

Ethnic music, food, crafts spotlighted this weekend

The tastes and sounds of foreign countries come to Northville this weekend as the Northville Chamber of Commerce sponsors the community's first International Festival, at Northville Downs.

And if similar events held in other suburban communities, such as in Birmingham, are an indication of what to expect, the Downs will be transformed into a colorful ethnic setting reflecting more than a score of countries.

The Festival will be held inside the grandstand area of the Downs on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Hours are 3-11 p.m. Friday; noon to 11:30 p.m. Saturday; and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

In addition to the ethnic arts and crafts, entertainment and food, several celebrities are scheduled to make appearances, announced Chamber President Ann Roy.

Among the latter are:

Ted Strasser of Northville, WJR Radio host of "Patterns in Music" — a show that this past Sunday highlighted the international festival here; Gene Fogel and Tom Campbell, also of WJR; Sid Abel, hockey star and former manager of the Detroit Red Wings; and Larry Santos, TV star and recording artist.

Assisting the Chamber in putting together the Festival is the International Institute of Detroit.

Among the entertainment groups scheduled are:

Folk dancing under the sponsorship of the International Institute;

Ukrainian Dancing; Finlandia Male Chorus; Chinese Dancers; Ballet Folklorico Mexicano; Indian Solo Dancer Anjali Mital; The Kariatides Greek; Mahealani Polynesian; Middle East Dance by Sorina Hashi; Spanish Flamenco by Maria Durante; Calouste

Gulbenkian, Armenian Dancing; Irish Dancing by the Maureen School of Irish Dance; Hungarian Dancers; Finnish Dancers; Ukrainian Sunflower Trio; Polish Dancers by the Polish Women's Alliance; and an Arabic demonstration by Kareem Ajluni.

A wide variety of foods and beverage are to be provided throughout the Festival.

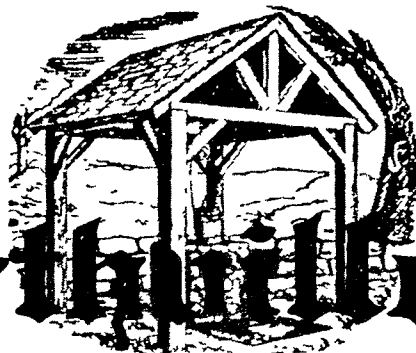

Chief among them will be the "Old World Cafe" — an Italian cafe featuring spaghetti, Italian sausage sandwiches, antipasto, pizza and cannoli.

Indicative of prices are those in the Old World Cafe: Spaghetti, $1.50; sausage sandwiches, $1.25; antipasto,

Ol' watering hole

Years ago drivers stopped their horses and climbed out of buggies and wagons to fetch pails of water or to take a refreshing drink from the spring. Today they're still stopping. But they're climbing from cars and trucks to fill their jugs and containers with the icy water that continuously flows from Northville's historic well at the bend in Main Street, south of the Ford plant. No one is certain just when the well first began flowing, but reliable accounts suggest the spring dates back to well before the turn of the century. Oldtimers still living today remember getting water there when steam engines stopped nearby at the railroad station, when electric streetcars rounded the curve enroute to and from Plymouth, and when Northville's airplane, furniture and bell industries were drawing international acclaim. The well itself became famous coast to coast when it and Northville became the setting for a famous cartoon strip, The Nebbs, during the early part of this century. Today, although the water's still icy cold it flows from a new source — a well sunk a few years ago, under sponsorship of the Northville Rotary Club, when the well went dry. One thing remains constant: "The water's excellent," agrees Herbert Hatfield (top), Chris Puckett (right), and Karen Bush (below).

Five battle for two council seats

It's official: five persons will square off for two four-year council seats, two will battle for mayor, and Councilman Wallace Nichols will be unopposed for re-election to council in the November 8 city election.

By Monday's filing deadline, these candidates had filed nominating petitions:

For mayor — Councilman Paul Folino and ex-councilman Paul Vernon.

For four-year council seats (there are two) — Louise Cutler, Burton DeRusha, Dewey Gardner, John Stilson and Eugene Wagner.

For two-year council seat — Councilman Wallace Nichols.

According to Clerk Joan McAllister, candidates have until tomorrow, to withdraw from the race. Names of those candidates who have not withdrawn by that date will appear on the November ballot.

All of the candidates had previously indicated their intentions to seek office, so there were no surprises at filing deadline "me except for the fact that no one chose to run against Nichols for the two-year term.

Nichols' popularity and long tenure on the council may have persuaded those who had considered running for the two-year post to jump into the race for four-year seats.

Aside from Nichols, no incumbents are running for the council posts since Vernon and Folino have decided to run for mayor.

Vernon, whose four-year council term does not expire until 1979, resigned this past summer so that the remainder of his term could be filled by voters in November. He could have remained on the council until Monday's filing deadline, thereby leaving his replacement to the council by appointment rather than by election.

Folino's four-year council term expires in November as does Nichol's four year term. Nichols, however, decided to run for the remainder of Vernon's term rather than seek a four-year term.

Critical situation seen

More budget cuts loom as school enrollment drops

Northville's school board took a scalpel to an already disabled budget Monday night, hoping to complete major surgery without crippling the patient.

The prognosis is still uncertain. The board was hit with the grim news this week that anticipated revenue for the 1977-78 school year will be about $80,000 shy of proposed spending levels.

Most of the difference — about $70,000 — is due to last Friday's official enrollment count of 4223 which was 50 below the projected figure used in budget preparation. The state provides Northville with $1364 for each student.

That means the board and administrators must squeeze $7,092,000 worth of needs into a $7,013,000 budget by the end of this month.

The problem, according to Superintendent Raymond Spear, is that the budget is already "cut to the bone" in the wake of last July's millage defeat.

"We are very, very vulnerable with this budget," he said at Monday night's study session. He noted that this year's spending increase was about $370,000 over last year which is about half the annual $700,000 boost for the past five years.

He warned that before the school year is over he may be coming to the board with projects that must be funded but for which there is no money.

"We finally have the Northville school budget down to a point where there is nothing left to cut unless you want to cut people," said Spear.

Staff layoffs, however, would have a "negative impact" on morale and attitudes "which has been good for the last five weeks" since school began he said.

Despite day-long meetings on Monday with principals and central office administrators, Spear said he could not recommend any cuts "without deteriorating or demolishing all of the good things we have done."

The board, which studied the preliminary budget at length last summer, tackled the figures again Monday night in an attempt to slash $80,000.

After four hours, however, less than $50,000 had been chopped out and most of that was in tenuous, risky and, perhaps, non-existent savings.

First, the board eliminated a fund equity of $12,000 which was reached in June after several years of living with a deficit budget.

"I don't like it," said Spear. "If we miscue (with budget projections), there's no protection down the road."

The biggest gamble, however, is with utilities where the board has suggested that $24,000 can be saved through conservation measures.

Financial director Thomas Goulding, acting on advice from Detroit Edison and Consumer Power analysts, predicted a 10 percent increase in utility costs or $49,000.

Trustee Charles Peltz, assuming that this year's winter won't be as severe as last year's record breaker, argued that the increased rates will be offset by reduced use.

He wanted the entire $49,000 utility hike axed from the budget, but other members — mindful that last year's gas and electricity estimates came in low — settled for a compromise figure of $24,000.

Spear told the board that he was concerned that the utility cuts were paper savings only and reminded trustees that the law requires a balanced budget.

"If we find out in January or February that we're not going to make it, we're not going to have that many pipers to go talk to," he said.

One way or another, Spear and his staff will have a proposed budget — which must be balanced — prepared by Monday morning.

One potentially controversial area that will be considered is shutting down all school buildings from Friday afternoon until Monday morning.

Such a move will cut down on utility costs but it would have a drastic effect on recreation programs which use the schools' gyms and swimming pool on Saturdays.

The proposed budget will be presented to the board during Monday night's regular meeting. A public hearing on the budget is set for the following Monday, October 17.

Formal adoption by the board is set for October 24, a week before the state deadline.

NEWS BRIEFS

FIRE PREVENTION Week will get a big kickoff Saturday with an open house at Northville Township Fire Hall from noon until 4 p.m. Chief Robert Toms has invited all township residents and anyone else in the area to tour the hall, see the township's fire equipment and pick up literature on smoke detectors.

SEWER SERVICE bills are increasing significantly in the wake of Monday's unanimous action by city council in increasing rates. The new higher rates, averaging about 70 percent, reflect the increase passed on to the suburban users of the Detroit sewer system by order of the court. Included was a reserve for repair and reconstruction of sewer lines. The latter approximates 25 percent of the total rate increase. The average customer can expect a sewer bill increase of about $6.

A BONUS day is being offered those who have not yet registered to vote in the November election. City Clerk Joan McAllister reports that since Monday — the last day of registration — falls on a bank holiday an extra day of registration is planned Tuesday. "We still plan to be open Monday to accept registrations," she said, "but we're giving them the extra day because of the holiday."

PARENT-TEACHER conferences are set next week at Northville senior and junior high schools. The high school, Cooke and Meads Mill Junior High Schools have conferences set for Wednesday from noon to 3 p.m. and from 6-9 p.m. The junior high schools have additional conferences planned from noon to 3 p.m. on Thursday. No appointments are necessary. There will be no school at the senior and junior high schools on Wednesday or at the junior high school on Thursday afternoon.

TWO BILLS in the State House of Representatives have received unanimous council endorsement. One, House Bill 5002, would provide for speed limits not exceeding 25 MPH in school zones and it would permit local municipalities to reduce limits to 15 MPH where school zones are posted. The other, a bill of State Representative Richard Fessler, who represents Northville, would appropriate $6 million for state purchase and renovation of the Detroit House of Corrections for a medium security state penitentiary. Council members see use of DeHoCo, located partially in Northville Township, as a wise alternative to state proposals for turning the Wayne County Child Development Center into a prison.

- Are you tired of peddlers?
- Mayor Noel's unopposed
- Head lice no disgrace, but...

NOVI—In the face of opposition by citizens who feared traffic and water pollution problems, the Novi council has unanimously rejected rezoning that would have permitted development of two high-rise senior citizen apartment complexes on the shore of Walled Lake.

WALLED LAKE—Some people hide their prejudices—but not so Albert Natchey, candidate for city council here. Natchey makes no bones about running on a platform to keep blacks from moving here by limiting low-cost multi-story housing units to two levels.

COMMERCE—Tired of peddlers coming to your door? Well, Commerce Township hopes it has the solution for its residents. A new ordinance prohibits peddlers at any home or business where 1½-inch high "no solicitors" signs are displayed.

SOUTH LYON—One of this community's most controversial, yet popular mayors in history is a sure bet to win re-election. Mayor John Noel, whose son-in-law used to be the police chief in town, will be unopposed for a two-year term in the November 8 election.

SOUTH LYON—It's no disgrace to get head lice, but the disgrace lies in keeping them without treating them, an elementary principal declared in revealing an "infestation" of lice among at least a dozen students.

SOUTH LYON—While the board of education was creating the new position of "night principal" for the adult program here, the district's middle school principal, James Van Dyke, was preparing to begin a six-month leave of absence to work on his doctorate degree.

SOUTH LYON—Providence Hospital of Southfield cleared a major hurdle September 28, in its run to build ambulatory care clinics in Novi and South Lyon when it received approval from the Plan Implementation Committee of the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan. It must still receive approval from that agency's executive board and the Michigan Department of Public Health.

SOUTH LYON—South Lyon's bid for an $8 million federal grant for construction of a new sewage treatment plant has been stalled in Detroit federal court. South Lyon had its final-phase plans for the plant approved by Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) officials in Chicago on Tuesday, September 20. An effort to secure the EPA funding for the plant in federal court on Thursday, September 22, failed when Judge John Feikens ruled he would hear arguments from South Lyon and other outstate municipalities seeking grant monies on November 18. A Feikens' ruling three weeks ago tied up some $400 million in available EPA grant funds for the City of Detroit and its suburbs, placing South Lyon's grant in jeopardy.

HARTLAND—Hartland Township has joined Walled Lake in becoming the latest municipalities to join the often controversial Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

BRIGHTON—"It boggles the mind," says Brighton's city attorney in speculating what might happen if the State Supreme Court later this month rules that the state's boundary commission is unconstitutional. "Suppose the Supreme Court says the boundary commission doesn't exist. Then what happens to all those uncontested annexation cases since its establishment in 1970?" he asks. At issue in Brighton is the contested annexation of 413 acres of township land by the city. A similar annexation case involving Novi also hinges on the court's decision.

BRIGHTON—It took an uncharacteristic three votes, but Brighton teachers finally ratified a new, one-year pact calling for a six percent salary increase. The margin of approval also was decidedly different from years past—2-1 versus a normal 9-1. Major objection came from elementary teachers who are disenchanted with the negotiated increase in K-3 classroom size from 26 to 28.

Sechler is inducted as Kiwanis president

C. Thomas Sechler was installed Thursday as the new president of the Northville Kiwanis Club.

He replaces Hugh Lockhart, who has moved to Holt to become a professor of packaging at Michigan State University.

Other newly installed officers are: Robert Massel, first vice-president;

Jack Hinman, second vice-president; Melvin Miner, treasurer; Jack Hoffman, secretary; and Sal Abraham, John Steimel, David White, William Hooth and Larry Borrsch, members of the board of directors.

In conducting his first meeting Monday as president of the club, Sechler named the following committee chairmen:

David White, membership; Robert Schron, a past president, spiritual aims and community services; and youth services, Jack Hoffman.

New officers were installed at a joint installation program, at Plymouth, involving the two Plymouth Kiwanis clubs and the Northville club.

At the same time, the Michigan governor and the district lieutenant governor of Kiwanis—both members of the Plymouth Colonial Club, were installed.

The Northville Kiwanis Club meets each Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Park House restaurant on Northville Road near King's Mill subdivision.

EDC ordinance ok'd

An ordinance providing for the creation of an Economic Development Corporation was adopted unanimously by the Northville City Council Monday.

The new EDC is similar to the one created recently by Northville Township.

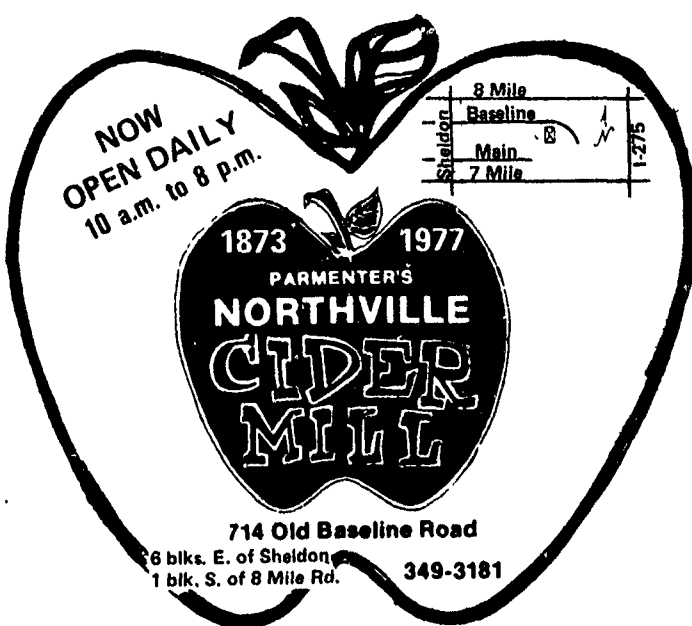

Purpose of these economic development corporations is to encourage and assist in development of industrial, commercial and residential properties within the communities where the corporations exist.

