Senior housing runs into blitz

A senior citizen subsidy housing program proposed on Seven Mile east of Swan Harbour got no support from the township following a public hearing Monday.

Trustees voted 5-1 (Treasurer Lee Holland left the meeting early) to oppose the proposal in a letter to the A-95 clearinghouse (SEMOG).

Clerk Clarice Sass cast the only dissenting vote.

In addition, at a special meeting Friday to discuss two other housing rent subsidy programs proposed in the township, trustees adopted a resolution to "object vigorously" to other proposals for Section 8 non-elderly housing.

The reasons stated for objecting to the senior citizen housing proposal were three-fold:

— The proposal is inconsistent with the Wayne County Housing Assistance Plan (HAP)

— Township planners have not had an opportunity to review the plan

— And there was not enough time allowed to review the proposal

The resolution — drawn up by a study committee consisting of Trustees Susan Heintz and William Zapke; Township Attorney Donald Morgan; Kenneth McLarty, planning commission chairman; Claude Coats, planning consultant; and six township residents — adopted Friday by trustees also stated that the application for rental assistance for 16 of 80 proposed units in Northridge Apartments Phase III will be opposed.

The board members agreed that the Swan Harbour project (some 53 of 264 units proposed for rental subsidy) must be accepted.

A meeting with SEMOG officials at the Book Building in Detroit is set for today at 12:30 p.m. to discuss the Northridge application, which has yet to be reviewed by HUD.

The trustees Friday also set two statements of policy dealing with communications sent to the township concerning block grants, HAP plans and any type of assisted housing applications.

The policies read as follows:

— Immediately the supervisor will be designated to be the representative from Northville Township to Wayne County in regards to community block grants and HAP plan

— The supervisor will report all communications from Wayne County to the Executive Board (supervisor, treasurer and clerk) in five days and send a copy to all trustees for the next monthly board meeting. The supervisor shall call for a public hearing if he receives any applications for assisted housing (including A-95 or 213 forms) or notice of revision in the HAP plan

Blaze guts harrassed bakery here

By KEN KOVACS

State police arson investigators have been called in to determine the cause of Saturday's fire which destroyed the contents of Foltyn's Bakery in downtown Northville.

The blaze, which, according to Northville Fire Chief James Allen apparently started in the back kitchen area of the bakery, did not reach businesses to the east or west, though some smoke and water damage did occur.

When firemen arrived on the scene at approximately 6:30 p.m. flames were rushing from the front and back of the building, Chief Allen said.

"The glass from the windows was blown out on the sidewalk when we got there."

City and township firemen had the blaze under control within 30 minutes, with help from the township's aerial ladder truck and similar units from Livonia and Plymouth.

Chief Allen said there were approximately 40 firefighters representing the four departments at the scene.

Police initially were notified that Black's Hardware, located just west of the bakery, was on fire. Smoke was billowing from the roof of the hardware store, they said.

But only minor smoke damage was found above the store at the printing shop housed there, firefighters said.

Even the damage to the contents of Tiffany Glass located above the bakery was done largely by smoke and water, they said.

"The flames were shooting up from the back of the building," said Township Fire Chief Robert Toms. "The fire gutted the back end of the first floor and we saw that it was going to the rafters, so we doused it from the top."

Though the cause of the fire is not yet known, there have been some recent incidents which may lead one to believe the fire was not an accident.

Bertha Foltyn, owner of the bakery, has been robbed twice in the last three months and recently has complained of threats of violence.

Because of these incidences of harassment — and poor health — the operator of the downtown bakery since 1971 had said she was going to leave Northville "as soon as possible."

A number of witnesses said they heard "an explosion of some kind" prior to the arrival of the fire department.

Whether the noise was caused by an explosive or just by a substance burning in the bakery is not yet known, Chief Allen said.

Saturday's blaze was the worst fire in the city's business district since the building which housed the Fraternal Order of the Eagles on Center near Main burnt to the ground in December, 1976.

The building has since been rebuilt.

Arson investigators, who began their work here Tuesday, said they will analyze burned items found in the bakery and question the owner and employees of the bakery before they make any determination.

shaved to $200, with the balance being placed in the general administration account. In addition, the board added $5,844 to the budget, with the chief to decide where this money is to be used.

Nisun told board members he probably will use a portion of it to provide an increase in salaries for part-time auxiliary policemen.

The police chief's salary, if the budget is approved, will increase from $21,985 to $24,900. Initially, he had requested a salary of $26,910.

Going into next Monday's budget hearing, the board is proposing a $47,900 outlay in the clerk's office — substantially less than initially requested by the clerk ($63,450) but close to what the clerk's revised budget.

As the budget is presently proposed,

Saturday fire broke out in rear part of the bakery

At Novi and Eight

Rezoning bid gets boost

Rezoning of a parcel of land adjacent to the Rouge River, west of Novi Road, has been recommended for approval by the Northville (city) Planning Commission.

The recommendation probably will be considered by the council at its next meeting on Monday.

Specifically, the rezoning from R-1 (single family housing) to R-3 (multiple housing) would allow, if approved, construction of apartments just south of the existing apartment units on Novi Road — but not on the land to be rezoned.

"As we see it, this (proposal) is good business for both sides (city and developers)," said Robert Krue of Beneicke & Krue, the property owners. "We intend to be good neighbors," he added, citing his firm's long association with the city (the firm was the developer of the adjacent Village Green subdivision some 20 years ago).

Commission Chairman C. Thomas Wheaton agreed: "From his (Krue's) view, it is a reasonable request, and I agree."

Beneicke & Krue owns land on both sides of the river. It is the land on the west side that would be rezoned; it is the land on the east side where 14 two-bedroom units and 13 one-bedroom units are proposed to be built.

Beneicke & Krue would use the rezoned land for calculating the density of its development, then deed the rezoned land to the city for exclusive use as open space park.

The land where the apartment units are planned is already zoned for multiples. Apartments, therefore, can be built with or without the rezoning. The only difference is the number of units permitted. With the rezoning, the developer conceivably could build two or three more units than might now be built.

Hey, Mother Nature Who's fooling whom?

Spring came in like a lion last week when an unexpected winter storm roared its way through town Friday.

There were lots of headaches for Friday morning rush hour drivers but little real damage in Northville.

The slushy two inches of snow and high winds up to 40 miles per hour caused some electrical wires to fall and a Novi electrical transformer to break down, cutting off electrical power in parts of Northville.

About 5,000 customers in Northwest Wayne County experienced electrical shutoffs Friday, said Pete Georges of Detroit Edison. The cutoffs began between 7:30-11 a.m. Service to all customers was restored by Saturday, he said.

Northville High School and Moraine

Elementary were closed because of electricity outages.

Surrounding areas had it worse. Novi and the rest of Oakland County were hit, hardest, snarling traffic and closing schools.

Traffic lights at Five Mile and Sheldon, and Five Mile and Northville Road in Plymouth township were out during the Friday morning rush hour.

For Northville students and teachers, Friday was a confusing day of on-again, off-again school.

At 6:15 a.m. Superintendent of Schools Larry Nichols received reports of an electrical wire down across Taft just in front of Cooke Junior High. Power was out at the school.

Just as the district decided to close Cooke, Principal Dave Longridge made it into the school and discovered that electricity had been restored.

So at 7 a.m., Cooke Junior High announced it would be open — providing that students entered the school driveway from the north, avoiding the live wire on Taft.

Moraine Elementary was closed when all electricity went out.

School opened at NHS with 65 percent electricity while administrators hoped that heat and electricity would be totally restored by 8 a.m.

When officials found out that cause of the blackout was a blown transformer in Novi, high school students and teachers were sent home at 9:40 a.m.

The Institutions Special Education Program was in full swing despite power outages near some of the ISEP schools in Livonia and at Plymouth Center for Human Development.

"Last year our storm was in April," Nichols said, reflecting on last year's huge April ice storm which left some Northville residents without electricity for days.

"I won't heave a sigh of relief until June."

Tabless cars bring tickets after March 31

You have exactly three days to get your 1980 license tabs from the Secretary of State's office before police start handing out those tickets.

"You could face a very nasty ticket," warned Chuck Deamud, manager of the Northville Secretary of State's office.

To avoid that possibility, the Northville office will open Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., in addition to its regular weekday hours today, Thursday and Friday of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

"We'll open Saturday for those people who have put off getting their tabs," Deamud said. "Anybody in line at 6 p.m. during the week or 1 p.m. Saturday will be served."

Deamud said business has been spotty so far and they are preparing for the last-minute rush.

"Quite a few people still don't understand that they have to have their tabs by the end of the month," Deamud said. "A lot of people with commercial vehicles who were supposed to have tabs by the end of February got buried with tickets."

The Secretary of State's office is located in the Northville Plaza shopping mall on Seven Mile.

Board beefs up police, fire budgets

Many of the anticipated cuts in the fire chief's budget requests were partially restored at Sunday morning's township budget session.

And in a similar move, the the Northville Township Board of Trustees pumped more money into the proposed police department budget.

Decisions made Sunday will not be formalized until Monday's budget hearing process, which gets underway at 7:30 p.m. with a review of federal revenue sharing.

Partial restoration of fire and police outlays was made possible by cutting elsewhere and by use of an unanticipated $10,000 "windfall" carryover.

Fire Chief Robert Toms returned Sunday with a revised, tighter proposal that, except for his own salary recommendation, received the green light.

His salary, which had been proposed to increase from $18,000 to $20,000, was pegged at $19,000.

Tom's initial requests called for an increase from the 1979-80 level of $66,594 to $78,649. The board executive committee recommended a $57,240 outlay. But at Sunday's session, the full board came up with an outlay of approximately $70,000.

Part of the monies allowing this $70,000 is represented by the $2,400 that would have gone to the trustees. The board agreed that in view of the financial pinch its members will not accept a salary for attending meetings.

Police Chief Ron Nisun's budget was left pretty much as recommended by the executive committee, except that a $1,600 outlay charged to that department for printing and publishing was

Area Rotarians celebrate 75th year

Rotary International's 75 birthday was celebrated last Wednesday at Idyl Wyld Golf Club by 100 members and guests of the Northville and Novi clubs.

The evening proved a special one for C. A. Smith of Nine Mile and Robert Maynes of Novi who were named Rotarians of the Year for the Northville and Novi clubs respectively.

Local attorney Donald Severance made the presentation to Smith, a "senior active" in the club for his long, continuing service to Rotary projects.

Novi Rotary President Jerry Kratz honored Maynes, who is in the insurance business in Novi and is an active club member.

Official welcome to guests and visiting Rotary officials was issued by Elroy Ellison, Northville Rotary president. Steve Walters was master of ceremonies.

Hugh M. Archer, past director of Rotary International, spoke. The clubs also received greetings from Darrell W. Simons, governor of District 638 to which the Novi club belongs, and from Frank J. Sladen, governor of District 640 to which the Northville club belongs.

The evening included a toast to Her Majesty the Queen by Leo Harwood, District 638 governor nominee, as well as to President Carter by Roy Lancaster of the Windsor Rotary Club.

Northville Mayor Paul Vernon presented a framed resolution from the city citing the Northville club's contributions to the community.

During the evening Rotary's contributions also were lauded in resolutions from governmental officials.

Smith served as chairman of the anniversary planning committee. Walters was vice chairman. On the committee were Dewey Gardner, Chuck Mann, Vernon, Herman and Barbara Moehlman, James and Louise Cutler, Russell Amerman, Don Greengood, Bob Stiles, A. M. and Betty Allen, G. Stahman, Robert Geake, Art Radford, John Reynolds and Severance.

Radford led singing after dinner, accompanied by Gardner at the piano.

Rotary's motto, "Service above self. He profits most who serves best," was exemplified as the Rotarians of the Year were honored at the jubilee event.

After 24 years in township

Deputy clerk looks forward to peace and quiet

By KEN KOVACS

When Margarette Tegge agreed to become the first deputy clerk of Northville Township in 1956 she had no idea she would be occupying that position for almost a quarter of a century.

Living next door to the one-room Waterford schoolhouse on Franklin Road where Supervisor Molly Lawrence conducted township business, Margarette found her job "was no problem."

"My fondest memories as deputy clerk are of the schoolhouse days, when things were a little quieter," she recalls. "Things were very simple. I worked from 1-5 p.m. and went home."

"We didn't even have a flush toilet at the schoolhouse, but it still was a nice place to work."

Now, after 24 years — during which she worked under eight supervisors and seven clerks — Margarette has decided to let someone else take over the deputy clerk duties.

"Life is a continuation of changes and I think I am ready for a change," she says with a sigh. "I am looking forward to taking it easy. I think this will be good for me."

The township's only deputy clerk has seen the government offices move from the schoolhouse on Franklin to the library on Wing, to the building on Main which currently houses the school board offices, to the Wayne County Child Development Center building and finally to the current township complex on Six Mile.

