

Rejuvenated DeHoCo prison ready to receive inmates

By KEN KOVACS

Northville residents will get a special opportunity to tour the Phoenix Correctional Facility Saturday, July 19, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The Michigan Department of Corrections is hosting the event to give residents a look at the renovated prison.

Phone changes for circulation

Beginning next Monday, this newspaper's circulation department will have a new telephone number. Persons who have a newspaper delivery problem or who may wish subscription information are asked to call 349-3627 beginning Monday. Between now and Monday, however, readers should call either 437-1662 or 437-1789. Meanwhile, jot down the new number, 349-3627, and place it near your telephone in case you should need assistance in the future.

— formerly the Women's Division of DeHoCo — prior to the phasing in of some 320 male inmates. The first group of parole violators and "community correction failures" will be moved to the renovated facility located on Five Mile just west of Beck Road in Northville Township on July 21, according to Lloyd May, facility superintendent.

"They will probably be moved in a little faster than we had anticipated," he said. "Men will be brought in approximately every two weeks until we are up to capacity, probably by October 1." The extensive renovation project, which cost $3.8 million, included the replacement of electrical and plumbing systems, as well as installation of a new heating system.

Renovation of the 50-year-old facility was to be finished by May, but there were some problems with delivery of heating equipment which set interior work back.

Work crews of inmates from Camp Waterloo in Jackson County did much of the clean-up work and painting of interior walls.

The superintendent said some of the exterior painting of the eight cottages, which will each house 40 prisoners, will be done by the inmates.

Corrections officials have said the inmates at the facility will be a special kind of prisoner who will remain at the prison for only a short time.

The majority of the offenders will be there for six months to one year, officials said.

Most of the medium security prisoners will be parole violators awaiting revocation hearings.

Increased security at the facility includes two chain-link fences separated by concertina wiring and an electric detection system.

Some 190 prison employees, including a custody staff of 118 officers, will help May run the facility.

Each of the cottages will be run by a residence unit manager, his assistant and one custody officer.

Inmates will have a key to their own room and be responsible for their belongings.

The Phoenix facility includes an outdoor activities area with baseball diamonds, basketball hoops and soon will have a track.

Offenders will participate in educational (academic and vocational) programs.

Foreign student appalled

Lack of geography in school bugs her

By KEVIN WILSON

"It just bugged me at first," Sabine Lackore says now. "It wasn't until later that I was prompted to act."

Lackore is a 1980 graduate of Northville High School. Born in Lebanon in 1964, she did not come to the United States until the fall of 1979.

"It was a culture shock at first," she recalls of her first days at Northville High. "I wanted to go to a private school when I got here, but public school was really the best place. It exposes you to the whole culture all at once. It's the best preparation for college."

She rather swiftly became aware of what was, to her, a surprising lack of general knowledge of foreign places and events among her classmates.

"They asked me if there were camels in Lebanon," Lackore laughs. "There isn't much desert in Lebanon. And Christmas trees, they asked if there were Christmas trees in Lebanon. After all, all you have to do anywhere is walk out and cut one down."

So when Lackore and her German exchange student friend Cornelia Panek spotted a picture of French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt and Soviet Premier Leonid Brezhnev in a German magazine they thought it might be fun to ask the Americans if they could identify the people in the photo without looking at the captions.

"It was funny, in a way," Lackore says. "No one could tell us who they were. D'Estaing and Schmidt, okay, I could understand a little. But no one could say who Brezhnev was and this was right at the time of the Afghanistan invasion."

In her American Government class teacher Barbara LeBouef soon thereafter assigned the students to attempt to influence a public official.

Lackore, gradually becoming more upset at her classmates' ignorance, decided to write letters to the Northville Board of Education, Senator R. Robert Geake and Representative Jack Kirksey suggesting a required high school course in current events and geography courses "related to current history."

To try to show the recipients of her letters the severity of the problem, as she saw it, she also conducted a survey of 10 questions related to current events at the time.

She took her surveys to three classes. "They didn't take them seriously," Lackore says. "There were all kinds of joke answers and obscenities. Since they didn't know the answers, they made a joke of it."

She was no longer surprised, however, when students thought Israel was in Africa, or that they did not know the location or the new name of Rhodesia.

The importance of current events and knowledge of other countries' actions has been ingrained in Lackore not only through education, but in the life that has led her here.

Through the fifth grade, Lackore attended a German missionary (private) school in Kahlde, Lebanon. Overseas, she notes, most public schools are dismal and every family that can afford to sends its children to private schools. "Geography I took in fifth grade,"

Group home for retarded drawing fire

Citizens and state officials jammed Northville Township Hall Tuesday, July 8 to gather information about a proposed group home for mentally retarded adults on Meadowbrook just off Seven Mile Road.

Township Supervisor Donald Thomson called the meeting at the request of citizens concerned about the location of the facility.

State Senator Robert Geake and Representative Jack Kirksey also were in attendance, as were representatives of the placement unit at Northville Residential Training Center, the state bureau of licensing and regulation and the corporation applying for a license to operate the home.

Geake expressed what was to become the dominant theme of the meeting when he said he thought placing such a home in Northville Township would be a mistake because the area already is saturated with state mental health and penal facilities.

Six severely to profoundly retarded adults would live in the home, which is one of seven the placement unit hopes will open in western Wayne County over the summer.

The department of mental health program is intended to remove the retarded from institutions and normalize their environments.

Great strides have been shown by many formerly institutionalized retarded persons when they have been moved into the more normal living situation of the homes, it has been noted.

Community placement centers, such as the one at Northville Residential Training Center, hope to place 1,200 of the state's 27,000 retarded persons in group homes or alternative living arrangements this year.

The homes are purchased privately and leased to the state, which licenses independent operators. This arrangement insures that property taxes are paid to the local communities.

The Northville house was purchased by an investment group headed by a Detroit doctor July 1. Dr. Tom Panico has formed Human Services Aftercare, Inc. to run group homes.

Robert Birach, corporation secretary, represented Panico, head of the investment and operating group, at the meeting. This would be one of the first homes the group would open, Birach said. He said Panico has experience developing programs for group homes and outlined the proposal for the Northville home.

Birach said two directors and four attendants would work at the home in three shifts. At least two people would be on duty at the home 24 hours a day, he said, giving a staffing ratio of one attendant to three residents. Two directors also would be at the home on morning and afternoon shifts, he said, resulting in a one-to-two ratio during waking hours.

The corporation intends to hire attendants with two years of college, preferably in psychology, or the equivalent experience in care for the developmentally disabled, Birach said.

We've enough, writes township

A letter will be sent to Lansing from Northville Township requesting that residential care facilities (group homes) not be located in the community, the township board decided Thursday.

The board action came in response to a letter from the township planning commission.

Recent amendment of the state law governing township zoning acts provides that "a state licensed residential facility providing supervision or care, or both, to six or less persons shall be considered a residential use of property for the purposes of zoning and a permitted use in all residential zones, including those zoned for single family residential."

Mental patients escape on average of one a day

By KEN KOVACS

At least one patient at Northville State Hospital will walk off the hospital grounds and wander into the community today.

The same thing will happen tomorrow. And the next day.

Despite numerous attempts during the past two years to increase security and reduce the number of walkaways, the rate of escapees — more than one per day — has remained unchanged.

According to hospital security department figures, some 40 patients walked away from the hospital during the month of June and another 20 were reported on "unauthorized leave." (These patients have permission to leave the hospital for a designated time period, but fail to return when the authorized leave has ended.)

Fredrick Delaney, head of hospital security, predicts similar figures for July.

At the monthly hospital security meeting July 7 Delaney told local police chiefs, hospital officials and legislators things are not getting better.

"We are doing the best we can with what we've got," he stated. "But with the current situation there are going to continue to be more walkaways."

The hospital currently is treating some 820 patients, an all-time record census. And the layoff of more than 100 hospital employees last month — due to the state's financial problems — has compounded the problem.

"We are tremendously overcrowded and seriously understaffed," said Doctor Hubert Carbone, chief of clinical affairs at the hospital. "And we expect a continual flow of patients from other facilities which have closed."

City and township residents have fought for increased security and, with the aid of township trustees and city council members, Senator R. Robert Geake and Representative Jack Kirksey, have pushed for the erection of a fence around three sides of the

CHRIS JOHNSON

The Northville Board of Education unanimously elected Christopher Johnson, 25, as the board's new president at their regular meeting Monday.

Though Johnson is one of the youngest board of education presidents in the state, a younger candidate from the Farmington school district was elected to the office at 22.

Johnson, who was elected to his second four-year term June 9, has been vice president and secretary of the board and is presently chair-

Trustees OK Six-Sheldon R-3 zoning

A local developer won approval from the the Northville Township Board of Trustees July 8 for a modified version of his petition to rezone over 150 acres of land at the southwest corner of Six Mile and Sheldon from R-2 to R-3 — a higher density single family zoning.

The board accepted the recommendation of the township planning commission to rezone slightly less than one-half of Elro Corporation's 150.43 acres.

The planning commission recommended the split May 27 at the advice of planning and engineering consultants.

A 26 acre ravine divides the property approximately 1500 feet south of the Six Mile edge of the property. According to William Mosher, township engineer, there is a difference of 100 feet between the highest and lowest points of the land.

The plan approved by trustees retains the R-2 zoning northerly from a line 1,500 feet south of the center line of Six Mile while rezoning the portion south of that line.

The rezoned portion is approximately 1080 feet deep along Sheldon Road and extends 2500 feet parallel to Six Mile. It is surrounded by R-2 zoning and borders on the land of Wayne County Child Development Center.

Elro representative Jeff Orley recommended that the zoning be changed along a jagged line more closely following the ravine to allow more flexibility in the size and shape of lots planned in the development, but planners chose the straight cut.

American ignorance bugs Lebanese

Lackore recalls, speaking with barely a trace of foreign accent. "It was in the German school. German schools are excellent, the teachers are extraordinary."

War between Syria and Lebanon broke out while Lackore was in fifth grade, atop the day-to-day fighting between Christians and Moslems, and the occasional attacks on Palestinian camps from Israel.

"I remember everything," she says, sitting in her mother's comfortable American living room with a faraway look in her eyes. "To get to my school, on the bus, we had to go through three Palestinian camps. Do you know how hard it is for a Christian to go through a Palestinian camp?"

"I remember so clearly, I can see the maps and the teacher standing up there, and there was fighting in the street outside, there were Syrians out there. And the teacher kept teaching and we kept listening."

Lackore continued her education at the German school in fits and starts, depending on the war conditions. She only attended a small portion of sixth grade, missed seventh grade entirely and then caught parts of the eighth and ninth grade curriculums.

When her father died and her mother faced the cost of sending six children to school without a breadwinner the German school issued Sabine a scholarship. She was so bright, they said, that they could not let her mind be wasted. It was a generosity Sabine's mother says she will never forget.

When the family moved to Greece and Sabine was sent to a British school there, she was placed in the 10th grade on a trial basis and was ready to move into the 11th when the Lackores moved to the United States.

Despite her interrupted education, counselors at Northville High School found she had completed all graduation requirements except in American history, government and a social science.

Sabine was enrolled in these courses, and others, during the past year. She gives American public schools high marks. The advance composition class she had, was, she says, very good.

America, she says, gives more people a better free education than is probably found anywhere else. But still, there is that ignorance of foreign lands, events and cultures.

"When the hostage thing in Iran came up there was a lot of teasing," Lackore says. "After the Iran business, it was 'Iran, Lebanon, they're all the same.'"

"They (students) don't see the Middle East as a group of separate countries and cultures; it's all one to them. But they are all very different, that's why there is all the fighting."

