City sewer-water rates increased

Although the increase probably will exceed an anticipated tax increase this year, citizens offered no objections Monday when the Northville City Council ordered a water-sewer fee increase of approximately 35 percent.

"We are the victim of circumstance, with little other choice," said Mayor Paul Vernon as council unanimously approved the rate increases following public hearing Monday.

Noting that no one from the public was present to speak on the proposed increases, Councilman Stanley Johnston observed that "this (increase) could amount to as much or more than the contemplated (city) millage increase."

City Manager Steven Walters agreed, pointing out that the water-sewer bill increase will cost him personally about $60 a year, whereas the proposed 1.5 mill increase proposed in the new city budget would cost him about $30 a year.

(The city millage increase is not a certainty as yet. Council is still working on the budget, but as the budget now stands going into the scheduled May 15 public hearing a 1.5 mill increase would be required to balance the budget unless the council decides to use more race track monies for operational purposes).

Council has called the sewer-water fee increases "minimal" to cover increased costs of purchasing water and sewer use from Detroit and Wayne County, to recover revenues used in paying for the repair of a collapsed sewer line last year on Fairbrook Street, to cover anticipated costs of improvements of the city's water pumping facility, and to establish a repair reserve.

The overall 35 percent increase represents:

- 15 percent of the total rate increase to cover county sewage disposal increases that take effect June 1.

- 61 percent of the total increase to cover an operating deficit and major sewer repair expense, and to return the sewer and water fund to a solvent condition over the next two years.

- 24 percent of the total increase to cover improvements of the water system pumping capacity needed this summer because of increased customer demand.

The rate increase, the city manager stated earlier, will be sufficient to

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Millage goes down by 2-1 margin

Another school vote set for June

Northville school district voters Saturday soundly defeated a request for an additional 5.5 mills by better than a two-to-one margin.

With not quite one-fourth of the 11,676 registered voters going to the polls, the issue lost heavily in all precincts. The official final tally was 1,963 against and 922 in favor.

It was the fourth time in five tries since 1975 that a request for additional mills has been defeated in Northville.

The board of education met Monday night in a special meeting and decided to try for the millage again, by breaking it into two parts, at the annual school board election on June 12.

By a 5-2 vote, the board decided to seek 2.6 additional mills to maintain the present program and 2.9 additional mills to restore cuts made earlier in this decade. Both issues are for three years.

Voting against the motion were Marjorie Sliger who didn't think the district should try again for a tax hike this year and Vice President Douglas Whitaker who favored a second attempt but not until later in the summer.

The convincing size of Saturday's defeat disappointed school officials who hoped for at least a strong showing.

Only in Precinct three (Winchester Elementary school) did the "yes" votes top 40 percent and there by only six votes.

The other precincts all defeated the issue by at least two-to-one margins with the city's Precinct one downing it by a three-to-one count of 380-122.

The 32 percent who voted for the millage was only a slight improvement over the 29 percent who favored last year's attempt at 2.8 mills when only 18 percent of the district bothered to vote.

The board consensus was that unwillingness to pay more taxes rather than displeasure with the school system was the overriding factor behind the defeat.

People are "hard pressed" by taxes, said Whitaker. "They simply do not want to pay more for schools, as good as they might be."

It was "cold hard cash" rather than "emotional issues," agreed James Lewis.

President John Hobart, noting that only 18 percent of the district actually voted against the millage, said the solution was to convince the non-voters of the need for additional funds.

Board members, who worked since October to pinpoint needs, should "stick by our guns" and stick with the 5.5-mill request, he said. "All we have to do is come up with another 1000 votes."

Last year, he said, 15 Wayne County school districts gained voter approval for additional millage by asking more than once.

Other board members, while agreeing that the need for 5.5 mills was legitimate, said the board must concentrate on preserving the present program.

"We've got to carry forth this program as it stands now," said Charles Peltz. "That's our first priority."

The 2.6 mills, the smaller of the June 12 issues, will raise about $450,000. That would be enough to meet next year's increasing costs with $70,000 left over for textbooks and maintenance.

The 2.9 mills would raise about $500,000 to restore programs such as elementary band, special instruction for the gifted, increased maintenance, expanded extra-curricular activities and additional teaching personnel.

Only Mrs. Sliger, who said she was influenced by the size of Saturday's defeat, was against trying for the millage again.

"I think boards in the past have not listened to the electorate and I think the board again in ignoring what the electorate said Saturday in no uncertain terms," she said.

"I don't like what this election is going to do to this district... (but) I think they (the voters) have spoken. It makes me heartsick."

Whitaker said the board is "obliged to go back" for at least some of the millage, but he had his doubts about June.

"That only gives us six weeks to turn 1000 votes around," he said.

Departing Superintendent Raymond Spear urged the board to split the millage into two packages for the June ballot.

He said the board's defense for the 5.5 mills was "excellent but the public did not find it palatable."

Voters politely say they can't spend more

By RICH PERLBERG

The voters who bombed Northville school's 5.5-mill request Saturday did not enter the voting booths with clenched fists, snarling lips and vindictive minds.

It was, as more than one board member noted while somberly watching the results landslide in, one of the most polite defeats in the district's history.

Polite, maybe, but no less discouraging to millage backers. They hoped that the determined pre-millage campaigning and the district's positive strides would combine for a strong showing.

Instead, Saturday's two-to-one drubbing was a barely perceptible improvement from last summer's millage defeat which followed a year of turmoil.

The magnitude of the defeat adds weight to board President John Hobart's contention that the arguments of the past — a poorly maintained high school, dissatisfaction with the superintendent, the year-round school debate — were merely convenient excuses for negative voting.

The high school was glowing in the limelight just a week before the election with a successful open house. Superintendent Raymond Spear is leaving for DeWitt. All students are on the traditional nine-month calendar. The feeling toward the schools seems generally upbeat.

Still, by the time the polls closed, it was evident that a crushing defeat was inevitable. Only 2900 people — a quarter of all registered voters — bothered to cast a ballot.

The 1,960 people who voted "no" were no surprise. Give or take 100 votes, that's been the number of "no" votes for four of the past five millage defeats.

What is significant is that only 922 people — or fewer than eight percent of the district's 11,700 registered voters — said "yes."

Mill Race improvements

Installation of sewers is underway at the Mill Race Historical Village, and this week council approved awarding contracts for purchase and installation of lamps and lamp posts along the village's walkways. Contracts were awarded Northville Lumber for the lamp posts, second lowest bidder at $669.60, and to Addison Lighting Company for the lighting fixtures at a low bid of $3,293. Meanwhile, plans for construction of a sidewalk from the Mill Race, along Griswold to Main Street, call for work to be done this summer.

On Seven Mile rezoning

Legality of hearing checked

When is a public hearing not a public hearing?

That's the question confronting the Northville Township Planning Commission right now and until that question is resolved, it appears the zoning of 10 acres of land on Seven Mile Road will remain up in the air.

The land in question is part of a larger parcel of land lying north of Seven Mile Road and west of Grand View Acres subdivision. Presently zoned for professional offices, the land has been the target of residents of Grand View Acres who would like to see the zoning changed to single family residential.

Originally, subdivision residents were concerned about not only the 10 acres of office land but also 29 acres zoned for multiple development. Efforts to have that zoning changed fell through, however, when court action resulted in a consent order allowing construction of 224 apartment units on the land in question.

A public hearing on the zoning of all 39 acres had been scheduled for April 11, one day after the consent order was issued. Only three members of the Northville Township Planning Commission showed up for that meeting, however, leaving the planning body short of a quorum.

Although Planning Commission Chairman William Bohan went ahead with the hearing and permitted discussion of the 10-acre office parcel, township attorney Donald Morgan subsequently ruled that the meeting did not constitute a proper public hearing because the commission lacked a quorum.

GROUND BREAKING for a "solar home" in Northville Township was to take place today. The solar home is being built by Fred Greenspan Development Corporation in Northville Colony Estates on Six Mile Road. Greenspan plans to study the efficiency of the home, which will generate power from sun rays, over the next few years to determine if it is economically feasible to build home power plants in other houses.

PUBLIC HEARING on the proposed city budget has been scheduled for May 15 at 8 p.m. in the Northville City Hall. Meanwhile, council members are scheduled to meet again tomorrow night and Monday to refine the proposed budget that anticipates a total expenditure of $1,700,266 and a tax increase of 1.5 mills.

AN OVERNIGHT parking ban has been ordered for city municipal parking lots in the wake of a growing number of vehicles that have been parked in these lots for extended periods. Recently, several campers have been parked in the lots, apparently because the owners have no room at their homes for parking or because they prefer not to pay storage cost at storage yards, officials observed.

THE NORTHVILLE Area CB Club has purchased and installed a CB base station in the city police headquarters, allowing the department to monitor channel "9" Police Emergency.

REVENUE SHARING monies totaling $40,615 has been earmarked for public safety by the Northville City Council.

FIRST REVIEW of site plans for the Northville city hall addition and library were to be presented to the city planning commission Tuesday night by City Manager Steven Walters. Also on the agenda were site plan and landscaping approval requests for Papa Romanos fast food restaurant, 340 North Center, and Little Hill Apartments, 235 Hutton.

HOWELL — A six member jury of five women and one man ruled the death of Teamster official and Howell resident Otto Wendel, Sr. was the result of murder, all of which sent police back into the investigative process in search

Lists qualifications

Board eyes next superintendent

Maybe finding a new superintendent for Northville Public Schools won't be such a difficult job after all.

The Northville board of education has pinpointed the qualifications it desires in the person who replaces Raymond Spear, the man who has been at the helm for the past 11 years.

The next superintendent, only the fourth in 45 years in Northville, must be a proven educational, social and civic leader.

He must have good communication skills and have a strong background in finance. He must have experience in both the building level (i.e. a principal) and in the central office.

He must know the negotiation process and have demonstrated motivation skills. His educational philosophy and management skills must be strong.

A history of professional growth and the capacity to deal with a growing school district are important. A knowledge of special education is also vital since the district educates about 800 mentally retarded students.

He should be willing to live in the school district and must be ready to assume responsibilities by the time school starts this fall.

In addition, those applicants who can walk on water can probably assume that their resumes will not be routinely discarded.

Before those who have read Title IX become incensed, it should also be noted that the superintendent could also be a she. But considering the number of female superintendents in Michigan, this is unlikely.

The above requirements may seem a bit stiff, but the head of the Eastern Michigan University placement director, who will help in the search, said there should be an abundance of qualified applicants.

Northville's location, the long tenure of past superintendents, the stability of the community and the potential for growth make the job attractive, Richard Nesbit told the board Thursday.

He and his counterparts at five other

Michigan universities will screen applicants and recommend finalists to board members at a dinner meeting later this month.

If the applicants desire, that meeting will be closed. Nesbit said the placement directors would not be as candid as they might be if the meeting is open to the public.

The placement directors and a board committee of Christopher Johnson, Marjorie Sliger and Charles Peltz will trim the number of applicants down to an undetermined number.

These finalists will be interviewed by the full board in meetings that are open to the public.

Nesbit said that "if all went well and I see no reason why it shouldn't," the new superintendent will be selected before Spear leaves for his new post as head of the DeWitt school system on July 1.

"Your timing is good," said Nesbit, but he recommended swift action since this is "The mating season," between school boards and superintendent hopefuls.

Spear has been superintendent in Northville since 1967. He resigned earlier this year, citing dissatisfaction with the board's proposed pay hike for next year, the last in his three-year contract.

His resignation came two weeks before the board was to consider extending his pact.

GOOD TIME FOR WINE
by Jim Roth

If you are a big drinker of wines, it will be important to you to find a wine store that stocks what you like and takes good care of their wines and their customers. A lot depends on the honesty and intelligence of your wine dealer. Some questions you might ask about your wine merchant before you become a regular customer are: Does she/he keep the corked fine wines lying on their sides to keep the corks moist? Is the store neatly arranged so you can easily find the wine you want? Does she/he stock a large variety of wines? Will she/he accept a returned off-bottle for refund or exchange? Does she/he give discounts on wine bought by the case? A good wine merchant can make your wine drinking a lot more pleasurable.

We at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477 try our best to make the selection and drinking of wines pleasurable for our customers. You'll always find a wide choice of wines available and we do give discounts for wines bought by the case, whether mixed assortment or all of one kind. # Northville thanks its genial MD

Russell M. Atchison, M.D., isn't retiring from the job he has performed for 40 years in Northville.

That may be one of the reasons that the genial general practitioner is being honored Saturday night at Meadowbrook Country Club by his friends and patients.

The idea of a dinner to pay tribute to Dr. Atchison for his many years of community service as a medical doctor and citizen attracted immediate supportive response.

Almost as soon as tickets were made available for the recognition event they were sold out to the capacity of 300.

While Dr. Atchison consented to the idea of inviting his friends to a program marking his 40 years of general practice in Northville, he insisted "keep it simple."

The 68 year old physician's offices are located exactly where his father had practiced medicine in Northville at 501 Dunlap Street. The elder Dr. Atchison (R. E. Atchison) started a small hospital at the Dunlap Street location in 1925, now called "Doctors' Clinic."

In 1937 after one year of internship at the University of Michigan Dr. Atchison chose to come home rather than continue surgical residency because his father's health was failing.

So he joined his father in practice. Previously, the elder Dr. Atchison had been superintendent of the University of Michigan Homopathic hospital in Ann Arbor from 1900 to 1919. In 1938 Dr. R. E. Atchison died.

The young Dr. Atchison continued his practice and in 1950 started the Atchison Memorial Hospital and it remained in operation in Northville at 501 Dunlap until 1960.

In addition to his practice of general medicine, which he continues at full scale today, Dr. Atchison has been active in community affairs. He was Northville Health Officer for a decade; a member of the Board of Education for 12 years; Civil Defense Medical Division director for the community during World War II; selective service examining physician from 1941 until 1946; team physician for Northville High School for many years providing free physical exams for high school athletes.

Dr. Atchison serves on the hospital staffs of Mr. Carmel, New Grace and St. Mary hospitals. He was married in 1938 to Ruth Mary Baldwin of Northville and the Atchisons have four children: Richard McRae, Russell Malcolm, Rhonda Marilyn Schlack and Roxanne Marie Casterline.

Dr. Atchison lists "sports cars" as his lone hobby.

A social hour will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday with dinner served at 8:00 o'clock. Master of ceremonies will be Richard Ambler.

Northville officials are trying to shoot down two proposed laws being considered in the state legislature.

They are house Bill 6250 and Senate Bill 1517.

Resolutions opposing both bills were adopted by the city council this week.

House Bill 6250 would require cities having a ban on overnight parking on streets, such as Northville, to erect "no overnight parking" signs throughout the city.

Presently, the city is required to have such signs at only entrances to the city.

Council opposes the bill because it would mean erection of signs, every 100 feet or more, along all

Council opposes bills in state legislature

city streets. Not only would such signs be unsightly, but they would have to be erected at considerable expense by cities, council noted.

The senate bill would mandate sheriff's patrols, at county expense, to all townships.

Mayor Paul Vernon, who noted that 80 percent of county taxes now come from cities, argued that cities would be asked to subsidize townships for such service while not receiving any of the same service.

If the bill is enacted into law, warned the mayor, it will boost county taxes, thus increasing the burden now placed on cities.

Senator Faust speaks

Schoolcraft grads get older

By TIM RICHARD

What a difference a decade makes. You could see it in the number of grey temples and bifocals among this year's crop of Schoolcraft College graduates at Sunday's 13th annual commencement.

You could hear it in the wry humor of commencement speaker William J. Faust, State Senate majority leader from Westland.

Ten years ago, there was a great deal of emphasis on youth. After 30, one was literally over the hill," Faust said.

A decade later, that all-consuming emphasis on youth has shifted," Faust said. 88 persons who had earned degrees in the last year and their families in the college gymnasium.

"Having reached the age of 29 myself" — much laughter from the crowd — "I totally support this view." Faust, a newspaper editor before he became Nankin Township supervisor and a state senator, named names:

—A grey-haired grandfather, veteran of 2,250 hockey games in 30 years, "Gordie Howe still talks of next year."

—Harper's magazine's list of 10 most beautiful women has no one under 30. Lena Horne is 60, and even the ravishing Farrah Fawcett-Majors is over 30.

—The average age of Schoolcraft students is around 30. "All ages in a community are now seeking to be educated," said Faust, noting that what used to be called "adult education" is now "continuing education."

Michigan colleges have not only responded to the widespread wish of post-teenagers to attend college, Faust said, but community colleges "went a step farther: Bringing college closer to home."

Altogether, some 800 persons earned associate in arts and associate in applied sciences degrees, as well as program certificates, during the past year.

As usual, President C. Nelson Grote pointed out, less than a quarter donned cap and gown for the once-a-year ceremony, many having moved on to four-year colleges or careers elsewhere. (The official list, still in preparation, will be published as soon as it's completed by the college, typically in five weeks.)

The two-year community college serving northwest Wayne County and portions of Oakland and Washtenaw counties has granted degrees to 6,176 since the first commencement in 1966, Grote said. It has enrolled some 81,000 persons — 65,000 in "traditional" academic programs and 16,000 in continuing education and community services courses.

"It is indeed a quality institution that sprang up from a cornfield — a people's college," he said.

Besides the earned degrees, there were four honorary degrees for persons who had either helped found the college or helped its advancement in some way.

Faust was honored with an honorary associate in arts degree for his legislative leadership and sponsorship of Senate Bill 344 to establish a statewide library system and cooperative library programs, which he considers his great legislative landmark.

In a surprise award, Clara Rousseau, administrative assistant to Grote and associate secretary of the college's board of trustees, received an honorary associate in applied science degree. Like the master sergeants who really run the Army and Air Force, Mrs. Rousseau has advanced in the college ranks from secretarial work to become the right arm (and perhaps left brain lobe) of the administration and board.

