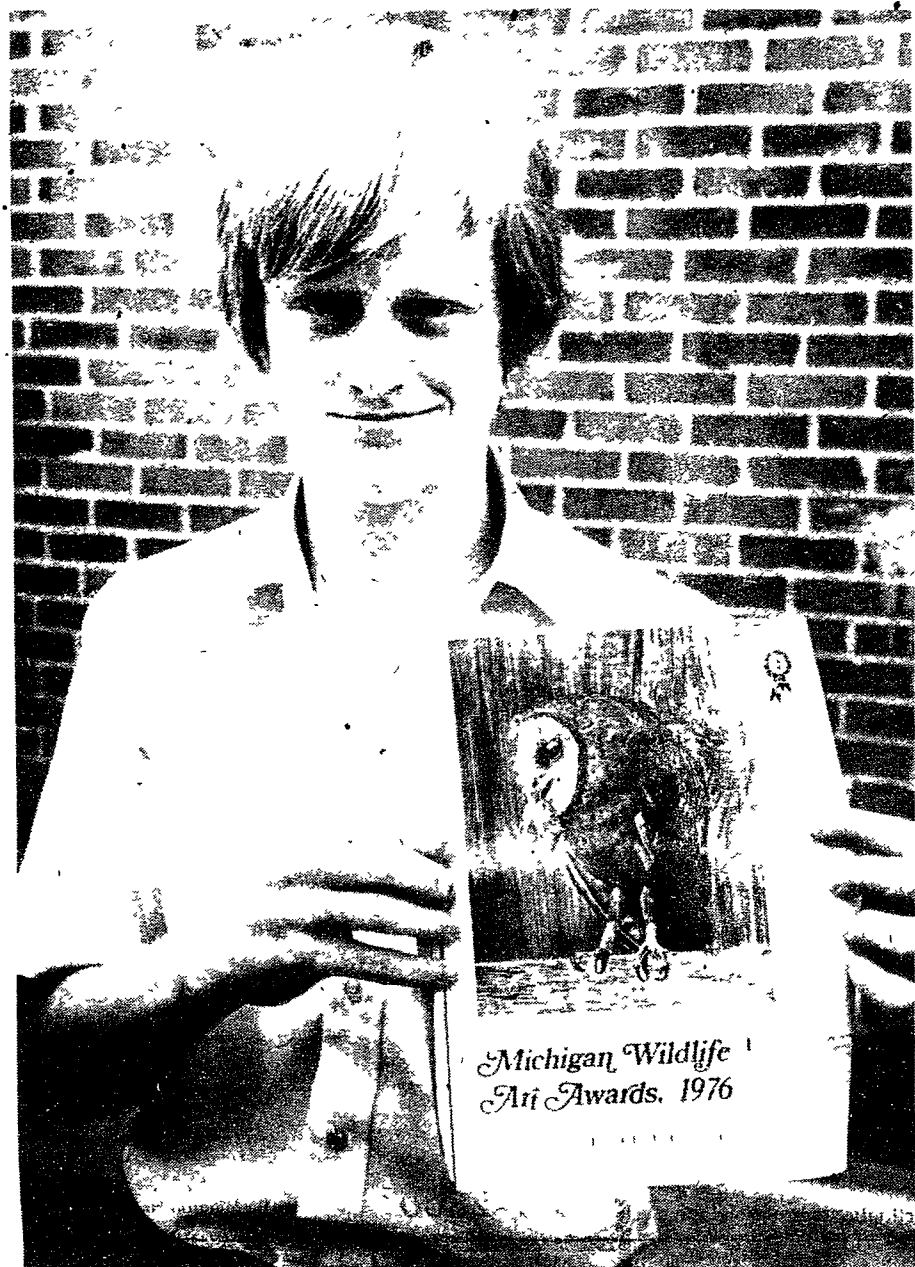

Plymouth city and township representatives as well as those from Redford Township and the City of Livonia have been invited.

In Uniform

S. R. James Nuottila, grandson of Mrs. Beatrice Carlson and a former student at Northville High School, is presently serving on the USS Independence out of Norfolk, Virginia.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Nuottila of Lake Park, Florida.

Summer tripping

By NANCY DINGELDEY

With the beginning of school, many Wixom families have found a summer filled with fun and activity nothing more than a memory. For those families, the memories include trips from coast to coast.

Bev and Fred Walters and son Eric took a full month and headed their brand new van to the west coast. The Corb Tillmans headed their van eastward on a Bicentennial trek. From both families came the report of simply super times.

The Walters' van, completely outfitted with built-in sleeping gear and equipment for cooking, took to the highways in their tour which covered fourteen states and a portion of Mexico.

The beauties that lie between Wixom and the Pacific Ocean were soaked up by the threesome who ultimately spent two weeks with Bev's brother in Hollywood. While in the Los Angeles area, they toured every sightseeing spot known to man along with dining in what Bev termed, "fantastically fabulous restaurants."

From L.A., the van headed northward to San Francisco and a weekend with old friends. Bev said she really enjoyed Los Angeles. It was the first opportunity we had to really see L.A. and get to know it. It was warm and sunny and beautiful.

But, says Bev, the heart is still in San Francisco. Even though the weather tends to be much cooler, the atmosphere more than makes up for it.

A little trouble with vapor locks in the engine marred the trip somewhat, but certainly not enough to diminish their recollections.

The Tillman's journey took them to the family homestead in Utica as well as stops in Pennsylvania, Washington, D.C. and Maryland.

In a postcard from Helen, she said they were absolutely crammed with history after stops at Gettysburg and Ft.

McHenry. A special stop was made in Frederick, Maryland and the home of Barbara Fritchie.

"Just had to make that stop after using Mrs. Fritchie for our Historical Society float in May. The people at the charming place, which was filled with brimming with original things, were so nice. They opened a window and I hung out of it waving a flag while Corb took my picture."

If you remember, Barbara Fritchie was immortalized by John Greenleaf Whittier as the patriot who is claimed to have said to the British, "Do what you must with this old grey head but spare my country's flag."

The Tillmans also spent two hot, humid days in Washington, D.C. While Helen and Kathy took a super good tour of the city and its historic places, Corb spent the day at the Aerospace Museum. After spending some five hours in what Corb said was "a fascinating place" he still didn't feel as though he had covered everything there was to see.

The Scandinavian Festival at Cobo Hall drew a great number of Wixomites and those members of the Finn Camp who reside in Wixom during the summer months.

Archie Brown, well known as a popular M.C. at the Finn Camp, was in charge of coordinating the program. He featured the music and dances of the countries that are one of the highlights of all the ethnic festivals. Archie also has a weekly FM radio program for the Finnish community.

Included in the festival program was the chorus from the Finn Camp directed by Arnie Soderholm. Reports are that the chorus, dressed in red, white and blue, drew a good hand of applause from the Finnish Men's Chorus as well as the huge crowd on hand.

Also on stage was Helen Sikkila and her singing saw. Helen's ability on the saw is known around the Detroit area and she seemed to thoroughly enjoy performing for the appreciative crowd. Her repertoire included both Finnish folk songs as well as patriotic tunes.

Faye and Fred Waara had a visit from their daughter Frida and husband, Ron Thorley, who now live in Marquette. The young couple made the trip down to be with Faye after recent surgery.

Faye, who is recuperating nicely, said the kids spent almost two weeks in Wixom before heading back to Northern University.

Turning the intersection of Main and Center streets on its way to the Mill Race Historical Village is the former building of the Paul Folino State Farm insurance office. Donated to the city by Folino, the building was moved Friday to a site near the millpond and the other historical buildings that make up the village. The house is to become a crafts center. With the newest old addition, the village now includes five buildings — the old library building, the Wash-Oak School, a Greek Revival house, and the old Yerkes homestead.

Cheerleaders win trophy

Novi's varsity cheerleaders competed against more than 60 squads from throughout the United States and took home a sixth place trophy at the Grand Nationals held by the United States Cheerleading Association.

The competition featured squads which had previously won competitions at cheerleading camp during the summer. The competition was held Saturday, August 21.

On the squad this year are: seniors Laurie Majors, Jeanne Withers and Debbie McKee, junior Cathy Brzezniak and sophomores Joan Pierce, Melissa Faulkner, Sue Beall, and Eileen Slattery.

Post picnic draws 300

An estimated 300 persons turned out Sunday for the annual VFW Post 4012 picnic in the Northville recreation area of the Middle Rouge Parkway.

"I'd guess it was one of the turnouts we've ever had," said Adjutant James Thomas. "The weather was just perfect."

Besides the potluck dinner, the Sunday activities included a variety of games — for persons 5 to 80 — and a display of a National Guard military helicopter that was flown in for the event.

"Quite a few of those attending were Vietnam veterans," said Thomas. In charge of the picnic were Senior Vice-Commander Roger Barnes and Myron Utley.

Expenditure to stop leaks

Action at the Wixom Council table will hopefully rectify a major problem at City Hall. At their last meeting, council approved an expenditure of $4,224 for a new roof on the structure. The leaky roof has presented a growing problem to the city for the past year. Leaks throughout the entire building have made even a minor rain a major problem. Seven gallons of water were either caught in pans or mopped off the floor in the building department alone during a brief shower several weeks ago. Water soaked forms, papers and the city plat book had to be thrown out. City Clerk June Buck reported water all over the file room floor but said "I was lucky nothing was damaged." The problem reached such proportions that it was termed "deplorable" by Police Chief Philip Leonard.

Looked upon by city officials as probably the worst area is the garage space converted to use by the crime prevention unit of the police department. As his last duty of the day, Sergeant Vern Darlington covers desks, files and equipment with large plastic garbage bags—a "just in case" measure against the rain.

Waste baskets and buckets are strategically placed to catch the water should the heavens break loose. A magic marker sign hung on the garage door humorously draws attention to the problem—"Caution—water wing area."

Even though the city hopes to file applications to receive federal monies to remodel and construct an addition to city hall, council voted against any stop-gap measures such as patching the present roof.

Workmen from Price Brothers Roofing in Pontiac are expected to begin work on the roof any day. Their work will include the total removal of the present roof and insulation, replaced with new celotex insulation. Alternate moppings of hot asphalt and gravel slag over asphalt perforated felt along with a final flood coat of hot asphalt should put the roof back to good condition.

In the meantime, employees at city hall are crossing their fingers that the drought will last just a little longer.

ABSURD ? MAYBE—The umbrella held by Wixom Police Officer Richard Howe may seem ridiculous and unnecessary. But the roof at City Hall is said to "leak like a sieve," especially in the converted garage area housing the crime prevention unit. The slightest amount of precipitation creates problems with waste baskets, buckets and even roasting pans used to catch the drips. A new roof on City Hall will hopefully rectify the situation. In the meantime, Howe is ready for the end of the drought.

and, that, because of its previous involvement in the Main Street complex study, the firm is already familiar with the facilities in question.

At the end of the meeting, citizen Analee Mathes expressed hope that the board will consider changing board policy to permit citizen comment prior to board voting on measures.

Mrs. Mathes said she shared the minority board opinion that a different architect should be considered for this project.

Among other things, the architect is to study and recommend the best way to divide space between classroom instruction and administrative offices in Main Street Elementary School.

Earlier, the board went on record as calling for the reopening of Main Street School by the fall of 1977. The board also targeted Main Street as a future site for central administrative offices when and if the present administrative offices are returned to a recreational facility.

Plans call for Main Street School to primarily serve walk-in students from the area of the school. Its enrollment is to be substantially reduced from its previous level.

Specifically, the architect is to determine how best to divide space in the school building between classrooms and administrative offices. It also is to take a look at recreational needs of the school in the event the annex building is razed.

The kinds of renovation necessary to reopen Main Street as both a school and administrative offices are to be explored.

In addition, the architect is to estimate the remaining lifetime of the Annex building—the point when cost of maintenance will no longer justify its continued use. Presently, the annex is being leased for the special education program and by Schoolcraft College.

Presumably, when Main Street School is reopened it will use recreational facilities in the Annex.

Superintendent Spear has stated that renovation of Main Street for its reopened dual purpose will necessitate a "mini-bond issue"—a vote of the people to provide monies for the project. He suggested such a bond issue probably would not result in an increase of millage.

In a related discussion, the board authorized the superintendent to develop a list of other building improvement projects that conceivably could be included in such a bond issue.

DETOUR AHEAD—

Even though the signs read "Detour Ahead", motorists continue to drive around the barricades erected at both Maple Road and the railroad crossing on Pontiac Trail at Wixom Road. Bulldozers and other road construction vehicles dodge the motorists as workmen continue the process of widening Wixom Road from two to three lanes. Those efforts were also hampered by the arrival and departure of school buses as children in the Walled Lake School District returned to school Tuesday.

CASE NO.
U-4717

TO THE GAS CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY:

NOTICE OF GAS RATE INCREASE HEARING

and

NOTICE OF HEARING ON REVISIONS TO RATES AND REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO CENTRALLY METERED AND RESALE GAS SERVICE

As part of the continued hearings in Case No. U-4717 being held on Consumers Power Company's November 27, 1974 application for a gas rate increase, the Michigan Public Service Commission on July 30, 1976 granted Consumers Power's motion to present for Commission consideration additional evidence concerning the cost of rendering gas service based on a test year ending December 31, 1975, adjusted for known changes in 1976. Prior testimony and exhibits in this proceeding had been limited to a test period of the 12 months ending June 30, 1974, adjusted for certain known changes in 1975. In addition to considering the current cost of rendering gas service, the Commission will also consider the issues of (1) gas rate design and charges and (2) the appropriate treatment for ratemaking purposes of the Michigan Single Business Tax.

Consumers Power has indicated that its additional evidence concerning this later test period demonstrates a need for additional gas rate relief in the amount of $18,948,000 over and above the interim rate relief previously authorized in Case No. U-4717 pursuant to orders of the Commission issued on June 2, 1975 and March 8, 1976. Moreover, the additional gas rate relief being requested by Consumers Power is exclusive of any additional revenue requirement which may result when a final determination is made by the Commission in Case No. U-4717 as to the proper amount of Marysville Synthetic Natural Gas Plant costs to be included in Consumers Power's gas rate base.

As a part of its consideration of the issues of rate design and charges in Case No. U-4717, the Commission has indicated that it will consider revisions to the rates, rules and regulations, service standards, and procedures pertaining to centrally metered and resale gas service now being provided by Consumers Power Company specifically including issues relating to rate design and classification as defined in Phase III of Case No. U-4985 which need to be resolved as they pertain to such gas business proceedings in Case No. U-4985 began in December 1975 on the Commission's own motion to inquire into the regulations and procedures of gas and electric utilities pertaining to centrally metered customers, including reselling customers, and to provide for appropriate standards and rates for centrally metered gas and electric utility service.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has scheduled hearings on the matters referred to herein as part of the continued proceedings in Case No. U-4717 and has ordered that notice be given of this expansion of Case No. U-4717 to include Consumers Power's request for the additional gas rate relief in the amount of $18,948,000 and the Commission's decision to include the issues defined in Phase III of Case No. U-4985 as they pertain to Consumers Power Company's gas business.

Notice is hereby given that

A public hearing in Case No. U-4717 shall be held at 9:30 AM on September 22, 1976 in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan, which hearing shall be in the nature of a prehearing conference and shall be held for the purposes of exploring and, if possible, agreeing upon matters which will expedite this proceeding including, but not limited to, the following:

1. Determining the parties to the proceeding, the nature of their appearances and the positions they are taking in the proceeding, as well as the facts they intend to controvert or give evidence of, all in accordance with the provisions of Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure Before the Commission.
2. Simplifying and defining the issues in this proceeding.
3. Obtaining admissions as to, and stipulations of, facts not remaining in dispute, the authenticity of documents, and matters of public record.
4. Determining the number and identity of witnesses.
5. Specifying the schedule for the exchange of proposed exhibits and written testimony, and the reduction of oral testimony to written form.
6. Establishing procedures for the hearing.
7. Specifying a further schedule of dates of hearing.

