Vernon, Ayres, Johnston are winners here Tuesday

Two incumbents were returned to office and the first woman council member since 1969 was elected by Northville city electors Tuesday.

Re-elected were Mayor Paul R. Vern, who was unopposed, and Counman Stanley Johnston.

A total of 1,048 votes were cast for a 26-percent turnout of the electorate.

Leading the tally for council was Carolann Ayres, who captured a fouryear seat with a total vote of 531. Johnston, , who won another four-year term, picked up 484 votes.

With her election, Ayres becomes the first woman to serve on the council since Beatrice Carlson wrapped up two consecutive four-year terms in 1969.

Former councilman Paul Folino lost out to Johnston by only 20 votes — 484 to

In the third spot, with 292 votes, was Jerome Mittman, followed by Kevin Hartshorne with 133. Neither Mittman nor Hartshorne had been as active in government here as had the other can-

Not surprisingly, Vernon was way out in front of the pack with 850 votes.

Although he was unopposed, he did not come away from the polling place with a perfect mark. A write-in was cast for John Genitti.

The race for council generated plenty of suspense mid-way through the counting process. With Precincts 1 and 2, plus absentee ballots counted, Folino led Johnston by two votes, 279 to 277, while Ayres trailed in the third spot with 234 votes.

Precincts 1 and 2 are located in the southern half of the city, in Wayne County where both Johnston and Folino

But when Precincts 3 and 4, which are located in Oakland County — north of Base Line were counted, Ayres garnered a very strong 297 votes to snatch the lead and the victory. Ayres lives in the northern section of the city.

Johnston mustered 207 votes in Precincts 3 and 4, compared with Folino's 185 votes.

Interestingly, four of the candidates Johnston, Folino, Ayres and Mittman - live in the same subdivision, Lexington Commons, although in different

The lack of precipitation inside the building is only a small comfort though NHS teachers, students and administrators. Last week it was leaks. The week before that it was cement floors. This week a tar wagon is parked in front of the cafeteria. When will the predictions," said Principal George Aune Monday.

'If these projects had been completed last summer we would have had a better beginning than we did. Other difficulties surface when people are disgruntled by working conditions. Naturally it affects morale of staff and students," Aune said.

Re-roofing, re-flooring, painting and lighting were to have been completed by September 4. As of this week the painting and lighting are finished but the re-flooring and re-roofing projects are at best 90 percent complete, Aune

"With the floor they still have the north side of the auditorium to do. They have to do the B wing on the lower level

"The roofers are working above the cafeteria and above my head (administrative offices) right now," Aune said. "Yes, it is noisy if they are working overhead. The tar wagon in front of the cafeteria gets a little noxious. But the painting is complete and new radiator covers will be installed when the floor is completed."

Aune said a project to replace lockers in the boy's locker room is scheduled to be completed this winter, along with a screen which divides the boy's gym locker room from the varsity locker

Fire alarm questioned

State fire marshalls will be investigating Northville High School to check if the school's fire alarm system is in violation of state law, The Record learned Tuesday.

By law, the school must have several working pull stations around the building as well as a central pull sta-

Superintendent of Schools Larry Nichols said Tuesday the school's builtin fire system does not work. The school is using a system where if there is a fire or other emergency a student runs down to the central office where a special code is rung on the school bell. NHS Principal George Aune said

Tuesday that the school does have a system for notifying students and teachers in case of a fire or other emergency. When asked if he would explain exactly how the system works, Aune said he had no comment, saying he did not want to get into a debate in the newspaper over the fire system. Aune said he believed the bell system meets fire regulations. But Detective Sergeant Walter Davenport of the State Fire Marshall's office said if the building's pull stations are not working the state fire marshall has the power under Fire Prevention Public Act 207 to require immediate ing something as you can get without actually doing it."

That was the observation of Mayor Paul Vernon Monday night as Northville City Council considered in public hearing a request for a non-exclusive, 15-year cable television franchise.

All members of council appeared to favor granting of the franchise but they decided to delay their approval until verbally suggested changes have been written into the proposed franchise or-

That decision is expected at the next meeting, November 19.

Spokesmen for the cable TV company making the request, Omnicom, indicated they were in complete agreement with the suggested changes.

For example, the wording is to be changed to include the library and all other public facilities, along with schools and the municipality, for use of a local television channel.

Also, Northville is to receive three percent of gross revenues except for advertising revenues.

Spokesmen for Northville schools and the public library cautioned council to be certain that the franchise specifically provides for local programming for school and library.

Representing the schools were Nancy Soper, director of instruction, and Board Trustee Douglas Whitaker. Representing the library was Librarian Anne Mannisto.

Whitaker said he interpreted the franchise as suggesting "proposed" local services and not guaranteed services. Omnicom spokesmen, however,

"We came about as close to approv- said local programming "is guaranteed."

Concerning territorial restriction. Omnicom said that no area within the city would be excluded from the company's service area. Sparsely populated areas of the township, however, might not be serviced, it was

When Whitaker questioned why 35percent saturation is necessary before local programming is to be offered, Omnicom said an audience is necessary to warrant this service. Whitaker, however, took the position that local programming might encourage an au-

During a discussion of rates, council concluded that it ought not to get into the business of setting, approving or rejecting rate changes. It agreed with Councilman J. Burton DeRusha's observation that the market place ought to determiné rates.

Concerning rates, Omnicom spokesmen pledged the company's rate will always be on the low side and that it will "not come back and constantly ask for rate increases."

The basic monthly rate of $3.10 is guaranteed for the first two of the 15year franchise, Omnicom said.

Under the franchise, the council will have the right to review rate changes but it will not have the final decision.

In reply to a question by Jerome Mittman, Omnicom explained that where utilities are presently underground Omnicom will place its cable underground. The landscape will be returned to its original appearance following installation, Omnicom promised.

Omnicom plans to lease the existing Edison poles and right of ways.

Township may decide chartering Thursday charter form of government?

The answer to that question may come tomorrow, November 8, when township trustees gather at the township hall, 41600 Six Mile for their monthly meeting.

Trustees were split 3-3 on a motion to adopt the charter system at a meeting October 11.

Trustees William Zapke, David Mitchell and Clerk Clarice Sass favored the charter form, while Trustee James Nowka. Treasurer Lee Holland and Supervisor Don Thomson were oppos-

Will Northville township adopt the ed. (Trustee John Swienckowski was absent.)

> Some board members wanted additional information on the charter system, while others felt now was the time to join the 55 other Michigan townships which have gone charter.

> The board, if it decides to go charter, may choose from two options.

Members can pass a resolution to incorporate as a charter township or put the issue to a vote of the people.

The township can adopt the charter form of government by resolution if township residents do not ask for a referendum vote on the issue.

City salaries hiked

With union contracts now ratified, the Northville City Council Monday night hiked the salaries of its non-union employees-including five executives.

Heading the list was the salary of the city manager, Steven Walters. It was boosted from $32,490 to $35,414, with other benefits to remain the same.

Salary hikes of other executives in-

Ted Mapes, DPW superintendent, increased from $27,955 to $30,826. Joan McAllister, city clerk, increased from $18,304, to $20,509.

Rod Cannon, police chief, up from $28,038 to $30,202.

Council also decided to grant eight-percent increases to the DPW foreman, the city manager's secretary, and to Harry and Betty Orr, Allen Terrace maintenance couple. Non-union employees also will be receiving the hospital-dental-optical coverage from Equitable. In addition, they will receive the increase in longevity pay given to the DPW/clerical employees, and the mileage allowance increase. Furthermore, although the 13th holiday is not to be given, non-union employees may take compensatory time.

Fran Yoakum, housing director, up from $17,950 to $19,968.

TOP OF THE BURGER does a brisk business at lunch so ISEP students who work in the restaurant must have the patience and talent to deal with job pressures. Above left, aide Francine Beatty helps cashier Gloria, who is operating the new cash register. Above, ISEP student Liz is in charge of making chef's salads. Above right, head chef Robert makes a cheeseburger which must meet the high standards demanded by cooking teacher Kevin Miko, standing behind him.

It is lunchtime at "Top of the Burger." At 11 a.m. the customers stream in and place their orders with the waitress. Back in the kitchen the fries are simmering, the hamburgers are being flipped and salads are being made. The service is quick, efficient and friendly.

"Should I flip this?" asks Robert, pointing to a sizzling hamburger on the

"If you think it's ready," comes the matter-of-fact reply from manager

Robert studies the hamburger for a few seconds then nods his head. It is ready. He neatly flips the meat over and scoops it onto a bun. Then he smiles.

To get this job as one of nine employees of "Top of the Burger" Robert has had to go through several. cooking classes. His is a prestige job because "Top of the Burger" is located in Burger school and run by Northville's Institutions' Special Eduction Program (ISEP) students from Plymouth Center for Human Development. And Robert is one of those students.

Though the restaurant is going on its third year at Burger school, it recently got a commercial grill, steamer and French frier and had a "grand opening" last week to celebrate the new equipment.

The program is the biggest and most successful of three vocational education programs run by Voc-Ed Director Kathy Edgar. She said that the program not only results in a good restaurant but gives unestimable benefits to those who work in it.

"The students working here are in advanced cooking class," Edgar said. 'What we try to do here is to provide training for students in a commercial setting in the world of work. In this job they meet the public. They experience job frustration. They learn the skills which will help them be more indepen-

Cooking teacher Miko is not an easy boss to work for, Edgar said. And two aides, Francine Beatty and Jan Stuef help students but students actually do the work. Edgar said the program gives the participating students a better selfconcept, real skills and a feeling of accomplishment.

The Burger school, with the highestfunctioning Plymouth Center students, is the only ISEP school so far to have a restaurant; Edgar said. Less advanced students operate a breakfast program at Burger, Monday through Thursday: Edgar also offers a "survival cooking" class to handicapped students at Taft and Bryant school to teach simple food skills such as making toast and soup and washing dishes.

"Top of the Burger" makes a small profit which goes back into capital improvements. Over the past few years the restaurant has purchased tables, kitchen equipment, uniforms, napkin holders and dishes, Edgar said.