Benton Yates, who retired in 1969 after 15 years as superintendent of the Livonia School District, received an honorary associate in arts degree for his work in establishing the college. Yates now lives in retirement in Arizona, and his award was accepted for him by Dr. A. Edward Katz, former president of the Livonia Board of Education.

Frances Hensley, "Mrs. Volunteer" in many agencies, received an honorary associate in applied science degree. ## Township checks hearing legality

Bohan announced Morgan's ruling at last week's regular planning commission meeting and advised commissioners that, if they desired to consider rezoning the 10 acres, another public hearing would have to be scheduled.

After some discussion, commissioners voted to table the matter until yet another opinion can be gained from the township attorney — this time on whether the planners are obliged to hold another public hearing in place of the hearing which had been scheduled for April 11.

Charles Simkins, attorney for residents of Grand View Acres, was of the opinion that the commission had no choice but to schedule another hearing.

"I don't think there is any decision to be made except to re-schedule," Simkins stated. "The fact is that the commission passed a resolution to hold a public hearing on all the land in question and that hearing has not yet legally been held."

James Littel, attorney for the owners of the property in question, thought differently.

"In my opinion, the initial resolution providing for a public hearing involved a considerably larger piece of land and most of that land has been taken care of by another means," Littel said. "Therefore, I think your resolution for a public hearing lost its full force."

Commissioners decided to place the question before the township attorney — and also to hope that, if another hearing is scheduled, a quorum of commissioners will attend.

"I feel people made a number of pertinent comments at the last hearing and it's too bad there was not a quorum present," Bohan said. "I think the office service district should be looked at."

remove the deficit and to provide a repair reserve of $64,000 if it is continued through 1979-80.

Although Walters indicated that the rates may be cut back in future years, council members contend such a reduction is unrealistic given the history of increases passed on to users of utilities by the county and the City of Detroit.

Detroit furnishes water to the suburbs, while the county superintends the sewer interceptor system used by the suburbs.

Here's what will happen to water rates:

- Service charge, will remain unchanged at $1.20.
- First 5,000 gallons, will increase in cost from 72 cents to 90 cents.
- Next 9,000 gallons, will increase in cost from $1.30 to 1.62.
- All over 14,000 gallons, will increase from 77 cents to 97 cents.

Here's what will happen to sewer rates:

- Service charge, will remain unchanged at $1.20.
- First 14,000 gallons, will increase from 77 cents to $1.23.
- All over 14,000 gallons, will increase from 59 cents to 94 cents.

Sewer usage is calculated on the amount of water used by customers. In other words, the more water used, the higher the sewer bill.

Plan for central business district to be unveiled

A program for improvements in the city's central business district with a first stage that can be undertaken immediately will be introduced at a dinner meeting Thursday, May 11.

More than 200 invitations have been sent to merchants, businessmen and owners of commercial buildings in Northville.

The program will mark the culmination of a year-long study that began with the appointment of Downtown Business Improvement Committee by the city council.

Included in the projects undertaken by the committee has been a review of the status of the Northville Square shopping mall, a survey of shopper and merchant attitudes and ideas concerning the city's business district, an examination of financing potential, and a review and updating of the city's master plan for improvement of its central business district.

The committee has sought the assistance of Ronald F. Nino, city planner, in the development of a multi-stage plan for a downtown facelifting.

Specifically, it has been the objective of the committee to come up with a proposal that is immediately feasible to undertake, that is practical and that is affordable.

Working with Nino and members of his consulting firm, the committee has prepared visual layouts that will be introduced for the first time publicly at the May 11 program.

Members of the study committee are Mayor Paul Vernon, Councilmen Dewey Gardner and Stanley Johnston, Glen Long, Herman Moehlman, William Sliger and City Manager Steven Walters.

The committee is hopeful that more than 100 of the business district's merchants and property owners will attend the session and react to the proposals that have been developed thus far.

Chairman Vernon has emphasized that the committee has prepared a progress report and that it seeks reaction from local businessmen. In developing its proposals the committee has sought practical ways to make visual improvements for the convenience of the shopper, and to create an atmosphere in the central business district that will attract more retailers.

Along with the city council, the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce has been an active sponsor of the improvement study.

The program will be held at Northville Downs with a social hour beginning at 6 p.m. and a buffet dinner served at 7 p.m. Reservations at five dollars each can be made at city hall, Northville Realty, IV Seasons flowers and Long's Fancy Bath Boutique.

Equipment building, shopping center okd

Two developers received conditional approval of preliminary site plans when they appeared before the Northville Township Planning Commission at the commission's regular meeting April 25.

Commissioners voted unanimously to grant conditional approval for construction of a fire equipment sales and service operation on Northville Road and for expansion of Highland Lakes Shopping Center on Seven Mile Road.

Halt Fire, Incorporated hopes to construct a sales and service building on the west side of Northville Road, south of Six Mile. Planners voted approval of those plans contingent upon the developer meeting other requirements of the township zoning ordinance relating to construction of a wall around part of the property and to the planting of trees in the parking area.

Developers also will have to gain approval of their plans from the Wayne County Road Commission.

In other action, commissioners granted approval to Thurman Autry to expand his Highland Lakes Shopping Center, located south of Seven Mile Road and east of Northville Road.

The expansion, which is to include construction of a Detroit Federal Savings bank building and a 30,000 square foot addition to the existing center, was approved on four conditions. In order to comply with these conditions, Autry must submit to planners a landscape plan, floor plans, a clarification of the center's proposed signing and new plans for location of a sewer line to serve the proposed bank building.

Before granting Autry conditional approval of a preliminary plan, commissioners chided him for not submitting a plan showing total development of the shopping center.

Preliminary okay given for 'Salvation Army' sub

A proposed 166-lot development on 83.6 acres formerly known as the "Salvation Army property" was granted stage one preliminary approval when the Northville Township Planning Commission met last week.

After hearing endorsements from planning and engineering consultants, township planners voted unanimously to approve the first step of development of the subdivision, which will be known as North Beacon Woods.

The proposed development will be situated on a parcel of land lying south of Eight Mile Road and just west of the City of Northville.

Several residents of adjacent areas were on hand at the April 25 meeting to voice concerns over the development, specifically asking how developers plan to handle water runoff from the hilly land without leveling the area and destroying much of its natural beauty.

Developers assured the audience and township planners that they would do their utmost to retain as much of the land's natural qualities as possible and L. W. Mosher, township engineer, praised plans for handling drainage from the land. But William Bohan, planning commission chairman, noted that developers will not be able to preserve natural qualities of the land in their entirety.

"You have a lot of runoff there and land which is quite hilly," Bohan noted. "The developers are going to have to do some grading in order to solve the runoff problem."

According to Mosher, developers' plans for handling that runoff are exemplary.

In answer to a question from Bohan, Mosher stated that development of the former Salvation Army property actually will improve drainage conditions for many area property owners.

"I think the developer has done an excellent job, one of the best we've ever had here," Mosher stated.

Mosher and Bohan also assured members of the audience that there will be further review of drainage plans before final approval of the subdivision is granted.

Meanwhile, in a related development, it was announced that the Wayne County Road Commission will hold a public hearing to discuss concerns of area residents, regarding proposed road development in the new subdivision. That public hearing is scheduled for May 11 at 10:30 a.m. at the Wayne County Road Commission Building, 415 Clifford Street, Detroit.

The hearing has been prompted by petitions filed by residents of nearby Whipple Estates. Some residents have voiced objections to developers' plans to run roads from North Beacon Woods into Whipple Estates, making them through streets.

Northville woman dies after Livonia crash

One of three Northville women who was injured in a Livonia car accident two weeks ago died last week at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

Mary Chysiski, who lived with her daughter Mrs. Robert Georgoff of 45294 Byrne, died late Tuesday night in the intensive care unit where she had been since the head-on crash on Thursday, April 20.

Funeral services were Thursday in Toledo.

Mrs. Chysiski was a passenger in a car that was struck head-on near Schoolcraft Road on Farmington Road. Livonia police are still investigating the accident but families of the Northville women say that have been told that the driver and lone occupant of the oncoming car was a kidney patient and may have had a seizure.

Grace Egeland, 308 Debra was a second passenger in the Northville car and probably will be in St. Mary Hospital for another week.

She has eight broken ribs which caused her left lung to partially collapse, a broken hip and a hairline fracture of the right ankle.

The driver of the car, Jay Ward of 47266 Dunsany was also hospitalized but has been released.

Foreign students seek home

The Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth is again acting as sponsors for the visitation of 15 Japanese students from the Prefecture of Kagoshima.

These students, ten boys and five girls, whose ages range from 16 to 18 years, will be staying in the Plymouth-Canton-Northville communities for one week, from August 5 to August 10.

The club is compiling a list of potential sponsors willing to house one of these students during his visit.

Personal interviews will be made with each of the potential sponsors and host families will be picked by the Kiwanis Club.

"We will try to match up Japanese students with a student that has similar interests," said Kiwanis spokesman John Belser of Northville.

Further information regarding the purposes of the visitation and sponsor applications can be obtained by contacting Belser at 420-2507.

Obituaries

Nellie Esch dies—farm's college site

Nellie C. Esch, 74, who with her late husband, Reynold F. Esch, operated the last dairy farm in the City of Livonia on property that now is the site of Schoolcraft College, died April 27.

Mrs. Esch was born in Farmington Township February 29, 1904, to Henry M. and Helena (Kehrl) Evert.

On April 8, 1925, she married her husband, and they moved to the farm at 18974 Haggerty and West Seven Mile about seven years later in 1932. Here they farmed 157½ acres and also had dairy cattle.

Mr. Esch died in 1961.

In 1962 Mrs. Esch sold 137 acres of the farm to the college, stating that she was very pleased that a center of learning was to be built on the land. Both Mr. and Mrs. Esch enjoyed young people and often had them visit to learn about farm life.

The Esch home located on the property last year was moved to a site on Five Mile and is being restored. Mrs. Esch knew this and had expressed her pleasure that it was preserved.

Mrs. Esch later moved to 19700 Meadowbrook in Northville. She died at the University Convalescent Home after an illness of two months.

Funeral service was April 29 at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville with Mr. Carson Counce and Mr. Jerry Finnegan officiating. Interment was in Clarenceville Cemetery.

Mrs. Esch was a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, North Plymouth Congregation.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Betty J. Sutton; step-mother, Mrs. Mary Evert; a brother, Lester Evert; four grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by a daughter, Marilyn.

FRANCIS R. BLAKESLEE

Francis Russell Blakeslee, 77, of 18469 Jamestown Circle, who was elected first president of the King's Mill Cooperative apartments, died April 27 at St. Mary Hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Blakeslee, a 1921 graduate of University of Michigan in business and education, was a retired Detroit school teacher, retiring from Cass Tech in 1971 at the age of 70 as a math teacher.

From 1947 to 1957 he was a city planning effectuator for the City of Detroit and was coordinator of civil defense operations from 1958. He was a member of the Plymouth Elks Lodge No. 1780 and Our Lady of Victory Church.

Funeral service was held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home with Father James Scheick officiating. Interment was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

He was born January 2, 1901, in Bay City to Burt and Bessie E. (Hall) Blakeslee.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. James (Sue) Reilly and Mrs. Patrick (Barbara) Brunett of Novi; and 12 grandchildren.

IDA MORRISON

Services for Ida Morrison, 62, of 46040 Neeson, a lifelong Northville resident, were held at 11 a.m. Monday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church where she was a member. Pastor Charles Boerger officiated.

Interment was in Rural Hill Cemetery. Visitation was held at Casterline Funeral Home, Incorporated.

Mrs. Morrison, who had been ill for nine months, died April 28 at St. Mary Hospital. She was a retired cook at Whitehall Convalescent Home in Novi.

She was born August 30, 1915, in Plymouth to Elliott and Elsie (Matts) Larson and married James Morrison who preceded her in death.

She leaves a daughter, Barbara Lash; sons, George, John and James; a sister, Mrs. Marion Modos, all of Northville; and 13 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Small changer

Jill Litchfield and a lot of other youngsters have been counting their change at the Super Store, the student-run business at Silver Springs Elementary School. Business has leveled off from the $150-a-day volume of opening week, said Principal Nancy Fieldman, but sales still average $50 on the three days a week it's open. Students from the high school's Hilltop Shop helped organize the store which teaches students business, management and sales techniques. School supplies and health foods have been the hottest moving items.

Council rescinds bar request

Northville City Council's recent action denying location of a bar on Center Street in the downtown area was rescinded this week.

But not because the council has a change of heart.

Council took its rescinding action to delay a state decision in approving or denying a liquor license for William Boyd.

When council voted to deny the application by a 4-1 vote it did so only because it opposed the proposed location of the bar in the building that formerly housed Ramsay's Bar and later Jones Floral at 105 North Center.

However, the State Liquor Control Commission, which makes the final decision based on the recommendation of the local municipality, interpreted the denial as also opposing the issuance of a liquor license to Boyd.

"In no way did we mean to say that Mr. Boyd shouldn't receive the license," explained Mayor Paul Vernon. "Our objection was to the proposed location of the bar."

A letter to the liquor control commission, explaining the council's intention, apparently fell on deaf ears. So council decided to rescind its denial and to request specific direction from the liquor control commission.

Council is irritated because the standard resolution it was supplied by the liquor control commission asked only for a single "yes" or "no". Since the court already has ordered the license returned to Boyd, council interpreted the resolution as covering only the location of the bar — not the license itself. Since then the commission has stated that Boyd's license may be denied.

One spokesman for the commission reportedly said the license would be denied unless Boyd found a different location for his bar within 15 days. Another said there is no deadline.

Because council is agreed that Boyd operated a "respectable" bar in the city previously, it doesn't want to place his license in jeopardy. By rescinding its original resolution, council hopes to buy more time for Boyd to find an alternate location.

The majority of council members, however, remain firm in their position that the bar should not be located at the North Center Street location.

Boyd closed Ramsay's Bar several years ago, upon "selling" his license to the Drawbridge Restaurant. However, when the Drawbridge went bankrupt, the court ordered the license returned to Boyd for non-payment.

Borrow $1 million

Mini bond placed on June ballot

A tax that won't raise taxes will be added to the June 12 Northville school ballot.

The school board Monday night decided to seek voter approval for a "mini-bond" issue that would raise up to $1 million for major repairs in the school district.

The money borrowed for the as yet unspecified projects would be paid back over a period of 30 years through the state school bond loan program.

If approved, the district's present debt retirement levy of 7.12 mills would not be increased. If the "mini-bond" failed, the amount of tax reduction would be slight, probably less than .1 of a mill ($3 on a $60,000 home).

The state school bond program provides long-term, low interest loans for districts levying more than seven mills for debt retirement. The main drawback is that over 30 years the total interest payment will virtually equal the principle.

"This is an idea we've been looking at for well over a year," said board Treasurer Karen Wilkinson.

The decision to go for the mini-bond was approved 7-0.

This means there will be four issues for the June election which is held annually to elect school board members.

Earlier Monday evening, the board voted to seek operational millage hikes of 2.6 and 2.9 mills (see other story).

The school board election itself may be the duller of the four issues.

Only two people filed for the two four-year terms that expire this year. Incumbent Mrs. Wilkinson and Michigan Bell executive Richard Barron are running unopposed.

James Lewis, the other incumbent whose term expired this year, is not seeking re-election.

Kirksey can't buy car insurance bill

State Representative Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville) and Robert Law (R-Livonia, Westland) said last week the "Essential Insurance Reform Act" must be changed significantly before they can lend their support.

"Automobile insurance rates place a financial strain on the budgets of many Michigan residents with good driving records," Kirksey said. "This bill would further drive rates up by forcing those with spotless records to foot the cost of higher insurance rates for poor-risk drivers."

"I simply can't support this bill in its original form," he said.

The bill, HB 5196, is being considered by the House Insurance Committee, where it reportedly has undergone substantial changes.

"The bill as introduced would require insurance companies to provide coverage for anyone requesting it at regular rates, regardless of individual records," Law said. "The high-risk policies would then be assigned to a state-operated association, and the underwriting losses of the association would be shared by all policy holders in the state."

"Of course the bill has not reached its final form, but in my mind there is no doubt that the original bill would be costly and punitive to the majority of Michigan drivers," Kirksey added.

Kirksey and Law said they have received numerous letters from constituents concerned about the possible passage of the bill.

"This bill has sparked enormous controversy, and we want our constituents to know that a bill which benefits only the reckless and negligent drivers and penalizes those who are law-abiding citizens and careful drivers will not receive our support under any circumstances," they said.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Several weeks ago this newspaper vigorously opposed a maneuver by the Northville Township planning commission that could have led to the rezoning of a Seven Mile road parcel of land after the owner of the land had submitted a plan that complied with the existing zoning.

We did not object to the rights of neighboring citizens to oppose the project through whatever legal processes might be at their disposal. But we did believe, and still do, that for an official body to change its rules in mid-stream was illegal and discriminatory. We also contended that there might be some politicking afoot.

Now, lo and behold, a similar situation has arisen in the city. This time we wonder about the equity of a 4-1 decision by the Northville City Council. The vote would deny William Boyd the right to open a bar on North Center Street.

For a number of years Boyd operated Ramsay's Bar at 105 North Center street. It is generally conceded that for a business often wrought with public disturbances, Boyd managed to keep things under control.

When the Methodist church was converted to the Drawbridge, Boyd sold his liquor license to the owner of the new restaurant and leased the old Ramsay Bar space to a florist.

Eventually, the Drawbridge operation failed and defaulted on its payments to Boyd for the liquor license. The court ordered the license returned to Boyd.

So Boyd decided he would go back into business for himself and reopen the old Ramsay Bar. The florist left and Boyd had architectural plans drawn for his proposed new establishment. The plans were submitted to the city's Historical District Commission, an advisory body that reviews all exterior designs in the commercial district in an attempt to promote the community's Victorian theme.

His plans were unanimously approved by the Commission.

