

Church services to mark Christ's death, resurrection

Throughout this Holy Week, local churches have scheduled special services with devout taking communion on Maundy Thursday and attending Good Friday services before celebrating the Story of Easter — He Is Risen — Sunday morning.

A joint Good Friday service of First Presbyterian and First United Methodist churches is being held at 1:30 p.m. at the Methodist Church with choirs of both churches providing the music. The Reverend John Mishler, assistant minister at the Presbyterian church, will give the sermon.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN

At 7:30 p.m. at the Maundy Thursday service at St.

Paul's Lutheran Church will be a special presentation, "Christ and the Passover," to be given by Jews for Jesus. The Christian Jews will show a Jewish background for the communion celebration, the church announces.

"He Took Our Place" will be the Reverend Charles Boerger's topic at the 1 p.m. worship Friday at the church. Children from St. Paul's day school will attend and the day school chorus will provide the music.

"Forget Me Not" will be the topic of the 7:30 p.m. communion service Friday.

Easter sunrise service will be at 6:30 a.m. An Easter breakfast is to follow at 7:30 and 10 a.m. No reservations are needed.

"Who Will Roll Away the Stone?" will be the Reverend Boerger's topic at the 10:30 a.m. traditional festival of communion.

A cantata, "Resurrection Celebration," will be given at 8:30 p.m. Sunday by the adult choir with Christine Lehl, organist, and James Berlinski, directing the choir.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

A Tenebrae service, based on the medieval service of candles and darkness, will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday with the Reverend Lloyd Brasure and the Reverend John Mishler giving communion.

"A New Dawn and a New World" is the topic for a family sunrise service at the church at 7:30 a.m. with breakfast following.

The Reverend Brasure will be preaching his final Easter sermon at 9:30 and 11 a.m. as he has announced plans to retire later this year. "Promises, Promises" will be his topic.

FIRST BAPTIST

A Good Friday evening service will be held at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church.

Easter sunrise service will be held at 6:30 a.m. in the Northville Athletic Field. Breakfast will follow at the church.

'Blink — and Holy Land is as in history'

"When you stand back and blink your eyes, the television antennas disappear and the countryside looks the same as it must have been when Jesus was at the Mount of Olives.

"You get the feeling that nothing really has changed at Nain where Jesus raised the son of the widow outside the wall.

"The lighted cities on the hills are maybe a bit brighter at night but must look much the same as they always did."

The Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of First United Methodist Church is giving his impressions of his February visit to the Holy Land with 10 other clergymen as guests of the Masons. The minister was the Michigan Masonic Order delegate.

"It is astonishing what the Israelis have done in reforesting since 1948 for the Turks had stripped the country of trees," he observes, telling how four percent work on farms that feed the whole country.

"We frequently ate at the cooperative farms. We liked the Jewish food. We even tasted kosher pizza. It was vegetarian because they do not mix meat and milk."

"One of our greatest days was at the Dead Sea, a vast area 1200 feet below sea level and 50 miles long.

"They are building kibbutz farms where they leached out the salt from the land. They call them 'plastic farms' as they irrigate hundreds of acres.

"When you looked out at fields of red poppies and sheep and goats on the Judian hills, you knew nothing much had changed."

The minister did mention, however, that "they built a shrine or a church over every spot Jesus stopped.

"What remains in Jerusalem is so overlaid with decorations. There's

Township budget approved

Citizens not made aware of changes

By Ken Kovacs

A 1980-81 budget totaling $954,060 was unanimously approved by the township board Monday.

With the exception Trustee James Nowka who was absent, the balanced budget proposed by the board's executive committee — Supervisor Donald Thomson, Clerk Clarice Sass and Treasurer Lee Holland — was okayed without discussion.

Trustees had made a few adjustments to the budget at a study session prior to the meeting, but these changes were not addressed by trustees prior to the vote.

Audience members left the meeting without any knowledge that the deputy clerk's salary had been hiked from $12,750 to $13,250; that the account for temporary election employees had been cut by $500 (to $12,960); and that the water and sewer department salaries as recommended by the wage and salary commission had been accepted.

Also approved were township allocations for joint recreation and library with the city.

The township will contribute $60,816 to the recreation budget while the city will pay $41,568.

The library budget amounting to $102,000 will cost the township $54,398 while the city will dish out $37,182.

Initially, the executive committee had recommended cuts in all departments and significant cuts in fire and police.

But at a study session Sunday, March 23, trustees increased the fire department's budget from the proposed $57,240 to approximately $70,646.

The police budget was upped some $5,844 to $369,146.

All equipment accounts carry a zero balance with the exception of police vehicles and election equipment required.

Under the budget Supervisor Donald Thomson's salary will increase from $22,000 to $23,000.

Clerk Clarice Sass will receive $19,500 — also an increase of $1,000.

The clerk's department budget was approved at $48,400 — including the increase in the deputy clerk's salary.

A building department budget of $49,815 was okayed with the building inspector receiving a salary of $20,865.

The superintendent of the water and sewer department will get an identical salary. The water and sewer budget is $1,046,800.

The fiscal year 1980-81 fiscal year for the township runs from April 1 to March 31.

Bakery blaze probe continues

Whether the fire which destroyed the contents of Foltyn's Bakery March 22 was set intentionally or was the result of an accident will not be determined until at least next week.

That's the word from city police who are probing the fire along with State Police arson investigators.

Arson investigators, who were at the scene of the fire last week, have taken pieces of burnt materials to the State Police laboratory at the Madison Heights post, police said.

Jaycee's annual egg hunt's set Saturday

"Hey kids, the hunt's on Saturday!"

That's the reminder of the Northville Jaycees and Jayettes who are preparing for their 22nd annual Easter Egg Hunt in Cass Benton Park along Edward Hines drive, south of Seven Mile.

The hunt will get underway promptly at 9 a.m., with categories for several age groups, reports Chairman Dennis Noel.

Parents of children are advised to arrive early enough so that they don't miss the fun.

One of the most popular children's events in the Northville area, the annual hunt will be divided into four age groups:

Pre-school, first and second grades, third and fourth grades, and fifth and sixth grades.

In addition to candy eggs, "special bunnies" will be given away to lucky hunters, say Jayettes Marcia Booth and Michelle Buelow who are assisting Noel.

"Don't miss it," says Noel. Traditionally, hundreds turn out to watch or participate in the hunt.

Bed slashing under fire

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

Area community hospitals are gathering a slingshot full of support to knock down a plan to cut 2,500 hospital beds in the metropolitan area.

In a major victory for the Michigan Association of Community Hospitals and Physicians (MACHP) last week, the state legislature agreed to form a committee to study whether the plan is fair.

The MACHP, which represents local hospitals like St. Mary in Livonia, argues that the plan is biased toward regional medical centers at the expense of community hospitals.

They will argue before the committee, as they did at a public meeting last week, that the plan will bring disaster to community hospitals if implemented.

"The plan is designed to fill their (planners') pet institutions that patients won't use in a free market system," charged Dr. Richard Horsch, chief anesthesiologist at St. Mary in a meeting Tuesday, March 24 at the hospital.

"The intent of the 1978 'debedding' act is to reduce excess hospital beds and reduce costs. We have no quarrel with that. But where are these excess beds? You tell me. Here at St. Mary we can barely meet needs," Dr. Horsch said.

Tuesday night, politicians told the crowd of 200 at St. Mary that they had intended that the state "debedding act" of 1978 would cut excess hospital beds and save money.

"What we thought we were up to was a plan that said there are unused hospital beds in the state and we should take them out. At the same time we thought the cost would go down," explained Representative Sandy Brotherton (R-Farmington.) "We spent a lot of time developing criteria for these cuts. Great care was put into the bill so smaller hospitals were protected. I was shocked when I learned the recommendations."

The final plan in December called for most community hospitals (including St. Mary) to cut beds, close or merge while allowing regional centers like University Hospital in Ann Arbor and the Detroit Medical Center to stay the same size or grow.

St. Mary was told to cut 26 of its 335 beds. Botsford Hospital (not a MACHP member) was ordered to cut 20 of its 310 beds.

The planning agency, Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan (CHPCSM), sent its final plan to the state last Wednesday. It used 50 criteria for evaluating hospitals, including hospital size, services, utilization, management and medical services.

Its plan intends that some small hospitals should merge with regional centers or close, so that in the long run the fewer hospitals left will make the system more cost effective.

But community hospital administrators have attacked the premise. They say local hospitals are more cost effective, have higher occupancy rates and are closer to the community than regional centers.

"The time has come for those of us who believe that hospitals like St. Mary are worth it to stand up and say enough is enough — we are going to take control over our own communities and our lives," said moderator Philip Power, MACHP member and owner of suburban community newspapers, including The Record.

Dr. Richard Sobota, chief administrator of Saratoga Hospital, reeled off statistics which argued that the CHPCSM system of scoring hospitals

GOOD FRIDAY will be observed throughout the community this week as most local stores will close from noon to 3 p.m., according to the Northville Chamber of Commerce. Both city and township offices will be closed all day, as will the Northville Public Library.

NORTHVILLE RECORD offices will be closed from 12 noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday.

Tasty secret

Buttermilk recipe's a winner

If customers of Guernsey Farms Dairy are wearing an extra wide smile these days it's probably because of the batches of buttermilk it has been whipping up since March 19.

And if the McGuire family, owners of the dairy, are wearing extra wide smiles, it's probably because the new buttermilk they're making is based on a "secret" recipe they purchased from Frank and Erma Jansen — who for 35 years operated a popular buttermilk stand on Grand River on Novi.

The Jansens recently sold their

for bed reduction was biased toward the larger hospitals.

Alan Breakie, administrator of Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, argued that community hospitals have been built to meet the needs of the community and are operating at capacity while huge regional centers are not.

"Your local hospitals have met occupancy rates, are concerned about cost containment, have provided for emergency service. A bed reduction order will be a disaster," Breakie said.

According to state figures, St. Mary operates at 89.9 percent capacity and costs $184 per patient per day. Botsford operates at 85.5 percent occupancy and costs $237 per patient per day.

In contrast, Henry Ford Hospital operates at 77.3 percent occupancy at a cost of $495 per patient per day. Wayne County General has 54.6 percent occupancy at $514 per patient per day.

Hearings will start soon. Both Senator R. Robert Geake and Brotherton are expected to be on the committee. Representative Ray Hood (D-Detroit) and Senator Ed Pierce (D-Ann Arbor) are expected to be named as co-chairmen of the committee this week.

St. Mary Hospital in Livonia faces bed reductions unless it can stop a state plan

Without insurance changes

Doctors say bed cuts won't solve problems

Two Northville doctors think cutting hospital beds at St. Mary in Livonia will hurt the community more than it will help save money.

"To cut costs of health care you have to cut the money going into the system," said Dr. John Brown. "Blue Cross Blue Shield has dug their own grave. The medical economics of the system are that the more money you put into the system the more it will cost."

The other local doctor, who did not wish to be identified, said that health care costs could be brought under control if insurance companies fixed a maximum on what they would pay for hospital care.

"Blue Cross is responsible for all our ills," the doctor said. "They'll pay for actual costs or what the hospital charges, whichever is less. They pay part of employee wages, so a hospital finds itself padding its payroll to make a higher profit. If they fixed the cost, rather than pay each hospital a variable cost, hospitals would be forced to hold costs down."

Brown said he supports a policy which would be much like a car insurance policy where the patient would pay the first $100 or $200 at a hospital. He said it would cut down on the number of people using the hospital and stop people from thinking so casually about costs.

Both doctors oppose a state plan to cut 2,500 hospital beds in the metropolitan area.

"Naturally I'm against it," Dr. Brown said. "Of course, that's what the other side would say is expected. But it seems a very contrived and unworkable situation."

"The problem is much more complicated than just cutting a few beds. The only thing that would happen if they did that would be that patients would have to be transferred to referral hospitals to get beds," the other doctor said.