Lunch at "Top of the Burger" is open to the public, though it is usually patronized by staff and school bus drivers, Edgar said.

Hours for breakfast are Monday through Thursday 8 to 9 a.m. Lunch hours Monday through Thursday are 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Burger school is on the north side of Ford Road just east of Merriman in Garden City.

Why wait? Now is a great time to select Here's Why: Trees enter a state of dormancy in the winter season; their vascular systems are frozen and inactive. Careful digging and moving at this time of year is much easier on the tree than when it has foliage and an active vascular system. In general, trees dug in the winter will produce more foliage the following summer. Our tree farm will be open to the public Saturday, Nov. 10th and 17th, Hurry! After Nov. 17th, an appointment will be required.

enlargement of the Old Mill Restaurant have been dealt a temporary setback.

The owners of the restaurant informed city council this week that an anticipated $900,000 loan has been shelved by the lending institution.

'No one is more disappointed than we are over the unfortunate change of 'ents," said Charles N. Simkins, attorney for the owners Constantine Kitrakis and Daniel Collins. "They do, however, have every intention of completing this project, and will do so as soon as the necessary financing bécomes available."

Meanwhile, Kitrakis and Collins intend to make those necessary improvements to allow use of the liquor license they are acquiring. They have been assured "interim" monies can be tained for these improvements. The Magna Mortgage Corporation

Plans for major renovation and through which the loan application has been made concluded "the long term financing should be processed for funding during the second and third guarter of 1980.

"Furthermore, interim monies will be obtained to effectively implement your liquor licenses," Magna added.

Magna said it was impressed with the Old Mill project "but due to the present financial climate in the economy we recommend that you postpone construction of the planned renovation until the money market straightens out with livable rates.'

Although members said they understood the reasoning behind the delay, they expressed the hope that the project could get off the ground as soon as the money market improves.

The owners indicated that improvements required by the Liquor Control Commission will approximate

In a related traffic matter, council was presented with a petition by Paul Folino requesting speed bumps on Clement in Lexington Commons.

Folino, however, explained that citizens would welcome a good alternative traffic control measure.

He said excessive speed, stop sign violations, driving over of lawns, etc. have prompted the citizens call for some means of control.

Councilman Stanley Johnston explained that the speed bumps placed on Rogers and High "are only experimental" and until it has been determined if they are satisfactory the councilman advised patience. "I'd hate to see a rash of speed bump requests until we are sure the experimental ones are working," he said.

The petition request was referred to the police department for study and recommenda-

icago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it. True, all hearing problems are not alike . . .

and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this free model now, and wear it in The privacy of your own home. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny mearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an bunce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 12063, Beltone Electronics. #201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

Parlor

Final approval of plans for a 48-lane bowling alley to be built in Northville township is still months away.

But Wil-O-Mac Corporation came a step closer to that goal October 30 when Northville planners gave the plan their final okay.

The commissioners voted unanimously to approve the plan, which calls for the bowling center to be built on six acres of land adjoining the Oasis Gólf Center on Five Mile near I-275.

The project, which will cost about $3,000,000, will take about 10 months to Construction was scheduled to begin this month, but has been delayed until at least January, 1980.

County reform needed

Wayne County - the third largest duplication of services being provided dounty in the United States — is bankrupt. It has a projected deficit of $19.5 million. County employees have seen paydays come and go without a check. Now thousands of those employees have been laid off and essential services have been cut to the bone. And while Wayne County wallows in a scal quagmire, disagreement conthues here in Lansing over how best to solve the county's problems.

Wayne County government is comrised of a 27-member board of comissioners, a three-member board of miditors, six other positions directly ected by the voters, and with some 26 pards and commissions appointed by ge county board and exercising varyifig degrees of autonomy. What has been produced is an ineffective form of overnment with a diffusion of authoriwhich makes it impossible to hole hy one individual or agency accounable for what happens.

The county's indebtedness has inreased from $2.2 million in fiscal 1975to the present projected $19.5 million eficit for the current fiscal year.

As a result, the Michigan Finance Commission has refused to approve hore borrowing and Governor Milliken has refused to support any more state aid until Wayne County comes up with a meaningful government reform to put before the people of Wayne County. I support this position.

But while some form of government reorganization and infusion of state aid may be needed to solve the immediate problem. I am concerned that the egislature, through passage of a bill calling for government reorganization, pay be only putting a cheap paint job ph a worn out car which needs a major

Under General Provisions of the Zoning Ordinance, Article 5, Sec 5.02 a and b It states that (a) "No new use or change shall be made ... of ... or land, or part thereof, except in conformity with the provisions of this or-dinance, (b) ... nor shall any land be used, filled or excavated, which does not comply with all the district requiations established by this Ordinance for a District in which the building or land is located.

A soil erosion permit for construction is required in an area that is within 500 feet of a lake or streem.

The City Engineer advised that the owner, Mr. Leon Bonner, needs to obtain a soil erosion permit from Wayne County, an excavation permit from the City of Northville and approval from the Planning Commission for the Project. He also suggested a protective fence be placed around the ponds. He commented on the spring water to the pond could be diverted in Denton Park to go into the storm sewer line which drains from Orchard Drive and goes across the Bonner property on an ease-

Your Neighbor's Load

The way to Heaven is weary, It's a rocky, rocky road But it helps to be a Brother And share your neighbor's load.

As you reach to take the hand Of a little, toddling child And help him learn to stand. Do you know a fallen neighbor?

Do not be there to cast the stone; Be sure God understands it:

At Schoolcraft

Mix food, English

It isn't often that Schoolcraft College's Culinary Arts Department combines with the English Department to produce a course.

But that's just what's appening with "Breakfast and Poetry," à three-credit-hour literature course to be offered this winter semester at Schoolcraft Collège, beginning January 8. "Breakfast and Poetry'' will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9:30 to 11:00 a.m., throughout the 16week term.

A's Joanne Stein. English instructor, explained, "Three of our breakfast-noetry meetings will take place in Waterman Center. with menus planned by Chef Robert Breithaupt. assistant dean for culinary arts. All other class' meetings will be breakfasts too. We'll have a room with tables in the Liberal Arts Building, and we'll all contribute to the menus." The course will be an introduction to reading and appreciating poetry. Besides reading a wide range of poetry from an anthology, each student will be able to pursue something that personally interests him or her. whether it be collecting poems on a particular subject, studying the works of a particular poet, creating "picture poems," or even writing some sonnets.

Prospective students may enroll by mail-in registration until November 23, or by coming in person for advanced registration December 17-18, Regular registration will be held next January 2-3.

Dance policy remains intact

A Northville High School dance policy barring students who do not go to NHS from attending NHS after-game dances will remain in effect, NHS Assistant Principal Barbara Campbell said Fri-

Outside students accompanied by a NHS student may attend the homecoming dance, Christmas dance, the winter formal and the senior prom. But Campbell said mixers held after football and basketball games will only be open to NHS students.

"As a school employee, I don't want the responsibility for running a teen club," Campbell said. "I do not have the staff, facility or interest in running a teen club," she said.

She said that after-game dances are difficult to control because students come straight from athletic events. Students she does not know may not succumb to controls over behavior.

She said that the school is under no obligation to get extra chaperones or facilities to control outsiders.

Further, she said the facilities at NHS are too small for huge dances, and that allowing outsiders into dances brings more trouble from the parking lot, more drunks, more dope and more uncontrollable behavior.

"I am under no illusion I can handle that kind of thing," Campbell said. Guest passes would not change the problems, she maintained, because students just write false names on the passes. And she cannot make exceptions for one student guest without allowing everyone, she said. Up to this year, there has been no policy one way or the other dealing with outside students at after-game dances. But Campbell said that the community now is becoming much different than it

"The guest passes covering kids and dances in 1973 were different than in 1979. Kids change. Behavior changes.

"In 1973 there were fewer people in this town. But now there are so many new kids in town. Every year Northville moves more into a sprawling metropolis. There is a big difference between small town kids and big city suburban kids."

Many NHS students have protested the policy, claiming that student clubs who sponsor the after-game dances will lose money with a drop in attendance. They are still arguing that students should be allowed to bring guests to the bi-monthly dances.

Sophomores are selling bird seed

The sale is for the birds.

That is, the sophomore class at Northville High School is selling wild bird seed from now until November 16.

Students are taking orders door to door or the seed can be ordered by calling Matt Wright at 349-6646, Karen Patteson at 349-7163 or Kim Smith at 349-0999, all after 3:30 p.m. weekdays or on weekends.

A 20-pound bag of the seed costs $4 and a 25pound bag costs $5. The sophomore class will get a portion of the revenues to use for class projects.

If you place an order, it will take two to three weeks for delivery, Matt Wright said.

The arguments for bailing out Chrysler are overwhelming.

-140,000 Chrysler employees could lose their jobs;

—up to 300,000 employees of Chrysler supplier firms could be without work;

-an already shaky economy would be dealt a severe blow if the company were permitted to fail;

—unemployment compensation, welfare, food stamps and health care could cost the government more than 10 times the $1.5 billion needed to keep Ghrysler afloat;

in its loan guarantees to Lockheed and the City of New York the federal government managed to come out with a small profit without investing a dime.

—even if Chrysler falls, the delaying tactic could be less eastly than no effort at all.

So why is it that a businessdriented devotee of free enterprise feels no enthusiasm for President Carter's decision to give a business more help than even the company had hoped it would receive?

Why the gnawing discomfort over a billion or so in guarantees? Like the reformed alcoholic who recalls spilling more booze than the average drunk consumes, the government can point to far less noble causes into which it has poured billions.

It's the price Chrysler must pay for a chance to succeed. And it's all tangled up with the removal of the risk of failure, which somehow takes the edge off the thrill of achieving success.

And it's Senator Riegle saying Chrysler will perform better with the government looking ever its shoulder ... like the government watches the postal service and Amtrak.