She liked, still likes, her classmates very much, Lackore says. In the fall, she expects to make many new friends at Michigan State University, where she will study engineering. She graduated from high school with a 3.8 grade point average. She thinks it might have been higher, except her assignment to influence public officials earned only a B-plus because she received no responses in time and no action was taken.

When Lackore's letter appeared on the board of education agenda June 21 it was passed over without comment. But then-Board President Karen Wilkinson says she took note of it.

"I thought it was very good she did what she did," Wilkinson said this week. "I think she's got a point — the social studies committee might want to look into it."

Wilkinson says the ignorance of Sabine's classmates may not be an indictment of the school system so much as it is "an accounting of American's in general."

Sabine did receive a response from Senator Geake, who said he would "look into it" and call it to the attention of the State Senate's education committee.

School Superintendent Lawrence Nichols says a response to Sabine Lackore is being prepared through the office of the assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction, but that it has been delayed because the principal had to "look into it" and has been on vacation.

So, though it may be too late for her class assignment, 16-year old Sabine Lackore seems to be attracting some attention in Northville toward a wider world view. Look out Michigan State.

They're all for Reagan!

Allens host California Republican

With the official kick-off of the Republican National Convention in Detroit Monday, delegates, dignitaries and media personnel have been converging on cities and towns throughout the state—including Northville.

For the past three days (and for the remainder of the convention), Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Allen, 300 Fairbrook, have been hosts to California Congressman Don H. Clausen.

After offering housing accommodations during the Republican convention, A. M. Allen and Betty Allen, active Republican workers, received word from Michigan congressman Carl Pursell that Congressman Clausen would be staying at their home.

Clausen represents the Second Congressional district in California—which includes the Santa Rosa and Eureka area.

Sitting at the kitchen table in the home Northville's former mayor, Clausen said he came to the convention to show his support for the Republican party and for its candidate Ronald Reagan.

He said the convention will show the strengths and unity of the Republican party as well their commitment to "revitalize the whole federal system."

"What we really hope to accomplish is to establish a whole new set of directives for the American people," he said.

"Our objective as a Republican Party is to find a program which will appeal to the strengths of the people."

Clausen said the Republican platform is one which emphasizes stronger state and local government and less federal power.

"State governments need to be more viable, more responsible and more responsive," he commented.

"We've concentrated so long on the roof of the federal system that the foundation has gone to hell."

Clausen said the Republicans can "add a sense of dynamism to democracy" and added that the man to do it is Ronald Reagan.

Clausen would not speculate on who Reagan's running mate will be, but said "at this point its probably narrowed itself to five people."

The five candidates Clausen said he believes are being considered are: Anne Armstrong, former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain; Representative Jack Kemp of Buffalo; Indiana Senator Richard Lugar; George Bush, former CIA director; and Donald Rumsfeld, former Defense secretary.

"Rumsfeld probably has more in the way of background than anyone mentioned," Clausen said.

"I just have the feeling Rumsfeld could be very much of a sleeper ... if he isn't chosen as Reagan's running mate I wouldn't be a bit surprised if he was brought into the cabinet."

In response to questions about John Anderson as an Independent candidate, Clausen said he wished Anderson "would have stayed and worked within the framework of the party structure."

"John was the kind of person who tended to use the Republican base to carry out his own objectives, but tended to not be as much of a team player," he commented.

"There's room for liberals, moderates and conservatives in the Republican party," Clausen said.

"If John had stayed in the party, differences between him and Reagan would have been minimal."

Clausen said he did not think Reagan's rejection of the Equal Rights Amendment "would be a factor" in the election, adding that "the ERA is really not a presidential or congressional issue, but a state issue."

He said he believes one of the biggest problems facing the American public and the next administration is the economy—a primary concern among many Michigan residents.

Since his arrival in Detroit, Clausen said he has spent much of his time at GOP activities. At a meeting of the California delegation at the Detroit Plaza, Clausen met with Texas governor John Connally and former Michigan congressman Robert Griffin.

Clausen, who plays first base on the Republican Baseball Team, also attended a brunch at Greenfield Village Sunday, where three other Republican team first basemen were present—Jerry Ford, George Bush and Carl Pursell.

Allen directed Clausen on a tour of Northville last Sunday.

"The thing I was most impressed with was the attention they have given to parking," Clausen said, "because parking is such a key to the business and economic success of the community."

Clausen said he has found an "outward display of courtesy" since his arrival at the GOP.

"The people here are really making us feel welcome."

Township police get funds for clerk

Northville Township trustees July 10. The board approved a transfer of $4000 from the budget for administering elections to the police department personnel budget. Clerk Clarice Sass said the money is available because the money spent by the township for administration of the Republican primary election in May will be reimbursed by the state as a result of legislative action.

Local governments throughout the state had taken the issue of who was to pay for the primary to the courts, arguing that since the primary was state-wide and the local governments had no say in whether it was to be conducted, the state should pay.

The legislature approved payment to the local governments shortly before conclusion of its session for a summer recess.

The clerk is needed in the township's police department to relieve the sergeant presently manning the desk for field work.

A number of citizens attending the board meeting had complaints at the slow response of the police department to their complaints of vandalism and speeding in their neighborhoods.

Most citizens said they understood that the department is small and has higher priorities than the occasional broken window or speeding car, but they asked if something might be done to increase manpower within the current budget.

The addition of a part-time clerk to handle routine paper work is expected to help to some degree.

Board approves funds

Renovation project continues at Old Village School

The Board of Education unanimously approved funds of $13,408 for additional remodeling of the Old Village School at its regular meeting Monday.

The funds, part of the original $1.2

million grant received for the renovation project, will be used to cover existing fireproofing conditions, improvement of the food service areas, electrical receptacles, smoke detectors and other miscellaneous construction work.

The original completion date of the project was June 1, 1980. However, due to unexpected strikes by electrical workers and carpenters, the school administration is now looking at August 15 as the final renovation date.

Yet, R. E. Settle, of St. Cyr Architect and Associates, Inc., the company in charge of the renovation work, said "much of what happens will depend on the electrical strike."

The Old Village School, formerly known as the Annex, has been remodelled with the intent that the Institution's Special Education Program (ISEP) would be housed there.

Another obstacle which has slowed down renovation plans is a state fire marshal ruling which stated the school does not comply with fire safety regulations for classrooms occupied by handicapped students.

According to the fire marshal, no occupancy permit can be issued for the building if classrooms occupied by handicapped students do not have exterior exits.

However, in a meeting held in June between members of the state fire marshal's office and school representatives, the fire marshal agreed to reconsider the ruling.

According to Superintendent Larry Nichols, the "fire marshal agreed to come down and look at the building sometime within the week of July 21st."

Nichols said the fire marshal's chief concern was the safety of the building.

"Their response was that they evoked the rules as they saw them. They mentioned their primary concern was the safety of people in public buildings."

The fire marshal has agreed to look at the building the week of July 21-28 with Northville school administrators and Northville Fire Department Chief James Allen.

If the fire marshal should uphold his ruling, the school board will appeal the decision, Nichols said.

"We told them we were under a time restriction and they guaranteed they would give us an extension if the ruling is not in our favor — that will give us time to issue an appeal," he added.

Township must take over records

Northville Township will absorb the cost of preparing complaints and warrants for actions brought to the 35th District Court by the township police department, it was decided July 10.

The board of trustees accepted the advice of attorneys Donald Morgan and Nels Carlson to prepare such paperwork in the township offices rather than through the attorney's office.

The action was needed because the court's own clerks ceased preparing the necessary papers July 1.

George R. Wiland, chief of court operations, sent a letter to Kerr, Russell and Weber, the law firm for which Morgan works, notifying them that the attorney's would be responsible for preparation of complaints and warrants as of the beginning of the month.

Complaints and warrants are needed to proceed with prosecution if a defendant does not appear in court or requests a trial after receiving a citation from the police.

If the defendant pleads guilty, Morgan told the board by letter, the papers are not needed, but if he fails to appear or requests a trial they are necessary to enforce the law.

Morgan told the board that it could be rather expensive to have the attorneys prepare this routine paperwork, however. He advised that it would be possible to have complaints and warrants prepared in either the general township offices, or police offices and checked weekly by an attorney.

That alternative would be cheaper, he said.

"Actually, you have been getting something of a bonus for awhile now," Carlson said at the meeting. "The court clerks were not supposed to be preparing these papers for quite some time. There is a new court administrator now and he is taking a firmer line."

The board decided to have the papers prepared within the township and checked by the attorneys.

Former resident will exhibit at antique show

Former Northville resident Carol Lovett, now of Marshall, Michigan, will be among exhibitors in the Northwest Oakland County Historical Society's 11th annual antiques show and sale.

It is being held from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. this Friday and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at Benjamin Sherman Middle School at 14470 North Holly Road in Holly.

Mrs. Lovett's firm of McHenry and Lovett Limited is one of 34 dealers selected for the show.

In addition to the exhibits of 18th century and country furniture, cut and pressed glass, dolls, baskets, jewelry, coins, tools, pottery, Victorian furniture from the mid-19th century, cupboards, Staffordshire, pewter and brass, there will be a genealogy display by society members.

The history society booth will offer well-made handcrafted items that complement antiques.

A tearoom will serve hot and cold sandwiches, salads, beverages and homemade desserts.

Proceeds benefit the historical museum. Tickets at the door are $1.50.

GOOD TIME FOR WINE

The Beaujolais of 1976 have received great praise. They are supposed to be the best since 1961, the year when almost all types of wine reached extraordinary peaks. The best of the 1976 is the gold medal winning Beaujolais of the Chateau de la Chaise, Brouilly. The gold medal was especially nice for this chateau since it came during their tricentennial. Other 1976 vintage wines have received wide acclaim as well. We will be happy to suggest a few to compliment your tastes.

Whenever you need help in selecting wines we will be happy to give you a few suggestions at GOOD TIME PARTY STORE, 567 Seven Mile Road, 349-1477. We have a wide selection of wines, as well as beer and liquor. Come by for all your needs. Hours: Mon. thru Sat. 9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sun. Noon-6 p.m.

Cooke teacher retires from post

Cynthia Scherf of Pontiac has resigned from her teaching position at Cooke Junior High School, as she is expecting a baby in December.

In her letter of resignation to Burton Knighton, assistant superintendent of administrative services, Scherf stated she had chosen to resign as opposed to applying for maternity leave, as she would like to stay home with her child.

The board of education approved Scherf's resignation at its meeting Monday.

STORMY —

The bird who fell into good hands

Picture Story

by Jane Hale

It was a June thunderstorm that knocked the two-day-old blue jay out of his nest in the tall pine tree in front of the Alli Chirri house at 711 North Center, in Northville. Tootsie, the friendly family dog, soon discovered the little fella floundering in the grass — dazed, but intact.

The adopted bird now is five weeks old and is quite at home with the Chirris. He frequently lands on Fran's shoulder (right), but his favorite perch is Tootsie's head.

Mercy College offers grad program

Mercy College of Detroit will offer a master of art degree in education beginning this fall. It is Mercy's first graduate-level program and has formal accreditation approval from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Students will be able to take a core curriculum and will choose one of three areas of concentration: Mainstreaming for the Classroom Teacher, Bilingual-Bicultural Education, or Elementary and Secondary Certification.

The "mainstreaming" concentration will prepare certified teachers to work with children with special needs.

The "bilingual-bicultural" concentration will prepare teachers to meet federal requirements and Michigan guidelines for the endorsement of their certificates which permit them to teach in a bilingual-bicultural setting.

In 1975, Mercy became the first college or university in Michigan to receive the State Board of Education's authorization for this endorsement.

