Housing booming and so are prices: $94,000 minimum

Lifestyles . . .

This exciting portrait of our neighbors is the fourth annual all-staff production developed especially for our readers. Lifestyles is a collection of stories about people we know in all walks of life—from the family struggling to keep off the welfare rolls to the executive who quit a post at the top of a large corporation; from the campus conservative . . . 10 years later to the Born-again Christian. These and many more. Don't miss Lifestyles in next week's issue.

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

Rising from the country fields like some super crop more valuable than a farmer ever dreamed are the new subdivisions of Northville township.

Six major subdivisions, 1,046 houses, are being erected upon the muddy spring ground to the chorus of bulldozers and carpenters. When they are finished, more than a thousand buyers will pay $120 million for the dwellings.

The average price of a new home in Northville township is now $116,000. What is the minimum price you will pay for a completed house? As of now — a whopping $94,000.

In the new subdivisions, the houses stand row by row, 20 feet apart, like so many soldiers. Most of them are versions of the two-story colonial model with two car garage, four bedrooms, family room, two and a half bathrooms and a basement. All of them line white-cement streets with underground utilities.

Even before most of the homes are built, they are snapped up like gold from a river. And who is heading this housing rush?

The answer seems to be: anyone who can afford to pay the price.

"Anyone who can afford it is buying a home, just for the investment," said Judy Downing, marketing representative for Impact Marketing, which is handling the sale of three subdivisions in Northville township.

"In the long run, you'll be getting more for your money. At 15 to 17 percent increase in value of your property each year, it is the best investment you can make," she said.

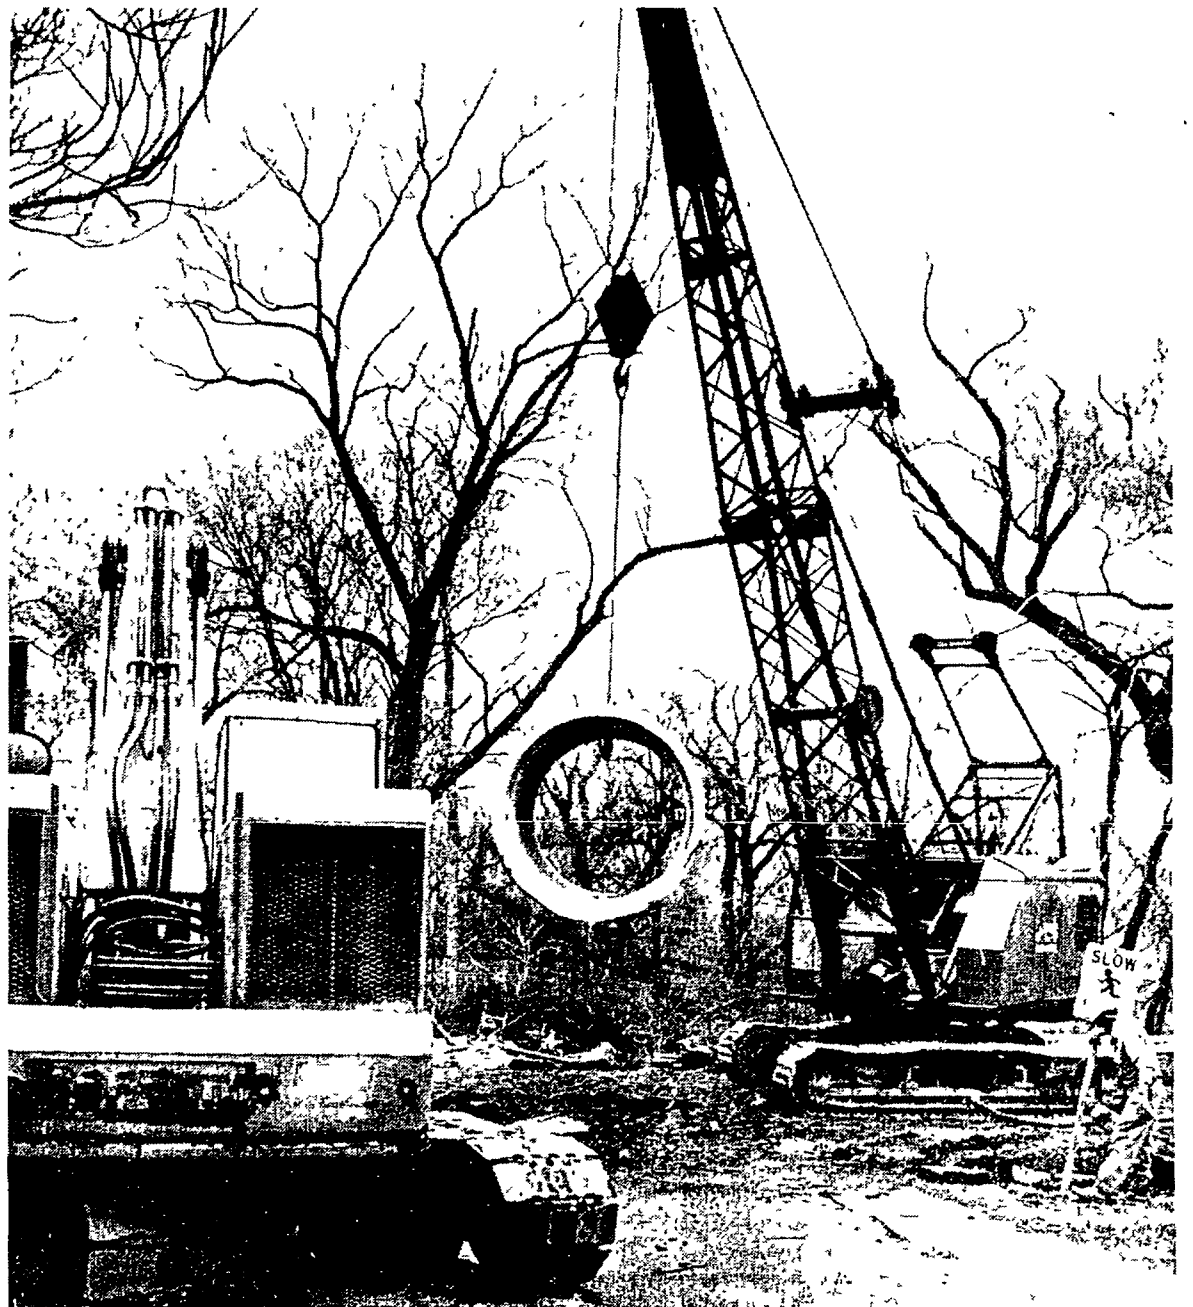

Township builders estimate that eighty percent of the buyers are two-income families with both wife and husband in their early 30s and working. They may have children to fill up four bedrooms, but more likely they don't, realtors said.

As the Northville area becomes more popular and other areas like Livonia and Farmington Hills begin to fill up, prices here may jump even higher, realtors said. But young couples will still buy the large homes here, just for the investment.

Colonial homes account for most of the township's construction. Nary a contemporary home is seen, and the reason may be that people are protecting their investments by taking the most conservative approach, said Annie Nichols, broker at Nichols Realty in Northville township.

"Traditionalists say that people won't buy contemporary. I don't know if that's true or not, but people just are not staying in their homes for 20 or 30 years like they used to. They're going to buy what they think someone else will buy," she said.

In Northville township, colonial fits in with the historical feeling of the city. "Northville is a traditional and conservative area," Ms. Nichols said. "In national housing studies, Michigan is part

Randolph drain

Exploratory excavation across part of Center Street is expected to get underway next week, but completion of the 66-inch storm sewer from Hutton to the rear of Friendly Ice Cream is not expected to occur before mid-June, according to workmen. The giant sewer tile was installed across Hutton last week, and workmen began shoring up the earth along the Brookside Apartments driveway to prevent rupture to the basement beneath the apartments while tile installation occurs. The creek on the opposite side of the apartment units will not be eliminated with the installation of the new storm sewer. The latter will carry water only during flooding situations.

Tax rate curb seen by council

Northville's 14.4 millage rate is running below the state average and could possibly dip further.

At least that seems to be the indication as the city council prepares to hold another budget work session next week preparatory to setting a public hearing on the proposed budget and establishing a millage rate for the 1979-80 fiscal year.

Mayor Paul Vernon echoed sentiments of other council members this week when he expressed confidence that the current tax rate can be maintained for another year and possibly trimmed slightly.

By this time council had hoped to have pared the proposed budget sufficiently to maintain the current rate, but budget sessions slated last week were scratched because the city manager, Stephen Walters, came down with pneumonia.

Also postponed last week was a meeting of city officials with the state tax tribunal and the assessing departments of Wayne and Oakland counties over assessing departments of Wayne and Oakland counties over assessing inequities in Northville because the city lies in two counties.

That meeting was tentatively rescheduled for Wednesday (today).

With the city manager expected to return to work soon, council has scheduled another budget session for next week Wednesday and then, on the following day, will hold a special council meeting to set the date for the public hearing on the budget and to establish a new millage rate.

As the proposed $1,878,052 general fund presently stacks up, it appears the city's tax levy could be increased from 14.4 to 14.7. However, that increase suggests no changes in the proposed budget — something unlikely based on previous years of council budget deliberations.

The current rate of 14.4 mills is running behind the state average of 17.81.

However, in this vicinity, Northville's present rate is slightly higher than other city rates. Millage rates range from a low of 9 in Farmington Hills to a high of 22.40 in Walled Lake.

Other local area rates: Livonia 13.81, Farmington 11.50, Plymouth 15.95, Novi 12.29, Wixom 10.27, South Lyon 13, and Brighton 16.25.

Here's a sampling of still other rates: Bloomfield Hills 14.16, Dearborn 18.08, Detroit 32.95, Oak Park 26.71, Pontiac 21.82, Westland 20.04, Troy 13.40, River Rouge 23.10, Ann Arbor 18.74, Ypsilanti 25.66, Ferndale 23.31, Grosse Pointe 22.31 and Highland Park 30.98.

Detroit's rate is the highest in Michigan, while Highland Park's rate is second high.

A total of 43 other cities had 1978 tax rates of 20 mills or more.

Stephenson, a tiny city in Menominee County, has the distinction of having the lowest millage rate of any city in Michigan. With a 1970 population of 800, Stephenson's 1978 tax rate was 2.53.

Second low was Big Rapids with 4.84.

Here's a breakdown of Northville's 1979-80 budget proposed:

City council $7,200, down from the anticipated $7,336 expenditures this fiscal year; district court $85,300, up from $71,022; city manager's office $59,000,

Abbey Knoll sub gets city approval

Abbey Knoll Estates, planned as a subdivision of 86 single-family homes on a 40-acre site on the north side of Eight Mile immediately east of Northville Estates subdivision, came a step closer to reality last week.

Northville City Planning Commission voted unanimously to recommend final approval of the preliminary plat to the city council at the meeting May 1.

Action was taken after Ronald Nino, city planning consultant, pointed out that the commission was approving the lot and street layout so that the developers, Bert L. Smokler and Guy Barron, could go ahead and seek engineering and other approvals.

Although the city ordinance requires sidewalks in subdivisions, the planners wanted to insure that a walk also would continue along Eight Mile and incorporated this into the motion for approval.

Commissioner Charles Freydl, in making the recommendation, pointed out that there will be foot traffic along Eight Mile west to the overpass to Moraine Elementary.

As planners reviewed the plat, which was recommended for preliminary approval February 6, Commissioner James Cutler questioned whether approval could be granted to a subdivision lacking sewer and water.

Nino explained that the approval is not for development, which will have to come from the city council, but for concept.

The proposed plat incorporates five cul-de-sacs and two half-circles to take advantage of existing terrain.

In response to Cutler's question, Gene Zeimet of Zeimet-Wolznick and Associates, civil engineers and land surveyors for the development, stated that the developer will not build until the sewer "comes through the valley" in Oakland County to the larger 92-acre Country Creek subdivision planned immediately east of the property.

The approval granted is valid for two years.

Plans call for the development of Abbey Knoll subdivision under residential single family with minimum lot frontage of 100 feet. Nino pointed out that in the case of cul-de-sac lots the 100-foot frontage is measured from the building line.

NEWS BRIEFS

CITY OFFER to purchase the George Miller Dodge dealership property for resale to new downtown development has been scrapped. Council voted to withdraw its offer Monday because of reported additional demands made by the seller since an informal agreement had been reached. Meanwhile, it has been reported that Downriver Federal Savings and Loans, prospective buyer of the Hutton property, is now interested in property elsewhere in the city. The city's offer to purchase was pegged at $225,000, with part of the city's payment represented by the south three acres of the former city dump land.

TROOPER Dorothy McAllen of the Northville State Police Post, who was named Young Careerist of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club and went on to capture the District Nine title, last weekend became the state Young Careerist at the Michigan BPW convention at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn.

POLICE and fire emergency telephone numbers are wrong in the new 1979-80 telephone books for both Northville city and township and police are concerned that residents may not be aware of the real numbers. For police and fire emergencies in the city, dial 349-1234; for emergencies in the township, dial 911. Numbers on the inside front cover of the new book were mixed up and the listings on the white pages inside were mangled for the township. In non-emergencies, dial 349-1280 to reach police and fire departments in the city, police said. In the township, dial 349-9400.

Geake's bill would ban school smokes for everyone

State Senator A. Robert Geake (R-Northville) has introduced legislation in the Michigan senate to prohibit smoking by both minors and adults in public schools.

Geake was prompted to introduce his bill after discussing the proposal at length with Albert Zack, principal of Livonia Bentley High School, who spearheaded the successful effort to discourage smoking by minors in Livonia Schools.

The program has received wide recognition for successfully changing the image of smokers among young people.

"Smoking has been identified by the American Cancer Society as the single most preventable cause of illness and death," Senator Geake pointed out. "The time has come for us to take this definitive step toward eliminating our schools as the place where children find the adults they look up to teaching, by unconscious example, that smoking is okay."

"A ban on all smoking in public schools in our state will clearly help to eliminate the temptation among young people to start smoking and to reduce the peer pressure to take up this habit, thereby resulting in fewer numbers of adult smokers and fewer fatalities," he asserted.

Geake pointed out that statistics compiled by the American Cancer Society indicate that approximately 4,000 children become smokers each day of the year in this country.

"These statistics are indeed alarming and clearly emphasize the need for government to not only communicate the dangers of smoking to children and teenagers, but to do everything possible to prevent them from becoming victims of this habit at an early age," he continued.

Specifically, the Geake bill prohibits the use of tobacco in public schools by pupils, teachers, school officials, school employees, and any other persons, except in the course of classroom instruction. Violators would be subject to misdemeanor penalties of between $25 and $100.

Geake noted that his bill goes far beyond the present non-smoking policy in most schools in that it includes a total ban on smoking by adult students, teachers, school officials, and all other persons while on school property, as well as by younger students.

Explorers post organized here

Some Explorers are big on sailing or skin diving, others prefer television, and still others opt for medicine or some other career field.

Here in Northville, newly organized Explorer Scouts have their eyes set on law enforcement.

And that's not surprising, given the fact that Explorers Post 214 was organized and sponsored by the Northville State Police Post.

Post 214 is made up of some 20 boys and girls, ages 15 through 20, from the communities of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Livonia and Farmington.

It meets every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the State Police post here. Its weekly programs involve discussion of some aspect of law enforcement or safety, and planning future post projects.

In addition, the post often enjoys field trips, such as visiting the Washtenaw County Jail, inspecting the security systems at 12 Oaks Mall or Detroit Metropolitan Airport, or learning about fire fighting in Detroit.

Once a month, members also are given lessons on self defense by a state trooper, and on weekends once or twice a month some of the members participate in practice shooting at a Westland small arms range.

"Not all of us will make law enforcement our career after school, but we will have learned something about it that may influence our decisions," said Explorer Linda Smith, a student at Madonna College.

"It's a fun group, with serious, informative lessons."

Post 214 involves itself in community activities some of which are fund raisers, others which are service endeavors.

For example, members will assist the Northville Kiwanis Club later this month in staging its annual horse show to raise money for development of a library room at Allen Terrace apartments.

