TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Cooked garbage

This was the result when fire destroyed an Arco Disposal rubbish truck on Eight Mile near Novi Road June 19. Driver Tony Conella was not hurt when he jumped out of the truck when it caught fire, but the cab was entirely destroyed and the fire cooked the underside of the entire truck, causing $35,000 worth of damage. Cause of the fire has not been determined, said Northville Fire Chief Jim Allen, although fire officials suspect an electrical short may have started it. This is the first fire ever for the Canton-based Arco Disposal. Allen said another dump truck caught fire June 14 on Novi Road, but the truck belonged to B and J Disposal and the damage was minimal.

Easier enabling law sought

Two county status under study

Without siding with either county, the Northville City Council has formally requested introduction of a bill that would make it easier for Northville to become entirely part of Wayne or Oakland.

Under the present law, should Northville want to come under the jurisdiction of only one county, it must gain the majority concurrence of voters in both counties.

Under a proposal suggested and now to be introduced by Northville's four legislators, the decision would be made only by local voters.

Although the exact wording of the bill has not yet been developed, one city councilman guessed it would authorize only one ballot question — which of the two counties should it be, Wayne or Oakland?

Presumably, if an election is held the question of whether or not Northville should remain part of both counties would not be provided, guessed Councilman Stanley Johnston.

In other words, if an election is called — either by petition of the people or by resolution of council — the dual allegiance effectively will have been eliminated. The voters, at that point, will be picking the county they prefer.

Although previous single county legislation introduced on behalf of the City of Milan was blocked, Northville legislators feel their bill will have a better chance of gaining approval of both houses — primarily because it will affect only Northville and not all dual-county cities in Michigan.

(Besides Northville and Milan, the only other cities in the state that are located in two counties are Lansing and Memphis).

Representative Roy Smith (R-Saline), who introduced the measure for Milan, also predicted the Northville bill would have a better chance of passage. His own bill, he explained, was meant to aid Milan but it permitted easier elections for all dual-county cities.

Northville council members also noted that unlike Milan, there is a great political or economic loss by one county or another if Northville dumps one of them.

Although Northville council members have discussed and then shelved the county question in past years, the matter was given fresh impetus by the most recent taxing inequities in the two halves of the city.

The Headlee Amendment approved by Michigan voters in November spotlighted these inequities, although they exist with or without Headlee, councilmen pointed out in requesting the legislation.

Northville's legislators — Senators R. Robert Geake and Douglas Ross, and Representatives Jack Kirksey and Richard Fessler — suggested the legislation as the only effective means eliminating the county practice of forcing a Northville taxpayer on one side of Eight Mile to pay more taxes than the taxpayer on the opposite side, even though their properties are of equal value.

While the bill to be introduced is being channeled through both houses at Lansing, local officials will be studying the advantages and disadvantages of being within the jurisdiction of Wayne or Oakland.

Ideally, by the time the legislation becomes law the community will have had sufficient opportunity to examine the advantages and disadvantages to intelligently vote, suggested city officials.

One area where a difference of opinion appears to exist is over political boundaries. A state official suggested single county status would not change legislative or congressional districts, but a Northville official observed that the political districts probably would be adjusted to follow the new county line.

If the latter proves true, two of Northville's state legislators will be losing part of their district because of their own doing — introducing the bill making single county status easier to achieve.

It remains to be seen how supportive of the measure the four legislators will be if, indeed, it could mean loss of constituency.

Does conflict of interest exist on water board?

A special meeting will be held at 8 p.m. tonight to discuss possible conflicts of interest on the part of some water and sewer commission members in connection with the North Beacon Woods subdivision sewer system on Eight Mile.

Nate Whiteside, 20173 West Whipple, and Thomas Dasher, 20180 East Whipple, told the Northville Township Board of Trustees Thursday that they wanted a clarification of the interests of Water and Sewer Commission Chairman Robert Terwin and Commissioner Edward McNeely in the sewer system project. Whiteside told the board he felt McNeely and Terwin had acted inappropriately in the matter, using their positions on the commission to further their own interests.

Terwin's concrete pipe company supplied concrete pipe to the contractor, statewide, who built the sewer in North Beacon Woods.

But Terwin said by telephone Monday that the water and sewer commission does not have anything to do with approving the sewer and does not vote upon whether the sewer should be approved or deeded to the township.

Township Engineer L.W. Mosher approved the sewer system in a letter to the Water and Sewer Department June 21. It will appear for review on the water and sewer commission agenda but not for a vote.

Terwin said his company regularly supplies Statewide Contractors with concrete pipe and that Statewide only got the contract to put the sewer into North Beacon Woods on Eight Mile because it was low bidder in a sealed bid process.

"Statements made at the township board meeting were very irresponsible," Terwin said. He said he would listen to the tapes to decide what action, if any, he would take about the statements.

McNeely said that although he and his wife received substantial compensation for a sewer line easement which will run through their property, he had no special knowledge by being a part of the water and sewer commission and had no conflict of interest.

"I have no control over the plans of a developer," McNeely said. "The North Beacon Woods plans did not come before the water and sewer commission, and we did not vote on any kind of approval."

He said it is up to township Engineer L.W. Mosher to advise them whether a sewer system meets regulations.

Terwin said that two previous water and sewer commissioners, Leonard Klein and William McDermott had also been in the concrete pipe business without any conflict of interest.

"If I did have any influence I would have sold a lot of pipe in Northville township during the past five years," Terwin said. "My position on the water and sewer commission does not help my company one bit. This is the first time I have supplied even one penny's worth of pipe in Northville township."

Both Terwin and McNeely will attend the special meeting Wednesday.

In other board action, it was agreed that the township board will work more closely with the township economic development corporation (EDC) from now on.

Citizen's idea prods planning for recreation

One man's dream has caused the Northville Township Board of Trustees to dig deeper in its pocket and come up with $2,000 for an exhaustive study of recreation needs in Northville township.

The board was going to have the study done anyway, sooner or later, but had planned to wait until the Northville township master plan was finished with revisions in December.

But somehow Al Hauser's appearance pried open the township coffers. Board members were impressed because Hauser has something that no one else representing recreation interests has ever had before — a plan.

Hauser is no designer. He is president of the gigantic Northville Soccer Association, which handles 42 teams made up of 713 kids of all ages, shapes and sexes. But Hauser is worried about

Band revolts, won't march

By KEN KOVACS

Members of the Northville High School Marching Band recently said that they will not march next year.

Approximately two thirds of the total band members met June 14 to discuss what they called "unfair conditions" that existed this past school year. By a majority vote the students determined that they would protest these conditions by refusing to march.

"We will not participate in pep band at football games, the Homecoming parade or in half-time shows," they said in an open letter sent to school board members and the superintendent of schools.

The students cited an out-dated music library, worn-out instruments and uniforms that "make it embarrassing to go out on the field," as reasons for their decision not to march.

More specifically, they said the music is yellowed and crumbling and scotch-taped together and that they felt they shouldn't have to use Xeroxed copies of the Star Spangled Banner at commencement exercises, as some band members did this year.

The letter also pointed out that some of the band instruments are 20 years old and some uniforms are even older.

Robert Williams, instrumental music teacher at the high school and director of the marching band, said that the situation is even worse than the students outlined in their letter.

"I have been talking about this for years," he said in a telephone interview last week. "The music program at Northville High School has practically been destroyed."

"It seems that certain programs are always fully funded, despite financial difficulties," he said. "But the music program has suffered so many cuts that it is slowly dying."

"My position is the same as it has been in the past, rather than kill the program step by step, why don't they (members of the school board) just do away with it totally."

A hard blow was dealt to the music department this past school year when some $10,000 worth of band instruments and equipment was stolen from the band room. On three different occasions saxophones, microphones, a tape recorder and other equipment was taken.

Though some students say they know

- 65 to lose CETA jobs
- Punch card voting praised
- Garbage collection to cost $40

HOWELL—About 65 CETA (Comprehensive Training and Employment Act) employees throughout Livingston County have been notified their jobs are set to be axed September 30, due to a new 18-month employment limitation.

GENOA—Edwin L. Jorae, 24, of Ann Arbor, has been hired as the new Genoa Township assessor at a salary of $16,000.

BRIGHTON—The new punch card "votomatic" system was a complete success, according to Brighton School Board President Ray Keech. "Every single person who talked to me said they liked it very much," he said. "There were no problems at all."

PINCKNEY—Denied once for a 5.95

mill hike needed to open a new elementary school, the Pinckney School Board has voted to try again with an identical issue on August 6.

HOWELL—Livingston County ranked second in 1976 and 1977 in the state in percentage of its labor and proprietor's earnings originating in finance, insurance and real estate.

SOUTH LYON—A city council must hold an open meeting when it wishes to discuss the course of action to be taken in resolving a dispute between the police department and the council, the State Attorney General has ruled. Meanwhile, it has been learned that a permanent injunction has been issued by the Oakland County Court forbidding three council members from committing violations of the state's open meeting act. Named were Claude Danielson, Reynold Sweet and Glenn Hoots.

GREEN OAK—Green Oak Township, as usual, will have a dust control program this year. But for the first time, private roads will not receive dust-arresting oil.

NOVI—In what it describes as "the spirit of energy conservation," the Novi school administration has proposed operating district offices and schools only four days a week this summer.

NOVI—Following a two and one-half hour discussion by both Novi Am-balance and Am-Care Ambulance representatives regarding the benefits the community could expect from their respective services, the city council was unable to reach a consensus on an endorsement.

WIXOM—Mayor Lillian Spencer will be unopposed for re-election in November, but a total of five candidates have filed nominating petitions for three vacancies on the Wixom City Council in the general election.

WIXOM—Homeowners here will have to pay an annual $40 garbage collection fee under a resolution adopted by the city council if they want the city to continue to collect their rubbish after June 30.

In teachers' negotiations

Opposing teams prepare for battle

Members of the two negotiating teams are gearing up for the "real debate and negotiations" which should start sometime during the next two weeks.

The Northville Board of Education team has met with the Northville Education Association team five times since April 26, attempting to come up with a contract agreement for district teachers prior to the September 1 expiration of the current three-year agreement.

During the first three sessions the NEA team presented its proposals and the board team followed with its own in the next few sessions. The board team's final presentation, that of salary offerings, was expected at a meeting today between the two groups.

Thus far the areas which have been presented and discussed briefly include recognition of the association's rights and responsibilities, teachers' rights and responsibilities, grievance procedures, compensation, working conditions, leaves of absence, protection of teachers, layoffs and recalls, teacher evaluations, strikes and sanctions and the school year calendar.

The board of education team also is currently bargaining with local 547 of the International Union of Operators and Engineers which represents the school district's maintenance, custodial and cafeteria employees.

This contract expires July 1 and the two groups have met almost daily during the past week in an attempt to come to an agreement.

A board team spokesman said that they are hopeful an agreement will be reached before next week.

One man's dream prods action on recreation plan the lack of adequate playing facilities in the area.

"Everyone talks about what a wonderful program we have. We have a lot of moral support," Hauser told the board Thursday night. "But where do I get a place for the kids to kick a ball?"

He told the board of muddy, uneven fields, often with tall grass which cannot be cut because of union rules. He said the gate to a field at the Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon has been locked when games are scheduled, fields at Meads Mill and the Fish Hatchery are unusable, and that local baseball diamonds are hopeless. Most of all, Hauser criticized the township and city for failing to make any concentrated effort toward building a real recreation center.

"Everyone has said a lot of things, but nobody has really taken action," he said. "Everyone is talking about money, but what good is getting the money if you don't know what you want?"

At Thursday night's meeting, Hauser dramatically unveiled what he wants — a 130-acre super recreation center, with eight soccer/football fields, eight baseball diamonds, tennis courts, a swimming pool, jogging track, horseshoes and shuffleboard.

Eyes aight, Hauser explained how parking would be near the fields, grass would be kept green with sprinkling systems, lighted courts and fields would allow people to play sports at night and enough space would be available so everyone who wanted to play could play.

The cost of the venture? Hauser did not know, but guessed at perhaps $4 to $5 million.

The board was delighted with Hauser's plan, but soon discussion came to the same conclusion:

Before you build a recreation center, you need a source of financing — like the federal government. To get a source of financing, you need a planner's analysis. And to get a planner's analysis, you must commission a planner and spend $2,000 from township funds.

While Trustee John Swienkowski reminded the board that federal revenue sharing and community block grant funds from the federal government are already allocated for the next three years, the rest of the trustees thought it would be possible to at least get a start on some sort of recreation project.

Swienkowski agreed, and moved that the board spend $2,000 on the study. Hauser told the board he did not care whose plan was used in the end — as long as there was a plan.

He asked the township board to meet with Northville city officials and said he would make the same presentation before the city, asking them to meet with the township.

The consulting firm's planner, Mark Horning, will come up with solid figures to show whether Northville will need eight or eighty soccer fields in 1985, and Horning's study may be the basis by which Northville gets the federal or corporate funds to build a huge recreation complex here.

Right now, though, Hauser stands alone — the only man with a dream on paper.

Leslie Abitz honored at Albion College

Leslie C. Abitz, a sophomore from Northville has been named to the dean's list at Albion College for the spring semester.

To earn this honor, a student must have a 3.4 or better grade point average (based on a 4.0 system) while carrying a full class schedule.

Leslie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger E. Abitz, 41844 Sunnydale Lane.

who the thieves are — some of their fellow classmates who recently graduated — the instruments were never recovered and no one was prosecuted.

Lawrence Nichols, superintendent of schools, said last week that steps are being taken to assist the music department.

"I am not pleased with the situation," he said. "We intend to do what we can. We are in the process right now of replacing the stolen instruments."

Members of the board of education, who received the band students' letter over the weekend, were not prepared to answer the students' and band boosters' questions at Monday's board meeting.