The third concentration — elementary and secondary certification — is designed specifically for bachelor of arts graduates who wish to become teachers. Mercy is scheduling its master's courses in the late afternoon and early evening for the convenience of teachers and others who work. Persons interested in further information may call 592-6030.

Walkaways still over one per day

hospital buildings. Monies have been appropriated for the construction of a fence, but Governor William Milliken has taken a firm stance against a fence, citing patient rights as the main reason. Residents have complained of walkaways for a number of years and when a hospital walkaway was charged with the murder of an elderly Northville resident last April their fears that walkaways could be dangerous were increased. (The patient, Johnny Crumpton, will be tried for murder in Wayne County Circuit Court July 28). "The element of surprise is the worst thing," stated Ellen Lewis one of two township residents attending last week's meeting. "I was sunbathing one day and had my eyes closed. When I opened them a man was standing in front of me." "All you need is one incident of a man standing at your door to give you a scare," she continued. "I was just so rattled I didn't know what to do." Hospital officials are considering purchasing a computerized door-security system which would enable them to better monitor who enters or leaves the hospital buildings. Also being considered is a video system to scan the perimeter of the hospital grounds. But, currently, patients continue to leave the grounds daily. "One patient was caught attempting to leave the grounds three times in one day," Delaney admitted. "The fourth time he made it." A few patients have been injured while attempting to leave the grounds. In the most recent case — which occurred approximately two weeks ago — a male patient suffered a broken leg when he was hit by a car on Seven Mile in front of the hospital.

Tornado sirens to be coordinated

Five area communities, including the city of Northville, have joined together in an attempt to resolve some recent confusion caused by nonsynchronous tornado warning sirens. Residents in Northville, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township have been misled by sirens in different communities sounding as much as a half hour apart. Those who live near the border of the communities on occasion have heard two warning sirens, mistakenly thinking the danger had passed. The "all clear" sirens are set off three times for a minute each time with one minute between soundings. The warning system in all participating communities is a three-minute siren blast indicating a tornado has been sighted in the area. The City of Plymouth fire dispatch will act as the control agency. Notices from the National Weather Service will be received at this office and forwarded to the participating communities. All clear messages will be communicated in a similar matter.

Mail registrations for the fall semester at Schoolcraft College must be postmarked by July 18. The forms are included in the fall schedule mailed earlier. They also may be obtained at student affairs offices on campus. Persons who miss the mail-in registration period may complete registration during August. Fall classes at Schoolcraft begin August 28. For further information call 591-6400, ext. 340.

1980 OCC board elected

The Oakland Community College Board of Trustees held a special meeting July 17 to swear in newly elected Board members and to choose now officers. Judge Margaret Schaeffer of the 47th District Court administered the oath of office to David Hackett, Margaret MacTavish and Richard Pappas who now fill the three six-year Board openings. Earl Anderson was elected Board Chairman and Suzanne Reynolds was chosen as Vice-Chairman. grams as well as recreation, religious and other special activities.

Initially, a prison industry program was planned, but this program is in question because of the state's financial problems.

Possibly 40 of the 320 inmates will be considered minimum security and eligible for a work detail, however.

In addition to the renovated prison, the state also is planning to build Michigan's first regional prison on the grounds of the former women's DeHoCo.

The new prison, to be located just west of the Phoenix facility will house approximately 550 inmates.

The prison likely will be built in three to five years.

Irwin Arkin has announced plans to convert the stately old mansion on Nine Mile into a first-class restaurant

For Rogers mansion

Novi planners approve rezoning

Irwin Arkin's dreams of converting the old Rogers Mansion on Nine Mile into "a first-class restaurant" moved a step closer to reality last week as the Novi Planning Board voted unanimously (7-0) to recommend approval of a rezoning request to accommodate the proposed conversion.

Specifically, the planners voted unanimously to recommend approval of a request to rezone the 2.12 acre parcel on which the old mansion is located from its existing RM-1 (multiple family residential) classification to an I-1 (light industrial) designation.

Restaurants are permitted in the I-1 district under special use conditions in the city's zoning ordinance.

The planners' action was applauded by surrounding property owners who formed a portion of the audience at last week's session.

Plans for converting the stately old mansion on Nine Mile (east of Novi Road) into a restaurant were revealed May 12 when David A. Perry, an attorney representing Luigi Cervi, approached the Novi City Council with a request for a liquor license.

Built in 1930-31, the house stands on the historic Thornton Farm property which dates back to the early 1800s.

Its first owner and creator was Charles E. Rogers who made his fortune in the condensing business and is credited with inventing condensed milk.

Subsequent owners have included the Cruse and Sinacola families. The present owner of the home is the Arkin Distributing Company whose headquarters are located immediately to the east of the stately old mansion.

In requesting the I-1 zoning, Arkin told the planners last week that the home represents a link to the past in a city which is rapidly changing.

"The superior construction of the house is unmatched in today's society," said Arkin. "But the home's size (10,800 square feet) and location adjacent to an industrial district have all but destroyed its value as a single family residence."

"People drive by the home on Sunday afternoons just to take a look at it," he continued. "People have been telling me for years that it would make a great restaurant with a truly elegant dining atmosphere."

"The building is there and we'd like to keep it there," he added. "It could be used as an office building, or we could tear it down and put up multiples. But we'd like to see it put to its best use as a first-class restaurant which everyone could enjoy."

Arkin suggested that the proposed restaurant could become a landmark dining place in Novi similar to Win Schuler's in Marshall or The Canopy in Brighton.

Arkin said he has entered into a contract with Cervi to immediately restore the building and convert it into a restaurant. He added that Cervi has background in both the construction and restaurant businesses and has "the means and expertise to convert the mansion into a first-class restaurant."

Arkin formerly revealed that he currently is negotiating for the services of the chef "at one of the top five restaurants in the metro Detroit area" to operate the proposed restaurant in the Rogers Mansion.

Arkin declined to reveal the name of either the chef or the restaurant at which he currently works, however. He said the chef's contract is slated to expire in August.

The rezoning request was endorsed by surrounding property owners, including Security Bank of Novi President Donald Grevengood and William Chase.

Chase told the planners that "for the first time in three years, we vote 'yes'" on the proposed rezoning.

Although the planners voted unanimously to recommend approval of the rezoning request, Planning Board Chairman John Roethel questioned whether the restaurant "could be established in the I-1 district."

Roethel noted that restaurants are permitted as special uses in industrial districts provided they are intended to serve the "limited needs" of the industrial district and are located "at" the intersection of two major thoroughfares.

"I'm in favor of the restaurant, but I'm not sure it's permitted under the strict application of the zoning ordinance," commented Roethel.

"I think we have to be careful about making exceptions."

City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns suggested that the proposed

Rogers Mansion restaurant could be permitted under a liberal interpretation of the special use standards.

Planners Paul Mastrangel and Peter Romanow suggested that a liberal interpretation of the standards was in order to accommodate the proposed restaurant.

Mastrangel said that insisting on a strict interpretation of the standards could deprive the city of "something which would be very useful," while Romanow said he felt it would be "a different matter" if Arkin had proposed construction of a new building.

Planner Roger Everett sided with Roethel on the question, however. "I think it's pretty clear that this restaurant is not permitted under the wording of the special use permits for restaurants in the I-1 district," he said. "I don't think you can liberally interpret something as specific as this. You never know what will come along next."

The planners ultimately decided that consideration of the special use permits should properly be addressed at the time of site plan approval and voted unanimously to recommend approval of the rezoning request to the city council which has final authority over all rezoning actions.

In the meantime, Arkin indicated that he is anxious to proceed with plans for converting the mansion into a restaurant. He previously has estimated that the restaurant could be opened within two to three months after all final approvals have been received from the city.

Our opinions

Northville State Hospital's park-like setting's easy to leave

No excuses for escapes

We share the concerns of other Northville citizens over reports that the number of escapes from Northville State Hospital is continuing at an alarming rate. One escape is occurring every day, and it appears likely that this dangerous situation may grow worse in the months ahead.

What bothers us almost as much as the problem itself is that mental health officials continue to oppose a solution that has the backing of local citizens and municipal and legislative leaders. We refer to the proposal to erect a fence around part of the hospital grounds.

Instead the mental health experts bemoan overcrowding and staff shortages, suggesting that these are the reasons why the escape rate continues unabated. Such reasons, in our opinion, are inexcusable. The fact of the matter is that the problem existed before staff cutbacks and increased patient population occurred. We suspect hospital officials are trying, by linking the escape problem with current staffing problems, to focus public attention on the mental health department's economic crunch.

Monies for a fence were provided by the legislature, but Governor

William Milliken purportedly refuses to authorize the expenditure because his mental health aides insist fencing is psychologically unhealthy for mental patients and their families. Apparently, the health and safety of hospital neighbors is less important than that of patients — something we find incredulous.

We've said it before and we say it again: Promoting patient care at the expense of neighborhood safety is the mark of irresponsibility; it suggests to us that the professional mentality may need some readjustment.

Meanwhile, the public ought to do some focusing of its own. Since the so-called experts will do nothing about fencing, citizens should demand that the governor exercise his prerogative. Let him know that we are concerned about the escape problem and its serious implications, and that we believe he has a responsibility to do something about it — namely provide the allocated monies for fencing.

Insuring the safety of the public is the least the state can do for those communities that must house tax-free institutions within their boundaries.

Echo concern

What is the new name of the former country of Rhodesia?

What does the IRA stand for?

From what two countries in Asia are the boat people fleeing?

These are three of the 10 current event questions Sabine Lackore asked of her fellow Northville High classmates as part of a project she chose as a class assignment this spring. In a story on Page 1 of The Record this week she calls the results "shocking."

When a 15-year-old young woman can come to this country in the fall of 1979, speak our language fluently and graduate with honors, we have to agree that the difference in her education and that produced in the Northville — and American — public education system is shocking.

Her story is an indictment of the failure of our system to teach geography — Americans in general lack a "world concept" — and current events. We sincerely hope that administration promises to "look into" her concerns will bear fruit. How can America stay a world power when its people do not know that Zimbabwe is the former Rhodesia, that IRA is the Irish Republican Army, and that boat people are fleeing from Cambodia and Vietnam?

Do you know what countries have common borders with Israel?

Sabine does.

Speaking for Myself

HARRY CARLSON

Split collections for school taxes

RICHARD HOLMAN

YES

Single yearly tax collections leave schools with drastically reduced revenues for the first half of the school year. In Walled Lake, for example, borrowing against anticipated revenues costs the public and the school district approximately $200,000.

If half the school taxes were levied in the summertime, both the public and our students could be better served by the expenditure of that $200,000 to provide teachers, supplies and equipment.

Dual tax collections will affect individual taxpayers as follows:

1. Citizens who pay their taxes through mortgage companies and banks will notice no difference. Since taxes are included in the homeowner's regular monthly payment, the mortgage companies receive tax monies in advance.
2. Individuals who pay their taxes directly may find this split payment less burdensome. A school tax of $850 would be divided into two equal payments of $425. The taxpayer could lose $12 of earned interest had the $425 been invested for a six-month period.

3. Senior citizens, by law, may pay their taxes in two installments or at one time in the winter and still take advantage of the senior citizen tax rebate.

In review, it would appear that it would be advantageous to the people in any community and, most importantly, to the students who attend the schools to have the benefit of teachers, supplies and equipment instead of having to pay interest on a loan.

Harry Carlson
Assistant Superintendent for Business
Walled Lake Consolidated Schools

NO

There are two problems with the proposal for a split tax collection for schools which should make us pause before endorsing it.

First, such a procedure would be a terrific administrative headache. In Wixom's case, the city would have to issue three different billings each year: one for the city, two for the school district. This would mean additional printing, mailing and data processing costs.