The economic development corporations in the city and in the township have greater bonding authority than does the EDC that has existed for many years under sponsorship of three public bodies—the city, township and school district.

According to city officials, the new EDC serving only the city will not replace but supplement the existing organization. Township board members see the township EDC serving in this same manner.

City residents listed as incorporators of the new city EDC are Paul R. Vernon, Glenn C. Long, and G. Dewey Gardner.

Survey seeks opinions on downtown shopping

A survey to determine attitudes and shopping habits relative to Northville's retail business district began this week. The project is being undertaken by a committee appointed by the city council to investigate and propose means of improving and expanding the city's shopping area.

Specifically, North Poll, a professional research firm owned by William J. Bohan and Richard F. Lyon, has been retained to conduct the survey of both shoppers and shop owners.

Some 750 questionnaires have been mailed to residents of the market area, while approximately 70 businessmen will also be quizzed for opinions.

The pollsters will seek to determine where area residents shop and why, what improvements or additions they would like to see in the central business district area and what suggestions they might have for existing facilities.

Business owners will be asked questions involving the business climate, how they see the future, where they believe their business is coming from, what potential exists, what might be done to attract more shoppers and their attitude towards exterior and interior building improvements.

Bohan and Lyon said they hope for at least a 25 percent response from the 750 residents chosen at random from the area. They anticipate that the questionnaires will be returned within two weeks.

All 70 business owners surveyed are expected to respond.

By the middle of November it is anticipated that results of the survey will be reviewed by the Downtown Business Development and Expansion Committee.

Chaired by Paul Vernon, the six-member committee has concentrated its attention initially on the partially-vacant Northville Square shopping facility at Main and Wing streets.

Organized in July, the committee proposed to study all aspects of the business district and hopes to use information gathered from the survey as a basis for its recommendations to the city council.

The survey, which will cost $2,500, will be financed by contributions from business and the city. The council approved an expenditure of $1,500 for the project.

Other members of the committee serving with Vernon are Dewey Gardner, Councilman Stanley Johnston, Glenn Long, Herman Moehlman and William Sliger.

Down 187 from 1976

Spear explains enrollment miss

A D-Day enrollment of 4233 — 50 lower than predicted — is the major cause of an $80,000 gap between anticipated revenue and expenditures for the Northville school system. (See story on page one.)

This year's enrollment is 187 — or four percent — fewer than last year.

Superintendent Raymond Spear, worried that the district's credibility may be on the line because of the discrepancy between actual and projected enrollment, took the school board on a step-by-step process of estimating student population.

The school used the Cohort system — named after its inventor — which is based normally on the last four years experience in growth.

Since Northville's figures for the last four years would give an unrealistic growth picture, Spear used only the last two years of declining growth and reached a figure of 4331.

Afterward, financial director Thomas Goulding had an opportunity to plug Northville's data into a Michigan State University computer which spit out a similar 4330 estimate.

However, Northville administrators were already aware that the outgoing senior class was much larger than the incoming kindergarten contingent.

Using the exact enrollment for each grade last year, adding the kindergartners and subtracting the seniors, the district reached a projection of 4216.

Since that figure "made no provision for growth," Spear split the difference between 4216 and the Cohort estimate of 4331 and obtained the 4273 projection.

"Hindsight suggests that the 4216 figure was more realistic," said Spear. "But I think we used two very solid areas to make our projection."

The district knew it was running about 40 under estimates before the Fourth Friday count. Last Friday's official count of 4223 merely made a bad situation worse.

Correctly predicting the Fourth Friday enrollment would not have added any money to the district's coffers, but would have let the board know about its financial plight earlier.

Trustee James Lewis argued that not all of the population drop is due to lack of growth in the area. He said district families are enrolling their children in private schools because they are disenchanted with the Northville system.

Last month, early enrollment figures showed that one of the biggest drops was in the ninth grade projections. One theory suggested that more students were continuing from private junior

Church asks planners for restaurant change

Faith that moved mountains in Biblical history also may be moving a solid business organization like Metropolitan Savings Association (holder of the mortgage on the Drawbridge restaurant) in the 20th century.

For several months the Open Door Christian Church which is meeting in Northville High School has stated it "would be in (the former residence) by Christmas."

It had made an offer to purchase the bankrupt restaurant that had been built and occupied as the Northville Methodist Church at Dunlap and Center streets.

It was sold when the Methodists built a new church facility on Eight Mile. The Drawbridge experienced problems and changed its name to the Captain's Table, but finally went under with equipment repossessed or sold at auction last year.

The beginning of August the savings association termed chances of accepting the church offer "very, very slim — quite a remote possibility."

A spokesman pointed out that the "highest and best use of the facility would be for it to continue as a restaurant as they (the church) do not need things they would be paying for, such as heating, air conditioning and wiring for a restaurant."

By this week the firm says it still would like to have the building sold as a restaurant but admits the church is "slowly getting closer and is supposed to submit an offer." The offer, expected Tuesday, would have to go to the association board. It was estimated it might have a 50-50 chance.

Tuesday the church was on the agenda of the City of Northville Planning Commission for site plan and change of use approval of the Drawbridge.

City Manager Steven Walters said the church "really is just in there investigating" and that it isn't too unusual for prospective purchasers to see if approval is available.

Most, however, he said, do not spend money on engineering unless they have an option or some agreement.

From the beginning, the church officials have told the association that they "have had a vision" and have faith they will occupy the former church by the end of the year.

The Northville Kiwanis Club has received city council approval for its planned sale of pumpkins on October 22 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Construction of the new sanctuary for the First Methodist Church of Northville is progressing rapidly, and church officials remain confident that the new facility will be completed in time for Christmas services. Much of the exterior construction has been completed and workmen are now concentrating their work on the interior of the building. The church is located on the south side of Eight Mile Road near Taft Road.

All harness tracks want summer dates

Everybody wants summer dates, so somebody's obviously going to be disappointed when the state racing commission announces (1978) harness racing dates later this month.

That's the word from Commissioner Edele F. Fauri, who held a public hearing on applications Tuesday in the Mayflower Meeting Room at Plymouth.

Going into that hearing begun at 9:30 a.m. application for dates had been received from Northville Downs, Jackson-at-Northville, Jackson, Hazel Park, Wolverine, Kelly Downs of Flint and the Saginaw Valley Trotting Association.

The latter association also is applying for a harness racing license.

Racing facilities at Kelly Downs have not yet been completed, but it is asking for some summer dates next year. Earlier, it was awarded thoroughbred dates late next year.

John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, was expected to make a big pitch for summer dates Tuesday morning. He has asked for a Downs meet stretching from April through July.

He's been fighting for summer dates ever since Northville's summer meets were discontinued by the racing commission in 1975. Those preferred dates have been going to Hazel Park and Wolverine.

Carlo contends that the Downs is being penalized for upgrading its facilities. The improvements were so great that the former racing commissioner, Leo Shirley, argued that Northville could now comfortably accommodate winter crowds.

In other words, had the Downs done nothing to improve its facilities it might have continued to receive summer dates, notes Carlo.

Last year Northville received 85 days of racing, from January 1 to April 9 of this year. As has happened previously, Wolverine and Hazel Park came away with the preferred summer dates.

The 1977 schedule still includes the Jackson-at-Northville meet, which opens October 24 and runs through December 31.

Library program

Examines family trees

A mini-lesson in genealogy will be the subject of a program sponsored by the Friends of the Northville Library at 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 19.

Guest speaker, Rosina Raymond, will present an overview of the techniques involved in tracing one's family tree.

Ms. Raymond teaches a course in genealogy at Schoolcraft College.

Following her talk, there will be a brief question-and-answers session. For the beginner who would like to tackle such a project, this is suggested as a good way to gain some helpful hints.

The Friends will hold a brief business meeting half an hour before the speaker begins.

Those who wish to find out how they can become involved in this organization which provides much needed support to the library should plan on arriving at 7:30 p.m.

The program will take place in the Northville Public Library, located on the lower level of the Northville Square mall. Register in advance either at the library or by calling 349-3020.

It was a long time coming, but the first contract between the Northville School District and aides for the Institution Special Education Program (ISEP) appears to be just around the corner.

The two parties reached a tentative agreement at 10 p.m. Friday night during the 55th bargaining session since talks began in December.

The 165 aides, who are represented by the Northville local of the Federation of Aides which is affiliated with the Michigan Federation of Teachers, must now meet for a ratification vote.

They will be voting on a four-year agreement, retroactive through last year, that will be in effect through the 1979-80 school year.

The aides assist teachers in special education classrooms.

Northville Personnel Director Burton Knighton announced the tentative agreement Monday night during a school board study session. No details of the contract, other than length, were announced since the ratification vote is still pending.

The aides organized in the summer of 1976 but first talks weren't held until last December and concentrated efforts to reach an agreement didn't begin until February.

Last summer, the aides — dissatisfied with the lack of progress and angry because they had received no raises since they organized — picketed the board of education offices several times after work hours and during school board meetings.

In June, the aides called a one-day work stoppage in what they called a show of unity.

Friday's tentative agreement came after four straight weekends of bargaining.

The aides' contract was one of four that the school district was negotiating last year.

Two bargaining units — the teachers and the custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria workers — settled three-year pacts that will expire after the 1978-79 school year.

Still unsettled is the initial contract with the Northville Association of School Administrators which represents K-12 building principals and ISEP building supervisors.

Library proposals

Three design-build bids were received by Northville Township last week for a neighborhood library — senior citizens building. Submitting the low base bid of $165,000 was Hillyer Construction Company (above). Other bids were Refine Building and Construction, $195,000, and Hodges Systems, Inc., (below) $202,880. The "design-build" concept differs from the traditional "build only" idea in that construction firms were invited to bid for both architectural work as well as construction. Sketches of suggested buildings were submitted with bids. Supervisor Wilson Grier, who terms the "design-build" concept a cost-saving idea, said the bids will be presented to the township board at its next meeting. The township expects to receive a $137,900 federal block grant to build the new facility adjacent to the township hall complex now under construction on Six Mile Road near Bradner.

Fire Chief Toms gives tips

Aims for prevention

While bringing in your garden hose, taking down screens and storing away other summertime equipment, it is also a good time to check your house for possible fire hazards, stressed Northville Township Chief Robert Toms.

Next week, October 9-15, is Fire Prevention Week, and Toms said the key to fire safety is prevention.

He said when steady temperatures suddenly dip and people turn up the heat or throw an extra log on the fire it is a particularly crucial time to be aware of potential fire hazards.

"If a furnace is failing, it's going to fail then," Toms said.

He suggests an annual check by a furnace maintenance man to prevent a possible fire. Boxes or papers that may have been piled up around the furnace during the summer should be moved as well, Toms said.

The United States has the highest fire death rate of any country in the world, noted the chief. In addition, some 180,000 people are burned and injured from fires annually in this country, he added.

Students eye expanded high school store

Northville's student-run store, The Hilltop Shop, is one business that knows how to run a grand opening.

When the school supply firm opened last spring, it invited students, teachers, administrators, and the community to a celebration complete with refreshments and music by the school's popular jazz band.

Maureen Gorsack, who teaches in the business department, remembers the day well.

"All of the teachers were interested and supportive," she recalls. "One said, 'Gee, it's nice to see this new feeling in the school.'"

Wayne Saunders, who teaches the merchandising class that runs the shop, associates the opening with the new added "enthusiasm" and "interest" which seems to be spreading throughout the high school this year.

The Hilltop Shop is part of the business education department which is being featured this month at the high school.

It is part of a plan by new high school principal George Aune to highlight a different department each month.

After its brief venture into the business world last month, The Hilltop Shop management has its eyes on expansion.

New this year on the shelves of the cafeteria store are record albums and tapes and a large selection of Northville Mustang clothes such as windbreakers, T-shirts, hooded sweatsuits, tube socks and gym socks in the school's orange and black colors.

The store also sells novelty items, jewelry and school supplies such as paper and pencils.

The fledgling business is doing a volume of about $25 a day which Saunders considers adequate for a start. "Sales are just beginning to start to increase compared to last year," he says.

All Northville Hilltop Shop profits are reinvested into the store to purchase more inventory.

Students, who learn the techniques in merchandising class, put them into practice by running the store 5½ hours a day.

Different students are assigned the tasks of buying, checking inventory, bookkeeping, advertising, promotion and management.

The class makes the important decisions such as choosing what products to sell and determining the mark-ups.

Some of last year's seniors who worked at the shop have found jobs this year including one who is the assistant manager of an area store.

The students who have come out of the shop are welcomed by employers since they know how to deal with customers and are familiar with the way a business runs, says Saunders.

"The local retail support has been excellent," he adds. Stores have donated material and provided guest speakers for the class.

Students are now trying to promote the store through advertising, bake sales, public address announcements and special sales.

They have also agreed to raise capital by picking pumpkins last Saturday.

The store won't reach its full potential until it expands into the nearby Mustang Mart, also run by the class.

The Mart, for a 10 percent commission, provides a place for people to sell arts and crafts.

Sue Siebenaller and Paul Worden know that record albums are hot sellers at the Hilltop Shop

The U.S. House of Representatives has been experimenting with one of the most revolutionary reforms in the history of Congress: televising House floor sessions.

I believe it's an excellent idea which should be instituted on a permanent basis.

I also believe the broadcasts should be made available to all TV networks and stations which wish to carry them, in full or in part.

Much of the floor session is fairly routine and would likely be covered only in summary form, if at all. But the crucial debates on issues of major national policy would be available for viewing, either live or on tape, throughout the nation.

It would be an excellent public service and, in my opinion, could only have the effect of improving the operation of Congress.

I've watched the experiment carefully to see if there would be any feeling that television cameras in the House Chamber would interfere in any way with the work of Congress. I have seen no instance where this has happened.

I watched to see any evidence of "grandstanding", which is another worry of those who are nervous about televising sessions. I can't say I haven't seen any grandstanding. But I can say there's no more grandstanding than you'll find in Congress at any time — with or without the presence of television.

I've also heard the comment that the House might be embarrassed by low attendance on some of the more routine items. I can only say that if the televised behavior of the House serves to embarrass, we should look to the behavior, not to the television, for the solution.

In addition to televising House sessions, I would favor extension of this concept to major committee meetings. It is very often in the committees, rather than on the floor, where the crucial debates and decisions take place.

During the experimental stage, House sessions have been televised only to various rooms and offices in the Capitol and House office buildings.

I look for trouble- and sometimes the trouble is no insulation.

I'm a Consumers Power gas service man, and it's my job to troubleshoot. If people smell gas in their homes, they call me and I get there fast.

But sometimes while I'm working in a customer's home, I find more trouble — like no insulation. You'd be surprised to learn how many homes I go into that aren't adequately insulated.

