

Hundreds to raise blisters to aid those in need

It time to don your walkin' shoes.

Hundreds of feet that will pound the pavement this Saturday in the annual Northville Jaycees' Project Concern Walk For Mankind will need some comfortable coverings to help the bodies they carry complete the 29-kilometer course.

Walkers once again will start and end at Northville Downs, where registration begins at 7:30 a.m.

Walkers, who are raising money for medical and dental treatment and training for the needy here and abroad, will travel a route winding through the city and township, stopping at 13 checkpoints where water and first aid will be available.

Jaycees will treat walkers to a lunch of hot dogs, pop and chips at a checkpoint at Maybury State Park, which marks the halfway point.

Manning the checkpoints will be various local government bodies, as well as civic clubs and organizations.

They include:

Northville City Council, Northville Township Board of Trustees, city and township fire departments, Cabagetown Association, Northville

Kiwanis Club, Northville Jaycees and Jaycettes, local League of Women Voters, Northville C.B. Club, Northville Eagles, Northville Rotary, and Jaycee International Senators.

In addition to helping provide medical and dental aid programs to needy persons around the world, walkers can designate 20 percent of the money they raise for local charities, schools and churches.

"Eighty percent of the money goes towards funding the Project Concern medical training programs," said Fred Eagle, Walk co-chairman. "Some walkers may decide to pledge the entire sum to support a project important to them here at home."

"Either way, everyone is walking for a good cause."

In past years most walkers were fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, but there also have been some younger and many older participants.

Last year, some 650 concerned people contributed their time and energy to help others.

"We hope to have many anxious feet ready to walk on Saturday," Eagle stated.

It's business manager, 5-2

Supervisor, clerk jobs to become part-time

By KEN KOVACS

Township trustees hope a business manager—to be named this fall—will insure efficient operation of township business.

Trustees by a 5-2 vote Monday adopted a new system of government which will put a full-time business manager in charge of township operations and cut the positions of supervisor and clerk to part-time.

Trustees James Nowka, John Swienkowski and Susan Heintz favored the proposal along with Supervisor Donald Thomson and Treasurer Lee Holland.

Clerk Clarice Sass and Trustee William Zapke opposed it. Under the new system, which will become effective in November, the supervisor will be paid a salary of $11,000, the clerk will get a stipend of $7,500 and the treasurer, who currently is part-time, will get $4,000. Presently, the annual salaries of these officials are $23,000, $19,500 and $4,500, respectively.

The motion, made by Trustee Nowka, states that the new system operate in accordance with guidelines set up by a five-member review committee which, after two months of study, last week submitted to the board a report which listed five alternative systems of government.

The options included the current structure; a restructure which would draw clearer lines of authority but otherwise remain unchanged; a restructure which would make the supervisor the head of township operations; a business manager system and a professional manager system.

The adopted motion requires that the business manager system be adopted—effective when the current terms expire in November—and that a manager be hired "as soon as possible."

He would be answerable only to the supervisor and the board of trustees.

"I think this will provide an interim step towards having a professional manager, which I feel is the ultimate solution," Nowka said.

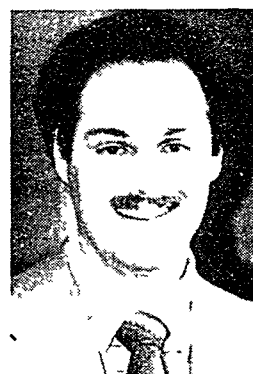

Clerk Sass did not agree.

"I am having problems with appointing a new government for a future board," she said. "And you are adding another layer of government. It is taking the whole grass roots form of government away."

Under the new system, the business manager, who would be paid approximately $22,000 a year, would handle some of the duties currently handled by the full-time supervisor and clerk.

Voters to choose two for school board posts

Northville voters will go to the polls Monday to choose two Board of Education trustees from three candidates.

Voter turnout for the annual election is expected to be light since no other issues are on the ballot, Superintendent Lawrence Nichols said.

"Few voters go to the polls unless there is an economic issue, such as a millage, so we aren't expecting many people," he said.

Nichols also said he thinks campaigning for the posts has been exceptionally quiet this year, attracting little voter attention.

Incumbent Christopher Johnson, age 24, is seeking his second four year term on the board. He has been vice-president and secretary of the board and is presently chairman of its policy subcommittee.

Johnson will enter his final year at the Detroit College of Law in September. He is working as a summer law clerk at Cummings, McCloy, Davis and Aho in Livonia. He lives at 47234 Dunsany with his mother, sisters and brothers.

Gerald L. Munro is making his second bid for a seat on the board. He failed in the June 1979 race.

Munro has been personnel director for 10 years at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Age 42, he has a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's in personnel administration.

He lives at 21831 Connemara Drive with his wife, Hazel, and stepdaughter Connie.

Candidate Ronald Barnum is making his first bid for the board. Currently chairman of the board with the Jaycees, Barnum is an insurance agent with Northville Insurance Exchange.

He has a bachelor's degree in secondary education from Central Michigan University and graduated from Northville schools. He lives at 515 Reed with wife Martha and son Gregory, age 3.

This will be the first board election at which Precincts One and Five voters vote at the Northville City Offices, 215 West Main Street, instead of at the old community building.

Precinct Two voters will go to Silver Springs Elementary School, 19801 Silver Springs Drive.

Precinct Three voters go to Winchester Elementary School, 16141 Winchester Drive.

Precinct Four polls will be at American Elementary School, 847 North Center.

Precinct Six voters go to Moraine Elementary School, 46811 Eight Mile.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. Monday and close at 8 p.m. for the 13,533 registered voters in the district.

Storm casualty

Loss of one of the large trees that line North Center apparently was the most serious result of the storm that blew in late Friday along with area tornado warnings. The tree at 619 North Center slightly damaged the house next door. A tree also was reported down on Allen Drive. Power was interrupted only momentarily, but telephone service was out in some areas, including part of Taft Colony in the western portion of the township which was without service until Sunday. In town a truck was damaged when a manhole cover blew off. Photo by Steve Fecht.

Jean Day appointed editor of The Record

Jean Day, longtime journalist and Northville resident, has been named editor of The Northville Record by Publisher Jack W. Hoffman.

In her new capacity, Day will coordinate the news content of The Record, supervise reporters, establish newsbeats, direct the makeup of the newspaper, and be responsible for the newspaper's editorial policy and budget.

She will continue to write her column, "In Our Town," and assist in developing and writing editorial opinions for The Record.

Day assumes the position previously held by Hoffman, who has held a dual role since being named publisher of Sliger Home Newspapers early this year.

"I am extremely pleased in announcing Jean's deserving promotion," said Hoffman. "Not only is she an excellent journalist, she is an active, contributing citizen of our community."

A native of Flint, she received a BA degree with certificate in journalism from the University of Michigan. In 1962, she and her late husband, Douglas, moved to Northville. She continues to reside at 20359 Woodhill in Taft Colony.

She began writing her column in 1963, also reporting Wixom news for The Record-Nowi News. Later she periodically covered Northville city, township and school board meetings.

Day worked part-time until her husband's death in 1973 when she became a fulltime staffer in charge of the In Our Town section of the newspaper. She also has been covering the city planning commission.

Before moving from Franklin to Northville, she had been a part-time news and feature writer for The Birmingham Eccentric. Before the birth of her daughters, she was a writer for The Detroit News, joining that newspaper's staff on the same day as did Eleanor Breitmeier. The two worked together.

Eighteen file in township

When yesterday's 4 p.m. deadline had passed, 18 persons—all registered Republicans—had filed as candidates for eight elected positions in Northville Township.

Seeking the position of supervisor are Larry VanderMolen, 41848 Ladywood; Trustee William D. Zapke, 42621 Ravina and former township trustee John E. MacDonald, 18272 Edenderry.

Incumbent Clerk Clarice Sass, 19527 Darthmouth Place, will be challenged by Susan J. Heintz, 19850 Iron Gate for the part-time position of clerk.

Former township treasurer Richard Henningsen, 42117 Banbury, will attempt to oust Treasurer Lee Holland, 18103 Pinebrook.

Challenging Constable James C. Schrot, 47900 West Seven Mile, for one of two posts are William C. Gaul, 42809 Itham Court and Joseph D. Lukomski, 41837 Rayburn Drive.

All officials elected in November will serve for four-year terms.

Fowl play by seniors

Prank ruffles feathers

It started out as a joke. Up to 40 chickens were released at various spots within the Northville High School Tuesday as a senior class prank. But after the initial giggles of the amused students died down, concern and pity took their place.

The chickens were brought to the school crammed into the trunk of a car. By time they were dropped off into the school, many had passed out from the heat and from fright.

Others stood in confused little groups in the middle of the hall as students gathered round to look.

Some chickens cowered in corners, trying to escape the feet and legs of the walking students.

When word of the prank reached the ears of one Northville mother, she called ed the school to complain to officials that nothing was done to stop the animals' release. She said that her calls were not returned.

She then called the Humane Society, which said it would investigate.

Ralph Redmond, an assistant principal at the high school, said that the school first contacted the police and then the Humane Society, and that it was advised to send the chickens to a meat packing plant, which is what the school did.

"Although we anticipated some sort of end-of-the-year prank by the seniors, we had no former knowledge of the chickens' coming," Redmond said.

City taxes still go up

Council adopts pared budget unanimously

Northville City Council passed unanimously a $2,118,932 1980-81 city budget and the 1980 federal revenue sharing budget May 27 with praise for the staff that had, as Mayor Paul Vernon pointed out, "worked very hard to stay within the limit of Headlee."

Betty Lennox, city controller, especially was cited for her work in garing down the budget by $95,800 from that originally proposed.

City Manager Steven Walters warned that "things are not looking up statewide," and that union negotiations later may result in layoffs with the tight budget.

The general operating levy of 13.88 mills includes a 0.52 mill fee on summer tax bills for collection in lieu of the previous one percent fee on the winter bills which is being challenged in court.

Appearing on the winter tax bills will be a 1.50 mill for the Randolph Drain.

While the new millage is a reduction from the previous 14.13, city taxpayers in Wayne County will be paying approximately 11.39 percent more because of higher assessed state evaluation. The average taxpayer in Oakland County portion will have a 9.7 percent increase.

The city stipulated that it intends to use its federal revenue sharing funds for entitlement period 12 in the estimated amount of $44,000 for purchase of a fire truck.

Actually, Walters reported, the sum represents the final payment on a pumper truck bought two years ago. He said the city also is getting a new truck this summer which will be purchased with a four-year payoff.

Property taxes estimated at $958,197 represent the highest source of revenue with inter-fund reimbursements of $586,915 and state-shared revenues of $269,670 and licenses, fines and federal grants bringing the total to $2,118,932.

Highest budgeted expenditure is for public safety at $836,407 with public works at $404,870 and insurance, benefits and supplies pegged at $439,290. Administration costs are budgeted at $346,570, with city-township joint services at $91,795 bringing the total to the balanced budget of $2,118,932.

Revenues and expenditures balance for major street fund work at $102,190; local street fund, $93,960; equipment fund, $227,440; sewer and water fund, $532,500; and public improvements, $821,712.

Only in the Allen Terrace senior citizen apartment project does expenditures of $391,613 exceed anticipated revenues of $327,200.

The council, in approving the expenditure, pointed out that it had not been the intention that the senior citizens' housing must have a balanced budget at this time.

Rate increases for residents of Allen Terrace to be effective July 1 were approved unanimously during the meeting. Allen Terrace Executive Director Frances Yoakam had presented the schedule of rate increases at a special council meeting May 12.

While actual operating costs bring rents to $306, the highest rent any tenant will pay will be $275 with others paying less on subsidies based on income. Presently, the top rent is $243.

News Briefs

YELLOW PAINT has been sprayed on some 20-30 areas that leak in the downtown Northville parking structure off Mary Alexander Court. City Manager Steven Walters told city council it was necessary to wait for a hard rain to pinpoint problem areas which the contractor is to repair.

HONORS STUDENTS at Northville High School will be recognized Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium at the annual Honors Convocation ceremony. The accomplishments of 177 students will be acknowledged and college scholarships awarded to exceptional graduating seniors at the event.

Next Six Mile request for rezoning opposed

By KEN KOVACS

"What's to prevent Six Mile Road from becoming a commercial strip?" Township resident E. Thomas Lee, representing a number of citizens with a similar concern, posed this question to planners at a public hearing May 27.

Still recovering from a severe tongue lashing by citizens following their recommendation April 29 to rezone to commercial 16 acres at Six Mile and Sheldon, planners are faced with a second request for commercial zoning on Six Mile.

The most recent request is for 19.48 acres of land located at the northwest corner of Six Mile and Haggerty to be rezoned from R-3 (single family residential) to B-1 (general business).

According to the petitioner, the McQuade Land Company, 16.24 acres would be used for a convenience shopping center. (The other 3.24 acres is owned by Detroit Edison).

"We hope to have a food store, drug store and other convenience shopping stores such as a hardware," said James Ginn, representing the McQuades. "We feel there are substantial advantages for the community, as well as ourselves, if this proposal is carried out."

Though only a few residents attended last week's public hearing on the rezoning request, those in attendance expressed strong opposition.

"I don't want to see Northville Township turn into a Livonia," one resident said. "My wife and I just recently moved to Northville to get away from that."

"We don't want to move again." The McQuades also own approximately 130 acres surrounding the parcel, which will be developed as single family residential, according to Ginn.

Planners' recent support for the rezoning petition at Six Mile and Sheldon was far from unanimous as the vote was 4-3.

Though both the Six Mile intersections of Sheldon and Haggerty have been designated on the revised Master Plan of Land use as desirable sites for commercial developments, the size of the so-called "convenience" shopping centers has caused planners considerable headaches.

"Why does it take 16 acres to have a convenience center?" inquired Kenneth McLarty, planning commission chairman.

Ginn offered an explanation. "It takes 35,000 to 40,000 square feet for a food store," he said. "And 10,000 to 15,000 for a drug store."

"So, in order to develop a center, particularly at this site, you need 16 acres," Ginn said. "Normally it would take 10 to 16 acres."

Planners, concerned about the Edison parcel being included in the legal description of the property, tabled any action on the petition until it has been reviewed by township attorneys.

The next regular meeting of the planning commission will be June 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Two hospitals enter into health care pact

Two hospitals have signed an agreement that among other things may lead to the possibility of developing an ambulatory (outpatient) health care center in the Livonia/Plymouth area.

The hospitals — St. Mary of Livonia and Henry Ford Hospital (HFH) of Detroit — entered onto the agreement to work together on goals of mutual interest.

The agreement, according to hospital officials, provides for the formation of a liaison committee to propose and review activities of mutual interest that will include providing greater access to ambulatory (outpatient) care, and opportunities for sharing clinical, educational and management resources.

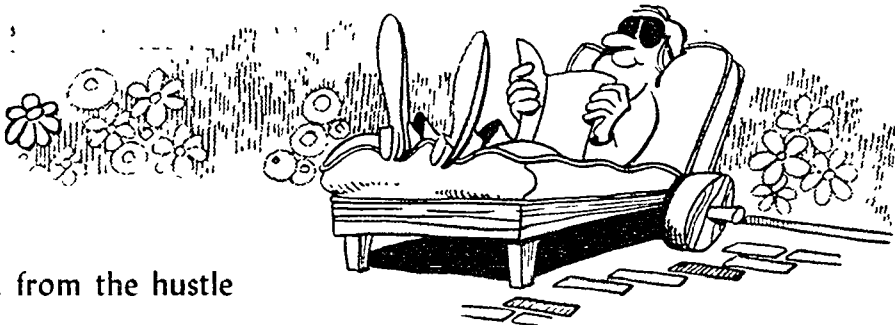

Initially, the committee, which includes medical and administrative staff members from each institution, will explore potential approaches toward the development of an ambulatory care facility in the Livonia/Plymouth area.