8. Considering any other matters that may aid in the orderly conduct of the hearing and the disposition of the proceeding.

B. Further public hearings in this matter shall begin at 9:30 AM on October 5, 1976 in the offices of the Commission, Mercantile Building, 6545 Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, for the purpose of commencing cross-examination of the Company's witnesses and such further proceedings as may be necessary or appropriate. Public hearings shall continue thereafter from day to day or on such adjourned dates as the presiding officer may set until the matter has been fully heard.

C. ANY PERSON NOT NOW A PARTY TO CASE NO. U-4717 WHO SEEKS TO INTERVENE IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 11 OF THE RULES OF PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE BEFORE THE COMMISSION, SHALL FILE WITH THE COMMISSION AT LEAST FIVE (5) DAYS PRIOR TO THE INITIAL HEARING OF SEPTEMBER 22, 1976, AN ORIGINAL AND 12 COPIES OF A PETITION TO INTERVENE, TOGETHER WITH PROOF OF SERVICE UPON CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, LEGAL DEPARTMENT, 212 WEST MICHIGAN AVENUE, JACKSON, MICHIGAN 49201.

Subparagraph (2) of Rule 11 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure Before the Commission (R 460.21) provides as follows:

"(2) A petition to intervene shall set out clearly and concisely the facts supporting the petitioner's alleged right or interest, the grounds of the proposed intervention, and the position of the petitioner in the proceeding, SO AS FULLY AND COMPLETELY TO ADVISE THE PARTIES AND THE COMMISSION OF THE SPECIFIC ISSUES OF FACT OR LAW TO BE RAISED OR CONTROVERTED."

The Commission will require strict compliance with the above-quoted rule.

D. Consumers Power Company, on or before September 22, 1976, shall serve upon each person seeking to intervene a copy of the proposed testimony and exhibits as filed with the Commission which serve as the basis for its request for additional gas rate relief of $18,948,000. In addition, the Company shall serve upon each person a copy of the Company's Motion for Expanded Hearing, as supplemented, and of the Commission's July 30, 1976 Order Granting Motion to Expand Hearing in Case No. U-4717. Proof of service shall be filed with the Commission on or before October 4, 1976.

E. THE GAS RATE INCREASES DESCRIBED IN THIS NOTICE HAVE BEEN REQUESTED BY CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY. THE MICHIGAN PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION MAY EITHER GRANT OR DENY THE REQUESTED INCREASE, IN WHOLE OR IN PART, AND MAY GRANT A LESSER OR GREATER INCREASE THAN THAT REQUESTED, MAY AUTHORIZE A LESSER OR GREATER RATE FOR ANY CLASS OR CLASSES OF SERVICE, OR PORTION THEREOF, OR MAY ORDER CHANGES IN EXISTING OR PROPOSED RATE STRUCTURES OR DESIGNS OR CUSTOMER CLASSIFICATIONS.

Jurisdiction in this matter is pursuant to 1909 PA 300, as amended, MCLA 462.2 et seq. Section 4 of 1919 PA 419, as amended, MCLA 460.54 Sections 4, 6, 6a and 6b of 1939 PA 3, as amended, MCLA 460.4, 460.6, 460.6a and 460.6b, Section 3 of 1923 PA 238, as amended, MCLA 486.253, Chapter 4 of 1969 PA 306, as amended, MCLA 24.271 et seq., and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, Supplement No. 54, R 460.11 et seq.

July 4 balloons sail 200 miles away

Symbolic slices of Northville's Fourth of July 200th birthday cake have been enjoyed by folks as far away as southern Ohio and Indiana.

And it appears others enjoyed celebrating the nation's 200th birthday as much as Northville.

Northville's birthday cake was shared with other communities — thanks to a fun project of Northville Colony Estates.

Local residents will recall that Colony Estates sponsored a float in the Fourth of July parade here that carried the theme, "Happy Birthday America."

For the float, Tom Scarlett and Bob DeHoff constructed a six-foot birthday cake. The cake was trimmed with streamers and paper flowers.

Helium-filled balloons were placed on and around the cake. Each balloon contained a typewritten note saying, "Hello! We are celebrating our country's 200th birthday — please let us know where our balloons have landed." (signed) The Children of Northville Colony Estates, P.O. Box 144, Northville, Michigan 48167 U.S.A.

Parade watchers will remember the colorful balloons streaking into the sunny sky above the float.

"Well, the fun from this project continues," says a Northville Colony spokesman. "We have received the following replies from our balloons:"

I received your balloon and this note today. We live 8½ miles southeast of Bryan, Ohio.

We are pleased to be the family that found your balloon. We found your balloon late Sunday afternoon, July 4, 1976, in a neighbor's soy bean field while myself, my husband, and our one-year-old daughter were on a bicycle ride. The farm your balloon was found on is located four miles south of Bryan Ohio.

We hope you had as much fun as we did in celebrating our country's 200th birthday.

Locally made crib may star with Sonny and Cher

When singer Cher brings baby Elijah Blue onto the Sonny and Cher Comedy Hour, there's a good chance the new baby of Cher and Greg Allman may just be shown in the creation of Tim Korzon, a Bloomfield Hills furniture designer.

Korzon, who is eyeing the Northville, Novi, South Lyon area for a shop receives commissions to design and construct memorable and unique pieces of furniture.

But the most memorable, indicates the 28-year-old Korzon, was the recent commission to build a crib for the baby of entertainer Cher and rock singer husband Greg Allman.

Korzon was out in California with his wife, Sherry Fox, who is a singer for Warner Brothers in a band called Indigo, and visited Cher's home in Beverly Hills. Though Korzon did not see Cher at the time, the visit started him thinking about building a crib for the as-yet unborn child.

A covey of secretaries kept Korzon waiting in the kitchen for almost a week before the designer was lucky enough to run into Cher. When he did, he had a long talk with both Cher and her husband, whom he describes as "just nice folks."

"I found out more specifically what their likes were," says Korzon. He found his original ideas changing to a more Indian-Mexican oriented crib, based upon the wishes of the parents. The decision was made to go with black walnut.

"I flew back and got right to it," says Korzon, who admits that he put 500 hours of work into honing the one-of-a-kind sculpture just right. He's not saying what the final price was, but adds that his creations as a rule range in the $1,000 to $3,000 range.

The crib was sent out to California after the blessed event about two weeks ago. But Korzon has already begun working on a high chair for baby Elijah.

When the latest excitement settles down and if he can find a suitable barn in the area for a workshop, Korzon who has several relatives in Northville, says he plans to open a shop nearby and accept about 10-12 commissions a year.

Any room that is to be harmonious must have some sort of unity. The best definition and perhaps the most expressive one, of unity, is perhaps that of Leonardo Da Vinci: "Every part is disposed to unite with the whole that it may thereby escape its own incompleteness." In a room this means that each object must maintain its own identity and at the same time contribute to the total effect. This means that there must be some combination of furniture, wall and floor treatments, accessories, and color, which have something in common in appearance and purpose.

Dear Children,

Just a note to let you know we found your balloons this morning around ten o'clock while spraying weeds on my husband's folks' farm just outside Butler, Indiana. Two still had some air left in them while the other was flat.

Our church did the same thing for our church centennial in 1970, only each child had his or her name in it and was really surprised to get an answer back. It this Northville Colony Estates a housing development?

Dear Sirs,

We were so amazed when your balloon landed. It came down in a soy bean field on the Herman Pankop farm in Dekalb County

Time of arrival was about 1:00 p.m., July 4. We are members of the Helmer United Methodist Church and we had attended church services at Mr. Pankop's private lake. A potluck dinner was held at noon. Everyone enjoyed the ringing of the bell, sack races, turtle races, tug-o-war across the lake and wheelbarrow races, also horseshoe and volleyball.

I think it was a great idea your group had, putting notes in balloons. We enjoyed receiving it and letting you know where it landed.

PLUS unit plans

The Steering Committee for the PLUS Program has begun planning for the 1976-77 school year.

Paula McClure has replaced Marjorie Sliger as chairperson of the committee composed of administrative personnel, teachers, parents and principals from the elementary schools.

Children are selected for the PLUS Program on the following criteria:

- 1 testing results,
- 2 achieving two years beyond grade level, and
- 3 teacher recommendations

The program also accommodates the child gifted in art, music and creative writing.

This year children will be selected from grades two through six. It was noted that first graders were, generally, not ready to participate and benefit fully from this type of program. Sixth graders have automatically been added due to the new grade structure in the schools.

Plans are to run three six-week sessions, having one session before Christmas and two after. The committee hopes to have the interest areas become more academic with each child or group of children deciding on a final project to share with his own school or class.

Eight Mile collision claims life of Livonia girl

In Novi

A 15-year-old Livonia girl was killed Monday in a head-on crash on Eight Mile Road at midnight. Dead is Susan Yadlosky.

According to Corporal Frank Barabas, head of the Novi traffic bureau, the dead girl was a passenger in a car driven by Daniel Cragel, 17, also of Livonia.

The Cragel car was eastbound on Eight Mile Road just west of Haggerty when a car driven by James K. Power, 19, of 19513 Whitman Court in Northville which was westbound reportedly crossed over the center line. According to Barabas, Cragel saw the car over the center line and swerved to the left. At the same time Power reportedly attempted to swerve his car back into the westbound lane striking the Cragel car head-on.

Miss Yadlosky was dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital. Both Cragel and Power suffered multiple injuries including a suspected concussion for Powers and internal bleeding for Cragel. Cragel was listed Tuesday in critical condition.

According to Barabas, no cause for Powers car swerving over the center line has been determined and Powers refused to make any statement without benefit of an attorney present. The investigation is continuing and Barabas said that warrants charging Power in the accident will be sought. The fatality is the fourth in Novi this year.

Two men are being held in a breaking and entering of Meadowbrook Pharmacy on 10 Mile Road after they were apprehended by surveillance officers as they tried to make a getaway.

Arrested were Peter Pedersen, 27, of Chattanooga, Tennessee and James Ritchie, 28 of Wayne.

According to Lieutenant Detective Richard Faulkner, the surveillance officers were on patrol when they spotted two men on the roof of the pharmacy. Ritchie reportedly remained on the roof as a lookout while Pedersen used an axe to break a hole through the roof of the pharmacy.

A few minutes later a black and white police car responding to the call and running without lights approached and the men began to scramble to make a getaway. One of the surveillance officers yelled for the lookout to stop. Instead, Ritchie ran to the edge of the building and leaped off, striking a fluorescent light before hitting the ground. Ritchie reportedly broke both heels and injured his ribs. He was arrested by a surveillance officer on the ground.

Meanwhile Pedersen who was scrambling up through the hole in the pharmacy was arrested by a surveillance officer who climbed onto the roof.

A briefcase full of drugs from the pharmacy was reportedly found inside.

Pedersen was arraigned and held in Oakland County Jail on $1,000 cash bond. Ritchie was released on post-arraignment so he could be treated for his injuries.

A 17-year-old and two 16-year-olds were arrested by police as the result of the breaking and entering of a motor vehicle in the Westgate VI apartment complex August 26.

Two were arrested nearby after fleeing the scene. The third was picked up later by police. Reportedly a burglar alarm on the car sounded and a neighbor called police, who arrived as the youths fled.

Arrested was Andrew Ham, 17, of Westland. He was arraigned and released on $1,000 personal bond. The other youths were from Northville and New Hudson and action is pending on them.

A fire suspected to have been caused by a smoldering cigarette caused about $10,000 damage to Arkin Industries, 43100 Nine Mile. According to police, an alarm company called the fire department at 12:56 a.m. Saturday, August 28.

Fire was discovered in a storage area where firemen managed to restrict the blaze. The fire department was finally able to leave the scene at 5:30 a.m. after extinguishing the blaze.

A motorcyclist was seriously injured at 8:39 p.m. Saturday after he was struck head-on on the I-96 expressway by a driver who lost control of his car and crossed the median.

According to Sergeant Dale Gross, the accident occurred on eastbound I-96 approximately 400 feet west of 696. Injured in the accident was John Watson, 34 of Birmingham.

Reportedly Lawrence Jackson, 18, of Grand Rapids was westbound on 696 when he lost control of his car, went over the median and struck another car before striking the Watson motorcycle head-on.

Watson was immediately taken by Novi Ambulance to Botsford Hospital where he was listed in serious condition with a broken leg, punctured lung and broken collarbone.

A $400 Hotpoint stove was taken in a Band E from a home in the 44,000 area of Galway. The burglary occurred August 25.

A 1972 Ford pickup truck stolen earlier from New Hudson was found last week parked in the Waterview Farms apartments. The pickup truck apparently had struck someone previously as blood and flesh fragments were located on the right side at the front of the vehicle.

Officers on patrol August 25 found that the Total station at 10 Mile and Novi Road had been broken into and a safe pried open. Missing from the safe was $1,000.

An explosion and resulting fire which caused approximately $2,000 damage was contained by attendants at the I-96 Shell station.

According to Fire Chief Duane Bell, sparks from welding on a mower caused a small explosion. Owner Joseph Widak, who fought the blaze along with other attendants, was given oxygen and taken to Botsford Hospital suffering from smoke inhalation.

In Township

Aided by township residents, the Northville Township Police were able to confiscate more than 125 vigorously growing marijuana plants Wednesday.

Three young residents led police to a small clearing near Pickford Road where a number of the well-tended plants were found growing in peat moss.

Later the same day police were led to a secluded section of Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile Roads by a Livonia man who found further plants while running his dogs.

An additional search of that area turned up 84 plants growing in scattered but neatly cultivated patches. The weeds from both investigations were pulled up by their roots and burned Thursday.

A fire in the kitchen area of an apartment of Windsor Court was contained in that section of the house thanks to the quick thinking of two young boys.

A window, apparently broken out by the heat generated by the fire, allowed the youngsters to spray water into the kitchen area with a garden hose. It was felt by fire officials that their action kept the fire to a minimum although smoke was termed "excessive" in the apartment.

Damage to the apartment was kept in the kitchen portion with the fire apparently starting in a refuse container.

A citizen's band radio valued at $190 was taken from a locked vehicle parked outside a residence on Lake Success. The incident occurred sometime between midnight and 9 a.m. Wednesday.

A sailboat moored at Swan Harbor Lake was taken by two unknown persons shortly after 5 p.m. Thursday. The activity of the two men involved was observed by a resident who contacted the owner of the boat.

That man told Township Police he saw the two men removing the boat from the owner's dock and proceed to cross the lake in the direction of Seven Mile Road.

The boat was found hidden in the weeds along the south shore of the lake with the two subjects last seen heading on foot towards Seven Mile Road. The boat was secured by its owner.

Two Livonia juveniles were robbed at gunpoint near Northville Road and Cass Benton Drive at 10 p.m. August 20. The incident was not reported to the police, however, until 11:30 p.m.

According to the victims, three white males were sitting in a parked car at the base of the hill. As the boys walked by, one of the men in the car reportedly opened the door and pointed what appeared to be a pump shotgun at the youths. They were ordered into the car.

At Northville Road, the victims said the gun was again pointed at them at which time they were ordered to hand over everything of value. The youths told the police they gave the men $13 in cash in a wallet and a Timex watch.

Forced entry to a car parked on Neptune netted thieves one steering wheel. The interior of the car was also ransacked although nothing else of value appeared to be missing.

The wood-grained steering wheel was discovered missing at 7:45 a.m. Sunday.