Meanwhile, after Boyd had made his intentions known, a church group acquired the old Methodist church-turned-Drawbridge Restaurant and turned it back into a church.

This action complicates the situation somewhat because the State Liquor Control Commission can disqualify an application for a bar based upon its proximity to a church. Boyd's building is closer to the church than the stipulated distance.

But this is a decision for the State Commission to make.

The question posed to the city council by the state is whether or not the council approves the issuance of a liquor license at a particular location.

Obviously, four members of the council do not want another bar in the downtown business district. At least not a "shot and beer" bar, as opposed to a dining establishment serving mixed drinks.

Legally, the council is within its rights. And it would be difficult to argue that business in the downtown shopping area would not be better off without Ramsay's, or perhaps an existing bar operation or two that may not enjoy the same reputation for tight management that Ramsay's did.

But it is impossible to ignore the equity of the situation, the rights of individual property owners.

Boyd owns his building. He wants to use it as a bar. His request complies with the city's zoning regulations.

Ironically, there arises a new threat to Boyd. The state has ruled that unless the applicant for a liquor license also has a specific business location he cannot be issued a license.

ed that unless the applicant for a liquor license also has a specific business location he cannot be issued a license.

So while the court has ruled that the liquor license must be returned to Boyd because of forfeiture of payments, the state is saying that he cannot have his license unless he has a building in which to operate his business.

I am fully aware of the concern by councilmembers over the welfare of the city's business district. Along with local businessmen they have spent many hours making plans for central business district improvements. A bar does not fit into those plans.

But in my opinion, elected officials must often set aside personal preferences in order that all citizens are treated fairly and equally.

If it is impossible for Boyd to relocate at a site suitable to both himself and the council, then the council majority is acting discriminately in denying Boyd the right to pursue a legal business in a properly zoned location.

If you have seen many old movies or have been around long enough to have collected a few prejudices, you may be guilty of occupational stereotyping.

For example, here's how you might visualize the following:

Switchboard operator — always chews gum, talks fast, stretches out words... "nummmber pleeeeeeze."

Reporter — wears wide-brimmed hat, chain smokes, types with one finger, yells "copy boy" and hangs around bars;

Certified public accountant — wears green visor, garters on shirt-sleeves, carries lunch to work in brown bag;

Mortician — wears black suit, steel-rimmed glasses and parts hair in middle;

Banker — never smiles, wears vest under buttoned-up suit coat and sits behind spotless desk;

Stockbroker — same as banker except he smiles;

Cops — big, brave, not particularly bright.

Of course, I know from experience that newspaper reporters are exceptionally alert individuals who never yell, dress nattily, possess no bad habits and type swiftly and unerringly.

So perhaps I should not have been surprised by the experience I had last week in Northville Township.

I learned that "cops" are really police officers; that they are not necessarily big; that they are, indeed, well educated; and, perhaps above all, they are dedicated to helping people.

Along with Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole and Chief Robert Turner of Livonia I served on an oral review board for Northville Township Police Chief Ron Nisun. We interviewed 16 finalists for two positions on the township police force. It was a daylong session.

The applicants ranged in age from 22 to 28. Everyone of them had studied law enforcement at the college level for at least two years. Several held four-year college degrees.

Surprisingly to me, some of the applicants now hold non-police jobs paying considerably more than the $11,900 starting pay offered in Northville Township. Yet they were willing to sacrifice income to serve on a police force where they can "work with and help people."

These young men were alert and they maintained their poise under questioning fired by a couple of police veterans who were intent upon testing the stability as well as the know-how of the college kids.

I was impressed. And it is intended as a compliment when I say that I have never interviewed journalism applicants who, as a group, were more qualified for the position they were seeking.

No more stereotyping of police officers for me.

Bankers and CPAs, maybe.

YES . . .

There are a variety of reasons to choose a natural, meatless diet.

Most people confuse the vegetarian diet as a deprivation diet, using a vegetable as a meat substitute. Actually, meat is a vegetable substitute. Man was not designed to eat meat. If you look at man as an animal, you'll notice the teeth, jawline, stomach and liver are all similar to those of non-meat eating animals such as apes and monkeys.

People often tell me they need the protein in meat to be healthy, but the problem is that most of us eat three times as much protein as we need. A typical American meal consists of a salad, some starch, milk, maybe some vegetables, and some meat. There is no way the body can use that much food.

Combining vegetables with grains at mealtime will provide the same essential amino acids as meat provides, plus you'll get additional vitamins, nutrients and minerals. And you won't get the calories, chemicals or grease.

I have never seen an overweight vegetarian — and a trim body is the first step to good health.

There is also the fact that most animals are being fed plants which are sprayed with pesticides and are given other chemical additives before they are slaughtered. These chemicals are passed on to those who eat the meat.

The basic point is we must watch what we eat and we must insure that we don't eat too much or something that is harmful to us. Everything we eat must count.

Speaking for Myself

Vegetarianism good for you?

NO . . .

All humans have a universal need for approximately fifty different nutrients on a daily basis. Including foods from the basic food groups is a practical guide for making nutritionally sound food choices: meat or protein alternates, two servings daily; milk, two, three, or four servings daily for adults, children and teens, respectively; fruits and vegetables, four servings daily; grain, four servings daily. These foods, eaten in moderate serving sizes, will provide an average of 1200 calories and a sufficient supply of nutrients needed by most people. Additional calories to meet individual energy requirements can be obtained from an assortment of other foods, preferably with high nutrient-to-calorie ratio.

The lacto-ovo vegetarian (plant food with dairy products and eggs) consumes a diet nutritionally similar to meat eaters since the eggs and milk provide high quality protein and important minerals. On the other hand, a pure vegan (plant foods only) must use extreme care in combining plant protein to provide good balance in essential amino acids. Deficiencies could also occur in calcium, riboflavin, iron, vitamin D, and vitamin B<sub>12</sub>. Choosing vegetarian diets without careful consideration of nutrient content can be especially harmful for infants, children and pregnant women.

Everyone should be conscientious in their food selection, but vegetarians must take even greater care not to leave nutrition to chance. If foods are selected from a wide range of plant and animal sources, the essential nutrients are much easier to obtain.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Some of the simplest questions are the most difficult to answer.

For example: a reader asked why so few modern day buildings have lightning rods.

Detroit Edison assured me that lightning is no less potent today than 50 years ago, but company spokesmen were unable to explain the disappearance of lightning rods.

"So far as we know there have been no structural changes in buildings that make them any less attractive for lightning," Edison said. "It's probably a matter of cost."

University of Michigan electrical engineers concurred.

"That's really a difficult question," said a U-M professor, "and one that cannot be fully answered. Frankly, I'm convinced that a long-term study of lightning is needed."

"My personal belief is that radio and TV antennas may have replaced the lightning rod. I'm sure they offer some measure of protection if properly mounted. But, unfortunately, many antennas are not properly grounded and they are a menace to buildings."

Although man has been studying lightning for centuries, many questions remain unanswered. For example, a five-year study in Switzerland disclosed, as expected, that lightning struck a mountain top more times than it did a lake at the base of the mountain, the professor noted.

"But they continued the study for another five years, and this time they found the lake was hit more often than the mountain. Why? We really don't know."

All of which most certainly would disturb a fellow by the name of Benjamin Franklin, who erected the first lightning rod on his house at 141 Market Street in Philadelphia in 1749.

Poor Ben worked his head off to perfect his invention but was largely scoffed at and condemned in the Eighteenth Century and now, long after his death, the 20th Century populace largely ignores his advice.

Franklin kicked off a heap of protests by

Thomson questions township salary increases

To the Editor:

Since the present Township Administration took office in November, 1976, some duly elected officials have enjoyed salary increases of up to 44%. As a member of the Salary Review Commission, it is difficult for me to comprehend both this large an increase in such a short time, and the manner in which the Review Commission functioned.

I have served on two other commissions in this township, the Planning Commission and the Recreation Commission, and never have I been involved with a group that made recommendations based on, to my knowledge, only one meeting, and that meeting was in January of 1977. As stated in the April 26, 1978 edition of the "Northville Record", I was unable to attend that meeting. However, the reason for my absence was simply that I did not receive any prior notice of that meeting. My only notification came from Supervisor Grier one hour and fifteen minutes after the meeting had been called to order.

I fail to understand why this Commission was constituted at all when, as stated by Commission Chairman, "Con" Carson, "This year we got the recommendations from the Board."

Although the Board is the authority in salary matters, it would seem that the establishment of a Review Commission indicates that other opinions were being sought and would be considered. This has not been the case. This is proven by the fact that when I received a letter from Mr. Carson in February, 1978, asking for input, I responded by requesting a meeting. The matter died with my request.

In closing, I would like to ask this question: Why appoint a Commission that does not meet and has no voice?

Those ol' signs are still tickling

To the Editor:

To let you and Frank Rowsome, Jr. know there are several of the "Burma Shave" signs left out West on highways.

We completed an 8,000 mile trip this past January, February and March enroute through California to Las Vegas and when I saw them all memories of our "Tin Can Tourist Days" came to mind.

My mother did all the driving; with five children she had her hands full as she was driver, mechanic and a "pioneer" in car travel when there were no paved roads, motels, Golden Arches, etc... things that to me will never compensate for today's way of travel. Reading these kept us busy and there was no end of fun just reading them out loud.

My hubby had never seen them and got a kick out of their antics. Believe me, there are some (Burma Shave signs) alive out there in that part of the U.S.A.

Enjoy your column.

Betty Stone

Editor's Note: Mrs. Stone isn't the only person who claims that some of the old Burma Shave signs still exist. One of The Record's staffers insists he saw some recently in Ohio.

Council chided for diabetes vote

To the Editor:

After reading the Northville City Council minutes of April 3, 1978 I notice

ed that Mr. Nichols and Mr. Gardner voted to deny the solicitation of funds, door to door, by the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. This was probably due to a lack of information and public apathy of our society. Perhaps a few facts are in order, taken from the National Commission on Diabetes and testimony before the Senate Subcommittee on Health, they are as follows:

More than 10 million people in the U.S. have diabetes.

600,000 new cases are discovered each year.

Diagnoses of new cases up 50% in 10 years.

300,000 deaths a year, making it third in cause of deaths.

Leading cause of new cases of blindness as well as major cause of heart attack, stroke, kidney disease, gangrene and nerve damage.

Diabetes is a chronic, insidious and incurable affliction. Thanks to the discovery of insulin our child is alive today but a prognosis for his future is uncertain.

Since research was hopelessly underfunded seven years ago the J.D.F. came into being. Today it is first in percentage of funds going to research, than any leading organization, with a figure of 90 percent. There is only one paid employee in the state, the rest being volunteers. We maintain no diabetic camps.

It was through the J.D.F. massive campaigns and testimony before the U.S. Congress that the Diabetes Mellitus Research and Education Act of 1974 was passed from which the National Commission on Diabetes emerged.

When the cure for diabetes finally comes there will be many who will share that great moment. I hope that someday we can count Mr. Nichols and Mr. Gardner among that group.

School greets spring with Family Fun Run

Pull on that sweatshirt, stretch those muscles, lace those sneakers and start running.

Or jogging.

Or walking.

Or a little bit of each.

That's the challenge issued to Silver Springs Elementary school students, their parents, teachers, administrators and all other Highland Lakes and Kings Mills residents, including senior citizens.

They are all invited to Silver Springs second Family Fun Saturday morning from 9 until 10:30.

All that's required is 30 cents for registration and the desire to run, jog or run twice around a one mile loop that begins and ends at the school playground.

And bring your sunglasses in case you turn into an instant celebrity while running past the television cameras that will be there.

And there will be sun, too, if there is any justice in this world.

Last October, Silver Springs hosted its first Fun Run which drew 250 to 300 entries despite a cold, rainy morning. The teachers and parents who organize the event feel they can do much better than that if the weather cooperates.

If the weather is at all threatening, call 348-9071 after 8 a.m. Saturday to see if the run is still on.

The purpose of the Fun Run is to encourage fitness as an enjoyable way of improving and maintaining your physical condition and health.

This is not a competitive event. There will be no stopwatch-carrying judges at the finish line.

All participants are encouraged to finish the course at their own pace and all receive certificates and buttons.

When the course is completed, the Fun Runners will find refreshments—nutritional food, not the junk variety—waiting for them.

As a special added attraction, running shoes will be awarded to one lucky participant as a door prize. The organizers also hope to have a contestant present from the 1978 Boston Marathon.

This is one activity where parents may have to hustle to keep up with their kids. As part of Movement Education, Silver Springs students run a mile or more regularly at school.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Nichols to lend support and commend Congressman Purcell in his efforts to organize a suburban communities caucus and that this Resolution 78-18 be sent to our State Senators, Representatives and neighboring communities.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Communication from Steve and Jane Folino, 726 W. Main Street, and Walter and Velma Belasco, 790 W. Main Street, Northville, reiterating and substantiating their support of annexation to the City. When the Public Hearing was held in March by the Boundary Commission, both the Folino's and Belasco's were out of town.

Communication from the Recreation Department which states the Northville School System will be vacating the Community Center Building in May. They have offered the building to the Recreation Department as is. Renovation will be necessary to update the building, i.e., new heating system and roof, etc. The Recreation Department will accept the responsibility of raising funds for gradual renovation of the Community Center Building and asking both the City and Township governing bodies to agree to provide the funds necessary to operate the building after the renovation has proceeded enough to allow use of the building as a recreation facility.

Mayor Vernon commented the concept should be accepted however, the Council will need more input from the Recreation Department concerning use and cost of the facility.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Mrs. Jerry Hajossewicz, 660 Horton, stated she has lived at that address for two years. Her family is outgrowing their home and she is interested in purchasing the City-owned lot on the Northeast corner of Baseline and Carpenter.

Mrs. Hajossewicz stated the lot would be perfect for the type of home she would like to build.

Mayor Vernon commented the lot was purchased for open space and not to be developed as a park. He named the four properties that were designated as park areas. He stated no restrictions have been placed on the piece of property in question.

The City Attorney stated he believed the City would have to go out for sealed bids.

Mayor Vernon stated the Council could make a condition of sale that plans be required and a time limit be put on it. He also mentioned the City does not want to open the lot for speculation.

Mayor Vernon requested City Manager bring in a sketch of the lot and dimensions and a report for the next meeting to consider the offer.

SET DATE FOR PUBLIC HEARING FOR FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING: The date for the Federal Revenue Sharing hearing has to be set at least 7 days prior to budget adoption.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for Public Hearing to be held May 1, 1978 at 8:00 p.m. for the purpose of hearing proposed uses of the 1978-79 Federal Revenue Sharing Funds.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

SET DATE FOR PUBLIC HEARING TO ADOPT AN ORDINANCE ON THE EDISON FRANCHISE: Communication from the City Clerk stated the Detroit Edison Company lease has expired with the City of Northville. Council has to set a date for a public hearing to adopt an ordinance on the Edison Franchise which cannot be enacted until it has been referred to a regular or special election and approved by three-fifths of the electorate.

An estimate of the election expenses were also submitted for Council to set in the amount of $720.00.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for a Public Hearing to be held on Monday, June 5, 1978, at 8:00 p.m. for the purpose of adopting a Detroit Edison Franchise.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to establish Detroit Edison's share of the election expenses at $720.00.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

RAMSEYS BAR LIQUOR LICENSE TRANSFER: A petition in support of the proposed reopening of Ramsey's Bar, signed by Citizens was placed on file.

The City Attorney addressed the City Council concerning his memorandum which was presented at the last Council meeting in his absence. He stated he had represented Mr. Boyd in filing the liquor transfer petition and the work was completed last summer.

The City Attorney mentioned he had written a letter to the Attorney General's office asking whether or not the 500' rule applied in this instance. He received a phone call from Mr. Cochino of the LCC, Lincoln Park Office in response to the Atty. General letter. Mr. Cochino asked why City Council did not take action on this Mr. Cochino followed with a letter to the effect that City Council should approve or disapprove the liquor transfer without respect to the 500' limitations when that's done the LCC will consider whether the 500' will apply.

The City Attorney stated the LCC representative came out in February to check the tax roles and found the area still listed as non-exempt.

The City Attorney stated he wanted to clarify that he wrote the communication to the City Council as the City Attorney and not as Mr. Boyd's Attorney.

Mayor Vernon stated Council wants to make sure their action is not academic if a church is within 500' of a bar the action could be considered illegal.

The City Attorney stated Council should not consider the 500' limitation but should only consider whether or not you want to approve or disapprove the transfer of the license before the LCC takes action.

Councilman DeRusha commented the City did not need another bar in the downtown area.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Nichols to disapprove the request of transfer of the Class C Liquor License located in escrow at 145 Center Street, Northville from the Drawbridge Company, Inc., to 105 North Center Street.

Ayes: Vernon, DeRusha, Gardner, Johnston.

NOVATION CARRIED: ZONING BOARD RECOMMENDATION: Communication from the Zoning Board of Appeals on their recommendation to also City Council per Section 6-702-1-H and 6-708-1-b for approval of a sign variance which would extend 2' into the road right-of-way.

Memo from the City Manager which stated this would involve the Wayne County Road Commission since the right-of-way involves S. Main. An encroachment permit by the property owner, Mr. Ruffner, must be obtained from WCRS. Mr. Ruffner has proceeded to do this.

PLANNING COMMISSION RECOMMENDATION RE PBO AT RAY & D & E: The City Council Communication from the Planning Commission regarding their motion on the Public Hearing to correct the Zoning Map error. Motion as follows:

Motion by Councilman Tucker supported by Councilman Turnbill to recommend to the City Council that lots 651 and 652a not be rezoned back to PBO and remain as residential.

Ayes: Buckland, Durst, Fee, Freydt, Tucker, Turnbill. Abstain: Cutler.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Mayor Vernon read a communication from Stanley Schostack, 250 Rayson, voicing his displeasure at the PBO rezoning.