According to Sister Mary Columbine of St. Mary, the hospital's long range plan includes development of cost effective outpatient care programs to relieve the existing pressure for non-acute and follow-up care in the emergency room and to provide a group practice setting for physicians. The Henry Ford Hospital system includes two major ambulatory care satellite facilities, the HFH Fairlane Center (Dearborn) and the HFH West Bloomfield Center.

"We feel that it would be to St. Mary's advantage to explore the opportunity of working together," commented Sister Columbine.

Planners support rezoning request

By KEN KOVACS

A local developer has gained township planners' support for a modified version of his petition to rezone some 150 acres of land at the southwest corner of Six Mile and Sheldon from R-2 to R-3 — a higher density single family residential zoning.

Planners May 27 unanimously agreed to recommend to the township board the rezoning of approximately half of the 150.43 acres owned by the Elro Corporation.

Township planning and engineering consultants suggested the split after carefully examining the parcel.

There is a 26-acre ravine located approximately in the middle of the parcel, which is causing the developer great concern.

And township consultants agreed that there is a major problem.

"We find the topography is extremely irregular with a 100-foot differential between highest and lowest points," William Mosher, township engineer wrote in a letter to planners. "The parcel is bisected by a ravine having practically undevelopable steep banks, so that any development will comprise essentially two separated housing areas — one north and one south of the ravine."

Mosher suggested that the area northerly of a line 1500 feet south of the center line of Six Mile Road be retained in R-2 and that the remaining area to the south of that line be granted rezoning to R-3. The zoning boundary would then be shown running through the middle of the ravine.

The developer was informed of the consultants' recommendation at a planning commission meeting April 29. At that time Elro representative Jeff Orley asked planners to table the matter until the next meeting, to give the developer time to review the proposal.

At last week's meeting, Orley presented a third option.

"The zoning change recommended by your consultants would cause irregular lots and irregular houses," Orley predicted. "You would be creating a long, narrow type of house. The normal type house currently being built in the township would be a thing of the past."

"Though we do not disagree with most of the consultants' recommendations, our plan would fit the actual topography better," he said.

Orley's proposal is to create a jagged line south of the ravine, running parallel. This would give the developer an additional land area measuring approximately 60 feet by 590 feet.

The rezoning petition now goes to the township board of trustees for review.

Meet Your Northville School Board Candidates

RONALD L. BARNUM

Born in Detroit, on March 12, 1950. Moved to Northville at the age of 4. Education: K thru 12 in Northville Public Schools, BS Degree in Secondary Education from Central Michigan University in 1972. Major in history and minor in speech communications. Currently employed as an independent insurance agent with the Northville Insurance Exchange.

1. The main responsibility of a school board member would be to oversee the business and educational activities of the school district, see that programs are run responsibly, and that the taxpayer gets the best possible usage from his tax dollar. In addition, the board member should serve as an outlet for the citizens to bring their comments, criticisms, and suggestions to.

2. I don't anticipate any problems in handling the enrollment trend in the district. The challenge I foresee in handling the enrollment trend will be to get the maximum and best usage out of every possible element of our facilities. What we need to do is enhance and build up the image of our school district and our programs. Through use of positive emphasis on the good things about the district, hard work to correct the problems, and maximum utilization of all the district's resources we can handle the challenge of the enrollment trend.

3. The school board can develop and should develop relations and communications with the citizens-teachers-administration and students; through two very basic principles: listening and trying to solve one thing at a time. Through listening to the suggestions from all the groups and by having frequent communication and meetings with all groups, each group can air their opinions to the board for review and action.

After hearing the suggestions from all the various groups, the board should not be afraid to try a new idea or concept in reaching a satisfactory solution to a problem. When everyone concerned knows they'll be listened to and that something will be done then a good working relationship will result.

4. The major issues facing the school board are, of course, financial and educational. The issue that always arises is getting the best possible education for the taxpayer's dollar. The only way one can really handle this issue is to constantly strive to get the best programs, materials, teachers available. It is my firm belief that the taxpayers will support a district when they feel that a good well-rounded, quality education is being provided at a reasonable cost to them.

A second, and I feel key issue is pride in our district. It's time we started to instill some pride in our system. It is important that every employee and every student take pride in his school and district. Much is said about the condition of the schools and other various problems. It's time the board and all other areas of authority in the district start programs designed to cut down on the destructive acts that cost the district money to repair and damages our image in the public area.

5. I've declared my candidacy for the school board because I think I have a fresh viewpoint to offer as a board member. I've seen our system as a student for 12 years, as a teacher, and now as a citizen and local businessman. I feel my community service, work in the Jaycees, coupled with my related experience with the Northville system, qualifies me to serve on the school board.

Education: Bachelor's degree in Business Administration, Roosevelt University, Chicago, Illinois. Master's Degree in Personnel Administration from Michigan State University. Experience: Currently, manager of Personnel Services, Schoolcraft College. Formerly, manager of Labor Relations, Udyllite Corporation, and prior to that, on the corporate industrial relations staff for the Kelsey Hayes Company.

1. I believe that the major responsibilities of a school board member are as follows: to be involved in the establishment of policies, bylaws, rules and regulations for the governance of the district.

To select and appoint a superintendent for the school district

To authorize the superintendent to recommend employ or dismiss all contractual and other employees of the district subject to the policies developed by the board and to any applicable master contracts in force and effect.

To review and pass all financial matters including the annual budget, capital expenditures, etc.

To be responsive to the needs and concerns of the students and to the families of the students and to the taxpayers of the district.

2. I don't see this as a problem, but as a challenge, to educate the taxpayers of the district that it is no longer 1950 and that the 1980's is a different era and will have to be dealt with differently.

3. I would suggest the development of a subcommittee or subcommittees to work with the various referenced groups to ascertain from them their thoughts and opinions and commitments via face to face discussions or properly prepared questionnaires.

4. While it is obvious that the physical plant is in need of repair, especially the high school building, and while finance is an obvious problem, I believe that image is probably the biggest issue that has to be faced, i.e., we have to develop a more positive image of the school district and have to have more involvement by the taxpayers of the district. I think the people in the district have to know that it is a very good school district, and it can become, with their help and assistance, an outstanding school district, and I think this can be partially done by developing better communication and active involvement of the citizenry.

5. Because having been employed almost 10 years as the manager of personnel services at Schoolcraft College, and having worked closely with the board of trustees at the college, and because of my managerial background, I think I have the experience and credentials to be of assistance to the school district, and because of my own philosophy of "You only get out of something, what you put into it."

CHRISTOPHER JOHNSON

I am running for my second term for the board. My education includes graduating from Northville High School in 1973, University of Michigan in 1978, and I'm currently attending the Detroit College of Law. I have served as board secretary and vice-president. I've also served on the Recreation Commission.

1. I believe that a board member must do his or her homework. That includes listening to all sides of an issue, approaching the issue with an open mind and making a decision based on the facts and principles involved. It includes being available to talk when people call for information or to express a viewpoint. It means that a member must view all of the effects that a decision will have on the district. Finally, it means that the member explains his or her position for the votes he or she casts.

2. The largest problem with predicting enrollment trends is that the entire trend can be reversed in a span of less than five years. As a long range plan for

EDITOR'S NOTE — The questions asked of the candidates for the Northville Board of Education were posed by the League of Women Voters of the Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi chapter. The candidates' answers were edited by the League to fit its specified length requirements. The questions are:

1. What do you feel are the major responsibilities of a school board member?
2. What problems do you foresee in handling the present enrollment trend in the district?
3. What can the school board do to help maintain and develop good working relations and communications between citizens-teachers-administration-students and school board?
4. What do you see as the major issues facing the school district?
5. Why are you a candidate for the school board?

Representative Kirksey to run for reelection

State Representative Jack Kirksey (R-Northville, Livonia) has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Michigan House of Representatives from the 35th District.

As Republican vice chairman of the House Labor Committee for the past two years, Kirksey has met with business and labor representatives throughout the state in an effort to find a solution to Michigan's workers' compensation inequities, his backers pointed out.

He also is one of only two House Republicans named by Governor Milliken to his workers' compensation task force, and also serves on several other key labor subcommittees, they added.

A former elementary school principal, Kirksey is a member of the House Education Committee and also serves on the committees on judiciary, mental health and tourist industry relations.

"During my three years in office I have worked diligently to represent the best interests of my constituents," Kirksey said. "I average approximately 44,000 miles per year traveling between the Livonia-Northville area and the Capitol every day plus the travel necessary to attend meetings and various other functions that I am required to attend."

Kirksey further stated that he has extended considerable effort and time to communicate with his constituents and to offer opportunities for citizens to provide input. This has been done, Kirksey indicated, by the use of a weekly newsletter, a bi-monthly newsletter entitled "In Touch," periodic constituent response questionnaires, a Question of the Week telephone survey, and town hall meetings.

Kirksey said his legislative priorities, in addition to workers' compensation reform, include measures to correct the "apparent flaws in representational government."

"I intend to introduce a measure to prohibit legislative lobbyists from being on the floor of the House," Kirksey said. "During the vote on the preliminary engineering funds for the Detroit subway, legislators were particularly vulnerable to special interest groups and I don't think a similar situation should be allowed in the future."

"I opposed the subway bill because I believed we were not voting on a balanced transportation concept or one that met the needs of Livonia and Northville. Yet those special interests were able to come up with enough votes to release what will eventually be $40 million in engineering and preliminary studies."

Kirksey said he is pleased to have a constituency that closely watches his votes on major issues. He is continually impressed with the relatively large numbers of citizens who talk with him directly concerning their views on legislative matters.

City bikes need plates

A revised bicycle ordinance calling for a one-time license fee of $1 was passed unanimously by the city council May 27 at the close of a public hearing.

In presenting the amendment which eliminates previous requirement for annual renewal of licenses, City Manager Steven Walters said the $1 fee won't cover license cost but is a form of theft insurance for bicycle owners.

Licenses will be obtained from the police department, which will issue a plate bearing the license number and name of the city.

The plate shall be returned to the police department when the bicycle is sold.

Penalty for not having a license is a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment for a period not to exceed 90 days, or both, the general penalty for civil infractions.

Walters said the previous requirement for annual licensing was being ignored and the police department feels the one-time only licensing will be more effective and provide registration information making it easier to track down and return bicycles that have been lost or stolen.

Questionable horse sense

It was a question of horse sense. Bachia, a two-year-old Arabian filly, apparently decided to jump the door of her stall at Northville Downs. Bachia had shown earlier that morning at the Kiwanis Horse Show and received a fifth-place ribbon, and, according to her trainer, the excitement must have gotten to her.

"Another horse got loose in the barn; she was already worked up and I guess that was just the straw that broke the back," said Shelagh Houtteman who takes care of the horse for owner Mary England of Fostoria.

Margaret McHugh, veterinarian for the show, said most of the cuts were superficial and shouldn't hamper her movement, but added that any cuts and bruises could be costly to a show horse.

McHugh administered a tetanus shot and some penicillin while daughter Sharon Houtteman tended to cuts and bruises.

"Wouldn't you know she was in stall number 13," she said.

State cuts money to school district

State budget cutbacks announced by Governor William Milliken last week probably will cut more than $85,000 from Northville school system's state appropriations.

The reduction of slightly more than one percent of revenues to all state districts was necessary due to a drop in state income state tax revenues resulting from the current economic recession, Milliken said.

Superintendent Nichols, Northville school superintendent, said it is too early to determine the exact cost of the cuts to the system. State Senator Robert Geake indicated a range of $85,000 to $90,000 when contacted earlier this week, Nichols said.

The funds will be deducted from state monies during the July to September quarter. Nichols noted that this is the last quarter of the state's fiscal year but the first quarter of the district's next fiscal year.

Nichols said it is not yet clear whether the approximate 1.1 percent cut will be based on the system's current year budget or next year's.

The difference could be as much as $10,000. The 1979-80 budget of $8.5 million is the basis of the estimated $85,000 reduction.

The 1980-81 budget is not yet finalized, but a tentative figure of $9.3 million was stated for a Wayne County tax allocation hearing.

"It is probably dangerous to say so this early, but right now it looks to me as if we can cover this out of contingency funds without having to cut programs," Nichols said.

Although this would allow the system to present a balanced budget next year, it would reduce the fund equity available to meet later emergency needs.

Public schools absorbed the brunt of the most recent state spending rollbacks, but Milliken pointed out that they had been spared in earlier reductions.

Nichols said it is "interesting to note" that the cuts are based on approximately one percent of the total income received by districts from all sources, not only the state portion.

Milliken rollbacks will also be necessary this year to comply with the Headlee tax limitation plan passed by voters in 1978. Nichols said the calculation of those reductions is in the early planning stages and will be anticipated in budget preparation.

Nanmar bid accepted for Mainstreet conduit

Low bid of $147,960 by Nanmar Construction Company in Livonia was accepted by the Downtown Development Authority for installation of the public utility conduit for Mainstreet '78 at the DDA's meeting May 27.

The bid is for the underground portion of utility installation and will begin during the week of June 9. It is scheduled for completion within 90 days, city council has been advised.

The bid was the lowest of the nine firms submitting bids. Walters told the city council that the DDA was pleased with the bid as the firm does a great deal of business with Michigan Bell Telephone Company and is well recommended.

The firm, also known as Metropolitan Underground Engineers, will be beginning work to place lines underground, eliminating overhead lines and poles in parking lots and along streets in the central business district.

Wayne Griffin has been retained by the DDA to work with contractors on the project and the city to handle coordination problems that may arise as the project goes ahead.

The DDA also approved a television taping of the outside of the buildings by Legal Tapes at a cost of $1,200 to provide legal proof of exterior condition before construction work begins.

Remaining bids for the Mainstreet '78 project, in an anticipated four parts covering paving, sidewalks, planters, lighting and other town square improvements, are slated to be opened June 19 in preparation for the next steps of Mainstreet '78.

Funding for the Mainstreet '78 downtown renovation is coming from the sale of bonds totaling some $1.6 million coupled with interest gained and federal community block grant funds of about $150,000 bringing the total project cost to about $1.8 million.

Cyclist hurt in crash

A Northville man suffered a compound fracture of his left leg May 27 when his motorcycle was struck by a car at Main and Center.

Francis Bustamante, 361 South Wing, and his passenger, Sharon Alspaugh, 601 Reed Court, were traveling northbound on Center when a southbound car driven by Scott Henson of Milford turned left onto Main, striking the cycle, witnesses told police.

Henson, who was ticketed for failing to yield to oncoming traffic, was not injured, while Ms. Alspaugh suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Bustamante yesterday remained at Botsford Hospital.

A seven-year-old Northville youth escaped serious injury May 31 when he ran across Eight Mile and was struck by a vehicle traveling eastbound, police said.

Jay Wardwell, 212 South Main, disregarded the red light at Center and bounded into the street, witnesses told police, running into a vehicle driven by Tracy Weatherred, 47175 Dunsany.

Doctors said the youth suffered only minor bruises.

Unknown suspects broke into three buildings at Thomson Sand and Gravel, 48399 West Seven Mile May 27, taking approximately $380 in bills and coins and two sets of sockets worth $50, township police reported.

A Smith and Wesson 38 caliber revolver also was reported missing.

Burglars entered a weigh station by breaking windows in the door to the trailer portion of the structure, police said, and entered a maintenance building and garage by breaking off a hasp on the front doors.

The incident is under investigation.

Burglars were scared off from a Napier residence May 29 when they heard an occupant talking to police on the phone.

A man approximately 40 years old had knocked at the front door of the residence. When he got no response, he went to another door and knocked, still with no answer.

The occupant told police two men, one in his 20s, returned approximately five minutes later, wearing gloves, and opened a door at the rear of the residence.

When burglars heard the occupant on the phone they ran off, police said.

