

Arborists dispute shots

Graceful elms victims of new cure theories

A canopy of shade formed by the leaves of tall elm trees graced the entrance to Northville on South Main street about 10 years ago. A few remain behind City Hall, while other survivors are scattered throughout the community.

Most people know that Dutch elm disease has eliminated elms nationwide, but few know of the controversy surrounding the treatment of elms for its fatal disease.

The controversy has split tree pathologists into two camps. One

Healthy American elm in city park has resisted disease advocates inoculating an elm for the disease as a preventive measure, the other side claims inoculating a healthy elm can cause its death. The drug used for the tree injections is called lignasan.

"Inoculating a tree for preventive reasons is no good," states Don Bouret, arborist whose nursery service treats city trees each year. "You can kill a tree if you inoculate it for a disease it doesn't have."

Bouret agrees with Dr. Alex Shigo, head pathologist for the Forestry Research Center in Durham, New Hampshire. Dr. Shigo noted if a tree was shot with lignasan two years in a row and it did not have Dutch elm disease, it died.

"I've lost clients because I wouldn't inoculate a tree unless it showed signs of the fungus," Bouret said. "If no disease is present, we maintain the tree with spraying and pruning. It's the only safe, sure manner we have right now."

Because Dutch elm disease is highly contagious to other elms, other pathologists and arborists believe preventive shots work more effectively. At the Elm Research Institute in Harrisville, New Hampshire, pathologists there said when a healthy elm is injected, its chances of warding off the disease jumped to 99 percent.

But Bouret is adamant about preventive injections. "I'm a die hard arborist," he said. "Unless we get a positive reading and providing the disease has spread less than 10 percent throughout the tree, no shots.

"There are new formulas of lignasan on the market," Bouret said. "They are stronger, but how successful it will be, I don't know yet."

Many arborists, Bouret included, use the system of 'flagging' to determine whether an elm has Dutch elm disease.

Usually leaves on a young branch on the tree will turn yellow and wilt (flag) in July or August. Bouret will then peel the bark and check for streaks in the cambium layer of the tree. If the reading is positive, Bouret will shoot the tree with lignasan two years in a row.

"You can save 40 percent of trees with shots after the disease is detected," said Bouret.

Suggest rent for engineering

New uses for two city-owned Cady Street buildings — Kerr House for senior citizens and the Scout-Recreation Building — appear to have been found if city council Monday approves recommendations of City Manager Steven Walters.

His suggestion to accept the application of an engineering firm to use the Scout Building will effect a "trade-off" on fees to help a strained city budget and also will improve services, he told council in the proposal.

Northville Cooperative Preschool which has met in the Scout Building for about 16 years could be relocated in the Kerr House and still use the present playground facilities, Walters said.

The post office has indicated interest in expanding on land occupied by the house but, Walters told council in discussion at a special budget session Monday, there is little possibility of any action until next year.

After senior citizen functions were moved to Allen Terrace, the city's new residence for seniors, the building was used as an extension of the Northville Montessori School now located in the old Main Street Elementary.

The cooperative pays rent to cover utilities, Walters said.

The Scout-Recreation Building no longer serves original needs as the recreation department now has its headquarters in the community center on Main Street.

Applications to provide a specific amount of engineering services to the city in return for use of the building as office space have been submitted by McNeely and Lincoln Associates, the firm in charge of Mainstreet '78 downtown redevelopment, and by H. W. Penn Engineers, the firm which has furnished city engineering services since 1961 and previously from 1956 as Laporte and Penn.

"An opportunity exists to combine a solution to use of the Scout Building with an improvement in the city's overall engineering services," Walters reported to council in his proposal.

He outlined advantages of the approach, as, giving the city services of a consulting engineering firm, paid on an hourly basis, but with the entire engineering operation located next to city hall, just as a full-time department would be, while also giving an income from the Scout Building while retaining control of it.

Such use, he added, would be compatible with adjacent uses as office zoning is immediately east and north and the cemetery is adjacent on the west. The rear yard is a buffer to residential behind.

Walters said he would recommend McNeely and Lincoln Associates and said they are prepared to make such an agreement as their present lease is expiring and they intend to relocate with a staff of 13, including the owners, a registered engineer, registered land surveyor, land surveyor, three draftsmen, six field men and a secretary.

The agreement would pay $9,000 in engineering services as the first year's rent. Tenant would pay all utilities and maintain the interior of the building. Fee schedule provides provision for expansions.

The firm offered to supply 15 hours per month consulting services at no billing to the city, or $750 per month per hourly billings based on agreed upon fees.

Engineering services for design, bid and build projects would be at 6.5 percent of the awarded contract amount or estimated cost and construction layout at 2.8 percent of the awarded amount.

The contract also stipulates individual fees for surveys, engineering and coordinating, ranging from $45 an hour to $17.50 for clerical.

Pointing out that his firm has supplied almost 100 percent of city engineering services since 1956, Harold Penn also submitted a proposal to Walters offering a similar arrangement to occupy the Scout Building at $750 per month based on hourly billings or 20 hours of consulting services, building inspection or assessing with no billing to the city.

His engineering services would be 6.5 percent with layout at 2.6 percent Engineering service fees were detailed and ranged from $40 an hour to $15 for clerical.

Penn stated he is a registered professional engineer and that the firm has the necessary support staff to provide engineering, building inspection and assessing services. Walters told council he understands that the firm is composed of Penn, his son and another employee.

He expressed concern as to whether a firm that size could carry the operation of the Scout Building.

Council members were given the proposals at the September 8 meeting with the matter to be placed on the September 22 agenda for action.

The two-level colonial design Scout Building was begun in 1962 on land given by the city. About $12,000 of its cost was raised by public subscription with another $13,000 derived from the sale of the old scout building on Dunlap at Hutton (now the site of Manager by December?

23 apply for position

Northville Township will give itself an early Christmas present this year: a business manager will be selected by the new township board of trustees in December.

Twenty three hopefuls have so far

Township accepts HUD funds

By a six to one vote, Northville Township Monday accepted thousands of dollars in community development funds for next year.

Voting against the funds was Trustee Susan Heintz, who said the township could get Section 8 (subsidized housing) whether it voted for the funds or not.

"It's worrisome to me that one man has jurisdiction to give or withdraw our funds. A one man liaison does worry me. We could get into areas where we would have county plans enter into township plans," she said.

Although community development funds are federal monies, Wayne County acts as the disbursing agent of the funds for the federal government.

Several weeks ago the township filed an injunction against the county to stop a middle income subsidized housing project. It withdrew the injunction, however, when the county threatened to cut off other community development funds.

Other development funds were earmarked for a sewer in the Park Gardens subdivision in the southeastern end of the township and a proposed Elderly Village at the site of the old Wayne County Training School at Five Mile and Sheldon.

"Northville Township would be unwise to step out (of receiving federal money) at this time," Supervisor Don Thomson said.

"I'd like to hear whatever arguments there are against (accepting) it," Trustee James Nowka said. "But I won't cut off my nose to spite my face. We are liable to find ourselves in an uncomfortable position (should the township refuse the money)."

"It would be better without a one man system, but we need that money past 1981 to put the Park Garden sewers into being," commented Bill Mosher, township engineer.

applied for the position of Northville Township business manager, Richard Henningsen, chairman of the wage and salary review committee, reported last week.

Candidates have until October 1 to apply for the position, which will pay between $22,000 to $24,000 plus benefits for the qualified candidate.

Candidates for business manager will be selected at a public meeting November 13, Henningsen said. Last week, the committee submitted a job description to the board of trustees with "tentative" duties for the business manager.

Henningsen said he would not reveal what the duties of the business manager will be until the board of trustees reviews the job description and "gives us some input. If the direction isn't positive or if you find a glitch in these points, let us know," Henningsen said to the board. "We don't want to be off base with this."

The position calls for a graduate with a M.A. in Public Administration or equivalent experience. Residency in Northville Township is not required.

Henningsen said the committee is reviewing applications now and will interview candidates the first week of October. On October 22, the wage and salary review committee will discuss potential candidates and make final selections.

On November 13, the committee will make its final choices of candidates.

In December, the committee will submit the names of potential business managers to the incoming township board of trustees and make a recommendation to the board.

Members of the township business manager search committee include Henningsen, Robert Prom, Ron Martin, Jerry Spencer, Larry VanderMolen and E.F. Petersen.

Awaits arson sentence

Bakery owner found guilty

Bertha Foltyn last Thursday was found guilty of the March 22 arson of her bakery at 123 East Main in downtown Northville.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Thomas Brennan, prior to issuing his verdict, said that the prosecution had shown beyond a reasonable doubt the fire was intentionally set and that beyond a reasonable doubt Foltyn was the one who set it.

they will begin walking a picket line at 8 a.m. today to call attention to threat of more layoffs after those already instituted in June. They emphasize this is not a strike but a way to let people know there is an employee hazard and increased danger of walkaways.

THE NORTHVILLE Board of Education's next meeting which would have been held Monday has been rescheduled for September 29. The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the board offices at 501 West Main.

L. Brooks Patterson speaks Monday

L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County prosecutor, will be the guest speaker Monday at the annual officers' installation ceremony.

Hosted by the Northville Kiwanis Club, the dinner program will be held at the Plymouth Hilton Inn beginning at 6:30 p.m. Participating in the event will be the two Kiwanis clubs of Plymouth and the Canton Kiwanis Club.

Patterson's talk will begin at 8 p.m. The general public is invited to attend this portion of the program. Admission will be charged those attending the dinner by reservation today.

Oakland prosecutor since his first election in 1972, Patterson drew national attention for his success in arguing a rape case before the U.S. Supreme Court, challenging the restrictive Miranda decision concerning police interrogations.

Patterson culminated a five year fight with the Michigan parole system by leading a successful statewide petition drive to reform Michigan's parole policies (Ballot Proposal B, November, 1978). Presently, he is engaged on a second statewide petition drive, this time to reinstate capital punishment in Michigan.

Installation of officers and directors of the four clubs will follow Patterson's talk, with Kiwanis International dignitary Ralph Keyes serving as the installing officer.

Patterson and Keyes will be introduced by Northville Kiwanians Frank Skinner and Mitchell Deeb, respectively. Stewart Campbell of Northville will give the invocation.

Locally, officers and directors to be installed include:

A salute to the outgoing and incoming presidents is scheduled Sunday, September 29, with a golf outing at Pebble Creek followed by a party at the Handyside residence.

As part of its fund raising projects to aid local handicapped children, the Northville club will take part in the state-wide peanut sale this Friday and Saturday under the direction of Secretary Deeb.

Men in Northville interested in joining the local Kiwanis club are invited to attend any of its regular weekly meetings, held each Monday at 6:30 p.m. at O'Sheehan's on Seven Mile near the railroad tracks.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Kiwanis organization and its activities may call either President-elect Genitti, 349-0915, or Hoffman, 349-4094.

Kiwanian Slating reminds parents and officials of Our Lady of Providence that the next regularly scheduled bowling programs for handicapped children are set for two Saturdays in October — October 11 and 15 — at the Novi Bowl beginning at 10 a.m.

City contract will give 14 holidays

While Northville City Council unanimously ratified the DPW-clerical contract with the union (AFSCME) at the September 8 council meeting, at least one council member was upset with the addition to the holiday schedule that brings the total to 14 paid days off.

J. Burton DeRusha, while voting to ratify the contract, asked City Manager Steven Walters not to negotiate more paid holidays in the future.

Comment was made that it's even hard to list 14 holidays.

Those in the new contract include the standard ones — New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Veterans' Day, Good Friday (all day), Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The other half-dozen that bring the total to 14 include the employee's birthday, President's Day (Washington's birthday?), the Friday after Thanksgiving and the day before Christmas.

The contract now adds "a 13th variable holiday which shall be set by management on or before January 2 of each year, to occur in the first six months of the calendar year.

"A 14th variable holiday which shall be set by management on or before July 1 of each year to occur in the second six months of the calendar year."

Walters mentioned that the employee's birthday holiday need not be taken on the exact day of the birthday but must be a day jointly agreed upon.

The variable holidays can be in conjunction with a major holiday, he explained.

Walters and council member Stanley Johnston, a member of the city bargaining committee, said that the extra holidays are one way the city can "give" in negotiating without affecting the budget.

Other provisions of the contract which has been ratified by the union include a 46-cent across the board increase (average 6.2 percent increase), fully employer-paid Municipal Employees Retirement System, provision for conversion of personal leave to vacation days, city-paid premium for retiree's spouse as long as either is receiving a city retirement allowance.

Uniform DPW provision of one winter-weight coat and pants as well as an increase of stand-by pay from $60 to $84 a week are other provisions.

A longevity pay provision states that this sum be paid on the anniversary date rather than in December. Each full-time employee annually shall receive under the contract after five years' service a longevity payment of $250, plus $50 for each year of service thereafter through the 20th year, plus $30 for each year of service in excess of 20 years.

Approval given to raze Joe's Bar

Without a single objection, the city last week quickly granted the owner of Little Joe's bar permission to raze his old but deteriorating Main Street businessplace.

The Northville Historic District Commission voted the approval Thursday and sent the petition back to the building department for final action.

Also, the commission approved the exterior design of the planned replacement building which is to be constructed once the old building is removed.

Demolition, said a spokesman for the owner, will begin soon, with workmen removing the building "piece by piece." "It will not be crushed by ball or bulldozer," he said. The historical society has been promised old building materials that it might use at the Mill Race Historical Village.

Originally, the society hoped to save the building for moving to the village for a "village store." Condition of the building and cost of moving, however, discouraged society planners who now envision construction of a store replica on the village site near the schoolhouse.

Timbers in Little Joe's are still sound as is much of the woodwork. Some of the basement timbers holding up the structure are still covered with bark.

Exact age of the building has not been determined, but it is estimated to be more than 100 years old. At one time a second floor level enclosed walkway existed over the alley between it and the adjacent hotel building that stood on the site of the new Downriver Savings building at Main and Hutton.

It was one of the few buildings on Main Street not destroyed or damaged by the fire that swept the south side of Main early in this century.

The original foundation is to be preserved and the new building is to be built on it, commission members were told.

The planned replacement building, which is to be a one-story structure housing the bar as well as retail businesses, is to be built of brick, with entrances off Main as well as the east side. The plan was modified somewhat to reflect recommendations of Donald DiComo, architectural consultant for the historic district commission.

The commission concerns itself only with exterior appearances of buildings, not interiors or construction codes.

City officials see the razing and the new building as another step towards achieving Mainstreet 78 rejuvenation objectives.

Officials are anxious to have the old building removed so development of the small municipal park at the corner can begin.

better mileage.

The fuel-saving benefits of DuPont GAS BOOSTER can be more important than ever with the rising cost of gasoline. A dirty fuel system — including the carburetor, intake manifold ports and valves — can cause you to lose valuable mileage.

Used as directed GAS BOOSTER can help pave the way to better mileage.

An extensive 10,000 mile road test of GAS BOOSTER in cars with dirty fuel systems showed an improvement in fuel economy ranging from 0.8% all the way up to 11.5%. Mileage was measured during the last 4,000 miles. The average improvement was 3.6% — an average of 12 extra miles per 20 gallon tank of gas. Actual mileage improvement will, of course, depend on the condition of your fuel system, trip length and driving conditions.

Police Blotter

Seeking bicycle, oboe burglars

A 23-year-old Northville man was arrested for drunk driving September 6 following a two-car collision at the intersection of Beck and Holmbury, city police said.

Timothy John Funke, 46080 Bloomcrest, was driving his vehicle southbound on Beck in the northbound lane, according to witnesses, when he tried to swerve back into the southbound lane and struck a northbound car driven by David Allen Bogart of Southfield.

A passenger traveling in Funke's car, Michael T. Nolan, 502 Beal, suffered minor injuries as did Bogart.

Funke, who had exited his vehicle and was staggering along the shoulder of the road when police arrived, also received minor injuries, police said.

Township police are investigating the apparent larceny of jewelry from a Rippling Lane residence sometime between August 4 and September 17.

Three rings, including and diamond ring worth approximately $3,000, were reported stolen from the residence while the owners were on vacation, police said.

Two youths who were painting the house exterior and had access to the home are being questioned by police.

The stolen items were kept in two jewelry boxes located in the bedroom of the residence, police said.

There were no signs of forced entry.

A men's 27-inch 10-speed bicycle was stolen from the rear porch area of a Bloomcrest residence sometime during the early morning hours of September 6, township police reported.

The bike is valued at $100.

Currently, there are no suspects.

A Selmer Signet Oboe valued at $775 was reported stolen from a Baseline residence sometime between August 31 and September 10, city police said.

There were no signs of forced entry.

Currently, police have no suspects.

City police are searching for a white male in his early 20's, wearing a light-colored t-shirt and dark pants in connection with the attempted theft September 6 of a 1974 International Harvester van parked in the lot at News Printing, 560 South Main.

The man apparently attempted to hot-wire the vehicle but was unsuccessful.

When police arrived, the suspect fled westbound on Seven Mile on foot and disappeared behind the Good Time Party Store.

The man had a beard and was wearing glasses, police said.

A 58-year-old Novi man was thrown 29 feet from his motorcycle after being hit by a car at Sheldon and Six Mile roads last Wednesday afternoon, township police report.

Robert E. Alexander of Novi was taken to Botsford Hospital with "incapacitating injuries" by Novi Ambulance following the accident, police said.

According to police reports, Angeline Michelini, 24, of Detroit, was southbound on Sheldon Road to make a left turn onto Six Mile. Police said she entered the intersection on a yellow light and observed the motorcycle, but thought the driver would stop.

Police said Alexander was westbound on Six Mile and that's all he remembered. Police issued a ticket to Michelini, who sustained minor injuries, police said.

Cops needed, chief says

The Northville Township Board of Trustees agreed last week to charge $8 per hour for police to patrol areas and control traffic at special township functions when requested by organizations and subdivisions.

The township needs "not less than three more officers" to properly police the township, Police Chief Ronald Nisun told the board in a letter.

"We cannot keep falling behind the township population growth and continue with efficiency. It is starting to show." The township now has 10 full time officers, including the chief. At night, reserve police patrol with regular officers.

A patrol car was assigned to "special detail" at Highland Lakes area following citizens requests for additional security last summer. The township police force consists of two cars; but only one car patrols the township regularly. The second car patrols Highland Lakes or other requested areas. The $8 charged per officer per hour pays for time and police car use.

Chief Nisun said he didn't want to set the hourly fee, but officers had told him $8 per hour wasn't enough.

"We were trying to solve a problem up there (Highland Lakes) and for all intents and purposes we have stopped it," said Nisun. "But officers didn't want to work out there for $3 less an hour that they would make in a regular eight hour day."

The Highland Lakes community paid the police department $8 per hour per officer for the special detail which was worked as overtime by the officers.

Township Supervisor Donald Thomson said although the police department operates with 15 mills, inflation would not permit the township two patrol cars to be on the road full time. Because of inflation, the police department has received funds from the township's general budget for its operations.

In related action, the board tabled discussion on the formation of a special assessment district for police. Township residents could vote upon the assessment in any general election.

If the assessment is approved by voters, the township board would then estimate the police budget and hold public hearings before its adoption.

Up to $1,000 reward

City and township police are seeking assistance through the Silent Observer Program.

Township police are looking for tips concerning the murder of a Detroit man whose body was found by car wash patrons Saturday, August 23 at approximately 10:30 a.m. in a trash dumpster at the Choo Choo Car Wash on Northville Road just south of Seven Mile.

The victim, whose hands and feet were bound, had been shot in the head and stabbed in the back.

Township police also are seeking assistance in solving two incidences of breaking and entering.

Sometime between 3 p.m. August 24 and 6 p.m. August 25, unknown persons entered a garage side door at a residence at 15839 Hickory Ridge and stole a green Craftsman tool box containing various tools.

The Highland Lakes Laundromat on Seven Mile in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center was broken into sometime between 10:30 p.m. August 24 and 7 a.m. August 25.

The burglars entered the building by removing a ceiling vent fan and lowering themselves into the laundromat.