What did doctors make of St. Mary Anesthesiologist Dr. Richard Horsch's contention that if community hospitals merged or closed that doctors would flee to communities near referral hospitals?

"I think it would happen," Dr. Brown said. "It is a sad fact, but most doctors can't make much of a living on office practice alone."

The other doctor, though, disagreed. He said he believed doctors would stay in communities even if hospitals were farther away.

Dr. Brown said he sends 95 percent of his patients to St. Mary and the rest to St. Joseph Hospital and University Hospital in Ann Arbor. If beds were cut at St. Joseph and St. Mary, he said he would have to send patients to other hospitals.

"U-M has had a terrible time competing with St. Joseph," Brown said. "They are rather desperate to fill their beds."

Both Northville doctors are members of the newly-formed Michigan Association of Community Hospitals and Physicians.

School buses to get 14 two-way radios

Two-way radios will be installed in all fourteen K-12 Northville school buses, the Northville Board of Education voted last week.

In a 4-2 vote, the board agreed to spend $15,752 on the radios on a two year lease-purchase plan with the understanding that state transportation funds will reimburse all but $5,119 of the cost.

(On January 28 the board decided to buy the radios outright for $14,779 but learned that the state would only reimburse a district if it leased the radios first).

Trustees David Llewellyn and Charles Peltz voted against buying the radios. Peltz suggested the board table the purchase until the school budget was finished next month. He said he was concerned that the state might not have the money to repay the district because of its financial troubles.

"I'm concerned whether they'll repay us for this cost," he said. "We're making a mistake if we don't consider the effect of state budget cuts."

Superintendent Larry Nichols said he believed that the only result from waiting on the purchase would be that the radios' prices would rise.

"We don't know what will happen to federal funding to states. We don't know what will happen to the state aid bill. But the basic funds for education would not be disturbed. I feel confident that funding would remain this year," he said.

"The need for the radios came home to me the morning of the (March 21) storm," said Burton Knighton, assistant superintendent of administrative services. "I was at the bus garage that morning. We were in continual contact with ISEP (Institutions' Special Education Program) buses, which already have radios. But we were not able to maintain communication with the K-12 buses."

The new radios will allow bus drivers to communicate with the garage and with each other. The district will not have to buy base transmitting equipment because the new Mobile Electronics system will fit in with the system the district currently uses for its ISEP buses.

Could township manager be answer to discord?

By KEN KOVACS

"A manager can take a lot of the politics out of the day-to-day operation of township government."

These words, uttered by Frank Jones, manager of Saginaw Township, were received with great eagerness by some members of the Northville Township Board of Trustees at a recent board meeting.

Trustees are attempting to find a way to resolve some personality clashes which in recent months have caused discord in the township offices and hindered the operation of the government.

Jones, manager of Saginaw Township for eight years, was asked by Supervisor Donald Thomson to attend a Northville Township board meeting to discuss his role in township government.

He suggested a professional manager may be the answer to their problem.

"It is not something to take lightly," said Jones, the first legal township manager in Michigan. "It is something that will take time to organize."

"But it can work to your advantage in the long run," he predicted. "Continuity is one major benefit of a professional manager or superintendent."

As manager, Jones is responsible for the efficient operation of the township.

By resolution, in 1972, the Saginaw Township board named Jones manager and assigned him certain duties and responsibilities.

They include:

— Superintendent of the water and sewage departments.

— Township purchasing agent.

— Insure the proper maintenance and repair of all buildings, grounds, equipment and other property of the township.

— Coordinate the work of all township departments and offices.

— Recommend to the township board for adoption such measures as he may deem necessary or expedient.

— Perform such other duties as may be prescribed or assigned by the supervisor or township board.

— Supervise all employees of the township except those of the Department of Public Safety and where expressly prohibited by law.

— Serve as director of personnel.

Trustees were concerned specifically with personnel duties.

"Employees tend to establish camps and this is one of the things we want to get away from," said Trustee John Swienkowski.

Jones said he is in charge of all employees except the supervisor, clerk and treasurer and their deputies who have certain statutory duties.

All three elected officials — supervisor, clerk and treasurer — spend very little time at the township hall, he said.

As part-time employees, each receives a salary of $10,000.

Jones is paid $31,000.

The manager is responsible for preparing the budget and recommending actions to the township board. The board, however, has the ultimate decision making powers, Jones related.

The supervisor, clerk and treasurer evaluate the manager on an annual basis and present their evaluations to the board, Jones said.

The clerk, treasurer and supervisor's salaries are reviewed by a compensation commission consisting of five citizens — appointed by the supervisor (and approved by a majority of the board) for five-year terms.

This group makes salary recommendations to the board once every two years.

These salaries will be adopted unless the township board by resolution — adopted by two thirds of the members — rejects the determinations.

Currently, there are 15 township managers in Michigan — half serving general law townships and the remainder serving charter townships, Jones said.

Township trustees likely will discuss the pros and cons of hiring a professional manager at their next regular meeting April 10.

Post office plans route changes

Some Northville residents will be picking mail out of their mailboxes at a different time from usual in the near future.

Postmaster John Steimel reports that carrier routes have been surveyed and the results now are being fed into a computer in the Detroit central office.

As a result, some delivery times will be changed to adjust carrier routes to as near an eight-hour work day as possible.

"For various reasons some of the routes involved have required more than eight hours to complete, even on days of normal volume," he explains.

The postmaster says only a small number of routes in the Northville area will be affected by the changes.

"Because our sole reason for existing is to serve the public," he continues, "we want customers to know about the changes before we actually put them into effect. The adjustments in routes will provide delivery either a little earlier or later in the day to some customers."

Steimel said that at this time he does not know the specific routes to be changed by the computer. He added that the decision to announce the changes before they are made is part of the Postal Service's effort to be more responsive to customers.

GOOD TIME
 FOR WINE

Whenever you take the time to prepare a fine meal, you deserve to have good wine with it. There are no hard and fast rules about which wines to serve with which dishes or courses. Your taste is the final arbiter. However, there are some wine and food conventions, conventions based on wine drinking and food tasting experience of many years. Basically, the rule is to serve white wines with white meats and fish and to serve red wines with red meat.
 Light wines go with light foods and heavier wines go with heavier foods.

If you are undecided about which wine
 you will like to try with your Easter dinner, stop by and talk it over with our friendly,
 knowledgeable staff at GOOD TIME PAR-

Township may challenge HUD

By KEN KOVACS

The fight against federally assisted rental housing in Northville Township apparently has just begun.

Though angry residents were assured recently by the township attorney that the two most recent subsidy housing projects probably would be killed because the first, Swan Harbour — which will have up 53 of 264 units available for assisted rental — already was approved, SEMCOG had different thoughts.

At a meeting March 26 the Regional Clearinghouse Review Committee of SEMCOG voted unanimously to support the Northridge proposal — which calls for up to 16 of 80 units to be available under the rental subsidy program — and gave an unfavorable recommendation to a proposed senior citizens subsidized apartment complex.

The committee — which consisted of six elected officials — considered comments made by the township in opposition to both proposals and comments expressed by the Wayne County Development Block Grant office.

Surprisingly, the county organization gave a favorable review for the Northridge Phase III project and opposed the senior citizen project — exactly the opposite action expected.

Trustees voted at a meeting Monday to have Supervisor Donald Thomson consult with Donald Morgan, township attorney, about seeking an injunction against the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The supervisor, the only township representative attending last week's meeting with SEMCOG, said he was "totally shocked" by the action taken.

Trustee John Swienkowski, who made the motion to research the possibility of seeking an injunction, echoed the supervisor's feelings.

"If we sit back and wait for HUD to approve it (Northridge III) we will be out in the cold," he predicted. "I think we have to pursue this now."

Supervisor Thomson was to meet with HUD officials in Detroit yesterday (Tuesday) to reiterate the township's opposition to the Northridge proposed subsidized rentals.

Township residents, who presented the board with a letter expressing opposition to the project — containing three pages of signatures — were furious about the recommendations of the county and SEMCOG.

"We sat here (at a public hearing) and listened to (Gordon) Ruttan (of Wayne County) tell us that these two projects would undoubtedly be stopped," one resident said. "Now people are more upset than they were before."

Since the county and SEMCOG recommendations for the proposed Northridge Phase III project are favorable, a spokesman for SEMCOG said it is highly unlikely HUD would turn the project down.

Three win national contest awards

Turnley first with pictures of farm life

Two Northville Record staffers and a former reporter have won national awards in the Suburban Newspapers of America Award contest for work performed in 1978-79.

Staff photographer David Turnley and former reporter Lenore Bechtel won first places among the nation's suburban community newspapers — Turnley for a pictorial feature series and Bechtel for an in-depth feature story.

Editor-publisher Jack Hoffman received a certificate of excellence for his weekly column appearing on the editorial page.

The awards were presented at the recent SNA Editorial Conference held in Washington, D.C.

Turnley, who joined the Sliger Home Newspaper photographic staff in January of 1978, was praised for his moving portrayal of an elderly farm couple whose love for each other and their faith in God transcended grueling farm chores and financial limitations.

Bechtel, who lives in Northville at 340 South Rogers, now does public relations work for a psychologist, won her first place award for a poignant report on the alcoholic awareness program co-sponsored by Northville Jaycees and the 35th District Court.

Judges reviewed a series of columns, including one about the marriage of his daughter, Mary, in citing Hoffman for writing.

SNA is the only trade association representing suburban and urban community newspapers in North America. Its membership includes more than 850 newspapers with a combined circulation of 11 million.

SHARED HONORS — "They share the honors," said Staff Photographer David Turnley, referring to Anna and Flander Hamlin — the Salem couple (above with Turnley) who were the subject of his moving pictorial series that was judged the best feature series in the nation last year by Suburban Newspapers of America. The coveted award was presented at a recent editorial conference in Washington, D.C. Turnley joined the The Record staff two years ago.

Township gears for zoning fight

By KEN KOVACS

The stage has been set for an all-out battle over rezoning in Northville township.

Planners March 25 tabled discussion of three petitions for rezoning, filed by landowners, until the next regular meeting April 29.

Three additional rezoning proposals — initiated by planners in an attempt to bring zoning in line with the recently adopted Master Plan of Land Use — have not been discussed since public hearings were held in January.

Leery of possible legal action by angry property owners, planners have tabled discussion of these proposals — which call for rezoning to residential land parcels on Five Mile, Six Mile and Eight Mile — at the last two regular meetings.

Meijers Incorporated — which owns approximately 36 acres of land on Eight Mile near Haggerty — has threatened to bring suit, as have a number of landowners at the Six Mile and Five Mile sites.

Two of the three proposals tabled at the last meeting were filed by the Elro Corporation, which has proposed development of a subdivision at the northwest corner of Six and Sheldon.

The developer is seeking to rezone approximately 150 acres from R-2 (single family residential) to R-3 (a higher density single family residential zoning).

Elro also would like to have 16.38 acres rezoned to commercial.

The third petition calls for the rezoning from R-3 to RM (multiple) approximately 22 acres of land on Seven Mile between Northridge Drive and Silver Springs.

"I look at (the filing of) these petitions as a result of the master plan," said Commissioner Kenneth Sewell. "I think any changes to the plan should be done at the same time."

Some commissioners said they would like an opinion on the proposals from the township's planning and engineering consultants, before they made any decisions.

Planners' proposals for rezoning received mixed reaction at the January hearings.

Residents supported the rezoning proposed at Eight Mile and Haggerty — Meijers' 36-acre parcel; an 11-acre parcel and a large piece of property along Haggerty — while representatives of the owners of each of the parcels adamantly opposed it.

The Six Mile proposal — to rezone to residential approximately 13 acres zoned general business — also drew resident support and harsh criticism from landowners.

The exception was the third petition — to rezone to residential a large piece of land on Five Mile stretching from Northville Forest Apartments on the west to Tanger School on the east.

