TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

'I was shocked'

"I was expecting to grow ordinary pumpkins, but these things shocked me," laughs William Kaczor of 18443 West Nine Mile while surveying his field of pumpkins, several of which weigh 90 pounds or more. "The things just went wild, growing over my cucumbers, my potatoes, everything. I couldn't even find the cucumbers." Kaczor says it was his first attempt at raising pumpkins, and he insists he did nothing to spur their growth. "It's the black dirt, I guess," he adds. Photo by Jane Hale.

Charter eyed for township government

By KEN KOVACS

Northville Township may soon join 55 other Michigan townships and adopt the charter township form of government.

The issue, which has been discussed briefly by the board of trustees in the past, was again raised at the October 11 meeting of the board and a motion was made to adopt the charter township form of government by resolution.

Though the motion was defeated by a 3-3 vote, those opposing the motion were not totally opposed to the idea, but wanted more information.

Supporting the motion for adoption were trustees William Zapke and David Mitchell and Clerk Clarice Sass. Casting opposing votes were Trustee James Nowka, Treasurer Lee Holland and Supervisor Donald Thomson. (Trustee John Swienkowski was absent.)

"I am glad the issue came up, but I think we should investigate this further," Trustee Nowka said.

Other board members felt it was time to take action.

"We have been putting this off for three months and actually for three years," Trustee Zapke, who made the motion, said. "There are a number of advantages that we can gain by becoming a charter township including reduced publishing costs and increased flexibility."

Township Attorney Donald Morgan discussed the advantages gained by becoming a charter township and explained why so many townships were switching to a charter system.

"The original intention of a charter township is to deal with the townships that are urbanizing," he said. "Those who adopt charter systems are usually large townships. Smaller ones have no need for it."

"There has been a doubling in the number of charter townships in Michigan, in the last year basically because the Headlee Amendment has come along and destroyed the biggest negative," he explained. "Prior to Headlee a charter township could levy up to five mills without going to the people. Therefore most people living in

Franchise hearing set

Cable TV nears okay

Unless unexpected major objections are raised, a non-exclusive franchise probably will be granted a firm to sell cable TV services in the city.

Public hearing on a franchise ordinance will go to public hearing November 5.

In setting the November hearing on Monday, council members appeared supportive of Omnicom, a firm that last August made a pitch to council for a 15-year franchise that would permit it to install and operate a cable TV system.

A spokesman for the company has stated that the firm now has franchises from Plymouth, Northville Township, Farmington, and soon will have franchises in Novi and in Farmington Hills.

Omnicom is a "joint venture" of Hoarty & Rains Associates, Inc. of Toledo and the Black Hawk Broadcasting Company of Waterloo, Iowa. Black Hawk, council members have been told, is the financial investor in the venture.

Omnicom spokesmen said in August that the firm had no existing cable TV systems but that its executives were experienced in managing cable television operations.

In a recent letter to City Manager Steven Walters, the firm's president, John Raines, said Omnicom is prepared to waive the $25 installation fee for new subscribers during the first year of construction.

An Omnicom official has stated the firm would begin building the system within six months of receiving the franchise. The system would be operational within 36 months, he said.

Omnicom said it would charge customers $6.95 monthly during the construction period, in addition to waiving the $25 installation fee. Normally, the basic cable TV service, fee is $7.95 monthly.

The basic rate will provide 38 or 39 channels.

An additional fee would entitle customers to view first run movies—none of which are X-rated, it was noted. Two movie rates are to be provided, it was explained. One would include some R-rated movies, while the other would be family oriented.

A special device, council was told, permits parents to "lock" a movie channel to prevent their children from viewing a movie while they (the parents) are away from home.

Omnicom, according to Raines, "will provide an exciting audio feature to our cable subscribers with 'Sound-A-Round' FM cable service. We will strip off the audio signal and multiplex it on FM radio. By doing this, Omnicom provides a stereo effect for network and pay-TV signals."

The firm also will offer short wave

NEWS BRIEFS

SPOOK AND GOBLIN hours have been officially set for 6 to 8 p.m. on Halloween by the City and Township of Northville. Those are the two hours youngsters of the community are permitted to do their "trick-or-treating" on Wednesday, October 31.

A LIMITED number of tickets are available for the annual dinner meeting of the Northville Chamber of Commerce on October 25, according to the chamber president, Paul Vernon. Persons wishing to attend the Meadowbrook Country Club meeting, which will feature Lieutenant Governor James Brickley, should call the chamber office, 349-7640, or Folino's office, 349-1189 for tickets by October 20. Tickets are $12.50 each.

RACING RESUMES at Northville Downs Monday when the Jackson Trotting Association opens its 1979 meet here and continues through the remainder of the year.

ONLY TWO BIDS were received by the city on the Fairbrook property where the ambulance headquarters was formerly located, prompting city council to reject both bids because they did not meet expectations. City had expected cash bids of $30,000. The property probably will be rebid at a future date, city officials said.

'Sewer crunch' letter blasted

By KEN KOVACS

The effects of a letter sent to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) last week by Northville Township Supervisor Donald Thomson are unknown.

But it was clearly demonstrated that not all members of the board of trustees agree it should have been sent.

Township Engineer Bill Mosher previously warned the supervisor that the DNR could put a halt to all construction in the township if the letter were sent.

The supervisor's letter states that the township and other surrounding communities are currently over capacity and there is great concern in the township because of it.

Thomson told board members that he sent the letter October 10 (the day before the meeting). Trustee Bill Zapke chastised the supervisor for doing so.

Zapke also criticized Thomson for giving a "confidential" letter presented to the trustees by Engineer Mosher to the press.

The letter explained the seriousness of the sewer capacity problem.

"I would also like to note for the record that at the last board meeting we voted on whether or not a letter should be sent to the DNR and at that time the supervisor was directly instructed not to," Zapke charged. "We decided we would hold off writing the letter."

Thomson rebutted the trustee's statements noting that, in fact, he was not instructed either way and that there was no vote taken.

(Note: At the last board meeting the trustees discussed the possibility of the letter and the issue was left undecided.)

"I think what you did was express a concern that is not a valid one," Zapke continued. "A case in point is that we are at 58 percent of our capacity and the engineers at Wayne County Road Commission and our own engineer do not feel that there is a danger to the people."

"For some reason or other you have decided that it is important to make it seem that there is a danger when in reality there isn't," Zapke charged.

Thomson backed up his action by referring to Mosher's previous statements.

Two resign from EDC

Another blow was dealt the Northville Township Economic Development Corporation (EDC) last week when two of the nine members resigned.

Reuben Jensen stepped down as his second one-year term expired October 11 and Ross B. Northrop quit during the middle of his six-year term which would have run through October 11, 1983.

Robert Terwin, secretary of the township EDC, who recently completed a two-year term, was reappointed to serve until 1986.

Supervisor Donald Thomson told board members that he would make ap-

Dredging of ponds draws council fire

Suggestion that the city might consider diversion of spring water into a city-storm sewer triggered a protest this week by Leon Bonner who city officials say has been violating several laws in digging in the pond area adjacent to his Fairbrook house.

"Under no condition will I agree to let divert water," declared Bonner Monday when Mayor Paul Vernon suggested the "nuisance" might be eliminated by diverting spring water now flowing under Fairbrook from the Joe Denton park area to the ponding area on the south side of the street.

Bonner denied that he has been excavating the pond area. He defined the work there as "removal of slime," not excavation.

Following complaints of neighbors recently, council ordered an investigation.

City Engineer Harold Penn, who reported his findings, suggested Bonner had violated the law by not obtaining a soil erosion permit from Wayne County, an excavation permit from the City of Northville and approval from the plan commission for the project.

"A protective fence should be placed around the ponds to guard against anyone gaining access to them," he added. "In their present condition they can be regarded as an attractive nuisance."

The engineer noted that "spring water could be diverted in Denton Park to go into the storm sewer line which drains the Orchard Drive area and goes across the Bonner property on an easement. Although it is possible there could be springs in the pond area. When improvements were made to Denton Park and Orchard Drive it was decided to let the spring water flow across Seven Mile (Fairbrook) as it was doing in order to refresh the Water Cress Ponds Mrs. Mollie Lawrence had at that time."

Bonner warned that if the city diverted the water, he would seek legal action against the city.

"My intention is to make it (ponds) an asset for the community," said Bonner, who said he "resented" city sug-

Band aid campaign launched

A campaign to raise funds for band uniforms and the Northville High School music program will get underway this week with campaigners' eyes set on a long range goal of $56,000.

Chairman of the drive is Bonnie Wagner, president of the Northville Band Boosters. Band parents, students, school administrators, boardmembers and interested citizens will serve on her committee.

The immediate objective of the campaign is to raise approximately $18,000 for 90 new band uniforms. A special committee composed of Band Boosters, faculty and students is already at work selecting the uniforms so that they will be available for the coming year.

Thus far Wagner says her committee has decided upon a series of projects to raise money:

- Night at the Races—Through arrangements with the Jackson-at-Northville meet, which opens next Monday, all proceeds from advance ticket sales for a yet-to-be-determined night at the races will be donated to the special band fund. Mima Rothermel will head up the ticket sales' committee for this project and will be assisted by Jessie McFadden, Steve Tsoucaris, Jerry Rothermel, and Sue McKenzie. The Northville Band Night race will probably be held on a Thursday in November. Tickets will be sold for two dollars each and, according to Wagner, the high school jazz band will add a musical touch to the races on band night.

- Rent-a-Band—Anyone planning a special party or event, or just a unique "surprise" can contact Band Director Mike Rumbell at the high school and arrange for a combo or full ensemble for an hour or an evening. Special rates have been established.

- Organizational Appeals—Janis Stevenson will direct the committee which will contact local organizations and explain what the band fund drive is all about. Helping her will be Nancy Brown, Linda Brown and Sharon McFadden.

- Cannisters—Janet Brown will see to it that cannisters are

Daughter has scleroderma

Northville parents pray for cure

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

by Chairman Sarah Leist, herself a victim of scleroderma, hopes to involve doctors, relatives and those afflicted and fighting the disease through research.

When kids at Moraine Elementary ask five-year-old Kelli Woodsum why she cannot run as fast as they can, she tells them she has scleroderma.

"They usually don't inquire further," said Kelli's mom, Sue Woodsum said. Emotionally, Kelli is fine.

But Kelli is a victim of a rare connective tissue disorder which affects about 300,000 Americans. There is no known cause, cure or universally effective treatment for the progressively disabling arthritis-like disease.

Scleroderma literally means "hard skin" and is commonly known as "the disease that turns people to stone."

Kelli's first symptoms appeared at age three and a half when the skin around her ankles turned dark, appearing bruised. Within five months very hard, white, scaly dry scar tissue had replaced the normal skin.

"It looked like she had been severely burned," Mrs. Woodsum said. The disease now affects not only her legs but also her chest and neck.

"That is not to say for Kelli that in ten years she will be in a wheel chair. But she might be," Mrs. Woodsum said.

The first meeting of the Detroit metropolitan chapter of the United Scleroderma Foundation, Inc. will take place October 18 at the David Belisle V.F.W. post, Airport Road north of M-59 at 8 p.m. It is the first meeting of the new group and everyone is invited.

The chapter is named after Kelly Woodsum.

"If we get more people together we will have more power to fight it and get finances for research," Mrs. Woodsum said.

This community chapter is being formed only after nearly two years when David and Sue Woodsum took Kelli to specialists all over the country seeking a cure.

"I can't take no for an answer," Mrs. Woodsum said. "I can't believe that when they are working on a cure for cancer there is no cure for scleroderma."

Mrs. Woodsum wrote doctors in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Los Angeles and other places in the country. When the scleroderma scar tissue began appearing on Kelli's chest and neck "we went into a panic," Mrs. Woodsum said.

They took Kelli to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota where one of the top three specialists in the country examined Kelli.

"He reconfirmed that there is no cure, no matter how many doctors we took Kelli to, so we might as well quit trying. They did do a tendon lengthening operation but it was not successful. They did say the disease was progressing very rapidly."

Kelli wears a leg brace at night to try to straighten out her out-turned foot. The Woodsums take her to University of Michigan clinic often and to Mayo Clinic every six months.

The Woodsums have two other children, Kristin, six, and Jonathon, six months. Both are healthy. There is no history of scleroderma in either David or Sue Woodsum's family. Kelli's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. David Cunningham of South Lyon.

Blue Cross medical insurance covers the three weeks Kelli spent at the Mayo Clinic and University of Michigan Hospital. But the many doctor's visits cost about $40 each time. Special shoes cost $57 a pair. And the bill for Kelli's diagnostic test at the Mayo Clinic not covered under insurance cost the Woodsums nearly $2,000.

They can get some financial aid from area foundations. "Most of the aid goes to Detroit residents to people who probably need it more than we do," Mrs. Woodsum said. "But it is a big concern."

Scleroderma rarely strikes children or men but more often strikes women of child-bearing age.

Occasionally the disease stops spontaneously.

"That's our hope," said Mrs. Woodsum. "You have to have faith in God. Maybe there won't be a cure for thirty years... we are hoping it will stop."

The new community chapter headed

Kelli Woodsum, 5, daughter of David and Sue Woodsum of 20581 Clement, Northville, suffers from the connective tissue disease, scleroderma.

A chapter of the United Scleroderma Foundation named after Kelli will meet this week in Pontiac.

Minors banned from Downs

An ordinance prohibiting minors from Northville Downs was enacted by Northville City Council Monday with the inclusion of some changes.

Previously, minors were prohibited by decree of the state racing commissioner. But, as noted by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, the rule was not enforceable under existing law.

The new ordinance exempts children, ages 12 to 18, who are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian, and persons in the track barns area.

Also exempted are persons who are employed by the race track.

All children under age 12 are prohibited.

Violation of the ordinance carries a violation of up to $100 fine or 90 day jail sentences.

Council purposely adopted an ordinance which also covers the track parking lot area because, in previous years, some parents have left their children in their cars during cold winter nights while they were inside the clubhouse betting on the races.

Kids in motion in motion program

Monday morning Patricia Lyons' kindergarten/first grade class trooped into the Silver Springs Elementary gymnasium where teacher Tom Pallas told them they were going to run 23 and a half times around the gym.

About twelve minutes later the happy six-year-olds had each run a mile.

This unheard-of accomplishment in most school districts is commonplace in Northville, the official state demonstration site for the Movement Education Program (see related story.)

Inbetween shouts of encouragement to the miniature runners, Movement Education Project Director Linda Kowalczyk explained how gym here differs from traditional physical education. The philosophy is that if children can be taught good physical fitness habits at a young age they will keep them for life.

"We want children to become aware of their bodies and listen to them," she said. "We want them to be able to carry this on for life."

On Monday, Silver Springs was testing the six-year-olds on the President's physical fitness test even though the official test does not begin until third grade.

The movement education approach is used in all grades at Silver Springs and in many grades at Amerman and Moraine.

Movement education ties in with fitness, nutrition and attitudes toward competitive and leisure sports, Kowalczyk said. It differs from regular gym classes in several ways.

First, students here meet at least three times a week for 25 to 30-minute periods. Tom Pallas works at Silver Springs with the classroom teacher and both of them teach parts of the motion education class.

Second, students are evaluated throughout their school years. In the movement education program students work to accomplish minimum objectives for their age brackets.

Third, children are taught to compete with themselves rather than each other.

"We emphasize personal potential. Everyone works at his or her own pace," Kowalczyk said. "We want kids to push themselves to do their best, not be pushed by someone else. Too much competition at an early age is not for the benefit of children," she said.

Kowalczyk said that movement education is geared toward teaching students not just how to play games, but how to do the basic skills involved in the games.

"All students will have success during some part of the movement lesson because the goals are personal...the movement classroom provides an atmosphere which promotes a feeling of freedom to create and try out one's own solutions without fear of being a loser," project literature states.

The movement education program began in Northville in 1976.

Movement education was implemented last year at Plymouth's Smith Elementary and Hulsing Elementary.

When researchers compared the physical accomplishments of students in these two schools with accomplishments of a control group of students at another Plymouth elementary school, the results were dramatic, Kowalczyk said.

Seventy-two percent of the students in all grades at Smith and Hulsing could run one mile in the allotted time (ten minutes for grades three through six.) Only 14 percent of the students at the control school could run the mile in the allotted time.

Results for the standing long-jump, shuttle run, bent-knee sit-ups and pull-ups were equally significant.

Further, there is some evidence that improved physical fitness skills lead to improved learning.

When 300 Canadian children who had one hour of physical activity per day were compared over six years with 300 children in a conventional once-a-week 40-minute gym session, researchers found that not only did the exercising children outdo their peers by ten percent in physical ability but that the physical superior children had better grades in academic subjects.

The objectives in the movement education program are broad. Kowalczyk cited a list of objectives used in the movement education program.

By the end of first grade all students should be able to walk, run, skip, gallop, hop, jump and land with proper weight absorption, demonstrate stretching, curling, swinging of various body parts and demonstrate turning and balance.

They should be able to toss a bean bag underhanded ten feet to a partner and catch it. They should be able to toss, and bounce and roll a ball to a partner. They should explore the game of soccer, participating in lead-up soccer games. They should be able to dribble a ball, move in rhythm, roll in patterns and be able to climb and swing and hang on a rope.

By the end of third grade the learner should be able to jump rope, throw a ball or beanbag overhand, catch a ball or beanbag while running, throw a ball to a moving partner, dribble a basketball while moving and perform basic square dance and folk dance steps.

They should be able to execute a lay-up, make one of five free throws, participate in basketball leadup games, stop a soccer ball and participate in training for long-distance running.

All of these skills, however, must be taught in a way which meets the developmental needs of each child. "The object is to present experiences in a variety of game settings in keeping with the developmental needs of children," Kowalczyk's literature said.

Kowalczyk emphasized that participation and attempts are emphasized, rather than winning.

"In a competitive society our star athletes are the heroes. But the emphasis should be on participating," she said.

Most of all, she said traditional gym has made much physical activity a punishment. "Gym teachers say, well you are late to school so you have to run around the school building three times. Running should be a reward, not a punishment."

By the 20th lap around the Silver Springs gymnasium these six-year-old students from Pat Lyons' kindergarten/first grade class were weary but most went on to complete the 23 and a half laps which totaled a mile. The early stress on physical fitness is part of the Northville motion education program.

School named model site for program

Northville has won a federal grant and been designated as an official demonstration site for its "movement education" program at Silver Springs Elementary.

The district will receive between $70,000 to $80,000 in state money for the physical education program, Director of Instruction Nancy Soper told the Northville Board of Education Monday, October 8.

"We are more convinced than ever that the motion education program is paying off in the elementary school," Soper said. "The test results here showed that youngsters in the experimental schools have increased physical and mental alertness," she said.

The motion education program teaches children physical education as a natural part of curriculum, Soper explained.

"It is a lifelong learning program, so children, when they become adults, do not have to be worried about mental and physical fitness. We teach personal responsibility for one's own health to prevent disease," Soper said.

Gym teachers Karen Turner and Mary Minor both received commendations from the Michigan Council on Physical Fitness and Health "Project Fitness Phase II", which concentrated on means of monitoring physical fitness levels of students.

Kiwanis Sale's Saturday

Pumpkins supplied by one of the farmers at the Farmers' Market here will be sold Saturday by the Northville Kiwanis Club as part of that organization's annual campaign to raise monies for the Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. Kiwanians will sell the pumpkins door-to-door and, if any remain, in the parking lot of Arbor Drugs near Dunlap and Center. "We'll be asking for larger donations for our pumpkins this year but they'll be bigger and better, too," said Kiwanis Chairman Russell Kelly. Hefting some of the pumpkins at the market here is Melissa Millgard, 2.

GREEN OAK — The Green Oak Township Hall was the target of an incendiary device recently. Fred Muller, chief investigator for the Livingston Fire Investigators, said that gasoline in a glass container was used in the torching. Saving the township hall from fire destruction were three young Novi men who were driving past the township hall and noticed the flames.

BRIGHTON — With a countdown running on the 1,000 PE's (population equivalents) left in the city sewage plant capacity, the Brighton City Council has wrestled for the first time with an industrial site plan under the new sewer allocation ordinance.

SOUTH LYON — Cost of the city's new $9 million wastewater treatment plant, and proposed water delivery system, could raise South Lyon residents' water bills to about $86 every quarter.

WHIMORE LAKE — The 1979-80 budget of $1.96 million, up nearly $200,000, has been approved by the board of education here.

SOUTH LYON — It has been calculated that the South Lyon school bus fleet will travel some 275,000 miles this year in transporting 3,200 students to and from school.

NOVI — Freshmen at Novi High School have told one school board member they are concerned about marijuana smoking in their school and other students have complained of problems at the middle school.

NOVI — School board members have taken their first look at the proposed 1979-80 budget — presently pegged at $7.3 million, an increase of about $1.3 million.