Persons who may have information which could assist police in their investigation are asked to call Sergeant Phillip Presnell at 349-9400.

City police are seeking assistance in solving four recent breaking and enterings.

Unknown persons entered a residence at 615 Randolph sometime between noon September 2 and noon September 3 by breaking the glass in a basement door.

Several rooms were ransacked and a number of items found missing.

Burglars entered a residence at 361 East Cady sometime between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. September 3 through a sliding doorwall in the dining room.

Several items, including a guitar and case, a clock radio and miscellaneous cash, were found missing.

Fish N Things, 110 North Center, was broken into sometime during the early morning hours of September 1.

Culprits apparently entered the building by breaking out a

UP TO $1,000 REWARD

The Silent Observer program will pay cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons committing serious crimes in the City and Township of Northville. You can give your information anonymously, and still be eligible for a reward.

The program is financed jointly by the City and Township of Northville and the Northville Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with The Northville Record.

How to report information

To report crime information anonymously by telephone, call either police department and give them your information. Then give them a code number which you will be able to recall, such as your social security number forward or backward. The police officer will give you the Silent Observer report number. Your code number is recorded separately from the report number. Your code number is recorded separately from the report and sealed in an envelope and locked in a secure place. It is kept strictly confidential.

window on the north side of the business and climbing through a space approximately 3 feet by 2 feet.

A number of fish tank filters were taken along with some fish food, an air pump and two fish.

Unknown persons entered a residence at 20847 Chigwidden sometime over Labor Day weekend.

The owners found the doors open when they returned on September 1.

Several items were found missing.

There were no signs of forced entry, according to city police.

Any person having information which may help police in their investigation are asked to call Lieutenant Gerald Ryan at 349-1280.

It's rescheduled

September showers closed down the Northville Chamber of Commerce tailgate flea market Saturday. However, a few buyers, such as Pat and Gary Vorpapel of West Bloomfield, still came to browse. Because of the rain, the flea market has been rescheduled for September 27 in the Downs parking lot. Chamber Secretary Kay Keegan said the market will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and dealers can begin setting up at 7:30 a.m. Special rates are being set for the market. To reserve space, call Kay Keegan at 349-7640.

Schoolcraft forum's for women over 40

The Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center will be holding a forum on "Health Issues and Concerns of Women Over 40," tonight at 7 p.m., in Room 200 of the Liberal Arts Building on the Schoolcraft campus. Guest speakers will be

Dr. Nevena Mihaloff, a Dearborn family practitioner and Barbara Kent, a psychotherapist and counselor who deals with stress.

The forum is part of series of discussions on expanding the options of older women.

Another forum session is scheduled for September 24 at 7 p.m., and will explore "Women In Their Prime Around the World."

All sessions are scheduled free to the public without prior registration.

For further information, call the Women's Resource Center at 591-6400, extension 430.

Library film festival set

Beginning this Thursday, the Friends of the Northville Public Library will once again be sponsoring its fall film festival for all Northville and Northville Township senior citizens.

The first film in the series, to be shown at 2 p.m., is "True Grit," starring John Wayne.

Other films include "The Lion In Winter," with Katherine Hepburn, which will be shown October 16.

The November 20 film will be "Lili," with Leslie Caron and "Bang the Drum Slowly," which will be shown December 11.

Admission to all films is free and refreshments are provided during intermission.

Films are shown in the Northville Public Library meeting room.

Police, fire departments join arson consortium

Northville Township police and fire departments have joined a regional consortium whose aim is to investigate arson in the township, City of Northville, Plymouth, and Plymouth and Canton Townships. The township board of trustees last week agreed to support the concept of the arson consortium. Police Chief Ronald Nisun told the board no money will be invested "at this point" for the endorsement. Chief Nisun said there were 16 cases of arson in the township in the past 16 months.

Because the fire chief is the only full-time employee in an otherwise volunteer fire department, he will participate in the consortium as time allows. Nisun plans to be directly involved in the consortium and will take training classes in arson investigation at Schoolcraft College.

Camping Out at the Bowling Alley

No, it wasn't a new bowling league that took over Northville Lanes one recent afternoon. It was the Northville Recreation Department's day campers, many of whom had never bowled before. But everybody, like four-year-old Mark Leo, (striped shirt), definitely had his or her own style.

The biggest challenge it seemed, was getting that big, heavy ball all the way down the alley without it rolling into the gutter or slowing to a complete standstill halfway there.

Oh, things would've been so much easier if only they could've bowled downhill.

Owner seeks BPO approval for North Center house

"I told them that I would not use the second floor," James Demick stated Monday, objecting to the story in The Northville Record of September 10, which said he was told by planning consultant Ronald Nino that the second floor of the house he is remodeling at 410 North Center could not be used for offices because of parking limitations. Demick stresses that he volunteered not to use the second floor as he asked for site plan, architectural and landscaping approval for the property under Professional, Business, Office

(PBO) use. The city planners returned the application to Demick who was to come back to last night's planning commission meeting. At the September 2 planning commission session Nino's memo to the planners stated that full use of the building would require 356 parking spaces, therefore four, under present ordinance. Demick then stated he intended using only the first floor of the house which he has been remodeling under a homeowner's permit as a residence. Although the area now is zoned PBO, residential use is permitted under previous usage of the home. Demick, who uses his office address at 18970 Grand River in Detroit, earlier had said he intended to occupy the house himself. City Manager Steven Walters said Demick had been informed by him and by the building department before the September 2 meeting that with present parking he could apply for use only of the main floor.

"They don't like it that I beat them at their own game," Demick said Monday. He was able to remodel the house under homeowner's permit as a residence but has to meet conditions stipulated September 2 by Nino for approval of PBO. His verbal statement that the second floor will not be used for any purpose other than storage will have to be noted in writing on the application. This holds until such time as additional off-street parking is obtained or unless a variance is granted by the zoning board of appeals. The first floor will be used for professional, business, office uses as opposed to medical and dental offices as represented by the applicant, inasmuch as the latter requires a higher ratio of parking, unless again a variance is obtained. Prior to being given a certificate of occupancy an agreement must be completed with the city relative to the dedication and improvement of land for road widening purposes and sidewalk relocation. A performance bond will be required by the city in event the certificate of occupancy is requested before specified landscape improvements are made. A concrete curb and gutter approach to the driveway will be required to city specifications. Bumper blocks and parking stall pavement strips will be provided at each parking space. It was pointed out that the city is

Agency to host public

To transform a humble bungalow to sophisticated colonial was no easy task. Don J. Petricca, owner of the Petricca insurance agency at 339 North Center in downtown Northville will vouch for that.

Petricca, who was looking to relocate his growing insurance business from Novi, spent about $40,000 and four months on the transformation of the former bungalow. He had a few ideas on the design and took those to architect Carl Gaiser who came up with the pillared grey and white colonial exterior.

Petricca raised the house two feet and bricked the foundation, in order to use the basement level. The entire interior was gutted and six new offices now occupy former living space. New carpeting and window treatments completed the transformation.

Petricca, who lives with his wife and three daughters in Northville, will hold an open house at the insurance agency Friday, October 3, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Rogers Mansion

Restaurant plans hit snag in Novi

Plans to convert the old Rogers mansion on Nine Mile near Novi Road into a first-class restaurant suffered a setback recently when the Novi Planning Board voted unanimously to reject a request for a site plan approval of the proposed restaurant.

The setback is expected to be only temporary, however, and plans to convert the stately old mansion into a restaurant known as "The White House Inn" are proceeding.

Specifically, planners denied the request for site plan approval on the basis that minimum backyard setback requirements had not been met. Additionally, the planners noted that the applicants must seek a waiver of the standards for locating restaurants in an I-1 (light industrial) district.

The planners are prohibited by law from approving site plans which do not meet the city's zoning ordinance. Denial of the request for site plan approval gives the petitioner access to the zoning board of appeals which is empowered to waive sections of the zoning ordinance.

Plans to convert the mansion into a restaurant were revealed in May by Irwin Arkin owner of the 2.1 acre parcel on which the mansion is presently located. Luigi Cervi will renovate the building and operate the restaurant, according to Arkin.

The council has made a conditional commitment of a liquor license for the restaurant, which Arkin says will be Novi's equivalent of The Canopy in Brighton and Win Schuler's in Marshall.

Arkin and Cervi have indicated they currently are negotiating for the services of the chef in one of the "top five restaurants in the metropolitan Detroit area," although they have declined to identify the individual.

The restaurant is proposed to have a seating capacity for 180 people according to plans presented to the planning board.

The mansion built by the late Charles Rogers during the Great Depression stands on the site of the original homestead of the Thornton family into which Mr. Rogers married. The original farmhouse, which was moved northeast of the mansion, still stands behind the adjacent factory.

Mr. Rogers made his fortune in the condensing business. It was he and his father who are credited with inventing condensed milk. Their factory was located on Base Line in Northville, now the home of Warren Products.

Of the mansion, Mr. Roger's son, also Charles told the editor of The Record in 1975:

"My father just wanted a nice house I believe and he spared no expense."

He remembered that the steel beam holding up the flooring beneath the mansion was the longest ever produced at that time. The panelling on the library walls, he said, was made by a desk manufacturing company. "Father was a friend of the owner, and he provided the finest desk tops he could walnut, I believe, and they were made into panelling."

Of the massive staircase in the center of the house, the aging son recalled:

"He didn't have any daughters, and that bothered him a little. Then when a granddaughter came along he was thrilled. He dreamed of the day when she would be married in his house and come down the staircase on his arm like they do in the movies."

"But it never happened. She ran off and got married. It was a crushing blow."

Rogers, the pioneering Thorntons their farm and the former national champion black walnut tree in the field behind the mansion play prominent roles in the local history book "Northville — The First Hundred Years."

Reform needed: Geake

State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) has announced his strong support for the Senate Republican plan to limit the fall legislative agenda to finalizing the state budget and adopting balanced worker compensation reform legislation.

Geake stated that "reform of our workers' compensation system is symbolic to the revitalization of Michigan's economy."

Senate Republicans have urged House Speaker Bobby Crim and Senate Majority Leader William Faust to take the following steps toward resolving the budget and workers' compensation issues:

- Instruct committee chairman to report only appropriation and workers' compensation bills out of committee.
- Have the senate take up workers' compensation legislation.
- Have the House take up budget bills.

"Limiting the House and Senate calendars to these two key issues will accomplish more for the people of Michigan than dealing with numerous issues in the usual disorganized and unprioritized manner," Geake said.

The 14th District Republican Senator said that Governor William Milliken "is with us on this issue."

"He wants reform of this system and he wants it to be a balanced reform," Geake said.

"The deep historical division in the Legislature over the workers' compensation issue is a reflection of the strong and sophisticated competition between business and labor in Michigan," Geake continued.

Yet Geake emphasized "we are closer to bringing about meaningful reform than we have ever been before."

Camera Club meeting set

A Caribbean cruise taken by members Julius and Martha Wurm will be the program topic for the next meeting of Northville Camera Club at 7:30 p.m. September 24 in the administration building of Our Lady of Victory Church.

The club is a member of the Photographic Society of America and reports that visitors are welcome at all meetings. For more information call 349-0340 or 453-0191.

Registration scheduled for OCC program

Northville students interested in pursuing their intellectual and creative talents now can register for the Oakland Community College Enrichment Program.

This year's Enrichment Program, for students in kindergarten through 12th grade, will include courses such as cartooning, raku ceramics, pantomime, movie animation, Russian, advertising and speed reading.

Courses are offered for either six or eight weeks, and classes usually meet once a week for two hours.

Age limitations vary according to course subjects and enrollments are taken on a first-come, first-served basis.

Fees vary from $21 to $41, depending on the length of class time.

Students interested in the program may register now at OCC's Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Hills. Registration is Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Room 104 K Building, and will continue through the first day the course is scheduled to begin — which is either October 4 or October 11.

Persons interested in further information can contact Sylvia Katz, at 476-9400, extension 277.

Pre-registration is necessary since enrollment is limited. Persons interested in registration should contact the library at 349-3020.

Persons interested in registration should contact Sylvia Katz, at 476-9400, extension 277.

Housewife Strikes it Rich; Spends $27 to Purchase Glass Plate Valued at $560

NILES, Ill. — A major art exchange here reports that a local woman purchased a five-year-old collector's plate for $27.00 at a flea market and was amazed to learn that it will now bring $560.00.

The exchange says that, while this price is unusually high, exceptional collector's plates have been appreciating quickly.

To aid investors, the exchange offers a free report on what to look for, when to buy, what to pay and much more, including opportunities in promising plates still at low prices.

To get your free report with no obligation, just send your name, address and zip code before Saturday of next week to: The Bradford Exchange, Dept. A39838, 9301 Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, IL 60648. A postcard will do.

Cheerleaders spark school spirit

By MICHELE McELMURRY

On the field in front of the junior high, cheerleaders wearing their school colors and letter sweaters scrambled to take their places in designated squads. As the shrill sound of a whistle echoed through the air, the cheerleaders began another day's workout. Leg-lifts, sit-ups and back-bends helped limber up tired bodies for another day of cheers, chants, mounts and pyramid building. Despite sore muscles and strained voices, shouts of "fight team fight" could be heard loud and clear.

With the beginning of a new school year and the start of the 1980-81 football season underway, coaches, athletes and sports fans are once again rekindling school spirit.

At Northville's junior high schools, other groups of die-hard sports enthusiasts also have been firing up for the new season.

These groups, consisting of spirit-minded, hard-working, young students, are more commonly referred to as cheerleaders.

Cheerleaders can easily be identified. They are the ones who always seem to have smiles on their faces even when their team is losing and who seem to spark spirit in even the most somber football fan.

As the 1980-81 season gets underway, the Meads Mill Patriots and Cooke Mustangs cheerleaders will once again be back in action.

The cheerleaders, who have spent long hours practicing for the new season, will not only be presenting Mustang and Patriot fans with new cheers, but also will be showing off their award-winning styles.

The Meads Mill freshman squad, which consists of 10 ninth graders and one alternate, spent July 7-11 at the International Foundation Cheerleading Camp held at the University of Michigan.

While at camp, the squad learned a variety of new cheers as well as competing against other cheerleaders from around the state.

In the competition the long hours of practice seem to pay off for the Meads Mill freshman squad. The squad captured first place in the junior high division and also received the Randy Neil Award for excellence.

According to Teri Goehmann, 14, captain of the freshman squad, the Randy Neil Award was quite an honor.

The award is given to only one squad in recognition of most improvement, she said.

The squad, which is currently trying to raise money for new uniforms, will be holding a car wash September 20 at 101 East Dunlap.

Following in the footsteps of the freshman squad, the Meads Mill seventh and eighth grades squad also proved that hard work pays off.

The six eighth-graders on the squad spent July 20-23 at the Eastern Michigan University Cheerleading Spirit Conference.

The squad, according to its captain Denise Colovas, 13, took second in the grand championship, as well as winning various ribbons during evaluation.

Four seventh-graders, chosen at try-outs September 11, have joined the squad for the new season.

Colovas said the squad is hoping to sponsor a school dance October 3 to raise money for new equipment.

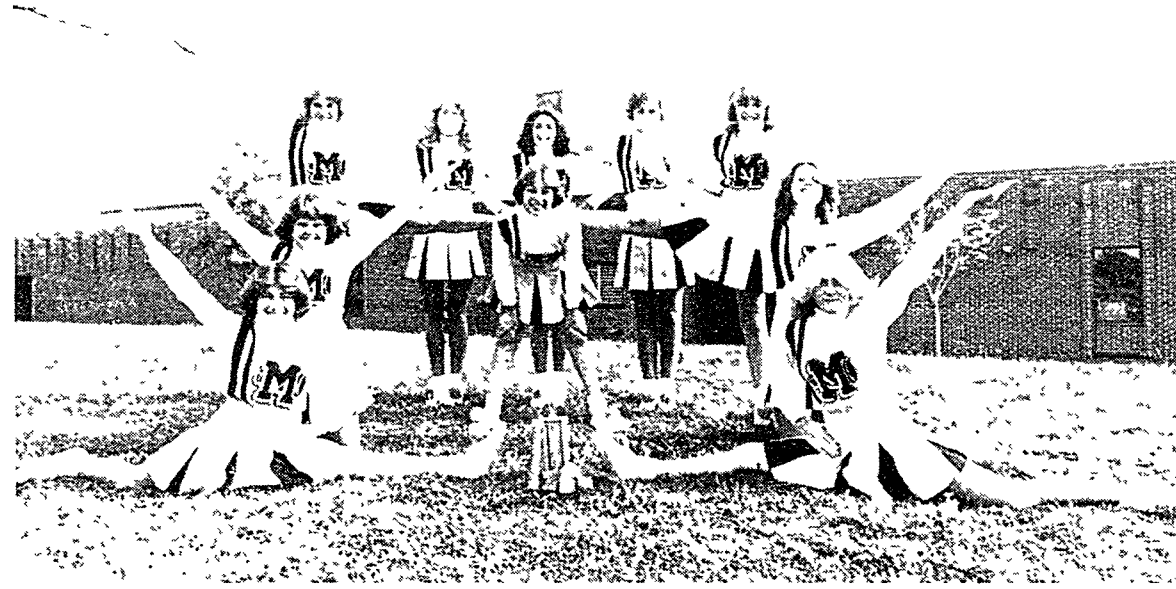

The cheerleaders at Meads Mill are not the only ones who have been recognized for their spirit and dedication.

The Cooke Mustangs seventh and eighth grades squad, qualified for the United States Cheerleading Association's National Competition in Lansing this summer. The squad qualified for the competition during its August 15-18 visit to the USCA camp at Waldenwoods in Hartland.

TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCE NO. 47.02'80 AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TEXT OF ZONING ORDINANCE NO. 47 AND ESTABLISHING THE RME ZONING USE DISTRICT.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART I The Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance, being Ordinance No. 47, is hereby amended by adding the following provisions to the text thereof.

A. Adding the following definitions to SEC. 2.2

DEFINITIONS:

17.a CONVALESCENT OR NURSING HOME. Is a structure with sleeping rooms, where persons are housed or lodged and are furnished with meals and nursing care, and where limited medical care may be available.

23.a ELDERLY HOUSING-DEPENDENT: Is a multiple-family housing form with central dining facilities provided as a basic service to each dwelling unit. Each dwelling unit may not contain cooking facilities, but must contain sanitary facilities.

23.b. ELDERLY HOUSING-INDEPENDENT: Is a multiple-family housing form with full facilities for self-sufficiency in each individual dwelling unit.

B. Adding the following zoning use district as ARTICLE V-A to provide for Multiple-Family Elderly Village:

ARTICLE V-A-RME ELDERLY VILLAGE RESIDENTIAL

PREAMBLE:

The RME Elderly Village Residential Districts as herein established are intended to provide for an Elderly Housing Village which will provide for the special needs of a large concentration of senior citizens.

SECTION 5.1A PRINCIPAL USES PERMITTED:

In an RME Elderly Village Residential District, no building or land shall be used and no building shall be erected except for one or more of the following specified uses, unless otherwise provided in this Ordinance:

1. Residences for the elderly subject to the following conditions:

a. The owner or lessee of the project shall file with the Township a covenant, reviewed as to form by the Township Attorney and approved by the Township Board, in which said owner or lessee shall covenant on behalf of himself, his heirs, and assigns, that the occupancy of such development shall be limited to elderly.

b. For purposes of this Ordinance, elderly persons are defined as individuals who have attained the age of sixty-two (62) or couples of which either the husband or wife has attained the age of sixty-two (62) years.

c. Housing may be of an independent or dependent type as defined in Section 2.2 of this Ordinance.

SECTION 5.2A ACCESSORY USES PERMITTED:

1. One (1) management or office building provided for conducting the business operations exclusively for the overall development.

2. Community building and recreation facilities for the exclusive use of the residents or in conjunction with a non-profit organization when such facility is provided for joint use of the elderly and the non-profit institution.