The township population has nearly doubled during the time Margarette has been serving it — it grew from 7,500 in 1960 to about 15,000 currently.

The first thing she is going to do is go to Florida, the retiring deputy says.

"I will stay around here for awhile. This is where my friends are," she said.

"I also would like to stay with my daughter in New Jersey more often. I am looking forward to that."

But what about after that?

"I don't know yet," the veteran deputy clerk states matter-of-factly. "I will think about that later."

In addition to her oldest daughter,

Connie, Margarette has a son, Doug and two grandchildren.

Among those honoring the long-time clerk were members of the township board of trustees.

Trustees, upon accepting her resignation, recently agreed to have a plaque made up thanking Margarette for her many years of service.

"I will miss her greatly," said Clerk Clarice Sass.

Supervisor Donald Thomson also praised the retiring deputy clerk saying, "You've done one heck of a job and we will all really miss you."

Some of her fellow workers have predicted that Margarette still will be around the clerk's office to help out with elections.

Her response: "I may help out with elections, but if I do it will only be part-time."

Township employees recently honored Margarette Tegge for her 24 years as deputy clerk of the township. The township's first and only deputy clerk will retire April 11. Here, Supervisor Donald Thomson, the eighth supervisor she has worked under, congratulates Tegge as she cuts him a piece of cake. Looking on are Police Chief Ronald Nisun and other township employees.

Senior board supports public act

The senior adult advisory committee for Schoolcraft College has recommended support Public Act 5 allowing community college boards to waive tuition for persons 60 years of age or older.

According to Jan Reef, who represents Northville on the committee, two statements were issued by the committee:

1. We recommend the support of Public Act 5 of 1980 by the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.
2. We support the concept of integration of senior adults into Schoolcraft College with procedures which encourages older persons to move easily into the ongoing program for all seniors.

The committee strongly opposed establishment of special tuition free programs for senior citizens, preferring that seniors be integrated into regular or ongoing programs.

OBITUARIES

JOHN COWAN, JR.

A Lincoln Park school teacher, John H. Cowan, Jr., 60 of Northville, died March 15 at Snowmass, Colorado. He suffered a heart attack while skiing.

Mr. Cowan lived at 18406 Jamestown Circle.

Born October 10, 1919, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cowan, Sr. He and Marion Cowan were married October 31, 1971. She survives him.

Other survivors include three sons, Dr. John S. Cowan, Emil and David Maccino; two daughters, Beverly Gabor and Andrea Eason; and six grandchildren.

Mr. Cowan moved to Northville in 1971.

A memorial service was conducted March 20 from the Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home of Northville, with the Reverend Roger H. Schleef of Faith Lutheran Church of Livonia officiating.

DUNCAN HURSLEY

Duncan Hursley of 522 Rouge, owner of the Early American Shop in Plymouth, died March 21 in Venice, Florida. He and his late wife Beatrice opened the Plymouth shop in 1954.

Service for Mr. Hursley, who was 75, was at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Casterline Funeral Home with the Reverend Samuel F. Stout of First United Methodist Church in Plymouth officiating. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Hursley died unexpectedly in Florida. He had been vacationing at Englewood. He was born July 25, 1904, in West Lorne, Canada, to Frank and Mary (McColl) Hursley. His father had been a pharmacist in Detroit.

Mr. Hursley was preceded in death by his wife in August, 1967. Both had been very interested in antiques. They sold antiques as well as new furniture in the shop.

He was a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

He leaves a brother Frank of California; a niece Mrs. Bridget Dobson of California; and two nephews Frank Hursley of Birmingham and Duncan (Harold) Hartley of Milwaukee.

ALEX H. JOHNSON

Alex H. Johnson, a resident of the community for 60 years, died March 24 at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor at the age of 67.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church where Mr. Johnson was an elder. Pastor Charles Boerger is officiating.

Burial will be at Glen Eden Memorial Park Cemetery in Livonia. Arrangements are by Casterline Funeral Home.

Mr. Johnson had owned his own Twin Pines Dairy route.

He was born December 29, 1912, in Fort William, Canada, to Alex Hugo and Oline (Hoiby) Johnson.

In addition to his wife Edna he leaves daughters Sharon and Linda Crawford of Northville; a son Eric of Ypsilanti; sisters Violet Tabor of Northville and Florence Miller of Dexter; and two grandchildren.

MARGARET C. LEE

Funeral service for Miss Margaret C. Lee, 70, of 270 Hutton is being held at 10 a.m. today at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church where she was a member. Father John O'Callaghan is officiating.

Burial is in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield. Rosary was recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Casterline Funeral Home.

A resident of the community since 1942, Miss Lee was a retired nurse and from Maybury Sanatorium. She had never married.

She died unexpectedly March 23 at St. Mary Hospital. She was born July 8, 1909, in New York to John M. and Alice (Coy) Lee.

Survivors include a sister Mrs. Annabelle Walsh of Northville and brother Donald James Lee of Los Angeles.

BENJAMIN LEININGER

Benjamin F. Leininger, 99, of 25676 Monroe, Novi, died March 16 at the Redford Geriatric Nursing Home.

Born December 31, 1880 in Ohio, he was the son of Michael and Barbara (Shivler) Leininger. He was preceded in death by his wife, Mae Hoyer.

Mr. Leininger, a retired farmer, was a member of St. Alexsanders Church of Farmington Hills.

Survivors include sons and daughters Charles of Sebring, Florida, Mrs. Frances Cummings of Weston, Ohio, Raymond Bryan of Ohio, Sylvan of Montpelier, Ohio, Mrs. John (Marie) Gannon of Novi and Mrs. John (Ruby) Horshok of Wayne; 12 grandchildren, 28

Jelly for bread

Northville Jaycees and Jaycettes will be selling jelly in the city and township Saturday at a $1 a jar to raise funds for the National Institute for Burns in Ann Arbor. The annual sale also will feature free tot-finding stickers to be placed on windows where children may be sleeping, thus making for quick location in the event of fire. The jelly stands will be located in the Northville Plaza on Seven Mile, near the A&P store, and in the city municipal parking lot across from the Marquis Theatre. Fire trucks and equipment also will be on display for children. Above, urging support of the project are (l to r) Township Fire Chief Robert Toms, Bill Zapke, and Jaycee President Ron Barnum.

Don't bad-mouth your microbes

Would we find our lifestyles dramatically changed if we had no microbes? What if we lived in a germ-free world? Marvelous, right?

"Not so," says Dr. Harold Rossmore, professor of environmental industrial microbiology at Wayne State University who will lecture at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center at 8 p.m. on April 14.

Dr. Rossmore's subject will be the title of his award-winning book, "Microbes, Our Unseen Friends," in which he wittily describes these minute life forms as our friends and asserts it is high time the lay public becomes aware that, while they can indeed cause disease, we would find life tough-sledding without them.

Some of the chapters of his book are "Curds and Whey," "Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread (and Beer)," "Man Does Not Live By Bread Alone (or by Wine and Cheese Either)," just to whet your appetite both physically and intellectually!

Dr. Rossmore also is a crusader set out to prove that these tiny "germs," frequently damned by the human race, are beneficial little imps and should be thought of with more respect.

Voc Ed: High school 'stepchild' feels at home at last

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

In an effort to elevate vocational education from its stepchild status Northville High School is looking for ways to increase the number of voc ed courses here without increasing costs.

Industrial arts, are sensitive," NHS Assistant Principal Barbara Campbell told the Northville Board of Education recently. "Vocational education has felt like a stepchild. It needs to feel the board supports them philosophically and financially."

Philosophically, vocational education is no longer thought of as the lowest refuge for those who fail college prep. High schools are recognizing that not all students want or need to go on to college and that schools should provide introduction to a variety of skills needed in the working world.

NHS had 80 students complete voc ed co-op programs last year in industrial arts, business and home economics. But 220 additional students — many of them college-bound — took at least one vocational course last year.

"In industrial arts we see both the students who plan on four years of college and those who won't go on. We are seeing mutual respect and a breakdown of the elitism in vocational classes," Campbell said.

Finances, however, are a major hurdle for vocational programs. The programs cost more than regular classes because of equipment and supplies. In an auto repair course, for example, the district must purchase expensive tools and hoists for students to use. The state reimburses 75 percent of this cost but the district must still pay 25 percent.

Police Blotter

NHS student caught with illegal drugs

A 15-year-old Northville High School student was arrested March 18 for possession of drugs, city police reported.

High school administrators contacted police when they found the male student in possession of 16 white pills — later determined to be a hallucinogenic — and a small amount of marijuana.

The youth told police he had taken some of the pills and given some to friends. He was taken to Botsford Hospital for treatment.

Police said the school will not prosecute.

The student has been released to his parents.

Police are investigating several reports of vehicle vandalism March 22.

Two windows of a 1973 Pontiac parked in front of a Doris Court residence were shattered and similar vehicle window-smashing incidents were reported on Grace, Carpenter and Lake, police said.

There currently are no suspects.

A hand-painted papier mache swan was reported stolen from Four Seasons Flowers, 149 East Main March 18.

The swan, reportedly worth $580, was taken from a table in front of the store, owners told police.

Owners said a young man had wanted to buy the swan earlier in the day, but was told he could not purchase it on credit so he left the shop.

The item later was found missing.

Burglars escaped with approximately $90 in cash and an AM-FM radio worth about $120 following a break-in March 22 at Northville Station, 340 North Center, police said.

Entry apparently was gained through a shattered window on the north end of the business, police said.

Police are investigating the theft.

Two Livonia drivers suffered minor injuries March 21 when their cars collided on Six Mile at Haggerty, township police reported.

Theodore Gleski was driving his vehicle westbound on Six Mile and Linda Janes was traveling southbound on Haggerty when the accident occurred.

The drivers were taken to St. Mary Hospital.

Both drivers say they entered the intersection on a green light.

No citations were issued.

A Plymouth man suffered face lacerations March 19 when his car was struck by a vehicle driven by Michael MacDonald of Livonia, township police reported.

Mark Ratliff was driving his car westbound on Five Mile when MacDonald's vehicle, traveling southbound on Haggerty, turned in front of him causing the crash, police said.

MacDonald, who was unhurt, was issued a citation for failing to yield to oncoming traffic.

A 1965 platform dump truck was taken from the Lakes of Northville parking lot on Bradner near Six Mile sometime between March 14 and March 17, township police reported.

The vehicle is valued at $10,000.

Mexican fiesta

A little south-of-the-border fun was in store for second graders from Amerman and Winchester Elementary schools last week as students from Judith Coutts and Marilyn Kaestner's classes met for a Mexican fiesta. The classes have been pen pals since fall, so they finally met up under the pinata Friday. Here, a blindfolded Kara Kordt tries to break the paper mache figure open while her classmates anticipate the goodies which the pinata holds.

Egg search

Jaycees prepare for annual hunt

Just as certainly as daffodils bow in to signal spring, a traditional Northville Jaycee project will be repeated the Saturday before Easter, which this year will be April 5.

It's the always popular Easter Egg Hunt, which annually attracts hundreds of youngsters — and their parents.

According to Jaycee chairman Dennis Noel, the hunt will be held in Cass Benton Park along Hines Drive south of town.

It will start promptly at 9 a.m., says Noel, who urges parents to bring their children early enough so they don't miss the fun. "Too frequently in the past some children have arrived after the starting whistles and missed the action."

This year's hunt will be divided into four age groups:

Pre-school, first and second grades, third and fourth grades, and fifth and sixth grades.

Special prizes also will be given to those lucky hunters finding the "special bunnies," adds the chairman, who is being assisted by Marcia Booth and Michelle Buelow.

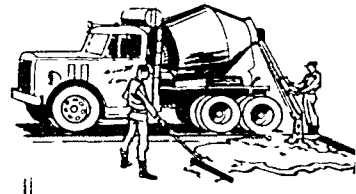

Persons who may have questions about the hunt are asked to call 420-2057.

"Make plans now to bring the whole family and join us in this year's fun," urges Noel.

Ferris lists grads

A trio of Northville residents was among those to receive diplomas at winter graduation, Ferris State College has announced.

David L. Froger, 18651 Sheldon received a bachelor of science in business administration. Kenneth J. Meslo, 1043 Bristol received a bachelor of science, with distinction, in hospitality management.

And Jan M. Whitmyer, 46935 Dunsany, received a bachelor of science in accountancy.

More than 500 students graduated winter term from the Big Rapids, Michigan college.

He gets MSU degree

Jim Nowka of Northville will take his first post-college job with Lockshorn Farms in Hickory Corners, Michigan beginning April 1.

Nowka, son of Donald and Constance Nowka, is a March graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in dairy science.

Bakery burnt

Saturday's fire destroyed the contents of Foltyn's Bakery and left the back entrance charred. The blaze, which apparently started in the back of the kitchen, was brought under control in about 30 minutes, according to Northville Fire Chief James Allen.