It's Representative Conyers insisting upon an amendment to the government's loan guarantee act to prohibit Chrysler from closing any of its facilities without government approval ... plus a stipulation that the company cannot close its Dodge-Main plant.

It's Economist John Kenbeth Galbraith suggesting the United States must emulate Brifain, France and Italy and "recognize that no large corporation is allowed to fail."

Pursell leaping to the defense of government loan guarantees for failing business almost as though the risk of loss rests with government and not the people.

It's President Carter in an election year jumping in with both feet to make certain his challenger, one of the nation's biggest spenders of federal dollars, doesn't gain a political edge by suggesting more should be given.

And, yes, it's appointing a union president to the company's board of directors. Can you imagine naming Henry Ford a director of UAW?

In the tradition of collective bargaining and unionmanagement relationship it's like assigning the fox to hen house guard duty.

It might not be a bad idea if through the years there had been more public indication that union leadership is truly sympathetic towards the problems of management.

Just once following an announcement of agreement between management and labor it would be reassuring to hear a union chief declare "we have an excellent contract ... now, men, it's our responsibility to work hard to build an excellent product ... we must help the company succeed so that our next contract will be even better."

Maybe Chrysler never had a chance even with the best management. If this is the case, we will learn our lesson at a cost that will be many times more than $1.5 billion. Government does not abandon a loser readily.

A government-Chrysler partnership hangs as a cloud, not a beacon, for the future of free enterprise.

Of course, we must hope for the best.

But wouldn't it be nice if there were another way ... a means whereby business breathed life back into itself.

I've always thought the spirit of free enterprise is captured in the words to "Hey, Look Me Over ... lend me an ear. Fresh out of clover and mortgaged up to here. But don't pass the plate folks, don't pass the cup. I figure whenever you're down and out, the only way is up."

Now, look what they've done to my song, Ma.

Mayor Paul Vernon brought representatives of Northville Downs and the Driving Club together last week in an effort to promote cooperation for future improvements at the local harness racing facility.

The Downs-Driving Club (tenant-landlord) relationship has been strained by failure to agree on what track improvements should be made, where, when and by whom.

The mayor thinks it is imperative that a program for long range improvements be made known to the racing commissioner to assure future racing dates.

Some progress was made as the Driving Club said it was ready to provide up to 200 additional parking spaces. But expensive parking structures and additional grandstands must be part of the package.

So another session is slated for November 20 when results of a parking and sewer study are known. The study was jointly financed by the city, Downs and Driving Club.

Speaking for Myself

Sparky Anderson: success or flop?

RICK TRUDEAU

SUCCESS

I certainly feel that Sparky Anderson has done a fine job since he took over as manager of the Detroit Tigers. One of the major reasons is that he has attempted to eliminate job complacency within the team that his predecessors never attempted to do. By his use of different line ups, he has generated competition for most of the different positions.

This was the key to the success of the great Yankee teams under the tutelage of one Casey Stengel. The threat of job security is a great motivator for all of us and even more so among the coddled professional athletes. It can do nothing but improve the caliber of their performances.

Another area that he has done an excellent job in is that he is not sitting back offensively, waiting for the long ball and the big inning. That may be fine in the friendly confines of Tiger Stadium, but what about the eighty-plus other games that they play on the road?

eighty-plus other games that they play on the road?

He is having his players move the runner over, steal bases, execute the hit and run, and take the extra base. These are things that make baseball exciting and this is what he is doing, creating an atmosphere of excitement with the hope that it carries over to the players.

The last thing to remember about Sparky, is that he is a proven winner. He's been there and knows what it takes to get there again.

Ken Butler Walled Lake Central Baseball Coach

FLOP-

George "Sparky" Anderson is one of the best showmen in baseball. And why not? You can be a heck of a showman when you have great personnel and win. But Sparky does not have anyone in Detroit like Pete Rose, Johnny Bench, Tony Perez, George Foster or Joe Morgan to insert into the line up.

Little difference exists between the managers in the big leagues as far as baseball knowledge goes. Any manager, maybe even a high school coach, could have led the Reds to a championship. Sparky was not the reason for Cincinnati's success; the Reds have a great organization from top to bottom.

An old saying dictates that "You are as strong as your weakest link." The Detroit organization has many weak links from their scouting system at the bottom to Jim Campbell, the general manager, at the top. Campbell has been around Detroit for a long time and for a long time Detroit has been a loser.

Sparky Anderson is not the answer to Detroit's problems. He's a good manager and can communicate with his players. But he will be a flop in Detroit, as were so many other good managers, unless there is a change in the Tiger organization. Until that time, the fans of Detroit will not experience the showmanship that the Cincinnati fans have enjoyed for so many years.

Like wine that grows better as it ages, 60 our musical favorites of the Forties and Fifties sound better than ever.

But to hear my kids talk you'd think the wine has turned to vinegar. Not long ago, for example, they snickered about the old man's taste when he savored an old favorite, "Dance Ballerina, Dance."

They snickered again Sunday when our favorite radio host, Ted Strasser, delighted us by playing the Big Band sounds.

So it shouldn't have come as a shock when the kids gave us that "so what" response upon learning from their father that Jerry Murad's Harmonicats are to play at Northville's Marquis Theatre this coming weekend.

"Who?" they asked.

That their father had collected the Cats' records as a teenager and now was aglow because Murad turns out to be a home-town resident only confirmed their suspiciion that the frost already is on the pumpkin.

"Imagine, just imagine, Jerry Murad lives in Northville," I blabbed.

"So what?"

So I rang up Jerry Murad, that handsome young star of my memory, only to be told that he's a grandfather now and that one of his children, an only daughter, is 31.

Time flies. The daughter was named after the hit recording that I and a whole nation went bananas over — Peg O' My Heart.

His oldest son is a ski advisor for Hudson's and his youngest, 25, is a rock artist.

Although the Harmonicats continue to record, to play on stages across the United States and to star on television, they are no longer traveling as much as they once did.

The Cats' base remains in Chicago and Murad commutes between here and the Windy City regularly. The other members of the trio live in Chicago.

New school budget, pranksters under fire here

the Editor:
The Northville Board of Education has to be declared the winner of the Golden Fleece Award for recently approving the proposed 1979-80 budget. For one thing, enrollment has declined during the past three years, but the board has continued to hire many new administrators. The current budget continues this trend toward escalating bureaucratic growth.

Moreover, the new budget fails to olve the problems at the high school. Instead money for teaching supplies, textbooks, and other instructional components are reduced significantly, while the amount for secondary administration increases by a whopping $121,962. In other words, learning priorities for students are cut to provide funds for administrative growth.

Increasingly the burden falls on local taxpayers. While state aid has decreased, local property assessments have ineased by 14 percent, due to the increase in the SEV factor, as revealed by the new Superintendent. Therefore, the local property tax will generate $794,050 more than last year, which amounts to an increase of about four

Furthermore, the school district lost $300,000 as a direct result of the Main Street 78 project in downtown Northville. Consequently, other local taxnavers were forced to make up this loss 11/2 mills. Add up the reduction in state aid, loss of money from the downtown project, waste in the budget, and we can observe about six mills going down the drain.

How could a total operating budget of $8.593,111 and the ISEP $6½ million budget be approved without the presence of Marge Sliger and Richard Barron? They were both absent when a grand total of $15 million was approv-

Those attending the meeting observed the lack of consideration given to the citizens expressing opinions about learning priorities. Instead we were ignored, while the board marched through one item after the other, without providing reasons for escalating costs. Will the board learn anything from the budgeting crisis in Wayne County? Isn't it a little strange? Every community that abounds us has had growth in their school enrollment, and with all the new subdivisions being built throughout our community you can't tell me our new residents are all senior citizens, childless and on Medi-Care.

Why hasn't our school population increased in proportion to our growth? And if there is more children living now in this community than ever before ... and I believe this to be true ... how many are enrolled in private or parochial schools, and why?

Yes, the board got their 8.5 millions plus 6.5 million dollars for ISEP, or a total of 15 million dollars, and if we asked a question, the answer was repeatedly, "... at this point in time" or ... "we'll look into it" ... or ... "Let's go to the next item."

Questions like:

"Instructional expenditures are $4,766,780, an increase of $383,399 from last year (the largest items - Special Education, $100,000, and fringe benefits, $178,000, causing this increase) -... and whereas noninstructional expenditures is $3,580,612 an increase of $164,069 and ad-

To the residents of Northville Commons and especially to the parents who allowed their teen-age sons to roam through the commons on Halloween night. Don't you sometimes wonder what they might be up to, or do you fall back on the old cliche "boys will be boys" or maybe you're just too busy to

I personally know what three of your sons were doing. They were causing havoc by knocking down helpless children, tearing their costumes and stealing their sacks of candy. Was this premeditated? Of course it was; these unforgiving pranks were the topic of discussion at Northville High for the past week.

You say to yourself, it couldn't be my son. Well, if he has blond hair, or wears a light blue warm-up jacket with red and white stripes on the sleeves, or a dark blue wind breaker, or a down vest, you have a likely candidate.

We wonder who drives over our lawns, blows up our mailboxes, or destroys the Commons recreation facilities. After tonight's incident I no longer have any doubt that the biggest offenders are our own teen-agers, and not outsiders.

In retrospect, I can only thank God that I am sitting here this Halloween evening writing down my frustrations, rather than what may have happened if I had been close enough to catch one of the boys. You see, I was within a 100 yard range of the incident walking my younger child when the incident occurred.

you really care about your children, go to Jim Haynes. After working with think twice before you send them out alone next year.

The slow repairs have affected the morale of students and staff and administrators at the high school, Aune admitted. But he said that students are learning in spite of the atmosphere. 'It is unfortunate that this work was not completed before school started," he said. "On the other hand, students are learning and the routines of normalcy go on. That says a lot for the professionalism of our staff and the tenacity of our students — some say they are contitioned - but in general we continue despite obstacles.'

Aune said that voters who passed a million dollar bond issue last year for capital improvements have a right to be impatient with the slow pace of the improvements.

repairs to be made. if repairs are not made, Davenport said, his office has the power to evacuate and close the school, arrest the principal, or both.