They also were given the responsibility

They didn't set the world on fire, but Meads Mill forensics team members have made their coach mighty proud.

"They're a great bunch of kids, who gained some valuable experience in this building year," said Coach Wilma Castillo. "I'm really proud of them."

Forensics debuted last year with just eight students finishing the first season. "Our team was small but enthusiastic," said Ms. Castillo.

"This spring we grew to 17. Of those 17, only five are second-year members. We have seven seventh graders, eight eighth graders, and two ninth graders. The team members have learned a great deal and have gained some valuable experience," she said.

Members participated in two practice tournaments as well as the state tournament held April 28 at the University of Michigan.

The latter is sponsored by the Michigan Interscholastic Forensic Association, with teams from 16 schools participating in the competition.

Meads Mill forensics students were entered in five categories:

Serious Interpretation — Laraine Sellas, Betsy Buckmaster and Sandy Reh.

Humorous Interpretation — Angie Ercole, Jodi Nicholas and Jim Lyons.

Storytelling — Carole Anderson, Phil Benstein and Ron Blackstock.

Impromptu — Steve Tsoucaris, Dawn Riffenberg, Valissa Tsoucaris and Chrys Carson.

Informative speaking — Abdhish Bhavsar, Paul Havala, Gary Metz and Spencer Sellas.

Abdhish won a state ranking by tying for fourth place in informative speaking with his speech on UFO's.

Unable to attend the state meet but involved in team activities throughout the season were Scott Faustyn, impromptu; Eva Skuratowicz, serious interpretation; and Mike Nader, storytelling.

MD drive starts Tuesday

One of the most mysterious of crippling ailments is muscular dystrophy, the focus of a month-long fund-raising drive beginning next Tuesday.

The house-to-house drive will collect money to maintain an extensive research campaign against the disease which afflicts an estimated 800 persons in the Detroit area and 1.5 million nationwide, said Lynne Kozel, patient services coordinator for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Muscular dystrophy affects the muscles, wasting them away in a progressively worsening disease.

"Some people may get the disease and spend their life in a wheel chair, but live. Other people who get the disease at age 50 or 60, may be dead within two years," Ms. Kozel said.

"The point is, it can strike anybody at any time, and we don't know why," she said.

The drive will be led in the Northville area by State Troopers James Sherman and Dorothy McAllen.

Advisors of the post are State Police Sergeant Richard Schoenberger, and Troopers Michael Haskamp, Robert Muladore and Dale Garrow.

Fahrney to face rape charge Thursday

Gerald Emery Fahrney will stand for a preliminary examination before 34th District Court May 10 to face charges of third degree criminal sexual conduct, Michigan State Police reported.

Fahrney stood mute at his arraignment April 30 before Judge William Dunbar Davis. He posted $500 personal recognizance bond and asked for a court-appointed attorney.

Fahrney, who is from Detroit, is charged with criminal sexual conduct in the third degree, which under the old Michigan law, is attempted rape, the prosecutor's office said. The alleged crime occurred in the area of Six Mile and Bradner in Northville township on April 25.

A Northville woman has filed a complaint against her husband, Northville township police report. She said her husband beat her up the evening of May 1 because she washed his white shirts with dark clothes and the shirts turned grey.

The woman said her husband came home drunk, discovered the mistake and slammed the washing machine lid on her fingers. He then kicked her and began to choke her, she said. She ran over to a neighbor's home, where the neighbor called police.

The woman was treated for multiple bruises and swelling around her face and neck at Botsford hospital and released to her parents.

The woman said she will press charges.

A 15-year-old Northville girl has filed a complaint against a Northville man for sex offenses. The girl said she was bothered on Sunday afternoon in downtown Northville, police reported. The girls said she knew the man slightly. Police have a suspect. The girl's parents said they would press charges.

An accident on the corner of Eight Mile and North Center left one man complaining of a slight injury, Northville city police reported.

Robert Lee Clark of Detroit, 42, was eastbound on Eight Mile when Samuel Christopher Kelly, 18, of Northville, westbound on Eight Mile, made a left turn south onto North Center.

Clark said he thought the light was still green, and Kelly said the light had turned to caution yellow and that he thought Clark would stop. Clark's car left long skid marks on Eight Mile. And Clark complained of a headache, police said.

97 pints collected

Blood drive results cheer area volunteers

Red Cross officials were beaming this week in the wake of a significantly better response to last week's blood drive here.

Linda Ross, regional representative, reported that a total of 97 pints of blood had been donated — up from last year's contribution of 64 units.

"We're really appreciative of the community's response to our appeal for blood," said Ms. Ross, who noted that persons who may have missed last week's community drive at the First Presbyterian Church may contribute this Friday at the Main Street Annex.

The latter drive is specifically for teachers, but members of the general public may contribute, she emphasized.

Success of last week's drive was credited in part to the efforts made by the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary and the American Legion in recruiting donors.

Also, several local businesses and industries also aided the cause, she said, by encouraging their employees to contribute.

Ms. Ross also had praise for the local volunteers who assisted in last week's drive. Chairman of the volunteers was Janice Dyke, who also was coordinator for the Northville community blood drive.

Blood drives are essential, said Ms. Ross, to maintain an adequate supply. She pointed out that 950 to 1,000 pints of blood are needed every day in the five county area.

A blood drive for high school students was to have been conducted yesterday (Tuesday), while Friday's drive for teachers at the Annex on Main Street is scheduled from noon to 6 p.m.

About apprenticeships

Schoolcraft College will present a program entitled "Spotlight on Apprenticeship" at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 9.

According to Schoolcraft apprenticeship coordinator Ken Schultz, the program is designed to define apprenticeship and answer questions such as:

Do I need to be a high school graduate? Will I start out at minimum wage? Are all jobs apprenticeable? How much can I make as an apprentice? Do I need to go to school? How does one become an apprentice? And, do females qualify?

The first hour of the program will be devoted to presentations from apprenticeship training, promotion and hiring representatives from Schoolcraft, the bureau of apprenticeship and training, college instructors and graduate apprentices.

Company officials who would like to participate on the program or individuals who want to attend are encouraged to contact Schultz at 591-6400, extension 531.

Auto vandalism hits Northville

A wave of auto larcenies and vandalism happened last week in the city, Northville city police reported. Iva Joyce Wood, 30, of Plymouth said one hubcap was damaged and three hubcaps stolen off of her new 1979 Cadillac while it was parked outside the VFW hall on Northville road Monday evening.

Sandra Jackson, of Northville said her 1979 Pontiac Sunbird had all four tires punctured while it was parked outside her home Sunday night, doing $120 worth of damage, police said.

And a 17-year-old Northville boy said the battery was lifted out of his car while it was parked at school Monday morning. Someone had disconnected the cables and cut the wires which mounted the $40 battery to the vehicle, police said.

Parkway closing

DETOUR SIGNS are up but construction of the Hines Parkway widening has not yet begun. Council officials expect the parkway, from Seven Mile to Five Mile, to be closed to through traffic until mid July. Shoulders are to be paved, widening the roadway to an equivalent of another lane.

Bank gets nod from planners

Michigan National Bank is once again free to construct a new bank on Seven Mile at the Highland Lakes shopping center.

With only one minor condition, the township planning commission approved the bank's revised site plan at last week's meeting.

The bank's building had been "red tagged" by the township since March 15, when township Building Inspector Troy Milligan discovered that the bank which was being constructed on the site did not conform to the site plan the township had approved.

The bank must still correct the placement of their sign, the planning commission agreed at the April 30 meeting.

Also at last week's meeting, the commission gave conditional Stage I approval to the proposed "Hills of Northville" subdivision, to be constructed on the northwest corner of Sheldon and Six Mile by the Elro Corporation.

A "Stage I" approval means that Elro can go ahead with more detailed plans after it corrects some minor problems in the plan with lot sizes, and bring the plan back to the planning commission for "Stage II" approval.

The 275 houses in the subdivision will have an average lot size of 16,000 feet, or an R-2 zoning. Houses will cost perhaps $120,000, an Elro corporation spokesman said.

Both the township planner and engineer favorably reviewed the plan. The question of whether the crowded Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor can handle the sewage flow from the proposed subdivision was raised by L.W. Mosher, the township engineer.

Elro Corporation will revise its plan and come back to the planning commission for the go-ahead before it proceeds to the township board for formal approval.

Elro had appeared before the planning commission in March with virtually the same plan but with an 18 acre parcel on the very corner of Sheldon and Six Mile shown as a business instead of single-family homes. The corporation reappeared at Monday's meeting with a new plan showing the entire 145.4 acres to be constructed as homes. The builder has the prerogative of requesting a zoning change at a later date if it still wishes to build a business on the corner, the planning commission agreed.

Varmen, Inc., was granted a special permission to remove 66,000 cubic yards, or 90 tons of dirt from the Swan Harbor Apartment premises.

The dirt accumulated from the smoothing of the western shore of Swan Harbor Lake.

The only permits the township had available for dirt removal were those for mining gravel pits and were very complicated, Mosher said. So the township developed the special permit to allow trucks to come in and remove the dirt.

The permit is for 90 days, and must be approved by the board of appeals.

Will-O-Mac Corporation was granted a public hearing June 26 for consideration of a proposed zoning change on its property on Five Mile just west of I-275.

The corporation wants to take 1.51 acres from its golf driving range there and turn it into parking, in anticipation of a proposed bowling alley next door, said Robert Osborn, one of the owners.

Will-O-Mac currently operates a driving range and a par-3 golf course on the property. They will present the planning commission with plans for a 48-lane bowling alley this summer, Osborn said.

Novi to host play for kids this Friday

One of three children's plays presented by students from Interlochen Arts Academy theatre division is coming to Novi High School Furst Auditorium on Friday, May 11.

The 27 cast members are touring Michigan as part of the "Interlochen Outreach" program, supported by the Michigan Council for the Arts. This year, academy students have taken music, art, dance and poetry to towns throughout the state.

The high school-age drama students come from all over the country to study at the academy, part of Interlochen Center for the Arts. Located near Traverse City, the center also includes the National Music Camp.

The academy is a college-preparatory boarding high school with equal emphasis on academics and the performing, visual and literary arts.

The three plays the students are taking on tour are "The Mysterious Story of a Frog That Gets Turned into a Prince and the Happenings Thereafter," written by Mark Nadler, a junior at the academy from Waterloo, Iowa; "The Mermaid's Tale" and "The Insulting Princess of the Great Western Wullaberry National Maroon and How it all Began," both by Sandra Asher of Springfield, Montana.

The Novi performance is sponsored by Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts. Curtain time is 7 p.m.

Deer killed by truck on I-96 in Novi

As Robert Denbo drove his truck along the deserted eastbound I-96 expressway in Novi last Saturday (before dawn), the last thing on his mind was having an accident.

He was driving the stretch between Novi Road and Meadowbrook when three deer stepped onto the dark highway.

"I tried to swerve, and two of the deer ran out of the way," Denbo said. "But the third deer lagged about 25 feet behind the others, and my truck hit her."

Denbo, a Northville resident, was not hurt in the 4 a.m. crash. But the impact caused more than $500 worth of damage to Denbo's truck which belonged to his Novi employer, Michigan Tractor.

When State Police arrived, the doe was dead on the shoulder of the expressway. She had been slow to run, Denbo said, because she was pregnant with two fawns.

Car and deer accidents are relatively rare in this area, but they do occur, said David Arnold, biologist with the State Department of Natural Resources.

"The problem for drivers is that they may see one deer, but suddenly there are two or three on the road," he said. "It may be impossible to avoid hitting all of them."

Arnold said that deer often move around during the spring months as the foliage changes.

Basically nocturnal creatures, deer travel most often just before sunrise or two hours after sunset, Arnold added.

Posh and pricey

Northville's new homes

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

Even as you read this, the price of that new home you have been dreaming about is creeping up, and it's moving faster than you think.

Six subdivisions currently are rising in the fields of Northville township. If you were to run out tomorrow with $20,000 in your pocket, you just might be able to put a bare 20 percent down on a new house here.

For your expense, you would have the privilege of choosing a new home. Models with such classy English names such as Canterbury, Oxford, Chalford, Hawthorne and Williamsburg would vie for your attention, in subdivisions with extraordinarily similar names all having to do with water, terrain and feathered wildlife.

Each subdivision has its own personality, however. And there are definite differences in cold cash prices.

HIGHLAND LAKES subdivision is quickly being completed on Eight Mile west of Haggerty, with 85 colonials in two designs, virtually already sold out. Home prices in this subdivision have leapt more than $5,000 since January.

Pulte has a clever concept of selling some of its homes with the family room, fireplace, second bathroom and master bedroom unfinished, knocking about $10,000 off the cost of the house. Therefore, do-it-yourselfers can buy a mostly finished house there for only $82,000. Finished, the house will cost $94,000, said Ray Abraham, sales manager for the development.

NORTHVILLE COLONY ESTATES' prices for the 317 homes in the final two phases of Fred Greenspan's development have risen $12,000 since 1978. You can buy a house in this subdivision on Six Mile west of Haggerty for $96,000 for a ranch and up to $103,000 for one of the three colonial models. More than a third of the homes already are sold.

Pride and joy of the subdivision is the Jubilee Solar Home.

LAKES OF NORTHVILLE has Cervi home builders conducting the construction symphony in the large development just west of the Northville Township Hall on Six Mile. Lots for 303 residences are quickly being snapped up for homes which start at $125,000.

Lakes of Northville boasts hills and some beautiful lots overlooking the Rouge River and Hines Park. About ten houses are under construction so far.

Two imposing models are on display at the subdivision's entrance.

BEACON WOODS, on Eight Mile and Beck will boast 165 homes priced from $130,000, said Judy Downing, marketing representative from Impact Marketing, sales managers for the development.

The controversial Beason Woods subdivision is still struggling to put in sewers and paved streets before even one home can be erected. Angry neighbors, angry with Developer Angelo Spagnoli for plowing down the natural terrain, took him to court in November and won concessions.

Last week neighbors met with the township to complain that the sewers that Spagnoli had installed were higher than ground level. Ms. Downing said she estimated that it would be summer's end before any homes were constructed there.

Construction, prices boom in township

of the traditional middle-market housing area," she said.

Ford transferees, who move often, comprise a large part of the buyers in Northville township, said Troy Milligan, township building inspector.

For others, a large house in the suburbs may be a status symbol for young couples, Milligan said.

Finally, there are those speculators who are buying and selling the homes even before anyone takes occupancy. "A lot of people who buy a house and sell it on the day they close would make more money than the builder," Milligan said.

One builder in Whisper Woods subdivision took a year to finish a house, and the impatient owners almost decided to tell the builder to forget the deal when they realized that they couldn't afford to not keep the house, Ms. Nichols said.

"The value of their house had increased by so much that if they said they didn't want it, the builder would have just sold it to someone else at a higher price," she said. "They would never have been able to afford a house like that for the price they paid," she said.

Spiraling costs of labor and material and record profits to the developers are responsible for driving the cost of a new home sky-high, said Milligan.

Although there may be no need for such large homes on such small lots — in most subdivisions, the developer has permission to build 3.2 homes on one acre — the developer profits the most by building the most expensive and biggest homes, Milligan said.

"Sure, all the houses look alike," Milligan said. "Each builder specializes in building one or two models, their biggest sellers."

It also saves cash for the developers, who can build many houses simultaneously, Milligan added.

Still, bigger and more expensive homes may not be better.

"A couple who pays $100,000 for a new home, they figure on getting perfection," Milligan said. "But don't forget that the same people who are building these homes are the same people who used to build the $10,000 homes a few years ago."

He could not estimate how long the new homes would last. "I've often wondered," he said. "In Europe they don't build with hollow-wood walls like they do here. But I don't think they'll fall down."

Interest rates leaping

Providing you've got the financial resources, how much does it cost to move into a home? Apparently, it depends on your economic outlook and strategy, said Annie Nichols, broker at Nichol's Realty in Northville township.

"You have to put down at least five percent, but most people use the equity from a previous home and put down as much as 30 percent," Ms. Nichols said.

Some buyers are trying to get the highest mortgage possible, — financing more than three-quarters of the cost, because they want to pay dollars in the years ahead which will be worth less in real value, Ms. Nichols said. However, again most people try to put as much as they can down on a house, she added.