Sometime over the weekend, thieves made off with a 10-speed boy's bike parked on a patio behind a residence on Jamestown Circle. The bike was valued at $125.

In Northville

An open alarm at Ely's Hardware Store at 8 a.m. August 25 brought units from the Northville City Police Department as well as the Michigan State Police to the scene of a B & E.

Entry to the business was made by smashing a window with a cinder block. Investigating officers found three empty chainsaw cases on the floor near a display unit.

Company officials confirmed that three chainsaws with a value of over $450 were taken in the incident with an additional $200 in damages to the building.

A badly cut Northville youngster was transported to Botsford Hospital in a police patrol unit Tuesday at 10 p.m. Nine-year-old Craig Printz of Lexington was given emergency first aid to the gash that exposed the bone of his arm as well as severing the muscle.

A Banbury Road resident confronted three men Wednesday night as they were attempting to steal a bicycle. The resident saw the men and chased them after they took the bike from his residence. Police officers found the bike in the road in several pieces. While those officers were obtaining information, a van similar to the one described as the getaway vehicle approached the area and then sped away. Police were unable to locate the vehicle.

A stopwatch and 8-track AM-FM player were removed from a car parked in a driveway on Welch Street. Value of the property was said to be $142.

The incident occurred between 10 p.m. Friday and 9:45 a.m. Saturday

In Wixom

The owner of a 1973 Chevrolet parked in the municipal parking lot reported the vehicle stolen sometime August 20.

The Morley, Michigan man told Wixom Police he parked the car in the lot across from the Wainstock Street address where he stays during the week.

The vehicle was later recovered by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

A new construction area in the Highgate-on-the-Lake Subdivision was again victimized with the construction superintendent reporting some $190 in building materials stolen.

The materials were thought to have been taken sometime during the night hours of August 19.

A green metal tool box containing approximately $300 in tools was taken from the back of a car parked at the Indian Lodge apartments. Exact time of the theft was not known.

A 23-channel citizen's band radio was reported taken from a locked car parked at the Continental Bar.

Wixom Fire fighters responded to a fire on the third floor of a section of the Village Apartments under construction Thursday. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

According to reports, the fire broke out when a furnace exploded as it was being lit. The worker lighting the furnace suffered burns following the explosion. He was taken to the Walled Lake Medical clinic for treatment.

LOTS OF SMOKE—Northville Township Police confiscated over 125 growing plants of marijuana Wednesday. The plants were found in carefully cultivated secluded sections of the Township by officers who were led to the area by citizens who came across them by accident. Officers Kenneth Hardesty and Michael Cayley of the Township police department are shown with the healthy stock before it was burned.

Women in enforcement

Both women agreed that most people are more than willing to comply and that quite often they have not done so merely out of ignorance of the ordinance.

Mrs. Kreger notes that she concentrated on the north end in seeking compliance with the litter ordinance.

"We asked their cooperation," says Mrs. Kreger. "I don't think I had to write one ticket. We're not interested in them paying that money. We would rather work with them."

Besides the litter ordinance, the team has also concentrated on the sign ordinance, weed ordinance, condemnations, and greenbelting requirements within the zoning ordinance.

Both agree that more ordinance enforcement officers are needed, and will be needed even more so, as the city continues to grow.

City Manager Edward Kriewall praises the women for their work.

"We're impressed with the physical improvements around the community," says Kriewall. "I think their training in the police department has been a great benefit. Their roots are deep in enforcement."

Ironically, Mrs. Kreger this week entered the hospital, but expects to back on the job within two months. Meanwhile, her counterpart will hold down the fort.

Both say they are happy with their work. As Mrs. Christensen sums it up, "I feel I'm contributing something to the city in which I live in a necessary job."

existed if it was not intended to prevent crime.

Crime prevention as explained by police authorities "is the anticipation, recognition and appraisal of a crime risk (physical opportunity for crime) and the initiation of action to remove or reduce it."

Green's original question was directed at the increase in Part I crimes. Those include murder, rape, robbery, assault, burglaries, larceny and vehicle theft.

The report pointed out that statistics concerning violent crimes (murder, rape, robbery and assaults) has decreased from 11 in 1975 to five so far in 1976. It further stated that violent crimes do not present a major problem in Wixom.

The manner in which vehicle thefts were categorized and reported, according to Ziegler, was changed from previous reports making the increase in that particular category seem higher than actually witnessed.

The report showed the greatest increase in crime experienced in the city is in larceny complaints. Through a review of second quarter complaints, the crime prevention unit found the leading area for larcenies to be the Village Apartments, Beck Road, Ford Motor property and the Maple North complex.

Ziegler also pointed out that the crime prevention unit is a passive one. Its duty is to bring about an awareness to the citizens of the crime in Wixom and the need for help in holding it to a minimum.

An active unit was described as one whose function is surveillance work in undercover cars, making arrests and actually physically fighting crime.

The council was also made aware of the fact that reported crime usually increases when an effective crime prevention program is implemented.

Police Chief Philip Leonard told the council that people must care about each other and assume a responsible role in crime prevention.

Pointing to a "neighborhood watch" program instituted at the Hefler Apartments on Grand River as a good example, he said the people there pay attention to what is going on around them. "There have been various criminal attempts there but so far they have been unsuccessful. The people protect each other."

"The large increase in population over the past few years also plays an important role in the increase in crime," said Ziegler. "With it comes the opportunity, availability and chance for crime."

"apparently federal funds are available for EMS, but there must be a regional authority administering it. This group would probably qualify."

Kriewall said the federal funding could provide 50 percent of the first year cost and 25 percent of the second. He noted that of the $14,000 cost for the regional fire department study, possibly a third of the cost could be funded by the federal government if the EMS concept is also included.

Bernard VanOsedale, assistant to the mayor of Wixom said that while the regional fire department concept hasn't been discussed by Wixom's council, "I can't see any objection to studying a situation as serious as this."

Novi board sets session

Detroit Bible College and Wayne County Intermediate Schools have dropped consideration of the site, but the convalescent home, which Dr. Kratz said remains unnamed because the offer came through a real estate company, has not yet indicated a final decision.

Dr. Kratz did note that the convalescent home wanted at least a three year lease because certain changes to the building had to be made which would make it financial infeasible to lease for a shorter length of time.

Most vocal of the board members was Robert Wilkins who maintained the building should not be leased to a profit making organization because of criticism which the district might receive.

The question is what to do with the building for the coming year and what effect would tying it up through a lease or use for other purposes do to the sale of the building if another is received.

The board did agree to allow the Lakes Area Senior Citizens, which had been using the Middle School during the summer, to utilize a portion of Novi Elementary throughout the upcoming year. Dr. Kratz also recommended that the high school alternative education program be housed in the same wing of the building.

In addition, the administration indicated that some materials for the new high school are going to be stored in the elementary. However, Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr said that an alarm system will be set up in the school.

The administration also recommended that the community building, which is attached to Novi Elementary but owned by the city, be purchased from the city. The administration suggested an option in which purchase would be contingent upon sale of the elementary to a buyer. Wilkins suggested that the community building still be available for use by residents. Sale of the community building is one item to be discussed in a joint city council-school board meeting September 16.

In addition to discussion on future uses for Novi Elementary, the school board Thursday will also discuss the relationship of intramural to interscholastic sports in the school district. Field trips as they relate to extracurricular programs will also be discussed and the board asked that representatives of various extracurricular activities be present.

In particular, the board must wrestle with the question of funding of extracurricular field trips.

Discussion on athletic, extracurricular and field trip matters is expected to begin Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is at the administration building.

GOOD TIME WINE

Without doubt the best known of German wines, Liebfrauenmilch, is also one of the most delicious of the German wines. White, sweet, almost flowery in bouquet and taste, the name Liebfrauenmilch today has a legal status. By definition the wine must be both pleasant and traditional. Liebfrauenmilch is great with German dishes such as Wiener Schnitzel, or Sauerbraten, and is good with any dish with which you would serve a white wine, bringing to any meal a taste of tradition and distinction.

When you need help selecting wines to go with your meals, don't hesitate to ask one of the friendly members of our staff at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 319-1177. We'll also be happy to help you choose a fine cordial for the finishing touches. Cold beer, wine and champagne are always available. Hours: 9 a.m.-10 p.m. Mon. thru Sat., Noon-6 p.m. Sun.

Northville schools

Contract items unsettled

Besides the still unsettled teacher contract here, Northville School District still faces resolution of contracts with classified and administrative personnel.

An agreement with Local 547, operating engineers, has been rejected by a membership vote, and the union has not yet indicated its next course of action, it was reported.

Also, teacher aides in the special education program, who have been certified for representation by the Michigan Federation of Teachers, have not yet-approached the board representatives for negotiation.

In addition, Northville administrators, now represented by the Northville Administrative Association, have not yet begun negotiations.

The latter bargaining is awaiting the appointment of a disinterested third party citizen who is to sit in on formal negotiations.

Concerning the unsettled teacher contract, the board has received a letter from Naomi Poe, representing the Northville Education Association, criticizing negotiators for the board for bad faith bargaining. In her letter, she also urged board members to sit in on negotiation meetings.

Following their regular meeting Monday, the board met in executive session to discuss the status of teacher contract negotiations.

Despite Ms. Poe's criticism, Director of Personnel Burton Knighton's report to the board Monday carried a note of guarded optimism.

In the area of economics, he said, "we feel we are relatively close (to agreement)."

Dr. Knighton, who replaced Ronald Horwath as personnel director earlier this summer, pointed out that since the two sides began negotiation last winter there have been 17 negotiation sessions, two joint study meetings, and one meeting with a mediator.

Chief negotiator for the board is Keller Thoma Toppin & Schwarze law firm.

Schoolcraft, too

Although Schoolcraft College and its faculty have not been able to reach agreement on a new master contract, classes began as scheduled on August 30.

The college and the Faculty Forum, bargaining agent for the faculty, agreed to extend the previous year's contract through September 7. In the meantime, talks will continue.

The Forum represents approximately 160 full-time faculty, including instructors, counselors and librarians, and part-time faculty at the College.

A NEW HOUSE?—What appears to be a newly-completed home is actually a small-scale architectural model built by David McCrumb of 358 First Street in Northville. He built the model as part of an Eastern Michigan University industrial education course this summer. The two-week course, taught by Professor Clois Kicklighter, is an industrial education practicum dealing exclusively in architecture and model-building. McCrumb is a graduate student studying industrial education at Eastern. (EMU Photo)

Seventy-three members of the Northville High School Marching Band left at 7 a.m. Monday for Camp Munn-Gottschalk at Hale, Michigan.

They are to return Sunday evening, Mrs. Ann Youngquist, band parents president, reports, after a full week of preparation for the fall marching season.

She adds that a typical day at camp includes about five hours on the marching field, "along with mosquitoes," and two to three hours in music sectionals and practices.

Two one-hour recreation periods are scheduled, but dedicated jazz musicians, Mrs. Youngquist says, spend one of these in jazz rehearsal.

This Thursday the schedule will be broken for a trip down the AuSable River and to the dunes.

A dance is planned by the chaperones for students on Saturday night. Sunday students will conclude the week with a marching show and concert for parents attending for the day and for local residents.

Band camp is a project of the Northville High School Band Parents' Association.

Library News

The Saturday Film Festival, sponsored by the Northville Public Library, will begin its monthly features on Saturday, September 11. Kicking off the series will be "The Great Dictator", starring Charlie Chaplin.

Produced in 1940, the film satirizes Hitler with Chaplin playing the dual role of "Adenoid Hinkle, der Foey of Tomania," and a little Jewish barber.

The film will be shown on the upper level of the Northville Square shopping mall beginning at 2 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

Pre-story hour

Registrations for the popular pre-school story hour held at the Northville Public Library will be taken beginning Wednesday, September 1.

Open to children ages three to five, the story hour will be held on Tuesday mornings with two sessions offered. Parents may register their children for either the 9:30 or 10:30 a.m. groups.

The six week program will begin September 21 and run through October 26. There is no charge for admission.

Six-day week

Beginning Tuesday, September 7, the Northville Public Library will be open six days a week as fall hours are resumed.

According to Anne Vargo, the library will be open Monday through Thursday from noon until 8 p.m. Hours on Friday will be noon until 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Fessler suggests M-275 public hearing

State Representative Richard D. Fessler (R-Union Lake) has asked the State Highway Commission to hold a public hearing in western Oakland County on the proposed M-275 highway through Commerce and White Lake Townships.

"My reason for making the request is simply that I feel the residents who will be directly affected by the new highway should have the opportunity to let the State Highway Commission know how they feel about it,"

Fessler said. "In addition, I have suggested that the Highway Commission establish a citizens advisory council for M-275, similar to the citizens council which was set up to study the proposed Northwestern Highway extension," he added.

Fessler said a public hearing in the area combined with the citizens council would permit adequate input into the M-275 project from the people being most affected by it.

Alcohol Awareness program scheduled

Another series in the Alcohol Awareness Program sponsored by the 35th District Court is slated to begin September 8.

The programs are held in the second-floor court offices of the court in the Plymouth City Hall.

Anyone curious about alcohol or alcoholism and the effect it has on the mind, body and lives of people is welcome to attend, a court spokesman said. Most of the meetings are of the discussion type and questions will be answered regarding treatment facilities in this area.

The sessions, all of which begin at 8 p.m., include: September 8, Dr. Frank Hollingsworth, Ph.D., speaking on Pharmacology of Alcohol and its physical effect on the body.

September 15, Dr. Hollingsworth, speaking on Progression of Alcohol as a disease concept.

September 22, a two-member AA panel and a two-member Alanon panel discussing how alcohol effected their lives and how AA or Alanon helped them.

September 29, a film titled, "The Other Guy."

Annual Novi art auction planned by JC auxiliary

The fifth annual Art Exhibit and Auction put on by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary is planned for Friday, September 17 at the Village Oaks Clubhouse, 22859 Brook Forest.

The champagne preview will be from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. with the auction beginning promptly at 8:30 p.m. Approximately 200 to 300 paintings will be featured including original oils, graphics, etchings and watercolors of such renowned artists as Dah, Rockwell, Peter Max and many more. In addition, a number of sculptured items will be up for bid. Bidding on some pieces will start as low as $5.

A donation of $1 is requested. Tickets are available from any member of the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary, at the door, or by calling Joan Sturgill at 349-9486 or Pat Harry, 349-1884.

Money from the art auction will be used in Jaycee Auxiliary projects for betterment of the community.

Language Club, $95; Gene O'Neal photography, $95, John Armstrong, ski, $95.

In addition, a number of activities have not as yet had a designated sponsor. Those include (at high school) JV basketball, freshman basketball, pom pom girls, varsity softball, track, two ninth grade sponsors, bowling, VCY, (at middle school); track and class sponsors.

Salaries for the extra curricular posts are based upon time and the price was negotiated, according to the administration.

Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz emphasized that no discrimination based upon sex was present in the salaries to be paid and that while the girls' basketball coach will make less than the boys' basketball coach, it is because of the difference in lengths of the seasons.

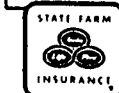

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.

Speaking for The Record

Public forgotten
along with press

Jimmy the Greek might give off that a motion to invite the press to any Northville Township board meeting would lose, 4-3.

So we aren't expecting any sympathy when we complain about the lateness of the notice received by The Record of last Thursday's special board meeting.

We respectfully remind the township board, however, of its responsibilities to the public, the people who pay taxes and go to the polls. We mean all the people, not just those contacted by boardmembers and urged to attend special meetings.

There was nothing illegal about the manner in which last week's special meeting was called. Boardmembers were informed Tuesday; notice was posted on the bulletin board in township hall.

