TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Mother's Day 1980

Motherhood's especially rewarding when you're holding a new, warm bundle of love. Jackie Payne, whose son Michael Shamus was born February 16, symbolizes the reason for celebrating this coming Sunday. She will be the center of lots of admiring attention at the Payne home at 454 Morgan Circle. In addition to husband Phil, there are sons Kevin, 10, and Sean Patrick, 8, to say, "We love you, Mother."

City owes $32,000

Court error proves costly

A snafu in district court record-keeping apparently is going to cost the City of Northville $32,191.

The money, it has been learned, was owed Northville Township — but paid to the city over the past six years. It represents the township's share of court fines monies.

According to City Manager Steven Walters, Judge James Garber discovered the error when he assumed responsibility for court financing earlier this year.

City auditing did not turn up the error because court records indicated the money was owed the city, he explained.

Although the court has not yet demanded return of the money, the city does not question its repayment obligation. It has, however, proposed a gradual repayment in lieu of a single lump sum to lessen the impact on the city budget.

The township, meanwhile, is anticipating a major increase in its share of court reimbursements to make up the past error and because of current adjusted payments.

"Although we do not question the correctness of the repayment, it is none the less a financial burden on the city," the manager wrote in a letter to Garber last week, "since our court revenues have both been reduced by the amount now being properly sent to the township on a monthly basis, plus the additional repayment as scheduled..."

Walters, after discussing the matter with council last week, suggested to the court that repayment of $4,190.72 be made prior to June 30 — the balance of $28,000 at the rate of $1,000 per month, with $12,000 being paid the city's 1980-81 fiscal year beginning July 1.

"If the court wishes the city to make these payments to the township directly, we will do so. If the court wishes to deduct these payments from the city's monthly revenue transmittal, this is also acceptable, although we would request that the full amount normally transmitted be shown and the repayment to the township be shown as a deduction, so that we will know the details of the monthly receipts," Walters wrote.

"It wasn't our fault," Walters told council, "but obviously the court is in no position (financially) to pay it back to the township (from its own fund)."

If word of the court error wasn't costly enough, council learned of still another back-billing — this one from Oakland County, which is contending the city owes the county some $26,500 as part of a 1967 agreement to use a portion of the sewer interceptor extending into Novi.

City officials searched local records to substantiate the reported debt but failed to find anything, according to the manager. It had been suggested by a former Northville official that the agreement was a "trade-off" — the city permitting the county to extend the Novi sewer into Northville for permission to use that portion of the Novi sewer in Northville.

But no paperwork has been found to substantiate the "trade-off."

Neither the city's nor the county auditors had caught the obligation in past years. Walters is not sure how or why it was suddenly discovered at the county level.

If, indeed, the money is owed the county the payment would be made from the city's water and sewer fund, not the general expenditure budget.

Such a payment, however, would eat into the reserve the city has been trying to build up to cover future unexpected sewer or water repair costs.

Ford valve plant ducks layoffs

Northville's Ford Valve Plant at the bend of Main Street this week adds a new distinction to others that make it unique in the giant Ford Motor Company and the community as well.

While plants throughout the automotive industry have been laying off increasing numbers of white and blue collar workers, the local plant has not reduced its force.

"To my knowledge nobody on hourly has been laid off, and there are no plant closings scheduled," Albert J. Hellow, plant superintendent, stated.

"We supply 80 percent of the Ford valves," he explained, "and our plant is flexible enough to shift from eight cylinder valves to four-and-six ones."

He did qualify his statement, saying that "down the road" in a few years this may not be true, but for today it is.

"We're proud of our little operation," Hellow adds of the plant started more than 60 years ago by the first Henry Ford.

The plant sits on the site of a sawmill begun in the early 1800s. It was reputed to be one of the first buildings in Northville.

Ford bought it to add to his "village industry" plants. Today it is the only one still in operation.

Each was distinguished by a water wheel. The wheel at the valve plant

Vote 4-3 on rezoning at Six and Sheldon

By KEN KOVACS

A controversial petition to rezone to commercial approximately 16 acres of land at the northwest corner of Six Mile and Sheldon April 29 gained township planners' recommendation for approval.

The decision was far from unanimous, however, with three of seven voting members opposed.

Commissioners James Nowka, Kenneth Sewell and Bernard Baldwin — who have opposed commercial at that intersection right from the start — cast no votes, while Chairman Kenneth McLarty, William Bohan, vice-chairman, and Commissioners Marvin Gans and Craig Bowlby supported Bohan's motion.

The two new planners, Pat Wright and Dorothy Gay, did not participate in the vote — Wright abstained and Gay was not in attendance.

The petition, submitted by the Elro Corporation of Troy, was under consideration by township planners for approximately one year.

Action on the petition was delayed numerous times because of planners' efforts to revise the Master Plan of Land Use — finally approved in December, 1979 — and other rezoning petitions initiated by planners.

Legal considerations also were a factor contributing to the delay in action.

The majority of residents in attendance at last Tuesday's meeting opposed commercial development at the Six Mile and Sheldon intersection.

"There is no need for escalating business in that area," said resident Stan Ervin. "I applaud Mr. Baldwin on his position."

Baldwin, who fought to remove Six and Sheldon as a designated area for a convenience center on the master plan, was adamant in his stand.

"I did not feel that Six and Sheldon would ever develop into a shopping area," he said. "It didn't make sense to me then and it still doesn't."

"There is no apparent need for business or commercial zoning at this location," Baldwin continued. "At this time I do not see any reason for rezoning from residential. My basic belief is that not only is a change to commercial zoning ill-timed, it is also ill-conceived."

The property surrounding the 16-acre parcel also is owned by Elro, which has received approval to build a subdivision. Some commissioners said this was a major factor influencing their decision.

"While there may be no need for commercial now there is an argument to rezone the parcel now and develop a well-built subdivision around it," Bohan said. "I have some faith in the developer and his firm has a good reputation. I think his development would benefit the community."

A major concern of residents was the type of commercial development that may be built.

"Are they going to put in abortions like the ones on Seven Mile," shouted Carole Johnson. "They put trash in there."

Another resident was concerned about the size of the development.

"The master plan calls for a convenience center not a 16-acre shopping center," he said. "That is one hell of a big site for a convenience center."

The rezoning petition now goes to the township board of trustees for review, following a review by Wayne County planners.

The petition could come before township trustees at their June 12 meeting, but most likely it will be on the agenda for the regular meeting July 10.

Planners recommend break for Meijers

Meijer Incorporated may be able to build its Thirty Acres store at Eight Mile and Haggerty after all.

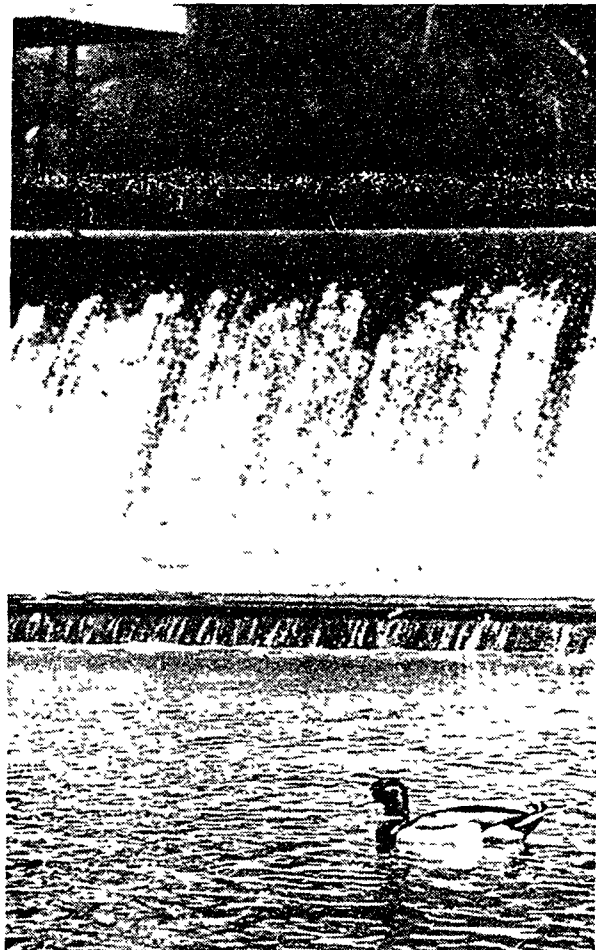

Township planners, who initiated a petition to rezone the 36-acre parcel to single family residential, on April 29 agreed to recommend to the township board a change from the current zoning of B-3 (regional business) to B-2 (general business).

This would enable Meijer, which had threatened to take legal action if the parcel were rezoned to residential, to continue its plans to build a store.

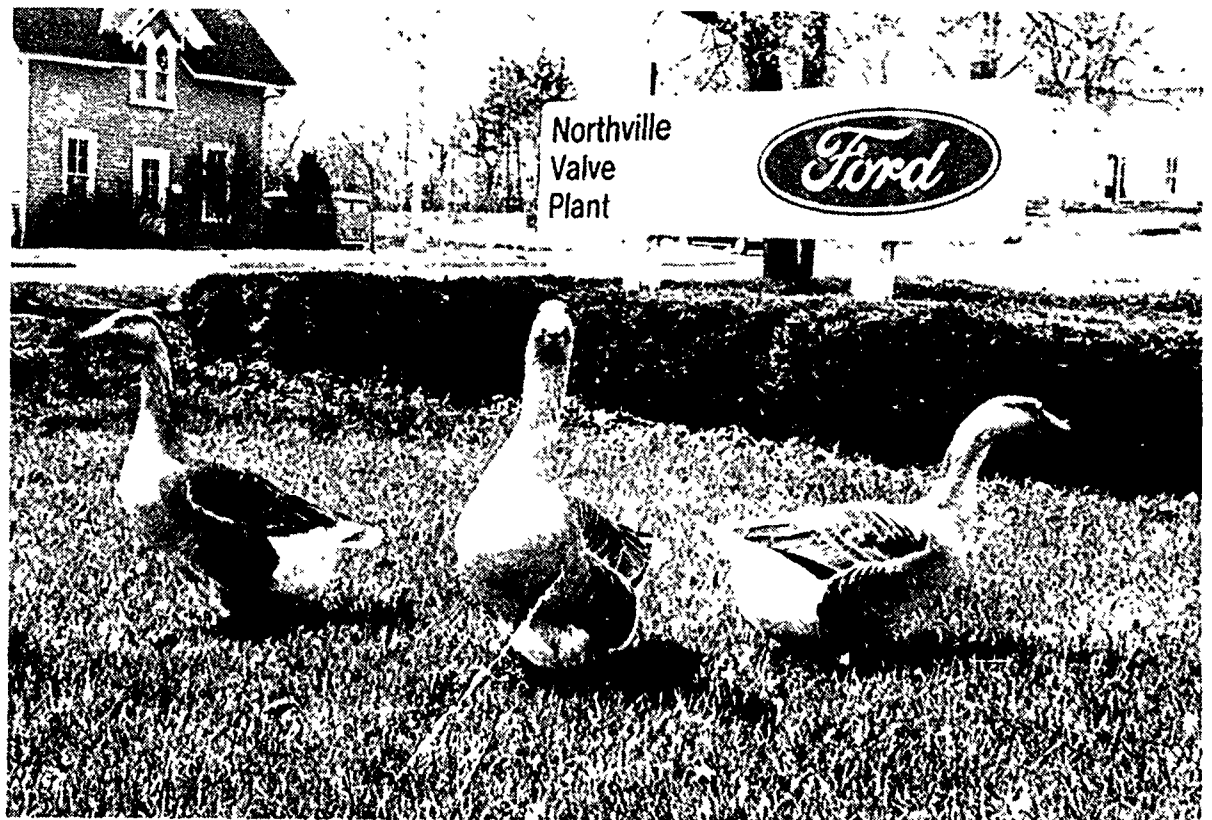

Planners also recommended that two other parcels along Haggerty between Seven and Eight Mile retain the current OS-1 (officer service) zoning.

Planners initially petitioned to have all three parcels rezoned to R-1 (single family residential).

Reading Fever

"Don't limb it yourself — branch out by reading," was one winning slogan in the annual library poster contest at Our Lady of Victory school. These seven artists have won first prizes for their posters, which will be displayed to promote reading at the library. The winners are, from front left, Carrie Isabell, Renee Larabell, Christina Mastroianni, Margaret Murphy, Lynn Bechtel, Hope Mastrangel and Dennis Kunka.

NHS scholars get academic honors

Northville High School students with top grades are gathering end-of-the-year academic plaudits from colleges and universities, reports NHS counselor Alta Olson.

Senior John Higgins has been named the recipient of a $1,000 scholarship from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, contributed by the Great Northern Nekosoa Foundation.

In addition, 23 students with grade points at 3.8 or above will be honored by the Detroit Association of Phi Beta Kappa in a ceremony at Ford Auditorium on May 12.

The honor grads are, in alphabetical order: Kelly Assenmacher, Steve Bourne, Gary Braser, Leslie Farquhar, Dave Fisher, Dale Fisher, Russ Gans, John Higgins, Nancy Joslin, Kim Kurzawa.

Also: Sabine Lackore, Kay Manley, Connie Mao, Mary Kathryn McMillan, Yurie Miyahara, Eric Nowka, Barry Ouellette, Kathy Phillips, Sue Townsend, Dave Vallance, Lori Westphal.

The students will receive a certificate from Phi Beta Kappa, but will not actually be admitted into the honorary society.

Several NHS students will receive University of Michigan Regents-Alumni scholar awards. Olson said 11 NHS seniors will receive the awards this year, more than in any previous graduating class.

Though all the students will not be attending U-M, they were given the awards on the basis of an interview at the university.

More awards will be handed out at NHS during the Honors Convocation June 5, Olson said.

Reilly presents reading paper

Bernard Reilly, professor of English at the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, presented a paper recently at a seminar for Doctor of Arts students at the University of Michigan.

The paper was entitled, "Reading and Writing: Tacit Connections."

Reilly, who lives at 2135 Lujon Drive in Northville, has taught reading development and writing skills at OCC since 1967.

Student Congress Corner

Students make plans

By PAM BINGLEY

During the months of February, March and April, Student Congress planned Law Day and another Red Cross blood drive.

This year, Law Day was held May 6th, sponsored by the Northville Rotary Club. The day began with a breakfast at McDonald's then inductions at 9 a.m. At noon there was a luncheon at the First Presbyterian Church. Then to finish the day students toured Northville Terrace.

Twenty students participated this year, holding positions such as mayor, city manager, court clerk and city clerk. This was the second year for this activity.

Student congress will be going on a picnic in May. Trophies will be given to the following students for outstanding service and leadership: Pam Bingley (president), Dave Fisher (vice president), Kris Quinn (secretary), Matt Yanoschik (treasurer), Susan Paquette, Renee Miller, Peter June, Cindy Albus, Jennifer Wilkinson.

Also: Stacy Simpson, Cindy Phillips, Neal Young, Tami Chew, Kim Hubbard. Elections for next year's student congress officers will be May 5-9. Class elections will be May 12-16.

The blood drive was held May 6.

PTA needs volunteers as mothers go to work

Ranks of volunteers for the Northville Parent Teacher Association are dwindling as more mothers enter the workforce, PTA volunteer Betty Lynn Nowka said Monday.

"Northville has always had a quality PTA and always a lot of volunteers. But this year we have had a couple people who can't be on the PTA council, because they are going back to work," she said.

Nowka said while there is no problem getting volunteers at the elementary school, the junior highs and Northville High School PTAs are hurting for parent volunteers.

Volunteers, in PTA tradition, have always been mothers.

"We have not had much father participation," Nowka said. "Most of them are too busy to participate. It is just unusual for fathers to have an interest in the PTAs."

She said some schools have tried holding meetings in the evenings but only a few fathers ever attended.

"I don't know how many fathers would be interested," she said. "It has been very difficult to get parents to participate, even when we send flyers home."

"People complain that it is the same people who always run the PTA. But when we contact others to help, they are always too busy."

Nowka said as society changes, the PTA will have more trouble getting women to volunteer for PTA duty.

"Our goal is not only to stimulate good relations between the community and schools, but to provide for children. Maybe we can interest some of those people who really are just shy or have not been asked to participate."

And acres of dreams

District's got 130-acre nest egg

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

once, when school enrollment was high and times were good. But then times became not so good, and enrollment plummeted, and the dream never materialized.

Now the Northville school district is taking a look at what to do with the land.

"We're going to take a look at the future facility needs of the district," said Superintendent Larry Nichols. "We'll begin with some future enrollment trends, current and future zoning, study the effect of population, housing, sewer and the economy."

"We'll assess our current space availability and what we need. What we need to know is: are we going to need that land for future school sites?"

In 1974, board members planned to build a new high school, junior high, athletic fields and a nature center to accommodate 2,200 high school students and 1,000 extra junior high kids by 1980.