3. Medical facilities for the exclusive use of the residents of the "Elderly Housing Village" or those elderly persons who would qualify for residence in the Village.

4. Convenience business outlets established to provide for the daily needs of the residents including uses such as, but not limited to, food, drugs, notions, beauty and barber shop, optical services, medical apertunances, dry cleaning and laundries. These business uses shall be so designed and located as not to be visible from beyond the boundaries of the site.

5. Other accessory buildings and uses found by the Planning Commission to be customarily incident to any of the above permitted uses.

SECTION 5.3A LOCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS

The following locational conditions shall apply to all "Elderly Housing Village" development areas:

1. Parcels being proposed for "Elderly Housing Village" development shall be at least seventy-five (75) acres in size.

2. The parcel shall have at least one property line abutting a major thoroughfare having an existing or proposed right-of-way of at least one hundred twenty (120) feet.

SECTION 5.4A AREA AND BULK REQUIREMENTS

The following area and bulk requirements shall apply to all "Elderly Housing Village" development areas and shall be further subject to the provisions of ARTICLE XIV, GENERAL PROVISIONS, and ARTICLE XV, GENERAL EXCEPTIONS, when standards are not clearly set forth in this ARTICLE V-A, ELDERLY HOUSING VILLAGE:

1. The site may be developed to a density not to exceed twenty (20) dwelling units per acre, exclusive of any convalescent home that may be provided.

2. Buildings shall not exceed sixty (60) feet or six (6) stories in height, whichever is the greater. In no case shall any part of the building structure be nearer to an outer boundary line of said "Elderly Housing Village" development than a horizontal distance equal to two and one-half (2-1/2) times the height of the building or structure, and in no instance shall this exterior property line setback be less than one hundred (100) feet, except where the immediately abutting property is occupied by a public institution or is publicly owned, the setback may be reduced to not less than fifty (50) feet.

3. Off-street parking shall be so developed and located as to conveniently and efficiently serve the uses for which provided. Parking shall be provided at the ratio of:

Independent Housing
— 2 stories or less	1.25 spaces/d.u.
— Cluster units	1.25 spaces/d.u.
— 3 stories or greater	0.75 spaces/d.u.
Dependent Housing	0.75 spaces/d.u.
Convalescent Home	0.6 spaces/bed

4. The outer periphery of the development shall be provided with a heavily planted greenbelt or existing vegetation of at least fifty (50) feet in width.

SECTION 5.5A SUPPORTING DATA REQUIRED

The following data and supporting documentation shall be submitted with any requested change to the RME District:

1. A written statement explaining in detail the full intent of the sponsor, indicating the type of dwelling units contemplated and resultant population and providing detailed information as to market studies and intended scheduling of the development.

2. A preliminary site plan indicating the location of access roads, buildings, parking areas, drives, and open space.

SECTION 5.6A SUBMISSION OF PLANS

1. Preliminary and final site plans shall be submitted in accordance with Section 14.25 of this Ordinance and the "Site Plan Requirements" established by the Planning Commission. Said plans shall be accompanied by a description of the accessory uses which will be provided to serve the recreation, medical and convenience shopping and service needs of the residents, together with a valid estimate of the cost of providing such facilities, and a method of allocating to and collecting those costs from the developers of various phases of the project which provide dwellings.

2. The Planning Commission may require, as a condition of FINAL SITE PLAN APPROVAL, a guarantee in the form of cash, certified check or unconditional irrevocable bank letter of credit or other form approved by the Township Attorney, for the applicant's prorated share of the full cost of providing the aforesaid recreation, medical and convenience facilities, at such time as established by the Planning Commission in each case.

3. The development of the project may be subject to staged FINAL PLANS, provided that no stage taken together with previously approved FINAL PLANS shall produce a total number of dwelling units amounting to more than the number permitted by this ARTICLE V-A unless in accordance with the approved protective covenants controlling density of the other stages of the projects. For a development in an RME District, each final site plan shall include an uninterrupted land area of not less than five (5) acres, unless otherwise approved by the Planning Commission.

4. The Planning Commission is authorized to and may require additional covenants which set forth the allocation of responsibilities for the construction of the accessory uses necessary to provide for the recreation, medical and convenience needs of the residents of the Elderly Village.

5. Covenants of any kind shall be approved by the Township Attorney as to form and substance and shall be recorded with the Wayne County Register of Deeds as covenants running with the land in perpetuity and not subordinated to the rights or interests of any other party.

PART II. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. Any Ordinance or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and in all other respects the Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 47, as amended, is ratified and affirmed.

PART III. EFFECTIVE DATE. The provisions of this Ordinance are hereby declared to take effect October 18, 1980.

PART IV. This Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Township of Northville by authority of Act No. 184, Public Acts of 1943, as amended, at a meeting duly called and held on September 11, 1980, and ordered to be given publication in the manner provided by law.

HOWELL — Smudged vote totals on automatic voting machine print-outs that were apparently misread by election officials have made a loser out of a winner in a Livingston County commissioner race.

HOWELL — The rate of conversion of Livingston County farmland to other purposes slowed dramatically during the latter part of the 1970's, according to preliminary census data.

SOUTH LYON — Business patterns are changing in South Lyon since Showman's IGA store moved in July from its downtown Lafayette Street store out to the new shopping plaza at Nine Mile and Pontiac Trail, local retailers claim.

SOUTH LYON — South Lyon's veteran of veterans, LaVerne Huyck, has once again brought his home town to state-wide attention. He's been named runner up for Michigan's "Veteran of the Year" award.

SOUTH LYON — Voting unanimously, the city council appointed Clarence Harder as the new councilmember to complete the term of John Hall, who resigned because of business commitments.

Squads fire-up fans

Though a conflict prevented the girls from competing in the nationals, the squad did receive a variety of ribbons and took third in the Pep Award.

Though Cooke's ninth grade squad did not attend camp this summer, its eight members did spend many long hours practicing new cheers and mounts.

According to squad member Sue Borthwick, the ninth graders have been practicing four to five hours a week in preparation for the Mustangs first home game October 3.

The Cooke Junior High cheerleaders currently are planning fund-raising events and already are firing-up for the school's Spirit Week, which is held in February.

With the football season underway, fans will soon be gathering in the stands to cheer on their favorite team.

At Cooke and Meads Mill, you can bet that this year's football fans will be watching more than the game when the cheerleaders pick up their pom-poms.

CITY OF NORTHVILLE NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING PROPOSED ORDINANCE AMENDMENT

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held Monday, October 6, 1980, at 8:00 P.M. in the Council Room of the Northville Municipal Building, 215 W. Main Street, to consider the adoption of an ordinance amendment as follows:

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 4.04 OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE

The existing section establishes standards for off-street parking space layout, construction and maintenance.

The proposed amendment makes the following changes:

(1) reduces the width of parking spaces by one (1) foot, from 10 feet to 9 feet wide for 75° - 90° patterns, and from 9½ feet to 9 feet for 54° - 74° patterns, and from 9½ feet to 8½ feet for 30° - 53° patterns; and reduces the length from 20 feet to 19 feet for all of the above.

(2) provides for optional small-car parking areas with 8' x 16' spaces in public parking lots.

(3) requires a double-line striping pattern for all public and private parking lots to facilitate the alignment of vehicles.

Printed copies of the full text of the ordinance are available for inspection by and distribution to the public at the office of the Clerk during regular business hours.

CITY OF NORTHVILLE NOTICE OF ENACTMENT

The City Council of the City of Northville, following a public hearing Monday, September 8, 1980 has adopted an AMENDMENT TO TITLE 6, CHAPTER 7, SECTION 6-708 OF THE SIGN ORDINANCE OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE.

The City of Northville Ordains:

Section 6-708 SIGNS PROHIBITED

1. The following signs shall not be permitted, erected, or maintained in any district, except as provided herein in subsection 4:

a. Signs which incorporated in any manner any flashing or intermittent lights.

b. Signs in the public right-of-way or on public property, unless specifically approved by City Council.

c. Any sign which revolves or has any visible moving part, visible revolving parts or visible mechanical movement of any description or other apparent visible movement achieved by electrical, electronic or mechanical means, including intermittent electrical pulsations, or by action of normal wind currents, except those actions associated with street clock-temperature signs.

d. Any sign or sign structure which:

(1) is structurally unsafe, or

(2) constitutes a hazard to safety or health by reason of inadequate maintenance, dilapidation or abandonment, or

(3) is not kept in good repair, or

(4) is capable of causing electrical shocks to persons likely to come in contact with it.

e. Any sign which by reason of its size, location, content, coloring or manner of illumination, constitutes a traffic hazard or a detriment to traffic safety by obstructing the vision of drivers, or by obstructing, or detracting from the visibility of any traffic sign or control device on public streets and roads.

f. Any sign which obstructs free ingress to or egress from a required door, window, fire escape or other required exit way.

g. Signs which make use of words such as "stop," "look," "Danger" or any other words, phrases, symbols or characters, in such a manner as to interfere with, mislead or confuse traffic.

h. Any sign or other advertising structure containing any obscene, indecent or immoral matter.

i. Any sign unlawfully installed, erected or maintained.

j. Any sign now or hereafter existing which no longer advertises bona fide business conducted, or a product sold.

k. Portable signs, except for "open House" realty signs.

l. Roof signs.

2. In the case of a sign in category A through K above, which is in existence at the time this ordinance is adopted, the sign shall be brought into conformance or removed forthwith.

3. If the Building Inspector shall find that any sign is maintained in violation of the provisions of this Section, he shall give written notice to the person owning or having the beneficial use of the sign or the property where the sign is located. If such person fails to alter or remove the sign so as to comply with this Section within ten days after such notice, the Building Inspector may cause such sign to be removed at the expense of the owner or persons having the beneficial use of the property or sign. The Building Inspector may cause any sign which is immediate peril to persons, or persons property to be removed forthwith. These procedures are supplemental to other legal remedies as available for the enforcement of this ordinance.

4. In the case of a sign in category A or C above which is located within the Historic District, the Historic District Commission may approve such a sign, where it is determined that (a) the sign is historically appropriate for the business it is proposed for, and (2) the flashing or moving aspect of said sign is required to maintain the historic authenticity of said sign, either as a restored sign or an accurate reproduction.

WHEREAS, The health and well-being of children is everyone's greatest concern; and

WHEREAS, More children in Michigan are seriously and fatally injured while riding in motor vehicles than from any disease or other type of accident; and

WHEREAS, In Wayne and Oakland counties in 1979, 5187 children under 16 years of age were reported as injured (and 16 were killed) while riding in motor vehicles and

WHEREAS, The injuries suffered by children riding as passengers in motor vehicles are a major cause of epilepsy, paraplegia, disfigurement, and other permanent mental and physical disabilities; and

WHEREAS, Studies in Michigan have shown that fewer than 6% of children under 5 are protected by safely constructed child car seats and that fewer than 2% of children between 5 and 15 years of age are protected by seat belts; and

WHEREAS, The proper use of safe child car seats and seat belts by all children would almost eliminate the chance of serious or fatal injury in the sudden stop or crash of a car; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the City of Northville urges all parents, health professionals, community leaders, and governmental and private sector agencies to do everything possible to ensure that every child in our community is protected from injury by safe child car seats or seat belts when being transported in a motor vehicle; and be it further

RESOLVED, That individuals and organizations in Wayne and Oakland contact the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning for pamphlets, films and other help needed to promote safe transportation for our children; and be it further

RESOLVED, That all adults, especially when riding with children, be certain to use their own seat belts, thereby protecting the children and setting a positive example of safe behavior; and be it further

RESOLVED, That all governmental and private agencies which provide transportation for children, and thereby accept responsibility for their safety, adopt policies to ensure that those children will be properly restrained and protected from injury.

Motion by Councilman Gardner, supported by Councilman DeRusha that the above resolution be adopted.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

State pay hike looms

In view of the economic crunch and a call for cutbacks at all levels of state government by the governor, it will be interesting to see what kind of increases come out of the State Officers Compensation Commission which held its initial 1980 meeting last week.

Although it's still far too early to get a feel for the commission's thinking, we wouldn't be surprised if fat pay increase are awarded. And chances are the increases will stand. Whatever new salary level is set by the commission, it is unlikely to be rejected. Under the constitution, the commission's pay determinations may be rejected (but not modified) by a two-thirds vote of the legislature.

Creation of the seven member commission, appointed by the governor, was an attempt to take pay matters out of the hands of those who receive the pay. On the surface the aim appears laudable, but at the same time the commission takes the heat off legislators who no longer have to answer to the public for pay increases. They can blame their pay increases on "outsiders."

About the only influence the public can exert, therefore, is with the commission itself. So if you'd like to voice your thoughts on the matter of salaries for state lawmakers, governor, lieutenant governor and supreme court justices it behooves you to write the commission or appear at its public hearing slated October 13 in Lansing at the Lewis Cass Building (second floor in the civil service commission conference room, 10 a.m.).

Incidentally, local residents may be interested to know that one of the commission members is the Reverend Father Gerard A. Hadad, former pastor of Our Lady of Victory Church here and now pastor of St. Conrad's in Melvindale. He was appointed to a four-year term in 1978.

Other members of the commission are: Joseph Hardig, Jr., chairman, a Birmingham attorney; Neil Staebler, former congressman from Ann Arbor; Erma Colding, a Detroit teacher; Dr. Edgar Harden of East Lansing, a former teacher and principal; Patrick Wilson, an attorney of Traverse City; and Charles Zollar, former long-time state senator.

Present salaries of state officials: governor, $65,000 plus $18,000 in expenses; lieutenant governor, $45,000 plus expenses of $5,200; supreme court justices, $60,500 plus $1,500 in expenses; and legislators, $27,000 plus $5,200 in expenses.

In addition, supplemental salaries include $13,000 for the speaker of the house; $11,000 for the senate majority leader; $6,600 for the senate minority leader; and $6,600 for the house minority leader.

Why extend CBD zone?

Although Northville is not having a home tour this year for the first time in 13 years, visitors to the community who come to sample local cider or to take in such activities as the Northville Historical Society's Tivoli Fair October 3-4 at Northville Downs still like to drive along downtown tree-lined streets and admire the handsome Victorian homes.

Almost without exception these homes from the 19th century are well maintained. Many recently have been refurbished and returned to original elegance. The Gothic cottage at 417 Dunlap is a case in point. From gardens to siding, it has undergone a beautification by its new owner. On Randolph near Center another restoration has created a "steamboat Gothic" look by caring owners.

We can understand the feelings of the Richard Bohns, who are writing to Readers Speak this week from Panama, concerning the hearing to rezone property on Wing, Randolph and North Center from First Density Residential and General Commercial District to Central Business District. Three lots on Wing and seven properties on Randolph presently are zoned residential.

We hope that city planners will consider seriously if there is need to rezone these residential properties into the Central Business District following the public hearing scheduled for last night. We can see benefit in having Center Street part of the Central Business District with provision for the same type of businesses as downtown because it is contiguous.

But the Victorian homes are needed for living accommodations — and as an attraction of our town.

Speaking for Myself

Can Tigers win 90?

RON MARINUCCI

YES

There's no way the Tigers can miss winning 90 games as Sparky predicts. The old fox has plans only a few of us are aware of. He's only waiting until the right moment to spring his trap on the rest of the American League.

Pitching has been a major problem for the Tigers all year. Expect the following changes. Mickey Lolich will return from Washington and finish the season with Detroit.

Hal Newhauser has taken leave Community National Bank and will join Lolich to give the Tigers the left hand pitching they've needed all year.

George Kell and Norm Cash have agreed to man the corners for the rest of the season. Kell's steady hitting and .300 bat along with Cash's towering third deck blasts will mean at least 10 more Tiger victories.

Last but not least, expect the return of a graceful "Hall of Fame" type outfielding, dressed in a uniform without a number (his will never be worn again) making the big plays both offensively and defensively at the old Michigan Avenue Stadium.

Who's going to stop the Tigers after these changes? Sparky? Wrong! He just hasn't opened his bag of tricks yet.

Art Majeske
Lakeland High School Baseball Coach

NO

The Tigers won't win 90 games this year. Because of the excitement they have generated (witness their attendance figures), I'd like to be wrong, but I don't think Detroit can manage 90 wins. I'm not being a pessimist, but a realist.

To achieve that many victories, the Tigers need to win 20 of their remaining 30 games, a .667 clip. Not even the Royals have played at such a torrid pace. Complicating matters is the fact Detroit must play the top two teams of its division, New York and Baltimore, seven times each. With the Yanks and Birds fighting for the playoffs, they aren't likely to be pushovers playing out the string.

On the field, the Tigers continue to face problems. The pitching has been inconsistent. The starters, especially "stoppers" Morris and Wilcox, have had troubles. Injuries to Petry, Weaver, and Wilcox have taken their toll. Fidrych had difficulty winning even Triple A games. The bullpen has shown the strain of continually having to bail out the starters.

Hitting has been a strong point all year. Hebner, Kemp, Summers, and others have had fine seasons at the plate. But Manager Sparky Anderson has complained of inability to drive in big runs. A telling statistic in the box scores is LOB—men left on base. Check the Tiger boxes: LOB is always 7, 8, 9, ..., left on base. And Sparky shuns the suicide like the plague.

The fielding is still erratic. The Tigers have lapses when they don't make plays I expect the Milford Varsity to make.

Inconsistent pitching, lack of clutch hitting, and inability to make fundamental plays will, as they have all year, prevent the Tigers from reaching 90 victories.

(P.S. I hope I'm dead wrong!)

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

"The picture (above) doesn't look anything like you," a reader remarked. "Why don't you change it?"

The truth of the matter is that the picture isn't changed because someday I may grow into it so there's no point in wasting film for another. Besides, I find it's a good disguise against street assaults. And some of us, columnists need all the protection we can get.

You may have seen the TV movie the other night in which pilots learned quick identification of enemy aircraft so they could shoot them out of the sky. Well, I don't want to get into the cross hairs of a disgruntled reader so I am constantly changing my appearance. For example, just recently I temporarily put on an extra 20 pounds. It doesn't do much for the real me but it sure prevents mugging.

Some columnists use other means to avoid assault. Take Fitz in the friendly Free Press. He's really does look like his column picture. He'd be an easy mark except for the fact nobody believes he could be that ugly.

Those of us who change appearance run terrible risks. A while back, for example, my wife slammed the door in my face when I arrived home with a mustache. "You can't fool me," she said. "The bald eagle flew out of here this morning and no turkey is struttin' in tonight."

She has no appreciation for the writer's anonymity. She refuses to frisk visitors. On the contrary, she'll personally escort them in. "There, he's the fat one glued to the couch. If you can make him move I'd be indebted," she tells anyone wearing a black shirt and white tie.

The kids also enjoy blowing my cover. Back when I was wearing contact lens to avoid recognition, they began playing tiddly winks with my lens, painting them with fingernail polish so they could better spot them in the Monopoly dice cup. And when one of the little red lens turned up missing they claimed "the dog ate it" along with all of the hotels.

So those bearing "gifts" are advised to look for the coward wearing sunglasses and carrying a white cane.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

Should the legal drinking age in Michigan be lowered from 21 to 19 years of age? That is a question which voters will be asked to decide when they go to the polls in November. It will be identified on the ballot as Proposal "B".

If approved by the voters, it will be the fourth time in eight years that the legal drinking age in Michigan has been changed.

In 1972, the drinking age in our state was lowered from 21 to 18 as part of a comprehensive "Age of Majority" law granting 18-year-olds full rights and responsibilities of adults.

However, serious drinking problems developed in many high schools throughout the state and an increase in the number of automobile accidents involving young people and alcohol were noted.

Following several months of debate, the legislature, in April of 1978, passed a law raising the drinking age from 18 to 19 years. But a statewide petition drive already was under way to reinstate the 21-year-old drinking age limit. That petition drive was successful. In November of that year voters said "yes" to a ballot proposal boosting the legal drinking age limit back to 21.

When bar owners and representatives of the liquor industry were unsuccessful in gathering the required number of petition signatures, the legislature again placed the legal drinking age limit question before the voters by a 2/3 vote of each house. I voted against the proposal. Should the legal drinking age in Michigan be lowered from 21 to 19? Both sides on the issue put forth the often heard arguments.