Mayor Vernon told the audience that this was not an official Public Hearing but Council would listen to anyone who wished to speak.

Mr. Moehlman, Atty., representing Mr. Cutler, the owner of lot 650 and a vested remainder interest in lots 651 and 652a asked the Council to consider what the zoning was prior to 1974. He stated in 1971 the entire area in question was PBO. In 1974 Planning Commission changed the zoning to R-2. The Council unanimously voted that be continued PBO. Mr. Moehlman stated someone made an error after Council made that decision Council is now trying to correct this error. He stated the action at this meeting should be to correct the error that occurred after action was taken. Mr. Moehlman further commented that it was a mistake that only lot 652a was listed. He stated it is essential to correct the error as the unanimous legislative action of the Council.

Mr. Ken Harrison, 119 Rayson, stated the action in question abuts his property and he is in support to keep the area R-2. He would like to make some points. He stated this is a rezoning. It is legally R-2, according to the map. Mr. Harrison stated the zoning should be based on 1978 not 1974. He mentioned sufficient things are taking place which should cause the Council to reconsider changing this back to PBO. He stated a great number of residents have put a lot of time and money in their homes. The vacant lot is adjacent to his home. He feels personally that it is one thing to abut commercial from the rear but it is a different situation when you abut from the side as he does. He suggested the only one who would profit by the rezoning would be the one who owns the lot on Center. Mr. Harrison stated when he bought his home two years ago he looked at the City Map and the lots next to his were zoned R-2. He has tried to buy the property. He has invested a great deal of time, money and interest, and questions what he is going to do with his property. Mr. Harrison mentioned a petition, which is on file in the Clerk's office, signed by people living in the area. Mr. Harrison thanked the Council.

Mrs. Ronald Hebert, 321 Rayson, was present at the Planning Commission. She felt there was a negative attitude toward the rezoning.

Mrs. Jean Harrison, 119 Rayson, stated she thinks the City Council should consider where Northville is going as far as zoning. The question is, if the houses in the residential sections should be protected. Mr. Cutler has capitalized on that and he has helped make Rayson what it is and they do not want it destroyed.

Mayor Vernon explained that Councilman DeRusha and Nichols have served on the Planning Commission. Councilman Gardner, Johnston and Mayor Vernon have served on the Business Development Committee, and all are aware of the need to balance residential and commercial interests.

Mr. Dwight Miller, 285 Hutton, stated he thought before City Council votes they should look at what is across the street from the City Hall for offices, at Northville Square.

Mr. Arnold Hicks, 114 Rayson, has lived on the street over forty years. He does not want to see this happen. His property is zoned commercial and he is unhappy, he does not think it should be.

Mr. George Patak, 453 Grace, also wants to support Ken Harrison in his feelings. Mr. Patak stated he cannot help but feel this may progress right down Rayson Street.

Mr. Ron Hebert, 321 Rayson, stated he moved here about two years ago from Farmington. He is surprised that somebody from the "Historic" society is not fighting this.

Mr. Moehlman stated he thought it is imperative that City Council act. When City Council acted in 1974, they attempted to draw a line and show the reasonableness of the planning for PBO as lots 651 and 652a are across the street from GCD. It was incumbent to include these two lots, he stated. Mr. Moehlman also mentioned Mr. Cutler has received several awards for his work, and he has also invested time and money.

Mr. Art Childs, 102 Rayson, stated you cannot look at a map and draw a straight line you have got to look at the community and the neighborhood Mr. Childs stated he thinks he would hesitate in saying the property should be made PBO. He would strongly urge City Council to keep it as R-2.

Councilman Gardner asked if PBO is considered a buffer between Commercial and Residential.

Councilman DeRusha answered yes and explained PBO allows the use of a home and does not bring a high volume of traffic to the business.

Mayor Vernon commented the record shows action taken by City Council was to rezone to PBO. Mayor Vernon stated that what we are really looking at is not the rezoning but the action City Council took in 1974.

Councilman Nichols stated those two lots were PBO for many years.

Mayor Vernon stated the crux of the question is whether conditions have changed to cause the Council to reverse their thinking.

Councilman DeRusha stated the Council should proceed to hold a Public Hearing and then take action.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to Publish for a Public Hearing for June 5 regarding rezoning from R-2 to PBO lots 651 and 652a.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Council recessed at 9:30 p.m. Council was called to order at 9:35 p.m.

STAR TAXI CAB LICENSE: Mayor Vernon advised Mr. Henry that Council had adopted taxi rates and Star Cab's were higher. He asked Mr. Henry if he were willing to accept these rates.

Mr. Henry commented these are the rates he has operated on since 1975.

Mayor Vernon stated Council is interested in providing taxi service at the lowest possible cost.

Mr. Henry stated he would test the adopted rates to see if he could live with them.

Mayor Vernon stated Council might want to adjust the rates if we know what the rates are going to be. This was tabled until next meeting.

MICHIGAN WEEK RESOLUTION: Communication from Michigan Week Mayors Exchange Committee concerning Mayors Exchange Day to be held on Monday May 22 with Fenton and a Resolution proclaiming Michigan Week.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to have the Mayor sign the Proclamation to set aside the period from May 20-27 for the 25th annual observance of Michigan Week No. 78-19.

UNION NEGOTIATIONS FOR 1978-79: Communication from the Northville Police Officers Assn. Request for mediation which is routine action under State Law to contract discussion.

Communication from AFSCME officially notifying the City that the employees are ready to commence negotiations.

Mayor Vernon, Councilman Johnston and the City Manager would represent the City.

The City Attorney asked if any of the Councilmen or Mayor or City Manager would be attending the Seminar in June at Shanty Creek which he is setting up. He discussed the itinerary and asked if any would be attending. Councilman Johnston stated he would let him know. None of the others would be able to attend.

WATER AND SEWER RATES: Communication from the City Manager explaining the reasons for the need for a rate increase.

Wayne County Bd. of Public Works announced an increase in the sewage disposal rate which was to apply to all bills rendered by the County on and after June 1, 1978. This will therefore affect water consumption beginning in May, 1978. This would necessitate an increase of 15% in the sewage rates.

The financial balance of the Water and Sewer Fund is critical resulting from the cost of the repair of the Fairbrook-Rogers sewer collapse.

An increase of 35% for both water and sewer is necessary at this time. Keeping in mind that if another major repair arose at this time, the present condition of the Water and Sewer Fund could not survive it without cutting directly into planned programs or projects in other funds.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for a Public Hearing on May 1 to amend the Water and Sewer Ordinances, Section 7-318 and 7-323 of Chapter 3, Water System, and Section 7-402(a) of Chapter 4, Sanitary Sewers to allow for an increase in rates.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Councilman Johnston was excused at 10:15 p.m.

APPOINTMENT TO NORTHVILLE BUILDING AUTHORITY: Communication from the City Manager stating the term of Russell H. Amerman, Chairman of the Building Authority expires on June 30, 1978. Mr. Amerman was asked if he would serve another term. He stated he would be willing to serve for a few additional months to complete the Allen Terrace and Main-Hutton parking lot projects this year and then decide whether to resign, depending on the status of future projects.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to appoint Russell H. Amerman to the Northville Building Authority for another term.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

TRAFFIC CONTROL ORDER: Communication from Captain Westfall recommending that all the parking restrictions which were established last Fall on streets in the area of Northville Downs be allowed to remain in effect, except those restrictions which were established on South Wing Street between Fairbrook and Gady Street.

Councilman DeRusha asked as to what would be recommended when the Downs closed for the season and what would remain permanent.

Motion by Councilman Nichols supported by Councilman DeRusha to adopt Traffic Control Order No. 78-4 as corrected.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

RESIGNATION FROM AND APPOINTMENT TO HISTORIC COMMISSION: A letter of resignation was received from Elizabeth L. Chapman with regret. Her term expires 1-1-81. The letter was accepted with regret and a letter of appreciation was directed by the Council.

Don Fee, a member of the Planning Commission, was recommended to act as Liaison between Planning and Historical. He has been contacted and is willing to serve.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to appoint Don Fee as Liaison between the Planning Commission and the Historical Commission.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

MISCELLANEOUS SB 1065: Senate Bill 1065 which would allow any city, village, or township to establish an ordinance violations bureau to accept pleas of guilty in littering, refuse storage and handling, noxious weeds, trailer storage, and snow and ice control violations cases, and to collect and retain fines and costs as prescribed in such ordinances in addition to the parking violations bureau.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman Nichols to adopt a Resolution 78-20 to support SB 1065 and send copies to our Senators, Representatives and neighboring communities.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Letters from the Trans Insurance Group regarding the accident on Seven Mile back in 1974. He mentioned Wayne County has furnished an affidavit stating it was a City road and asking to be dismissed from the law suit. He stated the County is mistaken, and the City should ask to be dismissed from the case.

Voters polite, still say 'no'

That means that non-voters, including many with children in the Northville schools, doomed the election by sitting it out.

Why? The usual reasons most likely suffice. Income taxes, utility bills, gas prices and home assessments continue to soar. The school tax is the one place to hold the line.

If it is any consolation for the Northville school board members, and it probably isn't, they are not alone.

Already this year, nearby districts such as Livonia, Plymouth, South Lyon, Novi and Brighton have lost requests for additional millage.

Some of these will try again this summer. Last year, many southeastern Michigan school districts passed additional millage on their second try.

(Northville made its decision Monday night. See main story.)

But a second millage election, even if successful, can only be deemed a temporary solution.

The cost of running the Northville schools is not about to diminish.

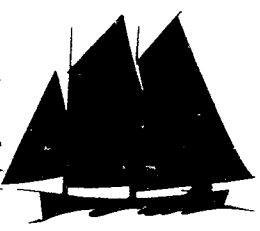

Eighty percent of the budget pays for salaries and fringes. Only by cutting personnel, and thus reducing the program, can this figure be slashed significantly.

Of the other 20 percent, there are precious few cost-cutting targets. Utility rates climb for schools, too. Officials already believe the maintenance budget is sorely underfunded. The public cry is for more, not fewer, textbooks.

What particularly hurts Northville's budget is that, because of the state school aid formula, the taxes derived from increased assessments do not fully relieve the inflationary pressure felt by the school district.

Thus, even though the average homeowner's school tax will increase by eight percent this year without a tax hike, the district will still be $400,000 short of the money needed to duplicate this year's program in 1978-79.

With the outlook for sufficient additional money appearing to be bleak and with no relatively painless budget cuts on the horizon, the school board can't be blamed if it sees little but rocks and hard places.

Spear, who is leaving for DeWitt in July, said it was better to try to pass one of the smaller issues. Otherwise, he said, his successor would be faced with a $400,000 deficit and that "could be devastating."

To give administrators as much possible lead time to prepare next year's budget, Spear said it "behoves the board to move as quickly as possible."

Ouch! Canton loss is a frustrating one

You can't really blame Bob Kucher for wishing he had Monday's baseball game at Plymouth over again.

After all, a pair of Texas League singles were all that separated Northville from the biggest upset of the young Western Six season and defeat.

But those are the breaks of the game, and the Mustangs will have to live with the results of a 3-1 loss to the defending league champs.

Thanks to a sparkling pitching performance by Mike Lauck and a strong defensive effort, Northville played the unbeaten Chiefs on an even keel throughout most of Monday's contest, but in the end it was Scott Dawson who gave Canton its fourth straight victory in Western Six play.

Dawson limited the Mustangs to just four hits and knocked in all three Plymouth runs with two bloop singles, sending Northville down to its fourth loss in nine outings this season and its second in four league contests.

The Mustangs actually led throughout the early part of the game, picking up a first-inning run when Don Borthwick reached second base on an error and scored on a single by Dan Thomas.

Canton took the lead for good in the bottom of the third, though. With two outs and men on second and third via walks and a passed ball, Dawson lifted a soft fly that fell in for a single behind shortstop, scoring both runners. Two innings later the Canton ace hit an almost identical pop-up, knocking in the winners' third and final run.

"I thought we played a real outstanding ball game," Kucher said afterwards. "We were pretty equal."

"I was especially pleased with Mike Lauck. This was only his second start this season, and he did an exceptional job."

Lauck, in fact, allowed only four hits while walking five and striking out five.

Four days earlier the junior right-hander had made his first appearance on the mound this season against Novi. He pitched a four-hitter and led the Mustangs to a 2-1 triumph.

Northville's only runs came in the bottom of the second, after Novi had taken a 1-0 advantage in the top of that frame. Jeff Norton walked, stole second and came home on a double by Tim Doyle. Doyle then moved to third on a passed ball and scored on a single by Bob Heckerl.

In other action last week the Mustangs edged league rival Walled Lake Western 8-5, but lost 10-3 to Plymouth Salem.

Pete Wright and Thomas paced Northville's victory over Western last Wednesday. After falling behind 4-2 in the first five innings, Kucher's squad rallied for three runs in both the sixth and seventh innings to win.

Doug Marzonie started the sixth-inning rally with a leadoff single and scored on a monstrous triple over the rightfielder's head by Thomas. Wright then followed with a blast over the left-field fence that stayed fair just long enough for a two-run homer that put Northville out front, 5-4.

The Mustangs sewed things up in the seventh on an error, a sacrifice bunt, a walk and consecutive singles by Thomas, Wright and Norton. Wright wound up three for four with three RBI's in the game while Thomas had two hits and three RBI's.

Doyle went all the way on the mound, giving up just one earned run and four hits for his second victory of the season. Two days later Plymouth Salem, helped by a clutch triple play in the sixth inning, romped to a 10-3 triumph over the local squad.

Thomas's two-run single in the first gave Northville a short-lived 2-0 lead over the Rocks, but by the top of the sixth inning Salem had built a 9-2 cushion.

A leadoff double by Norton and three consecutive walks forced in one Northville run, but then the roof fell in. Mike McClure hit a sizzling line shot down the first base line that Salem's first baseman stabbed. He then stepped on first and fired to second to catch two runners off base and end the inning.

"That was the first one (triple play) I've been involved with," Kucher noted. "It was really a tough break for us. It ruined a possible big rally."

Dave Austin took the pitching loss, leveling his season record at 2-2.

The Mustangs are now 5-4 overall this season, with a game scheduled tomorrow at South Lyon and a doubleheader slated here this Saturday against Redford Union.

OOPS! — First baseman Pete Wright looks a bit aghast after getting dumped by a Walled Lake Western runner during a pickoff attempt. Action occurred during sixth inning of last Wednesday's game.

Jump record falls

Lissa Carter set a school record in the long jump and Ani Dayton won five events, but the efforts weren't enough to stop Northville's girls from losing two more track meets last week.

Carter leaped a record-shattering 15'10 1/4" in Tuesday's meet with Redford Thurston and was one of two double-winners for the Mustangs, but in the end Thurston's depth helped the Eagles to a 95 1/2-40 1/2 victory.

Carter's jump broke the previous Northville mark, set by Dorothy Shipley in 1970, by just under three inches. She also placed first in the hurdles.

Joining her in the doublewinner bracket was Dayton, who ran off with the 440 and 880 and finished second in the 220.

Northville's only other first came in the mile relay, where Kathy McMillin, Michelle Moulds, Chris Vanderwood and Mary Dooley teamed up for a victory.

Other strong performances were turned in by Liz Pixley (second in the hurdles), Ericka Smith (third in shot put), Yvonne Swayze (third in discus), Chris Spigarelli (third in 100-yard dash) and Kristy Iversen (third in the mile run).

Two days later the Mustangs opened their Western Six season by winning six of 14 events against Waterford Mott, but lost 79 1/2-56 1/2.

Dayton led the Northville charge by winning all three events she competed in — the 220, the 440 and the 880.

Other Mustang winners included Ericka Smith in the shot put, Lisa Youngquist in the discus, and the 440 relay team of Carter, Dooley, Pixley and Spigarelli.

Smith's victory in the shot paced a 1-2-3 sweep by the local girls in that event. She was followed in order by Kathleen Settles and Swayze.

Second-place finishes were posted by Audrey Riegner in the high jump (tie), Pixley in the hurdles and Spigarelli in the 10-yard dash. Carter in the long jump, Laura Willoughby in the two mile, McMillin in the 440 and Iversen in the mile all placed third.

Arsenal keeps winning

Coach Norm Davis's Northville Arsenal soccer team just kept on winning last weekend.

The local boys' 16-and-under Western Suburban Soccer League power got a pair of goals from Kevin Swayze and one each from Jim Pinkleman, Greg Spaman and Les Neal en route to a 5-1 victory over the Livonia Titans Sunday, giving Arsenal its second straight win of the season and its 10th straight dating back to last fall.

Swayze now has five goals in the club's two games, and Arsenal has outscored its opponents 9-1.

In 14-and-under action, meanwhile, the Hot Spurs romped to their third straight triumph with a 5-0 shutout of Plymouth number 1. Tom Davis and Scott Pence each scored a pair of goals and Todd Parsons added one to lead the rout, while Davis, Pence, Scott Anderson, Steven Ross and Kevin Berlin contributed one assist apiece.

Arsenal's 12-and-under boys also posted a shutout last weekend, but for them it was old hat. With its 5-0 victory over the Livonia Cardinals Sunday the local WSSL powerhouse has now outscored its opponents 25-0 in three games this season.

It was the final game in Northville for Todd Niemeyer, who's moving to Grand Rapids after five seasons under coach Bill Butterfield. Leading the Cardinal romp for Arsenal were Steve Starcevic, who collected three goals to hike his season total to nine, and Bill Butterfield and Mickey McGrath, who kicked in one apiece.

Northville's other unbeaten 12-and-under club, United, got two goals from Chris Sixt, one each from Dirk Nowka and Craig Stuart and three assists from Mike Wissman on its way to a 4-0 shutout over Livonia number 1. Nowka, who tallied his goals on a head shot off a of United's games and has nine total this spring.

