Township board split, can't agree on choice for vacancy

After nominating three candidates for a trustee seat, the Northville Township Board of Trustees failed to appoint a new member at their meeting Thursday night.

None of the three candidates won a majority vote from the six board members who fielded criticism from each other and the audience during their tense attempt to fill the trustee seat vacated by Michael Wilson's resignation.

"I am very disappointed we didn't come up with a candidate," Supervisor Donald Thomson said at the conclusion of the meeting, the first that he had chaired.

Before reading resumes from five of the seven candidates for the position, Thomson said, "It is imperative that we move swiftly and go carefully in replacing Wilson."

The candidates who submitted resumes were Marilyn Donovan, Dorothy Gay, James Ellenburg, Kenneth McLarty and David C. Mitchell.

Thomson said William Bohan, planning commission chairman, has asked to be considered for the position. He also said he had contacted Bernard Baldwin, who said he would be willing to serve the township in any capacity. Baldwin, a planning commissioner for more than 14 years, was ousted from his position when the old board named a replacement for his position last month.

After Thomson read the five resumes, Treasurer Lee Holland asked for a 10-minute recess to give the candidates further consideration.

When the meeting resumed, Trustee Dr. John Swienkowski said he wanted the board to consider the possibility of the electoral process to fill the position.

"This is a key seat, a pivotal seat," Swienkowski said. "I would like to see the people of the township have the ultimate say on who sits in it."

Thomson said he would entertain motions on the basis of seniority on the board, starting with Trustee James Nowka, then Swienkowski, Clerk Clarice Sass, Trustee William Zapke and Holland. Although both Zapke and Holland were serving at their first board meeting, Holland yielded to Zapke in the seniority line-up because of Zapke's previous service on the planning commission.

Nowka pointed out that the law says a vacant seat should be filled by appointment, saying "I think it would be ducking out by not responding to what the book says. We should be judged by the quality of the appointments we make."

He said the new trustee should be "a person of recognized stature in the community whose performance would be strong and who would present himself as strong before the people in any election."

In moving to appoint David C. Mitchell, Nowka said his work with the baseball program was "an example of what can be done starting with nothing."

Holland seconded the motion. Swienkowski said he wanted the audience to know that his vote would not be a reflection on the candidate. He had previously said, "Each and every one probably would make an excellent board member."

Mrs. Sass said she shared his sentiments.

In a roll call vote Nowka, Holland and Thomson voted in favor of Mitchell. Swienkowski, Zapke and Mrs. Sass voted against him.

Zapke said he felt the board was be-

Eight considered for board post

Here are the candidates for the vacant seat on the Northville Township Board of Trustees:

Bernard Baldwin, 19810 Meadowbrook: Baldwin, who is married and has two grown children, has lived in the township for 19 years. He has a BS in metallurgical engineering from University of Michigan.

He is personnel director of Cadillac Motor Car Division of General Motors. Going with General Motors directly after being graduated from college, he started as a student engineer at GM Hydramatic in Ypsilanti and moved through several posts in manufacturing operations before becoming Hydramatic's personnel director and moving to Cadillac in 1972.

Baldwin was elected to the Northville Township Board of Trustees in 1966 and served 3½ years. He has been a member of the Northville Township Planning Commission since 1962, and his term expires this month. He has served on several joint city-township study committees, including the one which inaugurated the district court system. He also served two terms as president of the Meadowbrook Estates Association.

William J. Bohan, 45900 Northview: Bohan who is married and has three children, has lived in the township for nine years. He has a BS in mechanical engineering from General Motors Institute, an MS in mechanical engineering and Master of Business Administration from University of Michigan.

He is a safety engineering associate at Ford Motor Company, where he has also worked as a program planning manager for the industrial and chemical products division, chief product analyst in product planning, pro-

Collision course?

The snow flurries aren't really blurring your vision. No opposition

DDA finance plan approved

In the absence of public opposition, the proposed financing of a downtown revitalization plan was adopted by a 4-0 vote of the Northville City Council Monday.

Not present for the vote was Councilman Stanley Johnston, a member of the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) that recommended adoption of the ordinance.

Although nearly 30 persons were on hand for the public hearing on the measure, no one spoke against it.

The only person to question council about the tax increment plan, which suggests "capturing" of new taxes within the downtown improvements, was Joseph Fiorilli, a township resident with a business in the city's central business district.

But Fiorilli's questions sought clarification rather than suggesting criticism.

By adopting the tax increment plan, which becomes effective before Christmas, the city is able to use the 1978 state equalized value of the downtown district as the kickoff for implementation. Any additional taxes accruing within the downtown district, over and above the 1978 level, can be earmarked for downtown public improvement.

Council members and members of the DDA are confident that captured new taxes will pay for a lion's share of the planned $1.4 million improvement program without tapping taxes of property owners outside the district.

Planned improvements include:

- Renovation of the Dunlap Street parking lot located behind Main Street stores with underground utilities, new lighting, landscaping and easier access to rear entrances.

- Conversion of most of the Main Street parking lot east of Northville Drugs to a town square facility as a center for various activities.

- Improvement of access, through the town square area, to deck parking on Mary Alexander Court.

- Improvements on Main and Center streets, including sidewalks, landscaping, lighting, benches, etc.

The city already has some $138,000 in start-up monies for the project earmarked from federal community development funds. The DDA has recommended that the city be responsible for up to $365,000 of the project costs from its public improvement funds.

Significantly, a section of the tax-increment plan ordinance was eliminated Monday, pending formal approval of participation by Wayne Coun-

A COMMUNITY carol sing is planned for 4 p.m. Sunday at First Presbyterian Church. Organist David Heinzman promises that favorite Christmas carols will be sung during the hour-long program and invites anyone in the community who would like to sing them to come. Refreshments will follow.

COST of ham or turkey for the annual senior citizens Christmas dinner here will again this year be paid by the city. Council agreed to pick up the cost following receipt of a request for Clarence L. Harsch, president of the Northville Senior Citizens Club.

PROMOTIONS have been authorized for the city police department, paving the way for elevation of three patrolmen to the rank of corporal. Police Captain Louis Westfall indicated the promotions will be based on testing of police officers.

A "MERRY CHRISTMAS" wish was extended to holiday shoppers by city council with the order that all downtown street parking meters be "bagged" from December 15 through December 23. With bags covering the meters, motorists will not need to pay for street parking.

A NEW CONTRACT with the union representing secretaries and the DPW was approved by the city council Monday following unanimous ratification by union members. The new salary levels for clerical personal ranges from $4.14 per hour for starting clerks to $7.82 per hour for the deputy controller after three years service. The DPW salary ranged from $5.66 for a starting laborer to $7.28 for a working foreman.

NEXT MONDAY'S Northville school board meeting will be conducted in the new central office headquarters in the top floor of the Main Street Elementary School, 501 West Main Street. The school's back door will be left open to allow public access from the parking lot behind the school. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m.

Slim chance remains for 'outsiders' to get into Allen Terrace apartments

Allen Terrace wait's long

No vacancy 'sign' is up

If you're a non-City of Northville resident who has applied for residency in Allen Terrace your chances of finding an apartment there are pretty slim.

Frances Yoakam, supervisor of the senior citizens complex located near Northville High School, reports that only five units have not yet been rented — but only because the Northville Housing Commission is waiting until later in December before renting them in case other city residents wish to supply.

If no city residents apply, the five units will be rented to Northville Township residents.

Meanwhile, occupants are moving into the complex at a rate of two or three a day.

Mrs. Yoakam expected that by the end of last Friday, 15 apartment dwellers would have moved into the four-story complex containing 101 apartment units. (One of those units is occupied by the caretaker).

And City Manager Steven Walters predicts that perhaps 80 to 90 of the apartments could be occupied by Christmas.

That doesn't mean, however, that construction has been completed. Work continues in finishing the interior, and some of the exterior work, such as finish blacktopping, landscaping and painting will not be completed until next spring.

Some city-resident occupants are postponing moving into Allen Terrace until after Christmas, Walters explained, because they've paid for renting of apartments elsewhere until January.

Initially, there were more city applicants for Allen Terrace than can be accommodated there. But that number decreased to the present 95 because some city residents withdrew their applications for one reason or another.

Altogether, some 500 to 600 persons applied for occupancy, but most of these were non-resident senior citizens.

Fairbrook assessments eyed for street repair

There's no certainty, but it appears likely that Northville City Council soon may be considering a special assessment for improvement of Fairbrook Court street.

Councilmen this week directed City Manager Steven Walter to study the assessment suggestion and make a recommendation at the December 18 meeting.

The heart of the issue appears to be the formula for assessing. More specifically, how much of the street improvement should be paid by the city and how much by property owners?

While recent street improvements in

Because Allen Terrace is principally a city facility, financed through bonds for which the city has pledged its faith and credit in meeting payment obligations, a priority occupancy list was drawn up giving city-residents first opportunity to rent units there.

Second priority was given former long-time city residents, third priority

Northville Estate were shared on a 75-75 basis, with property owners picking up the larger share, officials noted Monday that this formula may not be equitable for Fairbrook — a deadend street where the public roadway had never been properly installed by the city.

If, after Walters' recommendation later this month, council decides in favor of an assessment program for the improvement it may call for a public hearing as early as January.

Preliminary cost estimates by City Engineer Harold Penn, suggest that the basic street improvement could approximate $30,000 for drainage and paving, with an additional cost of $7,000 if curbs and gutters were included.

According to the city manager, "there are 10 lots abutting Fairbrook Court. Two lots have side yards only adjacent to the court, and two other lot have both frontage and sideage on the court. The remaining six lots have frontage only."

"The interior lots have similar frontage, ranging from 60 feet to 96 feet, and since none of these lots could be further subdivided, they could be equally assessed for the street improvement, in the manner of Northville Estates."

"The two corner lots are more difficult to analyze as to benefit. Lot 272b must use Fairbrook Court for access to the garage, but Lot 273 does not use the court for access."

Pay parking lot's profitable for city

Northville paid parking requirement for the municipal lot south of Northville Square is producing approximately $58 a day.

According to City Manager Steven Walters, a net income of $986 was produced between November 6 and November 25.

The gross income was pegged at $1306, with $320 of this amount being refunded to shoppers or library patrons.

City officials began charging for evening parking in the lot as an attempt to control Northville Downs patrons using a lot that was intended primarily for downtown shoppers.

"If we can't stop Downs patrons from parking there at least we can charge them for it," the council reasoned in deciding to institute paid parking.

During the evenings, an attendant is stationed at the entrances to the lot to supervise the $1 payment for parking. Those who are parking to shop Northville Square are refunded their money.

The average per day income, according to Walters, has increased by $14 daily over the first two weeks. The average per week from the start is $302.60.

Aide hospitalized as truck hits bus

A large flatbed truck carrying 35,000 pounds of iron cast water pipes apparently ran a red light and plowed broadside into a special education school bus Thursday noon in Northville Township.

The bus, which had just delivered two sick children to their wards in the Plymouth Center for Human Development, carried only its driver and an aide.

The aide, Laura Weiland, 24, Clawson, is still in St. Mary Hospital in Livonia where she is recovering from broken ribs, a cut above the eye and jaw injuries.

Both the driver of the bus, Minas Zakarian, 52, Livonia, and the driver of the Virginia-based truck, Richard Slate, 39, North Carolina, suffered head injuries but were treated and released from St. Mary on Thursday.

Slate, who was hauling the pipes to Tri-County Construction Company on Haggerty Road in Canton Township, was southbound on Sheldon Road.

He told police he did not see in time the red light that services a connecting road between the Plymouth Center's administrative building east of Sheldon and the residential wards on the west side.

Zakarian, who was pulling out onto Sheldon from the west and who planned to turn left to return to Northville's bus garage, told Northville schools' Transportation Director Bob Sieting that he saw that the truck was not going to stop and tried to avoid the crash by continuing across Sheldon.

The bus was struck broadside and spun about so that the rear smashed through a brick entrance wall to the center on the southeast corner of the intersection.

Zakarian sent out an "emergency" call on his radio and then shut the bus down to assist Ms. Weiland.

About half of the approximately 50 pipes on the truck spilled onto the roadway, said witnesses. Township police blocked off Sheldon between Five Mile and Six Mile roads for nearly two hours to clear the wreckage.

The children that Zakarian dropped off at the Plymouth Center had been picked up an hour earlier from the Brainard School in Dearborn Heights as part of a daily medical run.

Plymouth Center residents up to the age of 26 attend several schools in northwest Wayne County as part of the state-financed education program which is administered by the Northville school system.

Last summer, another Northville special education bus — this one loaded with children — was hit in Livonia on the way to school by a car whose driver also ran a red light.

There were no serious injuries in that accident.

Drinking law goes to court

The constitutionality of Michigan's new amendment raising legal drinking age to 21 will be debated in United States District Court December 21 at 9 a.m. when attorneys for J.C.'s Rock Saloon argue for a preliminary injunction, State Representative Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville) said.

"I had requested an opinion from the Attorney General's Office concerning whether constitutional and civil rights will be compromised if the state takes away the privilege of consuming alcohol from 18, 19 and 20 year-olds," Kirksey said.

"But because the question is presently in litigation, the Attorney General refrained from issuing an opinion."

"The amendment will take effect on December 22, but the motion to stop its enforcement will be made the previous day," he continued.

"Anyone who is interested in listening to the arguments may want to attend the hearing. The case will be heard in the Federal Building in Detroit."

NASA talks taking a turn for the better

Stalled contract talks between the Northville Public Schools and its principals appeared to take an upward swing last week.

Both sides of the bargaining table expressed optimism following a second meeting last Tuesday with a state mediator.

"I'm feeling hopeful at this time," said Barbara Campbell, an assistant high school principal who is chief negotiator for the Northville Association of School Administrators.

"There seems to be some movement and I'm feeling optimistic," she said.

"I feel the same way," said the school board's head negotiator, Personnel Director Burton Knighton. "We're hoping that the mediator will call us back next week."

The cheery attitude is a far cry from the positions taken after the first session with the mediator.

Then, NASA claimed that the board's team was unwilling to get down to what it called the only two important issues — job security and the economic package.

NASA, contended the board's team, was responsible for the deadlock because it had placed all of the existing contract language on the bargaining table.

NASA members have been working without a contract since its first-ever contract — a two-year pact that also took a long time to settle — expired in June.

NASA represents principals and assistant principals in the K-12 program and building supervisors for Northville's institution special education program.

Poor pay, bleak future

Substitute teachers are difficult to find

It has long been said that there is no substitute for a good teacher.

Northville school officials are learning that there may be no substitute for any teacher.

The supply of qualified substitute teachers has dropped so low that administrators have issued a plea for one-time teachers to come out of the woodwork.

"We know we've got people out in the community who are or were certified teachers," said Burton Knighton, director of personnel.

"We're to the point where the shortage is so critical that we are considering special certification for substitutes."

In Michigan, a teachers' certification expires if he or she hasn't taught three years of the last five. In such cases, the department of education will grant a special permit for substitute teaching only.

This, explained Knighton, allows teachers interested in rejoining the job market to accrue teaching days.

Northville needs an average of 12 substitutes a day to fill in for teachers who miss school because of illness, personal business, in-service training and curriculum councils.

Since Northville has the equivalent of about 200 full-time teachers, this amounts to an absentee rate of about six percent.

Low pay and poor employment prospects appear to be the major reasons for the lack of substitutes, said Knighton, who said there is a "shortage all over."

The pay for subs is low everywhere and especially in Northville which offered Wayne County's lowest wages for substitute teachers last year.

Northville rates have since been slightly increased but they are still relatively low (from $26 a day last year to $30 a day this year).

Northville also suffers because three years of declining enrollment have severely curtailed teacher hiring to replacing a few resignations and filling in for maternity leaves.

A district like Plymouth-Canton which pays subs a similar rate as Northville but which is growing rapidly "doesn't begin to have the problems we have," said Knighton.

For a sub interested in a full-time job, it is obviously advantageous to build up a good reputation in a district that may soon be hiring.

Finally, Knighton said, certified people may be eschewing schools.

"A lot are taking other jobs that are more dependable and more permanent as opposed to two-to-three days a week as a substitute," he said.

Plymouth presents 'HMS Pinafore'

SARA ANN NOLL, as Josephine in "HMS Pinafore," did double duty as costume designer, seeking Victorian authenticity.

One reason Conductor Wayne Dunlap selected "HMS Pinafore" for next Sunday's third Plymouth Symphony Orchestra concert was that this is the 100th anniversary year of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

The other is that the performing company, the Manhattan Savoyards, was so popular with the local audience in G&S's "The Mikado" last season.

The performance will begin at 4 p.m. in the auditorium of Plymouth-Salem High School, Joy west of Canton Center roads.

Robert Singer, the baritone who plays Dick Deadeye, is key man in the Savoyards.

The 21-year veteran of the musical stage is producer and director of all Savoyards productions. He supervises all details of makeup, characterization and style to make them conform to the tradition of the Savoy, for which Gilbert and Sullivan wrote from 1875 to 1886.

Other characters are: Sir Joseph, played by David Seatter, who was Tish-Tush in "Mikado"; Captain Corcoran, played by Ron Mitchell, seen last as Koko; and Josephine, played by Sara Ann Noll, who played Yum Yum in the last show.

All are trained in opera. Costumers, designed by Ms. Noll and Jane Kyhl, are intended to be authentic — and dazzling. They researched Victorian style to recreate the mood of that happy era.