"We do not wish to respond until we know we are dealing with facts," Board President Douglas Whitaker said. "There have been a lot of statements made about the band that are not true."

Other board members said they wanted more input.

"It would seem to me that we have a true communications problem," Charles Peltz, board treasurer said. "I have known that there were some problems in the music program, but I was never aware that the degree of concern by students and parents was this great."

"I really don't know enough about the situation at this point to take any kind of action," Peltz concluded.

Nichols was scheduled to meet today with the president of the band boosters organization, the high school principal and other administrators to discuss the band students' concerns.

"We will have a response to the letter and will attempt to answer many of the financial questions at our board meeting July 9," he promised.

Regardless of any action that may be taken by the board between now and the opening of school, band members say they still will not have a marching band.

"No matter what you (the school board) do we will not march," Nancy Orr, a band spokesperson said Monday night. "When we made the decision we knew it was a final one."

good, and it may hurt the community if the Wayne county EDC continues to take over local projects, Trustee John Swienkowski said Thursday.

"The communication between the local EDC and the township should be better," Swienkowski said.

The comments were sparked by a letter to the township board in which EDC chairman Larry Sheehan described how the local EDC has transferred jurisdiction to the county EDC for development of a 48 lane bowling alley to be constructed by the Wil-O-Mac Corporation in Northville township.

The county got ahold of the project because the Wil-O-Mac Corporation said it did not know a local EDC existed. Swienkowski lamented the low profile of the township EDC.

"The Wayne County EDC is trying to get as many feathers in its cap as it can. I've no objection to them sponsoring projects in Northville township but they should keep the local group informed," Swienkowski said.

Swienkowski suggested that any meetings between the county and township about the county's next project, plans for the Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon should include the township EDC.

"We should keep the local group informed," he said. Other board members agreed.

Construction of the library addition at the city hall is proceeding on schedule. With the foundation now in place and the walls starting to rise, the facility will soon take a more recognizable shape, officials said. The addition south of the city hall will be one story, while that portion of the addition along the east wall of the city hall will be two stories. The mezzanine floor above what originally had been the library will be extended over the entire room, and the lower level of the existing south and east walls will be removed to create one large library room. The second floor level above part of the library will be used for other city hall functions.

At art fair

Northville special ed students have a ball

It was an art fair and much, much more.

As in any such event there were arts and crafts for sale, but at the third annual Northville Special Education Art Fair conducted at Parkway School in Dearborn Heights, the emphasis was on having a good time.

"We just had a lot of love," Lynne Thompson, chairperson of the event said. "We had a lot of involvement from staff members, students and others who volunteered their time. It really couldn't have gone better."

Ms. Thompson, the lone art teacher in the Northville Institution Special Education Program (ISEP), estimated that some 500 retarded and handicapped kids mostly from Plymouth Center participated in the fair, which took place June 11, 12, and 13 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

There was cotton candy and pop corn for the students to enjoy as well as a variety of entertainment.

A talented jazz band played the first day of the fair, while a rock and roll band, a minstrel group and a mime troop performed all three days. The most popular entertainment, however, was a dunko booth, in which a volunteer repeatedly was dumped into three feet of water.

The arts and crafts, which included clay items, key chains, plaques and even a six-foot giraffe, were made by staff with help from students. The money received from the purchase of these items, however, went directly to the kids — Ms. Thompson said that approximately $350 went to the students.

In order to raise money to cover the cost of the event, Ms. Thompson and a friend drew a special logo and had it printed on T-shirts. About $1,600 was raised from the sale of these shirts.

In addition, the Plymouth Center Parent's Association donated $200 to the cause and many other groups in Northville and other communities donated various services and equipment.

English teachers visit assessment work shop

Two Northville High School English teachers last week attended a writing workshop conducted by the English Composition Board (ECB) at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

John Donahue and Marilyn Hopping participated in the three-day workshop June 18-21, which was centered around the assessment program for students entering the College of Literature, Science and the Arts at U of M.

Some 140 English and creative writing teachers from secondary schools and community colleges throughout Michigan attended one and two-hour sessions late into the evening all three days.

The teachers took written tests, then evaluated and discussed the various parts of the program. Workshop leaders — U of M English department faculty members — also made themselves available to interested teachers during meals, coffee breaks and evening hours.

Participants were requested to prepare for the meetings by improving a piece of writing, reading several related articles and selecting a recent student writing to share with members of one of the small groups.

At the end of the workshop teachers were asked to prepare a written assessment of the program and also to participate in an ECB newsletter to be published soon.

Ms. Hopping and Mr. Donahue will conduct a workshop in August to share their experiences with other English teachers at Northville High School.

THOMAS COOK

Harvard swim star graduates

Thomas K. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.K. Cook of 20268 Longwood Court in Northville Township, formerly of 118 Ely Drive South, has received a BA degree in economics from Harvard College.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook traveled to Cambridge, Massachusetts to attend the June 7 commencement exercises.

A 1974 graduate of Northville High School, he was a swimming team co-captain and a member of the 1973 state championship swimming team.

At Harvard, Cook achieved the dean's list recognition. He also was selected for the All-Ivy Swimming Squad while participating on Harvard's varsity swimming team.

Cook will reside in New York City and pursue a career in banking.

Nowka gets township appointments

Northville Township Board Trustee James Nowka has been named liaison to the Northville Township Economic Development Corporation (EDC), Supervisor Don Thomson announced Thursday night.

Nowka succeeds William Bohan, president of the township planning commission, who resigned from the EDC last week.

Thomson also named Nowka to the planning commission. Thomson, who was the township board's liaison to the planning commission, resigned from the commission last week.

Luckily for his time schedule, Nowka recently resigned from the Northville Recreation Commission on which he had served for two years.

Trustee David Mitchell was named as Nowka's replacement on the recreation commission.

Thomson still has to name additional people to serve on the water and sewer commission, but he'll do that at a special meeting tonight.

GOOD TIME FOR WINE
by Jim Roth

Liqueurs, which are sweet and often have a brandy base, make fine aperitifs or after dinner drinks. They come in many different tastes and potencies. If your taste runs to the fruity, try a Cherry Kirsch. If you like a chocolate taste, try creme de cocoa. There are mint flavors, peach flavors, and much else. Liqueurs are generally served "straight up", but some are preferred over crushed ice. You may serve with coffee or by adding a little to some whipped cream, or pouring directly on ice cream adds zest to any dessert.

There is a fine choice of liqueurs, wines and other beverages on display at our store, GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. If you need help in making your selection, talk to the experts on our staff. A bottle of wine can highlight a meal and add a touch of gaiety to any occasion. We can not only suggest a wine to complement your meal, but also a cordial, for the finishing touch. Open: Mon thru Sat 9am-10pm, Sun Noon-6pm.

WINE WISDOM:
Open a bottle of red wine about 45 minutes before serving to allow it to breathe and sediment, if any, to settle.

Police Blotter

Patient injured in auto mishap

A Northville State Hospital patient was hurt when he ran out onto Seven Mile and was struck by a car Sunday, State police reported.

Dennis Shoewater, 20, of Detroit was hurt when he dashed across Seven Mile in the path of an oncoming car belonging to Gerald Mark Freedman, 40, of Detroit. Witnesses said Shoewater stepped out of the trees and ran out onto the road at full speed. Freedman tried to swerve but hit Shoewater, state police said.

Shoewater was released Monday from Wayne County General and sent back to the state hospital.

Shoewater did not have a grounds pass but was on a walk with five other mentally ill patients and an attendant the day of the accident. He became upset and ran from the group into the trees, said Hospital Director John Reynolds. Before security patrol officers could find him, Shoewater ran into the road and was hit.

A mentally retarded resident of the Plymouth Center for Human Development set his room on fire this week, township police reported.

William Grahl, 21, set a small fire in a clothes cabinet in his room at No. 501 Maloney Hall on Sunday afternoon. By the time firemen arrived, the fire had been extinguished by security personnel.

Although Grahl has a history of arson attempts, he somehow managed to obtain a packet of matches. He was put under detention and observation, and the ward supervisor said Grahl will be placed in a more secure environment, police said.

A Northville man will stand trial Thursday on charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. Stony Lepar Bruce, 19, of Northville township, was arrested by township police after he was found at the home of Christian Lorenz, 20, of Northville township. Stereo equipment worth more than $2,500 was found in Bruce's car, which he was driving down the driveway just as Lorenz came home, police reported.

Bruce said he recovered the stereo equipment from the lawn after he arrived during a robbery attempt by two men. Bruce said he was keeping the equipment in his car so no one would steal it, police said.

Bruce is currently free on $300 personal bond.

A breaking and entering attempt of a prank scared John Priest, 18, from his sleep last week, as someone removed the screen window above his bed and reached a hand inside, Northville City police reported.

Priest was suddenly awakened at 1:01 a.m. Wednesday when a hand touched his shoulder through the open window. He and his mother checked outside and observed someone running through their back yard into the darkness. Police have not determined whether it was a true larceny attempt or whether it was only a prank. Prank or not, police said removing a screen from a window is "breaking," a hand through a window is "entering."

A strange accident involving only one car left the driver injured Saturday, city police said.

Gary Roy Koponen, 19, of Northville, was east bound on Eight Mile at 6:18 a.m., just east of Randolph, when he heard a loud bang and felt the car lose control.

Two boys witnessed the accident as the car swung around and went off the road.

Cause of the accident was two flat tires on the passenger side.

Koponen was treated at St. Mary Hospital.

New trees for sub

More than 100 evergreens that are sturdy four-footers have been planted by Angelo Spagnoli, developer of North Beacon Woods Subdivision, in the West Eight Mile Subdivision in the township bordering part of Taft Colony Subdivision and part of Whipple. In accordance with a court judgment last November Spagnoli says he has gone ahead and planted many more trees than have been removed. Only three or four larger than four-inches in diameter, such as the one in the picture, had to go for utility lines, he says. He adds that he expects first models to go up at the entrance boulevard on Eight Mile by the end of July. Cheapest price tag, he anticipates, will be $140,000.

New housing booms in Novi

Novi and Wixom topped Northville in new housing construction last year, according to a just recently issued report of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

In Novi's case, a brisk building pace boosted the city into the top ten of all southeast Michigan communities in the number of new multi-family structures.

A total of 272 multiple units were authorized in Novi, ninth in the listing.

Overall, for both multiples and single family housing, however, Novi was eclipsed in 1978 by several other communities in the seven county SEMCOG region.

In this area, Novi's combined total of 582 new units made it the leader, edging out second place Wixom with a total of 390 units (265 multiples and 125 singles).

Northville Township showed a total of 205 units, all of them single family dwellings. In the Wayne portion of the City of Northville, only three singles and two multiple permits were issued, while in the Oakland County section four single units (no multiples) were authorized.

The township experienced five housing demolitions, the city one.

Plymouth Township issued a total of 311 permits, all of them for single family units, while the City of Plymouth issued 88 permits — 70 of them for multiples.

Easily the biggest building boom in Wayne County occurred in Canton Township where a total of 1,813 permits were issued — 1,577 of them for single family units. Those 1,813 permits represented the highest of any community in all of SEMCOG counties. (Second high was Sterling Heights with 1,700, while Farmington Hills placed fourth

The long-awaited completion of the Wing Street extension, from Fairbrook to Seven Mile, is now a reality. The newly paved extension, which has been under construction for more than a year and on the planning board for nearly a decade, is expected to relieve some of the traffic pressure on Center Street, particularly during the racing season. Upon the advice of the police department, council decided to maintain a stop sign at Fairbrook rather than make Wing a through street with the stop on Fairbrook.

Schoolcraft grad lends hand

Oil exploration gets local boost

Bruce Ellis, a 1978 graduate of Schoolcraft College's petroleum technology program, is working with new technology which provides same-day evaluation of underground rock formations in exploratory drilling for oil.

Ellis works for the Phillips Petroleum Company. A picture of him working with new equipment appears in Phillips' current annual report publication.

According to the report, this new technology, high fidelity sonic waveform logging, has been tested successfully in the Texas panhandle. Additional tests are being made in several other areas this year.

The sonic waveform instruments and a companion computer are packaged inside a van-type truck and therefore can be easily moved to most drilling sites. The equipment is capable of identifying 183 types of underground rock from sound waves picked up by a sensitive instrument in the drill hole.

Ellis was a member of the college's first petroleum technology graduation class and now works installing and monitoring the Phillips exploration equipment.

According to geology instructor John Bedford, who helped develop and heads the college's three-year-old associate degree program, graduates have taken jobs across the country. Starting pay ranges from $1,200 a month plus fringes.

Schoolcraft's program was developed in cooperation with the National Science Foundation and an advisory committee from the Michigan petroleum industry. It requires 73-75 credit hours of study with emphasis in geology, and its graduates earn an associate in science degree.

It was specifically designed to provide students with the necessary skills or background to either begin work after graduation or transfer to a senior institution to continue their studies.

A detailed brochure, or other information about the Schoolcraft program, may be obtained by calling Bedford at 591-6400, extension 524 or by writing him at the college, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia 48152.

Police train for shootout

Wayne County Sheriff's national award-winning Executive Protection Training program will conduct its eighth annual exercise next month at the former Child Development Center in Northville, in preparation for the up and coming National Republican Convention scheduled here next year, according to the school's director Sergeant Raymond Megge.

The privately funded training school for police officers commonly referred to as POP (Protect Our Principal) was one of eight Wayne County projects to receive national recognition by NACO, the National Association of Counties. The awards will be presented to Wayne County Board Chairman Richard E. Manning at NACO's 44th Annual Conference in Kansas City July 15-16-17.

Megge emphasized that the training school is not a new proposition slapped together in the last few months.

"This is the school's eighth year of operation and our instructors include FBI agents,

"Furthermore," he said, "we do not rely on federal, state or county funds. All of our money is contributed by industry who also provide us with equipment. In return we help train their executive protection agents. It makes a nice combination."