While the school districts would undoubtedly reimburse cities and townships for all "reasonable" expenses, the greatest burden would be the use of additional staff time to handle the time-consuming bookkeeping job. Without additional manpower, local treasurers, especially in smaller cities such as Wixom, would be hard-pressed to maintain current service levels.

Secondly, there would be strong resistance from taxpayers, large and small. Major business would see the split collection as an additional expense in the form of interest loss from investments which otherwise would have been made. In today's economy, we should avoid any additional penalties to local businesses.

Although the total tax bill could be the same, a third tax billing may be perceived as another indication of escalating governmental costs. In today's times, we had better realize that our denials won't be readily accepted.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Our national convention of the American Historical Society of Germans from Russia was winding down and now, sitting in the lobby of the GOP delegate-packed Hyatt-Regency, my father and I were joined by a stranger.

He leaned over to see our convention badges.

"Oh, you're not with us. You're with that historical group. Are you Republican Russians?"

Without waiting for a reply, he launched a half-hour oration on the state of the nation.

"Incidentally, I'm the Republican candidate for president," he concluded, handing us his card.

"For president? You're not serious, are you?" I asked, reasonably sure he wasn't Ronald Reagan in disguise.

"Certainly I'm serious; serious enough to have campaigned in 43 states," frowned the man whose card read, "Alvin Joseph Jacobson for President of the U.S.A."

"Lots of people are supporting me, but I'm enough of a realist to know that Reagan's got the edge going into the convention. But surprising things have happened at conventions before so who knows what will happen this time," added Jacobson, who twice ran unsuccessfully for governor of Pennsylvania.

"Are you a convention delegate?" I asked.

"No, but I'll be there. The last convention I got on the floor with the Alaskan delegation. They liked my platform. I haven't decided who I'll go in with this time."

"Have you a running mate?"

"No, not yet. I won't make an announcement unless I get the nomination," said the blue-suited, white-socked politician who indicated he might be persuaded to become Reagan's vice-presidential choice.

As we excused ourselves, the first Republican candidate for president that dad and I ever met said, "Remember me at the polls."

Country Place residents oppose Eight Mile rezoning

Approximately 30 residents from the Country Place Condominiums showed up at a public hearing of the Novi Planning Board last week to register objections to a proposed rezoning of a commercial shopping center on the north side of Eight Mile.

Specifically, the residents showed up to oppose a request from the Weatherford-Walker Company for the rezoning of a 17.8 acre parcel on the north side of Eight Mile between Meadowbrook and Novi roads.

The Weatherford-Walker Company had requested that an 8.35 acre parcel with Eight Mile frontage be rezoned from its existing R-1 (single family residential) classification to a B-1 (local business) designation to permit development of the shopping center and a 9.45 acre parcel immediately behind the Eight Mile parcel be rezoned from its R-1 designation to a RM-1 (multiple family) classification.

After listening to the comments of the citizens, the planning board voted to follow the advice of City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns and continue the public hearing to September 17.

Although the Weatherford-Walker request involved both local business and multiple family designations, the discussion centered on the proposed convenience commercial center.

Richard Walker, a partner in the Farmington Hills-based firm, told the planners that the proposed shopping center would incorporate some 78,000 square feet of retail space and would include a Krogers Superstore (34,000 square feet), A.C.E. Hardware (15,000 square feet), Perry's Drugs Store (12,000 square feet) and 17,000 square feet of "personal service" uses such as beauty salons, barber shops and dry-cleaning establishments.

The location of the so-called "convenience commercial" centers has been the source of considerable debate among both planners and city council members as they go about the process of revising the city's master plan for land use development.

In essence, a convenience commercial center is designed to provide for the day-to-day shopping needs of residents in the immediate area. The centers usually include a grocery store, drug store, hardware store and personal service uses such as beauty salons/barber shops and dry-cleaning establishments and have a retail market area of approximately two square miles.

At the present time, the issue of whether or not the city wants to provide for convenience commercial centers in its master plan has not yet been decided. And it was that consideration which led the planners to table consideration of the Weatherford-Walker request until the policy question has been answered and the master plan adopted.

Although Cairns recommended no action on the Weatherford-Walker request until the convenience center issue has been resolved, he noted that the south side of Eight Mile in Northville Township is presently zoned multiple-family residential and contains a planned mix of multiple and single family dwellings.

"The exception to the multiple zoning are several individual parcels of land which are zoned for single-family use," said Cairns in his review.

"The township has endeavored to maintain the residential orientation of its Eight Mile frontage and has expressed concern that they may not be able to maintain the desired residential orientation of these individual parcels should the applicant's land be rezoned to a commercial district."

Opposition to the Weatherford-Walker request was expressed by Arlen Schroeder, president of the Country Place board of directors and a member of the city's Economic Development Corporation, who reported that the Country Place directors had voted unanimously to oppose the rezoning request.

"Eight Mile has a residential flavor to it," said Schroeder. "But if this rezoning request is approved, there will be pressure for additional commercial uses and we could run the risk of having strip commercial on Eight Mile in Novi just as it is to the east."

"If the city approves convenience centers so that nobody has to drive more than a mile, Novi will become the kind of community that people don't want to live in," he continued. "This is a lovely residential area and we want to see it stay that way."

Robert Brandenburg and Edward Hennessy, two more Country Place residents, stated that the stores proposed in the Weatherford-Walker center already exist within two miles of Country Place, either on Seven Mile, downtown Northville or the A&P shopping center at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road.

"Before you need a convenience center, you must have inconvenience," said Hennessy. "There is no inconvenience. We moved to Novi to get away from commercial development."

Brandenburg said he had moved to Novi from Canton 18 months ago to get away from commercial development. "The area in which I used to live now has 15 fastfood stores, racketball courts and everything else," he said. "I don't want to see Novi become like Canton."

Other Country Place residents cited concerns with the potential for proliferation of strip commercial development following the introduction of commercial zoning in the area, while others cited potential traffic problems that could arise from development of a shopping center near the Griswold Street entrance to Eight Mile.

Len Ricketts, another property owner near the Weatherford-Walker property, spoke in favor of the rezoning request. He said he had moved to Novi from Livonia 18 years ago to get away from "the big city," but was always amazed that people will move to an area and then oppose the need for construction of shopping centers and gas stations which their presence has prompted.

Planner Paul Mastrangel said there are people on the city council who regard people who live in condominiums as second class citizens and asked Country Place residents to consider whether it would be appropriate to take some of the pressure off the Ten Mile/Meadowbrook Road center by permitting a center to be constructed on Eight Mile.

"What I'm attempting to find out is the difference between real and apprehended fears," said Mastrangel.

"There were fears that the development of condominiums on Eight Mile would ruin the neighborhood, but that hasn't been the case at all."

"We have many fine citizens in Country Place who have been an asset to the city," he continued.

"Wouldn't it be all right to take some of the pressure off the Ten Mile/Meadowbrook Road center (by developing a convenience center on Eight Mile) and also wouldn't (an Eight Mile center) provide some convenience?"

Walker told the planners that the concerns expressed by the residents are found in most communities.

"But Novi is developing rapidly and you can't stop development," said Walker.

"One of the things you can do to prevent the proliferation of commercial uses is provide for them in specific areas."

Walker also stated that the proposed Eight Mile center is located in the "immediate center" of the existing retail centers on Seven Mile, Ten Mile/Meadowbrook Road and downtown Northville. "A well-located, logically conceived center will cut down on traffic because it will reduce the number of trips on the highway," he said.

I attended your 4th of July activities at Mill Race Village and enjoyed these very much. The organization that has restored the buildings is to be commended for its efforts to retain our link with the past.

I also enjoyed the performance by your community band. It brought back memories of the concerts in the park I looked forward to as a boy in Putnam, Connecticut.

Joint building service will terminate July 31

The agreement between the Northville city and township for joint building inspections will conclude July 31 following action by the township board of trustees July 10.

Trustees accepted the request from Northville City Council setting the July 31 date.

Termination of the agreement was decided by the board of trustees in June effective immediately. The city council met June 16 and heard a verbal report of the township's action but had no formal notice and thought no termination date was specified.

Council chose to set the July 31 date when it voted to confirm the mutual termination of the agreement. The date gives the city time to prepare its separate operation. The township will continue to be served by its own building department headed by Troy Milligan.

The date also coincides with the township's monthly billing schedule to the city. Clarice Sass, township clerk, told the board of trustees the new termination date will "simplify things immensely."

The board voted unanimously to accept the council's request, submitted in a letter from City Manager Steven Walters, to revise the termination date.

POW day set

To the Editor:

Congress voted to declare July 18 as National POW/MIA Recognition Day.

In the early Seventies, public attention was focused on getting the POWs better treatment and getting them returned and accounted for. This was done by massive letter writing and the selling and wearing of millions of POW/MIA bracelets. When some of the POWs came home, thousands of persons became frustrated and disillusioned because the name on their bracelet did not appear either on the list of prisoners who came home or the list of men who died in captivity.

These names are all real and belong to men who have become all but forgotten.

The obligation that came with the bracelet was to wear it until all of the men had been accounted for.

Through misinformation from the government and lack of information from the media, most people have assumed that the MIA problem is solved. It is not.

From time to time, the issue rises to national attention, but only when the communists seek something and decide to release some bodies. No attention is given to those who have been administratively "killed" through status changes or that confirmation has been given on live sighting reports. Few people realize that we had men still being captured after the peace agreement in 1973.

All the families of the POWs and MIAs want to know is the truth. Are there any left alive? Abandoned by our own country? If so, who are they and when can we get them back? If there are none, then let us have the proof and send us back our dead, to his home land.

Our country once possessed pride and toughness and, we the public, are the ones to regain this — YOU have to take the initiative. If you just sit back and let the other guy do it, then this country will continue with high prices, unemployment, the threat of war and continued promises from our government that do nothing.

You may ask what can be done. The simplest way is to write a letter to your congressman, senator and the editors of newspapers demanding government action on the MIA issue. Ask about the refugee reports, live sightings and the documented proof of our men still living held in Vietnam and Laos and what was his vote for giving aid to reconstruct Vietnam — without an accounting of our men.

And/or pull out your bracelet again and vow to wear it until a full accounting has been made. And, above all, don't be fooled by cover ups that all our men are dead and accounted for.

The thing to remember is that the war is NOT over until all our men, alive and dead alike, are home again. The worst torture that could be bestowed on a person is to be forgotten.

For other information you may write to: Michigan League of Families (128 Riverside Drive, Williamston, Michigan 48895) or National League of Families (1608 K Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20006).

Group home meeting airs citizen concerns

adult foster care, explained the "quasi-legal process" of licensing a home. Four general areas are examined, he said, and if the home complies with all rules and regulations a license is issued.

Examined are: fire safety and the physical plant, administrative and management procedures, environmental sanitation (including food storage, sewage, water services) and the care level and type.

The process takes two to three months, Stuve said, and "if we have no reason to believe there is a violation of the rules and regulations we have no choice but to issue a license."

The licensing process began with receipt of the application from the corporation in Lansing June 30, Stuve said. Official notice to the township was not yet delivered at the time of the meeting.

When notice is sent, he said, the township has 45 days in which to respond and to notify the residents living within 1,500 feet of the proposed group home.

Although the homes require a different zoning classification from the single family residential zone of most homes, recent amendment to state law gives the state authority to change the zoning without township approval.

Public Act 218 of 1979, which sets forth licensing provisions for adult foster care facilities, prohibits licensing group homes within 1,500 feet of each other. There are no other group homes in the township.

Bernard Baldwin of the township planning commission noted at the meeting that the bill also prohibits issuance of the initial license without township approval if the license would "substantially contribute to an excessive concentration of community residential facilities within a township."

