

City seeks bids on Allen Terrace construction work

Northville's senior citizens' housing project moved a step closer to reality this past week with the authorization to seek bids handed down by the Northville Building Authority.

Action came last Wednesday as the authority's three members met with members of the city council, the housing commission and representatives of the architectural firm of Kamp KiComo Associates.

Bids are due Thursday afternoon, September 30. A pre-bid conference between prospective bidders and the architect is scheduled for Tuesday, September 21.

Meanwhile, it was reported that the bonding application is to be in the hands of the Michigan Finance Commission this week, with a decision by that commission expected by the end of September.

Preliminary construction of the estimated $2.1 to $2.3 million project is expected to begin yet this year — barring any unseen developments.

Named Allen Terrace after Mayor A.M. Allen, the housing development is to be located on the south hillside of the former Eastlawn Convalescent Center property that has been purchased by the city. Some 12 acres are included in this property located south of the high school.

The development is to contain 100 one-bedroom apartment units, plus one additional unit for the live-in manager of the project. Ten of the 100 units have been designed especially for the physically handicapped.

The complex will be approximately 84,000 square feet in size, all under one roof, with a common central core servicing three wings.

Included as part of the development will be an activities area with kitchen, laundry, arts and crafts room, library and meeting rooms with auxiliary areas such as lobbies, lounges, offices, common balconies, public toilets where necessary, elevators and required mechanical and electrical equipment rooms.

Allen Terrace is to be basically a three-story brick veneer structure with all required stairways of solid masonry

There are some areas of the complex where one-half of the building wing has four stories. In these cases the construction of the lower floor is to be

No contract, but teachers back at work

Unanimously nix latest board offer

Although they still do not have a contract, Northville teachers were expected to report to duty this morning pending resumption of negotiations tomorrow afternoon.

Year-round school teachers returned to the classroom yesterday (Tuesday), following the Labor Day weekend recess, as usual. Teachers in the traditional program attended the general staff orientation Tuesday morning.

Meeting Monday evening at the Presbyterian Church social hall, teachers unanimously rejected the board's last offer and "nearly unanimously" voted to return to work without a contract.

The decision to return to work, according to the Northville Teachers Association bargaining team chief, Richard Cross, "is subject to reconsideration at any time."

Cross said it was the recommendation of the bargaining team and the executive board of the NEA to return to work without a contract in hopes the action will influence a more positive bargaining posture by the school board.

The decision to return to work, however, in no way suggests the NEA is satisfied that bargaining has been improving, he emphasized.

"There has been no progress," declared Cross. "There hasn't been any progress since August 2."

However, Burton Knighton, the district's director of personnel, characterized the recent bargaining sessions as unproductive but hopeful.

The board's chief negotiator is Thomas Schwarze, an attorney, who also is involved with teacher negotiations elsewhere.

The two sides met Saturday afternoon and again twice on Sunday. State mediator Harry Reinfelder met with the two sides over the weekend, but he also was unable to resolve differences.

Members of the Northville Board of Education met Monday morning for nearly three hours to review the bargaining status.

Contacted Tuesday morning, shortly before the scheduled 8:30 a.m. staff orientation in the board meeting room, both sides agreed on two of the major differences. These include salaries and working conditions for special education teachers in the program for institutionalized children (ISEP).

However, Cross said two other serious areas of difference involve class sizes and restrictive contract language that hampers professionalism of teachers.

On the economic difference, the NEA pegs the difference for the first year of a three-year contract at 2½ percent. Knighton put it at "a couple percentage points difference." Neither side disclosed a dollar value of this difference.

Second and third year salary differences are dependent upon cost of living. Teachers want a cost of living clause, while the district's team finds the cost of living proposal unsatisfactory.

Uncertainty of the economy, which could conceivably push cost of living substantially above this past year's 5.1 percent cost of living increase elsewhere, could seriously jeopardize the district's ability to pay, said Knighton.

"The no-cap ceiling on cost of living," said Knighton, "is something where we have a major difference."

In the area of ISEP, the NEA has found unacceptable a working schedule for ISEP teachers.

According to Cross, "the proposal (of the board) is inadequate; the language is restrictive. The problem all along has been one of the board putting a proposal on the table and then finding out that it is contrary to law so they introduce a new one."

The board, on the other hand, contends the latest ISEP proposal is a realistic one which meets with professional advice and with the county, which has jurisdiction over the ISEP program, said Knighton.

Specifically, the board proposal suggests that the required number of annual instructional hours for children (and teachers) be modified to provide for shortened classroom hours during summer months. In other words, for approximately 45 days during the summer months there would be 3¼ hours of instruction daily rather than 5½ hours.

This proposal, said Dr. Knighton, grows out of the ## College talks resume

Two sides in the faculty negotiations at Schoolcraft College were prepared to work all night if necessary as they resumed bargaining at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Extension of the contract pending settlement was due to expire at midnight Tuesday.

If a settlement was not reached by midnight it was not immediately clear whether another contract extension would be approved or if teachers would strike in absence of a new contract.

Freeway's coming close

Sure sign that the new east-west M-14 freeway has moved far beyond the planning stage is evidenced by the amount of construction now underway at the west edge of Northville Road just south of Five Mile Road. Framed by trees located just north of the Hilton Hotel construction work on the roadway and the bridge over the Middle Rouge River is progressing rapidly. It won't be long when work on the Northville Road bridge over the new freeway begins.

M-14 freeway draws closer

I-275 to open this year

With construction work visible now from Northville Road, immediately north of Plymouth Hilton hotel, the new M-14 freeway is rapidly becoming a reality.

But don't look for this east-west freeway to be opened before late 1978.

"Optimistically, it won't be open for at least two more years," said Paul Daavettila, assistant district construction engineer for the State Highway Department.

Although construction of bridges and sections of earthmoving have begun or are about to begin east of Northville Road all the way to Washtenaw County, work is not likely to start east of Northville Road until this coming winter.

Contract for the Northville Road bridge over the freeway has not yet been let, and Daavettila and other officials of the highway department could not say just when it would be let.

Presumably, the Northville Road bridging work could begin next spring, according to Frank Simmons, administrative assistant for the highway department's southeastern district.

Meanwhile, however, construction work on the new north-south freeway (I-96 and I-275) is nearing completion and, according to Simmons, this freeway definitely will be opened late this year all the way from the interchange at Novi into Monroe County where it will tie in with the existing I-75 freeway.

And a major section of this north-south freeway, from Novi to the Schoolcraft and M-14 interchanges may open sooner, possibly in October, said Simmons.

"That's a portion we think will be heavily used, certainly by motorists in your (Northville-Nowi) area. I certainly hope that stretch will be opened as soon as possible," commented Simmons.

The north-south freeway parallels the east side of Haggerty Road.

Not scheduled for completion until next year is that portion of the new I-96 near Plymouth east along Schoolcraft Road into Detroit.

(The new I-96 freeway when entirely completed will run from the interchange at Novi, near Haggerty, south to Plymouth and then turn east towards Detroit. From Novi to the Plymouth interchange the freeway will carry the dual designation of I-96 and I-275. From Plymouth south into Monroe County the freeway will be designated I-275 only. From Plymouth east to Detroit the freeway will carry only the I-96 designation).

According to Daavettila, the M-14 interchanges with I-275 and I-96 have been completed.

Freeway work on M-14, which runs along the southern boundary of Northville Township, has been divided into sections, with each falling under the jurisdiction of a different project engineer.

Here is a report on these sections as disclosed to The Record by the project engineers:

Thomas Henderson — Two projects from the western Wayne County line east to Sheldon Road.

The first project, involving a stretch of 1.45 miles, includes grading and construction of two bridges, from the county line to just east of Ridge Road. The

Citizens protest

7 Mile apartments

Thirteen township residents representing the Grandview Acres subdivision homeowners group protested last week a preliminary decision by the township's planning commission which would allow construction of an apartment complex adjacent to their neighborhood.

The citizens voiced their protest at the monthly meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission held Tuesday.

At their July meeting, the planning commission gave preliminary approval for the construction of the 224-unit North Ridge apartments to be built by Northville Investors.

"We consider the apartments an infiltration of our neighborhoods," said group spokesman Joe Petro.

Petro was low key at the meeting while the remainder of his group sat quietly throughout their 10-minute session with the planning board.

Petro said the four streets directly affected by the apartments — Marilyn, Maxwell, Fry and Smock — are heavily wooded areas.

"The apartments will be built only 30 feet from our property lines. They'll have to knock out some of the forest in order to build the complex," Petro argued.

About a week before the late August meeting, the homeowners group met with commission chairman John Dugan about the problem.

LISA ARMSTRONG

Armstrong-Nirider truth told

Mr. and Mrs. C. James Armstrong of 44477 Thornapple Lane in Northville announce the engagement of their daughter, Lisa Kathleen, to Stan E. Nirider.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Essie Nirider of 985 Grace Street in Northville.

The bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Northville High School and a graduate of Michigan State University. She is employed as a media specialist for the American Red Cross.

Her fiancé, a 1969 graduate of Northville High School and a graduate of Hillsdale College, is employed by Shatterproof Glass Corporation in Detroit.

A November 13 wedding is planned.

Nancy Ambler weds MSU classmate

Nancy Jeanne Ambler wore a cameo necklace and carried a tiny crocheted handbag that are family heirlooms as she became the bride of James Clifton Worthley August 28.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ambler of 47033 Timberlane in Northville. The pale pink cameo she wore had belonged to her late maternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna Atchison.

Her great-grandmother, the late Susan Smith, had been the owner of the crocheted bag.

Officiating at the 6 p.m. ceremony at First United Methodist Church of Plymouth were the Reverend Samuel Stout, pastor, and the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of the Northville First United Methodist Church.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton H. Worthley of Alpena, and his bride participated in a symbolic candlelighting ceremony at the altar decorated with two multicolored floral sprays.

Nancy's cousin, Leslie Kendall, came from Kansas City where she had performed professionally at the Republican Convention to sing at the wedding. She sang "Amazing Grace" and "O Perfect Love."

As she was given in marriage by her parents, Nancy wore a gown of ivory lace with a matching Juliet cap holding her waist-length veil of illusion. The scoopneckline bodice fastened with little silk ties. The lace sleeves were full and gathered into deep cuffs at the wrists. Three tiers formed the long skirt.

She carried a matching bouquet of satin-tied cream roses.

Mrs. Robert D. (Diane) Smeed of Spring Lake was her sister's matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mark Murtha, the former Krista Pink; Mrs. Raymond Ascher, the former Gwen Spiker; Mrs. Thomas Schell, the former Gay Ketner; Mrs. Dane Fortney and Ann Holman. The latter two were college friends of the bride. They wore green print cotton voile gowns with triple-tier skirts and long, full sleeves. Lace outlined the square necklines.

They wore natural straw picture hats adorned with pink ribbons and miniature nosegays to match the multicolored ones they carried.

Jennifer and Jeffrey Worthley, six-year-old twin niece and nephew of the bridegroom, were flower girl and ring bearer. Jennifer, in a long beige dress, carried a nosegay arrangement.

James E. Anderson was best man. Ushers were Daniel Govin, Douglass W. Kane, William B. Worthley, Richard W. Ambler, Jr., and Steven J. Clark.

After a dinner-dance reception at Meadowbrook Country Club, with strolling musicians serenading the 200 dinner guests, the couple left on a wedding trip through northern Michigan.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES CLIFTON WORTHLEY

The couple met at Michigan State University. The new Mrs. Worthley is a December, 1975 graduate and was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority there. She now is in a training program at Chrysler Corporation.

Her husband will be student teaching this fall at Plymouth High School and will be assisting in coaching the football team. He will be graduated from MSU in December.

They are making their home in Belleville.

Family rents flat on Spanish coast

By JEAN DAY

AN APARTMENT on the Costa Brava of Spain doesn't sound like your typical vacation at a cottage on a lake, but Marilyn Donovan, her mother and three youngsters didn't find their summer on the Mediterranean too different from vacations here.

"We felt quite at home," Marilyn Donovan says, describing the lower unit of the flat they rented at Calella north of Barcelona a block-and-a-half from the beach on the Mediterranean.

"The little family above us lived in Barcelona, and the father came on weekends," she mentions, noting that living patterns aren't too different anywhere.

Mrs. Donovan, her older son, Mike, 19, who is returning for his sophomore year at University of Michigan, son, Billy, 17, and daughter, Nancy, 14, with Mrs. Donovan's mother, Mrs. Irma Miller of California, shared the summer adventure in Spain.

It all came about, Mrs. Donovan explained on her return last week, with the encouragement of her husband, Robert, who is with an international firm with a division in Spain. Through an employee in Spain, it was arranged to rent the flat in the little Spanish village.

The Costa Brava, Mrs. Donovan points out, is the northeast coast of Spain from Barcelona to France, and is not as frequented by Americans as the famous Costa del Sol. In fact, the Donovans were the only Americans in the village and, as such, were "oddities."

"We met only one American just before we left, an artist from Texas, who had been there 20 years," Mrs. Donovan recalls. Her husband, who was in Europe on business, came for a brief visit the latter part of July.

"Every Saturday night there are village dances," Marilyn Donovan relates, "when a band comes and everybody's there from grandmothers to babies."

From their Calella base the adventurers traveled to nearby pottery-making centers, Madrid (with symphony concerts on the plaza), and an adjacent fishing village where catches from the boats coming in were auctioned off to dealers.

They also flew to Majorca, staying at a hotel on Palma harbour of the island.

"You get very good at charades, and use your hands to talk," explains Mrs. Donovan who admits the hard part of such a venture is the difficulty in making friends for bridge, tennis or other social get-togethers when you can't speak the language well enough. She had little difficulty in the markets, she notes, but feels another time she would take Spanish lessons immediately on arrival.

She adds enthusiastically that she "would do it again next year" as she outlined how their 10-week vacation began with a charter flight from New York to Paris.

"It didn't start easy," she recalls, telling how her wallet was lifted in Paris where they rented a Renault station wagon to drive south through the Chateau Country of France.

"We'd buy a bottle of wine, some bread and cheese and picnic," Mrs. Donovan remembers. She says living costs in Spain are "pretty equal" to here, with fruits in season very cheap but fish and meat relatively high.

This week Mrs. Donovan was looking over slides of the trip with her mother, who plans to return to her home near San Francisco Sunday.

Son Mike, his mother reports, "made friends all over Europe" as he and fellow students from the U of M who came to visit used the Euro-Rail passes extensively.

This past week he unpacked just in time to be off with his father on a canoe trip down the James River in the East.

WEEKLY PRACTICES in flower arranging have been held throughout July and August by members of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association in preparation for "Horizons," the Bicentennial tea and flower show benefit being held next Thursday, September 16, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Edenderry home of Mrs. George Daraban.

Show chairman Ruth Whitmyer mentions that flowers have been picked from local gardens and been given by a funeral home for members to practice upon in preparation for making the 45 arrangements to be on view next week.

Tickets for the scholarship benefit still are available from members at $1.50. Mrs. Kenneth Pickl is ticket chairman.

September meeting of the branch at 12:30 p.m. next Monday will be at the Edenderry home of Carolyn Middleton with Dorothy Hartshorne, hostess chairman, assisted by Pat Caswell, Annie Nichols and Mary Ware.

Alice Aldrich will demonstrate how to build a terrarium using miniature violets while Hank Morrow is to display his sun hut. The guest day program is presented by the Indoor Light Gardening Society of Metropolitan Detroit.

AN OPEN HOUSE August 28 honored Mrs. Oscar (Lena) Hammond who marked her 75th birthday August 19. It was held at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kunz, on West Main Street.

Co-hosts were another daughter, Mrs. Russel Corbin of Rochester, Michigan, and a son, Walter of Bellaire. About 50 friends and relatives shared the punch and decorated cake.

Mrs. Hammond, who lived for many years on Center Street, now is a resident of King's Mill.

A NEW APPROACH to taking off pounds gained from ice cream sundaes at our town's new goody stops is offered by an Ann Arbor-based organization called Weight Control National which plans a local satellite program.

"It's an environmental problem," declares Lorraine Thrush, a Northville resident for three years at 41642 Rayburn Avenue and the mother of a daughter, 3, and son, 7.

"Every person who is the slightest bit overweight," she says, "should realize that he is affected by what's going on in his environment."

Mrs. Thrush, who has her master's degree in psychology of education from University of Michigan and is a reading teacher at Schoolcraft College, had just finished a training class in the program last Thursday night. She was delighted to report that she had lost nine pounds in 12 weeks.

She is hoping to start a local class with a group of eight or more in the program which, she says, "is strictly a plan of modifying behavior rather than dieting." Those in the class "interact," she explains; so at least eight are needed.

The Weight Control program, which has applied for non-profit status, she adds, places the emphasis for long-term loss on counter-stress training and mind-control techniques.

A PERSONAL Action Plan of Eating will be stressed in the new Weight Watchers class being formed at Innsbrook Clubhouse off Seven Mile Road. First session will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 22.

Charles Sena of Northville, a Weight Watchers graduate who has lost 50 pounds in the program, has been named lecturer for the new class. It is for men, women and young people. For information about the class call 557-6100.

Coffees will welcome new residents

Two get-acquainted coffees are planned by Northville Newcomers for next Wednesday, September 15.

A morning coffee will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Innsbrook Apartments community room. That evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. a second coffee will be held in the same location.

"The fall coffees are among our most popular events," says Newcomer President Claudia Berry, noting that new residents especially are invited to attend.

Membership in the organization is open to any person or couple living within the Northville school district who has lived in the community less than two years. Mrs. Glen Coultrip, 349-1676, is membership chairman and may be contacted.

Newcomers, Mrs. Berry points out, will be offering a babysitting service for all ladies' day activities. Mrs. Mike Walsh, 349-9315, is in charge of this service. Any member of Newcomers or anyone new to the community who plans to attend the morning coffee next week is asked to call Mrs. Geoffrey Halverson, 348-1542 to make a reservation.

A small fee will be charged for babysitting service. It is $1.50 for the first child and 75 cents for additional children. Reservations are being accepted now through September 20 for the fall ladies' day outing to Battle Alley in Holly, Michigan.

It will be Tuesday, October 5, with a chartered bus leaving Northville Square at 9:30 a.m.

After those participating browse through the shops in Battle Alley, they will board the bus to go to the Fenton House for lunch. Lunch is to be at each person's expense, Mrs. Berry says, with the bus returning afterward about 2:30 p.m.

Reservations are $3.50 to cover expense of the bus and may be made with Mrs. Fred Peters, 348-1053.

Babysitting at $3 for the first child and $1.50 for additional children will be available with the service to be at Northville Methodist Church. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Walsh.

Northville history's on-the-presses

"Please be patient, it's coming," advise the Quester organizations concerning the history, "Northville...The First 100 Years."

Sponsored by the Questers and written by Jack W. Hoffman, the book has been set in type and is now at the publisher in Ann Arbor where it is being printed. The hard cover work is being done out of Grand Rapids.

Best estimate of delivery at this time appears to be the end of September or early October. Questers are hoping it will be ready in time for distribution, to those who have already paid for it, by the day of the annual homes tour here on September 30.

Pre-sale of the first 500 books was necessary to finance publication.

Additional books are to be sold at a higher than the pre-sale price ($9), with all proceeds going to the Northville Historical Society for financing of restoration work at the Mill Race Village.

The project was a civic undertaking by the non-profit Quester clubs. The book's author donated his services.

"Northville...The First 100

Years" is the first of its kind here. It covers the period of Northville's history from 1827 to 1927, with a prologue concerning the glacial formation of the hills of Northville.