"Residents living in the area of Northville, Livonia and the expressways leading to and from the Detroit-Metropolitan Airport are often confused and sometimes frightened by our exercises," Megge revealed.

"They're especially 'shook' when they see hooded 'terrorists' jumping from helicopters with submachine guns firing at one of our training convoys. Or when they are awakened at 3:00 a.m. by loud bomb blasts coming from the vicinity of Edward Hines Park or the Development Center grounds."

"The four-day training schedule is conducted in a para-military style for efficiency and to impress the students with its seriousness," Megge added.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE AND CHIROPRACTIC

When blood pressure is not within normal range, a very common treatment is to prescribe a drug which controls the blood pressure by one of many mechanisms. The drug may work directly on the nerve system, or in reference to kidney function. Sometimes the drug is a combination of these two factors.

The effort in natural health care is to determine why the blood pressure is abnormal and to remove that underlying cause, thus avoiding the possible harmful side effects of drugs.

These natural methods include evaluating the nervous system, which controls and coordinates every function of the body and a complete nutritional analysis.

Mosher: EPA will act the day manholes pop

When manhole covers blow off and raw sewage flows into the Rouge river, then maybe something will be done by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to alleviate the sewer situation in Northville Township.

That's the analysis of township engineer, J. W. Mosher. He told the planning commission as much Monday night.

"If the state institutions like DeHoCo and the Child Development Center start using their sewers again, this township will be way over capacity," Mosher told the commission. "When the manhole covers pop off the Rouge River interceptor, and raw sewage falls over into the river, we are in grave danger of being stopped from building entirely — the government will stop anybody from building anything in Northville township," he said.

The main problem is a bottleneck in a pipe just below the Streets of Wilcox. Mosher said, from Seven Mile to Wilcox. All the sewage coming down from the north in a 24-inch pipe is suddenly squeezed into a 16-inch pipe for four miles before it can be released into another 24-inch pipe.

It's this 16-inch pipe that worries Mosher the most, he said. It is supposed to hold 11 cubic feet of sewage (c.f.s.) rushing down the pipe every second. But clear water is infiltrating the pipe from the ground, using up space. And as more and more houses, businesses and industry are built, all that sewage just isn't going to fit into the system.

"As it stands, we will have trouble serving the people who have already built sewers," Mosher said.

The planning commission wanted to hear Mosher's estimation of how serious the sewer situation is, because they have approved plans for six or seven new projects in Northville township and new applications from developers arrive every month.

Mosher told the board that everyone knows the sewer system of Wayne County is way over capacity. Northville township is not the only one with problems, he said. But Northville township is worse off than many other communities because when it was just a tiny rural area, township officials bought only 1.6 c.f.s. sewer capacity, while other more far-sighted communities took 8 or 9 or 10 c.f.s.

Since then, Mosher said we have purchased more c.f.s. from Livonia and other places. But it is still not enough.

Northville township is now using about 6.6 c.f.s., Mosher estimated.

Right now, we are not using that much space in the pipe. But if DeHoCo puts 520 prisoners in the old women's section and the county plans to turn the old Wayne County Child Development Center into a senior citizen's home with 600 people in the first phase, Mosher warned the commission that Northville township could be in for trouble.

The super sewer — a giant sewer going straight through Northville would be ideal, but the EPA turned it down, Mosher said.

Wayne County is now doing another study of sewer needs and will beg its case again before the EPA in August 1981, Mosher added. But meanwhile, the sewage just keeps on flowing.

"We give no guarantee to a developer about sewer capacity when he applies here; it's at his own risk," Mosher said.

"But to get the last two subdivisions approved I had to tell the (Department of Natural Resources) DNR how great our sewer system was, and how much extra capacity we had," he said.

The DNR and EPA and Wayne County have the final say about sewers and they seemed determined to play an interminable waiting game, Mosher said. If Northville township — by no means the only culprit in the sewer capacity dilemma — was to meet with these governing bodies, it would only make them refuse to approve any further building permits in Northville township, while allowing other communities with vigorous building going on, to continue depleting the sewer system, he said.

Fred Greenspan, a developer, said maybe the EPA would only give some relief when the sewer situation was pushed to a crisis.

"If you want something done anymore, you have to push it," Greenspan said. "Unless there is a crisis situation ... nothing gets done anymore."

Plans kicked around in the meeting for Northville township to build its own bypass for the small sewer or build a holding tank reservoir to keep sewage flow even given up. Mosher estimated a $10 million pricetag for a four-mile bypass sewer and could not estimate what a holding tank would cost.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP HOUSING REHABILITATION PROGRAM TO THE RESIDENTS OF NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP

Northville Township is participating in a housing rehabilitation grant program with the cooperation of Wayne County. Housing rehabilitation and repair grants are available to eligible homeowners who are interested in making needed repairs and in improving their homes.

Under a federally funded Home Improvement Program approved by the Township Board, direct grants will be given to homeowners for repair, electrical or plumbing installation or other improvements needed now or in the near future to bring the home up to code. Expansion or room additions will be available to large families showing a need for increased space.

Applications are now being taken by the Township's Housing Grant Administrator at the Township offices, 41800 Six Mile Road. Only Northville Township residents who own and live in their homes in one of the designated areas are eligible. This includes residents buying their homes on land contracts or mortgages.

A homeowner may receive up to $4,000 to cover the cost of needed repairs and additional improvements if it is determined that the latter will be needed in the foreseeable future.

The purpose of the program is to provide an opportunity for home improvements to people who cannot otherwise meet minimum housing standards and it is hoped that senior citizens and others on limited, fixed incomes will take advantage of this opportunity.

Built, laid by Frid brothers

Old pipe lasts 40 years

"It's amazing it held up this long," said one of the workmen on the Randolph Drain project at Center Street.

He was referring to the hand-made storm tiles installed just west of Center nearly 45 years ago by Cyril and Sidney Frid and their brother-in-law, George Lockhart.

All three are still residents of Northville and all in the eighties.

Cy remembers installing the tiles on weekends. "We set up our own forms, got ourselves a little cement mixer, and poured and cured them ourselves. Then we put them in the ground, replacing an open ditch that ran alongside our laundry business," he recalled.

Workmen, who last week installed giant replacement pipes as part of the Randolph Drain were amazed that the old tiles were so tightly fitted. "Today's pipe is interlocking; that old stuff in the ground is just laid end to end but it's almost leak proof. For making them (pipe) themselves they did a real good job. One of them (George) was down here watching us and telling us about how they made and installed the old pipe."

The Frids had purchased the Northville Laundry business in 1925. Originally, it was located in a building at northeast corner of Cady and Center Street. Later the business was moved to the foot of Cady (east end), occupying quarters in the old Stinson aircraft factory building.

In 1935 the Frids erected a new laundry building on North Center — where Friendly Ice Cream is now located.

In 1946 the Frids sold the business (but not the building) to Acel Dayton, Edwin Male and Walter Starnon. Then in June, 1967 Harvey P. and the late Richard C. Ritchie purchased the business.

The building was destroyed by fire in 1972.

He was among the 86 veterinary students to receive the degree during MSU's morning commencement exercises on campus, June 9. Hooding ceremonies for the new veterinary graduates took place that afternoon in the sanctuary of the Peoples Church in East Lansing.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene M. van Ee, 49151 Ridge Court, and a graduate of Northville High.

New housing booms in Novi

at 1,552 — two units fewer than in third place Clinton Township).

Farmington issued only 44 permits — 28 of them for single family units.

Commerce township building was up, with 235 permits issued — all but four of them for single family units.

Here are some of the other figures of communities in the circulation area of the Sliger Home Newspapers:

Lyon Township, 100 singles and eight multiples; South Lyon, 41 singles; Wolverine Lake, 16 singles; Brighton, 44 singles; Brighton Township, 248 singles; Green Oak Township, 129 singles, 16 multiples; Genoa Township, 121 singles; Howell Township, 69 singles, four multiples; Howell, eight singles, 106 multiples; Hamburg Township, 252 singles; Pinckney, 22 singles; Hartland Township, 143 singles; Northfield Township, 31 singles; and Salem Township 41 singles.

The number of permits for residential construction in Southeast Michigan continued to rise during 1978, according to the SEMCOG report.

The number of new housing units authorized increased from 27,252 in 1977 to 27,849 in 1978. This total includes an increase in single family housing units from 19,463 to 19,779, and 253 more housing units in multifamily housing.

"I'm comfortable with the leveling off in housing construction during 1978 shown by the report," said Justine Barnes, SEMCOG housing subcommittee chairperson and Westland councilwoman.

"Although there was only a small increase in housing construction over 1977, there was healthy activity in Southeast Michigan's housing industry. Looking ahead to the next six months, we want to see how interest rates, cost of materials, inflation and energy will affect housing construction in the seven-county area."

The city of Detroit showed a 56.3 percent increase in the number of new housing units authorized, the largest percentage increase in the region during 1978. Macomb County recorded the largest numerical increase in housing permits with 1117 more permits issued in 1978 than in 1977. Washtenaw and Livingston counties also showed overall increases in housing permits issued while Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair and Wayne counties issued somewhat fewer permits in 1978.

Nears completion

Installation of the giant new Randolph Drain tile across Center Street has been completed and workmen are expected to complete rebuilding of the street to permit its reopening to traffic soon. At left is the end of the new tile adjacent to Friendly Ice Cream's parking lot. At this point, the storm drain will remain an open ditch. Partially visible is the old, smaller tile made and laid four decades ago by the Frid brothers of Northville. See story on this page.

SPEAKING for The Record
By BILL SLIGER

Last year this newspaper supported Donald Thomson when he defeated the incumbent Northville Township supervisor, Wilson Grier.

Exactly 11 months ago just prior to the August 8 primary election concern was expressed in this column about conditions in Northville Township under the leadership of Supervisor Grier: "At the very least an atmosphere has been created in Northville Township suggesting special consideration can be gained in return for personal favor."

And in the same column I criticized Supervisor Grier for seeking an honorary membership to Meadowbrook Country Club. At that time a director of the club declared he had blocked the attempt to gain an honorary membership for Grier.

Now that same Meadowbrook director — Leonard Klein — is being given credit for sponsoring an honorary Meadowbrook membership for the new township supervisor.

That's the way it is, folks. Supervisor Donald Thomson (The Record's Mr. Clean Candidate) is hitting the ball down the lush fairways of Meadowbrook CC for free.

He's quick to point out that he must pay caddy or cart fees, and for any food he might eat, or refreshments he drinks, or golf balls, clubs, clothing or any other accessories he might purchase.

But he isn't paying the $10,000 that other new golfing members must cough up for stock. And he doesn't pay the $130 in monthly dues and fees for the luxury of playing golf on a private course.

I learned by chance about the supervisor's fringe benefits at Meadowbrook. A former township official who has never held this writer in high esteem wondered aloud about my dual set of ethics.

Can it be that what was bad for Grier is good for Thomson?

The supervisor defends the arrangement.

He was told by another supervisor, for example, that he was being accorded an honor. And Lee Holland, the township treasurer, said he would be silly not to accept. And besides, Thomson rationalizes, there are no special favors he could do for Meadowbrook.

"As supervisor I am the township assessor. And we have designated the county as our assessing agent. And I am chairman of the board meetings. I have no other powers."

Such a light schedule should leave the supervisor with plenty of time for golf.

Thomson also notes that he, unlike Grier, did not seek the membership ... for whatever that's worth. And he contends that previous township supervisors have accepted honorary Meadowbrook memberships.

Let's check that. We know Grier didn't. And before him there was Betty Lennox. She says she was never offered a membership. But Meadowbrook can be forgiven for that oversight. What would a woman do with a golf club membership, anyway?

The supervisor holding office prior to Lennox was already a longtime Meadowbrook member when he was elected. So Larry Wright couldn't have been so honored.

Gunnar Stromberg, Wright's predecessor, is retired and living in Port Charlotte, Florida. I had a long talk with him this week.

Gunnar did have an honorary Meadowbrook membership. He says it was the first one ever given a township official. "My wife and I ate out there a few times. The food was good," Gunnar reports in his still-thick Swedish accent.

In my opinion if Thomson wants to play golf regularly at Meadowbrook he ought to pay the going rates. There should be no special arrangements for any public officials ... or free lunches for police or fire chiefs, either.

It amazes me that there are still people who play these special favor games with elected officials. Meadowbrook should have no part of any such arrangement with public officials; and the latter ought to suppress temptation.

What private enterprise does in its conduct of business is between itself and the IRS. But public officials represent the interests of all people within their jurisdiction. And there should not be even the appearance of special consideration in return for favor granted.

I think Don Thomson is honest. But he is ill-advised and, presumably, easily misguided. Because I share his enthusiasm and love for the game of golf, I can understand his frustration. Frankly, I think he'd enjoy the game more if he paid his own freight.

All local governments ought to adopt a policy prohibiting such honorary benefits.

THOMAS BROOKOVER

Speaking for Myself

Encourage development?

RUTH TUTTLE

YES

We should encourage reasonable and well-planned growth and development. I emphasize "well-planned."

Development means many things: new businesses and buildings, improvement and renovation of older buildings. Change and development does not necessarily mean progress. But if we can plan well, we can have progress.

In many communities taxes are extremely high because the tax base — the value of the property — is relatively low. Land which is zoned industrial and commercial will be worth far more if it is developed.

To reduce taxes, we can either reduce city services or increase the tax base. But how often do people come forward and suggest that police patrols be reduced or the streets be plowed only after every other snow storm. We can control the number and cost of services, but we cannot reduce them.

We can, however, encourage progressive development in a number of ways, both directly and indirectly. Beautification programs encourage businessmen to improve their stores. And when we offer financial incentives like the Economic Development Corporation and the Industrial Development District, we encourage existing businessmen to renovate and new businessmen to locate here.