Landowners and area residents felt the property in question could not be developed effectively as residential, particularly since a number of commercial developments already exist.

Planners — currently attempting to update the township zoning ordinance — will conduct a special meeting Saturday, April 26 at the township hall to discuss planning goals.

Plan may be on August ballot

County to vote on reorganization

A ballot proposal for the August 5 Presidential Primary election asking whether Wayne County voters want a charter commission to reorganize county government has been tentatively decided by the county board of commissioners.

Voting 17-5 while sitting as the ways and means committee, the commissioners approved a resolution to that effect which likely will be considered by the full board for final adoption tomorrow (Thursday).

Although regarded improbable, the resolution could still be turned down or modified before reaching the full board because Commissioner Mary E. Dumas, who represents Northville on the board, filed to reconsider the vote immediately after it was taken.

The chairman of the ways and means committee, Alex Pilch of Dearborn called a special meeting of the committee earlier this week to test the measure again. Under the board rules, any commissioner on the prevailing side can move to reconsider within 72 hours after a vote is taken.

Because the resolution succeeded by a majority of 17, it would also require 17 votes to win reconsideration and otherwise proceeds to the full board.

Mrs. Dumas first voted against the proposal, then asked to change her vote for the purpose of reconsideration. She was a chief opponent of the resolution in a clear division between Detroit and out-county commissioners, also reflected in vigorous debate before the decision was reached.

Among the sponsors of the resolution is R. William Joyner, who also represents part of Northville.

Even though carried over as a sponsor of the resolution from its introduction months ago, Joyner urged defeat of the measure and expressed the sentiment of all out-county commissioners by objection to all aspects of the resolution which would exclude consideration of westward population shifts in the county since the 1970 census.

Joyner proposed one of two unsuccessful resolutions which would have delayed a ballot proposal until after the 1980 census figures are available.

"I don't want my people disenfranchised," Joyner declared. "I want them to have a say-so on the basis of the present population, not such as it was 10 years ago." He contends that the population in his area has nearly doubled in the decade and that district apportionment on past data would deny the one-man one-vote principle.

Joyner also claimed fault with Public Act 293, the enabling legislation for a charter commission, which he called "a bad bill." He said the bill should be returned to the legislature and revised to guarantee a basis in 1980 census statistics.

Another resolution, this one from Commissioner James J. Rashid of Dearborn, called 293 "an adequate mechanism for causing significant improvement in Wayne County government" and in addition, he asked that the charter proposal not be placed on the ballot until the legislature appropriates funds to pay for all costs of the election and maintenance of a charter commission.

"We know that 293 is not going to do the job," said Rashid. "We know that it is not going to improve the system, and it is time we acknowledged that and assumed our responsibility and voted our conscience."

Agreeing with Rashid on the financing was Commissioner Richard E. Manning of Redford. He said the salaries of charter commissioners alone would amount to $274,000 compared to only $300,000 that the state has indicated a willingness to pay for the entire charter project.

Manning emphasized that the $274,000 projection accounts for only charter commissioner salaries and does not include expense for office space, office staff, consulting technical experts or equipment. "Something like $2.5 million is a more realistic figure," he said.

Manning also cautioned against another pending legislation, Bill 1039 now before the appropriations committee. He pointed out that a written request for reorganization from the governor is required before the state is obligated to pay charter expenses involved in 1039.

To my knowledge this is not the case as yet, and unless we get a written request from the governor, we could be caught having to pay the bill," said Manning. "We should approve this as a condition of our resolution, then wait for the governor and the legislature to develop mechanisms for paying the cost before we put anything on the ballot."

Mrs. K. L. Beard of Inkster, another major opponent of the resolution, also warned against the dangers related to Bill 1039. Some senators already have spoken against the bill because they believe it will force cuts in state services for the aged and youth, she said.

"Also, it is reported that some feel it would be improper use of state funds, and it is the senators and representatives who make that decision, not the governor," she continued. "I don't think we should put the issue on the ballot until the governor has fulfilled promises made over and over to foot the cost."

Speaking for the resolution, Commissioner Carter said it is time voters are given the opportunity to vote the issue up or down. "It is time to allow the public some input on a question that we have more-or-less discussed privately for some time," he said.

"We have the obligation to give the people opportunity to vote on the core issue. Any disagreement over apportionment or population figures should be handled in court," Carter said.

Along with sunshine and warmer days come flea markets and spring cleaning time.

Area residents can clean out their surpluses — and acquire new treasures at a flea market being coordinated by volunteers of the Schoolcraft College WISER program (for widowed persons) as a benefit for the Women's Resource Center.

The market will be open free to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 5 in the college physical education building and its parking lot.

Anyone wishing to reserve a booth may do so until April 16. Participating fees are $18 inside and $15 outside. Pat Wozniak, 464-0398, is in charge of sales.

She reports that 21 dealers have signed to date, including some from Detroit, Roseville, Garden City and Farmington as well as Livonia.

Stained glass, glassware, pottery, caning and old chairs as well as general lines of antiques will be featured.

Clerks sue to stop Republican primary

If they have their way, the Michigan Republican Presidential Primary scheduled for May 20 will never take place.

The state's city and township clerks, have filed a lawsuit against Secretary of State Richard Austin, State Treasurer Loren Monroe and the State of Michigan.

The Michigan Township Association and Wayne and Monroe County Boards of Commissioners have joined the clerks in their fight to abolish what they call "at best, an opinion poll or popularity poll..."

They also claim the primary election is, in fact, not an election at all, according to legal definition and is a "waste of taxpayers' money."

"It's unbelievable that they (the state) could even think of spending the money for this," said Clarice Sass, clerk of Northville Township and the first-listed plaintiff in the suit. "Michigan is in the worst economic condition of any state in the country. It is a waste of the four or five million dollars it will cost to run this 'beauty contest'."

The suit, which was to be considered today by Judge Roy Hodgekins of the Ingham County Circuit Court, asks for the granting of a judgment "declaring the rights and other legal relations of the parties to this controversy as follows:

— "That any and all orders issued by defendants directed to plaintiffs requiring them to conduct a Michigan Republican Presidential Primary on the third Tuesday of May be declared illegal and void.

— "That a judgment be entered declaring that plaintiffs have no duty to expend township or city funds to conduct the Michigan Presidential Primary or any duty to conduct said election whatsoever, until the total funding is provided by the State of Michigan or the private political parties to be benefited thereby.

— "That defendants, their agents, employees, and all persons acting in concert with them or on their behalf be permanently restrained and enjoined from taking any legal action against plaintiffs, by way of mandamus or otherwise, to compel plaintiffs to carry out the terms of the aforesaid notice of election.

— "That the defendants, their agents, employees, and all persons acting in concert with them or on their behalf, be permanently restrained and enjoined from issuing any further notices or orders to plaintiffs with respect to the conduct of the aforesaid Michigan Presidential Preferential Primary."

Plaintiffs claim the primary election has little, if any, merit and point out that prior to the May 20 election Democrats will have completed county and congressional caucuses, thereby making any votes for candidates in their party meaningless.

Council adds two zoning board seats

Two alternate members will be appointed to the Northville Zoning Board of Appeals in accordance with an amendment recently adopted by the city council.

The amendment, which creates a new section in the zoning ordinance, gives council the power to name two alternate members to serve three-year terms — though one of the first two named will serve a two-year term.

The alternates will have the same voting powers as a regular member and will be called to serve for any of the following reasons:

— If a regular member is absent or unable to attend two or more consecutive meetings.

— If a regular member notifies the secretary of the board that he will be absent or unable to attend a meeting for more than 30 consecutive days.

— If a regular member has abstained from voting or has notified the secretary of the board that he intends to abstain from voting by reason of a conflict of interest. In such case the alternate member shall serve until a final decision has been made.

In addition, the action will amend an existing section of the ordinance which will require a majority vote — as opposed to a vote of two thirds of the members — to reverse a decision of the board in favor of the applicant.

A vote of two thirds of the members is required, however, to grant a variance from uses of land permitted in the ordinance.

A third change required in the amendment adds a paragraph stating that each member of the board shall vote on every issue requiring a vote except when the member requests to abstain and gives a reason for abstaining.

The right to abstain must be approved by a majority of the other board members in attendance.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie said the ordinance changes were authorized in a state statute adopted by the legislature in December and effective in March.

"I have proposed these changes before because the board of appeals had problems getting a full nine-member board," Ogilvie said. "But now they are required under the statute."

The alternates likely will be appointed at the next regular council meeting April 7.

Council is considering similar changes — requiring board members to vote or give a valid reason why they are abstaining — for the city planning commission.

A public hearing on this proposed change is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the next council meeting at the municipal building, 215 West Main.

NVSH fence funds approved

Senator Robert Geake (R) Northville realized a seven-year goal recently when Governor William Milliken signed into law a bill providing money for construction of a fence around the grounds of Northville State Hospital. The $160,000 fence funding came about as a result of an amendment drafted by Geake which was attached to $117.8 million capital outlay bill.

The signing of this bill represents a major step towards total victory in a long-standing battle over the proposed construction of the fence, Geake said. "While the final decision whether or not a fence shall be built is in the hands of Governor Milliken and the Department of Mental Health, the fact that the legislature has made the money available in an essential first step towards having the fence constructed." Specifically, the money would be used to build a perimeter fence around three sides of the hospital, excluding the Seven Mile side. "There is no question that a fence is needed to curb the increasing number of walkaways from hospital," Geake said.

He pointed out that 42 patients walked away from Northville State Hospital in January of this year compared to only 35 during the same month last year. "Walkaways from the hospital continue to exceed an average of one per day despite continued claims that walkaways are very few in number."

Szczepanski proposes Auschwitz exhibition

Marian Szczepanski of Northville has garnered the support of a Wayne State University history professor in trying to organize an exhibition of artifacts from the Auschwitz concentration camp to tour the United States.

A speaker recently at WSU, heard by university president Thomas N. Bonner, Szczepanski's proposal drew Bonner's unofficial acceptance as well.

Both Szczepanski and Professor William Brazill, who had invited the former Auschwitz inmate to speak to his Nazi Germany history class, have written to the director of the Auschwitz Museum to formally request consideration of the idea.

Purpose of the exhibition, according to Szczepanski and Brazill, would be to bring documents and artifacts to people of the United States who are unable to travel to Poland and visit the museum itself.

If the museum is interested and details can be worked out, Brazill said, the next step will be to raise money for the exhibition.

"WSU cannot pay for the exhibition out of its budget, and it is an expensive project," Brazill was quoted as saying by the WSU student paper, The South End.

There is a lot of bureaucracy to cut through and all of the artifacts and documents must be insured, he added.

"Realistically, it will take at least 18 months of pretty regular work before an Auschwitz exhibition can be organized."

If the tour is eventually approved, Brazill contends it ought to start in Detroit.

Szczepanski said that in addition to launching the exhibition, he hopes to organize, with the university's help, conference of scientists and scholars to objectively study every aspect of Auschwitz.

Along those lines, he also is proposing development of an M.A. and Ph.D. scholarship program for students interested in studying Auschwitz.

Owner-scientist of International Diamond Tool Company of Northville, Szczepanski currently is writing a series of books about the concentration camp and the occupation of his native Poland by the Nazis, which he envisions as the basis for a series of films.

MICHIGAN BELL'S 1980-81 West-Northwest Area telephone directories, which are being distributed beginning March 30, have been expanded to provide more consumer information to help customers save money.

Haze Wilson, Michigan Bell local manager, said the new expanded directory is in response to customer requests for more information about numerous basic and optional telephone company services.

"Much of the information in the customer guide pages in the front of the new directory is designed specifically to help consumers save money," Wilson said.

The directory contains a new page to aid customers in better understanding bills as well as a new page listing long distance information and the most economical times to call Canada, Alaska and Hawaii, he said.