"The school has to have a fire alarm system that can be pulled by anyone," Davenport said. "There must be other pull stations around the building. If there isn't, or if they are not working, that particular setup in in violation."

Davenport said his office would be contacting Northville City Fire Chief Jim Allen's office and would be investigating the matter.

Nichols said Tuesday the district is currently looking for a contractor who can repair the fire system at the school.

When contacted Tuesday, Fire Chief Allen said that local fire departments are not required to make yearly inspections of schools, but that he believed state fire marshalls did.

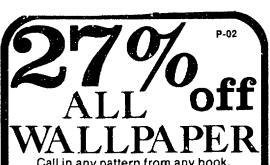

But Davenport said the state fire marshall's office is only required to inspect new or remodeled buildings. NHS was built 20 years ago.

Questions about the NHS fire alarm system were first raised at a recent board meeting by the citizen's group "We Care" head Nick Serkaian.

About 50 women get in shape to music every Monday afternoon in the class in American Elementary gym

Women's movement-shaping up to music

"Kick-one, two, three, four. Raise the body slowly. Be aware of the body...

In slimnastics, slim-and-trim, fitness or just plain exercise classes local women are following such instructions in work-out sessions once or twice

Housewives, office workers, teachers and senior citizens in ever-growing humbers have been enrolling in classes and limbering up in school gyms. It seems to be a "women only" phenomenon that's been gaining momentum for at least a couple of

of the touch-the-toes variety instructions are reminiscent of exercises in school gym classes of years' past. There's one big difference, however. Today's exercises are orchestrated to

"Music takes the tediousness out of it (exercising)," explains Peg Kozler who teaches twice-weekly classes both mornings and evenings in the Northville Recreation Department program.

She also makes another major point that all teachers stress: the idea is "keeping in shape" rather than exercis-

Routines vary by teacher, but some leads about 50 women in Monday after dance to many, many Northville noon clases in Amerman Elementary gym, emphasize that "you diet to reduce and exercise to shape up.'

Allen Terrace senior citizen residents in Lola Alexander's Monday and Thursday slim-and-trim classes there report "feeling better" after following their instructor through an hour's routine.

Routines vary by teacher with pixielike Joan Akey leading her group into tap dance steps for a change of pace.

Long-time dance instructor Lola Alexander stresses posture for her senior citizen class members, using the open area on the fourth floor of the senior citizen center to hold classes..

"Keep your derriere under you," she repeats as she moves into exercises that put women on their toes.

youngsters for 10 years at her former home on Spring Drive. The Allen Terrace resident still teaches creative dancing classes in the Livonia Public Schools and began the senior citizen classes for women residents on her own. There now are about 10 women who show up for the Monday-Thursday work-outs from 4 to 5 p.m. It's an ongoing course started about 14 weeks ago; those attending pay a nominal amount.

"I call it Mrs. Alexander's finishing school," she laughs, proudly adding that her pupils all are walking correct-

The seniors "kick up, out and down" right along with the teacher. They include active Marie Eickmeyer, who ad-

Mrs. Alexander wears blue leotards and tights that attest to the worth of years of keeping limber, but her pupils wear slacks to "bend, squat and rise up

The housewives and teachers who convene from 4-5 p.m. Mondays in Amerinan gym to follow Mrs. Akey's lively instructions almost all wear leotards and slacks.

As they squirm on the floor to "thread the needle" or bounce up to run around the gym in a circle, it's apparent that most are not really overweight but are there to "shape up."

Class member Connie Conder summed up some of the appeal for this group as she noted, "It's fun, too!"

Fun is one of the aims of Mrs. Akey, a tiny, elf-like figure in smooth-fitting green leotard and tights worn with a white vest. She's been teaching for 10 years in the Livonia area and was persuaded to hold a class here by Nor-. thville women who had been going to Livonia to exercise with her.

They're in the midst of a 10-week session that costs $15.

"These girls are in pretty good shape," she observes, watching them, follow through on the slimnastics she has choreographed to music.

The hour passes quickly as members swing arms and touch toes, warming up to more difficult variations. After a brisk session last week Joan Akey began a count-off to form two chorus lines for a tap dance lesson that went from basic tap to a strut.

First it was screams among Chris Modrack's and Pat Lyons' K-1-2 classes as the green-faced witch swooped around the room on her broomstick during the Halloween party at Silver springs Elementary last week. Then the kids started shouting, "Scare me, Miss Wiss! Scare me!" and soon little Supermen, ghosts and goblins were swarming over the black-cloaked figure. Finally the witch, principal Marcia Wiss, took off her mask. "How did you know it was me?" she asked, surprised. One little red-suited devil smiled smugly. "I recognized your legs," he replied. Youngsters can try Yule crafts of past

In the spirit of Christmas past, Northville Historical Society will workshop from 1-3 p.m. Saturday, December 1, in the New School Church in Mill Race

Children in grades 1-6 are invited to participate in an afternoon of fun and crafts.

Although the projects planned are to be Christmas surprises, planners hint that youngsters will be making early-American decorations and gifts with natural materials. They'll be pushing cloves into pomander balls and braiding wreaths, among other projects at this firsttime offered event.

Planners Carol Jean Stockhausen and Lucia Danes are guaranteeing that all will leave with a shopping bag containing old-fashioned gifts wrapped and ready to hide away until Christmas.

Stockhausen and Danes, both former art teachers, state that ample adult supervision will be provided by volunteers.

Due to space limitations, only the first 75 children enrolled can

Show protest

A Northville woman is organizing a march on WDIV-TV, channel four, to protest that station's airing of the game show, "Three's A Crowd."

Claiming that the show is "damaging to the family. insulting to the homemaker and deplorable for women," Northville's Glenna Davis is organizing a march which will take place something during November.

Mrs. Davis has already met with WDIV's program director Frank Allen and presented a petition with 500 signatures against the airing of the show at 7:30 p.m. weekdays.
Mrs. Davis is the initiator of several petitions against the

"Our position is that this show is offending a great portion of the community," Mrs. Davis said. "Apparently the channel four ratings are quite good but we believe those ratings are inflated because of the time slot. The station has a community responsibility. It needs to realize that people are tired of the standard of television and that this show is offensive at all levels," she said.

"Three's a Crowd" pits a man's wife against his secretary. The object of the game is to see which woman knows him better by asking questions. 'For example, one question to the wives was, 'How much of your husband's salary do you waste?' I find that insulting to all homemakers who are partners in a marriage," Mrs. Davis said. She added that many bosses find the premise of the show bad for business because it assumes the wife and secretary are automatically in competition for the man's affections and that the boss always has something going on with his secretary.

She said the National
Secretary's Organization, League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women, Business and Professional Women's Association, many churches and PTAs have already spoken against it.

The station has maintained that there has not been much community outcry against the syndicated Chuck Barris (of Gong Show fame) production and that the ratings are good.

FISH to party

Because many volunteers in the Northville-Novi FISH organization do much of their work by telephone, even some long-time workers have not met each other.

A coffee and cake social, therefore, is planned for 2 to 4 p.m. this Sunday at King's Mill Cooperative Clubhouse on Northville Road in Northville for the FISH volunteers to get together.

The event is being given by the FISH board of directors as a "thank you" to all the loyal volunteers, explains Director Rita Byrd.

"So many have served so well, without even a pat on the back, that we want all to come and take a bow," she

There will be name tags so that FISH volunteers who have spoken to each other for years on the telephone can know each other personally.

"FISH," she continues, "is a low profile organization that furnishes nonfinancial 24-hour emergency help in the Northville-Novi community.

'We maintain a membership of around 100 volunteers, but many of our group work by telephone only and have never had a chance to meet their fellow workers. All members always are welcome at board meetings to make suggestions or bring up problems, but most of our people wouldn't recognize each other in church or at the supermarket.'

Invitations are being sent to all FISH members, some honorary members and a few who may be thinking of joining the emergency help organization.

Art at church

Carolyn Wojtowicz (right) representing Artistic Interiors of Livonia discusses some of the fine points of painting with Bette Jones of Novi (left) and Janis Stevenson of Northville. The painting is just one of over a hundred that will be offered for sale at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church in Novi tomorrow (Thursday) night. The paintings, mostly oils, are all original commissioned works, signed by the artist and registered. Coming in a wide range of styles and sizes suitable to any decor, patrons purchasing paintings may choose the custom frame of their choice. The evening of art, sponsored by the Missions Committee at the church, will also offer wine and cheese to patrons as they browse through the display in the parish hall on Ten Mile west of Taft Road. Sales will begin at 6 p.m. and conclude at 9 p.m. A door donation of $1 includes the added attraction of a special door prize.

Minister's guitarist

A Brazilian singer-guitarist will provide a musical multi-media program at the First United Methodist Church in Northville on Saturday.

The Reverend Rick Bonfim will give his presentation following at 6:30 p.m. potluck dinner Saturday. He will also be a featured part of the Sunday morning workshop at 10.2 m.

workshop at 10 a.m.
An ordained United Methodist minister, Reverend Bonfim is also a graduate student in communications at the University of Georgia. he grew up in Rio de Janeiro where his father is a United Methodist pastor.

The Methodist church is located on Eight Mile at Taft

Reverend Bonfim's program is part of a Mission Saturation Program sponsored by the Ann Arbor District of the United Methodist Churches. Other speakers scheduled in Northville next week include the Reverend Lucretia Hurley, a North Carolina pastor, who will talk on Alaska on November 13 at David Bower, representing the world hunger approach of the organization CROP, will speak at 7:30 p.m. November 14. And the Reverend Keith Pohl, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, will speak on his recent trip to China November 15 at 7:30 p.m.

All meetings are open to the public.

RICK BONFIM

Spiritual healing lecture topic

"Spiritual Healing and the Church Today" will be explored by George Louis Aghamalian of New York at a special lecture at 8 p.m. Tuesday, November 13, under auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Plymouth at 1100 West Ann Arbor Trail near Main.