NOVI — A rash of malicious destruction of property at Lake Shore Park has caused police here to step up their patrols of the area.

WALLED LAKE — Officials are fuming here because the mayor cancelled a meeting when a quorum of the council did not show up within three to 10 minutes (depending on whose watch was used) of the 8 p.m. start.

COMMERCE — The Commerce

Woods Kmart department store will open November 1.

WALLED LAKE — The proposed contract between the city and the city manager should be delayed, Mayor Gaspare LaMarca contends, because too many questions about it remain unanswered.

NOVI — A rezoning request that would have paved the way for development of three-story garden apartments on the northwest corner of Twelve Mile and Meadowbrook has been recommended for denial by the planning board here.

NOVI — A housing shortage, average home prices of more than $100,000 and continued development in the gaps between presently built up areas are being predicted for southeast Michigan in the 1980s by the chairperson of the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Board of Realtors.

News Briefs

NORTHVILLE senior citizens who have not yet received their ID cards for discounts, under the program sponsored by the Northville Kiwanis Club, are encouraged to attend the next photographic session slated Wednesday, October 31 at Cooke Junior High School. According to Kiwanian John Steimel, two photographic sessions are slated that day — from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

SCRATCH that bump on North Rogers closest to Dunlap, city council ordered this week. The other speed bumps, however, are to remain. Council acted because it concluded the southernmost bump was unnecessary and, indeed, was creating a nuisance for adjacent homeowners as claimed.

STREET PARKING is to be prohibited on the north and south sides of Rayson from Hutton to Horton; and on the east and west sides of Horton from Rayson to Lake. Council ordered the traffic control order because of the unsafe conditions caused by curbside parking in the area.

Disabilities is topic

Gary Hessler, Ph.D., will be the guest speaker at the second meeting of the Plymouth, Canton, Northville chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities.

The meeting is to be held Thursday, October 18 at the Pioneer Middle School cafeteria at 46801 West Ann Arbor Road at 7:30 p.m.

(Normally meetings of the chapter are held on Wednesday).

Dr. Hessler has been in-involved with special education since 1965 and has served both as a teacher and teacher consultant for the emotionally disturbed and learning disabled. He is presently with the Macomb Intermediate School District.

He holds both a BA and an MA from Michigan State University, and he also has an educational specialist degree and a Ph.D. in special education leadership from Wayne State University.

In his discussion before the chapter and its guests, Dr. Hessler will speak about the areas that should be evaluated to determine whether or not a student is experiencing a learning disability. Specific tests and what their scores indicated will be explained.

All meetings of the chapter are free and open to the public. Persons with specific questions concerning learning disabilities are invited to discuss them with parent advisors following each meeting.

Both Minor and Turner participated voluntarily in the program. They monitored students at Silver Springs and took the results (without children's names) to Lansing where they presented it to the council.

As a demonstration site, Silver Springs will be visited this year by many other school districts who are examining this type of monitored physical fitness program, Soper said.

Board of Education Trustee Charles Peltz commended the program but called for similar programs in the junior high and high school level.

"They need the same type of physical programs at those age levels," he said.

Soper said they are attempting to initiate similar type programs in the high school and junior high which would stress the total health concept.

Linda Kowalczyk is the director of the motion education program.

Park offers beekeeping

A "Beekeeping Course" will be offered several consecutive Saturdays at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near New Hudson starting October 13 thru November 17 from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. (No class will be held on Saturday, November 10).

Topics of discussion include the life history of the honeybee, beekeeping equipment, seasonal management practices and bee diseases.

There is a $5.00 registration fee required and payable at the first Saturday session. Advance registration is required.

Vehicle entry permits are required (Annual: regular — $7, senior citizen — $2 or Daily — $2).

For information, registration contact the Nature Center at Kensington Metropark — Phone 685-1561 (Milford).

GOOD TIME FOR WINE
by Jim Roth

In some states, pharmacies are allowed to carry a supply of wine and other liquors. This is a hold-over from the times when alcohol was really the best only pain killer we had. Wine itself has been used for centuries to help people escape from pain whether physical or metaphysical. Many religions did, and still do, use wine as one of their sacraments. Nowadays, we have more sophisticated ways of dealing with the pain of disease, but wine sure helps to relax us and even out our days.

Wine makes a fine hostess gift and can turn any meal into a festive occasion. To be sure you have a wide selection for your choice come to us at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. You can even make us a last minute stop, for we have champagne and wine chilled. Open Mon. thru Sat. 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sun. Noon-6 p.m.

'Half mast' policy approved by council

When and for whom should the city hall flag be lowered to half mast?

That question was answered this week with the adoption by the Northville City Council of an official policy proposed by Councilman Wallace Nichols.

The uncertainties that have arisen in past years, according to Nichols, led to discussion concerning a "fitting final honor to be paid certain civic figures upon their demise."

Out of those discussions came Nichols' recommendation, which was unanimously approved. The policy:

HOW/WHEN

A. Under ordinary circumstances the city hall flag would be flown at half mast during the day of the final funeral services for the city servant being so honored.

B. If, under extraordinary circumstances, it should be determined that a longer period of mourning (flag at half mast) might be appropriate, such action could be effected by an affirmative majority poll vote of the city council, such vote to be subsequently recorded officially by the city clerk.

WHO

A. Those to be honored officially shall be the elected, past and present, members of the city council, mayor and the original city charter commission members.

B. Others to be so honored shall be those, past and present, appointed to fill the administrative offices of city manager, clerk, treasurer, assessor, attorney, engineer, police chief, and fire chief, in such specific capabilities or as may be combined by action of the council.

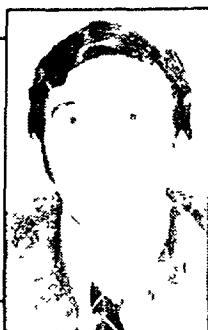

C. Further, such honor may be bestowed upon any other individual who has served the City of Northville in an outstanding and dedicated manner, such action to be determined by an affirmative majority poll vote of the city council, such vote to be subsequently recorded officially by the city clerk.

OTHER

A. Consideration should be given to the extension of such above honors to the judges of the 35th District Court.

B. The implementation of the above honorary procedure should be made retroactive to December 19, 1955.

C. It should also be provided that should such a set of circumstances prevail that would be grounds for denial of such an honor to an otherwise eligible person, such denial can be effected by a poll vote as described above.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

Senate Bill 105—commonly known as the Consumers Intervenor Bill—has been referred to the Senate Appropriations Committee on which I serve. It was sent there after having been reported out of the Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs Committee. Speculation is that the measure was referred to the Appropriations Committee as a means of quietly killing a controversial piece of legislation.

The bill would automatically add 2 cents per month to every utility customer's bill. The money, generated from this unnecessary tax would then be used to fund certain non-profit consumer organizations, units of government or the Attorney General's office to intervene in utility rate hike requests and other litigation, presumably on the residential utility customers' behalf.

In my opinion, it is nothing more than a hidden tax which provides government spenders with another means of extracting more money under the guise of "consumer protection" legislation.

Non-profit groups such as PIRGIM and Michigan Citizens Lobby already receive $90,000 through federal funds provided for intervenor groups. In addition, the Attorney General's office receives $110,000 in federal funds and an additional $250,000 from state appropriations for his Special Litigation Division. This amounts to $450,000 which taxpayers are now providing to public intervenors.

Add to that what appears to be an insignificant 2 cents tax per utility bill and public intervenor coffers would be swelled annually by a whopping $1.5 to $2 million of utility customers' money for the purpose of funding other non-professional representation for consumers.

Michigan Bell... people who enjoy serving people.

If you have children at home would they know who to call in case of a fire accident or sudden illness? Be sure you have listed near your phone the numbers of your doctor, hospital, poison control, police, fire department and other emergency numbers. Show your children how to find those numbers, how to dial them (if they don't already know) how to call the operator, let them know if 911 can be dialed for fire, medical or police help in your area. Write down your home address near these numbers, too, so your children or your baby-sitter can give it to people who need to find your home in a hurry. (But for safety's sake, you should instruct them not to give your address or other information to strangers on the phone.) Your telephone can be a lifesaving help in an emergency. He takes pride in being old fashioned optometrist

Sitting in an old fashioned office next to an old fashioned examination room, Dr. Stuart F. Campbell looks up from his old fashioned desk, smiles and says softly, "I'm an old fashioned optometrist."

He is indeed old fashioned...and mighty proud of it. Bearing down on his 70th birthday, the man who has provided eyeglasses for the community longer than anyone else has absolutely no intention of packing up his practice or trading in his tools for "modern stuff."

"I love it (optometry), and besides I feel an obligation to the people who have been coming to me all these years."

Visiting his office is like walking into one of the shops at Greenfield Village museum. The sight and sound and even the smell are of the past.

It is a deliberately nostalgic setting. This is the old office of the late Dr. Linwood W. Snow, one of Michigan's last homeopathic physicians. The wicker chairs and couch, the linoleum floors, even wall decorations have been preserved.

"Oldtimers come in here and tell me they recognize Dr. Snow's old furniture. I've kept it purposely."

Born into a family of immigrants from Scotland in Detroit late in the 19th Century, Dr. Campbell was the oldest of two sons and two daughters who grew up in the Highland Park area. An honor student, who was too small and light for sports, Stuart Campbell got his kicks out of studies.

Although his father had very little formal education, he spent a liberal part of his income from a stone-cutting trade for good books and good music for his children. "As long as I can remember books and music were an important part of our family."

Not only was Stuart provided formal music lessons (piano), he and his brother and sisters were never without some of the latest phonograph records and sheet music.

It was during high school that he grew to admire a family friend — an optometrist by the name of James R. Connolly. Campbell was so impressed by Connolly's professionalism and by his profession that by the time he was graduated he had decided to become an optometrist.

Following his graduation from the Pennsylvania College of Optometry in 1931, Stuart Campbell joined Dr. Connolly's practice in downtown Detroit.

Given the Depression economy, however, it wasn't a particularly busy nor lucrative practice. To supplement his income, Dr. Campbell took care of some of the people in Connolly's Industrial Eyesight Bureau (IEB) — a private agency that provided screening, examinations, and prescription eyeglasses in cooperation with Detroit industries.

Eventually, Dr. Campbell took over the management of IEB.

Also during the first years of his practice, his work included making visual surveys of public schools in Melvindale and operating the vision clinic for the Children's Aid Society on West Warren Avenue in Detroit.

In collaboration with Dr. J.B. Kirk of Adrian, he helped develop one of the first "continuing education programs" for optometrists. The courses cover four years, one full day each month, and consisted of reviews of basic and new aspects of optometric work, the lecturing being done by professors of the various departments of the College of Optometry in Philadelphia.

Late in the Thirties, his professionalism gaining recognition, Dr. Campbell was selected for membership in the Michigan Academy of Optometry. Two years ago he was made a life member of this organization.

It was also in the late Thirties that Stuart met a young woman who, like himself, was taking piano lessons from a Juilliard-trained instructor. Her name was Wilma L. Austin. In 1939 they were married.

Following their marriage, Wilma gave up her lessons (though not her interest), but Stuart became an aficionado who could no longer be content with modern music. He became a devotee of Beethoven, committing to memory several of Beethoven's sonatas and parts of all 32 of them.

Today the piano remains an important part of his life. Although he rarely plays for even small audiences, Dr. Campbell spends a small part of every day playing and practicing.

He has a piano in a room adjacent to his office ("that's my junk room"), another nearby in a continuous state of being reconditioned ("I'll get to it someday"), and still another at home.

Like the music that his father provided him, books also have continued to play important roles in his life. He collects a large number on a variety of subjects, but mostly reference materials. He beams, "There aren't many subjects that can be discussed that I can't find in one of the books here (at the office) or at home." He is especially proud of his volumes on music and, of course, on optometry.

Although his Detroit practice kept him busy it was never very financially profitable. Whenever he attended a professional seminar somewhere, old college chums would urge him to look elsewhere. "You ought to get yourself a practice somewhere in a small town," they advised.

Eventually, Dr. Campbell began looking, finally picking Northville.

Dr. Stuart Campbell inspects his "old fashioned" tools

Years later he moved into the former Record building, then newly purchased by the late Thomas Carrington. Located on the east side of Center, the building is today occupied by Les Bowden & Associates. "It was a great place... first office I had on the first floor."

Dr. Campbell remained on Center Street until about a decade ago when he purchased the former office of Dr. Snow on Main, just west of Linden.

"Dr. Snow had just retired by then," recalls Dr. Campbell, "and when I went to him about buying the place he was really quite happy to sell the building to me because, I guess, he saw me as an old fashioned practitioner like himself."

Although it is not widely known, Dr. Campbell developed a special optometric service for institutionalized patients in the area. He has serviced children at Hawthorn Center since that institution's establishment here, has provided care for Northville State Hospital patients, and until it was closed his service was regularly used by Maybury Sanatorium.

In 1950 he became interested and qualified in contact lens service, and he offered the first service of its kind in Northville, Plymouth, South Lyon and Livonia.

"Don't mistake my old equipment as junk. It is old but it's as good or better than the modern stuff they're using," he insists.

But it isn't the equipment that leads Dr. Campbell to call himself an old fashioned optometrist. It's the work he does that distinguishes him from others in his profession.

"Today, a lot of doctors specialize, and don't provide a full service. Few will even bother to repair a broken frame, or cut and grind a lens, or provide spare parts. They'll just tell the people it can't be fixed and sell them a new one. And people today aren't as frugal as they once were, they are more apt to accept the idea throwing out the old, bent frame and buying a new one.

"I can't do that; if something can be fixed I feel a responsibility to fix it even if it means for me a $3 repair job instead of a $40 new frame."

Of today's "Quickie" shopping center businesses, Dr. Campbell says, "They aren't optometrists, they're merchandisers. They are more interested in increasing sales than in providing professional care."

Nearing a half-century of optometry, the old fashioned practitioner has no intention of quitting.

"I enjoy it too much," he smiles seriously. "Besides it gives me an opportunity to come down to the office and putts around in my repair shop."

Northville, says Dr. Campbell, is an ideal community in which to operate a business and raise a family. He is particularly delighted with the community's on-going effort to preserve its older buildings.

Both of the Campbells' students were raised here, both having attended Northville schools.

Daughter Janice is now an assistant editor-columnist for The Los Angeles Times, and son Donald is an auto repairman. Their children make Dr. Campbell a proud grandfather of three.

Over the years, the Northville optometrist has been active in several organizations — among them Rotary, Exchange and Optometrist clubs: He remains an active, charter member of the Northville Kiwanis Club.

The Campbells also are active members of the Plymouth Symphony Society and they attend most of the concerts by the symphony.

gestions that he was creating a nuisance. He said he has maintained the water level.

City Councilman Wallace Nichols attacked Bonner for continuing to, defy laws, including among other things illegal parking. Other residents are parking in front of their houses, Bonner replied.

Following a verbal exchange with Bonner, Nichols apologized to council for his outburst.

Despite countering arguments of council, Bonner continued to insist that the "non-excavation work" being done on the property is aimed at beautifying the property. He said he could not understand why anyone would have complained.

Some unsightly conditions might continue for a few months, he suggested, until the "slime" removed from the ponds has dried out.

In view of Bonner's past performance, said the mayor, it is doubtful that a desire to beautify the property could be the property owner's intention.

"That's your opinion," replied Bonner.

Since "there is no excavation going on" no permit is necessary, Bonner argued.

Nevertheless, council directed the city attorney to inspect the "violations" and to recommend appropriate legal steps.

Portraits offered by NHS Student Congress for $5

You can have your family's portrait taken for only $5 at Northville High School's "Personalized Family Portrait" session November 3.

The NHS student congress has contracted with a professional photographer to take the portraits. Each person or family photographed will get a selection of proofs, and an 8 x 10 portrait, regularly $25.

All portraits will be handcropped and printed on double-weight Kodak paper with a special linen finish.

Pictures will be taken November 3 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the high school. Interested persons may call Tami at 348-9845 or Susan 349-0200 for an appointment.

Repair of eyeglasses is still part of Dr. Campbell's optometric practice here in Northville

Geake introduces two parking fines bills

State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) has introduced two bills designed to improve the collection of local parking violations.

"Many communities in our state have been plagued by scofflaws who ignore or refuse to pay parking tickets," said Geake. "These two bills I have introduced are designed to make it easier for local communities to collect parking fines."

Specifically, one bill would provide for a default judgment and suspension of a driver's license for a violator's failure to appear in traffic court.

The second bill is designed to solve the problem of vehicle owners who claim they were not driving their vehicle at the time the ticket was issued and have no idea who was. To remedy this problem, Senator Geake's proposal creates a "conclusive" presumption that whoever the vehicle is registered to is responsible for where and when the vehicle is parked during the time of violation is to have occurred.

"I introduced these bills at the urging of the Plymouth City Parking Commission," explained Geake. "Plymouth like many other communities in Michigan is plagued by violators who refuse to pay their parking tickets, and I think it's about time they were forced to face up to their financial responsibilities in this regard."

Senior citizens to see films

First of a series of films for senior citizens will be shown Thursday afternoon at Allen Terrace, 401 High.

The 2 p.m. film is one of a continuing series of programs sponsored by the Northville Public Library.

Normally, films of this kind have been shown at the library, but officials explained that they have been shifted to the Allen Terrace activities room to be closer to the senior citizens.

Films are to be showed the third Thursday of each month.

Persons wishing to learn more about the program may call Melanie Robinson at the library at 349-3020.

Trustee blasts 'sewer crunch' letter to DNR

"Our own township engineer proved that there is already over three or four cubic feet per second (cfs) over what the bottleneck between Northville and Plymouth is built to handle," Thomson said.

Trustee James Nowka, who originally suggested the idea of sending a letter to the DNR, supported Thomson's ac-

"I get so annoyed about this thing. Bill Mosher has flip-flopped about this thing so much," he said.

"I am delighted that you sent the letter. I don't think it is going to have any affect on anybody because it is a little too bland as far as the way I would write it," he added. "It does indicate that we have an interest. I feel comfortable with this."

"We feel that there is a problem so let's bring it out in the open and let someone who is in a proper position make a decision," he concluded.

Trustees Lee Holland and David Mitchell supported Nowka's statements of praise for Thomson's action.

"I agree," said Holland. "I see no harm in sending the letter. I think it is a good idea to bring it out in the open."

The main problem of sewer capacity centers on a 24-inch line from Seven Mile to Plymouth. All experts have agreed that it cannot accommodate development much longer in the township, the city of Northville and Novi.

Mosher has stated that the only reason the interceptor does not overflow in the Rouge River regularly is because the institutions in the area are not using all the capacity that they own.

The line was built to handle 11 cfs and (including the institutions' allocations) some 16 cfs already has been allocated for it.

Four get top award

Four veteran scouting volunteers received the coveted Silver Beaver Award at Gemini District's annual recognition dinner held last night at Schoolcraft College.

The recipients are: Eva Marie Blanchard of Livonia, Joseph Stanley Jakubiec of Detroit, John D. Polson of Redford, and James P. Sharpe of Redford.

Weather flunks

NHS trip gets sterling marks

"The trip gets an A-plus, the weather gets an E."

That evaluation by Northville High School student Mike Settles about summed up the feelings of most of the 24 students who went up to northern lower Michigan on a conservation trip last weekend.

The students are part of teacher Ron Meteyer's conservation class at NHS. This is the 13th year Meteyer has taken students up to Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See in Iosca County for a three-day trip. Unfortunately this year the weather did not have much to offer.

The group left Sunday, October 7 in the rain and returned October 9 in the rain. Somehow over the weekend, though, they managed to visit the wildlife preserve there, see a Kirkland Warbler preservation, Largo Springs, the sand dunes at Tawas and the Tawas lighthouse. They also saw the salmon-snagging fishermen on the Au Sable River, drank spring water, and visited a miniature forest.

In addition, the students accomplished a conservation project by sawing down some trees with old-fashioned hand saws and constructing part of an amphitheatre in the camp.

The boys and girls stayed in lodges and did their cooking in turns outside, Meteyer said.

"I really like studying nature instead of just looking at it," said Lisa Moulds on her written evaluation of the trip. "Besides being freezing and tired it was fun...the trip made me feel more healthy."

High points of the trip for Karen Hauff were hearing about the Kirkland Warbler (now near extinction), seeing the sand dunes, witnessing the salmon snagging and becoming aware of its legality "while thoroughly disagreeing with the procedure." Low points for her were the rain, snow, and "charcoal-broiled pancakes."

Students liked sipping water straight out of a stream, using the saws to build the amphitheatre and learning to bond together in a group, their evaluations said.

They wished the trip were longer and in a warmer time of year. Some wanted

FM radio in the two vans on the way up north so they wouldn't have to listen to Meteyer's favorite AM country station.

The trip cost the students $22 each with the rest of the money (about $350) supplied by the school district for part of the van rental.

