

547 voters elect Johnson, Munro

Northville School District voters handed Christopher Johnson a second term as school board trustee by a resounding majority Monday, while choosing Gerald Munro narrowly over Donald Barnum for the other board seat.

Johnson received 427 votes, Munro 185 and Barnum 180, in one of the lowest voter turnouts of recent years.

Only 547 of the 15,014 registered voters in the district took the trip to the polls Monday.

Officials had expected a low turnout, but the actual numbers reported at the board of education meeting Monday night were even lower than anticipated.

The results await certification by the board of canvassers this morning before becoming official.

Harold Hines, district business manager and board secretary for the election, said he thinks the tally of slightly over 3 percent of the registered electorate is typical of voter turnouts in similar elections in this part of the state.

Superintendent Lawrence Nichols said the election probably cost taxpayers at least $2500 — probably more than $5 per vote cast.

Johnson, 24, said he was grateful that the voters chose to return him to the board for another four year term.

"Obviously, I'm very pleased. I am a little disappointed that the turnout was so low, but I am grateful to the voters who did come out," Johnson said.

"I hope this means they like what I have done in the past four years," he added. "I expect to do the same sorts of things for the next four."

Johnson said he thought the voter turnout was slight because, coupled with the lack of an economic issue on the ballot, campaigning for the board posts was low key this year as compared to his previous election.

Johnson enters his final year at the Detroit College of Law in September. He works as a summer law clerk with Cummings, McClorey, Davis and Aho in Livonia. He lives at 47234 Dunsany with his mother, sisters and brothers.

Munro, 42, is personnel director at Schoolcraft College. He previously attempted to gain a board seat in 1979 but failed.

He lives at 21831 Connemara Drive with his wife Hazel and stepdaughter Connie. He has a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's in personnel administration.

The other incumbent whose term expired, Marjorie Sliger, board vice president, decided some months ago not to seek re-election, leaving the door open for a new member.

Angry at Geake stand

Board to fight strike bill

Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) announced his support, in a meeting of local officials Sunday, of a package of bills granting public employees the right to strike.

His announcement dashed the hopes of area school, city and township officials that their vigorous opposition to the present form of the bill might find a voice on the senate floor.

The bill, initially passed in the house of representatives, recently was reported out of a senate committee and backers are predicting a floor vote soon.

It would legalize and regulate strikes by teachers and other public employees, excluding police and firefighters, and demand binding arbitration between the parties in deadlocked labor disputes.

Opposition to the bill from public administrators has been growing more heated as the result of senate amendments to the package which are seen as excessively restrictive.

"I support the bills," Geake said Monday. "We've needed for several years a bill to resolve deadlocked disputes in the public sector."

"We've had some very long strikes in Michigan and the binding arbitration solution is needed," he added.

In its most recent forms, the bills would demand binding arbitration after either three or four weeks of a teacher strike.

Geake's announcement was not received well by the approximately 20 school and city officers from Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth, Redford and Livonia.

Although the bills would govern many public employee groups, the focus of the debate has centered on teacher strikes because of provisions that would allow districts to make up the days lost to a strike so long as the school year did not extend beyond late June.

These provisions, coupled with arbitration and the legality of teacher strikes, drew the ire of Northville school administrators and board trustees.

"I think what he was telling us is that he views binding arbitration as the be-all and end-all solution to teacher strikes," Northville Board of Education

Trustee Christopher Johnson said of Geake's statements.

"He (Geake) claims the bills will reduce teacher strikes," said Northville Superintendent Lawrence Nichols. "When it actually encourages strikes because the only way to get to arbitration, which the unions want to do, is go on strike for up to four weeks."

Johnson claimed that such long strikes are harmful to the students because late-June classes would "just be marking time."

Along with other opponents of the bills, Johnson said the economic sanctions to both teachers and school boards are insufficient to prevent long strikes.

"My view is that if teachers teach for 180 days, they ought to be paid for 180 days," Geake said. "The opposing view is that teachers should start losing money the first day of a strike, regardless of the length of the year."

The bill would allow school boards to extend the school year to gain the 180 instructional days demanded for full state support, while also paying teachers for a full year of work.

"My own position," Geake said, "is that the state should not mandate the calendar. That is a matter that should be totally controlled by the school board."

Opponents to the present form of the

Six Mile rezoning's now up to trustees

The highly controversial request for commercial zoning at Six Mile and Sheldon now rests in the laps of township trustees.

Following a 4-3 vote by the planning commission April 29 to recommend rezoning to commercial 1638 acres at the northwest corner of the intersection, Wayne County planners have responded negatively to the request.

In a recent communication to township trustees, county planners recommended denial of the request on the basis that "there is adequate shopping within the township and neighboring communities of Northville and Plymouth to meet the general business needs of its population for the foreseeable future."

Filer of the rezoning petition, Elro Corporation, had requested that the issue not be acted upon until the August meeting of the board, but some trustees have indicated a vote is likely at tomorrow night's meeting.

Numerous township residents adamantly opposed to any commercial development at the intersection are expected to attend tomorrow night's session and present petitions objecting to the proposed rezoning.

Township planners James Nowka, Kenneth Sewell and Bernard Baldwin have been opposed to commercial at the Six Mile and Sheldon site since early discussions of the revised Master Plan of Land Use.

However, Kenneth McLarty, planning commission chairman, along with commissioners William Bohan, Craig Bowlby and Marvin Gans favored the rezoning proposal at the April 29 meeting.

McLarty is scheduled to present the planning commission's recommendation to the board at tomorrow's meeting.

The rezoning petition was under con-

Dad's great!

It's Father's Day when a son catches a potential home run, or when the youngster being encouraged connects with the bases loaded. But, really, every time a dad comes out to see his kid play ball, it's "his day" as appreciative relationships are formed. Among the many fathers in our town who faithfully turn out to cheer on young sons is Tom Campbell, above, with twin sons Tim and Pat. Campbell's voice is familiar to those listening to WJR newscasts.

Clerk Sass withdraws as township candidate

By KEN KOVACS

Clarice Sass, clerk in Northville township since August, 1975, surprised everyone last week when she withdrew her petitions as a candidate for reelection.

Just 15 minutes before Friday's 4 p.m. withdrawal deadline, the clerk, who until then had indicated she would battle Trustee Susan Heintz to retain her post — though only four days before the board had reduced the position to part-time — made it official.

Even close friends were not aware of the clerk's decision as late as Monday. Her decision leaves Heintz unopposed in the August primary.

She was unavailable for comment Monday and Tuesday.

The clerk apparently decided the part-time salary was not sufficient and will seek a position elsewhere.

She and Trustee William Zapke were adamantly opposed to action taken by the board June 2, creating a business manager and cutting the positions of clerk and supervisor to part-time, reducing the salaries to $11,000 — from $19,500 and $23,000, respectively.

Even Zapke, who has filed as a candidate for supervisor, was surprised at the clerk's action.

"Actually, I am a little upset," he said in a phone conversation Monday. "I knew nothing of the withdrawal until today."

Apparently, a number of township residents also are upset as they reportedly have circulated petitions requesting the board put the issue of a business manager system of government to a vote on the August 5 primary election ballot.

They are expected to present the signed petitions to the board tomorrow night.

Sass, a resident of the township since 1974, was first appointed clerk in 1975 when then clerk Betty Lennox was tapped to replace supervisor Lawrence Wright following his resignation.

She then won consecutive two-year terms in 1976 and 1978.

Prior to moving to the township, Sass

Seniors graduate Monday

Twelve years of long, hard work are drawing to a close this final examination week at Northville High School as 323 seniors burn the midnight oil to insure their participation in commencement exercises Monday.

Those who make it through the grind will start graduation week activities with the traditional baccalaureate service Sunday at 9 a.m.

This year the Reverend Guenther Branstner, pastor at First United Methodist Church, will address the class. Class officers Tod Mack, Steve Bourne, Amy Missel and David Fisher also will participate in the service, as will Kelly Assenmacher and Kelly Schulz.

The capped and gowned seniors will gather at the football field Monday at 7 p.m. for commencement exercises. Superintendent Lawrence Nichols will present the class of 1980, the second of his tenure in Northville.

Graduation addresses will be given by the school's two valedictorians, Nancy Joslin and Constance Mao, and Salutatorian David Vallance. No outside speaker is scheduled.

Dr. George Aune, principal, will conclude the ceremonies, presenting each graduate with a diploma.

Following the ceremonies, the new grads will let their hair down in celebration at the traditional all-night party at the school, preparation for which has involved many months work by their parents.

Food, music, swimming and other activities will reign through "The Perfect Knight," the slogan adopted to carry out the Camelot theme of the decorations and party.

Record number of students cited at honors night

Northville High School's top students received recognition for their academic accomplishments Thursday night in the annual honors convocation at the high school.

"There are those who say that excellence is its own reward," Lawrence Nichols, superintendent, told the packed auditorium early in the program.

"Perhaps that is true, but taking a moment to recognize the achievements of these students certainly doesn't hurt."

More than 120 senior honor students received gold tassels to wear at commencement exercises Monday. Many scholarships and other special awards also were presented.

Alta Olson, a counselor at the school, noted that the class of 1980 is particularly strong academically.

The class of more than 320 students includes 105 Michigan Competitive Scholarship winners, 23 selected by the Detroit Association of Phi Beta Kappa,

10 off for Boys' State

Ten Northville boys will be putting in to practice classroom theories on government as they participate in the 43rd annual American Legion Wolverine Boys' State beginning today.

Thanks to local sponsors, Postmaster John Steimel announces, the boys are reporting today to the program being held June 11-18 on the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing.

Steimel, who has served as local chairman of the project for many years, says he is pleased to have so many financial sponsors willing to send the students, all high school juniors.

Students and their sponsors this year are John Ackley, Northville Rotary; Peter Blanchard, Northville Jaycees; David Harper and David Ward, both Northville Mothers' Club; Dumont Hixson, Northville Lodge No. 186, Free and Accepted Masons; Eric Lindemier, Casterline Funeral Home; Tony Nader and Jordan Stevenson, both Lloyd H. Green Post 147, American Legion; Brian Shake, Northville Kiwanis; and Neal Young, Northville Boosters Club.

The boys will be learning about governmental process, Steimel explains, by participating in the activities of two mock political parties. They will become either "Federalists" or "Nationalists" in a mythical 51st state. Political activities will include holding campaigns and elections.

Assisting Steimel locally with the program is Jack Wickens, counselor at the high school. The legion, says Steimel, seeks boys with an awareness of government and with mental alertness and leadership ability.

Business and civic organizations who sponsor delegates provide the $120 fee per boy.

OFF TODAY — Leaving today to learn about government firsthand at Boys' State are, with American Legion chairman John Steimel, left, Eric Lindemier, David Harper, David Ward, Brian Shake, Peter Blanchard, Neal Young, John Ackley, Dumont Hixson and Jordan Stevenson with high school counselor Jack Wickens. Also attending but not in picture is Tony Nader.

