

Reverend Brasure announces plan to retire in 1980

Lloyd G. Brasure, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Northville for more than 18 years, has notified the session and congregation of 1,000 that he plans to retire June 30, 1980.

"I expect to continue to be busy," the 67-year-old minister says as he explains he will continue to work part-time with the Detroit Presbytery in ministerial relations.

He adds that he is giving notice now to allow the church a year to prepare for the transition to a new minister.

Northville state aid increased

The Northville Public Schools system will have more dollars to educate fewer pupils next year, but will still have a tough time adopting a balanced budget according to State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville).

"The increase will occur due to a more generous state aid formula, increased local property tax revenues, and an increased bonus from the state for school districts with declining enrollments, all contained in a bill which cleared the legislature last week," he said.

Geake, a member of the senate appropriations committee which helped to write the bill and the formula it contains, said that school systems will be guaranteed $325 for each pupil enrolled, plus $43 per mill levied on local property values up to 30 mills, and one-half of the mills over 30. These figures compare with only $274 per pupil in the 1978-79 (current year) state aid formula, plus $40 per mill up to 30 mills.

"We put this in the formula to help 'high effort' districts — those where the citizens are already supporting their schools with relatively high local property taxes. The people in the districts I represent have done so and they deserve to have that extra effort recognized," Geake said. "Under the new formula, the Northville Schools should receive approximately $1,165,084," he added.

"In addition, the Northville Schools should take in $7,078,918 from property taxes," Geake said. "This will be more than $798,000 over last year."

The Northville school system currently levies 35.40 mills for operating purposes. Operating millage does not include levies for bonded indebtedness.

The third principal element in the school aid bill is the bonus for school districts who enroll fewer pupils than in the previous year. The bonus was increased from $21.10 million to $23.75 million statewide, recognizing the

The Northville Education Association (NEA) has filed a written grievance to protest the transfer of Northville High School band teacher Robert Williams to Cooke Jr. High.

The written grievance was immediately filed with Northville High School (NHS) principal George Aune at 1 p.m. Tuesday after Aune turned down the oral grievance filed by Williams

Northville church on the Sunday after Easter in April, 1961, coming here with his wife Doris and four children from Petoskey, where he headed the Petoskey Presbyterian Church for a little more than 10 years.

As he prepares to retire from the Northville pulpit, the minister looked back at satisfying times in his ministry and offered some predictions for the future.

The Reverend Brasure is particularly proud of his friendships in both the Catholic and Protestant community and says he feels such relationships need to continue. He sees a need in the future to have church buildings become ecumenical structures, serving more than one denomination.

"The military," he points out, "has been doing this successfully for years."

Brasure has been a leading exponent of joint church services in the community, instituting the Fourth of July community service during the Bicentennial year in the Mill Race Village. It has continued yearly since under his chairmanship. He also has headed arrangements for Good Friday and Thanksgiving joint services.

The minister has served on school and community committees as well as on the Detroit Presbytery.

The expansion of the church during his ministry has been one of his satisfactions.

"We paid off two mortgages in the 18 years — one of which the church held when I came. It had to be paid off before we could start the Christian education building in 1964. That mortgage was paid off in five years. It totaled $150,000," he recalls.

In 1970 the new church sanctuary was built at a cost of $350,000. By the end of the current year only $98,000 will be outstanding on that mortgage.

Along with building expansion came staff expansion.

"We hired three new seminary graduates for our church," Brasure points out, noting that two have gone on to their own churches. The Reverend Timothy Johnson is pastor of a Presbyterian church in Newark, New York, and the Reverend Richard Henderson is minister of the new Faith

Presbyterian Church in Novi.

The Reverend John Mishler recently was ordained here and is the current assistant at the church. Janey Smith is a part-time staff member, heading Christian education programs.

Saying that his duties have been sometimes challenging and sometimes difficult, the Reverend Brasure listed preaching and weddings among the things he most enjoys doing. He says that weddings are happy occasions

Library to assert independence

Overnight splendor

City owned open land at the corner of Novi and Eight Mile was given an "overnight" naturally wooded appearance recently with the planting of eight large trees of various varieties by the cities. "We wanted to give this entrance to our city as natural an appearance as possible," explained Mayor Paul Vernon, who also heads up the city's beautification commission which spearheaded the project. The trees are part of a special offer made by Green Ridge Nursery last year. Earlier new, large trees were planted in the South Main median. Three of the trees at the Eight Mile-Nowi corner were paid for with funds contributed by the Northville Civic Association representing the adjacent subdivision, the mayor said.

Shift away from county tie in offering

"We are the county's training ground; no sooner is our new librarian trained, effective and well liked, she's transferred and we're given another new person."

That complaint voiced often in past months is the impetus for a move by the city and township to eliminate county control over the local library but to retain most of the county library services.

Northville Township Board and Northville City Council have supported a plan to sever Wayne County's controlling ties September 30 — the township board by unanimous action last Thursday and the city council by a 4-0 vote Monday to hold a required public hearing on August 6.

Next step: enactment of a city ordinance creating a city library board, which then would turn over operational control of library functions to the existing City-township advisory library commission.

Creation of the five-member city library board, as provided under state law, formally establishes a local library and permits local hiring and firing of library personnel. Under the existing arrangement in which the city and township contract with the county to provide the library service here, the county hires and fires ... and transfers personnel.

The Northville advisory library board recommended the change from the present Wayne County library staff to a locally hired staff for two reasons:

1. The change will avoid various jurisdictional problems, especially when CETA funds expire on September 30.
2. The change will result in a cost saving to the local municipalities.

Pointing out that the Northville library is officially a branch of the Wayne County Library rather than an independent local public library, the library commissions said, "As a small library, we have been functioning as a career stepping-stone for librarians as they are promoted from assistant positions to larger libraries. Periodically our librarian is transferred to another library, and a new person is assigned, without any local control over the matter."

The county library union prohibits local hiring except in the case of CETA employees.

"However, when the CETA funds expire at the end of September, the Northville Library Commission will not be able to retain the community service librarian under the existing situation."

"The rigidity built into the Wayne County employee union situation, and the position of the Northville librarian in the overall library system, have worked to the disadvantage of the local library operation."

In recommending establishment of an official library here, independent of the county, the library commission did, however, add that "all other (Wayne-Oakland Federated Library) services, such as interloans, book purchasing and binding service, are very beneficial and would be retained under the local staffing plan."

Even if it were not important to control library personnel locally, the fact that creation of the independent local library will result in considerable financial savings is reason enough to warrant the switch, Northville City

Township expands plan commission

The seven-member Northville Township Planning Commission will take on two new members to become a nine-member commission, the Northville Township Board of Trustees voted Thursday night.

The motion the board passed specifies that at least one of the two new slots will be filled by a woman.

Voting for a nine-member commission were: Supervisor Don Thomson, Treasurer Lee Holland and Trustees David Mitchell and James Nowka. Opposed were: Trustees John Swienkowski, Bill Zapke and Township Clerk Clarice Sass.

The two members will be appointed at the August township board meeting, Thomson said. The board must approve Thomson's appointments.

The sell-out is the earliest ever, said Lapham, who believes it may be an indication that a record-breaking turnout of shoppers may be in the offing. "We've never seen anything like it. Area Newsbeat

BRIGHTON—Despite seemingly overwhelming public approval of a Meijer's Thrifty Acres Store proposed for the Brighton area, the Brighton City Council has voted to table a rezoning request for the Bowen property here that would make a Meijer's store possible.

PINCKNEY—Hamburg township may be talking about a regional police department, but Pinckney's number one city official isn't having anything to do with it. Pinckney already has a police department and President Paul Bell doesn't see any advantage hooking up with Hamburg which now contracts with the county for police protection.

HOWELL—Is it proper for relatives and former associates of a district court judge who decides land contract forfeiture cases to purchase interests in those land contracts at bargain prices? That seems to be the central question in a tangle of interwoven lawsuits which converge on the issue of legal ethics here.

PINCKNEY—Elementary music will be added to the Pinckney school system next fall if a special August 6 millage request is approved.

SOUTH LYON—South Lyon City Council has given City Manager Paul

Meyer notice that he must improve his job performance or be fired. In a unanimous vote, the five member council passed a motion that placed Meyer on a 60-day probationary period during which time his performance will be closely monitored.

WHITMORE LAKE—The Whitmore Lake Board of Education has adopted a tentative budget of $1.9 million, about $150,000 more than its assured revenues for the 1979-80 school year. The board adopted the deficit budget in hopes that a 3.4 mill proposal will be approved by voters in August.

SOUTH LYON—Ruth Munzel was elected president of the South Lyon Board of Education in a 4-3 vote at the board's reorganization meeting Monday night.

SOUTH LYON—Brookdale Shopping Center will cost an estimated $2.75 million. That figure does not include the construction of a supermarket or a bank to be located on the Pontiac Trail and Nine Mile Road property. The site is located at the southwest corner — opposite the high school.

SOUTH LYON—Friends and co-workers turned out recently to honor Jesse Winters, head of the city's department of public works who is retiring after 23 years of service to South Lyon residents. Winters has headed the department for 20 years.

GREEN OAK—Citizens here have served notice that they don't think the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority needs another metropark — especially in Green Oak.

SALEM—The Salem Township Planning Commission has tabled a rezoning request until the developers of a proposed subdivision return with a site plan for their project at Brookville and North Territorial roads.

WALLED LAKE—Betty Campion was re-elected to a second consecutive term as president of the school board here. Meanwhile, in Novi, John Milam, who previously served as vice-president, has been elected president of the Novi board.

WALLED LAKE—Superintendent Don Sheldon announced last week that all units of government in the Walled Lake School District will be asked to consider the concept of split tax collection before the summer is over.

NOVI—These days a woman in a position traditionally reserved for the male of the species hardly occasions more than a second glance. In that spirit the City of Novi has hired its first women laborers in the Department of Public Works.

NOVI—Residents of the Village Oaks subdivision have asked the city to halt approval of any further subdivisions south of Nine Mile until it has been determined whether storm water run off from them can be handled by the existing drainage system.

WALLED LAKE—A second round of advertising for a part-time fire chief netted even worse results than the first ad, announced Walled Lake City Manager Peter Parker. Only one person has applied for the $4,800 a year post since early June when Parker decided to advertise after only three persons responded.

NOVI—A Bloomfield Hills architect has been selected by the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church of Novi to design its new building. The Reverend Richard Henderson announced that Jack Brown of Brown, Deyo and Associates will design the church to be built on a 4.5 acre parcel on the north side of Ten Mile between Taft and Novi roads. Mr. Henderson formerly was an assistant pastor in Northville.

Township board appoints Morley

Kenneth Morley was reappointed for a second three-year term to the Water and Sewer Commission by the Northville Township Board of Trustees Thursday night.

Supervisor Donald Thomson recommended that Tom Handyside be named to replace Morley, whose term was up July 1. But upon a motion from Trustee Bill Zapke, Morley's reappointment was approved, four to three. Trustees John Swienkowski, Lee Holland, Zapke and Township Clerk Clarice Sass all voted for Morley's reappointment.

In other board action at Thursday night's meeting:

- A five-member wage and salary review commission will meet within two months to review the salaries of township employees. Named to the committee are: Ron Martin, Robert Prom, Richard Henningsen, Susy Heintz, and Dick Allen.

- The township will contact its attorney to find out if it can start action to fill in a long-unfinished basement on Winchester if the developer does not finish the home soon. Similar threatened action in the Highland Lakes subdivision a few years ago caused quick response from the developer.

- The township may soon put in a bid to purchase 60 acres of land from Plymouth. Plymouth still owns about 50 acres on Beck between Six Mile and Five Mile; and 10 acres on Six Mile between Beck and Ridge. Both these properties are surrounded by Northville Township land. Plymouth has agreed to sell and has had the land appraised, but Northville Township will have to compete with other communities and submit a closed bid on the property after July 25, the Plymouth clerk's office said.

- The township will send a letter to the builder and heating contractor who constructed the Northville Township Hall on Six Mile. The township facilities have only been occupied since fall, but already the roof is leaking and one citizen has already slipped in a puddle of water in front of the police reception desk. The board decided to write the letter after dodging the drips from the ceiling to get into the township meeting room — where air conditioning was on the blink.

- The board gave approval to the building department to spend $500 to get an engineer's opinion on the heating systems of ten homes in Whisper Wood subdivision. The engineer's opinion may be used in legal action against the homes' developer, said Troy Milligan, building inspector.

- The township will also send letters to Governor William Milliken and Northville State Hospital Director John Reynolds protesting hospital walkaways. Mrs. Sass told the board one walkaway took her son's bicycle from the front porch of their Innsbruck apartment on Seven Mile. The board will put pressure on the governor to put a fence around the hospital grounds.

- The township board gave formal instructions for the township supervisor and clerk to sign a lease agreement allowing the recreation commission to lease the community building, 303 West Main, from the Northville Public Schools.

The agreement will be jointly signed by the city, township and school board president and secretary. It is a compromise lease reached by attorneys, taking into account the concerns of all three parties about the lease.

Tax increment gains will pay for 'Mainstreet'

About two dozen retail merchants and Northville Community Chamber of Commerce members got together last Thursday night and agreed they all supported Mainstreet 78 unanimously.

The $1.6 million project proposes to make public improvements in the city's downtown district. It would be financed from taxbase increases resulting from anticipated private business improvements.

The proposal received a boost at the Thursday night city hall meeting when City Manager Steven Walters produced data which substantiates that the tax increment financing plan can pay off the improvement bonds without fear of burden on local taxpayers.

When Mainstreet 78 lost by a 318 to 260 at the polls in February, many believed the defeat was due to the fact taxpayers feared that new building taxes could not support bond issue payments.

The manager now projects that increased taxbase, due at the outset to recovery of Northville Square as an operating facility, will keep pace with payment demands. The projections show that taxbase gains planned during and upon completion of Mainstreet 78 will meet payment obligations without drain on the city taxpayers and will provide a surplus for local taxing units amounting to some $71,000 within five years.

In the past few years the city's downtown taxbase has been declining.

Michael Melford, who heads up the campaign to pass Mainstreet 78 at the July 31 election, expressed pleasure at the overwhelming business support for building. The schools are leasing the building to the recreation commission for a true anti-inflationary price — a dollar for 25 years. The dollar rent which makes the lease legal, will be paid on the day the lease is signed.

He noted that several merchants have indicated plans to make substantial investments in improvements of their business places upon approval of Mainstreet 78.

"We realize the necessity of the program and believe it is the most economical manner for the benefit of the entire community," Melford stated.

Diane Fisher reported in behalf of Northville retail merchants full support of the program. Chamber of Commerce Paul Folino assured the same backing from the chamber.

Reports were made concerning campaign programs at the annual sidewalk sale, July 28, and for door-to-door and telephone solicitation. Councilman Stanley Johnston said he would be responsible to inform residents of Allen Terrace in hopes of gaining their support for Mainstreet 78.

Barbara Black struck an optimistic note my stating that "when Mainstreet 78 passes, what will we do to encourage new and different stores to locate in Northville?"

"That's all of our jobs," said Folino. But Dan Collins and J.J. Zayti expressed confidence that the project itself would attract merchants, perhaps more than can be accommodated.

Eugene Wagner suggested the formation of a committee to handle prospective business inquiries and offer assistance.

It was a positive session. But there was still the reminder that to obtain lowest interest rates possible for the bond sale, approval of voters is still required.

And this time, merchants insist, a bigger vote at the polls will be sought.

Lot split approved

A three-way split for a lot in Meadowbrook Estates subdivision was approved by the Northville Planning Commission at a special meeting July 10.

Lot owner Miriam Peterson got the commission's approval after one previous unsuccessful try. The long strip of land between Stonleigh and Sunbury with a 244-foot frontage on Meadowbrook Drive will be split into three lots, each of at least 1.5 acres. The two back lots will be reached by a 50-foot wide drive on an easement at the north edge of the property.

Although objections were voiced by some residents about the 50-foot easement, township planner George Vilican said there were no township standards concerning easement widths on platted lots such as Ms. Peterson's.

Township Engineer L.W. Mosher said the splitting of the parcel would not alter drainage in the subdivision.

Neighbors said the current residence on the lot

GOOD TIME FOR WINE
by Jim Roth

The study of wine has come to college these days. At the University of California, Davis, is a wine research center where an international group of professors and students study the grape and its wine possibilities. Although this is the only endowed wine research center in the United States, there are others in Germany, at Beisenheim, in Montpellier, France, as well as lesser known ones in Australia and South Africa. With all this research and technology going into the study of wines, one wonders what will be coming off the vines and into the bottle over the next few years.

If you have ever wondered what wine goes best with certain foods, how much to purchase for a large party, or whether to buy an imported or domestic brand, then you need the help of our knowledgeable people at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. We have a wide stock of wine for your selection. Hours: Mon thru Sat 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sun Noon-6 p.m.

To market, to market

To point out that house and garden plants as well as produce will be found at the Northville Farmers' Market tomorrow Ann Raney wraps a specimen at her parents' greenhouse on Ten Mile Road in South Lyon. The market opens for the season at 8 a.m. Thursday and will continue until 5 p.m. It will be held weekly on Thursdays in Main Street parking lot adjacent to Northville Pharmacy. More farmers than ever have indicated they will be bringing produce, plants and eggs to the market sponsored by the Northville Chamber of Commerce.

Area homes experience power loss

Two unrelated accidents left many area homes without electrical power and others without the use of their telephone for a number of hours over the weekend.

A car ran off Seven Mile near Edenderry in Northville Township at approximately 10 p.m. Saturday, knocking down a wooden utility pole and a number of electrical wires.

Some 500 homes lost power when the wires were downed, and power was not restored in some residences until 5 a.m. Sunday, utility spokesmen said.

According to police, the driver of the car, a Livonia man, apparently lost control of the car as he was attempting to steer the vehicle through the turn on westbound Seven Mile. Witnesses say the car was traveling at a very high rate of speed.

The driver walked away from the accident unhurt. The car was damaged beyond repair.

One of the falling wires singed a telephone line knocking out phone service for many of the same homes which lost electrical power.

A Bell spokesman said that this was the same wire that was knocked down the day before — which just happened to be Friday the 13th.

Friday about 4 p.m. a double-bottomed truck trailer was westbound on Seven Mile when the hydraulic dumpster control released, raising the trailer box high enough to strike the cable and rip it down.

The falling cable struck a vehicle traveling eastbound and also whipped inside the car and hit the driver, Brent Ashby, 21, of Northville Township. He suffered minor injuries.

Due to the multiple accidents, many homes in the city and township lost use of their phone service more than once over the course of the weekend.

Bell workers were still repairing damage Monday, since they could not begin their work until Edison workers completed their repairs.

In addition to the residential electrical and phone service outages, Northville City Hall and Northville Township Hall were forced to operate on emergency generators at different times over the weekend.

City police operated on emergency power from approximately 10 p.m. Saturday, when the car downed the pole, until 5 a.m. Sunday.

Gary Kelly, whose home is located on Seven Mile about 300 feet from the utility pole which was knocked down, said that location is prone to accidents.