Stuve said the determination of "excessive concentration" would have to be referred to the department of mental health because his office lacks authority to make that decision. He also said he thinks the portion of the law cited by Baldwin is in reference to community placements and not to the larger institutions common in Northville.

Baldwin, however, said he thought the state should consider the high concentration of mental health facilities in the area.

"The one square mile area we're talking about here is probably the highest concentration you could find in this state of mental health facilities," Baldwin said. "I think you are showing a great deal of insensitivity to public opinion by attempting to place such a facility in Northville."

Baldwin also addressed the fears of many residents that walkways from the home could be a problem. Residents have been concerned at the number of patients who walk away from Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital — an average of one per day.

Birach said three homes in which Panico was involved have not had a single walkway in two and one-half years.

"There is virtually no walkway problem with the mentally retarded as there is with the mentally ill," Birach said.

The mental health care professionals in attendance emphasized that the home would house developmentally impaired (retarded) persons and not the mentally ill patients who have produced the walkway problem.

They said that in communities where group homes have been accepted, neighbors have made the retarded an integral part of the community and there have been few problems.

Birach said community support is vital, citing some homes that approached the ideal of integration and another where shotgun blasts have blown out the windows.

Baldwin pointed out that the law allows group homes to house the emotionally impaired, some of whom have been community problems as walkways.

Stuve said, however, that although the law allows emotionally impaired residents in the homes, the rules and regulations formed under the law are in different categories and a license is only issued for one type of disabled person.

The Northville home license application is only for the developmentally disabled and it would be illegal for the operators to admit emotionally disturbed residents.

The attempts to reassure citizens were not accepted easily, however.

"I'll accept the fact that this (home) is different, for now," Baldwin said, "but I can't accept that there will be no problems."

Earlier, he said anyone who says "we will not have the walkway problem with these programs does not know what he's talking about."

Another resident asked if citizens encountering a walkway were supposed to ask the person if he was mentally ill or mentally retarded. The concentration of facilities in this area would preclude certainty, he noted.

Another resident brought up a report prepared by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) critical of the community placement program.

Many of the workers in state mental health facilities are AFSCME union members and the report slams the community placement program for its alleged lack of professional care.

Placement officials acknowledge some abuses in the program's early stages — particularly in those homes established in inner-city Detroit. Some Cass Corridor homes were unsanitary and poorly staffed, they say, but the majority of homes provide a significant improvement over the institutions.

Assuming that all program, administrative and staffing regulations are met, the only possible blockage of the license for the Northville home cited at the meeting was inadequate sewerage.

According to Stuve, the concentration of mental health facilities is not considered in the licensing review and the administration of the department of mental health is the only recourse for those who think it is too high.

Thomson said he will call a public hearing when official state notification is received. The July 8 meeting, he said, was only an informal informational one.

Township letter to oppose homes

The amendment effectively closes the door on an option exercised in some communities which do not wish the placement of group homes within their boundaries.

It prohibits any special zoning requirements for such homes different from those for other dwellings in the same zone.

The planning commission's letter dated July 7 and signed by commission chairman Kenneth McLarty, states "the purpose of this act is to ensure that all communities share in housing those who require special care. Northville Township, with the Northville State Hospital and other state facilities located within its boundaries, already accommodates many such persons."

For that reason, the commission letter suggests, the board should suggest to the state that "it would be prudent for the state authorities to make an administrative decision not to locate the care facilities in the township."

The board of trustees accepted the recommendation with little discussion and instructed Supervisor Donald Thomson to send such a letter to state officials.

Army won over career as therapist

By JEANDAY

"She's Army to her toes," says Captain Sherrie Balko's dad proudly.

Elmer Balko, like any father whose offspring is following in his footsteps, is delighted with his daughter's promotion that becomes official today.

She has just completed advanced training on active duty with the U.S. Army Reserves and is here visiting her family at 744 Horton before her first overseas tour of duty — to Neu Ulm, Germany, in the Bavarian sector near the Swiss and Austrian borders — the end of this month.

Her father received his battlefield commission with the 36th Army Division in Germany in World War II.

Captain Balko may be "Army to her toes" but it's a new U.S. Army in which those toes have touched ground after paratrooper jumps from a plane.

"I asked to learn how to jump on a dare," the tall, tanned, blonde and obviously fit young officer recalls. On active duty with the Army Reserves, she took the dare and now admits that it was hard — especially because she is a woman.

"They do push," she says. "After the first week (in a three-week training program), I was the only woman left. Because I was a woman, I got 100 extra push-ups every morning. 'By the time the second week was gone, I was determined I would make the third.'"

She philosophizes that it "probably makes me better" as she says that a woman has to "work twice as hard to stay even with a West Pointer" in today's Army.

Captain Balko says she probably will be the only woman Signal Officer in her field artillery unit in Germany. She wasn't picked for the battalion communications officer post because she was a woman, but because an officer was needed.

"When you're up for overseas duty," she says, "you just hope you get a good job."

She thinks this will be, although as part of the NATO defense she will be on call 24 hours a day.

The Army, she explains, has microwave communications and individual telephone lines. She is a trained computer programmer. By 1986, she predicts, "everything but the infantryman will be computerized."

How did the 1972 Northville High School graduate who went on to become an occupational therapist, graduating from Eastern Michigan University, become an Army officer?

"By the time I was graduating, I realized I just didn't want to spend my life as an occupational therapist. I could do it, but why do something you really don't want?"

"So the Saturday of commencement I went on active duty with the U.S. Army reserves," Sherrie had signed to do so her last year of college. The active duty with the Signal Corps since 1976 has been at Fort Benning, Georgia, Fort McClellan, Alabama, for officer training, and for three years at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Most recently, she spent six months in advanced training at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

"I think I'll be marketable if I decide not to stay in," she observes. "They say that all business is built as a military organization, and others with my training have been snapped up by such firms as ITT."

From her command post at Fort Bragg as a lieutenant, Captain Balko knows that "as soon as I walk in (at her new assignment in Germany), I'll be tested."

"I lay down the law that 'this is it' because it's the only thing that works

Captain Sherrie Balko wears double bars today

Sherrie Balko joined signal corps — held out to become a paratrooper — and as of today she's a captain when there are sergeants that are almost twice as old as I am."

It's apparent that the young woman knows how to command as she relates that she tells her staff, "I won't ask you to do anything I won't do." And she means it.

The new captain makes it clear, however, that at this point she is not "career Army" as she has signed a 32-month commitment to go overseas but doesn't know what will follow.

She does say that she believes she has met "some of the nicest people you could know" since she has been in the service.

As a platoon leader, she explains, she has been in the field for as long as two months at a time.

"You have to have people you can count on to mail your bills, which come in anyway, while you are gone."

As a platoon leader and adjutant, she declares, it hasn't all been easy.

"You get calls in the middle of the night to bail one of your people out of jail — you get called in on family arguments, and if there's a fight and the parents are taken away, you end up baby sitting."

Captain Balko admits her last six months in advance training were much more desirable as it turned out to be "a big reunion" with friends made in basic training and she played a lot of tennis.

She also ran in the four-mile Peachtree Road Race in Atlanta.

"I ran three miles this morning," she mentions as she is interviewed, making it evident that keeping in shape is vital.

but women "got frost bite on their legs" as they stood at attention.

Finally, too, women officers, like men, now can remove their jackets while at work in warm weather.

Captain Balko reports that the famous Army "px" isn't all that great today. "Only shoes and underwear are cheaper — I can do as well anywhere else, especially on sales."

Her pay, she says, is about the same as that of her sister Stacey, a nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

As an officer, she has been maintaining her own apartment. In Germany, she has been told, she will be living in a hotel for the first month. Then, hopefully, an officer's quarters will become available.

Beauty operator Sue Hurson gives Elsie Beauchamp a permanent

Beauty shop's open at Allen Terrace

For the residents of Allen Terrace, hard work, patience and determination finally have paid off.

On July 7th, the International Beauty Salon officially opened its doors to Terrace tenants — who have been working on the project for almost a year.

Located on the fourth floor of the Terrace building, the salon is the final product of numerous fund raising projects which included bake sales, raffles and an arts and crafts bazaar.

Altogether, the residents raised more than $2,000, said Allen Terrace executive director Fran Yoakam.

The salon, which caters to both men and women, is open Monday and Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. During the scheduled hours, salon operator Sue Hurson is on hand for those residents in need of a haircut, trim, permanent or shampoo.

Though Hurson is only at the salon twice a week, it remains open every day for those who wish to use the facilities.

Hurson said the salon's opening day was busy, adding that all of her customers were women.

"I had two men come in here this morning," she said, "but one was bald and the other said there was no way he would let a woman cut his hair."

"The men come about as far as the door and that's it," she said.

Yet for many of the female residents, the salon is both convenient and inexpensive. Prices range from $1 for a color rinse to $13.50 for a permanent. A shampoo and set is $5.50 and a haircut is $4.50.

Elsie Beauchamp, who was in the salon for a permanent before a night of square dancing, said she liked the salon for its location.

Mrs. Beauchamp, like many of the Terrace residents, said she eagerly has been awaiting the salon's opening. "I've had women tell me they've been waiting nearly a year for this to happen," she said.

The salon will be maintained by the tenants through fund-raising activities. Much of the work for the salon was done by a committee which was responsible for purchasing equipment, soliciting bids from the community and raising funds. The committee consisted only of Terrace residents.

Another salon fund-raising project is being planned for later this year.

'Man of La Mancha' going into rehearsal

The Performing Arts Guild will hold auditions for the musical, "Man of La Mancha," July 27-28 from 7:30-11 p.m. with callbacks July 29 from 7:30-11 p.m.

All auditions will be held at The Marquis Theatre. Persons who audition will be required to perform one prepared vocal selection and supply their own sheet music. An accompanist will be provided.

A photograph and resume are requested but not mandatory. Each actor cast in the production will receive a stipend for his or her work.

The Guild is a recently formed, semi-professional, non-equity theatre company in residence at The Marquis Theatre.

Man of La Mancha will be presented at the theatre September 12-14, 19-21 and 26-28. For further information concerning auditions call: 833-2367.

In Our Town

Residents come and go — across town—to other lands

By JEAN DAY

Northville residents, present and past, are on the move. They're coming from Greece, and going to Mexico, Bristol, Pennsylvania — and just across town.

Long-time resident Pat Hartt, who has sold her home at 777 Thayer, is planning to spend some time at her home in San Miguel de Allende, an artist colony in Guanajuato, Mexico, about four hours north of Mexico City. A former art teacher, she retired last year from the Westland School System.

Friday a group of friends heard about her future plans at a brunch given by Glad Evans at her home on Woodhill. Later this month Mrs. Hartt plans to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mary and Robert Skinner, and grandson in Acworth, New Hampshire. She also anticipates visiting her other daughter and son-in-law, Prudence and Arun Pande and grandson in Tempe, Arizona, before flying on to the retirement home she and her late husband Fred had built in the mountains of Mexico. She told friends she "still may be back" as future plans are indefinite.

Fees to take over red house

Heather and Donald Fee and their children will be moving across town to the red cape cod house they have purchased from Pat Hartt. Appropriately, the house thus will continue to be occupied by a couple interested in arts and crafts. Mrs. Fee is a past president of the Mill Race Weavers and both have been active in Northville Historical Society. Fee designed the signs which mark our town's historical district.

Linda and David Langston, who are coming here from Missouri, have bought the Fee house at 134 Rayson. It and Mrs. Fee's weaving studio on the property were on the Northville Home Tour in 1978.

Langston, an interior designer, and his wife are expecting their first child shortly after they move in the end of the month.

Another in-town move is that of Northville City Clerk Joan McAllister, who has moved from Lexington Condos to a home she has purchased at 520 Langfield.