Interest rates for mortgages are going up day by day. On May 1, they rose from 10 1/2 percent to 11 percent for 20 percent down.

But last weekend, Standard Federal

Posh and pricey

WHISPER WOODS, another development managed by Impact Marketing, is virtually completed on Bradner south of Six Mile.

Only 12 lots are left in the subdivision of 110 homes, Ms. Downing said. When construction began in 1977, the homes sold for about $80,000, she said. Now the homes range from $95,000 to $103,000.

QUAIL RIDGE may be by far and away the most exclusive new subdivision in Northville township. Only Highland Lakes subdivision and Quail Ridge are zoned so the resident has nearly a half-acre of land, instead of just a third of an acre.

Quail Ridge will build only 65 homes, charging $150,000, for two models the developer offers, and even higher prices for custom building by Compo Construction Company.

Still feel depressed about your chances of owning a new home in one of these subdivisions? Look on the bright side: the same model offered in Northville for $80,000 would cost about $90,000 in Farmington and $100,000 in Bloomfield Hills, realtors say.

Savings announced its mortgage interest rates would soon rise to 11 1/2 percent. Other banks are expected to follow suit.

Some developers such as Pulte Homes have a limited amount of mortgage money available at only 10 percent through their own financing.

But when the interest rates reach 11 1/2 percent, realtors and economists expect home-buying to fall off, Ms. Nichols said.

Meanwhile, buyers are grabbing homes, apparently without much thought to heat or light energy costs.

"I don't think people really believe that energy prices will ever rise higher than their wages," Ms. Nichols said. "Nobody seems to worry about the cost of maintaining a large house. They all feel like somehow they'll be able to make the payments, even if it means closing off extra rooms," she added.

Northville native retires from AF

Colonel Babbitt ends long career

Northville native Col. Louie A. Babbitt, who retired as director of the Defense Personnel Support Center's Office of Planning and Management in Philadelphia and from the military service April 30, has always gone "where the action is."

He plans to continue on that course in retirement.

The colonel admits to always having had a yearning for vigorous activity and excitement, and that even the military career that took him overseas for 15 years and involved him in three wars sometimes left this yearning unfulfilled.

This thirst for action led him to volunteer for wartime assignments in World War II, in Korea and in Vietnam. But even in the war zones, he did not always find the excitement that he craved.

An example is his assignment in a psychological warfare role at the U.S. Embassy in Saigon during the Vietnam War in 1969. Finding his weekday office job comparatively dull, the colonel was compelled to seek action by "moonlighting" on weekends as a member of a helicopter combat crew.

As what might be termed a weekend warrior, Babbitt flew 44 combat missions and participated in several ground operations, searching out and "chewing up" Viet Cong base camps.

"I probably shouldn't say this," he said about his combat activity, "but I enjoyed it. It was a very exciting experience."

So Colonel Babbitt in retirement is expected to continue his search for action.

He will be accompanied on his search by his wife, Gloria, who also enjoys action. Evidence of this is the fact that she is now recuperating from a broken leg she suffered while skiing with her husband.

The Babbitts plan to relocate to Sacramento. Although Colonel Babbitt's home town is Northville, the Babbitts chose Sacramento because recreation opportunities such as hunting, fishing and skiing, abound in California.

Hunting is by far his favorite pastime. The colonel has hunted in Africa and recently bagged a stag in Scotland.

Colonel Babbitt's military career began when he enlisted in the Navy in 1942, and subsequently served two-and-one-half years sea duty as a Navy corpsman.

After the war he finished his undergraduate work at Eastern Michigan University, while serving as a corpsman with the Marine reserves.

He was attending graduate school in a pre-med program at the University of Michigan in 1950 when his reserve unit was called to active duty.

Soon after being called up he was presented with an opportunity to attend Air Force officer's candidate school, from which he emerged as a lieutenant. He then volunteered for service in Korea, where he was assigned as the armament officer in the 7th Fighter-Bomber Squadron.

In Korea he got into a "fight with a hot shot pilot" over a gun sight instruction session. "I decided, 'By God, if he (the hot shot pilot) can fly, so can I,'" recalled the colonel. "So I applied for flight training."

After completing navigation training and electronic counter-measures schools, he spent four years in Germany flying reconnaissance bombers (RB-26s and RB-66s) in the 42nd Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron, gathering intelligence on Russian radar.

COLONEL L. A. BABBITT

Then, in 1959, he was assigned to the Strategic Air Command (SAC) and served in RB-47s. After a year and one-half with SAC, Colonel Babbitt was checked out in the first supersonic bomber, the B-58 Hustler.

During his eight and one-half years with the B-58 program, Babbitt was named chief of standardization crew, the top crew in the wing. "Flying at 50,000 feet at Mach II (20 miles per minute) and dropping a weapon within 300 feet of a target is a professional thrill," commented the colonel regarding his B-58 service.

Colonel Babbitt left SAC in 1969, when he volunteered for service in Vietnam.

In Vietnam, he served as chief of propaganda, evaluating what material would be used. He pointed out that during 1969, as many as 600 million leaflets per month were dropped over Vietnam. They were credited with persuading about 10,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese personnel to surrender.

After Vietnam, Babbitt was sent to Thailand where he served as US Air Force commander, Don Muang Airport. His next assignment was a deputy base commander at Sembach, Germany. He then spent a few months as US Air Force — Europe director of administration. Finally, before joining DPSC in 1975, he was assigned as base commander at Lakenheath, England. This latter assignment Babbitt views as his most rewarding.

A former Eagle Scout, Colonel Babbitt has served the Boy Scouts for 32 years. He is a recipient of scouting's Wood Badge and the Silver Beaver Award, and is a vigil member of the Order of the Arrow.

Upon reflection on his military career, Babbitt observed, "I just don't recall the bad times ... there have been so many good times."

Colonel Babbitt's mother, Mrs. K.H. Babbitt, resides on Rogers Street. His daughter, Mrs. Christopher Gazlay, lives on Grandview. Another daughter, Linda Von Vorst, resides in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; son Jack, a recent graduate of Marine Officer's Candidate School, is attending Michigan State University as a senior.

Always a seeker of action, Babbitt is a big game hunter

GOOD TIME FOR WINE

by Jim Roth

Roses, like other wines, come in many different qualities, tastes and prices. Perhaps the best known foreign roses are the Portuguese pinks like Mateus and Lancers. After they became popular in the United States, Almaden vineyards in California planted vines of the grenache grape of the Rhone Valley and produced American Grenache Rose. Perhaps the most famous rose of all, renowned for its sturdiness, dry and fruity combination, and its ability to stand up to substantial dishes, is the wine of Tavel. And where is Tavel? In the Rhone Valley were the Grenache grape is growing.

For a fine selection of many different wines, from all areas of the world, be sure to visit with us at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. ### THVILLE HISTORIC DISTRICT ORDINANCE

The City Clerk read the Notice as published. Mayor Vernon opened the Public Hearing and asked for any comments, there being none, he closed the Public Hearing. He asked for discussion from the Council.

Councilman Nichols stated there were two members of the City Council on the Historic Commission and he felt it was wrong for someone to have to appeal to the City Council.

Mayor Vernon commented the two Council members are required to be on the Commission by the City Charter. He also stated the decisions by the Commission are not always unanimous and this does not mean the appeal is being heard by a Board that is biased.

Councilman Nichols thought the appeal should go to the Planning Commission. Mayor Vernon reminded Councilman Nichols that approval was just removed from the Planning Commission authority.

Councilman DeRusha stated he shared Councilman Nichols' opinion. He said some degree of appeal, no other commission or board to appeal to. He mentioned the right to appeal and the board to appeal to was discussed with the City Attorney and it is his recommendation that appeals should be heard by Council.

Mayor Vernon stated the frequency of an appeal happening is very low. Motion by Councilman DeRusha support by Councilman Gardner to adopt an Amendment to Title 6, Chapter 12 of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville (Northville Historic District Ordinance).

Ayes: Vernon, DeRusha, Gardner. Nays: Nichols, Johnson. Motion Carried. JAYCEES WALK FOR MANKIND.

7. A Communication from the JAW urging the City to adopt a Resolution on Operation Clean Sweep and encourage citizens to participate in the unified effort to clean up Michigan and rid the state of "throwaways" and other debris that have accumulated over the years.

The City Manager thought it might not be legal. Captain Westfall thought the "speed ahead sign" had been replaced and he stated he would look into it.

Mr. Tom Valade, 43756 Westridge, a member of the American School PTA Committee, was at the Council meeting on May 5, 1979, and affirmed something should be done about limiting the speed. He had a copy of a bill and stated his study of the bill indicated the speed could be lowered. He felt a proposal should be made to the County.

Mayor Vernon stated the City has attempted time and time again to get the speed reduced. Mrs. Jan Wilhelm, 501 Morgan Cr., mentioned she had spoken to the City Attorney, who had stated he had not seen the bill.

The City Manager commented on the bill which started out as a mandate, however, in Section 4 of the bill, those schools who have a parolyn not qualify. Mrs. Carolyn Totten, 791 Horton, asked when the walk/don't walk proposal would be presented and how many months it would take and thought it was a very good idea.

The City Manager stated the County generally took three to four weeks to answer and he would try to have a cost estimate at the next meeting.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha support by Councilman Gardner to update the Resolution to the County regarding the 8 Mile Road Traffic Problem.

Motion Carried Unanimously. LIBRARY BIDS: Mike Proctor, representing the Architectural firm reviewed the bids and quotations and found them to be satisfactory. He recommended the City accept the three low bids as submitted.

Mayor Vernon mentioned concern regarding the labor problems that the Long Plumbing Co., run into because they are a non-union.

Discussion on the project being delayed because of picketing by union shops followed. Mr. Proctor stated there would be a court hearing on April 10 or an injunction as to whether or not picketing could be legal.

Councilman DeRusha stated he would like to hear more from Long Plumbing. The City Manager mentioned the action of the court date would be of interest to the City.

Motion by Councilman Nichols support by Councilman Gardner to accept the low bid of Felker Construction of $188,173.00 for Architectural Trades Bid.

Motion Carried Unanimously. Motion by Councilman DeRusha support by Councilman Nichols to recommend Felker Construction as the General Contractor for the City of Northville Area Development Corporation has no means of paying their annual payments nor any of the accrued interest, therefore, the Corporation at its March 26, 1979 meeting passed a motion approving the making of the enclosed offer to Mr. Miller, provided that the City of Northville takes official action to agree that it will deed over the parcel of the property on Gerald Avenue.

FOOD ESTABLISHMENT INSPECTIONS: Communication from the Wayne County Department of Health regarding Act 328, Public Acts of 1978, which becomes effective April 1, 1979. Under section 3(1) of the Act a city, county, or other local unit of government cannot impose licensing provisions for persons under this act.

He was informed that because the property is presently zoned Commercial, a permit would be obtainable. He requested Council to rezone the property back to "Residential."

Mayor Vernon asked if this should go to Planning Commission. The City Manager mentioned that perhaps the Council on its own initiative might be able to do something.

Councilman DeRusha commented the Planning Commission minutes reflect the thinking of rezoning LCO back to R-2 in the area.

Mayor Vernon asked this be referred to the Planning Commission. MISCELLANEOUS: Communication from the City Attorney regarding the deed of the George E. Miller property on Hutton between Main and Dunlap streets. A copy of the proposed offer to purchase was also attached. The purchase price is $225,000 and the down payment is $62,500. A part of the down payment will be paid by conveying over to Mr. Miller the south 300' of the property owned by the City on Gerald Avenue. This, together with the assumption of a land contract, which Mr. Miller still has on a part of the property, will leave approximately $26,500.00 of the down payment to be paid in cash and the Northville Area Development Corporation is prepared to make this payment.

It was noted that the Northville Area Development Corporation has no means of paying their annual payments nor any of the accrued interest, therefore, the Corporation at its March 26, 1979 meeting passed a motion approving the making of the enclosed offer to Mr. Miller, provided that the City of Northville takes official action to agree that it will deed over the parcel of the property on Gerald Avenue.

The City Manager stated he would send out a notice concerning the procedure in applying for a Board or Commission in the City.

Mayor Vernon mentioned the increased numbers of people coming to the Northville Downs rather than the Windsor track. He stated between now and the opening of the racing season next fall Council should be thinking of ways to help the track and keep the people coming back.

Gordon Merritt, Architect, stated he could not see where there was that much in jeopardy in going along with Long Plumbing. He also stated it was a capable firm and he had confidence in their getting the job done.

The City Attorney read the settlement stipulation and he interpreted the decision to cover any company doing business with Long Plumbing.

Mayor Vernon stated the question is whether the City is willing to gamble and would this incur the $1,800 difference in the bids between the second and 1st bid. His concerns are about the unions reacting to the fact there is a non-union company on a public project.

Mr. Long remarked he did not think it was a gamble. He stated he really wanted to do the work and he would not bid a job in his own home town if he thought there would be a problem.

SPEAKING for The Record By BILL SLIGER

It has always been my conviction that nothing can kill a newspaper faster than "puffs" in the news columns.

A puff is simply a publicity release from a special interest organization. Occasionally puffs contain newsworthy material which may be rewritten, localized and published as legitimate news stories. More often they smack too heavily of commercialism. They are advertisements in disguise trying to sneak into print without having to pay space rates.

All newspapers are prey of puffs. But small community newspapers are particularly vulnerable. Puffs frequently come already set in type ready for reproduction. They fill news holes quickly and at no expense. They are much cheaper than reporters. They save time as well as money.

It has always been the policy of our newspapers to provide our readers with as much local news as possible. We recognize there are many puff-like stories regarding local people, their careers and businesses that are not "advertisements" but merely recognition of accomplishment or promotions, transfers, changes and improvements. Usually, we publish these local news items in our "business briefs."

I've taken the long-way around to get to the point of this column.

A couple of weeks ago The Record ran a full-page feature story on the relatively-new Highland Lakes Shopping Center on Seven Mile road in Northville Township. We did so to give recognition to a community facility that is just coming into its own and has not yet been given much local coverage.

A picture of the center and a headline declaring "Highland Lakes Center Open" would do the job nicely and at minimal expense on the part of the newspaper.

But that would be a cop-out, journalistically speaking. That would be a "puff."

So we looked for an "angle" to provide reader interest. And we decided to pose the same question that we had heard repeated so many times when the center was being constructed: "Why another center when Northville already has vacant stores in two other centers?"

In my opinion the reporter did an excellent job on the assignment. It was thorough, interesting and revealing. It was not a puff; it was an introduction to the center and an explanation of how it came to be and why its owners and tenants think it will succeed.

But in comparing the infant Highland Lakes Shopping Center with its larger, older next-door brother — Northville Plaza — a reference was made to "profits dropping." In reality we don't know anything about the profits at the Plaza.

Naturally, the Plaza people didn't like that. In fact, they probably wouldn't have liked our "angle" even if we had stuck strictly to comparing vacancies and had not slipped in that line about profits.

Still, the Plaza people were reserved in their criticism. It's just that they are trying their level best to take over a center after a slow start and establish it as the retail attraction it can become.

They have owned the three-year-old Plaza less than one year. They don't need an article reminding them there are vacant spaces in the mall area ... even if it is professionally and interestingly written.

I talked to both Bill Hahn, majority owner, and Chris Redding, manager-owner. And they explained their efforts since purchasing the center whose control had been allowed to fall back to the mortgage company by the original developers.

Actually, Northville Plaza is not hurting. It has three prime tenants in A&P, TG&Y and Perry Drugs. Totally the Plaza has some 108,000 square feet of retail space and only 14,000-square-feet of vacancy. But the vacancies are all in the 40,000-square-foot mall area.

Yet Redding points out that progress is being made in the mall. Tri-State Furniture has added 1,500 square feet and is the anchor store of the mall. Northville Appliance and NWC Sports have been added. China Fair, a successful restaurant, has replaced an earlier enterprise.

"We're optimistic. All our tenants are up to date in their rents, so I must assume they are doing all right. We're where we expected to be," says Redding.

We hope both Northville Plaza and Highland Lakes succeed as shopping centers.