It traces the pioneering development of the community, highlighting the birth of the towns of Northville, Novi, Waterford and Plymouth; covers such events as the arrival of electric lights, the telephone and the electric streetcars; examines the homes and farms of some of the community's earlier inhabitants; and it contains comprehensive histories of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Lutheran and Catholic churches of Northville.

Pictures, many of which have never before been published, appear throughout the book.

Completely footnoted, the book also contains a lengthy reference of names, places and events so that the reader can quickly locate the pages on which they appear.

The jacket of the book was designed by Donald Fee.

Sports program 'discriminatory'?

Intramural sports object of board planned study

A one year study to determine what the acceptance would be to a strong intramural sports program in the Novi School District appears in the offing.

That decision came after a three hour round-robin discussion of school board members, administrators and staff members last Thursday during which concerns of school board members surfaced in relation to sports in the Novi School District.

Main discussion during the evening centered on whether the current interscholastic program was serving the needs and wants of the students and whether a strong intramural program could viably be added.

Main proponent of adding a strong intramural program was trustee James Helmer who maintained that the current emphasis on interscholastic sports "is discriminating."

"I'd like to see us having the majority of the student body in that philosophy," maintained Helmer. "I think we're expending a tremendous amount of money for a few people."

Board President Sharon Pelchat maintained that the current sports programs "are open to all" and that "Novi as a community wants a winning team."

Board Attorney Frederick Knauer asked, "Are you aware of what the students want? If varsity sports were cut out, would it be the kids on the team who want it back or would it be the student body?"

Dr. Helen Ditzhazy, principal of the high school, added that "We haven't seen the kids beating down the doors for intramurals. I don't see the kids saying let's let it happen. I don't know if it's because we haven't pushed it."

Dr. Ditzhazy added that at the previous school year where she was employed, Thurston, attempts were made twice to institute intramurals. It worked well for a year each time, but each following year fell through.

Dr. Robert Youngberg, principal of the Middle School, said that he favors intramurals.

John Osborne, athletic director, commented that possibly rather than changing the athletic program at the high school, perhaps intramurals should be offered in lower grade levels. He pointed out many students are unable to participate in intramurals after school because of work and other commitments.

Several board members indicated that a study of students is the only way to know for sure if an intramural program is actually wanted by students. While the general consensus was to go that route, Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz warned, "We're doing about all we can do. We get a whole lot of students involved and a whole lot of activities."

Meanwhile the board also discussed field trips and indicated a willingness to go with priorities as suggested by the administration.

That philosophy recognizes the importance of academic field trips. Second priority would be interscholastic athletics and related activities with the third and lowest priority being given to extracurricular field trips.

According to a board report given out at the previous regular school board meeting, "Academic field trips are approved, planned educational activities which involve students in learning experiences difficult to duplicate in a classroom situation. These trips would be totally financially supported by the school district." Attendance would be required and participation could affect individual marks.

Meanwhile interscholastic athletics and related activities field trips would be school organized and partially supported by the Board of Education and partially self-supporting (through gate receipts, for instance). Most often these trips would involve the students representing our school in various events or activities in an organized fashion such as a performance. Sports band, choral and orchestra trips are examples of interscholastic athletics and related activity field trips.

Extracurricular field trips are field trips considered extracurricular in nature due to the fact that attendance for such an activity is optional and participation does not affect the mark given for any particular subject or grade." Examples are ski trips, class trips, student, government conferences, club activities. There would be no subsidization of extracurricular field trips by the board.

In addition, the administration suggested that costs for students to ride spectator buses would remain $.50 and would continue to receive subsidization because it is not a field trip. Presumably the board would not subsidize ski club trips as it did for a short period last year.

'Excitement' in the air as Novi schools reopen

Novi's principals are 'pretty much' in agreement: both the staff and students are anxious to begin another exciting school year of learning together.

School begins today (Wednesday) for 2,888 students and 148 teachers in the Novi School District. Though today's session is only half a day, beginning tomorrow students and teachers alike will begin full day sessions.

"We're very excited about it," commented Dr. Helen Ditzhazy, principal of Novi High School. "It will be the last year for our students to be in this school."

"It's nice in June to have that change of pace, but now we're looking forward to what's coming up."

And with the new high school scheduled for completion within the year and the scheduled move next year, Dr. Ditzhazy says that many of the underclassmen, anticipating the move, are almost overlooking the final year's stay in the present school.

This year, 794 students will be at the high school, a slight increase over last year. In addition, 640 will be at the middle school, 540 at Orchard Hills, 483 at Village Oaks and 431 at the new Novi Woods Elementary. In the teacher's ranks, there will be 44 at the high school, 35 at the middle school, 24 at Orchard Hills, 23 at Novi Woods and 22 at Village Oaks.

In addition, the school board is expected to take action at its next board meeting to approve a list of 49 substitute teachers for the 1976-77 school year.

"The staff is looking forward to school opening," said Ester McDonough, principal of Orchard Hills last week. "We have some new things we're looking forward to."

Specifically, Orchard Hills will be a pilot school for the new Reading Instruction Management System (RIM), as well as a new spelling program.

"Many of our teachers have been in and they've already got their bulletin boards up. They're anxious to meet the children."

Dr. Robert Youngberg, Principal of the Middle School agrees that both the children and staff have been looking forward to the opening.

A long glide

Sophia Casoglos and Neil Brown say that they weren't really aiming for a spot in the Guinness Book of World Records. It was just for fun that the two reportedly stayed on a glider in Sophia's backyard for 12 and a half hours on Tuesday, August 31. Sophia, 13, of 20149 Buckingham Court in Novi and Neil, 10, who is from Philadelphia and was staying with neighbors, said they were planning on gliding through to the daylight hours of Wednesday but found their attempt cut short when it began raining at 10:30 p.m. Neil's only comment about the way he felt afterward was "dizzy."

Accident stats revealed

Novi escapes 'top 10'

Novi and Wixom have again succeeded in being two of the communities in Oakland County that have managed to stay out of Oakland County's list of the 10 most accident-prone intersections for 1975.

According to information provided by the Traffic Improvement Association (TIA) of Oakland County, top accident intersection in the county was Southfield and 10 Mile road with 88 accidents.

Others were: 2. Greenfield and 10 Mile, 80; 3. Telegraph and 12 Mile, 72; 4. Southfield and 12 Mile, 64; 5. Woodward and Square Lake, 63; 6. Rochester and Big Beaver, 62; 7. Woodward and 13 Mile; 8. John R. and 11 Mile; 9. Woodward and 12 Mile, 60; 10. Telegraph and Maple, 59.

Heavy traffic volume was cited by TIA authorities as the factor most responsible for the locations' high accident experience.

The closest Novi could come to being in the top 10 was the intersection of 10 Mile and Novi Roads which ended 32 accidents, way down in the standings. The TIA also provided dollar information which relates to property damage, hospital costs, wage loss and other direct cost items as relate to the traffic accidents.

The top 10 accident prone intersections in Novi for 1975 and dollar loss figures were: 1. 10 Mile and Novi Roads, 32 accidents, $69,060; 2. Grand River and Novi Roads, 24, $24,570; 3. 10 Mile and Meadowbrook, 13, $25,560; 4. Haggerty and 12 Mile, 10, $38,370; 5. 12 Mile and Novi Roads, 9, $16,020; 6. Grand River and Wixom, 8, $11,820; 7. Haggerty and Grand River, 7, $11,250; 8. 10 Mile and Taft, 6, $17,940; 9. Novi and 9 Mile, 6, $10,680; 10. Grand River and Beck, 5, $6,480.

In Wixom, there were no top 10 as only eight intersections had at least one accident in which damage totaled $200 or more as required to be in the statistics.

They were: Pontiac Trail and Wixom, 21, $30,120;

2. Pontiac Trail and Beck, 11, $20,790; 3. Grand River and Wixom, 8, $11,820; 4. Wixom and Ford Motor Drive, 5, $13,740; 5. Wixom and the westbound off ramp of the I-96 expressway, 3, $1,710; 6. Grand River and Napier, 3, $1,710; 7. Maple and Wixom, 1, $4,200; 8. Maple and Beck, 1, $570.

According to Bruce Madsen, managing director of TIA, "The frequency of accidents is basically a function of volume. Novi is lower (in volume) than you find in Southfield or the southeastern portion of the county."

While Novi had no intersections in the running for the top 10 of Oakland County on a frequency basis, according to Madsen on a per million vehicle count, the intersection of 10 Mile and Novi Roads was 23rd. Grand River and Novi Roads was 188th and 10 Mile and Meadowbrook 99th. A traffic light was recently put into operation at 10 Mile and Meadowbrook and hopefully will lower the accident rate.

According to Madsen, TIA does not get its records

Road paving disrupts Wixom business district

Combine road construction with the opening of school and there are problems. Close a road to the local post office and there are problems. Close a major road artery and there are problems.

But close two major road arteries and there are headaches.

Since the opening of school last week, Wixom Police officers have found it necessary to station themselves between Maple Road and Pontiac Trail on Wixom Road to allow speedy and safe entrance and exit of buses and school children from Wixom Elementary School.

Even though the road is posted as closed to "Thru" traffic, motorists still insist on driving around the barricades and involving themselves with construction equipment.

The problem is especially bad during the morning and afternoon hours with school

Helmer to resign board position

In a surprise move, Novi School Board Trustee James Helmer last week announced his resignation effective with the September 23 regular school board session.

Helmer made the announcement last Thursday at the end of a special study session. He said that he was making the announcement then so that all board members would be present.

Helmer blamed poor health and the press of business for his decision. "Physically it's getting to be more than I can handle," he said. "I don't feel it's fair to the board or the community to be under this stress."

Helmer was originally elected to the board to a four-year term which began in July of 1974. The 38-year-old school board member was treasurer of the board during the 1975-76 year. He lives in Village Oaks and is employed by Western Electric.

The board now must grapple with the decision whether to hold a special election or to appoint a successor. It is expected that the board will appoint a successor who would fill in the vacancy until the next regular board election in June of 1977.

In the past, the board has at different times inter-

Opening 1977

A birds-eye view of the new Novi High School on Taft Road at 10 Mile shows the great amount of construction which has been completed in the over one year of work. Approximately 55-60 percent of the $11 million high school is completed. Features of the new high school include the auditorium, round commons, and a swimming pool. The high school is expected to be open for use in the 1977-78 school year.

Local cook shares zucchini bread recipe

Zucchini's plentiful locally

Here's ways to use summer squash

With a bumper crop of zucchini, the delectable narrow, green-skinned variety of squash, being harvested in local gardens and available now at farm markets, housewives may be looking for different uses for this vegetable

From Nancy Dingledey of Wixom comes this suggestion for a moist zucchini bread:

ZUCCHINI BREAD

3 C. flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. cinnamon (optional)
2 C. zucchini, seeded and grated
2 large eggs
1 1/2 C. sugar (or less, 1 1/4 C.)
1/4 C. melted shortening (Crisco)
1 tsp. vanilla

Sift together dry ingredients. Beat eggs. Add sugar, shortening, vanilla. Beat well together and stir in squash. Then add dry ingredients. Stir only until moistened.

Makes two medium loaves. Bake at 350 degrees for about one hour, depending on size of pan. Test for doneness with toothpick.

Mrs. Dingledey adds that she has found that melted shortening, rather than an oil, makes a less sticky bread, but says, "It's a matter of preference."

A variation of this recipe is obtained by adding 3/4 C. crushed pineapple, well-drained. Chopped nuts also may be added.

Northville teenager Lisa Ward makes this Zucchini medley:

STOVE-TOP ZUCCHINI

1 medium zucchini, sliced
1 onion, sliced
1 or more tomatoes, cut into pieces
1 C. grated cheese

Cook first two ingredients in skillet with butter or margarine and small amount of water. When just cooked, drain excess water and add tomatoes and cheese. Continue cooking only until cheese begins to melt. Serve hot.

From "Our Favorite Recipes," cookbook compiled by the Novi Welcome Wagon Club, comes this suggestion for zucchini, contributed by Hazel Mellen:

BATTER-CRISP SQUASH RINGS

1 lb. zucchini or summer squash
1 C. pancake flour
1 C. milk
Fat or oil for frying

Wash squashes and cut crosswise into 1/4 inch slices. Mix pancake flour and milk and beat until smooth. Melt fat about 1 inch deep in heavy fry pan or electric skillet to 375 degrees. Dip squash slices in batter, fry in hot fat a few at a time, three minutes, or until golden brown.

Drain on unglazed paper; sprinkle with salt and keep hot in slow oven until serving time.

Phone help available to canners

Conflicting recommendations for home canning procedures appearing in print, confuse the less knowledgeable canner, says the Oakland County Public Health Division.

It is concerned because such confusion can lead to mistakes which can result not only in spoiled foods, but the possibility of becoming ill from eating foods improperly processed.

The Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, in the person of Anne Stevens, home economist, is the local county resource for food processing information.

If the answer is not immediately available a "hot line" call by Ms. Stevens to Michigan State University will get the needed information in a very short time

Ms. Stevens can be reached at 858-0904.

A report done by Pennsylvania State University in January, 1976, on the sealing performance of various jar lids indicates that jar lids manufactured by Anchor Hocking, Ball, Klik-It and Torque-Rite produced no canning failures due to improper sealing.

The results of canning fresh fruits and vegetables can bring great eating pleasure and produce a sense of personal satisfaction. These can be achieved if the job to be done is fully understood and properly executed, stresses Ms. Stevens.

Past Matrons meet next week

Orient Chapter Past Matrons Club will meet at 12:30 p.m. next Wednesday, September 15, at the Plymouth home of Mrs. Marion Damtias.

A portion of the modular office previously used by Security Bank of Novi is readied to be located near the Novi City Hall following recent council approval of the purchase. It will be located south of the current city hall and will feature a drive-in window for payment of water bills. As well as housing the water and sewer department, the building will also contain the controller's office and the city's computer. Purchase price was $5,000 though total cost of the move and subsequent renovation is estimated at $11,000. The building will not have to meet barrier-free design requirements.

Mammoth sunflower

Mrs. Donald Kossak of 44417 Cottisford Road in Brookland Farms in Novi had to use a stepladder to show off the giant nine and a half foot sunflower which grew behind their residence. The sunflower, which weighs several pounds, is the largest that the Kossaks have ever grown, although they have several others growing behind their house.

• OBITUARIES •

Mary Elizabeth Donovan, 74, long-time former employee of The Northville Record, died Thursday morning of cancer.

She was a resident of the Whitehall Convalescent Home in Novi at the time of her death.

For years Mrs. Donovan lived on South Rogers Street, later moving to an apartment on Beck Road following her retirement as bookkeeper with the newspaper in 1972. She had been ill for several years.

Born July 10, 1902 in Indianapolis, Indiana, she was the daughter of John Henry and Sarah Nancy (Wilson) Beckner. In 1944 she married Dr. John Donovan, a dentist, who died in 1951.

A year after Dr. Donovan's death, Glenn Cummings of Northville Township, former publisher of The Record, persuaded Mrs. Donovan to move from her home in Belding, Michigan to Northville and join The Record staff as an accountant-bookkeeper.

The Cummings had been friends of the Donovans for many years, Dr. Donovan having been an attendant at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cummings.

When The Record's current publisher acquired the newspaper in 1956, Mrs. Donovan was retained as the bookkeeper. In addition to this post she performed a variety of other jobs for the newspaper.

Prior to joining The Record, Mrs. Donovan was associated for many years with the National Cash Register corporation, traveling extensively throughout the country in setting up NCR accounting procedures with clients.

For years as a resident and businesswoman of Northville she was an active member of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club. Surviving her are a sister, Eva Mae Wacker of Indianapolis, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service was conducted from Casterline Funeral Home on Saturday morning, with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, of the First Presbyterian Church, of Northville officiating.

Later Saturday afternoon Mr. Brasure again officiated at the graveside service in the Belding Cemetery.

SAMUEL ALLEN

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. last Saturday for Samuel Allen, 65, of Southfield at the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home.

The Reverend Joe Everett officiated. Interment was in South Lyon Cemetery.

Mr. Allen, a retired engineer from Cadillac Asphalt, died September 2 in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. He was a member of Southfield Community Church and an honorary VFW member.

He was born September 12, 1910, in Michigan to Louie and Bessy (Bliss) Allen.

He leaves his widow, the former Violet Powell; a son, David J.; daughter, Mrs. Roy (Bobbie) Castro; a sister, Mrs. Eva Juliano; 21 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

THOMAS F. CONNELL

Funeral services for Thomas F. Connell, 71, of Pontiac, were held Monday morning, August 30 at Ted C Sullivan Funeral Homes, Inc. Mass was held Monday at Our Lady of Refuge Church in Orchard Lake before services, and a Rosary was said 7:30 p.m. August 29.

Mr. Connell died August 25 in Mt. Carmel Hospital following a lengthy illness. An insurance broker, Mr. Connell also was a coach at the University of Detroit High School and later at Our Lady of Lourdes.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Northville.

Pastor Peter Nieuwkoop of St. Johns, Michigan, will officiate at the service. Interment is to be in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Board studies Novi Elementary sale

It could take several years to sell the old Novi Elementary, but board members are not unhappy about the prospect.

Meeting in a special study session last Thursday, Novi School Board members hashed over the involved question of what to do this year with the vacant Novi Elementary — and what the long-term prospects are for disposal of the building.

Almost universal feeling was that in order to sell the old structure for the replacement cost of a new building, the structure would have to be held onto for several years while land value of the property appreciates.

Meanwhile, the board indicated that at least for the present time there are several uses for the building. The administration recommended that some materials for the new high school be stored in the structure. In addition, the Lakes Area Senior Citizens, which had been allowed to use the cafeteria in the middle school will be located in Novi Elementary. The high school alternative education program will also be located in the school.

Adding to the problem is the connected community building which utilizes the heating plant of the elementary school, yet is owned by the city. The intent of the administration, which was backed up by board members, was to continue to allow the community building to be used by residents in the same manner it had been used previously.

Meanwhile, Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr indicated that there may be a garage sale of items left at Novi Elementary. He noted, however, that many items have already been salvaged and others sold. Our Lady of Victory has already purchased several dozen desks.

"We need to hang onto that building until it gets to the point of value we think it should be," said Trustee Joel Colliau. "If we sell it today, I think we're foolish."

While there was general agreement on waiting to sell the structure, board members were divided as to whether the structure should be leased to profit-making organizations. Intent of leasing the building would be to have someone in the structure and to offset the cost of heating, lighting and maintaining the building.

Trustee Robert Wilkins maintained his stand that the building should not be leased. He noted that any lease would have to be for 3-5 years in order for a profit making company to recover initial costs of renovation. He noted that if a buyer came along, the buyer probably would not wait for the lease to expire. Wilkins added that the building would also have to be taxed by the city. He had noted at a previous board meeting that the board could come under criticism from the public for renting it to a profit making organization.

However, trustee Joel Colliau appeared in favor of leasing the structure. "I'm just opposed to that building just sitting there three or five years and being a drain on the district."

All board members indicated being in favor of keeping all options open and looking at proposals as they come in.

The board continued to be in agreement that the community building will have to be purchased from the city and should be purchased contingent upon sale of Novi Elementary. However, board indicated that it may ask the city to join in paying the cost of lighting and maintaining the community building, which had been mostly done by the school district previously.

While the board indicated it wanted to keep the community building open, Wilkins pointed out that if the board should decide not to heat the building, thus possibly have the effect of throwing the city out of the building, then it ought to pay the city for the community building so that the city could proceed to build other.

Noting that the value of the school and community building property is the land itself, school board members agreed that when the community building is purchased from the city, it should be at a price which is equal per acre to what the school district would receive from the sale of the whole property on a per acre basis. That matter is expected to be discussed at a special school board-city council meeting Thursday, September 16.