The press was called at 2:45 p.m. Thursday.

This may prove the press was not unwanted. And with a few changes in plans the regular reporter was able to fill the assignment.

But if The Record had been called Tuesday, a news item would have appeared in Wednesday's edition.

With the deadline schedule of a weekly newspaper it isn't often that last-minute special meetings can be reported. But this was the exception.

If the newspaper received notice of special meetings the same time as boardmembers, then the township would be doing its best to spread the word to the total public.

And we think that elected bodies should always try to do this.

(By the way, the board has another special meeting Wednesday, September 8 at 8 p.m.)

No job for other guy

Preventative maintenance is as important in combating crime as it is in combating engine problems on the family automobile.

Area police agencies warn that the problem occurring in the City of Detroit can also occur in the suburbs unless preventative measures are taken early. We cannot afford the luxury of doing nothing until after it happens, they are telling us.

It is easy to criticize Detroit, but it is also easy to look at that city's problems while overlooking our own. Even petty crimes, such as vandalism, can be the tip of the iceberg.

"Prevention, not intervention, is the answer," says Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, who points out that preventative maintenance is a good deal less expensive and more effective than dealing with entrenched crime.

"In my book, preparation and intelligence by police are essential," asserts BeGole. But good police work is not enough. "To keep our communities safe we must have a commitment of everyone — police agencies, the courts, and most importantly, the citizens — to anticipate and prevent it (crime) from happening," the chief emphasizes.

Much of what area police officers are saying directly concerns each citizen of our community. It is not enough to hire professional police officers and to adequately equip them. We also must assist them.

In dealing with the crime cases that come before him, District Judge Dunbar Davis frequently sees a failing on the part of citizens.

"I have often thought that some of these cases could have been avoided if each of you, and me, had taken a more active role in our communities," says Judge Davis.

"It may sound simplistic, but nevertheless I'm convinced that if we'd get out of our homes and walk around our neighborhoods, observing what is going on, we would at the same time be deterring lawlessness. Besides, walking is a good way to stay healthy."

Equally important, says Judge Davis, is for each citizen to willingly cooperate with police and appear in court, if necessary. Too often, suggests the judge, people are quick to criticize but are not as readily prepared to sign a complaint and stand behind it in court.

"Each of us has a responsibility, and we cannot take the attitude, 'let the other guy do it'."

Roads need widening

It's time for the Oakland County Road Commission to face facts.

With the opening of the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi next year, Novi Road and 12 Mile, the major roads around the mall, are going to need major improvement and no amount of procrastination will change that fact.

Though the road commission is putting about $70,000 into widening Novi Road north of Grand River to 12 Mile, Novi Road south of Grand River will remain unchanged.

It will carry, according to studies, about 20 percent of the mall traffic, not including traffic from periphery developments.

While the road commission includes major improvements to that stretch of Novi Road in its five-year plan, spokesmen have candidly admitted the work will be done only if money is available after higher priority work is done elsewhere in the county — and they say that likelihood is pretty slim.

In addition, the road commission proposal to add 150 feet of widening to both sides of the two-lane 12 Mile Road near Novi Road is as one councilman said "like trying to kill an elephant with a flyswatter."

While the road commission blames financial difficulty for its failure to do more major roadwork anywhere in the county, we question if Novi has received its proportionate share of the $3.5 million annual improvement program. Over the past few years, road commission paving projects in Novi have centered exclusively on Haggerty and 14 Mile, which are bumpy roads on the edge of Novi. Overlays have also been put on portions of 12 Mile, Grand River and Pontiac Trail. Of the current improvements to Novi Road from Grand River to 12 Mile, the road commission will fund about $70,000, a small portion of the $560,000 total.

DAVID PECKENS

YES . . .

Neglect is defined as "to fail to heed or take note of; disregard."

This kind of disregard is most apparent to farmers whenever there is an actual rise in food prices or the possibility that food costs will go up because of foreign sales.

We experienced this last fall when George Meany decided that he should "protect the rights of Americans" to cheap food by not allowing ships to be loaded with wheat going to Russia.

He was able to carry this out by creating headlines in the news about a shortage at home, saying food prices would be higher. What Meany did not take into consideration was that we annually export two-thirds of our wheat, one-half of our soy beans, and one-quarter of our feed grains.

However, the farmers' rights to a free market were definitely being disregarded. While the attention focused on Meany, the price of wheat dropped about 25 percent, from which it has yet to recover.

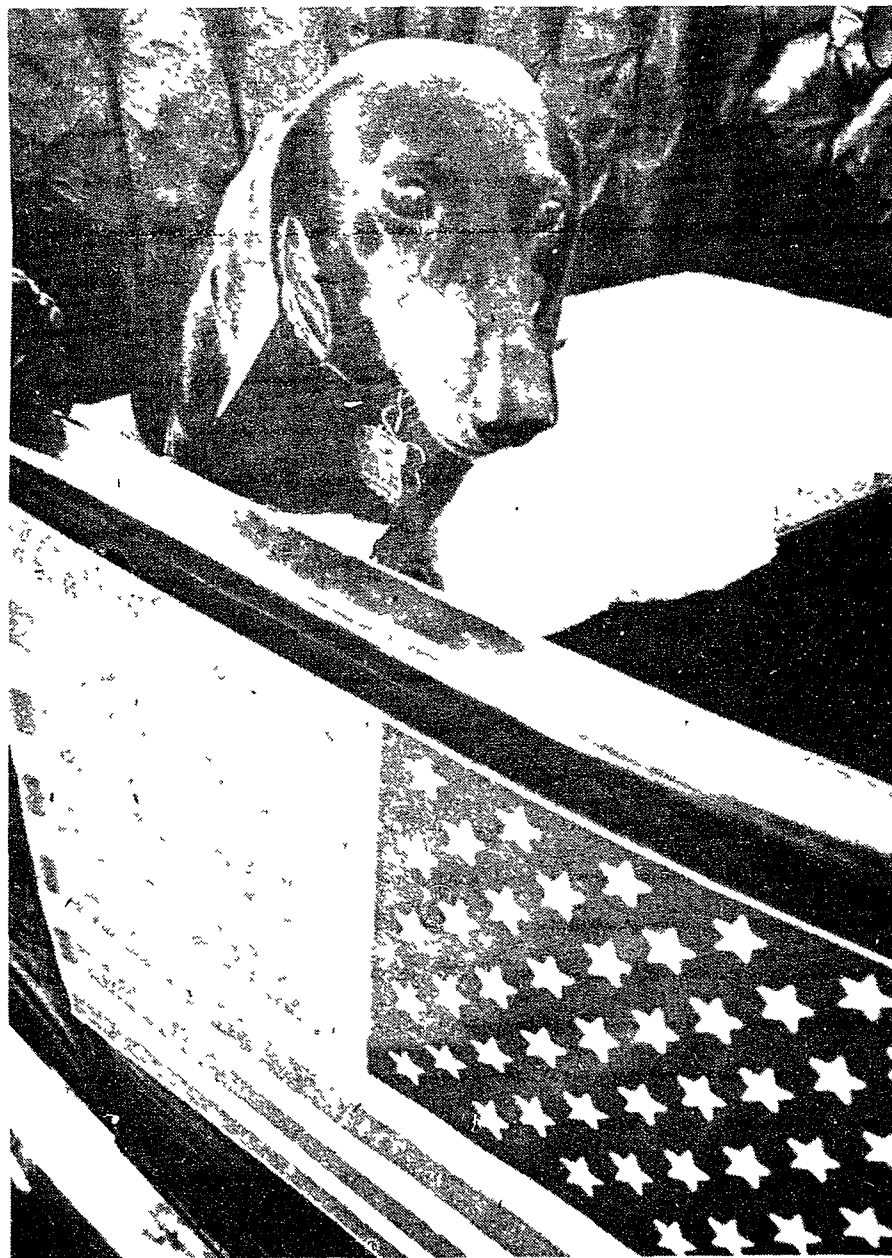

Why was this able to happen? Because of the neglect of farmers, who represent only four percent of the U.S. population, by the other 96 percent. What was needed then, and is needed now, is more attention to the farmer and what his needs are relevant to foreign trade.

Unless the neglect that the public deals out to farmers is curbed, the public will suffer in the long run.

Defends teacher salaries

To the Editor:

As my employer, taxpayers are entitled to a clarification of resident Mr. Jan C. Mueller's interpretation of teacher's salaries. As one of those highly paid "rounded off salary" teachers, I would like to present my interpretation. First, to add $800 to a salary to round it off, is certainly going in the wrong mathematical direction. The only teachers who would receive this amount would be a few with 30 hours of work past a masters degree.

The second assumption is that all teachers take all possible leaves, although I am not sure how Mr. Mueller arrived at 21 days. I can only say that in eight years I have accumulated 102½ days in my personal leave bank. Statistics I am sure would show that all teachers average out about one-third of Mr. Mueller's figures. Considering that teachers work with children and are in a high risk occupation as far as contagion, I feel that teacher's records are not that bad. I also know that long term catastrophic illnesses of a few teachers are reflected in the averages.

Farmers

GLENN HANSON

NO . . .

I would like to clarify the question by asking are farmers neglected by the government?

In the 1950's and 60's, the U.S. government held huge stocks of farm commodities such as corn, wheat and dairy products. Then, whenever farm prices started to improve a little, the government would sell some of its holdings thereby forcing down farm prices.

Farmers kept saying the government should get out of taking over farm production and let farmers produce for their own markets.

A few years ago, through foreign sales, we were able to get rid of much of the surplus stocks of grain the government held.

Through the efforts of the farm commodity groups and private business, farmers were able to develop grain sales with many foreign countries that made it possible for farmers to produce markets here and abroad.

Shortly after selling our stocks in foreign trade, this country was hit with a drought. The government removed all controls and asked farmers to plant every acre they could.

Later, the government stepped in and placed an export embargo on farm grain sales. Farm prices plunged because of the embargo and farms lost sales when foreign countries went elsewhere, where they could be sure of a steady supply.

Are farmers neglected by government? Most of the time I would like to see it neglect us more.

You know TV proof positive that it isn't nice to fool around with Mother Nature.

And now Roger DeClercq, a Wixom police officer, knows it isn't nice to fool around with gypsies.

His learning experience surfaced a week ago when a band of self-professed gypsies showed up in Wixom, unloaded two house trailers full of kids, women and furniture and set up housekeeping in the parking lot of the Union 76 service station at I-96 and Wixom Road.

Responding to a call for help from disgruntled attendants, DeClercq mustered up what little patience he has and asked them to move on. They declined the advice, pointing out that their men-folk were away on business.

"Either you move or we'll have to impound your trailers," said the officer.

Whereupon, one of the women pointed a threatening finger at DeClercq and pronounced, "a gypsy curse on you!"

Instantly, the patrol car belched steam and water all over the parking lot.

It is unclear, even at this late date, who was more surprised and shaken—the curse giver or the curse receiver. We do know, however, that DeClercq and his patrol car recovered their cool, and the entourage was moved to the rear of the Wixom city hall.

Once again the furniture was unloaded and the housekeeping began anew behind the city hall.

Meanwhile, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department advised Wixom that two flim-flam artists were working the area. They had "waterproofed" the home of an 84-year-old Commerce Township woman—with used motor oil. In the cool of the evening the oil had firmed up on the roof, but in the heat of the following day it leaked into the woman's house.

When the men arrived at the city hall to fetch their families and homes, they and their women were interrogated in the police department while the children took up refuge in the council chambers behind closed doors.

Obviously, the curse had not yet finished its work. Because while the questioning went on, the kids scattered papers and pamphlets all over the floor, broke ashtrays, ripped off the room's baseboards and pried formica from the table tops.

Eventually, the 84-year-old woman identified the gypsy pair as the men who had waterproofed her home for $355.

Convinced it was a wiser course to return the woman's money than take up residence in the county jail, the men promptly made restitution. And equally wisely, police urged the gypsies to make a rapid departure.

None felt more relieved than Officer DeClercq when the sheriff's department happily reported the band had by-passed Ann Arbor and crossed the state line into Ohio.

With any kind of luck, maybe the curse givers will pay Columbus and Woody a visit.

Farm hands collect shocks of oats before threshing operation begins

Out of past

The team of horses inched the wagon, piled high with shocks of oats, up beside the still silent metal giant.

Then as Bruce Webster unhitched the horses, V. J. Vincent cranked up the 1928 McCormick Deering. The tractor coughed, then sputtered rhythmically, and the long leather belt began to move.

And, suddenly, the metal giant was alive. Threshing.

It happened Sunday at Maybury State Park's living farm where visitors were treated to an old-fashioned threshing bee — complete with a 1936 Belle City separator.

Over the noise of the separator and in a shower of chaff, Vincent explained once again that his machine is a separator, not a thrasher as is so often misnamed.

"I collect 'em," said Vincent, who lives in Green Oak Township. "It's a hobby of mine."

collecting old farm machinery, but the really fun part of this hobby is showing folks how they are used. Last week we did it over on the Read place (Rushton Road, west of South Lyon), today it's Maybury, and next October we'll be demonstrating our equipment at Greenfield Village."

The separator separates the grain from the husks.

A thrasher or thrasher is the person who operates the machine.

Six acres of oats were threshed Sunday, producing a "medium" crop of 25 bushels per acre.

Webster, the young Maybury farm manager, pointed out that Sunday's threshing demonstration was the first of an annual event to be staged at Maybury to show visitors "the way it used to be on Michigan farms."

"Hopefully, we'll be planting more grain next year so by harvest time we can extend the threshing operation," said Webster, who Sunday was assisted by his wife Nancy, his brother Ken, and Vincent's son, Jack.

Webster used an old (1925 vintage) John Deere binder to cut and tie the oats in shocks two weeks ago. It was left in the field to dry until Sunday when it was piled onto the horse-drawn wagon and then hauled to the farmyard for the threshing demonstration.

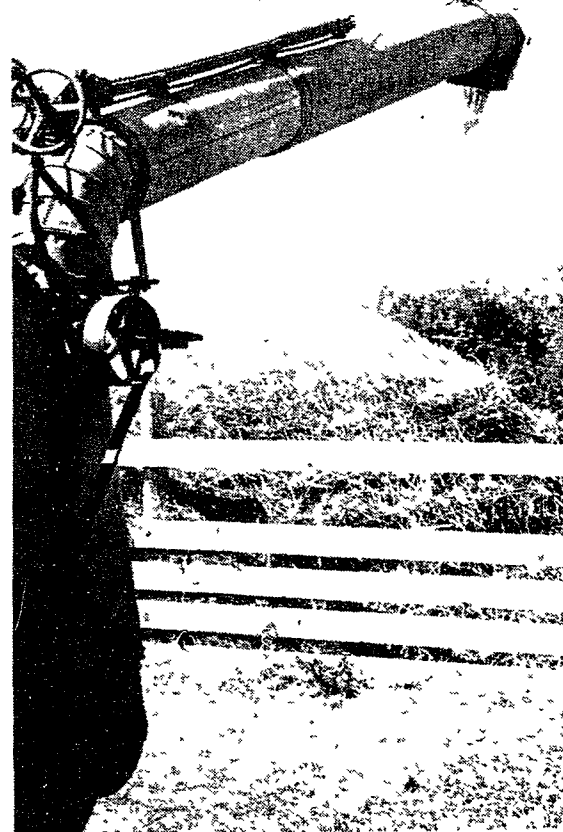

The old binder, donated to the park, had been completely reconstructed to get it back into working order.

The team of horses, of course, are part of the farm's regular stock on display at the farm, open to the public on a daily basis.

Entrance to the park farm is off Eight Mile Road near Garfield.