"There have been many other accidents on this stretch of roadway," he

Home resale market slowing after record

RIISING PRICES and high mortgage interest rates are slowing the home resale market from its record pace of the past two years, according to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR).

A mid-year report by the Board shows 1979 sales down 10.1 percent compared to the first six-months of 1978. Listings in the same period showed a healthy 5.9 percent increase.

"There is a good variety of homes available with a range of prices in nearly all of the areas we cover in our 1,600 square mile territory," said WWOCBR President John Cole.

"Unfortunately, an increasing number of prospective buyers are being forced out of the market or must settle for a lesser home than desired because of escalating prices. Others may be holding back hoping for a decline in interest rates.

"However, we can't see home buying conditions improving in the near future and continue to urge buyers positioned to do so to get into the market now."

Cole cited WWOCBR statistics showing the average price for existing homes rising 23.8 percent since last June to reach $53,722 this June.

"A year ago, the interest rate for a 30-year conventional mortgage with 20 percent down was 9 1/2 percent," he said. "Now the same mortgage has an interest rate of 11 1/2 percent."

"Average home prices have increased 9.3 percent in the past six months. Following this trend, the price of the average existing home in our territory will be up another $5,500 by year's end. So, even if mortgage rates were to miraculously drop a full percentage point, the monthly payment on principal and interest would still be nearly $10 higher than at the present."

The WWOCBR statistics showed percentage price increases varying between areas. In its five top selling areas outside Detroit, the year-to-date average price and percentage increase since last June were Livonia, $60,659, 21.9 percent; Westland, $43,440, 24.6 percent; Dearborn/Dearborn Heights, $48,038, 21.4 percent; Redford Township $43,653, 27.6 percent, and Farmington/Farmington Hills, $74,481, 16.3 percent.

Jacques gets Vietnam vet's award

A former Northville resident was recently selected as recipient of the Vietnam Veterans Award by the Boston Federal Executive Board and the Veterans Administration at ceremonies held in Boston, Mass.

Thomas G. Jacques, son of Mrs. L. Cenar, 19478 Inlet Court, was nominated for the honor by Colonel H.F. Penney, Commander, US Army Natick Research and Development Command, Natick, Mass., in connection with the observance of Vietnam Veterans Week late last month.

The recipient is employed as an intern

at 19665 Meadowbrook Drive would be only 40 feet from the new ingress-egress to be constructed along the lot edge, contrary to subdivision regulations which call for a minimum of 50 feet between a residence and a road.

The planning commission approved the split, provided that Ms. Peterson agreed to include part of the easement strip in the property of the house, so that the easement becomes part of the property and not a separate road.

DeWitt board suspends Spear

Raymond Spear, former superintendent of Northville schools, has been suspended with pay in DeWitt where he had just completed the first year of a three year contract as superintendent.

Spear had resigned his superintendency here, in the wake of controversy, to take the DeWitt job.

The unanimous DeWitt school board action followed a 90-minute closed door meeting with Spear, reported The Lansing State Journal.

Board members refused to discuss reasons for the suspension because Spear had requested a closed hearing. They promised, however, to disclose the nature of the charges when they are formally filed and a hearing is held on them.

Although the board president, Kenneth Stevens, would not comment on whether the suspension and possible dismissal related to Spear's work performance, some members of the audience suggested the action was taken as a result of a "personal relationship" by Spear of which the board did not approve.

According to The Journal, one woman in the audience commented, "Since you are about to make a moral judgment on someone else, I hope you will set it as a standard and expect everyone in the school system, including teachers and board members, to abide by it."

Spear reportedly had been asked to resign but refused to do so.

Had he resigned the board would likely not have been required to pay the remaining two years of his contract. If Spear is dismissed, however, he may be entitled to two years salary.

He did not stay for the open portion of the DeWitt school board meeting.

The DeWitt middle school principal has been named acting superintendent until the situation is resolved, said The Journal.

4-H members headed for D.C.

Two Northville students will spend a week in Washington D.C. as part of a citizenship trip sponsored by the Oakland County 4-H Club. Ann and Jon Visnyak, 50855 West Nine Mile, will go on the trip Sunday with 35 other Michigan club members. They will stay at the J.C. Penny 4-H center in Maryland and visit various governmental offices around the city. They will return July 28.

Ann, 16, and Jon, 14, also just returned recently from 11 days in North Dakota on a 4-H exchange program.

The Oakland County 4-H chapter sent 23 teens to Ward County, North Dakota, to spend time on a farm there.

Ann and Jon each stayed with farm families near Minot where they experienced a change from their own farm where they raise cows and pigs. Jon stayed on a 2,000 acre farm while Ann stayed on a 600 acre farm. The main crop in Ward County, the Visnyaks said, is sunflowers, which stretch across the flat fields as far as the eye can see.

Ann and Jon saw, Bismark and Jon got the autograph of North Dakota governor Arthur Link. They also visited the Badlands and other natural sites.

Insurance breakthrough!
Now, a new coverage fully protects your personal property against loss or damage.

For example:

Standard homeowners policy:

Your TV set cost $500
If replacement cost today is $600
If depreciation is $400
You get $200

With full value replacement coverage:

Your TV set cost $500
If replacement cost today is $600
You get $600

Your standard homeowners policy pays for personal property loss on an "actual cash value" basis (i.e. replacement cost less depreciation). This means you can end up paying a lot of your own money to replace your loss.

Now, with our Full Value Replacement Coverage, you're compensated for what it costs to replace your property at today's prices. You beat inflation and depreciation! This great new coverage is inexpensive and it can save you money.

Marijuana as medicine? Michigan senate says yes

by DAN GUIDO

The use of marijuana, in certain circumstances, could soon be legal in Michigan.

At approximately 9:30 p.m., on June 25, the Michigan Senate passed a bill which will allow the medical use of marijuana for cancer patients throughout the state.

The final roll call showed that 29 senators had voted for legalizing marijuana for medical purposes, while only five senators voted against it. Included in the 29 yes votes were the senators whose districts are within the area covered by Sliger Home Newspapers, Kerry Kammer (D-Pontiac), Ed Pierce (D-Ann Arbor), R. Robert Geake, (R-Northville), and Doug Ross (D-Oak Park).

The medical marijuana bill follows on the heels of a bill passed by the senate May 23 which will decriminalize the use of small amounts of marijuana, (less than 30 grams), in the privacy of one's home. This bill passed the senate by a 20 to 14 vote, with Kammer, Pierce and Ross voting for the bill, and Geake voting against.

Both bills must now go before the Michigan House, where it is generally conceded that both will pass due to an influx of new representatives who have shown a favorable attitude towards medical use and decriminalization.

In a telephone interview shortly after the medical marijuana bill's passage, (Senate Bill 185, introduced by Senator Steve Monsma), Roger Winthrop, the Michigan Coordinator for the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML) declared a victory for those that have worked to pass pro-marijuana laws.

"Monsma's bill should go a long way in helping those who suffer from the terrible side effects of chemotherapy and the pain of glaucoma to get relief," Winthrop said.

Dick Klaver, an administrative assistant to Senator Monsma, said the bill's passage by the senate and the eventual passage by the House should help to standardize current medical use of marijuana throughout the state.

"There are several clinics in Michigan and elsewhere in the nation that have been fighting for the right to administer marijuana to their patients. What this bill will establish is a program with the Food and Drug Administration that will allow the legal use of marijuana by glaucoma and cancer patients who have received a prescription for the substance from their doctor," Klaver said.

He explained that marijuana reduces the severe vomiting and stomach sickness which comes as a side effect with the chemotherapy treatments administered to cancer patients. With glaucoma, Klaver said the substance helps reduce the pressure on the afflicted person's eye.

"Seven other states have already passed similar medical marijuana bills, including New Mexico, which after months of paperwork, has finally begun to receive a supply of marijuana from the federal government."

Klaver and Winthrop both agreed that the bill should pass the house "without too much trouble" but said it would take months to get the clinical program worked out with the FDA which would start the flow of federally grown marijuana to Michigan.

Under Monsma's bill, only licensed doctors would be allowed to prescribe the substance to cancer and glaucoma patients. The doctors would also be required to take delivery of the federal pot, as no pharmacist would be allowed to distribute the substance to the physician's patients, Klaver explained.

He said he doubted there would be any problem with unauthorized persons getting marijuana from a physician's office without a prescription, or persons who do not suffer from cancer or glaucoma obtaining the substance illegally.

The decriminalization bill passed by the Senate last month (Senate bill 65, sponsored by Senator Jerome Hart), will mandate a civil, instead of criminal, penalty for those who use 30 grams of pot or less in the privacy of their own homes. Both bills must be passed by the house before becoming state law, although the House is not expected to get either bill until after the summer recess is over.

The decriminalization bill's sponsor, Jerome Hart, said he proposed the legislation to the Senate "because there is a demonstrable need in the state to create a uniform method of dealing with those persons who wish to use small amounts of marijuana in their homes."

Hart said current marijuana laws in Michigan are too "strict and enforced unfairly." He said the present system allows police officers too much discretion in the enforcement of the law.

"You might have a situation where a police officer pulls over a teen-ager for speeding and when he does, he notices a marijuana cigarette in the car. If the teen-ager is in any way belligerent to the cop, he'll get busted. If the kid is respectful to the cop, chances are the officer will ignore the marijuana and let him go. That type of enforcement I feel is very unfair."

Hart said the bill was necessary from another standpoint also.

"There are 36 million Americans who have smoked marijuana at one time or another, 15 million of which smoke it regularly. With these kind of statistics, it's stupid to keep busting people for marijuana and giving them criminal records."

Hart said he was opposed to the state legalization of marijuana, since he felt the federal government should handle the issue.

"This type of thing needs to be uniform throughout the country," Hart said. When you decide to legalize marijuana, you have to decide upon a way of marketing it. The only practical way would be for the federal government to commission farmers throughout the country to grow it, then package it and rate the stuff according to its potency, and sell and tax it through state approved facilities."

Although he said the Monsma bill

Planning commission grows to nine members

The move to a nine-member commission was made after a sharp discussion Thursday night. Planning Commission Chairman William Bohan told the board that the commission felt seven members were adequate.

"There has been only one time since 1974 that we have had trouble getting a quorum, and that was at a public meeting," Bohan said. "By luck we have a pretty good representation of the various sections of the township. The members are all dedicated, with diverse opinions..."

"Very few of our decisions have been overturned by this board, so it seems we do reflect your wishes," Bohan said. He added, though, that the commission would abide by the board's decision.

Thomson said that since the township Board of Appeals has recently been raised from three to five members, he thought the extra two members on the planning commission would be beneficial.

"I proposed a nine member board after talking with the members of the nine member planning commission in Plymouth township.... I don't think this township is hurt by adding input," he said.

Plymouth township went to a nine member planning commission after increasing its board of appeals to five. Its township board, like Northville, has seven members.

Swienkowski said he thought the added positions were "politically generated" and saw no need for nine members at this time. Mrs. Sass said the additional members would mean more work for the clerk's office because additional information packets would have to be put together and Zapke said the additional positions

'Last minute barrage rapped'

By JACK KIRKSEY
State Representative
Republican - Northville

Last week the Legislature concluded its annual marathon budget session which is a tradition in Lansing. At this time of the year, almost every year, members of the Legislature work long hours in a frantic effort to finish priority legislation prior to adjournment. Last week representatives and senators worked several 18 hour days and then on Friday, July 13, they began their day at 8 a.m. and worked non-stop until the early morning hours of Saturday, July 14.

Although everyone works long hard hours, marathon sessions of this type do nothing to improve the quality of the legislative process.

Very often complex legislation is approved without the benefit of thorough debate. Many new bills are introduced at the last minute and rushed through creating confusion and misunderstanding. A number of pieces of legislation are changed substantially in committee at the last minute. Changes of this type often dramatically alter the bill and ignore the intent of the bill sponsors.

This process produces legislation of inferior quality resulting in substandard laws. Importantly, a majority of the budget bills are finalized during these closing days prior to adjournment.

It is a time that the legislature earmarks tax dollars to fund such important functions and education, mental health, public health, corrections, the state police, and social welfare. I feel that this hasty approach to finalizing legislation is one of the prime reasons that state government is becoming more and more costly. It is also the reason why much of what we do in Lansing is not much in touch with the will of the people.

Although a majority of the legislators work very hard in Lansing and in their home districts, as a group we do not always utilize our time effectively. The current legislative leadership (the Democratic party) does not maintain a master schedule. There was a time not too many years ago that, under the leadership of a different political party, the workload was carefully scheduled to avoid the last minute approach to legislation. Republicans devised a master schedule early in the legislative session and made committee chairmen and members closely adhere to that schedule.

It would be less than honest to indicate that it would be possible to totally avoid eleventh hour frantic voting on legislation. There will always be priority items that occur that are difficult to anticipate.

I do feel that the legislature and, more importantly, the people of Michigan would benefit considerably if we were to return to a more orderly and systematic approach to the legislative process. I have worked closely with many of my legislative colleagues toward this goal. It is difficult to change present attitudes and the present system, however, I will continue to work toward a more responsible process.

In addition to allowing legislators a full opportunity to closely examine all legislation, a balanced approach in Lansing would also allow for improved communication from citizens in the business of government.

The present process is an irresponsible approach to governing this fine state and a gross disservice to the citizens who reside in Michigan.

Two women hospitalized

FORMER CITY Clerk Mary Alexander, now 88, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor last Saturday. Another long-time Northville resident, Lydella Ely, is in the hospital in Marshall, Michigan.

Show features

old engines

Two shows are coming up in Mason that should excite persons with special interests in antique engines.

On July 21 and 22, the 10th annual gas engine and tractor show will be held at the Ingham County Fairgrounds on East M-36 in Mason.

Admission is $2, with children under 13 admitted free.

An antique tractor pull is planned at 1 p.m. on Saturday, while old time fiddlers contest and music show is planned on Sunday at 1 p.m.

The second big upcoming show is the Michigan Steam Engine and Thresher's Club Annual Reunion slated July 27, 28 and 29 at Mason.

Admission is $1.50, with children under 12 admitted free.

More than 25 steam engines, large and small will be on display. Demonstrations of steam and gas threshing is planned.

Other attractions during the three-day show will include antique tractor displays, an antique saw mill, a shingle mill, belting contest, pulling contest, a daily parade, a flea market, and craft displays.

The show will be held three miles south of Mason on Highway 127.

Marijuana as medicine approved in senate would easily pass through the House next fall, Hart said he expected "one hell of a fight" to get his bill through the same body.

"Similar bills like mine went down in the House by three votes a couple of years ago, and one vote this year. Even with the new reps this year, it could still be a hell of a battle to get it passed."

Winthrop said this year's decriminalization bill was the 20th such bill introduced in the Michigan Legislature in the past 11 years.

"Few people know there have been 20 attempts to get this through the House and Senate," Winthrop said. "In fact we conducted a poll a while back which showed few senators knew that 20 decrim bills have been introduced in Michigan. The first 16 died in committee, the 17th lost by five votes, the 18th by three and the 19th by one. So you can see we're getting closer to passage every year."

Winthrop said he also expected a tough fight to get the decriminalization bill passed by the House.

"This is a very emotional issue in Michigan, and it always has been. There are a lot of reps in the House who feel very strongly on the issue, whether they are for or against it."

"I do think the discussion on the decrim bill will be conducted in a better tone than it has been in previous years. We shouldn't have anybody hitting anyone else over the head with ashtays like we had a couple of years ago."

Representatives Richard Fessler (R-

Union Lake) and Fred Dillingham (R-Fowlerville), whose districts are covered by Sliger Home Newspapers, agreed with Winthrop's and Hart's assessment of the decriminalization bill's future in the House.

Both representatives are against the bill as it has been passed by the Senate. Dillingham said he has "some real concerns" over the allowable quantity of marijuana, while Fessler said he was opposed to the bill for "philosophical reasons."

"The bill as it now stands, is totally illogical. What it says is it's okay to smoke pot where we can't see you (in the privacy of one's home), but if we do see you, you're busted," Fessler said.

Dillingham agreed with Hart in that the current state laws concerning marijuana do not work, but said the 30 gram limit for private use "is too high."

"With 30 grams, one still has enough pot to sell to others. If you figure that 30 grams equals about 26 marijuana cigarettes, then I have to say that's too much for one person's private use. If the bill limited private use to 10 or 20 grams, then I might be able to support it."

Even if the bill fails to pass the House for the 20th time, Winthrop said NORML will work to initiate another marijuana decriminalization bill after the summer recess is over.

"If this one bites the dust, we'll introduce another, and another, and another. We're going to keep fighting until this thing gets passed. We've worked too hard and too long to give up now."

What's philately?

Post office, hobbyists endorse stamp collecting

By NANCY DINGELDEY

It rates with coin-collecting as the foremost hobby in the United States. And probably ranks first in popularity in the world.

People who are into the hobby are called "philatelists" — stamp collectors.

"Everyone seems to like to collect things," observes Robert Whiteman, a Wolverine Lake Village resident who has been "into stamps" for approximately six years.

"I happen to like to collect stamps."

Whiteman's interest in stamp collecting started simply enough.

He got started when his wife bought him a stamp kit as a gift.

From that simple beginning, Whiteman subsequently became a hobbyist — a private collector — an investor. Just recently he has become a full-fledged stamp dealer.

Collecting things is nothing new for Whiteman, in fact, he has been a coin collector for the past 20 years.

But stamp collecting is even more fascinating than collecting coins, he maintains.

"It's one of the greatest hobbies in the world and one of the best for children," he reports.

The hobby can begin with a modest investment of between $4 and $10. As the collection grows, Whiteman says, it requires time and patience for sorting and collating.

Armed with stamp catalogs and books, the collector refers to the stamps in his collection by catalog number and letter. He will not use a designated name such as the "Lindbergh Commemorative."

Whiteman states that a serious collector will subscribe to "Linn's Stamp News," a weekly newspaper which contains more than 80 pages of news and articles strictly about stamps.

One of the most positive aspects of stamp collecting is its investment value. Whiteman considers stamps the second best investment in the world today, topped only by rare paintings.

The most noted of United States rarities, the inverted airplane produced in the 1930s, brought $90,000 at a recent auction. The price, according to Whiteman, was up $45,000 from two years ago.

Here's one option you can't get from a car dealer.

Real rustproofing. A dealer can't order it from the factory because it has to be done after the car is completely assembled.

Some car dealers will do a so-called "rustproofing" job, but that's about all.
They might even say it's the "same as Ziebart." That's not true because they don't have the training, equipment or know-how to give you complete rustproofing.

At Ziebart Rustproofing we've got the spray tools, the sealant, the manuals and the technicians to do it right.

If you're buying a new car, you should check us out. Why not give us a call?

ATTENDED CONFERENCE—Local athletes who attended the recent Fellowship of Christian Athletes conference are (l to r, front) Paul Young, Todd Parsons and David Young, all of Novi; (back row) David Hooten, Craig Iseli, and Robert Ade. Ade and Hooten are from Northville, Iseli from Novi.

Six athletes at conference

Two Northville and three Novi high schoolers attended a Fellowship of Christian Athletes conference early this month at Central Michigan University. The five — Paul Young, Todd Parsons, David Young and Craig Iseli of Novi and David Hooten and Robert Ade of Northville — are members of the Northville-Novu Christian Athletes Huddle.