Only students who are juniors or seniors with a "B" or better average can take the conservation class.

"I learned many things about nature I thought I already knew all about," said Jenny Dawson in praise of the trip.

"Although I had been to that particular area before I never really knew there was so much to learn from it," said Lorne Demrose.

"From clearing a small forested area, to examining those cleared by industry, we were able to see the safety and problems involved as man changes the environment," said another student. "The most amazing part of the trip was being able to actually sample clean, clear stream water."

Meteyer said if the district continues to put up the van money he'll be taking another conservation group next year, for the 14th time. "You can't study forests and wildlife in the classroom," Meteyer emphasized.

FISH seeks emergency volunteers

Search is underway for volunteers for the Northville-Novl FISH, an organization of concerned residents ready to help neighbors in need.

Of special need at the present time are volunteer drivers for both local and long distance travel. For example, drivers are needed to drive persons to doctors' offices, to pick up prescriptions, and for emergency runs.

According to Judy LaManna of FISH, volunteers are not asked to help more than once a month; volunteers can select the type of assistance they'll give; and experienced back-up help is always available.

Last year more than 400 calls for help were answered by FISH. These included calls for temporary transportation, food, shelter, clothing, child care, for visits to elderly and for handyman tasks.

Persons willing to volunteer some of their time are asked to call 349-4350.

Meanwhile a coffee program is planned at King's Mill Clubhouse in Northville on November 11 from 2-4 p.m. to acquaint area residents with the work of FISH.

NVSH taking winter coats

Because of overcrowded conditions at the Northville State Hospital Open Door Clothes Closet, only men's winter coats and shoes are being accepted at this time, officials announced this week. Persons with donations should drop them off at the switchboard desk.

Sampling of cool, spring water was among the high points for students on the conservation class trip last week in Oscoda county.

by residential consumers, seems to indicate that publicly funded intervenors have not had much success in holding down or reducing utility rates. There are presently five intervenor groups in Michigan. In the past ten years intervenors were successful in reducing a rate hike request only once. So why provide more money for more groups to duplicate efforts which have produced little success?

The fact of the matter is that utility rate payers would actually be "double-dipped" by passage of Senate Bill 105. They will be "double-dipped" because in addition to the 2 cents tax on their utility bills, consumers will end up paying more for their gas, electricity, and telephone service because of increased financial costs to utility companies. The companies will have to provide additional bookkeeping and administrative personnel to separate out the monies collected for the intervenor fund and the utility rates plus the added cost of processing and mailing out cards to customers for obtaining a refund of the 2 cents tax.

This can only result in those costs being passed on to the customer in the form of higher utility rates.

A further argument against passage of Senate Bill 105 is the fact that a large majority of the average residential gas and/or electrical bills in Michigan are controlled by policies set down by the federal government. Any efforts by public intervenors at the state level would have little if any impact on the "big bureaucracy" in Washington.

The root problem in this whole debate is who pays the utility bills of those customers who honestly cannot afford the cost, but require the service?

Antique car

buffs meet

A dozen families, all antique car buffs, enjoyed a mystery trip through Northville Sunday and a dinner at a Northville home.

The families, all friends, from Northville, Plymouth and Ann Arbor, gather informally two or three times a year to enjoy shared outings in their antique cars.

"We are not part of a formal organization, just some friends who like to get together socially and to enjoy antique cars," explained Mrs. David Field of Northville at whose Six Mile home the dinner was held.

Assisting the Fields in arranging the outing and dinner was George Schaffer of Plymouth.

Cigarette blamed

Northville firefighters spent over an hour fighting a blaze at the office of Shafqat Ali, M.D., 115 East Dunlap October 12. Fire Chief James Allen said the main damage was in the reception room located in the front of the building, but that there was smoke damage to other parts of the building. The office was closed at the time of the fire. No one was injured. Allen said the fire was probably started by someone throwing a cigarette in the waste basket which ignited some paper in the container.

MACLD holds display

To emphasize that October is dedicated to increased public awareness of learning disabilities, the Plymouth, Canton, Northville chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities (MACLD) has planned a special display.

It is in the foyer of the Dunning-Hough Library in Plymouth. Programs and general information are available.

The chapter asks the public to try to learn more about children with hidden handicaps, pointing out that such children essentially are normal in all aspects except that learning performance does not measure up to capabilities as tested by schools.

In exchange program

Rotary leaders switch places

Elroy Ellison, president of the Northville Rotary Club, served as acting president of the Novi club last week.

It was all part of the Rotary presidents' exchange program. Last month Gerald Kratz, president of the Novi Club, was acting president at a Northville meeting of Rotary.

Kratz, who is superintendent of the Novi School District, introduced two school personnel who presented a program on nutrition.

The guest speakers were Reta Traynor, nutrition education project director for Novi schools, and Yvonne Stephens, Northville food service director.

At a meeting here last week, Dr. Barbara Campbell, assistant principal of Northville High School, was a guest and she presented Tom Chilenko as junior Rotarian of the month. He will be a guest for the month, with a new junior Rotarian being selected for the month of November.

A committee has been appointed to consider the possibility of erecting a skating rink for the community. Paul Folino is serving as the committee's chairman.

Possibility that the club may sponsor a "Boat" family from Southeast Asia is being explored for final action soon. Rotarian Charles Smith has offered his home for such a family with no more than two children.

Another committee has been appointed to develop plans for erection of a flowing water fountain, with colored lights, in or near the business district. Hopes are to have benches around the fountain.

Meanwhile plans are progressing for support of the high school band in a campaign to raise funds for new uniforms.

Mayor Vernon called the meeting to order at 8:00 PM.
ROLL CALL:
Present: Vernon, DeRusha, Gardner, Johnston, Nickols
MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETINGS
Minutes of the September 17, 1979 meeting were approved with the following change:
Page 5, 5th paragraph, Motion Carried Unanimously should come ahead of the 4th paragraph.

MINUTES OF BOARDS & COMMISSIONS
The following minutes were placed on file:
Northville Planning Commission Minutes, September 18, 1979; Board of Zoning Appeals, August 1, 1979; Northville Historic District Commission, July 24, 1979; Northville Library Advisory Commission, August 11, 1979, August 18, 1979; Northville Library Advisory Commission, Special Meeting August 18, 1979, August 28, 1979, Northville Downtown Development Authority Minutes, July 12, August 14, August 28, 1979.

APPROVAL OF BILLS:

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Johnston to approve the following bills: GENERAL FUND $85,485.31; MAJOR STREET FUND, 12,570.15; LOCAL STREET FUND, 738.52; EQUIPMENT FUND, 15,422.03; WATER FUND, 28,858.39; PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT FUND, 23,551.10; TRUST & AGENCY FUND, 409,821.65; A.T. OPERATING FUND, 4,044.75; CONSTRUCTION FUND, 185,087.71; PAYROLL FUND, 8,892.94; NORTHVILLE RECREATIONAL FUND, 10,929.85.

Motion Carried Unanimously.
COMMUNICATIONS:
A Two complimentary communications regarding Allen Terrace were received, one from Representative Jack Kirksey and one from Barbara O'Brien, Fountain Committee Chairperson, Northville Branch of the WNFGA. b. Communication from the Wayne County Board of Public Works re Amendment Request Local Facility Planning & SSES — The City Manager mentioned the EPA reviews the Plan and asks for amendments, the plan then gets resubmitted. c. Wayne County Department of Substance Abuse Services — for information only. d. Letter of acceptance of an appointment to the Beautification Commission from Elroy Ellison.

e. Resolution from the City of Trenton opposing adoption of the Alternate Plan F of the Final Environmental Impact Statement for the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System since the cost estimates do not provide for reimbursement to the City of Trenton for either the physical cost of disassembling the existing Trenton Treatment Plant nor for the City's investment in said plant.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to adopt a resolution in support of the City of Trenton's resolution opposing Alternate Plan F.

Motion Carried Unanimously. f. Resolution from the City of Birmingham expressing deep concern regarding the financial impact of Senate Bill 7, which would amend Act 345 to provide automatic cost of living adjustments for persons receiving a pension under that system.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to adopt a resolution of the City of Birmingham's Resolution and to send copies to Governor Milliken, our Senators and Representatives and surrounding areas.

Motion Carried Unanimously. g. Communication from Governor Milliken re our Resolution on the Wayne County Reorganization. h. Oakland County Road Commissioners re 8-Mile Taft Road school zone protection problem in answer to Mayor Vernon's letter of September 10, 1979 which called attention to 8-Mile Road and the four schools in the immediate area. It was noted that children crossing 8-Mile are unprotected by a reduced speed limit, traffic signal or a flashing warning light.

Mayor Vernon would write another letter reminding the County that the City still has a serious problem and hope to get more than a referral to another department for study. i. Resolution from the City of Birmingham opposing HB 4834 which requires that auxiliary police officers at all times work "under the direct supervision of a full time peace officer".

Communication from the Police Department in support of the Birmingham Resolution. Motion by Councilman Nichols supported by Councilman DeRusha to adopt a resolution opposing HB 4834 and send copies to our Senators, Representatives and surrounding areas.

Motion Carried Unanimously. COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS:

None. PUBLIC HEARING — COSTA'S OLD MILL PROJECT:
The City Clerk read the Notice of Public Hearing as published. Mayor Vernon opened the Public Hearing and asked for any comments, there being none, he closed the Public Hearing and opened it for Council discussion. Mayor Vernon mentioned this was another step which is required by law.

Motion by Councilman Nichols supported by Councilman DeRusha to adopt a resolution approving the Project Plan of Costa's Old Mill Project as submitted and all other resolutions and parts of resolutions, if they conflict with the provisions of this resolution, are hereby rescinded.

Motion Carried Unanimously. PUBLIC HEARING — AMENDMENT TO THE UNIFORM CODE FOR MICHIGAN CITIES, TOWNSHIPS, AND VILLAGES:
The City Clerk read the Notice of Public Hearing as published. Mayor Vernon opened the Public Hearing and asked for any comments, there being none, he closed the Public Hearing and opened it for Council discussion.

Mayor Vernon explained this was simply a corrective measure. Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to adopt an Ordinance to Amend the Uniform Code for Michigan Cities, Townships, and Villages as follows:

The City of Northville Ordinance: Sec. 8.27 — Overnight Parking — Parking on any public street, court, alley or parking lot within the City limits is hereby prohibited between the hours of 2:30 a.m. to 7:00 a.m.

Motion Carried Unanimously. SPEED BUMPS:
Two communications re speed bumps, one in favor from Mr. Thomas F. Barry, East Street and one against from Mrs. Joan Iversen, 538 Orchard Drive. Mayor Vernon asked if anyone wished to be heard.

Patterson Hollis, Walnut, stated she did not think the speed bumps on East Street were a very good idea because they were very hard on cars, she felt there had to be a better way of controlling traffic.

Mrs. Nancy Schoutz, 426 East Street, stated she has lived on East Street for quite some time. She pointed out the City is very prompt in cleaning roads in the winter. She also mentioned cars stopping for the stop sign in front of her house either roll through the stop or don't bother to stop at all. She commented on the fact that the Lutheran playground is opposite the stop sign and on one occasion a car did not stop and flipped over in the playground. Mrs. Schoutz stated she did not like the speed bumps but they do help control the speed.

Mrs. Iversen mentioned she has been driving up the hill for the past six years and with the speed bumps it is very difficult. Her main concern is for the children. She discussed the difficulty in driving up East in the winter which would be more difficult because of the bumps. She stated all teenager drivers cannot be lumped together as bad drivers and some adult drivers are as bad or worse. She also discussed stop signs and tickling as possible solutions. Mrs. Iversen discussed the possibility of rumble strips and presented a drawing of same. She stated her husband works for the Road Commission and has for 26 years, and came up with the idea of using rumble strips which sloped on the way going up and will slow traffic on the way down. She mentioned the insurance company gave the okay to the speed bumps if they were marked, so far there are no warning signs. Mrs. Iversen mentioned the number of children who also use East Street to get to the swim club and the difficulty they now have. She considers the speed bumps a traffic hazard on a public road and, if her children are injured or her car is wrecked she will sue the City and urges anyone else to do so.

Mrs. Gertrude Shipley, East Street, stated she has lived there 23 years. She stated the drivers coming from the swim club and the high school are all part of the hazard. She complimented the City in taking care of the hill in the winter. She mentioned most of the problem with the high school kids is not in coming to and going from school but their free hour. Mrs. Shipley mentioned she almost joined the "hereafter" while backing out of her driveway. She stated children have been hurt and a dog was killed.

Mr. Harry Neilligan, 416 East St., mentioned many times he could not get out of his driveway. Mr. Tom Lenaghan, 414 East St., stated he has lost two trees and a portion of the hydrant was hit by cars. He thinks the bumps are the best solution at this time. Traffic is slowed and the bumps are gradually packing down. He mentioned the police have been posted up there in the past and this hasn't worked. Mrs. Lenaghan suggested perhaps ripples would give the driver more control of their car.

Mr. Hugh Foreman, Rogers St., thanked Council for the speed bumps which were installed on Rogers St. He stated people are not racing up and down the hill anymore.

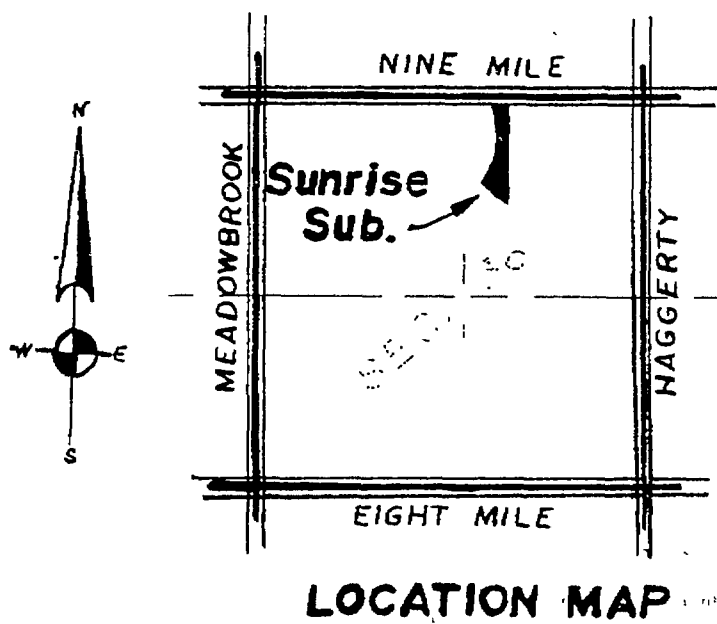

Mrs. Carolann Ayers, Morgan Circle, asked how you would go about getting speed bumps installed on other streets in the City.

Mayor Vernon stated the question would be answered after election in the audience had a chance to speak. Mrs. Iversen commented she has lived in Northville most of her life. Orchard Drive, the street she lives on, is a through street with a lot of traffic from the OLV Church. She does not want speed bumps on that street. Mr. Charles Freydl, 221 N. Rogers, stated he was not aware of the petition for speed bumps on Rogers Street. He asked why speed bumps were put in within 150' of each other. He stated there is no way they can get into their driveway in the winter. He mentioned three families would like the bump at the bottom of Rogers removed. Mayor Vernon stated that personally he does not like speed

Northville Council Minutes

However, the Council has struggled with the speed bumps and is trying to resolve them. Only after much deliberation were speed bumps installed. Mentioned traffic experts agree that stop signs are recommended as a means of controlling speed. The Police Department concurred with the use of the speed bumps.

He related the petition on Rogers Street was for slowing down traffic with stop signs.

Mayor Vernon commented in answer to Mrs. Ayers question, that neither street in town is being considered for speed bumps. The speed bumps are not inflexible, there are some lead up to the high school now. The Police Department has agreed there is a need on East and Rogers and residents on both streets seem to endorse them at this time, there is no intention of putting speed bumps on any other streets. They are being tried on an experimental basis.

Mary Fairhurst, 448 Dubuque, mentioned the north speed bump is just at the bottom of her driveway. She asked why it was faster north, and stated she would rather have stop signs.

The City Attorney stated signs warning of the speed bumps should be posted.

Councilman Johnston stated if the bumps were a hazard he would ask that they be taken out. He mentioned he goes home by way of Rogers Street and has driven over the bumps in four different cars.

The bumps can be tolerated at about 12 to 15 miles per hour. He would like to see the bumps stay until they are given a fair chance to be tested.

Councilman DeRusha thought the ripple or rumble strips may be effective, but he felt the bumps should be given a chance.

Mayor Vernon stated on any traffic control action we get much input. The speed bumps were put in as an experimental basis. Council finds it much easier to take criticism on the bumps than on the speeding. Meeting recessed at 9:10 p.m. Reconvened at 9:30 p.m.

MAPLEWOOD — HILL PARK CLEANUP PROJECT:

Timothy Potter, 45070 Byrnes Drive, requested permission to clean up the park area of dead trees, litter and improve the beauty of the area. He also would use railroad ties to construct steps out into the hill. All the litter would be put in bags for the DPW. Tim is doing this as an Eagle Scout Project. Tim assured Council that no live brush would be removed.

Councilman DeRusha asked about the liability of the City in case of injury.

The City Attorney suggested having a waiver prepared for the parents to sign also an adult would have to be present with the boys.

Ted Mapes, Superintendent, DPW, stated he would be happy to meet and go over the area with the boy scouts.

Tim thought this would be done the second and third week in October.

Motion by Mayor Vernon supported by Councilman DeRusha to accept the project subject to the supervision of Ted Mapes and preparing of waivers by the City Attorney.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

CITIZENS:

Councilman Johnston asked that Mrs. Coolman, 525 Fairbrook be heard at this time, out of agenda order.

Mayor Vernon asked if there were any objections, there were none.

Mrs. Coolman stated she was there on behalf of the tenants of Fairbrook Apartments and is complaining on Mr. Leon Bonner's activities. She mentioned he has open water without any fencing around it. The backyard is full of equipment, i.e., 2 tractors, 3 cars and miscellaneous junk. Mrs. Coolman also mentioned this is getting into the burning season.

Mayor Vernon commented Council's authority is only limited to how it affects an ordinance violation. He asked the City Manager and the Police and Building Departments to check for ordinance violations.

The City Manager stated a report would be ready for the next meeting.

Councilman Johnston mentioned Mr. Bonner is parking his car in the front yard and trucks are parked in the back.

The City Attorney commented he should be ticketed.

Mayor Vernon stated the Police Department and Building Department will look at it.

SIGN REQUEST: IMPACT MARKETING SERVICES:

Mr. Michael Furnari, Sales Marketing Director for Impact Marketing Services requested permits to put up directional signs to their new subdivision on 8-Mile Road, North Ridge. He described the signs as small A frame signs which would be located on Taft, Sheldon (Center and Novi Street). He stated there seems to be some difficulty in getting people beyond Center Street. Mr. Furnari asked to leave the signs out on the weekends. He had placed some before but the Police Department removed them.

The City Manager stated the Police Department also pick up signs placed by our residents that are against the sign ordinance.

Mr. Jerry Mittman, Springfield Drive, stated he had noticed the signs which were placed at the busiest corners in the City and felt they were distracting.

The City Attorney read the sign ordinance pertaining to the signs.

Mr. Furnari asked if he could place one at the Borton Station.

He was told this could not be done.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman DeRusha to deny Mr. Furnari's request for signs.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 638 — REQUEST FOR CAR WASH, CITY LOT:

Cadetettes of Girl Scout Troop No. 638 requested permission to hold a car wash in the municipal parking lot across from the Northville Square and next to the Northville Record. The car wash would be held Saturday, October 13 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. to raise money for their troop.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman Nichols to approve the request of the Cadettes of Girl Scout Troop No. 638 for a car wash to be held October 13 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the municipal parking lot No. 2.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

SEWER TAP-IN REQUEST — 740 SILVER SPRINGS DRIVE:

Communication from Northville Township Water & Sewer Department requesting permission to tap into the sewer for the property at 740 Silver Springs Drive.

Mayor Vernon stated the City is already over capacity at this point, however, if the situation changes in the future this does not mean we will consider others.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to deny the request for the reason that the most recent data provided show the City of Northville sewers are over capacity. The City Manager will send a letter stating the reasons to the Township.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

BIDS:

a. Pile Barn

The following bids were received on October 11 and opened at 11:00 a.m. in the City Hall. J. & J. Pole Building Co., 57325 Grand River, New Hudson — $21,400.00; Wickes Bldg., Box 62, Napoleon, Ohio — $19,524.00; R. B. Schuchard Building Co., 47 Tower Drive, Saline 48176 — $19,524.00.