For instance, one of the major arguments used against lowering the drinking age in 1972, and which ultimately triggered the raising of the legal drinking age limit back to 21, was the increased number of alcohol-related auto accidents among young people.

In fact, those opposed to lowering the drinking age to 19 point to a recent Michigan State Police (MSP) report which says there was 21.5 percent reduction in traffic accidents involving drinking drivers in the 18 to 20 year age group last year. In the seven-year period prior to lowering of the legal drinking age from 21 to 18, there was evident a gradually increasing trend in the number of 18-20 year old drivers involved in crashes.

In terms of enforcement activity, the State Police report indicated that the number of 18-20 year old drivers arrested for drunk driving in 1975-78 had been steadily increasing; however, in 1979 arrests decreased 10.5 percent; while arrests for alcohol-related offenses for all other ages increased 8.1 percent.

The Michigan State Police note that 18-20 year old drivers make up about nine percent of the active driving population in Michigan, yet represent over 15 percent of all drivers involved in accidents.

Another argument used against the lowering of the drinking age is that alcohol is purchased and then passed down to younger friends which creates a problem in the high schools. However, proponents of the measure believe that situation will be minimal if not eliminated by lowering the drinking age to 19 rather than 18.

Those backing the ballot proposal say that if persons between the ages of 18 and 21 have full rights and responsibilities as an adult, then that should also include the right to drink.

They point to the right to marry, vote, borrow money, and now once again the necessity for young men to register for the draft in the armed forces.

With this issue having been debated several times in the past few years, we have heard all the arguments before, and there is no question we will hear them all several times again between now and November.

As with all other ballot proposals, I urge you to give this question serious and considerate thought, then be sure to vote on November 4.

She's named dance winner

Jeri Brundage of New Hudson, formerly of Northville, was a big winner in the Highland Dance competition at the 22nd Annual Ligonier Highland Games at Idlewild Park September 5. The park is located in the Laurel Highlands, east of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The local lassie took first place medals in the Highland Reel and the Sword Dance, with a second place medal in the Highland Fling. The three wins were enough to enable her to capture the best-of-class trophy for the 13 and under, open group of dancers.

This was the first time Jeri had been able to compete since injuring her foot two months ago.

Mother can't pay rent

To the Editor:

I am a divorced mother of one child. My job does not pay that much.

I would like to be able to afford a home for my son. I am now presently living with my sister and her husband. Why can't I afford to have a place of my own?

I will tell you why! The cost of renting a place is just out of this world. When I do come across an apartment or house I could possibly afford, the ad usually reads, "no children" or "adults preferred" and this is for a place with two bedrooms.

If people who rent out these places would only realize that there are people who in this world just can't afford these high prices, would just cover the amounts, then half of these empty apartments or homes wouldn't be empty, would they?

Thank you for letting me voice my opinion. I am sure there are plenty of other people out there who feel just like I do.

Thank you.

Market's better now

To the Editor:

As a farmer, I thank the Chamber of Commerce for its expedient action in removing the vendor from the Northville Farmers' Market on September 11.

This action must be observed by future vendors as a warning to regulate themselves. I believe this market is a very worthwhile function for farmers and the public alike. The public must be informed that the small nominal fee of $5 per day or $25 per season from each farmer is put entirely into advertising for the market by the Chamber of Commerce. The time involved by various people is a donation towards improvement of this market.

Sincerely,
Duane Bordline

Life in Florida prison's not great

To the Editor:

I have very great hopes that you'll do myself and others a favor and print this. I feel there is a great deal of need for something of this kind. Also feel people can learn, think and maybe even act towards the article.

It was written for adults but I feel it's something that if a youth reads it, it might help him or her through their whole life to come. If we can stop one child from entering the gates of prison, we will win!

I sat down and started this two weeks ago on and off. I just wasn't sure if it would make the papers but my care and love for people and family kept me going. I am well aware that my writing would not reach a decent grade in the 10th grade but this is not an interest.

I'm now working on a project of my own called "Save the Children" and hopefully when I'm free I can get things going. It wouldn't be a "job" — just something where I could talk and help some children a few nights a week.

Who's to Blame?

James Doe...a senior at Northville H.S. Frank Foe...a drop out from Northville H.S.

What do these people have in common? Like myself...they fell victim to the Criminal Justice System in America. Take James Doe...a popular kid in school and on the football team. One night last May he was arrested for the second time on a sales of narcotics charge.

He is now starting on his 1-5 year prison term and when he gets out he'll no longer be the popular athlete. Yes, he will have a new role to play...convict! During his prison term some of his convict friends could help to advance him to more serious crimes — very possible.

Now the question is "Who is to Blame?"

Before I give you my answer I'd like to say that I myself am a onetime resident of Northville but now I'm living in the Florida State Prison.

All of you readers remember me — don't you?

I have now served four years on a 1-15 year sentence for robbery in which nobody was hurt nor was there any kind of weapon involved, but it's still a serious crime. I was taking a Qualudes (narcotic) and drinking which resulted in me robbing a youth my own age for his money and dope.

Four years have passed away since then and I can say I've seen enough to make a cement block worry.

I believe it's not the child's fault nor the parents. I put the blame on the way we handle crime! In our country we do not expose enough to today's youth, such as our prison system or the penalties for different crimes. Today's youth need to hear or read these things!

Let them know that when they break into the Jones home that they can get up to five years. All they are aware of is if they get caught they're in trouble and don't know about ending up in a place where there is rape, stabbings and killings — prison.

They do not know what pain is involved for friends, family and even themselves. They also have no such idea of what it would be like to be thrown in a 6 x 8 foot cell with only a bunk, toilet and sink, nor do they know about the roaches that start crawling around at 10 p.m. when our lights are shut down for a very uncomfortable night.

I've talked to a lot of younger children coming into prison and they always seem to say, "I don't believe it." They are so shocked because they were never exposed to the fact that they could end up in here so easily. Not only that, some of them never thought of the things they did as being ways to enter such a place. My theory is that if we opened up our eyes to crime we would see that the youth are not aware of what they're really getting into. Some of them do not have to go to prisons, county jails or juvenile homes.

There are ways to reduce some of this crime:

One, passing out literature in the high schools stating how much "time" you can get for sale of narcotics or auto theft and etc. I feel that alone would stop a lot of wrongdoings.

Two, set up a program that deals with the children on probation or "one step from prison" that the courts have given a break to. They are one small step from prison and they need to know everything about the next wrong step.

Three, let the program give real life proof of prisons, county jails and juvenile homes, such as meetings with an ex-convict or trips to prisons — they need more than someone saying, "Prison is lonely."

Four, the program also could offer odd jobs to these probation children, such as mowing lawns, etc., that could put a few dollars in their pockets instead of breaking into the Jones home to get a TV to sell for $20 or $30. I'm working on such a project right now that could offer all of this and much more.

My views are that the city could spend a small amount of money on something like this. I myself would be willing to donate a large amount of my time to such a thing.

In the State of Florida the taxpayers pay $7,500 per year per inmate and when you add up 20,000 inmates that's a hell of a lot of money and that's not even counting court costs, etc.

Let's do something for these children because we love them and don't want them to leave us for those cold metal bars.

Please forward all comments and advice.

James Doe
No. 059800

P.S. A friend of mine was robbed at gun point the other day by five inmates here that had a homemade zip gun. The take was two dollars.

(Editor's Note: Persons wishing to write to this young Florida inmate, whose real name is not James Doe but whose story about himself is real, may write to him c/o of The Northville Record.)

Signals are needed

To the Editor:

(Copy of letter to Northville Township regarding traffic lights at Silver Spring and Seven Mile and Eight Mile Roads.)

Anyone who says one or both of these lights have "caused more accidents than they prevent" is not up-to-date. It may have been true initially, but that may not be unusual.

I live near the Seven Mile intersection and light. We and our neighbors see fewer accidents now, in spite of greater traffic from new houses and apartments and from through traffic to and from Eight Mile Road.

Our large population using these intersections would suffer danger as well as inconvenience if we didn't have these lights.

If anything, the timing of the lights at Seven Mile and Northville roads needs improving.

Sincerely,
C.H.B.

Rezoning not wanted

To the Editor:

The enclosed letter was sent to Mr. Thomas Wheaton of the Planning Commission.

Space permitting, we would appreciate if you would reprint it in the Record.

This is in reference to the Public Hearing to be held September 18 to consider rezoning lots 524-526, 549-533, 538 and 582 from Residential to Central Business District.

We are the owners of the house and property designated lot 524. Although we are presently absentee owners, we have every intention of returning to Northville and living in this fine 19th century house. We ask that our position concerning the proposed rezoning be made public at the September 18th hearing

As owners of a private residence located in the area under consideration, you can understand our opposition to the proposal. From the more objective viewpoint of having a deep affection for the community itself we fail to understand the need for such a vast loss of residential area at this time. We fail to understand what benefits would accrue to the residence of Northville by razing attractive and well maintained private homes for more stores and parking lots. We fail to see how this proposed rezoning can be reconciled with the existing master plan or the decision some six years ago by the city council supported by a petition signed by over 800 residents to reject a similar proposal. We fail to understand why this proposal is being made at the same time you are attempting to rectify a similar zoning action in the area known as Bealtown that has proven to be unsuccessful.

We can only assume a business developer has asked that the area be rezoned. If this is the case we should know who the developer is and what his plans are. Only then can the citizens and their elected officials make an informed decision as to whether they prefer it to be razed and replaced by a known and fully defined business development. If there is no such developer, there is no need to rezone.

From our experience with Bealtown, it is quite obvious the ulterior motive for rezoning an established community from residential to business is to discourage home owners from maintaining their property thereby permitting business developers to purchase the rezoned property at bargain prices. To their credit the Bealtown residents did not buckle under. The planning commission now claims it is doing a great service to the community by upgrading the zoning in Bealtown to save these fine houses from demolition. The planning commission would have done a greater service to the community and to the Bealtown residents in particular had it not zoned the area for business in the first place.

It seems to us the planning commission is attempting the same maneuver in the North Wing-Randolph area. We have faith that the residents will not let their properties deteriorate and in a few years you will, as in Bealtown, realize these fine houses are worth saving. Why put us through a period of anxiety and uncertainty? We submit the zoning of the area in question should remain residential.

Very truly yours,
Richard and

Thanks for camp aid

To the Editor:

I would like to thank Michele McElmurry for the very nice coverage and great pictures of the Plymouth-Northville-Canton Day Camp. As the story goes, many scouts benefitted from the week's activities and they love to see themselves in print.

I find it important, however, to make a slight correction. I am not the assistant park director as the article reported. My contribution to Day Camp was simply registrar.

Many mothers and fathers volunteered valuable time to help make the camp run smoothly.

Two very important people who contributed many hours of time and talent, and who are most responsible for the great success of camp, should be commended. In behalf of P.N.C. Girl Scouts I would like to thank Camp Director Jeanette Smith and her assistant Judy Parker for a job well done.

BED WETTING IS CORRECTABLE

Many procedures such as restricting liquids, taking a child to the bathroom on a schedule, scolding, etc. do not end bedwetting. It can be stopped as early as 3 years of age. It should definitely be stopped before school age.

The most serious mistake parents make is to wait for the child to outgrow bedwetting, because there are millions of adults who never outgrow it.

Council looks at drastic budget cuts to pare deficit

A greater than expected first quarter deficit in the new fiscal year is going to necessitate major revisions in the city's budget.

A special session Monday night council looked at recommendations of City Manager Steven Walters that would reduce an expected deficit of $53,822 by $26,300, but still falling short by about $27,522.

The deficit, Walters pointed out, has been caused by such expected income tax receipts budgeted at $44,500 for the September quarter actually being $34,690. The budgeted figure was based on last year's actual figure of $43,084.

Income tax for the same period budgeted at $13,200 actually is $12,500.

Before Monday night's city council meeting when a decision is to be made on the budget cuts Walters is to seek department reductions of approximately two percent to trim the additional $27,000 off the budget.

Alternative discussed at the special session would be to lay off one or two employees. Comptroller Betty Lennox, Police Chief Rodney Cannon and DPW head Ted Mapes attended the session and agreed they would prefer to try to trim department budgets in preference to laying off staff.

Council members warned this definitely would be a curtailment of overtime and postponement of buying budgeted purchases.

Mapes said the DPW situation depends greatly on whether there is a severe winter upcoming. Snow removal and early morning salting, he pointed out, have been priority items. He questioned whether merchants would understand slower removal of snow from parking lots.

Council member Dewey Gardner replied that he feels merchants understand the situation of a depressed economy.

As he suggested such curtailments as all outstate travel and elimination of Mayor Exchange Day during Michigan

Week, Walters also pointed out that the actual deficit is not so great as it appears on the surface because of new accounting practices including negative budgeting of $14,000 for police cars purchased for 1980-81 but paid for in 1979-80 and election expenses for the presidential primary ($1,846) due from the state.

Overhead charges owed by the public improvement fund ($2,000), payroll recorded in 1979-80 for days in 1980-81 budget ($3,174), patrolmen's COLA ($5,525) recorded in June for July are registered as budget deficits, he said.

Council member J. Burton DeRusha admitted that "the cleanest way" to bring the budget in line would be to lay off an employee but agreed with other council members to look at budget slashes of the departments Monday night.

Taking out expenses due, Walters said the city is looking at a revised 1979-80 year-end deficit of $47,522 although, he pointed out, the city still does not have the auditor's figures.

He anticipated increased revenues over projections include $1,500 from parking fines, $5,000 district court revenue, $2,000 from a planned revision of cemetery sales, $6,700 from Scout Building rental and $800 for Kerr House rental.

Optimistically, Walters said that the new census figures would aid the budget but he hesitated to predict when they would be used for state returns.

Monday night the council again will look at Walters' suggested revisions that account for $26,300 reduction plus others from departments.

The revisions cited Monday also include reduction of new tree planting ($2,500), joining the Michigan Municipal League work compensation pool ($2,000), reduction in central supply accounts ($1,000), termination of coffee service ($1,500), fire department capital outlay and operating reduction ($2,000), police department capital outlay and operating ($2,000) as well as the reductions in conferences and meetings ($1,300) and the adjustment for the police car purchases.

Gardner questioned how cutbacks would affect the police department. Walters anticipated that there would have to be less flexibility in vacations.

Foltyn found guilty

Among the witnesses were State Police Fire Investigator Sergeant Barry Trombley of the New Baltimore post and Sergeant Patrick Garrity of the State Police Arson Strike Force.

Trombley testified that, though he did not discover an accelerant during his investigation, the fire did not burn in a normal pattern and that some type of accelerant was used.

He also said that he had determined the fire was intentionally set.

Sergeant Garrity, assigned to the Northville district post, said he found traces of fuel oil on burned items which had been cleared from the bakery after the fire.

Also called to the witness stand were two employees of the bakery, Angela Cassell and Kathy Golen.

They said they left the bakery at approximately 5:50 p.m. and were picked up at approximately 6:15 p.m.

Other witnesses said they saw Foltyn leaving the bakery at approximately 6:20 p.m.

City police responded to the call of a fire at the bakery just after 6:30 p.m.

During her testimony, Foltyn said, there was an older woman who came to the bakery just after 6 p.m. and asked to use the rest room.

She said the woman was smoking and that may be how the fire started.

In his ruling, however, Judge Brennan said he was not convinced that this ever occurred, because none of the witnesses had seen anyone enter or leave the bakery during the designated time period.

Sentencing has been set for October 5 in front of Judge Brennan.

Though Foltyn could be sentenced to up to 10 years in prison, Lutomski said he is hopeful she will just be put on probation.

Lutomski said he currently is preparing to appeal the decision.

"We are confident the Michigan Court of Appeals will agree to a retrial," Lutomski said. "And if the case is sent back we will have a trial by jury."

WEST SEVEN MILE ROAD Just East of Northville Road

Town Hall celebrates 20 successful years

By JEAN DAY

Lauded as the finest in all the lecture world, (John Mason) Brown certainly merits the praise showered on him by critics. Charming and eloquent, he was all Town Hall planners had promised and more.

Northville Record, October 26, 1961

For 20 years this fall Northville Town Hall has been promising "the best" in lecture programs to ticketholders in Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Plymouth, Farmington and Livonia. And its sponsor, Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville, has delivered.

"Our main purpose was to bring culture to the community. It was our way of bringing Detroit Town Hall to Northville. We were the first of all the suburban town halls, except for Birmingham," explains Frances Mattison, only remaining member of the original town hall committee still actively serving.

As Northville Town Hall prepares to welcome Marlo Thomas (of "That Girl" fame) as opening lecturer of the 20th season at 11 a.m. October 9 at the Plymouth Hilton Inn, Mrs. Mattison recalls preparations for that first opening on October 19, 1961, at the P & A Theatre.

"We bought a striped canopy to put on the outside of the theatre (now the Marquis) and painted the rest rooms. Later we purchased curtains for the exits," remembers Mrs. Mattison.

The Record reported that "close to 500 women passed beneath the red-and-white candy stripe canopy" to launch the new venture successfully.

The ticketholders had a bargain: for $10 they heard Brown, critic and editor of The Saturday Review; Madame Ginette Spanier, directrice of the famous house of Balmain; Anthony Wedgewood Benn, member of the British parliament; Ian Ross MacFarlane, authority on Africa; and Bennett Cerf, president of Random House and TV panelist.

"From the beginning we involved Plymouth and Farmington," Mrs. Mattison says, "because we felt that to be a success we had to have people from the whole area."

The formula of top-rate speakers and an area-wide audience was conceived by the committee headed by Mrs. Robert M. Rahaley who had a friend involved with the Grosse Pointe lecture series. She was given information on starting one and enlisted interest of other residents, including Mrs. Claude A. Crusoe who hosted an early meeting at her home. Other committee officers included Mrs. Lewis Alexander, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Angle, vice-chairman; and Mrs. Mattison, secretary.

"Committee members were so enthusiastic they did everything they could to make it a success," Mrs. Mattison continues. They included Mrs. C. Harold Bloom, Mrs. Donald Boor, Mrs. Frank Bosak, Mrs. J. W. Cheetham, Mrs. Crusoe, Mrs. Harry N. Deyo, Mrs. George Hanley, Mrs. Gerald V. Harrison, Miss Ruth Knapp, Mrs. George Kohs, Mrs. George Merwin, Mrs. Carroll Mulligan, Mrs. Beatrice Paamondson, Mrs. John W. Swain, Jr., Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschutz (now town hall's only honorary committee member), Mrs. R. G. Wetterstroem and Mrs. R. D. Willoughby.

The Board of Awards through which profits are shared with charities in areas supporting the town hall "was strictly Northville Town Hall's way of making sure everybody benefitted," Mrs. Mattison notes.

FRANCES MATTISON

Only original member of committee

The committee also created an "insurance policy" with a roster of patrons who gave $250 each (or its equivalent in other ways) so that, in event it was not a success, creditors could be paid. The sum still is retained in the town hall treasury. Stipulation was made that if town hall ceased to exist the money would be returned to the patrons.