Scattered throughout the Yellow Pages section are numerous consumer tips offering useful information such as how to protect yourself and your property, how to reduce home heating costs, how to determine shopping bargains and a host of tables for making metric conversions, Wilson said.

The consumer tips were developed with the help of the Better Business Bureau, other consumer groups and safety agencies, he said. To make the consumer information even more useful, the last page of the Yellow Pages section is indexed on where to find specific consumer tips.

stand, their home and their three acres to the Phillips Shoe Company for a warehouse site. Over the years, their closely guarded buttermilk recipe — which they acquired with the business in 1945 from Joe Gaffney — put smiles on countless faces of people who dropped by the little stand to buy a glass of "Jansen Buttermilk."

Their stand was a "must stop" place for travelers between Detroit and Lansing, long before the arrival of I-96 freeway.

The Jensens hand-churned and bottled the buttermilk until the U.S. Department of Agriculture ordered it done by a bottling plant six years ago. Even then, though, the recipe remained a guarded secret.

Said Tom McGuire after a the first batch of the secret stuff was whipped up at the Novi dairy: "Umm, it tastes richer and creamier. And we've been making buttermilk since 1940."

By using the Jansen recipe and Guernsey's own farm fresh milk, the McGuire's figure they've got the hottest item in town. Early sales, says Tom, "have gone wild. Sales were so good we ran out of the stuff the first weekend."

Customers Guernsey never saw before are dropping in.

What's more, the McGuire's wouldn't be surprised in Governor Milliken popped in someday soon. He is known to have stopped at the Jansen stand for a glass of the buttermilk.

Meanwhile, the Jensens, who have retired from business, have been deluged with phone calls of persons wondering what happened to their stand and the buttermilk.

Well, the stand's closed but "the famous Jansen Buttermilk" lives on at 21300 Novi Road.

Seven Mile crash leaves three persons injured

A Northville man and two non-local residents suffered serious injuries March 29 in a two-car collision on Seven Mile at the entrance to Northville Charley's, township police reported.

Jerry Ashby, 765 Grace was passenger in a vehicle driven by Marilyn Morgan of Union Lake.

Both were hurt when the vehicle, traveling eastbound on Seven Mile, turned in front of a westbound car driven by Louise Duchesneau of Westland, witnesses told police.

Duchesneau's passengers, Leo Duchesneau and Melissa Duchesneau, were unhurt.

Witnesses said the eastbound vehicle began weaving and almost struck a vehicle next to it, then turned in front of the westbound car.

Morgan, who told police she wasn't alert and did not see the other car coming, was issued a ticket for reckless driving.

The three injured persons were taken to St. Mary Hospital.

Two 14-year-old males were arrested March 24 on charges of breaking and entering a Savoy Court residence, township police reported.

The youths, who were found with approximately $500 worth of cash, tools and stamps, entered the residence — a condominium — through an attic attached to another residence, police said.

The boys apparently had made their way through a crawl space to the adjoining condos, police said.

The owners were on vacation at the time of the burglary.

A Jamestown Circle residence was broken into March 29, township police reported.

A neighbor who was watching the house while the owner was on vacation, noticed that a sliding glass doorwall had been left open and called police.

A piggy bank and some coins were found scattered on the floor in the residence, police said, but it is not known whether anything is missing.

Currently there are no suspects.

A flute valued at $280 was reported stolen March 25 from the hallway outside the band room at Northville High School, police said.

The owner said the instrument was left with a number of others outside the door of the band room for only a few moments.

This is the second report of a flute theft from the high school in the past two weeks, police said.

A 1977 Chrysler Cordoba was reported stolen March 27 from the main parking lot at Northville Downs, police said.

The owner, a Detroit man, told police the doors and ignition of the car were locked.

The vehicle's estimated value is $2,000.

Four front windows at Northville Station, 340 North Center, were smashed March 30, police reported.

Police said the damage apparently was done with a BB gun.

Damage is estimated at $370.

Thirty-six eight-track tapes were reported stolen from a 1979 Camaro parked in the driveway of a Rayson residence March 30, city police reported.

The rear windshield was smashed in addition to thefts, police said.

The tapes were valued at $156.

Some $300 worth of stereo equipment was reported stolen from an apartment at 947 Novi Road, city police said.

An Allied receiver and a stereo AMFM cassette player and turntable unit were taken police said.

Police said they have some leads in the case.

He admits Nazareth, too, is disappointing as the church there was built in 1950. "It's pretty, but..."

There still are a few beggars in the Holy Land. Branstner recalls a blind beggar testing coins with his teeth to see what they were. He also remembers a mother with barefoot child in the chill weather.

"In reality in Israel everybody is treated the same. They are spending one third of their income on education which is free through high school. Many technical schools are built. Everything new is in limestone.

The group traveled by Mercedes bus.

"At every crossroads were soldiers," Branstner says. Their guides told them that everybody serves in the army, women for two years and men for three.

Their driver, who was 51, had been in five wars. The guide, four. He was the only survivor of his family from Romania and refused to recall his experiences.

"You realize the tension with which they live," the minister says, "when you know that the oldest kibbutz in Israel, Golon Heights periodically has shells lobbed into the village."

While Branstner calls security and water the two biggest concerns today, he mentions also soaring inflation which has been over 100 percent a year for the past two years.

"There are new industries," he says, citing diamond cutting in the new city of Natanya. He says 20,000 diamond cutters displaced from Belgium and Holland are cutting a billion dollars' worth of diamonds a year for export.

"Old Jerusalem is not very big. The old city is in the south and east corner. The Great Temple now is a shrine for the Muslims.

"Here is where Abraham almost offered Isaac as a sacrifice. You recall Genesis and realize the tenderness in God's care," says the minister, relating how he and another clergyman had walked the streets in safety.

As he cited the stories of the Holy Land he pointed out the now-forgotten Biblical fact:

The Arabs and the Jews are half-brothers.

NVSH fence gets funding approval

Senator Geake pointed out that the number of walkways per month varies with the weather.

"There were 61 walkways in March of last year and 60 left the grounds last August," Geake said. "A fence will cut down on the number of patient escapes from the hospital grounds and will go a long way toward allaying fears of residents who live near the hospital.

"There has been a long history of walkways invading the homes of neighboring residents, stealing their property, demanding use of telephones or rides to further their escape and in some cases inflicting harm."

A patient who walked away last April has been charged with the murder of an 82-year-old Northville woman who live near the hospital.

City to join CETA group

The City of Northville has agreed to participate in a CETA consortium with at least four other communities — the city of Plymouth and the townships of Northville, Plymouth and Canton.

City council March 17 unanimously agreed that the city should participate in the program, following the recommendation of City Manager Steven Walters.

"The advantage of the consortium to the city is primarily in the area of easing the clerical and administrative burden of the CETA program and in expanding the geographical area from which the city can obtain CETA employees," Walters explained.

The consortium would have a CETA-paid coordinator who would handle all the administrative and clerical responsibilities under the program, Walters said.

The consortium would hire CETA employees from the geographical area made up of the members and service them through a central payroll and record system.

Formerly, the city has had problems finding CETA applicants from the Wayne County portion of the city and has had to obtain waivers to hire employees from outside the city limits.

"This will probably not affect the amount of CETA funds received by the city," the manager said. "And the consortium members will contribute their individual allocations to the central accounting system and receive CETA employees on assignment in proportion to their funds."

"This approach is being pushed by Wayne County because of their budgetary limitations," Walters continued.

Representatives of the five communities asked to participate in the program met March 27 to draft an agreement of intent to form a consortium and also to draw up a description of the program's structure, powers, and responsibilities.

The communities, however, are concerned about what their submittal of a plan would mean.

"We want to get some assurance that we can still pull out of the program up until May 15 when the contracts are to be signed," Steve Walters, Northville city manager said this week. "We are concerned about the funding and want to insure that we don't get stuck by the county."

Our Opinion

Skip to jail

Canton Township's rejection of the single courthouse proposal and its threat to secede from the court's 35th District reminds us of the child who refuses to play with others unless he can be the captain. It disappoints us, but it doesn't really surprise us because players in the game of politics too frequently engage in this kind of foot-stomping.

Assuming that Canton won't recant, the remaining communities in the 35th District ought not abandon the single courthouse concept. It's a good one that, even with one less participant, deserves consideration.

What we fear now, in the wake of Canton's action, is that each of the remaining member communities will be encouraged to build or provide separate facilities that can only mean more cost for us — the taxpayers.

In Northville, for example, the city has considered investing funds into conversion of the scout building to a "city court" and the township has been toying with the idea of building an addition to its new municipal complex for a "township court."

Neither of them can afford this separate luxury. Nor can the city and township of Plymouth afford going their separate ways.

While we are not opposed to the recommended City of Plymouth site, it can be argued that this site — if Canton secedes — is no longer "centrally" located. Which brings us to a compromise location suggested this week by Township Supervisor Donald Thomson. "Why not use one or more of the vacant buildings on the Wayne Child Development Center property?" he asks.

Why not, indeed. It's centrally located in the 35th District, probably could be obtained, and it would put to good use some structurally sound buildings which many of us fear will soon go the way of the Maybury TB buildings.

WCDC is about a stone's throw from Plymouth Township, about as close to the City of Plymouth as it is to the City of Northville, and it would place some courtroom participants just a hop, skip and jump from prison facilities.

Come to think of it, what about an existing building on the state-owned Plymouth Center for Human Development? What the court has decreed must be phased out of existence might be decreed a suitable home for the court by taxpayers.

Fuzzy figures

A calculator isn't enough. Maybe a compass, a divining rod and prayer would help in accurately analyzing local school budgets.

They are complex, no doubt about that. School budgets are bound to be when they reach the multi-million dollar level. And most area school budgets have reached that rarified mark.

One would think that a discussion of budgets with a certified public accountant would help. Editorial staffers of Sliger Home Newspapers held a meeting recently with two respected CPA's. Their advice helped, as far as it went.

But the bottom line to us mere mortals was that school budgets are basically inscrutable, unless you delve into the financial and budget history of the district and have a comprehensive knowledge of school finances and budgets — which is another way of saying analyzing them accurately is a hit and mostly miss proposition.

Complicating the already complicated budgets are economic conditions and other variables, such as the tax allocation, the state aid formula and the relatively stable fourth Friday count. Get the picture? Fuzzy isn't it?

Municipal budgets aren't much better. Categories multiply as local government gets bigger and bigger and the budget figures climb into the same celestial atmosphere that school budgets have breathed for years. While a school district may have a single budget to govern operations, municipalities normally have a multiplicity of budgets.

Try these — general fund, improvement revolving fund (or is it revolving improvement fund?), local road fund, cemetery fund, road improvement fund, road maintenance fund (how about pothole fund?), trust and agency fund, federal revenue sharing fund, fire equipment fund, ad infinitum (or so it seems).

The municipal budgets also are influenced by variables such as federal and state government changes in funding legislation, the Headlee tax amendment, number of persons residing in the township, state aid, etcetera, etcetera.

Add to these at-times-baffling conditions a proclivity of government officials to remain silent on budget padding and the situation is indeed discomforting. Only a fool would tackle budget analysis, a newspaper reporter, or God.

Speaking for Myself

Is pollution ruining weather?

ROBERT SNYDER

YES

When we think about air pollution we think of controlling undesirable materials that enter the air from automobiles, spray cans and electric power plants. But the most pervasive kind of air pollution consists of heat, specifically the warming effect on the atmosphere from the accumulation of carbon dioxide, the major product of fossil fuel combustion. This kind of pollution is not one which can be "fixed" by putting catalytic converters on automobiles, banning fluorocarbons or putting scrubbers on the stacks of power plants.

The experts tell us that carbon dioxide increases could cause the average yearly temperature to rise six degrees by 2030. From this, we can expect serious changes in weather patterns, unless (within the next 50 years) we make a major change to non-polluting energy sources such as wind, nuclear fusion or heat from the sun.