The $846,000 new building is a two-phase structure. The second phase is to be put into

The construction of the new library met with controversy during the past few months when the library board required the raising of an additional half-million to pay off final construction costs. In addition, the city council had to provide a loan.

Ford Field clean-up set

Ford Field will be the target of a Boy Scout clean-up project Saturday, September 11.

The clean-up, which will involve removal of all glass and debris from the field and grandstand area and perhaps painting of the utility building on the premises, is planned by Troop 721 under the direction of Scoutmaster Ramsey of 16046 Winchester Drive.

It's an Eagle Scout service project. Troop 721 is sponsored out of Our Lady of Victory Church.

Char figures it will take some six hours work on the part of himself and other Scouts to accomplish the project.

In the event of rain, the project will be postponed until Saturday, September 25.

My sympathy goes out to the teachers of Northville who work long hours at night and often on weekends, who construct materials, who buy materials out of their pockets, who donate work days setting up classrooms, and who have to have their salaries constantly being attacked. Does the average reader of the newspaper realize that teachers have no paid holidays or vacations? If one wished to credit teachers with such days, the whole mathematical picture would change.

Why increments and degree credit? Promotions are not possible in teaching unless one becomes an administrator and many teachers do not wish to do this. Teaching would be a dead end job with no increments. It might be of interest and clarify matters if you know that only 25 percent of our teachers are earning the maximum. I am amazed that Mr. Mueller feels he can judge all teachers and the value of advanced degree courses.

Also I am talking about the rule in Northville not the exception. I hope Mr. Mueller is the exception and not the rule.

Thanks, Mr. Guido for your kind comments.

Sincerely,
Naomi Poe

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP OFFICES, FIRE-POLICE BUILDING

Is library grant jeopardized?

complex does not constitute a threat to city-township joint service programs

He described the proposed complex as relatively small — 11,000 square feet — probably only large enough for fire and police purposes. He said that he did not think township voters were prepared to vote more money for operating the facility, but was confident with the passage of police millage that funds would be available for continuance of joint recreation, fire and library services

Swienkowski estimated the operating costs of the proposed new facility at $1,700 a year, not including maintenance. He said he doubted that all administrative offices could be moved to the new complex and that to equip and staff it would get into high figures. But he emphasized the need for a fire facility and described the bid for the new complex as an effort "to give the people the most we can for what we have."

The trustee said it was supposition to assume that the federal government would look at the city and township separately and make a choice between the projects. He noted that Township Engineer William Mosher had indicated it was his experience with federal programs to ask for all you can get.

Councilman Vernon said he respected the opinion of the city manager "who has experience and a good track record with such programs."

Manager Walters said that his reading of the regulations for the federal funding program indicated that bids are not judged on merit. He took a strong position that a bid for township complex would jeopardize the city-township library bid.

He described the chief objective of the federal grants was to create employment opportunities. He said application would be rated primarily on the degree of unemployment in the area and that it would be unlikely that one local unit will get more than its share for its area. He estimated Michigan's share of the two billion dollar project at $250,000,000 with the Northville area share, based on population, at an estimated $501,000.

Being located in the higher-than-average unemployment county of Wayne, the manager expressed the opinion that the city and township together would "stand a good chance of obtaining a joint grant for the library," but neither would have as good a chance by applying individually for separate projects.

The manager further indicated in a letter to the city council that it was his opinion that if the township submits an application for a township hall complex in addition to the library application, it will be asked to indicate its priority, "since it is unlikely both would be funded."

His letter to the council concluded "this could leave the city in a weak position. . . therefore it is recommended that if the township will not make a commitment that it will not submit a township hall application, then the city should apply for the library grant by itself."

City Manager Walters expressed his apprehension to the visiting township board members "We're sitting here with a 4-3 board vote for the library, one we must depend upon. What do we have to fall back on if the board vote changes... or the new board votes against the library?" "It's not a 4-3 vote against the library, rather our concern on how we could operate the library. You're well aware of our budgeting problems," Clerk Sass responded.

Treasurer Rosenberg admitted the next fiscal year "will be tough." He called for closer relationship between the city and township to work out the library budget.

"I hope the next board will work hard for continuation of shared services," Rosenberg added.

The treasurer also emphasized that the boardmembers were not at the council meeting "to ask permission" to submit an application for the fire-police complex. "I'm not yet sure it's the place and time for a fire and police complex," he stated. But he said the township officials attended the city council meeting "to tell you what we are doing."

Councilman Vernon expressed appreciation of the attendance by the boardmembers and suggested such meetings should be more frequent.

Councilman Paul Folino, as a city representative on the joint city-township recreation commission, said the commission wanted to continue the shared program of recreation service.

Clerk Sass and Trustee Swienkowski agreed that city-township partnership programs should continue. The former expressed some concern over the city's attitude "based upon information received."

At its August 16 meeting the council did express alarm at the possible inability of the township to continue its partnership role in shared services following millage defeats for library and recreation programs.

Councilman Vernon was the most outspoken advocate of examining all shared programs with the township to be certain of equity and to determine what the cost would be to the city if it were forced to provide the programs alone.

He said Monday that The Record story covering the city's concern over the shared services, although accurate, "was under-played." Conversely, township critics have questioned whether the city is serious about its September 27 meeting to examine shared programs or whether the story was "overplayed."

Councilman Stanley Johnston asked the township board members if they interpreted the vote for police and against library and recreation as an indication the township "wants to go its separate way on services." "Our concern is not a matter of wanting to continue shared services, but the fear you'll be unable to maintain an equal partnership," Johnston noted with Vernon's concurrence.

Trustee Swienkowski said he did not interpret the vote that way. He re-emphasized his belief that separate city-township services would be undesirable.

A key question first was asked by Rosenberg regarding application for federal funds for the complex.

He questioned whether another application from the same area wouldn't place in jeopardy the joint city-township application being made for a community library.

Trustee Swienkowski, who earlier outlined reasons for calling the meeting, stated he understood each would be evaluated on its own merits, saying, "I am not going to try to rationalize what the government is going to do and I don't recognize a risk."

He added, "I'm not going to assume they (federal officials studying the grant requests) are going to be prejudicial. I'm not going to prejudge."

Rosenberg disagreed, commenting, "It's clear that not every community is going to get even one grant. There's no way Northville Township will get two and others not any."

MacDonald concurred, saying "We've spent over $4,000 for library planning, why dilute its chances?"

On the status of the Thompson-Brown property, Swienkowski said, he became concerned when the attorney said a township could not give away land without a vote of the people and that the agreed upon transfer to drop the reverter clause would have to go on the November ballot.

He outlined this as one of three courses of action that might be taken.

Others were to begin construction of the complex by April, 1977, to comply with the original requirements, and, third, to enter into an escrow agreement with Thompson-Brown whereby when the reverter clause took effect the approximately 6-2 division would be made with six acres returned to the township.

It was stated that it takes about 50 days notice to place the question on the November 2 ballot.

Swienkowski said he had spoken with Lawyers Title and Trust Company who had first told him the new agreement would require a vote of the electorate.

The question of "whether we stand a chance of losing the property" and the advent of a public works bill that might happen once in 30 to 40 years to provide a structure without cost to the taxpayer, Swienkowski said, made looking at the plans drawn up about six years ago seem "not a bad idea."

Swienkowski indicated he is concerned about the third route of placing a deed in escrow.

Richard Ambler, from the audience, asked the attorney how the action might be in "jeopardy."

Morgan replied that he had only "suspicions" rather than reasons for feeling so based on changing operations of Thompson-Brown.

Rosenberg, in calling the question for action, stipulated that specific operating costs of such a new facility be ascertained, that Thompson-Brown be contacted regarding a grading plan, that the clerk and supervisor enter into discussion with the city government to determine what its reaction would be to the applying for a public works grant and regarding shared services and also to take steps toward placing the land question on the ballot.

If it is approved at the September 8 meeting to go for federal funding, the application will be ready to send by September 9, or whenever the government permits application to be made.

Although the decision to call the special meeting was made Tuesday, the press was not notified until 2:45 p.m. Thursday, the day of the meeting.

Had the press received notice Tuesday an item could have appeared in the August 25 edition informing the public of the special session.

virtually nothing the township building."

Mrs. Carol Forrer told the board that it should be aware that there are those in the township "who do not want to see a township complex built" and who are concerned about the need for money to maintain it.

As trustees pointed out that the township now has the fire station of the Wayne County Training School, Ronald Cousineau told them that it is true it is a "beautiful facility" but he felt it was located in a "very poor area" to provide protection.

In discussing the reverter clause in the land gift from Thompson-Brown Company where the township hall-complex would be built, trustees Swienkowski and Richard Mitchell said they had found it illegal to give back land as proposed.

In return for dropping the reverter clause which would return the eight acre parcel to the firm if construction were not started by April, 1977, the company was asking for two acres on Six Mile Road. An escrow arrangement whereby the six acres would be returned to the township free and clear after the reverter date had been proposed.

Richard Ambler, a township resident-on-Timberlane, asked the attorney, Donald Morgan, if he felt the escrow arrangement could be considered "a serious risk."

Morgan replied he had "suspicions" rather than reasons, citing the firm's changes in operations.

Morgan confirmed for Mark

Lysinger that any arrangement giving back land owned by the township would need a vote of the people.

Ambler questioned why this couldn't be done while also entering an escrow agreement.

Working for such a ballot proposal will be on the agenda for the next special meeting set for 8 p.m. September 8.

Board president to resign soon

Northville School Board President Sylvia Gucken announced Monday that she will be resigning her board post in the near future.

The yet-to-be announced specific date of resignation is necessitated, she explained, because of her husband's promotion and upcoming transfer to Pennsylvania with the firm of Fischer & Porter.

As soon as it is clear when her family will move, Mrs. Gucken said she will submit a formal resignation. Present plans, however, suggest the family will remain in Northville through the first semester of this school year.

"I really regret having to move," she told The Record later, "because we love Northville so much."

If it appears the family will move in December — dependent upon the sale of their home here, Mrs. Gucken said she will resign in November so that a newly appointed replacement will be in office when the board begins looking at objectives in December.

"Of course, I would have much preferred to time my resignation so that an election could take place. But that isn't the way it is working out," she said.

First woman ever to serve as school board president, Mrs. Gucken is a native of Pennsylvania and it was there she received her BS degree in education. She was first elected to the school board four years ago. She was elected president in June of this year after having served as vice-president.

It is expected that when Mrs. Gucken resigns, the board will appoint a replacement and then elect a new president. The board could, however, call for a special election to fill the board vacancy — but based on past board practice such an election appears unlikely.

Weekend flings abound

Summer's passing, but still time to vacation

By CARL DAVIES

As the summer days continue to wane and hints of fall and winter appear more and more frequently, many are still looking for ways to keep the gray spectre of winter at bay, to hold onto the threads of summer just a little longer.

For most, this year's vacation is long since a memory, but there still remains one last buffer to ease our minds and spirits into the new season: the weekend vacation.

Southeastern Michiganders are indeed fortunate — not so much for what we have in terms of culture and entertainment at our disposal — but for the geographic accident that places us within an automobile or a train ride to such exciting getaway spots as Toronto, Stratford, and Mackinac Island.

So you're not ready to let the pleasures of summer vacationing slip through your fingers.

How about a weekend mini-vacation?

When a would-be weekend traveler drops by his South Lyon office to inquire about the whys and wherefores of weekend escapism, the first thing travel agent Jerry Duncan asks is: How much do you want to spend?

This question, Duncan says, is not necessarily motivated by his desire to make a buck, but by sheer practicality.

There are so many places to go and so many things to do upon arrival that one is wise to follow the practice of the smart Las Vegas gambler: decide in advance your spending limit and plan your weekend from there.

Consider Toronto. Whether you're a member of the smart set and desire to eat each meal at a different ethnic restaurant or whether you just want to pack the kids in the back seat of the car to show them a good time, you'll find Toronto most accommodating.

Toronto is at once cosmopolitan and provincial. One can debate the artistic merits of Henry Moore's controversial sculpture, "The Archer", located in the courtyard of the $30 million modernistic city hall at Nathan Phillips Square or haul the kids down to the amusement park at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds which is at least equal to Cedar Point for plain midwestern fun.

Moreover, Toronto is a clean, "comfortable" city. People from all corners of the globe stroll the streets at all hours of the day and night. There is little paranoia in the air. Detroit could take a lesson or two.

From this area, Toronto is approximately 5½ hours by automobile, depending upon the frequency and duration of rest stops. Take Highway 401, the MacDonald-Cartier Freeway, out of Windsor.

Upon arriving in the Toronto environs take Highway 427 south to the Gardiner Expressway.

When you arrive in Toronto around 11 on Friday night, have a late snack in Chinatown on Dundas Street just west of Yonge Street, the main north-south thoroughfare.

Remember to exchange your currency at a bank here, where you can get a three percent exchange rate, which means you'll get 97 cents in Canadian money for every American dollar. Don't wait until you get to Canada. Some of the merchants are known to charge a five percent, or greater, exchange rate.

If you don't feel like driving, many hotels in conjunction with the railroads and airlines offer weekend packages which can include anything from travel by train plus accommodations at a hotel for two evenings to such fringes as tours, tickets to cultural events, and dinner, at extra cost, of course.

One such package, Duncan says, allows one person to travel by train from Windsor and stay for two nights at a moderately priced, but famous, hotel in downtown Toronto for $49. Travel time from Windsor to Toronto by train is four hours.

For $56 per person, the traveler can stay at a posher hotel near the city hall. For the extra $7 a continental breakfast is offered each morning at the hotel. The Ontario hotel tax and the bellman's gratuity is thrown in for good measure.

These lowered rates take effect September 10.

Rates for weekend packages vary considerably according to hotel and season, so check with your travel agent for specifics, Duncan advises.

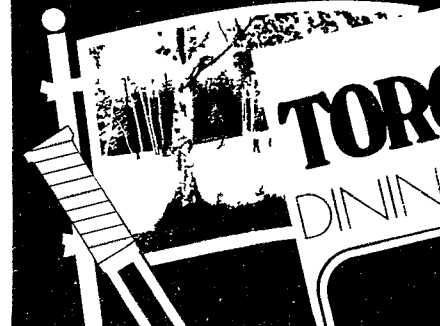

Also be sure to read the fine print in advertisements for travel packages, so that you know exactly what you are getting for your money.

That sightseeing tour or those tickets to Ontario Place or Casa Loma may not be free after all when you are finished scrutinizing the fine print.

Upon arriving at Toronto, you'll probably want to get a good night's rest, so that you'll be awake and refreshed for Saturday's sightseeing.

If you can't sleep and wish to plunge into the thick of things, take a late night stroll up and down Yonge Street, a potpourri of night life.

While a big city presents a short-term traveler with a myriad of choices of things to see and do, Duncan suggests that a first-time traveler to Toronto take a tour to gain an overview of the city.

A 1953 Bristol Lowbridge double-deck bus imported from England provides charming tours of old Toronto.

Sponsored by the Toronto Transit Commission, the bus leaves city hall and offers interesting commentaries on such sights as the Ontario Parliament, the quaint, but trendy, Yorkville area, and the University of Toronto.

A horse and buggy tour also leaves city hall and provides a romantic evening interlude through the bustling streets.

To gain a true overview of the city venture to the observatory at the top of the Toronto-Dominion Centre at King and Bay streets at sunset Saturday evening. The city of towering glass skyscrapers takes on an especially radiant aura at sunset when viewed from on high.

As the sky darkens and the lights of the city begin to come alive, you will marvel at such sights as the nearby 1100-foot CN tower, Toronto's newest landmark featuring a revolving restaurant, or Ontario Place, a man-made island on Lake Ontario.