"PINAFORE," Gilbert and Sullivan's third collaboration, was their first international triumph. The refrain, "what, never? Well, hardly ever," was picked up in common speech for generations afterward.

And it incurred the anger of Prime Minister Benjamin Disraeli when it was first produced in 1878. The character Sir Joseph Porter, first lord of the Admiralty, is a lawyer who had never been to sea. The characterization poked fun at book publisher W. H. Smith, who headed the Admiralty in Disraeli's government.

It earned him the nickname "Pinafore Smith." One story is that when Smith appeared for a ship-launching ceremony, the Royal Marines band blared out: "Stick close to your desks and never go to sea, and you all may be rulers of the Queen's Navee!"

Sir William Sullivan (1842-1900) was the son of the bandmaster of Royal Military College. Sullivan wanted to write serious music — and indeed composed one grand opera, "Ivanhoe," in 1891 during his famed break with Gilbert — but was most famous for his operettas.

Tickets for this production are higher than usual prices because of production costs — $5 general admission and $2.50 for K-12 students and senior citizens.

"Pinafore" incidentally, is easily understood and appreciated by persons of all ages.

Tickets are on sale at the door the afternoon of the performance and in advance at several stores.

Beitner's Jewels, Heide's Flowers, Plymouth Book World and Audette Office Supply in Plymouth and Arnoldt William Music in Canton.

Senior citizens will get free bus rides from Tonquish Creek Manor in Plymouth. Babysitting is available by qualified girls scouts at the concert.

Richard Fessler loses house leadership bid

State Representative Richard D. Fessler was unsuccessful last Wednesday in his bid for the House Republican leader's post and also apparently will not be named to the House Appropriations Committee.

Fessler, of West Bloomfield, ran a distant second to Representative William R. Bryant Jr., of Grosse Pointe Farms, in the race for the leader's job. Bryant, the GOP floor leader for the last four years, won the top House minority post on the first ballot in last week's caucus with 29 votes to Fessler's seven. Representative Bela Kennedy, of Bangor, received three votes.

Two years ago, Bryant defeated Fessler for the floor leader's job, the third ranking position, although it took the Grosse Pointe representative 24 ballots to keep the post because of a conservative outstate revolt in the caucus.

After his setback in the contest for minority leader, Fessler was not a candidate for any of the other GOP leadership jobs.

The West Bloomfield Republican had said before the caucus, though, that he had been offered a seat on the powerful appropriations panel, if he would not challenge Bryant.

Although GOP recommendations for committee assignments probably won't be made for another week, Bryant has indicated that it is unlikely that Fessler, who will begin his third two-year term in the House in January, will be appointed to the appropriations body, according to Karen Hansen, an assistant press secretary on the House Republican staff.

The new minority leader has said he intends to name another Oakland County Republican to the committee to replace Representative Mel Larsen, of Oxford, who gave up his House seat to challenge incumbent Secretary of State Richard H. Austin in the November general election. Democrat Austin easily won reelection.

Likely replacements for Larsen, according to GOP sources, are Representatives James Defebaugh, of West Bloomfield, or Wilbur "Sandy" Brotherton, of Farmington, although Birmingham Representative Ruth McNamee also is given an outside chance for the assignment.

Fessler has served as the Republican vice-chairperson of the House Judiciary Committee and apparently will continue in that assignment.

House Republicans lost two seats to the Democrats in November, giving the majority party a 70-40 margin in the legislature's lower chamber for the session that starts next month. Thirteen of the 40 GOP representatives are freshman lawmakers.

Fessler was thought to have a good chance to win the leadership post because of the Republicans' poor showing in November.

Good scout

Erich Nowka has joined the continuing battle to outdo the vandals at the Northville Recreation Department's Fish Hatchery Nature Trails. A lot of work this summer was marred by unknown vandals who destroyed sign posts, cluttered cleaned-out areas and did other damage. Undaunted, Erich chose the nature trails as the spot for his community service project to meet Eagle Scout requirements. Shown here with a repaired Fish Hatchery sign, Erich has also been replacing vandalized posts that mark the trail.

Accident's aftermath

Injury 'should have' been avoided

It's been nearly two years since the bone-chilling February morning when five year old Gentry Smith was hit by a car as he walked to Amerman Elementary School less than two blocks from his Northville home.

His mother, Karen, recalls her shock as she hurried to the dangerous Eight Mile-Center Street intersection where a crowd had already gathered about Gentry's limp, bloodied body.

"All I can say is I was praying," she says now. "It stunned me. It was a terrible thing to see this. I was numb."

Riding in an ambulance with Gentry, she was also frightened as she listened to attendants radio ominous-sounding vital signs to the hospital.

His father, Robert, recalls that it was three days before his son called him "Dad."

"His face was all white and flushed. It's a miracle he lived."

Gentry, who despite a skull fracture was miraculously free of serious injury, returned from the hospital in a week. He was back to school in a month.

But the ramifications of the accident linger with the family like a recurring bad dream. And just like a nightmare, they are not sure when and if it will go away.

Gentry, described by his mother as the "happiest and go-luckiest" of her four children, balked initially at walking to school alone.

He refused to play more than one or two yards away from his own home. He cried uncontrollably until his mother told him he would not have to accompany the class on a train trip.

His behavior before and after the accident was noticeably and drastically changed, say his parents. Until five months ago, Gentry refused to sleep alone. Before he was hurt, he had his own room.

He is having trouble at school not only because of the catch-up work required for the time he missed but also, say his parents, because his attention span is greatly reduced.

After living in the home at Base Line and Center for four years (they were just beginning to remodel it), the Smiths moved to South Lyon to get Gentry away from both the city and the memory-strewn walk to school.

But far worse than all this is the uncertainty and, Mrs. Smith concedes, the added attention given to any real or perceived change in Gentry's behavior.

They tell of a child who, after supposedly recovering from a head injury, began suffering epileptic seizures six months later and died.

"When he says he has a headache, don't you think a wave of shock goes through a parent?" Mrs. Smith asks.

And always there is a faint fear that permanent damage had been done; damage that will not manifest itself for 10-15 years; damage that may hinder his growth and limit his future.

They are alarmed by a specialist's report that Gentry's brain waves show irregularities.

It is all unnecessary, they say. The accident need never have happened had authorities taken proper — and still needed — precautions.

They are suing for damages. The defendants are the school district, the road commission, the city and the owners of two cars linked to the accident.

The officials' version of the accident is this:

Shortly before 9 a.m. on February 8, 1977, a bundled-up Gentry Smith crossed Eight Mile Road against a red light, and literally ran into an eastbound car. Both Gentry's and the driver's vision were blocked by a disabled car on the south side of the road.

The Smiths and their attorney contest this account. But even given this rendition, they say Gentry's was an accident that could have been prevented.

"Not just could have, should have," insists Southfield Attorney Arthur Liss. "It would have been a very simple thing to say, 'Gentry, don't step off this curb.'"

But there was no one to say it. The lone crossing guard was at the opposite corner because that's where most children cross Eight Mile. There were no patrol boys — because they were playing, suggest the Smiths; because Gentry was late for school, suggest others.

The anger, and the suit, are not directed against just the school. The road commission should lower the 40 mile-per-hour speed limit and then properly post warnings of a school crossing, the suit contends.

The city should vigorously enforce the speed limit, says Liss, and it should have towed the vision-blocking car.

But what is most upsetting, they say, is that 21 months after Gentry's injury, very little has been done to make the intersection safer.

"What really beefs us is that they have not done anything yet," says Liss. "What's it going to take, another kid getting killed?"

There have, in fact, been changes. Right turns on red lights for northbound Center traffic are no longer permitted during times when children are going to and coming from school. A second guard position has been authorized although the school and city have had trouble filling it.

Money has been allocated by the school to realign the awkward traffic patterns for Amerman buses. A pedestrian crosswalk was considered but the costs deemed it prohibitive.

It is not enough for Lawyer Liss who thinks the speed limit should be reduced to 25 when school is in session; it is not enough for Mrs. Smith who wants more crossing guards and pedestrian "Walk-Don't Walk" signals; and it is not enough for Mr. Smith who reduces the safety problem at the intersection to a question of priorities.

"They've got two problems," he says. "They've got kids crossing and the traffic and they gave in to the traffic. One situation is going to suffer and they chose to give in to the traffic and let the kids suffer."

Although he has long considered the intersection dangerous, Principal William Craft says he knows of no other student injured there in his 11 years at Amerman.

This accident could have been avoided, he says, had Gentry crossed on the east side of Center — where the Smiths live and where the crossing guard was stationed — rather than on the west side which, Mrs. Smith says, Gentry used because there was a sidewalk.

Ironically, the Wayne County Road Commission has recommended that crossing patterns be rerouted so that students cross at the spot where Gentry was hurt.

Liss, however, is flabbergasted at the idea that the burden of safety should rest on the judgement of a five year old boy.

"Think about it — a five year old — all alone?" he says and then turns to Mrs. Smith in what may be his courtroom demeanor.

"Did you rely on there being someone there to cross him?" he asks.

She says yes and notes that just before the accident the school had asked parents not to drive children to school because of the congestion it created. That request, argues Liss, carries an implied assurance that it would be safe to walk.

"It is not an uncommon thing to have children using a main street on their way to school," continues Liss. But, he says, most districts provide better for the youngsters' safety.

"We want people to understand it is this concern and not just the money," adds Mrs. Smith in explaining the suit.

"Our main concern is Gentry," echoes Liss. "Do you think the Smiths would have any compunction to turn that $1 million (the five-count suit is for $100,000) to the court in exchange for Gentry not being hurt?"

The consequences, real and possible, are argument enough that precautions were lacking, he says.

"Picture a five year old boy going to school and being in an accident so severe he was knocked unconscious. In the ambulance he was vomiting, blood was draining from his ear, nose, and mouth.

"Picture that, a five year old boy going through this, almost a baby.

"How can we pay Gentry for the possible effect this could have on his life? What if Gentry could have been a trial lawyer or a brain surgeon and can't do it because of this?"

Preparedness

RATHER THAN entering separate emergency preparedness programs with Wayne and Oakland County, Northville City Council is considering the possibility of joining with Northville Township in development of a single municipal plan.

'Christmas is for children of all ages'

The Plymouth Historical Museum presents "Christmas Is For Children (of all ages)" from now until January 14.

"Come see the elves working in Santa's workshop. The Victorian Christmas tree is up in the parlor, and the table is set with Haviland china and cranberry lusters. On the lower level the trains will be running," officials report.

The Plymouth Historical Museum, located at 155 South Main Street in Plymouth, is open Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults; 50 cents for youth 12-17; and 25 cents for children 5-11. Special educational tours may be arranged in advance by calling the museum, 455-8940.

Boys (of all ages) will enjoy seeing the Buddy L Ice Truck; the Buddy L Railway Express and many other Buddy L trucks; there are trains from 1925 through 1952; iron banks and tin and iron toys. Among our iron toys are a yellow cab; a log wagon with oxen; a Hubley Double-deck Bus with people; the Hubley Racer and the Toonerville Lead.

The Lehmann Motorcycle, the Los Angeles Blimp, the boy on an alligator and the Hubley Cage Wagon with a bear also are in the collection.

The cost of carpeting will vary depending on the fibers used in its manufacture and the quality of construction. The synthetic fibers are non-allergenic and moth and mildew resistant. Since carpet manufacturers have devised their own trade names for synthetic fibers it is advisable to check with the sales person and read the label that must appear on all carpeting to learn the actual fiber content. If the carpet is a mixture of natural and synthetic (often mixed for greater wear), the label will indicate this, as well as the proportion of the mixture. The proportion is important because, for example, in a wool-nylon combination, you would want to know whether you are getting a rug that is primarily wool or primarily nylon. The wool rug would be the more highly recommended.

We invite you to browse at your convenience here at GREEN'S CREATIVE HOME CENTER, 107 N. Center St., 349-7110, and see the beautiful decorating ideas we have on display. We are more interested in helping our customers decorate their homes beautifully and in good taste than in just selling merchandise. Let us help you to color-coordinate your room or entire house, using just the right colors and shades of FULLER O'BRIEN paints to create the effect most pleasing to you. GREEN'S is open from 9 until 5 daily and Thurs. & Fri. until 9. BankAmericard and MasterCard welcome.

HELPFUL HINT: For long hard wear, good wool carpeting is an excellent buy. It wears well, looks good, is soil resistant, and cleans easily.

Delayed completion

M-14 freeway, under construction from I-275 east to Washtenaw County, isn't expected to be opened until next summer, a state highway spokesman said last week. Originally scheduled for opening late this year, the project was delayed by underground water problems, especially between I-275 and Sheldon Road, that have required "considerable undercutting and fill." Although paving has been completed west of Sheldon, the state does not plan to open this section earlier than the easterly section "because there is no easy access to and from the freeway" at that point, the spokesman said.

Our technicians use 9 patented spray tools to cover the vulnerable metal inside your car's body. Your car dealer uses 2, maybe 3 tools.

We use over 1,200 pages of instructions compiled from factory specifications. Your car dealer uses a few pages of general directions from the salesman who sells him sealant.

Jills cancel out on OLV program

A cancellation at 3:30 p.m. Monday by the Jills of Bloomfield of the program planned for the Christmas meeting of Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church Monday night caused a quick change of program arrangements.

Instead of the entertainment reported in this week's Record in section

D, a sing-along was held. Mrs. Robert Hodson was soloist accompanied by Mrs. John Hlohinec, Shari Zeleznik, league president, reported Tuesday.

In addition to the program of holiday music, she said, the women enjoyed a visit from Santa. Clarence Luchtman, founder of the Jills, now retired, also attended.

Bar violations delay liquor license transfer

While city councilmen have no quarrel with the tentative new proprietor of the Winners Circle bar, they're less than pleased by the present operation.

And that displeasure with the current proprietor, principally over building code violations, led Monday to delay in approval of a liquor license transfer from Vern Huntoon to James Ray.

Council decided to delay its recommendation pending resolution of outstanding building code violations. Most of these involve fire hazards.

Huntoon told council that about "half" of the violations had been cleared up and that he is busy resolving the others.

Council also expressed "deep concern" with the operation of the bar under Huntoon. "We can't hold Mr. Ray accountable," observed Mayor Paul Vernon, "but we can't overlook the fact it (the bar) has been a trouble spot."

He referred to frequent police calls to the bar to answer complaints of fighting, weapons, vandalism, etc.

Unless Ray plans to operate the facility that will attract a different clientele, observed the mayor, the problems are not likely to disappear with new ownership.

Criminal violations occurring at the bar, said the mayor, "exceed by far the level of complaints about other similar operations in the city. It is obvious that Mr. Ray has quite a challenge facing him."

In the face of recurring problems, "I can understand why Mr. Huntoon wants to sell, but I can't understand why Mr. Ray would want to buy it," said Councilman J. Burton DeRusha.

Ray has an option to purchase the bar business only. The building, including the rooming quarters on the second floor, would remain under Huntoon's ownership.

Nevertheless, Ray assured council members that he intends to eliminate problems that have been occurring.

Police Captain Louis Westfall reported that an investigation into Ray's background disclosed that his previous bar operations — the latest in Royal Oak — were laudable. Royal Oak police, he said, indicated that Ray had turned a problem bar into a "class operation."

Although Ray indicated he has no plans for immediate remodeling, he does plan improvements in the future. Meanwhile, he intends to operate a limited menu restaurant with the bar.

New pay schedule

Experience steps return for school secretaries

Secretaries and clerks in the Northville school system, angered when their salary schedule was frozen last summer, received a new pay schedule last week that is slightly better than the one the school board originally declined to adopt.

The early Christmas gift means that salary improvements based on five experience steps have been reinstated as part of the conditions of employment for clerks and secretaries.

Each step represents a year of employment.

In June, the board "froze" all secretaries and clerks at their present step level and granted an across-the-board seven percent raise.

The administration had recommended that the entire salary schedule be improved by 6½ percent but that the steps be maintained which meant an average wage increase of 9½ percent.

Some of the secretaries would have received as much as a 12½ percent raise under the recommendation while others — those at the top of the step schedule reached in five years — would receive 6½ percent boosters.

When it declined to allow the step improvements, the board said it was reacting to a tight budget and to the growing taxpayer revolt which had manifested two weeks earlier with the passage of California's Proposition 13.

The board was also seen as laying the groundwork for tough economic stands with the district's principals, who have been working without an agreement since June, and the teachers, whose three-year contract expires this year.

Since the board took the stand, which angered secretaries so much that there was serious talk of a union, Michigan voters have defeated two drastic tax proposals and narrowly approved a relatively mild one.

School officials, however, say it was slow negotiations with principals, not a defused tax revolt, that prompted the sweeter pay scale for secretaries.

"We originally wanted to wait for the administrators' settlement," said Personnel Director Burton Knighton. "But the personnel subcommittee felt it was unfair to keep them (secretaries and clerks) dangling."

Knighton said that restoring the increments would cost the school district $6,700 which is within budget allocations.

He noted that with the demise of the year-round school, the district realizes some savings by employing fewer secretaries during the summer.

Ironically, after all the muss and fuss, the secretaries ended up with a better package than first recommended by the administrators.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: None.

LIMITING PARKING OF COMMERCIAL VEHICLES IN RESIDENTIAL AREAS: The City Clerk read the proposed Ordinance.

A discussion on modified use followed. Emory Jacques, 352 Orchard Drive, asked if a motor home would be prohibited since they carry commercial plates.