One of the additional values of an EDC is that it results in more citizen involvement and control.

Contrary to what some say, the truth is that commercial and industrial development do not necessarily mean an increase in cost to the city. If it is well-planned, costs can be kept to a minimum.

Even more important than what progress can mean for taxes is what it can mean for the quality of our lives. More business means more jobs. More business means better shopping because of a better choice of stores and because competition will keep prices down.

NO

Once we all fell into rank behind a mythical drummer and marched with blind fidelity to the tune of "progress" or "development." The cadence of our march quickened as we traveled toward expectations of greater personal wealth and freedom.

That parade went on in the 1950s and '60s when energy was plentiful, open space abundant, highways lightly traveled, air clean and water pure. In 1979 the parade continues, but its ranks have dwindled to a few — the real estate speculators, taxing municipalities and others who follow it zealously in pursuit of the almighty dollar.

Today the majority of us question the community benefits of unfettered growth and now march to a different tune of responsible development. The present majority has grown from a small cadre who fell from rank when they saw their blind fidelity turn into skyrocketing property taxes, congested roads, environmental pollution and urban sprawl overtaking their community.

The message here is not so simplistic as to categorically discourage development. In the 1970s the world has been formed anew, so we must think anew and plan anew toward community development. The cardinal point of my message is that development must be responsible in view of the interests of the residents of the community and the quality of their life. We can no longer pay slavish tribute to the former god of "increased tax base."

To despoil the land in the name of development is false logic for which our progeny will pay.

HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Most of the old one-room schoolhouses of Novi are gone, but John Richter still "sees" them every day "as plain as you see the modern ones."

Maybe that's because he is blind.

John Richter remembered the old schools while preparing to attend the 39th annual reunion of former students and faculty to be held Saturday at the "modern" Middle School North. He's the historian for the Novi Schools Reunion Committee. Old friend Bill McDermaid is president.

John and Bill agreed that "probably only two of the schools are still standing."

One, they said, is the Stone School at the southeast corner of Ten Mile and Napier. It's a church now.

According to John, the "Stone" School — a single room facility — got its name from a family living in the area. It was made of wood, not stone.

The other still existing Novi school isn't even located in Novi. It's located in Northville Township on the south side of Eight Mile, flanked now by the Maybury State Park. Interestingly, it's still operated as a school — a private one — and is named the Little Red Schoolhouse.

"It wasn't located in Novi, but most of the kids that went to school there lived in Novi, on the north side of Eight Mile Road. It really was called Novi Fractional," said John.

The other old schools to be represented at Saturday's reunion table:

Novi, Novi East, Novi West, Bassett,

Legislative deadline proposed

'Workers' compensation' reform moving ahead

By JACK KIRKSEY
State Representative

Action to reform Michigan's 67 year-old workers' compensation law moved forward on two fronts this past week.

In Grand Rapids and later in Muskegon three members of the House Republican Task Force on Workers' Compensation, of which I am a member, held hearings on our comprehensive report urging discussion of 24 issues associated with this complex issue. This week I will travel with the Task Force to Battle Creek for our third public hearing.

As you know, workers' compensation requires employers to provide insurance for those employees who may be injured on the job. The problems with the Michigan law as it exists today are many and complex.

Basically, however, employees complain that the benefits provided under the current law are lower than other nearby Great Lakes states while employers complain insurance rates are such that they are forcing business to locate outside Michigan.

Part of the problem is that many of our courts have greatly extended workers' compensation benefits to those in circumstances never envisioned when the original statute was written in 1912.

In fact, Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice Mary Coleman admitted as much last week when she said in a Battle Creek Speech that the Supreme Court made many fine legal distinctions in interpreting the current law.

"The accumulation of these nearly invisible changes in workers' compensation law is altering its fundamental character — and not for the better," she said.

The agreement by nearly everyone involved is, and has been, that workers' compensation in Michigan needs a drastic overhaul. So why the delay?

Delay can be traced to many individuals involved in the past reform efforts, but the basic problem is that no one group has the power to force changes 100 percent to their liking. In the past, none of the groups have been willing to compromise.

This year everyone recognizes that the longer the stalemate continues, the longer business and jobs will trickle away from Michigan. As the insurance premiums for workers' compensation benefits increase, so do the price of products. So, in fact, we are all paying the price for a system that is outdated and inequitable.

As a step towards recognizing the competing reform needs, the House Republican Caucus' Task Force report identified and discussed the complaints of each group: workers, employers, and their party interests.

The hearings which commenced in Muskegon and Grand Rapids last week were the start of a summer-long effort by those of us on the Task Force to gain citizen views on this vital subject of concern to the economic well being of our state.

The attendance was gratifying. At a late morning meeting in Grand Rapids, over 85 individuals assembled at the city commission chambers to attend the hearing. Many of those present asked that the law be changed so that the insurance premiums it imposes on businesses in the state are reduced.

The hearings will continue this week when we take testimony in Battle Creek and Jackson. At the same time, I am serving on a special task force appointed by the governor to examine workers' compensation. We will be meeting through the summer and hope to have specific legislation ready for introduction in the fall.

In a related action, my Republican colleague William R. Bryant, Jr. of Grosse Pointe Farms introduced a bill that would set a deadline for enacting workers' compensation reform legislation.

Under Representative Bryant's bill, the law would have to be reformed by September 30, 1980 or the present law would have to be re-enacted.

Though a special blue ribbon panel has been working towards developing a consensus plan to reform the workers' compensation law, the legislation Mr. Bryant proposes would keep the efforts on track.

An approach similar to this recently resulted in the successful reform of the Florida workers' compensation law. In that state, like in Michigan, business and the jobs they provide were deserting Florida for the nearby states of Georgia and Alabama because of the more balanced workers' compensation laws in those states.

The enactment of a deadline forces business and labor interests to work together to write a better law. The result was a bill which was enacted three weeks after being introduced and which did not give either side 100 percent of their goals, but did enhance worker benefits as well as reducing insurance costs for business by 15 percent.

Such an approach worked well in Florida. It would serve Michigan well to imitate it.

Chapman, Griswold, Putnam, Shirliff, and Durfee. All were eventually absorbed into the consolidated school districts of Novi, Northville or Walled Lake.

John attended Novi West, Bill attended "Old" Novi.

When Bill says "Old Novi" he means the second oldest in the Grand River-Nowi Road area. It stood on the west side of Novi Road, north of Grand River. It later was used as a convalescent home, and only recently was razed to make way for a fast food restaurant.

According to John, the oldest "four corners" Novi school — a log cabin — was located on the south side of Grand River, west of Novi Road near the former church building that served Novi Methodists.

John's school — Novi West — was razed in recent years, and few even knew it had been a school. It stood "about a block" west of Wixom Road on the north side of Grand River.

"Most folks will remember it as a tiny house. A lot of fine people went through that school. They entered many professions, and some of them served in the legislature."

Here, according to John, were the locations of the other schools:

BASSETT — Located at Thirteen Mile and Meadowbrook, named after the pioneering John Bassett family.

CHAPMAN — Located on the west side of Taft, just north of Nine. Named after the Judd Chapman family, it earlier had been named the Miller School. It was named after the Charles, Louis and Henry Miller family, important early members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville. Before its location in Northville, the Lutheran congregation held services in the Miller School. Still earlier it was called the Taft School, named after Pitts Tafts, one of the first pioneers of this area.

DURFEE — Located on the west side of Meadowbrook, between Eight Mile and Nine Mile, named after the Barton Durfee family.

GRISWOLD — Not to be confused with the school that once stood on the Dean Griswold farm off Griswold Road in Northville, this school building stood at the northwest corner of Beck and Thirteen Mile. This school also was named Chapman after the Homer Chapman family.

NOVI EAST — Located on the north side of Grand River, just east of Seeley Road.

PUTNAM — Also called the Sanford School, this school was named after Jonah Sanford and Clyde Putnam. It was located on the east side of Beck between Ten and Eleven Mile.

SHIRTLIFF — Located on the north side of Twelve Mile, "at the end of Taft," just east of the railroad. It was named after the Albert Shirliff family.

Jaycees plan big Fourth

Six parade bands slated

With just a week to go before Northville Jaycees stage their annual Fourth of July parade, it appears that at least a half dozen bands will be participating.

That's the word from James Abbey, parade chairman, who said the following bands definitely will participate:

First Michigan Colonial Fife and Drum Corps; Plymouth Fife & Drum Corps; Plymouth Community Band; Farmington Community Band; Tri Club Lions Band of Canada; and the Alhambra band and drill team.

The parade will get underway at 10 a.m. on the Fourth.

While plans for the parade continue, Union Chapter No. 55 of the Royal Arch Masons have announced plans for a pre-parade breakfast.

The pancake and sausage breakfast will be held at the Masonic Temple, 106 East Main, from 7 a.m. to the starting time of the parade down Main Street.

The public is invited to enjoy "all the pancakes you can eat" at $2.50 each for adults and $1.50 each for children up to the age of 12.

Historic houses to be open in September

By JEAN DAY

Sponsors of Northville's annual home tour, to be held this year on the last Saturday in September, are calling it "lucky 13th."

"Every house you walk into will give you a new idea," promises Lois Winters. She is chairman representing the First Presbyterian Church Women's Association. Jewel Luckett of the Northville Historical Society is co-chairman of the annual event co-sponsored by the two organizations.

Three houses in the historic district are among the four private homes to be open.

Cliff-Calla House in Plymouth, now the studio of Marion Soper, as well as the renovated Marquis Theatre on Main Street and the Mill Race Historical Village buildings also will be on view.

A few years ago the Soper house was located in downtown Plymouth and earmarked for destruction when it was moved by the Donald Sopers to its present location at 48760 North Territorial.

The Greek revival basilica-design house dates to 1840 and is used by the artist-owner as a studio. It has been called a museum piece.

Mrs. Soper is known as a weaver and craftsman as well as an artist. A basket collection will be displayed in the house, and Mrs. Soper is hoping to have on loan some of the children's portraits she has painted in years past.

An unusual decorative feature of the house is a collection of Godey prints that Mrs. Soper has enlarged and reproduced on the dining room walls.

The three houses in Northville's historic district that will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. September 29 include the white frame house at the northeast corner of Main at Rogers, now owned by Edward and Ellen Clarke; the large tan house of Timothy and Susan Cutting at 635 North Center; and the house at 420 Randolph being restored by John and Betty Crawford.

In Northville Colony the home of Terrence and Lynda Heaton at 16115 Portis will be on tour. Tour sponsors call the imaginative decorating "eclectic" and promise that this is a home in which to garner many ideas. The Heaton's even have incorporated an old-fashioned bathtub into the patio decorating.

The Clarkes purchased the white house at 548 West Main of Federal period-inspired design after living in Brazil. They have pieces from there among their Williamsburg-type furnishings.

In the three years since they bought the large Victorian house on North Center the Cuttings have been working steadily on its restoration. They have included stained glass windows and displays of antique tools in their decorating. Mrs. Cutting also has stenciled the walls.

She has been researching the history of the house which, she has been told, was built by a sea captain who had the lumber shipped here from the upper peninsula.

"Come and see the beginning of a restoration process," is the invitation issued for the home the John Crawfords purchased on Randolph only last September.

"I feel as though it's a step back in time," says Mrs. Winters as the tour sponsors mention a sunken breakfast room and the couple's restoration plans. Collectibles will be featured

Carolyn DiComo presents certificate to Eliza Wagenschutz

In Our Town

Town Hall will miss her service

By JEAN DAY

"For outstanding and dedicated service" reads the certificate presented to Eliza Jane Wagenschutz at the final gathering of the year for Northville Town Hall Committee.

The tribute was a surprise presentation June 12 at a picnic hosted by Mary Ware. Everyone from Carolyn DiComo, new TH chairman, to Susie Korte, long-time TH committee member, agreed that exceptional service was being recognized. Mrs. Wagenschutz had been a willing helper at town hall ever since its first program featuring John Mason Brown in October, 1961.

That season set a success pace for TH with Madame Ginette Spanier, directrix of the French House of Balmain, Anthony Wedgewood Benn, member of Parliament, Ian Ross MacFarlane, authority on Africa, and Bennett Cerf following.

The 1962 season led off with Malcolm Muggeridge and TH began sharing its profits with other community organizations, giving $100 to King's Daughters and $600 to the Northwest Child Guidance Clinic. A Board of Awards was established to distribute half of the season's proceeds throughout the community with the other half being used by the sponsoring Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church. The same formula is used today.

The 1965-66 season saw Mrs. Wagenschutz serving as both ticket chairman and head of the Board of Awards. She continued to head the awards program until last season when she stepped down as chairman. This year she felt the time had come to resign as an active member of the TH committee.

As the plaque was presented, her fellow committee members were well aware that the 19th season upcoming won't be quite the same without her input and background knowledge. But, with a sell-out season starting with Phil Donahue, Eliza Wagenschutz knows she is leaving an organization that is on top because of dedicated service by many like herself.

You can't move, Sandy

Friendships formed in the Northville Jaycee Auxiliary have become long-lasting ones for many of the young women who work hard together. They have even led to business partnerships. This was the case when Carol Swienkowski and Jane Dugan teamed up to open the Art Gallery, Incorporated, at 459 South Main in Plymouth. When Jane's husband was transferred to El Paso, Texas, another Jaycette, Kay Westling, followed. She's now in Minneapolis, and Sandy Walts, also a former Jaycette, is Carol's partner.

"She's been told, jokingly, that she and her husband Tom can't move," comments Carol as she announces that her friend has joined her in the business which features original graphics and reproductions and also does custom framing. The girls keep the gallery open Tuesday through Saturday during summer.

Mrs. Walts, who lives at 16150 Old Bedford, is a member of the Northville Township Board of Appeals.