A member of the board of lectureship of the Mother Church, First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, the speaker will point out that many Christian denominations are beginning to investigate spiritual healing and to encounter the demands this makes for "radical reliance on God alone as taught and practiced by Jesus."

The Aghamalian lecture includes specific comment on several healings accomplished through what the lecturer speaks of as prayerful trust in "the same Christ, Truth, that Jesus exemplified."

His lecture is free and open to the public. He will be introduced by Mrs. Helen Hopkins, second reader of the church. Ample parking and child care are provided.

Donahue to follow columnist

"All 850 tickets for the season are sold," reports Northville Town Hall Chairman Carolyn DiComo as she reminds lucky ticketholders that Phil Donahue will be appearing at 11 a.m. Saturday, December 8, at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Originally scheduled to open the current season October 1, the popular talk show host had to cancel when his son was in automobile accident. The boy now is out of a coma, and the December date has been

But, says Mrs. DiComo, town hall is getting request for tickets for that date. "We're sold to capacity. We just don't have them," she repeats.

Donahue has become even more popular than when he was signed for Northville Town Hall. 'Newsweek" and "People" have done cover features on the "mop-haired Irish Catholic," who today is considered daytime television's most popular personality.

This Thursday on the November program the town hall audience will hear Glenna McWhirter. whose Free Press column byline is Nickie McWhirter, at 11 a.m. at the Plymouth Hilton Inn. Column readers know

Ms. McWhirter as a direct thinker and speaker. She has been a feature writer, general assignment and investigative reporter and business writer as well as Sunday Magazine contributor. She has served in editing capacities and is known to enjoy her work immensely.

Her column topics reflect happenings in her life, including her divorce, and in the lives of her three children.

She spoke about her work at the opening meeting of Northville Woman's Club last month. Her talk this Thursday, she promises, will deal with different material.

About 85 papers in the United States and Canada now carry her column. Last year she won the top award for column writing in the Michigan Associated Press competition. She also was cited by Women in Communications in

Mainstreaming

Integrating handicapped children into regular classroom is a gradual process

By PHILIP JEROME

It's been called "mainstreaming" the process of educating handicapped children by placing them in the "general education" classroom.

But educators are quick to point out that the mandates of Public Law 94-142 should not be confused with

mainstreaming.'*
In fact, the confusion which exists between mainstreaming and the goals of Public Law 94-142 is the source of some frustration to the educators charged with the responsibility of implementing the federal law.

The goal of Public Law 94-142 is to guarantee equal educational opportunity for all handicapped children. Under the terms of the law, which was passed n 1975, each state is responsible for leveloping a comprehensive plan that provides a free and appropriate public education to all its handicapped

Specifically, the law requires that states plan "... procedures to assure, to the maximum extent appropriate, handicapped children, including children in public or private institutions or other care facilities, are educated with children who are not handicapped, and that special classes, separate schoolng, or other removal of handicapped children from the regular educational environment occurs only when the nature or severity of the handicap is such that education in regular classes with the use of supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfac-

Dennis Wisinski, director of special services for the Walled lake School District, notes that the term "mainstreaming" simply does not appear in the federal law

The key phrase to remember is "least restrictive environment," he says.

"The law doesn't state that every handicapped child has to be mainstreamed into the regular classroom," he notes. "What the law does mandate is the establishment of a continuum of educational environments in order to provide the appropriate placement for all handicapped

Wisinski sees Public Law 94-142 as another step in a logical progression of requiring public institutions to meet the needs of all students.

"Prior to 1971, public and private school districts in this state could do just about whatever they wanted to do for their handicapped students," he

"The state encouraged us to initiate programs for students with handicaps by providing categorical aid which could be used to offset the cost of starting up special programs for students with handicaps. But there was nothing which required school districts to make special provisions for all students.

"In the 1950s and '60s school districts could legally refuse to take certain types of students if they had no programs available for them."

All that begin to change in the late 1960s when the parents of handicapped children banded together and lobbied for what ultimately became the "Mandatory Special Education Act." In essence, what that act said was that school districts have a legal responsibility to educate all children, regardless of handicaps.

As a result of that legislation, school districts have set up special programs to deal with children who have handicaps - whether those handicaps are physical, emotional or sociological.

"Initially, everyone seemed fairly well pleased," commented Wisinski. "The parents of handicapped children were happy because their children were being educated and educators were happy because they were fulfilling their responsibilities.

"But as special education became more sophisticated, educators began to see flaws in the system," he continued.

"Basically, special education teachers began to realize that we weren't really preparing handicapped children to go out into the real world 'We set up self-contained classrooms for handicapped students in which they received specialized attention from specialized individuals. "The problem was that we created a false environment for these students. It was a very protective environment, and the students just weren't being prepared to deal with the outside

It was this concern which led to the passage of Public Law 94-142.

the federal law requires are the terms 'least restrictive environment" and 'to the maximum extent appropriate."

Wisinski states that the legislators clearly want educators to consider the dicapped student into the general a handicapped student and just plop him down in a regular classroom, says. "The idea is to integrate the han-classroom, but to do it in such a gradual "There's simply no way we can take manner that it's traumatic neither for the student or anyone else.

'If a student just can't make it in the general classroom, he won't go into the general classroom until he's ready."

The Walled Lake District began its program this year. Handicapped children from the Twin Suns Elementary School are being integrated into the general education program at the Loon Lake Elementary School.

But the process is a gradual one. So far, the integration involves only four areas: playground, lunchroom, assemblies and field trips.

And so far the program appears to be working well, according to Wisinski.

"There was a time when our handicapped children were viewed as freaks by the regular classroom students," he said. "Some of the general education students were concerned that the handicapped students had some kind of a disease which they could catch. "But now that the change has been made even on a very limited basis — there's a very much different feeling.

"Right now it's almost a status thing for the general ed kids to be friends with a special ed student," he con-

"Of course, we won't really have achieved the goal of integration until the handicapped students are viewed just as any other student "

Integrating the lunchroom is one of the initial, gradual steps

"BUYING a home is still a good investment," was the theme recently of a seminar discussion led by Ann L. Roy of Bruce Roy Realty, Incorporated, Northville.

Today's high interest rate may be discouraging, but it has not spoiled home investment, she said.

Mrs. Roy illustrated her point with this example:

Suppose you purchase a $60,000 home with $12,000 (20 percent) down payment, mortgaging the remaining $48,000 over 30 years. The principal payment, even at 14 percent, would be $574.75.

Assume the yearly taxes are $1,440 or $120 a month, with insurance of approximately $15, the total payment — principal, taxes, and insurance — is $709.75.

Total interest for the first year, at 14 percent, is $6,620. The combination of this interest and the $1,440 in taxes means the buyer can use a total of $8.060 for income tax deductions a total of $8,060 for income tax deductions.

If the buyer is in the 30 percent income tax bracket (where he is likely to be in buying a $60,000 house), the income tax savings for him the first year is $2,418. Dividend over 12 months, this savings represents $201.50.

Subtracting the $201.50 monthly savings from the $709.75 payment leaves a monthly payment, with tax deduction, of $508.25.

Assume a 12 percent rate of inflation per year. On a $60,000 house, this inflation rate will boost the value of the house in one year by $7,200.

Divided over 12 months, this inflated value represents a $600 months.

Divided over 12 months, this inflated value represents a $600 monthly inflation rate.

Since the monthly net payment (after subtracting the $201.50 income tay sayings) is $508.25, the $600 monthly inflation rate actually come tax savings) is $508.25, the $600 monthly inflation rate actually means the buyer has a net savings every month of $91.77.

JUTTON-KELLY Co. of Novi was the lowest of six bidders, at $7,329,897, for construction of an exit ramp from southbound US-10 (Lodge) Freeway to West Jefferson Avenue and the Joe Louis Arena parking ramp in downtown Detroit, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) said.

Bids on the project were taken in Lansing.

In addition to the exit ramp, the project involves reconstruction of West Jefferson Avenue from Third Street west to west of Cabacier. The project is part of the riverfront development in connection with the Joe Louis Arena and related facilities.

The Federal Highway Administration will pay approximately 75 percent of the cost, with the remaining 25 percent shared by the City of Detroit and MDOT.

Project specifications require an accelerated construction schedule to have it completed by early July, 1980.

The low bid must be approved by the Michigan Transportation Commission and the State Administrative Board before the contract is awarded.

JO ANNE GLENN, realtor associate with Rymal Symes Realtors Novi office, has reached another milestone in her career.

As of October, she had surpassed the million dollar sales mark for 1979.

Craig Lewis, Rymal Symes executive vicepresident, noted that fewer than 10 percent of all real estate salespersons ever accomplish a million dollars in sales during a whole year, and yet Glenn has done it in just 9½ months.

Lewis said Glenn's success can be attributed "primarily to her genuine desire to render a real srvice to her many loyal clients and her tenacity in seeing every sale through to the end personally."

The Countryside Inn is the new name for the former Barker's Lyon's Den Restaurant at 22870 Pontiac Trail, South Lyon. The name change together with a new sign was made by Clarence and Joann Harder, owners of the restaurant since September 1, 1978. Inside, the restaurant has taken on a new look as well, with a new country scene painting by Janis Sparks of South Lyon and an all new menu. Featured specials are a weekly 4:30-8:30 Saturday night hot buffet with 15 or more items, plus the gourmet salad bar and a 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday brunch buffet. The restaurant is open daily from 7-9 p.m. with breakfast served all day and the salad bar available every day with lunch and dinner. In addition, Harders offer a full line of catering for weddings and parties. A private dining room for 10-15 persons will be available soon. Alfred the Lion, painted by Alfred Siclovan for Barkers, has been donated to South Lyon High School by the Harders.

EDDY AND WINNIE TSE opened a cocktail lounge at their popular Northville restaurant last weekend.

The restaruant, serving American, Szechuen, Mandarin and Cantonese food was opened a year ago in Highland Lakes Shopping Center, just east of Northville Road on Seven Mile.

To celebrate the opening of the cocktail lounge, two Mandarin, dishes — Hoi Sen Chicken and Lee Chee Duck — and one Szechuen newcomer — Ma Po Doo Foo — have been added to the dinner menu.