The five-day program of "inspiration and perspiration" is one of 27 FCA national conferences scheduled this summer involving 10,000 high school, college and pro athletes and coaches and family members.

In addition to "Huddle" group discussions, the daily schedule consists of competition in a variety of sports, special events, workouts, coaches clinics, and evening assemblies where top sports figures share their Christian faith.

Among the 25-year-old organization's more prominent proponents and conference staff participants are Tom Osborne, Jim Kaat, Don Kessinger, Roger Staubach, Tim Foley, Tom Landry, Madeline Manning Jackson, Archie Griffin, Paul Anderson and Kyle Rote, Jr.

Locally, the organization's advisor and sponsor is Kenneth Parsons, who is assisted by Robert Simpson, a Northville coach. The local Huddle meets twice monthly at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

It receives some of its financial support from the local Kiwanis and Rotary clubs.

Purpose of the FCA is "to confront athletes and coaches, and through them the youth of the nation, with the challenge and adventure of accepting Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, participating in His church and serving Him through our vocations."

The year-round program includes NCAA and NAIA coaches meetings, rallies, weekend conferences, bowl breakfasts, pro-chapel services and Bible studies.

accept a position as high school band director with Saline Public Schools. Mason had been notified in the spring that he would be laid off here, but accepted the Saline High School position instead.

Mason's replacement at Mead's Mill has not yet been named, the Board of Education Personnel Office said yesterday.

The first meeting of an advisory committee on the band met Tuesday night to begin formulating a proposal which will solve some of the band's most pressing problems.

The eight-member committee will make recommendations to the school board on the procurement and refurbishing of uniforms, the building up of the band's music library and the repair and replacement of band instruments.

Band Booster President Bonnie Wagner said one recommendation might be that they buy 90 new band uniforms using about $18,000 from the Conrad Langfield Fund, a $54,000 trust fund existing solely for the marching band's use.

"For every proposal, we will have two alternative solutions," Mrs. Wagner said. "We just want to get the band on firm ground."

Members of the committee are: Mrs. Wagner, Aune, Rumbell, Janet Brown, Mima Rothermel, and students Chris Vanderwouw, Holly Egner and Jerry Rothermel.

The committee was formed June 27 after a stormy school board meeting

June 25 where members of the NHS marching band said they would not march in the fall because of the poor conditions of uniforms and the music library; and the poor record of instrument repair and replacement.

State aid increased

special financial problems encountered by such districts.

"Northville's share should be $113,798 or about $4,250 more than last year," Geake said. The Northville Schools enrolled 4,668 pupils this year, but expect to have only 4,450 pupils when school doors open in September.

"Total revenues from the three contributing factors should be $8,357,800 for Northville, or about $1,878 per pupil. This figure compares favorably with $1,702 per pupil in 1978-79.

"In addition, the state will send money for special categories of programs such as special education and pupil transportation. None-the-less, the school system will be on an extremely tight budget, and will have a real challenge meeting increased costs for salaries, utilities, and other expenses in the coming year."

ANTHONY KELSO TERRY CAZA

Three Northville residents join repertory group

Three University of Michigan students from Northville are featured in Michigan Repertory '79. Terry Caza, Anthony F. Kelso and Richard Pickren perform a wide variety of roles in William Shakespeare's bitter-sweet comedy of love, "Much Ado About Nothing," Alice Childress' inter-racial drama, "Wedding Band," Sir Noel Coward's sophisticated comedy of manners, "Hay Fever," and Eugene O'Neill's nostalgic comedy "Ah, Wilderness!"

Caza, son of Betty Boscher of 20050 Bryn Mawr, is cast in the roles of Uncle Sid in "Ah, Wilderness!," Simon, member of the eccentric Bliss family, in "Hay Fever," and both the roles of Balthasar and Antonio in "Much Ado..."

A junior working toward a B.A. in Theatre at The University of Michigan, he returns to Michigan Repertory for his second season.

Kelso, son of Denis Edens of 19955 Schoolhouse Court, is a Michigan junior who seeks a B.S. in industrial engineering. He joins the Michigan Repertory after performing in the Michigan Showcase production of "Red Roses For Me," and assisting the stage manager of the Guest Artist Series production of "The River Niger." He will be seen as a messenger and in the comic role of The First Watch in "Much Ado About Nothing."

Pickren, son of Donald and Carolyn Pickren of 21184 Chigwidden, is cast in the pivotal role of Don Pedro in "Much Ado About Nothing." A graduate student at The University of Michigan, he is active with many Ann Arbor Theatre groups. He was seen most recently in the ARBecol Dinner Theatre production of "The Fantastiks," the Ann Arbor Civic

Obituaries

Sidney Frid, ex-official dies

SIDNEY J. FRID

Sidney J. Frid, a Northville resident for more than half a century who had been an active participant in community affairs, died July 12 at the age of 85 after a month's illness.

During his 54 years in Northville Mr. Frid served as a village councilman, being elected to the post in 1944. He served also as an Oakland County supervisor for 12 years.

He and his brother Cyril owned the Northville Laundry for more than 20 years. They purchased the business in 1925 when it was located at the northeast corner of Cady and Center. It was later moved to the foot of Cady to the old Stinson aircraft factory building.

In 1935 the brothers moved the business to a new building on North Center, now the site of the Friendly Ice Cream store. Nearly 45 years ago the Frids hand-installed tiles to replace an open ditch by the laundry. Workmen currently laying the Randolph Drain have commented on the workmanship of the old drain.

The Frids sold the business in 1946.

It was resold in 1967 and destroyed by fire in 1972.

Mr. Frid was a member of the now-defunct Northville Exchange Club.

He was born December 27, 1893, in England to Jessie and Alice Frid.

In 1962 Mr. Frid and his wife Louise, residents of 865 Grace, took a three-month trip around the world. The then Oakland County Commissioner reported afterward they were much concerned about conditions in such countries as India.

Survivors include his wife, a son Russell S. of Northville; a daughter Patricia A. Blaunt of Bois Blanc Island; two sisters Evelyn Farley of Guelph, Ontario, and Winifred Sanderson of Cambridge, Ontario; three brothers Percy and Reginald of Guelph and Cyril of Northville; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Contributions are suggested to the Michigan Cancer Society in Mr. Frid's name. He was cremated.

No service is planned at present.

Academic honors received at Michigan colleges

Two Northville residents earned straight 'A' averages for the Spring Semester at Hillsdale College.

Neal Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Johnson, 19735 Hayes Court and Pamela Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roberts, 1002 Saratoga Court were named to the dean's honor roll for their academic achievements.

Central Michigan University's winter semester honors list includes three students from Northville.

Deon Edwards, Theresa Phillips and Lynn Rogers were among some 1,000 CMU students to complete 12 or more credit hours and carry a grade point of at least 3.5 (out of 4.0 possible).

Six Northville residents were among 584 students at Michigan State University who earned all A's during the spring term.

R.L. Bingenheimer, Cindy Bull, Donna Guard, Michael Havala, Helene Nilan and Patti Shannon attained perfect 4.0 averages.

A NEW HAND CARVED sign for Allen Terrace apartments was erected last week at the foot of the complex on the corner of High and Elm. The beige and green sign, by Worthington Woodworks of Southfield, was commissioned by the City of Northville.

JAMES W. LENTZ

Services for James Willard Lentz, 40, of 22358 Taft, were held at 10 a.m. Monday at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville where he was a member.

Mr. Lentz died unexpectedly at St. Mary Hospital July 13.

Father John O'Callaghan officiated at the service. Interment followed in Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville.

Rosary was held at 8 p.m. July 15 at Casterline Funeral Home, Incorporated, in Northville.

Mr. Lentz was a member and director of the Novi Lions Club and had served as its treasurer.

He was president of Northeast Financial, Incorporated, in Farmington Hills. He had lived in Northville area for the past eight years, coming here from Ohio.

He was born August 11, 1938, in Cincinnati to Willard T. and Mary Eloise (Owens) Lentz and married the former Jacqueline Breiner.

In addition to his wife, he leaves three children: Natalie, Mark and Eric at home; sisters Jacqueline Shea in Kentucky and Judy Lentz in Florida.

Earn Wayland diplomas

Two Northville residents recently received their diplomas from Wayland Academy in Beaver Dam, Wisconsin.

19680 Clement Road, were among 82 seniors who received diplomas.

Dyer, a two-year student, participated in football, ice hockey, and tennis, earning a varsity letter in the latter sport.

Wayland Academy is an independent, coeducational, college preparatory, boarding and day school for grades 8-12 in Beaver Dam, Wisconsin.

Police Blotter

An $800 electric guitar and a $200 stereo receiver were stolen from a home in the city July 11, Northville city police reported. The house was entered by an open window in the rear of the home, police said, sometime between 7:30 a.m. and 11:30 p.m. of that day.

Cash and three checks were stolen from a doctor's office on North Center July 12, police reported. The break-in occurred sometime during the day, Dr. Harry Oknaian told police. It is not known exactly how much money was stolen.

An IBM Selectric II typewriter was stolen from the hall near the business department at Northville High School last week, city police reported. The theft happened sometime before July 9 while all the business department equipment was left in the hall while the rooms were cleaned, police said.

Recall 19 teachers

Nineteen of the 24 probationary teachers in the Northville Institution Special Education program (ISEP) have been recalled to teaching positions.

All but two of those receiving recall notices have accepted contracts for the 1979-80 school year, Dr. Burton Knighton, director of personnel, told members of the school board at their July 9 meeting. The other two have not yet responded, he said.

One K-12 teacher has also been called back, bringing the total number of teacher recalls in that program to 17.

Dr. Knighton attributed this recall to a resignation.

All of the K-12 probationary teachers (23) and ISEP probationary teachers (24) were laid off by the school board April 16. Fifteen K-12 tenure teachers were 'pink-slipped' in May.

Schools officials attributed the layoffs to declining enrollment and financial problems. They said then (April 16) that there would be some recalls, but that the number to be called back would not be known until staffing would cost the township money it doesn't have. Each planning commission member is paid $20 per session.

But Nowka said he favors larger boards, because it gives more citizens an opportunity to participate. Holland said he did not see "anything wrong" with a nine member planning commission. He said by increasing the numbers on the commission, it gives more chance for people with experience to sit on the commission.

And Mitchell said that the advantages of the added input would override any disadvantages of unwieldiness.

Stamp hobby's growing fast

"Values on the stamp market are constantly increasing," he reports. "It's the best and safest place for investors today."

Flipping through a catalog, he points to some stamps which have increased in value 100 percent. Some portfolios can increase in value from 20 to 25 percent in one year.

Stamps also seem to thrive during periods of recession. Looking back to 1973, Whiteman reports that stamp values took off at a fantastic rate and have never slowed down.

Looking at the field as a whole, the dealer said Canadian stamps and other foreign stamps hold the best market for he says. Additionally, stamp collecting can teach history, foreign languages, ty, making them much more difficult for collectors to obtain.

The United States, on the other hand, tends to flood the market with copies of each stamp issued.

In addition to the investment aspect, Whiteman reports that stamps have a significant educational value, especially for children.

"One stamp can teach reading, spelling geography, topography, and color," collating, indexing, and even merchandising.

"Kids can learn how to buy, trade, and sell at a very early age," he notes. "Some are very shrewd young businessmen."

Chamber music resumes July 24

The third and final program in the current season of the Schoolcraft College Summer Music Festival's Tuesday evening chamber music series will take place on July 24 at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater of the Liberal Arts Building on the campus.

Contrasts in instrumentation as well as in historic style will be among the high points of the evening.

The first part of the program will consist of three pieces with one factor in common; they will all involve the use of a harpsichord. Oboist David Mariotti and bassoonist Paul Ganson will each play a sonata from the Baroque era and both will be accompanied by Schoolcraft faculty members Robert W. Jones, harpsichord, and Anne Harter Jones, viola da gamba.

Mariotti will perform a sonata by George Frederick Handel and Ganson will play one of the earliest sonatas ever written for the bassoon, by the relatively unknown Italian composer Giovanni Bertoli. To complete the first part of the program, Jones will play his own variations for harpsichord based on the old English hymn, "Morning Has Broken."

After intermission, Schoolcraft faculty member Alexander Hanway will be joined by Summer Music School faculty members Derek Francis, violin; Meyer

Shapiro, viola; and Debra Fayroian in a performance of Johannes Brahms' lush and vibrant "Piano Quartet number 3 in c minor, Op. 60." This stunning and complex work provides a test for the virtuosity of all four artists.

There is a general admission charge of $2 and a student and senior citizen admission available for $1. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia

YERKES REQUEST RE AUCTION: Mr. Charles Yerkes 5929 Mabley Hill Rd., Fenton, Mich., stated he would like to have a professional auction at his father's house on Dunlap and Linden in Mid-August and might have a parking problem. He mentioned the auction would be held outside on the lawn under a tent.

Mayor Vernon mentioned the possibility of closing off a street if there is an extremely large crowd.

Mr. Yerkes will let the City know in writing when a firm date for the auction is established.

Councilman Gardner arrived at 8:50 p.m.

FIRE TRUCK: Fire Chief James Allen recommended the purchase of an American LaFrance Custom Truck 75ft. Water Chief fire truck which was presented to City Council on June 11, 1979.

Councilman DeRusha asked who else makes a unit like this.

Mr. Hanson, representative of Hatt Fire, Inc., stated this particular truck was a special model.

Councilman DeRusha was hesitant to accept the price without comparing prices through bids.

Mayor Vernon asked the City Manager and Fire Chief Allen to review the specifications for bids on a new fire truck to be presented at the first meeting in August.

PARKING DECK REPAIRS: Mr. Uday Kirtkar, Representative of Carl Walker & Associates briefed City Council on the proposed repairs and mentioned the entire job will take approximately three weeks. He felt the deck would be ready for the start of the racing season. He also mentioned that salt should not be used on the deck.

Councilman DeRusha asked if the basic structure was sound.

Mr. Kirtkar stated it was and his firm would provide a 5-year warranty on it plus they will provide inspection.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to authorize the City Manager to go out for bids on July 16 for parking deck repairs due August 6.

TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN ORDINANCE NO. 55A

An ordinance enacted pursuant to Act 62 of the Public Acts of 1956, as amended, to secure the public health, safety and general welfare, to amend the Uniform Traffic Code Ordinance No. 55 heretofore adopted by the Township of Northville by the amendment of SECTION 9 which is entitled "PENALTIES" and the addition thereto of a new SECTION 9 to provide for procedures to process civil infractions; to repeal all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, save for prosecution of violations occurring prior to August 1, 1979, and to provide the date upon which this ordinance shall become effective.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE HEREBY ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known as the "Uniform Traffic Code Civil Infraction Amendment Ordinance".

SECTION 2. PURPOSE. The Township of Northville, Wayne County, Michigan, by and through its Board of Trustees, enacts this ordinance for the purpose of securing and regulating the public health, safety and welfare of persons and property within the Township of Northville by amending the text of the Township of Northville Uniform Traffic Code Ordinance No. 55, SECTION 9 which is entitled PENALTIES Pursuant to Act 62 of the Public Acts of 1956, as amended, being Section 257.951 through 257.954 of the Compiled Laws of the State of Michigan, as amended, to provide for procedures to process civil infractions, to save for prosecution misdemeanor violations occurring prior to August 1, 1979 and to establish an effective date for this ordinance.

SECTION 3. AMENDMENT TO THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE UNIFORM TRAFFIC CODE ORDINANCE. The Township of Northville Uniform Traffic Code Ordinance, Ordinance No. 55, shall be, and hereby is, modified and amended by the following deletions, modifications and amendments as denominated by the appropriate Section codification as set forth in said Ordinance No. 55:

A. SECTION 9 (a). MISDEMEANOR PENALTIES. Any person who violates any provision of this ordinance not constituting a civil infraction as that term is used and defined under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code of the State of Michigan, being Act 300 of the Public Acts of 1949, as amended, and Act 510 of the Public Acts of 1978 shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction of such violation, shall be punished by a fine not to exceed One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars and costs of prosecution or by imprisonment not to exceed Ninety (90) Days or both such fine plus costs and imprisonment, unless another penalty is expressly provided herein.

B. SECTION 9(b). CIVIL INFRACTIONS. Any person who violates any provision of this ordinance which describes an act or omission which constitutes a civil infraction under the terms of the Motor Vehicle Code of the State of Michigan, being Act 300 of the Public Acts of 1949, as amended, and Act 510 of the Public Acts of 1978 shall be deemed to have committed a civil infraction and upon a determination of responsibility thereof shall be processed in accordance with the procedures as set forth in said Motor Vehicle code. Violation of any provision of this ordinance which is designated as a civil infraction in the said Motor Vehicle Code is not a crime and shall not be punishable by imprisonment or penal fine. If a person is determined to be responsible or responsible with explanation for a civil infraction, the judge, referee, or district court magistrate may order such person to pay a civil sanction of not more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars along with costs which may include all expenses, direct and indirect, to which the Township of Northville has been put in connection with the civil infraction.

SECTION 4. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. Section 9 of the Township of Northville Uniform Traffic Code Ordinance No. 55 which is entitled "PENALTIES", all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed effective August 1, 1979, and reaffirmed in all other respects Ordinance No. 55 is hereby ratified and saved.

SECTION 5. PENDING PROSECUTIONS UNDER PRIOR ORDINANCE. Any prosecution arising from a violation of ordinances repealed herein, which prosecution may be pending at the time this ordinance amendment shall become effective, or any prosecution which may be commenced in the future for offenses committed before August 1, 1979, may be instituted, tried and determined in accordance with such provisions of such ordinances in effect at the time of the commission of the offenses.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE. The provisions of this ordinance shall be, and hereby are, declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety and general welfare and the provisions of this ordinance not imposing a penalty but rather assigning a civil sanction thereby lessening the severity of the penalties previously established, this ordinance is hereby declared effective following publication on August 1, 1979.

This ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Township of Northville at its regular meeting called and held on the 12th day of July, A.D., 1979, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

City Council Minutes

Vernon instructed the City Attorney to look into HB 4010 applied to.

Discussion on State trunklines ensued. The City Manager did not think HB 4010 applied to the City because of the sidewalk and the overpass on 8-Mile.

Mayor Vernon suggested reducing the speed on Eight Mile Road with a flashing yellow light.

Wayne County will have a presentation for Council.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Johnston to publish notice for a Public Hearing for July 16 regarding adoption of the

Metropark schedules programs

A program entitled "Snakes of Kensington" will be featured at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near New Hudson on Sunday, July 29 at 9 a.m.

Naturalist Bob Hotelling will present a two-hour program of slides, discussion, and for the brave at heart, an opportunity to handle a live snake. Emphasized will be life histories, feeding behavior, and characteristics of Michigan snakes, as well as an attempt to decrease human fear of these reptiles.

Meet at the Nature Center building and bring your questions. Advance registration is required.

For information/registration contact the Nature Center at Kensington Metropark - Phone 685-1561 (Milford).

Motion Carried Unanimously.