While such a warming trend might warm areas now too cold for farming, the effects basically are unpredictable. It is expected that wind patterns would be weakened, affecting the global rainfall distribution, ocean currents and ocean productivity. Species of animals and plants that could not adapt would disappear and patterns of competition would be drastically altered.

A partial answer, at least to our future weather problems, will be found when we decide to solve our energy problems by turning quickly to nonpolluting alternative energy sources.

Ann Sibole

Walled Lake Central

NO

There is no question that so-called pollution does make a change in the weather, but the degree of change is highly subjective.

It also is difficult to define the term pollution. What some might consider pollution actually occurs as a matter of course in nature.

For example, near the ocean salt particles act as the nucleus for rainfall. But over the continents the nucleus must be some impurity. Without a nucleus there is no rainfall.

In highly industrialized areas it is known that there is a higher frequency of rainfall, but that is the only change it makes in the weather.

There are charges that carbon dioxide added to the atmosphere will create problems. It is hard to know whether carbon dioxide is good or bad. It occurs in the natural state, and makes plants grow more vigorously.

Whether it will create the so-called "greenhouse" effect, causing the entire earth to warm up, is far from proven. There has been no proof there have been changes in major storm patterns or principle temperature regimes.

The cold winters followed by this year's warm winter do not show anything but nature swinging back and forth.

There have been small, local changes in the weather influenced by pollutants. There is no proof of major changes in weather activity. There has been nothing showing deviations in the established state of wind, temperature and rain.

Defends fire department

Resident challenges trustee's statements on recreation

To the Editor:

I read Northville Township Trustee Nowka's letter in the Northville Record last week and feel I must respond. Mr. Nowka said, "The impressions suggested by both letters (printed March 19, 1980) were incorrect." Then you go on to say the Northville Township Fire Department is supported fully out of general operating funds. Sir, for your knowledge, this is an incorrect impression (statement).

The Northville Township Fire Department received $52,000 revenue sharing in 1979 and, as you know, the State of Michigan has cut this by 25 percent or less than $40,000 this year. The Township Fire Department has need for plenty of things. The Township Fire Department is not costing the Township residents any local taxes to operate. What will happen next year if the State of Michigan cuts revenue sharing to $20,000 or none at all when they again tighten their budgets? Will the fire department be closed?

I agree with Mr. Simpson regarding priorities. Where in the world did you get recreation first and the fire department second?

Now regarding recreation — your name is on the front cover of the 1979-80 recreation budget. You proposed a total budget of $194,199 and about $185,000 was spent. You have such a big heart and allowed the senior citizens $4,450 and of this figure there was some money left over. Just think $4,450 out of $185,000 and you say it is for everyone in the community. When you were on the recreation commission, you, sir, did absolutely nothing for the senior citizens in the township. Yes, your efforts in this matter add up to a big fat zero.

Now you are asking these senior citizens for recreation millage? You must be out of your gourd. Our senior citizens right now are fed up with taxes and inflation.

I know it will be very hard for you to remember last year's budget hearing, but please try. Former Trustee Richard Mitchell (now living in California) stood up in the audience and told you he did not think his senior citizen neighbors should pay for his family's recreation by taxation. Remember, you tried last year to get taxes for your recreation program? He talked you out of it last year. Now that ex-trustee R. Mitchell is no longer in the area, I will do my humble best to support his ideas

Cable television here next winter

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

By next winter the wonderful world of cable television will have reached Northville Township, opening up new horizons for TV connoisseurs and addicts.

Omnicom, Inc., will bring a variety of cable TV services to area residents for "modest" monthly fees.

The populated portion of Northville Township will get cable service by winter 1980, said Omnicom President John Raines. The city of Northville will receive service during 1981.

"For a basic monthly fee of $7.95 the customer will receive antenna service and two independent signals from Atlanta and Chicago," Raines said.

For a few dollars more the customer can choose from these services: all-news, all-sports, all-weather and all-children's stations; first run movies; selected programs from Boston and New York; and open circuit programming for local government, library and school shows.

Customers can even subscribe to a cable service which would give a two-way direct communication with police, fire and medical assistance.

Early birds who subscribe to cable while the system is being constructed will get a dollar discount off their monthly billing for the next two years.

"We'll be out to see potential customers when we are installing the cable," Raines said. "If they subscribe while we are working, they'll receive free cable installation (usually $25.)"

The company currently is rigging cable Canton township in underground trenches and poles leased from Detroit Edison and Michigan Bell. Cables will be built like a railroad, with the main branch coming up through Canton, Plymouth, Northville Township and Northville.

Rural areas of Northville Township will not be serviced immediately, Raines said, because the company will have to gradually build cables to reach western Northville Township.

Though Omnicom has been granted only "franchises" to build cable systems in Northville and Northville Township, it has effectively wiped out the competition by being first on the draw in this area.

"Omnicom's plan is simple. It would like to provide one consistent communications system that will easily be linked to all participating Western Wayne and Oakland County communities," company literature states. Omnicom is an infant company in Plymouth less than a year old, but two of its three directors are businesspersons from other states who know an opportunity when they see it.

The company's financial backer is Capitol Cities Communications, the huge conglomerate which owns radio stations like WJR in Detroit.

Two of Omnicom's directors are veterans in the relatively young cable television industry.

Raines built the first cable system in the country in Florence, South Carolina, and managed Westinghouse Cable TV communications and Teleprompter Corporation.

Leo Hoarty, executive vice-president of marketing, started with Buckeye Cablevision in Ohio in 1965.

Jeff Dorn, vice-president of sales and franchising, has three years of cable television experience. Dorn is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

New neighbors

To the Editor:

I hope you read and enjoyed the article in last week's Record about our new family in town from Vietnam.

Their name is spelled Boi — and pronounced Boy. They live at 626 North Center Street and they already have jobs in Novi (father and one of the older children).

One of my neighbors stopped in to call on them and found them to be very charming, energetic people. And to their neighbors on North Center, yes, they are all one family — 11 children and their two parents.

They have a few needs, which when you are cleaning your closets this spring you may want to help these brave people. They need spring and summer clothes. Girls sizes from 3X to children's size 12 and boy sizes 12 and 18.

They also need drivers to take the two older children to school in Livonia (for information please call the Holy Family Catholic Church in Novi, 349-8847).

They are trying very hard to be independent financially. Perhaps you can make time to call on them — a smile is universal. I am sure with a little friendship from the people of Northville they will feel more comfortable and at ease living here.

Perhaps you can call on these new people with a plate of homemade cookies (that's a universal welcome to town gesture). All children know about cookies, and they also know about someone smiling at them. I cannot walk very well anymore due to arthritis and a stroke, but I hope to be able to meet this family soon — with some help walking with one of my kind neighbors.

Many thanks for your response for clothing for some needy families here in Northville and the patients at Northville State Hospital. They need men's washables, pants and shoes. They also need women's washables, dresses, pant suits, sweaters.

Many thanks for your help all these years we have lived in Northville (especially the good people who drop off clean clothes in good condition on our porch at 605 Grace, three houses south of Baseline). That's what being a good neighbor is — it's helping those less fortunate than we are.

Shirley Matthews

Census necessary

To the Editor:

If you have not already done so, the League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Nowi urges you to fill out and return your census form as soon as possible.

The Constitution of the United States mandates that a nationwide census be conducted every 10 years. This count has been completed every decade since 1790.

Answers to census questions are confidential. Not even another federal agency may see an individual's answers for any reason.

The results of the 1980 census will have a significant impact on each and every resident of our growing area. Representation in the U.S. Congress and the Michigan Legislature will be determined by the census. Revenue sharing money, both federal and state, will be allocated to local units of government, based on the 1980 population count. Also, the census data will provide a framework for planning decisions at the national, state, and local levels on such matters as economics, transportation, energy, education, and social security.

To ensure that our area receives all the benefits that a complete count can provide, the League of Women Voters urges all residents of the area to make certain their forms are filled out and returned. If you have not received a form in the mail, please notify your local unit of government.

Firefighter thanks

To the Editor:

I wish to commend all the fire departments for saving the north side of the town when the bakery was on fire. They averted a real catastrophe by their swift movement.

Interested persons should call the Nature Center at 685-1561.

Visit with "Nature's Night Life" during a special evening program to be conducted at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark April 16, invites naturalist Dave Moilanen.

"Frogs, raccoons, deer and other animals can often be seen or heard along Kensington's nature trails at night," he says. Using slides and a walk along the trails, Moilanen will introduce participants to some of the park's night life.

Participants should bring flashlights and wear water repellent boots for the 7 p.m. program. Advance registration is required.

Eighteen residents file as GOP delegates

Eighteen area residents have filed petitions indicating they would like to be a Republican precinct delegate. These delegate hopefuls met the Friday, March 28 deadline and their names will appear on the ballot in their respective precincts in the presidential primary election May 20 — if the election is held.

Charles Toussaint and Betty Allen will be unopposed for the two seats in precinct one — the Wayne County portion of the city.

Both candidates are committed to Ronald Reagan.

In the Oakland County portion of the city, precinct two, Stephen P. Whitaker will oppose John P. Calandro for the one seat at the Republican district convention.

Whitaker is committed to Reagan, while Calandro is committed to George Bush.

In precinct three a contest between two Reagan supporters will find Robert F. Brueck opposing Philip C. Armada.

The following candidates will be unopposed for their respective precincts in Northville Township:

Precinct one — Timothy D. Lemon (uncommitted); precinct two — John E. Hollingsworth (Bush); precinct three — Karen Wilkinson (uncommitted); precinct four — Ross B. Northrup, Jr. (uncommitted); precinct five — I. Louise Wolf (uncommitted); precinct six — Janice E. Hobart (uncommitted); precinct eight — Zouvan Chisnell (uncommitted); and precinct nine — Irving E. R. Benson (uncommitted).

In precinct seven Marion K. Lockhart (Reagan) will oppose Wesley A. Rogalski (John Anderson) and in precinct 10 Steven P. Levine (Anderson) will oppose Larry VanderMolen (uncommitted).

The Michigan Democratic Party has adopted a policy of choosing delegates to its national convention in closed party caucuses, thus bypassing Michigan's presidential primary election.

For this reason, only Republican precinct delegate candidates will appear on the May 20 ballot.

Those delegates elected in the presidential primary will represent their respective precincts at the district Republican convention May 28.

At this convention delegates will be elected to the Republican State Convention and these people will elect the party's delegates to the national convention to be held in Detroit this summer.

OLV will register all new students

Our Lady of Victory school will be registering students for grades 1-8 for the 1980-81 school year on the following days:

April 22, 23, and 24 from 9:30-11 a.m.

The registration will take place in the church social hall. Anyone interested in registering their children should complete a school registration form then, a school spokesman said.

Young Careerist raises cancer fight funds

BY JEAN DAY

Recruiting 25,000 volunteer door bell ringers for the American Cancer Society campaign this month is just one of the responsibilities of Lisa Nirider of Northville.

As director of development and fund raising for the society, she coordinates activities of volunteers throughout Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

"We were one of the forerunners in bringing cancer out of the closet," the young executive points out, acknowledging that confusion does exist between her organization and the Michigan Cancer Foundation in the eyes of the public.

"We have somewhat of an identity crisis, not being funded by the United Way. We depend only on personal donations and do not receive federal monies."

"Part of our goal is to make people aware of cancer and to make the check up part of their yearly examination and, as a second step, to practice various safeguards," she explains.

Wearing a classic camel-color suit, the tall young woman who was graduated from Northville High School and went on to receive her degree in communications from Michigan State University in 1976 looks like the capable young careerist she is.

In February she became the Northville Business and Professional Women's Young Careerist of the Year. March 23 she captured the District Nine Young Careerist title in competition with young women from Novi, Wayne, Garden City and Plymouth.