Board indicated it is willing to go with the recommendation of the administration on the current uses for the building and continuing to receive and consider lease proposals. An information item to that effect is expected at Thursday's board meeting while action on it probably be taken at the next regular board session.

Disrupt business

buses arriving and departing. Use of mounted police officers has helped ease the situation with traffic citations issued to those motorists who fail to heed the posted signs.

Wixom School Principal Donald Lamb praised both the police force and construction crew for their daily aid saying "They have done their utmost to keep disruption to a minimum."

"Just what will happen during actual paving is another story although the construction company has stated they will maintain vehicular access to the school," continued Lamb. Lamb also suggested that any business with the school be done by telephone to avoid undue traffic in the area.

Added to the Wixom Road enigma was the announcement last week by the C & O Railroad that Beck Road traffic would have to be closed between Pontiac Trail and West Road. Crews there are tearing out the entire railroad crossing.

That announcement drew moans from city officials but they said the crossing was in such bad shape it had to be corrected.

"We didn't have much choice in their decision to work there," said Assistant to the Mayor Bernard Van Osdaile. He said any complaints on their timing might delay the much needed crossing repair even further. "Besides, we have traffic problems in the city at the best of times."

Railroad spokesmen said the crossing would be closed for only one week with construction expected to be completed this Saturday.

Motorists using Beck Road have long complained of protruding railroad spikes and the extremely tilted angle of the crossing itself. Police officers said it was amazing trains could make it over the crossing without literally falling off the tracks.

"Motorists will just have to be a little patient and either choose alternate routes or allow more time during construction," said Police Chief Philip Leonard.

The total construction job on Wixom Road will probably not be completed until spring

Police Blotter

Officers confiscate $60,000 in narcotics, stolen goods

HELPING HOOF—Fast becoming known as Wixom's answer to "Sam McCloud," Police Officer Roger DeClercq and steed "Cimmarron" keep a watchful eye on departing children from Wixom Elementary School. As the children have become familiar with the "helping hand" displayed in windows as a place to go for aid, so have they become watchful for the familiar horse and rider. Road construction in front of the school on Wixom Road has made it necessary to use a mounted officer to direct traffic to and from the school. More easily seen and certainly more mobile, the horse has proven to be a valuable asset in both crowd and traffic control.

In Novi

A search and seizure operation netted police a cache of about $40,000 in narcotics, plus about $22,000 in stolen goods Tuesday morning.

According to Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson, an informant told police where to find the items and police entered an apartment in the Novi-26 Apartments at 1 a.m. and recovered what Nelson described as $40,000 worth of illegal narcotics and associated paraphernalia. There were different pills, tablets and kilos of marijuana.

In addition, recovered was a "van load" of stolen items including skill saws, drills, pneumatic power tools and photographic equipment which Nelson said were taken in breakings and enterings, larcenies and robberies throughout southeastern Michigan.

Nelson refused to disclose the name of the suspect pending decision of the prosecutor's office on court charges. The subject, who was said to be an ex-convict with a long record, is currently in jail on another charge.

A number of charges are expected against three juveniles stopped by officers Thursday, September 2 for curfew violation.

According to reports, officers on patrol at 1:49 a.m. stopped a group of youngsters in a car at the Seven-11 store on Meadowbrook Road. Found in the car were two citizen band radios and an AM-FM radio which it was later determined had been stolen. In addition two baggies of marijuana were found. The subjects, who included a 13-year-old Novi girl and two 16-year-old Novi boys, were released to their parents and petitions are to be filed on all three for possession of stolen property, drug violation and curfew violations.

A reported robbery occurred September 1, but police will have to determine if what was stolen was $250 or drugs with a similar value.

According to reports, 17-year-old Diane Stamp of Walled Lake told police that her husband had been arrested at Beer Hill in Hines Park for being drunk and disorderly. She was taken home by three men to get bond money and she told police she picked up $250 to bail out her husband.

The woman said that on her way back, one of the men told her to "hand over the money and not cause any trouble or she would get 'beat up'." She said she surrendered the money and exited the car on Novi Road at 13 Mile. She called police with a description of the car and the license number.

Ann Arbor police located the car at an Ann Arbor home and arrested three men in possession of $200 to $300 worth of PCP. One reportedly admitted taking drugs from the woman, not money. Two adults, Lawrence Drewry, 20 of Ann Arbor, and Richard Gann, 17 of Ann Arbor, as well as a 16-year-old juvenile were arrested and charged with unarmed robbery.

Meanwhile a search warrant was received and the Stamp home in Walled Lake was searched with PCP and other narcotics reportedly being recovered. Warrants are pending as a result of the find.

The driver of a car was injured in the early morning of Tuesday, August 31 when his car struck the back of a construction vehicle going westbound on Grand River in the early morning of Tuesday, August 31. The construction vehicle reportedly has only a small light near its top and no other running lights or a reflecting triangle. The accident occurred while it was dark.

Injured was Ralph Doerfling, 27, of West Bloomfield. He was taken to Botsford and reportedly suffered the loss of most of his teeth. Driver of the construction vehicle, John Sommers, 36, of Fairhaven critical condition following a motorcycle accident August 30.

Norman "Chip" White of Hopkins Drive was injured when he drove his motorcycle into a chest-high steel cable separating a lake access lot in the Northridge Subdivision from Detroit Edison property.

Following the accident, which occurred at 4:15 p.m., White required nine pints of blood before surgery to correct a severed liver. Other injuries included a broken arm and several broken ribs.

White was rushed to Botsford Hospital where he remained in the intensive care unit until he was transferred to another hospital for further treatment.

A Detroit man was charged with leaving the scene of a personal injury accident and carrying a concealed weapon in the incident which occurred August 28. Wixom Police officers apprehended Jimmy Pawlaczyk who was then turned over to Novi Police since the arrest was made in their venue.

Wixom responded to an accident call at Grand River and Napier Roads. They were told by the victim that the driver took off south on Napier Road after striking her vehicle as she was attempting to make a left turn. Pawlaczyk was overtaken approximately 1 1/2 miles south of Grand River on Napier.

Four wheel covers from a Cadillac valued at $430 were stolen August 31 from the parking lot of Saratoga Trunk.

An alarm which was just installed the same day netted police the arrests of two men in the Novi Woods Elementary August 26.

According to reports, police were called to Novi Woods at 12:30 a.m. and officers discovered Eric Gow, 20, of 26550 Taft Road and Gary Banks, 17, of 44922 Grand River in Novi inside.

Reportedly about $500 in items were piled up ready to be taken from the elementary when officers arrived. One outside window was broken. Both men were released on $1,000 personal bond in 52nd District Court.

A 20-year-old Detroit man drowned while swimming in a lake off Napier Road between 11 and 12 Mile roads last week.

The body of Larry Canady, 20, of Detroit was recovered by divers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Wednesday morning in approximately 25 feet of water, 30 feet from the west bank and 50 feet from the north bank of the lake.

The drowning occurred Tuesday, August 24, at approximately 7 p.m. South Lyon police responded to a dispatch from the Milford Police Department that a drowning had occurred at that location.

Witnesses told police that the victim was attempting to swim from shore to shore, but was a poor swimmer and disappeared beneath the surface approximately 30 feet from shore.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department divers were summoned and they began their search for the body at 8:35 p.m. The search was called off due to poor visibility at 9:35 p.m. and resumed at 8:15 a.m. on Wednesday.

Divers recovered the body at 10:40 a.m. The body was subsequently sent to the Oakland County Medical Examiner's Office, police reported.

In Wixom

A 15-year-old Wixom youth remains hospitalized in lights because he said the light shines in his bedroom.

Lori Carruthers of Beck Road was injured when the car she was driving was struck from behind as she was preparing to make a left turn from Pontiac Trail onto Beck Road. The incident, witnessed by two police officers, occurred shortly after 3 p.m. August 31.

Those officers said the second driver apparently did not see the Carruthers car stop and struck the rear of the car. The force of crash sent the first vehicle across Pontiac Trail into a field

In Northville

Four Locust trees belonging to the city were found broken off approximately one foot above ground level. City officials placed a value of $140 on the trees.

The trees were located on the west side of a fence line behind Michigan Bell property.

In one-half hour, unknown persons spray painted a car parked next to a home on East Cady Street Thursday. The owner reported the paint job done to both sides of the vehicle with grey spray paint.

An apparent head-on collision at Eight Mile and Sheldon Roads Saturday found at least four persons transported to Botsford Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Still under investigation by Northville City Police is the accident that ultimately involved three cars. A motorist eastbound on Eight Mile struck the second vehicle as the driver was attempting to make a left turn onto Sheldon. The force of the crash carried both cars into the path of a third car stopped at the traffic signal on Sheldon Road.

In Township

A 1972 Ford pickup truck reported stolen in Livonia was recovered by Northville Township Police Friday. The truck was found in a field area at Franklin and Bradner Roads minus both rear tires.

The interior of the truck also appeared to have been ransacked although nothing was reported missing.

A 12-year-old Northville Township youngster was taken to St. Mary Hospital after suffering third degree burns to his legs Sunday.

A friend, who was playing with the victim at the time of the accident, told Township Police the injured boy suggested they play "pyro". The two boys put some gas in a coffee can and went into a wooded area behind the victim's house.

There they dipped three limbs into the gas, lit them and swung them in the air. The boy continued relating that they then spilled some gas on the ground and ignited it.

Although police have been unable to confirm the story due to the condition of the injured youth, it is thought that some gas spilled on the boy's pants leg and caught fire.

Officials at the Detroit House of Correction reported the escape of three women prisoners to the Michigan State Police.

A woman inmate serving time for an armed robbery conviction was last seen on the grounds of the facility at 4:30 p.m. August 25. Her whereabouts are as yet unknown.

On Thursday, two more inmates escaped the jail confines at 8:30 a.m. State Police are still seeking the pair, both of which were serving time for larceny from a building. The second prisoner was also serving time for assault with a deadly weapon.

A patient at the Northville State Hospital left the grounds of that facility sometime August 31. He was last seen at 10:30 a.m., although the escape was not reported until 1:25 p.m.

Hospital officials described the forensic patient as potentially dangerous.

A court committed patient, considered dangerous by hospital officials, failed to return from a visitation leave. He was scheduled to return August 26, but was not listed as an escapee until August 31.

Freeway opening in '76

contract has been let to Holloway Construction Company and work is scheduled to begin this week.

The second project, involving a 1.6 mile stretch, includes a bridge and large interchange at Beck Road, excavation, drainage construction and grading. This section has been delayed because of "legal complications" and it is to be readvertised for bid.

James Hanson — Two projects. First involves bridging over the railroad southwest of the Ford plant in Plymouth Township. The contract has been let to the C. A. Hull Company and work is expected to begin very soon.

The second project involves that section of the freeway from the Haggerty Road interchange to near the point where the Lake Pointe water tower was recently moved between Schoolcraft and Wilcox roads. It involves primarily excavation and bridging. The contract has not yet been let, but Hanson expects it may occur before the year is out.

Raymond Serier — Two projects. One project extends west from the Lake Pointe tower to and under Northville Road, and the other east of Northville Road to and including a bridge at Sheldon Road.

Work on the freeway from the Lake Pointe tower to Northville Road probably will not begin until next spring, although excavating work could start this coming winter. The project has not yet been bid.

This contract will include the Northville Road bridge. Contrary to some reports Northville Road will pass over the expressway, not under it, Daavettila emphasized. The freeway path east of Northville Road will carry it just south of the Five Mile Road intersection, across what was formerly the property of Carl's Place Restaurant, and run southeasterly in a parallel course with Schoolcraft, crossing over Schoolcraft near Wilcox Road.

It is this section of the freeway that has been deemed the most complex of its entire course, primarily because it travels through developed areas. It has involved the costly acquisition of property. For example, the state had to acquire Plymouth Township's fire department land on Schoolcraft and the adjacent land where the Lake Pointe tower formerly stood.

In reconstructing Northville Road over the freeway, the contract will build a temporary Northville Road around the bridge work. Then when the bridge over the freeway is completed, Northville Road will be shifted back over the new bridge.

No interchange is planned at Northville Road. The second project under Serier's jurisdiction is already well under way. It involves bridges at the Middle Rouge River, Hines Park drive and the C&O Railroad, excavation, grading and drainage work.

Grading right to the edge of Northville Road, just south of the Thunderbird parking lot, has begun. The Rouge River has been channeled and backed with boulders, and the superstructures for the bridges have been laid.

Excavating from the railroad track west to Sheldon Road has not yet begun.

Patrick Bergman of the highway department's Jackson office, project engineer in charge of that portion of the freeway in Washtenaw County, reported that work there is substantially ahead of construction in Wayne County because most of the land is undeveloped.

Presumably the portion of the new freeway in Washtenaw County near Salem Township could be completed by late next year or early in 1978.

Wixom supports rise in drinking age

After a lengthy discussion, Wixom council members recently adopted a resolution urging Michigan legislators to consider raising the legal drinking age from 18 to 19.

Patterned after a similar resolution received from the City of Royal Oak which asked that the age be raised to 21, discussion of that document came at the urging of Councilman Melvin Green.

At a previous meeting, council had voiced some opinions on the Royal Oak resolution with Green asking that it be placed on the agenda for thorough discussion.

Green said he felt very strongly in his desire to see the drinking age raised to 21 stating that "traffic studies have shown the lower drinking age has led to horrible slaughter on the highways."

Taking an opposite view, Mayor Val Vangieson said he felt just as strongly that if an 18-year-old could fight for his country, he should be old enough to buy alcohol.

Called upon by Councilwoman Lillian Spencer, Police Chief Philip Leonard said, "Obviously any addition to drinking drivers creates problems," but was quick to point out the problem was not solely one of drunk drivers.

"My greatest apprehension and to my way of thinking, the greatest disaster is that the lower drinking age has made alcohol accessible to younger kids. This country has more alcoholics between 12 and 14 than it has ever known."

Agreeing with the mayor on one hand, Councilman Robert Dingeldey said he had a quarrel with either 18 or 21 saying he would choose 19 as a better age level.

"Since most kids are at least 18 or older when they graduate from high school, I would think 19 would at least help to keep the alcohol out of the schools and away from younger kids."

Council said they did realize there were 18-year-olds who acted mature and rational but that the lower drinking age has brought on a rash of overindulgence.

Although Green said he would prefer to see the age level raised back to 21 he would agree to 19 as a compromise. "At least we can make the attempt to get it out of the schools."

GOOD TIME FOR WINE

by Jim Roth

From the northern hills of Piedmont to the sunny shores of Sicily, the land of Italy is extremely favorable to an abundant growth of vines, and the wines of Italy are among the most ancient known to man. As a matter of fact, the yearly yield of wine from Italy is sometimes greater than that of France. Lambrusco is one of Italy's most delightful wines, produced just west of Bologna, in northern Italy. Lambrusco is a rich, red wine, semi-sparkling and colorful, with a rich, fruity taste, and tantalizing tang.

For a delicious drink try a White Squirrel. This consists of 1 1/2 oz. of Amaretto and 1 1/2 oz. of White Creme de Cacao mixed into 3 oz. of Vanilla French Custard. The Amaretto and Creme de Cacao are available from us here at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477, and the custard is available next store at our "Custard Time". Open: 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Mon. thru Sat.; Noon-6 p.m., Sun.

Requires full payment

Tuition act to hurt Novi?

An amendment to the State Aid Act concerning tuition students could cause real headaches for many school districts.

For the Novi School District, it could prove to be a three year headache costing the district over $50,000.

The amendment, which was signed into law by the governor, requires that tuition pupils be counted in the district in which they reside. Then the district which accepts the tuition pupils charges the district of residence tuition of no less than the full per capita operating cost per pupil.

Novi, however, is in a peculiar situation. It will have 35 high-school students going to Northville as the result of an agreement with Northville after some boundary lines were changed last year, taking in the Glenda Street subdivision into the Novi School District.

Cost at that time, according to Northville Superintendent Raymond Spear would have been about $430 for each of the 35 students for a total cost of about $14,000 to $15,000 the first year. The number would decrease each succeeding year as those students graduate.

However, under the new bill, Novi would have to pay about $40,000 the first year, an amount which it has not budgeted for.

"When they (the Novi School Board) promised it, it was under the old formula," said Novi Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz. "It's a considerably different arrangement."

The bill also affects parents who are moving into a new school district, but perhaps will not be moved in when the school year begins. Under the new legislation, the full tuition for a year must be charged, which according to Dr. Kratz would be $1,200 in the elementary grades and $1,400 in the secondary for Novi. If the school district from which a family is moving will not pay the cost — as is usually the case — then the parents must pay.

According to Dr. Kratz, the state has advised school districts to advise parents in that situation to return to the residency school district and have the children attend there until ready to move.

But according to Spear, "I don't think it does a service to the children." He noted that some parents with homes under construction might not be able to move into a district until October and if the student must move from his old school district at that point it might not be in his best interest.

According to Dr. Kratz, the intent of the bill was to see to it that northern school districts with high schools would be paid fully when they took tuition students from districts with only K-8 programs. Spear added that the amendment is also aimed at students seeking to escape the Detroit integration problems by moving into suburban districts. This would help see that Detroit does not lose funds, Spear pointed out.

superintendent indicated the bill was good for most districts.

"I feel it's another legislative act that is not in the best interest of the kids," said Spear.

Both are optimistic that the amendment will be killed and Spear pointed out that it may well be postponed for a year. He added that will continue to oppose the bill.

Dr. Kratz added that "It's my professional judgment it won't be in effect."

Council names building boss

Richard W. Burton was the unanimous choice of the Northville city council at its August 30 meeting for the position of field construction superintendent for the Allen Terrace senior citizens' development.

Burton, 40, had been associated with the Thompson-Brown Company until last winter. His position as vice president and chief project coordinator for the firm involved management of the construction division including supervision of a project superintendent and staff.

Now a resident of Howell, Burton formerly resided in Novi and was a 1953 graduate of Northville high school. His job as field superintendent for the elderly housing project will involve supervision of building processes on behalf of the city.

A public hearing was held at the August 30 meeting to rezoned lots 112 and 116 along the north side of Seven Mile Road between South Main and River Street from LCD (local commercial) to GCD (general commercial district).

The council voted unanimously to approve the rezoning as recommended by the planning commission.

Two citizens from Walnut Street, James Thomas and Richard Warner, presented petitions from the area seeking two-way stop signs on East street at Walnut. They explained that traffic, mostly to and from the high school, travelled East street at high speeds endangering the safety of pedestrians.

The council voted to turn the request over to the police department for recommendation at the

Speaking for The Record

Novi shows sense by enforcing laws

Ordinance enforcement is important to any community.

Novi is no exception. But until recently, because of financial problems, Novi found it difficult to provide the manpower to enforce the ordinances on the books. Oftentimes before, the council would question the passing of an ordinance — even though it would be for the direct betterment of the community — because enforcement would be almost impossible.

About four months ago Novi reordered its priorities and began a crackdown on ordinance violators thanks to two new dedicated officers who realize the need to "get the city cleaner and better looking."

Naturally, anyone in such a position is going to receive flak when attempting to enforce ordinances which have been on the books but relatively inactive. We are happy to see Novi now enforcing ordinances regarding greenbelting, litter, junk cars, condemnations and weeds. Some of them not only can help the community from an aesthetic standpoint, they can also help from a health standpoint.

Many residents and businesses have taken a healthy attitude when contacted by the ordinance enforcement officers and have cooperated to the fullest in resolving ordinance problems. Others have not and have been issued violation tickets which will be decided in court.