Chief Allen said, though the contents was ruined, the structural beams were not damaged severely. Some 40 firefighters from the city and township and Plymouth and Livonia were called in on the fire. Arson investigators began working at the site Tuesday.

In Uniform

Airman First Class Gerard T. Howley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Howley of 19773 Scenic Harbour Drive, is a member of an organization that has received the U.S. Air Force outstanding unit award at Wurtsmith Air Force Base in Oscoda.

The award is earned by members of an Air Force unit for exceptionally meritorious service or outstanding achievement that clearly sets the unit apart from similar units.

The airman is a 1977 graduate of American High School in Mexico City.

Richard C. and Gloria F. Leach of 20149 Silver Springs Drive, has returned from deployment in the Indian Ocean.

He is a member of Attack Squadron 115 operating from Yokosuka, Japan. While deployed, his squadron was embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Midway.

While underway in the area to maintain a ready force in support of national objectives, Midway remained at sea for 92 consecutive days. He and his fellow crewmembers had the opportunity to visit Australia, Kenya and the Philippines.

Leach joined the Navy in April 1977.

Student teaches handicapped

A Northville woman is using her love of skiing to help handicapped students overcome their disabilities.

Cynthia Cook, a junior at Michigan State University, is a volunteer for a therapeutic recreation program for handicapped students from the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing.

The daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Larry Cook of 640 Reed Court, Cook assists handicapped children and adults in learning downhill and cross country skiing.

She teaches blind and handicapped people to ski by using a special technique. The student holds on to the middle of a balance pole while two volunteers, one at either end of the pole, guide him down the slope. As the student's body awareness and coordination improve, one volunteer will hold onto the pole.

Eventually the student skis down the slope on his own, aided by physical or verbal directions from one of the volunteers.

Cook is studying for a special education degree at MSU.

Bumper display

Northville resident sticks with 'buy here'

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

"Real Americans Buy American Cars." Five popular words in Michigan, to be sure. But the catchy slogan, dreamt up by Northville resident Diane Craig and a friend, has struck a nerve in the collective American consciousness.

These days, Craig's $1 bumper stickers are selling as fast as those little Japanese import automobiles.

"We're getting calls from all across the United States," Craig said. "People are calling us; we're not calling them."

Craig and Bloomfield Hills friend Mary Lieberman thought of the bumper stickers over dinner about two months ago.

"We were wondering what we could do as individuals to save jobs and help improve our trade deficits with Japan and other countries," Craig explained.

The two women formed the non-profit corporation (abbreviated RADAC), made up bumper stickers, and began to peddle them in the Detroit area.

They had instant success with car dealerships and many businesses who agreed to carry the stickers on consignment.

"All the money we make (50 cents on each $1 sticker) goes right back into the business," Craig said.

The organization got national exposure recently when auto magnate Henry Ford brought it to the attention of a national news magazine.

Craig, speaking with excitement and determination, said she planned to continue with the stickers until Americans start buying more American cars and the sad balance of payments becomes healthier.

"Instead of looking for someone else to solve our problems, we've got to solve problems ourselves," she said.

Craig, who owns real estate for a living, lives at 18836 Jamestown Circle in Northville.

Stickers are available at Northville area businesses and car dealerships.

Many Americans are following Diane Craig's suggestion to buy cars here

NHS trumpeter featured soloist

Drew Farkas, a senior at Northville High School, will be the featured soloist with the Livonia Youth Symphony March 29.

The concert will be at Livonia's Bentley High School at 4 p.m.

Drew, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Farkas, 15898 Winchester, will perform the Hummel Trumpet Concerto with the orchestra. He has played first trumpet for five years with the junior and senior Livonia Youth Symphonies.

He plays in the Northville High School Wind Ensemble and jazz band, but he also has played in the Plymouth Symphony and the Schoolcraft Honors Wind Ensemble.

Drew attended Brevard summer music camp and Schoolcraft College's summer music sessions. He has studied trumpet eight years with Irving Sarin, former first trumpet with the Pittsburgh Symphony.

Ajax wins paving bid

Ajax Paving-Industries, Incorporated, has won the bid to repave parts of Ann Arbor Road and Plymouth Road this summer, the Michigan Department of Transportation reported this week.

The Madison Heights firm will resurface and upgrade Ann Arbor Road between Sheldon and Napier and Plymouth Road between Inkster and the Detroit city limit.

The projects are scheduled to be completed in October at a cost of $1,272,851.

Plymouth, Livonia help

With new acceptance, Voc ed isn't 'stepchild'

school districts NHS will offer 49 possible vocational courses next year.

NHS will offer auto shop, graphics, welding, drafting, accounting, office management, home economics and distributive education.

The district also will pay Plymouth on a tuition basis (called "shared time") so students here can attend vocational classes after school at Plymouth/Canton High School in auto body shop, nurse's aide, dental assistance and building trades. This year 10 NHS students took vocational welding at the Livonia Career Center.

But "shared-time" programs have monetary and logistics problems. In addition, many students who participate in the after-school programs do so because they are short credits for graduation and not because they are interested in the classes.

So Northville, Plymouth and Livonia are discussing whether they can form a single vocational education program. An agreement to share facilities, programs and budget would make for a constant potential student vocational population of 12,000. In addition, the state would give more funding to a larger program.

All have reason to be interested: Livonia has dozens of programs but few students, Plymouth has more students than it can handle but few programs, and Northville is too small to build a vocational program alone.

"We need more vocational education programs," said Curriculum Coordinator Mike Burley. "But we can't afford them by ourselves because Northville is too small. We are going to have to look at other options."

City may rezone Novi Road land

Several Village Green homeowners object to the increased density count. It permits "overbuilding," one said.

Furthermore, it was argued that the rezoning "violates the basic principles of good planning," that the developer had the opportunity but did not exercise it by objecting to the R-1 zoning at the time of the master plan update, and that a question of legality persists.

Presented with the petition for rezoning was a signed document that would convey the rezoned property to the city once a building permit is issued.

The agreement would require the city to use the land for open space park land for 20 years. After that time the city could do with it as it chooses.

However, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie pointed out that once the land becomes a city park it cannot be sold and used for another purpose without a vote of the people. He said the agreement would be binding even if the owner sells the planned new apartments.

The agreement also permits the developer to construct a bridge over the river, from its development to the park land, in much the same way that a bridge was built at the rear of the existing apartment units.

Commissioner James Cutler objected to the bridge clause, arguing that it gives the developer and the apartment dwellers exclusive use of the park lands.

Other officials, however, pointed out that a similar bridge exists and that no difficulties have arisen. Furthermore, they noted that the bridge might be connected with a sidewalk along Eight Mile, thus reducing trespassing by youngsters through the yards of Allen Drive properties.

Officials emphasized that the city has no intentions of developing the park, such as erecting swings, etc., but rather will maintain it as open space just as it maintains the existing property west of the river and to the north.

If the rezoning is approved and the property is given to the city, it will mean that the city will own open space from the rear of the corner hardware center to almost Eight Mile.

According to Krue, construction will begin immediately upon rezoning and obtaining of a building permit. Financing for the project already has been obtained, he told planners.

Tentative approval has been given the developer by the owner of the existing apartment complex on Novi Road to use the existing drive to enter and leave the planned new complex. However, that agreement has not been formalized, Krue admitted.

City officials are hopeful the agreement will become a reality because they do not like the idea of a drive at the Novi Road curve near Eight Mile.

Krue pointed out, and officials concurred, that under the law Benicke & Krue cannot be prevented from building a drive at the curve if use of the existing drive cannot be obtained. Such an action would constitute confiscation of the property since the owner would have no other way to get to his land, they observed.

Even if the rezoning is approved, it was pointed out, construction cannot be started without the permission of the Department of Natural Resources. The DNR must approve any project located within the flood plain of a river.

The rezoning recommendation by planners was approved without dissent. Also, the commission's planning consultant concurred in the rezoning.

Wayne County Board of Auditors recently granted a request by Northville Township Fire Chief Robert Toms to use a maintenance building on the grounds of the former Wayne County Child Development Center. The building, which has not been used for more than two years, will house fire engines and other firefighting equipment, Chief Toms said. The township must provide liability insurance, but otherwise will not pay for the use. Here, Trustee William Zapke and Chief Toms agree the site, located on the west side of Sheldon between Five and Six Mile, will give firefighters easy access to main roads in the township.

RESPONSE to the needs of the 13-member Bul family who arrived in Northville March 7 from Saigon has been so great that immediate requirements have been met, reports Carol Ann Donnelly, a coordinator from Novi Holy Family Catholic Church. Right now the need is for people to provide transportation for various family members. Volunteers may call Mrs. Donnelly at 349-2325.

PARENTS AND students of the Class of 1983 are invited to an information session at the Northville High School cafeteria tonight, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. School administrators and counselors will be available to talk to next year's sophomores about scheduling, classes and other concerns.

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT CITY OF NORTHVILLE

The City Council of the City of Northville, following a Public Hearing Monday, March 17, 1980 has adopted an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance as follows:

AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLE 9 BOARD OF ZONING APPEALS OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE, AS AMENDED, ADOPTED AUGUST 26, 1974, EFFECTIVE DATE, SEPTEMBER 5, 1974.

The City of Northville Ordains:
That Article 9 of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville shall be amended as follows:

1. That a new section shall be added and designated as Sec. 9.01 (A) which shall read as follows:

Section 9.01 (A) Alternate Members — The Council for the City of Northville may appoint to the Zoning Board of Appeals two (2) alternate members who shall have the same voting rights as a regular member of the Board of Appeals. One of these alternate members shall be appointed to a two-year term and the other shall be appointed to a three-year term; thereafter each alternate member shall be appointed to a full three-year term. These alternate members may be called to sit as regular members of the Board of Appeals by the Chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals or his designated representative in the following instances:

1. If a regular member is absent or unable to attend two or more consecutive meetings.
  2. If a regular member notified the Secretary of the Board that he will be absent or unable to attend a meeting for more than 30 consecutive days.
  3. If a regular member has abstained from voting or has notified the Secretary of the Board that he intends to abstain from voting by reason of a conflict of interest. In such case the alternate member shall serve until a final decision has been made.
2. That Section 9.04 — Jurisdiction shall be amended by amending sub-section 9 to read as follows: (Caps. Indicate amended wording)

The concurring vote of A MAJORITY of the members of the Board shall be necessary to reverse any other requirements, decision or determination of the Chief Enforcement Officer or to decide in favor of the applicant any matter upon which it is authorized by this Ordinance to make

PROVIDED HOWEVER, THAT THE CONCURRING VOTE OF 2/3RDS OF THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD SHALL BE NECESSARY TO GRANT A VARIANCE FROM USES OF LAND PERMITTED IN THIS ORDINANCE.

The foregoing amendments are proposed pursuant to the authority granted to the Council in P.A. 160 of P.A. of 1979, effective December 17, 1979.

3. That Section 9.07 be amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

Voting — Conflict of Interest. Each member shall vote when a vote is required except when the member requests to abstain from voting and gives a reason therefor. The right to abstain must be approved by a majority of the other board members in attendance.

Effective Date — The foregoing amendments to this ordinance shall become effective 10 days following enactment and publication thereof.

CITY OF NOVI NOTICE OF ENACTMENT ORDINANCE NO. 80-93

AN ORDINANCE TO DESIGNATE A BOARD OF EXAMINERS TO LICENSE MECHANICAL CONTRACTORS FOR THE CITY OF NOVI. THE CITY OF NOVI ORDAINS:

Section 1.01. Short Title and Citation. This Ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the Mechanical Contractors' Board of Examiners Ordinance.

Section 2.01. Board of Examiners. The City of Novi designates the Board of Examiners of the City of Detroit to serve as its Board of Examiners to license Mechanical Contractors to perform mechanical trades work pursuant to the State Construction Code Act, P.A. 1972, No. 230, as amended, being MCLA 125.1501, et. seq., and the Mechanical Code promulgated thereunder, as amended, within the City of Novi. The applicant shall pay to the City of Detroit any fees or charges imposed by the City of Detroit for such service.

Section 3.01. Construction; Severability. It is the legislative intent that all provisions and sections, clauses and sentences of this Ordinance be liberally construed, and should any provision, section, clause or sentence be held unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not be construed as affecting the validity of any of the remaining provisions, sections, clauses or sentences, it being the intent that this Ordinance shall stand notwithstanding the validity of any provisions, section, clause or sentence.

Section 4.01. Effective Date and Publication. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency Ordinance which is immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and shall become effective immediately. It shall be published by publication of a brief notice in a newspaper circulated in the City stating the date of enactment and effective date, a brief statement as to its subject matter, and such other facts as the Clerk shall deem pertinent, if any, and that a complete copy of the Ordinance is available for public use and inspection at the office of the City Clerk.

Made and passed by the City Council of the City of Novi, this 24th day of March, 1980.