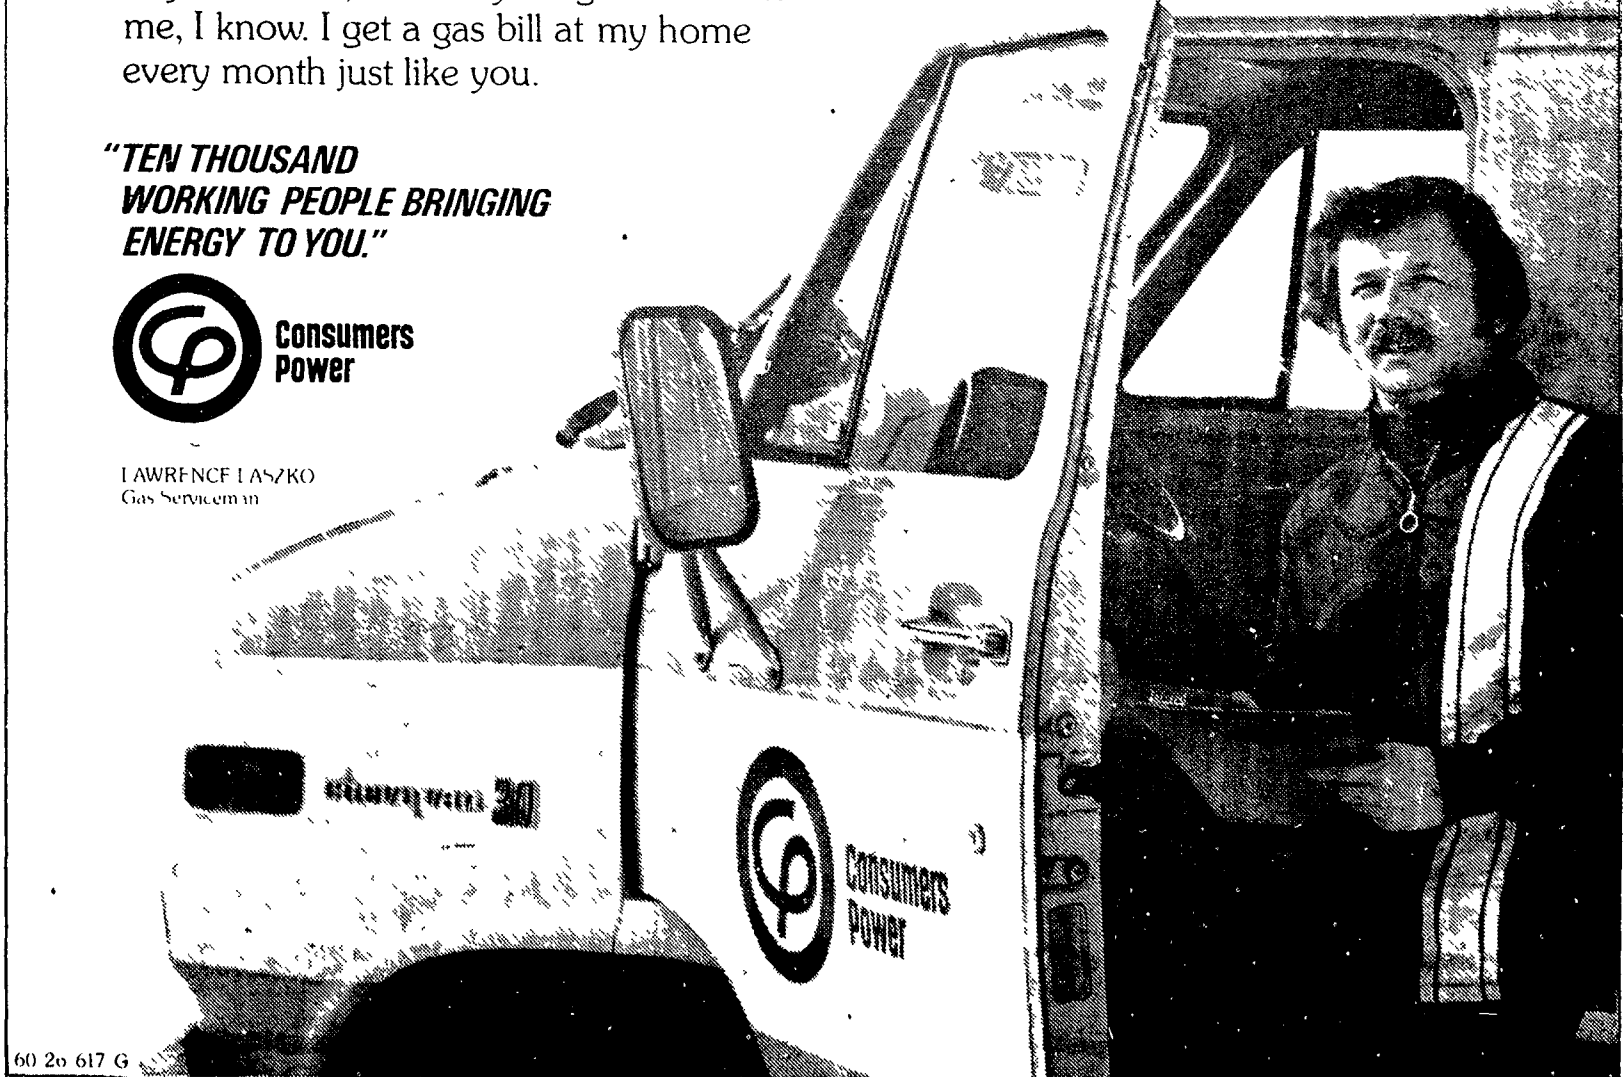

Some customers tell me they can't afford insulation. But what they really can't afford is to pay for all the natural gas it's costing them by not insulating. Over the long winter, insulation doesn't cost money — it saves money and scarce energy. It's the best thing you can do to your home, and for your gas bill. Believe me, I know. I get a gas bill at my home every month just like you.

Split tax plan deserves approval

"The proof of the pudding is in the fact that we no longer have the costly practice of borrowing money."

That's the word from Novi Superintendent of Schools Gerald Kratz this week as he and the City of Novi treasurer applaud the dual tax collection procedure now in its second year of operation in Novi.

According to the treasurer, most taxpayers in Novi like the idea of paying half their school taxes in the summer, half in the winter. Many like it, she explained, because the tax burden in the Christmas period is substantially reduced.

From Novi School District's point of view, "dual collection is great" because it has saved the district from borrowing money annually. It means thousands of dollars that the district previously had to pay for borrowed money are now being used for school programs.

Dual tax collections have not been burdensome for the city as some opponents had argued before its adoption. And mortgage companies "have cooperated beautifully," according to the Novi treasurer.

All of which persuades us to again urge the city and township of Northville to adopt a similar tax collecting procedure here.

The Northville School Board has requested several times the two municipalities here to adopt the split tax collection procedure but the request has been shelved. The city council's position is that it will go along with the change but only if the township does. The township board, on the other hand, has been reluctant to make the change because its members fear that the "pay half now and half later" procedure will antagonize taxpayers.

Neither position, we believe, is entirely valid.

Municipal officials seem to have the attitude that what happens to the school system is of no concern to them. They seem to forget that the school's problem is also the problem of the city and the problem of the township. The property owner who pays city or township tax is the same one who pays school taxes. Money for schools, city and township comes from the same pockets.

Last month, as it has been forced to do for many years, the Northville School District had to borrow money against anticipated income in order to meet its financial obligations. The borrowed money is needed because the district's income does not arrive at the same time that bills come due.

In the latest round of borrowing, the district took a loan of $1.8 million. And even though it obtained the loan at only 3.49 percent interest, the cost to the district was $62,820 — hardly an insignificant amount, particularly for the taxpayers who must pay it.

What's more if one considers the cost to the taxpayer for borrowing money since 1971, the amount is staggering. Since 1971 the school district has paid out $398,551 in interest! That's the equivalent of nearly 2½ mills of taxes.

For a financially-pinched school district in which school programs have been eliminated or cut to the bone, the $398,551 represents a tragic, needless waste of money.

We do not suggest that split tax collection would save all of this interest money for school purposes. Obviously, the district itself earns interest on its borrowed money, thereby minimizing interest money paid out. Nevertheless, if the need to borrow money annually were eliminated altogether, as would almost certainly occur with a split tax collection procedure, there is no denying that the school district would experience huge savings. And in the final analysis, so, too, would Northville taxpayers.

Given Novi's proven successful experience with dual tax collection and Northville's financially crippled school system, it is imperative that the city and township reconsider this cost-saving device here. City and township officials must recognize that they share in the success or failure of the public school system... and that they all represent the interests of the same taxpayers.

cost, his specific proposal was for a 90-10 split... not total assessment.

In contrast to Nichols' position, Councilman Paul Folino proposed that instead of paying for 75 percent of the paving, property owners would not be assessed at all.

Nichols is a candidate for reelection to the council; Folino is running for mayor.

Proposes 75-25 split

In an editorial last week supporting the city's 75-25 split on assessments for street paving it was stated that Councilman Wallace Nichols proposed assessing the entire cost against property owners.

Although Councilman Nichols stated he would prefer a 100 percent assessment because the city budget could not forever afford paying 25 percent of the General Motors is opposed at this time to legislation which would change the mandatory retirement age. We believe that a thorough study of its practical operating effects should be made before any legislation is passed to determine whether any change is needed and if so to what extent.

For instance, we think there would be an adverse effect on job availability and promotions for youth, minority employees, women, veterans and handicapped persons.

Problems with employees, unions, governmental agencies and the courts would result because of the great difficulty in measuring objectively the capability of employees over age 65 to continue to work in available jobs, and there would be difficult value judgments in determining who should continue to work, with a possible stigma on those being retired.

And finally, thousands of pension and retirement plans would have to be amended and approved by the Internal Revenue Service at a time when the agency is swamped with amended plans because of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA). There would also be confusion in other benefit plan areas, such as disability and life insurance, where age effects benefit determination.

The automatic retirement age for hourly GM employees is age 68, and salaried employees age 65. The average retirement age for all GM employees currently is age 59.

NO . . .

Much of the history of this country is concerned with the elimination of discrimination. All of us are aware of the great struggles to make certain no one is denied equal treatment because of the race, creed, color or national origin. Few of us have yet realized that one of the most pervasive forms of discrimination is based on age.

Many employees in the private and almost all in the public sector are required to leave their jobs when they reach a certain age. Their age, not their competence or their desire to continue, is the sole criterion that decides if they will or will not work. It is impossible to reconcile this forced retirement with any decent understanding of individual liberty.

But it is not liberty that those who favor mandatory retirement are concerned with. They argue that the existence of an objective standard that applies to everyone is a convenient administrative device which avoids the necessity of determining who is and who is not able to perform their jobs as they get older. So much for individual ability.

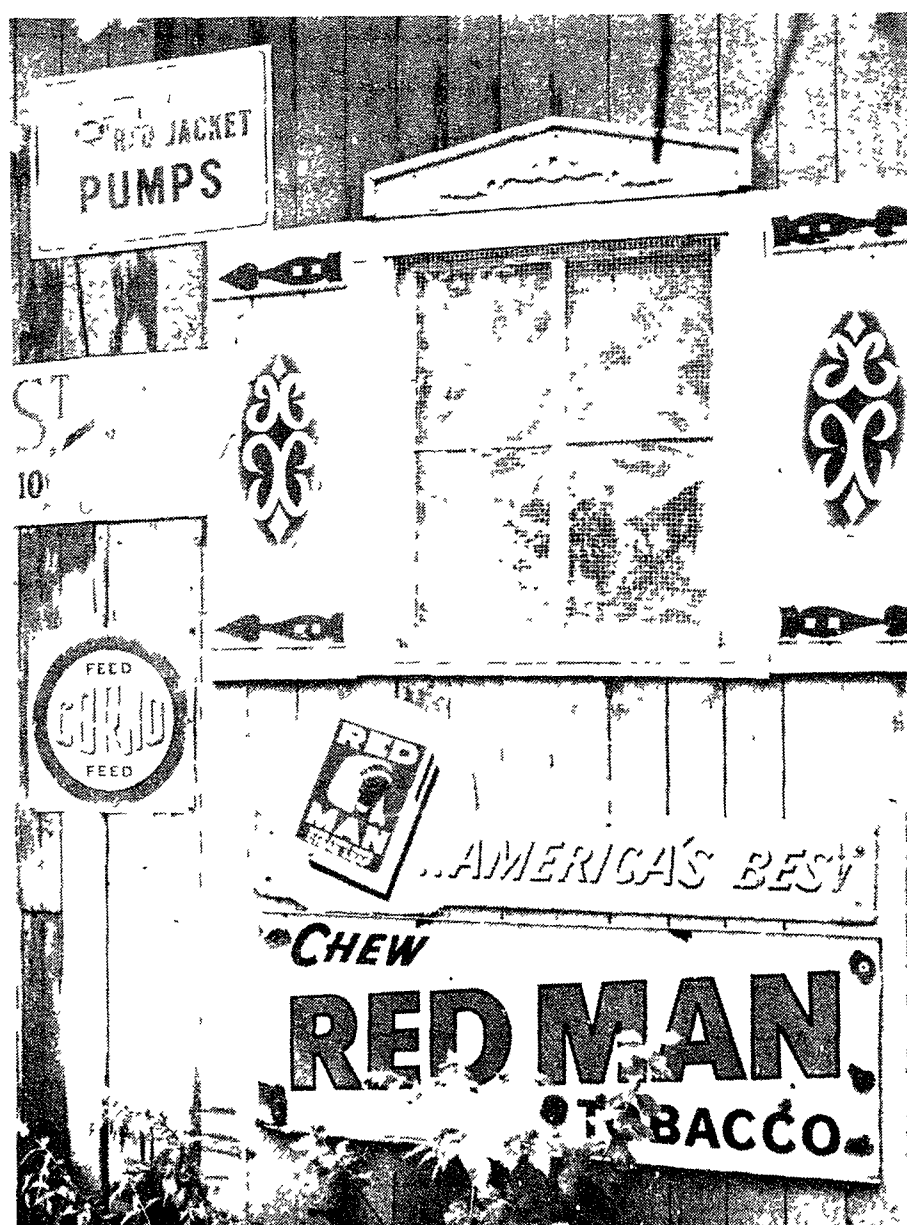

What is at issue here is not whether the unemployment rate will rise or the burden on the social security system will be alleviated by the elimination of mandatory retirement. What is at stake is nothing less than our commitment as a nation to the principle that men and women are individuals who are to be judged on their merits alone.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Novi Police Corporal Jerry Burnham is fast learning a whole new vocabulary...like "Standing in the Rack," "Ticket Switching," and "He-She Switcheroo."

These aren't new, mind you, but for Burnham, Novi's liaison police officer at 12 Oaks Shopping Center — "the city within a city" — they are a new experience for the former patrol officer.

He is the "commander" of Novi's shopping center detail — a detail that presently includes only himself. Basically, what that means is that when a suspect is nabbed by private security personnel at the center he is the policeman who takes over.

Anticipating the increasing number of cases that would be processed through his department, Chief Lee BeGole and his command officers established the shopping center detail well in advance of the center's opening.

Burnham works full time at 12 Oaks, although his responsibility extends to other shopping centers in Novi. He remains an employee of Novi, a veteran member of the Novi Police Department. His hours are 1 to 9 p.m., Tuesday through Friday — the period when most criminal activity occurs at 12 Oaks.

An office is being readied for his use at the center.

Dayton-Hudson Properties, 12 Oaks' landlord, employs its own security force (currently about 15 members), and several tenants within the sprawling center such as Hudson's and Sears have their own, separate security people. Unlike those of Dayton-Hudson, the latter wear plain clothes and are unarmed. In all, the private security forces at 12 Oaks already represent considerably more people than Novi's entire 30-officer police department. And once the center is fully developed the number of security people will grow considerably.

For those of us who remember w/ in Chief BeGole was Novi's only police officer for Novi's then 36-square mile township these numbers are hard to accept.

Yet, BeGole, Lieutenant Richard Falkner and Burnham are worried that the numbers may be insufficient to handle the crime that large shopping centers spawn.

This week's opening of the Sears store and next winter's opening of Penney's in the center are expected to boost the crime rate significantly. That's because, according to Burnham, they carry lesser cost merchandise that seems to attract more thieves than do the more expensive stores within the center.

