

Sparring over; supervisor foes throw verbal punches

WILSON GRIER

He's the incumbent...

Proud of his own performance as supervisor during his first term in office, which he labels as "excellent," Wilson Grier calls his opponent an inept candidate who has neither the intelligence nor sense of commitment to serve as the township's chief executive.

"(He, opponent) has always been a type of individual who has always jumped to quick conclusions and has never done his homework," said Grier, who added, "I pride myself on the fact that I do my homework and I'm usually right when I come out with my position..."

"Criticism by Don Thomson is (an example) of quick conclusions. He just hasn't done his homework. I think if you ask him specific questions, he really doesn't have a background of information. He has a lot of innuendos and he may have some ideas but he just doesn't have the facts."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Incumbent Wilson Grier and challenger Donald Thomson are battling for the Republican nomination for supervisor in the August 8 primary. There is no Democrat running, thus one of the two is virtually assured election come the November election. Both candidates were informed by letter on June 26 that a joint interview would be held on Saturday, July 15. Both confirmed the dates. But the day before the interview Mr. Grier informed the newspaper that an unexpected personal matter required him to be out of town and that he would be unable to keep the joint interview appointment. Thus, Thomson was interviewed separately on July 15, Grier several days later. Their taped comments follow.

"I will be honest with people," pledged Donald Thomson while blistering his opponent, incumbent Supervisor Wilson Grier, for misusing the office and misleading people.

Thomson said the big difference between himself and the incumbent is that "I absolutely have no intention of becoming supervisor for personal glorification or gain."

"I'm not the richest man, and I'm not the poorest one. I am happy, have a comfortable home, a good business and I intend to live in Northville the rest of my life. This has been my home for a lot of years and I don't like to see it threatened."

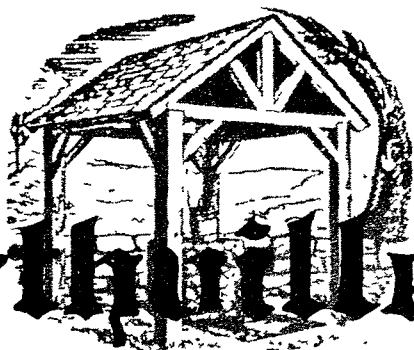

Thomson, who points out that he is a graduate of Northville High School and has close ties in a number of different local civic and services organizations, said he might not have sought political office had it not been for the incum-

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Superintendent search narrowed to one

Northville merchant John Genitti (left) and Charles Lapham eye sandwich that could feed part of Saturday's crowd for the sidewalk sale

Saturday is special

Only 'monsoon' could halt sale

They don't roll up the sidewalks in Northville. Rather, they roll out the red carpets that lead to sidewalks (and streets) full of bargain-spiced sales, intriguing displays, yummy baked goods and a jam-packed downtown.

Putting a handle on the exact size of the droves that will invade Northville Saturday for the annual Sidewalk Sale is difficult, but the crowd is expected to be so great that organizers have made special parking provisions.

"Our biggest problem is parking because we close off four quadrants of Northville, so we lose the parking," said Charles Lapham, longtime Sidewalk Sales chairman for the sponsoring Northville Retail Merchants Association.

This year, Lapham has made provisions for free parking at the Northville Downs lot. From there, it's only a block-and-a-half walk to the center of the sale. Lapham is also working on a taxi service between the lot and downtown.

The sale runs from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Lapham expects the streets to be crowded from the opening bell.

"We rent about 130 spaces to outside participants in addition to the 40 merchants who have space in front of their stores," he said.

Requests for display space for the popular sale are still coming in, but Lapham said, "I don't know where I'll put them unless I start stacking them up."

The booths, said Lapham, will be stocked with just about everything including antiques, paintings, sculptures, hand-painted china, other arts and crafts and a calorie-producing supply of irresistible foods.

A glass blower and a photographer who will produce "old-style portraits" are among the attractions, he added.

Interest in the sale is so great that Lapham began getting inquisitive calls four or five months ago so people could plan their vacations around the sale.

"This is a fun day for the guy who has been making neckties in his basement all winter and now wants to display and sell them," he continued.

Because of the immense interest, the fact that the sale lasts a single day and there is no "rain day" scheduled, Lapham said inclement weather would not stop Saturday's doings.

"It would take a monsoon for us to cancel," he said, "so get all those people pulling for good weather."

Lapham has been the guiding force behind Northville's Sidewalk Sale for many years and is now — as the parking provisions prove — in the enviable position of having to deal with too much success.

For Saturday's sale, Main Street from Wing to Hutton and Center Street from Main to Dunlap will be closed to traffic.

Board, Livonia man are both 'interested'

Northville's once-burned, twice-shy school board is on the verge of offering a superintendent's contract to longtime Livonia educator Lawrence Nichols.

The board, which had an earlier candidate this summer verbally accept and then reject a three-year pact, will meet with Nichols after he returns from a Colorado vacation next week.

The board has not said if it will offer Nichols the job at that time, but it devoted a half-hour executive session Monday night to preparing contract terms.

The board also instructed acting superintendent Burton Knighton to notify the three remaining candidates that they are no longer under consideration.

"Neither Mr. Nichols nor the board has made a commitment, but we are both interested," said Board President Douglas Whitaker.

Nichols, 43, is Livonia's director of secondary education. Sources in Livonia said he wants the Northville position.

Nichols interviewed for the job last week after the board resumed the search it thought was over when Albion Superintendent Garth Errington verbally agreed to become superintendent in June.

Four days later, Errington, saying he was "overwhelmed" by housing costs and congestion of suburban Detroit, changed his mind. He has since taken the superintendent's job in Grandville.

Whitaker said the board went into executive session Monday so it could have a contract ready "rather than just an outlined one" when Nichols, who lives in Livonia, returns from Colorado for his second interview.

The agreed-upon terms were not released but it is believed that Nichols will be offered a financial package similar to the first-year salary of $39,000 that Errington turned down.

Nichols made more than $37,000 last year in Livonia.

If he takes the Northville job, Nichols will replace Raymond Spear who resigned in March to take DeWitt's top job after spending 16 years as a Northville administrator.

Nichols, who impressed board members with his curriculum background and thoughtful answers, has spent his entire career in Livonia except for a year in the mid-60's when he was an administrative intern at Flint's Mott Foundation.

Nichols was described by an observer of the Livonia school system as an "excellent problem solver" who "really collects the information and knows what type of information to collect."

One of his past duties was the poten-

Campaign contributors

Guess whose sister gave $50 to Grier?

Donald Thomson is running for Northville Township supervisor in the August 8 primary, but his sister, Alta R. Sorenson, possibly doesn't want him to win. She contributed $50 to Wilson Grier's campaign to keep his $20,208 per year supervisor post.

However, even if his sister doesn't like him, his mother does. Thomson said his mother, Helen DePoorter, gave him to $100 which he contributed to the Committee to Elect Thomson, Boshoven, Holland and Greer.

What's more, Thomson said he thinks his sister might have second thoughts, since her contribution to Grier was made in April — before Thomson announced his candidacy.

But if she's had a change of heart, she hasn't shown it by coughing up any cold, hard cash for her brother's campaign.

Another local family also split their contributions between the two campaign committees. Joyce Wagner contributed $100 to the Thomson committee, but her husband, Eugene Wagner, contributed $50 to the Committee to Elect Wilson Grier.

Is there a political rift between the Wagners, or were their contributions planned for the family to divide their support?

That is but one of many perplexing questions prompted by a perusal of contributors to these two campaign committees.

Why did at least four people contribute to both campaigns? One who gave $50 to each was Leon Bonner, township landowner and frequent critic of actions taken by both township and city officials.

Others did not divide their contributions so evenly — giving $50 to Grier's campaign and only $20 to the Thomson slate.

Why did some contributions come from as far as Jackson, Troy, West Bloomfield, Southfield, Grosse Ile and Grosse Pointe?

One of these was a $50 contribution to Grier from Desmond P. Hamill, one of the architects for the Northville Township Hall. The second architect, Gene Ralls, wasn't so generous. He contributed $20.

Why did State Representative Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia) give $20 to support Grier, while State GOP Chairman William McLaughlin gave his $20 to the Thomson group?

Both committees received contributions from City of Northville residents, but the Thomson committee captured the best known names, including the mayor and the former mayor.

The Northville Record publisher, a township resident, also gave $20 to the Thomson, Boshoven, Holland and

THE CITY COUNCIL learned Monday night that approval has been given for two grants amounting to $120,000 each for local improvement programs. The federal community development block grants, administered through Wayne County, provide for $40,000 annually for three years. One will be used for construction of the new library facility at city hall, the other for partial financing of the proposed "Mainstreet 78" project.

A LETTER complaining about speeding drivers damaging lawns and endangering lives in neighborhood areas prompted the city council Monday night to direct the city manager to propose a program to combat the problem. Manager Steve Walters suggested one method might be the creation of neighborhood surveillance teams. He said the State Police have information for such plans that include use of walkie-talkies to alert police so violators can be immediately apprehended.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS are available now for the August 8 primary election. City voters may pick up ballots at the City Hall. Township voters may get their ballots at the township office on Sheldon Road and may vote them there or return them by mail.

SOUTH LYON — This community's municipal park is being marred by vandals and the situation is concerning officials. A recent inspection disclosed that the flagpole looks like a banana, broken glass litters the grass and parking lots, bottles and trash litter the county train which runs through the park, and recently a car rammed the cinderblock retaining wall connected to the Witch's Hat — a historical railroad depot moved to the park for preservation.

SOUTH LYON — Lawson Letzring has been re-elected president of the South Lyon Board of Education.

GREEN OAK — The township board here may be convinced the nearby cities of Brighton and South Lyon are contributing to the pollution of township waters, but acting upon the advice of its attorney the board has decided to meet with the state Department of Natural Resources before attempting to take legal action against either city.

SOUTH LYON — Rosalind Mason, manager of the Oak Park branch of the Detroit Post Office, has been placed in temporary charge of the South Lyon Post Office in the wake of the recent appointment of Michael Walsh as postmaster of the City of Taylor.

WIXOM — Despite a cost increase of $13,500, the Wixom City Council approved a contract with the Oakland County Road Commission for improvement of the Pontiac Trail-Wixom Road intersection.

WALLED LAKE — A 34-year-old man who allegedly conned hundreds of women out of thousands of dollars by posing as world-famous photographer Richard Avedon has been arraigned in district court here.

WALLED LAKE — Two men from this area were among the 37 persons arrested recently by the Oakland County Organized Crime Strike Force in a crackdown on an alleged numbers operation.

WALLED LAKE — Destruction of 40 new fence posts at Sims Park plus the loss of two more of Wall Lake's few remaining American flags prompted city council members to complain that vandalism seems to be on the upswing in the area. Vandalism reports in Wixom and Novi, however, show little change.

NOVI — By a 5-2 vote city council here has rejected placement of an advisory question on the ballot that would ask residents if they want to see high rise developments in the city.

NOVI — A 69 percent increase in reported felonies for the first six months of 1978 has been disclosed by the Novi Police Department.

NOVI — Concluded by a slammed door exit of assessment critic Garry Kidd, the Novi Council heard a report from an investigator of the method of property taxing in the city who said he could find nothing wrong.

BRIGHTON — Exactly two years after "legionnaires' disease" struck in Philadelphia, a more mild mystery illness in Brighton has left county and state health officials puzzled. Cause of a temporary illness and loss of consciousness in a group of VFW Post 4357 Ladies Auxiliary members here has not yet been isolated.

BRIGHTON — Elimination of many downtown parking spaces and the widening of Grand River in the area of the Brighton Mall are among recommendations highlighting a traffic study recently submitted to Brighton City Council.

HARTLAND — Contract negotiations between teachers and the Hartland Board of Education aren't moving fast enough to suit the negotiating team representing the district's 160 teachers. Teachers contend that despite their own eagerness to get things rolling, the board's team "has chosen to meet only once so far" even though opening of school is fast approaching.

North Beacon Woods

Neighbors gather support for subdivision protest

Residents of Whipple Estates and Taft Colony, who have bitterly opposed the proposed North Beacon Woods subdivision, gained support from other township residents in a protest petition drive last weekend.

"What happened in our backyard could happen in theirs," said Marilyn Donovan, who helped spearhead the petition drive which obtained 299 signatures requesting the Northville Township Board to deny approval to the developer, Angelo Spagnoli, for his proposed 166-lot subdivision.

The 83.6-acre site is south of Eight Mile Road, just west of the City of Northville, adjacent to Whipple Estates and Taft Colony.

"There are lots of people wanting to retain the country feeling and quaint little charm of the Northville area," Mrs. Donovan said. "We feel the growth should be planned so we retain that in spite of the growth of numbers, which is inevitable. We should have some control over what our total image will be when we're done."

Mrs. Donovan said that many of the 16 persons who circulated petitions were from areas other than the ones directly affected by the North Beacon Woods development, including residents from Northville, Commons, Shadbrook, Grand View Acres, Ridge Court, Beck Road, Clement Road, Five Mile Road and Six Mile Road.

"In any area in which we presented petitions, very few people we reached declined to sign it," Mrs. Donovan said.

Even though the Northville Township Board has already given tentative approval to the preliminary plat for the proposed subdivision, Mrs. Donovan thinks it is not too late for them to reconsider the plan.

When the plan came first before the Northville Township Planning Commission and later before the township board, objectors protested the proposed green area because it was located in swampy land.

"It didn't come to our attention until later that another requirement for the green area was it was supposed to be centrally located," Mrs. Donovan said.

Because the proposed green area is located in the southwest corner of the development, the petition contends that the proposed plat does not meet the open space requirements of the zoning ordinance.

The zoning ordinance says the planning commission, in approving an open space plan, must be cognizant of the following objective: "To encourage the provision of open spaces within a reasonable distance of all lot development of the subdivision recreational facilities."

The petition also states that the lots are "grossly under-sized in an R-2 zone" because of the open space option and lot averaging option.

The township's open space plan allows the developer to reduce the size of lots if some of the land is reserved for park-like open space, provided the population density is no greater than would occur if open space was not employed.

With public utilities lots in R-2 zoned areas must have a minimum of 16,000 square feet and be at least 110 feet wide. Because of the open space option in the zoning ordinance, some lots in the proposed North Beacon Woods subdivision will have 12,800 square feet and will be 100 feet wide.

Mrs. Donovan and the other petitioners contend that the smaller lots should not be allowed until the developer complies with the intent of the open space requirements by centrally locating the green area.

Mrs. Donovan and Denise Dobeck presented the petition Monday to Margaret Tegge, township deputy clerk. They said concerned citizens would attend last night's planning commission meeting and the August 10 township board meeting to urge reconsideration of the preliminary plat.

"The petition was a good vehicle to show the rest of the township that this is possible anywhere," Mrs. Donovan said. "We want to plead with the township government to make stricter controls on development."

Township Supervisor William Grier said the petition had been forwarded to the planning commission.

Bernard Baldwin, vice-chairman of the planning commission, declined to comment until he had an opportunity to read the petition. William Bohan, chairman of the commission, could not be reached.

Driver praised

Bus disaster is averted

A car driven by a teenage girl who police say ran a red light collided Friday with a Northville bus loaded with retarded children on their way to school.

The driver of the car, 17-year-old Kimberly Cox of Livonia, was taken to St. Mary Hospital but none of the nearly 50 youngsters, the driver or the aides on the bus were seriously injured.

By Monday, Miss Cox, who was ticketed for running a red light, had been released from the hospital.

School officials are giving bus driver Kathleen Ockerman credit for preventing a possibly tragedy.

The accident occurred at 9:05 a.m. as Ms. Ockerman, who has driven from the district since the fall of 1976, was crossing Newburgh Road in Livonia as she drove east on Five Mile Road.

She was about four miles east of the Plymouth Center for Human Development where she had picked up the youngsters who attend classes daily at Parkway School in Dearborn Heights.

Livonia City Police said a southbound car driven by Ms. Cox ran a stoplight and hit the side of the bus.

Rather than allow the bus to swerve off the road to her right where it could have turned over, Ms. Ockerman maneuvered the bus across three lanes of traffic, over two curbs and onto a shopping center parking lot where it came to rest.

School officials who rushed to the scene upon learning of the accident said Ms. Ockerman and some of the bus riders were shaken but uninjured.

Officials also noted that the presence of four bus aides helped calm the retarded youngsters after the crash.

Aides are used on all Northville special education buses although they are not required in other districts.

A radio, which is also standard equipment on special education buses, was knocked out of order by the impact of the collision.

Northville Public Schools administer a state-funded program to educate about 800 mentally retarded people up to the age of 26 who live in the Plymouth Center and the Northville Residential Training Center, both located in Northville Township.

In the late 1800's the phoropter (top left) was invented, greatly improving the speed and accuracy of the vision exam. Since then very few improvements or even changes have been made.

Now, after nearly 100 years, a radical change has been introduced into the field—the Humphrey Vision Analyzer 210. Instead of placing a 30 pound lens bank in front of the face, 20th century technology can focus a pair of phantom lenses just in front of the eyes, very much like a hologram. In addition, the prescription of the "hologram" can be continuously changed similar to a zoom camera, instead of the alternate click-click of the old style phoropter. Also, this steady change is constantly analyzed by a modern microcomputer throughout the refraction.

These are just a few of the many improvements incorporated in one instrument to help the doctor improve your vision. Optics and Optometry have come a long way since the phoropter was invented. The Humphrey Vision Analyzer—20th century technology making a difference you can see.

Teenage alcoholic

'I never turned down a drink—never'

By RICH PERLBERG

He was never the stumbling, fall-down-in-the-gutter type of drunk. Carefully, he steered clear of oblivion. Instead, by stealing from his parents' liquor cabinet and buying beer with his lunch money, he nurtured a longstanding "maintenance buzz."

By age 15, he was an alcoholic. By 16, he knew it.

Now, a 1978 graduate of Northville High School, he hasn't had a drink since February 18, 1977.

"I was at a conference in front of 500 people in beautiful downtown North Philadelphia. I was up on a stage and I told them I was going to go straight."

Two days later, he was drugged out of his mind.

"So, I went straight. I joined AA and got drunk in three months. I've been sober since."

Sobriety is a welcome change of lifestyle for Mike who, at the age of 14, was ending most school days with a drink, a joint or any other substance for the seemingly necessary mood alteration.

It took him three years to realize that his "maintenance buzz" was really alcoholism. It took him even longer to quit drinking.

"It was a decision that was very hard to make. It was a determination with me to face the truth. I found out for some odd reason I was getting progressively flakier, progressively sicker. It's that simple.

"I was talking to a friend of mine and she was having an awful time with her druggin' and drinkin'. Being so wise, as I am, I told her about AA and I think I made the mistake of listening to my own advice.

"I knew what an alcoholic was and I was certainly beginning to cut the mold."

The mold of an alcoholic is a familiar one to Deborah Gough, who as a counselor for the Farmington Area Advisory Council, sees many teenage substance abusers.

"Alcoholism is a spiritual, mental and physical disease," she said. Its victims, particularly younger ones who are often the children of alcoholics, share many traits.

Usually intelligent, the teenage alcoholic has a "very powerful kind of ego," she said. He'll plan weeks ahead for something like a prom. If things don't go as envisioned, he'll harbor thoughts of anger and resentment long afterward.

Teenage alcoholics are sensitive, easily hurt and apt to blow idle comments out of proportion. They also feel

I knew what an alcoholic was and I was certainly beginning to cut the mold inadequate.

"Even though they have so much going for them, they feel they have nothing going for them," she said.

From heredity to a roller coaster ego, Mike fits this model as perfectly as a hand molds to a beer mug.

"The old man in my house was a raving alk, he said.

"I sort of blocked that out, but I remember riding home with my father from my godfather's house. He had developed the trick of driving with one eye closed so he would only see double."

And the ego?

"I always thought I was a little bit different than the guy next door. Different better and different worse. I was the worst SOB and the best at the same time.

He was 13 and at a summer party when he took his first drink.

"The first time I drank, I got drunk... loved every minute of it. I got sick that night but I sort of set a precedent. Is said, 'Well, if I'm going to get sick, I'm sure not going to let anybody know it.'

"So, I puked my brains out, got right back up and went to the refrigerator to get me another one."

He was only to get sick three times in his drinking life. "That was the sanity of my disease. I never got a hangover."

His family moved, he left a girlfriend behind, and he learned the quickest way of acceptance was to have dope, sell dope or drink.

And drink he did — whenever and whatever he could.

"One woman got hold of some vanilla extract and for $1.39 she got plastered.

That sounded good, so I got hold of some. Vanilla extract and coke — it's the best tasting thing."

Once, he dyed vermouth brown and poured it into an empty Jack Daniels bottle. Anything to maintain a buzz.

Maintaining that plateau is a key sign of alcoholism, said Mrs. Gough. While many people feel temporarily giddy after they drink, the alcoholic needs that steady upper to lift him from the pits of depression into a "normal" state of mind.

Vanilla extract to the contrary, Mike was not about to admit he was an alcoholic. In fact, the tricks of denial were part of his trade.

"My hair was getting longer, I wasn't taking care of myself, I dressed grubbier, I was grubbier."

"You don't want to be with somebody that you can point at and say, 'He looks pretty good, what the hell is he doing?'"

"So, my friends got progressively a little bit skeezier. I stopped hanging around with the wholesome types, the Polly Purebreds."

"But as skeezier as my new friends were, I was always a little bit better. They were hardcore alcoholics, but I could tell myself that I really wasn't."

"But I never turned down a drink, never... never."

He developed his own set of

"misrepresented facts" to "protect" his disease.

"I never drank before school. I never did. I felt like, 'Oh, oh, that's what alcoholics do.' I knew that kids had booze in their locker and that grates on me to see drinking in school."

That's a seemingly sanctimonious attitude for someone who couldn't wait to get home and raid the liquor cabinet.

"Well, I deserved it then. I put in a hard day of school, right? I was there on time and that teacher was late. I deserved it."

Joe credits the road back to Alateen, an organization for the children of alcoholics that — at the urging of his father — he joined even before he started drinking.

"Right away, I felt like I belonged. I was at home," he said.

It was at an Alateen Conference where he felt compelled to make his North Philadelphia pledge before 500 colleagues.

"A friend of mine and I sort of made a bet — a pact — that we were both going to go straight, because we knew that our dopin' and drinkin' was getting to us."

"I decided, 'All right, I'm going to keep it clean for awhile until I get to the

Van pool cuts the aggravation

By KEVIN ALLEN

Each morning promptly at 6:15 Paul Martin of Howell climbs into a State of Michigan issued 1978 van and winds his way down I-96 to Spencer Road where he picks up two fellows who live in Detroit.

He then turns his van westbound and heads back to the Holiday Inn in Howell where two or three more sleepy-eyed fellows await his arrival. By the time Martin gets well on the way to Lansing, he will probably have 10 or 11 people seated in his van, chatting or catching a few winks to pass the time before they reach their destination.

Martin and his passengers are all State of Michigan employees who are part of a state administered program that offers them a ride in a cooperative van pool for a little over three bucks a day.

The intent of the state program, which originated during the nationwide energy crunch a few years back, was to save on energy but the attractiveness, both financially and practically, has made it popular among employees.

All Landa of Whitmore Lake, who rides to Lansing from Brighton each morning says he pays about $500 a year to get to and from work when it would normally cost him over $1,000 if he travelled every day, alone in his own car.

"It's not as comfortable as a car. But for a one hour ride...if you are the least bit athletically inclined it provides no problem," said Landa.

One of the attractive elements of the service is that the rider doesn't have the aggravation of driving.

"For the first 10 miles or so they will talk and then most of them will nod out," said Martin.

The drivers of the van get to ride free for their efforts, and also get the use of the van provided they pay the state for the mileage. It is also their responsibility to make sure the maintenance is taken care of on the van.

The only major complaint offered by most of the riders is that the vans really can't seat 12 adults as easily as the designers claim.

"They can seat 10 comfortably but 12 is a little rough. It's not like having your own car where there is room to stretch," said Brighton's John Wolfe, a social services worker, an alternate driver and a regular passenger until a hip injury kept him out of work for the past couple of months.

John Lovett, also of Brighton, said the state is looking into use of vans which would have separate seats for each rider with head rests. The cost, would be an additional 25 cents per day for the individuals.

Making stops to pick up passengers does make the trip slightly longer than the average car ride, but Landa said the loss of minutes was "negligible."

According to a survey done by the transportation department, the average loss of time for the van pooler was 11 minutes.

"Actually the guys picked up last don't have any loss of time at all," said Martin.

The lack of depreciation on their automobiles is perhaps the most staggering savings for the riders. Lovett, who drives and realizes savings from a free ride, said his total savings per year was "$1,500 conservatively and probably closer to $2,000 actually." He figures he saved $700 in depreciation on his automobile by travelling in the van.

Lovett also realized a $200 reduction in his car insurance since the car was going to be used for personal business only. Over 21 percent of the van pooling surveyees said they had a lowering of their insurance premiums on their automobiles.

Lovett, who works in the criminal justice department and drives a van, said he enjoys the van pooling because it affords him the opportunity to hear different perspectives from workers of the different branches of government.

"It's interesting because you have such a cross section of people. All three branches of government are represented on our van. We have a wide walk of life with a variety of specialties. It's refreshing to get different perspectives," said Lovett.

Lovett said that a camaraderie develops among members of a van pool, which comes in handy if there comes a time when the group has to make concessions for one of their fellow passengers.

"The group develops an identity. So they are understanding. If I call and say I need an extra five or 10 minutes for a meeting can you wait?" said Lovett.

After the state had found out who was interested in the program, programers fed all the addresses of the potential poolers into a computer, which plotted them all on a graph that was used to route them in the most efficient manner.

The next step was handled through payroll department, which takes the cost of the pooling out of the employee's check in the form of a payroll deduction.

At Schoolcraft she studies with Donald Morelock. She will enter the University of Michigan as a piano major this fall.

Other selections on the final concert include the Festival Overture by the late 20th Century Russian composer Dmitri Shostakovich, and the Lieutenant Kije Suite by Sergei Prokofiev, an early 20th Century Russian composer.

Police report — May: Councilman DeRusha asked Councilman Westfall if the two officers reported in the assault were injured.

Councilman Westfall commented not seriously.

Councilman Nichols asked if the weather has an effect on the rise in cases reported.

Councilman Westfall answered it has some and mentioned that forced entry has increased 15%.

Councilman DeRusha commented on the vandalism figure of $1,715 and asked if it reflected primarily homes.

The Captain answered yes, primarily homes.

Councilman DeRusha asked if the Captain had an opinion on raising the drinking age to 21 and also if there is much incidence of minors drinking sooner.

Councilman Westfall commented he knows of one local youngster, age 14, who is a confirmed alcoholic. Minors are starting to drink at a younger age because the 14-17 year olds associate with 18 year olds, some still in high school, who can legally get alcoholic beverages.

Councilman DeRusha asked if he thought it would be helpful to raising the drinking age to twenty-one.

Councilman Westfall commented yes it would.

Mayor Vernon asked if the establishments selling alcohol watched the ID very carefully.

Councilman Westfall mentioned the Hamlet Market is particularly careful and cooperative.

Councilman Johnston asked whether bars were serving to minors.

Councilman Westfall stated that bars are inspected regularly on a randomized inspection pattern.

Mayor Vernon commented on the violence occurring in schools.

Councilman Westfall commented that many cases occur at the High School, but police are not often called in until the third offense has occurred.

Councilman Nichols asked if knowledge of a crime would make a teacher an accessory.

Councilman Westfall mentioned the Counselors want to handle the cases without involving police if at all possible. He stated he tried to get the Police Department involved in the school activities, but nothing formal has been established.

Mayor Vernon stated that Councilman Nichols raised a good point.

Councilman Johnston stated in a case where there is selling of drugs the school should be aware they are an accessory and that it is a felony.

Councilman Westfall commented the school does not report to the Police Department in many cases.

The City Attorney stated there should be a meeting between the school administration and the City.

Councilman Westfall mentioned a couple of years ago there was talk of a liaison officer, but when a new principal was hired this was not pursued further.

Mayor Vernon asked that the City Attorney, City Manager and Councilman Westfall meet with the school and solicit their suggestions, and report back to the Council.

Communications: Resolution from Keego Harbor and the City of Novi opposing subsidy of the Pontiac Silverdome and its activities such as the Superbowl Football Game.

The City Attorney explained this was additional subsidy.

The City Manager stated the County subsidy is for the 1981 Superbowl Game and he would recommend that part of the resolution, and leave out the opposition to the $800,000 per year since the State taxpayers are committed to that by the State Legislature.

Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Gardner to adopt a resolution expressing opposition to taxpayers' subsidy of the Pontiac Silverdome and its activities such as the Superbowl Football Game, and that copies be sent to our Senators, Representatives and County Commissioners and to surrounding communities.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Resolution from the Wayne County Board of Commissioners recommending that all communities in Wayne County rigidly enforce anti-littering provisions of existing statutes and ordinances, and also consider the adoption of additional penalties as detailed in the resolution.

Mayor Vernon asked if there was much littering in the City of Northville.

The City Attorney commented that he has prosecuted some especially in the Mall Parking lot.

Mayor Vernon stated the DPW picks up tons of trash from the various parking lots. He directed the City Attorney to look at our present ordinance for possible updating and report back at the next meeting.

Communications from Citizens: Mr. Essie Nirider, Executive Director of the Chamber of Commerce, speaking on behalf of the Chamber and City merchants asked for permission to barricade the east half of the parking lot for the Farmers Market which will operate from July 13 through the first week in November. The market will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

Mayor Vernon stated Bud Hartner, Fire Chief, will be intensifying his work in this area.

Proposed amendment to Article VI of Zoning Ordinance: The City Manager stated the Planning Commission has had an opportunity to discuss and have proposed no changes in this amendment.

Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Gardner to publish the proposed Amendment to Article VI of the Zoning Ordinance for Public Hearing at the regular meeting August 7, 1978.

Limiting of commercial vehicular parking in residential areas: Next Meeting.

SEMOG population figures: Next Meeting.

Step 1 Facilities Plan — engineering proposal: The City Manager in a memo to Council explained that the City is participating with the Wayne County DPW in the Step One Facilities plan for the Huron Valley Interceptor Project. The Step One plan is a review and analysis of the existing sewer system to determine infiltration problems and other conditions needing correction. It is a requirement of the EPA in conjunction with the HVIP.