STATE APPROPRIATIONS BILL. The City Manager explained the letter he sent to Senator Jerome T. Hart, Chairman, Senate Appropriations Committee, appealing for relief from a hardship being caused by the delayed approval of the supplemental appropriations bill.

The City Manager also mentioned some of the legislators are talking about reducing the base by not sending out all the monies, such as sales tax money, possibly income tax money and in particular race track money, and in the case of the City, $52,000.00. Another alternative plan is to hold onto the money until after October 1st.

The City Manager mentioned Senator Geake is uncertain if the bill will pass.

Councilman DeRusha asked if a class action suit could be instituted.

The City Manager explained he had a call in to Mr. Davis of the MML, also the basic issue is the sales tax. He explained the reasoning under the Headlee why the State is withholding sales tax monies.

The City Attorney suggested the MML could do something it was suggested that the Resolution adopted at the last meeting be sent to the MML League also.

DONATIONS

TREE DONATIONS Tree - Country Girl Garden Club 2 Trees - Mrs. Frid - The donated flowering crab trees were all planted at Allen Terrace.

A note of appreciation would be sent to the donors from Council.

MML 81st ANNUAL CONVENTION - DEARBORN, SEPT. 12-14, 1979. A delegate and alternate would have to be chosen to represent Northville at the Business Meeting of the MML Convention in September.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to appoint Mayor Vernon as the delegate and Councilman Nichols as alternate.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

BLOCK PARTY, WELCH ST. Request for permission to close Welch Street between Horton and Reed Streets on the 4th of July, 1979 from 4:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. to hold a block party was received from Mrs. Susanne MacDonald, 451 Welch.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

FRONT END LOADER Request from Ted Mapes Superintendent, DPW to go out for bids for front end loader.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to go out for bids on a front end loader. Motion Carried Unanimously.

W MAIN ANNEXATION Communication from the City Manager to Northville Township Supervisor on the transfer of taxes on the annexed properties.

TWO-COUNTY STATUS. Following discussion, the City Manager will indicate to our legislators that we want to go with one county in the Resolution adopted at the last meeting.

DA PROJECT. Communication from The City Manager regarding the captured taxes which amount to $53,400. If the Northville Square assessment is returned to the 1978 level for 1979, the resulting captured taxes would be only $21,268.

Mayor Vernon and Councilman Johnston met with a potential buyer for the Miller property for the lot fronting on Main Street. The buyer would like to acquire or like the City to acquire the property to enable them to get started right away. They would buy the entire parcel and deed back a portion after the building is torn down. Essentially the lot west of the alley would be a landscaped park area.

Council was receptive to pursuing this matter further.

LIBRARY BOND BIDS - JULY 23. Communication from the City Manager advising that the Municipal Finance Commission has approved the Library Bond Issue. If acceptable to Council bids on the bonds should be received at a special meeting July 23rd.

Discussion on the project approved for the Marquis and the Old Mill also being on the Agenda for the meeting. It was decided July 30 was a better date.

Motion by Councilman Nichols supported by Councilman Johnston to call a Special Meeting on July 30th for the purpose of receiving the Library bond bids and the project approvals for the Old Mill Restaurant and the Marquis Theater.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

PARKING ASSESSMENT: The parking assessment is to be reviewed each January 1st and July 1st for adjustment. At the present time the assessment is $3.00.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to leave the parking assessment at $3.00.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

APPOINTMENTS: Councilman DeRusha spoke to the chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals who stated Mr. Buttermore was an asset to the board when he was there. He had attended only 42% of the meetings because he spends his winters in Florida.

Council agreed that Mr. Buttermore was an asset however the nature of the board required more than 42% attendance.

Councilmen Gardner and DeRusha interviewed Mr. Fred Joels, 1050 Bristol Ct., and recommended him as a replacement.

Council directed a letter of appreciation be sent to Mr. Buttermore.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Nichols to accept the recommendation of the committee that Mr. Fred Joels be appointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a 3-year term.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

TRAFFIC CONTROL ORDER 79-5 Was not ready for this agenda.

MISCELLANEOUS Mayor Vernon asked about the bumper blocks on East Street.

The City Manager understood this was worked out with the people who did the paving of the bumps at the High School however, it might be delayed since the City hasn't gone out for bids.

Councilman DeRusha spoke on House Bill 4106. He mentioned he attended a meeting where the State outlined what they would do regarding correctional institutions. He stated this would force a penal institution in the City of Detroit. He would have more on this after the next meeting.

Communication from the City Manager with the Projected Payroll Totals for 1979-80 Budget.

Councilman Nichols mentioned putting up benches up to Allen Terrace.

Councilman Johnston mentioned the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association would like to meet Thursday, July 12 at 7:30 in the City Council Chambers on the DDA with the public invited.

The City Attorney gave each of the Councilmen a copy of a lease agreement (The City Clerk was not given a copy and has no idea what it referred to.)

Meeting adjourned at 12:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Joan G. McAllister

SPEAKING for The Record
By BILL SLIGER

I didn't know what to expect from our much-beleaguered president when he came on the air Sunday night to give his well-publicized speech.

There was the feeling that in his position I would have preferred doing almost anything else. How can one find the words to explain to fat-cat Americans we have to go on a diet?

It would be my guess that the president aborted his earlier scheduled speech simply because the words he had prepared failed to cut through to the problems he fears will doom any present-day American effort: lack of confidence; a stifling aura of cynicism with its trigger cocked, ready to fire at any idea; and the "I'll get mine, let the other guy sacrifice" attitude.

I don't think Jimmy Carter is responsible for these moods. We've created them ourselves. And they are most apparent in the powerful special interest representatives to which the president referred. They run our nation's government; and for every self interest they work to preserve, there's another they oppose.

The president said Sunday night that it will not be easy to solve our nation's energy problem, but that it can be done. It will require personal sacrifice. It will depend upon our ability to believe in ourselves.

Moreover, it means we may even have to learn how to like one another; or at the very least, respect our talents. That means an end to anti-labor, anti-management, anti-government, anti-profits, anti-wages, anti-American. And that may be the toughest thing we have to achieve.

Frankly, I doubt very much that the president's "sermon" will accomplish much long-run. But I think he hit the nail on the head. And it should serve as a springboard if he can follow up with a well-defined, workable program.

And, hopefully, the president and his advisors will demonstrate their own confidence in American ability and ingenuity. This can be best accomplished by providing American know-how with an atmosphere in which to operate with a minimum of governmental interference.

I asked a number of other Northville residents what they thought about President Carter's speech and here's what they had to say:

Carol Forrer—I was disappointed ... I expected more feeling of positiveness in his words ... he seemed too vague ... I found more zip from John Connally's suggestions following the president's speech.

Doris Brasure—I was very impressed ... I have never heard a president approach problems from a spiritual standpoint before ... I feel very sorry for him. I wouldn't want to be in his position.

Bill Milne—As a preacher he did pretty well ... but I thought he would never get to the point. Everybody's aware we have to make sacrifices down the line ... but he didn't say how much, and that's the point. There was not much substance.

Doug Bolton—I thought it was very good. Some of us should buckle down and cut corners, save energy.

Marjorie Bolton (Doug's wife)—I liked it ... very sincere ... I didn't look at it as a political speech ... we need more pride in our country again ... I think we can do it ... we've cut back on hot water ... I hang clothes outside in the summertime ... don't run the dryer ... also you don't have to iron clothes that hang outside and that saves energy too!

Jack Hoffman—I expected more substance ... thought he was more forceful than ever before ... sounded something like a sermon.

Don DiComo—I think it's about time he gets a little tougher and gives us the leadership that has been lacking in his administration ... and I agree it's time we say something nice about America ... I do worry about more governmental agencies and wonder about environmental controls.

Finally, just to prove that the president didn't capture the entire Northville listening audience:

Jean Day—I missed it ... I was taking my mother and aunt home from dinner.

City Manager Steve Walters—I was at a soccer game.

ABOUT SCHOOL BOARD PAY—Last week in this column I challenged a proposal to pay salaries to school board members. I failed to state that the $10,900 once budgeted by Superintendent Larry Nichols had been removed and the idea scuttled in the face of tight finances.

Douglas Whitaker, past board president, points out that salaries have never been a serious consideration. "It's a laughable matter on our board," Whitaker claims. He objects to the issue being raised. He says he doubts any boardmember would favor salaries. Maybe.

Nevertheless, I should have pointed out that the salary question was a "proposal" supported by the superintendent, which had been discarded by the superintendent when it became apparent money would be tight in the next fiscal year.

Superintendent Nichols notes that all boardmembers in surrounding school districts do receive some compensation. "I think it is recognition of their efforts and should be made." He said when the time comes the budget can support such an item, he will again propose salaries for boardmembers.

I'm not as certain as Whitaker that the proposal would not win board support. But unlike Whitaker, I do believe it deserves public airing.

CHARLES CONKEY

Speaking for Myself

Should the draft be reinstated?

DENNIS LELAND

YES. . .

I believe that the draft is necessary to provide enough trained people to protect our country and the American way of life. The attempt to do this with a total volunteer force has not worked. The training of men and women for this usually distasteful job cannot be done after the need has come to pass. It should be an on-going program.

Any program of this type is usually unpopular and has been met with varying degrees of resistance in the past. To make up for the shortcomings and interruptions of the individual's life, the program must offer better chances for further education and job training programs.

Many young people are not ready to enter the work force or go on to college. A tour of duty in the military service could provide the discipline that is not given in many homes and is lax in schools today. The possible result could be a more mature person and better idea of which way to go with his or her life.

The military service also offers the first chance for many to get away from home and find out how big and different this country of ours really is. The chance to work and live with people from all parts of the land and all walks of life. Many new and possible life-long friends are made.

Charles Conkey
Whitmore Lake

NO . . .

To many people, drafting is connotated with war. Reviving the bureaucracy involved in administrating the draft would just create more government, something that people are tired of.

The plight of the military is a hot topic now. What people have to realize is that if we want to have a strong military, we must pay the price. Literally. If the Army wants college educated men and women it must become a viable option, able to offer career advantages that will attract quality people. To cop out and resort to forced induction is contrary to the principals of this country. The elimination of the G.I. Bill to help pay for college is a good example of a step in the wrong direction.

Everyone should have the choice of serving this country by pursuing either a military or civilian career. The government shouldn't make this choice by forcing the military route on us.

The idea of drafting is now obsolete. I seriously doubt that this country will ever need a large fighting force. For we all know what is likely to transpire if the confrontation is of that magnitude. Warfare technology today eliminates the situations that existed militarily during WW II. It's not the numbers of people that are important in today's military, but the quality of the people. Drafting is merely a round-about way of attaining quality people's services.

JACK W.
HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Ah, friend, there is hope at last. This pain in the neck we suffer has a cure.

All these years in taking my wife's broadsides, I'd come to believe that no one but this writer was unable to drive directly from X to Y without crossing Z.

But no longer, thank goodness.

It comes to my attention that there are other lost souls out there on the highways and byways who have been ridiculed and pummeled by a spouse for taking a wrong turn and who, bless them, steadfastly refuse to consult map or station attendant for directions.

Rise up. Let us unite! Unity is our hope.

We will call ourselves LOST (Licensed Order of Stubborn Triceratops).

We of LOST will fight for route choice; we will label obscure all maps, penciled directions and, especially, back-seat driving; and we will insist on the precious right to be lost.

To anyone who climbs into the seat beside us and asks, "Do you know the way?", we will reply politely but firmly, "It's been nice knowing you," and then press the James Bond ejection button.

To the wife or the husband who, while we are enroute from X to Y, tells us to turn just as the turn-off sails past, we will extend a Jackie Gleason (Pow! Right to the Moon!).

Similar suitable awards will be presented the authors of these obscenities:

Where are we? ... We're going to be late again ... Isn't that the same street we passed awhile ago? ... Are you blind! ... Quiet, children, your daddy will get us there someday ... This is a one-way street, you dummy. Couldn't you have picked a rougher road? ... That light was yellow! ... This is an alley, you dummy ... Lock your door, kids, daddy's got us in

Readers Speak

Readers support band instructor, oppose transfer

To the Editor:
No classroom lecture could ever teach so well as the action of the Northville School System administration. In its proposed transfer of Mr. Williams, it has given our students (and our teachers, too) a vivid lesson on the dangers of the pursuit of excellence. The success of this transfer will insure the protection of these principles:

1. Don't invest personal time or funds in your work; settle for an inferior product.
2. Don't try to correct real problems; accept bureaucratic neglect as a fact of life.
3. Don't get involved with the real needs of those in your charge; save your time and energies for doing what's good for you.

We need to look to the interests of our real teachers who have something better than this to offer our students.

A parent,
Mary Ann Orr

To the Editor:
As a concerned parent who has had two children in high school band under Mr. Robert Williams, it is my opinion that he can't be replaced as the Northville High School band leader. The high school band has a very high caliber music program and they need a leader of Mr. Williams' experience to keep it that way.

For the good of all concerned keep Mr. Williams in the high school.

Sincerely yours,
Audrey J. Carpenter
Concerned Parent

To the Editor:
There are so many different areas that I would like to cover concerning the school administration's recent decision to involuntarily transfer band director Bob Williams to Cooke Junior High. However, I will stick to one issue. This issue is Mr. Nichols' statement at the last board meeting that "The assignment was in no way a vindictive response. These matters were discussed back in May, Even April."

On May 24th of this year, the Northville Band Parents held the second annual Band Awards Banquet which was attended by more than four hundred people. Students and their parents, Mr. Mason, and Mr. Williams made up this over-whelming crowd. Noticeably absent, for the second year in a row, was Mr. Rumbell, even though his students were also being honored.

One other honored guest at this banquet was Mr. Nichols, who made a speech and left us all feeling greatly encouraged about the future of the band program in Northville. Part of his address centered around the subject of the great love the students have for their director and that this was something that no one could ever take away from them. Now we are told that plans to take Mr. Williams away from us were being made even before the time of this statement. The way I look at it, one of two things is happening:

1. Mr. Nichols made the statement at the last board meeting in order to cover up his vindictive action taken toward a very fine teacher, or
2. Mr. Nichols is capable of lying to a hundred people at one time. I have a feeling that both of these things are true.

Citizens of Northville, many of you being former students of Mr. Williams yourselves, don't let them do this to Willie without putting up a fight. Give a little of yourselves to a man who has been giving his all to Northville High School for the last twenty-two years.

Lisa Youngquist

To the Editor:
The last few weeks The Record has reported on the Northville High School band and many of its problems. One particular concern was the loss of many instruments due to robberies. It will cost about $5,000 to replace all the horns that were stolen last year.

Well, allow me to expand on this subject. The robbers in the fall of '78 broke a set of double doors to the band room making it impossible to lock these two doors properly. That robbery netted two saxophones and a clarinet. The next robbery was made even easier for the thieves because the doors were still broken. That robbery, in February, netted microphones, a beautiful tape recorder and a high hat.

The third robbery occurred in the spring of '79 and this time the thieves got more than $2,000 worth of rhythm equipment. Early spring I asked an administrator at school when these doors would be fixed and that person replied, "Probably not in my lifetime." I then wrote a letter to Superintendent Lawrence Nichols informing him of the problem and how the schools system another bad neighborhood ... Can't you read? ... This is Northfield not Northville, you dummy ... Oh, boy, another shortcut! ... I never dreamed I'd see this town ... I told you to stop! ... Let me drive ... Doesn't that gas gauge say empty? ... I'll never go with you again ... "Don't was only inviting crime by leaving the doors broken.

Well, four months have passed and I've called Mr. Nichols' office six times and those doors are not fixed properly yet. It would cost less than a $100 to fix the doors — why aren't they fixed? I end my letter by posing this question to Mr. Nichols: If the front door to your home was broken and didn't lock would you neglect it for 10 months?

Graduated Band Member
Class of '79

To the Editor:

On June 29th Robert Williams was involuntarily transferred to Cooke Junior High school. On July 9th I asked Mr. Nichols, our superintendent, why he made this move. He replied it was for the "good of the program." Does he know he was wrong?

How could Mr. Nichols decide what is good for a program which he knows very little about? Does he know that Mr. Williams insists kids call him "Willie" so they can feel more comfortable with him? Does he know Willie spent eight hours painting the band room with us? Does he know that Mr. Williams took us to Quebec, even though he had an extremely painful ear infection? Does he know Mr. Williams buys sound equipment with his own money so we sound better? And, most important, does he know how much losing Mr. Williams will hurt us all?

I hope the answers to these questions is "yes," but I am afraid it is "no." I do not feel such a move is truly "for the good of the program."

Sincerely,
Nancy Orr

To the Editor:

Who is Superintendent Lawrence Nichols trying to fool? Is he really transferring our band director, Mr. Williams, because it is for the good of the program or is he doing this because Mr. Williams is the senior teacher in the school system? You see, if Lawrence Nichols can transfer the senior teacher in our school system against Mr. Williams' will, then Nichols can transfer any teacher anywhere he wants to. Don't be fooled Northville — this isn't a change for the good of the program, this is a change so Lawrence Nichols can show Northville and the Northville teachers that he can put any teacher where he pleases!

Signed,
Disgusted

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to pay tribute to a man and a group with whom I have been closely associated for the past four years.

Mr. Williams — You are all that I expected a teacher of my children to be. You gave them more than a fine musical education. You helped them attain maturity. You let them make decisions then saw to it they stuck by them. You gave them room to grow and allowed them to learn by doing. The kind of people your students are is testimony to the kind of teacher you are.

Band — I think you know how special you are to me. You are a credit to your parents, your school and your community. Your decision not to march this year took courage. I know it would have been easier to go on the field in blue jeans playing taped together old music than it was to give up what marching band means to you. I applaud your selflessness and determination. Enough is enough!

Now it appears that "For the good of the program" you are to lose your beloved "Willie" also.

I don't know how Mr. Nichols defines "The Program" but as far as I'm concerned the students are the only program that counts and an involuntary transfer of Mr. Williams to Cooke Jr. High is certainly not in their best interest.

Ann Youngquist,
Past President
Northville Band Boosters

To the Editor:

This letter was sent to the school board, with a copy to The Record:

We have learned that you intend to transfer Mr. Williams, our high school band director, to a lesser position. This appears to be against his will and the wishes of the students, and many of the local music lovers.

Coming almost as a response to the recent band protest against the board, this act will certainly engender hostility, in spite of any good intentions the board may have. For it appears that you are attempting to punish the band!

As board members, you are expected to budget and facilitate the needs of all aspects of the school system. If the band has had to build a gradual crescendo of protest about their needs, you might apologize for not noticing earlier, and do all that is reasonable to aid them now!

How can anyone benefit from the demotion you propose? Please reconsider, as an example of good will this community desperately needs.

Sincerely,
Gene and Marilyn Kramer

To the Editor:

It recently came to my attention that Mr. Williams had been transferred from the High School to Cooke Jr. High School as music director. The reason given was for the good of the music program. For years Mr. Williams has held the music program together by creating such spirit among the students that they put their best effort forward in spite of the declining condition of music, instruments, and uniforms. Things have finally declined to rock bottom for lack of money. When the students are under as much stress as they are right now, it seems like the very worst time in the world to take away their only really stabilizing influence. Mr. Nichols, your timing couldn't be worse.