With exotic cocktails, Eddy's is suggesting an order of the Tin Fu Platter, an assortment of hors d'oeuvres arranged on flaming dishes. The restaurant is open seven days a week. It features carry out service and it has a banquet room.

BRENDA PARENTEAU (above) has assumed the position of director at the River Road Children's Nursery on Grand River Avenue in Novi.

She assumes the position from Ruth Pawlowski, owner of the nursery school, who has served as director for the past 10 years.

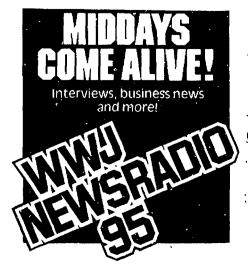

Parenteau has a BA degree in education from Siena Heights College and presently is working on a master's degree in early childhood education at Eastern Michigan University.

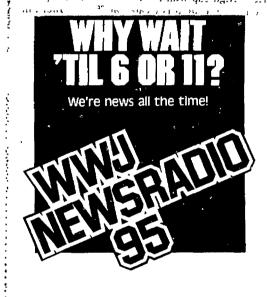

A resident of Highland Township, she has worked previously as a homebound kindergarten teacher and a substitute teacher in the Anchor Bay School District in New Baltimore. In addition, she formerly taught kindergarten in Ripon, Wisconsin. She taught nursery school in South Lyon last year.

The River Road Children's Nursery is a certified nursery school and day care program for 2½ to five year olds. The school offers a nutritional lunch program. Day care services are available from 6:45 a.m. to 6 p.m. and there also is an after-school program for 5-9 year olds.

Harmonicats perform at Marquis

Ever hear of Jerry Murad?

What does the song "Peg O' My Heart" do for you?

If by chance you're still scratching your head, how about "Jerry Murad's Harmonicats?

Murad, who resides in Northville, and is world-renowned Harmonicats will be performing at Northville's Marquis Theater four times this weekend.

"We're very excited about having this famous group perform here," said theater owner Inga Zayti. "What makes it doubly exciting is that most people are probably unaware that Jerry Murad is an area resident."

The trio will perform twice on Saturday (November 10) with performances cheduled at 7:30 and 10 p.m. There will e two more performances on Sunday (November 11) with a matinee at 3:30 p.m. and another show at 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the evening performances are priced at $8.50, while tickets for the matinee are priced at $5.50.

Married with three children, Murad was born in Turkey of Armenian parentage and raised in Chicago. From age six, his first introduction to the harmonica was an affair of love at first

He not only mastered the instrument, but has improvised, innovated and actually invented new models, new techniques and new sounds. His teaching manuals and guidebooks have become primers for professionals throughout the world.

The other members of the group are Al Fiore, who joined Murad in 1939, and Dick Gardner who was drafted in 1971 the first replacement in 27 years.

All the heat waves were forgotten in the summer of 1947 in the wake of one of the hottest records the music industry has ever released. "Peg O' My Heart" shot to the top of all popularity charts and best seller lists.

It blared from juke boxes and home record players and hasn't stopped since. To date, "Peg O' My Heart" has spiraled to well over 17 million in sales. Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom Time" among other hits has kept the

Symphony to present Nutcracker

Allow yourself to be-led through a child's fanciful world with music and ballet dancers when the West Bloomfield Symphony and the Contemporary Civic Ballet Company present Tchaikovsky's irresistible ballet "The Nutcracker" on Sunday, December 23. Because of the popularity of the ballet, two performances will be given on Sunday. There will be a 2 p.m. matinee and the regularly scheduled concert at 7.30 p.m. Performances will be presented in the West Bloomfield High School Auditorium at 4925 Orchard Lake Road.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the symphony office at 626-1560.

"The Nutcracker's" story and music virtually glow with delight and wonder. The tale concerns a little girl who dreams that the nutcracker she received as a Christmas gift turns into a handsome prince. He leads the other toys in a battle against an army of mice, then takes the little girl to a magical land where she is greeted by the Sugarplum Fairy and is entertained with games, dances and toys.

Rose Marie Floyd, founder and artistic director, choreographed the Contemporary Civic Ballet Company of hearted composition. You will hear pert ballet with freshness and grace. Floyd's dancers can and have drawn upon her knowledge of dance over the past 24 years.

Many of her students have received scholarships for demonstrating outstanding talent and training. Scholarships have come from The New York Center School, Harkness, Interlochen and the Cecchetti Michigan State University conferences.

The West Bloomfield Symphony will take you through Tchaikovsky's light-

Royal Oak to dance Tchaikovsky's march melodies, waltzes and find music and dance expertly combined. Dance titles include "Dance of the Sugarplum Fairy," "Arab Dance," 'Chinese Dance," and the closing piece "Waltz of the Flowers."

Tickets at both performances are priced at $6 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. Tickets may be reserved ahead of time by calling the symphony office at 626-1560. Any tickets which remain will be available at the door one hour before each per-

Thousands of single people from many areas of the country will be congregating for the first-ever Midwest Singles Convention in Dearborn this weekend.

The Midwest Singles Exporepresents a growing trend among America's 52 million single adults people who are unmarried, divorced, separated. widowed or living together.

Singles turned off by the "meat market" atmosphere of bars and discos will have the op-portunity to meet in a series of workshops, lectures and social activities aimed at putting their singles lifestyle in a more positive perspective.

A lively exhibit area will be open free to the singles public, offering an array of organizations, products and services catering to the singles

The Midwest Singles Expo will be held at Dearborn's Hyatt Regency on November 9-11.

Organizer Stephen Bay claims that more people are committing themselves to being single - at least for a while - and that many of the old myths and stigmas about the "swinging singles" lifestyle

"Most singles have been brainwashed into believing that you have to be paired to be happy,' said Bay, 37 and a former singles workshop director in Los Angeles. "I really want to spread the word that being single is okay and that it's now an alternative lifestyle, not just a passing through stage of people's lives."

The Midwest Convention will start at 9 p.m. on Friday, November 9, with a communication workshop. There will be 37 speakers presenting lectures and experiential workshops on Saturday through Sunday.

In addition, there will be a roundtable luncheon or brunch each day and a gala dance on Saturday

Apart from the free exhibits from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. participants can purchase most events separately at the Expo or buy a whole weekend package in advance. More information is available at 642-2564.

Novi ends series slide by downing Mustangs 21-14

By JIM HAYNES

After dominating the series for the last five years, the Northville Mustangs finally bowed to the Wildcats of Novi last Friday. The win marks the first in five years and only the third time in the last 10 that Novi has beaten Northville in the annual gridiron rivalry.

Northville started out in the game as if it would extend its series victory string to six as it converted two early Wildcat miscues into quick Northville

Novi kicked off to Northville and the Mustangs began their first series from their own 35-yard line. Northville drove down to the Novi 21-yard line where the Mustangs were called for a personal foul. That took them out of scoring range and with fourth down and 34 yards to go Northville quarterback

David Greer's pass attempt fell short.

Novi took over possession of the ball on its own 34. Mustang defensive end Paul Luiki quickly showed the Wildcats that Northville meant business when he clobbered Novi quarterback Mike Rentner on Novi's 28-yard line for a six-yard loss. A running play up the middle went nowhere and with third down and 16 yards to go, Rentner sprinted out towards the sidelines and threw downfield. Northville's Dave Fisher leaped up and intercepted it on the Wildcat 37-yard line.

Bob Crisan picked up four yards on the first Northville play of the series. Joe Hamp then scampered five more yards, making it third down and one yard to go on the Novi 25-yard line. Crisan bulled his way through the line

• Tigers and Rivalry

With the baseball season barely past, it is indeed a dire indictment on the state of affairs with the Pistons, Redwings and Lions that the biggest sports news around town is the recent trade the Tigers made for powerhitting Richie Hebner. Already fans are dreaming about the spring sport and the possibility of a Detroit pennant.

The Lions won't generate as much interest until June, when they will exercise the honor of making the first pick in the college draft; their right as the NFL's worst team.

The Redwings are hot and cold like Michigan weather. In one game they will perform brilliantly, shutting out their opponant 7-0. But in the next four games the Detroiters will lose by as wide a margin. Aggressive hockey left town at the same time Dennis Hextall departed. The once-royal Redwings, the team that dominated hockey back in the early sixties, has gone the route of the Vienna Choir; staffed the team with marshmallow-muscle kids who are as intimidated by their shadows as they are by opposing teams. The Pistons have potential. No defense, but potential. The team will score more points this year than any other Piston team in history. But other teams will score more against them than any Piston team as ever allowed. Lanier, McAdoo, McElroy and Kelser will each average over 20 points a game but their efforts on defense amount to taking the ball from the ref after an opposing basket and throwing it inbounds. The Tigers are the Detroit area's only hope for respect. Hebner will put a little juice into the attack but what the Tigers really need is a right-handed power hitter. Hebner joins the left-handed Jason Thompson, Steve Kemp and ranks of Champ Summrs. Right-hander Lance Parrish strikes out as often as he makes contact and even though he will one day soon hit twenty home runs a season, the Tigers need someone swinging from the right side who will get base hits as often as ome runs. Someone like Willie Horton, who is currently a free agent and would just love to finish his career in Detroit. Willie is still good for 20 round-trippers and can hit for an average.

However Campbell does it, he also needs to gain a dependable starter before the team heads for Florida. Tom Underwood, the hurler the Yankees rescued from Toronto, was the best choice. He is young. throws well and has a sturdy arm. Now the Yankees have a new potential 20-game winner and the Tigers have farmhands. Someone like Minnesota's Goeff Zahn would be a welcome addition.

NORTHVILLE-NOVI FOOTBALL GAME

It is hours before game time and already I'm so excited about the game I can hardly sit still. I have watched the Mustangs play and know a:little of what both teams have to offer. Although I have written most of the Novi football stories for the Novi-Walled Lake News, I have yet to see them play. My contact with Wildcat gridiron action has been via the telephone on Sunday mornings when I would rouse Novi coach John Osborne out of bed nice and early for a post-game interview.