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY TROST

Norrises house-hunt in Pennsylvania

Ann and Robert Norris of Jeffrey Drive were looking at houses in Pennsylvania last weekend. He is new plant manager of the 3-M plant in Bristol, Pennsylvania. The Norrises have two children in college and four at home. They have been active here in PTA and Ann Norris has been a playground aide at Amerman. Both taught Bible school at Our Lady of Victory.

Last Thursday Nancy Smith and Judy Annett entertained for Mrs. Norris at a coffee at the Sherrie Lane home of the former. It was attended by some 30-40 friends, neighbors and school co-workers.

Riddells are painting Denton home

Jackie and Ray Riddell returned from an overseas assignment with General Motors in Greece last April and have purchased the former home of the late Joe Denton at the high corner of Randolph and Linden. Last week son Royd, a student at Western Michigan University, was painting the barn gray with buff trim. The house is to be the same color. The Riddells' son Reid has graduated and is living in Ypsilanti. Youngest son Jason, 13, is at home.

A new kitchen has been installed and the Riddells are remodeling and wallpapering throughout the home. Jackie Riddell says she expects to have it completed by the end of summer. She has plans for new trees, shrubs and other landscaping.

The Riddells sold their home on Dunlap at Rogers when they left for Greece. It, too, was extensively decorated by them and was one of the home tour showplaces in 1974. He is a past president of Northville Historical Society.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Per V. Iversen of 536 Orchard, announce the engagement of their daughter Kristy Ann to Price S. McAllister, son of Mrs. Joan G. McAllister of 520 Langfield Drive.

The bride-elect is a 1980 graduate of Northville High School and will be attending Michigan Tech University in September where she plans to earn a degree in Mechanical Design Engineering Technology.

Her fiancé, a 1976 graduate of Novi High School, is attending Eastern Michigan University where he is majoring in business.

A date has not been set for the wedding.

Sandra K. Teeter served as matron of honor and Janet and Ann Trost were bridesmaids. Their gowns were blue Qiana and chiffon with print capes. They carried baskets of spring flowers.

William Rowe served as best man, with Alan Trost and Alan Ingrody as ushers.

The bridegroom's cousin Paul Myers sang "The Wedding Song" at the ceremony.

Approximately 130 guests, including out-of-towners from Pennsylvania and Florida, attended a reception at Idyl Wyld Golf Club in Livonia following the ceremony.

The bride and bridegroom spent their honeymoon in Orlando, Florida, and now are living in Canton.

Opening day at farmers' market

First Northville Farmers' Market of the 1980 growing season opened last Thursday in the Main Street parking lot across from the Marquis Theatre. Some 10 booths were filled with flowers and produce — a good start for the first market of the year, according to Kay Keegan, secretary for the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the markets. Farmers reported they were "satisfied" with the initial business. "The egg lady" was there, too. Peaches and melons already had arrived at the market with the melons — nice big ones — selling out during the first hour. New potatoes and squash also made an appearance. Fresh corn is anticipated for this week's market. The markets will continue every Thursday from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. (or until farmers are sold out, which often is earlier) through fall.

Ware Square having a fair

Ware's Square is holding a three-day, mini-craft fair today through Friday as a way to invite local residents to get better acquainted with the three businesses that have been together in the square at Hutton near Dunlap for the past year — Elizabeth's Restaurant, far right, 5th Season, above right, and Connie's Stitchery, below right.

Elizabeth's will be serving marinated fresh vegetables in a mustard vinaigrette on French bread each noon. 5th Season is holding flower arranging demonstrations at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

At the same times Connie's Stitchery is having stitchery demonstrations.

Holly Mart bazaar heads planning holiday fete

United Methodist Women already are "thinking Christmas" as committees are formed for the Holly Mart bazaar to be held November 7. Members also are making plans for a fall rummage sale to be held October 3.

The Holly Mart, held on alternate years, has become a community tradition.

"It has been very successful in the past," comments Mary Long, general chairperson, who adds, "It is because so many women have been involved."

Heading booths and events are Grace Pollock, Christmas; Evelyn Maguire, baked goods; Barb Kimery and Shirley Dehoff, plants; Maureen Godley, donuts and coffee cafe; Marie Knapp, lunch committee; Irene Boyd and Louise Cansfield, needlecraft; Phyllis Abbott, arts and crafts; Pat Eden, attic treasures; Darlene Ursel, general toys; Esther Cockin, stuffed toys; Gail Norback, decorations; Karon Frisbie, publicity.

Members are being sought to work on committees that interest them during the summer.

They also are saving "good rummage," the church says, including knick-knacks, dishes, small furniture, pictures and clothing, for the bazaar.

Adrian collegian attends national sorority meet

Natalie Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Snyder, 46500 West Six Mile, recently attended the National Sigma Kappa Convention in Chicago.

The Adrian College junior is vice president of pledge education in her sorority chapter.

More than 500 collegiates, alumnae delegates and national officers attended the convention June 26-30 at the Chicago O'Hare Marriott Hotel.

Delegates attending the convention discussed sorority business and participated in workshops designed to promote effective leadership training, sisterhood and development in all areas of sorority life.

The Adrian College Sigma Kappa's were awarded a sterling silver punch bowl for the most money contributed to a philanthropy by any chapter.

Ms. Snyder is a 1978 graduate of Northville High School.

Women to hear mini program

"It's a Small World" is the theme of the Christian Women's luncheon at noon this Thursday at Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

"Mini Insights" will be presented by Peg Haddad of Canada. Ten-year-old Michelle Claire will play for the "Musical Miniature" portion of the program.

Betty Blackburne of Betty's Hobby House is giving the program on "Mansions in Miniature."

The luncheon is $6.50 and nursery facilities are available.

For more information call Dorothy Mowry, 420-0472.

Church school head named

First United Methodist Church in Northville announces that Sue Nix is the new church school coordinator.

She replaces Ginny Branstner who has had that responsibility for more than two years.

Volunteers willing to teach young people are being asked to call 348-1634. A study book and ideas for the 1980-81 Sunday School year are being readied.

During the summer the church school program is for children through the fourth grade. A full schedule will resume September 7.

Until Labor Day weekend the church will hold only one Sunday morning service at 9:30 a.m.

Captain Balko in new garb

She chose Army

She also expects during the tour of duty to be taking over a signal battalion.

She's packing her tennis racket. A tennis fan, she already has applied for tickets to Wimbledon. The Grand Prix at Monte Carlo also is on her agenda.

For Captain Sherrie Balko all systems seem "ready to go" as she prepares to go east with her parents, probably with stops in New York and Atlantic City, before leaving for Europe July 28 from the east coast.

Universities list spring graduates

Jane Sciba, 16392 Appleby Lane, earned her master of arts degree from Eastern Michigan University in June. She also is a graduate of Michigan State University where she received a bachelor of arts degree in English.

Thomas Marzonia, 47005 Dunsany, received his bachelor of arts degree from Western Michigan University in June.

Marzonia, a 1975 graduate of Northville High School, earned his degree in business administration and finance.

Beth Ann Behrend, 510 Morgan, was among the more than 3,000 graduates of Central Michigan University in May. She received her bachelor of science degree in business administration.

At Interlochen

Abdhis Bhavsar, 15, son of Dr. and Mrs. Raman Bhavsar, 42080 Banbury, made first chair saxophone at Interlochen Music Camp during the all-state band session held June 23-July 6.

He has played in the Mead's Mill Junior High symphonic band for two years.

Saumya Bhavsar, 14, who also attended the Interlochen all-state band session, was chosen as third chair clarinet. She began playing the clarinet two years ago and has played in the Mead's Mill symphonic band for a year.

Approximately 250 students from across the state attended the two week session.

Ann Visnyak named 4-H dairy food winner

Ann Visnyak, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zolie Visnyak, 50855 West Nine Mile, was named Michigan's 1980 4-H dairy foods project winner June 19.

Visnyak competed against 4-H dairy project members from five Michigan districts during 4-H Exploration Days held at Michigan State University. She was selected the state's top 4-H dairy foods member by a panel of food judges and specialists.

Visnyak is a member of the Lyon's 4-Hers and has completed a variety of dairy food project activities including the study of dairy breeds, milk production and processing and use of dairy products.

Visnyak also has participated in several other 4-H project areas such as first aid, nutrition, pig production and conservation.

As one of Michigan's state award winners, Visnyak may be eligible to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago this November.

For budding pilot - sky's the limit

By MICHELE McELMURRY

I saw a fleet of fishing boats...I flew down almost touching the craft and yelled at them, asking if I was on the right road to Ireland.

They just stared. Maybe they didn't hear me. Maybe I didn't hear them or maybe they thought I was just a crazy fool. An hour later I saw land.

Charles A. Lindbergh,
after his transatlantic flight, 1927

As the plane slowly moves down the runway, the pilot glances at the instrument panel. Everything appears to be in order — airspeed indicator, altimeter, and radio all are working fine. Rolling down the window, the pilot looks down the runway and shouts, "Clear!"

With no one in its path, the small, one engine plane begins to pick up speed. The only sounds heard are those of the spinning propeller and humming engine as the plane lifts off the ground. And within only a few minutes, "the great flying machine" is soaring through the blue sky.

"It's crazy, but I love it," exclaims Steve Antuna. "I've been hooked on flying for years."

Antuna, 18, from Northville is one of thousands of people whose fascination with the world of aviation has led them to brave the unknown.

"The first time I went flying was in a helicopter. I started off wanting to be an astronaut, but saw an army helicopter at a camper show and that was it," he says.

More than a year ago, Antuna's enthusiasm about flying directed him toward Salem Airport located on Six Mile right in the heart of Salem Township. He has been there ever since, working as a "line boy" and taking flying lessons.

As a "line boy," Antuna works between 50 and 60 hours a week, filling planes with fuel, cleaning, working at the desk and doing other odd jobs.

In between his work schedule, he takes flying lessons and hopes to get his pilot's license sometime in the near future.

Approximately 50-60 hours of flying time are necessary to earn a pilot's license. With about 32 hours under his belt, Antuna said he hopes to earn his license before the year is out.

However, flying lessons do not come cheap. At Salem Airport, a one-hour lesson is $40 — which includes $12 for the instructor and $28 for the plane.

"It's expensive, but like anything else you learn, it stays with you for a lifetime," says Antuna.

Antuna says his interest in aviation stems from his father. "My dad was always interested in aviation. Ever since I can remember, we've been building model planes together. When I get my license, he'll be my first passenger."

Antuna explains the 50 some hours of flying time are only one requirement needed toward getting a license. Some of the other requirements include a written examination issued by the Federal Aviation Association, about 10 hours of solo flying and a certain amount of cross-country flying — which entails flying to other specified airports.

Antuna says licenses differ according to the different types of planes. Air traffic pilots, those in charge of commercial planes have separate, more stringent requirements than a small plane pilot.

Antuna recalls that his first solo flight, on May 28, was exactly one year after he started working at Salem. In recognition of the flight, a T-shirt hangs on the wall at the airport, with his name and "5-28-80" on the back.

Though Antuna admits to being afraid at first, he says planes are essentially safe and his initial jitters have faded.

"It's safer up there than it is going down Main Street."

Some of the dangers in flying are bad weather and mid-air collisions, he says.

I was introduced to bad weather a couple of days ago," he relates, "I had moved into an area where the clouds were dark and then right in front of me was a lightning bolt. I turned right around and came back to Salem."

Antuna says he would like eventually to earn his rotary craft license — which would entitle him to pilot helicopters. Yet, he knows the expense will most likely keep him from doing it for some time. The approximate cost for rotary craft lessons is about $5,000 to $6,000, he says.

Yet Antuna says he doesn't have to rush into anything — at least not yet. "I'm young, I've got all the time in the world."