The school district purchased 120 acres in June 1974 and paid about $750,000 for the parcel, or about $6,250 per acre. In January 1975, the district bought another 9.46 acres adjoining the parcel for $65,000.

The schools, fields and nature center were never built when enrollment skidded, but the district still owns the property.

Nichols said his committee will take quite a while to assess all possibilities before it will even consider selling the piece of rolling wooded land.

"We have had several feelers for that property. People are interested. It is a prime piece of property. But we've got no intention of doing anything with it right now. If we ever did decide to sell, we would get several appraisals as to the value of the property," Nichols said.

Since 1976, Nichols has had three developers sniffing out whether the board would wish to sell the property, which is now worth far more than what the school district originally paid for it.

The properties were bought with 1973 bond issue money. If the district were to sell the land it is unclear for what the revenues could be legally used.

There is no assessed valuation for the property now because it is tax-exempt, as are all government-owned lands (33 percent of land in Northville Township is owned either by Wayne County, the schools or the state).

Since Northville township property has not been reassessed for several years, there seems to be no way to estimate how much the property may be worth now. A spokesman from the Wayne County assessor's office said there is no way to estimate the current market value of the property without examining it.

Board adopts senior class last-day policy

No longer will Northville High School seniors be allowed to get out days earlier than other students, The Northville Board of Education has decided.

The board adopted a policy which states that this June's graduating class will the last to get out several days before everyone else. The policy goes into effect July 1.

The policy reads: "The student calendar year for students in Grade 12 will be identical to that of all high school students. Commencement exercises for graduating seniors will be on or later than the last official class day for students..."

"It shall be the responsibility of the administration, faculty and students to plan the commencement exercises to reflect the dignity and significance of the occasion."

The policy was adopted April 28. The board also adopted two other policies which encourage board members and school staff to attend conferences and workshops.

One policy states that the board recognizes the benefit staff gets out of conferences and that "insofar as the finances of the district permit, encourages staff to participate in such conferences."

The other policy encourages board members to attend workshops and conferences, provided attendance arrangements are made through the superintendent's office, they report expenses and that information garnered at conferences should be shared with other board members.

The district pays for conference expenses, the policy states, but budget conditions may limit or curtail out-of-district conference attendance.

Superintendent Larry Nichols and Board President Karen Wilkinson recently attended a week-long national convention of school administrators in San Francisco.

Northville may host GOP in private homes

Northville may be housing some participants in this summer's Republican convention even though this city has no hotels.

Several private homeowners in Northville have offered to rent homes here during the convention, to provide private accommodation for those who cannot get reservations at hotels or motels.

For the six or seven homeowners who have volunteered, there so far have not been any takers. But Norma Laskey of the Civic Host Committee said as the convention nears there probably will be some who will take rooms in private homes here.

"Right now, the media, vendors, and some delegates' families who can't get into hotels are searching for private accommodation," Laskey said. "Most of them want to be downtown, in Indian Village or Lafayette Park. But as the convention approaches, I imagine more of them will look farther out of town."

Virtually every hotel and motel in the metro area has been scooped up for delegates and media who will invade Detroit in mid-July for the GOP convention.

Nearby Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington hotels will host delegates from the various states.

$5 million in grants approved

'Super Sewer' near implementation

In approximately 18 months five area communities — including Northville and Northville Township — will find out if they are to be included in what has come to be known as "super sewer."

Two federal grants awarded to the Wayne County Board of Public Works recently signify a big step toward implementation of the project which has been in the planning stages for some 20 years.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approved a grant of $811,765 for additional planning and a $4,859,500 grant for the preparation of plans and specifications for a major portion of the facilities, Wayne County Commissioner William Sullivan announced Friday.

Also, he said corresponding state grants totalling $378,090 are expected to be offered, likely within a week.

Sullivan, chairman of the Board of Public Works, said the total cost of the project is estimated at $200 million and will employ 2,000 workers for up to three years.

The city and township of Northville are among 16 communities in the service area of the proposed project which have executed agreements with the Wayne County DPW — coordinator of the project — whereby they will provide $2,131,000 in local funds to complete the project planning and design funding requirements.

Sullivan said planning and design studies will begin immediately and are scheduled for completion in November, 1981.

The EPA has indicated it believes the plan is the best plan for the communities south of Joy Road, but in July, 1979 recommended further studies of the northern communities, to study alternative wastewater control systems such as on-site treatment, local treatment, and possibly discharging into the Detroit Wastewater Treatment Plant before making a decision to discharge into the Huron Valley System.

The $811,765 grant was offered in connection with a $1,082,453 planning study which will include the additional facility planning for the five northern communities and the coordination of other facility plans with the Huron Valley Facility Plan, as recommended by the EPA.

The $4,859,500 grant was offered in connection with a $6,479,335 design program which will include the preparations and plans for a treatment plant which would serve the 11 southern communities.

The sewers are being sized to serve all 16 communities, but plans and specifications are being prepared for only those sewers that will be needed regardless of any decision made concerning the northern communities.

Except for the part of the plan still under study north of Joy Road, actual construction could begin in May, 1982 and the facilities could be operational by May, 1985, according to Duane Egeland, deputy managing director of the public works board.

Egeland, who has worked for the project since its inception, was very pleased with the grant approvals.

"This certainly is the high point of a project which hasn't had many high points," he told the audience which included mayors, supervisors and representatives of U.S. Senators Carl Levin and Donald W. Riegle, Jr. and spokesmen for Congressmen William D. Ford, from Taylor and John D. Dingell from Dearborn.

Firemen corral red hot flames

By MARK FABIAN

An early evening fire destroyed portions of the Pine Lumber Company complex in Brighton Sunday and forced firefighters to cut power to portions of the city when flames threatened high voltage wires.

Tentative estimates have placed the damage at about $150,000.

Two firefighters suffered minor injuries, said Brighton Fire Chief Mel Sanch, but no serious injuries were reported.

The complex had been closed when the fire broke out about 7:50 p.m.

Livingston County fire investigators were still searching the scene Monday for the origin of the blaze and whether arson was the cause.

Sanch said firefighters had to cut electrical power to some portions of the city when flames began climbing a pole holding high voltage wires. One line contained as much as 45,000 volts, he said.

The power outage lasted for about one hour and affected residents on the west side of the city and in the Brighton Mall area, Sanch said. He said he didn't think the wires had been damaged, but added that electric company workers were still inspecting them Monday.

The two-alarm fire was reported to authorities through an alarm system in the complex, the chief said, and also by a neighbor and a passerby.

About two-thirds of a building at the center of the complex was engulfed in flames when firefighters first arrived, he said.

Firefighters had difficulty in battling the blaze because of the intense heat and were forced to use high-pressure equipment to enable them to reach the fire.

Sanch said 49 men from the Brighton city fire department and 12 from the Brighton Township fire department fought the fire in the wood-frame building at 525 West Main Street.

The Howell fire department had also been requested but was away attending to another fire at the time, he said.

Trains were shut down while fire equipment had to be laid across the railroad tracks, he added.

Firefighters had the fire under control in about one hour, he said, but stayed on the scene for about 24 hours sifting the remains and extinguishing the smoldering ashes.

Two storage buildings also received minor damage, he said, in addition to an outside lumber rack. In all, about 1/2 of the complex was damaged, said Sanch.

Crumpton murder trial in Detroit in July

The many months of diagnostic testing and evaluation are over for Johnny Crumpton.

Charged with the first degree murder April 4, 1979 of Northville's Teckla Hamilton, the 31-year-old Detroit man's trial has been set for 9 a.m. July 2 at the Wayne County Circuit Court in Detroit.

Crumpton's attorney, James O'Connell, at the defendant's circuit court arraignment May 1 entered a plea of not guilty.

The former mental patient at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, who spent some nine months at the forensic center at Ypsilanti State Hospital, was found competent to stand trial January 17.

Judge James Garber of the 35th District Court March 3 tossed out two of three charges brought against Crumton — breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling and first degree murder in the commission of a felony — ruling there was not sufficient evidence to support the charges.

He upheld the first degree (premeditated) murder charge, however.

The accused, picked up by Northville police at a party store near the 81-year-old victim's home just after the stabbing, was taken to the forensic center following a district court ruling that he was not competent to stand trial.

Since that ruling was overturned, Crumpton has spent some time at the Wayne County Jail, as well as the forensic center.

If convicted, Crumpton could be sentenced to life in prison.

From Northville post

Police sergeant retires

State Police Sergeant James E. Belcher, 47, of the Northville post will retire this week after more than 23 years of service.

Belcher joined the department in May, 1957, serving first at Ypsilanti before transfer in 1962 to Wayland.

In 1969 he was promoted to detective at Detroit district headquarters, then was transferred the next year to the former East Lansing post with equal rank of corporal.

Belcher was transferred in 1971 to the Ypsilanti post where his rank was reallocated the same year to sergeant. In 1974 he was assigned to the former Detroit Redford township post which was moved in 1976 to Northville.

His departments credits include a citation for honorable mention, which he received for his part in burglary cases in 1960 in the Romulus area which led to three arrests.

Belcher was born in Holden, West Virginia and graduated from high school at Logan. He earned a bachelor of science degree from Madonna College in Livonia in 1979.

The retiring sergeant and his wife, Johnie, have five daughters.

Mary Jo Marburger, who was graduated from University of Michigan May 3 with a bachelor's degree in music education, is on a seven-state tour with the U-M Symphonic Band.

She left the day following graduation on the tour which includes stops in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee and Indiana.

Miss Marburger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Marburger of 20149 East Whipple.

A Northville High School graduate in the Class of 1976, she was accepted into the Michigan Marching Band as a freshman.

Last week's annual Red Cross blood drive held at the Presbyterian Church netted only 59 pints of the precious liquid — some 50 pints less than last year. Northville Jaycettes, who assisted in the program, said many former donors could not be reached and others had already given at other locations. Here, Fred Eagle of Livonia is attended by Isabel Tomaska, Red Cross worker and Northville volunteer Rita Turnbull.

They'll offer summer music

Schoolcraft College will host its 14th annual Summer Music School and Festival during July this summer.

According to its director, Dr. Richard Saunders, "the Summer Music School is open to anyone who can successfully pass the audition."

The assistant dean for fine arts at Schoolcraft said the school provides performance experiences in both symphonic and jazz studies.

Performance ensembles include band, orchestra and small and large jazz ensembles as well as a variety of chamber music groups.

The instructional staff is comprised of college music faculty, Detroit Symphony Orchestra members and well known jazz artists.

Dr. Daunders said two new members of the jazz faculty for this summer are Don Mayberry and Herbie Williams. Both are well-known in Detroit jazz circles and beyond.

Mayberry teaches bass and is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. He performed recently at Schoolcraft with the J. C. Heard Quartet.

Williams is a trumpet player who studied at Boston's Berkley School of Music and he records with Motown. He has performed with Sammy Davis, Jr., Ella Fitzgerald, Lena Horne and Tony Bennett.

The Symphonic Studies program will begin June 30 and end July 25 while the Jazz Studies activities will begin July 14 and continue through July 25.

Concerts by both faculty and students will be scheduled regularly throughout the month of July.

IT'S AS EASY as jumping off a bus, four-year-olds found last week when they tried out kindergarten in teacher Cathy Dicks' class at Moraine Elementary. Above left, Robert Clark finds bending orange construction paper a fine way to pass the time. At right, kids realize jumping off the bus is almost as fun as getting on for the first time.

Let's round up the kids

By ELLEN SPONSELLER

If you haven't set foot inside a kindergarten room in what seems like a couple hundred years, you may not believe this, but everything is the same as it has always been.

There is the alphabet that strings around the room above the blackboard, the beige out-of-tune school piano, those numbers on the walls. Colored flowers still bloom on bulletin boards above the play kitchen, wooden boat rocker, puzzles, blocks and books. And kids still eat and smear paste onto colored bits of construction paper.

There is something comforting about entering the world of a four-year-old on kindergarten orientation day.

Like four-year-olds from time eternal, the girls sit with pink dresses, patent leather shoes, hair in pigtails and bows. The boys have new jeans, fresh shirts, tidy shoes. All have nametags on, which look like potted plants with suckers stuck in them for flowers.

"I can tie and buckle my shoes, but only in the morning," Melinda brags to other young students at Moraine's

City sells former ambulance site

The city-owned site of the former ambulance headquarters was sold Monday to the highest of four bidders. Northville City Council voted unanimously to sell the property to Frank A. Bauss, 18245 Edenderry, based on his high bid of $31,101 cash. Bauss, who intends to develop multiple units on the land adjacent to Northville Laboratories, was the highest of four bidders. Other bidders included: Richard and Charlotte R. Zabell of 19250 Meadowbrook, $25,000; Ian M. Allen, 18862 Jamestown, $30,550; and Paul B. Newman, $25,145.70.

The latter two bids included six-percent commissions to brokers.

Council agreed with City Manager Steven Walters that the winning bidder was entitled to use the existing garages on the property for his development — provided they fit the site plan ultimately presented to the planning commission.

The house on the property was destroyed by fire and the damaged structure was razed.

In related action, council formally decided to advertise for sale the city-owned partial lot adjacent to the rear of the property at the Grace-Lake corner.

The 40'x66' site, council emphasized, is unbuildable. That fact, plus the stipulation that no variance is to be granted to permit and independent building, is to be part of the sales agreement. Presumably, however, a structure could be built if it becomes part of an adjacent parcel.

For all practical purposes, therefore, the site has viable uses for only adjacent property owners — unless, of course, someone simply wanted to use it as a garden or for some similar use, it was pointed out.

The land, bordering on an alley, has been appraised at $2,100.

No more jams

It's not yet official, but it's open. Once builders started constructing the new driveway off Eight Mile into Amerman Elementary school's parking lot, weather cooperated and the driveway was finished within a week. The Wayne County Road Commission still has to inspect the project but buses already are using the driveway to ease the traffic problem in the parking lot. This new driveway should relieve a lot of bus drivers' headaches — previously, buses had to enter and leave through the same narrow drive off Center.

HARTLAND — The school board here voted almost immediately to seek again in June the two-mill hike that was handily defeated by voters. The millage increase, earmarked to turn six class periods to the high school and to restore cuts, was defeated by a vote of 1,081-729.

BRIGHTON — Great Lakes Federal Savings cut its interest rate on conventional home loans from 17 to 15 percent. Other Livingston County lending institutions were expected to follow to some degree.

GREEN OAK — Duke has done it again. The canine friend of a township police officer, led police to a man hidden behind a tree, wearing nothing but his shoes and socks. A search had been launched by a father who said a naked man was outside looking into his daughter's bedroom. He has been charged with indecent exposure.

SOUTH LYON — South Lyon City Council accepted for consideration a proposed 1980-81 budget totalling $1,152,100 from City Manager Fred Yockey.

SOUTH LYON — Buoyed by the South Lyon City Council's plan to discuss possible consolidation with Lyon Township, the city's planning commissioners have voted to make overtures toward the township's planners for exchanging observers and agendas.

SOUTH LYON — Bill Dowsett, who spent a year in Iran where he, as an American, had nothing but good relations with the "common people," said he fully supports President Carter's rescue attempt. "I think a lot of the Iranians, shall we say, were happy to see (the rescue attempt) happen," said Dowsett, adding that even though it did not succeed the United States still "made a lot of points with (the Iranian) people."

NOVI — After 14 years on the Novi police force, Sergeant Dale Gross has turned in his badge to take up the ministry full-time. He has been serving part-time as pastor of a Milford Baptist church for the past four years. "I am at total peace with my decision," he said. "And though I'm taking a salary cut of more than 50 percent and will lose my pension benefits at the department, I have no doubts that I'm doing the right thing."

NOVI — Contract talks between the Novi police union and the city have broken down. After four lengthy sessions, the two groups broke off negotiations and entered mediation.

kindergarten orientation day Thursday.

"Well I can tie mine, myself, all the time," Stacy replies, carefully smearing paste on orange construction paper. "My sister's in the Brownies," says one tiny white-blond haired lass in plaid dress.

Teacher, lookit this. Teacher, lookit my work!

"I need more paste. Put your dress down Christine, everybody can see your underpants."

"The paste looks like cream cheese."

"I know where the garbage cans are — one by the bathroom, one by the sink, and one over there."

"If ya didn't get an invitation to my birthday party, then ya can't go."

With a saintly patience, teacher Cathy Dicks takes the four year olds through the motions of a day at kindergarten. The group cuts and pastes and washes their hands, sitting at knee-high octagon tables.

Students try out the school bus, jumping on, sitting in the seats, jumping off.

"They grow so much in a year," Ms. Dicks says. "we like to have this orientation so next year the kids won't be so scared."

All four elementary schools here had kindergarten round-up days last week for those children who will enter kindergarten in September.

Charlie comes home

Charlie the alligator, unofficial mascot of the USS North Carolina Battleship Memorial in Wilmington, North Carolina, has ended his winter hibernation and returned to the battleship.

First visitors to spot Charlie were Dr. and Mrs. Cardno and sons Robert and Andrew of Northville.