But, frankly, I can't imagine any of our community's shopping centers — in the township or the city — enjoying real success unless they all prosper. And I detect a hint of non-constructive competitiveness between merchants in each of the two Seven Mile road centers and the city's central business district.

Yet they are all in the same trade-area boat. And unless they are willing to promote one another as well as themselves they cannot hope for this community to become an attraction for shoppers.

Improvements in the city and new attractions in the township serve to bring customers to Northville. The more friendly and helpful each of the community's merchants become ... the better they know one another and each other's wares ... the greater the chances are they can keep customers coming back again and again to Northville.

And while they're at it, The Record will continue to look for the best local story "angles" it can. We figure if they read the news they'll look at the ads and shop in Northville.

Hopefully, all our angles won't strike such a sensitive chord.

Speaking for Myself

Brand names in textbooks?

PEG FARQUHAR

YES . . .

I favor the elimination of brand names and blatant advertising in school textbooks.

In today's society, we are constantly being bombarded with advertising in all forms. In the mail. In the papers. On the television.

Not a day goes by without our children being told to buy some sugar-coated yum-yum cereal, or other non-nutritional food products.

There should be some relief to this siege of advertising. As it stands now, children can't even escape the bombardment in schools. They have to get another dose in textbooks.

What is even more appalling is that some of the larger companies pay the book publishers money to use their product names. That's payola, pure and simple, with no thought toward educational value.

Let's eliminate brand names in school books. A textbook isn't the place for this kind of advertising.

Marcia Leppek
Brighton

NO . . .

I have no objections to the use of texts containing name-brand products. As a reading support staff member, I have found that familiar words and/or pictures are often the very incentive necessary to encourage reluctant readers to develop an active interest in reading.

The students with whom I work are faced daily with the disheartening realization that many of the words in their texts are foreign to them.

However, a Coke, a Big Mac, or a Goodyear Blimp not only look familiar in a picture but also may present the impetus needed to sound out the words and the rest of the story or problem in the text.

Although we can appreciate the somewhat negative aspect of name brands in texts — i.e., there already is an abundance of commercialism in our society today — I cannot help but defend my support of the practice of using product names because of the benefits realized by the students who may be difficult to motivate.

- 1) Students are presented with recognizable words;
- 2) Students have their interest stimulated by many things they do, see and hear daily; 3) Students can be taught to draw parallels, make comparisons and determine relationships through the use of familiar media.

The word Coke appearing in a text can effectively illustrate such fundamentals as a hard "c" sound, and the long vowel-silent "e" concept.

Yet this logo is familiar enough to the student to sustain his interest in and serve as constant reminder of the basic grammatical principles.

We do not expect nor would we hope to see every page in a given text contain references to brand-name products.

I am in favor of making use of whatever method can be effective in teaching students to read, including the use of words that they will see, hear and use daily.

A lot of learning takes place through practical application sessions using brand-name products as tools.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

"The older we get, the faster time passes."

My father often made that observation when he viewed photographs of people and places out of the past. The remark didn't mean much then, but in recent years I've come to appreciate it.

Take a comment here by State Representative Jack Kirksey. In a Law Day speech, Jack reminded the high schoolers that it was 25 years ago that Roger Bannister became the first person in history to run the mile in less than four minutes. I was astounded. It couldn't be 25 years ago, could it?

Indeed it was — on May 6, 1954. Oh, how time flies!

I doubt that many of the students recognized the name or were impressed by the record. So many persons have bettered Bannister's mark in the intervening years that he and his remarkable feat are all but lost on today's generation.

But in 1954, many people were saying it was physically impossible for anyone to run that fast. The fastest previous time had been set nine years earlier at 4:01.4. If the four minute barrier is ever broken, said the experts, it will occur in Scandinavia in 68 degree temperature, with no wind blowing, and on a hard, dry clay track.

Bannister, a medical student, broke all of the rules of the experts. It was a chilly day in Oxford, England, the wind was blowing hard, the cinder track was damp from an afternoon rain, and he ran the race entirely "wrong."

At the finish line, the young medical student collapsed, lost consciousness briefly and momentarily was color blinded. But he had done what no human had ever done before. His time was 3:59.4!

Word of Bannister's spectacular achievement flooded the news media, sharing front page space with the Army-McCarthy hearings.

COME TO STATE FAIR

Can you guess the states?

Students from Silver Springs Elementary School in Northville last week put on a state fair of a different kind. Members of the fifth and sixth grade classes set up booths, put on skits and dressed like those living in each of

Gardening near

Three acres of land on the Wayne County Child Development property off Sheldon was plowed Monday in preparation for gardening by Northville senior citizens. The gardening project is a repeat of last year's successful program. Senior citizens wishing to reserve free plots of land to plant their gardens are asked to call Clarence Harsch of the Senior Citizens Club at 349-4057 or the Recreation Department. The acreage, located on the west side of Sheldon, south of Five Mile, was plowed free by Milo George and his son, Milo, Jr. Above Township Supervisor Donald Thomson rides the lead tractor driven by the younger George.

Lands soccer volunteers

To the Editor:

A burgeoning sport has appeared in Northville — soccer. This comes as no surprise to many. This spring we have 713 players. I would like to take this opportunity to recognize the people who have worked so hard to make our program one of the best in Michigan. In addition to saying thanks to these people, the job descriptions help describe the many assignments needed to run the program.

Being aware of the work performed, parents can realize how important their support is to the program. We have been most fortunate to have a healthy program; it is a credit to the support from the families and the following list of volunteers:

Bill Cole, vice president; Bill Butterfield, treasurer; Donna Spencer, secretary; Don McCulloch, head registrar; Bill Gesler and Bert Schwartz, registration committee; Pat McConville, Craig Parker, Bill Cole, Ed Moylan, Pete Magnan, Colin Martin, WSSL League representatives;

Pat McConville, head field coordinator; Ed Moylan, equipment coordinator; Chris Gala and Bill Bohan, purchasing; Jim Watson, art work; Carole Kellogg, referee coordinator;

Audrey Jacobsen, administrative assistant; Travis Nixon, medical equipment;

Sue Stiles, Don Willoughby, Ralph Lazzara, Pat Fagan, Tina Sellas, Ron Zollars and Dan Tomica, individual field coordinators.

Also, 42 head coaches (at least as many assistant coaches) and over 30 referees made up of our teenagers.

Jack's Column

Twenty-five years ago!

Locally, the newspaper was carrying a picture of a young Marine — a local boy who wore PFC stripes and carried the name of today's Northville Township supervisor, Donald Thomson.

Northville was considering another campaign to incorporate the community as a city, while in Walled Lake the superintendent of schools — the late Clifford Smart who eventually became our state representative — was moderating a debate on incorporation of that community.

Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschutz of Northville was about to be elected chairman of the Wayne County Public Library Board, Charles Trickey, Jr. of Novi was running for a seat in the state legislature, and Walled Lake citizens were trying to halt the construction of a prefabricated housing development in Walled Lake Heights.

Has it really been 25 years ... since you could buy a package of skinless hotdogs for 49 cents?

They'll organize to aid gifted kids

An organizational meeting of the Northville Association of the Academically Talented, will be held Tuesday, May 15 at Cooke Junior High School.

The 7:30 meeting, to be held in the junior high cafeteria, will focus attention on the special educational needs of gifted children.

Guest speaker will be Al Riegel, teacher advisor for the gifted in the Livonia Public Schools.

Following his talk, election of officers — for president, vice president, corresponding secretary, recording secretary and treasurer — will occur.

Also, interested persons attending the meeting will be invited to join the organization. The meeting is open to the public.

Meanwhile, persons wishing to run for one of the organization's offices may contact one of the following members of the nominating committee:

Chris Williams, 349-3867; Linda McCulloch, 348-9021; and Marilyn Maher, 348-9014.

Hospital sets public meeting

First of a series of public meetings on mental illness will be held next week at Northville State Hospital in the hospital's effort to make the public more aware of its activities.

The meetings are a response to complaints by the public following last month's arrest and murder charges of Johnny Crumpton, a patient at the mental hospital.

The first meeting will be held at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in Miller auditorium, located at the hospital on Seven Mile.

"We have sent letters to some of the town leaders, but it's not just for them," said Jean Bachelder, community relations director for the hospital. "We think it is an important meeting for the public to attend."

W. Rowan Sanders, M.D., director of the young adult division at the hospital, will speak on the topic, "What is mental illness?" A question period will follow, Ms. Bachelder said.

Northville now 6-0

Mustang fillies flying high

Northville girls' track Coach Bob Prom had every reason to be pessimistic when he tried to imagine how his track team would do this year. They finished last year's campaign with a record of 0-5 in the league. They didn't win a non-conference meet either.

Prom ascribed his pessimism to an "I don't know" situation, in that he had a team of girls whom he wasn't sure could stick with the program. He said he had only five dedicated athletes.

Prom is singing a different tune these days.

He knows he has a whole team of dedicated athletes. He also has a team that is sporting a healthy 6-0 record. And, he has a team that is sitting squarely on the top spot in the league race.

Prom's troops got their sixth victory Friday when, in the bone-creaking cold of the chilly afternoon, the lady Mustangs took on both Novi and Redford Thurston in a triangular meet. Northville won by scoring 68 points. Thurston finished with 60 while Novi brought up the rear with 28 points.

Leslie Dilts got the first Northville points when she finished third in the shot put, recording a throw of 28-feet-6. Lisa Youngquist took fourth, with a toss of 27-feet-5.

Youngquist came back to win the discus event, heaving it 87-feet-2½. In the long jump, Lissa Carter captured first, sailing 16-feet-4½. Audrey Rigner took a third place in the high jump to round out the field events for the Mustangs. Rigner's leap was 4-feet-8.

Anita Sledz ran a 13:29.1 in the two mile which was good for second place, while Carol Bargert brought up the rear, recording a time of 19:10, good for third.

In the mile run, Michele Hays blazed across the finish line in a time of 5:57, edging out Sledz for first place. Sledz finished with a 5:59 time. Bargert came in fourth.

Hays came back to cop the 880-yard dash with a time of 2:38.9. Tammy Selfridge brought up fourth place with a time of 2:44.7. In the 440-yard dash, Ann Dayton ran a 1:03.58, good for first.

Chris Spigarelli burst the winner's tape in the 100-yard dash by running a :12.5. Dilts finished fourth, running a :12.8.

Carter came back to take a first in the 110-yard hurdles, finishing in a time of :15.9. Kay Wolf finished fourth with a time of :19.58. In the 220-yard hurdles, Carter ran a :32.7 to take another first, while Dayton came in second, running a :36.4.

Northville finished the meet by winning the 440-yard relay in a time of :51.8.

Earlier in the week, Northville took on Waterford Mott and Farmington Harrison in separate meets.

Against Waterford, it was all Spigarelli as the young Mustang racked up three first place finishes in the events she was in, to lead Northville to an 80-43 win.

In the long jump she went 14-feet-6½, while in the 100-yard dash, she blazed across the finish line first in a time of :12.7. Her third win came in the 220 yard dash, as she recorded a time of :28.06. She also helped the Mustangs' 440-yard relay team win in a time of :56.6.

Sheila Harrison, Dilts and Vicky Arwady made up the rest of the 440-yard relay unit.

Dilts won in the shot put, tossing it 28-feet-8½, and the 110-yard low hurdles in a time of :20.7. She came in second in the 100-yard dash behind Spigarelli, clocking in at :13.1.

Youngquist took a first in the discus, with a distance of 87-feet-1, while Audrey Riegner went 4-feet-6 in the high jump, good for first. Michelle Hays ran a 6:00.7 in the mile, which also was a first, while the Northville 880-yard relay squad ran a 2:04 which placed them in the winner's circle.

Dayton took both the 440-yard dash and the 220-yard low hurdles with times of 1:04 and :36.3, respectively. Hays came back to capture the 880-yard run in 2:36.9 while Sledz captured the two-mile run in 13:41.2.

The mile relay team of Dayton, Selfridge, McMillan and Hayes burned into first with a time of 4:35.2.

It was more of the same as Farmington Harrison was swamped 84-39. The big story was Carter, who won the long jump, the 220-yard hurdles, the 110-yard hurdles. Dayton won the 220-yard dash in :28.0 and the 440-yard dash in 1:03. She also helped the mile relay team of Hayes, Selfridge and McMillan to a first place win.

Hayes captured the mile in 6:27 while Sledz took the two-mile run in 13:34. Youngquist whisked the discus 85-feet for another Mustang first.

CARTER CATAPULT—Lissa Carter is in fine form as she makes the winning long jump against Novi and Redford Thurston in a triangular meet that took place last week. Carter went a distance of 16-feet-4½ to take first. She also took firsts in the 110-yard low hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles. She currently holds school marks in the long jump, the 110-yard low hurdles and the 100-yard dash. Her performances this season are a big factor in Northville's current 6-0 record.

SIDELINES

By Jim Haynes

The afternoon was perfect for softball; the sun was shining for a change, the sky was blue and the wind only a memory. The air was light and crisp, just on the warm side of cool.

With a light heart I stopped at Cloverdale's to stock up on a double-dip of butter pecan ice cream (the next best flavor to peanut butter and chocolate), a must for maximum softball watching enjoyment.

As I crossed the street on top of the hill overlooking Ford Field, I watched the two teams go through their pre-game warmups and calisthenics. Like two colorful armies preparing for battle, the teams sang and chanted their war cries, trying to intimidate their opponents.

I sat on the bleachers and filled out my note pad, putting down the lineups and batting orders. Then I sat back and watched the teams wrap up their warmups.

When they were finished, they retired to their respective benches to continue their chants and school songs. The minutes went by and the tension kept building. Northville Coach Tim Lutes kept pacing back and forth along the sidelines, glancing up to the top of the hill as if looking for someone.

Then it dawned on me. There was no umpire. What irony, I thought to myself. The first nice day for a ball game all year, and the umpire fails to show up. It could only happen to me, I concluded.

The players were starting to question Lutes as to whether there would be a game. Looking like a father who has been riding on a long car trip with a passel of very vocal youngsters in the back seat, he patiently explained that he didn't know, that as far as he knew, the athletic director at Northville High, Ralph Redmond, had scheduled an umpire.

The game time of 4:15 had long since passed when Lutes turned to survey the crowd. Noticing that he had fixed his gaze upon me, I quickly buried my face in the magazine I had been reading. But it was no use. He headed straight for me.

"Uh, we have a slight problem Jim," he said pleadingly. "No umps," I acknowledged, squeamishly. "Would you?" he asked beseechingly. My life flashed before me. Here I was, a newcomer to Northville. No one knew me, so there would be no sympathy if (if! When was more like it) I blew a call. I had a vision of 50 irate softball players chasing me around the field with bats held high. I stood to risk to lose what small inroads I had made in terms of good relations with the athletes of Northville. "Sure, why not," I replied.

Casting my fate to the wind, I strode weak-legged to the equipment bag where I was outfitted with a pair of shin guards and a face mask that was three sizes too small for my head.

At home plate with the other coach, Lutes went over ground rules. I asked only one thing of the two men, and that was that in the case of a blatantly bad call they remembered that they were gentlemen and to please not beat me. They agreed. They just wanted to play ball.

I was to be assisted with my umpiring duties by Mr. Kurzawa, the father of one of the Northville players. Great, I thought. If I make a call against the home team, he'll overrule me at every turn. With a sinking feeling I yelled, "Play ball!"

The last time I had crouched down behind a catcher was seven years ago, when I umpired Little League baseball in Whitmore Lake. I was in high school then and was very impressionable. I remembered very vividly the screams and threats of the overweight parents who were trying to relive their long lost athletic careers through their children. I felt hundreds of eyes on my back as I gazed past the batter to watch the Northville pitcher wind up.

My heart sank. My breath caught in my lungs. I was face to face with Julie "Cannon-Arm" Abraham, only one of the best pitchers of a softball Northville had ever produced, or so I had been told over and over since I arrived here.

I became very aware of my skimpy padding, and crouched even further down behind Nancy Schlachter, the Mustang catcher. I prayed that she wouldn't miss.