Bertha Foltyn bound over for trial

By KEN KOVACS

Northville Bakery owner Bertha Foltyn will be arraigned on charges of arson at 8:30 a.m. July 18 at the Wayne County Circuit Court at the Eloise complex in Westland.

Following the testimony of eight witnesses, including a state fire investigator, 35th District Court Judge James Garber June 5 ruled there was sufficient circumstantial evidence that showed probable cause that Mrs. Foltyn set the fire which destroyed the contents of her bakery March 22.

Appearing calm and collected, the defendant sat quietly between her two attorneys as the judge gave his ruling.

"Statements by the sergeant (Fire Investigator Barry Trombley) would justify that there was an arson," Judge Garber said. "And we know, according to testimony given, that at 6 p.m. there was only one person in the vicinity behind the locked door (of the bakery)."

"Therefore, I must bind her over for trial."

The first witness to testify was 15-year-old Angela Cassell, who was employed at the bakery at the time of the fire.

She told the court she left work just before 6 p.m. on March 22.

"Mrs. Foltyn locked the door behind me and stayed in the building. It was about 5:50 p.m."

Janisse and James Spagnuolo, owners of Spagy's Liquor Store, which is located near the bakery, each testified they saw Mrs. Foltyn leaving the parking area behind the bakery in her car at approximately 6:20 p.m.

Northville Police Officer Hugh Jordan said he and partner Corporal Gary Callendar answered a report of a fire at the bakery at 6:31 p.m.

"When we arrived there were large clouds of black smoke coming out the front of the bakery," Officer Jordan said.

Sergeant Trombley said from his investigation he had determined that the fire started in the lavatory located in the northwest corner of the building.

"Most of the lavatory was destroyed and because of the v-pattern burning and trail of the fire, I believe some type of flammable liquid or other accelerant had been poured on the floor of the bakery and in the lavatory."

Though Trombley did not confirm a particular accelerant following laboratory testing of numerous samples of burnt materials, he was convinced that it "was not an accidental fire."

Anthony and Joseph Lutomski, defense attorneys for Mrs. Foltyn, insisted prior to the judge's ruling, that their client was innocent.

"I do not believe that the prosecutor has shown any connection between arson and the defendant," stated Joseph Lutomski. "They haven't shown intent and presence is not sufficient evidence."

Garber continued personal bond at $25,000.

If convicted of arson, Mrs. Foltyn, who ran her bakery in Northville for more than 10 years, could be sentenced to up to 10 years in prison.

Drenched for Mankind

Though the rain brought the walk to an end early, a few enthused participants (who ran the 29-kilometer route rather than walking) managed to finish the Walk For Mankind Saturday before it was called off. However, the highlight of the day for most of the hearty souls (and aching soles) was lunch, provided at Maybury State Park. Young walkers rush for more

Dr. Pepper above left, while others push and shove for a hot dog (above, right). Tina York (right) was one of the successful ones, while Danny Chrzanowski couldn't care less about anything but his achin' feet. Donn Bousquet, a 13-year-old, was the first to finish the Project Concern Northville Jaycee-sponsored walk.

Romper pomp

In another 14 or 15 years these children may be less baffled than their peers come graduation time, thanks to the experience they received May 30 at Willowbeck Farms Nursery School. In a ceremony high school graduates may admire for its brevity, the tot set collected diplomas wearing caps made in class. Andrea Linkevich, age 4, above left, seems a bit shy of the pomp surrounding her trip to the podium, while David Rhee, age 3, above right, has to hang on to his cap to keep it from blowing away in his rush into the big, wide world. Jaimee Zuckerman, age 4, may have gotten too big-headed about the affair, below. The kids agreed that graduating was "neat" and all said they plan to continue their educations.

They're CPR certified

The ambulance may arrive too late. But police, usually the first on the scene of an accident or injury, are trained to save your life. All Northville township regular and reserve officers are certified in cardio pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and other live-saving techniques. Officers, who are re-certified yearly, recently completed the training course put on by township CPR instructors Sergeant Phil Presnell and Reserve Lieutenant James Schrot. The looks as well as the name have changed at the new old restaurant

Positively Mainstreet's now official

There is a new old restaurant in town. Yesterday at a grand opening the one-time Old Mill Restaurant officially became the new Positively Mainstreet.

What is new about it other than its name? Try a remodeled interior and menu, and a lounge.

The owners of the bistro, Costa and Ellyse Kitrakis, bought the Old Mill in 1978 and had planned to renovate then.

But the economy and business rates changed at the last minute and Kitrakis had to wait to make the change.

Two months ago he and his wife began tearing down plaster, wallpaper and paneling inside the Old Mill, and found, much to their surprise and delight, a beautiful brick interior and a giant wooden archway, which they have incorporated into a very relaxing and tasteful decorating scheme for Positively Mainstreet.

The renovation of the menu has been under way as well. Kitrakis wants to offer a "mainly Greek dinner menu," with several allowances for other dishes.

"I want to challenge the downtown for quality," he said. "I think we will."

One thing that will help challenge is a new liquor license, although the Mainstreet is not a bar. It is a lounge, with tables set up in a relaxed atmosphere where the old Coney Island used to be.

Yesterday's Grand Opening for the Mainstreet featured Costa the Mad Greek's happy hour which will run from 4-7:30 p.m. every Tuesday through Friday. Drinks will be two for the price of one.

Selling pride

The shirts will be sold for $5 in the Mill Race on the Fourth of July to foster community pride, the Jaycees announce. They come in small, medium, large and extra-large sizes. They're designed "to give recognition to Northville."

GOOD TIME FOR WINE

1976 was a banner year for most wines. It is almost as though the wine growers of the world were celebrating the American Bicentennial. Experts agree that most of the 1976 vintages, many of which are now on the shelves of wine stores, are the best in years. Especially recommended are from the red and white France Burgundies and Beaujolais. From Germany try the Rhines and Moselles. If Bordeaux are your favorites, however, look for a 1975 vintage. Otherwise a Bicentennial purchase is generally a good guideline.

We'll guide you in selecting fine wines from around the world. Tell us at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477 the occasion, and the type of food being served, and we'll suggest a wine to complement. We also have cordials for the perfect finishing touch. Open: 9 a.m.-10 p.m. Mon. thru Sat., Noon-6 p.m. Sun. Have a nice Father's Day.

Jaycee survey seeks community opinion

Northville Jaycees are seeking community reaction to new projects planned for the coming year and ways to improve ongoing ones.

They are expanding their annual survey to get as great a feedback from area residents as possible.

Here's a chance for concerned residents to pinpoint what they consider major problems in the community and to offer suggestions on action the Jaycees can take to solve them.

There's also opportunity on the questionnaire to make general suggestions and to list additional projects the Jaycees might sponsor.

Added to the Christmas tree sale held last December for the first time are two new projects, Bikeways 80s and "I Love Northville."

Douglas Boor, community action director in charge of the survey, explains that the Jaycees are promoting bike safety and also community pride.

"I Love Northville" bumper stickers and T-shirts with a picture of the well will go on sale on the Fourth of July at the Mill Race, Boor announces.

"We're interested in getting a good feedback on the survey," he explains, "so we can focus in on problems we can deal with."

The Jaycees, he adds, also want to know which of the ongoing projects the community thinks most worthwhile.

In addition to the Fourth of July celebration, the biggest undertaking of the Jaycees, the local group sponsors a Septemberfest as a community project and fund-raiser. It is especially interested in knowing how the community feels about this.

The Fourth of July, Boor says, is not a fund-raiser but a community activity. This year he plans to add log rolling and cross cut sawing to the Mill Race activities. He is planning to set up an historical display on local logging.

Other projects include Walk for Mankind, Haunted House, Jelly Week, booths at City Garage Sale and sidewalk sale, Jaycee Week, Junior Miss and Junior Champ, Pass, Punt and Kick, CPR, crime prevention, Toys for Tots, visits from Santa and an Easter egg hunt.

In addition to getting community-wide reaction Boor would be pleased to have any men aged 18-35 interested in joining the Jaycees indicate so on the survey sheet. Otherwise, the surveys are not signed.

Geake supports OSA

State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) has announced his support of legislation to create an Office of Services to the Aging (OSA) as a completely autonomous state agency within the Department of Management and Budget (DMB).

"I feel strongly that allowing the OSA complete autonomy will increase its overall effectiveness in satisfying the needs of the ever-increasing numbers of senior citizens in Michigan," Geake explained.

Currently, the director of the OSA is appointed by the governor and serves as the governor's advisor on problems of the elderly.

Two bills (House Bill 5842 and Senate Bill 1178) which have been introduced in the legislature would increase further the accountability of the OSA to the governor and the legislature which should in turn improve delivery of services to the aging.

According to Senator Geake, the legislation is the outgrowth of a preliminary report by a 15-member OSA evaluation committee. That committee was established earlier this year and charged with evaluating the statewide Office of Services to the Aging as required by state law.

The panel's final recommendations are due July 1.

"The committee felt it extremely important to move ahead on this par-

Mary Dumas to run again

Filing last Thursday, Mary E. Dumas of Livonia is seeking her fifth, two-year term as Wayne County Commissioner to represent Livonia, Northville and Northville Township.

A staunch supporter of county reorganization, Commissioner Dumas has four times co-sponsored resolutions to place the County Executive proposal on the ballot.

"Although I am disappointed that the recently amended Charter Act does not allow for complete reform of county government, it is at least a step in the right direction."

"I will, however, continue to fight along side the out-county communities to get the 1980 census figures used as a basis for drawing up charter commission districts. The population of the City of Detroit has dropped dramatically in the last decade and the suburbs have ballooned."

"New apportionment of charter districts based on the new census now nearly completed is essential to assure that the needs of out-county residents are reflected in the body of law which will probably govern Wayne County for 50-100 years."

"It certainly doesn't seem unreasonable for us to wait a few weeks or months to use the new 1980 population figures."

When asked about campaign plans, Commissioner Dumas indicated that she probably will be busy concentrating on balancing the budget and eliminating the deficit in the very difficult year while attempting to maintain certain vital essential county services.

"There are bound to be cuts and every department will have to share them, but I hope we can make cuts where they will hurt taxpayers the least."

In addition, Dumas will continue her leadership role with the Day at Jackson Advisory Council.

Stressing the importance of keeping Wayne County parks "cool" this summer, Commissioner Dumas has promoted vigorously the Hines Park mini-stations and mounted patrol while working as chairman of the parks and parkways committee to secure new sources of funding for parks' facilities and programs.

She points out that she initiated the idea of a parks' parking sticker, such as Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has, and concurs with the task force report calling for additional controlled off-road parking in Hines Park.

She also is discussing with MCHA the possibility of cooperative funding of some of Wayne County nature centers.

In addition Dumas serves on the legislative committee of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce, the Schoolcraft Women's Advisory Committee and the Second District Women's political caucus.

She has been involved in Republican politics since the first Romney campaign and has served as campaign coordinator for several candidates, including Lenore Romney for U.S. Senate.