May 2 she will represent Northville and the district in competition for the Michigan Young Careerist title in Lansing.

Should Lisa Nirider win, it will be the second consecutive year that the Northville club has sponsored a state winner. Dorothy McAllen who is assigned to the Northville post of the Michigan State Police won the Northville title last year and went on to become district and then state winner.

Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. James Armstrong of Thornapple Lane. She met her husband Stan Nirider through his sister Nancy, marrying him after dating during college years.

A graduate of Hillsdale College, he is in management with Shatterproof Glass Company. His parents are the Essie Niriders, long-time Northville residents who have just sold their Grace Street home in preparation for retirement in the north near Torch Lake.

Before graduation Lisa wrote for the MSU State News as a journalism major and worked for a summer at the Detroit News as a copy person. She also did an internship in the state legislature. After graduation she worked in public relations for the Red Cross.

When her husband was transferred to Kalamazoo, she signed on as executive director for the American Cancer Society in Calhoun County. When Stan returned to Detroit, the young Niriders settled at 510 North Center in their hometown.

She received a transfer to the Detroit office. It since has had the tri-county merger, making it the fourth largest office in the country.

"We're responsible for just under a million dollars," Mrs. Nirider states, relating how part of her job is brainstorming as fund-raising ideas, like all things, run their course. The local society has a staff of 35 people including secretaries in offices in the Butzel Family Center in Detroit, in Southfield and in Macomb.

She gives full credit to the work of volunteers, like the door bell ringers now being sought. "Without them we couldn't exist. They help greatly in the educational aspect, distributing literature as they seek donations."

Mrs. Nirider is a member of the Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity and admits to hoping that some day she eventually may "get back to writing."

Right now she's absorbed with fund-raising golf tournaments and auctions as well as seeing individuals who give large sums for cancer education and research. "The women's golf tournament raises $56,000," she mentions.

She points out that use of monies raised illustrates the differing philosophies between the cancer organizations.

"The American Cancer Society looks at research being done by various doctors and scientists and a panel decides which seems most promising, and that's where our monies go."

She is quick to state that both organizations have value and cites the fact that the American Cancer Society has supported the other's research as proof of cooperation.

While Lisa Nirider is a young executive of today, she has thoughts about the Equal Rights Amendment. "I don't think it is going to solve all our problems. I don't want (advancement) because I'm a woman; I want it because I'm the best person."

With comments like this, the poised young careerist won her Northville title. Judges were Mrs. McAllen, last

Town Hall speaker reports:

Attics yield treasures for collector

In jargon of the antique trade, Lawrence Gichner is a "picker."

He scouts for antiques and collectibles that he sells to others, but his customers include institutions like the Smithsonian. One of his "finds" is a picture now hanging in the executive office in the White House.

Gichner also is a personable speaker and accomplished shutterbug. He entertained Northville Town Hall members at a slide lecture in March, speaking on "Collectibles" at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Town hall members ventured on a pictorial trip "through someone else's attics" that included that most prestigious attic of all, the triangle area over the White House portico.

Here repose "barrels of canes, stacks of sofa pillows and potentate gifts."

Gichner confided that he first had gained access to attics by being a roofer for 35 years. He now travels widely, searching out antiques and collectibles.

Because he works closely with museum curators, Gichner is aware of the kinds of things being sought. He collected patent medicine bottles that became part of the apothecary shop in the Smithsonian.

Flashing pictures of old labels, Gichner showed that three types exist: herb medicines, syrups and dopes.

Labels promised anything and everything, one instructing, "Weigh yourself before taking."

"Pink pills for pale people" is a kidney renovator.

Gichner suggested to his Town Hall audience that they "go out in the country and knock on doors."

"They'll always tell you they have nothing to sell, but keep talking," he advises.

As an example, he showed a log cabin 50 miles from Washington where he was shown two handblown glass circles rescued from between the logs. They, he declared, were breast cups for a nursing mother.

At the same poor farm he paid a dollar for an old poison bottle that he said he had just sold for $125. He told his audience that he is going to "split the loot" with the cabin owner.

Knowing what to look for and what one is looking at is part of the collecting business, Gichner said. Before his lecture, he had visited Old Town Plymouth's antique shops. He remarked that such items as an old rug beater were fairly priced. "They're lower than I've seen anywhere recently," he told his audience.

"Take along a lot of hope," he advised as he mentioned old scrapbooks, letters and books often stored in attics. Sometimes, he illustrated, famous signatures were pasted inside book covers.

He warned anyone finding letters with old postage stamps not to clip

Lawrence Gichner admires Florence Booms' pitcher as Mary looks on them off.

Old maps are collectible, especially those showing western territories and dated ones. Gichner estimated the value of an 1835 map at $250.

Dime novels, like "Pluck and Luck" that sold for five cents, now are "worth a lot of money," according to the collector.

People also are collecting old household equipment — from ice tong to the ice box itself.

"Know what this is? It's the wooden box you bought squares of ice for at the curb and brought into the kitchen."

Gichner noted that today young couples are buying the oak boxes to hold records.

Other collectibles sometimes found in attics, the speaker suggested, include hand-colored Currier and Ives prints. He mentioned that sometimes a lucky find will be a frame with several prints behind the one displayed.

Trade cards, children's books, old catalogues all bring prices that astound, he continued. Collectible art includes old circus posters, he added.

"From 1880 to 1910 a couple wasn't officially married unless they had a brass bed," Gichner said, saying the beds today bring from $750 to $2,500.

Showing a picture of a bottle of smelling salts marked "Ford Motor Company," Gichner said this was "standard equipment with the first Fords."

Town Hall members had been invited to bring items for Gichner to evaluate. Marilyn Griggs of Milford came with a lantern she said has been in the family for 60 years. Gichner praised it, commenting that "anything that is hand-crafted is collectible today."

He identified as an Irish water pitcher an elaborate pitcher in silver holder brought by former Town Hall

Chairman Florence Booms.

"It's a beauty, a prestigious Victorian beauty that is especially good because it's all intact, including the porcelain lining."

Install Evelyn Harper club's 50th president

By JEAN DAY

Evelyn Harper became the 50th president of Northville Woman's Club as the organization, one of the oldest clubs in the Detroit federation, ended its 87th year at the annual luncheon March 21 at First Presbyterian Church.

Phyllis Slattery is the new vice president. Completing the 1980-81 slate are Stacey Morgano, recording secretary; Phia Johnson, corresponding secretary; and Ethel Eltinge, treasurer. Directors are Mary Yahne, Frances Mattison, Marge Davis, Connie Eis and Ruth Porter.

At the club's annual program Emily Casterline was made an honorary member of the club, joining Luetta Reng and Peg Wood in honorary membership.

A musical program featured David Heinzman, harp-sichordist, assisted by Roger Maki, bassoonist, and Lorelei Crawford, oboist.

Retiring president Patricia Brown explains the break with tradition in that she is not on the board of directors as past president because the Brown family will be moving from the community. Mrs. Yahne is taking her place as a past president on the board.

Dr. John Brown expects to continue practicing in Kalamazoo on a hospital staff. The Browns already have sold their home in Edenderry, and Mrs. Brown reports she is

Church seeks bus for musical tour

Fifty young people at First United Methodist Church who have been telling the story of the birth, life and resurrection of Jesus in song this Easter season now have an opportunity to take their musical, "Here Comes the Son," to Canada.

"Here Comes the Son" was presented for the congregation at the Palm Sunday service under the direction of Stacey and Gary Becker, church music directors.

Because the youth productions at the church have become so well known in the six years they have been presented, invitations have come to present the musicals elsewhere.

Last year the touring singers gave the musical in Gaylord, but this season Canada beckons.

"Now we're appealing to see if a bus may be available somewhere in the community to transport them," says Karen Woodruff, a parent.

Because the young people are students in grades 7-12, the church feels it would be best if they go to Oakville, a suburb of Toronto, in one vehicle.

To rent such a bus would cost $700, Mrs. Woodruff reports, saying that this amounts to about $14 a participant. A collection was taken following the presentation Sunday morning to help cover expenses.

The participants will be staying at the United Church of Canada overnight

April 26-27, sleeping in the church. Sack lunches enroute will cut down expenses, says Mrs. Woodruff, stressing, however, that the big help would be use of a bus. Anyone who can help is invited to call her at 349-4142.

Accompanying the singers are young instrumentalists.

The contemporary musical by Paul Johnson is a narration of the life of Jesus as viewed by four gospel writers.

Canadian invitation a result of Young family displacement

Circumstances that led to an invitation from the United Church of Canada to the youth of First Methodist Church here to present their Easter musical, "Here Comes the Son," in a Toronto suburb are unusual enough to be the subject for a story.

The Reverend Philip Johnson, minister of the church located in Oakville 30 miles west of Toronto, heard about the students' musicals through the Peter Young family.

The Youngs for three months late last summer had to flee to Canada because their visa through a snafu had expired.

Peter and Nelcina Young first had come to Canada from Australia. Their three children, LeRoy, Julie and Kerry, a senior, junior and freshman respectively at Northville High, had been born in Canada.

The Youngs were transferred by his employer to Detroit and bought a home in Lexington Commons. They had filled out necessary papers when the visa was expiring, but somehow Young's employer apparently had not.

Ten days after the visa expired, Mrs. Young recalls, the family had to leave the country. It took three months for papers to be filed and for the family to return as permanent residents. During that time Peter Young worked for his company at the Oakville plant.

The youngsters were able to return in time to begin school, but the parents stayed on in a motor home parked in the driveway of a member of the board of the United Church of Canada.

The Youngs, of course, talked of their life in Northville and activities in the local Methodist church.

They related how the annual Easter musical was performed by the young people and last year went "on the road" north to Gaylord.

Thus, the invitation came to "come to Canada."

Center head will chair workshop

Women's studies educators from Grand Rapids and Lansing will join her on the panel.

The conference is co-sponsored by the Michigan and Great Lakes Regional Women's Studies associations.

on, Sue Durham, Gail Eskie, Paul Gubush, Bonnie Kruse, Linda Leach, Rich Liebold and Pete Lindberg. Also: Kathy Newell, David Nichols, Fred Petzinger, Mary Prodder, Tricia Smith, David Trotter, Debbie Trotter, Robert Van Nieuwerk, Clayton Walker, Steve White, Carolyn Wood.

Newcomers take to the road

Annual April couples' activity of Northville Newcomers, a road rally, is set for 7 p.m. April 19 at Meads Mill Junior High. Last year's winners, Bert and Lynn Schwartz and Pat and Nancy McCormick, are in charge of arrangements. Although details are part of the mystery, they promise clues "that are exciting for both beginners and pros."

The event is open to both alumni and current Newcomers at $14 a couple, including dinner and cash prizes. Reservations close April 10. They may be made with Mrs. McCormick, 349-2996, or Mrs. Schwartz, 349-8740.

Business Briefs

TWENTY MEMBERS of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR) from Novi, Walled Lake and Union Lake have been honored for topping $1 million in home listings and sales during 1979.

WWOCBR President John Halser said that "Million Dollar Club members have aided approximately 31,000 buyers and sellers of existing homes last year." Total value of the property involved was nearly $820 million.

The WWOCBR also cited four local real estate representatives as members of the $2 Million Club during the past year. Members of the $2 Million Club from Novi were Morville W. Lenover of Century 21 of Novi, Inc., and Felix F. Superfisky, Jr., of Rymal-Symes, Inc.

Named to the $2 Million Club from Walled Lake was Joseph Mankvitz of Century 21 — Janisse-Matheson. The member of the $2 Million Club from Union Lake was Bradford W. Glasson of Earl Keim Realty Union Lake, Inc.

DETROITBANK CORPORATION has announced the opening of the main office of Detroit Bank — Novi, its newest subsidiary bank. The new bank, located at 27768 Novi Road adjacent to Twelve Oaks Mall, brings to nine the number of DETROITBANK subsidiary banks.