Also, planned SEMTA busing to the center most certainly will compound the problem, predicts BeGole, who emphasizes that while Dayton-Hudson's armed security people are empowered to arrest suspects, all such arrests must be processed through his department.

Shopping center crime, Burnham has learned since taking his new job this past summer, comes in some surprising forms. Take the "Standing in the Rack" caper, for example.

The "customer" walks up to a full rack of clothes, then when she (it's usually a female) thinks no one is watching "she jumps right into the rack, disappearing from sight. I couldn't believe it when I first saw it happen," says Burnham. "While she's inside there she's quickly stuffing clothing inside her own elastic-band dress. Then she steps out and walks away, as if nothing happened."

Fortunately, many of the security officers have worked in other centers and have come to recognize these pros — even though one may come into a store dressed as a woman one day and as a man the next.

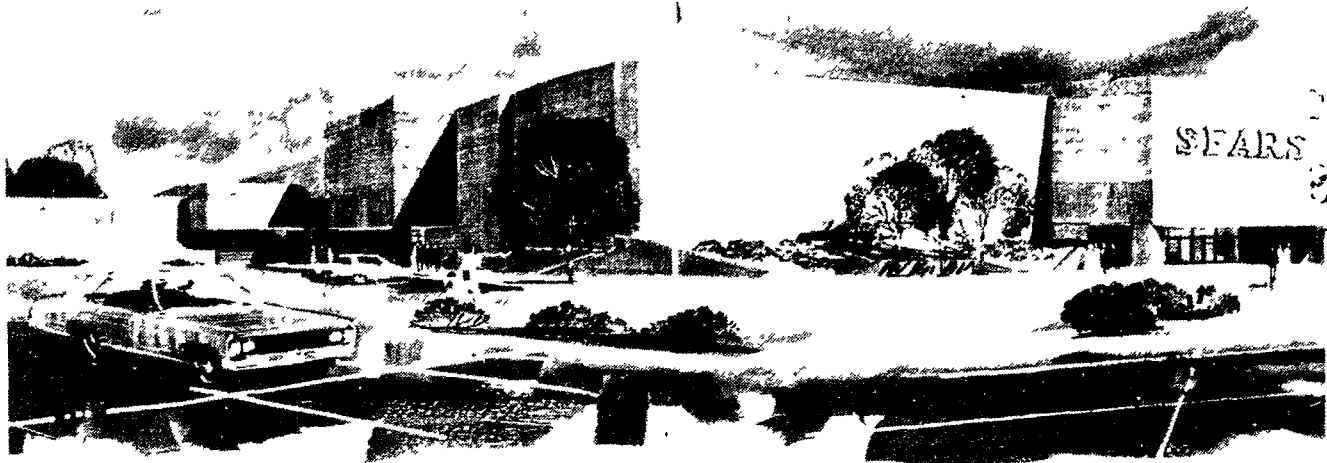

But of all the problems involving himself and the security personnel — ranging from stolen merchandise and heart attacks to smashed bottles in the parking lot and personal injury accidents — the greatest single problem right now, says Burnham, is lost cars.

"The parking lot arrangement is terrible. People go into the center and come out and can't find their cars."

Not long ago a woman looked everywhere for her car. She just knew it was stolen, so she called her husband — a Farmington Hills auxiliary policeman. He arrived and searched, too. Finally he stormed into the police department insisting the car was stolen.

That's when a security officer came to the rescue, retracing the woman's steps to the car still parked where she had left it.

Having "lost" my car at the center three weeks ago, I can sympathize with the auxiliary officer and his wife.

In Twelve Oaks Mall

New Sears store opens

The second of the four major tenants at the new Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi has opened its doors to the public.

Grand opening of the new Sears, Roebuck and Company's new store takes place today, Wednesday, October 5.

With the opening of the new Sears store, half of the four major tenants of the Twelve Oaks Mall are now open for business.

Lord and Taylor anticipates a March 1978 opening, while the J. C. Penney Company plans to open in May of 1978.

The Sears opening will be marked by a short, colorful ceremony featuring Rita Bell as hostess and including the appearance of Miss Michigan — Holly Ann Schmidt of Farmington — and Winnie-the-Pooh, America's favorite TV bear.

One of the four major department stores to ultimately anchor Twelve Oaks Mall — metropolitan Detroit's newest regional shopping center development — the Sears facility consists of a main, two-level sales building, attached 21-car automotive service center and parking area holding over 1,650 cars.

Architectural style of the 212,000 square foot complex is contemporary, with construction of steel and masonry. Larsen-Wulff & Associates, Inc. of La Grange, Illinois, served as project architect. General contractor was Walter L. Couse of Detroit.

Robert P. Lane, an experienced Sears retailing executive, heads a sales and service staff of around 500 full- and part-time employees. The store's 50 sales departments feature general merchandise ranging from infants' wear to utility buildings.

Store design, display equipment and lighting fixtures in the new Novi unit reflect the latest and best features developed by Sears in its 91 years of meeting the needs of the American customer.

Lane pointed out that new, advanced treatment in coloration and lighting is designed to emphasize the merchandise in natural-appearing surroundings.

An important shopping convenience is the cafeteria-restaurant, an ultra-modern eating and refreshment center on the upper level with tables for over 90 customers at one time. The menu ranges from snacks to complete meals.

Also on this floor are children's and girls' apparel, infants' wear and young men's shop; furniture, floor covering, domestics, home entertainment (TV-stereo-radio), sewing machines and draperies.

Lower-level departments include the men's and women's shops, shoes, household appliances, sporting goods, catalog order desk, plumbing-heating, building materials and pet shop.

Sears automotive center, attached to the main store, features a 21-car service unit as well as a complete sales department offering tires, batteries and auto accessories. Experienced employees handle installation of tires and major and minor equipment, along with most types of maintenance work. Lane joined Sears as a retail trainee in 1964 and was manager of the downtown Indianapolis store prior to his transfer to Novi. Twelve Oaks Mall is his second store-managerial assignment.

News From Lansing

By R. Robert Geake
State Senator

This past week, both the Senate and the House overwhelmingly approved separate measures to revise the state's Single Business Tax (SBT) which was passed in 1975 and replaced seven individual business taxes. The bills are both designed to provide tax relief to smaller businesses, but go about accomplishing that goal in different ways.

The Senate version (SB 734) gives primary consideration to gross profits, while the House version (HB 4633) bases its relief more on credits for labor costs. The bills are similar in that they would shift more of the tax burden from smaller to larger businesses, but they take different courses in compensating for the revenues to be lost by helping the small businesses.

Both measures would tax all depreciation in order to provide relief for smaller, low-profit businesses, while the Senate Bill would also reinstate the corporate income tax to compensate for a corresponding reduction in the overall tax rate. Many Senate members gave their vote of approval to the Senate bill with some reluctance. Although my colleagues and I are unified in our support for granting smaller businesses tax relief, we are apprehensive about the impact of reinstating the corporate income tax.

One of the original goals in passing the SBT was to stabilize business tax revenues. Turning back to relying on the corporate income tax as a source of revenue may thwart that goal, however, because, as many fiscal analysts have pointed out, a severe drop in business tax revenues may result during years when the economy is bad.

The House version is not without its problems also. It would provide a great deal of relief to smaller businesses with many employees, but would not provide as much assistance as the Senate bill to some other types of smaller businesses.

No one really knows at this point which bill will eventually become law. It is likely that the final version of an SBT reform measure will be hammered out in a conference committee composed of members of both chambers of the Legislature.

Writing equitable tax laws is indeed a difficult task. Any revision in a tax law inevitably results in some "winners" and "losers", i.e., some come out ahead under the change and some come out behind. This year the members of both houses, smarting under heavy criticism of the current SBT, are devoting a great deal of time to coming up with a fair and acceptable formula for revision.

Low bidders get contracts for city jobs

Ann Arbor Construction Company has been awarded the contract for resurfacing of Northville Estates subdivision streets.

The firm, which submitted the low bid of $82,770, was awarded the contract by unanimous action of the Northville City Council Monday night.

Preliminary work has already been begun by the department of public works, and blacktopping is expected to begin within two weeks by Ann Arbor Construction.

Six other firms bid on the project. They and their bids were:

Boardman Construction Company, $84,715.50; Ajax Paving, $93,762.60; Cadillac Asphalt Paving, $98,224.50; Ministrelli & Sons, $107,533; Detroit Concrete Products Corporation, $108,533; and Cooke Contracting Company, $129,337.50.

In other action Monday, council awarded a site clearing and earth removal contract to Jack B. Anglin Company of Novi, low bidder at $12,735.

The dirt is to be removed from the Allen Terrace senior citizens complex site and used for fill in the extension of Wing Street from Fairbrook to Seven Mile Road.

City Manager Steven Walters explained that the project will be a cost-saver since the dirt had to be removed from the Allen Terrace site and earth fill was needed on the street extension. The city would have had to pay for the removal of excess dirt at Allen Terrace and for fill on the extension.

Other bidders and their bids for site clearing and transportation of dirt were:

J.J. Zayti Trucking Company, $15,200; Constantine Brothers, $24,725; and Bogetta Excavating & Trucking, $25,775.

CB club draws praise

To the Editor:

In the process of trying to publicly recognize the people who helped with the July 4th Parade, I neglected the services of these fantastic persons.

It is my pleasure to thank all the members of the Northville CB Club for the fine service they have rendered to their community. In the two occasions that the Northville Jaycees enlisted the voluntary services of the Northville CB Club the results have been fantastic.

During the Walk for Mankind over 35 CB members spent 12 hours patrolling the route, reporting on the progress of walkers, manning check points, and assisting with traffic crossings. All of this effort was instrumental in making the Walk for Mankind a safe and happy affair. I asked the Northville CB Club to help with the Northville July 4th parade and received their help with reporting and monitoring the movements of the parade participants. I want to praise their efforts because they have provided a service that cannot be measured monetarily. Thank you Northville CB Club and God's blessings.

I want to also thank two super Jaycettes for their help with the parade. Thank you, Connie Qualman and 'Bo' Hall for all the behind the scene help you gave to make the Northville parade a huge success.

Again, thanks to everyone who helped in the July 4th celebration.

City seeks easement property

Northville City Manager Steven Walters has been authorized by council to negotiate purchase of a portion of the site for the Eagles' new building.

The city is seeking a 10-foot wide by 94½-foot long easement to allow for the widening of Mary Alexander Court. The easement would not be part of the Eagles building site.

Walters is to negotiate a price based on the appraised value of the land together with the resulting loss of parking space represented by the land.

Plans for a new Eagles building on the same South Center Street site where its old lodge was destroyed by fire last winter has been approved by the Northville Planning Commission.

6th graders form club

Service is on Winchester agenda

Sixth grade students will be doing a little more than usual at Winchester Elementary School this year. And both they and their classmates stand to benefit.

The youngsters are part of the newly formed Service Club whose goal is to include all 82 sixth graders in some sort of service project for the coming year.

"It helps them develop responsibility," explains sixth grade teacher

Wendy Kelly. "It also serves as a good example for the younger students."

Prior to this year, service activities were pretty much limited to the safety patrol and the service squad which monitored the building during recess and lunch on rainy days.

"The students needed some other areas to build," says Mrs. Kelly. "We wanted to give them a wide range."

Expanding the options also expands the number of available jobs. When there was only the safety patrol and service squad, there were more potential volunteers than positions.

And, of course, there are now alternatives for the youngster who isn't interested in being a crossing guard.

Positions for all 82 students were assigned last week by sixth grade teachers Jan Shettler, Ron Bird and Mrs. Kelly.

The jobs are varied. There are teacher's aides who help prepare bulletin boards, set up projects and tutor younger children in reading.

Office helpers answer the phone, take messages and provide other clerical assistance.

There is a grounds crew which will try to keep the outside neat and clean. Another group has the responsibility of planning games and other activities for recess and lunch.

Service Clubbers will also help in the lunch room, the media center and the audio-visual department.

These aides will do things such as teaching students how to use a card catalogue or how to check out a book.

One of the more demanding jobs in terms of time belong to two kindergarten assistants who will come to school early to help set up materials for the day's lesson.

Although the Service Club is being developed as part of the Winchester sixth grade curriculum, Mrs. Kelly says the work does not interfere with normal class time.

"The amount of time varies from 15 minutes to an hour a day," she says. "For some, it's 15 minutes a week."

Most of the work is done before and after school or during lunch and recess, she adds.

And how do the students take to the idea?

"Many want to do a second job," she says. "We'll start meeting the need next week."

Tour London at Easter?

Northville High School students will have an opportunity to take part in an eight-day tour of London, England during the Easter vacation next March.

The tour, which will spend four days in London, two days in Stratford-on-Avon, and one day at Stonehenge, is sponsored by American Leadership Study groups and will be chaperoned by Walt and Helen Koepke.

The cost per student is $635 which includes all transportation, lodging and all meals except for a few lunches. Easter break this school year begins on March 23 and classes resume on April 3.

Interested students may see Koepke at the high school where he teaches. Parents who would like more information may call the Koepkes at their home.

Five battle for council

The mayor's post is up for grabs because A. Malcolm Allen, who has served longer than anyone in the history of the community, decided last summer to retire with the conclusion of his current term in November.

Of the candidates running for four-year council seats, DeRusha has had the greatest service in city government. He is a veteran member of the planning commission, currently serving as chairman. Gardner, a downtown businessman, is a recent appointee to the Northville Historical District Commission.

Mrs. Cutler is a partner in a local real estate sales firm, Stilson is an active member of the Northville Jaycees, and Eugene Wagner, also a businessman, has run for a council seat in the past.

Next to Nichols, Folino and Vernon are the two candidates with the longest tenure in city government. Vernon served on the zoning board of appeals prior to his election to council in 1971, and Folino was first elected to council in 1969.

The only council member whose term of office is not up in November is Stanley Johnston, a former member of the school board who was elected to a four-year council seat two years ago.

Candidates for office will be hosted at a public candidates night program on October 27 by the League of Women Voters. The forum will be held in the school board meeting room at 8 p.m.

Courtney Lusk now on sea duty

Courtney Lusk, son of the Ernest Lusks of Napier Road, is now serving a seven months tour of duty aboard the U.S.S. American, a U.S. Navy aircraft carrier.

During his tour, he will be promoted to plane captain on the flight deck. The cruise started September 29, leaving from Norfolk, Virginia, and will cover all of the Mediterranean Sea.

But Borthwick is lost for season

Late touchdown tops Western, 20-14

Northville's great moment of victory was soured by perhaps an even greater loss in football action at Walled Lake Western last Friday.

Don Borthwick, the Mustangs' top running back through their first three games, played barely half a quarter before injuring himself on a running play and had to be taken to a hospital. The injury was later diagnosed as a broken collar bone, sidelining Borthwick for the rest of the season.

That and a steady drizzle marred what otherwise was a happy afternoon for the Mustangs, who pulled one out of the fire with a 20-14 victory over the upstart Warriors.

The win lifted coach Chuch Shonta's squad to a 2-0 record in Western Six competition and set up a possible showdown for the conference title with Farmington Harrison a week from Saturday. Harrison, a 21-15 victor over Livonia Churchill Friday, is the only other unbeaten school in Western Six play.

Thanks to quarterback Doug Marzonie's passing arm, Matt Davis' kicking foot and some alert defensive play the visiting Northville contingent rolled up an early 13-0 cushion, then wilted, but came alive again in the game's final five minutes to snatch the victory away from a stubborn Western squad.

The Mustangs almost scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, driving downfield after the opening kickoff and moving inside the Warrior 20-yard line.