Shivering a bit in the mild weather, he is happy only when the temperature hovers around 90 degrees.

Charlie was all but invisible when the sharp eyed youngsters spied the amphibian's nose and tail barely protruding above the water.

Members of the ship's crew gathered around and, as usual, the annual debate began as to whether the gator was actually Charlie. Some said it was Charlie Jr. and others argued that it was Charlene, the frisky lady member of the trio.

All three alligators have adopted the battleship as their summer home.

At a public hearing in January, residents supported the residential rezoning proposal while Meijer and other property owners adamantly opposed it.

"We will be consistent with the planned revamping of our zoning ordinance," William Bohan, planning commission vice-chairman said of the planners' latest action.

In other action planners voted to retain the B-1 zoning on Five Mile between Tanger School and Northville Forest Apartments and recommended rezoning from B-2 to OS-1 a land parcel (approximately 13 acres) located on the north side of Six Mile at Winchester.

(Township trustees have been negotiating informally with owners of the Winchester property, hoping to purchase a portion or all of it for possible township civic center expansion. This could be accomplished under residential or office service zoning).

Jeffery Orley, representing Elro Corporation — owner of the major portion of the Winchester property — was not pleased with the recommendation.

"At the time we bought this land it was zoned commercial," he stated. "We object to the rezoning from commercial."

Planners said they felt because of the residential character of the area office service would be a more desirable zoning.

"Even though the property was zoned commercial for many years," said Commissioner Bernard Baldwin, "there have been a number of changes over the years and now commercial would not be appropriate at that location."

Police Blotter

Several injured in crash

A 14-year-old Northville Township resident suffered a fractured skull and several others also seriously hurt in a three-vehicle crash on Eight Mile at Haggerty April 30, township police reported.

Scott Cambra, 41805 Banbury was one of eight persons in a vehicle traveling southbound on Haggerty, approaching Eight Mile, when it was broadsided by a truck trailer eastbound on Eight Mile which ran a red traffic light, police said.

Others injured include Jemima Rothermel, 42370 Norham (driver of the vehicle); her son Russel, 11; Tracy McComb, 41669 Sunnydale; Kathryn Towalski, 41832 Ladywood; Karen Morgan, 42531 Ravina; and Shiela Worden, 42072 Sunnydale.

The driver and passenger of a third vehicle — which was struck by the Rothermel vehicle after the truck collided with it — were not injured, police said.

The driver of the semi, Leonard Thompson of Fairfield, Connecticut told police an air leak in the trailer's brakes had caused him to turn into a ditch earlier in the day.

He said he was on his way to get the brakes repaired.

Thompson said he tried to use the brakes and swerved and also attempted to jackknife the trailer to stop it, but could not.

He was issued a citation for reckless driving.

The Rothermel youth was reported in stable condition at Botsford Hospital, while the Cambra youth was stable at Detroit Children's Hospital, police said.

All other injured persons were treated and released from Botsford. Police are investigating the accident.

Three Plymouth township youths were arrested April 30 in connection with a breaking and entering at the Highland Lakes Laundromat on Seven Mile, township police reported.

Keith Kinnel, 18, Randy Smith, 17, and a 16-year-old man allegedly pried open the rear door of the business, took money from the office and broke into a number of change machines and coin boxes, police said.

Police have recovered $450 in bills and coins.

Preliminary examination is set for May 12 at 9 a.m. at the 35th District Court.

Two men were hospitalized following a brawl May 1 in the parking lot across from the Winner's Circle Bar May 1, city police reported.

Daniel Lister of Farmington Hills suffered a three-inch scalp cut as the result of being hit with a wooden board approximately eight feet long.

Gary Renaud of Canton was unconscious for a short time after being hit and kicked numerous times in the chest and head by at least two assailants, police said.

Seven men were involved in the fight, police said, which apparently resulted from a dispute over a five-dollar bet on a pool game at the bar.

The incident is under investigation and police said warrants may be issued for felonious assault and assault and battery.

Apparently feeling guilty about the crime, an unknown person has returned a balance taken April 28 from the keeps turning nostalgically, but has never been used to generate operational power.

The building was converted from a woodworking operation, turning out Model T and tractor valves. The present building was constructed in 1936.

"Some of the oldest employees used to tell of talking with Ford who used to like to come here," Hellow mentions.

Ducks also soon found the mill race a pleasant stopping spot — especially since workers and local residents began feeding them.

Eventually, feed for the ducks reportedly became an item written into the plant budget, giving the plant yet another distinction.

It's not exactly minimal either. Hellow says the yard maintenance man scatters two to four bags of feed daily.

In addition to the wildfowl that settle happily on the grounds, the duck population has been swelled with unwanted domesticated feathered friends that have grown too big to be pets. Hellow noticed an increase after Easter.

Big geese and other unidentified types have joined the Mallards in the warm sun.

The increase isn't over yet. Hellow knows there are at least two nests on the property with half a dozen eggs each.

City proclaims arts festival month

In preparation for the Very Special Arts Festival May 17, May has been proclaimed as "Very Special Arts Festival Month" in the city of Livonia.

Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara issued the proclamation Friday at a reception at Livonia City Hall.

Students from Northville's Institutions' Special Education Program (ISEP) will participate in the festival at Bryant school in Livonia.

Northville was selected as one of nine sites across the state to host a second annual festival. Handicapped students from northwest Wayne County and all of Oakland County will display their work at Bryant.

Though Bryant school is in Livonia, it is part of the Northville school district.

The arts festival, featuring all kinds of art-work done by the mentally and emotionally impaired, will be on display on May 17 at Bryant School, 18000 Merriman, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. It is open to the public.

STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF OAKLAND

CASE NO. 204812

In the matter of the petition of the City of Novi for condemnation of private property for paving of West Road from Wixom city limits to Pontiac Trail, in the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan

PETITION AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

NOW COMES LAMPERT, FRIED & LEVITT, P.C., as attorneys for and in behalf of and the specific direction of the City of Novi, and respectfully shows onto this Honorable Court

1. That the City of Novi is duly appointed, qualified and acting pursuant to Act 295, of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1966 as amended

2. That under the provisions of the said Act No. 295, Public Acts of 1966, as amended, your petitioner, the City of Novi, is vested with full charge and control of the roads built or maintained by the City of Novi and has the power and authority to acquire lands in the manner provided by law for highway purposes.

3. That the paving of West Road, from Wixom city limits to Pontiac Trail, in the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, is under the direction, control and supervision of the City of Novi.

4. That on the 28th day of April, A.D., 1980, a Declaration of Taking was made by the petitioner, City of Novi, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, declaring a certain road improvement to be necessary for the use and benefit of the public, to-wit: the laying out, establishing and constructing of West Road in and through the City of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, as a highway with necessary drainage and related work, extending from Wixom city limits to Pontiac Trail, and declaring that it is necessary to take certain private property therein fully and accurately described, to accomplish such public improvement.

5. That this petition is made and filed under the provisions of Act 295, Public Acts of 1966, and to acquire the private property and property rights set forth in detail in the Declaration of Taking attached hereto and made a part hereof. Said Declaration of Taking contains, in addition thereto, the names of the parties having an interest in the property described therein, insofar as petitioner can ascertain, and the amount of just compensation estimated for the taking of said property.

6. That the property in this case involves a part taking, that is, that only a portion of the owners' total property is required and taken for highway and public utility purposes.

7. That the public improvement for which property is being taken from these properties is the paving, grading, drainage and slope work of West Road from Wixom city limits to Pontiac Trail.

8. That petitioner claims that there will be enhancement in value to the remainder of this parcel by virtue of the paving of West Road.

9. That the said highway improvement is necessary for the use and benefit of the public and the taking of private property described in the Declaration of Taking is necessary for the use and benefit of the public as herein pleaded and stated by your petitioner.

WHEREFORE, YOUR PETITIONER PRAYS THAT THE COURT:

1. Enter an order fixing a day for hearing upon which the Court shall enter the default of all persons interested in the property described who have not appeared and, if the default of all the parties interested in this parcel of land is entered, shall enter judgment and direct payment to such persons of the sum stated in the Declaration of Taking for the taking of the said parcel of property in which they are interested.

2. On the day fixed for the hearing, enter an order fixing a definite date upon which the parties interested in the real estate described in this cause shall relinquish physical possession thereof to the petitioner, the City of Novi.

3. If the amount of the estimated just compensation is being contested, set a date certain for the impaneling of a jury of freeholders for the County of Oakland from the regular panel of petit jurors summoned to serve at that term of Court then in session, as provided in Act 295 of the Public Acts of the State of Michigan for the year 1966, which jury shall be for the purpose of ascertaining and determining the just compensation to be paid for the taking.

4. The petitioner may have any other further relief to which it may be entitled within the objects of the statute in such case made and provided.

City to purchase new cash register

Purchase of a $4,140 cash register was approved by Northville City Council Monday.

Council awarded the contract to Sales Control Systems, Inc. of Southfield for its Sweda unit after it was determined that the apparent low bidder, Merchants Cash Register Company, had proposed a unit that failed to meet specifications.

Sales Control came in with the second low bid — $3,890 base, plus a $250 cost for optional extra keys.

Merchants' bid was $2,399.

The two other bidders were U.S. Data Micros, $4,135.50 plus $400 for the optional extra keys; and Great Lakes Cash Registers, $5,216 with no additional charge for the optional extra keys.

Three other optional items quoted by the bidders were determined by city officials as being unnecessary. These included a second cash drawer, a second drawer with four check insertion slots, and a rear amount & transaction display.

The new cash register is to be located at the city hall. The existing one is being sold.

Immediate delivery of the new cash register is expected.

both complexes. The rezoning is tied to the zoning of the area west of the stream to the City for park purposes.

Mrs. Jane Martin, 1022 Allen Drive, commented she could not stop them from building but she hoped they would cut down trees and that the buildings would be in good taste.

Mayor Vernon explained the developers would have to present a site plan to the Planning Commission for review and acceptance.

There being no other comments from the audience, Mayor Vernon closed the Public Hearing and asked for any comments from Council.

Councilman DeRusha noted it had been discussed on other occasions since they first sent it to the Planning Commission for their consideration. They had recommended it be zoned from R-1 to R-3. He commented he likes the idea that the whole lot is being used for one density and the owners have made an offer to the City he does not think they can refuse, in terms of the park dedication.

Mayor Vernon commented on the suggestion the City will be in violation by the rezoning of the property on the stream. He mentioned the owners could build residential homes in there instead. He also mentioned they could build the apartments on the east side of the stream and residential homes on the west side of the stream if that were permitted there would be a greater density than what is now proposed.

Councilman Johnston mentioned he feels it is a protection to the people who live there that no more homes can go up in the area west of the stream.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Johnston to rezone from R-1 to R-3, that part of SE 1/4 of Section 34 lying west of the Rouge River and north of Novi Road — Benicki & Krue property.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ARTICLE 2, ZONING DISTRICTS AND MAPPING INTERPRETATION OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE, SECTION 2-12, ITEM 1 AND SECTION 2-12, ITEM 2.

The City Clerk read the notice as published.

Mayor Vernon opened the Public Hearing and asked for any comments, there being none, he closed the Public Hearing.

He asked for comments from Council.

Mayor Vernon stated the ordinance had been carefully reviewed at the last meeting.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman Johnston to adopt an Ordinance to Amend Article 2, Zoning Districts and Mapping Interpretation of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, item 2-12, and item 2-13.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND TITLE 2, CHAPTER 11, CITY ELECTIONS, SECTION 2-1102 ESTABLISHING VOTING PRECINCTS.

The City Clerk read the notice as published.

Mayor Vernon opened the Public Hearing and asked for any comments, there being none, he closed the Public Hearing.

He asked Council for comments.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Johnston to adopt an Ordinance to Amend Title 2, Chapter 11, City Elections, Section 2-1102 Establishing Voting Precincts.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

AUDIT RENEWAL — PLANTE & MORAN Communication from Plante & Moran requesting appointment as independent auditors of the City for the year ended June 30, 1980.

In addition to the regular audit this year, the City is required to have a special legal compliance audit for the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund.

Mr. Ken Kunkel, Plante & Moran, stated the special audit is just a legal compliance and explained it is required every three years. The Federal government has required this be done.

Mr. Kunkel mentioned the budget is tight but it is being managed fine. He also commented that with the cloud on what the City is getting from the State, we are coming into a budget year where it is difficult to project.

He commented on the favorable interest rate received on the DDA bonds or an indication of the City's good financial condition.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Johnston to retain Plante & Moran as independent auditors for the year ended June 30, 1980.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

BASELINE - CARPENTER SITE Communication from Mark Horning, Recreation Planner, and his evaluation of site as a potential park. It was his finding that a recreational deficiency did exist and the development of the Baseline - Carpenter site as a neighborhood playlot would partially meet the needs.

Mayor Vernon mentioned he had taken another look at Ford Field and still thinks the space is adequate, however, he was inclined to agree it was not a practical location. He stated he had looked for other sites and satisfied himself that there were no others in the area. He had also satisfied his concerns that it is a valuable piece of property.

Based on his analysis, he is ready to ask for a motion to dedicate the Carpenter - Baseline Site as a park. It is a logical request.

Councilman Johnston commented on the helpful review of the area prepared by Mr. Horning. He mentioned Recreation has a copy of Mr. Horning's draft of programs. His recommendations will deal quite thoroughly with acquisition of future land as far as recreation is concerned.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman Johnston to adopt a resolution that the area be dedicated as a park.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Mayor Vernon stated he appreciated the interest and concern shown in their community and commended the Cabbage Association for it.

Mr. Totten thanked Council Meeting recessed at 9:25 p.m. and reconvened at 9:35 p.m.

NORTHVILLE ARTS COMMISSION Communication from Cheryl B. Gazlay re statement to research the need for and functions of a fine arts program.

Mayor Vernon explained most communities have a commission and Cheryl Gazlay was asked if she would come up with suggestions which she has in the form of recommendations.

Motion by Councilman Johnston to answer any questions Council might have.

Councilman Johnston thought it was an excellent idea and asked if the commission would actually promote programs.

Mrs. Gazlay stated the Commission would handle projects, set up and follow through.

The City Manager mentioned there is State funding available for this type of program. He added he would not suggest establishing the commission by ordinance but rather by resolution. The ordinance would restrict appointments to the City only and thought perhaps it should be looked at as a community-wide body.

The City Attorney stated there would have to be some official position by City Council and that he would take a look at the Charter to see if it is covered in there.

The City Attorney suggested adopting a resolution creating the commission and some specific by-laws such as the library operated under.

Councilwoman Ayers asked Mrs. Gazlay if she would coordinate the commission with the schools.

Mrs. Gazlay mentioned this would supplement it.

Councilman Johnston suggested having a community arts calendar type of promotion.

Councilman Johnston asked the City Attorney if a resolution were needed to create the commission before they have funding.

The City Attorney suggested Council allow him to come back at the next meeting with a resolution on this.

Mayor Vernon directed the City Attorney to do so.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT - Revision to Building Department City / Township Agreement.

Communication from the Township re revision and a recommendation of actions to be given evaluation as follows:

Correction of the basic agreement provided for a minimum of 15% and maximum of 20% of the actual Building Department as provided through collection of fees. The annual expense used to compute not to exceed $48,000 for fiscal year.

They asked if be reviewed and a confirmation be made.

He also mentioned considering the CBD zoning or a modified CBD. Side lots you would want to require. He suggested a modified "CBD 1" allowing present CBD uses but requiring GCD yard spaces.

Councilwoman Ayers mentioned examples of older homes that were improved with businesses in them, i.e., Bedspread Place, Gallery of Flowers, McAllisters, which seem to be successful.

Councilman Johnston remarked that it would require two lots to satisfy the parking. He felt this problem would always be there and acquisition of land might be too expensive.

Councilman DeRusha commented this is an outgrowth of the Planning Commission's change in the Master Plan for that area.

Councilman Johnston mentioned that the City were holding their property knowing it was commercial.

Councilman DeRusha stated the Planning Commission and the City Council should give no consideration as to whether we increase or decrease the property values by zoning decisions.

Councilwoman Ayers mentioned one of the women in the audience was concerned with the lights and asked how the parking would affect her rear yard rather than what is actually there.

Discussion followed on the different zonings.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Johnston to table action on the Planning Commission recommendation to rezone from GCD

Geake opposes 4 a.m. drinks

Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) has expressed strong opposition to legislation that would extend the bar closing time in Michigan to 4 a.m.

"I don't think there is any need for it, and based upon the many letters and telephone calls I have received, the people in my district don't think it's necessary either," Geake said. "In fact, I haven't heard from any of the bar owners in the area supporting the bill."

"Possibly if the legislation is passed, it would provide a hardship on bar owners in small communities because the people would go to the larger cities to drink."

The measure, which already has passed the house and is now before the senate, would allow any county in Michigan to permit a 4 a.m. bar closing if the county contributes $2,500 to a state-recognized convention bureau and the individual bar owner meets other specified regulations.