The Tornados, meanwhile, turned two goals by Cam Ramsey and one each by Matt Lotarski and Tom Ross into a 4-2 victory over the Hot Spurs in an all-Northville contest Sunday.

In 10-and-under action goalie Brett Loomis's 10 saves, including a diving deflection in front of a group of Livonia players, led the Rovers to a 4-0 triumph over Livonia number 12, the Rovers' second in three games this spring. Brandon Turner had two goals and Toby Balai and David Skuratowicz one each for the winners.

Fred Cahill kicked in a pair of goals, bringing his three-game total to nine this season, but it wasn't enough to stop the Tornados from suffering a 5-2 loss to Livonia number 16.

And Northville United, thanks to a hat trick by Eric Gala, pulled off a 5-1 win over Livonia number 8. Brent Wasick and Rick McCulloch tallied United's other goals.

In girls' 19-and-under competition, meanwhile, Nancy Pinkleman and Ann Albrecht were named players of the game following the Stars' 1-1 tie with a tough Farmington club.

In 14-and-under action Sharon Campbell scored one goal on a deflection off a Livonia player and Jenny Gans added another in leading the Pink Panthers to a 2-0 shutout of the Livonia Express.

Wing fullback Kris Baggett, meanwhile, had eight defensive saves and was named player of the game by coach Travis Nixon in the Aztecs' 2-1 victory over the Livonia All-Stars. Marjorie Muller scored both goals for the winners.

And in 12-and-under action Lisa Cahill scored four more goals, bringing her three-game total to 10, in pacing the Northville's tennis squad finally met its match last week.

Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, last year's state runners-up in Class B, ran off with a 5-2 victory over the Mustangs in a non-league match at Cranbrook last Thursday, snapping a 35-meet dual meet winning streak and handing coach Bob Simpson's club its first loss since April of 1976.

But the day was far from being a total loss.

Barry Ouellette, Northville's sophomore first singles ace, pulled the Mustangs' biggest upset of the season when he defeated Mike Stone, a defending state champ in number two singles and rated one of the top three 18-and-under players in Michigan, in straight sets. Ouellette won 6-4 and 7-5.

"Barry just played outstanding tennis," Simpson said of Ouellette, who now enjoys a 9-1 record in his first season at Northville. "I thought he might have a shot at beating Stone, but he did even better than I expected and won in two sets."

The team's only other victory came at number two singles, where Doug Castillo won 6-3, 6-3.

All three doubles teams, however, lost in straight sets, as did Northville's third and fourth singles players. Lance Carter went down 6-1, 6-1 at third singles, John Marzonie fell 6-1, 6-4 at fourth, Steve Pyett and Steve Laffler lost 6-4, 6-1 at first doubles, Jeff Hodge and Eric Englemeyer dropped a tight 7-5, 6-4 decision at second doubles and Greg Bach and John Cannarsa slipped 6-3, 6-3 at third doubles.

"I was a little disappointed," Simpson acknowledged. "I thought if we were lucky we might come out 4-3 victors."

"But Cranbrook has probably the toughest team they've had in a couple years, so I can't be all that displeased."

On either end of that meet, as usual, were victories. Last Tuesday the Mustangs breezed past Bloomfield Hills Andover with surprising ease, 7-0, then knocked off Walled Lake Western by the same count the next day and duplicated the feat against Plymouth Canton two days ago.

Against Andover only two matches went three sets. Carter, playing number three singles, defeated his opponent 6-4, 4-6, 7-5 while Pyett and Laffler took a 6-2, 6-7, 6-3 decision at first doubles.

Ouellette handily won his match 6-2, 6-2; Castillo took his by an identical count; Marzonie won 6-4, 6-2; Hodge and Englemeyer romped 6-1, 6-1; and Bach and Cannarsa coasted 6-0, 6-0.

"I thought they'd be a lot stronger," Simpson said of Andover. "We were really emotionally ready for that meet, and I guess that helped us a lot."

Only two doubles matches went three sets against Walled Lake Western, too. This time it was Marzonie winning 6-3, 5-7, 6-0 while in first doubles Dave Herbel, subbing for Laffler, and Pyett won 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

Other Northville winners were Ouellette (6-0, 6-2), Castillo (6-3, 6-1), Carter (6-4, 6-2), Hodge and Englemeyer (6-2, 6-0), and Bach and Cannarsa (6-1, 6-0).

The Canton meet was almost a duplicate. Marzonie won a three-setter from his opponent (6-1, 1-6, 6-2) while Ouellette (6-0, 6-0), Castillo (6-2, 6-0), Carter (7-5, 7-6), Laffler and Pyett (6-2, 7-6), Hodge and Englemeyer (6-4, 6-4), and Bach and Herbel (6-2, 6-2) were all two-set victors.

"It was good to win those league matches," Simpson said, crediting Herbel with some impressive substitution, but he acknowledged the team's real challenge will come this afternoon when they host Farmington Harrison.

"If we get by Harrison we'll be in good shape," he remarked, pointing out that Northville has beaten all four of its other Western Six rivals.

Today's match gets under way at 4 p.m. Monday the Mustangs host Waterford Mott, then travel to Livonia Churchill for another league contest next Wednesday.

Athletes of the week

ANN DAYTON

When Ann Dayton takes to the starting blocks, there's usually little doubt about how she's going to finish. Take last week, for instance. Dayton ran a total of six individual events in Northville's two track meets and ended up winning five of them while placing second in the other. The light-haired junior, who currently holds the school record for the girls' 440-yard dash (she ran a 60.3 last spring), won twice in the 440, twice in the 880, once in the 220, and finished runner-up in the 220. Her five victories accounted for exactly half her team's first place totals against Redford Thurston and Waterford Mott.

BARRY OUELLETTE

It's enough to say that Barry Ouellette beat one of the three best 18-and-under tennis players in the state last week. Northville's sophomore singles ace, a transfer student from Novi, did more than that to Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook's Mike Stone, though. He beat Stone, a senior, in straight sets, winning 6-4 and 7-5. Stone had entered the match with an 11-1 record and a plethora of remarkable achievements. In 1976 he was a state champion as a doubles player, last year he was a state champ as a second singles player, and in some circles he's being favored to win a state title as a first singles player this season. Ouellette's victory, meanwhile, hiked his own record to 9-1 this season and avenged a 6-0, 6-2 loss Stone pinned on him in the state regionals a year ago.

But lose to Franklin

Softballers win 2 more in league

Mary Minor's girls are for real. Northville's softball squad, looking more and more like a genuine Western Six contender, chalked up two more league victories last week on either side of a sloppy loss to Livonia Franklin, upping its overall record to 5-2 and its league mark to 3-1 this season.

The Mustangs' victim last Wednesday was Walled Lake Western. The local girls had three big innings in the game, and that was more than enough to give them a 13-3 home victory.

Northville erupted for six runs in the second on singles by Julie McDaniels, Kathy Rich and Kim Kurzawa and walks to Nancy Schlachter, Julie Abraham and Kathy Phillips. McDaniels and Rich both scored on passed balls.

Three innings later the Mustangs added four more runs on two walks, two errors and run-scoring singles by Kurzawa and Susie Heinzman. They closed the scoring in the sixth when base hits by Rich, Abraham, Kurzawa and Suddendorf produced three more runs.

Walled Lake's only runs came on single tallies in the third, fifth and sixth innings. Abraham picked up the pitching victory, allowing just three hits and two walks in going the distance. Northville tallied 11 hits.

Two days later, though, the Mustangs' fielding fell apart as they dropped a 16-7 non-league decision at Franklin. Heinzman, making her first pitching appearance ever, gave up just four walks but allowed 12 hits while her teammates collected only six.

Northville jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first on run-scoring singles by Suddendorf and Sherry Metz, then later tied it up 5-5 in the fifth on RBI singles by Metz and Kurzawa and a fielder's choice grounder.

Franklin put the game away, though, by scoring 11 times in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

"There's really no excuse for the loss," Minor said later. "We just played a bad ball game."

The Mustangs made up for it, though,

Julie McDaniels slides home with a run against Western while Nancy Schlachter (22) looks on with an impressive 11-4 victory over Plymouth Canton Monday.

McDaniels' two-out run-scoring single in the first got Northville off to a quick 1-0 edge. In the second the Mustangs increased their lead to 4-0, getting two runs on a bases-loaded double by Heinzman.

After adding single tallies in the fourth and fifth innings the local squad received a scare in the sixth. Canton scored four times on three hits, two walks and two errors to cut the gap to 6-4.

Minor's crew wrapped things up in the bottom of the sixth, though, when bases-loaded walks to Metz and Rich, a two-run single by Schlachter and an error produced five runs, giving the winners their seven-run bulge.

Abraham again went all the way, giving up just six hits and picking up her fifth victory of the season against just one loss.

The Mustangs' next game takes place this afternoon when they travel to Farmington Harrison for a league contest.

Cops win in a romp

You don't mess around with the guys in the blue suits, Northville's D.P.W. basketball team found last week.

The City Police ran off with a nine-point half time lead and breezed to a 49-37 victory over the D.P.W. in a game at Cooke Junior High last Thursday.

Cary Callander paced the winning effort with 24 points. Fourteen of those came in the first two quarters, helping the Police to a 25-16 half time advantage. Norm Kubitskey added 14 points, Dave Fendelet seven and Al Cox four.

The losers were topped by Jim Daniels and Bruce Jerome, who tossed in 10 points each. Ken Theilen added nine, Parker Irey six and D. J. Lanning two.

Baseball days are here again

Junior baseball season's right around the corner, and that means hundreds of Northville youngsters are working hard to get in shape for this Saturday's openers. Pictured above are Curt Kerjewski (batting) and Craig Westling (catching) working out with the G League's Braves at the Fish Hatchery Monday. Looks like more work is needed.

Tracksters take 2nd in triangular meet

Victory finally came in the form of a second-place finish at a tri-meet for Northville's tracksters last week, but the Mustangs continued their losing ways in dual meets with an 88½-69½ loss to Waterford Mott.

Thanks to an overwhelming performance in distance events, the Mustangs racked up 51 points to finish three ahead of Pinckney in last Tuesday's tri-meet, while North Farmington won the meet with 68 points.

"That was pretty nice," coach Ed Gabrys remarked, although he felt the team could have done better in several areas, particularly hurdles.

One area he couldn't complain about, though, was the distance events. Northville swept eight of a possible 12 placements in the mile, two mile and 880 and took firsts in all three.

Most impressive of all, the Mustangs took 1-2-3-4 in the 880. John Monagle paced the sweep with a 2:07 clocking and was followed in order by Scott Fisher (2:11), John Coram (2:12) and Brian Gallivan (2:13).

"That was something," Gabrys said of the 880 sweep. "You don't see something like that very often in a tri-meet."

Northville also placed 1-3 in both the mile and two mile, with Brian Turnbull winning and Harry Couyoumjian finishing third both times.

But after that it was slim pickin's for the Mustangs, who are suffering from a lack of depth in field events and sprints. Their only other firsts came in the shot put, where Tim Ellis won with a 43'9" heave, and the long jump, where Ray Coram leaped 19'4".

Other strong performers for Northville included Luigi Folino, whose 121'4" throw in the discus was good for fourth; Myles Couyoumjian, who took a second in the 440 in 55.2; and Rob Marzonia, whose second-place finish in the low hurdles in 42.6 was his best showing of the year.

The team's shortage of sprinters and field events men, though, proved Northville's undoing at Mott on Thursday.

Despite winning seven of 11 running events the Mustangs dropped an 88½-69½ decision in their Western Six opener.

The only running events they failed to win were the 100-yard dash, the 220, the 440 relay, and the 880 relay.

Their biggest sore spot, though, was field events. Folino, whose 123'6" throw was his best ever in the discus, Ellis in the shot put (42'6"), Toby White in the high jump (5'6") and Brian Prom in the long jump (19'8½") all took seconds, but by the time the field events competition was over Northville faced a 40-15 deficit and never recovered.

Among the team's brighter spots were Brian Turnbull and Brian Prom. Turnbull won both the two mile and the mile, the former in 10:03.4 and the latter in 4:40.

Prom, meanwhile, paced a 1-3-4 Northville finish in the low hurdles with a 41.5 clocking and led a 1-2 sweep of the high hurdles in 16.2. Marzonia placed third in the lows and second in the highs.

The Mustangs also had another strong showing in the 880, where Monagle (2:04.9), Gallivan (2:08.7) and Jerry Martin (2:15.0) took 1-2-4. Jim Weston (53.6) and Myles Couyoumjian (54.3) followed with a 1-2 sweep of the 440.

And, for the first time this season, Northville won a relay. Although already out of the meet, the Mustangs got a satisfying victory from their mile relay unit of Prom, Weston, Monagle and Myles Couyoumjian, winning by some 80 yards.

Despite the loss, Gabrys admitted he was "encouraged" by his team's showing against Mott. "We have a lot of young kids starting to come through for us now," he said, noting strong performances from Folino, Gallivan, Marzonia, Craig Raycraft (who finished third in pole vault with a 10'6" jump) and Andrew Walsh (who placed third in the 220 in 23.9).

The Mustangs' next meet takes place tomorrow when they host defending league champ Livonia Churchill. This Saturday they'll compete in the Observerland Relays at Redford Union, then return to Western Six action next week.

Soccer club's big time for three local youths

It looks like three Northville youths will be kicking around with the West Side Sounders this summer.

The three — Matt Davis, Rick Kennedy and Steve Paul — are among the best of Northville's soccer talent, and the West Side Sounders are what might be considered a farm team of the Express, Detroit's brand new professional soccer club.

Davis, Kennedy and Paul are among 24 area players who survived a stringent cut during tryouts in early April and are now working out with the team twice a week.

And while one cut still remains that will reduce the Sounders' final roster to 18, at least one of the three is more than happy to have the chance to play.

"This is the best thing we've had around here in years," Davis, an avid soccer enthusiast since he learned the game in England eight years ago, says of the Sounders.

The Sounders are one of six squads in the 22-and-under division of a new soccer circuit called the Bonanza League, sponsored by Bonanza Restaurants. According to Davis the league, which includes teams from all over Southeastern Michigan, was formed with the intention of developing potential "local talent" for the Express.

The 17-year-old Northville High School senior was one of over 50 youths from the western metropolitan area to try out for the club at Oakland University in Rochester last month. During the tryouts each player was judged on various aspects of the game, such as dribbling, heading, shooting and actually competing in a scrimmage, and received a score based on a maximum of 95 points.

Should he make the final cut, Davis will begin regular season play with the Sounders, coached by Paul Scerri of Livonia, who guided Stevenson High to a state soccer title in 1976 against the other five members of the division (the league's other division is for 17-and-under players) on May 23.

One of the highlights of the season, Davis says, will be when the Sounders play a game at the Pontiac Silverdome. The game, which will take place prior to a regular Detroit Express match, is slated for June 11.

Davis currently competes with a Livonia team in a 19-and-under division of the Great Lakes Soccer League, which is similar to the Western Suburban Soccer League.

He and Kennedy are both seniors and were both members of last fall's Mustang football squad, while Paul is a former college soccer player from Schoolcraft.

Davis first began playing soccer in 1970, during a three-and-a-half year stay in England. His father, a Ford Motor Company employee, had been transferred to that country on business.

"You get addicted to the sport fast over there," he says. "They (the British) play it with much more fervor than anything we play here."

And he apparently learned very quickly. He's been invited to try out for Michigan State's squad this fall.

"This Bonanza League is going to be the best prep in the world (for the Michigan State tryout)," Davis says.

The Sounders are currently working out at Schoolcraft College on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Solar energy celebration

It's warm—today's Sun Day

Today is Sun Day.

Even the weather man is promising to cooperate in this first national celebration on solar energy, predicting a sunny day that will be a little warmer with temperatures venturing into the lower 60's.

Among the groups promoting this new day is the League of Women Voters who point out that it's a "national celebration of the world's only inexhaustible, predictable, egalitarian, non-polluting, safe, terrorist resistant and free energy source."

Locally, like the weather, Sun Day will be observed a little late with an intensive two-day seminar, "Here Comes the Sun," at Schoolcraft College on June 2-3.

Betty Andrews, assistant dean for community services, announces that the do-it-yourself workshop on solar heat will be presented by Jordan College, a small Michigan college specializing in solar energy. It is to be held from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on those days, she says, and is to be a most practical workshop with a $100 tuition.

The League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi announces that energy has been the topic for intensive study for the LWV. With input from all members in the United States, it has just released the following position statement on energy:

"The League of Women Voters of the United States believes that the United States cannot and should not sustain its historical rate of energy consumption. Not only as a responsible member of the world community but also in the national interest, the United States must make a significant and progressive reduction in its energy growth rate.

"To achieve this goal, the nation must develop and implement energy strategies that — while taking account of differences in the needs and resources of states and regions — give precedence to the national good."

The league believes that between now and the year 2000, while arriving at long-term energy strategies, the U.S. should develop and use a mix of energy sources based on giving top priorities to conservation, renewable resources (solar heat, wind) and environmentally sound use of coal.

Robert Freydl turns over association gavel

Robert Freydl of 207 North Rogers completed his term as national president of the American Wood Preservers Association, an organization of more than 1900 members at a national convention last week in Washington, D.C.

He was cited as the youngest president of the international research organization.

Freydl, who is a senior engineer with Detroit Edison, has been a member of the association since 1961, representing his company. He also serves as the power industry representative in the organization.

Attending the Washington meetings, including a banquet for 610, were his wife, June, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freydl. They returned to Northville last Wednesday.

Freydl was elected to the executive committee of the American Wood Preservers Association six years ago at a convention in California. He served as second and then as first vice-president. The association, he points out, "covers the gamut of lumber users and producers." Participation from all sectors of the economy is encouraged, he adds, explaining that telephone and power poles are a specialized interest.

Robert Hanfling, special assistant to the deputy secretary of the United States Department of Energy, was convention speaker last week. He cited the energy problem in this country and areas needing "hard work."