Our Opinion

Apartments proposed for Novi Road curve

Gift horse

Like others, we would prefer that the vacant land along the Novi Road curve near Eight Mile be left undeveloped indefinitely. It makes for a pleasant entrance to the city.

Unfortunately, however, there is little the city can do to stop the planned apartment complex short of buying the land itself. And since the city is not inclined to buy it, the best we can hope for is that the city planners will insist on a good site plan and that the owner will build an attractive complex.

That the owner has the legal right to build apartments on the land is easily apparent. The existing zoning permits such a development, thus any effort by the city to block the plan would only lead to a costly, losing battle in the courts.

If the existing zoning permits the development, why then is a rezoning question before the council?

Actually, the rezoning need not have arisen had the city council simply agreed to give the owner permission to use (on paper) his land west of the Middle Rouge River to calculate the density of his planned apartments on the east side of the stream. It has been estimated that this kind of count would permit the owner to build two or three more apartment units than he might otherwise be permitted to build. City Attorney Philip Ogilvie had advised council that it could legally grant such a count.

Despite the attorney's advice, some members of council concluded — and we agree with them — that the wiser, "above board" method of handling the situation would be to require the owner to request the rezoning of his land on the west of the stream. With the rezoning, they reasoned, the owner could achieve the density desired without special concession that understandably might be suspected by the public.

Furthermore, council members argued that this procedure gives citizens an opportunity to state their views at public hearings.

Last week the planning commission held its hearing on the rezoning and, despite objections by some citizens living near the land, recommended to council that it be approved. Council probably will take up the matter next week and set a date for still another public hearing. Its final decision will follow that second hearing.

We believe council should approve the rezoning.

The rezoning, we believe, benefits the city and adjacent homeowners as well as the developer. It permits the developer's desired density and it preserves open space in an area where the city already owns park land.

Indeed, the owner has signed an agreement that would gift all of the rezoned land to the city, provided the city designates the land for open space park purposes. What's more, the public and the developer are granted further protection by the city charter, which prohibits the sale of park land unless approved by city voters.

All of which suggests to us that the slightly greater apartment density — on land that will be developed with or without the rezoning — is a good horse trade.

Odd hours

Although the township board has conducted its productive budget sessions openly — unlike the secretive discussions of years past — we share the citizen criticism that Sunday morning sessions do little to encourage public attendance.

The Sunday sessions, this year and last, may not violate the Open Meetings Act, but they come awfully close to inviting legal challenge.

We recognize the problem the board has in scheduling times and dates for "extra" meetings to accommodate the tight schedules of all board members, but the board must strive equally to accommodate the public in setting times and dates for its meetings.

It bothers us that township employees usually attend these odd-hour sessions, as they are entitled, to legitimately promote their own interests, while the vast number of taxpayers — the people who pay the bills — are at home (or in church) with only the board present to represent their (public's) financial interests.

So while on the one hand we salute board members for their candid, open budget discussions, on the other hand we question the propriety of meetings held at times when many tax-paying citizens, perhaps most, cannot or will not attend.

JOHN McLELLAN

Speaking for Myself

Presidency: 4 or 6 years?

KEN BUTLER

4 Years

The United States presidential election should continue to be held every four years. The elective process is the greatest privilege we have in the democratic system of government.

The American public has been asking for and demanding that our public officials be held more accountable to the public. One six-year presidential term would be a step backward from what we have been asking for. Once in office, the public would have little choice but to accept what he has done whether it be right or wrong.

Whether we own our own company or work for a company, everyone of us is in one way held accountable for the job we do. If we do not do our job or live up to our commitment, we are replaced. Why should the President of the United States be any different? Why should he be immune from answering to the voters for the job he's done? After all, aren't we his employer? Don't we pay his wages?

It is a weak argument that four years is not long enough for a president to get programs started and followed through. If it is not enough time, then that president does not deserve another term anyway. One six-year term could be disastrous for a president like that.

What is wrong is that the president has to start campaigning for re-election when he enters the fourth year of his term. If he truly represented the great people of this country — if he has been honest and fair to the people — he need not worry about a campaign. His record will speak for itself. That is how any true leader is measured.

John McLellan
President
Wolverine Lake Village

6 Years

Why not a constitutional amendment limiting the President's term of office to six years without re-election possibilities?

Historically — as far back as the disputes at the Constitutional Convention and the "no-third-term" precedent established by our first president to the current limiting features of the 22nd Amendment — we have always had some questions about the length of the president's tenure.

One of the major arguments against a limited six-year term would be that it would create a "lame duck" attitude by the president which would affect his efficiency in performing the duties of his office.

This holds no valid base. Actually it would be less of a "lame duck" problem than we now have. Under our current system, his efficiency is more restricted because after his first year of learning the roles of office he can only perform them without concern for another year to 18 months. Then he goes into a shell in making decisions that could offend his constituents so that his re-election can be secured. If re-elected, he then truly becomes a "lame duck" for four more years.

If we went to a limited six-year term, we could possibly get five effective years from that office without any periods of decision-making limbo. Needless to say, it would be less confusing for the voters to comprehend, also. And in retrospect, the company of past "lame duck" presidents like Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson, Coolidge, Truman (by his own wishes) and Eisenhower should be rather revered.

JACK W.
HOFFMAN'S
COLUMN

Somewhere along the line, schooling failed to prepare me for the facts of life.

Take the piece of information passed along by John Stuart: butchers don't slice meat thin to make more money; they do it to titillate taste buds.

My mother might challenge that observation but not me. In her eyes thickly sliced meat shared a pedestal with an "apple a day." When she put a slice of ring bologna in her kids' sandwich it was as thick as the bread in which it was wrapped. Better the kids choked than starved, she reasoned.

And dad shared her view. His slices of ham were as thick as they were wide. And if any sibling protested, he would growl, "Eat it! It'll put some meat on your bones."

To self-conscious students thick sandwiches were as humiliating as the oversized coats, hats and boots we were forced to wear. ("I don't care what the other kids are wearing, you'll wear boots. They'll get pneumonia; you won't!").

To this day I don't like ham — unless I can see through it.

So John's revelation came as no big surprise. It was his explanation of why thinly sliced meat is tastier that I found difficult to understand. "There's more exposed surface to thin meat than thick meat — more area, more taste."

Had I been paying attention in a geometry class, perhaps this thin-meat theory would be acceptable. But having missed something, I've got to believe there are two sides to each slice — thick or thin. Except in the case of my parents' thick slice, which you might say had three surfaces — top, bottom and side.

But John, who had training in meat cut-

Trustee Nowka explains position on fire budget

To the Editor:
After last week's Letters to the Editor, I find it necessary to share my viewpoints. The impressions suggested by both letters were incorrect.

My support of the Northville Township Fire Department has been consistent. I recall being one of the early supporters of the department, and I am pleased with the results. They are a good team under the solid and creative leadership of Chief Robert Toms.

With regard to the ballot proposals, I definitely supported the one for recreation. The fire department is supported fully out of general operating funds and there is no demonstrated need for any millage proposal here for operating expenses. As the township grows in population, special millages may be required for additional fire facilities.

The recreation proposal gave some attention to very serious current and looming future problems. The Northville area commands a pretty impressive image, but visible attention to this area does not reflect that image. The past few years have seen growth in recreation, but most of the improvements have been made through donations or at small cost beyond operating expense. This program needs a few dollars to own some land and to provide for its development in a total community. A suitably effective recreation program provides a benefit for all ages and touches the maximum number of people. The program as a distance to go to meet our minds' eye view of the way it should be, but it has begun. Even if the program affected me little, I know I would support it, feeling that my investment here would serve worthwhile purposes.

In regard to being late for the Saturday, March 16, 1980 meeting, I enjoy coaching fifth and sixth grade basketball and a game was scheduled. I am inclined to take all commitments seriously.

In any event, I always will try to do those things that will benefit all the people of the township and the future of our community.

James Nowka
Northville Township Trustee

To the Editor:

Two lawsuits have been filed regarding the May Presidential Primary. One suit, supported by the MTA and many township clerks, declares total funding for the primary must be provided by the state, in an attempt to protect the townships and cities from being forced to bear the burden of the cost of the election. Furthermore, the suit contends such a primary is actually an opinion poll whose results are partially applicable to show candidate preference in only one of the major party's delegate selection process. In effect, this suit challenges the legality of the May Presidential Primary.

Another lawsuit challenges the legality of the caucus system utilized by the Democratic Party to select delegates and to show candidate preference. If this lawsuit prevails it would force the Democrats to select delegates in the May Presidential Primary.

Obviously, if the first lawsuit is successful and the May 20 Primary is wiped out, then the second lawsuit will be meaningless. Moreover, if the first lawsuit wipes out the May Primary, then the Republicans will choose their delegates through a series of conventions beginning on May 28. However, if the first lawsuit does not prevail, then the Republican precinct delegates will be elected in the May 20 Presidential Primary.

In any event, I have decided to become a candidate for Republican Precinct Delegate. If you are confused about the Presidential Primary, the above information might prove worthwhile.

To the Editor:
The fire at Foltyn's Bakery gave us a real scare. A fire in a confined business district, such as ours, could have resulted in a major disaster for the City of Northville had the fire gotten out of control.

The quick and professional response of our fire department is reassuring to the people of Northville.

To Fire Chief Allen and his volunteers, "a job well done."

Rodney A. Cannon
Chief of Police

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the Northville city and township fire departments for their efficient handling of the March 22 fire at Foltyn's Bakery.

Their prompt response prevented further damage and property loss to neighboring businesses.

It is reassuring to know that Northville has such a proficient and dedicated group of firemen, and policemen.

We would also like to thank the Livonia, and Plymouth City and Township firemen for their assistance. The Novi Ambulance was also standing by ready to help if necessary.

Many thanks to all, for a job well done.

To the Editor:

A very tragic death has occurred as a result of no barricade on the east side of the (Northville Square) on Main Street.

A man died as a result of a fall off of this drop-off.

I have seen children chase a ball next to this drop-off also, daring each other to jump.

A human life has been lost. Whether 8 years old or 80, should this have been in vain?

I will hope for something to be done. Also, I wish the (new tenants of Northville Square) much success.

Thank you.

GOOD TIME
FOR WINE

Think of an idyllic day in spring or summer. Think of a spot on the grass in the cool shade of a tree. In front runs a clean river, and as far as the eye can see, there are green fields and trees. Beside you is someone you love, and next to you is a blanket with the remains of a loaf of bread, some cheese and a couple of bottles of wine. This vision is not just a romantic fancy. These days, it might be hard to find an isolated spot next to a clean river, but there are certainly many pleasant, beautiful, natural spots left. The bread, wine and cheese, will always be available.

... and we at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477 will be happy to help you choose those bottles of wine. There is always a complete selection of both imported and domestic wines available. If you would like to take along some sandwiches — we can provide you with those, too. Hot sandwiches, submarines, and ham & cheese are made here. Hours: Mon. thru Sat. 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sun. Noon-6 p.m.

WINE WISDOM:
Avoid travelling long distance with red wines. They can get disturbed by a lot of vibrations.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

The federal government is demanding that the State of Michigan pass a bill designed to establish automobile emission inspections in accordance with the 1972 federal Clean Air Act. To ensure that we meet their demands, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has placed a ban on industrial construction in southeast Michigan which will not be lifted unless the auto inspection program is implemented. That ban currently is holding up plants being planned by General Motors Corporation and Volkswagen of America — plants that mean jobs for Michigan citizens.

Just in case we are willing to pay that price the EPA also has threatened additional sanctions on Michigan by denying federal highway and sewer funds.

So it sounds like blackmail to me, and Edward G. Robinson isn't even around anymore!

But more deplorable than this example of governmental arm-twisting is the actual form in which this "bill," House Bill 5367, was passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

This bill was deliberately kept vague in order to assure its passage. For example, lobbyists for the Lung Association (whose job it is to improve clean air standards) conceded that they had to compromise on their requests in order to get any kind of a bill. Consequently, we are looking at a frightfully weak piece of legislation.

Supposedly the final details of this bill will be decided by bureaucrats from the Departments of State, Transportation and Natural Resources, but a clear definition of their responsibilities has not been established.

These three agencies would decide under what rules this program would be implemented, what method of auto testing would be used, and who would be responsible for conducting this program. Naturally, because all these factors are undecided, the costs to the state and the public also are unknown. But we can assume they will be considerable.

The bill does state $10 will be charged for auto emission tests ($3 to be paid by the public and the remaining $7 by the state). Testing will occur in urban areas of more than 200,000 not meeting federal clean air standards by 1983 (probably the four-county southeast corner of the Lower Peninsula).

While the rules and methods remain unclear, the bill does spell out what exemptions would be available. For instance, poor people, owners of cars more than eight years old and brand new cars will be exempt from the tests. Also, no one will be required to pay more than $75 for repairs for those cars that fail the test, unless they have tampered with air pollution control devices already on their vehicles. Also exempted would be diesel vehicles and large trucks. In other words, we are going to solve the air pollution problem, but only certain people are going to pay the price.