We hope that more residents and businesses will comply with the ordinances and cooperate with control officers, realizing as they do so that they are helping to improve their community.

Split tax put to test

As the Northville School Board prepares its annual ritual of borrowing money, it is interesting to note that Novi for the first time in memory probably will avoid this costly procedure.

The Novi situation bears watching because that community adopted a controversial split tax collection system so that the school district need not have to borrow money each year as had been the case and which still is the case in Northville and many other school districts in Michigan.

According to Novi Superintendent Gerald Kratz, Novi will "squeak through" without borrowing money because it will have received half of its property tax money this summer instead of all of it next winter. The remaining half of its property tax will be collected in December and January.

Preliminary reports from the City of Novi, collecting agency for the school district, split tax collection produced little or none of the problems opponents had predicted. Final report has not yet been made because the deadline for payment of taxes occurred only last week.

"If we hadn't gotten the tax money early," said Dr. Kratz, "we would have had to borrow $1.5 million in September."

Meanwhile, the Northville School Board next week will authorize the borrowing of $2 million — and the bank loan will cost the district more than $70,000 in interest. The borrowed money will be used to pay bills that come due prior to the receipt of school aid and all school property taxes next winter.

The Northville School Board has several times requested that the city and township of Northville also adopt the split tax collection but the request has been shelved. The city council's position is that it will go along with the change if the township does. The township board, on the other hand, is reluctant to make the change because of a fear that the "pay half now and half later" system will antagonize its constituents.

Record loses friend

Last Thursday Mary Donovan finally succumbed after a five-year battle with cancer.

The disease did not claim its victim without a fierce struggle.

Mary Donovan was just about everything around The Record office for some 20 years until 1972.

She was always the bookkeeper.

At various times in her career she gathered local news items, want ads and printing orders; operated an engraving machine and a folder; stuffed newspapers; handled payroll, prepared statements, paid bills, calculated taxes, prepared monthly and annual statements and collected bad debts.

Ask anyone who was ever slow to pay a bill at The Record and they will remember Mary.

Hardworking and spunky, Mary loved her job and the people with whom she worked. The affection was returned even though there never was a person who worked with Mary who didn't fight with her at least once.

You never won a fight with Mary.

Cancer had a tough time doing that.

Speaking for Myself

Property taxes fair?

J.W. ERWIN

YES . . .

The property tax as a method of taxation to generate money for operation of local government and schools is the most fair for the majority of taxpayers.

Our present system appraises our real property and taxes us accordingly. Possession of real property is one indication of a person's ability to pay.

In this country there are many options open to a person who wants to accumulate wealth to some degree. If a person chooses to invest his money in real property in any community, whether it be in a business, home or land, he must recognize he owes that community where he enjoys investment success those tax dollars it needs for operation and local services.

It is nice to know that those who own property in this community and do not reside locally are paying their share in return for investment reward.

If an income tax, for example, should ever replace the property tax, this would not be the case.

Of all the tax dollars we pay every year most property tax monies stay in the community. Until a better method is proposed, the property tax remains the most equitable.

Stan Johnston

NO . . .

When this country was founded in 1776, the founders in their wisdom used the ownership of the land as the tax base. This was fair because most people were farmers including all of our early presidents, and thus, owned land.

In the 200 years since our founding, the tax laws have been changed many times, but the property tax remains today as a major means of support for schools and local government, even though major property owners have shrunk to less than 35 percent of the population.

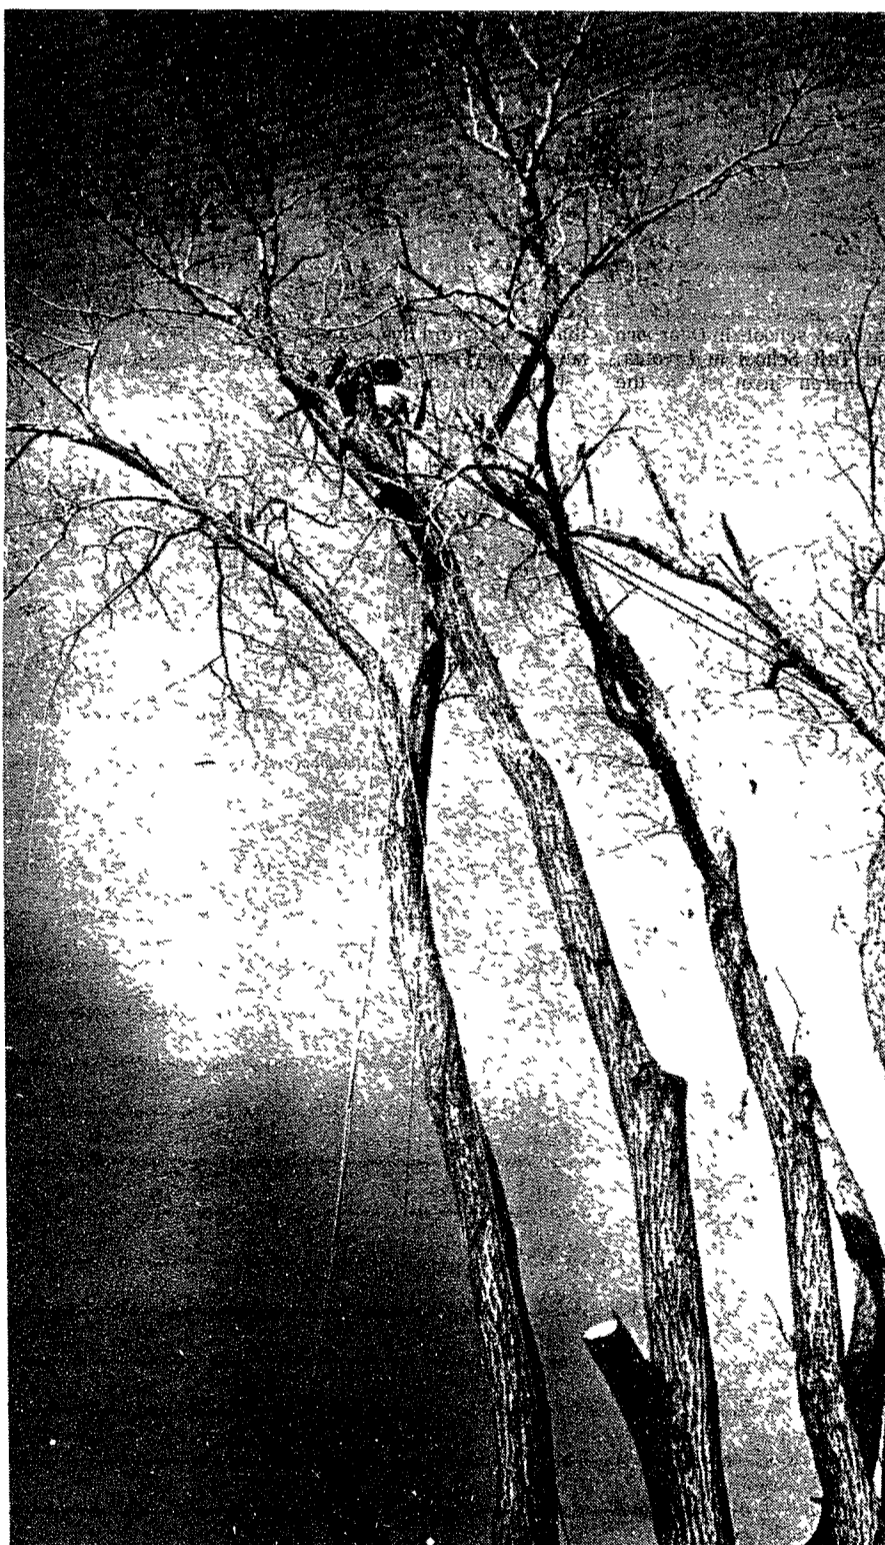

It is not unusual for a farmer, because he must have land to farm on, to pay 10 to 15 times the property tax his urban cousin pays, when both may have the same annual income. This is unfair because his needs for services from schools and local government are no greater than his cousin, who pays very little.

Every day people in this area see evidence of this problem. The vacant unused land you see was but a few years ago farmland. Today urban values have raised taxes for agricultural land in the Northville area to over $100 per acre while equally productive land in the Howell area because it is assessed at agricultural values is less than $10 per acre. Obviously the tax burden in the Northville area rules out agriculture.

Readers Speak

'Why spray our dog?'

To the Editor:
I'm writing about a little complaint about our gas meter reader. I realize he has the right to protect himself against unfriendly dogs, but don't the homeowners have any rights to protect their families, homes and pets also?

Does he have the right to shoot these pets with mace (or whatever he carries in his little spray can) when they are in their own homes rather on a chain or behind locked screen doors?

A few weeks ago some of the neighborhood children came around asking if our dogs had been shot with something in the eyes by the gas man. One of their dogs had and he was pretty sick. The kids had him on a chain for a walk when the gas man came. They let him in and he went to the basement, read the meter — no trouble — but on the way out he shot the dog in the eyes. Why didn't he do it on the way to the basement? If the dog was going to bite the gas man he would have when he was first let in the house, not on the way back out.

Giant Fermi-2

safer than mower

We stood inside the stadium-size chimney shouting up the "smoke stack" and listening to the echoes bounce back a half dozen times or more. And one wag broke out in reverberating song.

Strange creatures that we be, the chimney visit was the highlight for the press while Detroit Edison's new nuclear reactor facility drew secondary appraisal recently during a tour of Fermi-2.

The most imposing structures one sees in approaching Edison's new facilities eight miles northeast of Monroe are the two cylindrical structures, and the first impression to come to mind is that these are the packages for the nuclear reactor.

Not so. The nuclear reactor, not yet installed, is to be housed in a nearby box-like fortress. The cylindrical structures are only the cooling condensers for water used in the nuclear powerplant.

Tiger stadium would fit inside just one of the chimneys.

Actually, only one of the condensers is to be used. The other will be an expensive back-up since Edison's scaled down powerplant plan has eliminated the necessity of both.

The condensers look a little like giant top hats. The brim represents the area where heated water coming from the powerplant drips down through a series of louvered-like steps to the concrete floor where it collects before eventually flowing back to the powerplant.

So if you happen to see the towers while driving along I-75 remember they're only smokeless chimneys next door to the nuclear reactor.

In case you've forgotten, Fermi-1 was decommissioned in 1975 and its nuclear reactor removed. This first powerplant still is operating and producing electricity — but it is fueled now by oil — not nuclear substance.

Main difference between Fermi-1 and Fermi-2 is that the newest one, still in the construction stage, utilizes a boiling reactor whose atomic fuel is consumed in producing energy, while Fermi-1 used an atomic fuel that reproduced itself.

The atomic fuel in Fermi-2 will consist of 164 tons of uranium pellets. A little over one ton of this fuel will be consumed annually. (If coal were used to operate the same plant it would consume 3,650,000 tons of coal annually).

Although many others are concerned about the safety of Fermi-2 and about atomic energy plants in general, Edison's new atomic plant didn't worry me before my visit and it worries me even less now after seeing the labyrinth of safeguards within the reactor fortress.

My lawn mower is a whole lot more dangerous.

SEMCOG plans small area computerized forecasting

Small area forecasts, utilizing mathematical-computerized data, are likely to be provided communities throughout Southeast Michigan next year by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Representatives of the county planning commissions in the six counties making up the SEMCO area, together with SEMCOG technicians, have been working for more than six months in setting up procedures to assure accuracy of the forecasts.

Those procedures were outlined Thursday at a meeting in the Northville Township Hall for representatives of the governments of the City and Township of Northville, City and Township of Plymouth, Livonia and Redford.

Hosting the meeting was Frank Bennett, chairman of the Wayne County Planning Commission.

Representing Northville at the meeting were Township Supervisor Betty Lennox and Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas.

In detailing the steps leading up to the forecasts, which will zero in on small areas throughout the SEMCOG region — from areas as small as a city block to half of townships in the rural areas of Livingston County — staffers for SEMCOG explained that a mathematical model is being developed upon which the forecasts will be based.

They emphasized the difference between forecasting and projections, pointing out that projections are based on past trends whereas forecasting is based on past trends plus a host of other factors including such things as local planning objectives, transportation and land use experience and known likelihoods, market and birth rate changes, and socio-economic influence.

Collection of data is now being assembled to develop the mathematical model, they said. Plans of local communities will be considered as will those of the counties involved. The small-area forecasts will be developed in five year intervals, with the first forecast targeting the year 1980, and succeeding five year dates through the year 2000.

Before the forecasts are distributed they and the alternatives will have been tested and evaluated and reviewed by a series of checks by committees of SEMCOG.

Concurrent with the development of the small area forecasts, SEMCOG will retain the services of a professional consulting firm to develop a regional forecast together with alternate forecasts. These regional forecasts will be fed into the mathematical model to check and perhaps modify local area forecasts.

The model upon which current forecasts are made is outdated, according to SEMCOG officials, and therefore the forecasts are not as reliable as they once were.

Forecasts arising from the new model, they admitted, will not be entirely accurate since factors such as public policy could change or not occur as predicted. The forecasts will, however, be the best possible data based on materials now being assembled, they emphasized.

DeWaard gets appointment

DeWAARD

LaVerne M. DeWaard, who was elected in June to a second term on the Oakland Schools Board of Education, has been named to a blue ribbon task force on intermediate districts.

John W. Porter, state superintendent of public instruction, made the appointment and has set September 14 as the first meeting date of the 21-member task force.

Porter has charged the task force with examining present statutes on the bonding and financing of intermediate districts and recommending possible revisions in the interest of economy, efficiency and equity. He has suggested possible elimination of a requirement that intermediate district budgets be approved by members of boards of education of constituent school districts.

Porter also asked the task force to consider changing the designation "intermediate school district" to "regional school district."

DeWaard, who was president of the Oakland Schools Board of Education last year, is also a member of the board of education of the Novi Community School District.

Claude Roberts, principal of Churchill Elementary School, Royal Oak, is the other task force member from Oakland County.

The task force membership includes the superintendents of five intermediate districts, representatives of state associations of administrators, school board members and teachers.

in Novi approved

A sanitary sewer easement for the Oakland County DPW was approved by the Novi School Board at its last regular session.

The request was for a 20-foot strip of land for a permanent easement to tie the sewer into the school district sewer line which will service the new high school on Taft at 10 Mile. The board unanimously approved the request.

special education students have been authorized by the Northville school board.

Cost of the kitchen installation and operation, estimated at $25,000 to $30,000, is to be covered by Title I county funds.

According to school officials, most of the equipment could be moved should Northville cease leasing the school at the end of the school year.

Food prepared in the kitchen is to be provided for the special education students at all of the schools operated by the district outside of Northville.

It was reported to the board that establishment and operation of the kitchen would be less expensive than hiring a catering service. Presently, youngsters involved in the program are being served lunches prepared at Cooke Middle School.

Officials estimated that operation of the kitchen will require four or five persons. Presently, Northville has 15 cafeteria personnel serving 2,500 students.

In-district classrooms for the special education children contain 75 youngsters at the Annex and 25 at Moraine.

Schools leased by Northville for the program outside the district include Brainard and Parkway schools in Dearborn and Taft School in Livonia.

Children involved in the program who attend the Annex and the few who attend Moraine will receive their lunches through local school cafeterias, while children enrolled in the program at the Plymouth Center for Human Development will continue to receive their lunches from facilities on the Plymouth Center campus.

In related ISEP business last week, the board authorized the superintendent to name a supervisor for the program already under way at Taft. Trustee Marjorie Sliger said she and Trustee Christopher Johnson had visited Taft and she reported that the program desperately needs supervisory help.

Thus, the board decided not to wait until the next meeting to make the appointment. Instead, it authorized the superintendent, who has interviewed candidates for the position, to appoint the superintendent prior to the September 13 meeting.

Supervisors at the other schools, all of whom are under the recently appointed ISEP Director Leonard Rezmierski, are:

Enrollments at these schools include 270 at the Plymouth Center, 200 at Brainard, 150 at Parkway, and 100 at Taft.

The Committee to Elect Suellen Haas will sponsor a Corn Roast September 12 at her home at 44911 Grand River, one mile west of Novi Road, Novi.

All county and area candidates have been invited, it will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday afternoon. Tickets are $2. Prizes will be offered.

Fill subcommittees for Northville board

Members have been named to six subcommittees of the Northville Board of Education.

They were named last week by Board President Sylvia Gucken, who serves with Superintendent Raymond Spear as ex-officio members of all subcommittees.

The subcommittees and their members are:

Curriculum & Systems—Mrs. Karen Wilkinson, chairperson; and the committee of the whole board.

Facilities—John Hobart, chairperson; Dr. Robert Mandell, and Mrs. Marjorie Sliger.

Finances & Budget—Mrs. Karen Wilkinson, chairperson; Christopher Johnson, and Roger Nieuwkoop.

New staffers in the Northville school system were on hand for the traditional staff orientation Tuesday morning — including two top administrators, Director of Instruction Nancy Soper and Director of Personnel Burton Knighton. Shown here (l to r) are Mrs. Soper, Thomas Cey, Patrick Tombeau, Viola Dougherty, Yvonne Katharopoulos, Dr. Knighton, Edith Pegrum, Stephen Sutherland, Debbie Kurnick, Michael Bury, Catherine Dicks, John Case and Janice Propst. Traditional school hours are: high school — 7:55 a.m. to 2:50 p.m.; Cooke Middle School — 8 a.m. to 2:35 p.m.; Meads Mill Middle School — 7:50 a.m. to 2:25 p.m.; and elementary schools — 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Chamber to hear state senator

A legislative breakfast that focuses on workmen's compensation will be sponsored by the Lakes Area Chamber of Commerce headquartered in Walled Lake.

Play area help sought

Request by the Cooke Middle School PTA for outdoor playground facilities is being considered by the Northville Board of Education.

The written request was presented to the board last week.

In its letter, the PTA said, "We feel that this is the opportune time to ask the school board to include in their budget and plans the asphalted of a play area at Cooke Middle School. The area is badly needed by the students for lunchtime, and before and after school use."

"The PTA Board of Cooke Middle School pledges its time and money to help the students at Cooke become better, more responsible citizens of our community. Toward this end, we feel we should have adequate leisure time facilities. A play area for basketball and other games seems to be a real necessity."

The 8:30 a.m. breakfast will be held at Morey's Country Club, 2280 Union Lake Road in Union Lake.

Speaker for the occasion will be State Senator John Welborn, Kalamazoo Republican on the tax and labor committees. Also present will be Senator Daniel Cooper, Oak Park Democrat, and Representative Richard Fessler, Union Lake Republican.

Discussion will center around current and pending legislation concerning workmen's compensation.

Chamber officials point out that on June 16 the Senate passed and sent to the House S.B. 1259, the measure to assess insurance carriers two percent of their annual workers' compensation claims.

The funds thus generated would be used to pay for the operations of the State Workmen's Compensation Bureau. The bill would raise the bureau's budget from $5 million to $8 million per year, and it would shift the entire $8 million cost from the state general fund onto business.

Persons wishing to attend the breakfast, costing $4, are asked to call 624-2826.

Why spray our dog?

Our two dogs were in the laundry room when they started to bark. I went to see who it was and it was the gas man. I told him "just a minute," while I got the dogs into the house. I got one in and was about to get the other one in and he came away from the screen door rubbing his left eye. I got him in and asked the gas man what he thought he was doing. He said he tried to bite him. I said the door was locked and no way could he get out.

I let him in to read the meter, but that is the last time. We called the gas company to complain as did the other neighbors before. We didn't get much satisfaction from it. All they said was he is protecting himself. From now on he'll have to leave cards and I'll read my own meter.