She didn't. But I did. My eyes, unaccustomed to watching a little white sphere cross what seemed to be an even smaller white pentagon, at an amazing rate of speed, had failed to register the exact location of its journey.

Everyone waited for my call. I yelled out feebly, "Ball one." Abraham rolled her eyes in disgust and then glared at me. With one eyebrow lifted and a mean set to her mouth, she leaned in to get her catcher's sign and really let loose. At me, I was convinced.

It's said that when cornered, even a rabbit will fight to save itself. Luckily my rabbit instincts came through in the clutch. My brain took over where my stomach failed. It set my eyes on high gear and worked my oral facilities. "Strike!" it ordered my mouth to say. "Strike!" it said. It was smooth sailing from there.

An hour or so later, (I lost track of time, so in awe of myself was I), both teams filed across the field to shake each other's hands and share individual respect for particular plays that had been made. I think Northville won. I'm still not sure.

The game was a blur of balls and strikes and constant kneeling to clean the rubble-strewn home plate with my dirty bare hand. Mr. Kurzawa had been a noble official and helped on many calls in the field, while the coaches were perfect gentlemen.

Kim Kurzawa makes the catch at second while Sue Kinnaird watches

Softball team now 1-4*Mustangs win first

The Northville softball team dropped a heartbreaker Monday to Plymouth Canton, 5-4.

With Northville leading 4-0 until the fifth inning, Canton finally broke loose to score five runs and win the game.

In the first inning, Kim Kurzawa walked, as did Sue Kinnaird. A single by Nancy Schlachter brought home the first Mustang run.

In the second inning, Judy Orr walked, moved to second on Pam Metz' ground ball. Diane Hrubak then walked to put two players on base. Kurzawa and Kinnaird followed with back to back singles, driving in one run and giving Northville a 2-0 lead.

Schlachter scored the third Mustang run in the third inning when she walked and came home on singles by Orr and Julie Abraham. In the fifth inning, Abraham singled, then Westphal and Chew walked to load the bases. Abraham came home when the ground ball that Kurzawa hit was bobbled by the shortstop.

That gave the Mustangs a 4-0 lead, and the only runs the Northville team was to get the rest of the game. Then it was Canton's turn.

In quick succession, five Mustang errors were translated into five Canton runs. It marked the second time the Mustangs have been beaten by one run, and it dropped their season mark to 1-4.

The Northville team won its first game of the season on May 2, when Livonia Churchill came to town. The Mustangs knocked in 13 runs to Churchill's nine.

In the first inning, the Churchill pitcher could not only find the plate, she could hardly find her catcher. The only thing she seemed to be able to find was the ground, which is where most of her balls ended once they left her fingertips.

In the first inning, Kurzawa, Kathy Phillips, and Sandra Flannigan all walked to begin the game. Sue Heinzman then jumped on the first pitch and sent it screaming into right field for a two-run single. An error by the third baseman gave Northville another run, and a single by Abraham drove in the fourth run. Kinnaird singled and Orr walked to load the bases again, and the Churchill coach lifted his hurler.

The new hurler gave up two straight passed balls and a wild pitch, which emptied the bases and gave Northville a 7-0 lead.

Abraham pitched the whole game, giving up 13 hits and five walks, all accumulating in nine runs. Down 7-0 in the third inning, the Churchill team finally figured Abraham out and roughed her up to the tune of four runs.

Northville retaliated in the fourth, coping scores on a single by Flannigan, a walk to Heinzman, an error on the third baseman, another walk to Orr and a wild pitch. When the dust had cleared, Northville had a 10-4 lead.

Churchill came right back in the fourth with two runs of its own, and again two more in the sixth. But Northville iced its cake with three big runs in the fifth on a single by Pam Metz, singles by Kurzawa and Phillips and Flannigan, an error and a wild pitch.

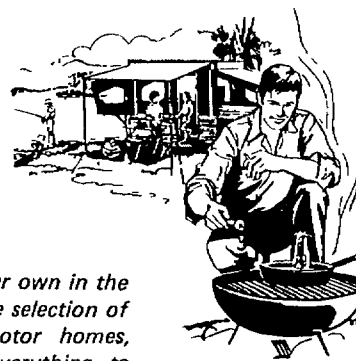

Churchill scared Northville with a

Ouellette sparks wins

Barry Ouellette led the Northville tennis team to a 6-1 victory Monday over Plymouth Canton, stretching the Mustang league victory mark to 4-0.

Ouellette won his match in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-2. Lance Carter won in the second singles position, 7-6, 3-6, and 6-4.

Doug Horst was the lone Mustang loser as he dropped his match in three sets, 2-6, 6-4 and 6-2. Dave Herbel, in the fourth singles slot, took his match 6-2 and 6-4.

In the doubles competition, the team of Greg Bach and Jeff Williams won the first match, 3-6, 7-6 and 6-1. In the number two doubles slot, the team of Andy Orlando and Ian Wild took their match in two sets, 6-3 and 6-2. The third team of Jim Herbel and Mark Swayne won 6-2, 4-6 and 7-6.

On May 1, Bloomfield Hills Andover unleashed its powerhouse team on the Mustangs and the result was a 6-1 loss for Northville. The lone victory came when Ouellette whipped highly, touted Chip Bagley in straight sets, 6-2 and 6-3.

"Bloomfield will win their division," Coach Bob Simpson said. "They're a strong team. It was good competition for us."

On May 2, Northville got back on the winning track when they disposed of Livonia Churchill 6-1. Everyone but the first doubles squad won their matches.

Ouellette won 6-1 and 6-0, while Carter, in the second singles slot, won also, 6-1 and 6-4. Horst and Herbel each defeated their opponents, 6-2 and 6-4, and 6-4 and 6-3, respectively.

The first doubles squad of Bach and Williams dropped a 7-6, 3-6 and 7-6 match, but the second squad of Orlando and Wild won 6-1 and 7-5. Jim Herbel and Swayne brought up the rear with a 6-1 and 6-1 win.

In a make-up match, North Farmington visited Northville this week and went home a 2-5 victor in the affair. Ouellette and the Orlando-Wild second doubles squad were the lone winners in the contest. Ouellette won 6-2 and 7-6, while the doubles team won 6-4, 3-6 and 6-0.

On May 4, Walled Lake Western was the Mustang victim, dropping a 4-3 contest. Ouellette again won, this time 6-1 and 6-0, as did Carter, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-2.

Horst was a loser at number three singles, dropping two sets, 6-3 and 7-5. Dave Herbel came out on top, however, winning 6-1 and 6-4.

In doubles action, Bach missed the match due to illness, and Dale Fisher filled in. Fisher and Williams lost in straight sets, however, 6-3 and 6-0. The second squad of Orlando and Wild also lost, but in three, 2-6, 7-5 and 4-6.

Big winners for the Mustangs were Jim Herbel and Mark Swayne at the number three doubles, as their 7-5, 3-6 and 6-3 win over their opponents enabled Northville to take the contest.

Tracksters fall short

Despite winning 11 of the 16 events held at the meet, the Northville boys' track team took it on the chin again Thursday as it dropped a 67-65 thriller to Waterford Mott.

Leading the meet 65-62 going into the last event, the mile relay, the Mustangs found themselves without the services of sprinter Kevin Swayne. He had pulled up lame in the 100-yard dash earlier.

Without him, the Northville squad lost to the Mott team, which picked up five points to win the meet.

Tim Ellis got the Mustangs off to a good start Thursday as he tossed the shot put 44-feet-1½, good for first place. Then he and Dave Ward combined to finish one-two in the discus, with Ward taking first place with a heave of 124-

Soccer teams heat up

Mark McConville picked a good time to score the first goals of his soccer career this past weekend.

The little United forward banged two of the four goals that the Northville team scored, defeating the Farmington Wildcats 4-1 in 10-and-under soccer action.

The Wildcats came into the contest undefeated. Doug Martin added a goal and three assists, while Rick McCulloch notched the other tally.

The Black Knights, behind a power smash of Mike Kelly, tied the Farmington Colts, 1-1. His goal came in the third period to knot the score. Goalie Paul Smith took over from there and shut out the Colts the rest of the way.

The Tornados got goals from Keith Graham and Bruce Madigan, but it wasn't enough as the Plymouth Dragons smoked them 9-2.

Eric Smolenski continued his hot streak in scoring as he laser-shot two goals past the Plymouth Red Devil's goalie, but he didn't get much support from his teammates, and the Northville Cosmos sank 6-2.

In 12-and-under action, the Champs blasted the Westland Chargers 9-0. Eric Gala bagged three goals, as did teammates Scott Geriner and Matt Peltz.

feet and Ellis nailing down second with a 121-foot effort.

Ward came right back and captured the high jump event, lifting off to 5-feet-8, followed by Pete Blanchard whose 5-foot-6 was good for second.

In the long jump, Ray Coram landed 19-feet-11 away from the take-off stripe, to win the event, while Doug Wright copped third with a jump of 19-feet-5.

The Mustangs then took to their heels as they won running event after running event, only to find the Mott team close behind on the strength of second and third place finishes. The Mustangs' lack of depth hurt them.

Jim Bedford clocked in at 9:56 to capture the two-mile run, while Brian Turnbull's 4:35.9 was good for a first in the mile.

In the 880-yard run, Harry Couyoumjan broke the winners tape at 2:33.0, followed by Turnbull's 2:03.8, which placed him in the third place slot.

Wright was the victor in the 440-yard dash, flashing across the finish line in a time of :54.8, while in the 220-yard dash, it was all Coram, as he burned the opposition in a time of :24.9.

The 100-yard dash belonged to Miles Couyoumjan who shot across the finish line in a time of :10.5. Swayne, following at :10.8, finished in third place.

Ray Marzoni claimed the victory circle when he finished first in the 120-yard hurdles, finishing in a time of

:15.7. Ken Weber fared a bit worse in the 330-yard hurdles, finishing third with a time of :44.1.

The Mustangs then lost the 440-yard relay, the 880-yard relay, the mile relay and the meet.

On Saturday, the Mustangs traveled to the Observerland Relays. They finished in seventh of 15 teams, taking 14 points overall.

First Northville points came on a fourth place finish in the long jump, as the team of Coram, Wright and Scott Robins combined for a score of 57-feet-2. Coram jumped 19-feet-10, Wright went 18-feet-6 and Robbins 18-feet-10.

The Mustangs smoked in the four-mile relay, finishing 25 yards in front, according to Coach Ed Gabrys. The team of Joe Martin, Harry Couyoumjan, Bedford and Turnbull peeled eight seconds off the old meet record time by finishing with a time of 17:45. Martin ran a 4:40 opening leg, Couyoumjan a 4:35, Bedford a 4:35 and Turnbull another 4:35.

Northville's distance medley team repeated as meet champ by winning that event in a time of 11:01. Wright ran the 880-yard leg in a time of 2:06, Swayne ran the 440-yard leg in :54.0, Harry Couyoumjan ran the 1320-yard leg in 3:31 and Turnbull cleaned up by running the mile in 4:35.

The last event the Mustangs were able to score in was the mile relay. They took fourth place when Ken Copin, Weber, Wright and Swayne combined for a time of 3:37.7.

run in the seventh, but Abraham quickly snuffed out the fire.

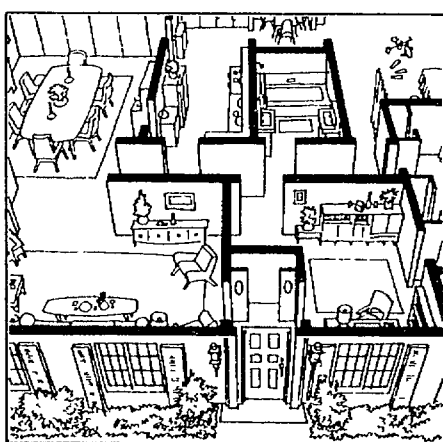

It was a different story against Wall Lake Western, which was the Northville opponent on May 4. The game was close until the fifth inning, when pitcher Heinzman tired on the mound, losing a 4-4 tie and eventually the game, 12-6. It was the first time on the mound this season for Heinzman.

"We just lacked the big hit," Coach Tim Lutes lamented, sounding vaguely like the Northville boys' varsity baseball Coach Bob Kucher. "We've lost two one-run ball games and the others were lost due to one big inning, which if taken away, would mean that we would be undefeated. But that is an excuse heard all the time. We just have to hit to win."

Soccer teams heat up

United goalie Brian Smith played lock-the-door-and-keep-them-out as he stymied the Livonia 16 squad 1-0. Doug May racked up his sixth goal to notch the win.

Kyle Boring went to a Detroit Express game on Saturday night, and watched as the Detroit goalie stopped a corner shot and saved a goal.

On Sunday, Boring was in the nets for the Northville Express when a Plymouth Mad Dog raced in from the corner and tried the same shot. Boring blocked it and saved a 3-2 win for the Express.

Jeff Zaytli notched all three goals for the winners, with Chris Hauser getting the assists.

The Cobras, behind Fred Cahill's two goals, beat the Farmington Eagles 4-1. Pat Bock and Bill Bohan each added a goal. Bohan's blast came on a header off a corner shot.

The Black Knights, behind Tom Veselaniak's two goals, whipped the Plymouth 8 squad 3-1. Harold York notched the other Black Knight tally.

Tom Ross, John Mynatt and Scott VanderMolen each bagged goals home in leading the Tornados past the Livonia Jaguars, 3-1.

The Hot Spurs were shut out by Livonia 10 and the Arsenal was defeated by Livonia 16, 3-0 and 7-0, respectively.

In 14-and-under action, Omer Anisoglu and John Moran each powered four goals past the shell shocked Livonia 8 goalie to lead the United team to an 11-2 victory. Ken Rossetol, Chris Koenig and Clay Walts each added scores to the United cause.

Mickey McGrath notched two goals in leading the Arsenal to a 7-3 bombing of the Plymouth Green Hornets. Dirk Nowka, Jeff Metz, Tom Davis, Gregg Marshall and Steve Starcevic each notched tallies.

The Hot Spurs managed a single goal by Mike Ross, but it wasn't enough as the Livonia Blue Knights lanced them 3-1.

The Farmington Falcons tamed the Northville Rowdies by a score of 4-0 in action Sunday.

There were only two games in 16-and-under action. The Arsenal and the Plymouth 2 squad battled to a 0-0 tie. It marked the first time Matt Meyer was in the nets.

In the only other game, United lost 2-1 in a rough, tough match with the Plymouth 1 squad. Mike Pohlod got the goal for the losers.

The Arsenal team, playing in the 19-and-under division, of the Birmingham/Bloomfield league defeated the Brother Rice 5-0 behind the goal tending of Mark Swayne and Gregg May. The players on this team will become part of Northville High's new soccer team in the fall. Les Neal, Mike Muzzin and Mack Swayne each tallied once for United, while Rick Marshall counted coup twice.

In 10-and-under girls' action, the Northville Stars were beaten 9-2 by the Livonia Hawks 9-2 Sunday. Vicki Horst and Ann Griffith were the scorers for the Stars.

The Foxes were caught by the Plymouth Blue Strikers, 5-1. Lisa Tuckfield managed the lone Fox goal.

The Aztecs won on a forfeit when the Westland 1 squad failed to show for the game.

In 12-and-under action, the two first place teams, the Pink Panthers and Livonia 3 squared off and after the dust cleared, finished tied 0-0.

The Foxes white-washed the Farmington Aztecs 2-0 behind goals by Amy and Margaret Dmattia. Both of the tallies came in the first period.

The Aztecs were bottled up by the Orange Crush 1-0.

WHATEVER YOU'RE BUILDING OUTDOORS, YOU NEED

Anything you build will have extraordinarily long life — if you build it with ordinary lumber or plywood pressure treated with Wolman — preservative chemicals. It won't rot, and termites won't bother it — even if you don't stain or paint it. Considering how long it lasts, Outdoor Wood is surprisingly inexpensive. And if you don't have a project in mind ask us for a suggestion.

Dave Austin gets ready to nail the baserunner

Mustangs drop 3 of 4

Northville starting pitcher Mike Lauck's big opponent Monday wasn't Plymouth Canton, which is ranked number one in the state in Class A baseball. It was his first-inning jinx that Lauck had to overcome.