More than 200 members of the association come from foreign countries, including those in South America and Europe.

Freydl himself had been guest speaker at a convention of railroad ties manufacturers last fall. He is a forester by profession.

Sergeant joins post

A new sergeant has been added to the Michigan State Post in Northville, according to a report by Colonel Gerald L. Hough, department director.

Trooper David C. Werner, who was stationed at Negaunee, was promoted to D/Sgt. III and transferred to Second District Headquarters at Northville effective April 30.

Werner, 35, joined the department in 1970, being assigned first to Pontiac. He was also a member of the tracking dog handler team upon assignment to Negaunee in June of 1974.

Touring Russian squad to play at Schoolcraft

The Russians are coming to Schoolcraft College this weekend.

Paced by seven-foot center Aleksandr Belostenni and eight other players who stand 6' 7" or taller, Russia's touring All-Star high school basketball team will take on the best Michigan has to offer in the first annual International Youth Basketball Classic this Saturday. Tip-off time is 8 p.m. in the Schoolcraft gym.

Sponsored by the Michigan Basketball Association, the game will pit the national junior Russian team against the Michigan A.A.U. youth team.

Michigan's 12-man squad will consist of many of the top high school players in the state, including Walker Russell of Pontiac Central, Joe Kopicki of Warren Fitzgerald, Trent Tucker of Flint Northwestern, Cedric Olden of Highland Park and Rob Gonzales of Detroit Catholic Central.

A preliminary game between A.A.U. youth teams from Wayne and Oakland Counties will start at 6 p.m.

Admission to the doubleheader will be $5 per person, and all proceeds will be used for the Michigan squad's travel expenses to this summer's National A.A.U. Youth Championships in Jacksonville, Florida. Michigan is the defending national champion.

Advance tickets for the international classic can be purchased at any metro area Hudson's, including the Twelve Oaks Mall store in Novi, or at Schoolcraft College.

The contest will be the Russian's second stop on an eight-game tour through the northern part of the country early next month.

Several of the top players in the Wayne-Oakland area will be competing in the opening game. Among them are All-Western Six sensation Kevin Heatherington of Waterford Mott, Joe Serra of Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, Bobby Dodd of Milford Lakeland, Harold Beardsley of North Farmington, Scott Russell of Southfield, Ronnie Washington of Birmingham Brother Rice, Tom Ellinghausen of Plymouth Salem, Dave Stone of Livonia Bentley and Bill Peterson of Clarenceville.

Blood bank Thursday; roll up those sleeves

Take an hour out of your Thursday, roll up your sleeve and donate a pint of your blood at the Northville Presbyterian Church.

That's the message that volunteers for the Northville Red Cross blood bank are trying to get across to the community.

Coordinator Janice Dyke and her assistant Lynn Hahn are hoping to improve upon the 65 or so pints usually donated during Northville's annual blood drive.

This year's bank at the Presbyterian Church runs from 2 to 8 p.m. on Thursday. Donors can walk in or phone Mrs. Dyke (349-9939) or Mrs. Hahn (348-2472) for an appointment.

Because Northville is in the five-county Southeastern Michigan chapter

He wasn't there and didn't say it

A story in last week's Record about a proposed drop-in center for Northville incorrectly attributed a statement to the Reverend Guenther Branstner of the First United Methodist Church of Northville.

The Reverend Branstner was wrongly identified as the man who expressed surprise that youths in Northville had problems serious enough to require special counseling.

The Reverend Branstner was not at that meeting and, in a phone call Thursday, he said he is aware of the crises that sometimes face youngsters.

"Northville has all the problems of the kids on the edge of the inner city except the parents (here) are more well-heeled," he said.

The person at the meeting who said he was unaware of the scope of the problems was actually a member of the Methodist Church who works with a youth group.

of the American National Red Cross, residents are assured of free blood at most area hospitals.

Under a Community Coverage plan, patients at most hospitals receive the book for no cost although there is a fee for administering and collecting the blood.

Some hospitals charge a non-replaceable fee which means the blood is free only if friends and family of the patient donate replacement blood.

The Community Coverage plan replaces earlier systems which were based on individual or community donations.

"Let's face it," says a Red Cross brochure. "When you need blood, you shouldn't have to worry about whether or not you qualify to get it."

"Red Cross believes blood should be available for anyone who needs it regardless of past donations or plan memberships."

"But this kind of complete community coverage is possible only if you and the eligible members of your group accept the responsibility for giving blood regularly."

The demand for blood is great. Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washenaw and St. Clair counties need 1000 pints of blood a day.

Most people can safely give a pint of blood four or five times a year, according to the Red Cross.

The entire process takes about 45 minutes — 10 for giving blood and the rest for filling out a medical information sheet and for enjoying a snack.

"Most people believe that their insurance will cover the expense of their getting blood when they need it," says Mrs. Hahn.

"And while this is usually true, the actual blood must still be physically there and available when they need it."

And the source for most of this blood is banks such as Northville's.

That's why Thursday is a good day to roll up your sleeve.

In the matter of the petition of the City of Novi for condemnation of private property for paving of Meadowbrook Road from Ten Mile Road to Twelve Mile Road, in the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan.

Court No. CC

78 170504

ORDER FOR HEARING ON PETITION

At a session of said Court held in the Courthouse Tower, in the City of Pontiac, in said County of Oakland, State of Michigan on April 24, 1978.
PRESENT: HONORABLE Alice L. Gilbert, Circuit Judge

The above matter having come before this Court upon the filing of a petition by the City of Novi regarding the laying out, establishing and paving of Meadowbrook Road, in and through the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, as more particularly described in said petition, stating that the private property described therein is necessary to be taken for said public improvement and praying for a hearing thereon to determine the date upon which the petitioner may take possession of such private property and the date for the impaneling of a jury to determine the just compensation for the taking of such property, now.

On Motion of LAMPERT, FRIED & LEVITT, P.C. Attorneys,
IT IS ORDERED that the description of the property and names of the parties in interest as set forth in the petition filed in this cause are incorporated by reference as part of this Order and that personal service of both Order and Petition shall be made upon each party in interest in accordance with the provisions of Act 295 of the Public Acts of 1966.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that where personal service cannot be made in accordance with the provisions of Act 295 of the Public Acts of 1966, a copy of the Order including a copy of the description of the property and parties in interest contained in the Petition be published in the Novi News, a newspaper published and circulated in this county, at least once in each week for three successive weeks prior to the date of the hearing as hereinafter set forth.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that on the 8th day of June, A.D., 1978, at 9:00 a.m. there will be a hearing in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland, in the City of Pontiac, before the Honorable Alice L. Gilbert, Circuit Judge, in his Courtroom at Pontiac, Michigan, for the following purposes:

1. To enter default on all parties in interest not appearing at said hearing and direct payment to them of the amount of the estimated just compensation as set forth in the Declaration of Taking filed in this Court and cause;
2. To fix the date on which the petitioner may enter the property and take physical possession thereof;
3. To enter an order for the payment of the estimated just compensation placed on deposit with the Treasurer of the County of Oakland;
4. To set a date certain for the impaneling of a jury and trial as to the parcel on which compensation is being contested.

Alice L. Gilbert,
CIRCUIT JUDGE

PETITION AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

NOW COMES LAMPERT, FRIED & LEVITT, P.C., as Attorneys for and in behalf of and at the specific direction of the City of Novi, and respectfully shows unto this Honorable Court:

1. That the City of Novi is duly appointed, qualified and acting pursuant to Act 295, of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1966 as amended.
2. That under the provisions of the said Act No. 295, Public Acts of 1966, as amended, your petitioner, the City of Novi, is vested with full charge and control of the roads built or maintained by the City of Novi and has the power and authority to acquire lands in the manner provided by law for highway purposes.
3. That the paving of Meadowbrook Road, from Ten Mile Road to Twelve Mile Road in the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, is under the direction, control and supervision of the City of Novi.
4. That on the 17th day of February, A.D., 1978, a Declaration of Taking was made by the petitioner, City of Novi, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, declaring a certain road improvement to be necessary for the use and benefit of the public, to-wit: the laying out, establishing and constructing of Meadowbrook Road in and through the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, as a highway with necessary drainage and related work, extending from a point on Meadowbrook Road, approximately 67 feet North of Ten Mile Road, Northerly to a point of ending on the centerline of Meadowbrook Road at Twelve Mile Road, and declaring that it is necessary to take certain private property therein fully and accurately described, to accomplish such public improvement.
5. That this petition is made and filed under the provisions of Act 295, Public Acts of 1966, and to acquire the private property and property rights set forth in detail in the Declaration of Taking attached hereto and made a part hereof. Said Declaration of Taking contains, in addition thereto, the names of the parties having an interest in the property described therein, insofar as petitioner can ascertain, and the amount of just compensation estimated for the taking of said property.
6. That the property in this case involves what is known as an easement, that is, that only a portion of the owners' total property is required and taken for easement purposes.
7. That the public improvement for which easement is being taken from these properties is the paving, grading, drainage and slope work of Meadowbrook Road from Ten Mile Road to Twelve Mile Road.
8. That petitioner claims that there will be enhancement in value to the remainder of this parcel by virtue of the paving of Meadowbrook Road.
9. That the said highway improvement is necessary for the use and benefit of the public and the taking of the private property described in the Declaration of Taking is necessary for the use and benefit of the public as herein pleaded and stated by your petitioner.

WHEREFORE, YOUR PETITIONER PRAYS THAT THE COURT:

1. Enter an order fixing a day for hearing upon which the Court shall enter the default of all persons interested in the property described who have not appeared and, if the default of all the parties interested in this parcel of land is entered, shall enter judgment and direct payment to such persons of the sum stated in the Declaration of Taking for the taking of the said parcel of property in which they are interested.
2. On the day fixed for the hearing, enter an order fixing a definite date upon which the parties interested in the real estate described in this cause shall relinquish physical possession thereof to the petitioner, the City of Novi.
3. If the amount of the estimated just compensation is being contested, set a date certain for the impaneling of a jury of freeholders for the County of Oakland from the regular panel of petit jurors summoned to serve at that term of Court then in session, as provided in Act 295 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1966, which jury shall be for the purpose of ascertaining and determining the just compensation to be paid for the taking.
4. The Petitioner may have any other further relief to which it may be entitled within the objects of the statute in such case made and provided.

Bells made in Northville still ring throughout world

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

Bells made in Northville perhaps 70 years ago periodically surface in the most unlikely corners of the world.

Egypt, Europe, Africa, South Dakota, California...you name it, letters of inquiry coming from all parts of the world have been received by this newspaper, the post office, the Northville Chamber of Commerce, and the Northville Historical Society over the past decade.

The letters have a familiar ring: "We recently purchased an old bell that once was used in a school here. The bell has Northville's name on it. Can you tell us anything about it?"

Blame the puzzle on the long ago dissolved American Bell & Foundry Company and its predecessor.

Blame the inquiries on a world-wide interest in antiques and, more specifically, on organizations like the American Bell Association — a world-wide organization of bell collectors, whose Great Lakes chapter will meet here next week Saturday.

American Bell & Foundry Company and the American Bell Association have nothing in common other than bells. Their names are similar by coincidence only. The former was started 80 years ago, the latter 30 years ago.

American Bell & Foundry Company was originated by Frank S. Harmon, a community leader and industrialist, in 1899. He was the firm's first president.

The company made bells of all sizes for churches, schools, farms and factories. Its most popular bell, however, was the dinner bell. At one time American Bell was reputed to be the largest manufacturer of bells in the world.

The bells were made to last a lifetime, but actually they've lasted at least two lifetimes — far longer than the company that made them.

Had it not been for the decision to cast the bells with Northville's name on them, the old bells today might just be something to admire.

But names on antiques whet the appetite and turn finders and collectors into detectives — hence the letters that come to Northville where most residents no longer know that the town was acclaimed world-wide for its bells.

Or, for that matter, that Northville was an industrial mecca for church and school furniture, for butter churns, for shades, for scales, for airplanes, for pills, for chicken feeders, for ship pulleys, and for slippers and women's shoes.

Actually, the bells were made in Northville even before the start of the American Bell & Foundry Company in 1899. Most evidence suggests casting of bells began about 1895 as part of the Globe Furniture Company's foundry plant.

What is known for sure is that bells were being made here in 1896 under the name American Bell Foundry — located among a complex of factory buildings at the east end of Cady Street.

The Globe operation, founded by C. G. Harrington in 1864, was incorporated as the Michigan School Furniture Company in 1873 and reincorporated as the Globe Manufacturing Company in 1877. President of the firm was Francis S. Beal. In 1892 the company employed 200 persons and was making more school and church furniture "than any other establishment in the world."

(It was Beal after whom Bealtown, the southeast section of the city, was named).

In April of 1899, the Globe was destroyed by fire whereupon Harmon, together with Charles Filkins and others, organized American Bell & Foundry Company.

On November 17, 1899, The Record carried this news story:

"The first new stock company organized since the fire, and to take advantage of the subsequent bonus offering made by the Improvement Association, tion, was that of the American Bell (& Foundry) Company organized Monday night with the following board of directors:

"F. S. Harmon, Charles Filkins, William Phillips, L. A. Beal, E. H. Lapham, R. C. Yerkes and James Shaw.

"The new company is to manufacture bells and do a general foundry and machine business.

"The company has purchased the foundry buildings recently built by the Globe company together with the old bell patterns, good will, etc. and starts under exceedingly auspicious circumstances.

"Officers are F. S. Harmon, president; Charles Filkins, vice-president; L. A. Beal, secretary; and E. H. Lapham, treasurer."

American Bell's foundry was located on the south side of Cady Street, where the Foundry & Equipment Company now stands.

By 1902 the company could not keep up with the demand for bells. Orders came from around the world, and the firm's 30 employees rarely found a spare day for themselves.

Mrs. Donald Yerkes of Hill Street remembers some of the company's early years, having worked there from 1910 to 1925 as a secretary.

Mrs. Yerkes is uncertain when American Bell stopped making bells, but she believes it was some time before Sherrill Ambler purchased the business in June of 1929. Richard Ambler, son of Sherrill, agrees: "I don't think they were making bells when my dad bought the company. Its main function then was making furnaces."

It is quite possible bell making had already ended when, in 1924, Harmon advised stockholders (who were making up to 30 percent interest on their investments) to sell. Harmon, who was in ill health, wanted to get out of the business, which at that time was producing two brands of furnaces — the Bell and the Harmon.

With the sale in the spring of 1924 the company was reorganized under the name Bell Furnace & Foundry Company. The new organization was financed largely by John E. Parker of Howell. Its president was L. J. Kay, while E. L. Smith was vice-president, R. P. Brown secretary and E. H. Lapham treasurer.

Parker died of measles within a month of assuming management of Bell Furnace.

After a series of other managers, Ambler took over management of the plant in 1925. Then in 1928 he purchased and operated it until 1933 as the Ambler Foundry & Works. From 1933 until 1936, he served as manager of the Independent Furnace Foundry plant that succeeded the Ambler Foundry.

The business purchased by Ambler included 4½ acres in the "factory district" and over an acre of floor space.

Charles Van Valkenburgh worked for the bell foundry for a half century, serving much of that time as the shop foreman.

By the time of Harmon's death in 1931, the company was engaged entirely in making grey iron castings, warm air furnaces and sheet metal products. Between 1924 and 1931 none of the news stories about the factory mentioned the casting of bells.

In 1974 Elroy Ellison donated a trunk full of patterns for the bells to the Northville Historical Society, which also has two of the old bells. Ellison found the patterns in the attic of his garage at 552 West Dunlap.

The house earlier had been owned by Guy C. Filkins, a U-M music professor. Guy was the nephew of Byron G. Filkins and the son of Charles Filkins. Byron had been a molder for American Bell, and it was Charles who, with Harmon, had helped organize American Bell in 1899.

Bells made here ranged upward in size to a 2,000 pounder — such as a 48-inch bell that went to a girls' college in India in 1896.

Mostly, however, it was the smaller dinner bell that made American Bell a thriving industry.

A 1926 article in The Record noted that "enough of those old farm dinner bells, mounted on posts or gables, (were made) to relay the call to roast beef and apple pie clear around the world."

Unfortunately, "the Waterbury watch of our father's time killed the dinner bell industry because for $3 the hired man could carry his dinner hour around in his pocket."

Consumers Power and solar energy.

We believe that solar energy has a great deal of potential "down the road." One of my jobs as an Energy Management Engineer is to study that road and monitor the growing number of solar heating installations and activities here in Michigan and around the country.

Utilities, generally, are learning more about how the sun's energy can power our tomorrows. Nationally, 150 utility companies are sponsoring 486 solar energy projects.

This year, Consumers Power contributed substantially to The Electric Power Research Institute, an organization that studies a variety of energy sources including solar. And we expect this research to pay off.

Consumers Power Company intends to keep up with this developing and promising technology. And we will keep our customers informed of the advancements of solar power as an energy source for homes and industry in Michigan.

Sister Arline addresses OLV students about clams and cancer

Sister Arline, clams wage war on cancer

An unlikely combination — Sister Arline Schmeer and a seaful of clams — is teamed up in what has been an encouraging battle against cancer.

Sister Arline, a Dominican Sister with a Ph.D. from the University of Colorado Medical Center's School of Medicine, is director of a project team which is researching what may be an anti-cancer agent in the soft bodies of clams.

Her findings at the American Medical Center in Denver have been confirmed by several authorities, including a Nobel Prize winner, and have put her on the threshold of clinically testing the agent — called Mercenene — on humans.

She is in Michigan on a fund raising and public speaking tour. She brought her story to Northville Thursday when she personally thanked students at Our Lady of Victory School for their donations to her research.

The students have contributed proceeds from two plays, "Bye Bye Birdie" and "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

The clam story literally begins in the kitchen.

In 1962, when Sister Arline was a National Science Foundation Fellow in Massachusetts, she noticed that cancer rarely occurs in marine invertebrates, especially clams.