Cookbook collectors, take note

The American Cancer Society has a new cookbook that's selling fast at $5 a copy. Not only is the book itself attractive and filled with good recipes, says Linda Armstrong, but all proceeds from its sale go to the work of the society. More than 300 copies have been sold here at the city garage sale in downtown Northville and at the Kiwanis horse and craft show. Mrs. Armstrong may be called at 349-1495 for information.

Birthday party's surprise reunion

It was a surprise birthday party and a family reunion, too, as 109 members of Kathryn Byrne's family gathered June 16 to celebrate her 80th birthday.

The 31-year Northville resident was honoree at the party given by her daughter Mrs. Joseph (Frances) Kritch at her home at 860 Spring.

Another daughter Mary and her husband David Biery and their three children came from Stanton, Virginia, for the celebration.

A third daughter Kathryn MacDonald of Warren also was on hand.

Son Charles Byrne and his wife came from Hialeah, Florida, and Norman and his wife from Hale. Another son Edward and his wife are expected later from Anaheim, California.

Mrs. Byrne, a widow whose husband Edward died in 1956, has 23 grandchildren, and all but six were at the party. She also has 37 great-grandchildren.

Also on hand for the dinner-reunion were her brothers Frank Jones and his wife from Florida, Bill Jones and his wife from St. Clair and Harry Jones from Lansing. Her sister Mrs. Margaretta Miller came from Tucson, Arizona.

Florida, Frances Kritch of Northville, hostess for the party, and Mary Biery of Stanton, Virginia. Another son Edward is expected later from California.

The Richardsons presently are living in Detroit while their home in Salem is being built. Mrs. Richardson is the former Sherri Sackett of Salem.

The new baby has a brother Steven Paul, 25 months old, welcoming him at home.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sackett of Salem. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Willa Richardson of El Paso, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Martin of Farmington.

Shari Wilson gets diploma in East

Newcomer changeover

Dave and Angie Lehmkuhl, left, who guided Northville Newcomers, one of the community's largest organizations, for the past year turn over leadership to Prudy and Jim Vannier at a dinner party hosted by the Lehmkuhls June 16 for board members and their husbands. While husbands joined wives for wine and cheese tasting parties, a night at the racers, a millionaires' party, road rally, progressive dinner and evening at Greenfield Village, most activities were planned by women. After a welcoming coffee, newcomers to the area became acquainted at cooking demonstrations, fashion shows and craft or tennis lessons. Mrs. Vannier may be contacted about membership at 349-4082.

New deadline applies after July holiday

Pursell staffer to concentrate on needs of senior citizens

Last Friday Sylvia Skrel was in Northville checking on senior citizen needs in preparation for a report to Congressman Carl Pursell. The Livonia resident has been a member of Pursell's district staff since January, 1977, when he first took office in Congress.

In May, 1977, she received a Paralegal degree from Madonna College.

She now has been designated as staff specialist on senior citizen issues and is assigned district-wide responsibility for senior problems.

Last Friday she was conferring with Frances Yoakam, executive director at Allen Terrace.

"I'm trying to prioritize district-wide top needs of senior citizens," she explained. So far they seem to be housing, transportation and health, she added.

There presently is a seven-year wait for senior citizen housing in Plymouth, she pointed out, and Mrs. Yoakam thinks Northville soon will have about a five-year wait for admittance to Allen Terrace.

Until early this year Ms. Skrel concentrated on constituent assistance in Pursell's Livonia office.

In her new position she is to work out of all four of the district II offices in Wayne, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

The centrally-located Washtenaw County office in Ann Arbor will be her headquarters, but she expects to be in the Livonia office at 15173 Farmington one or two days a week.

She will help any senior citizen with problems, she stressed, saying that the office may be called at 427-1081.

The privacy act, she explained, does make it necessary to have written permission from a senior citizen to investigate Social Security problems. "Services to senior citizens have always been an important part of our activities," she pointed out. "But the Congressman felt it was not enough to be ready, willing and able to help when help was requested."

"He wanted the district staff to take a more active role in contacting senior citizen groups and individuals, attending meetings, encouraging better communications, seeking out and helping to solve their problems."

In announcing the new assignment Pursell stated, "I believe that since inflation and taxes and other pressures are creating more serious problems for older Americans, we have a responsibility to redouble our efforts to assist them."

13th home tour will feature vintage houses throughout the house.

Presently the Crawfords are remodeling the kitchen. The enthusiastic owners agreed to open the home for the tour on condition that a later tour will show an "after restoration" picture.

The renovated Marquis Theatre at 133 East Main in downtown Northville reopened in October, 1978, after being dark for many months. Built in 1925 with a stage and dressing rooms for live performances, the theatre now features both stage entertainment and movies.

In the remodeling, original doors with solid brass trim and the box office were stripped of coats of paint to reveal black walnut wood. Appropriate wallpapers and brass chandeliers have been added by owner Inga Zayti to give unusual elegance today.

While local residents take in a movie and see the decor, tour day visitors from out of town will be invited to see a renovation of unusual taste.

In the Mill Race Village the Hunter and Yerkes houses, now furnished, the New School Church, weaver's cottage and school house will be on view.

The historical society's half of proceeds from the tour will be used for further restoration and furnishing of the buildings.

Visitors will be able to get maps that also point out other historically-significant structures in the community. They will be distributed at First Presbyterian Church, which is observing its 150th anniversary this year. The sanctuary and library-lounge will be open for visitors to see the stained glass windows.

Price of the tour will be $3.50, the same as last year. Sponsors request that children under six not be brought along.

Heading committees for the event are Cheryl Gazlay, hostesses; Betty Allen and Lynn Paquette, tour booklet; Karen Stephens, posters; Judy Walsh and Rose Beaudoin, street staging; Esther Brain and Sue Diber, tickets; Pat Stringer and Martha Nield, publicity; Gloria Lane and Elaine Tomalt, correspondence.

Grace Reed is serving as treasurer.

Mormon church assigns missionaries to Northville

Two missionaries from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, commonly known as Mormons, have moved to Northville to teach the Gospel full-time.

Elders R.P. Mower and T.B. Hadlock are living on North Center and are two of 28,000 full-time missionaries, both men and women, serving around the world.

They are called by a prophet, Spencer W. Kimball, to serve two years full-time in preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the church announces.

In coming to Michigan, Both missionaries come from families of all finances for their support have been secured on their own in advance so they will be free to teach seven days a week.

Elder Hadlock, 20, is from Los Angeles. He attended Los Angeles Valley College and worked for a rent-a-car agency before coming here.

Elder Mower, 19, from Phoenix, Arizona, is a music major at Brigham Young University, one of the church-owned schools. He plans to continue his schooling after completing his mission in Michigan.

eight.

They will be sharing ideas with people in Northville on how to hold "Family Home Evenings," which most Mormon families hold on Monday nights throughout the world.

They also will be sharing presentations about their church, answering such questions, as "Where do we come from?" "Why are we here?" and "Where do we go after this life?"

In the family home programs the church explains that the entire family meets together weekly to discuss and resolve family problems, set goals and enjoy activities together.

Latter-Day Saints believe this helps the family members stay close together and away from many evils of the world.

They point out that a former prophet David O. McKay said, "No other success can compensate for failure in the home."

The church stresses the belief that the family should be the strongest unit of society, stating that if the family fails, society will fail, and, if society fails, the nation will fail.

All programs of the church are designed to help strengthen the individual and the family.

The local missionaries will assist anyone interested in conducting family home evenings. They also invite anyone interested in knowing more about the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints to call before 9:30 a.m. or after 9:30 p.m. at 348-6689.

The church founded in 1830 in New York State expanded to Michigan. During the 1830s Oakland County became the scene of much Mormon activity and missionary work.

The activity centered around Pontiac, due mostly to Stephen Mack, an uncle of the Mormon Prophet Joseph Smith who was founder of Pontiac.

The name Mormon comes from the Book of Mormon, a record of the earliest inhabitants of this continent.

It serves as a modern-day witness of the divinity of Jesus Christ and together with the Bible is accepted as scripture by the Church.

Last day for readers

There still is time to sign up for the Summer Reading Program at Northville Public Library. Last day for registration is Thursday.

The program is open to all children who are able to read independently. All those who read 10 or more books by July 26 will receive a certificate.

A party for summer readers will be held at the library at the end of the program.

Special film programs are also planned. The next is scheduled for July 5 and will feature "The Voyages of Sinbad the Sailor".

Bidding high

Mary Ware, center, wears her auctioneer's hat as she solicits a bid from Arline Paredes, right, who opened her home at 18225 Arselot in Edenderry for the annual picnic and plant auction of the Northville Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, June 11. More than $120 was raised for branch projects at the plant auction for which members brought plants — and purchased those of their fellow gardeners.

Dolls take spotlight at Plymouth museum

"A Walk in the Park with Your Doll" is the theme of the Plymouth Historical Museum's special exhibit that will run until September 10.

The Plymouth Historical Museum, at 155 South Main in Plymouth, is open Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults; 50 cents for youth 12-17; and 25 cents for children 5-11.

Special educational tours may be arranged in advance by calling the museum, 455-8940.

Dolls from 1850 to 1920 include a metal head doll, a 1900 painted cloth doll, paper mache dolls from about 1850, wooden dolls, an 1860 all-china bathing doll by Badenkindler, rubber dolls, many china-head dolls and a bisque character doll.

Included also are a street scene with many interesting small dolls and an 1800 doll made from a potato masher.

Township considers cable television

First run movies, burglar alarm on boob tube?

If you think you have trouble getting away from the boob tube now, it may be even harder to escape in a few months.

Within six months, Northville area residents may be able to enjoy television programs from around the country, see first-run movies without commercials, catch the local township board meeting and even have their house burglar-proofed — all by subscribing to a cable television network for $5 to $15 per month.

Omnicom of Michigan, Incorporated, presented an extensive cable television plan to the Northville Township Board of Trustees Thursday night.

They will soon present a similar offer to the city of Northville, said John Raines, OMNICOM president.

The township board has tabled the proposal and set it to township attorney's for examination.

Basically, Raines and his partner Leo Hoarty asked the township board's permission for a non-exclusive franchise to install the cable system in Northville township. Similar systems may soon be installed in Plymouth and Canton, Raines said.

The service would not cost the township any tax money, Raines said. OMNICOM would pay to construct the system then support it with subscriber fees.

Cable television has come a long way from the days when cable stations were used solely to give service to remote communities which could not pick up television station signals with antennas, Raines told the board.

OMNICOM would offer residents of Northville and Northville township service to Detroit, Windsor, Toledo and Lansing stations. A subscriber paying $5 per month would receive eight channels and an all-news and all-weather station, Raines said.

For $8 per month, a subscriber would receive certain stations from New York, Boston, San Francisco, Chicago and Atlanta sent over the cable network by satellite. The subscriber would also receive broadcasts from local community affairs, financial, all-sports stations and a 24-hour children's station with no commercials, Raines said.

For $15 per month, a viewer would also get to watch first-run movies at home with no commercials.

And for just a few dollars more, the television could become a burglar alarm connection to local fire or police stations, Raines said.

"Cable tv is part of a whole change in the way we communicate," Raines told the township board. "As technology grows, we will be able to provide these services even cheaper."

About three per cent of the cable television system's income would go to the township and city, according to Federal Communication Commission (FCC) law, Raines said.

Although OMNICOM would be the first, other cable television stations would also be able to operate in the area if approved, Raines said.

OMNICOM of Michigan is a joint venture of Hoarty and Raines Associates, Incorporated, of Toledo, Ohio, and Black Hawk Broadcasting Company of Waterloo, Iowa. Hoarty and Raines have constructed and managed cable television stations in Iowa and the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Temporary library

Since the public library soon will be forced from Northville Square shopping center to make way for a new, large tenant, the library will take up temporary quarters in the east half of the community building, which previously served as administrative offices for the school system, has begun to prepare it for the library. The move from Northville Square to the temporary quarters is scheduled to take place the first week of August.

THINGS WERE SIMPLE BACK THEN. THINGS STILL ARE AT YOUR CREDIT UNION.

In the early 1800's the first credit union in America was established by a group of pioneers.

They had a simple idea: pool together all their money and each year lend out a sum to a different member for a purpose, whether to build a home or plant crops.

The money returned the following year benefitted another member of their cooperative group.

It was a simple idea and it worked because everyone in the 'credit union' now had an advantage.

From that basic philosophy evolved your credit union today. That simple idea is still in use, even though your credit union now serves 12,000 members.

Today you also earn dividends on your savings and every member with a loan pays only 12 percent annual interest — the same interest rate since 1952.

You can see why your credit union has grown. The simple idea works for you.

Cycle race complaints dip here

Twenty one complaints were received by the police department in connection with the recent motorcycle races at Northville Downs — but the number was down from previous years.

In a report last week to the city council, Police Chief Rodney Cannon said all but two of the complaints concerned noise resulting from the racing motorcycles at the Downs.

One complaint concerned traffic congestion resulting from the races and another concerned a stolen motorcycle.

In addition to complaints received by the police department, some council members also were telephoned by upset residents.

Nevertheless, council in general seemed pleased that the number of complaints had decreased from last year. And they noted that the dust problems, which in previous years had triggered a number of complaints, appeared to have been eliminated.

Given the income generated by Northville Downs, the inconvenience of the three-hour race was not so great as to bar motorcycle racing, members concluded. "For one night a year I think I can stand it in view of the revenues the track provides the city," said one councilman.

Natural

Is 'health food' kick a boon or a rip off?

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

In a bright little natural foods store in South Lyon filled with boxes and bottles you can buy the tea the Indians drank. Magical-sounding brews—foengreek seed, eyebright, hawthorn berry, black walnut, Irish moss and nettle compete for attention in flowery boxes.