Winner faces Broomfield

Three Dems in primary

Three Democrats will compete for their party's nomination in the August 5 primary election for the right to challenge U. S. Representative William S. Broomfield in Michigan's 19th congressional district this fall; while Representative Carl D. Pursell faces a primary contest in the second district for the Republican nod.

Seeking the Democratic nomination in the 19th district are Wayne E. Daniels, 30, of Commerce Township; Le Roy J. Peterson, 54, of Birmingham; and James M. Pidgeon, 31, of Bloomfield Hills.

The 58-year-old Broomfield, ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is unopposed in the GOP primary election. A resident of Birmingham, he is seeking his 13th consecutive two-year term in the Congress.

Daniels is employed as food services director of the Walled Lake Consolidated School District. He is a member of the Commerce Township Planning Commission.

Peterson is pastor of the Northbrook Presbyterian Church in Birmingham. He sought the Democratic nomination for Congress two years ago, but lost the primary bid to Betty Collier, of Drayton Plains.

Pidgeon is a Bloomfield Hills attorney. He served as a legislative assistant to U. S. Representative Martha W. Griffiths, who represented Michigan's 17th district until her retirement in 1975.

The 19th district covers most of Oakland County and the eastern tier of Livingston County townships, including Green Oak.

In the second district, incumbent Pursell is being challenged by Helen T. Gotowka, 58, of Dearborn Heights, for the Republican nomination.

Pursell, 48, of Plymouth, is seeking his third consecutive two-year term in Washington. Gotowka is a Ford Motor Company secretary.

Democrat Kathleen F. O'Reilly is unopposed for her party's nod in the district. O'Reilly, 34, recently moved to Plymouth Township from Washington, D. C., where she served as executive director of the Consumer Federation of America.

The second district covers the eastern half of Washtenaw County, including Salem and Northfield townships; Northville, Plymouth and Livonia in Wayne County; and most of Monroe County.

Pursell to seek reelection

Michigan Congressman Carl Pursell (R-Second District) will seek reelection to a third term in the U.S. House.

The Plymouth based congressman said his campaign will emphasize his close attention to district constituents, legislative accomplishments in education and other fields, and his elevation to the influential House Appropriations Committee.

"Key issues for the '80s will be inflation control, limits on government, energy and the restoration of a sound economy," Pursell forecast.

"I've been working on these issues by supporting a balanced budget shared all departments, proposing a five-year tax cut program, and leadership on development of new sources of energy."

Some of Pursell's current legislative proposals are his five-year tax reduction program, alternative energy trust fund, women's bill of rights, preventive medicine act, endangered species education act, and an effort to revitalize physical education in U.S. schools.

Pursell, a former state senator and county commissioner, first was elected to Congress in 1976. He won the '76 contest by a narrow margin. After his first two years in Congress he was reelected by a margin of more than 50,000, with about 68 percent of the vote.

A principal event of Pursell's second term was his successful campaign for a seat on the House Appropriations Committee, one of the most sought-after assignments in congress.

He followed by gaining membership on the appropriations subcommittee which handles budgets for the departments of Education, Health and Human Services, and Labor, key programs for the second district.

He also is the ranking minority member on the District of Columbia Appropriations Subcommittee.

During his first term, he served on the Education and Labor, and Science and Technology committees.

His educational accomplishments have included writing a new national law on gifted and talented education, shifting emphasis from Washington to local districts. He also secured improved funding for gifted and talented programs, additional student loan funds, and played a major role in reversing the Carter administration effort to eliminate most funding for nursing education.

Pursell also is recognized as a leader on energy legislation, and particularly as an advocate of developing alternative energy sources.

The Pursell family lives in Plymouth. The Second District congressman is one of the few national lawmakers to maintain his family and primary residence in his home district, instead of Washington.

"I return home to the district every week and put primary importance on

It's Fessler-Roberts in 24th district

Incumbent Richard Fessler (R-West Bloomfield) will be challenged by William T. Roberts (D-Walled Lake) in the race for the 24th District seat in the Michigan House of Representatives in the November general election.

Both candidates are unopposed for their party's nomination in the August primary.

The 24th District includes the cities of Novi, Walled Lake, South Lyon, Farmington and Farmington Hills; the villages of Milford and Wolverine Lake; and the townships of Commerce, Lyon and Milford.

A three-term veteran of the House, Fessler is vice-chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and serves on the Economic Development and Energy, Public Safety, Insurance and Senior Citizens and Retirement committees.

The West Bloomfield Republican is an attorney who served in the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office prior to his election to the State House of Representatives in 1974. He was subsequently re-elected to the 24th District seat in 1976 and 1978.

Roberts, the Democratic challenger from Walled Lake, was elected to the Walled Lake City Council in 1968 and subsequently was elected to a four-year term as mayor of Walled Lake in 1973.

He did not seek re-election to the mayoral post in 1977. Roberts ran successfully for a four-year term on the Walled Lake City Council in 1979.

Roberts previously attempted to challenge Fessler for the State House of Representatives in the 1976 election, but was defeated in the Democratic primary.

Geake endorses independent office on aging

ticular piece of legislation before the entire report is completed because of its extreme importance to the overall upgrading of the OSA," Geake said.

House Bill 5842 already has been reported out of the house senior citizens and retirement committee and sent to the full house for action.

Geake pointed out that establishing the OSA as a separate and distinct agency within the DMB would provide the agency with a continuity of administrators and personnel trained to handle the problems of the aged, not subject to displacement due to cutbacks and layoffs in the entire DMB staff.

Geake emphasized that the current OSA budget is $33 million, the fifth largest budget of any state department or agency.

The "over sixty population" in the 1980 census is projected to reach 14.6 percent of Michigan's total residency.

By 1990, expectations have been set at 16.4 percent of the populace and the numbers are expected to swell beyond that by the year 2000.

"With this projected increase in the numbers of senior citizens in our state, it is vital that the legislature establish a plan now to meet effectively the needs of this segment of our population," Geake said.

Trustees must decide on Sheldon rezoning

eration by township planners for approximately one year.

tion on the petition was delayed numerous times because of planners' efforts to revise the master plan — approved in December, 1979 — and other rezoning petitions initiated by planners.

The Six Mile and Sheldon intersection indicated as a preferred location for a convenience shopping center" on the master plan, though the vote for approval of this designation also was 4-3.

Along with their recommendation on Six Mile and Sheldon request,

Wayne County planners agreed with township planners' recommendations for rezoning at two other locations.

County planners concurred with the recommendation to rezone from B-3 (regional shopping) to B-2 (general business) approximately 36 acres of land on Haggerty at Eight Mile.

They also supported the proposed rezoning from B-2 to OS-1 (office service) of some 13 acres of land on the north side of Six Mile between Winchester and Bradner.

These petitions also will be before the board tomorrow.

School board opposes strike bill

bills who support the concept of legalized strikes also are charging that the senate amendments to the bill heavily favor teacher unions in the negotiating process.

"It means we won't be negotiating contracts at the bargaining table," Johnson said. "It means their (union) lawyers and our lawyers are going to get rich.

"Speaking as a person going into law, and, I hope, into public labor law, that's okay. I'll get rich," he added. "Taking my personal situation aside, however, this is sheer lunacy."

Johnson said the "fundamental problem with the bill is that it does more than grant teachers the same rights as those in the private sector, it gives them rights no one in the private sector has."

Board President Karen Wilkinson agreed with Johnson's assessment, noting that private sector employees always lose money for the days they strike.

Johnson also said arbitration was devised as an alternative to the strike in the private sector, and the senate bills' inclusion of both strikes and arbitration gives too much power to employees.

He noted that police and firefighters are provided with binding arbitration laws in order to prevent strikes, not to solve long-term ones.

The displeasure of the Northville board was evident Monday night when it decided to send a letter to Governor William Milliken stating its objections to the bill in its present form and asking him to veto it if it reaches him in that form.

Milliken has indicated his displeasure with the recent amendments and his intent to veto the bill if changes are not made.

The board also decided to send a letter to Geake chastising him for ignoring their arguments in opposition to the law.

"We weren't able to reason with him on any of the points," Johnson said.

The only provision of the proposed legislation Geake cited as one he opposes is a recent amendment which legalizes strikes by other public employees in sympathy with those who are negotiating a contract.

"Perhaps there has been a problem in that too many cards are presently in the board's hands," Johnson noted earlier. "But, this bill goes too far the other way, placing all the cards in the teachers' hands."

Nichols said he also is not encouraged.

"We will see an increase in long teacher strikes if this bill passes," he said. "I have no doubt of that."

was a secretary to an aide of the mayor of Detroit.

During her years as clerk, Sass became very involved in the Township Clerk's Association and various other township and municipal organizations throughout the state.

A recent blow-up over subsidized housing in the township cast shadows on the clerk and she was accused of wrongdoing, though no illegal actions were ever proven.

Sass was involved in personality conflicts with Supervisor Donald Thomson, which was one factor which led board members to seek a professional to run the township.

Police Blotter

Depression is blamed in suicide

Laid off from his job since January and separated from his girlfriend the same amount of time, Danny Vehar's apparent deep depression last week led him to take his own life.

Around noon on June 8 the 25-year-old man's roommate discovered his body draped over the hood of his car, which was parked in the garage of their residence at 340 Eaton.

The victim apparently held the garage door shut with a string, letting the car run and fill the room with carbon monoxide until the poison killed him, police said.

Vehar, a former employee of Welduction in Plymouth, had talked of suicide previously, according to his roommate, and in 1978 had attempted suicide by taking an overdose of drugs. The roommate told police the last time he saw Vehar was Monday night, June 2 when they watched the Tiger baseball game on television.

The victim had been diagnosed as 'mildly depressed and not suicidal' and placed on Lithium on May 29.

A two-car accident on Center at Randolph June 6 resulted in minor injuries to the driver and passenger of one vehicle, city police reported.

Robert Newland of Orchard Lake and his passenger, Valerie Roskamp of Walled Lake received minor cuts and bruises when their vehicle, traveling southbound on Center, was rear-ended by a car driven by Alfred Chapman of Belleville, police said.

Newland told police he stopped when he saw traffic backing up from Dunlap, so as not to block Randolph.

No citations were issued.

Three rings, including a diamond wedding ring valued at $400, and some $80 in coins and currency were stolen from a First Street residence June 9, city police reported.

Burglars apparently forced open a back door to gain entry and found the valuables in a bedroom, police said.

Stolen items are valued at $550.

A boys Raleigh 10-speed bicycle was reported stolen from the rear of Cloverdale Dairy, 134 North Center June 9.

The bike, valued at $130, reportedly was not locked.

Six pieces of vinyl lawn furniture valued at $150 were taken from the enclosed porch of a West Seven Mile residence May 31, township police reported.

Police are investigating the incident.

Fourteen wooden doors and numerous trim moldings were taken from a model home in the Lakes of Northville Subdivision sometime between June 6 and June 9, township police reported.