Facing a first-and-20 situation after a 10-yard penalty had moved the ball back to the Walled Lake 29, Marzonie threw a strike to split end John Horwath inside the 10. Horwath fumbled, though, and Western recovered at their own five-yard line.

Four plays and a punt later Northville was in control again, this time at the Warrior 37. Two plays later Horwath hung on to a 33-yard pass reception that gave the Mustangs a first-and-goal at the two-yard line.

Borthwick went outside on a tackle sweep the next play, and with little more than six minutes gone the visitors had a 7-0 lead.

Less than a minute later Northville had possession again, thanks to a fumble recovery at the Warrior 32-yard line. On the next play from scrimmage Borthwick rambled 15 yards, but apparently fell on his shoulder when he was tackled.

Shonta immediately pulled him and Borthwick's father, who attended the game, rushed him to a hospital. It was announced later that the 5'8", 150-pound junior had suffered a broken collar bone.

"I think when we lost Borthwick it took a lot of steam out of us," Shonta recalled afterwards. "It sure took a lot out of our running game, and we didn't have that much to begin with."

A short run, an incomplete pass and a quarterback sack backed the Mustangs to the 24, where they faced a fourth-and-16 with 3:30 remaining.

Davis, a soccer-style kicker whose longest previous field goal had been under 40 yards, came in to boot a 43-yarder and put his team ahead 10-0. It was the longest field goal in memory for a Northville kicker.

Linebacker John Marzonie set Davis up for his second field goal of the day, this one from 30 yards out, when he scooped up a Warrior fumble in the second Mustang territory early in the second quarter and returned it 40 yards to the Western 18.

A 17-yard pass to Horwath put Northville on the six with a first down, but Walled Lake's defense stiffened and the Mustangs were forced to settle for three, making it 13-0.

That's the way it stood until the last minute of the half, when Western tailback Rance Hafner broke through the Mustang line on a fourth down and inches and rambled 17 yards for his team's first score, capping a 40-yard drive in seven plays. The extra point made it 13-7 at half-time.

Given new life the Warriors took the opening kickoff in the second half and drove 60 yards in 11 plays. Hafner again finished the drive, this time on a three-yard crack off tackle, and the extra point put Western ahead by one with just over six minutes remaining in the third quarter.

That set the stage for the climactic fourth quarter, with both schools' title hopes resting on the outcome.

John Marzonie intercepted a pass at midfield to stifle one Walled Lake threat early in the fourth quarter, but the Mustangs failed to capitalize and had to punt away. On the Warriors' third play from scrimmage following that punt, though, Horwath picked off a Tony Swiatek aerial at the Northville 41.

With 4:39 to go the Mustangs started their winning drive. After halfback Dave Duguid picked up five yards Marzonie hit receiver Mark Hooth with a 17-yarder that put the ball on Western's 37.

Two plays later he found Horwath for a 32-yarder that made it first-and-goal at the five, and from there Marzonie carried it in himself on a pair of quarterback sneaks.

Despite the fact that the win lifted Northville into a two-way tie for first Shonta played down its significance. Asked about next week's Harrison game he responded, "Oh, no, we're not looking past Churchill (this week's opponent). We're taking 'em one at a time."

Overall he felt the Mustangs were inconsistent.

"We played well in spots," he noted, "but we missed some key tackles on defense and we're just not getting off the ball quick enough."

He did like the final result, though.

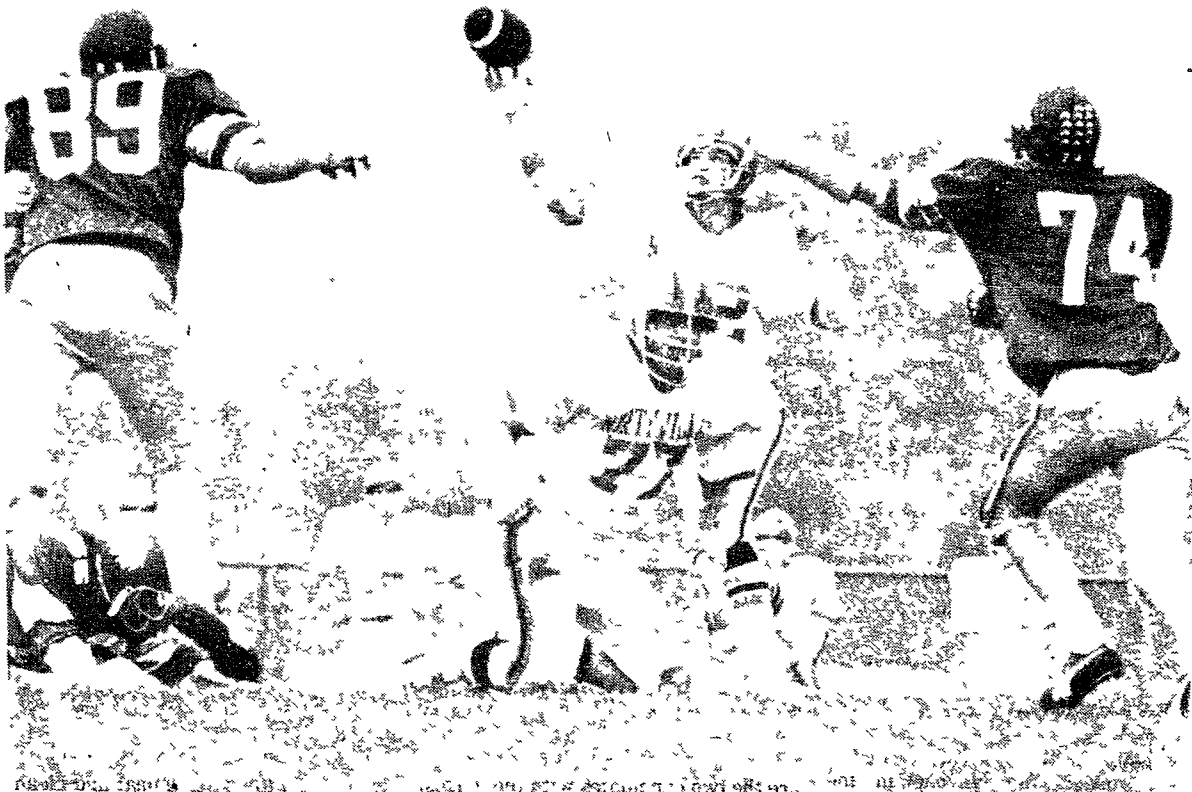

"Horwath intercepted that pass and gave us another shot at least at a field goal, and we knew that was the ballgame," he smiled.

For the second week in a row Horwath had over 100 yards in pass receiving. He caught six passes for 108 yards while Hooth added 38 more on two receptions. Sophomore Joe Hamp led the Mustang ground assault with 43 yards in seven carries, while Borthwick finished with 30 yards in four cracks

Doug Harding and John Marzonie stood out defensively with each getting nine solo tackles and six assists.

More victories and more records; tankers win twice

Northville's talented girls' swimming squad continued their rampage on the record books with two more dual meet victories and a pair of school records last week.

The Mustang tankers, easy winners of all five of their dual meets so far this season, splashed past Livonia Franklin 60-20 last Tuesday, then rolled over Churchill 103-68 on Thursday.

Andy Conder broke her own diving record of 175.8 points, set one week earlier against Walled Lake Western, with a 196.70 tally in the Franklin meet. A relay team made up of Janet Shaw, Vida Mikalonis, Sue Cahill and Kyle Roggenbuck then shattered a three-year-old 400-yard freestyle mark with a 3:56.9 clocking.

All told the Mustangs won all 11 events in the Franklin meet, placed second in five of them and third in four others.

The free style relay team combined again to win the 200-yard medley relay in 2:01.15, less than two seconds off the school record. Other winners included while Carolyn Schrot, Krystn Van Renterghem, Ifversen and Roggenbuck got together for a victory in the free style relay.

Other Northville winners included Cahill (200 free style and butterfly), Mikalonis (individual medley and back stroke) and Roggenbuck (50 free style and 100 free style).

In their first three weeks of competition the local girls have already qualified for state berths in eight of 11 events and have set school records in four of them.

Although coach Ben Lauber says he's Kristy Ifversen (200 free style), Leslie Farquhar (500 free style and individual medley), Diane Townsend (50 free style), Mikalonis (butterfly), Roggenbuck (100 free style), Cahill (back stroke) and Sheri Brown (breast stroke).

Against Churchill the Northville girls ran up eight more victories in the 11-event meet. Mikalonis, Shaw, Cahill and Laurie Sellen paced another winning medley relay performance impressed with how well his swimmers have come along so far, he seems more than a little concerned about a big non-conference meet the Mustangs will have next Tuesday at Ypsilanti High.

"We're trying to get ready for Ypsilanti now," he acknowledges. "We expect to have quite a battle there."

Northville's next home meet is against Farmington Harrison tomorrow night beginning at 7 p.m. at the high school pool.

Six Northville players will take to the field at the Pontiac Silverdome for an All-Star soccer match tomorrow.

The six are part of a 25-man All-Star team from the 12-and-under division of the Western Suburban Soccer League (WSSL). The WSSL is taking on East Detroit's American Youth Soccer League in one of five area All-Star games before the start of a professional soccer match between the New York Cosmos and the Brazil Santos.

Bill Butterfield of Northville Arsenal will coach the WSSL squad, which includes players from Plymouth, Farmington and Livonia as well.

Northville's All-Stars include Steve Muller, Randy Kratt, Todd Niemeyer, Mickey McGrath, Steve Starcebeck and Butterfield's son, Bill. Kratt plays for Northville United while the other five compete for Northville Arsenal.

The WSSL team will be split into two groups, with each playing a 20-minute half for the All-Stars. The first half starts at 5:45 p.m. and the second half at 6:25, an hour before the Cosmos-Santos match gets underway.

Krictzs accepts post; he's new rec director

Edward L. Krictzs has officially accepted his appointment as the new director of the Northville Recreation Department.

Krictzs, who has served as the department's assistant director for the past two years, made the announcement at a special meeting of the recreation commission Monday night. He was one of 99 people who submitted applications earlier in the summer, and was the commission's first choice to take over the post vacated by Charles Froberger last July.

As new director the 32-year-old Wayne State University graduate has stated that one of his "primary goals is to keep the department under a dual (city and township) government system." He also plans on "picking up new and varied programs" for the department, particularly in the area of cultural arts.

No decision has been reached yet on what to do about the open assistant director slot. According to Krictzs, though, he and the commission are discussing the possibility of hiring several program supervisors rather than a single assistant director.

"The idea behind that is that you set up particular people for particular programs, and when the program is done that's it," he says.

"That way you get more people involved in the department. I think it's more efficient."

Krictzs, who first became involved with the Northville recreation department four years ago, will receive an initial salary of $14,800 per year.

All 3 teams romp

Northville Colts invade Romulus

Northville's powerful Colts football squads took Romulus by storm last Sunday.

All three Colts teams, made up of Northville and Novi youngsters between the ages of nine and 13, swept past their Romulus Flyers counterparts without allowing so much as a field goal.

Netters crush league foes, lose to Ypsilanti

Northville sailed past two more conference opponents and lost to a non-conference foe in girls' tennis action last week.

Number one singles player Lorri Hopping and number four singles Paula Horst won easy two-set matches over their counterparts in a 6-1 victory over Waterford Mott at the start of the week.

The number two doubles team of Bev Kohl and Lynn Herald and number three doubles partners Sue Kaestner and Tracy Ade also won two-set matches, while Marie Maglia (number two singles) and Eve Engelmeyer (number three singles) had to go three sets before winning. Number one doubles girls Lisa Friel and Sue Pegrum lost 7-5, 1-6, 1-6 to Mott's Jackie Johnson and Kim Reynolds.

On Wednesday the Mustangs whitewashed Walled Lake Western 7-0 for the second straight time this season. Northville won all 14 sets in the process and lost only 29 games.

Their meet at Ypsilanti was a different story, however. Horst, playing number three singles, and the Kohl-Herald doubles team were Northville's only winners in a 5-2 defeat.

Maglia and the Kaestner-Ade doubles team went to three sets before losing heartbreakers. Kaestner and Ade battled Nancy Ostrick and Medha Godbole down to the ninth point of the tiebreaker in the final set before dropping a 5-7, 6-4, 6-7 marathon.

The Mustangs are now 6-2 overall this season and 4-1 in the Western Six.

Mustang hoopers fall

For a while last Thursday it looked as if Northville's girls' basketball squad might eke out its second straight conference victory.

After racking up a 16-12 halftime lead, though, the Mustangs fell apart at the seams and dropped a 39-23 decision to Livonia Churchill.

"It was a game we could have won," coach Dave Schopp moaned later, "but we just lost our desire in the second half. We didn't shoot enough to win."

The Mustangs, in fact, shot only 18 percent from the floor, connecting on just five of 28 field goal attempts.

It didn't help matters any when star forwards Diane Perpich picked up her third foul and had to be benched early in the second half. Churchill edged ahead 24-20 by the end of the third quarter, then ran away in the fourth.

Perpich led the losers with 13 points while Liz Pixley followed with five. Donna Korte added 10 rebounds.

Earlier in the week the Mustangs, now 1-5 on the season and 1-1 in the Western Six, had "suffered a 77-32 setback to powerful Livonia Ladywood.

Chris Suddendorf led the Northville scoring effort with eight points.

The junior varsity girls meanwhile, kept pace with their older counterparts by losing two of their own last week. Despite a 16-point effort by Karen Goxem, including 10 of 13 free throw attempts, the jayvee crew fell 49-33 to Churchill.

Two days earlier Goxem and Lis Carter had combined for 14 points in a 56-26 loss to Ladywood.

Pizza party

The Northville athletic boosters club will have a pizza party immediately following the Mustang-Churchill football game this Friday night.

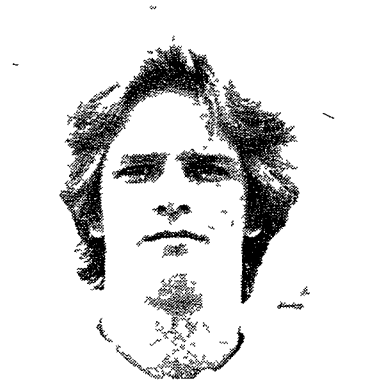

Admission for the party, to be held at the Our Lady of Victory social hall on Thayer Boulevard starting about 10 p.m., is $4 per person. Tickets can be purchased through any boosters club officer or at the game itself.

Athletes of the week

ANDY CONDER

Andy Conder has a habit of breaking school records. She did it again last Tuesday, tallying 196.7 points in diving competition and helping the girls' swimming team to a first-place sweep in all 11 events against Livonia Franklin. Conder has won all but once in the Mustangs' five dual meets thus far this season, and in her only second-place finish she set the previous school record of 175.8 points against Walled Lake Western two weeks ago. The record she broke there? Her own, of course, of 171 points set last year when she was a junior.

DOUG MARZONIE

Thanks to Doug Marzonie the Mustangs have a strong passing attack this season. And thanks to a strong passing attack the Mustangs are in the thick of the Western Six football title chase this month. Marzonie has now thrown for over 100 yards in each of Northville's first three victories and has averaged over 150 yards per game this season. Last week he completed 12 of 19 passes for 179 yards and had four others dropped as Northville edged Walled Lake Western in a thriller, 20-14. He also scored the game's winning touchdown on a quarterback sneak with less than two minutes remaining.

Colts off to a 14-0 half-time lead.