In his first start of the year, against Southfield, and then in his second outing, against Livonia Churchill, Lauck was rocked in the first inning of each game, always giving up the majority of the runs scored against him during each game in that inning.

Unfortunately, Canton was no exception. Plymouth scratched out four runs in the first inning against Lauck, and typical to form, he stymied Canton the remainder of the game until the seventh inning.

Canton got its runs on a walk, a blooper single, an error on a dropped pop fly, another blooper hit, and then a patented Don Weise express shot over the short (305 foot mark) left field fence.

The game was strictly a pitcher's duel from there on in. Then in the seventh inning, Canton picked up their fifth run on a couple of hits and a walk.

Refusing to roll over and play dead, the Mustangs decided to stick up for their pitcher and started roughing up the Canton hurler in turn.

In the bottom of the seventh Rick Borthwick walked, Jeff Norton was safe on an error by the Canton shortstop and then Don Borthwick walked to load the bases. Dave Austin then drew a walk to force in the first Mustang run.

Next up was Roland Tarrow, who already had smacked a couple of hits in the game. He struck out. Jim Behen then stroked a single into right field for two runs, bringing Northville to within two of Canton, 5-3. But Paul Luiki whiffed on a 2-2 fast ball to end the game and the Mustangs' hopes for a come-from-behind victory.

Northville played four games this week. On May 2 the Mustangs lost to Livonia Churchill 5-0, with Lauck again the loser. He went seven innings, giving up only six hits. But in the first inning, Livonia touched him for two runs to take the lead. It didn't score again until the sixth inning when it picked up three more runs to expand its lead 5-0.

Northville managed to squeak out just two hits, a first inning single by Austin and a fifth inning single by Norton. Lauck should sue for non-support.

"We've been getting pretty good pitching," coach Bob Kucher said. "We just haven't been getting the hits in the right spots. We struck out 12 times in this game, which is too much. We aren't giving the opposing defense a chance to make mistakes."

Next for the Mustangs was a weekend doubleheader against Redford Union. In the first contest, which Northville won 7-2, the Mustang bats were finally unleashed as they struck previously unbeaten Redford for three runs in the second inning.

Behen walked to start things off, then Dan Goehmann followed with another base on balls. Rick Borthwick also got a free pass to load up the bases. Norton then delivered a two-run single down the left field line. Don Borthwick then walked to load the bases again. A wild pitch by the Union hurler allowed still another Mustang score to cross the plate as Rick Borthwick scored from third.

In the third, Tarrow singled to start the inning. Then John Hale and Rick Borthwick both walked to load the bases. Don Borthwick singled for another run, and Lauck was safe on an error by the shortstop. Goehmann walked and an error on a throw brought three more runs in for a 7-0 lead.

In the fourth, an infield error with two outs gave the Redford team its two runs. John Hale started for the Mustangs and went the distance, scattering four hits.

In the second game, Kucher shuffled his lineup, getting in some of the players on his bench. The result was a return to anemic batting for the Mustangs, as they dropped a 4-0 contest to Redford.

Connector roadway will enhance uses at Brighton area park

By JOHN BECKETT

Like a fine wine, Brighton's Island Lake State Recreation Area just gets better with age.

And while extensive construction work at the state park may prove slightly irritating to park users this summer, the $1 million road and bridge building program now underway should make the 4,000-acre park an even more attractive spot by next summer.

Presently under construction at the park is a five-mile-long connector road and two bridges which, when completed, will link the area's two main recreational spots, the Kent and Island Lake beaches.

The road also may provide an opportunity for development of a third beach at a former gravel pit between the two lakes. Also planned along the road, according to John Winters, assistant park manager, are development of a large, modern campground, three parking lots and access points to the Huron River, which winds through the recreation area.

"The road is something which has been needed for a long time," Winters said. "Once it's opened, people can better utilize all the area within the system."

Planning for the construction project began over one year ago. A contract for the bridge work was awarded late last year to Great Lakes Contracting, of Warren, which is to finish work on two bridges by November 1 of this year for a fee of $477,000. D. J. McQuestion and Sons, of Dearborn Heights are handling the road work at a price of $508,025. Their work is to be finished by May 20, 1980.

Once completed, the road and bridge work will link what had been, in practical terms, two separate park operations.

All entry into both the Island and Kent Lake units then will be made at the present Kent Lake entry station, with one branch leading to the Kent beach and the other dipping underneath Kensington Road, then meandering through the recreation area for about five miles to Island Lake.

The present Island Lake entrance on Academy Drive will be closed when the new road opens, park officials say.

The new alignment will allow park officials to consolidate fee collection and bookkeeping at one entry station, according to George Welborn, park manager. It also will allow easier policing of the area, he said.

But the road project is more than an exercise in simplifying operations. It will open up more of the park land to users and, as stated previously, may open the door for development of more recreational facilities in the interior of the recreation area.

That interior many years ago was a National Guard camp, according to Winters. When the Guard grew to large for the area and moved north to Grayling, the area became part of the Island Lake complex.

People often come to the area with metal detectors, searching for old shell casings, Winters said.

The Island Lake unit, which years ago was a resort area of great renown, also has a military history. During the Spanish American War, it was the location where Michigan troops gathered for the battle.

Later, Island Lake was owned by the Dodge brothers as Dodge Park Number One. When that use ceased, it was turned over to the state, Winters said.

Remainder of the Island Lake recreation area, including the Kent Lake unit to the east, was purchased gradually by the state from farmers, according to Winters.

The huge park is now a year-round attraction for metropolitan Detroit, suburban and exurban residents.

"I think we get many people from the Detroit area and the suburbs who go to Kent Lake area," Winters said. "At the Island Lake unit, I think we get more of the local people."

The Island Lake area offers much in recreational possibilities, from swimming at the two beaches to canoeing and fishing along the Huron River. The park boasts two primitive campgrounds (one for organizational use only), as well as picnic tables and grills, concessions and hiking trails.

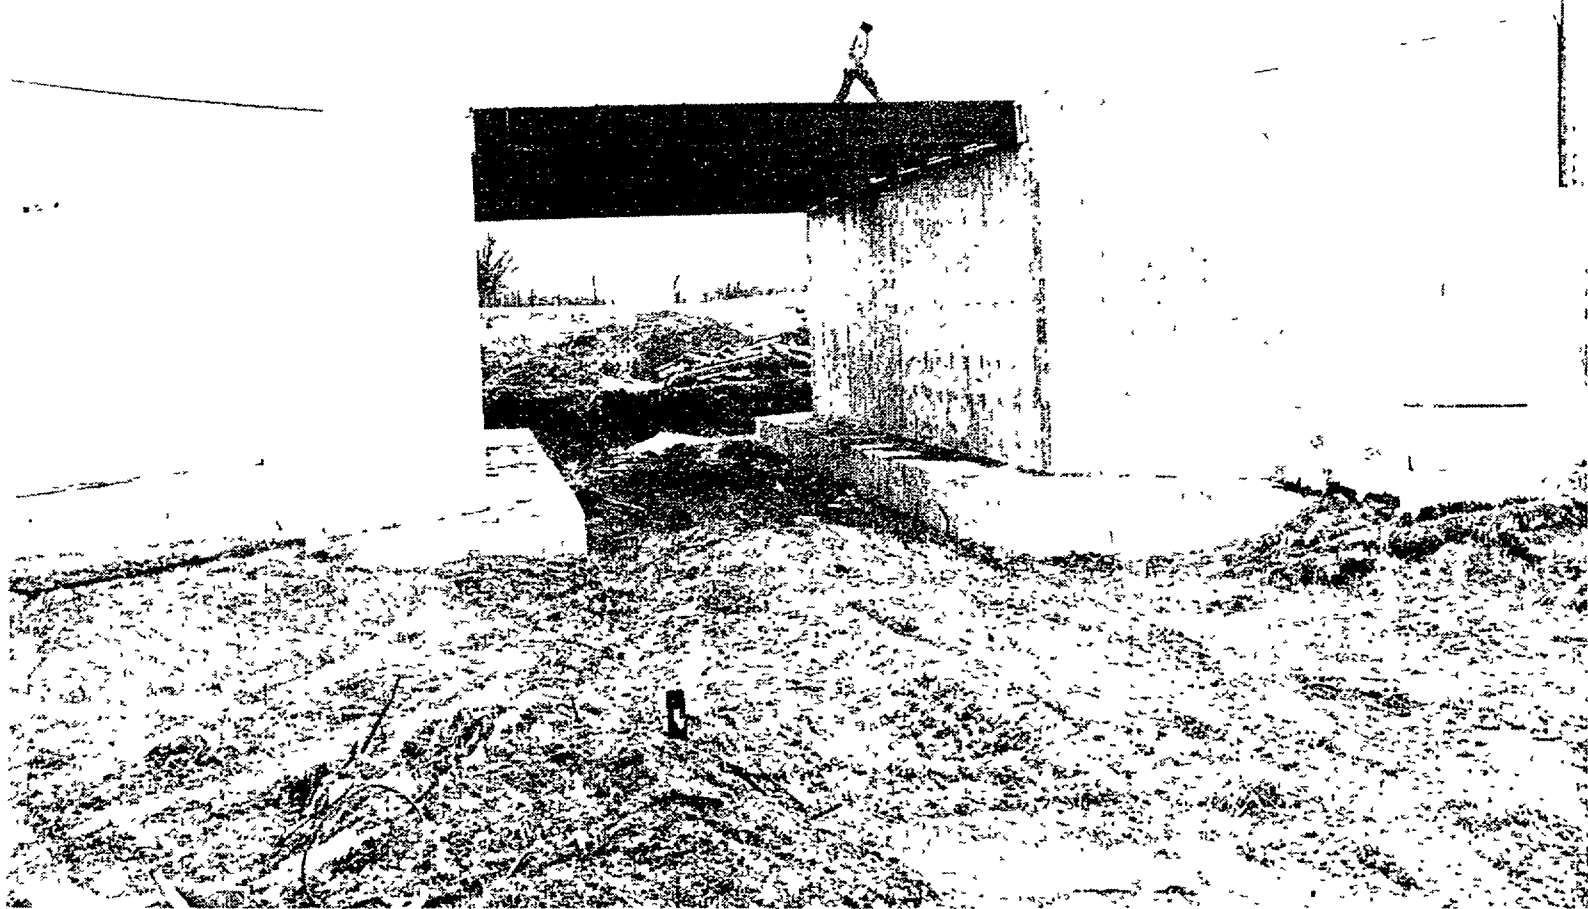

In the winter, the park provides trails for snowmobiling and cross-country skiing. Also operated is a rustic cabin for groups of winter campers.

Last Memorial Day weekend, crowds of over 22,000 persons visited the Kent and Island Lake units, according to Winters.

On a typical June weekend last year, the assistant manager said, approximately 6,000 persons swarmed over beaches, picnic areas, canoe rentals and softball fields.

Winters expects similar or higher attendance figures this year, another reason he welcomes the road construction and the additional recreational possibilities it may present.

"We get many inquiries about the road now," he said. "I think it's difficult for people to visualize how it's going to work. But I think it will be a welcome addition and I think it will make it much easier for people to utilize more of the area than they can now. We have a lot of land here without very good roads right now. This definitely will be an improvement."

Rub-a-dub dub three squash in a tub

This gardener's plot was too small to accommodate the spreading vines of winter squash. Solution? Plant three squash seeds in a 10 gallon tub and set it in an unused corner of his patio.

The squash tub made a great family project and conversation piece. By summer's end he had three fine Butternut squash for winter storage.

The tub is a rigid wood fiber container purchased at a local nursery and filled with homemade compost. The tub can be reused and should shortly pay for itself in the value of the crop.

Other vining crops such as cucumbers and melons also grow well in tubs. Where space is at a premium plant bush varieties which develop very short runners.

Large vegetable plants don't like containers smaller than 5 gallons in size and do best in tubs or boxes holding 7 or more gallons of soil.

Park topic: wild flowers

"Spring Wildflowers" will be the main attraction during a special program to be conducted at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near New Hudson on Saturday, May 12 at 9 a.m.

Trilliums, violets and other beautiful wildflowers can be easily seen along the nature trails. Join naturalist Dave Moilanen for a leisurely look at these spring bloomers and for a discussion of their identifying characteristics, life histories and their ecology.

Advance registration is required for this 2-hour program. Vehicle entry permits are required (Annual: regular — $7, senior citizens — $2 or Daily — $2).

Set good example

Mower safety important

Painted face of the pansy blossoms

Pansies brave cold to provide warm show

Pansies can endure weather so cold and damp that gardening is impossible.

For this reason, gardeners wait for the first dry day in early spring, rush out and "set in" a border of pansy plants or their first cousins, the violas.

And, wonder of wonders, the poor shivering little things bud and bloom despite light frosts, rain or snow showers.

What a cheerful sight to look out on a wet, dreary day and see pansies blooming before spring shrubs have begun to show off!

Pansies have fancy painted faces, violas do not. Pansies have large flowers, up to 3 inches in diameter during cool weather. Violas are slightly smaller.

Traditionally, pansies are massed in beds and violas are used in edgings. This custom makes sense when you see the lovely straight colors of violas: yellow, gold, violet, blue and white are favorites for edgings.

Pansy seeds for spring bloom are customarily started indoors in mid-winter and carefully "hardened off" by gradual exposure to the elements.

It's a much simpler matter to grow pansies for fall bloom because seeds can be sown directly in the garden during late summer.

Except where winters are long and extremely bitter, they will live over and bloom the following spring.

The beginning of another lawn-mowing season means that lots of parents are going to be teaching their youngsters how to handle power lawn mowers. Nancy Butler, Washtenaw County Horticultural Assistant, suggests that parents begin by setting a good example of proper safety practices.

"Start the season by rereading your owner's manual," advises Ms. Butler. "Check your equipment to make sure all safety shields are in place and everything is operating OK."

The next step is proper fueling. Store fuel in a 26 gauge, red and labeled gasoline can — not in glass or plastic containers or cheap metal cans that can be easily punctured. Always fill the mower with gas before mowing, while the engine is cool. Fuel away from any source of spark or flame. If refueling is necessary, take a break and allow the engine to cool off first. Always fuel and start small engines outdoors, rather than in a garage or basement where gas fumes and carbon monoxide would build up.

"Most lawn mower injuries occur when a hand or foot comes in contact with the rotating blades or a person is struck by an object thrown by the blades," Ms. Butler says.

To avoid injuries by thrown objects, remove wires, twigs, rocks and other debris before you begin to mow. Protect your feet with heavy shoes — mowing with bare feet or sandals or tennis shoes is asking for trouble. Wearing safety glasses to protect your eyes is also a good idea.

Keep your feet under you instead of under the mower by mowing only when the grass is dry. Wet grass is slippery, Ms. Butler points out, especially on hills. With a walking mower, mow across a slope rather than up and down, so that you don't slip into the mower. And push, never pull, the mower. If you slip and fall as you're pulling a mower toward you, you're likely to pull it over your feet.

When a mower becomes clogged, turn off the machine and disconnect the spark plug wire or unplug an electric mower before you try to unclog it, Ms. Butler cautions.

Most accidents involving rotary mowers involve people getting their hands injured when trying to unclog the grass discharge opening.

"Turning the machine off is not enough," she says. "Moving the blades by hand could start the engine up again and set the blades twirling while your hands are still in there."

If you use a riding mower or lawn and garden tractor, the greatest danger of injury occurs when you're getting on and off. It's easy for your foot to slide under the mowing deck and come in contact with the rotating blades. Unless your machine has a weight detection switch in the seat that disengages power to the blades, you must remember to cut power to the blades and turn off the engine before getting off.

When mowing a hillside with a riding mower, ride up and down the slope to avoid the possibility of tipping over sideways.

To prevent injury to bystanders while you're mowing, make sure there aren't any, Ms. Butler advises. Clear children and pets out of the mowing area so they won't be hit by hurled objects. When you're operating a riding mower, look behind you every time before you back up to make sure there's no one there. "No riders" is an excellent rule for riding lawn mowers and garden tractors," Ms. Butler notes.