Car thief leads police on high-speed chase

A high-speed chase by township police near Lake Success May 23 resulted in the recovery of a stolen car, though the thief managed to escape after abandoning the vehicle.

A black 1977 Pontiac Trans-am had just been reported stolen from a Jamestown Circle residence when Police Officer Dennis Roscoe, on patrol on northbound Northville Road, noticed a car fitting the description of the stolen vehicle traveling eastbound on a dirt trail leading to Lake Success.

The officer began to follow the suspect vehicle when the driver turned off the car lights and tried to escape.

Roscoe said he chased the vehicle at speeds reaching 60 miles an hour, staying about 20 yards behind.

"The driver then lost control of the car and swerved toward the lake, hitting a large erosion crevice," Roscoe wrote in his report. "The car shot about 50 feet into the air and landed between two more crevices."

reported. Burglars apparently entered the secured residence by breaking a basement window on the south wall, police said.

Stolen property is valued at $3,000.

Four cement lion statues were reported stolen from two township residences June 7, police said.

Two were taken from the front lawn of a Winchester residence while two others were ripped off from a Brampton Court residence, police said.

One of the owners told police he thinks it was a high school prank. Total value of the four statues is estimated at $380.

Two 10-speed bicycles were reported stolen from the sidewalk overlooking Ford Field last week.

One, a boys Fugi, was taken June 6 while the other, a boys Pro Tour, was reported stolen June 8.

The bikes are valued at $125 each.

Portions of a newly constructed split-rail fence were taken down and removed from the rear yard of a Morgan Circle residence June 7, city police reported.

The fence is valued at $200.

Our opinion Governor: veto the strike bill!

It appears likely that legislative approval of the right to strike by teachers and a number of government employee groups is about to happen — whether the public likes it or not.

The strike package already has been approved by the House of Representatives and now, with a variety of amendments tacked on, it probably will be approved by the Senate this week or next. Even our own senator, Republican R. Robert Geake of Northville, appears to have caved in to heavy lobbying. He announced Sunday that he will vote for the legislation.

But because the measure has changed so greatly since the House passed it, insiders say it will require another vote of the House. Its ultimate passage, however, is predicted.

So at this point those who oppose the measure, like State Representative Jack Kirksey (R-Northville, Livonia) and this newspaper, have little recourse but to urge Governor William Milliken to veto it. And there appears to be some reason to believe the governor might do just that if he finds sufficient public support for the veto.

Kirksey, a former teacher and administrator, is being painted the "bad guy" by labor because of his outspoken opposition to the measure. Not only is he likely to lose the support of teachers in his upcoming battle for reelection, his strike bill opposition may mean labor will pump wads of money into his opponent's campaign chest to ensure Kirksey's defeat.

To paint Kirksey as anti-teacher because of his stand on this issue is like saying a mother is anti-children because she will not permit a child or the baby sitter to play with matches.

The fact of the matter is that Kirksey does not oppose the legalization of teacher strikes. What he does oppose, however, is legalizing them without also providing for meaningful penalties — penalties not only on the teachers but on school boards and the public as well.

As presently proposed, the strike measure, predicts Kirksey, will mean a significant increase in the number of teacher strikes because in his opinion, and in our opinion, there is virtually nothing to compel teachers, boards and the public to settle for the first two or three weeks into the school year.

"If you think this legislation has clout and will force teachers and boards to settle so that school can open on time, forget it," says Kirksey. "What it does is give teachers three weeks to strike without loss of wages; and, in effect, it allows boards and the public the same penalty-free period."

In the private sector, notes the lawmaker, strikers face the loss of salary and management faces the loss of profit from day one. But this legislation for the public sector has been so diluted that nobody loses except students and parents who may dislike the idea of the school year stretching three additional weeks into June. It isn't until the third week after the school year begins that persuasive penalties come into play.

Under scuttled proposals introduced by Kirksey, both employees and employer would have been penalized from the first day of a strike. Teachers would have lost one day's wage for each day they strike; school districts would have been denied state revenue in the amount equal to the total wages of the striking employees plus the wage of any employee laid off as a result of the strike.

"This sanction on employers" he explains, "is designed to prohibit a situation where employers can profit when a work stoppage occurs when they receive state revenue intended for wages and they, in fact, are not paying out those wages during the strike..."

Furthermore, Kirksey's proposal provided that lost days occurring as a result of the strike could not be renegotiated back into the school calendar when the strike has been settled. Renegotiating calendars, he points out, has been standard practice throughout the state following past illegally conducted strikes and most certainly this practice would continue, under the pending legislation, following legal strikes.

"If employees and school boards are allowed to renegotiate lost days and the legislature continues the practice of bailing out school districts that have had strikes by employees, employers will not have any reason to avoid strikes," emphasizes Kirksey."

There's another hooker in the measure that is likely to come out of the legislature. Taxpayers ought to be particularly sensitive to this one because of its potential affect on their pocketbooks. It's the provision for binding arbitration by an outside third party. In view of recent "give-away" decisions, such as the one involving the police-fire decision that will cost Detroit taxpayers a bundle, it's a pretty safe bet similar costly awards that give little thought to the taxpayers will result with the public employee strike legislation.

One other point to keep in mind: not only are teachers covered by this strike legalizing measure but other public employee groups also are included. Only policemen, firemen and civil service employees are exempted.

All of which brings us to these last points: if you agree with Kirksey, as we do, and you want to do something about it write the governor immediately and urge him to veto the public employee strike legislation. And then when election time rolls around, vote for the man who is willing to risk political suicide rather than compromise his principles or your tax dollars. Twice in recent weeks Kirksey has done just that. He resisted lobbying and logrolling pressure to oppose the subway appropriation and he voted "no" on the "free" strike measure.

Address of the governor: Office of the Governor, State Capitol, Lansing, Michigan 48903.

Speaking for Myself

Open door for refugees?

JUDY MIKITAROFF

YES

"Give me your tired your poor..."—a trite expression? As an American I hope not.

The world watches as homeless people flounder looking for a place to dwell. We as Americans have to look back at our history and remember what the shores of America, with its open arms, have always meant to everyone.

We have set up laws to regulate entries into this country and as long as those laws are adhered to for legal entry into these United States, I feel that we should maintain our open door policy.

We must remember that these people are tired and frightened. Therefore, it becomes Americans to behave toward them in a warm and friendly manner.

Remember when in school the pride you felt when you studied American history? It gave you a feeling of goodness, of being a beneficial person, of giving help to the needy the world over.

Let's keep up America's image of being the nation in the world to be concerned about what happens to the people of the world and say "Welcome Cubans."

Edith M. Earehart
Milford

NO

Throughout my life I've more or less learned to live by the good neighbor policy, but I think that the United States has gone a little too far in trying to be a good neighbor.

This country can't take care of its own people who are desperately in need of help.

If the resources of this country are so great that we are able to feed, shelter, and cure contagious diseases. Why can't these resources be used to feed, shelter, and cure diseases of our own American citizens?

Why can't they be used to curb the devastating effects of inflation?

With unemployment skyrocketing there just aren't enough jobs available to employ Americans who are out of work, let alone Cuban refugees.

If and when they are employed they will probably be given preferential treatment since they would be considered part of the minority group. Will affirmative action programs get them the job first before the Americans?

I can't understand why I should have to help these refugees in preference to my dear American countrymen many of whom are barely keeping their heads above water.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

An excellent service available to metropolitan Detroit area blind and other persons who are unable to read is largely unused.

It's the radio programming of Public Radio Station WDET-FM out of Wayne State University.

"We know there are some 160,000 persons in our listening area who could benefit from this service," says the station's only full-time paid staffer, Sandra Rubenstein, who spoke to a local Kiwanis club Monday night. "But we have only about 700 listeners."

Staffed and financed mostly by volunteers and contributions, the station provides day-long programming for the handicapped, including the reading of entire newspapers and major magazines, reading of advertisements, reading of books, children's shows, public service announcements, special theatrical presentations, etc., all of which is done by volunteers.

Cost of the service is only $20 a year to cover the rental of a special radio receiver placed in the home or place of residence of the listener. It is provided free, however, in cases where a person has insufficient funds.

Although the service has been offered now for three years, the number of listeners is growing slower than hoped — even though the only similar service in Michigan is in East Lansing. The East Lansing radio signal, however, does not reach into this area.

There is no single source that identifies the names of eligible persons, says Rubenstein, who admits a frustration in trying to reach those who could benefit.

Elderly, who are not legally blind but whose sight is such that they are no longer able to read, are among those eligible. These include persons in nursing homes, institutions or senior citizens housing. Mailings to nursing homes, however, have produced only scattered success, she says.

Anyone interested in the service, either as a recipient or as a volunteer or contributor, may call Rubenstein at 577-4204.

Readers Speak

Township business manager applauded, opposed

To the Editor:

My praises go out to the five Northville Township board members who voted in favor of putting a full-time business manager in charge of our municipal office.

I hope this step in the right direction will put a semblance of dignity, order and respect into an operation which presently is infested with lack of controls on some spending, disorder and inequities in the area of job responsibilities.

Upon reading the proposed salary figure my initial response was that a typographical error had been made. I shortly learned that $22,000 was indeed the correct figure.

Are we going to find a person with the experience and ability needed to fill this position for less than what our present supervisor is earning?

If finding the funds is a problem reducing the salaries of the supervisor, clerk and treasurer to $4,500 (all part-time positions) will provide an additional $9,500. The new figure of $31,500 is still low for such a responsible position, but perhaps attractive enough to entice a qualified individual to take on the tremendous task of correcting errors of bad judgment on the part of our present clerk, past supervisor Grier and even our present supervisor whose lack of experience hindered some decision-making.

A few members of the staff at the township office have managed to keep business together and running smoothly as far as immediate concerns which affect a resident, a resident who perhaps has never attended a board meeting, needed a police officer or had any major problem.

Support, guidance and leadership should come from people at the helm — this was not done during my tenure with the township. I trust this will all change with the hiring of a qualified business manager and the election to four-year terms of high caliber, interested residents for all seven township board positions.

Janice E. Hobart

To the Editor:

The action taken by five members of the Northville Township Board on June 3, 1980, is, in my opinion, absolutely appalling. After only a two month "study," the board decided (on a vote of 5 to 2) to change the way in which our township government has been run for well over 25 years. This "lame duck" board (all positions are up for election in the fall) decided to employ a business manager — and decided that the voters should not have a say in the matter.

There is no reason to believe that a business manager will improve the services at township hall — in fact, it is likely that additional confusion and increased costs to we taxpayers will surely result.

Maybe it is time we looked at the management of the township because of the complexities of running a modern government. But such a drastic change in township government deserves to be voted on by the people. To take the action that five of the board members took — to deny the right of the people to vote on the issue — is unethical and irresponsible. I hope the board quickly reconsiders its action.

Name withheld by request

To the Editor:

I am opposed to the shopping center on Six Mile and Sheldon Road because it would bring more urban blight. We have enough shopping centers in the township.

All concerned citizens should attend the township board meeting Thursday, June 12, and voice their opposition to this type of commercial growth.