He mentions that the oil crisis has hurt the private plane owners a "little bit," but adds a lot of people still are taking lessons.

The minimum age for flying lessons is 16-years-old. Persons interested in getting a pilot's license must be 17. Antuna says anyone 17-years or older, who can pass a basic physical, can get a pilot's license.

"There was a 75-year-old man who got his license last year," he illustrates.

The fascination with flying is as old as the human race itself. And though more and more people are taking to the skies, Antuna says he still "wishes more people would do it."

Yet, in comparison to 77 years ago, when two men stood on a sandpit in Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, putting the finishing touches on a "whopper flying machine," one has to admit that man's interest in rivaling the bird is still as strong as ever. And with people like Steve Antuna around, the birds better watch out.

Hi! I'm "Old Dutch" and I'd like to talk to you about some pretty special rocks. They've got a purpose in life. STONESCAPING! It's a way of landscaping with rocks!

I figured out these beauties were real earthy fellows. And by staying real close to their origin they'd be doing a whole lot of good. Like insulating and conditioning soil. Keeping those darn weeds out of your gardens (they're nature's natural weed preventatives). And rocks won't fade, rot, attract insects or blow away. Best of all, STONESCAPING will never dig down into your pocket for high maintenance costs. OLD DUTCH isn't out to rock your checkbook... just your lawn.

So see your OLD DUTCH dealer soon. Be sure to tell him "Old Dutch" sent you!

Cubs' pitcher Ronnie McDonald lets one fly

Rangers lose, 4-3

It's first loss in three years

The Astros upset the previously undefeated Rangers, 4-3, last week saddling the H-League leaders with their first setback in three seasons.

A combination of clutch hitting, good pitching and tight defense won it for the Astros, who managed to crush a final inning rally by the Rangers.

The tying and winning runs were stranded on base when the final putout was made.

The Astros' Kevin Kormanis snagged a line drive in left field to prevent the Rangers from adding to an early 2-0 lead.

Scott Stephens, Mike Kelly and Brad Kirsch contributed clutch hits and strong pitching for the winners.

Scott Griggs was the Rangers' hitting and pitching mainstay.

Despite the loss, the Rangers remain atop H-League with a 13-1 record.

(The Rangers and Cubs were scheduled to play their final league game Monday).

In other H-League action last week: The Mets, paced by a round-tripper by Jon Wasserman, scored four runs in the fifth inning to top the Dodgers, 6-4.

David Armstrong and Shyu Siegfried each collected two hits for the winners.

The Dodgers scored two runs in the first inning on hits by Kirk Windisch (triple), Brad Wheeler (double) and Keith Graham (single), and two more in the second on a pair of walks and singles by Windisch and Jamil Haddus.

Fourteen walks boosted the Expos past the Braves, 9-4.

The two squads battle to a 4-4 tie through top of the fifth inning when the Expos broke it open with five runs on three hits, three walks and two Braves' errors.

Lead-off hitter Tim Lake had a single and a double for the winners, while Chris Bowman collected a pair of singles in the losing effort.

The Pirates scored 10 runs in the last three innings to come back from a 3-0 deficit to beat the Braves, 10-3.

Braves pitchers issued 24 free passes to Pirate hitters, who managed only one hit, a triple by Robert Richcreek.

Marc Bennett and Phil Musial smacked singles for the losers.

Two hits apiece by Ed Walsh and Jim Willerer paced the Reds in a 12-5 shellacking of the Cardinals.

The Reds rallied for three scores in the second inning, four in the fourth and five in the fifth, while the Cardinals managed three runs in the first, one in the second and one in the fifth.

Roger Croske collected three hits for the Cardinals, while Derek Osborne and Doug Abraham each cracked a two-bagger.

The Expos edged the Mets 6-4 in a contest scattered with walks.

The Expos managed only five hits, but were issued as many free bases, scoring one run in the second inning, and five in the third.

The Mets scored one run in the second inning on four straight free passes and tallied three more in the fifth on doubles by Brian Frelick, Ray Jacques and Robbie Thomasson and a pair of walks. Mets' batters were issued a total of 11 walks.

Tim Lakes had two singles for the Expos, while Randy Jones smacked a double and Jason Cave ripped a triple.

The Phillies whitewashed the Cardinals banging out seven hits in the 9-2 win.

Five runs in the first inning on four singles, a double by Eric Halverson and an error by the Cards gave the Phillies more than enough for the victory.

But the Phillies' hitters came alive again in the third with singles by Dave Raczowski and Scott Paredes, a double by Steve Paredes.

Combined with a two walks and another Cardinal error, this gave the Phillies four more scores.

The Cards scored their lone run in the first inning on two walks and a double by Doug Abraham. Derek Osborne added a two-bagger in the third inning, but was left stranded at second.

The Cubs squeaked out a 5-4 victory over the Giants in another H-League game.

Ford Field changes okayed

Spectators and players using Ford Field soon may find the trip down to the field a much more pleasant journey.

A new stairway with three landings as well as handrails is part of a site improvement program planned at an estimated cost of $49,932.

Oakland County portion of the Community Development Block Grant funds have been earmarked for the improvements, but city council was told at its meeting July 7 that HUD has indicated the city may be receiving about $35,000 instead of approximately $50,000.

The city manager said the problem was raised regarding the using of 1980 funds for the park project, but no definite decision had been made. Part of the difficulty, he felt, is that different people from HUD are involved each year; so there is not a continuing background of information.

Council voted to seek bids on the improvement package prepared by Mark Hornung, landscape architect and planner from Grand Ledge. The hope was expressed that with the tight economy bids may be lower than anticipated.

Hornung said that, if bids are in, the project could be ready to move by mid-August.

The stairway, to be built on top of the existing one, will be the biggest single change for the field at a cost of $22,600 including 200 square feet of concrete walk. Hornung said it "could be used as a bleacher" to view games.

Bleachers themselves are not included in the cost estimate, but removal of debris, old hardware and railings will be, as will new, relocated lighting.

It includes relocation of four existing poles, installation of six 1500-watt quartz fixtures and installation of underground cables at a total cost of $3,450.

A chain link fence, backstop, gates and two player benches as well as field grading and addition of crusher dust are other improvements planned.

Councilmember Carolann Ayers asked if a drinking fountain could be part of the project, and Walters promised it would be installed by the DPW.

Steady now

sions with instructor Dana Decker. The Summer Hockey School, located on the Michigan Tech campus in Houghton is in its eighth year of operation.

Merchants add to top record

Northville Merchants blasted their way to two more victories in Northville Recreation American League softball play last week, to boost their first place record to 11-1.

Jerry Dettler, John Boland, Jim O'Brien and Tom Eis blasted two homers apiece in a 28-1 mercy of Little Joe's Bar.

John Horwath, who also had three singles and a double, smacked one round-tripper as did teammate Bill Staron.

Doug Webster had Joe's only extra base hit — a double in the third inning.

In a 14-4 win over Spicer Tool July 10, the Merchants led 5-4 going into the fifth inning, then exploded for nine runs on eight hits, including home runs by Dettler and Gary Winemaster.

Jim Manderville blasted one out of the park for Spicer.

Several other American League games are recapped in the following paragraphs.

Winner's Circle 15, Spicer Tool 0

Winner's Circle hitters banged out 15 hits in four innings to mercy Spicer which could manage only a single and a double all day. Circle scored three runs in the first inning, five in both the second and third and two in the fourth for the win. Six Winner's Circle hitters smacked two hits apiece for the winners.

Long-Zayti 18, Winner's Circle 17

David Rodriguez hit two round-trippers and Tony Mills added four hits for the Circle, but it wasn't enough to stop Zayti hitters who scored four runs to Circle's three in the final inning to clinch the victory. Jime Zayti ripped a double, a triple and three singles for the winners, while teammate Dough Wojay had a double, triple and two base hits.

C.D. Sparling 12, Long-Zayti 10

D. J. Canton paced Sparling with a home run, double, and two singles, while Kendall Smith blasted one out and Jae Bustemante added a double and two singles. Jim Long had three hits for Zayti and teammate Rick Bingley cracked a round-tripper.

Little Joe's 12, Sheehan's 2

Six runs on six hits in the sixth inning sewed it up for Little Joe's. Mark Yanoshick and Jim LaPlante had perfect days at the plate, rapping three base hits apiece. A homer each by Mark Lisonski and Bob Gerlach also aided the winners' cause. Paul McDonald and John Sarkisian each had two hits for Sheehan's.

Offer sneak preview of Detroit athletes

Michigan sports fans can get a sneak preview of Detroit Lions heralded rookie Billy Sims in action or the Red Wings and Pistons under new leadership at their training camps between mid-July and early October.

Besides regularly scheduled practices and scrimmages open to the public for free, the teams have preseason games at different sites around the state, says Automobile Club of Michigan. There is an admission charge for those games.

The Lions train at Oakland University in Rochester. For many years the football squad trained at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills, but with the move to Pontiac in 1975 the Lions switched to Oakland U for more space and closer proximity to the Silverdome.

Coach Monte Clark's rookies and free agents report to camp July 16 and the veterans report July 25. Two practice sessions are held daily at 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The public may attend both sessions.

On Saturday, August 2, the Lions will hold their annual Family Day. At 1 p.m. there will be an autograph and picture-taking session followed by a scrimmage. Families are encouraged to pack a lunch and spend the afternoon with the players and coaching staff. Entertainment and games for children also are planned.

The Lions have two preseason games scheduled at the Silverdome: August 16 against Buffalo and August 23 against New Orleans. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

The Red Wings have a new training site this season — Cobo Arena in Detroit. The Wings used to train at Lake Superior State College in Sault Ste. Marie.

Coach Ted Lindsay made the move to Detroit because many of his hockey players with school-aged children can settle in on Labor Day and be ready for camp to open on September 17.

On the first day of camp the Wings traditionally hold their Press Day which is open to the public for picture-taking and autographs.

This year the Wings will practice daily until October 8 unless there is an exhibition game. Practice times are not firm yet, but they are expected to be held at 8:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., the same as last season.

Three of the Wings' preseason contests will be held in Michigan, with a fourth in Windsor, Ontario. Two games are slated for Cobo: September 21 versus Hartford and either September 30 or October 1 against Toronto.

Rangers lead H-League

The Cubs scored three runs in the first on three walks and singles by Scott Gettig and Mike Hale and one each in the fifth and sixth innings.

The Giants had only three hits — singles by Paul Smith, Jeff Koppy and Steve Pearce — but took advantage of walks and Cubs' errors to score a run in the second, two in the third and one in the fifth.

Keith Smith and Mike Reeteaga also collected hits for the winners.

Eighteen walks were issued by dualing pitchers in an Expos' defeat of the Reds, 9-2.

Steve Myers and Tim Lake smacked two of the Expos' seven hits, while Avani Bhansar had two singles, Paul Baird ripped a three-bagger and Jim Willner knocked out a double for the Reds.

In another contest, the Giants picked up a forfeit from the Astros.

Koufax squad is champ again

The Northville Sandy Koufax team won four games last weekend to clinch the division title and earn the right to play in the regional federation tournament next week in Dayton, Ohio.

Last year's division champs knocked off South Lyon on Saturday and beat Westland once and Brighton twice on Sunday, stretching their record to 10-3.

The team of 13 and 14-year-old boys, coached by Jim Newman and Bob Frelick, defeated South Lyon, 12-0, as Bob Pegrum pitched a one-hitter.

Smacking key hits for Northville were Dave Longridge, Gerry Pawlowski and Dan Nielsen. Each had two hits and knocked in two runs.

Sunday the Northville squad downed Westland, 9-0 as Longridge tossed a four-hitter.