The City Attorney advised Mr. Jacques that he could obtain passenger vehicle plates by applying to Lansing.

Mayor Vernon suggested the following wording:

(a) Pickup trucks that have been modified externally by the addition of mechanical apparatus except snow plows.

(b) All other trucks except passenger vans, panel trucks and recreational vehicles.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for Public Hearing on December 18, 1978 "An Ordinance to Restrict the Parking of Certain Commercial Vehicles Upon Residentially Zoned Private Property, Title 5, Chapter 10."

Motion Carried Unanimously.

SEWER SYSTEM EVALUATION GRANT PROPOSAL: Communication from the City Manager on the revised grant application showing a total study cost of $79,426.00 with the City's share of $15,885.00 (20%).

Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout recommended the City subcontract with Penryn Systems, Inc., for the meter flow measuring and computer analysis. A complete analysis of the sewer system is advisable because of the age of the system and the likelihood of infiltration and other problems being found. The additional money could be applied for as an additional 80% grant.

Mr. Fred Birnie, Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, explained the application and explained that repairs would be a grant amendment to Step 1.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman DeRusha to authorize the Mayor and City Clerk to sign the joint application with Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout and Penryn Systems, Inc.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Schedule as presented.

Motion carried unanimously.

TRANSFER OF LIQUOR LICENSE - 113 W. MAIN: The Police and Fire Department Reports were received and will be discussed at the December 4 meeting. Mr. Rea was out of town, however, he will be present at that meeting.

Tabled until December 4.

I-275 SIGNING AT 8-MILE ROAD: Communication from State Highways and Transportation Department regarding signing to Northville Downs on I-275. An investigator was sent out to investigate and observe traffic flow on November 1, a Wednesday, and usually a light night at the track.

His observations indicated traffic flowed reasonably well, therefore, it was the State Department's recommendation to maintain the present signing at Seven Mile because it is the safest and most direct route to Northville Downs in their opinion. They also mentioned that Griswold Road due to the winding of the road and no lights was not a desirable route for heavy traffic volumes.

Discussion on the heavy traffic pattern on Thursday through Monday nights followed.

The Mayor asked the City Manager to contact the State again and also give some thought to the 8-Mile Center intersection to satisfy County guidelines.

OAKLAND COUNTY 1979 CD GRANT PROGRAM: Communication from Oakland County stating that since an agreement exists between the City of Northville and the County they will assume we are interested in participating in the Community Development Program and will submit our name to the Department of Housing and Urban Development as an included unit unless otherwise advised.

FINANCIAL REPORT (July-Oct.): Councilman DeRusha asked about the figures shown in the MTD column.

The City Manager stated he would look into it and report back at the next meeting.

DDA (a) Tax-Increment Resolution: Motion by Councilman DeRusha support Councilman Gardner to adopt the Resolution supporting Tax Increment Financing for the Northville Downtown Development Authority.

Motion carried unanimously.

(b) Introduce Ordinance: Two minor changes were made to Section 1. (h) and (i).

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for Public Hearing on December 4, 1978 at 8:00 p.m. An Ordinance to Approve and Adopt a Development and Tax-Increment Financing Plan for the Northville Downtown District.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

The City Manager stated he had called Mary Dumas, Wayne County Commissioner, had met with the Board at Schoolcraft College; meeting set for November 27 with the Northville School Board; however, he has not had personal contact with the Intermediate School District to discuss the Downtown Development Authority Plan. All of the above have received copies for review and questions. The City Manager explained the City was meeting with these people at their convenience.

MISCELLANEOUS: Mayor Vernon explained a petition drive put a hold on the gas and weight tax increase and have a referendum vote. This would put a holding pattern until the 1980 election.

The MML has asked that citizens be aware of the cut-backs if this goes to a referendum vote. It was pointed out that it would be difficult to keep streets in repair.

The City Manager pointed out Northville would get approximately $24,000 for street resurfacing through the tax increase.

Meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan G. McAllister
City Clerk

SERIES I PRIOR REDEMPTION: Series I Bonds maturing on and after October 1, 1987 shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in such order as the City shall determine, on any one or more interest payment dates on or after October 1, 1986, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium, as follows:

- 3% of the par value of each bond called for redemption prior to October 1, 1989;
- 2% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1989, but prior to October 1, 1993;
- 1% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1993, but prior to maturity.

Thirty days notice of redemption shall be given by publication at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds, thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. Bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the redemption date provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

SERIES II PRIOR REDEMPTION: Series II Bonds maturing on and after October 1, 1987, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in such order as the City shall determine, on any one or more interest payment dates on or after October 1, 1986, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium, as follows:

- 2% of the par value of each bond called for redemption prior to October 1, 1989;
- 1% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after October 1, 1989, but prior to maturity.

Thirty days notice of redemption shall be given by publication at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds, and in case of registered bonds, thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. Bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the redemption date provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rate on the bonds shall not exceed two percent (2%) per annum. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: Both issues of bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for public improvements in certain special assessment districts in said City, as set forth in the bond authorizing resolutions. The special assessments and interest thereon are sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds as when due. The liability of each special assessment district is limited as set forth in the bond authorizing resolutions. Both issues of bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Novi as additional security for payment of the principal and interest thereon.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $15,100, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City must accompany each bid as guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as illiquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from January 1, 1979, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified approving opinion as to validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly will not express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois or New York, New York. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is no a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bond shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

TEMPORARY BOND: The issuer may require the purchaser to accept delivery no later than December 22, 1978, of a temporary fully registered bond for the full amount of the issue. This temporary bond will be exchanged for final printed bonds no later than 45 days after the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if the 45th day is not a business day. If final printed bonds are not furnished by that day, the purchaser may require the issuer to repurchase the bond at the price bid plus accrued interest to the date of repurchase. Final printed bonds are expected to be available on or about January 8, 1979.

CUSIP NUMBERS: It is anticipated that CUSIP Identification numbers will be printed on said bonds, but neither the failure to print such numbers on any bonds nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereto to accept delivery of and pay for said bonds in accordance with terms of the purchase contract. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on said bonds shall be paid for by the issuer; provided, however, that the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the purchaser.

FINANCIAL CONSULTANT: Further information relative to the bond issue may be obtained from Bendzinski & Co., Municipal Finance Advisors, 1318 Buhl Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226. Telephone (313) 961-8222.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

to parents of city residents, fourth priority to Northville Township residents, and finally other non-resident senior citizens.

According to Nancy Shultz, secretary of the housing commission, the waiting list of applicants now approximates 38 persons. Some of those on the waiting list are city residents who do not want immediate occupancy.

Given the experience in other similar senior citizens housing projects, perhaps only one or two openings will occur annually — which means those persons on the waiting list have relatively little chance of getting an apartment.

Cost of renting Allen Terrace apartments is $225 per month.

For those senior citizens who are financially unable to pay that amount, a trust fund has been established to provide subsidization. However, housing officials have found that relatively few of the senior citizens will require subsidization.

It is anticipated that rental payments will be sufficient to retire bonds for development of the complex as well as providing sufficient monies for maintenance.

Cost of the development, including the purchase of the land, is expected to approximate $3 million when it is completed.

Each apartment includes a bedroom, living room, kitchen-dinette, and bathroom. Some of the units have been designed especially to accommodate handicapped citizens.

Each air-conditioned apartment is furnished with cooking stove, refrigerator and garbage disposal. Furniture is provided by the occupants. Closed circuit television facilities at Allen Terrace will permit senior citizens to see visitors calling on them as they enter the building.

Units located above ground have walk-out balconies. Those at ground level have patios outside their glass doorwalls.

Allen Terrace includes laundry facilities for occupants, a central heating system (controlled by each individual apartment), post office facilities, a large recreational kitchen area for senior citizens' activities, and a service elevator.

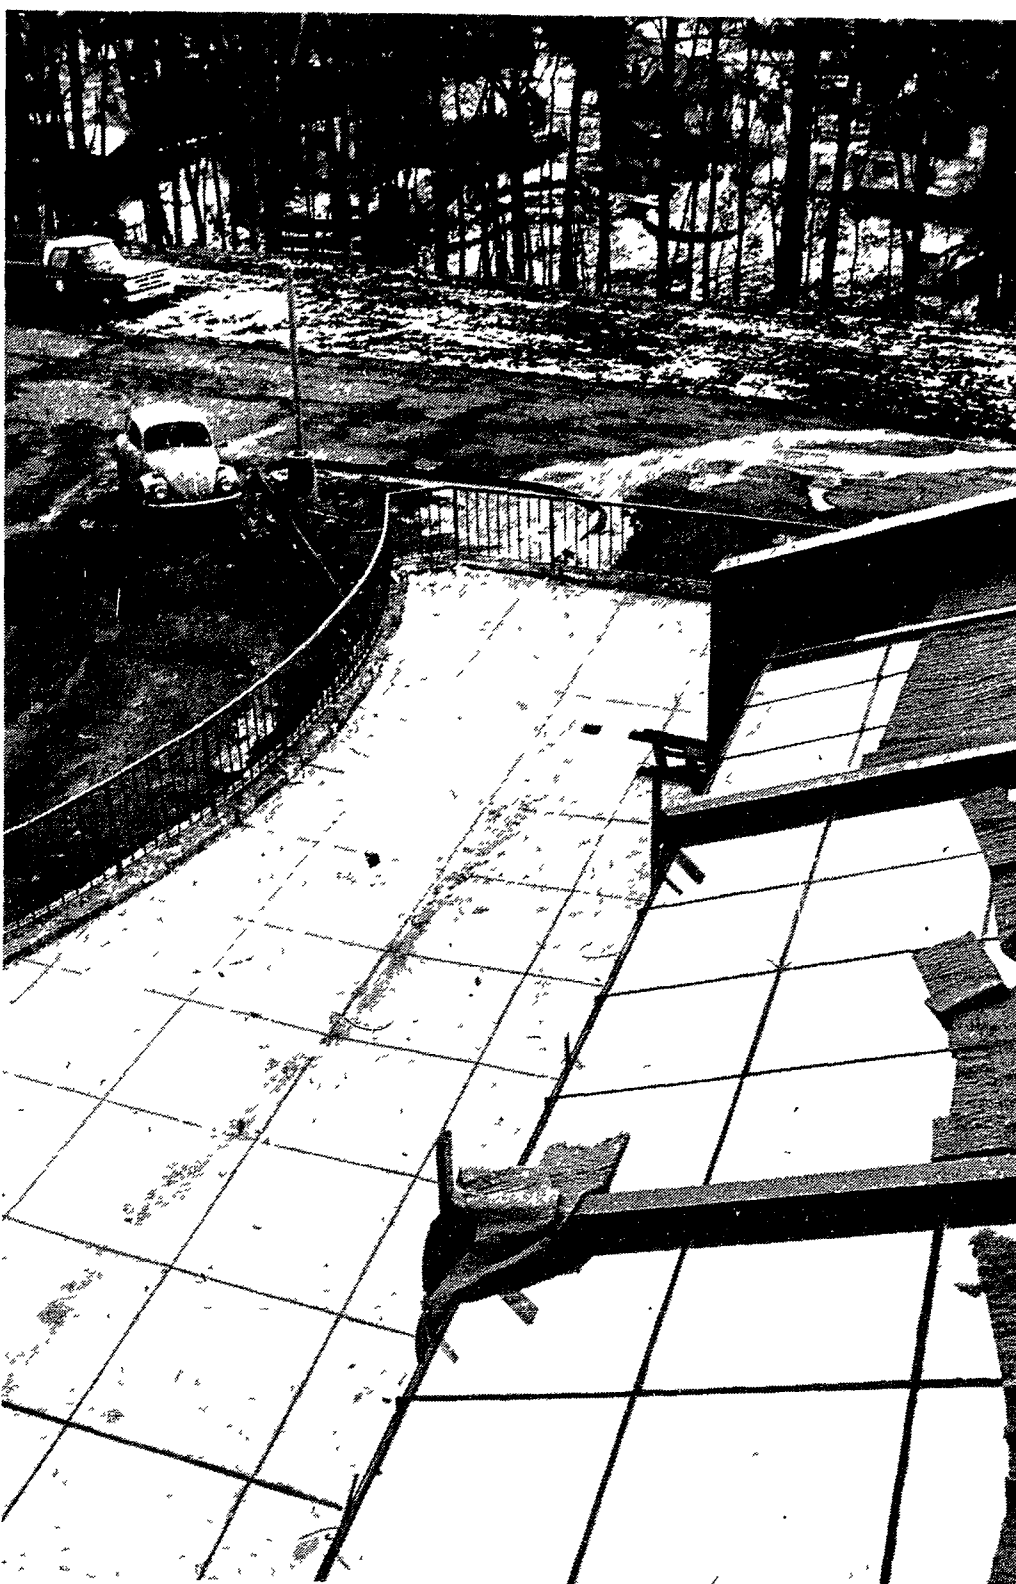

Apartments are carpeted as are hallways. Hallways have been color coded to make it easier for occupants to find their rooms.

Areas for establishment of small reading libraries have been provided on each floor. Each floor also is provided with a centrally located rubbish disposal chute.

Each room and hallway is equipped with sprinkler systems in cases of fire, and emergency lighting systems that alert the central desk in cases of emergencies. Also, hallways have emergency lighting in case electrical power flow to Allen Terrace is disrupted.

Stairways are located in each wing of the building.

Entrance to the Allen Terrace site is at the intersection of High and Elm streets — near St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

ty, Wayne County Intermediate School District, Schoolcraft College, and the Northville School District.

All are viewed as vital to the project by city officials since the "captured" tax concept would apply also to these taxing units of government. Their tax base gains in the downtown district also would be "captured."

Although all four taxing units have voiced unofficial support of the plan, formal approval awaits action of the units' boards.

City officials had been assured by legal counsel that approvals by these units of government could come after adoption of the ordinance.

An amendment to the ordinance is expected to be considered in January by council to formally include the county units and Schoolcraft and Northville schools in the plan.

Representatives of two of the units of government — Schoolcraft and the Intermediate School District — attended the hearing, noting that while their boards had not yet formally approved participation, the plan has received positive reaction.

C. Nelson Grote, president of Schoolcraft, told council members Monday that the college's legal counsel had advised him earlier in the day that there are no legal problems with the college's participation.

He expressed hope that, while Schoolcraft trustees are not expected to act on the plan until January, the college board's late approval will be in time for inclusion of Schoolcraft in the plan. Council assured him that the college legally could be included after adoption of the ordinance.

Clare Ebersole, associate superintendent of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, echoed Dr. Grote's remarks, noting that the district's attorney had given the plan a green light and that the matter would be formally taken up by the intermediate board at its December 20 meeting.

Northville School Board is expected to take action at its meeting next Monday, and the Wayne County Government Committee has recommended approval of the plan by the county board of commissioners.

In asking his questions, Fiorilli said he was puzzled by the unofficial support of the "captured taxes" concept by taxing units, which publicly declare a need for more money but are willing to sacrifice tax dollars to Northville downtown revitalization.

Fiorilli asked for an explanation from Ebersole.

The intermediate school district official said the district's position recognized that unless the central business district is rejuvenated its valuation will continue to decline. "We can be dollars ahead if they (DDA) can turn it (downtown Northville) around," he said.

"In the short range, the plan is not an economically favorable one of the intermediate school district but the long range benefit will be better for us."

Ebersole also noted that the "capture taxes" lost to Northville by the intermediate school district are "insignificant" when compared with the district's overall tax base.

City Manager Steven Walters pointed out that the valuation of the downtown area has been declining for the past three years. The taxing impact of this decline, he suggested, has not been a problem primarily because the downtown area is assessed at 58 percent.

Should a property reassessment occur in the downtown area, driving assessments back down to the 50-percent level, it could mean properties outside the downtown district will be forced to pick up the difference.

Councilman Dewey Gardner said taxing units of government should be aware that downtown revitalization has spinoff benefits for the non-downtown tax base.

When the downtown area improves, Gardner observed, it will make improvements and development more attractive in surrounding areas. And these non-downtown improvements, he added, could produce tax base gains that more than offset losses by the increment plan.

Officials also emphasized that the "captured taxes" concept, under the ordinance, has a maximum 15-year lifetime.

SPEAKING for The Record By BILL SLICER

Northville's Downtown Development Authority (DDA) is riding very high these days. But its members have their respective fingers crossed.

There's the feeling that too many things are falling into place too neatly and that surely a dark cloud lurks somewhere on the horizon.

To date the DDA has won enthusiastic support for its Mainstreet 78 project from the city council, board of education, Schoolcraft College, Intermediate School District, and Wayne County.

And Monday night the proposal sailed through a public hearing with nary an objection voiced.

The Northville Board of Education, the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees, the Intermediate School District and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners have not given the proposal their official blessing. They must act in subsequent meetings. But Mainstreet 78 has been introduced to each of the bodies and the reception has been excellent.

What's involved, and the reason the city-appointed DDA must introduce its proposed improvement project to all the local taxing authorities, is tax increment financing.

In a nutshell this means that the DDA proposes to pay for public improvements in a four-block downtown business district area from new, privately-financed taxbase stimulated by Mainstreet 78.

Currently, Northville's downtown taxbase is experiencing a decline. Under tax-increment financing, the city, county, local, intermediate and Schoolcraft school district taxing units will agree to levy millage against the 1978 state equalized valuation (SEV) taxbase and permit the DDA to "capture" all the millage levied against new development within the four-block business district.