Each community selects its own engineering firm to conduct the study.

Mr. Gary Nixon of Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout was introduced to the Council. The firm was recommended by Moshier and Associates to the Township and has a solid background in this area.

Mr. Nixon presented a proposed contract to prepare the local Facilities Plan for the City of Northville.

The plan could result in grouting and minor patches of the present sewer during the study, thus actually reducing the City's sewage outflow to the County Interceptor.

Mr. Nixon asked the City Attorney if he had any problems with the contract.

The City Manager explained the services the City would achieve for this type of study and also mentioned McNeely and Lincoln requested permission to submit a proposal.

The proposals will be considered further at the July 24 meeting.

Close streets for sidewalk sale: Motion by Councilman Johnston support by Councilman Gardner to close Main Street and Center on Saturday, July 29 for the Sidewalk Sale, subject to supervision by City Manager and Police Department.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha support by Councilman Gardner to adopt a resolution and to authorize the Mayor and City Clerk to sign the contract subject to acceptance by the City Attorney.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

HB 6182: Communication from Representative Richard Fessler to Mayor Vernon asking for an opinion on HB 6182 which would allow the electorate of a city, whose boundaries encompass two or more counties to vote on which county they would prefer to be located in.

Mayor Vernon asked the Council for their opinions. He stated the governing body should be able to put the question on the ballot by resolution as well.

The City Attorney questioned whether the simple majority should carry the decision rather than a 60% majority.

It was also suggested that the ballot proposal designate which County was to be voted on as a single ballot question, and 60% of the electorate should carry.

Mayor Vernon would convey the thoughts of the Council to Representative Fessler.

Traffic sign upgrading contract resolution: Contracts were received from the State Highway Department to upgrade the signs in compliance with Federal Standards.

The City Manager stated the signs must be upgraded and the City will be reimbursed approximately 80% of the cost.

Next Agenda for discussion: Appointing a Planning Commission — Next Agenda.

Mayor Vernon appointed a committee of Councilman Gardner and Councilman DeRusha to discuss the roll of the Planning Commission with the Chairman and bring back to the next meeting.

Election Commission — The Mayor appointed Councilman Johnston to the Election Commission. Inasmuch as the City Attorney will be on the Primary Ballot, an opinion was asked of, but not received, from the Director of Elections, Mr. B. Apol, as to the appropriateness of his serving on the Commission as spelled out in the Charter. It was suggested the City appoint an Acting City Attorney to act in that capacity if appropriate.

Sale of bonds: A memo from the City Manager stating the Municipal Finance Commission approved the $200,000 10 Building Authority issue for the Allen Terrace sprinkler system and the $200,000 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund issue for widening Hutton Street at their July 5 meeting. Approval of the $140,000.00 issue for the Main Street Parking lot and the $100,000 issue for the Northville Estates Paving Assessments is expected at their July 11th meeting.

Since these bonds are being bid together, the bids should be received jointly by the City Council and the Building Authority. It is recommended that the bids be received at the Council meeting on August 7th.

Motion by Councilman Nichols support by Councilman Johnston to set the bid due date for August 7, 1978, subject to MFC approval of remaining issues.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Miscellaneous: Communication from the City Manager to Mr. & Mrs. Dale Gloer, 804 Springfield Drive, regarding their sewer back-up problem which occurred on March 31, 1978. The view of the City's insurance company is that since no negligence on the part of the City was involved, there is no insurance liability on the part of the City.

Communication from the Police Department extending an invitation to the Councilmen and families to attend the Police Department picnic on Saturday, July 15.

Councilman DeRusha mentioned the weeds growing in front and near the side of the Blvd. between the Condominiums on Eight Mile and wondered who was responsible for the cutting.

Meeting adjourned at 11:30.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan G. McAllister
City Clerk

County's future in Sewer in question

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) apparently is still leaning toward a super sewer alternative that would eliminate three Oakland County communities, Northville, and Plymouth from the regional wastewater treatment facilities, Novi area officials said following a meeting in the controversial project.

"I came away with the feeling that they were going to leave Commerce out," said township environmentalist Dan Shapiro.

"I got that impression somewhat," added Novi City Manager Ed Kriewall, "but, then again Northville Township said they didn't want a larger plant upstream."

Discussion during the two-hour session also centered around projected population figures and capacity for each of the 18 communities in the super sewer study area as well as up-dated cost estimates, Shapiro said.

EPA officials also announced that a draft environmental impact statement (EIS) on the several alternatives to super sewer will be released in mid-August, about two weeks later than expected. A public hearing on the alternatives will be held sometime in September, but must be at least 30 days after the draft EIS is published in "The Federal Register."

Kriewall described last Wednesday's meeting with the EPA as "somewhat worthwhile" since the officials discussed allocation of capacity in the proposed system.

The Novi manager said he also had an opportunity to object to some of the alternatives that have been proposed.

One of those plans calls for dropping Commerce, Novi and Walled Lake from the regional facility, with possible expansion of the existing Walled Lake- Novi treatment plant to serve the area. Plymouth and Northville would have "some capacity redistributed in the Rouge system," Shapiro explained, with a scaled-down super sewer serving the area from Canton Township south to Lake Erie.

Another proposal calls for extending the super sewer interceptor lines to mid-Nov, with the area from northern Novi to Commerce served by an expanded Walled Lake- Novi plant.

Several years ago, Novi sought approval for the construction of a treatment plant in the Nine Mile Road area, Kriewall said, but the request was denied.

"That was fine with us," the manager said, "as long as they give us capacity (in super sewer)."

Novi's main concern at this point, he added, is whether enough sewer capacity will be available to serve the city in the future.

"We're paying for the studies and we want to make sure that the capacity is large enough," Kriewall said.

Since the EPA and Wayne County officials are discussing several plans that call for scaled-down versions, or phasing, of super sewer, Kriewall said he felt that solution could pose problems in terms of a system that will not be able to handle Novi's future needs.

"I know the feds look at these things for a 20-year projection," the manager said, "but it's like the (I-96 and Novi Road) intersection. They do something and then 10 or 15 years later they have to improve or expand it and that just costs more money."

Another alternative to super sewer, the so-called decentralization plan, calls for expansion of existing plants to handle increased capacity with new development. Several environmental groups have supported that proposal, saying that the effluent would add to low water flow in rivers and cause less pollution of Lake Erie, in addition to costing less than the capital expenditures for the regional system.

However, Kriewall said the decentralized plan would affect water courses with miniscule flow and would cost more for operation and maintenance.

The Novi manager also speculated that Northville, Plymouth and other downstream municipalities may oppose any alternative to expand the Novi-Walled Lake plant because of possible environmental impacts on their communities.

Commerce Supervisor Robert Long also has noted that expansion of the Novi-Walled Lake plant apparently would exceed effluent flow guidelines established by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) and added that a state Water Resources Commission report of several years ago listed impacts of the local treatment plant on other communities.

Other problems could be posed by taking drainage from the Huron River watershed and distributing it into Rouge River facilities, the Commerce officials said.

The new cost estimates range from $27,034,000 to upgrade and expand six existing wastewater treatment plants to $207,001,000 for a modified super sewer facilities extending from Commerce to Brownstown Township.

Average annual operation and maintenance costs range from $2,943,000 for expansion of existing facilities to $5,044,000 for super sewer, according to Wayne County Department of Public Works.

The regional system or an approved alternative are expected to be funded by the federal government (75 percent), state (five percent) and local communities (20 percent).

The Commerce Township Board last week approved a contract to pay its share of the cost for the phase two engineering of the facilities. Novi already has okayed the pact, and Walled Lake is expected to receive the contract in the near future.

JAMES R. KILLEEN, WAYNE COUNTY CLERK

School's finance head is leaving

Thomas Goulding, who supervised the Northville school system's emergence from a $154,000 deficit, surprised the school board Monday night by resigning.

Goulding, 31, has accepted the position of director of business and operation with the Livingston County school district of Hartland.

The board accepted "with regret" Goulding's resignation effective August 31 "subject to the appointment of a qualified replacement."

Acting superintendent Burton Knighton, who was "shocked" Monday when he learned of the resignation, said it would be "difficult if not impossible" to find a successor by the August 11 date originally requested by Goulding.

He said he would seek an arrangement with Hartland Superintendent Harold Bessert to share Goulding during the end of August and beginning of September.

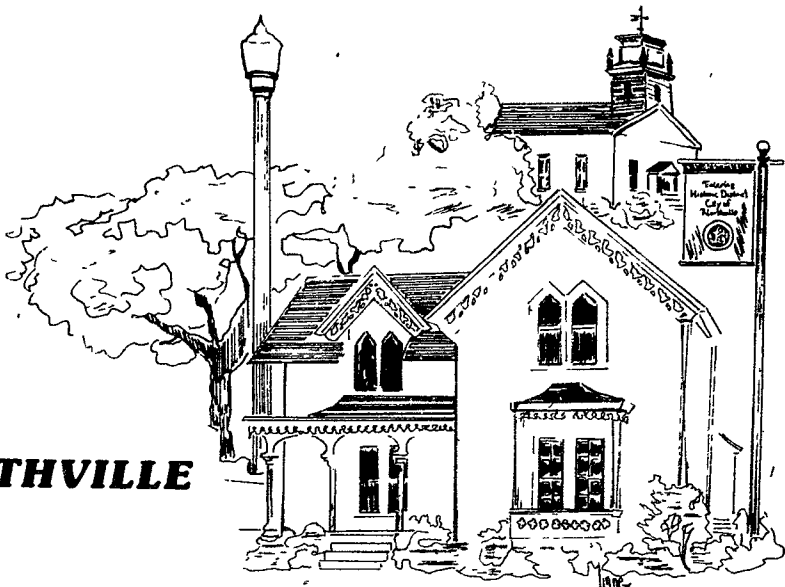

This time of year is critical in the school's budget process, said Knighton.

Goulding, who has been at Northville for four years, said the move was an opportunity for professional growth.

Although his title at Northville has been administrative assistant for finance, Goulding has been, in effect, the district's business manager.

When he arrived in the district in 1974, Northville was reeling from a $154,000 deficit. Last September, Plante and Moran, the school's accountants, gave the district a clean bill of health and verified a small fund equity.

"We're very sorry to lose you," board President Douglas Whitaker told Goulding Monday. "We appreciate your contributions and wish you the best of luck."

THOMSON

'I don't like to see Northville threatened'

bent's dishonesty.

"I made up my mind more than a year ago that in no way would I let him (Grier) go unopposed. This man, I am convinced, just has not been honest with the people."

Asked to explain what he meant by labeling the supervisor "dishonest," he cited these examples:

• Property misuse — "It upsets me that on the morning of the big snow, in January, I saw the township water and sewer (department) trucks plowing out the Park Haus (restaurant) parking lot. I asked the driver, Mr. Brent Ashby, what he was doing and he said, 'Mr. Grier told me to do it.' " To use township equipment for a business he's involved with is improper, to use township equipment for any private work is improper, said Thomson.

• Questionable ethics — Shortly after his election, the supervisor advised Thomson, in the presence of the township building inspector, to go ahead with his (Thomson's) plan to build a laundromat and that he (Grier) would see to it that Thomson received all the natural gas needed — provided that he (Grier) received "a piece of the action," charged Thomson.

• Contract violation — At the time the township waived water and sewer fees to Glenn Long Plumbing for work at township hall, Grier said neither the contract nor the bid specifications require payment. Yet payment is specifically required in writing, said Thomson.

• Lying — The supervisor, said Thomson, lied to a citizen, Joseph Fiorilli, at a March meeting by saying the salary review board had met "all year" to discuss proposed new salaries and that it subsequently gave a recommendation to the township board. Thomson, who serves on the salary board, said the salary board had not met, had not given a recommendation to the township board. Furthermore, contrary to the statements of Treasurer Richard Henningsen and Trustee John Swienkowski, Salary Review Board Chairman Con Carson had not attended any of the budget studies and had not given his lone recommendation to Grier or to the township board.

• Grand View Acres — "He is a neighbor in my subdivision and not once has he taken a stand on the zoning issue — either as a resident of the subdivision or as a supervisor. I don't think that's being honest. I don't expect him to vote nor should he vote on that issue, but I think he should tell the people what he believes."

Asked for his own position on the Seven Mile Road zoning issue, Thomson said that while the developer may have the needed zoning on his side he (Thomson) sympathizes with fellow residents of adjacent Grand View Acres subdivision. Had the developer gone ahead with his original plans, citizens of Grand View Acres may not have liked it but they would have accepted it, said Thomson. But now, after a change in those plans and nothing having been developed, the people have a right to claim the property should be reverted to its residential classification.

"They (developers) have not been honest with the people" (in not going ahead with their original plans) "so therefore I have got to side with (adjacent property owners)..."

"I think now that (the developer) has approval for his multiples in the rear portion of the property there's no reason why the front portion shouldn't be rezoned R-2 (single family housing). I think it would be good for the community, good certainly for Grand View Acres, and good for the multiples."

Asked how, if he were supervisor, he would handle a situation in which a developer asked him out to lunch to discuss a development plan before its presentation to the planning commission, Thomson said, "I wouldn't go. I don't think that sort of thing is proper..."

"This is one of the reasons I'm running for office. I have a tendency to believe that the present administration is giving the developers a lot of green lights, a lot of easy avenues of development."

Reminded that he, too, is a businessman in Northville Township, he was asked if he thought this would be a conflict of interest. Thomson said he does not envision his business associations producing a conflict. (He owns Choo Choo Car Wash and is an owner of the Thomson gravel pit operation). However, if a matter dealing with his business should come before the township board, Thomson said he would abstain from voting.

Thomson insisted that, if elected, he would not mix his private business with his public business.

He said he is prepared to devote full time to the job of supervisor or whatever time is required, attending to his private business in evenings and on weekends.

Relative to the gravel pit operation, Thomson said that whether or not he is elected, township residents need not worry that the gravel pits (located off West Seven Mile Road) will ever be used for landfills. "My family doesn't want it (landfill) and the state would not permit it because of the lakes on the land," he said.

Thomson avoided criticism of the performance of the new township fire department, but he strongly disagreed with township officials' contention that the department is costing the township less money than had the previous joint fire service with the city.

He admitted having no substantiated figures to back up his statement, but Thomson persisted: "I cannot believe they are doing it with less money..."

"We've got $16,000 wrapped up in a new fire chief, $6,000 to $7,000 for the fire chief's new car. So there's about $22,000 for just one man driving around in an automobile. For about $10,000 more than we've got wrapped up in one person we had the entire department under the joint service."

The Republican challenger for supervisor took the position that the township department, because of its location, best serves the eastern section of the township. "I can appreciate why the people in those sections like the fire department. But what about the people in the other sections?"

Instead of developing costly fire stations in the western section of the township, Thomson suggested the township consider contracting with the city to provide the service there. He suggested the township compare costs between development of another station and a city contract before expending any more money for expansion.

Thomson strongly believes that the joint recreation and library services should continue, arguing that the incumbent while saying he is for joint services is actually an opponent.

It was obvious, he said, that back at the time Grier was pushing for construction of a township library building that his motive was to dissolve the joint library service. At that time Grier told citizens, at a public hearing, that the library had to be built or the township would lose its grant monies said Thomson, pointing out that now, after his statement was proved wrong, Grier is telling people he's a big promoter of this joint service.

As for the joint recreation department, Thomson said this service must be preserved and that whether or not he becomes supervisor he will fight any attempt by Grier and the township board to eliminate it.

According to the challenger, Thomson Field, located on Six Mile Road was developed and donated by his mother, in memory of his father, for use by the community recreation department for a $1 a year lease.

"A year ago when the first five year lease was up on Thomson Field, Grier asked me if I would lease the field to the township instead of the recreation department. I asked him why, and he said 'we haven't decided but we might go our own way (separate recreation department).' That's when I became convinced this man (Grier) was intent on splitting up every joint service he could. I told him I would not tolerate use of the field unless it were available to the entire community (city and township)."

Joint services are essential in Northville, said Thomson, because of the close relationship of citizens of both the city and township.

Relative to the grant money that Grier warned would be lost if it were not used for construction of a township library building, Thomson said it is another indication that Grier intentionally misleads people to gain their support.

"Now, for example, he's telling the people in Park Gardens Subdivision that he's been working diligently to have their sewers built with grant monies that he requested and received for that purpose. What he doesn't say is that the grant is the same money that he was insisting a few months ago must be used for the library."

"He's also misleading Park Gardens people in that he is telling them the money will build their sewers. But it isn't true. The township engineer has stated that at best the money will cover only the cost of engineering and layout and possibly one pumping station."

Stopped prison; started fire department

"I obviously don't like the comments I'm hearing in his door-to-door campaign because they are innuendos with no factual substantiation. I think his biggest problem is that he thinks the job of supervisor is a parttime job, that he can do the job in three to four hours a day and spend the rest of his time working on his personal business."

Asked when Thomson stated he viewed the job as a parttime one, Grier said, "He indicated that at several of the coffees he has had."

The incumbent said that he personally spends 60 to 80 hours a week on township work, and he volunteers additional time working with various other county officials on projects of interest to local people.

"You have to have total involvement and if you don't, the community's going to suffer. You have to have input, and that opinion has to be respected by other officials," he said, pointing out that today because of his leadership role the office of Northville township supervisor is respected throughout the county and he is regularly called upon to lend his assistance.

Grier cited two projects during his first two years in office for which he is most proud: establishment of the township fire department and the successful stopping of a state prison for the Wayne County Child Development.

Concerning the latter, the supervisor conceded that others also assisted in the fight against the prison but he claimed chief responsibility for the success of the anti-prison campaign — primarily because of his leadership qualities.

Noting that the present mayor of the city, Paul Vernon, "flatly refused to have anything to do with spearheading (the campaign), Grier said he assumed the leadership. It's an example of where no one else was willing to take the responsibility."

"We had a tremendous amount of support from a lot of people, but there was no one, in my personal opinion, who was more predominate in getting that job than I was..."

"I think if you put it on the line, I led the (anti-prison campaign), and everyone else was a follower."

Grier counts formation of the township fire department as the greatest achievement of the current board.

"It was the best move we've made. We've done the job for less money or the same money that we were paying over a year to the City of Northville which was providing less out of one place."

"Northville Township is growing; we've got every place to grow...The board of trustees, in trying to meet the growth needs of Northville Township, made the decision that we needed more and better fire protection. We made the decision that in (this) growing urban area we needed some very qualified people, and we sought out those people, and we now have them on staff."

And the board, he added, will not be content to rest on that single achievement. It is trying to keep ahead of the growth of the township, he explained, by planning for another fire station at Seven Mile and Beck roads.

He said the board intends to continue using the existing fire hall as long as it can, even after the township hall complex is opened. Thus, he sees three fire stations serving the community in the foreseeable future — Seven Mile and Beck, the new township hall complex, and the Child Development Center station.

Concerning remaining joint services with the city, Grier said he strongly favors their continuation and improvement and has no plans to discontinue them. He emphasizes, however, that future decisions must necessarily be dependent on the quality of service to township residents.

"The people of the township are my first priority."

Grier sees city officials as being among his chief critics because, he said, they fail to recognize that as the township supervisor he must first see that the needs of the township are satisfied.

One of the greatest failings of the City of Northville, he said, is that it (the city) "believes the wheel rotates around it, that it is the hub of the organization." That's ridiculous, he added, pointing out that the township has a "tremendously larger tax base, tremendously larger population, and we are going to have to pick up the major interest in all joint services as we go down the line. And that tells me that they will control some and that we will control some if they continue to be city and township oriented and jointly operated. It does not mean that the city will have the final and ultimate say."

Concerning city-township relationships, Grier said "the first decision that must be made by each member of the board of trustees is that their (actions) must be in the best interest of the taxpayers of the township and what is good for them."

"And if we can help (the city) I think we should go out of our way to help. But I believe the city council has had its nose up in the air for a long time over our brother-sister relationship. It has not yet recognized that we are the (chief) entity."

"Ninety percent of the people of the township love the City of Northville. But they will be damned if they will accept the taxes levied in the city."

Grier bristles when it is suggested that some of his opponents believe he "cuts corners" to accommodate developers or private interest groups.

"The office of supervisor is always open, and anybody who requests a meeting will get it. There is no question that developers come into the township every day of the week, small and big, to ask questions. I'm the policy maker and the information giver, as chief executive, so when a developer comes in

Primary 78 down

Response deadline: Monday noon

Originally it was planned that this newspaper would conduct joint interviews with the two candidates for Northville Township supervisor and publish their responses on August 2, the last edition of The Record before the August 8 primary election.

Because it was necessary to hold the interviews separately, and because of the nature of the statements made by both candidates, they are being published this week to permit response from citizens or the candidates themselves.

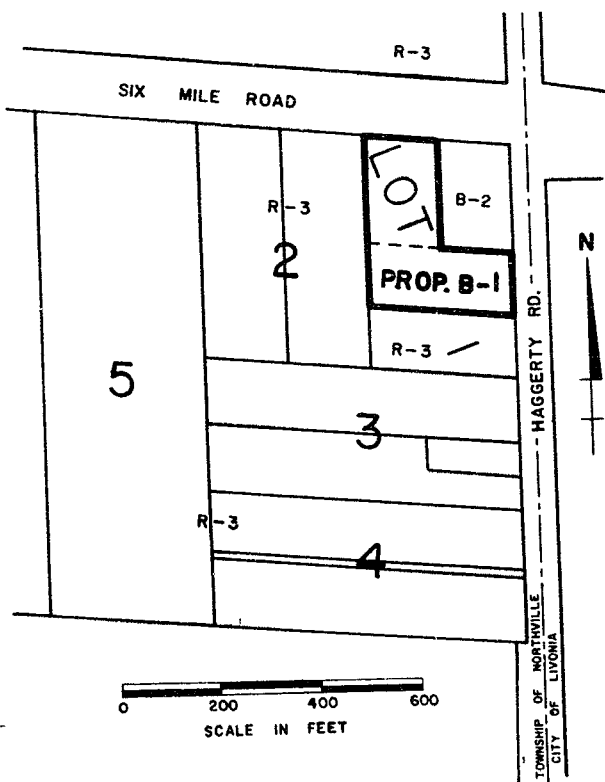

The Record reminds readers of its policy regarding letters, however. First, the deadline is Monday noon; secondly, letters must contain the signatures of the writers (even when requesting names to be withheld), and addresses and telephone numbers; third, letters must not exceed 500 words. Remember, too, that in the case of political candidates, advocating a vote for a candidate is not permitted. Such points of view are permitted in paid advertisements. But readers may challenge or support issues or points of fact.

In next week's (August 2) edition The Record will publish interviews conducted with township candidates for clerk and treasurer. Elsewhere in this edition (Page 12A) responses from all township candidates to questions posed by the League of Women Voters are published. Also a unique interview with candidates for the 35th District Court appears on next page.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE PLANNING COMMISSION

At a meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission to be held on Tuesday, August 15, 1978: a public hearing will be held at 8:00 P.M. to consider the following:

TO REZONE FROM R-3, SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT TO B-1, (LOCAL) BUSINESS DISTRICT:

Lots 51, 52, 53 and the South 130 feet of Lot 54 of Grand View Acres, being a subdivision of part of the S.W. 1/4 of section 1, T. 1 S., R. 8 E., Northville Township, Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in liber 51 of plats, page 13, Wayne County records.

All interested parties will be given an opportunity to participate in the hearing and at the close of the hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Northville Township Planning Commission before making its decision.

A copy of the item scheduled for hearing is on file in the office of the Township Clerk for public examination during regular business hours.

WILLIAM J. BOHAN, CHAIRMAN
Northville Township Planning Commission

Publish: July 26, 1978
August 9, 1978

Correction of legal appearing on page 12-D Changing B-2, Gen. Business to B-1, Local Business and wants appropriate materials on a piece of property I tell them about zoning, give them the necessary manuals. I tell them past policies of the planning commission. I don't and can't make decisions for the planning commission, but I certainly can give them and private citizens all available administrative information I possibly can.

"It is public information and I go out of my way to see that they get it."

"I have never met with any developers to 'cut any deals' for my own specific interest. Never. The innuendo there by the other side, that I am lining my pockets with money to the township's detriment is utterly ridiculous. None of the people (developers) need me to further their game. They are tremendously wealthy in their own right and they don't need a small peon like me to get their plans passed in Northville Township."

Relative to his business association with Art Jahn, Grier said he is co-owner of a real estate corporation with Jahn and is a consultant for Jahn in other business endeavors. None of these associations constitute a conflict of interest and in no case, declared the supervisor, has he used his office to benefit his business activities.

Grier said he is not and has not been an owner of the now closed Park Haus Restaurant. Earlier statements made to the press, he said, may have suggested ownership but only because he had "an interest in becoming an owner" as permitted by an option he holds.

He said he has not worked at the Park Haus since becoming supervisor, that when he has been seen there it was only as a person offering advice to Jahn.

The controversy over recent salary increases made by the township board, Grier said this is another example of the innuendos used by his opponent to discredit him (supervisor).

Salary increases were granted by the board, he emphasized, not by the supervisor. "I am just one person on the seven member board and have only one vote."

Grier said that while Thomson, a member of the Salary Review Board, may not have had any input in the salary decisions it was only because he did not attend open budget sessions. The supervisor insisted that a recommendation was given the township board by the chairman of the salary review board. "There is no question, I, the board of trustees, received a written letter of (salary) recommendations from Mr. Con Carson (salary review board chairman)." And, he added, those recommendations were made after Carson had polled other members, Grier said.

The supervisor said he supports "charter township" government "for one reason, and that is that it further protects the boundaries and the tax base of Northville Township."

Should the township opt to take "charter" status, Grier said he will insist that, before the township can raise taxes to the five-mill limit as permitted, people will be given the opportunity to approve or disapprove that increase. In other words, voters would first have an opportunity to vote on charter township then later, when and if a tax increase to the five mill level is required, they would vote on that tax increase as well.

He emphasized that the township "will never" have the tax rate of the city. "We don't need it and it just isn't going to occur."

"For five or six mills in Northville Township the world can be had. We can do almost anything, in my opinion. The City of Northville will never be able to say that again. They just can't do it. They are up a tree without a ladder to come down, and I think they are going to begin now, at this particular time, because of other taxes imposed upon the residents, to feel the irate and irony of the citizens of Northville."

Relative to the controversial zoning issue adjacent to his subdivision, Grand View Acres, Grier said it would be improper for him to comment prior to the planning commission's recommendation and before it comes to the township board. At the time the matter comes up to the board, however, Grier said he would definitely state his opinion and also cast a vote on the matter even though he is an adjacent property owner.

Grier said he has been instructed by the township attorney that no member of the township board may legally abstain from voting on any matter coming before it.

On the adjacent property, which already has been earmarked for multiples development, Grier indicated no objections to it, pointing out that he lives immediately next to it and that it does not frighten him nor does he ever plan to move because of it. If anyone should be upset about that development, he said, it would be himself but he is not disturbed by it.

Forum set

Candidates for Northville Township Board office will face the electorate Thursday, August 3 in a public forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

The forum will be held at the Northville Township Hall at 8 p.m. Although only township candidates will be permitted to speak, other candidates for other offices who may be present will be introduced, said the League's Voter Service Chairperson, Gretchen Pugsley.

Each township candidate, she said, will be asked to speak for four minutes on a topic related to his or her candidacy in this election.

Following these presentations by candidates, questions by the audience, directed at the candidates will be permitted.

Candidates on trial

Guilty? It depends on who's judge

By LENORE BECHTEL

The seven candidates running for the newly created second judgeship for 35th District Court handed down varying decisions in a case given to them by The Record.

The case involved a 47-year old grandmother who was arrested on Beer Hill at 8:30 p.m. after police found almost a pound of marijuana in a brown paper bag in the floor of the front seat of her car.

The judge candidates were told to assume that the search of her car and the arrest were legal, and they were given this information about the defendant:

The woman is divorced, with no children to support, and she works part-time. She is courteous and reasonably articulate in talking to the judge. Her only defense is she claims she did not know the marijuana was in her car. (The law reads that a person is not in possession unless the person knows she has the marijuana.) She says she doesn't know how the marijuana got in her car, but she assumes it was left there by a hitch-hiker whom she picked up.

Here's what the judge candidates had to say:

Maurice M. Breen: Number one is that she carries the presumption of innocence. Second, it's up to the prosecution to prove the facts before the court beyond reasonable doubt on the part of the "trier of the facts" — the judge. Assuming that as judge I was convinced beyond a reasonable doubt by the presentation of evidence that this person was indeed guilty of the crime of possession, I would find her guilty.

I would ask for a pre-sentence report, and depending upon what the pre-sentence report had to say, I would sentence accordingly. I don't think age, sex, color or personal characteristics has anything to do with the determination of guilt or innocence, nor to the severity or leniency of the sentence.

James N. Garber: My thought processes are: what's a 47-year-old grandmother doing on Beer Hill? I know what goes on there, and I can't put that out of my mind. It might be important to know where she lived and what her knowledge is of the area. If she lived in the area, with all the notoriety Beer Hill has received, my inclination is she'd know what goes on there. I'd want to know what she was doing there. One answer might be she was selling marijuana.

I would hope the police work would be thorough. The implication is she's there selling. I'd want to know why they didn't wait and watch for a sale.

Based upon only the facts you've given me, I would find her not guilty. There's reasonable doubt about her knowledge of the marijuana. My thought processes tell me she's guilty, but my legal training tells me there's a reasonable doubt in my mind.

Walter J. Guth Jr.: How I would rule would depend upon her credibility. I would look at her, see whether I thought she was truthful, evaluate her attitude in answering questions — whether she's direct or evasive. If she appears truthful and has not had any prior convictions, I would probably find her not guilty.

I would want a real good explanation of why she was at Beer Hill in the first place. She would have to be an awful strong, credible person for me to find her not guilty. It bothers me that she's at Beer Hill, an area notorious for drug traffic. I would strongly suspect she was a seller or pusher, but the prosecution has the burden of proving guilt. If her testimony would create a reasonable doubt in my mind, I would find her not guilty.

Allen C. Ingle: I would find her not guilty. I think you have to establish the fact that she knowingly knew the marijuana was there. Unless the prosecution can produce better evidence, I think she's entitled to a reasonable doubt.