Our opinions

The 16-acre parcel currently stands vacant

Convenient for whom?

While we agree with some of the recent zoning recommendations of the Northville Township Planning Commission, we strongly disagree with the planners' recommendation to rezone 16 acres of land at Six Mile and Sheldon for a so-called "convenient shopping center."

In our opinion the need for this proposed center, now or in the future, is questionable. Furthermore, the 16-acre site suggests to us that this development will be a good deal larger than what most people envision as a neighborhood convenient center.

The site is located less than two miles from the township's two Seven Mile shopping centers and a mile from the city's central business district — hardly an inconvenient distance for shoppers to travel from the planned subdivision adjacent to the site.

Frankly, we think some planners, in this instance, may have been more impressed by the request in hand than by sound planning judgment. Whether or not the developer is reputable and likely to build an attractive center should not be a criterion for rezoning or in deciding where a center should be located.

Similarly, we suspect that planners considered only the specific request and did not use either good planning or common sense in accepting the size of the site to be rezoned. Does the township or does the developer decide what is meant by "convenient" center?

Its size — 16.38 acres — is three-quarters the size of the city's entire central business district. It is one-third the size of all the land area of the entire township designated business as of December 1978. It is nearly 12 times the size of the city's convenient shopping center at Novi Road and Allen Drive. And it is several acres larger than either of the two township shopping centers on Seven Mile.

Planners, we believe, should reexamine their definition of a "convenient center." The updated master plan suggests the kinds of stores and shops that might be termed "convenient" but makes no reference to size. Conceivably, a proposal for a 32-acre or even a 50-acre shopping center might fit the present "convenient" definition.

Hopefully, the township board will recognize the illogic in the size and location of the Six Mile-Sheldon rezoning request and deny the petition.

Attack misdirected

Critical points raised by Senator Geake's column and by the clerks' letter to the editor about the Michigan presidential primary election are valid. But we are disappointed because what the clerks proposal suggests no constructive alternative — but rather it follows the old line about tossing out the baby with the wash water.

Popularity poll or not, the presidential primary — despite its many flaws — is a good deal better than the cloakroom farce to which the Michigan Democratic Party has reverted this year.

Among the municipal clerks (not all Michigan clerks share their cohorts' views) who attack the governor for fiscal irresponsibility, somehow blaming him for the primary's weaknesses, are those who fail to practice what they preach in their own bailiwicks.

Abolishing the primary is no solution...and that is the point the governor and others are making in what some clerks purposely would have you believe is a self-interest fight. Strengthen the primary, eliminate the weaknesses pointed out by Geake and the clerks. Yes, write your legislators, but not to ask for abolishment; the court will decide that question. Write to insist that they revise and improve the primary law.

Speaking for Myself

College: worth the cost?

SCOTT LAPHAM

YES

Statistics have shown that in the general job market those who enter the market early will earn more money than those in college over the first 10 years or so.

After this period, those with college degrees will begin to surpass those without and continue to earn more throughout their working lives.

Therefore, in the dollar sense — or money sense — college is worth it.

It has helped me in my career. I am in the insurance business and my degrees are in economics (bachelor's) and finance (master's).

I deal with corporations all the time and have to communicate with them on a business level. My degrees are a real aid in this area.

I think college is an individual thing.

Some people don't need it. But others can't even get into the field they want without one or two degrees.

And some have earned a degree that they can't use. I know people with degrees who are pushing a broom.

But I think it is an advantage to have a degree.

For me, the exposure to business I had in school was particularly beneficial.

Daley Hill
Northville

NO

I tried college for two months and it just wasn't for me.

I took "Introduction to Business" and what they were teaching was too broad a spectrum. I have been working full-time in the store (a clothing shop in Northville) for seven years and it seemed like I knew more than the teacher.

Of course it depends on your job.

I think anyone going into a profession like a doctor, lawyer, or engineer has to have the formal education to learn the job.

But in a business like ours you learn by the seat of your pants instead of from an instructor. It's got to grow on you.

Some friends of mine went to school just for the fun of it. For something to do.

I am not against college but it is a waste of time and money if someone goes just to have fun.

I think life is too short to just hang around.

To run a clothing store you have to be everything from a plumber to a tailor.

I have learned a great deal on the job, mainly from my dad.

And I couldn't ask for a better teacher.

I have seen other bosses — and some teachers — that don't take the time or have the patience to teach their employees the business.

But my dad has been great.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

My sympathy goes out to Rosie Ruiz who has lost the Boston Marathon women's title because officials say she did not run the entire course. The defrocking reminds us that moments of glory are short-lived.

At another time, another place a third-string miler for the state's now powerful Beecher High School track team was three-quarters through the season without having run a single race.

"Maybe next time," his coach said again as the milers lined up in a triangular meet — the most important of the year. So on the sideline, on the outside of the track, he prepared to pace the contestants through the first quarter mile.

Some days even the poorest athletes shine. By the end of the quarter, he was yards ahead of the pack despite the fact he was running a longer distance in the grass in tennis shoes. At the half-mile point his lead had increased and, suddenly, fans were cheering him and not the contestants as he dodged behind the grandstands and came out on the opposite side running even closer to the track.

He interpreted the shouts of his coach as encouragement and in the excitement he crossed onto the track itself. Amazingly, he was not winded; his legs churned faster and his lead increased as he lapped one of the contestants.

By now his coach was slamming his cap on the ground, his shouts lost in the screams of the unbelieving people who pressed closer to the edge of the track to see a record run in the making.

In his moment of glory the non-contestant steamed through the finish string a full quarter mile in front of the closest official runner. The frenzied crowd screamed, fellow athletes mobbed him and his coach nearly broke a toe kicking the ground.

Beecher's official entry was disqualified, the conference shattering mile never made it to the record book, and the third-stringer was sent to the showers to await the tongue-lashing.

But even an embarrassed coach has second thoughts. The defrocked miler started the next meet. He finished last — the first and last time he would run officially.

Republican Primary: 'A farce at public expense'

To the Editor:

As plaintiffs in the Presidential Primary action against the State of Michigan, Secretary of State and Treasurer, we feel that our comments to the public are very appropriate at this time.

We, the clerks and election officials of the State of Michigan, are not opposed to conducting elections, it is a very important part of our jobs. We believe the people of our communities should have a very large voice in electing the people who represent them at every level of government — including the president of the United States! What we don't believe in is conducting a farce at public expense — and that is exactly what the so-called Presidential Preferential Primary is in Michigan!

Contrary to the media coverage that our concern in filing this lawsuit was the reimbursement to our communities of 100 percent of the cost (this is a mafor interest but not the main one), we feel that when the people get a voice in this matter we will be doing our job of conducting an election! We are not judges in beauty contests or popularity polls and we, the clerks of Michigan, are opposed to wasting the money of our communities and our state on such trite issues.

Contrary to public opinion, "Convention Delegates" who will choose the candidate for president in their respective parties are not chosen by the public when they cast their vote in the May Primary. These delegates are chosen by the parties in their caucuses. The average voter really does not have a voice or a choice in the candidates for president of our country whether or not they participate in a presidential primary in Michigan.

In the states where the earlier presidential primaries are held, there is a large field of candidates running. But, by the time Michigan's primary comes about in May, the field of candidates has narrowed so much that the people of Michigan really do not have a choice of candidates to choose from.

In 1972 and 1976, those same election officials who are involved in the present litigation with the state, were assured by some members of the State Legislature that a new primary law would be forthcoming, one which would meet the requirements of both major political parties and be structured! The Michigan primary is not even considered important enough to be mentioned on the national news because it has no structure.

There is no interest by the voting public in Michigan's Presidential Preferential Primary — this has been proven over the past by the low voter participation. The candidates are not spending any time or money to influence the average Michigan voter because it is now a foregone conclusion that "they" have it sewed up!

We have tried to convince some of your elected officials in Lansing of these facts, and asked them to practice some financial responsibility. When the House of Representatives passed a bill to abolish the primary in Michigan and sent it to the Senate Elections Committee, it got tabled under the threat of veto by the governor if it was passed. If this committee would report the bill out and put it on the floor for a vote, they would be practicing some fiscal responsibility. If it passed and was laid on the governor's desk for signature, the legislature would be acting in a responsible manner. Then if the governor chose to veto and we have been told he has threatened to do just that, the legislature would still be acting in a responsible manner and we would know that the governor is looking for the favorite son nomination of his party when they bring their convention to Detroit in July. That's really where the "people's" choice of a candidate will be chosen.

We would like the governor to answer to the people of Michigan and explain to the many senior citizens who cannot make ends meet, the families who are out of work and barely surviving on unemployment and welfare, the Pontiac school children who are faced with less than a full year of education, and all of the people of Michigan who are struggling with the highest inflation rate in history, etc., for higher taxes to cover his frivolous popularity contest. How can public officials like him tell everyone else to tighten their belts but insist on this unneeded popularity poll at our expense?

You, the voting public of the state of Michigan, should begin to put the pressure on your legislators to stand up and be counted. But the bill to abolish the primary on the governor's desk and let Bill Milliker answer to we, the people!

Too many shopping centers

To the Editor:

Someone should nominate the taxpayers of Northville Township for J. P. McCarthy's "Losers of the Day" award, and also nominate Kenneth McLarty, William Bohan, Marvin Gans and J. Bowlby, of the Township Planning Commission for a Golden Fleece Award. These gentlemen voted to make a recommendation to the township board to rezone 16.3 acres on the northwest corner of Sheldon Road and Six Mile from residential to general business. This was done in spite of a crowded room of protesting residents from all areas of the township.

Isn't it amazing these gentlemen had the foresight to choose this area only 1.4 miles from the Northville Square Mall, which did not survive and stood vacant for a long time; 1.4 miles from downtown shopping area; 1.6 miles from the shopping center at Northville Road and Seven Mile; 2 miles from the second area on Seven Mile Road; .5 miles to a convenient party store (which I believe is not even too far to walk) at Six Mile and Northville roads; and 1.6 to the Northville Party Store at Seven Mile and Northville Road.

This proposed shopping area also will be located on one of the most dangerous roads in the township.

If the planning commission feels that the township really needs another shopping center to service the new developments west of Sheldon, which I might add, have not even been started yet, it would make sense that they be located on the western edge of these areas rather than the eastern edge which is over-encumbered with shopping areas.

I strongly urge the taxpayers of the township to oppose this recommendation. We do not want or need another shopping center in this area. Start immediately to let the township board know your feelings in regard to another shopping center. If this goes through I think it might be wise to have the planning commission change our name from Northville Township to Canton-North or Livonia West.

Four shopping centers in a two mile area is ridiculous.

There is a tentative time when the board will or will not accept this recommendation. It should be at the June 10th township board meeting.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

Will there be or won't there be a Michigan presidential primary election on May 20? This is the question.

As of today, there will be. But the prospects of a presidential primary taking place in our state this year grow dimmer with each passing day.

Efforts to repeal the presidential primary election have been revived in the Michigan Legislature.

As you will recall, the house voted in June of 1979 to repeal the open primary election in Michigan, but the senate countered with legislation calling for a "closed" primary whereby voters would have to declare their party preference before voting. The legislature has left the issue in a stalemate since that time.

As a result, the Michigan Democratic Party opted to follow the mandated rules of its national organization by selecting convention delegates committed to certain presidential candidates in party caucuses. This they did two weeks ago.

Now with the May 20 primary meaningless for Michigan Democrats, renewed efforts are underway in the Democratic-controlled legislature to do away with the primary. Such action would then force Republicans to also choose their convention delegates by caucus process.

In addition, a lawsuit has been filed in an effort to kill the Michigan primary. That legal battle presently is before the Michigan Court of Appeals — but the process for conducting a presidential primary continues pending a court decision.

While I believe in the basic right of people to vote and express their preference for whom will represent them at all levels of government, I question what effect a presidential primary in Michigan will have this year given the current set of circumstances.

With no Democratic primary, Michigan Democrats could then go to the polls and cast a "cross over" vote in the Republican primary for the candidate they might think would be the weakest candidate to oppose the Democratic presidential nominee. This would unfairly reflect the Republicans' real presidential nominee preference.

With the Michigan presidential primary not being held until the late date of May 20, citizens voting Republican do not have the opportunity to make a real choice for their presidential nominees. Because of early primaries in small states and the extensive national media coverage they generated, Michigan voters already have been denied the chance to vote for several candidates who sought the Republican presidential nomination.

And finally, because of the current circumstances, and in light of Michigan's serious financial situation, I cannot justify spending nearly $3 million of state funds to pay for the 1980 presidential primary.

We're in Northville, too

To the Editor:

I live in Bealtown.

What is Bealtown? Is it a separate city, like Highland Park, surrounded and engulfed by another? No; believe it or not, Bealtown is part of Northville.

Many people do not seem aware of this. The city government appears to think of Bealtown only when it thinks of zoning changes, which is frequently. Someday they'll decide. The city newspaper seems to think of it as a pseudo-slum. When someone paints their house in Bealtown a picture makes the front page.

The truth is, the Bealtown section of Northville is as nice an area as any in the city. The streets are shaded by large old trees. The residents are human. The houses are old and proud.

The Bealtown section deserves the same designation as the arbitrarily defined "historic district" of Northville. The houses are as old as many others in the city, and some are architecturally more interesting. Many are being restored. Many more need to be. But the character of the neighborhood is changing, and people are slowly discovering that beneath the asbestos and aluminum siding there lies a wealth of lovely wood, and that beneath the paint and paper there is unexpected oak and walnut.

Some lots are eyesores. Does Northville have ordinances concerning the upkeep of property and the type of refuse a person may have on their lots? If so, why has the city not cracked down on those property owners in Bealtown who continue to let their lots slide? Practices are allowed in Bealtown that would never be allowed in "Northville."

Bealtown has been neglected, but it is slowly making a comeback. It deserves to. The residents take pride in their houses and are steadily improving them. In time, the area will resemble the historic district as a reflection of Northville charm and Victorian timelessness. But it needs encouragement. It needs a city administration that will recognize it as an integral and genuine section of the City of Northville. It needs to be treated like the rest of the city. Bealtown is not on the wrong side of the tracks. It is merely on the other side of the race track.

Expect biggest horse show here

"If you don't think this is horse country, take a look at the early response to our show coming up in three weeks," says David Ryan.

Registrations for the annual ASHAM-Kiwanis Horse Show already are flowing in, says the Kiwanis Club chairman of the show scheduled Memorial Day weekend (May 23-25), "and early indications suggest the cost of gas hasn't diminished 'horse power'."

Ryan, secretary of the club, cites several reasons why Kiwanians and the American Saddle Horse Association of Michigan (ASHAM) are predicting this year's show may be the largest of its kind and perhaps the most successful in Michigan this year.

"The depressed economy," he explains "may actually help us (show sponsors) because horsemen find it more economically advantageous to enter 'closer to home' shows. It takes a lot less gas to drive to Northville than truck horses to Kentucky or Pennsylvania shows."

For the same reason, Kiwanians also are anticipating a larger turnout of spectators who can "enjoy a weekend of good entertainment here" without filling the car with gas for a drive to another city or state.

Another local attraction for horsemen is that more and better prizes are being offered here this year, adds Ryan. Besides support by sponsoring businesses for individual class competition, the Northville show has qualified for financial assistance through Michigan's county fair program, he points out.

"Reputation is obviously a big factor. People throughout the Midwest know about our show now; many of them have been here, they know the facilities at Northville Downs are the finest in the state, and they know it's one of the finest horse shows in Michigan. There's prestige in competing and winning here."

"The other big thing is that they know this is a 'benefit' show. Nobody's pocketing any money. Every cent we make goes for civic or charitable projects."

"It helps us aid Allen Terrace where we built a library for senior citizens; it helps us provide recreation for local physically and mentally handicapped children; it helps us provide speech therapy for children; it helps us assist local children who enter Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. There's hardly a segment of Northville which hasn't benefited from Kiwanis involvement of time and money."

While Ryan concentrates his efforts on the show itself, other Kiwanians are planning related activities.

Ray Casterline, for example, is determined to revive the spirit of the old "PTA" children's carnivals that he and others enjoyed as youngsters here.

"We're going to provide games and booths under the Downs grandstands during the horse show," he says. "Cake walk, ring toss, that kind of thing. Inexpensive but fun...that's our goal."

Actually, the Kiwanis Club isn't sponsoring the individual booths. It's providing the space for other organizations to sponsor booths.

"Other local groups" explains, Casterline, "will make the booth choices and operate them; they'll keep all monies they raise for their own benefit projects."

Casterline says a half-dozen groups already have signed up and still others are expected to do so. "But we've got plenty of room for others. If there's a church group, a civic or fraternal organization wishing to participate all they have to do is call me...but they must call soon." His telephone numbers are 349-0611 (business) and 349-1237 (home).

What else is in the works? "Lots," says Ryan. "Have you ever eaten John Genitti's Italian sausage? He made up several hundred pounds of it for last year's show and we ran out. A guy up in Saginaw drove all the way to Northville to buy it; he and hundreds of others will be back this year."