In other words, if the SEV of the business district is $4 million in 1978 and increases to $4.5 million in 1980 the DDA would receive all the revenue from city, school, Schoolcraft and county, millage levied against the half-million dollars of new taxbase. And this money would be used to retire the $2.2 million (including interest) bond issue that will be required to complete Mainstreet 78.

The DDA projects that after five years each of the local taxing units will start receiving added tax dollars. It's anticipated that new development will generate more than enough tax revenues by the sixth year to meet the annual bond payments. All excess dollars must be distributed to the individual local taxing units in proportion to their respective millage levies.

So in introducing the tax increment financing plan to the five taxing units to gain their cooperation and support the DDA emphasizes that it is asking these units to accept a short-range deferral of some tax revenues so that they may be invested to stimulate business development, thereby creating greater long-range taxbase.

In the face of a declining business taxbase situation it would appear that a program reversing the trend should represent a bonus to the taxing units. And that's exactly the spirit in which the members of the various governmental boards have greeted the Mainstreet 78 plan.

But over and above the understanding and cooperation that Mainstreet 78 has received thus far exists a greater excitement for those working most closely with the plan.

The DDA members, most of whom served on the original committee which devised the concept, are receiving inquiries from private business sources interested in investing in downtown Northville.

And that's really the test of the validity of the program ... the whipped cream on the cake.

Two financial institutions have expressed a desire to both spend and lend money in downtown Northville if Mainstreet 78 is accomplished. Perhaps a half-dozen existing businesses have started or intend to start improvement programs. There are at least two other projects that would help complete the Mainstreet 78 concept nearing realization.

And new attention has been directed towards revitalization of Northville Square as a result of the DDA and its Mainstreet 78 project.

For those working on a day-to-day basis with Mainstreet 78 it is a very real and extremely close-to-realization project. City Manager Steve Walters has performed miraculously under a tight schedule and his documentation of the project drew nothing but praise from county attorneys and commissioners, who were not as enthusiastic over a similar plan earlier approved for the city of Detroit.

But another test yet awaits Mainstreet 78. Most certainly, it must gain approval of city voters. This may be a requirement under the new Headlee amendment. Regardless, voter support is an almost essential ingredient if the improvement bonds are to be sold at a reasonable and workable interest rate.

So it will become essential within a matter of a very few months that city voters understand the importance of Mainstreet 78 well enough to be willing to place their faith and credit behind its bonds.

If they believe, as DDA members do, that Mainstreet 78 will generate enough tax dollars to easily pay for the improvement project, then they will be willing to run the risk of guarantee.

DDA members are hoping that the public will be as cooperative and understanding as their elected officials and not turn out to be the "dark cloud" on the horizon.

Speaking for Myself

Is winter wonderful?

BETTE SWIFT

YES

Winter, without a doubt, is the most maligned season of the year, yet it is one of the most beautiful and beneficial.

The carping begins with the 11 o'clock television news.

"More of the ugly stuff ahead, stay tuned," the bright-eyed newscaster usually intones. Later, turning to introduce Will the Weatherman after the commercial, the newscaster usually includes another jab at mother nature.

Radio D.J.'s are no different. They lament the snow and crow constantly about driving conditions. Not once have I heard an announcer describe large, falling snowflakes and the scene they create as beautiful.

NO

Winter! Yech! Why does my heart sink when I hear that first "drivers' advisory...ice covered and slippery?" What fearful thoughts race through my head as I turn from the local radio station's ominous predictions and watch the grey sky?

First things first: a bag of sand in the trunk with my trusty little shovel. Is the snow brush and scraper still functional from last winter or is the brush ratty and broken and the scraper lost? If I'm going out for the day, do I have my "emergency" packet — boots for pushing the car out or for walking for help — old slacks for the salt slush — heavy gloves and warm hat to cover my ears — an old, warm jacket if my dress coat isn't up to winter duty?

We are a complacent society. We would rather sit softly before a television set than venture outside into the cold but refreshing air that only winter brings.

Children are the only humans not tainted by prevailing attitudes. Kids revel in the snow. They can't wait to go outside, to make a fort or snowman, to sled or ski. Rosy-cheeked they come inside, healthier for the activity in the clear, fresh air.

Driving in winter is hazardous — if you don't know how to drive in snowy or icy conditions. Better to relax while driving and enjoy the landscape than to apprehensively hunch over the wheel cursing your luck.

Once out the garage, back up slowly, almost tiptoeing to get ready for the steady, even climb up the first hill, carefully pick my way through the trees so lovely in spring, so cool in summer, so beautiful in fall and now so close to the road, so easy to slide into.

Winter! Deep, salty, black slush ruining my slacks, icy ruts, old, dirty snow piles pocked with litter, dark nights, grey days, cold feet, frosted windshields, hideous driving: No wonder birds migrate and bears hibernate. It's a no-win time. One glorious scene but months of dreary aftermath.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

If you've thought about researching your family's genealogy but don't know where to start, consider the United States Census records. They're valuable sources that are easier to get at than most people imagine.

Finding a parking space can be a whole lot tougher.

Many people assume that census material may be viewed only in Washington, D.C. But the fact of the matter is that many of these valuable materials are as close as the Detroit Public Library ... the Burton historical collections to be more precise.

Burton is really a library within a library. It is located on the main floor of the main library, across Woodward Avenue from the Detroit Institute of Arts. It is the finest historical library in Michigan, in my opinion. And it's open most days and evenings.

This library has most of the censuses made in Michigan as well as many of those made elsewhere in the United States. They're all on microfilm ... and if you're unfamiliar with using a microfilm machine Burton staffers will assist you.

And about the only things you need know to get started is the name of the county and township where the person or persons lived.

For example, I recently checked the censuses for my wife's family. Her great-grandfather was one of the original settlers of the City of Zeeland. All I had to do was make out a written microfilm request in the library, citing the County of Ottawa and the Township of Zeeland. Staffers will assist you here, too.

U.S. censuses made in Michigan are available for the years 1850, 1860, 1870, 1880 and, only recently, for 1900. In addition, Burton has other Michigan census material as well as censuses for much of the rest of the United States. The 1900 census microfilm for other states has not yet arrived at Burton, however.

Information contained in these filmed documents increases with more recent censuses. For example, the 1850 census told me the name of my wife's grandfather, his age, where he was born and the names, ages and birthplaces of his children. The 1900 census,

When it comes to the alphabet soup world of acronyms, nobody does it better than government and school agencies.

Among the best — or worst — offenders can be found in the sphere of special education where a disciple can say he and an "OT helped EPPC an EMI" without blinking an eye (or an "I").

Take hope, however, in the fact that not all those who speak in alphabetic tongues are insensitive to the plight of the unenlightened. Printed below is an article that first appeared in "The Encompasser", the in-house newspaper published by Northville's special education department.

From time to time, we, as professionals, must sit back and take a look at the verbal bombardment to which we subject those around us.

Many parents will sit on an EPPC and be told their child is SMI, SMUI, POHI, TMI, EMI, HI OR VI in need of O.T., C.O.T.A., PT, TSLI evaluations but not until after being seen by a LD consultant. If found VI at the EPPC, then the recommendation for O&M training could be made at the IEP based on the appropriate P.O.

Many of the student's parents know that we are a part of DOE and WCISD but as the old ISEP we are responsible to deliver Special Education services to DMH MHR of PCHD and NRTC, as well as students on CLF, F.C. and living at home. We are not, however, responsible for those students on LOA or CSH.

Drivers aren't that discontent

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to an article in the Northville Record, November 15, 1978, titled "Bus drivers decry poor training".

I have been a bus driver for Northville Public Schools almost three years. I can hardly consider myself a "veteran" driver, however, I am one of the original Institutionalized Special Education Program (ISEP) drivers, having started the first day these retarded children were transported by Northville Public Schools. I do feel I am at least a little knowledgeable of the problems involved in transporting these children. I have transported almost every level of retarded child.

I do agree with your article — in part. I feel we do need and want more and better training in dealing with the retarded child, it is an absolute necessity for the bus aides, because they are the people who look after the students in transit. Most, unfortunately not all, new aides are told something about the retarded child and what to expect either by their bus driver, another bus aide or supervisor, but they are not usually very well informed. Their training is mostly "on the job." Many problems on the bus can and are solved with patience and common sense.

I don't believe the ISEP Transportation Crew is as discontent as your article made it sound. We have often discussed our need for better training amongst ourselves, but I don't recall anyone every "decrying poor training." I wonder if the little training we have had isn't better than improper or "hurry-up" training that may have been put together overnight or put together with little knowledge of existing problems. I have found, for the most part, that we have received good cooperation from the people in administration and at the individual schools with any problems we may have. I understand that our needed training is to begin in January, 1979.

I don't like to read any article that mentions the undesirable behaviors of the retarded child without mentioning any of the more pleasant things about these "special" children. They are all individuals and they all have their own individual personality. They are not all loud, vulgar, crude and violent, most of them are very loveable, some have less than desirable social habits, and a few can be violent at times, but all are human beings. On my bus of forty-six students we have about seven students that may give us an occasional problem, two or three can and do "act-out" and get violent, but this does not happen often.

I have never considered my job dangerous, in fact I feel that I have a very satisfying and rewarding job. Some of the satisfaction and rewards have come from seeing the improvements in these children in the past three years. Just like a "normal" child, a retarded child can give you a "bad time" sometimes, but often a smile or a giggle can make up for bad behavior. I feel that I have contributed in making at least some of their lives a little happier.

I think if I take a poll of my "fellow workers" most of them will probably agree with this letter.

Sincerely,
Cathy Melning
Bus Driver, NPS

EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer included with her letter signatures of 16 bus drivers and 24 aides who agreed with the "main content" of her letter.

ing hasty on an issue this important, pointing out that those who had been elected to the board felt it was important enough to campaign six months.

"We haven't had a chance to talk to some of these people," Zapke said.

Mrs. Sass agreed that they should have more time, contending that the board should interview each candidate personally.

Thomson asked for a two-minute recess to get a copy of the law governing appointments. He then read the law, which stated that if an appointment were not made within 45 days, the county clerk would notify the governor, who would call an election.

Thomson said, "We owe it to the people who voted the six of us into office" to make an appointment.

As Swienkowski was commenting that part of the time he had served on the board had been by appointment, a member of the audience interrupted him.

"It's easy to see what the politics are," Joseph Fiorilli said. "You're being phony about this — quite a lot of you."

Swienkowski said the board need not wait 45 days for an election. He declined to make a nomination.

Mrs. Sass also declined to make a nomination after saying, "I would like to see more women on the township board. We have a lot of brilliant women who could contribute much to the board."

Taking his turn, Zapke said he felt Highland Lakes Condominium residents should have a representative on the board. He moved to appoint Dorothy Gay, who had been recommended by the Highland Lakes Condominium Association Board of Directors. Mrs. Sass seconded the motion.

Only Zapke and Mrs. Sass voted in favor of Mrs. Gay, with Nowka, Swienkowski, Holland and Thomson voting on the other hand, gave me names, ages, years of immigration, marital status, occupations, schooling, real estate, etc.

Census takers wrote in longhand and sometimes the writing is difficult to read. Furthermore, one must be aware that errors frequently show up in spellings and ages. But if you study several succeeding 10-year censuses you can clear up some of the difficulties.

Censuses taken since 1900 are confidential and closed to the general public. However, the government will furnish information made by official written request forms. There is a charge for such information. For copies of this form (No. BC-600) write: U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census, Pittsburg, Kansas 66762.

For those wishing to research passenger lists of ships that carried immigrants to the United States, request GSA Form 7111 by writing: Passenger Lists (NNCC), National Archives (GSA), Washington, D.C. 20408.

Naturalization records are another source for those researching their families. If it is believed naturalization occurred before September 27, 1906, a good first step is to consult Locating Your Immigrant Ancestor, published in 1975 by The Everton Publishers, Inc., Logan, Utah. Compiled by James Neagles and Lila Lee Neagles, it is a 75-page catalog, by state and county, of the courts and archives where records before 1906 are kept. Once this information is known, you may write to the clerk of that court or to the Federal Records Center, requesting a copy of any records found. A fee is charged for duplication of each record.

Requests for information about immigrant ancestors naturalized after September 27, 1906 are made with Form G-641, which can be obtained from the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization Service, 425 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20536.

Easiest to obtain and perhaps most helpful are the census records. Just point your car to Burton and hope you find a parking space when you get there.

Good luck!

Board can't decide

L. T. Sylvestre said he wouldn't blame the candidates if the ones voted on tonight dropped out. Speaking against an election and in favor of an appointment, he said, "The board is going to be deadlocked. The township is going to flounder."

Nowka amended his motion that arrangements be made to interview the candidates, adding that William Bohan and Bernard Baldwin be asked to submit their resumes.

Zapke again seconded the motion, which passed unanimously.

Fiorilli said the board was "willing to make an off-the-cuff decision about three people. What really is fair about the decision you've just made in respect to the people involved and the people in the community? The community is going to flounder."

Fiorilli pointed out that the board was split, three against three. "You know not one person on the list will be elected. You already have in mind who you want and how to swing it... It needs to be brought to the attention of the community what the people are doing on the board."

Following the meeting, Fiorilli declined to name the person he contended the board had in mind for the trusteeship.

Contacted Monday, Thomson said the board would interview candidates on Saturday, December 9. In addition to the seven candidates considered last Thursday, Richard Henningsen has also asked to be considered for the spot.

Thomson said he would like to see a trustee appointed before the board makes a decision on other appointments.

There are two vacancies on the planning commission, one created when Betty MacKenzie turned down her appointment for health reasons. The other vacancy is the planning commission's representative from the board of trustees.

Fairbrook assessment

"If the interior lots were assessed for the improvement, the share per lot for these eight lots would be $2,812.50, plus $656.25 for curbs and gutters, if based on a 25-percent city at-large share of $7,500 plus $1,750 for curbs and gutters."

However, the manager added that "the general public benefit on a dead-end street such as Fairbrook Court is questionable, and yet all taxpayers participate in the construction cost of the street system as a whole, including the Fairbrook Court taxpayers."

Attending Monday's meeting was Donald B. Severance, a Fairbrook Court property owner who repeated his earlier contention that improvement of the street is necessary. His support of that improvement, however, represents only his own opinion, said Severance. He indicated he had not polled other property owners on the court for their opinions.

Swimmers step up; they're 3rd in state

During the early 1970's, Northville prided itself on being the "Class B swim capital of Michigan."

This year's edition of the girls' squad gave notice that the local high school is once again among the mightiest in Michigan — only now it's at the Class A level.

And that's quite a feat, considering the small numbers the local community has to choose from.

Despite having one of the smallest Class A enrollments in the state — perhaps the smallest — Northville made clear it rates right up there with the best of 'em by finishing third in the finals of the Class A championships at Central Michigan University last Saturday.

Led by Sue Cahill, Allyson Farquhar, Kyle Roggenbuck, Kim Storm and Tammi Selfridge, the local swimmers piled up 95 points total, the most ever by a Northville girls' swimming team in the state meet. Only East Lansing, which won its sixth straight title with 153 points, and Ann Arbor Pioneer, with 151 points, were better.

It marked the second straight year the Mustangs have placed among the top five Class A schools in Michigan (they were fourth last year) — that despite a student population of only 1069 (another 356 are added to that to account for a ninth-grade class, giving the school an adjusted total of 1426, just seven over the Class B limit).

"When you consider that there were 70 teams at the state finals (there are perhaps another 50 or so Class A schools that weren't there), and we beat 67 of them, you have to feel pretty good about how well we did," Coach Ben Lauber proudly pointed out afterwards.

"We couldn't have asked for a better way to finish the season. The girls really deserved that after doing so well all season long."

It was, indeed, quite a way to finish the season. The Mustangs not only placed five girls on the All-State squad, but had one state champion, two runners-up, set two school records and just missed two others.

Sue Cahill, who won the 200-yard individual medley as a sophomore in last year's finals, tacked on another individual state championship by capturing the 500-yard freestyle. While her winning time (5:08.13) was 1.8 seconds shy of the state record and almost one full second slower than her own best effort this season, it was good enough for a dramatic 0.01 second victory over runner-up Ann Heusner of East Lansing.

She failed to successfully defend her title in the individual medley, though, despite chopping almost 1.4 seconds off her time, which had been a state record. Last weekend she went 2:10.03 in the finals but finished a close second to Judi Richardson of Ann Arbor Huron, who won in 2:09.64. Allyson Farquhar, meanwhile, finished fifth in 2:14.73.

Richardson also cost Northville a state championship — and a state record — by successfully defending her crown in the 100-yard breaststroke. Her time in the finals was 1:07.28, just ahead of Farquhar (1:08.33).

Richardson's time in Friday's preliminaries was 1:07.15, another state record, while Farquhar had swum the prelims in 1:08.46. Thus both girls broke the old state mark of 1:08.79 in both the pre-lims and finals.

Northville's other top individual performances were turned in by the team's two freestylers, Kyle Roggenbuck and Kim Storm.

cond to win swimming's most grueling race. She also placed second behind Ann Arbor Huron's Judi Richardson in the 200-yard individual medley, an event she won as a sophomore in 1977.

Roggenbuck, capping an outstanding four-year career here, placed sixth in the 50-yard freestyle (25.08 seconds) and ninth in the 100 free (55.62). She had swum a 55.4 in the 100 free pre-lims, just 2 seconds short of her own two-year-old school record.