One thing that surprised me about the game is that there is little sense of rivalry between the two teams. The first thing I thought of when I took this position is that there would surely be some intense competition between the two schools. But there isn't. At least that's what the Mustang coaches and players tell me. I guess it's hard to keep an interest in a rivalry when you've won the annual football game for five years in a row, as Northville has.

Northville scored its lone goal as a result of the Churchill defensive formation. Kèvin Swayne was cutting across the goal mouth in preparation for taking a pass when the Livonia center fullback tried to stop him in an area conjested with players. The result was a tripping penalty and on the resultant penalty shot, taken by Russ Gans, Northville scored to close the gap. The only problem was that the gap stayed a gap for the rest of the game. The seven-man defense that Churchill dropped back into was successful in stopping Northville in its bids to score. And there were plenty of bids.

didn't score any goals." The loss was a harde team that kept going for one for the team to take after its good season. "It was frustrating to go out that way," Meteyer said. "I wanted to win at least one game. But Churchill is a tough, aggressive the ball. We countered with skill, not aggres-"Like I told the players afterwards, there are some other fine teams that got knocked off early too. Stevenson and Andover lost in the first round. Stevenson won its division title this year and Andover is last year's state champs. We had to be favored going into the Churchill game. Maybe they (Mustangs) were just looking ahead too much. We would; have played Lahser next ? and I felt that we had a good chance against them."

BLACKJACK INSTRUCTION

Blackjack is the most popular of all casino games. It offers the expert player the best odds available and it is the only casino game that can be beaten from a mathematical standpoint.

Blackjack can be divided into two categories. Basic Strategy (expert play) and card counting. Card counting is a strategy based on the Theory of Probabilities that when played accurately, actually gives the player an advantage over the casino.
Instruction in these two areas are as follows:

1. BASIC STRATEGY. Most people who play casino Blacklack think that they are expert players. The fact is that not one in a hundred knows the correct play for every decision in Blackjack. For example, with a hand of A7 you should stand when the dealer's up-card is an A, 2, 7 or 8, take a hit card against the dealer's 9 or 10, and double down when the dealer shows a 3,4,5, or 6. The correct way to play each hand for hitting, standing, doubling, and pair splitting is a product of computer technology and its accuracy has been verified by the computer banks of IBM Corporation, Sperry Rand, and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory. If you do not play each hand correctly, you are simply giving your money away to the casinos.

The Basic Strategy class is one hour per week for 3 weeks and the BASIC STRATEGY AND AN INTRODUCTION TO CARD COUNTING. Same as No. 1 except you will also learn the Blackney Add & Estimate Strategy. This simple count is easy to learn and very easy to play in the casinos. This class is one hour per week for 6 weeks and the cost

THE BLACKNEY SIMPLE HI-LOW STRATEGY. The Basic Strategy class is a prerequisite to taking this class. My Hi-Low Strategy assigns point values to various card ranks and is extremely effective for the single and double deck game. This class is one hour per week

Arrangements can also be made for private consultation for those who do not wish to attend a class session. The cost for a one hour appointment is $40 if you have a playing partner, you may split the cost of the appointment.

Even though the team bowed out of the 1979 champaign with a disappointing outing, the year as a whole was fantastic. Most first year teams beg for time to build a program. But with the growth of youth soccer in Northville, the varsity high school team has a ready made feeder system that provides solid, experienced

"I'm pleased with the way the guys jelled this season," Meteyer said. "We started off the season by taking the Country Day Tournament. The only disappointment I have for the whole season is not advancing further in the state playoffs.

Overall the Mustangs scored 48 goals and allowed just 17. That figures out to a goals for average of 4.43 per game and a goals against average of 1.21.

The Mustangs, with Craig Wisbiski in goal, shut out four opponents this year: Notre Dame, Catholic Central, Country Day and Livonia Franklin.

The three top scorers for Northville were Kevin Swayne with 15 goals, Rick Marshall with 10 and Russ Gans with nine. Greg May and Kevin Swayne shared the team lead for assists.

Northville had four penalty shot opportunities and connected on two of them. Gans scored both times.

Wisbiski tallied the most playing time of any Mustang, logging 1,099 minutes. Gans was second with 1,090 followed by Mark Swayne's 1,061 and Kevin Swayne's 1,047.

"It will be hard to repeat our performance next year," Meteyer said. The Mustangs will lose some valuable players to graduation. Seniors on the team are John Davis, Andy Fopfosch, Russ Gans, Dean Guard, Ken Koppin, Eric Nowka, Barry Quellette, Mark Swayne and Craig Wibiski. But returning to lead next year's charge will be this season's onetwo scoring punch for the Mustangs, Kevin Swayne and Rick Marshall. Other top returnees are Dave McElroy and Greg May.

Free computerized car checkup

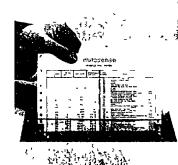

This coming Nov. 12, 13, and 14th, 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. only, you can find out for free what's wrong with your car and how to return it to factory operating standards

This is our way of introducing you to our Autosense® computerized car service which keeps your car operating at top efficiency—saves you money on fuel and operating costs.

Our Autosense computer runs automatic tests on your car's engine, electrical system and exhaust emissions. It then prints out a report that shows what's wrong and how to fix it. If repairs are needed, we'll give you an estimate. If we repair the car, we'll give you another Autosense report that proves all repairs were done and done right

Our mechanic hooks up sensors and tells the computer the car model number and the tests to run

Autosense prints out a report that shows test results and how they compare to factory standards

Tests will be by appointment only. Tests Restricted to 1972 or newer automobiles. Due to the limited amount of tests we can run during this time period, We suggest you make your appointment early.

Are agency-sponsored youth sports programs doing the young participants more harm than good?

They could be, two University of Michigan physical educators say, if the volunteers who run them are uninformed about children's physical capabilities and emotional needs and if they place undue emphasis on winning.

Sports competitions have moved from the exclusive domain of the public schools to agencies with state and national affiliations, such as Little Legue Baseball, Pop Warner Football and Pee Wee Hockey," explain Profs. Rodney J. Grambeau and Thomas B. Gilliam.

"Coaching, officiating and administrative positions are filled by volunteers, thus reducing the amount of control than can be exercised over their qualifications, and their objectives sometimes seem to be at odds with those commonly accepted by professional educators."

It is a matter of scientific record that physical activity is essential to human growth and development, the U-M physical educators say. And team experiences are believed to promote selfconfidence, leadership, cooperativeness and other desirable character traits.

"But more research is needed to assess the possible dangers of very strenuous physical training, especially on children under the age of 10. Further, while few would dispute the potential value of sports to a child's psychosocial development, there is no found participation peaked at about age everything. Learning is.

Rivalry

I guess that's one reason, well, the only one really, that I have for hoping Northville loses tonight (as long as you're forcing me to make a choice). I think it would be nice to have a rivalry with Novi and if losing to the Wildcats once in a while is the stimulus that's needed, so be it.

No matter what the outcome tonight, one thing that I'm sure of and that is that both coaches, Northville's Dennis Colligan and Novi's John Osborne, are fine men and good mentors. Each cares about his players more than winning and each has a sense of teaching the athletes a little about the lessons of life through a sport. To them, winning isn't consensus on the time and conditions under which group athletics should be introduced into children's lives.

"Under inadequate adult leaders who place too much emphasis on winning, a child's values may become distorted," they assert. "Little actual instruction in skills may take place, and early specialization in a single sport may be encouraged.

"The 'victory is all' approach inevitably results in undue pressure and strain on some children and the exclusion of others.'

The lack of data and growing concern led to the establishment of the Joint Legislative Study on Youth Sports Programs involving researchers from Michigan State, Wayne State and Northern Michign universities and the U-

"The first phase of the study was to measure the extent and frequency of participation of Michigan school children in agency- and schoolsponsored competitive sports programs. Circulating some 110,000 questionnaries to public and private school students in 89 districts, the group found that participation was "far greater than anticipated for both male and female students."

"For example, one out of every three boys in the state participated in baseball and one out of every five girls participated in softball," Grambeau and Gilliam report. Looking at youth between the ages of five and 17, they 13 and was highest in urban areas, followed by suburban and rural.

A second set of more detailed questionnaires sent to a randomly selected group of participants and nonparticipants and their parents reveal-

-Children were introduced to youthsports at an early age, some as early as age three or four, and the majority at age eight or nine.

-Nearly one-half of the parents indicated that objectives and policies pertaining to the programs with which they were associated did not exist or were not available to them.

-Youth sports programs did little to provide for the health of the athletes who participated. Only 22 percent were required to have physical examinations before participating; only 10 percent provided a league medical consultant; less than half had adequate training services; 27 percent had no insurance coverage and 75 percent did not have a pre-season conditioning program.

"On the positive side, the practices and games were generally held at times that did not interfere with the participants' sleeping patterns, and involved safe equipment and well-maintained facilities," Grambeau and Gilliam

Finally, the study surveyed 1,227

ministrators on why they became involved in youth sports; their working relationships with the participants; training practices, and their own reasons for involvement and educa-

Most reported that they took part due to family involvement and personal enjoyment. A lack of communication was apparent among coaches, officials and administrators, but their interpersonal relationships were generally rated good to excellent, according to the survey.

"Most of the thletes and their parents approved of the way coaches performed their duties, but there were sports programs.

coaches, 447 officials and 337 ad-numerous indications that coaches did" not allow all contestants to play, stress" 53 ed winning too much, and frequently argued with players, parents and officials," The U-M educators report: "Apparently these negative behaviors were accepted as a normal part of athletic competition."