Across the aisle, vitamin shelves are filled with tiny pills and liquids of every description: tincture of myrrh, oil of garlic, yucca, valerian and wild yam root tablets. There are chunks of waxy bee pollen, tablets of rose hips, green parsley, alfalfa, pumpkin seed oil and blue-green algae, strange sounding vitamins and bone supplements from the NuLife, Solar Products and Hain companies.

Newspapers have recently reported fatalities connected with drinking too much herbal tea.

Across town, the local supermarket shelves are crammed with cans and boxes. You can buy luscious cakes, gooey doughnuts and instant convenience foods filled with artificial flavors and colors, synthetic preservatives, evil-sounding sodium nitrites, refined enriched flours, pasturized honey, on it is superior and safer than other foods.

"Anyone can call his food natural on the label. If a food was not natural and high quality it would not be permitted," she said.

Just because a food has the label "natural" on it does not mean it has been organically grown, she said. And even if a food is organically grown, no scientific studies have proven that it contains less pesticides or chemicals on it than any food grown under conventional methods, she said.

But Mrs. Mitchell says natural foods have changed her life.

"Like everyone else, I always bought groceries at the supermarket for my family and I thought I was giving them a balanced diet—meat, potato, green vegetables and salad. But I would leave all the fat on the meat, peel the potatoes and leave all the vitamin-laden skins in the garbage, cook the vegetables until they were almost soggy, then throw away the water with all the vitamins in it."

Mrs. Mitchell said she turned to natural foods in stages. First she switched from white bread to whole wheat then gave up sugar, then caffeine.

The most popular items in the Sunflower Hut are what Mrs. Mitchell calls the "good junk food"—sunflower seeds, nuts and carob bars.

She said since she changed her diet she has not been plagued by stomach trouble, headaches or arthritis. She supplements her diet with vitamins and alfalfa tablets.

Kabisch goes even farther in his allegiance to natural foods. The only thing he buys in supermarket is napkins.

"There is nothing edible in the supermarket," he said. "Food there is filled with synthetic additives made of petroleum so the shelf life of foods is prolonged and the owners can make the most money," Kabisch said.

He blames capitalistic enterprise for both the state of food in the supermarket and the large health food centers which will sell anything to make a profit.

"Everybody is getting on the health food bandwagon because it is becoming profitable. They're just in it to make money. But I know the legitimate companies to deal with. If they're just in it to make money I don't deal with them."

Kabisch's restaurant serves everything fresh. "We don't kill the food by adding anything artificial to it. All our food still has 'life energy' in it."

But Leveille claims food additives are not dangerous.

The minutes amounts of chemicals absorbed by the body from food, such as sodium nitrite in bacon, are insignificant compared to what the body makes naturally, he said.

Leveille cited a study where a horse was raised on food from purely man-made chemicals was as healthy as other horses raised on conventional feed.

Leveille blasted natural food advocates and challenged them to prove their claims. "For instance, the claim that alfalfa tablets can cure arthritis is idiotic," he said. "There is no reason to toast these claims upon the public."

Leveille cited other studies where supermarket fruit and natural fruit were compared with no significant difference observed in pesticide residue.

'There is nothing edible

He also said no difference in nutrition between refined and non-refined sugar has been noted.

Still, natural food advocates remain steadfast in their belief that eating "naturally" is the right way — if one gets the food from reliable natural foods stores.

"Your food is your medicine," Kabisch said. "If you eat right you will be healthy. If you eat poorly you will be sick."

And that's about all the others will agree upon with him.

As before, it seems to be up to the individual to sort out the studies and decide for himself what "eating right" is.

Verbenas—the colorful coverup flowers

Here's a pepper treat from Holland

Pepper, Sweet Yellow
DUTCH TREAT
All-America
Selections
Bronze Medal 1979

No question about when 'Dutch Treat' is ready to eat. Before other pepper varieties are mature, its yellow fruits turn scarlet, then deep red, growing sweeter and thicker-fleshed as they ripen.

And there's no groping around in the foliage to find the fruits; 'Dutch Treat' tips its fruits straight up and clusters them atop the plants. As many as five or six peppers, three to six inches in length and shaped like dunce caps, adorn each plant.

'Dutch Treat' is an ideal decorative vegetable for containers or inter-planting with flowers. Its erect plants reach 12 to 15 inches in height and width at maturity.

In extremely hot climates, 'Dutch Treat' should be planted where plants can receive protection from the afternoon sun that can burn the exposed fruits. Plant in the lee of corn or pole beans.

Bred in Holland, 'Dutch Treat' was developed as a multipurpose vegetable. You can crosscut the yellow or red fruits to add color, crunch and vitamins to salads, egg batter-dip and fry them into chili rellenos, stuff and bake split fruits, dice into cheese for spreads or pickle fruits whole or with mixed vegetables.

In the central part of the USA, 'Dutch Treat' will mature in about 70 days from setting of transplants.

Plants may be somewhat difficult to find locally during the introductory year because 'Dutch Treat' is such a novel pepper that growers and dealers will have trouble categorizing it.

A sure way to be ready with plants at the average frost-free date is to start your own from seeds indoors 8 to 10 weeks prior to the onset of warm weather.

Pepper seeds sprout best at a soil temperature of 70 to 75° F. Seedlings are usually 'pricked out' of the seed flat at the four-leaf stage when they are still tiny, using a popsicle stick to pry them out of the soil with minimum damage to roots.

The seedlings are then grown for two or three weeks in small pots or recycled plastic cups or cartons, where they can develop a strong root system before being hardened off and transplanted to the garden.

Verbenas are quick growers

Verbenas are one of the best low-growing flowering groundcovers for filling in between shrubs and for converting containers into cascades of color.

Quick growing and early-flowering, verberna plants will spread and knit together without rambling all over adjacent flowers.

Verbenas come in straight shades of violet, red, pink and white, and in gorgeous mixtures. Most colors have clear white "eyes" which enliven the optical effect.

The blossoms come in flat clusters about three inches wide. You hardly notice the dark green, ribbed leaves; they are attractive but are upstaged by the vivid blossoms.

Verbena seeds need warmth to sprout. Direct seeding in the garden works well in southern and central USA but indoor starting is recommended where summers are cool and short.

Verbenas are only moderately heat resistant; therefore, you should plant them as soon as possible after frost danger is past.

Few flowers surpass verbenas for adaptability. They can be grown in all fifty states on soils ranging from rich black "corn land" to poor sandy or gravelly loams.

Verbenas respond well to occasional light applications of plant food, especially if their foliage is yellowish or if the rate of growth has slowed.

All-American 'Dutch Treat' Peppers

It's a growing favorite

Flowering tobacco addictive

Nicotiana is moving steadily upward in popularity despite its formidable botanical label and homely common name ... flowering tobacco.

Old-fashioned gardens usually included a cluster or two of nicotiana plants. Tall and velvety-leaved, they added color without weight because the slender spikes were sparsely set with tubular pendent blossoms.

Older gardeners will remember with nostalgia the pervasive fragrance of evening blooming nicotiana.

Now, plant breeders have reset the biological clock in nicotianas to produce flowers that remain open all day. At the same time, they trimmed the plants to a handier size, doubled the number of flower spikes per plant, and tilted the individual blossoms to face out rather than down. Some of the evening fragrance has been preserved.

Old-time gardeners will do a double take when they see the new nicotianas.

Oh, they'll recognize their old friend despite the facelift but they'll have to find new uses for her. That will be a pleasure when the nicotiana is the new 'Nicki-Red,' a solid red color not previously available. No blue overtones dull the intensity of its color.

'Nicki-Red's' upright, multi-spiked plants begin blooming when plants are less than a foot high and continue to grow and bloom until they reach 18 to 24 inches in height.

Plants are exceptionally uniform for height and shape. Each spike bears about a dozen rain-resistant, trumpet-shaped flowers, shiny on the inside, dull on the outside.

'Nicki-Red' can become exhausted after putting on such a great show. You can speed reblooming by trimming off spent spikes

'Nicki-Red' is 1979 medal winner before seeds form. Feed lightly and water heavily.

In the Deep South, gardeners prefer to pull out spent plants and reseed for late summer and fall bloom.

The tiny seeds of nicotiana are surprisingly easy to start out-of-doors in warm soil. Dig in a little manure or compost and leave the soil rough.

Water the soil heavily, then scatter the nicotiana seeds. Don't cover them. Seedlings are easy to transplant into drifts or medium height edgings

It's clear profit

The average USA 770 square foot garden can easily gross 50 cents per square foot in produce says the National Garden Bureau.

Experienced gardeners, using intensive gardening techniques — especially in long season areas — can realize $1 per square foot in produce at retail prices.

The return is about 75 percent clear profit, all tax free.

Don't touch this plant

Balsam certainly lives up to its common name of 'Touch-me-not.' Its teardrop-shaped seed pods react like coiled springs when touched. Separating along seams, the pod segments roll up tightly and, in the process, fling seeds for some distance.

Children love to pick a handful of pods ever so carefully and hand them to a little friend with instructions to 'squeeze.' The slightest pressure sets off a chain reaction; it's like holding a handful of squirmy little animals.

Easy-to-grow balsam is more than just a curiosity. Its camellia-like blossoms on bronzy plants provide welcome summer color for lightly shaded spots.

Pesticides: good 'n bad sides

Pesticides can be valuable tools in the home lawn and garden. But the same chemicals that help protect your plants against insects and diseases and rid your lawn of bothersome weeds can also harm desirable plants if they're used improperly.

Nancy Butler, Washtenaw County Extension Service horticulture assistant, says plant damage from pesticides can occur in several forms.

Leaf tips or margins, whole leaves or roots may be chemically burned.

Yellowing of leaves — on the tips, along the edges, in spots or across the whole leaf surface — or curling, crinkling or cupping of leaves may occur.

Stunting of the whole plant or certain parts of it, or abnormal growth of all or part of the plant, may also occur.

"Usually the new growth is most likely to show damage from sprays," Butler points out. "When soil drenches are used, root tissue may be injured. This can result in stunting or slow plant decline."

To avoid damaging ornamentals and other plants with pesticides, read labels carefully and follow directions for applying any lawn or garden chemical, Butler advises.

"Almost all aerosol formulations of pesticides will damage plants if they're used at less than the recommended distance between the aerosol nozzle and the plant," she points out.

Overdosing by using more of a material than the label recommends may also damage a plant, she notes.

The condition of the plant is a factor to consider, too. Wilting or extremely dry plants are extremely sensitive to spray injury.

Environmental conditions are another consideration. Plants sprayed under hot, sunny conditions are very likely to be damaged. Low temperatures may also be a problem, especially with dormant oil sprays for scale and mite control. Plants sprayed when cool, humid conditions exist for extended periods remain wet for a long time, and this, too, increases the possibility of injury.

Wednesday, June 27, 1979—BRIGHTON ARGUS—SOUTH LYON HERALD—NORTHVILLE RECORD—WALLED LAKE-NOVI NEWS—3-C

FIRST OF THREE monthly drawings for a $100 shopping spree in Northville Plaza Mall was held Friday, June 15.

Winner of the first drawing was a Northville resident, Greg Gillam, a student at Cooke Junior High School. His mother, Mary teaches in South Lyon. His father, Ralph, is a counselor in Clifford Smart Junior High, Walled Lake Consolidated Schools.

The drawing was made from a dryer outside the Northville Vacuum and Appliance store. After activating the machine to tumble the entries, the winning name was drawn by Township Supervisor Donald Thomson. He presented it to Donna Hodges from Executive Ticket Service. The alternate name was drawn by Mayor Paul Vernon and presented to Julie Johnson of the Hair Affair, who placed it in a sealed envelope.

The presence of both Supervisor Thomson and Mayor Vernon was symbolic of their desire for unit and harmony between the city and township of Northville.

"The spirit of cooperation which now exists," says Ernest G. Aruffo, a floorcovering merchant in the mall, "should be encouraged by both city merchants and plaza merchants as well. After all, the success of one will contribute greatly to the healthy business climate of the other."

Greg Gillam's shopping spree will be valid through July 15th. A second drawing will be held the third Friday in July when the next certificate will be presented.

GRAND OPENING of the Racquet Connection is planned today (Wednesday) at 124 North Center in Northville.

Featuring a variety of sporting equipment involving racquets, the new shop is located in the store building that formerly housed Northville Camera.

Kerry Hady of Canton Township, member of U.S.P.T.A. and an instructor, is the owner.

Demonstration racquets are available, and the business features racquets, equipment, shoes, and accessories for all racquet sports—including tennis, racquetball, paddleball, etc. — and it offers one-day stringing.

It carries Bancroft, Davis, Dunlop Ektelon, Finalist, Head, K-Swiss, Leach, Lotto-Newk, Penn, Prince, Sai, Wilson and Yonx.

Racquet Connection is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and on Tues, Thursday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

MICHAEL S. KOWALSKI of Northville has been promoted to district manager in Michigan Bell's operations-mechanization department in Detroit.

PLANS FOR A $1.5 MILLION Great Lakes Regional Sales and Distribution Center in Farmington Hills have been announced by Graco Inc., a Minneapolis based international manufacturer of fluid handling equipment.

The 30,000 square foot facility will be located on a 5.1 acre site in the Farmington-Grand River Industrial Park. It will serve as the center for the company's activities involving the motor car manufacturing industry.

The project will be financed with the proceeds from an industrial development revenue bond issue of the City of Farmington Hills and sold to institutional lenders. The bonds, which mature serially through 1991, are payable from revenues resulting from a lease purchase agreement between the city and Graco Inc.

The new building will replace existing owned and rented facilities in Southfield. It will provide expanded material testing and demonstration capabilities as well as increased inventory space for Graco's broad product line which includes pumps, automotive maintenance equipment, colorant dispensers, paint sprayers, finishing systems and cleaning units.

Ground has been broken and completion of the facility is planned for the spring of 1980.