I wonder just how many other dogs have been sprayed and acted funny, rubbing their eyes and making their owners wonder what they got into. The reason is they have just gotten sprayed by the gas man and his little spray can.

Thank you,
A Concerned Citizen

Water gusher

An unexpected gusher developed last week as city workmen were repairing a water valve on South Main Street near Gardner. According to Assistant DPW Director experience last summer in which the district found that keeping mentally retarded children in the classroom for 5½ hours during the hot summer days was ineffective educationally.

Theodore Mapes, the "valve popped off" causing the fountain of water that continued until the water was turned off until the repair was completed a short time later.

Teachers, on the other hand, see this board proposal as a way of keeping costs down — not one of educational soundness.

Knighton conceded that economics play a part, though secondary, in the board's ISEP proposal.

Concerning general contract language, Cross said it is "completely unsatisfactory." He called it an attack on professionalism.

Asked to give an example, Cross noted that the board wants to remove from the old contract the language that prohibits discrimination by race, sex, etc.

"They tell us the clause is unnecessary because there are other agencies that deal with this issue," said Cross. "Our position is that these agencies, such as the equal opportunity employment agency, are ineffective. Sometimes you have to wait a year before receiving a decision. If the board isn't going to discriminate, why should they be afraid of this language?"

As for class sizes, Cross said the board "has been unwilling to address itself to this important issue. Class size is important to good education."

Cross said the NEA has specific recommendations for pupil-teacher ratios for both the elementary and secondary levels. He could not immediately remember the recommended ratios, noting only that they are different for elementary classrooms as opposed to the secondary level classrooms.

Despite the fact that teachers voted to return to work without a contract, Cross cautioned the board not to interpret this move as a softening of the NEA position. "It (teaching without a contract) is subject to change. Teachers are solidly behind us (NEA bargaining team) on this."

According to Cross, more than 200 teachers attended the meeting at the Presbyterian Church. All of those attending, he said, unhesitatingly voted to reject the board's proposal. And on the recommendation of the bargaining team that teachers return to work without a contract, only a couple teachers voted against it, he said.

Earlier, approximately 100 teachers had met to hear a review of negotiations.

Besides Northville, some 17 other districts in western Wayne County still had not reached agreement by week's end. Nearest of these is in Plymouth where teacher representatives were voicing optimism going into a meeting with a mediator.

Police contract unresolved

A TEACHER CONTRACT isn't the only unresolved issue in Northville. As yet no agreement has been reached between the city and the police officers' association. The last bargaining session on August 20 broke off with no significant progress, and the police union attorney, Robert Jacobsen, has since said he will request appointment of a mediator to conduct mediation and give consideration to the process of fact finding. The city takes the position that its last offer was reasonable with increases over the previous city offer.

Citizens protest 7 Mile apartments

"He was sympathetic, but non-committal," said Petro.

Petro's group isn't excited about the complex being built directly west of their homes, but they're prepared to accept it.

Consequently, the organization has proposed a 20 foot greenbelt area to separate the apartments from the homes.

The group also wants the apartment builders to construct a fence between the apartments and homes to keep apartment children off their property.

The architect for North Ridge, already contacted by the planning commission, agreed to go over the plans before they are finalized in order to work out a compromise.

Petro said if Northville Investors fail to get the money to build the apartments his group would begin taking action to get the land rezoned back to a single family residence.

"As it stands right now, the land is in a non-preferred zone," according to Petro. "It's in a location that is not particularly favorable to supporting multi-dwellings like apartments."

In other planning commission business,

Southfield developer Fred E. Greenspan's preliminary plat to build 317 homes located just east of Bradner Road, west of the Dun Rovin Golf Club and on the south side of Six Mile Road was approved.

The commission held off final approval until Greenspan meets some road requirements set down by the Wayne County Road Commission.

The problem of a road played a major part in a squabble between the commission and local real estate Tony Rizzo.

Rizzo was given approval to divide 7.2 acres into four parcels at Sheldon Road, just south of Seven Mile Road.

However, Rizzo's plan for a road leading to and from the intended homes raised some concern from the board members, especially Bernard Baldwin.

Baldwin wondered whether or not the road would be suitable for police, fire and emergency vehicles.

The commission as a whole felt the road details were too vague.

"There are no guidelines in the ordinance to make it more specific," Rizzo replied. "The ordinance says I don't even have to put in a road."

Senior citizen housing

of solid masonry with the first floor ceiling (second floor construction) of eight-inch precast concrete plank.

"Floors and walls all have superior sound insulating qualities and all fire protective fire barriers as required (by code) are provided for," Architect DiComo, a resident of Northville Township, reported.

DiComo reported the project is basically unchanged except for minor changes from the council approved design of April 5, 1976.

Kamp DiComo met with and obtained preliminary site plan approval from the planning commission April 6, and "we have kept in contact with Ron Nino, the city planning consultant, since and have submitted the final site plan, topographical survey and final grading plan to him on July 12."

On August 24, DiComo reported, his firm submitted for approval the required soil erosion and sedimentation control plan to the Wayne County Health Department.

Application for natural gas service was submitted to Consumers Power Company back on May 16. "Although we will not get final approval until we obtain a building permit," DiComo said, "we have their verbal assurance that gas service for housing and especially for senior citizen housing will be approved."

In discussing the plan before the building authority, DiComo explained that for the past several weeks his firm has been reviewing plans in detail with the housing commission "in an effort to obtain the lowest possible cost without sacrificing expected quality."

Changes growing out of these meetings, he said, include: —Vinyl asbestos in lieu of carpeting in the activities room.

—Residential type appliances in the central kitchen.

—Omission of built-in library shelves.

—Vinyl asbestos tile in lieu of sheet vinyl in the 101 unit kitchens.

—Vinyl asbestos tile in lieu of ceramic mosaic tile in 101 unit baths.

—Painted drywall in lieu of vinyl fabric in the baths.

—Painted drywall in lieu of vinyl fabric in the common corridors.

—Aluminum sash with thermal barrier and insulated glass in lieu of plastic coated wood windows.

However, several other possible changes were vetoed by the housing commission and hence still remain part of the plan. Some of these include:

—Refrigerators in the apartment units will be frost-free.

—Ovens in the units will be self-cleaning.

—Outdoor raised patio will not be removed or made smaller, although this item may be reconsidered at the time of bid receipt.

—Balconies will not be omitted, although these items may be reconsidered at the time of bid receipt.

—Fieldstone raised patio wall will remain, but an alternative price for a poured concrete wall will be received.

—The glass roof and wall (greenhouse type) extension to the activities room has not been omitted, but this item also may be reconsidered at the time of bid receipt.

Each apartment unit, except the manager's unit which will be larger, is to include a living room, bedroom, bathroom and kitchen. Units will include balconies.

The building authority took its action to authorize the bidding process following DiComo's report and a comment by John Stuart, chairman of the housing commission, that the plans had been acceptable by his commission.

Russell Amerman is chairman of the building authority, the city agency that will supervise the financing of the project. Other members include Robert Freydl and Jack Hoffman.

Other members of the housing commission, the city agency that was instrumental in development of the housing project, include Nancy Schoultz, Robert Gotts, Clarence Harsch and John Steimel.

Although exact priorities for occupancy of the apartments have not yet been established, it is known that some of the criteria will include: Age, financial status, city residency first and township residency second, and time of application.

The city already has received many inquiries about occupancy.

Rate of rent has not yet been established but council is hopeful the price can be in the $200 per month range.

Confidence vote given

Kratz, Barr

As a vote of confidence, Novi School Board at its last regular session unanimously approved issuance of a three-year contract to the superintendent and a two-year contract to the assistant superintendent.

Superintendent Dr. Gerald Kratz had two years left on his contract while Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr's contract was up after this year when the motion was made.

"I'd like to express my appreciation for a job well done," said Trustee Joel Colliu. "Not only have we grown in enrollment, we've grown in stature. This is a vote of confidence."

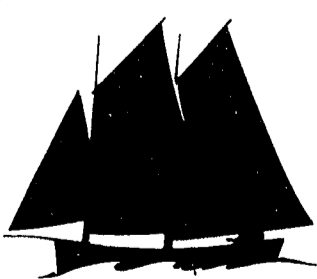

"In the time they've been here, this district has moved tremendously forward," added trustee Robert Wilkins who originally suggested the extension of the contracts.

The suggestion came after a letter was received from Columbia University in New York thanking Dr. Kratz for participating in a superintendents' work conference and calling him one of the top superintendents in the country.

Wilkins commented that extending the contracts "is an expression of the job these two gentlemen are doing. But it still permits us to take potshots."

Gals have last laugh

Women golfers soon will outnumber men

By DENNIS KENNON

Comedians — nightclub and locker room variety — and cartoonists have been teeing off at women golfers for years, but guess who's going to get the last laugh?

Women golfers aren't anything to joke about. They soon will be outnumbering their male counterparts on the nation's golf courses.

The National Golf Foundation estimates that women are playing 40 percent of the rounds and perhaps by next year will be playing more rounds than men.

According to Golf Digest magazine, the men's golf population didn't change appreciably in the past year, while the number of women golfers increased by as much as 18 percent.

One survey, Golf Digest says, shows almost 600,000 new women golfers in the past year.

Courses in the Sliger Home Newspaper coverage area, from Northville to Brighton, are feeling the effects of the women's golf boom.

"We're getting more and more women golfers at Bob O' Link," says Julia Cova, for years one of the top competitors in the Women's Metropolitan Golfers Association. "You can really see the increase in recent years."

Mrs. Cova and her husband, Midge, a golf pro, have owned and operated the Bob O' Link course in Novi for 24 years.

"Years ago, you'd find as a rule that golf was a rich man's game," Mrs. Cova said. "That's not so anymore. Men who take the game up at 40 are sorry they didn't start at 20."

"Now we have men encouraging their wives to take up the game. If a woman plays golf, her husband will play more golf and they'll use the club's facilities more, attending the dances and such."

Mrs. Cova said that women's golf merchandise has become big business.

"Women tend to be more fashion conscious on the course," she said. "And there's more merchandise specifically designed for women."

Women golfers also are playing better, Mrs. Cova said.

"They're scoring better, they know more about the game than they used to, they practice more, they take more lessons and generally speaking they're more rule conscious than men," Mrs. Cova said.

At Lakelands Golf and Country Club near Brighton, pro Tom Kinsley reports that more than 100 women members are playing regularly.

"My wife plays every day," he said. "Our low handicappers will play at least four or five times a week and our higher handicappers three times."

Women, he said, are trying to learn about the game. "They take far more lessons than men," Kinsley said.

The major golf equipment companies are gearing more of their products toward women.

"Women used to settle for hand-me-down equipment," Kinsley said, "but no more."

Steve Horvat, pro at Chemung Hills Country Club,

Howell, has noticed a sharp increase in women golfers.

"Our women's leagues have doubled in the last two years," Horvat said, "and our husband and wife play on evenings and weekends has tripled."

Women have become more conscious about golf equipment and fashions, Horvat said, and the golf equipment companies are paying attention to their needs.

"The Royal golf line was dying until they came out with their Daisy balls, clubs, bags and accessories for women," Horvat said. "Last year they were selling a dozen balls in a recipe box."

Other companies have followed suit with equipment and accessories designed for women, he said.

"Wilson has a new Ladybug line for women," he noted.

Russ Fleming of Par 1 Golf Range in Hartland says his sale of women's golf equipment has increased by 60 to 70 percent in the past couple years.

"More equipment is being designed for women," Fleming said. "Now there are graphite drivers and graphite three-woods for women. You've got different colored putters for the gals, bags with little pocketbooks attached — the manufacturers are just starting to pay more attention to the ladies. It's a new market."

Fleming also sees more husbands encouraging their spouses to play golf.

"Especially retirees," he said. "Men have a lot of time on their hands and want to spend it on the golf course with their wives."

No more hand-me-downs
today

more women playing with their husbands on weekends and evenings during the week," he said.

Putting fun

Brighton's Jini Homad (foreground) putts out on the ninth green of Chemung Hills Country Club in Howell as playing partner Ruth Wakeland watches. Mrs. Homad was runner-up this season in the women's club championship. Play by women at Chemung, says pro Steve Horvat, has doubled in the past two years, while husband and wife play has tripled.

Salmon time

2 million coho, chinook schooling

The more than two million coho and chinook salmon now schooling off 34 Michigan rivers and lakes are ample evidence of the amazing success of Michigan's 10-year-old salmon planting program, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"When the first of 850,000 young coho salmon were planted in Lake Michigan in 1966, no one even dreamed of the crowds of fishermen and tourists they'd attract," stated Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

This year, an army of anglers approaching a half-million from across the continent will take home about 1.2 million of the silvery coho and chinook, which soon will start spawning runs into rivers and lakes listed on Auto Club's 1976 salmon guide. Peak runs should occur from mid-September to mid-October.

Coho up to 25 pounds and chinook averaging 30 pounds will appear at five more sites than last year. Three streams along Lake Huron, plus one in Lake Michigan, will receive their first runs of mature coho or chinook. The first run of spawning chinook also is expected in the Detroit River near Belle Isle, Auto Club stated.

"This fall might decide if the Detroit River can become a major salmon fishing ground. Chinook jacks were in the river last fall, but angler success was minimal," said Ratke. "This year, experts hope that a substantial run near Belle Isle will develop."

The most improved fishing, however, is expected along Lake Huron's shoreline, where 50 percent more salmon than last year — mostly chinook — are waiting for anglers.

The biggest increase of mature fish is expected near Oscoda, where returns from more than 400,000 chinook planted in 1973 and 150,000 coho salmon planted in 1975 already are schooling runs to Foote Dam.

This year, anglers fishing the half-mile stretch from the dam to Rea Road from September 1 to October 31 also are permitted to keep foul-hooked Pacific salmon under the state Department of Natural Resources rules.

Anglers are restricted to use of unweighted double or treble hooks no more than three-eighths inch from point to shank or single hooks no more than one-half inch from point to shank. Legalized snagging also is permitted in 11 other rivers and lakes, all indicated on Auto Club's map. For dates and sections the rules apply on each stream, contact any DNR office.

An Alaskan strain coho will appear for the first time at two Thumb-area streams, off Diamond Creek at Port Hope and Elk Creek at Sanilac

State Park in Sanilac County.

A first-time run of chinook is expected in Nagle Creek at Hoeft State Park north of the Manistee river, Portage Lake north of Manistee and the Big Sable River near Ludington. Chinook fishermen should try Lake Michigan off the Big Manistee, plus the Grand, Muskegon, St. Joseph and Big Sable rivers.

"Fishing on the Big Sable in Ludington State Park is by permit only from September 15 to October 31. Daily drawings will pick 375 anglers to fish the half-mile of river from the mouth to Hamlin

September doesn't end gardening

By KATHY COPLEY

If there is ever a time to just sit back and admire your garden handiwork, September is the time. But if you have to be out there doing something, there are still a few somethings to do.

Perennial plants — trees, shrubs, flowers, lawns — have a continuing need for water. The cool, gentle rains of autumn may not be enough, so supplement rain with an inch of water every week or ten days. An inch of water moistens the soil to about 4", the zone of most active root growth.

All perennials, especially first year plants, need water right up to the time the ground freezes. Evergreens need water all winter, even after the ground has frozen. They have a tough time getting it.

Put the leaves and soft stems of annuals and cut-back perennials into the compost pile. With a layer of leaves, a sprinkling of fertilizer, and a layer of dirt, even a pile started now should be ready to work in next summer!

Don't even think of adding to compost the diseased leaves of roses, tomatoes with fusarium, beans with mosaic. If you do, you will have compost which spreads black spot, fusarium, mosaic, etc. Any flower parts with insect eggs attached should likewise be destroyed.

Coarse stems like rose canes or pruned tree branches will take close to forever to break down so they only make a mess of the rest of the compost when you try to work with it next year. Leave out rose canes especially — the thorns are insidious devils waiting to catch you later.

Perennials which have finished blooming can be cut to within 3-4" of the ground or down to where the new growth begins, whichever comes first. Don't fertilize plants in this post-bloom stage. New growth at this time of year would only be killed in the winter, and weaken the plant for next year.

Many perennials can be divided now, at least those that are done for the year like daisies and lily of the valley. Chrysanthemums are moving

Mrs. Reading at helm of Detroit project

"A rewarding way to spend 87-plus hours during a hot summer" is the way Mrs. Eleanor Reading of King's Mill in Northville sums up her involvement in a Presbytery of Detroit summer task force program.

The seven-week program completed last Friday at John Monteith Presbyterian Church at Seven Mile and Greenview in Detroit registered 130 children.

"It was really tremendous," says Mrs. Reading of the ecumenical project, "to see it come from nothing to an attendance of as many as 83 last Wednesday. There were 19 children who never missed a day and 11 more who missed only one day."

As an active member of the Monteith church and its education committee as well as serving as church school superintendent, Mrs. Reading explains she and others could "see a need for the program in a changing neighborhood."

Lutheran children, Catholic children and children with no church affiliation participated in cooking classes and puppet programs, saw film strips, and took field trips to Detroit museums while also receiving religious training.

The religious course of study, Mrs. Reading explains, followed Moses' journey and that of the Pilgrims in their quest for religious freedom.

Mrs. Reading, a 20-year veteran in religious education, gives much of the credit for "a really tremendous project" to Mrs. Lynn Boyle, a church member who was hired as director.

Mrs. Boyle, a teacher in the Detroit school system, is a director of two television shows for children, Doedal Doors and the new Facts Factory; she also presents a Sunday morning church commentary, called Newsworthy.

The summer program, Mrs. Reading continues, was given the catchy name of "Alphabet Soup" with participants called "Soupers."

It attracted volunteers from St. Gerard's Roman Catholic Church of Detroit and was funded largely by the Presbytery of Detroit.

"Crowning touch" to the daily program, adds Mrs. Reading, was lunch provided by the Department of Agriculture designed for nourishment for lower income families.

Doors just seemed to open," Mrs. Reading comments as she tells how her function was to act as liaison between the Presbytery and

Church Capsules

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Northville, gave the sermon at the First Presbyterian Church in Petoskey August 22. Mr. and Mrs. Brasure spent the weekend in that city where they served for more than 10 years prior to coming to Northville in 1961.

During their visit Centennial Sunday was being observed to mark the organization of the church from the Bear Creek Mission founded in 1852. In 1952 a city-church centennial was observed jointly marking the arrival of the first permanent white settlers, the Andrew Porter family.

Friends In Service Helping (FISH), the ecumenical group that ministers to families in need in the greater Brighton area, is in need itself.

The group's pantry, located in the First Presbyterian Church Office, is almost bare and families needing temporary help with foodstuffs are being turned away.

Persons who can donate FISH supplies should stop by the church or call the church office at 227-7411.

An Awana program for third through eighth graders is starting again this fall at the First Baptist Church of Wixom.

Training services for group leaders will be held on Monday nights, September 2-16. A youth hayride is set for later in September, just before regular Wednesday night meetings begin in October.

Parents or persons interested in group leading should call Walt Miller (229-5317) or the church office (624-3823) for more information.

Saturday, September 11, at 10 a.m. at the South Lyon United Presbyterian Church there will be a first meeting and rehearsal for the musical, "The Clown". All middle school and high school students are invited to come to the meeting which will include auditions. Actors, singers and stagehands are needed. This will be an interdenominational presentation and all interested young people will be welcomed.

The story of the musical is both humorous and serious as it speaks about people who are ridiculed for their Christian faith.

Richard Lenz, who produced "Cool in the Furnace" and "Revolutionary Ideas" last year, will direct the musical which will be presented twice in early December.