Northville added another TD on a 20-yard romp by Tim Borthwick on the third play of the second half, then rounded out the scoring when Steve Zacher and John Monitz sacked the Flyers' quarterback for a safety.

Tim McLaughlin had seven tackles to spearhead a defense that allowed negative yardage on the ground and only one pass completion in 20 attempts.

The Colts, on the other hand, rolled up over 200 yards rushing, including 52 by Dave Chickowski, 50 by Todd Parsons and 42 by Greg Nichols. In their four games thus far this fall the Colts have outscored their opponents 89-0.

The junior varsity squad, meanwhile, evened its record at 2-2 with a 19-0 triumph over the Flyers. Ernie Bock's seven-yard romp up the middle in the first quarter gave Northville a 6-0 half-time lead.

Chris Wagner upped the margin to 12-0 in the third quarter on a three-yard burst, ending a drive that started deep in the Colts' own territory after a clipping penalty had nullified Jeff Tomanek's touchdown sprint on the opening kickoff of the second half.

Big pass plays from quarterback Bob Pegrum to Bock and Jeff Thomas sparked the drive, while Rod Wendel's pitch to Ron Greer was good for the extra-point conversion, making it 13-0.

Pegrum closed the scoring in the fourth quarter when he returned an interception 27 yards for a touchdown.

As if that wasn't enough the freshman squad duplicated the jayvee team's feat with a 19-0 victory of its own.

The Colts scored all three touchdowns in the first half. Benji Evans returned the game's opening kickoff 65 yards for one score and David Denhof added the extra point on a three-yard run to make it 7-0. Glen Hicks rambled two yards after taking a handoff from quarterback John Norton for the second TD, and Steve Smith added a third on a 30-yard sprint around end.

Third-quarter barrage sparks j.v. Mustangs

Northville's junior varsity football squad exploded for three third-quarter touchdowns and went on to post a 26-6 triumph at Waterford Mott last Thursday. The Mustangs are now 3-1 on the season, 1-0 in the Western Six.

Fullback Ken Weber bulled over from one yard out in the second quarter and Russ Gans booted the extra point to give Steve McDonald's crew a slim 7-0 lead at halftime.

The third stanza proved to be Mott's undoing, though, with halfback Scott Millard scoring two touchdowns on romps of 10 and six yards and defensive nose guard Norm Tiilikka collecting another after scooping up a Mott fumble and rambling 20 yards to paydirt. The Corsairs' only points came on a touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

Millard was the Mustangs' leading rusher with 155 yards on 19 carries while Dan Troher followed with 55 yards in 10 attempts.

Defensively the visitors were sparked by Tiilikka, who had five solo tackles and three assists in addition to two fumble recoveries, and tackle Tim Marshall, who picked up five solos and four assists. Other defensive standouts included Troher and Bob Boshoven at linebacker, Weber at cornerback, and Mark Harper at tackle.

McDonald also credited his offensive line, spearheaded by tackle Paul Luiki, with an outstanding showing, the junior Mustangs' next game takes place tomorrow night against Walled Lake Western at the Northville high school field starting at 7 p.m.

Pack comes through! Mustangs hand Churchill 1st conference loss

For years cross country coach Ralph Redmond has been preaching the merits of pack running.

Last Thursday his team proved once and for all just how valuable that concept can be with one of its greatest, and most convincing, Western Six triumphs since joining the league six years ago.

Led by junior Brian Turnbull the Mustangs ran away from Livonia Churchill, 19-42, handing the Chargers their first conference loss ever.

Redmond called the victory "a complete, overall team performance," and it's not hard to see why. All seven varsity runners placed in the first nine positions, and only All-State contender Tobin Jones broke up Northville's top five.

"Oh, was that nice," the eighth-year Mustang mentor said afterwards, but he was careful about putting the victory in perspective.

"The season's far from over yet," he said, noting that the Western Six meet later this month is the only one that matters in determining a conference champion.

"Our times are improving, but the worst thing we can do now is get overconfident. We're not ready to peak yet."

Recalling a meeting the team had after the Churchill triumph, Redmond quoted the words of varsity runner Jim Bedford: "let's just take 'em one at a time and see what happens."

So far the strategy has worked. The Mustangs are now 6-0 overall on the season, including a pair of victories over their top contenders in the Western Six Waterford Mott and Churchill. As of late last month they were rated the number six Class A cross country squad in the state.

One of Redmond's routine procedures before a meet is to draw up a set of tactics for the race. Aware of Jones' potential, the Northville coach decided to key his Mustangs on Churchill's other runners.

"We thought we might be able to go at their second man," he said, meaning that a pack of Northville runners could create a big split between Jones and the rest of his team. "And we did it to perfection."

Turnbull and Jones, as expected, battled it out for first place. Turnbull came through an easy winner, finishing the three-mile Hines Park course in 16:09, 16 seconds ahead of Jones.

And behind them were four consecutive Mustangs.

John Monagle came first in 16:33 and was followed by Don Wilber and Bedford (16:47) and Harry Couyoumjian (16:57).

Cop-captain John Coram, normally Northville's number two runner behind Turnbull, suffered hip pains during the race and finished eighth overall, one spot behind Churchill's second man, in 17:20. Tom Doyle rounded things out with a ninth-place finish in 17:22.

The overwhelming victory hasn't totally convinced Redmond that the glory days at Churchill, which finished second in the state two years ago, are over, though.

"We'll definitely see a more improved squad at the league meet," he warned, noting that the Chargers have a fairly "young and inexperienced" team this fall. He seems particularly impressed with Jones, who he claims "has the ability to be one of the premiere runners in the state."

Two days earlier the Mustangs had collected their fourth non-conference triumph of the season with a 21-35 victory over a respectable Farmington contingent.

Turnbull once again took top honors in the meet with a winning time of 16:05 over the Mustangs' home course in Hines Park. Farmington's Harry Leidlein took second in 16:22, but was followed by three more Northville runners.

Monagle had a time of 16:33, Coram was 16:57, followed by Couyoumjian (10th in 17:26) and Doyle (12th in 17:38).

The Mustangs' next meet is at Walled Lake Western tomorrow afternoon. Next Tuesday they're home against Livonia Franklin.

Jayvee runners romp, too

Fired up by the varsity squad's performance, Northville's junior varsity cross-country team pulled an even greater surprise with a 15-56 slam over Livonia Churchill last Thursday.

Led by Nathan Greene's winning time of 17:34 the Northville crew took nine of the meet's top 10 positions. Churchill's top runner finished sixth.

Greene was followed by Randy Tharp (18:08), Steve Stewart (18:17), Dave Massel (18:31) and Dan Whitaker (18:33).

Two days earlier the junior Mustangs had suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of Farmington. Northville lost 23-24 despite Greene's overall winning effort in 17:38.

School golf record downs Mustangs

The race for this year's Western Six golf crown has turned into a four-team affair, and Northville is right in the middle of it.

Livonia Churchill saw to that with a stunning 193-207 victory over the Mustangs last Wednesday. The Chargers' 193 total set a school record while the Northville contingent, winners of the last six conference championships, shot its second-worst varsity round of the season.

Combined with triumphs over Farmington Harrison and Plymouth Canton the Mustangs are now 4-2 in league action and tied for second place with Churchill and Harrison. Waterford Mott, which handed Northville its only other conference defeat two weeks ago, is on top sporting only a loss to Churchill.

That means the next couple weeks are going to be vital to the local squad's hopes of winning their seventh straight Western Six title, which is determined by a school's finish in both dual competition and the league meet on October 17. The Mustangs tee off against Churchill again tomorrow and against Harrison and Mott next week.

Western Six football Alföldy wins again

For the first time in the memory of judges for the weekly football contest, everyone missed the same game.

But if there is any consolation, contestants can point to the fact that none of the experts figured Kentucky would upset fourth-ranked Penn State. Kentucky's 24-20 win had to be one of the biggest upsets of the season.

Despite that game, Steve Alföldy of Northville Township has to be wearing the biggest smile around.

For the second straight week, Steve came up with the first-place winner. What's more, last week's $10 winner means he has won prize money in all three of the contests to date. He took third place the first week of the contest.

In winning last week, Steve had just two mistakes — Penn State and Central Michigan's 28-12 loss to Ball State.

He beat out Scott Schaaf of Northville, who took second place also with two mistakes. His predicted score of the Michigan-Texas A&M game wasn't as close as Alföldy's prediction.

Alföldy was 29 points off the mark, while Scott was 34 points off.

Winning third place was John Horwath of Northville with three mistakes and 29 points off the Wolverine-Aggies game.

Other contestants who also missed just three games but who did not come as close with their score predictions were:

Anne White of Plymouth, Robert Brown of Ann Arbor, and Pat Lewis, Audyee Feole, Tom Gates, Jim Stoddard, Bob Crisan, Paul Baetz, and Scott Anderson, all of Northville.

Twenty contestants submitted entries with four mistakes, 17 had five mistakes, 11 had six mistakes, four had seven mistakes, and all of the others had eight mistakes or more out of the 16 game line-up.

Among the other most missed games were: Missouri's 15-0 shutout of Arizona State, North Carolina's 24-20 win over Maryland, and Miami of Ohio's 28-14 win over Yale.

Claim lottery prizes

Three area residents — two from Northville and one from Wixom — have filed claims for $5,000 prizes in Michigan Lottery's "Lottery Mile" instant game.

They are Thomas Kuclo and Margaret Kelly of Northville and Linda Pokojski of Wixom.

Ticket sales for the "Lottery Mile" ended on September 13.

Each of the ten finalists will be assigned a horse in a pre-selected race at the Detroit Race Course on October 22. The finishing position of the finalist's horse will determine the prize awarded to that finalist.

The public is invited to attend.

And coach Joe Blake remains optimistic about his team's chances of taking it all.

"If we can get through the rest of our league matches undefeated and someone else can beat Waterford Mott, there could be a tie for first place (at the end of the dual meet season)," Blake noted. "That'll give us a chance of winning it (the conference title) in the league meet."

After last week's performances, though, the Mustangs are going to need plenty of improvement to overtake Mott. Their best individual score at Livonia's Idlewild golf course was a 40, posted by both Mike Seltz and John Pawlowski. Medalist honors went to Churchill's top golfer, who shot a 37.

Two days earlier the Northville contingent had nipped Harrison with their worst score of the season, 219-222. Blake attributed the low scores to the high winds that swept Farmington Country Club's course that day, however.

Dennis Zinkon was the meet's medalist with a nine-hole total of 41. The Mustangs' other top scores included Steve Pyett (42), Seltz and Scott Denhof (45 each), and Bob Stevens (46).

Despite the team's troubles there were a couple of bright spots last week. On Tuesday Blake's crew competed in a best-ball tournament in Plymouth, where they finished third out of 28 local schools.

Playing with a pair of two-man teams Northville wound up with a 18-hole score of 145, just five strokes off the pace set by Redford Thurston and one behind runner-up Redford Union. The Mustang representatives included Pyett and Denhof, who combined for a 70, on Team A and Zinkon and John Pawlowski, who tallied a 75, on Team B.

Two days later Zinkon, Seltz and Stevens all tied for medalist honors by shooting 40's on Brae-Burn Golf Club's back nine to lead Northville to a 204-223 conference victory over Plymouth Canton. Pyett had a 41 and Denhof a 43 to round out the winners' scoring.

The Mustangs finished the week on a sour note, though, by dropping a 204-212 decision to Plymouth Salem over the same nine holes on Friday. Pyett and Seltz led the losing effort with a pair of 39's that topped the scoring for both teams in the meet.

Educator to speak on gifted and talented

A nationally-known educator will be in Northville next Thursday night to talk about programs for gifted and talented children.

Dr. Roger Taylor, director of the Center for Creative Education in Chicago, will be at the board of education meeting room, 303 West Main Street, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, October 13.

He will be discussing the local, state and national responsibility for gifted students, according to Nancy Soper, Northville's director of instruction.

Thursday's talk, which is sponsored by the Northville Public Schools Advisory Committee for Gifted and Talented Programs, is open to the public and all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Dr. Taylor was in Northville last summer for a workshop with teachers that was funded by a state grant.

The same grant financed Northville's PLUS program for gifted and talented students in the district's four elementary schools.

Because the grant was not renewed this year, the PLUS program has been greatly reduced although it is still in operation thanks to volunteer help, said Mrs. Soper.

Monday night, Superintendent Raymond Spear said he had talked to Northville State Senator Robert Geake who was "optimistic" that the district might still receive a "gifted" grant this year.

For more information about Thursday's session, phone Mrs. Soper's office at 349-3400.

Police Blotter

Valuable guns heisted from drive

Six expensive firearms were stolen from a Northville resident early Tuesday morning last week.

The owner had spent the previous day moving from his Warwick Street home to a newly-purchased residence on Grace Street.

He parked the last truckload of goods, including the guns, in the driveway at about midnight and went into his new home to sleep.

The next morning, he and his wife discovered six guns, including several Remingtons, were missing from the cargo portion of the truck.

Most of the guns were worth $400 or more and the estimated total loss is $2350.

A Northville City police officer who became suspicious when two boys pointed an object in his direction may have cracked a Livonia breaking and entering case and found a pair of runaways in the process.

While on patrol at about 1 a.m. on Saturday morning, the policeman spotted a pair of 15-year-olds walking on Seven Mile Road near Orchard. He gave chase and caught both boys on Fairbrook.

A name check showed that the boys had run away from their Livonia home. The officer also noted that one was carrying a nine-shot, automatic, 25-caliber handgun and the other was carrying a hunting knife with blade nearly seven inches long.

These objects were believed to have been taken from a Livonia home.

After taking the youths to the police station where their parents were called, the policeman returned to Seven Mile Road where he found a 22-caliber rifle in the bushes. There was a round in the chamber and the safety was off.

One of the boys admitted that they had pointed the rifle toward the patrol car but they didn't intend to shoot, according to a police report.

The pair said they had the weapons for hunting and for use if they encountered trouble, according to police. The boys were sent home with their parents while information about the incident is being sent to juvenile authorities.

Two garages located on neighboring city streets were pilfered on Friday.

A Grace Street homeowner said a chain saw valued at $139 was taken from his garage sometime between 6:30 a.m. and 7:55 p.m.

One street to the east, a Carpenter Street resident told city police that someone stole a toolbox and tools worth about $480 from his garage.

He pinpointed the time between 5 a.m. and 9 a.m. Friday morning.

Police reports indicated that both of the garages may have been unlocked at the time of the thefts.

An elderly Livonia woman and her husband were taken to St. Mary Hospital Saturday after a two-car collision at Eight Mile Road and Center Street.

Margaret Gruner, 76, and her husband, Otto, 78, were heading eastbound on Seven Mile when a westbound car turned in front of them, two witnesses told police.

Making a left-hand turn onto southbound Center Street was Ronald Horner, 20, 849 W. Main, Northville.

Police said Horner, who was not seriously injured, was cited for failure to yield to oncoming traffic.

In Township...

While a young Northville Township man was enjoying a party on Silver Springs in Highland Lakes, someone was taking his car for a short ride and leaving it somewhat worse for wear.

The boy told township police that someone, apparently at the party, took his car keys between midnight and 12:30 p.m. Sunday morning.

When the boy went outside, he found the car had been moved and that there was considerable damage to the driver's side of the vehicle, according to police.

Someone took out a grudge on the owners of an Edenberry Court home and painted their garage with obscenities. Township police say the vandalism took place between 11:30 p.m. on Wednesday night and 8 a.m. on Thursday morning.

No arrests have been made.

Michigan State Police reported five escapes from Northville State Hospital over the last week. State police also responded to a bomb threat at the hospital.