I obviously oppose this bill. I see it as a flagrant case of blackmail, a bill too vague to be trusted, with unknown costs, and filled with "Robin Hood" type exemptions.

On top of all those arguments, I simply question the necessity of passing this bill. Each year, since 1972 when the federal Clean Air Act became law, automobile companies have been complying with federal auto emission regulations which have greatly reduced the amount of pollutants being spewed into the air from auto tailpipes.

By the time Michigan's auto emission testing program takes effect in 1983, federal regulations will require that the amount of auto pollutants be reduced even further. That, coupled with a lesser number of old cars on the highways and fewer miles being driven with newer ones because of the continually rising cost of gasoline, I believe, will to a large degree resolve the excessive pollutant problems which the EPA says exists in southeastern Michigan.

Industrial hostage, highway hostage or sewer hostage — take your pick. Either way, when it comes to blackmail I've decided who needs the late show when you can deal with the federal government.

ting before he started cutting up U-M budgets as an accounting wizard, insists he is correct.

That's why Arby and Genitti pile it on, he would argue. Ten paper thin slices are better than one thick slice of beef.

Although I'm not yet ready to accept his theory, maybe there is a bite size of truth in it. Others share similar views. Ice fishermen say that two pairs of socks are warmer than one thick pair; homeowners say two layers of insulation in the rafters are more effective than one thick layer; and my daughter says she'd rather lick two single scoop cones than one double-decker.

On the other hand, this two-is-better-than-one theory flies in the face of the guy who bellies up to the bar and orders a double.

great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Funeral service was conducted March 19 from Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home of Northville, with the Reverend Father James B. Wright of St. Alexanders Church officiating. Burial was in Parkview Cemetery.

CLYDE E. TUBBS

Clyde Edward Tubbs, 48, of 627 Walled Lake Drive in Walled Lake died March 6 at his residence of burns suffered in an apartment building fire.

Funeral service was at 11 a.m. Saturday, March 15, at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville with the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure of First Presbyterian Church officiating.

Burial was in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West, Westland.

Mr. Tubbs was born March 25, 1931, in Denver, Colorado, to Clyde E. and Ruby (Drake) Tubbs. He was a metal finisher.

ANNA M. WHITE

Anna M. White of 326 Pennell, a lifetime area resident, died March 22 at West Hickory Haven Convalescent Home in Milford at the age of 89.

Service was at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Casterline Funeral Home with Dr. James Luther of First Baptist Church in Northville officiating. Mrs. White was a member of the church.

Burial was in Novi Cemetery.

Mrs. White, who was retired from Ford Motor Company, was born December 23, 1890, in Novi to Thomas and Myrtle (Lowe) Booth. She was preceded in death by her husband Phillip in 1951.

She leaves a son Russell Taylor of Novi; a sister Mrs. Grace Brown of Lapeer; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

JOHN YENSEL

John W. Yensel, 98, a former Northville resident, died recently at the Michigan Masonic Home in Alma.

He was born October 14, 1881 in Michigan.

Funeral service for Mr. Yensel, who was a retired electrician for the Ford Motor Company, was held March 20 at the Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home of Northville.

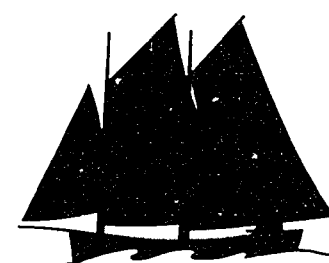

Burial was in Oakland Hills Cemetery.

Guild stages Godspell

Two Northville actresses will join in the Plymouth Theatre Guild's production of the musical "Godspell" for the next two weekends.

Nancy Sievert and Karen Groves, both of Northville, will appear in the play March 28, 29, April 4 and 5 at the Central Middle School on Church and Main in Plymouth.

The play's theme is the Gospel according to St. Matthew and called "Godspell" on the basis that there is a spell or a magic and wonder to the Gospel.

Many famous songs, such as "Day by Day" and "On the Willows" are included in the play, which ran a stint on Broadway and was made into a motion picture.

Sievert returns to the stage after a 10 year absence. Her credits include

"Good News," "My Fair Lady," "King and I" and "Music Man."

She lives in Northville with her husband Dolan and two children. She is a beauty consultant for Mary Kay cosmetics.

Groves is playing in her second role for the Guild; she was in "Love Rides the Rails." She is a member of the Canton Singers and has appeared with Schoolcraft Community Chorus and Suburban Choir.

Her credits include "The Fantasticks," "Plain and Fancy" and "Once Upon a Mattress."

She lives in Northville with her husband Tom and two children.

Tickets are available at the door of the Plymouth Cultural Center, Farmer Street, or by telephone 455-2133.

Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students and senior citizens.

She'll sing at Marquis on Sunday

Women writers' works will be the focus of mezzo soprano Wendy Gartner Bloom's recital at the Marquis Theatre Sunday.

Bloom, a voice teacher at Schoolcraft College, will sing lieder of Maria Stewart and Mathilde Wesendonck and selections based on writings of Louise de Vilmorin, Virginia Woolf and Gertrude Norman.

She will be accompanied by pianist Donald Morelock, head of the piano department at Schoolcraft.

The recital starts at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 30. Tickets are available at the door.

Canterbury Tales come to life here

A rare treat for Chaucer lovers will be presented at Schoolcraft College on Wednesday, April 9, when Australian actor Rob Inglis performs Nevil Coghill's modern English version of "The Canterbury Tales."

Inglis' two-hour program will include the Prologue; The Tabard Inn in Southwark on a night in the 14th Century; The Wife of Bath Prologue; The Wife of Bath's Tale; The Pardoner's Tale; The Nun's Priest's Tale and The Miller's Tale.

These selections of Chaucer's "son-dry folk" — from sublimely noble to lecherously corrupt — come alive when Rob Inglis portrays all the characters in the famed Tales. He satirizes the prioress, shows the pompous-riding merchant's resemblance to his 20th Century counterparts and struts like a rooster.

Frederic L. Milstein of The Los Angeles Times said, "Inglis enacted tastefully cut tales... the Nun's Priest (starring a deftly-crowned Chanticleer and a fruity fox), and as a hilariously wild finale, the Miller's masterly fabliau with no four-letterisms or misdirected kisses barred.

The curtain speech was Chaucer's apology for writing about people as they really are. The medieval poet expected to roast in hell for the deed, but Inglis got only applause from the sold-out auditorium."

Rob Inglis trained in London at the Royal Shakespeare and National Royal Court Theatres. He says Chaucer is relevant for today because he was the greatest exposé of hypocrisy that ever lived. He has been performing his one-man show, using a table and four chairs as props, all over the world for six years.

Inglis believes that Chaucer's work is "like a tonic for the wounds of today. Chaucer is realistic, ironical, but joyful."

The performance is at 8 p.m. in the Waterman Campus Center. Tickets at $3 general admission and $2 students are available in advance at the Schoolcraft Bookstore, 18600 Haggerty.

PTA - PTSA News

The PTA/PTSA Coordinating Council held their annual joint meeting with the Northville Board of Education on March 13. Approximately 50 people attended in spite of the bad weather and numerous topics were discussed.

Our next meeting will be Thursday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the board of education office. Assistant Superintendent for Instruction Nancy Soper will discuss the 1979-80 school year goals and what has been accomplished to date. The council meetings are open and everyone is welcome to attend.

Glenda Buist, President

Cooke Junior High

As we look at the calendar and see the school year winding down, we are looking forward to the teacher's luncheon May 15.

Don't forget — Wednesday, April 23 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. will be our family skating party at Bonnaventure Rink.

The gym was really alive and jumping with 500 students when the Free Fare rock group paid us a visit March 5. The concert was a huge success.

During conferences recently we had a giant Tupperware party. Georganne Spindler spend much of her time on the project and Karen Weaver made the posters which downtown merchants displayed.

Under the direction of Mr. Stevens, the Mercyaire's choral group was at Cooke March 14. Students enjoyed the many beautiful songs they presented.

Mary Weaver

Meads Mill Junior High

Meads Mill's science fair is almost upon us. This year the students' projects will be displayed in the school library on April 21, 22 and 23. Judging of the projects is planned for the evening of April 21.

Small groups of sixth grade parents have been visiting Meads Mill this month and meeting informally with Ron Horwath, principal. Besides touring the building and visiting classrooms, the parents are encouraged to ask questions about school life at Meads. This informal coffee will be held regularly for interested sixth grade parents through the end of the term.

The German class went on a field trip to Rackham on March 25. That evening the swim team banquet was held.

The forensics team will be participating in the Whitmore Lake invitational March 29.

An after school activity is being planned by the student congress April 2 from 2:30-4 p.m. David Anthony, a ninth grader, will be selecting music for the dance.

Kim Terwin, Meads' spelling bee champ, will be competing in Westland April 26.

Joyce Kormanis

Winchester Elementary

The most talked-about activity this month has been the "space orbit." Under the keen direction of physical education teacher Mary Miner, this activity incorporated the action of climbing, balancing and jumping. The challenge for children in grades K-3 was to go around the orbit without becoming "lost in space." This activity was unusual in that the students drew space pictures for the gym walls. The Plus music youngsters provided "Way Out — Space Music" for a combination of art, music and physical education.

Family night was March 6. The magician Bob Downey entranced the third and fourth graders and their parents, too.

Cheryl Mallette's third grade class sold cupcakes March 12 with proceeds going to the Michigan Humane Society.

Cathy Anthony, chairperson of Winchester PTA's grounds committee, and Operations Director William Hood are busy planning the plantings and other spring improvements for the school's exterior.

Elementary parent-teacher conference are March 25-28. Parents await the date with eagerness while the students await with trepidation.

Third grade teacher Carole Schaal and PTA mothers are preparing for Creative Arts Week which begins March 31.

Ed Johnson's marionettes will appear in "The Human Planet" March 31.

The new birthday board in the central hall of Winchester announces both students' and teachers' birthdays, thanks to Kathy Devendorf and Jeree Akin.

Campbell soup label winners are Jan Shelter's sixth grade and Bill Lenz's fifth grade, Pat Kuxhaus's third grade and Judith Counts' second grade.

Congratulations to Harry Rosinski, fourth grade teacher, who became the father of a five-pound baby girl March 5.

Mary Ann Russell

Amerman Elementary

The Amerman PTA will hold a general meeting open to all on Tuesday April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the library. The Reverend Fred Prezioso from Epiphany Lutheran Church in Northville Township will speak on the topic of family communications. At this meeting the slate of officers for the coming year will be presented and voted upon.

The Amerman PTA will purchase two picnic tables to be placed in the school

She's finalist in Virginia beauty pageant

Kathleen Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Owens of 4888 Byrne Drive, has been selected as a finalist in the 1980 Miss Virginia-USA Pageant, it was announced this week.

The pageant will be held March 29-April 2 at Busch Gardens in Williamsburg, Virginia. The winner will represent Virginia in the annual Miss USA Beauty Pageant to be telecast nationally on CBS-TV from Biloxi, Mississippi.

Miss Owens will compete with approximately 80 other young women from throughout Virginia.

A graduate of Northville High School and Michigan State University, she now has a government consulting firm, Owens & Associates, in Washington, D. C.

Her other activities include working as a political advancement for Vice-President Mondale. She has accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Mondale on visits to Michigan and to other states.

The 27-year-old, 5'8" beauty, has one brother, David.

She is sponsored in the Virginia competition by the National Housing Conference, based in Washington.

The reigning Miss Virginia-USA is Betsy Bott, a financial consultant and model from Falls Church.

The PTA also has allocated funds to buy new drapes for the school library and to finish the second phase of the school's lobby.

On Wednesday, April 23, Amerman children will be treated to a performance by Mona, the puppet. Marilyn O'Connor, the puppeteer, will interact with children discussing topics appropriate to their grade level.

Fifth grade students from Mr. Lightfoot and Mr. Honey's rooms who wish to participate will take a field trip to Chicago on Saturday April 26. Itinerary for the day includes visits to the Museum of Science and Industry, Shedd's Aquarium and the Sears Tower.

After the tremendous success of the roller skating party in February, the PTA sponsored another party March 24.

This is the week of Amerman's science fair. Make it a point to stop by the library and view the projects done by the fourth, fifth and sixth graders

Moraine Elementary

"Make It — Fly It!" is the theme of a parent and child kite making workshop scheduled April 1 from 7-9 p.m. When weather permits, the children will enter their kites in flying competition. Rick Sievert donated the sticks for the kite construction.

An all-school carnival will highlight the afternoon of April 3. Brenda Garner, Kathy Elick and Bill Mills are chairing the event. Games of skill and chance, makeup centers, snack counters and cartoons will appear throughout the school.

Parents and teachers are invited to a free showing of the Massey film, "What You Are Is What You Were When" on April 15 at 8 p.m. The film is a narration of the value system. It explains how values are based upon childhood experiences.