Assuming the search was legal, it becomes a question of what the police really stopped her for. If the marijuana was within reasonable view, it's foolish to think she would knowingly leave it in reasonable view. Based upon what you tell me, I'd be inclined to find her not guilty.

Craig L. John: I wouldn't believe her, assuming that the police officer's testimony is credible and there's no aura of police misconduct. I would have doubts in my mind as to a person overlooking a large paper bag on the floorboard of a front seat after picking up a hitch-hiker. If someone picked up a hitch-hiker, he'd notice something like a brown paper bag. I'd have to find her guilty of the crime charged.

One of the most important factors in sentencing is what the background of the person is like. It appears we have someone who's not in possession of marijuana for her own use and is in possession for the purpose of sale. Based on that factor and the age of the person involved, she should have some type of punishment that's more than a slap on the wrist — incarceration, possibly.

She's transgressed criminal law and possibly taken advantage of her position to affect the youth of our area in a manner that should not be countenanced by citizens of our area. As long as it's illegal or criminal to possess and sell marijuana, the law should be enforced and persons punished accordingly.

Philip Ogilvie: Any judge in making a decision on a case must place a great deal of reliance upon the manner of testifying of all the parties involved. I would have to have heard the testimony of the defendant and the arresting officer, and from that make a judgment of who, in my opinion, was telling the truth. There are little mannerisms, hesitations in giving testimony — these are the type of things a judge must evaluate in making a decision about the guilt or innocence of a person.

My inclination about this case, based on the fact she is a 47-year old grandmother and is at Beer Hill, would be to disbelieve some hitch-hiker left the marijuana in the car. Generally, a 47-year-old woman should not pick up a hitch-hiker and be on Beer Hill, known locally for a place for the sale of drugs.

Aloysius J. Suchy: One of the things I think judging is all about is to attempt to assess the demeanor, the candor, the truthfulness of the witness, and I can't do that over a telephone. If she is found guilty after a fair trial, I'm a firm believer that anybody caught in possession of a controlled substance, particularly those in the drug area, in a quantity which would lead me to believe they are a seller rather than a user — in my opinion that person requires incarceration.

I would view the man who stands in a school yard selling heroin and other drugs to students as just as bad as if he stood there with a machine gun mowing them down. He's killing them. These individuals have to be segregated from society. I can't really tell you what disposition I would make in this case except to tell you philosophically: if I found her guilty, sentence would be imposed. She'd be given time.

How Davis Ruled

In a similar case in 35th District Court, Judge Dunbar Davis found the woman guilty. "She must have known the marijuana was there," Davis said. "The bag was big, on the front seat floor."

He expressed doubt that a hitch-hiker would have left the marijuana in the car. "It's very valuable," he said. "That's like leaving $300 behind."

He also considered the fact that the arrest was made at Beer Hill as significant. "There's a difference between smoking one marijuana joint and going there to sell it," he said.

In sentencing the woman, who had no previous record, Davis considered her attitude in court. "She was courteous, but I thought she wasn't remorseful," he said, "and the circumstantial evidence was very convincing."

He sentenced her to five days in the house of correction. Possession of marijuana is a misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum sentence of one year, a maximum fine of $1,000, or both.

Court Problems

While praising Davis for his handling of the large number of cases coming before the 35th District Court, all seven judge candidates said they felt the overcrowded docket was the biggest problem facing the court. Several pointed out that the 35th District Court handles almost twice as many cases as any other single-judge district and that the growth in the Canton area will result in even more cases in court. They feel the problem will be solved with the addition of the second judgeship.

Probation Department

Stressing that the probation department is vital to the local criminal justice system, the candidates had this to say:

Breen: I believe that the probation system can be structured to identify and supervise the young offenders and to separate those who can be "good citizens" from those who might continue on as frequent criminal offenders. I believe that with the prevalence of drug and alcohol offenses that a probation department staffed by competent personnel drawn from the community at large can best direct the efforts of these individuals toward self-help and treatment as necessary.

Guth: The probation department is like any other tool: It should be used in an appropriate manner.... The primary purpose (of the probation department) is rehabilitation of the defendant, and that's tied in with punishment. The judge has to look at each case on its individual merit and then apply the type of punishment that will not only protect the rights of society and the victim and the defendant, but create respect in the defendant for society so that he will not do it again.

Ingle: When I used to be a justice, we were successful in obtaining the first right to put people on probation. I think it's important to have a probation department, but at the same time I don't think it should be overworked. Probation should be for those whom the court feels deserves it and not an automatic procedure.

Garber: Statistics show that 50 percent of crimes are being committed by kids 18 years old and under.... The only way to rehabilitate anyone is to have some relationship between the probation officer and the person. You can't do that with a case load of 100 to 150, as they have in circuit court and juvenile court. I'd personally like to see the cases processed through juvenile court referred back to the district with a beef-up probation department.... There might be some minor difficulty involved with the law, but nothing that would be insurmountable.

John: I think the probation department is indispensable in dealing with offenders who have not exhibited either a violent or assaultive type nature, or who have not exhibited a conscious choice to engage in criminal activity. A probation department can help in terms of advising a judge as to what type of punishment fits the crime, but in the final analysis, it's the judge who must decide... what society will require of the offender for his actions: rehabilitation or incarceration.

Ogilvie: Without a probation department, the court cannot get the background information necessary to make a proper judicial determination on the cases. When I was municipal judge for the City of Northville, I instituted the voluntary probation department which was expanded to serve the entire district when Judge Davis was elected as district judge. I would like to be able to further expand the voluntary probation department to permit us to handle our juvenile offenders placed on probation by the Wayne County Probate Court, juvenile division. This might require some legislative change, and I would work to accomplish this.

Suchy: I don't think a trial judge can make a proper disposition without having an appropriate investigation or presentence report. In many instances where the disposition of a case requires follow-up supervision of a defendant, certainly a probation department is essential. In fact, there is legislation dealing with precisely the problem of change in the probation services as it applies to district court. House bill 6570 wouldn't have been introduced unless there is a recognition of the need and value of probation services in connection with district courts.

Familiarity with Area and Qualifications

Breen: I've lived in Plymouth Township since 1962, and I have been active in both civic organizations, such as the Plymouth Jaycees, and appointed and elected political offices. I was chairman of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, was Plymouth Township Supervisor and am presently Plymouth Township trustee.

I've also practiced law in the area continuously since 1967, and the law practice has brought me in continuous and frequent contact with the 35th District Court. I believe I'm qualified to serve as district judge because the job of district judge entails a knowledge of the community and of the people, as well as a competency in the law.

Guth: Since 1970, when I moved into the Plymouth area, I've been very active in the legal affairs of the community. I've been a practicing lawyer since 1948 and have tried cases in federal court, circuit court and been admitted to practice in the Michigan Supreme Court and the U.S. Supreme Court. I also sat as magistrate in Livonia, quite a busy court, for a year.

Ingle: I've lived in the area since 1965, and I've practiced in both the Plymouth and the Northville courts. I have several clients that reside in the area, and I've become acquainted with the different parts of the area.

I had 12 years of judicial experience prior to moving to the district, and I've handled over 50,000 criminal and civil cases during that period of time. I've been in general practice as an attorney since 1949, and I feel I have a very good background both in criminal and civil cases, both from an attorney's standpoint and a judicial standpoint.

Garber: I've lived here for 25 years. I've served in appointed government offices, been president of the Jaycees, was one of the co-founders and chairman of the board of the YMCA, and president of the church council, the PTA, and a local homeowners' group. I've been a lawyer for 20 years and chief of the criminal division of the prosecutor's office for several years.

For three years I was executive director of the Criminal Justice Institute, the largest police academy in Michigan. Over the last eight or nine years I've been in 44 states as a consultant or lecturer and was consultant to the Michigan State Supreme Court, the Institute of Judicial Information and the Presidential Commission on Standards and Goals for Criminal Justice.

I've prosecuted, defended, represented plaintiffs and defendants, and been consultant to courts. The only spectrum I've never served at is as a judge, and frankly, I think I'd make a pretty good one.

John: Admittedly, I'm a newcomer to the Canton, Plymouth, Northville area. I've been here approximately two years. Knowing the area is not as important to a judge as knowing the needs of people who come to the judicial system. Any experience a person has in dealing with problems of people is transferable to whatever area he hopes to serve in whatever capacity.

I think that the youthful enthusiasm I have and the experience I've had in all levels of courts would make me a good judge. I am presently a trial attorney for the prosecutor's office. I think this experience has given me a good insight into how courts operate, the problems, courts can face, and — if courts don't face their problems when they arise — the extreme difficulty courts can get into in terms of turning off the average citizen who must come in and deal with the system. I think it's time the people who come to court are dealt with as if they are important people, as if their problems were meaningful and as consuming as the litigants themselves feel, they are.

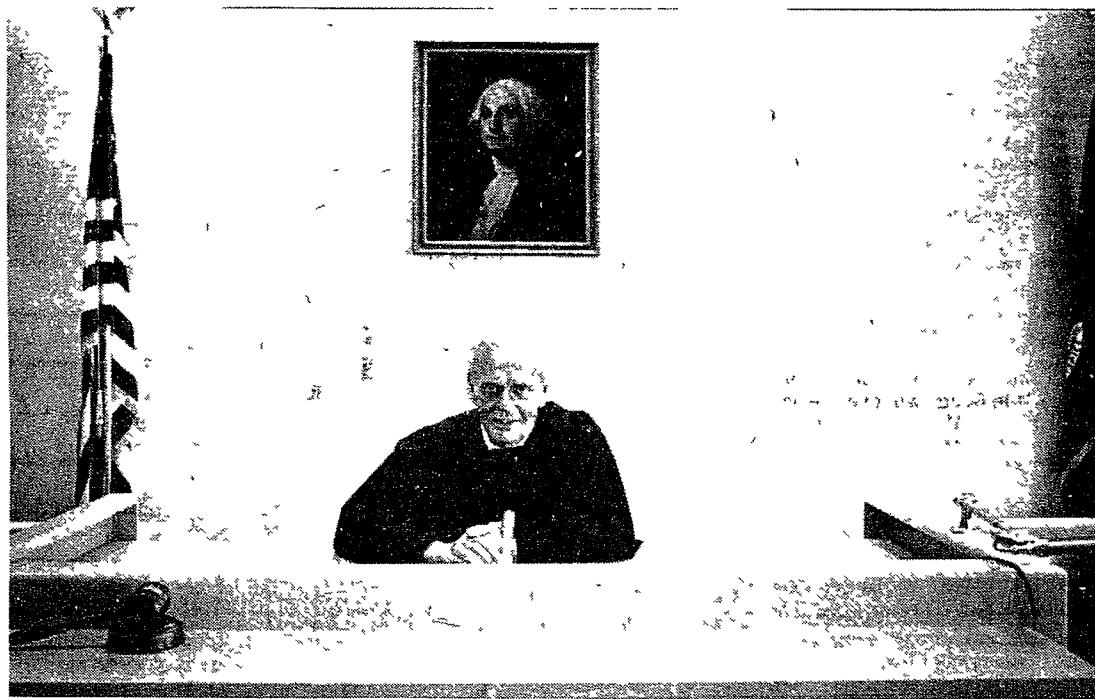

Ogilvie: I've lived out here 29 years and practiced law all that time in the 35th District area. As Northville city attorney, I have almost daily contact with the court and feel I'm very familiar with all its working and problems. I have been village and city attorney for over 23 years, and I served as municipal judge. I am prosecutor of all the city ordinance violation cases, and I have been working for the district court since its inception on almost a daily basis.

Suchy: I've lived there, I'm active in the community, and I'm the vice-president and member of the board of directors of the Lexington Condo Home Owners' Association.

I don't think the knowledge of the area is completely essential to being an effective judge. I think it's far more important that a judge know the law, that he have extensive trial and appellate experience, that he have experience in a responsible decision-making position — which is what the business of judging is all about.

I've been a practicing attorney for 30 years, and for the last 17 years I've headed the legal department of Wayne County — the third largest county of the United States. I supervise a staff of approximately 25 attorneys in a host of areas of the law. I have had extensive trial and appellate experience and was involved in the U.S. Supreme Court in two landmark cases.

I've argued about 30 cases in the Michigan Supreme Court and spent ten years as faculty member for University of Detroit and Wayne State University. As former chief of the civil division of the prosecutor's office and as corporation counsel for Wayne for the last seven years, I have dealt with all 43 communities in the county of Wayne. I'm conversant with many of their problems.

JUDGE DUNBAR DAVIS—"It's a fascinating job," Davis says of his judgeship in 35th District Court. He is running unopposed for the post he has held since 1969.

Dunbar's job 'fascinating'; enjoys hearing fairy tales

By LENORE BECHTEL

District Court Judge Dunbar Davis likes his job, and he's going to keep it.

No candidate is challenging him as he seeks re-election to his six-year post in the 35th District Court, where he has presided since the district court system was created in Michigan in January 1969.

"It's a fascinating job," Davis said. "I've always said being a judge is as near as you can get to being like a king in the fairy tales who have people telling them jokes and stories all day long."

But the jokes and stories are not fictional, and neither are the fines and sentences he imposes. "I'm lenient in some matters and not so lenient in others," he said. "I have one idiosyncrasy — I'm rough on men who hurt women and children."

In one recent case, the soft-spoken, grandfatherly judge accepted a guilty plea from a man charged with assault and battery upon his wife and promptly gave him the maximum sentence — 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

Davis holds court at the Northville Municipal Building and Plymouth City Hall, and the cases vary according to the location.

In Northville many trespassing cases involve young people illegally swimming in the gravel pit between Griswold Road and the Highland Lakes subdivision. These are easy because most plead guilty, he said.

At one time there were many charges of disorderly conduct against spectators at Northville Downs. These cases were eliminated after the law was changed in January 1977, and it is no longer an offense to be drunk in public.

In Plymouth, many cases involve shoplifting, larceny, assault and battery and civil cases of one person suing another. In both courts Davis hears numerous cases involving drunk driving, traffic offenses and the possession of Marijuana.

One year in DeHoCo is the stiffest penalty the judge can impose. On more serious cases — armed robbery, murder and breaking and entering — he conducts a preliminary examination and binds the cases over to the circuit court.

His most interesting case involved a man whom he dealt with in two courts. Davis was visiting judge in Inkster when a man charged with felonious assault on a police officer was brought before him.

Police, who observed the man committing a minor traffic violation, followed him in a patrol car.

The man kept driving faster and faster, going through a traffic light at high speed and finally wrecking his car in a wooded area. As he tried to flee, he was shot at police, police shot back and the man was wounded.

"He was a pathetic fellow, frail and weak-looking, and he cried in court," Davis recalled.

Police ran ballistic tests on his gun and found that the bullets matched the ones recovered from the body of a man murdered at Joe's Pantry on Eight Mile Road. Until that time police had no suspect for the crime.

The man came before Davis again in 35th District Court, this time on a murder charge. The case was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court, where the man was convicted and given a life sentence.

Davis is pleased that the 35th District Court — which covers Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and the charter township of Canton — is one of the few courts that has no delays in hearing cases.

For that reason he is perplexed about why the 35th District Court is getting a second judgeship. "I can't figure it out," Davis said. "The Supreme Court recommended a second judgeship for January 1981, and that would be reasonable. With Canton growing, I can see that 2½ years from now, we'd need a second judge."

"Everyone assumed the legislature would follow the recommendation, but they didn't. I don't know who was behind it."

The new judgeship was created when Governor William Milliken signed a senate bill into law in early June. The law provides for the creation of four other district judgeships and 18 new circuit court judgeships.

The new judgeship will change the court's budget, which is $282,738 for 1978. The budget is paid by the cities of Plymouth and Northville in proportion to the cases heard in their courts, with Plymouth footing 70 percent of the bill and Northville footing 30 percent.

Of the second judge's salary, the state will pay $26,000 and the two cities will pay their shares of an additional $6,600.

Additional expenses will depend upon what the second judge requires, Davis said. A court reporter could cost $20,000 in salary and fringes, and a court officer — if the judge uses one — could cost $12,000. Davis does not use a court officer.

There will be no additional building expense, even when the judges start holding court in Canton in January 1979, Davis said. He and the second judge will agree on how to divide the work, and one probably holding court in Northville and Canton and the other in Plymouth.

Davis said the 35th District Court doesn't have any problems. "Everything is going smoothly," he said, "and I could do substantially more than what I do."

Hopefuls reply to League queries

EDITOR'S NOTE: Candidates were invited by the League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi to submit biographical information and answers to three "issue questions." In providing this voter service, the League emphasizes that the organization makes no endorsement of candidates. Answers and biographical information was limited to 50 words and were edited by the League to fit this requirement.

Question asked of the Northville Township Board candidates were:

1. What are your views on the current form of township government?
2. Do you favor a growth control policy? If so what measures would you favor to implement effective growth control in the Township? If you do not favor such a policy, please explain your position.
3. How do you view the cooperation and levels of services shared with the city and what are your views on the continuation of current shared services?

For Supervisor: For Clerk:

WILSON C. GRIER

Graduate Eastern Michigan University, B.S. History and English; supervisor Northville Township; Wayne County Economic Development Corporation, board of directors; Steering Committee member, Mayors and Supervisors Association of Wayne County; Captain United States Marine Corps Reserve, Naval Aviator, Administrative Officer; married, two children, ages seven, eight; Schoolcraft College Board of Governors.

1. The Township form of government is the only form of government which is totally responsive to the people. The resident taxpayer must approve all tax increases by popular ballot. That decision making power makes the township form of government the only government with tax limitations in existence in the state.

2. Yes. The township has a very restrictive zoning ordinance at this time which, in effect, has helped tremendously with growth control. While the surrounding communities have been issuing 500-1000 building permits annually, the township issued less than 100 in 1977 and will probably issue less than 200 in 1978.

3. The township and city currently have joint services in recreation, library, building department, senior citizens, ambulance service. I favor the continuation of all of these services. As any partnership the overall cost effectiveness must be monitored closely, so that township taxpayers receive the most services for their tax dollar.

DONALD A. THOMSON

Graduate Northville High School; veteran, United States Marine Corps; owner Choo Choo Car Wash; former member, township planning commission; former member, Northville Recreation; Member of the now expired Township Wage and Salary Review Committee; member Northville Kiwanis; member Northville Chamber of Commerce; township resident 30 years.

1. In the years to come Northville Township may not be able to operate on a one mill base. A Charter Township may have to be considered at that time. Whatever direction we do go, I would stress continuing joint services with the city.

2. I favor a growth control policy. I will do my best to see that the planning commission and the board of trustees uphold the master plan.

3. I believe the township needs better fire protection. This can be accomplished with a spirit of cooperation between the township and city. I endorse joint services which results in economy for both.

DONNA BSHOVAN

Public relations and League coordinator, Southdowns Tennis Club — 5 years.

1. Moving too quickly and grasping for too much free money without presenting the spending of these monies to the people.

2. Yes, I believe if we abide by the master plan our growth would remain on a gradual basis.

3. The recreation and library services are working well. These are community services that must continue.

CLARICE D. SASS

Graduate Webber College; 7 years political background; 16 years administrative background; vice-president Executive Board Wayne County Clerks; secretary Executive Board Wayne County Chapter, Michigan Townships Association; International Clerk's Microfilming Committee appointment; 2/3 completion of administrative and educational requirements — Certified Municipal Clerk (recognized internationally); certificates, township bookkeeping — township budgeting courses.

1. I believe that township government is the closest government to the people. The residents of Northville Township must approve any raise in tax millage thus guaranteeing the township resident ultimate control in the destiny of township services to be provided.

2. The growth policy for Northville Township has been guided by the township zoning ordinance and the township master plan adopted by the township board in 1974 after extensive public hearings. The master plan is extremely prohibitive upon proposed developments thus ensuring that the best interests of Northville Township residents is represented.

3. I believe in joint services that are currently shared between the township and the city. The township board is tasked on a daily basis with reviewing the costs of those joint services. The township board must ensure that township resident taxpayers are receiving the most service for their tax dollar.

For Treasurer:

RICHARD M. HENNINGSEN

A bachelor of science in accounting, employed by Detroit Diesel Allison

Division of General Motors Corporation in financial division with 19 years experience, incumbent Northville Township Treasurer.

1. The current form of township government serves the community well and allows control of these levels by the people. However, under existing laws, we have no protection against piecemeal annexation.

2. We cannot halt the growth of the township, therefore, we must control its growth by use of the master plan, planning commission, and input of the citizens.

3. The library and recreation program seems to be progressing satisfactorily with no lack of enthusiasm or cooperation on the part of either government. I strongly support the continuation of these shared services.

LEE E. HOLLAND

Graduate Wayne State University, B.A. Accounting; attended Heidelberg College 2 years; practicing CPA 10 years; treasurer Northville Rotary; treasurer Northville Rotary Foundation; treasurer Northville High School Boosters; Board of Directors Northville Community Chamber of Commerce; football coach — Northville High School and Northville Colts.

1. I believe the present township form of government is the best at this time. If there is substantial growth in the future, it may be practical to consider a charter township. Insofar as becoming part of the City of Northville, I feel that the people should make that decision.

2. Yes. To implement such a policy, I would suggest a review of the master plan and encourage the planning commission and the township board to coordinate their efforts to that end.

3. I would like to see a cooperative spirit within the Northville community and endorse the time-tested concept of joint services, a money saving concept that the current administration has retreated from since it assumed office in 1976.

For Trustee: (2 to be nominated)

WILLIAM A. GREER

Western H/S Detroit, Michigan; Wayne University, Detroit, Michigan; Technical Sales Representative United States Printing Ink Corporation (Division Gulf Oil); township resident approximately 7 years.

1. My personal view is that I would like the township to stay a township but to try and develop a positive working relationship with the City of Northville, in the area of joint services (fire, recreation, library).

2. The Township of Northville in itself has become a very desirable area to relocate to for many families that know its history of quaintness and peaceful living. I feel, however, that a normal growth will come with this popularity. Growth is acceptable at a normal pace. Planned growth is necessary.

3. I feel that the joint service arrangement with the city on fire that was broken off by the township board has served an injustice to some of our township residents. You can't convince me that it's more economical to operate two of each service rather than a shared service approach.

Political fever in Northville Township is running understandably high these days. Undoubtedly, it will continue to rise until voters provide the coolant at the polls with their votes in the August 8 primary.

The outcome of the election will determine to a large degree the manner of development in our community.

Personally, I am concerned about the direction in which the township is drifting; by the fact that the course is deliberately charted; by what I perceive to be Daley-like political maneuvering; and by the fact that in all probability the die has been irreversibly cast.

The source of my concern centers around the power of a single individual. Contrary to popular belief, pure township form of government provides fewer checks and balances than manager form. A supervisor serves as both manager and decision-maker. If he is so inclined, he can become the object for approach of all sorts of special interest representatives. And by his own initiative he can establish trends that often cannot, or are not, reversed by a part-time, once-a-month meeting board.

One need only to examine the foundation of financial support garnered by the Northville Township supervisor to determine whether or not he moves comfortably in the influence circles, or whether there is hesitation to prevail upon those working for or doing business with the township for support.

Admittedly, the procedure is not unique. But the existence of a practice is not a measurement of its merit.

At the very least an atmosphere has been created in Northville Township suggesting special consideration can be gained in return for personal favor.

I am deeply troubled by the fact that the supervisor once prevailed upon a Northville township attorney for a complimentary membership to Meadowbrook Country Club. At the time, more than one year ago, the attorney confided to me (and others) how upset he was by the suggestion and the assertiveness of the supervisor.

Yet the attorney — James Littell — has since unofficially (and unsuccessfully) attempted to test the possibility of such an arrangement.

It is equally disturbing to note that Littell has mailed out letters on business stationery endorsing the candidacy of a member of the planning commission for trustee on the Northville township board.

For the past several months Littell has been involved in zoning issues in Northville Township on behalf of his client, Dr. Gizynski. Currently the question of office-complex zoning is before the planning commission. It is, in my opinion, nion, inappropriate for the attorney to become involved in favor-granting under such circumstances.

In regard to the Dr. Gizynski zoning, some readers may recall that this newspaper editorially supported the Littell position on the multiple development zoning near Grand View Acres last March.

Our position then, and now, was that the planning commission was dead wrong to call for a public hearing to rezone the site after a plan for development had been submitted that complied with all legal requirements.

But such is not the case with the remaining 10 acres of that same parcel. The distinction is that no specific office complex plan has been submitted. While Littell contends it is a "reverse twist" for non-owners of property to call for rezoning, it is, in reality, perfectly proper for any citizen, or the planning commission, to seek rezoning of any parcel. This is not an "after-the-fact" case.

All zoning designations are subject to review while they remain undeveloped.

While it is a fact that Jim Littell has handled many important legal matters for me and I have the greatest respect for his ability and integrity, there is the gnawing conviction that persons doing business with the township have been introduced to a new set of game rules.

If what I suggest is the case, we will soon recognize the results. Development in the name of progress and bigger tax base for bigger government will destroy the community concept of a desirable residential township encircling a city with a small downtown business district.

Perhaps the biggest single issue which gave the supervisor an opportunity to establish his authority and gain access to many of the supporters who now show up on his list of financial contributors was the "stop the prison" campaign.

Many people contributed time and money to this community campaign. And their efforts deserve, and have been given, recognition.

It was my uncomfortable feeling then, however, that an attitude prevailed condoning any action regardless of its nature so long as it served to combat the prison proposal. While the shotgun approach and the expenditures of money for professional assistance certainly contributed to the success of the campaign, the "end justifies the means" mood was inescapable.

But then that's a matter of opinion.

And the line-up supporting the supervisor and his operating procedures is a formidable one.

A betting man would have to admit that the groundwork has been well done and the supervisor will be a shoo-in for re-election.

GOOD . . .

From an advertiser's viewpoint, it makes good sense to run my ads for The Tux Shop at the theater.

For my business, I am trying to reach an audience between the ages of 17 and 25, and 75 percent of the people who attend movies fall within that range.

According to statistics, 50 percent of the people who see my ads at movies will remember them one month after they've been there. For my ad dollar, I have the undivided attention of the audience I want to reach.

Another advantage for me as an advertiser is that I use the theater in my trading area, and no other competitor can advertise at that theater.

Theater advertising, I think, is a cut above the commercials you see on television. Theater ads have to be entertaining. Spots range from 10 to 60 seconds, so we have to get our message across in a creative way. And only very selective advertisers use the theater. We don't want to get the same image people have about television advertising.

But I think the most important point about advertising in movies is that it helps maintain reasonable ticket prices for consumers.

On a lot of first-run movies, theaters will only make 10 percent profit from tickets while the distributor takes 90 percent. The theater owner relies on concession stand sales, and advertisers like myself, for his profits.

In this way, he is able to keep ticket prices from rising astronomically, and this, of course, is a direct benefit to the movie goer.

Speaking for Myself

Movie theater advertising?

BAD . . .

In my younger days, you could go to a movie and really be entertained. You got to see a movie and a lot more.

First, there was a nice cartoon. Bugs Bunny, the Road Runner, even Elmer Fudd was fun and good for a laugh.

That was followed up with the previews of coming attractions. I personally enjoyed the previews as much as anything.

We'd get to see just enough of the good and juicy parts to tantalize us into coming back and seeing the whole movie.

And then came the selected short subject. Not always the greatest to watch — probably something about aquatic life in New Zealand — but better than nothing.

By that time, you were primed to see the movie.

But nowadays, it seems a lot of theaters are skipping the preliminaries and are just running the movie. But what is more aggravating is that some theaters run commercial messages prior to the movie.

If I wanted to see commercials, I would stay home and watch television for free.

Now if I go to a movie and see commercials, I get up and get some popcorn or candy or go to the restroom. I suggest others do the same.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

It happens so often in this business that reporters just naturally cringe whenever someone on the opposite end of the line says, "One moment, please, I'll transfer you."

You can bet your telephone that if it's a long-distance call you're making you'll be disconnected.

I've been disconnected so many times by the state attorney general's office, for example, that the last time I made a call and got the "I'll transfer you" response I said, "Don't bother... just tell him the White House tried to reach him" and hung up.

I glowed all day, imagining the reaction on the other end.

Another frequent disconnection culprit is the University of Michigan where you can be switched from the men's swimming pool to the museum before reaching the head honcho in the Chinese language department.

The last time I called U-M while researching a recent piece on lightning, a bolt must have mangled the switchboard 'cause I found myself talking to someone in the zoology department. You can imagine what happened when earlier I asked to speak with someone about those horrendous "blue book" examinations they lay on students. Believe it or not, I was given the vice-president of the university.

But now comes word of what must be a classic case of "who's on first."

Northville City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, who is out beating the bushes in his quest of a judgeship, tried helping a Northville resident who wanted to know if she was eligible for food stamps.

Using the trusty 1978-79 telephone directory, he called 721-1460 only to have a recorded voice say that the number he had reached was changed. The "new number", he was told, was 721-1631. "Please make a note of it."

Properly noted, Ogilvie called 721-1631 and got another recorded message, this one saying that 721-1631 had been changed to 534-3130. Again he was requested to make note of it.

Builder misusing ordinance for own benefit

To the Editor:

The recent approval of the preliminary plat of the North Beacon Woods Subdivision by the Northville Township Board of Trustees should cause all Northville Townships residents to stand up and take notice, for what has happened here may happen to any of the many pieces of R-2 zoned property still undeveloped in the township.

The Open Space Clause in the R-2 zoning ordinance allows developers to decrease the size of their lots as much as 20% if they set aside this land in a centrally located area so that it is accessible and usable by all residents of the subdivision. The original intent was to benefit the residents by providing a "green space" while allowing the builder to build the same number of homes on these smaller lots.

The "open space" in this development is in the southwest corner, hardly centrally located or easily accessible to all residents. The land being set aside is swampland on which the developer could not place homes anyway.

Will it benefit the residents of the development? Not unless the favorite pastime of those living near the "open space" is to classify various species of mosquitoes, flies, and other swampland inhabitants.

Will it benefit the township by providing a more desirable subdivision? Not unless mass grading followed by row houses and a swamp and drainage basin in one end is our idea of "a creative approach in the development of residential areas." (Section 13.2 of the Subdivision Open Space Plan, no 6-b.)

Will it benefit the builder? Absolutely! He is being allowed to misuse this ordinance to take care of undesirable land in his plot and at the same time realize a greater profit by increasing population density. What a boon to him!