Several planter boxes, a couple of pine trees, two ceramic plant pots and a lawn sprinkler were reported stolen from a Winchester residence May 26, township police reported.

The items were valued at $261.

The ceramic pots have been recovered.

A Fuji 10-speed bicycle valued at $235 was taken from in front of a Jamestown Circle residence May 28, township police reported.

Currently, there are no suspects.

Vandals smashed a large window at Quik Pik of 41106 Five Mile May 28 by hurling a rock, township police reported.

Damage is estimated at $400.

An AM-FM stereo radio valued at $300 was reported stolen from a 1979 Ford Pick-up truck parked at the

As Mayor Paul Vernon made the annual proclamation, the city council gave permission for the Manresa Caravan to hold a canister solicitation June 28 in downtown Northville to help defray picnic expenses.

Picnic chairman Ted Marzonie said the caravan is being assisted in the project by city and township police and fire departments and by members of the state police and the Wayne County sheriff's department.

Silent Observer

Up to $1,000 reward

The Silent Observer program will pay cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons committing serious crimes in the City and Township of Northville. You can give your information anonymously and still be eligible for a reward.

The program is financed jointly by the City and Township of Northville and the Northville Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with The Northville Record.

How to report information

To report crime information anonymously by telephone, call either police department and give them your information.

Then give them a code number forward or backward. The police officer will give you the Silent Observer report number. Your code number is recorded separately from the report, sealed in an envelope and locked in a secure place. It is kept strictly confidential.

Township police are seeking assistance in solving six recent incidences of breaking and entering, three larcenies, one auto theft and one case of malicious destruction of property.

— A Michelin tire and chrome mag wheel were taken from a black 1979 Ford Mustang parked near 18623 Innsbrook Drive May 6. The theft occurred sometime between 11 p.m. May 6 and 8 a.m. May 7.

— Wire wheel hub caps were stolen from a number of vehicles parked in Highland Lakes and Kings Mill housing complexes between 11 p.m. May 20 and 6 a.m. May 21.

— Sometime between 7:15 p.m. and 8 p.m. on May 15 unknown persons forcibly entered a residence at 41695 Eight Mile and stole a jewelry box containing miscellaneous jewelry.

— Unknown suspects drove a vehicle across the lawn, removed a mailbox post and pulled a newly constructed fence post from the ground at 19872 Scenic Harbour Lane sometime between 11 p.m. May 16 and 8 a.m. May 17.

— Unknown suspects forced open the front door of a residence at 20051 Springwood and ransacked the home taking a large amount of sterling silver. The breaking and entering occurred sometime between 3:30 a.m. April 22 and 4:40 a.m. April 26.

At Silver Springs: 'A very progressive, positive year'

By KEVIN WILSON

"The parents of Silver Springs (elementary school) were a pretty anxious bunch last summer...we had lost a principal, there was a high teacher turnover, discipline was a problem...things have turned around now, and a lot of that anxiety has been relieved."

With those words, Glenna Davis, co-president of the Silver Springs PTA, summed up for the Northville Board of Education the school year now drawing to a close. The board meeting at the school last Tuesday was almost exactly one year after the board's last meeting there.

In that time, the school lost principal Nancy Fieldman to the Traverse City system, gained current principal Marcia Wiss, began its "schools without failure" program and, Davis said, experienced a "very progressive, positive year."

Davis gave much of the credit to Wiss, who was appointed August 28, 1979. Communication among parents, students and staff at the school has been enhanced, and that is how some of the problems have been solved, Davis said.

"Marcia Wiss has been very open to parents, and to students," she said. "We can take our concerns to her."

Wiss was apparently equally impressed at the willingness of parents to become involved with the school.

"It has been a very good year," Wiss said. "It has been a pleasure to work with such a warm, supportive community."

Parental worries about discipline in Silver Springs' "semi-open" classroom programs have been lessened, though not eliminated.

"Our concerns of last year about discipline have been alleviated, somewhat," Davis told the board. "I don't know of any school today without such problems."

The Silver Springs staff credits implementation of the "schools without failure" techniques pioneered by Dr. William H. Glasser as the source of the improvement.

Since use of the techniques began earlier this year children at Silver Springs are expected to be "responsible for their own behavior" and "learn self-discipline." The method encourages children to think about behavior and make value judgments.

This logic leads to a "no punishment" rule because punishment takes responsibility out of the student's hands and instates a self-image of failure.

The technique, called "reality therapy" by Glasser, has been used to advantage at Silver Springs according to the staff.

Janice Henderson, third-fourth grade teacher at the school, told the board many people think the program cannot work because "you don't do anything to the child."

Without a full understanding of the total approach, she said, it is not obvious that it actually does "do something" in the eyes of the child.

Because the approach demands consistency both parents and teachers are involved in a cooperative effort.

The school also is a state-designated demonstration site for its "movement education program." Silver Springs teachers instruct other districts' staffs in the method which was demonstrated for the board.

Students learn by devising an original game in small groups. More than 100 inquiries from other districts for instruction in the method have been received since the program was instituted.

The board also got a tour of the building and examined some of the programs begun before Wiss arrived.

The extended school day program, named "Kids' Club" by the students, continues to deliver day care services to about 20 students age five to 11 years-old regularly and up to 40 on half-days.

The self-supporting program has been received enthusiastically by both parents and children, it was noted.

The special education program at the school is also going well, the board heard. Wiss said the staff is "committed to mainstreaming," which involves handicapped students in the general classroom. Both handicapped and regular students learn that all people have strengths and weaknesses.

Wiss told the board that, although she is happy with the first year's accomplishments, the staff does not intend to stop improving.

"We are aiming for continuing growth," she said. "Teachers are already planning for next year, evaluating and asking, 'What are the things we need?'"

Wiss noted that she also intends to carry through on some ideas that did not reach fruition this year, extending the relationship between the school and parents.

"The outreach program, where I meet with parents, have coffee, sit around and rap about things, will continue," she said. "We got one done this year, and had another planned but it didn't come off. I'm hoping to really get it off the ground next year."

That sort of interaction between the parents and staff of Silver Springs is coming through to the students at the school, according to Davis.

"The kids know that this is a place where the adults they care about take a great deal of interest," she said.

Probe Hines Park changes

Revised parking is the chief measure being pursued to further relieve problems at Hines Park, although the situation already is considerably improved, according to county board members.

New parking plans are only one of several alternatives and support actions under review, says Commissioners Edward K. Michalski and Thomas Presnell.

Hines Park activity is monitored from the patrol headquarters on Henry Ruff Road where a special Hines Park subcommittee presented a report during the public safety and judiciary committee meeting.

The full committee adopted recommendations of the subcommittee which call for the county road commission to study possibilities of off-the-road parking sites in such fashion that will decrease shoulder parking, traffic congestion and thereby cause dispersion of crowds.

While the sheriff's department is responsible for patrol and law enforcement within the park, the road commission administers the entire county park system and the three road commissioners are park trustees. The study is expected to require at least a month to allow for consultation with other divisions of the road commission, including traffic, planning and legal departments.

"I think we may be moving toward complete elimination of shoulder parking," Michalski observed. He pointed out that a ban against shoulder parking already is imposed along 85 percent of the 17.5 mile long park between Dearborn and Northville.

"If we eliminate the remaining 15 percent, we would hope to prevent parking on either side of the road which allows rowdies to wander back and forth impeding traffic," he said.

Presnell, who has proposed to divide the park into nine smaller ones, said that prohibition of shoulder parking and construction of carefully placed parking lots could have the same effect.

"It appears that it would certainly relieve the congestion that centers along the road and improve the traffic flow, and would seem to offer the deputies easier crowd control," he said.

Presnell said the park is much more safe now for family picnicking, and he pointed to increased sheriff's surveillance and more quicker arrests for parking, health code and traffic violations. He noted that more than 150 arrests were made over Memorial Day weekend and that altogether almost 1,000 arrests were made during May.

Relax standards to earn diploma?

Handicapped Northville students incapable of completing the regular education program leading to a high school diploma could follow another program leading to the same diploma if the Northville Board of Education approves a policy recommendation considered last week.

The program, which reduces the graduation requirements in some areas to allow special education and vocational courses to count toward the diploma, is intended to provide an education "appropriate to (handicapped students') needs and/or capabilities," according to the report.

The proposal drew fire from some board members who saw the granting of a regular high school diploma to mentally impaired students as a dilution of the value of the diploma.

In recommending the special program administrators and members of the board's policy committee noted that state and federal law requires equal opportunity for education to the handicapped and the inability to graduate with a degree could be interpreted as discrimination.

Handicapped students would meet a different set of criteria for graduation if they were incapable of meeting the regular requirements.

The program of study calls for 150 credit hours of study, the same as that in the regular program.

Differences between the regular and proposed requirements include:

- Reduction of a two year science requirement to one year;
- A six semester English requirement could be met by taking one semester of practical writing or composition and three semesters of electives. Speech therapy would count as an elective toward this requirement;
- One semester requirements for U.S. history, government, behavioral science and social science could be met with one semester of government and one semester of adult living or its equivalent.
- The one year physical education requirement could be met with special education physical education, physical therapy or other courses;
- Elective courses of 70 hours in the regular program would include required pre-vocational and vocational classes, including industrial arts, home economics, work study and cooperative education.

Both routes to a diploma require 150 credit hours of work.

Charles Peltz, board treasurer, was the first to lodge an objection to the plan, taking exception to awarding the same diploma to students using different courses of study.

"Diplomas have been cheapened in many systems recently," Peltz said. "In the case of Northville, I think a high school diploma still has meaning; that it indicates the student has accomplished something."

He said he was concerned that employers would come to respect Northville diplomas less if the same diploma were given to students incapable of meeting the regular standard.

Leonard Rezmierski, special education director, contended that the "alternative sequence is not diluted down. At the intelligence level they have, they have met the requirements for graduation."

He said there are 26 other such alternative sequences for the handicapped in Wayne County. Along with Lawrence Nichols, superintendent, he pointed out that the difference between programs of study would be seen in transcripts usually sent to colleges and employers.

Both administrators warned the board that, if it were to award a different diploma to the handicapped students, it would have to differentiate between diplomas granted to students in the regular program with vastly different curricula or place themselves in a "very precarious position in regard to the law."

Trustee David Llewellyn supported Peltz in opposition to the plan, suggesting that consideration be given to differentiated diplomas in the policy committee as one means of avoiding dilution of the standard diploma.

Trustee Christopher Johnson, policy committee chairman, suggested approval of the alternative program, saying that the hours lost in some areas are picked up in vocational training to prepare the students for independent lives after graduation.

The second reading of the proposal will be Monday. A vote is expected at that time. If approved, the new program would be instituted with the 1980-81 academic year.

CHRIS JOHNSON FOR SCHOOL BOARD

In the last four years, I have worked hard to change the attitude, atmosphere and image of the Northville Public Schools. I believe that I've tried to represent the needs of the students of the district.

I try to listen to all points of view and all of the differing arguments. I try to be available to talk to on all of the issues. While no one will agree with my positions all of the time, I have always tried to explain my reasoning on issues. I believe that people know where I stand and that my positions remain consistent.

I am proud of my record and performance as a boardmember. If you re-elect me to the Board of Education, I promise you the same hard work that I've done in the past.

Mansion conversion

Stately home may become restaurant

One of Novi's most distinguished landmarks may be preserved and converted into a first-class restaurant if the present owner has his way.

David A. Perry, an attorney representing Luigi Cervi, appeared before the Novi City Council Monday to request a liquor license for the Rogers mansion near the northeast corner of Nine Mile and Novi Road.

What we'd like to do is convert the home into a first-class restaurant," Perry told the council in requesting the liquor license.

"The site is an historic landmark in Novi, and we feel that converting it to a restaurant would enable us to preserve it in more or less its original state.

"The house can either be preserved by converting it to a restaurant or torn down and put to some other use — perhaps multiples."

Built in 1930-31, the house stands on the north side of Nine Mile, just east of Novi Road on what is the historic Thornton farm that dates back to the early 1800s.

Its first owner and its creator was Charles E. Rogers, who made his fortune in the condensing business. In fact, he and his father are credited with inventing condensed milk.

In more recent years, its occupants have included the Crusoe and Sinacola families. Its present owner is the Arkin Distributing Company whose headquarters are located immediately to the east of the stately old mansion.

Area historians have been concerned about the future of the home since construction of the Arkin headquarters to the east. Its huge size and location in an industrial area have all but destroyed its usefulness as a single family residence.

Only the rich could afford to live there, and no rich person would choose a location so close to industrial uses.

Irwin Arkin, the present owner of the house, told the council Monday that he was pleased to have someone (Cervi) with the background and financial backing to convert the home into a restaurant.

"People are always stopping their cars to look at it," commented Arkin. "I wish I had a dollar for everyone who has said it would make an ideal restaurant. In Mr. Cervi, I feel I've found someone who has the expertise in both the restaurant and building business to be able to do just exactly that."

Perry told the council that Cervi has plans to convert the old home into a first rate restaurant.

He reported that Cervi has been negotiating for the services of the chef of "one of the top five restaurants in the area" whose contract with his present employer is slated to expire in August.

"If we could get the liquor license and all the necessary approvals, I think we could be open for business as soon as Labor Day," stated Perry.

"But we have to act quickly because our chef has got to know he'll have this restaurant before he leaves his present job."

Perry declined to identify the chef or the restaurant with which he is presently associated.

Although council members expressed interest in preserving the old home by converting it to a restaurant, they also noted that several problems must be overcome before they can approve the request for a liquor license.

Mayor Romaine Roethel pointed out that the state may block the liquor license unless the old home is made barrier-free which probably involves putting in an elevator to provide access to the second floor.

Additionally, council members noted that the area is presently zoned multiple-family — a zoning designation that does not permit restaurants.

Council members also questioned whether the proposal was in concert with the city's policy for awarding liquor licenses. The policy gives top priority to uses which involve "hotels, motels and banquet facilities."

However, City Manager Edward Kriewall said he felt the proposed restaurant was in accord with the policy. "Our first priority under the policy is for hotels, but after that I feel a first-class restaurant in a unique setting would rate high on our list for awarding liquor licenses," he said.

Kriewall also noted that the city should have additional liquor licenses as a result of the federal census no later than the middle of next summer.

"Even if someone were to break ground today for a hotel, there's no way he could be finished before we have additional licenses for distribution," he said.

The council stopped short of recommending approval of a liquor license for the proposed restaurant, noting that it would be improper to approve a license for a use which is not permitted under its present zoning.

"I see the potential for something of great benefit to the city," commented Council Member Ronald Watson. "The next step should be to seek the appropriate zoning designation and then come back to us with more details on the proposal."

Perry responded that he would send a representative to file for the rezoning "the first thing in the morning."

"It's something which I think we'd all like to see come about," he said.

The historic Rogers Mansion on Nine Mile near Novi Road could be converted to a first-class restaurant

BROOMFIELD

Congressman seeks reelection

Congressman William S. Broomfield, who represents the Oakland County section of Northville, has announced he will seek reelection in the fall general election.

Nominating petitions to place Broomfield's name on the ballot have been filed with the Secretary of State's office in Lansing.

Broomfield said he plans an active campaign for himself and to help bring about a change in the White House and in the leadership of congress.

"I can't recall a period when we faced so many critical problems both at home and in the field of foreign policy. We are suffering from a lack of leadership, and we desperately need a new direction from the executive branch and the congress," he said.

Schools to fight fire code ruling

A little-used state fire code rule is continuing to give Northville school administrators fits.

The rule is the only snag preventing completion of the district's Annex remodeling project for use by the Institution's Special Education Program (ISEP) on time and within budget.

A third informal appeal of the state fire marshal's ruling that the plans do not meet the code was denied recently. All other phases of construction are proceeding well and should be ready on schedule in June.

"We think the state-wide implications (of the rule) for special education programming are tremendous," Superintendent Lawrence Nichols told the Northville Board of Education last week.