Mr. & Mrs. Thomas E. Rothermel and family (includes 4 children in the Northville music program)

To the Editor:

It surprises me that one high school program's endurance has been everlastingly tested and yet still holds with much the same spirit and strength it has always been gifted with. I am referring, of course, to a much complimented and necessary Northville band. It has certainly seen more than its share of hard times but it seems that a minor climax in its life has presented itself.

The already well-known and much-argued fact that marching band uniforms (some now 20-years-old) are either falling apart at the seams or are just simply too small or large for present students, and the fact that school instruments are in need of repair or have already been stolen has been compounded by a new and probably much more influential matter, the involuntary transfer of Robert Williams to Cooke Middle School. By carrying through with this, the school board is not bettering the music program, as was reasoned by superintendent of schools, Lawrence Nichols, but slowly pushing the band from its knee-stance position to the floor.

Providing the source of encouragement and stamina to build his students into professional musicians, "Willie" has waded through a quagmire of interruptions, restrictions and red tape for over 20 years. Yet he is still able to take the bands to Quebec, Jamaica, or some equally exhausting locale with full responsibility for some 150 students. The Northville Jazz Ensemble is renowned and performs almost weekly during the school year at luncheons, dances, and a multitude of miscellaneous affairs. Each year it is asked to return for another concert.

The wind ensemble and symphony band also are regarded with high ratings in competition and high acclaim at recitals. And the marching band is obviously responsible for most of the enviable spirit of Northville High. With its overplayed music, 1958 uniforms, 1969 overlays, and generously acquired 1972 caps they have marched at sports events, parades, homecoming ceremonies and pep assemblies. I am amazed at their capability to perform at assemblies with all their music memorized!

But it is "Willie" who keeps us going. We feel a closeness, a friendship, a comfortable compatibility that has not been equaled in another teacher. If he leaves Northville High School, the endurance and spirit of the bands will falter and collapse. If this was the intent, then it has succeeded, and the Northville band program will never again be the equivalent. There will always be a few still fighting. Thanks.

Teacher loss

disturbs student

To the Editor:

Last year, I attended Meads Mill Junior High School where I took German I with a teacher that also teaches at the High School. At the end of the year, I was quite disturbed to find out that this teacher was dropped from the language department and is now without a job for next year. Her position is to be taken over by another less-qualified teacher.

The teacher that has been dropped, came to our school system during the 77-78 school year, and is a native Austrian who has spoken German all her life. From what I know, the teacher that is to take her place, is a native American and has not spoken German

Praise Alhambra picnic aid

To the Editor:

As mentioned in my article on June 20, it takes a lot of persons, caring and understanding, to assure that 1,050 local and area retarded and handicapped people have a good time at a picnic.

To these persons Manresa says "thank you" on behalf of the Caravan's second annual picnic in Cass Benton Park feting our "special" people.

To Scott Santos' band, Spectrum, which made certain these people were entertained with music and which gave these people the "vibes" to dance and be merry.

To Good Time Party Store and Guernsey Dairy, which donated refreshments and the use of a refrigerator truck all day at the park.

To Allen Monuments, which provided the sun tents to protect persons from getting too much sun.

To Northville Police Officers Association, Northville Command Officers Post, Northville City, Northville Record, Reef Manufacturing, Phil's 76, Northville Fire Department, which donated funds to rent Porta-Johns for supplemmentation of park toilet facilities.

To Fisher Electric, which provided electrical service for cooking sloppy joes that day.

To Novi Ambulance, which made certain an emergency unit was available all day for any incident. They were also assisted by an additional unit from Farmington Ambulance for a few hours.

To Brooklane Golf Course and Goodwin Glenn Golf Course, which made certain that food servicing of the areas was prompt by donating two golf carts each.

To Northville schools' kitchen crew, which made certain that the 1,875 hot-dogs were cooked and delivered to the grounds in time for lunch.

To Little Ceasars, which provided the hotdogs and sloppy joe wraps and napkins for this luncheon.

To the police departments from Michigan State Police, Northville township, and Northville city police and their auxiliaries. For without their fine physical help and watchful attention and admiration for these people, Manresa couldn't have done this.

To all you fine people who made this day special, Manresa says thank you and Al salaam.

Ex-mayor urges bonding support

To the Editor:

This brief message is to express my personal feelings in regards to the Downtown Development — Mainstreet '78.

I was not serving on the committee until it had been in existence for approximately six months, and was then asked to serve and offer what little input I might have. It is my feeling that the Downtown Development is necessary if our community is to be able to hold its own and compete with shopping centers that are moving closer to us all the time.

We all have a lot at stake in our city as far as our home and property values are concerned; it is our city and if we don't keep it up and show progress, we will all suffer the loss.

Unlike many other communities, said. "And I think something should be done to make it safer."

The car demolished Kelly's mail box and ripped up a portion of his lawn before striking the pole.

Fortunately, none of the 'live' wires struck his home and no one was hurt, he said.

His television, however, was destroyed and the cover to his fuse box was blown off, he said. Other township residents living along Seven Mile also experienced some damage because of the accident.

Task force report

discussed at Hines

Robert C. Law held a news conference yesterday, at the Hines Park mini station, Newburgh Road and Hines Park Drive.

Law discussed the second Hines Park Task Force report, compiled after a year of study by the 47-member group.

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas, a member of the task force, was on hand, and State Representatives Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville) and Tom Brown (D-Livonia) were invited. The report will be available to the media.

nearly as long as the teacher being replaced. From this, we can presume that the native American certainly doesn't know the German language nearly as well as the native Austrian.

I think the teacher with the greater ability should be given the job, not the one with the greater seniority.

To give a fair chance to everyone, the school board should consider ALL aspects of the teacher before deciding to dismiss or lay-off.

A concerned Student

Northville has no property to develop for industrial use which would help both city and school tax base. This is why a good sound progressive downtown means so much to all of us.

Serving as your mayor for 20 years I have always tried to weigh the facts in any improvement or project and asked myself if this was good for the people of Northville. My feeling about the downtown improvements will be good for all of us. This bond issue is not for improvements of private property and store fronts or rear improvements as some people have thought. The improvements will all be made on city property. Many of the merchants are willing and have plans to improve their property if the project is approved by the voters. They are aware of the fact that their assessments will be increased. The increase in revenue from the improvements by store owners will pay the interest and retire the bonds at no cost to the residential property owners.

I would like to ask for your support in this project

Raps coaches'

conduct here

To the Letter:

As the father of nine children who have participated in athletics, I am not new to the sometimes open displays of disagreement between a coach and an umpire. I was, however, sincerely disturbed by the most blatant display of unsportsmanlike conduct by the coaches of the Expos and the Braves of the "F" League on July 10.

Their ridiculous display of temper and vociferous criticism of an honestly umpired game were the worst that I have seen in Michigan or Virginia in the last 12 years. The final act of the Expos coach was to take the catcher's mitt and hurl it into the backstop. What a fine example of sportsmanship! Such open displays of temper should never be allowed by the players and certainly be totally unacceptable for the coach.

While some disappointment at a loss is expected and knowledge of the game by the coach is desired, open displays of temper have no place in Northville athletics. I believe it is time for the fans to openly object to such displays by players and more openly object to such displays by a coach.

I feel that the state of Northville recreation athletics is best expressed in a remark overheard at an "F" League game. After a few misplays on the field, this spectator was heard to shout, "You play like a bunch of kids." Really. Is there any other way for 11-13 year olds to play? Come on coaches and fans. It is time we deemphasized the seriousness of the Northville "Recreation" League.

Mason missed

at Mead's Mill

To the Editor:

Our illustrious school district has managed to do it again!

We have lost John Mason, Meads Mill's fine band teacher to the Saline School District. You do not find many teachers of the caliber and dedication of Mr. Mason. What he did with the seventh grade band in one school year, I could not believe. Most of these students had never played a band instrument before. Plus he gave so freely of his own time for his students.

Yet in the spring our board pink slipped this man and of course he sought employment elsewhere.

To show the kind of man Mr. Mason is — my son received a letter from him today telling that he would no longer be teaching at Meads Mill, but encouraging him to do a good job for his replacement. Our loss is certainly Saline's gain. Good Luck Mr. Mason!!!!

Sincerely,
Anna Mary Postma

Oppose pay for school board

To the Editor :

I just finished reading your editorial of this week and decided to drop you a quick note in reference to your column.

I just wanted to add my "Baloney" with yours in reference to the payment to members of the school board.

It would be interesting to know how this compensation method is going to affect the quality of education now being given in the Northville Public School System.

Also in comparing this payment plan with past articles pertaining to equipment for the music department, is it really necessary?

Another thing, the physical appearance of our high school, couldn't these monies be used in this area? (I'm single out the high school as my wife and myself recently took a trip around this building). It looks pretty sad in my opinion.

If our school system was fiscally comfortable, I might agree. Why not reward five boardmembers for the donation of their time and effort. However, that never seems to be the case.

Three cheers for your "Baloney."

levels were set and the affect of the Headlee tax limitation ammendment was fully realized.

When staffing levels were approved June 11, the recall of 16 K-12 teachers was approved and school officials were confident that the majority of the ISEP teachers laid off would be called back.

Officials said this will probably be the end of large numbers of recalls, but added that there may be a few more people notified of recall over the next couple months.

"It is likely that a few more resignations and/or retirements will occur enabling us to recall a few teachers before school begins," Dr. Knighton said.

"even if they don't all last" The minister adds the last phrase with a smile but says he is doing so realistically.

He calls presiding at the funeral service of a good friend one of the difficult times, but says that this is when he feels a clergyman can be of real service to his flock.

Another challenging part of the ministry, he says, is helping people through marriage difficulties and addictions, either alcohol or drugs. Brasure has served as a probation officer with the local court.

"Most people wouldn't think of this, but I have had occasion to visit church members in jail," the minister continued. He's also had people threatening to commit suicide and been involved in parent-child conflicts as part of his counseling ministry.

"We've never been sorry we came to Northville," the minister says, "for it was a bigger, growing area." In Petoskey the church had just been remodeled and had a new pipe organ installed during his stay.

Calling himself basically a conservative, Brasure cites as most alarming the fact that organized churches are becoming like government, making more and more procedures mandatory. He feels churches should keep local control over themselves.

He sees as good the increased lay participation in the church, mentioning that men, women and young people have been actively participating on boards and in the actual services of his church.

Brasure feels the seminaries today are doing a better job of preparing young ministers for their work.

His leaving is very much on a positive note.

"By allowing a year for preparation," he states, "much can be accomplished in making a good transition. There is room for growth and new ideas here." He explains that the Detroit Presbytery will work with a church pastor nominating committee to seek a successor after January 1.

Brasure followed the Reverend John Taxis who moved to Florida after serving five and a half years here. Before him was the Reverend Harold Fredselli who was here 13 years.

Saying that his family knows he is a long-range planner, Brasure acknowledges he chose this time as his youngest child, Wayne, now is a senior at University of Michigan and, on graduation next June, expects to be commissioned a second lieutenant and receive his first assignment. He is an ROTC student.

The Brasures' older son, Neal, is a SAC Captain with the Air Force in Griffiss, New York. He and his wife have two sons, Brent, 3½, and Christopher, 1½. He and the couple's older daughter, Diane, both are Alma College graduates.

Diane, now Mrs. James Edwardson, and her husband are parents of five and live in Traverse City.

The Brasures' younger daughter, Leslie, was graduated from Western Michigan University and is married to Thomas Tuuri and living in Flushing. She plans to teach in the Flint Montessori this fall. She had been teaching in the Northville program.

The minister says one of his satisfactions is that all four children are Northville High School graduates.

His wife is a nurse and plans to continue working part-time at St. Mary Hospital as they intend to remain in the area. She formerly worked part-time at Maybury Sanatorium.

Brasure smilingly says he was "launched as a baby by Pastor Louis Gast in the Green Bay, Wisconsin, Lutheran church."

That was in 1912. He became a Methodist at the Menominee church. Then his father's work as a locomotive engineer took the family to Channing in the Upper Peninsula.

Brasure attended Wheaton College in Illinois and then McCormick Seminary in Chicago. He was ordained in May, 1938, at the Lake Superior Presbyterian Church in Iron Mountain.

All the years of his ministry, Lloyd Brasure recounts, have been in Michigan. He began at the small Lake City church, moving to the large Flint First Presbyterian Church as assistant under the late Reverend Ralph D. Kearns.

He served as a military chaplain in World War II in the European Theatre. On his return he was at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church in Saginaw, going to Petoskey from there.

Manager Steven Walters advised council members.

Robert DeHoff, chairman of the advisory commission, told township board members last week that local staffing of the library is likely to save about $14,000 annually.

"Based on ... projected savings, the library operating will continue to experience significant savings each year, even as the new employees progress through a salary increase schedule over the first few years," according to the commission. "It should be kept in mind that the Wayne County union wage rates and fringe benefits have also been increasing substantially each year, which result in cost increases to the Northville library."

Carolann Ayers, library commissioner, emphasized that establishment of the local library, as distinct from the present "branch" status, will not change the relationship of the city and township in sharing the operational function of the library. Furthermore, all but the staffing services offered by the Wayne Oakland Library Federation will be continued, she added.

Concern was expressed by some township board members whether the township would still have half control of the library since the board would be formed only by city residents.

DeHoff assured the township board that the library board would be formed only for legal reasons and that the real powers would still be held by the library commission, half of whom are township residents.

Three commission members are appointed by the township board, three by the city council. The seventh is chosen by the six other commissioners. The commission, therefore, is responsible to the township board and city council.

City Manager Walters described the planned additional new organization, the library board, as a "figurehead" to meet requirements of the law to establish a local public library and still be eligible for state aid.

Members of the library commission, besides DeHoff and Mrs. Ayers, are Barbara Gougeon, Shirley Davis, Louis Hopping, Dora Rubenstein and Fran Mattison.

The new five-member board is likely to include the three city residents on the library commission plus a city council member and perhaps the city manager, DeHoff said. Mrs. Ayers, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Gougeon are the city residents.

DeHoff is a township resident.

Under the law, the township could be the governmental agency establishing the local library here. However, commission members pointed out that formation of the library by the township is a cumbersome process, involving an election by the people and the mandating of a one mill tax levy provision.

In backing the plan for establishment of the independent local library, the township board turned over the proposal to its attorney for review.

As the city council set a public hearing date on the enabling ordinance, Mayor Paul Vernon praised the advisory commission for its recommendation. The commission, he said, is not content with just keeping the library going but goes beyond searching for ways to improve it.

"I commend the commission for a fine job," he said of the documented recommendation.

Party recreates 'Stardust' era to honor Nelsons

By JEANDAY

Fifty years ago McKinney's Cotton Pickers were playing at the Blue Lantern Ballroom at Island Lake near Brighton. Dancers swayed to "Stardust," "More Than You Know," "Ain't Misbehaving," "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "You Do Something to Me."

Among the couples dancing and romancing to the top hits of 1929 were Peg Freer and Lloyd Nelson, now residents of Stonehenge in Novi.

Margaret Freer became the bride of Lloyd F. Nelson in a 5 p.m. ceremony at her sister's home on Manor Avenue in Detroit on July 6, 1929.

To mark her parents' golden wedding anniversary Marilyn Kaestner and her husband Kenneth converted the garage of their home at 941 Novi Street in Northville into a replica of the Blue Lantern Ballroom on July 7.

The 70 friends and relatives gathering to help the couple celebrate were invited also to "knock three times and tell them Joe sent you" to gain entrance to the backyard speakeasy — the bar for the anniversary party.

The Kaestner kitchen became the "soup kitchen" for refreshments at the party. Guests were invited to attend in costumes of the 1920s.

For invitations Mrs. Kaestner had used reproductions of the July 6, 1929, Detroit News, a 20-page edition selling for three cents a copy.

An insert on the page one chronicled the marriage performed by the Reverend Edgar DeWitt Jones of Woodward Avenue Christian Church.

The bride of 50 years ago "wore a white satin gown featuring a long waist and flared skirt." At the anniversary party it was worn by her 16-year-old granddaughter Jane Kaestner.

Mrs. Nelson wore a flounced green gown made for the occasion in the 1929 style. With it she wore the ropes of pearls that belies of the 20s twirled.

Lloyd Nelson got into the mood of the celebration, tucking his trousers into socks in knicker-fashion. The bride's

Summer travel's international

By JEAN DAY

Summer vacations are bringing foreign visitors here while Northville residents are taking off on international flights.

The three visitors at the home of Olga James on Six Mile speak no English, but communication has not been a problem during their month-long visit. Mrs. James learned Macedonian from her parents as a child and is finding that "words do come back" as she talks with her aunt and cousins from Yugoslavia.

Last Sunday was a family reunion as Mrs. James' five brothers and sisters with their families met their mother's sister, Yorda Yovanoska and her daughters Mira Ilieska and Dragica Naumorska from Skopje in the Macedonian sector of Yugoslavia. Mrs. Ilieska is a surgical nurse and Mrs. Naumorska an administrative secretary in Yugoslavia.

Most women in Yugoslavia, they tell Mrs. James, work.

They emphasize that there is great equality of opportunity for women as well as a concentration on education. Since Yugoslavia, they say, is considered neutral and independent of the Communist bloc, the visitors needed only a visa to come here.

There is a touch of sadness in the visit as Mrs. Yovanoska is not seeing the sister who left Yugoslavia 24 years ago. Mrs. James' mother died two years ago. The guests came now in order to see her family. They were here as Mrs. James entertained the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association July 9.

They're also seeing the 18 children of Mrs. James and her brothers and sisters. Mrs. James' son Mark came from Los Angeles while daughter Pamela came from Fort Lauderdale. During her visit Mrs. Yovanoska has kept a crochet hook moving as she created two shawls. She had come with an intricately-done cloth and petitpoint picture in a frame.

As their life-style at home has become more westernized with cars and television available, the United States doesn't seem too different although the visitors are impressed with American convenience foods and packaged products — and they're definitely taking home Levis as presents when they leave tomorrow.

Irish flag welcomed travelers

The orange, white and green flag of the Republic of Ireland was flying at the home of the John E. Conders on Woodhill July 7 as a "welcome back" from a two-week vacation in Ireland. With the Conders on the jaunt were their Lexington Commons' neighbors, the Martin Rineharts and Joanne Kissel.

It was a first-time venture for all except Connie Conder, who had visited six years ago with her mother. "There really are 40 shades of green" she declares as she tells of renting a car and driving in the countryside, often sharing the road with cattle and sheep.

The Northville tourists stopped at the Waterford glass factory and ventured into Northern Ireland where they saw the Belleek factory. "It's very quiet now in the north," Mrs. Conder reports. They did find a gas shortage in Ireland as well as an 18-week old postal and telephone strike. But there also was beautiful weather.

Newcomers are boiling

Back by popular demand, a lobster boil is the Northville Newcomers' first party of the season to be held at 8 p.m. August 3 at the home of Larry and Janyne Hilfinger at 43885 Galway. New president Prudy Vannier reports that Polly Kurowski and Karen Hooper, couples social chairmen, are taking reservations up to a 50 couple limit until July 26 for a menu of steamed clams, lobster, corn on the cob, tossed salad, garlic bread, soft drinks and beer.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Kurowski, 349-3291, and are $26.50 a couple. Checks to Newcomers hold the reservations.