Mama's a sweet winner

Squash, Winter
Storage
SWEET MAMA
Hybrid
All-America
Selections
Bronze Medal 1979

Vegetable judges awarded "Sweet Mama" a medal because of its early maturity, handy sized fruits, good flavor and texture, and high production.

Fruits of "Sweet Mama" are ready to harvest about 85 days from planting — 95 days in cool climates. Drum shaped and dark green, they average two to three pounds in weight.

They should be harvested when the shell has hardened about 35 days from flower set, but before heavy freezes that could spoil the keeping qualities of the fruits.

Gardeners can control the size of "Sweet Mama" plants without reducing their yield. Watch them; nip off the ends of the runners when they reach about three feet in length.

The pruned plants will form a dense low bush about six feet across with the fruits concentrated near the center. Most plants will form two to three fruits.

Store winter squash in a dry area. Handle carefully to avoid bruising. Leave a two to three inch length of stem on the fruits and do not wash them before storing; gently rub off soil.

"Sweet Mama" fruits will keep for up to four months with no deterioration in their mild, delicious flavor and firm, medium-dry flesh. The moderately thick, orange meat is attractive when baked or steamed for pies. A halved fruit will make two hearty servings.

Delay planting seeds of "Sweet Mama" until the soil has warmed in the spring. Watch for the leafing-out of late starting trees; these rarely show green until frost danger is past. In the northern states, such as in Michigan, plants can be started indoors in peat pots three to four weeks prior to the average frost-free date.

Where summers are long, a second planting of "Sweet Mama" can be made in mid-summer so that maturity will coincide with cool fall weather attain maximum sweetness.

"Sweet Mama" shows field tolerance to fusarium wilt disease and squash borer damage.

If the tips of certain vines tend to wilt, trace back along the stem to see if a grub has injured the stem by boring. Split the stem carefully, remove the grub, mound up soil over the wound and moisten. Roots will form and the vine will recover.

Rose earns title

Queen of garden

There's no doubt about it. The most popular flower in all the world now, and for centuries past, is the rose — richly deserving the title: "Queen of the Garden."

Serious rose hobbyists find great satisfaction in all the ways their care can reward them with blooms, and many enjoyable hours can be spent with their plants. This is one of the benefits provided by the rose — its quick response to attention it can receive.

But for many people the care which can be given to roses seems shrouded with mystery, and some hesitate to add the beauty to their yard or garden because of it.

During this "Year of the Rose" efforts are being made by a number of national organizations to allay those misgivings, and to demonstrate how easily the queen of flowers can be planted and cared for. Certainly there is knowledge and skill which can be acquired, but the enjoyment of roses does not depend on it.

The nurseries and garden centers and rose catalog people have the simple information any new rose gardener might need.

How is your pH?

Soil testing is garden aid

Having your soil tested is an easy, inexpensive way to determine the nutrient needs of your garden. In fact, it's about the only way to make sure you're adding enough nutrients in the right proportions for good plant growth and crop production.

When you have your soil tested at the Michigan State University soils laboratory, you get a computer printout broken down into two basic parts: results and recommendations.

Results include soil pH, which is a measure of soil acidity or alkalinity; and lime index, which indicates the need for lime on acid soils. MSU soils specialist Darryl Warncke says a pH of 6.0-6.8 is best for home vegetable gardening.

"If the soil pH rises above or falls below that range, certain nutrients may become unavailable to plants, even though present in the soil," Warncke says. "This is why you don't routinely add lime to your soil without having a soil test first. You may be making a bad situation worse instead of better. A summary of home garden soil test information revealed 75 percent of all gardens in Michigan do not need lime."

Available phosphorus, potassium, calcium and magnesium are reported in pounds per acre. These are the basic plant nutrients. As a rule of thumb, phosphorus levels of less than 40 pounds per acre are very low. For vegetable gardening, 100-150 pounds per acre is desirable. An adequate potassium level for vegetables is 300-350 pounds per acre.

Magnesium is adequate at 75 pounds per acre in mineral soils. Calcium is almost always adequate in Michigan soils. Based on summary information, 50 percent of Michigan gardens can benefit from added phosphorus, 75 percent from added potash and 11 percent from added magnesium.

Fertilizer recommendations are given in the form of pounds of nitrogen, phosphate and potash per 1,000 square feet. A recommendation of 3 plus 1 plus 1, for instance, means three pounds of nitrogen, one pound of phosphate and one pound of potash per 1,000 square feet.

Homeowners may choose to grow their own transplants to be sure they get the exact varieties they want and to have the fun of ordering the seed and growing the plants. Usually the most difficult part of raising transplants at home is providing enough light for healthy plants.

Ewart says a good two- or four-tube, cool-white fluorescent fixture about eight inches above the plants is all that's needed. Sufficient light, a sterile peat-lite growing medium, minimum night temperatures around 70 degrees F for germination and 60-65 degrees for growing should produce good results.

Spider Flower

Meet the tall, lissome cleome. It is probably the most popular tall background flower in the USA and Canada. The flowering spikes of cleome are tipped with large fluffy clusters of blossoms. As the spikes lengthen, long delicate pods follow the blossoms and clothe the stems. Cleome comes in white, shrimp pink and purple straight colors and in mixtures. Standard varieties reach three feet in height where summers are short, up to five feet elsewhere. The structure and texture of cleome is open and airy. Cleome grows quickly and easily from seeds sown in full sun directly in the garden in early summer. In short season areas, early indoor starting can add two or three weeks to the blooming span. Rain and wind don't seem to bother cleome and it is troubled by very few insects and diseases. By the way, "spider flowers" are named for their fancied resemblance to garden spiders. They don't attract spiders.

My Garden

It's good to have a power on high
Whenever gardening time draws nigh
So I don't have to watch and wonder
If cabbage come on my cucumber
Or beans on my tomato vines
Or tomatoes on my grapes for wines
Or beans upon the stalks of corn
And grains of beans my cobs adorn.

I'm sure I'll never be so wise
A little pea seed to devise
So it will grow and bear the pea
So I don't have to watch and see
If watermelon blooms appear
And leave me standing there in fear
Of what to do to change the leaf
I'm sure I'd stand there full of grief
And wonder what on earth to do
To make plants do what they should do.

I'm glad we have a power on high
And not left up to such as I.

APPOINTMENTS to three key manufacturing managerial positions have been announced by Hellmuth Bickenbach, general manager of Ford Motor Company's Transmission and Chassis Division headquartered in Livonia.

WILLIAM A. GAINES

William A. Gaines — formerly plant operations manager — transmission — has been named general manufacturing manager.

James Dillon, who had been plant operations manager-chassis, succeeds Gaines.

William J. Digneit replaces Dillon. Digneit was manager of the division's Manufacturing and Plant Engineering Office.

Gaines joined Ford in 1953 as engine test superintendent at the former Aircraft Engine Division in Chicago.

A resident of Northville, he earned his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Clemson College in 1949.

Dillon began his Ford career in 1953 as a production equipment designer at the Buffalo (N.Y.) Stamping Plant. A native of Scotland, he studied mechanical engineering at the Royal Technical College in Scotland. He lives in Farmington Hills.

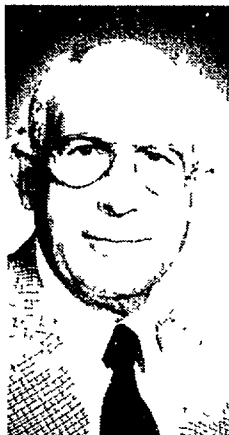

Digneit came to Ford in 1948 as a manufacturing and staff operations trainee after receiving his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering the same year at the University of Detroit. He lives in Birmingham.

THE ELECTION of Larry E. Haney to the position of auditor has been announced by George H. Cress, president of the Ann Arbor Trust Company. Haney will report directly to Robert K. Chapman, comptroller.

Haney attended Schoolcraft and Wayne County Community Colleges, majoring in business administration.

Prior to joining the Trust Company, he was associated with the National Bank of Detroit in the capacity of senior auditor. His duties there included all audit functions, coordinating audit coverage and schedules with external auditors and regulatory agencies and conducting formal training sessions for department staff and affiliate bank auditors.

THEODORE E. NOUTKO, president of Cesko Sales Company, Brighton, announces the association of Richard Streng with Cesko, in the position of sales manager.

RICHARD STRENG

The new appointment will give Streng, a long-time county resident, responsibilities which include expansion of Cesko sales representation in the industrial electrical and electromechanical fields.

Cesko is a manufacturers' representative firm, marketing industrial electrical controls and instrumentation in eastern Michigan. The company maintains offices and a warehouse at 26 Summit in Brighton.

"With the ever-increasing and complex markets and the broadening of our principals' lines, a major and continuing expansion program is in order. Dick is just the man we need to spearhead this program," said Noutko.

Streng has been associated with the manufacturers' representative business for over 20 years. His previous positions included vice president and general manager of a Detroit-based firm which markets electronic components.

His prior experience also includes sales positions in both the electronic and automotive fields.

He is a U.S. Navy veteran and attended Michigan State University. Streng and his wife, Vicky, reside in the Howell area.

CHERYL L. MATTINGLY of Northville has been named assistant mortgage officer in National Bank of Detroit's NBD Mortgage Company.

Ms. Mattingly underwrites conventional and conventional insured FHA and VA loans to private investors and federal agencies for NBD Mortgage Company, all regional banking centers of National Bank of Detroit and its affiliate banks.

In her seven years with NBD, she has worked as a supervisor in the Mortgage Department of the bank's Metro West Regional Banking Center.

Ms. Mattingly has earned certificates from the American Institute of Banking, the Mortgage Bankers Association of America Seminar on Residential Underwriting and the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

HENRY MORELLI

NORTHVILLE resident Henry O. Morelli has been named manager of Automobile Club of Michigan's Pontiac office, succeeding Jerald B. Marvin, who was transferred to Auto Club's Lathrup branch.

Morelli, 43, is former manager of the Club's Troy and Downtown Detroit offices.

A 19-year employee, Morelli began his Auto Club career as an underwriter-trainee, becoming a regional underwriting manager in 1966 and an underwriting staff assistant one year later.

He was named a field operations assistant in 1972 before becoming Downtown office manager in 1975 and Troy branch head in 1977.

The Detroit native is a graduate of Wayne State University. He and his wife, Elizabeth, have two children.

ANN ARBOR TRUST Company has received approvals from bank regulators to open its third branch office, at South State Street and Ellsworth Road in Ann Arbor.

George H. Cress, trust company president, indicated that remodeling of an existing building on South State Street, just beyond the I-94 overpass, would begin as soon as final plans are prepared and local permits secured. Opening of the branch is scheduled for late this fall.

Total assets of the Trust Company at March 31, 1979, were $75,295,479, compared to $70,610,746 one year ago, Cress noted, while deposits increased from $34,969,833 to $68,364,134 on the same dates. Outstanding loans from March 31, 1978 to March 31, 1979, increased from $38,774,317 to $48,666,311, up approximately 25%.

Total earnings for the first quarter of 1979 were $182,542, compared to $179,844. On a per share basis the first quarter earnings amounted to $.89 compared to $.88 for the same period in 1978, after giving effect for 2 for 1 stock split payable April 12, 1979.

GROUND BREAKING CEREMONIES for the new home of D&G Heating and Cooling at 43443 Grand River in Novi were held recently.

D&G President Don Green noted that the company has been in business 25 years and was "tickled pink" to be expanding into "the growing community of Novi."

D&G Heating and Cooling will construct two buildings at the Grand River location. The first will be a sales, service and demonstration area where parts for air conditioners, furnaces and other products will be exhibited. Featured will be solar heating equipment for both residential and commercial use.

The second building will contain a small metal shop and storage area.

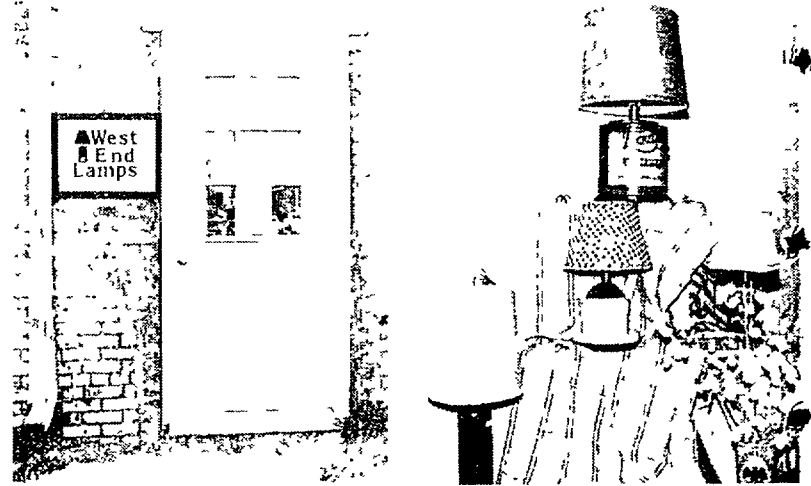

In addition to the Novi location, the firm will continue to maintain facilities at Seven Mile and Farmington Road in Livonia.

D&G Heating and Cooling will employ 10 to 12 people in its Novi location.

REALTY WORLD-SCHAEFER, INC., with offices in Milford and Hartland, has named Pat Evans as an associate broker, announced Joyce Burkhead, president of the firm.

Evans joined the firm two years ago as a realtor-associate after selling real estate in the area for the previous four years. She heads up the firm's Milford closing department.

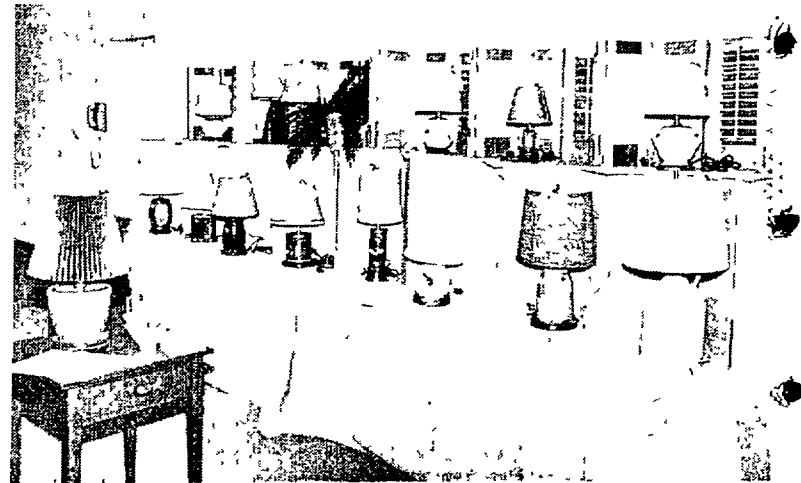

She has attended real estate courses with the University of Michigan and the Realty World Training Academy in Birmingham.

WEST END LAMPS is a new Northville business that grew from the friendship and talents of two Northville families. Pat Wright creates shades, mostly from antique pieces of quilts, coverlets and other scraps of material, with her partner Carol Forrer, who does the illuminated piercing along with daughter Sue. The antique bases of tea tins, jugs and other collectibles are converted by Mrs. Forrer's husband, Gordon.

They began displaying their lamps last year at antique shows, including the Antiques Market on Ann Arbor-Saline Road, and now are opening a shop at the rear of 144 North Center, reached by a narrow walkway from the street.

Presently it's by chance or appointment. Officially, the shop will be open beginning the day of the city garage sale, May 19. Then hours will be 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and by appointment. The phone number is 348-2412. In addition to a varied assortment of lamps designed to live well with antiques and priced from $30 to $135, the shop is worth discovering for other antique accessories and small pieces of furniture. It also stocks log cabin-design pillows by former Northville resident, Nancy McKay, now of Fairfield, Connecticut.

Proclaim Student Congress-Law Day in Northville

Woman mayor heads student takeover

The City of Northville welcomed a woman mayor May 1 as Kelly Mikton was sworn in as mayor-for-a-day when Northville High School Student Congress members took over city offices, judgeships and state police duties on Law Day.

Actually, the students who were voted into the respective offices joined their counterparts at work for the morning.

Miss Mikton, a Northville High senior who has her sights set on ultimately becoming a corporate lawyer, was sworn in by Kristy Iversen, a junior who served as city clerk.