The fact that the Township Planning Commission and the Board of Trustees have ignored the intent of this ordinance and have approved the preliminary plat over the strong objections of local residents should cause all Northville Township residents to scream, "If it can happen in their backyard, it can happen in my backyard!"

Ogilvie dialed 534-3130 and this time was told, by recording again, that the number had been changed to 592-4200. Again, "Please make a note of it."

The attorney dialed 592-4200 and "this time I got my first live person but was informed that my question should be asked of another person at 592-4311."

At 592-4311, he was told he should call 592-4226.

But upon dialing 592-4226 he was informed the person to whom he should speak was on vacation. Persisting, he was referred then to 592-4270 where, finally, after three recordings and four "live ones" he got his answer.

"No," his client wasn't eligible.

1. Relating to structure, township governments are basic and provide best utility when serving relatively small populations and providing limited services. As substantial growth occurs, government and services become more complicated. I prefer a "manager type" governmental administration subject to an elected board. A township superintendent would be most effective and beneficial.

2. Growth can be regulated by controlling sewer extensions. We have limited sewer capacity, therefore, growth is somewhat regulated now. Zoning districts describe potential numbers of dwelling units. These numbers must be maintained since dense populations create tax burdens. Our limited industrial tax base especially makes moderate growth patterns essential.

3. In services shared, cooperation is good. If, for any reason, these services were made separate, costs would grow, quality would lessen, and any potential for improvement would be severely harmed.

Seven year resident; sales and marketing executive; member of Township Planning Commission; Northville Economic Development Corporation; state officer, chairman of the board and recent past president of the Northville Jaycees; coordinator Western Wayne County Residents Association opposing prison; B.S. engineering, post graduate studies in management; married, one son.

1. The current township form of government is fine for now. Added responsibilities caused by population growth may result in changes in the future. If elected, I would encourage more community input and participation in local government by improved communication.

2. I prefer the term "responsible" growth. As a member of the planning commission, I've made every effort to insure (yes) the type of development here enhances property values and continue to make the township a great place to live and raise families. This priority area is where my experience really counts.

3. Considering the growth and population of the township, the creation of our own fire department was necessary for our protection. The proposed western station and recent mutual aid pacts will give the township the finest fire protection in Wayne County. The joint recreation service must definitely be maintained.

'Save Salem hall'

Salem Township residents interested in preserving the Salem Township Hall as a community center have formed a Concerned Citizens' Committee and are appealing for support at the next meeting of the township board at 8 p.m. Tuesday, August 1, at the hall.

At issue, Sarah Harris, chairperson, explains, is the board's plan to remove the hall's entire food serving area annex, including the sink, stove and refrigerator.

Without the use of this area, she points out, it will not be possible to serve large gatherings and the historical society, which has used the hall in this way, will lose its fundraising project.

For 64 years the hall has served as a social, community service center, the committee states, and removing the facilities will deprive residents of this use.

Reason for the board's decision not to rent the building for community uses and to limit it to governmental meetings, Mrs. Harris says, is that to bring the area up to code and correct violations is estimated to cost between $50,000 and $60,000.

However, the citizens' committee points out that the law does not require destruction of the area.

The law requiring food service establishments to be licensed was amended in 1978 by House Bill 6069, it says, to read: "This act shall not apply to charitable, religious, fraternal, service, civic or other non-profit organization operating a home-prepared bake good sale or serving home prepared food in connection with its meetings or a part of a community service or fund raising event."

"We must stop the pattern of small community development in which developers approach township officials with community development strategies (in the guise of protecting townships from violating codes and laws to build and reconstruct community buildings which are later used only for governmental purposes.

"Once developing communities lose their community service centers, they must later replace them or rent commercial facilities. Let us learn from the mistakes of larger communities," is the warning of the citizens' committee.

Newcomers, too

To the Editor:

The Northville Newcomers would like to thank John Mach Ford for the loan of a Ford Bronco to pull our float in the 4th of July Parade; The Northville Lumber Co. for the use of their trailer to build it on, and Allen Monuments for the artificial grass for the football and soccer fields. Their contributions helped us win the 1st place trophy for floats.

Others helped

To the Editor:

From reading his campaign ads and talking with certain people in the community, one could obtain the impression that the township supervisor was solely responsible for "stopping the prison".

He did his part and we thank him for his fine efforts. However, many others need to be recognized since they too contributed greatly; namely, former Mayor Mike Allen, Bob Hass, Bill Miron, Blake Northrup, John Dugan, Sandra Watts and Eunice Switzer to name a few. We were also active in this campaign.

Hundreds of others contributed their time and funds toward this cause. We remember vividly the senior citizens with limited funds who gave probably more than they could afford.

It was through a mutual effort by city and township people that we were successful.

Respectfully,
Jim and Louise Cutler

Errors astound

To the Editor:

After reading the Record's July 19, 1978 article indicating that the sewer serving the township hall was not built to code, I was astounded at the number of errors and poor judgements involved with the project. As a civil engineer, I am further astounded by the Supervisor's comments, and those of his engineer.

1. The need for review of plans by a professional is essential, regardless of whether the design is for the benefit of private interests or those of a public agency. The plan review and construction inspection process is vital to doing an effective and proper job. Obviously, effective administrative controls were not provided when plans are approved and work completed which does not meet minimum code requirements. Who really benefitted from this lack of review? Certainly not the taxpayers.

2) Why was a contractor given the responsibility for the decision to raise a sewer line two feet? This decision either saved him extra money or prevented him from losing profit because of construction conditions that should have been made familiar to him in the construction plans. I wonder what reasons prompted such a large deviation in the plans.

3) The supervisor must be naive in believing that a two-foot berm over the pipe will create more depth. A line that is initially too shallow can never be corrected by piling more dirt over it. A too shallow line may also prevent the right of access to a public facility.

4) Why was an architect allowed to design a sewer? This is normally the responsibility of a professional engineer. Certainly the citizens should expect more for their $46,100 than a design which can't meet minimum code requirements.

The whole description sounds like a whitewash of many errors, omissions and questionable judgements in administrative and technical areas related to the expenditure of the taxpayers money. If this is an example of "things that come up during construction," (Grier-Northville Record; 7/19/78, p. 3A), then what other construction or land development related actions have the present administration condoned that we need to know about?

Thomas A. Handyside, P. E.

Take your pick

To the Editor:

As August 8th, the date of the Primary Election, draws near, I had a few thoughts that I wanted to share with the readers of The Northville Record.

First, I wanted to thank Don Thomson, Donna Boshoven, Lee Holland, and Bill Greer for announcing their candidacy for office in Northville Township. Theirs is a formidable political task. In the cases of Mr. Thomson, candidate for Supervisor, Mrs. Boshoven, candidate for Clerk, and Mr. Holland, candidate for Treasurer, they are running against incumbents.

Mr. Greer, candidate for Trustee, becomes one of three people, one an incumbent, seeking only two available positions. Their candidacy, more importantly, provides the registered voters of this Township with a choice in the matter of their representatives in public office. Without them the choice would have been to vote for the incumbents or not at all.

Secondly, I realized that in making our choices on August 8, we will be selecting those people who will run our Township government, because the winners on August 8 will have no opposition for these offices in November. The opportunity for the voter to speak in the matter of township officials comes, therefore, in August, not November.

In closing, I want to urge every registered voter in Northville Township to cast their ballot August 8th and to exercise their right to choose.

To the Editor:

The development plans for the orchard north of Eight Mile Road and west of Lexington Commons sounds fine, except for one part that is worrisome — the stated intention to leave the southeast corner vacant and to possibly apply for commercial rezoning in the future.

This ties in too neatly with the (purposefully?) undeveloped portion of Lexington Commons. Putting the two sections in one commercial zone would make room for still another hardware store, a dry cleaner, a T-V repair shop or maybe a fish and chips concession. Just what we need!

Let's hope the planning commission will hold firm against this first step toward commercializing Eight Mile Road. We have too much unused commercial property in Northville now.

Citizens helped

To the Editor:

The final filing of nearly a third of a million signatures was delivered today to the Secretary of State Elections Division to qualify the Coalition for 21 petitions for the November General Election that will raise the legal drinking age to 21. Through your column we wish to thank the persons responsible.

The ten-month effort was accomplished by dedication and committed volunteers of all ages who steadily secured the signatures from a willing public. Approximately 12,000 circulators turned in more than one petition, many turning in several dozens or more. These enthusiastic workers came from local churches of all denominations, from several school groups and from community and civic groups.

The staff at the Michigan Council on Alcohol Problems, where all the petitions were checked and counted, wish to thank the individuals who, in many cases at great sacrifice of time, effort and resources, did the work in every county in the state. To the county coordinators, the city ministerial associations, the local churches and the local school and community people, the Coalition for 21 leadership sends a most grateful word of appreciation.

Not their doing

To the Editor:

It has been brought to our attention that some area residents have received unidentified communications using vile language and innuendo against Don Thomson, candidate for Supervisor of Northville Township.

We want to make it perfectly clear that in no way were Don Thomson or Wilson Grier, or their candidate committees, involved in that communication. We abhor tactics of this nature in any political election.

We ask any citizen who has knowledge of this incident to come forward and give information to local police officials. It is our belief that the culprit of culprits should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. This type of communication is highly unethical and against the state laws of Michigan. The assistance of area citizens who may have knowledge of or may have seen the distribution of this communication is needed to ensure that the guilty party is found and prosecuted.

Sincerely,
Wilson C. Grier
Supervisor
Donald Thomson
Candidate for Supervisor

Don's innocent

To the Editor:

I would like to assure our neighbors and the residents of Northville Township that the abusive flier found in our mailboxes on Sunday was not from the slate headed by Don Thomson.

I have talked to Mr. Thomson and he is as surprised by these tactics as we are.

Most Sincerely,
a Woodhill Resident

Not forgotten

To the Editor:

I want to thank Bill Sliger and others of The Record for the very nice article and editorial last week.

In my offhand comments about those who have helped me so much in the early days I failed to mention a number of them, but I surely should not have forgotten George and Gerry Kohs.

Sincerely,

For Mainstreet financing

Council approves downtown authority

An ordinance to provide a method for financing the proposed "Mainstreet 78" downtown improvement project was unanimously approved by the Northville city council.

Although some merchants have expressed opposition to several aspects of the Mainstreet 78 plan, only a half dozen appeared at Monday night's public hearing and only two spoke.

The council explained to the small audience that adoption of the Downtown Development Authority Ordinance merely established a vehicle for financing any improvement program and outlined the boundary lines of the downtown authority area.

"The Downtown Development Authority is a vehicle to do anything or nothing," noted City Manager Steve Walters. He said that any plan for downtown improvement must be approved at a public hearing at a later date.

Mayor Paul Vernon pointed out that the citizens' study committee is still making revisions in the proposed Mainstreet 78 plan and is currently working with the architect to come up with alternatives for the purpose of answering some objections voiced by downtown merchants.

Dr. Victoria Lovewell, 180 East Main, asked the council if the plan included use of the rear portion of her property for parking. She was informed that consideration had been given to that idea in the original concept, but it had been dropped.

"I told you weeks ago, Victoria, that the city has no intention of taking any of your property," said Councilman Stanley Johnston.

"Yes, that's true. But I wanted to hear it from the entire council," responded Dr. Lovewell. She also told the council she opposed the plan to replace the Main street parking lot with a park.

Mrs. Carole Miller of G. E. Miller Sales asked if every property owner would be made aware of any changes planned for their specific property. She was told they would be and that in any instance where individual business places might have a problem with access for deliveries, etc., that the architect would meet individually with them to find a solution.

The Downtown Development Authority Ordinance provides a means for financing any project for improvement within the development district. Specifically, it permits the capturing of all tax dollars gained from increased taxbase attributable to the improvement project.

It is anticipated it will be at least one, perhaps two months before the Mainstreet 78 committee finalizes a plan for public hearing consideration.

SHOULD I VISIT THE TERMINALLY ILL?

If you're ever in doubt about whether or not to visit a friend or relative whom you know to be terminally ill, then MAKE THE VISIT! It will benefit both of you.

If he doesn't wish to see you, he'll make his wishes known. If it grieves you to see him, share your grief...bring a caring and mutual friend. Together you may diminish the sorrow you share with your terminally ill relative.

What do you talk about? Memories of happy occasions and sad ones too. Shared experiences, both the good and bad and the amusing times — but mostly you LISTEN. Ask if there's anything he wishes you to do for him — letters to write, people to call, business and personal matters to handle.

Studies made by Herman Feifel, Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and others indicate that the terminally ill may pass through emotional stages of denial, anger and finally acceptance of their impending death. To learn more about coping with these stages, stop by for some suggested reading material.

conference. Friday, the night before the conference, for some odd reason — and I consider it to be my alcoholism — I find myself blitzed."

So, he made the pledge which lasted all of two weeks. No matter. The important thing was that he had finally recognized his illness and was willing to come to grips with it.

He joined Alcoholics Anonymous. Success finally came — not instantly, but a day at a time.

"When you get sober you have a bliss period of about three months when things are pretty cookieish. Everything's cake. Then, little rumblings of reality cause problems."

For Mike, his bliss was snapped by a February cold spell that froze the household water pipes.

"I couldn't take a shower, so I said, 'What's the use?' I went out and got stoned." But there was a difference in this, his last, binge.

"I did damn near a nickel of grass between two people and I still felt guilty. That's an accomplishment if you think about it."

"My guts were tearing me up inside. I felt terrible. I had screwed everything up."

The difference, he said, was AA. "I had had it. I couldn't do it anymore. It was too painful. AA forces that decision upon you. If you want to still drink, don't go to AA because it will screw up your drinking."

"What happens is, you know that there is a better way. You see people that are smiling. You know that they used to drink. You know it isn't BS."

"In AA, you have to watch out for each other. Hey, you know that SOB went through a hell of a lot. I know, because I went through it, too."

For 17 months now, Mike has been sober.

The key to fighting alcoholism, said Mrs. Gough, is early detection — looking for the telltale signs.

"Prevention is really going through the back door," she said. "If I can spot an alcoholic and give him information about what's going on, he'll at least know in the future when he is setting himself up for another binge."

Mike said he knows the con games and he is through with them. He likes sobriety and he likes himself.

"My insanity has sort of quelled. I'm not as flakey as I used to be," he said.

With the monkey off his back, he is ready to attack life, not merely accept it.

"Cope is a word that I really despise. Who the hell wants to cope? I want to enjoy."

The highway department did studies on the need for pool parking areas and put new ones up based on the amount of cars that were parked on the side of the entrance ramp. The department also followed up after a parking area was constructed or improved by soliciting criticism from users by dropping off comment cards on their windshields.

9 officers graduate

Nine Northville City Police auxiliary officers graduated from the 100-hour Michigan Police Reserve Training Council basic training course last June.

The course, conducted at Schoolcraft College from September to May, gave instruction in public and interdepartmental relations, traffic enforcement, patrol technique, criminal law and firearms qualification.

The nine graduates bring the total number of officers who have completed this training to 27.

Greer campaign.

The Thomson committee also received support from a former township trustee and the husband of the former township supervisor who Grier defeated in the last election.

Grier received $50 contributions from the contractors for the township hall — J. D. Hillyer and James H. Hillyer — and from Angelo Spagnoli, the developer for the controversial North Beacon Woods subdivision.

He also received financial support from the township's fire chief, planning consultant, engineer, attorney, clerk and deputy clerk, along with a township trustee, a candidate for township trustee, a planning commission member and both the superintendent and the chairman of the sewer and water commission.

James Karoub, one of the state's most prominent lobbyists, gave Grier a whopping $200 — one of two $200 contributions he received and the largest reported for Northville Township candidates to date. Karoub was retained by Northville's anti-prison committee to lobby against the proposed Northville prison.

The Committee to Elect Wilson Grier reported contributions totalling $4,032.34, and the Committee to Elect Thomson, Boshoven, Holland and Greer reported $1,451.

Donna Boshoven is trying to unseat Clarice Sass as clerk, Lee Holland is trying to unseat Richard M. Henningsen as treasurer and William Greer is running against William D. Zapke and incumbent James L. Nowka for one of two trustee posts.

Other Northville Township candidates have not been required to report contributions and expenses to the Election Commission because they intend to spend less than $500 on their campaigns.

Other contributors to the Grier campaign are:

• $200: James A. Young.

tially volatile job of supplying the rationale for the decisions about which schools to close as Livonia suffered from drastic enrollment declines.

Those decisions, while never popular, were relatively well received, according to the Livonia source.

Nichols also received praise for heading Livonia's two millage campaigns this summer.

Both were handily defeated, but Nichols was described as a tireless organizer charged with the almost impossible task of passing substantial tax increase — over five mills — in the face of increasing property assessments and the taxpayer revolt.

In his present position, he is director of education for 17,500 students in grades 7-12.

He has held central office administrative positions since 1970. From 1964 to 1970, he was first an assistant principal and then a principal at the junior high school level.

Nichols, who did his undergraduate and graduate work at Wayne State University where he is now a candidate for his doctorate degree, taught in Livonia from 1959 to 1963.

Knowledgeable . . . Experienced . . . Concerned . . .

Those self-serving words have been used to describe every person who ever sought public office. We prefer to think of ourselves simply as candidates with children to raise, bills to pay and a COMMUNITY to serve . . . a community we were attracted to because of its physical beauty and its philosophy of co-operation.

The physical characteristics of the Northville community have changed very little, but the spirit of co-operation has suffered greatly. That is why we are asking for your vote on August 8th.

In order to restore a co-operative spirit we endorse the time-tested concept of joint services, a money-saving concept that the current administration has retreated from since it assumed office in 1976.

Last there be any misunderstanding, it was the Township, not the City, that terminated joint fire services and sought to do the same with the library. It is the current Supervisor who expressed a desire to create two recreation departments, a move that would undermine a fine recreation department by taking Township funds and facilities home and refusing to play ball.

Establishment of dual fire departments proved conclusively that Township residents pay more now for fire protection than under the previous system.

Aside from dollars and cents, we believe that two recreation departments would cripple the entire program. Consider the scarcity of teams NOW in the girls' softball and 7th and 8th grade recreation basketball programs. Dual recreation departments would create, in some cases, TWO-team leagues and destroy the current level of competition in all sports. We believe that kids who learn together should be able to play together. Segregation of them would provoke a competitive atmosphere on the playground that is already apparent in Township/City government.

We believe we can re-establish an atmosphere of goodwill in government and, at the same time, provide the expertise and maturity to negotiate joint services with the City.

Our slate is pro-police and fire. Both departments are doing a fine job and the employees have absolutely no reason to fear for their jobs after we are elected. There will be no reduction in salaries and no cut in the size of the work force. The same pledge applies to the employees of Township government.

We do believe, however, that fire service to the western and northwestern sections of the Township can be improved. And, to that end, we endorse construction of a fire station at Seven Mile and Back Roads. A joint pact between Township and City fire departments would be a sensible method to cover areas distant from the Township's base of operations.

Development in Northville Township must proceed at a normal rate with a suitable mix of industrial park areas to firm up our tax base. Construction of apartments and condominiums must be curbed. Our slate can furnish the fiscal know-how to cope with orderly growth.

Three early goals of our administration will be to develop a senior citizens program; seek Township access to the library at Schoolcraft College; and establish more recreational facilities.

Our interests are yours. Vote August 8th.

Everybody hits! Blues win Thomson title

Home run power. Nobody, but nobody, had it like the Village Blues did in the 16-team Thomson Tournament over the weekend.

Northville's American League front-runners were poking hits over the fence like so many raindrops in the sixth annual softball classic last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The result was the Blues' first tournament championship of 1978, and it couldn't have been more convincing.

Displaying what had to be their most awesome hitting attack of the season, the Blues roared past five straight opponents and became only the second Northville team in the six-year history of the Thomson Tourney to walk off with the championship trophy. Choo Choo Car Wash, which ruled the local men's softball league until the Blues came along two years ago, won it all in 1973.

After getting off to a comparatively mediocre start in the first two rounds of the tournament, the Blues exploded for 20 home runs, 70 runs and 71 hits in their last three victories.

And they saved the best for last.

Led by Gary Winemaster, named the tourney's most valuable player, the local powerhouse raced out to an early 13-6 lead and crushed a respectable Suburban E & M contingent from Farmington in Sunday night's title game, 26-8.

Winemaster belted three home runs in that one, one during an eight-run rally in the second inning and two others during an 11-run outburst in the sixth, and collected seven RBI's to pace a 24-hit attack.

But he was far from being a one-man wrecking crew.

Ed Kritch, Jerry Dettter and Dennis Colligan combined to go 11-for-13 for the Blues, and all but one of the team's 10 starters had at least two hits in the contest.

Kritch went 3-for-4, including a home run and a triple, and had three RBI's; Dettter went 4-for-5 with a home run and two RBI's; and Colligan had a perfect 4-for-4 showing with three RBI's. Bill MacDonald added a homer and a double for the winners while Dave Conlin, John Boland, Jim Yanoschik and Tom Eis contributed two hits apiece as well.

The Blues got off to a 5-3 lead in the first inning, then upped the margin to 13-6 in the third and 15-7 in the fifth. Their most awesome hitting came in the sixth, though, when they broke loose for 11 runs on nine hits, all before there were two outs, to sew things up.

They had opened their tournament run with a 16-4 victory over Garden City Sports on Friday. Winemaster cracked two home runs and Conlin and Dettter added one each to pace the Blues in that one.

The local club met its stiffest challenge of the tourney in the second round, though, when they edged Perry Mead of Romulus, 9-8. Playing without Winemaster, the Blues won the game when MacDonald, who went 3-for-4 in the contest, smacked a bases-loaded single to score Dettter in the bottom of the seventh inning.

After that it was all clear sailing. The Blues swept past Lansing's Hi-Fi Buys in the third round, 24-10, on the strength of nine home runs and 24 hits.

Conlin, Winemaster and MacDonald each had three round trippers in that one while Dettter, Jim O'Brien and Tom Eis added one apiece. The Blues scored at least three times in each of the six innings they batted.

The Hi-Fi victory advanced them to the winners' bracket finals, where they trounced Suburban E & M 20-5 before beating the same team again the title game.

Conlin and Winemaster both went 4-for-4 in the 20-5 victory while Boland and Yanoschik added three hits apiece. Winemaster collected two more home runs and Boland, Yanoschik and O'Brien one apiece.

Interestingly, Suburban scored an average of more than 20 runs per game against tournament opponents other than the Village Blues, including a 27-10 victory over Perry Mead in the losers' bracket finals. The Farmington club managed just 13 runs in two games off the Blues, though.

Winemaster was one of several players from the local club to bat over 500 in the tournament. He went 12-for-16 and had nine home runs and 21 RBI's.

Other top hitters included Conlin (11-for-17, three home runs and 12 RBI's), MacDonald (9-for-15, three homers), Dettter (8-for-18, three homers), Colligan (10-for-13), Boland and Kritch (both 10-for-19), and Tom and Todd Eis (6-for-9 and 5-for-9 respectively).

Northville's other representative in the tournament, Winner's Circle, was eliminated early with losses to Perry Mead and Garden City Sports in the first two rounds.

Koepke accepts Mt. Clemens job

Walt Koepke, the only varsity boys' basketball coach Northville High has had since joining the Western Six League, is returning to the area he first began coaching in this fall.

The 44-year-old mentor has accepted the head coaching position at Mt. Clemens L'Anse Creuse North, and submitted his letter of resignation to the local school board last Tuesday.

Among the reasons he's leaving, he said in an interview last Friday, are that L'Anse Creuse North has a particularly attractive sports program and that he wants to return to the area he's spent most of his life.

"It's not going to be very easy leaving Northville," Koepke, who was born and raised in the Lake St. Clair area, acknowledged. "My family and I have met a lot of very fine people here, and I'm leaving an excellent group of kids from our basketball program. But I have to look at the overall picture."

Koepke, on the recommendation of former athletic director Bob Kucher and former high school principal Fred Holdsworth, came to Northville in the 1971-72 school year from Mt. Clemens High, where he'd coached varsity basketball for seven years. During that time the Battling Bathers won seven straight district championships, one regional crown and three Eastern Michigan League titles.

Koepke resigns as coach, accepts Mt. Clemens post

He took over a faltering basketball program here in 1972, the year Northville began competing in the Western Six.

In his seven years at the helm the Mustangs compiled a 75-73 overall record, 33-33 in league play, and were 61-45 over the last five seasons.

Highlighting those years were Northville's "Cinderella" district championship in 1973 and the team's Western Six crown in 1975.

After losing 15 of its first 17 games in 1973 Northville came back to win its last three regular season contests, then took three more in tournament action to capture its first district title in seven years.

Two years later Koepke guided the club to one of its greatest seasons ever. Led by All-League standouts Scott Leu and Tom Eis the Mustangs stormed to their first and thus far only Western Six championship and a 20-2 overall record. A two-point loss to league rival Farmington Harrison was their only defeat during the regular season, and Koepke was selected the western suburban area's coach of the year.

Koepke, who plans on moving to Algonac with his family before autumn, will be taking over the reins of coach Jerry Hope at L'Anse Creuse North next winter. The Crusaders, in the school's fourth year of existence, won only two games last season.

But the veteran coach figures things will be looking up in the coming years there.

"When I first considered the school I looked at it simply because of the location," he recalled, but said he found it to be "quite a good school district" as well, particularly its sports program.

"The boosters club there donated $38,000 to the athletic program last year," he noted, "and that's as much as some programs operate on altogether." He said he was also persuaded by the district's regular millage passages and the job's attractive salary and fringe benefits.

"Even though the school is new, I think the basketball program there has a lot of potential," he said. L'Anse Creuse North, a Class A school with an enrollment of about 1700, is a member of the Eastern Michigan League, the same conference Mt. Clemens competes in.

In addition to coaching Koepke will be teaching classes in career education next year. He also hopes to eventually get into the school's English department.

Koepke has been teaching English for 19 years, including seven at Northville. Three of those years were spent in Northville's ESU (Extended School Year) program, a year-round program Koepke felt was "one of the greatest innovations I've ever seen in high school education."

"I got to know the kids in that program very, very well. I don't think I've ever been closer with students than I was with them."

Picture identification is wrong

A picture of a junior baseball player sliding into third base on page 2-B of last week's Record was incorrectly identified as Paul Haval. The player was actually Dave Denhof.

Havala who also identified in the accompanying story as the player who scored the game's tying run on that play. Again, the player was Denhof and not Havala.

Rotary tourney's coming

Northville's seventh annual Rotary Tennis Tournament is getting close at hand, and that means plenty of work for planning committee members Don Van Ingen, Lee Holland and Wes Henrikson. The tourney will take place August 12 and 13 this year, with all proceeds being used for the development of tennis facilities in Northville. Applications can be picked up at any of the following locations: Northville Sporting Goods, Moraine Elementary School, Henrikson Insurance Agency and City Hall. Anyone who works or lives in the city or township of Northville is eligible to compete. The tournament will have three areas of competition — men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles — with each area divided into two brackets. The top bracket will be for players of Class A and B ability, the other for those of Class C and D ability. The Rotarians are setting a limit of 16 teams per bracket. For further information call tourney chairman Lee Holland at 349-8043 (home) or 349-5400 (office), or Wes Henrikson at 349-4607 (home) or 349-4650 (office).

NBD OFFERS TWO NEW WAYS TO IMPROVE YOUR EARNINGS.

1 New short-term, high return Money Market Certificates.

Now you have the opportunity to buy NBD's new six-month Money Market Certificates that pay a high interest rate, equal to the latest average auction rate for 6-month U.S. Treasury Bills. Certificates are available in any dollar amount of $10,000 or over. The current annual rate for six-month Treasury Bills is 7.497 per cent. By comparison, the maximum annual rate currently available to commercial bank customers for periods from 90 days to six months is 5½%.

NBD will charge no fees. At the end of six months, NBD will automatically renew if you wish at the then-applicable rate.

The annual interest rate will be set at the time of purchase and remain constant for the six-month period. Your funds at NBD will be insured up to $40,000. Should you decide to withdraw money before the end of the six-month period, federal regulation requires that a substantial interest penalty be assessed. For your added convenience, NBD has a Money Market Hotline—225-2700—that quotes current Treasury Bill interest rates 24 hours a day.

2 New 7¾%, eight-year Time Investment Certificates.

Also available now are these new NBD Time Investment Certificates. They'll be offered for denominations of $1,000 or more. The interest is computed from day of deposit and compounded quarterly. Federal regulations prohibit the payment of a time deposit before maturity unless three months of the interest is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the passbook rate.

If you'd like to improve your earnings, stop at a nearby National Bank of Detroit office and ask about our new short-term Money Market Certificates...or our new eight-year Time Investment Certificates.

Men's softball round-up

Rizzo makes pitch for wide-open second place slot

Rizzo Real Estate threw its hat in the ring in the confusing scramble for second place in local American League action last week.

Led by Pete Talbot, Howard Inch and Dave Zima, Rizzo roared to a 19-9 victory over Zayti-Long and beat Winner's Circle on a forfeit, putting them in a virtual three-way tie for the runner-up spot with Little Caesar's and Winner's Circle.

Rizzo scored at least twice in each of the six innings they batted, and put the game out of reach with nine runs in the fifth and sixth frames.

Talbot went 3-for-4 in the contest, including a two-run homer in the third inning, and had four RBI's. Inch was 3-for-4 with four RBI's and Zima 4-for-4 with one RBI.

The wins upped Rizzo's record to 8-4 as of last weekend. Little Caesar's had a 7-3 mark and Winner's Circle was 8-4.

Zayti-Long, on the other hand, dropped to 5-5-1. Zayti had started out with five victories in its first six games this season before going winless in its last five outings.

The Village Blues, meanwhile, picked up their 12th victory without a loss this season by trouncing the Cyclones, 11-0. John Boland and Bill MacDonald cracked home runs for the winners while Mike Gribbell went 2-for-2 for the Cyclones.

In other American League action last week State Farm won its fifth game in nine outings, edging Sheehan's-On-The-Green 14-11. Dennis Doran went 4-for-4 and Mike Nave had a home run and four RBI's for the winners.

Cap 'n' Cork, meanwhile, got home runs from Gary Lesnau, Dennis Belleperche, Ron Nisun and Ron Brewer on its way to an 18-8 victory over Jim Storm Insurance while Sheehan's-On-The-Green edged Spicer

Tool Company, 10-6

National League

Sheehan's Little Caesar's solidified its hold on third place with victories over the Northville Players and OLV last week.