Rule 29.71(6) of the state School Fire Safety Code of 1973 calls for an exterior door in any school room to be occupied by handicapped students whose mobility is impaired.

Approximately 16 of the students in ISEP's severely mentally retarded program have such handicaps.

Should the fire marshal's ruling stand, exterior doors would have to be installed in many rooms of the building at a cost previously estimated at $90,000.

Were the code to be enforced uniformly, any new construction or remodeling of a school attended by handicapped students would need exterior doors to each room.

Leonard Rezmierski, ISEP director, told the board that the latest appeal was denied "faster than any other communication we have had with them."

Administrators offered an evacuation plan for the building as an alternative to doors, but, Nichols said, the state denied that approach since it did not include a one-to-one ratio between teachers and students.

"Our plan had one adult assigned to each student, but the fire marshal rejected that because the adults were not in the rooms full-time," Nichols said.

"Basically, what we have here is the state fire marshal telling us that we have to have a one-to-one staffing ratio for any program involving mobility impaired students. There isn't a district in the state that could afford that."

Another alternative might be installation of a sprinkler system, but that would delay completion of the building and the issuance of an occupancy permit.

Rezmierski noted that the plans for the structure are over two years old and there has been no previous notice of a code violation.

Nichols said he plans to continue the fight with the state because of the wide-reaching affects the rule could have if allowed to stand.

The superintendent's fighting mood was echoed by Trustee Christopher Johnson, who told Rezmierski to make sure careful records are kept of all communications in the dispute.

"If we lose this, the report goes straight to the governor to show how we have to use their tax dollars," Johnson said. "This is nonsense."

Financial problems top worry for refugee family

By KATHY JENNINGS

Novi's adopted refugee family is glad to be alive and living in Michigan, but adjustment to a new culture and lifestyle is coming slowly.

For the father, Bui Noi, financial concerns associated with raising a family of 13 weigh heavily.

When asked about adjustments that have led him to brief spells of depression, Noi says "there are so many things."

"Too many people, finding a good job, his family budget, money."

Rent for the five-bedroom home in Northville costs the family $475 per month. To feed 13 people costs at least $700 per month.

"After next month we probably will be on our own, paying the rent, the telephone, there's a lot to worry about. We don't have the money to pay for the whole thing," Noi says through his son-in-law Bac who acts as an interpreter for the family.

Adjustment is even more complicated considering the fact that in Vietnam the Bui family was upper class. His bicycle accessory factory employed 50 people. Considered wealthy in their country, the Bui's owned a three story house, three cars and employed servants.

When they left the country they lost everything to the Communists and their current state of depending on others for everything is demeaning to the Vietnamese.

"It's not that they're not grateful — they are," explained Carol Mason who has been working closely with the family since its arrival in the United States.

"But they don't want to have to depend upon other people. They're not looking for a hand out. They are more than willing to work. They just want a good job."

Noi has come to realize that he cannot support his large family on a job which pays minimum wage. But the language barrier so far has prevented him from getting a job which could provide for them comfortably.

In an attempt to remedy at least part of the problem Noi has been taking English classes full time. But Mason said he also recognizes that he needs some job experience. She indicated the ideal situation for the father would be a medium paying position where he could get on-the-job training.

Bac emphasized that his father-in-law can fix bicycles.

The son-in-law himself is seeking employment and a home close to his relatives. Presently, he lives with his wife and two sons approximately an hour away from the rest of the family.

Bac has been in the United States for six months and has developed a quick mastery of the language which has helped the family communicate with the Novi residents who have been helping them.

Mason said Bac has experience as a math teacher and also was involved in the bicycle accessory business.

Although the financial considerations are the most crucial, Mason indicated the family also would like to become more involved in the community.

Help from friends who would be willing to take the children on trips or other activities which would help the family get to know the community better would be greatly appreciated, Mason said.

"Last weekend we took the children to a museum in Ann Arbor. Then we went to Twelve Oaks and rode the elevator and escalators. They loved it,"

Mason said.

Apparently, the younger children are adjusting more rapidly to the change than their elders. A neighbor has been to the home to teach them English and they are attending the Northville Schools.

The two eldest daughters are taking English lessons and working at Emblematic, Mason indicated. In Vietnam the girls were taught to read and write English, but this is their first experience speaking the language.

Mason said that Novi residents who have been helping the Vietnamese family have for the most part dwindled to a small core of people.

"The family wants to be able to maintain its own household, but it looks to me like it will take a good year for them to adjust," Mason said. And during that time they are going to need help.

"People willing to drive, help the family get to know the community, take the kids places; any financial help which could get them over the next few months; and a medium paying job for Noi — those are their greatest needs," Mason said.

City adopts official travel policy

A city travel policy setting up guidelines for officials and employees to attend meetings, schools and conferences outside the community was passed unanimously by the city council at its May 27 meeting.

The formal policy was drawn up by City Manager Steven Walters at the request of Mayor Paul Vernon.

The request was made after The Record ran an editorial raising a question about the need for council approval on trips.

As the council discussed the proposed formal guidelines, Vernon reiterated to the council that the trip he and Ted Mapes of the department of public works had taken to the Edison Lighting Seminar in Hendersonville, North Carolina, was "helpful as it covered energy conservation, lighting installation and maintenance costs" that could be applied to the upcoming Mainstreet '78 project.

The new policy provides that:

All travel expenses shall be subject to the approval of the appropriate department head and the city manager;

All travel expenses shall be subject to budget appropriation limits and accounting procedures, as with other operating expenses;

Availability of travel expense funds shall not be considered as automatic authorization to attend annual conferences or conventions. Every travel activity shall be approved on its own merits, based on a review of the program agenda and its usefulness to the city;

Whenever a training opportunity is offered at more than one location, the one closest shall be selected;

Travel expenses shall be limited to those actually required to take advantage of the meeting or training, and shall not include entertainment or other incidental expenses.

If a travel activity includes any expenses which are paid by private agencies or individuals rather than governmental agencies, such travel activity and the nature of such paid expenses shall be reported to the city council, prior to the occurrence of such activity, if possible.

As the guidelines were discussed, Walters observed that he feels there is no problem in the city as "we have to try to whip most employees to go to meetings."

Obviously irritated by the newspaper editorial, Vernon said he had felt "obligated to go for the benefit of the city" and added that he had gone as late as possible as he travels enough on business" of his own. It was pointed out that the newspaper was questioning only the fact that the trip did not have prior council approval.

Vernon stated that it really was taken through the Downtown Development Project, which was aware.

Councilman J. Burton DeRusha commented that he thought it a good idea to define policy, "giving a code of conduct for all of us."

In making the recommendation, Walters noted that he and department heads agree that, in general, the annual national professional conferences are not of sufficient value to warrant regular attendance, and are considered primarily when located near, such as in Detroit or Chicago.

He said educational seminars generally are more valuable and usually are given in more than one city, with Chicago being a typical location.

State-level conferences, he continued, tend to be more worthwhile since they deal with problems in a context more directly applicable than national ones.

He listed as an example of an upcoming trip a training seminar in Chicago July 24-29 which Fran Yoakam, executive director of Allen Terrace, is to attend.

Deadline nears on Viet bonus

Deadline to apply for the Vietnam Veterans era bonus is June 30, State Senator Robert Geake reminded veterans this week.

"Every Vietnam vet who is eligible for this program should apply for the benefits," he said. "It grants $15 for each month of service up to a maximum of $450, and veterans who are eligible for the Vietnam Service Medal or Armed Force Expeditionary Medal are entitled to a $600 cash bonus."

In order to receive the bonus, a veteran must have 190 days of active duty between January 1, 1961 and September 1, 1973; must have been a Michigan resident for at least six months prior to active duty or lived in the state during active duty for at least six months immediately prior to January 1, 1961; and must have served honorably.

"Surviving wives and husbands, children or parents also may be entitled to benefits," Geake said.

Geake urged anyone who thinks he or she may be eligible to pick up an application packet at the MESC office or request one by mail from the Vietnam Bonus Section, Department of Military Affairs, 2500 South Washington Street, Lansing, Michigan 48913.

Enrollment sets record

Some 4,136 students have enrolled at Schoolcraft College, the highest ever for a spring session.

According to Registrar Russ Bogarin, the total represents 3,160 in traditional credit classes, 519 in continuing education classes and 457 in community services credit-free classes.

The registrar said Bowman's Jewell grad traditional credit enrollment is more than 10 percent higher than a year ago and the largest since 1976.

The previous highest total enrollment was recorded last spring when 3,500 attend, more than 600 fewer than this year.

Schoolcraft's spring session continues through June 24. Mail registration for the summer session, which will be held June 27-August 21, opens on June 2.

Building to be in Plymouth

Northville okays centralized court

The City of Northville is joining three other communities in the 35th District Court in taking official steps toward providing the court with its own building. On May 27 city council members voted unanimously to participate in the project.

Plymouth City and Township officials have approved the concept, while Northville Township has reacted favorably and has the resolution on the agenda for its June 12 meeting.

Canton Township is the only one of the five communities in the 35th District not participating.

At the council meeting Judge James Garber told the members that "Canton's position may be softening," and he asked that the remaining communities — Northville city and township and Plymouth city and township — move ahead to provide a central headquarters for the court.

The resolution passed by the council approves the offer of the City of Plymouth to acquire and construct the necessary facilities and lease it to the district court for a term of 25 years.

According to provisions of the resolution, lease payments for the facilities shall be paid to the City of Plymouth by the court as part of the court's annual operating budget. If revenues are not sufficient, the resolution provides that the local units will cover the difference up to an unspecified amount.

Judge Garber appeared at the council meeting and urged adoption of the resolution, explaining that the City of Plymouth's offer to fund the building was being made because that city owns property on Plymouth Road east of Hillside Inn and across from Burroughs which could provide a central location.

The city also has pre-Headlee bond money available so that completion of the building conceivably could be shortly after the beginning of next year.

Judge Garber pointed out that having a court in one location can be a great advantage in a situation like the present one in which Judge Dunbar Davis has been ill. It would be easier for a judge to assist another if both are located in the same building, he said.

Garber said that the present telephone bill of $13,000 to $14,000 could be reduced to approximately $3,000 or $4,000 with a unified court.

The proposed court would be only about three and a half minutes away from Northville Township, the council was told.

Councilmember Stan Johnston urged approval, saying the city "simply can't afford to provide its own court facility."

Judge Garber was optimistic that fees would continue to increase, pointing out that proceeds were up 25 percent the first three months of this year.

"We returned almost $200,000 in costs the first three months," he said, attributing the opening of the M-14 and I-275 expressways that bisect the district with the increases.

Judge Garber told council that Woodhaven courthouse is "a fine design that could be used with few changes. It also offers possibilities for an addition."

With a 25 percent yearly growth, he concluded, the $1.3 million overall cost shouldn't be a problem.

During 1979 the 35th District Court returned a total of $648,331 to the five communities it serves. The first quarter increase this year is approximately $75,000 over last year for the same period.

Maurice Breen, chairman of a unified court study, estimated in a report to the council that there would not be any need for the communities to have to pay court costs out of their general fund budgets.

Based on the four communities participating costs would be divided as follows: City of Northville, 36.8 percent; Northville Township, 3 percent; City of Plymouth, 59.87 percent; Plymouth Township, .0216 percent.

Based on increases in 1980 over 1979, the report states, the $160,000 per year for debt retirement should be made up in approximately three years and each of the communities (including Canton in the projection) will be receiving revenues equal to 1980 or in an excess after this period.

Stephen's winner

The Record last week erroneously reported that John P. Calandaro (George Bush) had defeated Douglas Whitaker (Ronald Reagan) in precinct two in the city.

While Calandaro did win and will be the Republican delegate representing precinct two, his opponent was Stephen Whitaker, son of Douglas.

Tennis pro Joe Brennan will instruct the classes.

A tennis clinic for youth from the ages of 10-18 will be offered in two one-week sessions, five days a week.

First session will be August 18-22 and the second from August 25-August 29. The clinic will be conducted from 3-5 p.m. each day.

The fee for the clinic is $15 for members of the Y and $20 for non-members.

The clinic will take place at the Canton High School tennis courts. Brennan will conduct the clinics.

The soccer camp will be in session twice during the summer. First session will be from July 7-11 and the second from August 18-22.

Clinics will be run at the Starkweather Elementary School field in Plymouth.

The July clinic will take place from 9 a.m.-noon and the August camp from 3-6 p.m. Both clinics will take place Monday through Friday.

Participants will be challenged to work to their own potential, with the importance of winning placed in the proper perspective, officials point out.

Larry Christoff, the head soccer coach at Schoolcraft College, and Van Dimitriou, the former soccer coach at the University of Michigan — Dearborn, will conduct both clinics.

Fee for the camps is $38 for members of the Y and $42 for non-members. The fee includes a camp soccer t-shirt.

The clinic is for youths from 7-17 years of age.

School board renews education agreement

Education for residents of the Plymouth Center for Human Development over 26 years of age will be provided by the Wayne-Westland school district, the Northville Board of Education determined May 27.

State law requires that education be provided to the multiply handicapped residents of the center. The board had to make a special agreement with Wayne-Westland because PCHD lies within Northville school district boundaries.

The agreement, for July 1, 1980 to June 30, 1981, will provide up to 25 hours of instruction weekly to approximately 140 residents of the center during the regular school year.

The board action renews an arrangement first made last year. An in-depth review of the program is not yet done, but the board was given indications that both PCHD and Wayne-Westland workers are pleased with the results.

"Definite behavior changes" among the residents were cited as one result of the program. Some residents were found to be capable of learning enough to earn a General Education Degree (GED), equivalent to a high school education. Their potential was "masked by multiple handicaps" prior to the education plan, administrators said.

The board renewed a similar two year-old plan with Wayne-Westland to provide adult education at Northville State Hospital at its May 12 meeting. Both agreements give Wayne-Westland full financial and managerial responsibility for the programs.

CITY OF NOVI

WE'VE GOT A NEW PIPELINE

The cities of Novi and Walled Lake are offering a new service made available to any citizen seeking housing in our community. Anyone who feels he may have been discriminated against in the sale and rental of housing of any kind, based on religion, race, color, national origin, age, sex, marital status or handicap is urged to come to the city offices to talk with us. We have a new and effective pipeline to the Michigan Department of Civil Rights and the Fair Housing Center, both agencies equipped to deal with discrimination in housing matters. Our personnel have been trained to process complaints and to recognize discriminatory treatment.

John Hazelroth, the Housing Coordinator of Novi and Walled Lake, has recently attended a workshop sponsored by the Fair Housing Center. It included training in use of complaint forms especially designed for this project, and role play activity alerting office personnel to situations which may involve housing discrimination.

This training has been initiated by the Oakland County Community Development office and is available to all communities participating in the Oakland County Community Development Block Grant Program.

The cities of Novi and Walled Lake are pleased to be able to offer assistance to citizens seeking housing in accordance with provisions of relevant local, state and federal fair housing laws.

Whereas, a study has been made at the request of Mayor Paul R. Vernon as to the advisability of creating an arts commission for the purpose of encouraging, developing and promoting activities in all of the fields of Art, and

Whereas, the Council for the City of Northville believes that it would be in the best interests of the citizens of the Northville area to establish such a commission, and

Whereas, the Council feels that the membership of this commission should not be limited to residents of the City, but should encompass persons with expertise and special interest in the field of Art,

Now, therefore, the Council of the City of Northville hereby resolves:

1. That a commission to be known as the Northville Arts Commission is hereby created.

2. That said commission shall initially consist of 5 members but additional members may be appointed by City Council from time to time. At the time of appointment of the initial commission members 1 shall be appointed for a term to expire July 1, 1981, 2 shall be appointed for a term to expire July 1, 1982, and 2 shall be appointed for a term to expire July 1, 1983. The terms of additional members appointed by City Council will be such that the number of terms expiring each year shall be as equal as possible.