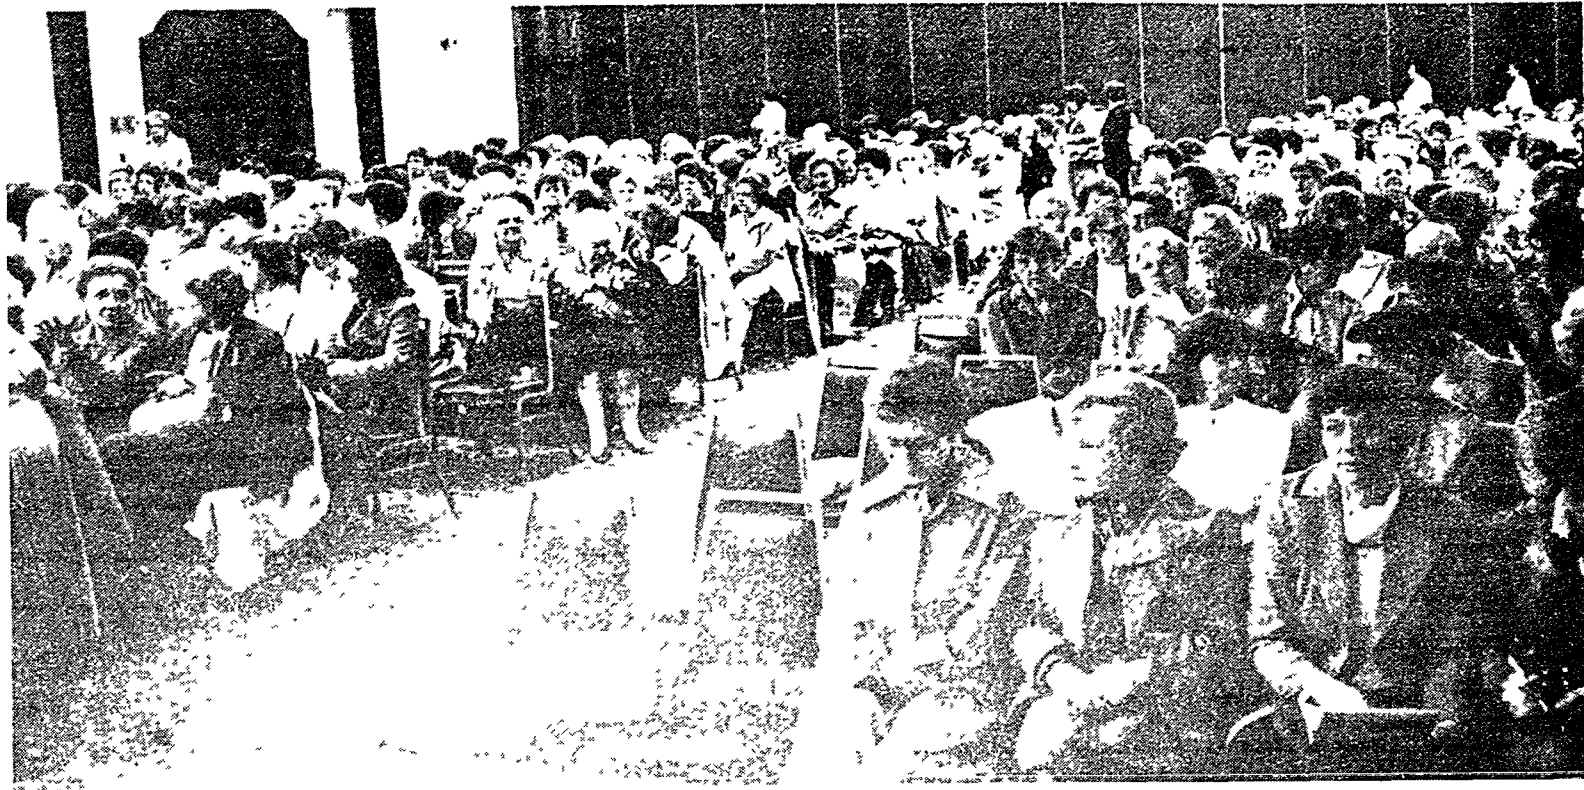

Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Casterline, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Couse, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crusoe, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Mrs. A. W. Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Langfield, Mr. and Mrs. William Sliger, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr., the Reverend John J. Wittstock (OLV priest) and the P & A Theatre.

First season profit of $1,200 increased to a record $8,750 last season. The audience, which now gathers at the Plymouth Hilton, also grew to a top 850 ticketholders, who now pay $20 for the four-lecture series.

Phil Donahue's appearance on the program last season was credited with breaking audience and profit records. Current chairman Carolyn DiComo is hoping the present brisk ticket sales will bring this season near last year's peak.

"After all," she says, "in Marlo Thomas we have Phil Donahue's wife."

The 20th anniversary program also

Thursday morning audiences fill Plymouth Hilton meeting room to hear celebrities features Terry Hekker, champion of housewives; Frank Cappiello, economist and member of the TV Wall Street Week series; and LaCondesa de Romanones, called one of the most influential women in Spain — and Europe.

It was not always "upward" for town hall although profits doubled to $2,500 the second year which featured Malcolm Muggeridge, Eleanor L. Dulles and Emily Kimbrough.

When three speakers canceled during the 1963-64 season (even though one replacement was Art Buchwald), it proved harder to sell tickets the next year, Mrs. Mattison points out. Profits dropped from $2,300 the third season to $1,640 in 1964-65, even though Baroness Von Trapp and Martha Roundtree were featured along with Agnes Moorehead. The latter canceled, but her replacement was Cornelia Otis Skinner.

Meredith and Rini Willson and Vance Packard helped turn the 1965-66 year upward to a profit of $1,850 in the first sell-out year as town hall moved to the high school auditorium.

But even Ann Landers, Karl Haas, Vincent Price, Peggie Parker and Bill Blass didn't realize more than $1,700 profit the next year although it was a second sell-out.

"Audiences didn't like having to go out of town for the celebrity luncheon following," Mrs. Mattison observes. The first were held at Lofy's in Plymouth. Then they were at Meadowbrook Country Club. In 1966 they moved to the Mayflower Meeting House, being divided between the restaurant and the club.

Virginia Graham opened the successful 1969-70 season as beginning inflation caused a reduction from five to four speakers but left the ticket price at $10. Profits soared to $2,600 from the previous year's $800 (although Kitty Carlisle had proved a popular replacement for Bess Myerson.)

Sam Levenson and Mike Whorf were 1970-71 attractions, followed the next year by Bishop Fulton Sheen and Patrice Munsel. Art Linkletter opened the 1972-73 year.

But it was Erma Bombeck in 1973-74 who helped to build the $7,000 profit. There was disappointment the end of the season when June Weir replaced Donald Brooks. He had been the only cancellation, however, in five seasons.

By this time, town hall was sharing its proceeds 50-50 with Our Lady of Victory and as many as 34 other organizations. Recipients every year have been King's Daughters and Plymouth Woman's Club (including support for Girlstown).

The 14th season in which town hall moved to Madonna College auditorium and Farmington Holiday Inn for luncheons (from the Thunderbird Hilton where they were being held by this time) proved disastrous.

"Ticket sales went down after Madonna and we drew on our sustaining fund for this one year only," remembers Mrs. Mattison.

Awards were made from the fund and with a gift from OLV. Nancy Dickerson and Bill Keane had proved popular openers and closers for the season.

David Frost and Will Rogers, Jr., in 1975-76 began an upswing as lecture and luncheon were moved to the present location in the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

The next year Alan Jay Lerner was a stand-out replacement for Marvin Hamlisch. Concluding that program was Peter Lind Hayes.

The 1977-78 year sparkled with Jack Anderson and Olivia de Havilland. By 1978-79 tickets were $15 for the series opening with George Plimpton.

Announcement that Phil Donahue would open the 1979-80 year brought unprecedented demand for tickets as the season also featured Patrice Munsel in a return appearance. All 850 tickets were sold at $20 weeks before the season began.

With last year's record profit, Mrs. Mattison calculates, Northville Town Hall has distributed $63,670 to charity — and the list of recipients has grown to a total of 56, although, she points out, not all receive a gift each year.

As Mrs. Mattison and her fellow volunteer committee workers of Northville Town Hall look toward the opening of the 20th year in three weeks they mention that some tickets still are available by sending checks for $20 to Town Hall Box 93, Northville, 48167.

"I'd like to stress that we're not here to make a lot of money — we're here to keep town hall in Northville," says Mrs. Mattison, summing up the reason so many women work tirelessly for the organization.

There's no reason to doubt that a 30th and probably even a golden anniversary are in the future for Northville Town Hall.

Welcome

Northville Newcomers president Chris Williams, at punch bowl, delightedly welcomed 70 members and new residents who live in the Northville School District at a coffee Thursday at First United Methodist Church. More than half, she reports, were attending their first Newcomer meeting. Pictured with her are Brenda Hornberger and Laura Jenkins. Donnie Billings, bridge chairperson, signed up Virginia Simpson, above, among many others. Anyone interested in Newcomers may call Mrs. Williams, 349-3867, or Alice Pooley, membership chairperson, 348-2284. Photos by Jane Hale.

Woman's Club plans style show

By JEAN DAY

"Something Old, Something New," a luncheon style show of fashions past and present, will highlight the opening of Northville Woman's Club's 88th year October 3 at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Life member and club past president Mary Yahne will bring capes and gowns treasured in her family to contrast with fashions bearing the Doncaster label modeled by members. Northville residents Mary Esther Fountain and Edie Doheny are local representatives of the 40-year-old North Carolina fashion house. They are supplying the designer fashions for daytime and evening. Marion Pickl is in charge of program arrangements.

Evelyn Harper will be presiding as new president at the guest day luncheon which traditionally honors past presidents and honorary members.

Members last week received program books for the year which runs from October through March. An outstanding season is in the offing with programs ranging from "Itinerant Stencilers" and collections of the Detroit Institute of Arts to "Gourmet Gadgets" with Larry Janes and Dutch Pewter and Delft Tiles by Ali Riddering of Salem.

McKnight-Kwolek vows

exchanged at OLV

Next door neighbors Mary I. McKnight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKnight of 21521 Chubb, and Michael D. Kwolek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kwolek, of 21383 Chubb, exchanged wedding vows in a late July afternoon ceremony.

Father John O'Callaghan officiated at the double ring service at Our Lady of Victory Church.

The church was decorated with domestic and wild flowers grown and prepared by Elmer Schubert, a friend of the bride. The ceremony included the symbolic lighting of a unity candle and the song "Wither Thou Goest," was played upon the request of the bride.

The bride wore a 1920s gown of ivory satin with long sleeves and trim of satin and lace ruffles. She carried a silk bouquet of ivory and cinnamon roses, daisies and baby's-breath.

Heide Lehr was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Tracy Nugent, Cathy Austin, the bride's cousin and Kim McKnight, sister of the bride. Sarah Kemp, the bride's niece, was the flower girl.

All attendants wore high-collared, old-fashion style gowns designed by the bride and made by Mrs. Bonnie Bentley. The gowns, of beige taffeta with taffeta overlay, had long sleeves and a ruffle border. Each attendant wore a cameo on the high collar.

The attendants carried silk bouquets of roses and cinnamon daisies, tied with a peach ribbon.

The bouquets, corsages and boutonnieres were designed by the bridegroom's mother.

Mark Kwolek, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Ushers were Jerry Blaskie, Dave Austin, the bride's cousin, and Ricky

MR. AND MRS. KWOLEK

Kwolek, the bridegroom's brother. The bride's nephew Mike McKnight, was ring bearer.

A reception at the Garden City American Legion followed the July 19 ceremony. Approximately 300 guests attended the reception, with some from Florida, Bad Axe and Gladstone, Michigan.

Reception guests were served Italian and Polish cuisine prepared by family and friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The couple took a two-week wedding trip to Florida's west coast.

The bride, a graduate of South Lyon Senior High School, is a secretary at the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

The bridegroom is a Livonia Churchill High School graduate and is a carpenter at William's Carpentry.

The couple will live in Northville.

They're teeing off to fight scleroderma

Meadowbrook golfers will be participating in a tournament for a good cause September 21. The $100 a couple event will raise funds for research on scleroderma, a connective tissue disease for which there is no known cure. Chairmen Joe Lineman and Peter Herguth are hoping to raise $5,000 for the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the United Scleroderma Foundation. Six-year-old Kelli Woodsum, a Lexington Commons neighbor of the Linemans, has the disease.

Guests brought their own glasses

Former Cabbagetown neighbors and friends of Heather and Donald Fee arrived at their their home at 777 Thayer (which the Fees purchased from Pat Hartt) to given them a housewarming potluck party September 6. "Even flowers arrived," relates Mrs. Fee, saying the party planned by the Ken Harrison and Laura Hixson was a "total surprise."

After the guests left, the Fees found the glasses each had brought to use remained as a gift.

He's state fair winner in petitpoint artistry

For a 60-year-old businessman, the fine art of petitpoint has proved to be more than just a passing fancy.

Grant Allen of 844 Yorktown Court, who was chosen first place winner in the men's needlepoint competition at the 1980 Michigan State Fair, has come a long way since making his first stitch five years ago.

"Our oldest daughter and myself had tried to talk him into it for eight or ten years," said Allen's wife Helen.

However, Allen did not take up the craft until he met Harold Poster, whose wife Donna owned Donna's Needlepoint Shop, now the Village Needlepoint Shop.

"It was Donna's husband who taught Grant to do it," Mrs. Allen said.

Since that time, Allen has been creating everything from petitpoint wall hangings to pillows.

Petitpoint, which is similar to needlepoint, is done with silk threads on a fine mesh with approximately 40 stitches made per inch.

Allen, who creates his own designs, has done a variety of butterfly patterns and has accumulated quite a collection.

His first place picture in the State Fair was a design of a tiger swallowtail butterfly.

Taking a first place in the State Fair came as quite a surprise to Allen, who had never entered any of his work in competitions.

Yet what proved to be even more surprising was the announcement that he also took second place in the women's needlecraft competition.

Though Allen's golden touch with the needle has paid off, Mrs. Allen said she finds his work frustrating.

"I don't do it (needlepoint) anymore," she said, "because I can't compete with him."

"His stitches are so much better than mine that I gave it up."

Like the new Faith Community Presbyterian Church of Novi — under construction in the background, building support for the Christian community is part of the aim of Church Women United. Members of the Novi-Northville chapter of that group are hoping to break down barriers between denominations and the two cities in order to promote a spirit of cooperation. Members of the chapter are (above, left to right) Mary Jo Mathias, Faith Orphan, Annabell Gotts, Grace MacPherson, Sheila Henderson, Judy La Manna and Betty Hajjar. Not pictured is Marilyn Ganscan, the eighth member of the group. (Photo by Steve Fecht)

Their aim—uniting area church women

Bringing church women of all denominations together is the aim of a small but committed group — the Novi-Northville chapter of Church Women United.

Sheila Henderson, wife of Reverend Richard Henderson of Novi's Faith Community Presbyterian Church, says the chapter hopes to break down old barriers between the individual churches and different denominations by utilizing an ecumenical approach to Bible study and fellowship.

Furthermore, the women hope to bring the two communities closer through cooperative action between the church congregations.

Members of the women's group believe the common ground already existing between the churches and cities is an indication they will have many opportunities to support their Christian communities through group interaction.

For example, the development of Faith Presbyterian combined support from First United Presbyterian Church of Northville with the determination of Novi residents to begin their own congregation. Henderson, the church's pastor, used to be assistant pastor at the Northville church. Now the new church building is just about finished, nearly 2½ years after the fledgling church began holding weekly services in Village Oaks Elementary School gymnasium.

Cooperation like that is exactly what the Novi-Northville chapter would like to encourage — as well as cooperating more between the denominations. Church Women United members are seeking local women who would like to add their support to the organization and goals of the chapter.

And, the women are planning a Bible study program as their first event. "New Life Bible Study" will begin at 9:30 a.m. October 2 and will be offered each Thursday morning through December 1. The class will be held at Northville Methodist Church and booklets for the session are available for $3.25 each.

To register for the Bible class, contact Annabell Gotts at 349-1023.

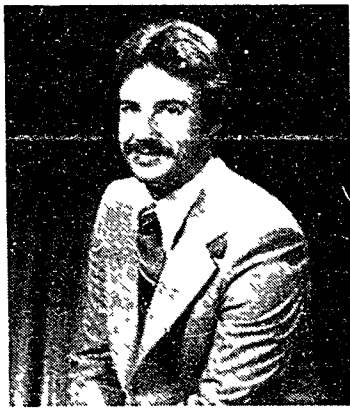

Upcoming events the Church Women United chapter will sponsor include World Community Day, November 14, which will be celebrated at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Northville; World Day of Prayer, which will be observed at Church of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church in Novi; and May Fellowship Day, when Faith Community Presbyterian Church will host the services.

Mary Jo Mathias has been named president of the chapter, Annabell Gotts is secretary and Betty Hajjar is treasurer.

Beagan named youth minister

Northville resident Thomas M. Beagan is the new youth minister for St. Timothy United Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Beagan, who has lived on Scenic Lane in Highland Lakes for three years, is a graduate of Adrian College, where he was a Phi Beta Theta scholar. He grew up in Livonia and is currently a student at Princeton Theological Seminary in Princeton, New Jersey.

Geneological meeting today

Western Wayne Geneological Society will meet at 8 p.m. today (September 17) in the Carl Sandburg Library, 30100 West Seven Mile.

Members and guests are invited to attend and share summer research experiences.

Questers to meet Thursday

antiquers, will bring their favorite salad and an antique recently acquired for "show and tell" to the first meeting of the new season at 12:30 p.m. Thursday.

President Eileen Sonk will be hostess at her home at 18297 Edenderry.

October will be busy

Church, club and other special interest groups have spent the summer months working toward fall events. Women of First United Methodist Church have been collecting small housewares and clothing for a sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. October 3 at the church.

"Ye Olde Attic and Pantry Sale" at First Presbyterian Church October 10 will feature canned goods, herbs and sewing done by members of the women's association during past months. There also will be a booth of antiques donated by members.

Southeastern Michigan Plate Collectors have scheduled a meeting for 7:30 p.m. October 9 in the Mill Race Village that is open to anyone interested.

Mill Race Weavers Guild members saw slides of folkweaving of Asia at their meeting last night in the weavers' cottage in Mill Race Village. Members have been giving weaving and spinning demonstrations every Sunday since May from 1-4 p.m. in the cottage while the village is open to visitors. They will continue through October.

LWV reprints booklet

Elementary school teachers in Northville can request "Election Directions," a booklet from the League of Women Voters that explains the election process and balloting procedures to young students.

Designed by the Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi LWV, the booklet is especially for use by students in the fourth and fifth grades, said LWV member Jackie Westbay.

A reprinting of 1,000 copies will enable more teachers to use the booklet this year. So far, 30 booklets have been issued in Northville and teachers here can request as many booklets as students in their class.

"Meijer Thrifty Acres took care of all the reprinting costs for us," said Mrs. Westbay. "The booklets are free. I hope more teachers will take advantage of the booklet. It has a teacher's packet that suggests activities to go with the explanation of the booklet. Since it's an election year, this election booklet is a handy way to explain the process."

The LWV originally printed the booklets and distributed all of them to classrooms in the Northville, Plymouth-Canton and Novi schools.

Northville and Novi teachers can phone Jackie Westbay at 455-9375 to request "Election Directions" booklets.

Taste Quest Ends

Latest research provides solid evidence that MERIT is a satisfying long-term taste alternative to high tar cigarettes.