"John, our sausage man, won't disappoint them; he's already stuffing."

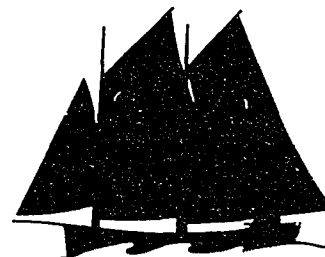

Schulz wins forensic honor

Northville High School took home a trophy from the state forensics tournament Saturday in Ann Arbor.

Kelly Schulz, an NHS senior, took sixth place in the state in her category of serious interpretation.

She was the only representative of Northville to make it to the state meet where she competed with 230 students from across the state.

Kelly survived through four rounds of competition including the final, in which she garnered her sixth place win.

Kelly Schulz sings

Northville high senior invited to join aMaizin' Blues at U-M

"Come in from the Rain" is the most-requested song in the repertoire of Northville vocalist Kelly Schulz.

Kelly in Junior Miss Contest

Right now there isn't much rain in the life of the Northville High School senior who plans to enter the University of Michigan this fall after graduating with honors here next month.

Not only has the show singer been accepted into the U-M School of Literature, Science and the Arts where she plans to enter the communication field, but she's won a place in the popular aMaizin' Blues touring student musical organization.

This talented show choir, always attired in the maize and blue school colors, entertains from coast to coast under the auspices of the U-M Alumni Association in cooperation with the School of Music.

Earlier this year Kelly auditioned with some 80 others and was told there would be call-backs. When she received no notice, she assumed she had no chance. After all, she was not yet even a freshman.

Then the call came: "You're not getting a call-back, you're in — come meet the gang."

Last Wednesday she did. The singing group of eight men and eight women, she reports, is being expanded to 12 and 12.

As a member of the group she will be dancing as well as singing everything from Broadway hits to jazz, rock and

Kelly Schulz: singer with a future ballads. The aMaizin' Blues, she's been told, rehearse six hours weekly during the October to April concert season.

An alto, Kelly has had no formal musical training but already has lots of experience.

She sang for two years with the Northville High School jazz band, accompanying the group to Jamaica where she was featured vocalist. She will be returning for the second summer as vocalist at the Key Club of Brownwood Acres Restaurant at Central Lake.

Last November Kelly became runner-up in the Northville Junior Miss Competition.

She has sung for area church and civic groups, most recently performing at the benefit concert of the Northville Community Band.

"She's just too good to be true," comments high school counselor Alta Olson of the graduating senior who attended Northville schools from kindergarten on through high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schulz of 47010 West Main.

She has maintained about a 3.8 grade point average while singing and participating in forensics.

Last Saturday she was in state forensics competition after winning first in regionals for serious reading.

That was satisfying, but what's ahead looks like days of sunshine for the tall, slim vocalist.

The aMaizin' Blues in the past has sung at the Rose Bowl, at the congressional dinner for President Ford in Washington, D.C., at Kennedy Center and appeared on national television.

As a member of the show group this fall, she's been warned, she will be "singing nostalgia."

That's all right with Kelly. Given a choice, what does she most like to sing?

Anything Barbra Streisand sings, says the girl who looks like a younger, prettier edition of the entertainer.

Dinner-dance, Toronto ahead for Newcomers

Northville Newcomers are dining, dancing, partying, entertaining — and sipping champagne enroute to Toronto — as they end the year spectacularly.

The Newcomers aren't slowing down a bit as Prudy Vannier turns over presidency to Chris Williams at a joint board meeting at Mrs. Vannier's May 19. Traditionally, this is done following a potluck with a meeting of the current board. As the meeting adjourns, the new board takes over.

Today the Newcomers are getting tips on "Party Perfection" at 7:30 p.m. at Twelve Oaks Mall. Detroit-area partner Tom Schoenith will be telling how to give a fantastic party at the program in the Lord and Taylor store.

The club's annual spring dinner dance will be at 7 p.m. June 7 at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn with dancing to be to the music of the City Limits band. The menu's gourmet from French onion soup to Chicken Cordon Bleu and lemon torte.

Reservations at $31 a couple are being taken through May 16 by Pat Howard, 349-6564. Single and table reservations for eight or 10 are being accepted, Mrs. Vannier mentions.

Members also are signing up for a champagne coach escape to Toronto June 20-22. They will leave right from Northville Square by air-conditioned coach for three days and two nights at the Plaza II in fashionable Yorkville section of Toronto.

Anyone interested in Newcomers may call Mrs. Vannier at 349-4082.

Town Hall tickets on sale

Tickets now are on sale by mail for 1980-81 Northville Town Hall series which will lead off with Mario Thomas.

They are sold only by the series of four at $20, emphasizes Carolyn DiComo, chairman.

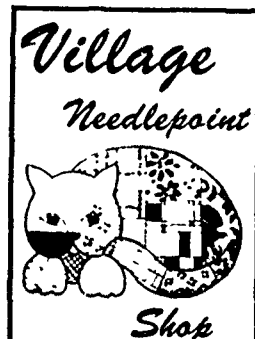

Checks with stamped, self-addressed return envelopes should be sent to Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, Northville, attention Mrs. Richard Kelly.

Luncheon tickets will go on sale June 1. They are $8 each or $32 for the son. They may be ordered individually.

Mrs. DiComo reports that the initial sale prior to the final program of the current season featuring Patrice Munsel April 10 was very good.

Mario Thomas will open the 20th season October 9. She will be followed November 13 by Terry Hekker, author champion of the housewife; March 12, 1981, by Frank Cappiello, an economist; and April 9, 1981, by La Condesa de Romanones, an American married into one of Spain's notable families and a former O.S.S. member.

Garage sale's first project of firefighters' auxiliary

By JEAN DAY

A new Northville organization will be participating in the second annual City Garage Sale May 17. It will be the first fund-raising activity for the Northville City Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary.

Formed April 21, the auxiliary currently has a membership of 10 women, all related to Northville City Fire Fighters. They are planning events to raise money to assist the men with their burn center program as well as the fireman's fund.

In addition to fund raising, they plan to supply food and beverages when the men are on duty for extended periods of time.

Officers are Linda Reeves, president; Joanne Gearns, secretary; and Jan Holloway, treasurer.

At their booth in the City Garage Sale they and the fire department will be selling popcorn, cold drinks and garage sale merchandise. Anyone with items to donate may bring them to the fire station on Main Street between 7 and 9:30 p.m. this Thursday. If this is not possible, pick-up may be arranged by calling 349-0508 between 5-7 p.m.

The auxiliary's next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Village Needlepoint Shop at 150 Mary Alexander Court. Wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of Northville Fire Fighters are welcome to join.

Everything's old or used

This year's City Garage Sale, for which Scott Lapham is serving as chairman, officially will kick off Michigan Week as firemen perform their traditional street-washing after the sale ends at 6 p.m. a week from Saturday.

Residents and organizations have been fast to sign up for booths, Lapham reports, saying that spaces in front of stores all have been reserved on Main, but he still has spots available down the center of the street. He emphasizes that "it is a garage sale of old and used merchandise, not a craft sale." Lapham may be called at 349-5175 to reserve space at $12.50. Proceeds fund chamber activities.

They'll shed accumulations again

Among organizations reserving space in the City Garage Sale May 17 is Base Line Chapter of Questers, national antiques study organization. Members last year parted with both antiques and junk for the sale with proceeds earmarked for Mill Race Village restoration. Then-president Dorothy Greer reported that the group gained new members as a "plus" from the Main Street exposure.

Therefore, it was decided to participate again this year.

New members Doris Stover, Carol Romanik and Eugenie Bemish joined a dozen other members on a spring "field trip" to Indiana April 24. Former Northville resident Peg Beard, who still is a member of the Base Line group, came from her home at Hubbard Lake for the outing. Joining her was her daughter Nancy Smith.

As an added bit of excitement, they report, a fire alarm sounded at 4 a.m. in the motel in the 100 Center Complex at Mishawaka. The complex of shops and a restaurant is housed in an old factory. The fire was in a dryer and caused only smoke damage, but occupants of 10 rooms were evacuated.

They bet on Plugged Nickel

Seven Northville area couples who have been attending the Kentucky Derby for seven years again last week rented a motor home and rode south in style. They parked at nearby Boone Farm, which belongs to relatives of Tom Walts. Others in the party were the Samuel Halls, John Bucklands, Bob Fosters, Ron Reitenours of Farmington, the Ross Totens, former residents now living in Grand Rapids, Doug Loomis and Annalee Mathes.

"I'm putting my money on Plug Nickel," Bo Hall confidently before leaving.

Mary Esther Fountain's top planner

As physicians' spouses from across Michigan gathered Monday at Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor for a three-day convention of the Michigan State Medical Society Auxiliary, the person checking every detail has been Mary Esther Fountain of Northville. As convention chairman, she arranged workshops and speakers for the 54th annual event.

Joan Akey, who leads exercise-to-music classes Mondays at Amerman Elementary, was among those tapped for the convention program. "Health in the doctor's family" is the convention theme, Mrs. Fountain reports. The wife of Dr. Charles Fountain, a psychiatrist, she also is a past president of the Wayne County Medical Society and has just served as chairman of the Health-arama at Oakland Mall as a member of the board of United Foundation.

Another auxiliary member from Northville, Barbara Yoder is participating in the convention, serving as one of four official pages at the business session.

Mother-to-be Melissa Ziegler was showered with baby gifts at a surprise party last week at Meads Mill Junior High. The English and mathematics teacher who is leaving soon to have her baby was given the party by the students in her classes April 29.

Life members bring dinner, go home with plants

Members of the Life Member group of Northville Mothers' Club will come to their spring meeting bringing dishes for a potluck at 6:30 p.m. May 20 at the home of Gladys Evans, 20311 Woodhill.

They'll be carrying home flowering plants from the annual fund-raising plant sale, reports Carol Forrer, president.

The sale, an annual auction of items made by members and a Christmas cocktail party are the fund-raisers for the group's scholarship which goes to a graduating senior.

The life member group, formed three years ago, is composed of members who served 10 or more years in Northville Mothers' Club. Four meetings are held yearly with the group's main purpose being the funding of the scholarship.

Showerman contemporary home is most unusual on tour

South Lyon contemporary

New home stars on tour

Easily the most unusual house on this year's South Lyon homes tour Saturday May 10, will be the ultra contemporary new home of Fran and Steve Showerman at 635 Woodland Drive.

In fact, the home, with its vertical stained cedar exterior and extended cathedral ceilings, is unique in this area.

A stockade-style fence flows from the rounded front of the house to enclose a courtyard just outside the full-length southern exposure window wall in the living room.

No windows face the street. All are selectively placed to take advantage of the wooded setting of the home that is actually located in Lyon Township on the very edge of the city's limits.

Guests enter a hallway on the same level as the open kitchen and dining area. The huge living room is four steps down from the kitchen in an arrangement which allows Fran to be included in all family activities, even when cooking.

"I don't really like to cook and I wanted the kitchen to be open so I would not be shut off from the family when I am working there. It's super convenient and I love my built-in toaster."

The toaster is not the only thing by far that's built-in in the house the Showerman's asked Architect Arthur Miller of Milford to design so that it would require a minimum of care.

A Jacuzzi whirlpool bath, surrounded by ceramic blue and random earth-tone tiles, is set into the second-floor master bedroom, opposite a 33-foot wall of mirrored sliding closet doors. Carpeted steps lead up to the bath.

A complete, more traditional style bathroom, is located just to the right of the door as you enter the bath.

To the left of the bedroom door is the family's TV room which is actually a balcony overlooking the living room. The wall behind the TV provides a display area for several of Steve's original paintings.

A comfortable built-in carpeted couch faces the TV.

A second, smaller balcony opens directly off the master bedroom. While it is currently used as a study, Fran says that they plan to turn it into a studio for Steve since the light there, so near the window ceilings panels, is ideal for painting.

The Showerman children's bedrooms open off a hallway on the west side of the diningroom on the main floor. These rooms are light and airy with an expanse of windows facing the woods.

Built-in dressers, topped with counters for work and play, are situated under the windows. The ceilings in both rooms are slanted in the cathedral style of the rest of the house. A complete bath in blues and earth tones is located between these bedrooms.

At the rear of the kitchen area, next to the garage which is actually built-in to the house rather than attached to it, is one of Fran's favorite rooms. It's a combined laundry, sewing, and family room with comfortable couches and a round dining table. Next to it is a powder room with coin ceramic tiles.

The dining room wall contains a series of "temple rubbings" purchased while they were living in Thailand during the early days of their marriage when Steve was in the military service.

Two of the outstanding features of the living room are a huge central pillar, reminiscent of a Roman temple, and the sculptured bas-relief of the fireplace tiles. A friend, Bobbie Stevens, designed and made the relief by first creating a model of the effect she wished to reproduce. She then fired each hand made clay tile and placed them, according to the model, above the fireplace.

The 28-foot pillar was Steve's project. He went with the architect and the contractor, Bud Nelson of Walled Lake, to the Ren-Cen in Detroit to view examples there.

The cement pillar was poured bucket-full by bucketfull in a tube in which reinforcing rods were inserted. After the cement set and the tube was removed, the whole thing was sand blasted to reveal the stones.

Situated in the middle of the house, it extends from the crawl space under the floor all the way to the center beam of the open ceiling.

Because of its many unusual design features, Fran has kept her decorating simple, leaving the visitor with a feeling of spaciousness that belies the 2,800-square-foot size. Most tour visitors will depart with the impression of having viewed a much larger home.

Tickets for the South Lyon Home

Tour Saturday are on sale here at Northville Pharmacy. They will be sold the day of the tour at the Witch's Hat depot off Pontiac Trail near the entrance to the city.

They are $3 for adults and $1 for students and senior citizens. Six homes, the depot-museum and the Presbyterian church are on the tour. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

It's ecology for AAUW

Final program of the season for the Northville American Association of University Women at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Cooke Junior High library focuses on ecology.

It offers both the description of working alternative energy sources and a challenge to women to be "informed and innovative" in their approach to energy conservation.

Mrs. Ann Franklin, associate director of the Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center, is to speak on "Why Me: Women, Energy and the Environment."

The center is solar-heated and wind-powered. Mrs. Franklin will show a short film, "Putting Energy Alternatives to Work," that describes them.

The center is a non-profit educational organization which grew out of the experiences of the Upland Hills Farm School, a day school for 5-15 year olds.

It has a geodesic dome, also solar heated and wind powered.

It has been offering summer workshops for the past seven years. A new building has been under construction with entirely volunteer labor for three years. It is to be dedicated in June and will be open to the public.

Mrs. Franklin attended Florida State University.

She is a homemaker and mother of two children. She has been active in the women's movement for the past decade.

For 11 years Mrs. Franklin was a manager for Michigan Bell before coming to the center.

She currently writes a weekly column for her local paper, The Lake Orion Review, called "From the Ground Up."

Guests interested in the program or the AAUW are invited to attend the social session at 7:30 p.m.

Youth for Understanding program

Seek homes for exchange students

Youth for Understanding, the international student exchange program that began in Ann Arbor and now is based in Washington, D.C., is seeking host homes for students who will be arriving in July and August to begin 1980-81 high school studies in this country.

The program is also seeking a volunteer to be area representative for YFU.

Mary Froelich of Ann Arbor, program consultant here, reports that 4,600 students are expected from Europe, Latin America, Australia, the Middle and Far East.

At the same time 2,400 students from this country will live with overseas families in 23 countries.

Since 1951, Mrs. Froelich points out, more than 65,000 students from 50 countries have been exchanged in the program.

Youth for Understanding, a non-profit international educational organization, stresses family living as the heart of the learning experience.

The host families she is seeking open their homes and share their lives with the students, she says, with the main requirement being a willingness to welcome a student as a real family member.

The family provides a home and meals; the student provides his own personal spending money. Youth for Understanding is responsible for health insurance.

"The student shares responsibilities in the home and respects any existing standards or routines," Mrs. Froelich says.

The volunteer representative Mrs. Froelich is seeking to represent the program in this area should have an ability to relate well to youth, school officials and the community.

The volunteer may be asked to present programs encouraging students to participate in the YFU overseas living experience, to interview and recommend such students, to interview and select potential host families and match a foreign student to live with them.

The volunteer also will be responsible for planning orientation programs for the students. The representative is reimbursed for telephone, mileage and postage expenses.

Potential host families or anyone who would like to volunteer in the program may call the Washington office at 1-800-292-9107 without charge for more information.

Gospel Fellowship to hear former Indiana farmer

CHARLES BAKER

Charles Baker, ex-farmer of Portage, Indiana, will be principal speaker at the 7 p.m. dinner meeting May 16 of the Northville, Plymouth, Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship.

It will be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Baker will be accompanied by his wife and three teenage daughters who will provide music instrumentation and songs.