Charismatics in Livingston County will be meeting Friday, September 10, at 8 p.m. at the Recreation Center in Howell.

Gathered In, the name of the monthly meeting, provides a common meeting place for all charismatic prayer groups, churches and communities in the county. Especially invited are newcomers to the area who may not have found a fellowship group.

The teaching for this month will be furnished by Leonard Nicholas of Ypsilanti. The meeting will provide time for fellowship, refreshments and group singing.

Missionary to Nigeria to speak

IRENE E. CRANE

The guest speaker at the September 12, 11 a.m. worship service at the South Lyon Assembly of God, 62345 Eight Mile Road, will be Miss Irene E. Crane, an Assemblies missionary to Nigeria.

She will relate events of her missionary work during this special missions rally, according to Pastor Ronald L. Sweet. The public is invited to attend.

During her past term of missionary service, Miss Crane directed a literacy program in Nigeria. With Ruby Peterson, her co-worker, Miss Crane studied and reduced the Bette language to writing. The ladies have written school textbooks, Sunday school quarterlies, calendars, and Bible Passages in the Bette language. Miss Crane also ministered to established churches in the area.

The veteran missionary received her first appointment to Nigeria in 1946 and spent two terms at Ewu where she taught junior high classes in a mission school. She was also active in children's and youth work.

Later Miss Crane studied the Ishaan language and helped translate Sunday school quarterlies. In 1958 she transferred to Eastern Nigeria Bible Institute and taught there for several years. She moved with Miss Peterson to a village near the Bible school and began her study of the Bette language in 1965. This vernacular, which had not been reduced to writing, is spoken by thousands of Nigerians and understood by many more.

Miss Crane was graduated from Central Bible College in Springfield, Missouri and received her BA degree from Seattle Pacific College in Seattle, Washington. She also studied at Wheaton College in Illinois. Prior to receiving missionary appointment, Miss Crane was active in home missionary and social service work.

We'll invest in your future to better ours.

Like any first rate outfit, the United States Navy is only as strong as the men and women who represent it. So we're ready to put a little stock in you if you can make the grade.

Through our Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps (NROTC), you can now get a four year scholarship at your choice of one of the nation's 54 leading colleges and universities.

And that includes tuition, fees and books. Plus $100 a month. For a $16-20,000 value, depending on the school you pick. And that's a lot of bucks.

You benefit. And so do we. Because when you graduate, you'll be a Naval officer. With world travel and leadership ahead of you. As a part of our team, the United States Navy.

So hurry. See if you qualify. Visit your local Navy recruiter, or call toll-free 800-841-8000. In Georgia call 800-342-5855. We'll be in touch in no time.

Because our future depends on you.

Musselemans extend welcome to patrons

NORTHVILLE'S newest restaurant, Papa Geppeto's, has opened in the Northville Plaza shopping center located on Seven Mile Road immediately west of the new state police post nearing completion.

Featuring authentic recipes from Italy, the restaurant is a family owned and operated business by Donald Musseleman, his wife Rosaline and their son Mike.

Homemade food specialties include pasta and garlic bread.

With a motto of "good service and quality food," the Musselemans emphasize that unlike many area restaurants their business is not a fast food type restaurant but rather one that prepares menus to fit the desires of patrons. They formerly operated a restaurant on the east side of Detroit.

Plans also call for establishment of a catering service as well, and meanwhile the Musselemans are attempting to secure a beer and wine license.

Papa Geppeto's will operate daily from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

For years everyone in the financial world admired the tenacity of the Mexican money managers in pegging the peso at 12½ pesos to one dollar U.S. — or 8½ cents U.S. for each peso.

But on September 1 (last Wednesday) the dream of 22 years of fixed financial parity for Mexico collapsed. The peso was permitted to "float," meaning the value of the peso was whatever the law of supply and demand created on a free money market.

The collapse has real significance for those planning to travel to Mexico or who have been visiting the country.

Here's what happened:

All Mexican banks were closed Wednesday, September 1 because of a national holiday. On Thursday, the next day, there was limited trading in this currency in New York markets. The peso fell in value from 8.5 cents to 6.4 cents, a decrease of 20 percent. In Mexico City, it fell even more.

Americans who deposited money in Mexican banks because they were attracted by high interest rates as high as 14 percent are obviously going to be hurt. When they withdraw their deposits, the dollar value of this money will have dropped as a reaction to this obvious devaluation — and perhaps by then as much as 50 percent.

If you are visiting in Mexico and you wish to exchange U.S. dollars for pesos, try money exchange booths on the street or private moneychangers. Where there is fixed parity — in whatever country — this type of moneyman will usually give you a better rate of exchange by at least 5 to 10 percent. A present day example is Hong Kong, Singapore or Calcutta.

Since this official move by the Mexican Treasury actually amounts to devaluation, look for the Mexican stock market to respond with rather drastic moves.

I pity the Mexican who is living on a pension of social security because the cost of living in Mexico will leap up to behold.

MSU: 5 names

Michigan State University has had five names. It began in 1855 as the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, became State Agricultural College in 1861, Michigan Agricultural College in 1909, Michigan State College of Agriculture and Applied Science in 1925, Michigan State University of Agriculture and Applied Science in 1955, and Michigan State University in 1964.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES Corporation has announced plans to build a new $30 million-plus float glass manufacturing plant in California which will increase its glass making capacity by more than 50 percent. The new facility will be financed by the company's own cash flow and $20 million in senior notes.

William M. Davison, Guardian president, said the plant, which will be located on an 80-acre site at Kingsburg, California, near Fresno, will provide additional capacity to help meet the increased demand for raw glass and fabricated glass products for the automotive and construction industries.

The California plant will be capable of producing up to 500 tons of raw glass daily. Two glass production lines at the company's plant in Carleton, Michigan, have a production capacity of 950 tons daily.

Pending governmental approval of environmental studies now being conducted, construction of the new facility is expected to begin by mid-1977, with completion scheduled for early fall of 1978.

Guardian, headquartered in Novi, has a commitment from three institutional investors for private placement of the $20 million in senior notes, subject to definitive agreements expected to be finalized next month.

A NEW BRANCH office was opened September 1 by Lavern C. Crandall, CPA-PC, at 25869 Novi Road in Novi. He has his main office in Imlay City. Telephone number at the new office is 348-9260.

A CUT-A-THON held Sunday and Monday, August 29-30, at Northville House of Styles, 135 East Cady Street, resulted in a gift of $600 to the March of Dimes.

During the two-day benefit all proceeds from hair cuts and blow dries at $5 for men and women were donated to the fight against birth defects. The shop accepted walk-ins as well as those with appointments for the event. Manager Diane Bingham announced the total from about 120 customers last week.

THE WATERMELON SEED, a new store especially for expectant mothers, has opened in the Northville Plaza shopping center on Seven Mile Road east of Northville Road.

Owners of the new store are William and Betty Jo Kunze, and Mrs. Kunze will manage it.

Open daily except Sunday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., The Watermelon Seed "features everything for the mother-to-be as well as nursing mothers."

The firm is affiliated with The Watermelon Seed in Traverse City, which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kunze's daughter, Sue Wilson.

The Kunzes, new residents of Northville from Williamsburg, Michigan, commented: "We feel the soon-to-be-mothers in this area deserve a store that caters just to them."

FRIENDLY Ice Cream Corporation has found that the ice cream business "freezes" and "melts" with the weather.

The Massachusetts based company, with over 550 fine food and ice cream shops, including one in Northville, has been keeping a trained eye on the weather for three years on a daily basis. As the temperature rises, so do ice cream sales. Cold or rainy summer weather can melt ice cream sales drastically.

To keep tabs on the changing climate, Friendly, who served equivalent to 28-million cones last year, receives comprehensive weekly weather summaries from the United States Weather Bureau covering the 16 states where company shops are located. This information is recorded and compared with previous years' records in charting company sales. One look at Friendly weather records can show how the general weather pattern was for a given month in any of the recent years.

Two Friendly weather watchers, one in the firm's Massachusetts corporate and Northeast headquarters, and another in the Midwest headquarters in Troy, Ohio, keep daily records of area weather. The information is then tabulated and monthly summaries are provided to the corporation's Marketing Department and top corporate officers who review it in relation to shop sales figures.

According to Franklin D. Feiler, Director of Corporate Public Relations, "Perfect ice cream sales temperatures are in the high 80's. Ice cream sales cool just like the weather. In the winter, a warm spell can generate increased ice cream sales, just like it can in the summer. Cold or unsettled weather in the summer, however, can topple ice cream sales as easily as a misplaced scoop on a cone."

Lottery's still a winner

By WARREN M. HOYT

Still a real winner, Michigan's lottery.

State officials declare our own "change-of-a-lifetime" contest tops in the country for 1975-76. Michigan's lottery set an all-time sales record, taking in $225.7 million — $90 million more than the previous 12-month record.

Of that total, nearly $107 million went into the state's general fund. The remainder went for prize money and operating costs.

That means millions and millions traded 50 cents or more for the long-shot chance of winning up to $1 million.

WHAT HAPPENS to those who hit it big?

Some are targets of down-and-outers who want a handout. Others are asked for loans or have trouble warding off salesmen who figure they should invest in whatever. And a few even have had their homes burgled after winning big prize money.

But Dave Hanson, chief of public relations for Michigan's lottery bureau, says he's heard of no "really bad experiences, either here or in other states."

One major deterrent, he notes, is the fact that the big winners — those who come up with the $1 million tickets — don't get their winnings all at once. Instead, the prize is doled out in annual chunks of $50,000 for 20 years.

LOTTERY BUREAU officials figure about a million people regularly play the game, buying their tickets at any one of the nearly 8,000 sale agencies across the state. Michigan folks aren't the only ones who try for Michigan's big prize money either. Top ticket seller for 1975-76 was the Stateline Supermarket in Niles, just a few miles from the Michigan border.

The average lottery ticket agent sold $500 worth of tickets each week for the 1975-76 year.

ECOLOGY, YES. Hunting, no. Seems like the two thoughts would go together. But they don't when you're counting Michigan deer hunters.

"It seems that many people generally agree that a spin-off of the recent ecology movement has been an increase in anti-hunting sentiment," says Lawrence A. Tye, head of the Department of Natural Resources office of surveys and statistics.

"But to date I cannot detect a tailing off in the participating in hunting."

TAKE DEER HUNTING as the example. The 1970 Michigan census was up 12.2 percent from 1960. But in 1970 there were 40.5 percent more deer hunters than 10 years earlier.

Tye reports also that the state's estimated one million hunters have expanded their ranks by nearly 10.3 percent since 1970 — and the population rose only 4.5 percent during that same period.

ARE YOU A TYPICAL bookworm?

The State Library reports that the average Michigan resident borrowed four library books last year.

And the average library user was under 50, married, a high school graduate and has a white collar job.

STUMP REMOVAL

$1 PER INCH

75 cents per inch if total inches are over a 100". Adding all stumps

All debris from the stump is picked up and the hole is filled with dirt

Stumps are measured by taking the average of the widest to the narrowest measurements of the stump not more than six inches above the ground. Ten dollars is the minimum charge

It makes good sense and it won't cost you a cent if you give us a call.

End of Era

Oh barn, isolated and alone,

On cold winter nights do you ever moan
For the warmth and comfort of people living there,
Instead of families of mice and hare?

Do you ever long for the neigh of a horse
And does it ever fill you with remorse
That never again you will hear a cow moo
And hold the work that farmers do?

As the wind blows 'round your weatherbeaten frame
You wonder why prospectors ever came
To mark out land that will spell your wane.
Things can never stay the same.

Years have gone by and my barn is no more.
Where the barn exit was, there's a grocery store door.
People go by on their busy way
But the memory of my barn will always stay.

Creation

Time was, when all this land of ours
Was wilderness and plains;
Prairie land and desert land
And mountains, range on range.
Lakes and rivers, geysers, falls,
Fertile valley soil,
Virgin timber, straight and tall
And nothing to despoil.

The marbled hues of wooded slopes
Inlaid throughout the hills,
So matchless in the mountain fall,
Their essence to distill.
The awesome grandeur of our land
Defies our words to tell;
Although we do not understand,
It's lifting strength, we feel.

May we not keep our great domain
As Providence intended,
In all its beauty, without stain—
By no man's spars offended.
May we but know the fortitude
And highest inspiration
That fills us with infinitude
In this, God's grand creation.

Charles E. Hutton

Rewards

If you have befriended someone,
It will bring its own reward;
A brightened look, a grateful smile
From a heart with trouble stored.

For a gesture, here and there;
The reward is in the giving—
Not the getting of our share.

Charles E. Hutton

into their best season. Mums are among the few flowers which can be transplanted while they are in full bloom without certain death. Just be sure to take plenty of dirt for the widespread, shallow roots.

As hard frosts approach, mums may bite the dust. Keep them going by protecting them from the frost. They are killed not so much by the cold as by the fact that the next day's sun burns the plants where the frost has settled. Covering mums with sheets, bags, plastic, or newspapers could mean you'll have fresh flowers as long as Thanksgiving.

While the selection is good, pick up spring flowering bulbs like tulips, daffodils, crocus, scilla, star of Bethlehem, etc. If you really care what colors you are buying, best buy the bulbs pre-packaged so you know some child hasn't mixed Red Emperor tulips in the same bins with pink parrot tulips.

Fall is a good time to plant dormant trees and shrubs, but they aren't dormant yet so hold off on any big fall planting. That usually has to wait until the weather is really miserable.

The best part of September gardening is that, if you want to, you can put it all off.

Great canoeing

Clinton River in two counties

The picturesque, fast-moving Clinton River's 122 curving miles of navigable water through Oakland and Macomb counties offer city dwellers an excellent chance to explore wooded countryside and farmland, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Canoeing on the Clinton is gaining in popularity each year. Bring your own canoe and launch it from any of several parks along the river, or rent one at liveries in the Rochester-Utica or Mount Clemens areas.

There are no dams, but portages sometimes are required around obstructions such as fallen trees, which can be hidden around curves. The Clinton moves through rolling terrain, farmland and several towns at a three-to-eight-mile-an-hour clip on its way to Lake St. Clair, offering canoeists challenges as well as pleasant experiences.

Winter storms felled more than 500 trees along the river, blocking it in several areas, but it now is open all the way to Mount Clemens.

Aluminum canoes are recommended because the stream has shallow sections in summer and the bottom is rocky.

The Clinton River passes through the east end of Bloomer State Park No. 2, the Utica Unit of the Rochester-Utica State Recreation Area, Sterling Heights City Park and Shadyside and City parks in Mount Clemens. There are launch points, day-use facilities and toilets at those parks.

The river also passes through several towns — Rochester, Utica, Sterling Heights and Mount Clemens — offering visual variety. There is fair trout and bass fishing along the way.

A minimum of 16 hours is required to canoe the river's length. Frequent launch points are available for shorter trips, ranging from a few hours to a day.

Experts say the 50-mile western segment from I-75 to Bloomer State Park No. 2 should be traveled by experts only. The 24-mile portion from Bloomer Park to Utica's City Park on Van Dyke is recommended for those with some canoeing experience. For novices and family groups, the 48-mile stretch from Utica to Mount Clemens' Shadyside Park is suggested.

The river is wide and easy to navigate between Mount Clemens and Lake St. Clair, but there are many power boats on that portion and their wakes are dangerous to canoeists.

Two canoe liveries serve the Clinton River. They are Carver's Canoe Rentals at Warsaw Park, off Hamlin Road between Deguire and Ryan roads, and Clinton River Canoe Rentals, west of Mount Clemens City Park.

Youth Club will be under the direction of the Reverend Lloyd Brasure and the Reverend Richard Henderson and is part of Youth Club Program Incorporated, an association of over 2,000 churches throughout the country, now sponsoring similar programs. Youth Club has proven to be an effective tool in linking the home and church together successfully in the Christian community. It is not a substitute for the standard Christian education programs, but supplements and supports them in many ways, sponsors report.

A child may be enrolled by the parents attending a required meeting September 15 or 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Tuition will be $29 per year and will be payable at registration. This program is open to all children of the community.

"Happiness Is . . .", a gospel film for children produced by Heartland Productions of Des Moines, Iowa, will be shown Sunday, September 12, at 7 p.m. at the Brighton Assembly of God church. Admission is free.

Showing of the film will kick off a three-day Children's Crusade. Meetings for children will be held Monday through Wednesday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The Fisherman's Basket begins September 16 at the South Lyon Methodist Church. It is a new endeavor to meet the total unified needs of all age groups. Thursday has been designated as the official meeting night.

There will be music, Bible study and dinner for everyone. Cherubs (grades one through three) meet from 3:30-4:15 p.m. Youth Club for grades four through 12 meets from 1:30 to 7 p.m. The new Adult Club for those 19 to 109 will be in session from 6:10 p.m. (dinner hour) to 8:30 p.m.

Registration for Youth Club will take place September 9 from 6:30-7 p.m., followed by orientation and fourth through eighth grades choir (7-7:30 p.m.). This will be the only open registration offered without a personal meeting with the Youth Club administration. Cost for 15 weeks is $15 per child (including dinner). The third child in a family will cost only $12. Youth Club is open to all regardless of church affiliation.

Nothing minor about Northville fall teams

Editor's Note: This is the second of three stories previewing the fall sports scene at Northville and Novi high schools. Next week, The Record will analyze the schools' football teams.

Folks at Northville High School get a bit perturbed when sports like cross-country, golf, swimming or tennis are labeled "minor."

After all, they point out, there's nothing minor about the time and dedication put in by the coaches and athletes who participate in these sports.

Unfortunately the rewards in minor sports — fame, college scholarships and college coaching posts — come few and slow to the athlete or coach who toils endlessly, primarily for his or her own satisfaction.

There is nothing minor about "minor" sports at Northville High School, either in terms of hours devoted or money spent by the athletic department to see these programs continue.

There is nothing minor about Northville's success in these sports.

This year looks extremely good too for boys' teams in cross-country and golf, and girls' teams in swimming and tennis.

The 20-year-old Eastern Michigan student will take time out daily from her academic chores to coach the girls' basketball team back to respectability.

Her job will be much harder than the two newcomers, girls' swimming coach Debbie Brinkman, and boys' golf coach John Edwards. Both inherit many returnees from defending league champions.

John Edwards has never coached a golf team in his life. An ex-assistant swimming coach, Edwards isn't worried about his lack of golf experience. He played college golf for Eastern Michigan.

And that doesn't stop the 34-year-old high school biology teacher from expressing cautious optimism about this year's squad.

"My biggest difficulty is that I have too many kids. Right now we're practicing with 30 kids and I have to get that squad down to a reasonable size."

Before people start playing violins for Edwards, one should hear him out. He has a point.

"We've got 10 very good players, but only six can play in a meet," he says, explaining the numbers problem.

"But seven of those kids are seniors. We'll be hurting next year losing those seven so I want to keep the other kids around for next year."

Considering that the Mustangs have won the Western Six golf championship in all six years of the conference's existence, the seniors can't be ignored.

"These kids are satisfied with scores of 77-78," Edwards says.

Top juniors are Steve Pyett and Scott Denhof.

Ralph Redmond says he doesn't want to get overly optimistic yet when speaking of his 1976 cross-country team, but with four outstanding runners back from last year's second place squad he admits, "We've got a feeling we're going to be pretty good."

Redmond is an outstanding track coach but in his seven years as cross-country coach, a league title has escaped him.

"I have to be optimistic about these kids, they're dedicated and hard working. 'Hungry for a title' you bet I'm hungry," says a determined-sounding Redmond.

Everyone associated with the girls' swimming team knows the Mustangs will be good. Whether they'll be good enough to defend their Western Six title is still unknown.