Smoker Tests Offer More Proof

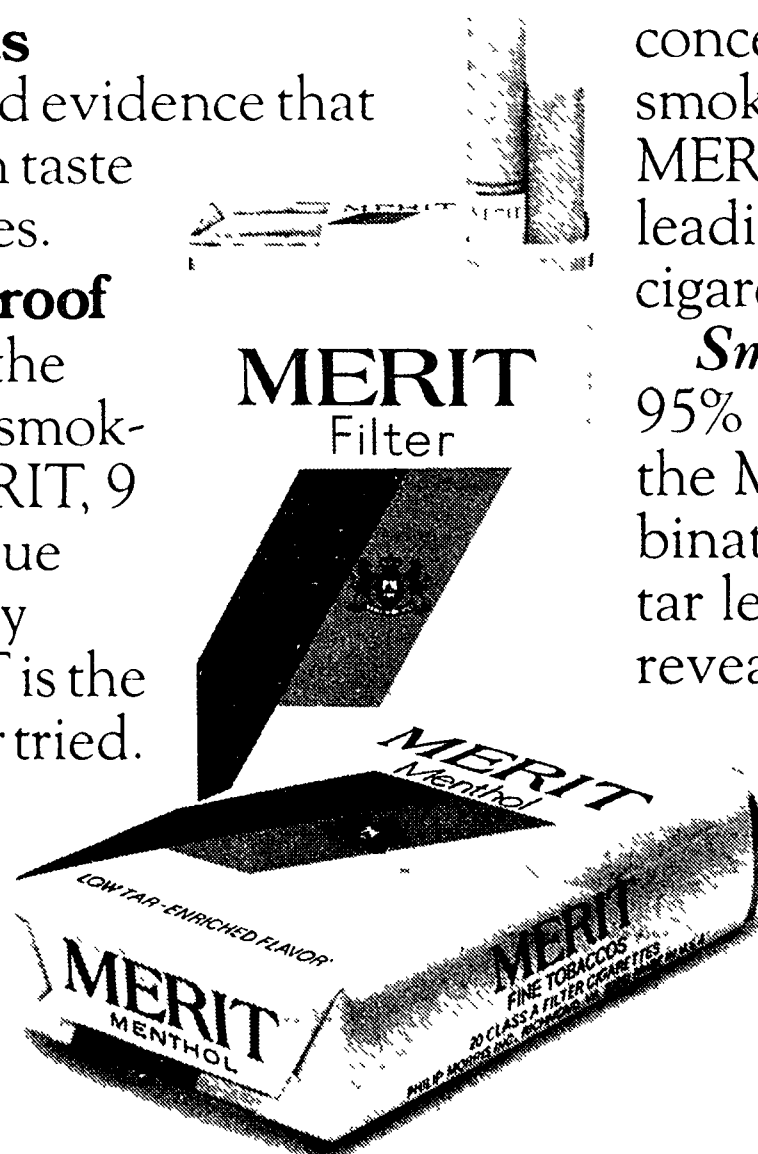

Long-Term Satisfaction: In the latest survey of former high tar smokers who have switched to MERIT, 9 out of 10 reported they continue to enjoy smoking, are glad they switched, and reported MERIT is the best tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Blind Taste Tests: In tests where brand identity was concealed, a significant majority of smokers rated the taste of low tar MERIT as good as—or better than—leading high tar brands. Even cigarettes having twice the tar.

Smoker Preference: Among the 95% of smokers stating a preference, the MERIT low tar/good taste combination was favored 3 to 1 over high tar leaders when tar levels were revealed.

MERIT is the proven alternative to high tar smoking. And you can taste it.

Shoplifting

It's a $16 billion heist annually

By SUSAN KAUPPILA

New national figures indicate that shoplifting costs American businessmen $16 billion annually or $205 per person.

While some experts involved in the apprehension of shoplifters say the crime is a sign of bad economic times, others blame it on the degradation of society's morals.

According to Bill Krupka, assistant vice-president of corporate security for Perry Drug Stores, apprehensions of shoplifters is up 15 percent this year.

"The value involved in each apprehension is up an average of $3, too, from $12 to $15," he commented.

"We aren't adhering to the national diagnosis, either that there are a lot more women than men involved. We are at a point of only about 10 percent more women. I think it's because there are so many more men doing the shopping," he added.

Generally, the age range for shoplifters is between 8 and 29 years, Krupka said. "Just recently we apprehended an 18-year-old college youngster who stole $15 in school supplies. The young children go after toys and candy."

"Young girls shoplift cosmetics, and that reflects the times. The family budget just doesn't stretch for things like that, and the girls aren't earning much extra money," Krupka remarked.

Teens from 13 to 17 shoplift in many instances because of peer group pressure. "You aren't part of the gang unless you steal," he related. "And we know that impulse advertising creates the impulse of need."

Another trick persons over 18 are trying is shoplifting clothes or other items and then attempting to return it to the store for money, Krupka explained.

Fred Beksa, assistant loss prevention specialist of Perry's 70 stores in Southeastern Michigan, stated that "when women shoplift, they purchase the 'necessary' items such as milk and diapers, but steal items for themselves such as cosmetics. They use the excuse that such items cost too much now or that the store will never miss it."

While Beksa thinks much of the shoplifting is tied to the recession, he feels that is not the main reason people do it, however.

"It's society's attitude in general. When you would apprehend a shoplifter 11 years ago, they would often cry. Today they say, 'Yeh, so what.' Parents tell their kids not to steal, but they see Dad come home from a business trip with a blanket from the airplane and an ashtray from a restaurant. What are the kids thinking? They believe society condones such action," he said.

When it comes to indicating when most shoplifting occurs, security personnel say it is often on Friday or Saturday evenings after dinner.

"It happens when store personnel are busy or less able to watch shoppers," said Leon Williams, director of security for 34 Ace Hardware, Inc., stores in Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Williams statement is backed up by statistics supplied by Sgt. Roland Pless of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Fridays and Saturdays are the most popular days with Tuesday, the second most popular day, Pless said.

Sgt. Anthony Velat, Oakland County Sheriff's Department command officer of the Highland Township substation, stated that the increase in shoplifting apprehensions is due to the fact store owners are finally getting tough with shoplifters.

"The businessman's electric and fuel bills keep going up along with his overall operating costs. He is being forced by inflation to take steps to cut down his losses wherever he can," Velat commented.

One way businesses are combating shoplifting is by educating their employees.

Kevin O'Grady, manager of the TG and Y Family Center store in Novi said his company establishes a shrinkage committee at each of the 984 stores throughout the U.S.

"Its purpose is to educate the clerks on what people steal and what to watch for. It is really employee awareness, and the emphasis is on prevention rather than prosecution," he explained.

At Perry's, Beksa said, there is a three-member security and safety committee at each store which serves as a liaison between the security department and the store.

"They (committee members) have the opportunity to meet with others and exchange ideas on how to spot and deal with shoplifters," he related.

As part of the campaign, security awards have been instituted for employees along with $25 rewards leading to the arrest and conviction of shoplifters.

"We are also paying rewards to citizens who help us convict persons of this crime," Beksa added, noting that signs have been hung at stores informing the public of the reward program.

Area law enforcement agencies are also getting involved in helping businesses fight the battle. Lt. Kenneth Hardesty of the Northville Police Department noted that in his department, a detective has conducted classes on shoplifting for employees of various malls and shopping plazas.

While area stores are concentrating on ways to prevent shoplifting, the fact remains that the crime does occur despite overhead mirrors, warning posters, employees who circulate and reward signs.

Once caught, young shoplifters are usually released into the custody of their parents to await juvenile court proceedings, Williams explained.

While much of what happens in court depends on the youngster's previous record as well as his or her attitude, most businesses now are prosecuting everybody.

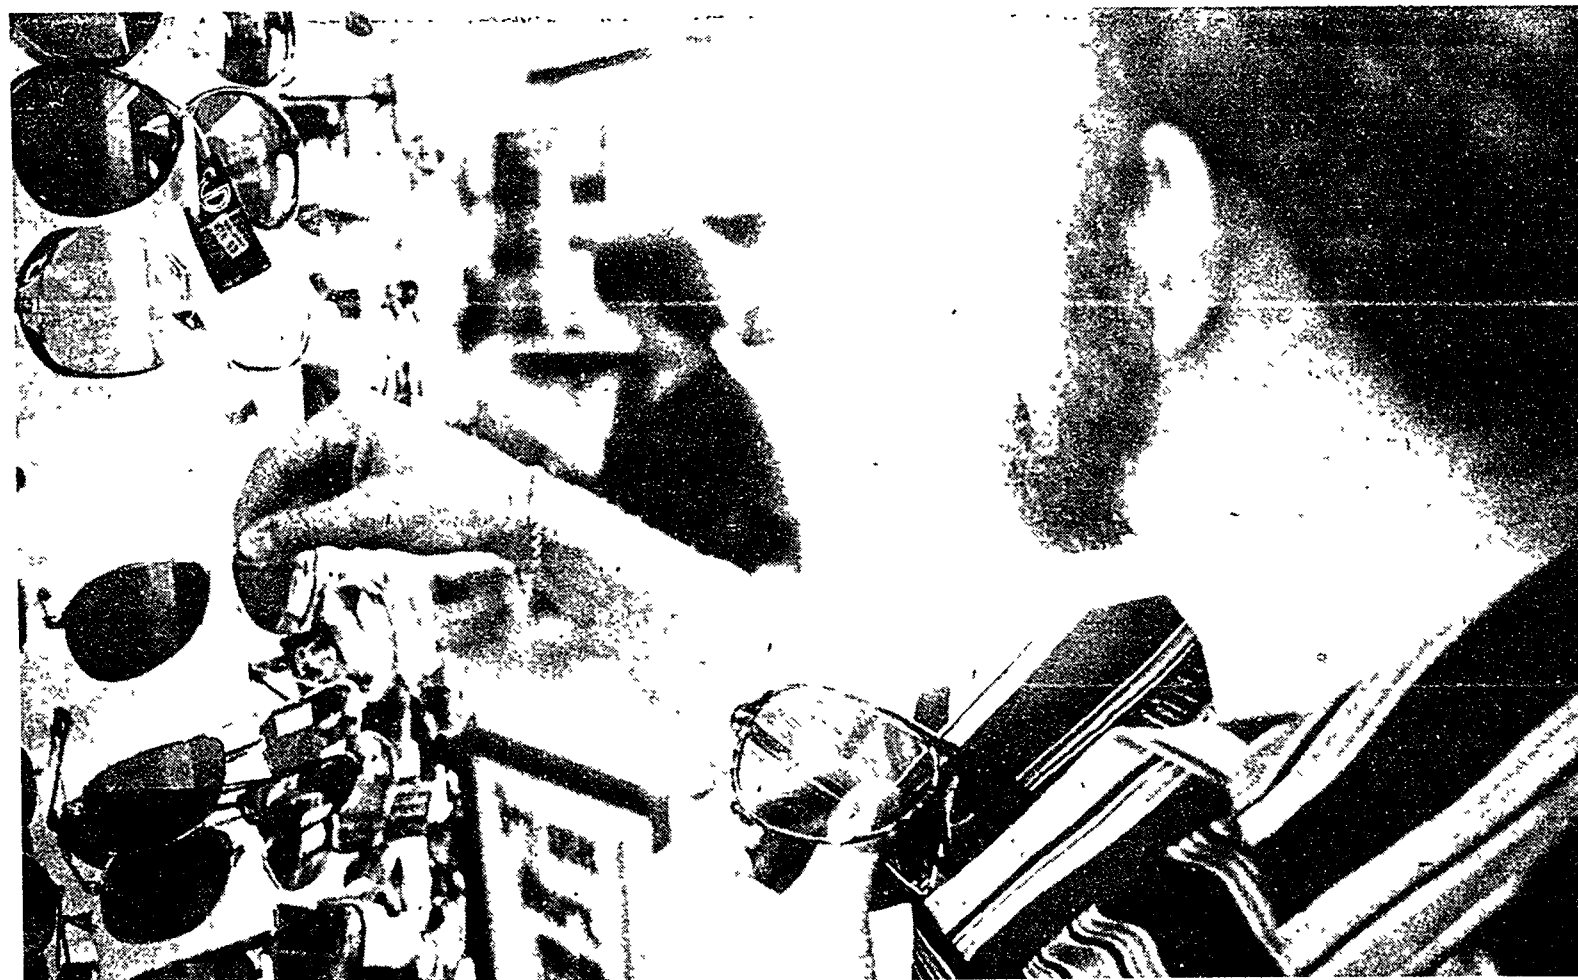

"Most kids start stealing small things like sunglasses. If we can make them see that it is wrong early in life, maybe they won't progress," Williams commented.

Adults who are caught shoplifting are

OPAL SUTTON of Carpenter Street in Northville won a grandfather clock at grand opening festivities of the new Downriver Federal Savings and Loan office on Main Street.

Downriver Savings and Loan Manager Mike Cameron said the drawing, held September 5, followed a week of open house activities at the savings and loan branch. Since opening in late August, Downriver Federal has opened 300 new accounts, Cameron said.

Downriver Federal has assets of more than $356 million.

AREA RESIDENTS participating in the fall antique show of Livonia Mall September 24-28 include Agnes Barnard of Northville who will bring a collection of Victorian beaded bags and a selection of fine linens, including French bed linen made by nuns, Maderia sheets, table linens of Battenburg lace and banquet cloths.

Glenna Green of Lansing is bringing vintage clothing including satin wedding gowns. Show coordinators Marjorie Kulifay and Gloria Siegert report there also will be china, furniture and art deco dealers. The free show will run from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. on the Sunday.

CITIZENS INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA, represented in Wall Lake by the Talmay Agency, has announced it is now offering a 10 percent discount for non-smokers on all of its homeowners insurance policies.

Although the idea of reduced rates for non-smokers is not new in the insurance industry, Citizens is one of the first companies to bring it to Michigan.

To qualify for the 10 percent discount, homeowners will be asked to verify that no resident of their household has smoked cigarettes, cigars or pipes for a period of at least one year.

"The statistics were overwhelming," a company spokesman for the Michigan-based firm stated. "Non-smoking households are better fire risks than smoking households. It is clear to us that non-smokers deserve to have that fact reflected in their homeowners premiums."

The new 10 percent discount is applicable on all Citizens homeowners policies, including those for renters and apartment dwellers, all across Michigan.

"The insurance industry must continue to become more responsive to the needs of individual policy holders, and we think the new 10 percent non-smoking discount for homeowners represents a significant step toward that goal," the Citizens spokesman added.

"And, if discounting homeowners rates for non-smokers will encourage people to quit smoking, or not start smoking, that's terrific, too."

State lawmakers tackle budget

By WARREN M. HOYT

Members of the Michigan Legislature will have their work cut out for them upon their return to Lansing for a month long session prior to recess for campaigns for the November general election.

What they get accomplished during September will determine the relative value of the entire legislative year.

At the center of the agenda will be Michigan's troubled budget. Legislative leaders and the Milliken administration are not sure the budget can be approved in the September session but promise a sincere effort to complete all parts before the fiscal year begins on October 1.

All budget action initially will begin in the house as the senate completed all budget action prior to the summer recess.

The senate approved all operational budgets for a new fiscal year basically setting target for spending using revenue figures as they were known at the beginning of the summer.

The house meanwhile broke tradition and did not work on any budgets prior to the recess as revenue figures were softening and the membership, all facing August primary campaigns decided they would rather not have to defend a reduced budget during the campaign.

House appropriations subcommittees have been working on the senate-passed measures during the summer break and most are expected to be ready for consideration soon after the legislature returned on September 3.

House Majority Floor Leader Joseph Forbes of Oak Park said it will be difficult to get the budget approved in the face of the cuts in programs that will be required and revisions in the governor's recommendations, the latest of which are not yet complete.

"There are a lot of if's in this thing," he said.

Forbes said he would recommend the house put in long hours to pass the budget. He added he does not know if the leadership can hold the membership in session much beyond October 1 due to their re-election campaigns.

The senate, meanwhile, will be tackling a number of issues, beginning with the once-defeated Wayne County court reorganization package.

Senator Basil Brown (D-Highland Park), chairman of the judiciary committee, is pushing to get the package approved no later than Friday September 5 a deadline he said must be met in order to provide for the election of additional judges that are provided in the package.

Many legislators regard passage by that time and under current budget restraints nearly impossible.

However, William Long, the governor's legislative liaison, said failure to round up the votes by that date would not be fatal to the reorganization effort.

The package provides for an administrative merger of Wayne County Circuit and Detroit Recorder's Courts and creation of a new district court to replace the Detroit Common Pleas Court.

Other items scheduled for the fall session will include an "all-out" effort by the governor to get a workers' compensation reform package.

Negotiations between the governor's office and Senate Labor Committee Chairman David Plawecki (D-Dearborn Heights) has fallen short of any agreement, but Long said the governor will push his package despite lack of an agreement.

Long said the time was right for reform of worker's compensation due to the state's declining jobs and economic base. He said he now expects positive response from the entire business community.

Other major items expected to be tackled by the legislature is a new teacher-public employee strike package. The legislative version was vetoed by the governor and his office currently is working on a counter proposal.

Oil and gas drilling in the Pigeon River Forest Area also will be under consideration in the senate. A compromise has been offered by environmental groups, hoping it would serve to get the legislature to back off of the bill which they say will open drilling to any area in the state.

Poet's Corner

Help from the Helpless

*I once heard a story of a very sick girl,
In hospital with only weeks to live.*

*She lay by the only window, very pale,
But every morning she told a new tale.*

*To her other room-mate she told
Of people passing by below,
Of dogs and cats, once even a parade,
And with her stories she made
Her room-mate feel less low.*

*One night she died
And next day
Her room-mate asked for the window bed,
Looking forward to seeing what lay ahead.*

*But when the blinds were raised, what did she see?
A brick wall, a chimney and a gnarled old tree.*

Kit Henderson

A Cat Poem

I spread my skirt on the ground and she sits on the hem licking herself the scratching sound of the hourly ablution reverberates through me seeing her rough tongue strip away loose moulting fur

from my skin mice leap into her ears birds fly from my hair to her eyes

I'm good company for her

And finger-branched
For its short stay;
It chirped
A cheering word
To questions, glanced Quickly; then, flew away.*

*Like bleach eats...
poison tears scarred your face, rough.
I was twelve you were ten.
Grown-ups beat you, bent.
I grew ugly, natural.
Our personal points weren't even a close similarity.*

*Sometimes I think of you when I see the ruts, rain impressed, in a hill.
No amount of compassion, ever presented,
will fill those deficits.
You couldn't even feel my sorry or arms.
I hurt for you — worse than slivers hurt.
but "numb" doesn't let feeling through.*

*The secret still stings.
I only wish I knew; positive, that you had somehow survived.
You are twenty-eight tomorrow.*

detained by store employees until police arrive on the scene. Because Michigan does not have a shoplifting law, offenders are given an appearance ticket for larceny in a building, a four-year felony, according to Williams.

By the next morning, however, the court usually drops the felony charge to a misdemeanor. A first offender may get off with a fine of $50 to $75 and probation, depending upon the area judge, Williams explained.

"The sad thing is that people just don't realize that they can be prosecuted for a 25-cent item," Williams commented.

"And they also forget that a shoplifting charge will always be on their record," he concluded.

Hey Kid! Watcha doin' WEDNESDAY?

Once a week, on Wednesdays, our community newspapers are home delivered by young people just like you (minimum age eleven years old). They're earning money every week and are eligible for our contests for prizes and vacations. More people are reading our newspapers in Northville, Novi, Walled Lake and South Lyon and Livingston County therefore, we need additional carriers. So if you live around here and aren't doing anything on Wednesdays...

CALL TODAY and we'll tell you all about it!

Talented tankers take Plymouth Rotary Invitational

By KEN KOVACS

It gives a coach quite a boost when he finds out he has even more talent than he thought. Especially when his team is defending league champ.

Just ask Ben Lauber, Northville High School girls swimming coach.

Touting two All-American swimmers back from last year and a crew of talented juniors, the Mustang team swept the Plymouth Rotary Invitational last Saturday, beating the closest opponent, Plymouth Salem, 303-285.

Brighton finished third with 235 total points, followed by Plymouth Canton with 167, Westland John Glenn with 125.5 and Livonia with 90.5.

It was Northville's first appearance at the meet, which started last year.

"Some of the inexperienced swimmers on the team were a real pleasure to watch," Lauber said. "They performed much stronger than I thought they would be at this point in the season."

Northville clearly dominated the meet, taking eight first place finishes in 11 events.

Mustangs Tammy Selfridge, Kris Petit, Kathy Bainbridge and Kim Storm took the 200-yard medley relay with a time of 2:02.6, while the Northville relay team of Diane Hrubak, Vicki Grice, Trish Settles and Nancy Donovan swept the 400-yard freestyle with a time of 4:06.4.

Individual first place winners included Donovan in the 200-yard freestyle, Settles in the 200-yard individual medley, Storm in the 50-yard freestyle, Hollie Raycraft in the springboard diving competition, Storm in the 100-yard freestyle and Settles in the 500-yard freestyle.

Storm's time of 24.1 also set a new Mustang girls swimming team record.

On the topic of record breaking, the Mustangs girls did a lot of that in their first meet against Livonia Bentley prior to the Plymouth meet.