The business manager plan, adopted by the Northville Township Board, has several advantages. It promotes efficiency because the business manager becomes a technician, handling the routine daily business, while the supervisor remains the chief executive. Clear lines of authority are established.

The business manager will be given the responsibility of coordinating the staff through a system of pooling. Such a plan allows office continuity when a turnover of elected officials occurs.

Sufficient controls over the business manager are maintained by limiting his power through the job description, providing only an annual contract, and the board would still retain the power to fire the individual. This minimizes the potential for empire building which might occur if the board adopted a full-fledged township manager or a township superintendent.

If the board had decided to adopt a charter township and hire a township superintendent, then they would have raised the millage by 2.5 mills.

If the board had adopted a full-fledged township manager, then millage would be increased by ½ mill or 1 mill.

With a limited business manager plan no millage increase is necessary. Instead the salaries of the supervisor and clerk were cut significantly to provide money for the business manager.

In addition, the business manager would be required to report to the board about technical issues, such as subsidized housing. This would prevent the type of secrecy promoted recently by the township clerk.

Professionalism would be increased because the business manager will have qualifications including public administration, political science, and economics. We would be able to utilize professional interns from universities as free labor to work with the business manager.

Such a plan does not create an additional layer of administration. Instead the business manager could cut down on the overlapping feuding, and confusion existing on the current system. The board took a positive step by adopting the business manager plan.

Viewing the Dome

Marching band lack angers her

To the Editor:

I was surprised when I read the editorial about the absence of the marching band at the Memorial Day parade. I could not believe the "Mickey Mouse" excuse given by Mr. Nichols: that the students had not gone to band camp!

My two older children, who graduated in 1970 and 1972, never had the opportunity to go to band camp. It didn't exist at that time, but they marched at all parades for four years each.

In the past Mr. Williams had the students marching. He taught them out on the football field after school on his own time and their own time. No problem.

It appears to me the school board and Mr. Nichols made a mistake when they "dismissed" Mr. Williams from the high school, but I doubt they will realize it as their own interests predominate.

Northville parents, you'll never have a good music program that promotes individual growth and student responsibility as long as Mr. Williams is teaching at Cooke Junior High rather than at the high school.

Thanks to the personal politics of Mr. Nichols and the board, most students do not enjoy band and many have dropped out. My son, who is graduating this year, was disappointed in his senior year because of this situation.

Also, since I have my pen in hand, let me ask why the American Legion and the VFW are crying.

What did they ever do for the band? They (the band) marched for years in those shabby, hot uniforms. Did you appreciate the students' efforts? Did you appreciate Bob Williams?

I am mentioning the facts because I care. I think the rest of Northville should care and start questioning the music program.

She's fearful about layoffs

To the Editor:

The Regional Office of the Department of Mental Health has called for an immediate layoff of 111 employees at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital reducing the full-time staff to 1,046 by June 30, 1980.

NRPH is the only public hospital providing psychiatric care for voluntary and involuntary patients residing in most of Detroit, Highland Park, Hamtramck and all of Western Wayne County.

Admission rates have been unusually high averaging over 400 per month for 825 beds, probably reflecting high unemployment and the depressed economic condition of the Tri-County area. The hospital has been overcrowded with a high turnover producing a volatile, agitated patient population in hot, un-airconditioned, stuffy wards.

I view these layoffs as constituting a violation of patient and staff rights to a safe habitual treatment environment. I urge all readers to complain to the Department of Mental Health and Governor Milliken.

When mental health needs are the greatest, this is not the time or place to cut back budgets, lay off staff and jeopardize the health, treatment and safety of patients and staff.

Sincerely yours,
Mary Lou Battley, ACSW

Planners, council discuss Bealtown modification

Face-to-face confrontations can accomplish a better understanding of others' thinking.

That was one of the first conclusions of Northville City Planning Commission and Northville City Council members as they met in a joint session to consider future zoning for South Main in the Bealtown area.

After the joint June 3 session, Lesa Buckland, acting chairperson for the planning commission, expressed this feeling, saying, "I really think this (joint session) has been helpful. Any meeting of the minds is."

At the meeting sought by the planners, city council members indicated they were not committed to the present commercial (GCD) zoning for the strip on South Main from the VFW building to Beal.

On their part, the planners explained they were looking at a modified Professional, Business, Office zoning that would include commercial uses that would utilize the existing houses.

After Planning Consultant Ronald Nino emphasized that the area has been upgrading itself with families on adjacent Yerkes and other streets maintaining and improving the homes, the planners, he said, were considering ways to preserve the Main Street houses.

He pointed out that the street has not been developed commercially since being rezoned that way in 1970 and that a modified PBO classification could be a midway solution, maintaining a residential character while permitting desirable business.

Because less parking area would be needed for such uses as a tea room, boutique, or dress shop, he felt there would be more possibility of development.

Mayor Paul Vernon and Councilmembers J. Burton DeRusha, Carolann Ayers, Stanley Johnston and G. Dewey Gardner told the commission that the council was not committed to the present zoning.

But Vernon warned that the city cannot lose sight of the fact that the street already is 50 percent commercial. He questioned Nino whether he believed a developer would use the existing houses.

Nino said, "Definitely yes," and pointed to use of buildings in Ann Arbor as an example.

Vernon asked if a modified Central Business District (CBD) zoning or a "hybrid" of both should be considered.

Planning member Stewart Kissinger stated he did not feel that the South Main area could be considered an extension of the CBD by its location.

Johnston told the planners that he felt the modified PBO plan "has a lot of merit."

Ayers agreed that the proposal utilizing the houses without destroying the tax base was good, saying the characteristics of the neighborhood had changed and the "GCD zoning was not etched in stone."

DeRusha told the planners, "I see the area on South Main as being zoned to less intensive use." He added that if it were all residential now, he could consider rezoning to that category (as in the new master plan change), but that it is not; so the city is dealing with practicalities.

DeRusha stressed that he would not be in favor of intruding any business category into Yerkes behind Main.

Planner William Tucker said one of his concerns had been that the people who own South Main property feel "money is being taken out of their pockets." He said that the zoning has been GCD and "nothing has happened."

The planners agreed to look at expanded possible uses to be included in a modified category.

No Republicans oppose Kirksey, Fessler

Both Republican incumbents Jack Kirksey of the 35th District (Livonia, Northville) and Richard D. Fessler of the 24th District (southwest Oakland County) are unopposed primary candidates for the state House of Representatives.

Democratic hopefuls filing by the deadline a week ago Tuesday are, 24th District, William T. Roberts; 35th District, Ronald Lee Fisher and Barbara Lee Sowers.

Democrats Fisher and Sowers will oppose each other in the August 5 primary. Fisher's mailing address is Plymouth, but his home is in Northville Township.

Sowers lives in Livonia. The winner will face Kirksey of Livonia, the two-term Republican incumbent.

The only area county commissioner district with no August primary race is the 19th (most of Livonia and Northville).

November 4 ballot will be incumbent Republican Mary Dumas of Livonia and Democrat K. Lukens of Livonia.

In the southwestern portion of Northville Township and the Plymouth-Canton area, incumbent Commissioner R. William Joyner of Plymouth has no Democratic primary opponent. But Republicans Jerry E. Boroff of Wayne and Daniel Kress of Belleville will run off August 5 to challenge Joyner in November.

She's Educator of the Year

After 35 years, it's easy: Kids + frogs = learning

By KEVIN WILSON

Amerman Elementary School teacher Eunice Martin was named Woman Educator of the Year recently by the local chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, a national teacher's sorority. The Alpha Nu chapter, which includes both Northville and Plymouth, chose Mrs. Martin as the outstanding woman teacher in Northville and honored her at a regional luncheon conference in Ann Arbor April 19.

The sorority presented her with a charm and a certificate recognizing the selection, but the reward Eunice Martin mentions first is a more informal one.

The 24 children in her second-third grade class room joined their creative efforts in a book they presented to their teacher in recognition of the honor.

"It had some poems in it, some drawings, and some things about what they liked about being in my room," Mrs. Martin explains. "I don't have it with me today. I wish you could see it."

The creation is bound in a cover carrying photographs of Mrs. Martin and the students taken in the class room by Amerman fifth grade teacher Jeffrey Lightfoot.

"I didn't know they were doing this and I was getting a bit frustrated with Mr. Lightfoot because he kept popping in and out of my class room taking pictures," Mrs. Martin recalls, her speech still carrying a hint of her Kentucky upbringing.

"We're very proud of her," Amerman principal William Craft says. "Her teaching style is very open to the students; she communicates well with the children and with parents."

With the class out to recess, Mrs. Martin has time to talk about the award and her 35-year teaching career before going back to explaining how a frog's eye is similar to that of a snake or owl and teaching children to learn where they are in the city by reading maps they make themselves.

"I'm a little bit embarrassed about it," she says of the award. "Woman

Kay Manley's ready for desert with straw hat, boots

Kay Manley's ready for Earthwatch trek

In five days Northville High senior Kay Manley will receive her diploma with honors. In 60 days she will be one of the younger participants in a scientific Earthwatch expedition to the Great Basin Desert of Nevada.

The five-foot, one-inch senior, daughter of the Malcolm Manleys, is looking forward to both events. At graduation she will be fourth in her class, coming in a mere fraction of a percent behind the class salutatorian.

Then, on the Earthwatch program, she will be collecting, classifying and mounting live animal and plant specimens in a two-week project of 12-14 hour days.

While most participants in the Earthwatch programs pay their own way, Ms. Manley is the recipient of an Earthwatch scholarship which will cover more than half the basic costs.

The Earthwatch program, based in Belmont, Massachusetts, is becoming better known as some 4,500 have joined expeditions, assisting 400 scholars on research investigation in 25 states and 48 countries — and paying their own way for the privilege of doing so.

An IRS ruling that expenditures incident to the expeditions are tax deductible has made the program increasingly attractive to those who like the idea of a different vacation.

Northville resident Virginia Hayward last year participated in an interview program of Earthwatch in Nova Scotia and is serving as the local contact for the program.

Kay Manley chose her expedition from among more than 65 offered in Africa, Asia, the Atlantic and Caribbean, Central and South America, Europe, the Pacific and the United States.

Without the Earthwatch scholarship she estimates the venture would have cost about $1,200, including the basic $845 cost plus transportation to the site and supplies.

She knows she will be living in a tent in the desert a few hours away from Reno, expedition starting point.

Under the direction of three graduate students in biology from the University of Nevada Reno campus, she and about 10 others will be trapping and stuffing animals and reptiles and mounting insects found in an acre area of the desert.

"I'm really looking forward to stuffing animals and being outdoors," Kay says, mentioning that she had a taste of such scientific research in her high school conservation class.

She's already purchased work gloves, ankle boots and wool socks, as required, to protect against a possible unfriendly snake or scorpion.

She says she's tiny but tough and is not worried about keeping up in the expedition. She's been told her day will start about 6 a.m. and that she should be able to walk five miles a day.