Northville City Clerk Joan McAllister lauded the young people's serious interest in government and observed that she hopes "Kelly won't be the last woman mayor."

Miss Mikton plans to start her career by enrolling in business management at Eastern Michigan University this fall.

The swearing-in ceremony was followed by official proclamation of Student Congress Day in Northville and the appointment of acting student officials.

Kris Quinn joined Deputy City Clerk Mildred Hudolin at her desk and Pete June helped Water Clerk Phyllis Bell answer calls. Pam Bingley pinned on her "City Manager" identification tag.

Serving as councilmembers were Lori Kormanis, Matt Yanoschik, Cheryl Latouf and Nancy Joslin. They were welcomed by Stan Johnston and Wallace Nichols.

THOMAS EDISON TANNER, SHELLEY ANNE MILLARD

In Our Town

It's romantic time for family

By JEAN DAY

Sometimes it seems as though "everything happens at once" in families. Right now there's romantic news past and present in the Fred Millard family of 49041 Ridge Court. Mr. and Mrs. Millard are announcing the engagement of their daughter Shelley Anne to Thomas Edison Tanner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tanner of Big Rapids, Michigan.

He is a 1978 graduate of Big Rapids High School and has completed his freshman year at Ferris State College. He presently is employed at Coon Brothers American Motors in Redford.

Miss Millard, a 1978 graduate of Northville High School, has completed her freshman year at Eastern Michigan University. EMU has just sent announcement that she earned a grade point average of 3.8 for the fall term and is on the dean's list. She is the recipient of both a State of Michigan competitive scholarship and an EMU Campus Leader award. At NHS she was involved in the band and served as a student assistant in the counseling department and worked with the office co-op program. She is planning a major in administrative services with a specialization in the area of legal assistant with a legal secretary minor.

Her parents, Fred and Shirley Millard, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a party April 22 at the Mayflower Meeting House. They were married April 24, 1954, at Bushnell Congregational Church. Among the 100 guests at the silver anniversary celebration was the minister who married them, the Reverend John B. Forsyth. An uncle attended from Omaha.

Hosting the festivities were the couple's four children, Stan with his wife, Marcie, Steve, Shelley and Scott, and Mrs. Millard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Coon of Northville. A highlight of the dinner reception was a wedding cake with flowing fountain. The Millards moved to Northville 13 years ago from Redford Township.

Town Hall's REALLY sold out

Please, don't mail in checks for Northville Town Hall tickets for the 1979-80 season or for the celebrity luncheons. That's the plea of Carolyn DiComo, new chairman, who states that all 800 town hall tickets for the new season lectures opening with Phil Donahue are gone, as are luncheon reservations. Because Town Hall supports community charity organizations, it doesn't wish to eat into profits with mail charges to return applications and checks.

Want to be in phone book?

Newcomers to Northville who are not listed in the new telephone directory for the West-Northwest area issued in April by Michigan Bell Telephone Company may have their names in the local directory now being compiled by Northville Mothers' Club. They, as well as residents who are unlisted but who would like to be included in the local telephone book issued every other year, are asked to call Sarah Deal, 348-1129, or Sue Wright, 349-9956.

Anyone whose listing in the Bell directory has inaccuracies also is asked to call to have it corrected for the local book. The directory will be delivered in late summer to those listed therein.

'Flower Ladies' are going places

Mary Keese, president of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, and Pat Eden, president of the Country Girls branch, with members of their respective chapters are making plans to attend the 53rd annual meeting of the Michigan Division May 16 at Kellogg Center on Michigan State University campus. Phyllis Slattery of Northville, editor of the NFGA magazine, also will be attending.

These women with green thumbs, says Mrs. Slattery, also are good will ambassadors as they will be honoring 170 members from 96 state branches for achievements — not only in flower arranging artistry and horticultural know-how — but in civic and international activities. Special guests will include Mrs. William Milliken and Mrs. Parker Rockwell of Troy, national WNFGA president.

The Northville branch will hold its annual meeting May 14 at the Ann Arbor Women's City Club on Washtenaw. Members will leave in car pools at 11:25 a.m. from Northville Square parking lot with luncheon to be at 12:30 p.m. Mary Lou Laruwe, 349-6277, is taking reservations.

The annual meeting will follow at 2 p.m. in the Carruthers Room. At that time Estelle Millington will be honored as a life member with 20 years in the branch.

MRS. LEE H. WELCH

Ellen Klein married
in St. Paul's service

Ellen Louise Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Louis Klein of 18450 Fermanagh Court, Northville, became the bride of Lee H. Welch, a fellow teacher in Traverse City, in a 6 p.m. ceremony April 7 at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

He is the son of Mrs. Harold I. Welch of Walled Lake and the late Mr. Welch.

The Reverend Charles Boerger officiated at the double ring, candlelight service for which the church pews were trimmed with clusters of lilies of the valley tied with white satin bows.

Margaret Holly Day of Traverse City was organist with selections being played from Vaughn-Williams, Handel, Purcell and Vivaldi.

The lace trim which adorned the bride's gown of Silesta jersey was repeated on her illusion veil. Her gown was fashioned with scoop neckline and fitted bodice. It extended into a chapel train. As she was escorted by her father, the bride carried a bouquet of cymbidium orchids with stephanotis and ivy.

Elizabeth Ann Klein was honor maid for her sister. She also was intended by Mrs. Donald Kelsey, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jeffrey Heidbrink. All wore gowns of pastel printed jersey.

They carried bouquets of silk flowers in shades of soft blue, mauve and "Sonia" rose.

John Abrams of Kalkaska was best man. Ushers were Walter Ross and Edward Merchant of Traverse City, Mark and Chad Klein of Ann Arbor, cousins of the bride.

A reception followed at Meadowbrook Country Club for 180 guests, including out-of-town visitors from Chicago and Gurnee, Illinois, Grand Rapids, Ann Arbor, Elk Rapids, Traverse City, Kalamazoo and Port Huron, as well as from Palmdale, California.

After a wedding trip to San Diego, California, the couple is living in Traverse City where both teach. He is junior high vocal music instructor and is a graduate of University of Michigan and Moorhead State College. His bride is a graduate of Michigan State University.

League members Irving Benson, Kari Miller, Nancy White, Barbara Chulick and Jeanne Federspill mark LWV birthday

Focuses on budget

League begins second decade

After celebrating a decade of service to the communities it covers, the League of Women Voters of Plymouth, Northville, Canton and Novi is making plans to hear more about state budgeting.

At the anniversary luncheon April 28 at Hillside Inn, Nancy White of Plymouth was elected league president with Kari Miller, who had stepped in to fill the presidency, taking first vice-presidency. Mary Ellen McKercher is second vice-president. Linda Lynch and Ruth Vogler, both of Canton are secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Dolores Richardson of Galway Drive is new finance chairman. Jackie Westbay and Claudia Jacques of Canton also are new to the board. Barbara Chulick of Highland Lakes will be public relations director.

Continuing on the board are Sandra Walts of Northville and Lois Hoffmeister of Novi.

At the meeting local study programs were approved, including land use and area school districts (financing and possible goals) as well as community organizations in the area.

At a noon meeting next Wednesday, May 16, the league will hear William Nugent, deputy director, department of management and budgeting for the State of Michigan. The meeting will be in the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

The public is invited to hear Nugent speak on "Financing Government Services in Michigan." In 1977 the state league chose this topic as a study item.

"Members now are examining patterns of financing government services in regard to Michigan's economy as compared to that of other states, levels of spending versus revenue, new proposals for financing and budgeting," the league reports, adding that "present taxation positions also are being reviewed."

Lunch will be served in the small dining room of the church. Members are to bring their own sandwiches to pass.

A delegation of five members from the local league plans to attend the bi-annual convention of the League of Women Voters of Michigan at the Northfield Hilton in Troy May 18-20.

Devoted to citizen participation in government, the league bases all its political stands on the results of member study. New areas for study will be discussed and chosen at the convention.

For the next biennium the state board of the league is recommending a study of intergovernmental relations as well as continuation of the study of financing government services in Michigan.

Two years, it states, usually are needed to complete a study and formulate a policy.

Mrs. White, as she was elected local league president, stated, "The league has proven its effectiveness in its 50-year plus history. The study-before-action method preserves grass roots control and assures the accuracy of league statements."

Besides engaging in political action, the league provides unbiased candidate information to voters at election time. Voter guides and candidate forums are a trademark of the LWV to many people.

Members of the local league planning to attend the state convention include Mrs. White, Michele Howard, Mrs. Hoffmeister, Mrs. Richardson and Lore Watt. Two hundred delegates from 45 leagues across Michigan are expected

Gerald Beebes welcome second son Nathaniel

Announcing the birth of their second son, Nathaniel Sean, are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Beebe, new residents of 70 Henderson in Howell who moved there in March from Whitmore Lake.

Born April 19 at the new St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, the baby weighed nine pounds, 14½ ounces at birth. He joins a little brother, Jeremiah, 3, at home.

Mrs. Beebe is the former Donna L. Brown, a 1970 graduate of Northville High School. She is on leave from her position as day nursing supervisor at Whitmore Convalescent Center. The baby's father is a 1967 graduate of NHS and is a teacher at Hartland High School.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beebe of Novi, Mrs. Joyce Brown of Canton and Donald E. Brown of

Students take over on Law Day

Other participants who spent the morning in their posts were Mary Westervelt, tax clerk; Sue Smith, controller-treasurer; Shelly Stephens, city attorney; Jeff Nieuwkoop, DPW superintendent; Mary Wheatley, DPW clerk; Terri Baker, district court judge; Robin Georgoff, court clerk; Neal Young, police chief; Suzy Heinzman, fire department chief; Sue Pegrum, State Police commander; and Linda Brownell, Velma Laya and Bob Daniels, police officers.

The students and officials then visited Allen Terrace, the city's new senior citizen housing complex where Betty Orr showed a model apartment, art, dining and laundry.

The students and officials were guests of Northville Rotary for luncheon at First Presbyterian Church.

State Representative Jack Kirksey was guest speaker, taking those attending back 25 years to the day that Roger Bannister, an English medical student, became the first person to break the four-minute mile. Since, he reported, that record has been bettered.

But, in the 25 years since, Kirksey continued, people have continued to have the same social concerns. There has been a shift in emphasis, he noted, from nuclear holocaust and guided missiles to potential dangers of nuclear energy plants.

These social concerns, he said, are reflected in some of the 5,000 bills introduced into the state legislature during the past two years. Sometimes, he observed, laws are not recognized as focusing on social concerns.

He cited the need for involvement of young people, mentioning that they have a relatively poor voting record and urged them to do better.

In all, Student Congress Day in Northville proved to be — as intended — an opportunity for students to gain a sense of responsibility and command over future life situations as well as giving the adults who met them a youthful view of solutions.

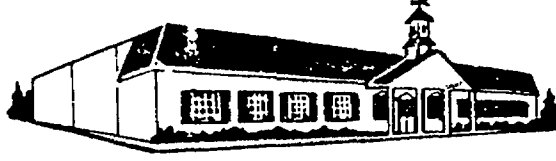

It's Dena

Dena Irwin, 17, of Northville, at the wheel of the golf cart, also will be driving during the Celebrity Golf Classic bringing Hollywood personalities to Hillcrest Country Club near Mt. Clemens May 19-20. The event will help raise funds for non-profit, low-cost accommodations for parents of patients at Children's Hospital of Michigan. She and Jayne LaButte, 20, of Lakeland, left, are among the first 40 contestants for the 1979 Miss Michigan Venus title who will be official scorers. Reigning Miss Venus U.S.A. Dee Dee Russell of Southfield, rear, is queen of the classic. With them is Jon O'Connor, chairman of the event's sponsoring Greater Detroit Dodge dealers. O'Connor states that the addition of the girls was prompted by a desire to make the classic "the most glamorous, non-professional golf event in the state." Show biz personalities playing in the two-day scramble event include Jack Albertson, Harvey Korman, Evel Knievel, McLean Stevenson and blind singer Tom Sullivan.

Benefit for a bus

Members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church branch of the Aid Association for Lutherans are preparing for a dinner dance they are sponsoring at 7 p.m. May 18 at Meads Mill Junior High. Jo Krause, decorations chairman, left, and Suzanne Taulbee, branch chairman, select flowers for the tables. Tickets at $12.50 a person are available at the school office and may be reserved by calling 349-3140. Proceeds will help buy a badly needed school bus for St. Paul's, Mrs. Taulbee explains. The "Friends" band will play for dancing. Groups are invited to get-together to fill tables for the benefit, which, Mrs. Taulbee says, is "something different and exciting for us."

Star returns for banquet

Bob Morley is returning for the fourth time to the First United Methodist Church in Northville to provide musical and humorous entertainment.

The musician is an ordained minister who spreads the gospel through his humor and song.

More than 60 young people in third grade and above are enrolled in the youth club program at the church.

Awards and achievement presentations will be made at the banquet being held for youth club members and their families.

The public is invited to attend the entertainment portion of the program which will begin at 7.30 p.m.

ROBERT MILLS

Bob Mills to talk at gospel dinner

Robert Mills, a regional representative for Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Oklahoma, will be the principal speaker at the 7 p.m. May 18 dinner meeting of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

From a "Born-Again" experience and an infilling of the Holy Spirit 14 years ago, he says he was turned from a career of automobile leasing management in Cincinnati, to answer the calling that was drawing his heart more and more to the things of God.

Like Paul of old, he claims he has been sent forth to meet people at the point of their need, to teach, to preach and to heal the sick in the name of Jesus and the power of the Holy Spirit.

Representing Oral Roberts University in Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia, he has an exciting story to share of how he has been strongly inspired by the vision of the new medical center, just completed on the university campus where students are now being enrolled for next fall's term.

Dinner is at $8 plus 15 percent gratuity per person. The meeting follows at 8 p.m. Both are open to the public.

Reservation checks should be made payable to Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship and sent to P.O. Box 5332, Northville by May 16.

For additional information call 349-0006 or 421-2111.

be served at the social. Ice cream cones also will be available. Tickets at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children may be reserved by calling the church office, 349-1144.

Dancin' crowd

A capacity crowd of 274 members and friends of Northville Mothers' Club filled the dance floor at Meadowbrook Country Club as "The People's Choice" kept things lively following dinner at the annual spring benefit. The popular group even was persuaded to play on after the scheduled end of the evening as the club's new dance floor stayed filled.

'Joan of Arc' vignettes on view

"Joan of Arc," a unique exhibition of life-sized costumed 15th Century figures, will be on display at the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi from May 3-17.

The display features five vignettes depicting the life and times of the famous French saint and heroine. Joan of Arc's life is the story of a young peasant girl who for a short time became the most influential power in 15th Century France.

The daughter of a farmer in the village of Domremy, she was born in 1412. At 13 she claimed to hear voices belonging to St. Michael, St. Margaret and St. Catherine. Her "voices" told her to lead a revolt against the English and place the Dauphin on the throne of France.

Dressed as a man she made the long journey to the Dauphin's castle at Chinon where, with the aid of the military governor, she was granted an interview.

Joan managed to convince the Dauphin of her divine mission and after a grueling examination by the theologians at Poitiers was given the troops to lead into battle against the English in 1429.

The exhibition at Twelve Oaks was inspired by a pilot project first presented at Coulan (the chateau where Joan was held prisoner). These incredibly realistic figures were created by Bermans, Ltd., a division of Bermans and Nathans. The figures have been sculpted in fiberglass and then magnificently costumed especially for the current U.S. tour.

The characters are presented in five vignettes depicting the most memorable times of the French Saint's life: Joan with her peasant family, Joan at the French court, Joan at war, Joan on trial and Joan in martyrdom. The exhibition is staged in Center Court at Twelve Oaks. School tours, photo classes and art students are all welcome.

Brownie treat

Those smiles on the faces of Brownie scouts in Northville Troop No. 211 prove that stirring up a treat is rewarding, especially when the cookies are destined for the veterans' hospital. The Brownies received a citation from VFW Post 4012 for their efforts. It was presented by Lloyd and Betty Morgan as Leaders Jan Hood and Sheila Henderson watched.