"We will be looking forward to meeting new members and will be saying good-by to third year soon-to-be-alumni," says Mrs. Vannier.

Three brides-elect reveal plans

Announcement is made of the engagement and upcoming marriage of Theresa Lynn Bishop of 947 Novi Road in Northville to Terry Donald Suetterlin of Farmington.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Defina of Onaway, Michigan, and Charles E. Bishop of Battle Creek.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Suetterlin of Farmington.

A 1976 graduate of Northville High School, the bride-elect has worked as a bookkeeper for K-Mart Sporting Goods for three years. Her fiancé, a 1975 graduate of Farmington Harrison High School, currently is a mechanic with Good Year Tire Company.

A September 22 wedding is being planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Rose, former Northville residents now living in St. Clair Shores, announces the engagement and upcoming marriage of their daughter Lee Anne to Charles P. Breidenstein of Mt. Pleasant.

He is the son of Mrs. Helen Breidenstein of Mt. Pleasant and the late James Breidenstein.

Storybook romance leads to altar

A romance that began in the aisles of a supermarket culminated in marriage for Cynthia Lynn Goltra and Henry Thomas Coert who exchanged vows in a 1 p.m. ceremony June 16 at First United Methodist Church of Farmington.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goltra of 48140 Rushwood Lane, was grocery shopping with her mother and sister when she met her future husband for the first time. That was 12 years ago. Her sister Katherine, now Mrs. Stephen Harshfield, was a classmate of the future bridegroom's at Farmington High School.

He then was working part-time at the A & P. After his high school graduation in 1968 and service with the U.S. Naval Forces in Vietnam, he attended Oakland Community College and affiliated last fall with the A & P in Farmington.

Then for the first time in a dozen years the couple met again. This time Cindy was shopping alone, and the romance began.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coert.

The Reverend Charles Beynow officiated at the double ring service which included lighting of a symbolic unity candle at the altar decorated with sprays of white carnations and daisies. Satin bows with greens decorated the pews.

Robert Peretch was organist.

As she was given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk organza gown with skirt extending into a train. The bodice was fashioned with a high neckline. Embroidered lace formed the yoke. Embroidered lace also adorned the full sleeves gathered into cuffs at the wrists. Her long, flowing veil was attached to her picture hat with appliques of the embroidered lace.

Long-stem roses of pastel peach with white baby's-breath and fern formed the bridal bouquet.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Terry Crouson (the former Elizabeth Goltra) was matron of honor in a long, peach Qiana gown and picture hat. She carried long-term roses in deeper shade matching her hat.

Brian Dunifon of Farmington was best man.

Ushering were Judson Goltra, Jr., brother of the bride, and Robert Fougere.

A garden reception followed at the home of the bride's parents with 85 guests including out-of-towners from Chelsea, Linden, Traverse City, Flint and Tennessee, Ohio and Florida.

After a wedding trip to Traverse City and other Northern Michigan locations, the newlyweds now are living in Farmington.

He plans to attend Eastern Michigan University in the fall. The bride, a 1971 graduate of Novi High School, attended Madonna College and Lakeland Beauty School. She is affiliated with Cavanaugh's as head computer operator.

Auto-Owners is for R.V. owners.

If you have an accident on your snowmobile, trail bike, or other recreational vehicle, what insurance covers you? Homeowners? Car? Medical?

Or none of the above? And what about your passenger? What insurance covers those medical expenses? Maybe you should talk to us at Auto Owners. We have a modern insurance policy for snow mobiles and other recreational vehicles. A policy that protects you, your family, your passengers. It even protects you while you're driving someone else's vehicle. And you'd be surprised at how little this coverage can cost. But not as surprised as you'd be to discover you weren't covered at all!

'You've changed in 25 years'

Senior pictures identify '54 classmates

"Guessing who everybody was" became a fun challenge at the Northville High School Class of '54 reunion that brought 44 class members, their spouses and guests to the Northville American Legion Home July 7.

"When it has been 25 years since your graduation, name tags were a good idea," comments Joanne Rowe Gears, one of the planners. Tags included original graduation pictures while those for spouses bore their mate's pictures.

This was the third reunion of the class, which had gathered for fifth and 10th year celebrations.

Since three members of the 74-member class are deceased, the 44 attending represented more than half the class, Mrs. Gears points out, adding that members came from six other states as well as many Michigan cities.

Five were here from Texas. They were Shirley Allen Cartwright, Joyce Farrell Bryan, Julie Hammond Enright, Ed

Nash and Reverend Bruce Felker.

Reverend Felker, a Methodist minister, gave the memorial tribute to the three class members who had died, Robert Gregory, Allen Maltby and Bruce Rose. Also remembered were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mollema who died in an accident. He had been a class sponsor.

Also attending from out of state were Rodney Dahlager and Lila Lea Skow Molloy of Wisconsin; Douglas Bennett of Ohio; Alfred Iversen and Craig Rathburn of Arizona; Jack, Waterloo, of Florida; and Jackie Keyes Freydl of Pennsylvania.

Honor guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yahne, Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Ellison and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Amerman. Yahne also had been a class sponsor; Ellison had been high school principal; and Amerman, superintendent of schools.

The committee invited two special guests who had been teachers, Florence Panattoni and Frances Robinson, who attended with her brother, William.

"Miss Frances was our kindergarten teacher," Mrs. Gears explains, recalling that she was a niece of the Mollemas. She currently teaches in Detroit.

She included a verse with her acceptance, telling her former pupils that there would always be "part of you that is still just five."

On the committee with Mrs. Gears and her husband, William, were Dick and Pat Alkire, Robert and Ruth Burgess, Fremont and Mary Lou Ware Karhu, Luis and Ruth Pullen Meredith, Sharon K. Teshka and Jeanette Dains. Completing the list were two "class couples" who married, Norma and Veronica Batt Roberts and Bob and Gail Blackburn Scheffer.

Others attending were Ronald Birtles, Angela Bongiovanni McKnight, Jean Campbell

Angell, Nola DeKay LeSage, Robert Engel, Nancy Harrison Wiersma, Lynda Harnden Skrycki, Joan Hayworth Pagenkoff, Robert Heslip, James Mitchell, Barbara Morrison Lash, Lamar Nalley, Ila Newton Pioch, Sandra Schoof Jackson.

Also, Clifford Shoebridge, Betty Stevens DeSmyter, Donald Tuck, Nancy Wiles Roberts, James Bonar, Lucille Morris Bergman and Robert Schoch.

Awards for longest-married couples went to Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and the McKnights. The Robertses also won for having the greatest number of children, six. Mrs. Gears was winner of the "most grandchildren award" with four.

She and the other committee members had decorated the room with old school sweaters and had uncovered old kindergarten pictures of the class, which was the first to graduate from the community building.

Dena Irwin chosen Slo-Pitch finalist

Dena Irwin, 18, June graduate of Northville High School who will attend modeling school in the fall, was among eight finalists in the Detroit Caesars' Miss Slo-Pitch Contest. The professional softball team sponsored the contest between games of a double-header. She was named a finalist July 3 and returned for finals July Fourth when Bill Bonds, Channel 7 anchorman, served as MC for the swimsuit competition. As runner-up in the Northville Junior Miss Competition she rode in Northville's Fourth of July parade. Miss Irwin plans to become a cosmetologist. She enjoys modeling and disco dancing.

Novi concert to feature Finnish band

The 53 members of the Rauma Youth Band from Finland will present a concert at the Fuerst Auditorium in Novi High School on Sunday, August 5, at 7:30 p.m.

The appearance of the Rauma Youth Band is co-sponsored by the Novi Foundation of the Performing Arts and the Blue Lake Fine Arts International program.

Admission to the concert is free. The Rauma Youth Band was founded by Conductor Pentti Jalonen in 1949 and has developed steadily over the past 30 years.

The band visits and performs in another country every year, gaining worthwhile experience and discovering new ideas to add to their program.

The band ranks with the top bands in Finland even though its 53 members range in age from 13-19 years old.

The performance in Novi is part of a tour of the United States and Canada. The group will leave Finland July 28 and arrive in New York City for their first performance. Subsequent stops include Spencer, New York; Novi; Lansing; Buchanan and the Blue Lake Music Camp as well as Toronto. The group will return to Finland August 18.

Members of the band will be living with approximately 30 families from Novi and the surrounding area during their local stop-over. Carol Smith and Carol Bauer of the Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts reported that the Finnish visitors will be treated to trips to the Silver Dome, Greenfield Village and the Renaissance Center in Detroit.

A swimming party in Novi also has been scheduled for the group.

The appearance of the Rauma Youth Band in Novi marks the second international group to perform locally through the efforts of the Foundation and the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp. Last year the two groups sponsored performances by groups from Germany and Denmark.

Additional information about the concert may be obtained from Mrs. Smith at 349-7055 or Mrs. Bauer at 349-9134.

Tentful of fun

English visitors feted on golden wedding

Laverne and Harold Rawden were several thousand miles away from their home in Sheffield, England, on their golden wedding anniversary on July 6, but the visitors still had a festive celebration.

They have been guests of their daughter and her husband, the Manfred Richters of 18282 Jamestown Circle in King's Mill. Neighbors and friends who had met the couple on their four visits here honored them at a 50th anniversary party July 7 in the clubhouse.

The Richters, who have two sons Andrew, 6, and Patrick, 4, have lived here five-and-a-half years. He is a French pastry chef. For the anniversary party he baked and decorated a three-tier wedding cake.

During their visit the Rawdens will be going to Las Vegas and on a tour of the south.

"The trip south is our gift to my parents," Mrs. Richter explains, saying that the families will be flying to New Orleans for a visit and then touring South Carolina, Texas and Alabama.

Guests at the reception included friends from Southfield. The couple was presented with a wedding album.

Open auditions set for 'Brigadoon' cast

"Brigadoon," the appealing musical story of two Americans lost in the Scottish Highlands who stumble upon an enchanted village not on the map, will be performed at the Marquis Theatre as its anniversary offering.

Performing Artists Unlimited will be presenting the Lerner and Loewe hit of 1957 on two weekends in September. Open auditions will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. this Saturday and Sunday at the renovated theatre at 133 East Main for actors, singers and dancers.

Performing Artists' first live presentation, "Camelot," played to full houses last October as the theatre reopened. Movies now are shown regularly with live presentations also scheduled. "Barefoot in the Park" also was performed here.

The story of the village that wakens from sleep only one day in a 100 years will be told in two series of weekend performances, September 22-23 and September 28, 29 and 30. Friday and Saturday performances will be at 8 p.m. with two Sunday matinees at 2:15 p.m. and Sunday evening performances at 7:30 p.m.

Songs that have become classics are part of the story, and include "There But for You Go I," "Almost Like Being in Love," "Heather on the Hill," and "I'll Go Home with Bonnie Jean."

Lamaze unit to exercise

A "Mom-nastics" class is announced for mothers who want to get into shape while also sharing child care problems.

Lamaze Childbirth Association is holding the one-hour exercise class and half-hour problem sharing session beginning August 2 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Thursdays at Saint Matthew's Church, 30900 Six Mile.

Teacher Yvonne Brown, a nurse and mother of three, may be contacted at 477-7924, or Connie Wolschlag, 464-7741, may be called for information. Babies will be welcome.

Church hosts youth group

Thirty young people who are members of Peter's Creek, Pennsylvania, Presbyterian senior high youth group stayed at First Presbyterian Church of Northville last week.

They were here on a youth work camp project at Ward Memorial Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

Members of the Northville senior high youth group will be traveling east next month to participate in a summer work project in Pennsylvania.

In previous years the Northville senior high students have worked in Tennessee on Appalachia projects as well as work projects in the East. They have included renovating a community center and painting homes.

Party guests were served at backyard speakeasy while tunes of the 20's were played

Party recalls 1929 era

sister Vergul Smith and her husband Harry came from Central Lake. Mrs. Smith was in the yellow lace dress she had worn as her sister's honor attendant

The bridegroom's brother and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nelson were on hand from Clearwater, Florida. Daughters Ginny Heuchert with her two children from Charlottesville, Virginia, and Elaine Wright with her husband Parvin and three children from Traverse City also donned flapper garb to celebrate

A 1929 Ford pick-up truck parked in the drive was on loan from Robert DeHoff of Northville. A "just married" sign hung from the rear.

And lining the driveway were Burma Shave signs that relatives and friends would have enjoyed when they went for rides at speeds that made reading possible. The friends included fellow members of First Presbyterian Church in Northville.

When the Nelsons were married, they left on a two-week camping trip to Muskoka Lakes in Canada, returning to live in Detroit. This fall the anniversary couple will be moving into King's Mill in Northville.

The anniversary announcement, written by Mrs. Kaestner, stated that the couple enjoyed the reception which immediately followed the original ceremony attended by 40 friends and relatives.

Arriving anniversary party guests who read "He had the ring... he had the flat... she felt his chin... and that... was that... Burma Shave" went on to dance to unforgettable tunes.

The Kaestners had taped them from Stan Johnston's vintage record collection.

After all, when a couple has been married 50 years and they're great parents, Marilyn Kaestner concluded, there should be an appropriate celebration. And there was.

All children invited to see 'Johnny Appleseed' and 'Paul Bunyan'

This Thursday the Northville Public Library will be showing two short films about American folkheroes as part of the summer reading program

"The Legend of Johnny Appleseed" and "Paul Bunyan" will be featured beginning at 2 p.m. The program will last about 40 minutes.

All children are welcome, whether registered for the reading program or not.

Deadline for summer readers to turn in their book report forms to be counted for certificates is July 25

Coming down the slide are Holly Sellen, Anette Christensen, Frank Firek, Fredrik Tornqvist, Craig Zollars, Lukas Severin. At right, hosts and guests loll in Firek pool.

Swedish visitors were hosts last year

Exchange students on the Children's International Summer Village (CISV) program and their local hosts last week splashed down the slide and joined each other in trying out the whirlpool area of the Frank Firek family pool as though they were old friends.

The visitors from Scandinavia were on the second half of an exchange program that last summer took their hosts to Sweden.

Now Fredrik Tornqvist, 13, who lives outside Stockholm, is the house guest of Frank Firek, also 13, at the Firek home at 45134 Byrne Court. His mother and he hosted the pool party last week Tuesday.

Guests included Anette Christensen of Grotting, Sweden, who is visiting Holly Sellen, and Severin Lukas of Linköping, Sweden, who is the guest here of Craig Zollars. All are 14.

The youngsters are participating in a one-month summer exchange for 13-15 year olds. The Detroit CISV chapter which arranged the exchanges is one of 13 in the United States. CISV was founded 28 years ago in Ohio to promote international friendships and learning among young people.

Kathleen Samul, volunteer head of the Detroit chapter, reports that 35 countries now are involved with the interchange. Last summer she escorted Detroit-area students including the Northville ones on their trip to Sweden.

She reports that CISV founder, Dr. Doris Allen, now is being considered for a Pulitzer prize.

Mrs. Samul may be called at 342-7185 for information about future exchanges. Basically, she says, parents are responsible for air fare and spending money for their child and must agree to host a foreign student in the exchange.

As students get together they exchange information that isn't always in text books. "What kind of an allowance do you get?" "What kind of punishments do your parent give out?" Those are high-interest questions often asked.

Postmaster reports

Stamp collecting's popular hobby here

Stamp collecting is a fast-growing hobby, and Northville Postmaster John Steimel couldn't be happier about it.

It is becoming a popular one with youngsters, he says, and men always have been stamp purchasers. Women, he adds, "are few and far between as collectors."

"What's Philately?" is the title of a nationwide campaign launched to focus on the hobby with local post offices participating.

As it began last month, Governor William Milliken declared a Michigan Stamp Week and urged citizens to learn more about philately and stamp clubs in their communities.

Steimel is not aware of any Northville club, but Plymouth has a West Suburban Stamp Club. Nationally postal philatelic sales now approach $100 million annually.

"A prospective collector can get started by making one trip to the post office where starter aids are available.

They include a miniature encyclopedia about the world of philately, mint sets of recent commemorative and special stamp issues and topical collecting kits on a variety of subjects," he itemizes.

Steimel concurs in the statement that stamp collecting is the most popular hobby in the world, saying it has attracted more than 20 million collectors in the United States alone.

The number of collectors of all ages has been growing faster than the population, he adds, pointing out that national postal sales to collectors have grown four-fold in the 1970s.

"Soaring prices and inflation may discourage some pastimes but Americans have found that stamp collecting still is relatively inexpensive," Steimel observes.

Collectors advocate it as a "great hobby for kids" as it teaches history, collating, indexing and buying and selling.

Money is time.

Save now and enjoy a timely gift.

First Federal Savings of Detroit is offering savers this great variety of beautiful Timex gifts. Make a qualifying deposit to a new or existing First Federal savings account and you can take home the Timex of your choice. Either free, or at big savings. Choose from decorator wall clocks, alarm clocks, 24-hour timer, women's and men's watches. It's our way of introducing some great new savings account features.

We've increased our interest rate on regular savings. To a full 5½% per year daily interest, paid and compounded quarterly. One-quarter percent more than any bank is permitted to pay on an annual interest rate basis.

We're offering a brand-new Four-Year Money Market Certificate that features a high rate of interest never before possible in so short a time with a deposit of only $100 or more. The interest rate for this account is established monthly. However, the rate in effect when your certificate is issued is guaranteed for the full 4-year term.* July's rate for this account is 7.850% annual interest, compounded continuously for an effective annual yield of 8.284%.

On top of that, we've reduced the minimum deposit on most of our other certificate accounts, too. Now you only need to deposit $100 or more to open any of our high-interest certificates (except our popular 182-Day Money Market Certificate which pays an even higher rate on deposits of $10,000 or more).

And the penalty for early withdrawal has been modified for certificate accounts opened after July 1, 1979. On our One-Year and our 182-Day Money Market Certificates, the penalty is no more than 90 days' interest. On our longer term certificates, the maximum penalty is now 180 days' interest.

Check the gift chart, visit any First Federal office, make your qualifying deposit and take home your Timex gift. Of course, our Timex offer is limited, so open or add to a First Federal savings account today. While money is time.

Grand River 'toll' worth trip into past with John Richter

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Okay, now check your speedometer," directed the blind man as we pulled away from the gas station at the southeast corner of Grand River and Halstead roads in Farmington.

"Next 'tollgate stop' five miles," he laughed.

In the passenger seat was John Richter, Novi's celebrated continuously-on-the-go 77-year-old blind man who was literally on the edge of his seat in anticipation of this Thursday afternoon adventure.

John's wife, Mary, enjoyed it from the rear seat. He wanted up front where he could get a "better view."

"I don't care what you've heard or what you've read; what you're going to see today is the real McCoy," asserted John, who had just pointed out the location of the Grand River-Halstead tollgate that went out of existence "in or about 1908."

A Shell station stands at the intersection today. Seventy years ago, in what might have been the last year or two of this tollgate, the small frame building here had been operated by W. R. Hendryx in its dying years.