3. Membership on the commission shall not be limited to residents of the City, but shall encompass persons who have expertise and/or a special interest in the field of art.

4. The purpose of this commission shall be to encourage, develop and promote activities in all of the fields of Art.

5. This commission shall elect its own officers and formulate its own by-laws and rules of procedure, which shall, prior to adoption, be approved by the City Council. Any amendments thereto shall also be subject to said approval.

Mayor Vernon mentioned the residents at 505 Grace have a proposal to purchase the adjoining 40' of property which the City owns. Council had asked the City Manager at the last meeting to acquire an appraisal of the property. The appraisal was received. Mayor Vernon suggested it might be advisable to go out for bids.

The City Manager stated that should state on the bids that the location be 505 Grace.

Councilman DeRusha asked if the successful bidder happens to be the owner of the front portion of the property, would this restrict them from putting up an accessory building. The City Manager answered no and explained.

Councilman DeRusha stated he would like to see the City go out for bids with deed restrictions on the property.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to advertise for bids on the w 40 9 feet of lot no 8 Yerkes and Horton Addition Motion Carried Unanimously BIKE ORDINANCE Mayor Vernon stated Council needs to set a public hearing on the Ordinance and what the one-time fee should be set as.

The City Manager explained the Merchants Cash Register did not meet the specs and were being on a subject that would not be on the market until August.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to accept the bid of Sales Control Systems, Inc. — Sweda, in the amount of $3,899.00 for 2nd cash Drawer, dept. keys to provide at least 192 departments at $250.00.

Motion Carried Unanimously. b. Fairbrook: The following bids were opened at 11:00 a.m. on Monday, May 5, 1980 in the presence of the City Manager, Controller and City Clerk:

Richard & Charlotte R. Zabel, 19250 Meadowbrook, Northville, Cash Sale No Commission $25,000.00

Century 21 Suburban, Ian M. Allan, 18682 Jamestown, Northville, Cash Sale plus 6% Commission $32,500.00 less $1,950.00 equals $30,550.00

Frank A. Bauss, 18245 Edenderry, Northville, Cash Sale — No Commission $31,101.00

The City Manager mentioned one qualification in Mr. Bauss' bid was the existing buildings would be able to stay and count as parking.

Mr. Bauss commented his thoughts were to have 2 two-bedroom units and 2 one-bedroom units and use the block building for a garage. The other building is near the lot line and has some value as a four-car garage with storage in the back.

The City Manager remarked the real issue is the building is a nonconforming structure and should be continued as long as it is not enlarged. He mentioned the building inspector gave Mr. Bauss an indication that the building would have to be torn down.

Mayor Vernon asked if that were a contingency of sale.

The City Manager suggested the City Attorney should look at this and give an opinion.

Mayor Vernon mentioned there was some confusion as to whether Mr. Bauss would not buy the property if the buildings could not stay.

Mr. Bauss stated he did not want to tear down the buildings.

Mayor Vernon stated he wanted to be sure that was the wording he wanted to use the buildings if at all possible.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman Gardner to accept the high bid of Frank A. Bauss in the amount of $31,101.00 for Lot 3-4, Assessor's Northville Plat no. 4 of Gorton's Addition, also known as 501 Fairbrook.

Motion Carried Unanimously. WALK FOR MANKIND: Request from the Northville Jaycees, project concern's Walk for Mankind asking Council to staff a checkpoint for this year's Walk on Saturday, June 7, 1980.

Council, has in the past, staffed a checkpoint at the Northville Well on S. Main.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman DeRusha to man the checkpoint for the Walk for Mankind on Saturday, June 7, 1980.

Motion Carried Unanimously. The City Manager mentioned he had received a revised copy of Jim Nowka's letter and would have it for the next agenda. He stated the Building Department records are doing better than last years. He explained the City's fees were shared on a 13.9% formula. If the fees were shared on the Township's formula this year, the City would only have paid about 1%. He stated he would be proposing alternatives.

The City Manager explained his secretary had talked to the City Attorney about the Advisory Committee re Omniscr. The City Attorney advised that it would be an unstructured group of township and city people. There was nothing in the franchise that specifically detailed the numbers communities might appoint.

Mayor Vernon suggested asking Schoolcraft College for a recommendation and appoint them. Also, ask the school board and the library for recommendations.

The City Manager commented on appointing the librarian and someone from city government.

Councilwoman Ayers asked if there would be any value of appointing Fran Yoakam, Allen Terrace Housing Director, on the board.

Mayor Vernon commented that it was a good suggestion also should have the other recommendations on the 27th agenda.

The City Manager suggested someone from the Police Department should also participate.

The City Manager explained there were three points made in the budget notice, i.e., the collection fee has been declared unconstitutional by the District Court and the decision is being appealed, however, the outcome is unknown at this time. It could be cancelled on this year's tax bills which would mean a loss of $32,000 to the City. The City would propose to levy 0.52 mill for the collection cost in lieu of the 1% collection fee on the water tax bill which would not result in any tax increase over the normal collection fee amount.

The City Manager mentioned the District Court distribution error had not been resolved with the water tax bill which would not result in any tax increase over the normal collection fee amount.

The City Manager stated the engineers drawings could be done which is something that will ultimately have to be done. He suggested the Council adopt a resolution requesting the County to proceed with a design on the construction of S. Main with options and committing the city to pay 40% of the design costs.

Mayor Vernon asked what 40% of the design costs would be.

The City Manager stated he could have those figures for the next meeting.

Our opinions

Johnson's our only choice

Going into next week's annual school board election, The Record enthusiastically endorses the re-election of Christopher Johnson to one of the two four-year seats but it makes no choice for the second seat.

Both of the other candidates, Ronald L. Barnum and Gerald W. Munro, obviously are well qualified and both, we believe, possess a sincere desire to enhance the school system. Neither, however, is as impressive as the young incumbent candidate.

Chris Johnson, who four years ago at the age of 21 was the youngest person ever elected to the school board, has demonstrated a maturity beyond his age. He has been a hard-working, contributing member of the board for the past four years and we have every reason to believe his enthusiasm, his tireless research, and his reasoned, carefully framed positions and decisions will continue unabated upon re-election.

Chris Johnson is not a "yes" man, but neither is he a disruptive, negative member of the board. When he disagrees with a board position or with an administrator's recommendation he speaks his mind and does so constructively. In short, we are pleased with what he has done, and we urge voters to return him to office.

In the other two candidates we see some outstanding assets but we also perceive potential shortcomings.

For example, Barnum, in our opinion, lacks the important maturity and the valuable experience of Munro. On the other hand, Barnum appears to be more enthusiastic and is less inclined to come down automatically on the side of the educator-administrator. Furthermore, Barnum's long-time residence here, together with his schooling in the system that the board governs, gives him an insight that Munro does not possess.

Munro, however, is clearly the better educated, more sophisticated candidate, whose impressive administrative experience, particularly having to do with labor relations, could be a real asset to the board. He is less likely to side with teachers than would Barnum when it comes to negotiating spiralling teacher salaries, but taxpayers who complain about administrators' tax-gobbling salaries probably will find Barnum in their corner.

Of the two, we suspect that Barnum will devote more time to board work than Munro — primarily because of Munro's time requirement at Schoolcraft and because Barnum, in past activities here, has demonstrated a willingness to sacrifice his personal and professional time to assume active roles in the community.

Setting aside time to attend one or two school board meetings a month is not all that is required of a board member. It also means attending countless committee meetings; it means reading, researching and understanding mountains of paperwork; it means attending workshops and a variety of school functions, meeting the public, answering questions, fielding complaints — all of which requires much time...and the patience of Job.

House remains

The Record erred last week when in its editorial concerning zoning of the South Main Street area it cited as an example of what might happen on the adjacent Yerkes Street side of the block, the "removal" of a house to make way for parking behind the VFW headquarters. The house has not been removed; only the back yard of the house was converted to a parking lot for the VFW. Furthermore, not only does the house still remain, the owning VFW has invested several thousand dollars to improve it. We regret this error. Nevertheless, we remain firm in our conviction that residential zoning for South Main is desirable and that, in the event the city decides on a commercial or PBO for South Main, we can expect a similar encroachment along the east side of Yerkes.

Editorial opinions of The Record are developed and written by Publisher Jack W. Hoffman and Editor Jean Day with occasional contributions by other Record staffers.

Speaking for Myself

Suntanning healthful?

H.S. FAUST M.D.

YES

It's that happy time of year again when the birds sing, the kids frolic in their pools and the stores deluge us with various products guaranteed to turn our skins the color of rich honey.

Since a child, my porcelain skin has had a mind of its own. Some people have idolized Elvis or Farrah. Me? I'd give a week's pay just to look like the toddler in the Coppertone commercial.

Every summer I pack my kids, my cooler and head for the beach in "hot" pursuit of a good, healthy case of skin cancer. Failing to heed package directions and too impatient to gradually pursue my quest, the day after Memorial Day I usually look like the latest catch at the lobster docks.

NO

Tanning of the skin is the body's attempt to protect itself from further injury by ultraviolet radiation—the radiation we get from the sun that makes our skin tan. Think about that. It means that the sun has to injure our skin before we tan. Tanning is a reaction to injury. The more we expose ourselves to sun, the more we injure our skin. We cannot tan without the sun's exposure.

So what? Well, if constant injury caused no harm in the long run, tanning would be fine. But experts know that 95 to 97 percent of all skin cancers are caused by long-term, cumulative exposure to sunlight. That translates into 350,000 to 400,000 new cases of skin cancer in 1980 in the United States. These new cases cause 5,000 deaths and billions of dollars of medical treatment per year in the U.S. Another type of skin cancer, malignant melanoma, occurs in 14,000 people in the U.S. with a survival rate of only 50 percent after five years. It is believed that the sun's rays help to promote this type of cancer as well.

For at least two nights I look for a comfortable position to sleep but I've come to the conclusion the only relief is to hang myself from the ceiling with a rubber band attached to my hair.

To me, summer just couldn't exist without the smell of cocoa butter and the healing power of vitamin E lotion and Solarcaine.

By the time I get a semblance of a tan, it's winter and time to cover up. But being an optimist, I'll continue my campaign for leathery skin and watch my stock go up in Coppertone.

Besides causing cancer, sun tanning also causes the skin to age prematurely. And who wants to look old young in life? Sure we think we look better when we tan. Why? Because Madison Avenue has convinced us we should all look like Californians. It is possible to enjoy nature's elements while being properly protected (sunblock or protective clothing) from the sun's ultraviolet radiation. If we use good protection, we can avoid cancer, premature aging and death while basking in the beauty of our surroundings.

What's great about chocolate factory?

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Out of the mouths of babes..."

Like a child in a chocolate factory, the husband was ablaze with excitement as he pushed his shopping carts (yes, two of them) into the aisles of glorious flowers.

"You may get whatever you want; it's your garden," his wife had promised at the outset of this adventure.

But no sooner had he halted his carts in front of the perennial display, she cautioned, "You've got plenty of perennials at home," and then added as he scooped up two pots, "You know that every time you buy lupines they die."

"You've always liked carnations," he said. "Let's get a couple." "They don't grow well in your garden," she replied.

They moved on — he reluctantly past the delphiniums, lilies and laced pinks, and she pointing the way to the annuals.

"What we need," he said, "is a good hanging flower for the porch." "Yes, that would be nice," she answered, waving him away from the begonias, achimenes and fuchsia. "I know another place that has nicer hanging plants," she said.

As he coaxed his carts over the watering hoses and into the open annual displays, the wife observed, "It's going to rain, we'd better hurry."

"Don't get all white petunias this year," she advised as he stepped from the aisle into the beds. "I thought I'd try red blooms," he said. "Let's get several colors," she said. "But I've never had much luck with mixes. Besides, you've always insisted a single, brilliant display is best," he protested just as she explained, "I know a place you can get prettier petunias."

"Those aren't the tall snaps," she said as he stooped to inspect some purple beauties. "You wanted tall snaps along the house."

"Didn't you plant marigold seeds earlier?" she asked as the carts coasted to another stop. "Those are nice, but there aren't any gold ones. I know a place..."

The husband welcomed the rain, remembering what a child had said: "If you can't taste anything, what's so great about a chocolate factory?"

Urges citizen advisors to be active

"You should become more active as advisors to college programs and also get involved in the economic development of your community."

That was the message J. Downs Herold had for the 125 Schoolcraft College citizen advisors hosted by the college at an appreciation dinner May 29.

Herold is the director of liaison for industrial development of the University of Michigan's Institute of Science & Technology.

He asked the advisors if they had visited classes or talked with instructors and administrators or read the college catalog?

"Re-think your role as an advisor," he said. "You need to be more than advisors — you've got to be where the action is."

Herold asked the advisors to consider their own businesses and industry in relation to the college. "Do you have positions which could be filled by students? Do you have down time on equipment that students could use? Are you replacing equipment that might be donated to Schoolcraft?"

Herold also spoke to the need for private citizen involvement in economic development which he defined as "active programs to encourage controlled growth in a community."

"Private citizens can have a voice," he said. "Too many communities still feel that economic development is the job of the state, but local people can control their own destiny."

He said diversity from the auto industry is needed in Michigan. But he cautioned that while citizens should make efforts to attract new industry, that industry won't come in if citizens fail to keep existing industry happy.

He suggested local and state officials be educated about economic development and encourage local government to underwrite its cost and to extend tax benefits.

"If we get involved, think positively and relate with each other, good things will happen."

Herold cited a Kalamazoo promotion as exemplifying the kind of positive approach he had in mind.

"For a number of years they've handed out 'yes, there really is a Kalamazoo' buttons. Just a few days after the devastating tornado struck downtown recently, they were displaying a new message: 'It will take more than a wind to do Kalamazoo in'."

Kirksey tells why he opposed subway bill

To the Editor:

I have received several responses to the article in your paper recently which summarized remarks that I offered to students on the Rotary Club Law Day. Although I discussed several topics, there has been considerable interest concerning the recent subway appropriation bill in Lansing. I voted against the subway funds. This issue, which passed the House and Senate, approved preliminary engineering funds for the subway. Unfortunately, the wording of the subway resolution also took away any effective future legislative control over the final vote on the construction of the subway. The future approval of the subway has been tied to the appropriations process and it will now be virtually impossible to disallow the eventual completion and funding of the subway.

appropriation basically because I felt that the amount of tax dollars being set aside for this portion of the transportation package was a disproportionate amount of dollars and took away some of the other modes of public transportation that are needed urgently in the suburbs.

In closing, I would like to emphasize that I support mass transit, however, I was appalled at what I felt was direct special interest rather than representative government in deciding the eventual approval of those funds. I will continue to oppose what I consider to be an inappropriate use of hard earned tax dollars.

She's happy about benefit

To the Editor:

I'm writing to say thanks for the excellent coverage your newspaper gave to the Northville and Novi high school benefit dance for Muscular Dystrophy (32680). It's this type of support that means so much to the success of MDA's public health education and fundraising programs.

The photos that accompanied the story were terrific. We're always looking for good photographs such as these which can be used in our printed materials. All Muscular Dystrophy Association literature is distributed to patients and general public free of charge.

We'd be grateful if you could send us copies of the photos along with your permission to reprint them.

Again, thanks for running this very informative story.

O'Reilly's seeking post held by Pursell

Kathleen O'Reilly of Plymouth has announced her candidacy for the U.S. Congress, seeking the Democratic nomination for Michigan's 2nd District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

She has her eye on the post now held by another Plymouth resident, Republican Congressman Carl Pursell.

O'Reilly made the announcement from her family's home in Plymouth to a large gathering of relatives, friends, and supporters, including Walter and Jim Hart, sons of the late senator, representing the Philip Hart family.

Upon making the announcement, she said her Washington experience as executive director of the nation's largest consumer group, Consumer Federation of America, has prepared her to be an effective voice for the 2nd District citizens.