The DNR No action taken by Boundary Commission — Annexation of lots. Moved and supported to receive and file.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Nichols to publish for Public Hearing for November 5, 1979 to adopt a Sewer Use Ordinance, new Chapter 56.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Industrial Waste Ordinance

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Nichols to publish for Public Hearing for November 5, 1979 to adopt an Industrial Waste Ordinance.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

EMPLOYEE HOSPITALIZATION

As part of the 1979-80 contract negotiations, the police officers, police command officers, and the dpw-clerical employee groups have all agreed to conversion of the City's hospitalization and dental coverage from Blue Cross/Delta to Equitable Life Assurance Co. effective October 1, 1979. This is a substantial improvement in this benefit, i.e., increase in dental coverage including orthodontics, addition of optical benefits and the elimination of various per-item deductibles.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Nichols to authorize the exchange in carriers and ratify this with the AFSCME (DPW-Clerical).

Motion Carried Unanimously.

CITY COUNCIL ELECTION

Petitions have been turned in by the following for the Nov. 5 City Election.

Mayor — Paul R. Vernon

Council — Carolann Ayers, Paul F. Folino, Kevin James Hartshorne, Stanley J. Johnston, Jerome J. Mittman

MILLER PROJECT:

Communication from the City Manager recommending that the Parking Fund purchase the north end of the Miller property the Major Street Fund purchase the Hutton Street right-of-way, and the Downtown Development Project Fund temporarily hold the southwest portion of the property for private redevelopment.

POAM/CITY OF NORTHVILLE CONTRACT REVISIONS

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Nichols to approve the contract ratified by the POAM and the City of Northville between July 1, 1979 and June 30, 1980.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

MISCELLANEOUS

A copy of the testimony given by Mayor Vernon at the Hearing of Applications for 1980 Harness Race Meeting Licenses was in the packet.

Mayor Vernon mentioned he announced at the meeting the Resolution honoring John Carlo by naming the Library addition after him. Mr. Carlo was very honored. Councilman Nichols and the Mayor will present the resolution personally.

The City Attorney stated Margaret Zayl of the Downs asked that an ordinance be introduced to prohibit any child under 12 from being on the Northville Downs property during racing season and all children between 12 and 18 would have to be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Johnston to publish for Public Hearing on October 15 to adopt an ordinance to bar from the Northville Race Track during racing season all children under 12 and all children between 12 and 18 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Communication from Ted Mapes, DPW Superintendent, informing Council that Bruce Jerome of the DPW has been appointed Superintendent of Public Works for the City of South Lyon. Bruce will be much missed.

Mayor Vernon asked the City Manager to thank Bruce on behalf of Council.

Communication from Ted Mapes, expressing concerns about the installation of banners across streets entering the City.

Some of his concerns were: Permits should be secured before installing banners on county roads; high trucks seem to snag the banners; winds flip them over, time involved by men and equipment, unattractiveness.

Discussion on different types of signs followed.

Ted Mapes would come up with a drawing of a sign for the next Council meeting.

FRANCES M. FRANKLIN

Frances M. Franklin of 25300 Lahser Road, Southfield, formerly of Northville, died October 14 at the Lahser Hills Nursing Home in Southfield. Mrs. Franklin, who was 89, had been ill for the past year.

Born June 2, 1890 in Detroit, she was the daughter of Samuel and Tillie (Zollinger) Berman. Her husband, Saul, died March 12, 1938.

Mrs. Franklin had lived in Northville and Detroit most of her life. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Northville.

She is survived by several grandchildren, Mrs. Sharon Marsh of Northville, Richard Thorp of South Lyon, Mrs. Shirley Husband of Taylor, Mrs. Barbara Potter of Dearborn Heights, Harold Falkie of Detroit, and Miss Rose Marie Falkie of Dearborn Heights.

Funeral service was conducted October 16 from Casterline Funeral Home, with the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of the First United Methodist Church officiating.

Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

CATHERINE L. HEATLEY

A long-time resident of Northville, Catherine L. Heatley, died October 13 at McPherson Hospital in Howell.

Ill for the past year, the 79-year-old Mrs. Heatley lived at 304 West Dunlap.

Born May 26, 1900 in Warren, she was the daughter of Felity and Mary (Nayear) De Tavernier. Her husband, Alfred Heatley, Sr., died February 16, 1962.

Mrs. Heatley, who had lived in Northville since 1922, was a member of Our Lady of Victory Church and an honorary member of the Ladies League of Our Lady of Victory Church.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Brooks of Detroit, Mrs. Rita Turnbull of Northville, Mrs. Marian Sonderman of Northville and Mrs. Kathleen Brune of Brighton; two sons, Alfred Heatley, Jr. of Birmingham and Thomas Heatley of Madison Heights; four sisters, Mrs. Irene Soenen of Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, Mrs. Mary Ureel of Port Huron, Mrs. Maude Wilson of St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Emily Rhode of Imlay City; two brothers, Fred De Tavernier of North Branch and Albert De Tavernier of St. Clair Shores; seventeen grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

A wake service was held Monday, October 15 at Casterline Funeral Home, with the funeral service taking place the following day at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. The Reverend Father John O'Callaghan of OLV officiated.

Burial was in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Chelsea.

FRANK KERNOZEK

Frank S. Kernozek, 76, a retired employee of the Ford Valve Plant here, died October 9 at the Wishing Well Manor. He had been ill for the past three years.

Born December 25, 1902 in Lemond, Pennsylvania, he was the son of Joseph and Victoria (Jellöck) Kernozek.

Mr. Kernozek had lived in Northville since 1929. He had worked for the Ford Motor Company for 45 years.

A member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church and the Northville Ford retirees, he is survived by his wife, Irene Lorson Kernozek; a son, Richard Kernozek of Farmington Hills; a granddaughter, Kristin of East Detroit; a sister, Mrs. Pearl Rogowski of Dearborn; and two brothers, the Reverend Father Joseph Kernozek of Dearborn and Victor Kernozek of Warren.

A wake service was held at Casterline Funeral Home on Thursday, October 11, followed the next morning by a funeral service at Our Lady of Victory Church. Officiating was the Reverend Father Ron Turner of OLV.

Burial was in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West, Garden City, Michigan.

Police Blotter

He's found innocent in assault charge

A 12-member jury, October 11 found Charles J. Engelmeyer, 27, of Westland not guilty of felonious assault on a police officer.

The verdict ended a three-day trial at Wayne County Circuit Court in Detroit.

Engelmeyer was arrested July 24 by Northville Township Police following an incident at the Kings Mill Subdivision pool, 18120 Jamestown.

Patrolman Michael Panagiotides was investigating a report of people swimming and partying at the pool at approximately 1 a.m.

When the officer arrived at the scene there were about 12 people in and around the pool, he said.

Patrolman Panagiotides said when he approached the pool area Engelmeyer came toward him and assaulted him with a broken bottle.

Engelmeyer was arrested about an hour later.

A Jamestown Circle home was burglarized sometime between 3 p.m. October 11 and 3:30 p.m. October 12, township police reported.

A small window in the family room was found ajar, police said.

Some $120 was taken from the home including $20 in currency, $20 in silver dollars and $80 in assorted coins.

Police suspect youths in the burglary because only cash was taken from the home, they said.

•Direct Solicitation—Wagner has a committee composed of A. M. Allen, Philip Ogilvie and William Sliger to conduct a campaign for individual contributions. Also working on this project will be Tom Rothermel and Chris Vanderwoor.

Beyond the need for new uniforms Wagner points out that new instruments are needed, maintenance is required for existing instruments and the music library requires updating. The committee is determined that a better system will be devised for keeping uniforms and equipment in better shape.

The Band Boosters have been encouraged by the promise of support from the board of education and an allocation from the Langfield Fund of $2,400 as a start in its drive. Further, there's a promise of up to $9,000 in matching funds from an anonymous donor for the uniforms.

Two was broken into October 11 and two keys to coin boxes were taken, township police reported.

Police said entry was made through the front door. The wire mesh was cut and the frame which secures it to the door was bent. A piece of plexiglass was then knocked out, police said.

There was damage done to a bill changer and police said the burglars had used a crowbar attempting to force a security bar from the door.

The total damage was estimated at $135.

A Lakeside residence was broken into sometime between 3 p.m. October 13 and 1:45 p.m. October 14, township police reported.

A family window and a bedroom window had been broken.

The residents could not find anything missing, police said.

An unknown driver drove a vehicle through the gates at the entrance to Thomson Field on Six Mile west of Beck sometime between October 5 and October 8 causing about $600 worth of damage to the gates, township police reported.

Police have no suspects and the only clue is some paint chips (dark colored) found on the gates.

SPEAKING for The Record BILL SLIGER

Maybe it's paranoia, but it would not be difficult to believe that Northville Township Trustee Bill Zapke has little affection for The Record.

Probably we should have guessed that would be the case when we editorially supported his candidacy last year. We knew where his political support came from; and we knew he would align himself with the township clerk, no great admirer of this newspaper herself.

But we believed (and still do) that Bill Zapke was a bright young man who would think his own way through the special interest conflicts that confront any elected governmental body.

That's why we are so surprised that he seemed to completely blow his cool over the sewer capacity issue . . . that he's so far off base on the facts. In my opinion, at least, he's also dead wrong in his observations concerning charter township. And his comments (in a letter to the editor) relative to the prison also strike me as being off base; and his implication that he called "errors" in The Record to the newspaper's attention (without corrective action) is also without foundation in truth.

In contrast to Zapke's position this newspaper still contends there is a serious problem of capacity in the stretch of sewer between Northville and Plymouth, which serves both the city and township of Northville and a booming portion of the city of Novi.

The contention of the clerk that "they (county) left out the four cfs we rent from Livonia" has no bearing on the problem. But Zapke agreed (with the clerk) that it did. Township Engineer Bill Mosher could explain to them why it does not. Just as I'm sure he would admit that he told this newspaper the sewer in question could eventually "back up" and that, in fact, it probably has already overflowed into the Rouge River.

Zapke takes the figures from a Wayne County DPW report which shows Northville Township using 191.5 percent of its capacity and reduces it to 75 percent by crediting 4 cfs leased from Livonia.

The 4 cfs in Livonia mean nothing. It's what flows through the line from here to Plymouth that matters. And, really, it's unimportant whether the township, city or Novi is pouring affluent into the pipe line — or how much each. It's the capacity of the two-mile-long line that is the issue.

Zapke and the clerk gained strong support in their position that the newspaper was all wet from a developer of homes in the township.

And Zapke's fit over the fact that The Record printed information from the township engineer's "confidential" report expressing his concern over the sewer issue strikes me as strange. What happened to the public's right to know?

Even so, the township subsequently published the substance of Mosher's confidential comments in its official minutes.

Also on Thursday night Zapke voted in favor of adopting a charter township form of government . . . and he listed among the advantages of such government "reduced publishing costs."

I suspect the trustee picked that one out from a summary of advantages of charter townships over "general law" townships (like Northville) listed in the July edition of the Michigan Township News.

Perhaps he interpreted it as being an exercise that could be eliminated under charter township form of government. Actually, publishing of minutes is listed as one of the advantages of charter townships . . . as surprising as that may seem to Trustee Zapke. Michigan Township News Editor Robert R. Robinson commented that the cost of publishing a synopsis of official minutes "is a small amount to pay to keep the public informed."

Maybe Zapke just doesn't like giving the money to The Record. The cost of publishing township minutes in The Record for this entire year will amount to less than $700.

If Zapke is really intent upon saving money for township taxpayers, he might look at the more than $1,400 spent this year to send the clerk to conventions and seminars in Miami, Washington, D.C., Milwaukee, etc.

Further, I don't think the township board should allow either consultants or developers to call the shots on sewer capacity problems. Listen to their advice, yes. But put the facts on the line to those responsible at the state level. Find out exactly what the status of the capacity is. If, indeed, it is adequate, continue normal development. No one wants a ban. But neither should we bury our heads in the sand and hope for the best.

As far as charter township government is concerned, it should be explored. If, after a citizen-committee study it is deemed advisable, the question should be taken to the people for a vote. It should not be shoved down their throats, as advocated by Zapke's vote. Certainly a study would provide the public with enough information to vote wisely.

And finally, while I recognize it is politically prudent to oppose an expanded prison at the DeHoCo site, as suggested by Zapke in his letter to the editor, I question the moral ethics of such a stand.

This community vigorously, and successfully, opposed the prison at the site of the Child Development Center on Sheldon road. And one of the common-sense arguments used at that time (two years ago) was that it was in the middle of the community — in a residential area. And it was pointed out that a prison already existed on Five Mile road. Why abandon it and move into the residential community? People who moved to the community were well aware of the DeHoCo site. But they could never expect a child training center would suddenly be converted to a prison.

So why move and disrupt our community?, the state was asked.

There's no question prison space is needed. It must go somewhere. But not here, says Zapke. Not even in an existing prison facility. Sorry, we've changed the ground rules.

And just maybe the state might change its rules, too, and take another long look at the Child Development Center.

ROBERT DINGELDEY

YES

Through sad experience we have learned that mandating warranties on new homes makes a great deal of sense — not only in Wixom but throughout southeastern Michigan and across the country.

The purchase of a new home is generally the largest investment anyone can make. For many individuals, the purchase of a new home represents a life-long dream.

It's unfortunate that it has become necessary to consider adoption of an ordinance which requires builders to provide warranties on the homes they construct. Although the price of homes in today's inflated market runs anywhere from $60,000 to $100,000, the sad fact of the matter is that the price of the house does not reflect the quality of workmanship.

Reports of homeowners with major complaints about the quality of construction have become commonplace. Although there are many reliable builders in the industry, there also are those builders who do not put together a quality home for consumers to purchase.

Government — responsible government — has an obligation to protect its residents from faulty construction practices. If the only way citizens can be protected from poor construction of homes is through mandating warranties on new homes, then so be it.

When a citizen has to pay high prices for a new home, he or she has a right to expect that the money has been well spent on a quality product. Consumer protection laws are not a new phenomenon. Government should extend the same protection to homeowners as it does to shoppers in the supermarket and drivers of automobiles.

Lillian Spencer
Wixom Mayor

NO

Forcing future home owners to buy insurance to protect themselves from poor building is no answer to the question or problem at hand. To excuse shoddy workmanship through an insurance policy is no solution.

The answer lies in the complete updating of building codes where necessary and the extremely strict enforcement of those codes to insure that the building industry complies. Local government owes all its citizens an adequate inspection program to detect building defects and demand correction prior to allowing occupancy. The builder must comply or face stringent penalties laid down by the local codes and ordinances.

The building department should be adequately staffed to insure complete, constant, and thorough inspections. If the building department, which should be self-sustaining, is inadequately staffed, building permit fees, should be raised to cover increased costs of employing additional inspectors. If loop holes exist in present ordinances, those holes must be "plugged" to force the building industry into "good" acceptable performances. Raising minimum standards of acceptance will force good construction.

It would help if the buyer had some knowledge of his builder's past performance and was somewhat knowledgeable in what to expect from the builder. If this is not to be, then the total burden must fall on building officials armed to the teeth, if necessary, with enforceable ordinances guaranteeing against poor building practices.

An insurance policy procedure does not solve the problem — it is simply a placebo — a mask, to cover a serious, growing problem.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Oh, the incongruity of it all.

The workmen upstairs, above my desk, wore aprons, carried hammers and probably clinched nails in their teeth like ordinary carpenters.

But these modern-day ceiling-nailers, or whatever it is you call people who put up ceilings, also lug around laser beams as nonchalantly as yesterday's workmen hauled around saw-horses.

"Hoffman, come on up and see this," called my boss Bill Sliger. Upstairs in our building workmen were installing a new ceiling. And they were using a laser beam. So help me.

What my disbelieving eyes saw was a tiny light zipping around the top edge of the paneled walls—so rapidly that it created a continuous "lighted line." Using this lighted line as their guide, in the same fashion that I or someone else might use a T-square or a chalk line mark, they attached metal ceiling holders to the wall along the line.

First impression was that the light was penetrating the walls from the opposite side. It was a little like watching a power saw blade slice through the wall from the opposite side.

But the light mark on the walls was coming from a revolving laser "gun" atop a tripod. The tripod, which looks like a surveyor's transit set-up, was located in the exact center of the room.

Between the "transit" and the wall, however, there was no visible light. The light appeared only on the walls.

The laser's purpose, it was explained, is to ensure a perfectly level span of ceiling from wall to wall.

To the Editor:
Our Northville Township Board chopped another page from the chapter on democracy, when they quietly proposed a resolution of intent to approve incorporation to become a charter township, at a recent meeting (October 12). Although the proposal was voted down, taxpayers should be aware of the ominous implications of such a move. If the resolution had been approved, residents would have 60 days to circulate petitions to call for an election on the charter township incorporation. In other words, the burden would be placed upon the people to circulate petitions for the right to vote about such a proposal, and without citizen action the board would automatically, upon its own volition, change our status from a general law township to that of a charter township.

Consequently, without a vote of the people, the board would double our taxation rate from the current 2.5 mills to an automatic 5 mills. What has happened to representative democracy? Why do our board members hide behind a cloak of secrecy? We should be entitled to a public debate about the merits of the charter township proposal.

Actually the board had three choices, when they contemplated the charter township proposal. "The township board may:

- (a) Adopt, by a majority vote, a resolution opposed to incorporation.
- (b) Adopt, by a majority vote, a resolution of intent to approve incorporation and if a petition of disagreement to the intent resolution is filed within 60 days before final passage of the resolution, the electors of the township have the right to a referendum on the incorporation question.
- (c) Adopt, by a majority vote, a resolution to place before the electorate the question of incorporation at the next regular or special election." (MCLA) 42.3a)

Why did the board fail to call for an election to give the voters an opportunity to decide about a charter township?

School policy scored

To the Editor:
I am a junior at Northville High School and I'm writing this letter to call attention to the newly enforced dance policy at our school. I feel it is a highly discriminatory policy and I'd like to see it changed.

While "outsiders" (those not attending Northville High School) are welcome to attend most extracurricular activities, they are denied entrance to school dances. Two exceptions are made—one for homecoming and one for the senior prom. These are only two of many dances throughout the year. An "outsider" may attend these two dances if three signatures are obtained a week in advance.

The reasons given for enforcing this policy, as stated by the school principal, are:

- 1. Difficulty contacting parents of "outsiders" in case of emergency;
- 2. Vandalism resulting from these "outsiders" being allowed attendance.

I feel that this rule is unfair because it excludes residents of Northville, whose parents have chosen to send them to private schools. How can taxpaying residents of Northville be considered "outsiders"? These people are our neighbors!

In addition, there is no documented evidence to support the vandalism claim. Why, then, are "outsiders" allowed to attend sporting events on school grounds? Is there no vandalism at games—only dances?

I have asked that consideration be given to changing this policy. It will be brought up at the Parents Curriculum Advisory Committee meeting on October 24, 1979.

Thank you.

like myself, however, there are a lot more important innovations to be made.

Give us a hammer that never misses the head of a nail, a hand-saw that grips pencil marks, or a self-cleaning paint brush. Or better yet, give us a sure-fire, no-miss stud finder...a laser, if you will, that lights up the studs hiding behind my living room walls.

Oh, my yes. Something to find those little devils that have been dodging my nails for years. Once and for all, I'd like to put to rest this suspicion I've been harboring:

Senator Ross seeks to protect tenants

Senator Doug Ross (D-Oak Park) has announced the beginning of a major legislative campaign to protect apartment tenants from the effects of condominium conversions.

"A growing number of renters, particularly senior citizens, are being driven from their apartments by condominium conversions," Ross declared. "With vacancy rates at an all-time low, too often there are no available, affordable apartments for those who are pushed out," he said.

Ross stated that the first step in his statewide campaign to protect renters is the establishment of a Legislative Task Force on Condominium Conversions. "The senate majority leader has created the task force at my request, which I will chair," Ross reported.

"We will begin holding hearings almost immediately to gather more information about condominium conversions in Michigan and what needs to be done. I am committed to enacting legislation to protect renters in this session of the Legislature." Ross indicated that he would be joined on this task force by Representative William Ryan (D-Detroit), former speaker of the House of Representatives, and Representative Joe Forbes (D-Oak Park), House Majority Floor Leader.

According to Ross, condominium conversions have been rapidly accelerating in Michigan. "Department of Commerce statistics show that over 4,000 units have been scheduled for conversion since July 1, 1978. The former Citizens Lobby director stated, "Most depressing is the increasing pace of conversion. During the first six months of 1979, 33 apartments filed to convert, compared to 11 buildings during the previous six months. Another 31 buildings have filed in just the last three months. I am deeply concerned that this process will greatly reduce the amount of available rental housing at a time when there is already a shortage of such housing."

Ross explained that senior citizens are particularly vulnerable to the effects of condominium conversions because so many lack the funds to purchase their own apartment units or to move to a more expensive apartment.