Storm, still recovering from a sustained illness, placed fifth in the 50 free (25.07) and just missed qualifying for the 100 free finals by finishing 13th in the pre-lims.

The Mustangs' other points came in the 200-yard medley relay, where Cahill, Tammi Selfridge, Farquhar and Roggenbuck combined for a fifth-place finish. Their time was 1:55.80, just one one-hundredth of a second ahead of sixth-place Farmington Our Lady of Mercy but three one-hundredth of a second off the school record, set in last year's state finals.

Roggenbuck's 50-yard freestyle anchor leg in the relay was clocked at 24.4, which would have broken yet another school record had it been done in the individual event.

Four other girls — Janet Shaw, Leslie Farquhar, Laurie Sellen and Kristy Iversen — also qualified from Northville for the states, but didn't finish among the top 12 in their events.

Going into Saturday's finals, the Mustangs looked as if they'd get a tough

Cagers stay close but lose opener

Depending on how you look at it, Northville's first basketball game under new coach Tim Lutes was impressive — and it was unimpressive.

Refusing to fold, the inexperienced Mustangs stayed neck-and-neck with Milford Lakeland for all but the last four minutes of their season opener at home last Tuesday night, but when the final curtain fell the visitors had the upper hand, 72-54.

The final score was anything but an accurate indication of the way things went most of the night. While Lakeland led all the way, Northville drew within striking distance several times during the course of the game, and more than once had chances to tie or take the lead.

The turning point, according to Lutes, came early in the second half. Trailing 38-37 with just under six minutes left in the third quarter, the Mustangs drove down court with a chance to turn things around but missed four straight shots, including three offensive rebounds near the basket.

Seconds later they got the ball back on a turnover but missed another shot, and Lakeland responded with six unanswered points and 13 of the next 16 to take a commanding 51-40 advantage into the final quarter.

"If we had scored at that point (when trailing 38-37), the whole momentum of the game would've changed around," Lutes said afterwards. "I think we could've won the game after that."

As it was Northville fought back again, in the final quarter, cutting the gap to 55-52 with just over four minutes remaining on a lay-up by Jeff Norton following a steal.

Lakeland exploded for eight straight points, though, to put the game out of reach. Soon afterwards both clubs sent in their reserves, and the Eagles scored the final nine points of the contest.

The first half was more or less the same type of story as the second: Lakeland would build up a big lead only to see it vanish in the face of a relentless Mustang offense.

The winners struggled out to an early 11-10 lead before hitting for eight straight, and at the end of the first stanza it was 21-14. Early in the second quarter they upped the margin to 25-16.

Northville fought back to within one (25-24), but the Eagles pulled away again, scoring nine of the next 11 points, and by halftime it was 38-33.

Most of Lakeland's spurts came on the strength of its outside shooting, which constantly frustrated the Mustangs' hopes of cooling off the visitors by shutting them off inside.

"I thought our zone was very effective against them," Lutes noted, "but they had such good outside shooters it was hard to stop them."

The Milford club wound up hitting 28 of 56 floor shots, many of them from long range, for a 50 percent accuracy rate. Jeff DeYoung, who consistently pumped them in from outside the key, led the Eagles' scoring attack with 19 points, 13 of them in the first half.

Offensively Lutes felt his club was hurt by Lakeland's full-court press, which helped account for 29 Northville turnovers. The Mustangs also shot only 39 percent from the floor.

Norton paced the Northville scorers with 16 points, hitting seven of 14 shots from the floor and adding two of two free throw attempts. Bob Crisan came off the bench to score 11 points and had 12 rebounds, five of them in the fourth

2 Mustangs honored

Two Northville players were named to the honorable mention list in the 1978 All-Area girls' basketball squad selected by sportswriters from Sliger Home Newspapers last week.

Karen Goxem, the Mustangs' 6-0 senior center who averaged 11 points and 10 rebounds in her last 12 games this season after a slow start, was recognized for the first time while Diane Perpich, a senior forward, made honorable mention for the second straight year.

Goxem, in her first year as a varsity player, led the club in both scoring and rebounding this fall while Perpich was second in both categories. Players from 10 area schools, including four league champions, were considered.

Crisan to lead EMU

Doug Crisan, a 1975 graduate of Northville High and a standout running back for the Mustangs in his junior and senior years, was one of three players named as captains of next year's Eastern Michigan University football squad.

Crisan, a 6-3 220-pound junior, has been a starting running back at Eastern since his freshman year and is currently fourth on the Hurons' all-time rushing list with 1474 yards. He led Eastern in rushing this past fall with 485 yards in 103 carries.

During his playing days at Northville Crisan was twice named to the All-Area and All-Western Six football squads (in 1973 and in 1974). He rushed for over 1000 yards in his senior year with the Mustangs, averaging 5.7 yards a carry.

The two other Eastern Michigan players who'll captain next year's club are Ray Welch, a 6-2 212-pound linebacker, and Kevin Wilkinson, a 6-4 230-pound defensive tackle. All three selected as captains by their teammates.

Harding plays at Ferris

Former All-Western Six linebacker Doug Harding, who helped Northville's 1977 football squad to a 7-2 record and a second-place conference finish, saw considerable action at the college level in his freshman season at Ferris State this fall.

The 6-3 200-pound linebacker recorded 16 tackles, including a quarterback sack, and had 12 assists and caused one fumble while starting part-time for the Bulldogs.

His top performance came in a 28-7 victory over Michigan Tech, when he had seven tackles and three assists. Ferris wound up 3-5-2 overall for the season and tied with Saginaw Valley for fourth place in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

battle from Our Lady of Mercy for third place. According to their swimmers' times in the preliminaries Mercy had 80 points and Northville 95.

In the finals, though, Holland edged Mercy for fourth place with 73 points — far behind Northville's 95 — while Mercy was fifth with 71.

The state championship itself went right down to the last event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, before East Lansing won it with a first-place finish, two seconds ahead of Pioneer's runner-up unit.

Northville's performance in the state meet climaxed a season that saw the Mustangs go undefeated in dual meets for the first time ever (they were 12-0 overall), win their second straight Western Six league championship, finish runner-up at the competitive Redford Union Relays and break school records in six of 11 events. Eight girls were All-Leaguers this season and five of them were All-Staters.

Record-setting pacer loses after 9-race win streak

An era of sorts came to a close, at Northville Downs last Friday night.

King Forbes, an eight-year-old pacer who little more than three months ago was struggling through $3500 claiming races in his first season on Michigan's big-time harness circuit, ended an incredible nine-race winning streak in the sixth race of the Jackson-at-Northville meet.

Running on a sloppy track following heavy snowfall earlier in the day, the locally-owned horse placed sixth in an eight-horse field of $10,000 claimers.

It was the first time since August that King Forbes had failed to win a race. His nine consecutive victories — five of them came at Jackson Raceway earlier in the fall while the last four came at the Downs — was a state record at parimutuel tracks.

The former record-holder was Barney Fahrner, who won eight straight during the late summer of 1975 at Detroit Race Course in Livonia. Forbes' streak, ironically, ended the day he was claimed by a new owner, Robert Leiter of the Frank O'Mara Stables near Grand Rapids. His former owners were Howard Niles, who hails from South Lyon and Sam and Joe Krinsky.

Forbes began his record on September 4 in a $5000 claiming race. Jackson horseman Cote owned him at the time.

After winning four straight in Jackson, he started as a $6000 claimer at the Downs and methodically won five more. He took his record-tying eighth victory in a row by a nose against a field of $8000 claimers November 15. Nine days later he triumphed over an eight-horse field of $10,000 claimers to set the mark.

King Forbes, whose racing before this year was confined to state fairs, has now earned close to $10,000 over the past four months.

Heavyweight victory lifts wrestlers to win

Jack Lancaster won't soon be forgetting his first match of the 1978-'79 wrestling season.

Northville's 220-pound senior heavyweight pinned Jackson Northwest's Mark Hemminger — an opponent 100 pounds heavier than him — one minute into the final match of a quad meet at Dexter last Saturday afternoon, and the timing couldn't have been better.

His victory gave the Mustangs a come-from-behind 37-36 victory over the Jackson school and a 2-1 team record in their three-meet season opener.

Going into the heavyweight match, Northville had won just five of the 12 bouts against Northwest and was behind, 36-31, following a pair of losses on pins at 178 and 191 pounds. Lancaster, however, caught Hemminger in a Chinese Wizzard and flipped the 320-pound strongman on his back for the six-pointer.

"That was his only match of the day," Coach Gary Emerson observed, noting that Lancaster had won on forfeits when Northville grappled with the meet's other two schools — Dexter and Willow Run — earlier in the day. "All the pressure was on him, and he responded real well. That was a nice climax to the meet."

According to Emerson, though, the "most exciting" match of the Northwest contest occurred at 145 pounds, where an outsized Vilas Allen pulled just about every trick in the book in defeating his opponent, 16-6.

"Vilas did a log of really good things," Emerson noted. "He turned his man inside out. That was probably the most exciting match of the day for us."

Ironically, Allen almost lost the match when he accidentally pinned himself while holding a big lead at the close to the second period, but the whistle signalling the end of the period had blown just a split second before that and Allen stayed ahead the rest of the way.

Other Northville winners in the Jackson Northwest meet included 165-pounder Scott Morgan, who pinned his opponent at 1:27 of the first period, Mike Lurvey (pin at 1:30 of the 132-pound match), Steve Platte (pin at 4:46 of the 112-pound match) and Bill Blanchard (won 105-pound match on forfeit). Paul Raczkowski, the Mustangs' 119-pounder, tied his opponent 4-4.

Earlier in the day the local squad had defeated the host school (Dexter), 54-18, but lost to Willow Run, 50-15.

Northville won all but three of the 13 weight divisions against Dexter, and two of the teams losses (at 98 and 155 pounds) were forfeits caused by not having wrestlers in those classes.

Lurvey (132 pounds), Allen (145), Rick Borthwick (126), and Steve and Scott Morgan (138 and 165 pounds, respectively) all won their bouts on pins, while Blanchard (105) and Raczkowski (119) won on decisions.

Conference basketball preview

Chiefs a strong favorite to win

There doesn't seem to be much doubt about who the team to beat is in this year's upcoming Western Six Conference basketball race.

The real question well may be: who, if anyone, is going to challenge them?

According to the league's coaches Plymouth Canton, with five returning lettermen back from a squad that went 7-3 and finished second to Waterford last winter, appears to be the odds-on favorite for the 1979 crown. And, on the basis of the Chiefs' season-opening 104-66 victory over Livonia Franklin last Friday night, that doesn't seem a bad choice at all.

But is there a challenger?

Only time will tell. Considering the new look in coaching staffs this fall, though, anything could happen.

No less than four of the six conference mentors are in their first or second years at the helm of their respective schools.

One of them is Canton's Craig Bell, who's taking over the reins of Casey Cavell after seven years as an assistant coach at rival Plymouth Salem.

While Bell acknowledges he isn't thoroughly familiar with the rest of the Western Six, he agrees his club probably rates as the pre-season favorite.

"I think we have nine very solid players," the first-year coach says.

Two of them are returning guards Butch King, a 6-1 senior, and Rusty Mandle, a 6-2 senior. Both were starters last year — King was a first-team All-Western Six choice while Mandle was a second teamer — giving the Chiefs the top backcourt punch in the league.

But their front line isn't anything to sneeze at, either. Returning forward Mike Leary, a 6-4 senior, will join junior forward Dave Visser and 6-5 senior center Mike Collnick as probable starters this season.

Backing them up are seniors Frank LaSorda (6-5) and Jay McKinley (6-20), both returning lettermen, and juniors Brad Weston (6-3) and Scott Adler (5-11).

"Our strength lies in our inside game," Bell feels, "although I think we have strong outside shooters in Mandle and Visser. All in all we have a very versatile basketball team."

The rest of the league seems somewhat plagued by a lack of experience — and, in most cases, by a lack of height.

Farmington Harrison is a notable exception in the former case. The Hawks, considered darkhorse contenders for the title, have four returning starters from a club that went 3-7 in the league and 8-13 overall last year.

They include senior forwards Dave Turnquist (6-3), Scott Hendries (6-2) and John Tremonti (6-0) and junior guard Biran Burgess (6-2). Also back are lettermen Don Behringer (5-10), who'll probably start at the other guard slot, and Mark Diekmann and Tom Cundy.

"We're a little small on rebounding size. We're not very husky," second-year coach Mike Teachman acknowledges, "but we're sky-high about the coming season. We have quickness and experience on our side."

Another second-year coach, Fred Price of Livonia Churchill, figures his club should be improved over last season's fourth-place finishers (4-6 in the league, 13-9 overall) but, like Harrison, lacks size.

Ralph Jarnot, a 6-4 senior who sat out the last six weeks of last year with an illness, will get the starting nod at center. The team's other returning starter is 5-10 senior guard Dave Krick.

Mike Talovich, a 6-1 senior who saw plenty of action last season, will be at the other guard slot while 6-1 senior Carl Eberly and 6-2 sophomore Chris Harvath have the inside tracks at forward. Matt Maleske is another strong candidate at forward.

"We're not real tall," Price acknowledges, "but we do jump well. I think our overall team depth will be one of our strong points."

The team with the biggest gaps to fill will be Waterford Mott. While the Corsairs had their finest Western Six showing ever last year, winning the crown with an 8-2 mark and going 15-6 overall, their hopes this season rest with several untested players.

Eleventh-year mentor Ray Robinson, the senior member of the league's coaches, lost each of his top seven regulars to graduation and will be starting from scratch.

"I'd say it's going to be a struggle for us early in the season," he says, adding that Mott enjoys a running game, "but after Christmas we should be a respectable bunch."

Among his returning lettermen are seniors Mike Miller (6-1 forward) and Joe Gwinn (5-7 guard) and juniors Dave Miller (6-4 center) and Brian Harris (5-10 guard). Two other strong hopefuls — 6-1 forwards John Zittel and Tom Schaefer, a transfer from Arizona — are currently out with injuries.

Northville is in much the same bind as Mott. While the Mustangs also like a running game, they'll be developing it with a relatively inexperienced team under rookie mentor Tim Lutes, a former head coach at Alpena who took over at Northville for Walt Koepke.

Only 6-3 forward Joe Schimpf and 6-1 forward Jeff Norton return from last season's third-place club (5-5 in the league, 10-11 overall). Filling in at the other spots are sophomore center Dave Ward (6-5), senior guards Myles Couyoumjian (5-9) and Greg Suckow (5-11), and guard-forwards Bob Crisan (6-0) and Chris Campbell (6-0).

Walled Lake Western, meanwhile, will be resting its hopes on a group of players who didn't see much playing time last season. The Warriors, 3-7 in the league and 10-10 overall last year, return five lettermen.

Coach Ted Felegy feels his club is capable of a winning season, but much will depend on the rebounding strength of 6-4 center Greg Skonieczny, a senior who saw occasional starting duty last year.

Cagers fall in opener

quarter alone, while Chris Campbell pitched in eight points and Greg Suckow seven. Dave Ward nabbed seven rebounds.

"All in all I think we played a respectable game, considering it was our first one," Lutes said.

"We made a lot of mistakes because of inexperience, and I knew we would," he acknowledged. "In pressure situations we don't have what it takes yet."

"But I was really pleased with the way we kept coming back after getting down. We never gave up."

"I think the difference in the game was Lakeland's press and our inability to break it cleanly, and their outside shooting. But that comes with experience."

The Mustangs begin their Western Six slate this Friday when they travel to Walled Lake for a game against Western. Next Tuesday they'll host Farmington in a non-league clash.

Girls lose in districts

A poor offensive showing in the second half proved Northville's undoing as the Mustangs lost their Class A girls' basketball district opener at Farmington High last Wednesday night, 31-20.

The local squad managed only five points in the entire second half — two in the third quarter and three in the fourth — in dropping its 18th game in 19 decisions this fall.

The Mustangs stayed close throughout the first half, trailing 8-4 after one quarter and 19-15 at the half.

Both clubs combined for only six points in the third stanza, though, with Harrison getting four of them.

Sue Townsend topped the Mustangs with nine points in the contest while Karen Goxem added eight. Kathy Corbett led the winners with nine.

The victory gave Harrison a berth in Thursday's district finals, where the Hawks fell 60-38 to Farmington Our Lady of Mercy.

Jayvees romp

Northville' junior varsity boys' basketball squad opened its season on a happy note last Tuesday, downing Milford Lakeland by a 78-50 count.

The Mustangs were in command all the way, jumping out to leads of 18-10 and 38-26 in the first two quarters and then putting the Eagles away with a 24-8 blitz in the third stanza.

Dave Greer led the winners with 25 points, netting nine of 21 floor shots and adding seven free throws. Greg May added 13 points and Duke DuSablón 11.

DuSablón also had 10 rebounds to lead in that department while Gary Kucher contributed to the winning effort with a strong all-around floor game.

Cagers to play at Silverdome

Schoolcraft's hopes in the national junior college soccer championships in Florida over the Thanksgiving weekend came to an end after just two rounds.

The Ocelots, who'd upset two top 20 teams on the way to winning their Inter-regional crown and thus qualifying for the national finals, lost 4-0 to Essex Community College of Baltimore in the first round and 8-0 to Miami-Dade South in the second round of the eight-team, double elimination tournament.