Although most of the tollgate businesses ceased operation earlier, approximately 100 years ago, many of the houses still existed when John Richter was a boy and a young man. Blind since 1939, he had agreed to take this reporter on a tour of Grand River — from Farmington to Green Oak — to pinpoint the location of four tollgates. The Halstead corner was the first, and now we were headed west to the second — the house in which John was born in 1902. He was excited. He hadn't visited the house for many years.

"It has a lot of pleasant memories," he said, "and a few unpleasant ones." Playing with a dynamite cap out behind the tollgate house as a boy of 11, John lost his left eye. Years later, while working for the Oakland County Good Roads Forestry Department, he lost the sight of his right eye splitting logs. He's been totally blind ever since.

The golden era of tollgates along Grand River — from Detroit to Lansing and beyond — predated gravel and ditching (1914) and concrete (1920's).

Over the years a series of stories have grown up about the early roadway and the tollgates, many of which are fabrications, insisted John Richter, who in the Twenties worked for the state highway department during the paving of Grand River.

In 1845 Grand River was a well traveled "thoroughfare" which, despite deplorable conditions, was used by 124 wagons daily during summer and fall months. Often, during other times of the year, it was impassable.

Three years later in 1848 the General Plank-Road Act was passed by the legislature, permitting the incorporation of Michigan roadways as a means of building and/or improving them. Under the act, General Lewis Cass and a number of other men "associated themselves together and built a plank road to Howell."

Because it was called the "plank road" many people today erroneously assume it was made of planks or hewed timber all the way to Lansing. "It was planks only to the edge of Detroit," said John. "From there west only those parts of the roadbed that were in low, swampy areas were built of planks."

"Plank" may itself be a misnomer, he added. A better description would be "corduroy" or unhewn timber.

In 1890 historian Silas Farmer wrote that none of the stockholders had any experience in plank-road construction, "but it was conceded that where oak plank could be had, none other was to be used. How the planks were laid, and how best secured to their places was another question."

The "Detroit and Howell" plank road was 50 miles long and, according to Farmer, had 10 tollgates. It was opened in October, 1851.

The rates of toll per mile were established by the law of 1848: For all vehicles drawn by two animals, two cents, and if drawn by more than two animals, three fourths of a cent for each additional animal; for all single horses, led, ridden or driven, one cent; and for every 20 sheep one half cent, and for every score of cattle one cent.

"Pull in," he commanded when five miles came up on the speedometer. "This is the Novi tollgate."

The driveway was between what formerly had been the Midwest parachute company and the next door house in which the company owner had lived. A different company — Garrett Burgess, Inc. — occupies the plant today and the house is empty.

When John's father purchased the farm at the southeast corner of Beck and Grand River back before the turn of the century, the house already had been moved "back away from the south side of Grand River and turned a quarter turn so it faced west instead of north."

The blind man walked about the yard, feeling his way around the house and pointing out some of its features. The two small second story windows on either side of the building, for example, permitted the tollgate keeper to look up and down the roadway from his bed to see any horses and wagons coming, he explained.

Built about 1850, the house had last been operated as a tollgate in 1880 — just about 10 years after the tollgate system began its gradual decline, John said. By the time the Richters moved into the house, there was little to remind the occupants of its earlier purpose. Nevertheless, John remembers some old tollgate papers and the gate key that were eventually thrown away or given away by his brother

John and Mary Richter inspect his birthplace, the Novi Tollgate House

"Should be a black walnut tree right over there," he said, pointing his white cane at the trunk of a giant towering overhead at the rear of the house. "I dug it out of the field near Beck and set it there."

"It's not very small anymore," said Mary as John approached it. His cane stuck the tree and he stopped, felt it, and then tried unsuccessfully to wrap his arms around the gnarled trunk.

"Oh, my. Oh, my," he repeated. "It's grown a mite, hasn't it?" he chortled.

Back in the car we continued west toward New Hudson. "The tollgate place should be just across the tracks, on the south side of the road," said John.

I parked the car on the shoulder of the road just beyond the tracks and said, "Well, John, it's gone now. There's a lumberyard there now."

"Oh," he said in disbelief. "What's next door to it?"

"Post office," Mary said.

"What's next?"

"A little house," she described it. "That's it. Let's go in."

The woman of the house, Mrs. David Bostic, came to the door. "My friend, John Richter, believes your house may have been a tollgate years ago," I said.

"Sure was," she said.

And so we went inside and spent the next half hour going over old records, verifying that this house indeed had been a tollgate long before the turn of the century. Later it had been the home of LaVerne Shepko. Today the house sits at the southwest corner of Grand River and Shepko. It is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Penness of Novi and rented by the Bostics.

"How about that," said my beaming companion as we piled back into the car. "Didn't think I knew, did you. I may be blind but my memory works overtime."

Mary smiled proudly.

"Next stop, Deadman's Corner," he

PEGGY SCHRON, real estate associate, has joined the firm of Bruce Roy Realty, Inc. in Northville.

PEGGY SCHRON

Mrs. Schron transferred to Bruce Roy from Cooper Real Estate, St. Clair County where she was employed as a sales associate for the past six years. Prior to her career in real estate, she was a management director for Schostak Brothers in the Ann Arbor Area. She was an interior designer for several area builders and individual clients.

She attended St. Clair County Community College where she took courses such as English literature, real estate law, effective office management and sales motivation.

Mrs. Schron has done volunteer work for the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the American Cancer Society.

She is the wife of Robert Schron, vice president of Brender-Hamill & Associates, consulting and designing engineers of Plymouth. They have three sons, Gregory, David and Jeffery.

Ann L. Roy, broker of Bruce Roy Realty, Inc., says "With Mrs. Schron's sales and educational background, she undoubtedly will be a very effective sales associate for our company and for the community."

FUNERAL DIRECTOR James W. Stickle has joined the staff of the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home at 19091 Northville Road, owner Blake Northrop announces.

JAMES W. STICKLE

Stickle received his certificate in mortuary science from Wayne State University in 1958, graduating first in his class of 50. He received his associate degree in science in 1957 from Delta College. From 1964-66 he attended Detroit College of Law, working toward an LLD degree.

From 1976 until affiliating with the Northrop funeral home June 18, Stickle had been employed with Haley Funeral Directors in Southfield. From 1962-64 he was associated with A. H. Peters Funeral Homes, Incorporated.

From 1951-55 Stickle, a native of Bay City, served with the U.S. Navy. He was graduated first in a class of 130 from the U.S. Naval Hospital Corps school for hospital and pharmacy.

Currently living in Keego Harbor, Stickle says he plans to move to the Northville area. He is married with two children, 22 and 16. He is a member of the Wayne State Alumni Association, Kiwanis and YMCA. He has been active in a YMCA building fund drive.

REALTOR JOYCE BURKHEAD, Realtor Associates Joann Owen and Maureen Moody of Realty World-Schaefer Inc., located in Milford and Hartland, recently completed an intensive three-day management seminar conducted by Dr. John C. Lang, international management-training director of Realty World.

The seminar, taught at Hidden Valley resort near Gaylord, covered management procedures, techniques, factors, principles, and communication, with emphasis on case study problem solving.

Realty World is an international real estate franchise organization with some 1,700 real estate brokerages in the U.S. and 110 in Michigan, all independently owned and operated.

MIDAS MUFFLER has opened its newest shop at the corner of Novi Road and Twelve Mile in Novi.

Manager Michael Peltó reported that customers will find the regular line of services available at all Midas Muffler Shops — exhaust work, brake department, shock absorbers and custom pipe bending.

The owners of the Midas-Noví franchise also own a second Midas Muffler franchise on Groesbeck Highway in Mt. Clemens.

Peltó, manager of Midas-Noví, has worked for Midas Muffler for the past five years. He previously was affiliated with the Midas location in Mt. Clemens.

Peltó said that customers can drive in at any time for work on exhaust systems or shock absorbers. Appointments are recommended for work on brake systems or custom pipe bending. Appointments may be made at 348-3140.

ROBERT P. KETOLA, a resident of Mystic Lake Hills in Brighton and an Equitable Life Assurance Society agent, is among some 6,000 members of the Million Dollar Round Table (MDRT) who gathered in Chicago for this exclusive life insurance sales organization's annual conference.

Attendance at this year's meeting in the largest in MDRT history. With delegates representing 44 countries around the world, the MDRT meeting is the most comprehensive sales forum in the life insurance industry.

During the five-day meeting, more than 100 professional speakers discussed subjects of vital concern to both the public and to those in the life insurance field. The program featured experts in such areas as estate planning, taxes, small business operations and inflation.

ROBERT HUOT

SCRIPTOMATIC, Inc. has promoted Robert L. Huot, Jr. to the position of district manager. He will headquarter in Detroit with responsibilities to direct the marketing effort of the firm's addressing systems and equipment in the states of Michigan and Ohio.

Huot joined Scriptomatic last October in the company's management trainee program. His career includes 12 years of experience in the office equipment field.

Huot attended Wayne State University, and presently resides with his wife and two children in Northville where he is active in Little League coaching, the Parent Teachers Association, and the Boy Scouts.

Grand River 'toll' worth trip to a past with John Richter declared as we resumed the westward trek.

Near Kensington Metropark, I asked John to pinpoint the location of the razed buildings that once stood in the now defunct village of Kensington.

"Park in front of the cemetery," he said.

"On the east side of the cemetery was the hotel ... Fischer Hotel. Opposite it, across on the north side of Grand River, were the barns where they kept the horses of the hotel guests and for stage coaches. Stages coming east from Lansing turned around here, and those coming west from Detroit also turned around here and went back. It was the half-way point.

"West of the cemetery was the church. Directly across Grand River from the cemetery was the old bank that Governor Bingham helped start."

I-96 expressway traffic whizzed through the middle of the bank vault, John reckoned.

As we continued west along Grand River, opposite the park golf course, John asked me to stop at Labadie Road.

"There's no Labadie Road along here," I said.

"Got to be," he insisted. "The Indian, Labadie, lived there. It's where they made the movies."

"What movies?"

"Why those movies with Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Fatty Arbuckle...all of those stars made movies right there.

"You're kidding?" I asked incredulously.

"Nope. Show me Labadie," he ordered.

But Labadie wasn't there. At Kensington Road, he pointed out where a relative owned a farm near the southeast corner (now part of the state park) and where a Baptist church had stood next to the cemetery at the northwest corner.

Beyond as we neared what he described as "Deadman's Curve," the blind man pointed out an old farm house on the north side of Grand River. "That was Bill Ford's place...brother of Henry Ford (the first)."

At a gradual curve in the roadway, John pointed out two long rows of lilac bushes on the south side of Grand River. "Road used to go right between those bushes," he said, "back when there was a 90-degree turn in Grand River. And right here at the bend they called it 'Sparkplug Hill'. Was a Champion sparkplug sign at the curve. More than one car barreled right through it. That's why they called it Deadman's Curve."

Just beyond Deadman's Curve, also on the south side of the road, was a large two-story house. "That's the Pleasant Valley tollgate house," John said as we turned into the driveway. Mary, a native of Brighton, agreed. "I remember it as a boarding house," she said.

Today it's the home of Bert and Marieanna Bair. We interrupted her sewing in the backyard shade.

"Oh, my goodness," said Mrs. Bair, "we knew it was an old house but we really wasn't sure just what it had been."

An active member of the Green Oak Historical Society, she insisted the Richters stay awhile.

"You know," said John, "I used to skinny dip in the river out back of your place here. Oh, that was back a spell, though. My old friend, Jarvis Gage, would remember it. Is Jarvis still around?"

John rambled on, peeling off story after story of the vicinity as his memory seemed to grow sharper by the minute.

"I built the bridge down below your place," he said, pointing to the roadway. "Had a bunch of inmates working for me."

"You mean prisoners?" Mrs. Bair asked.

"Yup, the prison farm was up the road a spell, near the northwest corner of Pleasant Valley and Grand River."

"My goodness," said Mrs. Bair. "I'd never heard of that." She had heard of "Deadman's Curve", and "Sparkplug Hill", however.

The visit at Pleasant Valley was pleasant.

Enroute home we stopped at the centennial farm across from the Kent

Lake unit of the Island Lake Recreation Area. "Is Mr. Gage in? My friend here is an old friend and would like to say hello."

The 80-year-old, white-haired Jarvis Gage came up out of the garden behind the barns and gripped John's hand and instantly the two old "skinny-dipping" friends were pawing through a hill of memories.

"Tell me, Jarvis, what happened to Labadie Road? Don't you remember it?"

"Why sure," Jarvis Gage said. "The road was cut off when they put in Kensington Park. The Indian lived there and they made movies there, Mary Pickford and the rest."

John Richter couldn't see me, but a wide smile curled across his lips as he turned in my direction as if to say, "So there, you young whippersnapper, what did I tell you."

Instead, he and his 80-year-old friend continued their reminiscing as Mary and I enjoyed the luxury of this old place — now owned by the state. Jarvis Gage, who has a lifetime lease to live in the house, will say goodbye to the house and farm for the last time next year. That's when he will move to the Upper Peninsula farm of his son.

"I'll hate to leave but I must," he said, looking up at the house his grandfather, John Gage, had built in the 1830s. "All good things must come to an end."

Indeed they must. But sharing John Richter's vivid memories of Grand River and its tollgate houses had been worth the spent afternoon. Sharing his visit with an old friend was an extra mile of toll free pleasure.

A high sticker price on a new car reflects the value an automaker places on his product. The used car price, however, is where the consumer has his say. And according to the latest figures it's not unusual for even a five-year-old BMW to retain 75%-80% of its original price. If the thought of investing in such a car intrigues you, phone us and we'll arrange a thorough test drive.

Hobie Cat sailing is here to stay

By JIM HAYNES

What do you do if you're a California high school beach bum who hates going to classes? You tinker around in your father's garage, trying to invent the perfect surfboard. And when you finally hit upon the idea of using polyurethane to create a light, tough board, you aren't a drop-out beach bum anymore. You're a millionaire.

Now, what happens if, a few years later, surfing just doesn't excite you as much as it once did? You start to tinker again. And this time you revolutionize a whole different sport. Sailing.

You create a sleek, wind-fast catamaran that is light and easy to handle. But most of all, it is a boat that most can afford and a cinch to learn to use. If your name is Hobart L. Alter, and you're proud of your new invention, then there is only one logical name for the new craft. Hobie.

Much more than just a brand name, Hobie Cat brings to people's minds a certain type of sailboat. A unique craft that looks like something Jules Verne and Buckminster Fuller would have created if the two minds could have melded to form the ultimate alien watercraft.

Unlike other brand names, Hobie Cat symbolizes a sport more than a product. If someone mentions Harley-Davidson, you automatically think of a motorcycle. But if you aren't an avid cyclist, chances are you won't know what the differences are between a Harley and a Honda.

But it's different with a Hobie Cat. People who have had only a brief introduction to sailing can picture the radical differences between the Cats and other types of sailing craft.

The Cat is designed light for speed and maneuverability. The two hulls are thin but buoyant, and slice the water like a hot knife in butter. Stretched between the two hulls is a frame and a trampoline. The tramp is sturdy yet more comfortable to sit on than the traditional fiberglass seats in monohull sailboats. The mast is built into the front of the frame.

One of the advantages to a Cat is the weight, or lack of. A Hobie 14 weighs in at around 240 pounds, a Hobie 16 weighs 340 and one of the big Hobie 18s weighs 400 pounds. Which means that one person can rig and move these boats where a larger monohull craft would have to be handled by at least two.

SIDELINES

By Jim Haynes

The field had magic

I drove home the other day and it was one of the most depressing experiences I've ever had. I usually make it back to the old neighborhood once or twice a month, but this time I took a route that I hadn't traveled for a year or two.

I grew up in a subdivision off of the main road that circles Whitmore Lake. From paved East Shore Drive you turn right onto the dirt, moon-like cratered Walnut Street and drive three blocks until you come to Jay Street. There you turn right and my childhood home is just down the street. If you don't turn, one more block will take you to a deep forest and abandoned farm land. Those places held magic for me as a child. But some of that magic was gone when I drove down Walnut Street this last time.

There was a small field on Walnut that the kids of the neighborhood turned into Tiger Stadium every afternoon. Ten or so of us would get our parent's rakes and shovels each spring and clear the weeds from the outfield, dig the basepaths, and build a pitcher's mound. Then, when the summer finally came and school let out, every spare minute we had would be spent playing baseball on that field.

No one knew who owned it. We kids were the only ones ever there. In our innocence, we felt that we owned it because of the work that we put into the land.

Our home run barrier were the telephone lines that ran parallel to the basepaths from first to third, in the outfield. Each summer two or more of us could finally reach that cherished goal. It was a mark of manhood to be able to send the baseball high over those wires. And far, far into the distance was a wire fence that marked the end of our field and the beginning of farm land. Only a few of the older boys who would occasionally come back from their cars and girlfriends, could reach that distance.

The only girls that were allowed onto the field were the ones who made kool-aid for us. Chauvinistic and fiercely proud of our maleness, we 10-year-olds were reduced to strutting show-offs when the girls came by. We would never talk to them (you don't talk to girls!) but you could bet that secretly, each kid tried his hardest to make the best play, to hit the ball the hardest, to impress them.

I used to play the outfield. I would stand under the wires that stretched so high above me and pretend that I was in a big-league stadium. The crickets that continually chirped around me were in reality thousands of fans jam-packed tight into Tiger Stadium. Billy Parrish, who played in right field beside me was in reality Al Kaline. Richard Randall on my right was really Jake Woods. We became our favorite ballplayers. I was Chico Fernandez, the Tiger shortstop, even though I was in the outfield.

Everyone of us had a collection of baseball cards at home that we would study at night. Batting averages and hometowns were memorized for all of our favorite players. Those that we didn't like or had doubles of, we traded. Al Kaline's card was a collector's item. I traded two Mickey Mantles, a Roger Maris and a Gus Triandos for Kaline. Jim Campbell had nothing over me.

Ask the expert

Dear Expert,

Q I want to take up jogging but have never run much before. I know that it would probably do me more harm than good to start out running a lot of distance a lot of distance at the beginning. But I want some sort of program I can stick to. Do you have any suggestions for a beginning routine?

B H., Northville

A As a beginning runner, one should first consider the proper attire. The most important element is the shoe. Be sure to buy a high quality absorbing shoe ($28-35). Wear loose nylon or cotton briefs and a light cotton t-shirt and socks if preferred.

Your routine should begin at a very slow pace. Remember you are only competing with yourself. I suggest a light walk/run pattern. Gradually increase your length and pace when your body is ready for it. Always listen to your body and its feelings. If it hurts, stop and rest. But before you start running, no matter the distance, always begin with a light exercise. This should include leg, arm and back stretches. It is very important to build a strong foundation before you take on a very serious running pattern. Take it from me, you'll enjoy it more if you take the time out to prepare to be a good runner.

Candice Moensch, Marathon runner, Dearborn Heights
(Last week's expert was Kerry Hlady, owner of the Racquet Connection, Northville)

If you have any questions of a sporting nature and want to ask an expert, send them to the Sports Department, Northville Record, 104 West Main Street, Northville, 48167.