Sparked by John Osborne, who cracked a three-run triple in the first inning and a three-run homer in the fifth, Little Caesar's walked to an 18-6 triumph over the Players last Tuesday. Bob Martin, Stan Tarnowski, Don Phillippi and Gary Tuz added three hits apiece for the winners.

One day later Gerry Carbonari's run-scoring double in the bottom of the seventh sent Tony Pump home with the winning run in a 10-9 squeaker over OLV.

Sheehan's has now won seven straight games and has a 10-2 record on the season, two-and-a-half games behind unbeaten Real Estate Two.

It's Custard Time, which had been battling Sheehan's for third place before last week, fell back in the pack with losses to Carl's and Real Estate Two.

Carl's trounced Custard Time 8-2 last Tuesday, with Bob Hubbert going 4-for-4 and knocking in four runs for the winners.

Two days later Brian Smith went 3-for-3 and had three RBI's to pace Real Estate Two to a 13-2 win over Custard Time.

As of last weekend Real Estate Two was 13-0 on the season while Carl's was 11-0. Custard Time was in fourth place with an 8-5 mark.

Local tourney slated

The Union Lake Colonels are now taking entrants to their fifth annual Rain-bow Slowpitch softball tournament to be held August 11-13 at Clintonwood Park in Clarkston.

The tournament is open to any Class C or B residential league team that has not won a tournament in 1978. The fee will be $80 for the double elimination tournament with sponsor trophies awarded to the top six finishers.

All games will be played on three fields in Clintonwood Park, two of which are lighted for night play. The first place team will receive ten H & C Bombats and the second place team five.

The only changes from ASA rules will be a third strike foulout, and a three ball walk. There will be a ten run mercy rule after five innings.

The $80 entry fee should be sent to Max Burt, P.O. Box 128, Walled Lake, Michigan, 48088. Questions regarding the tournament should be directed to Burt at 363-0599.

Kid's races are tight in Northville mini-meet

Close races in the 100-yard dash and 440 plus a trio of strong performances by Scott Robins highlighted last week's Northville minimeet action.

Dirk Nowka and Bob Foster took firsts in their respective age divisions in a pair of tight 100-yard dash heats. Nowka won the 10-11 year-old division with a 14.1 clocking, .3 seconds ahead of Curt Settino and .4 seconds ahead of Chris Sixt, while Foster's 13.9 clocking gave him a 2 second edge over Jeff Hooten and Mike Kaczocha.

In another hotly-contested race Paul Caroselli won the 12-13 year-old division of the 440 in 71.4, just 2.7 seconds in front of John Starcevic and 2.8 seconds ahead of Foster.

Sixt, running the 440 in 75.0, beat Nowka by 1.3 seconds in the 10-11 year-old boys' age division of that event while Dawn Redmond's 84.4 clocking was two seconds better than Barb Kiwak in the 10-11 girls' division.

Scott Robins, meanwhile, was the meet's outstanding individual performer. Competing in the 14-15 year-old division, he won the 100-yard dash in 12.0, the 100-yard hurdles in 12.7, and the longest jump with an 18'2" leap.

Double winners included Sixt (long jump, 440) and Steve Starcevic (hurdles and mile run) in the 10-11 boys' division, Caroselli (softball throw, 440) and Hooten (long jump, hurdles) in the 12-13 boys' division, Mary Phillips (softball throw, mile run) in the 10-11 girls' division and Sheri Robins (softball throw, 100-yard dash) in the 12-13 girls' division.

Showdown's tomorrow

The best Northville's National League has to offer will square off tomorrow (Thursday) night in a battle of unbeaten men's softball teams.

Barring any upsets last night Real Estate Two will take a 14-0 record into its showdown with Carl's, unbeaten through its first 12 games this season. The contest gets under way at 9:30 p.m.

at Thomson Field.

The two were originally scheduled to play each other May 31, but a rainstorm postponed that one until sometime in August. Since that time the only real challenge either has encountered has been Ely's, which fought Real Estate Two down to the wire three weeks ago before losing, 8-7, in the bottom of the seventh.

Northville squad dumps Redford

Northville's representative in the Sandy Koufax (14-and-under) baseball league closed its season with a 13-1 victory over Redford Sunday, clinching a year that saw the team win the Oakland Division title in its first season of competition.

The local club won five of its last six games and finished with a 9-6 record, five games ahead of second-place South Lyon.

Jim Thomson hurled a five-hitter and went the distance against Redford while Mark Olgren led the way offensively with three hits and Mark Holland drove in three runs. One day earlier Dave Malinowski and Dave Mitchell had combined for a four-hitter in leading Northville to a 4-2 upset over powerful South Dearborn Heights.

Earlier in the week Chris Dimitroff had pitched six innings of one-hit relief as Northville downed Crestwood, 9-3.

Combined with a 3-1 triumph over J. J. Curran of Dearborn Heights on the previous Saturday, Northville finished the season with four straight victories. Dimitroff, Mitchell and Steve Wynn each pounded out two hits while Dave Jackson and Mitchell combined for a four-hitter in the win J. J. Curran.

Wynn's .429 batting average led the club this season. He had 30 hits and 14 stolen bases and scored 24 runs to lead in all three categories.

Dimitroff batted .348 (16-for-46) and drove in 20 runs with five homers, two triples and a double. Mitchell batted .365 and drove in 15 runs with 19 hits.

Pitching leaders were Jackson, who had a 4-1 record and 2.96 earned-run average, and Mitchell, who had five saves and a 2.28 ERA with 39 strikeouts in 27 innings.

Two players, Dimitroff and Mitchell, were selected to the all-tournament team at the July 4 Plymouth-Livonia Invitational. Dimitroff in the outfield and Mitchell at third base were the only players other than the tournament's two finalists to be selected.

In addition, five players from the Northville team were selected for post-season tournament play by other teams.

Going to the NABF nationals with league champion Plymouth Canton are Dave Malinowski, Mitchell, Dimitroff and Jimmy Belanger. The NABF nationals take place in Birmingham, Alabama, this week.

Going to the AABC districts with the Westland team is Steve Wynn.

The local Koufax team was coached by Dave Mitchell, Lou Denhof and Hal Wynn.

.... and now, Miller time?

Either the excitement was just too much, or that trip around the bases was an awful grueling one for Terry Lapham. The Choo Chooettes' slugger cracked her first home run of the season, a three-run first-inning blast that triggered a 19-13 victory over the Thunderbird Flyers two weeks ago, and took a somewhat unexpected break at the plate afterwards. Picture on left shows her sliding into home just in time to avoid tag of the Flyers' Sandy Myers. At right she seems to be catching her breath — or maybe just "basking" in the glory of her heroics — as teammate Judy Korte comes over to lend a helping hand. The Choo Chooettes are currently battling Northville Lab for first place in Northville's women's softball league.

They'll clash next week

Top women's clubs keep winning

The stage is set for the most important game of the women's league softball season next Tuesday.

Northville Laboratories and the Choo Chooettes saw to that with two more victories last week, keeping them a close 1-2 in the league standings.

The two local powers, who went down to the wire before Northville Lab pulled out a 6-5 victory in their only other meeting this season, will lock horns at Ford Field in a contest starting at 6:30 p.m.

Northville Lab, sparked by Denise MacDermid's three-run homer in the second inning, erupted for 15 runs in the first four innings en route to a 17-11 triumph over the Thunderbird Flyers. The win kept the defending champs' perfect record intact at 8-0 this season and stretched their winning streak to 31 games over the past three summers.

After getting off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning, Lab broke loose for seven runs in the second. MacDermid capped the rally on a three-run homer with Dorothy Martin and Ruth Booms on base, giving her team an 8-0 cushion.

One inning later Martin added another three-run blast, giving Lab an 11-4 advantage.

The Flyers stayed close, though, with a five-run rally in the top of the fourth on three singles and three walks before Lab sewed things up in the bottom of the frame with a four-run outburst triggered by Patti Brown's two-run homer.

The winners added single tallies in the fifth and sixth innings while Thunderbird finished up with a pair in the fifth, highlighted by Chris Redmond's run-scoring triple. Martin and Kimm Adams paced Lab with three hits apiece while Debbie Juhnke was the only Flyers' player with two hits.

The Choo Chooettes, meanwhile, kept pace with the league leaders with a 19-15 victory over Northville Record, hiking their record to 7-1 this season.

The winners surged to leads of 5-0 in the first inning and 11-6 in the second, but didn't put Record away until the fifth, when they scored six more times for a 19-11 bulge. Triples by Becky Terpevich in the first, Terry Lapham in the second and Judy Korte in the fifth highlighted the Choo Chooettes' big innings.

Record kept things tight with a five-run third-inning rally, sparked by doubles from Kathy Rogowski and Sheila McIntire, that knotted the score at 11-11. The Choo Chooettes took the lead for good, though, on a pair of errors and Debbie Kemp's run-scoring double in the fourth, giving them a 13-11 edge.

Record closed the scoring with four runs in the sixth, capped by Cathy Ottman's two-run triple.

Korte, Terrie Thomas, Debbie and Sheila Kemp topped the winners with three hits apiece while Cathy Svoboda cracked three for Record.

In other women's action last week Dave's Trim Shop took sole possession of third place with a 24-3 shellacking of Nichols-Saints Realty while Wishing Well Manor trimmed Alhambra, 18-13.

Dave's Trim exploded for 18 runs in the third and fourth innings for its victory. Jodie Gatteri blasted two home runs and scored four times to pace the winners, now 5-3 on the season. Wendy D'Haene, Pam Soncrant and Anne Marie Raney added three hits apiece.

During the team's eight-run outburst in the fourth Gayle Richardson, Jodie and Sandy Gatteri belted back-to-back homers and Linda Justice followed with a triple.

Wishing Well, now 3-4 this year, fought back from a 13-7 deficit with 11 runs in the third and fourth innings in its win over Alhambra.

Jody Lauber went 4-for-4 and Sue Pegrum had a home run and a triple to pace the winners while Ann Drapkowski smacked a single and two doubles in three at-bats for Alhambra.

Softball seasons end dramatically

Gems, Falcons clinch girls' titles

Northville's senior and primary girls' softball seasons came to a dramatic finish last week when the Gems and Falcons won key games to sew up their respective division titles.

The Gems, getting a bit of help from the Liberties the following day, clinched the senior girls championship with a 20-8 victory over the Sunbirds on Wednesday.

Led by a balanced hitting attack and a talented defense, the Gems scored seven runs in the third inning to give them a 13-7 lead and breezed the rest of the way.

Lynn Sylvestre and Leslie Nadeau both popped home runs in the third-inning outburst. Jane Kaestner added another to lead off the fourth, and Kathy Phillips closed the scoring with a two-run blast in the sixth.

Nadeau and Carolyn Martin each had four hits for the winners, while Sue Flannagan and Julie Hunco both went 3-for-3 for the Sunbirds. Alicia Krinsky was credited with the pitching victory.

The Gems received a game in hand the following day when the Liberties, finishing a contest that had started earlier in the week, held on for a clutch 6-4 victory in 11 innings over the second-place Travelers.

The Travelers, who went 13-2 in winning last year's crown, had raced out to an early 4-0 lead. The Liberties bounced back with three runs in the fourth to pull within one, then tied it up on Amy Missel's leadoff homer in the seventh.

Singles by Jennie Missel, Jackie Ballard, Cheryl Stasak and Judy Orr in the top of the 11th made it 6-4, but the game was postponed because of darkness until Thursday.

When the game resumed the Travelers threatened to score with two-out singles by Kim Kurzawa and Julie Abraham, but Liberties' pitcher Amy Missel retired the last batter on a fly out to rightfield to preserve the victory.

Immediately afterwards the Gems eked out an 8-7 triumph over the Liberties in their season finale, extending their winning streak to 11 games this year and hiking their final record to 17-3.

That gave the Gems a two-and-a-half game edge over the second-place Travelers and ended the Travelers' two-year reign in the senior division.

The Gems have now won 24 of their last 28 games dating back to last summer.

The Falcons, meanwhile, went right down to the last game of the season before they wrapped the primary division title up with a 15-8 victory over the Liberties Thursday.

Both teams entered the contest with 16-3 records, and each had won twice in the four previous meetings between the two. But the Falcons were in control of this one from the third inning on.

After battling to a 1-1 deadlock in the first two innings, the Falcons broke loose for six runs in the third inning and never looked back. Laura Pierman triggered the rally with a three-run homer after Susie Schrader and Jennifer Wisley had led off with singles.

Consecutive hits by Mary Booms, Julie Nowka, Lori Armstrong and Jenny Nadeau produced the other three runs. The inning ended when, with one on, Kim Richcreek hit a hard line drive that Liberties' shortstop Angela Panetta stabbed on a fine leaping catch.

Panetta got the Liberties back in the ball game with a three-run homer in the bottom of the third, cutting the gap to 7-4.

But the Falcons added two more in the sixth on a two-run homer by Lori Housman, then added four more in the sixth to put the game out of reach. Lisa Lobbia's two-run triple highlighted the sixth-inning rally.

The Liberties staged somewhat of a comeback in the last inning, scoring three runs on six base hits, but it ended when Falcons' second baseman Jenny Nadeau scooped up a ground ball and handled the final put-out unassisted.

Dawn Kucher's three hits topped the Falcons while the Liberties were paced by Kristen Bedford and Mary Morrissey, who cracked three hits apiece.

In the intermediate division the Travelers captured the championship with a 14-4 record. The second-place Sunbirds finished 12-5.

Talk about comebacks!

Cinderella's glass slipper fit the primary division's Sunbirds in a remarkable girls' softball finale in Northville last Wednesday.

The Sunbirds, who'd won just one of their 19 previous games during the season, found themselves 12 runs behind the Travelers with two innings left but rallied for a one-run victory.

Sunbird pitchers Kim Allen, Susan Doyle and Sharon Kimery held the visiting Travelers to just one run in those last two innings while their teammates came up with 14 of their own to pull out a 16-15 thriller.

Kim Flading's two-out single drove Colleen Brady home from third base with the winning run in the bottom of the last inning.

Every Sunbird player hit safely during the last-ditch rally.

The Sunbirds are coached by Gary Johnson.

Bea Carlson's cement wall is almost as hard to bring down as the one in Berlin

Wall comes down hard

For a seamstress, Bea Carlson can really build a cement wall

By KEVIN ALLEN

Somewhere there is a tired air hammer operator who probably wishes Bea Carlson knew a little more about sewing and a little less about mixing cement.

In 1943, when Mrs. Carlson, of 201 Fairbrook, was mixing the mortar to build a four-foot high cement wall that would be 18 inches thick and stretch for about 20 feet behind her property, she mixed it good and thick because the wall would probably be up for a long time.

"I never thought... ever dreamed they would put the road back through here again," says Mrs. Carlson who built the wall to keep the dirt off her property that had come from the leveling of the hill on Sheldon Road.

When the construction crews showed up to finally start work on making Wing Street a through street to Sheldon, a project that first got its seeds in 1966, they realized they had gotten more than they had bargained for.

"A young fellow with an air hammer worked on it all day, he was tired," she says with a laugh.

"I can't sew a straight seam but I can mix cement," adds Mrs. Carlson, who is in her eighties but is as active as a 20-year old.

For Mrs. Carlson, who in 1959 became the first woman to be elected to the Northville City Council, the fate of her wall was decided 12 years ago when John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs, came to City Council with a plan to open up a Wing thoroughfare to Sheldon to give race track visitors another access route to the road.

According to the news report of the meeting, Carlo felt the new route would increase the handle of the track.

"We will build you a new house," Carlo told Councilwoman Carlson when the discussion moved to the fact that the east side of her house would have to be leveled to get the road through.

Carlo noted at the 1966 meeting that the only obstacle to the project besides Mrs. Carlson's property would be acquiring some county park land which was directly behind Mrs. Carlson's parcel.

The delay in the project was caused by the fact the city did not get the park land until a couple of months ago.

Mrs. Carlson's land was bought eight years ago and part of her house used as an apartment for rent — was torn down four years ago.

The 12-year wait for the project finally ended two weeks ago when the construction started.

"It's finally the end to that story that was written 12 years ago. I just don't think people understand the history behind that road," says Mrs. Carlson.

Mrs. Carlson adds she is a little skeptical of the project, but says "it's progress and Northville is a changing city. You can't stand in the way. Who is to say if it is good idea? Time will tell."

"I look ahead not behind," says Mrs. Carlson, although she remembers well that another reason why she put up her wall was to keep the drunks from bothering her and hurting themselves.

She laughs again. "A lot of inebriated gentlemen would walk down here thinking they were on Center Street and land in the creek and on our property," Mrs. Carlson says.

The secret to a strong wall, by the way, is all in the mixture, according to Mrs. Carlson.

"When I built the wall I used four shovels of sand and one of cement. Today I think they are using 10 of sand to one of cement," says Mrs. Carlson, who can't sew her many grandchildren some clothes but could make them a strong cement wall.

Quarter of state's mental patients in Northville

One in four of all patients admitted to state psychiatric hospitals goes to Northville.

That's the word from the Michigan Department of Mental Health in a report that last year 11,731 persons entered Michigan's state psychiatric hospitals — an average of 225 a week, 52 weeks a year.

Of these, according to the department, more than 5,000 came voluntarily, because they recognized they needed help, they wanted help, and they were found to be clinically suitable for admission.

But the majority of persons entering psychiatric hospitals, including Northville State (now officially called Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital), did not come of their own free will. They came because they were determined to be mentally ill and in need of treatment by a judge or jury.

No area of the state was immune to problems of mental illness although one county — Montmorency in the northern lower peninsula — did not account for any admissions in 1976-77, the department said.

The other 82 counties in Michigan were all represented by persons entering state psychiatric hospitals. More than 5,000 persons came from Wayne County; nearly 1,400 from Oakland County; one person came from the state's northern tip — small, isolated Keewauaw County, surrounded on three sides by Lake Superior.

A majority of patients entering state hospitals last year had been there before. Total number or readmissions was 6,377; persons hospitalized for the first time in a state psychiatric hospital numbered 5,354.

Mental illness does not discriminate by age, noted the department. Nearly 300 of those admitted last year were 12 or younger, almost 500 were age 65 or older.

Data suggest, however, that stresses of modern-day life may be most difficult on young adults, it reported. One third of all admissions last year — nearly 3,700 men and women — were in the age bracket of 22-30.

More than half of all admissions are accounted for by people in the age range 22-40.

The typical patient was most likely to enter the Northville, Clinton Valley or Kalamazoo hospitals. In total, these three hospitals received more than half of all admissions.

Persons requiring hospitalization were least likely to receive service at Caro, Dimondale, or Newberry. In total, the three centers receive only six of every 100 persons entering the system.

The 11,700 admissions last year represent a new record. This year, admissions are expected to climb again, to a level of more than 12,000.

For the first six months of the current fiscal year — October 1, 1977 through March 30, 1978 — admissions averaged more than 1,000 per month.

With admissions climbing steadily, the average daily census at psychiatric hospitals is also increasing. In the sixties and early seventies, the census decreased dramatically — from 17,000 at the close of the 1964-65 fiscal year to 5,000 at the end of the 1974-75 fiscal year.

Today, that trend has stopped and started to slowly reverse itself. From a low of less than 4,400 patients in January, 1976, the census climbed to more than 4,700 in April, 1978.

Caring for these 4,700 patients are more than 7,300 personnel employed by regional psychiatric hospitals — an increase of about 100 in the last two years.

Of this number, there are about 200 psychiatrists, 100 psychiatric residents in training, nearly 500 registered nurses, about 50 pharmacists, and nearly 6,000 general nursing service personnel.

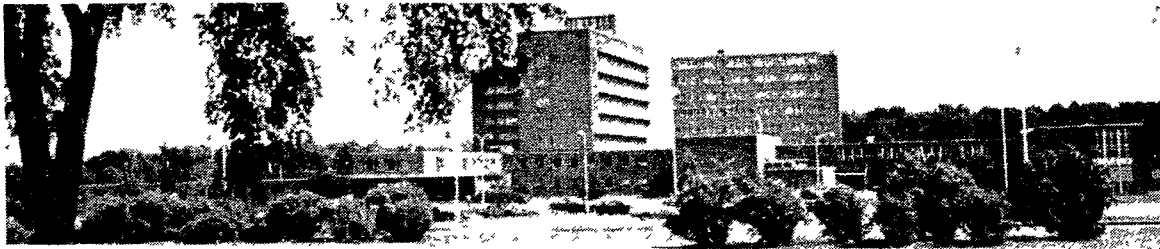

Perhaps the most interesting and optimistic statistics, said the department, are related to length of stay.

Today, half of those admitted to regional psychiatric hospitals will be returned to the community in 30 days or less.

Recent studies show nearly 70 percent will be released in 60 days or less; nearly 80 percent in 90 days or less. No longer are ties with family, community and jobs severed, by long periods of absence, said the department.

Of the 10 psychiatric hospitals in Michigan, Northville ranks fourth in numbers of inpatients with 649. Ypsilanti is first with 966, Kalamazoo second at 834, and Clinton Valley (Psychiatric) third at 744.

Northville has a staff of 1,018 and a budget of $20.4 million.

Promotion gives life to free lunch

Who said there is no such thing as a free lunch?

Elias Brothers of Northville handed out over 350 of them in a six day gimmick to drum up new business.

From last Thursday until today, the city Big Boy served an All-American hamburger, valued at $1.65, absolutely free of charge on the presentation of a coupon that appeared in last week's Record.

No purchase was necessary. The only requirement was that the burger, which is served on a Grecian roll and with an onion, be eaten on the premises.

Manager Randy Kelm said the promotion campaign, which was the brainstorm of a main office sales promotion officer, had attracted a number of families to the restaurant to take advantage of the offer.

Kelm said the Northville resaurant customer volume was significantly less than that of other franchises. This prompted the main office to come up with the gimmick, which as far as he knew, had never been used before.

Kelm said the loss of the profit from the distribution of the free hamburgers was supposed to be made up with the side orders the customers get with the hamburger. "So far we have been getting people with a coupon who also bring one or two other people with them who might buy food," said Kelm.

The promotion campaign is also supposed to draw attention to the fact that the store has new management and new staff, according to Kelm.

"We are basically trying to get people in to show them we have new management — that service isn't what it was before. We are hoping to get families back since we have always had the family selections on our menu," said Kelm.

"So far, it is the families who have been taking advantage of the coupons," added Kelm.

Oktoberfest planned

German beer, authentic foods and dancers in dirndls and lederhosen will be part of the first Oktoberfest being planned by the German-American Club of Plymouth for Saturday, September 30, at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

Roger Feller, club president, in announcing the Bavarian-type festival, says the club often has been asked to hold a fall party. Tickets will be limited and will go on sale at 10 a.m. this Saturday at the German-American Club collective parking lot.

Both the William Mirons and Robert Nortons have pools in Northville but gather here at the Miron pool to share the fun—that's John Norton, 11, jumping

Backyard pool popularity growing

Oh, the romance of it all. A swimming pool in the backyard.

A refreshing dip after work. A place for the kids to play, learn to swim and stay cool at the same time. The convenience of walking from the patio through the gate, with drink in hand, for conversation poolside and a swim. The esthetic delight of clear, blue water in the backyard.

Owning a backyard swimming pool can provide all of these pleasures. And normally does.

For a growing number, the backyard pool is a vacation land at home, especially for families that can't get away in the summer.

"More and more pools are being built. They are becoming a more accepted way of life," says John Austin, a Howell pool builder.

The pool industry, Austin says, is only about 20, 25 years old. But in the last 10 years significant engineering advances have been made, so that a pool requires less maintenance, primarily due to better materials.

"Automatic" is the word today. Your pool can be totally automated, which means automatic cleaner, an automatic chlorinator, and automatic skimmer, all operated by a clock.

Variety is another word in the lexicon of people dealing in pools. You can purchase an inground pool, or an above ground pool. There is almost the pool to match income and circumstance.

But all pools do cost money. And they still are considered luxury items — more so in Michigan where pool use is limited to about two months.

An inground pool may cost from 3,500 to $15,000. An above ground pool costs less, depending upon the type and size.

There was a time when inground pools were made exclusively of concrete. Now, one may opt for a vinyl pool, with pre-formed structural backing and a vinyl covering. The vinyl is smooth, non-porous, stain resistant and can be patched by the pool owner with relative ease.

Austin compares the purchase of a pool to purchase of a car. You even have your choice of options. But a pool, he maintains, is a better value.

"You might spend $6,000 or $7,000 for a car," Austin said, "and it will be obsolete in five years. A pool is a more permanent type of addition to the home."

And, Austin adds, in comparison to recreation costs, the pool "is not that expensive." He notes, for example, that a person might pay $10,000 to $30,000 for a motor home and use it infrequently, whereas about tops for a pool is $15,000 and a family uses it much more.

Buying a pool isn't the end to expense, however. The pool must be maintained regularly. And, as one pool owner noted, it can be a headache.

First, there is the expense of filling the pool. Figure about $12 per 1,000 gallons. If you have a 30,000-gallon pool, that's $360. You don't have to fill the pool every year, although some do.

You may have a private business truck in the water. But you also may fill the pool from your water tap, which means a bigger water bill if you are serviced by a central water system, or a bigger electrical bill and wear and tear on the pump if you have your own well.

Chlorine must be added, to kill bacteria, to control algae and to destroy organic matter. An algaecide is needed. Muriatic acid is needed to assure the proper chemical balance in the pool and healthy swimming conditions.

The filtering system should operate more often during a 24-hour period than it is off, and 24-hour operation is encouraged. This means electrical expense.

Particles (normally debris from trees) that fall into the pool must be skimmed out regularly. The floor of the pool must be swept, so that the filtering system might do an effective job of removing dirt from the pool.

Another cost might emerge on your tax bill. An inground pool adds value to a home, whereas an above-ground pool normally does not, because it is not considered a permanent structure.

The pool must be winterized. The normal approach is to drop the water level about 12 inches, drain the filter, heater and pump, so they don't freeze, and perhaps the lines, depending upon the type of pool you have.

No one likes to pull maintenance on the backyard pool. But most people accept it as part of owning — and enjoying — one.

FUN POOL—Some may not consider a plastic pool a backyard pool. But it serves the purpose of most pools — cool fun. Here, Ronnie Luttman, six, dumps water over his four-year-old brother, Steve.

Charcoal may help

A lawn sporting today's dandy cultivars is worthy of full protection.

Chemicals, weed killers in particular, can cause a lot of trouble if inadvertently spilled or overdosed.

Activated charcoal, applied as a dry dust or as a wet slurry (as with a sprinkling can), often does much to help.

Apply it as quickly as possible to growing grass suffering from an ill-conceived spraying, or cultivate it shallowly into contaminated soil on open ground.

Mysterious glamor

Few flowers bring to a garden the unusual and exotic beauty of lilies. The romance of the far corners of the earth where many of them were discovered adds mystery and glamour to any garden as demonstrated here by this Northville beauty. The new hybrid garden lilies have taken a place in many area gardens, large and small, not only for their beauty but because of their ease of culture.

Michigan Mirror

By WARREN M. HOYT

During the whirlwind wrap-up session of the Legislature prior to the summer recess, much important legislation was overshadowed by the concentrated work on the 1978-79 fiscal year budget. One such item of consumer interest is the House of Representative's last day approval of product liability legislation which includes two bills establishing guidelines on legal actions regarding product liability insurance

One measure (HB 5689) provides evidence that a particular product presumably met safety standards will be admissible in a court case. Also, in a case involving a product's safety, a person could get an award, even if the person was partially at fault in an accident because of negligence.

In such circumstances, however, any award will be reduced by the degree of negligence involved.

Cases involving injury or death must be brought within three years after the accident. The three-year statute of limitation is also stipulated for basic product liability cases.

Under the bills, if a product is used more than 10 years it would no longer be presumed safe. A person then would have to prove that a specific defect on the product was responsible for any injury or death.

In the past few years, gardeners and home owners in many drought-stricken areas have learned a new term, "grey water," in their efforts to conserve and extend water supplies.

Grey water, or waste water from laundry and bath tubs, has been used increasingly to help shrubs, outdoor flowers and vegetable gardens through periods of dry weather and water-use restrictions. The conservation idea is sound, but there are precautions, according to information gathered by The Fertilizer Institute.

At Kensington

2,000 youngsters vie in Fitness Meet finals

More than 2,000 boys and girls are expected to compete in the finals of the Detroit Metropolitan Youth Fitness Meet at Kensington Metropark east of Brighton tomorrow (Thursday, July 27).

The program is to begin at 9:30 a.m. Youngsters aged 10 through 15 will represent 55 communities, including four districts from Detroit, in the finals. Boys and girls will participate in the 50-yard, 60-yard and 75-yard dashes; as well as in the softball throw; standing broad jump; running broad jump; running hop, step and jump; shuttle relay; and chinning exercises.

A total of 144 trophies will be presented to boys and girls who place first, second and third in the events, with trophies provided by the Youth Fitness Committee. All participants will receive emblems and refreshments courtesy of McDonald Systems, Inc.

Tomorrow's Fitness Meet highlights a host of activities scheduled to take place at Kensington Metropark during the next week. Other programs scheduled for the park during the next few days include:

—"Summer Wildflowers," to be presented at the Kensington Nature Center at 9 a.m. Sunday, July 30. Park Naturalist Dave Moilanen will present a close look at various wildflowers and will discuss Indian usage and identification techniques during this two-hour program.

—"Fossil Hunt," scheduled for youngsters from nine to 11 years old at 9 a.m. Tuesday, August 1. During this 2½-hour program, participants will learn what fossils are, where they came from and how to find them. Youngsters, who will be permitted to keep the fossils they find, are advised to wear sturdy shoes and to bring their own collecting bags.

—An "Evening Nature Cruise" aboard the Island Queen excursion boat at 8 p.m. Tuesday, August 1. Naturalist Moilanen will be on board to talk about the area's human history and wildlife. There is a $1 charge for this one-hour cruise.

—"Fossils-Life through the Ages" will be presented for young people from 12 to 14 at 9 a.m. Wednesday, August 2.