About the only bright spot for the local collegiate squad was the selection of Steve Paul to the All-Tournament team. Paul, a Northville resident, is a sophomore forward for Schoolcraft. Winner of the tourney was Ulster Community College of New York, which successfully defended its 1977 junior college national championship. Essex finished third.

Schoolcraft College will take a 5-1 record into a special basketball game against Oakland Community College at the Pontiac Silverdome tomorrow (Thursday) night.

The game, which starts at 6 p.m., will precede an NBA contest between the Detroit Pistons and Cleveland Cavaliers. Tickets are $7 each and can be purchased at the gate. Students can get them for $5 each at Schoolcraft's administration office.

Heading up an impressive list of area players are Cedrick Olden of Schoolcraft, a former All-Stater at Highland Park High, and Walker D. Russell of Oakland, considered by many as Michigan's top prep cager in 1978. Russell, who graduated from Pontiac Central, is the younger brother of former University of Michigan great Campy Russell, who now stars for the Cavaliers.

Schoolcraft's only loss in its first five starts this season was a controversial 72-71 decision against Cuyahoga Community of Ohio the weekend before last.

Playing a tournament hosted by Cuyahoga, the Ocelots swept past Columbia State (Tennessee) in the opening round before falling to Cuyahoga. The local squad shot only 36 percent from the floor, but was hurt most by the fact that it received just one free throw in the entire game while Cuyahoga had 23.

Last Wednesday the Ocelots bounced back by downing Alpena Community College, 80-74, and three days later edged Highland Park Community College, 82-81.

Olden had 16 points in each game, pacing Schoolcraft's come-from-behind effort against Alpena and sharing scoring honors with two other teammates in the victory over Highland Park.

Joe Stafford and Tony Monk also had 16 points in Saturday's contest, which was decided on a three-point play by Hoy Monk with 49 seconds left. With a minute remaining and Schoolcraft behind, 81-79, Stafford stole the ball from a Highland Park player and fed it to Monk, who tied the game on a lay-up and then won it with a free throw after getting fouled on the play.

Athlete of the week

It wasn't all that apparent that Bob Crisan was playing his first varsity basketball game for Northville last Tuesday night. The 6-0 junior forward came off the bench and looked the part of a regular. Crisan scored 11 points and had 12 rebounds altogether, helping to keep the Mustangs within striking distance of the lead throughout most of the second half in their season opener against Milford Lakeland.

Racquetball courts action delayed

The possibility of racquetball courts at Brooklane Golf Club is still pending after the Northville Township Planning Commission tabled discussion on the proposal until their January meeting.

The item was tabled because Ross Northrop, president of Brooklane Golf Club, was unable to attend last Tuesday's meeting. Northrop had previously asked commissioners for guidance in steps required for approval to build a 90 by 110 foot clubhouse addition for eight racquetball courts.

Commissioners considered Township Attorney Donald Morgan's written opinion that the proposed racquetball court facility would require either rezoning or an amendment to the zoning ordinance.

Planning Consultant George Vilcan suggested that if commissioners intended to allow the racquetball courts, amending the ordinance would be the best route because an amendment would give the planners more control over the facility than rezoning would do.

In Vilcan's written review on the merits of permitting racquetball courts as part of a golf course development, he pointed out that the ancillary facility might draw more persons than the golf course unless restrictions required that the ancillary use remain subordinate.

Commissioner Marvin Gans said he didn't know if the commission should permit the courts in any case because they would have no way of assuring that the ancillary use would remain subordinate.

Vilcan said it was likely that the courts could become the most profitable use of the golf course.

Commissioner Bernard Baldwin said from a land use standpoint, a golf course enhances a residential neighborhood. He pointed out that the bar at Brooklane Golf Club had remained quite ancillary to the golf course, but that racquetball courts would be "literally commercial."

Commissioner Kenneth Sewell said if racquetball courts were allowed, the bar would remain open more.

Vilcan pointed out that one ancillary use breeds other ancillary uses, such as boutique shops.

Commissioner William Zapke said Northrop obviously needed a year-round use for the club to continue operation of the golf course. Zapke said the course could be developed residentially, and that concerned him because

Geake tapped for GOP post

State Senator Bob Geake will serve as the assistant minority floor leader during the upcoming legislative session which opens January 10th.

The Northville Republican was recently named to the leadership post by his Republican colleagues in the senate.

Senator Geake will be entering his third year in the State Senate next January, having won reelection to the upper chamber in November by more than 64 percent of the votes cast in the 14th District. He previously served in the state house.

As assistant minority floor leader, Senator Geake will be responsible for working with the floor leader to lead debate during senate sessions and to organize support for key legislative issues. The position requires extensive knowledge of the rules of parliamentary procedure.

In his new leadership position, Geake also will be called upon to work closely with the governor on the development of legislative programs and policies of statewide concern.

Senator Geake has been serving as the assistant

Schoolcraft sets early registration

Mail registration for the winter semester at Schoolcraft College has ended, but there are two other opportunities for advance registrations before the holidays.

A four-day advance walk-in registration will be held on campus beginning December 11. The hours each day are reserved for student numbers according to this schedule:

From 2-3 p.m. December 11, winter graduates; from 3 to 7, student numbers 010000 to 059999. From 2 to 7 December 12, student numbers 06000 to 069999; December 13, student numbers 070000 to 077999, and December 14, student numbers 078000 to 099999.

Winter schedules have been mailed to all addresses within the college district. Although scheduled for delivery the week of November 13, they were delayed, in some instances nearly two weeks, by circumstances beyond the College's control.

Registrar Russ Bogarin said his office continued to accept mail-in registrations beyond the announced cut-off date to accommodate as many as possible of those whose schedules were delivered late.

He also urges those who missed mail-in to take advantage of the advance registration periods at Garden City and on campus.

Regular registration is set for January 3-4 on campus and classes begin on January 6.

Continuing education and community services classes to be offered in the winter at Schoolcraft will be published in a separate schedule to be delivered to district homes the first week of the New Year.

For general information, telephone 591-6400 ext. 340. Persons wishing to inquire about continuing education/community services should call extension 404.

Skeleton swiped from high school

There was only a skeleton crew at the high school over the Thanksgiving holidays. So that's what the thieves stole — a skeleton.

They also swiped enough food for a feast of a party and a black-and-white television set for entertainment.

The bony frame was lifted from Science Teacher John Edwards' room by thieves who apparently knew a bargain when they saw one.

School authorities said the skeleton is worth between $400 and $500.

Michael Janchick, administrative assistant for operations, said the thief broke in over the long holiday weekend and may have used a key to do it.

"That's why rekeying the exterior doors has a high priority," he said. "There are as many keys out as kids in the high school!"

Teachers, he said, pressure administrators for keys so they can return to the school after hours to complete work. Custodians sometimes quit without turning in keys, he added.

The more keys that are loose, the more likely that one will fall into the wrong hands, said Janchick.

"All it takes is one outside master key and they can go anywhere they want," he said.

Ironically, and perhaps a bit embarrassing to school officials, a new alarm system was installed at the school this year.

It didn't stop this theft for one simple reason. It wasn't turned on.

Janchick said the school is waiting for the company to set up the proper zone system so that employees can work at night without triggering the motion detection system.

It should be operating this week, he added.

In addition to taking the skeleton, the crooks also sauntered down to the kitchen where they unscrewed the door latch to a freezer and walked off with $135 worth of food.

They took hams, hamburger, cheese, lunch meat and buns. They took the television set from the electronics lab.

Geake tapped

senate minority leader since September, but chose to seek reelection to that position during the new legislative session.

"I have found the assistant leader's position to be a stimulating one," Senator Geake noted. "I believe, however, that the position of assistant floor leader will provide broader experience and an even greater opportunity to serve as a spokesman on a number of major issues I view as crucial."

He said he will be utilizing his role as assistant floor leader specifically to press for solutions to the problems of public transportation, unemployment, and inadequate funding of mental health and education programs.

"I am enthusiastically looking forward to assuming my new duties as assistant floor leader," Geake stated.

Geake, a consulting psychologist and former administrator at the Plymouth Center for Human Development, has earned the reputation as the Senate's leading authority on mental health related programs. He currently serves as a member of the senate committees on health, social services and retirement, education, energy, and senate business.

Title parade leads All-Star selections

Brighton girls post biggest season mark

It was another autumn of business as usual for many of the high school girls' basketball teams in the Sliger Home Newspapers' coverage area. That business was winning games — lots of them.

Four teams captured, or clinched a portion of, their respective league championships. Another two squads earned runner-up berths.

Leading the title parade was Brighton, which completed the regular season with a 20-0 record and the first Southeastern Conference championship in the team's history. The Bulldog girls had a brilliant season; their narrowest margin of victory was 13 points.

The Sliger sportswriters were so impressed with Brighton's season that they decided to break with tradition and name the unbeaten Bulldogs "Team of the Year." It was an honor richly deserved.

Hartland's basketball team moved into a new league — the Five County Five Conference — this season, but it mattered little to the Eagle cagers. The girls compiled a 19-2 record enroute to their second consecutive league title.

The team's only losses were to Brighton and Fenton, both of which were unbeaten.

Another big winner was Walled Lake Central, which rolled to its second-straight Inter-Lakes Conference crown. The Viking girls compiled a 13-5 season mark, though they lost only once in league play.

Gaining a share of the Ingham County League championship was Pinckney. The Pirates started the season with two losses, but then fought their way to a 17-3 final record. The girls lost only once in the league, and that performance earned them a share of the title with Bath.

The Pirates won the ICL crown a year ago.

South Lyon and Whitmore Lake each gained second spot in their respective conferences. The Lions finished the regular season with a 15-4 mark. The Trojan girls compiled a 10-2 league record.

This tremendous team has made it an exciting season of coverage for the four Sliger papers. Unfortunately for the sports editors, however, this success made it very difficult to choose the top individuals for the annual All-Area girls' basketball team.

There were so many fine players that the editors decided to break another precedent and create a third all-star team. This, of course, was in addition to the regular first, second and honorable mentions squads.

The five girls elected to the first team were named, not only for their ability to score points, but also for their excellent all-around play.

Top scorers on the team were Walled Lake Central senior Patti Limb and Brighton sophomore Peg Harte, both of whom scored an average of more than 20 points a game.

Three other seniors — Pinckney's Julie Angelcor, Hartland's Sue Huff and South Lyon's Nada Obrenovich — round out the top five. Each girl topped her team in scoring and was the catalyst that produced numerous victories.

The second team was no less impressive. The squad is comprised of Brighton's Lori Skinner and Pat Halloran, Walled Lake Western's Connie Murphy, Whitmore Lake's Barb Striz and Novi's Annie Robinson. It is only too bad there are not 10 spots on the first team.

Here is a look at the Sliger All-Area team for 1978:

This season, winter campers in Michigan can select from 109 private and 56 state parks.

State park campgrounds offer only at-site electricity and water from central wells. Only a limited number of campsites and park roads are kept plowed.

"Most of the new business at private campgrounds last winter was cross-country skiers and snowmobilers," Ratke said. "This fall, many private park owners are making an effort to coax

THE TAUBMAN COMPANY recently appointed three staff members to key management positions at the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

PATRICIA
McLAUGHLIN

Taubman Company President Robert C. Larson announced the appointment of Patricia A. McLaughlin to the post of center manager, David M. Elliot as assistant center manager, and Michael J. Kuzila as center security director.

Ms. McLaughlin will be responsible for administrative and operational activities at Twelve Oaks Mall. Previously, she served as assistant manager at Lakeforest, a Taubman Company regional retail development in Maryland.

Ms. McLaughlin has been associated with the firm for five years. A graduate of Lawrence Institute of Technology with a BA in business administration, she is a Farmington resident.

An assistant manager, Elliot's primary responsibilities will include building systems and maintenance. During his two-year tenure with The Taubman Company, he served as assistant manager at Briarwood, the firm's regional retail development in Ann Arbor.

Elliot holds a BA in business administration from the University of Michigan. He plans to relocate shortly in the Twelve Oaks area.

In the capacity of security director, Kuzila will supervise the operation of center safety and security systems. For the last year, he served as assistant security director at Fairlane Town Center, a Taubman Company regional retail development in Dearborn.

Kuzila graduated from Mercy College with a BA in criminal justice. He is a resident of Northville.

The Taubman Company, the nation's leading developer of regional retail centers, assumed the duties of managing partner at Twelve Oaks Mall on October 1, 1978. In addition to on-site management, the firm is responsible for center leasing and disposition of residual commercial properties.

The 1.3 million square foot center features four major department stores: Hudson's, Lord and Taylor, JCPenney, and Sears. It will ultimately contain an additional 165 specialty merchants.

Owner of Twelve Oaks Mall is Novi Associates, a Michigan co-partnership consisting of principals of The Taubman Company, Inc., Homart Development Company (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck, and Company), and Shopping Centers, Inc., (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dayton Hudson Corporation).

BELANGER, INC., located in Northville near the intersection of Main and Cady streets, has expanded its manufacturing capabilities by acquiring an additional 8,000 square feet of manufacturing and engineering space for the firm's Car Wash Division.

The new facility is located at 807 Silver Spring Court, a few minutes away from the main offices and plant in Northville.

This marks the second expansion in the past 14 months. In 1977, 4,500 square feet was built adjacent to the main plant.

In addition to car wash equipment, Belanger, Inc. also manufactures buffing and polishing wheels used extensively in the automotive industry.

PONTIAC STATE BANK'S Board of Directors has increased the quarterly dividend 2.5 cents per share to 32.5 cents per share to stockholders of record December 22, 1978.

This 8.3 percent increase will be paid January 22, 1979.

This new annual cash dividend rate moves from $1.20 to $1.30 per share.

Since 1975 the payout ratio or cash dividend as a percentage of net income has been in the 30 percent to 34 percent range each year. In the four years ending in 1979, per share cash dividends have increased 30 percent.

HOME BUYERS moving into the Detroit area are continuing to find housing costs below those in most other areas of the nation, according to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors.

Supporting the statement is a recent study by the United States League of Savings Associations based on 8,500 conventional mortgage loans made in 1977 at 200 cooperative member associations.

The study report compared housing costs, including mortgage payments, taxes, utilities and insurance, in 27 cities. These ranged in size from New York, the nation's largest city, to Marysville, Kansas, with a county-wide population of 13,000.

The national median for monthly housing costs — with half paying more and half less — was $400. Of this, $273 went for mortgage payments, $54 for taxes, $60 for utilities, and $13 for insurance.

The median monthly cost for the Detroit area was $389. The biggest difference was in mortgage payments which, at $235, was $38 below the national median. Another $2 saving was shown in the $11 insurance costs, but these gains were partially offset by higher medians for taxes, $73, and utilities, $70.

Thus, Detroit's ranking in the 27 areas, was fourth lowest in mortgage payments; twenty-first in taxes; sixteenth, with six other cities for utility costs; eighth for insurance, and twelfth in total costs.

However, the WWOBR points out that, in areas with populations of more than one million, only three cities — St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Columbus, Ohio, had lower median monthly costs. In terms of mortgage payments in the larger cities, only St. Louis ranked lower at $226.

Our Earth

Our earth with all its beauty, the mountain, lakes and streams,
And yet man must destroy it with all his foolish schemes.
This planet God has made for man with tender loving care,
And yet man must destroy it, he just doesn't want to share.
Who owns the rivers and the lakes, who owns the clear blue sky?
And yet man must destroy it, but no one knows just why.
The deer, the bear, the chipmunk, and all the birds that sing,
And yet man must destroy them — they haven't done a thing.
The flowers in the spring time, the colors in the fall,
And yet man must destroy it, how could he have the gall.
The farms we all need so bad, somehow it seems a pity,
And yet man must destroy it and change it to a city.
The oceans with the beaches of gravel, rock and sand,
And yet man must destroy it with bottles and tin cans.
Who doesn't love a sunset in the evening when it's calm,
And yet man must destroy it with his mighty atom bomb.
The things that we all have today — so much more than we need,
And yet man must destroy it with nothing more than greed.
This gift of life that we all share with happiness
our goal,
And yet man must destroy it, I'm sure that's not man's role.
Just see this lovely planet we all cherish with our hearts,
And yet man must destroy it, and blow it all apart.
So if the sky grows dark and the earth begins to groan.
We're getting what we ask for, we've reaped just what we've sown.

The Season's Greetings

Christmas cards, both large and small
In hues of bright display
Still come in numbers that enthrall
With the same old words that say

"Merry Christmas! Happy New Year!"
The message is the same,
With a "Yo-Ho-Ho to One and All"
Old Santa does proclaim.

It's not so much the message
Imprinted on the page;
It's the Spirit that's behind it
That we love from age to age!

So you might be perverse
Or carry a purse
Or you might be adverse

Little Headlee impact seen

By WARREN M. HOYT

State finances most likely will not suffer any immediate impact from the newly adopted Headlee tax limitation amendment though the amendment does mandate changes in bonding legislation, school aid formulas, millage rollbacks, revenue sharing, tax refunds and local taxing power.

Governor William G. Milliken told an implementation commission to review the implications of the amendment and then move quickly to make recommendations for legislative action.

The amendment takes effect December 22.

The commission, appointed by the governor prior to the November general election, is charged with making legislative recommendations to implement the intent of the approved constitutional amendment.

The Department of Management and Budget told members of the commission that only a recession in 1979 could affect the state's revenue collection for the 1979-80 and 1980-81 fiscal years.