Following 10 years of farming in central Illinois, the speaker quit the farm to study the Bible and finally became an ordained minister.

He pastored in the Methodist church for several years and then joined with "Gospel Crusades, Incorporated," a traveling ministry founded in Bradenton, Florida.

The Baker family lives in a travel trailer, taking its music and teaching ministry into churches and Gospel fellowships throughout the United States.

Tenor Bob Tuitte of Plymouth, an active Gospel singer at Brightmoor Tabernacle, will furnish additional music.

The meeting at 8 p.m. follows dinner which is $8 plus gratuity. Both are open to the public.

Additional information is available by calling 349-0006.

Garden Club to view
bonsai demonstration

As the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association holds its annual meeting at the home of Catherine Sellas, 18905 Edenderry, at 12:30 p.m. Monday, her husband will be the featured speaker.

Dr. Nicholas Sellas, pathologist at Garden City Hospital, will snip away at his hobby of bonsai.

His demonstration will follow a business session at which flowers will be presented to three new life members — Mary Begle, Jean Brosius and Mary Ware. Outgoing president Mary Keese will be assisted by June Lafferty, incoming president.

Bonsai, or the growing of potted, dwarf artistic trees, says Dr. Sellas, is a recent hobby in western countries. It comes from the Orient to the United States mainly from the Japanese people.

However, Dr. Sellas points out, Chinese literature of the T'Sin Dynasty from 265 to 420 A.D. and the Tang Dynasty from 618 to 906 A.D. describes these skills. Dr. Sellas will be shaping a bonsai tree as he talks Monday, and some lucky club member will go home with the result.

"It's the only living art form there is," the hobbyist declares.

The welcome-to-declares program was planned by Annie Nichols, program chairman.

Refreshments will be served by Marian Pickl, social committee chairman, assisted by Julie Woodard, Marilyn Donovan and Veronica Gaines.

Community homes Methodist topic

Community homes for retired adults will be the subject of the May meeting of Northville United Methodist Women at 1 p.m. May 13 at the church.

Denise Horvath, education-recruitment coordinator at the community placement unit of the Northville Residential Training Center, will outline guidelines for group homes developed by the Department of Mental Health.

Ray Roberts, whose corporation is opening a group home in Livonia, in June will speak from the home operator's point of view, program planner

Faye Zimmerman announces.

The church women will be sponsoring a kitchen shower for Roberts' home.

Chapel moments at noon and a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. will precede the program at 1 p.m.

The public is invited to the program. Those planning to attend the luncheon are asked to call the church 349-1144.

Ted Strasser to narrate
chorus spring program

Ted Strasser of Northville will be guest narrator as the Plymouth Community Chorus presents a spring concert, "Curtain's Going Up," at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 18, in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

The chorus composed of residents of Plymouth, Northville and surrounding areas will be singing a salute to Henry Mancini.

Such show tunes as "Man of LaMancha" and "Stop the World I Want to Get Off" as well as some patriotic numbers will be included in the concert.

Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1 for students and senior citizens. They will be sold at the door or may be ordered in advance by calling 455-1248.

Strasser, who lives in Highland Lakes, is the popular host of WJR's Sunday morning "Patterns in Music" program.

It's music treat for Mother

"Here Comes the Son," Easter season musical presented at Northville United Methodist Church, will have a repeat performance at 7:30 p.m. this Sunday at the church.

As a special Mother's Day treat, it is being given in conjunction with an ice cream social. Admission at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children includes the social afterward.

Stacey Becker, music director, explains the young people will sing in the production and then "dish up the ice cream."

Card party to feature super pies

Homemade pies baked by some of the best cooks in Our Lady of Victory Parish will be served at the spring card party given at 8 p.m. this Friday in the church social hall.

The event is open to anyone in the community, reports Colette Egan, chairperson, who may be called at 349-7417 to arrange tables. Tickets at $3 each will be sold at the door.

Among the treats being offered with coffee is Marilyn Boland's mouth-watering lemon meringue pie. She shares her recipe:

LEMON MERINGUE PIE

6 Tbsp. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt
1 C. sugar
2 C. water
3 egg yolks
2 Tbsp. butter
1½ tsp. grated lemon rind
5 Tbsp. lemon juice
3 egg whites
6 Tbsp. sugar

¼ tsp. cream of tartar
1 baked pie shell, chilled

Combine cornstarch, salt and half-cup sugar in top of double boiler, gradually adding water. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens.

Cover and cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir small amount of hot mixture into egg yolks, which have been mixed with remaining half-cup of sugar.

Immediately pour back into remaining hot mixture over boiling water. Blend thoroughly and cook two minutes longer, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Add butter, lemon juice and rind.
Cool before spreading meringue lightly on the filling in pie shell.

Meringue: Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until frothy. Gradually beat in sugar and continue beating until mixture is stiff and glossy.

Place filling in chilled pie crust and spread meringue lightly on the filling.

sealing edges to crust. Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, until delicately brown. About 8-10 minutes.

For the pie crust Mrs. Boland recommends the "never fail" recipe in the Our Lady of Victory Parish Cookbook, adding it also is "very easy."

PIE CRUST

3 C. flour
2 tsp. salt

½ tsp. baking powder
1¼ C. shortening
1 tsp. vinegar
3-5 tsp. water
1 egg

Mix together flour, salt and baking powder. Add shortening.

In cup, mix together vinegar, water and egg. Mix all ingredients.

Roll out and fit to pie pan. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes 2 crusts.

It pays to keep track of those records

By JEAN DAY

The day of reckoning has passed. You finally computed whether you owed Uncle Sam or whether he owed you for 1979, and the return was mailed — by April 15 if you owed, and probably earlier if you expect a refund.

The checks, statements and receipts used to compute the 1979 income taxes have been shoveled aside. Hopefully, they weren't put in the waste basket.

Whether you paid or are in line for a refund, those papers still can't be dumped. Ideally, they should be saved in an envelope with the income tax return for the year to which these papers pertain.

Save them with records of the 1977 and 1978 returns. They can't be thrown out yet either.

According to tax preparers, some records should be retained almost forever. Others have accepted time limits.

Northville City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, who in private practice does tax work for his clients, offers some limits for record keeping that apply to most Michigan residents.

Depending on material, most papers should be retained three or six years. "Forever" applies to documents like house transactions which should be kept as long as you own the house — and for three years after selling it.

But unless you have room to store ever-increasing amounts of paper work, some annual culling-out is in order. Right after income tax time in the midst of spring cleaning is as good a time as any.

Otherwise, you may leave your children or other heirs a mountain of material to dig through to find significant records.

Here are the attorney's responses to specific records:

CANCELED CHECKS

Keep checks that involve any consumer dealing which may be in question for six years. That is the statute of limitation for commercial transactions. After that, you generally can't be questioned.

Being practical, a year is long enough to keep utility and department store proof of payment because each monthly statement indicates any past due bill. The 12 months provide a record of a year's heating and utility costs.

Before throwing away department store receipts, however, it is good business to sort through and keep records of any purchases classified as home improvements. File these with house papers. Include checks for any capital improvements, such as a new furnace or kitchen remodeling (but not a new washer or dryer, which may not be claimed as improvements).

Keeping such home records is especially important if you are not 55 or older and expecting to claim the once-in-a-lifetime tax forgiveness.

Any business-related receipts, such as for a new typewriter, if you use it for work at home, also should be retained.

CHARITY DONATION RECEIPTS

The receipt given you by a church for rummage sale items or the statement from your local historical society for a valuable gift as well as paid church pledge statements should be kept with income tax records for three years.

The attorney adds that the donor should "hope they don't claim fraud — for fraud has no statute of limitations."

CREDIT CARD RECEIPTS

These also should be retained for three years if they are used to claim legitimate expenses, such as gasoline for business or entertaining bills.

People who own their own businesses and doctors and lawyers, especially, are likely to have returns questioned and will need this proof.

Right now, Ogilvie points out, the government is auditing returns from 1976.

"Don't think that when you received your refund check, you were home free. That only indicated that the mathematics had been computer checked. The government has three years to question the return statements."

HOSPITAL RECORDS

Actual dates of hospitalization, names of physicians and other professionals who treated the patient can be as important as the paid bill. If it becomes a court case later, such information can be used to force the hospital to divulge its records, the attorney explains.

If there is any question at all, keep them longer than the normal six years.

INSURANCE POLICIES

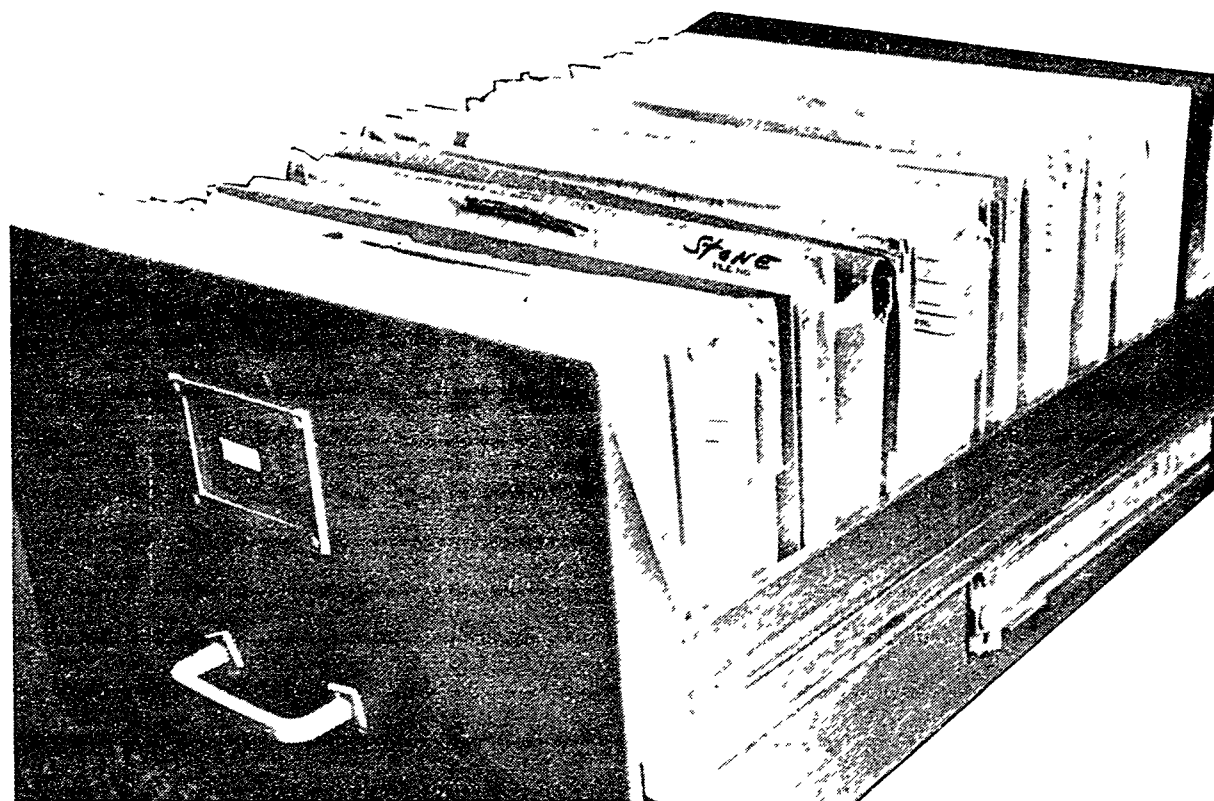

Keep automobile policies only until you sell the vehicle unless you have been involved in an accident during the time you owned the car.

Keep life insurance policies for as long as they are in force.

TRIP RECEIPTS

Believe it or not, keep that hotel bill from Chicago or Acapulco with your records for six years. Again, that is the limit for civil action.

Spring preparation

Here's May tips for gardeners

For much of Michigan, gardening gets underway in earnest this month. Michigan State University Extension specialists suggest the following activities are timely in May:

—Go mushroom hunting. May is morel month in Michigan. Beginners are wise to go hunting with someone who can teach them to identify the edible species accurately. Where mushrooms are concerned, what you don't know can hurt you.

—In late May or early June, give established lawns their first dose of nitrogen. Fertilizing before this can contribute to the development of Fusarium blight in susceptible Kentucky bluegrass varieties and retard the development of a strong root system.

—Water new or renovated lawns during dry periods so grass plants will be well established before hot weather arrives.

—Mow established lawns regularly and frequently enough so that no more than one-third of the length of the leaf blades is removed at one cutting —Plant onions, beets, carrots, radishes, spinach and lettuce for the second and third times. All but spinach and lettuce will benefit from protection against maggots. Use diazinon according to label directions.

—Give transplants 10 to 14 days outdoors in a sheltered spot before setting them in the garden. This will help them adjust to the harsher conditions of the outdoor environment.

—After the danger of frost is past and the soil has warmed up, plant cucumbers, squash and pumpkins from seed; and set out plants and peppers, eggplant and tomatoes. Sweet corn and beans, though susceptible to frost damage, are often planted a week or two before the frost-free date because it takes that long for the seedlings to emerge from the soil.

Be prepared to provide transplants and tender seedlings with frost protection, especially if you decide to gamble and plant much ahead of the average frost-free date in your area.

—Transplant flowers and vegetables in the evening or on a cloudy day so that they have some time to get over the shock of transplanting before they have to withstand direct sunlight. They may need shelter from strong winds until they get established. Protection against cutworms is advised, too.

—Fertilize roses when they begin to grow, and begin to spray them at 7-10 day intervals as needed to control diseases and insects. Spraying with an all-purpose rose spray should begin as soon as new growth appears and continue through August.

—After the danger of frost is past, plant tuberous begonias, caladiums, impatiens, wax begonias and coleus in shaded areas; and petunias, alyssum, geraniums and other light-loving annuals in sunny spots.

—Plant new chrysanthemums and divide old ones. To induce plants to produce side shoots, pinch about a half-inch from the growing tips.

—Plant summer-flowering bulbs like glads, dahlias and cannas through the end of the month.

—Toward the end of May, apply summer mulches to flower beds and borders.

—Remove tent caterpillars and their tents from fruit trees, crabapples and other ornamentals. Or control them with Bacillus thuringiensis, a bacterial disease that affects only true caterpillars. It's sold under the trade names Dipel and Thuricide.

—As soon as spring-flowering shrubs are finished blooming, remove weak, old, damaged, or poorly placed branches. Retain the young, vigorous growth that will bear next year's flowers.

—Check pine trees and other ornamentals for sawfly larvae. They look like caterpillars that raise their heads when disturbed, and they often feed in large numbers. Use Sevin or malathion to control them. Bacillus thuringiensis will not be effective against them, because they are related to wasps rather than butterflies and moths.

—Spring and fall cankerworms have been a major pest of shade trees in various parts of Michigan the past few years. These thin, green or brown caterpillars feed on foliage and move with a distinct inchworm or looping motion. Where infestations are severe, they will rain down from the trees on tiny silk threads. Bacillus thuringiensis is the recommended control.

—Remove faded flowers from rhododendrons.

—Plant trees, evergreens, shrubs and ground covers. Be sure to remove all nonbiodegradable materials — wires, plastic cords, plastic burlap, etc. — from root balls, trunks and stems before planting. Water well after planting and every 8 to 10 days during dry weather.

—After all danger of frost is past, you may move houseplants outdoors. Place them in a sheltered, semishaded spot — they'll get more light in shade outdoors than on a sunny windowsill indoors, and the shade will keep them from getting sunburned. Clay pots, especially, will dry out faster outdoors, so check plants often and water as needed. Keep an eye out, too, for insects and control invasions immediately.

—Potted amaryllis bulbs can be set outdoors with the houseplants or planted in a shady part of the garden. Remember to repot them and bring them indoors before frost.

—Maintain a regular spray program to protect fruit trees against insects and diseases.

—Thin apples and peaches two to three weeks after petal fall. Spacing fruits about eight inches apart usually gives larger, better quality fruits.

Morning glories a good cover-up

No other flowering vine can excel morning glories for quickly screening and covering unsightly objects.

A vine can easily top a 20-foot pole but can be kept in bounds by pinching tip growth.

Gardeners would never guess from the array of color on morning glory vines that individual blossoms usually last only one day.

True...they have but a few hours to complete pollination before they wilt. But don't grieve over their demise; a fresh new crop comes every morning.

A built-in clock opens the morning glories between the witching hour and dawn. It is still pitch black when the spiral-wrapped flower buds unfurl.

If the day dawns cloudy and gray, blossoms will remain open but on a sunny day will close by mid-morning.

The huge three by four-inch blossoms come in white, pink, rose, purple and heavenly blue.

Hybrids offering geranium pluses

Prior to the introduction of the All-American Carefree geranium of 1968, there was only one seed-grown geranium variety that produced a crop that was dependably true to color.

Then came the hybrid Carefrees from Pan-American Seed Company, followed by other varieties from several different geranium breeders.