These and other sights you may want to catch during the daytime include: Casa Loma, a chateau-type castle; the Ontario Science Centre; the Art Gallery of Ontario, or Toronto Islands Park, Toronto's version of Belle Isle, except that no automobiles are permitted.

Toronto cuisine runs the gamut of ethnic specialties such as French, Austrian, German, Greek, Italian, Indian, Pakistani, Mexican, Portuguese, and Polynesian fare.

If you don't wish to travel 275 miles to Toronto for your weekend retreat, why not venture to Stratford where there is still time to catch a weekend series of Shakespearean and contemporary drama at the Stratford Festival Theatre.

Located 159 miles northeast of Windsor, Stratford, like its English namesake, has an Avon River, and the atmosphere is rich in the Elizabethan spirit.

If you're in the mood for a weekend infusion of culture and entertainment, you still have time to see several Shakespearean classics in repertory, including "Hamlet", "Midsummer Night's Dream", "Antony and Cleopatra", and "The Merchant of Venice."

There are several hotels and motels in Stratford, Duncan says, but he cautions the tourist to make reservations well in advance.

He has known spur-of-the-moment travelers who had to return home or seek lodging at Waterloo, Woodstock, or London, because Stratford's accommodations were filled to capacity.

Contact the Festival Theatre Box Office, Stratford, Ontario, N5A6V2, for ticket information.

The weekend vacationer who wants to get away from the slings and arrows of metropolitan living and insists on going American at the same time, should consider traveling the well worn path up I-75 to

Mackinac Island

Mackinac Island.

It's about a six-hour drive, but well worth it, as you'll have to leave your car at Mackinaw City or St. Ignace and take a breathtaking ferry ride across the Straits of Mackinac to the island where autos are forbidden.

Accommodations are available on the island until around the first of October with the renowned Grand Hotel carrying the highest price tag.

Aside from the sheer natural beauty of the island with its ravines, natural bridges, caves, rock formations, and spectacular views of the straits, the island also boasts the historic old Fort Mackinac built in 1780.

Other historic attractions include the first Protestant mission in the midwest, the Astor fur post, and the Beaumont Memorial, dedicated to the renowned American surgeon, William Beaumont.

While facilities for traditional summer recreation are available, the island becomes a spectacle of color as October looms closer and the leaves begin to turn. The weekend vacationer has plenty of options for making his brief escape.

One final word to those who prefer to remain within the vicinity of the Detroit, Ann Arbor, Pontiac metropolitan area.

Take a look in your own backyard. There's plenty to do this weekend.

Calvary Baptist founder returns to student life

What sends a successful man, twice a father and grandfather back to college in the years when many people are beginning to look forward to retirement?

In the case of Pastor DeWayne Hallmark of the Calvary Baptist Church of New Hudson it was the desire to "serve the Lord more effectively."

Pastor Hallmark preached his final sermon at the remodeled church on Grand River on August 29. As the children of his congregation return to local schools, he is beginning the long commuter trek to the Detroit Bible Divinity School in Allen Park.

His immediate aim is to earn a Master of Divinity degree, a goal which he estimates will take three years. A Master of Theology and a doctorate are his ultimate goal.

"The schedule calls for a full 16 hours of graduate work and I plan to continue to work part-time at a machine tool firm in Oak Park. It will be a heavy schedule but I'm trusting in the Lord to give me the ability to discipline myself to handle it," the minister says with a smile.

It was four and one half short years ago that Mr. Hallmark came to New Hudson to begin working with the new Calvary Baptist group which was being organized as a part of the missionary outreach of the Wixom Baptist Church.

The church which began January 13, 1972 as a Bible class of six people meeting in the home of Mrs. Delbert Brewer has grown to a membership of 50 with sometimes as many as 83 persons attending Sunday services.

By June of that year, the tiny congregation had grown to 25 and had begun holding regular Sunday services in the New Hudson School. Searching for space for expansion and desiring the stability of a real church home, the congregation purchased the former Guntziller taxidermy building west of New Hudson in 1974.

Working like the proverbial beavers, 16 men and women spent a full three days readying the building for occupancy.

"They scraped and cleaned and put on 40 gallons of paint that week. We started on Wednesday and we had it ready by Sunday," said a pleased pastor.

"So many people have contributed so much. We've even had a bus donated to us by the Silvercrest Baptist Church near Pontiac. We've painted it and reworked it and feel really fortunate to have it."

From its inception as a mission church, the New Hudson congregation had received support from other churches in the Conservative Baptist Association (C.B.A.) but Pastor Hallmark notes proudly that the church became self-supporting early this year.

Mr. Hallmark is treasurer and a member of the board of C.B.A. His wife, Lee, always his helpmate in each new endeavor, is a vice-president and member of the ladies' board of C.B.A. as well as being very active in the Missionary Fellowship in the Detroit area.

"This decision to go back to school has been one she and I have prayed over a great deal. She has joined me 100 percent in making this move."

"This summer she has been doing typing for the Coastal Research Center at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. She says the experience will come in handy when she has to type papers for me while I go to college."

The Hallmarks are parents of two daughters. Their youngest, Teresa, is beginning her fourth year at Maranatha Baptist Bible College in Wisconsin. She plans to go into teaching in a Christian day school.

Their oldest daughter, Annette Johnson lives in Washington state with her husband and two daughters. The tiny New Hudson church was the first one which Mr. Hallmark pastored. Holder of an engineering degree, he had previously worked for General Motors. He later attended the Midwestern Bible College in Pontiac where he received a bachelor of Bible degree.

Prior to coming to New Hudson, he had worked as a layman in the Flint area helping to "build-up congregation there."

Under the guidance of the C.B.A., the men of the New Hudson congregation are currently searching for a new pastor for their church and plan to continue the work which has achieved so much under Pastor Hallmark's leadership.

The Reverend DeWayne Hallmark poses by the sign of the church he organized

Volunteers needed to help blind students

"A very special type of volunteering for the person who likes a challenge" is being offered in September.

Volunteers to enroll in a weekly class to learn braille writing in order to transcribe books for blind students are being sought from the western communities around metropolitan Detroit.

Sponsor of the class to be held from 9:30 to 11 a.m. every Wednesday morning beginning September 15 and continuing through next spring is Temple Beth El Sisterhood.

An orientation meeting for anyone who may be interested is scheduled for that time next Wednesday, September 8, at the Carl Sandburg Library in Livonia, where classes will be held.

"All that is necessary to be a volunteer," explains Phyllis Remer of the sisterhood committee, "is for anyone interested to join the sisterhood with a $10 membership, which helps pay for the braille writing machines."

Mary Begle of Northville, a braille transcriber herself for many years, has been teaching the skill for more than eight years.

"It's something that should enhance anyone's life," says Mrs. Begle of this specialized volunteering.

It also is acquiring a skill, she points out, comparing it to learning to operate a typewriter.

During the months of weekly classes Mrs. Begle teaches the volunteers the 48 braille characters, including punctuation, that comprise the braille alphabet. The raised dots form various patterns in a "cell" in a basic six formation.

At the end of the classes next spring students submit a manuscript of their work to the Library of Congress and then become certified brailleists.

They then volunteer through the Tri-County Braille Association to transcribe books for students who request them.

Mrs. Begle isn't sure that having a father who was an eye surgeon and a sister who taught the blind influenced her, but she remembers waking up one morning with a determination to learn braille. She's now appealing for others who would like this special kind of volunteering to come forth.

She cites the "need" of students for the books and is concerned that the association now has only about 42 brailleists doing this volunteering while in the past there were as many as 65.

Mrs. Helen Schneider of Northville, who took the course a few years ago, agrees that this is "for the person who likes a challenge" and points out that it is a very good kind of volunteering for anyone who would like to do her work in her own home.

KEN APPLE, of the new Star Furniture "sleep center" in Brighton, helps unload a truck delivering many brand-name furniture items, including beds, hide-a-beds, recliners, bunks, corner groups, tables, lamps and living room sets.

Star Furniture, Michigan's No. 1 Serta Mattress dealer, is located at 1011 Grand River in the Kroger shopping center.

"We want to bring to Brighton the idea of good merchandise at popular prices," Apple said. "We're devoted to the idea of relaxation with brand-name merchandise."

In an effort to further my doctrine of giving bouquets to the living rather than waiting until the person or persons have expired and finding it is too late to say anything nice about them, I would like to pay tribute to Mrs. Richard (Dorothy or "D.C.") Calmes of Northville. She is such an inspiring person made so by her total giving of herself to her church, her family and her friends, that it is an inspiration to be fortunate enough to be counted as one of her friends.

Two weeks ago I succumbed to the allure of owning and operating a CB set in my car. At first, I was mislead to think that the chief benefit of this fad was knowing where the "Smokies" or police speed cars were on the highways or freeways. This is not the case at all, because actually the police welcome the use of CB's. Wherever a police car is parked or traveling on a highway the CB warns motorists for miles around of the location of the police car, and suddenly, a mass of law abiders are created. Since the purpose of the police is accomplished by the observance of the speed laws, the use of CB's has reduced the number of tickets issued, and also lowered the accident and fatality rates. There is a warm fellowship involved in the use of CB's and frankly, it is a lot of fun.

People who like to participate in the operating of a sailboat or join in the joys of being a crew member are being offered a new series of vacations called "Windjammer Barefoot Cruises."

They have boats patterned on the old high sails called "Flying Cloud, Polynesia, and Yankee Trader," as well as "Fantome and Yankee Clipper." The Company brags that this is the greatest fleet of luxury sailing ships now in existence.

If you want to pitch in with the crew, hoist the sails, try a bit of navigation, that's fine. If you want to just relax and put your feet on the rail, face to the sun, that's OK, too.

Food aboard ship is excellent and abundant. There are three great meals a day plus a midnight buffet under the stars, or icy Bloody Marys on the house every morning, tall rum punches on the house every afternoon, wine with dinner every evening and a well-stocked bar where you can buy drinks in between.

When people say "this is the life," I presume this is the life they're talking about. Prices range from $290 to $400 per person depending on the quarters. If you take two successive trips, you can use the ship as your hotel between trips and achieve a $50 discount as well. The address is Box 120, Miami Beach, Florida 33139. Oh, to be young again.

Poinsettias require boost before frost

By KATHY COPLEY

A poinsettia which has struggled through the year since last Christmas deserves a little help in its final surge towards next Christmas.

Before the first frost, bring in the plants which—hopefully—have been vacationing outside. Poinsettias are quite sensitive to cold and will lose their lower leaves if they remain outside when the nights are too cool. (They will also lose leaves if placed in a cold draft inside.)

Place them in a cool southern window where they will get plenty of sun. Keep the soil moist and fertilize every 3-4 weeks. They will do best in an unheated room.

Beginning about October 1,

do not allow the plant to receive anything but natural light—no street lights, refrigerator lights, night lights. Poinsettias are short day plants, meaning that they need 12-14 hours of complete darkness to develop their colorful red bracts.

Under artificial greenhouse lights, give the plants light from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., complete darkness from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. This is longer than necessary, but it includes a wide margin for error.

Early in November, begin to water more frequently and fertilize every two weeks. By mid-November, buds should show and you can cease the darkness treatment.

Once the bracts have developed color, care becomes much less complicated. They need plenty of sun—at least three hours of direct sun daily, and cool temperatures coupled with freedom from drafts. Soil should be kept constantly moist. Daily misting with warm water is a good idea to raise humidity.

It may be a little premature to think about how to treat your not-yet-blooming poinsettia after it has bloomed, but all the information might as well be in the same place. When the red bracts have dropped (late February), gradually reduce water until the soil is almost dry.

Store the plant on its side in a cool (60 degrees), dark place. Water it slightly every few weeks, enough to keep it alive, but not enough to encourage new growth.

Once the weather warms, cut all stems back to six inches and repot in fresh soil. Gently removing the top two inches of soil and replacing it with fresh soil is an alternative to completely replacing the soil.

Water well so new, bushy growth will begin. When each

Star Furniture's grand opening began last Wednesday and will continue through next week.

"In the few days we've been here, the people of Brighton and surrounding areas have been wonderful to us," Apple said, "and we appreciate their patronage."

"We'll go out of our way to provide service to customers after we sell them merchandise. And remember, we always provide free delivery."

Star Furniture is open Mondays through Saturdays.

PATRICIA BARAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baran of Baran's Jewelry in South Lyon, has completed the six-day 1976 Jeweler Sons and Daughters Seminar in New York.

The course, attended by 21 outstanding sons and daughters of jewelers from across the United States, included lectures on sales techniques, financial management, advertising, window and in-store promotion, diamond jewelry, and digital watches by industry experts.

WILLIAM AND MARY Louise Luke have purchased the Northville Camera Shop at 124 North Center Street from Robert Webber, its founder.

Mrs. Luke took over management of the business on Monday.

Founded in 1965 by Webber, the Northville business was moved from its original location on South Main Street to the Center Street location in February of 1974.

The Lukes, who live at 615 Hickory Street in Milford, have a background in photography even though this is their first venture in business. He is associated with a photo processing company, and Mrs. Luke is a child's portrait photographer.

For the time being, the character of the business will remain unchanged, providing film, supplies, and photo processing. The main brand of merchandise carried by the firm will be Kodak.

The Lukes have five children.

M & B EQUIPMENT Company of Novi was lowest of 12 bidders at $3,350,012 for reconstruction and widening 1.6 miles of US-24 (Telegraph Road) in Oakland County, the Department of State Highways and Transportation announced.

GLORIA HACOLA, a Wixom resident, has opened the Handicrafter's Paradise shop in Highland.

The shop, which has been open for two months, features finished handmade craft items suitable for gifts. Much of the work is done by Mrs. Hacola while the remainder is on consignment from residents throughout the area.

In addition, the shop stocks supplies for the do-it-yourselfer including such items as hydraulic plaster for wall decorations.

Handicrafter's Paradise is located on M-59 a quarter mile west of Duck Lake Road and the telephone number is 887-7432.

TWO MONTHS of hiking, riding on a fire truck and field trips, including one to Maybury State Park, were just completed by the Novi Nursery.

The program for preschoolers is held at Willowbeck Farm on Beck Road in Novi because of its rural environment.

Children from Northville and Novi attended.

Registration for the fall class is still being taken. Children ages 3 to 5 are eligible to enroll for the program which will meet from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Socialization experiences will be emphasized for the younger children while readiness activities will be emphasized for the youngster about to enter kindergarten.

Mrs. Richard Norton, teacher and director of the nursery, says there will be snacks and field trips.

She will be happy to show the school to interested parents. Call her at 349-2467.

A REGULAR CASH DIVIDEND of 25 cents per share on the $5 par value capital stock has been declared by the Board of Directors of the Michigan Seamless Tube Company.

The dividend is payable November 24 to shareholders of record on October 25.

The Board of Directors also announced that Donald J. Morfee has been elected to serve as director until the next annual shareholders meeting which will be held in February of 1977.

Morfee served as president of Swindell-Dressler Company (now Pullman Swindell) prior to 1973 when he was elected vice-president of Pullman Incorporated. For more than 15 years prior to joining Pullman in 1965, Morfee was associated with the American Bridge Division of United States Steel Corporation. He holds directorships on two Pullman subsidiary companies.

MST President Carl E. Pfeiffer stated that the addition of "Mr. Morfee to our Board of Directors will strengthen future policy decisions in conjunction with the company's continuous effort to bring qualified business personnel into our leadership ranks."

BARBARA HEWSON'S Farmhouse of home accessories, paper goods, and gifts, will celebrate her first anniversary at the M-59 and U.S.-23 location.

"It has been an exciting and challenging year," said Mrs. Hewson. "And we will continue to select merchandise for our shop to fill the bill as that perfect gift or accessory."