A native of southeastern Michigan, she graduated from Detroit's Marygrove College in 1968, and Georgetown University Law School in 1971. She is a member of the Michigan and Washington, D.C. bars.

She worked in private practice in Washington in 1975 until she joined Consumer Federation of America (CFA) as legislative director. In 1977, she was elected executive director of CFA, a coalition of more than 200 national, state, and local organizations. Since then she has become nationally recognized as a forceful and effective spokesman for consumers and individual taxpayers.

She has been a frequent guest on "Kelly and Company," the "Today Show," "MacNeil/Lehrer Report," and others. In 1979, in recognition of her distinguished service, the Michigan Consumer Educators awarded her their highest honor, the Philip Hart Award.

Two tapped for MSU honors

Two Northville students have been initiated into the Michigan State University chapter of the national honor society Phi Kappa Phi.

Laurie Jean Day, a junior in nursing, and Nicholas J. Pyett, a senior in accounting, were selected along with 409 other members in ceremonies May 6.

To be admitted to the society as a junior, Laurie had to be within the top 1.5 percent of her class. To be selected as a senior, Nicholas was within the top seven percent of his class.

Laurie is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Day, 20359 Woodhill. Nicholas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Pyett, 18449 Donegal.

Council reappoints six

Expiring terms on the city beautification commission, board of appeals and planning commission were reviewed by city council at its May 27 meeting.

It accepted the letter of J. David Fee indicating he does not wish to continue on the planning commission but renewed the appointment of Charles Freydl which expires June 30.

Clerk Joan McAllister was instructed to place a notice regarding the opening on the commission, inviting residents to make application.

Terms of Mary Conley, John Hinman and Lois Winters on the zoning board of appeals, which expire July 1, were renewed as all had expressed the desire to continue.

Beautification commission terms of Elroy Ellison and Dewey Gardner, which expire July 1, also were renewed when Gardner expressed interest in continuing and the council was told that Ellison also was willing.

Jaycees tap Ferris honors six Totzkay

James Totzkay, 439 12th Ave., recently was named Jaycee International Senator, the highest award a member can earn.

Active in the Northville Jaycees for some nine years, Totzkay has held every local office and a number of state positions.

The appointment was announced at the Northville Jaycees' annual convention May 31 at the Plymouth Hilton.

Only four other Northville Jaycees have attained Senatorship in the local chapter's 20-year history.

Six Northville students were among over 1,900 Ferris State College students included on the academic honors list for the spring quarter recently concluded there.

Steven W. Friedle, of 21619 Bedford, led the list as one of only 175 students earning perfect 4.0 (all A's) grade point average.

Karen S. Andersen, of 44218 Wingate; Marie L. Johnson, 43560 Six Mile; Julie A. Johnston, 44020 Foothills Court; Jeanette M. Kalota, 44102 Cottisford; and Denise A. Winney, 41307 Lagoon Court, were the other area residents receiving recognition.

To be eligible for a list a Ferris student must compile a 3.25 (B-plus) average in at least 14 quarter hours of class work.

ISEP teacher quits to take another job

Township to get business manager

Richard Henningsen, also suggested the use of administrative interns to assist the manager with his duties.

The biggest advantage of this system, according to the committee, is the clear lines of authority which will be created.

The business manager will be responsible for all employees and daily business operations.

The supervisor and clerk will be responsible for their statutory duties only, spending a limited amount of time in the township offices, according to the committee.

Whether the quality of applicants for the positions of clerk and supervisor will be diminished because they become part-time positions is a concern of some board members.

"I think this idea of a business manager is good, but we need to insure that we retain good people in the other offices," said Trustee Swienkowski.

Trustee Zapke, who was adamantly opposed to the entire concept of a manager, agreed.

"You are taking away the carrot for a supervisor to be here," he said. "Why don't we make supervisor a full-time job and pay him $24,000."

Zapke motioned for an amendment to put the proposal for a business manager on the ballot of the August primary election, but the motion, supported by Clerk Sass, was defeated 5-2.

When the original motion to adopt the business manager system passed, the enraged trustee stormed out of the township hall.

"This is a sad day for Northville Township," he said as he exited.

One unidentified resident in the audience also was adamant in his opposition.

"There is no way that you seven guys are going to decide which one of these alternatives is going to be adopted," he shouted prior to the vote. "It is going to a vote of the people."

"I will take the responsibility to find out what has to be done and do it."

Certain legal questions of the powers that may be give to a business manager also must be ironed out.

high school, met with members of the senior class and reprimanded them, Redmond said.

"Some of the kids who did it as a prank realized that it wasn't much of one," Redmond said. "It was meant as a humorous prank, but most of the kids didn't see it that way."

As to a rumor that some of the chickens were kicked and stomped on, Redmond said that while some of the chickens appeared to be in bad shape (heat and fright), none appeared to be trampled.

Senior forums on food dollars and insurance

Northville grad takes part in yearly pageant

Private Joseph E. Schimpf of Northville recently participated with the 3rd U.S. Infantry (The Old Guard) in the presentation of "Spirit of America" at Fort Myer, Virginia.

An annual event in the nation's capital, the pageant traces the history of America through the heritage of the Army.

The show features pageantry, military skills and precision drills by members of the elite 3rd U.S. Infantry, with music by the Army Band and Chorus.

Schimpf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Schimpf, live at 1016 Springfield.

Schimpf, an infantryman at Fort Lesley J. McNair, Washington, entered the Army last November.

Search for new name for annex building

Search for a new name for the old Northville High School, most recently known as the Annex, is underway.

Remodeling of the building, oldest in the system, to house the Institution's Special Education Program (ISEP) is nearing completion. The first two floors and the gymnasium are to open June 1.

A committee formed last week to name the building is soliciting suggestions from the community.

"We are looking for a name that reflects the historical aspect of the building," Beth Flack, Annex supervisor and naming committee chairperson, said. "Since the building will house our special education program, we would also like the name to reflect that use without highlighting the handicapped aspect."

Following a meeting last week the committee decided to reconvene June 10 to develop a recommendation for the board of education by the end of the month. Flack requested that community members submit names to her by June 9. The annex phone is 349-3400, extension 276.

Other members of the naming committee are Marjorie Sliger, board vice president; Richard Cross, personnel coordinator; former mayor A.M. Allen; and two instructional aides from the annex, Terry Pelchat and Colleen Cushing.

Bed reduction hearing set

Pros and cons of a controversial hospital bed reduction plan will be heard June 9 by a legislative committee.

The committee, which includes State Senator Robert Geake, will hold a public hearing at 9 a.m. in the McGregor Conference Center at Wayne State University in Detroit to hear both sides of a plan which, among other things, would cut several beds from St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

The legislative committee will issue its final report on whether to implement the plan on June 30.

Young owner's giving 1908 house facelift

The facelift in process on a 72-year-old house on North Center is more than a "skin deep" beautification.

While passers-by have watched construction of a new brick porch and replacement of gray asbestos shingles with attractive cream vinyl siding, they have seen only surface changes on the house at 410 North Center.

The interior of the house built in 1908 is gaining features it never boasted originally. A brick fireplace covers the entire south wall of the living room.

Newly plastered walls are decorated with cloisonne brass lighting fixtures, and ceramic tile and wood parquet squares are being used generously on the floors.

"I don't like cheapness," explains new owner James Demick, who says he hopes to occupy the house very soon.

Demick, who is just 25, already is a veteran at rehabilitating houses, having been involved, he says, for 10 years in working with HUD houses. He is associated with A. T. Harbin in real estate development and construction.

The Northville house, however, is his personal project, Demick notes.

He's also part of a nostalgic restoration in Detroit. It's the Vanity Ballroom on East Jefferson at Newport, four blocks east of Grosse Pointe.

Demick envisions the ballroom's revival as "a multi-media entertainment center for new and old."

The East Jefferson area where it is located, he says, is going through a rebirth so he feels this is the time for the old building to reopen.

The interior is "pretty well completed," Demick reports, mentioning that he "found the same ticket grinder there as the Marquis Theatre is using." He was pleased, he adds, because the theatre's is dated 1925; so he thinks that in the Vanity Ballroom is the same vintage.

Twins Donald and Ronald Murphy have purchased the ballroom from Robert Zeff, who recently gained fame as Cristina Ford's attorney.

Demick is very much a young man on the move in real estate. He confides he now would like to get involved with renovation of the old National Theater in the downtown Detroit Kern block.

He's also looking around Northville for buildings to renovate.

Demick admits he is fortunate in being able to tap the resources of the Harbin firm.

Their craftsmen have helped in building the elaborate fireplace and the brick-floored porch which retained the stone bases of the pillars.

Inside only the oak divider between the entry and living room and the staircase have been kept with layers of paint removed to the wood, now dark-stained.

In the dining room light sifts through a new stained glass window in blues and yellows. It was created by the Ivanhoe firm in Detroit to fill a space of three former windows. A second stained glass window is coming to replace a stairway window.

The kitchen is a blaze of poppy-red glazed tile. Tiles cover the floor and walls right to the ceiling. The dishwasher, stove, refrigerator and trash compactor all are in matching red. New dark wood cabinets have been installed.

The bath upstairs is equally dramatic with brown tile wall and fixtures. Hand-some brass faucets have been installed. Demick mentions he retained the original tub but had it reglazed brown.

A front bedroom awaiting carpeting has newly installed bookcases that reach to the ceiling — a ceiling which is covered with wood parquet squares.

Some rooms have been replastered with rough plaster, one of the crafts Demick says are not much used today. He's proud he has incorporated such workmanship in the house.

Not so visible but part of the remodeling are things like the new furnace and water heater in the basement.

All this has been accomplished in about four months after Demick purchased the house through Century 21 real estate.

As he stands on the brick porch and looks at his neighbors, Cutler Realty and a professional office building, Demick confides that he intends to seek a change of use for the house.

"It really is the only residential structure in the area," he explains, "and with Northville growing so fast it could be needed as an office, perhaps for an attorney."

Questioned about parking space for such a use, Demick says he already is aware there will be hurdles — but he's used to them in his business.

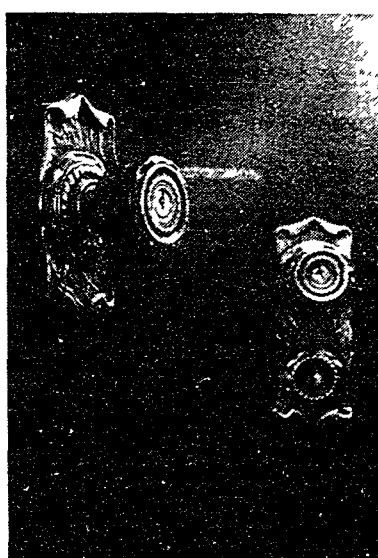

His next one is finishing details so that he can get the occupancy permit to make the home for the time being his bachelor headquarters.

Mothers' Club will repeat successful sale

Marge Longridge assumed presidency of the 35-member Northville Mothers' Club at group's annual May picnic.

She announces that among the projects the club plans to continue next fall is the sale of used skis, skates and other sports equipment that was a "first" this past year. Some residents sold unwanted equipment while others came to buy with a percentage of the sale price going to the club.

All projects went well this year, reports the club, which uses its funds to support school projects.

A capacity crowd attended the spring dinner dance in April at Meadowbrook Country Club; Christmas cocktail benefits have become an annual event; and a fall pancake supper preceded a high school game. Marathon bridge tournament, first sponsored by the club in the early 1960s, is an ongoing fundraiser, Mrs. Longridge notes. Winners will be announced shortly as play ended in May.

Other new club officers are Barbara Willoughby, treasurer; Sharon Lineman, recording secretary; Carol VanSoest, corresponding secretary; and Diane Schrader, vice-president. Luanne McCurdy is retiring president.

Mary Whiteside succeeds Bonnie Rinehart as goals committee chairman.

During the past year the club welcomed as new members Barbara Sixt, Phyllis Kennedy, Margie Sievert and Judy Bartling.

Martin Luther's descendant talks to businessmen

Pastor Edmund Lother of Farmington Hills Christian Center will be principal speaker at the 7 p.m. dinner meeting June 13 of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship. It will be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Born and raised in a Lutheran home, Lother states he accepted Jesus Christ as his Saviour when a teenager.

In 1938, after receiving the baptism of the Holy Spirit, he says he was ordered to leave the Lutheran church and subsequently found himself in harmony with a group of Pentecostals where he eventually became a minister himself.

Claiming to be a direct descendant of Martin Luther, he and his wife Grace have traveled over most of the world for 34 years, "spreading a message of Christ's love."

Musical portion of the program will be furnished by Brian and Jacqueline Lother, children of the pastor.

Brian Lother holds degrees in music from the University of Minnesota and has been featured soloist with the Omaha Symphony Orchestra. Both he and his sister have performed on radio and television stations throughout the United States.

The meeting at 8 p.m. follows dinner which is $8 plus 15 percent gratuity. Both the dinner and program are open to the public with reservation checks to be sent by June 10 to P.O. Box 5332, Northville.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 349-0006.

Christian Community's cookbook

Ethnic recipes shared

Recipes always have been an important part of church social life — as members brought their best dishes to socials and potlucks. Today area churches are looking at those good recipes as a source of revenue for church projects.

Most recent church to offer a cookbook is Christian Community Church at 41355 Six Mile.

It was compiled by the Women's Ministries and preschool staff and emphasizes ethnic and holiday recipes.

"We have Rumanian, Hungarian, Italian, German, Polish, Armenian and French recipes, some of which are treasured family dishes," Betty Galka, Women's Ministries president, reports.

Among them are Greek salad, Hungarian string bean soup, Armenian pilaf, Marine minestrone and beet soup, Quiche Lorraine, Hawaiian meat balls, Fettucini Romano, Ricotta balls, sauer-braten, Rouladen, Clam Linguine, Chicken Cordon Bleu and Polynesian chicken.

She also points out that a special section with traditional holiday recipes is included.

With graduation and wedding season approaching, sponsors suggest that this is a good gift idea at $4.95.

Proceeds have been earmarked to purchase needed window coverings for the church sanctuary.

Salads include ambrosia, raspberry-ribboned creme, glazed peach creme, mautrice and seven-layered. Other categories include breads, cakes, cookies and desserts.

As an example of the unusual, the church shares its recipe for "Impossible Pie."

IMPOSSIBLE PIE

4 eggs
¼ C. margarine
1 C. white sugar
½ C. flour
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder
2 C. milk
1 C. coconut
1 tsp. vanilla

Place all ingredients in blender at one time. Blend until mixed together. Pour into a buttered 10-inch dish.

Bake in a 350-degree oven for one hour.

Compilers state that "all are proven recipes" in the cookbook which may be obtained at the church office.

Girls State-bound

"TRIM YOUR MEAT BILLS WITH LEAN BOB EVANS SAUSAGE"

If the high cost of beef is cutting into your budget, Bob Evans Farms has a fresh idea for your lunch or dinner.

Switch from ground beef to lean Bob Evans Farms Pork Sausage.

Of course, you could switch to just about any pork sausage and save money. Because pork is less expensive than beef.

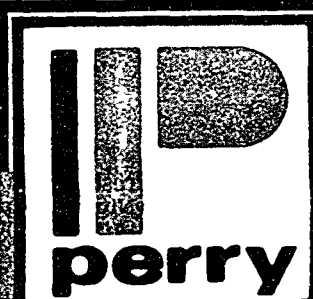

But Bob Evans Pork Sausage is meatier than most. Because it's leaner than most. In fact, we use only enough fat to bring out the fresh farm taste.

And while other pork sausage is usually made from the trimmings, we make ours from the best cuts of pork. Including choice fresh hams, shoulders and tenderloins. So it cooks up plump, tender and delicious. Not greasy.