Dancers are pleased with Square location

Square dancers are wearing big smiles this week with the opening of a new dance hall in Northville Square.

On opening night last Wednesday, 25 squares (200 people) turned out to enthusiastically applaud the new quarters in the lower level of the Square located at Main and Wing streets.

"The resilient floor surpassed expectations and the acoustics were excellent," report participants.

With the opening of the new quarters, square dancing is being held nightly at 8 p.m., seven days a week. Three sessions are conducted on Sunday at 3:30 p.m., 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

On the first and third Friday of each month at 8 p.m. there will be square dancing for those who cannot schedule regular attendance at club dances. The level of dancing will be suited to those in attendance.

Meanwhile, plans for a square dance shop are being made. It is to be located in an area adjacent to the dance area.

Persons seeking additional information may call Ruth Clark at 476-4898.

The dance club first opened temporary quarters on the upper level of the Square following destruction by fire of "The Barn" on Seven Mile Road.

With relocation of upper level stores to the lower level recently, facilities in the northwest corner of the lower level became available.

Ms. Clark, assisted by Larry Prior and William Gracey — two well-known square dance callers, immediately began the job of turning bare walls and a cement floor into a new square dance hall.

Twenty square dancers volunteered their help, and a foam-backed parquet floor was installed, and carpeting was placed on the walls to enhance the appearance and the acoustics.

FATHER SAYS MY FIRST FEDERAL SIX-YEAR 7 1/2% CERTIFICATE SAVINGS ACCOUNT AND I WILL MATURE AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME

Our high-interest certificate savings accounts help you earn extra money by waiting.

Pretend it's six years from now.

You go to your desk drawer and look at the six-year certificate savings account you opened back in 1977. Remember the $1,000 you took to First Federal Savings of Detroit? Well, now it's $1,584.00. And all you had to do to get that additional $584.00 was wait.

Of course, if you'd rather pretend it's four years from now, or two and a half, or even just one, we can show you plans that still will turn your money into more than you might have thought possible.

And remember, too, that you can have certificate savings accounts in addition to your regular savings account (which earns 5 1/4% per year daily interest, paid and compounded quarterly). In fact, that's how many people get the money to open a certificate savings account. They save for it.

What's more, at First Federal, certificate savings accounts can entitle you to a number of special services, many not available anywhere else. We think you should know about these things because we know that money is important for you.

So don't wait to find out.

We know what money is for.

Higher Ground to perform

Open Door church hosts gospel unit

The Open Door Christian Church of Northville will feature "Higher Ground," a nationally known Gospel music group, at the October 9 Sunday morning session which meets in Northville High School auditorium at 9:45 a.m.

Higher Ground is based in Nashville, Tennessee where they record for TEMPO of Kansas City. Their itinerary has included a 12-month weekly television program with Evangelist Jimmy Swaggart on which the group assisted the Reverend Swaggart as back-up artists and featured singers.

Only three months after their debut in March, 1972 the group was nominated and remained among the top five finalists to receive the coveted "Dove Award" offered by the GMA for "Most Promising New Talent."

Each member is truly an artist in his own right. Together they share the music philosophies and Christian ideals that make an exciting package for a program of spontaneity that will always take them back to a locality after one visit. The story of Higher Ground is an exciting one. It is the story of how Wayne Hilliard, manager and master of ceremonies, having been a student in the ministry of the Lord's work and sang with the Downings, had a dream to found a group. With a wealth of experience and musical ability he built the group upon high ideals and hope.

From the first Higher Ground was singing for the right reasons and their work today takes them where they have an opportunity to share the things they are and believe.

Another member of the group, Michael McKenney, is a dynamic proof of the dedication and talent of Higher Ground. A rock musician, a drug user, playing in New Mexico with a rock group, he was persuaded by his mother to listen to Higher Ground.

Indirectly, through their witness he became a Christian and now adds a dimension of earthy gratitude and praise to the services and concerts where Higher Ground ministers.

Methodist women set 'electric' program

Ways to keep electric bills down will be among the subjects covered by Gerald Weber of Detroit Edison at the general meeting of United Methodist Women of Northville. The program will follow luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 11, at the church.

The women are extending an open invitation to attend the luncheon and program.

Weber will present a short film showing the company's new power sources, western coal, the new freighter and what's happening to the environment.

He will give hints on keeping bills down and have pamphlets on how much it costs to use appliances.

There also will be a question and answer period.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. at a $1 cost. The program is free and will begin at 1 p.m. No reservations are needed.

Curriculum leads Spear's tasks

Northville's board of education made it clear Wednesday night that curriculum is in a class by itself when it comes to the school district's goals and objectives for the 1977-78 year.

The board has established two dozen goals, but discussion about "performance expectations" for curriculum improvements took up most of a 3½-hour study session last week. Vice President Douglas Whitaker explained the board's priorities.

"Of all these 24 goals, this (curriculum) is the only one that deals directly with what goes on in the classroom," he said.

"I think that what we are saying is that curriculum is it this year," echoed trustee Marjorie Sliger.

Eleven "curriculum-related" performance objectives were approved for Superintendent Raymond Spear whose evaluation next spring will be tied into how well the district meets a laundry list of goals and objectives.

Performance expectations were also established for "Upgraded Facilities" and "Improved Morale," the other two major goals in the district as established by the school board.

As for the other 21 goals, which have been separated in "prime" and "secondary" classifications, the board generally agreed that it was best to allow Spear to form a plan for implementation.

The list is imposing and none of the board members said he expected Spear to accomplish each of the goals.

But the board did stress curriculum expectations and, with Spear, set deadlines for either their completion or for a progress report.

Trustee Charles Peltz urged Spear not to set unreasonable deadlines "just to look good," but he was adamant about the need for updates before the superintendent's evaluation.

Spear is in the second year of a three-year contract and is dealing with a board whose two newest members — Peltz and James Lewis — said in their campaigns last summer that Spear should be removed.

Board meetings since the election have not been hostile — and, in fact, have often been amicable — but the meticulous effort spent on determining the board's expectations of the superintendent demonstrate the importance of the March evaluation.

The listing of goals and objectives this year highlights this point.

In the past, Spear has determined the goals with almost token approval by the board.

This year, the board has not only played a greater role in determining the goals, but it has also set down 21 "performance objectives" for curriculum, facilities and morale.

Specific measures were not listed for the other goals because, as Lewis put it, "I don't want to spend all our time between now and March breaking down every category."

Peltz said that the goals would have to be "flexible" and conceded that there would be times when Spear would have to tell the board that certain objectives were not attainable this year.

Secretary Chris Johnson agreed that implementation should be left up to Spear. The board, he said, would decide how well time had been spent at evaluation time.

In addition to the main three goals, the board also added a fourth category — evaluation processes for faculty and administrators.

Treasurer Karen Wilkinson said the board should stand behind the administration if there is public pressure because some goals are slighted in favor of the top four.

"We have a responsibility to stand behind these four main ones," she said.

Even though the list is a long one, Whitaker set the tone of the board's feeling when he said more than just an above-average job is needed this year.

"We expect a lot of you," he told Spear. "We're serious. This is a crucial year, not only for you, but for the rest of us!"

Expectations for 3 goals

Here is a list of performance expectations discussed by the Northville school board last Wednesday.

CURRICULUM IMPROVEMENTS

1. Implement North Central recommendations which don't require additional funding.
2. Establish priority recommendations for North Central recommendations which require funding.
3. Deal with recommendations submitted by the Citizens Curriculum Committee.
4. Establish a district-wide testing program which will assist the professional staff in assessing general progress of students and providing necessary materials.
5. Assess high school graduation requirements and make recommendations for 1978-79 school year.
6. Develop a plan for competency based testing for all seniors in high school.
7. Update the five year Voc-Ed plan.
8. Develop a plan for the implementation of a high school alternative program.
9. Develop a plan for the reinstatement of instrumental music at the elementary level.
10. Complete assessment of all textbook shortages and recommend plans for bringing supply to the proper level.

UPGRADING FACILITIES

1. Submit a five-year plan for preventive maintenance.
2. Establish a formal schedule for painting all buildings.
3. Establish a list of all capital outlay needs for the district and determine 1978-79 funding requirements.
4. Establish job expectations manual for all custodial and maintenance personnel, including a functions check list for each position.

5. Quarterly visits by the superintendent to all buildings for the purpose of inspecting building cleanliness and maintenance.

6. Develop actions which will inspire efficiency in operation of facilities.
7. Provide a monthly report to the board on the daily cleanliness and maintenance of each building.
8. Develop program for spring to assure improved exterior maintenance.

IMPROVED MORALE

1. Establish a plan of action which will accomplish improved student morale at the high school.
2. Continue the Superintendent's Task Force and carry out appropriate recommendations.

High school fall play seeks winning poster

You may not be able to get your name in lights, but you can have your poster hung around town if you are the winner in a special contest to help promote Northville High School's fall play.

The contest, which is open to anyone, is easy to enter. Simply design a poster that can be used to advertise "Charley's Aunt," a comedy set in the 1890's.

The winning entry will become the play's official poster and it will be reproduced and distributed throughout the community for promotion purposes.

The winner will also receive four tickets to the play. Second prize is three tickets and third prize is two tickets. "Generally, a white background with black printing works the best," said Director Kurt Kinde.

Posters should indicate that the play will begin at 8 p.m. at Northville High School on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 10, 11, 12 and November 17, 18, 19.

The price — $3 for adults and $2.50 for students — should be mentioned, too. Other than that, Kinde said contestants could let their creativity and imagination on be their guide.

The poster contest was used successfully last year to promote "Fiddler on the Roof."

"Charley's Aunt" is based in a college dormitory where one of thmales living there is duped into playing the part of an aunt.

Posters must be submitted by October 14.

Casting for the play has been completed and the 10 parts will be played by five seniors, a junior and four sophomores.

The students and the parts they will play are:

Boys invade school 'home ec' classes

By BILL McMILLAN

Look out, girls! Boys are slowly infiltrating what was commonly known as the "stitch and stir girls' department" of school. That is, home economics.

A check with Brighton, Northville, Novi, Walled Lake and South Lyon school districts revealed that, yes, more boys are taking cooking, sewing, family relations and child development classes that were before dominated by girls.

Why? Most home economics teachers contacted agreed that the changing roles of women is the prime reason. Stereotypes have been shattered. Women work. Men take care of the kids and help with cooking and cleaning.

"Homemaking is really nothing more than preparation for family living," explained Mrs. Mary Lou Arnold, home economics teacher at Brighton's Scranton Middle School, which has had boys in "home ec" classes for at least five years. "The girls aren't the only ones who should be trained in all areas of the home. The other half of the family should, too."

"It's really survival skills," added Ms. Kathy Kordos, who teaches family relations classes at South Lyon High School. "Boys are realizing that they don't have to get married right out of school and if they live in an apartment, they soon find out that they can't afford to eat out all the time."

"Boys should know how to sew on a button, mend a tear and know consumer buying," said Mrs. Arnold.

But there still is a stigma attached to taking a "girl's class."

"Some boys will take home ec. as a joke, but others are saying that being able to cook isn't sissy anymore," explained Richard Smith, principal of Walled Lake Western High School. He feels that one course, child development, should be required for anyone planning to be a parent.

"Home economics has always been open for boys," said Ms. Dorothy Hylton of Novi High School. "I have seen more boys in the family life class. There are none in sewing because of the climate of the community. Some feel it is rather effeminate. I and the administration don't feel that way about it."

"I'm dying to get boys into sewing classes, but none of them want to be the first one," said Ms. Glenna Fritz, Brighton High home economics teacher. "Home economics is basic information for everyone. More boys will take classes when peer pressure eases up. And I hope it is soon."

Surprisingly, one division of home economics—food service—has always had male students. In fact, in many cases, boys outnumber the girls.

The reason, according to Smith, is that the class is a stepping stone for a wage-earning occupation in the future. "Boys have had most of the cooking jobs because it goes back to the French male chef stereotype," he explained. "But that role will break down in the future. If a boy or girl is sharp, they will get the job."

"The food industry is the largest employer in the country," pointed out Suzanne Zulkar, Brighton High instructor, who added that, sexually, the make-up of that industry is about 50-50, with the men taking most of the cooking jobs and women holding hostess and waitress positions.

Males have been used mainly in the kitchen due to the heavy pots and pans needed to prepare large portions of food at commercial concerns, according to Ms. Zulkar.

Karen Kuehn and Mark Berndt of Brighton get ready to sew

After completion of the food service course, which includes performing duties ranging from managing to dishwashing, students are placed in food industry jobs through a co-op program.

Some pupils from Brighton and Walled Lake have graduated to the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn and the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Of the 25 students who work at the "Walled Lake Room," a simulated restaurant at Western, 15 are boys. Students from South Lyon High also attend classes there.

The home economics department itself has changed with the times. Michigan State University has renamed the program "Human Ecology," a name some instructors said they do not care for.

Sociological topics like family planning and relations and child caring and development have been introduced.

But most instructors said that the enrollment growth regarding boys has been in the food area.

The reason offered by Smith is simple

"Taking the class gives the boys a chance to eat," he explained.

Bob Scranton, Scranton Middle School principal agrees, "They like the food."

Smith mentioned that Western did have a bachelor or survival cooking class for boys so they would "learn to do something more than pop a TV dinner in a microwave oven."

The class was dropped when it was found that the boys came not so much to learn cooking techniques but to sample the finished products

Hunter's moon

Sun eclipse coming

As in September, the moon will again be a highlight in the October sky with the Hunter's Moon and a partial eclipse of the sun.

"The Hunter's Moon of the 26th is the first full phase following the Harvest Moon (September 27 this year)," explains University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

"Both moons have practically the same characteristics: a slight delay in rising from night to night, resulting in full or nearly full moonlight for several early evenings in succession."

As for the eclipse, Losh reports that the moon of the 12th will be seen as a partial eclipse of the sun over a large area of the earth's surface, including all 50 states.

It will appear as a total eclipse in a narrow band across the Pacific, and the most favorable spot to observe it would be between 13 degrees and 14 degrees north latitude and 123 degrees west longitude.

"In order to have a solar eclipse, the moon must be at new phase and pass between the earth and sun so that it cuts out some or all of the sun's light," Losh explains.

"At the beginning of the eclipse, the dark moon will first show up at the western edge of the sun, becoming more apparent as the eclipse progresses. Locally, the middle of the eclipse will come around 5 p.m., and the last contact will be about an hour later, before sunset."

She adds that during the partial eclipse, one should be able to see the dark disk of the moon silhouetted against the background of the bright sun.

"As always in viewing a solar eclipse, no matter how partial, extreme caution should be exercised to protect the eyes," warns the astronomer.

Tommy & Jimmy are sitting on the banks of Lake Michigan. "Isn't that lake big?" said Tommy. "Yeah," said Jimmy, "and we're only looking at the top!"

Madge & Margaret were sitting on a park bench. "I'll tell you the truth," said Madge. "I'm afraid to fly. Those airplanes aren't too safe!"

"Don't be a baby," said Margaret. "Didn't you read last week there was a train crash and 300 people were killed?"

"300 killed on a train — what happened?"

"An airplane fell on it!"

"I can't understand it," said Joe to his partner, Bill, "here we are bankrupt, through, finished and only yesterday the President said that business was booming!"

"Maybe," said Bill, "the President has a better location!"

Higher Tar Cigarettes Lose Taste Exclusive.

Taste dominance of higher tar cigarettes challenged by MERIT breakthrough.