"That's no problem, but I am going to get in tone and do some bike riding," she says. She also will continue working at John Genitti's on Main Street where she has been employed all four years during high school.

It's her savings from the job that are making the expedition possible. It won't be all work, however, as Kay plans a

Harpist provides music

Lynn Nichols wed at St. Paul's

As Lynn Ann Nichols walked down the aisle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church to become the bride of Brian E. Findling, harp music set a sentimental mood for the traditional ceremony.

Harpist Mary MacNair played sonatas by Naderman and Pescetti, a hymn, "We Gather Together," and the recessional, "Bourne," by Bach.

The bride is the daughter of Neil E. and Annie A. Nichols of 20020 Caldwell. Her bridegroom is the son of Robert and Kay Findling of 46065 Norton.

Pastor Charles Boerger officiated at the 6 p.m. double ring, candlelight service on Mother's Day, May 11. The altar was decorated with pink azaleas that later were given to grandmothers of the couple.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Piccione gown with a long-sleeve bodice of Alencon lace with soutach stitching and white chiffon skirt extending into a chapel train. Her lace crown headpiece with pearl trim had been worn by her mother.

She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, white mini-carnations, stephanotis, baby's-breath, lily of the valley and wax flowers.

Karen Ann Kennedy, now of South Lyon, was honor maid. Diane Wilkinson, now interning at Ford Hospital, and Kim Ann Balko of Milford were bridesmaids. All wore cream chiffon with mauve and pink flowers interspersed randomly over the gowns. They carried bouquets of mauve roses, pink carnations, stephanotis and wax flowers.

Robert J. Findling was best man for his brother. Another brother Bruce and the bride's brother Neil A. ushered.

After the bride's father welcomed guests at the reception at the Finnish Center, candles which had decorated the grandparents' 50th anniversary celebration were lighted on the bride's table. The statuette which had decorated the wedding cake of the bride's parents topped the four-tier wedding cake.

Out-of-town guests were present from Massachusetts, Ohio and Elmira, Michigan, as well as from Ontario.

Adding to the traditional sentiment, the bride's aunt made two garters, one to throw and one to keep, and encased a lucky penny in lace for her shoe.

The couple had met in art class at Northville High School.

The bride now attends Waldorf Institute of Mercy College while employed by Riverdale Podiatry Clinic and Nichols Realty.

Her bridegroom attended Schoolcraft College and is employed by AIS Construction Corporation of New Hudson as a service technician.

After a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, they have purchased the bride's grandparents' home where they are living in Livonia.

Pre-wedding entertainments for the new Mrs. Findling were given at the homes of Mrs. Robert Findling, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Allan, Jr., and Mrs. Donald Nichols. Friends of the bride gathered at Miss Kennedy's. A bridesmaid's luncheon was held at the Nichols home the day before the wedding.

In Our Town

Jaycettes sponsor cute kids contest

By JEANDAY

Parents who are sure they have "the cutest little tyke in town" are going to have a chance to show off their youngsters in a new competition sponsored by the Northville Jaycettes — and at the same time assist a good cause.

A Little Miss and Mister Northville Contest is to be an added attraction at Fourth of July festivities in the Mill Race Village. The first 40 parents submitting pictures of their youngsters — from one to three years old — will have them displayed in a booth there.

"People will choose the winners by casting votes at a penny each, and there will be a prize for the winning boy and the winning girl," Chris Campbell, co-head of the project with Chris Abbey, explains.

Parents are invited to submit 5 by 7 photos to Mrs. Abbey, 526 Langfield, by July 1. They are to be accompanied by a $1 entry fee, name, sex, birth date of the child and the parents' name, address and telephone number.

Proceeds will go to the Ronald McDonald house at Detroit Children's Hospital. The Ronald McDonald houses are a charity of the fast-food chain to provide reasonable housing for parents of hospitalized children.

Bowlers saddle up for west (Main) party

Minnie Pearl (Margie) Davis and country western singer Willie Nelson (Bill Davis) welcomed the Lone Ranger (Henry Fonde) and a gun-totin' desperado (Al Wistert) and other guests to a Country Western party at their home May 31 to celebrate the end of the bowling season for eight couples who bowl together in an informal league.

The Fondes, Wisterts, Richard Amblers, Alfred Parmenters, H. O. Evans', William Secords and Dr. and Mrs. Fred Bentley had received invitations instructing them to "come as a favorite western character."

During the evening Janet Bentley, who has served as official scorekeeper for the league for the past two years, presented toy bowling pins inscribed with their scores to top bowlers Al Wistert, Tad Evans, Al Parmenter and Dick Ambler and to the winning team, the Parmenters and Fondes. Jeanne Ambler received a special award as high woman bowler. Giftfiddler musicians then arrived to play country western music for the party.

It's 16 years, a husband and two children later

Sixteen years ago Alfred and Pearl Parmenter hosted an exchange student, Myrtle Jardine, from Ireland through the then Ann Arbor-based Youth for Understanding program. She's returning for the first time next month with her husband and two children.

The Irish visitors, who are visiting relatives in Canada, also, will be here for three days on July 9. The Parmenters are planning a family dinner during their stay.

Community invited

Church to honor minister

He's not just our pastor, he serves the community

This is the theme of a reception tribute planned for the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure as he plans to retire with some 19 years' service at First Presbyterian Church the end of this month.

The committee for the reception which is to follow the 11 a.m. service Sunday, June 23, at the church is issuing an open invitation to everyone in the community who knows the minister to attend.

The 1,000-member congregation also has been asked to be on hand.

The crux of the minister's service is being lauded in verse (partially quoted above) written by John and Carol Merrifield.

As he announced plans to retire in July, 1979, the Reverend Brasure declared his proudest accomplishment has been the ecumenical friendships fostered in both the Catholic and Protestant communities.

A leading exponent of joint services, he instituted the July 4 community service in Mill Race Village for the Bicentennial celebration.

During the reception to be held from 1-3 p.m. there will be a short program at 2:15 p.m. in the new sanctuary which was built during his service here.

That construction followed the paying off of an existing mortgage and then another for the Christian Education wing.

William Williams, who retired after many years as church choir director, will sing the pastor's favorite hymns at the program, the reception committee headed by Stuart Pollock announces.

Invitations have been sent to out-of-town friends of the Brasures, many of whom live in Petoskey. He came from that city's Presbyterian church to begin his pastorate here the Sunday after Easter, 1961.

He revealed plans to retire at age 67 last July in order for the church to begin making plans for a successor.

The time coincides with the graduation of his youngest child Wayne from University of Michigan. The Brasures also have a son Neal, who is in career service with the Air Force, and daughters Diane (Mrs. James Edwardson) and Leslie (Mrs. Thomas Tuuri). Doris Brasure, a nurse, has worked part-time at St. Mary Hospital.

A native of Wisconsin, the minister received his education at Wheaton (Illinois) College and McCormick Seminary. He served as a chaplain in World War II.

As he announced retirement plans, he said he plans to keep active in the Detroit Presbytery and in the community.

The Brasures have moved from the manse on West Main and are living in an apartment on Taft — close to the heart of the community he served longer than any other Presbyterian minister in recent church history.

Baptist attraction

This cast of 10 college students, the Summer Players of Tennessee Temple University in Chattanooga, will be presenting the missionary play, "Bridge of Blood: Taking Christ to the Aucas," at Northville First Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday. The play tells the story of the five men who were killed in 1956 while attempting to bring the gospel of Jesus Christ to the savage Aucas Indians of Ecuador. More than 500 performances have been given during the past six years, they report, as "a challenge to live for Jesus Christ." The public is invited to attend with no admission charge. Pictured are Don Payne, Thornton, Colorado; Monice Greenhow, Lakeland, Florida; Diane Gilmore, Titusville, Florida; Mitchell Meeks, Tampa, Florida; Bridgett Gray of Pekin, Illinois; back, Todd Corbin, Manitou Beach, Michigan; Cindy Stiles, Chattanooga; Mark Wilson, Chattanooga; Barbara Newton, Lynchburg, Virginia; Eric Moore of Romulus.

These showers honor expectant teachers

If activity in local schools is any indication, Northville must be going through something of minor baby boom.

At least three area classes had baby showers for their teachers in the past week, and reports of more come in every day.

Monday, June 2, Mrs. Cynthia Scherf, a mathematics teacher at Cooke Junior High, walked into her to third hour (10 a.m.) class to find herself showered in baby gifts. The class knew she was coming so it baked a cake.

Mrs. Anne McFarland, first grade teacher at Our Lady of Victory School, was surprised Thursday with a luncheon barbeque shower behind the rectory.

Her students pitched in and bought a GM Loveseat to keep the baby safe in the car, and baby sterling silver. Children also brought smaller individual gifts for Mrs. McFarland's first baby.

Friday saw the third grade class of Mrs. Hilary Dundek hosting a baby shower for their teacher at St. Paul's Lutheran School.

Mrs. Dundek's husband also teaches at the school. They are expecting their first child in October.

The children chose cake and punch for refreshments at this affair. Each student had the option of bringing an individual gift or contributing toward a larger class present.

Not one, but two sets of twins are welcomed

Twin daughters, Jennifer Nicole and Jessica Aina, were born May 28 to Mrs. and Mrs. Mathew Jarvi of Ann Arbor. Their mother is the former Debi Myers, a 1971 graduate of Northville High School.

Jennifer weighed seven pounds, eleven ounces, while Jessica weighed six pounds, nine ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cloyce Myers and maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers, all of Northville.

Rudolph Jarvi of Wakefield, Michigan, is the paternal grandfather.

April 30 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers of Belleville.

Christopher's birth weight was seven pounds, thirteen ounces.

Now at home with parents Timothy and Karen Zerndt of 15707 Fry are twin daughters Katie Lynn and Kellie Lisa.

Katie weighed five pounds, one ounce at birth February 24 at Hutzel Hospital in Detroit, while Kellie's weight was five pounds, two ounces.

The babies have two sisters, Theresa, 9, and Tiffany, 7.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Zerndt of Northville and Mr. and Mrs. John Keyes, former Northville residents now living on St. Simon Island, Georgia.

The Myers family also welcomed a grandson, Christopher Richard, born visit to an aunt in Portland as part of the trip.

Kay won the Earthwatch scholarship by writing convincingly why she wanted to participate in the program and composing an essay on what she considered the greatest factor in the degradation of man today.

Discouragement and apathy are her concerns.

"It seems hopeless," she says, classifying herself as a pessimist, "but the best way to start is with yourself. I worry a lot about such things as disappearing wild life. Most people toss this area off as wasteland. The work should show differently."

That's one reason she chose this expedition. Mrs. Hayward points out that not all are as rigorous. She mentions she chooses those with college or other home accommodations and prefers survey-type work.

But Kay is anticipating her desert living for another reason — it may change her life.

Right now she's enrolled at Michigan State University for the fall in pre-veterinary medicine. If this summer's Earthwatch experience is satisfying, she may change to a science field. She says she finds ecology and genetics of high interest.