In the picture above, Oakland County Treasurer C. Hugh Dohany opens the first account at the main office of Detroit Bank — Novi. Assisting him are Willard L. Oliver, president of the full-service bank, and Barbara Hepp, assistant manager of the branch.

Currently housed in a temporary building, the new full-service bank is equipped with a drive-in window and night depository. Safe deposit facilities will be added when the permanent building opens in early 1981. In addition, trust services will be available to customers of Detroit Bank — Novi through an arrangement with Detroit Bank & Trust, principal subsidiary of DETROITBANK Corporation.

Announcement of the Detroit Bank — Novi opening was made by its president, Willard L. Oliver, an employee of Detroit Bank & Trust for 39 years. Prior to his appointment to president of the new bank, Oliver served as vice president and regional supervisor for the Branch Office Administration Department. A resident of Brighton, he also has served as a branch manager for Detroit Bank & Trust.

"We are very enthusiastic about the opening of our new bank," said Oliver. "And as a DETROITBANK Corporation bank, we hope to be an integral part of this growing community and to offer its residents and businesses the kind of quality service and financial support that has become a DETROITBANK tradition."

MARILYN M. DONOVAN, a Northville resident since 1973, has affiliated with Rizzo Realty, Inc. Gallery of Homes in its Northville office.

Concurrent with her pursuit of a professional career in real estate, Mrs. Donovan is busy raising three children, two of whom attend Northville High School while the third is attending the University of Michigan School of Law.

She lives in Whipple Estates on the western edge of the City of Northville.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES CORPORATION has announced than an expansion program is being undertaken within its insulation division.

Guardian, headquartered in Novi, entered the insulation business in early 1978 with the formation of a new corporate division and the purchase of a small mineral wool insulation facility located in Huntington, Indiana. Production and sale of mineral wool insulation commenced in the second quarter of 1978. Mineral wool revenues of the company were under $5 million in 1979.

The announced expansion program involves the installation of a fiberglass insulation line at a 750,000 square foot plant in Albion. Production is scheduled to begin by early 1981 at this facility, which was purchased by Guardian in 1979 from Corning Glass Works in anticipation of eventually converting it for the manufacture of fiberglass.

JAMES C. CUTLER, broker of the James C. Cutler Realty of Northville, proudly watched Virginia Martin, realtor associate and manager of the firm, receive her million dollars sales pin and certificate recently at the recognition party given by the Western Wayne and Oakland County Board of Realtors at the Plymouth Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. Martin was one of the 415 members to receive this award. She has been active in real estate in the Northville area for the last eight years. She also is an active member of the Northville Woman's Club.

PERRY DRUGS last week announced its fiscal first quarter sales and earnings were at the highest levels in the Pontiac-based chain's history.

The net income for the quarter ending January 31 was $1,107,000 or 72 cents a share, according to Jack A. Robinson, chairman and president, as compared with restated earnings of $1,067,000 or 69 cents a share a year earlier.

Robinson said sales in the latest quarter advanced 15 percent to $33,856,000 from $29,466,000 a year earlier.

Earnings did not keep pace with sales growth, he said, partly because of higher costs to operate the new and larger Perry corporate headquarters and distribution center in the first quarter of 1980 as compared to lower costs to operate former smaller facilities in the same 1979 quarter.

Robinson said Perry, now operating 66 stores in 49 Michigan communities, will open at least six additional stores before the October 31 ending of its current fiscal year.

M. DALEY HILL has been cited for exceptional work with Woodmen Accident and Life during 1979.

"In this our 90th anniversary year, Woodmen Accident and Life takes special pride in the accomplishments of M. Daley Hill whose professional success throughout the past year has qualified him for our 1979 Life Award and the 1979 Group Health Insurance Award," the company announced.

"It's a pride we share with the community and the insurance industry who join us in honoring this outstanding representative. His leadership and service have insured families and individuals of a better way of life."

Hill's office is located at 127 East Main in Northville.

In announcing the event, Conrad Jakubowski, president of Rymal Symes Realtors, said that industry wide, fewer than 10 percent of all real estate salespeople ever sell a million dollars worth of property in any one year and this group of 10 is made up of all Rymal Symes people.

f/STOP, INC., Novi's complete photographic store, announces guaranteed 24-hour film processing service when requested on rolls of color slide, movie and print film.

The service, which is offered at the nominal charge of 99 cents per roll, is available Monday through Thursday on orders sent through f/Stop to Hite Photo in Detroit. Film must be received prior to the day's pick-up to be eligible for 24-hour processing.

The rush service is not available on reprints, enlargements, black and white orders or Hite's own professional 4 by 6 inch print processing which is available only from 35mm film.

Any film turned in under the terms of the rush service agreement and not returned in 24 hours will be processed and returned to the customer at no charge.

The guaranteed 24-hour service follows a recent announcement by Hite of a "Bloopster Buy Back" agreement which allows the customer to return photographs for full credit, no matter the reason.

"Our combination of Hite and Kodak processing is the reason f/Stop probably takes in more processing than any other store in the Novi-Northville-Walled Lake area," said General Manager Wayne Loder. "Without top quality photofinishing, the photographer, whether he has spent $25 or $1,000 on his camera equipment is not getting a good return on his investment. And good quality processing like Hite is not expensive."

As well as processing, f/Stop offers complete discontinued camera, lens, flash and accessory sales. It also offers professional wedding, portrait and commercial photographer services.

f/Stop is located at 43220 Grand River, just east of Novi Road and is open 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and Saturday and 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday through Friday.

FIL SUPERFISKY, associate broker with Rymal Symes Realtors, has been named manager of the firm's Novi office effective immediately. In announcing the appointment, Conrad Jakubowski, president of Rymal Symes, said, "Fil's broad knowledge of the community and his depth of practical experience made him the ideal choice for the position." He also said that the addition of Superfisky to the Rymal Symes management team is but another indication of the guiding principle of the firm in providing highest level of professional service through the careful selection of personnel of only the highest quality.

Superfisky, his wife Pam and daughter Dawn are longtime residents of Novi and are active participants in community activities. He is a member of the Novi Jaycees, Holy Family Church and long has been a sponsor of the Village Oaks Garden Club and Novi Parks and Recreation girls' softball teams.

FIL SUPERFISKY

THE LATEST round of increases for home mortgage interest rates — to 15 percent or more — will dampen the already depressed local housing market still further, according to Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR).

"It's becoming obvious that these increases, which could go even higher, will squeeze more prospective buyers out of the market and stymie many sellers who want to move up," said John J. Halser, WWOCBR president.

"As representatives of these two groups, we see them as victims of a bad mix of federal government fiscal and monetary policy. Federal deficit spending, too rapid growth of the money supply and enactment of inflation-causing regulations have been major causes of the accelerated consumer price inflation. It rose from a level of 4.8 percent in 1976 to 13.2 percent last year."

Halser said one result has been that typical mortgage payments for an average home have climbed past $500 per month compared to about $380 a year ago. Existing home sales, which peaked near four million in 1978, are expected to drop below three million during 1980.

New housing needs, estimated to be two million or more units a year, will be left largely unmet with starts expected to dip as low as 1.2 million units this year.

STARR ADVERTISING of Northville, has been appointed as the agency of record for GKN Automotive Components Incorporated heavy truck and off-highway advertising. It recently was announced.

The Southfield company is a subsidiary of GKN Group, a major worldwide industrial firm and producer of automotive products and systems.

Starr will help expand the company's position in the North American heavy truck and off-highway market, particularly for axles, wheels and forgings.

James E. Fisher, Starr vice-president of sales, will supervise the account.

Softball squad looking to vets

Although the Northville softball team lost three top players from last year's 9-8 squad, coach Tim Lutes feels that the Mustangs can improve their record this season.

Those three holes are big ones to fill.

Gone are catcher Nancy Schlachter, shortstop Sue Heinzman, and center-fielder Sue Kinnaid (all graduated), "only our strength up the middle," Lutes understated.

But he has a solid, experienced crew of letter winners returning, and with the addition of some promising sophomores, Lutes thinks he can build a strong team.

The one area the Mustangs lacked last season was offense. The team had only two hitters with averages over .300. At an off-season conference of softball coaches held at Eastern Michigan University recently, other Michigan coaches were amazed that Lutes could win nine games with only two .300 hitters.

Both of these .300 hitters are returning. Senior Kim Kurzawa will shift from her second base position of a year ago into Heinzman's spot at shortstop.

Junior Judy Orr, the team's leading hitter, will again play left field.

While Kurzawa is virtually unchallenged at short, Orr has some competition for her outfield spot from Senior Sandy Searles.

Handling the pitching chores again this season is Julie Abraham, a senior, who last year was the ace of the Mustang staff.

She will be tossing the ball to her sister, Junior Amy Abraham, a veteran summer league catcher who is out for the first time.

Darcy Lovelace, a junior transfer student from Oklahoma, also is a veteran catcher who will see a lot of action.

Sandra Flannigan, a right fielder last season, has moved in to take Kurzawa's old spot at second base. Flannigan is a junior and is reported to have the strongest arm on the team.

Michelle Cain, a junior, also is vying for the second base position.

The Mustangs are strong at the corners of the infield.

At third base Kathy Phillips returns to lend a solid glove to the Northville cause. But she is receiving a real challenge from sophomore Jill Mat-teuci, who Lutes said is an aggressive hitter, a commodity the Mustangs were lacking in last year.

There are three girls in contention for the first base slot. The nod would have to go to Pam Metz, a senior, who is a magician with the glove.

But she is being pushed by Senior Diane Ciskowski and Junior Stacey Hoover.

Sophomore Cheryl Stasak, on the strength of a very strong bat, has the nod over Junior Tammy Chew for right field.

At center field, a two-way battle between returner Diane Hrubak, a junior,

SOFTBALL SENIORS — These seniors will form the nucleus of the Northville softball attack this spring. Four of them are returning letter winners. From the left is Pam Metz, returning first baseman; Kathy Phillips, returning third baseman; Julie Abraham, returning pitcher; Diane Ciskowski, outfielder; Kim Kurzawa, returning shortstop; and Sandy Searles, outfielder. The Mustangs are coming off of a 9-8, '79 season, and coach Tim Lutes is counting on these six players for the leadership needed to improve that record.

Tigers to train here

I just learned from confidential sources yesterday that in the case of a player's strike in professional baseball, the Detroit Tigers will be holding informal workouts at the Northville High School facilities.

Many of the Tigers reside in nearby suburbs during the regular season, and Northville, it was explained to me by one of the players, is a good central location.

Those younger Tigers who aren't married, or have family nearby, most likely will house themselves in the Winner's Circle Hotel for the duration of the strike.

The player could only speculate as to how long the strike would last, but he guessed that it could last anywhere from two weeks to two months.

A high ranking member of the Northville school system's administration said that the players want to have a "closed-doors" policy on the practices.

It was learned, however, that the administration plans on selling tickets to the workouts for anyone interested in watching.

I learned that the reason Northville agreed to the request from the players is that each member of the administration was promised an autographed baseball and a 1980 Tiger Yearbook.

As for the Northville High School baseball and softball squads, I learned that they would have to practice at the Fish Hatchery.

In another important development, I learned through reliable sources in Pontiac that Northville varsity basketball coach Tim Lutes is the leading candidate to take over the Pistons coaching job next year.

Lutes wasn't the top choice but the other 25 candidates Pistons management had in mind all declined the invitation for interviews.

At a special budget meeting last night, the Northville Recreation Commission decided to cancel all recreation programs this spring and summer.

The reason for the cancellation was stated as a "lack of interest on the part of the Northville residents."

The money originally slotted in for recreation programs will be used for the "vacation fund" for Northville officials.

The Northville Downs is having another record-breaking season and because of this success, the United States Government has decided to use the facilities for a top secret project this summer.