If there is no recession, the state's revenue should fall about $150 million short of the limit in 1979-80 and $100 million short of the limit.

The amendment leaves open a number of questions on various financial areas. Bonding is one of the most serious, according to the Management and Budget report. It requires bond issues, providing the full faith and credit, be approved by the voters.

Legislation is also needed to meet the problem of mandated costs. The amendment prohibits the Legislature mandating new programs without paying for them.

Needed is legislation to define minimum standards for mandated programs, local government costs and payment systems.

The amendment further requires millage rollbacks and could hurt both local revenue sharing funds and local school aid.

Aid is here for the weary consumer over the purchase of a used car.

The Michigan Consumer Council has published a brochure to help people by providing basic information and knowledge to help consumers find a reliable car at a reasonable price.

Linda Joy, executive director of the Consumers Council, said new car dealers offer late-model cars, good service facilities and an established reputation, but the prices may be higher than other places. Independent used car lots offer competitive prices, but their cars may be older, their guarantees may be minimal and their service facilities may be lacking.

A tip on dealers was provided also. Consumers can check the reputation of any dealer in the state by writing the Dealer Licensing Division of the Secretary of State's Office at 208 N. Capitol, Lansing, MI 48918.

For a free copy of "How To Buy A Used Car" write the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan, Lansing, MI 48933.

Legal claims brought before Michigan's small claims court can be for as much as $600 under legislation approved by the House of Representatives.

Besides increasing the amount of jurisdiction of the court, the new act sets penalties for litigants who don't pay claims, limits the number of claims a business can file any week and improves the notice requirement to defendants.

The legislation is designed to clear up a number of problems in the small claims court system. The biggest is the established limit of $300 a claim.

The wholesale price index has nearly doubled since the $300 limit was set.

Here's our second team picks

Brighton's "big person" this season was LORI SKINNER, a 5-9 senior who consistently outjumped her taller opponents under the boards and at the center jump. She exhibited excellent defensive skills, snatching an average of 13 rebounds a game. In addition, she also grabbed an average of six steals.

But Skinner could also score points. The hustling senior sank an average of 10 points per game. Her high-point game was 18 points.

"Lori was consistent for us under the boards," Coach Carroll Cook said. "She's a great vertical leaper who works inside very well."

Another strong offensive and defensive player for Brighton's champions this season was PAT HALLORAN, a 5-9 senior forward playing in her second full varsity season.

Possessing a good outside shot, Halloran scored an average of eight points per game. Her high-point game this year was 15 points.

Her forte, however, was defense. On the average, she grabbed 11 rebounds and four steals a game.

When ANNIE ROBINSON was on, there was no stopping Novi's hot-shooting center. After a relatively weak start, the 6-4 senior came on strong at the end of the season and finished an outstanding four-year career with the Ladycats by leading her team in scoring (10 points per game), rebounding (seven per game), blocked shots (21) and free throw shooting percentage (77.5 percent).

One example of her potential came in a game against Ypsilanti Lincoln last month, when she came off the bench after an injury and hit nine of 10 shots from the floor, four of four from the free throw line, and ended up with a total of 22 points and eight rebounds — all in the second half.

Named to a second team berth from Walled Lake Western was senior co-captain CONNIE MURPHY. The 5-7 guard-forward was the Warriors' leading scorer, shot blocker and rebounder this season. Murphy averaged 14 points and 7.5 rebounds a game for the rebuilding Western Club in addition to her 6.5 steals.

Labeled as a strong candidate for a first team all-Western Six choice, she shot 41 percent from the field and 53 percent from the charity stripe this fall.

BARB STRIZ, a 5-7 junior forward, sparked Whitmore Lake to a 14-7 season record and 9-2 mark in the Tri-County Conference with her all-round play.

In addition to averaging 12.5 points per game, Striz set a school record with 109 steals. In four different games, she made nine steals. Striz also accumulated 68 assists and had 151 rebounds this season.

Whitmore Lake Coach Bev Tiernan called Striz an excellent team player, who "will always give you a steady game. Her best asset is that she really has quick hands."

Brighton cagers win Team of Year' award

There have been some impressive girls' basketball teams in the Sliger Newspapers' coverage area in the last few years, but there has never been a team that has enjoyed the success the Brighton High School squad has this season.

Coached by Carroll Cook, the Bulldogs steamrolled over 20 opponents during the regular season enroute to winning their first-ever Southeastern Conference championship. The girls' narrowest margin of victory was 12 points against league rival South Lyon.

Sliger sportswriters were so impressed with Brighton's team performance, they decided to break with tradition and named the squad "Team of the Year."

The honor is a truly fitting one because Cook is one coach who stressed

"team concept" throughout the entire season. Each girl on the team made an important contribution to the overall success.

Defense and conditioning were important keys to that success. Brighton's zone press was almost impregnable. The girls were in such excellent physical condition that no opposing starting five could run with them for a full game.

Making up the starting lineup are sophomore Peg Harte and seniors Sally Conklin, Lori Skinner, Carol Ann Homad and Pat Halloran. Senior Cheryl Bell was a top sixth person.

Rounding out the Brighton team roster are Lisa Gomez, Terri Truhn, Anne Warren, Miriam Dumbauld, Ginny Patrick and Minnie Conklin.

Here's our picks for first team per game average while blistering the nets at a 52 per cent clip. She was no slouch at the free throw line either, canning 90 of 133 attempts for a 68 per cent mark.

In addition to her shooting abilities, the 5-7 senior is the greatest hustler on a team known for its hustling ability. Her 6.5 steals and 7.7 rebounds per game averages helped the Vikings to an Inter-Lakes conference title this season and a 13-5 overall record.

A four-year varsity player, Limb has amassed over 1000 points, 300 steals, 185 assists, and 475 rebounds in her career at Central.

For the second-straight season, Hartland's girls basketball team enjoyed tremendous success. A big reason for this season's 19-2 record was the excellent play of SUE HUFF.

A 5-10 senior forward, Huff was her team's leader in everything, said Eagle Coach Bob Troesch. She always showed tremendous effort, offering leadership through her example.

Shooting 55 percent from the floor and 59 percent from the foul line, Huff scored 290 points — a 13.8 points-per-game average — during the course of the season. Her high game this year was 24 points versus New Lothrop.

She was also a skilled defensive player. In 21 games, she grabbed 232 rebounds — an average of 11 per game.

As the only returning starter from the 1977 Ingham County League championship team, Pinckney's JULIE ANGELCOR was expected to provide leadership and points for an inexperienced squad this season.

The 5-7 senior forward did all that was asked of her, and more. Rallying around their senior captain, the young Pirate cagers played exciting basketball all season and captured a share of the ICL championship. The girls' only league loss came against the Bath Bees, with whom they split the title.

In 18 games, Angelcor scored 329 points — an average of 18.2 points per game. She shot 48 percent from the floor and 65 percent from the charity stripe. In eight games she scored 20 or more points, including a 28 point effort against Williamston.

Coach Nancy Dustin said Angelcor also grabbed 77 rebounds and 90 steals, while making 31 assists.

According to more than one opposing coach, powerful Brighton would not have been quite the formidable foe it was if it hadn't been for the arrival of PEG HARTE.

A transfer student from Livonia Ladywood, the sensational 5-7 sophomore added a tremendous offensive punch to the Bulldog lineup. With a nose for the basket, Harte tallied an average of 21 points a game to lead her team in scoring. Her high game this season was 31 points.

"Peg has a great desire to win and it shows in her tremendous hustle," said Brighton Coach Carroll Cook. "She is quick, handles the basketball well and possesses an excellent shot."

In addition to her fine offensive skills, Harte is honing her defensive talents. On the average, she grabbed seven rebounds and six steals in each game she played in this season.

NADA OBRENOVICH, South Lyon High's 5-8 senior guard, sparked the Lions to a 16-4 record this fall with her all-round play.

An all-Southeastern Conference performer as a sophomore and junior, Obrenovich pumped in 14 points a game, hitting 46 percent from the field and 63 percent from the foul line.

She also averaged five assists and five steals per contest.

A four-year starter, Obrenovich was South Lyon's team leader. She had four games in which she scored 20 or more points this season.

Mothers' Club parties raise almost $2,000 for high school greenhouse

About 750 Northville residents gathered at nine Christmas cocktail parties held in homes throughout the community last Saturday at the annual benefit which has become a tradition that opens the holiday season.

Chairman Carol Richardson announced Monday that almost $2,000 had been raised at the eight parties held by Northville Mothers' Club as a benefit for Northville Public Schools. Proceeds will be earmarked for a greenhouse at the high school and for equipment for the junior highs, Luanne McCurdy, vice-president in charge of goals stated.

Ninth party for life members of the club found about 100 gathering at the West Main Street home of the William Davises. Proceeds will go toward the college scholarship established last year by the group.

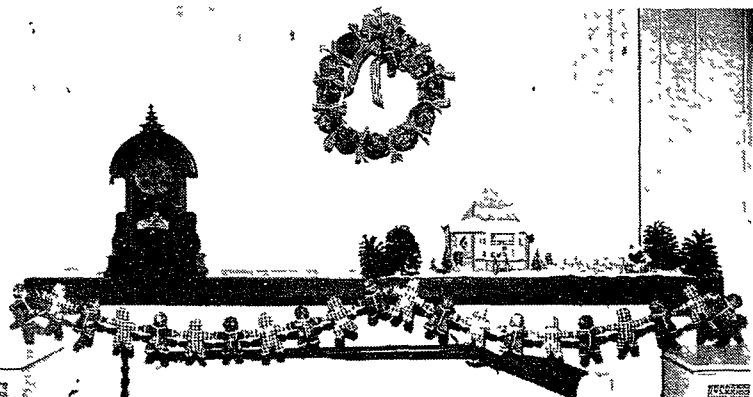

Party-goers were greeted at each home by walks and driveways illuminated by luminaria. The "little fires of Christmas," a popular custom in the Southwest, were brought here by Nathan and Mary Whiteside. Kits previously were sold as fund-raisers for the Northville High Marching Band. The project this year was discontinued by the band but has been taken over by Northville Rotary with proceeds to go to civic charities. Kits of candles, bags and sand are available at IV Seasons at four for $1, or from the Whitesides.

Christmas decorations were in place early at the host homes — the Ray J. Casterlines, Jr., Kenneth Rosselots, Per Iversens, David Longridges, Martin Rineharts, Donald Willoughbys, Whitesides and Keith Wrights (she's club president.) Guests sampled identical hors d'oeuvres at each party. See recipes on Page 3-D.

Jane Kaestner's serenaded at 'Sweet Sixteen'

By JEAN DAY

Last year Jane Kaestner, middle daughter of the Kenneth Kaestners, said she felt her 15th birthday was skipped over rather lightly. This year her father made sure that her 16th birthday on November 25 was memorable.

"I promised her last year that next time I'd hire a band," recalls Ken Kaestner, and so on her Sweet Sixteen birthday eight band members from Churchill High School, where Kaestner teaches, arrived at their home at 941 Novi to play "Happy Birthday" to Jane and also the Michigan fight song. After the bandmen had come in for donuts, the Kaestners with other daughters, Susan and Julie, and Jane's grandmother, Mrs. Lloyd Nelson, finished the birthday celebration at Mountain Jack's Restaurant.

Town Hall Committee invites husbands

Once a year husbands are guests at a meeting of the Northville Town Hall Committee, an annual holiday party and the only "strictly-for-fun" gathering of the well-organized group that runs Northville's successful Town Hall. The potluck party was held last Friday in the clubhouse of the Lexington Condominiums on West Eight Mile. More than 50 were expected by Sandy Chouinard and Virginia Kaiser, party organizers.

Besides being a willing worker for town hall since moving to Northville in 1973, Mrs. Kaiser, who lives in the Lexington Condos on Bristol Court, is an enthusiastic traveler. She recently returned from a visit to her family's farm, occupied on a land grant since the 1700s, near Lexington, Kentucky. In October she visited Japan.

Earlier, in April, she visited Russia in a group that represented people from all over the United States. She terms this trip "educational" and adds that it "was not like going to Aruba." She and her traveling companion, a fellow library major at University of Michigan, felt "very restricted." She recalls that Russian citizens were not allowed in their hotel and that they were given a card when they registered that they were required to show the doorman as they entered and left. A Troika wall hanging now is among her souvenirs from that trip.

Jills' creator is on hand

When the renowned bell-ringing Jills of Bloomfield entertained at the Christmas meeting of Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church Monday night, the man who originated the nine-member group was on hand to hear them perform. Clarence Luchtman, a Northville resident down the street from the church at 551 Orchard, retired as director of the Jills six years ago. He recalls that a former "Jill" took over as director but currently is on a sabbatical working on her doctorate. Bruce Snyder is directing the group.

It is an honor to become one of the bell ringers with girls trying out for membership in the Bloomfield Hills High School group. The Jills always have made many appearances, delighting audiences with their music. "We used to do about 100 performances a year," Luchtman remembers, "including trips to Europe." It's been rewarding, he adds, to hear from former students who have gone on to direct other bell choirs and to major in music.

Shari Zeleznik, Our Lady's League president, presided at the meeting which also included a cookie exchange.

Mothers' Club makes money for schools

In addition to the eight benefit cocktail parties held throughout the community last Saturday night to raise money for school needs while opening the holiday season, Northville Mothers' Club members have been busy with other projects. A fall rummage sale raised about $270. A library workshop was held at Moraine Elementary November 6 under the direction of Mernie Hines, librarian, who supplied refreshments for the volunteers. Last Monday night members held their annual Christmas potluck and recapped the Saturday night benefit. Sharon Lineman was hostess.

Both are recent graduates of Northwood Institute in Midland. An April wedding is planned.

PEGGY WILSON

Announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Peggy Annette Wilson, to Robert Darrell McGuire of Plymouth Township is made by the Reverend and Mrs. Robert B. Wilson of Summerside Court in Northville.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell McGuire of Phoenix, Arizona, former residents of Livonia.

The bride-elect, a 1977 graduate of Northville High School, is attending Schoolcraft College and is employed at Family Discount Drugs in Plymouth.

Her fiancé, a 1976 Churchill High School graduate, also is attending Schoolcraft. He is employed by Cunningham Drug Store.

A May 1979 wedding is planned.

She heads Goodwill event

Mrs. Herbert C. Path of Jamestown Circle is chairman of the Christmas Ingathering program of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries, which will be held in the Goodwill Building in Detroit on Brush near East Grand Boulevard Wednesday, December 13.

She has arranged for the Retired Men's Choral Group of Northwest Detroit with Birchard Rapley, president, and Miss Judith Johnson, director, to present a Christmas Musicales.

Theme for Christmas activities of the Women's Association is "The Bluebird of Happiness."

Several hundred members and friends who include this project in their Christmas gift-giving have received blue velvet paper birds which, when signed and returned with a donation, will decorate a Christmas tree.

Funds secured by the Christmas project are used throughout the year to provide emergency health needs for the handicapped people who are involved in vocational testing or training or employed in the League. Wednesday mini-luncheon and program may be made until December 11 by calling Mrs. Path, 349-7114.

Garden branch slates nostalgic program

Poinsettia plants will decorate the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth as the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association holds its annual Christmas luncheon there next Monday.

It will be preceded by cocktails at 11:30 a.m. with luncheon to be at 12:30 p.m.

Rosemary Palarchio, chairman of the day, is being assisted by Molly Manley, Ardis McLeod, Julie Woodard and Marilyn Donovan.

Annie Nichols, program chairman, has named Marge Jennings, Phyllis Slattery, Patti Laffler and Ruth Whitmyer to her committee. Mrs. Jennings, a life member, reveals that the program reminds her of Christmas meetings held many years ago with members giving recitations, having a carol sing and the late Nancy Walker acting as Santa Claus.

Today is the last day for members to purchase tickets at $5 each for members and their guests from Mary Lou Laruwe, 349-6277.

Mothers' Club shares holiday recipes from ben

It's become a tradition that Christmas holiday entertaining in Northville begins with the Mothers' Club benefit cocktail parties on the first Saturday in December.

This year those enjoying hospitality at Northville homes sampled a new hors d'oeuvre, hot artichoke spread. It was added to the selection after Larry Janes of the Plymouth Gourmet Gallery gave a demonstration for the club at one of its programs last winter. Here's the recipe that the club is sharing with those who would like to try it for their own entertaining:

HOT ARTICHOKE SPREAD

2 C. mayonnaise
2 C. grated parmesan cheese
2 cans drained chopped artichokes, packed in water
1 box Keebler Rye Toast Snack Crackers

Beat mayonnaise and cheese together. Add artichokes. Place in greased baking dish and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika before baking. Serve warm with the crackers.

Here are other treats from the benefit:

PINEAPPLE CHEESE BALL

2 (8 ounce) pkgs. cream cheese, softened
1 small can crushed pineapple (drained well)
1/2 C. minced onion
1/2 C. minced green pepper
1/2 C. chopped pecans extra pecans for rolling
Two boxes Ritz Crackers

Mix (cannot use blender or mixer). Roll into two balls and roll in rest of the pecans.

SHRIMP SPREAD

1 pkg. gelatin
1/2 C. cold water
1/2 can tomato soup
3 oz. pkg. cream cheese
1/2 C. mayonnaise
2 small cans shrimp
1 C. celery (chopped fine)
1/2 C. chopped onion

Soften gelatin in water. Dissolve in very hot tomato soup. Cool. Cream the cheese and mix with mayonnaise. Stir with shrimp into soup. Add celery and onion.