If she does, she will have a head start to a career with Earthwatch credits.

Her modesty about the award is clearly genuine when she takes pains to point out that the other winner selected by the chapter, Shirley Spaniel, is

Mrs. Martin says she will probably retire in two years, stops to think for a second, and then says she may not retire that soon after all.

Meet Elaine Powers.

The figure control system that has helped thousands of American women to lose pounds and inches was developed by Richard Proctor—a man with a mission.

His mission—to give women a balanced approach to trimming and slimming. He believes that any system which does not take the whole person into account will not work.

At Elaine Powers, his unique, smart eating plan is just as important as the exercise program. And the exercise is geared to what Richard Proctor believes women are willing and able to do to achieve results.

He has personally designed the exercise machines after experimentation and in-use testing with thousands of women—and they are unique in the exercise field.

But, beyond the eating and exercise program—Richard Proctor believes in the importance of a cheerful, friendly atmosphere where women can find support for their efforts and friends to help them along.

"It's not easy to change old habits," says Proctor. "At Elaine Powers we help women to change their attitudes as well as their dress size."

A native of Sacramento, California, who lives by the same rule of sensible eating and exercise he advocates—Richard Proctor has proven that his system gets results that extend beyond "body beautiful" goals. "Ultimately," he states, "it does wonderful things for your life."

Visiting bobby explains why police don't really need guns

By KEN KOVACS

Imagine a policeman without a gun. Ridiculous. Unthinkable. Yet in England it is the norm.

"No police officer carries a gun in our country," Uniform Police Inspector Gary Banks said during his recent stay in Northville. "Only a certain number of officers are trained in the use of firearms and they are called in only when guns are used by criminals."

"The trained officers carry pistols and pump-action shotguns and usually have no difficulty resolving the problem."

While attending Kent University in England a few years ago Banks met three American students, one of whom is the girlfriend of Northville resident Fred Godwin, a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputy.

Godwin visited Banks in Luton a year ago February and invited the British inspector to visit him here.

Inspector Banks emphasizes a point

Poets' Corner

Youth

Too young to vote, too young to drink,
Too young to tell folk what they really think.
Who ever listens to youth today,
Who cares if they ever have something to say?
We know better, the old ones say,
We never did all this in our day.
Sneer when you're spoken to,
Do as you're told,
Don't do as we do, do as we say,
And jump to it when we give the OK.

Give youth a chance,
It's not at all bad
To question, discuss and argue with Dad.

Too soon they'll be older and settled to life,
With jobs and houses, a car and a wife.

Remember the old days,
Remember your past—
Didn't it all go by so fast?

Or nesting soft.

Bored Board

'Board' not bored
The meeting read;
Just sitting there,
I longed for bed.

F. A. Hasenau

The bobby's two-week stay ended Monday.

After riding with a Detroit police officer last week Banks said he saw only minor differences between police work here and at home.

"I think there are similarities in policing wherever you go," he said. "You have pretty much the same problems everywhere."

"I think the great quantity of guns in this country is the major reason for more shootings," he continued. "But people can get quite nasty where I live, too."

A law enforcement officer in Luton, Bedfordshire for 11 years, the 29-year-old Banks has held every position from cadet to inspector and feels, at least in England, there is no need for police to tote firearms.

"I think it puts an added pressure on a police officer," he told Northville Police Chief Rodney Cannon last week. "It is a liability."

"To own a pistol or a rifle British citizens must have a very good reason," he explained. "There is a fairly thorough investigation before a permit is issued."

"There just aren't that many guns around."

In addition to the specially trained officers, British police sometimes call on the Special Air Services (SAS) to assist in particularly violent situations.

"They are the best," Banks praised. "They are trained killers. They were the ones who recently executed the successful rescue of hostages at the Iranian Embassy in London."

Another difference between British and American police work can be seen in the structure of law enforcement, Banks pointed out.

"The comparative fragmentation of police departments here is amazing," he said. "We have one system of police. All (pay) scales are the same throughout the country."

The British visitor said there are approximately 110,000 police who cover England and Wales.

Just under 1,000 'bobbies' patrol Luton.

With a population of 180,000, it is the smallest 'town' in Bedfordshire, one of 35 counties.

Banks said Luton is not unlike Detroit. "It also is an automotive city," he said. "There is a General Motors Vauxhall plant there which employs many people."

And the gas prices, he said, are double what Americans pay.

Not only for the 'low' gas prices, Banks said he would like to visit the States again.

"You can see a lot in two weeks, but you can't really learn much in that amount of time," he said.

BRITISH POLICE INSPECTOR Gary Banks is serious (above) when he says police don't need to carry guns. In a recent two-week visit to the United States, the 29-year-old bobby stayed with Northville resident Fred Godwin and was entertained by some of Nor-

Crabapples: a wide variety of sizes, colors are available

The most difficult part of planting crabapples in your yard is deciding which varieties to plant.

Hundreds are available, offering a wide range in sizes and shapes, flower colors, and fruit sizes and colors.

Harold Davidson, Extension horticulturist at Michigan State University, points out that crabapples will grow in most well drained, sunny sites. Because they come in so many sizes and shapes, there's a variety to fit almost any spot.

The wide range in flower color -- from white through all shades of pink to red, magenta and purple -- makes crabapples one of the most versatile and spectacular of landscape ornamentals.

The key to keeping crabapples fairly problem-free and minimizing maintenance is to take advantage of built-in disease resistance, he suggests.

The homeowner can control apple scab, for instance, with fungicides, but choosing disease-resistant varieties is a lot easier.

Where one plants crabapples is also important in disease control.

Cedar apple rust can be a problem in crabapples planted near cedars of junipers. Neglected apple orchards or susceptible varieties of crabapples nearby can be a source of apple scab.

Fireblight can be minimized by planting resistant varieties and by avoiding pruning just prior to and during flowering. This is when the disease is most active. It can enter the plant through pruning wounds, as well as through the flowers.

Sooty mold on crabapples, though unsightly, is not a disease of the plants themselves. Rather, it is a mold that grows on the honeydew and is secreted by aphids. Timely sprays to control heavy infestations of aphids will prevent sooty mold from developing.

Crabapples need little pruning. Once the basic branch structure is established, all that's needed are occasional thinning, removing dead or broken branches, and pruning suckers in the crown and at the base of the plant.

Too much pruning can promote excessive sucker growth on the branches. Removing these tends to lock the homeowner into a yearly vicious circle of pruning that promotes more growth that must be pruned, and so forth.

Though there are many excellent crabapples for landscape use, the following are among the best for Michigan:

—American Beauty: double red flowers.

—X atrocaerulea: lateral growth, broader than high, pink flowers, scab resistant.

—Barbara Ann: good double pink flower, semi-upright.

—Baccata Jacki: broad upright, excellent red fruits, white, fragrant flowers.

—Coraburst: dwarf (8') upright branching, double rose-pink flowers.

—X Dorothea: double, rose-colored flowers.

—Halliana parkmani: almost shrubby, double pink flowers, scab resistant.

—X Katherine: double, white, fragrant flowers.

—X purpurea Leomoinet: dark rose-colored flowers, scab resistant, alternate flowering.

—X Radiant: spring and fall foliage somewhat reddish.

—X Red Jade: pendulous branching, white flowers, scarlet fruits contrasting with tan stems.

—X Royalty (Royal red): foliage is a good deep purple the year around with dark red flowers.

—X Red Jewel: red fruit, large, leathery, dark, glossy, green leaves.

—Snowdrift: white flowers, scarlet fruits.

—X Tschonoski: broad, upright habit of growth, fall color bronze red, glossy foliage and vigorous grower.

—X Van Eseltine: double, pink flowers, profuse, a columnar tree for many years, resistant to scab.

Add a Gazania to Your Garden

A gazania is not a response to a sneeze. The gazania is a hardy and colorful flower for all climates and adapted to difficult home-garden conditions.

Sunbelt gardeners have long been convinced of the merits of this daisy-like flower. A drive down any street in California or the Southwest will undoubtedly include the site-brightening color of a gazania planting.

This season Northern gardeners as well, can begin to enjoy the merits of the tough gazania. New to the flower spectrum this year is 'Golden Margarita,' the first F1 hybrid gazania. It means more bloom, clearer color and sturdier growth in a home garden planting.

'Golden Margarita' is adaptable to any normal garden soil. She is particularly well suited for garden hot-spots, where dry soil and long hours of intense sun cause problems for other flowers.

The intensive breeding necessary to produce an F1 hybrid has resulted in a flower with bright yellow petals, ripening to a warm gold with rich chocolate brown center. The 3-inch blooms stand six to twelve inches above the contrasting dark green foliage.

The gazania has a bright future in containers. Few annuals have the drought tolerance of the gazania. A balcony planter of 'Golden Margarita' will give season-long displays of uniform blooms, even in windy locations.

Gazania 'Golden Margarita'

A planting of 'Golden Margarita' can also be a welcome addition to the too-green American shrub landscape. Since junipers have much the same cultural requirements, the gazania is the ideal bedding plant for the spot of color needed in woody landscape plantings. Intermix in ground-cover plantings to enhance the naturalistic effect possible with this versatile flower.

Set gazanias 6 to 12 inches apart in the garden after all danger of frost has past. Seeds may be started indoors 4 to 6 weeks before anticipated planting date out-of-doors.

'Golden Margarita' will stretch out the flower season. Even after slight frosts the sturdy blooms will open for day-long color display. The beauty of 'Golden Margarita' must, however, be confined to the container or garden setting. Like many other sun-lovers, the gazania will close in very cloudy weather. At night and when picked. At the break of dawn it will open again, to grace the landscape with its daisy-bright beauty.

Third most valuable

Proper thinning helps lettuce plants produce

Leaf lettuce is the third most valuable vegetable you can grow in your garden. Only tomatoes and green onions are more profitable, say the experts.

Sow seeds of leaf lettuce very early; they'll sprout and grow when it is too cool for most other vegetables, they advise.

Descriptions list most leaf varieties as maturing in about 45-days. But you can begin pulling every other plant when the seedlings are only half grown. Thinning makes room for the remaining seedlings to fill out to their full diameter — as large as dinner plates.

Except where seasons are extremely short there is no advantage to starting leaf lettuce seeds early indoors.

Discontinue sowing lettuce seeds when warm summer comes. Heat causes poor germination, and the plants that come up will quickly shoot up seed stalks or turn bitter.

Excellent crops of leaf lettuce can be grown for fall harvest during cool weather. The cos (romaine) and butterhead types grow especially well during the fall season. These loose-heading types are nearly as easy to grow as leaf lettuce.

Suggestion: mix seeds of two or three kinds of leaf lettuce for variety in color, leaf lettuce for variety in color, leaf shapes and taste. The gardener can get apple green, dark green, bronze-red, frilled and fringed varieties.

Packets of lettuce seeds are filled generously. Plant only one-quarter to one-half packet at a time, at two-week intervals. An average family can eat only as much leaf lettuce as can be grown on about six square feet of bed.