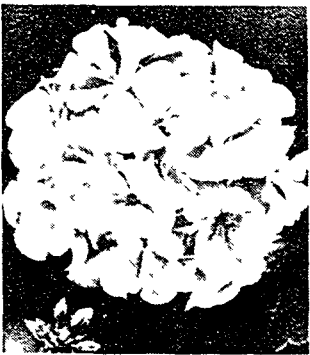

Now there are more than 30 varieties from which to choose, in colors ranging from red and scarlet through coral and salmon, rose, pink, bicolors and white.

In the 15 years since the introduction of "Nittany Lion" in 1965, hybrid geraniums have become an important commercial crop, and the issue of hybrid versus cutting geraniums is argued at every gathering of bedding plant growers. There's no one answer.

For the average home gardener, however, experience seems to favor the hybrid (seed grown) varieties for their vigorous summer-long performance.

The hybrid geranium revolution has changed geraniums from essentially an early spring, Mother's Day-Memorial Day pot plant to a true bedding plant. Available as small plants, hybrid geraniums can be planted like petunias in mass plants for exciting color that lasts and even improves with the passing season.

One of the new varieties available to home gardeners this year is the "Salmon Express" — a Pan-American Seed Company introduction. It has mid-salmon flower heads up to four inches in diameter, which are full and flatly rounded.

Business Briefs

RIZZO REALTY, INC., Gallery of Homes, enjoyed one of the best 30 day periods in its six year history. During the month of March, volume of sales totaled nearly $1.4 million.

Anthony V. Rizzo, president of the company, said he was only "slightly amazed" at the volume, considering the economic climate, because he had anticipated the general downturn in the economy and had taken measures which were calculated to keep the company active during these difficult times.

"I must confess that what we did, which included affiliating with the Gallery of Homes, was more beneficial than I had anticipated. We were fortunate in that after we affiliated with Gallery of Homes in December of last year, other salespeople heard about it before we were ready to begin recruitment advertising and four highly capable saleswomen approached us about joining the firm.

"We haven't attempted to recruit since that time because we have space for only two additional salespeople presently, and we feel that if our volume of business continues anywhere near what it has been this year, we will not need to actively recruit for our Northville office," said Rizzo.

The firm's president said, however, that the company has obtained a large, exclusive territory from the Gallery of Homes and will actively recruit for a sales manager and six to eight sales people to staff that office which is scheduled to open in the last quarter of 1980.

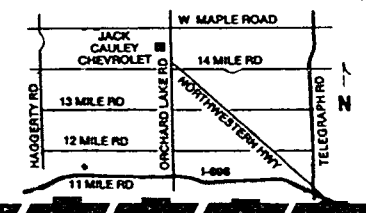

ULTRA-SONIC EQUIPMENT as well as personal and property protection devices are the products available from G.F. Enterprises, Inc., a new company which has opened in Novi.

Ginger Frig, president of the company, said the ultra-sonic equipment includes such items as dog chasers, raticators, leak detectors and microsonic stethoscopes.

The "dog chaser" emits a high-frequency sound that will ward off angry dogs and can be used by anyone from joggers to mailmen. The "raticator" is a device which emits sound waves which will chase rodents out of basements and attics.

The "leak detector" uses ultra-sonic frequencies to detect vacuum, pressure, air and water leaks, while the "microsonic stethoscope" will detect moveable fluid friction in mechanical devices before the sounds become audible to the human ear.

In the area of personal and property protection devices, the company offers such items as ultra-violet marking tools and sound alarms to frighten off intruders and assailants.

Frig resides in Novi's Stonehenge Condominiums.

SAMI POOTA, owner of the Wixom Food Market in Wixom, was the largest seller of Pepsi-Cola in Oakland County for 1979, according to officials at the Pepsi-Cola Bottling plant in Pontiac.

Poota's one-year old market on Wixom Road, draws Pepsi buyers from surrounding communities as well as Wixom. Poota attributed his top rating in Oakland County sales of Pepsi-Cola to the low prices offered by the Wixom Road store.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES of Novi has announced that its board of directors has authorized a 25-percent increase in the quarterly dividend rate paid to shareholders. The new quarterly dividend was established at 10 cents per share, compared to an existing eight cent rate. The board of directors authorized the increased payment effective with a July 15, 1980 disbursement to shareholders of record June 23, 1980.

NEW HUDSON POWER, a New Hudson Case lawn and garden tractor dealership, was honored during the "Circle of Excellence" Awards recently held at the Outdoor Power Equipment Division of the J.I. Case Company in Winneconne, Wisconsin.

In the picture here, Rick Cevora (right) of New Hudson Power is cited as top North American dealer for outstanding sales achievement of the Case garden tractor line during 1979 by W. J. Schlappman, vice president and general manager of the J.I. Case Company.

This is the third year in a row that Cevora has received the award. Rick Cevora, his brother Randy Cevora, his father Joe Cevora and John Jakubus stayed at the Pioneer Inn in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, while attending the three-day program.

The program included a complete tour of the Outdoor Power Equipment Division's facilities where guests had an opportunity to view the entire manufacturing and assembly operations of the Case lawn and garden tractor equipment line.

In addition, they toured the Kohler Company, an engine supplier for Case tractors in Kohler, Wisconsin. A business meeting for dealers and various activities scheduled for their guests were also scheduled for the program.

DORIS MAHALAK has opened her second ceramics store, D'Mae's Ceramics, on Grand River Avenue in Novi. D'Mae's offers a complete line of greenware, glazes and stains.

Mrs. Mahalak will instruct the novice from start to finish, fire a started piece, or take orders for completed items.

Classes at the Novi store on Grand River Avenue will be offered in the fall. Evening and afternoon classes are held at her six-year old Livonia store Monday through Thursday.

A former accountant, Mrs. Mahalak has been making and teaching ceramics for 13 years.

Poet's Corner

A Farewell to Funhood

Although the set remains braced in cemented fixations, none swings anymore.
Just over the year-slopes, in maturity's hurry—
the youngsters have driven away ...
one third, two thirds, three.
The instances, saved;
thanks to photography,
are memory coupons
... each, good for one.
But none expected such despair.
It had seemed, that where the swing let off ...
baby went his way.
Good-bye:
the swings wave now.

Margaret O'Brien

Times Future

As the gentle breeze
Wore away the time
My thoughts faded
Gradually ceasing

Memories
Were left behind
The future
Passed without a promise

No dreams were shared
Or created
But the memories lived on Blurred like dreams

Stored
In a corner of my mind
All happiness and sorrow
Have aged

Emotions
Lost their once ignited flame
Leaving them tainted
And unrefreshing

Yesterday
Has melted like the snow
Trickling down
To rest within my soul

Mary Mullally

What will happen?

I woke up this morning feeling down
Thinking about troubles world around
Cambodia dying, Iran's plea
Send the Shah home and we will set your sons free

Who is wrong? Who is right?
Should we sit, or should we fight?
Think of the Mothers sitting alone
Praying that their children will soon be home

What will happen? Good I hope to see
So our sons will be proud of our history

Chris Clark

Daybreak

Small babylike fingers of clouds cover the horizon ...
inviting the morning with fresh misted air as the lark opens her solitary tune. She breaks the stillness as daybreak opens the window for the moment in truth that life will always change with every season.
Turning and turning the lark and our lives within existence.

Patricia Kotlarczyk

Sailing the Sea

Sitting by the sea,
As she waits for me,
Her winds are strong,
The nights, they're long,
the water is rough you see.

I walk along the beach,
My dreams, so hard to reach,
I know that some day,
I'll sail away,
Out in the open sea,
The gulls afloat on air,
Do say "Hello down there,"
Be patient my child,
You will learn in a while,
You have much time to spare,

To sail, my heart is set.
My mind, unsure quite, yet,
so young, so free,
My mind says to be,
I don't know what to expect.

As I dream alone,
The answers unknown,
sit on the beach?
Or sail the sea
I guess, only God knows.

To a Friend

He has never said an unkind word
About a friend or foe;
He always looks beyond a fault
For something good, as though

Kindness and the golden rule
Can be found in any man
If we look a little deeper
And just believe we can.

He has, throughout his life served others,
His family and his God above;
He exemplifies man's highest aims
In selflessness and love.

The example he has set before us
As he goes to his reward
Will still continue over there,
In service to his Lord.

Charles E. Hutton

Clocks

Time's whirlathon contestants blabber tick tocks
all day through ...
rat dark long.
As turnstiles revolving their same circumference, lickity-click ...
You'd think three hundred in this very room carry on.
Now's hour eight just glided it's spear into nine ...
long, dong, dong, dong,
dong, dong, dong, dong,
dong.

Margaret O'Brien

Thatched Transfer

The mane of the Lion
Covers the ground
Under the grey wetness—
Spring is giving it baths,
Rain ribbons thatching
With green grass spears
Scrubbing the mange away,
Eastering it for the Bunny.

I Once Dreamed

I once dreamed it would be true nothing to fear for it would always be me and you
Then one day the sun refused to shine and on that day I found you were no longer mine
So I sat alone watching the memories fill me
Seeing all we once thought would be
The walls soon did move in
The lights all became somewhat dim
I closed my eyes to all I felt
For what we had done was dealt
The cards we held within our hand
The words we spoke, spoke demand
Slowly we released them one by one
Only to see, that neither of us won
So now I sit here, once again alone
Waiting to hear the familiar ring of the phone
To hear you say to me
The dream we had can never be
For then, my time will come
I will be able to both walk and run
For the memories of you and me can be put to past for it was never meant to be.

Irrational Despair

Swishing, Swirling
Tumulting down.
Trying a smile
Ends up in a frown.

Crawl in a hole
Hide in the darkness.
Check it all out
Find your awareness.

Get out of your mood
Wake up with a grin.
Somehow you can't
But is it a sin?

You know that you've been Disappointed before.
But this time your sure
You won't try anymore.

Get out into space
This world's not my thing.
It's just a big rat race
And tomorrow will bring.

Not a drop of sweet sunshine
Or a songbird to sing.
Just a big bunch of problems
Tied onto my string.

Mary Mullally

Too Busy!

Too busy is a phrase
People use now days.
Don't wait until tomorrow,
Help someone else today.

"Too busy to help the poor,
Too busy to help the sick,
Too busy to help a child,
and keep it from running wild.

Too busy to write a letter,
Too busy to call a friend,
Too busy to pray," they say.
How will this all end?

Help each other along the way
For if you reach the pearly gate
Too busy, St. Peter, may say.
I am too busy to open the gate.

Guidance

God moves His hand through yet another
To give us thoughts to dwell upon—
God blesses us with friend and brother,
He guides our steps both here and yon.

God gives us strength to test His credence,
He gives us light to see the way;
God shows the error found in pretence—
Let us see truth in all we say.

Sweet Silence

You looked so happy
The last time I saw you
Your face smiling brightly
In the dark light of night

Your gentle eyes caressing me
Yet never embracing
I think about the tenderness
Of than one moment

A time when no words
Were needed to express
Only the silent sounds
Of Love ...

Mary Mullally

Night Walks

Darkness falls with an unpretentious cloak taking the day away.
Night will always hold the silence and magic
the other moments do not have.
Strangers seem to find solace without masking themselves Others find corners with rose and amber colored glasses in hand ... and still others search the night to rid fears or restlessness of a heart that is looking ... for reasoning as to why loves and promises are broken ... night talls in the emptiness that cannot be filled tomorrow ...
letting time go quietly for now.

Together — Hand In Hand

As I begin this verse and think back over the years,
We've shared our smiles and shed some tears.
And when I look to when our lives together began.
We were then two, but grew to be one.

After 43 faithful and hard working years.
Please don't listen to some of the quotes that you hear.
To me, you're the greatest, the only one,
So now it's your turn to bask in the sun.

Time has a way of passing by,
And, Sweetheart, as the time of retirement draws nigh.
We won't look back, but only ahead,
Everything to gain and nothing to dread.

May God be with us as we start our new life,
With much happiness and a lot less strife,
Together we'll face it hand in hand,
But we'll be blessed with whatever He has planned.

To you I confess my love, My Dear,
And look forward to our 50th year.
For if the ones to come are the same as the past.
From here to eternity, we know it will last.

So, welcome home to be with me,
For now we can plan some things, you see,
For I love you, Hal, with all my heart,
And by the Grace of God we'll never be apart.

Kickers earn win and a costly tie

Despite some serious injuries to key players, the Northville girls varsity soccer squad survived intact in its two meets last week.

Northville tied Churchill 1-1 on Tuesday, then clobbered Franklin 5-0 on Wednesday.

So far, both of the Mustangs' ties and its one loss have come during home games.

Churchill came to Northville with a big, powerful team that not only stymied the Mustang attack in the first half, but took the lead two minutes into the second half with the game's first goal.

From then on the Northville players looked like bees, swarming and stinging at the Churchill net with kick after kick.

With two minutes left to play in the game, Kathy Montgomery kicked from 20 yards out. The ball bounced off of a Churchill defender and deflected into the Livonia net to tie the game.

The score stood at 1-1 when the final gun sounded.

But the game was costly for the Mustangs.

Liz Bohan dived in front of a ball to block a kick, but the shot hit her in the face.

She was knocked unconscious. She was taken to the sidelines and an ice pack was applied.

"She seemed to be doing alright," coach Ron Meteyer said. "She sat there for thirty minutes, but suddenly she got more and more groggy and her vision blurred. Mrs. Montgomery drove her in to Mott Children's Hospital (Monday night) and she didn't get out until Wednesday. She had suffered a severe concussion."

But that wasn't all.

About four or five minutes after Bohan's injury, Stacy Stuart was involved in a face-off. The ball bounced off of the ground and hit her in the face, causing two black eyes, sinus damage and a very bruised nose.

Karen Irwin was in goal for the Mustangs, stopping nine of Churchill's 10 shots.

"Churchill was bigger and better than we thought they would be," Meteyer explained. "All of our ties and our loss have come during home games and we've won all of our away games. Maybe we should only play away."

Unfortunately for Franklin, the game was an away contest for Northville.

The first half was scoreless as Franklin played inspired soccer to thwart the Mustang attack.

Melissa McDaniel, in goal for Northville, stopped four shots in the first half and four more in the second to record the shutout.

"In the first half we were doing what we always seem to do — let our fast people sprint down the field while the rest just kick the ball down the middle and hope the fast ones get to it," Meteyer said.

"At the half I told them to try to kick it to the wings. They did and it was our most coordinated and balanced attack of the season. Franklin collapsed altogether."

Jacque Nixon got Northville on the board with a goal two minutes into the second half.

Montgomery notched the second Mustang goal on a pass from Sarah Nowka.

Marge Muller connected at the 11-minute mark with an assist from Nixon.

Then, over the course of the last five minutes of the game, Jane Mao blasted two solo scores that capped the Northville scoring.

Northville is now third in its league, with a 3-1-2 mark, good for eight points.

Stevenson and Bentley are on top of the loop.

Fordson will try its luck today when the Mustangs host them in a 4 p.m. meet at Meads Mill.

Then it is on to league leader Stevenson Friday.

Recreation News

Open Gym at the Northville Community Center on Monday and Wednesday will be closed indefinitely, according to officials.

There will be a regular commission meeting on Wednesday, May 14. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will take place at the Community Center.

May 16 is the deadline for ski club members to turn in their ID cards to the recreation department for reimbursement.

Any adult softball teams interested in renting the Community Center's gym for practice are asked to call 349-0203 for more information.

If any adult is interested in playing softball in any of the two adult leagues (men's and women's — co-ed was cancelled due to lack of interest), but who isn't on a team, the rec department has a waiting list from which players are chosen to fill vacancies on existing teams.

There are still plenty of garden plots available for any senior citizens who want to try their green thumbs, according to Sue Bello of the rec department. Just call 349-0203 for more information.

HOT WATER FOR A SONG.

THREE CENTS, TO BE EXACT.

If you've got a gas water heater, a good, 5 minute shower costs you about 3 cents.

And that's about 15 gallons of water.

Enough to give a body something to sing about...at least when you consider what inflation's doing to other current costs.

No, we're not saying natural gas is cheap. But the fact of the matter is that natural gas uses up less of the average family's spendable income now than it did 20 years ago, heating homes, cooking meals, and warming the water for countless baths and showers. Natural gas — especially when you use it wisely — is still a very good buy.

Baking a turkey for 5 hours in a gas oven today costs only about 11 cents. Doing a load of clothes in a gas dryer runs you about 4½ cents. And you can shower daily for a month for under a dollar.

Yes, the cost of energy as a whole has increased considerably in recent years. But there are still forms of energy that, in relation to all the other costs of living, serve us well and at a reasonable expense.

At Consumers Power, we wanted you to know that natural gas is one of them.

And that we're trying to keep it that way.

NATURAL GAS. It's still a good buy.

... Victory

Victory is sweetest when flavored by revenge.

At least this is true where the Northville boys track team is concerned. Last season the Mustangs lost a heartbreaker to Harrison 67-65 when a faulty baton hand-off cost them precious seconds in the mile relay, and thus the race and the meet.