Barbara, along with her husband, Alan, opened the Farmhouse in September of 1975, and has recently added an interior design studio at 7396 Orchard Lake Road at Northwestern Highway in West Bloomfield.

NEARLY 200 co-workers, business associates, friends and relatives attended a dinner dance retirement party Friday evening in Livonia to honor a Northville resident, Herman A. Wedemeyer, on his retirement from the Ford Motor Company.

Joining the Ford organization in 1951 as a manufacturing engineer, Wedemeyer worked continuously for the Transmission & Chassis Division and participated in the completion of several new model and expansion programs during the last 25 years which resulted in the growth of the Livonia Transmission Plant to more than three times its original size.

Married, and having resided in Northville with his wife, Betty, for 17 years, his retirement plans include continued residence in the area and, after a brief vacation, to utilize more than 40 years of accumulated experience and technical knowledge in the industry by writing in the field of manufacturing engineering technology.

Wedemeyer is well known in the Northville area as an active participant in community affairs, a member of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce representing the Northville Masonic Temple Association, and he has served as the presiding officer of the five Masonic orders which meet in Northville.

MANAGEMENT of the C.A. Muer Corporation, which operates a string of restaurants including Northville Charley's in Northville, has been realigned.

James W. Macdonald has been promoted to general manager-restaurants and William C. Kruse, Jr. to general manager-taverns, it was announced by Chuck Muer, president.

Kruse returned to Detroit in 1975 to develop the "tavern" restaurant concept for the corporation and opened its first restaurant of that type, Northville Charley's, in 1975.

The Light Touch

by ANN L. ROY

"Did you hear about the Ethnic Gentleman that was driving to Chicago — nearing Chicago he saw a sign on the Freeway that said "Chicago Left" — He turned around and went back home."

Two Ethnic Gentlemen were discussing their helicopter lessons — one said to the other, "I watched you on your solo ride, you kept going up and up, then I saw you come down really fast." Second Gent: "Well after I got up there it was so cold — I turned that big fan off."

How many sides are there to a tree?
Two, the inside and outside.

What is that animal which has the head of a cat, and the tail of a cat, and the ways of a cat, yet which isn't a cat?
"A Kitten."

What is the best way to keep a fish from smelling?
"Cut off their nose."

Dodgers fall in state semi-final

Northville's dream of a second state champion in junior league play-offs this year fizzled in the heat and humidity last Thursday afternoon.

The Dodgers, champions of the 13-and-under "F" League, fell to Allen Park 9-3 in the semi-finals of the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association (MRPA) state tournament held at Thomson Field.

Lansing defeated Allen Park, 19-0 to win the championship.

Two weeks ago the Reds, runners-up in Northville's "E" League for boys 15-and-under, upended Dearborn, 9-8 to win the state Inter-City championship in Allen Park.

The Inter-City Tournament attracts teams from across the state which finish second in their respective leagues. MRPA draws league champions from across the state.

The Dodgers, coached by Jim Robins, advanced to the semi-finals with an exciting come-from-behind 12-11 win over the Watford team, a week ago Monday.

But last Thursday it was Allen Park's turn to comeback.

Northville scored the first run of the game in the third inning when Jim Frader walked, moved to second base on a ground out, and then scampered home on a single by catcher Scott Robins.

Allen Park tied the game in the top of the fourth with a triple and a single. But in the sixth inning the roof fell in on the gummy Dodgers.

Allen Park converted three walks, two errors, two doubles and a triple into eight runs to give the visitors a commanding 9-1 lead.

The Dodgers got two runs back in their half of the sixth inning, thanks primarily to a double by centerfielder Paul Louicki.

Allen Park out-hit the Dodgers, eight to five, and their pitcher whiffed 14 Northville batters.

Scott Robins had two safeties for the Dodgers.

Allen Park moved into the finals later Thursday against a Lansing team which blanked East Detroit, 7-0.

In that game, the outstate team was led by its 6' 3" 230-pound pitcher Jim Keyton who allowed three hits while striking out 11 batters.

Keyton, who observers said was so big he just overpowered everyone, also had four hits including a home run.

In the championship game, Ron Hanses replaced Keyton on the mound and he was just as effective as he handcuffed Allen Park on three hits on the way to an easy 19-0 win in the state championship game. Keyton moved to first base where he blasted two home runs, including one over the left field fence, 275 feet away. He also socked a double and struck out twice. Nine Allen Park batters struck out.

Northville, Novi in state tourney

Outstanding hitting by Ed Kritch and Jeff Moon led Village Blues past South Lyon last week and into the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association (MRPA) tournament this weekend in Vassar.

Kritch banged out 12 hits in 12 at-bats and scored 10 runs in the three-game series. Moon blasted three home runs and drove in nine runs in the final game as the Northville Men's Slo-pitch champ took the best-of-three-game series in an MRPA district play-off held at Thomson Field.

Action won two thrilling one-run slo-pitch games last week to advance to the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association (MRPA) state championship in Vassar this weekend.

Village Blues had their backs to the wall in the series after losing the first game, 19-18. But the team came roaring back, winning the final two games handily, 16-6 and 11-8 in the championship.

In the final, Blues jumped off to a quick 3-2 lead in the bottom half of the first inning thanks to a three-run home run by Moon.

Marvin Miller of South Lyon had given his team a short 2-0 lead in the first inning with a four bagger of his own. The visitors added a solo run in the second inning to knot the score at three.

But after that run it was all Village Blues, thanks primarily to Kritch and Moon.

Moon's second shot, a two-run home run in the third inning, put his team ahead for good, 5-3. John Boland then followed Moon with a solo four bagger.

Village Blues went the singles route in the bottom of the fourth to add three more runs. Todd Eis, Tex Trumbull and Kritch all stroked safeties before Moon knocked in two runs with a single. Trumbull's single also drove in a run.

Dennis Horvath of South Lyon hit his first of two home runs in the game when he lifted a fly ball over the fence in the top of the sixth to narrow the gap a bit at 9-4.

Girl cagers brighten fall athletic scene at Novi

(This is the first in a three-part series reviewing the fall athletic teams at Novi and Northville high schools. Next week, The Record will preview the fall sports scene at Northville High School and the following week will analyze the football teams at both schools.)

By STEVE RAPHAEL

Chris Hayward makes no bones about it. "We're shooting for the state championship."

Ms. Hayward admits that's her goal every year but this year she feels she has the players to do it.

Certainly the coaching is there.

In her five years as girls' basketball coach at Novi High School, the Ladycats — a name the girls chose — have won three Southeastern Conference championships.

Girls' basketball is just one of five sports available to Novi youngsters this fall, but it's the lone sport for girls only at the small Class B school.

Novi offers varsity and junior varsity football, cross country and golf for boys.

But it's the girls who seem to have the best shot at a conference title for Novi this fall.

"We only have three lettermen back but we have a lot more height," says Ms. Hayward, a former track and basketball star at Central Michigan University. She welcomed 24 girls to practice two weeks ago.

Two of the three returnees, Elaine Maki and Dede Allen, will start at guard in a three-guard, two forward offense. The two seniors are four-year players for the Ladycats.

The third guard most likely to crack the starting five will be Maryann Winksky, who Ms. Hayward assesses as "just super."

The third monogram winner, Jeannie Withers, will provide much-needed depth at the guard position.

Ms. Hayward's teams have played run-and-shoot ball in the past, but the addition of two tall, agile girls is making the coach slow down offense and make it more deliberate to take advantage of the team's height.

"I've got two girls at 5' 11", Laura Birou, a junior, and Annie Robinson, a sophomore.

"Annie's extremely agile and she can jump," adds the 26-year-old mentor.

Other girls who'll play a lot are Betty Banks and Sue Beall.

One advantage for the Ladycats this year is the lack of quality in the league, according to Ms. Hayward. "We split the conference championship with Lincoln last year, but a midweek defeat killed athletics out there."

"And I think Brighton's program is in trouble financially," adds Ms. Hayward, who sees her toughest competition coming from Dexter.

Women's basketball got a moral boost this summer when the United States Basketball Federation changed the rules to make them uniform with the men's. Primarily, that means installation of the 10-second rule when bringing the ball up court, and no more stalling.

Basketball for women has finally arrived nationally, but at Novi it's been making waves for years.

Jeff Johnston is only 14 years old but Novi cross-country coach Norm Norgren is hoping that the youngster will lead Novi to respectability in one of the most grueling yet physically challenging sports around.

Last year was the first time Johnston ever ran but he gave the Wildcats the most victories. He finished 14th in the league. Norgren says he is aiming Johnston for the highly respectable time of 16 minutes this fall.

Pushing Johnston closely is Mark McKenney, a senior, who finished 20th in the league

"Last year both boys ran respectable times. But both have good potential and should battle each other for the top spot on the team," says Norgren, a graduate of Central Michigan.

"These two are excellent, serious minded kids."

But it takes five good runners and even solid ones to win a championship in cross country and so far only four additional boys are out for the sport.

"We're still building," admits Norgren, who's in his fourth year as head coach at Novi. "I need five to 10 newcomers this year to increase our chance of success."

"I thought the coverage of the Olympics and Frank Shorter might help, but what it really takes is a sound, successful program to get boys out," Norgren says.

Last year Novi finished fifth in the league to defending champion Brighton, which is favored to repeat this year. The team trains and runs at Cass-Benton park, a three-mile course that Norgren says can challenge anybody.

Other Novi youngsters out for the team are juniors Mark Byberg and Andy Anton, and sophomores Rahul Sanghvi and Paul Young. Another sophomore, Tim Smith, was injured and will join the team later in the season.

Tim Falls is relying on two undergraduate lettermen to carry the Wildcats on the links this fall.

Junior Richard Ling, and sophomore Phil McCarty, return to lead a team which is in the process of rebuilding, according to Falls.

Both boys shoot around 84, which isn't bad in the Southeastern Conference, Falls says.

The two youths led Novi to a respectable season. Although the Wildcats finished seventh to Dexter in the final standings, at a conference meet the team finished fourth.

"Last year we improved 10 strokes per match and still we couldn't gain any ground on the other team," moans fourth-year coach Falls, who is setting his sights on a 500 season.

But to do that, Falls needs six varsity players and two junior varsity players. Right now he just doesn't know how many boys will be turning out for golf.

"I guess the biggest problem we face out here is that none of my kids play on private golf courses. They're all public players, and that makes a big difference in their game," says the former University of Michigan star.

The team plays all of its home matches at the Godwin Glen Golf Course in South Lyon.

The Novi Athletic Boosters Association is again selling athletic passes this year for all Novi High School athletic events and middle school home football games. The pass is good for all family members.

The $25 donation goes to support the many athletic programs in Novi.

Founded in 1958, the association has used the money to purchase and maintain a weight machine, football scoreboard, pitching machine, dugouts and a press box.

Also, cheerleaders have been sent to camp, and athletic banquets have been sponsored thanks to the Boosters.

Because of the Boosters, the Novi School District continued its support of the sports program by equalizing pay for women coaches last year.

Make checks payable to the Novi Schools Athletic Fund and send them to Novi Athletic Boosters, P.O. Box 432, Novi, Michigan, 48050.

Rotarian tennis tourney successful

Northville Rotarians fifth annual tennis tournament attracted a record number of doubles entrants for the two-day event held last weekend at the high school and fish hatchery courts.

In addition, the Rotarians made $325. No decision has been made on how the money will be spent.

entered the tournament.

"It was a fun tournament and a lot of good tennis was played," said the good-natured township resident.

"A lot of the success of the tournament can be attributed to the courtesy of the players and their punctuality," added Henrikson.

But Moon's third home run in the bottom of the sixth knocked in two more runs to give the Blues an 11-4 lead. South Lyon rallied for four runs in the top of the seventh, but the comeback fizzled when Greer Cleavenger flied out to end the game with two men on base.

Horvath had a home run in the seventh inning. Village Blues outlast South Lyon, 13-11.

Action wins

The Novi Men's Softball League champ nipped Ben Powell Trucking of Independence Township twice, 7-6 and 10-9 in an MRPA district best-of-three game play-off held in Independence Township.

Action won the first game in the last half of the seventh inning when catcher Gary "Rusty" Staub socked a lead-off home run over the centerfield fence 381 feet away to win the game, 7-6.

Staub's blast saved his team from a possibly embarrassing defeat. Action had jumped off to a quick lead scoring five times in the first inning.

But Powell Trucking, which finished third in the state last year in the Class C championships, pecked away at the lead, tying the score at six before Staub's heroics.

Action grabbed a 5-3 lead after four innings only to see Powell knot the game at five with a pair of runs in the fifth.

Action then exploded in the sixth inning, scoring four times and seemingly put the game out of reach. Powell came right back with a pair of runs in the sixth inning to cut the deficit to two, 9-7.

But Joe Donner led off Action's top half of the seventh with a double.

Donner advanced to third on a ground out and then came home with his team's 10th run thanks to a sacrifice fly by Bill White.

Donner's run proved important as Powell rallied in their last at-bats.

The Clarkston-area team scored two runs to make the score 10-9 and had the tying run at third base with two outs when a Powell man grounded out to second base to end the game.

The next action for Action is Saturday morning against the winner of an MRPA district play-off between Greenville and Redford.

1 of 3 all-American brothers

Meet Northville's living legend—Al Wistert

In the beginning there was Francis. He was the oldest. When he played football from 1931-33 he was considered a giant at 6' 3" tall and 205 pounds.

Then came Albert. He was the youngest.

He was 6' 2" tall and tipped the scales at 210 pounds. His grid teammates called him "Ox" during his playing days from 1940-42.

Finally came Alvin.

He played from 1946-49 and carried his 223 pounds on a 6' 3" frame. His teammates called him "Moose" or "Wisty." In his senior year he was the captain of the team. Alvin was the middle brother and when he was named to the all-American team as a junior in 1948, it put the icing on the cake.

Francis, Albert and Alvin Wistert are living legends.

They ventured from the tough, brawling city of Chicago across Lake Michigan to excel in the classroom and gridiron at the University of Michigan.

Francis is now a lawyer and corporate executive in Toledo, Albert an insurance representative in the San Fernando Valley in California and Alvin a salesman in Northville.

All three men made all-American as tackles, the first and only brother trio in collegiate football history to accomplish the feat.

It isn't unusual that the feat was accomplished at Michigan, for there is, no college in the country that can match the Ann Arbor school in football tradition and accomplishment.

This point may draw loud howls of protest from partisans of the Golden Dome in South Bend where Notre Dame has been winning one for The Gipper on countless autumn Saturdays.

But much of Notre Dame's legend was manufactured by slick Hollywood producers and "B" actors like Pat O'Brien and Ronald Reagan, or in New York City by the legendary pen of Grandland Rice.

Michigan did it — and still does it — on the turf, grass or artificial, under the fiery, demanding Fielding H. "Hurricane" Yost, or the fiery, demanding Glenn E. "Bo" Schembechler.

Michigan excelled equally under the taunts of Yost, yelling "hurry up, hurry up," as his teams raced up and down the field at the breathless pace of a point a minute, or under the invectives of Schembechler, whose teams have threatened the abilities of more than one scorekeeper.

In between these two extraordinary coaches were extraordinary coaches. Like Bennie Osterbaan, considered the greatest athlete in Michigan history, and the last man to coach Michigan to a national championship.

Or Fritz Crisler, who molded that 1948 team into a national championship and who revolutionized post-World War II football by introducing the platoon system.

And, of course, the players. Fabled ends like the legendary Willie Heston or the contemporary Ron Kramer. Speedy running backs, like Old 98, Tom Harmon, Michigan's only Heisman Trophy winner. And Billy Taylor, the man who holds Michigan's career rushing record.