Participants will have a chance to learn about the fascinating world of fossils from Naturalist Bob Hotelling. Youngsters again are advised to wear sturdy shoes and to bring collecting bags for the three-hour program.

—"Insect Orchestra" will feature the sounds of night insects at 8 p.m. Thursday, August 3. The program will concentrate on identifying night insects by their calls or appearance. Participants should bring flashlights and insect repellent.

Except where otherwise noted, all programs are free of charge. However, motor vehicle permits (priced at $5 for regular annual permits, $1 for senior citizen annuals and $1 for daily permits) are required for entry to the park. Advance registration is required for all programs. More information may be obtained by phoning 685-1561.

Plant doctor

By ROBERTA LAWRENCE
Extension Horticultural Agent

Question: I moved a number of my houseplants onto my balcony for the summer. Most are doing well, but my Chinese Evergreen turned pale yellow, almost bleached looking in spots. What could have caused this to happen so suddenly?

Answer: It sounds like your Chinese

Evergreen had the same reaction to some of our warm sunny days as you might have had. It got sunburned!

House plants placed out of doors for the summer should be placed in a shady to semi-shady area. Even in the shade, they get more light than inside your sunniest window.

Your Chinese Evergreen will recover. Move it to a more protected location, and as new growth develops, prune out the burned foliage.

Good bet for shrubs

A never ending supply of flowering shrubs for your landscape is as close as your favorite lilac. Take cuttings now for propagation.

Bobbi Lawrence, Washtenaw County Horticultural Agent, advises taking six-to-eight inch cuttings in June from the new growth of French Lilac, forsythia, weigela and pyracantha. Make each cut just below a node — where a leaf joins the stem. Remove the leaves from the lower half of the cutting, and pinch off any flowers or flower buds.

To encourage rootings, dip the cut end of the stem in a rooting hormone.

Every cutting you take will not form roots, so it's a good idea to take more cuttings than you think you need.

Plant cuttings in a shady spot in the garden or in a well-drained container. Water as often as necessary to keep the soil around the cuttings moist. Potted cuttings can be covered with plastic bags for the first two weeks. Punch a few holes in the bags to allow fresh air to circulate, and make sure the plastic does not touch the cuttings.

The plants should be ready for transplanting to their final growing sites after four to six weeks.

Consumer bill overshadowed in last-minute rush

By WARREN M. HOYT

During the whirlwind wrap-up session of the Legislature prior to the summer recess, much important legislation was overshadowed by the concentrated work on the 1978-79 fiscal year budget. One such item of consumer interest is the House of Representative's last day approval of product liability legislation which includes two bills establishing guidelines on legal actions regarding

product liability insurance

One measure (HB 5689) provides evidence that a particular product presumably met safety standards will be admissible in a court case. Also, in a case involving a product's safety, a person could get an award, even if the person was partially at fault in an accident because of negligence.

In such circumstances, however, any award will be reduced by the degree of negligence involved.

Cases involving injury or death must be brought within three years after the accident. The three-year statute of limitation is also stipulated for basic product liability cases.

Under the bills, if a product is used more than 10 years it would no longer be presumed safe. A person then would have to prove that a specific defect on the product was responsible for any injury or death.

To guard against nuisance suits, claims a judge finds frivolous can be dismissed, with legal fees assessed against the party bringing the suit.

A second bill (HB 6541) requires insurance companies in their annual reports, to list the premiums collected and losses incurred for product liability insurance.

Also required would be materials on any complaint seeking damages against a policy because of injuries. An insurance company would have to file a report on a defective product with the Insurance Bureau within 30 days after filing an answer to a complaint in court. The bills were drafted after a series of public hearings and discussions were held with lawyers, insurance officials and business leaders on the difficulties of obtaining product liability insurance. Supporters of the legislation indicate the bills will give manufacturers and businesses better chances to protect themselves in court, while also allowing consumers the right to make legitimate complaints.

Supporters also hope the bills may help make product liability insurance more available and at a lower rate.

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority has inaugurated a home improvement program designed to help low and moderate income families to upgrade older homes with low-interest loans.

The program, authorized last year by the Legislature, will expend up to $100 million in three years to assist up to 20,000 homeowners, according to Housing Development Authority Director Richard Helmbrecht.

At the outset of the program, current loans are available only through 13 lending institutions, scattered throughout the state.

The only large cities represented in the program are Detroit and Grand Rapids. Helmbrecht said the authority has contacted banks in Flint, Lansing, Saginaw and other large cities and hoped they would get involved as the program got underway to make the program available statewide.

Persons participating in the program could get loans with as little as one percent interest if their gross income is less than $7,999. Interest rates increase gradually as income rises above that. The largest interest charged is 9 percent to persons whose income are between $17,000 and $17,830.

To qualify, a person must own the home and be a reasonable credit risk.

The home must be either older than 20 years or damaged through a natural disaster. Loans can also be made to correct health or safety hazards or to make energy conservation improvements.

Trees prove naturals as air conditioners

Just about everybody knows the shade from a tree can make life much more bearable on hot days, but did you know a lounge chair under a canopy of leaves is in a temperature as much as eight degrees lower than the open area around it?

If the same tree is shading a window from direct sun rays, the temperature inside can be lowered by 20 degrees.

According to the American Association of Nurserymen, other benefits from nature's green, growing gifts are equally important.

For example, in mechanical air conditioning, air washers are designed to produce contact between air and water to transfer heat and moisture between the two and to remove impurities from the air. Trees and other plants accomplish this naturally on a massive scale.

One study published by the U.S. Department of the Interior showed that a beech tree standing alone in the open releases 75 to 100 gallons of water into the atmosphere during a summer day. Expressed another way, a mature tree in front of a home can produce a cooling effect equal to 10 room-size air conditioners running 20 hours a day.

All plants are "blot- ters," soaking up much of the 12 million tons of pollutants released into the atmosphere each year.

Plants cleanse the air by photosynthesis: a process by which carbon dioxide is removed from the air and oxygen returned to it.

For every ton of wood, trees release a ton of oxygen and consume one and a half tons of carbon dioxide. An apple tree produces enough oxygen to supply four people for one year.

In the past few years, gardeners and home owners in many drought-stricken areas have learned a new term, "grey water," in their efforts to conserve and extend water supplies.

Grey water, or waste water from laundry and bath tubs, has been used increasingly to help shrubs, outdoor flowers and vegetable gardens through periods of dry weather and water-use restrictions. The conservation idea is sound, but there are precautions, according to information gathered by The Fertilizer Institute.

First check to see if

Be careful when using grey water

ing around plants

Do not use wash water to which fabric softeners have been added or water bearing bleaches or boron.

Soaps and detergents are alkaline, so prolonged use of wash water on acid-loving plants such as azaleas, rhododendrons and camellias cause some chlorosis — leaf-yellowing.

When water supply is again adequate, addition of acidifying material, such as aluminum sulfate, or fertilizers containing special nutrients for chlorotic plants will return the green color.

Some other do's and don'ts for using "grey water":

• Plants still need nutrients during dry periods. An adequately fertilized plant is more healthy, has a more extensive root system, withstands insect and disease attack better, and uses water more efficiently than one suffering a lack of nutrients. Avoid over-fertilization, however, because excessive growth results in greater water need, and can weaken plants during drought stress.

• Apply cool grey water, not hot. Hot water can damage stems and surface roots of plants.

• Apply water to soil around plants, not on the plants. Apply to feeder root area, away from the trunk or stem.

• Avoid use of greasy kitchen sink waste water. The grease can congeal and plug the needed open space, or pore space, between soil particles.

• Use only clean water on potted plants and house plants. The compact root area of these plants makes them more sensitive to damage.

• For houseplants, collect clear water saved while waiting for bath or shower water to warm.

• Above all, watch your plants closely. "Burning" or drying of leaf edges can mean reaction to excessive salts, such as sodium ions, in the grey water you have been using. If this occurs, consider using better quality rinse or shower water.

Water conservation is important during any period of the year, but during drought conditions, its importance is paramount.

Know your plants and watch for their needs. Your action in using available "grey water" can keep valuable plants alive until rains come.

New hospital device measures breathing

Jogging to the mailbox or running up short flight of stairs are not tiring if you are healthy and breathe right. But for some patients who are already severely short of breath from chronic respiratory diseases such as emphysema, asthma and bronchitis, this kind of activity is exhausting and seldom even attempted.

Now, the pulmonary function laboratory at the Harper Hospital Division of Harper-Grace Hospitals is one of only a few hospitals in Michigan with new exercise testing equipment that will help the physician evaluate and treat patients with respiratory disorders and rehabilitate them while in the hospital and after they have gone home.

With the new equipment respiratory therapists can help determine what exercise levels the patient can tolerate well and let them know just how far they can push themselves when exercising. Rehabilitating these patients can help improve their breathing during exercise so that eventually they may tolerate more activity than they could before.

The therapist sets reasonable goals for them to reach, encouraging them to be as active as possible when they leave the hospital. Before many patients with severe breathing disorders just waited around to deteriorate to a point where they had to go back to the hospital — always hoping the next breath would be easier.

Karen Shaffran, director of pulmonary function and respiratory therapy at the hospital, explained that our lungs perform several vital functions. They help us eliminate some metabolic wastes, control our body temperatures and provide the main medium for what is called gas exchange.

Ms. Shaffran stated that when air is inhaled blood carrying oxygen to the tissues and carbon dioxide to be eliminated by the lungs is pumped by the heart. Tests are performed to show any obstruction or restriction within the lungs. The ability of the lungs to place oxygen into the blood and remove carbon dioxide is carefully measured.

The new pulmonary rehabilitation laboratory at Harper uses four pieces of equipment all at the same time. A regular electrocardio-gram (ECG) measures the patient's heart rhythm. An ear-oximeter is attached by electrodes to a helmet with two ear flaps that are designed to measure the reduction in the amount of oxygen carried in the patient's arterial blood in the ear lobe. An electronic readout, like a digital clock indicates a number that tells the therapist what reduction of the carrying capacity of oxygen has occurred.

The SRL (Scientific Research Lab) stress unit measures a number of physiological occurrences that take place while the patient is walking at graded levels on the treadmill at various speeds. The treadmill is like a ramp with a moving carpet that can be adjusted to resemble a steep hill or flat walking surface. As the patient walks along the carpet rolls forward around a drum and back again.

The patient's nose is plugged off while he breathes only through his mouth into a special bag connected to the SRL stress unit. This unit then records the amount of oxygen taken in as he inhales and also the amount of carbon dioxide he is giving off when he exhales. This is called gas exchange and the total volume of gas can be measured every minute during the test.

A dead space ratio is also measured which reports on the amount of lung tissue not actively being used during this breathing process. The concentration of carbon dioxide in the patient's exhaled air is compared with the concentration of oxygen which is inhaled.

Ms. Shaffran noted that some patients, following surgery find breathing painful so they take short quick breaths. Since shallow breathing promotes the accumulation of lung secretions, the patients breathing capacity must be increased to a proper level of functioning.

She stated that while the patients are being tested under stress on the treadmill, a physician is always available. Patients who are in the hospital and have breathing problems are exercised every day in the pulmonary rehabilitation lab. Their progress is measured as they walk on the treadmill at a very slow speed on a flat surface to a somewhat faster speed on a slight grade — all accomplished by adjusting the treadmill.

After a patient has been stressed then a rehabilitation program is set up. When the patient leaves the hospital, he is asked to return at least twice a week for more rehabilitation and evaluation of his progress so the therapists can determine if he is doing the exercises and keeping his oxygen at safe levels. As the patient progresses, the speed of the treadmill and the incline of the platform are also adjusted slightly each time to increase their capacity.

Soon the patient is able to get over their fear of exerting themselves as the progression of their pulmonary status slowly improves. The pulmonary patients are encouraged to do some exercise at home on a stairway or walking around a grocery store, but at their own individual speed. When they feel that they are getting out of breath they know it is time to stop and rest.

Before pulmonary rehabilitation was instituted, many patients went home with oxygen and positive pressure breathing equipment and stayed in one room, afraid that they would die if they moved around too much. Ms. Shaffran reported, "We encourage them to do what exercises they can in order to use the muscles around their lungs that they have not been using for some time."

The pulmonary rehabilitation laboratory opened in June and is already testing several patients a day. Testing procedures are performed by skilled respiratory therapists under supervision of pulmonary physicians. Evaluation and rehabilitation of patients is done by physician referrals every weekday from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Fad spreads

Hot tub in the summertime

The butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker whose rub-a-dub tubbing have endeared them to generations of school children are gaining a broader constituency.

"Hot tubs" are in.

Evolving from the popular home spa and therapeutic whirlpool bath, "hot tubs" were developed a few years ago in California and now, according to the National Swimming Pool Institute, are gaining in popularity all across the country.

The tubs are something like open barrels, generally constructed of redwood, but also available in oak or aspen. They range in diameter from four to ten feet and may be installed indoors or outdoors.

In most models, water is pumped in through jets and continuously recycled. Water temperatures can be varied to suit the tastes of the tubbers.

While "hot tubs" are a relatively new development, the principle dates from ancient times when travellers covered miles just to enjoy the therapeutic benefits of natural hot springs.

Hydrotherapy baths have long been prescribed by doctors for relief of muscle pains, poor circulation and nervous tension. Fitness and beauty experts recommend hydro massage to relax tired muscles, induce restful sleep, stimulate circulation and tone skin muscles.

Durable plant is striking

A durable yet striking small houseplant is the golden bird's nest sansevieria (Sansevieria trifasciata 'golden hahnii').

This short, spreading rosette consists of stiff leaves banded in creamy yellow, green and blue-green. Michigan State University horticulturists suggest it is a good plant for people who have trouble growing plants indoors.

This sansevieria prefers warm temperatures — 80-85 degrees F during the day and a night minimum of 62-65 — but it will tolerate temperatures as low as 45 degrees for short periods.

Hot tubs got their start in — where else? — California

Pursell blasts
Soviet trials

Congressman Carl Pursell has harshly criticized the renewed evidence of suppression of free thought and speech in the Soviet Union. He added that the dissident trials threaten to undermine the whole foundation of Soviet-American relations, and arms limitation talks in particular.

"There are no tanks rolling across borders in this instance, but the Russian government is nevertheless engaged in naked aggression against the human mind," Pursell charged.

In a statement for the Congressional Record, the 2nd District Congressman said, "As an American, I am disturbed by the Soviets' violations of their international commitments, especially the human rights pledges of the 1975 Helsinki accords. As a person, I am appalled that human beings are being tried and imprisoned for speaking their minds on basic human rights."

"The Russian leaders have demonstrated that their word is highly suspect. If they can disregard so lightly the Helsinki agreement, how can we trust anything they pledge in the S.A.L.T. talks?"

"Trials like this are just as devastating to the spirit of freedom as the weapons of war are to the physical security of world society," Pursell added.

In declaring his "vigorous" support for a congressional resolution urging humanitarian treatment for soviet dissidents, Pursell called for a continued strong U.S. stand on human rights around the world.

"The fate of Anatoly Scharansky, Alexander Ginzburg, Yuri Orlov, Viktoras Petkus and others is a vivid reminder of the pitifully narrow scope of human freedom in much of our world."

Pursell said the S.A.L.T. talks should proceed, but recommended that the U.S. take a very tough negotiating position.

Milliken names campaign heads

Norm Jamieson and Nancy Haviland have been named Livingston County co-chairpersons for Governor William Milliken's re-election campaign, the governor announced recently.

"I am very pleased they have agreed to direct the re-election effort on my behalf in Livingston County," Milliken said in making the announcement. "I know they will do an outstanding job in leading and coordinating the campaign and I am gratified to have their assistance."

Jamieson is currently the vice-chairman of the Sixth Congressional District Republican Committee and a past chairman of the Livingston County Republican Party. In 1974 he served as Governor Milliken's campaign chairman for Livingston County.

"Governor Milliken always has had broad-based support among Michigan voters and it is apparent that the support remains this year," Jamieson said in accepting the assignment.

"I am confident that with the support we see forming for the governor, he will be re-elected on the basis of his outstanding record of accomplishment," Haviland stated.

Haviland was elected the Register of Deeds for Livingston County in 1976 and previously served for six years as treasurer of Brighton Township.

As heads of the Milliken effort in Livingston County, Haviland and Jamieson will work closely with Dennis O. Cawthorne, state chairman of Milliken volunteers.

Giese wants rational tax cut

Elizabeth H. Giese, candidate for State Representative in the 24th District said today she favors a combination property tax reform and tax limitation proposal that would adequately finance education while controlling growth in the share of personal income paid out in taxes.

"Neither the Tisch nor the Headlee proposals meet these criteria," she said. "I urge the legislature to give taxpayers an alternative that rationally addresses the problems of school finance and property tax reform."

"Such an alternative will be presented to the legislature this fall and must be dealt with quickly to be placed on the November ballot. Legislators have not addressed problems of school finance and growth in government, and if they continue to do nothing people will vote for one or all of the present proposals, none of which effectively addresses the problems."

"The Headlee proposal, strongly supported by one of my opponents in the primary, provides for a limit on taxes related to personal income, but it is tied to inflation and provides no property tax relief. It does not deal with the problem of school financing. By constitutional amendment the tax limit figure would be bound to the federally computed consumer price index, a figure presently being changed in definition and method of computation and subject to future changes."

"The Headlee amendment could have an adverse effect on industrial growth and expansion because it limits an effective tax incentive tool under Public Act 198, a tool vitally needed in times of economic recovery," Giese noted.

The Tisch proposal will bring hardships to senior citizens and others on limited incomes, especially those qualifying for the circuit breaker benefits in the present property tax law," Giese said. "They will lose that tax relief feature and also will have to pay more federal income tax, in many cases making their entire tax bill higher despite Tisch's claims of tax cuts."

"These proposals are very tempting to property owners who feel the burden of the inequitable property tax structure we now have. They want to show their displeasure with the present unfair system. In order to have a real alternative the legislature must act. Their solutions must remedy the defects in the current ballot proposals and provide property tax relief," she concluded.

'Active' session
cited by Geake

State Senator Bob Geake rates the Legislature's 1978 Regular Session, thus far, as productive but with much left to be done.

Speaking at a dinner dance sponsored by the Redford Republicans Club, the Northville Republican said, "This past legislative session was an active one during which a number of significant laws were passed."

Commenting on the approval of a balanced state budget for the upcoming fiscal year which begins October 1, 1978, Senator Geake said the budget will enable state government to continue providing essential state services, while fulfilling a promise to the people to control state expenditures.

"I am pleased that the total budget approved for next year comes very close to the amount Governor Milliken recommended, and expect few changes," Senator Geake noted.

Senator Geake candidate for re-election in the 14th District, reported to the audience that final legislative approval was also won on proposals which will permanently ban double-bottom tanker trucks in the Detroit Metropolitan Area, and statewide within three years.

"Although I recognize the need for this legislation, I am concerned about the impact it will have upon Michigan citizens," he stressed. "I fear it will limit the amount of gasoline available, cause the cost of gasoline to increase, and diminish tourism."

In addition to this legislative action, Senator Geake stated that a proposed constitutional amendment which would allow judges, at their discretion, to deny bail for violent and habitual criminals was approved by a two-thirds majority of both houses of the Legislature and will appear on the ballot in November.

"I support this amendment because I believe the voters should have an opportunity to decide whether bail should be restricted," Senator Geake explained. "The amendment is flexible enough so as not to infringe on personal rights, but strong enough to prohibit violent and habitual criminals from further menacing our law-abiding citizens."

The amendment is aimed at preventing violent criminals from being able to commit yet another crime while they are out on bail on a separate charge.

Senator Geake reiterated that he believes Michigan lawmakers made progress in several important areas of concern, but said there are many issues which need to be addressed when the Legislature reconvenes this fall.

"The fall session is going to be a very important one," Senator Geake predicted. "The Legislature will be tackling needed revisions of the no-fault insurance law and will be studying methods to provide property tax relief for all Michigan citizens."

'Fun' raiser is GOP twist

The Michigan Republican Party today announced a rather unusual event. Instead of putting on the standard fund-raiser, with speakers, party officials, and various dignitaries, the Republicans are planning a fun event — a fun-raiser.

The Mayflower Meeting House, at the corner of Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth, has been selected to host a dinner-theatre party. The August 2nd event will include a 6 p.m. cocktail and cheese bar, 7 p.m. dinner, and a play beginning at 8:30.

The play will be a production of "The Owl and The Pussycat" featuring the Plymouth Theatre Guild. Dinner will be the Mayflower's delicious roast beef, Mayflower salad, indian corn custard, and dutch apple pie.

Tickets are $25 per person and may be obtained from Carol Sellman at 313/453-3286 or Tom Page 313/434-3660.

The Republicans expect an enthusiastic response to this unique dinner-theatre fun-raiser.

'Repression' hit by Broomfield

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-19th District) called the Soviet trials of dissidents, Anatoly Shcharansky, Viktoras Petkus, and Aleksandr Ginzburg, "another chapter in the continuing story of Russian repression."

Serving as the minority floor manager, Broomfield helped guide a resolution condemning the Soviet trials to a 380 to 10 vote victory in the House of Representatives. This resolution had been passed earlier by the Senate.

"When the international agreement which resulted from the Helsinki Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe was completed in 1975, it raised humanitarian hopes among many captive people throughout the world."

"Progress in the areas of freer movement of people, ideas, and information — and thus human rights — has received serious setbacks."

"These kinds of Soviet activities, as exemplified by the Shcharansky trial, are indicative of the Russian policy of outrageous and humiliating harassment of people who wish to guarantee the dignity and rights of individuals," Broomfield said in his speech supporting the resolution.

Power supports full employment

Philip Power, candidate for the Democratic nomination to the United States Senate, is supporting the Humphrey-Hawkins Bill calling for full employment.

"Congress must move quickly to make this important concept law," said Power, owner of a suburban chain of newspapers. "People who want to work must have a chance to do so. It is vital that the federal government take strong steps to return this country to full employment."

Power contended that the federal government is worsening Michigan's jobs problem. "Too many of our tax dollars are sent to Washington and then used to create jobs in California, Texas and elsewhere. We've got to stop the drain of federal tax dollars — job-creating tax dollars — from Michigan."

On a related subject, Power said one of the causes of the Michigan jobs problem is the federal law (14-B) that permits states to have so-called "right to work" laws.

"Many states are enticing businesses to move by making it hard for workers to organize into unions to demand decent wages and working conditions and by allowing employers to scrimp in benefits like unemployment and workers' compensation. To stop this drain on Michigan," he said, "The Senate must pass the labor law reform bill already approved by the House."

Tough federal standards for unemployment and workers' compensation also are important, he added. "They're essential to guarantee that all states provide the full level of compensation benefits we provide in Michigan. That way, workers get the protections they're entitled to and the ridiculous and unjust competition between states for businesses can be curbed."

Opposes transit
if no road funds

Fred Dillingham, Republican candidate for the 51st District seat in the State House of Representatives, went on record last week as opposing mass transit without legislation that will improve local roads.

"It does not make sense to pour tax dollars into a mass transportation program when the roads in Livingston County and many other areas of the state are in extremely poor condition," Dillingham said.

He advocated stronger state encouragement of car pools, express lanes for bus lines and increased funding for the improvement of local road and better maintenance of the existing highway system.

He opposes an increase in the gas tax and license plate fees for a mass transportation program which, he maintains, would only benefit the Detroit area at the expense of the rest of Michigan residents.

The Fowlerville native also maintained that a crisis is upon Michigan because of what he termed a declining business climate.

"If the State legislature continues to drastically increase the cost of doing business in Michigan," he said, "we, as the tax paying public, are going to find ourselves in a tuxrpt situation."

Over the past few years, he noted, many Michigan businesses have moved from the state or refused to expand their operations in Michigan. This exodus, Dillingham continued, will have a long-range impact on the Michigan economy.

"When a company pulls out of the state or refuses to expand, unemployment results, causing increased welfare, crime and loss in tax revenues," Dillingham said.

Larsen in race for Austin's job

State Representative Melvin L. Larsen (R-Oxford) has officially entered the race for Secretary of State.

Larsen launched his campaign for the G.O.P. nomination by holding press conferences in Pontiac, Lansing, and Grand Rapids.

The 41 year old former coach, teacher, and principal is expected to mount the most serious Republican challenge for the office of Secretary of State, in more than a decade. Larsen told reporters, "I entered the race for a number of important reasons, but most importantly because I believe I can win."

Larsen has been stumping around the state recently seeking support and said, "I am overwhelmed by the grass roots support that has been forthcoming... and I realize that it's the grass roots that win elections."

Support for the three term lawmaker has also been offered by the House Republican Caucus, the entire Michigan Republican Congressional Delegation, Nationalities Council, the Oakland County Republican Commissioners, and the party leadership in his home county of Oakland.

During his six years in the Michigan House of Representatives, Larsen has earned the respect of his colleagues, both Republican and Democrat. He has developed a reputation as one of the most effective legislators in Lansing; a reputation that is reflected by his being chosen among the top legislators at the Capitol in polls conducted by both The Detroit News and Booth Newspapers, Inc.

Larsen told reporters, "I am in the process of starting to raise the needed funds to conduct a statewide campaign and develop a strong campaign organization." Larsen is, thus far, the only announced candidate for the G.O.P. Secretary of State nomination. The nomination will be awarded at the party convention in August.

A strong campaigner, Larsen has won election to the House three times as a Republican running in what many consider to be a Democratic District in Oakland County.

Campaign ties
tour with past

Judith Dennehy Doran, candidate for Oakland County Judge, is combining a campaign open house with a tour of Oakland County's past.

On Sunday, July 30, an open house will be held at the historic Wallaert-Boisford Farmhouse, built in the 1830's by the pioneer Botsford family.

Dr. and Mrs. Wallaert, owners of the house, are holding the open house on behalf of Ms. Doran's candidacy from 1 to 4 p.m. The house is one of the authentic historical homes in Farmington.

Ms. Doran, in announcing the open house, asserts that her experience as a seasoned trial attorney and her leadership ability as vice-president of Detroit College of Law Alumni Association, and as past president of Women Lawyers Association of Michigan render her well qualified to resolve the backlog of cases in Oakland Circuit Court.

The farmhouse is located at 24414 Farmington Road, north of Ten Mile Road. Donations will be accepted.

Polo party adds to her campaign

A polo party to support Liz Giese's campaign for election as a state representative from the 24th District was held Sunday.

The polo party was held at the Detroit Polo Club grounds on Milford Road, approximately two miles south of M-59 and two miles north of Milford.

Mrs. Giese is vying with Stephen Rosman and Dennis McCoy for the Democratic nomination for State Representative from the 24th District. Republican incumbent Richard Fessler is unopposed in the primary.

Business Briefs

Radio Alley Manager Ken Dixon and Division Manager Mark Grudzien are ready for the grand opening sale which starts in August at all locations.

THE RADIO ALLEY division of Gallup-Silkworth's Pump and Pantry stores has scheduled a grand opening celebration of their newest location for August 15 through September 15. Situated at US-23 and Six Mile Road, the store opened earlier this month with Jeff Waugh as manager.

The five area stores in the chain will participate in the specials offered during the grand opening month. Four of the stores are set up in conjunction with Pump and Pantry convenience food stores. Only the first one which is located at Pontiac Trail and North Territorial has no affiliation with the adjacent food store.

In business to be competitive in electronic equipment pricing, Radio Alleys carry complete lines of Panasonic and Sanyo merchandise including radios, TV's, CB's, stereo music systems and tape recorders. "It's our policy to meet any advertised price in our lines," commented Division Manager Mark Grudzien.

BASF tapes have recently been added to the Radio Alley lines.

Other Radio Alley locations are: Broadway near the bridge and South Main at Madison, both in Ann Arbor, and Washtenaw, east of the Tower, in Ypsilanti.

RAYMOND BOOMS has been appointed to sit on the Michigan State Board of Appeals in Lansing. When tapped for the honor by Governor William Milliken, Booms was with Michigan Mutual Liability Company in its workmen compensation division.

A 1968 graduate of Northville High School, he received his pre-law degree from University of Michigan and his law degree from University of Detroit Law School in December, 1975. He and his wife, Teresa, with sons, Raymond, Jr., 2, and Jonathan, eight months, live in Farmington Hills. Booms is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Booms of Northville.

MCDONALD'S OF WALLED LAKE has reported that Lucille Andrews of Union Lake has won a family reunion for two in McDonald's "Salute to the Families of America" contest.

Her name was drawn at the McDonald's Restaurant on Maple Road in Walled Lake during ceremonies on "McDonald's Family Day" on July 16. She receives two free plane tickets for friends or relatives to visit her in Union Lake for a family reunion.

In addition to the reunion prize, Lucille Andrews receives a special membership in the American Family Society, a not-for-profit organization which promotes the value of the American Family.

The festivities marked the end of the nation-wide "salute" which included 28 national prizes of reunions for 10 friends or relatives and local prizes at each participating McDonald's of a reunion for two, reunion parties, and family dinners. Travel arrangements will be handled by United Airlines.

Participating in the drawing were Walled Lake Mayor Gasapre LaMarca, McDonald's Hostess Linda Park, and McDonald's First Assistant Thomas Stock.

Magee-Magee formerly had offices on Fieldcrest in Green Oak Township. The firm has built custom homes and has done remodeling work in the area for about seven years.

Phil Magee is also a broker for Village Realty. The Magee-Magee office number is 227-5340.

SUNDAE INN NOVI has added special homemade submarine sandwiches to its regular fare of frozen custard ice cream and frozen yogurt. Sundae Inn Novi is located in the Novi-10 shopping center at the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Roads.

Gloria Kelly, owner-manager of the store, said that the subs are made of the highest quality meats and cheeses and "lots of them."

A special sandwich bar has been set up in the store and all sandwiches are made to order, reported Mrs. Kelly. The customers can watch their sandwiches being made.

Four types of submarine sandwiches are available: ham and cheese, hot salami and cheese, hot roast beef, and a True Italian Sub. The True Italian Sub includes salami, Italian ham, mortadella (Italian bologna), and provolone cheese.

All the subs are loaded with lettuce, tomatoes, onions, hot peppers, and a special Italian dressing made by Sundae Inn Novi.

Marquis Theater to have movies and live shows

By JEANDAY

In a little less than 10 weeks, on Saturday, September 30, Northville's landmark theater at 133 East Main will reopen with a new name, new owner and a new elegance.