So switch from beef to lean Bob Evans Pork Sausage, and trim your meat bills. Without cutting down on quality or taste.

Scouts preparing for today's world

By JIM HAYNES

If there is anything as American as mom, apple pie and baseball it is Scouting.

But did you know that the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts were originally formed in Britain?

The Boys Scouts, formed in 1910 by Baden-Powell, and the Girl Scouts, formed in 1912 by Juliette Gordon Low, have taught countless thousands of American youngsters guidelines for a healthy, thoughtful and helpful living.

To most people, Scouting means sitting around campfires deep in the woods in the dead of night, learning survival skills that would make an Apache blush with envy, and doing good deeds.

And they wouldn't be wrong. But Scouting is much more than that these days.

To many, cities are as much a wilderness as virgin forests, and today's Scouts are learning survival skills for this territory as well.

Skills having to do with personal finances, budgets, computer programming, mass media communication, atomic energy, and space exploration have been given as much emphasis as the more traditional ones.

Girl Scouts USA was originally known as Girl Guides, the name of the organization formed in Scotland by Low in 1912. She had been born and raised in Savannah, Georgia and married a British subject.

For six months of the year the Lows lived in Scotland and for the other six months, in Georgia.

Low formed the Girl Guides after the lead of Powell, who formed the Boy Scouts in England.

When she came back to the United States, Low formed a troop of Girl Guides in Georgia, and in 1913 changed its name to Girl Scouts.

Low copied many of Powell's ideas when she first set up the Girl Scouts, but like the Boy Scouts, the emphasis today has shifted from one of outdoor skills alone to more modern topics.

The Girl Scouts are in the process of giving their program a face lift to meet the needs of its modern Scouts.

The program being started is called Worlds To Explore. There are five worlds: Well Being (mental and physical), Art (all aspects from dance to theatre), Today and Tomorrow (career choices and goals), Out-of-Doors (traditional outdoor skills) and People.

This change was made in order to reach and interest more girls, according to Barb Radabaugh, director of public relations for the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

With the new program will come a new set of requirements for earning badges and achieving ranks.

The new requirements haven't been finalized yet. The whole changeover will be completed by 1982, Radabaugh said.

One change that has occurred has been a unification of the four divisions within the Girl Scouts.

In the old days, the Brownies, the Juniors, the Cadets and the Girl Scouts were different organizations within the broad heading of Girl Scouts of America.

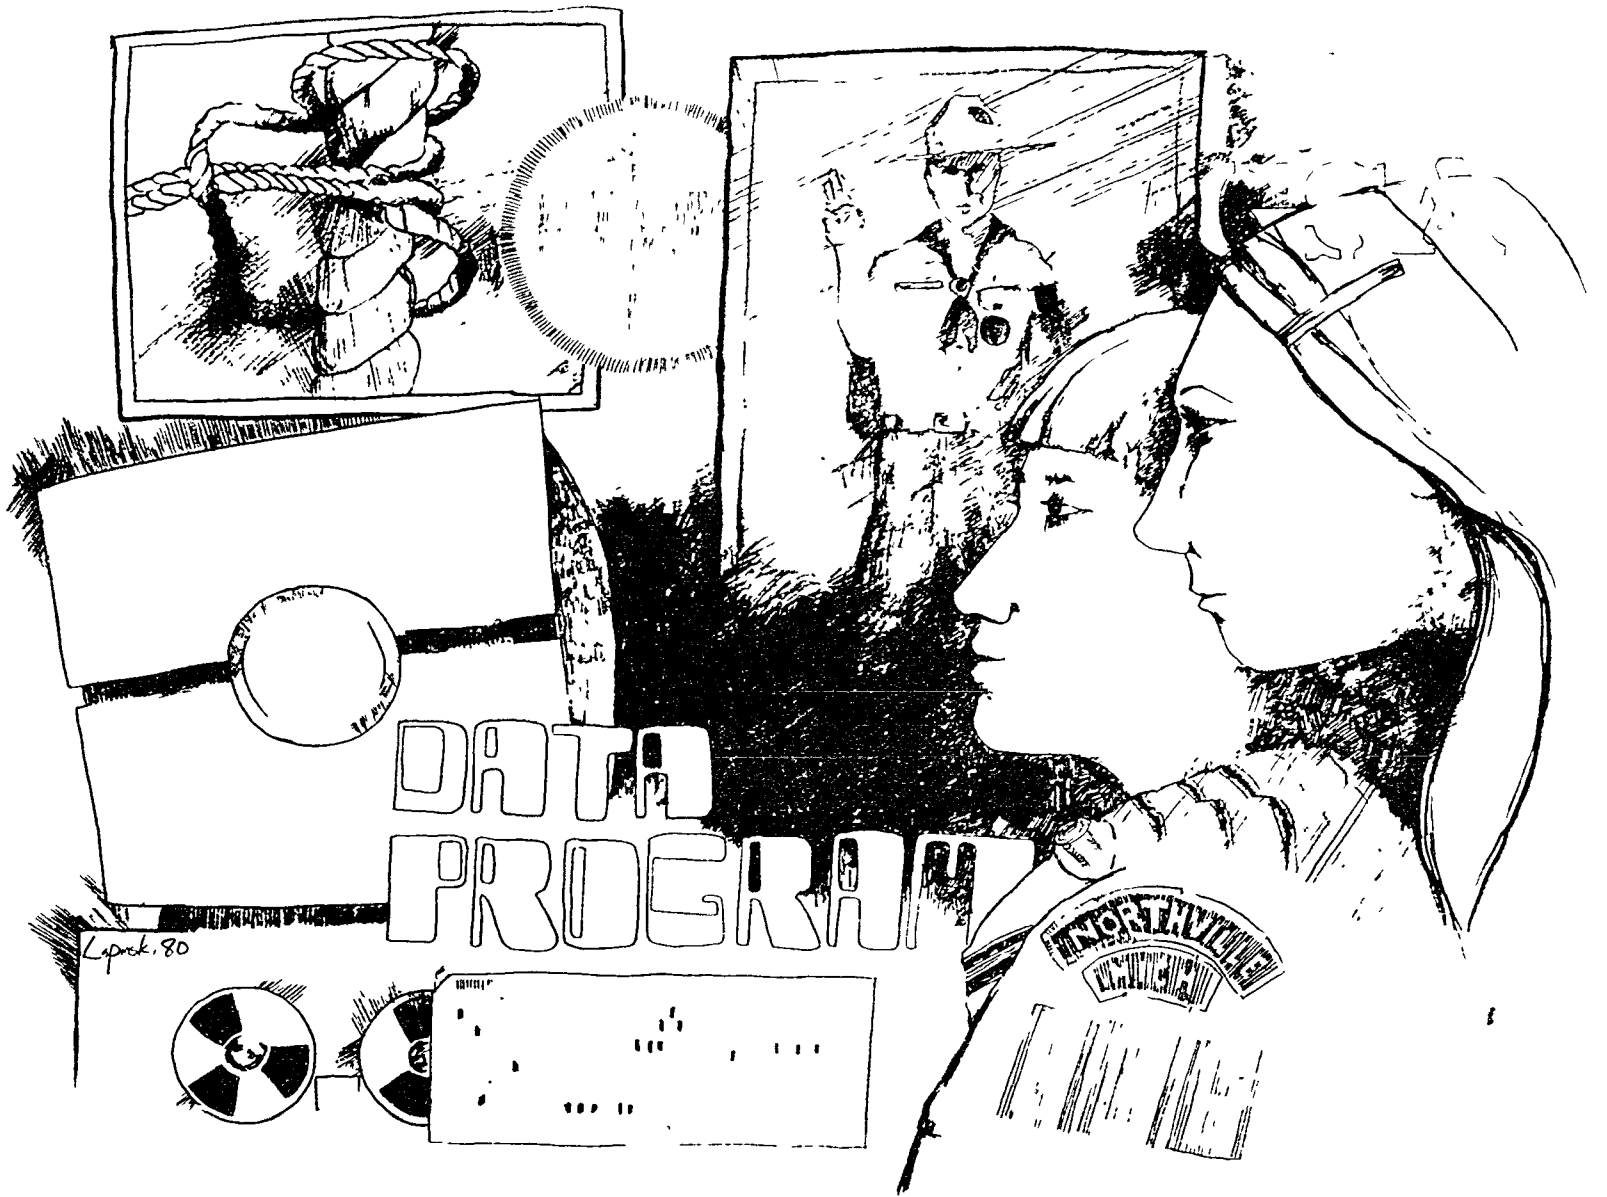

Today all four work closely together, and are known as Brownie Girl Scouts, Junior Girl Scouts, Cadet Girl Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Lord Baden-Powell formed the Boy Scouts in England and in 1910 the Boy Scouts of America were formed.

Recently the organization's name was changed to Scouting USA.

But the basic breakdown of ranking still exists.

Boy Scouts start at an early age. At eight years a boy starts as a Cub Scout. At 10, the boy becomes a Webelos, and from the ages of 11-18, the boy becomes a Boy Scout.

NOBLES 8 Mile Supply

29450 W. 8 Mile at Middlebelt 474-4922 SUNDAY 10-4

There are six subdivisions within the rank of Boy Scout: Tenderfoot Scout, Second Class Scout, First Class Scout, Star Scout, Life Scout, and the topmost rank, Eagle Scout.

The process of becoming an Eagle Scout is a long and demanding one. Besides the time-in-rank requirements at each of the successive ranks, the final set of qualifications really separates the wheat from the chaff.

According to the publication "Boy Scout Requirements," once a boy has been active in troop meetings and activities for six months after becoming a Life Scout, he has to do four other tasks: 1. Earn a total of 21 merit badges, including the following that are required: Camping, Citizenship in the Community, Citizenship in the Nation, Conservation of Natural Resources, Cooking, First Aid, Lifesaving, Nature, Personal Fitness, Safety, and Swimming;

2. Serve actively as a troop warrant officer (one of several roles such as patrol leader, assistant Scout Leader, quartermaster or den chief) for a six month period;

3. Plan, develop and carry out a service project helpful to a church, school or community approved in advance by the Scoutmaster;

4. Discuss with the Scoutmaster such things as the Scout Oath, the Law, motto, and slogan and what these mean, plus what earning the Eagle Scout rank means.

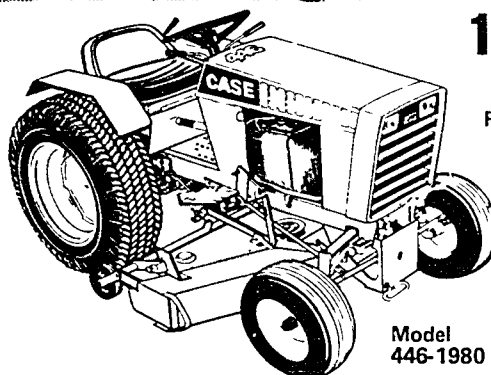

As for the merit badges, Scouts have a wide variety to choose from. A Scout, in earning these badges, learns quite a bit about various subjects.

Besides the shift to urban skills for those Scouts in large cities, another major change will be the introduction of new uniforms.

These new clothes were designed by Halston and will be phased in by 1981 at the nation-wide Scout Jamboree.

Versatile Begonias

What can you grow on your kitchen window sill, in your greenhouse year-round, in hanging baskets, as border plants, in window boxes, patio tubs, or in mass plantings, in sun or shade?

It may surprise you to know that F1 hybrid begonia semperflorens will perform well in all these situations. Plant breeders have created new hybrids with larger flowers, more compact branching habit, and the ability to perform in both full sun and shade without the special care and extra grooming that are necessary with some other bedding plants.

Now, a variety has been developed especially for hanging baskets by Pan-American Seed Company. 'Pink Avalanche'™ is really a new species, an inter-specific cross. Its one-inch flowers are a soft pink, produced on plants with a spectacular, pendulous habit, making it a winner for hanging baskets. A landslide of color all season long, it features unique angel-wing-shaped foliage. 'Pink Avalanche' does not produce seed, but keeps trying anyway, blooming profusely in its effort to reproduce itself.

'Gladiator' is another F1 hybrid from Pan-American Seed Company for this year's gardeners. More glamorous than the 'Glamours,' 'Gladiator' produces brilliant red blooms, 2 to 3 inches across, on 8- to 10-inch plants. Plants have a compact, base-branching habit. The leaves are smaller than those of the 'Glamours,' making the blooms seem even larger. 'Gladiator' has been recognized as a novelty by Fleuroselect, Europe's equivalent to our All-America Selections.

'Frisly Red' from Ball Seed Company, has huge, bright red blooms, 3/4 to 1 inch wide and about 2 inches deep, enhanced by ruffled edges, and offset by the dark green foliage. The ruffled edges make 'Frisly Red' especially attractive for use in pots and window boxes. Effective in borders and for mass plantings, too.

Q & A

Following are some of the most often asked questions of the Cooperative Extension Service, together with its answers, about gardening.

Q — Our tomatoes are loaded with blooms, but they all are falling off without setting fruit. What's wrong?

A — Tomatoes tend to be finicky about setting fruit when the weather is variable. We suggest you be patient and let "mother nature" solve the problem.

Q — Should I cut off the seed pods on my day lilies and peonies?

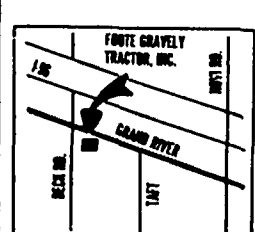

A — Remove these seed pods because the energy and food reserves that would be used to develop the seeds can then be used to strengthen the plant. The plant's appearance also is improved.

Q — How do you control weeds in a melon patch?

A — We have found that mulching is the easiest way to control weeds. Use thin black plastic laid in rows three feet wide. The plants are placed in holes cut through the plastic. Cultivate the open area or apply a grass mulch. Newspaper covered with grass clippings make an excellent biodegradable mulch for waste products. Mulches also prevent surface evaporation reduce the need to water. The fruits also are off the soil so they are cleaner and in better condition.

Q — Is there a place I can call for help with problems about trees, shrubs, lawns and gardens?

A — Yes, the county extension offices. In Oakland, the number is 858-0880; in Wayne 721-6553; in Washtenaw, 973-9510; and in Livingston, (517) 546-3950.

Simple Solution

How do you advance the day?
 Do you wind tight a watch
 Or press on a sundial?
 Do you shred your thoughts
 Against the day's ideas
 Hoping to segment piece after piece
 And, yet, in the dark
 Do you force back sleep
 From troubled puzzling, matching?
 Do you find a corner with light
 To secretly stumble into
 To write your thoughts?
 Do you fear someone will be Querulous, superimposing,
 Waiting to tell you
 How to forget your solution—
 How to advance the day?

F. A. Hasenau

Moonshine

Good evening, moon!
 Welcome to our skies again.
 How long it has been!
 We've only seen you now and then.

You often come
 When clouds conceal the heaven's light
 And time steals by.
 It seems an age when you are out of sight!

Stay awhile, we pray!
 It lifts our spirits when you glow.
 We need your ray
 That we may see the stars' tableau!

Charles E. Hutton

Clouds

Yesterday someone threw cotton balls against the deep blue sky.
 Soft and fluffy.
 like a litter of ...
 bunnies.

Bunched like a forest or Spread out like a suburb.
 Some, as dirty as a little boy's face.
 Some as clean as a bride's gown.

Their thick foam cleaned the sky
 as they sailed across it.

The Bird

There he stands a bird soon to be on his own, set free
 To fulfill a dream of his own
 His wings he slowly flutters
 The words he speaks, he mutters
 But for those who know him can realize and see
 That this is what, must be
 So slowly the cage is opened
 The bird is set on his own
 To far away places, to us, unknown
 Sadness touches those who watch
 As the small bird flies away
 But all do hope he will return someday
 So, my bird, fly your sky to freedom
 Fly through those clouds of darkness
 Fly onward to a new day and see the blue, not gray.