JOHN M. ABEL, MANAGER OF THE BURGER KING RESTAURANT 988 at 8489 Grand River, Brighton, graduated from Burger King University in Miami last week.

The 10 day curriculum covered all aspects of upper level restaurant management from production and equipment to management training and quality control.

Burger King University is the national advanced management training center for Burger King Corporation. The new $1.3 million facility includes a state-of-the art audio visual system which includes slide projectors, stereophonic sound and custom designed podiums with remote control panels among its features. Burger King Corporation will continue to offer basic management training through its system of 10 regional training centers, according to Kay Spero.

Burger King Corporation is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Pillsbury Company.

GARY L. VEENSTRA of the Veenstra Insurance Agency in Detroit has successfully completed the Insurance and Agency Management course of the 19th annual Agents' Summer School sponsored by state Automobile Mutual Insurance Company of Columbus, Ohio.

The school was conducted at Capital University in Columbus and was under the direction of Dr. John S. Bickley, Frank Park Samford Chair of Insurance at the University of Alabama.

Veenstra, who resides in Wolverine Lake Village, was one of 44 agents selected from an 11 state area to attend this educational program, according to Paul R. Gingher, chairman of State Automobile Mutual Insurance Company.

"The week's activities centered around identifying, analyzing and perfecting the professional techniques necessary for more effectively evaluating the insurance needs of the local business community," said Gingher. "Much attention was given to the changing trends in the insurance industry and the many important services performed by the local independent agent."

A certificate of satisfactory completion was presented to Veenstra in recognition of the knowledge required while attending the state auto school.

THE INDUSTRIAL DIVISION OF HOWELL TOWN & COUNTRY, INCORPORATED, announces that Kay Rotarius has joined its home office at Howell.

Ms. Rotarius, a resident of Brighton, graduated from the Russell Institute of Real Estate in May 1976. She was previously with the New Homes Division at the South Lyon office and the Brighton office.

She is currently working under Charles Klei, manager, concentrating on the Grand River corridor from Brighton to Howell.

Ms. Rotarius says she has a very optimistic attitude, because of the increasing demand for businesses relocating to the area and relocating their families to Livingston County, the housing market will remain at an all-time high.

Howell Town & Country, Inc. is now celebrating its 20th successful year in the field of marketing, developing and still growing at a rapid rate.

JEANNE FREUND of Rymal Symes Realtors, Novi office, has reached a level of achievement in residential real estate sales unparalleled in the 56 year history of the firm.

For the month of May, Miss Freund's sales totaled more than $560,000 and exceeded the previous mark of $464,000 set earlier this year by another associate in the same office.

In announcing the outstanding record set by Miss Freund, Craig Lewis, Rymal Symes Vice President, said that her success can be attributed "to her unswerving loyalty and dedication to the needs of her clients, and to her broad business background and depth of experience in all facets of the Novi-Northville real estate market."

Miss Freund holds the coveted C.R.S. designation from the Realtors National Marketing Institute and has consistently been a member of the U.N.R.A. Million Dollar Sales Club

Stingers win in home debut

The Northville Stingers of the Inter-Lakes Girls Slow Pitch Traveling League made their home debut a memorable one Friday night as they swept both ends of a double-header against the 15-and-under Jake's Harley Davidson from Garden City.

Friday's action was the second outing for the Northville squad. Earlier in the week the team traveled to Garden City to take on Jake's 18-and-under team. The Stingers lost both ends of a double-header. The Stingers are 18-and-under.

The first game Friday was called at the end of the fifth inning due to the league's mercy rule which states that if a team is ahead by 12 runs after five innings, it wins automatically. Northville was ahead 18-1 at the end of the fifth inning.

Chris Sudendorf pitched both games Friday for the Stingers. In the first contest she gave up only four hits. The lone Garden City run was unearned as in the third inning errors by Kathy Phillips, Sue Heinzman and Kim Kurzawa enabled Jake's to score.

SIDELINES

By Jim Haynes

A pitiful apology

I have an apology to make. I don't have to make it. In fact, until a short while ago, I was tempted to let the whole situation blow over and hope that the healing powers of time would work their magic. But two events happened that have convinced me to confess and bare my soul to you.

First of all, for those who haven't any children playing baseball in Northville's "G" league, here is what happened. In my write-up of the previous week's games two issues ago, I referred to a losing team as the "pitiful Braves." To those of you who have kids on the Braves team or actually play for the squad, I offer my deepest apology. Forgive me.

I will try to offer a sound defense for myself, but first I think it is important to explain why I even mention the whole affair here. First of all, I read and have tacked up on the wall next to my desk, a letter to the editor from Mr. and Mrs. Pat Baird of Northville. The letter let me have it with both barrels and while not totally hitting the target they were aiming at, it accomplished its intended purpose. I felt ashamed.

Secondly, while driving home from Ypsilanti last night, and wondering whether I should keep quiet and let things blow over, my "pitiful" brakes gave out on my car. Careening down the road at a speed that seemed faster than light, I made a deal with my maker and I stopped. And now I'm writing.

Now for my defense. First of all, the term "pitiful" was not used in a premeditated fashion. I didn't single out the Braves and decide to exercise my awesome powers as a Sportswriter to reduce the young athletes on the team to jello. Ruling out first degree murder then (no premeditation) that leaves carelessness, or in this case, "self-request manslaughter." Of this I am guilty.

The story was the last of about 20 that I had written that day, with hundreds of kids names, scores, teams and situations swirling through my head. Very mentally tired (my fault and I except responsibility), I just grabbed the first "fresh" adjective I could think of to offer some description of a team that hadn't won a game all season and had just lost another. Pitiful was a very poor choice. One, I'm sorry to say, I didn't even think twice about.

Before I started writing for the Record, I covered sports at Eastern Michigan University, and believe me, some of the teams there were truly pitiful. But you can say things like that about your college athletes and have only to worry about getting mugged. When you call a child pitiful, you stand to risk more than your own health. You stand to risk that child's image of him/herself. And that is the last thing on this earth I would ever want to do. Again, I apologize to all of you on the Braves team and your parents, and to all of Northville. I have a responsibility with my position, and I didn't heed it. I've learned my lesson.

One thing that bothered me, Mr. and Mrs. Baird, is that you kept referring to me as Mr. Sportswriter. The sarcasm was effective, believe me. But I couldn't help seeing the irony in it as well. You see, I was graduated from Eastern with a degree in biology. I am by training and education a biologist and only wrote for the school paper as a sideline. When the opportunity came up to apply for this job, I said to myself why not.

While not just a sideline anymore, writing about sports isn't the career I've chosen for myself. I haven't any Woodward and Bernstein in me. I don't want to viciously climb to the top at the expense of my self-respect. While I write about sports, I don't consider myself a sportswriter. That implies die-hard fanaticism to me. I'm quite the opposite. I find most traditional sports and those that worship athletes and athletics rather boring and one dimensional.

But enough of this. It's over and I promise to be careful next time. I can do no more than that. But wait! There is one more thing I can do. Hey Braves! Go get 'em!

Custard Time/Cutler Realty moves into first

Standings shift in National League race

Custard Time/Cutler Realty (C/R) moved from third to first in the race for the National League championship last week. C/R busted the Brew Hogs 10-3 to move to the top.

C/R scored four times in the first inning by benefit of a walk, an error, two singles and a double. They added two runs in the fourth, three in the fifth and one in the seventh. The Brew Hogs scored all three of their runs in the sixth.

Gary Callender had two singles and a double, knocked in two runs and scored twice to lead C/R offensively. John Sherman had a single and a home run, scoring twice.

For the Brew Hogs, Brad Westfall batted out a triple and a single to lead that team. Rick Norton had two singles as well.

Jim Storm evened its record at 5-5 with a 9-7 squeaker over the Eagles. Storm had a 7-4 lead going into the fifth inning but the Eagles cut it down to 7-6. In the sixth inning, Storm scored twice to pull away.

Dennis Betts belted a home run in the third for the winners. Dale Garrow had two hits and scored three times for the Storm. For the Eagles, Ron Tobey had a single and a triple, scoring twice while Jon Day, Mike Dickinson and Don Hallock had two hits each.

The Northville Players whitewashed the Jaycees 10-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Paul Krause. Only Jim Hepler, Steve Barnes and John Cranias were able to hit the Players' pitching. Cranias' hit was a double.

For the Players, Alan Carmichel and Don Barrett had three hits each. Carmichel had two singles and a triple, scoring three times and Barrett had two doubles and a triple, scoring twice.

The Yankee Carpenters hammered St. Paul's Lutheran 20-10 last week. Joe Stabnis had a home run for the winners while Bob Masseroni smacked two singles and scored twice.

Ron Maas had three hits for the losers and scored twice. Ross Hahn and Ernest Edick both had two hits and scored twice for St. Paul's.

In American League action, it was a battle of the muscle teams as the Blues downed Spicer Tool 21-11 to remain in first place in that division.

Bill Staron smashed three home runs and walked twice for the winners. He scored four times and knocked in six runs. Ed Kritch also hit a home run for the Blues. Mike Theison had four hits and scored four times for them.

For Spicer Tool, Jim Manderville had two singles, a double and triple. He scored twice and knocked in three runs. Craig Barrowcliff belted a home run and single to also knock in three runs. Dave McLean had three hits and scored twice for the losers.

State Farm, behind Dan Delaney's two singles and two doubles and Ted Gores' single, double and home run, belted John Mach Ford 25-4. Rick Roman had three singles for the winners.

Art Mach smacked a home run and a double to lead the Mach squad. He also scored two runs and knocked in two runs.

Rizzo Real Estate ran Little Caesar's into the ground 22-9. Howard Inch banged out four hits and scored three times for the winners. Bob Gerlach, David Zima and Keith Trumbell all had three hits.

Trumbell and Pete Talbot smacked home runs for Rizzo. Trumbell also scored three times.

For Little Caesar's, Chuck Caksakor cracked a home run and double, scoring twice.

Sheehan's on the Green handed one to Belanger's on the chin last week as they pounded the last place team 16-6. Nick Hamp homered to start the game, and added two more singles to his total before the game was through. He scored three times and knocked in four runs.

Dave's ties Doc's Jocks

Doc's Jocks stayed on top of the league last week by virtue of a 15-1 tie with Dave's Trim Shop.

The Jocks jumped out to a 9-0 lead after their half of the first inning, but Dave's refused to roll over and die. Dave's picked up two runs in the second, four in the third, four in the fifth, two in the sixth and three in the seventh to tie the game. The Jocks picked up one more in the fourth, three in the fifth, and two in the sixth.

Kathy Phillips had four hits and Katie Rudden three to pace the Jocks. Rudden also scored three times. For Dave's, Gayle Richardson powered out two home runs in three hits, knocked in five runs and scored three times. Leslie Riecks and Anne Raney each had three hits for Dave's and Jodi Gatterl had a triple to knock in the tying run in the seventh.

The Northville Lab, in second place in the league, also tied its game last week, 9-9 against Sheehan's Little Caesars.

Sheehan's led 9-6 until the seventh inning when the Lab pushed three runs across to tie the score. Sue Kinnaird had three hits and scored three runs for Sheehan's while Barb Lindner scored three times for Northville.

The Northville Record trounced the Choo Choo Water Wheelers 13-3. The big inning for the Record was the second when they scored nine runs. The Wheelers answered with three runs of their own in the first without the benefit of a hit. Two walks and three Record errors helped them to their tally.

The Wheelers only managed two hits, both singles by Judy Korte and Cindy McKnight.

Kathleen Cantine, Lorri Stanford, Sue Heinzman, Stephanie Colovas, Joanne Colligan and Nancy Roy all had two hits each for the winners. Kim Kur-zawa had three hits including a triple, and scored two runs.

Cindy Booth, Jean Greis and Sharon Carlton all scored three times in leading E.D.M. Special Tees over Joe's Little Bar last week, 20-10.

Cindy Booth had three hits including a triple, as did Karla Prather, Joann Merriman and Carlton. Sue Booth had two hits and along with Merrimen, hit home runs.

For Joe's, Karen Marzonie belted two triples and knocked in three runs. Blance Kushner had a double and a single and scored twice for the losers.

Ask the expert

Dear Expert,

I play softball in a league in Brighton and I have a problem getting solid base hits. I used to play baseball and I'm having a hard time adjusting to the slow incoming softball. I keep popping the ball up. Are there any tips you can give me that would help me start hitting slow-pitch softball pitching.

D. H., Ypsilanti

Try and concentrate on the ball, see the seams of the ball as it comes in to you (you really can't do it, but by trying, it helps you to concentrate) and this should help level out your swing. There is really no difference between the two swings, baseball or softball, it is just a matter of a level swing and concentration. If you're popping the ball up, it probably means that you're dropping your shoulder and back elbow, so concentrate on keeping them up. This should help prevent pop-ups.

Tennis open house set

The Schoolcraft College Summer Tennis Program will hold an Open House from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Sunday, July 1.

According to coordinator Pat Page, season passes will be offered at half price during the Open House which has been re-scheduled since an earlier one was rained out on May 26.

Half Price rates are $17.50 for adults, $10 for students and $27.50 for families. Each season pass offers individual or family court time which may be reserved up to 24 hours in advance.

The tennis program features classes, league play, challenge ladders and tournaments on the College's 12 all-weather courts, eight of which are lighted for night play. Play has been improved with the addition of spruce trees which serve as a natural windscreen for the courts.

A new match-up program called "Need A Partner?" is available for individuals who are without partners and want to play. Participants are matched on the basis of their playing ability and times they want to play.

Summer tennis classes are also available and schedule information may be obtained by calling the tennis house at 591-6392. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

Rizzo places second

Chrysler wins Blues

The 1979 Blues Invitational Tournament took place last weekend and Chrysler from Warren came away the winner with a 5-0 mark.