Intrigued, she put the soft body part of a clam and a little water into a kitchen blender and produced an extract which has had a remarkable effect on laboratory mice and hamsters.

"We found that there was an agent or drug in the extract which inhibits the growth of cancer or even shrinks it in some animals," she said.

"We don't want to pretend that the cancer is preventable, but there is a possibility of a whole new family of drugs."

And what a family that would be. Mercenene — named after the marine biologists' moniker for clams — is not only cheap and abundant, but it is proving to be a non-toxic agent that may also act as a killer of virus and bacteria.

It also appears to be "selectively lethal," said Sister Arline. It attacks cancer cells without destroying healthy ones.

Until recently, Sister Arline's research was funded entirely by private money. She now receives some federal assistance but she does not want to become dependent upon grants lest the well run dry.

Through fund raisers, donations and the sale of "I Dig Clams" t-shirts, Sister Arline is trying to meet the $75,000-a-year cost of testing Mercenene on dogs.

If those tests — which could take three or four years — are positive, the Food and Drug Administration might authorize clinical testing on humans.

Her "hard scientific work which is required to show effectiveness" has put the clam extract "years and years ahead of laetrille," she says.

She said laetrille has suffered because its backers promoted it as a cure-all without waiting for the evidence and have since lost trust within the scientific community.

In this vein, she warned that in no way should people start eating clams as a possible cancer cure. There is no evidence to support that.

Sister Arline, who appears almost grave and deadly serious until a warm smile lights up a friendly face, encouraged school youngsters to pursue scientific interests at an early age.

"We really knew very little about cancer when I was your age and that was about 100 years ago," she laughingly told her young but attentive audience last week.

Her scientific interests can be traced to childhood days when an uncle would bring home discarded medical books from the hospital where he worked.

She was disappointed one Christmas when her parents gave her a toboggan instead of a microscope.

Today, her prowess with a microscope is recognized. In October, she will be in Buenos Aires to participate in the 12th International Cancer Congress.

Dog food!

When it comes to balanced diet, Rover does better than humans

By ROLLY PETERSON

Dogs are better fed than people. Doubt it?

Not if you take the position of Robert Kilpatrick, supervisor of product regulation and licensing, Plant Industry Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture.

"The dogs in this country get a much better balanced diet than humans do," Kilpatrick says. "A master wants to make sure his dog grows to be healthy and strong, so he buys food that will provide nutritive value."

"Humans," he adds, "are tempted by taste and as a result are less likely to select foods for themselves with the same nutritive value in mind."

Humans, for instance, are big on sugar and snack foods. They might indulge their dogs with a snack now and then but not with the same regularity.

National and state statistics on dog food serve to underscore the importance of dogs in the lives of Americans. Dogs, it might be said, rank with mother, apple pie and the flag as inextricable and sacred parts of American life.

In 1977, to feed the nation's estimated 41,300,000 dogs, Americans spent $1,945,000,000. The dogs consumed over six billion pounds of dog food.

That amounts to a per dog expenditure in 1977 of about $50 for dog food. That's 153 pounds of dog food per dog.

In 1976, Kilpatrick reports, 150,229 tons of dog food were consumed in Michigan. Last year the unofficial state figure was 162,931 tons — no small amount, no matter how you cut it.

So how good is dog food for your dog?

Enforcing minimum standards which assure the food serves the advertised purpose are the U. S. Food and Drug Administration at the national level and the Michigan Department of Agriculture in the state.

If a dog food company makes a claim, Kilpatrick says, the company must be able to back it up.

For instance, if it is claimed on the dog food can or package that the contents are a complete dog-food, the product must have passed tests in a kennel situation, or the product must meet the profile requirements set down by the National Research Council.

"Many products do qualify and do label themselves as complete dog foods," Kilpatrick said. "There is no requirement to make a claim, but if a company does, the claim must be substantiated."

Kilpatrick says that his Plant Industry Division monitors dog foods throughout the state on a continuing basis to assure that the nutritive claims on the label are being met.

There are three types of dog foods, Kilpatrick points out — dry, semi-moist and canned. The dry has no more than 10 percent moisture (water), while the canned, which is made from frozen sources of meat protein, has a moisture content of 76 to 78 percent.

"You could take a canned product, dry it, and for all intents and purposes, you would have a dry dog food," Kilpatrick claims.

Normally, he says, the canned starts with natural sources, such as fish or poultry parts. But the canned could be a dry product with moisture added.

Humans can eat pet food without harm, Kilpatrick says.

"This is a basic concern of the dog food industry, because of possible liability," he explained. "The companies use quality control as if it were human food."

A child might crawl up to the dog food and eat it, Kilpatrick said. This is one reason why the dog food companies make sure the product will not harm humans, he noted.

Nation fed 41,300,000 dogs six billion pounds of dog food last year costing $1,945,000,000

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAVING A Healthy Garden

HOW HIGH IS YOUR LAWN I.Q.?

Many American homeowners may not realize it, but if they keep their lawns mowed low, their lawn I.Q. may not be very high.

Though there are some lawns that benefit from low mowing (bent grasses and Bermuda grasses, for example), reasonably high mowing generally will benefit your grass. That's because more green leaf is retained and this is the food-making resource of your grass.

Interestingly, it has been found that disease is less severe and weeds fewer in a tall-mowed turf than in a short-clipped one. One of the reasons for this is that the roots below the ground correspond to top growth above ground. This means that taller-mowed grass will root more deeply and be able to reach a greater soil mass for moisture and nutrients.

What makes a lawn look good? Good, dense planting, uniformity and rich color. Of course, regular mowing, weed elimination and fertilizing are also very important, to give richer color and vigorous growth. And if insects are bugging your grass, you should treat periodically. An effective all-purpose, insecticide, such as Spectracide®, can control important lawn pests such as chinchbugs, armyworms, sod inchworms and grubs, and can be used in your vegetable garden as well.

Surprising to many homeowners is that the water needs of a well-kept lawn do not vary greatly from grass species to species, although certain grasses are more able to endure a prolonged drought than are others. At peak season, any flourishing lawn will need about an inch of water per week either by stored moisture in the soil or by rainfall, if the lawn is to be kept attractive.

HIGH QUALITY—Today's high quality lawnseed grows a fine turf free from weeds. These dandy fescues do well in the shade with little care.

BEAUTIFUL LAWN—An attractive, dense, weed-free lawn is not difficult to establish and maintain. Today's specially-formulated lawn and garden fertilizers and pest control materials make a beautiful lawn and garden easier than ever before.

Bluegrasses Make Strongest Lawn Sod

Kentucky bluegrass makes what is probably the world's strongest lawn sod because of its unexcelled ability to spread by underground stems. Whether sodding or seeding a lawn, be certain to include some of today's topflight bluegrass cultivars. The Lawn Institute's Variety Review Board lists Adelphi, Arboretum, Baron, Birka, Bonnieblue, Enmundi, Fyking, Glade, Majestic, Merion, Nugget, Plush, Sydsport, and Touchdown among its acceptances.

Grass for show or play

The options for establishing a lawn in the Northeast are many. You can sow a grass seed of your selection, or a mixture, or lay sod for an instant lawn, or use zoysia in the mild-winter areas.

The perfect grass — disease free in all situations, shade tolerant, drought tolerant, wear resistant — has not yet been found. The best answer the seed companies have come up with for the homeowner is mixtures. When you shop for seed, read the label. The packager has put together 4 or 5 grasses — one or two improved bluegrasses, red and Chewings fescues, and one of the new turf-type ryegrasses. By mixing several varieties you get insurance against failure. If a portion of the lawn area does not receive enough direct sun for Kentucky bluegrass, the fescues will thrive. If one of the Kentucky bluegrasses succumbs to a disease, the bluegrass partner will take over.

Two types of seed mixtures are available. The "picture" show-off front lawn, and the play area lawn. The seed company's objective in packaging seed for the picture lawn is to bring together the fine-leaved modern Kentucky bluegrasses with other fine-leaved grasses to produce a perfect blend in color and texture.

The sod or "instant" lawn growers have the same objective — to produce a sod of mixed grass, blended to broaden the spectrum of adaptability of the modern bluegrasses.

The requirements of grasses for play areas trade off the appearance of the fine-leaved grasses for such practical advantages as lower cutting height and greater wearability.

Turf-type ryegrass

The turf-type or fine-leaved ryegrasses — 'Manhattan',

'Yorktown', 'Pennfine', and 'Game' — are finding a place in both the picture and play lawn mixtures.

Before the introduction of the fine-leaved ryegrasses, common perennial types were often used in the utility mixes. They are appreciated for their strong roots and fast growth that can out-distance weeds in a new turf planting, but they are much coarser in texture and not proper companions of the bluegrasses.

PROPER CARE—The lawn at the top was neglected. Overseeding with modern lawngrasses and bolstering with gradual-release turf fertilizer will do wonders for such a thin stand. With proper care, this lawn can become as rich and lush as the one below.

Lawn Is Aid In Cooling

A thriving lawn certainly benefits our surroundings, especially in congested areas that are "heat islands" in summer. Temperatures taken on plastic grass attained 158° F in one test, but on growing grass the temperature reached only 88° F. Under these summer conditions, bare soil reached 102°.

Lawn seed: what's best?

- Q. What do I look for to be certain I am getting good lawnseed?
- A. Lawnseed quality involves two main questions. Does the seed have good heredity (i.e. are varieties of proper pedigree contained)? And is the seed "strong" and "pure"?
- Q. "Strong" and "pure"?
- A. Read for "strong," seed that is plump and fully developed, undamaged and able to sprout well, and likely to yield a vigorous seedling. "Pure" means free from unwanted materials, such as weed seeds, competing crop plants, pests, or dilutions of any kind that lessen the quantity of viable seed.

- Q. How can I check these things?
- A. Seed laws require that most of the information be included on the label. You can be fairly certain that germination is OK, or the seed could not be sold. The percentage of each kind of grass is also required, as is the listing of total weed content, crop, and certain other information. Actually, willingness to pay a fair price for seed from a reliable outlet pretty well guarantees that lawnseed of high quality will be received, but check the label anyway.
- Q. What about varieties? I'm no horticultural expert.
- A. Reliable houses offer varieties and prepare mixtures well-suited to the climate where sold. In general, the newer, named cultivars are superior to older, common lawngrasses. They are lower growing, more tolerant of disease, denser, more attractive.

TWO MICHIGAN ARTISTS are being featured in an exhibition at the Art Gallery, Incorporated, at 459 South Main in Plymouth. The show will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 7, and continue through June 1. Gene Meso's pottery and Rick Burger's watercolors will be on exhibit. Meso, who lives in Birmingham, was graduated from Wayne State University where he received a BFA in design and an MA in art. His work has been exhibited in local and national shows for 17 years. Burger, a Troy resident, received his applied science degree from Ferris State College and continued his studies at Wayne State University. He has been exhibiting since 1969 and more than 1,000 of his paintings and limited edition prints are hanging in private and public places throughout the country.

LUTHER C. SHERIDAN of Northville has qualified for 1978 membership in the Life Insurance Leaders of Michigan, state-wide organization affiliated with the Michigan State Association of Life Underwriters.

A NEW BUSINESS has opened in the Brighton area. Mike's Country Market is owned and operated by Mike Catanzarite and his wife, Candice.

It was just one year ago that the Catanzarites purchased the former Leo Felty home and vacant lot located on the corner of Spencer Road and old U.S. 23.

Moving here from Wayne, this business is a new venture for Catanzarite. He had previously been in the construction business and built the 40 x 70 foot brick building which houses the new market.

Mike's Country Market, which opened its doors to the public on Saturday, April 22, supplies fresh fruits, vegetables, delicatessen lunch meats, cheeses, pizza and all convenience foods. In the near future, they will also stock beer and wines.

The market will be open seven days a week, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. week days and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

The Catanzarites have two children, Michael, 5, and Melissa, 2.

A FREE TRIP to England has been awarded William Bushie, owner of Brookside Hardware, and Glenn Caverly, assistant manager of the hardware located on Novi Road at Allen Drive, by the National Retail Hardware Association, Inc.

THE DAVIS PROFESSIONAL BUILDING, located at 8589-8599 West Grand River in Brighton, is preparing to open its second office complex and will offer a great variety of medical services to community residents.

With the completion of the new facility, the "medical treatment center" will have 10 offices — all exclusively medical. Seven of those offices are already (or will be by July 1) in use by doctors.

Stephen M. Davis, president of Advance Craft Builders, said "In keeping our exclusiveness to an all-medical complex, we are availing the community of the convenience of a one-stop treatment center which offers a variety of specialized medical services."

The two buildings have been designed with "barrier-free" in mind. Five doctors are already practicing in the complex. They are:

Clarence Tsai, M.D., general practice and internal medicine; Dr. Harry Lubetsky, M.D., dermatology; Gerald L. Berbaum, D.C., chiropractic physician; Jorge Flores, M.D., obstetrics and gynecology; and Dennis A. Butler, D.D.S.

Two other doctors will open their offices July 1. They are Thomas Turkin, podiatrist, and Thomas Clafflin, D.D.S.

Information regarding office hours or the rental of remaining offices may be obtained by calling 229-2752.

DAVID G. KALAN has been promoted to the Detroit Account Manager for Johnson and Johnson Baby Products Company. Kalan, who joined Johnson and Johnson in July of 1977, was most recently the Indianapolis Account Manager.

As the Detroit Account Manager, Kalan is responsible for sales at the key account level. He is also helping administer a first-of-its kind test undertaken by Johnson and Johnson in the Detroit area. The new account manager is supervising brokers from ACME Food Brokerage, Inc., Southfield, who are responsible for merchandising the baby products at the retail level.

Kalan assists Johnson and Johnson Baby Products Detroit District Manager Michael Shelley and Central Region Manager Peter Pasanen. Regional offices are located in Troy.

Born in Hammond, Indiana, Kalan graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business and Marketing from Ball State University. He formerly worked with Noxell Corporation in Baltimore, Maryland.

Kalan and his wife, Sherry, will reside in Novi.

GERALD L. SMITH of the Colt Park Agency, Brighton, will be attending a life insurance education and training program in Lansing on April 18 through the 19.

The marketing school is sponsored by Auto-Owners Insurance Company of Lansing and emphasizes personal life insurance planning, business life insurance and other specific insurance services offered by the Company.

The Colt Park Agency is a representative of Auto-Owners for all types of personal and business insurance in the Brighton area.

JOHN ALLEN of Northville was one of more than 35 Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company's most productive newer agents who attended a special career development course at the firm's home office in Milwaukee recently.

The intensive program of lectures and workshops included the study of estate planning, taxes, pension plans and disability income and business insurance under the direction of the company's management staff.

Northwestern Mutual Life, known as the "Quiet Company," is the nation's ninth largest life insurer with assets of more than $9 billion. It has 114 general agencies nationwide.

Allen is associated with the James A. Edwards, CLU general agency in Troy.

DR. ARTHUR SMITH TUCKER, a new Northville Township resident, has joined the radiology department at Wayne County General Hospital.

Previously, he was associated radiologist at University Hospitals of Cleveland and professor of Radiology Case Western Reserve.

A specialist in pediatric radiology, he will be working closely with Wayne County General's pediatric department.

Born in North China, where his parents were medical missionaries, he was educated in China where Chinese was his primary language.

He first came to the United States to attend Oberlin College and received his M.D. from Yale University.

Among his more interesting ventures was serving as chief radiologist, Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission, Japan, under the auspices of the National Research Council in Washington, D.C.

During this period he researched survivors of the blast. Although the general effects of most survivors was found to be minimal, there was an increase in cases of leukemia and radiation produced cataract, his research disclosed.

Wildflowers get park spotlight

A "Spring Wildflowers" walk will be conducted at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near New Hudson on Sunday, May 14 at 9 a.m.

Many of nature's prettiest wildflowers bloom early in spring before the leaves of the trees shade the forest floor. Join naturalist Dave Moilanen and Steve Horn for a look at these "spring beauties" and some of their adaptations and interesting characteristics. Techniques used in flower identification will also be discussed.

New National Smoker Study:

MERIT proven major alternative to high tar smoking—see results below.

The first real alternative—major alternative—to high tar smoking has just been reaffirmed by extensive new research conducted among thousands of smokers.

That alternative: MERIT.

Nationwide Studies—Thousands Of Smokers Involved

The research involved a complete spectrum of smokers from both high and low tar backgrounds. It was conducted nationwide and in two parts:

1. A nationwide taste-test comparison against leading high tar cigarettes.
2. Detailed interviews with current MERIT smokers from all over the U.S.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1978

Kings: 8 mg "tar," 0.6 mg nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Aug. '77
100's: 11 mg "tar," 0.8 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Could MERIT taste hold its own against high tar brands? Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or do MERIT smokers find themselves slipping back to old favorites and switching around?

The results will interest you:

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands but continues to satisfy!

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: the first major alternative to high tar smoking.

Substitute entry wins top prize for local artist

'Tomorrow's Saturday' wins Best-of-Show ribbon for Northville artist Cuyler McCutchan

By JEAN DAY

An appealing watercolor, "Tomorrow's Saturday," showing small boats in a harbor won a "Best of Show" prize ribbon for Northville artist Cuyler McCutchan. It was chosen in the second annual judged show of Three Cities Art Club for which pictures were displayed in the First National Bank of Plymouth.

Interestingly, the watercolor was not the one the artist originally intended to enter in the competition. As he was making a mat for the watercolor he had planned to enter, he inadvertently sliced off the first work. The Hayes Court resident then quickly did "Tomorrow's Saturday" — and had a winner.

Jean DeWard of Novi received an honorable mention in the show judged by Edee Joppich of Farmington.

Audrey deMarco, a club member who works in many media, will give "a spontaneous demonstration" in oil at the club's next meeting at 8 p.m. May 10 at the Plymouth Credit Union.