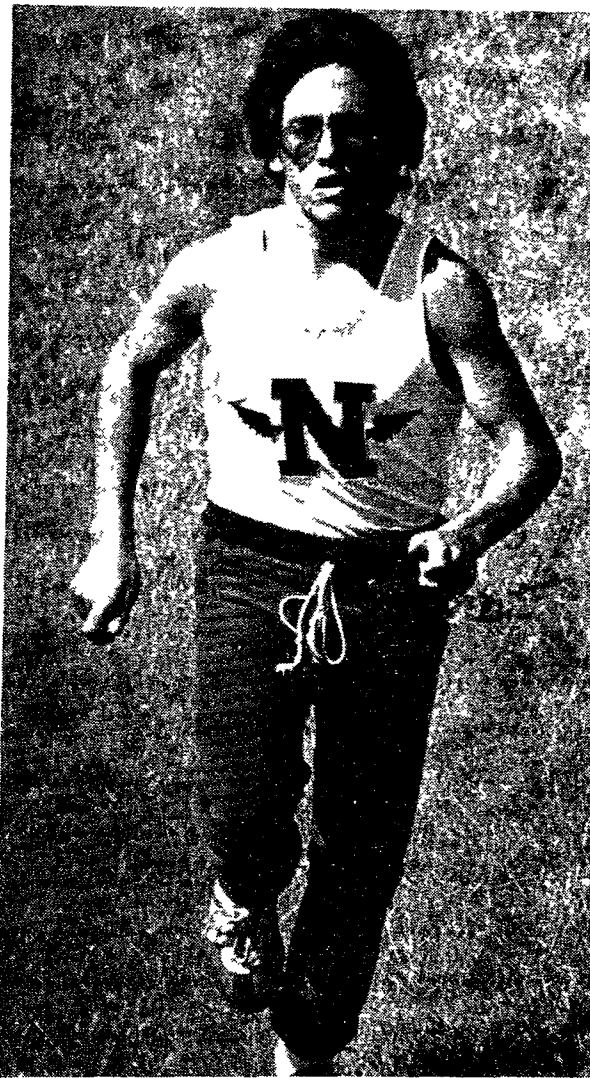

"Let's just say we have more quantity than quality," says Cathy Foust, last year's co-captain, pressed into service to preview the team because new coach Debbie Brinkman hadn't been chosen.

Eighteen girls returned from last year's squad, including all-American Vida Mykalonis and an all-stater Kyle Roggenbuck. Vida's a sophomore and Kyle is a senior.

The main reason for Redmond's optimism is captain Bob Gould. The senior captain has been clocked in 15:48 over the grueling three mile course at Cass Benton park where the Mustangs run.

In the individual state meet last year, Gould finished 16th. Gould is one of five lettermen returning from a team which finished second to Livonia Churchill in the Western Six Conference last year. Churchill finished second in the state meet last year in team competition.

There are two state championship meets, one for individuals and one for teams. In order to qualify for the team state championship, a team has to finish second in a regional meet.

Redmond says that he needs five to seven carriers to succeed in the pack concept of team running, where every runner on a team assists the other.

With eight other boys out for the squad, Redmond says he hopes to come up with one or two other stars.

The other boys are Tom Allen, Tom Doyle, John Managie, Dean Robinson, Taggart, Randy Sharp, Brian Turnbull and Dan Whittaker.

Benefit grid clash set for Saturday

Football season gets underway this Saturday when the Northville and Plymouth Salem high school alumni tangle in their annual benefit game played for the two schools' athletic departments.

Game time is 8:30 p.m. at Salem High School on Canton Center Road. Donation is $2.00.

This is the second straight year the two schools have met. Last year's game ended in a 14-14 tie.

The Mustangs won that one, 21-6. The following year, the Shamrocks played Northville to a scoreless tie.

In their three years of play, the Northville alumni have collected nearly $10,000 for their alma mater's athletic department, according to Zayti.

Chuck Apap, assistant football coach at Northville, is coaching this year's team which has attracted 29 players to this year's game.

"We play serious, hard-hitting football. It's not touch football."

Last year's clash drew 2,700 fans to Salem's field.

Wally Armstrong, Tom

Barber, Bob Bloomhuff, Roger Dowell, Bill Elwell and Jerry Fulcher.

Bill Griffith, Bob Harrison, Eric Lampella, Bruce Lanto, Dan Martin and Rick Marzicki.

Football tab next week

This weekend college and professional football kick off their respective seasons. Next weekend, it's the high schools' turn.

To make the 1976 football season more enjoyable and interesting to area readers, Siger Home Newspapers will present its annual high school football grid preview next Wednesday, September 15.

Included in the colorful 24-page tabloid, will be profiles of local teams, including Northville and Novi, and previews of league races.

Everything a Mustang or Wildcat fan wants to know about his local team will be available in the special annual edition.

"We've lost some really good swimmers through graduation," notes Cathy, one of two seniors and herself a conference champion in the 400-meter freestyle relay.

Another top swimmer moved out of the state while still another star made the varsity cheerleading squad.

But the team got a lift when Janet Shaw, an outstanding swimmer from Howell, moved to Northville.

The quality of the team may be down a bit, but thanks to the summer coaching of boys' varsity swimmers, Art Greenlee and Bruce Hackman, the girls may pick up some additional strength.

"The boys were really driving us," says Cathy. "We're swimming 4,500 to 5,000 meters daily and that should help our times."

Cathy thinks the Mustangs have a good shot to repeat as league champs but points a weary eye toward Churchill and Farmington Harrison as top contenders.

To repeat as champs, a lot of promising juniors will have to develop quickly.

Those girls being counted on to help the squad are: Sherrie Brown, Sue Cicanek, Lori Harguth, Carol McLaughlin, Kathy O'Brien, Kathy Settles, Diane Townsend and Krysten Van Renterghem.

Andy Conder and Barb Jones, the only other senior on the team, provide diving strength.

With a new coach and some unproven swimmers, the girls may have to go a bit to equal last year's mark of 8-0 in league, 12-2 overall, and a 10th place finish in the state meet.

But a league championship is a strong possibility.

In 1969 when Uta Filkin first started coaching girls' tennis at Northville, only four players turned out for the team. Consequently, the Mustangs had to forfeit some games which, in turn, cost them matches.

Times have changed. Last year Mrs. Filkin had 32 girls on a team which finished second in the Western Six.

With eight of 10 girls back from last year's squad, Mrs. Filkin is predicting good things for her experienced team.

Two of the best looking are senior Becky Albus and junior Lori Hopping. Lori recently won a tournament at Schoolcraft College.

Mrs. Filkin says Northville's toughest competition will come from defending league champ Harrison. But with a 15-match schedule this year and some outstanding talent, the friendly coach expects to field a very good team.

Other girls she's counting on are Joan Davis, Kathy Herbel, Paula Horst, Sherry Kaiponen, Karin Lotarski and Claudia Riegner.

Amid all of this sports success, enter Muriel Bedford.

A commuting student at Eastern Michigan University, and a starting guard on the Hurons' women's basketball team, the 20-year-old Northville resident is asked to turn around a declining girls' basketball program.

Last year the Northville squad didn't win a game, nor did the junior varsity which was coached by Ms. Bedford. These facts don't

New Mustang coaches

Someone old, someone new and someone borrowed will insure that Northville's success in fall sports this year will be anything but blue.

Muriel Bedford isn't old, she's only 20 years old. But she's been around Northville high school for a long time where she starred in four sports for the Mustangs. She graduated in 1974.

Last year she coached the girls' junior varsity basketball team.

A junior at Eastern Michigan University, Ms. Bedford will race home from classes there at 2:30 p.m. in time to coach the girls' varsity basketball team this fall.

In November she'll be faced with the problem of coaching and playing. She's a starter on the Hurons' women's cage team.

When Bedford played basketball for the Mustangs in her senior year the team won the league crown.

"We had a lot of seniors on that team so when we left, that meant a lot of rebuilding," says the outgoing novice coach, who has the tough job of trying to reverse recent losing trends.

"I don't feel any pressure about coaching a varsity team for the first time or of coaching this team. I'm looking forward to the challenge," adds the physical education major who was an all-state half-miler at Northville.

Debbie Brinkman is literally wet behind the ears.

The 22-year-old music major chosen to coach the girls' swim team graduated last spring from Western Michigan University. She has yet to line up a full time teaching job.

"Coaching swimming is something I've always wanted to do," says the tall blonde. "I'll want to continue it even after I begin teaching full time."

Ms. Brinkman though has been giving swimming lessons in her native Farmington for years, and swam competitively for 10 years until she entered college.

"In our senior year, our swimming team—(North Farmington High School) won the league championship," she says proudly.

"I didn't have time to swim in college," she adds.

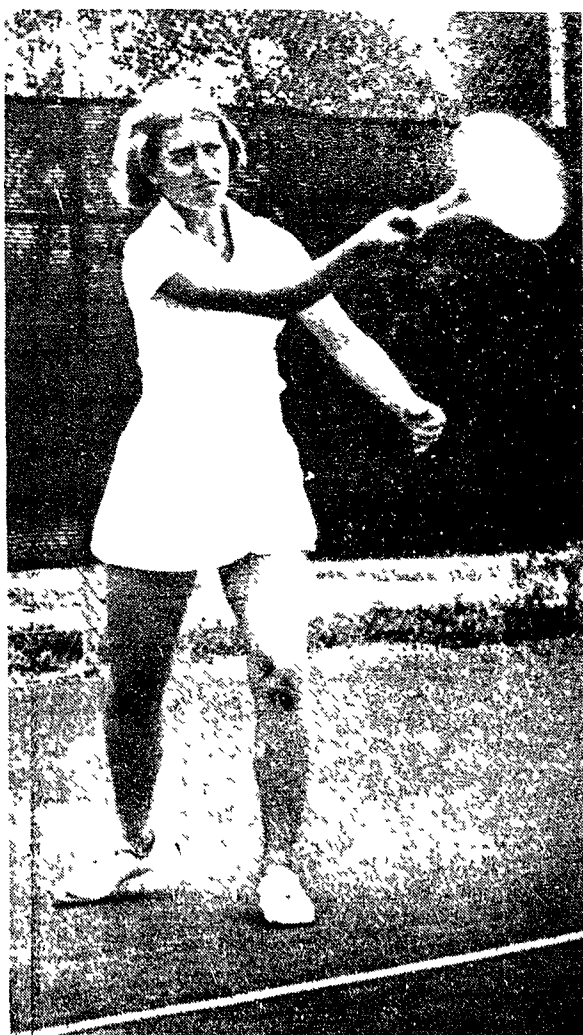

Ms. Brinkman was hired a week ago Monday and began practicing with the girls last Thursday so she had no time to assess this year's team.

Her philosophy of coaching is simple enough.

"The girls have to believe in you as a coach and trust you, while the girls themselves have to work hard."

Ms. Brinkman just bursts with enthusiasm over her new discourage the very friendly and helpful coach who was the star guard on a Northville cage team that won the Western Six title in 1974. She also was an all-stater in track running the half mile.

"It's a challenge, I think about it every night," Ms. Bedford laughs.

Ms. Bedford says she prefers a running game but because of the personnel on hand, will play a slow down, deliberate offense while stressing defense.

Some of the girls Ms. Bedford is counting on are senior guards Kathy Belkowski and Debbie Korte and 5'9" center Anne Pond, also a senior.

The tallest player on the team is 5'10" junior Kim Tromens. Other promising players are Donna Korte, Julie McDaniel and Chris Suddendorf.

Ms. Bedford sees Walled Lake Western and Churchill as the teams to beat in the conference, although she quickly admits she doesn't expect Northville to be battling for a league crown.

"I just want us to be competitive this year," she says. "But first our girls have to learn to play together as a team," she says, noting that her first game is against powerful Novi, one of the strongest teams, boys' or girls', in the area

Punt, pass, kick set

Registration for this year's Punt, Pass and Kick contest is now under way for Novi youngsters.

Any youth, age 8 to 13, may compete in the event by first obtaining registration information from the physical educational instructors at their respective schools.

Registration ends September 18.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Dealers of America, the Novi contest is sponsored by the Jaycees in conjunction with Stark Hickey Ford West.

Punt, Pass and Kick is entering its 16th year of national competition. More than 12 million youngsters have participated in the program so far.

There is no entrance fee and no special equipment is needed. There is no body contact.

Twelve national finalists will compete for the national championships in their age groups during half-time of an NFL divisional play-off game in December.

Winners will have their names permanently inscribed in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Trophies will be presented by Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner.

job. Although she expects there'll be pressure coaching a defending champion which has the ability to repeat, she says, "I'm confident I can do the job."

Virtually all of the Northville High School students know John Edwards the biology teacher. Many of the boys know John Edwards the assistant swimming coach.

Now more boys will know John Edwards the golf coach. Edwards was hired to replace the highly successful and popular Al Jones who retired last spring.

The 34-year-old teacher has never coached golf before, although he played on the college level at Eastern Michigan University.

"I decided I was as qualified as anybody else," says Edwards matter-of-factly.

"I coached swimming for three years but I wanted out because the season was too long

"I enjoy coaching. It gives me a chance to see a different side of the same boys I teach," adds Edwards, who's been teaching at the high school for seven years.

Crisan stars for Hurons

Doug Crisan has played only one varsity game for Eastern Michigan University, but already his coach is predicting great things for the former Northville High School runner.

"I wouldn't say this to his face, but I think he's going to be a great one," said Hurons' offensive backfield coach Bobby Grier.

In Eastern Michigan's season opening game against Ohio University last Saturday night, Crisan was the bright spot in a disappointing 23-7 Huron loss.

The curly-headed fullback led the team in rushing with 40 yards in nine carries, and scored the Hurons' only touchdown on a 15-yard pass.

Although he didn't start, Crisan saw considerable action behind sophomore fullback John Hagel.

Crisan, who is a close friend of Hagel, doesn't really care who starts.

"Right now I'm playing as a freshman and that's the big thing," said the curly-haired 6'3", 210-pounder by phone who, although a sophomore academically has freshman status athletically.

"I missed all of last year with a nerve problem in my left elbow," Crisan explained. "I think the coaches wanted to hold me out a year anyway."

"I'm glad because I still have four years of eligibility left."

Majoring in communications and business, Crisan healed and was able to play spring ball for then head coach George Mans.

The former Michigan assistant was so impressed with his freshman prospect that when spring drills ended Crisan was listed as the number one fullback.

But when practice opened last month in Ypsilanti, injury struck Crisan again, this time in the form of a minor but painful hip pointer.

"I had to sit out a couple of two-a-days so John moved ahead of me. It was a bit of a bummer at the time," Crisan admitted.

"Actually, who's one and who's two is a flip-of-the-coin situation that'll be going on week-to-week."

Crisan did get a breakthrough when Mans resigned suddenly last spring over what he considered lack of support of the football program by the EMU administration.

Ed Chlebek, a Notre Dame assistant, replaced Mans.

"I had my doubts at first because I really liked George, he was fair," Crisan said. "But it all turned out for the best because we're playing a pro offense so I get to run the ball more."

Running is Crisan's game. Carrying the ball 30 times a game in high school, he bulled his way to all-conference and

Chuck Apap, Crisan's high school offensive coach, isn't surprised by his star pupil's success.

"He was a fine individual, dedicated and hard-working. I'll tell you he was one heck of a back for us. His only weakness was his blocking."

As a runner, Crisan rolled to 1,050 yards in his senior year and added another 250 catching the ball, according to Apap, who said a lot of college scouts came out to watch Crisan perform.

"I could have gone to a Big Ten school but I would have had to prove myself," Crisan recalled.

"I could have played on Michigan's hamburger squad (reserves) for four years and said, 'year, I played for Michigan.' But that wouldn't have been playing."

Eastern gave Crisan a four-year scholarship and a chance to play, a chance which he has made the most out of.

Grier said Crisan has improved his blocking to the point where it's no longer a weakness.

"He has good hands, runs the 40-yard dash in 4.7 seconds. I'd like him to bench press 300 pounds," said Grier, finally finding a weakness.

"Right now he's pressing 270 pounds."

Crisan doesn't think he's extremely fast but said he thought his greatest strength was internal.

"My strength is my motivation," said the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles and Wanda A. Brooks of Williamsburg Ct.

"It's the second effort I put into the game that really makes a difference."

Walled Lake swimming

Registration for fall swimming classes at the Walled Lake Community Pool is underway. The pool is located at Western High School.

Persons may register in room five of the Walled Lake Community Education office located in the Walled Lake Junior High School, 615 N. Pontiac Trail.

Registration times are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday and 7 to 9 p.m. today, Wednesday, September 8 and September 9.

Swimming classes on Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Saturday mornings begin the week of September 27.

Classes for pre-schoolers also will be offered, including "aqua tots" for children age three months to 5 years.

Other classes for children include pre-beginners for 3 to 6 year olds, and pre-school swim and gym class for 3 to 5 year olds.

Classes for non-swimming children and advanced swimmers will be offered.

There'll be classes in the competitive starts, strokes and turns, and a beginners' class in springboard diving.

Adults can take classes in beginning and advanced swimming, while a lifesaving class for people 15 and over will be offered.

A new class is basic rescue and water safety. The class is open to people 11 years old and over.

For more information, call the community education office at 624-0202.

Saginaw.

Village Blues of Northville finished fifth (out of 16 teams in the double elimination) in the three-day tournament.

Northville's entrant in the women's state MRPA tournament, Cast-Your-Line, grabbed fourth place in the play-offs held in Mt. Pleasant.

Action outscored their first three opponents, 51-24.

The Novi team blasted Greenville, 19-5, nipped South Haven, 18-13 and clubbed Coldwater, 14-6 to make it to the semi-finals Sunday.

Then the team met eventual MRPA champ Alma.

Going into the bottom half of the sixth inning against Alma, Action had a one-run lead, with runners on first and third base and only one out.

A Novi batsman apparently upped his team's lead to two runs 11-9, with a sacrifice fly.

But the Action runner at first, who had tagged and moved onto second base, was ruled out by the umpire because he left the base too soon.

The run was nullified and the inning ended with Novi still ahead 10-9.

Alma scored once in the top half of the seventh. Action couldn't score in their half of the seventh and the game went into extra innings with the score knotted at 10.

Alma exploded for five runs in the eighth, while Action could only muster one run before falling, 15-11.

South Haven then eliminated Action, 14-9 ending the season for the Novi slo-pitch champs.

Third baseman Doug Anglin led the Action hitters with a .600 average.

Meanwhile, Village Blues too got off to a fast start, whipping Marshall 15-11 and then edging Mason, 8-6.

The Northville champs then ran into a buzzsaw as they fell to Alma 27-13 before being eliminated by South Haven, 18-8.

Village Blues suffered from a lack of hitting — only three round trippers in four games — and the loss of three key players, two were playing college football and a third was playing in a softball world championship.

Gary Winemaster led the team in hitting with a .727 average while Toby Roggenbuck socked two of his

Cast-Your-Line, coached by Dick Metz, was one of 13 teams entered in the three-day, double elimination tournament.

After falling to eventual winner Grand Haven, 20-5 in their first action, Cast-Your-Line came roaring back to whip Lorraine Tool and Die of Novi, 14-5, and edge Ionia, 10-6.

In the Ionia game, the second base-shortstop combination of Jane Allen and Nancy Morelli accounted for five double plays.

Ionia had earlier clubbed another team, 40-1.

Northville then played Howell and fell to the team which finished second to Grand Haven, 22-6.

Hitting stars for Cast-Your-Line were pitcher Sally Potter and Denise MacDermid, each of whom walloped five home runs.