Experienced gardeners "force" spring lettuce to mature early by sheltering it under tunnels or hoods of clear plastic sheeting. The canopy concentrates the sun's heat and protects lettuce from snap frosts.

What a treat to be eating lavish salads of home grown leaf lettuce when a bunch costs 79 cents at the market!

Mustangs record good spring slate

If league championships are any measure of success, Northville spring sports teams had more than their share of it.

Two of the eight spring sports squads won Western Six league titles this year.

For the fifth time in a row, the boys varsity tennis team won the Western Six net crown.

With a new coach, Dick Norton, and a solid lineup of seniors, the Mustangs seized the title with a 9-1 league mark (12-2 overall) and a resounding win at the league meet.

Barry Ouellette completed four years of varsity action at first singles undefeated. The only rain in the Mustang tennis sunshine was that Ouellette was upset at the regional tennis meet and didn't compete at the state level.

Besides Ouellette, Northville claimed six other league tennis champions. Doug Horst, Andy Orlando, Ian Wild, Dale Fisher and Les Neal all won at the loop meet.

The other Northville league champ was the varsity baseball squad.

It was the first time since Northville entered the Western Six Conference in 1970 that the Mustangs won a league baseball title.

Coach Bob Kucher had some quality players to work with.

A solid senior pitching crew of Rick Orthwick (4-0), John Hale (6-2-1) and Rob Ade (2-1) limited the opposition to few if any runs.

He could call on hitters like Dan Goehman (.500), Jim Behan (.406) or Paul Luiki (.423) to provide support for the mound corps. Hale led the team in home runs with five.

The newest spring sport on the Northville scene was girls varsity soccer.

The Mustang kickers finished the year at 7-4-3, good for fourth in the tough Girls Suburban Soccer League.

Coach Ron Meteyer had a young crew, no seniors on the squad, which could account in large part for the losses to the older teams in the league.

Karen Irwin and Melissa McDaniel were oak doors in the Mustangs' nets. Each took turns starting, and each turned in stellar performances.

For firepower, Meteyer had Marge Muller and Jane Mao, players who could do with a soccer ball what Oscar Robertson could do with a basketball: dribble, shoot, and score.

Liz Bohan and Jaque Nixon were two of many solid players on the team who didn't score often, but because of their quality play in the middle and on defense, enabled the Mullers and the Maos to score.

The track scene at Northville was less than joyful, if team wins are to be counted as important.

The boys squad finished the year at 2-6 and fourth in the Western Six while the girls team failed to win a meet and finished last in the conference.

But individually, there were bright spots on both teams.

For the boys, Harry Couyoumjian finished sixth in the state in the 880-yard run, breaking his old school record in the race.

Clark Couyoumjian, Harry's younger brother, showed in the league meet that his older brother's graduation this spring won't be cause for total depression among Northville track fans.

Clark won the 880 at the conference meet and has shown signs of coming into his own in the middle distance events.

Junior Dave Ward emerged this year as the Mustangs' field events champion, consistently earning a quarter of the team's total points in any meet by placing in four events (discus, high jump, shot put, and long jump). He won the league title in the high jump with a leap of 6'1".

Senior Ross Grover owned the mile in all the races this season, but Junior Scott Dayton is ready to step in and claim that distance to go along with his consistent two-mile race wins.

For the girls squad, Senior Kris Spigarelli dashed her way to points for the Mustangs all season long. At the league meet she finished fifth in the 100-yard dash.

Sheri Robins is closing in on the school record in the high jump. The junior was third in the league meet in the event, jumping 4'10".

Senior Hollie Raycraft joined the team in the middle of the season and provided a solid force in the field events, particularly the discus, in which she finished sixth in the league.

The varsity softball team had a disappointing year. Seniors Julie Abraham (pitcher), Kim Kurzawa (shortstop), Kathy Phillips (third base), Pam Metz (first base) and newcomer Cheryl Stasak (outfield) all flashed brilliantly at times, but never consistently and as a team. The result, a 3-14 record.

Next season Coach Tim Lutes will be able to count on veterans like Sandra Flannigan, Julie Orr, Amy Abraham and some promising prospects from the JV.

Recreation programs provide summer fun

The Northville Recreation Department has announced its summer program lineup.

Registration for these programs will take place from Monday, June 16 to Friday, June 20, 8:30 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m. at the Community Center.

One program will begin its registration later than the others. Fall soccer registration will begin on Saturday, July 12 and continue until Saturday, July 19th. The fee for the program ranges from $14-17, depending upon your area of residence. This program is open to boys and girls of all ages.

A new program the rec department is sponsoring this summer is roller skating.

There will be skates for rent at the Community Center and the parking lot will be used as the rink. The fee will be 75 cents per hour.

The program begins on Wednesday, June 25, with youth skating from 10 a.m. to noon and adult skating from 6-9 p.m.

Horseback riding and riding lessons will be offered on the weeks of June 23 and August 4 at the Children's Farm and Riding School in Canton.

An archery target shooting program will be taught by Mary Minor on Mondays and Wednesdays for six weeks beginning June 23 and ending July 30. The program will take place at the Scout building and is for those eight years and older. The fee is $12.

Pee Wee baseball practice, which teaches the basic techniques of baseball while playing "pick-up" games, will begin June 24 and end July 31. This program will take place on Tuesdays and Thursdays, in the morning.

A bowling league, divided into age groups (6-14 years old) will start June 26 and last until August 14. The league will bowl at Northville Lanes.

Peg Kozler will teach a women's conditioning class, using music, dance, fitness and exercise. This class will meet on Mondays and Thursdays beginning June 23, and will last until August 14.

A day camp for children 4-10 years will be offered this summer. It meets Mondays through Fridays beginning July 2 and lasts until August 20. It will stress seven weeks of organized games on the playground, arts, crafts, special events (a trip to the zoo), safety bike parade, bowling, swimming and a gala picnic for both of the two camps (Winchester Elementary and Scout Bldg.). The fee for the program is $25 per child.

Golf lessons at the Oasis Golf Center in Plymouth will be offered through the rec department. This program will begin on June 26 and continue until July 31.

The Isshinryu Karate Club will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7-9 p.m. at the Northville Community Center. This discipline teaches you all aspects of the Martial Arts such as Judo, self-defense, Aikido and weapons. Master Bob White, 4th Degree Black Belt, will teach.

For senior citizens, a daily nutrition program, an art program, a Senior Citizens Club, and trips to Detroit Tiger baseball games will be offered this summer.

A variety of swimming classes will be taught this summer. Open swim, junior lifesaving and advanced lifesaving to handicap swimming, aqua tot and all levels of regular swimming will be offered by Swim Director Matt Sullivan.

Cooper is a three-sport letter winner. He earned varsity letters this year in football, swimming and baseball.

In the fall, Cooper worked as a wide receiver and defensive halfback. This spring he played shortstop on Northville's Western Six Championship team. But it was as a diver for the varsity swim team that Cooper really shined.

He has been the Western Six Conference diving champion for the past two seasons.

"He is a very dedicated and non-selfish athlete," Northville Swim Coach Pete Talbot said. "He is easy to work with and is an excellent competitor. He reacts well to pressure situations."

Cooper plans to attend Schoolcraft Community College in the fall.

Cahill and Cooper Athletes of Year

Sue Cahill and Paul Cooper were named Northville High School Athletes of the Year last week.

Both seniors were selected by votes from the Northville coaches.

In all, 11 girls and 11 boys were nominated. The coaches then picked their three choices, ranking each, and re-submitted the ballots.

Cahill, an All-American swimmer, is world-ranked (in top 25) in the 400 Intermediate Medley.

"Sue is one of the most versatile and fastest swimmers to compete for Northville," Ben Lauber, Northville swimming coach said. "She has gained All-American honors, is a two time state champion, and has never been beaten in league or dual meet competition in three years in Northville. She presently holds four state AAU records and six high school team records."

Cahill has accepted an academic scholarship to the University of Michigan's Honor's Program for the fall.

Reasons why SNAPPER owners wouldn't own any other:

- 1 Walk-behind models, with inexpensive accessories, will mow, discharge cuttings evenly, vacuum, bag, mulch cuttings and shred leaves
- 2 Riders and walk-behind models deliver a smooth, professional cut even during tough conditions. They also cut more, faster, because of the efficient transfer of power from their engines
- 3 Large capacity grass catchers need emptying less frequently, especially those with the 30 bushel Bag-N-Wagon
- 4 The floating cutting unit on riders minimizes scalping and damage to the mower
- 5 A wide selection of mowing speeds gives flexibility for varying lawn conditions, without loss of cutting power

Before you buy a mower, compare the quality and performance features of a SNAPPER. You'll find SNAPPER is worth more because it does more. And, its price is competitive with other quality mowers

The Mustang relay teams also did well. The 880 relay unit took third (1:52.99), the 440 relay squad took fourth (:53.13), and the mile relay team finished sixth (4:32.31).

Bull's-eye for Danol

Sue Danol is a champion. Danol, from Northville, and three other members of the Livonia Junior Rifle Team won the Michigan Outdoor Junior Rifle Championship last month. The championship match was held at the Oakland County Sportsman's Club. The shooters are members of the Livonia Sportsman's Club, sponsored by the Livonia Parks and Recreation Department. Before winning the championship, Danol and her companions won the Southeastern Michigan Indoor Junior Rifle League championship and the Michigan Sharpshooter competition, sponsored by the National Rifle Association.

The team is coached by Terry Danol, Harold Lewicki and Larry Snively.

Members of the team are Paul Kochensparger, Steve Switzer, Roth Snively and Danol.

Mao gets All-NSSL

In balloting by the North Suburban Soccer League (NSSL) West Division coaches this weekend, the following four Northville girls were voted to the All-League West team:

Jennie Mao, halfback, first team; large Muller, forward, second team; and Jacque Nixon and Michelle Waldman, honorable mentions. Mao was the only sophomore voted to the first team, and she and Muller are two of only three sophomores to be selected for the first two teams.

This was the first year for girls soccer at the varsity level in Northville, and the team was made up entirely of underclassmen.

Yet the Mustangs finished fourth in the conference with a strong 7-4-3 record.

'F' League Review

The Phillies and the Expos joined the Angels atop the "F" League standings, all with 5-1 records.

The Angels lost their first game of the season, 9-7 to the Braves, as Chris Wagner belted a grand slam home run and Jeff Metz delivered a two-run shot to down the previously unbeaten team. The Braves missed a chance to share the league lead when the Expos, led by Doug May and Dave Longridge (each with two hits), erupted for five runs in the third and emerged with an 11-10 decision.

Longridge also picked up the win with a strong relief stint on the mound.

Craig Beaudoin gave the Braves two of their runs with his first home run of the season, a blow that cleared the center-field fence.

The Phillies won their fifth game in six outings, scoring eight times in the first two innings to nip the Astros 12-11. The Phils were out nine to one but collected 20 walks.

The Giants split a pair of games last week, bowing to the Dodgers 7-3 and whipping the Astros 17-2.