Last Thursday the Northville tracksters not only made all their hand-finishes in the hurdles, with a :17.8 in the highs and a :44.7 in the lows.

Dan Vogt took a third in the lows with a :45.1, and then placed second in the 100-yard dash clocking a :10.9.

From here on in, the meet was all Northville's, as the Mustang distance runners are the cream of the team.

Ross Grover claimed first in the mile with a time of 4:39.0. Scott Dayton was second with a time of 4:42.2.

The 880-relay unit of Chris Dimitroff, Vogt, Ken Weber and Mike Kramer teamed for a first with a time of 1:39.3, their best of the season.

In the 440-yard dash, Wright took first, clocking in at :52.9 and Clark Couyoumjian was second with a personal best of :53.2.

Harry Couyoumjian ran a 1:58.4, 8 off of his best time ever in the event, to win the 880-yard run.

In the two-mile run, Grover came back to win, finishing in 10:22. Dayton, who suffered from leg cramps in the race, was third with a time of 10:44.

The mile relay unit of Clark and Harry Couyoumjian, Wright and Weber, won with a time of 3:36.2.

The win gives Northville a 1-4 mark overall.

On Saturday, the Mustangs traveled to the Observerland Relays.

Only two of the entered Northville units scored points.

The four-mile relay squad of Clark Couyoumjian (4:55), Dayton (4:45), Grover (4:43) and Harry Couyoumjian (4:29), finished second to the squad from Catholic Central.

The distance medley crew finished fourth.

Dayton opened with a 2:17 in the 880-

Ken Weber

offs perfect, but went on to reverse the previous season's score and beat Harrison 67-65.

It was a close match. But Northville, behind the strength of its distance and field event crews, plus with some much-needed points in the dashes, just managed to hold Harrison off.

In the field events, Dave Ward laid down the law to the Harrison hotshots.

He took three firsts and a second in scoring 18 points, the most a single person has earned in one meet this season.

He started off by taking second in the long jump (19'0"). This was just a warm-up for what was to follow.

Ward cleared 6'0" to win the high jump. He missed twice at 6'2" and decided to go for broke with his remaining jump, raising the beam to 6'3", which, if cleared, would be a new school record. He just missed it.

Ward, undaunted, proceeded to set a new school record for the discus event, tossing the object 137'11".

Then in the shot put, he held off the competition with a heave of 42'0", good for another first.

Rob Savageau took fourth in the shot with a personal best of 37'7".

In the long jump, Doug Wright took a third with a leap of 18'9".

Pete Blanchard cleared 9'6" in the pole vault, which was good for third.

The next events, the dashes, have been weak spots in the Mustang attack this season.

But against Harrison, the Northville crew managed to squeeze out some points, which in the end proved to be the difference in the win.

Greg Burnham took two second place yard leg followed by Wright's :54.0 in the 440.

Pete Blanchard

Harry Couyoumjian ran the 1320-yard leg in 3:24 and Grover came back to run the mile leg in 4:41.

Northville finished ninth in the 16-team field.

Northville will take on Pontiac Waterford Mott in an away meet tomorrow, followed Saturday by the Mustangs trip to the Cardinal Relays.

Sheri Robins is the top Mustang high jumper on the girls team

Hard times here for lady thinclads

Two weeks ago, the Northville girls track team lost a meet despite taking nine firsts out of 15 events. The Mustangs lost because they failed to take many second or thirds. Having worked on strengthening its depth, Northville lost twice last week because it didn't take very many firsts. Northville faced Harrison on Thursday and lost 75-48.

Northville took six first place finishes, four seconds and six thirds. The big story of this meet, and the next day's contest with Bentley, was the addition to the team of Hollie Raycraft, who excelled in the swim and gymnastics team earlier in the year.

Raycraft seems to have shored up a floundering field event crew for coach Bob Prom.

Against Harrison, Raycraft earned points in the discus and shot put, events that were absent in each of the other Mustang meets.

Raycraft took a second in the shot, with a heave of 24'6". Mary Groves was third at 22'9".

Raycraft finished third in the discus, recording a mark of 74'7".

Sheri Robins took first in the high jump for Northville. She cleared 4'6".

In the long jump, Patty Jose leaped 13'1" for third place.

Northville was shutout in the 120 high hurdles, but Kris Spigarelli finished first in the 100-yard dash (:12.3) with Diane Darrow (:12.6) coming in third.

Kathy McMillan's 6:10.0 was good for second in the mile. She was nipped at the line by the Harrison runner, who won with a time of 6:06.0.

The 880-yard relay team from Northville claimed first with a time of 1:56.0.

Tammy Selfridge clocked a :66.9 in the 440-yard dash to take second.

Mary Nutter was third in the 330-yard low hurdles with a time of :37.2.

Spigarelli doubled back to win the 220-yard dash (:28.6) and Cathy Norris ran a 14:25.0 to take third in the two-mile run.

The mile relay unit from Northville won with a time 4:47.5.

The Bentley meet on Friday was a disaster as far as firsts for Northville.

The Mustangs managed only one first place winner, Raycraft, in the discus, with a toss of 93'3". Her throw was almost 20 feet further than her effort the previous day.

She had been working with the team for only a week. And the great difference in distances perhaps can be attributed to inexperience.

Raycraft also recorded one of the nine Mustang seconds. She earned the position with a 27'5" throw of the shot put.

Robins took a second in the high jump, clearing 4'8". Liz Mossoian closed out the field event scoring for Northville by earning third in the long jump with a leap of 13'3".

Nutter and Katy Otton went two-three, respectively, in the 110-yard hurdles. Nutter's time was :19.1 while Otton was close behind with a 19:37.

Spigarelli and Vicky Arwady finished two-three in the 100-yard dash. Spigarelli's time was :12.23 while Arwady clocked a :12.78.

McMillan took a third in the mile, this time with a 6:11.15.

Northville's 880-yard and mile relay units took seconds.

Selfridge's 1:06.77 in the 440 was good for third, while Nutter and Otton again went second-third, this time in the 220-yard hurdles.

Nutter's time was :36.37 and Otton's was :36.53.

Spigarelli clocked a :28.10 in the 220-yard dash, and Norris was again third in the three mile run, crossing the finish line in 15:06.55.

The Boating Bargain.

A whole weekend of fun on 10 gallons of gas or less.

The next time you pump 20 gallons of gasoline into your car for a day's drive, think about this.

Just think about how little gasoline it takes for a weekend of water skiing, skin diving, sunning, swimming, secluded beaches, starlight nights.

We'll put it another way. Just a couple of gas cans filled up at your local pump can keep you on the water for the whole weekend.

And if you think getting into boating is expensive, think again. Boats are investments which often increase in value. Boat loan interest is tax deductible and loans are easy to arrange at most Michigan Marine Dealers Association member showrooms. A small initial investment and you're under way. Come on in. We'll show you how you and your family can enjoy a full summer's worth of fun for about the same price as a two week vacation for two in Hawaii.

Pam Metz is a mainstay at first base for the Mustangs

Softball squad downed

The Northville varsity softball team is a lot like a blustery winter blizzard. It tends to leave people stranded away from home.

Case in point: Wednesday, April 30. Northville lost to Churchill 5-3. The Mustangs left 12 runners stranded on base.

The team seems to be able to get people onto the base path, but from there it is no go.

Northville took a short-lived lead in the first inning, as Kim Kurzawa doubled and came home on a single by Diane Hrubciak.

Churchill tied the game in its half of the inning, using a single, a Northville error, and a sacrifice fly.

Livonia then added two more runs in the second inning on another Northville error, a stolen base, a walk, a sacrifice fly and a single.

Northville tied the game in the third inning when Julie Abraham and Pam Metz hit back-to-back singles and then came home on a ball, hit by Kathy Phillips, which the Churchill defense found hard to handle.

Diamondmen battle for league lead today

Northville erupted for 18 hits Monday to down Walled Lake Western 13-9.

The win gives the varsity baseball team a 7-2-2 record overall and a 3-1 league mark (second place).

Dan Goehman, Jim Behen, and John Hale each cracked three hits for the winners. Gary Kucher, Paul Cooper and Steve Norton each had two hits.

Paul Luiki, Bob Boshoven and Rick Borthwick rounded out the hitting barrage with one apiece.

Northville was charged with five errors in the game, which accounted for the fact that pitcher Hale was nicked for only two of the nine Western runs.

He went the distance to record his third win of the campaign against one loss.

On Saturday Northville split a doubleheader with Redford Union.

Northville won the first game 6-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Borthwick.

The Mustang hurler went the distance, recording nine strikeouts on the way to his third win without a loss.

The big blow in this game was a two-run home run by Hale, with Kucher on base.

The nightcap saw a fine pitching performance by Rob Ade go for naught.

Ade lost 5-2. He went the distance, striking out five and walking only two. His record is now 1-1.

Last Wednesday the Mustangs downed Churchill 2-1 as Hale again turned in a super job on the mound.

He limited Churchill to five hits while fanning six enemy batters.

The big hit for Northville was a home run by Bob Boshoven with Borthwick on first base. It was all the padding Hale needed.

Goehman leads the team in hitting with a .444 average. Luiki has 10 runs batted in. Borthwick leads the team with 11 walks and Goehman doubles back as the team's stolen base king with seven.

As a team, the Mustangs currently are hitting .306, with five of the eight regular starters stroking at an above-.300 clip.

Northville will face league leader Plymouth Canton this afternoon in a 4 p.m. home contest. It will be a battle for first place in the Western Six Conference.

Northville scored once more in the seventh inning, but couldn't quite pull the game out.

Kim McGuire scored the final Mustang run.

Northville then met Belleville and lost 11-8 despite a furious five-run rally in the final frame.

Belleville jumped out to a 6-1 lead in the first three innings and watched it melt to a 6-3 margin in the sixth inning.

But Belleville went on to add five more runs in the final two frames to build an insurmountable lead.

Northville tried, scoring six times in the last two innings, but it was too little too late. The Mustangs stranded 10 runners in this contest.

Northville loaded the bases twice in the game only to score once on each occasion.

Kurzawa had two hits in five at-bats, and Sandy Flannigan went four for four as did Phillips.

In the two games, McGuire scored four runs.

"We really played flat in both games," coach Tim Lutes said. "In the first game the girls heard that Churchill had lost to Canton 22-4, so they went into the game expecting an easy time of it. I tried to warn them."

"Then they found out that Belleville was unbeaten, so they were flat for that game. It is something we've been working on in practice this last week, trying to reach an emotional peak to get out of the rut."

One reason for leaving runners on base has been the absence of July Orr's bat from the Mustang lineup.

Orr was injured two weeks ago and is out for the season.

"Yes, we miss Judy. Her absence has definitely hurt us. She was our leading bunter and would have gotten on base a lot," Lutes said.

Northville is now 2-5 on the year.

VanderMolen capped the scoring late in the game assisted by Craig Towalski. Kevin McNeely stood out on defense and goalie Harold York notched his second straight shutout.

Livonia-12-4, Northville United 0
United got excellent goal tending by Brian Stille, who made numerous saves including a Livonia penalty shot. Rick Alonzo played a strong game at wing for the losing squad.

BOYS 16 AND UNDER

Livonia-5-2, Northville Hot Spurs 1

The Northville Hot Spurs were defeated by Livonia in a hard fought contest. Joel Grasley scored the lone goal for Northville.

Livonia-1-4, Northville Arsenal 3
Livonia scored the first goal. Then Ken Rosselot tied the game for Northville with a goal off of a corner kick. The two teams continued to trade goals with Sean Hargreaves getting the Arsenal goal on a penalty shot. Dirk Nowka scored for Northville by dribbling around three Livonia defenders and then shooting it past the goalie. The Arsenal coach praised the play of John Kilokkengea and Nowka.

FROOGLE FOR MOTHER'S DAY

"F.M. Froogle here. If anyone can find a way to save money consistently, it's me. Usually, I don't give mom a gift — too expensive. I just make a card out of old envelopes and get some flowers from my neighbor's garden. But this Mother's Day, I'll look like a big spender — because F&M Distributors has a variety of name-brand gifts specially for mom, at prices you've got to see to believe! Sure I'm thrifty, even on special occasions, but look at it this way — you can get mom two gifts at F&M at about the price of one anywhere else. F&M Distributors has all you need at 'froogle' prices, every day of the week!"

Salem tops netters in non-league match-up

It had to happen eventually. Plymouth Salem broke the Mustangs win streak by tagging the Northville tennis team with its first loss of the season, 5-2 last Thursday.

The team was without the services of two of its top players, Russ Gans and Andy Orlando, and coach Dick Norton felt that his team could have won had those two been healthy.

"It was a non-league game. It just took away our win streak. Salem could have been had," Norton said. "We just didn't have enough on that day of what it takes."

Barry Ouellette, at first singles, had more than enough of what it took to dispose of his foe 6-1, 6-1.

Doug Horst lost at second singles 4-6, 3-6 and Ian Wild dropped the third singles slot 1-6, 2-6.

Jeff Williams won at the fourth singles position, 7-6, 6-2.

Kevin Swayne and Jim Herbel lost at the first doubles tandem, 2-6, 2-6.

Rick Marshall and Les Neal, playing at second doubles, had leads of 5-1 and 5-3, respectively, in each of their two sets, only to lose 5-7, 6-7.

Mark Holland and Dale Fisher then made the doubles sweep complete by losing 6-2, 3-6, 2-6.

The loss was partially offset by two Northville wins.

On Wednesday, the Mustangs downed Churchill 7-0.

Ouellette made it look easy 6-0, 6-0 at first singles, Horst won 2-6, 6-1, 6-3 at second singles, Orlando won 7-5, 7-5 at the third singles spot, and Williams won 6-1, 6-1 to round it all off.

Swayne and Herbel won 6-1, 6-2 at first doubles; Wild and Neal won 6-2, 6-0 at second doubles; and Holland and Marshall teamed to win 6-3, 6-0 at third doubles.

Waterford Mott was the second victim, losing 6-1 Friday.

Ouellette won 6-0, 6-1; Horst won 6-3, 6-2; Williams won 6-3, 7-5; but at fourth singles, Les Neal lost 0-6, 3-6.

Wild and Orlando teamed to win first doubles 6-2, 4-6, 6-1.

Denhoff leads JV nine to win

The Northville JV baseball squad turned what had been a successful season into a semi-disaster last week, losing three games and winning one to stand at 4-

5. Northville beat Redford Union in the nightcap of a twin bill 6-4 behind the four-hit pitching of Mark Denhoff.

The Mustang hurler

fanned five Union batters.

Dave Malinowski, Willie Newman and Mark Goodson each had two hits in the game, with Newman and Goodson each collecting doubles.

Northville lost the first game 7-4. Newman had two hits here, too — a triple and a double. He knocked in two runs.

Earlier in the week Northville lost 4-0 to Churchill and 14-2 to Franklin.

Joe Peters took the loss in the first game, but it was a tough defeat as he allowed only three hits.

Against Franklin, Newman collected the lone Mustang hit, a double.

They made it through—they're U-M graduates

University of Michigan students from Northville who expect their degrees this spring attended the university's commencement ceremonies May 3.

Concert aids Berryman

An evening of music April 23 yielded $815 in a successful benefit for George Berryman, former high school band director who retired because of kidney failure and diabetes-caused blindness.

Organized by the Northville Community Band, the benefit included songs by the Novi Choralaires and soloist Kelly Schulz.

Brass Enlightenment, composed of members of the community band, also played.

The check was presented to the popular, young former band director and his wife May 1 by Jane Franconer, representing the band.

She said that donations were received from friends as well as from

'F' League Openings

There are still openings on teams in Northville's "F" League baseball loop.

If you are 13-14 years of age (can't turn 15 before August 1), there are openings for 10 players on various teams.

If you are interested in playing, call the Northville rec department at 349-0203 for more information.

Berryman, she reported, who still is in his 30s, now is having therapy "to help build up his legs." He has been undergoing dialysis three times weekly.

MOM EVERY YEAR A WINNER

We endorse hanky linens!
29.99! Hurray!

When her days are in print, corporate victory is in sight. Floral and geometric designs dance on an airy weave of white, yellow, tan and orange. The sleeves are rolled, the hanky and patent belt come with. And the buttons go from here to there. Sizes 5-13.

50 total units available, while quantity lasts.

We endorse sheer poly prints!
29.99! Hurray!

When she leaves her desk and goes to dinner, the odds are in favor of these pace-setting poly sheer prints. Standing on both platforms as days turn into nights on the town. This wrap-body is nipped at the waist and held together by a marshmallow soft belt. Tiny liberty prints on navy, wine and violet. Sizes 8 to 18.

We endorse crepe prints!
29.99! Hurray!

When lunch is on the agenda, her campaign strategy calls for stunning sophistication. The majority of the votes go to sheer, poetic sensations that gently waft through midnight caucuses. The shirtwaist with softly shirred shoulders, lacey hanky and self-belt is a melody of motion. White with red and white with black. Sizes 5-13.