A PTA Junior Entertainment Series program for the school will feature

"Mona" star of the "Hot Fudge Show." It is scheduled for April 23.

Bob Prom's sixth grade class won the Campbell soup label contest with 2,140 labels. Kathy Bloomfield's first grade came in second place. Parents helped collect 20,000 labels.

With the arrival of spring, Shari Daniels, plant sales chairperson, wants to remind parents that the PTA will again be selling flats of flowers. Order forms will be sent home for impatiens, petunias, begonias, marigolds and snapdragons.

The next board meeting will be held April 14 at 9:30 a.m. An election of officers for the 1980-81 board will be held.

An evening parent advisory meeting is scheduled for April 24 at 7:30 p.m. Topics to be discussed are a progress report on student discipline, conduct at bus stops and the social studies curriculum.

Patricia Dorrian-Sandbothe, Donald VanIngen with 25 year awards

David Longridge, Ronald Horwath hold 20-year awards

26 teachers honored

PTA service awards were given to 26 Northville teachers recently at the annual PTA luncheon at Northville High School.

Two teachers — Donald (Dutch) Van Ingen, principal of Moraine Elementary, and Patricia Dorrian Sandbothe, NHS teacher — were honored for 25 years in the school district upon completion of the 1979-80 school year.

Three teachers received 20-year service awards. They were Meads Mill Principal Ronald Horwath, Cooke Junior High teacher Alex Klukach and Cooke Principal David Longridge.

Honored for 15 years' service were Amerman Elementary teacher Marian Hines, NHS teacher Jack Townsley, and Meads Mill teacher Wilma Castillo.

Teachers with 10 years' service were Maryanne Bourne from Amerman; Sandra Cook, John Donahue, John Edwards and Ronald Meteyer from NHS; Judith Coutts, Constance Cylkowski and Shirley Talmadge from Winchester.

Also: Phillip Demski and Janet Rigney from Silver Springs; and Mildred Harder, Ann Jarvi, Beverly McKenzie and Kathleen Stutterheim from Moraine.

Teachers honored for five years' service were Virginia Baumgartner from Moraine; Joseph Blake and Sharon Pernia from Cooke; and Edward Gabrys from Meads Mill.

Lots of good, new reading on tap at local library

A number of publications of Standard & Poor's Corporation, a leader in the field of financial information, rating services and computerized marketing data, are now being provided by the Northville Public Library.

The S&P services include:

Corporation Records — Seven volumes of financial and business data on 11,000 companies

Fixed Income Investor — Weekly

bond publication covering ratings and market trends.

The Outlook — Weekly stock advisory and information publication.

Bond Guide — Monthly data, ratings on nearly 11,000 corporate and municipal bonds.

Dividend Record — Details on more than 9,800 dividend amounts, dates, rights.

Stock Guide — Monthly financial summary of 5,000 stocks.

A variety of new fiction books are now available at the library, located at the corner of Main and Wing. Here's a sampling:

The Nooriabad File by Geoffrey Watson. Mike is sent to troubleshoot some disappearing money. He discovers the reason, but terrorists want his report and hold his wife and child hostage.

Death of a Mystery Writer by Robert Barnard. This satire of the British whodunit sees a popular writer done in, with many people around who are glad it's done.

Unholy Child by Catherine Breslin. A nun, all alone in her convent, gives birth, kills the baby and hides its body. Ravaged by guilt, amnesia blacks out her memory, but she goes on trial for murder.

Looking for Work by Susan Cheever.

Salley searches in a half-hearted way to define herself by means of work. A bitersweet, moving, funny novel.

The Books of Rachel by Joel Gross. This imaginative, fast-moving Jewish family saga follows the careers of its Rachels, all vivid and spirited women, from 1484 to the 20th century.

Lady on The Burning Deck by Catherine Heath. This ruefully comic novel records the decline & fall of the upper-middle-classes in present day London.

The Street by Donald Lindquist. George Weller, chairman of the New York Stock exchange, battles enemies who want to close it for their own purposes and dirty tricks by the President's election committee.

Beecher: A Novel by Dan McCall. A novel based on the life of Henry Ward Beecher, the outstanding American preacher and moral leader of his time.

Princess Pamela by Ray Russell. In London, 1837, Pamela learns that all is not as it should be, but is surprised at the death, drama, scandal and sexuality that invade Berkeley Square.

Mom Kills Kids and Self: A Novel by Alan Saperstein. When a husband comes home to find his wife and two sons dead, the shock makes him totally deranged. Slowly reality and the acknowledgment of his own share in the tragedy begin to seep in.

A Coat of Varnish by Charles Percy Snow. A retired intelligence agent, a relative of the victim, investigates her murder, stripping off the "varnish" that holds together the British social scene today.

Ice Brothers by Sloan Wilson. During WW II a lightly armed Coast Guard ship with only one experienced officer on board has gun duels with Germans and tries to rescue a destroyer.

Roadmarks by Roger Zelazny. S. F. adventure, with action aplenty as expert killers wage a vendetta against an interplanetary trader-adventurer.

Just Above My Head by James Baldwin. Set during America's past three decades, it is the story of a Harlem gospel singer Arthur Montana, acclaimed as the "Soul Emperor."

Mrs. Job by Victoria Branden. The problems of Meredith Doyle Poole Rideout are many. They all revolve around the fact that she loves Nicholas, who is married to Bridgie.

The Rock Cried Out by Ellen Douglas. A young man who has spent several years in the North returns to his native Mississippi seeking country peace.

Living in The Maniototo by Janet Frame. Violet, a novelist working on a new book, journeys from New Zealand to California where she inherits a house when its owner dies.

The Koborg Link by Arthur Maling. Brock Potter is called upon to investigate the brutal murder of a young man about to be married.

Students to present contemporary musical Sunday at First Methodist

Newcomers plan house tour

A Grosse Pointe home tour is planned May 1 by women of the Northville Newcomers Club.

According to Prudy Vannier, a bus will leave the Northville Plaza shopping center at 9 a.m. and return to Northville by 2:30 p.m.

Reservations for the event must be made by April 16, Ms. Vannier said, pointing out that the tour will be limited to 40 women. Reservations may be made by calling the chairman, Marcia Horngren, 420-3292.

Women are asked to bring decorated box lunches that will be exchanged and eaten on the bus ride home. Wine will be provided for the lunch.

Besides a tour of the Decorators' Show House of 1980, participants will have time for a short shopping spree at a boutique and greenery.

Our 70th year

Now in our seventieth year, we of Ross B. Northrop & Son take pride in our distinction of being the outstanding funeral service in the Northwest area.

Over the years we have been dedicated to serving the greater community with sympathy and understanding.

With the attributable characteristics of our services we have been a leader in Pre-Need and Pre-Financing funeral services.

Inquiries of the above are more than welcome. You may call at both locations for competent counseling in private.

"Here Comes the Son" is the contemporary musical to be presented Palm Sunday, March 30 at the First United Methodist Church of Northville.

Some 50 students, grades seven through twelve, will participate, with instrumental accompaniment including trumpet, flute, French horn, percussion, piano and organ.

The musical is a narrative of the life and times of Jesus as viewed by the four Gospel writers.

"The songs take us from Jesus' birth through His death and resurrection," a spokesman said. "Many of the songs deal with people of the New Testament whose lives were affected by Christ."

The lively musical by Paul Johnson will be staged at 10 a.m.

Musical set to portray Christ's life

War film evokes emotion

The true-life story of Corrie ten Boom, a former Nazi prisoner, will be presented through the motion picture, "The Hiding Place," on Sunday, March 30 at 6 p.m. at Christian Community Church.

Christian Community is located at 41355 Six Mile, west of I-275 in Northville Township.

According to Betty Galka, secretary to Pastor I. Mitchell, the story of tragedy and victory is about a family which was willing to risk all for others.

The ten Booms became involved in the Dutch Underground during the German occupation in World War II by hiding Jews in a secret room built in their house, thereby aiding them in their escape from the Nazis.

As a result of a raid by soldiers, Corrie's family was taken prisoner and Corrie was sent to the dreaded concentration camp, Ravensbruck.

The Hiding Place portrays the de-humanizing agonies of a concentration camp...the personal confusion and conflicts of both victors and vanquished...the confrontation of military might and gentle ministry...and the costs of caring for others.

Millions of readers have cried, suffered and triumphed with Corrie ten Boom and her family through the book, The Hiding Place. Now the motion picture captures all the power, excitement, and sheer dramatic

Baptist choir to perform

The choir of the First Baptist Church of Northville at Wing and Randolph will be presenting the "Last Week" by John Peterson on Palm Sunday evening.

The March 30, 6:30 p.m. program, featuring wind and brass accompaniment, is open to the public.

force that sets this story apart from others. Ms. Galka, and refreshments will be served.

Nature, historical society serving up varied menu here

The Northville Historical Society is promising "something for everyone" with its series of four successive Saturday workshops entitled, "Saturday Spring Things."

Former resident Barbara Scantlin will open the series at the Mill Race at 10 a.m. on April 26 with her day-long "All About Herbs" workshop.

The history and origin of herbs, their uses, garden designs and planting will be covered.

Ms. Scantlin will share recipes and directions for things to make with herbs as well as showing drying techniques.

After a sack lunch, topped off with herb teas, participants will accompany Ms. Scantlin on a short field trip to Cranbrook Gardens or the Matthaei Botanical Gardens near Ann Arbor.

PERENNIALS

On Saturday, May 3, horticulturalist John Brugeman will hold a "Perennial Primer" workshop in which students will gain practical knowledge through digging, dividing and transplanting.

All aspects of perennials will be covered, from identification, planning the garden, and cold frame construction to winter protection.

Since the entire workshop will be held outdoors, students are advised to wear suitable clothing and boots. Participants should bring a trowel, a pocket knife and a sack lunch. Beverages will be furnished.

Workshop participants will meet at 10 a.m. at the Mill Race for an introduction, then travel to Brugeman's nearby home for the remainder of the program. Fifteen students will be accepted.

EDIBLE WILD PLANTS

Helen Maki will lead a group of 12 in the pursuit of "Edible Wild Plants" on May 10.

Participants are advised to wear outdoor clothing and boots, to bring a sandwich and to meet at 9:30 a.m. at the Mill Race for a briefing. They'll follow their hostess to a nearby wooded area to forage for edibles.

At morning's end students will return to the Mill Race to prepare and eat luncheon dishes using plants they have gathered.

If you are interested in the art of preserving flowers and other plant materials from the garden and roadside the final workshop on May 17 at 10 a.m. is for you.

Jamie Hove and Lynda Neuroth will present "Growing for Drying."

Students will learn what, when and where to plant and what and when to pick from the fields and roadside. Methods of preserving plant material will be shown, and the lecturers will bring samples galore as well as reading and catalogue lists.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring a sack lunch. Beverages will be furnished.

All of the workshops will last from four to five hours, costing $10 each.

Registration forms are in the Northville Library. Checks payable to the Northville Historical Society should be mailed to 218 Dunlap, Northville. Include name, address, phone and the workshop titles.

Persons wishing additional information should call Carol Jean Stockhausen at 349-2833 or Lucia Danes at 349-6784.

Rug hooker Ellen Wilson surrounds herself with her work at Village Needlepoint on Mary Alexander Court. The expert needleworker (shown here demonstrating her craft) will teach a rughooking class beginning April 2 which will last four weeks from 1-4 p.m. Other classes in quilting and rugbraiding will be offered at Village Needlework, taught by Marg Cinader and Lois Winters. The three women say they are trying to bring back old traditional crafts.

At Schoolcraft

Workshops slated

Communication and divorce workshops will be offered through Schoolcraft College Community Services during April.

"Between Marriages: Sexual Readjustment After Divorce" is scheduled for Tuesday, April 1. It is designed to help the newly divorced in coping with a new range of sexual relationships and intimate lifestyles.

The workshop costs $10, is facilitated by Wayne Fisk, Ph.D., and is from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room B-200 of the Liberal Arts building.

A "Communication Workshop Between Parents and Teens" will be held Saturday, April 19.

Stressing that effective communication is a learned skill, facilitator

Betty Wagner will discuss problem identification, effective listening and conflict resolution.

Fee is $15 per family. The workshop will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in room B 200 of the Liberal Arts Building.

Pre-registration or questions about the workshops should be made through the Women's Resource Center, 591-6400, extension 430.

Silver Springs Elementary

riculum. Parents who are unable to attend daytime meetings are encouraged to attend this meeting.

Moraine's science fair is in progress this week. Irene Petroski, fair chairperson, reported that many excellent projects dealing with space, earth, life science and physical science were entered. Parents can view the display while they are in the building for scheduled conferences.

Parents who have a preschooler who will attend school at Moraine in the fall are to call the school to register the child. Kathy Alexander, kindergarten roundup chairperson, has scheduled a school orientation for kindergartners for early May.