Manager and third baseman Barb Lindner played the final four innings of the Howell game with a broken finger. The injury happened after Lindner was struck on the hand by a line drive off the bat of a Howell player.

Fall recreation registration to start

Registration for Northville Parks and Recreation Department's most comprehensive fall program gets under way next week with over 60 offerings available to people of all ages.

Township and city residents can register for their desired programs at the recreation center office on Wing Street, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday from September 13 to the 24th. Registration also will be held 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, September 25.

Most classes start the week of September 29. Also this year, residents can register by mail thanks to a city and township-wide mailing of recreation department offerings.

Along with the standard programs like dancing, figure skating and fine arts programs, will be women's power and co-ed volleyball, free transcendental meditation lecture series, racquet ball, bowling leagues, private music lessons, and ski and tennis clubs.

For the first time, a men's basketball league will be offered to complement the boys' and girls' basketball leagues.

Even though the youngsters' leagues don't start until November, registration for the popular sport will start September 13 and go through the 25th, according to Charles Froberger, recreation director. "We have more offerings than ever," says Froberger of this fall's program.

He emphasizes that the township voters' defeat of a recreation millage last month in no way jeopardizes the fall program.

Fees for each program differ.

For the first time, the Recreation Department will mail a complete list of program offerings, times, locations and fees to all city and township homes.

Registration for soccer already has been completed, says Froberger, who notes that the sport's popularity has soared, especially among girls.

"Last spring we had only one girls' team, this fall we have three."

Indeed, the popularity of this summer's co-ed slo-pitch league helped lead to the establishment of the co-ed volleyball league, Froberger says.

Co-ed teams must consist of 50 percent men and 50 percent women. Team fee is $60. The department also will offer a women's volleyball league.

Team registration in the men's basketball league will be on a first-come first-serve basis. The 14-game schedule will be played on weeknights at the local junior high schools.

Teacher tour

Many of Novi's new teachers may know little about the community, but Bosco and Volpe Construction Company of Novi each year tries to do something about that. Last week B&V took 10 new teachers and assorted administrative personnel on helicopter tours of the city. The annual event is intended to give the teachers a better idea of what Novi is like. One load last week included (from left) Ellen Christopherson, Novi Woods Principal Roy Williams, Pat Ketelhut, Mike Trumbull, Kate Wilson and B&V pilot Kenneth Ross.

School time back again

"We have some new teachers excited about starting their careers here," he said. "The students also appear to be excited. They're hovering outside the building, anxiously getting supplies and books ready."

"We're looking for a large increase in enrollment," Dr. Youngberg added. "A lot of families are moving in and they're looking for great things here."

Dave Brown, principal of Village Oaks said that with the school year beginning, "There's a healthy optimism."

"We're expecting our best year and we're rarin' to go."

Brown added that many people are moving into Novi, an exciting community, "and they're looking forward to their relationship to school and the city of Novi. There's an anticipation of growth and progress."

Roy Williams, principal of the new Novi Woods Elementary, said that parents and students are excited about the opening of the new school.

"They seem to be real impressed," he said. "We think it's a great opportunity. It's a step upward. We'll be able to do things we wanted to in the other building but couldn't."

School hours throughout the district remain the same as last year: high school, 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; middle school, 8:30 a.m. to 2:50 p.m.; elementary schools, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; A.M. kindergarten, 9 a.m. to 11:35 a.m.; P.M. kindergarten, 12:55 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Belanger to show off research car wash

An open house to introduce the new concept developed by Belanger, Inc. for car wash facilities will be held next Tuesday, September 14 at the company's research installation in Northville, South Main at Cady street.

Local and area officials as well as the general public have been issued invitations to inspect the unique water reclamation system. Through a specially engineered closed filtering system, all water used in the car washing process is recycled. The filtering system also eliminates all contaminants normally released into the sewage system, Lee Belanger, the firm's chairman, points out.

In addition to its new engineering devices, the newly-opened Water Wheel Car Wash introduces a non-woven cloth with a saturant that washes and polishes. No brushes that can scratch a car's surface, Belanger notes, are used in the new Belanger system.

The research facility is being used by Belanger as a model to promote the car wash system on a national basis.

Little Red Nursery

Nursery staff increases

Five new teachers have been added to the staff of the Little Red Schoolhouse Nursery on Eight Mile Road in Northville to bring the teaching staff total to eight as classes begin September 13.

Owner Nancy Beaupre notes that these are part-time posts with four teachers working at a time. She adds that the staff this fall is international as it includes teachers from Finland and the Philippines.

Mrs. Merja Bliss is the new teacher from Finland; she has a bachelor of music education degree from Eastern Michigan University. Mrs. Imelda Pali, from the Philippines, has a bachelor of fine arts from University of Santo Tomas.

Other new teachers are Mrs. Carol Huey, BA in elementary education, George Washington University; Mrs. Joan Leahy, BS degree in early childhood education, Tufts University; Miss Linda Grieves, BS degree in art education, Wayne State University.

Returning teachers are Mrs. Barbara Greahya, BA degree in elementary education, Michigan State University; Miss Mary Hoffman, Northville High School graduate; and Mrs. Claudia Berry, BA in education, DePauw University.

In announcing the fall staff, Mrs. Beaupre states she feels "it is exceptionally well-qualified and has exciting projects planned for the children."

There still are some openings in some classes, she adds. Enrollments may be made by calling 349-8068 or 349-5020.

Mrs. Beaupre announces that this is the last year she will be operating the school as she and her husband with their year-old son, Peter, plan to move to Rochester, Michigan, next summer. She says she plans to sell the nursery then.

Gothic cottage oldest on tour

Green-and-gold coordinate wallpapers unify the dining-living room areas

Gothic lancet windows are a noteworthy-feature both inside and outside this home, the oldest on tour

By JEAN DAY

The little gothic cottage on Dunlap Street in Northville's Historic District is the oldest house to be open on Northville's 10th annual home tour September 30.

Its present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Daniel, think the house may have been built about 1871 when a mortgage was taken on the property.

Architectural historians date its gothic gingerbread detail about 1865-80.

The Daniels moved into the home three years ago, and, while wallpapering, painting and remodeling, have taken time also to research county records.

They know that the property has had 40 owners, starting with Alvah Smith and his wife, Lavina, who received land extending from Linden Street all the way to the Mill Race in 1825 from the U.S. Government.

"About that time the British had left and there was a land boom here as the government wanted it settled and farmed. They called it 'Michigan fever,'" recounts Mrs. Daniel, who began her research shortly after moving here from Livonia.

In 1840, records show, Wilham Dunlap plotted the land with Daniel L. Cady.

In 1871 a man named John Bishop mortgaged the land, which, interestingly enough, Mrs. Daniels comments, was owned by a widow Béale. At that time the house was built with a basement, two main floor rooms and two second story rooms.

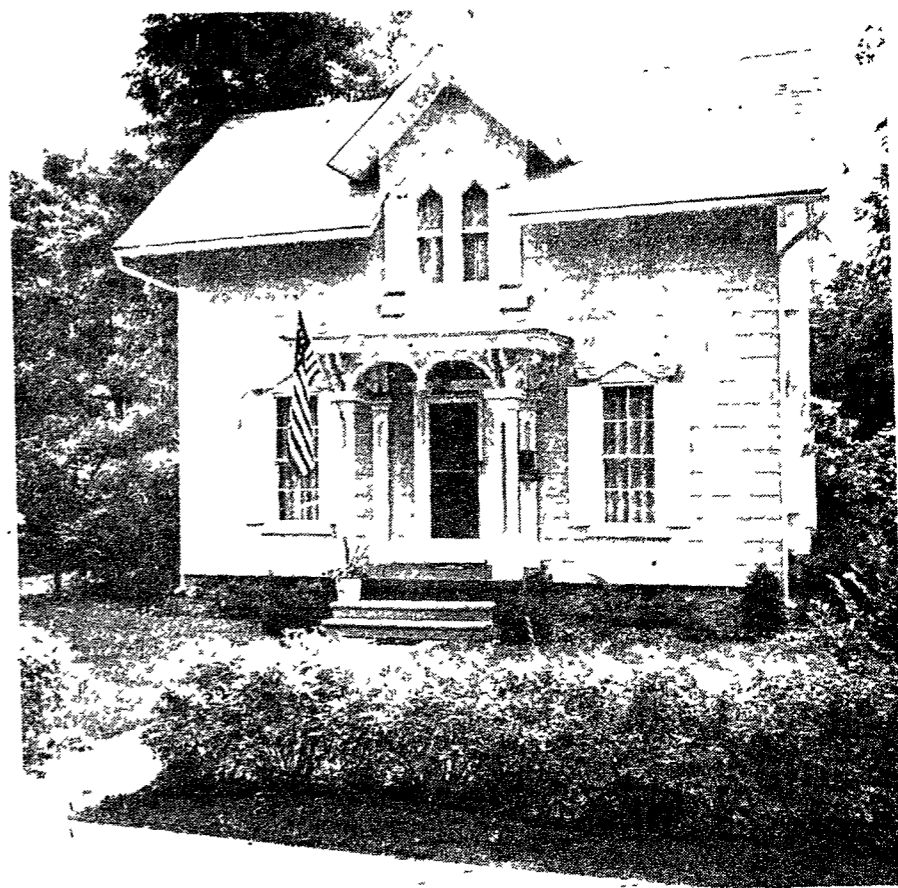

The parents of Mrs. Fred VanAtta were among the home's owners. Mrs. VanAtta, who now lives in Washington, D.C., has corresponded with Mrs. Daniels, noting that, among the unusual features of the little home was "an indoor-outdoor johnny."

Visitors to the couple's home will find it freshly wallpapered throughout. Coordinated gold-and-green stripe and floral stripe papers tie together the dining and living rooms, which are separated by a graceful, curving arch.

A gold floral-stripe paper is used in the small den adjoining the living room. During the home tour Mrs. Daniel plans to have on display here interesting examples from her husband's collection of old books.

Northville to get EI classroom

Establishment of a classroom in Northville for emotionally impaired students has been authorized by the school board.

Although it was not immediately decided where the classroom will be located, the district's special education specialist, Clark Kelly, suggested that because of space limitations elsewhere the classroom probably could be best located at Winchester Elementary.

Cost to the district for operating the classroom has been pegged at between $1,000 and $2,000, with the remaining cost being underwritten through state and county sources.

LOOKIN' GOOD—Wixom Historical Society members were somewhat surprised to find a brick wall hiding under the siding at the Tiffin House. Worn boards were completely removed from the south and east sides of the house exposing the brick which was originally installed as insulation. With the addition of new siding, back porch and a fresh coat of paint, the exterior of the old landmark should be in good shape to face the cold winter winds.

Wixom Newsbeat

Cure for colic found in house

By NANCY DINGELDEY

A book, unintentionally left to the city by the Tiffin boys, may be of some use to the women's softball teams that took up action Wednesday night.

Historical Society members will tell you that the treasures found at the old house have been few in number. And some might even question the value of the book that was left behind.

But that book might prove invaluable to some of the sore, aching "over 25" gals who participated in the ball game. It contains medical treatments for man and beast — cure alls for everything from colic to restoring the appetite.

The book, unfortunately, is in a sad, decayed condition so its title and author are unknown — to me, at least. But some of the "recipes" are readable and worthy of sharing.

After reading the following list of ingredients, it might make you want to join in on a rousing chorus of "double bubble, toil and trouble". The author, however, assures this linament tried and true for painful muscles, as well as swelling and burns.

Take two ounces each of oil of araganum (laudanum), oil sassafras, tincture camphor, oil cedar, spirits of ammonia, spirits of turpentine, sweet oil, and add to one gallon of alcohol.

And for treatment of a bad cold, the book directs mixing one pint of whiskey with two ounces capsicum and two ounces oil of spike. It must be pointed out that this mixture is to be applied externally, on the glands of the throat.

Internal medication for the cold calls for one to two ounces of common black molasses twice a day. At this point, an aspirin sounds like a much better remedy.

Other treasures found at the old place include a piece of an ivory comb, a very old wooden spool and a child's alphabet block.

Restoration of the house has been proceeding at a good pace with new siding applied to the south and east portions of the house. The Wixom Jaycees pitched in and built a new porch at the back door.

Many people were amazed to find a solid brick wall under the old siding. I like to say the brick was there to ward off the Indian arrows because it's a much better story.

Not true. Bricks were used as insulation in those days, and in the case of the Tiffin House, they extended from ground to ceiling level. Some window frames have been replaced. Topped off in wedgewood blue paint with white trim, the old place is shaping up.

Historical Society members hope to have the place completely winterized before the flakes fly. Works bees are held every Tuesday afternoon with other hands pitching in when time permits.

Program plans for the coming year are almost completed with monthly society meetings delving into a variety of subjects, ranging from antique cars to one of the foremost authorities on Lincoln.

The fall series of meetings will be opened on September 30, with a night tour of Mill Race, in Northville. John Ever think of how many ways there are to recreate a window? There are, of course, country curtains, which are fine for certain types of casual, country decors, and are especially nice in country bedrooms. There are more formal curtains, and window treatments that are beautifully formal sometimes include glass curtains as well as draperies of fine fabric. Macrame makes a great and different way to treat windows, and allows a maximum of light and freedom. When you do your home, it is always wise to spend some time considering the very best way to treat windows.

See us at GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7119, for complete window treatment. We can show you beautiful fabrics for custom made draperies, custom-made window shades, and decorator shade paints by FULLER-O'BRIEN for your window trim and window sill. For your walls, we have more than 100,000 patterns of wallpapers to choose from, the largest selection in this area. Do drop by soon and feel free to browse.

Novi Senior Citizens

Novi Senior Citizens had a very enjoyable time at Kawkawlin, Michigan. While there they had lunch at the Turkey Roast, went on a ride on famous Huckleberry train through the historical Crossroads Village which is sponsored by the Mott Foundation.

It is requested that anyone making a cancellation for the next trip please do so a day ahead of time so that those on the waiting list can be notified. Burkman will lead the group through the buildings that have been moved and restored by the Northville Historical Society.

Northville resident Robert Reed will be the guest speaker on Monday, October 18. His topic is musketry...sure to please the men in the audience.

Other plans in the works include a possible group trip to the Autumn Harvest celebration at Greenfield Village and a trip to Hastings for a tour of a restored village.

And then we must not forget the Society's fund raiser — the Holiday Boutique — scheduled this year for Saturday, November 13.

chairperson, and her committee are in charge of the event. The afternoon will include prizes for both cards and bingo. Get well cards can be sent to members, Mrs. Olga Paul and Mrs. Vera Hansor, whose addresses are on your green and white sheet.

North Novi Civic Association

If you live in the north end of Novi and would like to get firsthand information about what's going on in Novi, plan now to attend the next meeting.

This association has representatives who attend council meetings and bring back information for you. The next meeting will be September 21 at the Novi Community Building when election of officers will be held. This group is also sponsoring its annual Association Picnic on the 12th of September at Lake Shore Park. The association will furnish hot dogs and baby ribs. You are asked to come with your family and a passing dish and your own table service.

Business and Professional Women

At the last meeting about 30 women gathered at the West Oakland Bank on 10 Mile Road for a catered dinner that was delicious. Several new prospective members were present. This group is interested in acquainting women in the community with their purposes, goals and aims and it is open to any woman who is gainfully employed. The group plans to become involved in community affairs and is looking towards Library needs at the present time.

Novi Community Band

The Novi Community Concert Band is getting back into action again starting Monday, September 13 after rehearsing "for fun" all summer long. The band is in the process of receiving new members for its fifth concert season as they welcome back all the members who have been on summer vacation.

The Novi Community Band welcomes all students who play band instruments starting in the eighth grade (with audition) on up to Senior Citizens who appreciate and enjoy good band music.

The repertoire includes everything from Bach to Bacharach. Something to appeal to most everyone's taste. Various concert engagements are being Heretofore, emotionally impaired students needing special help have been bused out of the district.

El classroom

According to Kelly, some six students have been identified as needing help. Up to 10 students could be accommodated in the classroom.

Students in the program live in Northville. Because of emotional problems, they are generally either totally withdrawn and unresponsive to standard classroom instruction or are so over-planned by the band for the 1976-77 season.

Have you been itching to get out that high school or college band instrument and enjoy playing again - or maybe you need some more musical experience outside of school activities. Call the director Guy Smith at 349-7055 or Debbie Hofsteen, 349-8088 for more information or go ahead and join the band in rehearsal on Monday nights at 7:15 p.m. at the Senior High School on Taft Road in the band room. The high school is located between 10 Mile and 11 Mile, west of Novi Road.

In other action last week, the board confirmed the superintendent's reassignment of Kelly from that of K-12 special education coordinator for the district's traditional program to ISEP coordinator of personnel and program. The latter involves the special education program for institutionalized students.

Replacement for Kelly has not yet been named. In the interim, he is to assume the responsibilities of both posts

Bank was not the low bidder.

In view of the fact that Manufacturers is the district's chief depository, the board decided to await a review of ramifications of awarding the contract to one bank and depositing the borrowed money in another.

Michigan National-Oakland came in with a bid of 3.55 percent or a total interest rate of $71,000. The Livonia branch of the same banking firm submitted the second lowest bid of 3.65 or $73,000.

National Bank of Detroit bid 3.74 or $74,800, and Manufacturers bid was the high with 3.74 or $74,800.

The borrowing of money against anticipated state aid income has been an annual practice of many, if not most of the state's school districts, to permit them to pay bills before receiving state aid

They include a banker's ledger and a 1795 book dealing with ailments of both horses and people.

A small gold-and-white pineapple print paper is used on the first floor bath. When the Daniels removed part of a cupboard they found a daintily tucked white summer dress of long ago. It has been mended by Mrs. Daniel and will be displayed on a form at the tour.

Noteworthy in the pine kitchen are old cupboards of several woods which Mrs. Daniel has refinished. The Daniels have removed an old false ceiling and beamed the original one with lightweight plastic timbers that look like wood.

A plate rail above the cupboards has been added to display a candle mold, duck decoy and other treasures. Remodelers also should

Board considers car replacement

Should the district replace the school-owned car used by the superintendent?

That question has been referred to the personnel subcommittee of the Northville Board of Education for study and recommendation.

The 1973 car reportedly is in need of repairs, which would cost an estimated $1700.

Providing a car for the superintendent is one of the fringe benefits of the position. The original car was purchased in 1966, replaced in 1970 and again in 1973.

Upstairs, gothic lancet windows are interesting both outside and in. Mrs. Daniel has covered them with shutters instead of curtains in the master bedroom. Here she has framed fashion prints from a "Delineator" magazine of 1902 to hang on the floral-papered walls.

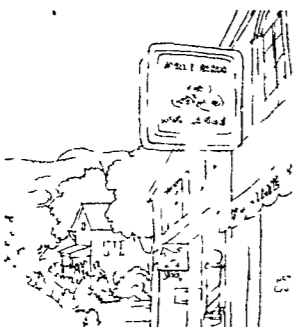

In the hall are Godey fashions of 1870, chosen as they were in vogue when the home was built.

A plus feature of the home is the air conditioning. Mrs. Daniel explains that it "was easier to air condition than to try to open the windows."

With their two daughters and son married, the gothic cottage has become an ideal home for two.

The home will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. the Thursday of the tour. Other homes to be on tour include a three-story Victorian, a new, double-wing colonial and two new contemporary-blend homes.

Historic buildings in Northville's Mill Race Village also will be open during the tour. Tickets will be on sale there the day of the tour for $3. Mrs. Martin Rinehart, 349-1468, is in charge of advance sales.

Like a good neighbor,
State Farm is there.