RIDE THE WIND—Hobie Cats are a distinct type of sailcraft that many people are discovering these days. Lighter, easier to handle than conventional monohull sailboats, Hobie Cats are rapidly making inroads on the sailing culture of America. Here some Cats are seen going through their paces. The one on the right leans off of the coast of Hawaii while the boats above are three of the many that dot Whitmore Lake.

Pirates beaten in 'G' league 6-2 upset

The Yankees, behind the brilliant pitching of John Marc Anderson and Scott Werdell and the fancy glove work of first baseman Keith Sanders, ended the unbeaten streak of the Pirates, 6-2 last week.

The Pirates jumped out in front in the first inning when Frank Meyers was hit by a pitch and went to third on a double by John Mynatt. Meyers came home on a fly ball off of the bat of Rick Van Buron.

The Yankees erased that lead and went ahead in the third inning when John Bales walked, went to third on Eric Donkers' single and came home on a double by Mike Davis that scored Donkers as well.

The Pirates tied the game up in the fourth when Van Buron walked and came home on a double by Dirk Nowka. But in the Yankees half of the fourth, they went out in front again, this time for good.

Rob Cannon singled to lead off. After Keith Sanders walked, Paul Newitt hit a double that scored Cannon with the go-ahead run. In the fifth inning, Donkers and Davis walked and both came home on a double by Anderson. He scored when Scott Werdell hit a sacrifice fly to the outfield.

Sanders was a brick wall at first base as he gloved three hot Pirate shots that were sure-base hits. He was involved in a total of seven putouts at first. The Pirates are now 15-1 and the Yanks 12-4.

The Yankees continued to roll as they beat the Padres 11-2 later in the week. Gary Stobbe, Anderson and Werdell all scored twice for the winners. Werdell hit a single and a triple for the Yanks while Stobbe batted two singles. Donkers added a run-producing double and score one of the Yankee runs.

Dwayne Hays and Vince Shimp scored the first-inning runs for the Padres. Hays had led off with a double, with two outs Shimp walked, and Danny Sheehan hit a drive that drove both runners in.

The Pirates, madder than hornets whose nest has been banged, took out their first-loss frustrations on the Cardinals, 18-7. Dirk Nowka and Don Norton scored four runs each for the Pirates. Nowka had three singles and a triple while Norton singled once and got a double and a triple.

Meyers had three singles and a double and scored three times for the Pirates.

Doug May scored twice for the Cardinals. Chris Hauser led the losing team in hitting as he rapped out a double and a single. The big inning for the Cardinals came in the third when Matt Baker and Hauser singled, Kirk Morrison doubled, Mark Doal singled and May, Dave Kehoe and Tom Alkire walked to push five runs across the plate.

The second-place Dodgers beat the Giants 11-7 last week. Paul Havalala got the Dodger scoring going in the second inning with a lead-off home run. In the third the Dodgers scored five runs as the team strung three walks, three singles and a triple together. Adding a run in the fourth and four more in the sixth, the team won its 12th game of the season. Todd Mai shared in the hitting chores as he added a single and a double to the Dodger cause. Greg Wendel scored two Giant runs as he double and walked in three trips to the plate. Tom Ross had a single and a double, scoring once.

Going into the sixth inning with the score 5-4 in favor of the Astros, the Padres managed to score once to knot the score at 5-5. But the Astros had last bats and scored to take a 6-5 win. In that final inning, Scott MacLean, who had scored earlier, doubled to open the Astro half of the inning. After Mike Hilt inger popped out, Ron Lisowski singled MacLean home with the winning run. Lisowski had hit a two-run home run earlier in the game.

Tony Craig had two singles and scored twice for the Padres. Scott Trepicone had a last-inning triple and scored on Vince Shimp's single to tie the game.

The Pirates continued to roll as they clobbered the Cubs 10-1. Tim Ruffing scored three times as he was safe on an error, slapped a single and a triple in three trips to the plate. Mike Yaele scored the only Cub run as he led off the fifth inning with a walk, and was followed by three others that forced him in.

The Reds, despite two home runs by Danny Totten, couldn't quite make it as they lost a tough one to the Padres 12-11. Totten hit a grand slam home run in the fourth inning and a three-run blast in the sixth. Tony Craig, Dan Sheehan and Jeff King all scored twice for the winners. Sheehan had two hits, and scored the winning run in the seventh Season winding down in 'F'

The Dodgers maintained their perch atop the "F" League standings with a 9-1 win over the sixth-place Astros last week. The Dodgers now have a 12-1 record and the Astros are 7-7.

The Dodgers scored right from the start as Bob Pegrum singled to open the game, went to third on Mark Korman's hit and scored on a fly ball hit by Dan Murray.

In the Fourth inning, the Dodgers got four runs as Murray walked to open the inning, scored on Steve DeMattos' triple, Gary Ruskin blasted a home run, and Chris Odom scored on a bunt by Scott Yaele after being hit by a pitch.

The Dodgers picked up three runs in the fifth inning when Dave DeMattos doubled, Steve DeMattos walked, Ruskin and Odom hit back-to-back doubles and Yaele walked. They picked up their last run in the sixth when Dave DeMattos singled and came home on mark Korman's double.

Mike Ross scored the only Astro run as he hit a double in the fifth inning and came home on a pass ball.

The third-place Padres earned their eight win of the season with a 13-7 win over the Angels. The Padres scored twice in the first inning, twice in the second, once in the third, four times in the fifth, twice in the sixth and twice in the seventh.

The Angels didn't manage to score until the fourth when they pushed across a run. In the fifth inning, they scored five times, and in the seventh, once.

Matt Meyers was the big gun for the Padres as he blasted two triples, a double and a single. He scored four runs. Bob and Dave Martin both scored three times for the winners.

John Naar was the only Angel to score more than once in the game, as he walked twice and scored twice. Dan Perpich had two of the seven Angel hits.

The Braves and the Expos had a slug fest last week with the Braves finally emerging as 14-13 victors.

Rich Jeleniewski scored three times in the game, smacking a single, a double and walking once. Alan Carnes, Jeff Maz, Jeff Jamieson, Pat Campbell and Chris Bartz all scored twice for the winners.

For the Expos, Chris O'Kohry smacked three singles and scored three times, while Todd Bartling, Tom Zielke and Jay Bartling all scored twice. Zielke hit a single and a double in the contest.

The Angels came back to beat the Astros in both teams' second games of the week, 14-6.

Steve Frellick scored three runs for the winners as he was safe on a fielder's choice, walked and singled. He stole three bases to set up three runs. Todd Deal scored twice for the Angels, as did Jim Rose and Dave Naar. Phil Majewski had a double and a single to lead the team in hitting.

Mike Ross had a double and scored two runs for the Astros. The only other hits for the Astros were Steve Smith's triples in the sixth inning, and Willie Newman's single in the same frame.

The Cubs clawed the Reds 23-6 last week. Bob Orlowski had a single, a walk, double and a triple for the winners. He scored four times. Dan Eisele had three singles, a double and a triple and he also scored four times. Scott Pence had two singles, a double and a walk and scored three times. Kelly Ronayne had a triple and two singles and scored three times, John Knauss had a

Theresa Mitchell gets ready to smack the ball in softball action last week

'Rainouts' make-up schedule

Spicer's wins slugfest

In the final week of the current two-week "rain-out" phase of the men's softball schedule, only three games were on tap.

In the American League, Spicer Tool wrenched John Mach Ford to the tune of 11-1. Spicer's scored two runs in the first inning, three in the second, one in the third, four in the fourth and one in the fifth. John Mach scored its lone run in the first inning.

For Spicer's, Mark Richmond walked to open the game. After Andy Walters popped out, Dave Austin smashed a home run to give Tool a 2-0 lead. John Mach answered with a run in its half of the first. Ray Taulbee singled and scored on Art Mach's long double. From then on it was all Spicer Tool.

In the second inning, Bob Baber was safe on an error and went to third on a double by Joe Watson. Jim Watson walked and then an error on a ball hit by Richmond, and a ground out by Walters drove Baber, and both Watsons home.

In the third inning, Jim Manderville belted a home run and repeated the feat in the fourth inning. Austin also cleared the fences in the fourth inning, with two aboard.

In National League action, the Brew Hogs belted St. Paul's Lutheran 11-6 and Custard Time/Cutler Realty (C/R) crushed the State Police team 20-6.

St. Paul's scored a run in the first inning to take a brief lead. After Ed Maas had singled, Ed McIntosh hit into a fielder's choice. Ron Maas and Ross Hahn both followed with singles driving McIntosh in with the run.

In the third inning, St. Paul's added three more runs to its lead. McIntosh singled, followed by another by Ron Maas, and Hahn then clobbered a double to score both McIntosh and Maas. Glen Meek then hit a ball that was misplayed by the Hogs and Hahn scored with the fourth St. Paul's run.

That's when the Brew Hogs woke up. Steve Firman started the Hogs' half of the third inning with a single. After Jami Moore lined out, Mark Schroder doubled Firman home. Then Ed Bagdon cracked a Sky Lab shot that landed somewhere in Australia for two more Hog runs. Brad Westfall singled and one out later, Rick Norton sent another ball into orbit for two more runs.

In the fourth inning, St. Paul's failed to come up with a run. The Hogs however were adding to their tally. Firman again led the inning off with a single. Moore and Schroder followed with one-baggers and Bagdon belted a double to drive two runs in. An error on a ball hit by Jim VanGieson allowed both Schroder and Bagdon to score.

St. Paul's finally scored again in the fifth as Hahn singled and came home on an error on a ball off the bat of Reg Carvith. In the sixth, St. Paul's picked up its final run on a single by Steve Coulter and a double by Ed Maas.

The Hogs' run in the sixth inning came on a triple by Bagdon and a single by VanGieson. In the seventh, the final Brew Hog run came on three straight singles by Firman, Moore and Schroder.

C/R scored six times in the first, eight times in the third, once in the fourth and five times in the fifth inning to beat the State Police. The Police scored twice in the first inning, once each in the second and third innings, and twice in the fifth.

Gary Calder opened the game for C/R with a walk. Dennis Belleperche, Al Cox and Gary Callender all singled to drive in one run, Charles Callender walked to force in another, and John

Northville Lab stays on top

Northville Lab kept its tenuous hold on first place by defeating Dave's Trim Shop 9-4 last week.

Cathy Martin, Louise Hopping, Denise MacDermaid and Eve Williams all cracked singles to start the game. After Patricia Brown had popped out, Kimm Adams and Chris Gensley singled to drive in the third and fourth runs of the inning.

Dave's didn't score in the first inning, but did pick up two runs in the second. Leslie Riecks singled and went to third on an error as Lab bobbled a grounder by Wendy DeHaene. Anne Raney then hit a fly ball that allowed Riecks to tag and score on. Cheryl Cook followed with a grounder that DeHaene scored on.

In the third inning, singles by Williams, Brown and Adams, and walks to Colleen Brewer and Gensley gave the Lab two more runs. Dave's answered with two runs of its own. Pam Soncrant singled, and after Jodi Gatterer popped out, Connie Soncrant singled to put runners on first and third. Reichs and DeHaene then followed with singles to send both Soncrants home. That finished the scoring for Dave's, but the Lab wasn't through.

In the fifth inning Brown and Adams singled to start the frame. After Brewer popped out, Gensley and Pat Doyle singled to send them home. Gensley scored on an error on the play.

Doc's Jocks, breathing hot down the Lab's neck in second place, whipped the Zoo Choo Water Wheelers 16-8.

Jocks scored eight runs in the first two innings to jump out front 8-0. The Wheelers answered with seven runs in the third to narrow the gap to 8-7, but they didn't score again until the seventh inning when they pushed across a lone run which wasn't nearly enough. In the fifth and in the sixth innings, Doc's had scored eight times.

Cindy Martin had three hits and scored twice for Doc's. Alisa Krinsky rapped three hits and scored three times for the winners. Jane Kaestner came into the game as a late-inning defensive replacement and belted a three-run home run.

For the Wheelers, Sheila McIntosh had a home run and a double, scoring twice. Terrie Birk and Kathy Austin both had two hits and each scored a run.

The Northville Record scored 11 runs in the first inning and EDM Special Tees never recovered. The Record added six more runs in the second inning to pour salt on the wound and three more in the fifth to beat the Tees 20-5. EDM scored a run in the first inning and four in the fourth.

The Record combined eight hits and eight Tees errors to score the 11 runs in the first inning. Barb Bushey hit two doubles and scored twice for the winners. Kim Kurzawa had two singles and a triple to score three times for Northville.

Jean Greis, Sue Booth, Vicki Merriam and Annie Belton got hits for the Special Tees.

Sheehan's Little Caesar's scored seven runs in the seventh inning to beat Joe's Little Bar 15-9.

Joe's had scored three runs in the

... Hobie Cats

has, for the last two years, been ranked as the world's largest dealer in Hobie Cats. They offer all three sizes and a sailing course to acquaint the new owner with everything one needs to know to sail a Cat: rigging, sailing theory, and safety procedures.

"A person who has never sailed before, after 5-10 minutes of basic instruction can have a basic understanding of sailing a Cat," Jim Mount, general manager of Fortune Marina said. "Cat's are more stable than monohulls because of the two hulls that make up the catamaran."

To sail a Cat, you sit at the rear of the frame and control the rudder with your left hand. You control the boom with your right hand by means of a rope and pulley mechanism.

"To turn, head into the wind making sure you have control of the speed of the boat, and use the tiller to turn. The sail will shift on its own, just duck and shift to the other side of the tramp," Mount said. "If you flip the boat, just apply leverage by resting your feet on the lower hull (part under water), grab the line on the upper hull (part that's out of water) and use your body weight to right it."

Mount offered these advantages of a Hobie Cat over a monohull sailboat. "A catamaran is more stable and can attain more speed than a monohull. When a Cat accelerates you can really feel it but you can't with a monohull. A Hobie Cat is easier to sail than a monohull. A Cat is more comfortable because you're sitting on a trampoline instead of fiberglass. There is a lot of space on a catamaran where in a monohull there is less."

The sails are made of Dacron and come in a number of color schemes. But the purchaser has to order just what is offered, no self-designing is allowed. Fortuna also discourages mixing of colors in terms of sail and hull schemes. You have to buy what is offered.

A Hobie 14 is the smallest of the three styles offered, and it is also the least expensive. Mount said that these are offered starting at $1795. They have been officially clocked at 23.2 mph and have less than an eight-inch draft. The spars are made of anodized aluminum, with fiberglass hulls, stainless steel fittings and by just removing four bolts you can store the boat in your garage completely broken down.

The Hobie 16 costs a bit more than the 14, but makes up for it in size and speed. The 16 has been clocked at 25.9 mph and has a draft of less than 10 inches. Built with the same materials that a 14 is made of, the 16 has a reefable mainsail which is important in heavy weather or a sudden storm.

The Hobie Cat 18 is a relatively new design. It flies 240 square feet of sail, has a 30 inch draft and weighs over 400 pounds. It starts at $3695 and has been clocked at 29 mph. The 18 has two dagger boards in its hulls which help with stability. In Hawaii the enthusiasts have developed a new sport called dagger board skiing. A surfer/skier will ride a dagger board like a surfboard while being towed by a Cat. And it's also possible to ski behind a big 18.

There is even a Hobie Class Association for Hobie Cat owners. The United States is divided into 15 Divisions, with Michigan included in Division 10. There are a number of regattas each year for each division and then for the whole country. Points are earned at the regattas and a national Championship is held in each size class with the skippers who have earned the highest points in regatta competition going against each other for the championship. If anyone would like more information about the association, write to Hobie Class Association, P.O. Box C-19509, Irvine, California, 92713.

"Sailing a Hobie is absolutely incredible," Mount said. "It just can't be described to a person who has never sailed. You have to try it — it's incredible."

Golf tourney set

Junior golfers from 21 clubs in southeastern Michigan will compete in the third annual Meadowbrook Junior Invitational Golf Tournament on Tuesday, July 24, at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Unlike adult invitations in which friends ask friends from other clubs on a one-to-one basis, participants in this junior event are selected by qualifying rounds at their own clubs. Each youngster will compete against others in his own age bracket — 9-year-olds against other 9-year-olds, 10 against 10, and so on.

Approximately 125 boys and girls will be on hand for the 8:30 a.m. shotgun start, according to Terry Bileti, invitational chairman, who noted that this is the only invitational for juniors in the metropolitan area.

In addition to Meadowbrook, the following clubs will be represented in the tournament: Western, Grosse Ile, Country Club of Detroit, Detroit Golf Club, Pine Lake, Forest Lake, Knollwood, Franklin Hills, Washtenaw, Burton Hills, Lakelands, Lochmoor, and Tam-o-shanter.

Others are Twin Beach, Edgewood, Orchard Lake, Farmington, Red Run, Plum Hollow, and Dearborn.

... Magic field

We would gather at one of our houses and watch the Tigers on television and then grab our gloves and bats and run screaming and yelling to our field to play until the street lights came on.

But time goes on.

I stopped playing baseball there when I could hit the ball over the wire every time. Most of the kids on the pick-up teams were alot younger than me. I went into junior high and just didn't have time for that nonsense anymore. I was too cool for all of that stuff.

Music took the place of baseball in my life and football soon edged even that new love to the side. My dreams shifted from Tiger Stadium to Whitmore Lake and thoughts of that huge field were long buried under the weight of grown-up hopes and dreams.

On this day, not too long ago, I felt like seeing the field again. Life goes by alot quicker as you grow older and I wanted to make sure I never forgot the magic of my childhood. So what I saw when I drove past made me very depressed.

There, smackdab in the middle of the infield was a house. Instead of a weed-strewn outfield there was a pleasant green yard. The wires were still above, but instead of marking the end of the outfield, they covered a driveway and a swimming pool. I was crushed.

The yardfield seemed so small. Why, the wires were only 100 feet from where home plate had been. The distant fence that seemed miles from the infield when I was small was a good stones throw from second. What had taken days for 15 little kids to clear could be mowed in an hour now.

That shock really made me aware that childhood is best kept as a treasured memory. Adult reality just can't comprehend what makes something like that field so special. I didn't feel anger at the owners of the home.

I just wondered if they knew how much magic there was in that field.

Bob Fadder on his Hobie

... Men's softball

Sherman tanked the first pitch to him over the fence for a grand-slam home run.

In the third inning, Gary Callender started things off with a triple, Charles Callender walked, Sherman singled, the Police bobbled Gary Batzloff's grounder, Henry Hubert singled, Jim Kohl doubled, the Police bobbled Mike Richardson's grounder, and Belleperche homered. When the dust had cleared, C/R had added eight runs to its total and the Police were suffering from shell-shock.

In the fifth inning, Calder walked with one out, Belleperche singled, Gary Callender singled, Charles Callender and Sherman both doubled and Batzloff singled to drive in the final five C/R runs.

... Women's standings

Seventh to take the lead 9-8 before Sheehan's busted loose Barb Reber had three hits and scored twice for Sheehan's, Lynn Herald had two singles and a triple, scoring once, Donna Schlachter had two singles and scored three times, and Cathy Eysich had two hits and scored twice for the winners.

Mary Brueck singled three times and scored twice for Joe's, and Sharon Filips and Lynn Eilber each had two hits. Connie Osbourne scored twice in a losing effort.