Enroute to 85-84 victory the Northville swimmers set new pool records in the 100-yard freestyle (Storm, 54.5); 100-yard breast stroke (Allyson Farquhar, 1:09.1); 50-yard freestyle (Storm, 24.3); and 200-yard freestyle (Farquhar, 2:04.2).

Storm's time in the 50-yard freestyle also was a team record for Northville.

To say Lauber was pleased with the victory would be a gross understatement.

"It obviously was a little closer than we had hoped it would be," he laughed. "But we knew it was going to be a tough meet."

"We felt real good coming out of the Bentley meet with the win," he said. "It got us excited about the invitational."

The Northville swimmers won't face another Western Six Conference opponent until September 25 when they travel to Plymouth Canton.

But the talented tankers were scheduled to take on Ypsilanti High School yesterday in the Mustangs' first home meet.

Gridders lose 'mud bowl' to Glenn, 18-7

By KEN KOVACS

The Mustang offensive machine, which was unstoppable in its first outing against Redford Thurston, sputtered and choked and never really got going last Saturday as Westland John Glenn splashed and spun to an 18-7 win in the rain and mud.

Maybe, if the game had been played Friday night as scheduled the Northville squad could have held on to the passes, made the key plays when Glenn faltered and shut off Glenn's offense.

But it wasn't and they didn't. Mustang receivers dropped several passes — including a chest-high peg in the end zone — from quarterback Dave Greer, who did manage to complete nine of 21 tosses.

Northville literally handed Glenn the first touchdown when the Mustangs fumbled the ball away with about five minutes remaining in the first half.

Glenn, aided by a 15-yard face-mask penalty, went 38 yards for the score and 6-0 lead.

The Mustangs drove the ball down to the Glenn half-yard line — Greer completing passes to Dave Ward, Joe Miller and Brian Pratt — but could not put the ball over the goal line.

On the final play of the half, Steve Cornalino took a swing pass from Greer and scrambled into the end zone — or so he thought.

The referee said the running back's knees had touched the ground on the two-yard line.

"It was a judgment call," Mustang coach Dennis Colligan said. "I thought he was in but the refs didn't agree. It was a very close play."

"But that was definitely the turning point in the game."

Northville stopped Glenn on its first possession in the second half, but once again, the Mustang offense coughed up the pigskin.

Glenn picked off a Greer pass and drove the ball down to the two-yard line, then scored on a quarterback sneak.

The Mustangs' offense got the ball back and began to move, but got stalled at its own 29-yard line.

Then the roof fell in.

Glenn blocked a Northville punt and the ball finally rolled dead on the four-yard line. Glenn's tailback scored on the next play to put his squad up 18-0.

The extra point was missed for the third consecutive time.

"That score broke our back," Colligan said. "After that we knew we had to have three touchdowns to win."

Northville did manage to put together a good drive and Bob Thomson scampered in for the lone Mustang score.

Colligan said his team will be working extra hard this week to prepare for the upcoming clash with defending Western Six Conference champ Livonia Churchill.

"I have a lot of respect for Churchill coach Ken Kaestner," Colligan said. "He has had some of the toughest defenses I have seen and this year is no different."

U.S. volleyball team to visit Schoolcraft

The United States Women's National Volleyball team will visit Schoolcraft College Friday, September 19 for a clinic and exhibition match.

The Schoolcraft women's team will assist the national team with the clinic, which is scheduled from 2-5 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m. the Schoolcraft team will take on the national team in an exhibition match.

Immediately following, a local Ukrainian men's team will compete against the national team.

Tickets for the exhibition, priced at $5 — $3 for students — will be available at the door.

Cost for the clinic is $20 per player, which includes admission to the exhibitions.

Coaches sessions are $25 and also include admission to the exhibitions. Coaches are free with nine or more players enrolled in the clinic.

Registration forms for the clinic and exhibition matches are available at the Schoolcraft physical education office.

Golfers still unbeaten

A few excellent rounds of golf combined with a little luck have boosted Mustang golfers to the top of the Western Six Conference.

The linksters stretched their record to 4-0 last week edging Farmington Harrison, 208-209, and outshooting Plymouth Canton, 216-222.

The contest at Harrison was a bit shaky.

Though none of the Northville High players broke into the 30's — as at least one has in the first two matches — they were consistent with all five posting a 43 or less.

Tom McNamara paced the winners with a 40, while sophomore David Pohlod and junior Mark Goodson each posted a score of 41.

At 43 were the Mustangs' top golfer Ted Seltz and number two man Terry McMann.

"Fortunately for the Mustangs, Harrison also had an 'off day,' handing the Northville squad a one stroke victory."

"We were very happy to get out of there with a win," said Northville coach Joe Blake. "We didn't shoot as well as I had hoped we would, but Harrison didn't play very well either."

"I was very happy with McNamara's play," he continued. "His 40 against Harrison was the best round he ever shot as a Northville High golfer."

The margin of victory in the Canton match was a lot greater, but the scores were not much better, except for Seltz.

The senior standout turned in a blistering 38, which helped offset a 46 by Mark Denhof.

Mark Goodson stroked his way to a respectable 42 while McMann and McNamara each posted 45s.

Once again the opposition did not take advantage of the opportunity, according to the Northville coach.

"Fortunately, when we did not play up to our potential the other team didn't post the scores that they are capable of either," Blake said.

Goodson, a junior transfer from Romeo, has shot consistently in the low 40s the first four matches, much to Blake's delight.

"I am quite pleased with Goodson's performance," the coach praised. "Having played elsewhere last year, I didn't know how he would perform here. But he has done very well."

The Mustang squad will take to the links for league contests twice this week, traveling to Livonia Bentley today and Walled Lake Western Thursday.

NHS cross country squad confident

Returning juniors lead young team

Though the Northville High School Cross Country team already has participated in one meet — the real season starts this week with three meets on tap.

The Northville squad, which has five strong runners back from last year, was scheduled to face North Farmington yesterday, is set to open league competition against Walled Lake Western Thursday and will attempt to repeat as champ of the Schoolcraft Invitational Saturday.

Scott Dayton and Clark Couyoumjian, who placed 12th and eighth, respectively, in the league meet last year, were the only bright spots in the West Bloomfield Invitational September 6.

Dayton ran a respectable time of 16:25, while Couyoumjian posted a 16:15.

Despite the poor showing at the first meet, first-year coach Ed Gabrys — who assisted coach Dave Graham last year — said his cross country team will be among the best in the league.

"Even though we have only one senior, we have some very experienced juniors," said Gabrys, who also serves as the head track coach at Northville High. "Five juniors on the team proved themselves as sophomores last season and held their positions this year."

Junior returnees in addition to Dayton and Couyoumjian include Dave Malinowski — 10th in the league last year — Jim Williams and Rick Getzen.

This group of talented runners led the 1979 Northville team to the Western Six Conference championship and the Schoolcraft and Redford Union Invitational titles.

Two newcomers to the team this year, Seth Swallow, another junior, and senior Jim Chong, were distance runners for the track team last year.

Other first-year cross country runners are juniors Mark Olgren, Chris Mercier, Brian Mance, Paul Smith and Scott Anderson — all active in other sports prior to this year — and lone sophomore Pete Wojcicki, who ran track for Walled Lake Central last year, posting a time of 5:09 in the mile run.

Missing from the roster will be Clark's older brother Harry Couyoumjian, who is running cross country for Oakland University and Ross Grover, a freshman at Michigan State.

"Sure, we will miss a couple of the seniors from last year's squad," Gabrys said. "But we will be pretty strong without them."

Offering the main competition in the league this year will be Plymouth Canton and Waterford Mott, Gabrys predicted.

"Canton is a team that always merits a good performance," he said. "They will probably be the team to beat this year."

"And Mott always seems to find some good distance runners."

The new Northville coach and his crew of runners will get a look at many of their future opponents in the Schoolcraft meet Saturday.

Some 15 schools, including Canton and Livonia Churchill, will be on hand.

Schoolcraft run this Saturday

Northville will defend its team championship in the 15th running of the Schoolcraft College high school cross country invitational this Saturday.

According to Schoolcraft cross country coach and meet director Steve Montgomery, the three-mile race begins at 10:30 a.m. on the Cass Benton Park course along Edwards Hine Drive.

Doug Tolson of Wayne Memorial was the individual winner last year with a time of 15:06.5. Tolson, now a freshman at the University of Tennessee, outdistanced 125 runners.

Redford Union was first among six girls teams entered last year. Angie Mogielski, a junior at R.U., will be back to defend her title.

Last year she ran 19:33.7 to best 46 other runners.

Montgomery, who coaches both men's and women's varsity cross country teams at Schoolcraft, said 20 high schools have been invited to participate this year.

Results and trophies will be given out at a luncheon scheduled at the Waterman Center on the Schoolcraft campus following the meet.

Beat Crestwood, lose to South Lyon

NHS cagers 1-1 after two contests

By KEN KOVACS

The real test is yet to come. Western Six Conference foes will provide what will prove to be the competition that makes the difference beginning with Plymouth Canton September 25.

But after its first two of four non-league contests the Northville High School girls basketball team is 1-1, a pleasant surprise to Coach Gene Wagner.

"The girls did better in the opening game than I had expected," he said following his cagers' 48-33 win over Dearborn Heights Crestwood. "I am very pleased with the way they worked together."

"Our overload offense worked quite well."

Senior guard Jacque Nixon led the Mustang offensive attack with 19 points, while Melissa McDaniel poured in 15 points and Melinda House added six points and pulled down 13 rebounds. Crestwood's two starting guards combined for 13 points in the first quarter to give their squad a 15-12 edge.

But the Mustangs decided that was enough.

"We tightened down on the guards and held them to two points in each of the next two quarters, while we scored six and 14 points," Wagner said.

The Northville cagers outscored Crestwood 16-14 in the final period to claim the win.

The results were not as positive when the Mustangs traveled to South Lyon last Thursday.

A strong senior-dominated South Lyon squad — which Wagner calls one of the best teams in the area — downed Northville 39-26.

Six-foot center Sandy Snow and guard Linda Hock were too much for the Mustangs.

South Lyon outscored Northville 12-10 the first quarter, 10-6 in the second quarter for a 22-16 halftime advantage.

The home team also dominated the second half, outscoring the visitors 17-10.

"They ran a very disciplined offense," Coach Wagner praised. "They pressed us and we made some mental errors due to inexperience and exhaustion. It became very evident that I have a problem because of our lack of a quality third guard."

Nixon and Marge Muller handle the guard spots and are "very strong," according to Wagner.

"But when they tire or get in foul trouble we are in real trouble," he said.

Northville's standout guard Nixon scored all but two of Northville's 26 points. Muller added the other basket.

Leading the rebounding for the Mustang squad was McDaniel with eight, while House pulled down seven and Heidi Wagner swiped six.

Wagner said turnovers were the major factor in the loss.

"The team that makes the least number of mistakes and gets a shot off the majority of times it has the ball will win the game," he theorized. "There were times we made bad passes, lost the ball, and players were not where they should have been on defense."

Freshman Colts win, varsity, JVs both tie

Tough, hard-hitting football was the rule last weekend in Northville-Novici Colts' contests.

Both the varsity and junior varsity squads fought their way to 6-6 ties with their respective Belleville Cougar opponents.

Meanwhile, the freshman Colts romped to a 20-7 conquering of the Cougars.

Belleville struck first against the youngest Colt team, scoring on the second play of the game.

But then the Northville-Novici squad took over, scoring on a Scott Stephens dash up the middle on its next possession.

Following the kickoff, the Colts' Bop Smith picked off a Cougar pass and took it in for the score.

Robert Johnson scampered into the end zone for the next Colt touchdown — Smith and Scott Howard added the extra points.

Other players cited for their play were Tom Whelan, Jeff Jakubowski, Paul Smith and Don Welch.

Benji Evens took the open kickoff 70 yards for the touchdown in the varsity game, only to have it nullified due to a clipping penalty.

The game remained scoreless until just minutes before the end of the second quarter the Cougars took the ball in for six points.

The varsity Colts, led by the running of Doug Hartman, who amassed 164 yard rushing on 16 carries, marched down the field to score on a 40-yard passing play from quarterback Dave Denhof to Mark Harbough.

John Klakkenga, David Iafolla and Chuck Clark provided the blocking.

The Colts missed the extra point.

Denhof completed six of 11 passes, connecting with Hartman, Harbough, Mike Dewan and Paul Newitt.

While the varsity was battling to a tie, the JV squad also had its hands full.

The Colts scored in the second quarter on a 22-yard end run by Eric Terlecki to take a 6-0 lead.

With three minutes left in the contest the Cougars blocked a Colt punt and in a series of nine plays drove the ball in for a score.

The Northville-Novici offense engineered a drive to the Belleville 20-yard-line only to have time run out.

The Colts will travel to Romulus this weekend.

Jacque Nixon puts up a shot

Netters win first league match, 6-1

It never fails. When Northville is scheduled to play Brighton in girls tennis it rains.

And the scheduled match was washed out again last week.

"Last year we were hoping to get the match played, but as it did the year before it got rained out again," sighed Mustang coach Uta Filkin. "So it really didn't surprise me when the clouds rolled in."

Northville did play Plymouth Canton Monday, downing its first league opponent 6-1.

Mustang top singles performer Holly Sixt swept Eileen McGlinn, 6-3, 6-2, while number two singles player Sheri Robins ousted Lori Smith, 6-3, 6-0.

In the other two singles matches, Marnie Dillow bested Marianne Pink, 6-4, 6-4, and Debbie Spade got the best of Kris Harrison, who battled to the end before losing 6-1, 7-5.

Northville's number one doubles combination of Kim Hubbard and Jennifer Missel downed Julie Swain and Cheryl Smith, 6-1, 6-3, while Jana Holloway and Gail Engelmeyer disposed of Heather Hawkins and Jane McKinstry, 6-3, 6-3.

Lisa Gejoff and Kathy Montgomery suffered Northville's only loss to Kristen Smith and Lisa Schlotz, 1-6, 4-6.

The scenery at Philmont

Northville trio 'roughs it' at camp

Surviving is the number one priority. If, while doing what is necessary to get by you experience some delightful sunsets and learn to appreciate nature in its true form, all the better.

A 10-day hike at the Philmont Scout Ranch in northeastern New Mexico a few years ago was the first taste of really "roughing it" for three Northville scouts.

Now, two years later, the trio is introducing other tenderfoots to the adventurous backwoods of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

Greg Ayers, a senior at Northville High School this year, has worked at Philmont for two summers. This summer he served as a Ranger — an Eagle Scout who is trained to help Scout groups get the maximum advantage of their time at Philmont.

Rangers assist groups when they check in, help them find a place to camp, and get meals in the base camp mess hall the first day.

Basically, he insures that they are properly prepared for their trip into the back country.

When campers do finally get started on their journey, they visit many special camps.

Staffing these special programs are back country rangers like Eric Nowka of Northville Township.

Nowka, who is a freshman at Michigan Tech this fall, worked at the camp where Scouts learn to make Indian arrowheads.

"We mainly do this for the experience, not money," Nowka said. "Just living in the mountains for two months is great."

Among the things Scouts learn at the other camps are rock-climbing, panning gold, log rolling, making adobe bricks, search-and-rescue techniques, shooting rifles, riding horses and racing burros.

Ross Grover, the third member of the trio, also worked the back country this summer.

Grover is attending Michigan State University, where he is studying liberal arts, according to his two fellow Philmont workers.

The three were among 147 staffers who guided the Scouts and their leaders through the 137,000 acres of mountains and 24 staffed campsites.

Nowka and Grover were separated from the "real world" in the backwoods of Philmont most of the summer.

Ayers was a little closer to the modern world at the base camp (they have electricity).

"It's a real culture shock when you come back," Nowka laughed. "You have to adjust to all the conveniences."

In football contest

Martin, Pode take lead

Missing only two of the 20 games, Bruce Martin of Northville was declared the winner of the initial football contest of this season.

Martin, who lives at 119 South Ely Drive, had the fewest errors of any of the contestants. All others missed three or more games. He failed to predict Iowa's 16-7 win over Indiana and Eastern Michigan's narrow, 18-16 victory over Bowling Green.

First place prize is $10.

Winning second place and $5 was Bob Pode of 21620 Bedford Drive, Northville, who missed three games — the same two missed by Martin plus John Glenn's triumph over Northville.

Two Northville contestants tied for third place, both of whom missed four games — Don Chamberlain of 43663 Westridge Lane and Ron Barnum of 515 Reed. Both contestants, however, will receive the $3 prize money because they used different methods in computing the tie breaker as a result of confusion in the contest rules. Chamberlain guessed Detroit would win by a score of 24-9, while Barnum put the total points scored in the game at 41.

Contestants will note that in this week's contest and in contests thereafter, it will be necessary to pick a winner of the 20th game as well as well as indicating the predicted score of that game.

Also, contestants are reminded that only one entry per household is permitted, and entries must contain the winner of each game as well as the sponsoring merchant for that game. Each entry must carry the name, address and telephone number of the contestant.

Five contestants in the initial contest barely missed qualifying for third place money. Each of them missed five games. They are Thomas A. DeRoo and David Viers of Novi, and Jeff Stuart, Ann Marie Petroski and Finn O'Leary of Northville.

Most missed of the college games were the victories by Iowa and Eastern Michigan, while Denver's convincing triumph over Dallas was the most missed professional game.

Western Suburban Soccer League lists highlights

GIRLS, 10 AND UNDER

Livonia-34, Northville Pandas 0

Dana Roslinski was cited for her goaltending, despite the loss to Livonia on a very muddy field. Heather Sixt, Kristen Abitz and Michelle Ordowski also were cited for their play.

BOYS, 10 AND UNDER

Black Knights 3, Livonia-51

Todd VanderMolen, Brian Tews and Tom Ursel each kicked in a goal on assists from Ursel, Wayne Magnan and Fred Cook in the Knights' victory. The defense, which includes Andy Abbosh, Nick Salas, Paul Grant and Ryan Kilnar, allowed only two shots on goal.

Northville-613, Cosmos-20

Chuck Taylor and Joe Leopardi were cited for their defensive work in goal.

Livonia-116, Rowdies-51

Roger Kimery scored Northville's only goal on a rebound off a penalty shot.

United-73, Livonia-142

United clinched the win with a goal by Ken Spigarelli near the end of the game. Bobby Dudley assisted on Spigarelli's two scores in the final quarter, while Billy Butske set up Andy FitzPatrick for a goal in the first quarter. Todd Wolf, David Armstrong, David Smith, Andy Fry and Butske were cited for their defensive play.

GIRLS, 12 AND UNDER

Celtics-1, Fillies 0

The Celtic invaders controlled most of the game, scoring twice in the first quarter, once in the second, twice in the third and once in the fourth. Amy Spaman collected three goals, while Kris Cassady had two and Leslie Oliver added one.

Pink Panthers 1, Orange Crushers 2

The two squads splashed to a 1-1 tie at the end of the first quarter, Lisa Irwin scoring for the Panthers. Livonia added one more goal in the second period to complete the scoring.

Northville Stars 2, Plymouth-11

Jody Smalec scored on passes from Michelle Cross and Kim Flading to pace the Stars. Halfback Nickie Grasley and the other Stars' defensemen kept the play on Plymouth's side of the field for much of the game.

BOYS, 12 AND UNDER

Ann Arbor-110, Hot Spurs 0

Livonia-17, Northville-85

Avamsh Bhavsar scored three goals for the Cosmos, while Nick Morris collected two.

Northville-13, Livonia 61

Dan Kazaleh, Tom Schwarze and Gordie Gray each scored a goal for the Sting in an overall team effort.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Enter Today! You May Be A Winner!

HERE ARE THE RULES

Take a plain piece of paper and number down the left hand side from 1 to 20. You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 20 and each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend. To complete your entry you must do the following:

- (1) After each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding square.
- (2) Following the sponsor's name—write the name of the winning team.
- (3) In addition you must pick a score on the outcome of the game in square 20. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner.