"A recent study of Department of Treasury data conducted by my office indicates that fully one-third of all seniors who rent in Michigan are paying more than 40 percent of their income in rent," Ross declared. "Anything that would worsen an already intolerable situation demands serious study and public action." Senator Ross indicated that he has made rental housing issues a top priority. In addition to his condominium conversion campaign, he has introduced legislation (S.B. 487) to provide inflation protection for renters paying more than 40 percent of their income in rent, and S.B. 545 to require landlords to pay interest on security deposits. He is also working on plans for the state to help increase the overall supply of moderate priced rental housing through the private market place.

townships were against the charter system since they felt the additional millage was not needed.

"Today, however, as townships grow and the people realize that they need more millage for services (and the legal opinion is to the effect that the levying of any tax in addition to the one mill allowed under a general law in townships is prohibited without a vote of the people) and more people are supporting the charter concept," he concluded.

Members of the board discussed the possibility of going to a township manager or superintendent form of government, which is an option under the charter township system.

There was some confusion, however, as to whether the township could change to a professional manager type of government as a general law township.

"It (a charter township) offers the township the option to go with a manager system under a township superintendent which operates under the same idea as a city manager," Trustee Nowka said. "And I think that this is perhaps the best way to retain extended, continuous effective administration as the population grows."

Treasurer Holland took exception to Nowka's remarks.

"We can go to a professional manager now as a general law township," he said.

Attorney Morgan told the board that the township could adopt the professional manager form without going to a charter township.

"I agree in having a professional manager but not in becoming a charter township," Holland said. "There are two things that bother me. The legal area has not been resolved regarding millage and I don't think the people would go for a charter township. They would not understand it."

The board requested the supervisor to research other townships which have gone to charter and find out how it has worked out for them.

He is to report to the board on his findings at the next regular meeting November 8.

In addition to being able to levy more millage, a charter township would give the township board authority to acquire property for public purposes and to sell, convey or lease the same which is not needed for public purposes along as no tax is needed to be levied to do so.

Omnicom will lease existing power and telephone poles to string its lines. Where utility services are now located underground, Omnicom also will go underground.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, who was asked by council to check out the firm, indicated he found nothing to deter council from granting the non-exclusive franchise.

Represents Northville

Anne Massey will represent Northville at a meeting of Western Wayne Alumnae of the Detroit Metropolitan Delta Zetas.

The group will host Dearborn and East Side alumnae as the film "We, The Women" is shown. Narration is by Mary Tyler Moore.

The program will be at 8 p.m. today at St. Andrew Episcopal Church in Livonia.

Nickie McWhirter speaks here

What's it like to be syndicated columnist?

She describes herself as "divorced, a lousy cook, a fair tennis player and a compulsive reader of everything from books to bread wrappers."

But Nickie McWhirter, besides being all the above, is a talented lady. The columnist for the Detroit Free Press came to talk about her life to the Northville Women's Club Friday, October 5.

Promising to give candid remarks, she talked about newspaper writing, what it is like to be a columnist and about herself.

"If I'm to be inspirational I am eager to hear what I have to say," she said to the audience of about 150 luncheon guests at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

Ms. McWhirter told her audience that she is "whatever you read. I am an ordinary person, mother of three, a housekeeper. ...I have worked all my life since I was 16; I couldn't imagine not working."

She decided young she would rather "earn money doing something I enjoy and hand it to someone who will do the things I don't enjoy."

Though she stayed home when her children were young she went back to work when they reached school age. She began writing for the Detroit Free Press as a reporter in 1963.

She became a columnist in February, 1977.

"A columnist is a different bird," Ms. McWhirter said. "It is one of the highest-prize writing jobs at a newspaper. And it is a very powerful position because of the nature of a column."

Men and women read Ms. McWhirter's column in the Free Press in equal numbers.

As a columnist, she gets to choose her own writing topics.

"Sometimes our readers don't understand that. They ask, 'is that woman permitted to write about serious subjects?'" she said.

Besides getting to pick her own topics she picks her own writing style for the day and is "forced to go somewhere" twice a year to dredge up writing topics, with the Free Press picking up the tab. This summer she went to the Bahamas in Monte Carlo.

But with all the prestige of being a syndicated columnist comes headaches, too.

"You become highly visible. Total strangers come up asking, 'aren't you Nickie McWhirter?'" just when I'm sitting next to Mr. Wonderful. It is flattering but takes some getting used to.

"I write four columns a week. That is a lot of writing. I never have the luxury of being ill. ...I do take vacations every year. But when I return I have a bunch of letters telling me I shouldn't have gone.

"Writing a column is like a theater performance because you are getting an audience response. That response is a great joy." But Ms. McWhirter said she hears from many people asking her for help she is not in the position to give.

"It is difficult for me to say no, but I can't help all those who want help," she said.

The best part of being a columnist, Ms. McWhirter said, is getting to meet interesting and controversial people.

"One day I had lunch with Gloria Steinem and dinner with Claudio Ferreri. And my daughter called me and asked 'what's new, Mom?' and I said, 'Oh, nothing much.'"

Ms. McWhirter relies upon what she calls "the absurdity around us" for column material. "I rely on the absurdity of situations. ...But I never write a column totally to amuse."

She describes herself as a "Type A" personality, a feminist and a needer of laziness.

"I hate laziness, mental or intellectual. I push and rage against people who just accept the ideas and concepts handed to them. And the complacent, those who say they can't do anything, I needle them," she said.

McWhirter admits it is not easy working at a newspaper and having a family.

"In this kind of work you form very strong personal bonds. It is very much like a family. The intensity of reporting does very grave damage to many marriages."

"I've never known a reporter yet who is working on an important story to quit working at 5:30 and go home. It is difficult, because of that, to maintain a normal family relationship."

Ms. McWhirter's children are now grown. She has two twin boys, age 23, who work and a daughter, 24, who is a reporter for the Pontiac Times.

Ms. McWhirter honed her writing and editing skills for 14 years at the Free Press before becoming a columnist and she had only good words for the craft and profession of journalism.

She cited social changes resulting from reporters' investigative reports on problems at the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

She also described a story she did with another reporter on phony marriage counselors which resulted in reform of state regulations for that type of counselor.

"Another thing a reporter does is get to all the places everyone is curious about but nobody wants to go, like Three Mile Island," she said. When the potential nuclear disaster in Pennsylvania hit Free Press editors were bombarded with reporter's requests to go on the assignment.

"Reporters are your eyes and ears. That's our job," she told her audience. "It takes a strong person to do this. Very gutsy and curious. It takes a person who would probably be the town busybody if he weren't a reporter. And someone who is thoughtful and a quick study."

She said, yes, the Free Press is somewhat like the "Lou Grant" television show except that the Free Press is "more noisy, we use worse language and we work a lot harder."

She reminded the audience that a daily newspaper is in many ways a miracle, like a large book being printed every day, each one completely different from the last.

She described a newspaper as a "high public service, separate from, immune to political pressures and government regulation."

Ms. McWhirter will be speaking on another topic in Northville for the Town Hall series November 8.

When Northville Women's Club program chairman Pat Brown (left) arranged to have Nickie McWhirter speak October 5 she contacted Edna Mills (right), a long-time friend of Ms. McWhirter, who flew up from Florida to attend the luncheon.

Sonya Friedman

Urges women to take risks

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

Women of the 1980s must put aside all the real and imagined pains of the past and take charge of their lives. They must learn to stand alone, measure relative rewards and the price of relationships. And they must learn to take risks.

That is what Psychologist Sonya Friedman told women at the keynote address at a management skills workshop at Schoolcraft College last week.

"The successful woman must form a new philosophy and recognize what she has to do to attain it," Friedman said. "But she must also have the flexibility to change and grow."

Women professionals should plan to enter a field that will not be obsolete in ten years. Friedman also warned that women should not be caught up in the "compassion trap."

"Women are expected to nurture and care and protect everyone except ourselves. We say, of course the kids come first, our husband comes first."

More than love, women need respect from others and respect for themselves, Friedman said.

"Romantic love is terrific for an afternoon, not bad for a weekend, but it is terrible for a lifetime," Friedman said.

Romantic love can only stay alive when there is a sense of never being quite certain of the other person, she said. And that sense of insecurity does not breed stability or respect.

"We must give up the concept of Hollywood romance for friendship and respect."

"A person is going to get somewhere by believing that life is worth living. Interestingly enough, when you start acting that way it becomes so."

In the work place women should avoid the "compassion trap" of always putting everyone else before themselves, Friedman said.

Women need to cultivate competency rather than friendship with co-workers, develop strength of character, integrity and learn power so they do not back off

UN Day

LWW to hear arms talk

A dinner meeting observance of United Nations Day is scheduled by The League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, Novi for Wednesday, October 24.

Lillian Genser will discuss arms limitation following a 6:30 p.m. dinner at the China Fair restaurant in Northville Plaza. She is program director for Wayne State University's Center for Peace and Conflict Studies.

The Salt II treaty and the Soviet troop presence in Cuba make the talk particularly timely, said Irving Benson, League international relations director. October 24 is the 34th anniversary of the founding of the UN, he added.

The meeting is open to the public, as are all League functions. For reservations, call Mary Ellen Mc Kercher at 455-4539 or Nancy White at 455-1044.

Tis the Season

Preparations have already begun for the annual Garden Club greens mart to be held November 18 with a workshop in the Mill Race Village held October 8. Olga James, left, is this year's mart chairman. Mary Keese, center, is the new president of the Northville Chapter of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Annie Nichols, right, is vice-president. The women will sell Christmas wreaths and decorations at the greens mart and use the money for club projects.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT ANGUS SMITH III

They exchange vows in Mill Race gazebo

The Mill Race Historical Village gazebo was the setting Saturday, September 29 for the marriage of Ti Brendie Morrison and Robert Angus Smith III.

Their afternoon wedding ceremony was officiated by the Reverend Richard J. Henderson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Morrison of 50995 West Six Mile, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith II of 330 Lake.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's wedding march started from the restored old church building in the village and proceeded to the gazebo which had been decorated by the bride's mother and her two brothers, James II and Ryan.

Recorded wedding music was played on the grounds.

For her wedding, the bride chose a Victorian style, Empire waist gown with a six foot cathedral train made of pure satin and trimmed with four feet of lace. Her triple tiered veil of seven feet, three feet and two feet lengths was attached to a lace cap, topped with a spray of white flowers. Both the gown and the veil were made by the bride's mother.

The bride's bouquet consisted of silk flowers and baby's-breath with pink satin ribbons.

Serving as her sister's maid of honor was Brandie Morrison, who wore a rose pink eyelet, floor length gown, with long sleeves of lace and satin ties. Her white, Victorian styled hat was trimmed in pink eyelet. The bride's mother also made this outfit.

Bridesmaid was the bridegroom's sister, Patty Smith, who wore a gown of violet and pink with long white sleeves.

Flowers of these two attendants featured pink and autumn colors.

Best man was Robert L. Davis of Canton Center, while the ushers included the bride's brothers, James II and Ryan Morrison, and Jack Middlebrook of Livonia. Boutonnieres and corsages were fashioned by a close friend, Mrs. Marie Kemmerling of Westland.

Following the wedding, some 170 guests attended a reception at the American Legion hall in Northville.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Burnam C. Leford of Walled Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Budnick of Saginaw, all grandparents of the bride; Raymond M. Budnick of Pebble Beach, California, the bride's uncle; and Joane Bardwell of Taylor and family, the bride's aunt.

The bride attended Northville High School. Her husband, who graduated from Northville High School, is employed at General Bearing in Livonia.

The newlyweds are making their home at 146 North Center.

Dave Nyquist club singer at Central

David Nyquist, a Central Michigan University junior from Northville is a member of the Men's Glee Club at CMU.

The Men's Glee Club performs folk songs, popular arrangements, barbershop ballads and serious music. They join the Women's Glee Club for concerts as well as performing alone. The club is open to all male students at CMU.

The Men's Glee Club participated in a choral concert October 16 with three other CMU choirs.

Nyquist sings bass in the club. He is the son of Roland and Gladys Nyquist, 1011 Jeffrey.

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE MCGLORY

Newlyweds make their home in Westland

Theresa Lynn Bishop and Terry Donald Suetterlin were united in marriage Saturday, September 22 in a double-ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Officiating at the afternoon candlelight ceremony was the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor of the church.

The bride was given away by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Defina, former Northville residents now living in Onaway, Michigan.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Suetterlin of Farmington Hills.

The bride wore an A-line Qiana gown with lace insets on the long sleeves and bodice. She carried a Colonial bouquet consisting of silk roses, carnations and daisies.

The maid of honor, Rhonda Hostetter, wore a light blue Empire Qiana gown with spaghetti straps and a matching short lace jacket. Her flowers included three silk carnations, color coordinated with the dress, backed with baby's breath and tied with a ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Lisa Suetterlin, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Thomas Gordon and Bonnie Defina, sisters of the bride.

Flowers of the bridesmaids were the same as those of the maid of honor except that their flowers included two carnations.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Greg Briggs.

Ushers were John Suetterlin, brother of the bridegroom, Frank Defina, brother of the bride, and Victor Kraft.

A reception at the church followed the ceremony, with guests attending from throughout this area and from Texas, Missouri, and Northern Michigan.

Later the newlyweds, who met while working at K-Mart in Farmington, left on a two-day train trip to Sault Ste. Marie, Canada.

The new Mrs. Suetterlin is a 1976 graduate of Northville High School. Presently, she is employed by AAA Insurance Company.

Her husband is a 1974 graduate of Farmington Harrison and he is employed by Century Tire of Westland.

The newlyweds are residing in Westland.

PSAT/NMSQT ready for juniors

Northville High School juniors are eligible to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) this fall, said counselor Jack Wickens this week.

The test is scheduled for October 27 at NHS. It measures verbal and mathematical aptitude and gives students a chance to find out what the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like.

By taking the PSAT/NMSQT students can enter the competition for scholarships administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Married couple met in high school here

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McGlory are making their home in Canton following a honeymoon trip to Ocean City, Maryland.

The former Joslyn Kay Williams and Bruce Cochrane McGlory were married recently in a double ring ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Officiating at the 7 p.m. service was the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Williams, former Northville residents now living in Lenexa, Kansas. The bridegroom is the son of Howard McGlory of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Jack Wolfe of Oxon Hill, Maryland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an embroidered blouson-styled gown of white chiffon with sheer bishop sleeves and a chapel length train. Her veil was finger tip length and was outlined in a floral embroidery that matched her gown. She carried a fresh flower bouquet of pink rosebuds and baby's-breath.

Vena Sullivan sang "It" preceding the ceremony and "The Wedding Song" while the couple lighted the unity candle.

The bride was attended by Karen Travers as her matron of honor, and the bridesmaid were Gina, Julie, Jill and Joan Williams, all sisters of the bride.

They wore jade green gowns and spaghetti straps, with matching jackets, and they carried bouquets made up of silk aqua-blue rosebuds, yellow daisies and baby's-breath.

Scott Travers was the bridegroom's best man. Attending as groomsmen were William Witek and brothers of the bridegroom, Dennis of Chicago, Illinois, Scott and Robert.

A dinner and dance reception followed at the Plymouth Hilton.

The bride and bridegroom, who met while both were attending Northville High School, are 1976 graduates. She is employed by Dicoa, Inc. of Livonia and her husband currently is attending Schoolcraft College and is employed by Prudential Building Maintenance.

Pilarz baby is christened Sunday

A baby girl was born September 15 at St. Mary Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. David Pilarz of Northville.

Named Christine Ann, the baby weighed in at 9 pounds, 4 ounces. She joins a brother, Daniel Scott, 2, at home.

The baby was christened Sunday at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. Godparents were Mary and Tony Pilarz.

Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trost of Garden City and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pilarz of Northville, and great grandmothers are Mildred Trost of Pennsylvania and Mary Zawislak.

Oh, envy her . . . she gets to play with 500 dolls

man of Base Line Questers displays bisque doll she inherited at the meeting of the antiques study club at the home of Ruth Klein, right.

By JEANDAY

At Christmastime Mary MacDonald gets to play with almost 500 dolls. That's when the assistant director and curator of the Dearborn Historical Museum sets up a display of the museum's outstanding doll and toy collection.

Last month she brought examples from the collection to Northville to illustrate a talk on toys and dolls of the past for Base Line Chapter of Questers, the antique study society, meeting at the home of Mrs. Leonard Klein.

"But toys don't have to be old to be worth collecting," she told members. Character or personality dolls, especially, fast become collectible, she said, giving the Mary Poppins doll as an example of one that has gone up in value.

She displayed a composition doll, a 1936 likeness of Shirley Temple, that has been valuable for years.

"But she's not the only movie star doll that's collected," the museum director said, mentioning also Deanna Durbin, the singing star of the 1930s.

While most collectors are aware that almost any teddy bear is to be treasured, Miss MacDonald suggested that Paddington Bear, a popular stuffed toy today, may be a collectible of the future.

The toy and doll collection is in the McFadden-Ross House on Brady Street in Dearborn. It is one of four buildings comprising the museum that were part of the original United States government arsenal erected in the 1830s when Dearbornville was a small rural community. Admittance is free.

Miss MacDonald related that finding a box under the eaves of the house containing dolls and heads became the "start of a fabulous collection."

One of the oldest she showed was an 1840 doll of papier mache covered with wax. She speculated that dolls could have evolved from idols.

Early American dolls were created from corn husks. In the Smithsonian, she continued, are early dolls with dough heads and pipe stem hands. Apple head dolls of the past are being revived today.

America is credited with the development of the rag doll, the speaker said. At the Columbian Exposition a doll was exhibited with an oil cloth head.

One of the most popular American dolls of all time, she said, has been the Raggedy Ann doll developed in 1918. She was created from a character in a book by Johnny Gruelle.

Business people hear missionary

Joe Maas will be the principal speaker at the 7 p.m. October 19 dinner meeting of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Dr. Maas has just returned from preaching and ministering in the Kerala, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Orissa States and the Bombay area of India, where more than 40,000 attended his crusades.

Formerly an official and educator of the Wesleyan Church, and holding five earned degrees, he now serves as International President of Worldwide Faith Missions with special emphasis on reaching the needy land of India.

He says he has "a thrilling and amazing story to tell concerning an unusual experience in seeking for and receiving the baptism of the Holy Spirit which has been a preparation for a greatly anointed worldwide ministry." Sharing the program will be recording artists Lee and Nancy Thomas, well known ministers of gospel music, formerly of Ashland, Ohio and now living in the Livonia area.

Dinner is at 7 p.m. sharp at $8 plus 15 percent gratuity per person. The meeting will follow dinner at 8 p.m.

Both are open to the public.

Reservation checks should be made payable to Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship and sent to P.O. Box 5332, Northville, Michigan, 48167.

Additional information is available by calling 349-0006 or 453-3801.

'Spiritual' lecture series underway

ECKANKAR, a non-profit organization, launched an introductory lecture series at Schoolcraft College this week.

The first session, held yesterday (Tuesday), was titled "Spiritual Unfolding Through ECKANKAR."

Subsequent lectures will include: A film and comments titled, "ECKANKAR, Introduces a Way of Life," and "Our Attitude on Life," to be held Tuesday, November 27 at 7:30 p.m.; and "Soul — The True Self — Being Ourselves Being Happy, Just Being," at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 4.

All lectures are open to the public without charge.

Eileen Miller of Epiphany Lutheran Church in Northville Township is among approximately 100 delegates to the 18th Michigan Synodical Unit Lutheran Church Women Convention at Adrian College in Adrian, Michigan, October 16, 17, 18.

Theme for the convention is "All God's Children ... Let Them Come," based on Mark 10:13-16.

Also attending part of the convention from Epiphany Lutheran Church are Suzanne Sadlocha, Doreen Siegner, and Rose Schroeder, all of Plymouth.

Highlights of the convention included presentations by Dr. Howard Christensen, president of the Michigan Synod, Lutheran Church in America; a special children's art fair; and a love offering for the Family Center at Nagar-Junassagar, India.

In addition, seven delegates were elected to the Triennial Convention of the Lutheran Church Women to be held in August, 1980 in Atlanta, Georgia.

first things first

Taking care of all the family's special needs requires an extra effort on our part.

But the family's convenience, rather than our own, is our first concern.

Questers hear talk on toys, dolls

Most children today grow up loving the stuffed doll with the "I love you" heart on her cloth body.

"Darkie dolls of the 1900s included Golliwog dolls, the speaker continued, saying they are choice. Rawhide dolls were made from 1845-75.

Bisque dolls that many women have inherited are from the 1800s and are German.

"Their faces have a dough-like look without a glaze," Miss MacDonald illustrated. Germany, she said, was the real producer of dolls until World War

I. The baby doll only arrived on the scene in this century, she added, succeeding the fashion dolls of Germany and France.

China dolls with shiny glazed heads, cloth bodies and china hands and feet were black-haired in a ratio of 10-to-one blonde. More rare, the speaker said, is the brown-eyed blonde.

China dolls can be dated by their feet, she continued, as those made prior to 1865 usually had flat shoes. High heels came later.