Congratulations to Cheryl Rosinski, kindergarten teacher, on the birth of her daughter, Lauren Michelle, on March 5.

Welcome to Cathy Dicks who will teach kindergarten for the remainder of the year.

Gail Clark

Silver Springs board meeting was changed to April 24 at 7:30 p.m. to expedite our nominating committee and to get ready for a new PTSA 1980-81 school year. Co-Presidents Ellen Louis and Glenna Davis asked that this year's committee reports be finalized by March 30.

"Mona" from "Hot Fudge Sunday" will visit Silver Springs April 22 just in time to initiate our new full-sized custom built puppet stage. It was constructed this year with the use of PTSA funds from 1979-80.

The midnight oil has been burning in many homes surrounding Silver Springs as students have been preparing for the science fair. Deadline is the end of March. Theme of the fair is "The Earth." Mr. Demski heads the fair from our staff.

Family swim night will be April 23 at NHS.

Batmen eye April opener

You can almost feel it in the air. Baseball season is near.

For 80 Northville High School students, baseball is something they can feel in more places than the air. Like in their muscles.

For the last two weeks these future Al Kalines and Babe Ruths have been working long and hard to get in shape for the upcoming season.

Sprints, stretching exercises, throwing, agility drills, and some hitting and infield practice have been the menu for these Mustang hopefuls.

All of it has been inside the high school's gym. Which is like trying to swim in a wading pool. You're in water, but it isn't deep enough to perform strokes. You just get wet.

For the diamondmen, hitting a rubber ball off a tee can't compare with slamming a high hard one over the left-fielder's head. And digging a low grounder out of the dirt for a close play at second is world's beyond the weak thrill of picking up a bouncing ball off the hard gym floor.

But this is March and snow is still covering the field. Without seeing his troops perform in the open air, Coach Bob Kucher won't make squad cuts until right before the spring break in the first week of April.

But from the field of 40 varsity hopefuls and 35 JV prospects, Kucher has a solid core of eight returning lettermen from last year's 11-13 squad.

And on these young men's shoulders Kucher is placing a lot of responsibility for what he sees as a potentially winning season.

"The other teams in the Western Six would have to pick us as possible front runners, knowing who we have coming back," Kucher said. "Livonia Churchill would have to be the favorite, with Plymouth Canton right up there. I think we could win it, too."

Kucher thinks the strength of his team is the pitching. He has three veteran hurlers returning from last year's varsity.

Rick Borthwick, John Hale and Rob Ade are slated to carry most of the load for the Mustangs.

Borthwick recorded a 3-4 mark, pitching 50 innings. He had 38 strikeouts, 37 walks and an earned run average (ERA) of 3.78. Borthwick will be one of two prime starters for Kucher.

The other is Hale. This 6-3, 180-pound hurler had a 3-2 record last season with an ERA of 3.06. He fanned 33 batters in 32 innings, while giving up just 16 walks.

Both Borthwick and Hale are top defensive performers in the outfield for Northville. When one is pitching, the other will be roving the pasture in center.

Borthwick hit .282 last season and Hale .228.

Ade is a relief specialist who, at the end of the season last year, came on strong as a starter. At 6-3 and 220 pounds, Ade has the size to throw a ball through a wall, but he has to work on his stamina, which Kucher feels is the reason he blossomed late last season.

"If we can get him into shape earlier this season, he'll be our third starter," Kucher said.

Ade was 0-2 with a 3.23 ERA last season. He had 22 strikeouts and 16 walks in 30 innings.

Kucher has a well of talent and experience behind the plate from which to draw upon.

Both Jim Behen and Bob Boshoven are three-year veterans who have rifle arms and the savvy to handle experienced pitching.

Last year Behen hit .197, tallied 10 runs batted in (RBI) and walked 11 times. He was up to the plate more than any other Mustang but had a high on-base percentage.

Boshoven hit .205 and chipped in seven RBIs. He has experience as a goalie in ice hockey which helps him with his defensive abilities behind the plate.

Dan Goehman, last year's lead-off hitter for Kucher, returns to claim right field. The swift gunner earned a reputation last fall for catching long

SIDELINES

By Jim Haynes

My roommate has talked me into helping out with the Easter Seals phon-a-thon (took place last Sunday).

First of all, I am no philanthropist. The "ME" generation can trace its origins back to yours truly. I won't refuse help, but I won't go out of my way looking for opportunities to be Boy Scout of the Week, either.

With my true nature established, why, you might ask, did I agree to help? I can't really put it into words explicitly, but maybe this story will explain.

I lived in a dorm at Eastern during my college days. It was called Goddard, and was co-ed. That also meant that all of the males, myself included, tried very hard to establish ourselves in the eyes of the females living there.

We would play football out in the courtyard while the girls would lean out their windows and cheer us on. Sounds like a sexist's dream, doesn't it. Well, it was.

Now, there is one guy in just about any group who is the brunt of all the jokes, the guy who all the cool ones make fun of in order to hide their own weaknesses, the foil from which reputations for clever cut-downs and cruel jokes can be established.

In Goddard that guy was Mel. Mel wasn't Mike's real name, but his first roommates had tacked on that name for some cruel reason that to this day I still don't know.

Mel was a big, open, fun-loving guy with dark straight hair and a heavy beard that seemed to show through no matter how much he shaved.

He was picked on because he had a slight case of cerebral palsy. Mel slurred his words if he got excited, which, by his very nature, he quite often was.

He also had a deformed arm and leg which gave him a shuffling gait that instantaneously brought to mind cruel elementary school jokes about deformed kids who were monsters and treated as such.

Except that this was college and elementary attitudes didn't belong. But they were there.

Back to court-yard football. One sunny fall afternoon a bunch of us were playing and the girls were watching and John Wayne wouldn't have stood a chance in a macho contest with any of us.

Mel, often an observer, asked if he could play. Everything got quiet, and his roommates laughed and said sure.

Only it wasn't a friendly "sure." It was the kind of "sure" that cats say to birds, or bullies to unsuspecting victims, which Mel was meant to be.

What better way to show your skill and manhood than to better an opponent, and with that logic, how much better would you look against an opponent who couldn't even run fast.

I'm sure that was their reasoning. To be honest, I was glad he would play because I thought his roommates treated him terribly and I hoped he would get a chance to show well.

But any sympathy I had was soon replaced by the smell of blood, the hunt, the same passion that made all of the guys want to perform better.

The girls were watching. On the first play Mel was told to block. One of his roommates was opposite him on the line.

This dude jumped with the snap of the ball, intent on rolling over Mel like a truck over a snowball. Only it didn't happen. Mel stood up and leaned into the guy.

His roommate landed three feet behind the line of scrimmage, on his rear, with a very un-macho look of pain on his face.

One by one Mel lined up across the line from each of his roommates. One by one they received their due.

I was playing quarterback. The next play I learned MY lesson.

Mel blew by his bruised roommates, my blockers, and aimed for me. I dodged, twisted, jumped, felt his hand on the back of my shirt, was lifted high off my feet, experienced free flight for the first time, landed on my face. Didn't get up.

Mel came over, picked me up, dusted me off, said that he had made his point, walked away.

His roommates were unimpressed. Their needling intensified. They were disgraced and wanted revenge.

As for me, I got a new roommate. Mel, er Mike, was a sloppy housekeeper, but that didn't matter. He was, and is, a good friend.

The dignity, the pride, of this handicapped person, made me feel ashamed at the lack of appreciation I have for my own good health.

I guess that if the money Easter Seals can provide for handicapped people can allow others to reach, or at least have the chance to reach, their potential, I'll take a couple of hours out of my time to help.

touchdown passes and will add to that reputation by hauling down any long fly balls on the tricky right side of the field for Northville.

He committed just one error in 24 games last season. He also was a solid threat at the plate, hitting .261.

Paul Cooper will man either shortstop or second base for Northville.

He won second base near the end of the year and came on strong, despite a weak .161 batting average. This season Kucher expects big things from Cooper.

"He's grown, matured a lot," Kucher said. "His experience diving for the swim team and playing football has really helped. He has more confidence now and I expect him to contribute offensively."

Borthwick winds up

Lastly, Paul Luiki returns to enforce the right side from first base.

Luiki is 6-2 and weighed more than 200 pounds for football last fall, but Kucher said he has dropped down to 187 since working out all winter for baseball.

Last year Luiki was the only consistent power hitter on the Mustang squad. He belted two homers, two doubles, two triples and scored 19 runs. His 19 walks gave him a very high on-base percentage, even though he had a weak .157 batting average.

"Paul is like a rock now. He is an excellent defensive player; he covers a lot of territory. I'm hoping he'll have a real good year. He has a lot of potential," Kucher said.

Those are the eight returning lettermen, all seniors, who will carry the biggest load this spring.

And while Kucher can't say for sure who he will keep and who will get sent to the JV or cut, he did point out some top prospects from among the hopefuls.

The one with the best credentials would have to be Bob Thomson. He was the ace of the pitching staff for the JV last season.

He also was one of the top threats at the plate, hitting .361 and knocking in 14 RBI's.

He will pitch some for Kucher, but play a lot in the outfield as well.

Steve Norton hit .272 as a JV last year and showed he has some power by belting six doubles. He is getting a look-see at third base.

Steve and Mark Denhoff both were JV members last season. Steve hit .241 as a first baseman while Mark hit .298 as an outfielder.

Brian Pratt and Steve Cornalino are two other JV infield prospects.

Gary Kucher played second base and shortstop for the JV, hit .354 and stole 15 bases.

Joe Millen, Gavin Wolfe round out the junior hopefuls while Senior Craig Wisbiski, also on the JV last year, is vying for a spot on the varsity.

The season begins April 16 against Novi.

Original Circle N player sets the record straight

To the Editor:

A couple of years ago someone sent me a portion of the sports section of The Record of January 11, 1978. On page 2-B in the upper left hand corner is a picture labelled "Circle N." It gives the names of those in the picture and reports that "Several players on Northville's original high school cage squads were also members of a local baseball club known as the Circle N, formed soon after basketball was born here."

Since in a few days I will be 89 years of age I want to set the record straight.

The Circle N baseball team was formed in 1905. The members were sixth, seventh and eighth graders. They liked to play baseball. That year they were soundly beaten by young teams from Farmington, Milford and other nearby towns. However, they continued to play and by the time two years had passed were winning from the same teams that had beaten them so badly in 1905.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Mr. Dubuar is the nephew of James A. Dubuar, a pioneering lumber manufacturer in the early years of Northville. The Dubuar plant was located on the site of what today is the Ford Valve factory at Main and Griswold. Mr. Dubuar, who has a remarkable memory of the community in horse and buggy days, is quoted extensively in the book, "Northville — The First Hundred Years." It always is a pleasure hearing from this Northville native — even when he setting The Record straight.

The team never played as a school team because the school did not seem to favor athletics. The one exception to this was in 1909 when the team played as a high school team at the end of the school year. Among other high school teams which were opponents was the Western High School from Detroit. This was the Detroit High School team that won the city high school championship. The Circle N's playing as the Northville High School team had 10 high school boys who could play baseball. The total high school enrollment was 90 students. When the Western High School game was played the game went to 13 innings and to Northville by a score of 3 to 2. This gave us the championship of the county.

The year 1909 was the end of the tenure of School Superintendent Hornberger. He was followed by one named LaRue, an energetic young man whose idea of high school athletics was confined to basketball — a game he introduced to Northville. For at least a few years there was no high school football team, track team or baseball team.

The basketball team played its home games in the "Princess Rink" where social events such as dances were held. Twice, at least, it was used for a time for roller skating.

To sum up, the Circle N's had been playing for four years before the high school ever engaged in basketball. The Circle N's continued to play for some years. I played with them in 1910, 1911, 1912 and a few games in 1913 — the year that I finished at the University of Michigan. After a year I returned from work in the west and entered the graduate school at Ann Arbor and managed to play a few games with the Circle N's before the college year was ended. This was possible because I came home from Ann Arbor every weekend.

Dr. Turner was a sort of field manager for the team but his profession prevented him from attending practice sessions. A few times there was a coach, Mr. Don Yerkes, Sr. and also a Methodist minister who had played baseball at Syracuse University, but these men acted in the coaching capacity for brief periods. In spite of no coach the Circle N's practiced regularly with Dr. Turner in charge at the games and R.R. McKahn looking out after the financial affairs of the team. He managed them so that there was never a lack of money for new suits and the accouterments that accompanied the game.

One member of the team played professional baseball for a good many years, including a period in the American League.

Now that this matter of the advent of basketball in Northville High School and the tenure of the life of the Circle N Baseball Team are set straight we can rest easy for the remainder of our days knowing that the record has been set straight.

Sincerely yours
James F. Dubuar
Earlville, New York

P.S. 89 years of age today, for this letter was not finished until the 17th of Ireland.

Northville recreation briefs

There will be no Open Gym at the rec department on Saturday, March 29.