Northville scored early, taking advantage of a Wildcat miscue in the first quarter. Novi kicked off to Northville to start the game and the Mustangs were downed on their own three-yard line. After two first downs. Northville was forced to punt. The ball traveled to Novi's 26, where the Wildcats fumbled on the first play from scrimmage. Scott Faustyn, noseguard, recovered the ball for Northville. It took the Mustangs six plays to score, with Scott Spaman takg the ball in on a three-yard run. Spaman also scored the two-point con-

Northville scored again in the second quarter. The touchdown came at the end of a 48-yard drive highlighted by a 26-yard run by Chris Dimitroff, who was tackled on the one-yard line. Quarterback Tim McLaughlin carried the ball over for the score. His pass to Mark Holland for the conversion atmpt was no good. Northville led 14-0.

Novi cam back to score once in the second quarter. Quarterback Chris Caudell capped a Wildcat drive by carrying the ball in on an option play that covered 54 yards. The two-point conversion was no good as halfback Dave Chickowski was stopped short of the Stevenson outscored them 11-6.

Later that week Northville took on Waterford Mott and while the score was different the outcome was the same: the Mustangs lost, 47-39.

The game was a series of hot and cold halves. It was Waterford's turn in the first half as Mott went up 16-4 in the first quarter and increased its lead to 31-9 at the half. But Northville came out smoking in the final half, outscoring Waterford 12-10 in the third quarter and 18-6 in the fourth. But it wasn't enough for the win.

Nixon again led Northville in scoring, hitting for 16 points. Townsend scored 10 while McGuire and Melinda House scored four each. The losses leave Northville with a mark of 4-10 on the of scrimmage to the Novi 15-yard line for the first down. Greer dropped back on the next play and spotted Paul Cooper alone in the end zone. He rifled a throw to the senior flanker, who caught The ball for a Mustang touchdown and a six point lead. Bob Thomson kicked the extra point and the score was 7-0 Nor-

Northville kicked off to Novi. The Wildcats caught the ball and brought it rout to their own 21-yard line. Senior falfback Jeff Arbour carried the ball out to the 23 on the first play but on the second there was a fumble on the exchange and Northville's Gary Kucher, playing cornerback, fell on the ball. That gave Northville a first down on Novi's 16-yard line.

Greer carried the ball on the first play and sliced to the Wildcat eightyard line. Novi was called for a pergonal foul on the play and that moved the ball to the Wildcat three-yard line. From there Greer dove in for the touchdown. Thomson's kick was good and the Mustangs found themselves up 140 with just over a minute left to play in the first quarter.

Now Novi felt that it had something to prove to its neighbors and prove it is just what the Wildcats did.

Northville kicked off and Mick Gopigian returned the ball well up the field, but he fumbled when he was hit. Pat Korte fell on the ball for Novi however he Wildcats had good field position on its own 41-yard line. Arbour carried the ball for a five-yard gain and Keith Grosslin picked up two more to make it third and two at the Novi 47. Crosslin got the call on third down and the big Trálfback bulled his way for two yards and the first down. Korte then broke through the line for 22 yards and Novi had another first down, on the Northville 31-yard line.

Rentner tried a pass on the next play But it fell incomplete. Undaunted, the veteran signal caller dropped back on second down and hit Crosslin with a pass that moved the ball up to the Mustang 18-yard line. A penalty against Northville on the play moved the ball fifteen yards closer and the Wildcats Had first down and goal to go on the Mustang three. Crosslin carried the agall in on the next play and Kevin Park kicked the extra point to make the score

Novi kicked off to Northville but after ied. Northville punted from the 50-yard

The Wildcats started from their own Syard line. Eleven plays and several minutes later Novi had scored again to tie the game. Arbour carried for seven, Crosslin for four, Arbour for three, Rentner hit Clark with a pass for another three yards, Arbour carried for four, Korte carried twice for five yards, Rentner hit Clark on a pass to the Northville 29, Bill Bishop carried the ball to the Northville nine-yard line, Arbour. drove down to the four and from there Kevin Park scored. Park also kicked the extra point.

With just over two minutes left to play in the half, Northville took the kickoff and moved two yards on a Hamp running play, saw Greer miss his target twice on passes and then tried a fake punt on fourth down that was stopped short of the first down. Novi took over on Northville's 41-yard line.

There was 1:44 left on the clock. On the first play Arbour slashed past the left defensive end of Northville on an option pitchout and carried the ball down to the Northville 25-yard line. Crosslin then drove to the Northville 16. Rentner cooled the Wildcat engines on the next two plays as he missed on two straight passes. On fourth and 10 Rentner threw short again, giving the ball to Northville with 28 seconds left. Northville let the clock run out.

The second half started out to be a defensive battle. Novi received the opening kickoff, stalled after three plays and punted to Northville. Northville returned the favor and punted in four. Novi advanced to five plays before Northville then mounted a punting. drive that lasted nine plays but stalled on the Mustang 46-yard line.

Novi took the Northville punt on its own 33-yard line. Korte was stacked up on the first play of the series and it was second down and 10 yards to go. Rentner then tried a pass that ended up in-complete. On third down Rentner ran to his right on the option pass and kept the ball, making it to the 43 where, just as he was being hit, pitched the ball to Arbour, who was trailing the play, who then proceeded to run to the Northville 23-yard line. But the referee said that the halfback had stepped out of bounds back at the 33, so the ball was moved back. It was still a Novi first down. Park then carried the ball for three yards, Rentner for one, and then, with a third down and six situation, the Wildcat quarterback carried once again, this time flashing and slashing to the Northville five-yard line. Two plays later, the first play of the fourth quarter Crosslin crossed the goal line and Novi had the lead. Clark kicked the extra point and Novi led 21-14.

Northville took the kickoff and, after a penalty on the play, started from its own 16-yard line. The Hamp express got heated up on this drive and the flashy halfback carried the ball eight out of nine plays on a series that saw the ball move down to the Novi-12. An offside penalty against Novi moved the ball to the six-yard line. On the next play Hamp was dropped for a three-yard loss. But Northville was called for an ofisides penalty and that moved the ball back to the 15. With second down and 15 yards to the end zone, Greer went back to pass. But while Greer was dropping back, Novi's John Collins was rushing forward. So fast in fact that he met Greer before the junior quarterback could fire the ball. As Greer was falling he lost the football, which Collins fell on, snuffing the Northville threat. Novi then ran i5 straight plays that ran the clock out, giving the Wildcats

"Ît was a very satisfying win," Novi coach John Osborne said. "We finally played as we are capable of playing. I was pleased with the way we worked our way out of the hole we had dug for ourselves in the beginning of the game.

"I never felt as if we were in control of the game. Whenever they had the ball I felt threatened. Northville has good quickness and excellent blocking. After we fell behind I was definitely worried about getting routed."

Osborne singled out two people for praise after the game. He praised assistant coach Rick Trudeau for his work as offensive coordinator and play caller. Osborne also praised John Collins, whose fourth-quarter sack of Greer and the resultant fumble recovery he called the play of the game for Novi.

Couyoumjian runs

--The-1979 cross country season came to a disappointing end for Northville ace Harry Couyoumjian. Running in the state cross country meet this past weekend, Couyoumjian finished 51 out of a field of 75 runners. His time of 15:51 was quite a bit of his previous best of 15:20, set earlier against Walled Lake Western.

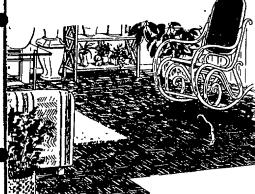

"He was very disappointed. I think he missed having the team to run with. There-he-was under pressure bécause he was expected to finish first. At state he was on his own, it was more of an individual thing. This made it more of a pressure situation for him."

Wayne Memorial's Doug Tolson won the individual race with a time of 14:28. Grand Blanc won the boys team race while Brighton captured the girls team trophy.

Mustang medley team one of best

The 200-yard individual medley relay then Tammy has taken over the top yent is the showpiece race for a team spot in the backstroke," Lauber said. event is the showpiece race for a team during a meet. In it, four girls from each team compete with each swimming a different event. The lead-off race is-the 50-yard backstroke followed by the 50-yard breaststroke. Then the 50yard butterfly follows with the 50-yard freestyle the last event. If a team wins that event, chances are it will win the same events in the four longer races in which each of the girls who swam the relay are entered.

Northville's girls swim team has one of the best individual medley teams in Michigan, according to coach Ben Lauber. And it's easy to see why. Consider who is swimming the events for

Backstroke — Tammy Selfridge: but they returned a year ago and since mer," Lauber said. "If I put her in any

Of the girls on the team who swim the backstroke, Tammy has swum the best time. Only Sue Cahili has swum it faster. Tammy is the second best backstroker Northville has ever had. The best was Vida Mikalonis and she was an All-American."

Breaststroke - Allyson Farquhar: "Allyson was a fine addition to the team last year as a tenth grader," Lauber said. "She was the second best breaststroker in the state. She is the best in this event that Northville has ever had. She may just be the best in the state. She made second team All-American last year."

Butterfly — Sue Cahill: "She is a state champion. She is an All-Her family left Northville for awhile American. She is a very strong swim-cond with a time of 1:55.2.

event except diving she would qualify for state in it easily (state qualifications are based on a set of qualifying times that are used as standards to swim against.)

Freestyle — Kim Storm: "Last year Kim had the best time in the freestyle going into the state meet but she became ill a short time before the meet and although she swam in it, she wasn't strong. She won the 50-yard free in the recent Detroit News Invitational and that's against the best swimmers

So far the Northville individual medley relay team has lost just once this year, in the Detroit News meet, to Mercy High School. Mercy won with a time of 1:53.92 while Northville was se-

Since the News meet was in a sense a preview of what the state meet will look like (most of the swimmers in the invitational will compete in the state meet), a real battle is shaping up between Mercy and Northville.

Other Mustangs who have qualified for the state meet are Laurie Sellen, who took Storm's place in the medley team once and the squad set a qualifying time; both Allyson Farquhar and Cahill have qualified in the 200-yard freestyle and both for the individual medley; Storm in the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard free; Cahill in the 100yard butterfly and the 500-yard freestyle and Allyson Farquhar in the 500-yard freestyle; Cahill in the 100yard backstroke and Allyson Farquhar in the 100-yard breaststroke; and the freestyle relay squad of Allyson and Leslie Farquhar, Sellen, and Storm.