REGULAR and MENTHOL

Kings: 8 mg. 'tar,' 0.5 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Dec. '76
100's: 12 mg. 'tar,' 0.9 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined
That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

For years, you couldn't get real tobacco flavor without high tar. Low tar cigarettes just couldn't measure up. Until MERIT.

Until a breakthrough in tobacco science resulted in a way to boost tobacco flavor without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

The result was 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco.

MERIT and MERIT 100's were packed with this special tobacco. And taste-tested against a number of higher tar cigarettes.

Overall, smokers reported they liked the taste of both MERIT and MERIT 100's as much as the taste of the higher tar cigarettes tested.

Cigarettes having up to 60% more tar!

Only one cigarette has 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. And you can taste it.

Want to try haggis, scones, ginger cake?

Jubilee gift offers British treats

Recipes for preserved ginger cake, Christmas cake with almond paste icing and sultana scones may not be at every cook's fingertips, but they're now in Northville's library.

"Cookery in Colour," a comprehensive British cooking encyclopedia with more than 1,000 recipes, is a new gift to the library.

It has been presented by the Northville Branch of Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association to commemorate the Jubilee Year of Queen Elizabeth II, 1952-1977.

The cookbook was edited by Marguerite Patten, Britain's best selling cookery writer who has written more than 60 books on the subject.

It was purchased in England by Marjorie Bacon, a local branch member, on a recent trip.

More familiarly known as The British Club of Northville, the group actually is part of a national organization for which Mrs. Bacon is area delegate.

Mrs. Olivia Cooling is president of the Northville branch. Mrs. Marian Cooper is past president. She explains that the women of British descent wanted to mark the jubilee in a way that would benefit the Northville community, and the idea of the cookbook gift was conceived.

The book, a large 8 by 11 inches, is filled with black and white and many "colour" illustrations.

Except for an occasional word, like color, that's spelled differently, it looks much like an American cookbook.

Measurements are given in both grams and ounces.

Northville cooks may have to learn, however, that the Demerara sugar called for in the elegant Christmas cake is brown variety, that castor sugar is superfine, and that icing sugar is confectioner's, notes Mrs. Cooper.

Perhaps because the British are noted for their sweets, the book is especially rich in sections for cakes, cookies and candies.

Under shortbread, a butter-rich very British treat that many like to make during the Christmas season, there are recipes for raisin, sunflower and economy varieties.

Soups, too, are generously covered. Creamy potato chowder is an easy creation using a can of mushroom soup as a base.

There's also cream of artichoke soup pictured appealingly in a Wedgwood soup cup.

Under the heading, Some Less Usual Soups, the recipe for Cream of Apple Soup is given:

CREAM OF APPLE SOUP

½ pint of white sauce
1½ lb. apples cut finely water sugar
juice 1 lemon
½ pint cider
seasoning

Make white sauce and keep hot. Simmer apples until tender with water to cover, sugar to taste and lemon juice. Sieve the apple mixture, add to hot sauce with cider; season and whisk together. Serve at once.

As might be expected, there are recipes for fish and chips, ginger lamb with rice and the Scottish haggis. Few may want to try the haggis, but the easy to make recipe gives a list of what it is.

The haggis need eight ounces of sheep's liver, onions, beef suet, oatmeal, dried sage and salt and pepper. It is a slow-cooking recipe.

More to American tastes may be the many recipes for main dish pies and pasties, ranging from Cornish Pasties to Tuna Pie and Crusty Top Lamb Stew

BRITISH COOKERY—Examining "Cookery in Colour," a comprehensive new cookbook from Great Britain are Mrs. Elizabeth Levin, Northville librarian, seated, and, from left, Mrs. Olivia Cooling, Mrs. Marjorie Bacon and Mrs. Marian Cooper, members of the Northville Branch of Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association, more familiarly known as the British Club of Northville, who are making the gift to the library. The donation was made just before Mrs. Levin began a vacation prior to leaving the library. A new librarian is expected to be approved at the Northville Library Commission meeting Thursday.

Junior Miss pageant begins second decade

Ten talented, attractive Northville High School senior girls have worn the Junior Miss crown since the competition was begun by the Northville Jaycees. Several have gone on to win regional competitions, and one has been named Michigan Junior Miss.

Applications for the 1977-78 Junior Miss competition now are available for senior girls at Northville High School with the competition set for November 12 at Meads Mill Junior High School.

"We're beginning our second decade," says Mrs. Gerald (Chris) Campbell, who has helped with almost all the Junior Miss competitions.

She and her husband were involved since 1970.

Now they are contacting previous Junior Misses to make this competition a 10-year reunion.

"It's not a beauty contest. There are no bathing suits."

With this announcement the Northville Jaycees initiated the annual competition, omitted only in 1972, for which the high school seniors were judged on appearance, talent, personality and scholarship.

The same judging criteria holds true today with the girls appearing in

Woman's Club to hear expert on consumerism

Esther K. Shapiro, director of consumer affairs department for the City of Detroit and past president of the Consumer Federation of America, will be guest speaker at the opening luncheon of Northville Woman's Club this Friday at Meadowbrook Country Club.

She was appointed to her post by Mayor Coleman A. Young August 1, 1974. The agency was created by new City of Detroit charter.

Her department is empowered to carry on a broad program of consumer education, information, research and the enforcement of city consumer ordinances.

She will talk about consumerism and her work at the program following luncheon at 12:30 p.m. It will be preceded by a social hour beginning at 11:30 a.m.

Eunice Switzer, president, announces that the tradition of honoring past presidents at the luncheon will be continued.

Elizabeth Chapman will respond for the past presidents.

Cheryl Gazlay will introduce Ms. Shapiro.

Prior to the City of Detroit appointment, Ms. Shapiro spent eight years as consumer specialist for the Michigan Credit Union League, a statewide organization representing a million and a half members. She prepared consumer education programs for the members, and also created school programs and community workshops on consumerism. Her column for the league magazine was carried by a number of state newspapers.

Ms. Shapiro is a founder and past President of the Consumer Alliance of Michigan. She was appointed by two previous Detroit mayors to consumer advisory councils and has served on advisory boards to the FDA, the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Federal Executive Board.

Ms. Shapiro broadcasts a daily consumer bulletin on Detroit radio station WWJ as well as weekly newscasts for other Detroit radio stations, and local television talk shows.

She has lectured at most Michigan universities, and conducted seminars for teachers of consumer education.

Before entering the consumer field, Ms. Shapiro was recruitment director for the Office of School Volunteers, Detroit Board of Education.

activities and set it to music, "I Am Woman." Arranging the surprise were Judy Sinkwitts, Gwen Magnan and Kay Westling.

Bo has been active since moving to Northville seven years ago. She, husband Samuel, twins Cathy and David and Linda, live on Westridge. She is employed by the Northville Board of Education in the psychology department of the ISEP program. Sue McManus chaired the dinner program, which, Bo declares, really was a complete surprise. Even when she saw former Jaycette Linda Tull come in from Ohio, she says, she didn't know. It wasn't until her sister, Claire Knapp of Allen Park, arrived that she realized she was to be honored.

Want to take it off?

For several years Northville TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) organization has been a support for women wishing to lose weight. Former TOPS who have gained again are invited to a "free night" at 7:30 p.m. this coming Monday at the scout-recreation building at 215 West Cady.

Members wishing to re-join the weight loss group may do so without paying any weight fines or past dues, reports Nancy Hammond, mentioning that doors open at 7 p.m. for weigh-in. New members are welcome always, she adds, asking anyone interested to call her at 455-4086.

Holiday Fare's coming

The Women's Guild of St. Paul's Lutheran Church is one of the first groups to call with news of a Christmas bazaar. Called Holiday Fare, it will be held in the school's new gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, November 4. As the name implies, there will be lunch as well as booths of stitchery, toys, ceramics, calico items, bakery goods and selected Christmas treasures. Chairmen are Susan Taulbee, Marilyn Taylor, Nancy Parrish, Angie Baetz and Ettie Hirth.

Too much on one day!

Consensus report from the many groups working on the annual home tour, luncheons that day and the Tivoli Fair seems to be that "it was too much on one day." About 1,000 tickets were sold for the home tour in contrast to 1,700 a year ago.

While more than 200 luncheons were served at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the Women's Guild was prepared to serve 400, the number last year. Mill Race Docents report they had many box lunches left, but did make a profit of $107 for Northville Historical Society. All cite the weather also as a factor in the lower attendance.

Incidentally, those who opened their homes for the tour which benefits the historical society and Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church were guests at dinner that evening at the home of Mary Esther Fountain. Co-hostesses were Anne Sparling and Pearl Stephens, association president. Tour chairmen Jackie Daniels, JoAnn Kissel, Margie Davis and Glad Evans assisted.

As a result of having his home open on tour, John Dugan reports that he has gained more information about the family's antique cradle, a beautiful Eastlake Victorian piece, that he now dates 1830-1868. The family-room bench is earlier than the Dugans had thought, and has many evidences of being hand-made and probably German. It may be as early as 1650-1750, Dugan was told.

Leanne Steeper became Junior Miss in 1968 with Deniece Bidwell following in 1969. She was the only redhead in the group.

LeaAnn McElroy, a dark-eyed brunette, was last year's winner. Her talented piano playing helped her capture the top spot among eight contestants. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sheldon McElroy of 45790 Fernanagh.

"It's a lot of fun, and the girls get to know each other so well as they prepare a skit for the audience," Mrs. Campbell encourages, urging senior girls to pick up applications now.

She may be contacted for information at 464-1154.

TV hit, Masada, to be shown here

"Masada," the story of how fewer than a thousand Jews withstood 5,000 troops of the Roman Tenth Legion and in the end chose death rather than slavery, is being brought to Northville by the First Presbyterian Church.

It is to be shown at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 12, at the church with the community invited. There is no admission charge and parents are encouraged to come to see the film with their children.

Filed on location in Israel, "Masada," called also "Monument of Freedom," is an ancient mountain stronghold beside the Dead Sea and the site of one of history's most desperate struggles against tyranny.

Presented by Morris Cerullo, the film is a dramatic variety treatment of the last Jewish resistance against the might of Rome in 73 A.D.

Gloria Lane, who is in charge of special events for the church, reports that the film, aired over more than 190 television stations throughout the country last year, lasts an hour. It is to be shown in the church sanctuary.

Introductory guest speaker, she notes, will be Al Christianson of Village United Presbyterian Church in Redford Township. A Bethel Bible Study teacher, he journeyed to the Holy Land and visited Masada with the Reverend Bartlett Hess of Ward United Presbyterian Church.

Cerullo, producer of the documentary, is an international author and educator.

Film guest stars are Yossi Yadin, star of the Golden Globe award-winning "Lies My Father Told Me," and Ori Levy, Israel's international star of stage and screen.

Also featured will be Yigael Yadin, professor of archeology at Hebrew University and director of Masada Archaeological Expedition.

Called "one of television's finest hours," the drama-documentary's title means "fort".

The 960 Jewish refugees gallantly defended the fort as the last stronghold against the might of Rome.

All the drama is there, sponsors point out, with the determined Roman Centurion leading an all-out assault to bring the dissidents finally to their knees after a three-year siege.

POSTER-PROMOTING — Lisa Willoughby, Brian Postma and John Eltinge, young people of First Presbyterian Church, reproduce the Star of David "Masada" publicity for a poster to advertise the film to be shown at the church at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 12, to which the community is invited without charge.

their own hands, lying in family cliques. Instead of victory, there's the frustration of knowing that he has not won.

The story is one of the highlights of Jewish history first enacted 1900 years ago in the Judean desert.

A medallion commemorating the heroic stand of Masada's defenders against Rome in 73 A.D. was made in Israel, the copper coming from King Solomon's mines. The inscription from Psalm 81 was part of the Biblical scrolls found in the ruins of the casemate (double) walls 19 centuries later. It reads:

"O that my people had hearkened unto me, and Israel had walked in my ways. I should soon have subdued their enemies and turned my hand against their adversaries."

Those attending the film presentation may receive a medallion free by sending in a card distributed during the showing, Mrs. Lane announces.

The Masada is an isolated rock in Israel rising 1,300 feet near the western shore of the Dead Sea.

Built by King Herod the Great during the first century B.C. as a refuge against possible attack by the Egyptians, it is a formidable fortress dispersed over 20 acres. Surrounded by a casemate wall, it contains defense towers, storehouses, administrative buildings and Herod's three-tiered palace.

Great cisterns were cut out of the side of the rock to receive water through an aqueduct. Seventy-five years after Herod's death these fortifications served the last band of Jewish fighters (the zealots) in their struggles against the Romans (72-73 A.D.). They adapted the rooms in the casemate walls to their living needs, building a synagogue, ritual baths, and the oldest known schoolroom.

When the Roman Governor, Silva, marched on this last outpost of resist. ance the leader of the Zealots, Eleazar ben Yair, persuaded the 960 men, women and children to die free "God granted us the power to die bravely in a state of freedom".

Ten men chosen by lot slew their own wives and children and then killed themselves. The zealots, determined to leave an example to the Romans "that they be astonished at our death", destroyed their possessions by fire but left behind food to show the Romans that they had not died of starvation.

They had chosen death to slavery.

In 1955-56 a joint expedition of the Israeli Department of Antiquities, Israeli Exploration Society and the Hebrew University of Jerusalem was directed by Professor Yigael Yadin of Hebrew University, Department of Archeology.

Volunteers came from all over the world and from 57 walks of life to take part in the excavation. They gave of their time and labor, lived under primitive conditions and worked without financial reward "for the joy of being part of this worthwhile venture".

Attends seminar, hears Oral Roberts

Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Wedemeyer of Nine Mile Road, Northville, recently attended a laymen's seminar on the campus of Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Nearly 3,000 persons from across the United States and Canada were guests of the university for the four-day event.

Featured speaker for the seminar was ORU founder and president Oral Roberts. Richard Roberts, the World Action Singers, and Reflection, regulars of the Oral Roberts half-hour weekly programs and one-hour, prime-time quarterly television specials, performed for seminar guests.

The seminar was one of several held on the campus this year. In addition to seminar guests, some 175,000 persons tour the campus each year. ORU is Oklahoma's number one tourist attraction, according to the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the 19 major campus buildings, the guests had an opportunity to visit University Village, a complete retirement center for 450 residents, established by the Oral Roberts Association and located adjacent to the campus.

Oral Roberts University, in its 12th year, has an enrollment of some 3,500 students. ORU offers 29 majors on the undergraduate level and Master of Business Administration, Master of Divinity, and Master of Arts in Theology degrees.

In 1978, ORU will open schools of medicine and dentistry and in 1979, the O. W. Coburn School of Law. Advanced degrees in nursing and education are also planned.

ORU is well-known for its innovations in electronic teaching methods and its all-campus physical fitness programs.

GOD IS NOT DEAD!
"The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork." (Psalm 19:1)

To the casual, superficial observer God appears to be dead. Some theologians teach God is dead. But take a close look. Evidence abounds everywhere that God is very much alive! The star-lit heavens, the craggy summit; the song of the bird all testify that He lives. The sure judgment of sin, happy children at play, the radiant testimony of a dying saint proclaim He is very much alive. And the greatest testimony of all—the changed life of the believer in Christ!

Those attending are asked to use the first entrance north of the main entrance at the school. For more information call the center at 459-2360.

Northville Campfire Girls Adventurers group received appreciation for its "finger fling" accomplishment of last year recently when the girls presented the quilt they had made to a needy area family.

Mrs. Gudrun Von-Recum, their leader, reports that "finger fling" project will continue this year as the girls plan to make baby layettes and in the process learn to crochet and knit.