Along with dolls, little girls of the past received doll houses. The earliest recorded doll house, the expert said, dates to 1558. The most "fantastic" is Queen Mary's famous one built in 1920 and on view at Windsor Castle.

Miss MacDonald called the yo-yo the "universal toy." It has been found in cultures completely isolated from each other, she reported.

"History also shows throw balls, pullalongs, marbles and hobbyhorses have long been around," she said, noting that the horse has been an important toy as a symbol of mobility.

Collectible today are the blocks with pasted, hand-colored drawings on them. The ABC blocks were the "educational toys" of yesteryear.

War toys come on the market fast, Miss MacDonald observed, in times of conflict. The first tin soldiers were flat and beautifully reproduced in 1775, the time of Frederick the Great.

French solid ones followed, and then the hollow British ones in 1893.

"Collectors seek out marbles that were known since the Middle Ages. There are clay ones, Benningtons and Victorian ribbon glass as well as sulphides with animal designs in them."

"Parcheesi is the combination of all parlor games," the speaker declared, calling board games collectible.

"The best tin toys were made from 1850-90," she said, but suggests collecting modern-day toys and banks being made from old molds.

"Toys and dolls of today made of plastic may be safer," the speaker conceded, but questioned how long they will last.

"But there's really nothing you can throw away any more," she told her audience, adding, "we're collecting for the future at the museum and have Bicentennial souvenirs tucked away."

Her advice: "Collect something you really enjoy."

Social security talk scheduled by BPW

Marilyn Alimpich, field representative for the Social Security Administration's Livonia office, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday.

The meeting will get underway at 6:30 p.m. in the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

Membership Chairman Jane Trapp is in charge of the meeting, and she is urging members and guests to bring their questions for Ms. Alimpich, who will answer questions following a general information film.

Persons planning to attend should call Ms. Trapp, at 349-0014, by October 19 for dinner reservations.

Officials point out that the club is honoring a deceased member, Mabel Cooley, with donations pledged, to the National Foundation, the Georgia Emory Fund, and the BPW Cancer Fund.

The district BPW meeting is to be held October 25.

Tickets for a wall hanging by Berenice Ellis are available at 50 cents each. The scholarship fund "drawing" date is November 26.

Widowed men, women meet

Widowed men and women can get support from a seminar which will help them deal with loss and help them cope.

"Coping with Widowhood" is scheduled for the afternoon of November 11 at Mercy Center, 28600 Eleven Mile, Farmington Hills. The Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center is a co-sponsor of the seminar.

"Just to know that someone understands and cares is often enough to see us through all kinds of troubles," said Peggy Price, coordinator of the Council of Widowed Services for Southeastern Michigan.

June H. Shada will be the featured speaker at the seminar. Her theme will be the tasks of widowed persons at three life stages: the widowed with young children, the widowed with adult children and the widowed alone.

A panel of widowed persons will discuss how they have coped with loss and how they have readjusted. They will also offer suggestions for ways in which friends and relatives can be supportive.

A $5 registration fee is required, payable to Widowhood Seminar. The fee should be sent to Coping with Widowhood, 17300 Haggerty Road, Livonia, 48152.

Other classes offered at Mercy Center this fall include Modern Memory, the Art of Wardrobe Planning, Coping Successfully with Stress. For information call 476-8010.

Business women hear state police trooper

The second meeting of a newly organized businesswomen's chapter in this area was held yesterday at the Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

Speaker at the dinner meeting was Dorothy McAllen, a Michigan State Police trooper from the Northville post.

Chartered on September 11, the Mayflower chapter currently boasts 28 members from Novi, Northville, Plymouth and Canton.

The chapter's officers are: Linda Dawes, president; Mary Clauser, vice-president; Nancy Flynn, treasurer; and Roseann Majowski, secretary.

Any employed woman in the area is invited to join, according to Program Chairman Jan Campbell, by calling 349-6042 or 981-2501.

Next meeting of the chapter will be Tuesday, November 20 at the Hillside Inn.

The Mayflower chapter is a member of the American Business Women's Association, which was founded in 1949. Today the national organization has more than 1,600 chapters in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Objective of ABWA is to "promote the professional, educational, cultural, and social advancement of business women. The association believes that advancement and promotion must be earned, and it stresses this fact in urging its members to improve themselves through education, formal or informal, so that they will be qualified for future advancement."

Discuss breast feeding

Women interested in information about breastfeeding are invited to attend the next meeting of the Northville-Novati La Leche League.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the home of Joan Mason, 549 West Dunlap.

The heart of breastfeeding and overcoming difficulties will be discussed informally with league leaders and mothers at this session. Expectant mothers, mothers with nursing babies, and other interested persons are welcome.

The La Leche League is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping interested mothers learn the medical and emotional advantages of breastfeeding. Meetings are led by qualified leaders and telephone counseling is available to mothers at any time.

Each group is equipped with a lending library containing books and pamphlets on nursing, childbirth, and related subjects.

A board of 45 medical doctors who act as consultants for breastfeeding research and medical problems is affiliated with the League.

For information and telephone help, call leaders Charlene Frellick, 349-2840, or Kay Semion, 981-1028.

Blatt's elected director

Schoolcraft College trustee Nancie Blatt was elected director at large of the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT) at their 10th Annual Convention at the Detroit Plaza Hotel on October 4.

Mrs. Blatt was one of five national candidates for three vacancies on the association's governing board. As director at large of the ACCT Mrs. Blatt's responsibilities during her three year term will be to serve as a voting member on the board which is comprised of 27 members, nine of which are elected at large.

Vice-chairperson of the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees, Mrs. Blatt was first appointed to the Board in January of 1973. She was elected to her first six year term in June of that year and re-elected to the board this past June.

Mrs. Blatt is also president of the Michigan Community College Association (MCCA) which represents 26 of the 29 Michigan community colleges. The board of directors is comprised of community college presidents and board members and meets five times each year.

'Women should help each other'

Women can move up the proverbial ladder of success if they help each other, said Julie Stindt, provost and from decisions, Friedman said. Women need to learn how to take criticism, she said, rather than closing up. "Don't get huffy, listen to the person. If the criticism is sensible, then it is free advice. They've done you a favor."

DR. JEWEL E. STINDT

Many women feel so insecure about themselves that as soon as one criticism comes, they believe everything they are doing is being criticized. They should become less sensitive, Friedman said.

Women, though, should not attempt to behave like men in the work place, Friedman said.

"At the corporate structure I saw the dehumanization and desensitization of people in those structures, I could not believe it. The competition, the corporate backstabbing is incredible. No wonder men come home the way they do," Friedman said.

She said women entering the corporate structure may bring more humanization to the workplace.

"There are certain truths that women need to know," Friedman said. "In your life ask yourself if the rewards are worth the price. Even if it is, make sure there is a piece of life there for you. You can stand alone."

"Take risks if you are going to grow. Every success has chances of failure. If you never want to take a risk of failure, you are never going to grow."

vice-president of instruction at Schoolcraft College.

Stindt, number two administrator at the college since August 20, explained her strategies for moving up at the management skills workshop at Schoolcraft last Wednesday morning.

"Men think they can do anything," Stindt said. "If they bomb out they think, well, you lose some, you win some."

"But women, no matter what they do, they feel they have to succeed. They can't even approach failure."

Like men's "old-boy network" women must establish "old-girl networks" and actively support other women in the work place, Stindt said.

Women over 30 are, by working, bucking the role expectations which were bred into them when they were young.

"Our parents were beneath it all, with the idea that though you may go to college and work, you had to get married, be a mother and have a family," Stindt said.

The woman who wishes to get into management today must face up to certain decisions, she said.

They include deciding if you want to work, when you want to work and how you work around your home life.

A woman must evaluate herself and decide what career she wants. She must seek a mentor who can help her, learn by doing and learn to recognize opportunities when they arise, Stindt said.

"You should look at all your experience to date. Make a list of what you enjoy, what you hate, which skills you can build on and how long it will take."

"You should get data about your field. Read every journal and specialized trade magazine, she said."

Stindt urged women in all fields to join and become active in organizations which give them opportunities for visibility in their fields. She said women professionals should publish and make presentations when possible to build confidence and speaking skills.

She urged women to build networks of people in similar fields and with other women professionals.

She stressed the importance of actively supporting other women managers by doing business with them, promoting them and supporting them whenever possible.

"It is not enough to have a woman in a high position," Stindt said. "Don't trash women. Help each other. Men have an old boy's network and that's why men get promoted. Women have to do the same."

Johnson in EMU play

Alex Johnson of Northville has a leading role in the production of "The Boys from Syracuse" at Eastern Michigan University.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johnson of 404 Dunbar, portrays the slave, Dromio of Ephesus, who finds to his chagrin that his long-lost

'Do it yourself horror'

Don't let those prices scare you

By CHRIS GOLEMBIEWSKI

It's that time again for ghosts and goblins and eerie stories and creepy visitors ... dressed in everything from 49 cent masks and plastic capes to $40 hideously detailed full-head pieces with grotesquely flesh-like hands and feet to match.

Consumers of Halloween paraphernalia this year will find a full range of scary seasonal products to help them look their worst for the holiday. Unfortunately, the most frightening thing about changing yourself from beauty to beast on All Hallows E'en could be the cost of some of the kits on the market.

If you decide against investing a fortune in transforming yourself into Chewbacca from "Star Wars," one of the most expensive masks in area stores, a stroll down the aisle of your favorite toy store might bring you to the make-up kits which promise that even a 10-year-old can quickly metamorphose into a character from "Planet of the Apes," or "Phantom of the Opera."

A check of area toy and department stores shows that for about $11 you can look like Kiss, or an apeman for about $6. Then there's an intriguing box called the Movie Horror Make-up Kit with full-color examples of how you, too, can make yourself professionally gruesome for $12, complete with fleshy wounds, scars, make-up, blood and false teeth.

We decided to investigate, with the aid of students in Diana Rose's performing arts class at Brighton High School. Cheryl Shook, served as make-up artist for our guinea pig, Mike Martinez.

Our conclusion: if you seek to look sufficiently horrible in time for a big party, start preparations well before the sun goes down — you may succeed in looking scary, albeit amateurish, among the dark shadows.

It took a rushed two hours to complete the look, which we were dismayed to discover must begin with mixing your own gooeey, smelly "flex-flesh." It tended to dry before we could pour it into molds (which must be refrigerated) to make the scars from scratch.

If the molds come out thick and lumpy, we found, the make-up will not look as realistic as promised on the box.

Change plain face ...

... by adding make-up and then watch out ...

... he's a frightful sight

You can pick from a variety of make-up kits for Halloween

Cheryl Shook starts to work on Mike Martinez in scary make-up experiment

TOM SUMIEC

TOM SUMIEC, Associate Broker with Rymal Symes Realtors, Novi Office, has surpassed the Million Dollar sales mark for 1979 and was named Rymal Symes Associate of the Month for September.

In announcing Sumiec's achievement, Craig Lewis, Rymal Symes executive vice-president, indicated that fewer than 10 percent of all real estate salespeople ever accomplish a million dollars in sales during a calendar year.

Lewis also said that Sumiec's success can be attributed primarily "to his genuine desire to render a real service to his many loyal clients and customers."

KAREN L. OSBORNE, the daughter of Mrs. Jean Scott of Crystal Lake Drive in Northville, has been promoted to operations officer at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

Ms. Osborne joined the Bank in 1968 and has had experience in the Branch Operations and Data Processing Departments at the Bank. Ms. Osborne and her husband Mark Shoup, live in Grosse Pointe.

KAREN OSBORNE

IN CASE you think you may have been seeing things, rest assured that it was indeed a dress shop that you spotted recently in Black's Hardware store in Northville.

"I thought it would be fun to have something a little different in Northville and I think my shop, Chances 'Ar' Boutique is just that," said Arlene McPhail.

The Chances 'Ar' shop is located on the second floor of the hardware on East Main Street in downtown Northville.

"I'm 'Ar' McPhail, and I've been living in Northville for 18 months now and just love our town ...

"I know this type of shop might be a new experience for some people, but for those who know I'm sure they'll agree that re-sale shops have been around for a long time, and they are a fun place to shop at."

GARRY BORIN has announced the opening of law offices in Novi. The offices are located at 41390 Ten Mile — on the northeast corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road.

Borin graduated with distinction from the Wayne State University Law School in 1967. He worked for law firms in Southfield and Detroit for 10 years after receiving his law degree. He has been associated with the Detroit law firm of Evans and Luptak for the past five years.

He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan as well as the Detroit and Oakland County bar associations. He also is a member of the Novi Chamber of Commerce and Novi Rotary Club.

Borin said he will offer a general law practice, dealing with all problems which individuals and businesses might encounter. Available are consultations on everything from business to personal injury and divorce, he said.

Appointments may be scheduled any time, including evenings and Saturdays, by calling 478-8260. There is no charge for the initial consultation.

ROGER A. SCHIFTAR of 21618 Welch Road, Northville, has qualified as a member of the 1979 Top Club of New York Life Insurance Company.

The Top Club is composed of New York Life's outstanding agents and membership is based on 1978-79 sales records, according to General Manager Fred E. Rogers, CLU of the company's Northland-Detroit General Office.

ALAN J. DEMSKY, D.D.S. has opened a new office for the practice of general dentistry for adults and children at 156 Barker Road, Whitmore Lake. Hours are by appointment. The office number is 449-2081.

Dr. Demsky is a 1976 graduate of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. He had been affiliated with a dentistry clinic in Detroit prior to setting up his own practice in Whitmore Lake.

LAWRENCE CAMERON of Novi was among 30 general agency field representatives of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company who attended a career agents' conference at John Hancock Institute.

The John Hancock Institute is the company's educational facility in Boston, Massachusetts. The institute utilizes the most modern video technology and training facilities available.

Cameron, who resides on Renford Street in Novi, is a representative of the Laurence Mohn General Agency in Southfield.

Representatives are selected to attend the six-day session on the basis of their outstanding sales achievements.

The workshop is designed to sharpen the skills of John Hancock representatives in multi-line financial planning and includes training in total needs programming and capital conversion.

William Hoornaert and Mary Kay Wild open shopping service

WILLIAM HOORNAERT and MARY KAY WILD opened a new shopping service this week for South Lyon area residents. The couple will pick up and deliver supermarket items from Colonial Market and Showerman's IGA for those who can't or don't care to do their own shopping.

There will be a minimum charge of $3 per delivery for any order up to $30. Larger orders will cost 10 percent of the total order.

Residents wishing to use the service may call 437-8497 between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. The shopping lists may be given over the telephone or the couple will pick up the list at the resident's home if it is lengthy. The service will be paid for on delivery.

Hoornaert said he feels the service should be particularly helpful to senior citizens or anyone who would like to avoid going out in bad weather. "We like dealing with people," added Ms. Wild who was formerly employed at Western Electric, Plymouth.

NANCY CHAMBERS, a Certified Public Accountant, has announced the relocation of her offices to 41390 Ten Mile in Novi.

The new offices are located on the northeast corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road.

Chambers graduated from Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree in business administration. Following graduation, she worked as an audit manager with Coopers and Lybrand, a large, international accounting firm in Detroit.

She opened her own practice in August of 1978 and now is moving to new quarters due to the growth of business.

Available are auditing, accounting and tax services for individuals and corporations. Consultations are available only by appointment which can be scheduled at 477-7117.

Chambers is a member of the American Institute of CPAs and the Michigan Association of CPAs. She also is a member of the American Women's Society of CPAs and the Novi Chamber of Commerce. She and her husband reside in the Village Oaks subdivision in Novi.

HAROLD HYLAND, FIC, of 23320 West LeBost, Novi, was among a group of Lutheran Brotherhood field representatives who attended a sales conference September 17 at the Ramada Inn, Perrysburg, Ohio.

The theme of the conference was "Sharing the Key to Success."

Featured speakers included Michael Diemer, FIC, district representative, Lutheran Brotherhood, Oconto Falls, Wisconsin; Andy Madsen, CLU, manager of Health Insurance Sales, Lutheran Brotherhood, Egan, Minnesota; and Robert H. Wyly, CLU, vice-president of Marketing Services, American National Insurance, Company, Galveston, Texas. Also addressing the group was Lutheran Brotherhood President Woodrow P. Langhaug.

Hyland is a district representative associated with Lutheran Brotherhood's Karl Mueller Agency, headquartered in Rochester. Members of 10 agencies from Ohio, Michigan and Indiana were present at the conference. Lutheran Brotherhood is a Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society.

HAROLD W. BICKNER, Jr. of Northville was one of seven new vice-presidents recently appointed by the Campbell-Ewald Company, according to Thomas B. Adams, the advertising agency's board chairman.

Bickner is a group creative director, having joined the agency in 1970 as a copywriter. He is a graduate of the University of Detroit.

Other new vice-presidents are Michael O. Bell, James Dunne, Bill Ford, William A. Gelgaa Jr., B. Anthony Longo and Lindell M. Ross.

ZEALAND B. THIGPEN III of Novi has been appointed manager of sales in Central America and the Caribbean by the American Motors Corporation. The appointment was announced by Jerold E. Wood, general manager of Latin American Operations.

Thigpen has been manager of division sales in the Caribbean since 1977.

A native of Tennessee, Thigpen joined American Motors in 1972 as district manager in the Memphis zone. He subsequently held a variety of management positions in both the Memphis and Atlanta zones including vehicle distribution manager, business management manager and market representation manager.

Thigpen has a bachelor of science degree in engineering from the University of Arkansas.

Despite the work, Martinez was fairly pleased with the results. "Good for dates," he quipped. Martinez, who went home in his new face, said that from a distance, people thought he had been in an accident.

And it took a good 20 minutes to remove the fractured flesh and tenacious spirit gum with cold cream, he noted.

If you're really broke but eager to get ugly October 31, theatre instructor Diana Rose suggests gathering up the blue and purple eyeshadows, dark lipsticks and clear nail polish. You can make "beautiful scars" by squeezing your cheek, dabbing on the polish and finishing off with red and blue.

Happy horrors.

The mime team of Shields and Yarnell (left) and the Chinese Acrobats of Taiwan are featured in the family entertainment series

Family entertainment slated at Music Hall

Family entertainment takes on a new dimension this season at the Music Hall in Detroit which has announced sponsorship of four big shows for parents and children to enjoy together — live on the Music Hall stage.

Although designed as a family activity, the four-show series should appeal to individual theater-goers of all ages.

An all-new production of Victor Herbert's musical, "The Babes in Toyland" kicks off the series November 20. Produced in association with television wizards Sid and Marty Krofft, this updated "Babes" is set in a wacky amusement park with giant, come-to-life puppets and young singer/actors who battle a villainous computer. Special performances are slated for noon and 8 p.m. on Thanksgiving Day.

On December 18, the popular Blackstone Magic Show opens its 1979 edition complete with animals, dancers, breathtaking illusions and many new surprises. The two-week run includes a "magical" New Year's Eve late-night show.

The world famous Chinese Acrobats and Magicians of Taiwan arrive on January 4 for five performances of daredevil feats and ancient mystery arts. The "New York Times" called this precision troupe "spectacular and thrilling."

The husband-and-wife mime team of Shields and Yarnell rounds out the series in February with a week of comedy, music, dancing and their trademark "robot" routines.

Shields and Yarnell had their own network television series and were recently seen on the Emmy Awards program and the Bob Hope Special filmed in China.

Season ticket discounts, which also include best choice of seats, are being offered exclusively through The Detroit News. The four-show series costs as little as $9 for children (12 and under) and $16 for adults.

The season ticket price is available for Tuesday and Wednesday shows at 8 p.m., Saturday and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m. and Sunday evening shows at 6:30 p.m.

For further information call the Music Hall Season Ticket office at 963-6943.

Michigan Opera Theater

Russian masterpiece in Detroit

Michigan Opera Theatre presents the first major production of Tchaikovsky's "Joan of Arc" in the United States on Monday, October 22 at 8:30 p.m. at the Music Hall. This Russian masterpiece, rarely performed outside of Eastern Europe, plays — in English — for five performances only October 22-28.

Alternating in the title role of Joan is Metropolitan Opera star Mignon Dunn (October 22, 26, 28) and New York City Opera's Susanne Marsee (October 24, 27).

Miss Dunn, in her long association with the Met, has sung practically every major mezzo role from Amneris to Venus. She also has appeared with opera companies throughout North and South America and Europe. Recently Miss Dunn has appeared with the Milwaukee Symphony in the rarely performed symphonic poem "Kullervo" by Sibelius.

Susanne Marsee brings to the MOT stage a long list of triumphs with the New York City Opera where she recently sang in the world premiere of "Miss Havisham's Fire." She has recorded for ABC Records and appeared on nationally televised productions of "Roberto Devereaux" and "Rachel: La Cubana." Miss Marsee has also performed with the Spoleto Festival, the Festival Las Palmas, and the Aux en Province Festival.