Second place went to Northville's Rizzo Real Estate with a 4-2 mark and third went to Pete Drake's from Walled Lake.

The Most Valuable Player award went to Vince Imperiale of Chrysler who had 15 hits in 22 at bats for a .680 batting average. He also cracked six home runs in the tourney.

Spicer Tool, Sheehan's Little Caesar and Custard Time/Cutler Realty also took part in the tournament. Spicer's finished 1-2 as did Caesar's while C/R went winless at 0-2.

Rizzo opened its participation in the tournament with a 13-3 win over Paragon. Gary Lisowski, Keith Trumbull and David Zima each smacked home runs for Rizzo.

Rizzo fractured Manufacturer's in the next game 14-4. Trumbull smashed a roundtripper in that game also. In its third game of the tourney, against Zoomer's, Trumbull, Charles Johnson, Pete Talbot and Bob Gerlach all homered. Gerlach hit two to lead the Northville team to a 19-9 win.

Rizzo lost its first game in what proved to be a warm-up to the eventual championship contest, dropping a 23-18 game to Chrysler's. Mark Lisowski and Gerlach homered for the losers.

Refusing to roll over, Rizzo's came thundering back to smash Drake's 27-16 for its fourth win. Jim LaPlante, Gary Lisowski, Gerlach, Zima, Trumbull and Talbot all cleared the fence with ringing home runs.

In the championship contest, Chrysler's proved to be too much of a match for the Northville squad as they handed Rizzo its second defeat, 27-13. Chrysler's powered out four home runs to just one by Rizzo. Mark Lisowski hit the lone shot for the Northville team. Chrysler's outthit Rizzo 33 to 14.

Stingers even record with double-header sweep

For the Stingers, the course of the game was set in the first inning when they sent 12 batters to the plate and jumped out to a seven-run lead.

Heinzman opened the game by smacking a double to centerfield. Judy Orr followed with a single which knocked Heinzman home with the first Northville run. Phillips then batted a double to send Orr home, and then went to third on an error by the leftfielder. Kurzawa then made it to first on an error by Jake's shortstop, with Phillips scoring from third.

Lynne Sylvestre and Sudendorf followed with singles, scoring Kurzawa. A fielder's choice on a ball hit by Cindy Martin and two errors by the shortstop gave the Stingers three more runs and a 7-0 lead after the first inning.

Northville increased its lead to 12-0 in the second inning when, with one out, Kurzawa singled, Sylvestre walked, Sudendorf singled, Martin hit a ball that the shortstop threw wildly to third, and Stephanie Colovas tripled.

In the third, Northville picked up three more runs to increase its lead to 15-1. Heinzman singled to open the inning and went to second when the centerfielder dropped a ball hit by Orr. Heinzman scored when the centerfielder bobbed Phillips next hit. Kurzawa singled to score Orr while the next batter, Sylvestre, hit into a fielder's choice which eliminated Phillips at second. Sudendorf followed with a single to score Kurzawa for the last Northville run of the inning.

In the fifth, the Stingers scored their last three runs of the game. Phillips opened the inning with a single and took second on a bad throw from the outfield.

Kurzawa singled, driving in Phillips from second, and Sylvestre walked to put runners on first and second. Sudendorf then singled to load the bases with no outs. Martin hit a line drive to the third baseman but Cheryl Stasak and Julie McDaniels both walked to force in the last two runs for the Stingers.

In the second game, the Stingers fell behind 1-0 after Jake's half of the first, but the Garden City team's lead wasn't to last long. The Stingers jumped out to a 6-1 lead in their half of the first.

Heinzman singled, Orr followed with a triple, and Phillips, Kurzawa and Sylvestre all singled to give Northville a 3-0 lead. After Sudendorf lined out, Martin hit a shot that the third baseman booted. Colovas then singled to knock in two runs. She made the last out of the inning when she tried to score on a single by McDaniels with two down.

The Stingers picked up their final run in the third when Martin tripled and

"G" league gears up

The Pirates remained unbeaten and on top of the "G" league standings with a 12-3 win over the Astros and a 5-3 victory over the Padres.

Against the Astros, Kirk Nowka drove in two runs for the winners. Jim Oriowski knocked in two runs for the Astros. Against the Padres, the Pirates had a rougher time of it. The Padres scored three times in the sixth inning and had runners on second and third when their rally fell short. Earlier in the contest, a Padre batter hit the ball to deep centerfield. The outfielder for the Pirates, Tim Ruffing, threw a strike to catcher Don Norton, who nailed the runner coming into home.

The second place Yankees won twice also, gaining a 7-4 win over the Giants and a 14-5 victory over the Mets.

Gary Stobbe and Mark Hoffman both hit doubles in the Yankee fourth inning to drive in five runs and give them the lead over the Giants. In the sixth inning, the Giants sent eight men to the plate, with Greg Wendel driving in two runs, but their rally fell short. Against the Mets, Scott Werdel pitched a one-hitter. Rick Naszradi, Jim McCulloch and Brett Loomis all drove in runs for the Mets. Each Yankee batter hit safely at least once in the game.

The Dodgers, in third place, won twice this week. Brian Tilla and Paul Havalala combined to hurl a three-hitter against the Cubs. John Norton drove in both Cub runs in the first inning. Keith Dutkiewicz and Kelly Bell allowed only four Dodger hits, but they gave up a number of walks, which hurt their

Canoeing is a summer treat

By JIM HAYNES

Packing the family into the car for an afternoon drive in the country used to be as much a part of America as apple pie and fried chicken, but with gas prices increasing, that form of recreation is rapidly going the way of the buffalo and bald eagle. It is becoming extinct.

Americans are developing many new and imaginative ways to vent their recreational energies while still staying within the narrowing fuel budget that rising prices force us to follow.

From hot air balloons and bicycles to roller skates and hang gliders, Americans are learning to use and adapt to the energy rich forces of nature such as the wind and gravity.

But for all these relatively new forms of recreation, the one that still attracts the widest diversity of practitioners is the relatively ancient art of canoeing.

Canoeing has been a part of our culture since the days of America's earliest settlers who borrowed the idea and design for the lightweight and highly maneuverable watercraft from the Indians.

Over the centuries canoeing has become one of the most popular means of enjoying nature and exercise available.

Much of canoeing's popularity is due in part to the relatively inexpensive rates for rental, the not difficult, yet challenging task of learning to maneuver the craft, and the peaceful quiet of the non-motorized boat as it glides through the water on paddle power alone.

Michigan is one of the most active states for canoeists. There are hundreds of liveries spread throughout the state. Most, depending on location, rent canoes for either hours or days and may have courses and trips of varying lengths already planned.

In the Northville area, the Huron River is the canoeist's mecca. Winding through forests and farmlands, under bridges and over rapids, the Huron flows from the west through Dexter, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti to its destination, Lake Erie.

There are a number of liveries on the Huron. The Argo Park Canoe Livery in Ann Arbor will rent to those who want to go on the planned trips or to those who have their own plans.

The Argo people will transport you and your rented canoe to Delhi Park, or further downstream to Dexter on the planned trips. From there you canoe back to Ann Arbor.

The rates for rental are based on time, and the longer you have the canoe the cheaper the rental fee becomes. Starting at $2.75 an hour and decreasing to $7 for seven hours, your bill will be deducted at the end of your trip from the $10 security deposit that is required. The trip from Dexter is approximately 12 miles by river. Or you can just rent the canoe and take it to your own spot on the river.

At Delhi Park, between Ann Arbor and Dexter on Huron River Drive, Skip's Canoe Livery is available for those who would rather take their canoe dosages in smaller amounts.

Skip's offers a short trip from Dexter-Huron Park back to Delhi for $7.50 and one from Hudson Mills Park to Delhi for $12.50. The last rate is for four hours and the first for three. There is a $20 deposit required and the canoes will be rented only for either of these two trips. Skip's staff will drive you and the canoe to either of the two beginning points on the river and from there you're on your own.

Both Argo's and Skip's offer their canoes to the single-day sailor more than the week-long camper. But if traveling to the northlands and canoe-camping is your siren's call, there are a number of liveries for you.

One such livery is Johnson's Manistee River Canoe Rentals in Mesick which offers canoes for $4.50 per day to camping enthusiasts. The rates decrease with large groups and lengthy stays. The security deposit is $25. There are eight specially built camping sites for canoeists along the Manistee and other areas available if roughing it doesn't bother you. It is recommended that you reserve a canoe a week in advance before your trip.

The Baldwin Boat and Canoe Livery on the Pere Marquette River offers canoes to river campers also. But there is a month long waiting list for the craft, so call early.

Canoeing, more so than boating, is an undertaking that requires strict adherence to safety measures. The flat bottom of the canoe lets it travel swiftly through shallow water, but it also makes the stability of the craft precarious. It is very easy to flip a canoe.

Matt Sullivan and Sandra Kilgour, instructors for the Northville Recreation Office, offered some safety tips to beginning canoeists. Take life jackets along (all liveries provide them) and know how to swim. Bone up on the basics of rescue skills before you take to the water and dress appropriately (warmly if its cold outside, or vice versa), make sure the craft doesn't leak or tilt and that both paddles are sound, and always keep someone informed of your destination and trip's route. If you tip over in deep water, stay with your canoe as it will generally float.

Don't stand up in a canoe as this throws the craft's center of balance off and you will likely tip, don't overload the craft (poundage is usually specified on each craft) and acquaint yourself with the basic strokes and how to guide a canoe before you attempt rough water. Don't get in over your head by trying to shoot the rapids before you know how to steer a straight line. Don't drink while canoeing as the trade off of a drunken good time for a tragic accident is more likely to happen if spirits run free. Beginners shouldn't fish from a canoe because the excitement and action of fighting a big one may just cause them to tip.

Don't canoe alone unless you're experienced. If trouble happens, and it happens to beginners and experts alike, having someone to help is always better than being alone.

So instead of packing the family into the car and touring the countryside, this summer pack them into canoes and see a part of Michigan that you can't see from the roadside angle. The beauty of a river is a hard experience to match.

Bobby Munro of Taft School gets a present from Alhambra clown

Stephanie Walsh of Brainard boogies to the music

Dance to the music

Mother Nature was in full cooperation last Wednesday, as she provided a warm sunny day for the second annual Alhambra picnic for retarded persons at the Northville athletic area of Cass Benton Park. Some 1100 retarded and handicapped persons and staff members from the Plymouth Center for Human Development and other local schools and institutions danced to the music of Spectrum, a rock and roll band made up of local young men, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The local Alhambra Caravan — Manresa No. 217 — provided hot dogs, sloppy joes, cookies, pop and other refreshments for the picnickers. Northville city and township police, Michigan State Police and auxiliary police, as well as many businesses, assisted the Alhambras with the event. Following the picnic, all who helped with the picnic participated in a softball game at the park.

Canister drive yields $695

The local caravan of Alhambra was bubbling with enthusiasm this week in the wake of a "very successful" canister drive here Saturday.

"We raised $695 in funds collected by canister solicitors in downtown Northville in a single day," said caravan chairman, Robert Karlek.

The money will be used to help defray the cost of last week's picnic held here for hundreds of retarded and handicapped children, he explained. Some of it also will go towards sponsoring another picnic for retarded children next year, he added.

"Ed Donoghue, grand commander, and I want to express our deepest appreciation to the citizens of Northville in opening their hearts and their pocketbooks for this cause. The support will make a lot of young people happy."

Eleven sir nobles assisted in Saturday's downtown solicitation.

WILLIAM R. SLATTERY

William R. Slattery, a retired Ford Motor Company executive and long-time Northville resident, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Sunday at his home at 585 Morgan Circle. He was 63.

Visitation was at Casterline Funeral Home, Incorporated, where there will be a prayer service at 12:30 p.m. today with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure of First Presbyterian Church officiating.

Funeral mass will follow at Our Lady of Victory Church with Father Thomas Heier officiating. Interment is to be in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Slattery worked in plant engineering at Chrysler Motor Company prior to working more than 27 years with Ford Motor Company in Dearborn. He served as plant engineer of the Wixom Ford Plant and manager of plant engineering with the automotive assembly division for many years. He was director of manufacturing planning with Ford of Europe in London, England, for four years. He retired in 1977.

Active in civic affairs in the City of Northville, he also was an avid golfer, serving on the board of directors and as secretary of Meadowbrook Country Club. He recently was serving on the board of directors of the American Association of Watch and Clockmakers.

Schoolcraft President C. Nelson Grote was with John when he lapsed into unconsciousness. "We are shocked and saddened by his passing," Dr. Grote said. "We have lost a good friend and valued administrator. Although John had been at the college a relatively short time as its first director of labor relations, he brought a personality and a sense of humor to the job that will be sorely missed."

Mr. Graves had been serving as chief negotiator for three employee group contract negotiations. Talks were underway with food service, physical plant and the association of office personnel.

He joined the college staff in November, 1977. He served as personnel director for the City of Saginaw before coming here, and brought many years of experience in labor relations and personnel management.

Perry Drug Stores has the answer.
Now you can have prescriptions filled anytime 365 days a year.

And incidentally, all departments are staffed to serve you for 24 hours too. Need milk? bread? cosmetics? Visit Perry from midnight 'til midnight 'til midnight 'til midnight!

When you need drug store service around the clock

ASK... JUST ASK!

Exactly what's in my prescription? Can you substitute a generic drug? What's the difference between aspirin and aspirin-substitutes? What have you got on the shelf for sunburn?

Those are just a few questions Perry Redcoats have answers for everyday. Whether you want to know more about prescriptions or simply what's the best buy on other items you need. Perry people are trained in every way to give you what you came in for.

What's more, your Redcoats have the answer when it comes to saving, too... with everyday low prices on items you need every day.

For straight answers, plain, old-fashioned, friendly service... plus real value for your money... ask the Perry Redcoats. They have the answer.