Pour into mold and refrigerate. Serve with large box of Triscuits.

HOT CHIPPED BEEF DIP

2 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese softened with 4 Tbsp. milk

Add:

1 C. sour cream
4 Tbsp. dry onion flakes
1 tsp. or less garlic salt (if desired)
2 small jars dried beef, minced

Place all in a casserole.

Saute 1/2 C. chopped pecans in 2 Tbsp. butter. Sprinkle over top of other ingredients. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Serve with a large box Ritz (or similar) round crackers.

RANCH STYLE DIP

2 pkg. (Good Seasons or Hidden Valley) ranch style salad dressing mix
2 C. mayonnaise
2 C. sour cream

Mix above and refrigerate.

Serve with raw cauliflower, carrots and celery cut in strips or pieces. Also with cucumbers or green peppers, cut into strips, and cherry tomatoes.

BRAUNSCHWEIGER SPREAD

1 lb. Braunschweiger
1/4 C. mayonnaise
3 Tbsp. dill pickle juice
3 drops tabasco sauce
2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
1 8 oz. cream cheese

CALIFORNIA DIP

1 pint sour cream
1 pkg. onion soup mix

Mix this easiest of all dips well. Refrigerate and serve with potato chips.

Andrea Clarke wed to NHS classmate

Andrea Jean Clarke and Mark Morland, who were chosen as the "class couple" of their 1977 graduating class at Northville High School, were married in a double-ring service at 6 p.m. November 24 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth.

Father Robert Shank officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Clarke of 19410 Clement Road, was given in marriage by her father.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Morland of 18605 Ridge Road. He was a star athlete of the Northville High Mustangs and co-captain of the team's 1976 season.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a Victorian neckline and long lace sleeves. Three lace-banded tiers formed the skirt and extended into a train. Lace also adorned her fingertip veil of illusion.

Satin streamers tied her bouquet of red sweetheart roses, carnations and baby's-breath made of silk. The bride designed and constructed all the flowers in the bridal bouquets, boutonnieres and corsages of the wedding party and family.

Mrs. David Horsfall was matron of honor. Mrs. Marvin Finnerty and Tracey Carl were bridesmaids. All wore honey-color gowns with blouson tops and pleated skirts. Their bouquets were of silk peach sweetheart roses, carnations and baby's-breath.

William Morland, Jr., was his brother's best man. Bruce Morland, Marvin and Michael Finnerty and Michael Westin ushered.

A reception followed at Vladimir's for 160 guests, including out-of-towners from Port Huron, Clarkston, Utica and Detroit area.

The bridegroom is a partner in Morland Landscape and Supply. His bride works part-time in the family business.

They are making their home at 746 Silver Springs Court in Northville.

Postmaster suggests gifts

Northville Post Office sells mint set, stamp kits

Christmas shopping can be as convenient as a stop at the Northville Post Office.

Northville Postmaster John Steimel announces that the U. S. Postal Service's 1978 Mint Set and the new fifth edition of the "Stamps and Stories" book now are available here and at other area post offices.

The 1978 Mint Set is a colorful folder containing and describing all 28 commemorative and special stamps issued by the U. S. Postal Service during 1978.

It is the latest in a series of annual sets of commemorative stamps released by the post office each year prior to Christmas.

Cover of the 1978 Mint Set, which is $4.50, features a montage of artwork related to the stamps inside. Acetate strips on the inside provide spaces in which the enclosed stamps may be mounted and displayed.

The new edition of "Stamps and Stories," the popular U. S. Postal Service guide to stamp collecting, is priced at $3.50, Steimel adds.

The 240-page book relates more than 100 stories about U. S. stamps and is designed to introduce non-collectors to stamp collecting, as well as to provide interesting philatelic information, such as latest market values, to both novice and experienced collectors.

Updated to include stamps issued during 1978, "Stamps and Stories" also contains information about the latest stamp production, current listings of the quantities of commemorative stamps issued, and an index listing all stamps in the book.

A number of popular topical stamp-collecting kits priced at $2 each can be purchased for beginning collections.

Kits have topics ranging from "The World of Sports" and "Space" to "Birds and Butterflies" and "Diamonds and Triangles."

Each kit also includes a small 20-page album, mounting hinges, insert sheets for additional stamps and a 32-page booklet, "The ABC's of Stamp Collecting."

Further information about the gift items may be obtained by calling the Northville Post Office, 349-0300, Steimel suggests.

She's volunteer editor of national garden magazine

Three times a year the Woman's National Farm and Garden Magazine is mailed from the Northville post office to the 8,000 members of the Woman's Farm and Garden Association throughout the United States.

Copies go also to the world headquarters in England.

Reason for the Northville postmark is that the editor, Phyllis Slattery, is a local resident.

For four years she has been writing, getting contributor stories, editing, typing and laying out the professional-quality magazine on a volunteer basis.

"This is rewarding, and something that keeps me occupied," says tiny

Mrs. Slattery, but she admits also that it's a very time-consuming kind of volunteering.

She explains that it is something she chose as her "big involvement" when she and her husband, William, returned from a Ford assignment in Great Britain that lasted almost four years. Rather than commit herself to a lot of club work, Phyllis Slattery recalls, she decided to take on the magazine publication as her only big project.

"I used to do the Michigan Division newsletter, a 12-page paper, for the state organization before we went overseas," she mentions. During their stay in London Mrs. Slattery contributed from abroad to the national magazine and also wrote for the Country Women of the World in Britain.

During that time she collected antiques. Antique furniture, clocks, Staffordshire figures and other china now decorate the Slattery home on Morgan Court.

Right now Mrs. Slattery is on deadline for the Winter, 1979, issue of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Magazine which will feature African violets.

Each issue of the 32-page magazine is filled with news of activities of branches and members, as well as of conventions and gardening.

Last week the Slattery dining table was piled with neatly-marked manila folders containing news of branches, information from the 10 division news correspondents and cover and picture ideas.

The upcoming Winter, 1979, issue will have a cover depicting a window filled with pots of African violets.

Previous covers have included a color view of the Capistrano Mission for the Autumn, 1978, issue to illustrate a story on the returning swallows; and, for Spring, 1978, a color view of the Maine coast showing the Portland Head lighthouse. That issue focused on the upcoming national convention to be held in Maine.

How does the editor find an appropriate cover picture?

Mrs. Slattery doesn't have much difficulty as, she points out, "I keep lots of files—they fill my basement."

For the upcoming cover she wrote Hawthorn Books, publishing company that had printed the book, "African Violets," and received permission to use the picture from the book.

When she took over publication of the magazine, Mrs. Slattery decided to date issues by season, rather than by month, to give herself some flexibility. The winter issue will be out the first part of January, she says, preparing to take a copy to the printer now. The printed galleys are returned to Mrs. Slattery.

"I get a great deal of help from Margaret Robinson in laying out the pages," credits Mrs. Slattery as she tells how she revises proofs three times before the magazine is printed at News Printing in Northville.

Phyllis Slattery estimates that she works about two months on each issue.

She says she's not had journalistic training, but agrees that ability might "run in the family" as her daughter, church Sunday

Presbyterians to ordain, install assistant pastor

In what may be a first in more than 100 years, a minister will be ordained Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

JOHN MISHLER

Not only will John Mishler, 27, be ordained into the Presbyterian Church but he also will be installed as the assistant pastor of the local Presbyterian Church at the 11 a.m. service Sunday.

Approval of the ordination was formally handed down last week by the Detroit Presbytery.

Three ministers will participate in the dual ordination-installation service, in addition to two elders of the church.

The participants will include the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor of the church; the Reverend Kenneth Kettlewell of the old Presbyterian church of Detroit; and the Reverend Theodore Taylor, associate pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church.

Participating elders from the Northville church will be Ronald Housman and Janice Dyke.

As the new assistant pastor, Mr. Mishler replaces the Reverend Richard Henderson, now pastor of Faith Presbyterian Church of Novi. Participation of Mr. Kettlewell in the service has special significance for Mr. Mishler, for it was Mr. Kettlewell who baptized and confirmed Mr. Mishler when they were pastor and member of the Presbyterian church in Akron, Ohio.

Born and raised in Akron, Mr. Mishler attended school in Florida, graduating from the former Florida Presbyterian College. He was graduated from the Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Georgia last spring.

For the past nine years, Mr. Mishler has lived in the South.

He and his wife, Elizabeth Ann

Baergen, live now at 401 West Dunlap.

During Sunday's service the historic tradition of "laying on of hands," symbolic of the laying on of hands by the Apostles, will be a high point of the ceremony.

Both the new pastor as well as the congregation will be asked questions as part of the pledges made in cementing the bond of Mr. Mishler's service here.

The public is invited to attend the service at the local church established by pioneers of Northville early in the Nineteenth Century. First Presbyterian is located at the corner of Main and Church streets.

VFW auxiliary gives flags

24 new Brownies invested in OLV ceremony

Twenty-four girls from Our Lady of Victory School became new Brownie Scouts in a joint investiture ceremony of troops 621 and 204 November 21 at the school.

As a special feature of the program, American flags were presented to both troops by the auxiliary of Post 4012, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Auxiliary officers Pricilla Myers, president; Dorothy Biddle, conductress; Bea Myers, secretary; and Dorothy Myers, chaplain, made the presentation and began the investiture ceremony by displaying the colors.

A few words were spoken also on the glory of the flag. Both troops expressed their gratitude for the presentation, an on-going program of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Judy Williams, leader of troop 621 reports that the number of Brownies invested "is an unusually high increase in registration of scouts, and we are very happy to have so much interest in Girl Scouting at OLV."

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Sandy Jansen, co-leader, congratulated and welcomed into the troop Kristi Kunka, Regina Hancock, Teri Beaudoin, Carrie Isabell, Traci Breyer, Christina Mastroianni, Kristi and Lauri Fortenberry and Malinda Cote.

In the induction each Brownie's mother followed tradition by pinning her daughter's Brownie pin on upside down.

At this time adult volunteers of the troop were acknowledged and presented with scout pins. They are Mrs. Sue Mastrolani, Mrs. Jean Pierman, Mrs. Sandy Adamowicz, Mrs. Karen Cote and Mrs. Mary Jane Brugeman.

Troop 204 Leader Diane Roslinski and Co-leader Maurine Lautzenheiser presented their new Brownies for mothers to pin. They are Rozann Stankis, Janice Koneczal, Jenny Croteau, Molly McCarthy, Maureen Scarlett, Suzanne Alföldy, Diane Robinson, Marcia Kowal, Lynn Higgins, Jenny Schultz, Mary Jo Orlowski, Jennifer Hamell and Jeanne Sullivan.

Troop committee members presented with pins were Mrs. Sue Morrissey, Mrs. Joan Schlachter and Mrs. Sue Coseo.

Special guests, along with mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters, were Father Alphonse Babonas and Mrs. Ann McFarland.

Brownies and their guests celebrated with refreshments of punch and a specially decorated cake iced in brown and orange. It was made by Mrs. Lautzenheiser.

Other scouts in troop 621 are Debbie Adamowicz, Kristen Briehmaier, Beth Brugeman, Leanne Cote, Sherri Janson, Maureen Williams and Ann Marie Witmer.

In troop 204 are Anne Coseo, Sunny

Diehl, Julie Lautzenheiser, Erin Martin, Maureen Morrissey, Dana Roslinski and Janet Schlachter.

Yule party for widowed set at college

All widowed persons are welcome to attend the holiday hospitality program of WISER, a group for those widowed, from 8 to 10 p.m. Tuesday, December 12, at Newman House, 17300 Haggerty south of Schoolcraft College.

Special entertainment, "Sound of Joy," is planned with each person attending asked to bring a small plate of holiday goodies to share.

Harriet Hawkins, coordinator of the WISER program for Schoolcraft College, points out that this is a new meeting place for the group. Lighted parking is available at the rear of the building.

Faith healer will speak at dinner

Ronald Coyne, an international faith healer and evangelist, will be the principal speaker at a December 15 dinner meeting of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship.

The 7 p.m. meeting will be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

As a seven-year-old boy in Tulsa, Oklahoma, one of Coyne's eyes was injured to the extent it had to be removed and replaced with an artificial eye.

Ten months later, Sister T. L. Osborn, a woman evangelist, prayed a prayer of faith, and vision was created so that with or without the plastic eye he sees.

Full account of this miracle of faith will be shared at the December meeting which is open to all men and women by reservation only.

Checks for reservations at $8 per person should be made payable to "FGBM" and sent to P.O. Box 5332, Northville, Michigan, 48167, by December 13.

Those wishing additional information may call either 349-0006 or 421-2111.

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT A TRUST?

Your bank's Trust Officer may be the best source of information about whether or not you should be setting up a trust—but here are a few thoughts to start with.

Is the size of your estate large enough to warrant the care, advice and management of a professional? It may be, if you own shares in a business, have investments in a securities portfolio, or have income-producing real estate.

Does your wife have experience with financial affairs? If not, creating a trust and selecting a professional at a bank or trust company to manage your estate's finances might be a wise move.

Does your will (and your wife's will) convey your wishes for the care and education of your children (or grandchildren, too, for that matter)? Selecting and naming a guardian and arranging a trust NOW may be the best way to avoid grim legal entanglements later on.

When the future financial security and comfort of your family is concerned, you'll want to attend to them promptly and while you're of good mind and body. We can help you pre-plan your funeral, but for financial counsel we suggest a local bank trust officer.

Doosie Cole proudly holds up Monarch's leg which was healed with her tender loving care and Pol-Cat-Poultice

Poultice, tender care given by Doosie Cole save Salem horse

Next spring when the horse show circuit opens again, one of last year's most promising yearlings may be way up front tossing his head and walking off with more than his share of blue ribbons.

Things didn't look that good earlier this year for "Monarch", a beautiful black Morgan gelding owned by Doosie Cole of Salem.

Monarch's "mean disposition" sent him rearing and kicking last spring while Mrs. Cole was breaking him to ground driving. In a fury of kicking, Monarch managed to catch his left hind leg over a metal gate and despite Mrs. Cole's efforts, he continued to kick and fight as the blood poured out of a severed artery.

Unable to free the horse from the gate, Mrs. Cole yelled for her daughter Mary and between them they released the now thoroughly frightened animal but not before he had managed to sever a couple of tendons as well.

A tourniquet applied by Mrs. Cole helped to stop the flow of blood but the leg hung useless. Three veterinarians and the owner for whom Mrs. Cole was training the horse threw in the towel and called for Monarch to be destroyed. "He'll never make a show horse again," they said.

But Mrs. Cole had come to love the high-spirited animal who had been undefeated as a yearling halter horse.

Acting under the advice of Dr. Thompson, area veterinarian, she decided to try to save him by putting him in a standing "tie stall." Monarch's former owner gave her his blessing — and the horse.

It was a long six months for the closely restrained Monarch and equally long for Mrs. Cole as she faithfully changed dressings every other day and tried to keep the unhappy horse calm.

She did one more thing too, she decided to use some of her own medicine on the horse's wounded leg. As far as Mrs. Cole's concerned, a salve called Pol-Cat-Poultice deserves the major credit for Monarch's miraculous recovery. "The infection in that leg just poured out after I used the salve, she says. And she continued to apply it on a regular basis.

"I'd used it on animals before but most of all I use it for my own arthritis. I have arthritis in both elbows and I can just feel the strength from that stuff when I put it on. I've even used it on Grandma and my son has used it on an injured hand to take out the pain.

"It was recommended to me by the Northville Saddlery quite a while ago and I've used it on just about every kind of sore and ache ever since," Mrs. Cole adds with satisfaction.

Whether it was the grayish white salve that looks a lot like putty and has a medicinal odor that did the trick or whether it was the combination of Mrs. Cole's tender loving care and Dr. Thompson's "tie stall" treatment, Monarch really doesn't care.

He's free to run and kick up his heels again and if there's any soreness left in the injured leg that almost cost him his life, the casual observer certainly wouldn't know it.

"We released him about six weeks ago so he could get out and play. When he started kicking in the door of the stall, I figured it was time to turn him loose," says the woman who, although she owns seven show horses, has a special soft spot for the one she saved from the glue factory.

Monarch's miraculous recovery was the subject of a special program for horse owners sponsored recently at Northville Downs by Jim O'Brien of New Hudson, area distributor of Pol-Cat-Poultice.

O'Brien announced at the dinner at the Downs that a portion of the proceeds from each can of Pol-Cat-Poultice sold in Michigan will go to the recently established Michigan 4-H Horseback Riding for Handicappers Program.

A branch of the handicapped program is already in action in the Ann Arbor area.

GOOD TIME FOR WINE

by Jim Roth

Although French and American wines may have different names, they often have the same type of grape at their base. French wines are usually named for their vineyard and region in which they are grown, whereas American wines usually go by the vineyard name and type of grape. Some examples: what is known as a Pinot Noir in the United States would be known as a Red Burgundy from France. The wine from a Chardonnay grape would bear that name in the United States, while in France it would be labelled a white Burgundy. A Cabernet Sauvignon in the United States is from the grape by that name, as are the Bordeaux of France.

When you want to know more about wines ask our experts at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. We have a wide selection for your choice, and would be happy to assist you in finding wines and liquors for the hard to buy for people on your Christmas gift list. Hours: Mon thru Sat 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sun. Noon-6 p.m.

HELPFUL HINT: Pinot Noir is great with stews or meats served with rich sauces.