"We are most fortunate to have two of the country's finest mezzo-sopranos making their debut with MOT in this production," said David DiChiera, Michigan Opera Theatre general director. "The role of Joan is a challenging and demanding one. This opera is in the grand tradition of 'Boris Godunov,'" DiChiera said, "with impressive choral scenes and spectacular ensembles. MOT audiences will love Tchaikovsky's very beautiful score."

Other principal singers are baritone Andreas Poulimenos, as Lionel, tenor Richard Versalle, as Dauphin, baritone Richard Clark as Thibaut, baritone Edward Huls as Dunois and bass-cantante Kenneth Bell as the Archbishop of Rheims.

The opera is staged by Michael Montel who has earned a national reputation directing major productions at the Center Theatre Group in Los Angeles, Miami's Coconut Grove Playhouse and New York's Center Theatre. His production of Hampton's "The Philanthropist" at Chicago's Goodman Theatre won the Joseph Jefferson Award.

Tchaikovsky's "Joan" is based on Frederick Schiller's play "Die Jungfrau von Orleans" (The Maid of Orleans).

Captivated with the idea of creating an opera about Joan of Arc, Tchaikovsky wrote the libretto as well as the score.

For show times and ticket information call the Music Hall Box Office at 963-7680. For group sales call Joan Heidt at 963-7622.

Around and about

WHO IS THE leading power in the world of gymnastics today?

The Soviets? The Romanians? East Germany? Maybe not. There could be an answer to this question at Cobo Arena next Tuesday (October 23).

Since their first national gymnastic championships in 1953 to their outstanding men's and women's first place team finish at the eighth Asian Games in Bangkok last December, the People's Republic of China could prove to be one of the strongest gymnastic powers in the world.

The Chinese team will appear at Cobo Arena in their only Detroit appearance in a friendly exhibition/competition with the public as the judge.

The Chinese gymnasts are slated to compete with outstanding young American male and female gymnasts from all over the United States who have already proven themselves to be champions and are 1984 Olympic hopefuls.

Tickets available for the Chinese gymnasts' performance are on sale at Cobo Arena, Hudson's and Olympia Travel in Birmingham.

THE DETROIT SYMPHONY Orchestra will open its 1979-80 Young People's concert series this Saturday (October 20) with a "Halloween Party" featuring a fun-filled program of chilling music to be conducted by DSO Assistant Conductor Kenneth Jean.

Performances are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. this Saturday.

The Mime Ensemble, directed by Tom Ashton, will be on stage to augment the excitement, and all members of the audience — young and old — are invited to come in costume.

The program will include music from Stravinsky's "The Rite of Spring," Dukas' "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," Saint-Saens' "Danse Macabre," and Mussorgsky's "Night on the Bald Mountain."

The Young People's series is a perennial favorite with the area's young audience. Programs are designed to present substantial musical works in an entertaining package aimed at listeners from tots to pre-teen age.

THE GALERIA on the Orchard Lake Schools campus is featuring an exhibit on Pope John Paul until November 1.

The exhibit, sponsored by the campus Pope John Paul II Center, consists of numerous biographies of John Paul II and a collection of his articles and books in Polish and English.

Other artifacts are medallions and medals of the Pope struck during his first year in office and stamps issued by the Vatican.

Visitors to the Galeria may make an appointment by calling 682-1885.

Latest Smoker Research Just In:
MERIT undisputed victor over leading high tars in tests comparing taste and tar level.

Smokers Prefer Merit 3 To 1!

Smokers find the taste of low tar MERIT matches that of high tar cigarettes.

New taste-test results prove it.

Proof: A significant majority of smokers rated MERIT taste as good as—or better than—leading high tar brands. Even cigarettes having twice the tar!

Proof: Of the 95% stating a preference when tar levels were revealed, 3 out of 4 smokers chose the MERIT low tar/good taste combination over high tar leaders.

MERIT smokers rate low tar MERIT satisfying taste alternative to high tar brands.

New national smoker study results prove it.

Proof: The overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers polled felt they didn't sacrifice taste in switching from high tar cigarettes.

Proof: 96% of MERIT smokers don't miss former high tar brands.

Proof: 9 out of 10 enjoy smoking as much since switching to MERIT, are glad they switched, and report MERIT is the best tasting low tar they've ever tried!

You've read the results. The conclusion is clearer than ever: MERIT delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar.

A combination that seems to be attracting more and more smokers every day and—more importantly—satisfying them long term.

Hey Kid!
Whatcha doin' WEDNESDAY?

We've got a job for you.

Once a week, on Wednesdays, our community newspapers are home delivered by young people just like you (minimum age eleven years old). They're earning money every week and are eligible for our contests for prizes and vacations. More people are reading our newspapers in Northville, Novi, Walled Lake, South Lyon and Livingston County therefore, we need additional carriers. So if you live around here and aren't doing anything on Wednesday ...

CALL TODAY and we'll tell you all about it

Golfers second at Regionals; go on to State

Todd Mack has had an up and down season for the Mustang golf team. The senior has shot some of the lowest scores for the team this year and he has shot some of the highest. Two weeks ago, against Livonia Churchill, Mack won the fourth hole but had to settle for a score of 40 for nine holes.

Mack put it all together though this last weekend as he led Northville to a second-place finish in the Regional meet on Friday. Out of a field of 80 golfers, Mack recorded the lowest score, a 73, which gave him the low medalist award for the Regional meet. He had to win the honor by gunning down a Dearborn golfer in a sudden death playoff. Both golfers had finished the match tied with identical scores of 73.

Finishing third at the affair was Mustang Bob Stephans, who shot a 74. Ted Seltz followed with an 82 and Terry McMann recorded an 87. The team score of 316 was enough to give the Mustangs second, which was enough to qualify the team for the upcoming State Golf Tournament that is to take place in Kalamazoo on Saturday, October 20.

"This was a bit of a surprise considering our season," golf coach Joe Blake said, "not that we didn't have the talent, but we just hadn't put it together, until now. We finished second by just one stroke."

Plymouth Salem won the regional tournament with a team score of 315 while Northville just missed, coming in second with 316. Catholic Central took third with a 321 team score.

The same four Mustangs will compete in the state tournament Saturday. Both Mack and Stephans played in the state tourney last year, as juniors. "Both have had the potential to play this well all year," Blake said, "but neither put it together until now."

Northville played Waterford Mott in the last dual meet of the regular season last week and lost 216-219. Stephans and Mack each shot 43's while McMann and Seltz each recorded 44's. Brian Shake was the fifth man for Northville and he shot a 45. "We played the back-nine

Is baseball still King?

By time this appears in print, Pittsburgh will have most likely won the world series over Baltimore. One disadvantage to printing just once a week is that it is very hard to make the subjects in my column timely. The World Series is an example. Here the biggest event in the baseball season, maybe even the whole spectrum of sports, is taking place and my thoughts and comments are going to be a week late. Maybe that's for the best.

Today, after just two contests, the biggest aspect to the games has been the weather. But if I start berating Bowie Kuhn for his idiotic order to have the teams commence play even though Mark Spitz would have had a tough time playing in that freezing, water-logged stadium, it could all be for naught. Tomorrow, after this column has gone to print, the sun could break out and dry things up. The arctic conditions of the first two games could become just a vague memory in the minds of the fans across the country. The fact that Kuhn sold out to the television interests by risking the players' health in order that the games should not be delayed (television loses money if their shows aren't presented on time) may just be forgotten. I hope not, because it shows more than ever that professional sports is more business than sport.

How can I talk about the Baltimore team of no-names that, while a very solid team, just doesn't have the flair or depth of Pittsburgh's heavy duty personnel. Baltimore may just sweep the remaining games. I could come out a fool.

Baseball seems to be at best, a comfortable sport these days. The speed and drama of football, basketball and hockey just aren't there in baseball. Where football emphasizes strength, baseball emphasizes skill. Where basketball is a fast, constantly moving sport, baseball is slow and methodical. The interest in baseball, compared to the other sports, is carried on most ardently by a majority of middle-aged fans who grew up with the sport and a few young fanatics who just naturally love the game.

Times have changed. How many World War II movies have you watched where the Nazi spy is realized because he doesn't know who the winner of the third game of the 1929 World Series was? I know I've watched quite a few. In those days baseball was king. Football wasn't nearly as popular as it is now and hockey was just some crazy sport the Canadians played up North. Baseball stars' statistics were memorized by adoring fans like stockbrokers memorize Wall Street figures. The heroes of baseball's past are still immortals; people like Ty Cobb, Honus Wagner, Babe Ruth, Satchel Paige, Mickey Mantle, Cy Young, Bob Feller, Sal Maglie, the list goes on forever. Our modern heroes are not as long-lasting; they are made by the media, not the fans. Thurman Munson was at best a solid catcher, but after he died, the media would have us believe he was suddenly an immortal, a man who belonged in the Baseball Hall of Fame. No way.

I like baseball probably more than any other sport, however, the more I see of soccer, the more I enjoy it so I'm not just putting a knock on a sport I don't like. In fact, I'm not really saying anything at all except pointing out how the once and only king is now learning to share its castle with some other royalty.

Can baseball compete with football, basketball, hockey and soccer? I think so. People have cried for rule changes that would spruce up the game, give it more speed and action ala football. But I think that would be ruining a good thing.

A hand-crafted Swiss clock is much more dependable and exquisite than a timepiece that you can purchase in a dime store. The analogy holds true for baseball. It is an antiquated sport, but like an old-fashioned Swiss clock, is solid, dependable and has survived a test of time by the skill with which it was wrought. I think that if left alone, it will survive the "fast food sports mentality" that pervades our society now. Football has been pepped-up, spiced-up and juiced-up to accommodate our fast-paced society. The same with basketball. But baseball has remained basically the same and is still popular. Perhaps not as popular as it once was. I hope I never get suspected as being a Nazi spy. I couldn't even tell you who was in last season's world series let alone who pitched in it. Ach himmell!

Boys 10-and-under United wins 1-0 over Livonia

Boys 10-and-under

NORTHVILLE UNITED 1,
LIVONIA (No. 16) 0

Doug Martin scored the game's only goal late in the third quarter to give the United team the win. Rick McCulloch was in goal for the shutout; the first time he has ever played that position. At one point in the game McCulloch stopped a point-blank shot from inside the goalie box. The United coach singled out Dante Lamanna as the outstanding player of the game. The United forward made superb plays on offense and defense. It was the first time that he had played forward.

NORTHVILLE STING 2,
PLYMOUTH (No. 12) 1

Dan Magdich vented the power of his kicking against the Plymouth team as he hit on both goals for the winners. Magdich scored the first tally in the second quarter, staking Northville to a 1-0 lead. Plymouth came back to tie the game in the third period. Magdich scored the winner in the fourth quarter on a penalty kick with only four minutes left to play.

NORTHVILLE BLACK KNIGHTS 3,
PLYMOUTH (No. 5) 2

Scoring twice in the second quarter, and again in the third frame, Northville's Mike Kelly recorded a hat trick in leading the Black Knights to the win over Plymouth. Kelly's second goal came on a penalty kick. Plymouth scored both of its goals in the third quarter.

NORTHVILLE CHAMPS 2,
LIVONIA (No. 26) 2

Northville blasted out to a 2-0 lead at halftime on goals by Jeff Hamilton and Steve Wilson, but couldn't hold on to the lead as Livonia scored two times in the third frame to knot the score.

NORTHVILLE PINK PANTHERS 6,
NORTHVILLE FOXES 0

In a battle of hometown teams, the Pink Panthers, behind goals by Jill Gallagher, Stacy Murdock, Lisa Irwin and Megan Berry, beat the Foxes 6-0. Berry had two tallies, both in the second quarter. Gallagher's goal was the first for her. The Foxes managed just two shots on the Panthers' goal.

NORTHVILLE ARSENAL 2,
PLYMOUTH (No. 3) 0

John Isabell took a pass from Jamison Anderson, and fired it past the Plymouth goalie for a 1-0 Northville lead. The shot was set up by Toby Balai's pass to Anderson. The score came in the second quarter. Jeff Stuart scored the last Arsenal goal, in the third quarter, after receiving a pass from Isabell.

NORTHVILLE ARSENAL 1,
PLYMOUTH (No. 4) 0

Toby Balai banged home a goal in the first quarter after receiving a pass from the midfield area. David Skuratowicz made several great saves in the fourth quarter to preserve the shutout, according to the Arsenal coach.

NORTHVILLE TORNADOS 1,
PLYMOUTH (No. 6) 1

Craig Towalski scored the Northville goal in the first quarter and for almost the rest of the game it appeared as if the Tornados would win with a shutout. But Plymouth had other ideas. Scoring late in the third quarter, Plymouth knotted the score.

NORTHVILLE FOXES 3,
FARMINGTON 0

The Foxes dominated the contest

get off only five shots against the Northville goal. Amy DeMattia scored

ners. Jennifer Richardson collected the other Fox goal.

NORTHVILLE STARS 1,
LIVONIA (No. 5) 1

League-leading Livonia scored the first goal of the game in the second quarter and tried to hold off the short-handed Stars for the shutout win. But Northville, with only 11 players (which meant no substitutions), knotted the score when Diane Dragon banged a shot past the Livonia goalie in the third period.

NORTHVILLE STARS 0,
LIVONIA WONDERS 0

Goalie Chris Diehl saved the game for Northville when, in the third quarter, she made a sliding tackle on a

Livonia breakaway to prevent a score.

Lisa Martin and Sheri Rosenthal for their defensive efforts.

NORTHVILLE ROWDIES 13,
LIVONIA (No. 5) 1

The Northville team scored the first six times it touched the ball in Sunday's contest. Mike Nelson and Ted Sledz

each banged home four goals to lead the Rowdies to victory. Matt Ashby and

Randy Eppers each scored twice. Gary

Metz added a goal for Northville.

Contest winner named

Paul Caroselli of 770 Bradburn Court, Northville, walked off with first place prize money in last week's weekly football contest.

He was the only contestant with four mistakes. All others had five errors or more.

Second and third place winners, respectively, were Fred Robinson, of 21060 Taft and Kelly Bell of 537 Grace.

Both had five mistakes, but were named winners because of their closer guesses of the Houston-Baltimore score.

Robinson, for example, was almost right on the mark. He had Houston winning by a score of 29-15. The actual score was 28-16. Kelly was just three points off the tie-breaker.

Other contestants who had five mistakes but who were not as close in guessing the tie-breaker score were:

Carmon White, David Babich, Robert Pote, Douglas May, Bruce Martin, Ann Marie Petroski, Charles B. Eubanks and Russell Parker.

Everyone missed the Stanford-USC game since it ended in a 21-21 tie. But no one was marked wrong in game three because Walled Lake Central did not play Millford as indicated but rather Livonia Bentley. Incidentally Central won the game by a baseball score of 6-2.

Among the most missed games were these: Novi's triumph over Howell, Akron's defeat of Eastern Michigan University, Texas' win over Oklahoma, and Tampa Bay's pasting at the hands of New Orleans.

Altogether, nine contestants missed five games; 12 missed six, 23 missed seven; 14 missed eight; and remaining contestants missed nine games or more.

JOHN BLACKNEY INSTRUCTOR

Blackjack is the most popular of all casino games. It offers the expert player the best odds available and it is the only casino game that can be beaten from a mathematical standpoint.

Blackjack can be divided into two categories. Basic Strategy (expert play) and card counting. Card counting is a strategy based on the Theory of Probabilities that when played accurately, actually gives the player an advantage over the casino.

Instruction in these two areas are as follows:

1. BASIC STRATEGY. You will learn the correct mathematical play for each hand and the correct playing procedure to be used at the tables. This class is one hour per week for 3 weeks and the cost is $30.
2. BASIC STRATEGY AND AN INTRODUCTION TO CARD COUNTING. Same as No. 1 except you will also learn the Blackney Add & Estimate Strategy. This simple count is easy to learn and very easy to play in the casinos. This class is one hour per week for 6 weeks and the cost is $90.
3. THE BLACKNEY SIMPLE HI-LOW STRATEGY. The Basic Strategy class is a prerequisite to taking this class. My HI-LOW Strategy assigns point values to various card ranks and is extremely effective for the single and double deck game. This class is one hour per week, for 6 weeks and the cost is $120.

Arrangements can also be made for private consultation for those who do not wish to attend a class session. The cost for a one hour appointment is $40. If you have a playing partner, you may split the cost of the appointment.

Call John Blackney, Northville, Michigan, 348-2066 between 5 & 6 p.m. weekdays.

the game at the 15 minute mark. Farmington then took the lead on an indirect penalty shot at the 25-minute mark of the contest. John Moran tied the game for Northville at the start of the second half. Chris Koenig then banged in two straight goals to give Northville the lead. Anisoglu and McCulloch each scored to round out the United scoring. Anisoglu's last goal came on a shot from mid-field that bounced over the Farmington goalie's head.

NORTHVILLE HOT SPURS 4,
PLYMOUTH (No. 1) 0

Chuck Kellar scored the first of his three goals when he took a rebound from a shot by Scott Gala, and put it past the Plymouth goalie from the corner. The goal came at the 20-minute mark of the game. Joey Arwady set up the second Kellar goal at the 25-minute mark. Arwady then scored to make it 3-0 and Kellar added the final Northville tally at the end of the third quarter.

NORTHVILLE ARSENAL 4,
LIVONIA FLAMES 3

Northville and Livonia combined to score four goals in the first 15 minutes of play Wednesday. Livonia scored first to take a 2-0 lead. Dan Perpetch then set up Tim Ruffing on two goals that tied the game. Livonia jumped back out in front with a goal right before the half ended and then Steve Muller hit on a hot

Harriers take Redford Invite

For four years in a row Farmington had won the Redford Union Invitational cross country run and this year it was gunning for a fifth. But Northville had other ideas. Like starting a four year hold on the title themselves.

The first year is in the hat as the Mustangs won the Invitational 57 to Farmington's 80. Livonia Stevenson came in third with a tally of 116. Dearborn was next with a score of 133 and Walled Lake Central took fifth with a score of 196. In all, there were 22 schools at the meet.

Mustang senior Harry Couyoumjian captured first place in the affair clocking in at 15:14. Doug Wright was 11th, Dave Malinowski finished 12th, Scott Dayton 13th, Ross Grover 20th, Clark Couyoumjian 24th and Steve Bourne 92. Times for these runners were not available at press time.

Doug Wright was coming off of an injury and hadn't run as well as had been hoped for the senior harrier. This was the first meet in which he showed what kind of running he was capable of.

"Wright was running right up front the whole way," Northville coach Dave Gram said. "It was a good showing all the way. It put him right where he wants to be, in the top five, and that's right where we need him."

"Wright is feeling better now. He's acting co-captain in Tom Doyle's place. The position of leadership with Harry is a good one for him. I think it has kind of turned him around as a runner. It was just an outstanding race for him."

The thinclads ran well in the meet. There were five Mustangs in the top 20. In all, there were 150 runners in the race.

One factor in the race was the absence of the Dearborn Fordson team, which pulled out of the competition. "Fordson would have had front runners," Gram said. "That would have split up the scores. Anything could have happened."

On Thursday, October 11, the Mustangs manhandled Churchill 19-36. Harry Couyoumjian was sick and didn't run in the race, but Dayton carried the load for the Mustangs, winning the race in a time of 16:49.

"The weather was bad," Gram said. "It was cold, rainy, windy. It was a bad day for a meet. Considering the weather and the slippery footing, I think this was a good time for Scott."

Wright took second in a time of 16:58, Malinowski was third with a time of 17:05, Grover clocked in at 17:17 and Clark Couyoumjian recorded a time of 17:20.

Tom Allen finished second in the JV race, finishing in a time of 18:39. Vilas Allen was fourth with a time of 19:52 and Rick Getzen was seventh with a time of 20:37.

The Mustang girls didn't compete in the race. Overall, Northville is now 9-0 and 4-0 in the Western Six Conference.

Anita Sledz, the top girl on the cross country team, ran in the Windsor 10,000 Meter Run last weekend and finished second in the women's division. She clocked in at 40:02 for the 6.2-mile course. She was 34th overall in a field of 1,400 runners.

Scott Dayton came in 13th at the Invitational

JV Colts winners, 20-13

A well-balanced offensive attack helped the Colts push past the Romulus Flyers 20-13 and improve their record to 4-2. Benji Evans, Scott Lazara, and Steve Cody accounted for most of the Colt's 126 yards rushing, while Dave Denhof hit on six out of nine attempts in the passing department for 117 yards. The Colt's defensive was equally tough with outstanding performances from Mike Dewan, Mike Hilfinger, and Tim Millen.

The Colt's first score came in the third quarter on a 15-yard pass play to Jeff Bush which tied the game at 7-7. Bush also was on the receiving end of a pass play that covered 65 yards and set up the second Colt's score, a 15-yard pass to Benji Evans that provided the Colts with a 14-13 lead early in the fourth quarter.