Sheila Marie McDonnell

Ode to a Farmer

The farmer rides his throbbing tractor to and fro Watching the good brown earth from off the mouldboards flow.
 He rightly reads the promise in the drab brown dirt.
 And he knows that time and God and toil
 Will bring to fruit the secrets of the soil.

William P. Peters

Feelings

Hallo — how're you doing?
 Great, just terrific;
 (My head aches, but that's too specific).

Good Morning, it's a lovely day!
 Yes, it is;
 (Well, what else should I say?)

Hi, how are you?
 Fine, just fine;
 (My feet are killing me, I want to whine).

How are you feeling?
 Great, just great;
 (My kids just broke an heirloom plate).

Did you have a good day?
 Yes thanks, dear.
 (Bravely smiling and hiding a tear).

You look terrible, your hair's a mess—
 That's just how I feel, Mom,
 HOW DID YOU GUESS?

Couyoumjian runs 6th at state; sets record

Harry Couyoumjian set a new school record in the 880-yard dash at the state meet Saturday. His time of 1:57.0 was good for sixth place.

The old school record, set by Couyoumjian last season, was 1:57.7. Couyoumjian, a senior, was the only Mustang competing at state.

Last week the Mustangs finished fourth in the Western Six league track meet.

Northville had two league champions.

Dave Ward cleared 6-1 in the high jump to win that event and Clark Couyoumjian finished first in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:06.

Harry Couyoumjian was unavailable to run in the meet.

Ward took two sixth place finishes besides his win. He leaped 19-2 in the long jump and tossed the shot put 43-11.

Pete Blanchard and Todd Vincent both cleared 11-6 in the pole vault, but Blanchard was awarded fifth place due to fewer misses. Vincent was sixth.

Ross Grover and Scott Dayton took second in their specialties.

Grover turned in his best time of the year in the mile, clocking in at 4:33.6. Dayton ran a 10:16 to place second in the two mile run.

Doug Wright claimed third in the 440-yard dash with a time of :52.3, and finished fifth in the 220-yard dash, clocking in at :23.9.

The relay teams also ran well.

Chris Demitroff, Dan Vogt, Ken Weber and Scot Robins finished fourth in the 880 relay (1:36.5) and fifth in the 440 relay (:47.1).

Clark Couyoumjian, Vogt, Weber and Wright teamed to run a 3:38.3 in the mile relay, good for fifth.

Churchill won the meet, Walled Lake Western finished second, Mott third, Northville fourth, Harrison fifth and Canton sixth.

Northville will be losing the services of a number of top seniors.

Harry Couyoumjian, Weber, Grover, Wright, Vincent, Mike Kramer and possibly Blanchard (a junior with enough credits to graduate by next winter) will be graduated.

"It was a good team," Coach Ed Gabrys said. "There was a good feeling among the fellows this year. It was fun. There were even some pleasant surprises, such as Burnham, Grover, Dayton and Clark, who all did very well."

Kickers beaten 6-1

The Northville girls varsity soccer team closed out its season with a 6-1 loss to leading Stevenson last week.

But it wasn't a total loss. In fact, Northville coach Ron Meteyer felt that his team accomplished all of the goals it set up before the game.

"First of all, Churchill had beaten Fordson, so we were in fourth place no matter how we did against Stevenson. So I went into it with two goals."

"First, Churchill was the only team to score on Stevenson all year. Stevenson had scored 70 goals and allowed only two. We wanted to score on them."

"Secondly, I wanted to give everyone a chance to play. Some people on the team are moving in the summer and win or lose against Stevenson, I wanted them all to have a part in it."

Meteyer's crew accomplished these goals. But the final score was a result of meeting both of these goals.

A coach can substitute only when the ball has passed the end line in soccer, such as on a corner kick. Stevenson and Northville played such close, tight soccer for the first 34 minutes of the game that Meteyer wasn't able to substitute.

Finally, with four minutes to go in the first half, Meteyer was able to make his

Tennis team captures fifth Western 6 title

For the fifth straight year the Northville Mustangs tennis team has successfully defended its Western Six title.

Northville clinched the Western Six title by winning the league meet last week, with finalists in six of the seven flights and champions in four of those six.

It was an overwhelming display of power for the Mustangs. Northville finished the meet with 17 points. Its nearest competitor was Plymouth Canton with 12 points. Harrison finished with 11, and Churchill, Mott and Walled Lake Western brought up the rear, each with one point.

Barry Ouellette, Doug Horst, Andy Orlando, Ian Wild, Dale Fisher and Les Neal are individual league champions.

Ouellette drew a bye in the first round, beat Bob Young of Canton (6-1, 6-1) in the second round, and disposed of Dave Brady of Harrison (6-1, 4-6, 6-1) in the finals of the first singles competition.

Ouellette's second set loss in the finals was the first time in four years of varsity competition that he has lost a set in a league match.

Horst, at second singles, beat Jim Mansour of Churchill (6-0, 6-0) in the first round, Paul Durocher of Mott (6-2, 6-4) in the second round, and Craig Kinzel of Canton (4-6, 6-4, 6-2) in the finals.

Orlando and Wild teamed to win first doubles.

After drawing a bye in the first round, they beat Churchill (7-6, 6-2) in the second and Plymouth Canton (3-6, 6-3, 6-4) in the finals.

Fisher and Neal teamed to compete at third doubles. The duo disposed of Farmington Harrison in the first round (6-2, 6-2), Waterford Mott in the second (6-0, 6-0) and Plymouth Canton in the finals (6-3, 6-4).

Mustangs who came close to winning it all were Jeff Williams, Mark Swayne and Jim Herbal.

Williams, competing at third singles, drew a bye in the first round and beat Mark Dwyer of Mott (5-7, 6-3, 6-4) in the second round. But in the finals he suffered severe leg cramps, according to Coach Dick Norton, and lost to Nancy Green of Harrison (1-6, 1-6).

Swayne and Herbal drew a bye in the first round at second doubles, and beat Plymouth Canton (3-6, 6-1, 6-1) in the second round. But the Mustangs ran out of gas against the Harrison squad (3-6, 1-6) in the finals.

Russ Gans, at fourth singles, beat Tim Green of Walled Lake Western (6-0, 6-0) in the first round, but was kayoed by Rick Kovan of Harrison (2-6, 6-1, 2-6) in the second round.

"I'm proud of them as a team," Norton said. "It was a definite team effort. The points the guys earned in the first and second rounds helped us through, so even those who didn't make it to the finals really helped."

Norton said that there were two disappointments to the season. The first was that the team lost two league matches and the second was that Ouellette did not qualify for state competition.

Another disappointment to this season, but one that won't be felt until next year, is that so many fine tennis players will be graduating.

Ouellette, Horst, Gans, Orlando, Wild, Swayne, Herbal, and Fisher will be gone next year.

"But we have a good nucleus coming back and a good JV squad to draw from," Norton said.

'F' League Highlights

The two-way tie for first place in 'F' League baseball was shattered last week as the previously unbeaten Padres dropped two games and the Angels won two.

The Angels blanked the Giants 3-0 on Dan Nielsen's two-hitter. He struck out 17 Giants.

Run-scoring doubles by Todd Deal and Marty Kramer, and a solo home run by Steve Frellick, his third in four games, spoiled a fine pitching performance by Mike
Sylvestre, who fanned 15 Angels.

Two days later the Angels, led by Ed
Bowman's four hits and Dan Nyquist's three runs batted in, beat the Mets 16-4.

The Padres fell first to the Braves, 8-2, as Jeff Metz homered and pitched a complete game, limiting the losing squad to six hits.

Then the Astros won their first game, downing the Padres 15-9.

Kevin Kolb had three hits and drove in three runs for the winners.

Earlier in the week the Expos feasted on Astro pitching, posting a 19-11 win. Expos Doug May had three hits while Kolb hit a home run and a double for the losers.

The Phillies roared into second place in the league with two wins last week.

They erupted for five runs in the sixth inning to beat the Mets 7-1 for the first win. Pitchers Shawn Tague and Jim Zeigler were dueling with one-hitters up until that inning. Zeigler then surrendered three walks, a single and two doubles.

Later in the week the Phillies beat the Reds 8-4.
Mickey Newman had two hits and hurled the complete game win.

Pat Isom and Alan Griffith paced a 10-hit attack with two singles each and Bob Pegrum tossed a six-hitter as the Cards upended the Pirates 8-2.

The Dodgers edged the Cards 11-10 later in the week. Dodger Steve Hamilton singled in the eighth inning to drive in Tim Keiser with the winning run.

Three days earlier the Dodgers had won their first game of the season by downing the Reds 11-8.

The Braves used a four-run second inning to beat the Giants 4-2 last week.
Dave Bach's two-run home run highlighted the outburst, which gave Matt Worth his third straight pitching victory.

He allowed only three hits and struck out 12 Giants.
Mike Weber was on the mound for the Giants and went the distance.

'F' league officials praised Jim Davis, Dick Erwin, Bob Hartman and Al Metz for their work in getting Ford Field in shape for Saturday's games following an all-night rain.

Mustangs all-league

Four members of the Western Six league champion Northville Mustangs have been selected by the conference coaches for the all-league baseball squad.

Rick Borthwick, Jim Behan, Paul Luiki and Dan Goehmann were chosen for the first team.

Borthwick, a senior, was chosen as one of three pitchers on the first team. He pitched 53 innings, chalked up 61 strikeouts, won seven games, lost two and recorded an earned run average of 1.96.

Behan was chosen as the squad's starting catcher. He hit .343 on the year, collecting 23 hits in 67 at bats.

Luiki hit .382. He led the team with 26 walks and 19 runs batted in. The senior was chosen as a first baseman.

Goehmann, a senior outfielder, led Northville in hitting with a .411 average. He collected 30 hits in 73 at bats, and led the team in scoring with 23 runs.

Girls Recreation Softball

PRIMARY DIVISION

The Falcons have jumped off to a fast start this season with three straight wins in the Primary Division of the girls' recreational softball league.

Susie Schraeder pitched a six-hitter to beat the Liberties 9-1. Heather Bog-ta and Roxanne Serkian shared the hitting honors with three each.

The Falcons whitewashed the Gems 10-0 for their second win. Dawn Kucher pitched that game for the Falcons. Jennifer Bush, Heidi Robins and Kim Brining each had two hits.

The Phillies edged the Liberties 12-11 by scoring three runs in the bottom of the sixth inning. Trish Winkous, Debbie Koch and Christie Hornberger starred in the field with superb defensive plays.

The Liberties were paced by Cathy Smith, Heather Sixt, Almee Beford and Nanci Dutkiewicz.

INTERMEDIATE STANDINGS

The Liberties have pulled ahead after the first two weeks of action. In the team's 11-7 win over the Travelers, Mary Booms smacked a grand slam home run while Jenny Nadeau turned in a strong pitching performance.

Denise Colovas pitched the Travelers to an 11-3 win over the Sunbirds last week. She was supported offensively by Bev Henderson, Lisa Meininger and Cindy DeHoff, each with two hits.

The Gems clobbered the Sunbirds 17-10 with the winning defense turning two doubleplays. The first was a secondinning line drive caught by Pitcher Kim Richcreek, who threw the ball to Firstbaseman Jill Thomas who doubled the runner off of first.

The second twin killing came about when Centerfielder Marsie Sass hauled in a long fly ball and threw the ball to second base, forcing the runner.

Fishing contest rules changed

Three new and special prizes are awaiting young anglers in the June 14 Tom Sawyer-Becky Thatcher fishing derby at Newburgh Lake.

The youngsters who catch the largest bluegill, sunfish and largemouth bass will win trips for themselves and a parent on a Lake St. Clair charter boat.

The Newburgh Lake contest will take place on June 14, will start at 7 a.m. and last until noon. It is open to boys and girls ages 6-16. They must register at the registration table on Newburgh Point, which is visible from Edward Hines Drive west of Newburgh Road.

The Lake St. Clair trip will be on the boat skippered by Captain Tony Jaros of Detroit. He operates charter fishing trips and specializes in catching muskies.

The three winners and three parents will take their muskie cruise the morning of Sunday, July 6 on Jaros' 29-foot cruiser.

In the Newburgh Lake contest, state fishing laws must be strictly observed. The legal size for northern pike is 20 inches and for bass 12 inches.

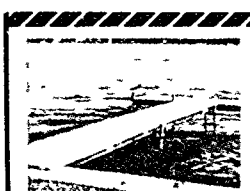

'E' League

Braves 9, Reds 8

The Braves scored all nine runs in the last three innings of the game, overcoming a 4-0 Reds' lead. Andy Demitroff had three hits and scored three times for the winners. Willy Newman hit two singles and two doubles. Richard Burgett had two hits and scored twice for the Reds.

Pirates 7, Giants 7

The Pirates-Giants game was suspended after seven innings due to the two-and-one-half hour time limit, and darkness. It will be continued from the same point on June 9. Some highlights so far are a two-run home run by Pirate Jeff Trout, and a two-run roundtripper by Giant Todd Bartling.

first change. So he inserted all of those who he had wanted to put in through the course of the first half.

At the best of times, it takes a new player a few minutes to get oriented. When you put in a whole new defense, as Meteyer did, the results can be disastrous. And they were. Stevenson scored twice before the half was finished.

"The girls went into the game very high and pumped up. They had written NHS 1 on their shirts and drawn on moustaches. They had put horseshoes on their socks with magic marker. But those goals took the wind out of their sails," Meteyer said. "I guess it was my fault for substituting like I did."

The Mustangs weren't down for long. In the second half they came roaring back, determined to make Stevenson pay dearly for a win.

Marge Muller and Jacque Nixon combined to put Northville on the board.

Muller brought the ball down and passed to Nixon, who shot the ball back to Muller in front of the net. She in turn rammed the ball into the left corner for only the third goal Stevenson has given up this season.

Meteyer decided to mount as much of an attack as he could in an effort to score more.

He had a strong front line and halfback line, but his defense was weak as a result. Stevenson scored four more times that half.

"Overall, as young as we are, we lost, but we won something much bigger. If we had gone with our original lineup throughout the game, it would have been closer. But next year, when all of our sophomores come back as juniors, and Stevenson's seniors have since left, we'll have broken the mental barrier down by scoring against them," Meteyer said.

Northville finishes with a 7-4-3 mark. Meteyer had said at the beginning of the season that he wanted to finish 50-50, and he did.

The four losses and three ties, as non-wins, balance out against the seven wins for a 50-50 season. Meteyer was pleased.

"I have never, in all the years I've coached, had as much fun or enjoyed a group as much as I have this team. These sophomores have such hustle and desire. I really enjoyed it," he said.

One thing he didn't enjoy was dodging baseballs and discuses on the plateau next to the football field, the area where the soccer team tried to practice.

"One thing this community needs is a permanent practice facility for soccer. The baseball and track teams were really good about it, but there is still the danger of practicing too close. One of the girls on the team was hit by a baseball once and the discus throwers haven't got that much control. Someone could get hurt," he said.

The two kickers who will be leaving the team due to their families moving are Jane Mao and Sherri Mammanna.

Mammanna is a "strong fullback" while Mao was "a standout on our team and one of the top ten or twelve players in the league," according to Meteyer.

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known as the "misdemeanor ordinance".

Any minor, as defined in the state probate code, who violates any provisions of this ordinance shall be dealt with by the juvenile division of the probate court or as otherwise prescribed by state law.

SECTION 56. SEVERABILITY. If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph, or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, persons, firm, partnership, association or corporation, legal entity or circumstance, shall be for any reason adjudged by a Court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or in error, said Judgment shall not affect impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance and the application of such provision to other persons, firms, partnerships, associations or corporations, legal entities or circumstances, but said Judgment shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance hereby directly involved in the case in controversy in which said Judgment shall have been rendered, and to the person, persons, firm, partnership, association or corporation, legal entity or circumstance then and there involved.