I learned that the military, in an attempt to save money and confuse the Communists, has decided to scrap its new missile programs and instead train horses and riders to form a "revolutionary concept in warfare: a silky calvalry."

When reached for confirmation, a government source declined to comment, other than to say "we aren't horsing around."

This just in: Richie Aduabato, former head coach of the Pistons, has agreed to take the head coaching job of the Northville varsity basketball team.

Abudato, when reached by telephone, said "this is a real step up for me. Northville is a top-notch operation. It makes the Pistons' organization look like kindergarten."

The annual Baseball Scouts Convention will take place in Northville on Monday, August 27.

Baseball scouts from all over the country and Japan will come to Northville to discuss scouting techniques, earn merit badges and hold a camporee.

It also is a chance for all youngsters who have considered a career in baseball to impress the men who can put them on a major league diamond.

The scouts will stay in the Wagon Wheel boarding house, "Convention Headquarters," for three weeks.

They plan on spending two weeks taking in all the sights of Northville, and a week holding their meetings and tryouts.

In a final bit of late breaking sports news, I have accepted the sports editor's position at the New York Times. This will be my last Sidelines column.

By the way, April Fools.

and Kim McGuire, also a junior, is underway.

Hrubiak has experience while McGuire, out for the first time, is an exceptional athlete, starring in both basketball and volleyball.

"We lost our three most aggressive players (Heinzman, Kinnaird, and Schlachter) and we have only two .300 hitters coming back," Lutes said. "Last year on defense we were pretty good. I expect to be just as good, and possibly better this season. But we need four or five people hitting over .300 to really win this year."

This year marks the first for the new junior varsity softball team. It almost wasn't.

For the first few practices, there weren't enough people participating to split the group into two teams. But lately about 23 girls have been practicing.

Lutes said he will likely keep 11-12 on varsity and 11 on the JV.

The reason for so few interested can be traced back to the addition of another new spring sport for girls, soccer.

"We've been limited by the weather (practice) and by all the other teams. There was a question as to whether we'd have enough (girls) for the JV,"

Lutes said. "All the better athletes in the school are going to play soccer. It seems all the girls are involved with soccer leagues in the summer, but there aren't any fast-pitch softball leagues. Other teams in the league have fast pitch leagues."

The Mustangs' season will start with a contest at Novi on April 16. On the same date, the JV gets underway with a game in Belleville.

Tracksters tested at Huron Relays; no points earned but times are good

The Northville boys track team got its season underway with a promising showing at the Huron Relays last Saturday.

The meet, held at Eastern Michigan University, saw more than 80 area Class A high school teams competing. The distance medley unit had the best showing for Northville. While it didn't place, the times turned in by the four runners comprising the squad had coach Ed Gabrys optimistic.

Harry Couyoumjian ran a 2:02 in the 880 leg, Doug Wright ran a :57 in the 440 leg, Scott Dayton turned in a 3:40 in the 1320 leg (three-quarter mile) and Ross Grover ran the mile leg in 4:50.

"Ross ran a smart mile for us," Gabrys said of his medley unit. "but their time of 11:35 was a bit off the eleven flat the distance team ran last year. But that was due to Brian Turnbull's 4:30 in the mile. That was the time difference."

Wright, one of the team's hopes in field events, sailed 18-feet-9 in the long jump.

The sprint medley unit, made up of Ken Weber, Mike Kramer, Chris Dimitroff and Steve Bourne, ran a 4:08.

Dimitroff had the best time, a :25.7 in the 220 leg.

The mile relay squad recorded a 3:57.7. Sophomore Clark Couyoumjian ran a :56 while Erich Nowka and Kramer, two seniors who are out for track for the first time, ran :59 in each of their 440 legs.

"For this time of the season, I think that Harry's, Clark's, Ross Grover's and Dimitroff's times were good," Gabrys said. "But we went into the meet with the idea of it being a diagnostic sort of thing. We saw where we needed work, which is why today's practice will emphasize quarter mile work."

The Mustangs will travel to Brighton Thursday to meet the Bulldogs and Fordson. These meets may be more of an indicator of the Northville team's strengths and weaknesses.

"Brighton and Fordson will both be tough," Gabrys said. "We'll just do the best we can."

On Saturday the team will travel to Michigan State University for the Spartan Relays. This will be a meet much like the Huron Relays, with numerous high school teams participating.

Caesars wins rec title

New champion of the Northville Recreation Men's Basketball League is Little Caesars.

This is ironic in that Caesars finished second in the regular season standings to Goat Farm.

But Caesars and Goat Farm were the two finalists in the post-season playoff, and Caesars won 64-62 to claim the number one spot.

John Boland led the winners with 18 points. He sank eight points in the first half and 10 in the second.

Barry Kroenhamer scored 12 points in the second half to total 16 for Caesars.

Mark Kilborne scored 15, John Horwath 11 and Ed Kritch four to round out the scoring for Caesars.

Ernie Thornberry led Goat Farm. He scored 13 points in the first half and six in the second for a total of 19 points.

Bob Gerlach was shut out in the first half, but came back strong in the second half to tally 15 points.

Ron Smith added 12, and Howard Inch and Kevin Callahan each scored eight points.

Spring programs start

It's time to dust those winter cobwebs off the gym shoes and plan a get-in-shape program for summer.

The Northville rec department can help. It is sponsoring a number of classes and programs that offer something for everyone.

There is a women's conditioning program with sessions in the morning, afternoon and evening. A babysitter will be provided for the morning class.

If your interest is in dance, there are a number of classes offered.

Classes in disco rock, ballroom dance, square dancing, ballet, tap, and jazz & disco will be provided, with beginner and intermediate levels in some.

A gymnastics program featuring classes in tumbling and apparatus will be offered.

Golfing lessons from professional golfer Bob Kuhn will be conducted at the Oasis Golf Center on 5 Mile for all ages.

Horseback riding lessons will be available for children from the Children's Farm and Riding School in Canton. This is a one-week program of offered twice over the summer: the week of June 23 and the week of August 4.

The Isshinryu Karate Club will continue its meetings at the Community Center. All aspects of the Martial Arts

Canton eyes secession, dashing one courthouse plan

By DARLENE STINSON

Canton Township may take steps to secede from the five-community 35th District Court in a move which backfires on other municipalities' request for a unified courthouse in the district.

Judge James Garber said the action will kill a recommendation of a court study committee to build one courthouse for Canton Township, Plymouth and Northville Township.

The recommendation stems from the cost inefficiency of running three courthouses in the administration buildings of Canton, Plymouth and Northville.

According to Garber, space problems in Plymouth and Northville city halls have forced the court to seek other quarters.

(Until the proposal for a single, unified court facility was advanced by Garber, Northville had been considering the renovation of the scout-recreation building on Cady for a new court facility here. But with the single court proposal in the works, council had placed the scout-recreation building proposal on the shelf).

five-acre site of the township administration building at Canton Center and Proctor for a courthouse.

But Garber, who said the offer was never made during the study committee's deliberations, said a Canton site would be unacceptable to Northville and Northville Township because of the distance.

Garber said the study committee preferred the site in the City of Plymouth because of its location at the center of the 35th District and its tax-exempt status.

The committee is considering two other sites — at Joy and Haggerty in Plymouth Township and at Joy and Morton Taylor in Canton Township. Robinson Rental Company owns the Plymouth Township site, while Practical Homebuilders owns the parcel in Canton.

Garber said all three landowners have agreed to finance the estimated $1.3 million cost of building the courthouse. The landowners would lease the building to the court for about 25 years, when the deed would be transferred to the 35th District.

Garber maintains that a unified courthouse would increase efficiency of the court and curtail rising district costs.

He said a decision on the unified courthouse is needed within the next few weeks because of City of Plymouth plans for bond-financed expansion of the municipal building where a 35th District courtroom is located. The city, which has delayed the bond sale pending a courthouse decision, must float the bonds soon because of Headlee Amendment stipulations.

Garber said officials of Plymouth and Northville townships have indicated a desire for a courthouse in their municipalities if a unified courthouse is not built.

The judge maintains that court costs will remain at this year's estimated level of $500,000 if the unified courthouse is built. He said costs will rise if separate courtrooms are maintained because of a need for additional clerks and rising telephone bills.

Each community within the 35th District finances court operations on the basis of caseload. Garber estimates that Canton will pay $220,000 this year.

Canton officials admit that they have never researched the costs of supporting their own court district. Greenstein, an attorney, maintains that municipalities with their own district courts are operating their courts at a profit.

"I think you're wrong," Garber said. "I sincerely believe that you'd be better off as a member of the 35th District Court."

Garber, the presiding judge of Canton's 35th District courtroom, was visibly upset over the board's reaction to the construction project. A Plymouth Township resident for the past 23 years, he said he would be forced to move to Canton in order to retain his judicial position there.

"We're sorry to kill this (construction proposal)," said Treasurer Jim Donahue. "But I think this township's best interests are served if Canton splits off."

Clerk John Flodin, Canton's representative on the court study committee, voted against the board's motion to research a split from the 35th District along with Trustee Eugene Daley.

Flodin said he told committee members that he personally favored a unified courthouse but was unable to speak on behalf of the township board.

Only one doesn't get shots

Only one student in ninth through twelfth grade remains to be vaccinated in the Northville school district, Superintendent Larry Nichols has reported.

Thirty-two students faced exclusion from school March 17 after they did not receive shots required by the Wayne County Health Department.

By March 19 that number had been reduced to six. And by March 21, the number was only three.

The student who did not receive the required shots was on vacation out of the country and couldn't be contacted.

Nichols and members of the Board of Education congratulated health consultant Marie Robertson and volunteers who helped her in the immunization drive.

Next year, the district will tackle this year's fourth through eighth graders.

Two get degrees

Two Northville students received degrees from Michigan State University Winter term, the college has announced.

Jack A. Babbitt, 306 South Rogers, received a bachelor of science degree in materials science.

Douglas W. Uzelac, 21431 Beauford Lane, received a bachelor of science in animal husbandry.

Pledge fraternities

Three freshmen from Northville have pledged fraternities at Albion College this spring.

They are:
Robert E. Holloway II, Delta Tau Delta, 1979 graduate of Northville High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holloway of 20327 Woodhill.

Richard E. Meyer, Sigma Nu, 1979 graduate of Northville High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Meyer, 42126 Bain Tree.

Michael D. Ward, Delta Tau Delta, 1979 graduate of Northville High School, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Ward, 47266 Dun-sany.

Scholars honored

Hillsdale College has named three local students to its winter term dean's list.

They are Karen Elizabeth Boll, 18262

Areselot Drive; Neal William Johnson, 19735 Hayes; and Pamela J. Roberts, 1002 Saratoga Court.

All three students achieved at least a 3.4 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Camera club meets April 9

"Underwater Life" is the competition topic for the next meeting of Northville Camera Club at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 9, in the administration building at Our Lady of Victory Church.

Hostesses are Kathryn Giltner and Audrey Joki.

Three Northville students were named to the dean's list at Lawrence Technological University, the college announced.

Doctor completes FP requirements

Dr. Robert G. Wetterstrom of Doctor's Clinic in Northville has completed continuing education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians, the academy announced.

Requirements for retaining membership in the national association of family doctors call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years.

The academy, founded in 1947, is the country's second largest national medical association and was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

It formerly was called the American Academy of General Practice.

Alcohol series set

An alcohol awareness program sponsored by the 35th District Court and Northville Jaycees has scheduled three sessions at the Plymouth City Hall, 201 South Main.

The 'Pharmacology of Alcohol-Effect on Body-Physical' will be the topic of discussion April 8 at 8 p.m.

April 15 Dr. Frank Hollingsworth, Ph.D. will lecture on the 'Progression of Alcohol-Disease Concept'.

A third session April 22 will feature a panel discussion between members of Alcoholics Anonymous and Alanon on how alcohol affected their lives.

The sessions are free and everyone is welcome to attend.