Registration for new teams in the men's and women's softball leagues will take place Monday, March 24 through 5 p.m. Friday, March 28.

Registration is underway for co-ed softball. It will continue until 5 p.m. Friday, April 30.

All registrations are on a first-come, first-serve basis of paid entry fee.

If anyone is interested in playing softball on any of the three leagues, but isn't on a team, the rec department has a waiting list from which players are chosen to fill vacancies on existing teams. Call 349-0203 for more information.

Junior Baseball tryouts for Saturday, March 29 have been cancelled. They will take place instead on April 19.

The tryouts are held on ly to rate players. All registered participants will play.

Tryouts will take place on Ford Field (on Hutton across from Manufacturer's Drive-in Bank). G-league will begin at 10 a.m. and F-league will start at 1 p.m.

Tryouts also will take place at the Fish Hatchery. H-league will meet at Diamond 1 at 10 a.m. while at the same time Primary Softball will meet at Diamond 2.

Also on Diamond 2, Intermediate Softball meets at 11:30 a.m. and Senior Softball at 12:30 p.m.

If these tryouts are rained out they will rescheduled for April 19 — same fields, same times.

For more information, the commissioners of the leagues are Ed Pearce (H) 348-1640, Ken Dominique (G) 349-6553, Tom Campbell (F) 349-4536, Ron Beford (Softball) 348-9173.

T-ball and 8-ball players do not have tryouts. They will be assigned to teams.

Players wishing to participate in Junior Baseball and spring soccer can sign up on a waiting-list only basis now. A form must be filled out at the rec department.

Registration for spring rec classes will take place Monday, April 14 through Friday, April 18, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day.

Any softball team interested in renting the Community Center gym for practice may call 349-0203 for more information.

Library offers help on tax

An income tax assistance program for senior citizens will be held from 1-4 p.m. March 27 at the Northville Public Library.

Trained volunteers will counsel senior citizens in the preparation of state and federal tax forms.

Persons interested in attending this program should bring all current tax forms, data on income including social security and copies of their 1978 returns.

Ferris State honors swimmer Tim Cahill

Northville's Tim Cahill has been tabbed "most improved" swimmer at Ferris State University for setting school records in two breaststroke events for the Ferris Bulldogs.

Cahill swam the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:16.76 against Wayne State University for a school record on February 2 and swam the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:01.5 against Grand Rapids Junior College February 15 for another school record. Both times qualified Ferris freshman Cahill for the NAIA Nationals.

The Bulldogs finished the 1979-80 season with a 9-5 record, its best season ever. It was represented in 16 events at the NAIA Nationals.

Ferris' coach Rick Kowalkoski predicts an even brighter year next year as only two seniors retire from the team and 19 swimmers, including Cahill, return.

Gridders sell trash bags

Northville High School football players and supporters are currently engaged in selling, door-to-door, trash bags.

The funds from this project will go towards the purchase of video tape equipment that will be used by all sports programs at the high school.

Last year, the first for the sale, proceeds were used to buy two weight machines for exercising.

The bags come in lots of 50 ($7) and 100 ($12) and will be delivered to your door. According to sales officials, these prices are lower than can be found in stores.

The sale began last Saturday and will continue to Saturday, March 29.

For more information or if you wish to place an order, call 349-5400, 349-8231, or 349-4367.

Reorganization coming for county

Board aims for August 5 vote

Rather than politics, it is two men trusting two separate others that is responsible for Wayne County proceeding presently toward county reorganization.

And now the Wayne County Board of Commissioners apparently is aiming for an August 5 ballot proposal when voters would decide whether a charter commission is wanted for the proposed restructuring.

After three postponements in the past two weeks while doubting promises of state funding for a charter commission, the board's general government committee on March 18 moved a resolution on the issue for consideration by the ways and means committee.

It also scheduled reports on the matter from the office of corporation counsel when ways and means meets Thursday.

Paul G. Citkowski, chairman of the general government committee, has been adamant in refusing to report the measure out of committee without assurance of state funding. However, Citkowski and other members of the committee relented when urged by the Board Chairman Samuel A. Turner, who expressed faith in words from Governor William Milliken.

Turner said that he has a letter from the governor's office, besides earlier verbal commitment, indicating that the state will pay all "reasonable costs" of charter commission expense. "I'm staking my political reputation that the governor will provide the funds," said Turner.

He also reminded the committee that Milliken insists on withholding financial aid for the county until the board approves the charter commission concept, and that the state is holding up $4 million for takeover of probation services.

"Wayne County won't get a dime until we pass the resolution," Turner warned.

Noting that it would cost the county $11,000 this year to put the proposal on the ballot, Turner called it "a good bet" against relief from probation costs and for expectation of other funds thereafter.

"We don't want payless paydays again, and neither do we want to stand in the way of people deciding whether they want a charter or not," Turner said.

Citkowski told the committee that he still lacks faith in the governor's promise to have the state pay total costs of the charter issue, but said that he has "complete faith and trust" in Turner's leadership. He pointed out that Turner is communicating closely with leaders of both the House and Senate and "as a result of these ongoing conversations is confident that the state will assume its responsibility for funding."

With an amendment by Commissioner Jarrette Simmons, the resolution now under review by corporation counsel would provide $13,500 from the county to put the issue on the ballot for August 5 if state funding is not available quickly enough. Of that amount, $2,500 would be for later clerical services.

Commissioner Kay L. Beard of Inkster cautioned the committee that it is the responsibility of the legislature to approve funding, not the governor.

"The governor can promise, but 148 others must agree to fulfill that promise," she warned.

Also expressing skepticism were Alex Pilch of Dearborn, chairman of the ways and means committee, and Edgar L. Harris of Taylor. Pilch tried unsuccessfully to amend the resolution requiring a special appropriation from the legislature for all charter commission costs.

"Our proceeding without funds in hand is irresponsible; we should put the monkey on Milliken's back," said Pilch. "Can we put the governor's guarantee into our budget?"

Said Harris: "I think we're being taken again. I don't think we'll get one dime out of Lansing for this."

County financial officials are predicting costs ranging from $1.2 million to $2.7 for the charter procedure.

Their estimate is calculated on a 35 member charter commission working 90 days with additional expenses and legal and consultant fees over a seven month period.

Fisher twins accepted by Annapolis

Two Northville High School seniors have received appointments to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland, Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Birmingham) has announced.

Twins Dale T. and Dale J. Fisher will report to the Academy in July to become members of the class of 1994.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fisher of 44827 Galway Drive. Their older brother Bob already is a Midshipman at the naval academy.

Broomfield explained that there are still other nominees in contention for possible appointments. Final selections will be announced by the Academy before May.

Fitness programs aid older adults

A Fitness Is Ageless Program has been announced by Schoolcraft College — aimed particularly at those working with older adults.

This eighth annual conference on physical activity for older adults is scheduled for Thursday, May 1, according to Jan Reef of Northville.

Goals of the conference are threefold:

1. To motivate those who work with older adults to promote physical activity in the daily life of the senior.
2. To motivate workers with older persons to enhance their own well being with regular involvement in physical activity.
3. To promote good nutrition and health habits as important factors in life-long fitness.

It is particularly designed for those responsible for — Senior center programs, nutrition programs, nursing home programs, community recreation, YMCA and YWCA programs, adult education, college physical education and recreation, college community services, and retirement housing programs.

Keynote speech for the day-long program will be Dr. Thomas Shoemaker, Oakland University department of health sciences.

His talk will be followed by two workshops: Nutrition — It's Never Too Late, by Pamela Standifer of the Dairy Council of Michigan; and Smoking and Your Health, by John Swanson, specialist — Better Living Seminars.

Planned for the afternoon sessions are Exercise/Dance for Older Adults, led by Phyllis Weikart, assistant professor in the U-M department of physical education; Pool Exercise, which includes demonstrations and participation.

Registration ($12) must be made by April 24. Interested persons should contact the college immediately.

White spread set at church

The 14th annual White Breakfast will be held at the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday at 9 a.m.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Bruce Thielemann.

All citizens of the community are invited to attend this ecumenical communion service, breakfast and the program.

Reservations should be made by Friday by calling the church office at 349-0911. No tickets are needed but an offering will be received.

They danced all night for charity

Northville and Novi high school students raised about $13,000 for Muscular Dystrophy over the weekend by wearing themselves out on the dance floor at Meads Mill Junior High.

By Saturday morning you'd expect that 265 high school students who had been dancing all night would be bedraggled and barely moving their feet.

But Saturday noon, 18 hours after the Muscular Dystrophy dance marathon began, Northville High School and Novi High School students were still going strong.

"We've had no problems," said NHS organizer Alisa Krinsky Saturday. "I haven't slept in 40 hours, but it's been great: you'd never know these people had been here this long."

Girls screamed like a 1960's Beatles crowd for the live entertainment. They bopped around the floor like they were on American Bandstand, hours at a time.

Though some boys participated in the marathon, ratio of female to male par-

Participants was about four to one, Alisa said.

"There are always more girls. I don't know why, but they're just more into it."

The group had hoped to raise $20,000 for the charity this year, but Alisa said they were pleased with the money they had collected.

She said there were no problems with security or chaperones during the 24-hour marathon, which ended at 6:15 p.m. Saturday.

Plymouth to entertain Easter week

Plymouth Community Band will entertain Easter Week and Springtime shoppers at its next concert of the season at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 2 at Twelve Oaks Mall.

The band traditionally provides musical entertainment for shoppers and senior citizens as it makes the rounds of shopping malls, nursing homes, and retirement homes from Detroit to Chelsea.

All concerts are free and open to the public.

The Plymouth Community Band is famous for its summertime Thursday evening Concert-in-the-Park series in Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth. Varied concert music is provided, along with occasional intermission entertainment, for a six week period beginning the last Thursday in June.

Conducted by Carl Battishill, associate band director of Plymouth Centennial Educational Park, the band is composed of amateur adult musicians who practice Wednesday evenings at Plymouth High School. New members are always welcome, according to publicity assistant Tom Beyersdorf.

Persons wishing information may call the band president, Clay Leroue at 453-1957.

Besides the summer park series and the winter traveling shows, the band performs at various Greenfield Village special events, community college graduations, police academy graduations, Plymouth and Northville Independence Day parades, and other community functions.

Doug Ross speaks to area Democrats

State Senator Doug Ross will be the featured speaker at the Southwest Oakland County Democratic Club meeting Thursday.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held at the Novi Public Library at 45245 West 10 Mile.

All Democrats in Novi, Northville, Walled Lake, Wixom, New Hudson, South Lyon and Commerce are invited to attend.

At the February meeting, Tom Brookover of Walled Lake was elected chairperson.

Elected vice-chairperson was George Johns of Wixom, and Duane LaMoreaux of Northville was re-elected secretary and Jim Haas of Novi was re-elected treasurer.

LAWRENCE NICHOLS

Nichols gets 9.5 per cent salary hike

Terms of Superintendent of Schools
Larry Nichols' three-year contract were reviewed and approved by the Northville Board of Education Monday night.

Nichols' salary was boosted 9.5 percent to $46,787 for the 1980-81 year (from July 1, 1980 to June 30, 1981). Last year his salary was $42,728. This will be the second year of his contract.

"The increase is within the revised wage and price guidelines just released by the President," said Trustee
Richard Barron, who had been appointed by the board to negotiate with Nichols.

"It is comparable with salary increases in comparable school districts and in private industry."

Nichols also received an increase in the maximum monthly disability allowance and a clause which gives him any benefits teachers win.

Low enrollment means layoffs for ISEP staff

The Northville school district has begun to feel the effects of an August 1979 court order to shrink the population of institutionally mentally retarded at Plymouth Center for Human Development.

The Institutions' Special Education Program will cut one administrator and may lay off staff for the 1980-81 school year, the district announced
Monday night.

"The ISEP program has been declining at the rate of about seven students per month," said Burton Knighton, assistant superintendent for administrative services.

Enrollment has shrunk from 505
students in September to 475 students now. The district projects an enrollment of only 425 students next year.

The drop in enrollment is a direct effect of a decree by U.S. District Judge Charles Joiner last August. The decree mandated that the population at Plymouth Center must be no more than 560 in March, 1980; no more than 500 by September 1980; and no more than 440
by March 1981.

Population of the center will be no more than 100 by March 1983, the decree said.

Most of the students who leave Plymouth Center are being placed in community homes in other areas.

The ISE program has been reduced by 10 professional staff so far through attrition, Knighton said. But he added that the district will have to lay off some extra staff by September.

"It is expected that attrition will account for additional reductions in staff...until August. However, it is likely that a recommendation for layoffs for the 1980-81 school year will go to the board."

The board voted to notify Leila Harris, assistant building supervisor at Burger School, that unless conditions change they will not renew her contract next year.

"This absolutely bears no reflection upon the administrator who has ably served the school district," Superintendent Larry Nichols emphasized.

By law, Harris has the right to discuss the layoff with a majority of the board within a 30 day period.