Owner Inga Zayti, who also operates the Marquis dress shops on each side of the theater in the same building, is returning the theater to Victorian splendor while modernizing the heating, air conditioning and furnishings.

The theater in its past, which dates back to 1925, has hosted live stage productions as well as almost 50 years of sound movies.

When it opens as The Marquis Theater on September 30, it will be with a live cast playing "The King and I" for a nine-night run.

After the opening, the theater regularly will show movies. By setting admission price at $1.50 Mrs. Zayti hopes to keep the 550 seats that will be installed filled.

Even the seats, now on order from the American Seating Company, Mrs. Zayti explains, will carry out the Victorian theme. They will have the same seats as chosen for the Kennedy Center but framework will be cast iron.

"We will be only the second theater in the country to have them," says Mrs. Zayti, mentioning that the other is Grand Old Opera in Nashville.

The old seats of the P&A Theater have been removed and given to a Dearborn theater group. In the process of cleaning out the downstairs area (where there are eight dressing rooms for live theater casts) Mrs. Zayti found four wicker seats believed to be original in the theater.

Other "finds" backstage include the handsome solid brass door handles that will be returned to the glass-paneled

Two-pound Brian's growing fine

By JEAN DAY

Tiny Brian Christopher Haldane is the center of attention at the home of his parents, John and Patricia Haldane, 21776 Woodside Court, these days. He was born May 6 in Providence Hospital, but his homecoming was delayed about 10 weeks until his weight was up to four pounds, 12 ounces. When he was born, 12 weeks early, he weighed a mere two pounds, four ounces.

His mother was told he was the smallest baby ever to survive at Providence. He was in Mt. Carmel Neonatal Intensive Care Center for the 10 weeks until his family could welcome him home July 15.

He has a sister, Maureen, 10 years old, and brother, Brendan, 5. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Rublein of Winona, Minnesota, and John C. Haldane of Colorado Springs, Colorado. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Sophia Sullivan of Grosse Pointe Woods and Mrs. Emily Gill of Plymouth.

Neither his brother nor sister was incubator-size. Maureen weighed seven-and-a-half pounds and Brendan, nine. But, Mrs. Haldane mentions, three years ago they had twins, both so tiny that they did not live. So Brian's two pound, eight ounce weight gain since birth was cause for celebration.

Here's list of homes to be on tour

Northville Home Tour visitors planning to visit all eight locations on the annual tour to be held this year from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday, September 28, had better put on comfortable walking shoes. Although the tour committee headed by Cheryl Gazlay expects that by offering eight homes long lines at homes on previous tours will be eliminated, the variety of homes open will make it of interest to try to view all.

There's a house in Cabbagetown more than 150 years old, a very modern new home in Edenderry, a florist and clock-collector's home, an artist's home, a spacious condominium, an estate and two other vintage homes.

The Cabbagetown home is that of the Donald Fees on Rayson. Heather Fee, an accomplished weaver, also will open her weaving cottage on the property for the tour.

Other historic houses to be open include the West Main Street home that the William Paquettes have been restoring and the Victorian office of James Cutler on Center.

The Donald Baxter home at the crest of the hill beyond the race track south on Sheldon will be open for the second time. The new owners have redone the interior completely. The home features antiques and hand-painted work of artist Mary Beth Baxter.

The florist's home belongs to the Jack Smiths of Westmeath. It boasts a notable clock collection.

Thomas Schwarze has agreed to open his "very different" new modern home on Valencia, reports Mrs. Gazlay.

There's a growing interest in condominiums, she adds, and the committee decided to include one for the second year on the tour. This will be the condominium of the Kenneth Clums in Lexington.

The estate home is that of William and Barbara VanBuren on Nine Mile that formerly was the residence of the Lewis Crusoe family.

Mrs. Gazlay and her co-chairmen, Gail Gross, Rose Beaudoin and Charlene Merritt, in announcing the homes to be on tour, also state that the tour price will be $3.50, the same as last year.

Mrs. Gazlay and her children have just returned from a trip to the east coast. They stopped in Philadelphia and then visited her parents in New Jersey.

I suffered from headaches which were getting progressively worse for the past 25 years that I had to give up crocheting and doing other things which I could have enjoyed had I not suffered from headaches. I read of Dr. Al's Chiropractic ad in the newspaper and decided to make an appointment and drive the 25-mile round trip on the chance that he could relieve my pain. He examined me and found I had Cranial Subluxations. He adjusted my cranials and I went home and haven't had a headache since except for one day, but I blame that on having the flu since I also had other flu symptoms to go along with it. I now feel I've found the right doctor to help me with my 25 years of problems with headaches.

"ALLERGIES"

Ken of Clarkston

Many times I had trouble breathing. I remember going to the hospital to receive oxygen to help me through an attack of asthma. I couldn't run or play baseball with my friends. After a few adjustments from Dr. Reiersen, I was able to swim and play all my favorite sports.

MR. AND MRS. DUANE ALAN REEVES

MR. AND MRS. LaVERN TRYBA

MRS. ATHEL BENJAMIN HEARN

Linda Cinader wed to Duane Reeves

When Linda Sue Cinader became the bride of Duane Alan Reeves in a 6 p.m. candlelight ceremony at First Presbyterian Church June 30, she surprised her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jan Reef, by including in the service the same passage from the Book of Ruth that they had used for their wedding 57 years ago.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Marjory Cinader of Silver Springs Drive, was given in marriage by her grandfather. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reeves of Carpenter Street.

The Reverend Richard Henderson officiated at the altar decorated with white daisies, yellow rosebuds, baby's breath and white bows. Greens and daisies decorated the choir rails and pews.

The ceremony included the symbolic lighting of a single candle from two, signifying their union. Bruce Oelschlaeger sang "Sunrise, Sunset" and "One Hand, One Heart" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride's gown of white Venice lace and organza was fashioned with a high neckline and ruffle-edged yoke. Long, full sleeves were gathered into a ruffle-edged lace cuff. Venice lace outlined the pleated train. A lace headpiece held her illusion veil trimmed in lace.

She carried a bouquet of all-silk flowers — white daisies, yellow rosebuds, baby's breath and ivy tied with white satin ribbons.

The antique gold locket worn by the bride was given to her by her maternal grandmother.

Mrs. Jannel Cavill was matron of honor for her sister in an Empire-waist gown of buttercup yellow jersey fashioned with double-organza capelet sleeves. Her white picture hat was banded in yellow and had a cluster of white silk daisies. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow rosebuds, baby's breath with white streamers.

Sharon Cavill in buttercup yellow was flower girl for her aunt.

Robert Cavill was his aunt's ring bearer and carried a pillow designed and needlepointed by the bride's sister and mother. A pale yellow heart on white background edged in white lace, was inscribed with Linda and Duane's names and their marriage date in brown. Silk daisies and white satin ribbons held the rings.

John Bourne was best man Steve Fox, Frankie Defina, Jr., and John Kahler usher. The bridegroom wore a cream tuxedo, with brown trim and white ruffled shirt. His attendants were in matching tuxedos and yellow shirts.

A buffet dinner reception with dancing followed at Meadowbrook Country Club with the 166 guests attending from Northville and other Michigan cities.

The wedding cake was four tiers high over a fountain and was decorated with daisies and topped with two doves. It was cut with a pearl-handled knife given to the bride by her grandmother.

The couple, who had met at the home of the bride's sister, left on a wedding trip to the Poconos and Niagara Falls. They are making their home in Northville.

The bride is a June, 1978, graduate of Northville High School and is employed at Reef Manufacturing. The bridegroom is a June, 1977, Northville High graduate and is a truck driver for B & J Removal.

Japan to be home of LaVern Trybas

Now living in their own home in Hayama, Japan, are newly wed Mr. and Mrs. LaVern David Tryba. Before her marriage June 10 at First Presbyterian Church of Howell the bride was Mary Elizabeth Pollick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pollick, former Northville residents living in Howell.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tryba of Grand Island, Nebraska. He is a graduate of Grand Island High School and a U.S. Navy machinist mate-fireman serving aboard the USS Midway.

The bride is the granddaughter of George Stanford of Northville who with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stratton of Howell, also grandparents, was a special guest at the wedding.

The Reverend William Jones officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony.

The bride's gown was white lace with high neckline and long sleeves. Tiers of lace ruffles formed a chapel train. A lace headband with white satin roses held her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and trailing ivy.

Honor maid Jennifer Shubel wore a short-sleeve blue floral print gown.

Bridesmaids Debra Trybe and Pamela Pollick were in yellow and green floral print gowns, respectively. All carried bouquets of daisies, carnations and baby's breath.

Tammy Trybe was flower girl in pink floral print. She carried a lace basinet of flowers.

George Pollick was best man. Michael Dunham, and Timothy Trybe ushered. Matthew Pollick was ring bearer.

Gary and Donna Willoughby sang "Annie's Song" and "The Wedding Song" during the ceremony which was followed by a buffet reception in the church parlors.

The bride is a graduate of Howell High School and previously was employed at McDonalds in Howell. She will be teaching ballet at the U.S. Navy base where her husband is stationed.

Wendy Cummings speaks vows in Texas ceremony

Wendy Lee Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Cummings, Austin, Texas, became the bride of Athel Benjamin (Benny) Hearn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Hearn, of Lubbock, Texas, in a garden wedding ceremony Friday, July 14.

The bride was graduated from Northville High School in 1971 and from Austin's Brackenridge Hospital School of Nursing in 1977.

She is employed as a registered nurse at Shoal Creek Hospital in Austin.

The bridegroom was graduated from Stephenville High School, Stephenville, Texas and later attended Tarleton State University in Stephenville.

He is presently assistant manager, J. Rich Sports, Ltd., Austin.

Wendy is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Cummings, 43525 West Six Mile, and lived with them while attending Northville High School and Adrian College during a period when her parents were in Brazil.

Garchow reunion is 50th

The Garchow family is making plans to observe its 50th annual family reunion August 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garchow in Canton.

Every year since 1929 a reunion has been held at various members' homes. It now has an annual attendance of nearly 100.

Mrs. A. R. Garchow of Nine Mile Road in Northville is serving as reunion secretary. While she has not been in the family long enough to have attended all, she mentions that her husband's family has.

The R. F. Wolfram family of Grace Street is another Northville branch attending the get-togethers. Others attend from Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington.

The family dates its arrival to the United States to 1866. It now numbers 220 living members, 147 of whom are direct descendants of Johann Friedrich Wilhelm Garchow.

He and his new bride, Wilhelmine Friedricke Maria nee Schmidt, sailed for the United States shortly after their marriage in Mecklenberg, Germany.

They settled first in Greenfield Township, but then moved to Livonia at Five Mile and Merriman roads. Many of the family members still live in the Livonia area.

Home Decorating with Howard & Lois Green
The nice thing about color in home decorating is that it need have nothing to do with the style of the room. Modern, traditional or contemporary can be enhanced by the use of colors that range from the dramatic deeps to the fresh and light brights. The first step is to choose a basic color that's neutral - not basic blah, but rich camel, dark gray, soft shades of white, warm brown or cinnamon. The choice is yours, but keep most of the room in the same tone. Once that's done, it's time for your accent colors. One or two in different patterns and textures that work well with your basic color scheme is all that is needed for minor pieces and accessories. Trust your own color sense and go with it!
When it's color you want, it's color we have, here at GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110. We have the famous FULLER O'BRIEN PAINTS which we can custom tint to just the shade you want, more than 1,000 possible colors. Bring in a piece of material and we will custom-tint paint that will enhance the appearance of the other items in the room. We have all the necessary supplies for the do-it-yourself painter such as brushes, rollers, drop cloths, etc. GREEN'S is open from 9 'til 5 Mon. thru Sat., Thur. & Fri. 'til 9.

The difference between the highest and lowest interest rate on the bonds shall not exceed 1 percent per annum. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law; to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Act 175, Public Acts of Michigan, 1952, as amended, for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of constructing street improvements in the City of Northville and are issued in anticipation of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund payments from the State of Michigan to be received by the City. The bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Northville as additional security for payment of the principal and interest thereon. The rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditors' rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $5,500, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from September 1, 1978 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified opinion as to the validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly will not express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st of November, as follows:

$15,000	1984 to 1993, inclusive;

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds of this issue shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 10% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only. All bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate, and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rates bid on the bonds shall not exceed 2%. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the laws of the state in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the authorization contained in Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948 (First Extra Session), as amended, and a certain resolution of the Authority, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring improvements to a senior citizens housing project which the City of Northville has leased in return for the payment of certain rentals pursuant to a Supplement to Full Faith and Credit General Obligation Contract of Lease between the City and the Authority dated September 22, 1977. The bonds are issued in anticipation of and are payable from a portion of said contractual rentals denominated as "cash rentals," which cash rentals are in an amount fully sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds when due, and the Authority has irrevocably pledged all of said cash rentals for such payment and has established a statutory first lien thereon for such purpose. The rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditor's rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted.

LEASE OBLIGATION OF CITY: The cash rentals constitute full faith and credit general obligations of the City of Northville, and under the provisions of said Act 31, as amended, and Section 6, Article IX of the Michigan Constitution, the City of Northville is required to levy ad valorem taxes on all taxable property within its boundaries, without limitation as to rate or amount, and in addition to any other taxes which the Charter Township may be authorized to levy, to the full extent necessary to pay such cash rentals. The cash rentals are not subject to set off or abatement for any cause including, but not limited to, casualty that results in the leased property being untenable.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $4,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the Authority, must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining at the rate or rates specified in the bid the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from September 1, 1978, to their maturity, and deducting therefrom any premium.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The Authority will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned, in which event the Authority shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Barbie's stand

It was "lemon-aid" to beat the heat for two cents at Barbara Woodruff's stand at her home, 327 Baseline, during last week's 90-plus degree weather. Barbie, who will be six next month, sells Nicholas Hajdosiewicz a cool drink while her sister, Molly, 11, watches. On her first day in business, last week Tuesday, the young businesswoman cleared 56 cents as passers-by in cars even backed up to patronize her stand.

MacInnis family hosts celebration

The seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. MacInnis hosted a 50th wedding anniversary celebration July 15 with a Mass of Thanksgiving followed by a reception for 250 relatives and friends.

Mr. MacInnis retired as president of the Detroit Concrete Products Company. The family still carries on the business, MacInnis Brothers Paving of Novi.

The couple's son, John, a Northville resident of 43903 Galloway, heads the firm. John MacInnis of Novi also is a member.

Other children include Mrs. John (Pat) Lee of Dearborn Heights, Mrs. Thomas (Sally) Bryant of Farmington Hills, James of New Hudson, Mrs. Leo (Camille) Manion and Dan, Jr., both of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. MacInnis also have 14 grandchildren.

The anniversary celebration, held at the new location of George F. Monaghan Council Knights of Columbus Hall on Farmington Road, was the first time the entire family had been together for a reunion, Mrs. John MacInnis explains. It followed the Mass at St. Ives Church at 10 a.m. where Scottish bagpipers played.

Mr. and Mrs. MacInnis, who live in Southfield, were married July 27, 1928, in St. Leo's Church in Detroit.

Mr. MacInnis came to Detroit from Antigonish, Nova Scotia, in 1923. He attended St. Francis Xavier University there and later served on its board of directors for five years. It is famous for the cooperative movement under Dr. Cody.

Mrs. MacInnis is the former Clare Keating. She was born in Port-Au-Basque, Newfoundland, and attended Mt. St. Bernard College in Antigonish, coming to Detroit in 1922.

He is a former director of the Michigan Asphalt Paving Association and has been active in the construction business since coming to Detroit and working first with the Jerry Utley Construction Company.

He and his brother, Charles, were members of the charter class of Monaghan Council, Knights of Columbus, which is celebrating its 50-year anniversary. He was grand Knight in 1937-39 and in 1956 had a new class named in his honor.

Guests at the anniversary celebration included Judge and Mrs. John Kerwin of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pinkelman of Connemara.

French doors at the entrances to the lobby. The old doors with glass panes were intact under plywood panels, workmen recently found.

Terry Krug and Mark Ross have been laboring to remove coats of paint and restore the black walnut ticket booth in the entrance. A shadow of the old stenciled shows under the refinished wood. It was uncovered when five coats of paint came off.

"An old-fashioned popcorn machine with new insides will be next to the ticket stand here in the lobby," Mrs. Zayti points out.

She displays a sample of the shaded red Victorian-pattern carpet on order for the theater, leading the way into the main lobby where a marble fountain will be retained. Mrs. Zayti dates it to 1929.

"The inside of the theater will all be painted off-white and there will be red velvet drapes in the four arches on each side," she plans. She intends to gold leaf the lamps in the arches, but new lighting has been ordered for the rest of the theater.

The cleaning out of the theater began on Mother's Day with the aid of her husband, Jay, Mrs. Zayti recalls, remembering that it was her "present" request.

Uncovered in the process was the old orchestra pit with its rounded railing of black walnut. It had been covered over during the theater's movie days, but spotlights from the earlier time still were in place and many will light.

"The Edison people were so interested in the bulbs," Mrs. Zayti relates.

On opening night the orchestra pit, now holding only an old piano, will contain 17 musicians. "I told them to be sure everybody is skinny," smiles Inga Zayti.

As a skylight filtered light onto the stage, which is to have a blue backdrop for the "King and I" opening, Mrs. Zayti recalled that the idea for a live theatrical opening came from Bill Premin and Andy Henderson.

They approached her and asked to present the Rodgers and Hammerstein production through their Performing Arts Unlimited Company. The local Detroit company had received such good notices last year in The Detroit Free Press, she says, that she decided to go ahead.

Rehearsals with a leading lady and man from Canada are due to begin in two weeks. The live performances will run through three successive weekends.

Tickets will be $8 for the live theater. Mrs. Zayti hopes to be able to continue to offer live productions, following the opener with "Oliver Twist."

She also announces that she plans to have puppet shows for children twice monthly at matinees.

Greeting the children, as always, will be Frances Doeksen, who worked for the P&A Theater for 15 years until it closed April 4. Much of the time she was employed at the theater as manager. Mrs. Zayti announced last week that she has been rehired.

Former owner was Gregory Hohler, who operates the Civic Theater in Farmington. He had taken over the theater from his father, Edward Hohler, now retired.

The theater, with P&A standing for Penniman Allen, was built by Mrs. K. E. Allen of Plymouth shortly after fire destroyed an old theater in Northville in 1925. It had a seating capacity of 756, was said to possess some of the best sound equipment in the state, and boasted a $13,000 pipe organ.

The first Northville theater was owned by Henry Fisher and was in the village hall at Main and Wing streets. Mrs. Allen bought him out after a fire and constructed the present building.

Mrs. Zayti was first aware of the existence of an organ, she says, when a man came to the theater and asked to see it. There is a single pipe remaining on the side where the iron ladders still are in place that used to lead to it. But the organ was gone, realtor Stan Johnston confirmed to Mrs. Zayti, when she bought the theater. The man, she said, told her it was one of only four such organs imported to the United States.

"I had another man stop by who said he was an usher at the theater when he was 17 years old," he pointed out a screen (hanging at the front of the stage in its rafters) that he stated was an old Charlie Chaplin screen.

It still has visible painted border detailing Mrs. Zayti says her visitor told her that the old Chaplin films were shown on it.

Also still visible is the elaborate gold leaf decoration on the wide arch of the stage. At one time, Mrs. Zayti understands, similar decoration covered ceiling beams.

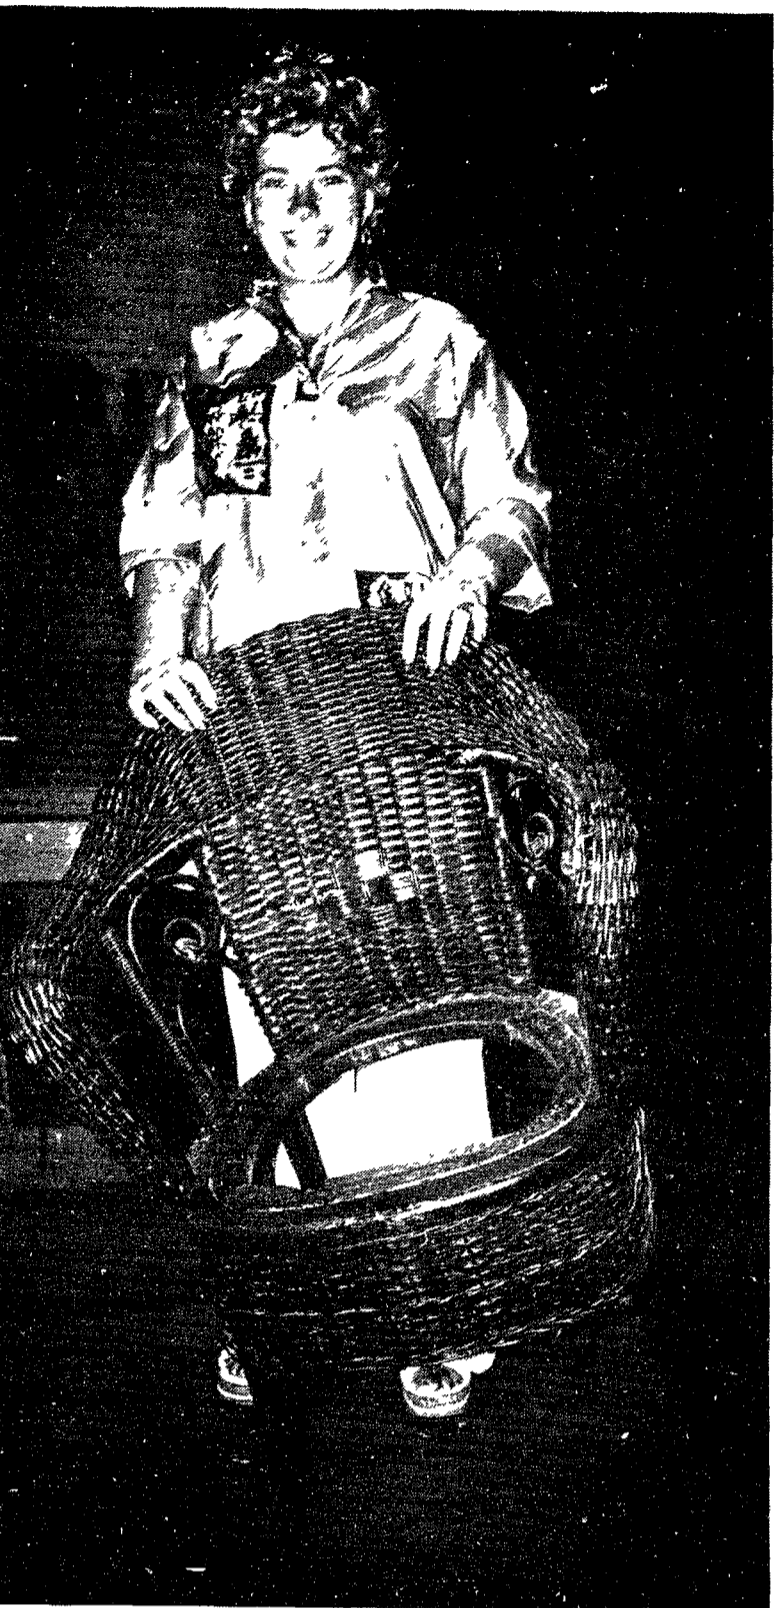

Showing through metal grating on the ceiling are old placards that appear to be picturing a dark-haired Rudolph-Valentino. Mrs. Zayti now is waiting for workers to install insulation in the ceiling. They have promised to salvage the posters for her.

As she stood by the orchestra pit last week, looking out on the stripped theater, Inga Zayti was looking ahead enthusiastically to September 30. Somehow, she was sure, it will be refurbished and ready for the opening.

As she looked at the vintage piano, she considered having a guy playing the piano sometime while old movies are shown.

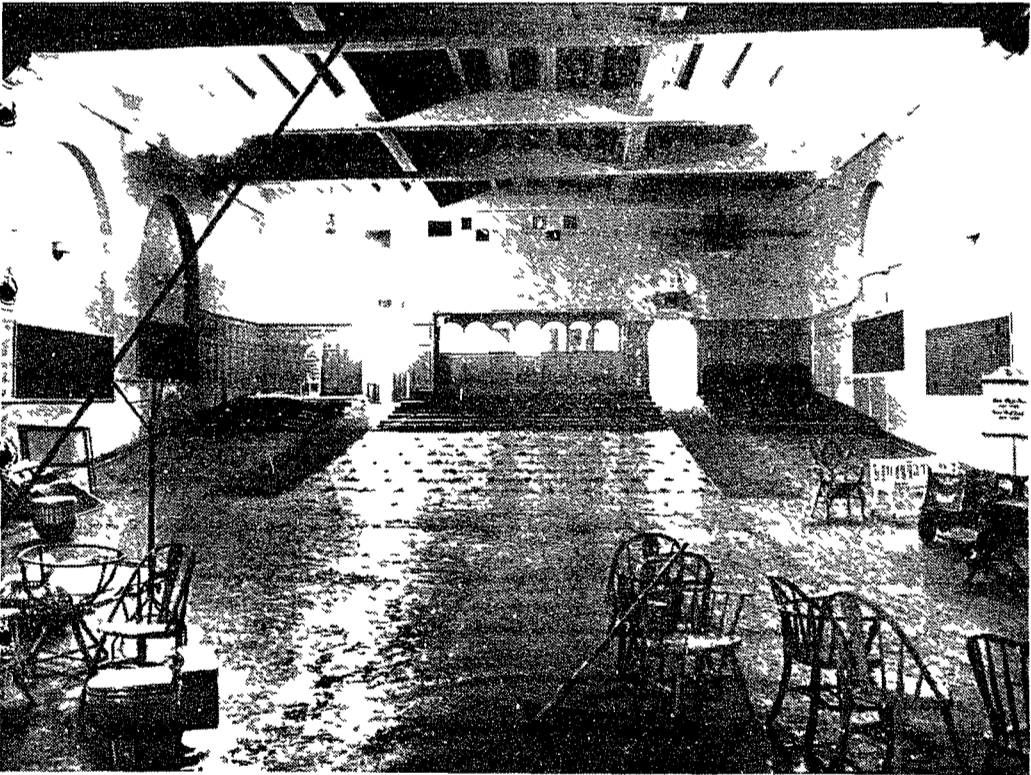

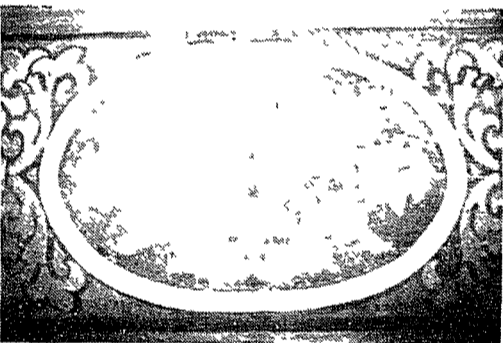

"Where else are you going to find an air-conditioned movie in an elegant setting for $150?" the theater owner-renovator wonders as she admits she's hoping very hard that she will be able to fill the theater. To maintain that price,

GOOD TIME FOR WINE
by Jim Roth

The quality of a wine in a given year depends on the amount of sunlight the grapes have gotten. Grapes are ripe when the proper balance of sugar and acid is present. Usually there are more good vintage years for white wines than there are for reds because the grapes used in making red wines have to be more exactly ripe when picked than those for whites. If the red wine grapes are unripe, the wine will be too light in color, lack body, and be too acidic. White wines do not need color nor as much body, and a small amount of acidity can give a freshness to the wine.

White wines or red, whatever you prefer, you're sure to find it when you visit us at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. This is the season for outdoor parties. If you are planning one, be sure to stop by and ask us about serving your guests genuine draft beer. We have keg beer in both 1/4 and 1/2 barrels, and all the equipment needed to serve it. We also have a fine assortment of nuts, party crackers, pretzels and potato chips, including a full line of Charles Chips in regular and party size. Open: Mon. thru Sat. 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sun. Noon-6 p.m.

HELPFUL HINT:
Roses are best when young, so the more recent the vintage year, the better.

she says she will need full houses. "Think of a young couple," she illustrates, explaining why she wants to keep the price down. "They will have to pay about $3.75 for a sitter and then $3 for the movie for the night out."

Inga Zayti points out that she will not be able to bring first-run films at this price and is concerned that she will not always have her choice of movies.

"But won't people come to sit in a pretty, comfortable theater even if the picture isn't all you hoped for?" she asks.

The energetic owner hopes so. She already has made the Marquis dress shop an established business in the community. She came to Northville 13 years ago as the blonde German bride of trucking firm owner Jay Zayti.

She already had served in the Peace Corps in Africa and had produced a science film there. At the time of her marriage she raised dogs.

In Northville she established the two stores on either side of the theater building as fashion shops, running the business while raising three children, Jeff, 11, Mark, 10, and Christina, 8.

While the Marquis boutique has been her enterprise, Mrs. Zayti is quick to give her husband much credit for getting the theater under way. Both have been working on preparations.

And Inga Zayti is anxious to have a "sell-out opening night" to show off the planned elegance of yesterday.

If all goes on schedule, the only familiar sight for former patrons of the P&A may be the clock to the right of the stage. For years it has told the time while lighting the advertising inscription, "C. Harold Bloom for insurance."

Sound from Jamaica

Northville High School jazz bands will be playing music with a Reggae-disco beat from the Sunsplash Festival in Jamaica at the last of three free summer band concerts at 7:30 p.m. today outdoors on the high school hill. The award-winning jazz bands from Northville are pictured with director Robert Williams at left as they gave free public concerts June 23 and 24 on the north coast of Jamaica, playing in Ocho Rios, Oracebessa and St. Ann's Bay. The performances drew 1,850 jazz lovers. Pictured above with the first jazz band is Kelly Schulz, soloist. The Northville group was one of two from the United States at the festival. Also appearing was the Carlisle High School band from Pennsylvania. They stayed at the Jamaica Hilton in Ocho Rios.

German orchestra to play

The Jugendorchester of Wilhelmshaven, West Germany, will present a special concert for residents of the Northville-Novi area on Sunday, August 6, at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will be presented in the Novi High School Auditorium at the corner of Ten Mile and Taft Roads. There is no admission charge for the concert which is co-sponsored by the Novi Foundation of Performing Arts and the Blue Lake Fine Arts Music Camp.