Mickey Newman picked up two hits and one run-batted-in while Steve Schrader had a two-run homer.

Northville swept a double-header from Brighton taking the first game 12-1 and holding on to win the second, 10-7.

In the first game hurlers Nielsen, Tim Ruffing and Scott Werdell combined efforts for the victory.

Leading the Northville hitters was Gerry Pawlowski with a homer and a double, knocking in four runs. Nielsen also had two hits.

Brighton took a early 4-0 lead in the second game, but Northville players battled back to tie them 7-7 and finally win, 10-7.

Schrader exploded with a grand slam and Paul Havalala added a double and a single.

The Northville Koufax team had one more game to play (Tuesday) to wrap up its season.

second, one in the fourth and two in the fifth. Doug Cook and Brian Turnbull had two hits apiece for the Methodists. Joe Staknis had three hits for Action

Sheehan's 11, Michel's 2

Sheehan's 16 hits, including two home run blasts, were too much for the struggling Michel's team, which could manage only half as many. Don Phillippi and Jim Overbey smacked round-trippers for Sheehan's while teammate Bob Kehoe collected three base hits. Ron White and Dennis Belleperch had two hits apiece for Michel's.

Little Joe's 10, Andy's 5

Andy's got three runs in the fourth inning and two in the fifth, but couldn't score any other times, while Little Joe's got one in the second, four in the third, two in the fifth and three in the sixth to claim the win. Jeff Norton had three singles for Little Joe's, while teammate Kevin Cavanaugh smacked a two-run round-tripper. Dan Carpenter had two hits for Andy's.

Jaycees 11, OLV 1

Jaycees' three runs on four singles and a walk in the first inning would have been enough to top OLV which had seven hits scattered throughout the game. OLV's only score came in the second inning on base hits by Ed Nasradi, Robert Turon and John McNally. Mark Rhodes had three hits for the winners and James Helper contributed two more.

Eagles 19, L'H Players 19

The two squads together had 47 hits in this battle which gave each team a point. The big inning for the Eagles was the sixth when they put seven runs across the plate with seven hits. The Players rallied for nine runs in their half of the fifth and added two more in the seventh to gain the tie. Ron Turvey had four hits for the Eagles, while Steve Harmon had three for Players.

Action Drywall 15, Andy's 2

Action banged out 15 hits scoring all 15 runs by the fourth inning. Ken Miller had three hits for Action, while teammates Tom Mallon and Al Tanner added two apiece. Andy's two runs came in the third inning on base hits by Tom Allen and Jim Wilson combined with three Action errors.

OLV 10, Little Joe's 6

OLV was trailing 6-1 going into the sixth inning when they exploded for five hits and scored nine runs, with help from Little Joe's five errors. Little Joe's could not score in the sixth or seventh inning. Bill Johnston paced the winners with four of their total 11 hits.

Jaycees 7, Michel's 4

The two squads were lock in a 4-4 tie going into the last inning, when Jaycees smacked four hits and scored three runs Michel's couldn't match in their half of the inning. George Buelow had three hits for the winners, while Gary Callender, Fred Yankee and Ken Kovacs had two apiece in a losing effort.

WOMEN'S

Winner's Circle 9, Little Joe's 8

Deborah Kemp and Sandy Myers blasted homers for Circle in what turned out to be a see-saw battle, the Circle scoring two runs in the seventh to nab the victory. Karen Marzoni outshined all hitters smacking three home runs for Little Joe's.

Alumni 18, Super Bowl 4

Alumni's six runs on four hits and three Super Bowl errors was enough for the victory, since Bowl hitters could produce only four runs, all in the fifth inning. Lisa Albus led Alumni hitters with a triple and three base hits, while teammates Louise Hopping and Kathy Burke each hit one out of the park. Mary Poole and Pam McWilliams had two hits apiece for Super Bowl.

Doc's Jocks 10, EDM 3

It wasn't much of a contest as the Jocks banged out a dozen hits, scoring three in the second, one in the third, one in the sixth and adding five more in the seventh. Nancy Pinkleman had a round-tripper and a single for the winners, while Cindy Scannell had three hits for EDM.

Indians enjoy G-League lead

Undefeated and sitting alone atop the Northville Junior Baseball G-League, the Indians took a breather last week while the remaining 12 squads continued league action.

On Saturday the Cards trounced the Braves, 19-2, the Yanks ripped the Astros, 11-7 and the Cubs shellacked the Pirates, 9-4.

Cards' hitters banged out 19 hits, scoring three runs in the first inning, one in the third and the maximum five in the second, fourth and fifth.

Kirk Morrison and Jeff Pawloski each had three hits for the winners, while the Braves' Tim Isom picked up a single and a double.

The Braves scored one run in the first on four walks and one in the second on two walks and two wild pitches.

The Astros were ahead 3-2 when the Yankees exploded for five runs in the third inning on doubles by Tony Briningstal, Chris Anderson, Paul Newitt and Rob Cannon and singles by John Anderson and Scott Swienkowski.

The Yanks added two more in the fourth and their final two came in the fifth.

The Astros scored four runs in the fifth on three walks and a number of Yankee errors.

In the Cubs' victory, the Pirates kept it close until the final inning when Cub batters rallied for five runs on a homer, two doubles and four singles to clinch the win.

Brad Lehmkuhl collected the round-tripper and one of the two-baggers, while Kelly Bell had the other double and Kyle Boring, Keith Dutkiewicz, Bell and Bill Murdock each contributed a single.

The Pirates' four runs came on 13 walks and a single by Jay Moore.

Last Thursday the Cards ousted the Reds, 4-1, and the Pirates won by forfeit over the Astros.

Pitcher Kirk Morrison's two hits — a triple and a single — paced the Cards' attack, while John Meadows and Chris Hauser had two hits apiece for the Reds.

The Cubs downed the Dodgers, 4-3 and Braves ripped the Giants, 10-6 in contests played last Wednesday.

Doubles by Kyle Boring, Keith Dutkiewicz and Brad Lehmkuhl combined with a walk gave the Cubs three runs in the first inning.

They added their final tally in the fourth on base hits by Kelly Bell and Bill Murdock and a fielder's choice.

Junior baseball F-League title still up for grabs

The three frontrunners in F-League — the Expos, Angels and Phillies — each posted one victory last week, setting the stage for a wild finish to the most competitive Northville Junior Baseball league race in recent memory.

Tom Spade collected three hits in the Expos' 14-5 romp over the Braves, who were held to five hits by hurlers Doug Doyle and Dave Longridge.

Dave Bach had two of the five and a pair of runs-batted-in for the Braves, an early-season contender who slipped into fifth place behind the surging Pirates.

The Angels waltzed to a 15-4 win over the Dodgers with Dan Perpich cracking a double, triple and single, which accounted for four of the club's 15 runs.

Perpich also combined with Nielsen to fashion a two-hitter, one a two-run double by Scott Werdell.

The Phillies, who must beat the Expos this week and hope for an Angels' loss in order to gain a tie for first place, stayed alive with a forfeit victory over the under-manned Cardinals.

A four-run sixth inning gave the Giants a 6-3 win over the Padres whose pitcher, Bobby Martin, hurled no-hit ball through five innings.

Four walks and singles by Dave Jelso and Mike Davis erased the Padres' 3-2 lead and gave Mike Weber the victory. Weber limited the Padres to three hits, one a first inning homer by Doug Hartman.

In other action last week, the Padres broke a 12-game losing streak and vacated last place with an 8-7 decision over the Mets, one of the most improved teams in the league during the second half of the season.

Both teams saved their offensive fireworks for the last inning when the Padres erupted for six runs and the Mets scored four. Matt Meyer's second double of the game produced two runs for the winners while Chuck Totten's triple accounted for three of the Mets' runs.

Chris Willerer hurled four scoreless innings in relief as the Reds raced to a 7-1 lead after two innings and snapped the Astros' six-game winning streak, 12-3. Rob Willerer and Steve Marrone accounted for six of the Reds' 15 hits.

The young Dodgers, a sure-bet power in 1981, fell to the Braves, 7-4, as Craig Beaudoin hammered a home run.

The Pirates dumped the Braves, 9-4, for their third straight win and jumped into fourth place, their best of the season thus far.

Tim Ruffing's route-going performance was supported by Dino Candela and Konrad Meister, who collected two hits apiece.

Mark Stevens' two hits paced the Dodgers, who scored one run each in the first, fourth and fifth innings.

The Braves scored nine runs in the first two innings and never let up in their victory over the Indians.

Mike Hilfinger and Doug Martin each doubled for the winners, while Steve Winter had a two-bagger and Matt DeMattos and Eddy Cucagne pounded out singles for the Indians.

Last Tuesday the Pirates trimmed the Yankees, 5-4, and the Padres beat the Mets, 8-5.

The Pirates led the contest right from the start scoring five runs in the first two innings.

Adam Behen had a perfect day at the plate blasting a single, a double and a home run for the Pirates, while John Anderson and Paul Newett each collected two hits for the Yankees.

In two contests played July 7, the Reds trounced the Phillies, 11-5, and the Dodgers won by forfeit over the Astros.

Junior golfers to compete at Meadowbrook

Junior golfers from 20 clubs in the metropolitan Detroit area have been invited to compete in the fourth annual Junior Invitational at Meadowbrook Country Club Tuesday, July 22.

Meadowbrook juniors played their qualifying round on July 7, with winners in each age division slated to play in Tuesday's tourney.

Junior golfers from each of the other clubs are selected by similar qualifying rounds at their respective courses.

Golfers will compete within their own age brackets. For example, nine-year-old boys will compete only with other nine-year-olds and 13-year-old girls will be matched against other 13-year-old girls.

Golfers age nine through high school graduates are considered juniors.

Clubs which have been invited to send participants include Western, Gross Ile, Country Club of Detroit, Detroit Golf Club, Pine Lake, Forest Lake, Knollwood and Franklin Hills.

Others are Washtenaw, Lakelands, Lochmoor, Tam-o-shanter, Twin Beach, Edgewood, Orchard Lake, Farmington, Red Run, Plum Hollow and Dearborn.

Cardinals pad E-League lead

The Cardinals destroyed the Giants, 19-3, and edged the Reds, 4-3, (with eight players) last week to remain in first place in Northville Junior Baseball's E-League.

Cardinal hitters banged out 14 hits on their way to the win, scoring nine runs in the first two innings and adding one in the third and three more each time they came to the plate in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

The Giants scored a run in the third and added one in the final inning. Mark Kormanis, Bob Craske and John Paluzzi hammered out a single each for the Giants' only hits.

The Reds were scoreless until the final inning when they rallied for three runs on a walk, singles by Ted Behen and Bob Orlowski and two Cardinal errors.

Behen and Orlowski each had two hits in the losing effort, while Dave Martin and Gary Metz had two apiece for the winners.

In other E-League action last week the Pirates were unraveled by the Reds, 16-2, and also were pummeled by the Braves, 11-6.

The Reds banged out 12 hits, scoring seven runs their first time at bat and adding five more in the second inning, putting the Pirates in the hole.

Jim Thompson, Tim Mizerowski and Bob Orlowski each scored three times for the winners.

Tim Borthwick had two hits for the Pirates.

The Braves collected 15 hits to the Pirates' eight in the Braves' win July 7.

The game was scoreless through the third inning, but the winners came through with two in the fourth, five in the fifth and four in the sixth to clinch the victory.

The Pirates got one in the fourth, two in the fifth and three in the sixth.

John Collins and Chris Dimitroff each collected three hits for the Braves while Andy Dimitroff, Dave Pohlod and Willy Newman had two apiece.

Tim Borthwick smacked two base hits for the Pirates.

In another contest the Braves blanked the Cardinals, 16-0. (Score card was unavailable).