A Flyer pass blocked by Sean McLaughlin and intercepted by Paul Newitt set up the third and final Colt score and preserved the win.

Advertisement OUR FASCINATING WORLD OF FISH BY JIM AYTES Neptune Aquarium

From an almost "exotic" hobby years ago, aquarium keeping is now the second largest hobby in America. Some 25 million households participate.

If one pair of Guppies raises a brood, and they all live, and successive generations live and raise broods, in two years there will be close to three million Guppies.

The reason Guppies don't overcrowd the world? Larger fish consider Guppies tasty morsels.

Guppies are the most inexpensive fish for the uninitiated hobbyist—yet the male is one of the most colorful often called a "Rainbow Fish."

Whether you're initiated or an expert, you can depend on Neptune Aquarium for everything from the most common to the rarest exotic breed of fish. The largest inventory in the area!

Tankers take Stevenson 113-44

In probably one of the toughest tests of the season, the Northville girls varsity swim team held off a talented Stevenson squad to win 42-41.

"We anticipated that it would be a real good meet," Mustang swim coach Ben Lauber said. "We beat them by one point. It went right down to the wire, the final event."

"We had seven first-place finishes out of eleven. Stevenson put most of its strength right at the end like we thought they would. In the last race they scored nine points to our one. But we managed to just hold them off. There were some good times, but no records were set, which was surprising."

Northville got off to a good start right at the beginning of the meet as Tammy Selfridge, Allyson Farquhar, Sue Cahill and Laurie Sellen combined to record a 1:56.7 in the 200-yard medley. The time was good for first place. Stevenson took second and third in the race.

Selfridge was third with a time of 1:07.6.

Storm took another first, this time in the 100-yard freestyle. She clocked in with a time of :55.6. Sellen took third with a time of :58.5.

Stevenson took first in the 500-yard freestyle. Donovan took second with a time of 5:38.3.

Stevenson also took a first in the next event, the 100-yard backstroke. Selfridge was able to capture second place with a time of 1:07.7. Stevenson took third.

Allyson Farquhar managed to take another first for Northville, this time in the 100-yard breaststroke. Her time was 1:09.4. Stevenson took second and third.

The last event of the meet was the 400-yard freestyle relay. Stevenson took first and second place to capture nine points. The Northville team of Leslie Farquhar, Kristy Iversen, Donovan and Storm finished in third place with a time of 4:04.3. Northville had won by a point.

"Nancy Donovan had an exceptionally fine meet for us," Lauber said. "She took two thirds and a second which were important points for us. She improved her times in each event that she swam in."

Northville residents run in Detroit race

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

Fourteen Northville residents and two Northville school district teachers finished the Detroit Free Press International 26-mile marathon Sunday in Detroit.

Gene Kramer, a Northville resident and teacher at Plymouth Salem High school, finished 659th out of a field of 2,900 runners who finished the race.

Kramer ran the 26 mile, 384-yard course in three hours, 15 minutes and 10 seconds, beating his own last year's time of three hours and 18 minutes.

Other Northville finishers in the top 1,000 were: V. Barkoski, 30, with a time of three hours, 14 minutes and 14 seconds, placing 622nd; R. Brown, 36, placing 691st with a time of three hours, 16 minutes and 20 seconds; T. Pitzer, 39, finished 762nd with a time of three hours, 18 minutes and 55 seconds.

W.B. Mason, 38, placed 1,119th with a time of 3:31.15. D.M. Black, 31, placed 1,144th with a time of 3:32.13.

Ron Nuechterlein, 36, placed 1,288th with a time of 3:36.34. K. Gerber, 33, placed 1,797 with a time of 3:52.20. J. Monagle, 19, placed 1,807th with a time of 3:52.49.

B. Martin, 36, placed 1,615th with a time of 3:46.35. J. Gatti placed 1,617 with a time of 3:46.48.

Silver Springs teacher Tom Pallas finished in 3:34.09 to capture 1,528th place.

M.T. Healy, 37, took 1,883rd place with a time of 3:55.30. R. Luoma, 44, placed 2,316th with a time of 4:15.28.

Moraine Elementary teacher Karen Turner placed 2,330th with a time of 4:16.15.

J. Evans, 30, placed 2,741st with a time of 4:57.38.

More than 3,700 runners signed up to run the marathon. Gary Minty of East Lansing placed first with a time of 2:15.42. Douglas Kurtis, 27, of Novi placed 8th in the race with a time of 2:23.41.

Frosh Colts win

The Northville/Novi Colts freshman team lost a tough one to the Romulus Flyers last week, 19-13. The game was a battle for first place. If the Colts had won, they would have tied Romulus for the league lead.

The Colts took the kickoff and drove the length of the field for the score; an 11-yard run by Gary Harper. Heppner, Harper, Bob Smith and Jeff Harp all made big runs in the drive. The conversion attempt failed. The score was tied 13-13.

After a series of plays that saw the ball trade hands a few times, the Colts finally mounted an attack that netted them some points. Taking a Romulus punt, the Colts scored on a one-yard plunge by Brent Heppner, who had set up the score by ripping off a 40-yard run the play before.

NANCY DONOVAN

In the 200-yard freestyle event, Northville took first as Cahill swam a time of 2:01.3. Nancy Donovan claimed third with a time of 2:06.7.

Allyson Farquhar took a first in the 200-yard individual medley, clocking in at 2:14.9. Leslie Farquhar was third with a time of 2:24.3.

Kim Storm raced to a first-place finish in the 50-yard freestyle event, recording a time of :24.9. Sellen was third in :26.7.

Holly Raycraft recorded a second-place finish in the diving competition, earning 158.4 points. Stevenson took first and third.

Cahill came back after the diving to take a first in the 100-yard fly. She swam the event in a time of 1:01.4.

HOLLY RAYCRAFT

Northville also went up against Livonia Churchill last week. Livonia has a small swim team and the Mustangs had little trouble in disposing of them, 113-44.

Northville took nine of the possible 11 first place finishes. The win brings the Mustang's season record to 7-0 in dual meets.

... Golf

holes and that means a two or three hole difference from the front-nine," Blake said. A Mott golfer shot a 37 for the low score of the match.

"With just the league meet left to play, Northville and Plymouth Canton are tied for third in the Western Six conference, both with 5-5 records. Waterford Mott is in first place with an 8-2 mark while Farmington Harrison is in second with a record of 6-4. Walled Lake Western is in fifth place with a mark of 4-6 and Livonia Churchill is at the bottom of the pile with a record of 2-8.

Second in the regionals and a shot at the state title are fine ways to finish a season. But with a 5-5 mark, the Mustangs, last year's Western Six champs, have had a disappointing season.

"I'm somewhat disappointed," Blake said. "Talent-wise we should be in the top two of the league. Some of our matches have been a case of the other teams playing better than their averages and it just happened to be against us. We lost a couple of times when I thought that we should have won. We still have an outside chance of finishing first in the league meet. We're ready."

Mustangs corralled by Western 34-12

By REID CREAGER

The Walled Lake Western Warriors made it clear right from the start Friday night that there'd be no horsing around with the Northville Mustangs.

Perhaps still smarting from successive close losses at the hands of Livonia Churchill and Farmington Harrison—the two top football clubs in the Western Six Conference this year—Chuck Apap's men scored the first time they got their hands on the pigskin and kept pouring it on during a 34-12 victory.

Bruce Meyer's 80-yard touchdown run on the opening kick-off, the first of three scores by the senior halfback, complemented a superb offensive showing by junior Running Back Angelo Buttazzoni as both the Warriors and Mustangs evened their 1979 marks at 3-3.

Not only did the Western offense enjoy its finest showing this autumn at the expense of Northville, it also did a good job of containing Dennis Colligan's troops. The Warriors totalled 322 yards Friday, in contrast to 166 for the Mustangs, and out-gained their foes on the ground by a 306-45 margin.

It was Buttazzoni who was responsible for most of that damage. After being keyed on by Churchill and Harrison, the Warrior workhorse galloped for 211 yards on 29 carries and one touchdown Friday as Western broke out of its scoring drought with a vengeance.

On the Northville side, the only consoling aspect was that the game was over.

"Walled Lake played a super ballgame," Colligan said. "Their guys were well-coached, and much more ready to play than ours."

"We just got caught off guard," the Northville chieftain explained. Only half the first period was gone, yet we found ourselves down, 14-0. We had complete breakdowns...but we're not that bad of a team. It was just Walled Lake's ballgame, not ours."

The Warriors certainly made sure of that. Following the opening score, Western came right back minutes later with a five-yard run by Meyer that capped an eight-play, 40-yard drive. Mike Xenos' second straight conversion success made it 14-0.

In quarter number two, Buttazzoni took the ball and matters into his own hands, carrying the ball on five of the six plays during a 47-yard Warrior drive. His one-yard plunge—along with the ensuing point-after by Xenos—boosted the lead to 21-0.

However, the Mustangs got one of those scores back before halftime. Dave Greer surprised the Warrior defense with a 55-yard scoring bomb to Rob Marzoni, and a missed conversion try made it 21-6.

That was before Meyer completed his hat trick, though. He ambled 29 yards on a third-quarter TD run, and a Martin Saitua kick put the home club up by three touchdowns again, 28-6. Paul Burke tacked on a 35-yard scoring interception for the winners later in that period to end their scoring, and Joe Hamp's 16-yard run for Northville represented the final points of the night.

"Meyer just had a super night," Apap offered. "He showed us some great balance on both the first and third scores, stepping out of an arm tackle on that kick-off and going down on one hand before scoring the third."

The Western senior, who also provided some standout blocking, rushed eight times for 60 yards.

For Buttazzoni, Friday's contest was a return to the form he had flashed last year and early this year, when he was consistently running for 100 yards per game. The bullish back was held in check earlier by Churchill and Harrison—but then, so was the rest of the team.

Statistically speaking, Western's dominance was evident everywhere but in the passing figures. The Warriors enjoyed a 13-5 margin in first downs, and their total of 306 ground yards in 44 carries was in direct contrast to Northville's 45 yards on 22 running tries.

Western did surrender a couple of 40-plus passing plays, though, and Northville enjoyed a 121-16 margin in the aerial department as a result. Greer connected on six of 19 tosses and was intercepted twice.

JV gridders win 8-0

It wasn't much of a game offensively, but the Northville JV team will take the win anyway. The Mustangs downed Waterford 8-0 last Thursday to raise their record to 4-2.

The game was a defensive struggle throughout most of the contest with neither team able to mount any kind of a consistent attack. When the Mustangs did score, it was with an ease that made one wonder why they didn't do it more often in the game.

The first play was a pass from Tim McLaughlin to Chris Dimitroff that covered 25 yards. The next two pass attempts were incomplete. On the fourth play of the drive, McLaughlin and Dimitroff connected again, this time for a 37-yard bomb that ended in a Northville touchdown. Dimitroff then ran off of right tackle for the two-point conversion. That gave the Mustangs the lead and the game, 8-0.

Tennis team eliminated during Regionals

It was the first time this season the Northville tennis team played top quality opposition and it just happened to be on a day when the weather resembled the very worst in Arctic hospitality. The result was a regional tournament that saw a handful of shivering Mustangs make it to the semi-final rounds only to be eliminated.

"It was 38 degrees out Saturday morning, snowing and the wind was so strong that it held the nets out at a 45-degree angle," coach Uta Filkin said.

"The players cut the toes off of socks and put them on their hands as warmers. It was just miserable out."

Holly Sixt, in the first singles position for Northville, made it to the semi-final rounds. She drew a bye in the first round, and then beat Ypsilanti's Illene McCarty 6-3, 7-5 to advance to the semi's. There Sixt lost to Ann Arbor Huron High's Kelly Lazaar, who is ranked eighth in the state. The score was 6-2, 6-1.

Eve Englemeyer, Northville's number two singles, played in the first round, which took place in the morning when the weather was at its worst. "I couldn't have played in that weather," Filkin said. The result was an opening round loss to Ypsilanti's Char Ramsey, 6-0, 6-2.

Lisa Gejoff fared just as poorly at the third singles slot. She also played in the first round and lost to Betsy Moon of Plymouth Salem. The score was 6-0, 6-1.

Sheri Robbins, at fourth singles, made it to the semi-finals. Robbins disposed of Debbie Fisher, of Livonia Churchill, 6-1, 6-0 to win in the first round; Kathline Kitsen, from Plymouth Canton, 6-2, 7-5, in the second round; and then lost to Sook Han from Ann Arbor Pioneer, 6-1, 6-1, in the semi's.

The first doubles team of Stephanie Colovas and Lynn Herald had a bye in the first round, won the second 6-4, 6-4 over the team from Adrian, but then lost 7-5, 6-2 to the duo from Ann Arbor Huron.

Jenny Missel and Kim Hubbard lost at second doubles in the opening round to the team from Plymouth Canton, 6-7, 6-3 and 5-7. The Canton team was the only one to have beaten the Mustang pair during the regular season.

Debbie Spade and Jana Holloway drew a bye in the first round, but the third doubles unit had the unfortunate task of facing a highly regarded Ann Arbor Huron duo and lost 6-3, 6-0.

Hoopsters win

The Northville girls basketball team just keeps on winning. The Mustangs took their third game of the season, downing Walled Lake Western in overtime last week, 50-45. The win was the second league victory of the year, for Northville.

Western jumped out to a 9-8 lead in the first quarter, increased it to 21-17 by the half, 32-28 at the end of the third quarter but then fell behind in the fourth period, only to tie the game at the last few seconds of the game, 43-43, sending it into overtime.

Northville outscored Western 7-2 in the three-minute extra time period.

Jacque Nixon again took over scoring leadership for the Mustangs. She has led the team in scoring in each of the Northville games this season and against Western her 15 points were again tops. But it was the clutch shooting of senior Sue Townsend that helped the Mustangs to victory in this contest. Townsend hit nine of 14 free throws in the game, five in the fourth quarter and two in the overtime period. Overall, the Wildcats hit on 20 of 36 from the charity stripe. "We had much better balance in scoring in this game," coach Dave Schoopp said of the Mustangs, "but our free throw shooting was the difference for us."

Kim McGuire scored nine points for Northville and Heidi Wagner scored seven.

"It was a combination of Nixon and Townsend," Schoopp said. "They took over in the third and fourth quarters. These kids are a gutsy team. They played well. I'm very happy with the way they came back. Actually, I thought we should have won it in the fourth quarter, but Western tied it up and we went into overtime."

Northville had one other game last week, a league match against Livonia Churchill. Northville lost 55-35.

"Churchill had two big girls and we couldn't shut off their inside game," Schoopp said.

Northville played Churchill even for two quarters. Unfortunately, the two quarters the teams played unevenly resulted in a Churchill lead that Northville couldn't overcome.

Volleyball sign-up set

Registration for co-ed volleyball (returning teams only) will take place from Monday, November 12 to Friday, November 16. Registration for new teams will be between Monday, November 19 and Friday, November 23. Registration will be on a first-come, first serve basis. Only 16 teams will be accepted for the league. The team entry fee is $80. There is an additional fee of $5 for each non-resident player.

Registration for men's basketball will end Friday, November 9. Only eight teams will be accepted. Entry fee is $240 per team. Registration will be on a first come, first serve basis.

Because of the low turnout Thursday, October 11, there will not be a women's basketball league in Northville this year. The rec department now plans to have an open night at the gym for women interested in basketball and volleyball. This would begin in January. The open gym will take place only if there is enough interest. If you think you would make use of the open gym, or just have questions, call the rec department at 349-0203.

An organizational meeting for the ski club will take place on Thursday, October 25. The club is open to kids between the ages of 12 and 18. The meeting will be at 4 p.m. at the Community Center.

There will be a regular commission meeting tonight at 8 p.m. at the Community Center.

Open swim takes place at these hours: Monday and Wednesday, 8:30-9:30 p.m.; Saturday, noon-1 p.m. and 4-5 p.m. Adult open swim takes place on Saturdays at 1-2 p.m.

SPORTS TALK

Which event do you find more interesting, the World Series or the Super Bowl?

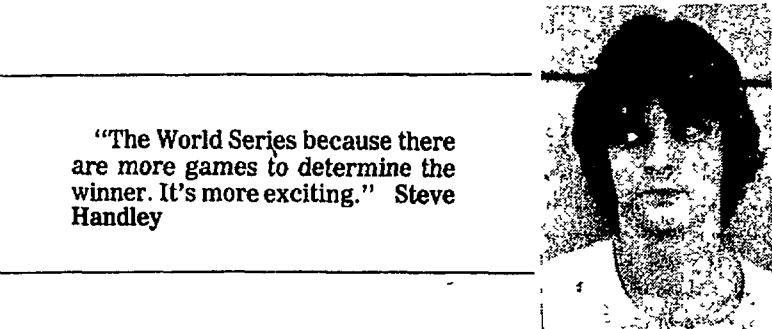

"My favorite is the Super Bowl because there's more action. Football has more hitting and violence."
John Heary

"The Super Bowl is more interesting because it takes less time and the teams have only one chance."
Jana Holloway

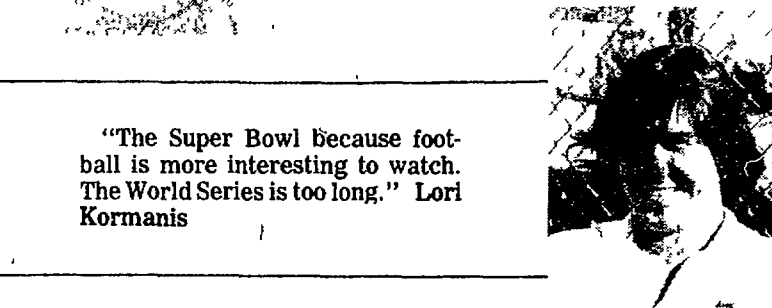

"The World Series is more interesting because I find the sport of baseball more interesting than football. The baseball season is longer than football's and there is more of a build-up for the World Series because of it."
Tom Doyle

"The World Series because there are more games to determine the winner. It's more exciting."
Steve Handley

"The Super Bowl because the football players have better bodies. Actually, I don't really care."
Eve Engelmeyer

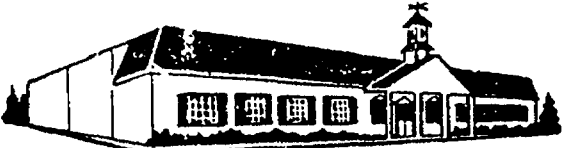

"The Super Bowl because football is more interesting to watch. The World Series is too long."

Mustang soccer team takes two

The Northville varsity soccer team needed a win in the worst way. Two games ago the then-undefeated Mustangs tied, and then last week lost its first contest, to Andover.

"In the last three games, we've only won once," coach Ron Meteyer said. "We wanted a win and we wanted it badly. We were really up. The night was cold; good weather for soccer."

It wasn't good for Franklin. The Mustangs took out their frustrations in a 2-0 win.

"Franklin was a very physical team," Meteyer said. "We had heard that they were a dirty team, that if it got rough, they would push it. There were two yellow cards in the game, one against their center-fullback and one against Rick Marshall. There were a lot of cheap shots. The refereeing wasn't all that great. There were a lot of things that they got away with."

With 26 minutes passed in the game, Kevin Swayne hit on a shot that put Northville on top 1-0. In the second half John Davis took a pass, charged up the middle and shot, sending the ball into the net from the side. The score went to 2-0 and that was the game.

Northville also went up against Notre Dame last week. The two teams had met earlier in the season at the Detroit Country Day Soccer Tournament, and Northville had won 2-0. This time there was only one change; Notre Dame scored. Northville still won by a two goal margin, however, 3-1.

"Notre Dame has improved a great deal since we saw them at Country Day," Meteyer said. "They are mainly freshmen and sophomores on the team and they're learning fast."

Swayne scored the first goal of the contest at the 22 minute mark of the game. Gregg May got an assist on the play. Swayne hit the second goal of the contest also, this time on a header. Rick Marshall got an assist.

The Northville B squad lost a 2-1 contest against the Notre Dame JV. Jeff Dyer scored the lone Northville goal.

The Northville team now stands at 9-1-1 on the year.

I look for trouble- and sometimes the trouble is no insulation.

I'm a Consumers Power gas serviceman, and it's my job to troubleshoot. If people smell gas in their homes, they call me and I get there fast.

But sometimes while I'm working in a customer's home, I find more trouble--like no insulation. You'd be surprised to learn how many homes I go into that aren't adequately insulated.

Some customers tell me they can't afford insulation. But what they really can't afford is to pay for all the natural gas it's costing them by not insulating. Over the long winter, insulation doesn't cost money--it saves money and scarce energy. It's the best thing you can do to your home, and for your gas bill. Believe me, I know. I get a gas bill at my home every month just like you.