Docents change leaders Sunday

Spring has come to Northville and to the Mill Race Historical Village where flowers are blooming around the old buildings. This Sunday they will be a welcoming sight when Mill Race Docents gather for a semi-annual meeting at 1 p.m. in the old library building.

Chairmen Claudia Berry and Shirley Davis will be turning over leadership of the guide group to Sharon Lineman and Karen Poulos. Changes in the village since last fall will be pointed out at the meeting. Sewers are being installed. The Cottage House, home of the Mill Race Weavers' Guild, is open, and there is appropriate furniture in the Hunter and Yerkes houses.

The Docents are volunteers who guide visitors through the restored buildings on weekends and by group appointments. Any women interested in joining the Docents are invited to attend Sunday's meeting or to call Mrs. Berry, 349-4737.

The village will open to visitors May 21 and be open on Sundays only from 1 to 4 p.m. through late fall.

Ever since the buildings were moved to the Mill Race Village volunteers like Carol Butske, Eleanor Lowell (Hunter House furnishings chairman) and Ruth Burkman (Yerkes House furnishings) have been researching actively to learn what furniture, wall and floor coverings are appropriate to the buildings. Carol Butske and her husband, Bruce, have been in charge of the old schoolhouse. It still is being restored.

Already this spring Mrs. Burkman has been taking Quester groups through the Mill Race and reports that 38 members of Mackinac Trail Chapter of the antiques study group from Saginaw recently toured. Both state and national Questers donated toward furnishing the Yerkes House. Last year she escorted about 25 Quester chapters, inviting them back to her own historic home on Old Baseline. "This is one thing I feel we can do," she explains as she reports that a Grosse Isle and then a Waldenwoods chapter will visit this month. Since Mrs. Burkman was a Yerkes, she has an especially close interest in the Mill Race.

Garden Branch meeting May 15 is special

For a most special reason the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association is postponing its annual meeting-guest day a week to 12:30 p.m. Monday, May 15. It will be held at the Allen Terrace Senior Citizen Apartments where the fountain the branch is giving to Allen Terrace is to be dedicated at that time.

Welcome to Northville

The party Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ercoli of 39990 Sunbury hosted April 22 for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hronek, celebrated his retirement after 48 years with the New York Central Railroad and also welcomed them to Northville. They have just moved from Ypsilanti to King's Mill.

Co-hosting the party for 40 friends of the Hroneks was Mrs. Ercoli's sister, Mrs. Russell Babut of Plymouth.

Visitor from 'Down Under'

Among spring visitors are Mrs. Douglas Johnson and her one-year-old son, Mark Anderew, from Auckland, New Zealand. They are here on a four-to-six week visit with Mrs. Johnson's family. She is the former Lorraine Cutler of Northville. Her husband, an export-import in New Zealand, will be joining them for a week at the end of the visit.

Janet Matthews is salutatorian

Janet Matthews, an honor student at Leelanau School, has been named salutatorian of her graduating class. The graduation ceremony is to be June 3.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Matthews of 605 Grace and is enrolled at Albion College where she will begin her freshman studies in the fall.

At the Leelanau School the active senior is lieutenant governor, editor of the school paper and is a member of the track team.

Newcomer group gathers for home decorating tips

'When you move, concentrate on one room'

Nineteen young homemakers settling in the Northville area from places as far away as New Jersey, Philadelphia, Toronto and Chicago or as near as Plymouth, Livonia and Southgate listened intently as two decorators reported that "fabrics and furniture arrangement are the biggest news" in the home furnishing field.

The women were seated comfortably in the decorator rooms at the rear of Schrader's Home Furnishings store on Center street after closing hours.

All were members of Northville Newcomers Club's newest interest group on decorating.

Among them was Beverly Walsh, club president, who mentioned that the decorating group is in its first year and a "great success." It is one of 30 that Newcomers, now composed of more than 400 members, sponsors.

Because most families have furniture to fit into new rooms when they move, many of the women were involved with problems of rearranging.

Jan Campbell and Cathy Borbi, full-time decorators with the furniture store, advised, "If you like something, don't let anyone say otherwise."

"There's a way to save everything, but you must have a plan," declared Mrs. Campbell, a Newcomer herself who has lived in Country Place on Eight Mile for a year.

"In your plan, scale of furniture is most important," she warned, suggesting that "if you have a big inherited piece like a tall desk, don't make the mistake of placing a small chair near it." Her choice, she pointed out, would be a traditional high-back chair.

Mrs. Campbell, who studied art before attending design school in Chicago for three years, has been in the decorating field for 18 years and has amassed a wealth of ideas which she shares with enthusiasm.

money," she told the Newcomers.

"Many women hesitate to get advice, saying 'I want my house to look like me' but it can and should," Mrs. Campbell continued, suggesting that they let the experts in the field "do the work" of finding "what you want."

Mrs. Campbell came to Northville from St. Louis, Missouri, but her home had been in Wisconsin.

One of her most exciting jobs had been working in Big Sky, Montana, with the late Chet Huntley.

"I did all the buying of the furniture for his condominiums," she relates, saying it was a demanding task that involved much travel.

Cathy Borbi, a former art teacher, lives in a vintage home in Farmington and mentioned that she can understand problems of anyone living in an old house.

"You as a consumer have become very knowledgeable about fabrics," Mrs. Borbi told the group.

"You ask if a piece of furniture will give many years of good wear, and there have been enough consumer complaints that manufacturers are giving good colors and prints but making them durable."

She displayed a colorful print quilted pillow that looked like cotton, saying it was 100 percent polyester although it "has the color and brilliancy of cotton and wears exactly like nylon."

Herculon upholstery, first popular in tweedy looks now is available in prints and is blended with nylon for a natural look. The decorators said this is the easy-clean, long-wear choice of many with young families.

For a more elegant look, acrylic velvet that can be washed or rayon velvet on which dry cleaning solvent can be used were recommended as good wearing.

"And you don't think of velvet as being durable," observed Mrs. Campbell, who warned, however, that those looking for long wearing fabrics should "stay away from other rayons."

Speaking of the grading system in buying upholstered furniture, which bases the price on the type of fabric, both decorators agreed that this is an area where "very often the highest grade tapestry at $37 to $45 a yard will result in a chair costing $800 that won't wear as well as one for $300 in a beautiful nylon."

They displayed a beautiful pastel silk at the top price that they did not recommend for durability.

"Because manufacturers buy such fabrics as this beautiful nylon in volume," Mrs. Borbi explained, "it can be a very good purchase at the $300 price."

By law there is a new protection for upholstered furniture buyers, Newcomers learned, as all fabric now must be coded to give fiber content and cleaning instructions.

"If it isn't marked on the piece, it

Family living expert to talk on early sex education

Are toddlers and elementary school-age children too young for sex education?

Ma Paonessa, a family living teacher and lecturer, believes they are not.

"These are the ages when children's questions about babies, about their own bodies and about other aspects of human sexuality begin," she points out.

She will be speaking on this subject at 8 p.m. next Thursday, May 11, in Northville High School auditorium.

Her appearance arranged by members of the Northville Cooperative Preschool and Highland Lakes Mothers' Club after hearing her speak at Detroit area conferences. There is a charge of $1.50 a couple with both parents encouraged to attend.

Mrs. Paonessa believes that if parents can learn to handle these early questions in a warm, comfortable manner they will be establishing a relationship with their children that will "greatly enhance the coming years...The children will be able better to accept their own growing up because of the maturity and sensitivity of the parents."

Mrs. Paonessa emphasizes the importance of open communication during the years from preschool to puberty.

She has a master's degree in family life and sex education from Wayne State University and has taught courses in human sexuality at the Continuum Center of Oakland University and in child development for Oakland Community Adult Education.

She currently is teaching a high school course in family living and is a consultant to the Grosse Pointe Health Education Council.

She and her husband, John, a marriage and family counselor, have four children, two daughters in college and 13-year-old twin sons.

The Paonessas believe that, while girls need the instruction and warmth of an informed parent, it is the need in boys for the change from mother to father as primary parent that often is not recognized or met.

Learning disabled, gifted children to be AAUW topic

"The Learning Disabled and the Gifted Child" will be focus of the Wednesday, May 9, program of the American Association of University Women—Northville Branch in the Northville High School cafeteria.

Refreshments and social time will begin at 7:30 p.m. with general meeting at 8 p.m. concluding with the program.

"The Gifted Child" will be discussed by Florence Spineberg, a teacher at the Gibson School for Gifted Children in Dearborn. Ms. Spineberg holds a bachelor of arts degree in education from the University of Michigan and presently is working on her master's in the area of reading consultation.

She previously taught at the Emerson School for the Gifted in Ann Arbor and has been in her present position at Gibson for the past three years.

In addition to giving a slide presentation illustrating the philosophy at Gibson she will further define the term "gifted child" and discuss the elements necessary in a gifted program.

Speaking on the "Learning Disabled Child" will be Barbara Leffler, founder and former president of the Plymouth Chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, and Kathy Teahan, a certified learning disabilities teacher with the Plymouth School System.

They will discuss how to identify a learning disabled child; problems faced by a parent of this type of child; legal aspects of learning disabilities; and "mainstreaming," which involves including learning disabled children in a regular classroom.

Nanci Olgren and Jane Smith recently were elected second vice-president for membership and secretary, respectively, of the branch.

Anyone interested in attending the May 9 meeting or in learning more about the branch may call Joyce Murdoch at 455-3059.

It's Early Alert

Mailman to watch elderly on route

Mail accumulating in a mailbox may be an indication that a family is on vacation, but it also can mean that something is wrong at that home.

The latter often is especially true for someone living alone.

But that mail can be part of an "Early Alert" plan being instituted by the Wayne County Office on Aging in cooperation with the Northville post office and the city and township.

Early Alert is an emergency response system through which the U.S. Post Office notifies the area governmental unit when elderly patrons registered at the post office are not picking up their mail and may need assistance.

"All carriers are going to participate," states Northville postmaster John Steimel.

He explains that senior citizens first must call the post office and request the service. A car will be filled out giving names to contact in an emergency and a yellow dot will be placed in the senior citizen's mailbox.

The yellow dot will alert the carrier to return the mail to the post office and report the situation.

The post office may be called at 349-0300 for information about registering. The Early Alert program is one of several cooperative ones with city and township officials.

A Telephone Reassurance Program for senior citizens in the area is designed to help those older persons who live alone are temporarily alone to live independently.

A daily telephone contact for these people, the agency stresses, is of particular value since those who live alone are in special jeopardy from falls, strokes and sudden illness.

A telephone call is made once a day at a pre-arranged hour. To inquire about tele-care call city hall at 349-1300 or township hall at 459-1710.

League to get report

Kari Miller, president of the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi, will report to members on the league's national convention being held early in May in Cincinnati at a salad luncheon gathering at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 10, at the home of Elizabeth Morelli.

Choosing rugs and upholstery fabrics? Remember this You must fit the pattern and color to the style. For modern rooms, select draperies and rugs of coordinating colors. Remember that upholstery fabrics are great in chintz, mohair, linen, raw silks, novelty cottons and fiberglass. Early American decor calls for braided or rag rugs, and curtains with a fine print. Period pieces look best in brocades. Damask is nice for draperies in period-styled rooms.

Whatever period your rooms are in, you will find the right wallcoverings to coordinate with them here at GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110. We are more interested in helping our customers decorate their homes beautifully and in good taste than in just selling merchandise. We welcome you to come in and browse anytime. # Annual Fun Fair coming at Mercy this weekend

Our Lady of Mercy High School's ninth annual Fun Fair will be held on the school grounds, 11 Mile and Middlebelt, this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

On Friday, the fair will run from 5-10 p.m., Saturday from noon to 10 p.m., and Sunday from 1-9 p.m. Students at the 1,250 all-girl high school have selected as the theme of the fair, "A Treasure Chest of Fun".

A grand prize will be given away in connection with the fair. It is an unlimited mileage trip for two on Eastern Airlines. In addition, 19 other prizes, ranging from more trips and stereos, to appliances, can be won throughout the weekend. Proceeds from the fair are used to defray Mercy's operational expenses and to assist in the grant-in-aid scholarship program. Nearly 50 students in each of the past two years have received assistance.

More than 30 rides and many games and booths will be featured, according to general chairman Walter Gruber and his co-chairman, Richard Abowd.

Students at Mercy come from more than 60 Catholic parishes. In addition, there are numerous students who are non-Catholic.

St. John's Seminary reunion brings 300 back to campus

A Reunion Day sponsored by the Alumni Association of St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth drew almost 300 people to the campus recently.

Former students (anyone who attended St. John's for any period of time since the theologate opened its doors in 1949) joined priests, faculty members and present St. John's students for the day. Many of the former students brought their wives and children.

The day consisted of opportunities for former classmates to get reacquainted, a Mass followed by a buffet luncheon, games for the children and evening Vesper services in the seminary chapel.

Fr. John Castellet, who has been a member of the St. John's faculty since the school opened, was the celebrant at Mass. Several current students at the seminary were involved in the planning and supervision of several aspects of the day.

In commenting on the reasons for having such a reunion of former students, the Alumni Association President, Fr. Tom Thompson, a pastor of St. John's Church in Hartland and a 1964 alumnus of St. John's, said:

"Such a day provided an opportunity for persons whose lives touched each other in many important ways during the time of their seminary education to meet again. I have always believed that all of us are who we are because of the persons who have been a part of our life. Certainly, a gathering together of these many people with their families proved to be a very life-giving experience."

St. John's Rector Fr. Kenneth Untener, a 1963 graduate, said: "I look back with happy memories to my years here as a student, and I know the others do too. These memories are associated with the people who shared those years with one another, and it was great to be back together in the same place again."

St. John's Communications Director, Van Vandagriff, attributes much of the success of the reunion to the support of priests throughout the state.

"They are the ones," he said, "who got the word out that we wanted to locate as many former students as possible. They put notices in parish bulletins and initiated a lot of word-of-mouth communication."

"Many former students themselves were a big help," he added. "They sent us many current addresses of former classmates whom we would not have been able to reach otherwise."

This year's Former Student Reunion Day was the first of its kind attempted by the school, which also hosts an annual Priests' Reunion Day every Fall, to which all active priests in Michigan are invited.

How does a widow "fit in" socially?

When a widow (or widower) begins to renew her social life, she must look first for GROUP activities, those which do not involve couples or "pairs" of people ... singing groups, school classes, arts and crafts, etc. In this way, the widow is not placing herself in the awkward position of being a "fifth wheel."

She will wish to find pursuits which will return to her a feeling of accomplishment which quickly leads to one of confidence... the more creative the better. Realizing one's own individuality and capabilities helps build up personal courage and makes a widow's social re-entry more rewarding.

Often during a happy marriage one mate may enjoy an activity not shared by the other. As a widow, she may pursue such an activity she once enjoyed. Sometimes she doesn't because she feels guilty...as if enjoying it would be unfair to her deceased husband. Rather, she should seize on this activity to express herself and bring out her total personality.

Receives award at banquet

Brigadier General Ryan honored

Army Reserve Brigadier General Clifford G. Ryan — recently retired commander of 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve), headquartered in Livonia — has received the Army's prestigious Legion of Merit award for his achievements while leading the 300th.

The medal was presented at a recent banquet thrown in his honor by the officers and enlisted members of the command. On the same occasion, the command's rifle and pistol team members gave the general a plaque honoring his long support of the 300th's marksmanship program, and he received a set of golf clubs from command members.

General Ryan, who retired from active Reserve participation in January after four years as 300th commander, recently moved to Livonia from Northville. He is a retired Detroit Police Department division commander, now employed as supervisor of investigations at Ford Motor World Headquarters in Dearborn.

Some 375 people attended the banquet, including two former commanders of the 300th and General Ryan's seven children.

The 300th's colonial color guard, garbed in Revolutionary War uniforms and armed with flintlock muskets, carried the flags in the ceremony. Music was provided by a combo composed of band members from the Army Reserve's 70th Division (Training), which shares its Livonia headquarters building with the 300th.

General Ryan was born in Hazel Park, on August 26, 1926.

He started his military career as an enlisted man during World War II, serving in the infantry in 1944-46, including three months in the European Theater of Operations.

Upon discharge, he enrolled in Michigan State University and received his B.S. degree in police administration simultaneously with his commission as a Military Police second lieutenant, through R.O.T.C., in 1950.

He served on active duty 1951-53, winding up as provost marshal for the State of Iowa. He reverted to active Reserve status in 1953 and held a number of Reserve MP assignments.

At the same time, he was also pursuing a successful career with the Detroit

Police Department. Starting as a patrolman in 1950, he advanced to positions in patrol supervision, investigation, investigation supervision, training and command. Among his assignments were arson and robbery investigations, special investigations and command of the Detroit Police Academy.

In 1968 he was one of 30 police officers in the nation selected to receive a fellowship from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, an agency of the U.S. Justice Department. He received a one-year leave from the Detroit police and earned a master's degree in criminal justice administration at Michigan State University.

His subsequent Detroit police assignments included creation of the Criminal Justice Training Institute for Metropolitan Detroit, which he commanded for two years; command of the city's Western District, comprising five police precincts; and finally command of the Communications and Systems Division.

General Ryan retired from the Detroit police in 1975 after 25 years' service.

His recent Army Reserve assignments included command of 301st Military Police Prisoner of War Camp, which he activated in 1972 as a subordinate unit of 300th MP Command. He became deputy commander of the 300th in 1973 and commander at the beginning of 1974. He was promoted to brigadier general the following year.

General Ryan completed numerous military police schools and is a 1968 graduate of the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

General Ryan and his wife, Jenny, have two daughters and five sons.

The 300th MP Command comprises 27 units and over 1,400 Army Reservists, located in 13 cities of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa. The wartime missions of those units would include operation of prisoner-of-war camps as well as other military police functions.

The command's members hold down full time civilian jobs but maintain their military proficiency through weekend drills and periodic training camps.