The Jugendorchester of Wilhelmshaven is celebrating its 25th anniversary with a journey to the United States and a concert tour of Michigan.

The orchestra consists of students from high schools and universities in Wilhelmshaven and the surrounding area.

Some 25 years ago the teachers in the school decided to join their groups into one large orchestra. The popularity of the orchestra enabled the group to be divided into a senior and junior group. The senior group enjoys playing Italian, German, and contemporary works. Many of the former musicians and a few from the junior group will join the orchestra as the 40 musicians tour Michigan.

Mafrd Szobries, the conductor, studied music in Berlin. He joined the group in 1960 and has been the conductor since 1969.

A wood deck is both versatile and beautiful; a valuable asset to your home. Wood decking blends with any architectural design. It can be a children's play area or a perfect setting for a cocktail party. With limited carpentry knowledge, you can change a monotonous backyard into a landscape showplace, highlighted by a wood deck or sun porch.

A wood deck will adapt to any terrain, with little or no ground preparation. A wood deck can be built on the same level as any floor of your home. Wood decking will remain beautiful and relatively dirt free for years, with limited maintenance.

Youthful sages eye Farmington

By LOUISE OKRUTSKY

"Once I saw a time machine. I just had to find out how it felt so I went in and pushed a button. I got dizzy at first. Then somehow, I just got there. Everybody looked strange.

I thought they were some other kind of people from outer space. I decided to ask a man where I was when he told me I was amazed. He told me that I was in Farmington in the year 2000."

That's the way Lydia Cheuk begins her essay about Farmington 22 years in the future. She was among a group of area elementary students who matched their writing skills with their imaginations and indulged in some fortune telling for the city.

Transportation by souped-up automobiles, a return to four-footed dependability and houses made from cookies and books were seen in Farmington's future as the students attempted to peer into their own private crystal balls.

CRIME, pollution and shopping centers are other targets hit by youngsters peering into the cloudy future.

Ecology was a matter of concern for some of the young writers.

"In the year 2000 some people say that the City of Detroit and Farmington will have more pollution than it does now," wrote Sarkis Towyan.

"But that's not what I think. I think that Farmington and Detroit will find other ways to make automobiles in a different way and style. And they may even stop using raw materials because when we need them they may not be there because we used them all."

The Detroit Plaza could be made from a new building material in the year 2000, according to Towyan. The new miracle building material?

Why, cookies of, course. Or better yet, liquor bottles, Miller cans and bottle caps or books, the young writer suggests.

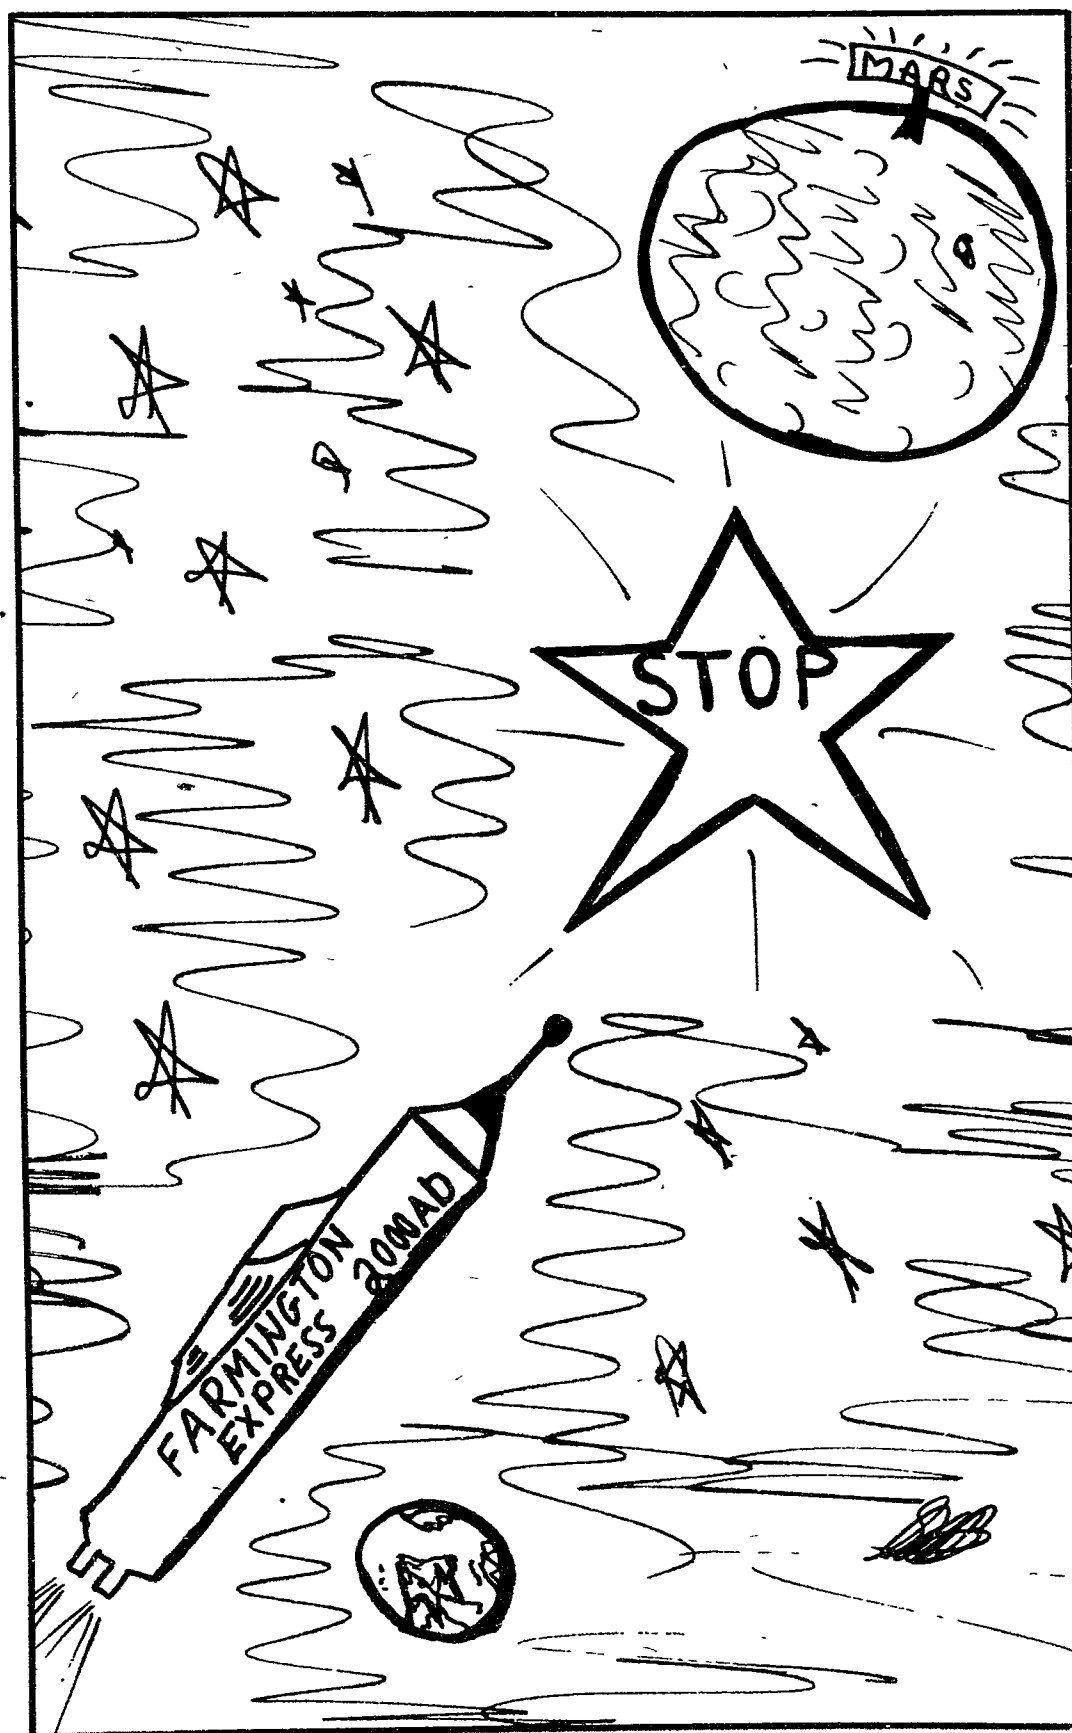

"Farmington may be made of toilet paper all wrapped up into a little ball," Towyan playfully suggests.

Brett Butler takes a more practical look at the next 22 years.

"The transportation will be much different, too. Because all of the cars won't be run by gas, they will be run by solar power. And there will be no such thing as a car. We will go to school on a jet powered subway," he predicted.

"IN THE YEAR 2000 Farmington Hills will not need any electricity because it will all be run by solar power," Butler wrote.

Economic concerns as well as ecological ones will sound the death knell for cars, according to Becky Pernaitis.

'In the year 2000, people will go from Earth to Mars. The traffic lights will be made of stars.'

-Mark Young

"People will be walking, jogging or even crawling before driving a car with the price of gas going up," she predicted.

Flying cars is another alternative proposed by Tim Geer.

"Kids will have jet packs to fly to school," he said.

Light will be the power source for some of these new vehicles according to David Everett.

"People will be riding in spaceships and in cars that run on light. They will be riding horses that will fly. We will be able to have jet packs so we can fly.

"They strap on your stomach and they have controls on the handles," he suggested.

All of this flying traffic need some control. Flying fender-benders could be in the future, too without some practical measures.

"In the year 2000, people will go from earth to Mars. The traffic light will be made of stars," reported Mark Young.

That bit of galactic traffic control will be necessary if Young's prediction of remote control cars comes true.

THREE-WHEELED cars, two-wheeled cars with three doors might be the rage in the year 2000, according to Frank Orsini.

Maybe, they'll even have ejector seats, he hints.

Economic ups and downs are sure to come along in the next 22 years. That thought led Suzy Mattoon to lament the passing of the five-cent gumball.

"Things will be very high priced. Like a gumball will be 25 cents or 15 cents. Diapers will be $1.75," she darkly suggested.

The economy will have its affect on the way future Farmington residents dress, according to Lydia Cheuk.

"Some people rode on horses. They couldn't ride cars because the men who made the machines broke down. The girls who wore dresses had patches on them. They looked terrible. They had rips on their shirts and pants," she said.

Crime was on the mind of the youthful seers, too.

"I think that Farmington will be more conservative and cooperative and most of all clean in the year 2000," wrote Lisa Sullivan.

"But it will also be happy. The people in Farmington won't have to worry about not locking their doors or even coming home to a house that has been robbed of its goods or having the job problems we have today," she wrote.

ROBBERS WILL GET their just desserts in 2000. Mark Young foresees five-inch bars for the bad guys.

But home comforts also will include invisible beds, electric eyes that will read books and fishing without a hook, according to Young.

The Farmington landscape will change, too, according to the students.

New houses built where other buildings stand now are sure to be part of the landscape according to Greg Gaylos. He will also be different, foreseeing himself as a 33-year-old dentist.

"Maybe streets will be torn down and new ones will be built," speculates Cathy Goodenow.

"Maybe the woods will be torn down and new houses will be built," she added.

Those concerns were repeated by Mickey Foster.

"Farmington Hills might not have as many forest parts centuries from now. I think there will be more buildings. There will be more places to live. Like there will be more subdivisions and apartment buildings," he wrote.

New shopping centers will continue to claim a part of the landscape, according to Sonquta Gandhi.

Her sketch of a future shopping mall includes five stores, three of which are fast food restaurants.

DIFFERENT fashions, bestsellers and even a new kind of elevator will be found by the shopper of the future, she said.

Life is pretty good, at age 11

By LYNN ORR

Farmington in the year 2000?

Perhaps recall is one of the ways to forecast. Instead of looking ahead 22 years, let's take a look back 22—to see where we were. That puts me at the age of 10, when I spent most of my time in a treehouse where Drakeshire Apartments now grace the land.

Playing in the woods was the daily summer routine for kids in my neighborhood with an occasional foray into town. Sometimes we parked our bikes on the southwestern corner of Grand River and Farmington Road to get an ice cream cone at the drugstore there.

The owner, Eddie Mosher, was the kind of guy who plopped another scoop of vanilla on your cone when you'd licked down to the rim. One day we pedaled into town to discover that the drugstore had folded. So much for nice guys.

Looking back, I guess that's when I discovered that business in Farmington was changing. The building of Bel-Aire, Alta Loma, and Warner Farms subdivisions in the early '50s had a lot to do with that.

THE MID-'50s were a period of transition for the town. The library was located in the Masonic Temple, where Mrs. Droege could find anything to interest a 10-year-old. On rainy Saturdays, the Civic Theater was crammed with all the new ex-Detroit kids in town. I saw "The Swiss Family Robinson" three times, snuggled into a balcony seat.

It was the pre-mail era. For clothes, your mom hauled you over to Dancer's Department Store on Grand River where the floorboards creaked and the saleswomen smiled. Next door in Hatton's Hardware, you could smell the seed while your dad looked at the latest tools.

Going into town was an adventure then, particularly when you'd saved enough coins from mowing lawns and weeding to purchase a cherry Coke or chocolate milkshake at Himelsbach's, the local restaurant. When the family-owned dairy burned in the late '60s, the secret of those milkshakes died—at least I've never tasted a duplication.

LAWNS, however, were as con-

SON, 1978

By BRAD ORR

When you are 11 years old, things go by pretty fast and before you know it, you are out of school and making plans for the summer.

In making those so-called plans, you forget about things because of the excitement of the summer. At any age, the summer is going to be a lot of fun but fifth grade is really the most boring of all your school years and you really look forward to the summer vacation.

Everybody seems to change so much and you get more tense and more angry. At times, your mother might seem to get on your back and treat you like a baby but she is probably just treating you normally but you are usually ready to except (sic) more responsibility and freedom and your mother isn't about ready to do this for you.

And other things happen. At this time in your life more than enough problems go through your head and all kinds of things happen but everything isn't so bad. You learn a lot of new things at school and other stuff happens to make it a pretty good year but then every bad year has its good points, namely its end.

Seriously though, we all have to take curves and sometimes even a strikeout, but like I said, all in all, life is pretty good at the age of 11.

spicuous in Farmington then as they are now, although the care and feeding of the green required more leg work, namely pushing a power mower if you were a lucky kid. Few suburbanites luxuriated on riding lawn mowers—the post war baby boom supplied all the childpower necessary in my neighborhood.

Children dotted the countryside. Those slicker yellow school buses hailed children on gravel roads to overflowing elementary schools. Farmington scurried to build to accommodate the hundreds of families moving into the newly developing suburb. National Bank of Detroit vacated its old haunt on the southeastern corner of Grand River and Farmington Road (now the Village Mall) and Mrs. Droege moved her books into the new library, since vacated for even a newer library.

One summer, we watched from our bikes as the fields were transformed into the downtown Farmington Center. Old standbys, like Conroy's Meat Market and Bradley's Rexall, did some moving.

AT 10, though, we accepted change with little ado. It's only with recall that a transformation is evident. We didn't think much about the new buildings, unless they invaded our baseball field. Fortunately the woods gave way to apartments after I departed.

Unlike our parents who were sometimes dismayed to see the town change before their eyes, we didn't notice much. Our attention was centered on the changes inside ourselves. We crabbled about parents, chores, school and curfews.

Although my world is less ego-centric, projecting what lies ahead for Farmington is something of a challenge. Most likely the population will remain stable, and the rapid growth and resulting changes experienced in the past will not be evident. Unless drastic fuel problems occur, I doubt that transportation in the suburbs will improve. I would certainly bet that bicycling, for children anyway, won't give way to bus service.

I do wonder how families of the future will finance the large, expensive homes under construction in the Farmington area. I don't see rapid income rises such as those experienced in the '50s and '60s. Perhaps communal living of some kind may be in store for Farmington.

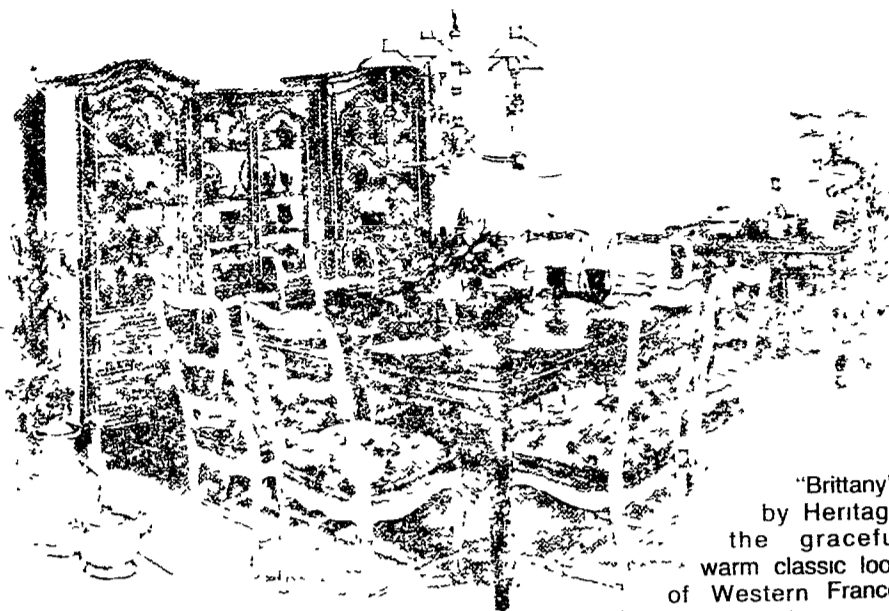

But that's just a guess. If anything, I'd project that Farmington may be cleaner, a little less congested, and perhaps a tad poorer in the material sense, following nationwide trends.

But it's also a good bet that the children of the 21st Century will ride bikes, love milkshakes, and hopefully get a chance to build a treehouse.

What happens to

By LORAIN McCLISH

On the evening of Wednesday, July 26, Miss Farmington of 1977, Dorlisa Ann LaMarra, will give up her title and place a crown on the young Farmington miss who has been chosen Miss Farmington for 1978.

This marks the fifth year in Farmington when some of the area's most beautiful and talented vie for the title that will lead to a chance for the Miss America crown.

When Susan Reed entered the first pageant here, she entered not knowing the contest was connected to the Miss America Scholarship Pageant. Prior to that, local queens who were chosen during the Founder's Festival activities vied for the title of Miss Farmington Festival Queen.

Because the word scholarship is included in the title of the competition, the phrase beauty pageant no longer applies. The entrants compete on the basis of grooming, talent and intelligence.

SINCE MISS REED was crowned, the local queens have been Janice Lynn Schriber, Holly Ann Schmidt and Miss LaMarra.

Susan Reed now is Susan Reed Arciniaga, and lives with her husband, Tony, who also acts as her agent, in Farmington Hills.

JANICE SCHRIBER FREDRICKS

"That little pageant I entered that I thought went nowhere," she said, "helped set some goals for myself. I learned as much as I could from it and had a good time doing it."

She took the directorship of the Miss Farmington Pageant in 1977, and, then in another pageant, took the title of Mrs. Michigan in 1978.

Meanwhile, she traveled with the Singing Strings, a five-piece ensemble made up of female violinists who play and sing both as strolling musicians on on-stage performers.

Festival queens?

SUSAN REED ARCINIAGA

She is the leader of the group which has just returned from a restaurant club in Ohio, and will be leaving shortly for a night club in Minnesota.

Currently she's looking forward to touring with the Singing Strings on a Carribean-bound cruise ship, a tour arranged by her husband who is a salesman for Jack Reed Entertainment Agency.

JANICE SCHRIBER became Janice Schriber Fredericks this spring in a ceremony conducted in Nardin Park Methodist Church.

She was engaged for about a year before that to James Fredericks, also of Farmington Hills, while she was attending Eastern Michigan University. She was majoring in fashion merchandising and a minor in marketing.

She now is a senior, while her husband continues his studies, working toward a mechanical engineering degree at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

The couple live in Canton, from where she travels to her job as a department manager for Segals in Northland. Her husband works as a control programmer for H.R. Krueger.

HOLLY ANN SCHMIDT declined to ride in this year's Founder's Festival parade because that is the day of her wedding to Larry Lichtman, a young man she has dated since they both attended North Farmington High School.

She is the only one of the Farmington queens who went on to win the Miss Michigan contest, and spent a good deal of her time she said, "doing Miss Michigan things." Her reign, which required her presence at such things as parades, conventions, and benefits throughout the state, ended June 17.

HOLLY ANN SCHMIDT

She is a freshman at Michigan State University now, majoring in English, carrying out the goal she set for herself when she became Miss Farmington. She hopes to become a free-lance writer.

Her fiance is a junior at the same school, majoring in political science.

During the past few years, she worked with Miss Schriber for a while for Lord and Taylor, then worked in a one-woman office for Roy J. Russell and Associates in Farmington Hills.

MISS LaMARRA spent the past year "mostly dancing and preparing for the Miss Michigan contest," she said, which brought her the pageant's talent award, and placed her third runner-up in the state.

She dovetailed this in with opening her own dance school last fall in Walled Lake, helping her mother in her beauty salon, called Carousel, and working towards her cosmetologist license.

But dancing remains her first love, and she hopes of making her dance studio her full-time profession.

Seasoned residents remember 1956 in Farmington area

Although children can view 22-years-ago as ancient history, for older members of the Farmington community, 1956 seems like yesterday.

When they first moved to the city, the bustling subdivisions and well-trafficked roads were far-removed aspects of the city.

Farmington was country where farmers hauled their grain to the town mill.

Farms sprouted on the landscapes instead of subdivisions. Ten Mile was an unpaved road and residents lifted an eyebrow at the infrequent car that passed through Twelve Mile.

"Twenty two years ago, I loved it," sighed Nelson Gauthar, 63, of Farmington Hills.

Gauthar was a resident of north-east Detroit 23 years ago when he decided the city was too crowded for him. He moved to the open spaces of the farmlands.

"I USED TO DRIVE out to Farmington," he said, remembering how he discovered the community. "I used to go to the park for a picnic. There were all farms here."

"I came here to get away from it everything. Now, it's getting too crowded here," he said.

Out on Ten Mile, 22 years ago, hardly a car stirred up its unpaved splendor.

Shoppers contented themselves with a smaller selection of stores, Gauthar remembers.

A supermarket stood in the spot now occupied by the Federal's store in downtown Farmington, he remembered.

But a few old favorites were around, adds Marinus Van Ameyde, a 25-year resident of the area.

Hinkles Fabrics and the Farmington Bakery were serving the community then, he said.

But the best place in town for dinner has since disappeared. Himmelsbach's was the place to eat, according to Van Ameyde.

Farmington residents will remember Van Ameyde as a school superintendent. He remembers Farmington when it had fewer subdivisions.

"I remember going to a retirement dinner for a teacher who lived on Grand River and Seven

The Sign of Natural Quality

Enterprise tradition continues

By STEVE BARNABY
Farmington editor

It was Nov. 2, 1888 and Edgar Bloomer proudly sat back in his desk chair looking at the first edition of the Farmington Enterprise. He skimmed the pages looking at articles and advertisements, alike. It had been a struggle, but the first edition was out.

It has been nearly 90 years since Farmington's own paper hit the streets. Since then, it has chronicled the history of a proud community.

Sitting in front of his electric typewriter or computer terminal, surrounded by 20th Century technology, the modern journalist wonders how Bloomer would feel about today's newspaper.

Although the name has changed and format reworked to meet the needs of modern-day readers, the Farmington Observer is proud to identify its lineage to the Enterprise.

AS A MATTER of fact, the Enterprise name had such an impact that many persons today still refer to the Observer as the Enterprise.

Bloomer was 33 at the time he rushed his first edition off the press and out to the streets. He remained with the paper until 1898, when he moved to Sparta and consolidated the Sentinel and Leader newspapers. He died in 1909.

But Bloomer began a tradition of community journalism which still exists today. He believed in producing a newspaper which would serve the interests of the Farmington area while informing residents of matters in which they would be interested.

Much of what he wrote in that

first edition is pertinent today.

"It is fair to judge of the intelligence of a community by the character of the paper it supports . . . What we wish then is that each one, when anything new or interesting comes to his knowledge, should report it to the editor. We will seek to make this paper a permanent journal of progress."

A BLANK SPACE reserved for an advertisement by Fred Warner is explained away when Bloomer says Warner was too busy to make up the copy.

The mind wanders. Was Warner even then out campaigning? His political efforts eventually took him to the governor's chair in Lansing.

He was the only Farmington resident ever to achieve such high political office. His large, white home still stands on Grand River, west of Farmington Road.

Politics, indeed, was a topic of the day as revealed in another short article.

"The Farmington Democratic Club, headed by the Redford Band, attended the great Democratic meeting at Pontiac," it reads.

Obviously, objectivity wasn't what it could be in those days.

For those who wanted to spend time in a more leisurely fashion, they could participate in a singing convention at Bell Branch being conducted by CH Smith. A concert would wrap up the event.

It also revealed that William Maiden sold his 109-acre farm in Southfield to Carl Rostow for $4,000.

Although the world ran at a different pace, tragedy still was part of the scene.

Mrs. Anne Dewaters found the world situation to be untenable enough to put a .38 caliber revolver to her chest and pull the trigger. At press time, she was in critical condition.

WR Anderson broke his neck while pitching cornstalks and James Clark "while maddened by drink," cut his mother's throat. It took two officers to arrest him.

At the beginning of the century, Walter Ricards took over as Enterprise editor. But the competition was stiff. He explains, in his own words:

"It ended for me when I broke down from overwork and was so sick that I had to throw in the towel and call in my competitor to buy the Enterprise at his own price."

Mile. There were cars parked on both sides of the street. I thought, 'how could people live like this,' " he remembers.

TEN YEARS LATER, Farmington is the home of a similar boom.

Bel Aire subdivision was a tract of trees being invaded by a bulldozer when Van Ameyde was new to the area.

"What are they doing here. They're ruining the place," he remembers thinking as he drove past.

His own preference for small towns and the quiet life comes through in his memories of Farmington, he admits.

"I'm not opposed to progress but my preference is for living in a quiet place where there's less hustle."

When Olive Van Ameyde moved to Farmington in 1955, she shopped at the grocery store that was eventually taken over by a freeway.

"It was a nice quiet city," she remembered.

"We thought we were really way out in the country," she said.

The town was so small that Things were quieter on Main Street in downtown Farmington back in the late '40s and '50s. The veteran residents can recall the peaceful strolls past the Masonic Temple which still stands today at the corner of Grand River and Farmington Road. (File photo)

Farmington didn't have a full-time police force, Gauthar remembers.

"They asked me to join the auxiliary police when I move in," he said.

Everyone knew everyone else, Van Arneyde and Mrs. Myrtle Desmelik Grandy agreed.

Mrs. Grandy moved into the area in 1945. In those days it was not unusual for the residents to keep chickens.

"I like the town. We have the nicest senior citizen center. People are very friendly in Farmington. You never saw many strangers," she said.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO society expected a little more decorum. Blue jeans were worn at home, Van Arneyde remembered.

"You wouldn't dare go downtown in blue jeans," he said looking down at his own blue denim clad legs.

A garbage dump, part of the urban sprawl, or a congested, but basically unchanged town are the projections for Farmington in the year 2000, according to some of its current residents.

As Farmington celebrates its 14th annual Founders Day Festival, residents were asked to ponder the area's future in the 21st century. Most of those quizzed weren't enthusiastic.

"The open fields will all be built in with offices, businesses, and new subdivisions," responded Keith Abrams, a senior at Harrison High School next fall.

"It will be absorbed by Detroit. You can't have a small town forever."

Harrison senior Karen Pilchak disagrees.

"I don't think downtown will change that much," she says. "It's been here for about 150 years, and the houses are still up." She does agree, regretfully, that the open spaces will disappear, in much the same way the city has changed over the past 10 years.

Long-time resident Kay Briggs, Hills Historical Commission member, doesn't believe Farmington is headed for major changes.

"I DON'T think Farmington Hills and the City of Farmington will merge," she says. "Basically I think the area will stay the same, with the exception of growth. People are happy with their little towniness."

Mrs. Briggs also forecasts a disappearance of open areas, but she believes the city will continue to improve.

Hills resident Elliot Halberg believes the housing demand itself will change Farmington, a projection he bases on the city's changes in the past.

"I was talking to a woman who lived here when there was a trolley line to downtown Detroit and the A&P was a wooden store on Grand River. Look how much it's changed since then," Halberg says.

"So far, it's managed to keep the small town, but by the year 2000 there will be too much of a demand for housing, and the small town will get lost."

Halberg also is convinced that families will continue to move farther away from their employment, thus ensuring long commutes. Though he likes the open air atmosphere in Farmington, he doesn't believe he'd move if that changed.

"I don't like spending two hours a day sitting in my car," he says, but like many others, he's convinced the bedroom quality of the suburbs is here to stay.

BUSINESS in Farmington will change as well, says Herb Shapiro, owner of Bel-Crest Studio in the downtown Farmington Center.

"The small merchant is being put out of business rapidly," he says. Taxation and the inability to compete with conglomerates will change small business in the area, he projects.

And Farmington itself will become part of a large megalopolis, he says. "I think it will probably be the inner city," he quips.

Dan Baessler, a Farmington resident, and Bill Brang, who works in the city, agree with Shapiro.

"Detroit will get so big it will suck up Farmington," Baessler says. As it is, Farmington is getting away from the small town atmosphere, he adds. And the distinction between the City of Farmington and Farmington Hills is confusing as it is, he maintains.

One great big suburbia is what Brang envisions.

"You really don't see any countryside now," he says. "You can't tell when one suburb ends and another begins."

Farmington Center Company manager Ed Balden sees changes for Farmington in the years ahead with some optimism.

"Farmington will survive because enough people want it to survive," he maintains. "It will be the central part of the metropolitan area, and the suburbs will be closer to Lansing—like Brighton. I don't think we'll have the decay experienced in the inner city though."

Balden also projects one school district for the entire Farmington area. (Currently a northern portion of Farmington is in the Walled Lake School District, while the southeastern section is in the Clarenceville district.)

He's not convinced that the two cities will consolidate, but does believe that the cost of government will force consolidation of more services.

One unidentified man had the gloomiest projection for Farmington—"probably a garbage dump," said the Livonia resident.