And the unsung linemen like Adolph Schulz, Julian Franks, Lowell Perry and the Wistert brothers, all who helped shape and perpetuate Michigan's glory and tradition.

"Yeah, you see the tradition in the locker room with the pictures of all those past stars on the wall," says the likeable Alvin Wistert.

"You hear about Yost and you feel you just want to contribute. There's that mystique. We say we're Michigan and we assume we're the best. Other teams have to beat us."

The years have been kind to Wistert who, at age 60, looks like he's ready and able to don the helmet and shoulder pads and mix it up with the 250-pound brutes who now dominate the gridiron.

Wistert weighs 235 pounds, 12 more than he weighed when he was knocking down opposing ball carriers.

"I'm concerned about my physical condition, I try to keep in shape but it's not easy though," he laughs.

Wistert has a delightfully expressive and elastic face. When he smiles his whole face expands vertically. When he is bemused or surprised his jaw drops down and his eyebrows rise on his forehead, stretching his face.

His hair is thin and parted in the middle as it was nearly 30 years ago. His hands are enormous and he still wears his "M" ring which is given to all Michigan seniors at a special post-season football banquet every fall by U-M's Detroit Alumni Association.

What makes Wistert's accomplishment so great was not so much that he was one of a trio of brothers to win all American honors, but that he played collegiate football at ages 30-33.

Men that age were retiring from pro football but Wistert was playing and excelling against much younger men.

"Those younger college kids didn't have an advantage over me," Wistert says.

"I had the incentive to make all-American. The only pressures on me were those which I put on myself. I was always overly self-critical of myself. I felt I had to be the best in the country."

If Wistert was motivated to make all-American, he also was motivated to get a college degree, his number one goal. "I dropped out of high school in 1935 and spent four years in the marines and private industry before I enrolled at Boston College."

Wistert stayed a year at the East Coast school before entering Michigan.

With the exception of that "M" ring and the muscular build, there is little about Wistert that suggests his exciting past.

He doesn't load up his home on Seven Mile Road with memorabilia.

"Most of his stuff is tucked away in drawers," says Wistert's wife, Nancy, who also has been treated kindly by the years.

Al and Nancy met when they were both students at Michigan. They married in 1948 and moved right to Northville. The couple has two daughters, one a student at Michigan, the other, a Michigan student who dropped out to get married.

All the visitor saw at Wistert's home that would suggest the host had an

Then Wistert pointed to an obscure cubby hole in the den where a portrait of the 1949 team hangs.

And suddenly, the memories, the pride and the love of Michigan football poured out as Wistert began reminiscing about the team and players.

"That team had great spirit. Fritz was demanding, he didn't tolerate much. I used to think he demanded professional perfection from rank amateurs," recalls Wistert. "Bennie was more easy-going."

Then he began singling out the players, their occupations, anecdotes about them and games played.

"I remember in 1948 against Purdue, they outweighed us by 20 pounds a man and we beat them 40-0."

"At Minnesota they scored first but we came back to beat them," says Wistert gleefully, who confides that he made a vow never to lose to Minnesota because Albert played on teams that never beat the Golden Gophers.

There's Wistert's remembrances of playing on a Michigan team whose winning streak was snapped by Army in 1949.

There was the painful knee injury suffered in 1949 against Stanford which slowed but didn't stop Wistert.

"Sure there's a nostalgic feeling," Wistert admits. "You can't help but feel nostalgic."

"But I'm not a perennial jock, there are other things in life," says the all-American who devotes much of his time working in the Northville probation office.

But like other Old Blues across the state and the land, Wistert is looking forward to this year's football season, especially since the so-called experts are predicting great things for the Wolverines this fall.

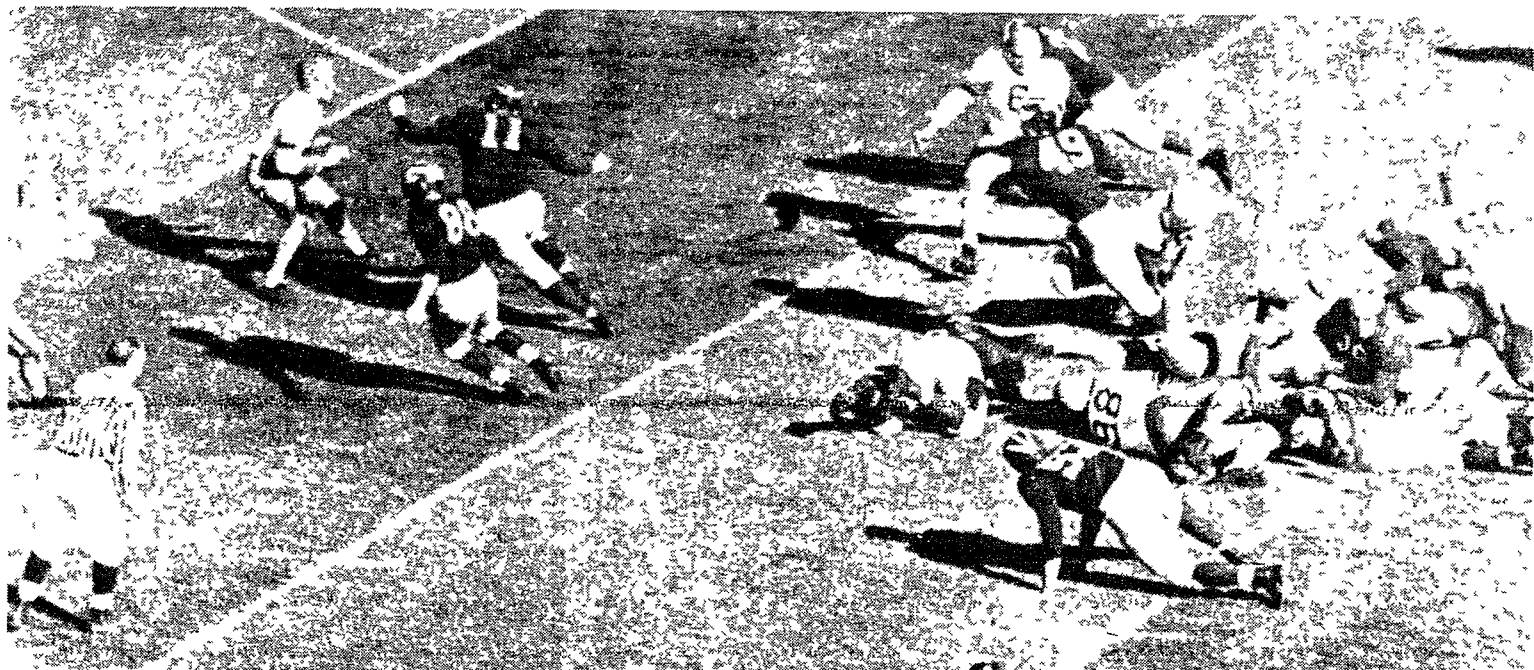

"I enjoy the games. Students are more avid now, more crazy passing bottles and yelling those wild cheers, but I don't think I'd enjoy playing today."

"I don't think I'd like platoon football."

"There are just too many other things to do."

Wistert in '49 and now 12 pounds over playing weight

Wistert (11) is 'daintily' about to block a Pittsburgh opponent as Bob Chappius (49) breaks through a hole in a 1948 game in Ann Arbor

The City Manager read a Resolution from the City of Allen Park voicing approval and support of HB 6425, which would give communities under 1,000,000 the right to approve, disapprove or renewal of local liquor licenses. At present local communities can approve Class C new issues and transfers but not renewals.

Councilman Vernon mentioned the City has to police the establishments under state law and therefore should be able to comment on license renewals.

Motion by Councilman Folino to adopt a similar resolution in support of HB
6425. Carried unanimously.

Motion by Councilman Folino to support by Councilman Vernon to approve an application filed by Steven Walters for temporary street closing of Langfield Drive from Novi St. to Canterbury Dr. on September 5, 1976 from 2:00 p.m. to 9 p.m. for the purpose of holding a book party subject to the Police Department and City Manager's approval. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager read a communication from State Construction Code Commission concerning the Barrier Free Design. It stated that state enforcement could be applied to enforce it.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS Mr. George Kuntz, Alpena, speaking for his parents who live at 610
Randolph and are selling and asked if it would be possible to rezone this area to Multiple (R-3). Paul Stenken, a neighbor, may be interested in rezoning of his property also.

Mayor Allen suggested he go to the Planning Commission with this.

Mayor Allen suggested making a petition or application to the Planning Commission who in turn would notify all property owners in the area and perhaps neighbors might want to make application jointly.

CITY TOWNSHIP SHARED SERVICES Councilman Vernon stated that he has been contacted by several citizens voicing their concern about the future of various City services operated jointly with the Township following the Township millage defeat for library and recreation services. He feels that the majority of City residents do not want these services curtailed because of reduced or terminated Township support, and therefore the City should review these joint services and give serious consideration to developing a plan which will allow the City to continue to provide these services to City residents regardless of the City
Township decisions.

Mayor Allen directed the City Manager to get copies of all contractual agreements with the Township and set up a special meeting to review these on September 27th.

PUBLIC HEARING ON ORDINANCE TO REGULATE SWIMMING OR WADING IN SWIMMING POOLS OR ANY NATURAL OR ARTIFICIAL BODY OF WATER Mayor Allen reopened the public hearing on the swimming ordinance which had been referred back to the City Attorney.

Mayor Allen asked if the City
Attorney had any recommendations.

The City Attorney explained the reasons for the ordinance. He commented this ordinance was the same one the Township had passed earlier to control the swimming in the Highland Lakes area. An ordinance other than a general trespass was needed. The primary intent is to keep people from swimming in public bodies of water and the City Attorney did not feel it would be a burden on anyone owning a pool. The City Attorney further commented the trespass ordinance states the property has to be posted and fenced and that people usually tear down signs as soon as they are put up.

Mr. Ingles stated he felt this was an invasion of personal property rights and asked how the City would enforce
it.

The City Attorney commented we are trying to control the problem at Highland Lakes. Anyone caught in the water would be in violation of the ordinance.

Councilman Johnston asked if neighbor "A" noticed neighbor "B" (pool owner) not home, what right would police have to go on property if anybody was using the pool under our present laws.

The City Attorney stated the police could only be called on disorderly conduct.

Mayor Allen asked if there were any more comments.

Councilman Johnston asked if any other communities had an ordinance of this nature.

The City Attorney commented he wasn't aware of any.

Councilman Vernon suggested a word change adding "or owner's representative" after the word
"owner".

Mr. Ingles commented he would see false arrest suits. He felt it would be better to limit the ordinance to natural bodies of water.

The City Attorney stated there weren't too many natural bodies of water around. In fact, there is only one in this county.

Mr. Carl Folmer commented he is a pool owner and felt this was a good protection policy.

Councilman Vernon again asked about the wording.

The City Attorney added "or any person designated by the owner to give such permission" to the ordinance.

Mayor Allen asked for any more comments and then closed the public hearing.

Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Folino to adopt an Ordinance to Regulate Swimming or Wading in Swimming Pools, or any Natural or Artificial Body of Water,
Title 4, Chapter 15, as amended.
Carried unanimously.

BIDS ON RESURFACING
STREETS Motion by Councilman
Johnston support by Councilman Folino to accept the low bid of Cunningham Gooding in the amount of $30,404.39 for resurfacing city streets. Carried unanimously.

ALLEN TERRACE FIELD SUPER INTENDENT Mayor Allen suggested the Council stay after the regular meeting and look over the applications for field superintendent.

AMERICAN LEGION LIQUOR LICENSE & DANCE PERMIT Motion
by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Nichols to approve the liquor license and dance permit for the American Legion. Carried unanimously.

SEPTEMBER 6 MEETING
CHANGE Motion by Councilman
Folino support by Councilman Johnston to hold the next regular meeting on August 30 since September 6 is a legal holiday. Carried unanimously.

AMEND ZONING FROM LCD TO GCD ON LOTS 112 & 116 The City Manager explained the memo requesting the rezoning. He stated it was compatible with the existing land use.

Motion by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Folino to publish for public hearing at the next regular meeting on August 30, 1976.
Carried unanimously.

MML ANNUAL MEETING
DELEGATE & ALTERNATE Motion
by Councilman Vernon support by Councilman Nichols to appoint Councilman Folino as delegate and Councilman Johnston as alternate to the MML Annual Meeting September 8 to 10, 1976. Carried unanimously.

DETROIT EDISON RATE
Elections The City Manager read the communication from the City of Highland Park dealing with the Detroit
Edison Rate Increase.

All communities in opposition to Detroit Edison Rate Increase were asked to pledge 2 percent of their 1975 annual street lighting charges or the $3,000 maximum whichever is lower.
Northville's share would be $903.00.

Motion by Councilman Folino support by Councilman Nichols to contribute our share, $903.00, and send to the MML, who is the disbursing agent for all funds. Carried unanimously.

PLANNING COMMISSION APPOINTMENTS Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Folino to approve the Planning Commission's recommendation to appoint Tom Wheaton as the Zoning Board of Appeals. Carried unanimously.

Motion by Councilman Vernon
support by Councilman Folino to approve the Planning Commission's recommendation to appoint Don Fee, 134 Rayson to fill the vacancy on the Planning Commission. Carried unanimously.

MISCELLANEOUS Mayor Allen suggested that Precinct No. 2 be moved to the old library area for future elections.

Mr. Sid Frid asked if he could put in an application for Field Superintendent. Mayor Allen commented he could, however, the application would be treated the same as the others.

Councilman Nichols asked whether the criteria for eligibility for the Senior Citizens Housing Project had been completed. A discussion followed. The City Manager stated the Housing
Commission was working on it.

The City Attorney stated he was trying to get a copy of the Pornography Control Ordinance from Detroit and thought he would have a copy for the next meeting.

He also discussed an ordinance to prohibit parking between the sidewalk and front entrance and vehicles in residential areas.

The City Attorney also stated that the trailers at Northville Lab are not used for Research and Engineering. It is now zoned R-3, nothing pertains to the use of storage or materials.

Councilman Folino suggested looking into the Board of Appeals minutes for something on this.

There being no further business,
Mayor Allen adjourned the meeting at 9:50 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan McAllister
City Clerk

$200,000.00 — March 1st of each of the years 1990 and 1991.

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds maturing in the years 1987 to 1991, inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after September 1, 1986, at par and accrued interest, plus a premium expressed in terms of a percentage of par as follows:

2 percent of par value if called for redemption on or after September 1, 1986, but prior to September 1, 1989;
1 percent of par value if called for redemption on or after September 1, 1989, but prior to maturity.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular circulation, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds, thirty (30) days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. No further interest shall be payable on bonds called for redemption after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the City has sufficient money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8 percent per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of one-eighth or one-twentieth of 1 percent, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period will be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rates bid shall not exceed 2 percent. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100 percent of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds were authorized at an election held March 23, 1976, and are issued as a first series of a total authorization of $4,825,000.00 for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of acquiring and constructing street improvements in the City. The bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Novi for payment of the principal and interest thereon and will be payable from ad valorem taxes, which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $34,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder may be immediately cashed in which even payment for the balance of the purchase price of the bonds shall be made at the closing.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from October 1, 1976, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Chicago, Illinois, New York, New York or Detroit, Michigan. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

CUSIP NUMBERS: It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on said bonds, but neither the failure to print such numbers on any bonds nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for said bonds in accordance with terms of the purchase contract. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on said bonds shall be paid for by the issuer; provided, however, that the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

FINANCIAL CONSULTANT: Further information concerning said bonds may be obtained from Bendzinski & Company, Municipal Finance Advisors, 910 Buhl Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226, telephone number 313-961-8222.