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry). In case of a tie, prize money will be split.

NOTE: Only ONE entry per HOUSEHOLD family per week. Prize money paid only to name on entry. PLEASE do not enter several times using friends' names. Such entries will be disqualified if discovered.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office at 104 W. Main and at the Walled Lake News office, 1340 S. Commerce Road each week. Entries should be addressed "Football Contest", Northville Record, 104 W. Main, Northville, MI 48167 and must be postmarked or brought to our office no later than 5 p.m. each Friday.

Employees of the Northville Record and the Walled Lake News or sponsoring merchants are not eligible.

Entry forms available without charge in our offices. Winners announced in paper and posted in offices.

Rotary run draws near Time's running out to pre-register at a reduced fee for the 10,000 meter run. "Discover Northville," slated for Sunday, October 12.

Pre-registration deadline is September 22. Fee is $6. After September 22, the fee increases to $7.

According to the Rotary run chairman, Bill Tomczyk, participants from throughout the Northville- Novi-South Lyon-Milford area are invited.

Trophies and/or medals will be awarded for the first five places in each division. All entrants will receive T-shirts. Divisions include male and female groups under 16; 17-21; 22-30; 31-40; 41-50; over 50.

The race will start at 11 a.m. on October 12 at Northville Downs race track, located at Seven Mile and Center. Those registering on race day must do so 9-10 a.m.

Funds raised from entry fees will be used by the Northville Rotary Club for its Rotary Foundation projects.

Persons wishing additional information about the race, over a course in and about Northville, are invited to call 349-1870, 348-1509 or 420-2777.

Kim Terwin and Tish Johnson scored twice each for Northville, while Chrissy Krevtberg kicked in one. Jean Dusbabon, Lisa Trane, Anna Bryson, Jeanine Lesperance and Heather Davis were cited for their defensive play.

Livonia-25, Northville-14
Livonia scored in the last minute of play to take a heartbreaker from Northville. Lisa Cahill and Chris Hanson each scored twice for Northville. Kathy McConville and Ann Schwartz collected assists.

"Much Improved"

I gradually developed some weakness in my eyes and many bad headaches over a three year period. I fatigued more than normal and seemed to lack energy. After receiving negative results from an ophthalmologist, a neurologist, and several hospital tests, I asked my doctor about chiropractic care. He said it couldn't hurt.

After A Chase Chiropractic examination and X-rays were taken, a plan was developed for treatment. Some minor back aches developed from the regular adjustments. However, the change and improvement was very noticeable.

My headaches are now very few and far between. I seldom feel fatigued. My energy is back to its normal level, and my eyes are much better. Overall I feel a considerable improvement, and recommend chiropractic care to all my friends.

Larry Baker

CHIROPRACTIC CAN HEAD OFF ...YOUR NEXT HEADACHE.

What's the most common complaint that people bring to our Chiropractic office?

More than half of the people who visit our office complain about headaches.

It has been estimated that there are over 200 different causes of headaches. Head pain can be a dull throb, a severe ache, a sharp, constant pounding or any variation in between. They may be classified as mechanical functional, toxic and reflex. These are the most common types and they are caused by one common factor: nerve pressure.

When tension builds up in the neck muscles it causes tremendous pressure on the nerves. And that pressure is responsible for the headache.

Based upon scientific studies, every organ, gland, muscle and tissue of the body must be supplied with its quota of vital nerve energy. This energy, which originates in the brain, passes through the spinal column and branches out to every organ in the body. If these delicate nerves are subject to pressure, a distressing condition develops.

The Doctor of Chiropractic will correct his nerve interference and release the pent-up pressure that causes tension and headaches. Upon locating the misaligned segments of the spine your chiropractor will make an adjustment to restore the misaligned vertebra and remove the pressure on the delicate nerve trunks.

When this pressure is relieved, the vital nerve energy will flow unchecked and tension that builds in the muscles is relaxed. All glands, muscles and body parts will begin working together. Headaches are very rare in the human body under these conditions.

If you're plagued with headaches, let your chiropractor help. He'll relieve the pressure, relax the tension, relieve the pain, and restore your good health.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT CHIROPRACTIC

Q. What is Chiropractic?

A. Chiropractic is the healing science based on the principle that the body is a self-healing organism and that illness and pain can result from displacement of vertebrae in the spinal column. Skilled, professional adjustment of these displaced vertebrae restores the unbroken flow of vital energy, enabling the body to heal itself. Chiropractic is a natural form of care, using no drugs, poisons, powders, injections or surgery to heal.

Q. What are the educational requirements for a Chiropractor?

A. Today, the education of a chiropractor (Doctor of Chiropractic) is much the same as for medical or osteopathic physicians. In addition to a high school diploma, all chiropractic colleges require two years' education at a liberal-arts college before entering the professional curriculum. Students must complete a four-year course and receive more than 4,000 hours of instruction in basic health sciences and chiropractic subjects. Chiropractors are fully licensed in all 50 states, and in most must pass the same basic science examination as MDs.

Q. What's involved in Chiropractic care?

A. Care is determined by examination, including spinal X-rays and other means. Gentle adjustment of the spine, to correct misaligned vertebrae and to open the nerve paths, is administered by the Chiropractor. Proper diet and exercise also are emphasized.

Q. Is it expensive?

A. You be the judge. At the Chase Chiropractic office, the fee for a standard office call is only 11 dollars. Also, we offer a special Family Plan care for your entire family, parents and children. No one is refused treatment here for inability to pay.

Q. Does health insurance cover Chiropractic treatment?

A. Yes. Most insurance plans, including Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Teamsters, John Hancock, Aetna, Medicare (senior citizens), Workmen's Compensation and auto insurance, pay a portion, if not all chiropractic services. X-rays are covered, as well.

Q. Can Chiropractic help YOU?

A. Yes. By enabling the body to heal itself naturally, Chiropractic care has improved a vast range of conditions, including back trouble, knee pains, hemorrhoids, skin eruptions, menstrual irregularities, chest pains, colitis, asthma, rheumatism, sciatica, gastritis, skin diseases, heartburn, itching, pleurisy, sinus trouble, functional heart condition, earache, poor circulation, neuralgia, arm and shoulder pain, bursitis, pinched nerves, thyroid condition, arthritis, shortness of breath, nervousness, ulcers, leg pains, whiplash, constipation and headaches. If your case is not one that will respond readily to chiropractic, we will tell you that. MANY HAVE BEEN HELPED by Chiropractic. Millions of American families, now under chiropractic care, have turned to this natural way toward good health.

INSURANCE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does my health insurance (Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Teamster, John Hancock, Aetna, etc.) pay for chiropractic care?

A. Yes.

Q. Does my health insurance pay for chiropractic X-Rays and any other examination?

A. Yes.

Q. Does my health insurance pay for regular chiropractic office calls?

A. Yes. Many major insurance companies, including Teamsters, Blue Cross-Blue Shield Master Medical Program (General Motors salaried employees, Ford Motor Company salaried employees, Great Lakes Steel, etc.) Aetna Insurance, Metropolitan, Prudential and Travellers pay a portion if not all regular chiropractic office calls.

Q. I am a senior citizen. Will my Medicare pay for chiropractic adjustments?

A. Yes.

Q. Are chiropractic services covered by Workmen's Compensation Insurance, such as on the job injuries?

A. Yes. The Workmen's compensation law allows you to seek the doctor of your choice after the first ten days following occupational injury. During the first ten days, you may require employer authorization.

Q. If I receive injuries due to an automobile accident, does my no-fault auto insurance cover any chiropractic care that I may need?

A. Yes. All auto insurance coverage in the state of Michigan pays chiropractic care due to injuries sustained in accidents.

Chiropractic Care Is Vital For Auto Accident Victims

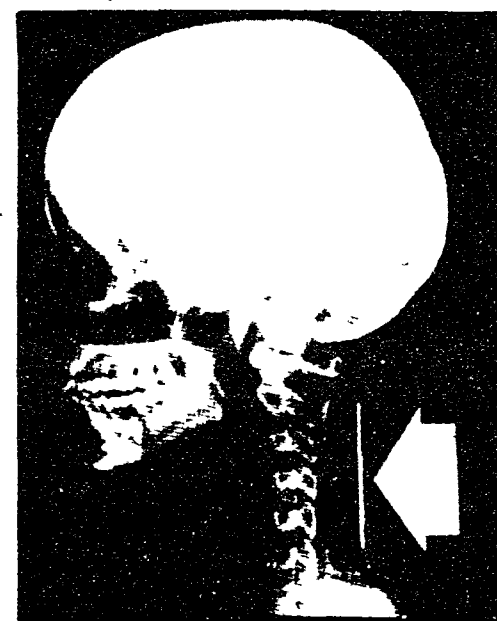

Neck and spinal injuries, as a result of automobile accidents, are among the fastest growing health problems in the country today. The ever increasing number of automobiles on our crowded highways provide the ideal opportunity for the type of accident that results in sudden impact injuries.

Whiplash is the most frequent result of the sudden impact injury. The victim experiences severe headaches, shoulder pain, neuralgia of the neck and many other symptoms which are seemingly unrelated. When the head and neck are violently thrown forward and then backward, one or more vertebrae in the spine can slip out of its normal position, interfering with the transmission of vital nerve energy.

Another common injury occurs when a person is thrown from the seat to the floor of a car, or against the car door. The sudden impact will be to the lower spine and, if the shock is great, vertebrae in this area will become dislocated. The symptoms of such an injury can include severe back pain, bladder disturbances, kidney disorders and menstrual distress among others.

As a result of any sudden impact injury, there may be sharp impingement of the nerves and consequent ill effects upon the victim's general health.

With modern scientific methods, we can quickly locate the vertebral injury. Then, with scientific and corrective spinal adjustments, we can realign the vertebrae involved. Even a minor spinal injury can result in an unlimited variety of distressing and painful effects. Many disabling conditions occur years after an automobile accident, but can be traced back to the sudden impact injury.

X-Rays shown are taken to determine the existence and degree of spinal misalignment and subluxation. This is extremely important for the precision adjustment (replacement of misaligned vertebra).

Our Chiropractic office specializes in treating sudden impact injuries. See us immediately after any type of accidental injury.

EMMA FEELS GREATLY BLESSED

Going out of the front door one morning I lost my balance and injured my back. I went to an emergency hospital for X-rays and was informed that my back was o.k. My back continued to pain more severely, and my doctor prescribed a brace and pain medication, but none of these helped the situation. The pain in my back continued more severely, and after laying on my sofa for two months with a hot water bottle, some friends urged me to see Dr. Richard Chase.

After two or three adjustments my back ceased to pain, and I feel better now than I have in a long time. I feel greatly blessed that I found Dr. Chase.

Sincerely,

Emma J. Murdoch Westland, Michigan

Her Mother Tells the Story

I am Leota Beggs reporting an auto accident that my daughter, Annmarie, had in April of this year. She was seriously injured with neck and back problems and was temporarily paralyzed. I immediately notified Drs. Chase and Lange at Chase Chiropractic Clinic in Plymouth. Their prompt visits and treatments to Annmarie upon her release from the hospital were outstanding, and saved her from a lot of pain and permanent damage. Annmarie is fine today and I sincerely recommend Chase Chiropractic Clinic for accident and general health care for your entire family.

Mrs. Leota J. Beggs

FEEL RUN DOWN?

We often unconsciously compare our own body mechanism to that of a watch. You'll hear people say: "I'm run down." Why not carry the analogy one step further? When a watch is run down and doesn't work right, we have it adjusted. We can do the same for the body through chiropractic adjustment.

The result in both cases is the same. The watch and the body are both made up of hundreds of tiny parts, all of which must be meshed together in perfect co-ordination and balance, and with nothing in impede the flow of vital energy. The mainspring of all our actions conscious and unconscious, our system of interlocking gears, to transmit vital impulses from the brain, is our spinal cord.

Shock, fatigue, a fall — any one of a hundred causes can throw the spine off balance — interfere with proper channeling of nerve impulses from the brain to the other organs of the body. When we're "run down" it's a symptom that, like our watches, we need "adjusting." The chiropractor corrects the distortion that has altered or obstructed the proper channeling of nerve impulses, restores the body to the desired equilibrium.

So the next time you feel run down, visit your chiropractor!

Editor's Note

These testimonials do not mean to infer that chiropractic cures or guarantees a cure. They are to prove that, by removing nerve interference, the body heals itself.

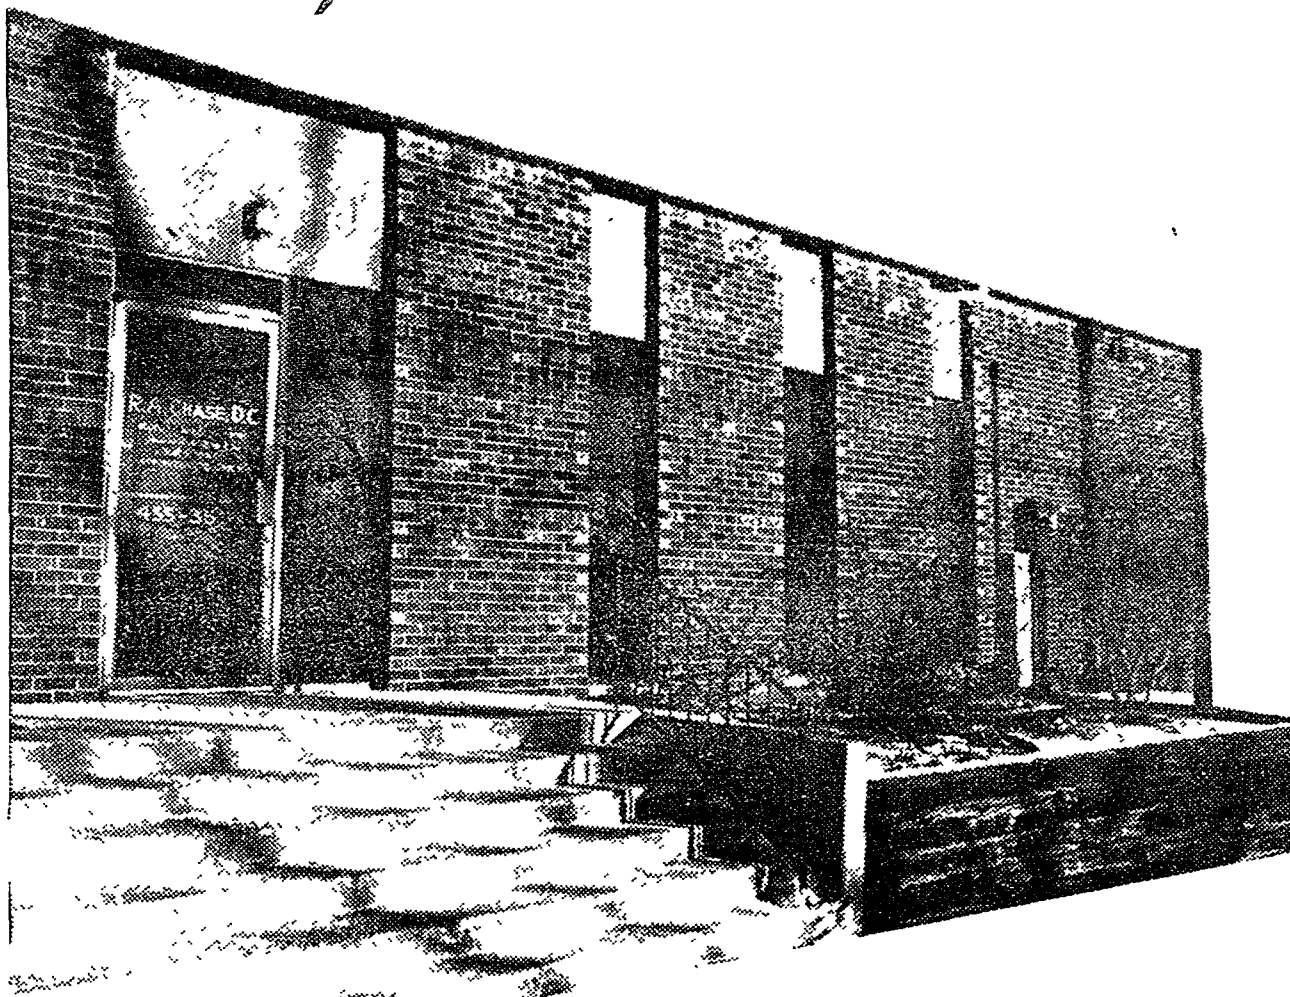

Had Pinched Nerve Andy Feels Great

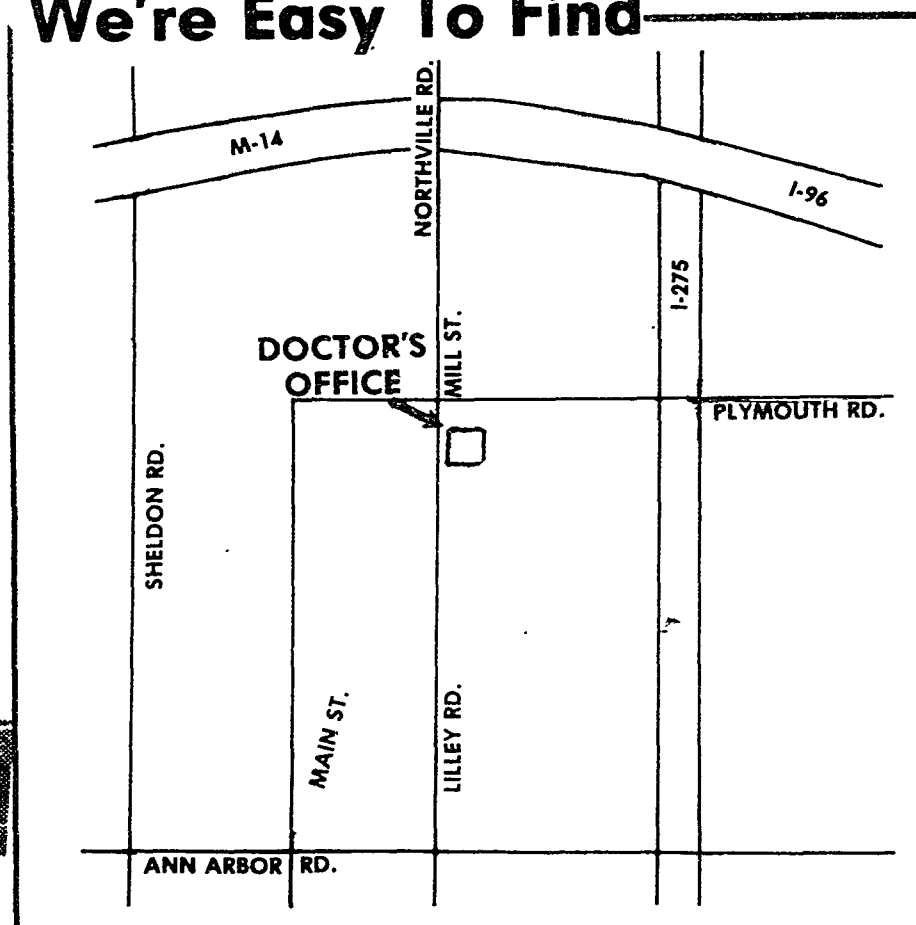

My name is Andy Orlando. I first started as a patient at the Chase Chiropractic Office in March, 1980. I was referred by Mrs. Jukuba. My problem was a pinched nerve in my neck. After receiving about six adjustments, I feel great. I first began feeling relief after my first adjustment. I would like to recommend the Chase Chiropractic Office and Dr. Chase to anyone with a health problem. Try them, you'll see!

all ages

The Doctor of Chiropractic can be called on to provide care for patients of all ages. Children are the easiest to help, for their spinal problems are not of long standing and they respond quickly. There is no age limit on those who might benefit from Chiropractic care, and many patients come with long-standing problems that other healing avenues have not been able to help. In many cases like these where patients at last find relief, it is due to Chiropractic treatment of the cause of the problem rather than its effect.
